present century, and in preaching the policy of peace, bitterly bewailed the countless sums of money that have been spent on war by England, and the misery brought to the homes of thousands by it. This veteran statesman had more honors than one to receive during the vacation, for he was also presented with the freedom of the city of Glasgow "in recognition of distinguished services rendered by him to the country in obtaining the repeal of the Corn Laws, in promoting financial reforms and for his eminence as an orator and a statesman." After referring to the various Parliamentary reforms and the beneficial operations of the Land Act in Ireland, he exhorted his countrymen who saw the work of the past to put their faith in that legislation which is "founded on the truest, the noblest and the most moral principles."

Lord Salisbury, one of the two Conservative leaders, in his speech at Birmingham, criticised Mr. Bright's reference to the war expenditure of the past and said that no policy had produced so many wars as the policy of 'peace at any price' which the admirers of the Premier prophesied would characterize Mr. Gladstone's administration. His speech at Birmingham is considered to be 'the best he has made for a long time,' and his reply to the member for Rochdale regarding the war expenditure, 'complete and convincing.' An attempt headed by Lord R. Churchill and a fussy party of adherents to cause the overthrow of the 'dual leadership' of the conservative party was nipped in the bud by an address of confidence signed by 200 members of Parliament being presented to Sir S. Northcote and by a demonstration of prolonged cheers which he received in the House about this time when he rose to put a question.

Sir A. Otway, the newly appointed Chairman of Ways and Means, in addressing his supporters at Rochester defended the Government in regard to the Egyptian and Irish questions. He considered it an advantage to have gotten rid of the 'dual control' in Egypt, and said that as there was no room for two powers, England must be the predominant one.

Service Estimates.

The Civil, Army and Navy Estimates for 1883-84 are as follows:

Civil—The total estimate for the Civil Services and Revenue Departments is £26,408,265 against £26,140,140 of the last year, or a net increase of £268,125. The increase appears under the heads of public works and buildings, education, science and art; customs, post offices and post office telegrams; and the decrease under civil departments, law and justice, foreign and colonial services, miscellaneous, inland revenue and post office packet service.

Army.—The net amount is placed at £15,606,700, which represents a net increase of £148,600 compared with last year's regular estimate to which was added a supplementary estimate of £728,000 and the sum of £900,000 included for army extraordinary services during 1882-83. The number of men to be provided for is 137,632, being an increase of 4,727 on last year, and to the 132,905 provided last year, 10,000 men were added for the expedition to Egypt. The total for the effective service amounts to £12,689,900, being for the regular forces, 4,525,200£, auxiliary and reserve, £1,429,800 commissariat and ordinance store establishments, £5,592,400, works and buildings, £739,400, and miscellaneous, £403,100. The number of regular forces at home and in the colonies for 1883-84 is stated at 127,611; army reserve, first class, 33,500; second class 9,000; militia 142,874; yeomanry 14,504, volunteers 247,921; regular forces on Indian establishment 61,641. Lord Hartington, Secretary of State for War dealt with the Army Budget.

Navy.—The estimates for 1883-84, fix the amount for the year at £10,757,000, or a net increase, deducting certain charges, of £129,567 over the vote of the year previous, which was £10,483,901, exclusive of a supplementary estimate and of the sum for Naval Services in aid of the operations in Egypt. The number of men and officers are given at 44,850 against 45,100 of last year. Mr. Campbell-Bannerman presented the Navy budget.

Budget for 1883-84.

The most important subject that was placed under the consideration of the Commons soon after its re-assembling was the first budget of the new Chancellor of the Exchequer. The revenue and expenditure for the past year were quoted at £89,004,000 and £88,906,000 respectively, leaving a surplus of £98,000. The revenue of the present year was estimated roughly at £88,480,000, the expenditure at £85,789,000, giving a surplus of 2,691,000 with which Mr. Childers, who merits the thanks of all business people, proposed to modify the duty on silver plate, to reduce the price of inland telegrams to sixpence which was previously carried on the motion of Mr. Cameron, to the repeal of the passenger duty on the penny per mile fare and to reduction of the income-tax by 1½d. which was added on account of the Egyptian campaign. After the principles of liberal and conservative economy had been freely ventilated on Mr. Rylands motion for reduced expenditure and economy, the Chancellor of the Exchequer ultimately secured the necessary vote. Temperance reformers may, in consequence of a statement by Mr. Childers, lay the flattering unction to their souls that their efforts in that direction have not been unrewarded, for in explaining a fall in the excise on spirits, he attributed it entirely to the spread of temperance. The intense gratification that this announcement probably awakened was very much marred by subsequent opinions of the Press that among the circumstances of Irish emigration, the Irish disturbances, the Egyptian war and one or two other causes, the Chancellor of the Exchequer would probably find the more legitimate causes for the diminution of the revenue under that head.

The Congo.

In regard to the territories on or adjacent to the river Congo, in South Africa, which have been revealed to the world by that great and intrepid explorer, Mr. Stanley, and respecting which the Government were understood to be carrying on negotiations with the Portugese Government, Mr. Bright, at the instance of the Manchester traders, moved that no treaty should be made with Portugal sanctioning their annexation. But Mr. Woodhouse's amendment to the effect that no treaty should be made "affecting territories on or adjacent to the Congo that would compromise any engagements into which Her Majesty's Governments may heretofore have entered or which would not afford adequate security to all the civilised and commercial agencies at work in those regions" was finally accepted and made the substantive resolution on Mr. Bright's withdrawing his motion which he did on the Prime Minster's assurance that any treaty entered into would not be ratified till the House had the opportunity of discussing it.

Explosives Bill.

The discovery by the Police in April of a manufactory of infernal machines at Cork and a laboratory for making nitro-glycerine at Birmingham, stirred both Houses into unanimous and prompt action, for within a day an Explosives bill having for its object the crushing of these diabolical conspiracies which compassed the destruction of several public buildings, passed through all its stages in both Houses of Parliament and received the Royal Assent the day following. By its provisions, those found guilty of feloniously causing an explosion of a nature likely to endanger human life or to cause serious injury to property, will be liable to penal servitude for life and those inplicated in attempts to break the law in this direction will be liable to 20 years hard labour. This drastic measure, imperative necessity for which has been demanded by the discoveries in question, ought in the hands of the executive to operate as a powerful agent to crush out the diabolical forms of crime which are being suggested by dynamite and its kindred explosives. A well-deserved tribute, amid general cheering, was paid by the Home Secretary in connection with this discovery to the energy and detective abilities of the Police in England and Ireland, a service which he described as "equal to any of those for which successful generals and victorious armies have received the thanks of Parliament." The trial at the Liverpoool assizes of the 5 prisoners who were charged with illegal possession of explosives and with conspiracy to destroy public buildings, resulted in the conviction of 4 who were sentenced to penal servitude for life. Evidence was given that one of them named Dalton was seen inspecting the Houses of Parliament, and the Local Government Board Offices.

Lords Wolseley and Alcester.

The recomendation that Lords Wolseley and Alcester should be granted annuities of £2000 each to be continued to the next surviving heir male of each, in recognition of their services in Egypt, was presented in very flattering terms to the House of Lords by the Foreign Secretary and on the motion of Lord Granville, seconded by Lord Salisbury, who referred to "the entrance of these eminent naval and military Commanders into the House as an honor conferred upon it," resolutions were agreed to concurring in the recommendations contained in H. M.'s message. The question of these annuities was also brought before the Lower House by Mr. Gladstone. The debate was enlivened when the resolution in its first stage was moved in the case of Lord Wolseley, by Mr. Charles Lewis's charge against the Government of 'meanness' at the time they dealt with a similar motion on behalf of Sir Fred. Roberts who he considered 'had performed a piece of work with which Lord W's sank into insignificance.' The Prime Minister met this charge on the ground that if there had then been any meanness, which he did not admit, there was all the more reason that the error should not be repeated. On April 19th, Lord A.'s annuity bill was read a second time in the House of Commons by 217 votes to 85, a similar bill granting an annuity to Lord W. was carried by 178 to 55 votes. The pensions have, however, with the concurrence of the noble lords, been computed into lump sums on the actuarial value of two lives. The sum in Lord A.'s case is about 25,000£ and in the case of Lord W. between 29 and 30,000£.

The freedom of the city of London, an address of congratulation and a sword of honor were presented at Guildhall on 11th April to Admiral Lord Alcester, (Sir Beauchamp Seymour, G.C.B.,) and an address and a gold casket to General Lord Wolseley of Cairo, G.C.B., who was made a freeman of the City in 1874. The same evening, the Lords were jointly entertained at a banquet by the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House, the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of Teck, and Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimer being present.

The Affirmation Bill.

The ministerial party encountered an unexpected yet signal defeat on the Affirmation bill which, at its second reading, was rejected in a house of 581, by a small majority of 3, after a pitched battle which lasted at intervals for nearly a fortnight. The principle of the bill which, it may be remembered, was drafted owing to the obstinacy of Mr. Bradlaugh to take the oath of allegiance to the Crown, and to the refusal of the House to allow him to do so after he had pronounced his atheistical opinions, is in effect to permit a member who has religious scruples to an oath to make a simple affirmation in lieu of it. The Attorney-General, Sir Henry James, moved the second reading and while particularising the various forms of oath that have from time to time been imposed by Parliament, he laid great stress on the point that religious belief never disqualified for election as a member and that the oaths were imposed for political objects and not for the purpose of effecting religious tests. Sir R. Cross, supported by Mr. Torrens contested the bill with great fervour. A memorial was submitted to the Premier by the Clergy of the Church of England, protesting against the bill on the ground that 'the deliberate removal of the name of the Supreme Being from the form of affidavit for the purpose of admitting as a member of the legislature, by its retrospective action, an open and avowed atheist, who has admitted no religious scruples, is dishonouring to Almighty God, and contrary to the spirit of our laws and constitution." Among those whose names were attached to the petition are the Bishops of Newcastle and Dover. In addition, the House had received some 3,700 petitions against the measure signed by 514,000 persons of all classes and creeds. During the course of the debate, it was however distinctly announced that the bill, frequently referred to as the "Bradlaugh Relief Bill," was, if passed, not to have retrospective effect and thus the sting in connection with Mr. Bradlaugh was to an extent attempted to be removed. The house was crowded on the night Mr. Gladstone was expected to speak in defence of the measure and his speech is regarded as 'one of his finest and most impressive orations, the lofty tone of which only one other member could have equalled.' It is also described as of 'surpassing eloquence and marvellous power,' parts of it 'deserving to rank for their impressive and solemn beauty among the choicest specimens of his oratory." Numerous members appeared to have been lying in ambush to display their rhetorical skill awaiting the arrival of the time when this delicate question would have been ripe for discussion, for such a long list of speakers could hardly be computed on any subject that previously engaged the consideration of the House. The whole debate centred round the point "whether the declaration of allegiance should contain some acknowledgment of the existence of the Deity." The question has added a very valuable contribution to Parliamentary literature. On the announcement of the votes, it is said that a scene of the wildest excitement followed, shouts of triumph proceeded from the opposition side while the Irish members shouted, "coercion and we have done with it."

Mr. Bradlaugh and the House.

The excluded and thrice elected member for Northampton, who was an anxious listener all through, was seated outside the bar, but was allowed to speak after the rejection of the bill in defence of his claim to take the oath and his seat. Mr. Labouchere moved that Mr. Bradlaugh should be allowed to come to the table and take the oath, but Sir S. Northcote's motion that Mr. B. be not permitted to go through the form of taking an oath was adopted by a large majority of 106. This leaves Mr. B. free to enter the House and sit below the bar, but does not give him the right to vote or to speak. He also enjoys certain other privileges as an elected member such as the right to use the library and ante-rooms. But the matter did not drop here, for in July, Mr. Bradlaugh opened out a correspondence with Mr. Gladstone culminating in a threat to take his seat in the House as an elected member. Precautionary measures were at once taken to prevent the threat being carried into execution by additional police being placed at the door and the Serjeant at Arms was also instructed to exclude Mr. B. until he engaged not to disturb the proceedings. All this produced no effect in bringing the pugnacious member to a proper sense of his position for he issued a writ against the veteran-Serjeant whom the Attorney-General was instructed by Government to defend.

Whitsuntide Recess.

Both houses of Parliament adjourned for Whitsuntide, the Lords from the 10th till the 24th May and the Commons from the 11th till the 21st idem. Public business made very slow progress since the Easter recess notwithstanding the advantage of the cloture and the new procedure rules.

State of Business.

In view to the speedy disposal of several valuable measures still before the House, Mr. Gladstone held a meeting of the Government members at the Foreign Office to discuss proposals which had for their object a more expeditious disposal of business before the prorogation. The Prime Minister's programme for the third innings of the session, which was generally accepted, was to the effect that their most elaborate measure, the London Municipal Bill, should be shelved for this term and that attention be exclusively devoted to the Tenants Improvement Bill, the Corrupt Practices Bill and to those legislative measures before the Grand Committees. This business sketch was formally announced to the House by Mr. G. after the holiday for the Derby. On the same day that the Prime Minister was engaged with his supporters in Downing Street, Sir S. Northcote, the leader of the opposition, also sat in conference with his followers at the Carlton Club in regard to the tortoise pace at which business was progressing. Among other opinions, it was decided by the Conservative party to uphold the Agricultural Holdings Bill. This joint agreement, operated for a time in bringing about a complete change in the hitherto sluggish motion of the House.

The Deceased Wife's Sister Bill.

The 11th of June was a "grand field-day" in the House of Lords in the battle royal on the bill to legalise marriage with a deceased wife's sister which measure of domestic reform Her Majesty is said, on the authority of Mr. Bright, to be in favor. With the exception of the Duke of Edinburgh who was absent in Russia, all the other sons of the Queen voted in favor of the measure, and the gathering that evening in the Hereditary Chamber is described to have been "the most numerous and brilliant." H. R. H. the Princess of Wales and several peeresses graced the galleries and upwards of 300 peers were present. The Earl of Dalhousie pilotted the bill. Lord Cairns, the new Primate and the Bishop of Rochester spoke in support of the rejection of the bill while Lords Bramwell and Carrington upheld it The debate was not of a lengthened nature as little that is new could be added to the pros and cons already advanced on behalf of the bill and on the House dividing, the second reading was carried by a majority of 7 (165 to 158 votes), the announcement being followed by loud and hearty cheering; but the battle which had been thus far successfully fought, though as good as won, was still not won, for, at its third reading, the bill encountered an unexpected defeat. The bill at this stage permitted marriages of the nature contemplated, provided they were made before marriage registrars and at the same time it legalised past marriages and the children of those who had previously transgressed the law. This left the deceased wife's sister still in the prayer book as one with whom a marriage could not be celebrated in the established church. The motion for the rejection of the bill was made by the late Duke of Marlborough, and which, sad to relate, was the last act of his political life, (for he died very soon after) and on a division being taken, the Earl of Dalhousie's measure fell to the ground by a small majority of 5 votes.

Suleiman Bhai Daoud.

The news that the Egyptian officer Suleiman Daoud, who was charged and convicted with the burning and plunder of Alexandria, was sentenced to execution to death, led to a heated controversy opened by Sir S. Northcote to stay the execution, but the Prime Minister assuring the House that in the opinion of England's able and trustworthy agents in Egypt the sentence was a just one, declined to interfere with the verdict of the native court and the execution was duly carried out.

Mr. Bright, M. P.

The completion of Mr. Bright's representation of Birmingham in Parliament for a quarter of a century was the occasion of a brilliant reception being accorded to him by that great manufacturing town. He was received at Small Heath Station by the Mayor and members of the Town Council and the President and Officers of the Liberal Association. Mr. Bright was accompanied by his son and married daughters. A gold medal struck in commemoration of the event was presented to him and silver medals of similar design were presented to the ladies of the party. The presentation of the address being over and the party fortified with a lunch, the visitors were escorted a distance of some 5 miles to the Town Hall by a gigantic procession. There was of course, a profuse display of bunting and among the various banners, "the tattered old banner of the Birmingham radicals at the time of the Reform Bill agitation of 1832," floated in the air. At Bingley Hall, the hon: gentleman made a speech to a mass meeting and received addresses from 150 liberal Associations. He was presented with his portrait and a dessert service costing £600. His speech at the Town Hall Banquet occasioned some annoyance to conservative members who persuaded Sir S. Northcote, into making Mr. Bright's remark to the effect that he found the opposition members "in alliance with an Irish rebel party whose funds come directly from the avowed enemies of England," the subject of a discussion in the House. Mr. Bright maintained that he was right in regard to the business of the House being obstructed by the opposition and as regards the term "alliance," he said it merely had allusion to the combination with the Irish party in the endeavour to impede business. This led to some sparring between Mr. Bright, the Irish Members and the front opposition bench, and the veteran statesman was at last declared, amid cheers and counter cheers, by a majority of 34, not to be guilty of a breach of privilege.

Ex-zemindar of Palkonda.

The case of the ex-Zemindar of Palkonda was brought under the consideration of the Lords by Lord Stanley of Alderley, who, in moving that a Select Committee should be appointed to inquire into the case in view to the restoration of the estate, said that the Zemindary was confiscated in 1832 for rebellion by the family, that the ex-Zemindar was imprisoned in that year as a State prisoner at the age of 11, and was not released till 1869 by Lord Napier, after having been confined 37 years in the Vellore Fort. A suit brought by the Ex-Zemindar in the High Court on his release, was decided against him on the ground that it was barred by statute. His case received staunch advocacy from two ex-Governors of this Presidency, viz., Lord Napier and the Duke of Buckingham, but after hearing the Secretary of State, the Earl's motion was negatived. The Under-Secretary of State for India was also questioned by Mr. O'Donnell in connection with this case.

New Guinea.

The annexation of New Guinea in the Queen's name to the British Empire by the Colony of Queensland pending the decision of Her Majesty's Ministers was not accepted by the latter, though it was at first supposed that England would not think twice over the matter. The Col. Secretary, intimated to the Upper House the decision of the Government and said that they were not prepared for cogent reasons to confirm the act of the Queensland Government, which would practically add to the Queen's dominions a tract of country 274,000 miles in extent, but that they would aid in protecting traders to the islands. Lord Derby's advice to the Colonists was that if annexation were necessary to prevent occupation by foreign countries, the Australian Colonists should form a joint stock confederation and act conjointly in annexing the new Hebrides, the Solomon Islands and the other groups in the Pacific which were comprised in their programme. A Despatch was sent to the Queensland Government in these terms. The Duke of Somerset is said to have seized an early opportunity in the House to remind the Col. Secretary as regards his policy in this matter that he might yet find himself in the position of the lady in Don Juan

"Who wept and sighed and very much repented
And whispering 'I will ne'er consent,' consented."

The Australians were very displeased at this decision of the Home Government and in the Legislative assemblies of the Queensland Government and at Melbourne, they would not accept the decision as final, and soon after to shew that they were earnest in the matter, a memorandum was presented to Lord Derby by the Agents General of Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland and new Zealand. This document in recounting the history of the Pacific Islands since 1848, has drawn a thrilling tale of murders, kidnappings, &c., and pointing to the possible creation of French convict settlements in the Pacific, asks that they might "not be exposed to the creation of fortified naval stations and places d'armes in the Pacific."

Second Suez Canal.

A provisional agreement between the Ministry and the President of the Suez Canal Company, having for its object a project to construct a second canal parallel to the present to preserve the waterway between Great Britain and the Indian Empire which in its present condition is at times so blocked with steamers as to seriously affect their progress, had to be withdrawn, with the consent of M. de Lesseps, owing to a tempest of protests from shipping, commercial and political circles. The Premier who met with more than one defeat during this Parliamentary Session and the Foreign Secretary in the Lords have had to conceal their discomfit, cry peccavi and retire from the agreement, under the mediatorship of Sir Rivers Wilson, with the best grace possible. The main heads of agreement between the representatives of H. M's Government and the President of the Company were:—

I. The Company to construct a second canal parallel to the present.
II. The canal to be completed by the end of 1888.
III. The Company to reduce the present dues and tolls.
IV. The English share in the management to be increased.
V. The Company to pay one per cent. of the net profits for 99 years to the Egyptian Government.
VI. The Government to use their influence to obtain the land and lastly, the rock on which the Premier split, the Government to advance 8 millions at 3¼ per cent. to be repaid in 50 years.

Sir S. Northcote moved the House for an address praying that the Queen would not recognise any claim to a monopoly by M. de Lesseps of canal construction across the Isthmus of Suez. The Right Hon. gentlemen said he was prepared to admit a moral but not a legal right on the part of the Company. After a debate which occupied several hours, the Conservative party was defeated and practically therefore the monopoly has been recognized, though it is a point over which lawyers may be found to disagree. Irrespective of this second canal to be cut parallel to the present, an alternative proposal for a canal between the Red Sea and the Mediterranean, which would be uncontrolled by foreign Governments, was urged on the British Government by a deputation from the associated Chambers of Commerce and of Ship-owners. They also submitted the public documents relating to the present canal, to Counsel for opinion as regards the Company's claim to monopolise the navigation of the Isthmus for 90 years and were advised that the claim is unfounded.

Women in Parliament.

At an evening sitting, Mr. Mason proposed a resolution to admit into Parliament women who possess the qualifications to vote which are now considered necessary with the sterner sex, but after earnest opposition from Sir Henry James and others, the resolution was rejected. The Attorney-General who was dragged into the discussion must have bitterly bewailed the necessity to repeat the uncomplimentary yet orthodox opinions "that women were by nature disqualified for State functions" and "that their entry into public life would introduce an element "of timidity and impulse that would be detrimental to the highest interests of the country."

Madagascar.

The sudden and painful news that came from Tamatave at the time of its occupation by the French, of the gross insult offered to the British Consul, was received with amazement, for France with two Colonial wars on her hands and not on the best of terms with her Ministry could only be supposed to be verging on madness if she were alienating herself from her only ally. The particulars received were, that Mr. Pakenham, the English accredited Agent at the Malagasy Court, who was seriously ill at the time of the siege, received notice from the French Admiral to quit the port within 24 hours, which notice the B. Consul did not survive; that other indignities were offered at the funeral; that Mr. Shaw, a missionary attached to the London mission, was arrested on a charge of concealing Hova spies; and that obstruction was offered to the landing of the Mails. These proceedings sufficiently high-handed on the part of the bellicose Admiral were enough to open up communications between France and England which have resulted however in the resignation of the Admiral and was followed, curiously enough, by his death; in the release of Mr. Shaw and the payment of an indemnification to the tune of 1,000£.

The Ministerial Dinner.

Approaching signs of the dissolution of Parliament were visible about the middle of August, when the Lord Mayor, according to ancient custom, entertained the ministers at Mansion House. There was an air of optimism about the Prime Minister's post-prandial oration. It contained the assurance that England had gone to Egypt with no selfish object, that as soon as the principles of reform which she had inaugurated were accomplished, she would retire; that existing relations between France and England would not be affected by the Tamatave incident; and, after referring to the successful administration of Lord Spencer in the 'Sister Isle' and its gradual yet sure return to peace and order, Mr. Gladstone recounted the solid legislative work done during the Session and paid a tribute of praise to the Grand Committees. This cordial reception at Mansion House was succeeded by the customary ministerial Whitebait dinner at Greenwich at which Mr. Gladstone was not present.

Irish Votes—Mr. Healey.

The matter of supply afforded the Irish party several opportunities of venting their spleen on the present administration of Ireland and from the reported proceedings there is abundant proof that the opportunities were not thrown away when the Irish votes for the additional Dublin Police, and the criminal prosecution charges came before the House. Mr. Healey, the newly elected member for Monaghan, supported by the party, and taking advantage of the time when the Irish votes of the Civil estimates were brought forward, attacked the administration of Ireland in condemnatory language of unusual violence, and at one part of his speech remarked that if "the Irish constabulary were charged with spitting babies on bayonets," Mr. Trevelyan, the Chief Secretary would defend them. This inflammatory language forced the Premier to his feet who in a speech both pathetic and dignified rebuked the characteristically quarrelsome member and all those who spoke in similar tones and entreated them to follow "that spirit of gentleness and moderation, that restraint of language which is agreeable to the traditions of the house, to the social state in which we live, to the very name of civilization, and I believe, to the religion which we possess." The Member for Cavan, whose temper is apparently still soured by the recollection of Miss Hyland and the loss of 400£ in the breach of promise action laid by her, in rather an insolent manner, interrupted the Premier while speaking, which forced the newly-elected Chairman, Sir A. Otway, who had more than once to call the excited Irish orators to order, to warn the Member that he would be named on the next occasion he offended.

The Indian Finance.

On the motion for going into Committee on the vast question of the East India Revenue accounts, the Under Secretary, after a long waiting, took the opportunity of explaining the state of Indian finances. He said that "the accounts comprised not only the ordinary finance arrangements of an empire with a population of 250 millions, but also the provincial and part of the local finance of 600,000 towns and villages. The accounts presented related to the finances of three years, viz.; the closed accounts of 1881-82, the revised estimates of 1882-83, and the budget estimates of 1883-84. In the first of those three years the gross receipts were 73,700,000*l.*, and the expenditure 71,100,000*l.*, leaving a surplus of 2,600,000*l.* Besides that, the Provincial Governments had saved from their allotments 1,500,000*l.*; so that, altogether, the unspent money of the year amounted to 4,100,000*l.* The principal items of receipt were the land tax, salt tax, stamps, excise, provincial revenue, customs, and assessed taxes; and from these various sources there were received in 1881-82 a total of 42,200,000*l.* Deducting the amount of 22,000,000*l.*, realised from the land tax, which might be regarded as rent rather than taxation, the whole of the taxation of British India was 20,200,000*l.*, or about 1 rupee per head of the population. The favourable results of the year enabled the Government to relax restrictions which had been placed on local and provincial expenditure during the time that war, famine, and loss by exchange pressed so heavily on Indian finance; also to return to provincial governments 670,000*l.* which had been held in suspense; also to reduce the salt tax by 25 per cent., and to abolish customs duties on all articles except liquors. These remissions were equivalent to leaving 2,800,000*l.* in the pockets of the people. In the year 1882-83 the gross revenue was estimated at 67,900,000*l.*, and the expenditure at 67,700,000*l.*, including the unexpected item of 1,325,000*l.* for the Egyptian war, leaving a surplus of 224,000*l.* But this year, unlike 1881-82, the provincial governments had expended from their balances 1,500,000*l.* so that the total expenditure of the year was 69,200,000*l.* as against 69,600,000 in the previous year. That year also began with the allocation of 1,500,000*l.* as a famine insurance fund, out of which 25,000*l.*, was spent in actual famine relief, 104,000*l* in protective works, and 1,330,000*l.*, in the reduction of debt. The total amount raised under the eight heads of taxation was 39,600,000*l.*, leaving the general taxation of the year at 17,900,000*l.*, or about 14·4 annas per head of the population. As to the coming year, 1883-84, the revenue was estimated in March last at 67,300,000*l.*, and the expenditure at 66,800,000*l.*, leaving a surplus of about 400,000*l.*, or 500,000*l.*, and as the local governments proposed to expend from their balances 1,500,000*l.*, making a gross expenditure of 68,300,000*l.*, which was 905,000*l.*, less than last year. There was also laid aside for famine relief 1,150,000*l.*, of which it was hoped not more than 12,000*l.* would be spent on famine relief, the rest being devoted to protection works and reduction of debt. The receipts were estimated at 39,700,000*l.*, and, excluding the land revenue of 22,000,000*l.* taxation was estimated to produce 17,964,000*l.*, which was a slight increase on the previous year, and was equivalent to 14½ annas per head of the population In summing up this general statement for the three years, he might add that the accounts for 1882-83 were becoming still more favorable, and the closed accounts would show a surplus of 750,000*l.*, instead of 224,000*l.* The estimated surplus of 457,000*l.* for 1883-84 would in all probability, should no famine occur, turn out to be a million additional. In the year 1881-82 the opium revenue fell off by 618,000*l.* as compared with the previous year but the receipts from taxes and railways increased so much that the surplus of the year, estimated at 855,000*l.* was 2,582,727*l.* In this year also salt produced more than in 1880-81 by 259,632*l.*' excise, 292,048; forests, 165,115*l.*; State railways, 287,407*l*; guaranteed railways,' 720,826*l.*; and the East Indian Railway, 472,672*l.* The salt duty was reduced by 25 per cent. The Customs receipts had reduced in consequence of abolition of duties. The net duties were now only 1,109,000*l.* and 1,111,000*l.* respectively, in the last two years, of which 400,000*l.* was derived from wines, spirits, and beer; and 700,000*l.* from the export duty on rice—a tax the Government wish to abolish, and would have, but for the necessity of paying arrears due to the Treasury for army pension charges. The estimate for opium revenue was less in 1882-83 than in the previous year by 600,000*l* net, and this year, Major Baring estimated a further net reduction of 182,000*l.* The net increase was 190,000*l.* in 1882-83, and a further increase of 9,000*l.* was expected in 1883-84. The revenue for forests shewed an increase of 19,000*l.* in 1882-83, but for the coming year the estimate was reduced by 76,000*l.* The post office, telegraphs, and mint cost in 1882-83, 274,731*l.* and in 1883-84 were estimated at 369,800*l.* There were now 4,800 post offices againt 2,880 in 1872, and 7,000 letter boxes against 1,885 ten years ago. The telegraphs extended over 20,000 miles of lines and 55,000 miles of wire. The receipts of the civil departments showed a small reduction of 78,776*l.* in 1882-83, and a further estimated reduction of 32,100*l.* in 1883-84. The receipts from miscellaneous sources were less in 1882-83 by 338,901*l.*, and were estimated at 98,800*l.* less this year. As to army expenditure, the gross totals shown in the accounts were 17,434,000*l.* in 1882-83, and 16,064,000*l.* in 1883-84. These large sums compared favourably with 28,086,000*l.* and 18,861,000*l.* in the previous years of 1880-81 and 1881-82, the first of which was the heaviest year of the Afghan war. The 17,434,000*l.* spent in 1882-83 included the cost of the Indian contingent in Egypt, towards which a sum of 500,000*l.* was contributed by England. Deducting this and matters of account the net cost to India in 1882-83 was 15,900,000*l.*, against a net cost of 15,039,000*l.* in 1881-82, and of 23,864,000*l* in 1880-81. This year the net cost was expected to be 15,198,000*l.* The real annual cost of the Indian military establishment, not including either the Afghan or Egyptian war, was, in 1880-81, 15,794,000*l*; in 181-82, 16,054,000*l*; in 1882-83, 15,121,000*l*; and in 1883-84, 15,198,000*l.* The cost of the effective forces of the Indian army for the last four years had been, in 1880-81, 13,057,000*l*; in 1881-82, 13,122,000*l.*; in 1882-83, 12,207,000*l*; and in 1883-84, 12,095,000*l.* The expenditure on public works—ordinary and productive—was, in the three years ending March 1884, 29,036,000*l.*, towards which 9,402,000*l.* had been provided from loans and reducted balances. In the previous three years the amount spent was 28,682,000*l* out of which 14,399,000*l.* was provided from loans and balances, so that 554,000*l.* more had been spent, but 4,997,000*l.* less was borrowed and used from balances. The productive works were those constructed out of borrowed money or under a Government guarantee of interest. The total capital involved was 163,000*l.* and the gross receipts of 1882-83 showed a decrease of 412,000*l.* as compared with the previous year: but the estimate for 1883-84 showed a recovery of 238,000*l.* The total amount of revenue on these works was 10,782,000*l.* in 1881-82, against 9,382,000*l* in the previous year, but it fell to 10,370,000*l.* in the year ending March 1883, and was put down at the very moderate estimate of 10,608,000*l.* for 1883-84. The current revenue upon these productive works now exceeded the charge for interest and maintenance, the profit being 454,000*l* in 1882-83 and 520,000*l* in 1883-84. The railways were the profitable branch of the productive works expenditure. The receipts were 15,231,263*l.*, and the expenses 7,580,549*l.*, showing a net profit of 7,659,712*l.*, or 5·37 per cent on the total capital employed. Adding the excess of interest paid to the capital account of the railways, the dividend now earned would be about 4·6 per cent, whereas in the United Kingdom last year the profit was only 4·32 per cent. In England whilst the gross traffic on the lines amounted to only 9 per cent. on the total capital embarked, in India it was 11 per cent. The State would spend in railways this year 4,400,000*l.*, and private enterprise 1,600,000*l.*, making in all 6,000,000,l. The debt of India, including every liability and guarantee on account of public works, was 229,000,000*l.*, against which they had public works paying good interest on 163,000,000*l*, leaving an uncovered debt of 66,000,000*l*—not an excessive amount for a country of 200,000,000 people, whose trade was rapidly increasing, and whose annual exports exceeded the total amount of its net national debt." The debate on the India budget stood adjourned to the ensuing Parliamentry Session and the Under Secretary of State taking advantage of the vacation proceeded to Egypt to confer with Sir. E. Baring chiefly, it is supposed, in regard to the development of India railway resources.

Parliament Prorogued.

The week ending August 18th saw the Commons sitting for 69¼ hours in all, producing the sympathetic ejaculation "pity the sorrows of the poor M. P.'s" The longest daily sitting was from 12 P.M. on Saturday to 2-20 A.M. on Sunday, an interval of hours 14-20. Parliament was, after one of its longest sittings, owing to the state of business, prorogued on August 25th, to 12th November.

The Queen's Speech.

The Royal message which released the ministry from their labors pro tempora, intimated that the Danube conference "had arrived at an agreement favorable to commerce," that the work of administrative reform in Egypt "had steadily advanced though retarded by the visitation of cholera," that it was expected that communications with France arising out of the Madagascar incidents, would lead to satisfactory results,; but that the condition of the Zulu country and the working of the Transvaal convention were still far from satisfactory. It alluded with gratification to the improvement of the agricultural condition of parts of the country which had been suffering from depression, and, in connection with Ireland, took special pleasure in stating that agrarian crime had diminished and that "associations having murder for their object, were being checked by the detection and punishment of offenders." Of the legislative measures, some 46 in all, that received the Royal assent, the following were referred to in the Queen's speech; viz., the English and Scottish agricultural holdings Acts, a measure calculated to give agricultural tenants compensation for improvements effected by them on their farms, and which, being of personal interest to many landed Parliamentary members, was, in the bill stage, discussed clause by clause; the Corrupt practices at Elections Act, in the coils of which the Commons were for weeks entangled; and the Bankruptcy and the Patents Acts, the details of which the Grand Committee of Trade elaborated to a satisfactory issue; the National Debt bill and the Act for encouraging Irish industry and enterprise by improved communications and for affording further relief by emigration and migration.

Austria.—M. Tisza, the Hungarian Premier, received the felicitations of the Liberal Party on New Year's day, and in reply said that the policy of the Government "in the future, as in the past would be to seek allies for the preservation of peace." The suicide of Count Wimpiffan, the Austrian Ambassador in Paris, at the close of the preceding year, was received with surprise and intense regret in Vienna. The Danube was in state of flood early in the year, submerging villages. A treaty, the result of the Danubian Conference, was signed by all the Plenipotentiaries on March 10th, but they resolved to allow two months to elapse before ratification of the same with a view to giving Roumania the opportunity on second consideration of accepting their conclusions. The Spring Exhibition of Paintings and Fine Arts at Vienna was opened by the Emperor on the 17th March. The great Socialist trials resulted in all the prisoners being acquitted of high treason. Three were convicted of robbery, and two sentenced to 15 years' hard labour and one to two years' penal servitude. A grand review of the troops was held at Vienna in April in the presence of the Emperor, Prince William of Prussia, the Crown Prince of Austria and other notables. Prince William distributed several Prussian decorations of which he was the bearer to the officers of Emperor William's regiment. Several Imperial and Royal visitors were entertained during the year. The Emperor William paid a visit to the Emperor of Austria at Ischyl. The latter went to Ebensee to meet the German Emperor and at the Railway station at Ischl, their Majesties were received by the Empress. The Queen of Portugal and the Crown Prince Carl were also guests of the Imperial family. The latter it is said was on the interesting mission of seeking a partner in life. The other royal visitors were the King of Servia, King Charles of Roumania and the King of Spain, all apparently inclined to be associated in friendly union with the Austrio-German alliance. A revolting trial was held of 15 Hungarian Jews who were alleged to have murdered a Christian girl, Esther Solymosi, "in order to provide human blood for passover observances." The prosecution, which was prompted by the bitter prejudice entertained against the Jews, completely broke down and the prisoners were aquitted. Then followed such a series of outrages against the class that martial law had to be proclaimed against the anti-Jewish rioters.

Canada.—Canada is said to have caught the infection of Nihilism also, for owing to threatening letters having been received, unusual precautions were taken to protect the Marquis of Lorne on his journey in April from Ottawa to Halifax. His tenure of office as Governor General terminated by efflux of time in October, and he was succeeded by Lord Lansdowne. The latter landed at Quebec on the 23rd of that month and was received by the Marquis. Lord Lansdowne is a great Irish landlord and the fact perhaps accounts for the various rumours to destroy him and for the threatening letters he was receiving, no doubt from the Irish element of the dominion. On their return from Canada, the Princess Lousie and the Marquis of Lorne were received enthusiastically at Liverpool. The Town Council presented the Marquis with an address congratulating him on his successful administration of Canada, to which he made reply.

South Africa.—Cetewayo, the Zulu King, who was restored to his numerous wives and his country, or rather so much of the latter as was reserved for him, was destined to give England a great deal more trouble than probably was expected would follow his restoration. His reception at Port Durnford was not particularly enthusiastic, supposed to be due to the unwillingness of the people to have him back but explained afterwards to be more due to their ignorance of his movements than otherwise. His re-instatement at Ulundi on the 29th January, was witnessed by about 5,000 Zulus, considerable dissatisfaction having been apparent among the chiefs at the smallness of the reserved dominions. The conditions of his restoration were read to His Majesty by Sir T. Shepstone and though the former often expressed himself grateful to the English people for letting him free, he never concealed his feelings at the manner in which Zululand was divided up. Not four months after, news was received of open ruptures and warlike engagements between the Zulu King and the neighbouring chiefs Usibepu and Oham, which were succeeded first, by intelligence of his being routed by Usibepu with a loss of 6,000 men and next, of his having scored a victory against Oham and lastly, of his death. This last, however, turned out to be untrue for the pet of the late Bishop of Natal and of Lady Florence Dixie was soon after reported to be alive and still in the flesh and made his voice heard in demanding an inquiry into his treatment. He refused to leave his hiding place to see Mr. Commissioner Osborn who was sent to speak to him but told the Commissioner's deputy that he blamed the authorities for his troubles and no longer required their advice. His tone was defiant. The summons on which he afterwards surrendered himself to Mr. Osborn, contained the intimation that if he refused, Usibepu would be allowed to attack him, and British troops would be present in Zululand "to give moral support to his operations." This led to the capture of the quondam king who is now on the hands of the British as the guest of the Commissioner. The whole of the border country was more or less throughout the year in a state of anarchy and the natives were forced to resort to arms to resist B er aggressions and oppressions. The Transvaal Volksraad dismissed Dr. Jorrissen from his post of Attorney General and a deputation from the Transvaal started for Europe on the 17th September, to interview the Colonial Secretary.

France.—The history of France during the year has been fraught with many domestic and political troubles and dangers and whether regarded in connection with

Egypt, Tonquin, Madagascar or Africa, she has been running herself pretty close to be entirely agreeable to England, her only ally. She was called upon very early in 1883 to consign to the silent tomb the remains of two of her illustrious sons and while the virtues of M. Gambetta, the departed Statesman, to whom might be ascribed much of the establishment of the Republic, and of his military colleague and personal friend, General Chanzy, were still on the lips of every one, the Cabinet, with more zeal than discretion, worked themselves into a frenzy over the silly manifesto of Prince Napoleon. The trial of Prince Krapotkine and his anarchist associates and the riotous demonstrations and trial of Mdle: Louise Michel and her friends helped to keep France more than ordinarily lively at home. The triple alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy was like a red rag and only incensed the feeling against those European countries. Then again, her adventurous schemes of "colonial expansion," which in connection with Madagascar brought about the resignation, if not the re-call, of the bellicose Admiral who bombarded the chief sea-port and the payment of an indemnification to the tune of £1,000 to Mr. Missionary Shaw who was placed in arrest on suspicion of concealing Hova spies. With whatever ease France calculated on effecting her protectorate policy in Tonquin, she was soon startled by the defeat of Commander Henri Riviere in a sortie from Hanoi, and was forced to adopt urgent measures for the despatch of adequate reinforcements. Meanwhile, China set to work arming, massing her troops at various points and purchasing largely munitions of war. After a series of successful and unsuccessful engagements with the Annamities, a draft treaty was concluded at Hue, but China was obdurate as to France assuming any suzeranity over Tonquin. Whether regarding the silence in the tomb of the foe of the Monarchists as a fitting opportunity for an attempt at Monarchical restoration or not, the manifesto of the Prince Napoleon led to his arrest by order of the Cabinet and to the formulation of a bill, after demonstrative debates in the Senate, providing for the banishment of Princes whose manifestations are against the surety of the State. We also see the piteous spectacle of a chopping and changing of ministries; first, of a cabinet under M. Fallieres deprived of the support of such distinguished members as M. Duclerc General Bellot, and Admiral Jaureguiberry, and next, of a ministry with M. Jules Ferry, as Premier whose first act was to deprive three of the Orleanist Princes of their military office and to place them on the unattached list. The Prince, who was held as a State prisoner, was released without trial on the verdict of the Chambres des Mises en Accusation that he had committed no legal offence. In Madagascar, where she illustrated the fable of the wolf and the lamb, her first aggressive act was against the port of Mayunja and next, against Tamatave, on the Malagasy Queen's rejecting the ultimatum of which Admiral Pierre was the bearer. In the grave outrage he offered to Mr. Consul Pakenham and to the British flag, he brought France within "measureable distance" of a war with England but with a Government bent on a policy of peace at any price, the contingency passed quietly away. In the Congo also, on the plea of protecting her trade interests, the captain of a gun boat landed his men and occupied in the name of his country Pontanegra and Loango. The appointment of M. Waddington as French Ambassador in succession to M. Trissort was no doubt a move in the pack to "cast oil over the troubled waters," for besides being an Englishman by birth and education, he enjoys the reputation of being a diplomatist of no mean order. To her necrological list which had during the year received accessions in the death of several gifted citizens as Wagner and others, has to be added that of the Comte de Chambord, the titular king of France, who died in his Chateau at Frohsdorff after a long and painful illness, aged 63. The Comte de Paris, to whom the Comtess de Chambord would not accede the position of chief mourner at the funeral obsequies, is the successor to an empty title, and nothing less than summary expulsion stares him in the face if he attempts to assume the position of Pretender to the throne. The gross outrage offered by a Paris mob to the King of Spain on his paying a visit to President Grevy from Brussels has probably increased the feeling of enstrangement entertained by Austria and Germany against France. The King had just been witnessing the great German military movements at Homburg and out of compliment was offered by the Emperor the honorary Colonelcy of a German regiment which he accepted. This so incensed the people that on his arrival at Paris he was greeted with hisses and shouts of 'A bas le Uhlan' and 'A bas Alphonso' by a turbulent mob. He was driven at a rapid pace from the station to the Embassy resembling, it is said "more a flight from a crowd of hostile pursuers than anything else." On his way subsequently to the Elysée to pay a State visit to M. Grevy, he was again mobbed and insulted and within an ace of receiving personal rougher treatment. M. Grevy in the afternoon visited the King and in the name of France begged that "he would not identify her with the wretches who had compromised her renown." The King returned the next day to Madrid and the Spanish Government subsequently insisted on a full account of what passed between the King and President Grevy being published in the Official Journal which the French authorities met with evasion but it was afterwards announced that the difficulty had been settled in a manner satisfactory to both nations.

Germany.—The aged Emperor and Empress received the customary new year congratulations at the Palace from the Imperial and Royal household, the Generals and the Princes and Dukes not of the royal blood and from the diplomatic body. In striking contrast to Eastern experience where the servant nuisance is a source of great complaint, it is announced that within the last 6 years, 893 servants obtained the "Golden Cross," a distinction instituted by the Empress for bestowal on women servants who continue in the same family for 40 years and upwards. Early in the year floods in the districts bordering the Rhine submerged hundreds of cities and villages and caused great loss of property. The Emperor granted £30,000 from the treasury for the relief of those who were distressed in consequence. The "Coronation and Decoration Festival" was celebrated with all its usual pomp on January 14, when "an incredible number of "ribbons, medals and orders, from the Red Eagle of the first class down to the universal "sign of merit" were showered upon a grateful multitude." The festivities in connection with the celebration of the silver wedding of the Crown Prince and Princess were suddenly interrupted by the death of Prince Charles, the aged and only surviving brother of the veteran Emperor. He left two daughters and a son, the celebrated 'Red Prince.' Their Imperial Highnesses, the Crown Prince, who is universally popular on the continent and the Princess Victoria, who is specially endeared to England as the eldest daughter of Queen Victoria, entered upon the 25th anniversary of their married life in January, last having been united in wedlock at London in January 1858. Among those who offered their personal congratulations on the anniversary of the "silver wedding" were the aged Emperor and Empress. The commemoration gifts were numerous and costly. The townspeople subscribed in aid of the erection of an English Church at Berlin and of charitable institutions of which the Princess is patroness. The festivities which were postponed till the Court had gone out of official mourning took place at the end of February, the Prince of Wales who is a great favorite with the Imperial family and who has had several military distinctions conferred on him was present, as also the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh. The second son of Prince William of Prussia and the great grandson of Queen Victoria was christened at Potsdam on the 19th August. He received the names of Wilhelm Eitel Frederick Christian Karl. The autumn military manœuvres of the German army was held at Homburg under the inspection of the Emperor and in the presence of the Kings of Saxony, Spain and Servia, the Prince of Wales and the Dukes of Edinburgh and Connaught. The Emperor remained in the saddle for 3 hours. King Alfonso was appointed by the Emperor, honorary colonel of one of the Uhlan regiments, a distinction which roused a Paris mob into insulting the Spanish King when he visited the President of the Republic afterwards. The fourth centenary of the birth of Martin Luther was celebrated at the birth-place of the Reformer. Notwithstanding his advanced age, the Emperor William paid a visit of ceremony to the Emperor of Austria, and was received and entertained with great cordiality. An alliance of commerce between the two nations was confirmed by the Senate. The marriage of the Queen of Italy's brother, the Duke of Genoa, with the Princess Isabella of Bavaria was celebrated at the Castle of Nyenphenburg in the suburbs of Munich, the honors of the house being done by Prince Ferdinand and his newly made bride, the Infanta Paz. The King of Bavaria was absent at the marriage.

Ireland.—Murder will be out'! ! A more striking exemplification of the truth of this trite saying has perhaps not been met with anywhere than in the unravelling of the Phœnix Park assassinations, of which Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke were the unhappy victims. These murders have for many months baffled the combined skill of the most eminent of Irish and London detectives but at last owing to the unflagging perserverance of Mr. Mallon, the Superintendent of the detective Department and of Mr. Jenkinson, Assistant Under Secretary for Police and Crime, the mystery has been unfolded. Twenty-one prisoners including Carey, the Dublin Town Councillor, were charged before the Dublin Police Court in the middle of January with conspiracy to murder certain Crown officials. This infamous work of human destruction was, according to the evidence of the approvers, specially entrusted to a chosen band of the most blood-thirsty, known as "the inner circle." Mr. Justice Lawson and Mr. Field, whose lives were unsuccessfully attempted, were among the selected victims and it is truly amazing to hear of the twenty hair-breadth escapes that Mr. Forster the late Chief Secretary for Ireland passed through under the guardianship of a Providence. Farrell, Michael Kavanagh, a car-owner, James Carey, the Dublin Town Councillor, Peter Carey, his brother, and J. Hanlon turned Queen's evidence, and brought conclusive and crushing testimony to bear on the prisoners. Joe Brady, one of the four sworn to have been on the car escaping from the Park immediately after the murders, was first placed in the dock before the Dublin assize charged with the Park assassinations on May 6th, 1882. The ghastly and horrible tales previously given at the Police Court were of course repeated before Mr. Justice O'Brien. The alibi set up by the prisoner completely failed and on the jury returning a verdict of guilty, the prisoner was sentenced to death. Dan Curley was next placed in the dock and quitted it with the same grim sentence. Timothy Kelly was the third to be tried but he had the temporary satisfaction of seeing two successive juries disagree over their verdict of his guilt. The unfortunate man was tried by a third, convicted and sentenced to death. John Fitzharris, the carman, and known by the fraternity as "Skin the goat" was acquitted. Patrick Delaney who is already undergoing a sentence of penal servitude for the attempt to shoot Mr. Justice Lawson, and Thomas Caffrey, pleaded guilty and were duly sentenced to be hanged. This plea of guilty has given the most corroborative proof to the evidence of the approvers on which much discredit was attempted to be thrown. Michael Fagan was the seventh in the order of trial and received the same direful sentence as Joe Brady. Fitzharris was again placed before the dock on a charge of conspiracy to murder and being an accessory after the fact and was sentenced to penal servitude for life. Lawrence Hanlon who was charged with inflicting injuries to Mr. D. F. Field and Joe Mullett with conspiracy in the act were sentenced to the same term, and of the remaining conspirators, James Mullett, McCaffrey, Moroney, Delaney, O'Brien and Doyle were sentenced to various terms of penal servitude. The sentence of death passed on Patrick Delaney for the park murders was reprieved but he lies under an earlier sentence of 10 years' transportation for attempting Mr. Justice Lawsons' life. Over the work that fell to the lot of the late Marwood, in the execution of his duty as public executioner, a dark veil might perhaps be fitly drawn. Sheridan, Egan and Tynan, the mysterious No. 1, whose names occurred frequently in the evidence given in the course of these trials, took flight from Ireland and are safe in America under the ægis of an extradition law. James Carey, one of the approvers, who was shipped off quietly from London was tracked by a man named O'Donnell and shot dead on his way to Natal in the vessel Melrose Castle, despite the most secretly devised measures of the Government to ensure his safety. Carey and his family were shipped under the assumed name of Power. O'Donnell was subsequently tried in England for wilful murder, convicted and sentenced to death. The other approvers were shipped to Australia but their landing at Melbourne was prevented by the authorities and they ultimately found a refuge in Indian soil. Another remarkable band of conspirators was also hunted up and brought to justice It was designated the "Patriotic Brotherhood Conspiracy." According to the evidence of Duffy, who was once a member of this brotherhood, the association was sworn "to murder landlords and wage war against the Queen." The trial of twelve members of this Patriotic Brotherhood at the Belfast assizes resulted in a verdict of guilty on all counts. Mr. Justice Lawson sentenced them to various terms of penal servitude varying from 10 to 5 years.

Russia.—The coronation of Alexander III, the Emperor of Russia, the ruler of eighty millions of subjects and the lord of an Empire that stretches from the centre of Europe almost to the confines of China' was accomplished after many postponements and without any accident, in the month of May in the ancient Muscovite capital, attended with ceremonies of great splendour and novelty. The first important step to the completion of this imposing event was the departure of the Imperial Court from St. Petersburg to the Pettroffsky Palace which it reached in safety and where the Emperor and Empress were enthusiastically received: The Czar and Czarina next made their state entry into Moscow to the palace of the Kremlin A crowd estimated at half a million collected along the route six hours before the time. The Czar was mounted on a white horse, and wore the dark-green "uniform of a Russian General, with black astrachan cap, the blue ribbon of St. Andrew and the star of the order." The Empress followed in a state carriage "which was one blaze of gold, drawn by eight white horses in gold harness." The procession which was a very grand and interesting sight, traversed more than 4 miles of road and included in it the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh. At the gate of the Resurrection, their Imperial Highnesses alighted and kneeling, prayed before the shrine of our Lord of Tver. Further on, they went into the Cathedral of the Assumption where a solemn 'Te Deum' was sung and on their entering the Palace, the bells of the churches were pealed and the cannon boomed forth. The next day, the Imperial standard (the sacred Banner of Russia) was consecrated and on the 27th May the ceremony of the coronation of the Czar and of his Consort took place successfully in the Cathedral of the Assumption in the Kremlin at Moscow. The Emperor wore the white uniform of a Colonel of the Imperial Guard and the Empress was dressed in a Russian costume, richly embroidered with diamonds. They walked under a splendid canopy carried by thirty-two Generals, from the palace to the Cathedral, where on arrival they were addressed by the Metropolitan. They were next led to the throne and the Emperor was required to read aloud the Orthodox Creed. He next robed himself with the Imperial mantle and received the crown which he placed on his head. Then "taking his sceptre in his right hand and the globe of empire in the left," he sat on the throne, the Empress still standing. The crown "is of gold, enriched with pearls and diamonds and surmounted by a very large ruby." After sundry other ceremonies, the Emperor took off his crown and touched the forehead of the Empress with it, she then knelt before him and he placed on her head her crown which is topped by a large sapphire. Then the Empress was clothed with her mantle of gold and ermine and the completion of the investiture of both their majesties was announced by a salute of 101 guns. The sprinkling of the consecrated oil on the Emperor and Empress was next proceeded with and after a few more formalities, the royal pair who had in the meantime received the congratulations of the Imperial family and the foreign princes, emerged from the Cathedral, shewing themselves to the mighty concourse as the crowned heads of the empire. To this dazzling and solemn spectacle must be imagined the loud and continued cheers of the assembled crowd; the thunder of the cannon and the pealing of the bells. A state banquet, at which the Emperor and Empress wore their crowns and sat at a table apart, waited on by State officials, and the illumination of the city brought the day's proceedings to a close. A manifesto issued by the Czar immediately after the ceremony of his coronation and which inaugurated no measures of domestic reform, merely remitted all taxes in arrears up to 1st January 1883, all penalties under judgments not yet enforced and forgave all persons concerned in the last Polish insurrection. The coronation festivities were continued for a week and at the gigantic people's fetê on the 2nd June where more than half a million people were entertained, each person "received a basket with a meat-pie, a cake and some sweets, and an earthenware mug stamped with the double-headed eagle and the date." The festivities were concluded at Moscow with a grand military review on the 9th June, at which both the Emperor and Empress were present, and on the 10th the royal party returned to St. Petersburgh, and thus has ended peacefully an event which all Europe was watching with great anxiety. The Transcaspian railway which would enable Russia to take the field in force on the Persian frontier at a short notice, without keeping a garrison at Akkal Tekke, and which also opens up a shorter trade route in Central Asia, is being rapidly completed. Several persons it is said in high social and official positions in Vollugnia have been threatened with letters from the "Socialist Committee',' one was addressed to the Governor himself threatening him with death. The chief of Police has been arrested. The peaceful M. de Giers, the Director of the Russian Foreign Office, visited the Ministers at Germany, Austria and Italy, and subsequently by a circular informed the Russian Ambassadors at the various Courts that the result was satisfactory and would tend to preserve peace. The Czar is reported to have received a memorandum from the Nihilists before his coronation containing a list of eight conditions which he was called upon to comply with. Russia's claim at the proceedings of the Danube Conference with respect to the Kilia branch was settled satisfactorily. She is free to profit by its natural advantages provided the rights of chr neighbours at the Salina are not interfered with. A draft treaty between Persia and Russia as to the North-eastern frontier of the former, was concluded in June. The foundation stone of the new Church of the Resurrection to be built on the spot where the Emperor Alexander II was assassinated, was laid on October 18th by the Emperor.

Spain.—The marriage of the Infanta Maria della Paz, second sister of King Alphonzo, with Prince Louis Ferdinand of Bavaria was celebrated in the chapel of the Royal Palace, Madrid on April 2nd. The bride wore a silver and white dress, the present of the King, valued at £2,000. A very interesting anecdote in connection with this auspicious union bears repeating. A stone which forms part of the masonry of the College of Saira Monte in Granada and which is known as the 'marriage stone' is said to possess the remarkable virtue of conferring marriage on any single person within 12 months of his or her touching it. In the course of their visit to the Moorish capital in April of the year before, this young lady and her sister were invited by the Cicerone, a member of the resident clergy, to touch the stone, at the same time he communicated to them the popular superstition attached to it. The Princess that is married accepted the invitation and touched the stone frequently. The result is now an open secret. The interest in the Raphael centenary still remains as unabated as ever. The 4th centenary of this most famous of Italian painters was celebrated in April with ceremonies which partook both of the sublime and the secular elements, for besides visits to the tomb, the towns of his birth and of his death are en fete with processions, banquets and festivities. The King and Queen were present at the capitol. On the occasion of the birth of a daughter, their Majesties received an address of congratulation from the Cortes. Great military risings occurred in Spain with cries for a republic The soldiers proclaimed Ruiz Zorrilla then in France, President, but the insurrection was soon quelled by the Government by a large force of troops. The insurgents fled to Portugal where they were disarmed. This military conspiracy is attributed to the King having placed a number of officers on the reserve list and having stopped the promotion of others. The step in question was taken in consequence of the King finding, on his ascension to the throne, an excess of 22,000 officers in the army. With great courage the youthful Don Alphonzo returned to Madrid from La Granga, held a review of the troops at the capital aggregating about 12,000 men and made a tour of the disaffected garrisons also. The King paid a visit to Berlin and witnessed the military movements of the German armies at Homburg and was appointed by the Emperor William a honorary Colonel of one of the Uhlan regiments. On his return to Madrid via Paris where he was grossly insulted for the acceptance of this military complement paid to him by the Emperor, he was received by his own nation most enthusiastically. It is estimated that 1,50,000 assembled along the route to the Palace, the doors of which were left open all day for the admission of persons of all ranks without distinction. The city was illuminated at night. The German Emperor has, no doubt, with a great deal of correctness, regarded the insults offered by the Parisin mob to the Spanish King as directed against himself, and if the truth were revealed it may also be discovered that the enthusiastic ovation given the King by the Spaniards was more intended to silence the French than to express their sympathy with their sovereign.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE QUEEN.—Our gracious Queen who attained the age of 64 on the 24th of May, has now been a widow for 22 years, the Prince Consort having died in December 1861. The birth-day was celebrated with the customary festive commemorations in London, including the military ceremonial of 'trooping the colors' which took place at St. James' Park in the presence of thousands of spectators. Reckoning from the Norman Conquest, Her Majesty's age has been exceeded by only eleven of the sovereigns of England. On the 20th of June, she entered upon the forty-seventh year of her reign, a period which has been exceeded by only three English sovereigns, viz.; Henry iii, Edward iii, and George iii, who reigned 56, 50 and 60 years respectively. An unfortunate accident to her knee about the middle of March, which was caused by slipping upon some stairs at the Palace, interfered much with her general good health. Her Majesty's physical ailment was also for a time accompanied by a mental depression which caused serious anxiety to her physicians, but after a change to Osborne and a short residence in the Highlands, her health steadily improved. The role of Her Majesty's grand children received two accessions during the year, the Duchess of Connaught having given birth to a son, (the first male born to her) and the Duchess of Albany, to a daughter, her first born. The number of surviving grand children now stand at the goodly figure of 28.

Among the admissions to the various orders and decorations which were made by command of the Queen in commemoration of her birth-day, the honor in this Presidency fell to the lot of two only; Mrs. Grant Duff, the wife of our Governor, on whom was conferred the decoration of the Imperial Order of the Crown of India, and Lieutenant Col. Thomas Ross Church, Commandant, Madras Vol. Guards, who was appointed Companion of the Order of the Indian Empire. A similar honor was conferred on Dr. Bidie, Superintendent of the Central Museum, Madras, among the New Year appointments. The anniversary of this birth-day marked also the inauguration of a new decoration or order of merit, the "Royal Red Cross," designed for such members of the fair sex who distinguish themselves in time of war by ministrations to sick and wounded soldiers or sailors.

PRINCE OF WALES.—The obliging Prince of Wales took an unusually large share this year in presiding at inaugural ceremonies and by his presence and his speech, and in some instances, by his co-operation, has he lent encouragement to the establishment and spread of science, art, literature and general good-feeling; but the burden was not cast exclusively on his shoulders for the Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and the Duke and Duchess of Albany and the Princess Beatrice are all found during the year discharging in various ways the obligations attachi[illegible]on. The Princess filled with marked success the place of the Queen at various Drawing Rooms held at the Palace which H. M. was incapacitated attending owing to the accident to her knee. One of Prince's earliest publi[illegible]s in the year was the unveiling at Woolwich of the army and[illegible]onument erected by a subscription throughout all ranks of the Napoleon Bonaparte, in memo[illegible] the late French Prince Imperial Louis alludolying to a correspo[illegible] that Prince Ar[illegible] killed in the Zulu War fighting for the Queen. In [illegible] of Wales sa[illegible] wrote to inquire whether there was any truth in the rumou[illegible] of the [illegible]tor was about to join the army, the Secretary of the Prince [illegible] that H. R. H. had no present intention of placing his son in that bra[illegible] service. The young Prince entered upon his collegiate residence at Trinity [illegible], in October. The Queen conferred the order of the Garter on her grands[illegible]ally invested him with the insignia and the ribbon. The second son, Prince [illegible] appointed midshipman to the corvette Canada, commanded by [illegible].

The crowning event of the year at which H. [illegible] assisted was, the opening of the International Fisheries Exhibition at South Kensington when the Prince, accompanied by the Princess, officiated in the place of Her Majesty, whose presence alone was wanting to complete the success of that grand and auspicious ceremony. The purposes of the Exhibition were stated in the address read to the Prince to be, the 'careful collection of facts relating to one of the most ancient, extensive and important of industries,' illustrated by the 'vast contributions of the animal productions of the seas and rivers' which were stored in the buildings, and of the 'diversified contrivances for their capture,' 'of the modes of preserving and multiplying fish,' 'the various articles of commerce yielded by fisheries,' and the 'agencies by which they are distributed and prepared for use.' The condition of [illegible]hermen, the perils attending their occupation and the exhibition of life-saving apparatuses were also referred to. H. R. H. in reply said he hoped that the exhibition would afford the means of enabling practical fishermen to acquaint themselves with the latest improvements which have been made in their craft in all parts of the world, so that, without needless destruction or avoidable waste of any kind, mankind may derive the fullest possible advantage from the bounty of the waters. Great Britain, the Foreign Countries and the Colonies, among which may be enumerated Russia, Spain, France, Austria, Germany, Italy, &c., China, Japan, India, Ceylon and the Straits Settlements,—furnished the exhibits; but the Madras consignment appears not to have been extensive or varied. The daily average number of visitors to the exhibition has been about 14,700, for within the first 68 days of its opening, the total number reached 1,000,000. A grand fête was also held at the exhibition in aid of the funds for building an English Church at Berlin in commemoration of the silver wedding of the Crown Prince and Princess of Germany. The Marchioness Tseng and her daughters assisted by the Duke and Duchess of Albany presided over the Chinese Court; the Princess Mary Adelaide and her daughters sold flowers; Princes Christian and the Duchess of Connaught kept a light refreshment stall and the Princess of Wales sold button-holes and shoulder-knots.

Duke of Edinburgh.—The Duke and Duchess were present at the festivities at Berlin in commemoration of the silver wedding of the Crown Prince and Princess of Germany, and afterwards, accompanied by Genl. Lord Wolseley, who represented the Britisn Army, and Vice Admiral Lord Clanwilliam, who represented the British Navy, they witnessed the coronation of the Czar at Moscow, the Duke representing the Queen. In consequence of a statement to the effect that arrangements were made with the German Government whereby in consideration of a sum of £1,000,000. sterling, the Duke was willing to abdicate his claims to the reversionary interest in the Grand Duchy of Saxe-Coburg, the Army and Navy Gazette was, in the early part of the year, authorised to state that the Duke had no desire to dispose of his reversionary interest, nor had he any intention of entertaining proposals on the subject. A paper by H. R. H. on the Sea Fisheries and the Fishing population of the United Kingdom which he was prevented reading owing to his absence at the coronation, was read by the Prince of Wales at a conference in connection with the Fisheries Exhibition.

Duke of Connaught.—One of the earliest acts in the year of the Duke was to move the first resolution at a meeting held at the Mansion House in support of the funds of the Society for the relief of distress in the Metropolis. The infant son of the Duke and Duchess was christened at Windsor Castle in February and named Arthur Frederick Patrick Albert. The little Prince is the first son of three children born to the Duke and Duchess. The Duke, who is now in his 34th year, and who has always shown himself anxious to take a share in the work of the Army, expressed a wish early in the year to be provided with a command in India, and has had the same gratified by his appointment to the Command [illegible]on of the Army on the retirement of Lieutenant-General Sir R. O. Bright, K.C.B. Particulars of his reception at the Bombay Dockyards are given in the Indian section.

Duke of Albany.—The Duke and Duchess went into residence at Windsor Castle in February on account of the accouchement of the latter, which event occurred at the end of that month, adding to the list of the Queen's grand-daughters. The infant Princess was at the christening ceremony named Alice Mary Victoria Augusta Pauline. On behalf of the cause of distressed members of the Fourth Estate, the Duke made an earnest appeal at Willis' Rooms, for continued support, which was responded to on the spot by subscriptions amounting to £1,200. The Duke's desire to succeed the [illegible]is of Lorne as Governor-General of Canada and to discharge the high and responsible duties of that office met with no encouragement from the Government, though they regarded his desire to serve the Crown and his country as doing him the highest honor. The obstacles in the way are supposed to be his comparative [illegible] and his want of experience in the work of government.

General.—1883, which unhappily has gained unenviable distinction for its series of disasters, opened gloomily with the intelligence that about 60 persons were killed by the fall of a factory chimney, 255 feet high, in Bradford, while desolating floods on the Continent and in the United States were submerging villages, flooding hundreds of houses and manufactories and depriving thousands of people of their means of living. The burning of a circus in Russian-Poland and the foundering of an emigrant steam-ship bound from Hamburgh to New York added from 600 to 800 lives to the terrible catalogue of the opening year. Next came the melancholy intelligence of the shocking incident of what is known as the 'Sunderland disaster,' where, in a few moments towards the close of a juvenile performance given by a Mr. Fay, a peripathetic conjuror and doll-dancer, the lives of little short of 200 children were sacrificed 'enticed by a few handsfull of toys into a pit of destruction.' This terrible scene was soon after followed by another disaster, which was to darken the annals of the year. At the launching on the Clyde at Glasgow, of the newly built vessel, the Daphne, the vessel, crowded from stem to stern, entered the water soon after the christening ceremony, but in a few minutes she suddenly heeled over and settled down in the river and the scene was changed from one of rejoicing to one of horror. It is computed that the lives of from 100 to 150 workmen and others perished by the incident. A subscription of from £8,000 to £9,000 was immediately raised for the relief of the wives and children left destitute by this disaster. But this is not all, for yet a more terrible catastrophe has to be recorded, viz., the destruction of the beautiful island of Ischia, the famous bathing and pleasure resort of Southern Italy, by a sudden and violent earthquake. It is said to have given no warning of its approaching visitation, for several hundreds of people were in a wooden theatre at the time of its occurrence and an amateur concert in the Grand Hotel des Etrangers was being conducted in the presence of a large and fashionable audience chiefly composed of visitors. A tremendous shock was suddenly felt, the ground rose and fell with a rumbling noise, the air was filled with sulphurous exhalations and Cassamicciola, the chief town of the island, was reduced to ruins, burying beneath them between three and four thousand persons. The King of Italy hastened to the spot on hearing of this frightful catastrophe to relieve the sufferers and not only by his personal appearance but by personal exertions was seen to help in the supreme effort of clearing away the ruins and searching for the living among the dead.

The institution of the Inland Parcels Post has marked an era in the history of the Postal Department which, during the control of Mr. Fawcett, late P. M. G., has been characterised with more than one benificent change. By it parcels not exceeding 7 lb. in weight are received at any post office for transmission between places in the United Kingdom. Parcels, the receipt of which is prohibited under this concession, are such as contain gunpowder, cartridges, anything explosive and combustible, bladders containing liquid, live animals, offensive or filthy matter, parcels containing fish, game, meat, razors, scissors and other sharp instruments, &c. Some conception may be formed of the extent to which this system was appreciated on its introduction, when, during the first four days of its operation, nearly 30,000 parcels were delivered in London alone. The system has given great satisfaction and is regarded a boon and an administrative success.

For the endowment and erection of a college in Dundee, the princely donation of £1,50,000, was given jointly by Miss Baxter of Balgavies and the late Dr. Baxter, Procurator Fiscal of Dundee, supplemented by a second donation from Miss Baxter of £10,000 to provide a laboratory, and of an equivalent sum by the trustees of the late Dr. Baxter to found a chair of law.

An interesting collection of fossil remains was found at the laying of the foundations of the new bank buildings erected at Charing Cross: among which were identified the bones of the cave lion, portions of antlers of a variety of the fallow deer, remains of the rhinoceros, tusks and teeth of the woolly elephant, and bones of the Irish and the red deer.

The new Royal Courts of Justice which cost the country £1,846,683, were opened for the first time on the 11th January, for the transaction of business. Lord Coleridge, on taking his seat, observed that although they had left Westminster he hoped that the traditions of that hall had not been left behind and that the old harmony between the bench and bar would prevail. Complaints have, however, been made of the difficulty of hearing in the new Courts. The old Law Courts at Westminster have been demolished.

An experimental trial was made by the Electrical Power Storage Co., in the presence of a large number of scientific gentlemen interested in the question of practical electricity, to run an ordinary working tramway car between Acton and Kew, by means of electricity. The run to Acton was satisfactorily performed, a speed of 6 miles per hour being attained and no difficulty experienced in managing the car, but the return journey to Kew was not accomplished without a hitch or two which were attributed to certain unfavorable conditions. The experiment was notwithstanding considered a success.

The Mayor and Mayoress of Liverpool gave a brilliant fancy dress ball at the Town Hall in February, at which one of the guests presented himself made up as the "Sole proprietor of the Gout," in a portwine colored coat, with pill-box buttons, a plaster round his neck, a bottle of medicine hanging by his side and a bandaged leg and crutches.

Easter Monday witnessed the annual volunteer review and sham-fight at Brighton. The weather is said to have been fine and bright, only broken in the afternoon by one or two light showers of snow. The 'march past' took place before the sham-fight manœuvres and occupied ¾ of an hour, the Duke of Cambridge and Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar taking up their position at the saluting flag, with their staff. For the mimic battle, the assembled troops were divided into two opposing forces, one commanded by Major-General Higginson, C.B., the other under Major-General Newdigate, C.B. The entire volunteer force consists of 50 cavalry, 1,005 artillery, 1436 engineers and 14,596 infantry.

The Queen's prize at Wimbledon for which the number of competitors was 2,375, was won by Serjeant Mackay, 1st Sutherland, with a score of 79. Captain Young, 2nd Renfrew, won the silver medal. H. R. H. Princess Mary, Duchess of Teck distributed the prizes.

A baronetcy was conferred by the Queen, at the recommendation of Mr. Gladstone, on Mr. C. J. Jessel, in consideration of the eminent services of his father, the late Master of the Rolls.

In the midst of all the troubles in Ireland an exhibition of articles of Irish raw produce,—mineral, vegetable and animal; of machinery suitable to Irish industries, Irish works of art and decoration, its agricultural products and machinery and its fishery appliances was satisfactorily carried out at Cork.

The honor of knighthood was conferred on Dr. Arthur Sullivan, in recognition of the services rendered by him to music and on Dr. Geo. Grave, director of the Royal College of Music and on Mr. Macfarren, Prof. of Music at Cambridge.

A curious marriage was solemnized at Portsmouth on the 5th Oct., the contracting parties named Edward Rowe and Elizabeth Hall being deaf mutes.

The Queen has granted the dignities of a Viscount and an Earl of the United Kingdom to the Lord Chancellor as Viscount Wolmer, of Blackmoor, in the county of Southampton, and Earl of Selborne, in the said county.

The Victoria Cross was conferred upon Lieut. W. Mordaunt Marsh Edwards, 2nd Battalion Highland Light Infantry, for conspicuous bravery displayed at the battle of Tel-el-Kebir.

A curious custom is said to be observed in the Austrian Court at the celebration of Holy Week and Easter. His Majesty, the King, washes the feet of twelve poor old men and Her Majesty performs the same operation on 12 old women. The competition for the honor is naturally very keen.

The Southall Park Lunatic Asylum, a private institution conducted by Dr. Rob. Boyd, was destroyed by fire and unhappily was attended by the loss of 6 lives,—those of the Doctor and his son, two patients, and 2 female servants. The mansion is an old one having been built in 1702 for the first Duchess of Marlborough and the rooms were profusely pannelled and fitted with oak partitions.

The suicide of Dr. Edwards, a medical practitioner, at Hounslow, is a mournful instance of how to escape the ignominy of an infamous and unfounded charge, the victim put an end to his life by poison.

The monument subscribed for by the friends of the late Lord Frederick Cavendish is, in accordance with the wishes of the relatives, to take the form of a recumbent statue in the Priory Church of Cartmel, Lancashire.

The colossal bronze equestrian statue of the great Duke of Wellington which in 1846 was placed in Hyde Park Corner opposite to the Duke's Mansion, Apsley House, was lowered from the pedestal on which it rested and removed to St. James' Park for re-erection there, facing the archway of the Horse Guards.

A trial for breach of promise of marriage deriving more an importance from the fact that a M. P. was the defendant than for any romance in the love-making which seems to have been of a prosaic character, was heard by Lord Chief Justice Coleridge in the new Law Courts, the jury finding a verdict for plaintiff with £400 damages. The defendant is the Member for Cavan, in his 55th year, unmarried, and in the receipt of an income of £800 a year from property acquired when in trade as a pork-butcher.

The congregation worshipping at St. Margaret's Church in the town of Lynn Regis, was inundated on Sunday the 11th March by the high tide. The water flooded the floor to the depth of 2½ inches, necessitating the formation of a temporary bridge of chairs along the aisles of the Church by which the ladies beat a retreat, the gentlemen wading through the water.

The art of making paper has been carried to such perfection that a firm in Farrington Street has produced crocodile-leather grained note paper and envelopes, said to be pleasant to write upon with any kind of pen.

The neighbourhood of Windsor was in March last occasioned great excitement by a report that an attempt was made by two men disguised in female attire to assassinate Lady Florence Dixie, the wife of Sir B. Dixie, Bart. According to her account she was thrown down and an attempt made to stab her, but the knife was turned aside by the steel of her ladyship's corset. It is also supposed that the assailants were prevented from completing their murderous and dastardly act by the sudden appearance of her large St. Bernard dog, Hubert, and by the sound of a cart coming along the road at the time. The Police notwithstanding indefatigable exertions have been unable to trace the disguised men and the matter is consequently still shrouded in mystery, a circumstance which has cruelly provoked a general incredulity as to her ladyship's statement respecting the assault.

Under the announcement of a fashionable marriage in small life, it is reported that on the stage of the Buckingham Theatre in Louisville, Mr. John Zmaris, better known as Major Mite, 30 years of age and 42 inches high, was married to Miss Marie Nail, aged 33, and only 31 inches high.

An anonymous donor sent the Vicar of Ince, for Church purposes, a donation of £5,000 as an expression of his heart-felt gratitude to God for the prosperity with which he had been blessed.

The day of the second anniversary of his death was selected to unveil the national statue erected in Westminster Abbey in memory of the late Earl of Beaconsfield. It is placed among the statues of the late Earl of Derby, Sir Robert Peel, Lords Palmerston and Canning and it represents the late Earl robed as a peer. The robe covers a diplomatic suit; the collar of the garter is visible, and a dress sword hangs by his side.

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Kerr with a view to demonstrate that life could be maintained on a vegetable diet, entertained nearly one hundred employés of the Marylebone Vestry at a vegetarian supper, consisting of a 'hotch-potch' soup composed of potatoes, turnips, carrots, leeks, celery, green peas, parsley and butter; a savoury pie made of haricot beans, flour, onions and butter; and a hot mess of rhuburb, rice and sugar as sweets. The cost of the meal was less than £1-5s.

Marwood, the executioner, died at Horncastle, from congestion of the lungs. He held the office of hangman for about 12 years, in succession to Calcraft. Upwards of 1200 applications were received by the Sheriff's office immediately his death became known.

Mr. Charles Reeves at his wedding breakfast had the extreme felicity of finding under his plate a cheque for £25,000, the gift of his uncle, a clergyman, whose heir Mr. Reeves is understood to be.

The death and births statistics of London for 1882, show that there were 82,905 events of the former and 133,201 of the latter, representing a rate per mille of 21·3 and 34·3, respectively against 21·2 and 54·7 in 1881, of the gross population which according to the Census taken in that year was given at 3,816,483 and which calculated at the rates of increase and decrease for the 10 years previously would give something like 3,955,814 souls for the present year. The matrimonial statistics show that 34,144 of these interesting events were celebrated in London, of which 28,263 were between batchelors and spinsters, 1486 between batchelors and widows, 2,813 between widowers and spinsters, and 1582 between widowers and widows. The chances of a widow's re-marrying would therefore appear to be as 1 to 10 against the good fortunes of a spinster.

A wedding of unusual interest is announced from Philadelphia. Mr. Moffat, the "tattoed man," who was twice previously married, once to the "Russian Giantess," who weighed 500 lb. and who died in 1880, next to the "Circassian Beauty," who soon followed her, has now united himself in the bonds of matrimony with Miss LesHernandez, the 'Spanish bearded lady,' who has a beard three inches long.

Mr. Thomas Henry Farrer, the Permanent Secretary of the Board of Trade was raised to the rank of a baronet in recognition of his long and distinguished public services. A baronetcy was also conferred on Mr. T. Spencer Wells, President of the Royal College of Surgeons, in acknowledgment of the distinguished services rendered by him to his profession and to humanity. Her Majesty conferred a pension from the Civil list of £250 a year on Mr. Matthew Arnold in recognition of his distinguished literary attainments. Sir Joseph Devereux, the Mayor of Windsor, was knighted by the Queen at Osborne. He was born in 1816 and was thrice elected Mayor of Windsor, first in 1869, a second time in 1881 and for the third time in November last. The honor of knighthood was also conferred upon Sir Robert Rawlinson, C.B., for his eminent services as an Engineer. He served for a long time as Civil Engineering Inspector of the Local Government Board and on his retirement at the age of 73, after having served Government for 35 years, he received this honor at Her Majesty's hands.

The traffic in the Canal during 1882, according to the returns of the Suez Canal Co. is shown to have been the best since its working from 1870. Compared with 1881, the number of vessels was 3,198 against 2,727; the tonnage 6,811,521 against 5,794,401 and the receipts 60,504,878 fr. against 51,274,352 of 1881. The total working expenses of the Company in 1881 were under 5½ per cent. of the gross receipts, leaving a profit of 2 millions £, which enabled the Company to declare a dividend of 13·7 per cent.

Mr. Alderman Roe, the liberal candidate for the borough of Derby, was elected without opposition.

Mr. Alfred Giles was elected, unopposed, member for Southampton in succession to Mr. Butt who was appointed Judge of the Admiralty Court. He sat for the borough previously from 1878 until the general election in 1880. His return is the gain of a seat to the opposition.

Sir Charles Dilke was elected, unopposed, member for Chelsea.

Col. Gerard Smith, a member of the firm of Messrs. Samuel Smith Brothers and Co., bankers, Hull, was elected member for Wycombe in succession to Col. Carington and the Hon. Alan de Tatton Egerton, much to the disappointment of the liberals, was elected for Mid-Cheshire, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of his brother, the Hon. W. Egerton, to the peerage. Both returns are considered not to make any difference in the balance of political parties.

Major, the Hon. Montagu Curzon was returned, unopposed, member for North Leicestershire, in room of the late Genl. E. S. Burnaby. He enters Parliament for the first time and his return leaves the political condition unaltered.

ECCLESIASTICAL.

The death of the late lamented Dr. Tait, who, in the words of the youngest son of our Queen, was justly described at a public meeting, as "a high-minded dignitary, an indefatigable worker and a good man," caused a vacancy in the Archbishopric of the See of Canterbury, to which Dr. Edward White Benson, Bishop of Truro, was elected by the Dean and Chapter. The election, according to the rules of the Chapter was formally announced from the pulpit of the Cathedral by the Dean in the presence of the members. The next formality, the confirmation of his election, took place in March in Bow Church, Cheapside, before a crowded church. A procession was formed from the vestry in which was included the newly elected Primate, fully robed and attended by the Revd. R. T. Davidson (his son-in-law and private secretary to the late primate) and his other Chaplains. After the Litany, the letters patent from the Queen confirming the election were read. The challenge to opposers was next made and there being no response, the Archbishop elect took the necessary oath and the ceremony was brought to an end by the Bishop of London pronouncing the definitive sentence and the final decree.

The imposing ecclesiastical ceremony of his enthronement in the Canterbury Chapel was next accomplished on the 29th March. Various processions were formed consisting of the Archbishop and his attendant bishops, of other ecclesiastical dignataries numbering about 380, and of members of the Cathedral body and of the Town Council, all of which uniting into one vast processional entered the Cathedral two by two. The formal proceedings commenced by the Archbishop being solemnly affirmed to the effect that he "would maintain the rights and liberties of the Church and observe the approved customs thereof." The morning service was next begun, and at the end of the first lesson, the Archdeacon conducted the Primate, attended by the Dean and Vice-Dean, to the throne and the mandate of enthronement having been read, the Archdeacon formally inducted the Archbishop by the customary address in Latin. The morning service was resumed, the Archbishop remaining on the throne, and on its conclusion, the crowning act of placing him in the 'marble chair of St. Augustine' was performed by the Archbishop being conducted to it by the Archdeacon and several Bishops, and the form of induction again repeated as before with the addition of the word "Metropoliticis" which formally constituted him Primate and Metropolitan. After this, the Archbishop was conducted to the Dean's stall and placed there "in sign and token of his having taken real and actual possession of the See of Canterbury and of all the rights and privileges thereof." This closed the tedious and complex formalities by which the Archbishop succeeded to the rights and privileges of his lamented predecessor. The Archbishop and the Clergy having next adjourned to the Chapter House, each member of the Cathedral body promised him canonical obedience.

To the Bishopric of Truro rendered vacant by the exaltation to the See of Canterbury of Dr. Benson, the Revd. G. H. Wilkinson, M.A. Vicar of St. Peters, Eaton Square, was appointed. He, and the other newly made Bishops, (the Ven. Richard Lewis, who was appointed to the diocese of Llandaff, and the Revd. Fox Sandford, who was appointed to the diocese of Tasmania,) received episcopal consecration together at St. Paul's Cathedral on St. Marks day, at the hands of the newly enthroned Archbishop, assisted by several other Bishops.

At a meeting held in the Jerusalem Chamber under the presidency of the Prince of Wales, to arrange for a public memorial to the late Primate, it was decided to erect a monument in Canterbury Cathedral, to place memorials in Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's, to complete and restore Lambeth Palace Chapel and to institute a 'Tait Memorial Fund,' for Mission purposes in London and elsewhere.

The month of May witnessed the anniversary meetings of various religious bodies and societies. The first to hold its annual meeting was the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts. It was held in St. James's Hall, the Archbishop of Canterbury being in the chair. The presence among the assembled Bishops of the Bishops of Calcutta and of Tinnevelly (the venerable Bishop Caldwell) must have lent additional interest to the proceedings. It was announced by his Grace that the income of the Society had risen by 8,000 £ in the last two years, but as they were asked to do their best for India and for certain other parts, he commended the Society to the practical sympathy of all interested in the spread of Christianity.

The anniversary meetings of the Church Missionary Society were held at Exeter Hall. The Society is stated to have 206 Mission stations, 227 European Clergymen, and 244 native and country-born. The financial statement shewed the total receipts at £219,744, and the total expenditure at £215,483.

The Wesleyan body which also held its annual meeting at Exeter Hall, was able to announce that the heavy debt under which it labored for years had ceased to exist but to prevent a recurrence of a similar misfortune, increase to the revenues was necessary. The work of the Society in Madras was said to be vigorously supported by the people.

The Baptist Mission also presented its report to a crowded meeting, setting forth that the income for the past year (£60,722) was the largest ever received, and that it was £8,000 in excess of the gross receipts of the previous year, thus enabling them to entirely liquidate the debt shewn in last accounts.

At Willis's Rooms, the Christian Vernacular Education Society held its anniversary meeting and from the report presented, it is gathered that 735 trained teachers and mission agents are maintained who are imparting Christian instruction to 100,000 children.

