FORM No. 7.

To

CAPTAIN

Ship

Dated

SIR,

I BEG to inform you that I have examined and passed the samples of provisions, &c., for the use of the cooly emigrants about to proceed to in the ship under your command. In receiving the stores and arranging for their survey, I have to request your careful attention to the following—

Instructions.

1. The bulk of the provisions will be examined, and may, if necessary, be compared with the samples; therefore the whole must be kept above hatches until the survey is over.

2. All stores received on board for emigrants must be carefully weighed, and the number of packages correctly counted and noted. Excepting the vegetables, which must be carefully slung up under shelter (but not out of sight), all the stores must be arranged between-decks according to the order in which they stand in the provision list, three copies of which are herewith supplied.

3. Each package must be distinctly marked with its net contents; and to facilitate calculation, the bags, casks, tins, cases, &c., in which each separate kind of article is packed, must be of uniform size, at least for that article.

4. The weighing, &c., of these stores is the duty of the officer specially appointed to have charge of them. He must keep a correct account in his copy of the provision list of the quantity and number of stores shipped. This is important, and must be carefully done.

5. In weighing rice, dhall, choorah (avil), gram, flour, sugar, &c., the average weight of a few bags may be taken as a guide; but fish, hay, and all the vegetables must be weighed carefully throughout, as the weight of the bags, baskets, &c., is not sufficiently uniform to give a correct average.

6. All articles of a kind should be kept together, in order that they may be easily examined and counted.

7. Preserved meats, soups, and milk in tins, candles, brandy, port wine, &c., if in original cases, may be exposed in their cases, but if not in original cases, they must be sorted in tens on the platforms; and bags of rice, &c., must be arranged in tiers, five deep, so that all may be easily counted.

8. Iron cooking pots and wash-deck tubs must be kept filled with water to ascertain whether they leak, and arranged on deck for inspection.

9. You should ascertain that the water tanks properly cleaned and white-washed, continue in good order, and where casks are used, that they are properly cleaned before they are filled, and that none leak.

10. The blanks in the accompanying three copies of the provision list will have to be correctly and neatly filled up with the quantities according to scale; after which, when you are satisfied that the proper quantities and qualities of stores, including the sheep, &c., have all been carefully weighed, counted and in good order on board, and that the fittings, ventilation, hospital arrangements, medical stores, &c., are thoroughly complete, and all ready for survey, two copies of the enclosed list duly filled up, dated and signed by you and the officer in charge of the stores, must be returned to this office with your application for final survey, and such application, with the lists, must be forwarded at least one day previous to that on which the survey is desired.

11. During the final survey no other work is to be carried on in the between-decks, and the officer who weighed the stores, assisted by the carpenter, sail-maker, and one or two of the crew, should be in attendance, so that cases and bags may be opened, examined, and closed, in order that the survey may be methodically and speedily conducted.

12. In conclusion, the most serious disorder, loss of time and inconvenience are occasioned when the officers of the Emigration Department are called upon to hold surveys on imperfect fittings, or insufficient or inferior stores. I desire, therefore, to draw your particular attention to this point, and to request that you will be so good as to see that everything is really, as it should be, thoroughly ready for survey at the appointed time.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Protector of Emigrants, Bombay.

One-fifth on the 1st November 1875.

Payment of any instalment except the first, will be accepted before the due date, but not before the 1st July next. Interest upon the amount of each instalment paid before the 1st November next, will be paid in advance, from the date when such instalment is received, to the 31st October next.

7. Payment may be made to the account of the Government in one of the Presidency Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or into any Government treasury or treasuries in India that may be named in the tenders.

This deposit of one per centum will be considered as in part payment of the last instalment; it will be forfeited if the allotment is not fully taken up. A cash deposit may, after allotment, be exchanged for a Government Promissory Note.

9. Scrip receipts for instalments paid, will be given by the Presidency Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or by the officers in charge of the Government treasuries at which payment is made. These receipts will be exchanged for Promissory Notes, as soon as possible.

10. The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and declared before any tender is opened. The rate stated in a tender must not contain a fraction of an anna; if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

11. Tenders at the declared minimum rate, and at rates above the declared minimum, will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rates. The amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted, will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate, in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders.

POLICE.

The 4th June 1875.

No. 154.—The provisions of Act VIII. of 1870 (for the prevention of the murder of female infants) having been made applicable to the Pachadeh Jats in the villages of the Moradabad District detailed in the subjoined list, by the Notification of the Government of the North-Western Provinces, No. 65A, dated the 11th ultimo, the following rules made by that Government in exercise of the power conferred on it by Section 2 of the said Act, and confirmed by the Governor General in Council, are hereby published for general information:—

Rules for the suppression of Female Infanticide.

I.—A nominal Register (A) of all proclaimed families shall be drawn up by the Police under the orders of the Magistrate of the district. In this register recognized heads of families or masters of separate households shall be entered as the heads of families, and every member of the family habitually resident in the village shall be entered by name. All persons under twelve shall be entered as children, except married female children living with their husbands, who shall, for the purposes of these Rules, be deemed to be adult females.

II.—All villages in which the proportion of female children to children on a proclaimed population of not less than 25 children, is less than 25 per cent., shall be called "specially guilty" villages, and shall also be entered in a separate Register (B), which shall be called the "Private register of proclaimed families in specially guilty villages." This register shall not be open to inspection except by the officers of the district.

III.—The person who is registered as the head of a proclaimed family shall report immediately the occurrence of every birth and death, and the illness of any female child in his family to the chaukidar of the village. He shall also produce all children in his family for the inspection of a Police Officer visiting the village when required to produce them.

IV.—Every midwife knowing of, or having reason to believe in, the occurrence in a proclaimed family in the village in which she resides of a birth, or of the illness of a new-born child, shall at once report the fact to the chaukidar of the village. And if the village is one entered in Register B, she shall also report the occurrence of a pregnancy.

V.—If in a given time after proclamation [to be determined for each village or locality by the Local Government] the proportion of female children in a village entered in Register B does not rise to more than 25 per cent., the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that every person registered as the head of a proclaimed family in that village shall be personally bound to report to the officer in charge of the Police Station every pregnancy in his family at some period before the seventh month.

VI.—The chaukidar of the village shall immediately report to the officer in charge of the Police Station the occurrence of a birth, whether male or female, in a proclaimed family; the death of a female infant under six months old; the illness of a female child; and the removal of a pregnant woman to another village. He shall also report, on the occasion of his periodical visit to the Police Station, other deaths, removals and arrivals; and pregnancies reported to him if the village is entered in Register B.

VII.—The zemindars of the villages shall give assistance to the Police in drawing up Register A, and in obtaining information regarding all births, marriages, and deaths occurring, or about to occur, among proclaimed families.

VIII.—All expenses incurred in working the system sanctioned by Act VIII of 1870 shall be borne by the proclaimed clans and families, and shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue; provided that, when the percentage of female children to children of any proclaimed class in any village exceeds forty, such class shall be exempted from any share in such expenses, unless in the opinion of the Magistrate there be other grounds of suspicion.

IX.—Where the crime is so prevalent, and the number of the proclaimed villages so great, that the ordinary establishment of the district cannot cope successfully with it, the Local Government may, at its discretion, appoint a force of special Police for the purpose of carrying out measures of prevention and detection. All expenses incurred for the payment of such Police, or under Rule VIII, may be met by a rate leviable, under the orders of the Local Government, from the heads of families entered in the nominal register of proclaimed persons. Such rate will ordinarily be imposed so as to fall more heavily on specially guilty than on guilty families; but the amount of the rate to be levied will be fixed in every case by the special orders of the Local Government.

X.—No proclaimed village or family shall be exempted from the operation of these Rules except by the order of the Local Government, or in virtue of authority to that effect vested by Government in any officer. A village or family so exempted will then be struck out of Register A, and the erasure initialled by the Magistrate of the District, or by the District Superintendent of Police.

No. 574 of 1875.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication for general information of the following correspondence regarding the operations recently carried out in the Naga Hills in consequence of an attack made by Nagas on one of the Survey parties employed in those Hills:—

Field Operations.

No. 2289, dated Quartermaster General's Office, Simla, the 18th May 1875.

From—MAJOR-GENERAL F. S. ROBERTS, C.B., V.C., R.A., Quartermaster General,

To—COL. H. K. BURNE, Secretary to the Government of India, Military Dept.

I am directed by the Commander-in-Chief in India to forward, for submission to the Government of India in the Military Department, a letter* from Brigadier-General Stafford, C. B., commanding Eastern Frontier District, transmitting a report by Colonel Nuttall, 44th Assam Light Infantry, to whom was entrusted the command of the small column which operated in the Naga Hills.

* No. 457, dated 5th May 1875, with annexures in original—return solicited.

2. The severe trials endured by the troops from the inclemency of the weather and in overcoming the physical difficulties presented by high precipitous hills and rapid torrents; and the skilful and spirited manner in which the enemy were driven from their formidable defences, will doubtless meet with the approval of His Excellency the Governor General in Council.

3. The Commander-in-Chief would invite attention to the excellent conduct of the troops, and to the names of the officers, Military, Departmental, and Civil, whom Colonel Nuttall notices as having, by their zeal and energy, enabled him to carry out his well-arranged plan of operations.

Dated Debrugarh, the 16th April 1875.

From—COLONEL J. M. NUTTALL, C. B., Commanding Naga Field Force,

To—MAJOR-GENL. F. S. ROBERTS, C.B., V.C., R.A., Quartermaster General, Army Head-Quarters, Simla.

I HAVE the honor, agreeably to the instructions contained in your telegram of the 12th instant, to submit, for the information of the Right Honorable the Commander-in-Chief, the following detailed report of my late operations in the Naga Hills.

2. On the 23rd February 1875, I received intimation that the Detachments of the 42nd and 44th Regiments of Native Infantry, employed with the Duffla Field Force, were coming up by steamers to form the force to be employed against the Nagas concerned in the massacre of Lieutenant Holcombe and his Survey party on the 2nd February 1875. At the same time, I was informed that I was nominated to the Command of this Field Force. Late in the afternoon of the same day, the Prince Albert steamer, with the Isla and Ganges flats in tow, arrived with the detachments above mentioned, and a large supply of commissariat stores on board.

3. By employing strong detachments of the 42nd and 44th Regiments, the whole of the stores were landed about 2 P. M. the next day, and the whole of the Force had marched up to the cantonments, about 7 miles from the Ghât, by 5 P. M. on the same day; on this day (24th) I received a letter from the personal Assistant to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, containing certain instructions regarding the political conduct of the expedition.

4. On the 25th February the Transport Corps, 500 strong, arrived at the Debrugarh Ghât, and the next morning (the 26th) marched into cantonments.

5. On the 26th, Captain Butler, Political Agent, Naga Hills, who had been appointed Political Officer to the Force, rode into Debrugarh in order to consult with the Chief Commissioner of Assam and myself, and returned to Jaipur the following day.

6. On the 27th, the Naga Field Force, consisting of about 308 of all ranks, marched from Debrugarh en route for Borwasali, which place it reached on the morning of the 1st March, the distance being about 51 miles. The Transport Corps which I had halted at Tipling Ghât on the Dehing River, as they appeared to have felt the first march of 18 miles, did not arrive at Borwasali till the 2nd.

7. On the 2nd, accompanied by Major Heathcote, Assistant, Quartermaster General to the force, and a small guard, I pushed on to Bor Mutun to join Captain Butler, who had preceded me there according to previous arrangement.

