35. The Official Assignee shall examine the debtor personally as to his affairs, but shall not be bound to call any meeting of the creditors.

36. Unless the court otherwise orders, the petition shall be posted for further hearing on the third Monday after the first hearing, or if there be no court sitting on that day, on the next court day.

ORDER VI.

The First Hearing.

37. The Chief Clerk shall post the petition before the court on the first court day after presentation thereof, and the court may then make a vesting order, or an order of adjudication of an act of insolvency, and an order for the interim protection of the insolvent from arrest, and adjourn the further hearing of the petition, or may dismiss the petition, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

38. If the petition contains a prayer to this effect, the insolvent may apply orally to the court for an extension of the time for filing the schedule of creditors and assets, and the court may examine him as to the reasons for the delay, and may make such order as it thinks fit.

39. If an interim order of protection is recalled or revoked by the court, the insolvent shall forthwith bring into court any copy thereof which shall have been furnished to him by the Chief Clerk or other officer of the court, or shall file an affidavit accounting for its non-production; and in case of default, the Chief Clerk shall post the petition before the court for orders, and thereupon the court may dismiss the petition or make such order as it thinks fit.

ORDER VII.

Examination of Insolvent.

40. The Official Assignee shall hold a personal interview with the insolvent for the purpose of investigating his affairs, and shall examine him with respect to his property, and credits, and the debts due by him, and the causes of his insolvency.

41. The insolvent shall attend at such time and place, and produce such books of account, documents, papers and evidence, as the Official Assignee shall appoint or direct.

42. At the request of the Official Assignee, the insolvent shall furnish him with trading and profit and loss accounts, and a cash and goods account, for such period, not exceeding two years prior to the date of the vesting order, as the Official Assignee shall specify. Provided that the Court may order the insolvent to furnish such other or further accounts, and for such period, as it thinks fit.

ORDER VIII.

Proof of Debts.

43. Every creditor shall prove his debt as soon as may be after the making of a vesting order.

44. (1) The proof shall be by affidavit in Form No. 11 with such variations as circumstances may require, and may be delivered at the office of, or sent by post in a pre-paid envelope addressed to, the Official Assignee.

(2) The affidavit may be made by the creditor himself, or some person authorised by him, and in the last-mentioned case, shall state the authority and means of knowledge of the deponent.

(3) The affidavit shall contain or refer to a statement of account showing the particulars of the debt, and shall specify the vouchers, if any, by which the same can be sustained. The Official Assignee may at any time call for production of the vouchers.

45. (1) The affidavit shall state whether the creditor is, or is not, a secured creditor; and, if he is a secured creditor, shall state the particulars of the security, the date when it was given, and its value.

(2) If a secured creditor realises his security, he may prove for the balance due to him after accounting to the Official Assignee for the amount thereby realised.

(3) If a secured creditor surrenders his security to the Official Assignee for the general benefit of the creditors, he may prove for his whole debt.

(4) If a secured creditor does not either realise or surrender his security, he shall, before ranking for dividend, state in his proof the particulars of his security, the date when it was given, and the value at which he assesses it, and shall be entitled to receive a dividend only in respect of the balance due to him after deducting the value so assessed.

(5) Where a security is so valued the Official Assignee may at any time redeem it on payment to the creditor of the assessed value.

(6) If the Official Assignee is dissatisfied with the value at which a security is assessed, he may require that the property comprised in any security so valued be offered for sale at such times and on such terms and conditions as may be agreed on between the creditor and the Official Assignee, or as, in default of such agreement, the Court may direct. The creditor, or the Official Assignee on behalf of the estate, may bid at any such sale.

(7) If a creditor after having valued his security subsequently realises it, or if it is realised under the provisions of the preceding rule, the net amount realised shall be substituted for the amount of any valuation previously made by the creditor.

(8) Having regard to the net amount realised under the preceding rule, the creditor shall forthwith repay any surplus dividend which he may have received in excess of that to which he would have been entitled on the substituted valuation, or, as the case may be, shall be entitled to be paid out of any money for the time being available for dividend any dividend, or share of dividend which he may have failed to receive by reason of the inaccuracy of the original valuation, before that money is made applicable to the payment of any future dividend, but he shall not be entitled to disturb the distribution of any dividend declared before the date of the realisation.

(9) If a secured creditor does not comply with the foregoing rules he shall be excluded from all share in any dividend.

46. Unless the court otherwise orders, a creditor shall bear the costs of proving his debt.

47. Every creditor who has lodged a proof shall be entitled to inspect the proofs of other creditors at all reasonable times, in the office of the Official Assignee.

48. (1) The Official Assignee shall examine every proof and the grounds of debt, and in writing admit or reject it, in whole or in part, or require further evidence in support of it. If he rejects a proof, he shall state in writing to the creditor the grounds of the rejection.

(2) For the purpose of any of his duties in relation to proofs, the Official Assignee may administer oaths and solemn affirmations, and take affidavits.

49. If the Official Assignee thinks that a proof has been improperly admitted, the court may, on his application, after notice to the creditor who made the proof, expunge the same or reduce its amount.

50. A creditor who is dissatisfied with the decision of the Official Assignee in respect of a proof, of himself or of another creditor, or the insolvent, may apply to the court to reverse or vary his decision. Notice of the application shall be given to the Official Assignee, and to the creditor who made the proof, if he is not the applicant. The Court may thereupon expunge or reduce or increase the amount of the proof, or make such other order with respect thereto, and as to the costs of the application, as it thinks fit.

51. The Official Assignee shall upon receiving notice from a creditor or insolvent of his intention to apply to the Court with respect to a proof, file the proof with the Chief Clerk, with a memorandum of his decision thereon. After the hearing of the application, the proof, unless wholly disallowed, shall be returned to the Official Assignee.

52. Unless the Court otherwise orders, no application to reverse or vary the decision of the Official Assignee with respect to a proof shall be entertained after the expiration of 21 days from the date of such decision.

53. The Official Assignee shall not be personally liable for costs in relation to any application with respect to such decision as aforesaid.

ORDER IX.

54. The first meeting of creditors shall be summoned for a day not later than one month after the date of the vesting order, unless the Court directs that the meeting be summoned for a later day.

55. The meeting shall be held at the chambers of the Official Assignee, or at such place as is in his opinion most convenient for the majority of the creditors.

56. The Official Assignee may, at any time, summon a meeting of creditors, and shall do so whenever so directed by the Court, or so requested in writing by one-fourth in value of the creditors,

57. Meetings subsequent to the first meeting shall be summoned by sending notice of the time and place thereof to each creditor at the address given in his proof, or, if he has not proved, at the address given in the insolvent's schedule of creditors, or such other address as may be known to the Official Assignee.

58. The notices of any meeting shall be sent off not less than three days before the day appointed for the meeting, and may be delivered personally or sent by pre-paid post letter, as may be convenient. The Official Assignee may, if he thinks fit, also publish the time and place of any meeting in any local newspaper, or in the Fort St. George Gazette, or any District Gazette.

59. It shall be the duty of the insolvent to attend the first and every subsequent meeting, and any adjournment thereof, whether he has actual notice thereof or not. Notice of any meeting, subsequent to the first meeting, shall be sent to him at his address for service in manner aforesaid.

60. Where a meeting is called by notice, the proceedings had and resolutions passed thereat shall, unless the Court otherwise orders, be valid notwithstanding that any creditor has not received the notice sent to him.

61. A certificate of the Official Assignee that the notice of any meeting has been duly given shall be sufficient evidence of such notice having been duly sent to the person to whom the same was addressed.

62. Where, on the request of creditors, the Official Assignee calls a meeting, there shall be deposited with the written request the sum of Rs. 5 for every 20 creditors, for the costs of summoning the meeting, including all disbursements. Provided that, if the meeting is to be held at any place other than the High Court Buildings, the Official Assignee may require such further sum to be deposited as in his opinion shall be sufficient to cover the cost and expenses of the meeting.

63. The Official Assignee shall be the Chairman of any meeting.

64. (1) A creditor shall not be entitled to attend or vote at a meeting unless he has duly proved a debt to be due to him from the insolvent, and the proof has been lodged one clear day before the time appointed for the meeting.

(2) For the purpose of voting, a secured creditor shall, unless he surrenders his security, state in his proof the particulars of his security, the date when it was given and the value at which he assesses it, and shall be entitled to vote only in respect of the balance (if any) due to him, after deducting the value of his security. If he votes in respect of his whole debt, he shall be deemed to have surrendered his security.

(3) It shall be competent to the Official Assignee within twenty-eight days after a proof intimating the value of a security as aforesaid has been made use of in voting at any meeting, to require the creditor to give up the security for the benefit of the creditors generally on payment of the value so estimated.

(4) Where a creditor seeks to prove in respect of a bill of exchange, promissory note, or other negotiable instrument or security on which the insolvent is liable, such bill of exchange, note, instrument, or security must, subject to any special order of the Court made to the contrary, be produced to the Official Assignee, before the proof can be admitted for voting.

65. A creditor may attend and vote either in person or by proxy, and may give a general proxy to his attorney, or to his manager or clerk, or any other person in his regular employment, or to the Official Assignee.

66. The Official Assignee may adjourn the meeting from time to time, and from place to place, and no notice of the adjournment shall be necessary. Provided that the first meeting shall not ordinarily be adjourned to a day subsequent to that appointed for the hearing of the petition, unless the majority of the creditors have not been duly served with notice of the petition and of the meeting.

67. (1) At the first meeting of creditors the Official Assignee shall inform the creditors of the result of his personal interview with the insolvent, and make such observations upon the schedule filed by the insolvent, his accounts, the causes of his insolvency, the administration of his estate, and the affairs of the insolvent generally, as he may think fit. He may also further examine the insolvent with respect to his affairs, and may also, if he think fit, put to him any questions suggested by the creditors, with respect to the said matters.

(2) The Official Assignee may also take the opinion of the creditors as to the best method of realising the property and credits of the insolvent, and of administering his estate: in case of difference of opinion, he may take the votes of the creditors.

(3) If there are no available assets for taking any proceedings necessary for the administration of the estate, or otherwise, the Official Assignee may call upon the creditors to advance the necessary funds, or to indemnify him against the costs of such proceedings. Any assets realised by such proceedings shall be applied, in the first place, towards the repayment of the said advances, with interest thereon at 6 per cent. per annum.

68. The insolvent may also submit to a meeting of the creditors any proposal for a composition or scheme of arrangement, and the Official Assignee may take the opinion of the creditors thereon.

69. The Official Assignee shall draw up a minute of the proceedings at the meeting, and shall sign the same.

ORDER X.

The Hearing of the Petition.

70. Unless the Court otherwise orders, on the day appointed for the further hearing of the petition, and on any day to which the same may be adjourned, the insolvent shall attend the court in person, and the chief clerk shall report to the court whether the notices to the creditors have been duly served; and the Official Assignee shall report to the court the result of his interview with the insolvent, and of the meeting of the creditors, and upon the conduct of the insolvent, and generally with respect to all matters connected with the insolvency and the property of the insolvent.

71. (1) If the insolvent has made default in effecting service of notice, or in otherwise complying with the rules and orders of the court, or the requirements of the Official Assignee, or fails to appear, the court may dismiss the petition, or adjourn the further hearing, or make such order as it thinks fit.

(2) The insolvent may apply orally for substituted service of notice on any creditor who may be evading service, or for directions as to the service of notice on any creditor, and the court may make such order as it thinks fit.

72. A creditor who desires to oppose the petition, or that an order for interim protection may be recalled, shall bring into court, and serve upon the insolvent, a copy of a notice in Form No. 7, stating the grounds of his opposition, not less than three clear days before the day fixed for the hearing of the petition. Any grounds not included in the said notice shall not be considered, and a creditor who has not given notice as aforesaid shall not be entitled to be heard, in opposition to the petition or application of the insolvent: provided that the court may allow any such grounds to be gone into, or any creditor to be heard, on such terms as to payment of costs or otherwise, as it thinks fit.

73. The Chief Clerk shall enter the matters in which notice of opposition has been duly filed, in a separate list, together with the names of the opposing creditors.

ORDER XI.

Interlocutory applications.

74. The insolvent and any creditor who has proved his debt, may at any time when the matter is posted before the court for hearing, make any application orally to the court with reference thereto; but the court may in any case order that a formal application shall be made under the following rule.

75. Except where otherwise provided by the Act or these rules, all applications in a matter shall be made by notice of motion issued by the Chief Clerk, and served by the party, in manner prescribed by the rules of the High Court, 1902; provided that, unless otherwise ordered, notice shall be served not less than one clear day before the return-day.

Such inventory and appraisal shall be countersigned by and lodged with the Official Assignee.

77. 79. Applications by the Official Assignee to the court may be made personally and without notice or other formality, but the court may, in any case, order that an application shall be renewed formally under rule 75, and that such notice thereof be given to any person likely to be affected thereby as the court may direct.

80. Except where otherwise provided by the Act or these rules, evidence to be given by the Official Assignee may be given by his report to the court and need not be upon affidavit: and such report shall be prima facie evidence of the matter reported upon.

81. The Official Assignee shall, with respect to any immovable and movable property and credits of, and any business carried on by, the insolvent, have all the powers of a receiver and manager appointed by the High Court.

82. (1) If the Official Assignee is satisfied that the nature of the insolvent's estate or business, or the interests of the creditors generally, require the appointment of a special manager of any business or of a particular property, or credits of the insolvent, he may appoint a manager thereof with such powers (including any of the powers of a receiver) as may be entrusted to him by the Official Assignee.

86. The Official Assignee may, at any time, apply to the Chief Clerk to issue a garnishee summons, in Form No. 9, to any person (hereinafter called the garnishee) who is known or suspected to be in possession of, or to have under his power or control, any property of the insolvent, or to be indebted to the insolvent.

87. The insolvent, or any creditor who has proved his claim, may request the Official Assignee in writing to take out a garnishee summons against any such person as aforesaid, and, if he refuses or neglects so to do, may file in court an affidavit setting out the said request and refusal or neglect, and the residence and description of the garnishee, and in what manner and to what amount the garnishee is indebted to the insolvent, or in what manner and to what extent the insolvent and the garnishee are respectively interested in the property sought to be attached. 89. If the garnishee, two clear days before the return-day, pays to the Official Assignee the amount due from him to the insolvent, or delivers possession of the property of the insolvent to the Official Assignee, he shall not be liable for any costs incurred by the Official Assignee, or by the applicant.

90. If the garnishee disputes his liability, the Court may try any issue or question necessary for determining his liability, and may pass an order against the garnishee as in the preceding rule mentioned, or the Court may direct the Official Assignee to bring a suit or take any other proceedings, or may make such other order as it thinks fit.

93. The costs of any application or proceeding under this Order shall be in the discretion of the Court, and the Court may direct that the costs of any party shall be paid by the Official Assignee in priority to other claims against the estate of the insolvent, or shall be added to the claim of the applicant.

ORDER XIV.

Declaration of Dividends.

94. Whenever the Official Assignee is of opinion that the assets in his hands to the credit of any estate admit of a declaration of a dividend he shall file in the Chief Clerk's office an affidavit verifying his account of the estate as required by section 41 of the Act.

95. Such affidavit, if for the first dividend, shall be filed within twelve months of the date of the vesting order, unless the Official Assignee satisfies the Court that there is sufficient reason for postponing the filing to a later date.

96. Upon such affidavit being duly filed, the Chief Clerk shall forthwith appoint a day for the declaration of a dividend, being a day not less than one month from the date of the filing of the affidavit, and shall notify the same to the Official Assignee.

97. The Chief Clerk shall forthwith give notice to the creditors in Form No. 12, published by two advertisements in the Fort St. George Gazette.

98. The Official Assignee upon filing the said affidavit shall give notice at the same time to such of the creditors mentioned in the insolvent's schedule as have not proved their debts. Such notice shall be in Form No. 13 and specify the latest date up to which proofs must be lodged, which shall be not less than seven days from the date of such notice.

98A. The Official Assignee shall within seven days after the date mentioned in such notice admit or reject in writing every proof which has not been already admitted or rejected and forthwith give notice in writing to the creditor whose proof he has rejected.

99. When a creditor whose proof has been rejected under the foregoing rule appeals against such rejection, such appeal shall, unless the Court extends the time, be filed and notice thereof given to the Official Assignee within seven days from the date of the notice of such rejection, and rule 52 shall not apply to such appeal.

100. Before the day appointed for the declaration of the dividend the Official Assignee shall file in Court a proportion account in Form No. 14.

101. Upon the day appointed for the declaration of dividends the court shall hear, and determine all objections to the schedule of the insolvent and to the accounts of the Official Assignee and all appeals pending under rule 99, or may adjourn the hearing of the same.

102. Upon such day the Court may declare a dividend in terms of the proportion account filed by the Official Assignee and direct payment thereof, or may include therein such rejected proofs as the Court may allow, and make provision for dividends upon proofs the determination of which has been adjourned or referred and the costs thereof, in the event of their being admitted, and thereupon may make such consequential amendments in the proportion account as may be necessary, and declare a dividend on such amended proportion account, or may direct the Official Assignee to file an amended proportion account and adjourn the declaration of a dividend to the next court day, or may make such other order as may be just.

103. Immediately upon the declaration of a dividend the Official Assignee shall send a dividend notice to each creditor whose proof has been admitted in Form No. 15 specifying the time and place for the payment thereof, and stating that if they do not receive their dividend within three months from the date of the said notice the said dividend will be deposited with the Accountant-General.

104. Every creditor shall immediately after the declaration of a dividend apply in person or in writing to the Official Assignee for the payment thereof to him or his duly constituted agent.

105. Subject to the power of the Court in any case on special grounds to order production to be dispensed with every bill of exchange, promissory note, hundi, or other negotiable instrument or security upon which proof has been made shall be exhibited to the Official Assignee before payment of dividend thereon, and the amount of dividend paid shall be endorsed on the instruments.

106. The Official Assignee shall certify to the Court the sums due to the creditors who have not applied for their dividends, and the Court may direct the Official Assignee to keep such dividend to the credit of his dividend account for a period not exceeding three months and after the expiration of such period to pay such sums to the Accountant-General and that such sums shall be invested by the Accountant-General in Government securities and carried to the credit of the unclaimed dividend account in his hands, or make such other order as it may think fit.

107. At any time before the expiration of the said period the Official Assignee may pay the sum due to any creditor to him or to the attorney or agent nominated by him, but after the expiration thereof he shall pay the same only under an order of the Court made on the application of the creditor upon notice to the Official Assignee.

108. In the case of all dividends remaining unclaimed for three months from the date of declaring the same, the Official Assignee shall cause notice thereof to be given by posting in his office and upon the Court notice-board a list containing the serial numbers of the petitions, the names of the insolvents, and of the creditors to whom dividends are payable, and the amounts of such dividends.

ORDER XV

V. (1) When an insolvency petition presented by a creditor is admitted, the creditor shall within seven days thereafter furnish a copy of the petition for service on the debtor or, if there are more debtors than one, as many copies as there are debtors, and the chief ministerial officer of the Court shall sign the copy or copies if on examination he finds them to be correct.

(2) The copy shall be served together with the notice of the order fixing the date for hearing the petition on the debtor or upon the person upon whom the Court orders notice to be served.

Particulars in debtor's petition. VI. The particulars to be given under section 11 (1) of the Act shall be in Form No. 2.

VII. If a debtor against whom an insolvency petition has been admitted dies before the hearing of the petition, the Court may order that notice of the order fixing the date for hearing the petition shall be served on his legal representative or on such other person as the Court may think fit in the manner provided for the service of summons.

VIII. (1) Unless otherwise ordered all claims shall be proved by affidavit in Form No. 3 in the manner provided in section 25 of the Act, provided that before admitting any claim the Court may call for further evidence.

4. Transfer and Distribution of Cases.—It shall be the duty of the other Presidency Magistrates to inform the Chief Presidency Magistrate of any unusual stress of business in their Courts and thereupon or of his own motion, the Chief Presidency Magistrate shall provide for such distribution or transfer of cases as will tend to prevent the disposal of any one case being unduly delayed by stress of business in a particular Court.

(1) If, in any case there exist special circumstances, which in the opinion of any party concerned or interested in such case, require a departure from the ordinary procedure prescribed by these rules, such party may bring such special circumstances to the notice of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, who shall thereupon make such lawful order in the matter as he shall think fit.

5. Complaints, applications for process, &c.—Ordinary applications for process, copies, certificates, &c., are to be made to the Magistrates on their first taking their seats on the Bench in the morning. (iv) Subpoenas for witnesses must be applied for three clear days before the day of hearing, unless the Magistrate sees reason to order otherwise. (v) Applications for subpoenas will not ordinarily be received after 1 p.m. Any emergent application made subsequent to that hour should be brought to the notice of the Magistrate for orders.

6. Copying fees.—Copies of records will be granted to persons authorized to receive them upon payment of the copying and examining charges, which will be levied in the form of two-anna copy stamp papers, at the rate of one paper for every 175 words or fraction thereof, except in cases where, under the law, such copies should be furnished free of cost. The payment of these charges does not affect the payment of fees under the Court-fees Act, or the exemptions from such payment, when the copies are exhibited in Court. No suitor or pleader will be allowed to make copies of records either personally or by agent.

(i) Translations made by the Court interpreters will be charged for at As. 8 per 90 words or fraction thereof. (ii) Applications for copies of records must bear a Court-fee stamp, value one anna. Forms can be obtained on application to the Chief Clerk.

7. Reports, returns, and record of cases.—The Magistrates shall submit such forms, records, reports and returns as may be called for by the Chief Presidency Magistrate.

8. Benches of Magistrates.—(i) The Chief Presidency Magistrate may, of his own motion or on the application of any Presidency Magistrate, refer any case or classes of cases, triable by a Presidency Magistrate, for trial by a Bench of two or more Magistrates; and may, by his order, appoint the time and place at which such Bench shall sit.

(ii) The Chief Presidency Magistrate shall, if present, officiate as chairman. In his absence, the Senior Magistrate present shall officiate as chairman. (iii) The chairman shall conduct the proceedings of the Court and exercise all the functions in that behalf usually exercised by a Presidency Magistrate when sitting alone; but it shall be competent to any member of the Bench to put any question to a witness either direct or through the chairman as the latter may deem advisable, and to suggest any matter for the chairman's consideration. (iv) Each member of the Bench shall have a voice in the finding and sentence. In a Bench of three or other uneven number, the opinion of the majority shall prevail. When the numbers are even, the chairman shall have a casting vote. (v) In regard to the recording of evidence and the judgment, the proceedings shall be conducted in a manner similar to proceedings before a single Magistrate and subject to the provisions of Act V of 1898.

WILLS: TESTATORS AND EXECUTORS.

REASONS FOR MAKING A WILL.—Every man having a wife and family should make his will. However small his estate, however remote may seem the probability of death, however confident that his property will pass to those he most wishes to benefit, it is an imperative duty in most cases, and is safer in every case, to protect the interest of the survivors by means of a will, and by the appointment of one or more trustworthy persons to carry his wishes into effect. When persons die intestate, having foolishly put off making a will until it is too late, their negligence may deprive those for whom they were most anxious of the very benefits which had demanded a life-long struggle to provide. Thus a widow may find, to her grievous disappointment, that the estate, a life policy perhaps, or a few hundreds in shares, is not all hers, but has to be shared with a distant cousin of her husband's, whose name perhaps she had never before heard. Or it may be the eldest son of an intestate ousting all his brothers and sisters from possession of the real estate, or an improvident or unbusinesslike nearest relative may claim to administer the estate. Instances might be multiplied in which negligence, or unreasoning dislike to making a will, becomes an irreparable crime against those who have the first claim to protection. The help of a lawyer in making a will is not in every case essential, but it is always advisable, particularly where there is a desire on a testator's part to provide for his property being "settled" as it is called—e.g., the income being paid to his widow for her life, or until remarriage, and on her death or remarriage the capital being divided among his children equally. The tying-up or postponing the enjoyment of income or capital requires the skill of a practised lawyer. Assuming that a lawyer is not employed, a person having resolved to make a will must not regard it as a light matter, to be got rid of in a few minutes, like writing a letter, but one demanding the most serious attention. It is only after a person is dead, and cannot explain his meaning, that his will can be open to dispute. It is the more necessary, therefore, to express what is meant in language of the utmost clearness, avoiding the use of any word or expression that seems to admit of another meaning than the one intended. The lawyers have a maxim that the unforeseen (i.e., the event not provided for) always happens. It is better to be prolix than to leave the smallest room for doubt or uncertainty, although the same name or word be repeated over and over again. Sounding phrases are entirely out of place. Avoid the use of "legal terms," such as "heirs" and "issue" when the same thing may be expressed in plain language. If in writing the will a mistake be made it is better to re-write the whole. Before a will is executed, that is, signed by the testator in presence of two witnesses, an alteration may be made by striking through the words with a pen, but opposite to such alteration the testator and witnesses should write their names or place their initials. Never scratch out a word with a knife or other instrument, and no alteration of any kind whatsoever must be made after the will is executed. If the testator afterwards wishes to change the disposition of his estate, it is better to make a new will revoking the old one, or to add a codicil to the first, which must be duly executed and attested in the same manner as the original will. A will should be written in ink and very legibly on a single sheet of paper. Although, of course, forms of wills must vary to suit different cases, the following directions may be found useful to those who, in cases of emergency, are called upon to draw up wills, either for themselves or others:—

TESTATOR OR TESTATRIX.—The person who makes the will is the testator, or if the will-maker be a woman, the testatrix.

ESTATE.—By this word is to be understood property of all kinds, both real and personal. Real property includes titles and advowsons, as well as freehold lands and houses; while personal property includes debts due, arrears of rents, money, leasehold property, house furniture, goods, assurance policies, stock in public companies, and the like.