The Church of England Zenana Missionary Society which held its meeting at Exeter Hall presented a report showing 263 workers, consisting of 60 zenana missionaries, 25 assistant missionaries, and 178 native assistants and bible women. The income of the previous year was £23,638 and after paying expenses, the balance in favor was £1,686.

The 84th anniversary of the Religious Tract Society was also celebrated in the same building. The report showed that 809 new publications had been issued during the year, of which 262 were tracts. The total issues were 79,379,350, being an increase of 6,217,730 upon the previous year. The aggregate receipts from all sources during the year was £215,063, the total expenditure £213,535, and the balance in favor of the society, £1,527. The languages in which the publications of the Society had issued was 160.

In the Memorial Hall, Farrington Street, the Colonial Missionary Society presented its 47th annual report to a large attendance. The average annual income of the Society during its history was shewn to be only £3,600. The receipts for the year were £4,228 and a balance remained in hand of £196 at the close after paying expenses.

The anniversary meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held at Exeter Hall. Their income was said to be nearly £10,000 more than any previous year and 97,000,000 copies of the Bible in whole or in part were circulated against 5,000,000 in 1804, when the Society started.

According to the Roman Catholic 'Directory,' which is published under the authority of the Cardinal Archbishop and the R. C. Bishops of England, 'the total Clergy of that religion in England and Wales, amounts to 2,112 priests and 17 bishops, who serve 1,188 churches, chapels and missionary stations. In Scotland, there are 6 bishops and 306 priests, distributed over 295 chapels. For England and Wales there is one Archbishop, with 14 suffragans and 2 auxiliary bishops, and 2 Archbishops for Scotland with 4 suffragans. The Sacred College of Cardinals consists at present of 6 Cardinal Bishops, 46 Cardinal priests and 13 Cardinal deacons, and as the normal strength is 70, there are thus 5 vacancies at the disposal of the Pope. It is proposed to erect a Roman Catholic Cathedral at Westminster at an estimated cost of £250,000, of which Sir Tatton Sykes has offered to contribute £100,000.

OBITUARY.

European.

With the dawn of 1883, the spirit of an illustrious statesman and sometime Prime Minister of France, passed away. M. Leon Gambetta died at his modest dwelling at Ville d' Array at the early age of 45, from a complication of diseases which baffled all medical skill.

M. Gambetta's death was quickly followed by that of another distinguished Frenchman, his comrade and fellow-worker, General Antoine Eugene Alfred Chanzy, the Commander of the Second Army of the Loire. The part he took in the defence of his country during the Franco-German war evoked the most universal admiration of his countrymen. He died at Chalons on January 5th.

Lieutenant Adolphus Graham Pirie, of the Gordon Highlanders, who was wounded at the assault of Tel-el-Kabir, died at the Royal Naval Hospital, Malta, on the 5th January. As a mark of his distinguished services, he was invested a few days before his death, by the Khedive, with the Order of the Medjidiah of the 3rd Class.

The sudden death of Prince Charles, the only and younger brother of the present Emperor of Germany, occurred at Berlin on the 21st January. He was born in the first year of the present century, and married a sister of the present Empress, who predeceased him. He has left two daughters and a son.

France, by the death of M. Paul Gustave Dore, on the 23rd January, at the early age of 50, has lost another of her gifted sons. He was an eminent artist. His illustrations of the Holy Bible and of Milton, were published in England in 1866, where his paintings as well as his drawings are better known and admired than in France. He contemplated the illustration of Shakespeare, but was not spared to complete the task.

Richard Wagner, the celebrated poet-composer, died at Venice on 13th February in his 70th year. He received his education at Dresden and in the University of Leipsic, and at an early age exhibited rare intellectual power, musical and literary.

By the death of Mr. John Richard Green, which occurred at Mentone early in March, England has lost a brilliant scholar and one of her ablest modern historians. Of his several historical works his name will best be remembered in connection with his "History of the English People."

The veteran General, George Macdonald, died on the 1st March at Torquay in his ninety-ninth year. He was known as the "Father of the British Army," and was one of the few remaining Peninsular and Waterloo veterans, having been in the army for seventy-eight years.

Prince Gortschakoff, the Russian Chancellor, died at Baden-Baden on 9th March. He was born at the close of the last century on 16th July 1798, and began his diplomatic life in his twenty-third year, as an attaché to Count Nesselrode, whom he subsequently, in April 1856, replaced as Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Russian Court. This office he held till the assassination in 1881 of the late Emperor, Alexander II.

The Rev. John Jennings, Archdeacon and Canon of Westminster, Rector of the Parish Church of St. John, died on Easter Monday, aged 84. He was the last survivor of the clergy who took part in the services at the coronation of Her Majesty the Queen.

John Brown, the Queen's favorite and faithful personal attendant, and who had been in the royal service for more than thirty years, died at Windsor Castle on the 27th March, aged 57 years. The inscription on the monument placed over his grave at Crathie, to which his remains had been removed for interment, contains the following testimony written by Her Majesty herself to the value set on his services. 'That friend 'on whose fidelity you count, that friend given you by circumstances over which you 'have no control, was God's gift.' "Well done, good and faithful servant, &c., &c."

Frederick Frances II, the Grand Duke of Mecklenburgh Schwerin, Her Majesty's second cousin, died on the 15th April. He was born on the 28th February 1823. He is succeeded in the Grand Duchy by his eldest son, now Frederick Francis III.

The Very Rev. George H. Connor, Dean of Windsor, died on 1st May at the Deanery. He was, on the death of Dean Wellesley, in September 1882, appointed Dean of Windsor and Domestic Chaplain to Her Majesty.

Dr. William Chambers, the head of the well-known publishing firm with which such books as "Chambers' Cyclopædia of English Literature," "Chambers' Information for the People," "Chambers' Journal," &c., &c., are associated, died on the 20th May at his residence in Edinburgh, aged 83. He was offered a baronetcy by Her Majesty which he accepted, but died before the patent conferring the title had passed the Great Seal. This act of Her Majesty's favor was in approval of his labors for the benefit of the people and of his munificent donations towards the restoration of St. Giles's Church, Edinburgh.

Dr. Spottiswoode died on June 27th, in the fifty-ninth year of his age. He took an active part in the proceedings of the various learned societies. He was appointed Treasurer of the Royal Society in 1871, and subsequently elected its President.

The death of Mr. Edward Backhouse Eastwick, C.B., is announced to have occurred at Ventnor on 16th July. He was a distinguished Oriental scholar. The second volume of his last publication, the "Kaisarnamah-i-Hind," "The Lay of the Empress," dedicated by permission to the Queen, was issued at the end of last year.

General Tom Thumb, whose real name was Stratton, died at New York. He with Mrs. Tom Thumb, Commodore Nutt and Miss Minnie Warren, visited Madras some years ago, and excited great curiosity for their lilliputian proportions.

Captain Webb, the famous swimmer, who about eight years ago accomplished the unprecedented feat of swimming across the Channel from Dover to Calais, was drowned on the 24th July in a fool-hardy attempt to swim the rapids and whirlpool of the Niagara Falls. His body was recovered 5 miles from the point he started and the decision of the medical men at the post mortem was that none of the symptoms characteristic of drowning were present, but that the nervous system was paralysed by the pressure of the water sufficient to stop all vital action.

Queen Ranavolena ii, who succeeded to the throne of Madagascar on the death of Queen Rasvaherina in 1868, died July 13th. The Malagasy Official Gazette in making the melancholy announcement adds the following simple yet touching testimony to her good qualities, "she was a gentle queen, beloved of the people, and a sincere christian."

General Sir William Fenwick Williams, of Kars, Bart, G. C. B. who died at Garland's Hotel, Suffolk Street, on 26th July, was born in December 1800. In 1852 he was made a C. B.; and for his gallant defence of Kars against the Russians in 1855 he was created a baronet, granted a pension of 1,000£ a year for life, the freedom or the city of London and the honorary rank of D. C. L., Oxford. In 1856, he was given the insigna of a K.C.B. and in 1871 was promoted to a grand knight of that order. He attained the rank of full General in 1868.

The sudden death of the Duke of Marlborough on July 5th, deprived the Conservative party of the services of a useful and honorable member. In an obituary notice of him, it is said that "there never existed a more estimable, a kinder-hearted, or a better man" and that "his memory will live, cherished by all who knew him, as that of a true and warm friend, a sound and judicious statesman and an upright, high-toned English gentleman."

The well-known South African Missionary, the Revd. Dr. Moffat, died at Leigh, near Tunbridge Wells, on 9th Aug., aged 88. He labored as a missionary for more than 50 years in South Africa and translated the Scriptures into the Bechuana language.

The Most Rev. Rodger Bede Vaughan, R. C. Archbishop of Sydney died suddenly from heart disease on Aug. 18th while a guest at Ince Hall, near Liverpool. He was consecrated at Liverpool in 1873. He was the second son of the late Col. J. F Vaughan, of whose children, 8 sons entered holy orders in the Church of Rome and all the four daughters became nuns.

The Count de Chambord (Duc de Bordeaux and titular King of France) died on the 24th of August in his 63rd year at his Chateau of Forhsdorf in Austria after a long and painful illness. His remains were interred at Goritz. He was the posthumous son of H. R. H. the Duc de Berri and in 1830 was declared King of France, as Henri V, but his royal position was denied him and by his death the right to the Crown of France devolves on the Comte de Paris.

At Venice, on Aug. 25th, the death is announced of Mr. Rawdon Brown, editor of the "Calendar of Venetian State papers." He entered on his work in 1862 and by the end of 1876 published 5 vols. extending over a period from 1202 to 1554. Two parts of the 6th vol. have also been published and part iii. bringing the work done to 1558 is nearly ready.

The Russian novelist, Joan Tourguéneff, died at Bougival in the neighbourhood of Paris, on 3rd September, aged 65. Most of his novels have been translated into French and several into English, the latter translations being rendered by Mr. Ralston and the late Mr. Ashton Dilke.

Marwood, the public executioner, who held the office for 12 years after the retirement of Calcraft, died at Horncastle, on September 4th, from inflammation of the lungs. His last execution was carried out about a fortnight before his death.

The death is announced of the Right Honorable Hugh Law, Q. C., L. L. D., Lord Chancellor of Ireland, on September 10th at Lough Levelley. He was born in 1818 and called to the bar in 1840. From 1872 to 1874 he was Solicitor General for Ireland, when he was made Attorney-General for that country and Lord Chancellor in 1881. He was held in universal esteem for his unostentatious ability, high integrity and honor.

The death of Sir Henry Fitzhardinge Berkeley Maxse, K. C. M. G., Governor of Newfoundland, is announced from St. John. He was born in 1832 and after military service at Alma, Balaklava and Sebastapol, was appointed Lieut-Governor of Heligoland in 1863, of which he became Governor in the year following. He was appointed Governor and C. in C. of Newfoundland in 1861.

Admiral Pierre, who commanded the French Squadron at Madagascar and who will be remembered in connection with his treatment in his dying moments of the late Mr. Consul Pakenham and of his arrest of Mr. Shaw, missionary, died at Marseilles on September 11th.

INDIAN.

Madras.—The year was one of peace and plenty, peace, so far that the country was not troubled by such incidents as a Rampa rebellion or a Mulkangiri disturbance, though the political atmosphere may have been terribly agitated over that legal measure familiarly known as the Ilbert Bill; plenty, in that from a succession of propitious and seasonable monsoons, the country has returned to its normal condition and agricultural prospects are generally as good as ever. Some of the more prominent incidents of the year are narrated below.

The phenomenal appearance of the sun in the month of September vastly exercised the minds of the people and raised visions in some quarters of an approaching dissolution of the earth. The change of colour in the sun at its rising and its setting drew attention in all parts of the presidency and anxious were the inquiries for some solution of this peculiar appearance in the great luminary. The sun was observed to rise with a green lustre, lasting in a very marked degree for a couple of hours, and at its setting it again assumed the same tint. A dark spot was also seen crossing the southern half of the sun's disc and was quite visible to the naked eye. Madras always turns to the obliging Isis for explanation of any strange solar or lunar occurrences and in this instance it met with the usual ready response. According to Isis the moon and higher stars were all similarly affected with the sun and the pale bluish green color was solely due to atmospheric and terrestrial causes and in her belief "the strange solar aspect is simply due to the passage across India of the tremendous amount of sulphurous vapours emanating from the grand volcanic disturbances which occurred on and after the 27th ultimo August in the south-east extremity of Java."

The year was marked by the retirement from office of a very respected member of the High Court bench, the Honourable Mr. Justice Innes, who was connected with that Court for 18 years, and whose career in that edifice has been characterised for patient investigation, freedom from bias, capacity for weighing evidence and discerning the truth. On the last day that he sat in Court, the Advocate General and the Honorable Mr. Rama Rau, (the latter on behalf of the vakils) addresssed him a few words of farewell acknowledging the distinguished part he took in the administration of justice, his patient attention and regard for right and his unvarying courtesy and consideration to the bar. His Lordship acknowledged the addresses in very feeling terms. The native members of the Cosmopolitan Club who held him in high esteem and of which body he was a member, entertained Mr. Innes at an evening party at the Club rooms. A grand native entertainment was also given to the retiring Judge in Patcheappa's Hall. The hall was decorated and lit up with the electric light. There were the inevitable dancing girls and representations of various native characters, followed by some feats of legerdemain in cards and of mental calculation; the whole being brought to a satisfactory termination at midnight. He also received a complimentary dinner from his European friends at which the Chief Justice, Sir. Charles Turner, in proposing the toast of the evening paid flattering tribute to the solid virtues of the departing guest.

The memorial placed over the grave of the late Mr. Adam, the Governor, who died at Ooty in May 1881, consists of "a column 53 feet high, made up of several blocks fitting into each other, with a base 10 feet square and gradually tapering to a point, on which rests a Maltese cross. One side of the base has a slab lying at an angle of 30 degrees to contain the inscription."

An epidemic among fish was observed about the middle of the year which caused such a scare that it seriously threatened to suspend for a time the occupation of our fishermen, and to deprive the poorer classes of a cheap source of food. The disease was first noticed in the neighbouring French Settlement of Pondicherry and the Honorable Mr. Thomas, who has devoted himself for years to the study of the piscine species, investigated the matter and published a memorandum to the effect that the Mullet and Pomfret were the only kinds of fish diseased but that the Seer was edible. The affected fish were found to contain a species of entezoa or worm. The epidemic is said to have extended to the Straits. The species and varieties of fish to be met with in the Indian seas are so numerous that Madras is to be congratulated on initiating a legislative attempt to control this food harvest of the sea. The Honorable Mr. Thomas, whose special aptitude for framing a bill in this direction being recognised by Government, he was requested to frame an enactment which was published in the Local Gazette. The following will be of interest to our readers.

Mr. J. B. Norton's official connection with this city (whose death is noticed in the Indian Obituary) might be said to date from 1844 when he was appointed Sheriff of Madras. He next held office successively as Clerk of the Crown, as Government Pleader, Crown Prosecutor and lastly as Advocate-General, to which office he was appointed in 1863 and which he held till his retirement in 1871. Ages alone can efface his memory, for his connection with this Presidency is associated with so many philanthropic and benevolent movements that it cannot be obliterated in a hurry. He was a particular friend of the natives and his annual orations at the recurring anniversaries at Patcheappa's were events eagerly looked forward to. His talents were so versatile that it may well be said that Madras has lost an eminent lawyer, a sound politician, a pleasing and instructive orator, a wit, a scholar, a poet, a brilliant journalist and a zealous philanthropist.

The spectacle of a Madras civilian getting himself into so serious a scrape as to necessitate his compulsory removal from that distinguished service, is happily very rare indeed, but to Mr. John Wallace attaches that unenviable notoriety this year. Annoyed at being kept in the proverbially unhealthy district of Cuddapah as District Judge for over four years, he, in a personal interview with the late senior member of council, attributed the circumstance to his not having given handsome presents to Mr. Carmichael's daughters at their wedding. Mr. Wallace's conduct was brought to the notice of the Secretary of State through the Government of India, who directed his name to be removed from the list of civil servants in this Presidency and granted him a pension lower than that recommended by the local government. Though Mr. Wallace's conduct is condemned on all hands as grossly discourteous and impertinent, public opinion is apparently so far in his favor as to consider the punishment a little beyond the merits of the case.

Preparations for months have been in train for a vast camp of exercise to be held in the month of January a few miles out of Bangalore and in the neighbourhood of the Kistnarajpuram railway station. For this grand military spectacle, we are indebted to Sir Frederick Roberts, the hero of the Afghan war, and the energetic Commander-in-Chief of the forces of this Presidency and whose capacity for untiring work is universally acknowledged. A large staff of the Army head quarters accompany H. E. The whole organization of the camp is being placed on a most efficient basis. There is to be an Ordnance Department, a Medical Department with a Deputy Surgeon General, a Brigade Surgeon and some 17 other Surgeons; a Commissariat Department and a Signalling staff. The site of the operations is to extend over 20 square miles and an accurate survey of the same has been made. There are to be Umpires in chief, and senior and assistant Umpires. Heavy work necessarily falls on the Transport and Commissariat Departments. Some conception may be formed of the splended show of canvass there will be when the Head Quarter camp alone is said to comprise some five hundred tents. The trial station of Kistnarajpuram has had many temporary additions made to it to facilitate the heavy traffic that is expected to fall on it. The R. H. Artillery, the Lancers and Light Cavalry, and several European and Native Regiments are to engage in the various military manœuvres that are being arranged; and it is matter for congratulation that the Madras and Bangalore Volunteers as also the Maharaja's troops are to be represented and to take part with the regular armies in this great military compaign. The weather is described to be cold at nights and splendid in the mornings. The arrangement of the camp seems to be as follows :—To the right and left of the little railway station is the base camp, on the south, the Transport, Commissariat and Army signalling are quartered; and on the north are the Telegraph and Post offices and the site of the visitors' camp. Each camp is to have its Telegraph and Post offices. The Army signalling department, it is said, have erected a station, about 25 feet in height, to the south of the station, from whence a magnificent view of the surrounding country is obtained. The site of the camp of the second division is a mile to the east of the railway station and immediately to the south of the railway line. The 14th M. N. I. are encamped on this site with the Cavalry Brigade in its vicinity. The site of the first division camp is to the north of the railway station, some 3 miles off. The 24th M. N. I. are to occupy this portion. The Head-quarter camp which lies to the north-east of the railway station and comprises upwards of 500 tents, is one-third of a mile long, by one fourth in breadth. A broad street runs up the centre, on either side of which are to be located the staffs of the Commanders-in-Chief of India, Madras and Bombay. The accommodation for the Chiefs is provided cross-wise at the west end.

After having served the customary term of 5 years as a member of the executive Council, the Hon. D. F. Carmichael vacated office on the 10th December last. His connection with the Presidency dates so far back as 1851 and after distinguished service in various capacities such as Registrar to the old Sadr Court, Private Secretary to the Governor, Deputy Secretary, Secretary in the Revenue Department and Chief Secretary to Government, besides a long service as agent at Gangam and Vizagapatam, he was made a member of the local Council on the 10th December 1878. His services in the Northern Circars have marked an era in his official career, which 20 years back was more a non-regulation province than otherwise and by his judicious and beneficent administration was gradually made amenable to the general judicial system. The estimation in which he was held by a section of the native community was testified to in the speeches made by such eminent representatives as H. H. the Maharaja of Vizianagram, Sir Mahdava Rao, the Hon. Gajapatti Rao and the Hon. Justice Muttuswami Aiyar at a meeting held at the Mansion, Nungumbaukum, to devise the best means of commemorating in the future and of doing honor in the present to their departing patron. The latter took the form of an entertainment in true oriental fashion, lasting over 4 hours in the Banqueting Hall, kindly placed at the disposal of the Committee, the whole being relieved by a brilliant display of fire-works. It has also been decided to perpetuate his memory by a statue in the new Town Hall, the laying of the foundation stone of which by the Maharajah of Vizianagram he assisted, and to have a portrait painted of him. At a farewell dinner given to Mr. Carmichael by the members of the Madras Club, Mr. Grant Duff in proposing the health of the departing guest, spoke as follows. We cannot do better than reproduce his speech in extenso: "We are met to say farewell to one of the most distinguished servants of the Crown and State in Southern India. Educated at a famous English school (which can boast amongst other Indian worthies of Sir William Jones, Lord Wellesley, Lord Hastings, and Mr. Orme) Mr. Carmichael had the advantage of coming under the influence of the Arnoldine movement through one of the most cherished of the great master's pupils. From Harrow he passed to Haileybury where he distinguished himself, and landed in India on the 31st December 1850. In other words his first day was the last of that fateful half century which witnessed many strange things, but none perhaps stranger than the rapid expansion of the British Indian Empire to almost the limits which now contain it. That half-century belonged in these regions especially to the soldier and the diplomatist. The half-century which Mr. Carmichael saw begin the next morning as the sun rose out of the Bay of Bengal was destined, it would seem, to belong essentially to the administrator. Mr. Carmichael's talents as an administrator were soon manifested, and he was early recognized as exactly the kind of man which the conditions of the hour required. He rose accordingly, not by leaps and bounds, but steadily through all the grades of the service fulfilling in each what was expected of him till the time came for his reaching its high places, almost all of which he has filled, and filled with credit. Into the details of what he has done I will not enter. It is often necessary for all of us to listen patiently while we are instructed about many things which we know, by persons who know them not, but I will not ask you gentlemen to submit to that infliction upon this occasion. I will only venture to speak of Mr. Carmichael in that capacity in which I know him better than most others can do—in his capacity of Member of Council. In that capacity I would say of him emphatically that he is both a good Councillor and a good counseller, merits which, after very considerable experience of Councils, large and small, I may say are very far indeed from being always united in the same individual. What his colleagues will chiefly miss in Mr. Carmichael are his wide and accurate knowledge of judicial and legal matters, his strong and kindly feeling for the natives, his interest in the history of the country, his regard for its classical languages, and his constant remembrance of the cardinal maxim of all good administration, that rulers, while they should make the conditions of serving the State as agreeable as they can to those who give their lives to it, should remember that above all private convenience, towers the interest of the res publica. If Mr. Carmichael is to be congragulated upon the three and thirty years he has been in the Service, he is also to be congratulated on his time of leaving us. He leaves us at a moment of profound peace, when all the wheels of State are working smoothly, and when the relations between the Madras Government and all other parts of the gigantic machine of which this administration, huge as it is, is but a small portion are as agreeable as can be. He need not then regret what our regulations oblige him to do, what one of the wisest men advised all to do of their own accord, namely, 'to leave off the game with fortune while they are in luck.' 'Let a man bring his deeds,' said he, 'when there are a great many and enough of them, into safety.' Our best wishes will follow our distinguished guest on his journey homeward, which I am glad he intends to make a lingering one; for bold indeed is that Anglo-Indian who hurries at this season of the year to the icy embraces of his native land." On the termination of Mr. Carmichael's seat as a Member of Council, the Gazette extraordinary that was issued contained the following:—"The Hon. D. F. CARMICHAEL having closed his connection with the Government of Madras on the completion of his term of service as Member of Council, His Excellency the Governor in Council takes this opportunity of placing on record his sense of the value and importance of the advice and assistance which Mr. CARMICHAEL has rendered to the Administration during a long and distinguished career in which he has occupied many of the highest offices and devoted himself to the public interests with marked ability and success. All honors and privileges attached to the office of Member of Council will be continued to the Hon. Mr. CARMICHAEL until his departure from this Presidency." The appointment of Mr. Master temporarily to the vacant seat pending instructions from the Secretary of State was notified in the same Gazette in the following terms:—Whereas a vacancy has occurred in the office of an Ordinary Member of the Council of the Presidency of Fort St. George, in consequence of the Honorable D. F. CARMICHAEL having completed the prescribed period of service in that office; And whereas no person provisionally appointed to succeed thereto is present on the spot; Therefore His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor in Council, under the powers vested in him by the provisions of Section 27 of "The Indian Councils' Act, 1861," is pleased to supply such vacancy by the appointment of the Honorable Charles Gilbert Master, Chief Secretary to Government, to be temporary Member of Council and the said Honorable Charles Gilbert Master has accordingly this day taken his seat in the said Council, under the usual salute from the ramparts of Fort St. George.

In the death of the Hon. J. G. Coleman, the Eurasian community of Madras has lost one of its foremost men. Mr. Coleman was originally in the Marine service, but after connecting himself by marriage with the late Mr. McDowell of the well-known firm on the 2nd Line Beach, he entered into partnership in that concern and in time rose to be its sole proprietor. By unswerving industry and application to business, he had the gratification of finding himself after a few years at the head of a flourishing and profitable business. But in the midst of his wealth, he devoted himself to many duties of a character directed to the social and public welfare of the community. He was an indefatigable member of the Municipal Corporation and he joined the Volunteer movement at its very commencement. He rose to be its Lt. Col. which he resigned to assume command of the Dukes Own Artillery Corps on its formation. He was a member of the Legislative Council and took a very warm interest in his work. Many charitable institutions, notably the Monegar Choultry, will miss his generous contributions. His whole career is an example of what might be accomplished by perseverance.

The results of the Census of the Presidency taken on the night of the 17th and on the morning of the 18th February 1881 have at last seen the light of the day. The Report consists of 5 Vols. The early operations connected with the process of tabulation and compilation were under the supervision of Mr. Gabriel Stokes, whom failing health due to excessive devotion to work compelled to proceed to England and to abandon the task which was transferred to Mr. Lewis McIver who, in more than one instance, has been selected by Government for special duty, and will be remembered in connection with the preliminary proceedings taken against the Salem rioters. The tabulation shows a population of 31,170,631 (including the Pudukota State) of whom 15,421,043 were males and 15,749,588 females. Classified under the head of religion, 28,497,666 were Hindus, 1,933,571, Muhammadans, 711,072 Christians, 24,962 Jains, having 3,360 under the general head of "others." Compared with the census of 1871, which showed a population of 31,597,872 there is a decrease of 471,412 males and an increase of 8,515 females—or an aggregate decrease of 462,897, or nearly half a million. The population of the city of Madras is given at 405,845. The total European population in 1881 was 10,838, of whom 7,326 were males and 3,512 were females against 9,957 males and 4,604 females in the census of 1871—or a decrease of 25·57 per cent in the total population, due chiefly to military movements. The total number of British born Europeans as returned, is 5,883, of whom 4,643 are males and 1,240 females. In the Eurasian population there is a marked decrease compared with the figures for 1871. The total of 1881 is given at 21,892, of whom 10,969 were males and 10,923 females against 13,091 males and 13,359 females of the enumeration made 10 years ago.

The Annual Distribution of Prizes to the children of the Military Female Orphan Asylum took place on Dec. 15th, Sir Frederick Roberts presiding. There were a goodly number of visitors consisting chiefly of members of the upper class. The prizes having been distributed, Sir Frederick addressed the visitors and children as follows:—

"One of the most pleasant duties of the office I have the privilege of holding in this Paesidency is that of being connected with such institutions as the Female Military Asylum, where soldiers' children are provided with the means of getting a good education, and of becoming hereafter useful and respectable members of society. I have often heard of the Madras Asylum, and I am glad to have this opportunity of seeing it; the oldest one of the kind, I believe, in India. It was founded nearly 100 years ago, and owing to the liberal endowment then made by the military element in this Presidency, mainly owing to the exertions of Lady Campbell, wife of the Commander-in-Chief of the Madras Army, no appeal to the Public for assistance has ever been found necessary, while the funds are now, I understand, in a flourishing condition.

The report for this year is most satisfactory, the order and discipline are said to be excellent, and the school generally to be in an efficient state. Several of the girls have passed creditable examinations, but I am glad to learn that the whole of their time is not occupied by education, and that their domestic duties are not neglected. This is most important, considering the position that these girls are likely to occupy in the future. I remember reading in some report, soon after my arrival in Madras, that the mother of one of the girls objected to her daughter being taught cooking. Could anything be more foolish? It was quite as necessary that girls in this class of life should be able to cook, to make and wash their own clothes, and to manage a house generally, as it was for them to be able to read and write. Only a limited number could hope to become teachers, the majority, I imagine, will marry men who are on the look out for helpful wives, and comfortable homes, and these they are not likely to find unless the girls are properly trained, and have had habits of order, neatness and thriftiness thoroughly instilled into them.

I am glad to find that there are only two patients in hospital, with cases of long standing. The little Chapel now in course of construction will be a great addition, for, as the Revd. Mr. Hobart remarked in his report for 1882, "A room which is used at "one time as a dormitory, at another as a class room, and again for recreation is not "calculated to instil feelings of devotion in young children, who require to be led by "the eye as well as the ear."

I have been told by those well acquainted with this Orphanage that the girls have never been better than they are at present, owing to the able superintendence and kind care of Mrs. Rose, to whom the thanks of all interested in this Asylum are due. I have been asked by the Managing Committee to notice the good work performed by Mrs. Boyle, the Matron, who has been connected with the establishment for many years.

Lady Campbell, to whom I have already referred, was the first Patroness, if not, indeed the Foundress of this Asylum. There is some mystery with regard to the portrait of this Lady, which was painted expressly for, and sent from England to, this Orphanage; it was apparently never received, and no one knows where it is. I have been informed by a Lady present that she has made careful enquiries, and hopes she has found some clue to the whereabouts of the missing picture. I trust that it may be found, and made over to this Orphanage to which it legitimately belongs.

I should not have the same pleasure in attending this meeting, did I not believe that the opinions I hold regarding the working of such institutions as this, are shared by those Ladies, who as Directresses are responsible for the control and efficiency of this Asylum. I trust they will allow me to thank them for successful and useful results of their philanthropic labors."

The Park Fair which has taken such deep root in popular feeling as to have become one of the institutions of the City is with every recurring Christmas looked forward to eagerly by the light-hearted of both the young and the old. An energetic Committee under the guidance of the popular agent of the Railway has provided this year a most elaborate programme of six day's mirth and merry-making. It was opened successfully on the 27th December Prizes are to be given for gymnastic feats, and for races over land and water. There are to be the usual merry-go-rounds for the little ones and the 'lucky dips' for both young and old. The talking-head, the telephone and Blondin are to be among the 'wonders of the world' and skill in precision may be tested at the 'shooting saloons.' Those who are adepts in the mazes of the giddy dance are specially provided for with dancing saloons. A brilliant display of fireworks on the last night will close this grand and successful effort to provide a vent for national feeling during this joyous season.

Major General Sankey, R.E., C.B., who brought himself to note in Mysore in the campaign against famine and who has since proved himself to be one of the most efficient rulers the P.W. Department of Madras ever had, retired during the year from the joint offices he held of Chief Engineer and Secretary to Government. He was offered and accepted an important post in connection with the P. W. Board in Dublin.

Madras has its centenarian also! Savai Padmanaba Singh Thakoor, Cavalry supplier during the Mahratta wars, now living in Triplicane, attained his 100th year on the 6th October 1883. He is said to be able to move about freely.

Mysore.—By the death of Mr. Ranga Charlu, C.I.E., Dewan to H. H. the Maharajah, this native state was very early deprived of his distinguished services. He was a proficient of the High School, Madras, and first entered the public service in the Revenue Department. His connection with Mysore originated as Controller of the Palace, from which post he was elevated to the high and responsible office of Dewan. Under orders of the Maharajah, on the death of this statesman, the Courts in the province were closed for 2 days as a mark of respect. After a good deal of speculation as to who the probable successor would be and the relative claims of Madras and Mysore brahmins being advocated ad lib in the press and by correspondents, the mantle of the late Dewan was placed under orders of H. H. on Mr. Seshadiri Aiyar. This native gentleman is in the prime of life. He entered the public service in 1868 in a subordinate capacity and was at the time of his appointment officiating as Controller of the Maharajah's household. The new Dewan following in the lines of his late predecessor, held a sort of Parliament or ryot durbar in October, at which there was a fair representation by delegates of the agricultural and mercantile classes of the province, when Mr. Seshadiri Aiyar presented a programme of the work laid out for the ensuing year. The topics dealt with were local self-Government, Municipal franchise, education, the establishment of a High Court, the opening of the railway to Tumkur, and the necessity for a few legislative measures. The financial statement was anything but encouraging. The revenue of the past year shewed a deficit of Rs. 62,891 as compared with the previous year and the receipts and expenditure for the current year were estimated at 103¼ and 100 lakhs respectively. The low state of the finances appears to have called for reductions in various Departments and Mr. Lyall is, it is supposed, credited with instructions to personally control the executive administration of the State. Sir James Gordon, whose failing health compelled him to resign the Residentship of the Province was succeeded by Mr. J. H. Lyall, the Financial Commissioner of the Punjab. The latter received a very warm and hearty reception on his arrival at Bangalore. There was some blundering over the announcement of the addition of a Princess to H. H. the Maharajah's olive branches in June last. It appears to be a custom at the palace to reverse the sex in announcing the birth, and the European accoucher who was not made acquainted with this absurd custom, announced the little stranger to the officials assembled in the ante-room of the Maharanee's bed-chamber in her true sex and the consequence was that till the mistake was discovered and rectified, there were wild demonstrations of joy over the birth of a prince, an event which it appears has been unknown for centuries in this royal household.

Owing to the lateness of the mousoons, there were a few cases of enteric fever in the station of Bangalore which terminated in some instances fatally. The matter of the water supply in that Cantonment assumed such a threatening aspect at the beginning of the hot weather that a water famine was anticipated and Dr. Bidie, Acting Sanitary Commissioner, was deputed by the Government to inquire into the matter with regard to the supply to the troops. The Southern India Rifle meeting commenced at Bangalore on the 17th and concluded on the 30th September. The Bangalore cup was won by the Royal Engineers with 462 points. The prizes were distributed by Sir Frederick Roberts who made a long speech on the occasion, complementary of the several good scores made. The Police of Bangalore remain under the unenviable stigma of an undetected crime of a brutal and disgusting type in which an unfortunate European woman was the victim.

Hyderabad.—A very great calamity befel this native State in the sudden and untimely death of that great Indian statesman, the Nawab Sir Salar Jung, G.C.S.I., the Prime Minister of Hyderabad. The news was received both in England and throughout India with deep regret. He died of cholera, aged 56, and was only the day before his death engaged in the hospitable duty of entertaining the Duke John of Mecklenburg, and a large party at the Meer Allum Tank. The funeral cortege was attended by all the male members of His Excellency's family and the city troops, and amid the tears and laments of a sorrowing multitude, he was interred in the family burial ground at Meerka Dhaira, during the booming of minute guns. He served the State from an early age and for 30 years was at the head of affairs in Hyderabad. He was an accomplished statesman and a most loyal friend of the British. He had a most difficult task to perform during the mutiny in keeping his country from rising. His sudden death has deprived him of the pleasure of seeing the young Nizam placed on the throne and the accomplishment of the dream of his life, the restoration of the Berars. The Earl of Kimberley in acknowledging the announcement of this nobleman's death, paid him the following handsome tribute. In writing to the Government of India he said that "the announcement of this melancholy event was received by Her Majesty's Government with profound regret" and that "they are very sensible of the loss which the British Government in a scarcely less degree than His Highness the Nizam has sustained in the premature decease of the statesman who has so long and ably conducted the affairs of the Hyderabad State."

Certain ad interim arrangements were made for the conduct of affairs till the arrival of Sir Steuart Bayley who was delegated by the Government of India to confer with the Resident as to the future administration of the State. The following were next formally announced, at a durbar, as the arrangements that were to be in force till the Nizam ascended the ghadee which, from all accounts, is settled for some time in February next. The administration was to be carried on by the Peishkar and the late Salar Jung's eldest son assisted by a Council of regency, to whom were to be referred only matters of importance, composed of His Highness as President, two senior nobles of the house of Shums-Ool-Dowlah and the Peishkar as members, and Mir Laik Ali, as Secretary.

One of the last administrative acts of Sir Salar Jung was to thoroughly revise the several departments of the State which had not been re-organised since 1868. The great principle of the reform seems to have been to get rid of dual control wherever it existed; a new Revenue Board and a Legal Secretary were appointed and among other reforms the City Police and Municipality were thoroughly revised.

His Highness who is the ruler of one of the most important Native States in India undertook a tour through his dominions as far as Aurungabad, early in January, accompanied by the late Prime Minister. The young Prince is said to "talk English fluently, writes it fairly, is well acquainted with the intricacies of English etiquette, is a capital rider, a good hand at tent-pegging, a good shot, and a keen sportsman," but in addition to all this, his official training is not neglected for "he examines and revises the financial statements and personally supervises the administration of the Saiji Khas District." A daughter was born to His Highness during the year and for days a correspondent says, the little stranger and her happy mother were the recipients of rich presents of clothes and jewelry. At a durbar held in October, His Highness conferred titles on the sons of the late Sir Salar Jung. The eldest who holds the position of Junior administrator was created Muneer-ud-Dowlah Salar Jungh and his brother, Saadut Ali Khan, was given the title of Shuja-ud-Dowlah Ghayur Jungh.

The Nizam is one of the visitors to the Calcutta Exhibition. Mr. Jones who left Hyderabad on his appointment to the Central Provinces in succession to Mr. Morris, as Chief Commissioner, was succeeded in the Residency by Mr. Corderey. A disastrous accident occurred on the Hussim Saugor Tank by the capsizing of three boats. The lives of sixty-two out of seventy-five Hindus were lost. Dr. Argonoth Chattapadya, the Principal of the Hyderabad College, who was foolish enough to offer in a very enthusiastic, though ill-conceived manner, certain opposition to the Government in regard to the Chanda Railway scheme was summarily deported across the frontier and warned that if he attempted to re-enter the territory proceedings would be taken against him. The Doctor is a landed proprietor in Bengal. Other obstructionists were also similarly banished.

Rangoon.—The Burman King who seems to have conceived the commendable idea of concluding commercial treaties with certain European countries, organized an embassy consisting of the First Minister of the Palace, the Secretary of State of the kingdom, the Prime Ministers' son, the Royal Secretary and the Prime Ministers' Secretary, and despatched it from Rangoon on the 18th May. They embarked for Europe from Calcutta and were received on arrival at Paris by M. Challamel-Lacour, Minister for Foreign affairs. They were accompanied to Europe by Count de Trevellie, a retired officer of the French Army. It was at first supposed that the envoy was charged with a mission to France to "solicit the aid of the Republic in preventing "the Siamese from acquiring certain Shan territory now independent of Burma," but the result of their presentations at various European courts lends confirmation to the commerce treaty overtures being the more legitimate purpose of the mission.

Prince Myin Ghoon who is in exile at Chandernagore has been petitioning the Viceroy to be restored to the throne on the ground that he is the rightful heir and that his brother Theebaw is hostile to the British. He promises if put in power to preserve peace between the Burmese and British Governments. The sister of the Prince who was supposed to have been assisting the 'Elder Prince' with funds was falsely charged with intrigue in the palace and banished to Saigon. She is said to have escaped capital punishment by the Queen's intercession.

The Tsabwa or Chief of Theebaw or Theebo, a small Shan State situated about 120 miles north-east of Mandalay, was tried for deliberately shooting two of his followers. The jurisdiction of the Recorders' Court was first resisted on the ground that the accused was "an independent sovereign," but that failing, the plea of self-defence was next urged unsuccessfully. The jury found him guilty of the death of one man and not of the other and further recommended him to mercy, but the Recorder seeing no extenuating circumstances in the case, sentenced him to the extreme penalty, which sentence the Chief Commissioner reprieved and decided that Theebaw Tsabwa should be treated as a state prisoner and confined in the Jail at Rangoon.

The year is celebrated for the birth of daughters in the households of certain native Princes in whom interest is felt in this Presidency. King Theebaw like the Nizam of Hyderabad and the Maharaja of Mysore, has had to welcome the advent during the year of a daughter though expectations run high before the event for the birth of a son. The King's first born was a son, but it died soon after its birth. The next two children were daughters and probably if the King had not such a lively recollection of the short work his Queen made of the unhappy girls whom he added to his household after the birth of his second daughter, he would probably be now found in the blissful observance of the ancient custom of his House in being the possessor of Queens answering to the four cardinal points.

Bombay—The most illustrious event of the year has been the assumption of an Indian command by the third of Her Majesty's sons, H. R. H. Arthur William Patrick Albert, the Duke of Connaught. The good fortune fell to the capital of the Western Presidency to give the Prince a fitting reception as he stepped on Indian soil with his illustrious consort. The town Council was much exercised as to the most suitable way in which to convey a hearty and loyal welcome and from all that has been published in the local papers, there is ample proof that a success has been scored considering the limited time within which these public expressions had to be displayed. There was a people's fete and an illumination of the principal public buildings, besides a brilliant display of the inevitable native fireworks. From the many accounts given of their Royal Highnesses reception at the Dockyards, the following has been selected for re-production: "A spacious marquee or shamiana extending from the Admiralty steps to the top of the road near the Northbrook Gate gave accommodation to about one thousand spectators, who were admitted to the dock premises by cards. The seats were constructed in tiers on each side, and in the centre was a broad passage flanked with crotons, ferns and other foliage plants in tubs, sufficient space also being reserved between the last row of seats and the central passage to allow of easy movement. At the top end of the marquee, nearest the water, was a space reserved for officials and distinguished visitors. The first few rows of seats nearest the landing steps were also reserved, the members of the Municipal Corporation occupying one section, the foreign Consuls another, and so on. The debarkation was arranged to take place at four o'clock, and long before that hour, carriages began to arrive and set down their occupants at the Dock. It had been previously arranged that a number of native children selected from the different schools in the city should sing Mr. Khaikhosru N. Kabrajee's Guzerati version of "God save the Queen," and about half-past three o'clock the little singers arrived at the Dock. The party numbered about 150. Attired as the youngsters were in their best costumes and jewels they looked very pretty as they marched along the road. On arrival inside the marquee the children were marched to the place reserved for them on the right, near the seats allotted to the members of the Corporation. Precisely at four o'clock the booming of the guns firing the salute announced that the Royal party had left the Cathay, and immediately afterwards cheers were heard from the vessels in harbour. On landing at the steps the Duke and Duchess were met by H. E. the Governor, who offered them a hearty welcome to Indian soil. His Royal Highness, who wore the uniform of his military rank, looked exceedingly well. Her Royal Highness the Duchess appeared somewhat fatigued, but this may have been owing to the heat, which was very oppressive at the time of the landing. On arriving at the top of the steps, the guard-of-honour of the 4th King's Own presented arms, and the band played "God save the Queen." The spectators at the same time cheered very heartily, and their Royal Highnesses bowed constantly in acknowledgment. His Excellency the Governor introduced the Royal visitors to several of the prominent European and native gentlemen present, and while this formality was being gone through, Mr. Kabrajee's choir sang the first words of "God save the Queen" in the vernacular. At the conclusion of the singing, Mr. Raghunath Narayen Khote, the Chairman of the Municipal Corporation, advanced towards His Royal Highness, and read the Municipal address, which was beautifully illuminated on vellum. The address was listened to with great attention by the Royal party, and when the cheers which followed the reading of the address had subsided, His Royal Highness in a clear distinct voice, read the following reply:—Gentlemen,—I thank you most sincerely for the cordial words of welcome which you have just read to me. I am deeply touched by the very kind and loyal way in which you receive me and the Duchess of Connaught here to-day. It is with great satisfaction that I look forward to a lengthened sojourn in this vast and important portion of Her Majesty's dominions. I feel assured that the experience which I hope to derive from my command in India will be of the greatest use to me, and I look forward to a closer acquaintance with the inhabitants of this great empire, and especially with those who form so large a portion of Her Majesty's Indian Army. It is most interesting to me that I should land at the very spot where some eighty years ago my illustrious godfather, the Duke of Wellington, took his departure from this country after his great military successes. I am especially pleased to think that I am accompanied to India by the Duchess of Connaught, who is the first princess of the Royal family of England that has ever visited your shores. She is deeply sensible of the kind words used by you in reference to her. I know that it will afford the greatest gratification to Her Majesty to know how genuine has been the reception given to her son by her Indian subjects. The concluding words of His Royal Highness's reply were enthusiastically cheered, and the cheers were renewed, when Mrs. Cowasjee Jehangier Jussawalla came forward to place garlands round the necks of the Duke and the Duchess. The royal party then left for Government House. Their carriage was preceded by an escort of mounted police under the command of Sir Frank Souter, and was followed by a detachment consisting of 25 members of the Governor's Body Guard, under the command of Major Moseley Mayne. The streets through which the Royal procession passed were gaily adorned with flags and bunting. On arrival at a point opposite the Oriental Bank, a little girl named Katie Webb, an inmate of the Scottish Orphanage, emerged from the building where her school-fellows were stationed, and advancing to the carriage, presented Her Royal Highness with a handsome bouquet. The carriage was stopped in order that this presentation might be made, and the gift was received with a degree of condescension and affability. The verandahs of Watson's Hotel, the Bombay Club, and other buildings on the line of route were crowded with spectators, and on every side in the streets as far as the eye could reach there was nothing but a mass of struggling humanity. Cheers, again and again renewed, greeted the procession as it passed." The next day the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the Hormusjee Cama Hospital for women and children took place with great eclat. H. R. H. accompanied by the Duchess and the Governor were received with great enthusiasm in a pavilion erected near the stone. The donor of the hospital was then introduced to the Duke and Mr. Cama's nephew stepping forward read an address pointing out the disadvantages under which the women of India were situated for want of female medical practitioners and thanked the Duke for his kindness in consenting to lay the stone. The Duke replied expressing regret at his inability to lay the stone with masonic honors, owing, it is understood, to his paraphernalia not being with him. He paid a well-deserved tribute of praise to Mr. Cama's philanthrophic generosity and laid the stone in due form. It was a great disappointment to the Masons that the Masonic ceremonial fell through, for, through a joint Committee of the English and Scottish constitutions, they had drawn up an elaborate programme. H. E. thanked the Duke for laying the stone and begged of him to accept the demonstrations of hearty welcome accorded to him as a tribute of the loyality and affection of the Indian people. The Duke acknowledged these sentiments in suitable terms. A fair was held on the maidan through which the Royal party drove and they witnessed from the Secretariat buildings the illumination of the fort, the clock tower and other prominent buildings. They paid the Arthur Crawford Markets, and the art pottery works at the School of Arts a visit the next day and left the Parel Station of the B. B. and C. I. Railway at 7 P.M. on the 24th November. On arrival at Ahmedabad, they received an address of welcome and were entertained by the Maharajah of Alwar. On arrival at Meerut on the evening of the 26th November, they were received at the railway station by Brigadier-General, Sir Robert Bright, the Commissioner, all commanding officers and a number of European and Native gentlemen. After the usual introductions, their Royal Highnesses drove off to their residence. We next find the royal pair in Calcutta assisting at the opening of the International Exhibition. Their reception at Calcutta was most loyal and enthusiastic.

The only regrettable incident amongst all the expressions of loyalty and joy that surrounded their Royal Highnesses debut in Bombay was the unfortunate contretemps between the Governor, Sir James Fergusson, and the Judges of the High Court. At one of his early levees last year, he appears to have introduced certain arrangements by which offence was given to the Puisne Judges. They, with their then Chief, Sir Charles Sargeant, according to custom, had taken up their places to the right of H. E. on the platform, when an Aide de camp was directed to request the Judges, excepting the Chief Justice, to take up a position with the other gentlemen of the private entree on the opposite side of the hall. The request was at the time complied with, but opportunity was taken by Mr. Justice Bayley, the Acting Chief Justice, before the annual levee this year to protest on behalf of his colleagues against the innovation and to request that they might be allowed to occupy their old places, adding that as "primus inter pares he must always shrink from any invidious distinction which elevates him by degrading his colleagues." The correspondence which ensued, though not voluminous, need not be followed, but it concluded by H. E. informing the Chief Justice that he "cannot consent to revert to a system which was found inconvenient, "even on a threat on the part of the Judges of not appearing at the levee" which, he added, would preclude him from receiving them at Government House. The up-shot of all this paper warfare was that the Judges absented themselves from the levee, but having accepted the invitation to the state dinner in honor of the Duke, previous to the contretemps, they acted up to it. It is extremely unfortunate that at two of the Presidency Towns their Royal Highnesses should have been witnesses to social and political disagreements between H. M.'s representatives and the citizens of the towns.

Owing also to certain religious scruples as to how Holy Week should be observed, the Royal Bombay Yacht Club came into conflict with Sir James Fergusson in connection with a dance they proposed giving at their rooms during that season. As soon as H. E. became aware of the intention he considered it such "a grave scandal" that he intimated through his Private Secretary that he could not willingly continue to belong to a club in which it (the dance) was given." The Committee, whose arrangements for the dance had progressed beyond recall and who did not seem to entertain the same strict views as His Excellency, were left no alternative but to accept Sir James' resignation.

An extensive fraud was committed at the Bombay Bank,—a sum over Rs. 60,000 having been embezzled. The head cashier, a man of 35 years' service, and the assistant cashier were prosecuted. The former, a very old man, aged 70, died in jail before he was tried at the Sessions—the latter was convicted and sentenced to 5 years' rigorous imprisonment. The Bank held substantial security from the former covering at least half the amount mis-appropriated.

A melancholy event or rather events occurred among the small European community in the town of Nassick from oyster poisoning. The unfortunate ladies were the wives of two of the principal European officers, Messrs Woodward and Silcock.

Mr. L. R. Ashburner, C.S.I., after completion of his term of office for 5 years as senior member of council, bid adieu to Bombay in January last. He had the good fortune of acting as Governor during the interregnum between the departure of Sir Richard Temple and the arrival of Sir James Fergusson.

The Governor General, after consulting the Governments of Bombay and Punjab, released the Wahabee prisoners who were convicted of waging war against the State, with permission to return to their homes and to be under police surveillance.

The State of Kolhapur, owing to the pronounced imbecility of the youthful Raja, has been placed under a Regency with the Chief of Kagal as President, assisted by three chief officers of the State. This Prince died on the 25th December from rupture of the spleen resulting from a fall which he had while resisting his keeper.

The Kattyawar Agricultural Exhibition was opened under Government auspices on December 27th. The principal object of the Exhibition is the improvement of breeds of horses. In the equine and bovine departments there were splendid displays, and there was considerable merit in all classes, especially in those for poultry, dogs, sheep and goats.

Bengal.—Bengal, at the bidding of Mr. Joubert, the promoter of the recent New Zealand exhibition, caught the European rage for International Exhibitions and stamped with its approval the holding of one in December at Calcutta. The Lieut.-Governor early in the year issued a resolution in the Government Gazette inviting the co-operation of Local Governments to further this effort to develope and promote the commercial prosperity of India and intimated that exhibitors from England and the colonies, as well as from foreign countries, were expected to come forward with a collection of products of foreign industries. The responsibility of the collection of Indian products was undertaken by the Bengal Government; that of art ware by the Government, of India, and home, foreign and colonial exhibits by Mr. Joubert. The sister Presidencies contributed pecuniarily and nominated local committees to secure adequate representation. The exhibition contained 10 Sections comprising: a, fine arts; b, education; c, health, including drainage and sanitary appliances; d, furniture and dwelling-house decorations; e, fabrics; f, raw products and manufactures; g, machinery and implements; h, food-products; i, agricultural and horticultural; j, ethnology, archæology and natural history. The Indian exhibits were displayed in a separate building styled the 'Indian annexe' and which was attached to the main building, of the Indian Museum; its proportions are 700 feet long, 100 feet broad, and 40 feet high. One half of the space was allotted to Calcutta, the other half to the Punjab, North West Provinces, Bombay, Madras, Bengal, Assam, Burma, the Central Provinces and the Native States. This, the first international exhibition held in Asia, was formally opened on the 4th December at Calcutta by the Viceroy in the presence of the royal visitors, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. Owing to the inclemency of the weather and to national feeling at the great metropolis being off its equilibrium at the time in consequence of the Ilbert bill and to certain causes said to have given room for grumbling in the arrangements, the opening ceremony is pronounced to have fallen flat. Mr. Rivers Thompson, the Lieut. Governor, who took such a warm interest in the promotion of this scheme, was prevented at the last moment attending from indisposition. The Viceroy's speech in opening the exhibition is given below in an abbreviated form: "May it please your Royal Highnesses, Colonel Trevor, ladies, and gentlemen,—Before I proceed to discharge the duty which Colonel Trevor has just asked me to undertake, and to declare the Exhibition open in accordance with the usual custom on such occasions, I desire to make a few observations in connection with the present International Exhibition. You might naturally have expected that I should have commenced these observations by offering congratulations; but the closing remarks which have fallen from Colonel Trevor, filled my mind with a subject, not of congratulation, but of deep regret; and I cannot pass away to other and more pleasing topics without, in the first instance, expressing that which I am confident is the unanimous feeling of every one here assembled, the deep regret which we all entertain at the enforced absence of the Lieutenant-Governor. Ladies and gentlemen, I will now offer you my congratulations on the completion of the undertaking of this exhibition, which was commenced less than twelve months ago. It is not yet a full year since the Lieutenant-Governor first sought the sanction of the Government of India to the opening and the establishment of an international exhibition in this city. That sanction was readily accorded; and when we consider the magnitude of the work that had to be done, we may congratulate ourselves, and thank those who have been actively engaged in carrying out the work, that they have been able to bring it, if not to absolute completion, yet to such a state of completion as to enable it to be open upon the very day that was fixed—the 4th of December. When twelve months ago I was invited to perform the opening ceremony to-day I had no hesitation in accepting the invitation, because I felt that no duty could be more appropriate to one who has the honour to fill the position of Her Majesty's representative in this country, than the opening of an international exhibition, because I need not remind you of the deep interest which Her Majesty has always felt in undertakings of this kind in every part of the world. The first of these exhibitions—its wise and truthful conception—emanated from the sagacious mind of the late Prince Consort, and therefore you can easily understand how Her Majesty has followed the history and the prospects, and the success of every successful exhibition which has been the outcome of that which His Royal Highness accomplished in 1851. Ladies and gentlemen, it appears that I judge rightly in thus interpreting Her Majesty's sentiments: for since I came into this hall, with that wonderful quickness and opportuneness which marks every act of the Queen-Empress, while Colonel Trevor was reading his report, there was put into my hand the following telegram from Her Majesty—"My best wishes for the success of the Calcutta Exhibition." Again, ladies and gentlemen, I must congratulate you heartily upon the presence on this occasion of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. When I ventured to send an invitation to His Royal Highness that he and his illustrious consort would be present here to-day, I had no doubt of the reception which that invitation would receive. Their Royal Highnesses were graciously pleased to accept it at once, and thus to mark their deep interest in the undertaking in which you are engaged. And now, ladies and gentlemen, it would be more than ungrateful if the person charged with the duty that I have to preform to-day, were not to say some words of congratulation to those who have laboured to accomplish the results which we are assembled here to witness, and, first and foremost among them your thanks, as you well know, are due to your Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. Rivers Thompson. I venture to say that, but for his untiring energy, you would not have had an international exhibition in Calcutta in 1883. Then there is a gentleman to whom our thanks are also due, who occupies in respect to this exhibition a somewhat peculiar position,—I mean Mr. Jules Joubert. Mr. Joubert will excuse me, I am confident, if I frankly tell you that when first I heard it was proposed that a private gentleman was willing, on his own responsibility, to undertake the burden and charge of getting up an international exhibition in Calcutta, I was filled with considerable surprise. The idea was to me a novelty. I was not then aware of what had been done in the same way by Mr. Joubert in other portions of Her Majesty's dominions, and my feeling was one of surprise. But Mr. Rivers Thompson assured me he had looked carefully into the matter, and he believed that Mr. Joubert was both willing and able to carry out the work which he undertook. Well, ladies and gentlemen, you see how that undertaking has been accomplished, and I think you will agree with me that our thanks are due to him for the zeal and energy with which he has laboured. But while we thank Mr. Joubert, we must recollect that he could not have accomplished that which he has done, unless he had had the untiring assistance and the zealous aid of the Executive Committee who have been conducting the operations. The members of that committee, both official and non-official, have worked hard, and done their duty well; but none of them I think question this statement that I am about to make, when I say that, foremost among them all, our thanks are due to Colonel Trevor for the tact, the zeal, and the patience with which he has conducted their operations. I should have liked very much to have had a private view of the Exhibition before to-day, that I might have expressed from my own judgment some opinion upon its contents; but I abstained from asking for such a private view, because I found how much remained to be done within the last few days. I can, therefore, only speak from hearsay—from the opinion of others: and I believe, I am right in saying that the Indian portion of this Exhibition is a most satisfactory and interesting one, and that it will exhibit to Your Royal Highness and to other visitors from Europe, from the Australian provinces, from America, and from other parts of this world, a very fair sample of the arts, the manufactures and the products of this great portion of Her Majesty's dominions. I understand also—that the Australian portion of the Exhibition is of an extensive and interesting character. Ladies and gentlemen, I need not detain you now by any argument to show the value of an exhibition of this kind. When the Great Exhibition of 1851 was first proposed by the Prince Consort, the idea was met with much opposition and with many objections, but that illustrious Prince, in the calm wisdom of his judgment, neither doubted of the success of the undertaking, nor entertained unduly high hopes of its results; and I cannot better conclude what I have to say to-night than by reading, with your Royal Highness's permission, the views of the Prince Consort. His Royal Highness said:—"I confidently hope that the first impression which the view of this vast collection will produce upon the spectator will be that of deep thankfulness to the Almighty for the blessings which he has bestowed upon us already here below, and the second, the conviction that they can only be realised in proportion to the help which we are prepared to render each other, therefore, only by peace, love, and assistance, not only between the individuals, but between the natives of the earth." I can add nothing to these words, and with them I declare the Calcutta Exhibition to be open." It is said that the Nizam of Hyderabad purchased three lakhs of rupees worth of jewels in the Jewel court.

Amongst legal matters, three cases in the High Court, Calcutta, excited an unusual amount of interest, not far from religious fanaticism in one of them. The strange coincidences about two of them are that they were tried before the same Judge and while one involved religious scruples and custom, the other brought into the witness box a pretty considerably array of gentlemen of the black cloth. The cases referred to are familiarly know as the Idol case, the Calcutta defamation case and the Contempt of Court case. In connection with the first, Mr. Justice Norris is said to have outraged the religious feelings of the people, amounting in the estimation of pious Hindus, to an act of sacrilege, by having produced in the corridor of the Court a Thakoor or idol for purposes of identification. It would appear, however, that this course was not adopted till the learned Judge had consulted competent persons as to its propriety.

The off-shoot of this case is what disturbed the equananimity of the Bengalees immensely. Owing to an article in the Bengalee misrepresenting the actual facts of the case, the printer and editor were called upon by Mr. Justice Norris to show cause why they should not be committed for contempt of Court. The rule was heard by a full Court consisting of the Chief Justice and four Judges. The printer and Mr. Soorandraneth Bannerjee, the editor, through counsel, expressed regret for the strictures passed on Mr. Justice Norris, and the latter further pleaded that he relied on the statements of another native contemporary which he now found to be misleading and inaccurate. The printer was discharged without fine, but as regards Mr. Soorandraneth Bannerjee, all the European Judges were of opinion that an exemplary punishment was necessary and they sentenced him to two months' imprisonment in the Civil jail. Mr. Justice Mitter, the native Judge, concurred in the conviction but basing his argument on two precedents, expressed himself unable to agree with the majority of the Court as to the punishment. Owing to the highly excited state of the crowd outside, the Court was guarded by a strong Police force and the Judges were afterwards escorted by mounted escorts beyond the crowd. Mr. Lal Mohun Ghose who proceeded to England charged with the special mission of moving the Privy Council to upset the conviction was not successful and Mr. Soorandraneth had to satisfy the full measure of the law. Several sympathetic votes of condolence were passed at crowded meetings held by members of his community and Hindus, special funds were raised for Mr. Ghose's mission and on the release from jail of the imprisoned editor he was received at his house with triumphal arches and an assemblage of sympathisers and friends.

The next case that did much to scandalise the cause of Missions generally and of the Scottish Ladies' Association in particular, was that in which Miss Pigot, the Lady Superintendent of the Scotch Ladies' Institution in Calcutta, sued to recover damages laid at Rs 20,000, from the Rev. Mr. Hastie, Principal of the General Assembly's Institution, for libel. The latter is alleged to have made to the Ladies' Association in Scotland a series of formal grave charges against the plaintiff of immorality and of cruelty to the school children. It is unnecessary to give any of the details of the evidence. Mr. Justice Norris who tried the suit found that the plaintiff had been guilty of criminal impropriety not with Mr. Baboo Kali Churn Banneerjee alone but also with Mr Wilson, a Scotch Missionary, and Mr. Chunder Coomar Dey, a native doctor. The charge of ill-treating the girls His Lordship found not proven and on that ground gave plaintiff a verdict in her favour, with an anna damages. The case is to be heard in appeal.

In the indignation meeting held at Calcutta on the Ilbert Bill, Mr. Branson, a practising barrister of the High Court, gave great offence in the course of his speech, to the native community and in consequence the native Attornies of the Court adopted a resolution to abstain from all social and professional intercourse with him. They were on this requested by the European members of the bar, through the Advocate General, to withdraw this resolution and on their refusing, the intercession of the Chief Justice was invoked to convince them of the reasonableness of the request, and an interview was accordingly arranged between him and the pleaders. In consequence of a para. subsequently in the Hindu Patriot misrepresenting his action in the matter, Sir R. Garth summoned all the members of the bar and addressed them on the true facts of the case, and prominently pointed out that the circumstance that the native Attornies had promised to rescind the resolution, was suppressed. The resolution was subsequently cancelled after Mr. Branson had left for England and the fact intimated to the Chief Justice.

A new loan of 250 lakhs was announced in July in a Gazette Extraordinary from Simla. It is to run at 4 per cent. and tenders were to be received till 14th August in sums of Rs. 500 or multiples of that sum.

The admission of females to the Calcutta Medical College was sanctioned by the Lieut. Governor, but he was averse to relaxing in their favour the educational standard of admission which is the First in Arts examination.

The ceremony of unveiling the equestrian statue of Lord Napier of Magdala near Prince's Ghat was performed by the Viceroy in the presence of a large assembly.

The Viceroy's cup for competition among the Calcutta Presidency Volunteers was won by Serjeant Spooner of A Company, Calcutta Volunteer Rifles, with a score of 78. This is the second time Spooner has won the Viceroy's prize.

Major General His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, K.G., has held his first parade at Meerut. On the morning of the 18th December, the division paraded in drill order for inspection. On the morning of the 19th, the whole of the native troops paraded, when the Major General distributed medals to those who had served in the late war.

The following summary of the Financial Statement for 1883-84 was published in the Gazette of India: As no legislation was to be undertaken in connection with the financial arrangement of the year in question the statement took the form of a minute. The accounts and estimates were presented in a new and simplified form. The figures are in conventional sterling, that is, £1 equals Rs 10. The accounts of 1881-82 show the following result:—Revenue, £ 73,696,000; Expenditure 71,113,000; Surplus 2,583,000. The value of the import trade in those articles which were exempted from duty in March 1882, has increased by about 7 per cent. in ten months. There has been a general fall in the retailed price of Salt in all the provinces since the reduction of the duty, ranging from 12 per cent. in Oudh to 23 per cent. in Bengal. The consumption of salt since March 1st, 1882, has increased by 6½ per cent., representing a revenue of £ 320,000 a year, or about £ 302,000 in excess of the anticipations formed last March. Of this increase £ 163,000 falls to the year 1881-82, a very large amount of salt having paid duty in the last three weeks of March 1882, and £ 139,000 falls to 1882-83. It is estimated that, should the same rate of increase continue, the revenue at the reduced rate of duty will, in less than three years from the present time, stand at the same figure as it did prior to the reduction. Turning to the revised, formerly called the Regular Estimates for 1882-83, it is to be observed that the net Opium revenue is estimated at £ 7,217,000, being £ 33,000 less than the Budget Estimate and £ 588,000 less than the actuals of 1881-82. The falling off is attributed to the increased competition of the indigenous Chinese drug. The charge under Exchange is estimated at £ 341,000 in excess of the Budget Estimate. The net cost of the Egyptian Expedition, after deducting the English contribution of £ 500,000 true sterling, is stated to be £ 797,000. In spite of these additional charges the Revised Estimate shows the following result:—Revenue, 67,914,000; Expenditure, 67,854,000; Surplus 60,000. This satisfactory result is attributed mainly to two causes. First, that the harvests have been good and the country prosperous; and secondly, that, in view of the large fiscal reforms undertaken last year, the estimates of revenue and expenditure were framed with even more than usual caution. It is also said that the Indian Revenue is more elastic than is often supposed. All the main branches of revenue for 1882-83 show an excess over the estimate, and some items of expenditure are less than estimate A sum of £ 1,000,000 (true sterling) will, with the approval of the Debt Commissioners, be remitted to England before March 31st, 1883, for the reduction of sterling debt, the loss by exchange on this transaction being debited to the account of the Commissioners. This is in addition to the ordinary requirements of the Secretary of State for the year which have already been remitted home. It is pointed out that the only way India can meet the continued depreciation of silver is by developing trade, and especially exports. The uncertainty as regards the future of opium and silver necessitates the postponement of further fiscal reforms. Regret is expressed that the financial position does not permit of the export duty on rice being abolished. The question of Indian competing with American wheat in the London market is fully discussed, and it is shown that India, though laboring under great disadvantages as regards internal communications and other points, has the great advantage of Free Trade. The Railway rates on wheat from Northern India to Bombay are to be immediately reduced by 18½ per cent., equivalent to a reduction of 1s. 6d a quarter in the London market. A corresponding reduction will, without doubt, be made on the East Indian line. Also the restriction giving lower rates only to large consignments is to be abolished on the Rajputana and Bombay, Baroda, and Central India Lines. Turning to the Budget Estimates of 1883-84, it is observed that the net Opium Revenue is taken at £ 7,035,000, being £ 215,000 less than the Budget Estimate of 1882-83. The value of the rupee is taken at 1s. 7½d., and the Expenditure under Exchange at £ 773,000 more than Budget Estimates of 1882-83. All the other Estimates are very cautiously framed. The result is as follows:—Revenue, £ 67,274,000; Expenditure, £ 66,817,000; Surplus 457,000. The reports on the Opium crop of the present season in Bengal are unsatisfactory, which will affect the finances of 1884-85, by necessitating a still further reduction in the sales of Bengal Opium, and therefore probably in the Opium Estimate. As regards the License Tax, it is said that no change is at present proposed, and that the Government, whilst recognising the inequalities in the incidence of the present tax, reserves full liberty of action in the future as to the method of its treatment. Stock Notes to the extent of only £ 163,000 have been taken up in the year, but prolonged experience can alone show whether the scheme will ultimately take root in the country. It is worth while to continue the experiment. Some modifications will possibly be made in the details. Post Office Savings Banks were opened on April 1st, 1882. The amount at present in deposit is £ 248,000. The number of depositors on December 31st, 1882, was 31,698, of whom 28,770 were natives, being a far larger proportion than in the case of the District and Presidency Savings Banks. The cash balance in India on March 31st, 1883, after allowing for payment of Secretary of State's Bills during the year amounting to £ 15,042,000 true sterling, is estimated at £ 13,840,000. The usual 4 per cent. loan for Productive Public Works will be contracted during the coming year. The amount will be £ 2,500,000. Full details will be notified on or about July 15th. The cash balance in India on March 31st, 1884, is estimated at £ 11,697,000, but this is a very moderate estimate and will probably be exceeded.

In the Vice-regal legislative Council on Friday the 16th February, the Honorable C. P. Ilbert moved for leave to introduce a bill to amend the Criminal Procedure Code 1882, as far as related to the exercise of jurisdiction over European British subjects. This change was, it is alleged, called for to remove an anomaly in the administration of criminal law which was being more and more felt in consequence of the admission into the ranks of the Civil Service, of Covenanted and statutory native civilians. The grievance, if may be so called, appears to have been brought prominently to the notice of the Lieut. Governor by a Mr. Gupta, a native member of the Bengal Civil Service. The amendment was directed to removing the exclusive jurisdiction exercisable over European British subjects by members of that class, to declaring every District Magistrate and Session Judge by virtue of his office a J. P. in view to his exercising such jurisdiction and to empowering the local Governments to invest any person being a member of the Covenanted Civil Service, or native Civil Service, a Justice of the Peace.

This great legislative reform following as it did close on the heels of the local self-government scheme, a measure regarding which even the friends of native advancement are divided, set popular feeling by the ears and called into existence such a state of political agitation never before witnessed. On the plea of removing race inequalities in the common subjugation to the law of the country, it struck directly at, and levelled a fatal blow at the long-cherished and highly honored privilege of the European and his legitimate offspring down to the second generation, of being tried by Judges and Magistrates who are themselves Europeans, and naturally enough it aroused a strong feeling of race antagonism, the European portion of the Press condemning the measure while the native organs were advocating its introduction. The bill was put forward with the assertion that it was approved by every local Government, except Coorg, that it was long considered and carefully prepared and had received the concurrence of Lord Hartington before he left office, but how illusive has all this been shown by the light of subsequent official opinions when the principle and scope of the measure was better understood and calmly considered with the fund of information thrown on the subject by press criticism and intelligent memorials. Those in England who were competent to write with authority on this contemplated change in the law, did not shrink from a sense of public duty at an early stage of the controversy in placing their disinterested views before the public, for now that they have retired from an Indian service their views are entitled to great weight, as they are not themselves within reach of the proposed change. No charge of bias or prejudice can be laid against them. We refer to Sir James Fitzjames Stephens, Sir Alexander Arbuthnot, and Sir Louis Jackson. Meetings were held at the various Presidency Towns throughout India, and at hundreds of smaller stations, when resolutions were unanimously adopted condemning the measure and memorials to the Viceroy and the Secretary of State were passed. In England the agitation was also kept up. The bill was discussed at a meeting held at Exeter Hall in May, presided over by Lord Stanley of Alderley; and a paper on the subject was also read in June by a late planter in Mysore at a meeting of the East Indian Association held at St. James's Hall. There was also a very influential and largely attended meeting of Anglo-Indians and others at the same Hall on the 25th of June to take measures to obtain the withdrawal of the bill, presided over by Sir Alexander Arbuthnot, when a name known to Madras as conveying an accurate knowledge of Indian society, Indian trials and Indian law is found among the speakers—that of Mr. J. D. Mayne, late Advocate General of this Presidency. There was also a meeting of the opponents to the bill in August in the Town Hall, Limehouse, with Mr. Edward Stanhope, M. P., in the chair. Mr. Bright, at a crowded ante-meeting held at Willis' Rooms in August, supported by Lal Mohun Ghose, was successful in securing a vote of confidence in Lord Ripon's administration, and practically in support of a measure which had roused throughout the length and breadth of India wide-spread race jealousies and antipathies. The bill was remitted in March by the vice-regal Council to the various local governments and administrations for a sense of further official opinion. The result of which has been to add some 100 and odd pages to the literature on the question and which will be found published as a supplement to the Gazette of India in October. Whatever analysis might be attempted of the replies, only one result is inevitable and that is they shew a vast preponderance of official opinion condemnatory of the bill and confirmatory of the adverse opinion entertained from the onset against the measure by non-official Anglo-Indians.

The return of the Government of India to Calcutta after the annual exodus to Simla was anxiously awaited for for some indication of Government action as the result of dispassionate consideration of the recent opinions in their possession, and at a legislative meeting held on the 7th December, the Viceroy said that after carefully considering the opinions of the Local Governments as they came in, the Government of India had recommended to the Secretary of State that the principle of the bill should be maintained subject to the following modifications; that the jurisdiction be confined to District Magistrates and Sessions Judges ex-officio; that the present powers of the Local Governments with respect to the appointment of Justices of the Peace remain unchanged; and to adopt a suggestion of the Chief Justice of Madras that the venue may be changed on sufficient cause being shown that it "was expedient for the ends of justice." Very soon after, however, followed telegrams from Calcutta announcing a most satisfactory settlement of this vital question at issue between the European community and the Government. It being assumed that the power over Europeans is not to be conceded to the statutary civilians, Madras will not at present be affected even by this attenuated measure as with the death of the late Mr. Ruthnavelu Chetti, she lost her only Covenanted native civilian.

The return of the Viceroy to Calcutta on the 1st of December after the annual sojourn at Simla was made the occasion to offer him a gross and barbarous outrage. According to the telegrams received, only three companies of the Volunteers, viz., the Secretariat, Post office and Railway turned out as a guard of honor. All along the road from the station he was received with groans and hisses and near the gate of Government House a large crowd was particularly demonstrative so much so that Lady Ripon lay back in the carriage evidently alarmed, but His Lordship sat erect, with folded arms. Outside Calcutta, this shocking and outrageous insult offerd to Her Majesty's highest representative in the Indian Empire has met with universal condemnation and such conduct was not confined to the lower strata of the community, for at St. Andrew's dinner, a time of rejoicing with the canny Scotchman, we are informed that when the Viceory's health was proposed only a few rose to their feet and hisses were proceeding from various parts of the hall when the Chairman signalled the band to strike up a strathspey, which effectually drowned this outburst of political feeling. From this it is evident that the feeling among the non-official European community is very strained indeed and that the sooner the Ilbert Bill is passed and made law, the sooner will the Empire be a stranger to these scenes of scandalous demonstration.

The Concordat arranged with the Council of the Defence Association, may be described generally as follows:—

1. No Native, other than a Native District Judge, and a Native District Magistrate, is to exercise criminal jurisdiction over European British subjects.
2. The European British subject in every such case (inclusive of offences triable by a District Magistrate) is to be entitled, as of right, to be tried by a Jury, the majority of whom shall consist of European British subjects.
3. This right moreover is to be conferred even in non-Jury Districts.
4. This right is to apply in every case triable by a District Magistrate even when such Magistrate is himself a European British subject.
5. The result of this agreement will be to establish upon a permanent basis, and as a matter of final legislation, this principle, the rights and liberties of European British subjects in Criminal matters will in every case be safe guarded by a decision or verdict of men of their own race.

The following is the still fuller explanation of the Concordat from the Defence Association :—

"That no misunderstanding should arise, the European and Anglo-Indian Defence Association supplement their communication by giving the exact terms of the Concordat on the subject of the Criminal Procedure Code :—On the basis of the modifications approved in the Secretary of State's despatch, the right to be given to European British subjects when brought for trial before a District Magistrate or Sessions Judge to claim trial by Jury, such as is provided for in Section 451 of the Criminal Procedure Code, subject to the following conditions :—

1.—No distinction to be made between European and Native District Magistrates and Sessions Judges.

2.—The powers of District Magistrates under Section 446 of the Code to be extended to imprisonment for six months, or a fine of two thousand rupees.

The Executive Committee of the Defence Association will accept this understanding as a settlement."

Regarding the functions and position of the Press of India, Mr. Robert Knight, the Nestor of Indian journalists, who now edits the Statesman of Calcutta, says in a circular, that "in the absence of all representative institutions in the country, and with an overwhelmingly powerful Executive independent of all other control, the English Press of India can healthfully play no other role than that of Her Majesty's Opposition. The position of the whole Press, Native and English alike, should be that of watchful and fearless criticism of the Administration, not to embarrass it or bring it into odium, but to compel considerate and righteous rule in the country, over prince and peasant, rich and poor alike."

OBITUARY.

Indian.

1. Mr. Runga Charlu, the Dewan of the Native State of Mysore, died at Madras on the 23rd January, aged 52.

2. The sudden death of Sir Salar Jung, the Prime Minister of the Mahomedan State of Haiderabad, on Thursday the 8th February, at the age of 56, was received with universal regret. He was regarded as one of the greatest Statesman of the day, and justly deserves this tribute for the singular ability with which he administered that Native Province for thirty years and more. He was made a K.C.S.I. in 1867, and a G.C.S.I. in 1871.

3. Meyar Solomon Gindel, the Chief Rabbi of Bombay, died at the age of 54, on Tuesday, the 13th February. He was interred in the Jewish Cemetery in DeLisle road.

4. Captain J. B. Carey, of the North Staffordshire Regiment, who is known to the general public in connection with the unfortunate death of the Prince Imperial during the Zulu campaign, died at Kurrachee on the 22nd February.

5. The Amir Abd-el-Kadir died on May 26th at Damascus at the age of 77. He was engaged for many years in warfare against the French in Algiers and Morocco. On his surrendering himself to the French in 1847, he was kept in captivity till 1852, when he consented to swear homage to Napoleon III, and to become a pensioner of the French Government.

6. Mr. Cameron, the well-know Indian tea planter, died at Mariawattee estate on the 1st June.

8. The death of Colonel W. S Drever, Commissioner of Police, Madras, C.S.I., on Friday, the 13th July, is deeply regretted by a large section of the Madras public and his immediate subordinates.

9. Madras was very soon after called upon by wire to deplore the death of another of its favorites, Mr. John Bruce Norton more familiarly known as 'Jack Norton,' the ex-Advocate-General of Madras, who retired about nine years ago, after a very useful and honorable career. Rarely has Madras seen combined in any of his Indian contemporaries such versatile talents as Mr. Norton exhibited in his career.

10. T. T. Shunguni Menon, C.S.I., ex-Dewan of Cochin, who for 19 years presided over the destinies of that State, died at Travancore on the 28th August. Receiving his early education in the Rajah's High School, Trevandrum, he entered the British judicial service, and was soon made a Munsiff. He was next appointed Deputy Collector of Tinnevelly, which he resigned for the Dewanship of Cochin.

11. The Rev. S. W. Dias, the founder of the lofty Church of All Saints in Colombo, died on the 5th April. He was for over fifty years the Singhalese Colonial Chaplain of Colombo, Ceylon. His translation of the Book of Common Prayer is in use in all the Churches of that Island, and the translation of the Bible to which he devoted many years, was completed not long before his death.

The young Rajah of Bijni died at Calcutta in March from a wound inflicted in his throat by means of a Nepalese clasp knife. He appears when in Bombay to have become enamoured of a Parsee lady whose hand he unsuccessfully wooed on account of caste prejudices, and being of intemperate habits, he gave himself up to drink and while under the effects of alcoholic poisoning attempted his life.

General John Wheeler Cleveland died at his residence in Cleveland Town, St. John's Hill, Bangalore, on 7th November. His first commission is dated 29th September 1808. He died at the extreme age of 91, having come to India about 77 years ago.

The death of Major Oliver Probyn, C.I.E., very soon after his return to England, was announced on August last and was received with widespread regret in the Bombay Presidency. He retired after 40 years Government Service in July last only.

The death is announced on the 1st November at Maida Hill, of an old Indian officer, known to Madras for many years as Superintendent of the Gun Powder Factory, the late Major-General E. W. Childers.

Mr. Severn, the Manager of the Indian Gold Mining Company, at Devala, died there on the 17th April. He was greatly interested in the Gold Mining industry and had returned from England only a few months previously after paying it a short visit.

Lieut. G. D. Ormand, Army Officer, 13th Regiment, M. N. I., was killed in May by a fall from his horse near the Branch Elphinstone Hotel.

Mr. John W. McMurray, Depy. Collector, and a respected member of the community, died at Vizagapatam on the 14th May.

In the death of Mr. J. G. Coleman, at his residence, Carlton House, Royapooram, on the 14th December, age 59, from the effects of paralysis, the East Indian community has lost one of its most prominent members. He was a member of the Legislative Council, a Mason of a high order and attained the highest ranks open to a civilian in both the Volunteer branches of this Presidency, but which failing health compelled him to resign.

Dr. John William Colenso, a notable figure in the ranks of Colonial Bishops, passed out of this world on June 21st. In 1853 he was appointed first Bishop of Natal. He was well known as a mathematician and published various educational works. His sympathies were largely with the Zulus, for whom he published a Zulu grammar and dictionary. He also translated the New Testament and portions of the Bible into that language.

THE GOVERNOR'S TOURS.

The first of His Excellency's tours during 1883 was undertaken in the month of February. It embraced the Northern Districts, some parts of which had not been visited by a Governor since the days of Sir T. Munro, for more than half a century.

GANJAM.—He embarked at Madras on the evening of the 3rd February in the Satara which landed him at Gopalpur, the chief port of the District of Ganjam, on the morning of the 6th. On arrival, His Excellency was conducted to the godowns of Mr. F. J. V. Minchin, a merchant doing extensive business in those parts, where specimens of the produce of the District were exposed, including some splendid cotton and silk cloth manufactured at Berhampore, and for which it is famous. The next town visited was Chatrapur, which about the year 1831 was fixed on, and has since remained, the head-quarters of the chief civil officer. Ganjam, once the capital of the District, and which suffered so much from a deadly outbreak of fever in 1815 as to cause a decrease in the population of over 20,000 souls, received a flying visit. Briefly stated, the principal requests made in the address presented at Chatrapur were, for means to facilitate embarking and landing at the proverbially dangerous port of Gopalpur and for the grant of certain irrigation projects. Aska, the chief seat of the sugar trade in the District, was next reached, where, the sugar works, the property of Messrs. Minchin and Co., were inspected. His Excellency was here afforded the opportunity of inspecting in India the process employed for the manufacture of sugar termed in German the "diffusion process." He next proceeded to Berhampore, which till 1850 was the chief town of a Hill Zemindar, but now the head-quarters of the Civil and Sessions Judge and the seat of a Municipality. The leading addresses were from the inhabitants of the town and the Mutual Improvement Society, which pressed upon His Excellency's attention the importance of easier means of communication between Ganjam and Madras on one side and Calcutta on the other. Several schemes were formulated for His Excellency's consideration. All the leading Europeans and Natives and the Zemindars within reach were presented at a levee; and during His Excellency's stay, the two aboriginal races of the District, (the Khonds and the Savaras) who chiefly occupy the mountainous parts, were paraded in large numbers for his inspection. From Berhampore, the gubernatorial journey was continued towards the limits of the Vizagapatam District, but as the road lay through the estates of the Mandasa and the Parla-Kimedi Zemindars, these native gentlemen were favored with visits.

VIZAGAPATAM.—Palkonda was the first important station reached in the District of Vizag, which latter at the time was being administered by Mr. H. G. Turner as Collector and Agent. An address was delivered by the inhabitants and replied to. From here, the journey was proceeded with to Parvatipur, the head-quarters of the Senior Assistant under the Agent, and the site of a Jail specially constructed for the accommodation of prisoners belonging to the hill tribes. This being the first time that so remote a station had been honored with a visit from so distinguished a visitor, the town is described to have been in a state of enthusiastic furore, and to have attracted to itself the presence of a number of the neighbouring hill races who came profusely decked with their quaint head-gear of shells. Mr. Grant Duff next proceeded to Bobbili, the estate of a Zemindar, where he was received in true oriental style with native music, elephants and horses richly caparisoned, sepoys and silver-spear bearers, &c., &c. Passing next through the little town of Salur, and inspecting en route the Potinghy ghat, a work of local interest, the tour was proceeded with to Vizianagram, the residence of a native nobleman of very enlightened principles, and the seat of a Municipal Board. After the usual interchange of visits between His Excellency and the Maharajah, a visit was paid to the Maharajah's College, new buildings in connection with which His Excellency was requested to open. His Excellency gave away the prizes to those entitled to receive them, and in a speech fittingly acknowledged the warm interest taken by the Maharajah in the general spread of education. The Maharajah with his wonted hospitality and liberality invited the European community to a dinner at the Moti Mahal to meet His Excellency. After dinner, the usual toasts were drunk, and fitting tribute paid to the personal qualities of the Maharajah and to the bright example set by him to his fellow peers. Bimlipatam one of the ports of the District, was next made for; a short stay en route having been made at Chittavalsa, where His Excellency was shown over Messrs. Arbuthnot & Co.'s extensive jute factory. The Bimliites allege in their address that should Bimli not be selected as the terminal station for the Vizag-Raipur Railway, their little town will dwindle into insignificance and be ultimately utterly obliterated. The town next reached was Waltair, the head-quarters of the Collector and Agent, where a levee was held, at which were presented the leading European and native residents. There was, of course, much to be done in this station, embracing visits to the jail, dispensary, hospital, observatory and other public institutions and buildings, as well as the harbour. The presence of the Maharajah of Jeypore involved the usual interchange of visits; and in a pandal elaborately decorated and erected at great expense in the E. I. V. Company's parade ground, the public address from the inhabitants was presented on the evening of the 27th February, after which there was a nautch and a brilliant display of fireworks. The address dwelt chiefly on the construction of the railway which will connect Vizag. with Central India and the benefits the District expected to derive from it; it called attention to the improvement which the harbour, at present unfitted for vessels laying up for stores and repairs, stood in need of and to the unsatisfactory working of the Marine Police which, though chiefly intended to protect cargo in transit between the shipping and the shore, was withdrawn from this object and transferred to the boats conveying passengers. The operation of the Marine Police Act has since been withdrawn from this port as well as from the port of Cocanada to which it was also introduced. On the evening of the 1st March His Excellency embarked on the B. I. S. N. Co.'s Steamer Kerbela for Coconada, the head-quarters of the District of Godavari, which was reached the next morning.