8. I found that the distance between Borwasali and Bor Mutun, instead of being 10, as I was led to believe, was fully 15 miles. For 2½ miles the road passes through the plains, but at a place called Hulwa, it reaches the foot of the hills. Between Hulwa and Bor Mutun there is a range of hills on which the village of Kulun Mutun is situated, and over which the path runs. The highest part of the road is 1,900 feet above the sea. After passing the range of Kulun Mutun, the road again descends to the foot of the Bor Mutun hill (2,650 feet above the sea), which it ascends by a very steep gradient.

9. Establishing a store-house at Hulwa and a resting-place for the Transport Corps at Kulun Mutun, about half-way between Hulwa and Bor Mutun, I began working stores up to the latter place, intending to make it my principal depôt. From the 3rd to the 12th March, not only the Transport Corps, but every available cooly, Naga, Cossyah, Kookie, Assamese, &c., was pressed into the service, and by the 12th, the whole of the available Naga Field Force, including the Transport Corps, were assembled at Bor Mutun with 17 days' provisions in Camp.

10. The following were the arrangements I made for the protection of my line of communication between Jaipur and Bor Mutun, when I advanced on the 13th March. At Jaipur I left a guard of 1 Native officer and 27 men. At Borwasali and Hulwa (reserve depôts, where my reserve ammunition and reserve supplies were stored) I left Major Tulloch in Command. The former post was held by a guard of 1 Native Officer and 30 men, and the latter by 1 Havildar, 1 Naick, and 8 Sepoys. At Kulun Mutun, I left 1 Havildar, 1 Naick, and 10 Sepoys, and at Bor Mutun the strength of the guard left behind consisted of 1 Native Officer and 30 men. All four posts were stockaded.

11. These precautions, taken to secure our communications against any possible treachery on the part of the powerful tribes we left in our rear, the remainder of the Force marched for Bor Bansang on the 13th March, but before leaving Bor Mutun, agreeably to the instructions given me by the Chief Commissioner of Assam, and taking into consideration the almost unprecedented features of treachery, ferocity and cruelty, exhibited by the Nagas in the massacre of the 2nd February, and also bearing in mind the fact that many of the men in camp, sepoys, coolies and others, had been present when it was perpetrated, and that amongst the latter there were many whose habits and customs inculcated revenge of any sort, as a virtue, I thought it advisable to issue a field force order regarding the treatment of the women and children of the enemy, in fact all who from age or sex were unable to resist, as also to interdict any mutilation of the dead, and this order I have the honor to append to this report. I am happy to state that the result has been that no instance has been brought to my notice or to that of the Political Officer with the force, of the slightest infringement of this order; indeed, the discipline of the troops and coolies has been such that not only has this order been unbroken, but not one complaint has been brought forward by the hundreds of friendly Nagas who at various times frequented our camp, bringing provisions, or assisting in carrying our commissariat stores from place to place, and on one occasion when the village of Nion was taken, some of the Nagas attached to the Political Officer's party as scouts so thoroughly understood our feelings on this point that having found a little girl in the deserted village, they brought her safely to Captain Butler, who took care that she should rejoin her tribe after we left.

12. On leaving Bor Mutun the force descended by a very steep road to the Tesing River, over which an excellent trestle bridge had been thrown by Lieutenant Abbott, and a party of the 42nd Native Infantry. From the bed of the Tesing, which is about 850 feet above the sea, we ascended by a succession of ridges to the village of Bor Bansang, 3,780 feet above the river.

13. At Bor Bansang, I left a Native Officer and 30 men of the 42nd stockaded, and on the 14th March pushed on to Senwa.

14. The country through which we passed on this and on most of the marches we made in the Naga hills was thickly populated for a hilly country. Every advantageous hill summit had its village, most of them strongly stockaded, and panjied on the sides liable to attack. Almost all the houses were very large and commodious, and the rooms were raised off the ground on posts. The Chief's house at Kamhna was 200 feet in length. The land, too, in the neighbourhood of the villages was in many places admirably cultivated, whole hill sides having been cleared of every scrap of jungle, except the stumps of a few trees. The principal crops grown by the Nagas are rice and kuchoos: the latter, a species of arum, is very extensively cultivated, and forms the staple food amongst the Nagas of these hills.

15. On approaching Senwa, about noon of the 14th, it was evident that though well-stockaded and holding a very strong natural position, the men of this village did not wish to fight. Refusing, however, to parley with them, the Raja was sent for, and after a little delay he came down the hill. He was at once called on to name the five or six men of his village who were concerned in the massacre of the 2nd February 1875, which he at once did, and his evidence has since proved to be perfectly correct. I then with the advanced guard of the 44th and followed by the main body of that regiment advanced up the hill towards the stockades, ordering Colonel Sherriff with his detachment of the 42nd to turn the whole position by a road running round the base of the hill, and entering the village by the south. The result of this manœuvre would have been most decisive if the Nagas had fired a shot, or whilst anxiously engaged watching the 44th clambering over the stockades, and climbing the northern slopes of the steep ridges on which Senwa is built, the 42nd Regiment came in on their rear most unexpectedly when they fled in every direction.

16. On the 15th March the places of refuge of three of the men implicated in the massacre were discovered by our Native scouts, and the men brought into camp and placed under a guard. The same day three rifles and Lieutenant Holcombe's gun were given up.

17. On the 16th March, having warned the Raja that he must secure the remaining three men of his village implicated and be ready to hand them over to us on our return from Ninú, I marched from Senwa towards that place, leaving a guard of 80 men of the 42nd under Lieutenant Abbott to overawe that large village, and furnish escorts for bringing up supplies for the force from Bor Bansang and also for sending them on to Ninú.

18. On arriving on the banks of the Disang river, which has to be crossed by a ford before ascending the ridge on which Ninú is built, we found the river swollen and impassable. Two of the 44th Native Infantry and three of Captain Butler's police swam the river, and one raft was brought over, but the second was swept away by the current, and as the river rose rapidly, it was impossible to get any more over. Every effort to get a rope across the river or to fell a sufficiently large tree to bridge the stream failed, and I regret to say that one of the men who had crossed (Sepoy Dhunbeer Rai) was drowned in attempting to return in spite of every effort to save him. The names of these gallant volunteers were—Havildar Heema Chund and Sepoy Dhunbeer Rai, 44th Native Infantry, also Head Constable Dhon Sing and Constables Kunthai Ram and Sikaidas of the Naga Hill Police; and I feel confident it will not be thought out of place in my naming them in this despatch, as though one of them is beyond the reach of any praise of mine, I would perpetuate as far as lies in my power the act of gallantry he died in performing.

19. Late in the evening the force returned to Senwa. But the next morning a strong working party was sent down which proceeded under the superintendence of Lieutenant Woodthorpe, R. E. (who had kindly offered me his services), to the rivers, and commenced at once throwing a trestle bridge across at a point higher up the river than the spot tried on the day and where the stream was about 210 feet wide, which bridge was so far advanced by the evening of the 17th, that I marched the whole available force down to the river on the morning of the 18th, and the work was so vigorously pushed on that day, that at 4 P. M. communication was opened with the opposite bank. During the construction of the bridge the enemy commenced firing on the working parties from the right bank of the river, but their fire was at once silenced, and I believe with some loss to them, by a party of our skirmishers which opened fire from an advantageous position on our bank of the river.

20. The bridge having been completed by 7 A. M. on the morning of the 19th, I marched the whole force across the river at 7-30 A. M., and advanced on Ninú. Two roads lead to Ninú from the river—the one entering the village from the west and the other from the north. These roads traverse two ridges, divided by a deep ravine. I directed Colonel Sherriff with the 42nd to take the road to the right (the western one), and with the remainder of the column I took the road to the left, directing the baggage to follow, protected by a strong guard. The combined strength of the two columns was 261 of all ranks. About noon we neared Ninú, and could see flames issuing from a few houses forming a lower village, which had evidently been set on fire by the enemy to retard our approach. During our advance we perceived numbers of armed men on the hill sides near the village of Lonkai, which lay on our left flank, but separated from us by a very deep ravine. When close to Ninú the column of the 42nd could be perceived on the other ridge advancing so as to close the western route to the enemy. Pushing on with the advanced guard of the 44th under Lieutenant Macgregor, and accompanied by Major Heathcote and Captain Butler, with a few of his police, and closely followed by the main body of the 44th under Lieutenant-Colonel Cory, we came on a stockade thrown across the road when within short range of us the enemy opened fire; but their shots were aimed too high and passed over our heads, and the stockade was taken at once, the Nagas retiring to the upper village. Seeing that the enemy were in strength at the top of a steep ascent directly in front of us, I detached two parties to the left, directing them to take advantage of the cover afforded by the jungle around, and endeavour to gain the rear of the village by making a detour to the east; so that when the defences were forced in front, they might be on the direct line of retreat of the enemy. On arriving with the advanced guard at the foot of the very steep ascent leading to the upper village, we could perceive a very strong stockade thrown across the road. The whole ground around was also panjied in every direction, and here several of our men and one European officer got wounded. But the Nagas would not stand to meet us, and finding that their fire did not check the advance for a moment, they evacuated the stockade as we neared it, and at once retreated southwards through the upper village which was now on fire, the roads to the west being barred to them by the 42nd Native Infantry. Had they stood for a very short time, the flanking parties would have got in their rear and caused them very heavy loss. As it was, they were pursued by a portion of the force for four miles to a village called Nisa, also concerned in the massacre of the 2nd February; and here again the enemy set fire to the village to retard the approach of our forces. Having left Colonel Sherriff with a portion of the force at Ninú, I pushed through the burning village with Lieutenant-Colonel Cory, Lieutenant Macgregor, and 80 men to Nisa, where I joined Major Heathcote and Captain Butler, who had arrived with the flankers and some of the advanced guard. We bivouacked for the night in a few huts that had escaped the general conflagration of this village. I append a list of our casualties up to the 27th of March; most of the men therein mentioned were wounded on this day. With regard to the loss of the enemy I cannot speak positively, as it is a custom with them to carry off their dead and wounded at any sacrifice, and owing to the thick cover around and the burning huts, it was difficult to see clearly what was going on in the upper village at the time of attack. But before we left the Naga hills we heard from prisoners and others that the Ninú Nagas had lost many men, killed on the various occasions in which the troops came in contact with them from the 18th to the 31st March.

21. On the 20th I directed Colonel Sherriff to march on Lonkai, which he did with 75 men of all ranks belonging to the 42nd and 44th Regiments Native Infantry. He attacked and burnt the village, which had aided in the massacre of the 2nd of February, and in which were found proofs of the participation of the villagers in that tragedy. The same day Captain Butler with a party of his own police, strengthened by some men of the 44th Native Infantry, proceeded in one direction to pursue the Ninú fugitives into their fastnesses in the forest, whilst I with another party of about 50 men, and accompanied by Lieutenant-Colonel Cory and Major Heathcote, took another. Captain Butler's party discovered several of their places of refuge, and the detachment which I accompanied came upon a large temporary village of several hundred houses which had evidently been constructed as a place of refuge till our force retired, the houses containing large quantities of grain, household impliments, &c. A number of pigs, goats, fowls, &c., were also found in the village. The Nagas lost several men this day, and many articles belonging to Lieutenant Holcombe's party were recovered.