RESIDUARY LEGATEES.—It is well in all cases to leave to some person or persons "the residue of my estate and effects," although it may be thought that the whole of the property has been disposed of in legacies already mentioned in the will. It should be remembered that a will operates on property acquired after it has been made.

TO BEGIN A WILL.—A form in which a will may be commenced is:—"This is the last will of me, Thomas Smith, of Vine Cottage, Murrays Road, Vepery, Madras.

TO END A WILL.—After disposing of the property, the will may be ended as follows:—"And I revoke all former wills and codicils. Dated this tenth day of December 1903."

EXECUTION OF A WILL.—The testator should sign his name at the foot or end of the will, in presence of two witnesses, who will immediately sign their names in his and in each other's presence. A person who has been left a legacy or share of residue in the will, or whose wife or husband has been left a legacy, should not be an attesting witness. Their attestation would be good, but they would forfeit the legacy. It is better that a person named as executor should not be a witness. Husband and wife may both be witnesses, provided neither is a legatee. If a solicitor be appointed executor, it is lawful to direct that his ordinary fees and charges shall be paid; but in this case he (as an interested party) must not be a witness to the will.

ATTESTING EXECUTION.—Opposite to or beneath the testator's signature should be written the attestation clause. The following form of attestation will be found sufficient:—

THOMAS SMITH
[Signature of Testator.]

Signed by the testator [or testatrix, as the case may be], in the presence of us, both present at the same time who in his [or her] presence and in the presence of each other have hereunto set our names as witnesses.

William Jones, Clerk, of Palm Cottage, Egmore, Madras.
Henry Morgan, Accountant, of Parklands, Nungambakam High Road, Madras.

It is desirable that the witnesses should be fully described, as they may possibly be wanted at some future time. If the testator should be too ill to sign, even by a mark, another person may sign the testator's name to the will for him, in his presence and by his direction, and in this case it should be shown that the testator knew the contents of the document. The attestation clause should therefore be worded: "Signed by Thomas Brown, by the direction and in the presence of the testator, Thomas Smith, in the joint presence of us, who thereupon signed our names in his presence and in the presence of each other, the will having been first read over to the testator, who appeared fully to understand the same." If the testator be blind the will should be read aloud to him in the presence of the witnesses, and the fact mentioned in the attestation clause. If by inadvertence the testator should have signed his will without the witnesses being present, then the attestation should be:—"The testator acknowledged his signature already made as his signature to his last will and testament, in the joint presence," &c. Any omission in the observance of these details causes delay and expense, and sometimes great difficulty is experienced in procuring an affidavit by one of the attesting witnesses before the will can be admitted to Probate.

CODICIL.—When any change is required to be made in the disposition of property as stated in the will, the change should be embodied in a codicil. A codicil should begin:—"This is a codicil to the will of me, Thomas Smith, of Murrays Road, Vepery, Madras, the said will bearing date," &c. A codicil must be dated at the end, and signed and witnessed with exactly the same formalities as the will.

EXECUTORS.—It is usual to appoint two executors, although one is sufficient. The name and address of each executor should be given in full, as follows:—"I appoint John Jones, Booksellers, of 499, Mount Road, Madras, and Edward Matthews, Engineer, of Avondale House, St. Thome, Madras, executors of this my will." An executor may be a legatee under the will. Thus a child or wife to whom the whole or a portion of the estate is left may be appointed sole executor, or one of two executors. The addresses of the executor are not necessary if it is well known who are the persons intended; but it is desirable, then as elsewhere, to avoid ambiguity or vagueness.

APPOINTMENT OF TRUSTEES.—The form of appointment of executors will also serve when the estate is left in care of trustees, except that the persons should be designated "executors and trustees."

TRUSTS OF THE WILL.—When the estate is wholly for the children, the will may read after the appointment of the executors and trustees:—"I give and devise all my estate and effects, real and personal, of which I may die possessed or entitled to, unto the said John Jones and Edward Matthews, upon trust in equal shares for all or any of my children or child living at my death who being sons or a son attain the age of 21 years or being daughters or a daughter attain that age or marry. And for all or any of the children or child living at my death, who being male attain the age of 21 years or being female attain that age or marry of any child of mine who dies in my lifetime leaving children or a child living at my death, such last-mentioned children or child to take the share or shares which their parent would have taken if living at my death, and so that no grand-child of mine shall take whose parent is living and capable of taking." Where the widow is to have a life-interest use the following words: "upon trust for my wife during her life [or during her widowhood] and after her death [or second marriage, which first happens] upon trust in equal shares for all or any of my children or child," &c., as before. The words in square brackets will only be used where the widow is to lose her interest if she marries again.

WHO CANNOT MAKE A WILL.—A minor cannot make a will. A woman married before the 1st of January, 1863, can make a will with her husband's consent; but without such consent she can only (under the Married Women's Property Act) bequeath property accruing to her after that date except in certain circumstances, respecting which it is advisable to consult a solicitor. But a woman married after that date can dispose by will of all property belonging to her at the time of her marriage, and of all property acquired thereafter, in all respects as if she were an unmarried woman.

REVOCATION.—A will is revoked by a subsequent will (but only so far as such subsequent will operates as a virtual revocation, as by making other provisions inconsistent with the previous will; for this reason a will should always have a clause revoking previous testamentary disposition), or by burning, tearing, or otherwise destroying the same. It is not sufficient to obliterate the will with a pen. Marriage in every case acts as the revocation of a will: so that after marriage the old will should be re-acknowledged, or a new one made.

Lapsed Legacies.—If a legatee die in the lifetime of the testator, the legacy or share of residue lapses and falls into the residue, excepting only in cases where the legatee is a child or "other issue" of the testator and leaves issue living at the testator's death, and the will does not provide for the class of children or issue being ascertained at some period other than the death of the testator. For instance, if a share of residue is left to "all my children living at my wife's death," the share of a child who died in the wife's lifetime would lapse even though the child should leave issue.

TO ONE PERSON ABSOLUTELY.—When it is the intention to leave all the property to one person, as for instance a wife or child, the will may read:—"I devise and bequeath all my estate and effects, real and personal, which I may die possessed of or entitled to, unto my wife Mary Smith, absolutely."

TO CHILDREN UNDER AGE.—When estates are left wholly or in part to children under the age of 21 years, trustees should be appointed to hold the property in trust for those to whom it will ultimately belong. The trustees will have power to apply the annual income for their maintenance. A wife may be appointed a trustee, or may be sole trustee. It is also usual to appoint the executors, or some near relative, guardians of children under age. By the Guardianship of Infants Act, 1896, the mother of a child, if she survives the father, becomes the guardian of such child, either alone, if no guardian is appointed, or jointly with any guardian appointed by the father.

ALL PROPERTY TO BE INVESTED.—Executors and trustees may be empowered to sell and dispose of an estate, and after the payment of all just debts and expenses to invest the remainder. For this purpose the section headed "Trust Investments" should be consulted.

The stringency of the law as to the due execution of wills is only relaxed in favour of sailors and soldiers while on service. The law of wills is mostly contained in the Wills Act, 1 Vict. c. 27.

ADMINISTRATORS.—If an executor has not been appointed in the will, or if the executor be dead, or does not wish to act, the residuary legatee nearest of kin to the deceased, or a legatee under the will is entitled to act and administer the will, and is called administrator.

The whole of the Scheduled Districts of the Madras Presidency enumerated in Part I, of the First Schedule annexed to Act XIV of 1874, except the revenue taluq of Bhadrachalam is exempted from the operation of the Act.—(Vide Notification published in Fort St. George Gazette, dated 28th November 1905, Part I, page 991.)

The Act has been applied to the Province of Mysore and to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Cantonment of Secunderabad by the Governor-General in Council.—(Notifications, 27th June 1877, Foreign Department, Simla, 20th July 1871, No. 146.)

What documents must be registered.

The registration of the following documents is compulsory :—

i.—Instruments of gift.
ii.—Other non-testamentary instruments which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent, of the value of 100 rupees and upwards to or in immovable property.

iii.—Non-testamentary instruments which acknowledge the receipt or payment of any consideration on account of the creation, declaration, assignment, limitation, or extinction of any such right, title or interest.

Nothing in clauses ii. and iii. of this paragraph applies to any Composition Deed, nor to any instrument relating to shares in a Joint Stock Company, notwithstanding that the assets of such Company consist in whole or in part of immovable property, nor to any debenture issued by any such Company and not creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest to or in immovable property except in so far as it entitles the holder to the security afforded by a registered instrument whereby the Company has mortgaged, conveyed or otherwise transferred the whole, or part of its immovable property or any interest therein to Trustees upon trust for the benefit of the holders of such debentures nor to any endorsement upon or transfer of any debenture issued by any such Company, nor to any document not itself creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest of the value of 100 rupees and upwards to or in immovable property, but merely creating a right to obtain another document which will when executed create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any such right, &c., nor to decrees and orders of Courts and awards, grants of immovable property by Government, instruments of partition made by Revenue Officers, orders granting loans, and instruments of collateral security granted under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, or orders granting loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884, and instruments for securing the repayment of loans made under that Act, or any endorsement on a mortgage deed acknowledging the payment of the whole or any part of the mortgage money, and any other receipt for payment of money due under a mortgage when the receipt does not purport to extinguish the mortgage, or a certificate of sale granted to the purchaser of any property sold by public auction by a Civil or Revenue officer.

iv.—All Leases* of immovable property except (1) agricultural leases for a term not exceeding one year, and (2) agricultural leases executed in any district of the Madras Presidency, the terms granted by which do not exceed 5 years, and the annual rents reserved by which do not exceed 50 rupees. The "Pattahs" granted by Zemindars to their ryots, as well as the "Mutchikkas" (or counterparts) executed by the ryots under Section 3 of Act VIII of 1865, are defined to be leases for the purposes of the Registration Act, and all those not coming within the terms of the preceding exceptions, if executed after the 1st July 1871, must be registered.

v.—Authorities to adopt a son, executed after the 1st January 1872, and not conferred by a Will.

vi.—Deeds of sale and Mortgage of immovable property of value less than Rs. 100 are also compulsorily registrable under the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.

2. No person having a nephew or niece, or any nearer relative, has power to bequeath any property to religious or charitable uses except by a Will executed not less than twelve months before his death, and deposited within six months from its execution in a Registry office. This is not applicable to Hindus, Mahomedans or Buddhists.—(Indian Succession Act, No. X of 1865, sections 105 and 331.)

What other documents may be registered.

3. The registration of the following documents is optional :—

i.—Instruments (other than instruments of gifts and Wills) which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent, of a value of less than 100 rupees to or in immovable property.

iv.—Instruments, other than Wills, which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any right, title or interest, to or in movable property.

v.—Wills.

* Lease includes a counterpart, a Kabulyat, an undertaking to cultivate or occupy, an agreement to lease.

- vi.—All other documents, not required by section 17 to be registered.
1. But although the registration of these documents is not compulsory, the advantages of registering them are—
- i.—That all documents, not testamentary, duly registered and relating to any property, whether movable or immovable, take effect against any oral agreement or declaration relating to such property, unless where the agreement or declaration has been accompanied or followed by delivery of possession.
- ii.—That every document of the kinds mentioned in clauses i. ii. iii and vi. of paragraph 1, and clauses i and ii of paragraph 3, if duly registered, takes effect as regards the property comprised therein against every unregistered instrument relating to the same property, and not being a decree or order, whether such unregistered document be of the same nature as the registered document or not.
- iii.—The period of limitation for a suit on a promise or contract in writing registered, and for the execution of any decree or order of any Civil Court of which a certified copy has been registered under the Registration Act, is six years instead of three (Nos 117 and 168, 2nd Schedule, Limitation Act, IX of 1871).

Deposit of Wills.

5. Any testator may either personally or by duly authorized agent, deposit with any Registrar his Will in a sealed cover superscribed with the name of the testator and that of his agent (if any) and with a statement of the nature of the document.

Description required in document relating to immovable property.

6. "No document, not testamentary, relating to immovable property, shall be accepted for registration unless it contains a description of such property sufficient to identify the same.
- i.—"Houses in towns shall be described as situate on the north or other side of the street or road (mentioning it) to which they front, and by their existing and former occupancies, and by their numbers, if the houses in such street or road are numbered. Other houses and lands shall be described by their name, if any, and as being in the territorial division in which they are situate, and by their superficial contents, the roads and other properties on which they abut, and their existing occupancies, and also, whenever it is practicable, by reference to a Government map or survey.
- ii.—"No document, not testamentary, containing a map or plan of any property comprised therein, shall be accepted for registration unless it be accompanied by a true copy of the map or plan, or, in case such property is situate in several districts, by such number of true copies of the map or plan as are equal to the number of such districts."
- (a) Where it is in the opinion of the Local Government practicable to describe houses, not being houses in towns, and lands by reference to Government map or survey, the Local Government may, by rule, require that such houses and lands as aforesaid shall, for purposes of No. 6, be so described.
- The following rules have been sanctioned by the Madras Government under clause (a) and are in force in all surveyed tracts in the Madras Presidency:—
- (1) Every non-testamentary document presented for registration and relating to land shall, if the land comprises one or more entire survey fields or sub-divisions, specify the number of each field or sub-division as given in the Government village map.
- (2) If the land has no separate number assigned to it in the Government village map, the document shall specify the number assigned in such village map to the survey field or sub-division in which the land is situated, together with such description of the land as is sufficient for its identification.
- (b) Save as otherwise provided by any rule made under (a); failure to comply with the provisions contained in clause (i) of this paragraph will not disentitle a document to be registered if the description of the property is sufficient to identify such property.
7. "The term 'territorial division,' as used in the Indian Registration Act, 1877, shall, as far as practicable, include—

- (1) The Registration District.
- (2) The Registration Sub-District.
- (3) The Taluk, Jaghire, Zemindary or Proprietary Estate.
- (4) Any well known division thereof, such as a Mootah, Hoondah, Khundum, Firka, Magany, Amshom, &c., and
- (5) The village, hamlet, or suburb in which the property referred to in a registrable document is situated."

But if the property is described in the document relating thereto by a specific reference to a registered instrument, in which the above particulars and sufficient description of the property are already given, they need not be repeated.

Time prescribed for Registration.

8. No document, other than a Will, "shall be accepted for registration unless presented for that purpose to the proper officer within four months from the date of its execution; Or in the case of a copy of a decree or order, within four months from the day on which the decree or order was made, or, where it is appealable, within four months from the day on which it becomes final:

Provided that, where there are several persons executing a document at different times; such document may be presented for registration and re-registration within four months from the date of each execution."

If owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident, the presentation is not made within the prescribed time, the Registrar, where the delay does not exceed four months; may direct acceptance on payment of a fine not exceeding ten times the proper registration fee.

When a document purporting to have been executed by all or any of the parties out of British India, is not presented till after the expiration of four months, the registering officer if satisfied—

- (1) that the instrument was so executed, and
- (2) that it has been presented for registration within four months after its arrival in British India, may, on payment of the proper registration fee, accept such document for registration. A Will may at any time be presented for registration, or deposited.

9. No document, other than a Will, shall be registered unless the persons executing such document, or their representatives, assigns, or authorized agents appear before the registering officer within the time allowed for presentation under sections 23, 24, 25 and 26:

Such appearances may be simultaneous or at different times; Provided, further, that it is not necessary for any officer of Government, or for the Administrator-General of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or for any Official Trustee, or for the Sheriff, Receiver or Registrar of a High Court or Official Assignee, to appear in person or by Agent at any Registration Office in any proceeding connected with the registration of any instrument executed by him in his official capacity.

(f) In the case of all other documents in which neither the consideration for the transaction nor the value of the property affected is expressed, or in which it is only partially expressed, the value shall be the maximum amount which the stamp borne by the document shall suffice to cover, if the document is one which is liable to stamp duty at ad valorem rates. BOAT RULES FOR MADRAS PORT.

Rules made by the Government of Madras under section 6 of the Indian Ports Act, 1889 (X of 1889), for licensing and regulating catamarans plying for hire, and for cargo passenger and other boats plying, whether for hire or not and whether regularly or only occasionally, in, or partly within and partly without, the Port of Madras, and for determining the quantity of cargo or the number of passengers to be carried by any such vessels.

No person, either as owner or servant, shall use any boat (other than catamarans plying for hire) to carry goods or passengers to or from any ship or vessel at the port, as defined for the time being, or from place to place within the limits of the port, unless such person shall hold a license—vide Appendix A—granted by the registering officer so to use such boat, and unless the boat so used shall have been registered. This rule is not to be considered as interfering with boats forming part of a vessel's equipment or maintained solely for purposes of pleasure.

2. Should the owner of a boat be a minor, the license may be obtained by the guardian of the minor. Should the owner of a boat be a female, who owing to the custom of the country cannot appear in public, the license may be obtained on her behalf by her duly constituted agent. In such cases the guardian or the agent shall be deemed to be the owner for the purposes of these rules.

Owners of licensed boats shall supply the tindal of each of their registered boats with the boat's license, which shall be kept in the boat when plying and shall be produced at any time when demanded by any duly authorised person. A printed copy of these rules, and of any written directions issued by the registering officer for carrying the same into effect, shall be supplied by the owner to the tindal, and shall be shown by such tindal to any consignor or passenger by such boat who shall demand to see them.

4. Every boat being a steam launch having engines of under 50 nominal horse-power shall, when plying whether for hire or not, have on board in charge of the engines a person possessing a certificate of competency as an engine-driver granted under the Indian Steam Ships Act, 1884, or under the Inland Steam Vessels Act, 1884. When application is made to the registering officer for a license for a steam launch, of which the owner or master does not hold a certificate of Survey under the Indian Steam Ships Act, 1884, or the Inland Steam Vessels Act, 1884, the application shall be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 25.

5. Every boat used for the purpose of fishing not being a catamaran, shoe-dhonic or canoe used exclusively for fishing shall be registered and the owner or owners of every such boat shall obtain a license, and every such boat shall carry on one of its sails and on each of its sides, a number to be assigned to it by the registering officer at the time of registration, together with the name of the port at which it was registered, and no person shall use any such boat for the purpose of fishing until it has been registered and a license obtained for it and a number and port name have been placed upon it as described above. Registration and licensing for fishing in one port shall free every such boat for fishing in all other ports in the Madras Presidency.

6. Every owner of a registered boat, not being a catamaran, shoe-dhonic or canoe used exclusively for fishing, shall paint upon a white ground, in black English figures not less than six inches in length, on a conspicuous part of the bow of such boat on one side and of the quarter on the other, the number and tonnage of such boat as given in the register and in his license. The number of the boat shall be placed over the figure of the tonnage, a space of not less three inches dividing the two—example 27. No person shall paint or cause to be painted or counterfeited upon any boat not duly registered any such figures as aforesaid or other mark likely to induce the belief that such boat has been registered.

7. For the better prevention of fraud and omission in figuring registered boats, the number and tonnage of each boat on it being registered shall be cut or branded thereon in Tamil characters and the owner or owners of every such boat shall keep cut or branded and painted on his or their boat the English and Tamil registered figures and shall not hide or obliterate them or any of them. No person, whether an owner of a registered boat or boats or not shall alter or erase, or shall assist in altering or erasing any such figures as aforesaid. On the license granted in respect of a registered boat being withdrawn, all numbers painted or branded on such boat shall be effaced by the owner.

8. No boat which has (a) changed ownership, or (b) been mortgaged or been out of the owner's control, shall ply without in case (a) obtaining a fresh license, or in case (b) having the license, endorsed by the registering officer within 6 days after the change of possession.

9. Whenever the tindal of any registered boat or the number of its crew shall be changed, or any alteration in the boat shall be made so as to affect any of the particulars contained in the license granted for it, such change or alteration shall be reported within 48 hours after it has occurred, by the owner or owners, of such boat to the registering officer, who will amend such license, except in cases in which such alteration affects the carrying capacity of such boat, in which cases the boat shall be remeasured and the original license held by the owner or owners thereof shall be cancelled and a fresh license be issued, and no such boat shall ply until such fresh license shall have been issued. If a boat is absent from the port at the time when such change takes place, the change should be reported within 48 hours of its return to the port.

10. The owner of every registered boat shall be required to produce the tindal and crew of his boat, whenever required, by the registering officer, for the purpose of their being registered in a book—vide Appendix B.—to be kept for the purpose. Except with the permission of the registering officer no person shall be employed as a tindal or boatman in a registered boat until he has been registered by the registering officer on the application of the owner of a registered boat.

Provided that if the boat is absent from the port on the date fixed, the owner shall produce the tindal or boatmen within 24 hours after it has returned.

11. All owners of registered boats shall submit their boats together with their licenses for inspection every year during the month of January. In addition to the January general inspection, special or partial inspections may be held by the registering officer or by any person duly authorised by him, at any times he may consider necessary. At these musters each boat shall have its full complement of crew and equipment, and no person who, in the opinion of the registering officer, is unaccustomed to the use of boats, or is inefficient, shall be employed either as a tindal or as a boatman.

12. Owners of registered boats shall execute such repairs to their boats as the inspecting officer shall direct in order to render them efficient, and no owner or other person shall use any such boat until such repairs shall have been duly executed thereto and the registering officer shall have granted permission for their use.

13. The owner or owners of a registered boat shall provide the boat with such full complement of crew and with such equipment as may have been determined upon by the registering officer and noted in the license. The tindal of the boat shall see that the boat, when plying and underweigh, is manned by the full complement of crew prescribed in the license and, if so required, he shall carry the full number of passengers or quantity of goods or both entered in the license granted in respect of the boat of which he is in charge.

14. The owner or owners of a registered boat shall cause the tindal and every boatman employed in such boat to wear, when afloat in such boat, a metal badge engraved with the registered number of such boat. These badges will be supplied by the registering officer of the port free of charge in the first instance, and shall be returned to him in the event of the boat being sold or broken up, or of the license of the boat or of the tindal or of the boatman being cancelled. Boat owners may transfer these badges to tindals or boatmen employed temporarily to relieve the men registered for the boat, a written request for such transfer being sent with the names and thumb prints of its substitutes to the registering officer within 48 hours from the time of the transfer.

15. If any tindal or boatman serving in any registered boat shall, by wilful neglect of his duty or by any unlawful action, cause any impediment to the service of such boat, or to any person employed therein or to any public servant in the execution of his duty, or to the boat traffic generally the license of such boat shall be liable to be withdrawn.

16. No tindal or boatman serving in any registered boat shall, without reasonable excuse, obstruct or hinder the loading, discharge or service of such boat or of any other boat, or obstruct or hinder the boat traffic in the port.

17. Should either the owner or the tindal in charge of a registered boat plying for hire, without reasonable excuse, of which the registering officer shall, subject to the appeal provided in rule 21, be the sole judge, refuse to allow such boat to ply for hire when required to do so, the license of such boat shall be liable to be withdrawn.

18. Without the special permission of the registering officer no registered boat shall ply when flag S is by day, indicating bad weather or high sea, is displayed from the port flagstaff. When the signal is hoisted at the port flagstaff all boats shall return to the shore at once and shall not again ply without the special permission of the registering officer until the signal is hauled down.

Permissible load of boats in fine and bad weather. 19. No person shall overload or cause to be overloaded any registered boat with passengers' cargo beyond the number or quantity specified in its license by the registering officer.

20. Whenever the number of passengers or the quantity of cargo in a boat, or both, exceeds the number or quantity entered in the license, the tindal or owner may, before starting from the vessel, the pier or the shore, require any passenger to leave the boat or any consignor, consignee or shipping or landing agent concerned to remove from the boat the whole or any part of the cargo.

21. Owners of registered boats shall instruct the tindals of such boats to pay Attention to signals immediate attention to the following signals of the Commercial Code when displayed from the port flagstaff, viz.:—

Flag S.—All boats to return to shore.

Flag K.—Surf is impassable.

Flag M.—Communication with the shore dangerous.

and also, when it is hoisted at the port flagstaff, to the boat muster flag—a square blue flag with four parallel red bars running acrosswise—which will be displayed on the Port Officer desiring to give effect to rule 11.

22. No tindal or other person in charge of or navigating any registered boat shall attempt to make such boat fast to any mooring or buoy, or take it alongside of a vessel approaching an anchorage before such Vessel shall have come to anchor or been moored to a buoy.

23. All passengers and goods shall be landed or shipped within the limits of the port as determined by Government, and no person shall ship or land passengers or goods beyond such limits unless the sanction of the chief Customs officer at the port shall previously have been obtained.

24. No owner of a registered boat licensed to ply for hire, or person deputed by the owner of such boat to carry any cargo or passengers for hire, shall demand a rate beyond that sanctioned from time to time by Government for the carriage of any such cargo or passengers.

25. The tindal of every registered boat shall be responsible that when his boat is at anchor or moored, with cargo on board, by day or by night, at least one member of the crew remains on board as watchman whose duty it shall be to guard the boat from leakage, collision or other danger, and to raise the alarm should assistance be required.

26. No boat of any description shall be hauled up for repairs without the permission of the registering officer, and such boats shall be beached ing boats up for repairs only where he shall direct.

27. The licenses of all boats belonging to a boatowner who has been convicted for infringing any of the foregoing rules, shall be liable to be withdrawn.

28. An appeal shall lie from the decision of the registering officer upon any matter in connection with these rules to the Conservators of the port, provided that such appeal be preferred in writing within seven days after the decision of the registering officer shall have been communicated in writing to the party or parties concerned; and the decision of the Conservators of the Port of Madras shall be final.

"51. If any person disobeys any rule or order which a Local Government has made in pursuance of this Act and for the punishment of disobedience to which express provisions have not been made elsewhere in this Act, he shall be punished for every such offence with fine which may extend to Rs. 100."

SUPPLEMENT TO THE BOAT RULES FOR THE PORT OF MADRAS.

1. It will be the duty of the Deputy Conservator of the Port of Madras to see that the Boat Rules—framed by Government under the authority of section 6, clause (k) of Act X of 1893—of the Port are complied with. The Deputy Conservator is the Registering Officer referred to in the following rules. It rests with him, vide Boat Rule No. 13, to prescribe the proper complement of crew for each class of boat.