GODAVARI.—The Acting Collector, Mr. Happell, accompanied by the Master Attendant and the Superintending Engineer of the Circle went out in the steam launch Arthur Cotton to meet Mr. Grant Duff and to bring him ashore. At the wharf, were waiting, the Rajas of Pittapore and Tuni, a couple of Zemindars, the Municipal Commissioners, the members of the Chamber of Commerce and others. Two addresses were presented; one by the inhabitants and the other by the Chamber. Their requests were directed to the development of the means of communication between the port and the interior and the improvement of the harbour. His Excellency held a levee at the Collector's house, and he and his staff were entertained at a dinner given by the members of the Cocanada Club, at which the mercantile element was largely represented, and where the presence of a few ladies, a rara avis at most out-of-the-way stations, lent an eclat to the night's proceedings. The hospital and the Hindu Girls' School, the latter an institution kept up at the expense of the Rajah of Pittapur, were visited, and a new wing of the Hindu High School, to be designated the "Pittapur Rajah's College," was formally opened by His Excellency. From Coconada the next station reached by canal was Dowlaishwaram, where the work of the anicut was explained to His Excellency by competent officers of the Department concerned. Rajahmundry, the head-quarters of the District Judge, was next visited. Here, the inhabitants presented an address suggesting a light railway to be run through the Vizagapatam District, and unlike their neighbours at Cocanada, they urged the retention of the District Court at Rajahmundry, as being the central point of the District, the head of the numerous Godavari canals, a healthier station than Cocanada, and one rejoicing in the possession of a first-grade Government College and a Central Jail. The usual levee was held at this station.

KISTNA.—His Excellency next continued his tour from the Godavari into the Kistna District by the Ellore Canal, and made Bezwada his first halting station, from where an excursion was made to Guntur, the head-quarters of the Sub-Collector. His Excellency held a levee at the latter station in the evening and received two addresses. That from the inhabitants called attention, among other things, to the remarkable fact that since December 1822 when Sir Thomas Munro passed through Guntoor, none of the succeeding representatives of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India had honoured the town with a visit. It is understood that a valuable suggestion from the townspeople to found an Uncovenanted Family Pension Fund to be administered under Government auspices has been rejected on the opinion of certain high-placed officials. The Government School and other places of interest were afterward visited. From Guntur, His Excellency returned to Bezwada, where the inhabitants presented in their turn their tale of requests, embracing among others, the construction of an anicut, the commencement of the Gudivada irrigation project, the extension of the town, the substitution of a steam ferry for the present arrangement and the construction of a railway line to connect the town with Hyderabad. A levee was also held at Bezwada and various schools inspected. Masulipatam, which suffered so much from the floods in 1864, and which was to be the final point of interest in this tour, was next proceeded to and reached by canal. An address was received and replied to, and after an absence of six weeks from the Presidency Town, His Excellency embarked on the 16th March in the Chinsura for Madras, which he reached the next day and was received on the pier by several officials.

The second of His Excellency's tours was undertaken in the month of July and no doubt at great personal discomfort and self-denial, for, to use the words of the Raja of Venkataghiri, when enlogising Mr. Grant Duff's conscientious discharge of duty, he referred to this tour as being undertaken "during the hottest and most inclement part of the year, through districts infected with sickness and rendered unhealthy by climate and other influences." The tour comprised a visit of two days to the Shevaroys, the sanitarium of the District of Salem; and an inspection of the Districts of Kurnul, Nellore and South Arcot; the confines of the District of North Arcot, were touched and two brief stays made at the metropolis.

SALEM.—At the Shevaroys, the planters and residents presented their separate addresses of welcome and placed before His Excellency their several wants and grievances, chief among which might be singled out the ghat for wheel traffic between Salem and the sanitarium. From the reply made by His Excellency, it is evident he has been enamoured with the climate and the beauty of the little station of Yercaud, its mountainous and picturesque surroundings—hills, which though wanting in many of the attractions of the Nilgiris, are truly said by the planters to have charms of scenery peculiarly their own. He describes it as "this Sorrento without the sea," and as regards this a writer in the Madras Mail says that the allusion "is not, as some persons have marvellously misunderstood it, Mr. Grant Duff's verdict on the scenery, but the climate of the Shevaroys which is characterised by a mildness and pleasantness as Italian as anything out of Italy could well be." For Salem, under the scientific opinions of such eminent members of the Geological Survey of India, as Messrs. Foote and King, His Excellency predicts that it will yet be the centre of the iron industry, or as he describes it, the 'black country' of the southern part of the Peninsula.

KURNUL—The tour through Kurnul,—a District which, owing to its reputation for unhealthiness, is one of the least attractive in the Presidency, but, as stated by the Municipal Commissioners not devoid of interest to the antiquarian, and the seeker of wealth, the famous Koh-i-nor being remembered,—must have been rendered more than ordinarily interesting in connection with the consideration of such questions as affected its undeveloped mineral resources, accompanied as His Excellency was by Mr. King of the Geological Department, who, to use a conventional phrase, would hold the data on such matters at his finger's ends. Mr. Grant Duff has hit the right nail if he is in pursuit of information as to the resources of this Presidency in coal and iron, for there can be no question that much of its future prosperity will depend on its success in opening up industries in this direction now that the results or the gold industry is shown to be below first expectation. The other points of interest were, the late Irrigation Company's Canal, little used at present for navigation or irrigation, but for which bett days are apparently in store now that it is under Governmental management, and an examination of parts of the country over which the line of light railway from the Kistna District is to traverse. This Bellary—Kistna Railway will run from Goontacal junction on the Madras line, down the Nandi Konoma pass to Guntur, and thence to Berwara, on the Kistna river, where it is hoped it will be eventually met by the new Nizam's line from Hyderabad. Heavy rain was unexpectedly encountered at various periods of the journey through the District which, in accordance with oriental superstitution, would be regarded an omen of good luck in connection with His Excellency's visit. H. E. received and replied to an address at Nundial.

NORTH ARCOT.—His Excellency next passed into the guidance and guardianship of Mr. Stuart, in whose hands the administration of the North Arcot District was vested. Tirupati, signifying 'holy lord,' and deriving much of its importance from being one of the most noted places of pilgrimage in the Presidency on account of the sacred temple on one of the peaks of the neighbouring range of hills, was possibly the magnet which drew His Excellency into the District ere he passed on to Nellore. The Mahant, a pious devotee and in whose hands the management of the pagoda is vested, had an interview with His Excellency which, it is hoped, will bring about the removal of the evils that beset pilgrims visiting the shrine and to which attention was called in the address at Lower Tirupati. The palace in the fort of Chandragiri afforded His Excellency a resting place for a time and, possessing as it does points of historic interest,—the fort having been built in the times of the Vijianagar Rajahs and the palace, the place where the treaty was signed by which the site of Madras was ceded to the late East Indian Company, it is no matter for surprise that Mr. Grant Duff, who is so rapidly acquainting himself with the various places of oriental interest in the Presidency, should have selected Chandragiri for a visit. The Zemindar of Kalahasti, whose domains lie partly in the District of Nellore and partly in the District of North Arcot in the neighbourhood of the territory traversed by His Excellency, exchanged cordial visits with the latter and the next personage of note who welcomed Mr. Grant Duff 'with all the splendour of the East,' as he describes it, was the Raja of Venkatagiri. His zemindari is situated entirely in the District of Nellore, and the first sanad granted by the British to the then Zemindar of the estate, accompanied by a letter from Lord Clive, bears date the second year of the eighteenth century. An address from the Raja was received and replied to at the Indra Mahal and the foundation of a building for meetings of a literary and scientific society, to be designated the 'Town Hall,' was also laid by His Excellency. His blessing upon the Poor House of Venkatagiri, an institution founded and endowed by the Ex-Raja with the sum of Rs. 30,000, was the next graceful act Mr. Grant Duff was called upon to perform.

NELLORE.—The next town of importance reached was Nellore. Though it is not easily accessible, not possessing the advantages of railway communication and the journey to it inland over barren wastes, covered with low scrub jungle, anything but inviting, it is curious to note that very soon after it passed into the hands of the British, it was honored with a visit by Sir Thomas Munro and has been since exceptionally favored by several Governors, such as Sir W. Denison, Lord Napier, and the Duke of Buckingham. Two addresses, from the Municipal Commission and the ryots, were received and replied to. The isolated position of the District and that it can boast of nothing except its prosperous agricultural condition and its splendid cattle were emphasized and the necessity for railway facilities pointed out. The town seems to have been twice in jeopardy from floods, once in 1874 and again in 1882. His Excellency gave away the prizes at the Free Church Mission School and asked that a holiday should be given in commemoration of his visit. H. E. accompanied by the Collector, the Superintending and Executive Engineers visited the anicut and walked across it, having it explained by the Engineering officers. The Collector's bungalow at Kistnapatam, overlooking a backwater, forms a pleasant retreat to the chief executive officer when in search of rest from the cares and anxieties of a responsible charge. To it, His Excellency was conducted before the water journey down the canal was undertaken, when such places as Coromandel, Pulicat and Ennore, pleasure and holiday resorts for overworked Madras, received passing investigation as he floated down the river.

CUDDALORE.—This brought Mr. Grant Duff to the seat of the Presidency which he again left by the S. I. Railway for the town of Cuddalore, the headquarters of the Collector of the District of South Arcot. Here the usual addresses awaited him, but singularly enough the reply to the Municipal Commission was bereft of those pleasing passages which make H. E.'s speeches interesting reading, for which omission however he fully compensated on the occasion of his visit to St. Joseph's Institution. It was thought that as His Excellency was within measurable distance of the little French town of Pondicherry he would have paid the Governor of that Settlement a visit, but expectations were disappointed and bidding Cuddalore adieu he was carried by train to the junction of the S. I. R., with the Madras line, whence he made direct for Ootacamund.

The third tour was not so protracted as the others but was marked as in the July peregrinations by the companionship of a specialist,—Mr. Lawson, the Superintendent of the Government Cinchona Plantations.

PALGHAT.—Leaving Ootacamund on the 9th October, His Excellency made straight for Palghat where the inevitable Municipal address awaited him, to offer him a cordial welcome and to assure him of loyalty to the Crown and gratitude to a beneficent government, before spreading before him as with a sheet the chief local wants. Of grievances, be it marked, the Palghat people had none, and their wants were neither numerically great nor financially expensive, consisting as they did of the substitution of an iron bridge for the wooden structure over the Kalpatti river and the erection of a school house for which over Rs. 6,000 had been locally raised.

TELLICHERRY.—Passing through Calicut, the tour was proceeded with to Tellicherry. Here, a deputation of European and Native gentlemen from Malabar, Calicut and Coorg waited on His Excellency with reference to a communication that had been addressed to Government jointly by the Malabar Chamber of Commerce and the Coorg Planters' Association suggesting the opening up of railway communication between Coorg and the Malabar Coast. Mr. Primrose on behalf of the Chamber and Mr. Richter on behalf of the Association addressed His Excellency on the views expressed in the letter. This was followed by an address from the Tellicherry Municipal Corporation. They appear to have been left out in the cold in the way of visits from Governors of the Presidency since the days of Lord Hobart, who, in the words of His Excellency was "too early lost to India and to England." The address reiterated the request of the Planters for communication by rail between Tellicherry and Coorg. His Excellency, who would naturally be expected to treat the question on a broader basis than that on which it was placed before him, was not able to do more than express the gratification he would feel when things had gone beyond the speculative stage and the iron horse was snorting over the line indicated.

CANNANORE.—The Military Cantonment of Cannanore was next made for. It afforded, owing to the presence of several officers, who were attached to the 67th Regiment and the 19th N. I., an opportunity for holding a levee, which was well attended. The sea had next to be braved to place foot on the isolated town of Mangalore. The programme executed here consisted of the holding of a levee, visits to the Government College and to the famous Basel Mission tile-making factory and the receiving of addresses from the Mangalore Municipality and the inhabitants of South Canara. The former which took up the cry for railway extension also put a good harbour forward "as one of the wants long felt by the mercantile community," but His Excellency thought "the winds, the waves and the rivers would soon make short work of it." A lengthy but interesting address was presented by South Canara setting forth several wants of local importance. It dealt with a variety of subjects which it must have puzzled the Governor to reply to satisfactorily. Embarking at Mangalore, His Excellency took sea for Calicut and from thence returned to the temporary seat of Government on the blue mountains. The completion of this tour is significant as it concludes an inspection of all the Districts in the Presidency which with a persistency never before witnessed has been pursued by His Excellency since he set foot in this Presidency.

THE NEW TOWN HALL.

On March 31, 1883, the design was put up to competition, and on May 21, 1883, Mr R. F. Chisholm, Consulting Architect to Government, was declared the successful competitor—the Committee received only seven other designs.

As we are every one of us interested in this Town Hall—from the frivolous member of society who talks but of Balls, and thinks Suppers—to those serious persons who form Committees and Board meetings, of which latter, it has been bitterly said that they, though a body, possess neither Soul to be saved, nor vulnerable part. It will probably be interesting to set forth in a few words what were the conditions laid down for design and how those conditions have been complied with.

CONDITION 1.—That the Hall inclusive of gallery or galleries should be capable of seating 600 to 1000 people. The design, having regard to the climate is intended for 675, but according to European rules of seating allowance, could accommodate 900.

CONDITION 2.—That the main front of the building should be to the south—facing a main road—and that it will probably be in a Public Park. The design complies—but the Architect points out that the building being symmetrical, this arrangement need not necessarily be adhered to.

CONDITION 3.—That the ground is about two feet below road—the basement floor to stand three feet above road. The design is so arranged.

CONDITION 4.—That the Committee or Supper rooms on ground floor shall have a ceiling at least 15 feet high.

The ceiling designed is 18 feet high and is a very noble one; composed of rolled iron beams connected by brick arches—as at the Oriental Bank and the Central Station Booking Office.

CONDITION 5.—Floor of galleries should be 20 feet above floor of Hall. Verandahs must be 15 to 20 feet broad, and punkahs will be provided for, in, and under galleries. All these stipulations are complied with.

CONDITION 6.—Requires a raised Dais, suitable for Orchestra and convertible into Theatre stage with necessary accommodation for Wings, Screens, etc., and a recess for an Organ.

The design provides a Dais for 100 performers and includes a sketch shewing how the conversion for Theatre arrangements is to be managed. A recess with dome is also provided capable (Mr. Chisholm says) of holding the largest instrument.

CONDITION 7.—The carriage porch must be large enough to admit of two or three carriages setting down at the same time.

The design provides a porch 45 feet long with three entrances to the main building which is also relieved by a performers or platform porch at the remote end of the building.

CONDITION 8.—Estimate not to exceed 125,000 Rupees.

The Architect in forwarding his design, said he much regretted the smallness of the amount which excludes many of the more elaborate styles and which obliged him to shew but little stone in the design, relying for effect chiefly upon the Terra Cotta enrichments. His Estimate of 124,756 Rupees checks well with the recognized cubical rate 3¼ annas per foot for contents of 613,920 in cubical feet. The details of the Estimate were subsequently sent to the Madras Railway authorities, who in revising raised the total to 142,000 Rupees as they considered some of the walls rather light and the foundation not sufficiently deep.

The Frontispiece, an elevation, cannot of course give much idea of the capacity and number of rooms which is as follows:—

LOWER FLOOR to contain—

	Ft.	Ft.
Entrance Hall and Staircase...	40	× 15
Cloak Rooms, each	17	× 17
Private Retiring Rooms (off first landing of main stair) ...	17	× 17
Supper Room	78	× 40
Serving Room	78	× 16
Committee Room	46	× 17
Secretary's Room	30	× 15
Kitchen (with air-tight door)	30	× 15

Platform Entrance Hall	40	× 15
Store Rooms (Furniture)	40	× 25

UPPER FLOOR to contain—

Great Hall	110	× 40
Organ Recess	10 Feet deep.
Platform Rooms, each...	15	× 11

The whole is so designed as to be suitable for either Public Meeting—Ball—Concert or Dramatic Performance.

The floors throughout are designed to be of hard pressed tiles—except that of the Main Hall, which will be double (to deaden the sound) and finished off for dancing. The Pillars of Palaveram Gneiss and the Terra Cotta from England.

It only remains to explain to the uninitiated that those in authority have not (as would appear from the Key Plan)—searched carefully for a damp place to build in—but they have chosen a site where the Façade will be very good and this little artificial pond will very soon be filled up 3 Feet above road level as per Condition 3, probably from another small lake about to be excavated near the new road that skirts the canal.

More than one-third of the necessary funds are already paid in; and the Maharajah of Vizianagram who has already made quite a royal donation has also said that he will if necessary, suplement this with a very considerable loan on easy terms.

THE CEREMONY OF LAYING FOUNDATION STONE OF MADRAS TOWN HALL BY MAHARAJAH OF VIZIANAGRAM.

This was a very successful and a really imposing scene. A Grand Stand with six tiers of seats was erected, forming three sides of a square, the Foundation Stone being on the south or water-side (see Key Plan).

The level of this grand stand in line with the Park fence and 9 feet high made sight-seeing so hopeless a matter for idlers on the Poonamallee, Road that there was hardly any attempt made to block up the entrances as is usual on similar occasions. The crowd therefore betook itself to the north side of the water where they had an excellent view and numbered several thousands.

The following was the programme of the ceremony:

"Visitors are requested to arrive not later than 4-45 P.M. and to be seated by 5 P.M. before the Maharajah enters the enclosure.

By permission of His Excellency the Governor, his Band will perform a selection of music, and on the entry of the Maharajah a Grand March will be played.

The Reception Sub-Committee, together with donors to the Town Hall Fund of Rs. 1,000 and upwards, will assemble in a Shamianah outside the enclosure, on the west side, and will there receive the Maharajah.

At 5 P.M. the company assembled in the Shamianah will precede the Maharajah to the enclosure and will take up the places assigned to them.

His Highness, accompanied by the Hon. D. F. Carmichal, who was Chairman of the inaugural Meetings, will take his seat near the Foundation Stone.

A short account of the movement for the erection of a Town Hall will then be read by Mr. A. T. Arundel, C. S., one of the Honorary Secretaries.

The Hon'ble the Chief Justice Sir Charles Turner, Kt., C.I.E., will then address His Highness and request him to perform the ceremony. A bottle containing the local papers of the day, with the current Indian coins from a Rupee downward, and lithographed drawings of the building will then be placed in the cavity beneath the Stone, by Mr. P. Chentsal Rao, one of the Honorary Secretaries.

A Silver Trowel engraved with the design of the building and with a suitable inscription will be handed to the Maharajah, who after responding to the above address, will then spread the mortar and the Stone will be lowered to its proper position.

This having been done His Highness will strike the Stone 3 times with the mallet and say:

'I declare this Stone to be well and truly laid.'

H. E. Sir Frederick Roberts, Bart., V.C., G.C.B., C.I.E., will then propose a vote of thanks to the Maharajah, for undertaking the ceremony and the National Anthem will be played."

In accordance with a very happy suggestion the Governor's band was placed on the little island, and Mr. Nicholas who fixed his camera at the S. E. corner of the grand stand has produced an excellent photograph.

The grand stand and benches and chairs accommodated about fifteen hundred ticket-holders. It would be safe to say that probably almost every ticket-holder was there who could manage to attend.

A goodly number of ladies graced the ceremony with their presence, and among the numerous visitors were H. E. Lieut. General Sir F. Roberts, Commander-in-Chief, with Colonel Pretyman, Captain Hamilton and Captain Chamberlain, the Honorable the Chief Justice Sir Charles Turner, the Bishop of Madras, Bishop Colgan, the Prince of Arcot, Rajah Sir T. Madhava Row, the Rajah of Pittapore, the Honorable Rajah Gajapathi Row, Mira Firoze Hussain, the Honorable D. F. Carmichael, H. E. Sullivan, C. G. Master, E. F. Webster, Brigadier General Stewart, Brigadier General Godfrey Clerk, Colonel Chamier, Colonel Faunce, Colonel McLeod, Mr. Justice P. P. Hutchins, Mr. Justice Muttusawmy Iyer, Surgeon General Cornish, Messrs. H. B. Grigg, Kees, Laffan, W. Grant, C. A. Ainslie, Crake, Atkins, Emery, Dawson, Ponnasami Pillai, Ranganada Mudaliar, Krishnama Chariar, Bashyem Iyengar, Cunniah Chetty, Mir Anser-u-din Sahib Bahadur, A. Sabapathy Mudaliar of Bellary, Balaji Row, Anantha Charlu, Gopaul Chariar, Jagga Row, Sundram Sastriar, Scharlieb, Johnstone, Simpson, Nicholas, W. Robinson, Dr. Furnell, Rowlandson, L. R. Burrows, G. Hamnett, Michie Smith, Gell, B. Lovery, D. Sinclair, Beardmore, D. S. White, Dr. Drake Brockman, Dr. Thompson, Captain Taylor, Colonel Weldon, Colonel Armstrong, Major Moore, Colonel Tennant, Colonel Baynes, Major Cox, Revs. W. Miller, Acheson Williams, D. G. Clarke, Cooper, Milne Rae, Sell, Messrs. Weir, Hadji Badsha Sahib, Somasundram Chettiar, Mahadeva Chettiar, C. Ettirajulu Naidu, P. S. Ramasami Mudaliar, C. Singaravelu Mudaliar, R. Ragunada Row, Ramalinga Pillay, Ramasami Chettiar, Arumuga Mudaliar, Viziaranga Mudaliar, Higgenbotham, Wedderburn, Duncan, Honorable V. Ramiengar, Honorable T Rama Row, Honorable Colonel Shaw Stewart, Mr. Whiteside, Mr. Garstin, Captain Awdry, Private Secretary to H. E. the Governor, the Honorary Secretaries Messrs. Saunders, Chentsal Row and Arundel, &c., &c.

The Maharajah on arrival was received by a company consisting of the Sub-Committee and of all donors of Rs. 1000 and upwards, in a large marque where the Town Hall design was laid out, and was conducted to his seat near the foundation stone.

The following list enumerates the chief subscribers to the Fund.

H. H. The Maharajah of Vizianagram	Rs. 10,000
H. H. The Maharajah of Travancore	5,000
The Hon'ble Rajah G. N. Gajapathi Row and M. R. R. G. L. Nursinga Row Garu	2,000

The proceedings commenced by Mr. A. T. Arundel, the President of the Madras Municipality and the Hony. Secretary of the Town Hall Committee, reading the following paper :—

YOUR HIGHNESS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

It is now nearly 200 years ago since the first proposal was made to build a Town Hall in Madras. The proposal came from England in a despatch from the Court of Directors in the year 1687. They said "It is not unlikely that the heads of the several castes being made Aldermen and some others Burgesses, with power to choose out of themselves yearly a Mayor and to tax all the inhabitants for a Town Hall, or any public buildings for themselves to make use of, your people would more willingly and liberally disburse 5 shillings for the public good being taxed by themselves than six pence imposed by our despotical power."

In the next year it is recorded, that the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgesses took oaths of office in the Fort Hall. "Awhile after they went to dinner, and about three in the evening the whole Corporation marched in their robes with the maces before the Mayor to the Town Hall." This Town Hall was in the Fort, and appears to be the same building that has long been used as a Mess House. Nothing is known of the original ownership, but it seems to have passed into the possession of the forefathers of our well known fellow citizen, Mr. C. V. Cunniah Chetty, by whom I understand it has recently been sold to Government.

In 1794 the building known as the Pantheon, now occupied by the Madras Museum, was erected by private persons as a Theatre and place of assembly for the society of Madras. For many years the public balls, concerts, and theatrical performances of Madras Amateurs were held in this building. The late Duke of Wellington, as Sir Arthur Wellesley, was entertained here by the society of Madras at a grand dinner, and on a subsequent date at a ball and supper in 1805, preparatory to his departure from India. The building however was finally sold to Government by the last representative of the original owners, and was converted into the Museum. The College Hall in Nungambakkum was made available by Government instead for theatrical performances. The College Hall however is not centrally situated, and is not well adapted for the purposes intended. The necessity for a public Hall in a central position was by consequence frequently under discussion.

On the 24th January 1871, a public meeting, convened by the Sheriff, Mr. Dalrymple, was held in Patcheappah's Hall, at which your Highness's father presided. His Highness the late Maharajah expressed his very great satisfaction at being able to preside at the meeting, and the interest he felt in the project of supplying Madras with what was so much needed, viz., a suitable Town Hall. He said that he and his family had been long and strongly attached to this Presidency, and he deemed it his duty as well as his pleasure to do all in his power to help forward every useful movement which might result in benefiting this important Presidency. He then intimated his intention of heading the list of subscriptions and donations to the Town Hall Fund with the sum of Rupees 10,000. Subsequent donations raised the nominal subscription list to about Rupees 16,000, but the project was not proceeded with; and the late Maharajah died before giving effect to the princely promise he had made.

In January last year at the suggestion of several friends, chief among whom were Mr. Saunders and Mr. Macfadyen, I ventured to convene a preliminary meeting in the Chamber of Commerce, which was kindly made available for the purpose. This meeting was held on the 27th January and was presided over by Mr. Carmichael. It was attended by most of the leading men in Madras. Speeches were made by Messrs. Gajapathi Row, Coleman, Mir Humayun Jah, Rowlandson, Saunders, Clement Simpson, Orr, Rama Row, Muthusamy Iyer, Krishnama Charriar, Venkataramiah, Dr. Furnell, Bashyem Iyengar, Mr. D. S. White, and others, and resolutions were cordially adopted for setting the movement on foot once more, and with greater prospect of success. Your Highness's telegram, intimating that you would renew the promise of the late Maharajah of a donation of Rs. 10,000, was read, and other donations to the amount of Rs. 9,500 were promised at the meeting. It was then resolved to hold a public meeting to enlist the interest of the public of Madras in the undertaking.

A public meeting convened by the Sheriff was accordingly held in Patcheappah's Hall on the 17th March, with Mr. Carmichael in the chair. The meeting was addressed by Sir Charles Turner, Mr. Macfadyen, Mr. Justice Muthusamy Iyer, The Hon'ble Mir Humayun Jah, The Hon'ble T. Rama Row, Mr. Chentsal Row, Mr. Higginbotham and others. A subscription list was opened and a Committee was formed to make arrangements for carrying out the project. It was announced that upwards of Rs. 50,000 had been promised in subscriptions. It was explained at the meeting that the building would eventually be vested in a body of Trustees, and that it would be made available for the following among other purposes:—

"1st, public meetings and receptions; 2nd, Dramatic performances; 3rd, Concerts; 4th, Balls; 5th, Entertainments; 6th, Purposes of instruction, amusement and recreation generally; 7th, Any purposes which in the opinion of the Trustees will not involve a breach of the Law, will not excite religious animosty and will not injure the building or its appurtenances." The building is thus intended to be utilized by and for the public as freely as possible. A public Reading Room will no doubt be also provided.

A good deal of delay has since been experienced owing to difficulties with regard to a site. The Government in 1881 expressed their readiness to grant a site if there was a prospect of the requisite funds being raised to erect the building. The only suitable central site which is State property, seemed to be the Island, and after further reference to Government the Committee thought it better to abandon the idea of obtaining a site in this locality. They therefore appealed to the Municipal Commissioners and asked for a site at the southern end of the People's Park fronting the Poonamallee Road. The Commissioners acquiesced in the proposal without demur, and as there were difficulties about the absolute transfer of ownership of a part of the People's Park, they have made over the site on which we now stand at a nominal rent for a period of 99 years. This site is more central than the Island and appears in every way suitable to the purpose we have in view. The Municipal Commissioners have expressed their willingness to give such assistance as may be needed to prepare a site for building operations.

A site having been secured, the Committee advertised for designs for the Town Hall building to be submitted in competition, and offered an honorarium of Rs. 1,000 for the accepted design, and at the same time requested several of the best known Architects in India to accept an honorarium of Rs. 500 each as an inducement to compete.

Eight designs were received, and the Sub-Committee, which consisted of Col. Sankey, R.E., Col. Shaw-Stewart, R.E, Mr. Mir Humayun Jah, Mr. Raganada Row, Mr. J. A. Jones, and the Honorary Secretaries, were unanimous in awarding the preference to the designs which are now before you and which were prepared by our well-known fellow-townsman, Mr. Chisholm. The project has now advanced another stage, namely to the ceremony of the laying the foundation stone, which it is hoped Your Highness will kindly undertake to perform. The donations already promised exceed Rs. 70,000, of which the princely donation of Rs. 10,000 promised by Your Highness's father and granted by yourself, forms a substantial part. With the further aid that Your Highness designs to offer with so much liberality and public spirit, and with the subscriptions that the Committee hope to receive from all classes of the community for this object intended to benefit all, the Committee believe that the building will speedily be completed, and trust that on Your Highness's next visit to Madras you may find that the work has been finished which you are now so auspiciously to begin—(Cheers.)

A. T. ARUNDEL,

Honorary Secretary.

SIR CHARLES TURNER, C.I.E., the Chief Justice, then stepped on to the Platform and addressed those present, as follows :—

MAHARAJAH,—I have been deputed by the Committee to invite your Highness to take part in the laying of the foundation stone of this Institution. You have heard that upwards of 200 years ago, or nearly 200 years ago, Madras had its Mayor and Aldermen; and it will be interesting to you to know that, when the Mayor and Aldermen of Madras were first appointed, the appointments were not confined to Englishmen only, but among the Aldermen of Madras were natives of the country, and men of all races who had settled here. The dealings of England with India have been from the first marked by a desire to secure the co-operation of the native with the European in Municipal matters. In course of time the Mayor and Aldermen gave place to a Recorder, the Recorder to the Supreme Court, and the Supreme Court to the High Court, and it is, perhaps, because I may claim to be in one sense the representative of the Municipality of Madras as the successor of the Recorder, as well as a citizen of Madras, that a part has been assigned to me in the present proceedings. It appertained to the office of the Recorder of the Corporation to take such a part on public occasions as I have to-day been deputed to perform; and it was his practice on such occasions to call the attention of the assembly to the special points of interest suggested by the proceedings. Such an institution as we are assembled to inaugurate suggests many reflections. In 200 years the power and influence of England has expanded from the settlement on the Coromandel coast to the whole Peninsula, and for 200 years, with the extension of Empire, there has been corresponding progress in the dissemination of those ideas which it is our pride as Englishmen to promulgate. It may now be said of England in her connection with India, as was said of old Rome,

Fecisti patriam diversis gentibus unam,
Profuit invitis te dominante capi.
Dumque offers victis patrii consortia juris
Urbem fecisti quod prius orbis erat.

(Hear hear!) which Maharajah let me tell you may be thus rendered: that England has made for all the races in India one common country, the British Empire. England has rendered her dominion a source of real and lasting benefit even to those who were reluctant at first to submit to it. United in loyal obedience to a common Sovereign the citizens of British India enjoy equality with the citizens of Great Britain in those laws which protect the person and property of the individual (applause). And England had made every citizen of British India substantially a member of that great Empire to which Indians and English may be proud to belong (applause). Sir, it devolves on me this day to invite you to lay this foundation stone of our Town Hall. It would have been gratifying to the committee if this institution had been coupled with the name of that distinguished soldier who won a way for the armies of the Empire over the Peiwar Kotal, who made the march which that army may claim among its greatest achievements, and who with English and Indian troops secured the influence of England beyond her frontier in the great battle that he won on the plains of Kandahar (Loud applause). It would have been gratifying to us if we had coupled with this building the name of that distinguished civilian who, if he has closed his honorable career here, has still we hope before him a career offering even higher distinction in the Councils of the Empire. But I know that I express to you their wishes when I say that they would have been the first to propose, and that they heartily acquiesce in the decision of the Committee that the name to be connected with this institution is that which is borne by your Highness. The citizens of Madras have a greatful recollection of the obligations they owe to the father whom you succeeded. They have not yet forgotten that he was conspicuous among India's nobility for his enlightened ideas and his magnificent generosity, and they hail with satisfaction the promise you have given of following his distinguished example (Applause). The Committee, Sir, in whose hands lay the selection of a gentleman to preside to-day, conceived they rightly interpreted the wishes of their fellow-townsmen, by inviting you to preside on this occasion, and if I may be permitted to say so, no better choice could have been made because you represent, as your father did, the views of enlightened progress which this Institution is designed to foster. During the two hundred years that Englishmen have been sojourners in this land it could not be but that their political sentiments should have exercised a marked influence on the native character. The literature of England and intercourse with Englishmen inspires in the cultivated native of India a desire for political liberty and Municipal institutions as subserving to that end. Municipal institutions certainly may tend and have tended in England to encourage a spirit of independence among the citizens as a body, and in each citizen as a man; but it must not be supposed that Municipal institutions alone will secure these results. Mr. Buckle has pointed out how small was the effect of Municipal institutions in promoting true political liberty in France; and he has explained how it came to pass that these institutions in England were the outcome of a spirit of independence which had been engendered by the peculiar circumstances of the nation. Municipal institutions can only be successful where the citizens are capable of self-government. It is because, Sir, the Committee recognises in you a representative of the increasing class which seeks to qualify itself for the due performance of the duties of citizenship and to take an active and a useful part in public life, that on behalf of the Committee, I have the honor to invite you to lay the first stone of the Town Hall of Madras.

"YOUR EXCELLENCY, SIR CHARLES TURNER, HON'BLE MR. CARMICHAEL, MR. ARUNDEL, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—I am highly sensible of the great honor done to me in being asked to lay the foundation stone of an important building such as the present one, and to be encouraged by the presence of such a distinguished company as I see before me. A few words, by way of apology for my presence here, will not, I hope, try your patience and indulgence. Laying a foundation stone being an European custom, and that custom, here as elsewhere, being with reason generally performed by men of the highest rank, my laying the foundation stone to-day of the Town Hall of Madras is incongruous in more than one way. Their Excellencies the Governor and the Commander-in-Chief, the Chief Justice, the Hon'ble Member of Council who took the chair at the meeting of 1882 and several other distinguished personages, would each have added to the importance of the occasion as much by their personal abilities as by their exalted position. Bearing this fact in mind, I repeatedly begged to be excused from complying with the request made by the Town Hall committee; but when Mr. Arundel said that the committee had, at last, decided that a native of this country should be invited to perform the ceremony, and that I was the person selected, I was compelled to yield; and I am drawn to the spot as a sentry would be to his post by the order of a higher authority, with this difference, however, that his proclivities and discipline render his position agreeable, while in my case the consciousness of superseding others who have taken greater interest in this project and my inexperience in these matters, unite in making my position anything but pleasant. The fact of a Town Hall for Madras being first projected by the Court of Directors of the East India Company in England two hundred years ago is as indicative of its importance as the non-accomplishment of the project itself is of the insurmountable nature of the difficulties that have long interposed. Though for the last two centuries the project seems to have been on the anvil, the finishing stroke was only given to it at a meeting held two years ago under the auspicies of the Hon'ble D. F. Carmichael as chairman, when, to quote the records, "resolutions were cordially adopted for setting the movement on foot once more and with greater prospect of success." Much of this success was undoubtedly due to the influence which Mr. Carmichael's presence in the chair always exercises, specially in native circles of this Presidency. A few months more and we shall see the beautiful design of our great Architect, Mr. Chisholm, fully carried out.

I should be unpardonably unjust if I were not to add that Mr. Arundel, having taken up the project when it was in an almost hopeless condition and brought it to its present stage of maturity, has performed a very excellent task with great courage and ability.

In the absence of any historical explanation in the Encyclopedias I have consulted as to the origin of Town Halls, though we have explanations given to us regarding many trifling matters, I venture to think that they originated in a moral source, namely, pure public spirit separating itself from self-interest and from the interest of sections of the community, and it is obvious that such a beneficent public spirit could have found no more fitting shrine than a Town Hall.

While the other Presidency towns can boast of various successes, social and civic, resulting from many a tough battle of words, fought and won, in their Town Halls, Madras has, up to this time, lacked such an institution—this strongly attests the fact that, though according to the census returns, Madras can boast of a greater percentage of educated men than the other Presidencies, the natives of this Presidency are certainly not those who form the vanguard in the march of political advancement, owing to the lack either of comparative [illegible] of public spirit. [illegible] have the consolation of thinking that, if we have not begun Town Halls, we can imitate what other Presidencies have done, and may even hope to do better with our knowledge of what has been done elsewhere, both in the structure of our building and in the useful and beneficial purposes to which we put it.

His Excellency the Marquis of Ripon said two years ago, in answering the Municipal address in the Town Hall of Benares, that he was specially gratified to meet the towns-people in their own Municipal Hall—that Hall, I might, add, was presented to the Municipal corporation by my revered father. The Viceroy's approval of the gift I will quote in in his own words. They will show you of what importance a public building of this nature is. He said "There are few monuments which a man can raise to himself better than one which will recall continually the recollection of his munificence to the minds of his fellow-countrymen when they meet for the transaction of public business."

As to the necessity of further pecuniary assistance for this building, gentlemen, I can only say that, on a proper guarantee I can undertake to advance a loan up to one lakh of rupees at 4 or 5 per cent for a certain period.

Let me add in conclusion, humbly, but with all earnestness, an expression of my hope that when you meet in this Hall, you will accept as your watch-word that all that runs counter to our duty to God, to our loyalty to our Sovereign, or to our duty as patriots, shall be rigidly excluded.—"Procul O procul este profani!" (Loud cheers.)

A bottle containing the local papers of the day, with Indian coins, and drawings of the building were placed in the receptacle by Mr. Chentsal Row, one of the Honorary Secretaries of the Town Hall Committee.

A silver trowel engraved with the design of the building and with a suitable inscription, was handed to the Maharajah, who spread the mortar. The stone was then lowered to its proper position, and this having been done His Highness struck the stone three times with the mallet and said; "I declare this stone to be well and truly laid."

His Excellency General Sir Frederick Roberts, Bart, G.C.B., V.C., C.I.E., the Commander-in-Chief, next rose to propose a vote of thanks to His Highness. He said:—

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—After the interesting account which Mr. Arundel, one of the Honorary Secretaries, and President of the Municipality, has just favored us with, and after the eloquent speeches of the Chief Justice Sir Charles Turner, and His Highness the Maharajah of Vizianagram, it is needless for me to enlarge on the advantage of a city possessing a Town Hall. I will, therefore, content myself with congratulating the people of Madras on the prospect of obtaining this long-looked for building at an early date. Judging from the plans, the proposed Town Hall promises to be a handsome, commodious building, well adapted for the purposes for which it is required, and worthy of the chief city in Southern India (Applause). The Maharajah of Vizianagram has told us that His Highness repeatedly refused the invitation of the Committee to lay the foundation stone. To me it seems peculiarly appropriate that His Highness's name should be associated with such an institution (Hear, Hear). We, Europeans, come and go, and even those amongst us who may remain the longest are, after all, but birds of passage, while the house of which His Highness is the representative may be said to be a part of Madras itself, and to be as firmly connected with this city as the stone which His Highness has just laid will, I hope, be connected with a noble building (Applause). In future days, when the most distinguished officials and the most successful members of the European community will have passed away and been forgotten, the Maharajah of Vizianagram will be well known here (Hear, Hear, and Applause). On this particular occasion too, the Maharajah of Vizianagram would seem to be the fittest person to take prominent part in the ceremony which we are met here to-day to witness, for it is mainly owing to His Highness's great liberality that the Town Hall is to be built (Applause). I had the privilege of being acquainted with His Highness's father, and it is an especial pleasure to me to find his son rapidly developing those same qualities of generosity and courtesy which made his father so justly admired and respected (Applause). No native gentleman can but hope to take his place in European society, and no native Prince could be more welcome than he was (Applause). Ladies and Gentlemen, my task has been a pleasant one, and one which has been made much more pleasant by the unmistakable evidence in which you regard the part taken by His Highness the Maharajah of Vizianagram in this afternoon's proceedings. No more forcible expression could have been given to His Highness, and it only remains for me now to beg of His Highness the Maharajah to accept our thanks, and to assure His Highness that he will carry away with him the good will and best wishes of all present" (Hear, hear, and applause).

Presented to His Highness Mirza Ananda
Gajapati Raz Munney Sultan,
Maharajah of Vizianagram,
On the occasion of his laying
The Foundation Stone of
The Madras Town Hall,
On the 17th December 1883.

The following is the inscription on the foundation stone:—

The Foundation Stone of the Madras Town Hall was laid by His Highness Maharajah
Mirza Ananda Gajapati Raj, Munney Sultan of Vizianagram,
On the 17th December 1883.
H. E. The Right Honorable M. E. Grant Duff, C.I.E., Governor of Madras, and
H. E. Lieut.-General Sir Frederick Roberts,
Bart, V.C., G.C.B., C.I.E., Commander-in-Chief.

The proceedings terminated with a call for three cheers for the Maharajah which was heartily responded to by all classes of the assembly, after which the national anthem was played and the company dispersed.

The Governor's Band by kind permission of His Excellency was in attendance in the Park and performed several selections of choice music.

POSITIVE

Government Security Life Assurance Co.,

LIMITED.

"How can I best make provision for my family at my death?"

The answer to this question which every married man should put to himself is very easily given—"Insure your life in the Positive Office."

"If I insure my life and am unable to continue paying the premia, do I forfeit all benefits for the payments I have made?"

The answer to this question as regards most Life Offices must be practically in the affirmative although such forfeiture is manifestly inequitable.

In the Positive Office however the Policy-holder under its "nonforfeitable" system secures full value for each premium paid.

Q. "Which is the safest office to insure my life in?"

A. No office can be safer than the Positive Government Security Life Assurance Company Limited since the Funds of this Company can only be invested in Government Securities and these by special arrangement are in the custody of the Official Trustee in each Presidency.

Many are deterred from insuring their lives by the fear that a day may come when they will be unable to keep up the payment of premia. To meet this difficulty the Positive office issues Policies which can be paid up in a short fixed period.

"Why should I insure my life when I am unmarried?"

The answer is simple, viz: "To have a comfortable nest egg as a provision for your old age." This is what is secured by an "Endowment Policy" in the Positive Office.

Q. Can I borrow money without having to ask a friend for his signature?

A. Yes by insuring your life in the Positive Office where you can obtain loans on the simple deposit of the "Promissory Notes" issued by the Company on payment of each premium.

Q. What is the cheapest and simplest form of marriage settlement?

A. An Insurance on your own life in the Positive Office where a Policy can be obtained in a special form to operate as a marriage settlement.

The steady increase of new business shewn by the returns for each succeeding year proves incontestably that the Positive Life Assurance Company has become the most popular Office in India.

This success is the more remarkable as no office is more rigid in the refusal of all but absolutely first class risks.

Epact	3	Roman Indiction	12
Solar Cycle	17	Julian Period	6597

EXPLANATION OF CHRONOLOGICAL CYCLES AND ERAS.

The Golden Number is that which any given year holds in the Lunar Cycle, which is a period of 19 years, at the lapse of which the phases of the moon take place on the same day of the months respectively as at the commencement of the Cycle. Therefore while the sun performs its annual course 19 times, the courses of the moon amount to 235. In the Ancient Calendar this number was inscribed on a tablet set up in the market-place of Athens in letters of gold, hence the term Golden Number. It was likewise called the Prime, because it pointed out the first day of the new moon, primum lunæ.

The Epact is the number of days of the Lunar Cycle, over and above all the complete courses of the moon for any number of years, hence the number indicates the age of the moon at the beginning of the year.

The Solar Cycle is a period of 28 years, which, owing to leap year, must necessarily elapse before the days of the month can return respectively to the same days of the week as at the commencement of the Cycle. The first year of the Christian Era was the tenth year of this Cycle.

The Dominical Letter is that letter of the alphabet which points out in the Calendar the Sundays throughout the year, thence also called the Sunday Letter or Dies Domini.

Roman Indiction was a period of 15 years, instituted by Constantine the Great in A. D. 312, for levying certain taxes upon the subjects of his empire. The Popes since the time of Charlemagne have dated their acts by the year of the indiction which was fixed on the 1st of January.

The Julian Period embraces 7980 years, and is produced by multiplying into each other the Solar Cycle (28), the Lunar Cycle (19), and the Cycle of the Indiction (15). This period is reckoned from 709 years before the usual date fixed upon for the creation; at a time when the three Cycles are supposed to have commenced together; a circumstance which cannot take place again until A.D. 3267, or the lapse of the entire period.

Our Lord was born in 4713 of the Julian Period. This style was contrived by Joseph Juste Scaliger in A. D. 1583, for chronological purposes, and is assumed as a fixed era in the calculations of all Astronomers and Chronologers. It is of great importance as the standard or general receptacle of all other Epochs, Period and Cycles: "into this, as into a large ocean, all the stream of time discharge themselves, without losing their character; and if historians had recorded the number of each Cycle in each year respectively, there could have been no dispute about the date of any event in past ages."

GREGORIAN CALENDAR OR NEW STYLE.

Up to 1582 the length of the year as computed by Julius Cæsar in B. C. 45 consisted of 365 days and 6 hours, but as the true length of a solar year is only 365 days, 5 hours and nearly 49 minutes, this calculation had produced an error amounting to 10 days. Consequently Pope Gregory XIII,—hence the Calendar was called Gregorian—undertook in 1582 to rectify that error by making the year to consist of 355 days, ten days between the 4th and 15th October were struck out, and the 15th was reckoned as the 5th October. According to this style the ordinary year is to consist of 365 days, but the year 1584 and every fourth year afterwards termed leap year to contain 366 days, and the centuries 1700, 1800, 1900, 2100, and so on for those centuries which are not divisible by 400 are to be reckoned, not as leap years, but as ordinary years of 365 days only.

The New Style has been gradually adopted throughout Europe, except in Russia and Greece where the old style still prevails.

In Great Britain the New Style was adopted in 1752, by that time the error had amounted to 11 days; it was therefore enacted that September 3 of that year should be reckoned as September 14. During the present century, supposing the New Style had not been adopted, the error would be 12 days, and this difference must therefore be allowed in Russian and Greek dates. Thus a Russian bill dated March 2, must be reckoned as dated March 14.

ECLIPSES
IN THE YEAR 1884.

There will be three Eclipses of the Sun; and two of the Moon.

I. March 27th, Thursday.—A partial Eclipse of the Sun, invisible at Madras.

II. April 10th, Thursday.—A total Eclipse of the Moon, partly visible at Madras.

End of Total Phase	5	54	,,
Moon rises eclipsed	6	12	,,
Last contact with the Shadow	7	2	,,
Last contact with the Penumbra	8	12	,,

Magnitude of the eclipse (Moon's diameter = 1) 1·431.

The last contact with the Shadow occurs at 61° from the Northernmost point of the Moon's limb towards the West.

III. April 25th, Friday.—A partial Eclipse of the Sun, invisible at Madras.

IV. October 5th, Sunday.—A total Eclipse of the Moon, visible at Madras.

Magnitude of the Eclipse (Moon's diameter = 1) 1·525.

The first contact with the Shadow occurs at 83° from the Northernmost point of the Moon's limb towards the East; and the last contact at 118° towards the West.

V. October 19th, Sunday.—A partial Eclipse of the Sun, invisible at Madras.

PLANETARY PHENOMENA, 1884.

MERCURY will be an evening star until January 20th; a morning star till March 29th; an evening star till May 17th; a morning star till July 12th; an evening star till September 19th; a morning star till November 4th; and an evening star for the rest of the year. When in superior conjunction, that is, when the Sun is between the Earth and Mercury, he appears perfectly round but very small, not more than 5" in diameter; but when in the opposite portion of his orbit or near his inferior conjunction, he presents the form of a slender and brilliant crescent, nearly 12" in diameter.

VENUS will be an evening star until July 7th; and a morning star for the rest of the year. She will be in inferior conjunction with the Sun on July 12th, and will acquire her greatest brilliancy while of a cresent form about the beginning of June and middle of August. She will be gibbous in the first and last quarters of the year, and will resemble a half Moon in the beginning of May and middle of September. For two or three months before and after inferior conjunction, Venus can be distinctly seen without a telescope at noon-day when the observer knows approximately whereabouts to look for her.

MARS will be an evening star in the second half of the year. He will be in opposition to the Sun on February 1st and will be very favorably situated for observation both before and after midnight during the first quarter of the year. He will be stationary on March 13th and in quadrature with the Sun on May 6th. Mars is attended by two satellites only recently discovered and invisible except with the largest telescopes, and then only when the planet is nearly in opposition to the Sun.

JUPITER will be an evening star in May, June and July; and a morning star from then to the middle of November. He will be most favorably situated for observation throughout the night in January and February and towards the close of the year. He will be in opposition to the Sun on January 20th; stationary on March 20th and December 22nd; in quadrature with the Sun on April 15th and November 26th; and in conjunction on August 8th. His interesting belts and the phenomena of his four satellites are well worthy of examination. Any good pocket telescope will, if steadily supported, render the satellites visible and their eclipses observable. Before the middle of July the eclipses will occur on the eastern side of the planet, but from September to the end of the year on the western side. When both the disappearance and reappearance of a satellite are given, it must be remembered the phenomena take place on the same side of the planet, but the reappearance always to the east of the spot at which the satellite vanished.—For table of Eclipses, see page 9.

SATURN will be an evening star in March, April and May; and a morning star from then to the middle of September. He will be stationary on February 4th and October 6th; in quadrature with the Sun on February 22nd and September 16th, and in conjunction on June 4th. He will be in opposition to the Sun on December 12th with an apparent diameter of 19," and can be most favorably seen both before and after midnight during the last quarter of the year.

The beautiful system of rings which generally renders Saturn the most attractive object in the heavens, will be better seen about the time of opposition this year than since 1875, having an apparent length of 47" and a breadth of 21". The southern surface of the rings will be visible. Saturn is attended by eight satellites, five of which may be readily seen with any good telescope, but the remaining three require instruments of the largest size to render them discernible.

URANUS will be in opposition to the Sun on March 16th, in Right Ascension 11*h.* 47*m.* and North Declination 2° 17'; when he may be seen as a star of the sixth magnitude, the faintest visible without telescopic aid in the absence of moonlight. His apparent diameter is usually about 4". Only four satellites have yet been found in attendance upon Uranus.

NEPTUNE will be in opposition to the Sun on November 14th, in Right Ascension 3*h.* 20*m.* and North Declination 16° 31'. His diameter never exceeds 2¼", and only one satellite has yet been discovered attending him. He is only of about the eighth magnitude as compared with the fixed stars. Uranus and Neptune are both visible with a mere pocket glass, when their positions are well-known, though they are only distinguishable from the fixed stars with superior instruments charged with high magnifying powers, and their satellites invisible except with a few of the largest telescopes in the world.

The minor planets between Mars and Jupiter are now over two hundred and thirty in number, all of which except four have been discovered since 1846. The only one ever visible to the unaided sight is Vesta, which under certain conditions, can, for a brief time when near opposition, acquire a brilliancy equal to stars of the fifth magnitude.

GARDENING CALENDAR.

MADRAS.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

January—As the weather during the month will generally be clear and dry, attention to watering is required; if possible, water in the morning, otherwise late in the evening; never water vegetables during the heat of the day. The sowing of European vegetables may now be discontinued, as in the majority of cases seed sown during this month will prove to be labor needlessly expended; they will not come to maturity, or scarcely to a state fit for consumption. Last month may be considered as drawing to a close all successful operations in regard to European vegetable sowing, with the exception of a few salads, which may be sown in beds, shaded and hand-watered with attention; they will produce small crops. During the first and second week is a good time to sow cucumbers, vegetable marrow, gourds and such like. Nepaul spinach should be sown and planted for a supply during the hot months. Attend to keeping the soil hoed amongst growing crops, eradicating weeds to prevent their seeding, which they now do freely, continue to earth up celery, choosing a dry day for directions as to earthing. Plant cuttings of the cabbage tribe in beds; if rooted, they will give a good supply of sprouts during the hot months. Sow country vegetables if required, remove all decaying vegetables to the compost heap. Look to the graft mangoes, continue every two or three days to deepen the incision till the branch is cut through. If any are entirely removed, they may be planted without delay, taking care to support them against damage from high winds.

FLOWER GARDEN.

The flowers during this month should be in great perfection. The main operations consist in keeping everything clean and in perfect order, using the knife amongst the shrubs, &c., where required. Attend to the young shoots of crepeers so that they may be properly trained, cut back all plants that may be growing over the hedges of the beds or walks; this should be done neatly, so that the use of the knife may not be discovered; nothing looks worse than plants abruptly cut round the edge of flower beds. Such cuttings of shrubs and roses as are rooted should be planted out in beds, well watered and shaded for a few days. Attend to plants in pots; roses in flower-bud will be improved by frequent watering with liquid manure; it will increase the size of the flowers. Shade tender plants from the mid-day sun, keep a supply of water exposed to the sun during the day for watering potted plants in the evening. Attend to clipping hedges, keeping the walks and grass in proper trim.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is generally clear, rain seldom falls, dews are plentiful, vegetables are abundant towards the end of the month. Fruits, such as oranges, pomegranates, guavas, plantains, &c., are to be had.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

February.—As the Horticultural exhibition is generally held during the early part of the month, attend to the schedule of prizes if you intend to compete, preserve such articles as may be required by making them with stakes; in forwarding articles for competition pay marked attention to what is required, avoid sending vegetables of any kind in flower pots. In the garden little is required beyond the directions of last month; a few salads may be sown, country radishes, cucumbers and gourds may still be sown. Keep the garden clear from decayed leaves; vegetables during this month, especially the cabbage tribe, give out a most disagreeable odour if left decaying. See that arrangements are made to keep up a supply of such country vegetables as may be required. Watering will invariably be requisite throughout the month; plant out (if on hand) cuttings of the cabbage tribe. Attend to collecting manure for the next season.

FLOWER GARDEN.

The directions of last month are suitable to this; little more can be done than attending to watering and cleanliness; let plants in pots intended for exhibition be protected from the mid-day sun if possible. During the course of the month remove and put in pots a good supply of verbenas and such like to preserve them during the hot season. Attend to plants in pots, frequently stirring up the soil on the surface. If worms are troublesome, a little clear lime water used occasionally will remove them.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is clear and calm, dew every morning, rain seldom occurs if ever; vegetables and flowers in most seasons are plentiful; fruits, such as sapodillas, mangoes, oranges, custard apples, &c., are to be had.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

March.—As the cultivation of European vegetables will no longer give any degree of satisfaction equivalent to the expense incurred, it is not necessary to presume that by giving directions success will be the reward of carrying them out. The heat is too great to develop seeds of northern climes; indeed, it is mere chance to succeed in germinating and growing tropical seeds. Attention to the culture of such varieties of country vegetables as may be required is all that is requisite in cultivation, though the latter may be purchased in the market much cheaper than they can be grown in private gardens. All vacant spaces in the garden should now be dug and thrown up in ridges (this is applicable to heavy soils) so as to expose the soil to the influence of the sun during the hot weather. Where the soil is light, let it be dug over level; collect manure without delay; if composed of heating materials, it will require to be watered and turned over frequently; be sure this matter is not overlooked; attend to watering lately-planted mango trees, untying the ligatures round the grafted parts; support the stems securely against high winds; store yams in sand or dry soil.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Little can be done during this month; pay attention to cleanliness, watering shrubs, roses, &c.; such beds as are empty should be neatly dug over; look to the roots of dahlias, let them be stored in pots of sand, or the pots they were grown in; if the soil is dried, they must be kept dry; gloxinias, achimenes and bulbs require the same treatment; plants growing in pots should be placed, if possible, to receive the morning sun and shaded during mid-day.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is clear, hot, and very unpleasant from the prevailing southerly winds; slight dew frequently. No rain falls during the whole course of the month; European vegetables are very scarce, dear, and bad in general; country vegetables plentiful, such as brinjals, radishes, greens, &c. Fruits none, with the exception of indifferent plantains.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

April.—This month might be passed over in silence, as little or nothing can be done unless digging up any portions of the garden not attended to last month; this should not be neglected any longer. Cucumbers, gourds and melons may be sown during the month; they require protection from the sun until established. Attend to the fruiting pines; if the crowns appear to grow too large, let the hearts be taken out neatly; remove all suckers from the bottom of the fruit; after the fruit has swelled a good size, water should be sparingly applied as it tends to injure the flavour.

FLOWER GARDEN.

The directions of last month are suitable to this; little more can be done than keeping the garden clean and free of weeds; towards the end of the month look well to the support of young trees, creepers, &c., as gales may be expected early in May. Prepare soil for plants in pots without delay: look over dahlia roots, &c., in case they are being injured by vermin. Roses in pots should not be excited at present, or they will be weakened.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is similiar to that of last; wind changeable from S. to E. and W., dew is seldom seen. A few slight showers of rain sometimes occur; European vegetables are very scarce, native vegetables are plentiful. Fruits, such as grapes, pine-apples, and some of the orange tribe, are to be had. Plantains are plentiful.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

May.—During the month the land wind commences; much difficulty will be experienced in cultivating any but the common varieties of country vegetables; dig over any vacant spaces of ground, no matter how roughly; prepare manure; repair and build water-channels when required; make and repair roads and walks.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Now is a good time to put walks in good order and make others where required. If composts for seeds and plants in pots are not preparing, delay no longer, as they will be required in July. Wash all empty flower-pots and order supplies for new ones; use every endeavour to put down the unsightly pots in general use—it can be done.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is unpleasantly hot from the prevailing land winds; in most seasons a few slight showers of rain fall; seldom other than country vegetables are to be had, with the exception of cabbage sprouts, which are hard and tough; mangoes and pine-apples are plentiful and cheap; flowers are scarce.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

June.—Although rain frequently occurs during the month, it is scarcely desirable to recommend the sowing of European vegetables. It is more requisite to push forward any new work that may be required; dig over and trench all vacant and new ground that may be taken in for cultivation. Be careful that a good supply of manure is on hand.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Preparing pits for planting trees and ornamental shrubs may be proceeded with, likewise the filling up of all hollows on the lawns where water accumulates during monsoons. Making new flower gardens where required, they should be proceeded with at once; it will save time when the gardeners are required for more active operations in July and August. Repair walks and make new ones: see that they are broad and level enough for two persons to walk abreast upon them; there is no necessity to raise them up like ridges in the centre; if they are slightly convex to throw off the water, it is sufficient.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is similar to that of last; showers are more frequent; European vegetables are rarely to be had; fruit is plentiful.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

July.—Everything should be prepared during the present month for sowing seeds in August; if the weather is at all favorable, sow a small quantity of celery and parsley for early plants. Peas may be sown towards the latter part of the month, though with but slight chance of success in the generality of seasons; during the last week the levelling of the soil thrown up in ridges may be proceeded with. The manure heap should be in a fit condition for use.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Little can be done during the month further than preparation for the ensuing seed time; let composts be in a perfect state for use before the end of the month. Make up grass edgings with turf. Do not prune roses unless they show signs of growth; this can be easily discovered by the swelling and bursting of the buds: if they show signs, prune and manure, though waiting till the following month would be more judicious. Take care not to be carried into too active operations by a good shower of rain. Look to the roots of dahlias, gloxinias and achimenes that may have commenced to grow; retard them as much as possible, but bring them to the light; as dahlias are very impatient, their roots should be divided towards the end of the month into as many divisions as possible with a sharpe knife, having shoot upon each division.

Remarks.—The rains of the S. W. monsoon commence during this month in slight showers; the sky is very cloudy; rains frequenly in most seasons. Fruit and vegetables are scarce.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

August.—As imported seed should now be on hand, let a first sowing be put in pots or boxes without delay. If the weather is favorable, successive sowings may be put in during the whole course of the month. Care must be taken that the soil is in a proper moist condition. Guard against the ravages of red ants; be sparing of water to imported seeds until they germinate. A first sowing of peas and French beans may be put in; likewise carrots, beet, parsley and radishes; choose a dry day, sow celery in boxes or pots in rich soil mixed with well-decayed manure and a small quantity of powdered lime. The reason celery is so apt to run to seed arises from inattention to keep up a constant luxuriance by the aid of good manure; celery should never receive a check; of country vegetables, sow brinjals, gourds, cucumbers, roselles, greens, spinach, beans, chillies, snake gourds, &c.; plant yams and Jerusalem artichokes. Attend to top-dressing asparagus beds, make a fresh bed of water-cresses in a shady spot near a well or tank where they can be easily supplied with water twice a day. Put in suckers of pine-apples, prepare stock of mangoes for grafting. Let the garden soil be levelled, well manured and dug over; make sure the manure is well looked after and mixed with lime and ashes before using.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Sow seeds of everything that can be had most suitable for the climate; be careful how small seeds are sown and watered; look to the roots of dahlias, gloxinias, &c.; they should be set agrowing in good soil. If no plan has been definitely fixed upon to secure a good supply of flowers, now is the time to look to it; there is no time to spare; propagate verbenas by layers; sow hollyhocks, phloxes, petunias, balsams, &c.; increase your stock of chrysanthemums by division or fresh supplies; let the flower garden be well dug and manured; dig and manure round the roots of shrubs, on lawns, &c. Let a shaded piece of ground be prepared in which to put cuttings of roses, shrubs, &c.; prepare pits for planting trees and shrubs, make them large and deep. Pits in the soil of Madras or anywhere should not be less than 2½ feet in diameter and depth. Too much care cannot be taken of seedlings, lest they get drawn during the dull days that prevail; expose them to the light and air as much as possible. Top-dress all plants in pots not intended to be re-potted with fresh soil and manure; re-pot and top-dress roses in pots. Prune and manure garden roses and put in cuttings.

Remarks.—It were unnecessary to write these instructions if those for whom they are written do not carry them out during the course of this month. As success can only be looked for by close attention, next month will be of less avail to have plants sufficiently strong to produce an early crop or to stand the heavy rains, and whatever complaints may have to be made anent the failure of vegetables and the display of flowers in January and February, it can be ascribed to no other cause than neglecting to conduct operations at the right season and in a proper manner. The native gardeners are not so much to blame, as they in general go by the instructions they receive.

Rain is frequent during this month; country vegetables are plentiful; fruit and European vegetables are very scarce.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

September.—This is the proper time to sow a succession of peas. French beans and spinach may be put in every week during the month; continue to sow vegetables of all kinds; onions and leeks in light rich soil in beds, protected from the rain by mats, tied over movable bamboo frame-work. Attend to the seedlings sown last month; some of which will be ready for transplanting. Knol-khol and cabbage, if any were sown early in July, will be ready for final transplanting in the garden in beds of rows; let them be lifted carefully; disturb the roots as little as possible. Encourage the growth of celery by slight waterings of liquid manure; look after insects; a slight sprinkling of lime over and under the leaves will arrest their ravages; if not used, let them be picked off with hand every morning. Lime will in no wise injure the tenderest vegetations if slaked and cool. Native vegetables sown at the beginning of last month will be fit for planting out. Commence to graft mangoes; make preparations, such as digging trenches, &c., to prevent the garden being flooded during the monsoon near at hand. Manure pine-apples, remove the suckers and put them into root.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Petunias, hollyhocks, phloxes, &c., &c., sown last month, should during this be fit for planting out, choosing a dull damp day. Continue to sow balsams, hollyhocks and all showy annuals, not neglecting mignonette. Balsam seeds from Hyderabad is generally good; and from the cultivators there removing the lateral branches, they have acquired a peculiar upright habit, show about one foot of blossom in a column when well-grown. Attend to cleanliness and keeping the soil in flower bed opened by hoeing. (The idea of seeing a Gardener sitting in a flower-bed digging it up with a piece of bamboo is absurd.) Prune roses if hitherto neglected, layer bud and put in cuttings of roses and such shrubs, trees and creepers as may be required. Sow seeds of trees and shrubs; put in pipings of carnations, picotees in boxes filled with fine sand mixed with red earth. Let all creepers be neatly tied to the posts or trellises upon which they are trained; prune where required; prune and keep in proper form shrubs, &c.; attend to cutting hedges and filling up gaps; casuarina hedges neatly trimmed would be much neater round flower gardens than unsightly bamboo trellises; it is astonishing they are not more generally planted, as they combine neatness with economy, are easily raised if the seed is not too deeply covered with soil.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

October.—Transplant all vegetable plant large enough into beds or drills where they are to grow. Trenches should be ready to receive celery plants; shade if the weather is clear; look after tomatoes, onions, leeks, carrots and beet-root; let them be thinned out to proper distances from each other; the thinnings may be planted if required. Continue to sow a few varieties of vegetable seeds. Peas may be sown every week; let the drills in which they are sown be raised above the surface level; continue to sow a succession of French beans. Keep out a supply of salads, such as lettuce, endive, mustard, water-cress, &c. Finish early in the month preparations for planting out vegetables; do not trust till wanted, as the soil may not be workable for rain. Let everything about the garden be neat and clean; eradicate weeds on their first appearance. If the weather during the month should prove dry, peas and the cabbage tribe will suffer much. A supply of water will be requisite to prevent the crops sustaining a check which would prove very detrimental. When water is applied let it be in the morning, very early if possible; when it is cool, frequent hoeing up the soil amongst the crops will require to be looked to. If activity is not displayed during the early part of this month in forwarding operations, there is but little chance of success for the season. Take particular care the crops are not planted on the same piece of ground they were last year; alternate them yearly if possible. Graft mangoes and plant pine-apples.

FLOWER GARDEN.

The operations of last month are applicable to this. Look after dahlias in pots, stake them and water occasionally with liquid manure. Plant out verbenas, heliotropes and all other budding plants. Keep up a supply of balsams, cockscombs, mignonette, &c. Plant trees and shrubs, attending to training and pruning creepers. This is a good time to get roses, fuschias, violets, &c., from the hills of Bangalore. Take advantage of dry days to cut grass; straighten and trim the edges of walks and beds. Give everything a neat and clean appearance. Protect all newly-planted trees from wind. The best plan is to use three tarred ropes for each plant; fix them to the stems, round which should be tied a piece of canvas to prevent the friction of the ropes from injuring the bark; tie the ropes tight to three pegs firmly driven into the ground at proper distance from the plants. This is costlier than stakes, but more permanent and will protect the plants till properly rooted.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is generally wet and stormy, more especially during the latter part of it. Vegetables and fruits still continue scarce.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

November.—Few European vegetables will come to perfection if not fit to plant out during this month. Attend to transplanting seedlings; peas and French beans may be sown every week or ten days; the main crop must be looked for from seed sown this month, as peas sown in December seldom succeed. Sow a small quantity of cabbage, knol-khol, cauliflowers, tomatoes, &c.; likewise a few salads. Cauliflowers sown during the first week of the month; if they are well attended to, flowers may be had during February. Attend to transplanting onions and leeks. Thin out turnips and carrots to proper distances from each other. Plant celery in trenches; look after all details, such as cleanliness, digging trenches to carry off the heavy rains; put in cuttings of cabbage sprouts for use during the hot season. Graft mangoes; put in cuttings of figs and vines. Plant onion bulbs for salad.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Continue to transplant seedlings into pots or boxes. Plant out annuals, verbenas, hollyhocks, phloxes and ipomeas, if strong enough. Sow any flower seeds remaining on hand. Sow seeds of trees and shrubs. Prepare early in the month stations for ornamental creepers, and plant without delay. Attend to training creepers, and pruning where required. Prune and manure garden roses and put in cuttings. In pruning, cut the old branches down to three or four eyes from the bottom. Top-dress all plants in pots not requiring repotting; protect tender plants from heavy rains; activity is required during this month to obtain good supply of flowers during the three following months. The finer varieties of roses in pots should be repotted if necessary; they require a heavy soil mixed with well-decayed cow-dung. Support all plants requiring it from the high winds.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is in general boisterous, with heavy rains; the N. E. monsoon continues with great violence. Vegetables and flowers continue scarce.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

December.—Continue to plant out and transplant into boxes all vegetable plants on hand during the first week. Attend to thinning turnips and carrots. Plant celery in trenches and earth up such as may require it. Keep the soil amongst the growing crops hoed, and eradicate weeds on their first appearance. Branch lettuce and endive by tying up the leaves. Thin out the branches of tomatoes. Look sharp after insects amongst cabbage and cauliflower. Use slaked lime freely on all crops attacked; it will prove a beneficial check. During the month sow cucumbers, vegetable marrow, country vegetables for greens, &c. Early-planted vegetables will be fit for use towards the end of the month. French beans and salads should be in abundance. Attend to staking peas, beans, &c. Continue to make up a manure heap for the ensuing season; let nothing be lost in the shape of vegetable matter. The main work of the month is attention to growing crops; look to early grafted mangoes; make incisions gradually on the branches above the grafts.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Plant out the remaining stock of annuals; sow a few hollyhocks, amaranthus, &c. A last sowing of balsams may be put in. Sow convolvoluses of all kinds. Petunias for flowering during the hot months. Attend to dahlias and encourage them by frequent watering of liquid manure. Keep the flower beds and walks clean and neat; water and roll the walks towards the latter part of the month; it will give them a neat appearance, at the same time they will be more comfortable to walk upon.

Remarks.—The weather during the first two weeks is similar to last month, generally clearing up towards the latter end. Fogs are frequent; flowers continue scarce with the exception of roses; vegetables are scarce; country greens, &c., are to be had in abundance; fruits, such as oranges, guavas and plantains, are plentiful.

BANGALORE.

January.—In this month most of the culinary vegetables are in great perfection. Grapes, apples, pine-apples, country raspberry, and also a few strawberries and peaches are in season. Such apple trees as have finished bearing may now be pruned, although it would be better to delay it until the ensuing month. Sow seeds of such vegetables as peas, radish, spinach, &c., that do not require more than three months to come to perfection. This is a good month for altering or making a garden, laying walks, &c. Open the roots of the vine trees, if the wood is well ripened.

This is the best month for planting cuttings of sugar-cane.

Remarks.—The nights and mornings are chill—a clear sky during the day. It seldom rains during this month, but fog falls daily in the mornings. The wind blows steadily from the N. E. with occasional variations.

February.—In this month country raspberries, figs, pomegranates, pine-apples, peaches, grapes and strawberries may be had in great abundance and perfection. A few apples remain. Very few vegetables can be sown with advantage this month. Open the roots of peach and apples and prune apple trees. As the mango will be in flower, spread, if requisite, some manure round the roots of the trees, slightly stirring the soil.

Sow peaches; the stone should be broken, else the seeds will take some months to germinate.

Remarks.—The weather during the whole of this month is very fine. It seldom, if ever, rains. Heavy dew falls in the mornings. The wind blows N. E., sometimes changing to the S. E. The first half of the month is rather chilly; about the end it commences to be warm.

March.—During this month the roots of apple trees should be opened, if not already done by those who approve of that system, and very strong manure should be applied. Strawberries, grapes, raspberries and peaches are in season. The ground should be forked about the roots of vines. Plant tuberose roots. Beet-root and celery are in perfection. As the winds and hot air of this month are very injurious to vegetation, as few seeds as possible should be sown.

Remarks.—The weather during this month is clear, hot and unpleasant. Rain is little known. There is less dew. The wind continues to blow from the N. E. There is plenty of dust. It thunders and lightens occasionally.

April.—Sow all flower seeds to come to perfection in July and August. They will be refreshed by the early rains called the mango showers, and there is generally rain in Mysore during June. Sow every kind of vegetable seed. Plant potatoes. Dhalia seeds should be sown in this month in situations protected from the burning winds.

Remarks.—This is the hottest month. The nights are very sultry, and the sun pours down its fiery rays with unabating vigor during the day. The dust is almost suffocating. There is thunder and lightning. The mango showers may be expected towards the close of the month. Wind N. E.

May.—Repeat the sowing of last month, or may be deferred till this month. Transplant the seeds of the vegetables sown last month, and prepare the beds for the final transplanting of knol-khol, cabbage and cauliflower, watering the soil richly. Sow some cotton seeds.

Remarks.—The weather still continues hot. If the mango showers have set in, the heat is not so great as that of April. High winds from the S. W., with rain and clouds, may be expected. Rather dusty.

June.—The directions for this month are very similar in many respects to those given for May and April, in order to have the flowers and vegetables later in the season. Mangoes are in great perfection, and pine-apples abundant; jack-fruit in season. The natives plough their ground and sow their earth-nut. This is the best month for sowing seeds from England, &c., provided they arrive in the two or three preceding months, but in general it is advisable to sow them as soon as they are unpacked. The fields for hay should be scratched by the native plough and manured. Cuttings and suckers of chrysanthemums, if taken off and planted in small pots, will flower in September.

Roses often suffer much more from the attacks of the rose beetle during this month. They should be sought for at night with the aid of a lantern, and while one boy holds the light, another picks off the insects and throws them into a chatty of water. Immense numbers can be killed in a short time in this way. The old roots of the dahlia should be planted in large pots of sand covered with some fermenting vegetable matter, to induce them to send out shoots.

Remarks.—Rain is more frequent. The days begin to get cloudy and pleasant, and the nights cool. Wind from S. W. blows strongly. Plenty of dust.

July.—Pine-apple and apples are in season. Mangoes still continue till towards the end of the month; young plants should then be grafted, and the trees pruned as soon as they have done bearing, as that is the only time when it can be done with impunity. Cuttings of all trees and shrubs should be put in this month, as well as slips of artichokes, which, as soon as they have established themselves, should be cut down close to the ground.

The natives generally sow the raggy and cholum, and prepare the ground for rice, and plant cuttings of sugar-cane. Flower and vegetable seeds may still be sown, and in regular seasons the cabbage tribe of the first and second sowings should be finally transplanted. The first crop of hay is cut this month. Sow mango seeds for supply of stocks for next year's grafting. The dhalia sown last month will require transplanting, and the shoots should be separated from the old roots. The seeds (dahlias) should now be turned out of pots into the open ground in a sandy well-manured soil. A species of white grub attacks the roots of flower plants, more especially the scarlet geranium. The only mode of destroying these insects is by uprooting the plants that show any signs of drooping and removing the grub. Experiments in the cultivation of wheat may be attempted this month.

Remarks.—There is generally much rain this month. The days are cloudy and pleasant, and the nights cool. The wind blows from S. W. Thunder and lightning frequent.

August.—Apples still continue; young trees should now be drafted and cuttings put down. Oranges, loquats, and alligator pears in season. Insects are excessively numerous and destructive. The orange tribes should be budded and inarched and propagated by gootics. Plant beds with early strawberries. Still sow a few vegetable and flower seeds. Continue grafting mangoes. Transplant cotton. Propagate carnations and pinks by layers. Begin collecting seeds of early flowering annuals. Dahlias are in perfection. The natives sow different kinds of grain in this and in the following month. Stake the dahlias put into ground last month.

Remarks.—The early monsoons cease about the beginning of the month. The wind blows from S. W., and the weather is somewhat warm.

September.—Alligator pears and loquats still continue. Guavas in plenty. Sow orange seed and alligator pear stones. Young potatoes in season. The American cotton sow early in full pod. Plant Cape bulbs, either in the ground or in very deep pots well drained. The turnips and cabbages are much infested by a small dark caterpillar, which may be destroyed by sprinkling the plants with powdered lime. The rice begins to flower. Put down cuttings of geraniums, roses, violets, heartsease, &c. Flowers are in great perfection. As most of the peach trees will have lost their leaves, the roots should be opened and exposed for four days and then strongly manured. The principal crop of hay is cut in this month.

Strip off leaves and bare and prune the roots of apple trees, dressing the root at the same time with sheep or other manure.

Remarks.—This is rather a hot month. The wind blows from S. W., and rain may be expected from the middle of the month, particularly in the evenings.

October.—Vegetables are in great perfection. Soursop and guavas also are now in season. The main beds for strawberries should be planted. Vines will begin to flower early in this month: the borders should be dug and well manured. Dahlias will begin to fall in the month. As soon as the leaves begin to wither, they should be taken up with the soil that adheres to them and kept in a dry place. As soon as they have been sufficiently dried, they should be picked up in boxes of sand till the time for planting arrives. The double tube roses should be similarly treated.

Remarks.—The latter monsoons which generally commence towards the end of last month are very heavy during October. The wind veers round to the N. E. The days are pleasant and the nights are cool.

November.—Apples begin to ripen towards the end of this month. Custard-apples in plenty. This is the last month in which the generality of vegetables can be sown with advantage. Sow the casuarina and other tree seeds. This is a good month to lay in a stock of manure and prepare composts for the next year. The larger kinds of perennial water flowers should be taken up and reduced in size and replanted. This is a good month to plant potatoes, sweet-potatoes, melons, cucumbers, and most vegetable seeds. The raggy crop is cut during this month.

Remarks.—High winds from the N. E., and heavy rain may be expected during the early part of the month. Towards the end, the temperature of the atmosphere is considerably lessened, and the nights begin to be chilly. This is a very pleasant month. Morning foggy.

December.—Apples are in plenty, and peaches may be had towards the end of the month. Rose-apples also are abundant. All vegetables in season. A good month for sowing melon and cucumber seeds, as well as peas, radish, and spinach, but very few other vegetable seeds. Most of the exotic plants will have ceased flowering; the beds should therefore be dug up and manured with a soil composed of two-thirds vegetable and half well-decayed animal manure. Turn out and examine dahlia roots. Prune roses.

Remarks.—This is usually a clear month with heavy fog in the mornings. Days cool and nights chilly. Wind from the N. E. Heat is scarcely felt at mid-day. This is a very pleasant and healthy month.

General Remarks.—The meteorological observation of three years—1834-5-6—was one very hot and one very rainy season; this may therefore be regarded as a very fair average when taken together.

Bangalore is in lat. 12·58 N. and long. 77·32 E. The base of Commissioner's flagstaff is 3,030 feet above high water-mark at Madras and the mean annual temperature is 75° Fahr., while that of Madras is 85°, thus confirming the generally received opinion that a rise of 300 feet causes a fall in the thermometer of one degree. The soil, except in the valleys, is a red sandy loam, inclined to gravelly and the sound rock and finally foliated gneiss with slaty cleavage. It is much used for building purposes.

Average rainfall of twenty-three years is 35·41 inches.

NEILGHERRIES.

Ootacamund.

January.—Flowers—None. Vegetable—Sow in verandah for early crop cauliflower, radish, mustard and cress.

February.—Flowers—None. Vegetables—None.

March.—FLOWERS—Mignonette and nasturtiums, for early flowering. VEGETABLES—Peas, French beans, radish, mustard, cress and cauliflower.

April.—FLOWERS—Annuals of all sorts should be sown during this month; also seeds of new perennial plants, shrubs, trees, &c. VEGETABLES—Beet-root, carrots, turnips, peas, French beans, broad beans, cauliflower, cabbages and all description of vegetables for main summer crop.

May.—FLOWERS.—Continue sowing of annuals and other seeds mentioned in last month. VEGETABLES—Sow peas, French beans, cauliflower and lettuce for succession; complete sowing all crops of vegetables required for summer use.

June.—FLOWERS—None. VEGETABLES—Radish, mustard, cress, lettuce, peas and beans for succession.

July.—FLOWERS—None. VEGETABLES—The same as June.

August.—FLOWERS—Annual seeds for winter flowering should now be seen; this is the best season to sow stocks, asters, balsams, petunias, verbenas, salpaglossis, nasturtiums, &c. VEGETABLES—The same as April for winter crops.

September.—FLOWERS—Complete sowing of the above in this month. VEGETABLES—Complete sowing for winter crop.

October.—FLOWERS—None. VEGETABLE—Sow as in June.

November.—FLOWERS—None. VEGETABLES—Sow as in June.

December.—FLOWERS—None. VEGETABLES—NONE.

Coonoor and Kotagherry.

Remarks on the variation of the above.

The main sowing of Vegetable and Flower seeds should be in August, September and October, instead of April and May. Rotation sowings, the same as at Ootacamund.

Flowers and Vegetables that are in the several months of the year.

January.—FLOWERS—Geraniums, petunias, verbenas, stocks, camellias, roses, calceolarias, cinnerarias, balsams, asters, mimulas. VEGETABLES—Cauliflower, beet-root, carrots, turnips, rhubarb, parsnips, vegetable marrow, celery, salads, cabbage, knol-khol, potatoes and onions.

February.—FLOWERS—Geraniums, petunias, verbenas, stocks, camellias, roses, calceolarias, and pollygallas. VEGETABLES—Cauliflower, beet-root, carrots, turnips, parsnips, vegetable marrow, celery, salads, cabbage, knol-khol and onions.

March.—FLOWERS—Crocuses, lilies, primroses, calceolarias, geraniums, verbeans, petunias, violets and pollygallas. VEGETABLES—Vegetables are scarce during this month. Only onions, knol-khol, turnips and cabbages may be said to be in season, all others being raised or preserved by artificial watering.

April.—FLOWERS—Crocuses, lilies, primroses, calceolarias, geraniums, verbenas, petunias and violets. VEGETABLES—Vegetables are still scarce. The above with mustard, radish, cress and salads are still in season.

May.—FLOWERS—Daisies, crocuses, lilies, heliotrope, petunias, calceolarias, roses, primroses and polyanthus. VEGETABLES—Potatoes, cauliflower, carrots, beet-root, celery, rhubarb, radish, vegetable marrow, cucumbers, knol-khol, parsnips, lettuce, peas, beans, and French beans.

June.—FLOWERS—Fuschias, westaria, heliotrope, daisies, roses, veronicas, pollygallas, laburnams, and primroses. VEGETABLES—Potatoes, cauliflower. carrots, beet-root, celery, rhubarb, radish, vegetable marrow, cucumbers, knol-khol, parsnips, lettuce, peas, beans, and French beans.

July.—FLOWERS—Fuschias, westaria, heliotrope, daisies, roses, veronicas, pollygallas, laburnams and brugmensias. VEGETABLES—Potatoes, cauliflower, carrots, beet-root, celery, rhubarb, radish, vegetable marrow, cucumbers, knol-khol, parsnips, lettuce, peas, beans and French beans.

August.—FLOWERS—Geraniums, brugmensias, fuschias, heliotrope, daisies, roses, veroniças and health. VEGETABLES—Same as July.

September.—FLOWERS—Geraniums, crassulas, brugmensias, fuchias, heliotrope, daisies, roses, veronicas and heath. VEGETABLES—Same as July.

October.—FLOWERS—Camellias, cinnerarias, crassulas, calceolarias, roses and heath. VEGETABLES—Potatoes, cauliflower, carrots, beet-root, celery, rhubarb, radish, vegetable marrow, cucumbers, knol-khol, parsnips, lettuce, peas, and French beans.

November.—FLOWERS—Camellias, cinnerarias, daisies, crassulas, calceolarias, roses and heath. VEGETABLES—Same as October.

December.—FLOWERS—Camellias, cinnerarias, phloxes, verbenas, daisies, crassulas, calceolarias, alpaglossis, roses and heath. VEGETABLES—Same as October.

PART II.—EUROPEAN AND INDIAN.

THE QUEEN AND ROYAL FAMILY.

Her Majesty Alexandrina Victoria, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, and of the Colonies and Dependencies thereof, Empress of India, Defender of the Faith, born 24th May, 1819; succeeded to the throne 20th June, 1837, on the death of her uncle, King William IV., crowned 24th June, 1838, and married, 10th February 1840, to his late Royal Highness Francis Albert Augustus Charles Emmanuel, Prince Consort, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Coburg and Gotha, who was born 26th August, 1819, and died 14th December, 1861.

Her Majesty has issue—

1. Victoria Adelaide Mary Louisa, Princess Royal, born November 21, 1840; married January 25, 1858, to Frederick Wilhelm Prince Imperial of Germany.
2. Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, born November 9, 1841; married March 10, 1863, to Princess Alexandra of Denmark, born December 1, 1844; and has issue:—Albert Victor Christian Edward, born January 8, 1864; George Frederick Ernest Albert, born June 3, 1865, Louise Victoria Alexandra Dagmar, born February 20, 1867; Victoria Alexandra Olga Mary, born July 6, 1868; Maude Charlotte Mary Victoria, born November 26, 1869; Alexandra John Charles Albert, born April 6, 1871, died April 7, 1871.

PART II.

Gradation List of

HER MAJESTY'S COVENANTED CIVIL SERVANTS.