22. On the morning of the 21st, leaving a strong guard at Nisa, I marched with the remainder of the force encamped there towards Khamna, which consists of two villages, Upper and Lower Khamna, amongst the most powerful in that part of the country and situated about 10 miles south of Nisa. The force consisted of 162 men of all ranks. The road from Nisa descends 2,150 feet into a valley through which runs a branch of the Disang or Dillé river. Owing to the heavy rains that had lately fallen, we found the stream a swollen, impetuous torrent, and the ford very deep and difficult, the water being above the men's waists. The force, however, at once commenced the passage, and though several of the officers and men were nearly swept away, no serious accident occurred. Leaving a guard of 30 men at the ford with orders to make a thick bamboo rope and stretch it across the stream to assist the men on their return, the column commenced the ascent of the ridge on which the villages were situated, the upper 2,600 feet above the ford and 4,600 above the sea. When the column arrived within about a mile of the lower village a large party of Nagas were seen close to a strong stockade which crossed the whole breadth of the ridge. Taking advantage of a rise in the ground about the middle of the ridge, I detached a party to turn their left flank, whilst I attacked in front. They would not however stand, but fled as we approached, and being followed, lost several men, killed and wounded. Near the village there was another stockade much stronger than the first, but this they also abandoned. On searching the village many proofs were obtained of the inhabitants' participation in the massacre, many articles belonging to the Survey party being found in the huts. Having burnt both villages, the force returned to Nisa for the night, the rear guard not getting back till 8 P. M. I believe the Khamna Nagas would have made a stouter defence, but were somewhat unprepared, not thinking we could cross the river in its swollen state.

23. On the same day a detachment of 46 men of all ranks under Lieutenant Ridgeway took the village of Kamoi, which was found dismantled and unstockaded. This village was also implicated in the massacre of the 2nd February, and here again proofs of the guilt of the villagers were found.

24. On the 22nd detachments of from 15 to 20 men under British and Native Officers were despatched in every direction, both from Ninú and Nisa, to scour the country and attack the Nagas of the villages implicated. Several Nagas were killed and wounded by these detachments, and small temporary villages with stores of grain found in the jungles and on the mountain peaks were destroyed.

25. On the 23rd the same tactics were followed and with equal success.

26. On the 24th Lieutenant-Colonel Cory with 60 men of all ranks was sent back to Kambna, where he was bivouacked for the night, and destroyed several stores of grain. He brought back with him the next morning a Naga who was recognised by a Sepoy of the party as having taken an active part in the massacre, having wounded the Sepoy himself. This man is now in the Debrogurh Jail.

27. On the same day the remainder of the force were employed in scouring the hills and jungles as on the 22nd and 23rd, and large supplies of grain were found and destroyed.

28. On the 25th Colonel Sherriff again returned to Lonkai, but the Naga scouts gave the alarm, and the village was deserted by the inhabitants, but some live stock was captured and carried off.

29. On the 26th, I marched back to Ninu where the force which took it on the 19th was once more reunited.

30. From the 26th to the 31st March, the force remained at Ninu; detachments scouring the country daily on every side; but by this time the spirit of the enemy was so broken that the Ninu fugitives began sending captured arms and property belonging to the late Lieutenant Holcombe's survey party into camp by means of other tribes, so that including arms that were sent in on the 1st April, 17 stand of arms were restored, and I believe the greater part of the most valuable of the plunder taken on the 2nd February.

31. On the 30th March, hearing that the greater part of the Ninu fighting men had fled to the neighbourhood of Laju, a village far removed from Ninu, I determined to return to Senwa the next day, to complete the work of the campaign by the punishments of Nion, which, although it had not joined with Ninu in the attack on the survey party on the 2nd February, yet had barbarously murdered a few unfortunate coolies who had escaped the massacre, and were trying to make their way to the plains through their country.

32. The force accordingly returned to Senwa on the 31st March, and on the morning of the 1st April I marched with a force of 140 men, including 20 of Captain Butler's police to Nion, which place was attacked between 9 and 10 A. M.; many of the enemy slain, and the force returned to Senwa late in the afternoon. The houses in the village of Nion having been searched, many articles belonging to the unfortunate victims of the late massacre were found in them.

33. On the 2nd April, I remained at Senwa to negotiate with the Chief for the surrender of the three men not yet given up.

34. On the 3rd April, the force commenced its return march to the plains; but the three Senwa men above alluded to being still wanting to complete the number of those who had engaged in the massacre, I consulted with Captain Butler, Political Officer to the expedition, and we came to the conclusion that it was expedient to take the Rajah of Senwa with us to the plains as a hostage for the production of the three men before mentioned who were still at large.

35. This measure proved successful, as after the return of the force to Bor Mutun, and before we had descended into the plains, the second Chief of Senwa (Chunle), one of the three missing men, and believed to be one of the leading men in the plot to massacre the survey party, was brought into camp a prisoner by the Nagas themselves, and handed over to us, they having caught him in his hiding place in the jungles near Senwa after our departure.

He and all the other prisoners implicated in the massacre are now in the Jail at Debrugarh.

36. On the 4th April, the force marched from Bor Bansang to Bor Mutun.

37. On the 5th I halted at Bor Mutun and sent the Assistant Quartermaster General on to Borwasali to complete arrangements for the march of the troops thence to Debrugarh.

38. On the 6th, the 44th Native Infantry under command of Lieutenant-Colonel Cory with a portion of the transport corps marched from Bor Mutun to Kulun Mutun. On the 7th they marched into Borwasali, on the 8th into Jaipur, on the 9th into Tenga Ghât, and on the 10th into Debrugarh. With the 42nd Native Infantry and the remainder of the transport corps, I followed them one march in rear, and the whole force was once more re-assembled at Debrugarh on the 11th April, in wonderfully good health, considering the hardships and exposure they had gone through.

39. At Debrugarh I found the Prince Albert steamer with two flats waiting to convey the detachment of the 42nd Native Infantry and the transport corps down the river,—the former to Gowhatty, and the latter to Goalundo.

40. Having issued a farewell order to the force, the corps above alluded to embarked on the 13th, and the steamer left Debrugarh on the 14th at day-light.

41. It would be presumptuous in me to offer an opinion as to the success of the expedition; but a few facts relative to the results will not, I trust, be out of place in this report. The whole of the villages implicated in the massacre of the 2nd February were attacked and burnt, and large stores of grain, cattle, &c., belonging to the enemy destroyed. Their loss in action must have been upwards of 50 killed. The remains of all the victims belonging to the survey party were recovered; those of the late Lieutenant Holcombe were brought into Debrugarh and buried with military honours, whilst those of the natives who perished were either burnt or buried on the spot. Of the fire arms taken from the survey party, 17 were recovered, and the most valuable portion of the private property. A great number of Naga arms were captured by the force, consisting of flint muskets, spears, dhaos, cross-bows and shields. All the powerful Naga villages in the country operated in, who were not implicated in the affairs of the 2nd February, tendered their submission, assisting us in a manner quite unprecedented, even those far removed from our line of march, such as Dadun and Bhanpara. Four of the principal murderers were captured and are now in the jail at Debrugarh. The Chief of Senwa and one of his tribe are hostages for the surrender of two men not yet given up. The survey party under Lieutenant Woodthorpe, R. E., were able to survey 300 square miles of country and fill in the details which were still required for a map of this portion of the Naga Hills.

42. It is now my grateful task to bring to notice the services of the officers of the force, to whom and their men I am entirely indebted for whatever success has attended the expedition.

43. One of the officers to whom my warmest thanks are due is Captain J. Butler, Political Agent, Naga Hills', attached as political officer to the force. The services of this officer were invaluable to the expedition. His intimate acquaintance with the Naga character, and the great influence he exercised over the various tribes we came in contact with, rendered him of the greatest service to me in dealing with them. His straightforward, firm but just policy was thoroughly adapted to a race like that of the Nagas, and it is owing to the effects of this policy, coupled with the success of our arms, that all the tribes not implicated in the massacre, from Kullun Mutun to beyond Ninu rendered us every assistance in the campaign. To the thanks I owe him for his services as a political officer, I would add those that are his due as a soldier. Whenever he thought he could be of use he volunteered the services of himself and those of his active and efficient little Police Force, which services were always gladly accepted, and both he and his men were constantly employed actively in the field, either in bridging the streams, hunting the enemy down in some of his fastnesses, or communicating with some distant village.

44. To Major Heathcote, Assistant Quartermaster General to the force, my thanks are specially due. Never have I met with a more zealous or indefatigable officer than he proved himself on this campaign, and I cannot sufficiently praise the manner in which he performed all his staff duties with the force,—duties which entailed on him much labor, both mental and physical, but which he executed in the most admirable manner, and with a tact and judgment rarely met with. Not only did he render me most valuable service in his own particular department, but in every other possible way. His soldierly are on a par with his other high qualities.

45. To the officers of the transport corps, Captain Wauchope and Lieutenant Egan, my warm thanks are due. Both they and the men under them worked with an energy that overcame all the difficulties by which they were surrounded, viz., the constant inclemency of the weather, the difficult country they had to travel over in the hills, and the flooded roads they had to traverse on their return to the plains. Without their constant exertions so much could never have been performed in so short a time.

46. The services of the principal medical officer Surgeon Major J. B. White rendered to the force were most important, and it is greatly attributable to his care and foresight, and the exertions of Surgeons J. Wilson and H. K. McKay, serving under him, that the health of the troops, transport corps and other coolies employed, was so good, notwithstanding the exposure and hard work. I cannot sufficiently thank them for their care of the sick and wounded.

47. The services rendered by the regimental officers attached to the force deserve particular mention, and no more pleasant duty could devolve on me than recording the obligations I am under to one and all, for the manner in which they conducted their duties from the day the force left Debrugarh to that when they returned to it.

To Colonel Sherriff, Commanding the Head-Quarter Detachments of the 42nd Assam Light Infantry, and Lieutenant-Colonel Cory, Commanding that of the 44th Sylhet Light Infantry, my thanks are specially due. The former, besides serving under my command at the assault of the villages of Ninu and Nion, commanded a separate detachment when the village of Sorkai was taken and destroyed, and Lieutenant-Colonel Cory not only accompanied me all through the active part of the campaign in command of the 44th, but commanded the detached force which re-visited the village of Kamhua, and it was this detachment which on that occasion captured one of the prisoners now at Debrugarh, who had taken an active part in the massacre of the 2nd February.

To Lieutenant Abbott my thanks are due for the services he rendered on more than one occasion, notably for the way in which he held the important post of Senwa whilst the bulk of the force was fighting at Ninu and its neighbourhood, and also for the assistance he rendered the expedition by the excellent trestle bridge he constracted over the Tising River. My thanks are also due to Lieutenants Ridgeway and Macgregor of the 44th Native Infantry. The former, in addition to his duties as Adjutant, acted as my Staff Officer during the campaign, and I sincerely thank him for the assistance he gave me. Lieutenant Macgregor had many duties relative to the commissariat and baggage of the force to perform, besides his ordinary duty of Quartermaster to the 44th Native Infantry, and I have much pleasure in recording the energy and zeal he displayed in the performance of every duty that was entrusted to him. The services Major Tulloch rendered at Borwasali in pushing troops and stores to the front require special mention: these services were constant and arduous and of the greatest importance to the success of the campaign.

48. The services of the survey party under Command of Lieutenant Woodthorpe, R.E., deserve every praise; not only did that officer, aided by Messrs. Chennel and Mackay, complete the survey of about 300 square miles of country on the scale of 2 miles to the inch, filling in all the details still wanting to complete a map of this portion of the Naga Hills, but both he and his assistants aided the force in every way in which they thought they could be useful, as in the construction of the bridge over the Dising River (a most difficult and arduous undertaking) which was superintended by Lieutenant Woodthorpe, and on more than one occasion when these three officers volunteered to accompany detached parties in and around Ninu and elsewhere.