2. Upon the application of the owner or owners of a boat, and upon such boat being brought by him or them to such place as the registering officer shall appoint for that purpose, the registering officer shall survey and measure such boat, or cause it to be surveyed and measured, in the presence of the owner or owners thereof or of any other person duly appointed for that purpose by such owner or owners. On being satisfied that a boat is seaworthy and fit for the service of the port, and on the owner or owners delivering to him a document signed by such owner or owners specifying his or their name or names, occupation or respective occupations, and place or respective places of residence, and subscribing to a declaration, in the presence of the registering officer or of any person duly authorised by him, that he or they fully understand these rules, the registering officer will grant a license, in a form—vide Appendix A to the Boat Rules—approved by Government, to such owner or owners to use the boat for the purpose of carrying goods and passengers, or goods or passengers, whether for hire or not, within the limits of the port.

3. Every boat license shall express the dimensions of the boat, its rig, its equipment, the number of crew considered necessary by the registering officer, the number of passengers and weight of cargo, or the weight, on an assumed basis, of both combined, it is to be permitted to carry, and whether it is for hire or not. Every such license shall also contain a number for such boat and the name or names, occupation or occupations, and place or places of residence of the owner or owners thereof, and the name and place of residence of the tindal of such boat. All of these particulars shall be entered by the registering officer in a book—vide Appendix to these Rules—or register, to be kept by him for that purpose.

4. Every boat being a steam launch, the owner or master of which does not hold a certificate of survey under Act VI or Act VII of 1831, before being licensed as herein before provided, shall be surveyed by a person, to be selected for the purpose by the registering officer, holding a first-class certificate of competency as a marine engineer. The person so selected shall report to the registering officer as to the condition of the hull and machinery of such boat and the time for which her hull and machinery will probably be sufficient, and the registering officer shall not license any such boat until her hull and machinery shall have been declared by the engineer so selected to be sufficient for the service intended and in good condition, and the license granted under these rules in respect of such boat shall, unless forfeited as hereinafter provided, be in force for one year from the date of survey of the hull and machinery, if such boat shall be reported to the registering officer as sufficient for so long, otherwise such license shall be granted only for the time for which the hull and machinery of such boat shall be reported sufficient. The fee of Rs. 25 referred to in Boat Rule No. 4 to be paid in advance by the owner of any such launch to the registering officer before any such survey shall be made, shall be paid by the registering officer to the person making the survey on receipt of his report.

5. The Deputy Port Conservator may remove or cause to be removed any boat, timber, raft, wreck or any other thing, floating or being in any part of the port or hauled up on the beach, which in his opinion obstructs or impedes the free navigation of the port or the lawful use of any pier, jetty, landing place, wharf, quay, basin, dock, mooring or other work, on any part of the shore or beach that shall have been declared to be within the limits of the port and is not private property. The owner of any such boat, timber, raft, wreck or other thing shall thereupon be called upon to pay the expenses of the removal thereof. Should such owner or any other person have caused any such obstruction or impediment as to create any public nuisance affecting or likely to affect such free navigation, or the lawful use of, the harbour works or foreshore, he will be liable to fine as laid down in section 54 of Act X of 1889. Should any owner, who shall have caused any such obstruction, impediment or public nuisance, neglect to pay the expenses incurred in the removal thereof, such expenses shall be recovered as provided for in section 11 of Act X of 1889, the Indian Ports Act. Permission to repair boats on the beach, inside the artificial harbour, will only be given when it is apparent that the boat to be repaired is in so unsavoury a condition as to be unable to reach the beach outside the harbour in safety.

6. Notices of a general nature by the Deputy Port Conservator to boatowners or tinnals will be published in the Fort St. George Gazette, on the notice board at the Deputy Port Conservator's office, and in two prominent places within the Port Trust's premises; and such publication will be considered sufficient notice. Owners or tinnals disregarding such notices will be dealt with for disobedience as provided in section 54 of Act X of 1889.

7. Prosecutions under the Boat Rules will be conducted by the Deputy Port Conservator or by any person deputed by him.

NOTE.—THE ATTENTION OF THE DEPUTY CONSERVATOR IS CALLED TO THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 54 OF ACT X OF 1889, WHICH ARE AS FOLLOWS:—

"If any person disobeys any rule or order which a Local Government has made in pursuance of this Act and for the punishment of disobedience to which express provisions have not been made elsewhere in this Act, he shall be punished for every such offence with fine which may extend to Rs. 100."

COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS.

THE PRESIDENCY COLLEGE, CHEPAUK.

(AFFILIATED NOVEMBER 1877.)

This Institution was first established in 1811 under the name of "The High School of the Madras University." "The Madras University" was intended to consist of two Departments, a College and a High School, and was at first under the control of a governing body, designated the President and Governors of the Madras University. The first President was Mr. George Norton, then Advocate-General of Madras and the Governors, fourteen in number, consisted of European and Native gentlemen in equal proportions. The High School progressed rapidly, and in 1858 collegiate classes were opened. In 1855, when the control of the Institution was transferred to the newly-appointed Director of Public Instruction, the college was duly constituted under a Principal and Professors and received its present name. From 1841 to 1870 the work of the College was carried on in a rented building in Egmore, but in March of the latter year, the new buildings at Chepauk were formally opened by H. R. H. the Duke of Edinburgh and the students were transferred to it in the month of July following.

MADRAS MEDICAL COLLEGE.

HISTORY.

The Madras Medical College was originally established as a Medical School in 1835 by the Right Honourable Sir Frederick Adam, K.C.B., under the terms of G.O. No. 7, dated 13th February 1835. The classes assembled for instruction, at first, in rooms adjoining the quarters of the Surgeon of the General Hospital. The accommodation, however, was insufficient for the purpose, and, as the arrangements were otherwise inconvenient, the Government of India, on the representation of His Excellency the Governor, were induced to sanction the erection of a separate building. The Medical School was accordingly built and opened for work in July 1836. The Medical School building consisted of four apartments—a theatre or lecture room, a library, a museum, and a laboratory.

As the outgrowth of the College in all its departments steadily progressed, the necessity of enlarging the building began to be felt, and certain alterations and important additions were from time to time undertaken, so that it is now a well-equipped institution, besides being an ornament to the city of Madras in architectural appearance. The erection of new and up-to-date physiological, hygiene and bacteriological laboratories has received the sanction of Government and the work is in progress. An excellent pathological museum and library are also attached to the institution, the former containing 2,301 specimens and the latter 4,997 books.

The Medical College which was originally an institution for supplying the Army with Assistant Surgeons and Hospital Assistants now also undertakes the training of students for the M. B. & C. M. and L. M. & S. degrees of the University of Madras and the Chemists and Druggists and Sanitary Inspectors' Certificates. Private students were first admitted in 1833. They obtained, in common with other Government students, a free education. In 1831 the Medical School became a college and was affiliated to the University of Madras in 1877.

The students who attend the several classes for the abovementioned qualifications are classified into four departments.

- (1) College Department—Includes students preparing for the University degrees.
- (2) Apothecary Department—Includes students preparing for the Military Assistant Surgeons' qualification and also for the Women Apothecaries' grade.
- (3) Chemist and Druggist Department.
- (4) Sanitary Inspector Department.

The academical year extends over a period of nine months, from July to March, and is divided into an Autumn Session of six months and a Spring Session of three months.

The clinical year extends over ten months, from June to March, and for the final year students of the College and Apothecary Departments, eleven months from May to March.

Casual students are also admitted.

The present strength of the College is 350, distributed as follows:—

M. B. & C. M.	121	including 5 women students.
L. M. & S.	107	" 8 women students.
Apothecary	54	" 11 women students.
Casual students	29	" 2 women students.
Sanitary Inspectors' Class	39

Women students receive a free education.

The Hospital Assistant Department of the College was moved over to an Auxiliary Medical School at Rayapuram in the year 1882 and continued working there till August 1887, when it was again sent back to the College. It was re-transferred to Rayapuram in 1903.

The class for the training of Sanitary Inspectors was opened in 1895.

HISTORICAL NOTICE.

The College of Engineering was developed from a Surveying School which was established in 1794, in connection with the Observatory, at the instance of Michael Topping, Astronomer and Geographical and Marine Surveyor at the Presidency of Fort St. George. The first Superintendent was John Goldingham. The operations of the school were temporarily suspended in 1811, but were revived in 1818 under Major de Havilland, Inspector of Tank Estimates. In 1837 the School became a Civil Engineering College, which in 1877 was affiliated to the Madras University. The College was re-organised in 1887 and placed on its present footing under the name of the Madras College of Engineering.

MADRAS CHRISTIAN COLLEGE.

(Affiliated November 1877.)

This institution was founded in 1857 by the Rev. John Anderson, the first Missionary of the Church of Scotland in Madras, and it was for a number of years the only one in Southern India, where natives of the country could obtain a liberal education. The College department was opened in 1865; in 1876 its basis was widened; other Christian bodies combined with the Free Church of Scotland in contributing to its support, and are represented on its council, so that it has become the centre of Christian liberal education in Southern India.

On the removal of the Normal School, in 1862, to a building of its own, the Madras Diocesan Committee established, in 1864, on the same premises, an Anglo-Vernacular School of a superior character for Hindus and Muhammadans. Its successive Principals were the Rev. J. Stephenson, M.A., C. W. Pearce, J. T. Margöschis, J. Howard Bullivant, M.A., and Joseph Satya, M.A., M.L. During Mr. Bullivant's time the Institution was affiliated to the Madras University as a second-grade college. In 1891, however, the college and the high school departments were removed. But in 1892 the high school department was restored. The present Head Master is the Rev. H. C. Loasby, M.A., who is assisted by three graduates, three F. There are four Schools under the care of the Sisters, the special School for children of parents who can afford to pay for separate accommodation, the day school, the orphan school and the Infant school, all located in different parts of the Establishment. ST. GABRIEL'S HIGH SCHOOL, MADRAS.

(Late St. Mary's College.)

No. 5, Armenian Street.

ESTABLISHED 1839.

This Institution was founded in the year 1839 by the Right Rev. Patrick Joseph Carew, D.D., for the purpose of affording to the Catholic youth of Madras the facilities of a liberal education. It was known for nearly 44 years as St. Mary's Seminary and had the Very Rev. Dr. William Kelly of Maynooth as its first Principal. The school began in 1862 to prepare candidates for the Matriculation Examination of the University of Madras, and in February 1883 was affiliated to the University as a second Grade College. In April 1906 the Government of Madras issued a special Code of Regulations for European schools in the Presidency. This necessitated the separation of all the European and Eurasian students of the Institution to form a new school, and in July 1906 St. Mary's European High School was opened in the two-storeyed building in the adjoining Cathedral compound, formerly used as the Madras Catholic Orphanage for European and Eurasian boys. The University classes were closed on the 1st April 1907, "and it was decided that the secondary department should in future be called St. Gabriel's High School."

The course of secular studies is adopted to the requirements of the Matriculation Examination of the University of Madras. A Library with 200 volumes recently added to it and a Reading Room are maintained for the benefit of the students, while a well got up gymnasium affords healthy exercise to the pupils. As invaluable aids for teaching Geography and Science in accordance with modern methods, a set of up-to-date school-room Maps,—Physical, Commercial, and Orographical—has been supplied and the Physical and Chemical Apparatus have been added to. The Reference Library for Teachers has also been considerably improved. It is further proposed to furnish the class rooms with Regulation Dual Desks. The number on the rolls is about 150.

The Institution is supported by the Madras Catholic Mission, by Fees collected, and by a Grant-in-aid from Government, and is under the management of Fathers belonging to the Society of St. Joseph, Mill Hill, London. ST. THOMAS' CONVENT.

SAN THOME.

The Convent founded by the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, 8th September 1888, numbers at present, 26 religious.

The Convent's works are—

1. The English School, for English and Eurasian children, comprises,—(i) the Primary; (ii) the Lower Secondary; (iii) the Upper Secondary Departments. The course of instruction is that prescribed by the curriculum of the Madras Educational Rules, and the pupils are prepared for the different Government School Examinations of the Madras Presidency. The actual number on the rolls is 114, of which 101 are children from the families in San Thomé, and 13 are Convent children. Out of the pupils on the rolls, 108 are Catholics and 6 are Protestants. The Catholic children receive their religious education and are prepared for the reception of the Sacraments. A monthly progress sheet keeps the parents informed of the Order of Merit each child holds in its respective class.

2. The Boarding School, for English and Eurasian children, counts 20 pupils. The recent alterations and improvements ensure to the children every comfort. They are trained to become useful members of society, and the greatest care is taken to infuse in them a profound Christian spirit. Three Associations help to lead them on to virtue:—

(i) The Sodality of the Children of Mary; chiefly intended for the grown-up boarders, also receives day scholars who may be desirous to join it. The weekly meeting, held every Sunday, gathers the youthful members to sing in common the praises of their Heavenly Mother. It numbers at present 65 children.

(ii) The Association of the Holy Angels numbers 38 children.

(iii) The Confraternity of the Holy Infant Jesus is intended for very young children; it counts 15 children.

3. The Third Order of St. Francis.—The Convent also receives young native women who have a taste for the religious life. They are received as members of the Third Order, and follow a rule appropriate to them. The number of these at present is 9.

4. Vernacular Poor School.—This School gathers together all the poorer children of the San Thomé parish. The School is free, and since June 1900 of the Lower Secondary Grade, teaching up to Form IV. The curriculum of the Madras Educational Rules for Fixed Grants is followed. The 105 pupils on the rolls are with but few exceptions Catholics, including about 14 little boys. Daily Catechism lessons are given to the children.

5. Eurasian Orphanage.—This is for Eurasian children; its limited space does not allow of more than 47 orphans at present being accepted. They all receive an education suited to their position, have daily Adoration of the Most Holy Sacrament, and can become members of the Sodality of the Children of Mary. They are taught needlework and embroidery to help the Convent and to be able to work for themselves later on. Many attempts have been made to raise funds for a new building, but these have as yet been unsuccessful. For erecting a new building, Government has kindly sanctioned a grant of Rs. 6,000 to be completed by the 31st May 1909.

6. The Native Orphanage consists of 85 children. These children have no other support but the Convent; they were mostly pagans when admitted and, according to their desire, were instructed in the truths of our Holy Religion and made children of Our Mother the Church. These children all learn to read and write their own vernacular, study up to Class IV, and are in their free hours made to work. They also assist daily at Holy Mass and Benediction; and have half-an-hour's Adoration before the Most Blessed Sacrament exposed, and are members either of the Sodality of the Children of Mary or of the Confraternity of the Holy Infant Jesus.

7. Babies.—These are mostly pagan children brought by their mothers or other relations. The number of little pagan babies thus received during the year was 16.

8. The Hospice for poor old women is entrusted to the Convent by the Mission, which partly defrays the expenses for the support, shelter and clothing of its 25 inmates. These are mostly poor parishioners sent by the Fathers of the Mission, but very many pagan women are also admitted. These poor women, often very infirm, find in the Hospice a home where they pass their remaining days in peace, quiet and happiness; and in every-day life, these dear old people find yet ways to render themselves useful to the Convent; the stronger among them assist the others. They all follow a rule of life suited to them, and daily assistance at Holy Mass, half-an-hour's adoration, prayers and Catechism instruction prepare them for a happy death. None of them has yet died without having been at the hour of death strengthened with the rites of Our Holy Mother the Church.

9. The Catechumenate is also the Mission's work. Begun in August 1898 by the then Prior of the Cathedral, this really Apostolic work has since continued, and brought many a blessing to the fisher-families living around San Thomé. While the men were taken charge of by the Rev. Father Prior, the women, daughters and younger children were sent over to the Convent to live there for a fortnight or, if necessary, for a month even, to be instructed and prepared for the reception of the Holy Sacraments. Thus prepared, they, with their husbands, returned home with a better knowledge of their Christian duties. A large number of such women and children have been, while new-comers are yet, under instruction.

10. Free Out-door Dispensary.—In it every one without distinction of religion is treated. The number treated during the last year was 21,657.

Industries.—To help to the support of the works, different industries have been started and so far succeed fairly well.

TEACHING STAFF.—The Teaching Staff consists of nine religious Nuns of the Franciscan Order and five lay teachers.

Two other Nuns give special lessons in the School in Music, French and Needlework.

Six Native Nuns of the Third Order of St. Francis teach in the Vernacular School under the supervision of one of the Franciscan Missionary Nuns.

Chaplain of the Convent.—Rev. A. M. Teixeira.

Two new Schools have been added, (one in Saidapet,) and the other on the Mylapore Beach. The School in Saidapet has been placed under the management of the same order of Nuns at St. Thomas' Mount as more convenient. The latter is chiefly intended for the children of the fisher population and has an average of 40 children.

11. An Industrial School begun on a small scale in 1901, has made rapid progress, but is still under private management. The various Occupation of Needle Work Department are Dressmaking, Church Vestments, all sort of fancy work; Embroidery in cotton, silk, ribbon, gold and silver threads; Limerick, Duchess and Pillow lace. In another department work in leather and zinc embossing, painting, and book-binding are carried on.

12. Girls from the Orphanage, under the direction of 5 Nuns are daily employed here. The Nuns take orders for any kind of work in the above-mentioned list. Fire medals and several certificates have been gained for the different kinds of work, during the last five Art Exhibitions held in Madras.

FRANCISCAN CONVENT.

ST. THOMAS' MOUNT.

The Convent, situated on the hill, founded by the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary on the 23rd April 1901, numbers at present 7 religious.

The Convent works are—

1. The English School, at the foot of the hill, opened on the 1st July 1901 for English and Eurasian children, comprises (i) the Primary, and (ii) the Lower Secondary Departments. The course of instruction is that prescribed by the curriculum of the Madras Educational Rules and the pupils are prepared for the different Government Examinations of the Madras Presidency. The number on the rolls is 35, all children from the families in St. Thomas' Mount and Pallavaram. Of these pupils some are Catholics and the remaining Protestants. The Catholic children receive their religious education and are prepared for the reception of the Sacraments. A monthly progress sheet keeps the parents informed of the order of merit each child holds in its respective class.

2. The Native Orphanage.—This Orphanage consists of 24 children. These have no other support but the Convent; they were mostly pagans when admitted and, according to their desire, were instructed in the truths of our Holy religion and made children of our mother, the Church. These children all learn to read and write their own vernacular and are also made to work. They assist daily at Holy Mass and Benediction and have half-an-hour's adoration before the Most Blessed Sacrament, and are members either of the Sodality of the Children of Mary or of the Confraternity of the Holy Infant Jesus.

3. Babies.—These are mostly pagan children brought by their mothers or other relations. They are brought up in a separate building and when 3 years old join the Orphanage.

4. Industries.—To help to the support of the works under the supervision of one of the Franciscan Missionary nuns, lace-making with pins is done by little Native orphans. Teaching Staff.—The teaching staff consists of three nuns of the Franciscan Order. One other gives special lessons in the school in Music, French and Needlework.

GOVERNMENT HOBART TRAINING SCHOOL.

(For Muhammadan School Mistresses.)

No. 3, WHITE'S ROAD, ROYAPETTAH, MADRAS.

This Institution has been in existence for upwards of 30 years. Its income was originally derived from the following sources:—(1) An endowment of Rs. 10,000 bestowed by Lady Mary Hobart; (2) donations and subscriptions from the public; (3) profits from the sale of work. These being found inadequate to defray the increasing expenditure, the Government in 1889 took over the entire responsibility of its maintenance. In 1890 it was placed under the supervision of the Superintendent of the Presidency Training School for Mistresses, which facts afford sufficient proof of the utility of the School. It provides education up to the Lower Secondary Standard, in their own vernacular, for all classes of Muhammadan female children. It has several classes, including a normal class, which yearly sends out duly qualified teachers. Industrial occupations were formerly taught, but owing to want of support and decreasing attendance, this class has become extinct. Embroidery is still taught to the pupils of the various classes as fancy work. The teaching of English was begun in 1902 to the pupils to the 3rd class and upwards. A large and commodious building has been purchased by Government for the accommodation of the School. Prizes and Scholarships are awarded by the Madras Government. There are 11 Teachers on the Staff. Head Mistress.—Miss Karney. 1st Assistant Mistress.—Miss Paulie. Drawing and English Mistress.—Miss Peters. The school may be inspected by ladies during the school hours, 10–1, Fridays and Sundays excepted. The school is under direct control of the Inspectress of Girls' Schools, C. Circle, since May 1905.

(1) English was abolished in January 1903, as it did not serve the purpose for which it was intended, viz., of attracting the better class of Muhammadans.

(2) New subjects have been introduced into the school according to the revised curriculum, (1) Nature study, i.e., Elementary, Botany, Physiology, Zoology, Botany and Hygiene, (2) Geography, a course of 2 years' training was recently sanctioned for all Elementary grade Students, according to which students now receive a training of 2 years during which time they are taught as well as trained.

Statement of the Object and an Appeal in behalf of the Civil Orphan Asylums.

The MADRAS CIVIL ORPHAN ASYLUMS were founded one hundred years ago for the gratuitous education, board and lodging of the orphans of Europeans and their descendants, who are not eligible for admission into the Military Asylums in the Presidency. They have thus stood the test of time and continue to retain public confidence.

The necessity, character and scope of the work done in these Institutions are well known to the general public in Madras, and the help received is practically confined to the residents in this city. But all orphans throughout the Presidency are eligible for admission. This fact, it may be assumed, is generally known throughout the Mofussil, from the applications which are made from various stations for the admission of orphans; but the Directors regret that the claim resulting from this fact, upon persons residing in the Mofussil, for some contribution towards the support of these Institutions, does not appear to be so generally recognized.

These Institutions are managed by a particularly strong Directorate, elected by the subscribers.

The Bishop of the Diocese is the President, the Archdeacon is the Vice-President, and the rest of the Clergy of the Church of England are Ex-officio Patrons of these Institutions. Though the religious instruction imparted here is in accordance with the tenets of the Church of England, destitute orphans of all denominations are admitted.

Contributions may be remitted to Mr. A. J. Rebeiro, Hony. Treasurer, Kennett's Lane, Egmore, or to the Hony. Secretary, Civil Orphan Asylums, Poonamallee Road, Kilpauk, Madras.

GORDON ORPHAN REFUGE.

SAN THOME, MADRAS.

President.—H. E. Lady Lawley, C.I.E. Honorary Secretary.—Mrs. Firth. Treasurers.—Bank of Madras. The design of this Institution is to afford a Refuge for such destitute orphan girls of European descent, as are not eligible for either the Military or the Civil Female Orphan Asylums. As such, it is one, the Committee plead, well deserving of public support. For the information of new subscribers, it may be mentioned that "The Refuge" was commenced in 1860, by Mrs. W. A. Morehead, by whose exertions sufficient money was raised to purchase the premises at St. Thomé, where "The Refuge" is now located. Subsequently, the Trustees of the property of the late Mrs. Gordon of the Mount endowed it to the amount of about Rupees 479-8-0 per annum, on condition that it assumed its present title. From April 1st, 1873, the Institution has received a Grant-in-Aid from Government of Rupees 100 per mensem, provided the subscriptions reach that amount. As many old subscribers have left Madras, and as it is most desirable to secure the Government Grant, and, if possible, to enlarge the operations of this Institution, the Committee think it right to put forth this statement, in the hope that new subscribers will kindly come forward. The Committee invite those who may be disposed to aid this Institution to visit it between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m., and to judge by personal inspection whether it be worthy of support.

"INDUSTRIAL HOME" FOR GIRLS.

SAN THOME, MADRAS.

The girls in the "Industrial School" receive an elementary education in reading, writing, and arithmetic, are taught domestic duties, and all kinds of useful needlework, so that after leaving us, they may be able, as neat good workers, to maintain themselves in comparative comfort. The undersigned trusts that this project may meet with the approbation of the public, and that they will kindly give the Institution that practical and pecuniary support of which it stands so much in need. All subscribers are invited to visit it between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m., and to judge by personal inspection whether it be worthy of support.

A. FIRTH.

Honorary Secretary.

"HOME" FOR DESTITUTE INFANT CHILDREN.

The following brief account of the Infants' Home will show its present position and requirements:—The Home was started in January 1882, under the auspices of the late Lord Bishop of Madras, in the old premises of the Girls' Industrial School. All interested in this charity are invited to visit it between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m., and judge for themselves of its worthiness of support; and the undersigned trusts that this statement will be sufficient to ensure the enlarged and liberal support needed to carry it on.

A. FIRTH,

Honorary Secretary.

MADRAS INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

POPHAM'S BROADWAY, GEORGE TOWN.

GENERAL COMMITTEE.

President.—The Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Madras. Vice-President.—The Ven'ble the Archdeacon of Madras. Honorary Secretary and Treasurer.—Rev. F. E. Markby, M.A., Chaplain of St. Mark's Church. Members.—The Ven'ble the Archdeacon of Madras, the Chaplain of Fort St. George, the Chaplain of North George Town, the Chaplain of South

George Town, J. H. Waples, and Col. F. C. Reeves Superintendent.—J. Balfour. School-mistress.—Mrs. E. Balfour. Drawing Master.—J. Hunter. Carpentry and Moulding are taught.

The condition of the poorer classes of Europeans and East Indians residing in George Town and the neighbouring suburbs is admitted to be deplorable. This distress is occasioned by their inability to earn a livelihood. The young require help of a special nature—to be taught how to earn an honest livelihood. The education given in the several Charitable Institutions of this city fits them only for Writers and Accountants—a section of the labour market which is already supplied to overflowing. Other portions, therefore, of the labour market must be tried. To meet this great difficulty, this Industrial School has been established for the poorer classes of Europeans and East Indians in the Presidency of Madras. Contributions in aid of the Industrial School will be most thankfully received by the Honorary Secretary, Rev. F. E. Markby, M.A., and will be duly acknowledged.