The Rank of Civil Servants commences from the date of arrival at Madras of the first Civil Servant of their year; and, being thus determined, all Civil Servants belong, while under twelve years standing to Class V,—from the thirteenth to the end of the eighteenth year, to Class IV;—from the nineteenth to the end of the twenty-third year, to Class III;—from the twenty-fourth to the end of the thirty-first year, to Class II; and from and after the thirty-first year, to Class I.

Column 3.—Maj. Rew.=Major Reward; Min. Rew.=Minor Reward; High Profy.=High Proficiency.

Column 4.—The names printed in Italics denote that the Officers are on Furlough or Special leave.

Column 5.—The commencement of Service is reckoned from the date of the Covenant or the Secretary of State's Despatch announcing the Officer's appointment, whichever is the earlier.

Column 7.—Jun. Furlo.,=Junior furlough; Furlo.,=Ordinary furlough; Med. Cert.,=Leave on Medical Certificate under present rules; Lv. without All.,=Leave without allowances; Extr. Leave.,=Extraordinary leave, i. e. leave without allowances taken in continuation of furlo; Spl. Leave=Special leave; Abs.=absence without leave, including periods overstayed in leave and joining time; Sick Leave=the Leave of absence on M. C. (up to one year) which was reckoned as "Residence" under the rules in force before 1st July 1868, but which is not reckoned as Active Service.

Column 8.—The Active Service is the period of Residence qualifying for Pension under Section 25 of the Civil Pension Code. The Total Service in Column 9 is reckoned from the date of arrival, and not from the date of the commencement of Service.

N.B.—Column 10. The full acting allowance ordinarily admissible for an Acting appointment is entered against the names of officers acting in consequence of the absence of an officer on privilege leave, though, in accordance with the Sections 5 and 5A of the Pay and Acting Allowance Code, no acting allowance is given to such officers, unless transferred from another station, when three-fourths of the full acting allowance is given, for the first thirty days of the officer's absence on privilege leave.

Minimum guaranteed allowances have been sanctioned for the Members of the Madras Civil Service for 5 years, from 1st April 1882, by the Secretary of State's despatch No. 31, dated 9th March 1882, at the following rates:—

During 6th years' service	... ...	Rs. 550
" 7th & 8th	do.	" 600
" 9th & 10th	do.	" 700
" 11th	do.	" 800
" 12th & 13th	do.	" 900
" 14th	do.	" 1,000
After completion of 14 years' service	... ...	" 1,200

*Officers against whose names a * is placed have a claim to these minimum allowances.*

Half-yearly General Meetings are held in the months of January and July of each year, on a day to be fixed by the Trustees and notified in the Official Gazette.

Under the old Rules of the Civil Fund, Subscriptions, at 2¼ per cent. are payable by all Members of the Covenanted Civil Service on their allowances for a period of 16 years and a Donation of £30 is payable at option on the birth of a daughter to secure to her the benefits of the Subsidiary Rules after the age of 19.

The pensions granted to Widows under the old Rules of the Civil Fund, are continued till re-marriage or death, and are revived on second widowhood.

The daughters of deceased Members for whom the benefits of the Subsidiary Rules have been secured, are allowed pensions till marriage or death, but those for whom the above benefits have not been secured, are granted pensions up to the age of 19 only or till marriage, if married at an earlier age when in either case a Donation of £300 is paid to them or their guardians. But if such daughters are proved to be in indigent circumstances, then, instead of the Donation, a pension of £50 per annum is allowed to them after the age of 19 till marriage or death.

Pensions to sons are granted up to the age of 19 when a Donation of £300 is paid to them or to their guardians, but if such sons are proved to labor under mental or bodily infirmity, then instead of the Donation, a pension of £50 per annum is granted to them till recovery.

The whole amount of pensions allowed under these Rules to each family (widows and children) is reducible by any private income in excess of £45 private income—which amount is allowed for the benefit of the whole family of a deceased Subscriber. The individual pension is reducible by the individual share of the private income in excess of £45 equally divided among the whole family.

Under the Rules of the Provident Branch of the Civil Fund, lately adopted by the Service, the following Subscriptions and Donations are payable by Subscribers to this branch.

Subscriptions at 2¼ per cent. on the allowances of Subscribers for 16 years as before and at the same rate for the whole further term of service, in the cases of married men and widowers with families; but at one per cent. after 16 years for the whole further period of service, in the cases of Bachelors and Widowers without families.

On each marriage and by each married man entering the Service, a Donation of	Rs. 1,500	0	0
On birth of each daughter, a Donation of	„ 500	0	0
On birth of each son, a Donation of	„ 250	0	0

The Annuities granted to widows under these Rules, are reduced to one-half on re-marriage and continued at that rate during second marriage and until death; but if the second husband happen to be a Subscriber to this branch, then the widow on the second widowhood reverts to the full Annuity.

The Annuities to daughters of deceased Members are continued till marriage or death, and a Donation of £300 is paid to them on marriage.

The Annuities to sons are continued up to age of 21, when a Donation of £300 is paid; and if such son is proved to labor under mental or bodily infirmity, then instead of the Donation but without reference to age, an Annuity of £125 is granted until recovery.

The Annuities granted from this branch of the Fund to the families of deceased Subscribers, are not affected by any amount of private income they may possess or inherit.

REVISED RULES FOR THE EXAMINATION OF ASSISTANTS IN THE CIVIL SERVICE.

All Junior Civil Servants* will be required during the two months they spend at the Presidency on first arrival, to go through a course of instruction in the Riding School of His Excellency's Body Guard, and they should obtain certificates from the Officer Commanding Body Guard at the end of the course showing the progress made by them.

The following fees will be paid by the Junior Civilians concerned:—

(1) To the Riding Master, Rs. 25 or a proportionate sum should the Junior Civilian be unable to complete the course from sickness or absence on duty.

(2.) Five Rupees monthly to the Syce looking after the Troop horse ridden by the Junior Civilian.

Regarding the Examinations by the two Standards.

Rules of 1864. 17. Half-yearly Examinations of Assistants will be held each year at such stations as may be fixed by the Central Committee.

At these half-yearly examinations there will be two standards of qualification according to the one or the other of which the Assistants will be examined. An Assistant must be examined and found qualified according to the first standard, before he will be permitted to present himself for the second standard, and before he will be considered qualified to be appointed to act as Head Assistant. An Assistant who has been found, at some previous examination, qualified according to the first standard, must be found qualified according to the second standard, and before he will be considered by Government eligible for the permanent appointment of Head Assistant, and before he will be permitted to draw the increased allowance of Rs. 175 per mensem.

* The term Junior Civilian includes Native Civil Servants.

M. G., 24th Nov. 1869, No. 1,599, Pub. 19. The detailed maxima shown opposite subjects grouped together in a Sub-Division are intended to indicate the relative importance of the subjects.

Do. 20. An Assistant, who has once passed in any of these divisions, will not be required to pass in it again by the same standard ; but separate minima will be exacted in each sub-division.

M. G., 5th Nov. 1867, No. 1,390, Pub. 21. An Assistant, who has once passed in a second language at any second standard examination, is exempted from passing in the same second language again.

M. G., 8th July 1868, No. 821, Pub. 22. An Assistant who has passed in either of the sub-divisions of the Vernacular Test (D. 1, 2, E. 1, 2), but who has failed in the other, will be required at next examination to passing both the sub-divisions.

M. G., 21st July, 1868, No. 878, Pub. 23. An Assistant, who has once obtained honors in a Vernacular, must again pass in that Vernacular according to the standards, if it is one of the languages prescribed for that Test.

24. An Assistant, who has passed according to the first standard will be invested with the powers of a Subordinate Magistrate of the 1st Class, and may be entrusted with a Division of a District. He may also be appointed to act as Head Assistant. An Assistant, who has passed according to the second standard, will be invested with the full powers of a Magistrate, and will be granted the increased allowance of Rs. 175 per mensem.

Rules of 1864.

25. Government will not promote to Head Assistantship any Assistant who shall not have been examined under these Rules, and found qualified according to the second standard. All Assistants will be promoted, under ordinary circumstances, in the order of their passing the examination prescribed, according to the second standard of qualification.

Do.

26. All Assistants, who have not passed according to the first standard of qualification fixed by the present rules, and who have been more than 6 months at their stations as Assistants, will be subjected to half-yearly examination. All Assistants who have passed according to that standard, but have not passed according to the second standard, and who have been more than 2 years at their stations, will be subjected to half-yearly examination. All other Assistants who have not passed according to the second standard of qualification may be examined at any half-yearly examination, with the special permission of the Collectors of their Districts previously obtained.

Do.

27. The principal object of the first Standard of examination is to test the proficiency for practical purposes, of the Assistant in the vernacular language of his District. For this purpose at least 3 papers which he has never seen before, taken from official records very much at the hazard, and written by different persons in a plain running hand, must be read aloud by the Assistant correctly and without great difficulty ; and after being read aloud, their contents must be correctly explained by him in English. An English Judgment, or other official papers to be furnished by the Central Committee, must be translated by him into the vernacular, without assistance. The translation must be substantially correct in meaning and intelligible to a native, tolerably correct in Grammar and Spelling, and free from any very bad errors of Idiom. He must dictate off hand, with some fluency the translation, into the vernacular, of an English report, or other official paper, also to be furnished by the Central Committee, whereof the translation will be written down exactly as dictated. The dictated paper must, in like manner, be intelligible and substantially correct. He must then be tested in conversation with two or three natives in such manner and to such extent as shall suffice to satisfy the Divisional Committee as to the degree of his power of understanding natives of different classes, and of making himself understood by them—such conversation or colloquial examination to be confined to the ordinary duties and business of a Court or Cutcherry, and not to embrace abstruse or peculiar subjects. Where the mother-tongue of an Assistant is the language of examination, it will be sufficient to test him in the reading and explanation of official manuscripts only.

of rare occurrence, and to show rather the possession or the want of a general and intelligent acquaintance with the subjects of examination, and fundamental laws applicable thereto, than the knowledge of a string of points of detail and dates of orders, which may be soon learnt for the occasion, and are generally as soon forgotten again. These questions must be all answered without book.

In testing an Assistant's knowledge under head II of group A of the subjects for the Examination of Assistants, the Examiners (Divisional Committee) will ask four questions prepared by themselves, one on the Revenue History of the District, one on taluq or village accounts, one on Huzur treasury accounts, and one as to the way in which some simple Jamabandi application should be disposed of.—G. O. Public, No. 560, dated the 22nd April 1881.

29. The next object of the first Standard of Examination is to test the power which the Assistant may have acquired to deal with conflicting arguments and evidence in actual cases. For this purpose two decided cases, with the final proceeding in each withdrawn which the Assistant has never before seen, one from the Collector's and one from the Magistrate's Office, of the nature of cases coming before Assistants exercising the highest functions of an Assistant to a Collector and Magistrate, shall be given to the Assistant. The papers may be read over to him by a native officer, and the explanation of any difficult word or phrase may be asked for and given in the Vernacular, the circumstance being in each case noted. The Assistant may now refer to all his books, and may take his notes as the case is read over. At the conclusion of each case he must write in English a brief but precise description of it, and a decision upon the questions at issue, with a sufficient statement of the grounds on which it is founded.

30. The last object of the first Standard of Examination is to ascertain how the Assistant has been employed, and how he has done his duty at his station. For this purpose the Collector and Magistrate under whom he has been employed shall furnish the Committee with a report upon these points. It shall be the duty of such officers to make over to their Assistants, from time to time, cases for reports. The reports shall be written in English on one side of a sheet of paper; and after the case is decided the officer who decides it shall note on the other side of the sheet his remarks upon the report. These reports, with the notes thereon, shall be submitted to the Divisional Committee. Such Officers shall also require their Assistants to make English Minutes of the cases given to them for decision, which Minutes also shall be submitted to the same Committee. But these reports and Minutes need not be sent up to the Central Committee. The opinion formed of them by the Divisional Committee, however, shall be entered in the records submitted to the Board of Examiners.

31. The second Standard of Examination is similar in its nature to the first, but more difficult in degree. In the Vernacular portion of it, the reading of a common office running hand must be tolerably performed. The paper selected as tests should be of a more difficult description of office papers; the translation, dictation and conversation should be fluent, generally correct, and readily intelligible; and the Assistant should be tested in his power of explaining himself clearly, and with sufficient propriety, in the Vernacular, in an argument of topic of some difficulty, such as may occur in official business. In this examination it will be necessary for the Assistant to pass in 2 Vernacular languages, of which one shall be the language of the District, in which the Assistant is stationed at the time of examination, and the other any one of the languages, including Hindustani, prevailing in the Madras territories, which the Assistant may prefer, provided that ordinarily, and except on special grounds, no Assistant shall be promoted in any District in the Vernacular of which he has not passed. The test described in this rule shall be strictly enforced in respect of the language of the District in which the Assistant is stationed at the time of examination, but will be relaxed in respect of the second language and in respect of any other language which an Assistant must pass before he can be promoted in any District in which it prevails. Ability to write the language will not be required, but only a fair colloquial acquaintance with it, on the part of the Examinee, the power to translate correctly an official paper read to him, to dictate orders in the language and read ordinary Arzis. The questions of law and practice should be selected from the whole field of the duties of a Collector and Magistrate; but they shall be arranged in two classes; one class comprehending important and leading points, in answering which no books shall be allowed; and the other class comprehending less general and less common points, in answering which the assistance of books shall be allowed, no guides, digest or summaries, however, shall be permitted to be used, the Assistant being confined to the original Laws, Circular Orders, and constructions. The object of this class of questions is to test the Assistant's knowledge of where readily to find the law or practice on the less common points that arise in business. In preparing these questions, nice and difficult points should be avoided; the object being not to evoke subtlety or ingenuity, but only to ascertain whether the acquisitions and capacity of the person examined are adequate to enable him to perform fitly, the important functions of an Indian Collector and Magistrate or not. The trial cases should be selected from those possessing enough of complexity to test the Assistant's ability to master all ordinary difficulties, and especially to test his power of minute attention to, and just appreciation of, evidence.

His Excellency in Council is pleased to prescribe as a rule for future guidance that officers, on passing the lower or higher standard of examination, shall as a rule, be at once invested respectively, with the powers of a Subordinate Magistrate of the first class or with full Magisterial powers; and that they shall accordingly be entitled to the higher rates of pay from the date of their passing the examination. But if in the case of any officer subordinate to him, the Magistrate of a District shows, to the satisfaction of the Local Government that investiture with higher powers ought to be deferred, then the mere passing of the examination will not establish a title to higher pay, nor shall such higher pay be granted until the investiture with higher powers takes place.—G. I., 10th Feb., 1871, No. 717, Fin. Enc., dated 20th Jan., 1871, No. 386, Home Department.

From and after the 1st January 1883, Junior Civilians coming up for the Lower and Higher Standards will be required to answer a paper in the Civil Account Code, Vol. I, in addition to those on the other subjects of Examination. An Assistant who has not already passed by the Lower Standard must be examined and found qualified in this subject according to the Lower Standard before he will be permitted to appear for the Higher Standard. Assistants who have already passed by the Lower Standard will be examined by the Higher Standard only. The papers set for each standard will contain 8 questions. The questions for the Lower Standard should refer to such matters as would come before a District or Treasury officer in the ordinary routine of business and be so framed as to test the Assistant's general knowledge of the principles and rules of the Civil Account Code. Those for the Higher Standard should be set with a view to test the Assistant's thorough knowledge of the Code and should deal with matters of a more difficult nature than those prescribed for the Lower Standard. The maximum number of marks in each case will be 80 and the minimum to entitle a candidate to pass will be 50. The questions for both Standards will be answered without books. The test will be described as test H. An Assistant will not be entitled to the increased allowance unless and until he passes in this subject by the Higher Standard.

Junior Civilians coming up for the Higher Standard must pass in Survey and Settlement work in addition. The following are the rules.

1. If a Junior Civilian under seven years' standing is employed on Revenue duties in any district in which a Revenue Survey or Revenue Settlement Party is working or in any district within a reasonable distance from or within easy access of such Settlement or Survey Party, he shall be required to avail himself of the opportunity of acquiring a practical knowledge of the operations of the Survey and Settlement Departments by joining the Officers in charge of such parties, and working under their orders.

2. On or before the 1st October in each year the officer in charge of the Settlement Department and the Superintendent of Revenue Survey will address the Collectors of the Districts in which their parties may be working or about to work, and also the Collectors of neighbouring Districts informing them of the localities in which it is proposed to carry on operations during the ensuing year, and the names of the officers in charge, indicating in the case of Assistants those of the greatest experience and best fitted to impart instruction.

3. The period during which a Junior Civilian shall be attached to a Settlement Party will ordinarily be two months and to a Survey Party one month.

4. The Collector of the District in which a Juninor Civilian is serving will make arrangements to relieve him of his ordinary duties during the prescribed period; it will also devolve upon the Collector to select the party which he is to join and to fix the date on which he should be relieved of, and on which he should return to, his ordinary duties.

5. After the prescribed course with either a Survey or Settlement Party has been completed, a certificate in the form A appended shall be prepared by the officer in charge of the party and forwarded for countersignature to the Head of his Department, whose duty it will be to satisfy himself as far as possible that the certificate is correct and that the time passed with the party has been profitably employed.

6. A Junior Civilian should ordinarily obtain a certificate from the Survey Department before being attached to a Settlement Party; but if in the district in which he is employed or in its neighbourhood a Settlement Party only is working, the opportunity of serving with it should on no account be lost.

7. The Collectors of Districts will furnish in their Annual Administration Reports full information as to how the orders of Government on this subject have been carried out.

8. The officer in charge of the Settlement Department and the Superintendent of Survey will forward to the Board of Revenue for submission to Government an annual return of all certificates granted during the past official year. The return will be in the form B appended and should reach the Board by the 1st June.

9. From and after the publication of these rules, Junior Civilians coming up for the Higher Standard will be required to answer two papers in addition to those on the other subjects of Examination. One of these papers will be taken from the "Survey Manual" for the Madras Presidency, and the other will be based on the Principles on which Revenue Settlements are conducted.

Vide (1) Selections from the Records of the Madras Government, No. 53.
(2) Departmental Instructions to Deputy Directors of Revenue Settlement.
(3) Mr. Newill's Notes on Soils and their Classification.
(4) Departmental Instructions to Supervisors, Head Classifiers, and Classifiers.
(5) Madras Administration Reports for 1872-73 and 1875-76 under head of "Revenue Settlement."
(6) Standing information for the Madras Presidency under head of Settlement.
(7) Mr. E. Stack's Memorandum on Current Settlements, recorded in G. O., No. 1655, dated 7th November 1881, Revenue Department. The papers will be set, and the answers valued respectively by officers of the Survey and Settlement Departments who will be nominated by the Heads of those departments and be appointed by Government ex-officio members of the Board of Examiners. The maximum number of marks in each case will be 80, and the minimum to entitle a candidate to pass will be 40. The test under Survey will be entitled Test F, and that under Settlement Test G. An Assistant will not be entitled to the increased allowance of Rs. 175 unless and until he passes in the subjects now prescribed.

Additional rules on Survey and Settlement work sanctioned in G. O., Public, dated 12th September 1883, No. 1795.

No Assistant shall be permitted to appear for the Higher Standard Examination unless he can produce certificates of his having undergone the prescribed practical training; and that these certificates, to be granted by the Deputy Director of Revenue Survey or Settlement, as the case may be, shall in each case be accompanied by a report stating the nature of the instruction given. The Assistants will also be required to submit to the Revenue Board, through the Director, proposals for the revision of assessment in three or four villages, attaching a statement of financial results. These proposals should be accompanied by the Director's remarks.

The Government consider that the most suitable time for this special practical training would be when an Assistant has attained six month's standing. Applications to be attached to a Revenue Settlement or Survey party should, before that period of each Assistant Collector's service, be submitted by him to his Collector, who will forward it through the Director of Revenue Settlement or the Superintendent of Revenue Survey, as the case may be, for the sanction of Government in the Revenue Department.

The Government resolve further to extend the period of settlement training from two to three months, in order that Assistants may become thoroughly acquainted with all the processes of Revenue Settlement.

Rules for the encouragement of the study of Oriental languages among the Junior Members of the Madras Civil Service.

13th February, 1883.

1. The following Rules* are prescribed for the encouragement of the study of Oriental languages among the Junior Members of the Madras Civil Service.

* These Rules do not in any way affect the Departmental Examinations in law, language, &c., which Junior Civilians have to pass under the Orders of Government according to what are called 1st and 2nd Standards.

2. The standards of examination, and the donations to be given to successful candidates will be as follows, viz.:—

3. A Civil Servant may present himself for examination in any of the languages enumerated in Rule 3.

4. No Civil Servant will ordinarily be permitted to appear more than twice as a candidate at any examination. But if a special recommendation be made by the Examiners, a candidate will be allowed to appear at a third examination.

5. No Civil Servant will ordinarily be permitted to present himself for the High Proficiency or Honors Examinations after the expiration of ten and fifteen years respectively, counted from the date of his first arrival in India. No exception will be made to this rule on account of leave or any other cause.

Civil Servants may be permitted to attend the examinations after the expiration of the periods specified in this rule, but no reward will be granted to them if they pass; their leave must be limited to such time as may be necessary to enable them to attend the examination, and no extra expense must, under any circumstances, be caused to the State. In such cases it will be within the competence of the Government to refuse applications for permission to attend any particular examination when compliance with such applications would involve inconvenience to the public service.

6. Examinations will be held half-yearly on the 3rd Monday in January and July of each year at Madras. Civil Servants desirous of attending examinations must apply for leave to do so to Government at least three months before the date of examination. Civil Servants attached immediately to the Government of India must apply for leave to the Home Department through the Department of the Government of India under which they are serving, and such applications must be accompanied by a certificate from the local Accountant General that the time of residence mentioned in Rule 6 has not been exceeded.

7. Civilians who are Natives of India and who have entered the service by competition and Native Civilians appointed under the Statutory Rules shall not receive the donations prescribed in the "Rules for the encouragement of the study of Oriental languages among Junior Members of the Civil Service" when such Native Civilians merely pass in the vernacular of the district in which they were born or educated, it being left to the Local Government concerned to determine in each case what languages come within this definition. Probationers shall not be allowed to appear at these examinations.

Rules for the Examination in the Vernacular languages of all Uncovenanted Officers, European or Eurasian.

N. B.—Under G. O., P. W. D., Madras, No. 1,675 W., dated the 7th July 1881, Military Officers in the Public Works Department have the option of passing under these rules.

The following rules are prescribed for the examination in the vernacular* languages of Southern India of officers in the Uncovenanted Civil Service of Government who are Europeans and Eurasians and to whom a knowledge of a vernacular language is necessary for the efficient performance of their duties, provided that these rules, so far as the compulsory examinations are concerned, shall not be held to apply to the case of an officer of more than twelve years' standing who, for special reasons, has been transferred from one class to another and who has passed the examination previously compulsory on him.

*Tamil. Telugu. | Canarese. Malayalam.

2. The officers concerned shall be divided into three classes.

3. The first class shall consist of officers holding appointments usually held by officers of the Covenanted Civil Service.

4. The rules for the examination of these officers shall be the same as those for the Covenanted Civil Service as contained in the Standing Orders of the Board of Revenue.

5. The second class shall consist of Subordinate Judges, Deputy Collectors, and District Munsiffs, and they shall have the option of passing the test for the second class, which shall be a compulsory one and in the language of the district, before entering on their duties after appointment, or within one year thereafter, provided that it shall not be incumbent on an officer to pass in a second vernacular either on transfer from one district to another, or when two vernaculars are recognised as the languages of a district. Nothing in this rule shall prevent European and Eurasian candidates from being admitted to the Special Test Examinations.

6. The following is the test:—

I.—Reading fluently and construing with readiness and accuracy not less than an ordinary page of—

In Tamil.—Kathamanjeri.
In Telugu.—Morris' Selections excluding Vemana Verses.
In Canarese ... { 1. Selections, New Edition. 2. Kathamanjeri.
In Malayalam ... { 1. Pathamala, Part I, pages 1 to 72 inclusive. 2. Panchatantram, Book I.

II.—Translating accurately and with correctness of idiom and grammar not less than half an ordinary page of plain English into the language of examination.

III.—Translating from English to the language of examination a paper of short sentences, the greater part on professional subjects. The sentences must be rendered accurately and idiomatically.

IV.—Reading manuscripts in the language of examination and translating readily and accurately.

V.—Conversing with natives with fluency and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar, and idiom as to be at once intelligible, and in like manner to understand readily all that the natives say.

7. It shall be open to an officer in the second class, after passing the compulsory examination, to pass a test equivalent to the above in any vernacular language other than the language of his district.

8. No pecuniary encouragement will be given for passing either the compulsory or voluntary test as above, but a reward of Rupees 1,000 will be given to an officer who may pass the High Proficiency Test in the vernacular language of the district in which he is, or has been, employed within eight years from the date of appointment to any of the offices specified in Rule 5. The period shall be held to lapse on the date of the Examination immediately following. An officer will not be allowed to go up more than twice for the High Proficiency Examination except under the special recommendation of the Examiners when he shall be allowed a third trial.

9. The following is the High Proficiency Test:—

I.—Reading aloud, fluently, and construing with readiness and accuracy not less than an octavo page of the undermentioned works:—

In Tamil ... { 1. The first three books of the Panchatantram. 2. The whole of Veerada Purvum (Prose).
Telugu ... { 1. Panchatantram. 2. Vemana Verses contained in Telugu Selections.
Canarese ... { 1. Panchatantram. 2. Bhagavat Gita.
Malayalam ... { 1. Vitala Charitram. 2. Keralapazhama. 3. Keralôlpati, first half.

II.—Translating in writing into English with accuracy a passage from some tolerably difficult work not being a test-book.

III.—Translating in writing, with accuracy of grammar and idiom, into the language in which the examination is held an English paper of somewhat difficult style relating exclusively to Indian subjects and as far as possible bearing upon questions connected with the department to which an officer belongs.

IV.—Translating in like manner a paper of English sentences.

V.—Reading aloud fluently and translating correctly and readily two or three manuscripts written in the language in which the examination is held in a plain running office-hand.

VI.—Conversing with the Examiners or with natives of India on such subjects proposed by them as are calculated to test colloquial facility, both as regards scholar-like expression and knowledge of terms and phrases as commonly used by the poorer and uneducated classes.

10. The examination for High Proficiency Standard shall be a voluntary and not a compulsory examination, and such examination shall be open to Europeans and Eurasians whether educated in the country or not.

11. The sanction of Government shall be obtained for the appearance of an officer for examination by the High Proficiency Test. He shall be entitled to his pay for the period of his absence from duty which shall not exceed the time actually required by the circumstances of the case, but he shall be entitled to travelling allowance for a journey more than five miles each way only on the occasion when he is declared to have passed the examination.

12. For the purposes of the compulsory examination an officer already in a department shall be entitled to both pay and travelling allowance, the latter when he has to travel more than five miles each way; but, except where such a course is impracticable, an officer shall always be examined at his station.

13. For the High Proficiency Examination an officer must attend at Madras.

14. The third class shall consist of the following officers:—

(a.) Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents, and Inspectors of Police.
(b.) Superintendents of Central and other Jails.
(c.) Superintendents, Deputy and Assistant Superintendents, Sub-Assistants and Surveyors of the Revenue Survey.
(d.) Directors, Deputy and Assistant Directors of Revenue Settlement.
(e.) Officers of the Engineer and Upper Subordinate Establishment of the Public Works Department.

(g.) Deputy Commissioners of Salt Revenue.
(h.) Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents of Government Farms.
(i.) Medical Officers in charge of Civil Stations and Dispensaries.
(j.) All other officers holding corresponding positions in other departments excepting officers in the Postal, Telegraph, Great Trigonometrical Survey, Topographical Survey, Marine Survey, Geological Survey and Account and Paper Currency Departments and to whom a knowledge of a vernacular language is essential for the performance of their duties.

And they shall have the option of passing the test for the third class, which shall be a compulsory one and in the language of the district, before entering on their duties after appointment, or within one year thereafter, provided that it shall not be incumbent on an officer to pass in a second vernacular language either on transfer from one district to another, or when two vernaculars are recognized as the languages of a district. Nothing in this rule shall prevent European and Eurasian candidates from being admitted to the Special Test Examinations.

15. The following is the test:—*

I.—Reading fairly and translating with accuracy an original native letter or report of moderate length and difficulty in the language of the district.

II.—Dictating an order.

III.—Rendering into English a vernacular report read out.

* Railway Officers are also examined according to this test in Tamil and Telugu.

IV.—Conversing with the Examiner or with natives of India on subjects likely to occur in the performance of professional duty in the transaction of ordinary business or in the course of everyday-life. If the candidate prove his ability to comprehend readily all that is said to him and to make himself fairly intelligible, more should not be required of him.

16. It shall be open to an officer after passing in the compulsory language to pass a test equivalent to the above in any vernacular language other than the language of his district.

17. A Munshi allowance of Rupees 240 to defray the cost of teachers will be given to all officers whose salary is not more than Rupees 200 per mensem on their passing the compulsory test under the condition as to time in Rule 14.

18. A reward of Rupees 500 will be given to an officer who may within five years from the date of appointment to any of the offices specified in Rule 14, pass the compulsory examination for the second class, in the vernacular of the district in which he is, or has been, employed, provided such officer has not received a reward under the Military Examination Rules for passing in the same language by the Higher Standard Test. The period shall be held to lapse on the date of examination immediately following. The examination shall be purely voluntary, and it shall be open to Europeans and Eurasians whether educated in the country or not. No officer shall be permitted to appear more than twice for the Reward Examination except under the special recommendation of the Examiners, when he shall be allowed a third trial.

19. The sanction of Government shall be obtained for the appearance of an Officer for examination for the reward. He shall be entitled to his pay for the period of his absence from duty which shall not exceed the time actually required by the circumstances of the case, but he shall be entitled to travelling allowance for a journey more than five miles each way only on the occasion when he is declared to have passed the examination.

20. For the purposes of the compulsory examination an officer already in a department shall be entitled to both pay and travelling allowance, the latter when he has to travel more than five miles each way, but, except where such a course is impracticable, an officer of the third class shall be examined under both the compulsory and voluntary standards at his station.

21. The whole of the above examinations shall be conducted by the Committee* for the Examination of Assistants, who shall furnish such papers as may be required, aided by officers serving in the districts, and the examinations shall be held twice a year in January and July, the actual dates thereof being fixed by the President of the Committee, and the year of indulgence allowed shall be held to terminate on the date of the examination immediately following the actual termination of the year.

22. The case of an officer failing to pass the compulsory examination within the limits prescribed shall be reported by the Heads of the Departments concerned for the orders of Government.

23. All applications for examination shall be forwarded through the various Heads of Departments to the Secretary to the Committee for the Examination of Assistants,* who shall, when necessary, submit them to Government under the sanction of the President.

24. A report of the results of all examinations shall be made by the Secretary to the Committee for the Examination of Assistants to the various Heads of the Departments concerned; and in addition thereto the Secretary, under the orders of the President, shall communicate to Government the result of every examination when an officer shall have passed for a reward.

25. These rules shall come into force from the 1st February 1880, and they shall bind all officers appointed to the departments concerned from and after that date.

Rules for the examination of Europeans and Eurasians serving in the Education Department.

From the 1st January 1883, the Right Honorable the Governor in Council resolves to prescribe the following rules for the regulation of the examinations to be passed by Europeans and Eurasians serving in the Education Department of the classes hereinafter defined.

2. The officers concerned are divided into two classes:—

I. Officers of the graded list, the Inspectress of Girls' Schools, the Principal of the Normal School for Masters and the Superintendent of the Normal School for Mistresses, Madras, and all officers holding gazetted appointments.

II. Masters, not being gazetted officers, of Second-Grade Colleges and High Schools, and Deputy Inspectors of Schools.

3. The examinations prescribed are as follows:—

Rules for the Examination of Officers of the Superior Forest Staff.

I. The present rules refer to Conservators, Deputy, and Assistant Conservators. The class of Assistant Conservators is recruited by the appointment, by the Secretary of State, of candidates who, after having passed the Entrance Examination held annually at the India Office, have successfully completed the prescribed course of professional training. In special cases Sub-Assistant Conservators may, as the reward of exceptionally meritorious service, or because they are specially qualified for the superior branch, be promoted to the class of Assistant Conservator.

II. Assistant Conservators will be appointed to the third grade, and they will be eligible for promotion successively to the second and first grades on their passing the prescribed examinations and obtaining the needful certificate of qualification from the Conservator.

Promotion will not necessarily be given immediately on passing, or solely in consequence of passing the examinations; the merits and qualifications of each officer will also be taken into consideration.

III. The tests and qualifications required for promotion in the grades of Assistant Conservator are as follows:—

Before promotion to the second grade of Assistant Conservator, an officer must have passed the examination in the language of his district by the Lower Standard, and in the following Acts:—

(1) The Madras Forest Act, 1882.
(2) The Land Acquisition Act, 1870.
(3) The Madras Boundaries Act, 1860.
(4) The Easements Act, 1882.
(5) The Cattle Trespass Act, 1871.
(6) The Penal Code, selected Chapters—
I. Introduction.
II. General explanations.
III. Punishments.
IV. General exceptions.
V. Abetment.
IX. Offences by, or relating to, public servants.
X. Contempt of the lawful authority of public servants.
XI. False evidence and offences against public justice.
XVII. Offences against property.
XVIII. Offences relating to documents and to trade and property marks.
XXIII. Attempt to commit offence.
(7) Code of Criminal Procedure, so far as is necessary in connection with the Forest Act.

He must also have obtained a certificate from the Conservator of Forests that he is competent to hold charge of a Forest-range.

Before promotion to the first grade of Assistant Conservator, an officer must have passed an examination in the language of his district by the Higher Standard, or, in its place, and with the sanction of Government, an examination by the Lower Standard in a second language. He must also pass a Higher Test in the Acts previously mentioned, and an examination in the following revenue matters:—

(1) Standing Orders of the Board of Revenue, selected Chapters—
Assessment and disposal of lands.
Collection of revenue.
Revenue Courts.
Government law-suits.
(2) The system of taluk and village accounts.
(3) Forest rules of the district.
(4) Those Chapters of the Indian Forest Department Code which have been adopted in the Madras Presidency.

And he must satisfy the Conservator, or other officer specially charged with that duty, that he has made himself sufficiently acquainted with the trees and shrubs in the districts in which he has served. He must also have obtained a certificate from the Conservator of Forests in his Circle that he is competent to hold charge of a Forest-district. The examinations in the languages by the Lower and Higher Standards will be those prescribed for Covenanted Civilians.

IV. The certificates of qualification for promotion to the higher grades of Assistant Conservator shall be in the following forms:—

(1) I certify that Mr. A.B., Assistant Conservator of Forests, of the third grade (or second grade), has passed the examinations prescribed for promotion to the second grade (or first grade), namely, in the———language, by the———standard, in law and in Revenue matters, and is sufficiently acquainted with the trees and shrubs in the districts in which he has served.

(2) I certify that I consider Mr. A.B., Assistant Conservator of Forests, of the third grade (or second grade), fully competent to hold charge of a Forest-range (or a Forest-district).

(Signature)
Conservator of Forests——Circle.

The Conservator of Forests may grant the second of these certificates as soon as he considers an officer fit to hold charge of a Forest-range (or a Forest-district), even although such officer may not have then passed in the vernacular, in law, or in the other matters required of him.

V. In the case of Assistant Conservators, who have not been appointed by the Secretary of State, special rules will, if necessary, be laid down regarding the qualifications in languages and other matters to be required for their promotion to the first and second grades of Assistant Conservator, in lieu of those laid down in Rule III. Officers, under the rank of Conservator, transferred from another Presidency, will be required to pass a colloquial examination in the language of their district, before they are eligible for promotion.

VI. As the numbers in the second and third grades of Assistant Conservator are not fixed, officers may be promoted substantively from the third to the second grade on qualifying, irrespective of the numbers in each of the two grades, but no officiating promotions will be made to the second grade of Assistant Conservator. Promotions beyond the second grade of Assistant Conservator will be regulated by vacancies.

VII. In the absence of properly-qualified officers in the higher grades, junior officers will be eligible for promotion. Promotion will not be given, and cannot, under any circumstances, be claimed on grounds of seniority alone.

VIII. An officer officiating in a class divided into grades will officiate in, and be entitled to the pay of, the lowest of such grades, unless it be otherwise specially ordered with the sanction of the Government of India. An officer officiating in a grade of the same class as, and immediately above his own, is entitled to the pay of that grade.

IX. An officiating officer in any case not provided for by Rule VIII will be entitled to an acting allowance of one-fifth of the pay of the grade in which he officiates, or to such other allowance as may be specially fixed by the Government of India.

Tests for Military and Uncovenanted Officers of the higher grade serving in the Police Force, viz.—

TEST I.—LAW, &c.

1. The Law of Evidence (Kindersley).
2. The Code of Criminal Procedure.
3. The Indian Penal Code.
4. The Police Act XXIV of 1859, and other local and special Laws affecting the Police.
5. Criminal Rules of Practice.
6. Police departmental orders and practice.

Candidates going up for examination before appointment will be exempted from Part 6 of Test I (Police departmental orders and practice), but will be required to pass in it after entering the service. Uncovenanted Officers who have passed the test prescribed in January 1867 (Test for Sub-Magistrate, 1st Class), or who, being in the service prefer to select that test, as qualifying for other appointments also, will be required to pass in Part 6 only of Test I, in addition to the other examination. All Officers will be required to pass at the first annual examination after they have completed a year's service in the Police Department.

2. The papers for Test I (Law) will be prepared in communication with the Police Department.

3. For the reasons assigned in G. O., dated the 6th September 1865, No. 1261, His Excellency in Council directs that both Military Officers and Uncovenanted Candidates be allowed access to their law books when under examination.

Examination of Bank Agents and Accountants in the Vernaculars.

Each Agent and Accountant will be required to pass, within a period of twelve months, an examination in the vernacular of the district in which he is located according to the following test:—

1st.—Reading and translating an original native letter of moderate difficulty.

2nd.—Conversing fluently with natives on ordinary subjects.

Each employé who passes in twelve months will be granted a moonshee allowance of Rupees 180, and the circumstance will always be considered in making promotions. The moonshee allowance will not be granted unless the examination is passed within the year, but the test will nevertheless be demanded.

On the transfer of an Agent or Accountant to a branch where a different vernacular language exists, he will be required, under the same conditions, to pass the test in that language.

Banks Agents are allowed to qualify in Hindustani under G. O., Financial No. 475, dated 29th October 1872.

Test for Military Officers.

Higher Standard Test in Tamil, Telugu, Canarese and Malayalum, to be conducted by the Board of Examiners.

The tests for examination in any of these languages are to correspond with those laid down for the examinations by the higher standard in Hindustani agreeably to the test laid down in G. O. G. G. 734, republished in G. O. G., No. 383, dated 27th September 1864, page 587.

Officers may present themselves for these examinations without passing either the higher or lower standard examination in Hindustani.

Any candidate passing an examination under the preceding para. will be entitled to receive a donation of Rs. 500.

The examinations referred to in the two preceding paragraphs will be held half-yearly on the 3rd Monday of January and July, in such place at Madras as the Government may appoint, and at out-stations where the assembly of a Committee is practicable. Applications for such examinations are to be made to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners through the Head of the Department and the Adjutant General, by such date as may be fixed by the Board in the Circular issued on each occasion.

The following are the test books. They must be construed with readiness and accuracy:—

Telugu.—Morris' Selections, excluding the Vemana Verses.
Tamil.—Kathamanjeri.
Canarese ... { Canarese Selections, New Edition. Kathamanjeri.
Malayalam ... { Pathamala, Part, I, pp. 1—72. Punchatantram, Book I.

The following are the tests:—

First. Reading fluently and construing with readiness and accuracy not less than an ordinary page of the test books.

Second. Translating accurately and with correctness of idiom and grammar not less than half an ordinary page of plain English in the language of examination.

Third. Reading fairly and translating readily and correctly manuscripts in the language of examination.

The Examiners will read out the different parts of the evidence for translation by the candidate, to the natives in attendance on the examiners, who will satisfy themselves that the officer's interpretation is clearly and correctly understood. In translating the charge, finding and sentence, the candidate is to be allowed the use of the record.

Fourth. Conversing with natives with fluency and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar and idiom, as to be at once intelligible and in like manner to understand readily all that the natives say.

Warrant officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers on passing the prescribed examination in these languages are eligible to receive the rewards sanctioned for commissioned officers.

There is no prescribed limit of time within which military officers in civil employ are required to pass the higher and lower standard examinations in order to entitle them to the prescribed rewards.

Examination for High Proficiency.

Every candidate offering himself for examination, in any of the undermentioned languages, will, after passing the examination in such language, according to the higher standard, as above, be permitted to offer himself for further examination in the same language, for the purpose of obtaining a certificate of high proficiency.

Tamil	Telugu	Canarese.

The following is the high proficiency test for Tamil, Telugu and Canarese.

I. Reading aloud fluently, and construing with readiness and accuracy not less than an octavo page of the undermentioned works:—

Tamil.—The first three books of the Punchatantram and the whole of Veerada Purvum (prose).

Telugu.—Punchatantram and Vemana verses contained in Telugu selections.

Canarese.—Punchatantram, Bhagavat Gita.

II. Translating in writing into English with accuracy a passage from some tolerably difficult work, not being a test book.

III.—Translating in writing with accuracy of grammar and idiom into the language in which the examination is held, an English paper of somewhat difficult style, relating exclusively to Indian subjects either historical, police or revenue with the addition of extracts from proclamations, treaties or portions of the Penal Code.

IV.—Translating in like manner a paper of English sentences.

V.—Reading aloud fluently and translating correctly and readily two or three manuscripts written in the language in which the examination is held, in a plain running office hand

VI.—Coversing with the examiners or with natives of India, in the presence of the examiners, on such subjects proposed by them as are calculated to test colloquial facility both as regards scholarlike expression and knowledge of terms and phrases as commonly used by the poorer and uneducated classes. The oral translation of the proceedings of a general court-martial should form a portion of this test.

Every candidate who shall pass an examination for a certificate of high proficiency as above, will be entitled to receive a donation of Rupees 1, 500.

Warrant and non-commissioned officers and soldiers are eligible to receive the rewards sanctioned for commissioned officers.

Higher Standard Test in Uriya, Persian and Sanskrit. The Examinations to be conducted by the Board of Examiners.

The tests for examination are to correspond with those laid down for the examinations by the higher standard in Hindustani, as above, agreeably to the test laid down in G. O. G. G. 734, republished in G. O. G. No. 383, dated 27th September 1864, page 587, and under Clause 118 of Indian Army Circulars, dated 31st August 1880.

Any candidate passing an examination under the preceding para. will be entitled to receive a donation of Rs. 500 for Uriya and Persian respectively and of Rs. 600 for Sanskrit.

The following are the test books to be used in the examinations. They must be construed with readiness and accuracy:—

Persian	...	1. Iqd-i-Gul. 2. Iqd-i-Manzum.
Uriya	...	Hitopadesha. Batris Singhásán.
Sanskrit	...	Riju Pátha.

The following are the subjects of examination for the Higher Standard:—

(a) Construing, with readiness and accuracy, from the prescribed text-books.

(b) Translating accurately and with correctness of idiom and grammar not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into the language in which the examination is held.

(c) Reading fairly and translating readily and correctly manuscripts in the above languages. These manuscripts may be selected from the proceedings of a case in court, from reports or petitions addressed to civil and military authorities, from letters passing between natives of India in the ordinary course of business, or from private correspondence. They should not be written with the clearness of a printed book, nor yet in a very cramped or crabbed hand, but in such a manner as fairly and honestly to represent the written characters generally employed.

(d) Conversing with the examiners or with natives of India with fluency, and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar and idiom, as to be at once intelligible. In Sanskrit, the colloquial and manuscript portions must be omitted.

High Proficiency.

The following are the subjects for the High Proficiency examination:—

(a) Viva voce translation from the undermentioned books:—

Uriya	...	Hitopadesha. Batris Singhásana. Rámáyana Sundara Kandá.
Persian	...	Gulistan. Bostan. Mirza Hairat's translation of Malcolm's History of Persia, Vol. II.
Sanskrit	...	Hitopadesha. First nine cantos of Raghuvansa (expurgated edition by Iswara Chandra Vidyasagar).

(b) A written translation of a previously unseen passage in the language (to be selected from the current literature of the day in all languages, except Sanskrit) into English.

(c) A written translation of an English passage into the language.

(d) A written translation of idiomatic sentences in English into the language.

(e) Conversation in the language (except in Sanskrit, and, until colloquial instruction can be given, in Persian).

(f) Reading and translating at sight manuscript in the language.

(g) Dictation in the language of a translation made at sight from a paper in English placed before the candidate.

(h) (In Sanskrit and Persian only) a paper of grammatical questions.

Warrant officers and soldiers of all ranks, on passing the high proficiency examination in any of the above-mentioned languages, are entitled to receive the donation prescribed. Whenever the test is passed with extraordinary credit, the candidate will be presented with a gold medal.

The following are the rewards obtainable:—

High Proficiency	...	Uriya	1,000	With certificate from the presiding examiners.
		Persian	2,000
		Sanskrit	2,000

Examination for Degree of Honor.

(a) The following are the subjects for the Honor examination:—

Persian	...	Akhlak-i-Jaláli Inshá-i-Abúl Fazl. Shah Namah, one vol., or about one-fourth of the whole. Diwán of Háfiz.	Edition recently published and available at the library of the Board of Examiners, Calcutta.
Sanskrit	...	(a) (1st and 2nd Adhyayas of the 1st Ashtaka of the Rigveda Sanhita. (b) Cantos I to VI and XI to XVIII, inclusive of the expurgated edition of the Kiratárjuniya of Iswara Chandra Vidyasagar. (c) Sakuntala Nataka. Edited by Iswara Chandra Vidyasagar.

(b) A written examination in the books, the papers set to include questions on grammar and prosody.

(c) A viva voce examination in the books.

(d) A written translation into English of a difficult unseen passage in prose (to be selected in all languages except Sanskrit from the current literature of the day).

(e) A written translation into English of a difficult unseen passage in verse.

(f) A written translation into the language of a difficult passage in English.

(g) Conversing with accuracy and fluency (except in Sanskrit, and as above noticed, for the present in Persian).

(h) Reading and translating at sight manuscript in the language.

(i) Dictation in the language of a translation made at sight from a paper in English placed before the candidate.

Examinations for a degree of honor will be of a searching nature, and the exercises, both oral and written, must be performed with such excellence as distinctly to establish a claim to eminent proficiency. Examinations can only be held at the presidency towns.

Every candidate obtaining a degree of honor in the Vernacular languages will, in addition to the donation authorized by the Pay Code, be presented with a gold medal by the Government of the presidency in which he is serving. Those who may be debarred by length of service from the pecuniary rewards are still eligible for the gold medal.

(16) In the examinations for high proficiency and honors the papers set will not be confined to a few questions, the correct answering of which is obligatory, to pass a candidate; but they will contain a large selection of topics from which the examiner may choose those which he finds best suited to his attainments, the questions being appraised according to their value by a fixed number of marks referred to the total obtainable for the whole paper. It will be sufficient if the candidate answer, well and fully, enough of them to obtain a certain proportion of the total marks.

The following are the rewards obtainable:—

Degree of Honor	...	Persian	4,000	With diploma from the Government of India.
		Sanskrit	5,000

The rewards for the higher standard (other than Hindustani) and for high proficiency are only passed to an officer whose actual residence in India (including Burma and the Straits, and exclusive of periods passed on leave beyond Indian limits) does not exceed 10 years. The rewards for degree of honor in Persian and Sanskrit are given to officers whose period of actual residence in India as above does not exceed 20 years. The limits of residence in India laid down by this rule may be extended at the discretion of local Government in special cases, where an officer may show proficiency in the acquisition of the language of any district which he has not had the facility of studying until he has been close upon the prescribed time in India.

Tests in the other Languages under Clause 118 of Indian Army Circulars, dated 31st August 1880.

Special arrangements when occasion arises will be made for examinations.

The languages of examination and rewards are as under:—

			Rs.		Rs.

Rules for passing in the Uriya and Khond languages.

The following is a summary of the rules for passing in the Uriya and Khond languages :—

All Military Officers in civil employ are allowed, when serving in Ganjam or Vizagapatam, a reward of Rs. 1,000 for passing the following test in Uriya :—

(i.) Construing with readiness and accuracy, and ability to parse and to explain peculiarities of idiom and grammar, and to answer general miscellaneous questions in "Niti Kotha."

(ii.) Translating into English with accuracy a paper in a plain simple style not taken from the test book.

(iii.) Translating intelligibly and with reasonable accuracy of grammar into the Uriya language, an English paper written in a plain simple style.

(iv.) Translating in like manner, as a test of idiom, a short paper of English phrases into the Uriya language, and answering in writing a few questions on construction and idiom such as are met with in ordinary conversation or writing.

(v.) Making a written abstract in English of the contents of an arzi or other official paper written in the Uriya language, and which is to be read out to the examinee, who shall be at liberty to obtain any verbal explanation he may require from the Munshi, their conversation being held in the Uriya language.

(vi.) Conversing intelligibly on an ordinary subject with a Munshi.

(vii.) Pronunciation.

(viii.) Hand-writing.

A European official when serving in Ganjam or Vizagapatam is entitled to a reward of Rupees 500 for passing a colloquial examination in the Khond language.

Members of the Engineer Establishment of the Public Works Department and all officers of Police, Inspectors inclusive, are entitled to a Munshi allowance of Rupees 180 for passing a colloquial examination in Uriya.

Special Tests in Hindustani (Lower and Higher Standard) for all Officers in Civil employ.

The following are the special Tests in Hindustani for all officers in Civil employ :—

LOWER STANDARD—HINDUSTANI.

1st. Reading fairly and construing with accuracy not less than half an octavo page of the "Hindustani Selections" in the Persian character.

2nd. Conversing with two natives on general subjects and on subjects having reference to the Department to which the candidate belongs or will belong.

HIGHER STANDARD—HINDUSTANI.

1st. Reading fluently and construing with readiness and accuracy, not less than an ordinary page of the Bagh-o-Bahár.

2nd. Translating accurately and with correctness of idiom and grammar, not less than half an ordinary page of plain English upon a Departmental subject into the Hindustani language.

3rd. Translating from English into Hindustani, a paper of short sentences, the greater part on professional subjects, to be rendered accurately and idiomatically.

4th. Reading fairly and translating readily and correctly, Hindustani manuscripts such as the candidate is likely to meet with in the course of every-day business.

5th. Making a written translation of a letter, somewhat more difficult than the manuscripts, of a business character.

6th. Conversing with natives with fluency and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar and idiom, as to be at once intelligible, and, in like manner, to understand readily all that the natives say.

This conversation should be longer and fuller than that prescribed for the Lower Standard. The object desired in it, and in every other part of the examination, should be efficiency. If the candidate has a good command of words, and can make himself readily intelligible, trifling errors in grammar, spelling, &c., are of less importance. No attempt should be made to puzzle the candidate. The object of the examination should be to ascertain what the candidate does know—not what he does not know.

Examination in the Vernaculars of Commissioned Medical Officers posted to Civil charges.

Medical officers posted to Civil charges are entitled to a reward of Rupees 200 for passing a colloquial test in the language of the district within one year of appointment. The languages are to be either Tamil, Telugu, Canarese or Uriya. They are also entitled to a reward of Rupees 500 for passing an examination according to the Military Higher Standard test.

18. Candidates who bring up English must answer the non-language papers in English. Candidates who do not bring up English may answer them in their Vernacular.

19. Candidates who succeed in passing the Examination will be arranged in the following Sections:—

I. { (a) Pupils in Boys' Schools. (b) Pupils in Girls' Schools. | II. Others. { (a) Males. (b) Females.

(Failure in an Extra Branch shall not disqualify a Candidate who has obtained the required minimum in the prescribed number of Branches from passing.)

Those will be ranked in the order of merit in the First Class in each Section who obtain not less than—

(a) Fifty per cent. in Hand-writing and Orthography (A I a) in the case of male and female pupils, and sixty per cent. in Hand-writing and fifty per cent. in Orthography in the case of others;

(b) Thirty-five per cent. of the maximum marks in the remaining subjects of Branch A;

(c) Thirty per cent. of the maximum marks in Branch D if pupils, or one-half if others;

(d) Twenty-five per cent. of the maximum marks in the other Compulsory Branches in which the Candidate has been examined, and in Branch B.-II, III, and IV.

(e) Fifteen per cent. of the maximum marks in an Optional Branch.

(f) Fifty per cent. of the aggregate of marks.

Those will be ranked in the Second Class who obtain not less than—

(a) Forty per cent. of the maximum marks in Hand-writing and Orthography.

(b) Thirty per cent. of the maximum marks in the remaining subjects of Branch A (I or II).

(c) Twenty-five per cent. of the maximum marks in C and D.

(d) Fifteen per cent. of the maximum marks in any other Compulsory Branch in which the Candidate may be examined.

(e) Forty per cent. of the aggregate number of marks.

Those will be ranked in the Third Class who obtain not less than—

(a) Thirty per cent. of the maximum marks in Hand-writing and Orthography.

(b) Twenty-five per cent. of the maximum marks in the remaining subjects of Branch A (I and II).

(c) Fifteen per cent. in any other Compulsory Branch in which the Candidate may be examined.

(d) Thirty per cent. of the aggregate number of marks.

20. Certificates will be issued by the Commissioner to the passed Candidates, specifying the subjects in which they have been examined and the class in which they have been placed.

21. A First-Class Certificate renders the holder eligible, on attaining the age of eighteen, to appointments under Government of the value of Rs. 20 and upwards, provided that any such appointment requires a knowledge of only the language or languages in which the Candidate has passed; and shall suffice for admission to the Special Tests. A First or Second-Class Certificate qualifies the holder for admission to the School of Agriculture.

22. A Candidate who has passed in the Second or Third Class will not be permitted to appear again as a Pupil for the Examination.

23. Candidates who do not pass in the subjects prescribed for Pupils are not eligible for grants under the Seventh Standard for Results in the Grant-in-Aid Code.

24. It is to be distinctly understood that the Government do not undertake to provide appointments for all persons who may pass the prescribed examinations under these rules. Appointments will, as before, be regulated by the requirements of the public service, and will be made by the same authorities as heretofore.

25. In the Educational Department First and Second-Class Certificates will be accepted as equivalent to the general education test for 4th-Grade Schoolmasters and 2nd-Grade Schoolmistresses. In the case, however, of Candidates who have passed only in one language, the Certificate will be held only equivalent to the general education test required for an imperfect Certificate. The holder of a Certificate, whether perfect or imperfect, will still be required in the case of females to pass the following test in Needle-work—gathering, backstitching, working button-holes, and darning on calico, or generally such work as is in the sleeve of a somewhat coarse shirt, or a Native man's jacket.

26. A Certificate will not be granted to a pupil unless the school fee for each of the six months ending December has been paid up. The examination of pupils who have withdrawn from a school without the permission of the Head of that school will be disallowed, but in the case of such pupils as have obtained the necessary permission, the examination will be allowed, provided the difference between the fee for a pupil and that fixed for other Candidates is paid into a Government Treasury before the 31st December next after the examination.

27. No person shall be admitted as a pupil into the Upper Department of a Government or Aided High School, or High School under inspection except with the express sanction of the Director of Public Instruction, unless he or she have passed in the Compulsory Branches prescribed for male and female pupils respectively.

28. Candidates must send in their applications for examination on printed forms, which may be obtained from all Tahsildars and Treasury Deputy Collectors. Distinct forms, marked A, B, C and D respectively, will be supplied to Candidates—

(1) Male pupils of the Upper Fourth Class of a Government School (or of a corresponding class in an Aided or recognized private school) will be required to make their applications on Form A;

(2) Female pupils in similar classes on Form B; and

(3) All other Candidates (who will be designated "Others") on Form C if males, D if females.

C. G. MASTER, Chief Secretary.

Nature of Test.

	Min. Marks.	Max. Marks.
Writing a précis of a set of official papers	50	100

Remarks.

This examination will be in the Vernacular and will be confined to the cases of those persons who, having been continuously in the public service since 1st January 1859, may apply for examination in the Vernacular, and of those who have been permitted by special order of Government to pass I, II, or III in the Vernacular. All persons not coming within these descriptions, must pass the higher test.

General Rules.

1. Candidates will be permitted to take up any any or all of Tests I, II, VI-B, and VII, or Tests III, IV-B, and VII at the same examination. A separate certificate will be granted for each test successfully passed, and no candidate will be required to pass in the same test twice.

2. Candidates will not be permitted to appear for examination in both the lower and the higher standards of any test at the same examination.

3. Candidates will not, under any circumstances whatever, be permitted to come up for examination in a part only of the subjects prescribed for a test.

4. There will be an annual examination in the tests aforesaid open to all servants who have been continuously in the permanent employ of Government since the 1st January 1859, to graduates and under-graduates of an Indian University, and to men who have passed the late General Test Examination or the Middle School Examination in the First Class on production of a vaccination certificate and payment of the prescribed fees.

5. Graduates in Law of an Indian University may be appointed to any of the posts specified under I-A, II-A, and II-B without passing those tests; but, if they are candidates for the posts specified under I-B, that test must be passed. The exemption here given extends only to the tests named, and not to any other tests which may be prescribed for the same posts.

6. Persons in public employ on the 1st January 1859 but who may subsequently have resigned their appointments cannot be admitted to any of the Special Tests unless they have passed either the late General Test or the Middle School Examination in the First Class or the University Entrance Examination, or been specially exempted from passing the Middle School Examination by Government.

7. Special exemption from passing the late General Test or the Middle School Examination includes permission to appear for the Special Tests unless such permission is specially withheld.

Public Works Department.

ENGINEERS.

1. Assistant Engineers may be appointed—
   (1) From Officers of the Corps of Royal Engineers serving under the Government.
   (2) From the Civil Engineers of the Royal Indian Engineering College. See also para. 2.
   (3) From passed students of the Civil Engineering College who may have taken the B. C. E. degree, and to such extent as appointments may be guranteed.
   (4) From other persons, European, East Indian or Native, who may be qualified under paras. 3 4, and 6.

2. Unless otherwise stated in the despatch notifying the appointments of the Civil Engineers from the Royal Indian Engineering College, their pay will be understood to commence from the 1st October, and their service for pension will reckon from the same date, provided they arrive in India before the 1st December. Should they, however, fail to reach India by that date, their pay and service for pension will commence only from the day of their arrival.

3. All Candidates for employment must apply (through their official superiors if in Government employ) to the Chief Engineer who will arrange with the Principal of the Civil Engineering College for their examination, if near, or for the supply of examination papers (to be delivered sealed to the Officer conducting the examination), if the station be at a distance from the College. The Candidates must, in addition to this examination, have a fair colloquial knowledge of one of the Vernacular languages of the Presidency, and must give proof that they have received a liberal education, to which end they must produce satisfactory evidence of having graduated at some recognized University.

4. Civil Engineers, who have actually practised their profession, may be appointed in any grade deemed suitable on first joining the Department.

5. Passed students of the Civil Engineering College may be appointed Apprentices, or, when specially recommended, 3rd grade Assistants, and will be considered on probation for one year. There is no fixed length of service in the grade of Apprentice, but promotions from that grade to Assistant Engineer, 3rd Grade, will be made in the usual way. A report on the fitness or otherwise for promotion of an Apprentice should be submitted to the Government through the Chief Engineer by the Superintending Engineer concerned after six and twelve months' service. If not recommended for promotion after the latter period as unlikely to become an efficient Officer, the Superintending Engineer will consider whether it will be desirable to give the Apprentice any further probationary term, or whether he should cease to belong to the department and report accordingly. See para. 89 of Public Works Code, 1882.

6. Certificates granted by the Principals of the Government Civil Engineering Colleges to Students, of their having passed the prescribed examination, will always be considered sufficient evidence of scientific and educational qualifications. Principals are also authorized to grant Certificates to persons, not Students, who may be examined by them on the application of the Chief Engineer.

UPPER SUBORDINATES.

7. Upper Subordinates may be appointed from the Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers of Her Majesty's Army in India, or from Civilians, European or Native.

8. The qualifications of candidates must be attested by certificates from the Principals of the Government Civil Engineering Colleges.

9. Persons capable of conducting all the practical operations of an ordinary survey with the Theodolite, and of plotting and preparing maps, may be entertained for survey duties, on the same footing as Upper Subordinates. This Establishment will be distinct from the Establishment of Upper Subordinates for general duties.

10. The qualifications of Upper Subordinates required for survey duties will be tested by the Principal of the Civil Engineering College in the same way as those of other Upper Subordinates.

LOWER SUBORDINATES.

11. No person shall be appointed to the Office Establishment in any situation (other than that of Draftsman) the salary of which is Rupees 20 or upwards without having passed the General Test Examination prescribed for the Madras Uncovenanted Service. For appointments of Rs. 50 and upwards clerks will be required to pass an Examination in P. W. Procedure and practice. (See Note below). Clerks drawing a salary of 80 Rupees and upwards are further required to pass the Précis-writing Test. No person shall be appointed as Draftsman in any grade, who does not possess a certificate from the Civil Engineering College of having duly qualified for that grade. All Draftsmen in the Department must pass an examination in Chapters VII and VIII down to para. 1214, of the Public Works Code. Six months from date of appointment will be allowed to pass in each case, after which those not qualified will come under stoppages of 10 per cent. of salary until they pass. The examinations of Draftsmen may be conducted by Executive Engineers or other Officers under whom the Draftsmen are employed, a report being made in each case for registry in the Chief Engineer's Office and communication to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts.

NOTE.—The examination in P. W. procedure referred to above will embrace Chapters I to VI.

" VIII from para. 1215.
" IX.
" XIV omitting the rules under "System of Accounts explained;" "Letters of credit;" "Treatment of materials for works;" "Chain of Accounts."

Dismissal of Uncovenanted Servants.

1. In the Resolution of the Most Noble the Governor General in Council, forwarded with Mr. Under-Secretary Couper's Letter of the 24th February last, the Local Government are directed "to issue the necessary orders for the establishment of a rule to prevent the arbitrary dismissal of Uncovenanted Servants, based on the suggestion of the Honourable Court."

2. The Right Honourable the Governor in Council considers a rule of this nature highly desirable: for, so long as the Uncovenanted Servant can be dismissed without a full inquiry and proof of misconduct, at the will of his superior, his tenure of office is so uncertain that it leads almost necessarily to the habit of looking at office as temporary, and temptation therefore is to make the most of it whilst it is held.

3. The power of arbitrary dismissal also confirms in the whole body of the native servants the habits of servile dependants on a superior, which strikes at the root of all independence and manliness of character.

4. The Governor in Council resolves, therefore, in compliance with the orders of the Government of India, to lay down for the guidance of the Heads of all Offices in the Revenue, Judicial, Military and Public Works branches of the service, the following general principles by which the dismissal of Uncovenanted Servants should in future be regulated.

5. Persons appointed to permanent situations in any department shall not be dismissed but for fraud and dishonesty, continued and wilful negligence, offences involving moral disgrace and proved incompetency.

6. As, under the present rules for the Revenue and Judicial Departments, fines exceeding 10 Rupees cannot be inflicted without the sanction of the Board of Revenue and the High Court respectively, it is simply consistent to provide the same control over the dismissals of persons receiving upwards of 10 Rupees, but it will be sufficient to require returns to be made of such dismissals, specifying the cause of dismissals as falling within one or other of the heads in the above category, and to provide that no dismissal shall be final until the expiration of three months from the date on which the return shall be transmitted, giving the party a right of appeal at any time within that period. It should be understood that dismissal not appealed from, nor objected to, by the controlling Board upon their own review of the returns, are to be taken as confirmed.

7. The rule should be more definite than it is in the Judicial Department as to what servants may be dismissed without the previous consent of the controlling authority. In the Revenue Department, Tahsildars cannot be dismissed without previous sanction, and this ought to be extended to some other responsible situations such as Talug Sheristadars, Peishcar, Huzur Head Gomastah, and the like. A similar rule should be applied to protect Officers of the same grades in the Judicial Department.

8. The Governor in Council considers it but just and proper that greater protection should be given to old servants, and with this view he directs that the previous sanction of the controlling authority should be indispensable to the dismissal of any servant of 15 years' standing receiving a certain salary, say, 25 Rupees a month; but the amount will be determined on the report of, or according to, the opinion of the High Court and Board of Revenue, who will confer together and report on this point.

9. In every case, the specific grounds upon which it is proposed to dismiss any servant, should be reduced to writing and furnished to him, and the answer or defence or explanation of the party taken in writing, and the final decision of the superior recorded in writing. It will not be absolutely necessary for every head of charge to be formally proved by evidence, but where a specific fraudulent act is charged, of course it should be proved in the presence of the party accused and subject to his cross-examination, and so with other specific acts susceptible of proof by the evidence of witnesses upon which accusations within the category are built; but the charges will often be matter of inference from circumstances not capable of formal proof, but not less leading to a moral conviction. The rule, therefore, on this head, ought not to be rigorous.

10. As connected with this subject, the Governor in Council takes the opportunity of declaring the practice of officers introducing their own dependants or followers from other districts into higher and responsible trusts under them in a new office, thus superseding the old servants of the office, to be very objectionable; and he accordingly resolves that this source of arbitrary removal be at once checked. With regard to the highest offices in the Revenue Department, they are subject to the confirmation of the Board of Revenue, and it will be the duty of the Board to prevent the appointment of a follower of the Collector without good and sufficient reason being assigned, contrary to the declared sense of Government on the subject. The appointment of Deputy Sheristadar should also be made subject to the confirmation of the Board; but it will be sufficient when an officer on that grade is appointed, that the appointment shall be reported to the Board with a statement of his previous services, that the Board may interfere if the appointment shall appear objectionable on the ground of the declaration of Government.

11. This course should also be followed in regard to the appointment of the Sheristadars and others of the Judicial Courts.

12. With regard to offices which are subject to no controlling authority, the Government will directly exercise the same measure of control as is proposed to be exercised by the High Court and the Board of Revenue respectively, in regard to the Heads of Offices subordinate to them.

13. The High Court and the Board of Revenue, as well as other controlling authorities, will accordingly prepare and submit subsidiary rules for giving effect to the foregoing views and orders of Government.

SEA CUSTOM HOUSE RULES.

Imports.

APPLICATIONS.—All applications to the Custom House, except Import and Export Summary and duplicate Bill of Entry and Shipping Bill, must be on stamped paper. [Import applications to be printed in black, and Export in red ink.] Bills of Entry, Shipping Bills, Passes and other applications must be printed on English Foolscap paper, or double double pot paper.

ARMS AND AMMUNITION.—A License is required for the importation of Arms and Ammunition. No License required for ordinary Fowling Pieces and gunpowder for sporting purpose imported by private persons in reasonable quantities for their own use.

Act XI of 1878.

The Collector may, however, detain such articles if he thinks proper, pending a reference to Government.

BAGGAGE.—Passengers' Baggage may be landed at any time under the following Rules:—

All Baggage except such as arrives from any British Port in India is to be brought to the Custom House. Articles liable to duty must be cleared only during Office hours.

Baggage must be actually examined. At the discretion of the Collector or Deputy, list of contents and declaration of value will be received, but only during Office hours.

Prohibited or dutiable goods concealed among apparel, &c., or found after a declaration from the owner that he possesses nothing liable to duty, shall be confiscated together with the other contents of the package in which they are found, and the owner shall also be liable to fine.

Passengers will be permitted to clear duty free, new Wearing Apparel and Millinery brought out for personal use.

Articles brought out for friends or relations are liable to duty.

A Military Officer, in addition to his uniform and accoutrements, shall be allowed to clear free of duty, a revolver, or a pair of pistols, if accompanying the owner.

Orders for Baggage Superintendent as to Baggage of Passengers by Steamers.

1. For the accommodation of Passengers by Steamers, the Baggage Superintendent and Assistants will be in attendance at the Custom House on the arrival of the Steamer at any hour between sunrise and sunset, to clear at once all Baggage not liable to duty.

2. The Baggage Superintendent shall pass only Baggage not liable to duty, after actual examination of each box or package.

3. On a Passenger's Baggage being brought to the Custom House he shall be furnished with the usual printed notice, and must enter on the back the particulars therein required, signing the same.

Articles liable to duty and closed-up cases shall only be passed during Office hours, when the Baggage Superintendent will at once show the dutiable articles to the Appraiser, who shall satisfy himself as to the valuation, after which the "Notice" paper is to be sent to the Collector or Deputy, that the duty may be levied. If the Baggage contains nothing dutiable, the Baggage Superintendent shall sign it "Examined, nothing dutiable." Any Package containing articles not liable to duty and which a Passenger may wish to take away with him at once, must be opened and submitted to actual examination.

4. The Baggage Superintendent must certify at the foot of the list signed by each Passenger what packages he has passed, and what articles or cases have been detained for duty. These lists are to be transmitted without delay to the Collector or Deputy.

5. The Baggage Superintendent is to be assisted on the arrival of each Steamer by a Tide Waiter, Duffadar and two Peons. Any inconvenience arising to Passengers from non-attendance of these Officers, shall be severely noticed.

6. The object of the above Rules is to enable Passengers landing out of Office hours to clear and remove at once as much of their baggage as possible; any Passenger, who may prefer doing so, is at liberty to leave his baggage or any part of it at the Custom House, and clear it afterwards during Office hours.

Coasting Steamers.

RULES.

The following rules for the grant of general passes are also declared to be rules made under the provisions of Section 157 of the Customs Act, and any contravention thereof will render the Master and Agents of the steam ship concerned liable to the penalty prescribed by the Act. General passes (Form A attached) will be granted or renewed by the Collector of Sea Customs, Madras, on application, and he will at once give information of their issue, through the Collectors of Coast Districts, to the Customs Officer at each port by whom a register of passes in force should be maintained. Prior to the issue of the general pass, the Agents of the steam ship for which the pass is required shall deposit with the Collector of Customs, Madras, such sum as may appear reasonable with reference to the number of the coasting steam vessels of the owners and their estimated transactions, as a guarantee for the due fulfilment of the terms and conditions herein named; and all penalties adjudged against the owners or their servants will forthwith be deducted from this deposit.

2. In the event of the steamer for which a general pass has been granted, arriving from customs ports without having touched at any foreign port and not having on board goods, subject to duty, the discharge of her cargo is allowed immediately on her arrival, whether by day or night, and before her entry at the Custom House, the removal of such goods being permitted without previous clearance for home consumption, and without any direct supervision of a Customs Officer. At the port of Madras, however, subject to the right of the Master Attendant to regulate the boat traffic on considerations of weather, goods may be landed on the beach or at the pier at any hour between 6 A.M. and 6 P.M., or sunrise and sunset, but not afterwards unless the cargo boats are alongside the pier by 6 o'clock P.M., in which case they shall be entitled to discharge at the pier the same evening. Goods imported by contract mail vessels, however, may be discharged at the pier up to 9 P.M., on Sundays and holidays, as well as on ordinary week-days. Passengers may land at any hour, provided that no passenger shall be compelled to land after 6 P.M. Passengers' baggage may be landed on the beach or at the pier only between the hours of 6 A.M and 6 P.M., provided that passengers will be allowed to land at the pier up to 9 P.M., with a portmanteau and hand-bag merely, a Custom House Officer being appointed to pass such baggage between the hours of 5 P.M. and 9 P.M. The Collector of Sea Customs may, at his discretion, extend the time for the landing of goods and passengers' baggage on good cause for granting the extension being shown. The regulated fees must be paid to the subordinates of the Customs and Marine Departments in accordance with the prescribed rules in consideration of the extra labor entailed, whenever they are called upon to work over-time or on Sundays or holidays under the orders of the officer in charge of the Custom House.

3. A cargo book shall be kept on board the steamer in the form marked B (herewith attached) showing distinctly what goods have been brought from each customs port, and a copy of such cargo book supported by the passes granted at such port of lading duly endorsed with the quantities received on each, shall be furnished to the Customs authorities within twenty-four hours after the arrival of the steam vessel within the limits of any customs port.

4. Should the steamer touch at a foreign port or ports in addition to a customs port, or have on board goods which are subject to duty, the following procedure shall be observed in addition to the requirements mentioned in the preceding rules with respect to goods arriving from customs ports only.

5. That portion of the cargo from customs ports may be delivered immediately on arrival as if the vessel had come from customs ports only, but no goods which may have been shipped at a foreign port or imported from a foreign port and transhipped on board the steamer at a customs port, or which may otherwise be subject to duty of customs or excise shall be unladen without a written authority from the Customs Collector, and when such authority has been granted, the goods shall forthwith be brought to the Custom House and there deposited at the risk and expense of the owners of the vessel until delivery is ordered.

6. The particulars of all goods which are subject to duty, or which may have been transhipped at any customs port, or shipped at, or transhipped from, any foreign port, shall be legibly entered in the cargo book of the vessel alluded to in Rule 3, and the Commander is required to deliver to the officer of Customs sent on board for that purpose, and if no officer is sent on board, to the chief Customs Officer of the port, an abstract in Form C attached hereto from the cargo book of the vessel duly signed containing a true specification of all dutiable cargo.

7. The owners of the vessel are also required to undertake that within twenty-four hours after the departure of the steamer from a foreign port, a certificate from the chief Customs authority at such port shall be despatched direct to the Customs authorities of every customs port for which goods are laden, showing the marks and numbers of the packages, as well as the quantity and description of contents thereof.

8. In the event of any special permission being granted to land any goods imported from any foreign port direct into the godowns of the owners of the vessel instead of their being brought to the Custom House as directed in Rule 5, they should undertake that such goods shall not be delivered to the consignees, unless Custom House passes duly signed by the Customs Collector are produced, and that before the delivery of such goods, measures shall be taken by them to check the class or description, the quantity or weight, and so far as practicable, the quality of the goods as well, and further the Custom House passes for goods from a foreign port or ports should be properly endorsed by the delivering officer of the owners of the vessel showing the date of delivery and the actual quantity delivered, and these passes shall then be produced to the Collector of Customs within five clear working days after the steamer shall have left the port.

9. Exports.—The owners of the vessel are allowed to receive on board the steamer free or dutiable goods for any port for which the general pass is applicable, either by day or night, without any direct supervision of a Customs Officer, but no goods, whether free or dutiable, shall be received on board of the vessel at any customs port, unless Custom House passes are produced at time of shipment. At the port of Madras, however, goods can be shipped only from 6 A.M. to 6 P.M., or from sunrise to sunset, subject to the right of the Master Attendant to regulate the boat traffic on considerations of weather. The Collector of Sea Customs, Madras, may extend the time for the shipping of goods on good cause for granting the extension being shown. Goods to be exported on contract mail vessels may be shipped at the pier up to 9 P.M on Sundays and holidays, as well as on ordinary week-days.

10. A cargo book shall be kept on board the steamer in the form marked B in which all goods received on board are to be duly entered with the full particulars required by the form.

11. A copy of the cargo book prescribed in the preceding rule, duly authenticated by the Commander and countersigned by the owners of the vessel, should be furnished to the Collector of Customs within five clear working days after the departure of the steamer from each customs port, provided that the vessel shall not leave any customs port without obtaining the port clearance which will be issued in Form D on application made by the Master or Agent.

12. If, in consequence of any error on the part of the owners of the vessel or their servants, the Customs authorities at any customs port should erroneously grant any refund, the owners of the vessel are required to repay to the Customs authorities the amount so erroneously refunded.

13. In the event of the steamer proceeding from a customs port to a foreign port, the owners of the vessel shall within one month after her departure from such foreign port produce to the Customs authorities at each port of shipment a certificate in form marked E (attached herewith) from the Customs authorities at such foreign port, showing the amount of cargo discharged at such foreign port from the aforesaid customs port.

14. General.—The general pass shall not be transferable, and shall hold good for the coasting steam vessel, only in respect of which it is granted and may be suspended or revoked by the Board of Revenue, the chief Customs authority of the Presidency, for any irregularity committed by the owners of the vessel or any of their employés.

15. The general pass shall remain in the custody of the Commander or other responsible officer on board the steam-ship and shall be produced on demand by any duly authorized officer of the Sea Customs.

16. The articles expressed in the list annexed to this rule, whether dutiable or free, shall not be landed at the port of Madras, unless a special permit to land has been previously obtained from the officer in charge of the Custom House; and they shall be carried to such place as may be appointed by him. At the out-ports in the Presidency of Madras a special permit is not necessary, but a special notice that such articles (to be expressed in detail) are on board destined for the port shall be delivered by the Commander or Agent to the officer in charge of the Custom House, as soon as possible, after the arrival of the vessel; and such goods shall be landed and kept until duly passed only at such place or places as may be appointed for the purpose by the officer in charge of the Custom House. Breach of this rule will entail fine or detention, or confiscation of the articles.

List of Articles.—Ammunition, chemicals, earth-oil, or mineral, naptha, fireworks, fulminating powder, guncotton, gunpowder, kerosine-oil, lucifer matches (Congreve), nitroglycirine, phosphorus, pitch, sulphuric acid, tar, turpentine and other dangerous substances.

FORM A.

General Pass Form.

This General Pass is granted to to enable them to ply the steam ship of tons burthen, Captain under the provisions of Section 164 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, and on the conditions contained in the rules annexed and subject to all local laws, rules, and regulations existing for the time being at each or any of the several ports of call, which may be appended from time to time to this pass by the Customs authorities at any of the aforesaid ports of call.

2. This pass will be current for a period of one year from the date hereof, and it may be renewed on application by the owner or agent of the vessel at the end of that period.

3. It will be in force during the aforesaid period so long as the S.S. continues to be a coasting vessel within the meaning of Act VIII of 1878, and likewise continues in any of the British Indian Customs Ports in respect to cargo carried between the ports of Calcutta, Chittagong and the several Customs and Foreign Ports on the Coromandel and Malabar Coasts, the Andaman Islands and the several ports in the Island of Ceylon. It will likewise continue in force during the said period of one year from date hereof during the stay of the steam ship in any British Indian Customs Ports in respect to cargo being shipped thence to any of the ports of British Burma, but is suspended during the stay of that vessel at any of the ports of British Burma.

NOTICE.

Under orders of the Government of India and the instructions of the Local Government and the Board of Revenue, notice is hereby given to the Trade that the present forms of Shipping Bills and Bills of Entry will not be admitted at the Custom House from and after the 15th June 1876. Blank Forms of Bills to be used are herewith attached for information.

2. They consist, for Imports of a Bill of Entry and Import Summary, and for Exports of a Shipping Bill and Export Summary.

3. The Bills of Entry and Shipping Bills should, from the 15th June, be presented in duplicate* accompanied by the respective summaries, which latter, however, need not be in duplicate. Thus for Imports, the Bill of Entry in duplicate and the Import Summary should be presented. Similarly for Exports, the Shipping Bill in duplicate and Export Summary, in each case, making three documents.

* The duplicate takes the place of the present Pass.

4. All goods imported or exported must be accurately described under the headings or sub-headings of Schedule A,† and all particulars mentioned in the 1st and 2nd columns of that Schedule must be given.

† Already circulated to the Trade; and herewith attached.

5. Further, Importers and Exporters will be required to state whether the ship is a steamer or sailing vessel, the flag it sails under, and whether it has passed or is intended to pass through the Suez Canal. The detail of port or place of destination or from whence the vessel has arrived must be filled with due advertence to Schedule B.‡ These particulars should be entered in the headings of the Bill of Entry and of the Import and Export Summaries, and in columns § 1, 2, and 4 of the Shipping Bills.

‡ Already circulated to the Trade; and herewith attached.

§ In col. 1,—besides the name of the vessel it must be noted whether it is a steamer or a sailing vessel. In col. 2,—the nationality of the vessel as the heading indicates. In col. 4,—the detail of port or place must be filled in and it must also be noted whether the vessel is to pass through the Suez Canal or not.

6. In columns 5 and 6 of the Bill of Entry, the rate of value and the total value, either market or tariff, on which the duty is collected must be entered, and in column 7 the declared real value under Section 29 of Act VIII of 1878. Where the duty is leviable on the market value, column 7 will simply reproduce the figures in column 6. These remarks apply to columns 9, 10, and 11 of the Shipping Bill.

7. The declared real value, under Section 29 of Act VIII of 1878, must be accurately and faithfully entered, whether the duty is collected on that amount or not, and whether the goods are free or dutiable. Any misstatement on this point will render the declarer liable to penalties under Section 167—72 clause the provisions of which will be strictly enforced.

8. The columns headed rate of duty and amount of duty in the Import and Export Summaries should be left blank, and will be filled in by the Officers of the Custom House.

9. All documents not filled up and presented strictly in accordance with the foregoing rules will be rejected, and examination will be made of any goods respecting which the necessary information cannot be otherwise ascertained.

4. Trade with an inland country must be classed under the country to which belongs the port at which the articles are landed.

5. Trade with the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, as well as with the Laccadives, and with Minicoy (one of the Maldives), to be treated as Coasting or Interportal.

6. Trade with ports in India subject to Foreign Governments, European or Native, to be treated as "Foreign Coasting" under a separate head from the Coasting Trade of British India.

7. The present heads "Persian Gulf" and "Red Sea" disappear, the trade being classed under the countries to which the ports of the adjacent coasts belong.

8. Under "Siam" is to be classed the trade between British Burmah and the Island of Junk, Ceylon or Salang.

After 3½ o'clock afternoon, no Cash can be received or Bills of Duties settled. Parties therefore who are desirous of clearing Goods on private packages, are recommended to apply early in the day for the same. This rule is necessary to enable the accounts of the day to be closed in the evening, which could not be done were Duty received until a late hour.

All Pass Notes for every description of Goods imported or exported must be signed either by the Collector or Deputy Collector; no other signature shall authorize the Gatekeepers or other Custom House Officers to pass Goods.

FEES LEVIED AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—For duplicate of any certificate, Port-clearance or other necessary documents, (original having been lost), 5 Rupees.

Sec. 200, Act VIII of 1878.

For Supplemental Manifest to supply inadvertent omissions in the original and second Port-clearance, not exceeding 10 Rupees.

A fee of one Rupee is charged for granting Certificates.

N.B.—The Collector is not bound to furnish duplicates of any document, but if satisfied that no fraud has been committed or is intended, he may grant them.

FREE GOODS.—All articles other than those specified in Schedules II and III of Act XI of 1882, are free.

Godown Rent at the Madras Custom House.

Rule 1.—Goods shall be allowed to remain for four days in the Custon House free of charge.

Rule 2.—After that period, single rates shall be charged for seven days.

Rule 3.—Treble rates shall be charged after a fortnight.

Rule 4.—The day of landing and that of removal to be reckoned as one day; Sundays and holidays are not reckoned in the rent-free terms. When delay is caused by the inability of the Custom House Officers to examine and pass the Goods, such delay is not to be reckoned.

The object in charging Godown rent is to induce parties to clear their Goods with despatch, and to prevent the yard from being needlessly encumbered.

SIR,

(We or I) hereby authorize you to pay to——————— all drawbacks, refunds, and other moneys which may be due to (us or me) from the Madras Custom House, for which he shall produce receipts purporting to be (our or my) receipts.

MADRAS,
The——of——187 .

Your obedient Servant,

This document must bear a one Anna Stamp, and is required only from mercantile Firms and persons engaged in Trade, who have frequent transactions with the Custom House, and not from private individuals who are expected to transact their business personally or to give a special order for each occasion.

Section 167—clause 9 of Act VIII of 1878. Any person making an unauthorized declaration of value is liable to a penalty not exceeding Rupees 1,000.

APPEAL.—All disputes regarding matters not specially provided for by law between an Officer of Customs and another person, has to be decided by the Revenue Board, subject to an appeal to Government, see Section 188, of Act VIII of 1878. This section does not apply to cases regularly adjudicated, such as smuggling, &c., but to differences of opinion as to the construction of the Act, rates of duty, classification of Goods, &c., appeals are provided for in the former cases by Section CLXXXII.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT.—Consignments for the use of the French Government Officers, from one French Settlement in India to another, are allowed to pass free through the British Custom Houses at the Ports under certificate and seals.—Board's Circular Order, No. 4,392, 8th July 1862.

HOLIDAYS AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—In addition to Her Majesty's Birthday, Christmas and New Year's days, those days on which the Madras Bank and the Chamber of Commerce close their Offices, as notified by their Advertisements in the Government Gazette, are considered complete Holidays at the Custom House.