49. It only remains for me now to thank the Deputy Commissioners of both the Lukhimpore and Seebsagur Districts, and the officers under them, for the assistance they gave the force in furnishing carriage, bridging the streams in the plains, and sheltering the troops on their way to the hills. I would particularly bring to notice the personal assistance rendered at Bor Mutun by Mr. Hinde, Assistant Commissioner, and at Borwasali by Mr. Good, the District Superintendent of Police at Debrugarh, whose services from the 6th February to the return of the expedition on the 11th April were constant and arduous. I must not omit to record the services of Sheristadar Hadon, who accompanied the troops throughout the campaign, and was attached to the Political Officer's party. I have never met a more intelligent, active or energetic native than he proved himself to be on this expedition. His services were specially brought to my notice by Captain Butler before the return of the troops here.

50. Field Operations.—I cannot close this report without recording the assistance received from Captain Badgley in charge of No. 6 Topographical Survey. Though unable to accompany the expedition owing to his severe wound, he furnished me with an excellent map of the country and two enlarged plans of the villages of Senwa and Ninu drawn from recollection, and I also gained much information from his intimate knowledge of the country,—knowledge he had gained whilst conducting the retreat of the gallant little band who cut their way out of the Naga country after the massacre of the 2nd February in a manner which excited the admiration of all who afterwards saw the difficult country they had to pass through, and knew how encumbered they were with wounded and dying comrades.

51. In conclusion, I would thank every native commissioned, non-commissioned officer, and private connected with the force for the assistance they rendered me, and the spirit and discipline they displayed during the late campaign, as also for the patience they evinced under exposure and privation. I have had the honor to serve as a regimental officer for several years with both the 42nd and 44th Regiments, Native Infantry, and knew when I took the command, the excellent material I had to work with, but the services they rendered even exceeded my expectations, as did those of Captain Butler's small but excellent police force.

52. I beg to enclose a sketch map of the country passed through by the Naga Field Force, as also a list of villages, with details of number of houses and height of sites.

Field Operations.
Naga.

No. 50, dated Simla, 3rd June 1875.

From—COLONEL H. K. BURNE, Secy. to the Govt. of India, Military Department,

To—MAJOR-GENERAL F. ROBERTS, C.B., V.C., R.A., Quatermaster General.

I am desired to acknowledge your letter No. 2289, "Field Operations," dated 18th May 1875, forwarding the reports of the column which, under Colonel J. M. Nuttall, C.B., recently operated in the Naga Hills.

2. In reply, I am to state that the Governor General in Council shares in the appreciation expressed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of the excellent services rendered by Colonel Nuttall and those under his command during an expedition which presented physical difficulties of no ordinary nature. It was, His Excellency in Council considers, admirably planned and conducted throughout, and cannot fail to have an excellent effect.

3. I am to request that His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief may be moved to cause the thanks of the Government of India to be conveyed to Colonel Nuttall, 44th Native Infantry, for his excellent arrangements and for the complete manner in which, while exacting due reparation and punishment for the murderous attack upon the survey party, he carried out the intention of Government that no improper spirit of revenge should be allowed to prevail.

4. The Governor General in Council observes with satisfaction that Colonel Nuttall bears testimony to the excellent service rendered by the several officers named in his despatch, and I am to request that, under the orders of His Excellency, the thanks of the Government of India may be communicated to them.

5. The recognition by the Government of the essential service rendered to the expedition by Captain Butler, who has well sustained his previous reputation as a Political Officer, will be communicated to him through the Civil Department of the Government.

6. His Excellency in Council considers that the conduct of the Native troops, and especially their discipline under great provocation, are highly creditable to them, and the same remark applies to the detachment of Police that accompanied the force.

7. I am further to request that Brigadier General Stafford may be thanked for the creditable promptitude with which he detached the necessary troops, with transport complete, from the Duffla Field Force under his command and prevented the occurrence of any delay when despatch was so important.

8. This correspondence, together with a copy of Colonel Nuttall's despatch, will be published in the Gazette of India.

When Surgeons have served the requisite time, they will be examined in the following manner:—

A series of printed questions prepared by an Examining Board consisting of the Principal of the Medical College and any two or more of the Professors he may associate with himself for the purpose will be sealed and sent by the Surgeon-General to the principal Medical Officers of stations where Surgeons may be eligible for examination. It will be the duty of the principal Medical Officer of the station to deliver these sealed questions to the Surgeons, and to see that they are answered without the assistance of books, notes, or communication with any other person. * The Surgeon may see this certificate before it is sent to the Surgeon-General.

The Surgeon is also required to transmit, together with his answers to the Surgeon-General, a medico-topographical account of the station where he may happpen to be at the time, or of some other station where he may have been resident sufficiently long to enable him to collect the necessary information for such a report. Failing this, he will send a medico-statistical report of his charge for a period of at least twelve months.

SEPARATE REVENUE—POST OFFICE.

The 11th June 1875.

No. 1462.—Notice is hereby given that on and after the 1st July 1875 parcels posted in India for transmission to the United Kingdom by the Overland Parcel Post will be chargeable at the rate of 8 annas per lb. (40 tolas), fractions of a lb. being charged as a whole lb. in lieu of the present rate of 3 annas per 10 tolas. Full prepayment will, as heretofore, be compulsory. From the same date revised arrangements for the transmission of parcels from the United Kingdom will come into force, the main feature of the new arrangement being the reduction of the rate of charge between London and the place of destination in India from 1*s.* 4*d.* to 1*s.* per lb.

Notice is also given that on and after the same date (1st July 1875) parcels prepaid at the same rate (8 annas per lb.) will be received for transmission to any place in Germany, or to any place in the following countries served through Germany, viz., Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, France, the Netherlands and Belgium. In the case of parcels addressed to Germany, the above-mentioned prepayment will carry them to destination without any additional charge, and in the case of those addressed to the other countries mentioned, there will be charged on delivery an additional local rate representing the cost of transit beyond the German frontier. Simultaneously with the commencement of the transmission of parcels from India, parcels will be received for transmission to India by the Post Offices of Germany and the several countries served through Germany as enumerated above.

The following detailed rules respecting the exchange of parcels with the United Kingdom and the foreign countries mentioned will from the 1st July be substituted for the regulations given at pages 57 to 59 of the Postal Guide :—

Overland Parcel Post.

(1).—Parcels are received at any Post Office in India under the conditions and rates of charge mentioned below for transmission to the following countries, viz. :—

Country.	Rate of charge per lb. or fraction thereof. Prepayment compulsory.	Remarks respecting special conditions, &c., applicable to particular Countries.
	Annas.
United Kingdom	8	The prepayment carries the parcel as far as London, any additional charge which may become due on account of British custom duty or carriage beyond London being realised from the addressee. The attention of the public is invited to the fact that the British Post Office has no connection with the Overland Parcel Post: all arrangements out of India are made by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, and enquiries proceeding from the United Kingdom should be addressed to that Company's Office, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E. C. The British Post Office, however, has consented to exhibit in every Post Office of the United Kingdom a notice containing information on the subject of the Indian Parcel Post.
Germany ..	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Denmark ..	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Sweden .. / Norway .. / Switzerland ..	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
France .. / The Netherlands (Holland). / Belgium ..	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value, and that the second or duplicate declaration should, if possible, be written in the French language. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.

(2).—Every parcel should be securely packed in a closed cover or case, and should bear the name and address of the person in the United Kingdom or foreign country for whom it is intended.

N.B.—The public are specially warned against the use of flimsy covers for articles transmitted by the parcel post. Heavy articles are sometimes sent with only paper covering insecurely tied with string: friction in transit detaches this cover, and damage and loss ensue. A covering of stout cloth or wax cloth, sewn at the edges, is recommended; but if the contents are liable to suffer from pressure, boxes of wood or tin should be used.

(3).—Every parcel should be accompanied by a separate paper headed with the address of the parcel and containing a declaration of its contents and value under the signature of the sender. Below the signature the address of the sender should be given.

For the parcels addressed to—

The United Kingdom ... / Germany ... ... / Denmark ... ... } Only one declaration as above described is required.

Sweden ... ... / Norway ... ... / Switzerland ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required.

France ... ... / The Netherlands (Holland) ... ... / Belgium ... ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office will attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.

It is not deemed necessary to require exact adherence to any particular form of declaration, but the following specimen form may be useful to the senders of parcels :—

Specimen form of declaration.

(4).—The parcel so addressed and the separate paper or papers above referred to should then be enclosed in a substantial outer cover. This outer cover should be superscribed and addressed as follows :—

Overland Parcel Post.

To

The Post Master, Bombay.

(5).—The parcel so made up must be fully prepaid by means of postage stamps at the rate of 8 annas per lb. (40 tolas) or fraction of a lb., care being taken that the stamps adhere firmly to the cover.

(6).—The parcel so made up must not exceed 50lbs. (25 seers) in weight, or 2 feet in length by 1 foot in breadth or depth. It will be received at any Post Office at the hours fixed for the receipt of ordinary banghy parcels, the usual receipt being given to the sender without reference to the mode of packing prescribed in the case of inland parcels for which receipts are claimed.

(7).—On arrival at Bombay the Post Master will take off the outer covering, and forward the inside parcel and the accompanying declaration or declarations to the country of inside address.

(8).—It is forbidden to send in these parcels opium or any liquid or any substance or material of a dangerous, damaging, or offensive kind.

(9).—In the case of parcels for or from Germany and the foreign countries served through Germany, compensation will be given by the responsible Post Office to the sender for loss or damage sustained in transit (cases of sea risk or of vis major or of the own negligence of the sender in respect of packing or otherwise excepted). Such compensation will in no case exceed 1½ rupee for each lb. weight or fraction thereof in respect of parcels forwarded from India, and 3 marks for each 500 grammes or fraction thereof in respect of parcels from Germany. Should the sender desire it, the compensation will be paid to the addressee instead of to himself.

I.—All British Officers and all Officers of the Staff Corps and Indian Army, including those of the Royal (late Indian) Artillery and Engineers, appointed while residing out of India to Divisional Commands in India, will be entitled to passages for themselves and their families on proceeding to India to take up their commands, and on returning to England at the expiration of their tour of service.

II.—All Officers, whether of the British or Indian Service, residing in India at the time of such appointment and holding the rank of General Officers, and also those Officers, if they belong to the British Service, who would, although not General Officers, necessarily return to England at the expiration of their tour of duty, will be entitled to a passage home.

III.—The Adjutant General and Quartermaster General in India, though they may be General Officers, ex-officio only, will, on being relieved of their appointments, be entitled to the privileges of General Officers as regards passage when such officers belong to the British Service and would necessarily return home on the expiration of their tours of duty.

IV.—A General Officer proceeding to or returning from India on duty, unaccompanied by his family, will be entitled to reserved accommodation as for a single gentleman by a Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamer to Southampton, or a reserved cabin, as for married couples, for himself and wife if accompanied by her, with a first class passage for each child not accommodated in the same cabin: such reserved accommodation will always be provided for such officer whenever he may signify his wish to have a passage secured for himself, instead of receiving a money allowance under the provisions of the Royal Passage Warrant.

V.—If an allowance in lieu of reserved accommodation is given, the amount payable by Government will be the Peninsular and Oriental Company's charge to Southampton, less the authorized deduction for messing; but it will be optional with a General Officer either to receive the passage allowance or to be provided with the prescribed accommodation. In the former case, he is not of necessity bound to proceed by a Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamer, or to Southampton; but he will be at liberty to make his own arrangements to travel by any route.