RAJAHGOPAUL CASTE GIRLS' SCHOOLS.

The following Schools of the United Free Church Mission:—Chetty Girls' School, established 1870; Rayapuram Hindu Girls' School, 1877; and Mint Girls' School, 1880—were founded by the late Rev. P. Rajahgopaul for the purpose of giving an elementary education on Christian principles to Hindu girls. More than 600 children are on the rolls and the Staff consists of 3 male and 26 female teachers. The annual cost of the Schools exceeds Rs. 7,000, which is met from the proceeds of the Founder's Endowment, Government Grant, fees, and subscriptions from friends in Scotland. The Chetty School is conducted in its own building in Thumboo Chetty Street, the Mint Girls' School in its new premises in Kondal Aiyar Street, and the Rayapuram School in a rented building in Mannarswamy Covil Street, Rayapuram. These Schools are under the management of the United Free Church Mission, Madras.

PACHAIYAPPA'S COLLEGE, MADRAS.

(AFFILIATED JANUARY 1889.)

This College and High School is a purely native Institution maintained out of the fruits of native benevolence, managed by a body of Hindu Trustees, and dedicated solely to the education of the Hindu community, particularly of Madras. Pachaiyappa Mudaliyar, in whose name the Institution was founded, was a wealthy, benevolent, Hindu gentleman, who dying a hundred years ago, when education was almost unknown in Madras, endowed various religious institutions and private charities with no less than a lakh of Pagodas. The provisions of the will, however, were in great part neglected by the Executors, so that the Supreme Court at Madras intervened and assumed control of the Estate. In the course of time these funds amounted to nearly 7½ lakhs of Rupees, and after assigning the original lakh of Pagodas to the specific religious Charities mentioned in the will, the surplus funds were ordered, under a decree of the Supreme Court, to be devoted to educational establishments in various parts of the Presidency and particularly in Madras itself.

A school was therefore established in Black Town in January 1842 under the name of Pachaiyappa's Central Institution, controlled by a governing body of Hindu gentlemen, being house-holders in Madras, called the President and Trustees of Pachaiyappa's Charities. On the 20th March 1857, the school was removed to the present building specially erected for the purpose, the ceremony of the opening of Pachaiyappa's Hall taking place the same day amidst a crowded meeting of European and Native gentry with a former Governor, the Right Hon'ble Sir Henry Pottinger, in the Chair.

The Institute was organized in May 1905 by the Trustees of Pachiyappa's Charities, and is maintained out of P. T. Lee Chengulayaraya Naicker's Estate which is also under their management and is open to all caste Hindus.

The Institute is divided into two Sections, Technical and Industrial. In the former, the boys are taught (1) Mechanical Engineering, comprising, Machine Construction, Machine Drawing, Applied Mechanics, Steam, Gas and Oil Engines, Practical work in Engineering Workshop. (2) Civil Engineering, up to the Sub-Overseer's Grade comprising Building Materials and Construction, Building, Drawing and Estimating, Applied Mechanics, Carpentry, Bridge work, Surveying and Levelling, Earthwork and Road making, Mensuration. The students in the two branches are required to pay a fixed scale of fees.

In the Industrial Section, weaving, carpentry, fitter's work and other handicrafts are taught to boys boarding in the orphanage maintained out of the estate and also to destitute boys who are admitted as free-day students and are given one meal at noon. The number of orphans and free-day students is for the present limited to 50 each.

The Institute is under the immediate charge of a Superintendent who is paid Rs. 120—150 and is assisted by a Deputy on Rs. 75. Both of them hold diplomas from the Victoria Jubilee Technical Institute, Bombay. There are also instructors in Surveying, Levelling, Drawing, Weaving, Carpentry, Fitter's work, etc.

The Mechanical Engineering class was formally opened in February 1906, and there are at present 35 students—23 in the Elementary and 12 in the Intermediate class. In the Civil Engineering Section, there are 30 students, viz., 20 in the Elementary and 10 in the Intermediate class. In the special Free-hand Drawing Class there are 21 students. At the examination held in April last, 12 Students appeared for the M. E. branch, of whom 10 passed in Machine Drawing, and from 4 to 5 in Machine Construction, Steam and Steam Engine Fitter's work as well. This is a very fair result for the first year of working. In the C. E. branch, two out of four successful candidates under "Building Materials and Construction" and one out of two under "Building, Drawing and Estimating" who passed in the Madras Centre were from this Institute. In Free-hand Drawing, five appeared and all of them passed, with three in the first class. In Carpet Weaving four out of six passed (Elementary), cotton weaving on fly-shuttle looms was started only in April 1907.

The Institute is provided with a large workshop, built at a cost of about Rs. 7,000 and with a 9-B.H.P. oil Engine (Hornsby) and a Screw Cutting Lathe and Drilling Machine and other accessories.

On the recommendation of Mr. Alfred Chatterton, the Government was pleased to transfer to the Institute, in March of this year, the oil Engines Driving class from the School of Arts, with three Oil Engines—Huston's, Diesel's and Priestman's and also sanctioned a grant of Rs. 2,400 a year for working this class. Since the transfer of this class five students have been sent out as oil Engine Drivers on salaries ranging from Rs. 15 to 20 and there are at present 18 students undergoing training.

The Institute was organized in May 1905 by the Trustees of Pachiyappa's Charities, and is maintained out of P. T. Le Chengulvaraya Naicker's Estate which is also under their management and is open to all caste Hindus.

The Institute is divided into two Sections, Technical and Industrial. In the former, the boys are taught (1) Mechanical Engineering, comprising, Machine Construction, Machine Drawing, Applied Mechanics, Steam, Gas and Oil Engines, Practical work in Engineering Workshop; (2) Civil Engineering, up to the Sub-Overseer's Grade comprising Building Materials and Construction, Building, Drawing and Estimating, Applied Mechanics, Carpentry, Bridge work, Surveying and Levelling, Earthwork and Road making, Mensuration. The students in the two branches are required to pay a fixed scale of fees.

In the Industrial Section, weaving, carpentry, fitter's work and other handicrafts are taught to boys boarding in the orphanage maintained out of the estate and also to destitute boys who are admitted as free-day students and are given one meal at noon. The number of orphans and free-day students is for the present limited to 50 each.

The Institute is under the immediate charge of a Superintendent who is paid Rs. 120—150 and is assisted by a Deputy at Rs. 75. Both of them hold diplomas from the Victoria Jubilee Technical Institute, Bombay. There are also instructors in Surveying, Levelling, Drawing, Weaving, Carpentry, Fitter's work, etc.

The Mechanical Engineering class was formally opened in February 1906, and there are at present 55 students—23 in the Elementary and 12 in the Intermediate class. In the Civil Engineering Section, there are 30 students, viz., 20 in the Elementary and 10 in the Intermediate class. In the special Free-hand Drawing Class there are 21 students. At the examination held in April last, 12 students appeared for the M. E. branch, of whom 10 passed in Machine Drawing, and from 4 to 5 in Machine Construction, Steam and Steam Engine Fitter's work as well. This is a very fair result for the first year of working. In the C. E. branch, two out of four successful candidates under "Building Materials and Construction" and one out of two under "Building, Drawing and Estimating" who passed in the Madras Centre were from this Institute. In Free-hand Drawing, five appeared and all of them passed, with three in the first class. In Carpet Weaving four out of six passed (Elementary), cotton weaving on fly-shuttle looms was started only in April 1907.

The Institute is provided with a large workshop, built at a cost of about Rs. 7,000 and with a 9-B.H.P. oil Engine (Hornby) and a Screw Cutting Lathe and Drilling Machine and other accessories.

On the recommendation of Mr. Alfred Chatterton, the Government was pleased to transfer to the Institute, in March of this year, the oil Engines Driving class from the School of Arts, with three Oil Engines—Ruston's, Dussell's and Priestman's and also sanctioned a grant of Rs. 2,400 a year for working this class. Since the transfer of this class five students have been sent out as oil Engine Drivers on salaries ranging from Rs. 15 to 20 and there are at present 18 students undergoing training.

(Signed) E. C. BAYLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

2. According to a ruling of the Madras Government, all Magazines, Reviews, Literary and Scientific Journals and similar Periodical literature published in parts at fixed intervals, and intended to be continued for an indefinite time, should also be registered in the same way as books.

Office of the Registrar of Books, {
Madras, 15th August 1903. }

M. RANGACHARI,
Registrar of Books.

CIRCULAR MEMORANDUM.

Certain cases of failure to deliver regularly for registration. Books, periodicals, Magazines and other serial publications within a month from the date of their issue from the press, as required by Section 9 of Act X of 1869, having been recently noticed, the Registrar of Books finds it necessary once more to call the attention of all Proprietors of Printing presses to the provisions of the law relating to the neglect to deliver for registration, within the prescribed time, every book, pamphlet or periodical printed by them, and also relating to any evasion of the law to supply such books, periodicals, &c., as are claimed by the Librarian of the British Museum or of the India Office Library, London, or by both, within a month from the date of requisition from this office. Through such neglect or evasion a printer renders himself liable to prosecution before a Magistrate under Section 16 of the Act noted above.

2. The absence of the publisher or the author, &c., and the consequent difficulty in getting copies to be delivered for registration, or for supplying the books claimed on behalf of the public Libraries named above, are often urged as an excuse for delays, but they cannot and will not be accepted as a sufficient excuse either at this Office or in a Court of Law.

3. It is the duty of every printer before delivering an edition of any work to the publisher or author to secure as many copies as are necessary to meet the requirements of the Registration Act, XXV of 1867, and Act X of 1890, and thereby be in a position to remove all cause of complaint from this Office or from higher authorities.

Office of the Registrar of Books,
Madras, 15th August 1908.

M. RANGACHARIAR,
Registrar of Books.

GOVERNMENT COPYRIGHT.

NOTICE TO PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS.

It having been brought to the notice of the Director of Public Instruction that Government copyright works are occasionally reprinted and published with notes or otherwise, without authority, and as ignorance is generally pleaded as an excuse when an explanation is called for, it is hereby notified that, should any person reprint, or cause to be reprinted, wholly or in part and with or without notes, glossaries, translations or other additions, any book, the copyright of which vests in the Government of Madras, without the consent in writing of the Government, as Proprietors, or have in his possession for sale or hire any Government book so unlawfully printed without such consent, such offender makes himself liable to a special action for damages under Section 7 of the Copyright Act, XX of 1847. And all printed copies of such work are forfeited to the copyright Proprietor under Section 12 of the same Act.

2. All Printers and Publishers are further informed that, under Section 3 of the Copyright Act, the Registry book kept at this Office is open to inspection at all reasonable times on payment at this Office of 8 annas for every entry which any person may require to be searched for or inspected in the said book, and therefore such person can thus inspect it to satisfy himself whether the Government copyright has been registered or not; or he can obtain if required, a copy of any entry in such book, certified under the Registrar's hand, on payment of Rs. 2.

3. The requisite information being thus obtainable from the Registry books, as well as from the Quarterly Catalogues of all registered works published in the Fort Saint George Gazette, there can be no excuse for any infringement of the Government copyright, as plea of ignorance. On the contrary, unauthorized publication of such copyright book will be presumed to be intentional, and all the parties concerned are therefore hereby warned against the consequences of violating the rights of Government.

Office of the Registrar of Books,
Madras, 26th October 1883.

Registrar of Books.

CIRCULAR TO PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS.

With reference to Section 3 of Act XXV of 1867 (amended by Act, X of 1890) which requires that "Every book or paper printed within British India shall have printed legibly on it the name of the printer and the place of printing, and (if the book or paper be published) of the publisher, and the place of publication," the Registrar of Books hereby notifies that failure to insert on the title-page of any work delivered for registration the names referred to will be treated as an evasion or neglect of the abovementioned section, and will be dealt with according to Section 12 of the Act.

2. The names in question should also be entered in columns 5 and 6 of the Memorandum of Particulars which should accompany every book delivered by a Printer pursuant to clause (a) of the first paragraph of Section 9 of the amending Act (X of 1890).

The Old College, Madras,

V. KRISHNAMA CHARIAR,
Registrar of Books.

NOTICE TO PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS.

The Registrar of Books having noticed that books and pamphlets are not unfrequently printed with words on the title-page intimating to the public that the copyright is "Registered" when in fact it is not registered, the attention of all Printers, Publishers and Proprietors is called to the following brief abstract of the Copyright Act (No. XX of 1847) so far as it affects them:—

In order to secure the proprietary right in any publication, a written application must be made to the Registrar in the subjoined form given in the schedule to Act XX of 1847 (vide Section VI):—

TO THE REGISTRAR OF BOOKS,

Madras.

SIR,

I have the honor to request that you will be so good as to cause my proprietorship of the copyright of the work described in the annexed schedule to be registered under Rule 9, Section 20 of Act XXV of 1867, as amended by Act X of 1890, and I herewith forward the prescribed fee of two rupees for the registry.

MADRAS,

I have, etc.,

Date

SCHEDULE.

Time of making the entry.	Title of book.	Name of the Publisher and place of publication.	Name and place of abode of the Proprietor of the Copyright.	Date of first publication.

Unless the copyright is secured thus formally, the Author or Proprietor will have no copyright. Anybody else may publish the work with impunity and deprive him of his interest in his work, and no remedy can be had in a Court of law (Section XIV). If, on the other hand, copyright is registered, the fact will be admissible as prima facie evidence of title and the registered Proprietor can exercise the right to assign his interest or any portion of his interest in the book (Section V).

Should any person print, or cause to be printed, any book in which there subsists copyright without the consent in writing of the Proprietor entered as such in the Registry book of this office, or have in his possession for sale or hire any book so unlawfully printed without such consent, such offender makes himself liable to a special action for damages (Section VII). And all printed copies of such work are forfeited to the copyright Proprietor (Section XII).

The practice which now prevails of inserting such formula as "Copyright registered" or "Copyright reserved" on the title-page of a book and then omitting intentionally or otherwise to register the same, is highly objectionable. It amounts to a false statement, made with a view to deter others by misrepresentation from publishing the book. Apart from the utter worthlessness of such false statement, the party making it may probably render himself liable to prosecution for cheating under the Penal Code.

Under Section III of the Copyright Act, the Registry book kept at this office is open to inspection at all reasonable times on payment at this office of eight annas for every entry which any person may require to be searched for or inspected in the said book, and therefore such person can thus inspect it to satisfy himself whether the copyright has been registered or not, or he can obtain, if required, a copy of any entry in such book, certified under the Registrar's hand, on payment of Rupees 2; and such copies so certified are receivable in evidence in all Courts and in all summary proceedings, and are a prima facie proof of the proprietorship of copyright.

2. The Registrar of Books would now warn all concerned that hereafter there can be no excuse for any false statement made concerning copyright or for any infraction of the rules regarding the registration of books generally under Act XXV of 1867, on plea of ignorance; and that any omission to register a publication after the receipt of this notice will be presumed to be intentional, and all parties concerned are hereby warned against the consequences of such neglect.

CHURCHES AND CHAPELS IN MADRAS,*With their respective Office-Bearers and Times of Service.CHURCH OF ENGLAND*THE CATHEDRAL CHURCH OF ST. GEORGE, TEYNAMPET (1816).

THE Church is situated on the Mount Road about three miles from Fort St. George; the locality was called "Choultry Plain" in former years. It was in course of construction in 1814-15 and was opened and consecrated by Bishop Middleton on the 8th January 1816: it is built in the classic style, the Architect being Major de Havilland, of the Corps of Engineers. The Chancel is entered from the West, North, and South through lofty porches supported on massive Ionic pillars, carrying entablature and pediment common to Roman Architecture. The Western or main entrance contains an ample carriage porch from which the Church is entered through a vestibule with a vaulted roof, the upper portion of which is the tower containing a clock and peal of bells and terminating in a spire 139 feet above ground. On either side of the vestibule and south of the Chancel are the vestries for the Lord Bishop, Clergy and Choristers.

The Nave is 100 feet long and 27 feet 3 inches wide (centre to centre of columns), flanked by Ionic columns 30 inches in diameter, and 25 feet 6 inches high from floor to top of capitals. The Aisles are 100 feet long and 13 feet 4 inches wide (from side walls to centre of columns). The Chancel is 22 feet 6 inches long and 20 feet wide. The Chancel was extended in 1857, and finished with a semi-circular apse with windows fitted with stained glass; subsequently the heads of doors and ventilators, which had ordinary glass, were replaced with stained glass, and the Organ Gallery at the West end of the Nave removed. At a later period, with the renewal of the fittings, the Chancel was painted and decorated and paved with encaustic tiles. In 1891 the Chancel was further embellished with a handsome dado of glazed encaustic tiles, and the ventilation was improved. Height of roof of Chancel—32 feet.

The Nave is covered with a tiled roof and the Aisles with flat terraced roofing on teak-wood supports. The Nave is ceiled in a segmental form with teak planking, painted white, with papier-mâché enrichments. The Aisles are also ceiled with teak planking. Height of ceiling above floor in the Nave is 33 feet and 2 inches, and height of ceiling above floor in the Aisles 30 feet and 1 inch. The interior walls and columns are plastered and finely polished with shell-lime, a work for which Madras is noted. The exterior is also plastered with shell-lime. The details of corner mouldings, &c., are those usually seen in Roman architecture.

The Edifice as originally erected by Lieutenant-Colonel Caldwell cost Rs. 2,06,842.

The Organ is a fine instrument of three manuals by Hill & Sons of London, which has recently (November 1905) been considerably enlarged and improved. The musical services are generally recognized as of a high order.

The Tower contains a fine peal of eight bells, which are rung by one man by means of a chiming machine.

Bishop Middleton writes in his diary with reference to the opening services:—"Yesterday (8th January 1816) I consecrated a handsomer Church than any which I can recollect in London, supported on 18 Ionic columns, which no English eye could distinguish from marble, with a lofty and elegant spire, and standing in a field also to be (consecrated) 5 or 6 acres surrounded with rows of palm trees—the whole conveys a magnificent idea of Christianity in the East. I was assisted on this occasion by seven of my clergy, a great number to bring together in this country."

The 'field' to which the Bishop refers was only consecrated in part, namely, that part which is now known as St. George's Cathedral Cemetery.

The Church contains some fine monuments, amongst which should be especially noticed that to Dr. James Anderson (died August 6th, 1899)—a wonderfully lifelike and natural seated figure of the physician-general; and that to Bishop Heber (drowned at Trichinopoly, April 3rd, 1826), which represents his Lordship in the act of confirmation. These two sculptures are by Chantry. There is also a fine marble statue by Flaxman to James Stephen Lushington, B.C.S. (died 12th September 1832, aged 28) and a figure of Faith holding a cross in memory of the Venerable John Mousley, D.D., first Archdeacon of Madras (died 31st August 1819), also by Flaxman. ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

FORT ST. GEORGE.

OPENED 20TH DECEMBER 1680.

The ancient Church of St. Mary's, situated within the ramparts of Fort St. George, is not only a conspicuous landmark to all who approach the Presidency town by sea, but is also a witness to the piety and devotion of the early settlers on the Coromandel coast in the seventeenth century. Madras itself dates from the 1st March 1639-40.

A small fort was erected on the site of the present Secretariat Offices, and a town gradually sprung up around it. For about 40 years Divine Service was regularly held in one of the rooms of this inner Fort, but in 1677 Mr. Streynsham Master, on his arrival as Agent and Governor, set about collecting funds for the erection of a more suitable place of worship. Subscriptions were raised from all the English inhabitants, and it does not appear that any assistance was asked for or given by the Directors of the English Company. St. Mary's was the result of local effort entirely. The first sod was turned on Lady Day, March 25th, 1678, and the Church was completed and opened for worship on the 28th October 1680. It was consecrated by the Chaplain, Richard Portman, acting under a Commission from the Bishop of London.

The church stands to-day exactly as it was erected, with the exception of the vestry, organ chamber, and sanctuary, which were added in the nineteenth century, and the spire, which was rebuilt at the end of the eighteenth century. The chief objects of interest in this old church are as follow:—

The old Tombstones. These are situated round the north side of the church, and form a kind of pavement. These stones were taken in 1760 from the old graveyard, which was on the site now occupied by the Law College. During the second siege of Madras by the French in 1758-9, the large monuments of the old graveyard afforded shelter to the French sharpshooters. When the siege was raised, the old burial ground was dismantled, and the gravestones brought to St. Mary's and placed round the church. There are among them also some which were taken from the old Cathedral Church of St. Andrew, which was destroyed in 1759 when Madras was handed back to the French after the Peace of Aix-la-Chapelle. These old stones are of great interest. The most ancient of them is that of Elizabeth Baker, the wife of Aaron Baker, the first Governor of Madras, and is dated August 5th, 1652. Most of the stones are in an extremely good state of preservation, in spite of their exposed situation.

Inside the church are to be seen many interesting objects. Below the Chancel steps are the graves of the Governors. The tomb marked simply with a cross and the words "In Memoriam" marks the last resting place of the ill-fated Lord Pigot. After having risen from the lowest to the highest station in Madras, this unfortunate nobleman was sent out again to stem the tide of corruption among the higher civilians. He was worsted in the encounter, and after having been arrested by the members of his Council, was kept as a prisoner at the Mount until he died on the 11th May 1777. The other Governors who lie buried here are Lord Hobart, April 1875, Sir Henry George Ward, August 1760 and Sir Thomas Munro, July 1827.

The monuments on the walls are worth noticing, especially those to Sir Barry Close, Joseph Moorhouse, George Gilbert Keble, Josiah Webbe, and the famous missionary Frederick Christian Scartz. There are two fine statues. One near the organ is that of Thomas H. S. Conway, "the soldiers' friend;" the other, near the Font, of Hercules Henry Pepper—both of them distinguished soldiers.

Of the old regimental colours which adorn the walls and pillars, the pair behind the pulpit are of the greatest interest. They belonged to the old 102nd Madras Fusiliers (now the Dublin Fusiliers), and were carried by that famous regiment through the second Burmese War in 1852-3, and the Indian Mutiny, 1857-8.

Over the altar is a large painting of the Last Supper. This picture is supposed to have been taken from a church in Pondicherry when it was captured by the British in 1761. The carved teakwood railing of the west gallery was noticed by Lockyer in 1703. It is of oriental design and beautiful workmanship. The organ is by Hill of London, and was erected by the Rev. C. H. Malden in 1891.

The church possesses some very fine old silver plate and ancient records and registers. These are not kept at the church, but can be seen by appointment with the Garrison Chaplain. Visitors to this historic church are advised to procure a copy of a "Handbook to St. Mary's" compiled by the Rev. Canon Malden. The price is one rupee, and the book contains photographic reproductions of the church, both exterior and interior. There is also a plan on which all the monuments are numbered for easy reference. For a more detailed account of the church and its history to the end of the eighteenth century, the reader is referred to the Rev. F. Penny's book "The Church in Madras."

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH,

POONAMALLEE ROAD (1821).

On 1st September 1815 a public notification was widely circulated in Madras, which supplied the Scotsmen of this historic city with a fertile and novel topic of discussion. It told how the East India Company had resolved to build a Scots Church in the Presidency town, for the benefit of its Scottish employees, and to establish there a Chaplaincy of the Church of Scotland; how the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland of the previous year had gratefully welcomed this resolution; how the Revd. Dr. Allan, the first Chaplain of the Church, had now arrived in Madras, armed with authority from the Assembly to proceed with the formation of the first Scots congregation in South India; and, finally, it called upon all who intended to attach themselves to the Scots Church to send in their names to Dr. Allan and four co-signatories, in order that definite information might be furnished to the Government as to the accommodation required for the new congregation.

The names and employments of these four devoted Churchmen—the earliest members of the Kirk Session—are interesting as showing the part which influential Scots in those days took in the advancement of their Church, as also as partly accounting for the generous treatment meted out to the Scots congregation by the Madras Government when the Church came to be built. With two Members of Council as Elders, and, as it happened, a Scotsman, the Right Hon'ble Hugh Elliot, as Governor of the Presidency, advocacy of the Scottish claims would not be wanting. In the Church records the names are as follow:—Robert Fullerton, C.S., Member of Council; David Hill, C.S., Secretary to Government; Kerby Dalrymple, Merchant; William McTaggart, Merchant.

To the notice thus issued a cordial response was made. Scotsmen rallied to their Church, and without further delay Divine Service, according to the rites of the Church of Scotland, began to be held. At first, in the absence of a Church, the congregation met in the College Hall, which was temporarily fitted up by Government to suit the emergency, but the question of building a Scots Church was diligently pushed forward. The size and influential nature of the congregation, which rapidly formed under Dr. Allan's ministry, gave weight to the petition which it soon sent up to Government, that the Scots community might be furnished with a church of its own. To the petition Government gave a ready assent, and requested the Kirk Session to select a suitable site and prepare plans of a suitable building for the further consideration of the Government.

The present site—the most central spot in all Madras—was secured and the work of building began. Fortunately there was then in the service of the Government one of the ablest architects India has seen—Major Thomas Flott de Havilland of the Engineers—and to him the work was entrusted. How well he did his work may be judged by the unstinted admiration which St. Andrew's Church evokes from all who see it. "Perhaps the noblest Christian edifice in Hindustan" is what Bishop Middleton's biographer said of it,—himself no lover of the Scottish Church—and the praise is not undeserved. The foundation stone was laid by the Rev. Dr. Allan on the 16th April 1818, and it was his privilege to solemnly dedicate the Church to the service of ALMIGHTY GOD on the 29th February 1821.

The cost of this splendid edifice was about £20,000, which must be deemed exceedingly moderate for a building of this description.