CUSTOM-HOUSE OFFICIALS who may be required to transact business at the Custom House out of Office-hours for the convenience of ship-owners and others, shall be entitled to extra remuneration according to the following scale :—

From 6 to 7-30 A.M. or 5 to 7 P.M.....Half a day's pay.
From 6 to 9-30 A.M. or 5 to 9 P.M. or later.....One day's pay.

One day's full pay to all Conicopolies and Peons for working out of Office-hours, either morning or evening.

On Sundays and close-holidays, two days' full pay for all Customs Officers, including Conicopolies and Peons.

2. These rules are applicable to all ports.

OPIUM may be imported on payment of a duty of 24 Rupees per seer of 80 tolas and an export duty of 600 Rupees per chest of 2 Indian Maunds. In the latter case a Pass should be obtained from an officer appointed in this behalf by the Local Government.

PROHIBITIONS OR RESTRICTIONS.—Section 19 of Act VIII of 1878 shall be deemed to authorize and to have always authorized the Governor-General in Council to prohibit or restrict the importation or exportation by sea or by land, or both by sea and by land, of any particular class of Goods.—Act XIV of 1871.

STORES IMPORTED BY GOVERNMENT are landed duty free, but when articles are purchased by Government in this country after duty has been paid on them, the price should be paid including the duty.—Government Order, 26th August, 1854, No. 1,557.

Rules for Godown Rent for Goods left in Custom Houses at the several Out-ports.

1. Goods will be allowed to remain in the Custom House free of charge for three days only.
2. After that period, single rates on each package, for four days.
3. After that, treble rates.
4. The day of landing and that of removal to be reckoned as one day—Sundays and holidays are not reckoned in the rent-free terms. When the delay is caused by the inability of the Custom House Officers to examine and pass the Goods, such delay is not to be reckoned.

N.B.—The foregoing rules do not apply to personal effects until the fifteenth day after their deposit in the Custom House.

ACT XI OF 1882.

(RECEIVED THE ASSENT OF THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL ON THE 10TH MARCH 1882.)

THE INDIAN TARIFF ACT, 1882.

An Act to amend the law relating to Customs Duties, and for other purposes.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the law relating to the duties of customs on goods imported and exported by sea, and to provide for the levy of duties on goods crossing the frontier of certain foreign European Settlements in India and of the territories of certain Native Chiefs and for fixing a maximum duty of excise on spirit manufactured in British India; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Indian Tariff Act, 1882."

Local extent.

It extends to the whole of British India except Aden:

Commencement.

and it shall come into force on the passing thereof.

Repeal of Acts.

2. The Acts mentioned in the first schedule hereto annexed are repealed to the extent specified therein:

Saving clause.

But all notifications published, and rules and orders made, under any of such Acts, and now in force, shall, so far as they are consistent herewith, be deemed to have been respectively published and made hereunder:

All references made to the Indian Tariff Act, 1875, in Acts or Regulations passed before this Act comes into force, shall be deemed to be made to this Act:

And nothing herein contained authorizes the levy of duties of customs on any article carried from one port in British India to another, except salt, opium and spirit.

Duties specified in schedules to be levied.

3. There shall be levied and collected, in every port to which this Act applies, the duties specified in the second and third schedules hereto annexed.

Export of pepper from Cochin.

4. On all pepper exported by sea from the port of Cochin there shall be levied such duty not exceeding nine rupees per khandi as the Governor of Fort St. George in Council from time to time determines; and at the close of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Customs-collector at the said port shall, after deducting the expenses of collection, pay the duty collected under this section to the Governments of Travancore and Cochin in such proportion and in such manner as the Governor of Fort St. George in Council from time to time directs.

Duties on goods crossing frontiers

5. Duties of customs shall be levied at the rates respectively prescribed in the second and third schedules hereto annexed on goods passing by land out of or into—

of foreign European Settlements in Presidency of Madras;

(a) Foreign European Settlements situate on the line of coast within the limits of the Presidency of Fort St. George; of foreign territory.

(b) any territory declared, under the power next hereinafter conferred, to be foreign territory.

Power to declare territory foreign.

Subject to the control of the Governor-General in Council, the Governor of Fort St. George in Council and the Governor of Bombay in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the local official Gazette, respectively declare that the territory of any Native Chief, situate within, or bordering on, the territories respectively administered by such Governors, but not subject to the jurisdiction of the Courts and Civil authorities of such territories, shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to be foreign territory.

The Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that the territory of any other Native Chief shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to be foreign territory.

Excise-duty on spirit distilled in British India.

6. And whereas it is expedient that the duty of excise on spirit distilled in British India should bear a due proportion to the customs-duty on spirit imported into British India, it is hereby further enacted as follows:—

Subject to any general rules or special orders which the Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, make in this behalf, the Local Government may, from time to time by notification in the local official Gazette, fix the duty of excise leviable on spirit manufactured in all or any of the distilleries situate in the territories under its administration, or in any part of such territories, at any rate not exceeding the rate fixed for imported spirit by the second schedule hereto annexed; and all provisions now in force as to the levy of duty now chargeable on spirit shall apply to spirit upon which the duty declared under this section has not been paid.

In Act No. XVI of 1863, Section one, for the words "calculated at ten" the words "not exceeding five" shall be substituted.

Duty on spirit, opium and salt when protected by a certificate.

7. Spirit, opium and salt imported from any port in British India, and protected by the certificate of an officer empowered in that behalf by the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government, are chargeable with only the amount, if any, by which the duty leviable thereon under the second schedule hereto annexed exceeds the duty shown by such certificate to have been already paid in respect thereof.

The amount, if any, paid to the Government as the price of such opium or salt is not duty within the meaning of this section.

Application of certain provisions as to duties and goods.

8. So far as regards the Presidency of Fort St George, the unrepealed provisions of Act No. VI of 1844, and so far as regards the Presidency of Bombay, the unrepealed provisions of Act No. XXIX of 1857, relating to the levy of duties and to dutiable goods, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to duties levied and goods liable to duty under or by virtue of Section five, Clause (b.)

Power to cancel notifications.

9. All notifications published hereunder may be cancelled by the authority publishing the same.

SIMLA, THE 5TH AUGUST, 1875.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 6, Clause (b), of the Indian Tariff Act 1875, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct as follows:

(1).—No import duty shall be levied on salted fish imported from any port in any part of British India except British Burmah and Sindh, and protected by the certificate of an officer empowered in that behalf by the Local Government, that duty has been paid upon the salt used in curing such fish.

(2).—The duty chargeable on fish thus protected and imported from any port in Sindh shall be nine annas a hundredweight.

(3).—Salt, opium, and spirit imported from any port in British India, and protected by the certificate of an officer empowered in that behalf by the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government, shall be chargeable with only the amount, if any, by which the duty leviable thereon under Schedule A to the said Act exceeds the duty shown by such certificate to have been already paid in respect of the article thus protected. Election of Commissioners.

In order to be qualified to be elected a Commissioner, a person must

(a) be of the male sex;
(b) have completed his twenty-fifth year;
(c) be acquainted with the English language;
(d) be resident in the City of Madras or within two miles of the limits thereof; and must
(e) have paid for the year preceding that in which the election takes place, taxes due under this or any previous Act, in respect of such year, to the aggregate amount of not less than one hundred Rupees.

When an undivided Hindu family has paid the taxes mentioned in Clause (e), any one member thereof, having the other qualifications required, shall be eligible to be elected a Commissioner.

No officer or servant of the Municipality shall be qualified to be a Commissioner so long as he remains in the employ of the Municipality, except the President and Vice-Presidents.

Of the thirty-two non-official Commissioners, sixteen shall be nominated by the Governor in Council.

A Commissioner nominated under this section need not be a resident in the division for which he is nominated.

The other sixteen non-official Commissioners shall be elected for the several divisions of the City by voters qualified as follows :—

In order to be a qualified voter under this section, a person must

(a) be of the male sex ;
(b) have completed his twenty-first year ;
(c) reside within the division for the Commissioner of which he votes, and have paid for the year preceding that in which he votes, taxes under this or any previous Act due in respect of such year to the aggregate amount of not less than twenty-five Rupees ; or
(d) have paid for the year preceding that in which he votes, house-tax to an amount not less than twenty-five Rupees in respect of immovable property belonging to him situate in such division ; or
(e) have been, for the six months immediately preceding, the occupier of a house in the division for which he desires to vote at a monthly rental of not less than twenty-five Rupees.

A person owning immoveable property in more divisions than one may vote in each division in which he possesses the necessary qualification.

Tax on Arts, Professions, Trades and Callings.

This tax is payable in two equal moieties half-yearly after the person liable to pay it has exercised any of the trades, &c., specified in the following Schedule A, for sixty days in the half-year.

Non-payment of the tax within fifteen days from the date of service of a Notice by the President renders the defaulter liable, by prosecution before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding twice the amount of tax due, besides the payment of the tax.

Every member of a firm, or of an undivided Hindu family, is separately liable.

Persons coming under several designations are chargeable under such one of such designations or classes as will render him liable to the highest amount of tax.

Tax on Salaries of Persons exempted from payment under the foregoing Schedule.

Not to exceed one-half per cent. upon salaries exceeding five hundred rupees per mensem.

The procedure as to the collection and payment of this tax is the same as that above stated under "Tax on Arts, Professions, Trades and Callings."

Tax on Houses, Buildings, and Lands.

The Commissioners may impose an annual tax upon all houses, buildings, and lands, excepting light-houses, public piers, wharves, jetties, and all other works connected with the Harbour of Madras, all places of public worship, and all burial and burning-grounds.

Such tax shall not exceed 10* per cent. of the annual value of the property on which it is imposed.

The President may, in lieu of such tax, levy upon any lands unappropriated to any building, or occupied by native huts with their appurtenances, a fixed annual tax not exceeding four Rupees for every ground of such lands.

The tax shall be payable by the owners of the said houses, buildings and lands, respectively, in two equal moieties.

The moiety for each half-year shall be payable within fifteen days after the commencement of such half-year.

The President shall exempt from tax any house, building or land, the annual value whereof is less than fourteen Rupees, if it be the owner's sole property liable to tax under this Act.

The gross annual rent at which a house, building or land might reasonably be expected to let from month to month or from year to year, shall, for the purposes of assessment under this Act, be deemed to be the annual value of such house, building or land.

The value of a house, building or land so estimated, shall not include the value of any machinery contained therein or thereon.

The President shall give public notice of a day, not being less than fifteen days from the publication of such notice, when he will proceed to revise the said valuation and measurement and assessment; and in all cases in which any property is for the first time assessed, or in which the assessment of any property is increased, he shall give special notice thereof to the owner or occupier of such property.

Such special notice shall, in the case of an increased assessment, state the grounds of the increase.

All complaints against any valuation or measurement and assessment shall be made to the President by application in writing left at the office of the Commissioners three days before the day fixed in the said notice for the revising of the said valuation or measurement and assessment, and shall be dealt with as an application for revision.

When any building has been vacant for thirty consecutive days in any half-year, the President shall remit so much, not exceeding one moiety of the tax due for that half-year, as is proportionate to the number of days during which such building has been vacant, if the owner of such building, or his agent, has given to the President notice in writing that such building is vacant.

The period in respect of which the remission is made shall be calculated from the date of the delivery of such notice to the President, and every such notice shall expire with the half-year during which it is so delivered, and shall have no effect thereafter.

* This maximum rate is now levied

When any building is built, rebuilt or enlarged, the owner shall give notice thereof in writing to the President within fifteen days from the date of completion of such building, rebuilding or enlargement, or from the date of occupation of such building, whichever date happens first.

The owner of any such building who omits to give such notice shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees.

When any building is demolished, the owner thereof shall give notice in writing to the President within fifteen days from the date of completion of such demolition; and until such notice is given, such owner shall be liable, at the discretion of the President, to payment of all taxes which would have been leviable had such building not been demolished.

Payment for occupation of Municipal Lands.

Whenever any land belonging to the Commissioners is occupied by persons whose occupation has not commenced with the permission of the President, such money payment as the President may from time to time determine may be required and levied from such persons in respect of such occupation.

The President may from time to time let, on lease for a term not exceeding three years, any such land, or any portion thereof, on such terms and conditions as he may deem proper, with liberty to the lessees to exercise all or any of the powers conferred upon the President by this section.

Water Tax.

An annual tax is levied upon all houses, buildings and lands, except those exempted from "Tax on Houses, Buildings and Lands" above referred to, at such rate not exceeding 4 per cent. upon the annual value thereof. The provisions for the assessing and collection of this tax are the same as those for the "Tax on Houses, Buildings and Lands." Property of less than 24 Rupees annual value is exempt if it be the owner's sole property liable to tax under the Act.

Lighting Tax.

Subject to similar exemption an annual tax is leviable upon all buildings and lands at a rate not exceeding 2 per cent. of the annual value thereof. The provisions for the assessing and collection of this tax are the same as those for the "Tax on Houses, Buildings and Lands."

Tax on Vehicles on Springs, and Animals.

This tax is levied at rates specified in the following Schedule B on the Vehicles and Animals therein mentioned. It is paid half-yearly for each half of the year and becomes due when any such vehicle or animal has been in possession or custody or control of any person for thirty days, kept or let out for hire or used within the City.

The tax is not imposed on

(a) Gun carriages, Ordnance carts or wagons, Cavalry horses or any vehicles or animals belonging to the Government;
(b) Vehicles and animals belonging to the Commissioners;
(c) Vehicles and horses belonging to Officers doing regimental duty in the City, not exceeding one vehicle and two horses for each such officer;
(d) Animals exempt from Municipal tax under Section 25 of "The Indian Volunteers' Act, 1869";
(e) Vehicles and animals belonging to members of the Town Police, not exceeding one vehicle and two animals for each such member;
(f) Vehicles and animals kept solely for sale by builders and dealers; or vehicles and animals which have not during the half-year been used.

Every owner or person having the charge of a vehicle or animal liable to tax who omits to obtain a license shall be fined the full amount of tax payable by him in respect of such vehicle or animal and such further sum not exceeding fifty Rupees as the Magistrate directs.

Tax on Carts and other Vehicles without Springs.

A tax not exceeding Two Rupees half-yearly for registration. The registration number must be affixed to the cart. Penalty for default not exceeding Rs. 10. Carts not registered within 15 days from the commencement of a half year, or of possession, are subject to seizure, detention, and sale.

Tolls on Vehicles and Animals entering Municipal limits.

Tolls are levied at the rates mentioned in the following Schedule D upon the vehicles and animals specified therein.

No more than one payment of toll shall be demanded in respect of any vehicle, cart or animal in any one period of twenty-four hours counted from midnight to midnight.

In case of non-payment of any such toll on demand, the officer appointed to collect it may seize any vehicle, cart or animal on which it is chargeable, or any of its appurtenances or any part of the load of such vehicle, cart or animal which is of sufficient value to defray the toll and detain the same.

If any such toll, together with the cost arising from such seizure, remains unpaid for forty-eight hours from the time of seizure, the President may sell, or cause to be sold, the property seized for the payment of the toll and expenses occasioned by such non-payment, seizure, detention, and sale.

The President may compound with persons living outside the City for a sum to be paid annually or half-yearly, in lieu of all tolls payable by them under the provisions of this Act.

Appeals.

Complaints, applications and objections, made in writing within the prescribed periods against assessments for the levy of taxes on Arts, Professions, Trades, and Callings; on salaries of persons exempted from payment under Schedule A; on Houses, Buildings, and Lands; and on places used for the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors, shall be heard by the President assisted by two Commissioners.

Appeals from decisions of the President shall be heard and determined by two Magistrates.

No appeal to the Magistrates shall lie unless the tax assessed or revised as aforesaid has been paid, and unless a petition of appeal is presented to them within fourteen days from the date of such decision of the President, and unless a notice in writing of intention to appeal to the Magistrates is given to the President within seven days from the date of such decision, such notice setting forth the grounds of appeal and the name, occupation, and residence of the appellant and of his Attorney or Vakil, if any, with his place of residence or business.

Upon the hearing of such appeal no ground of appeal shall be relied upon which has not been set forth in the petition of appeal, except with the permission of the Magistrates.

The Magistrates may, if they think fit, in any case in which an appeal lies to them under this Act, state a case and refer it for the decision of the High Court; and they shall do so in every case involving a question of law if either the President or the appellant, within one week after the adjudication of the appeal, applies in writing to them to do so and deposits such sum as the Magistrates think necessary to defray the cost of such reference.

Where a case has been so referred, the High Court may pass such order thereupon as it thinks just.

Bye-Laws for the Regulation of Markets and Slaughter-houses.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT, Fort Saint George, June 1, 1869.

The Governor in Council is pleased to confirm the following Bye-laws of the Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Madras under Act IX of 1867 :—

1. The stalls in every market for the sale of meat, fish, and vegetables shall have the flooring raised at least one foot from the ground, shall be paved with tiles, asphalte, or granite, and shall be covered with a water-tight tiled or terraced roof, the eaves being 7 feet high from the ground, and projecting 3 feet beyond the basement, and the breadth of each double range of stalls shall be not less than 12 feet, and of each single range not less than 6 feet.

2. The entrances from the public streets into the markets and slaughter-houses shall not be of less width than 12 feet each, and the gangways between the stalls shall not be of less width than 8 feet each, and shall be metalled with gravel or laterite, and drained to the satisfaction of the Commissioners.

3. No articles shall be exposed for sale or deposited in the gangways.

4. Markets for the sale of meat, fish and vegetables shall be lime-washed, within and without, once at least in every four months.

5. Stalls for the sale of meat and fish shall be washed, and all stalls and gangways swept, and the refuse removed therefrom morning and afternoon, and deposited at such places as may be appointed by the Commissioners.

6. The flooring of stalls for the sale of meat and fish, shall be kept in good order to the satisfaction of the Commissioners.

7. Every market and slaughter-house shall be provided with a well and latrine, if deemed necessary, by the Commissioners.

8. Every owner or farmer of a market shall provide and keep in his market standard sets of such weights and measures as are generally used in markets, for reference in case of dispute.

9. Every slaughter-house shall be thoroughly washed and swept morning and afternoon.

10. Every slaughter-house shall be lime-washed, both within and without, once in every four months.

11. Every slaughter-house shall be paved with granite stones, or flat paving bricks or tiles, or asphalte, and the joints shall be fresh pointed with mortar at least once annually.

12. Persons afflicted with loathsome or infectious diseases are prohibited from vending or exposing for sale any articles of food in a market or bazaar.

13 When meat of any description is conveyed from the slaughter-houses, or fish from the beach to a market, it shall not be exposed to view.

14. Fish or meat shall be sold or exposed for sale within the Municipal limits only in licensed markets, or in registered stalls. The registration to be gratis.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT, Fort Saint George, March 4, 1873.

The Governor in Council is pleased to confirm the following Bye-Laws made by the Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Madras under Act IX of 1867 :—

Bye-Laws.

1. No meat, dead poultry, fish, salt-fish or other animal food shall be sold or exposed for sale within the town in any place other than places licensed by the President of the Municipal Commission as Markets in accordance with the provisions of Section 185 of Act IX of 1867, or as stalls to be specially used for such sale as aforesaid.

2. A license in writing for the use of each such stall as shall not be comprised or included in any licensed Market must be obtained from the President, who is hereby empowered to charge a yearly fee of one Rupee for such license, and at his discretion to refuse, withdraw or revoke such license, and whoever without such license or after notice of its withdrawal or revocation, use such stall for the sale or exposure for sale of meat, dead poultry, fish, salt-fish or other animal food shall be liable on conviction before a Magistrate, to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees, and to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued. Provided that an appeal against the President's refusal to grant such license, or against his withdrawal or revocation thereof shall lie to two Magistrates in the manner provided by Section 83 for appeals against Assessment.

By order of the Governor in Council, (Signed) W. HUDLESTON, Chief Secretary.

Bye-Laws for the Regulation of Burial and Burning Grounds.

Of the following Bye-Laws, Nos. 1 to 5 have been incorporated in the Act:—

1. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, any corpse in any Burial Ground within the Municipal limits in a grave of less depth than 4½ feet if constructed of masonry, and 6 feet if not so constructed.

2. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, a grave in any such Burial Ground, at a less distance than two feet from any existing grave.

3. No grave or vault containing a corpse shall be opened without the sanction, in writing, of the President.

4. No person, when burning, or causing to be burnt, any corpse or part of a corpse, in any Burning Ground within the Municipal limits, shall permit the same, or any part thereof, to remain without being completely reduced to ashes, or to be removed until so reduced.

5. Every person who shall bring or convey, or cause to be brought or conveyed, any corpse, or part thereof, to any Burning Ground within the Municipal limits shall burn, or cause the same to be burnt, within six hours after its arrival at the said Burning Ground.

6. Every Burial or Burning Ground shall be surrounded by a sufficient wall or fence to the satisfaction of the President.

Bye-Laws for the Regulation of Offensive and Dangerous Trades and Places for Cart-stands and Livery and Hack Stables.

*1. Every owner or occupier of any place within the Municipal limits used for any of the purposes specified in Section 191 of the Madras Municipal Act IX of 1867, and every owner or occupier of a livery or hack stable or cart-stand, cattle-yard, bakery, coach-building-yard or other manufactory, shall remove, or cause to be removed, twice in every twenty-four hours, morning and afternoon, all filth, dirt, and refuse which at the time of such removal shall be in or about such place, and shall cause such filth, dirt, or dust to be disposed in such places as the Commissioners may approve, and provisions for boiling or preparing the food of the cattle and attendants shall be so made as not to be a nuisance to the neighbourhood.

2. No owner or occupier of any Tannery within the prescribed limits shall remove, or allow to be removed, any hide or skin from any pit in such Tannery for the purpose of exposing the same to the air, or for any other purpose, at any other time than between the hours of 5 and 8 o'clock in the morning.

3. Every cart-stand, stable, cattle-stall, and sheep-pen, shall be drained and metalled to the satisfaction of the President, and every cart-stand and Parcherry, or block of huts, shall be provided by the owner or farmer thereof, with latrines for males or females, or both, as the case may require, of such extent and construction as the President shall approve of.

* This Bye-Law, excepting the concluding portion in italics, is not in force, being inconsistent with Section 297 of Act V of 1878.

Bye-Laws for the Regulation and Decent and Proper Use and Maintenance of Latrines and Urinals.

1. Every common urinal, which shall be provided or licensed by the Municipal Commissioners, shall and may be used as, and for the purposes of, urinal only, and every common latrine, which shall be provided or licensed by a Municipal Commissioner, shall and may be used as, and for the purposes of, latrine only.

2. No person shall be at liberty to use such common urinals or common latrines for any purposes other than the purposes for which they are respectively strictly intended, nor be permitted to use them respectively in an improper manner, so as to cause them to be or become in a more filthy or noxious state than but for such improper use thereof they respectively would have been or become.

Bye-Laws for the Regulation of Order in the Public Thoroughfares.

1. Every person within whose premises any animal may die shall, within six hours after its death, either remove the carcass at his own expense, without cutting it up or opening it, to such place as may be set apart by the Commissioners for the reception of such carcasses, or report its death to the Conservancy Overseer of the Division within which such premises may be situate, and in such latter case shall pay to the said Overseer the expense of removing the carcass at such rate as the President may from time to time determine.

2. No person shall dry bratties on the external walls of houses or yards adjoining the public streets.

3. The external walls of houses and yards adjoining the public street shall be kept in proper repair with lime-plastering, and shall be lime-washed once a year, unless specially exempted by the Commissioners.

4. Every well shall be fenced by a wall 3 feet high from the surface of the ground.

5. No person shall make use of the pavement or verandah of his house or of any place not properly adapted for such purpose, in front of his house, or by the side of any street, as a stable or stall, for keeping horses, ponies, bulls, cows, buffaloes, or any other animal.

A table of such Bye-Laws as are applicable to such places respectively, legibly printed or painted in English and the Vernacular languages, shall be placed on boards and put up in a conspicuous place in every market, slaughter-house, and burial or burning ground for the information and guidance of the public.

Whoever shall commit any breach of any of the foregoing Bye-Laws by doing any act prohibited by any such Bye-laws, or by neglecting to do any act directed to be done by any such Bye-laws, or in any wise howsoever, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 20 Rupees, and in the case of a continuing breach to a further penalty not exceeding 10 Rupees for every day during which the breach is continued after the conviction for such offence.

Fort St. George, March 14, 1871.

1. That no person shall cut grass on the roads and in the side channels adjoining the roads situated within the Municipality.

2. No person shall expose to view, or cause to be exposed to view, any raw skin or skins or raw hide or hides, in the course of its or their carriage from place to place.

3. No cart, carriage, or vehicle of any description whatsoever without springs, pushed or drawn by a man or men, or a bullock or bullocks, or other animal or animals, whether empty or laden with passenger or things of any description whatsoever, shall be pushed, drawn or driven on any road or street, except on the metalled side or sides thereof, nor shall any such cart, carriage or vehicle or any jutka with or without springs, whether empty or laden as aforesaid, be pushed, drawn or driven between the hours of 9 A.M. and 7 P.M. on that part of Popham's Broadway, in the Black Town of Madras, which is situate between the China Bazaar or Mundavaly Street and the Church Missionary Society's premises in Popham's Broadway.

4. No cart, carriage, or vehicle of any description whatsoever, whether on or without springs, shall be pushed, drawn or driven, nor shall any animal be led, ridden, or driven, on any footpath expressly intended or made for foot-passengers, on any side or sides of any road or street, or through any esplanade, nor shall any person use, or cause to be used any such footpath or any part or parts thereof, for the location, either permanently or temporarily, of any stall or stalls for the sale of any article or articles or thing or things of any description whatsoever, or for any purpose or purposes other than for the use of foot-passengers.

5. No person shall sell or cause to be sold, or expose or cause to be exposed for sale, any mutton, beef, pork, or other (butcher's) meat or poultry, fish or salt-fish in any place other than markets licensed by the President of the Municipal Commission for the Town of Madras to be used for such sale.

6. That no new buildings shall be erected in certain streets hereinafter named, unless they are of an altitude and facade which shall be approved of by the President, viz.:—

The North Beach, 2nd Line Beach, the Esplanade front of the Town, Popham's Broadway, the Mount Road, Salay Street from Andeappen Naick Street to the General Hospital, Armenian Street, Thumboo Chetty Street, Mint Street, Andeappen Naick Street and Barber's Bridge Road—provided that there shall be an appeal to the Governor in Council from any decision of the President of the Municipal Commission passed under this Bye-law.

Whoever shall commit any breach of any of the foregoing Bye-laws by doing any act prohibited by any such Bye-Laws, or by neglecting to do any act directed to be done by any such Bye-laws, or in anywise howsoever, shall on conviction before a Magistrate be liable to a penalty not exceeding 20 Rupees for each infringement, and in the case of a continuing infringement to a further penalty not exceeding 10 Rupees for every day after notice from the President of the Municipal Commission for the Town of Madras of such infringement.

MUNICIPAL WATER WORKS.

House Service.

1. No branch or service pipe and apparatus from the street main, to any premises, yards, or garden, will be allowed to be attached, moved, disconnected, or in any way altered, except by workmen sent by the Engineer, or other officer acting in that behalf, under the authority of the Commissioners; but when any alteration is required, attention will be given to applications made at the Water Works Office.

2. On no account will parties be allowed to tap the mains or pipes, or to interfere with any valve or fire plug, except in case of fire.

3. Each separate property must be supplied with a stop tap and street box direct from the main, at the cost of the owner of such property.

4. All parties having house connections will be required to have the pipes and taps kept in good repair, so that no waste may take place either wilfully or negligently, nor must the water be used for any other purpose, or to any greater extent, than shall have been agreed for.

5. The Commissioners shall be at liberty to discontinue the supply of water (without giving any notice) immediately on the discovery of any breach of these regulations, and they may also proceed in the manner provided by Section 239 of Act IX of 1867.

SUPPLY FOR OTHER THAN DOMESTIC PURPOSES.

Scale of charges for consumption per half-year.

From 10,000 Gallons to 5,000,000 Gallons, at 2 Annas for 1,000 Gallons as a temporary rate.

Water for garden and other ornamental or irrigational purposes, by private arrangement.

These rates are payable in advance half-yearly on the 1st April and 1st October of every year.

Parties desirous of discontinuing the use of water supplied by the Commissioners must give one month's notice before the end of each half-year, in writing, to the Engineer of the Commissioners; and the Commissioners shall be at liberty to discontinue the supply of water on the rate falling into arrears, or immediately on the discovery that the supply is not equal to the demand, without rendering themselves responsible for any damages beyond the refund of the entire half-yearly rate received in advance.

PUBLIC SERVICE.

1. The situations of the fountains and tanks having been so arranged as to keep them perfectly separate, and conveniently apart, for the various sections of the community, it shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to regulate from time to time the use of the said fountains and tanks by the different sections of the people, in such manner as may conduce to their comfort and convenience.

2. No person shall be at liberty to use the public fountains and stand pipes for other than drawing water from the taps for drinking on the spot, or carrying away for domestic purposes.

3. Any person found at or close to any fountain or stand pipe, to the annoyance of the parties using it, or without any reasonable cause for being there, will render himself liable to prosecution before a Magistrate.

PUBLIC TANKS.

*1. No person shall be allowed to use any tank filled without a special charge by the Municipal Water Works pipes, for other purposes than bathing, swimming, and washing such clothes as the party may be wearing at the time.

2. The carrying away of water in chatties from public tanks will be permitted, but no person shall be allowed to take or bail water for garden, irrigation, mechanical or ornamental purposes.

3. In the case of tanks attached and maintained by Pagoda funds, no authority whatever will be exercised by the Municipality in regard to the religious ceremonies and usages which obtain in them, but the supply shall be cut off on any breach of the preceding Bye-Law.

PUBLICATION.

These Bye-Laws shall be legibly painted or printed in English and Vernacular Languages, and shall be put up in conspicuous places for the information and guidance of the public.

PENALTY.

Whoever shall commit any breach of any of the foregoing Bye-Laws, by doing any act prohibited by any such Bye-Laws, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Rupees twenty, and in the case of a continuing breach to a further penalty not exceeding Rupees ten for every day during which the breach is continued, after the conviction of such offence.

OFFICE HOURS.

Applications for house connections to be made at the Water Works Office from 12 to 2 P.M. on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Under Section 391 of the City of Madras Municipal Act of 1878, His Grace the Governor in Council is pleased to confirm the following Bye-Laws made by the Municipal Commissioners for the City of Madras:—

Fort St. George, December 16, 1879.

Bye-Laws for the Regulation of Water-supply for other than Domestic purposes.

1. Meters, which will be supplied by the Commissioners at the cost of the persons taking the water, must be fixed wherever Municipal water is used for cattle kept for purposes of profit, ornamental, irrigational, or building purposes; or for purposes of manufacture or trade. But in cases where water is taken for ornamental or irrigational purposes a meter need not be fixed if the President is satisfied that the quantity of water used on the premises does not exceed that which is allowed under Section 142 for domestic purposes.

2. Meters fixed under the above Bye-Law may be inspected at all reasonable times by duly authorized Municipal Officers, and any repairs which may be necessary from time to time shall be carried out at the cost of the person taking the supply.

* Confirmed by the Governor in Council on the 5th February 1873.

3. The measurements shall be taken by duly authorised Municipal Officers as indicated on the dial plate of the meter, and all water taken in excess of the quantity arranged to be supplied under Section 142 for domestic purposes shall be paid for at the rate of Annas 2 per 1,000 gallons, or such other rate as may be determined by the Commissioners at a general or special meeting.

Registration of Births and Deaths.

Madras Act V of 1878 renders the registration of Births and Deaths compulsory, and invests the Municipal Commissioners with power to establish offices in different parts of the town for this purpose.

The father or mother of every child born in the City, or in the case of the death, illness, absence or inability of the father and mother, some person who was present at, or in attendance during, the child-birth shall, within one week next after the day of every such birth, give, or cause to be given, information to the Registrar of the District, according to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, of the several particulars required to be known and registered touching the birth of such child.

Some one of the persons present at the death, or in attendance during the last illness of every person dying in the City, or in case of the death, illness, inability or default of all such persons, the occupier of the house or building, or if the occupier be the person who has died, some person living in the house or building in which such death has happened, shall forthwith give information to the Registrar of the District, according to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, of the several particulars required to be known and registered touching the death of such person.

Every person who conducts or performs the funeral ceremonies of any person who has died within the City shall, whenever required, furnish to the Registrar, or to any person authorized by him, such information as he possesses as to the several particulars.

Any person whose duty it is to give information who neglects or refuses to give such information, or who gives false information, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Every person who has given the information contained in any register of births or deaths under this Act shall sign in the register his name, and, if he cannot write, shall put his mark in the register to his name.

7.—Available to public at all Post Offices.—The postage stamps, envelopes and post-cards for the use of the public are sold at all Post Offices in any quantity, however small, at the value denoted upon them. Half-anna stamps and half-anna envelopes can also be obtained from village postmen.

* Also issued for official correspondence, with the letters "On H. M. S." impressed in black ink.

8.—Service Stamps and Service Post-cards.—The service stamps and post-cards, described above, are not available at Post Offices: they can be obtained by Government officials at Government Treasuries.

9.—Soldiers' and Seamen's Envelopes.—The embossed envelopes of the value of nine pies for the use of soldiers and seamen are not available at Post Offices. They can be obtained through the Officers Commanding the Regiment or Ship, as the case may be, or from other officers specially authorized in their behalf. A charge of two annas per packet of envelopes is made in addition to the value of the stamps.

10.—Spoilt or Defaced Stamps not to be used.—Stamps previously obliterated, or defaced, or torn, or cut, or otherwise rendered imperfect, and stamps cut out from embossed envelopes, or post-cards, may not be used; and any letters or other articles to which they may be affixed are treated as unpaid. The using of a stamp which has been previously used with intent to cause loss to the Government is an offence punishable with two years' imprisonment, or with fine, or with both.

General Rules as to Posting.

11.—Services which cannot be rendered by Post Masters.—Post Masters are absolutely forbidden to affix stamps to letters or other articles brought unstamped to the Post Office; and they cannot be required to weigh letters or other articles for the public.

12.—Posting of Articles requiring to be specially dealt with.—Letters or other articles intended to be registered or insured, articles intended to be sent as "value-payable," or with regard to which "certificates of posting" are required, must be presented at the Post Office at least half an hour before the time fixed for the closing of any particular mail, if it is intended that they should be forwarded by that mail.

13.—Late Letters and Late Letter Fee.—Letters posted after the hour fixed for the closing of any particular mail will be despatched by that mail if a "late letter fee" of four annas is prepaid in stamps affixed to them in addition to the ordinary postage. Late letters will ordinarily be received up to fifteen minutes before the despatch of the mail, by which they are intended to be sent, from the Post Office. The amount of this fee, and the interval before the actual despatch of a mail are subject to alteration by the Post Master General.

14.—Posting in Letter-boxes.—When letter-boxes are marked "For letters only," nothing except letters and post-cards should be posted in them. If other articles are posted in them, they are liable to delay in being forwarded.

Certificates of Posting.

15.—Object of Certificate.—The object in granting certificates of posting is to afford the public an assurance that letters and other articles entrusted to servants and messengers for posting have actually been posted.

16.—Articles for which Certificates of Posting can be obtained.—Certificates of posting can be obtained with regard to letters, post-cards and packets, provided that they are not registered or insured. A Post Office receipt is given in any case for registered and insured articles and for parcels.

17.—Manner of obtaining Certificates.—Any one who wishes to obtain a certificate of posting must send, with the article for which the certificate is required, a slip of paper with an exact transcript of the address on the article written upon it in ink and a half-anna postage stamp affixed to it. The Post Master or clerk to whom it is presented will compare the addresses and, if there is no discrepancy, will obliterate the postage stamp on the slip of paper and stamp it with the Post Office dated stamp. The slip will then be returned as a certificate that the letter or other article has been posted.

Postal Acknowledgments.

18.—Object of Special Postal Acknowledgments.—The object of the Post Office in undertaking to obtain special acknowledgments is to afford the public an assurance on the part of the Post Office that the articles for which these acknowledgments can be obtained, have reached the addressees.

19.—Articles for which Special Acknowledgments can be obtained.—The articles for which acknowledgments can be obtained are registered letters and packets, and ordinary parcels. In the case of insured articles the Post Office always obtains an acknowledgment from the addressee for the sender.

20.—Postal Acknowledgment Fee.—The fee for a special acknowledgment is one anna. It must be prepaid by postage stamps in the case of registered letters and packets, and in cash in the case of parcels, except service parcels.

21.—Attested Copies of Addressee's Receipts.—The sender of a parcel or of a registered article can, on payment of a fee of three annas, procure an attested copy of the [illegible] originally signed by the addressee; provided that an interval exceeding six months has not elapsed since the signing of the receipt by the addressee.

POWER OF SENDER TO RECALL ARTICLES ONCE POSTED.

22.—Rules under which power of Recall may be exercised.—Letters, post-cards, book and pattern packets and parcels can be recalled by the senders, after having been posted, subject to the following rules:—

I.—No letters or other articles posted in any Post Office or letter-box shall be returned except under the orders of—

(a)—The Chief Postal Authority in a Province;
(b)—The Director-General of the Post Office;
(c)—The Local Government or Administration; or (d)—The Governor-General in Council.

II.—A fee of one rupee shall be paid with an application for such return.

Note.—A single fee of one rupee is all that is required on each application, even though the application may refer to more than one letter or article.

III.—An application for the return of any such letter or article may be presented in writing to the said officers, Governments or Administrations, directly, or through any officer in charge of a Post Office.

IV.—Such application shall be received only from the writer of the letter or the sender of the article, or from some person duly authorized in this behalf by such writer or sender.

V.—The application shall be accompanied by a statement (which may be enclosed in a sealed cover) of the reasons why return of the letter or article is sought. Such sealed cover shall be opened only by the officer or by a Secretary to the Government or Administration to whom or to which the application is presented.

VI.—Upon receipt of such application and statement, together with a fee of one rupee as aforesaid, by a Post Master or other officer in charge of a Post Office, he shall immediately send the application and statement to the nearest officer or authority having power under Rule 1 to dispose of such application.

VII.—If the letter or article of which return is sought is in his possession, the said Post Master or other officer, instead of forwarding it to its address, shall keep it in deposit and send the application to the said officer or authority.

VIII.—If the letter or article is not in the possession of the said Post Master or other officer, he shall require any other officer of the Post Office in whose possession it may be to abstain from sending it to its address, and to send it instead to the authority or officer to which or to whom the application will be, or has been, sent. The requisition to such other officer may be sent by telegraph, but all expenses attending its transmission must be borne by the applicant.

IX.—When the application reaches the officer or authority named in Rule 1, to whom it is thus sent, he or it may order return of the letter or article upon being satisfied that the applicant is the writer or sender, and that sufficient reasons have been given for the re-delivery, otherwise he shall send it at once to its address.

X.—No letter or other article posted in any Post Office or letter-box shall be returned in any case to any one but the writer, or to some person authorized by the writer in writing to receive it; and no article, not being a letter delivered into the post, shall be re-delivered to any one but the sender, or to some person authorized by the sender in writing to receive it.

XI.—In the foregoing rules, the word "writer" does not include a person who writes a letter which another dictates or directs to be written, or who copies a letter which has been written by another; but in each of such cases the author of the letter shall, for the purposes of these rules, be held to be the "writer."

These rules apply to all letters and articles, official as well as non-official. But, in the case of official letters and articles, no fee is taken, the cost whereof would be debited as public expenditure.

DELIVERY.

23.—Dilivery of Insured and Value payable Articles.—Insured articles of which the declared value exceeds Rs. 1,000 and all value payable articles, are delivered only at the Post Office Window.

24.—Duties of Delivery Postmen.—Postmen are forbidden to deliver any letter or other article on which postage is due without receiving immediate payment of the amount of postage marked upon it, or to deliver any registered or insured letter or parcel without obtaining the signature by the addressee of the prescribed receipt or acknowledgment. Postmen are also forbidden to deviate from their prescribed beats, and cannot therefore be required to call again to receive payment of postage due.

25.—Articles on which Postage due may be Refused.—No person is bound to pay the postage due on a letter or other article if he forthwith return it to the postman unopened. In this case he should write the word "Refused" across the cover.

26.—If Articles accepted Postage due must be Paid.—If any person take delivery of a letter or other article, on which postage is due, he must pay the amount marked upon it, and any complaint of overcharge which he may have to make will be heard subsequently by the Post Master of the Post Office of delivery.

27.—Remedy of Post Office in case of Refusal to Pay Postage due.—If a person who has taken delivery of a letter or other article, on which postage is due, refuse to pay the amount marked as due, it will be recovered from him in the same way as a fine under the Post Office Act, and the Post Office has further the power of withholding from him, until such charge be paid, any other letter or article addressed to him not being on Her Majesty's Service.

28.—Refund of Postage when articles maliciously sent unpaid.—If the Post Master of the office of delivery is satisfied that a letter or other article has been maliciously sent for the purpose of annoying the person to whom it is addressed, he may remit the amount of postage charged upon it.

29.—Delivery of Regimental Correspondence.—Letters and other articles addressed to the non-commissioned officers and soldiers of British regiments and to the Native officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers of Native regiments, will be delivered to an orderly, or other fit person, deputed by the officer commanding the regiment or detachment to receive them. Articles, however, on which postage is due will not be delivered unless the postage be first paid.

TREATMENT OF UNDELIVERED ARTICLES.

31.—Unclaimed Articles.—Unclaimed articles include all articles which cannot be delivered because the person to whom they are addressed cannot be found, or because the addresses are so illegible or imperfect that the place of destination cannot be ascertained.

32.—Disposal of Unclaimed Articles.—Unclaimed articles which cannot be delivered because the person to whom they are addressed cannot be found are ordinarily kept for three weeks in the office of destination. They are disposed of as follows:—

Parcels, insured letters, registered articles accompanied by acknowledgments, and registered articles on which the sender's name and address are superscribed (see rules regarding Registration), are sent direct to the office at which they were posted for return to the sender, who is necessarily known in all these cases.

All other articles, the senders of which are not known to the Post Office, are forwarded to the Dead Letter Office where they are opened, if necessary, in order that the name and address of the sender may be ascertained. If the necessary information is found, they are returned to the senders; if it cannot be found, they are retained in deposit for a year and then destroyed.

Unclaimed articles which cannot be delivered on account of the illegibility or imperfection of addresses are transferred to the Dead Letter Office for disposal.

33.—Refused Articles.—Refused articles are articles which the persons to whom they are addressed have refused to receive.

34.—Disposal of Refused Articles.—Refused articles are returned at once either through the office of despatch or the Dead Letter Office. In the latter office they are dealt with in the same way as unclaimed articles. The sender is bound to pay any postage due on a refused article returned to him by the Post Office.

POSTE RESTANTE.

35.—Articles falling under head Poste Restante.—All articles superscribed "To be kept till called for," "To await arrival," or in any similar way, and also articles addressed "Post Office," are held to fall under the head "Poste Restante."

36.—Treatment of Articles under Poste Restante.—Such articles are generally retained for one month in the Post Office of destination; they are retained, as a special convenience to the public, for four months at the Post Offices in the Presidency towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, and in Aden, Karachi, Rangoon and in some other Sea-port towns. If not called for within this period, they are treated as unclaimed articles. See clause 32.

37.—Responsibility of Post Office as regards Delivery of such Articles.—In cases in which articles are superscribed "To await arrival" or "To be kept till called for," and the address gives no further indication of the intention of the sender, the responsibility of the Post Office is limited to retaining such articles in deposit for the prescribed period.

NOTES FOR PUBLIC INFORMATION.

38.—Responsibility of the Indian Post Office.—The Indian Post Office is exempted by law from all responsibility in the case of any loss or inconvenience which may arise from the misdelivery, missending or non-delivery of any letter, post-card, newspaper, packet or parcel. It is also exempted from responsibility for any injury which the contents of any letter, packet or parcel may sustain during its transmission through the post. In the case of insured letters and parcels, however, the Indian Post Office is responsible for their safe transmission under the conditions which will be found in the rules regarding Insurance.

39.—Caution as to sending Coin, &c., by Post.—Coin, jewels, and articles of intrinsic value are only allowed to be sent by the Inland Post after having been insured. They are not allowed to be sent at all by the Foreign Post, but may be sent by Foreign Parcel Post. Currency notes are only allowed to be sent in registered letters. The public, however, who frequently persist in sending such articles in unregistered letters and uninsured parcels, are reminded that they not only run the risk of losing their property, but that they also expose to grave temptation every person through whose hands the letter or parcel passes, and that their neglect to comply with the rules of the Post Office may be the means of bringing some Postal servant to ruin.

40.—Character of Rules as to packing in Guide.—The only rules laid down in the Postal Guide on the subject of packing, as in the case of insured articles and book and pattern packets under the Inland Post, and in the case of packets of printed papers, samples, &c., under the Foreign Post, are absolute rules, for the breach of which the penalty is in each case prescribed. The following general suggestions are here made for the guidance of the public.

41.—Waxcloth not to be used as an Outer Covering.—During the monsoon months waxcloth is very commonly used as an outside covering for the protection of packets and even of letters, the stamps being affixed to an inner covering as they will not adhere to waxcloth. There are two practical objections to this use of waxcloth: in the first place, it will not receive the impression of the Post Office dated stamps, and in the next place the postage stamps underneath it have to be obliterated. The waxcloth cover has therefore to be cut open, or partially cut open, by the Post Office, and the intention of the sender is thus necessarily defeated If waxcloth is used, it should be used as an inside cover.

42.—Importance of packing Fragile Articles securely.—It has to be remembered that every letter, packet or parcel has to be stamped with the dated stamps of, at any rate, two, and in some cases of numerous, Post Offices, and that parcels especially are subjected to a great deal of pressure and friction in the mail bags and during their transit through the post. All articles, therefore, which are likely to suffer from stamping or pressure should be packed in strong covers. The Post Office cannot undertake to treat articles such as unprotected band-boxes, &c., in a different way from other parcels, or to take any special precautions to secure the safety of fragile articles.

43.—Letters should contain Full Address of Sender.—Every letter should contain the full address of the writer, in order that the Post Office may be able, in case of non-delivery, to return it. A large number of undelivered letters are destroyed every year at the various Dead Letter Offices, because they contain no clue to the whereabouts of the sender.

44.—Advantages of Prepayment of Postage.—It is the accepted policy of the Indian Post Office to forward by the earliest mails and to deliver as expeditiously as possible all letters, packets and parcels on which the postage has been fully prepaid. Articles on which the postage has not been prepaid, or has not been fully prepaid, represent money that has to be realised by the Post Office, and are therefore forwarded and delivered under special arrangements which necessarily involve delay.

45.—Complaints against the Post Office.—In cases of complaints of overcharge or of delay in the delivery of any letter or other article, the cover or wrapper with the Post Office marks upon it should always be forwarded with the letter of complaint. In cases of complaints of the loss of any letter or other article sent by the person complaining, it is desirable that the actual posting of the article should be, if possible, established as the first step. In a large proportion of complaints it is found that articles entrusted to messengers or servants were never posted, or were not posted at the time believed, or that the posting is altogether uncertain. Letters containing complaints against the Post Office need not be stamped, provided that they are addressed to a Postal Official, and provided that it is certified on the cover under the full signature of the sender that they are complaints against the Post Office.

Note.—Complaints cannot be attended to unless preferred within six months of the date of the occurrence to to which they relate.

Section II.—Inland Post.

Introductory.

46.—Definition of term "Inland Post."—The "Inland Post" means the post maintained by the Government of India between the various Indian Post Offices on the continent of India. It also includes the post maintained by means of contract steamers* between:—

The continent of India, Port Blair and British Burma;

The continent of India, the Indian Post Office in the Persian Gulf, Busrah and Bagdad;

The various ports of the continent of India.

It further includes the internal post, whether maintained by land or water, in British

* The present lines of the Indian Packet Service are as follows:—
Between Calcutta and Bombay calling at intermediate ports.
Between Calcutta and Chittagong.
Between Calcutta and Burma.
Between Calcutta, Port Blair and Camorta.
Between Madras, the North-East Coast and Rangoon.
Between Bombay, Karachi, Busrah and intermediate ports.

Burma, and the post between British Burma and the Indian Post Offices at Mandalay and Bhamo. It also includes the post maintained between Aden and Zanzibar.

47.—Definition of term "Postal Articles."—The term "postal articles" is used to describe, for the purposes of the Inland Post, the following five classes, for each of which a distinctive rate of postage is prescribed:—

Letters. Post-cards.	Book and Pattern Packets. Privileged Newspapers.	Parcels.

48.—Main Divisions of Inland Post.—The Inland Post is divided into two main branches, viz., the Letter Post and the Banghy Post. All letters and post-cards are sent by the Letter Post, and all packets not exceeding twenty tolas in weight. All parcels, and all packets exceeding twenty tolas in weight, are forwarded by Banghy Post. In the Letter Post quickness of transit is kept prominently in view, the articles being sorted in transit on railway lines and carried in smaller loads on runner lines.

Letters.

49.—Postage on Letters.—The postage on letters is half an anna for half a tola, one anna for a tola, and an additional anna for every tola, or part of that weight, in excess of one tola.

50.—Unpaid and Insufficiently Paid Letters.—A letter posted unpaid is charged on delivery with double postage; and a letter posted insufficiently prepaid is charged on delivery with double the amount of the deficiency.

51.—Clubbed Packets of Letters Prohibited.—The sending of "clubbed packets" through the Inland Post is prohibited by the Indian Post Office Act under a specific penality. A "clubbed packet" is a collection of letters made by any person who is not an agent of the Post Office and transmitted through the post under a single cover, with a view to their being delivered to more than one person.

Post-cards.

52.—Post-cards for use of Public.—Embossed post-cards with a quarter-anna stamp are issued for the use of the public and may be transmitted by the Inland Post.

53.—Special Rules as to Addresses, &c.—Nothing except the address may be written, printed or otherwise impressed on the face or stamped side of a post-card. No paper or other article may be attached to the card and it may not be folded, cut or otherwise altered, though there is no objection to the stamp being perforated with initials for the prevention of theft. As an exception to this Rule receipt or other adhesive stamps may be affixed to the back or blank side of inland post-cards.

54.—Penalty for Breach of Rules.—If any of the above rules should be infringed with regard to a post-card, it will be taxed on delivery with half an anna.

Book Packets.

55.—Postage on Book Packets.—The postage on book packets is half an anna for every ten tolas or part of that weight.

56.—Unpaid and Insufficiently Paid Book Packets.—A book packet posted unpaid is charged on delivery with double postage; an insufficiently prepaid book packet is charged on delivery with double the amount of the deficiency.

57.—What a Book Packet may contain.—A book packet may contain:—

(a)—Any quantity of blank paper, parchment or card-board.

(b)—Books, whether blank or printed; newspapers and publications of all kinds; engravings, photographs, drawings, plans, maps, printed music and proof sheets, with or without the manuscript relating thereto.

(c)—And generally anything printed, engraved, lithographed or papyrographed on paper, parchment or card-board.

With the above articles may be sent any legitimate binding, mounting or covering, loose or attached, and anything that ordinarily appertains to such articles, as pens and pencils in the case of a pocket-book, photographs in the case of a photograph book, card-plates in the case of visiting cards, &c. But no written communication of the nature of a letter, or having the character of a personal communication, may be enclosed with these articles or written upon them. This, however, does not exclude inscriptions or entries stating who the sender is or to whom the articles are to be given.

(d)—Business papers, written or drawn wholly or partly by hand, not being of the nature of a letter or having the character of a personal communication, such as deeds, bills of lading, invoices, accounts, &c.

(e) Manuscript of all kinds, including manuscript music, not being of the nature of a letter or having the character of a personal communication. Manuscript sent to a newspaper for publication may also be sent as a book packet even when it has the form and character of personal correspondence.

With any of the above-mentioned articles may be sent anything that is necessary for their safe transmission through the post, such as rollers, &c.

58.—Conditions as to Size.—A book packet may not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth : there is no express limit as to weight.

59.—Conditions as to Packing.—A book packet must be posted either without a cover, or with a cover open at both ends so as to admit of a ready examination of its contents.

60.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—If a book packet be found to contain anything not permitted by the rules, or to be in excess of the prescribed size, or to be packed in a manner not in accordance with the rules, it will be charged on delivery with letter or parcel postage, whichever may be the least : if treated as a parcel, stamps that may be attached to it will not be recognized in assessing the payment of the postage.

PATTERN PACKETS.

61.—Postage on Pattern Packets.—The postage on pattern packets is half an anna for every ten tolas or part of that weight.

62.—Unpaid and Insufficiently Paid Pattern Packets.—A pattern packet posted unpaid is charged on delivery with double postage : an insufficiently prepaid pattern packet is charged on delivery with double the amount of the deficiency.

63.—What a Pattern Packet may contain.—Pattern packets may only contain bonâ fide trade patterns of merchandise which must not possess any saleable value.

64.—Conditions as to Size and Weight.—The size of a pattern packet must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth ; and in weight it must not exceed forty tolas.

65.—Conditions as to Packing.—A pattern packet must be posted either without a cover or with a cover open at both ends so as to admit of a ready examination of its contents. An exception to this rule is made in favour of samples of seeds, drugs and other articles which cannot be sent in open covers : such samples may be sent enclosed in boxes or bags, so long as they are fastened in such a way that they can be easily opened. They may also be sent in air-tight cases when necessary, provided that the nature of the contents is certified on the cover under the full signature and address of the sender.

PRIVILEGED NEWSPAPERS.*

67.—Definition of term "Privileged Newspaper."—Privileged newspapers are newspapers* on which postage has been prepaid under the following rules.

68.—Cash Prepayment of Postage.—The proprietor, manager or publisher of any newspaper may arrange with the Post Office to pay in cash, in advance for a given period, the amount of postage payable on the number of copies of such newspaper to be posted by him for transmission by the Inland Post, during that period. Such copies will then be transmitted through the Inland Post as fully prepaid without having postage stamps affixed to them.

69.—Period for which Prepayment may be made.—The period for which the postage may thus be paid in advance shall be an ordinary quarter of a year : but in the case of the first payment the postage may be paid for any shorter period not less than one month and not extending beyond the end of the current quarter.

70.—Rates of Postage.—In calculating the amount of postage to be paid in advance, "exchange" copies of the newspapers sent gratuitously to the editors or managers of other newspapers will be treated as exempt from payment of postage, and copies of newspapers packed in bundles and forwarded by post to agents for sale will be charged at half the rates given below ; all other copies will be charged at the following rates :—

		Anna.
For every copy of a newspaper	Not exceeding 3 tolas in weight	½
	Exceeding 3 tolas but not exceeding 10 tolas in weight	½
	For every additional 10 tolas or fraction of 10 tolas	½

71.—Procedure for Adopting System.—The proprietor, manager, or publisher of any newspaper wishing to adopt this system of cash payments in advance should, in the first instance, address the chief Postal authority of the province in which his newspaper is published. He will then be furnished with a printed form with directions how to fill it in.

72.—Subsequent Payments.—Notice of intention to continue advance payments must be given in writing to the Post Office at the place of publication of the newspaper seven days before the beginning of the quarter for which the new payment in advance is to be made.

*NOTE.—Here and elsewhere the term "Newspaper" includes periodicals published at intervals not exceeding 31 days.

73.—Manner of Posting Privileged Newspapers.—Newspapers posted under this system must be enclosed in a bag or bags and delivered, with a memorandum of the number of newspapers enclosed in each bag, to the official on duty at the Post Office. Any newspapers posted in letter-boxes without postage stamps will invariably be treated as unpaid.

PARCELS.

74.—Postage on Parcels.—The postage on parcels is four annas for twenty tolas, eight annas for forty tolas, and four annas additional for every fourty tolas or part of that weight in excess of the first forty tolas. The postage is required to be paid in cash.

75.—Unpaid and Insufficiently Paid Parcels.—A parcel posted unpaid is charged on delivery with the same amount of postage with which it would have been charged had it been prepaid. Partial prepayment of parcels is not recognized.

76.—What a Parcel may contain.—Anything may be sent in a parcel excepting articles the transmission of which is prohibited (see clauses 84, 85 and 86) ; and any parcel may contain one written communication of the nature of a letter, or having the character of a personal communication, but no more than one.

77.—Conditions as to Size and Weight of Parcels.—A parcel must not exceed 25 seers (2,000 tolas) in weight, and it must not be of a kind which, owing to size, shape, manner of packing or any other causes, cannot be carried without serious inconvenience or risk.

78.—Receipt given to Sender by the Post Office.—A receipt will be given by the Post Office for every parcel presented at the office window during the prescribed hours for the posting of parcels. This receipt will be given, when desired, in a sender's book, provided that the book is presented at the same time as the parcel with the address on the parcel written into it. In this case, however, a separate printed form of receipt will not be given. If several parcels are presented at the same time on the part of the same sender, and bearing the same address, a single receipt, including all the parcels, will be given, unless the sender demands a separate receipt for each parcel.

79.—Delivery of Parcels.—No parcel will be delivered to the addressee unless and until he shall sign a receipt for the parcel in the prescribed form, which will be presented to him for signature by the postman who delivers the parcel.

ADDRESSES.

80.—Importance of Name of Post-town.—The general rule to be followed in addressing articles for transmission through the Inland Post is to write the name of the Post-town as clearly as possible at the bottom of the address.

To A. B., Collector, Poona.	Sewalik, son of Jaganath, Kahar, Moradabad.

81.—Name of District when Necessary.—When the Post-town to which an article is to be sent is one of several Post-towns bearing the same name, or when it is a small Post-town, not likely to be known, the name of the District must be added to the name of the Post-town. The name of the District in such cases must be added in brackets, to prevent it from being mistaken for the Post-town in cases in which there are Districts and Post-towns of the same name, e.g.—

To A. B., Ramnagar, (Benares).	To A. B., Akola, (Ahmednagar).

Post-towns liable to be confounded with other Post-towns, owing to similarity in the spelling of their names, are distinguished by an asterisk (*) in the List of Post Offices at the end of the Postal Guide.

82.—Name of Province when Necessary.—When one of several Post-towns bearing the same name happens also to have the same name as the District, the name of the Province should be added to the Post-town, e.g.—

To A. B., Jeypur, Rajputana.	To A. B., Hyderabad, Sind.	To Sewalik, son of Jaganath, Bilaspur, Central Provinces.

83.—Mode of Spelling to be Adopted.—The names of Post-towns and Districts should be spelt in the same way as they are spelt in the List of Post Offices at the end of the Postal Guide.

THINGS NOT ALLOWED TO BE SENT BY INLAND POST.

84.—Anything likely to Injure the Mail or Mail Officers.—Nothing which, either from its own nature or by reason of insecure packing, is liable to injure the contents of the mail bags, or the persons of the mail officers, may be sent by the Inland Post. Of this character are explosive substances, such as gunpowder, matches, percussion caps, and substances such as glass, liquids, oil, &c. In the case of parcels, however, the transmission of drugs or medicines in glass phials, securely packed in proper cases, is not prohibited.

85.—Anything Contraband or Liable to Duty.—Nothing contraband and nothing on which duty is owing to Government may be sent through the Inland Post; nor may opium be sent otherwise than on Government account, nor bhang, ganja, siddhee or other preparations of hemp for transmission to British Burma.

86.—Anything Indecent or Obscene.—No indecent or obscene print, painting, photograph, lithograph, engraving, book or card, or any other indecent or obscene article, may be sent by the Inland Post; nor may any letter, post-card, newspaper, packet or parcel be sent having on it any words, marks or designs, of an indecent, obscene, libellous or grossly offensive nature.

87.—Treatment of Postal Articles containing anything Injurious.—In any case in which a Post Master has good reason to suspect that the contents of any postal article are likely to injure the mails or the person of the mail officer, he is directed to detain the suspected article and to refer the case at once for the orders of the Post Master General.

88.—Treatment of Postal Articles containing anything Contraband—In any case in which a Post Master has good reason to suspect that the contents of any postal article are contraband or liable to duty, he will forward them to destination marked "Doubtful," and the Post Master at the office of destination will open such article in the presence of the addressee.

89.—Treatment of Postal Articles containing anything Obscene.—If any postal article manifestly contains obscene prints, photographs, &c., or if it should be observed that any letter, post-card, or other postal article, has upon it any words, marks or designs of an indecent, obscene, libellous or grossly offensive nature, such postal article will be forwarded to the Dead Letter Office for return to the sender.

REDIRECTION.

90.—Postal Articles only Redirected at Post Offices of Destination.—Postal articles cannot be intercepted and redirected while in transit. They can only be redirected at the Post Offices at the places of destination.

91.—No charge on Account of Redirection by Post Office.—Postal articles redirected at a Post Office are not liable to any additional postage on account of redirection.

92. Conditions under which Public may Redirect free of Charge.—Postal articles (other than parcels and registered articles) redirected by the public are not liable to additional postage, provided that they have not been opened, and that they are posted with the revised address within the local limits of the Post-town of delivery. Registered and insured articles and parcels redirected by the public are not liable to any additional charge provided that they have not been opened and that they are returned with the unsigned receipts to the postman. But if delivery is taken, the responsibility of the Post Office ceases, and the delivered article, if reposted, must be tendered at the Post Office window for despatch under the usual conditions.

93.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—Postal articles which are reposted after having been opened, or which are reposted at any Post-town other than the Post-town at which they were delivered, will be treated as articles posted for the first time, and charged accordingly.

94.—Instructions to Post Office on Change of Residence.—Persons changing their residence should furnish the Post Office, both at the place which they are leaving and at the place to which they are going with written instructions regarding the disposal of postal articles received to their address. The instructions must be simple and direct, and must state whether they are intended to apply to all postal articles, and whether the postal articles referred to are postal articles addressed to the person giving the instructions only or also to members of his family or household. Complicated or conditional instructions will not be attended to.

95.—Instructions only Remain in Force Three Months.—Separate written instructions are required for every change of address; and instructions will not be attended to for a longer period than three months unless renewed within that time.

REGISTRATION.

96.—Object of Registration.—Registration makes the transmission of an article more secure, as it passes through the hands of comparatively few Postal Officers, every one of whom has to give an acknowledgment of receipt. But the Post Office is not responsible for the loss of a registered article, or for any injury which its contents may sustain during its transmission through the post.

97.—Postal Articles which can be Registered.—Any letter, post-card, book packet or pattern packet can be registered for transmission by the Inland Post. Parcels cannot be registered as they are forwarded, in any case, under the same precautions as registered articles.

98.—Post Offices at which such Articles can be Registered.—The postal articles enumerated above can be registered at any Post Office for transmission to any other Post Office.

99.—Manner of Registering.—Postal articles which the sender wishes to have registered must be presented at the Post Office window for registration.

100.—Prepayment of Registration Fee and Postage.—The postage and registration fee must be prepaid in stamps affixed to the postal article intended for registration. The registration fee is two annas for each postal article registered.

101.—Sender's Name and Address on Cover.—The sender of a postal article is recommended to write his name and address on the cover in the lower left-hand corner, so that the postal article, in case of non-delivery, may be returned to him unopened and without delay.

102.—Receipt given to Sender by Post Office.—A receipt will be given by the Post Office for every postal article presented for registration at the Post Office window within the prescribed hours for registering. This receipt will be given, when desired, in a sender's book, provided that the book is presented at the same time as the postal article for registration with the address on the article written into it. In this case, however, a separate printed form of receipt will not be given. If several postal articles are presented for registration at the same time on the part of the same sender, and bearing the same address, a single receipt, including all the articles, will be given, unless the sender demands a separate receipt for each article.

103.—Delivery of Registered Articles to Addressee.—No registered article will be delivered to the addressee unless and until he shall have signed a receipt for it in the prescribed form which will be presented to him for signature by the postman who delivers the registered article.

104.—Cases in which Registration is Compulsory.—Postal articles containing currency notes or a part of a currency note must be registered, and if any such article be found unregistered at any stage of its passage through the post, it will be registered, and a double registration fee charged on delivery, in addition to any other postage which may be due. The same procedure will be followed in the case of any postal article which manifestly contains a postage stamp or label, or a cheque, hundi, bank note, bank post bill, bill of exchange, or the like.

INSURANCE.

105.—Postal Articles which can be Insured.—Registered letters and parcels may be insured without limit of value.

106.—Complete and Partial Insurance.—Insurance is of two kinds, complete and partial; complete insurance is intended to cover all risks during transit from the office of posting to the office of delivery; partial insurance is intended to cover all risks during transit in British territory, and all risks during transit in Native territory except those arising out of highway robbery, it is only applicable in the case of transit of articles through certain Native States.

107.—Post Offices at which Articles can be Insured.—Registered letters and parcels may be insured at all Post Offices named in the list at the end of the Postal Guide with the exception of those marked ¶ ¶; but insurance can only be partial in the case of Post Offices distinguished in the list by the sign ¶.

108.—Insurance Fees.—The charge for insurance is as follows:—

	Rs. As.		Rs. As.
When the value insured does not exceed 50 ..	2	When it exceeds Rs. 50 but does not exceed 100 ..	4 and 4 annas for every additional rupees 100 or fraction thereof.

Partially insured articles will be charged only half the above rates.

109.—Conditions as to Packing.—The cover of an insured letter must be of strong paper or other substantial material, securely closed and sealed, (with distinct impressions of some device other than that of a current coin) at intervals not exceeding two inches along each fold or seam. As an additional precaution (if the contents admit of it) a thread should be passed through the cover and its contents and tied, the knot being being placed under the central seal. An insured parcel must be securely packed in cloth or tin, and if it is packed in cloth, it must bear seals at intervals not exceeding three inches along each line of sewing.

110. Prepayment of Insurance Fee and Postage.—The prepayment of all charges on insured articles, (i. e., postage, registration fee and insurance fee on letters, and postage and insurance fee on parcels) is compulsory. Prepayment must be made by means of stamps in the case of letters, and by cash in the case of parcels.

111.—Failure to comply with Conditions.—Articles not properly packed, or not fully prepaid, or not duly certified, or not accompanied by a declaration, will not be insured.

112.—Manner of Insuring and Declaration.—Registered letters and parcels intended for insurance must be presented at the window of the Post Office accompanied by a declaration stating the description and value of the contents under the signature of the sender, if currency notes are enclosed in the article to be insured the Serial Number General Number and value of each note should be mentioned thus B-7 No. 666 for Rs. 100. Forms of declaration can be obtained gratis from the Post Office :—

113.—Penalty for Making False Declaration.—Any person making a false declaration will be liable to penalties under the Post Office Act and the Penal Code.

114.—Receipt given to Sender by Post Office.—A receipt is given to the person who presents an article for insurance at the Post Office window during the hours prescribed for posting insured articles.

115.—Delivery of Insured Articles to Addressee.—Insured articles not exceeding Rs. 1,000 in value will be delivered in the ordinary manner: insured articles exceeding Rs. 1,000 in value will be delivered only at the Post Office window, intimation of arrival being sent by the Post Office to the addressee. The addressee of an insured article must sign both the receipt and acknowledgment presented therewith, unless the outward appearance of the cover give rise to suspicion of tampering. In such case he should or his agent arranging, to open the article at the Post Office, in the presence of the Post Master and to hand its contents entered in an inventory which will be prepared in duplicate and must be signed by the addressee. One copy of the signed inventory will be forwarded by the Post Office to the sender, with the unsigned acknowledgment attached to it.

116.—Sender entitled to Special Acknowledgment.—The sender of an insured article is entitled to obtain, free of charge, an acknowledgment of its delivery signed by the addressee.

117.—Responsibility of Post Office for Insured Articles.—The Government will guarantee to the sender the safe transit of insured letters and parcels, and will give compensation to him not exceeding the insured value for any actual loss occurring in transit from any cause whatsoever, except in the cases described below.

The excepted cases are as follows:—

(a)—Misdelivery arising out of incorrectness or incompleteness of the address written by the sender.

(b)—Fraud or wrong or incomplete declaration or certificate on the part of the sender or addressee, and, in the case of currency notes or Government promissory notes, the omission or failure to furnish in such declaration or certificate on the part of the sender, the serial and general number and the value of each note, and any other information and particulars regarding them, which may be required at the time of sending, registering or delivering the same, and as regards all other articles the failure or omission on the part of the sender or addressee to furnish in such declaration or certificate any particulars as to value or description or number that may be required.

(c)—When the receipt and acknowledgment have been signed by the addressee or his agent; it being understood that the addressee shall fully examine the outward appearance of the letter or parcel before signing the receipt and acknowledgment. By the term "agent" is meant not merely a person specially authorized by the addressee, but any servant, or other person connected with the addressee's household or business establishment, who is accustomed to sign the receipts for registered letters or parcels arriving to his address. Any person who wishes to restrict the delivery of insured articles arriving to his address may do so by communicating with the Post Office.

(d)—When the sender does not give intimation of loss within three months from the date of posting.

(e)—In cases of damage as distinguished from loss; it being understood that the sender is responsible for the proper packing of articles liable to damage so as to provide sufficient protection for them.

(f)—When there is no visible damage to the cover or seals; it being understood that the sender must so pack the letter or parcel that its contents cannot be touched without visible damage, as aforesaid, being caused.

(g)—When the loss occurs during uninsured transit, in the case of partially insured articles.

118.—Payment of Compensation.—Compensation will be payable one month after the date on which intimation of loss is given by the sender to the Post Office, except in cases in which the Post Master General (or officer exercising the powers of Post Master General) may consider that the circumstances demand the withholding of payment pending enquiry.

119.—Cases in which Insurance is Compulsory.—Coin, bullion, precious stones, and jewels can be sent by post only in insured registered letters or insured parcels. The insured articles manifestly containing coin, bullion, precious stones, jewels or articles of intrinsic value, will be returned to the Senders.

VALUE-PAYABLE ARTICLES.

120.—Value-payable Articles, What They Are.—"Value-payable" articles are articles with regard to which the Post Office undertakes to recover from the addressee on delivery a specified sum of money fixed by the sender, and to remit this sum, minus a commission, to the sender. Parcels, registered letters, and registered book packets may be sent as value-payable articles, provided that the amount to be recovered on any such article is not less than 4 annas nor more than 1,000 rupees, and that it does not contain a fraction of an anna.

121.—Post Offices from and to which they may be sent.—Value-payable articles can be posted at any Post Office that is a Money Order Office (except Aden and Zanzibar), for transmission to any other Post Office that is a Money Order Office (except Aden and Zanzibar). All Post Offices that are Money Order Offices are distinguished in the List of Post Offices at the end of the Postal Guide by the letters "M. O." opposite their names.

122.—Amount to be Recovered not always the Actual Value.—The amount to be recovered from the addressee and paid to the sender need not necessarily be the actual value of the article; e.g., a policy of insurance may be sent in a value-payable registered letter, the amount specified by the sender for recovery being, not the value of the policy, but the premium due on it. Under this rule legal documents, bonds, promissory notes, &c., may be sent as value-payable articles.

123.—Manner of Posting.—Value-payable articles must be presented at the office of posting with a memorandum in the prescribed printed form, shewing the amount to be recovered from the addressee on delivery. Copies of this form can be obtained, gratis, at the Post Office.

124.—Manner of Delivery.—Intimation of the arrival of a value-payable article will be sent by the office of destination to the addressee with a form of receipt to be signed by him. Value-payable articles will be delivered at the Post Office to the addressees on payment of the amount entered in the intimation, including any postage that may be due, and on presentation at the Post Office of the Form of receipt duly signed.

125.—Manner of Payment to Sender—The amount when recovered from the addressee will be paid to the sender, by means of a money order, minus a commission calculated at inland money order rates, viz :—

	Annas.
If the value does not exceed Rs. 10	2
If it exceeds Rs. 10, but does not exceed Rs. 25	4
For every additional Rs. 25 or fraction of Rs. 25	4

If a value-payable article should be refused by the addressee, it will be returned to the sender, who will be required to pay any postage due upon it.

126.—Claims not Entertained after six Months.—After the expiration of six months from the date of despatch of a value-payable article, no claims in respect thereof will be entertained by the Post Office.

127.—Value-payable Articles may be Insured.—The sender of a value-payable article can also insure it under the rules given in Clauses 105 to 119. The value declared for insurance need not correspond with the amount specified by the sender for recovery from the addressee. Thus in the case of a watch returned after repairs, per value-payable post to its owner, the amount to be recovered from the owner of the watch would be only the cost of repairs, while the sum insured would represent the value of the watch itself.

Section III.—Foreign Post.

INTRODUCTORY.

128.—Definition of term "Foreign Post."—The term "Foreign Post" means the post maintained by land between the continent of India and foreign countries, and the post maintained by sea, whether by contract steamer or private vessel, between the continent of India and other British possessions (with the exception of the post maintained by contract steamer with the Andamans, the Nicobar Islands and British Burma), and between the continent of India and foreign countries (with the exception of the post maintained by contract steamer with Post Offices in the Persian Gulf and at Busrah and Bagdad).

It further includes the post maintained between the various ports of the continent of India, and between the continent of India and the Andamans, Nicobar Islands and British Burma by any line or vessel not under direct contract with the Government of India.

129.—Definition of term "Union Country."—The "Universal Postal Union" has been established with a view to secure, as far as possible, uniformity in procedure and in rates of postage between the various countries of the world. The countries which have joined this Union are called "Union Countries."

130.—List of Union Countries.—The following is a list of the countries which have, up to the present, joined the "Universal Postal Union":—

Argentine Republic.	France.	Liberia.	San Domingo.
Austria.	French Colonies.	Luxemburg.	Servia.
Belgium.	Germany.	Mauritius.	Seychelles.
Bermuda.	Gold Coast.	Mexico.	Spain.
Brazil.	Greece.	Montenegro.	Spanish Colonies.
Bulgaria.	Guatemala.	Newfoundland.	Straits Settlements.
Canada.	Guiana.	Nicaragua.	Sweden.
Ceylon.	Hawaii.	Norway.	Switzerland.
Chili.	Heligoland.	Paraguay.	Turkey.
Colombia, U. S. of	Holland.	Persia.	United Kingdom.
Costa Rica	Honduras.	Peru.	United States of America.
Danish Colonies.	Hungary.	Portugal.
Denmark.	India.	Portuguese Colonies.	Uraguay.
Dutch Colonies.	Italy.	Roumania.	Venezuela.
Ecuador.	Japan.	Russia.	West Coast of Africa.
Egypt.	Labnan.	Salvador.	West Indies.
Falkland Islands.

The following places are also treated as part of the Union:—

Aden.	Hayti.	Malta.	Souakim.
Berbera.	Hodeida.	Massowa.	Tadjoura.
Cyprus.	Hongkong & British Offices in China.	Mecca.	Zanzibar.
Gibraltar.	Jeddah.	Mocha.	Zeyla.

131.—Definition of term "Correspondence."—For the purposes of the Foreign Post the term "Correspondence" includes the following six classes, for each of which a distinctive rate of postage is prescribed:—

Letters.	Newspapers.	Legal and commercial documents.
Post-cards.	Printed papers.	Samples.

Foreign parcels are dealt with under a separate head (see Section IV.)

LETTERS.

132.—Potage on Letters.—The postage on letters for the United Kingdom is four and a half annas for every half ounce or part of that weight. For the postage on letters for other countries served by the Foreign Post, reference should be made to the Schedule at page 337.

133.—Unpaid and Insufficiently Paid Letters.—If letters are posted unpaid or insufficiently paid to the United Kingdom or other Union countries they are charged on delivery with double postage or double the amount of the deficiency. Prepayment of postage is compulsory by certain routes. (See Schedule at page 337).

POST-CARDS.

134.—Post-cards Available for Union Countries.—Foreign post-cards with an embossed stamp of the value of an anna and a half are issued for the use of the public, and may be sent to any Union country. If addressed to Non-union countries they will not be forwarded.

135.—Special Rules as to Address, &c.—Nothing except the address may be written, printed or otherwise impressed on the face or stamped side of a post-card. No paper or other article may be attached to it, and the card itself may not be folded, cut or otherwise altered, but there is no objection to the stamp being perforated with initials for the prevention of theft.

136.—Penalty for Breach of Rules.—If any of the above rules should be infringed with regard to a post-card, it will be forwarded to destination taxed as a letter.

NEWSPAPERS.

137.—Postage on Newspapers.—The postage on newspapers for the United Kingdom is one anna and a half for every four ounces or part of that weight. For the postage on newspapers for other countries served by the Foreign Post, reference should be made to the Schedule at page 337.

138.—Conditions as to Packing.—In order to be entitled to this rate of postage newspapers must be sent either singly or separately folded and tied together in a bundle which must be superscribed with the number of newspapers contained in it.

139.—Conditions as to Payment of Postage.—The full postage must be prepaid.

140.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—A newspaper with regard to which the prescribed conditions have not been fulfilled will be forwarded charged with postage as a packet of printed papers.

PRINTED PAPERS.

141.—Definition of term "Printed Papers."—"Printed papers" include newspapers and periodicals, books, pamphlets, music, visiting cards, address cards, proofs of printing with or without the manuscript relating thereto, engravings, photographs, drawings, plans, maps, catalogues, prospectuses, announcements and notices of various kinds, whether printed, engraved, lithographed or autographed, and in general all impressions or copies obtained on paper, parchment, or card board, by means of printing, lithography, or any other mechanical process easy to recognize, except the copying press.

142.—Postage on Packet of Printed Papers.—The postage on printed papers for the United Kingdom is one anna and a half for every two ounces or part of that weight. For the postage on printed papers for other countries served by the Foreign Post, reference should be made to the Schedule at page 337.

143.—Conditions as to Size and Weight of Packet.—In size a packet of printed papers must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth; and in weight it must not exceed five pounds in the case of the United Kingdom and the Australasian or Cape Colonies, or four pounds six ounces in the case of other countries served by the Foreign Post.

144.—Condition as to Packing.—Printed papers must be either placed under band, or posted in unclosed envelopes. Boards or rollers may be used for their protection when necessary.

Printed papers may contain manuscript to the following extent:—

(a)—Signature of sender or designation of his name or of his firm, his rank or profession, the place of origin, and the date of despatch;
(b)—Dedication or compliments inscribed by the author;
(c)—Simple marks drawing attention to certain passages;
(d)—Prices added to stock or share lists, prices current or market reports;
(e)—Quotations or corrections on proofs of printing or musical compositions.

145.—Conditions as to Payment of Postage.—Postage on printed papers must be prepaid to the extent of at least one anna (in cases where full prepayment is not compulsory) except in the case of printed papers for the United Kingdom. Printed papers for the United Kingdom, if not prepaid, or printed papers for any Union country, if not fully prepaid, will be charged on delivery with double postage, or double the amount of the deficiency.

146.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—Packets of printed papers with regard to which any of the foregoing conditions have not been observed will not be forwarded.

COMMERCIAL PAPERS.

147.—Definition of term "Commercial Papers."—Legal and "Commercial Papers" include all deeds or documents, written or drawn, wholly or partly by hand, which have not the character of an actual and personal correspondence; such as papers of legal procedure, deeds of all kinds drawn up by public functionaries, way-bills and bills of lading, invoices, the various documents of insurance companies, copies or extracts of private deeds, written on stamped or unstamped paper, scores or sheets of manuscript music, manuscripts of works forwarded separately, &c. They are also held to include such written articles intended for publication in newspapers as are not of the nature of a personal letter, as well as written descriptions or hand-sketches of places which are sent for publication; and written letters of old date which have previously passed through the post and served their original purpose.

148.—Postage on Packet of Commercial Papers.—The postage on commercial papers for the United Kingdom is three annas for four ounces or any part of that weight, and one anna and half for every additional two ounces in excess of that weight. For the postage on commercial papers for other countries served by the Foreign Post, reference should be made to the Schedule at page 337.

149.—Conditions as to Size and Weight of Packet.—In size a packet of commercial papers must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth; and in weight it must not exceed five pounds in the case of the United Kingdom and the Australasian or Cape Colonies, or four pounds six ounces in the case of other countries served by the Foreign Post.

150.—Conditions as to Packing.—Commercial papers must be either placed under band, or posted in unclosed envelopes. Boards or rollers may be used for their protection when necessary.

151.—Conditions as to Payment of Postage.—Postage on commercial papers must be prepaid to the extent of at least two annas (in cases where full prepayment is not compulsory), except in the case of commercial papers for the United Kingdom. Commercial papers for the United Kingdom, if not prepaid, or commercial papers for any Union country, if not fully prepaid, will be charged on delivery with double postage, or double the amount of the deficiency.

152.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—Packets of commercial papers with regard to which any of the foregoing conditions have not been observed will not be forwarded

SAMPLES.

153.—What Sample Packets may contain.—Samples must be bona fide samples of merchandise and must not have any saleable value. They must not bear any manuscript writing other than the name or the trade or firm of the sender, the address of the persons for whom they are intended, a manufacturer's trade mark, number and price.

154.—Postage on Sample Packets.—The postage on samples for the United Kingdom is one anna and a half for every two ounces or part of that weight. For the postage on samples for other countries, reference should be made to the Schedule at page 337.

155.—Conditions as to Size and Weight of Packet.—In size a sample packet must not exceed eight inches in length by four inches in width and two inches in depth, and in weight it must not exceed eight ounces. In the case of the United Kingdom a sample packet must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth, and in weight it must not exceed five pounds.

156.—Conditions as to Packing.—Samples may be placed in bags, boxes or envelopes, but these coverings must be readily removeable so as to admit of an easy examination of their contents.

157.—Conditions as to payment of Postage.—Postage on samples must be prepaid to the extent of at least one anna (in cases where full prepayment is not compulsory), except in the case of samples for the United Kingdom. Samples for the United Kingdom, if not prepaid, or samples for any Union country, if not fully prepaid, will be charged on delivery with double postage, or double the amount of the deficiency.

158.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions—Packets of samples with regard to which any of the foregoing conditions have not been observed will not be forwarded.

MIXED PACKETS.

159.—Conditions under which Mixed Packets may be sent.—Printed papers, legal and commercial documents, and samples of merchandise may be enclosed in the same packet, subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That each article taken separately shall not exceed the limits of weight and size applicable to it;

(b)—That the total weight shall not exceed five pounds if intended for the United Kingdom and the Australasian or Cape Colonies, and four pounds six ounces if intended for any other country served by the Foreign Post;

(c)—That the lowest amount prepaid shall be two annas if the despatch contains legal and commercial documents, and one anna if the despatch consists of printed papers or samples.

160.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—If any of the foregoing conditions should not be observed, the packet will not be forwarded.

ADDRESSES.

161.—Post-town and Country to be given—The general rule to be followed in addressing correspondence to be transmitted by the Foreign Post is that the name of the post-town and also of the country must be given, the name of the country being written at bottom of the address.

To A. B., Cambridge, England.	To A. B., Vevay, Switzerland.

162.—Name of Province when necessary.—In the case of correspondence for Russia the name of the Province or Government in which a post-town is situated must be given in addition to the name of the post-town and country. Unless this rule is complied with, the Russian Post Office declines to undertake the delivery of correspondence.

163.—Names of Countries to be Spelt according to English method.—The names of countries must in all cases be spelt according to the English method as given in the list of countries served by the Foreign Post. The same rule should be followed as regards post-towns.

164.—Route when to be stated.—In all cases in which there are more routes than one, the route by which correspondence is intended to be sent should be distinctly given in the upper left-hand corner of the address. If the postal conditions with regard to a route entered in any address have not been fulfilled, the articles will be treated as though no such entry had been made.

165.—Special Rules as to Addresses in certain cases.—Correspondence for Erzeroum and other places in the interior of Armenia should be addressed to the care of some agent at Samsoun or Trebizond.

Correspondence for Hamadan in Persia should be addressed to the care of some agent at Bagdad.

Correspondence for such places in Turkey and Asia Minor or Syria, as have no British, Austrian or French Post Offices (see list of British, Austrian and French Offices in Turkey given in the Schedule), should be addressed to the care of an agent at the nearest port at which a British, Austrian or French Office has been established.