VI.—In all cases where a passage allowance, based on the Peninsular and Oriental Company's rates, is given to any officer, the cost of freight of the regulated amount of baggage, in excess of the amount covered by the passage money, will be admitted as a public charge.

POLICE.

The 24th June 1875.

No. 182.—The provisions of Act VIII of 1870 (for the prevention of the murder of female infants) having been made applicable to the clans resident in the Jhansi District, in the localities detailed in the subjoined list, by the Notification of the Government of the North-Western Provinces No. 96 A, dated the 8th instant, the following rules made by that Government in exercise of the power conferred on it by Section 2 of the said Act, and confirmed by the Governor General in Council, are hereby published for general information :—

Rules for the suppression of Female Infanticide.

I.—A nominal Register (A) of all proclaimed families shall be drawn up by the Police under the orders of the Magistrate of the district. In this Register recognised heads of families or masters of separate households shall be entered as the heads of families, and every member of the family habitually resident in the village shall be entered by name. All persons under twelve shall be entered as children, except married female children living with their husbands, who shall, for the purposes of these Rules, be deemed to be adult females.

II.—All villages in which the proportion of female children to children on a proclaimed population of not less than 25 children is less than 25 per cent. shall be called "specially guilty" villages, and shall also be entered in a separate Register (B), which shall be called the "Private register of proclaimed families in specially guilty villages." This Register shall not be open to inspection except by the officers of the district.

III.—The person who is registered as the head of a proclaimed family shall report immediately the occurrence of every birth and death and the illness of any female child in his family to the chaukidar of the village. He shall also produce all children in his family for the inspection of a Police Officer visiting the village when required to produce them.

IV.—Every midwife knowing of, or having reason to believe in, the occurrence in a proclaimed family in the village in which she resides of a birth, or of the illness of a new-born child, shall at once report the fact to the chaukidar of the village. And if the village is one entered in Register B, she shall also report the occurrence of a pregnancy.

V.—If in a given time after proclamation [to be determined for each village or locality by the Local Government] the proportion of female children in a village entered in Register B does not rise to more than 25 per cent., the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that every person registered as the head of a proclaimed family in that village shall be personally bound to report to the officer in charge of the Police Station every pregnancy in his family at some period before the seventh month.

VI.—The chaukidar of the village shall immediately report to the officer in charge of the Police Station the occurrence of a birth, whether male or female, in a proclaimed family; the death of a female infant under six months old; the illness of a female child; and the removal of a pregnant woman to another village. He shall also report, on the occasion of his periodical visit to the Police Station, other deaths, removals and arrivals, and pregnancies reported to him if the village is entered in Register B.

VII.—The zemindars of the villages shall give assistance to the Police in drawing up Register A, and in obtaining information regarding all births, marriages and deaths occurring, or about to occur, among proclaimed families.

VIII.—All expenses incurred in working the system sanctioned by Act VIII of 1870 shall be borne by the proclaimed clans and families, and shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue; provided that when the percentage of female children to children of any proclaimed class in any village exceeds forty, such class shall be exempted from any share in such expenses, unless in the opinion of the Magistrate there be other grounds of suspicion.

IX.—Where the crime is so prevalent, and the number of the proclaimed villages so great, that the ordinary establishment of the district cannot cope successfully with it, the Local Government may at its discretion appoint a force of special Police for the purpose of carrying out measures of prevention and detection. All expenses incurred for the payment of such Police, or under Rule VIII, may be met by a rate leviable under the orders of the Local Government from the heads of families entered in the nominal register of proclaimed persons. Such rate will ordinarily be imposed so as to fall more heavily on specially guilty than on guilty families, but the amount of the rate to be levied will be fixed in every case by the special orders of the Local Government.

X.—No proclaimed village or family shall be exempted from the operation of these Rules except by the order of the Local Government, or in virtue of authority to that effect vested by Government in any officer. A village or family so exempted will then be struck out of Register A and the erasure initialled by the Magistrate of the District, or by the District Superintendent of Police.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholar-like knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar, who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholar-like knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar, who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholar-like knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar, who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

R. BELCHAMBERS,
Registrar.

March 1875.

IT is ordered that the following rules be read and passed as the rules and orders of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to take effect from the 1st day of May 1875. Dated this 9th day of February 1875.

PLAINT.

Suits to be commenced by plaint.

1. All suits shall be commenced by a plaint, which, unless otherwise ordered, shall be presented to the Court by the plaintiff in person, or by his agent, under section 19 of Act VIII of 1859, or by an attorney or advocate of the Court.

Plaint to be written legibly, and divided into numbered paragraphs.

2. The plaint shall be written in the English language, on foolscap paper, or other paper similar to it in size and quality, bookwise, in a clear, legible hand, and on one side only of the paper, with not more than 20 or less than 18 lines, of about 10 words in each line, in each full page, and with an inner margin of about an inch wide. It shall be stitched bookwise. Dates and sums occurring in the plaint shall be expressed in figures.

Facts and particulars to be stated therein.

The plaint shall be divided into paragraphs numbered consecutively. It shall contain a simple narrative of the facts which the plaintiff believes to be material to the case, and which he believes he will be able to prove if called upon by the Court, together with the following particulars—

(1).—The name, description and place of abode of the plaintiff, and of the next friend, if any, and the nature of the plaintiff's disability when he is represented by a next friend.

(2).—The name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained.

(3).—The relief sought for, the subject of the claim, the cause of action, and when it accrued; and if the cause of action accrued beyond the period ordinarily allowed by any law for commencing such a suit, the ground upon which exemption from such a law is claimed.

Every alteration in the plaint shall be marked and authenticated with the initials of the person verifying the plaint.

Date of admission of plaint to be endorsed thereon.

3. When a plaint is admitted, the words "Admitted this day " shall be endorsed thereon, and signed by the Judge.

Plaint of a corporation or company to be admitted if verified by a principal officer.

4. The plaint of a corporation or a company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an officer or trustees, shall be admitted, if subscribed and verified, on behalf of the corporation or company, by any director, secretary or other principal officer of the corporation or company, who may be able to depose to the facts of the case.

With such exception, plaint not to be admitted if verified, without permission, by a person other than the plaintiff.

Permission how obtained.

5. Except as provided in the last preceding rule, a plaint shall not be admitted if subscribed and verified by a person other than the plaintiff, unless the same shall have been so subscribed and verified with the permission of the Court. The mode of obtaining such permission shall be by petition at Chambers. The petition must be verified by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and it must be shewn that the party from his knowledge of the facts is competent to make the verification.

SERVICE OF PROCESS.

Proof of service of summons.

15. Unless the Court or a Judge shall otherwise order, the service of a summons to appear and answer shall be proved by the production of a certificate of the Registrar of appearance having been entered, or where no appearance has been entered, in manner following:—

On the defendant personally.

(1).—When the summons is served on the defendant personally, the service and the signature of the defendant on the back of the summons or copy, shall be proved by the affidavit of the person who actually made the service, and the identity of the person served, with the person named in the summons, shall be proved by the affidavit of some one personally acquainted with him.

On an agent.

(2).—If the service be made on an agent, it shall be proved by affidavit that the person served was empowered to accept service either by reason of his being one of the class of recognised agents described in Section 17 of Act VIII of 1859, or by virtue of an appointment for that purpose in writing.

On a male member of the defendant's family.

(3).—If the service be made on an adult male member of the defendant's family residing with him, it shall be proved by the affidavit of the officer making the service, and, if necessary, of some other person or persons acquainted with the facts, that the defendant could not be found, and had no agent empowered to accept service, and that the person to whom the summons was delivered was an adult male member of the defendant's family, and was actually residing with him at the time of such service.

By fixing a copy on the door of the defendant's dwelling-house.

(4).—If the service be made by fixing a copy of the summons on the outer door of the house in which the defendant is dwelling, it shall, in like manner, be proved that the defendant could not be found, and that there was no agent empowered to accept service, nor any other person on whom the service could be made, and that the defendant was actually dwelling in the house, on the outer door of which a copy of the summons was fixed, at the time when it was so fixed.

Under an order for substituted service.

(5).—If the service be made under an order of the Court for substituted service, it shall, in like manner, be proved that the house upon the door of which a copy of the summons was fixed, was the house in which the defendant last resided, and that the service was made in all respects in conformity with the order of the Court.

On an agent in charge of land, or other immoveable property.

(6).—If the service be made on an agent in charge of land, or other immoveable property, it shall, in like manner, be proved that the summons could not be served on the defendant in person, and that he had no agent empowered to accept service, and that the person to whom the summons was delivered was an agent of the defendant in charge of the land, or other immoveable property, forming the subject of the suit.

On a corporation or company.

(7).—If the service be made on a corporation or a company authorized to sue and be sued in the name of an officer or trustees, it shall be proved by affidavit that the summons was left at the registered office of the company, or was delivered to any director, secretary, or other principal officer thereof.

When the summons is declined.

(8).—If the summons when tendered be declined by the defendant, or his agent, or a male member of his family, besides the proof required as to identity, &c., as stated above, it shall be proved that the party was informed that the document tendered was a summons, and that he was made acquainted with the nature and contents thereof.

Substituted service.

16. Application for substituted service of a summons to appear and answer shall be by petition at Chambers. The application must be supported by an affidavit of the officer who attempted to make the service, and of such other person or persons as may have accompanied him for the purpose of pointing out the party to be served, stating when, where, and how such service was attempted to be made.

Suit may proceed, though summons not served on some of the defendants.

17. If the plaintiff is unable to serve one or more of the defendants with the writ of summons, he may, with the leave of the Court or a Judge, to be applied for on notice to the defendant or defendants upon whom service has been made, proceed with the suit against such last-mentioned defendant or defendants, without prejudice to the rights of the plaintiff against the other defendants.

Service of notices, &c., on attorneys.

18.  The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholar-like knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar, who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

DARJEELING LINE.

Calcutta, the 16th June 1875.

No. 7586. / L. M. 6 No. 8.—During the present season the experiment will be tried of offering the public a less expensive mode of conveyance to Darjeeling.

2. A limited number of wagonettes have been built, which are so constructed as to enable two passengers to lie down at full length. They are provided with cushions and hoods, and drawn by two horses, but they are not sufficiently protected from the weather to make them good for ladies or invalids. These are available at cheaper rates than the ordinary carriages, viz., 4 annas a mile for each passenger, or Rs. 25 for the through journey.

3. A wagonette will start from Karagola every day except Sunday and Monday, leaving on the arrival of the steamer, and will return from Silligoree every day except Monday and Tuesday, starting at 11 A. M.

This rule is necessary and must not under any circumstances be infringed, as these vehicles convey the parcel mail. One traveller who, by the payment of Rs. 50 engages a whole wagonette, can take two maunds of luggage with him free.

5. Application for wagonettes should be made in the usual way to Post Master, Purneah, and should state which of the other forms of accommodation the traveller wishes in case a wagonette is not available.

Read the following Report submitted by the Managers:—

REPORT.

The Managers submit their proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the meeting.

Subject to the approval of Subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Daughter	„ 60 0 0
	£ 360 0 0
Less ⅓ under Rule VII	„ 60 0 0

The Managers reported at the last meeting that Mrs. Beresford had applied for the continuance of her son John's pension after he attained his majority. She has, in compliance with the requirements of the rules, submitted a certificate from the oculist, Dr. Critchet, who certifies that her son is permanently blind. Subject to the approval of subscribers, Mr. John Beresford's name stands on the list of pensioners.