The edifice may be thus described. The body of the Church is a circle 51 feet and 6 inches in diameter in the clear, with a rectangular compartment east and west of it, and a portico extending beyond the latter to westward. Over the circular part is a dome, covering as it were the nave of the Church, with an annular arch round it, over what may be termed the aisles. The Architrave and frieze which stand on 16 columns are of stone, but the cornice above is of brick, and on it rests the dome; of these columns four are of granite, the remainder are of what is termed in Madras "iron stone."

The dome is constructed as it were with but a framework of brick, running upwards from the columns towards the crown, where these ribs are terminated and united together by a circular arch of the same description. This framework is then filled in with masonry formed of cones of pottery such as are used in Syrian roofs. The thickness of the dome at the crown is only nine inches, whence it is gradually increased to nearly twice that dimension at the cornice. Over the Syrian eaves before mentioned, three courses of flat tiles are carefully laid and on them the stucco is applied. The dome of the Kirk is believed to be "unique," in that a dome of masonry fifty-one and a-half feet in diameter is supported on a colonnade thirty-five feet high, without beam or lintel, its height at highest point of dome being 54 feet above the pavement of the Church.

To the westward of the compartment containing the steeple stands the portico of the modern "Ionic" order upon a colonnade double its depth, surmounted by a pediment along the whole front in the tympanum, on which the sacred name יהוה appears in Hebrew characters of gold on a triangle emanating rays of glory, while in the frieze below stands the name of the edifice and the date of its erection. Corresponding at the back of the building is also a triangle with two lions guarding a shield under which is inscribed—"Auspicio Regis et Senatus Anglie," the arms and motto of the H. E. I. Co.

The steeple stands on the tower, which is raised over the vestibule to a level with the crown of the dome, rises 111½ feet above it, and is divided into three stories giving the whole an elevation of 131½ feet above the entablatures, and 166½ feet above the pavement of the Kirk. The steeple was completed on 8th May 1820.

The site on which the church stands was purchased for 4,000 pagodas and covers nearly 7 acres. The soil was most unfavourable, as it is throughout the vicinity of Madras. The practice which has obtained from time immemorial in this part of India to secure edifices in such cases is that of substituting wells for the pile work used in Europe. The whole of the foundation of St. Andrew's Church is erected over numerous wells from 10 to 14 feet deep. In 1885 the Church was beautified by the addition of rich stained glass windows and a marble font. The church possesses a splendid grand organ by Conacher of Huddersfield, England. Some of the best views of Madras may be obtained from the Clock Tower, sanction to ascend which is readily granted by the Senior Chaplain.

For stateliness and general lightness of effect St. Andrew's is probably unsurpassed by any building of the same size, while the marble pavement of the aisles and the highly polished Madras chunam pillars give to the Church an air of purity and grateful coolness that is much appreciated by the worshippers. It is a church to be proud of and thankful for.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

THE CHURCH OF ST. MARY OF ANGELS.

Commonly called the Catholic Cathedral, No. 2, Armenian Street, Madras.

THE Capuchin Mission of Madras was founded in 1642, under the sanction of Pope Urban VIII., by the well-known Father Ephraim, the pioneer of the Madras Mission, of whom Tavernier gives an interesting account. He was a native of Auxerre, and brother of Monsieur de Chateau des Bois, Councillor of Paris. He was destined for the Mission of Pegu, and in order to reach his destination he made a journey by land across the peninsula from Surat to Masulipatam. Before the English settlement at Masulipatam then there was none, and he was recommended to go 200 miles further South to the British settlement lately established at Madras. Pope Urban VIII. erected the Capuchin Mission into a Prefecture Apostolic. When the Friars built their Armenian Street Church in 1775, they inscribed the date 1612 over the gates as a public record of their first establishment in Madras, and, on a later occasion, when the Church was repaired and the gates widened, the number was preserved at the particular request of the oldest inhabitants. The earliest Capuchins, the founders of the Madras Mission, were Ephraim de Nevors, Zenon de Bauge, Cosme de Giers, Jacques de Bourges, Esprit de Tours, Laurent d'Angoulême, Michael Anjo de Bourges, Rene d'Angoulême and Thomas de Poitiers. The last named built in 1675, the Church of St. Andrew within the Fort, which was confiscated and destroyed after Lally's siege. The Capuchin Fathers were permitted to minister to the spiritual wants of the Catholic employees of the Honourable the East India Company, and had free access to the Factory. Albeit, they were burdened with many conditions and forbidden to hold intercourse with their religious confères in the neighbouring settlement. It is interesting to read the current of events in those far-off times. Though the English residing at Fort St. George and the Portuguese at San Thomé seem to have lived in those days on rather friendly terms, there was an undercurrent of discontent on both sides, and the Portuguese could not relish the establishment of a Prefecture Apostolic at Madras. Father Ephraim, however, contrived to maintain a friendly intercourse with the Portuguese Priests. In the year 1649, he had occasion to visit the Portuguese Factory; but he no sooner entered the place than he was seized by some Officers of the Goa Inquisition, and carried off to Goa in a small frigate which was then ready to sail. Father Ephraim was indebted to Coota Khan, the King of Golconda, for his release. Through many vicissitudes the Capuchin Fathers persevered in the work begun by them, and handed it down faithfully to their successors, till Father John Bede Polding, a Benedictine, was nominated the first Vicar Apostolic of Madras on the 3rd of July 1832, but he declined the appointment, and eventually became Archbishop of Sydney. The Mission was then taken charge of by the Vicar Apostolic of Bombay, Fre Pedro D'Alcantara, Bishop of Antiphebus, till 1835, when in August of that year the Rt. Rev. Dr. Daniel O'Connor assumed the government of the Mission. Succeeding Vicars Apostolic were Doctor Patrick Caraw, 1838-1842 (when he was translated to Calcutta); Doctor John Fennelly, 1842-1868; Doctor Stephen Fennelly, 1868-1889; The Most Rev. Doctor Joseph Colgan, the present incumbent, in whose time the Vicariate Apostolic was raised to an Archdiocese on the establishment of the Indian Hierarchy in 1886. It was during the administration of John Fennelly that the status of the Catholic community was raised, and the claims of both military and civil Catholic British subjects were adequately recognized by Government. The influence exerted by Dr. Fennelly and by his Clergy upon the European residents, and especially upon the Irish Catholic soldiers, at Madras and other military stations, may be regarded as the most important fruit of his Episcopate.

John Fennelly was brave and outspoken, and of the Daniel O'Connell type. His intrepid advocacy of the cause of his flock obtained for the Catholic community of Madras the recognition of Government. Promotion from the ranks of Catholics in the Indian Army may well be said to have been inaugurated by the strenuous exertions of this good Bishop. He was prominent in the meeting of sympathy with Sir Chas. Trevelyan, the Governor on his recall. In fact, John Fennelly was the founder of the then Madras Mission, which has now risen to be an Archdiocese. He was indefatigable in building up the foundations, and spared himself in nothing. He was thoroughly unselfish, broadly tolerant of the religion of others, and ever ready to take up the cause of the poor at whatever cost. Despite all the work that fell to his share in those days of pioneer trouble and anxiety, he daily devoted two hours to teaching in the schools. He was a great and prolific writer and an unflinching controversialist. His memory is enshrined in the hearts of the generation of Madras Catholics who are rapidly passing away, while his bones lie interred in the precincts of the Sanctuary of that Cathedral Church which was the arena of his life's labours. John Fennelly was succeeded by Stephen Fennelly, his brother, under whose régime the finances of the Mission were greatly improved by his tact and business habits. The present Venerable ruler of the Archdiocese is the Most Rev. Joseph Colgan, first Archbishop of Madras. His Grace is now in his 85th year. The Diamond Jubilee of his sixty years' residence in India was becomingly celebrated in February 1904, when an Address was presented to him by the leading citizens of Madras.

The Cathedral Church has two transepts, with a sanctuary, sacristy, nave and side aisles, built by the Italian Capuchins in 1775, and then consisted of a nave with two side aisles, and a sanctuary under a pent roof. The pent roof was removed by Dr. O'Connor in 1837, and a flat roof put on, the walls of the nave having been raised ten feet. The sanctuary was at the same time thrown down and enlarged, and two transepts added. In the present year His Grace Archbishop Colgan has raised the roof of the side Altars to the height of the roof of the Chancel, which is now fitted up with stained glass windows. The picture of the Crucifixion and Mary Magdalen, more than life size, is said to be one of the finest oil paintings in India.

In the Moorat Chapel, attached to the Cathedral, there is an artistic monument of Italian marble. Mr. Moorat was the wealthiest Armenian of his day. He left charitable bequests known as the "Moorat Fund." His monument bears the date 16th April 1816. His wife, Anna Raphael, died 28th July 1828, aged 57. The earliest gravestone is dated 11th November 1751, and records the sculpture of Muthu Nayakar, son of Babu Nayakar of the Kavara caste. The date, 22nd February 1786, is inscribed over the resting place of "Adrian Fourbeck, a merchant of this city of Madraspatnam, aged 71 years." Adrian Fourbeck built a small bridge over the Adyar, 1763, as is recorded in English, Tamil, Persian and Latin, on a monument halfway to the Mount outside the Collector of Chingleput's residence at Lushington's Garden. But this is not the Marmar-jong Bridge which dates from 1725, and was erected by Petrus Uskan, another Armenian Catholic.

BISHOPRIC OF SAN THOME.

HISTORICAL NOTES.

According to South Indian traditions, supported by the collateral testimony of the East and West (see Dr. Medley's India and the Apostle St. Thomas; London, David Nutt, 1905), the Apostle St. Thomas, after preaching in various parts of India, settled down in old Mylapore (as distinguished from the Mylapore of the present day); was martyred on the hill at St. Thomas' Mount and was buried on the spot on which the San Thomé Cathedral now stands in A. D. 68. The Christian Church of India, founded by St. Thomas, continued to flourish till the persecutions that followed in the wake of the revival of Brahmanism, when the Christian Bishops and priests were put to death and the remnants of their flocks took refuge in the mountains of Malabar. Shortly after, old Mylapore was overwhelmed by the sea (which has a habit of encroaching and receding at this point annually), and the Mylapore of the present time came into being. The fugitive Christians however kept their faith alive by furtive visits to the Grave of the Apostle in the now deserted old Mylapore, till Nestorian Missionaries and Bishops from Persia, gathered them once again into communities, and built a church and monastery at old Mylapore, and another church and chapel at St. Thomas' Mount, which were visited by Marco Polo and other early travellers. But by the beginning of the XVth century, these buildings had fallen into ruin, till scarcely a trace of them was left when a Portuguese Royal Commission came in quest of the Grave of St. Thomas, which it discovered and identified in 1523, and built a chapel over it, to mark the spot.

Presently the Portuguese town of San Thomé sprang up on the site of old Mylapore and was subsequently fortified and made a Bishopric in 1604, by Pope Paul V., at the request of Philip II., King of Portugal, when, later on, the Dutch took San Thomé and handed it over to the Muhammaḍans, the Muhammaḍan Governors and their followers settled in the space that separated the European town of San Thomé from the Brahmin town of (new) Mylapore.

When the Bishopric of San Thomé was created, the King of Portugal undertook to support it for all time: a promise which his successors have kept, notwithstanding all the vicissitudes, through which their fortunes have passed, up to the present; enjoying in return the privilege of presenting to the Pope their nominees for the Bishopric. The Bishops of San Thomé originally exercised jurisdiction over all the countries bordering the Bay of Bengal, including Burma. But this jurisdiction was delimited by the concordat of 1886, entered into between the Holy See and the Government of Portugal.

The present Cathedral at San Thomé was built and completed in 1896 by Dr. Henry Reed DaSilva, who was the first to assume the title of "Bishop of Mylapore" for ordinary use, in order to avoid confusing San Thomé in Madras with San Thomé a Principe (off the West Coast of Africa), an important actual possession of Portugal's. But in official documents the Bishops are still described as of San Thomé de Meliapor.

On the occasion of the Tricentenary of the creation of the Bishopric (1604, Dr. Theotonius de Castro, the present Bishop, had the fosse of the Grave of St. Thomas enlarged and faced with marble, to enable pilgrims to have access to the bottom of the Grave and to enable Masses to be celebrated immediately over the Grave, according to the practice of the early Christians.

Armenian Cemetery.

The present Cemetery was built and given to the Armenian community by Government in the year 1862.

Previous to the erection of the Church, the Armenian community performed Divine Service in a temporary place built of timber (on the north of Monument Esplanade, opposite Fort St. George), the Priests being paid by the Funds of the Church. The present Church was built by the Armenian community at their own expense in the year 1712, and alterations and additions made to it by them from time to time. In the year 1833 the British Government was pleased to grant the sum of Rupees five thousand (5,000) from the late Lottery Funds, for the repairs of the Church, out of which funds the community was enabled to erect a substantial and extensive verandah, 148 feet in length by 10 in breadth, on the east side of it. Government was further pleased to grant a donation of Rupees two thousand (2,000), from Dr. Woolley's Estate to the Church in the year 1839.

CHAPLAINS' VISITS TO OUT-STATIONS.

Extracts from H. E. I. Co. Court's Despatch, 12th April 1842.

"In Section 27 of the regulations respecting leave of absence and deputation and travelling allowances which we have recently approved, you will find a rule on the subject of travelling allowances on joining a station, and when any change takes place except at the desire of the Chaplain or Assistant Chaplain.

3. But to avoid inconvenience and guard against the possibility of misunderstanding we think it desirable that for every circle of stations, the Lord Bishop should be requested to frame a plan determining the periods at which each place shall be visited by the Chaplain or Assistant Chaplain officiating in such circle, which plan being approved by Government shall continue in force till varied by the same authority. As minute local information will be necessary to the successful formation of such plan, we can only offer a few suggestions on the subject. The frequency of Ecclesiastical visits should be governed in a great degree by the extent of the Christian population of the place to be visited. A place may contain not more than three or four members of the English Church, and though it might not be right to exclude those few persons from the benefit of Christian ordinances, it is obvious that in the present state of our Ecclesiastical Establishment such a place could not be visited frequently without injury to others of greater importance. An annual visit might in some cases be all that could reasonably be afforded; while to others visits twice, three or four times a year might be expedient; and to others again, which might be more populous, it might be desirable that visits should be made once in six weeks, or once a month.

4. When a circle of stations may, from the deficiency of our Establishment, or any other cause, be left without a resident Clergyman, we are of opinion that the Chaplain or Assistant Chaplain of a neighbouring district should, as desired by the Lord Bishop, be appointed to visit the station thus deprived of clerical services. In such cases the most convenient course will be for the Lord Bishop to bring the subject to the notice of Government, and submit a plan of visitation. Such plan being approved, the Chaplain or Assistant Chaplain who can most conveniently discharge the required duty, should be specially appointed thereto, and thenceforward be entitled to draw travelling allowances in conformity with the provisions of the plan, and in accordance with our Financial Despatch of the 30th October 1839.

5. We should lament that the practice of visiting stations at which no Clergyman is permanently resident should be discontinued, and it would be unjust to subject the Clergy to the expense attendant on such visits. Under these impressions we deem it proper to sanction the payment of such reasonable charges not exceeding those authorized in our Despatch of the 30th October 1839, before referred to, and we are encouraged in this view by the fact that although Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains when absent from their duty are subject to the same deductions as Civil Servants, no charge is incurred in providing for the duty of the absentee. The deductions may thus be regarded as a fund, meeting to a certain extent the extra charges incurred by occasional or provisional visits of the Clergy to stations in which they do not reside."

Parties desirous of being married by License should apply direct to the nearest Surrogate; but from places where there is no Surrogate, application should be made to the Registrar, who will obtain the Bishop's directions according to the special circumstances of each case as it may arise. None but a Clergyman of the Church of England can marry by virtue of Episcopal license.

Further information respecting marriages by license can be obtained on application to the Registrar of the Diocese, F. Rowlandson, B.A., LL.B., Ootacamund.

Rules for the guidance of Surrogates in administering Oaths and granting Marriage Licenses within the Diocese and Archdeaconry of Madras.

I. Every application for the Bishop's license to be married without the publication of banns must be made in writing and the names of both the applicants be given in full with the age, race, condition (i.e., bachelor, spinster, widower, or widow, and occupation, if any), of each, and the place or places in which each has resided for the six months prior to the application.

II. No license can be claimed by any person as a matter of right or of course, and no license is to be issued by any Surrogate until four days after the receipt of such application. And in no case and under no circumstances is any license to be issued for the marriage of any divorced person, and that notwithstanding that such person may have been divorced without any fault on his or her part; or, in other words, whether his or her former marriage has been dissolved by the civil law on the ground of his or her adultery or otherwise. Moreover, no license is to be issued in order to make marriage less public to persons who have been living in sin.

III. When both applicants are non-residents in the place where the application is made, and are unknown to the Surrogate, he may decline to grant the license, until he shall have had time to make due enquiry, as to whether there be any impediment to the marriage, and may further require from the applicants the names of two or more persons to whom reference may be made.

IV. On a day subsequent to the receipt of the application, which shall be appointed by the Surrogate, and shall be not earlier than the 5th day (that is, the ninety-seventh hour), after such receipt, the parties, or one of them, shall in every case appear before the Surrogate, and either one or both swear to the "Affidavit of Residence," to which the written application for the license shall be annexed by way of an exhibit, being marked as such, and endorsed as follows by the Surrogate:—

In the matter of the marriage of A. B. and C. D.

This is the exhibit referred to herein on the day of

E. F.,

Surrogate.

* The services appointed by the Bishop with the music for the Consecration of Churches and Burial grounds are published by the S.P.C.K., Madras, at 1s Annus each.

VII. The lay-trustees shall, when practicable, meet once a month, or oftener, if necessary. It shall be the duty of the chaplain, or, in his absence, of the senior lay trustee, to call a meeting. The chaplain, or in his absence one of the lay-trustees in order of seniority, shall preside. The agenda shall ordinarily be prepared by the president and circulated to the lay-trustees before the meeting, but it shall be competent for one of the lay-trustees to bring forward any question connected with the matters over which they have control. At such meetings, the account books shall, at least once a quarter, be presented together with the cash balances and all necessary vouchers, and shall be audited either by the chaplain and the lay-trustees at the meeting or by such other person as the meeting may appoint. A certificate of audit shall then be prepared for submission to the Archdeacon on the next quarter day. It shall be the duty of the Chaplain and lay trustees, even though the accounts be audited by another person, at every meeting at which the accounts are produced to see (1) that the Chaplaincy Funds are kept separate and distinct from private funds; (2) that the balances are in existence, and to prove this by examining the cash balance, and in the case of balances deposited with the Savings Bank, or a Bank, that the balances of the pass-books written up to date agree with those of the Church accounts; and (3) that no advances have been made except upon proper authority, and that none are allowed to remain outstanding longer than is really desirable.

VIII. All communications shall be signed by the chaplain and countersigned by the lay-trustees, and all proceedings shall be entered in a correspondence book and produced for examination at the next meeting.

IX. On the appointment of a lay-trustee the Archdeacon shall send him a copy of these rules.

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

PARENT SOCIETY FOUNDED 1698.

MADRAS DIOCESAN COMMITTEE ESTABLISHED 1815.

The Madras Diocesan Committee was formed with the following objects:—

1. To circulate, at low rates, the Bible, the Book of Common Prayer, Religious Books and Tracts, and Works of Pure Literature.
2. To supply Mission and other Charitable Schools with maps and apparatus at cost prices.
3. To publish translations of the Prayer Book and Religious and Educational Works and Tracts into the vernaculars of South India.
4. To aid in forming Libraries for Barracks, Hospitals, Schools and Missions.
5. To assist in Church Building, and generally to assist the work of the Church in India in every possible way.

In pursuit of the above objects the Society has, during nearly 200 years, and in this country for ninety-four years, originated or supported a variety of agencies of the greatest importance to the progress of Christianity.

It assists largely, in addition, in the spread of religious education in the diocese.

No less than one hundred native girls are entirely maintained and educated by the Society, in schools under the direct supervision of Missionaries, and ten students who are being prepared to take part in Mission work are maintained at Theological Colleges.

Subscriptions, Donations, Church Collections and Legacies are earnestly sought, that the Society may be able to increase its activity in proportion to the growing wants of the Church.

The Association supports a large staff of Zenana teachers and Bible-women, who visit the homes regularly, teaching the Bible, English, Tamil and Telugu, reading, and plain and fancy needlework.

One of the most interesting departments of the Association's work is the village work carried on in some of the villages near Kilpauk, as well as near Sholinghur. Bible-women visit from house to house teaching the Scriptures to such women as they can gather, their work being superintended by one of the Ladies in charge of Zenana work.

CANADIAN BAPTIST TELUGU MISSION.

1.—The Foreign Mission Board of Ontario and Quebec, Canada.—This Mission was established by the Rev. John McLaurin, D.D., with the first station at Coonanda, in the year 1874. He took over some 150 adult converts and continued the work which had for several years been prosecuted by the Rev. Thomas Gabriel. There were then but one ordained Minister, Rev. Thomas Gabriel, who died a short time after, two unordained preachers and three school teachers. The annual income of the Home Society for that year amounted to $1,882, a portion of which went to the support of a family then working with the A. B. M. U. Telugu Mission to the South. The baptisms of believers for the first year numbered 57.

Through the 34 years of the Mission's history 25 men with their wives and 20 single ladies have been sent out from Canada. Of these, three men and two married women and one single lady have died, two single ladies and 6 families have been forced to retire owing to ill-health and other causes, including the founder of the Mission who is now under the A. B. M. U. in Canada.

There are at present 12 families and 15 single ladies on the staff. There are 9 stations, of which 2 are in Vizagapatam, 2 in the Kistna and 5 in the Godavari districts. There are now 8 ordained native Ministers, 75 unordained preachers, 11 colporteurs, 51 Bible-women, 75 male and 35 female teachers, and 5 medical assistants, or a total native staff, amongst whom are included two very competent Eurasian Bible-women, of 203.

The churches number 45, one being English, and the entire membership totals 5,773. Of these, 375 received baptism in 1907. The native Christians contributed alone some Rs. 4,151 in 1904; 3,044 scholars are gathered in 161 Sunday Schools. The day schools number 79, with an average attendance of 1,503. There are 7 boarding schools with 182 boys and 148 girls, or a total of 330 pupils. The Mission property is worth about $47,000, or at Rs. 3 to a dollar, some Rs. 1,41,000. The converts are mostly from the out-caste classes.

There are five Medical Missionaries, two men and three women, one of these being the wife of a Missionary.

The Kellock Home for Lepers at Ramachandrapuram cares for over eighty lepers, men and women, is supported by the Mission to Lepers in India and the East, and is directed by this Mission. A new hospital has been opened at Pithapuram.

The Mission has a Theological Seminary and Secondary School and a Normal School at Samalkotta under the principalship of the Rev. H. E. Stillwell, B.A.

The work amongst the English and Eurasians in Cocanada includes a Day and Boarding School for boys and girls, known as the Tinpany Memorial School, which teaches up to matriculation. Boys up to 15 years of age may attend the day classes.

MADRAS TAMIL MISSION.

The Madras Tamil Mission is an Indian Christian effort to bring "that which is lost" to the feet of our Lord Jesus Christ. It was established in 1881, and among its friends and supporters it has many well-known Christians in India and Europe.

The Orphan Home of this Mission, which contains about 99 inmates, is now quartered in a habitation of its own (with 4 acres of land) in Pondiarpet, 4½ miles to the north of Madras. There is a printing office in the Home. Some of the Senior Orphan boys are employed in the Government Press, Madras.

The Mission has four ragged school centres in and around the city, with about 250 pupils. The Mission distributes 2,000 tracts monthly among the heathen and carries on Gospel work among lepers as well as in the villages round about the Orphan Home.

The Mission also maintains a High School for the children of respectable Indian Christians.

The Mission at present employs 28 Indian Christian Workers.

Contributions may also be sent direct either in crossed cheques or foreign money order to Gnanamuthu Joseph Israel, or G. Samuel Israel, The Orphan Home, New Washermenpet, Cross Road, Madras, N. E., India.

THE SYRIANS IN MALABAR.

A short sketch of their history.

Both history and tradition testify that St. Thomas the Apostle came to India and made a good many conversions especially from among the Nampoothiri Brahmin families on the Malabar Coast where he founded seven churches at Kodungallur (Cranganore), Parur (Kottakav), Kokamangalam, Palur, Chayal, Neranum, and Collam (Quilon) and consecrated bishops and priests from among them. These Christians of St. Thomas increased and flourished for some time until persecution arose and almost destroyed the community leaving it bereft of pastors. The Catholikos (Patriarch) of the East being informed of this deplorable state of things in Malabar supplied this Church with bishops and priests from Mesopotamia and Persia.

The series of these bishops continued till about the year 1596. On the death of Mar Abraham, the last of this series, Archdeacon George, a native syrian priest, was appointed administrator of the diocese, who made public profession of Catholic Faith at Vaipen in presence of the Portuguese Governor, officials, clergy and people. Basing himself on the report of some Portuguese priests against the archdeacon, archbishop Menezes of Goa came to Malabar and convoked a synod at Diamper in 1599 to purge the Syrians of some supposed errors that had crept into their belief and liturgy. On his return to Goa he appointed, with the sanction of the Holy See, Francis Roz S. J., a Latin priest, as the Archbishop of the Syrians. The Syrians being always eager to get a bishop of their own and finding their efforts unsuccessful rebelled against Francis Garcia S. J., their third Latin Archbishop, in 1653, and selected archdeacon Thomas, a native syrian priest, for their bishop on whom 12 priests sacrilegiously imposed hands.

The Holy See coming to know of this revolt sent to Malabar Joseph Sebastiani, a disaffected Carmelite as Commissary Apostolic, with three companions to win back these Christians to the true fold. As most of the Christians were eager to come back, the Carmelites with the valuable assistance of Alexander de Campo, a native syrian priest, easily reconciled 40 churches to Rome in 1657, with the condition of obtaining them a bishop other than Abp. Garcia. Forty four other churches followed them.