166.—Addresses on Correspondence for Passengers on board ship.—Correspondence posted in India for delivery at Aden, Suez, &c., to persons on their way to or from India should preferentially be addressed to the care of the local agent of the vessel, full particulars being given of the name, &c., of the vessel (describing it as outward bound or homeward bound); if the addressee is travelling by one of the mail steamers (P. and O. Company), it may be sufficient to give the port of departure (Brindisi or Bombay) of the steamer, with the time-table date of such departure and the port of destination: for example, "A. B., passenger by outward Mail Steamer, Brindisi (24th March), to Bombay," care of, &c. It is recommended that the name and address of the sender be written on the lower left-hand corner of the article preceded by the word "from," so as to save the opening of the article in the Dead Letter Office in case of non-delivery, and it is recommended also that all such correspondence be fully prepaid.

If correspondence be posted in India via Bombay to the address of a passenger proceeding from Calcutta or Madras by a steamer of the P. and O. Company timed to reach Aden or Suez at or about the same time as the mail steamer which carries the correspondence from Bombay, it may be addressed as follows:—

> Passenger by Calcutta Steamer (here enter name of vessel if known, or Calcutta date of departure).
> Care of the Sea Post Office, Bombay.

Such correspondence will be made over to the Sea Post Office on leaving Bombay, and will be left at Aden for delivery, if the Bombay mail steamer precedes the Calcutta steamer, or be taken on for delivery through the Peninsular and Oriental Company's Agency at Suez if the Calcutta steamer has preceded. The delivery at Suez will be effected on board the Calcutta steamer as soon as possible after the arrival of the Bombay steamer.* Full prepayment is compulsory at the rates quoted against "Egypt" in the Schedule.

CORRESPONDENCE FORWARDED BY PRIVATE VESSELS †

167.—Conditions as to Address.—Correspondence intended for despatch by private vessel should be marked as such by the sender, the name of the vessel being given if transmission by a particular vessel is desired. Correspondence not so marked may be forwarded by private vessel if there be no regular mail communication with the country of destination.

168.—Conditions as to Payment of Postage.—Correspondence intended for despatch by private vessel must be fully prepaid by stamps at the ordinary Indian inland rates, and will be liable on delivery in any foreign country to such postage as may be chargeable under the regulations of that country. This rule does not, however, apply to correspondence sent by private vessel to Ceylon, Hong-Kong, Mauritius, Seychelles or the Straits, with regard to which reference should be made to the entries against the places named, in the Schedule.

169.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—Correspondence intended for despatch by private vessel, but not fulfilling the foregoing conditions, will be treated as if not intended for despatch by any particular route, and if no other route be available such correspondence will be returned to the sender through the Dead Letter Office.

CORRESPONDENCE SENT BY LAND ROUTES.

170.—Land Routes of Foreign Post.—The present lines of Foreign Post maintained by land are:—

(a)—The Post to Ceylon via Point Calimere.

(b)—The Post to Cabul.

(c)—The Post to Candahar.

(d)—The Post to Kashmir.

* Such correspondence will be delivered through the Peninsular and Oriental Company's Agency, as the local Post Office at Suez is closed from 11 A.M. to 3 P.M. daily.

† The rules under this head are not applicable to correspondence for Calcutta, Madras, China, Ceylon, the Straits, and the Australasian Colonies, when despatched by vessels of the Peninsular and Oriental Company, which, though non-contract between India and Ceylon, are not reckoned as private vessels within the meaning of these rules.

171.—Special Rules as to Correspondence by such Routes.—Letters, Post-cards and newspapers only are forwarded by land post to Ceylon.

Letters for Cabul must be prepaid with Indian Postage at the ordinary rates, and should be addressed to the care of some agent at Peshawur, who should be instructed to pay the postage charged by the Amir of Cabul on correspondence passing through his territory. The post leaves Peshawur twice a week for Cabul, and occupies about five days in transit.

Letters for Candahar must be prepaid with Indian postage at ordinary rates, and are sent via Quetta.

Correspondence for Kashmir, Gilgit and Leh (Ladakh) is subject to the ordinary Indian rates of postage and to the ordinary rules regarding prepayment; but additional postage equal to half the Indian postage is levied on delivery on behalf of the Kashmir Government.

Articles not Allowed to be sent by Foreign Post.

172.—Dangerous and Offensive Substances.—Explosive, dangerous, damaging or offensive substances, such as gunpowder, matches, percussion caps, saltpetre, indigo, assafœtida, &c., may not be sent by the Foreign Post; or any article which either from its own nature, or by reason of insecure packing, may be likely to injure the contents of the mail bags or the persons of the mail officers.

173.—Money, Jewels and Dutiable Articles.—Gold or silver money, jewels, precious articles and articles liable to customs duty may not be sent by the Foreign Post. Foreign lottery tickets are also prohibited by the Italian Government, and correspondence containing any of the articles mentioned above, or lottery tickets, is liable to confiscation in Italy. An exception to this rule is made in the case of books for the United States of America, which may be forwarded, although they are subject to duty.

174.—Anything Indecent or Obscene.—Indecent or obscene prints, paintings, photographs, lithographs, engravings, books or cards, or any other indecent or obscene article, or any letter, newspaper, publication, post-card or packet having on it any words, marks or designs of an indecent, obscene or grossly offensive character, will not, if the character of the article be observed, be forwarded by the Foreign Post.

Redirection.

175.—Redirection in India of Correspondence to be sent by Foreign Post.—Correspondence, redirected in India for transmission by the Foreign Post will be forwarded charged with any postage that may be leviable on behalf of a Non-Union country through which the correspondence may have passed, but not with any other postage: no extra claim will be made on redirection so far as the Indian Post Office is concerned. The postage levied in the country of destination will be governed by the postal regulations of that country. Correspondence redirected to countries served through the United Kingdom will, if originally received from such countries, be forwarded by the route by which it was received; and in other cases by the route via Brindisi.

176.—Redirection in India of Correspondence received by Foreign Post.—Correspondence received by the Foreign Post and redirected after arrival in India to another place in India, will not be charged with any additional postage on account of such redirection.

177.—Redirected Correspondence received by Foreign Post.—Correspondence redirected from a Union country to India (or from Aden to India or vice versa) will be treated as follows on delivery:—

(a) If originally fully prepaid to its first address, it will be charged with the difference between the postage already paid and the postage which would have been required for prepayment from the place of origin direct to the final destination.

(b) If originally unpaid or insufficiently paid it will be charged as if it had come direct from the place of origin as unpaid or insufficiently paid correspondence.

178.—Redirection only at Post Offices of Destination.—Correspondence cannot be intercepted and redirected while in transit (e. g., at Bombay or Aden), except under the rules contained in clauses 22, 329, 334 and 336. It can only be redirected at the Post Offices at the places of destination.

Treatment of Unpaid and Insufficiently Paid Correspondence.

179.—Correspondence received in India.—Correspondence received in India from the countries grouped below will be treated as follows when not fully prepaid:—

(a) Correspondence from Union Countries—

Insufficiently paid correspondence received from any Union country (marked I in the Schedule) will be charged on delivery with double the deficient postage. Unpaid correspondence received from any Union country (but unpaid articles other than letters are not generally received from any Union country except the United Kingdom), will be charged on delivery at double the rates fixed for the prepayment of similar correspondence despatched from India by the same route. In calculating charges, fractions of half an anna will be raised to half an anna.

(b) Correspondence from Non-Union Countries through Union Countries—

Insufficiently paid correspondence received from any Non-Union country served through a Union country (marked II in the Schedule) will be charged on delivery with double the deficient postage. Unpaid correspondence received from such countries will be charged on delivery at double the rates fixed for the prepayment of similar correspondence despatched from India by the same route. In calculating charges, fractions of half an anna will be raised to half an anna.

As a rule, articles other than letters are not received from Non-Union countries unless fully prepaid.

(c) Correspondence from any Country by Private Vessel—

Correspondence received by private vessel from Ceylon, China, The Straits, Mauritius, or Seychelles is received fully prepaid, and is not, therefore, subject to any charge on delivery. Correspondence received by private vessel (marked III in the Schedule) from countries other than those just mentioned is charged on delivery at ordinary inland prepaid rates (i.e., without fine), together with one anna each in the case of letters. This sum of one anna for each letter is paid to the commander of the private vessel.

(d) Correspondence from Non-Union Countries direct—

Correspondence received from Non-Union countries served by direct routes (marked IV in the Schedule) is, as a rule, received fully prepaid and delivered without charge; but should any correspondence from such countries be received insufficiently paid, it will be charged on delivery with double the deficient postage: and if any correspondence be received unpaid from such countries it will be charged on delivery at double the rates fixed for the prepayment of similar correspondence despatched from India by the same route.

Registration.

180.—Countries to which Correspondence may be registered.—Prepaid correspondence of all kinds for Union countries can be registered; but only letters, and packets on which postage has been paid at letter rates, can be registered for transmission to Non-union countries in the cases in which registration is available. Countries to which registered correspondence cannot be transmitted are specially distinguished by foot-notes in the Schedule.—(See Schedule at page 337).

181.—Registration of Correspondence by private Vessels.—Correspondence forwarded by private vessel can be registered, but the Indian Post Office accepts no responsibility for such correspondence after it has been placed on board the vessel.

182.—Correspondence addressed to Initials, &c.—Correspondence addressed to initials or to an obviously fictitious name cannot be registered.

183.—Correspondence must be Prepaid.—Only correspondence on which the full postage has been prepaid can be registered.

184.—Special Acknowledgments for Registered Correspondence.—The sender of registered correspondence can obtain a special acknowledgment from the addressee on payment of two annas in addition to the registration fee.

185.—Registration Fee.—The registration fee is two annas in all cases, and must be prepaid in stamps. In the case of post-cards the stamps representing the fee must be affixed to the post-card, at the side of the embossed stamp.

Abstract of Foreign Postage Rates.

Heavy type denotes compulsory prepayment.

Registration is available for a prepaid article of any class addressed to a Union Country (but see exceptions in list below), and in some cases for prepaid letters (but letters only) addressed to Non-Union Countries; the registration fee (to be prepaid by stamps) is two annas in all cases.

The acknowledgment fee (to be prepaid by stamps), for registered articles addressed to Union Countries, is two annas. For articles addressed to Non-Union Countries acknowledgments cannot be obtained.

Prepayment of Newspapers, sent at Newspaper rates, is compulsory. Legal or commercial documents addressed to Union Countries must be prepaid to the extent of two annas at least, and printed papers, books and samples to the extent of one anna, or they will not be forwarded (unless addressed to the United Kingdom).

Schedule of Rates.

Containing the Rates of Postage chargeable in India upon Correspondence posted to places abroad.

The maximum size for any article, except samples, is 2 feet in length by one foot in breadth or depth: where no special conditions as to the size of samples are mentioned they may not exceed 8 inches in length by 4 and 2 inches in breadth and depth. Where no special conditions as to weight are given, the maximum weight of printed papers or legal or commercial documents is 4 lbs. 6 ozs., and of samples 8 ozs. For definition of printed papers and legal and commercial documents, see clauses 141 and 147 preceding this Schedule.

* Regarded as Union places, but no registration available.

The registration fee (two annas in all cases), and the acknowledgment fee (two annas, see clause 154 preceding this Schedule), as well as the postage must, in all cases of registration, be prepaid in full by stamps. Countries to which registered correspondence cannot be forwarded are distinguished by a foot-note in this Schedule.

Full prepayment is in every case compulsory for newspapers sent as such, i.e., at the privileged rates quoted for newspapers; full prepayment is also compulsory for packets of printed papers, &c., addressed to Non-Union countries; and the prepayment of at least one rate is compulsory for like articles addressed to Union countries (except the United Kingdom).

Full prepayment is also compulsory both for letters and other articles when addressed to countries (Union or Non-Union) by routes against which the rates are given in heavy type in the Schedule.

Post-cards can only be sent to Union places marked I in column 2.

Where the means of conveyance from India is not specified in column 1, it is always by British Packet, i.e., P. and O. Co.

Where the description of the route in column 1 contains no mention of a particular Indian Office, the mails are sent via Bombay, or from Aden in the case of correspondence posted at Aden.

The name immediately following the word "through" in column 1 is that of the country or office to which the mails are consigned by the Indian Post Office.

"Via C. M." in column 1 means that the route is via Calcutta or Madras, according to the locality where posted.

For further explanations, &c., and information about the treatment of correspondence received from places abroad, see clauses 128 to 185 preceding this Schedule.

COUNTRIES, &c. I, denotes a Union Country, II, a Non-Union Country served through a Union Country, and III and IV, countries or routes not coming under the above description: See clause 179 preceding this Schedule. Heavy type denotes compulsory prepayment. The registration fee for any article is two annas in all cases where registration is available: countries to which registered correspondence cannot be forwarded are distinguished by a foot-note in this Schedule. "Via C. M." in column 1 meanms that the route is via Calcutta or Madras, according to the locality where posted.		Each letter per ½ oz.	Each Post-card.	Printed papers, including books, &c. Each newspaper per 4 oz.	Printed papers, including books, &c. Each packet per 2 oz.	Legal & Commercial Documents. Each packet. Not exceeding 4 oz.	Legal & Commercial Documents. Each packet. SEPOYS' FOREIGN LETTERS.

193. Postal Privileges of Sepoys on Foreign Service—Letters sent by or addressed to Native Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and men of the Native Army or Mustered-Establishments, when on foreign service, will be carried under the same conditions as for British soldiers on foreign service.

Section IV.—Foreign Parcel Post.

DESPATCH OF PARCELS FROM INDIA.

194.—Definition of term "Foreign Parcel Post."—The "Foreign Parcel Post" is the parcel post maintained between India and the countries or places named below :—

Aden.	China (British Offices).	Holland (Netherlands).	Sweden.
Austria.	Denmark.	Hungary.	Switzerland.
Belgium.	France.	Norway.	United Kingdom.
Ceylon.	Germany.	Straits Settlements.

195.—Post Offices at which Parcels can be Posted.—Parcels are received at any Post Office in India for transmission to the countries named in the previous clause; but parcels can be forwarded from Aden only to the United Kingdom and India.

196. Postage on Parcels.—The Postage on parcels is eight annas for every pound or fraction of a pound, but in the case of parcels despatched from Aden a special rate of one rupee four annas per pound is charged upon parcels containing Ostrich feathers. The postage must be paid in cash and prepayment is compulsory.

197.—Unpaid and Insufficiently Paid Parcels.—Unpaid and insufficiently paid parcels will not be forwarded from India.

198.—What a Parcel may contain.—Anything may be sent in a foreign parcel except opium, liquids or substances of a dangerous, damaging or offensive nature, such as gunpowder, glass, &c., the transmission of which is forbidden.

199.—Conditions as to Size and Weight of Parcels.—A parcel may not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth, nor may it measure less than three inches in length by two inches in width and two inches in depth; and it may not exceed fifty pounds in weight (39 tolas are reckoned as equal to 1 pound).

200.—Conditions as to Value of Parcels.—Parcels addressed to the United Kingdom or Aden (or to India in the case of parcels posted at Aden) may not exceed £50 in value: parcels addressed to Ceylon may not exceed £50 in value if they contain jewellery, gold, silver watches or precious stones. In the case of parcels addressed to other countries served by the Foreign Parcel Post no special rule as to value is laid down.

201.—Conditions as to Packing.—Parcels containing coin, bullion, precious stones, jewels or articles of intrinsic value must be securely packed in cloth, wood or tin; if packed in cloth they must bear seals at intervals not exceeding three inches along each line of sewing.

202. Parcels containing Valuables.—Parcels containing coin, bullion, precious stones, jewels or articles of intrinsic value, must be insured.

203.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions.—Parcels infringing the rules regarding prepayment of weight or size, or containing forbidden articles, or uninsured valuables, will not be forwarded. Parcels addressed to the United Kingdom or Aden and exceeding £50 in value will be handed over to the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company for transmission independently of the Post Office: parcels addressed to Ceylon and exceeding £50 in value will not be forwarded.

204.—Declaration of Contents and Value.—Every parcel (whether insured or not) must be accompanied by a separate paper bearing the address of the parcel to which it relates, and a declaration of its contents and value, as well as the signature and address of the sender. The contents should be stated in full detail, each article being entered separately. The value must in all cases be stated in British sterling money. When the contents of a parcel are liable to duty in the country of destination an incorrect declaration of value renders the parcel liable to confiscation.

205. Insurance of Parcels.—The declaration described in the preceding clause is required for every foreign parcel, whether insured or not; but in the case of an insured parcel no second declaration is required. Insurance covers all risks of transit by inland Post (except risks arising out of highway robbery in Native territory). But insurance does not cover risks by sea or land after the parcel has quitted the shores of India. The rates of insurance are as follows:—

When the parcel insured does not exceed Rs. 50.....	1 anna.
When it exceeds Rs. 50 but does not exceed Rs. 100.....	2 annas.
For every additional Rs. 100 or fraction thereof.....	2 „

206. Responsibility of Post Office for insured parcels.—The Government will guarantee the safe transit of insured parcels, and will grant compensation, not exceeding the insured value, for any actual loss occurring in transit except in the cases described under heads b, d, e, and f of clause 117.

207.—Receipt given to Sender.—A receipt will be given by the Post Office for every parcel presented at the Post Office window during the hours prescribed for the posting of parcels. In the case of an insured parcel, the receipt will show the amount charged for insurance and the value insured.

208.—Intimation sent to Sender.—The sender of a parcel (whether it be ordinary or insured) will be furnished (free of charge) with an intimation showing the date on which the parcel was despatched from Bombay or other Indian seaport town.

209.—Special Conditions applicable to Particular Countries.—Besides the general rules given above, the following special rules apply to particular countries:—

(a) United Kingdom— Route: by P. and O. Steamer weekly, direct from Bombay.	Prepayment carries the parcel as far as London: custom duty (if any) and charges for carriage beyond London will be levied on delivery. Tobacco should not be forwarded, as the British Customs regulations forbid the importation of less than 80 lbs. of tobacco whilst parcels may not exceed 50 lbs. in weight.

(b) Austria— Germany— Hungary— Route: by P. and O. Steamer weekly, from Bombay.	Prepayment carries the parcel to destination: custom duty (if any) will be levied on delivery. Attention is drawn to clause 204 (Declarations) and clause 210 (Compensation).
(c) Belgium— Denmark— France— Holland (Netherlands) Norway— Sweden— Switzerland— Route: through Germany, by P. and O. Steamer weekly from Bombay.	Prepayment carries the parcel to the German frontier: custom duty (if any) and charges for carriage beyond Germany will be levied on delivery. Attention is drawn to clause 204 (Declarations) and clause 210 (Compensation).
(d) Aden— Route: by P. and O. Steamer weekly, direct from Bombay.	Prepayment carries the parcel to destination. For rules regarding despatch of parcels from Aden, see clauses 195 and 200.
(e) The Straits, i. e.— Malacca Penang, and Singapore. Route: by Opium Steamer monthly, from Calcutta to Singapore. By B. I. S. N. Co.'s Steamers fortnightly, from Calcutta, Madras or Rangoon to Malacca, Penang and Singapore. By P. and O. Steamer fortnightly, from Bombay to Penang and Singapore.	Prepayment carries the parcel to destination: the ports of destination are free ports, so that no custom duty is leviable. The transmission of specie to the Straits is prohibited.
(f) China (British Offices)— Route: by P. and O. Steamer fortnightly, from Bombay.	Prepayment carries the parcel to destination: custom duty (if any) will be levied on delivery.
(g) Ceylon— Route: via Tuticorin from the South of India and via Bombay from other parts of India.	Prepayment carries the parcel to destination: custom duty (if any) will be levied on delivery.

210.—Conditional Compensation for Loss or Damage.—Except within the limits laid down in Clauses 205 and 206 with reference to insured parcels, the Indian Post Office is not responsible for any loss or damage which may occur with respect to parcels despatched from India, but as an exception to this rule compensation will be granted, by the Post Office concerned, for loss or damage sustained during transit in the case of parcels addressed to Austria, Germany or Hungary, except when such loss or damage results from sea risk, vis major or own negligence of sender in respect of packing, &c. Such compensation will in no case exceed one rupee and a half for each pound or fraction of that weight, and will be paid to the sender, or, at his desire, to the addressee.

DESPATCH OF PARCELS TO INDIA.

211.—Despatch of Parcels to India.—Information regarding the despatch of parcels from foreign countries to India can be obtained at the Post Offices of those countries, but, in the case of the United Kingdom, the British Post Office does not receive parcels for India. The rules governing the despatch of parcels from the United Kingdom are published in the British Postal Guide and exhibited at every British Post Office, but inquiries in the United Kingdom should be addressed to the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E. C.

212.—Prepayment of Parcels for India.—Parcels despatched from the United Kingdom to India may be prepaid or not at the option of the sender (but see also the next clause): the rate of postage for such parcels is 6*d.* per pound for books and 1*s.* per pound for other articles. Parcels despatched to India from other countries must be prepaid.

213.—Valuables despatched from the United Kingdom subject to Extra Rates.—Parcels containing jewellery, gold, silver, watches or precious stones are, when despatched from the United Kingdom, liable to an extra ad valorem rate of 1*s.* per £5 of value. On such parcels the ad valorem rate and the postage must be prepaid.

214.—Insurance of Parcels.—Parcels despatched from the United Kingdom, but not parcels despatched from other countries, may, at the option of the senders, be insured in London (to destination in India) at a charge of 1*s.* per £5 of value.

215.—Compensation for Loss or Damage.—The Indian Post Office is not responsible for any loss or damage which may occur with respect to uninsured parcels despatched to India, but as an exception to this rule, compensation will be granted, by the Post Office concerned, for loss or damage sustained during transit in the case of uninsured parcels despatched from Austria, Germany or Hungary, except when such loss or damage results from sea risk, vis major or own negligence of sender in respect of packing, &c. Such compensation will in no case exceed three marks or a florin and a half for each 500 grammes or fraction of that weight, and will be paid to the sender, or, at his desire, to the addressee.

Section V.—Money Orders.

INLAND MONEY ORDERS.

216.—Definition of term "Money Order."—A Money Order" is an order granted by the Post Office for the payment of a sum of money through the agency of the Post Office.

217.—Definition of term "Remitter."—A "Remitter" is the person who applies for a Money Order.

218.—Definition of term "Application."—An "Application" is a written application (on a printed form) on the part of a remitter for the transmission of a sum of money by means of a money order.

219.—Definition of term "Payee."—A "Payee" is the person named in an application as the person to whom the money order is to be paid.

220.—Post Offices authorized to deal with Money Orders.—All Post Offices that are authorized to issue or pay money orders are distinguished in the list of Post Offices at the end of the Postal Guide by the letters "M. O." against their names. The District Treasuries in Mysore are also authorized to issue money orders payable in British India and to pay orders drawn in British India upon Mysore.

221.—Rates of Commission.—The commission charged on the issue of money orders is as follows :—

		RS.	RS.	A.
On sums not exceeding		10	0	2
" exceeding	Rs. 10, but not exceeding	25	0	4
" "	Rs. 25 " "	50	0	8
" "	Rs. 50 " "	75	0	12
" "	Rs. 75 " "	100	1	0
" "	Rs. 100 " "	125	1	4
" "	Rs. 125 " "	150	1	8

222.—Limits of Value and Number of Money Orders.—The value of a money order may not exceed Rs. 150 and may not include the fraction of an anna. The same remitter will not be allowed to obtain in one day money orders for a sum exceeding Rs. 600 in the aggregate drawn on the same office or payable to the same person, except under special permission conveyed to the issuing office by the Comptroller, Post Office.

223.—Applications for Money Orders.—Applications for money orders must be written (either in English or Vernacular) on one of the printed forms supplied, gratis, by the Post Office. A separate application must be made out for each money order required—

224.—Particulars required in Application.—The name of only one person may be entered in the application as remitter, and the name of only one person as payee; except in the case of firms or corporations, whose usual designation must be given. An application for a money order payable to a Government official, bank manager, or an editor of a newspaper, &c., in his public capacity, should contain the designation, not the name, of the person for whom the order is intended, as a money order drawn in favour of a person by name can only be paid upon his signature.

225.—Necessity of Legible and Complete Entries in Application.—All the entries to be made in the application by the remitter (as indicated in the form) should be legibly written: and the name and address of the payee must be entered with such completeness as shall secure identification and avoid risk of wrong delivery. In the case of money orders deliverable in Presidency and other chief towns, the name of the street and the number of the house in which the payee resides should invariably be given. The occupation, rank, trade or profession of the payee, and any other particulars calculated to help in identifying him, should be added. The Post Office will not be responsible for any wrong delivery or payment resulting from, or facilitated by, indistinctness, inaccuracy or incompleteness of name or address, or any other defect in the application. The remitter should write his name and address as fully and clearly as possible in the space provided in the form, since on this information will depend in a great measure the prompt and correct return of the acknowledgment. The entries in an application may be made by the remitter or any one employed on his behalf.

226.—Post-cards may be attached to Applications.—The remitter of a money order may attach to his application a post-card, and a post-card so attached will be delivered with the money order: the post-card should bear the name and address of the payee on the appropriate side, the reverse side being available for any instructions or communication desired to be conveyed to the payee.

227.—Presentation of Applications.—Applications for money orders must be presented at the Post Office window during the prescribed hours, with the amount of the order applied for, and the commission chargeable thereon.

228.—Receipt given by Post Office.—On receipt of an application and of the amount named in the application and the commission chargeable, the Post Office will give the remitter a receipt containing particulars of the money order and the payee's name and address. The remitter should examine the receipt with the view of seeing that the particulars have been correctly entered. Any error or omission should be pointed out at once by the remitter to the Post Office: and if he omits to do so, the responsibility of any mistake will rest with him. Receipts will be given, when so desired, in a remitter's book provided that the book is presented at the same time as the applications and contains the particulars entered in the applications; in such case separate receipts will not be granted.

229.—Transmission of Money Orders.—A remitter has nothing to do with the transmission of the money order applied for by him, the Post Office undertaking the entire work of transmitting the money order. All that a remitter has to do after receiving a receipt for his application, is to await the receipt of an acknowledgment of delivery of the money order.

230.—Delivery of Money Orders.—A money order will be delivered by the Post Office at the Post-town named by the remitter in his application, and will be accompanied at the time of delivery by a receipt and an acknowledgment, both of which must be signed by the payee before the money order is delivered to him. In cases where there are several money orders payable to one payee the Post Master generally signs the acknowledgments on behalf of the payee.

231.—Acknowledgment returned to Remitter.—The acknowledgment mentioned in the previous clause will be forwarded, free of charge by the Post Office, to the remitter. Should the remitter fail to receive such acknowledgment in due course he should represent the matter to the Post Office.

232.—Payment of Money Orders.—A money order should, after delivery to the payee, be signed by him, and after it has been so signed by him it may be presented for payment at the Post Office, either by the payee or by any other legitimate holder. Money orders should be presented for payment as soon as possible after delivery.

233.—Signatures of Illiterate Payees.—In the case of an illiterate payee it may be necessary for him to attend personally at the Post Office to make his mark on the money order in presence of a witness.

234.—Office of Payment.—On every money order, there will be entered the Post Office of payment mentioned by the remitter in his application. If the office of payment be a Sub Post Office, its Head Post Office will likewise be entered, and the order shall be payable at either office. A money order can be paid only at the office or offices named therein.

235.—Right reserved to Post Office of Paying Money Order to Bearer.—The Post Office reserves the right of paying a money order to the bearer thereof, and will not be responsible that the signature professing to be that of the payee, is genuine or that the person presenting the order is the legitimate holder. The payee of a money order should, therefore, attend to its custody prior to presentation. After once making payment of a money order, by whomsoever presented, the Post Office is not liable to any further claim.

236.—Redirection of Money Orders.—A money order can, if necessary, be redirected, free of charge, to a revised address within the limits of British India, but no such redirection can affect the office of payment as originally named by the remitter.

237. Issue of fresh orders on change of Address.—If a person removing from one Post Town to another leaves written authority with the Postmaster of the former place to cash any orders that may become payable to him after his departure, and to issue fresh orders in their stead, the instructions so given will be carried out, the commission (equal to the first commission) payable for the fresh orders being deducted from the amount of the original orders.

238. Alteration of Address by the Remitter.—If the Remitter of a money order that has not been delivered wishes to make any alteration in the address, he should present a revised application accompanied by the receipt originally granted to him by the Post Office. This receipt will be returned to him. If the place of payment is altered, or the name of the payee is charged, second commission will be charged, otherwise the alteration will be made without charge.

239.—Alteration of Name of Payee or Place of Payment.—If the holder of a money order desires to receive payment at a Post Office other than those named in the money order, or if he wishes to make it payable to some other person, he can present the order at the Local Post Post (after it has been duly signed by the payee) with a request that a fresh order may be issued payable to himself, or to any person named by him, at such office as he may specify. The application for a fresh order may be accompanied by an amount sufficient to pay a second commission equal to the commission charged on the original order, or the second commission will be deducted from the amount of the fresh order. A receipt will be granted to the applicant in exchange for the original order and the fresh order will be issued and disposed of by the Post Office in accordance with the request.

240.—Duplicates of Lost Money Orders.—If a money order is lost, application for a duplicate should at once be made by the remitter or payee to the office of payment accompanied by an amount, by way of commission, equal to the original commission. The application must be made in writing, and the Post Office shall require the applicant to furnish such particulars or evidence as may be deemed necessary to establish the claim. If the application herein referred to is made by the remitter, he must attach to his application the original receipt or a copy thereof. A duplicate order shall bear the same date as the original, the dates of lapse and forfeiture being consequently the same. Discretionary authority shall be vested in offices of payment to stop payment of an order represented to have been lost. Second duplicates shall in no case be granted.

241.—Return of Money Orders which cannot be delivered.—If a money order cannot be delivered, the remitter will be informed of the circumstance, and will thus have an opportunity of giving such further particulars regarding the address, occupation, &c., of the payee as may lead to the delivery of the order. The amount of a money order which is refused by the payee, or which cannot be delivered, will be paid to the remitter free of charge.

242.—Stoppage of Delivery of a Money Order.—The remitter of a money order has the option of stopping delivery of the money order to the payee and requiring that the money order shall be delivered to himself.

243.—Lapsing and Forfeiture of Money Orders.—On the last day of the month succeeding that in which the money order was prepared it will lapse: a lapsed order will, however, be payable within two months from the date of its lapsing, if postage stamps equal in value to the original commission be affixed to the back of it. After the expiration of two months from the date of lapsing, the amount of the money order will be forfeited. Thus an unpresented money order bearing any date in June will lapse at the close of July and shall be forfeited at the close of September.

244. Post Office may refuse to grant Money Orders.—The grant of money orders may be refused by any Post Office acting under special order of the Comptroller, Post Office, owing to an exceptional state of treasury balances, or any other special cause.

Ceylon, China, Japan, Straits and Mauritius Money Orders.

245.—Post Offices authorized to deal with Ceylon, China, Japan, Straits and Mauritius Money Orders.—All Post Offices authorized to issue inland money orders (see clause 220) are authorized also to issue money orders payable at any office in Ceylon, China, Japan, the Straits Settlements or Mauritius; and all Post Offices authorized to receive inland money orders can receive money orders from the countries named above.

246.—Inland Money Order Rules generally applicable.—The foregoing rules applicable to inland money orders apply generally to money orders exchanged with Ceylon, China, Japan, the Straits Settlements and Mauritius. The form of application, rate of commission, limit of amount, date of lapsing, &c., for such money orders being the same as in the case of inland money orders. The cases in which the inland money order rules do not apply are mentioned in the succeeding clauses.

247.—Post-cards may not be attached to Applications.—Post-cards may not be attached to applications for money orders payable in Ceylon, China, Japan, the Straits Settlements or Mauritius.

248.—Payee's Acknowledgment not returned to Remitter.—Remitters of money orders payable in China, Japan or Mauritius are not furnished with acknowledgments signed by the payees: nor are remitters in those countries furnished with acknowledgments for money orders payable in India.

249.—Return of Money Orders which cannot be delivered.—The amount of money orders issued on India in Ceylon, China, Japan, the Straits Settlements or Mauritius which cannot be delivered will be returned to the country of issue, for disposal under local rules.

250.—Stoppage of Delivery of a Money Order.—The remitter of a money order payable in Ceylon, China, Japan, the Straits Settlements or Mauritius has the option of stopping delivery of the money order to the payee and requiring that it shall be delivered to himself, but money orders can only be thus cancelled after reference to the country of payment.

251. Lapsed Orders.—No second commission will be charged for the payment of lapsed orders issued on India by Ceylon, China, Japan, the Straits Settlements, or Mauritius.

European, Australasian and American Money Orders.

252.—Post Offices authorized to deal with Foreign Money Orders.—All Post Offices authorized to deal with inland money orders (see clause 220) are authorized to deal with money orders exchanged through the Foreign Post between India and the countries named below:—

Belgium.	New South Wales.
Canada.	Queensland.
Denmark.	South Australia.
France.	Switzerland.
Germany.	Tasmania.
Heligoland,	United Kingdom.
Holland.	United States of America.
Italy.	Victoria.
Luxemburg.	Western Australia.

253.—Rates of Commission.—The rates of commission are as follows:—

254.—Limits of Value and Number of Money Orders.—The amount of a foreign money order may not exceed £10 if payable in the United Kingdom, Canada, the United States of America or Tasmania, or £20 if payable in any of the other countries mentioned in clause 252. No money order may contain the fraction of a penny. The same remitter will not be allowed to obtain in one day more than four money orders payable to the same person, except under special permission conveyed to the issuing office by the Comptroller, Post Office.

255.—Application for Money Orders.—Applications for foreign money orders must be written on the prescribed form which may be obtained gratis from the Post Office. The amount of the money order (whatever be the country of destination) must be stated by the applicant in the appropriate place in British (sterling) money. If the foreign country of destination has a different currency, the sterling amount will be converted by it into the local currency for the purpose of payment.

256.—Particulars required in Application.—The name of the payee or the person to whom the money order is made payable should include the surname and at least the initial letter of one Christian name. If the payee be a firm or company, the usual designation of the firm or company will suffice. The address of the payee should be full and precise, as on it depends the determination of the particular money order office in the foreign country at which the money order will be made payable. The surname and at least one initial of the Christian name of the remitter should be given, and if the remitter be a native of India, his tribe or caste and his father's name should be added.

257.—Necessity of Legible and Complete Entries in Application.—All entries made in the application by the remitter should be legibly written: and the name and address of the payee should be given with such completeness as shall secure identification and avoid risk of wrong delivery.

258.—Remitter to inform Payee of his name.—It will be necessary for the remitter of a foreign money order to write to the payee informing him of his (the remitter's) name as entered in the application The payee will receive the money order direct from the head money order office of the country of payment.

259.—Schedule of Rates of Exchange.—Schedule for the purpose of calculating the Indian equivalent of the amount of a foreign money order and the commission chargeable thereon, will be found at the end of Section: the particular Schedule in force at any time can be ascertained from any Head Post Office.

260.—Presentation of Application.—Applications must be presented at the Post Office window; the amount to be paid in Indian currency for the money order (including the commission) will be entered by the Post Office on the application. If the Post Office at which an application for a foreign money order is presented be a Sub Post Office, it will be necessary for it to forward the application to its Head Post Office for examination, and in order to ensure the correct calculation of the amount payable for the order. On return from the Head Post Office the application will be delivered to the applicant, who may then present it accompanied by the required amount. In special cases important Sub Post Offices may be exempted from this rule.

261.—Receipt given by Post Office.—The remitter of a foreign money order will be furnished by the Post Office with a receipt containing particulars of the money order for which he applied: the remitter should examine the receipt to ascertain that the particulars have been correctly entered. Any error or omission should be pointed out at once by the remitter to the Post Office: if he omits to do so, the responsibility of any mistake will rest with him.

262.—Transmission of Money Orders.—The remitter has nothing to do with the transmission of the money order: he will receive from the Bombay Post Office* an acknowledgment intimating that the money order has been communicated to the foreign country of payment, and should retain this acknowledgment in his possession in case occasion should arise for making enquiry regarding the money order.

263.—Alterations, Cancellations or Refunds of Money Orders.—If the remitter of a foreign money order desires any of the services noted on the margin, or has any complaint to make with regard to the money order remitted by him, he should address the Deputy Post Master of Bombay,* enclosing the receipt granted to him by the office of issue or the acknowledgment received by him from the office in Bombay.* The Bombay Post Office* will communicate with the foreign money order office concerned and intimate the result. In the case of the cancellation of an order after reference to the foreign country of payment, the amount to be refunded will be the value of the order, but not the commission. No second commission will be charged for the services mentioned in this clause.

Alteration of the name of the payee.
Alteration in the address of the payee.
Cancellation of the order and refund of the money.

264.—Money Orders Returned as Undeliverable.—If a money order is returned by the foreign country of payment as undeliverable, the value of the money order, but not the commission, will be refunded to the remitter.

265.—Payment of Money Orders received from Foreign Countries.—Money orders issued in foreign countries and payable in India will be prepared by the Bombay Post Office,* the amount of the foreign orders being converted into India, currency at the Schedule rate of exchange in force at the time when the orders were received at Bombay.* The rules governing delivery, payment, lapse, &c., of Inland money orders are applicable also to foreign money orders payable in India with the exception that no second commission will be charged for the payment of lapsed foreign money orders.

* Or the Aden Post Office, in the case of orders dealt with by that Office.

Section VI.—India Postal Notes.

266.—Definition of term "Postal Note."—A "Postal Note" is a note granted by the Post Office for the payment of a certain fixed sum of money on presentation of the note.

267.—Definition of term "Purchaser."—The "Purchaser" of a postal note is the person who buys it from the Post Office.

268.—Definition of term "Payee."—The "Payee" of a postal note is the person to whom it is payable.

269.—Post Offices authorized to Issue Postal Notes.—All Post Offices are authorized to issue postal notes: the notes will always be procurable at a Head Post Office and generally at any Post Office.

270.—Post Offices authorized to Cash Postal Notes.—All Post Offices are authorized to cash postal notes: when a note is presented for payment at a Sub-Post Office there may be delay in procuring the money from the Head Post Office.

271.—Value and Cost of Postal Notes.—There are three values of postal notes: each value is printed in a different colour. The cost of each value is shown below:—

Value.	Colour in which printed.	Cost including Commission.
RS. A.		RS. A. P.
2 8	Black	2 9 0
1 0	Red	1 0 6
0 8	Blue	0 8 3

272.—Instructions for the Purchaser.—The purchaser of a postal note should, before parting with it, enter on the reverse the payee's name and address: the purchaser should further keep a record of the number and date of the note and of the name of the Head Post Office of issue, so as to facilitate enquiry in case of loss.

273.—Instructions for the Payee.—The payee of a postal note should sign the receipt on the reverse of the note; the note will then be payable to any legitimate holder. The name of the Post Office at which the note is presented for payment should be entered on it by the holder.

274.—Lapse and Forfeiture.—After the expiration of three months from the last day of the month of issue a postal note will lapse. A lapsed note will, on payment of a second commission, be payable during a further period of three months, at the expiration of which the note will be forfeited.

275.—Payment of Postal Notes.—If a postal note be cut, defaced, mutilated or altered, or if any erasure be made, payment will be refused. When once a postal note has been paid, to whomsoever it is paid, the Post Office will not be liable to any further claim regarding it.

Section VII.—Post Office Savings Banks.

276. Post Offices authorised to transact Savings Bank business.—All Post Offices authorized to transact Savings Bank business are distinguished in the list of Post Offices at the end of the Postal Guide by the letters "S.B." against their names.

GENERAL.

277—Definitions.—For the purposes of these rules:—

Depositor means the person by whom, or on whose behalf, money is deposited.

Deposit means money paid into a Post Office Savings Bank by, or on behalf of, a depositor.

Account means the account of a depositor in a Post Office Savings Bank.

Balance means the balance at credit of an account.

Minor means a person who has not completed the age of eighteen years.

Legal guardian means not only any guardian constituted by law for the time being, but also includes a father or, if the father be dead, a mother.

Post Master General means the chief Postal authority in any province or place to which the system of Post Office Savings Banks is extended.

278.—Object of Government in establishing Post Office Savings Banks.—The object of Government in establishing Post Office Savings Banks is to provide a ready means for the deposit of savings, and so to encourage thrift. Savings Banks are not to be used for the purpose of keeping a current account, and the Comptroller, Post Office, is empowered to close an account, should he have reason to believe that the depositor has used the Savings Bank for a purpose for which it was not intended.

279.—Business Hours.—Post Office Savings Banks will be open for the transaction of business between the hours of noon and 4 P.M. every day, with the exception of Sundays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and the Queen's Birthday. These hours may, under the authority of the Post Master General, be altered to suit local circumstances.

280.—Postal Officials Bound to Secrecy.—The officers of the Postal Department engaged in the receipt or payment of deposits are not allowed to disclose the name of any depositor, or the amount deposited or withdrawn by him, except to the Post Master General or other officers of the Department engaged in carrying out the provisions of these rules.

DEPOSIT.

281.—Persons who may Deposit Money.—Any person may deposit money in a Post Office Savings Bank on his own behalf: the parents or other relatives of any minor may also deposit money in the name and on the behalf of such minor.

Explanation.—Minors are allowed to deposit money in their own names, and women, whether married or single, are allowed to deposit money in their own names, but subject, in the case of married women, to the limitation laid down in next clause.

282.—Limitation as to Opening Accounts.—No person can open more than one account in his own name; but the fact that he has an account in his own name shall not prevent him from opening an account in the name of any relative who is a minor; nor shall the fact that an account has been opened on behalf of a minor prevent such minor from opening an account in his own name. The wife of a depositor who has an account in his own name may also open an account in her own name, provided that the money to be deposited by her is her own property or earning.

283.—Trust Accounts and Accounts in joint names Prohibited.—Money held under a trust for another person cannot be deposited in a Post Office Savings Bank, and money cannot be deposited in the name of two or more persons jointly; provided that nothing in this rule shall prevent the deposit of money in the name of a known firm.

284.—Limits of Deposit.—The smallest sum of money that can be deposited at any time is four annas; and no sum can be deposited that is a not multiple of four annas. A depositor (except in the case of Public Accounts) cannot deposit a larger sum than five hundred rupees in all between the 31st March of any year and the 1st April of the following year.

NOTE (a).—The limit of Rs. 500 is to be reckoned irrespective of withdrawals, that is, withdrawals are not to be deducted in applying it.

NOTE (b).—The limit of Rs. 500 may be exceeded—

1. In the case of Public Accounts;
2. In the case of Privileged Depositors;
3. In the case of deposits on which no interest is demanded;

NOTE (c).—When an account is transferred from one Savings Bank (whether Post Office or District) to another, the amount so transferred shall not be included in calculating the limit of Rs. 500 save that portion of it deposited in the current year.

NOTE (d).—Deposits made for the purpose of immediate investment in Government Securities are not reckoned in calculating the limit of Rs. 500.

285.—Public Accounts.—The following conditions govern the opening of Public Accounts:—

NOTE.—This rule shall not be held to prevent any Native Soldier, or any member of the Police force, opening an account of his own in his individual capacity.

(a)—Accounts may be opened by officers of Government who have charge of money as Secretaries or Managers of Dispensary, Church, School, Orphanage, Asylum, or Library funds, or any funds contributed for purposes other than the private advantage or amusement of the contributors. Race, Racquet, Billiard, Mess, and similar funds, whose objects are of a private or personal nature, are not within this definition, and such accounts may not be admitted. Band funds may be admitted if there is no private Bank in the place.

(b)—Secretaries and Managers of Dispensary and similar funds (as above mentioned), if they are not officers of Government, and the institution is not subject to Government control, can be allowed Savings Bank accounts only if there is no respectable private Bank of deposit in the place.

(c)—Secretaries and Managers of Benevolent Funds (that is funds formed by mutual subscription as an insurance against domestic misfortune) may be allowed accounts.

(d)—Officers of Government who collect subscriptions, voluntary or departmental, from their subordinates for departmental purposes, may be allowed accounts.

(e)—Government officials who are required to deposit security may be allowed a separate account for the security deposit only. Such officials will be required to give notice pledging their deposit.

(f)—Public accounts of the kind specified above must be designated by a name indicating the object to which the money is devoted, as A—pore Dispensary Fund, Workmen's Sick Fund, &c. They are exempted from the rules limiting the amount of deposit within one year to Rs. 500 (provided the deposit is the bona fide income of the Fund), and interest will be paid upon their full balance, notwithstanding that it exceeds Rs. 9-6 a month. But a reduction of balance by more than Rs. 3,000 within twelve consecutive months will not be permitted, unless the Secretary or Manager gives six months' notice of his intention to make additional withdrawals, such notice to specify the precise amount to be withdrawn.

286.—Regimental and Police Accounts.—The Commanding Officer of a Native Regiment may open a single account with the Post Office Savings Bank on account of the men of his Regiment, making his own arrangements about the separate accounts of the individuals, and about the distribution to them of the interest credited upon the conjoint account. This account shall be subject to the usual rules, save that the limits of Rs. 500 for deposits and of Rs. 9-6-0 for monthly interest shall not apply. The Commanding Officer must, however, in presenting any deposits, sign a certificate that to the best of his belief, the money is the property of the men of the regiment. District Superintendents of Police may have accounts under this rule on account of men in the Police force.

WITHDRAWAL.

287.—Power to Withdraw Money.—A depositor can withdraw money from his account once a week. By the term "week" is meant the period from Monday to Saturday, both days inclusive. A depositor can, therefore, withdraw money from his account on Saturday and again on the following Monday.

288.—Withdrawals from Minor's Accounts.—A minor can withdraw money deposited by him in his own name; but money deposited on behalf of a minor can only be withdrawn during his minority by his legal guardian.

289.—Withdrawals by Women.—Women, whether married or single, can withdraw money deposited by them in their own names; and married women can also withdraw money deposited by them, as single women, in their own names, their marriage notwithstanding. The fact that a female minor, on whose behalf money has been deposited, is married or becomes married after the account has been opened on her behalf, shall not prevent her from withdrawing the money so deposited on attaining majority.

290.—Limits of Withdrawal.—A depositor cannot withdraw a smaller sum than four annas, and he cannot withdraw any sum which is not a multiple of four annas, unless it be to close his account, in which case he can withdraw the balance at his credit.

HOW TO OPEN AN ACCOUNT.

291.—Applications to be made at Post Office.—Any person wishing to open an account should apply to the nearest Post Office that is a Savings Bank. Application need not necessarily be made in person; but the applicant must state his name, his occupation or profession, and his place of residence. If he be a Native, he must also state his father's name and caste.

292.—Declaration to be signed by Depositor.—The intending depositor must sign a declaration in the following form that he has read and accepted the Post Office Savings Banks rules. If he be unable to write, he must attend personally, and in the presence of a witness, affix his mark or seal to the declaration to be attested by the signature of the witness. If he should apply in person, a copy of the rules will be given to him to read, or they will be read and explained to him, should he be unable to read. If he should not apply in person, a copy of the rules with the form of declaration will be sent to him, and he must present the declaration duly signed with the first deposit.

Form of declaration to be signed by depositor on making first deposit.

I hereby declare that the Post Office Savings Banks rules have been read {by me / to me} and that I accept them as binding upon me.

I further declare that I have no account in my own name at any Post Office Savings Bank.

Signed in the presence of

*The*_____188 . } Depositor.

293.—Agent may sign Declaration in Special Case.—Women who by the custom of the country are not allowed to appear in public may open accounts in their own names through their agents, or, if they are married women, through their husbands or agents. The agent or husband will be required to sign the declaration that the depositor understands and accepts the rules.

294.—Receipt to be given by Depositor for Pass-book.—When the declaration is presented duly signed with the amount of the first deposit, or when it has been signed by a depositor attending in person to make a deposit, the amount of the deposit will be entered in a Pass-book which will be supplied to the depositor, and the entry will be initialed by the Post Master and stamped with the office stamp. The depositor will be required to sign a receipt for the Pass-book.

295.—Mode of opening Account at Sub Post Office.—If the account be opened at a Sub-Post Office, the Pass-book for the depositor will have to be obtained from the Head Post Office. A preliminary receipt for the amount of the first deposit will, therefore, be given to the depositor, who will be informed of the date on which he should call to receive the Pass-book. When the Pass-book is handed over to the depositor, he will be required to return this preliminary receipt, and to sign an acknowledgment for the Pass-book. The amount of the original deposit will be entered in the Pass-book at the Head Post Office, and the depositor will therefore have a guarantee that the sum has been received in that office. He should be careful to see that the entry in the Pass-book corresponds with the amount entered in the preliminary receipt before giving up the latter.

PASS BOOK.

296.—Importance and Use of Pass-book.—The Pass-book will show in the vernacular of the district or in English, as the depositor may wish, the number of his account, with the name of the office from which the book is issued, his own name, occupation or profession, and address. No deposit can be made and no money can be withdrawn from an account without its production, and the Post Office will not be responsible for any sum not acknowledged in the Pass-book. Depositors should carefully examine their books before leaving the offices, and ascertain that the entries are correct. They should also be careful to keep their Pass-books in their own possession, as the Post Office will not be responsible for any loss caused to a depositor if any person shall obtain possession of the book and fraudulently obtain the payment of any sum belonging to the depositor.

297.—Supplied Free of Cost except in case of Loss.—No Charge will be made for the book at first supplied to a depositor or for any books issued to him in continuation of the original book. But if a book be lost or spoiled, or if an account be re-opened after it has been closed, the depositor will have to pay one rupee for a fresh book.

HOW TO DEPOSIT MONEY.

298.—Mode of Deposit at Head Post Office.—A depositor may deposit money at the Post Office at which his account stands as often as he wishes, so long as the prescribed yearly limit is not exceeded. All that he is required to do is to take or send the amount to be deposited with his Pass-book to the Post Office. The amount of his deposit will be entered in the Pass-book and the balance struck as shown below. The entry will then be initialed by the Post Master and stamped with the dated stamp of the office, and the Pass-book returned :—

299—Depositor at Sub-Post Office entitled to Special Receipt.—If the amount be deposited at a Sub-Post Office, the depositor will receive in addition to the receipt in his Pass-book an acknowledgment from the Head Post Office, which will generally be the office at the head-quarter station of the district. This acknowledgment will be delivered to him in ordinary course through the Post Office. If it should not reach the depositor in proper time, or if, when it reaches him, it should show any signs of erasure, or should not agree with the entry in the Pass-book, the depositor should immediately apply to the Post Master of the Head Office, the name of which is in the Pass-book, and renew his application again and again until he receives a satistactory reply.

HOW TO WITHDRAW MONEY.

300.—Printed Form of Application to be used.—When a depositor wishes to withdraw money, he must present his Pass-book personally or by agent at the Post Office at which his account stands, with a printed form of application for withdrawal, which can be obtained at the Post Office, signed by himself and showing the balance at his credit and the amount which he wishes to withdraw. If he is unable to write, he must attend personally and affix his mark or seal to the application to be attested by the signature of a witness. Should he be absolutely unable to attend personally, he must have his mark or seal affixed to the application and attested by some respectable witness, and the Post Master will make payment to the person presenting this application with the Pass-book, after satisfying himself, by such enquiry as he may think proper, of the inability of the depositor to attend, and of the genuine character of the application.

301.—Depositor to sign Receipt for Amount.—The amount to be withdrawn will be entered in the Pass-book and a fresh balance struck, as in the case of a deposit, under the initials of the Post Master and the dated stamp of the office. The amount will then be paid to the depositor or to the person presenting the Pass-book and application, and his receipt taken, in all cases without a receipt stamp, on the warrant of payment.

302.—Manner of Withdrawal at Sub-Post Office.—If the amount be withdrawn at a Sub-Post Office, payment cannot be made until a warrant of payment is received from the Head Post Office. The depositor therefore or other person presenting the Pass-book and application, will be informed of the date on which he should come to the Post Office to receive payment, and will have the Pass-book returned to him. On presentation of the Pass-book on that date, or any subsequent date after the arrival of the warrant of payment, the amount will be paid to the depositor, or other person presenting the Pass-book, and his receipt taken, in all cases without a receipt stamp, upon the warrant. The necessary entries will then be made in the Pass-book under the initials of the Sub-Post Master and attested by the stamp of the office.

INTEREST.

303.—Rate of Interest and how Calculuted.—Interest will be allowed at the rate of 3¾ per cent. per annum, until further orders, on all deposits suject to the conditions of this rule. This interest will be allowed for each calendar month on the lowest balance at credit of an account between the close of the fourth day and the end of the month; provided that interest shall only be calculated at the rate of three pies a month on every complete sum of five rupees; provided also that no higher monthly interest than Rs. 9-6 shall be allowed on the balance of any account, except Public Accounts as provided for under clause 284.

304.—Interest to be added to Account once a year.—The interest calculated as above for each month will be added to the balance of each account after the 31st of March of each year. Depositors should therefore present their Pass-books as soon after that date as possible, in order that the necessary entries may be made in them. If the Pass-book be not presented for this purpose, the entry will be made on the first occasion when a deposit is made, or when money is withdrawn, after the 31st March.

TRANSFER, CLOSING, AND RE-OPENING OF ACCOUNTS.

305.—Manner of Transferring Account—A depositor may have his account transferred, free of charge, to any Post Office that is a Savings Bank. If he should wish to transfer his account, he must present his Pass-book at the Post Office personally or send it with a written application for transfer. The Pass-book will be retained by the Post Master, and a certificate given to him showing the amount at his credit. On presenting this at the Post Office to which his account has been transferred, he will receive a new Pass-book free of charge. A depositor in a District Savings Bank may, by application to the local Treasury, have his account transferred, free of charge, to any Post Office Savings Bank.

306.—Manner of Closing an Account.—When a depositor wishes to close his account, he must present his Pass-book with a form of application for withdrawal of the net amount at his credit. The amount of interest due on his account up to the end of the calendar month preceding the date of presentation will be entered in the Pass-book and a final balance struck. The amount will then be paid to the depositor and his receipt taken on the warrant of payment. The Pass-book will be retained in the Post Office. If the application for closing an account be presented at a Sub-Post Office, the same procedure will be followed as in the case of an ordinary withdrawal, except that the Pass-book will be retained.

307.—Account Closed by Order of Comptroller.—If an account is closed under the orders of the Comptroller, Post Office, notice in writing will be sent to the depositor requiring him to present his Pass-book and receive payment of the balance at his credit as soon as convenient. After the date of such notice no deposit will be accepted on the account so closed, and no interest will be allowed upon the balance after the end of the calendar month preceding such date.

308.—Conditions under which a Closed Account can be Re-opened.—A depositor who has once closed an account cannot open another account until after the expiration of three months from the date of closure without the permission of the Comptroller, Post Office; and a depositor whose account has been closed by order cannot open a fresh account in any case without the permission of the Comptroller, Post Office.

POWERS OF POST MASTER GENERAL IN CERTAIN SPECIAL CASES.

309.—Re-payment of Deposits in cases of Decease.—If a depositor should die leaving in a Post Office Savings Bank a sum of money not exceeding one thousand rupees, and if probate of his will or letter of administration of his estate or a certificate granted under Act No. XXVII of 1860 be not produced to the Post Master General within three months of the death of the said depositor, the Post Master General may pay the said sum of money to any person appearing to him to be entitled to receive it, or to administer the estate of the deceased.

310.—Re-payment of Deposits in Cases of Incapacity.—If any depositor become insane or otherwise incapable of managing his affairs, and if such insanity or incapacity be proved to the satisfaction of the Post Master General, then the Post Master General may from time to time make payment out of the deposit to any proper person.

INVESTMENT IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

311.—Manner of Investing Deposits in Government Securities.—Any person, whether a depositor or not, who desires to purchase Government Securities, may make written application to this effect at a Post Office Savings Bank. If a depositor, he will, at the same time, present his Pass-book. He will be required to tender in cash the amount necessary to complete the purchase, unless he has a sufficient deposit at his credit in the local Post Office Savings Bank. The application will then be forwarded to the Comptroller, Post Office, who will take the necessary steps for making the purchase through the Comptroller General.

(a)—The paper purchased will be of the 4 per cent. loans, unless 4½ per cent. paper is specially applied for.

(c)—An investor under these rules may at any time apply in the same way for the sale of paper purchased through the Post Office, whether held by himself or held for him by the Comptroller General.

(d)—These arrangements are intended only for persons of moderate income, who belong to a class who do not ordinarily have transactions with bankers, and the advantage of them must be refused, both by the Post Office, and, if necessary, by the Comptroller General, if the applicant is not within this definition.

312.—Safe Custody of Government Securities.—A depositor may tender at a Post Office Savings Bank Government Securities for safe custody by the Comptroller General. The securities so tendered must be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

313.—Interest on Government Securities.—So long as the Government Securities remain in the custody of the Comptroller General, interest when due will be drawn and advised to the Local Post Office Savings Bank through the Comptroller, Post Office, for credit to the Depositor's account.

314.—Sale of Government Securities.—Any person, whether a depositor or not, may apply for the sale of Government Securities through the Post Office, whether held by himself or held for him by the Comptroller General. If the securities are presented with the application, they must be endorsed in favor of the Comptroller General.

315. The following fees will be charged:—

On purchase: 4 annas per cent.

On realisation and remittance of interest: 4 annas per cent. on the amount of interest.

On delivery out of custody: 4 annas per cent., unless the application for delivery is made within a year of the purchase.

On sales: 4 annas per cent., and any actual outlay upon brokerage.

316.—Persons for whom arrangements are made.—These arrangements are intended only for persons of moderate income, who belong to a class who do not ordinarily have transactions with bankers, and the advantage of them must be refused both by the Post Office, and if necessary by the Comptroller General if the application is not within this definition.

Section VIII.—India Stock Notes.

317.—Stock Notes Procurable at Post Offices.—Except within the limits of the Provinces and places noted in the margin, Government Stock Notes for Rs. 12-8, Rs. 25, Rs. 50 and Rs. 100 can be purchased direct from any Head Post Office or obtained from a Head Post Office by application at any Sub-Post Office. These Stock Notes bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. payable annually at the Treasury.

Section IX.—Official Correspondence.

INLAND OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

318.—Special Rates of Postage.—Subject to the following conditions all articles transmitted through the Inland Post in the course of official correspondence can be sent at the undermentioned rates:—

OFFICIAL POSTAGE RATES.

Prepayment is optional in all cases, except for registered articles and post-cards. Unpaid rates are the same as the prepaid rates.	Post-cards.	Letters.	Packets in open covers, as described in clauses 59 and 65, to contain only Books or Patterns, including articles coming under that head, as described in clauses 57 & 63,	Parcels, without restriction as to contents, except dangerous or other articles objected to under clauses 84 to 86.
	As.	Annas.	Annas.	Annas.

For every additional 40 tolas..	...	...	.....	4

Note (a).—Thus an article weighing 41 tolas will be charged with 41 annas. Articles which exceed 40 tolas will be conveyed by banghy post (as packets or as parcels) at the lower rate of charge, unless specially marked by the senders for transmission as letters, or prepaid at letter rates.

Note (b).—All letters are forwarded by letter post; also all packets not exceeding 20 tolas in weight, and any fully prepaid packet exceeding 20 tolas which contains only a single official Gazette, are forwarded by letter post. All other articles are forwarded by the slower banghy post.

319.—Officials entitled to send Articles at Special Rates.—All Government officials are entitled to send articles at the above rates, provided that such articles are bona fide and exclusively on Her Majesty's Service.

Government officers on leave and Government officers who have retired from the service are not entitled to this privilege in any case.

The Registrars of the Universities at Calcutta, Bombay and Madras are also entitled to send at special rates the correspondence of their offices, in so far as it relates solely to the public business of the Universities. The privilege does not extend to any University official other than a Registrar.

320.—Local Fund Officials not entitled to Privilege.—Correspondence sent by a Local Fund officer, or by any Government Officer acting in a capacity connected with a Local Fund, such as President or Secretary of a Local Fund Committee, is not official correspondence within the meaning of these rules, and may not be superscribed as on Her Majesty's Service. But nothing in this rule is held to prevent the transmission on Her Majesty's Service of correspondence sent by a Government officer acting as such, even though the correspondence may relate to the affairs of a Local Fund: for instance, the Commissioner of a Division writing in that capacity to a Local Fund officer, concerning Local Fund affairs, may superscribe the letter on Her Majesty's Service. The term Local Fund as used in this rule is intended to include municipalities and other similar bodies or institutions.

321.—Conditions to be observed in Sending Articles at Special Rates.—The article must not exceed in weight 600 tolas. If prepaid, prepayment must be made by means of service postage stamps. The stamps must be supported by the superscription on the cover "On Her Majesty's Service," under the full signature and official designation of the Government officer who sends the article, or of the Head Clerk or Superintendent of his office, or of other responsible officer to whom the duty of despatching is confided. The particular officer who signs the cover must enter in full his own official designation, in order that his individual responsibility may be enforced in cases of doubt or fraud. The superscription and signature should be entered in the form marginally given. Service stamps affixed to an article without the above superscription will not be recognised by the Post Office in payment of postage.

On Her Majesty's Service.	Service Stamps.
To (Here enter address.) (Signature of Sender.) (Official designation.)

(a)—Post Masters are allowed to recognize abbreviated designations, provided they are generally known. But no official can claim the recognition of an abbreviation, the rule being that the designation shall be entered in full.

(b)—Post Masters are allowed to recognise fac-simile impressions of signatures, i. e., signatures impressed by stamps: but public officers who use such stamps are expected to make arrangements for their proper custody and use: and if there be any reason to suspect the misuse of such stamps, or the absence of proper precautions against their misuse, Post Masters may decline to recognise the stamp impression and require strict adherence to the rule. Lithographed imitations of signatures, as well as printed names, cannot be recognised in lieu of signatures; fac-simile impressions by means of stamps used under proper precautions being the only substitute for actual signature which can be recognised.

(c)—For official Gazettes in open covers posted in large numbers by the office of publication a printed name may be substituted for the signature.

322.—Penalty for Breach of Conditions as to Address.—Any irregularity or incompleteness of the address, superscription or signature on an article renders it liable to be treated as an ordinary unpaid article, any service stamps which it may bear not being recognised.

323.—Procedure when Postage not Prepaid.—Official articles properly superscribed under clause 321, but without stamps, are charged with postage on delivery at prepaid official rates. Insufficiently paid articles are charged with the deficiency. In cases where it is not thought advisable to entrust postage stamps to a subordinate official, who has to correspond with, or send returns to, a superior, he may be allowed by his superior to address official articles to him under this rule, and the same course may be adopted in other cases where it is found convenient or proper to make the postage charge fall on the receiving office.

324.—Procedure if Ordinary Stamps used for Service Stamps.—When ordinary stamps, instead of service stamps, are used in articles superscribed under clause 321, they will be recognised by the Post Office; but the irregularity should be brought by the Post Office to the notice of the officer concerned, and if of frequent occurrence, to that of the Post Master General.

325.—Government Officials may send Articles "Service Unpaid."—Letters, parcels and packets sent by Government officers in their official capacity, which relate nevertheless to the private interests and concerns of the individuals addressed, may be endorsed according to the specimen form given on the margin, under the full signature and official designation of the person by whom they are sent. Letters, parcels and packets so addressed are regarded by the Post Office as private articles, but are charged, on delivery, with bearing postage at prepaid rates, and not at double rates, as in the case of ordinary articles. Under this head come replies sent to communications of the kind noted in the margin, as well as any other communications of a like kind which Government officers may make to individuals (whether private persons or Government officers) relating to the private interests of the addressees.

Service Bearing.
To
A. B.,
CALCUTTA.
C. D.,
Accountant General.

Petitions, applications for appointments, requests for transfer, enquiries about title to leave, &c.

326.—Public in certain cases may send Articles "Service Unpaid."—Letters, parcels and packets sent by private persons to Government officials relating to the affairs of Government, and endorsed according to the specimen form given on the margin, under the full signature of the sender (the address including the full official designation of the public office to which the article is sent), are charged, on delivery, at the rate to which they would have been liable if prepaid by ordinary stamps, and not at double rates, as in the case of ordinary articles. This rule is intended to provide for cases of zemindars reporting the occurrence of crime to a police officer, of employers of labourers sending returns required by the Protector, and of any similar reports or returns authorized to be so sent.

Service Bearing.
To
THE DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE, LUCKNOW.
Signature of sender.

327.—Special Rules as to Delivery of Official Correspondence on which Postage is due.—The amount of postage marked as due on articles delivered under the superscriptions of "Service Bearing" or "On Her Majesty's Service" will be initialed by the Post Master or other appointed officer in the office of delivery. Government officers are bound to receive and pay the postage which may be due on articles addressed to them under the superscription "On Her Majesty's Service" and under the signature in full of the sender.

328.—Registration and Insurance of Official Correspondence.—Articles transmitted by officials under the above rules can be registered and insured under the ordinary rules; but in all cases in which the fee has to be paid in stamps it must be paid by means of Service Stamps.

329.—Correspondence (Official and Private) of Governments when Head-quarters are changed.—When changes of Head-quarters are made or Camps formed by the Governments and Administrations named on the margin, they should give timely intimation to the local Post Master General or Deputy Post Master General, as well as to the local Superintendent, Railway Mail Service. When Camps are formed they should also instruct their correspondents to address articles intended for transmission to the Camp, with the word "Camp" in lieu of a Post-town. Articles addressed to a Post-town can be sent by the Post Office only to that Post-town. If the address contains neither Post-town nor Camp, the article will be sent to the Head-quarter station of the Government or Administration.

The Camp movements of a Local Government or Administration cannot be notified to the Post Office beyond the limits of the Province: so that it may not always be possible so to regulate the route of entry of correspondence coming from outside the Province as to avoid all possibility of circuitous travelling. But all reasonable endeavour will be made to secure its travelling by the nearest route.

Foreign Official Correspondence.

330.—Official Correspondence Conveyed by Foreign Post.—The rules contained in the preceding clauses relate exclusively to official inland correspondence, i. e., correspondence conveyed by the Inland Post. Official correspondence conveyed by the Foreign Post is governed by the same rules as ordinary private correspondence, and must either be prepaid by service stamps (under the superscription and signature prescribed by clause 321), or, where pre-payment is optional, be forwarded as unpaid, subject to the levy of postage on delivery.

The only exception to the above has reference to official letters (not newspapers or other articles) sent by British Packets to or from the public functionaries or departments in London having special accounts for foreign letter postage with the London Post Office. Official letters intended for such offices need not be prepaid if superscribed as "On Her Majesty's Service" under the full signature and official designation of the sender. The public functionaries or departments in London which have accounts with the London Post Office are:—

Woods, Forests and Land Revenues Office (Whitehall Place).
Works and Public Buildings Office (Whitehall Place).

N.B.—The official letters received by British Packet from the public functionaries or departments in London above enumerated are marked by the London Post Office with the red "official paid" stamp which is the authority for delivery in India without charge. In some cases, however, articles which have been received enclosed in official letters of the above description are re-posted in India under the impression that the frank of the public office in London will carry them to destination free of charge. But this is not the case, the only letters recognised as official being those described above as bearing the London Post Office "official paid" stamp, and those which under the preceding rules are franked by public officers in India.

Foreign Correspondence for Government and Regiments when on the move.

331.—Special Arrangements for Delivery.—The following arrangements have been made for the delivery in India of the foreign correspondence (whether official or private) of their staffs, with special reference to certain Governments and Administrations.

Changes of Head-quarters and Camp movements.—Regarded direct to Head-quarters.—A special mail will be made up by the Post Office containing all fully prepaid letters, newspapers and book or pattern packets addressed according to one or other of the specimen forms given below. This special mail will be sorted by the Railway Mail Service into special bags according to the addresses given below (except Nos. 4 and 9), and these special bags will be forwarded to the Post Office at the Head-quarters or Camp of the Government or Administration mentioned in the address. Nos. 4 and 9 are made up in the Bombay Post Office. Persons desirous of availing themselves of this measure should instruct their correspondents abroad respecting the particular address to be used. Special attention is drawn to the note at the top of the list of specimen forms.

List of Specimen Forms.

Note.—The undermentioned forms of address, as will be observed, contain the name of no particular Post-town, and this point should be particularly noted, as the insertion of the name of any Post-town in the address will result in the article being sent to that Post-town instead of being included in the special bag.

333.—Intimation of Changes of Head-quarters.—Changes in the Head-quarters as well as the Camp movements of any of the Governments or Administrations should be communicated some days in advance to the Superintendent, Foreign Mails, Railway Mail Service, Bombay. The Secretary, Financial Department, will intimate the office of delivery for the Supreme Government (special bag No. 1) on the occasion of its movements to and from Calcutta.

334.—Redirection of Correspondence received in Special bags—Any person expecting letters, &c., in any one of these special bags, and desiring them to be delivered at any other Post-town, should [illegible] the Superintendent, Foreign Mails, Railway Mail Service, Bombay, to cause his letters [illegible] be taken out in transit and redirected according to his instructions. The officer above [illegible] will be ready to attend to all such instructions, provided that they are not of a complicated character.

335.—Rules not Applicable to Parcels and Unpaid Articles.—Foreign parcels [illegible] unpaid or insufficiently paid articles cannot be sent in these special bags: any foreign parcels bearing the addresses mentioned in clause 332 will be disposed of by the Bombay Post Office in communication with the Superintendent, Foreign Mails, Railway Mail Service, Bombay: and any unpaid or insufficiently paid articles other than parcels will be disposed of under the orders of the Superintendent, Foreign Mails, Railway Mail Service, Bombay, and will be forwarded to the Head-quarters of the Government in question.

336.—Re-direction of Regimental Correspondence.—When a regiment is moved, the Commanding Officer may instruct the Superintendent, Foreign Mails, Railway Mail Service, Bombay, to intercept all foreign correspondence for the regiment and to redirect it to the Post-town named in the instructions. Complicated instructions cannot be attended to.

Section X.—Government Carrying Agency.

(Commonly called the Government Bullock Train.)

337.—Object of the Agency.—The Government Carrying Agency is an agency under the management of the Post Office Department for the conveyance of passengers and packages under certain conditions on certain lines.

338.—Classification of Packages for transit.—The Agency Offices have been authorised to classify packages the contents of which are declared in the transmitting note, the classification being regulated by that in force on the East Indian Railway. The charges made for transit vary with the class of goods when the transit includes conveyance by railway, and can be ascertained on application at all Agency Offices. A Railway classification list will also be made available for inspection at every Agency Office.* Special attention is directed to the fact that undeclared goods are charged at the highest or fifth class rates.

* The following is an extract from the classification list:—

Class 2.	Class 3.	Class 4.	Class 5.
Beer in casks.	Bedding.	Books.	Furniture (polished, unpacked).
Cheroots.	Boots.	China-ware.	Pictures.
	Groceries.	Glass-ware.	Picture frames.
	Harness.	Furniture (coarse, unpacked).	Plate.
	Furniture (coarse, packed in wood).	Furniture (polished, packed in wood).	Plated-ware.
	Military accoutrements.	Firearms.	Undeclared goods.
	Preserved provisions.	Lamps.
	Saddlery.	Wines in case or bottle.
	Stationery.	Spirits, bottled.
	Wearing apparel.

339.—Government not responsible for loss or damage.—The Government will not be responsible for any loss of, or damage to, packages sent by Carrying Agency, whether caused by fire, tempest, the state of the roads, or any negligent, improper or criminal act on the part of the persons concerned in the conveyance or delivery of the goods.

340.—Through booking between Calcutta and Simla.—Packages can be booked from Calcutta to Simla and vice versa, the charges (railway freight and Government Carrying Agency hire) on such packages being at the option of the sender, either paid in full at the time of booking or left to be paid at destination. The packages will be classified according to their declared contents (see previous clause) for the purpose of calculating the railway freight: but there will be a uniform change for Carrying Agency hire irrespective of the class in which the packages may be placed.

341.—Booking at Calcutta.—Packages weighing not more than 12 maunds can be booked at the East Indian Railway Company's Office at Armenian Ghat. Packages exceeding that weight must be booked at the Howrah Railway Station. Every consignment of goods must be accompanied by a Consignment Note* containing a description of the goods. The Railway Company will grant a receipt to the sender, and this receipt must be duly endorsed by the consignee and given up to the Government Carrying Agency at Simla, before the goods can be delivered.

* A Memo. stating the contents of packages and the correct name and address of the consignee under full signature of the sender.

342.—Booking at Simla.—Every consignment of goods booked at the Government Carrying Agency at Simla must be accompanied by a Consignment Note containing a description of the goods. The Carrying Agency will grant a receipt to the sender, and this receipt must be duly endorsed by the consignee and given up to the East Indian Railway Company at Calcutta, before the goods can be delivered.

343.—Carrying Agency Lines.—Umballa Cantonment to Simla via Kalka with branches to Kasauli, Dugshai, Solon and Subathoo. Packages can be forwarded also to Sonawar from Kasauli under special arrangements at the owner's risk and expense. Applications for information regarding rates, conditions and other matters, should be addressed to the Postmasters at the places named above.

Section XI.—Passenger Service.

344.—Line managed by the Post Office Department.—Passengers are conveyed by express carriages between Umballa and Kalka (38 miles) and by Tonga between Kalka and Simla (58 miles): seats are also available by Mail Van and Tonga, subject to the condition that the weight and size of the Mails admit of the conveyance of passengers. The maximum weight allowed in an express carriage is 9 maunds and in a Tonga is 6 maunds each person being reckoned as $1\frac{1}{2}$ maunds. The through rates of charges are as follows:—

For an express carriage and Tonga..... Rs. 40
" a seat by Mail Van and Mail Tonga..... " $9\frac{1}{2}$ and the the limits of weight for luggage by Mail conveyances are as shown below:—

By Mail Van and Mail Tonga..... ..... 12 seers.
" Parcel Van and Parcel Tonga..... 20 "

For further information regarding this Line applications should be made to the Postmaster at Umballa or Simla.

345.—Contract Lines not managed by the Post Office Department.—The following Lines are maintained under contract, but the Post Office Department has no connection with the Passenger service.

THE PAPER CURRENCY DEPARTMENT.

H. F. CLOGSTOUN, M.C.S.....Commissioner of Paper Currency, Madras.
H. S. GROVES, B.A.....Asst. Accountant General, in charge, Currency Office.
Mr. E. GRANT.....Superintendent (on other duty.)
M. DESIKA CHARI.....Acting.

Office—Accountant General's Office, Fort.

Office opens at 11 A.M. and closes to the public at 3 P.M.; on Saturdays at 1 P.M.

Nature of Arrangements.

(1.)—The Presidency is divided into two Circles of Issue, Madras and Calicut. The Calicut Circle of Issue consists of the districts of Malabar, South Canara, Coimbatore, the Nilgiris and Coorg, having Calicut as the Office of Issue; and the Madras Circle of Issue consists of all the other districts in the Presidency, with the Town of Madras as head-quarters for the issue of Notes for the Circle. In addition to these two head-quarters of issue, there are Currency Agencies at Vizagapatam and Cocanada.

(2.)—The Currency Circle of Cocanada was abolished on the 16th August 1881.

(3.)—The Exchange Department, at the head-quarters of each Circle of Issue, issues Home Notes for Coin or other Notes, and Coin for Notes. Other, or foreign Circle Notes, are only cashed when there is an available margin of Coin. Calicut Notes will at all times be cashed at the Head Office at Madras. The Exchange Department also issues small Silver and Copper Coin in exchange for Coin or Notes.

(4.)—Although no person has a legal claim to obtain cash for Notes except at the Currency Office of Issue, Notes are cashed freely at Mofussil Treasuries when the Treasury Officers are satisfied that no inconvenience can be caused to their treasuries by the encashment. Notes tendered by travellers (other than visitors to hill sanitaria) are cashed to a limited extent, even when the treasury is unable to cash them for the general public.

(5.)—At every place other than the Office of Issue, Notes of the Home Circle are a legal tender in satisfaction of any claim against Government, though ordinarily, no person is pressed to take Notes in part or full of his demand. Payment of Government dues may be made in Government Currency Notes of any Circle of Issue. Railway Companies will receive Notes of any Circle in payment of fares and freight.

Claims on Half or Mutilated Currency Notes.

(1.)—Any person who has a claim upon the Currency Department in respect of a Currency Note which is not in such condition as to admit of immediate payment across the counter (i. e., which is mutilated, or half of which has been lost), should address his claim to the Currency Office from which the Note issued.

(2.)—Before any steps are taken the applicant will be required to deposit the Note, or part Note, in respect of which he makes the claim. It is not necessary to advertise, in the Gazette or otherwise, claims which are made upon half or mutilated Notes.

(3.)—When the claim is received, a paper will be issued, requiring the claimant, within fourteen days of its receipt, to give full particulars on the following points, and any other points that may arise out of the enquiry.

(1.)—Name, residence, and occupation or profession.
(2.)—Whether he was ever proprietor of the entire Note, and if so, where and when, and on what account he received it.
(3.)—How it came to be mutilated, or, if it is a half Note, how, and by whom, and for what purpose, the Note was divided in half.
(4.)—If half of the Note have been lost, to state fully the time and circumstances of the loss. If it has been lost in transit by post, to produce the result of enquiry by the Postal Authorities. If the letter was not registered, to explain why.
(5.)—To state the name of any person who can give evidence, either as to applicant's possession of the entire Note or as to the circumstances of the loss, and to produce copies of any letters, documents, entries in registers, &c., which give information on these matters.
(6.)—If the loss has occurred in transmission through the Post Office, to produce declaration by the person to whom the letter was addressed, that he did not receive it.
N.B.—(A person who receives a half Note through the post has no claim to its value. The claim must be put forward by the person who held the entire Note.)
(7.)—If there has been any delay in applying, it must be fully explained.
(8.)—Whether applicant ever before made a claim upon a half or mutilated Note; if so, when.

(4.)—If the declaration on these points is not sufficient, the Currency Officer is to call for further particulars, or make any further enquiries necessary, either of applicant or of any other person.

(5.)—If the Currency Officer considers the information sufficient, he is to submit it to the Commissioner or Head Commissioner, for orders.

In doing so, he is to report (1) when the note was issued; (2) whether any claim or stoppage is noted against it; (3) whether it is still outstanding; (4) any other circumstances bearing on the claim, and ascertainable from his office registers, or otherwise known to him.

(6.)—If this Officer considers the claim established, he will pass order that the Note is to be paid, upon bond of indemnity, that day six months, if no reason to the contrary appear. If he does not consider the claim established, he is to refuse payment, and leave the applicant either to comply with requisition for further evidence, or to take any further steps he may desire.

(7.)—When the period of six months is expired, a bond form will be furnished to the applicant with instructions for its execution, and bearing a receipt form on its reverse. The money (less cost of stamp on bond) will, at applicant's option, be paid to him over the counter, or remitted to him by money-order.

(8.)—No claim can be admitted unless the applicant satisfies the Head Commissioner or Commissioner

(1) that he was legal holder of the entire Note;
(2) that he is unable, owing to circumstances properly explained and beyond his control, to produce the entire Note, and, by delivery of part of the Note to the Currency Department, renders it impossible for any other person to make a claim upon the entire Note.

Mismatched Notes.

(1.)—Persons into whose possession mismatched notes come (i.e., cases in which the right half of one Currency Note is joined to the left half of another Currency Note), should forward the mismatched notes at once to the Currency Office whose name they bear.

(2.)—No claim for payment of such notes can be admitted, but all claims are registered, and if the corresponding halves have already been received or hereafter come in, in the form of Mismatched Note, the Currency Office will by joining together the proper halves and paying the entire Notes, meet the claims as far as possible and remit the recovered value by Money Order.

Entire Notes lost.

(1.)—Entire notes lost are not paid. The loss of notes of higher value than Rs. 20 is advertised, and if subsequently presented the loser and the police are informed of the name and address of the presenter. The loss of notes of the 5, 10, and 20 rupee denominations is not advertised, nor is presentation reported to the loser or the police. In respect to notes which are alleged to have been completely lost or destroyed, the Government acknowledge no liability. When completely satisfied that the notes can never be produced, the evidence of the claimant will be received, and the claim admitted or rejected at once; if admitted the value of the note is to be invested, and no further proceedings taken, nor interest paid till twenty years.

(2.)—Intimation of the loss, destruction or mutilation of a note, or portion of a note, must be sent to the office where the note is payable thus:—

(a.) If it be a Calcutta Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Head Commissioner of Paper Currency, Calcutta.
(b.) If an Allahabad Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency, Allahabad.
(c.) If a Lahore Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency, Lahore.
(d.) If a Bombay Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Bombay.
(e.) If a Kurrachee Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency, Kurrachee.
(f.) If a Nagpore or Akola Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Bombay.
(g.) If a Madras Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Madras.
(h.) If a Calicut Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of Paper Currency, Calicut.
(i.) If a Coconada Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Madras.
(j.) If a Rangoon Circle Note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Rangoon.

(3.)—The Currency office on receiving intimation of the loss of notes of higher value than Rs. 20 will advertise their loss (free of charge) in the Official Gazette of the Presidency of the place where or within which the note is payable, and also in the Gazette of India.

(4.)—Throughout these Rules the expression "lost note" includes a stolen note, and the expression "destroyed note" includes a note lost under such circumstances as render its recovery physically impossible.*

Telegraph Rules and Tariff for Inland Messages.

Rules and Tariff, relating to the transmission of Telegraph Messages in India, and between India and Ceylon, sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council, with effect from 1st April 1880.

General.

Rule 1.—The accuracy of messages is not guaranteed, and the Sender and Receiver must accept all risks arising from non-delivery, errors or delays.

Rule 2.—Telegraph Stations are divided into three classes, viz.:—

Class of office.	General working hours (local time.)	Special working hours (local time) on Sunday, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, and the Queen's Birthday.
I.	Day and night	Day and night.
II.	7 A.M. to 9 P.M.*	7 to 9 A.M., and 4 to 9 P.M.
III.	10 A.M. to 5 P.M.*	7 to 9 A.M., and 4 to 6 P.M.

Exception in favor of emergent telegrams signed by competent authority.

In cases of life and death, or of extraordinary emergency, a message, countersigned by the Chief Civil or Military Authority at a Station, or by any of the Authorities empowered to "clear the line" (see Rule 40), can be sent from any Office at any time.

Messages should be legibly written.

Rule 3.—Senders of messages are advised to write their messages in an unmistakable and distinct hand.

Acceptance of Messages for Transmission.

Acceptance of messages at Post Offices.

Rule 4.—Messages are accepted at all Post Offices. Where the Post Office is unconnected by wire, the messages are despatched by first post "registered" to the nearest Telegraph Station without extra charge. Post Offices which accept and despatch messages by wire are called "Combined" Offices: Post Offices unconnected by wire are called "Receiving Offices."

Limit to length of messages.

Rule 5.—No message or messages of more than five hundred words can be sent at any one time by any private individual or firm, and no second messages by the same individual or firm till after the lapse of three hours, unless the lines be free and not required by any one else.

Messages must be in the Roman character or Arabic figures.

Rule 6.—All messages must be legibly written in the Roman character or in Arabic figures: subject to the above limitation, messages may be sent in the vernacular, or any foreign language, or in cipher, if written in Arabic numerals.

Messages translated for natives.

At Telegraph and Post Offices in Stations other than the Presidency Towns, every assistance possible is afforded to natives in the translation of messages into English, and vice versa.

Form to be followed.

Rule 7.—The body of the message must be preceded by the address (as defined in Rule 18). The true signature and address of the Sender must always be written at the foot of the message.

Verification of signature to private messages may be insisted upon.

The Sender of a private message can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine.

Full address necessary.

Rule 8.—The address must contain all the information necessary to ensure the delivery of the message at its destination, and the Sender in all cases supports the consequences of insufficiency of address. After the message is once despatched, it can neither be cancelled, completed, nor rectified, except by the despatch of a fresh paid message.

Authentication of corrections necessary.

Rule 9.—Every interlineation, reference, erasure, or alteration of words must be authenticated by the Sender of the message, or by his representative.

Messages sent by post to telegraph stations for transmission.

Rule 10.—Messages from places where there is no Telegraph Station should be tendered at the local Post Office with cash or with postage stamps, in which case the Post Master will grant a receipt for the amount, or they may at the option of the Sender be addressed to the nearest Government Telegraph Office by post registered, together with Telegraph or Postage stamps sufficient for their payment, in which case a Receipt for the amount will be posted free to the Sender.

Treatment of messages received by post for transmission insufficiently stamped.

In the case of a message sent by Post to a Telegraph Station with an insufficient number of stamps, the excess charge will be recovered from the addressee.

Messages addressed to non-telegraph stations.

Rule 11.—Messages can be addressed to places where there are no Telegraph Stations. In such cases, the Sender must state (free) from what Telegraph office delivery is to be effected.