The Managers have received a memorial from Mrs. Clark to be replaced on the Fund, as she has obtained a judicial separation. She was formerly in the receipt of an allowance of £100 from the Fund, as the daughter of the late Mr. J. C. Brown, and on her marriage to the Revd. F. S. Clark, obtained the usual donation of £300. She has been informed that her request cannot be complied with, as the rules do not contemplate the re-admission of daughters after marriage. Mrs. Clark has expressed a wish that her case should be laid before the service.

The Managers have received an application from Mr. R. G. Melvill, late of the Bengal Civil Service, for a refund of the subscriptions he had paid to the Civil Fund. They have informed him that under the rules this cannot be allowed.

Mrs. Melvill, the wife of Mr. R. G. Melvill, has applied to the Managers for an allowance from the Fund for herself and four children, on the ground that her husband has been dismissed from the service and has no means to support her and her children. The Managers have replied that this cannot under the rules be sanctioned. The Government have taken Mrs. Melvill's case into consideration, and granted her and her children an allowance.

* The allowances granted from the Fund for the maintenance and education of children, shall be paid in advance quarterly to their guardians or relatives having the care of them, or to such persons as may be entrusted with the disbursement of the sums allotted for them, either by the Managers of the Fund in India or by the Agents of the Fund in England. No advances made under this or the preceding rule shall be liable to be recovered on the death, marriage, or coming of age of any incumbent on the Fund.

Mrs. Cunliffe having applied for the full quarter's pension due to her son, for the quarter in which he attained his majority, the Managers have interpreted article 33* of the rules as requiring a full quarter's pension to be paid in advance at the commencement of the quarter to a son coming of age in the course of the quarter.

An application has been received from Mr. J. B. Lyall for the remission of the fine of Rs. 50 incurred under article 5 of the rules. Mr. Lyall pleads that he reported his marriage, which took place in England on the 28th of November 1874, immediately on arrival in India, and that as he left England ten days after the event, had he reported the marriage within the prescribed month by letter from England, the information would not have reached the Managers sooner than by his report on reaching India. The Managers recommend this case for the consideration of the meeting.

The Managers submit, for the consideration of this meeting, the case of Mr. H. Priestly. Under article 8 of the rules, Subscribers who resign the service and wish to secure to their widows and children the full, the half, or the quarter, benefits of the Fund, must on retirement make up their subscription balance to Rs. 25,000, 12,500, or Rs. 6,250, as the case may be, and must continue their contribution from their annuities at half the rates levied from Subscribers in the Service. Mr. Priestly resigned the service on the 5th of August last, and was informed immediately that £430 was payable to make up his subscription balance to Rs. 6,250. He is anxious to keep up his interest, but finds it difficult to pay up £430 at once, and wishes to know whether he may be allowed to pay by annual instalments of £100 with interest at 8 per cent. The Managers lay the matter before the meeting for consideration.

Dr. Hunter has written to the Managers enquiring whether any communication from the Government, on the subject of the rumoured transfer of appointments hitherto reserved for Covenanted Civil Servants to natives of the country not being members of the Service, has been received by them, and, if not, suggesting that as the change is one which may seriously affect the prospects of the Fund, they should take steps to ascertain whether any such measure is in contemplation. The Managers have accordingly addressed the Government of India, asking whether the Secretary of State has in a recent despatch required the Government to draw up rules for the appointment of natives of India under 33 Victoria, III., 6., to posts hitherto held by members of the Civil Service. The Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department has, in a letter dated the 20th instant, replied that the Governor General in Council is in correspondence with the Secretary of State on the subject of these rules.

It was reported at the last General Meeting that the Managers had written to some members of the Service, asking them for statements of any facts or arguments that might seem to them calculated to throw light upon the subject-matter of the second resolution passed at the meeting of the 28th January 1874. They have since received three memoranda from members, showing grounds for apprehending future decrease in the average gross salaries of Subscribers. These documents have been forwarded to the Actuary, and copies have been circulated to the service at large.

The Managers regret that they are unable to lay before this meeting the Actuary's report on the position of the Fund. They were led by a letter of that gentleman to expect the report in the course of the past half-year, but it has not been received. The delay may be in part due to the further references that have been made.

The accounts of the year 1873-74 are submitted.

Proposed by Mr. D. Fitzpatrick, seconded by Mr. C. J. Lyall, and carried "that the proceedings of the Managers, in admitting to the benefits of the Fund the families of the late Mr. W. J. Rivett-Carnac, Mr. D. J. McNeile, Mr. C. Hugh Lushington, and Mr. John Ward, be confirmed."

Proposed by Mr. H. Beverley, seconded by Mr. W. M. Souttar, and carried "that the Managers' action in allowing Mr. John Beresford's name to remain upon the list of pensioners be approved and confirmed."

Proposed by Mr. P. D. Dickens, seconded by Mr. H. Beverley, and carried "that the reply of the Managers to Mrs. R. G. Melvill be confirmed."

Proposed by Mr. P. D. Dickens, seconded by Mr. W. H. Grimley, and carried "that the Managers' interpretation of article 33 be approved and confirmed."

Proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. W. F. McDonell, seconded by Mr. T. J. C. Grant, and carried "that the fine imposed upon Mr. J. B. Lyall be exacted."

Proposed by Mr. W. M. Souttar, seconded by Mr. P. D. Dickens, and carried "that in the opinion of this meeting the rules do not admit of Mr. Priestley's being allowed to pay up the balance of £430 by instalments of £100 a year, and that he be informed that he must pay the balance within a time to be fixed by the Managers."

The following correspondence was then read :—

UNITED SERVICE CLUB,
Calcutta, 23rd December 1874.

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE CIVIL FUND.

SIR,

It is understood that the Secretary of State in a recent despatch has instructed the Government of India to draw up rules under 33 Vic., III, 6, for the admission of natives of India to appointments which have heretofore been reserved for members of the Civil Service. The question of the employment of natives in these posts is, of course, one which must rest with Government. But a very general impression exists that if the measure is to be carried out, it should be done in such a way as not to involve injustice or pecuniary loss to the Civil Fund; whose members for the most part entered the employment of Government and have paid their subscriptions under the previous state of the law by which these appointments were guaranteed to the body of men who constitute the members of the said Fund, and whose covenants with Her Majesty's Secretary of State rendered those subscriptions compulsory.

A good deal of anxiety is felt on this question by the Up-country subscribers to the Fund, and upon behalf of myself and other members I venture to enquire whether any communication from Government has been received by the Managers of the Fund on the subject; and if so, what steps have been taken by them with a view to watching over or representing the vested interests of the Fund in the change which is said to be now impending.

If no such communication has been received, I venture to suggest, for the consideration of the Managers, whether steps might not be taken by them with a view to ascertaining the facts from Government, and if needful, representing the interests of the members of the Civil Fund.

It is unnecessary to point out that the opening up of posts hitherto guaranteed by law to the body of men who constitute the members of the Fund, and the filling of these appointments by persons who are not subscribers, will diminish the income of the Fund, and possibly affect the basis of calculation on which its estimates have hitherto proceeded.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) W. W. HUNTER.

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, HOME DEPARTMENT.

CIVIL FUND OFFICE,
No. 326, dated 4th January 1875.

SIR,

I am desired by the Managers of the Bengal Civil Fund to enquire whether the Government of India, in a recent despatch from the Secretary of State, has received instructions to draw up rules under 33 Vic., III, 6, for the admission of natives of India to appointments which have heretofore been held by members of the Bengal Civil Service. The question is one which must greatly affect the prospects of the Civil Fund.

To

THE OFFG. SECY. TO THE BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

Fort William, the 20th January 1875.

SIR,

Home Department (Public), No. 114.

In reply to your letter No. 326, dated 4th instant, I am directed to refer you to Section 6 of 33 Vic., Chapter III, which Act was passed with the object of giving additional facilities for the employment of natives of India of proved merit and ability in the Civil Service of Her Majesty in India.

I am to point out that the wording of this section makes it imperative on the Governor General in Council to frame rules in view to the attainment of this object, and all appointments are to be made subject to such rules when sanctioned by the Secretary of State in Council. I am to inform you that the Governor General in Council is in correspondence accordingly with the Secretary of State on the subject.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) ARTHUR HOWELL,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

With reference to the correspondence just read, the following Resolution was proposed by Mr. W. M. Souttar, and seconded by Mr. T. W. Gribble, "that the action of the Managers as guardians of the interests of the Fund in addressing Government be approved; and that as subscribers to the Fund view with apprehension the loss which the filling up of appointments by persons who are not subscribers may entail on its resources, the Managers be directed to continue to watch the matter in the interest of the Fund and to submit a specific representation to Government on the subject."

Carried nem. con., Mr. A. P. Howell declining to vote.

The accounts of the past year were approved.

Messrs. Schalch, Grant, O'Kinealy, Souttar, and Cotton, were elected Managers of the Fund for the ensuing year.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Chairman.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 9th February 1875 :—

No. 1 OF 1875.

A Bill to secure the repayment of a Loan by the Government of India to Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, Baronet.

Preamble. Patent of Baronetcy.

WHEREAS by Letters Patent of Her Majesty dated the sixth day of August, 1858, and by Warrant under the Queen's sign-manual, Her said Majesty conferred upon Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, then of Bombay, Knight, but since deceased, the dignity of Baronet, to hold the same to him and the heirs male of his body.

Trustees under Act XX of 1860.

And whereas by an Act of the Legislative Council of India numbered XX of 1860, and entitled "An Act for settling Promissory Notes of the Government of India producing an annual income of one lákh of Rupees and a Mansion-house and hereditaments called 'Mazagon Castle,' in the Island of Bombay, late the property of Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, Baronet, deceased, so as to accompany and support the title and dignity of a Baronet lately conferred on him and the heirs male of his body by Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, and for other purposes connected therewith," certain officers therein mentioned were constituted Trustees for executing the powers and purposes of such Act.

Government Promissory Notes producing an annual income of one lákh vested in Trustees.

And it was thereby enacted that, immediately after the passing of the said Act, promissory notes of the Government of India producing an annual income of one lákh of rupees should be transferred into the names of the said Trustees upon trust, amongst other things, from time to time to pay and apply the annual income of the said securities unto and for the benefit of the present Baronet, Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, and the person who, as heir male of the body of the said first Baronet, should, for the time being, have succeeded to and be in the enjoyment of the title of Baronet conferred by the said Letters Patent as aforesaid, and in default of heirs male of the body of the said first Baronet to whom the same dignity of Baronet might descend, upon trust for the present Baronet, his executors, administrators and assigns.

Trusts of the income.

Alienation prohibited during the Baronetcy.

And it was by the said Act further enacted that, subject as therein mentioned, so long as the said dignity of Baronet should endure, and until there should be a failure of heirs male of the body of the said first Baronet to whom the said dignity might descend, neither the said present Baronet nor any of the heirs male of the body of the said first Baronet in whose favour trusts were thereinbefore declared of the annual income of the said securities, should convey, charge, or encumber the said securities, or any part thereof, or the annual income thereof, or of any part thereof, for any greater or larger estate or interest than during his natural life, and for such portion thereof only as he should continue to use the names of "Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy," nor should have any power to discontinue or bar the estate of any person or persons for whose benefit trusts were declared by the said Act of the annual income of the said securities, or to prevent any such person or persons from succeeding to the same; nor should the same be held to have vested in any such person as aforesaid for any greater estate or interest than during his life, and only during such portion thereof as he should continue to use the names of "Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy;" and every attempt to make any assurance contrary to the intention of the said Act was thereby declared to be void:

And whereas, immediately after the passing of the said Act, promissory notes of the Government of India producing an annual income of one lákh of rupees were transferred into the names of the said trustees upon the trusts aforesaid:

And whereas, since the said transfer, part of the said promissory notes, producing an annual income of five thousand rupees, has been paid off by the Government of India; and the annual income of the promissory notes vested in the said trustees upon the trusts aforesaid was thereby reduced to ninety-five thousand rupees:

And whereas the said present Baronet has three sons only (namely), Manakjee Cursetjee Jamsetjee, Cowasjee Cursetjee Jamsetjee, and Jamsetjee Cursetjee Jamsetjee who is a minor:

Agreement for loan.