The remaining 32 churches were governed by Archdeacon Thomas who was afterwards consecrated by a Jacobite bishop Gregory in 1665. The descendants of these are the present Jacobite Syrians of Malabar. They are now divided into proper Jacobite Syrians and Reformed Syrians, the former numbering 199,340 and the latter 37,713.

On the Dutch taking possession of Cochin, all Europeans excepting the Dutch had to quit Malabar. The commissary Apostolic vested with the power of consecrating one or two bishops from among the natives chose Alexander de Campo, a native syrian priest, and consecrated him in 1663, first Vicar Apostolic of Malabar under Propaganda. In his old age Bishop Alexander de Campo requested Rome to give him a co-adjutor in the person of his nephew. But the four Carmelites passed him over and selected a Eurasian priest of the Latin rite, by name Raphael Figueroa Salgado, to be co-adjutor to the syrian Bishop. Bishop Alexander refused to consecrate him. He was therefore taken by the Carmelites to Calicut who got him consecrated there by Bishop Thomas de Castro in 1677. This co-adjutor acted independently of Bishop Alexander and quarrelled with the Vicar-General of the latter. Whereupon he was deposed by the Pope in 1684.

After the death of Alexander de Campo one of the Carmelites succeeded him. The Portuguese Bishops of Cranganore also were governing a part of the Syrians.

This state of things lasted till 1859 when a deputation of the syrian Catholics was sent to Joseph Audi, the Catholic Patriarch of Bagdad to get a syrian Bishop. Accordingly in 1861 Mar Rokos, a Chaldean Bishop was sent by the Patriarch to Malabar. After a very short stay he was recalled.

Again the Syrian Catholics sent petition to Bagdad. In 1874 Bishop Elias Mellus was sent to Malabar and some syrian churches joined him. Though he left Malabar after some years the remnant of his schism is still lingering in Trichur and forms at present a community of 8,884.

The Syrians eager as ever to have syrian bishops petitioned Rome explaining the deplorable state of their Church. The Holy See sent Archbishop Leo Meurin S. J. of Bombay as Visitor Apostolic to Malabar in 1876 to know and report the real condition of the Syrians. He stayed in Malabar for 16 months, convoked two meetings of all the Catholic syrian priests one at Manmanam and the other at Ollur, visited several churches, thoroughly investigated the cause of all their grievances and reported it to Rome. Understanding from his report the need of giving a separate Bishop for the Syrians, the Holy See appointed in 1877 Mgr. Marcellins as co-adjutor Bishop of Verapoly for the separate charge of the syrian Catholics.

The Syrians not satisfied with this repeated their petitions to Rome. On the recommendation of Mgr. Agliardi, the Delegate apostolic, the syrian churches were withdrawn in 1887 from the jurisdiction of Verapoly and Bishops Medlycott and Lovigne S. J. were appointed by Pope Leo XIII to govern them as Vicars Apostolic of Trichur and Kottayam.

This arrangement lasted until 1896 when the oft-repeated request of the Syrians to have Bishops of their own race was at last granted by the same Pope. The two European Vicars Apostolic were withdrawn and three native Syrian priests Fathers John Menachery, Aloysius Pareparambil and Mathew Makil were consecrated at Kandy by the Papal Delegate as Vicars Apostolic of Trichur, Ernakulam and Changanacherry depending directly on the Holy See. The Syrian Catholics under these Vicars Apostolic number 336,319 souls.

Ottacamund, August 25, 1892.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 71.—The following revised rules are published for information and guidance:—

RULES.

I. The burial-ground shall be designated the "Pursewalkum General Cemetery," this designation being inscribed in large letters over the entrance, and the right of interment shall belong to all Christians not being members of the Church of England.

II. The management of the "Pursewalkum General Cemetery" shall be confided to a Committee selected by the Madras Missionary Conference, to which the Governor in Council may, from time to time, add any person whom he shall think fit to nominate. The appointments made by the Missionary Conference shall be duly submitted to the Governor in Council, who shall be at liberty, for reasons stated, to veto any such appointment.

III. The Committee shall keep the burial-ground in order, free from all rank vegetation, the trees and shrubs in it being neatly lopped. They shall receive the fees leviable under Rule VIII below, and shall make over to Government, at the end of each official year, any sums that may accrue therefrom after the payment of all expenses necessary for the upkeep of the cemetery. They shall also prepare an account of their receipts and disbursements for each official year, and shall render the same to Government in the Ecclesiastical Department for scrutiny and for publication in the official Gazette.

IV. The Committee may nominate their own Secretary, and may fill up vacancies in their own body, subject to the conditions specified at the close of Rule II, above.

V. All applications for permission to inter must be in writing to the Secretary to the Committee of Management, with particulars of the name of the deceased, date and cause of death, age, and late profession or employment.

Applications for the interment of children shall, besides containing the name of the child, also contain the names and profession of the parents.

VI. The Committee shall register all burials according to the established form, submitting the same quarterly to the President, Municipal Commission, Madras, and the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths and Marriages.

VII. The Committee shall be careful to have the graves so arranged that there shall be no waste of space.

VIII. The following are the rates of fees chargeable for interment in the cemetery:—

	RS.	A.	P.
(1) For every square foot * of ground occupied by a grave ..	0	8	0
*NOTE.—This fee is independent of the actual charge for making a grave.

(8) For burial in a family vault ..	3	0	0

* This fee is intended to be chargeable in the case of a grave of any description, and the expression "ground occupied" is meant to refer (1) in the case of a non-enclosed grave, to the area actually occupied by the grave, and (2) in the case of enclosed graves, graves with monuments, or graves partly covered by monuments and partly enclosed, to the area actually occupied by the grave plus all additional space either enclosed or occupied by a monument. The fee in question is independent of all charges for monuments, which are leviable under Articles (2) to (5) of this rule.

† The item "stone or marble" does not include slate.

In the case of Native Christians wishing to erect a monument, the charge may be reduced to one-half of the amounts specified above. [Ground fee for Native Christians, 4 annas per sq. ft.]

IX. British soldiers, non-commissioned officers and regimental warrant officers are exempted, with retrospective effect, from the payment of any fee for the construction of graves, or for the erection of monuments in burial-grounds to the memory of their comrades, wives or children, but not from the fees prescribed under Rule VIII (6) and (7).

The widows and children of British soldiers, non-commissioned officers and regimental warrant officers are also exempted from payment of the former class of fees in the case of their deceased husbands and parents. No monument, either regimental or private, shall exceed the dimensions prescribed in XVI et seq. of these rules.

NOTES.—(1) This rule is applicable to British soldiers and non-commissioned officers, whether in military or civil employ.

(2) Monuments erected under this rule subscribed for partly by non-commissioned officers and men, and partly by officers, are likewise exempted from the prescribed fee.

(3) Departmental warrant officers and volunteers are not exempted from payment of Ecclesiastical fees.

X. Applications for the erection of monuments, must, like those for interments, be made in writing to the Secretary to the Committee, and all charges for monuments must in every case be paid for in advance.

XI. The Secretary to the Committee shall keep a plan of the entire cemetery, to be provided by the Public Works Department, with references written upon it, in a book in which the names of parties interred are recorded; this plan and book being kept with the Church registers.

NOTE.—The Executive Engineer prepares a plan of the cemetery showing on it all the existing graves and the spaces allotted for future graves, and giving them all consecutive numbers.

XII. The Secretary to the Committee may reserve grave space, as limited by Rule XIII below, on the application of near relatives of persons already buried in the cemetery and for the burial of the persons named in the application. A double ground-fee shall be levied in advance before granting any such application, and each grant shall be registered in a book to be kept for the purpose and indicated on the plan. The ground will then be reserved for 10 years. Before the expiry of that period, a fresh application should be made and a further double fee paid, failing which the ground will be resumed.

XIII. The size of each grave, whether of masonry or not, is limited to 9' x 4', and the area of ground to be enclosed must not exceed 11' x 7' by external measurement.

XIV. (1) All graves must be at least 6 feet in depth.

(2) No body shall be buried in any vault or masonry grave which it is intended at any aftertime within 14 years to re-open, unless the coffin be separately entombed in an air tight manner by properly-cemented stone or brick-work, which shall never be disturbed.

(3) One body only shall be buried in a grave at one time, unless the bodies be those of members of the same family.

(4) No non-masonry grave or masonry grave unprovided with the separate air-tight compartment prescribed in clause (2) shall be re-opened within 14 years after the burial of a person above 12 years of age, or within 8 years after the burial of a child under 12 years of age, unless to bury another member of the same family, in which case a layer of earth not less than one foot thick shall be left undisturbed over the previously buried coffin. If on re-opening the grave, any soil is found to be offensive, such soil shall be left undisturbed.

(5) There shall never be less than 3 feet of earth between the topmost coffin in a grave and the surface of the ground.

ERECTION AND REPAIR OF MONUMENTS.

XV. Monuments may be erected by any interested person. The inscription before being cut, and the design, when the monument is other than a simple headstone, must be first approved of by the Secretary to the Committee. Should an inscription be disapproved, it may be referred, if those interested desire it, to the Government for decision.

XVI. When a grave is not of masonry throughout, the only monument ordinarily allowed over it is a simple cross or headstone on an adequate masonry foundation not exceeding 3' x 2'; and the whole structure must not stand higher than 3' 6" from the ground-level. But with the permission of the Secretary to the Committee, a monument, such as may be erected over a masonry grave, may be placed over a non-masonry grave when adequate masonry foundations are provided on which the monument may rest.

XVII. No monument, of whatever material constructed, shall exceed 8' x 4' at the base without the previous sanction of the Government.

XVIII. No monument of masonry shall stand higher than 3 feet from the ground-level.

XIX. No cenotaph shall be more than 6 feet square at the base.

XX. The enclosure of ground round a grave must be by a metal railing, or by chains or bars of metal supported on masonry or metal pillars. Wooden or masonry enclosures are not permitted. The previous sanction of the Committee is necessary to the enclosure of a non-masonry grave, and no such sanction shall be given unless the same fees are paid as for the construction of a masonry grave.

XXI. When a monument needs repairing, the Secretary to the Committee should communicate with the friends of the deceased or, when such communication is not possible, advertise three times in the Gazette of India and the Gazette of the province; and if a monument falls into a ruinous condition and no person will undertake to restore it, the ruined monument shall be made level with the ground during the next repairs, and any slab it contained will be placed over the grave in simple masonry, or be inserted in the wall of the cemetery.

NOTES.—(1) This rule does not apply to monuments of historical or archaeological interest. Lists of such tombs should be obtained by local Governments and Administrations, and as many of them as may be properly preserved at the public expense should be looked after by the local Public Works Department.

(2) The cost of the advertisements in the Gazette is met by the Government.

XXII. All work connected with monuments must, as far as possible, be carried on outside the cemetery; and any undertaker not removing the debris of his work immediately upon its completion, is liable to a fine of Rs. 5, which shall be paid to the Committee and credited to the funds of the cemetery.

XXIII. The cemetery shall be inspected once in a half-year by the President, Municipal Commission, Madras, in company with the Executive Engineer, the plan and book kept under Rule XI being also examined, and a report made to the Government.

J. F. PRICE, Chief Secretary.

As the fees levied are not enough to pay the wages of four gardeners, and otherwise maintain the cemetery in good condition, persons interested in the graves are requested to become subscribers to the Cemetery Fund.

As equal attention is paid to all the graves, persons interested in the graves are strictly prohibited from giving anything to the gardeners, who are liable to immediate dismissal if they accept such gifts.

Visitors desirous of becoming subscribers are requested either to inform the undersigned or leave their name and address with the head gardener, who has a supply of stationery.

As a rule, all the four gardeners should be at work from early morning till 6-30 p.m. Visitors are requested to record briefly any irregularities they may notice in a book kept for that purpose in the cemetery office.

E. L. DUNHILL, Manager.

SUBSIDIARY RULES FOR THE ERECTION AND REPAIR OF ENDOWED MONUMENTS IN GOVERNMENT CEMETERIES IN THE PRESIDENCY OF MADRAS.

APPLICATION FOR ERECTION OF ENDOWED MONUMENTS.

G.O., Nos. 113 and 114, Ecclesiastical, dated 8th December 1903, and 68, Ecclesiastical, dated 27th July 1906.

I. A person desiring to erect an endowed monument should submit his application in Form A, with a dimensioned drawing of the monument drawn to scale and a detailed estimate, to the Chaplain or other officer in charge of the cemetery.

II. The Chaplain or other officer in charge will send on the application, with the drawing and estimates, with a forwarding letter (Form B) to the Executive Engineer in charge of the cemetery. The Executive Engineer will fill in column 2 and examine and counter-sign the drawing and the estimate, and return the application, with the drawing and the estimate, to the Chaplain.

The foregoing procedure applies to the case of monuments of all other kinds and to the case of single stone monuments erected by soldiers to their deceased comrades, for the maintenance and repair of which the State is responsible. It does not apply to other single stone monuments. A single stone monument is a monument consisting only of a plain cross head stone or slab over a masonry foundation, 3 feet x 2 feet. The total height of such monuments must not exceed 3 feet in the case of masonry graves and 3 feet 6 inches in the case of non-masonry graves.

The repair of fragile or costly work liable to receive damage cannot be undertaken by Government.

III. On return of the application by the Executive Engineer the Chaplain will see that the application in Form A is correctly filled in. In the case of tombs in that part of the cemetery which is reserved for the Church of England, the officer in charge of the cemetery, if he is himself the Chaplain, will give or refuse sanction to the erection and endowment; if he is not the Chaplain, he will forward the application in Form A with the drawing to the resident or visiting Chaplain, or, if there is none, to the Archdeacon, for sanction. If the tomb is to be erected in any other part of the cemetery, the officer in charge will forward the application for approval of the design to the minister of the denomination to which the deceased belonged. Should there be no resident or visiting minister of that denomination, the application should be sent to the senior minister belonging to it in the presidency or, if there be none, to the local Government. On receipt of approval, the officer in charge will sanction the erection and endowment of the monument.

IV. As soon as sanction has been given, the Chaplain or other officer in charge of the cemetery will advise the applicant of the sanction in Form D and instruct him to pay the amount of the endowment calculated as in rule VI to the Executive Engineer, who will grant the applicant a receipt in Form C.

V. The Chaplain or other officer in charge of the cemetery must inform the Executive Engineer in Form D as soon as the monument is ready for erection, and the latter will see that it is set up in accordance with the drawing and the estimate sanctioned and will enter the monument upon his list for repairs by the Public Works Department. The officer in charge of the cemetery will, in communication with the Executive Engineer, send in April every year to the Archdeacon a list of the monuments erected and endowed during the year ending March 31st, together with the amounts of the endowment fees.

AMOUNT OF ENDOWMENT.

VI. An endowment fee of Rs. 15 will be charged when a person wishes to endow a single stone monument.

Other monuments shall be divided into two classes—

- (1) Plain and solid monuments, which are likely to require only occasional repair; and
- (2) elaborate monuments and other monuments which are likely to require special attention or frequent repair.

An endowment fee of Rs. 20 will be charged for monuments of the first of these classes and of Rs. 75 for monuments of the second class. The classification will rest with the Executive Engineer, but any person objecting to his decision may appeal to the Superintending Engineer. With the sanction of the Superintending Engineer a higher fee may be charged in case where fees on the classified scale are clearly insufficient.

NOTE.—In the case of a child's monument these fees may be reduced to Rs. 20 and Rs. 50 provided that the monument does not exceed 5 feet x 3 feet.

No addition to an existing monument in a Government cemetery will be allowed beyond mere lettering on existing slabs, head stones, or crosses unless the whole monument is endowed.

VII. The endowment is intended to cover the expense of ordinary annual maintenance, re-lettering and repairs, but not the risk of accidents due to floods or earthquakes or other extraordinary causes. It is open to any person to provide for extraordinary repairs by making a special endowment in addition to the ordinary endowment fixed by the Executive or Superintending Engineer under rule VI. This special endowment must, however, be limited to the amount necessary to cover such work as the Government officers can undertake to execute.

VIII. When an endowment is paid to the Executive Engineer in accordance with rules IV and VI, the amount must be entered in the Divisional Cash-book as a deposit received and paid into treasury with a remittance note in Form G for credit to Civil Department. The Executive Engineer will forward the treasury officer's receipt with his monthly accounts to the Examiner of Accounts in support of the debit to "deposits," a note to the effect that this has been done being entered in red ink across the back foil of the remittance note.

The Examiner will from these receipts maintain a register in Form H showing the endowment for each cemetery. The Accountant-General will credit to a head Cemetery Endowments Fund under the major head Savings Bank Deposits—Bank Accounts all sums received on account of these endowments, but will show no details regarding the cemeteries.

After the amount has been paid into the treasury the Executive Engineer will enter it in Register of Endowments, Form E (Part I).

NOTE.—A clear distinction must be maintained between (1) ordinary, and (2) special endowments (vide rule VII) in all the documents and accounts mentioned in this Rule.

IX. The Executive Engineer shall maintain an account of all ordinary and special endowments in Form E (Part II). A separate ledger account shall be opened in Form E (Part III) for each monument for which a special endowment exceeding Rs. 25 has been made under rule VII.

X. The interest calculated under rule XI on the deposit shall be used in meeting the expenditure for the repair of those monuments for whose endowment deposits have been made. In no circumstances should the capital sum be applied to meet such expenditure, nor should the interest be separate for each monument. The interest accruing on the deposits shall form a common fund to be used exclusively for the repairs of all endowed tombs; provided that the interest on deposits for which separate accounts are opened under rule IX shall be used exclusively for the particular monument on account of which the deposit is made.

If a monument becomes so damaged as not to admit of repair, the Chaplain shall communicate with the friends of the deceased, or when such communication is not possible, advertise three times in the Gazette of India and the Port St. George Gazette; and if no person will undertake to restore it, the monument shall be treated at the next repairs in such manner as the Chaplain may decide to be necessary for the maintenance of the cemetery in decent order, provided always that any inscribed slab or tablet which formed part of it shall be placed over the grave in simple masonry or be inserted in the wall of the cemetery and shall be carefully preserved.

XI. Joint estimates shall be framed in October of each year by the Executive Engineer and the Chaplain, or other officer in charge of the cemetery, of the cost of repairs of endowed tombs, during the following official year, and the aggregate of the sums so estimated shall not exceed the estimated interest at 3½ per cent. per annum on the capital sum deposited up to the 31st March preceding, plus the unspent balance at the end of the previous year. The Executive Engineer should budget annually for the grant required; such grant would be entered in a lump sum under the head "Civil Works" without any distinction between ordinary and special endowments.

XII. The Accountant-General will in his final accounts for March debit to 14. Interest by credit to the Public Works Department the interest at 3½ per cent. per annum for ordinary endowments and at 3 per cent. for special endowments made up to the 31st March. On receipt of the credit the Examiner of Public Works Accounts will distribute the amounts between the cemeteries in the Presidency and advise the Executive Engineer concerned of the amounts so credited. On receipt of such intimation the Executive Engineer will credit the amount in his divisional accounts as Public Works Revenue under the head "Interest on endowments for repairs of monuments" and then fill in the interest column in Form E (Part II).

XIII. Endowment funds invested in Government securities will be held in trust by the Accountant-General, on behalf of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, under the rules contained in Chapter II of the Civil Account Code. The interest will, on realization, be remitted to the Examiner and will be credited in his accounts, and distributed as provided in rule XII.

ENDOWMENT OF EXISTING MONUMENTS.

XIV. When application is made for the endowment of an existing monument, the above procedure shall be followed as far as applicable. The application in Form A with a dimensioned drawing of the monument drawn to scale shall be submitted to the Chaplain or other officer in charge, and forwarded by him to the Executive Engineer. The latter, besides framing an estimate of annual repairs, shall estimate the cost of placing the monument upon a suitable foundation, if he is satisfied that such a foundation does not exist. If sanction is given, the cost of the foundation (if any) shall be paid over to the Executive Engineer, who shall carry out the work without delay.

XV. In order that Government may know that the tombs are kept in proper repair, an annual report in Form F should be forwarded as soon as possible after the close of the accounts for a financial year by the Executive Engineer with respect to their condition, for each cemetery, to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will consolidate the returns so received and render a general return to the Government. The account will merely show the total for each cemetery as taken from the Executive Engineer's accounts.

The reports sent to the Examiner should contain remarks, both by the Chaplain and Executive Engineer, as to the state of the tombs for which endowments have been made.

NOTE.—The foregoing rules are applicable to cenotaphs erected in church compounds, but the previous consent of the Government to the construction of a cenotaph is in every case necessary.

Rules in regard to the Levy of Ecclesiastical Fees.

Letter from the Officiating Under Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Ecclesiastical), to the Secretary to Government, Port St. George, dated Simla, 8th July 1872, No. 165.

"The Lord Bishop of Calcutta having brought to notice that difficulty is occasionally experienced by Chaplains in collecting fees, under existing rules, on monuments and masonry graves, the Governor-General in Council considers that in all cases where such difficulty arises, the duty of collection should be made over by the Chaplain to the Magistrate or Deputy Commissioner in charge of the district in which the burial ground may be situated; and I am to request that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor in Council, instructions may be issued to the District Officers accordingly."

 The public should refer to Lunacy Act XXXVI of 1859 for Civil Lunatics and Act XI of 1877 for Military Lunatics, or to the "Rules" for management and superintendence of Lunatic Asylums, for information as to the mode of seeking admission for persons afflicted with insanity into the Lunatic Asylum.

Rules relating to the admission of Private patients into the Government Lunatic Asylums of the Madras Presidency.

I.—No patient can be admitted into an Asylum under any circumstances without a Medical Certificate of insanity and an Admission Order.

II.—A private patient is one who has a friend or relative willing and able to sign an admission order.

III.—The documents required for the admission of a private patient are as follows:—

(a) Two Medical Certificates (Form A).

(b) Admission Order (Form B).—One copy.

(c) An Indemnity Bond.

IV.—The medical certificates must each be signed by a qualified Medical practitioner, one of whom must be a Surgeon in the Government service. Usually, the Surgeon of the District the patient comes from or, in Madras, a Presidency Surgeon or other Commissioned Medical Officer signs this certificate after satisfying himself that the case is one of insanity. Neither the Superintendent nor Deputy Superintendent of an asylum can sign Form A, in the case of a private patient. If the patient is a pauper, he is exempt from paying the usual fee for the certificate.

V.—The Government Surgeon must send his copy of Form A, direct to the Superintendent of the asylum. The Superintendent will keep the certificate for fourteen days, after which, he will return it to the Medical Officer from whom he received it and the latter will destroy it, if the patient is not brought to the asylum within that period. The second copy of Form A must be brought to the asylum with the patient by the friends or relations.

VI.—The Indemnity Bond must be signed and stamped before a Registrar or Magistrate and should be produced, if possible, with the other papers when the patient is brought to the asylum for admission.

VII.—The rates, at which patients are admitted, are graded according to income. In the case of paupers or of poor patients with families, dependent on them, a reduction or an abatement of all charges is made. For scale of charges see General Hospital rates of stoppages.

VIII.—All forms can be obtained free from any Government Medical Officer or Superintendent of an asylum, on application.

IX.—Patients may have private servants, if they pay for them. These private servants are, as a rule, engaged by the Superintendent under whose control they work.

X.—Friends and relations are permitted to visit patients on Saturdays from 2 to 4 p.m., or, on other days, by special arrangement, the Superintendent or Deputy Superintendent giving the necessary permission in suitable cases.

XI.—All letters to and from patients must pass through the hands of the Superintendent who is the sole judge as to the advisability of their being delivered to the parties concerned.

XII.—Arrangements can always be made for reports on the health of the patients being sent to friends or relations and for notice being given in case of sudden or dangerous illness.

XIII.—A private patient can at any time be removed from the asylum by the person who signed the admission order; but the Superintendent may object to the removal of a lunatic who is dangerous, unless he is satisfied that proper precautions are taken to protect the patient and the public.

XIV.—Before sending a patient to an asylum, enquiry should be made as to whether accommodation is available and, as far as possible, due notice should be given of the time of arrival, so that arrangements for diet, etc., may be made beforehand.

GOVERNMENT LEPER HOSPITAL.

Military Assistant Surgeon W. R. D'Sylva	Superintendent.
V. A. Muthiah Devar	Hospital Assistant.
Miss M. F. D'Sylva	Matron.
N. M. Thoymonasawmy Mudaliar	Steward and Clerk.
A. B. Jesudoss Pillay	Jailor.

This institution, which was opened in 1844, is situated at the northern end of Popham's Broadway, and is maintained solely from public funds. Accommodation was originally provided for only 83 lepers, but subsequent additions at different dates now enable 274 of all classes,—Europeans, Eurasians and Natives—to be lodged, clothed and fed therein. There is a separate enclosure for female lepers and a large two-storied ward has recently been erected within it for East Indian and Native Christian females. There is, besides, a Criminal Lepers Ward, to which lepers from all the jails throughout the Presidency are transferred. The enlarged premises are, however, still inadequate for the numbers seeking admission, as lepers are numerous in Madras, whither they flock even from remote parts, to eke out a precarious livelihood by begging, or to share in the doles of grain or the public distribution of food to hordes of mendicants—a form of ostentatious charity in which the well-to-do native is prone to indulge on festival or other occasions in his household. Several of the lepers have been inmates for a number of years, and a few even from childhood to maturity, but a large proportion come and go as their inclination prompts, the monotony of the life as well as the regimen observed in the Hospital palliating on them after a time and being unobjectionable to the vagrant tastes and habits that most of them have acquired. Chaplains of the Anglican and Roman Catholic Churches minister to the spiritual and moral welfare of their respective followers, while Hindus and Mussalmans are permitted to practise their religious observances in places set apart for the purpose. A sum of money is annually contributed by kind friends and sympathizers with the sufferers from this baneful disease, to provide the lepers with a treat at Christmas-time and to enable prizes and rewards to be given to the juvenile patients for proficiency in needlework, as well as at their school tasks.