* These hours are subject to modification to suit local requirement.

Exaple.—"To Sherghotty, Post Burhee."

No charge will be made for ordinary Inland postage, or for registration, but postal registration is compolsory in the case of messages which have to be posted in India to places beyond Indian limits, and in such cases both the postage and registration fees* must be prepaid by the Sender.

"Bearing" messages.

Rule 12.—With the following exception, all charges for messages must be prepaid in cash or in stamps:—

Messages are sent "bearing" from Sea-ports when received for despatch by mail steamers or other vessels, but no such message, whether "prepaid" or "bearing," will be received for transmission until the name of the vessel has been made known, Bearing messages will not be delivered to the Addressees until after payment has been obtained.

Use of Stamps.

Rule 13.—All charges on telegrams tendered at Government Telegraph Offices are prepaid in Telegraph Stamps, which are procurable at every Treasury and every Government Telegraph Station.

Form of stamp provides a guarantee to the Sender and to Government.

Telegraph Stamps are double-headed, the object being that the upper half shall be returned on the Receipt (whereby the Sender receives a guarantee that his message has not been suppressed for the sake of the stamps), and the lower half shall be affixed to the message as voucher to Government that it has been prepaid.

Stamps to be properly affixed to the forms.

The Senders of messages should be careful to affix their Telegraph stamps on the spaces left blank for the purpose on the message forms, the upperhalf on the Receipt, the lower half on the message, and to see that the stamps are defaced with the office stamp which bears the name of the station and the date.

Cut or defaced stamps cannot be received.

Telegraph stamps cut in two, before being sent into a Telegraph Office, or which are in any way defaced, discolored, or damaged, cannot be accepted.

Application for the refund of the value of such stamps, accompained by particulars of the way in which the stamps became damaged, may, however, be made to the Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta, which will ordinarily comply with the application when no doubt exists that the damaged stamps are genuine, and that the damage was not caused intentionally.

At "compined offices" (see Rule 4) telegrams can be prepayed in Postage stamps.

Forms obtainable gratis at all stations.

Proper forms on which to write messages are available gratis at all Telegraph Stations and Post Offices, and Senders are requested to use these forms only.

Charges on State messages.

Rule 14.—State messages from all Public Functionaries must be paid for in cash or in stamps prior to despatch; the rates are the same for State messages as those charged to private individuals. This Rule will be relaxed in case of great emergency: whenever an 'urgent' State message is tendered for despatch under this permission, the Sender must take the necessary steps to ascertain the charges on it, and pay them into the Telegraph Office within 24 hours.

State messages take their turn for despatch with private, urgent or deferred messages.

Rule 15.—State messages not marked "urgent" will be treated as "deferred" (see Rule 19): they take their turn for despatch with "urgent" and "deferred" private messages according to the order in which they were tendered.

No unpaid messages to be despatched under penalty.

Rule 16.—No unpaid messages, except those specified in the Departmental Regulations, shall on any account be transmitted. A violation of this rule will subject the Signaller or Telegraph Master in charge of the station from which a message is improperly despatched to dismissal from the public service.

Objectionable messages to be refused acceptance.

Rule 17.—Telegraph Masters are required to refuse to transmit a message which may be of a decidedly objectionable or alarming character. Should the character of a message be open to doubt, the matter shall be referred to a Secretary to Government, if the message be tendered at the seat of Government, or the Chief Civil or Military Officer, if at a provincial station.

Charges.

Rule 18.—No charge is made for the transmission of the Address.

Free address.

The "Address" includes names of stations from and to which the message is to be despatched, the bona fide names or designations† of the Sender and Addressee, and the latter's address. No other words can be transmitted unless paid for as part of the body of the message, and the officers of the Telegraph Department are authorized to omit from the address any words which are not essential to the correct delivery of the message.

If the Sender of a message desire his own address to be telegraphed, it must be included in the body of the message, and paid for.

Charge for a message.

Rule 19.—The following are the rates of charges for a message:—

(No charge is made for the transmission of the address.)

Local messages,—i. e., those tendered during the working hours of a Telegraph Office for transmission in ordinary course within a radius of six miles of a Central Government Telegraph Office —

BETWEEN ANY TWO STATIONS IN INDIA.

First 8 words or groups of 3 figures	As. 4
Each additional 8 words or group of 3 figures	„ 4

Deferred messages,—i. e., those tendered during the working hours of a Telegraph Office for transmission at night and to be delivered at destination early on the following morning:—

First 8 words or groups of 3 figures	As. 8
Each additional word or group of 3 figures	„ 1

Ordinary messages,—i. e., those tendered during the working hours of a Telegraph Office for transmission and delivery in ordinary course:—

First 8 words or groups of 3 figures	Rs. 1 0
Each additional word or group of 3 figures	„ 0 2

Urgent messages,—i. e., those tendered during the working hours of a Telegraph Office for immediate transmission with precedence over ordinary messages:—

First 8 words or groups of 3 figures	Rs. 2 0
Each additional word or group of 3 figures	„ 0 4

Messages despatched to and from Railway Stations without extra charge.

Rule 20.—A message can be sent from any Station of the Government Telegraph Department to any Railway Telegraph Station, or vice versa, without additional charge.

Application of charges.

Rule 21.—The maximum length of a word is fixed at six syllables; the excess is counted as a word.

No unusal abbreviations or combinations permitted.

Rule 22.—Messages must not contain any unusual combinations, abbreviations, or constructions. Any word in common use, which, although requiring two words to express it, is generally recognized as one word, is charged as one word when so written; when the two parts are not joined by a hyphen or apostrophe, and when of, or less than six syllables. "Halfpenny," "Twopence," "Threepence," &c., up to "Elevenpence," when written as a single word, count as one word only. "F.O.B.," "C.F.I.," "A.M.," and "P.M.," when written as separate letters, are each counted as two and three words, respectively, but when written "Fob," "Cfi," "Am," "Pm," as one word.

Words joined by a hyphen.

Rule 23.—Words joined by a hyphen are counted as so many separate words.

Words separated by an apostrophe.

Rule 24.—Words separated by an apostrophe are counted as so many separate words. (This rule does not apply to nouns in the possessive case, as "General's," "Charles', "Brother's.")

Proper names, titles, &c.

Rule 25.—Proper names of towns and persons, names of places, streets, ships, titles, Christian names, prefixes, and qualifications, are counted for the number of words employed by the Sender to express them.

Every separate character, including an underline, charged as a word.

Rule 26.—Every isolated character, whether letter or figure, is counted as a word. The same applies to an underline.

Signs of punctuation.

Rule 27.—Signs of punctuation, hyphens, apostrophes, inverted commas, parentheses, fresh paragraphs, are not counted or signalled, but decimal points, commas, bars of division, &c., used with figures, are each counted as a figure and signalled.

* 8 annas.

† Name and designation cannot both be admitted, unless it would otherwise be obviously impossible for the Addressee to identify the Sender.

A message can only be sent in the name of one individual or firm.

Charges for figures.

Method of counting figures.

Rule 28.—When numbers are expressed in figures, all the characters, figures, letters, or signs in each group are added together, the total divided by three, and the quotient, plus one for the remainder, if there be any, gives the number of words the group represents. Signs used to separate groups and letters added to figures to form ordinal numbers are counted each as a figure or letter; groups of letters not forming words (letter cipher) cannot be transmitted.

All words to be transmitted charged for.

Rule 29.—All that the Sender writes in his message to be transmitted to be included in the cost, but the address of a message, as defined in Rule 18, will be transmitted without charge.

Date and time of receipt added by the Department and transmitted free.

The day, hour and minute (Madras time) of receipt of a message into a Telegraph Office for despatch are in every instance added by the Department and telegraphed free of charge. Senders may, however, date their messages if they think fit, but the Sender's date, if given, will be charged for.

Multiple messages charged as separate messages.

Rule 30.—A message addressed to several persons, or to the same person in localities where delivery is to be effected by different offices, is charged for as so many separate messages.

Multiple messages charged as one message.

Rule 31.—A message addressed to several persons in one locality, or to the same person at several places of residence in one locality, with or without transmission by post, is charged for as a single message; but a copying fee of four annas, independently of postage, if any, is charged for each destination after the first.

Repetition of Messages.

Collation of message.

Rule 32.—The Sender of any message can require that it be repeated. In this case the different stations employed in its transmission collate it as it passes, repeating it to each other integrally.

Charge for collation.

Rule 33.—The charge for repeating is equal to half the charge for the message. A repeated message is indicated by the word "collated," which, to ensure the greatest accuracy, is telegraphed (free) both in the official instructions and as the first word of the text of the message.

Advice of Delivery.

Advice of delivery.

Rule 34.—Any Sender can require that a notice of the time at which his message is delivered be transmitted to him by telegraph. This advice of delivery may be addressed to him at any Station he may name.

Case of non-delivery.

Rule 35.—If the message cannot be delivered, the return-telegram indicates the circumstances which prevented delivery, and, if possible, gives the information necessary to enable the Sender to cause his message to reach its destination.

Priority of return-message.

The return-message has priority in transmission over "ordinary" messages.

Charge for advice of delivery.

Rule 36.—The charge for an advice of delivery or non-delivery is one rupee.

*Prepayment of Reply.

Rule 37.—The Sender of a message can prepay a reply, depositing for this purpose a sum not exceeding ten times the cost of his original telegram; but the message to which a reply is prepaid must not be addressed to more than one person. On depositing the corresponding sum, the Sender can add (free) to the words "Reply paid" or "Answer paid" and the amount to which he wishes the reply to be limited. The Terminal Station pays to the Receiver, in Telegraph stamps, or in money, the amount prepaid, leaving it to him to send his answer how, and when, and to what address he pleases, or not to send one at all. The reply, if sent, is considered in every respect as a fresh message.

In the case of a message to which a reply is prepaid addressed to a station where there is no Telegraph Office, the amount is forwarded to destination from the nearest

* The Sender of a State message addressed to a Government official may not prepay a reply. And in the case of a State message addressed to other than a Government official, any sum deposited by the Sender under this rule must be intended for no other purpose than to cover the cost of a return telegram.

Government Telegraph Office, not in telegraph stamps, but by currency notes and postage stamps in an insured cover, the Sender must accordingly prepay the postal insurance fees.

Reply deposits exceeding Rs. 2 in value cannot be received at or delivered from any Railway Telegraph Office or received at any Postal Receiving Office (see Rule 4). Messages addressed to Stations on Railways to which replies exceeding Rs. 2 in value are prepaid are posted with currency notes and Postage stamps enclosed from the nearest Government Telegraph Office, direct to the addressee. In the case of such messages also, the postal insurance fees are payable by the Sender.

Should it be impossible to effect delivery of a "Reply paid" message, the Terminal Station sends a Service telegram to that effect to the Sender, and the amount deposited will be refunded on application being made to the Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta. The words "Reply paid" or "Answer paid" entitle the Addressee to receive the equivalent of the minimum charge only.

It should be distinctly understood that it is not compulsory on the Addressee to send a reply. The duty of the Terminal Station consists simply in paying to him, in Telegraph Stamps or in money, the amount prepaid, leaving him at liberty to do what he pleases with it.

Delivery.

Free delivery radius.

Rule 38.—"Local" messages will be delivered free of charge within one mile, and other messages within five miles of a Telegraph Station. Beyond this distance messages will be sent by post or by such other means as the Sender may arrange and pay for. Should the addressee of a message (other than a "local" message) have left the Station to which it is addressed, it will, if returned unopened with definite instructions as to the new address, be re-transmitted without extra charge.

If the Sender requests it, messages will be delivered open. In this case the words Deliver open must be included free in the body of the message.

The Telegraph Department may deliver "deferred" messages through the Post Office of the place of destination.

The messenger who delivers a message may be entrusted with the reply, provided he be not detained for this purpose more than five minutes. The fact of the reply having been given to the messenger, and the amount paid to him, should be mentioned on the receipt given for the original message.

Rules for registration of abbreviated addresses.

Rule 39.—Any Firm or Individual expecting to receive Inland or Foreign messages can register an abbreviated address at the Government Telegraph Office from which such messages have to be delivered.

No abbreviated address can be accepted which has already been registered locally by another Firm or Individual.

The fee for registration of each abbreviated address is Rs. 10 per annum, payable in advance on the 1st January in each year, or Rs. 50 for all time, with a fine of Rs. 5 for every change of address. Abbreviated addresses are considered confidential.

The Department accepts no responsibility in respect of the delivery of any telegram having an abbreviated address if such address has not been registered.

Clear Line Messages.

Rule 40.—On emergent occasions of great importance, the public functionaries named below have the power to "clear the line," that is, to suspend the receipt and despatch of all messages until the one for which the line is "cleared" is passed on:—

(1).—The Governor General of India.

(2).—The Governors of Madras, and Bombay.

(3).—Commanders-in-Chief, India, Madras and Bombay.

(4).—Lieutenant-Governors of Bengal, North-Western Provinces and the Punjab.

(5).—Secretaries to the Government of India.

(6).—Secretaries to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and Punjab.

(7).—Chief Commissioners of Oudh, the Central Provinces, British Burma, and Assam.

(8).—Agents to the Governor General, Rajputana, Central India and Biluchistan.

(9).—Commissioners of Sind and Peshawur.

(10).—The Residents at Hyderabad (Deccan) and Mysore.

(11).—Director General of Telegraphs in India.

(12).—The Maharajah of Patiala; from the Patiala Office only.

The messages so sent are, however, to be paid for, in cash or in stamps, as other State messages.

Refunds.

No refund given for State messages or for "local" or "deferred" private messages or for errors in unobliated "ordinary" or "urgent" private messages.

Rule 41.—No refund will, under any circumstances, be made for a State message of any class or for a "local" or "deferred" private message; and no refund will be made for an "ordinary" or "urgent" private message delivered wholly or partially in an unintelligible state, unless the extra charge for repetition has been paid by the Sender.

Conditions of refund in the case of "non-delivery or delay" of private messages.

Rule 42.—If an "ordinary" or "urgent" private message be not delivered, or be subjected to serious delay through the fault of the Telegraph Department, the whole charge made for it will be returned to the Sender.

Rule 43.—Applications for refunds, as also all complaints respecting messages, should be addressed to the TELEGRAPH CHECK OFFICE, CALCUTTA. Such claims for refund should be made, under penalty of rejection, within two months from the date of the message; but this period is extended to six months in the case of a repeated message, or of a message for which a Reply or an Advice of Delivery has been prepaid. (When an overcharge has been made on an inland message through the neglect of the Telegraph employés, and when there exists no doubt whatever as to the justice of the claim, the amount overcharged will be repaid at once by the Telegraph Master.)

Cancellation of Messages.

Refund not admissible when a message is cancelled at the Sender's request.

Rule 44.—If the Sender of an inland message wishes to cancel it before transmission has commenced, he can do so, but the charges upon it will not be returned when once the stamps are obliterated. If the message is in course of transmission, or has already been despatched, it can only be cancelled by a paid message from the Sender to the Telegraph Master of the Terminal Station. If in addition the Sender wishes to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon, he must deposit the cost of the return telegram.

Obligation of Secrecy.

Rule 45.—To secure secrecy as much as possible, all persons (including officers of the Department) not actually on duty, are strictly prohibited from entering the Signal-room. Breach of this regulation renders an offender liable to a fine of Rs. 500 under Act I of 1876.

Penalties for divulging the contents of a message.

Rule 46.—Violation of secrecy on the part of any person in the Department will be punished by dismissal from office, forfeiture of arrears of pay, and a declaration in the official Gazette of the incapacity of the delinquent to serve the Government in any capacity. He will also be liable to the further punishment of fine, or to imprisonment (with or without labor) not exceeding three years, or to both.

It is a violation of secrecy to mention the fact that a message has been received or despatched by any particular person or firm.

Copies of Messages.

Certified copies of messages obtainable by Sender and Receiver.

Rule 47.—The Sender and Receiver have a right to be furnished with certified true copies of any message sent or received by them; a fixed charge of four annas is made for every copy furnished. As no Telegraph Office keeps copies of messages longer than three days, applications for copies required after that time has elapsed should be made to the TELEGRAPH CHECK OFFICE, CALCUTTA.

Applications for copies must be made within six months of the date of the message. At the expiration of that period all message drafts are destroyed.

One anna must be enclosed for postage of the reply—failing which, it will be sent "bearing."

Application may be made, as above, by an interested party for the preservation of specified telegrams exchanged between other persons on the ground of pending or contemplated judicial proceedings. Such telegrams will be preserved for a further period of six months, at the expiration of which they will, in default of a renewed application, be destroyed.

Should the particulars furnished be insufficient to enable the Check Office to trace the telegrams at once, the estimated cost of the required search must be deposited by the applicant. It must be understood that the duty of the Telegraph Department in the matter is confined to making the search and preserving the telegrams if found. No information as to the result of the search will be furnished, and any telegrams answering the description given which may be found will only be produced on the order of a competent court of law or other competent authority.

Press Messages.

Rule 48.—Bona-fide Press messages, i. e., messages in the ordinary English language addressed to, and intended for publication in, a newspaper, can be despatched at the following rates:—

Urgent.—Two rupees for the first 32 words and four annas for every additional 4 words.
Ordinary.—One rupee for the first 32 words and two annas for every additional 4 words.
Deferred.—Eight annas for the first 32 words and one anna for every additional 4 words.

TELEGRAPH.

Simla, the 10th October 1883.

No. 227.—The following is published for general information :—

No. 287-T., dated 9th October 1883.

RESOLUTION—by the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Utilisation of Postal agency in the operations of the Telegraph Department.

Read—

Paragraph 6 of Public Works Department Resolution No. 169-90-T., dated 31st May 1881.

Letter from Director-General of Telegraphs, No. 454, dated 14th July 1883.

Public Works Department letter No. 253-T., dated 22nd August 1883, to the Director-General of Telegraphs.

Letter from Director-General of Telegraphs, No. 480-T., dated 29th August 1883.

OBSERVATIONS.—In pursuance of the orders of the Government of India, the Director-General of Telegraphs now submits a scheme, drawn up in consultation with the Director-General of the Post Office, for utilising the agency of the Post Office in extending the operations of the Telegraph Department. The following are the main heads of this scheme, which has the cordial approval of the Government of India :—

1. To constitute every Post Office in the empire a receiving office or depôt for the receipt of "Inland" telegrams from the public, whence "Inland" telegrams will be despatched by post to the nearest telegraph station, whether such station be a Government office or an office of a licensed telegraph system.

The charge to the public for a telegram received at a Post Office to be the same as the charge for a telegram received at a Telegraph Office.

2. To train a nnmber of Post Office officials in telegraph duties (their pay while under training and all connected expenses being borne by the Telegraph Department) for the purpose—

(a) of combining telegraph with postal work at telegraph stations where the work can be done efficiently and cheaper by using the agency of the Post Office ; and

(b) of working branch telegraph stations, off the present main routes, which it is proposed to establish in Post Offices.

3. To effect short lines of telegraph inexpensively constructed, connecting the existing telegraph system with the Post Offices in towns in the vicinity, with the object of bringing the advantages of the telegraph within the reach of people off the main routes, thus providing a large extension of its sphere of usefulness at the least possible expense to the State.

The extent of these connections must be limited by financial considerations, but it is hoped that Local Governments and Administrations will be ready to contribute towards the expense involved, when it is known that this expense under the arrangements now sanctioned will be reduced to a minimum.

4. It has also been proposed by the two Directors-General that, in order to remove friction and to facilitate the combined working, the Postal Department shall make no charge for postage, registration, &c., of articles on Telegraph service, and that all telegrams sent by the Post Office shall be considered as "on the service" "of the Telegraph Department," and transmitted without charge over the lines of the Telegraph Department, and of all licensed telegraph systems. This proposal is approved by the Government of India, and may be carried into effect from such date as may be arranged by the two departments.

5. Detailed rules for the guidance of Postal telegraph receiving offices will be drawn up by the heads of the two departments concerned, but it may be generally stated that inland telegrams tendered at such offices may be paid for either in cash or in postage labels, while in the case of branch telegraph stations established in Post Offices payment may be made in telegraph stamps also.

6. As regards the adjustment of accounts between the Postal and Telegraph Departments, the former will debit the latter with the usual discount on the sale of postage stamps used in payment for telegrams, and with the actual extra expenditure incurred in working Postal telegraph offices.

7. The Government of India is unwilling to bind either department by the issue of further precise instructions, and confidently leaves the development of the scheme in the hands of the two Directors-General, subject to their submitting from time to time such of their proposals as may require the sanction of higher authority.

The desired economical extension of the telegraph will depend largely on cautious tentative measures adopted, with the consent of both departments, in the light of experience gained by actual working.

8. In conclusion, His Excellency the Viceroy in Council desires to express his recognition of the spirit in which the two Directors-General have taken up this scheme for the development of telegraphic communication in India, and his appreciation of the liberal and ready manner in which the Director-General of the Post Office has met the proposals of the Director-General of Telegraphs.

No. 228.—With reference to the above Resolution, the Governor-General in Council is pleased, under the provisions of Section 8 of Act I of 1876, entitled an Act to amend the law relating to Telegraphs in India, to prescribe the following revision of Rule 12 of the "General Rules relating to the conduct of all Electric Telegraphs licensed under the Telegraph Act to transmit paid messages for the public," issued under Government of India, Public Works Department, Civil Works Resolution No. 203-35-T., dated Simla, May 2nd, 1882, viz. :—

12. Messages on the service of the Government Telegraph Department shall be transmitted without charge to or from all licensed Telegraph Offices. Messages on the service of the Government Telegraph Department shall include messages on the service of the Postal Department.

E. J. HAMBLEN, ESQ., AGENT.

Persons intending to telegraph to, or expecting telegrams from, friends at home should send the full addresses of both Senders and Receivers to the Agent of this Company where the same will be registered, free of charge, under a Cipher word, which can be used, both Homewards and Outwards, on arrival of the Mail intimating the registration in London, advice of which will be sent to both parties together with Cipher word selected.

The advantages of using this Agency are:—

Regular Despatches—whereby much delay is saved.

The Quickest Route—can always be selected from time to time as the Company receives messages by either line showing the working of each.

Free Registration—whereby the full addresses of both Senders and Receivers are telegraphed in one word.

Passengers, Homeward bound, can on application to the Agents of this Company or any of the Steamer Companies, obtain a Passenger's Telegram Ticket (cost Rs. 7-8) by means of which they can advise their friends, by telegraph, of their safe arrival at their destination

Full particulars are furnished with each Ticket.

Passenger Telegram Tickets (Outwards) can also be obtained from the above Companies in London, Southampton, &c.

CODING OF PRIVATE TELEGRAMS.

With the view of affording facilities for the economical transmission of private telegrams to and from the United Kingdom, the Company has decided to introduce a new feature in its telegraphic business, viz., to place its codes at the service of senders, by means of which telegrams may be sent at a considerable saving in the cost of their transmission in plain language.

Telegrams so coded will in all cases be translated before delivery to the receiver, to whom a copy in plain language only will be handed.

A very complete code has been compiled especially to meet the requirements of private senders on social or business subjects, and this, in conjunction with the Company's ordinary codes, will, it is believed, afford facilities for cheap telegraphing which have not hitherto been accessible to the public.

A fixed and uniform charge of three rupees per message irrespective of number of code words used, will be made on all messages in addition to the ordinary tariff rate. Beyond this small payment senders will enjoy the entire benefit of the saving resulting from the use of the Company's codes.

Although the Company cannot accept any responsibility for errors made in coding, translating, or transmitting telegrams, every precaution will be taken to ensure the same accuracy as in the case of its own telegrams.

Telegrams in private codes will be accepted as heretofore.

Further particulars may be obtained at the Company's office, where every facility and assistance will be afforded for the compilation of telegrams in the most economical manner.

REBATE ON TELEGRAMS.

A Rebate of 25 per cent. on the cost of Registered Addresses is allowed by the Company to regular senders of telegrams to any station in Europe and America.

As regular senders will be considered those who send—

a. A minimum of one telegram monthly to the same correspondent,

b. A minimum of one telegram weekly to different correspondents.

The Rebate will be allowed half-yearly to the former category, and to the latter either monthly, quarterly, or half-yearly, at the option of the senders.

In addition to the Rebate the Company's system offers the following exclusive advantages:—

1. Free Registration of any number of addresses.
2. Full names of senders and receivers are given in every telegram.
3. The Company, being independent and constantly using the various telegraph lines, is in a position to select the quickest routes.
4. Telegrams can be sent at a great saving of expense in the Company's codes.

Further particulars, tariffs and forms of application for Rebate may be obtained at the Company's Offices and Agencies.

Telegraph Rules and Rates.

The Madras Railway Company forward Telegraph Messages for the public on the following conditions, viz. :—

1. No paid message of more than 500 words can be sent at any one time by any private individual or firm, and no second message by the same individual or firm, till after the lapse of three hours, unless the line be free and not required by any one else.

N.B.—The accuracy of messages is not guaranteed and the sender and receiver must accept all risks arising from non-delivery, errors, or delays.

2. No charge is made for the transmission of the address.

3. The 'Address' includes names of Stations from and to which the message is to be despatched, the bona fide names or designations of the Sender and Addressee and the latter's address. No other words can be transmitted unless paid for as part of the body of the message, and the Signallers are authorized to omit from the address, any words which are not essential to the correct delivery of the message. The address must contain all the information necessary to ensure the delivery of the message at its destination, and the sender in all cases supports the consequences of insufficiency of address. After the message is once despatched, it can neither be cancelled, completed, nor rectified, except by the despatch of fresh paid messages.

4. The following are the rates of charges for a message in ordinary English language:—

Between any two Stations in India.

Deferred messages.—i.e., those tendered during the working hours of a Telegraph Office for transmission at night and to be delivered at destination early on the following morning.		Ordinary messages,—i.e., those tendered during the working hours of a Telegraph Office for transmission and delivery in ordinary course.		Urgent messages,—i.e., those tendered during working hours of a Telgraph Office for immediate transmission with precedence over ordinary messages.

0 8	0 1	1 0	0 2	2 0	0 4

For each word including those in the address..... .....Three annas.

5. When numbers are expressed in figures, all the characters, figures, letters, or signs in each group are added together, the total divided by three, and the quotient, plus one for the remainder, if there be any, gives the number of words the group represents. Signs used to separate groups and letters added to figures to form ordinal numbers are counted each as a figure or letter; groups of letters not forming words (letter cipher) cannot be transmitted unless in the case of messages tendered by Military Officers, or State Messages from Government Officers.

6. A "Press" message is defined to be a message, written in ordinary English language, addressed only to a Newspaper or Newspapers within reach of the Madras Railway, and intended for publication in its entirety in such Newspaper or Newspapers. The message must be one of manifestly public interest, and must contain no commercial news of any kind.

7. All Rules and Regulations that apply to ordinary messages, apply also to Press messages, except as regards the charges and length.

8. The charge for press messages is as follows:—

Deferred.—Eight annas for the first 32 words and one anna for every additional 4 words.

Ordinary.—One Rupee for the first 32 words and two annas for every additional 4 words.

Urgent.—Two Rupees for the first 32 words and four annas for every additional 4 words.

The maximum limit of length is 500 words. Press messages can only be accepted for transmission during the working hours of the Telegraph Office at the station of origin.

9. The maximum length of a word is fixed at six syllables: the excess is counted as a word.

10. The sender of a message addressed to any Railway station in India, or to any Government Telegraph Office or vice versâ, can pre-pay a reply not exceeding 16 words (2 Rupees) in ordinary language. He must add to his message the words "Reply pre-paid" or "Answer pre-paid." These must form the concluding words of the message, but will not be charged for. On depositing the corresponding sum, the sender can add (free) to the words "Reply pre-paid" or "Answer pre-paid," the amount to which he wishes the reply to be limited. When the words "Reply pre-paid" alone are given, without any specified amount, it will be understood that the minimum charge of one Rupee only has been pre-paid. The terminal station pays to the Receiver, in Money Order, on the Station Master, the amount pre-paid, leaving it to him to send his answer how, and when, and to what address he pleases, or not to send one at all. The reply, if sent, is considered in every respect as a fresh message. Should it be impossible to effect delivery of a Reply pre-paid message, the terminal station sends a Service telegram to that effect to the sender, and the amount deposited will be refunded on application to the Traffic Manager. The words "Reply pre-paid" or "Answer pre-paid" entitle the addressee to receive the equivalent of the minimum charge of one Rupee only. It should be distinctly understood that it is not compulsory on the addressee to send a reply. The duty of the Telegraph Department consists simply in paying to him in Money Order on the Station Master the amount pre-paid, leaving him at liberty to do what he pleases with it.

11. Messages will be delivered free of charge at any place within five miles of a Telegraph Station. Beyond this distance, messages will be sent by Post, or by such other means as the sender may arrange and pay for.

12. Applications for refunds or overcharge, as also complaints respecting messages, should be addressed to the Traffic Manager, Madras. Such claims should be made, under penalty of rejection, within two months from the date of the message.

13. The following stations only are authorized to receive messages for despatch to stations other than those in India: Arconum, Cuddapah, Gooty, Raichoor, Jollarpett, Salem, Coimbatore, Palghat and Beypore. (For Rules and Charges, vide Government Telegraph Tariff Book).

14. Proper forms, on which to write messages are available gratis, at all stations, and senders are requested to use these forms only, when practicable,

18. Any instrument executed by, or on behalf of, or in favor of, Government in cases where, but for this exemption, the Government would be liable to pay the duty chargeable in respect of such instrument.

STAMP VENDORS.

The text of the rules for the sale of stamps prescribed by the Government under Section 48 of the General Stamp Act No. XVIII of 1869, is as follows, omitting such portions as relate to sale on the commission-sale system, since discontinued:—(1). Such officers of Government as the Board of Revenue or Government may appoint shall be ex-officio vendors. Such persons as may be licensed by the Collector or other officer empowered by the Board of Revenue or Government to grant licenses shall be licensed vendors. (2). Ex-officio vendors shall sell such stamps as they may be directed by the Board of Revenue or Government to sell. Licensed vendors shall sell such stamps as are indicated in their licenses (3). Every license shall be rovocable at any time by the authority who granted it. Every license shall specify the name of the licensee, the description of stamps that are to be sold under the license, the place of vend, and such other matters as may be necessary, and shall be signed by the authority granting it. (4). Subject to Rule VI, every licensed vendor who purchases from Government by payment of ready-money stamps of the individual value of Rs. 5 and under, and to the aggregate amount of Rs. 5 and upwards, shall receive the same at a rate of discount not exceeding 6¼ per cent. (5). Subject to Rule VI, every licensed vendor who purchased from Government by payment of ready-money stamps of the individual value of above Rs. 5, and not exceeding Rs. 50, shall receive the same at such discount not exceeding the following rates as may be prescribed by the Board of Revenue or Government:—Vendors licensed at places where stamps are sold by Government, 6 per cent. Vendors licensed at other places, 5 per cent. (6). No discount shall be given on account of the purchase of any stamp exceeding Rs. 50 in value, nor any stamp applied on material furnished by the purchaser himself, nor if there be purchased at one time less than the quantity prescribed by these rules in respect of any class or value of stamp. (7). * * *. (8). Every licensed vendor shall at all times have fixed up in a conspicuous station outside the place of vend a signboard bearing the name of the vendor, with the words "Licensed Vendor of Stamps" in English and in the Vernacular language of the district. He shall also have in the place of vend the Acts of the Legislature and their schedules referring to the stamps sold by him, together with these rules in English and the said vernacular placed so that they can readily be seen and read by purchasers. (9). Every ex-officio vendor selling stamps to any person not a licensed vendor, and every licensed vendor shall write on the back of every stamp paper which he sells a serial number as determined by orders of the Government, the date of sale, the name and residence of the purchaser, and the value of the stamp in full in words, and his own ordinary signature; at the same time he shall make corresponding entries in a register to be kept by him in such form as the Government may prescribe. Any such vendor who shall knowingly make a false endorsement on the stamp sold, or a false entry in his register, renders himself liable to prosecution under the Indian Penal Code. (10). Every ex-officio or licensed vendor shall, without delay, deliver any stamp which he has in his possession for sale, on demand by any person tendering the value in any currency which would be accepted on behalf of Government by the Collector of the district. (11). No ex-officio or licensed vendor shall sell any stamps, the use of which has been ordered by competent authority to be discontinued. (12). Every ex-officio or licensed vendor shall keep and render such accounts as may be prescribed by the Board of Revenue or Government, and shall allow the Collector of the district, or any officer duly authorized by such Collector, by the Board of Revenue or by the Government, at any time to inspect such accounts, and the register which he is required to keep under Rule IX, and to examine the store of stamps in his possession. (13). Every ex-officio or licensed vendor shall, at any time on the demand of the Collector or other officer duly authorized by the Board of Revenue or Government, deliver up all stamps remaining in his possession, * * receiving back the value thereof, less any discount which may have been allowed.

2. The subsidiary rules drawn up by the Board are contained in the following eight paragraphs.

3. The Treasurer of the Collector's office and the Sheristadar of every Tahsildar's office will be ex-officio vendors; provided that the Treasurer of the Collector's office will not be bound to sell stamps except adhesive stamps, to any persons except licensed vendors Collectors have the power to license vendors at their discretion.

4. Ex-officio vendors will sell stamps of all values to all applicants. The descriptions they profess to sell should be specified briefly in the license.

5. The license granted to licensed stamp vendors will be in the following form:—"I, A. B., Collector of the district of C., do hereby license D. to vend all stamps prescribed by the General Stamp Act not exceeding Rupees 50 each in value (or certain description of stamps) at E., in the taluq of F., in the district aforesaid." Before the license is issued the licensee must execute an engagement in the following form:—"I, A. B., in consideration of my being licensed to sell stamps by the Collector of C., do hereby bind myself to the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India in Council in the sum of Rupees——, to obey all such orders concerning the sale and custody of stamps as the Collector may from time to time issue to me, to keep a sufficient stock of all stamps which I am licensed to sell, to sell stamps at the place where I am licensed to sell them between the hours of 10 A.M. and 5 P.M., on all days, except Sundays and Government holidays notified in the District Gazette, to keep such accounts and make such reports and returns as are prescribed by the Board of Revenue from time to time, to allow any person duly authorized by the Collector at all times to inspect my accounts, books, and stock, to make good all losses caused by want of reasonable care on my part or on the part of any person employed by me, and generally to fulfil all duties devolving on me as Stamp vendor honestly and properly."

6 To licensed Stamp vendors purchasing 1 Anna stamps to the amount of not less than 5 Rupees, discount will be allowed at the rate of 6¼ per cent. To licensed Stamp vendors purchasing stamps of the individual value of Rupees 5 and under (except 1 Anna stamps) to the amount of not less than 5 Rupees, discount will be allowed at the rate of 5 per cent.

7. To licensed Stamp vendors purchasing stamps of a greater value than 5 Rupees each, but not greater than 50 Rupees each: if the vendor is licensed to sell stamps within three miles of the place of vend of an ex-officio vendor, discount will be allowed at the rate of 3 per cent.; if the vendor is licensed to sell stamps at a place which is not within three miles of the place of vend of ex-officio vendor, discount will be allowed at the rate of 4 per cent. To licensed Stamp vendors purchasing stamped papers over Rupees 50 and up to Rupees 100 in value, discount will be allowed at the rate of 2 per cent.

8. Whenever the sale of stamps at any place where they are sold on the discount system is so large that the rates of discount now prescribed are unnecessarily high the Collector will, with the previous sanction of the Board of Revenue, call for tenders stating the rate of discount on which competitors will undertake the sale of stamps at that place.

9. The endorsement required by Government Rule (9) will be made on all stamped papers, including Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Drafts, and Bills of Lading, but not on adhesive stamps. The serial number will begin with the first stamped paper sold in the official year and end with the last. When an ex-officio vendor sells stamps to a licensed vendor there will be no serial number or endorsement. A register of sales will be kept in the prescribed Form. Entries will be made as each sale is effected. If the vendor take a stamp from the stock for his own private use, it must be considered a sale and entered in the book as such. Adhesive stamps of the same value sold at the same time to the same purchaser will be entered in a lump, but the number of such stamps must be shown in Column 4. The entries will be totalled at the close of each day and the account will then be initialled by the vendor.

10. The following accounts will be kept by all ex-officio and licensed vendors: Forms II and III or Stock Book showing Daily Receipts. Form II will be kept for stamps bought for ready money, and Form III for stamps received for sale on commission and by ex-officio vendors. All stamps will be entered in the books as received. On the last day of each month the vendor will add up the columns and enter in one line the receipts of the whole month. Below this line he will enter the sales of the month obtained from Forms IV or V. The sales will then be deducted from the receipts and the remainder will be the opening balance of the next month. Forms IV and V or Abstract of Daily Sales. Form IV is to be kept for stamps bought for ready money, and Form V for stamps received for sale on commission and by ex-officio vendors. The columns will be totalled at the end of every month. Form VI or Monthly Abstract of Stamps received and sold. This will be prepared by all ex-officio and licensed vendors and submitted to the Deputy Collector at the beginning of each month. In this form the sales by vendors selling on discount will be given in the lump under each designation of stamps without reference to the transactions in each value. Also ex-officio vendors will distinguish the sales to vendors on discount from sales to others. Books containing these forms will be issued to ex-officio and licensed vendors as required. The issuing officer will see that the pages are numbered and that the number of pages is entered on the first, and he will sign this entry. None of the books will be destroyed without the written permission of the Collector.

11. The following are additional rules regarding ex-officio vendors:—(1) No ex-officio vendors can purchase stamps at a discount, nor can any ex-officio vendor be allowed a discount on his sales. (2) Ex-officio vendors must indent on the Deputy Collector in charge of the Treasury on the third of each month and oftener if necessary for such stamps as will be required for sale or for supply to licensed vendors. The Sheristadar must see that there is always a fifteen days' supply in the Taluq Cutcherry. The Tahsildar will make a monthly examination of the Sheristadar's stock and accounts, and certify that he has done so in Form VI. (3) When sales are made on discount to licensed vendors, the vendor must pay the value of the stamps less the discount on delivery. The full value of the stamps will be entered as a credit in the Stamp Accounts and in the Taluq or Huzur Accounts, and the discount will be shown as a payment in the latter.

12. The following are additional rules regarding vendors on Discount:—(1) Licensed vendors must maintain on hand a sufficient stock of such stamps as they are licensed to sell. (2) If a licensed vendor who has purchased stamps on discount should die, or if his license expire or be revoked, the Collector may grant a special license for a limited period to enable the vendor or his heirs and assigns to sell off the balance of stock.

13. These rules do not relate to the Special Adhesive Stamps used under Section 5, Clause b, of the General Stamp Act, except as regards water-marked bill paper denoted by the Superintendent of Stamps and supplied to licensed vendors for sale.

14. When the system of ex-officio vend of Court Fees stamps is productive of difficulty or inconvenience, or attended with risk, arrangements should be made by Collectors for substituting sale of such stamps by licensed vendors on discount. A discount of 1 per cent. may be allowed, to be increased to 1½ per cent. with the special sanction of the Board, when Collectors may find this to be necessary.

15. The registration under the Registration Act of engagements taken from licensed vendors under the subsidiary rules is optional. Where the business done however is extensive, Collectors may at their discretion require registration. The cost must be borne by the vendor.

16. Special remuneration is to be given to official vendors in very exceptional cases only.

SEPARATE REVENUE—STAMPS.

Simla, the 18th April 1879.

No. 195.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees Act, 1870, and in continuation of the Notification No. 1314, dated the 28th June 1878, the President in Council is pleased to reduce to one anna the fee chargeable under the said Act on every application for the return of exhibits filed with petitions presented to a Collector in accordance with the provisions of Sections 17 and 19 of the Bengal License Act, 1878.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort William, the 3rd March 1882.

No. 1288.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Sections nine, fifteen, seventeen, thirty-two, fifty-one, and fifty-six of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following Rules:—

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

1. These Rules shall come into force throughout British India on the 1st April 1882 in supersession of the Rules promulgated by Notifications No. 875, dated 26th February, and No. 996, dated 4th June 1881.

2. All words and expressions used in these Rules and defined in the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, shall be deemed to have the meaning attached to them respectively by the said Act.

3. There shall be two kinds of stamps for indicating the payment of duty on instruments under the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, namely—

(a) Impressed Stamps—including—

Impressed Sheets,—that is to say, sheets of paper bearing the impression of Stamps of different values engraved thereon, and sold to the public for use by them in accordance with these Rules.

Impressed Labels,—to be affixed and impressed by Government Officers as directed in Chapter III of these Rules.

(b) Adhesive Stamps sold to the public for use by them in accordance with these Rules.

CHAPTER II.—Of Impressed Sheets.

4. All instruments chargeable with duty, except Hundís, may be written on Impressed Sheets, and, except as provided by Section ten of the said Act and by these Rules, shall be so written.

5(a). When any instrument is to be written on an Impressed Sheet, if the amount of duty with which such instrument is chargeable does not exceed one hundred rupees, a single sheet shall be used, unless—where the application for the required stamp is made at a treasury, the officer in charge of such treasury, or, where such application is made to a stamp-vendor, the vendor certifies that he is unable to furnish a single stamp of the required value.

(b). When the amount of duty chargeable in respect of any instrument exceeds one hundred rupees, or a treasury officer or stamp-vendor has certified under Clause (a) that he is unable to furnish a single stamp of the required value, the number of sheets used for indicating the payment of duty shall not exceed the number which the treasury officer or the stamp-vendor certifies in either case to be the smallest number which he can furnish so as to make up the required amount.

(c). No certificate shall be made under Clause (a) or Clause (b) by a stamp-vendor in any case in which the stamp duty required exceeds the highest value of the stamps which such vendor is authorized to sell.

(d). When, under this Rule, two or more Impressed Sheets are used to make up the amount of duty chargeable in respect of any instrument, a portion of such instrument shall be written on each sheet so used.

(e). When a single sheet used under this Rule is found insufficient to admit of the entire instrument being written on the side of the paper which bears the stamp, so much plain paper may be subjoined thereto as may be necessary for the complete writing of such instrument: provided that in every such case the side of the sheet which bears the stamp must be covered by a substantial part of the instrument before any part of the latter can be written on the plain paper joined to such sheet. Provided further, that the part of the instrument written on the plain paper must be attested by the signatures or marks of all the persons executing the document and the witnesses to the same.

6(a). Hundís other than hundís which can be stamped with an adhesive stamp under Section ten of the said Act shall be written as follows:—

(1.) Hundís payable otherwise than on demand, but not more than one year after date or sight, and for amounts not exceeding Rs. 30,000 in individual value, on impressed sheets bearing the word Hundí;

(2.) Hundís exceeding Rs. 30,000 in individual value, and Hundís payable at more than one year after date or sight, on paper supplied for sale by the Government, and to which labels have been affixed by one of the officers mentioned in Rule nine, Clause (b), or by the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, and impressed by him in manner provided by Rule ten.

(3.) Promissory notes drawn or made in British India and chargeable with a duty of Annas 6, 10, or 12 shall be written on impressed sheets of those values bearing the word 'Hundí' (vide Fort St. George Gazette, dated 19th December 1882, Part I, page 770).

(b). Every sheet of such stamped paper shall be of a size not less than 8⅝ × 5¼ inches, and no plain paper shall be joined to it.

(c). The provisions in Rule five as to use of two or more sheets of stamped paper when a single stamp of the required value is not procurable apply also to Hundí stamps used under this Rule.

7. The duty payable on any instrument chargeable with a duty of one anna may be denoted by a colored impression marked on a skeleton form of such instrument by the Superintendent of Stamps at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, or Rangoon.

CHAPTER III.—Of Impressed Labels.

8. Impressed labels may be used for the following instruments and counterpart hereof, namely,—

(1). Administration-bonds:
(2). Affidavits:
(3). Appointments made in execution of a power:
(4). Articles of Association of a Company:
(5). Articles of clerkship:
(6). Bills of Lading:
(7). Charter-parties:
(8). Declarations of trust:

(9). Instruments evidencing an agreement to secure the repayment of a loan made upon the deposit of title-deeds or other valuable security, or upon the hypothecation of moveable property:
(10). Leases printed or lithographed in an Oriental language, when the written matter filled in does not exceed one-fourth of the printed matter:
(11). Memoranda of Association of Companies:
(12). Notes of Protest:
(13). Petitions for leave to file a specification of an invention, &c.:
(14). Policies of Insurance:
(15). Revocations of trust:
(16). Warrants for Goods:

and for the following—when written in any European language, provided that any instrument written in any European language other than English shall have attached to it a translation in the English language—

(17). Agreements or memoranda of Agreements, which, in the opinion of the officer empowered to affix the label, cannot conveniently be written on Impressed Sheets:
(18). Instruments engrossed on parchment and written in the English style, which, in the opinion of such officer, cannot conveniently be written on Impressed Sheets:
(19). Awards:
(20). Bills of Exchange payable otherwise than on demand and drawn in British India:
(21). Bonds:
(22). Certificates of sale:
(23). Composition-deeds:
(24). Conveyances:
(25). Instruments imposing a further charge on mortgaged property:
(26). Instruments of apprenticeship:
(27). Instruments of co-partnership:
(28). Instruments of dissolution of partnership:
(29). Instruments of exchange:
(30). Instruments of gift:
(31). Instruments of partition:
(32). Leases:
(33). Letters of license:
(34). Mortgage-deeds:
(35). Powers of Attorney:
(36). Reconveyances of mortgaged property:
(37). Releases:
(38). Settlements:
(39). Transfers of the description mentioned in Article No. 60, Clauses (b), (c), and (d) of the First Schedule of the said Act.

9. The following officers are empowered to affix these labels to the instruments mentioned in Rule eight, namely,—

(a) the Collectors of Calcutta and Karachi;
(b) the Superintendents of Stamps at Madras, Bombay, Lahore, Rangoon, Maulmain, and Akyab;
(c) the Commissioner of Stamps, North-Western Provinces and Oudh;
(d) the Superintendent of Stamps (Political Resident), Aden.

10(a). Every such officer shall, upon any instrument mentioned in Rule eight being brought to him before it is executed, and application being made to him for that purpose, affix thereto a label or labels of such value as the applicant may desire and pay for, and impress such label or labels by means of a stamping-machine, and also stamp or write on the face of the label or labels the date of impressing the label or labels before returning the instrument to the applicant. In the case of instruments written on parchment, the labels must be further secured by metallic eyelets.

(b). When the stamp duty amounts to five rupees or upwards, such officer shall further write on the face of the label or labels his initials, and, when the stamp duty amounts to rupees twenty or upwards, shall also attach his usual signature to the instrument, immediately under the labels.

11(a). The payment of duty on instruments (other than Bills of Exchange, Cheques, and Promissory Notes) executed out of British India and requiring to be stamped after their receipt in British India, shall be indicated only by impressed labels.

(b). When any such instrument is taken to the Collector under Section seventeen of the said Act, the Collector, unless he be Collector of Calcutta or Karachi, shall send the instrument to one of the officers mentioned in Rule IX, remitting the amount of duty paid in respect of such instrument; and such officer shall stamp the instrument in the manner prescribed by Rules nine(a) and ten(b), and return the same to the Collector for delivery to the person by whom it was produced.

CHAPTER IV.—Adhesive Stamps.

12. Bills of Exchange, payable otherwise than on demand and drawn in sets, when the amount of stamp duty does not exceed one anna for each part of the set, may be stamped with adhesive stamps.

13. Except as otherwise provided in these Rules the adhesive stamp used to denote the duty of one anna shall bear the words "one anna."

14. The following instruments when stamped with adhesive stamps shall be stamped as follows:—

(a) Bills of Exchange, Cheques, and Promissory Notes drawn or made out of British India, and chargeable with a duty of more than one anna, (vide Fort St. George Gazette, Part I, page 770, dated 19th December 1882) with adhesive stamps bearing the words "Foreign Bill."
(b) Transfers of shares of Public Companies and Associations, with adhesive stamps bearing the words "Share Transfer."
(c) An entry as an Advocate, Vakil, or Attorney on the roll of any High Court, with an adhesive stamp bearing the word "Advocate," "Vakil," or "Attorney."
(Such stamp shall be affixed under the superintendence and responsibility of a gazetted officer of the High Court, who shall obtain the stamp from the Superintendent of Stamps and account to him for it. The gazetted officer who affixes the stamp shall write on the face of it his usual signature and the date of signature before parting with the instrument.)
(d) Notarial Acts, with adhesive Foreign Bill stamps bearing the word "Notarial" printed over them.

CHAPTER V.—Miscellaneous.

15. When it is necessary under Section fifteen of the said Act, to denote upon one instrument the payment of duty in respect of another, such payment shall be denoted by an endorsement under the hand of the Collector on the former instrument.

16. Every payment made under Section thirty of the said Act shall be made in cash.

17. The Collector may require every person claiming a refund or renewal under Chapter VI of the said Act, or his duly authorized agent, to make an oral deposition on oath or affirmation, or to put in an affidavit, setting forth the circumstances under which the claim has arisen. The Collector may also, if he thinks fit, call for the evidence of witnesses in support of the statement set forth in the deposition or affidavit of the claimant or his Agent.

18. Any Magistrate convicting or trying an offender under Chapter VIII of the Stamp Act may grant to any person, who may have contributed to the conviction, a reward within a limit to be fixed by the Local Government.

ONE ANNA IMPRESSED STAMPS UNDER THE INDIAN STAMP ACT, 1879.

In republishing the following extract from the Rules passed by the Governor-General in Council on 3rd March 1882, No.1288, with effect from 1st April 1882, authorizing one anna stamp to be impressed on skeleton forms of instruments, it is hereby notified that the value of stamps, for the impressing of which under this rule application may be made to this office, must be paid into the Bank of Madras, and persons presenting forms to be stamped should bring with the forms a receipt from the Bank for the value of the stamps:—

"7. The duty payable on any instrument chargeable with a duty of one anna may be denoted by a colored impression marked on a skeleton form of such instrument by the Superintendent of Stamps at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, or Rangoon."

2. Payments made for stamps which may not be impressed will be refunded by the Bank on the production of a certificate from the undersigned to the effect that stamps were not impressed.

28th February, 1872, No. 404.

Under the provisions of Section 27 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, the Governor in Council is pleased to prescribe the undermentioned Rules to take effect from and after the 1st April, 1872, in supersession of the Rules laid down in para. 2 of the Notification of the Judicial Department under date the 26th April, 1870, (published at pages 496 and 497 of the Fort Saint George Gazette for 1870), for regulating the use of stamps in payment of the commission and fees chargeable for the time being in the Madras Court of Small Causes:—

Mode of using stamps.

I.—The necessary stamps shall be provided by the parties liable to pay the commission and fees and shall, in respect of the institution of suits, be affixed to the plaint in respect whereof such commission and fees are payable. The costs and fees payable in respect of warrants, subpœnas, second summonses, and all other processes whatsoever not being original summonses in reference to which it has not been customary to file, as part of the record, any written or printed document or paper whereon the stamp could be affixed, shall be paid as follows:—viz., the party requiring such process to be issued shall produce an application in writing and a stamp equal to the amount of costs and fees payable shall be affixed to such application. Such application shall be entitled in the cause or matter to which it relates, and shall specify shortly the object thereof, and shall be filed in the particular office of the Court to which it relates.

II.—In order that the terms of a document may not be defaced or obscured, the stamp affixed to it shall be of an amount corresponding, as nearly as practicable, with the amount of the stamp which such document requires. It shall be in the discretion of the Clerk of the Court to refuse to accept any document which shall bear an unnecessary number of stamps.

III.—Stamps of the value noted below will be required for the purposes of the Court:—

RS.	A.	RS.	A.	RS.	A.
0	½	2	0	8	0
0	1	3	0	9	0
0	2	4	0	10	0
0	4	5	0	20	0
0	8	6	0	30	0
1	0	7	0	50	0

Provisions for sale of stamps.

IV.—Stamps will be sold by a licensed Stamp vendor or by the Assistants employed by him for that purpose in a stall or office situate within the premises of the Court, and by all other vendors authorized to sell Court Fees' stamps. The Stamp Vendor's Office on the premises of the Court shall be open daily for the sale of stamps (except on such days as the Court shall not be sitting) between the hours of 10 A.M. and 5 P.M.

Register of compromised suits, &c., to be kept.

V.—A register shall be kept in the Office of the Clerk of the Court by one of the Clerks attached to that office, who shall be styled the Compromise Register-writer; and in this Register shall be entered the particulars of cases compromised, and of cases in which costs have been remitted, either in whole or in part, by order of the Judges. It shall also be the duty of the Compromise Register-writer to make out the certificates for the payment of half and remitted costs. It shall be the duty of the Deputy Clerk of the Court to examine the certificates, and compare them with the original records and, if correct, to pass and initial the same for payment. The certificates, after being signed by the Clerk of the Court, will be paid by the Stamp vendor of the Court, who will be provided by Government with a Permanent Advance Fund for the purpose of making these refunds. The Stamp vendor will, from time to time, replenish this fund by drawing from the Deputy Collector of Madras the amount expended, delivering to him the certificates he has discharged. The Deputy Collector will hold these certificates as his vouchers for the amount disbursed by him to the Stamp vendor. The Clerk of the Court will also furnish to the Deputy Collector of Madras, at the close of each month a memorandum showing the number of, and the amount for which, certificates have been issued during the month.

Duties as to examination of stamps.

VI.—It shall be the duty of the Manager or Head Officer of the department in which applications are filed, with such aid as may be required under the immediate superintendence of the Clerk of the Court, to receive all documents and see that the blank space in them is not unnecessarily covered with stamps, and that stamps of the proper description and values are affixed. The Manager shall grant a receipt or memorandum for every application filed.

Rules inapplicable to Counsel and Attorneys and to costs of references to High Court.

VII.—These rules do not apply to fees payable to Counsel and Attorneys of the High Court in cases certified, or to the costs of references to the High Court.

8th March, 1872, No. 1,756.

Notification by the Government of India, Financial Department.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 26 of the Court Fees' Act of 1870) Act No. VII) and of all other powers enabling him on this behalf, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to cancel Notification by the Government of India, Financial Department, No. 1,865, dated 15th March, 1870, and to issue the following directions:—

1. The stamps used to denote any fee chargeable under the said Act, may be either impressed or adhesive, or partly impressed and partly adhesive.

2. When the exact amount of the fee chargeable under the Act can be denoted by a single impressed or a single adhesive stamp, such fee shall be denoted by a single stamp of either sort.

When the amount of the fee cannot be denoted by a single impressed or a single adhesive stamp, the next lower impressed or adhesive stamp shall be used, and the deficiency made up by one or more additional stamps, which may be either impressed or adhesive.

3. The impressed stamps referred to in this notification are the red and black printed stamps, and the adhesive stamps are those across which the words Court Fees have been printed.

4. Should the amount of the fee in any case involve a fraction of an anna, such fraction shall be remitted.

5. The provisions of this notification shall for the present extend only to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts and to the territories under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the Chief Commissioner of Oudh, and the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, respectively.

5th March, 1875, No. 1,520.

In exercise of the powers respectively conferred by Section 26 and Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, and in supersession of Financial Notification, No. 1,756, dated 8th March, 1872, and all other notifications on the subject, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to issue the following directions:—

1. From and after the first April, 1875, the fees chargeable under the above-mentioned Act, shall be denoted only by adhesive stamps bearing the words "Court Fees."

2. Should the amount of the fee in any case involve a fraction of an anna, such fraction shall be remitted.

22nd March, 1872, No. 2,135.

The Governor-General is pleased to direct that the provisions of Financial Notification, No. 2,004, dated 14th July, 1871, shall have retrospective effect from the 1st day of April, 1870, the date on which the Court Fees' Act VII of 1870 came into force.

5th April, 1872, No. 2,520.

In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, (No. VII), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to exempt from stamp duty, copies of final sentences or orders passed by Criminal Courts, which parties desirous of appealing from such sentences or orders are required by Section 416 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to file with their petition of appeal, provided that the party who is desirous of appealing is in confinement under the operation of the sentence or order at the time that he applies for a copy of the same.

This exemption will also extend, under the same circumstances, to copies of the judgment or reasons for passing or making such sentence or order as above.

9th April, 1872, No. 2,245.

The Governor-General in Council hereby declares that the provisions of Financial Notification, No. 1,756, dated 8th March, 1872, shall extend to the territories under the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, the Governor of Madras, the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, respectively.

Fort St. George, 24th April, 1872.

Under the authority vested in him by Section 27, Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees), the Honorable the Governor in Council prescribes the following Rules for the supply, use and renewal of Court Fee stamps for general observance:—

Central depôts for the supply of Court Fee stamps shall be constituted—

I. At the Office of the Superintendent of Stamps.

II. At all district and taluq treasuries, and shall be supplied with stamps by the Superintendent of Stamps.

2. Sub-depôts, subordinate to the central depôts, shall be constituted at such places and in such offices as the Government, through the Board of Revenue, may from time to time determine, and shall be supplied with stamps from the central depôt to which they are subordinate.

3. Provided that Court Fee Labels shall not be supplied to licensed vendors for sale at any place within a reasonable distance of which the labels can be obtained from an ex-officio vendor, and that licensed vendors shall not be allowed more than one per cent. discount for the sale of Court Fee Labels.

4. The stamp used to denote any fee under the Court Fees' Act shall be a stamp of value equal to the fee required, or in cases when there is no stamp of the exact value, then the first stamp shall be of the next lower available value, and the balance shall be made up by stamps of smaller value similarly selected.

5. If any person possesses any Court Fee stamp, which has become spoiled or unfit for use as hereinafter mentioned, the Collector of the district in which the stamp has been purchased may, upon application made to him within six months after such purchase, and upon delivery to him of such stamp refund the amount paid to Government for the same, whether by the applicant or by any other person; or, in case the possessor of the stamp so spoiled or unfit for use, desire to be supplied with Court Fee stamps of similar or equal value, the Collector may cause such stamps to be delivered to him or his agent.

Court Fee stamps shall be held to be spoiled or unfit for use within the meaning of this rule:—

(1st) When, by accident happening to the same before they have been submitted to any Court or public officer, they are rendered unfit for use;

(2nd) or when because of some error in the drawing up or copying of any writing to which the said stamps are affixed, the said writing is rendered of no avail;

(3rd) or when any stamp has been filed in any Court or before any public officer, and cancelled accordingly, and it is afterwards discovered that such stamp has been required by mistake, and that a stamp of less value ought to have been required and certificate to that effect is issued by the said Court or public officer. In this last case the Collector may grant a refund of the excess value if application is made within six months after date of delivery of the certificate to the holder.

6. Under Section 34 of the Court Fees' Act, the rules and subsidiary rules published under Section 48 of the General Stamp Act apply equally to transactions relating to Court Fees' stamps: Provided that separate account shall be kept and separate returns made for Court Fees' labels.

9th August, 1872, No. 1,906.

In exercise of the powers conferred by the Court Fees' Act 1870, Section 35, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the fees chargeable under the said Act on copies of settlement records furnished to land-holders and cultivators, but not certified by the signature of any public officer to be true copies.

Nothing in this notification applies to copies of Judicial proceedings.

3rd October, 1872, No. 3,307.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act (VII of 1870), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit all fees leviable under the said Act on copies of Judgments or decisions passed on claims preferred under the provisions of Madras Regulation VI of 1831.

17th January, 1873, No. 302.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act (VII of 1870), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the fees chargeable under the said Act on all petitions of appeal presented to Revenue Officers in accordance with Section 55 of the Madras Act IV of 1871.

17th April, 1873, No. 2,504.

In continuation of Financial Notification, No. 2,025, dated the 15th August, 1872, published in page 782 of the Part I of the Gazette of India of the 17th idem, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to notify that, in cases in which stamp duty has been paid on Probates or Letters of Administration in respect of the gross assets of the estates of deceased persons, refunds of the duty may be made by the chief Executive Revenue Authority under the Local Governments in each Presidency or Province, if he thinks right, in respect of such portion of the assets as is actually applied in discharging the debts of the deceased.

Simla, the 2nd November 1883, No. 1443.

In supersession of Home Department Notification, No. 996, dated the 6th June 1873, and in exercise of the power conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees Act, 1870, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the fees leviable on the following documents, namely:—

(1). Copy of the charge given to the accused under Section 210 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(2). Copy of the evidence of witnesses given to the accused under Section 219 of the Code.

(3). Copy of the judgment in any case other than a summons case, or of the heads of the charge to the jury given to the accused under Section 371 of the Code.

(4). Copy of an order of maintenance given under Section 490 of the Code.

(5). Copy of the Judge's charge to the jury, or of any order or deposition or other part of the record furnished free of cost to a person affected by a judgment or order under Section 548 of the Code.

Vide Fort Saint George Gazette, dated 20th Nov. 1883.

22nd August, 1873, No. 2,509.

The Governor-General in Council is pleased to rule that when a plaint, disclosing a reasonable case on the merits, is presented to any Civil Court in such a form that the Judge rejects, not for any substantial defect, but on account of an entirely technical error in form only, and so as to leave the plaintiff free to prosecute precisely the same case, in another form, against the same defendant or defendants, the value of the stamp on the plaint shall be refunded on presentation of an application to the Collector of the District in which the Civil Court is situated, together with a certificate from the Judge who rejected the plaint, that it was rejected under the circumstances above described, and that the value of the stamp should in his opinion be refunded.

No. 3816.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act (VII of 1870), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the fees chargeable on applications presented to a Collector for refund of the amount paid to Government for stamped paper which has become spoiled or unfit for use, or is no longer required for use, and on applications for renewal of stamped paper which has become spoiled or unfit for use.

No. 801.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, reduces to eight annas the fee payable:

(a) On the plaint in every suit hereafter instituted in the Province of Oudh to obtain a declaratory decree in respect of an under-proprietory tenure where no consequently relief is prayed.

(b) On every appeal hereafter presented in any such suit, whether instituted before or after the date of this Notification.

No. 1293.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act VII of 1870, remits the whole of the fees chargeable on applications in writing relating exclusively to the purchase of salt, the property of Government.

No. 1511.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act VII of 1870, remits the whole of the fees chargeable under Schedule I of the said Act, on plaints in summary suits brought before Collectors under Madras Act No. VIII of 1865.

31st July, 1874.

No. 4685.—In exercise of the powers conferred by the Court Fees' Act, 1870, Section 35, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to declare that throughout the territories subject to the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council, the fees payable in suits by Government ryots for the recovery of land sold for arrears of revenue, shall be reduced to the amount which would be payable if the value of the subject-matter were only the rent of the land payable for the year next before the date of representing the plaint.

5th February, 1875.

No. 855.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following remission:—

Whenever upon payment of the full fee chargeable under the said Act, a certificate of administration has been granted under Act XL of 1858, or Act XX of 1864, and a fresh certificate is for any reason subsequently granted in respect of the same estate, no fees shall be chargeable upon the fresh certificate so granted.

(STAMPS).

SEPARATE REVENUE.

(STAMPS).

The 26th April, 1878.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 35 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to reduce to anna one the Court Fee payable under the said Act for a petition to the Collector for relief under Section 13 of the Madras Trades License Act, 1878.

SIMLA, the 18th April 1883, No. 361.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Sections 26 and 35 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, and of all other powers enabling him in this behalf; and in supersession of Notification by the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 1,520, dated 5th March 1875, and all other Notifications on the subject, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to issue the following directions:—

I. When in any case the fee chargeable under the said Act is less than Rs. 10, such fee shall be denoted by adhesive stamps only. Such adhesive stamps shall either be the adhesive stamps bearing the words "Court Fees," at present in use, or adhesive stamps of any different shape, size, or pattern, bearing the words "Court Fees," which may hereafter be issued for use, in supersession of, or in addition to, the adhesive stamps now in use.

II. When in any case the fee chargeable under the said Act amounts to or exceeds Rs. 10, such fee shall be denoted by impressed stamps bearing the words "Court Fees," adhesive stamps being only employed to make up fractions of less than Rs. 10.

III. If in any case the amount of fee chargeable under the said Act involves a fraction of an Anna, such fraction shall be remitted.

IV. This Notification shall take effect on and after the 1st June 1883 (vide Fort Saint George Gazette, dated 8th May 1883, Part I, page 307).

OOTACAMUND, 19th May 1883, No. 76.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 27 of the Court Fees' Act, 1870, and in modification of the Notification published at page 847 of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 30th April 1872, and of all other Notifications on the subject, the Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to issue the following rules:—

I. When, in the case of fees amounting to less than Rs. 10, the amount can be denoted by a single adhesive stamp, such fee shall be denoted by a single adhesive stamp of the required value. But if the amount cannot be denoted by a single adhesive stamp, or if a single adhesive stamp of the required value is not available, the next lower value available shall be used, and the deficiency shall be made up by the use of one or more additional adhesive stamps of the next lower values, which may be required to make up the exact amount of the fee.

II. When, in the case of fees amounting to or exceeding Rs. 10, the amount can be denoted by a single impressed stamp, the fee shall be denoted by a single impressed stamp of the required value. But if the amount cannot be denoted by a single impressed stamp, or if a single impressed stamp of the required value is not available, an impressed stamp of the next lower value available shall be used, and the deficiency shall be made up by the use of one or more additional impressed stamps of the next lower values available, which may be required to make up the exact amount of the fee in combination with adhesive stamps to make up fractions of less than Rs. 10.

III. Any adhesive stamps which may be used under Rule 2 shall be affixed to the impressed stamp of the highest value employed in denoting the fee.

IV. When two or more impressed stamps are used to make up the amount of the fee chargeable under the Court Fees' Act, a portion of the subject-matter shall be written on each impressed stamp so used, and the writing on each stamp shall be attested by the signature of the person or persons executing the document.

V. When one or more impressed stamps used to denote a fee are found insufficient to admit of the entire document being written on the side of the paper which bears the stamps, so much plain paper may be joined thereto as may be necessary for the complete writing of the document; and the writing on the impressed stamps and on the plain paper shall be attested by the signature of the person or persons executing the document.

VI. In the blank space left in the adhesive stamps the vendor shall insert the name of the purchaser, the date of sale, and his own ordinary signature.

This Notification shall take effect on and after the 1st June 1883. (Vide Fort St. George Gazette, dated 22nd May 1883, Part I, page 322).

SIMLA, the 30th May 1883, No. 1,150.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the Governor General in Council has remitted, in the whole of British India, the stamp duty payable under the said Act on all instruments in the nature of a memorandum or agreement furnished to, or made or entered into with, the Ordnance Department by Contractors for the due performance of their contract. (Vide Fort St. George Gazette, dated 19th June 1883, Part I, page 381.)

No. 1,381.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the Governor General in Council directs that the stamp duty payable on an instrument of partition of a land held on settlement for a period not exceeding 30 years and paying the full assessment to Government shall not exceed the amount payable on a valuation of the land at five times the annual revenue.

REMISSIONS OR REDUCTIONS OF STAMP DUTY

AUTHORISED BY

NOTIFICATION ISSUED UNDER THE SUCCESSIVE STAMP ACTS.

Under Section 33 of the Indian Stamp Act, I of 1879, the presiding officers of each Court or Office are required to examine every Instrument liable to Stamp Duty coming before them, in order to ascertain whether it is stamped with a stamp of the value and description required by the law in force in British India, when such Instrument was executed or first executed. This duty necessarily involves frequent references not only to the several Stamp Acts, but also to the various Notifications scattered over volumes of Official Gazettes, under which remissions or reductions of Stamp Duty have been granted from time to time.

Before October 1860 Instruments exempted from Stamp Duty were described in the Stamp Acts themselves. For the first time, in Act XXXVI of 1860 power was reserved for the Governor-General in Council to remit or reduce Stamp Duties on Instruments by Notifications in the Official Gazette. The following Table contains all the Notifications authorising remissions or reductions of Stamp Duty since the passing of Act XXXVI of 1860, save only those relating to the Straits Settlements, and those which are manifestly obsolete, such as Notifications exempting tenders for loans.

If any omission or defect is discovered in this Table, intimation should be sent direct to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Finance.

The Registration Act extends to the whole of British India, except such districts or tracts of country as the Local Government may from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, exclude from its operation.

In Bengal, the Garo, Khasia, Jynteah, and Nagah Hills, the Chittagong Hill Tracts and the tributary Mehals of Orissa and Chota Nagpore, have been excluded from the operation of the Act. (Beverley's Regn. Manl., p. 1).

The whole of the Scheduled Districts of the Madras Presidency enumerated in Part I of the First Schedule annexed to Act XIV of 1874, is exempted from the operation of the Act. (Vide Notification published in Fort St. George Gazette, dated 4th October 1881, Part I, page 516).

The Act has been extended to the Province of Mysore and to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Cantonment of Secunderabad by the Governor-General in Council. (Notifications, 27th June, 1877, Foreign Department, Simla, 20th July, 1871, No. 146).

What documents must be registered.

1. The registration of the following documents is compulsory:—

i.—Instruments of gift of immovable property;

ii.—Other instruments (not being Wills) which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent, of the value of 100 Rupees and upwards to or in immovable property;

iii.—Instruments (not being Wills) which acknowledge the receipt or payment of any consideration on account of the creation, declaration, assignment, limitation, or extinction of any such right, title or interest.

Nothing in clauses ii and iii of this paragraph applies to any Composition Deed, nor to any instrument relating to shares in a Joint Stock Company, notwithstanding that the assets of such Company consists in whole or in part of immovable property, nor to any endorsement upon or transfer of any Debenture issued by any such Company, or to any document not itself creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest of the value of 100 Rupees and upwards to or in immovable property, but merely creating a right to obtain another document which will, when executed, create any such right, &c., nor to decrees and orders of Courts and awards, grants of immovable property by Government, instruments of partition made by Revenue Officers, certificates and instruments of collateral security granted under the Land Improvement Act, 1871;

iv.—Leases* of immovable property from year to year, or for any term exceeding one year, or reserving a yearly rent. Provided, however, that any leases executed in any district of the Madras Presidency, the terms granted by which do not exceed 5 years, and the annual rents reserved by which do not exceed 50 Rupees, are exempted. The "Puttahs" granted by Zemindars to their ryots, as well as the "Muchilkas" (or counterparts) executed by the ryots under Section 3 of Act VIII of 1865, are defined to be leases for the purposes of the Registration Act, and all those not coming within the terms of the preceding proviso, if executed after the 1st July, 1871, must be registered.

v.—Authorities to adopt a son, executed after the 1st January, 1872, and not conferred by a Will.

2. No person having a nephew or niece, or any nearer relative, has power to bequeath any property to religious or charitable uses except by a Will executed not less than twelve months before his death, and deposited within six months from its execution in a Registry Office. This is not applicable to Hindus, Mahomedans or Buddhists. (Indian Succession Act (No. X), 1865, Sections 105 and 331).

What other documents may be registered.

3. The registration of the following documents is voluntary:—

i.—Instruments (other than instruments of gifts and Wills) which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent, of a value of less than 100 Rupees to or in immovable property;

ii.—Instruments acknowledging the receipt or payment of any consideration on account of the creation, declaration, assignment, limitation or extinction of any such right, title or interest;

iii.—Leases of immovable property for any term not exceeding one year, and leases exempted by the proviso in clause iv of paragraph 1;

iv.—Instruments, other than Wills, which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any right, title or interest, to or in immovable property;

v.—Wills;

vi.—All other documents.

4. But although the registration of these documents is not compulsory, the advantages of registering them are—

i.—That all documents, not testamentary, duly registered and relating to any property whether movable or immovable, take effect against any oral agreement or declaration relating to such property, unless where the agreement or declaration has been accompanied or followed by delivery of possession;

* Lease includes a counterpart, a Kabuliyat, an undertaking to cultivate or occupy, and an agreement to lease.

ii.—That every document of the kinds mentioned in clauses i, ii, iii and v, of paragraph 1, and clauses i and ii of paragraph 3, if duly registered, takes effect as regards the property comprised therein against every unregistered instrument relating to the same property, and not being a decree or order, whether such unregistered document be of the same nature as the registered document or not;

iii.—The period of limitation for a suit or a promise or contract in writing registered, and for the execution of any decree or order of any Civil Court of which a certified copy has been registered under the Registration Act, is six years instead of three, (Nos. 117 and 168, 2nd Schedule Limitation Act IX of 1871).

Deposit of Wills.

5. Any testator may either personally or by duly authorized Agent, deposit with any Registrar his Will in a sealed cover superscribed with the name of the testator and that of his agent (if any) and with a statement of the nature of the document.

Description required in document relating to immovable property.

6. "No document, not testamentary, relating to immovable property, shall be accepted for registration unless it contains a description of such property sufficient to identify the same.

i.—"Houses in towns shall be described as situate on the north or other side of the street or road (mentioning it) which they front, and by their existing and former occupancies, and by their numbers, if the houses in such street or road are numbered. Other houses and lands shall be described by their name, if any, and as being in the territorial division in which they are situate, and by their superficial contents, the roads and other properties on which they abut, and their existing occupancies, and also, whenever it is practicable, by reference to a Government map or survey.

ii.—"No document, not testamentary, containing a map or plan of any property comprised therein, shall be accepted for registration unless it be accompanied by a true copy of the map or plan, or, in case such property is situate in several districts, by such number of true copies of the map or plan as are equal to the number of such districts."

Failure to comply with the provisions contained in clause i of this paragraph will not disentitle a document to be registered if the description of the property is sufficient to identify such property.

7. "The term 'territorial division,' as used in the Indian Registration Act, 1877, shall as far as practicable, include—

(1.) The Registration District.

(2.) The Registration Sub-District.

(3.) The Taluq, Jaghire, Zemindary or Proprietary Estate.

(4.) Any well known division thereof, such as a Mootah, Hoondah, Khundum, Firka, Magany, Amshom, &c., and

(5.) The village, hamlet, or suburb in which the property referred to in a registrable document is situated."

But if the property is described in the document relating thereto by a specific reference to a registered instrument, in which the above particulars are already given, they need not be repeated.

Time prescribed for Registration.

8. No document, other than a Will, "shall be accepted for registration unless presented for that purpose to the proper officer within four months from the date of its execution;

Or in the case of a copy of a decree or order, within four months from the day on which the degree or order was made, or, where it is appealable, within four months from the day on which it becomes final;

Provided that, where there are several persons executing a document at different times, such document may be presented for registration and re-registration within four months from the date of each execution."

If owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident, the presentation is not made within the prescribed time, the Registrar, where the delay does not exceed four months, may direct registration on a payment of a fine not exceeding ten times the proper registration fee.

When a document purporting to have been executed by all or any of the parties out of British India, is not presented till after the expiration of four months, the registering officer if satisfied—

(1.) That the instrument was so executed, and

(2.) That it has been presented for registration within four months after its arrival in British India, may, on payment of the proper registration fee, accept such document for registration.

A Will may at any time be presented for registration, or deposited.

9. No document, other than a Will, shall be registered unless the persons executing such document, or their representatives, assigns, or authorized agents, appear before the registering officer within the time allowed for presentation;

Provided that if, owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident, all such persons do not so appear, the Registrar, in cases where the delay in appearing does exceed four months, may direct that, on payment of a fine not exceeding ten times the amount of the proper registration fee, in addition to the fine payable under paragraph 8, the document may be registered.

Such appearance may be simultaneous or at different times.

Provided, further, that it is not necessary for any officer of Government, or for the Administrator General of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or for any Official Trustee, or for the Sheriff, Receiver or Registrar of a High Court or Official Assignee, to appear in person or by Agent at any Registration Office in any proceeding connected with the registration of any instrument executed by him in his official capacity.

Place of Registration.

10. The ordinary place for registering every document mentioned in paragraph 1, clauses i, ii, iii and iv, and paragraph 3, clauses i, ii and iii, is the office of a Sub-Registrar within whose Sub-District the whole or some portion of the property to which such document relates is situate; but the Registrar of a District, including a Presidency Town (e. g., the Registrar of Madras), may receive and register any document of this description without regard to the situation in any part of British India of the property to which the instrument relates, and any Registrar may, at his discretion, receive and register any instrument, which might be registered by any Sub-Registrar subordinate to him.

11. Every other document may be presented for registration in the office of the Sub-Registrar in whose Sub-District the document was executed, or in the office of any Sub-Registrar under the Local Government, at which all the persons executing and claiming under the document desire the same to be registered.

12. Wills must be deposited with the Registrars of Districts.

13. In ordinary cases, the registration or deposit of documents under this Act shall be made only at the office of the officer whose duty it is to register the same; but such officer may, on special cause being shown, attend at the residence of any person intending to register any document, or of any person desiring to deposit a Will and register or accept for registration or deposit such document or Will.

Presentation of documents for Registration.

14. Except in the case mentioned in last preceding paragraph, every document shall be presented at the proper Registration Office by some person executing or claiming under the same, or, in the case of a copy of a decree or order claiming under the decree or order, or by his representative or assign of such person, or by the agent of such person, representative or assign, duly authorized by power of attorney executed and authenticated in manner hereinafter mentioned.

15. For the purpose of paragraph 14, the powers of attorney hereinafter mentioned shall alone be recognized:

(a) If the principal resides in any part of British India in which this Act is in force, a power executed before and authenticated by the Registrar or Sub Registrar within whose district or sub-district the principal resides;

(b) If the principal resides in any other part of British India, a power executed before and authenticated by any Magistrate;

(c) If the principal does not reside in British India, a power executed before and authenticated by a Notary Public, or any Court, Judge, Magistrate, British Consul or Vice-Consul, or representative of Her Majesty or of the Government of India.

16. Every officer granting a certificate under the Land Improvement Act, 1871, shall send a copy of such certificate to the registering officer within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the whole, or any part of the land to be improved, or of the land to be granted as collateral security, is situate, and such registering officer shall file the certificate in his book No. I.

REGISTRATION OF JOINT-STOCK COMPANIES.

Under the Indian Companies' Act No. VI of 1882, and Act No. XXI of 1860, an Act for the registration of literary, scientific and charitable Societies.

S. HARI ROW, Registrar.

OFFICE—MCDOWELL AND CO.'S PREMISES, 2ND LINE BEACH, BLACK TOWN.

Summary of Act No. VI, The Indian Companies' Act, 1882.

Prohibition of partnerships exceeding certain number.

"No Company, Association or Partnership consisting of more than ten persons shall be formed for the purpose of carrying on the business of banking, unless it is registered as a Company under this Act, or is formed in pursuance of an Act of Parliament or some other Act of the Governor-General of India in Council, or by Royal Charter or Letters Patent; and no Company, Association or Partnership consisting of more than twenty persons shall be formed after the commencement of this Act, for the purpose of carrying on any other business that has for its object the acquisition of gain by the Company, Association or Partnership, or by the individual members thereof, unless it is registered as a Company under this Act, or is formed in pursuance of some other Act or Letters Patent." (Sec. 4).

Mode of forming Company.

2. "Any seven or more persons associated for any lawful purpose may, by subscribing their names to a Memorandum of Association, and otherwise complying with the requisitions of this Act in respect of registration, form an incorporated company, with or without limited liability." (Sec. 6).

Memorandum of Association of a Company limited by shares.

3. Where a Company is formed on the principle of having the liability of its members limited to the amount unpaid on their shares, the Memorandum of Association shall contain the following things:—

(1). The name of the proposed Company, with the addition of the word "limited" as the last word in such name:

(2). The part of British India in which the registered Office of the Company is proposed to be situate:

(3). The objects for which the proposed Company is to be established:

(4). A declaration that the liability of the members is limited:

(5). The amount of capital with which the Company proposes to be registered divided into shares of a certain fixed amount, subject to the following regulations:—

(i). That no subscriber shall take less than one share.

(ii). That each subscriber of the Memorandum of Association shall write opposite to his name the number of shares he takes. (Sec. 8).

4. The rules for a Memorandum of Association of a Company limited by guarantee and of an unlimited Company will be found in Sections 9 and 10 of the Act.

Stamp of Memorandum of Association.

5. The Memorandum of Association shall bear a stamp of 15 Rupees. (See Article 43 of Schedule I of Act I of 1879, page 34).

Regulations to be prescribed by Articles of Association.

6. The Memorandum of Association may, in the case of a Company limited by shares, and shall, in the case of a Company limited by guarantee or unlimited, be accompanied, when registered, by Articles of Association signed by the subscribers to the Memorandum of Association, and prescribing such regulations for the Company as the subscribers to the Memorandum of Association deem expedient. (Sec. 37 of Act VI of 1882.

Stamp, &c., of Articles of Association.

7. The Articles of Association shall be printed and they shall bear a stamp of 25 Rupees. (See Schedule I of Act I of 1879, page 25).

Registration of Memorandum and Articles of Association with fees as in table B.

8. The Memorandum and the Articles of Association, if any, shall be delivered to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies, who shall retain and register the same. (Sec. 40.)

Effect of registration.

9. Upon registration of the Memorandum of Association and of the Articles of Association in cases where articles of Association are required by this Act or by the desire of the parties to be registered, the Registrar shall certify under his hand that the Company is incorporated, and in the case of a Limited Company that the Company is limited; the subscribers of the Memorandum of Association, together with such other persons as may from time to time become members of the Company, shall thereupon be a Body Corporate by the name contained in the Memorandum of Association, capable forthwith of exercising all the functions of an incorporated Company, and having perpetual succession and a common seal. (Sec. 41).

Prohibition against identity of names in Companies.

10. No Company shall be registered under a name identical with that by which a subsisting Company is already registered, or so nearly resembling the same as to be calculated to deceive, except in a case where such subsisting Company is in the course of being dissolved and testifies its consent in such manner as the Registrar requires. (Sec. 43).

Entry of trusts on Register.

11. No notice of any trust, express, implied or constructive, shall be entered on the Register or be receivable by the Registrar in the case of Companies under this Act and registered in British India. (Sec. 53).

Registered Office of Company.

12. Every Company shall have a registered Office. If any Company carries on business without having such an Office, it shall incur a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day during which business is so carried on. (Sec. 63).

Prohibition against carrying on business with less than seven members.

13. If any Company under this Act carries on business when the number of its members is less than seven, for a period of 6 months after the number has been so reduced, every person who is a member of such Company shall be severally liable for the payment of the whole debt of the Company. (Sec. 73).

General Meeting of Company.
Balance Sheet.

14. A General Meeting shall be held once at least in every year. A Balance Sheet shall be made out in every year and laid before the Company. Once at least in every year the accounts shall be examined and the correctness of the Balance Sheet ascertained by one or more Auditor or Auditors. (Sec. 74).

Power to alter Regulations by Special Resolution.

15. Any Company may, in General Meeting, by passing a Special Resolution, alter all or any regulations or make new Regulations. (Sec. 76).

Power of certain Companies to alter Memorandum of Association to a certain extent.

16. Any Company limited by shares may so far modify the conditions contained in its Memorandum of Association, as to increase its capital, or to consolidate and divide its capital into shares of larger amount than its existing shares, or to convert its paid-up shares into stock, but, save as aforesaid, and save as hereinafter provided, no alteration shall be made by any Company in the conditions contained in its Memorandum of Association. (Sec. 12).

Winding up of Companies.

17. Companies may be wound up by order of the Court or voluntarily. (Secs. 173 to 219).

SUMMARY OF ACT XXI OF 1860.

An Act for the Registration of Literary, Scientific and Charitable Societies.

Societies formed by Memorandum of Association and Registration.

1. Any seven or more persons associated for any Literary, Scientific or Charitable purpose, or for any such purpose as is described in Section XX* of this Act, may, by subscribing their names to a Memorandum of Association, and filing the same with the Registrar of Joint-Stock Companies under Act XIX of 1857, form themselves into a Society under this Act.

To what Societies the Act shall apply.

* Section XX. The following Societies may be registered under this Act, Charitable Societies, the Military Orphan Funds or Societies established at the several Presidencies of India, Societies established for the promotion of Science, Literature, or the Fine Arts, for instruction, the diffusion of useful knowledge, the foundation or maintenance of Libraries, or Reading-rooms for general use among the Members, or open to the public, or public Museums and Galleries of Paintings and other Works of Art, Collections of Natural History, Mechanical and Philosophical Inventions, Instruments, or Designs.

Memorandum of Association.

2. The Memorandum of Association shall contain—

The name of the Society,

The objects of the Society,

The names, addresses, and occupations of the Governors, Council, Directors, Committee, or other governing body to whom, by the Rules of the Society, the management of its affairs is entrusted. A copy of the Rules and Regulations of the Society, certified to be a correct copy by not less than three of the members of the governing body, shall be filed with the Memorandum of Association.