And whereas the said present Baronet recently applied to the Government of India to advance and lend to him the sum of four and a half lákhs of rupees, to be applied to purposes beneficial to himself and his said sons, which the Government of India agreed to do upon having the repayment thereof with interest secured in manner hereinafter mentioned:

Advance of loan.

And whereas, in pursuance of the said agreement, the sum of four and a half lákhs of rupees has been advanced and lent to the said present Baronet:

Concurrence of present Baronet's sons.

And whereas the said Manakjee Cursetjee Jamsetjee and Cowasjee Cursetjee Jamsetjee by themselves, and the said Jamsetjee Cursetjee Jamsetjee by his guardian, have agreed to the arrangement intended to be effected by this Act;—

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Withholding interest on notes in discharge of loan.

1. In consideration of the premises, and notwithstanding anything contained in the said recited Act, the Government of India shall withhold out of said sum of ninety-five thousand rupees, being the interest on the said promissory notes now vested in the said trustees, the annual sum of forty thousand rupees during the term of seventeen years from the date of the passing of this Act, unless the said sum of four and a half lákhs of rupees with interest thereon at five per cent. per annum has been sooner discharged.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Government of India having lent four and a half lákhs of rupees to Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy of Bombay, Baronet, the object of this Bill is to secure the repayment of the same with interest at five per cent. per annum.

The interposition of the legislature is necessary inasmuch as the security offered was vested in trustees and rendered inalienable by Act No. XX of 1860.

The next heirs of the Baronet have consented to the proposed arrangement.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 9th February 1875, and was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to make their report thereon in three weeks:—

No. 2 OF 1875.

A Bill to amend the Law relating to Salt in the Presidency of Fort St. George.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the price of salt sold under the orders of Government in the Presidency of Fort St. George; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Madras Salt Act, 1875:"

Local extent.

It extends to the territories under the government of the Governor of Fort St. George in Council;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force at once.

Partial repeal of Act XXIV of 1869.

2. The following portions of Act No. XXIV of 1869 (to enhance the price of Salt in the Presidency of Fort St. George and the duty on Salt in the Presidency of Bombay) are hereby repealed, namely, in the title, the words "the price of salt in the Presidency of Fort St. George and":

in the preamble, the words "the price of salt manufactured and sold in the Presidency of Fort St. George and"; and in section two, paragraph one and the first word of paragraph two.

Power to impose duty on salt manufactured or sold under orders of Madras Government.

3. The Governor General in Council may from time to time impose a duty on salt manufactured or sold under the orders of the Governor of Fort St. George in Council not exceeding one rupee and thirteen annas for every maund of three thousand two hundred tolas; and the Local Government shall for every such maund sold by or on behalf of Government from time to time fix, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, such additional sum as it may deem sufficient to cover, in each district or group of districts, the average cost for the time being of the manufacture, storage, transport, sale and wastage of salt.

When any such additional sum has been fixed for any district or group of districts, it shall not be altered for such district or group until after the expiration of at least three years from the date of such notification.

Price of salt sold by Madras Government.

4. The price to be paid in each district to the Local Government for salt so sold shall, for every such maund, be the total amount of the duty and additional sum so imposed and fixed as aforesaid.

The price at present so paid in each district shall be taken to be the price to be paid under this section until an additional sum is fixed under section three for such district.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In the Madras Presidency the salt-revenue is almost wholly raised by means of a Government monopoly. Government is the exclusive purchaser, at fixed rates, of all the salt of proper quality made by the persons engaged in the local manufacture, and the salt is then retailed throughout the Presidency at the price of two rupees per maund of 3,200 tolas, which price is fixed by Act XXIV of 1869, section two.

The average cost to Government on the East Coast of the salt so purchased, including all expenses properly appertaining to manufacture and storing, is three annas per Indian maund; and as the salt is sold by Government at two rupees per maund, it follows that the full Government duty of Re. 1-13-0 is secured on every maund of salt sold on the Eastern Coast.

On the Western Coast the systematic manufacture of salt is carried on to a very limited extent in the northern part of South Canara only, and the bulk of the supply required in that district, and the whole of the supply required in Malabar, in order to meet the demands of the local population and for carriage inland, mainly to Mysore, are obtained from Goa and Bombay through contractors.

The manufactured salt of Canara costs about four annas, and the imported salt of Malabar and part of Canara averages over seven annas per maund, and as both are sold by Government at the rate of two rupees per maund, the Government loses one anna on the former and more than four annas on the latter for every maund sold; and the people of these districts, though undoubtedly quite as well able to pay the salt-tax as their brethren on the East Coast, are favoured to the like extent.

The object of this Bill is to enable Government to realize the full duty of Re. 1-13-0 on salt throughout the Madras Presidency, as it does now in all the districts of the Eastern Coast. It empowers the Governor General in Council to impose a duty on salt manufactured or sold under the orders of the Local Government not exceeding Re. 1-13-0 per maund, and it requires the Local Government to fix from time to time such additional sum as may cover in each district the average cost of the manufacture, storage, transport, sale and wastage of salt. The price per maund will be equal to the duty so imposed plus the additional sum so fixed.

These clauses are founded on sections 41 to 43 of 55 Geo. III, c. 184.

4. We have made the provisions of the Bill relating to Court-fees on probates and letters of administration apply, mutatis mutandis, to certificates under Acts XL of 1858 and XX of 1864.

5. To section 3, clause (a), of the Bill as introduced, we have added words providing for the case of the stamp having been already cancelled, and in clause (c), we have omitted as useless the words "if the difference be considerable."

6. We have slightly altered the form of the Bill and arranged it so that its enacting parts shall fit into the Indian Succession Act and the Court-fees Act, the two enactments which it proposes to amend.

7. We have made no other changes, and recommend that the Bill thus altered be passed.

8. We think it had better be republished; but that its passing need not be deferred for more than three weeks.

"PROBATES, LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION AND CERTIFICATES OF ADMINISTRATION.

"19A. Where any person on applying for the probate of a will or letters of administration has estimated the property of the deceased to be of greater value than the same has afterwards proved to be, and has consequently paid too high a Court-fee thereon, if within six months after the true value of the property has been ascertained, such person produces the probate or letters to the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority of the Province in which the probate or letters has or have been granted,

Relief where too high a court-fee has been paid.

and delivers to such Authority a particular inventory and valuation of the property of the deceased, verified by affidavit or affirmation, and if such Authority is satisfied that a greater fee was paid on the probate or letters than the law required,

the said Authority may—

(a) cancel the stamp on the probate or letters, if such stamp has not been already cancelled;

(b) substitute another stamp for denoting the Court-fee which should have been paid thereon; and

(c) make an allowance for the difference between them as in the case of spoiled stamps, or repay the same in money, at his discretion.

"19 B. Whenever it is proved to the satisfaction of such Authority that an executor or administrator has paid debts due from the deceased to such an amount as being deducted out of the amount or value of the estate, reduces the same to a sum which, if it had been the whole gross amount or value of the estate, would have occasioned a less Court-fee to be paid on the probate or letters of administration granted in respect of such estate, than has been actually paid thereon under this Act, such Authority may return the difference, provided the same be claimed within three years after the date of such probate or letters.

Relief where debts due from a deceased person have been paid out of his estate.

But when, by reason of any legal proceeding, the debts due from the deceased have not been ascertained and paid, or his effects have not been recovered and made available, and in consequence thereof the executor or administrator is prevented from claiming the return of such difference within the said term of three years, the said Authority may allow such further time for making the claim as may appear to be reasonable under the circumstances.

"19 C. Whenever such a grant of probate or letters of administration has been or is made in respect of the whole of the property belonging to an estate, and the full fee chargeable under this Act has been or is paid thereon, no fee shall be chargeable under the same Act when a like grant is made in respect of the whole or any part of the same property belonging to the same estate;

Relief in case of several grants.

Whenever such a grant has been or is made in respect of any property forming part of an estate, the amount of fees then actually paid under this Act shall be deducted when a like grant is made in respect of property belonging to the same estate, identical with or including the property to which the former grant relates.

"19 D. The probate of the will, or the letters of administration of the effects, of any person deceased heretofore or hereafter granted shall be deemed valid and available by his executors or administrators for recovering, transferring or assigning any moveable or immoveable property whereof or whereto the deceased was possessed or entitled, either wholly or partially as a trustee, notwithstanding the amount or value of such property is not included in the amount or value of the estate in respect of which a Court-fee was paid on such probate or letters of administration.

Probates declared valid as to trust-property though not covered by Court-fee.

"19 E. Where any person on applying for probate or letters of administration has estimated the estate of the deceased to be of less value than the same has afterwards proved to be, and has in consequence paid too low a Court-fee thereon, the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority of the Province in which the probate or letters has or have been granted, Provision for case where too low a Court-fee has been paid on probates, &c.

may, on the value of the estate of the deceased being verified by affidavit or affirmation, cause the probate or letters of administration to be duly stamped on payment of the full Court-fee which ought to have been originally paid thereon in respect of such value and of the further penalty, if the probate or letters is or are produced within one year from the date of the grant, of five times, or if it or they is or are produced after one year from such date, of twenty times, such proper Court-fee, without any deduction of the Court-fee originally paid on such probate or letters:

Provided that if the application be made within six months after the ascertainment of the true value of the estate and the discovery that too low a Court-fee was at first paid on the probate or letters, and if the said Authority is satisfied that such fee was paid in consequence of a mistake or of its not being known at the time that some particular part of the estate belonged to the deceased, and without any intention of fraud or to delay the payment of the proper Court-fee, the said Authority may remit the said penalty, and cause the probate or letters to be duly stamped on payment only of the sum wanting to make up the fee which should have been at first paid thereon.

"19 F. In case of letters of administration on which too low a Court-fee has been paid at first, the said Authority shall not cause the same to be duly stamped in manner aforesaid until the administrator has given such security to the Court by which the letters of administration have been granted as ought by law to have been given on the granting thereof in case the full value of the estate of the deceased had been then ascertained.

Administrator to give proper security before letters stamped under section 19 E.

"19 G. Where too low a Court-fee has been paid on any probate or letters of administration in consequence of any mistake or of its not being known at the time that some particular part of the estate belonged to the deceased, if any executor or administrator acting under such probate or letters does not, within six months after the first day of April, 1875, or after the discovery of the mistake or of any effects not known at the time to have belonged to the deceased, apply to the said Authority and pay what is wanting to make up the Court-fee which ought to have been paid at first on such probate or letters, he shall forfeit the sum of one thousand rupees and also a further sum at the rate of ten rupees per cent. on the amount of the sum wanting to make up the proper Court-fee.

Executors, &c., not paying full Court-fee on probates, &c., within six months after discovery of underpayment.

"19 H. The provisions of sections 19 A to 19 G (both inclusive) shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to certificates granted under Act No. XL of 1858 (for making better provision for the care of the persons and property of Minors in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) or Act No. XX of 1864 (for making better provision for the care of the persons and property of Minors in the Presidency of Bombay) and to the holders of such certificates."