This Hospital was founded by the eminent philanthropist, whose name it bears, and who also provided an endowment of Rs. 50,000 from the interest on which it is maintained. A monthly allowance of Rs. 25 is paid by Government for batta to poor women awaiting their confinement. The number of patients is steadily increasing, a circumstance that bears testimony to the popularity of the institution, and is, moreover, an index of the public want which it fulfils; but its income is incapable of sustaining the increasing demands upon it. The Madras Corporation however has, from the 1st April 1907, taken over the financial responsibility of the Hospital. Native midwives, a class now in much demand, are trained here for service under Local Boards and Municipalities in the profusion.

To ensure proper relief in all cases, and the detection and exposure of imposture, Madras is divided into six districts, managed by Local Committees, who carefully investigate all applications. This is the oldest Charitable Institution in Madras, and by supporting it the public obviate the necessity for a Poor Rate, which would prove a far heavier tax. All subscribers are, ipso facto, Members of the Society. As such they are requested to exercise their right of referring to the

The Government have promised an Annual Grant of Rs. 15,000, provided the public will, by subscribing Rs. 30,000 per annum, place the Society in a position effectually to carry out the objects for which it was founded. Subscriptions and donations may be paid to the Bank of Madras, to the Honorary Secretary, or the Honorary Treasurer.

SPECIAL INSTITUTIONS.

THE PASTEUR INSTITUTE OF SOUTHERN INDIA, COONOR.

The Pasteur Institute of Southern India, for the treatment of persons bitten by rabid animals, was rendered possible by the allotment by His Excellency the Viceroy (Lord Curzon) of one lakh of rupees out of the sum placed at his disposal for sundry purposes by Mr. Henry Phipps of the United States. The foundations were laid in 1905 and the buildings were so far finished as to allow work to begin on April 1st, 1907. The Institute was formally opened by His Excellency Sir Arthur Lawley, the Governor of Madras, on April 25th, 1907. The area occupied is about 6½ acres and the Institute consists of (1) a main building, containing offices, patients' waiting and inoculating rooms, preparation and laboratory rooms, and upstairs, a scientific library and quarters for one of the Medical officers; (2) out-buildings, quarters for a Hospital Assistant, quarters for the Institute servants, quarters for indigent patients, animal houses, stables and out-houses for various purposes.

Information for patients proceeding to Coonor for anti-rabic treatment at the Pasteur Institute.

Coonor is situated on the Nilgiri Hills about 6,000 feet above the sea level and can be reached by the Nilgiri Railway from Mettupalayam in about four hours.

2. Mettupalayam is on the broad gauge section of the South Indian Railway and is easily accessible from all parts of Southern India. The Institute is about a mile from the Coonor Railway Station.

3. Climate.—The temperature of Coonor ranges between 60° F. and 75° F. from March to September and between 40° F. and 60° F. from October to February.

4. The rainfall is about 70 inches, the greater part being received during the N.-E. monsoon in October, November and December.

5. Persons coming from the plains require fairly warm clothing and bedding but nothing heavy. Indigent native patients will, as far as possible, be supplied with blankets.

6. Accommodation.—There are several hotels and boarding houses which are open all the year round and also a residential Club.

(a) Europeans and Eurasians are not accommodated at the Institute but must make their own arrangements for board and lodging about which there is no difficulty. Persons who cannot afford hotel rates can find inexpensive lodgings in the town within three-fourths of a mile of the Institute.

(b) Well-to-do natives can find houses in convenient situations and others can arrange for lodging and meals in the town. Indigent patients can be accommodated as far as there is room in the free quarters in the Institute compound, and will be provided with blankets and cooking pots.

(c) British soldiers stay in the Station Hospital at Wellington and are sent daily to the Institute in a Tonga.

(d) Native soldiers will be accommodated in the Cantonment Hospital, Wellington, and sent daily to the Institute in a Tonga.

7. Treatment.—Patients should proceed to Coonor as soon as possible after being bitten, the probable date of arrival being intimated to the Director by Telegraph. All treatment at the Institute is free of charge, but patients who can afford to do so are expected to contribute something towards its upkeep. The course of treatment lasts from two to three weeks according to the severity of the case, and patients are not laid up, but can go about as usual, having regard to the rules of life recommended. Patients should always endeavour to bring with them the brain of the animal that bit them, one-half in pure glycerine and the other half in a mixture containing 3% of bichromate of potash and 5% glacial acetic acid in distilled water.

Maintenance charges for days spent at Coonoor and for the days of the return journey may be advanced on separate bills drawn by the Director, who will certify thereon the class to which the patient belongs and the number of days that he was under treatment or that will be occupied in the journey.

8. Grants for the travelling and maintenance allowances of Government servants should be debited to a special detailed head, viz., to "32 Miscellaneous—Miscellaneous Charges for the treatments of patients at the Pasteur Institute."

9. All advances made to Government servants under rule 2 above should be recovered in three equal monthly instalments as provided in article 137 (b) of the Civil Account Code. Any recoveries of overdrawals to be effected in consequence of a Government servant having been allowed travelling allowance in excess of that to which he was entitled will be made by the Accountant-General.

II.—Concessions to Indigent Persons not employed in the Public Service.

10. Any indigent person domiciled in British India not employed in the public service who has been bitten by a rabid animal, and who, in the opinion of any officer, authorized to grant the concession, is unable to proceed to the Pasteur Institute, Coonoor, for treatment at his own expense, may be granted his actual travelling expenses to Coonoor and back, viz., (a) a single third-class fare each way by railway, (b) for journeys by road or river, the actual cost of transit, (c) maintenance allowance at the following daily rates:—

Europeans and Eurasians, one Rupee during the journey and Rs. 2-8-0 during treatment; natives four annas during the journey and six annas during treatment.

Provided that for the purpose of this rule no person or member of the family of a person who pays more than Rs. 50 as list per annum or whose income from any other source than land exceeds Rs. 15 per mensem shall ordinarily be classed as indigent; nor shall any person be classed as indigent who has at the time or can obtain from relatives the means of paying his expenses.

A list of the officers in the Madras Presidency authorized to grant their concession is given in Appendix B.

11. A third class pass or ticket from the patient's station to Coonoor and back by the shortest and cheapest route on the terms allowed by the Railway Companies will be procured for the patient by the officer who despatches him to Coonoor.

12. The patient may be paid in advance the actual cost of transit for journeys by road or by river, when necessary, and maintenance allowance for the period of his journey to Coonoor. He should take with him to Coonoor and produce before the Director of the Institute a certificate signed by the officer despatching him that he has been sent to the Institute for treatment at the expense of the Government of Madras.

13. The maintenance allowance of the patient while under treatment at Coonoor and for the period of the return journey and also, if necessary, the cost of transit for journeys by road or by river, on the return journey will be disbursed by the Treasury Officer at Coonoor, on production of a certificate from the Director of the Institute that the patient has been under treatment at the Institute.

14. The Director's discharge certificate should be prepared in duplicate. One copy should be despatched by him to the Government officer responsible for the original advance, and the other should be attached to the bill for travelling allowance for the return journey when presented for payment at the Coonoor treasury.

17. Women, children under 16 years of age, and men who are, by reason of age or other sufficient cause, incapable of travelling alone, may be allowed an attendant to accompany them to the Institute at Coonoor. Any such attendant shall be granted—

- (i) travelling expenses and maintenance allowance at the rate sanctioned for patients; and
- (ii) wages, not exceeding four annas a day, in cases where the despatching officer is satisfied that the patient is unable to pay the daily expenses of the attendant.

The charges of the attendant will be borne by the fund to which the charges on account of the patient are debited. Only one attendant may be sent at the public expense with each patient or patients of the same family.

18. THE KING INSTITUTE OF PREVENTIVE MEDICINE, GUINDY.

STAFF.

Capt. S. B. Christophers, M.B., I.M.S.	Superintendent (on other duty).
Dr. F. M. Gibson, M.B., B.Sc.	Ag. Superintendent.
H. C. Jackson	Dy. Superintendent.
Civil Asst. Surgeon, T. Sithapathi Iyer, L.M.S.	Senior Laboratory Assistant.
V. Janarthana Naicker	Manager.

The King Institute of Preventive Medicine which owes its inception to the representations to Government of Lieut.-Colonel W. G. King, I.M.S., late Sanitary Commissioner, after whom the Institute is named (G.O. No. 1379 L., dated 2nd November 1903), was formally opened by His Excellency Lord Amthill in May 1905, though the Vaccine Section had already commenced the supply of vaccine in March 1904 and the Bacteriological Section its work in August 1904. Prior to the foundation of the Institute, the vaccine required for the Presidency had been produced at Local Depôts, an arrangement which had many drawbacks. The Institute displaced these local arrangements and in little more than a year had undertaken the sole supply of the Presidency, sending out lymph from approved strains prepared under the best hygienic conditions. The quantity of vaccine issued annually to District Boards, Municipalities, Military Authorities, Jails and Private Bodies, is close upon two million cases.

The Bacteriological Section is the Provincial Bacteriological Laboratory. Prior to its institution there were no facilities for the examination of specimens or for bacteriological investigation. The Section examines and reports upon specimens for plague, cholera, malaria, typhoid and other diseases and undertakes the bacteriological examination of water and other matters of hygienic importance to the Presidency. It also affords help to Provincial Medical Officers and others in assisting them in the diagnosis of disease, supplying bacteriological strains, media, etc., when these are required.

The Laboratories are also available for Officers wishing to make examinations or undertake research.

A Section for the supply of sera and vaccines is contemplated and the buildings partly completed.

The Institute, though its duties are not primarily educational, gives certain courses of instruction and training to Vaccinators, Assistant Surgeons in the Sanitary Department, Plague Inspectors and Sanitary Inspectors. Candidates for Vaccination are required to undergo a course of instruction at this Institute in human and animal vaccination, the preservation and bacteriology of vaccine, the symptoms of the more common diseases of men and animals and instruction on official routine and law in vaccination matters. At the end of six weeks they are required to pass a competitive examination for the estimated number of vacancies. The fee prescribed for the course and examination is Rs. 20.

The following is the arrangement now in force as regards the course of instruction:—

1. Preservation and bacteriology of vaccine and the science of asepsis, etc.—Superintendent, King Institute.
2. Human and animal vaccination (theoretical), official routine and law concerning vaccination.—The Deputy Superintendent, King Institute.
3. Common skin and other diseases of man (practical).—The Medical Subordinate, Saidapet Dispensary.
4. Human and animal vaccination (practical).—The Deputy Superintendent, King Institute.
5. Common skin and other diseases of man (theoretical).
6. Common skin and other diseases of animals (theoretical).—Veterinary Assistant, Agricultural College, Saidapet.

Officers of the Assistant Surgeon's class, possessing either the M.B. & C.M. or L.M. & S. degrees of the Madras University or British qualifications, whose duties as Assistants to the District Medical and Sanitary Officers would not be confined to vaccination work but would deal with sanitation (more especially in its practical application) and registration of vital statistics are by G.O. No. 1770 M., dated 13th October 1904, Local and Municipal, required to undergo at the earliest convenient opportunity a course in Minor Sanitary Engineering at the King Institute of Preventive Medicine.

Lieut.-Colonel W. G. King, I.M.S., C.I.E., late Sanitary Commissioner for Madras, was of opinion that absence of Minor Sanitary Engineering knowledge in Sanitary Inspectors was a great impediment to the rapid fulfilment of sanitary reform in Local Fund Administration and he therefore suggested to Government that a sufficient knowledge in Sanitary Engineering in men of that class would enable them to frame estimates for petty sanitary works which they may recommend. To give the Sanitary Inspectors necessary training in Minor Sanitary Engineering, Col. King proposed that the Assistant Sanitary Engineer to Government, aided by the Office Assistant of the Sanitary Engineer, should impart to them the necessary instruction. The Government having approved of the scheme generally, the class is held in the King Institute for about five months in the year commencing from January, each candidate being required to pay a fee of Rs. 20 for training and Rs. 4 for the examination.

The existence of this Society is owing in great part to the exertions of the late Dr. Wight, formerly a Surgeon in the Madras Army, whose valuable contributions to Botanical Science have gained for him a widespread and well-earned celebrity. The ornamental gardens are situated opposite to the chief entrance to the Cathedral, and a piece of ground on the east of the Cathedral contains experimental plots and nurseries. The gardens occupy a space of about 22½ acres, a portion of which was originally granted by the Local Government. Part is laid out as a landscape garden containing a number of new and rare plants, especially tropical palms and trees from all the countries of the world, the whole forming a splendid collection, which is constantly being increased by exchanges and purchases. The ornamental Gardens are open from 7 A.M. to 6 P.M. to the public, and forms a healthful place of recreation for the inhabitants of Madras. (Business cannot be transacted from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M. when the plant houses and office are closed). A nursery for seedlings and cuttings of useful and ornamental trees is maintained to meet the requirements of the Members, who are supplied from it, to twice the amount of their subscriptions free, and above that amount at a reduction of 50 per cent. European vegetable and flower seeds are also similarly distributed; but all these advantages are open to the general public on payment. Many of the plants in the gardens are labelled with their botanical names, and information regarding them can be obtained on enquiry at the office. There is also a valuable Botanical Library attached, to which access can be had by Members or persons known or introduced to the Honorary Secretary. The general affairs of the Society are managed by an Honorary Secretary, and a Treasurer, assisted by a Committee who meet monthly, and compile annually in the month of March, a Report of the year's Proceedings, which is submitted to a General Meeting of the Members. The Proceedings of each Meeting of the Committee are also published and distributed quarterly to Members, Corresponding Societies, and others. Persons of all nations of both sexes are eligible as Members of the Society and may have a voice in the annual election of the Committee and Office-bearers. The rates of subscription are Rs. 7 per quarter, A Class, and Rs. 3 per quarter, B Class, according to the supplies required; no entrance fee being demanded, and the subscription being allowed to lapse, temporarily, should a Member be absent from India. Up-country Members are entitled to all the advantages of the Members residing in Madras, which it is possible to place at their disposal.

An Annual Show is held, usually, on the last Saturday of February, when a large number of prizes are awarded for flowers, fruits, vegetables, and other articles of importance in connection with botanical science, economic plants, food-grains, fibres, dyes, etc. Lists of the prizes to be distributed, and all information, may be obtained on application to the Superintendent, by whom lists of Members, Rules of the Society, lists of Seeds and Plants will be supplied gratis. Applications for admission as members should be addressed to the Honorary Secretary.

PEOPLE'S PARK.

INSTITUTED IN 1839.

Custodians.—MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE CITY OF MADRAS.

C. J. HAY-ELLIS, Superintendent.

We owe the People's Park to Sir Charles Trevelyan. It is not at all improbable that the idea of some such place suggested itself to many a man in power before his day. It would be singular indeed if Europeans should, for a hundred years, have seen a large native town growing up on the site of a small village—a vast population massing together with lungs to be fed with fresh air and limbs to be allured to exercise and health—without sometimes thinking it possible that the "village greens," "commons," and "parks" of his native land might perhaps be reproduced with advantage within reach of Black Town. The monotony of Indian life, and the lack of sympathy between the classes of Indian society, may be regarded as the causes why such an idea, if suggested, was never carried into execution. While the "upper ten thousand" could have their drive along the Beach and round the Island, it mattered little to them that the "masses" (unfriendly phrase) who could not drive, or were to be stimulated to recreation, had no place convenient for health, exercise and amusement.

* There is no District Agricultural Association at Chingleput.

But then Sir Charles Trevelyan was a man not given to routine; and somewhat wide in his sympathy. So the idea of the people's want suggesting itself to him, and he having the power as well as the will—the people got their Park. Thousands who know nothing of the step that cost him a Governorship, will hold his name in memory by the People's Park.

But when Sir Charles was recalled, the scheme was in a most elementary state. The plan was on paper; but never adopted. Little else was done, and little else would have been done if the inheritors of Sir Charles Trevelyan's dignity had not also inherited his sympathy with the people. We owe it to the various gentlemen who have been entrusted with the execution of the scheme, that the "plan" was not thrown into the official waste paper basket and the idea recorded as one of Sir Charles' amiable follies. It is in unison with Sir William Denison's career, previous to his arrival in this country, that he should have shown a hearty approval of an undertaking so intimately connected with the health and pleasure of the middle class population.

There can be no doubt that the Park has been a success. Any one may convince himself of that by a visit morning or evening. The place has already fixed its character as a popular resort, and it is pleasing to see that the native population appreciate the pleasure provided for them, and when the sternness of social life amongst them is relaxed, we may expect to see not only the Ramasawnies, but the Lutchmies of George Town taking their ease in the fretted shade of well-grown trees.

A portion of the Park lying north of the Poonamallee Road has been taken up for the erection of the Victoria Public Hall, and the Moore Market, which are now completed and the portion of land lying North of the Moore Market and South-East of the Band-stand being enclosed with zinc sheets is intended for all kinds of sports held by the South Indian Athletic Association (Limited) and has a nice building erected called the Moore Pavilion.

The Zoological collection in the Park consists of the following specimens:—

1 Lion.	1 Spotted Deer.	2 Adjutants.
1 Tiger.	1 Black Ape.	5 Pea-cocks.
7 Leopards.	1 African Monkey.	2 Pea-hens.
2 Hyenas.	2 Indian Civet Cats.	4 Pheasants, of sorts.
1 Malayan Bear.	20 Monkeys (common).	20 Gulls of sorts.
1 Japanese Black Bear.	6 Guinea Pigs.	8 Jungle fowls.
2 Black Bears (common).	21 Rabbits.	A number of Java Sparrows.
3 Wallabys.	2 Jackals.	A number of Parrots and
1 Tapir.	2 Emmes.	birds of various tribes and
1 Rhinoceros.	2 Cassowaries.	colours.
1 Camel.	4 Cockatoos.	A number of Common
1 Indian Antelope.	4 Crowned Pigeons from	Pigeons.
6 Sambars.	New Guinea.	1 Python.

In 1904, the Government gave a special grant of Rs. 10,000 for the improvement of the Menagerie and Park. The Menagerie enclosure was extended on the north and eastern sides and new cages were provided within. All the animals and birds that were outside were removed inside the enclosure. The ground within was improved by laying out ornamental beds and walks.

The new Aviary on the island contains a great variety of ornithological specimens, too numerous to detail here.

The area of the Park is 88 cawnies, or 116 English acres.

ROBINSON PARK.

RAYAPURAM.

The management of the Robinson Park was taken up by the Madras Municipality from 1st April 1899.

2. It has a Botanical Garden, divided into plots for the various Orders of plants, each being represented by many specimens. It is nearly circular in form, the centre being occupied by a Fountain presented to the Park by the late Pitty Moonosawmi Chetty in commemoration of his daughter's marriage. This Garden contains a Sago palm planted by Lady Grant Duff.

3. There is an island at the N.E. of the Park, where a large Fernery has been constructed at a cost of Rs. 1,500, presented to the Park by the late A. Armoogam Mudaliar. The Fernery is reached from the road by an iron bridge, having a span of 30 feet, which is neatly boarded and railed with teakwood. It was opened to the public by Lady Grant Duff in the month of February 1898.

4. Hay is supplied at the rate of Rs. 20 per ton. There is a Band-stand, where a Band plays every Wednesday from 6 to 7 P.M.

5. Loano Square (old General market) is also under the supervision and management of the Superintendent, Robinson Park, P. Manickavelo Mudaliar.

NAPIER PARK.

CHINTADRIPETT.

C. J. Hay-Ellis, Superintendent.

Madras owes so much to the administration of Lord Napier that it is very fitting that some permanent and palpable token of the public approbation of his labours should remain in our midst, at once to stimulate succeeding Governors to walk in Lord Napier's steps, and to remind generations to come of how much the sick, the suffering and the poor must always owe to one who has initiated so great improvements in all our public charities that their effect must long continue—blessing those who are too weak or poor to help themselves. The Napier Park is such a memorial. Its very position is most fitting. Standing midway between Government House and one of the most squalid quarters of Madras, its beneficent influence will rest upon both. Its site had been for scores of years a pestiferous swamp, covered for months in each year by salt and stagnant water, the overflow of the filthy Cooum. Within was a wretched parcherry, notorious for its liability to epidemic disease, that spread from thence throughout the city. To partially remedy the evil, the Corporation made it a depot for street sweepings, so that in time its level might be raised sufficiently to ensure its being free from water. Thus while amending one evil created another—placing on the borders of a dense population masses of putrescent matter that could not but be very injurious to both the water and air of the locality. This grew to be such an evil that the Sanitary Commissioner at last put a stop to the discharge of sweepings on the land. It was, however, impossible to build on such a spot and the whole remained a useless "dismal swamp."

At present all is changed. The level has been raised by material dug from ornamental tanks. Trees of useful and beautiful kinds have been planted, and are rapidly growing to their full height. Parks are things of slow growth, and it must be years before this can be worthy of the name it bears—a boon that cannot but greatly influence for good the whole population of Chintadripett and Narsingapuram.

The Park contains an area of about 18 cawnies. A great part of this was formerly the property of Government, but was generously given to the town on condition that the Corporation purchased the rest from the native owners. For this purpose the Corporation has expended several thousands of rupees, and the total cost, previous to the public opening, will not be less than twenty thousand rupees. A new road divides the northern side from Chintadripett. The design and laying-out of the Park are the work of Mr. Standish Lee, a former Municipal Engineer, who deserves great credit not only for this, but also for the economical, but yet effectual, manner in which the whole work was performed.

As a last gift, Lord Napier provided the whole of the funds required for erecting on the west side of the Park a handsome building for a girls' school in the Indian fashion.

Application Forms and Rules.—Forms, &c., for joining the Association can be obtained from the General Secretary, THE HABITATION, Egmore, Madras, or from the Honorary Secretaries of the Circles.

Appeal.—The aims and objects as above set forth are undoubtedly praiseworthy, but they cannot be effectually carried out except through the agency of a thoroughly representative and strongly supported body, and it therefore behoves every eligible person to become a member. These are objects which every member of the communities represented by the Association should have at heart. It is the duty of every person to see how he, as an individual, can contribute to the general welfare of the community to which he belongs, and the best way open to him at present is to become a Member of the Association and, as much as it is in his power, to give it his individual sympathy and support.

MADRAS GOVERNMENT MUSEUM.

Established on the 14th August 1851.

EDGAR THURSTON, Superintendent.

This is a Museum illustrating the Natural History, Arts, Industries, Ethnography, Antiquities, etc., of Southern India. The Natural History Section is the most extensive and embraces a number of Mammals, and extensive collections of Birds, Reptiles, Fish, Shells, Insects, Crustacea, etc. There is also an extensive Herbarium and very large collections of Mineralogical and Geological specimens. The Museum is intended chiefly to illustrate the natural history, natural resources and manufactures of Southern India, and the manners, customs, and antiquities of its inhabitants. There is a very interesting collection of gold, silver and copper coins, which can be seen by personal application to the Superintendent. In the Archaeological department is an extensive and interesting collection of sculptures from the Buddhist tope at Amaravati. The marbles were much defaced, but a portion of the out rail has been restored, and sections of the great Dagoba set up, so that visitors will be able to form some idea of the grandeur and beauty of the vast structure before its destruction. The carvings are quite different from those seen on Hindu temples or other buildings, and are more allied to specimens of ancient Greek art than anything Dravidian. Galleries, devoted mainly to antiquities and containing collections of arms from the Tanjore Armoury and Madras Arsenal have been added, as well as an Art gallery, in which are displayed the artistic manufactures of various localities and a collection of native jewellery. In the Museum grounds is the Commemorative Public Library, to which large numbers of new books are annually added, and in the Reading Room of which those over seventeen years of age may consult books daily from 7 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. from October 1st to March 31st, and from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. from April 1st to September 30th.

The Museum is open free to the public daily, Fridays excepted, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. N.B.—On the first Saturday of every month, after 12 noon, male visitors are excluded to enable Native Females to visit the Museum.

The Society was established in the year 1820 with a view to the general diffusion of useful knowledge by the supply of approved school books at the cheapest possible rates, and for furnishing such other elementary works, both in the English and Vernacular languages, as might tend to the mental and moral improvement of the people. The production of school books is now well carried on by private agency, and so the main object of the Society is now to help to form a good vernacular literature by means of giving pecuniary aid to authors for translations and original works. The Society was registered in 1893 under Act XXI of 1860. The books of the Society are now sold at the S. P. C. K. Depot, Vepery, Madras. Orders should be sent to the Manager, S. P. C. K. MOORE MARKET.

The ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new market was performed on 29th April 1898, in the People's Park, by Col. Sir George Moore, President, Madras Municipal Commission, in the presence of a large and distinguished audience. Colonel Sir George Moore, in the course of a speech giving some particulars of the evolution which brought about the construction of the above market said, inter alia, that in the year 1788 the building in Black Town, known as the General Market, was erected by Mr. Popham out of a loan raised among the leading European residents of Madras for the purpose of a market. This market scheme proved a failure, and in 1791 the buildings were purchased by Government for the accommodation of native troops stationed in the Presidency City. Subsequently the buildings appear again to have been used as a market, for up to March 1857, the stalls in the market were occupied free of charge. On that date a recommendation was made to Government to have them put up to public competition, the rents to be collected by the Collector of Madras. This arrangement obtained till 1864, when the attention of the Government of India was drawn to an assignment of Rs. 1,000 made by the local Government for repairs to the market which they remarked seemed to be of a nature properly debitable to Local Funds. This resulted in the market being handed over to the Municipal Commissioners from 1st May 1865. From the date of this transfer began the era of its condemnation. The President of the Sanitary Commission, Madras, in August 1865, specially brought to the notice of His Excellency the Governor in Council that it was, in a sanitary point of view, highly desirable that an early and entire transfer of the market should take place from Black Town. Several proposals were made, and in January 1867 the then President brought the subject prominently to notice. Matters dragged along, and in January 1870 the Improvement Committee waited on the then Commander-in-Chief and obtained his sanction to erect a market on the Esplanade known as Pachaiyappa's. In the same month Government sanctioned the grant to the Municipality of the 4 acres of the ground alluded to. Designs with specifications were then called for by advertisement, and two prizes were awarded for the two best designs. In MUHAMMADAN EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF S. INDIA.