Registration.

Fees.

3. Upon such memorandum and certified copy being filed the Registrar shall certify under his hand that the Society is registered under this Act. There shall be paid to the Registrar for every such registration a fee of fifty Rupees, or such smaller fee as the Governor-General of India in Council may from time to time direct; and all fees so paid shall be accounted for to Government.

Annual list of managing body to be filed.

4. Once in every year, on or before the 14th day succeeding the day on which according to the Rules of the Society, the Annual General Meeting of the Society is held, or if the Rules do not provide for an Annual General Meeting, in the month of January, a list shall be filed with the Registrar of Joint-Stock Companies, of the names, addresses, and occupations of the Governors, Council, Directors, Committee or other governing body then entrusted with the management of the affairs of the Society.

Property of Society how to be vested.

5. The property, movable and immovable, belonging to a Society registered under this Act, if not vested in Trustees, shall be deemed to be vested, for the time being, in the governing body of such Society, and in all proceedings, Civil and Criminal, may be described as the property of the governing body of such Society by their proper title.

How suits by and against Societies to be brought.

6. Every Society registered under this Act may sue or be sued in the name of the President, Chairman, or Principal Secretary, or Trustees as shall be determined by the Rules and Regulations of the Society, and in default of such determination, in the name of such person as shall be appointed by the governing body for the occasion; provided that it shall be competent for any person having claim or demand against the Society, to sue the President or Chairman, or Principal Secretary or the Trustees thereof, if on application to the governing body, some other Officer or person be not nominated to be the defendant.

Inspection of documents.

Certified copies.

7. Any person may inspect all documents filed with the Registrar under this Act on payment of a fee of one rupee for each inspection; and any person may require a copy or extract of any document or any part of any document to be certified by the Registrar, on payment of two annas for every hundred words of such copy or extract; and such certified copy shall be prima facie evidence of the matters therein contained in all legal proceedings whatever. (Sec. 19).

Extracts from Regulations passed by Government under date 1st December 1875, for the discharge of the duties of the Registrar of Joint-Stock Companies.

Punctual transmission of prescribed documents.

VII. With the view of enforcing the punctual transmission by all Companies of the documents required to be forwarded to the Registrar, he is authorized, whenever any document is over-due, to request the Government Solicitor to take the necessary steps for the recovery of the prescribed penalties for default; and he shall send at the same time a notice of his having done so to the registered office of the Company concerned.

NOTE.—1. Sub-Assistant Conservators draw daily travelling allowance under Section 30 (b), Exception 2, of the Civil Travelling Allowance Code.

2. Forest Rangers draw daily travelling allowance under Section 30 (b) and (d) Exceptiou 2, according to class in addition to their Permanent Conveyance Allowance under Section 28.

For purposes of promotion, in the Controlling Staff there will be one list only, which will include the Officers of both Circles.

The head-quarters of District Forest Officers will, unless otherwise ordered, be at the head-quarter station of the district. The two Conservators will have their head-quarters at Madras, but they should arrange to spend some time at Ootacamund during the season when Government is there. The Offices of the Conservators of the two Circles will be at Madras, and there will also be at Madras a Central Office of Accounts, where the forest accounts of all districts will be examined and compiled under the general control of the Accountant-General.

For the Executive Staff there is a separate list for each circle and promotion is regulated accordingly and not as in the case of the Controling Staff.

The control of forest administration will, until further orders, continue to be vested in the Board of Revenue, and the Conservators will submit reports and other communications to the Board.

Assistant Conservators will be appointed to the third grade, and they will be eligible for promotion successively to the second and first grades on their passing the prescribed examinations and obtaining the needful certificate of qualification from the Conservator.

Promotion will not necessarily be given immediately on passing, or solely in consequence of passing the examinations; the merits and qualifications of each Officer will also be taken into consideration.

PART IV.—MILITARY.

LORD CLIVE'S FUND.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 1*st September*, 1863, No. 306 of 1863.—The following Extract from a Military Despatch from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India is published:—

Despatch, dated 31*st July*, 1863, No 109.—1. I have to inform you that the House of Lords has reversed the judgment of the Master of the Rolls in the matter of Lord Clive's Fund, and has ruled that the contingency specified in the Deed constituting the Fund, in the event of which the sum of Sicca Rupees 5,00,000 should be returned to Lord Clive, or to his Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, has happened, by the passing of the Acts 21 and 22, Victoria, Chapter 106.

2. You will, therefore, in future, admit all persons, who would have been entitled to pension from that Fund, to an equivalent rate of pension, without reference to the name of Lord Clive, upon production of the usual documents.

Pensions in lieu of those formerly granted from Lord Clive's Fund.

These pensions are granted to Commissioned and Warrant Officers and Soldiers of the Indian Forces, superannuated or worn-out in the service.

The following Commissioned and Warrant Officers are entitled to the half-pay of their respective ranks from the date of their debarkation in England, on their making affidavit that they do not possess property to the amount opposite to their respective rank:—

Pensions to Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates are paid from the day of their debarkation in England, as follows:—

Serjeants of Artillery, 9*d.* per diem—1*s.* to those who have lost a limb.
Privates of do. 6*d.* do. and 9*d.* to do. do.

All other Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates receive 4 pence and 3 farthings.

Serjeants who have actually served 21 years in the Indian Forces, the last 8 as Serjeants, or who are distinguished for good conduct or disabled from wounds received on actual service, are allowed in any part of the British dominions in Europe, one shilling per diem in addition to the regulated pension from this Fund. Serjeants wishing to reside in India after 21 years' service as above are allowed 30 Rupees per mensem.

Serjeants, Corporals or Privates of 14 years' actual service, discharged on account of debility rendering them unfit for Field Service, shall be allowed, inclusive of the regulated pension from this Fund, as follows:—

Serjeants, per diem 1 shilling, Corporals and Privates, per diem 9*d.*, and Serjeants, Corporals and Privates discharged at their own request after completing 21 years' service shall be allowed, inclusive of pension from this Fund, one shilling per diem.

If incapable, from wounds or injuries received on service, of discharging their duties, the following per diem pensions inclusive of the regulated pensions from this Fund will be

The pensions to Commissioned, Warrant, Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers are payable half-yearly at the India Office, in London, without deduction, at Midsummer and Christmas; but if Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers receive their pensions in the country, (if they reside more than 25 miles from London by special leave), a shilling will be charged on each payment for the person who pays them.

The pensions of Commissioned and Warrant Officers are payable as they fall due. Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates paid in advance on their landing, for the broken period to the end of the first half-year, and afterwards half-yearly in advance.

G. O. G., 22nd August, 1874, No. 211.—"Officers who retire under the scheme published in G. G. O., No. 656 of 1874, are as much debarred from the benefits of Lord Clive's Fund as any other retired Officers are.

"The retirement of an Officer under G. G. O., No. 656 of 1874, is in no way affected by the fact that he receives also compensation for the Colonel's allowance, and therefore has to relinquish the good service pension if he is on receipt of it, and forego all claim to bonus compensation under the terms of G. G. O., No. 808, dated 26th September, 1866.

2. "Such Officers cannot be required to subscribe to the Military Funds as Colonels; nor can they have the option of doing so in any rank higher than that they have attained substantively, unless under the operation of any rules of their respective funds, which would give them that privilege, if they merely retired from the service in ordinary course."

Pensions to Widows.

Article 2308.—Widows of Officers of the old Indian Service, including those transferred from it to the Staff Corps and to the British Service (see note Article 2318), who would have been entitled to pensions from Lord Clive's Fund prior to the passing of the Acts XXI and XXII Vic. QUEEN'S MILITARY FUND.

Regulations of the Queen's Military Widows' Fund, for the Benefit of the Widows and Children of deceased Officers in Her Majesty's Service in India, established in 1820.

Preamble.

Under the protection and countenance of the Most Noble the Marquis of Hastings, Commander-in-Chief in India, the abovenamed Fund was established in the year 1820, for the purpose of sending Home, in comfort and respectability, the families of deceased subscribing Officers in Her Majesty's Service in India, preventing thereby the painful and degrading practice of appealing to the public for subscriptions on such occasions. The Fund also provides relief in such cases until they can conveniently embark.

Modifications of the original Rules have at different times become necessary, and have been adopted with the approval of the subscribers and the sanction of the Commander-in-Chief for the time being.

On the present occasion the Committee of General Management having observed the desirability of making some of the rules more complete, of modifying the rates of subscription hitherto paid, and of amplifying the field of the Fund's operations, represented these views to the subscribers at large, and circulated voting lists in which opinions were given on the proposed alterations.

The Committee are gratified to find that their suggestions have been almost unanimously accepted, and the same are accordingly embodied in the following Code of revised Regulations for the Government of the Fund, which will come into force on the 1st January 1874.

As Officers, on first landing in the country may not have convenient access to the books of Local Regulations, the following extracts are here re-printed, showing the benevolent object with which the Fund came to be originally instituted, and the benefits to be derived from supporting it.

G. O., 25th June, 1820.—"1. With reference to the Circular Letter from the Adjutant General of His Majesty's Forces to Officers Commanding Regiments, dated the 22nd October, 1819, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, with a view to give further aid and facility to the arrangement of the Fund for Widows and Children of His Majesty's Officers, is pleased to publish for general information of all concerned, that the Most Noble the Governor-General has signified his consent to become Patron to the humane institution now in progress to establishment, and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will consider himself as President, and has been pleased to order a Committee of General Management to be formed at Head Quarters, with which the Presidents of General and Regimental Committees can communicate on all subjects touching the object in view. It will be the business of the Committee of General Management to examine the accounts quarterly, and to order the sums in hand to be deposited in Government Security and to see that the Paymasters of Regiments make the remittances at the periods prescribed in the printed Regulations, &c., &c."

G. O., 28th November, 1826.—"The Commander-in-Chief is pleased to publish, for the information of the Officers of His Majesty's Army serving in India, the following General Order, No. 271 of 1826, issued by the Supreme Government:—

Fort William, 17th November, 1826.—"RESOLVED—That the following paragraph of a Military General Letter from the Honorable the Court of Directors, under date the 27th of May, 1826, be promulgated for the information of the Officers of His Majesty's Service in India:—

The grant of passage money to the widow of Lieut. Twinberren, of His Majesty's 44th Regt., to enable her to return to England reported as a special case.

"Para 16. It appears from the documents annexed to these Proceedings, that Lieutenant Twinberren had been so short a time in India, that he was probably not aware of the Fund established for the relief of the widows and families of Officers in His Majesty's Service, dying in India, and consequently had not subscribed to it.

"17. We desire that you will take measures for acquainting all Officers of His Majesty's Service, with the existence of this Fund, immediately on their arriving at any of the Presidencies, and with our determination not to provide maintenance or passage hereafter for the widows or families of any of His Majesty's Officers dying in India.

"The Commander-in-Chief is requested to issue such instructions for making all Officers of His Majesty's Service, on their arriving at any of the Presidencies, acquainted with the determination of the Honorable Court, expressed in the foregoing extract, as may appear necessary to His Excellency."

G. O., 20th April, 1829.—"The Commander-in-Chief, in directing the publication in General Orders of the accompanying statement of the Funds of the institution for the relief of widows of Officers of His Majesty's Service, regrets to find, that an institution so beneficial to all (whether married or single), and so perfectly within the means of the most limited incomes, should not meet with that universal support which it claims. His Lordship is satisfied that there are many who have, from want of attention only, omitted to return their names as subscribers, and is confident that such omissions have only to be pointed out to be remedied; but he considers it a duty which he owes to the Army, to inform them by the publication of the accompanying letter, in the sentiments of which he most fully coincides, that it now remains for the Service generally to consider whether they will support the institution, or allow the widows and children to appeal to individual charity for the means of enabling them in their distress to return to their homes. Such an addition to their misfortunes may be removed, and their respectability maintained, by so small a subscription to the Fund, of at most two Rupees a month from a Subaltern, and from other ranks according to the moderate scale laid down in its Regulations."

Letter from the Secretary to Government, Military Department, to the Commander-in-Chief, No. 195, dated 13*th December*, 182.

"The annexed extracts (paragraphs 2 and 11) of the Honorable Court's Military General Letter to Madras, under date the 14th May 1828, prohibiting the grant of passage money to the families of Officers of His Majesty's Service returning to England, having been forwarded to the Supreme Government, with an intimation that these orders are equally applicable to this Presidency, I am directed to request, that you will lay the same before the Commander-in-Chief for His Excellency's information.

Extract from Military Letter to Fort St. George, dated 14*th May*, 1829.

"Para. II. We have had repeated occasions to comment on the Regulations of your Government granting passage money to the families of King's Officers on their return to England, but we regret to find that our instructions on this point have not been attended to with their desired effect at your Presidency.

"III. The cases which have arisen divide themselves into two classes:

"1st.—Widows and orphans of Officers dying in India.

"2nd.—Wives and children of Officers returning to England.

"IV. To provide for the conveyance to England of widows and orphans, who are left in destitute circumstances, a Fund was established in the year 1820 by Officers of His Majesty's Regiments serving in India. The principles and objects of this Fund have received our concurrence, and a subscription of 6,000 Rupees a year has been authorized by us towards its support.

"V. * * * *

"VI. * * * *

"VII. The Officers in our service, who have been appointed of late years, are all required to contribute to the support of the institution established for the relief of their widows and children, and we would hope that some rule, which shall be equally effectual for the support of this Fund may be adopted by His Majesty's Officers.

"VIII. In the subscription we have made we have done as much, if not more in proportion for His Majesty's Officers, as we have done for the Officers of the Company's Army, in our subscriptions to their Funds; and as we never provide for any individual case of distress, which may arise on the part of the widow and children of an Officer of our own service, we must likewise decline to make any such separate provision in any future case for the widow and children of an Officer of His Majesty's Army.

"IX. His Grace the Commander-in-Chief has observed on this subject 'that if the 'Officers of His Majesty's Army will contribute, the Fund will be sufficient to remedy the 'inconveniences which now exist; if, on the other hand, they decline to subscribe to it, 'it must be understood that they are willing to rely, in the event of their death, upon 'charity,' for the removal of their families to England. If, therefore, any widows or orphans of His Majesty's Officers be left destitute, it will be from the fault of their husbands and fathers.

"X. We, therefore, positively prohibit any further advance of money on your part to enable such widows and orphans to return to England.

"2nd.—Wives and children of Officers returning to England.

"XI. We had contemplated the advantage of including these cases among the objects to be provided for by the Fund; but on further consideration, we are of opinion, that every Officer must be left to make his own arrangement, independent of any charitable institution, or of the assistance of the State. The Funds to which we contribute for the advantage of the Company's Officers, make no provision for such cases, and no allowance from the Government is ever granted to defray the private expense of Officers on this account. We must therefore absolutely prohibit the grant of passage money to the families of King's Officers returning to England."

G. O., 29th May 1844.—"In conformity with instructions from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary at War, under date the 6th March, 1844, the Commander-in-Chief desires it may be distinctly understood, that all Officers refusing to become subscribers to the Military Fund for the benefit of the widows and children of Officers of Her Majesty's Regiments serving in the East Indies, their widows and families can have no claim to be relieved, either by the East India Company or by the British Government, from any expense they may incur in returning to England."

A. G.'s Cir., No. 25, 28th September, 1866.—"On two occasions recently, it has come to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief, that charitable contributions have been solicited from the public at large in aid of the widows of Officers of Her Majesty's Service in India, whose husbands had neglected to subscribe to the Queen's Military Widows' Fund.

"The origin of the Fund was to obviate such appeals, and at the same time to prevent what used to be not an uncommon spectacle, the reduction to the most painful state of destitution of ladies who, during the lifetime of their husbands, were enjoying great comfort, perhaps even affluence.

"Apart from other considerations, His Excellency thinks it very unfair to the unmarried Officers of the Army, a large proportion of whom have already consented to tax themselves in support of this Fund, that they should be thus called on to pay a further contribution in aid of the families of those who were too improvident, or too negligent, to become members of it in their lifetime.

"His Excellency therefore hopes that married Officers will recognise the advantages of this institution, one which the Government deems worthy of its support, and that they will bear in mind the hardship and suffering to which their widows may be exposed by a neglect on their part to entitle them, by the present payment of a small contribution, to a participation in the very substantial benefits which the Fund confers."

Rules.

General management.

Rule 1st.—That the Committee of General Management shall be fixed at Simla, and consist of all Officers of the Staff, they being subscribers and present; and that an Officer of the Adjutant General's Department act as Honorary Secretary.

Sub-Committee in Madras and Bombay.

Rule 2nd. That a Sub-Committee for enquiring into all awards and circumstances connected with this Fund, and acting under the General Committee, shall be formed at Madras and Bombay, composed as follows, such Officers being subscribers:—

The Commander-in-Chief, the Patron.
The Senior Officer of Her Majesty's Army at the Presidency.
All Officers of the Staff.
The two senior Officers of Her Majesty's Regiment stationed at the Presidency.
The two senior Subalterns of Her Majesty's Regiment stationed at the Presidency.

The Adjutant General of the Presidency will depute an Officer to act as local Honorary Secretary, who under direction of the Sub-Committee shall collect and deposit quarterly in the Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, all subscriptions from Officers in the Presidency, at the same time rendering a detailed account to the Honorary Secretary, to the Committee of General Management, at Simla.

Subscriptions.

Rule 3rd.—That every Officer shall pay monthly as specified below:—

	Married.	Single.
	Per mensem.
Commander-in-Chief Rs. 20 per mensem.
Officers drawing pay and allowances of Rs. 1,500 or upwards	10	8
Ditto ditto „ 1,000 „	8	6
Ditto ditto „ 750 „	7	5
Ditto ditto „ 400 „	5	3
All others ... ... „	2-8	1

Payment of subscriptions.

Rule 4th.—That the Paymasters of Corps in the Bengal Presidency shall be authorized and required to make these deductions monthly, and shall remit the same quarterly by Transfer Receipt, on the Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, to the Honorary Secretary, Queen's Military Widows' Fund at Simla. In Madras and Bombay subscriptions will be collected in the same manner, and forwarded to the local Honorary Secretary.*

No Officer present in India shall be allowed to fall into arrears of subscription to this Fund; and the Honorary Secretary (or Local Secretary, as the case may be), may warn any Officer whose subscription is six months in arrears, that he must pay up at once on pain of having his name removed from the rolls. An Officer whose name has thus been removed can only re-enter the Fund on the same terms as a new subscriber, and the fact of his removal will not absolve him from his liability for any subscription in arrears at the time his name is struck off. An Officer will be held to be a subscriber, if in India, till such time as he notifies his wish for the removal of his name from the rolls.

Officers detached from regiments shall remit their subscriptions to the Honorary or Local Secretary quarterly in arrears by Transfer Receipt, on the Bank of Bengal, obtainable from the Treasury which pays them their salary.

Rule 5th.—All Officers of Her Majesty's British Forces serving in India are eligible to subscribe to the Queen's Military Widows' Fund, on their notifying their intention to that effect through the Regimental Paymaster to the Honorary Secretary at Simla, if they themselves are serving in the Bengal Presidency, or to the Local Secretaries in the other Presidencies if serving in Madras or Bombay. Officers on detached employ may notify direct to the Honorary Secretary their intention of subscribing.

I. All married Officers coming to India for the first time shall subscribe to the Fund within one year of their arrival in India, provided their families accompany them.

II. If followed by their families they must subscribe within six months of the families' arrival, or within one year of their own arrival.

III. An officer marrying in India shall join within six months of his marriage, or within one year of his first arrival in the country.

IV. All married officers returning with their families to India after an absence from any cause, shall subscribe within six months of their return.

V. Married officers, whose families are not in India, may subscribe at married rates, and their widows will be eligible for the advantages of Rule 21.

VI. Any married officer, whose family is in India, failing to comply with the above conditions, can only be admitted as a subscriber to the Fund, on payment of a donation not exceeding six months' subscription of his married grade.

For instance—an officer who had been fourteen months in the country, and his family present at least eight months, would be called on to pay a donation of two months' subscription on joining.

VII. Bachelors may subscribe at any time without payment of any arrears.

VIII. Widowers will subscribe at married rates if they have children in India. If their children are in England, they will only be required to subscribe as bachelors.

Appeal to all Officers to support the Fund.

Rule 6th.—This Fund, having been established for the purpose of sending home families of deceased officers, and with a view of preventing those painful appeals for assistance to the public, at once so humiliating to respectable individuals, and to the Queen's Service in India, it is earnestly hoped that all ranks of staff and regimental officers will support it; and in order to ensure its objects being known, a copy of these Rules will be furnished to every subscriber, and to the Commanding Officer and Paymaster of each regiment and battery.

Public service remittances allowable.

Rule 7th.—That, in order to obviate the difficulties which would arise occasionally from the remoteness of certain stations of Her Majesty's Corps serving under the several Presidencies, the Most Noble the Governor-General in Council was pleased to order and direct, when the Fund was established, that Public Service Remittances might be granted to the Paymasters of Her Majesty's Regiments payable at sight to the Honorary Secretary of the Queen's Military Widows' Fund, acting for the Committee of General Management, thereby avoiding commission, double agency and loss by exchange.

Grants.

Rule 8th.—That all grants of assistance from this Fund shall be regulated and assigned by Committees of Subscribers, as herein declared.

* The Honorary Secretary would invite attention to Rule 4. The Balances of the Fund are kept as much as possible with the Bank of Bengal, consequently when transfer Receipts are payable in Simla, the local Bank charges a percentage for remitting the accumulated sums to Calcutta, and this will be saved, if remittances are made payable in Calcutta; but they must be sent to Simla for realization as the books of the Fund are in the Adjutant-General's Office, Lodgment of claim.

Rule 9th.—That in order to ascertain the claims of any widow or family, who may become entitled to the benefits of the Fund by the death of any regimental Officer, such widow shall represent the case of herself and family through the Commanding Officer of the Corps the casualty occurred in, in order to its being brought to the consideration of a Committee, and the Commanding Officer shall, as far as his knowledge will enable him, state his opinion of any case so received.

Committee of Award.

Rule 10th.—That whenever there may be more than one Corps of Her Majesty's Service stationed together, every application for relief from this Fund shall be heard and decided on by a Station Committee, composed, as equally as possible, of Officers from the Corps present, being subscribers to the Fund.

STATION COMMITTEE.

President.—A Field Officer or Surgeon-Major (if practicable).

Members.— { One Captain or Officer of equivalent rank. One Subaltern or Officer of equivalent rank.

Special Committee.

Rule 11th.—In the event of Officers dying while the Corps they belong to is stationed by itself, or while they themselves are absent from their Regiment, it shall be in the power of every Commanding Officer of a Regiment or Station, under these circumstances, to assemble a Committee of any three Officers, being subscribers, to hear and decide upon the cases of any widows and children who have become entitled to relief from this Fund. In the event of there not being three subscribers at once available to form a Committee, the Commanding Officer of the Station or Corps may avail himself of non-subscribers, to avoid the delay which would be entailed in assembling a Committee composed wholly of subscribers in the usual manner. It shall also be competent for the Commander-in-Chief at either Presidency to assemble a Special Committee to report on the case of any lady who may have become a widow, whilst the Regiment to which her husband belonged is at another distant station, or on service beyond sea.

Paymaster authorized to afford immediate relief to prevent distress or inconvenience.

Rule 12th.—That the Station, Regimental, or Special Committee, having duly examined into the circumstances, shall report their opinion thereon, and recommend the amount to be granted for Passage-money and maintenance, strictly in conformity with the Regulations annexed. The opinion and recommendation of the Committee shall be immediately forwarded to the Honorary Secretary of the Presidency by the President of the Committee, and the Paymaster of the Regiment, under the above authority, can at once advance to the widow the amount of "Travelling" and "Maintenance" allowance awarded by the Committee, reimbursing himself by drawing a bill on the Honorary Secretary or Adjutant-General if in Madras or Bombay, the residue of the award to be adjusted by the Honorary Secretary under the sanction of the General or Sub-Committee of Management, and paid to the widow before leaving the Regiment, or, on arrival at the Port of embarkation, by the Honorary Secretary.

In Bombay and Madras the Sub-Committee to draw on the Adjutant-General.

Rule 13th.—The Sub-Committees at Madras and Bombay will in cases of award in those Presidencies, on satisfying themselves of the accuracy of the statements laid before them, draw on the Adjutant-General of the Presidency for the amount which may be awarded; but in the final adjustment of the accounts of such Sub-Committee, the Committee of General Management will consider themselves bound to object to any sum, however trifling, which may be granted in excess of the Rules laid down: To facilitate the immediate payment of awards, a sum of Rupees 5,000 is lodged in each of the Presidency Banks, to the credit of the Adjutant-General of that Presidency.

Madras and Bombay Committee Proceedings to be forwarded as vouchers.

Rule 14th.—The Sub-Committee will, on drawing for any sum on the Adjutant-General of the Presidency, in cases of awards, transmit to the Honorary Secretary at Simla, the Report of the Station Committee, accompanied by receipts and certificates, showing that the money has been appropriated in the manner and for the purposes for which it was awarded.

Limitations.

Rule 15th.—But to prevent doubts and misconceptions which might possibly arise hereafter, it is distinctly declared, that no widow permanently residing in this country after the death of her husband, can expect any provision or allowance for herself or children from the Fund, further than is stated in Rule 28.

Orphan children.

Rule 16th.—Orphan children are eligible for the benefits of this Fund, but awards for them must be specially made by a Station or Regimental Committee, and sanctioned by the Commander-in-Chief of the Presidency, who is requested to appoint some eligible person to take care of them, and provide a passage, &c., &c.

Annual account to be furnished by Secretary.

Rule 17th.—That the Honorary Secretary, acting for the Committee of General Management, shall furnish an annual account of the Receipts and Disbursements of this Fund to the Adjutant-General, Bengal; in view to its being published in General Orders by the Commander-in-Chief in India.

Non-alteration of Rules.

Rule 18th.—That no General Rule or Regulation of this Fund shall be altered, except it is recommended by the General Committee, and approved by a majority of the subscribers.

Rule 19th.—That all widows of Officers, who were subscribers to the Fund up to date of departure from India, shall be entitled to the amount granted to widows and children for passage money to England if their husbands had provided their own passages, and died en-route to England or during their absence on sick certificate at the Cape of Good Hope, the Mauritius or Australia; but in cases where their late husbands were found in passages by the State, then such widows and children will be entitled to four months' maintenance allowance only, according to the scale laid down in Rule 21.

Special Grants.

Rule 20th.—That no special grant, in cases of great distress (not provided for by the Regulations of the Fund), shall be passed by the Committee of General Management without the sanction of the majority of subscribers, which sanction is to be declared in the General Abstract of Accounts published annually for the information of Subscribers.

Rule 21st.—When an officer dies in India, his widow will be entitled to maintenance allowance, according to the following scale, for three months, from date of decease of her husband if in India, together with passage money; and to four months' maintenance allowance without passage money, if she is out of India, provided in the latter case that her husband was a subscriber at the married rate at date of his decease:

To the widow of an officer, who paid a subscription on Rs. 750 a month or upwards, per mensem	Rs. 600
Of an officer, who paid on Rs. 400 and upwards, per mensem	„ 400
Of all others „	„ 300

Travelling allowance in India.

Rule 22nd.—In addition to the above a travelling allowance on the scale below, will be made to widows to the port of embarkation or place of residence in India, as the case may be. In certain exceptional instances, where the rates will not meet the expenses of the journey, the Committee assembled under Rules 9 and 10 should record in their Proceedings the actual cost of the journey, and the amount they recommended for incidental expenses; each case so specially recommended will be dealt with on its own merits, and the Committee of General Management reserve to themselves the power of rejecting any proposed deviation from the ordinary course, and will also, if the expenses of any journey appear to have been over-estimated, reduce the same to any limit which may appear to them fair and reasonable.

Annas 8	per mile for	Dâk travelling.
„ 8	„	Palkee do.
„ 3	„	Railway do.

Children above 10 years to be calculated as a full fare; below that age, a half fare.

Passage money.

Rule 23rd.—The same amount of sea passage money shall be allowed to all widows without reference to the rank of the deceased husband, and the passage money of a widow shall be.....Rs. 1,500
For each child above 12 years of age..... „ 500
For each child under 12 years of age..... „ 300

But this allowance is not claimable unless the widow and children embark within two years from the decease of the husband, and provided also she continues in the state of widowhood.

Travelling expenses in England.

Rule 24th.—The following shall be the scale of award for all widows to defray the expenses of their journey in England to their homes, the amount to be paid to them by the Honorary Secretary as laid down in Rule 12, at the rate of 2*s.* per Rupee.

	s.	d.
For every widow per mile	0	6	When the journey can be accomplished by Railway.
For every child above 12 years of age	0	6
For every child under 12 years of age	0	3
For every widow	1	0	When the journey cannot be performed by Railway or for any portion of it, that cannot be so performed.
For every child above 12 years of age	1	0
For every child under 12 years of age	0	6

Rule 25th.—Any claims on the Fund will however be paid in full, only in the cases of officers who have joined the Fund for three full months. In the event of a subscriber dying within that period, the case will be specially considered by the Committee of General Management at Simla.

Rule 26th.—On the submission by a widow, of a certificate by a Medical Officer, that she is prevented by the ill-health of herself or her children from leaving India within the three months for which maintenance allowance is in the first instance granted, or that the state of her health is such as to prevent her travelling with safety during the hot or rainy seasons, i. e., between the 1st April and 15th October, the General Committee, if the three months are exceeded, may sanction an additional grant to the extent of two months' detention allowance on the scale sanctioned in Rule 21, proportionate to the interval which will elapse before the journey can be commenced; but in no case shall a widow receive more than five months' maintenance allowance in the aggregate from the Fund.

Detention allowance.

Rule 27th.—In Madras and Bombay, the period at which journeys can be undertaken, and the grant of awards are to be specially considered by the Sub-Committees on the principles above declared.

Rule 28th.—Any lady intending to reside in the East Indies, shall be allowed to draw travelling allowance to the place of intended residence, under Rule 22, and four months' maintenance allowance, as per scale in Rule 21, in full of all demands on the Fund.

Rule 29th.—On and from the date of these rules any officer of Her Majesty's British Forces, joining the Queen's Military Widows' Fund and eventually entering the Staff Corps, cannot continue as a subscriber after date of entering that corps permanently, though this ruling will not affect officers of the Staff Corps at present borne on the list of subscribers.

N.B.—Marriage Donations when the Husband's age exceeds that of his Wife by more than eight years, will be regulated by a Disparity Scale which became a rule from the 1st March 1844.

N.B.—The Donation on Marriage is always double the Total Entrance Donation paid by a Subscriber as Bachelor, and upon his entering each Class after Marriage, he pays a Donation on promotion double the amount of the Donation of an unmarried Subscriber of his own Class.

All Donations required from Officers subscribing according to length of service, are to be paid by twenty-five regular and equal monthly instalments unless adjusted at once or by earlier payments.

Lieutenant-Colonels of the Madras Staff Corps can subscribe as Colonels on completing the qualifying service of 32 years. Application should be made to the Examiner, Military Fund Accounts, within 3 months of completing the required service.

Donation on promotion by Widowers with offspring is payable as unmarried—Vide Despatch, dated India Office, 7th June, 1867, No. 218.

Lieutenant-Colonels and Lieutenants of the Artillery and Engineers while receiving only the pay and allowances of Majors and 2nd Lieutenants respectively, are required to subscribe to the Fund as such—Pensions to their Widows being regulated accordingly. Officers so circumstanced have, however, the option of subscribing according to their actual rank if they wish it.

In addition to the above, a monthly subscription of 1 Rupee or 2*s.* 3*d.*, is to be paid for each son under 21 years of age, and for each daughter until marriage or death, during the life of the father. Subscription for daughters for whom the Donation of Rupees 200 may not have been duly paid, to cease after the age of 21 years. Subscribers are consequently required to report to the Secretary dates of birth and decease of all children.

Subscribers in receipt of Indian Pay and Allowances, are required to subscribe at the Indian rates.—(Vide Minutes, 6th March, 1856.)

Officers proceeding to sea, the Cape or the Colonies, on Sick Certificate, under the Regulations of 1854, shall be liable to Indian rate of subscription only for the first six months of leave, during which they draw Indian pay. (Vide Minutes, 15th November 1860).

Those proceeding under the Regulations of 1868, pay Europe rate of subscription from date of embarkation.

In all cases subscriptions to the Fund are payable in advance.

Donations fall due from date of promotion and payable by the regulated instalments from the month succeeding that in which a Subscriber is promoted.

Discount of 10 per cent. is allowed on all Donations that may be paid up within thirty days from the date it is incurred.

Marriages must be reported by a Subscriber giving the date of the occurrence, with dates of his own and wife's birth and Christian names of the latter.

Births of children should be reported as they occur—and to secure to daughters continuance of Annuity until marriage or death, a Subscriber is required within ten days from date of birth to notify his intention to pay the Donation of 200 Rupees to secure the advantage; or will have to pay the amount agreeably to Table H, according to the age of the child.

Subscription of one Rupee a month is payable for all children from the 1st of the month succeeding birth—and ceases from the month succeeding decease—which occurrence should be reported.

Personal Benefits.—A Subscriber of whatever rank proceeding to Europe on sick certificate, is entitled to Rupees 200 for his equipment; if married, in addition thereto, Rupees 200 for wife, and Rupees 100 for each child accompanying him.

Passage Money.—A Subscriber of the rank of a Captain proceeding to Europe is entitled to passage money Rupees 1,400 minus the regulated deductions, viz., 1 per cent. on account of Loans, Insurance.

Subscribers on return to India if not provided with a passage by Government, are entitled to the following amounts subject to the regulated deductions:—

To a Captain.....£110 | To a Subaltern.....£95

Captains of Artillery, Engineers and Infantry and all Subalterns, are allowed Income Allowance for a period of 2½ years for their families as follows:—

For wife, per annum.....£ 20 0 0
" each child, per annum..... " 10 0 0
In no case is such allowance for a whole family to exceed " 48 15 0

Retired married Subscribers are only entitled to Annuities to their families.

* All Chaplains now subscribe as Majors by Resolution of the Directors of the Fund contained in Minutes of 18th July 1861.

Annuities are paid to Widows of Subscribers and their Children as per following Table:—

Loans.

ART. 58. Loans are granted by the Fund to Subscribers in India who have been eight years and upwards in the Fund, under the following Rules and restrictions:—

1st. To a Subscriber proceeding from India to Europe (or America) on sick certificate, and not receiving a passage, or passage money, from Government nor from the Fund—a loan of the amount of passage money, fixed in the following Table—and, under similar circumstances, equipment allowance in like manner—to be repaid, with interest, in full, in 25 monthly instalments, commencing from time of his return to India.

2nd. To a Subscriber paying as married, so proceeding on sick certificate, for his wife, and for each child, accompanying him, a loan of the amount of passage money and equipment allowance, as fixed in the following Table reduced under Rule 4—to be repaid, with interest, in full (besides any loan granted for his own passage, &c.), in 25 monthly instalments, commencing from the time of his return to India; or if still a Subaltern, from the time of his becoming a Regimental Captain, whichever he may prefer.

3rd. To a Subscriber paying as married, requiring to send his wife and children, or either of them, from India to Europe, or elsewhere—or to bring them out to join him in India—a loan of the amount of passage money for each person so proceeding, as fixed in the following Table and Rules—to be repaid with interest in full, in 25 monthly instalments, commencing from the pay next received after the loan.

Table of Passage Money and Equipment Allowance.

Borrowing Subscriber's Rank.	Passage Money.			Equipment Allowance.
	To a Subscriber proceeding to Europe.	To Wife or Adult Child of a Subscriber to or from Europe (or America.)	To Infant Child of a Subscriber to or from Europe (or America.)	To each Adult to Europe.	To each Infant to Europe.
	Rupees.	Rupees.	Rupees.	Rupees.	Rupees.
Field Officer or Chaplain.....	1,500	1,500	600	200	100
Captain or Asst. Chaplain.....	1,400	1,400	600	200	100
Subaltern.....	1,200	1,200	600	200	100

The term Adult means each person above 15 years of age.
The term Infant means each person under 15 years of age.

4th. When two or more persons of the same family are proceeding together, full Passage money is allowed only to one person, and to each other person only half; viz., a Captain with his wife, and one child, are proceeding together to Europe: he could only be allowed as Passage Money Rupees 1,400+700+300=2,400 Rupees. This reduction equally applies if the Subscriber receives his full Passage Money from Government or from the Fund.

5th. When proceeding from, or to, India, to or from any other part of the world than Europe or America, two-thirds Passage Money only is allowed.

6th. The following limits are fixed for the various ranks of Subscribers, beyond which no Loan can be granted under any circumstances, viz.:—

Field Officers and Chaplains.....Rupees 5,000
Captains and Assistant Chaplains..... " 4,000
Subalterns..... " 2,500

7th. The rate of interest on all Loans is fixed at 9 per cent. per annum, or 12 Annas per month for each 100 Rupees; this must in all cases be regularly paid up, whether in Europe, India, or elsewhere, as the Subscriber draws his pay until the principal is repaid.

8th. Repayment of principal must be made in the prescribed number of monthly instalments, of equal amount (besides interest), commencing from the time prescribed by Rule, and continued regularly each successive month until the whole is repaid.

9th. Should the Subscriber die while in debt to the Fund on account of any Loan, the amount so due and its interest shall in the first place be recoverable from the claims of his widow or children, as prescribed in Table D of the Regulations.

10th. In addition to the recoveries to be made whenever practicable, from the Annuities to families of deceased Subscribers, who die in debt to the Fund on account of Loan, a levy of 1 per cent. will be made, on the issue of all personal benefits to Subscribers, to meet every loss that may result from dispensing with Securities when Loans are taken.

11th. No fresh Loan can be granted to any Subscriber while any former Loan, or any part of such, remains unrepaid.

12th. No Loan is allowable to any Subscriber while absent from India; nor to any Subscriber of less than 8 years' standing in the Fund.

13th. In applying for a Loan the Subscriber must forward his Declaration on honor, signed in the presence of two attesting Officers or Gentlemen, specifying distinctly the purpose for which it is required and engaging to refund immediately the whole, or any part, of the Loan which may not be appropriated to such purpose.

14th. Previous to receiving the amount of a Loan the Subscriber must furnish to the Secretary his personal Bond and irrevocable order on the Paymaster, signed in the presence of two attesting Officers, or Gentlemen; irrevocably engaging to repay it as prescribed by these Rules, and authorizing the recovery of the instalments, interest, &c., by stoppages from his pay abstract.

ART. 59. Whenever interest is chargeable under the regulations on sums receivable or payable by the Fund, it is to be calculated at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, unless otherwise specially provided for in the Regulations.

No. 507 OF 1875.

The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished :—

SIMLA, THE 19TH JULY, 1875, No. 728.—With reference to G. G. O., No. 1315,* dated the 28th December, 1872, the following letter from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, received on this date, is published for general information :—

* Republished in G. G. O., No. 560 of 1873.†

† Madras G. O. G., 29th July, 1875, No. 507.

FINANCIAL ; MILITARY FUND, No. 328 ; INDIA OFFICE, LONDON, 24TH JUNE, 1875.

To His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

1.—The case of an officer exchanging into the Staff Corps from the British Army not having been provided for in the regulations of the Indian Service Family Pension Fund, a reference was made to Major-General Hannyngton on the subject, and it appears from a calculation made by that officer that the ordinary donations for wives and sons will be sufficient to provide for the pensions allowed by the rules, but that the extra donations specified in the table in the margin must be charged in the case of daughters according to their age at the date of their admission to the fund.

4 „ 5	104	10 „ 11	120
5 „ 6	112	11 „ 12	120
6 „ 7	115

2. Extra donations for daughters must accordingly be paid by any officer who has exchanged into the Staff Corps since the 1st January, 1873, and the table in question should be added to the regulations of the fund from the date of the receipt of this despatch.

I have, &c., (Signed) SALISBURY.

N.B.—If the report of a marriage, or of the birth of a child be not made within one month of the occurrence, the donation payable in each case will be increased 2½ per cent. and interest thereon charged from the date of marriage or birth of the child. After six months delay, donations will be increased 5 per cent. and interest charged in the usual manner.

In the event of the report of a marriage or the birth of a child not being made by a subscriber during his life-time, in accordance with the rules, the widow or child will not be entitled to any benefits.

The donations shown in columns 4 and 9 may be paid at once or by twelve equa monthly instalments.

When the sums required to secure the Maximum or Minimum pension in the Widows' Branch shown in columns 7 and 8 are paid on joining the initial donations above referred to are not demanded as that amount is included in the amount required to secure the Maximum and Minimum pensions.

Increased payments in one sum are required from persons joining the Funds after the age of 40, and no person can be admitted or transferred to a higher class after the age of 55 years; delay in joining after being admitted by the Committee necessitates a fresh medical certificate being submitted. Subscriptions in the Children's Branch commence from the date of application to subscribe for the child, and continue until the age at which pensions terminate. Transfers from a lower to a higher class are permitted (on production of the prescribed medical certificate) on payment in one sum of difference of donation and of subscription according to age. Subscribers to the Children's Branch must also belong to the Widows' Branch.

The pension in the Children's Branch is secured as soon as entrance donation is paid in full. In the Widows' Branch Maximum and Minimum pensions are respectively secured when the total payments in that branch amount to the sums specified in the foregoing table, see columns 7 and 8, irrespective of that paid for admission after 40 years of age. Subscribers are allowed at any time, on furnishing a medical certificate in the prescribed form, to pay in one sum, or by such instalments as they may find convenient, the difference required to entitle their Widows to immediate pension.

Pensioners may reside at any station or in any country they choose. Widows remarrying, lose pension during coverture, but revert to the Fund on again becoming Widows. They also receive a portion of a second pension if the second husband also had been a subscriber at the time of his death. Pension is forfeited by incontinence. No pension is paid to Widows and Orphans of Subscribers who die with six months' subscription in arrears, and Subscribers' names are struck off the books when twelve months in arrears. Subscriptions due for a period exceeding three months are not received unless accompanied by a Medical Certificate, and a sum equal to the amount due as a penalty.

Further particulars if required may be had on application to the undersigned. One Anna postage stamp must accompany the application.

PAY MASTERS—PAY AND ALLOWANCES.

G. O. G. No. 929 of 26th November 1878.—The following General Order by the Government of India, dated 9th November 1878, is republished, with reference to G. O. G., No. 353 of 1866, No. 407 of 1868, and No. 663 of 1876 :—

ARMY PAY DEPARTMENT.

No. 1084.—In modification of G. G. Orders No. 765 of 1866, No. 969 of 1868, and No. 1086 of 1876, the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council is pleased to lay down the following rules regulating the rank, pay and Indian allowances of Paymasters of the Army Pay Department serving in India :—

Army Pay Department.	Pay and Indian allowances exclusive of horse allowance per mensem. RS. A. P.
Paymaster on appointment	476 4 0
After five years' service as such	506 11 0
After ten years' service as such	537 2 0
* Staff Paymasters will not eventually be attached to regiments serving in India. * Staff Paymaster on appointment	850 8 0
After five years' service as such	880 15 0

NOTE.—When attached to Cavalry regiments, horse allowance, in addition to the above rates, will be passed to Paymasters at Rupees 90, and to Staff Paymasters at Rupees 120 per mensem.

The present rate of office allowance, viz., Rupees 78-10-8 and Rupees 65-5-5 per mensem for Infantry and Cavalry regiments, respectively, will be continued for all Paymasters and Staff Paymasters.

2. Regimental Paymasters who may not be appointed to the Army Pay Department will continue in all respects under present regulations.

3. The ranks of the officers of the Army Pay Department are as follows :—

Staff Paymaster. | Paymaster.

Their honorary rank is that of Major and Captain, respectively, and carries with it all precedence and advantages attaching to the military rank with which it corresponds.

4. Leave of absence may, when the public service permits, be granted to officers of the Army Pay Department attached to regiments, under the general regulations for privilege and temporary leave, as laid down for officers of British regiments serving in India, on the conditions :—

(a.) That no military inconvenience be caused thereby.

(b.) That the officer shall have rendered all the accounts due from him.

(c.) That the officer before proceeding on leave shall produce the concurrence of the Controller of Military Accounts, and have handed over his accounts and cash balance in an accurate and satisfactory condition in every respect to the officer who is to perform his duties during his absence.

(d.) That he shall have made arrangements satisfactory to the Commanding Officer for the performance of his duties during his absence.

5. In the event of an officer of the Army Pay Department attached to a regiment being absent on sick leave, either in India or to Europe, or proceeding on the same, or being suspended from duty, or placed under arrest, or in the event of his post becoming vacant by death or otherwise, it shall be competent for the Officer Commanding the Regiment, with the approval of the Commander-in-Chief and under instructions from the Adjutant-General, to appoint a Committee of Paymastership to carry on the duties of the Pay Office. Such Committee shall consist of three officers of the regiment, other than the Adjutant or Quartermaster, and the pay of the Committee shall be Rupees 5 a day. The circumstances necessitating the appointment of a Committee shall be immediately reported for the information of Government.

6. It will be competent to a Committee of Paymastership to delegate to one of their number the duty of signing documents on their behalf, but it is to be clearly understood that the members of a Committee are jointly and severally responsible for all its acts.

7. Regimental Paymasters appointed to the Army Pay Department retain all advantages as regards increase of pay for length of service, and the grant of honorary rank while serving and on retirement, to which they may have been entitled under previous orders.

8. All service as Regimental Paymaster at the rate of 22*s.* 6*d.* a day will, on promotion to the rank of Staff Paymaster, count towards increase of pay in that rank.

9. This order is applicable to the three Presidencies, and will have effect from the 1st April 1878.

G. O. G., 22nd August, 1873, No. 217.

The following General Order by the Government of India is re-published :—

SIMLA, 13th August, 1873, No. 859.

With the concurrence of the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to notify that it has been decided to adopt in this country, with some modifications, the War Office Regulations of 1871, for the supervision, management, and discipline of British Army Schools. The following arrangements have accordingly been sanctioned :—

I—Supervision.

1. The Superintendent of Army Schools in each Presidency will be a commissioned officer, with the relative rank of Captain, if he shall not already have attained that rank.

* Vide G. O. G., Nos. 246 and 254, dated 13th and 20th July, 1869, pages 202 and 205.

2. The Superintendents will be appointed by the Government of India, those in Madras and Bombay on the recommendation of the Local Governments.

3. The Superintendents will, in addition to performing the duties laid down in the Army School Regulations, receive and submit indents for school materials, and prepare and submit the annual budget-estimates.

4. In the Bengal Presidency, there will be an Assistant Superintendent of Army Schools to be appointed by the Government of India. He will rank with Sub-Inspector, and receive the same pay and army rank. His duties will be those of assisting the Superintendent in his office.

5. In the Madras and Bombay Presidencies, the Superintendent will receive any assistance required from the Sub-Inspector in whose district the head-quarters of the Superintendent is situated.

6. The Bengal Presidency will be divided into three districts, the Madras and Bombay into two districts each. To each district a Sub-Inspector will be appointed by the Field Marshal Commanding-in-Chief.

7. The Superintendents will be allowed a moderate office establishment, the amount to be fixed with reference to the requirements of each Presidency.

II.—Pay of Officers.

8. The pay of the superintending officers in India will be as follows :—

	RS.
Superintendent of Army Schools, Bengal, on appointment, per mensem	500

13. The above scale will not affect the claims of present incumbents who may be drawing the higher aggregate pay sanctioned by G. G. O., No. 246(d) of 6th March, 1860.

(d) Madras G. O. G., No. 111, dated 20th March, 1860.

14. Schoolmasters arriving from England will not draw Staff pay until they enter upon the duties of their situation.

15. Schoolmasters absent on leave, excepting during the authorized vacations, will not be entitled to Staff pay.

16. A schoolmaster sentenced to dismissal will be sent by the first opportunity to England, where the sentence will be carried into effect by his discharge. In the meantime he will receive full pay as schoolmaster, but without staff allowances from the date of his release from confinement, and the issue of rations to his wife and children will be continued while he is in India. He will be amenable to military discipline, but will not be required to perform any duty.

Acting Schoolmasters.

17. The following pay will be passed to acting schoolmasters :—

	For broken periods, five annas per day.
When the number is 25 and over	Per mensem	15	0	0
	For broken periods, eight annas per day.

This rule applies to single batteries of artillery when so quartered that the adults and children cannot attend a school for which a trained schoolmaster is sanctioned.

Soldier-Assistants.

19. The following pay will be passed to soldier-assistants :—

	RS.	A.	P.
To the senior assistant, per mensem	10	0	0
Or for broken periods, 5 annas per day.
To the remaining assistants, per mensem	6	0	0
Or for broken periods, 3 annas per day.

The number of assistants shall be calculated according to the average daily attendance during the month in which pay is claimed, and they may be appointed in the proportion of one to every 20 pupils attending the adult and grown children's schools. The above applies to all schools for which a schoolmaster or acting schoolmaster is sanctioned, but when there is only one assistant in a Convalescent Depôt, Battery, or detachment, the lower rate (Rs. 6) is to be drawn.

20. The pay of schoolmistresses, pupil teachers, or assistant schoolmistresses and monitresses, is as follows :—

(c) Madras G. O. G., No. 251, dated 18th October, 1872.

21. The pay of an acting schoolmistress to a regiment is Rupees 15 per mensem. This applies to Convalescent Depôts (declared permanent) and detached half battalions.

22. The pay of acting schoolmistresses to detachments is as follows :—

I. When there are twelve girls and infants attending, or 6 girls of age to receive instruction in needlework, Rs. 6 per mensem.

II. When the numbers reach 15 or 10, respectively, Rs. 10 per mensem.

23. A monitress may be appointed when the number of children attending the infant and industrial school exceeds 20; for more than 30 children a second monitress may be appointed.

24. For more than 40 children a pupil teacher or assistant schoolmistress may be appointed in lieu of the second monitress, or a third monitress may be appointed if no pupil teacher or assistant schoolmistress is available; and for every increase of 20 an additional monitress or pupil teacher alternately.

IV.—Leave and Passage of Schoolmistresses.

25. Free passage to Europe are granted to trained army schoolmistresses on duty in India who may be declared by the medical board to be in such a state of ill-health that a return to Europe is absolutely necessary for their recovery; but in all cases when it may be practicable, a change of residence in India should be tried in the first instance. Any army schoolmistress sent on medical certificate to a station in India is allowed her travelling expenses at the authorized rate.

26. Schoolmistresses* absent from their duties on account of certified ill-health will be allowed full pay for a period not exceeding three months, and during that period the salary of an acting schoolmistress will be passed to the person performing the duties of the absent schoolmistress. This rule is applicable to those acting schoolmistresses whom, under the operation of General Order, No. 139† of 1871, it is not intended to relieve.

27. Should a schoolmistress, who may have been granted sick leave for three months, be recommended for an extension, the case will be reported for the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, in each Presidency.

28. During the extended leave, a schoolmistress will receive half her pay.

29. The whole period of absence will not be permitted to exceed six months, after which she will be placed on the unemployed list, from which date her pay will cease.

V.—Payment for Tuition.

30. The following classes are admitted to regimental schools free :—

Non-commissioned officers and men of the British army, children and orphans of the regimental, garrison, or departmental officers, of warrant officers, of non-commissioned officers and soldiers, including staff sergeants and drummers of European parentage attached to native regiments and Government departments, of warders of Military prisons, and of pensioners. Children such as above, not belonging to a regiment or artillery brigade quartered in the station where they are residing, will be admitted to any military school on application to the officer commanding.

31. The children of European and Eurasian residents at the station may be admitted to regimental schools at the discretion of the officer commanding, on payment of Rs. 2-8 monthly for each child.

32. Broken periods of a month will be paid for at the rate of two annas for each day's attendance.

VI.—Hospital Stoppages.

33. The hospital stoppages in India will be three annas for a schoolmaster, and two annas for a schoolmistress.

VII.—Medical Treatment.

34. In all cases the children of army schoolmistresses are entitled to medical treatment in military hospitals.

VIII.—Bedding and Rations.

35. All schoolmistresses, whether they are the wives of schoolmasters or soldiers, serving in India or not, shall be on the same footing as regards bedding and rations for themselves and half rations for their children. Pupil teachers will be allowed half rations.

G. O. G. G., No. 1,305 of 27th December, 1872.

IX.—Infant and Industrial Schools.

36. A grant of one rupee twelve annas will be made annually for each child not under four years of age, attending an industrial school. The grant to be reckoned on the average attendance during the preceding year, and to be expended in the purchase of materials for instruction.

* See General Order by the Commander-in-Chief, No. 87 of 24th March, 1873.

X.—Allowances.

37. Sub-Inspectors will, when travelling on duty, ordinarily be provided with a free passage warrant for themselves, servant and baggage, as granted to officers of relative rank, and will be entitled to a detention allowance of Rupees 5 a day when detained on duty in stations. When not provided with conveyance at the public expense, they will be entitled to draw eight annas a mile when travelling by road, and three annas a mile by rail.

38. Schoolmasters, when travelling on duty without troops, to join their regiments, or to visit detachment schools, will be granted one rupee twelve annas daily in addition to the actual and necessary expenses of travelling by railway or by road, and this amount will be passed for the period during which the Indian staff allowance is not drawn.

39. Schoolmasters and schoolmistresses in India are entitled to the conveyance of the following weights of baggage :—

	Schoolmasters.		Schoolmistresses.
	Maunds.	Seers.	Maunds.	Seers.

Married schoolmistresses moving without troops	.....	.....	8	16
Unmarried, moving without troops	5	24	5	24

40. A schoolmaster transferred from one station to another with or without troops, will be allowed the actual expense for conveyance of his wife (not being a trained schoolmistress) and family, in cases in which a free passage warrant has not been given, the cost not to exceed 2 annas per mile by road, and 9 pie by rail.

41. On all practicable occasions it will be the duty of schoolmasters to apply to the station authorities for free passage warrants before incurring expense on account of travelling.

XI.—Quarters.

42. Schoolmasters serving in India are entitled to quarters and tents, as allowed to non-commissioned officers of their relative ranks. When not provided with quarters or tents, an allowance of Rupees 15 per mensem will be given in lieu. If provided with quarters of a decidedly inferior description, they will be entitled, as compensation, to the difference between the amount of rent fixed for them and the value of the quarters assigned. The amount of compensation to be decided as in the case of commissioned officers.

A schoolmistress, not being the wife of a trained schoolmaster attached to the same corps, is allowed quarters or compensation on the same footing as a schoolmaster.

XII.—Regulations for Army Schools.

43. Further instructions regarding the discipline of schools, their arrangements, the supply, custody and management of school property, and the appointment, promotion, privileges, &c., of officers and subordinates, will be issued under the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India.

SUBORDINATE MEDICAL ESTABLISHMENT.

The consolidated monthly rates of pay will be :—

The foregoing allowance to medical pupils includes ration money.

Hospital Assistants will draw as field batta—those of the 1st class Rupees 10, and the rest Rupees 5 per mensem, when marching or in the field. On foreign service 50 per cent. additional on pay. When on general or sick leave, they will forfeit one-fourth of their salaries.

FORT WILLIAM, the 22nd January, 1868.

No. 69 of 1868.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council has the satisfaction to notify that Her Majesty's Government have sanctioned a revised and enhanced scale of pay and allowances, Staff and Furlough pay, retiring for the several warrant grades in Her Majesty's Indian Army.

2. The following are the rates which will have effect from the 1st instant :—

PAY AND ALLOWANCES AND STAFF PAY.

3. All Warrant Officers will receive a monthly net "warrant pay" according to rank which, with a monthly sum as "warrant allowances" intended as a full equivalent for batta, tentage and house-rent will together constitute the monthly "warrant pay and allowances."

4. When in effective employ in the Ordnance, Commissariat, or any Department where no other special departmental Staff or consolidated salary is allowed, they will receive in addition to the warrant pay and allowance a warrant Staff pay according to grade.

5. When a Warrant Officer is out of employ owing to no fault or seeking on his part, or if he resigns his appointment with the full approval of Government, he will, whilst so unemployed, be entitled to his "warrant pay and allowances."

6. When put out of employ for misconduct or incapacity, or if he resigns his appointment without, in the opinion of Government, sufficient grounds for so doing, he will only be entitled to his net "warrant pay." In particular cases, however, he may be allowed, as a maximum, the invalid scale of pay of his rank, but only with the special sanction of Government.

7. The following are the monthly rates of pay and allowances for the several grades :—

GRADES.	Net or Warrant Pay.	Indian Warrant Allowances.	Total Warrant Pay and Allowances.	Staff Pay when effective, and not receiving departmental Staff or consolidated Pay.	Total receipts when in effective employ.
	RS.	RS.	RS.	RS.	RS.

Conductor	50	50	100	60	160
Sub-Conductor	40	40	80	45	125

8. For broken periods the daily pay and allowances will be calculated at one-thirtieth of the monthly pay.

9. The extra Staff allowance of Rupees 60 and Rupees 30 to permanent Conductors of the 1st and 2nd class, will continue to be paid as heretofore in the Ordnance Department.

10. Warrant Officers in receipt of the effective Staff pay will, when on leave, be subject to reduction on the same principle as that applied to Commissioned Officers.

No. 688 of 1881.—The following General Order by the Government of India, dated 16th September 1881, is republished :—

No. 514.—WARRANT OFFICERS—

Under the authority of the Secretary of State for India, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following revised scale of pensions for warrant officers of Her Majesty's Indian Army, to take effect from the 1st September 1881.

2. The distinction between the invalid pension, which can be drawn only in India, and the retiring pension, will be abolished.

3. The periods of service entitling warrant officers to retiring pensions will be as follows :—

24 years' total service in Europe and India, including 16 years in the department.

26 years' total service in Europe and India, including 14 years in the department.

28 years' total service in Europe and India, including 12 years in the department.

Deputy Assistant Commissary ..	54	50
Conductor	43	42
Sub-Conductor..	32	30

If he has not served 14 years altogether, his case will be specially considered.

8. Retirement will be compulsory at the age of 55 years : and all warrant officers of that age now in the service will be required to retire at the expiration of one year from the date of this order.

9. All warrant officers at present on the establishment will be allowed the option of electing the old or the new scale of pensions at any time previous to retirement.

10. Pensions, according to the present scale and conditions, is admissible to the widow of a warrant officer who may die, either while in the service or on the Pension establishment, provided, in the latter case, that she married the deceased warrant officer previous to his retiring from the army or being invalided.

G. O. G., 13th June, 1874, No. 146.—The following General Order by the Government of India is re-published :—

FORT WILLIAM, 5th June, 1874.

No. 585 of 1874.—The following additions and corrections of G. G. O., No. 171,* dated 25th February, 1874, are notified for general information. Order books to be corrected accordingly :—

To paragraph 1 add the following note—

"NOTE.—The advantages granted by the furlough rules of 1854 to officers who obtain furlough on medical certificate are not applicable to any officers of the British service whose regiments, battalions, brigades or batteries arrived in India after the date of the Passage Warrant of 1865, and neither those rules nor the furlough rules of 1868 are, as respects furlough on private affairs, applicable to British officers serving with their regiments or employed with a five years' tenure in staff situations (see para. 4)."

"But officers of the late Indian Army who hold permanent appointments under the Governments of India, and who may have elected to abide by the furlough rules of 1854, in preference to those of 1868, of course retain their election."

2. For the 3rd clause of paragraph 5 substitute the following as Clauses 3 and 4 :

Pay allowed them during furlough.

§ 3. Such officers will be allowed an advance of passage money, or free passage in a troop ship if proceeding in the trooping season, the advance to be refunded on receipt of the balance of furlough pay. The English rate of pay of their rank only will be passed to them during their leave ; but at its conclusion, on their presenting an order for them to return to India, the difference between that rate and furlough pay, less the passage money they have received, will be paid to them in England conditionally on its refund if the order to return to India is not carried out.

§ 4. Those Royal Engineer officers who arrived in India before the 1st July, 1872, are, however, not subject to the provisions of the preceding clause as long as they do not exchange Indian for home service, but draw furlough pay during furlough as others.

3. After clause 4 of the same paragraph (para. 5) add the following :—

A British officer vacating appointment becomes, on re-employment, again eligible to these rules.

§ 5. An Officer of the British service holding permanent staff employ under the Government who may proceed on furlough under circumstances which involve the forfeiture of his appointment, must obtain the furlough as a British regimental officer, and it will reckon as a portion of the aggregate eight years of furlough on pay to which an officer is restricted during his service by Rule XVI. But, on again becoming permanently employed, he resumes the right of obtaining furlough under these rules.

4. Instead of the concluding sentence of Clause I of Rule XXII, following the words "if he possess one," read—

"The aggregate staff salary granted to the acting officer in such cases will not be less than Rs. 100 per mensem unless the full staff salary of the post in which he is officiating is less than that sum."

5. At the end of Rule XXII, insert the following note :—

NOTE.—The indulgence granted by § 1 of this rule is only allowed to one directly officiating in the place of the officer absent on furlough, not to one acting in the room of an officer who is himself acting for an absentee on furlough.

G. O. G., 3rd October, 1874, No. 254.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is re-published :—

FORT WILLIAM, 21st September, 1874.

No. 912 of 1874.—In continuation of previous orders on the subject, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased, with the sanction of the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, to decide that the invalid and retiring pensions admissible to Warrant Officers while in India and in England shall be as follows :—

I. Warrant officers invalided in India, after completion of the full or half periods of service laid down in paragraph 15 of G. G. O., No. 69† of 1868, are entitled(a) while in India to the full invalid pension of their rank. If subsequently desirous of returning to England, those invalided after completing full periods of service will, from date of embarkation, be allowed the full retiring pension of their rank, whilst those invalided after having served half the periods in question will be restricted from date of embarkation to four-fifths of the retiring pension of their rank, as prescribed in G.G.O., No. 549* of 1868, for Warrant Officers invalided while on leave in England.

II.—Warrant officers invalided in India before they have served half the periods prescribed will only be allowed the invalid pension of the grades next below their own, and will, if desirous of returning to England, be entitled from date of embarkation to four-fifths of the retiring pensions of those grades.

General Order by His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor-General of India in Council in the Military Department.

FORT WILLIAM, the 17th April, 1860.

No. 406 of 1860.—The Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India has decided that all Warrant Officers, after twenty-one years' service, who are not entitled to the advantages of the grade on account of insufficient service in the Department, shall be allowed the pension of the rank next below that of Sub-Conductor, viz., that of Serjeant-Major, being (2) two shillings and (6) six pence per diem, or (45) forty-five pounds (12) twelve shillings and (6) six pence per annum, provided that the last five years of service shall have been in a rank superior to that of Serjeant.

III.—Warrant Officers retiring (not invalided) in England or India with insufficient service to enable them to retire on the pension of their grade, will be dealt with under the provisions of G. G. O., No. 406 of 1860, a copy of which is marginally transcribed for facility of reference.

IV.—Warrant Officers proceeding to England after being pensioned in India will be provided with the passage money of their rank or free passage under existing rules, but it must be distinctly understood that those who proceed to England after being invalided will have no claim to be re-admitted to the invalid or Indian pension of their rank in the event of their returning to India.

The rates of pension of those Warrrant Officers whose unfitness for active service may be caused by their own conduct or habits, will be those laid down in G. G. O., No. 598,† dated 7th June 1870.

Warrant Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers not performing Regimental duty are charged Civil rates for their wives and families.—G. O. C. C., 26th September 1870, No. 1224.

Except in the case of the families of Government servants, ten days' payment to be made in advance on admission, and repeated every tenth day.

Out-patients are seen every morning between 7 and 9 o'clock, at the Egmore Dispensary.

There is no establishment at this Institution for procuring Wet Nurses. When assistance is required in procuring Amahs, a sum of 2 rupees should be sent with the application to cover cost of cooly and carriage hire.

A class, consisting of a limited number of European and East Indian female pupils for instruction in practical Midwifery, exists at this Institution by permission of Government, European and East Indian Candidates are required to pass through a course of training in Sick Nursing at other Hospitals previous to entry at this Institution. At the end of six months, they will be examined when qualified, receive a Nurse Certificate.

The Midwifery pupils are resident in Hospital and are allowed to remain under instruction for a period not exceeding nine months, when, if found by examination competent to practice as Midwives, they are presented with a Diploma.

Pupils receive an allowance of 15 Rupees per mensem as ration money for a period of 6 months only in the Sick Nurse Class, and for 6 months only in the Midwifery Class.

Candidates should furnish, with a written application for admission as a pupil, testimonials of character, and state her age, condition, residence, previous experience in nursing, &c., and whether European or East Indian.

A class also exists for training Native pupils in Midwifery. Women of the Barber caste are preferred.

Rules for the entertainment and instruction of Midwifery Pupils at the Lying-in Hospital.

The following regulations will apply whenever candidates may be admitted, under special circumstances, to the class of Midwifery Pupils at the Lying-in Hospital, who have not passed through a preliminary course of training and passed the prescribed examination for Sick Nurses :—

I. The period of residence in hospital shall not be less than 12 months or more than 15 months. If a pupil be unable to qualify both as a Sick Nurse and as a Midwife at the end of that time, she will be liable to dismissal as incompetent to qualify. The first six months of residence will, as a rule, be devoted by pupils to the study and practice of Sick Nursing, and the remainder of the time to the study and practice of Midwifery.

II. Candidates should, if married or widows, be not less than 20 or more than 35 years of age, and if single, not under 25 years of age.

III. Candidates must apply for admission to the Superintendent of the Lying-in Hospital on Wednesdays or Fridays, or by letter, and information must be given on the following points :—

Condition.—Whether married, widowed, or single.
Age, &c.—Date of Birth, where born, and present address.
Race.—Whether European, Eurasian, or Native.
State of health.—Age of youngest child, if any.

IV. European and Eurasian Candidates must possess the following qualifications :—

a. Ability to read fluently and explain the meaning of a passage of not less than twenty lines in any standard work.
b. Ability to write to dictation a passage of not less than fifteen lines from any standard work.
c. Ability to converse freely and describe any common object or occurrence.
d. Testimonials of moral character and respectability.

V. The names of candidates who pass a fair examination and are otherwise eligible, will be recorded in a register at the Lying-in Hospital, from which selections will be made, for entertainment as pupils, from time to time, as vacancies occur.

More than three errors will be held to disqualify a candidate for three months, but at the end of that time she may again be examined.

VI. The examination of candidates at Madras will be conducted at the Lying-in Hospital, and up-country by the Senior Medical Officer of the Station. In the latter case the dictation paper, with report on the other subjects of examination, on her appearance and intelligence, and on the probability of her being able to qualify as a Midwife, will be sent to the Superintendent of the Lying-in Hospital for registration.

VII. A Candidate cannot be entertained as a Midwifery pupil while pregnant or suckling, but her name may be registered for admission to the class at a future time. No child is permitted to reside in the quarters of the Midwifery Pupils.

VIII. The Pupils will reside in the hospital compound, and will occupy furnished quarters.

IX. The entire control of the Pupils is vested in the Superintendent. Disobedience of orders, or of the rules of the institution, and misconduct of any kind will be punished according to the gravity of the offence by extra duty, suspension, or dismissal.

X. When it appears to the Superintendent that a Pupil after a fair trial is not likely to qualify as an efficient Midwife, she will be allowed the option of resigning.

OFFICE AND DUTIES OF OFFICIAL TRUSTEES OF MADRAS.

It is hereby notified that the following Rules have been made by the Honorable the Chief Justice of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature at Madras, under the power given by Act No. XVII of 1864, entitled "An Act to constitute an office of Official Trustee."

[General Rules for the guidance and Government of the office and duties of Official Trustee of Madras.]

I. The Official Trustee appointed under Act XVII of 1864, shall forthwith give security for the due execution of his office, in the sum of Rupees 50,000 in one or other of the modes following, viz., by the joint and several bond or bonds of himself and two or more approved sureties in the sum of Rupees 50,000; or by the deposit of Government securities for that amount; or partly by the deposit of Government securities and partly by the bond or bonds of himself and two or more approved sureties. Every such bond shall be entered into with the Chief Justice for the time being by his name of office, and his successors in the said Office, or the Judge who shall at any time be performing the duties of Chief Justice.

II. The like security shall be given by every person who may be appointed to officiate in the absence of an Official Trustee under Section 7 of the Act.

III. The Official Trustee shall, with due diligence, cause all capital moneys and trust funds received by or vesting in him to be invested by Government securities, unless otherwise ordered by the Court or provided by the deed or will creating the trust.

IV. Whenever owing to doubts or disputes as to the person or persons beneficially entitled, or for any other cause, there shall remain in the hands of the Official Trustee a cash balance of Rupees 500 belonging to any trust estate, he shall without delay invest the same in Government securities.

V. The Official Trustee shall procure all Government and other securities which may be issued or given to him on account of any trust estate, and every transfer of the same, whether by endorsement or otherwise, to be made in his name of office.

VI. The Official Trustee shall not at any time retain in his keeping a larger sum in cash than Rupees 300. All sums received by him shall from time to time be lodged in the Bank of Madras to credit of a separate and distinct account to be kept by him as Official Trustee with the said Bank and shall be drawn against when necessary in his name of Office.

VII. All Government Securities and Bank, Railway, or other Shares coming into the possession of the Official Trustee shall forthwith be lodged by him in his name of office as Official Trustee with the Bank of Madras and there kept for safe custody, except when it may be necessary for the Official Trustee to retain such securities or shares for a temporary purpose.

VIII. The Official Trustee shall make remittances on account of persons in Europe to the Treasury at the India Office by Government Bills at the rate of exchange settled for the re-payment of advances made in India.

IX. The Official Trustee shall keep the following books of account:—

1. A Day Book in which every transaction shall be entered as it occurs.
2. A Receipt Book containing skeleton forms of receipts with counterfoils numbered consecutively in print. These forms shall be used for all receipts given for cash and Government or other securities.
3. A Cash Book to be balanced monthly.
4. A Ledger which shall contain a separate account with each trust estate, showing a detailed debt and credit of items, and also an account with the Bank of Madras. The dates of receipts and payments and the number of the voucher for each payment, as well as the amounts of Government and other securities and of the cash transactions, shall appear in separate columns, and each account in the Ledger shall be balanced on the 31st of December in every year.
5. A Commission Book showing the sums received and invested on account of each trust estate with the amount of commission payable to the Official Trustee.
6. A Book containing entries of all payments made by the Official Trustee, to the Bank of Madras on account of sums remitted through the India Office to persons resident in Europe.
7. A book in which shall be entered a copy of all accounts delivered from the Office of the Official Trustee.
8. A book in which shall be entered the particulars of all Government Securities, Bank Shares and other securities deposited in the Bank of Madras or forwarded for renewal, or which may be in the possession of the Official Trustee.

X. Any person seeking to inspect the books and accounts of the Official Trustee, or to inspect and make copies or extracts of his annual schedules filed in the High Court, must apply for an order of the Chief Justice through the Judge's Clerk, and such application shall be by a short petition, stating the particular trust estate in which the applicant is interested; the nature of his interest; and the ground upon which he makes the application.

XI. The foregoing Rules, excepting Rules I and II, shall apply to the Official Trustee appointed under Act XVII of 1843, in the execution of the trusts continuing vested in him.

January 9th, 1865. C. H. SCOTLAND.

INSOLVENT DEBTORS' COURT.

Chief Clerk.....J. STEAVENSON, Esq., B.A.....Appointed 1878.
Official Assignee.....F. ROWLANDSON, Esq..... " 25th Dec., 1880.

Rules and Orders of the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors at Madras.

ORDO CURIÆ, 22ND DECEMBER, 1848.

The Rules and Orders now in force for regulating the Proceedings of the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors shall be, and the same are, hereby repealed on and after the 1st day of January, 1849; and the following Rules and Orders are hereby made for regulating the Proceedings of the said Court on and after the 1st day of January, 1849.

I.—All Summonses, Precepts, Rules, Orders and other Process to be issued by the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors at Madras shall be prepared, made out, and signed by the Principal Officer of the said Court, who shall be called the Chief Clerk; and all Petitions, Affidavits, and other Proceedings shall be filed by the said Chief Clerk of Record. The Office of the said Chief Clerk shall be open every Monday and Thursday between the hours of ten in the forenoon and four in the afternoon, and on such other days and at such hours as the Court shall hereafter direct; and the Office of the Official Assignee shall be open every day (Sundays and Public Holidays excepted) from twelve till two.

II.—In every case the Attorney shall personally, and not by his Clerk or any other Person, accept the retainer of a Prisoner, and the Prisoner shall sign the retainer, and at the same time the Attorney shall sign his acceptance thereof: Provided that in case of the illness of such Attorney or of his absence from Madras such retainer may be received and accepted for him by some other Attorney of the Court personally, the cause thereof being stated in such acceptance.

III.—The Attorney of every Prisoner, and all opposing Creditors whose costs are ordered to be paid by the Insolvent or out of the Insolvent's estate, and all other Persons requiring their Bills of Costs to be taxed, shall cause their respective Bills to be taxed by the Master of the Supreme Court.

IV.—No Attorney shall directly or indirectly employ the Gaoler, Deputy Gaoler, or any Prisoner, or other Person confined or residing within the said Gaol, as Clerk or Agent to solicit retainers or to transact any business whatever relating to proceedings in the said Court touching the relief or discharge of any Prisoner, and no Attorney shall continue to practise in the said Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors whilst he shall himself be a Prisoner.

V.—In all cases there shall be filed with the Petition a Certificate from the Gaoler of the day or days and cause or causes of detainer against the Prisoner.

VI.—The Chief Clerk, upon the filing in his Office of the Schedule of the debts and effects of any Insolvent Debtor in custody, shall forthwith cause a copy of such parts thereof as contain the particulars of the Insolvent's estate and effects and of the debts stated to be owing to him to be made out and delivered to the Official Assignee.

VII.—Notice of the filing of every Petition and Schedule and of every adjudication of an act of Insolvency, where an adjudication has been pronounced, and of the time and place appointed for the hearing of the matters of the Insolvency, and that an order has been made by the Court for vesting the estate and effects of such Insolvent in the Official Assignee—Per Ord. Cur., 9th September, 1853—shall be given to Creditors and Persons claiming to be Creditors, whether such debts are admitted or disputed in the Schedule, in the following manner:—

In cases where the Creditors or Persons claiming to be Creditors are resident within the local limits of Madras, such notice shall be served personally upon such Creditors or Persons claiming to be Creditors and also upon the Attorney of every detaining Creditor suing by Attorney twenty-one days at least before the day of hearing. In cases where the Creditors or Persons claiming to be Creditors reside beyond those limits in any part of the territories of the East India Company, such notice shall be sent by the ordinary post. And in all cases notice to the like effect shall be published in two successive numbers of the Fort St. George Gazette, which shall be published next after the making of the vesting order of the appointment of the day for hearing.—Per Ord. Cur., 9th September, 1853—unless in any case the Court shall otherwise direct. All Affidavits of the service of such notices as are required by Rule VII, shall be prepared and left with Chief Clerk one week before the day of hearing—Ord. Cur., 24th March, 1849.

VIII.—Where a vesting order of the estate of a Prisoner has been made on the Petition of a Creditor, notice thereof, together with an order to file a Schedule, shall forthwith be given to such Prisoner by service of a copy of the same, and delivery to the Gaoler shall be deemed good service of such notice and order upon the Prisoner in such case.

IX.—The appearance at the hearing of any Creditor or other Person entitled to notice shall be deemed a waiver by him, her, or them, of such notice when there shall have been none, or of any defect or irregularity in the form or service thereof, unless the Court shall otherwise direct.

X.—The proof of notices published in the Gazette of the Presidency shall be by the production of the said Gazette without other proof, and the proof of other notices shall be ordinarily by Affidavit unless the Court shall think fit to call for viva voce testimony, in which case the deposition of the witness shall be taken in writing by the Chief Clerk of the Court.

XI.—No Creditor shall be allowed at the hearing to oppose the discharge of a Prisoner, unless he shall have served the Prisoner with notice of his intention to oppose him, stating in such notice the specific grounds of his opposition three clear days before the day of hearing, and also shall have left a like notice at the Office of the Chief Clerk before the day of hearing: Provided always that the Court in its discretion may allow other grounds of opposition to be gone into.—Per Ord. Cur., 9th September, 1853.

XII.—At the hearing, the examination of the Prisoner by the Court shall be taken down in writing by the Chief Clerk, and shall be signed by the Prisoner and filed in Court.

XIII.—In all cases of opposition to the discharge of an Insolvent, where the Insolvent's Petition shall be dismissed, the Court shall, if it think fit, order the costs of the opposing Creditor or Creditors to be paid by the Insolvent.

XIV.—The Official Assignee shall be entitled to five per cent. Commission on the principal sum forming the proceeds of each estate distributable as dividends; and if such Commission shall not produce Rupees Two Hundred in any one month, his remuneration shall be made up to this amount by taking the sum required for that purpose out of the interest of the Government Securities in which his collections are invested.—Ord. Cur., 4th May, 1849. —Ord. Cur., 5th October, 1855. This rule now stands as originally printed and passed on 22nd December, 1848.

XV.—The Official Assignee, and every person who shall hereafter be appointed to that office, previously to his admission thereto, shall give good and sufficient security by Bond to the Chief Justice for the payment of such sum of money as the Court shall direct with two or more able sureties to be approved by the Master; which Bond shall be conditioned for his duly accounting for and administering all estates committed to his charge as Official Assignee, and the same shall be deposited with and kept by the Accountant-General, subject to the order of the Court.

XVI.—The Official Assignee shall proceed with diligence to collect and get in the estate and effects of insolvent persons committed to his charge, and shall pay in or deposit the same in the Honorable Company's Treasury with the privity of the Accountant-General, retaining in his hands from time to time such sums only as may be necessary for immediate purposes: Provided nevertheless that the Official Assignee shall at no time retain in his hands a larger sum than Two Thousand Rupees on the whole without the order of the Court.

XVII.—Whenever it shall become necessary for the Official Assignee to obtain any Money, Bonds, or other Securities out of the Honorable Company's Treasury for the purpose of distributing the same amongst the creditors entitled thereto, the mode of obtaining such Money, Bonds and Securities, shall be by order of the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, signed by the Chief Clerk, and countersigned by one of the Judges, for the payment and delivery of the said Money, Bonds and Securities to the Official Assignee, which order shall be by him presented to the Accountant-General and Treasurer in the same manner as any order of the Supreme Court of Madras for the payment out of the Treasury of Money, Effects, or Securities of the suitors of the Supreme Court under order of the said Court.

XVIII.—The Official Assignee shall enter into a book to be kept by him for that purpose separate and distinct accounts of each estate under his charge and of all such sums of Money, Bonds and other Securities for Money, Goods, Effects, and Things as shall come to his hands or to the hands of any person employed by him, or in trust for him as such Official Assignee, and likewise of all payments made by him for and on account of the said estates, specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively.

XIX.—The Official Assignee shall twice in every year, that is, on the 1st day of January and the 1st day of July, or on the 1st day after those days on which the Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors shall be sitting, exhibit and deliver in open Court a true and perfect Schedule of all sums of Money, Bonds, and other Securities received on account of each estate remaining under his charge, together with the payments made thereout during the preceding half-year, and the balances; and also of all estates wherein dividends shall have been ordered to be paid and shall have been paid over to persons entitled to the same during the preceding half-year, specifying the amount of such dividends; which Schedule shall, on and after the 1st day of January, 1849, be in the form following:—

Part 1st.—Containing the particulars of all estates committed to his charge since the period of exhibiting his last preceding Schedule.

Part 2nd.—Containing the particulars of all estates committed to his charge prior to such last-mentioned period, on account of which he shall have received any Money, Bonds, or other Securities subsequently to such last-mentioned period.

Part 3rd.—Containing all estates wherein dividends shall have been paid over to the parties entitled thereto since the period of exhibiting his last preceding Schedule, specifying the amount paid and the amount remaining unpaid.

XX.—Previous to the Official Assignee exhibiting and delivering in open Court his Schedule in pursuance of the preceding Rule, he shall lay the same, together with the Accounts of each estate and the Vouchers relating thereto, before the Master, in order that such Schedule may be examined and the several Vouchers compared with the Accounts of the estates therein described.

XXI.—In all cases where the Courts shall direct that the estate and effects of any Insolvent shall be received by the Official Assignee and any Special Assignee, or Assignees, jointly, all Moneys, Jewels, and Securities for Money belonging to each estate shall within seven days after the receipt thereof be paid or delivered and be kept in deposit in the Bank of Madras; and no part thereof shall be withdrawn therefrom but upon the order in writing of all such Assignees, or of any two of them, of whom the Official Assignee shall be one.

XXII.—The Chief Clerk shall, immediately after the hearing of any Insolvent upon his Petition, and after adjudication of the Court thereon, deliver over to the Official Assignee the Schedule of the Insolvent, which shall be thereafter kept in the Office of the Official Assignee. Provided that, if the Schedule be required by the Chief Clerk for any temporary purpose, it shall be delivered out to him as often as may be necessary, and shall be restored to the custody of the Official Assignee as soon as such purpose has been fulfilled.

(Signed) EDWARD J. GAMBIER,
(„) W. W. BURTON.

Additional Rules for regulating the Proceedings in the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors at Madras, made and passed by the Supreme Court of Judicature there and read in Court on the 9th day of September, 1853.

That henceforth the following Rule be substituted for Rule VII:—

Notice of the filing of every Petition and Schedule and of every adjudication of an act of Insolvency where an adjudication has been pronounced and of the time and place appointed for the hearing of the matters of the Insolvency and that an order has been made by the Court for vesting the estate and effects of such Insolvent in the Official Assignee shall be given to Creditors and Persons claiming to be Creditors whether such debts are admitted or disputed in the Schedule in the following manner. In cases where the Creditors or Persons claiming to be Creditors are resident within the local limits of Madras, such notice shall be served personally upon such Creditors or Persons claiming to be Creditors and also upon the Attorney of any detaining Creditor suing by Attorney twenty-one days at least before the day of hearing. In cases where the Creditors or Persons claiming to be Creditors reside beyond those limits in any part of the territories of the East India Company, such notice shall be sent by the ordinary post And in all cases notice to the like effect shall be published in two successive numbers of the Fort St. George Gazette which shall be published next after the making of the vesting order or of the appointment of the day for hearing, unless in any case the Court shall otherwise direct.

Proviso to be added to Rule XI. Provided always that the Court in its discretion may allow other grounds of opposition to be gone into.

XXIII.—That every Insolvent shall file with his Schedule a general Balance Sheet of his receipts and expenditure, which account shall in no case commence later than twelve Calendar months before the filing of the Schedule. But if at any time subsequent to the date of the earliest debt in the Schedule any property shall have gone from the Insolvent by sale, assignment, mortgage, distress, execution, or by any means other than the ordinary course of trade or living, the account shall commence so as to include all such transactions, and every Insolvent shall also state in the said general Balance Sheet the cause of his present insolvency and the amount of debts, if any, still due by him under any prior insolvency.

XXIV.—That no dividend shall be reserved for any disputed claim or debt that shall not have been substantiated before or at the sitting of the Court at which the dividend shall be declared, unless the Court shall direct such reservation to be made.

XXV.—That the Court in its discretion, and if it thinks fit to award any costs, may do so against, or to any Assignee, any Insolvent finally discharged, any Petitioner for revocation of adjudication, any Creditor or any Person interested in an Insolvent estate applying, opposing, or appearing on any application, and either out of the estate or out of the private monies of any such Person or Party, and may direct to what amount, how, when and in what manner, and by whom the same shall be paid, recovered, or retained.

XXVI.—That the Official Assignee shall be at liberty to apply to the Supreme Court or to the Insolvent Court to permit him to proceed in Equity or at Law, or in the Ecclesiastical, or Admiralty Jurisdiction, or to defend any suit or action, or take or defend any proceedings without the payment of any fees of office to the Officers of the Supreme Court or Insolvent Court in respect of any demand, claim, or right against or belonging to any Insolvent estate, wherein no assets have been received, and wherein there are no assets expected or recoverable except such as shall be the subject of such suit or action: Provided always that such fees shall be a primary charge on and payable out of the assets recovered therein.

TABLE OF FEES.—From and after this date the folio in the Table of Fees shall be deemed to consist of 90 words instead of 72, and all charges by the folio shall be made at the rate of 5 Annas per folio instead of 8 Annas as heretofore.