Sections 19A to 19G applied to certificates under Acts XL of 1858 and XX of 1864.

And whereas it is expedient in many cases that such investigations shall be made by persons more in number and of more varied qualifications:

And whereas it is also expedient to provide efficient means for enforcing the attendance of witnesses in such investigations and in trials under Act No. XII of 1859 (to make better provision for the trial of Pilots at the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal for breach of duty):

And whereas it is expedient to repeal Act No. XV of 1863 (to amend Act I of 1859) and to re-enact certain of its provisions with the amendments hereinafter appearing:

And whereas it is provided by Act No. X of 1841, sections two, fifteen, seventeen and twenty-three, that the persons guilty of the offences therein respectively mentioned shall be liable upon conviction by information by the Advocate General to the penalties therein respectively provided:

And whereas it is expedient to render the said penalties recoverable otherwise than on information by the Advocate General;—

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1875;"

Extent.

It extends to the whole of British India;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force at once.

Repeal of enactments.

2. Sections one hundred, one hundred and one and one hundred and two of Act I of 1859 and the whole of Act XV of 1863, are hereby repealed.

But every enquiry now pending, which has been commenced under any enactment so repealed, shall be deemed to have been commenced under this Act.

CHAPTER II.—Investigations into Losses of Ships and Charges against Masters, Mates or Engineers.

Notice of accidents to be given to Local Government.

3. In any of the cases following (namely):—

(a) whenever any ship is lost, abandoned or materially damaged on or near the coasts of India;

(b) whenever any ship causes loss or material damage to any other ship on or near such coasts;

(c) whenever by reason of any casualty happening to or on board of any ship on or near such coasts, loss of life ensues;

(d) whenever any such loss, abandonment, damage or casualty happens elsewhere to or on board any ship registered at any port or place in India, under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or under Act X of 1841;

the master, pilot, harbour-master, or other person in charge of the ship, or, in cases under clause (b) of this section, of each ship, at the time of the loss, abandonment, damage or casualty, or, where any ship above referred to arrives in British India, the person then in charge of her, shall, on arriving in British India, give immediate notice of such loss, abandonment, damage or casualty to the nearest Magistrate, or, if he arrive at any port, then to such officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf.

Any person bound to give notice under this section and wilfully failing to give the same shall be liable to fine not exceeding five hundred rupees and, in default of payment, to simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months.

The Magistrate or officer receiving such notice shall without delay communicate the same to the Local Government.

Power to appoint special Court of Enquiry.

4. If in any such case a formal investigation appears to the Local Government to be requisite or expedient, the Local Government (whether such notice be given or not) may appoint a special Court, consisting of not less than two nor more than four persons, to make such investigation, and may fix the place for making the same.

One of such persons shall be a Magistrate acting in or near the place where the investigation is made, another shall be some person conversant with maritime affairs. The other or others (if any) shall be conversant with either maritime or mercantile affairs.

Every Court having admiralty jurisdiction in India, and the principal Court of ordinary criminal jurisdiction at every port of British India where there is no Court having admiralty jurisdiction, is hereby authorised, at the instance of the Local Government, or of such officer as the Local Government may have empowered in this behalf, to investigate charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of any master, mate or engineer of any ship, who holds a certificate granted by the Board of Trade, or as to shipwreck or other casualties affecting ships.

Assessor.

Every such Court may, if it think fit, constitute as its assessor for the purposes of the investigation any person conversant with maritime affairs and willing to act as such assessor.

Such person shall attend during the investigation and deliver his opinion in writing to be recorded on the proceedings. But the decision of the case shall rest with the Court.

Communication to Court of grounds for charging Master, &c., with incompetency, &c.

6. If the Local Government has reason to think that there are grounds for charging any master, mate or engineer holding a certificate granted by the Board of Trade with incompetency or misconduct, it shall transmit a statement of such grounds to the Court making the investigation.

Communication of grounds of charge to certificate holder.

If the investigation involves a charge of incompetency or misconduct against any person holding such certificate as aforesaid, the Court shall, if practicable, before commencing the investigation cause the holder of such certificate to be furnished with a copy of the statement transmitted by the Local Government as aforesaid.

Powers of special Court.

8. For the purpose of the investigation the special Court, so far as relates to compelling the attendance and examination of witnesses and the production of documents and the regulation of the proceedings, shall have the same powers as if such investigation were a proceeding relating to an offence or cause of complaint upon which the said Magistrate has power to convict.

Procedure on discovery in course of investigation of grounds for charging with incompetency, &c.

9. If, in the course of an investigation under this Act by any of the Courts hereinbefore mentioned, it appears that there are grounds for charging with incompetency or misconduct any holder of such certificate as aforesaid not so charged by the Local Government, the Court may cause a statement of such grounds to be furnished to such holder, and may then commence an investigation into such charge of incompetency or misconduct.

Powers of Court in making investigation.

10. For the purpose of such investigation such Court may summon the master, mate or engineer to appear, and shall give him full opportunity of making a defence, either in person or otherwise, and may summon and examine witnesses.

14. Provided that no certificate shall be cancelled or suspended—

(a) unless the person holding the certificate has before the commencement of the investigation been furnished with a copy of the statement of the case upon which the investigation has been ordered;

15. If any Court making an investigation under this Act thinks it necessary for obtaining evidence that any person should be arrested, it may issue a warrant for his arrest, and may, for the purpose of effecting such arrest, authorize any officer (subject nevertheless to any general or special instructions from the Local Government) to enter any vessel.

Any officer so authorized to enter a vessel may, for the purpose of enforcing such entry, call to his aid any officers of police or customs, or any other persons, and may seize and detain the vessel for such time as is reasonably necessary to effect the arrest; and every such officer or other person shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, section one hundred and eighty-six.

No person shall be detained by virtue of this section for more than forty-eight hours.

Power to commit for trial.

16. Whenever in course of any investigation under this Act, it appears that any person has committed an offence punishable under any law in force in British India, the Court making the investigation may (subject to such rules consistent with this Act as the High Court may from time to time prescribe) cause him to be arrested, or commit him or hold him to bail to take his trial before the proper Court; and may bind over any person to give evidence at such trial, and may for the purposes of this section exercise all the powers of a Magistrate of the first class or of a Justice of the Peace:

(a) that the witness cannot be found within the jurisdiction of the Court before which the trial is held; and

(b) that it was made in the presence of the person accused.

A certificate by the Magistrate or presiding Judge that the deposition was made in the presence of the accused shall, unless the contrary be proved, be sufficient evidence that it was so made.

Chapter II applied to charges against holders of certificates from Local Government.

17. All the foregoing provisions of this Chapter, except such as require reports to and communications with the Board of Trade, or relate to the actual cancellation or suspension of certificates, shall be applicable also to charges of incompetency or misconduct against any Master, Mate or Engineer who holds a certificate granted by any Local Government.

CHAPTER III.—Suspension and Cancellation of Certificates granted by Local Governments.

Local Government may suspend or cancel certificates—

18. The Local Government may suspend or cancel the certificate (whether of competency or service) granted by such Local Government, or by any other Local Government, to any master, mate or engineer, in the following cases; (that is to say)—

(a) after investigation under this Act.

(a) If upon any investigation made under this Act, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to, any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by his wrongful act or default, or the master, mate or engineer is reported to be incompetent, or to have been guilty of any gross act of drunkenness, tyranny or other misconduct.

(b) after enquiry under Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or by Naval Court.

(b) If upon any enquiry made under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or the Merchant Shipping Amendment Act, 1862, or upon any enquiry made by a Naval Court constituted as is provided by any law for the time being in force, or upon any enquiry made by any Court or tribunal for the time being authorized in any British possession to enquire into charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of masters, mates or engineers of ships, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to, any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by the wrongful act or default of the Master, Mate or Engineer; or that he is incompetent, or has been guilty of any gross act of drunkenness, tyranny or other misconduct.

(c) after supersession.

(c) If he has been superseded by the order of any Admiralty Court, or of any Naval Court constituted as provided by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or by any other law for the time being in force.

(d) after conviction of any offence.

(d) If he is shown to have been convicted of any offence which, if committed in British India, would be non-bailable, or, if committed in England, would be a felony.

Provided that no certificate shall be suspended or cancelled under clause (a) of this section unless the Local Government is satisfied that the holder of the certificate had before, or within a reasonable time after, the commencement of the investigation notice of the nature of the charge made and established against him.

The Local Government may, if it thinks the justice of the case requires it, re-issue and return any certificate which has been cancelled or suspended under this section, or shorten the time for which it has been suspended, or grant a new certificate of the same or any lower grade in place of any certificate which has been cancelled or suspended.

Master, &c., to deliver up certificate.

19. Every master, mate or engineer whose certificate is cancelled or suspended under this Chapter, shall deliver it to the Shipping Master, or to such other person as the Local Government which cancelled or suspended the certificate directs, and in default shall, for each offence, incur a penalty not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Report to other Local Governments.

20. If the Local Government which cancels or suspends a certificate of a Master, Mate or Engineer is not the Local Government that granted the same, the Local Government so cancelling or suspending the certificate shall report the proceedings, and the fact of cancelment or suspension, to the Local Government which granted such certificate.

Report to Board of Trade.

21. Every Local Government cancelling or suspending under this Chapter the certificate of a Master, Mate or Engineer shall, as soon as may be practicable, report to the Board of Trade the fact of such cancellation or suspension.

Whenever it is reported to the Local Government that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to, any ship has been caused by the wrongful act or default of a Master, Mate or Engineer holding a certificate from the said Board, or that such Master, Mate or Engineer is incompetent or has been guilty of any gross act of drunkenness, tyranny or other misconduct, the Local Government, if it concur in such report, shall send a copy of the same to the Board of Trade.

Power to revoke cancellation or suspension.

22. Any Local Government may at any subsequent time revoke any order of cancelment or suspension which it may have made under this Act, or

Notice of every revocation and of every grant under this section shall, as soon as may be practicable, be reported to the Board of Trade.

Saving of powers conferred on certain Admiralty Courts.

Exercise of such powers by chief criminal Courts in Indian Ports.

The said powers may be exercised by the principal Court of ordinary criminal jurisdiction at any port in India where there is no Court having admiralty jurisdiction, if the Master, Mate or Engineer has received his certificate from any Local Government.

CHAPTER IV.—Agreements with Seamen.

Masters to enter into agreements with seamen.

And every such agreement shall be so framed as to admit of stipulations to be adopted at the will of the master and seaman in each case (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Act), as to advance of wages and supply of warm clothing, and may contain any other stipulations which are not contrary to law.

Provision where Lascars are shipped.

26. When it is agreed that the service of any lascar or other Native seaman shall end at any port not in India, the agreement shall, in addition to the particulars specified in section seventeen, contain stipulations for providing for him fit employment on board some other vessel bound to the port at which he was shipped, or such other port as may be agreed on, or for providing for him a passage to some such port as aforesaid free of charge, or on such other terms as may be agreed on; and every such stipulation shall be signed by the owner of the vessel, or by the master on his behalf.

EXPLANATION:—In this section the word 'seaman' includes also a Native of India carried to sea from any port in India as one of the crew of a ship.

Forms for British or Colonial ships.

27. If the master of any ship belonging to the United Kingdom or any British possession has an agreement with his crew, made in due form according to the law of the place to which such ship belongs, or in which her crew were engaged, and engages a single seaman in any port in India, such seaman may sign the agreement so made, and it shall not be necessary for him to sign an agreement under this Act.