1873 the then President resuscitated the subject which appears to have been dropped until 1878 when Government was applied to for a loan of Rs. 1,50,000. In 1879 the idea of building a new central market was abandoned. In 1880 the subject was again mooted. In 1887 it was proposed to erect a public market. Committee after Committee sat until in 1895, and after mature consideration this site was selected as being the most central one for all parts of Madras and in close contiguity to both lines of Railway. The market has a frontage of 300 ft. facing south and a depth of 242 ft. There are 260 stalls, and 10 gates lead into the verandah which runs all round the building, which is lighted throughout at nights by brilliant electric arc lamps. The foundation stone bears the following inscription:—

The Society commends itself to the support and co-operation of the community on the following catholic grounds:—

I. ITS SPECIAL OBJECTS:—The prevention of cruel and improper treatment of animals and the amelioration of their condition generally throughout the Madras Presidency. The means to this end are:—

1. The agency of paid officers, whose duty it is, in the City, to watch, warn, and threaten, or prosecute, as needful, all persons found guilty of inhumanity to animals.
2. Inviting information and suggestions from all who are interested in the cause of civilization, throughout this Presidency, respecting any barbarous practices, whether arising from cruelty or ignorance, over which this Society may be thought able to exercise any influence, towards the improvement in the treatment and condition of labouring and domestic animals.
3. Seeking the aid of the pulpit, the press, and all public instructors in advocating the principles and objects of this Society, having in view the promotion of humanity towards the animal creation.
4. Offering medals for the best essays on the "Duty of kindness to animals" to the public schools in the Presidency, and thus organising prize competitions with a view to instruct and educate the school-going population in their duty towards animals.
5. Holding Animal Show on a large scale and offering prizes to the best-conditioned horses, ponies, donkeys, bulls, dogs, &c., thus inducing kind treatment among a class of people who have to earn their living by the use of their animals.

II. Its important share and influence as an agent in the education of the people,—the cultivation of those merciful impulses which tend to the growth of humanity, and prevention of cruelty.

Towards those ends the moral support and co-operation of the community are not less sought than its pecuniary aid to meet the varied expenses incidental to the Society's operations, the extent and utility of which, in a field so wide, can be furthered only by the means at its command.

III. The Society maintains a ~~dispensary~~ in its new buildings at the Vepery High Road for the treatment of sick, disabled or injured animals sent to it by the Magistracy in cases prosecuted under the Acts relating to cruelty.

Communications and contributions will be thankfully received by the Honorary Secretary on behalf of the Committee.

IV. The Society maintains a "Pinjrapole" or Home for aged and infirm animals on the Konnur High Road, Perambore.

VICTORIA PUBLIC HALL, MADRAS.

Chairman.—E. S. Lloyd, I.C.S. Trustees.—Diwan Bahadur N. Subramaniam, W. Donald Smith, Mahomed Awarudeen Sahib Bahadur, Khan Bahadur Gulam Mahomed Sahib, B. Hanumantha Rao, G. Narayanaswami Chetty, P. R. Sunda Iyer, A. E. Rencontre, T. Ghanasham Sing, E. S. Lloyd, C. L. T. Griffith, and Thomas Richmond. Honorary Secretary.—T. Ghanasham Sing. Auditor.—E. C. D'Sena. Bankers.—Bank of Madras. Superintendent.—C. J. Hay-Ellis.

The idea of erecting a Town Hall, Madras, originated with the Hon'ble A. T. Arundel, late President of the Madras Municipality, at whose instance a meeting of the leading members of the Madras community was held in the Chamber of Commerce, on the 27th January 1882, at which it was resolved "that a movement be set on foot to erect a Town Hall in Madras with suitable offices attached, and that a public meeting be convened to support the movement at an early date." In accordance with this resolution, a numerously signed requisition was addressed to the then Sheriff of Madras, B. Lavery, for convening a public meeting of the inhabitants of Madras to discuss the project of the erection of a Town Hall. In compliance with this requisition a meeting, composed of all sections of the Madras community, was held in Pachaiyappa's Hall on the 17th March 1882, with the Hon'ble D. F. Carmichael in the Chair, at which meeting it was announced that the subscriptions that had already been promised amounted to Rs. 50,000, and a resolution moved by Sir Charles Turner and seconded by the late Hon'ble P. Macartyen was unanimously adopted, "that it was desirable that a Town Hall should be erected in Madras to be vested in Trustees for the use and benefit of the public."

The foundation stone was laid by H. H. late Maharaja Mirza Ananda Gajapati Raj Munney Sultan, of Vizianagram, on the 8th December 1883, and the building was completed in 1887, Mr. Colisholm being the Architect.

The total cost of the building is Rs. 1,72,000, of which Rs. 79,000 were realized by subscriptions from the public, including the princely donation of Rs. 10,000 from H. H. late Maharajah Mirza Ananda Gajapati Raj Munney Sultan, of Vizianagram, and the sum of one lac of rupees was obtained as a loan from His Highness on the mortgage of the building, which sum, together with the whole of the interest due on the mortgage debt, was generously remitted by the Rajah of Vizianagram to the Trustees on behalf of the public of Madras.

The Hall may be granted by the Trustees for the following purposes: public or private meetings, exhibitions, lectures, concerts, dinners, balls, theatrical or musical performances, namaste, or other entertainments and for any other purposes conducive to the moral, social and intellectual welfare or rational recreation of the public of Madras, without reference to caste, creed or nationality, subject to such conditions and rules as the Trustees for the time being shall direct or sanction.

Since the beginning of 1892 the Hall has been frequently engaged for public performances and private entertainments, a proof that its usefulness has begun to be appreciated by the public of Madras, and the charges are considered moderate.

REPORT FOR 1907.

The Council of the Victoria Technical Institute has the honour to submit its Report for the year 1907.

The changes in the Council have been few. The Hon. A. E. Castlestuart Stuart, I.C.S., resigned on going on long leave. The Hon. T. T. Logan, also resigned on leaving Madras. Government appointed the Hon. J. Andrew, I.C.S., in the place of Hon. A. E. C. Stuart, and M. E. Couchman, I.C.S., an additional member under Rule V (c). The term of three years for which Dewan Bahadurs R. V. Srinivasa Aiyar and P. Rajaratna Mudaliar were elected expires on 31st March 1908. The members are therefore entitled to elect four of their body as Members of the Council for three years from 1st April 1908. The retiring Members are eligible for re-election.

Meetings of the Council were held on 4th January, 11th April, 18th July, 12th September, and 19th December. Much business of a routine nature was also settled in circulation. The annual meeting was held on 11th April, and a Report of the Proceedings was prefixed to the Report for 1906. With reference to that Report, the Council, finding that H. Oakley was not a chartered Accountant, appointed Messrs. Fraser and Ross, C. A., to audit the accounts for 1907.

The money for the "Sir T. Madhava Rao Scholarship" was realized during the year from the Government of India. The amount of principal and accrued interest was Rs. 23,047-15-0, of which Rs. 23,000 has been invested in Government Securities. The Council, on the advice of its Education Sub-Committee, formulated a scheme for the award of Scholarships and in accordance therewith advertisements were issued estimating a vacancy for a scholar in metal-working, and an appointment has been made. The scholar is for the present working in the School of Arts, Madras.

The new building, the Victoria Memorial Hall, has made great progress during the year, and now shows visible evidence that it will prove a credit to its architect and a permanent ornament to the City of Madras. The Council allocated Rs. 2,500 to the Building Sub-Committee for furniture and appliances which might be of the nature of fixtures, and therefore necessary to be provided before the completion of the structure.

An important departure was made in the commencement of the operations of the Sales Department, to which an allocation of Rs. 5,000 was voted by the Council. This department has been under the personal management of the President, and its results which are most encouraging, augur well for the success of the Memorial Hall when opened as a centre for the sale of the Art products of the Presidency. The objects and work of this department are fully set out in a letter addressed by the Council to the Government of Fort St. George. The Council are glad to be able to report that Government has most liberally acceded to its request, and the sum of Rs. 25,000 was received before the end of the financial year.

The Central Agricultural Committee continued its useful work, though necessarily hampered by want of funds.

An appeal was, with the permission of Government, issued to the Zamindars and Landholders of the Presidency. As a consequence of this communication, the following have been added to the list of Life Members of the Institute:—

The Rajah of Vizianagram (Rs. 500).

The Rajah of Pittapuram (Rs. 1,000).

The Ex-Zamindar of Parlakimedi (Rs. 500).

The Jagirdar of Arni (Rs. 500 by yearly payments of Rs. 100 each).

The Proprietrix of the Utlam Estate (Rs. 500 by yearly payments of Rs. 100 each).

Seven land-holders also became annual subscribers of Rs. 12 each.

There are now 15 Life Members by subscription and 13 annual subscribers.

This result is not so satisfactory as was anticipated, but it is hoped that as the work of the Institute becomes better known and its local reputation a more prominent feature of the City, that a greater measure of support will be extended to it by the land-holding classes.

A sum of Rs. 1,918-6-2 has been received from the official assigned as a first dividend from the Estate of Messrs. Arbuthnot & Co. (in Insolvency).

The Balance Sheet and Reports of the Auditors with their certificate are appended.

J. N. ATKINSON,

President.

JOHN ADAM,

Honorary Secretary.

MADRAS CITY DIRECTORY.

THE CITY OF MADRAS.

This City is the capital of the Presidency of the same name, and is situated in lat. 13° 4' 6" N., long. 80° 17' 24" E. The town, with its suburbs, extends 9 miles along the coast, and runs 3½ miles inland, covering an area of about 27 square miles. The boundaries are—Shattancaud, Codangiyoor, and Yeroccaucherry on the north; Sembiam, Shirlor, Shembadanbakkum, Eruvaram, Kodambakkam, Saidapet and Guindy on the west; the Adyar river on the south; and the sea on the east. According to the Census of 1901 Madras contained 509,346 inhabitants.

History.—The native name is Chennaputnam or the city of Chennappa, the brother of the local chief or naick at the time of its foundation. The name Madrasputnam seems to have been in use almost from the same date and is the name retained by the English. The origin of this name has been much discussed. "Madriasa," a Mahomedan school, has been suggested, which, considering the date when the name is first found, seems rather fanciful. "Manda" is in Sanscrit "slow." "Mandaraz" was a king of the lunar race. The place was possibly called after this king. In March 1639, Mr. Francis Day, Chief of the Settlement at Armagron, obtained from the representative of the waning power of Vijayanagar, Shree Runga Royal, Rajah of Chandragiri, a grant of the site of land on which Madras now stands. A factory, with some slight fortifications, was at once constructed; and, induced by favourable terms, a gradually increasing number of natives settled round the building. In 1653, Madras, which had previously been subordinate to the Chief of the Settlement of Bantam in Java, was raised to the rank of an independent Presidency. In 1702, Dawood Khan, Aurungzebe's general, blockaded the town for a few weeks; and in 1741, the Marhattas attacked the place also unsuccessfully. The fort was extended and strengthened in 1743, and by this time the city had already become the largest in Southern India. So early as 1680 some attempt had been made to protect Black (now George) Town by a mud wall. In 1702 the necessity of improving this was brought home to the people by the advance of Dawood Khan, and a tax was raised for the purpose. From time to time, when danger threatened, this tax was repeated, but in periods of peace it was found difficult to draw contributions from the people; indeed, when in 1694 it was attempted for the fort defences, a riot ensued, the ultimate result of these imposts was a masonry wall, or "bound hedge," round the north and west sides of the town, with eleven bastions. Many traces of the wall still exist, and some of the bastions have been converted into store godowns, and police tannabs. A monument of this former defence is preserved in the name of the street lying within the line of the west wall, which bears the name of "Wall Tax Road," to this day. In 1746 Labourdonnais bombarded and captured the fort and the Company's Government was transferred to Fort St. David (Cuddalore). The settlement was restored to the English two years later by the treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle, but the Government of the Presidency did not return to Madras till 1752. In 1758 the French under Lally occupied George Town and invested the fort. The siege, which has been fully described by Orme, was conducted on both sides with great skill and vigour. After two months the arrival of a British fleet relieved the garrison, and the besiegers retired with some precipitation. With the exception of the threatened approach of Hyder Ally's horsemen in 1769, and again in 1788, Madras has, since the French siege, been free from external attack. The town of Saint Thomé, now an integral part of Madras city, was founded and fortified by the Portuguese in 1504, and was held by the French from 1672 to 1674. Sacked by Zoolfakar Khan in 1698, it was finally occupied in 1749 by the English, who expelled the French priests as being political emissaries.

Appearance.—Although at first sight the city presents a disappointing appearance except from the sea, it has several edifices of high architectural pretensions, and many spots of historical interest. Seen from the Harbour, the Fort, the High Court buildings, a row of merchants' offices, a few spires and public buildings, are all that strike the eye. The site is so low that it is difficult to realize that behind the first line of buildings lies one of the largest cities in Asia. Roughly speaking, it consists of the following divisions: (1) George Town, an ill-built, densely-populated block, about a mile square, within the old city wall, with more or less crowded suburbs stretching three miles north of the Cooum River. This is the business part of the town, and contains the banks, customs-house, and all the mercantile offices. The last, for the most part handsome structures, lie along the beach. On the sea face of George Town are the pier and the new harbour. Immediately south of George Town there is (2) an open space with a sea frontage of about two miles, and a depth of three-quarters of a mile, which contains the High Court, the Fort, Esplanade, Brigade Parade Ground ("the Island"), the Senate House, many Government Offices, Government House, and several handsome public buildings on the sea face. (3) West and south of this lag of the city, comes a series of crowded quarters known by various native names—Chintadripett, Tiroovateeshwaranpett, Poothoopank, Ryapettah, Kistnampett and Mylapore, which bend to the sea again at the old town of Saint Thomé. (4) To the west of George Town are the quarters of Vepery, Puraewakkum, and Poodoopett, chiefly inhabited by Eurasians; and the residential suburbs of Egmore, Nungumbakkum, Chetput, Kilpauk, and Perambore, adorned with handsome European mansions, in their spacious "compounds" or parks. (5) South-west and south lie the park-like European quarters of Teynampett and Adyar. The city is thus spread over a very large area. A large proportion of the tract of country comprised within the municipal limits of the City of Madras—covering as it does an area of 27 square miles, with 14 villages—consists of the poor rural district, more or less under cultivation, which surrounds the Fort and the native town and suburban villages now incorporated within its limits. This fact explains the recurring difficulties of municipal administration, and the constant inadequacy of its finances for the services to be met over so large an area. The moderate resources furnished by a poor and partly rural population have to be scattered over an area very much larger than that included under the management of the wealthy corporations of Calcutta and Bombay. Efforts have, however, been made by the new Municipal Act to improve the Corporation's resources. The main thoroughfare of the town is the Mount Road, opened in 1793, which leads from Fort St. George to St. Thomas' Mount. This is a fine street and avenue, but the houses along it for the first two miles are, with few exceptions, somewhat disappointing. The Cathedral Road, crossing it at right angles, and the Mowbray Road, are also wide and well laid out, the latter possessing a fine avenue of banyan trees. The Cooum River falls into the sea within municipal limits. Its course is short, and, except during the north-east rains, the volume of water it carries is insufficient to keep open the discharge into the sea. A backwater is thus formed round "the Island" and skirting the Fort and Government House grounds, whose stagnant condition, aided by the drainage of one or two suburban villages on its banks, has proved at times a serious drawback to the sanitary condition of the immediate neighbourhood. With rare exceptions, however, the bar of sand at the mouth of the river is breached by the early floods of the north-east monsoon, and open communication with the sea then lasts for some months. The Cooum is in communication with the Pulicat backwater, the Cochrane Canal, and with the Adyar river and Southern Canal System, by the junction canal through Saint Thomé. A considerable area is kept open to the west and north by several large tanks, and the two Parks and the Horticultural Gardens give additional breathing space.

The Island, where are the Head-Quarters of the Gymkhana Club, and the People's Park, which contains a small zoological collection, are the principal recreation grounds of the city. Among buildings most deserving of notice for their architectural features, are St. George's Cathedral, the Scotch Kirk, Government House, Pachaiyappa's Hall, Christian College, Senate House, Chepauk Palace (Revenue Board), Presidency College, Central Railway Station, Combined Telegraph and Post Office, the High Court, Law College, Victoria Hall, the Memorial Hall, the Museum and Theatre, Egmore, St. Matthias' Church, Vepery, Holy Emmanuel Church, George Town, the St. Thomé Cathedral, the new Wesleyan Church, Egmore, the Bank of Madras, the Moore Market, the Moore Pavilion, Rajah Venugopal Bahadur's Hospital for Animals, the Veterinary College, the Maternity Hospital, and the Y. M. C. Association building (the only building in Madras entirely built of stone) and, on the Mount Road, the business premises of Messrs. W. E. Smith & Co., Ltd., Oakes & Co., Ltd., Wrenn, Bennett & Co., Ltd., Whiteaway, Laidlaw & Co., T. R. Tawker & Co., Misquith & Co., Spencer & Co., Ltd., and the new and handsome office premises of the Lawrence Asylum Press in the Indo-Saracenic style. St. George's Cathedral and St. Andrew's Church (the Kirk), built in 1816 and 1818, were both designed by Major de Havilland, of the Engineers: in both the polished Madras chunam work, which has very much the effect of marble, is to be seen in great perfection. Until quite recently, the material for building in Madras consisted of inferior brick plastered, the plaster being moulded to imitate European detail. A trabeated form of Italian, with wooden architraves, was the favourite style. Since 1861, when stone from Cuddapah and Sholinghur was first introduced for building purposes, the style of the local architecture has frequently been made to approximate to an adaptation of the Hindu-Saracenic combined with Arabic. The Senate House, with the exception of the Byzantine terminations, is wholly in that style. The Chepauk Palace, formerly the residence of the Nawabs of the Carnatic, and now the office of the Board of Revenue, in its restored appearance, is also a striking specimen of this school. The Museum and Theatre buildings are in the Domestic style accentuated with stone and terra-cotta. The principal public statues are those of His Majesty King Edward VII., Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, Sir Thomas Munro, Lord Cornwallis, General Neill, the Rev. Dr. Miller, C.I.E., and Sir T. Muthuswamy Iyer (inside the High Court).

Fort St. George, commenced in March 1639, by Mr. Francis Day, originally consisted of a factory and other buildings surrounded by a wall, with four slight bastions and batteries, the whole being about 400 yards long by 100 deep. In 1643 it had cost about Rupees 35,000, and was garrisoned by 100 men, the number being reduced a few years later to 26. Between 1670 and 1680 some effort was made to improve and strengthen the position—a necessity forced on the Company by the successive retirement and encroachment of the sea, by the presence of the French at Saint Thomé, and by the threatening advance of Sivajee. Thomas Bowrey says that in 1688 "Fort St. George is indifferent well populated by the English, and wholly governed by them, very well fortified and surrounded with very potent and strong bulwarks, pointers, and batteries.

In 1702 the Fort bore its first attack, when Dawood Khan blockaded it for three months. In 1723 the Mint was built within its walls; and in 1740 Mr. Smith submitted a scheme for making the Fort more defensible, and for doubling its enclosed area. This scheme was but partially carried out, when Labourdonnais sat down before the place, and took it, after a short bombardment, in 1740. When, three years later, the English re-entered the Fort, they found it greatly improved, the glacis to the north had been made, and the bastions and batteries enlarged. Mr. Robins was now deputed to complete the French work; he adopted Mr. Smith's plans, and for two years 4,000 labourers were continuously employed. Mr. Robins formed the glacis to the west, deepened the ditch, enlarged the old bastions, formed four new ones to the west, to include the new ground taken up on that side, and added new batteries; so that in 1755, when the French returned under that side, the place, although far from perfect, was fit for Pigott and Lawrence to defend. Immediately after the siege, works were continued under Mr. Call and Colonel Rose, till, in 1787, the Fort was completed, very much as it now stands. Although suitable for the purpose for which it was originally designed, it is not tenable against modern artillery, and its walls in many places are in disrepair. Within it are many of the principal Government offices—the Secretariat and Council Chamber, the Military headquarters, arsenal and barracks. The arsenal contains many trophies of the wars in which the grand old Madras Army was engaged. Saint Mary's, the first English church in India, was commenced in 1678, and finished in 1683. In St. Mary's church are buried the missionary Schwartz, Sir Thomas Munro, Sir Henry Ward and Lord Hobart. The most important offices of the Presidency and the head-quarters of almost every department are located in Madras.

Climate, &c.—Madras is not ordinarily an unhealthy town, either for Natives or Europeans. Its sea-breeze and dry soil appear to more than compensate for the lowness of the site. The temperature is high all the year round, but there are fewer sudden alternations of heat and cold than in most places in India. The mean temperature in the shade ranges between 74° and 88° F.; the extremes being 64° in January and 105° in June. Thomas Bowrey, writing in 1688, says: "The Madras climate is not at any time very cold or hotter, but in May and June it is something sulphurous," so whatever else has changed, the climate in the hot weather remains the same. The death-rate averages 40 per thousand per annum. It usually increases during the cold and rainy seasons, and is at its minimum during the dry hot months of April, May and June. The population is liable to periodical visitations of cholera and small-pox. Elephantiasis and leprosy are endemic diseases on the coast-line; the former is generally seen in the form known as "Cochin" or "elephant leg" (Elephantiasis). The land rises slightly as the distance from the sea increases, but in no part of the municipal limits is the elevation more than 24 feet above the sea, while in many thickly-populated neighbourhoods the levels are so low as to offer serious obstacles to drainage. The new drainage works are expected to do much for the sanitation of the City. The average rainfall over the town area is nearly 48 inches in the year. The chief outlets for the discharge of excessive rainfall are the Cooum River, the main drain of George Town, and two minor channels between the Cooum and Saint Thomé. The heaviest rainfall usually occurs during the north-east monsoon, as much as 18 inches having been known to fall within 24 hours. The locality of the town is liable to prolonged periods of drought as well as to heavy floods.

NEIGHBOURING PLACES OF RESORT.

The following notes give some particulars regarding interesting places of resort near to the City.

Red Hills.—The native name of this locality is Coil Mathavaram. The village lies in a north-westerly direction about 10 miles distant from Madras. The English name is probably derived from the colour of the soil and the undulating appearance of the country, as there are no hills here in the ordinary acceptation of the term. A large lake was the centre of attraction in former times, and in its vicinity were several houses belonging to inhabitants of Madras. The aspect of the place has now, however, entirely changed since it has become the fountain-head of the Madras Water-works. Before the rail roads made it an easy matter to go for change of scene and air to Bangalore, the Nilgiris, or Shevaroy's and other outlying salubrious stations, the Red Hills and Ennore had strong attractions for the citizens of Madras. They were glad occasionally to escape from the heat and dust of the City and to enjoy the fresh breezes, boating, bathing, and other amusements available at these two places. A few people even resided permanently there, coming into Madras during the day for business and returning at night.

Ennore.—This place is about 10½ miles from the Fort in a northerly direction, and may be reached either by a boat plying over the Buckingham Canal, or by the ordinary carriage road through Tondiarpet and Trivettore. Its Tamil name is Cuttivaikun. Its chief attraction is a large salt-water lake in which visitors bathe, fish and sail. It has been the scene of many regattas. The gayest time that Ennore has known was perhaps when Sir Henry Pottinger was Governor of Madras. He had a great liking for the place, and built there a commodious bungalow for his own use, which he generally occupied during the hot season. Madras society then frequently visited the place, and the old Ennore Club House was seldom unoccupied by its members, who were always notable for their hospitality. Since then, and the opening of the railway, the tide of fashion has ebbed away from Ennore. The Ennore mosquitoes are the largest and most vicious on the Coromandel Coast, and nets should always be used for sleeping under. The lake contains excellent fish and oysters, and salt of a very superior quality is gathered from numerous pans, situated close to the creeks or inlets from the sea; the crystals are large and clear. It is shipped in large quantities to Calcutta and other ports. Further north lie Poothcopauk and Chinamany. The latter place contains the remains of a Hindu temple almost entirely embedded in sand, and at the former are some large plantations of casuarina belonging to private individuals.

Pulicat.—This village is an old Dutch settlement formed about 1609. It is chiefly inhabited by Lubbays and low-caste Hindus. The wealthier inhabitants carry on an extensive trade with Singapore and Malacca, and the common people are chiefly fishermen. Scarcely any trace is left of the old Dutch fort, but the ancient burial-ground, preserved from decay by Sir C. Trevelyan when Governor of Madras, contains many well-cut tombstones, some of them nearly 300 years old. Roman Catholics resort to this place in great numbers on certain of the Church's festivals. The distance from Madras is by canal 25 miles. Visitors at Ennore make excursions to Pulicat by boat, a pleasant journey of five or six hours. The lake which lies between Coromandel and Pulicat, named after the latter place, is a beautiful expanse of water, about 37 miles in length and from 3 to 11 in breadth.

Coromandel.—This retreat is separated from Pulicat by the lake just named and is bounded on the east by the sea. It is a pleasant place, and, like Ennore, is visited during the hot season. The etymology of the name of this place has been variously explained, but it appears to be a corruption of karimnal (black sand), the black sand so extensively used in former days in public offices and by the people, instead of blotting paper. "Coromandel," as applied to the East Coast, is said to be derived from Cholamundalam, i.e., the region of the Cholas, an ancient dynasty, who at one time inhabited this part of India. There are a few houses here furnished and favourably situated, which may be occupied on payment of a monthly or daily rent. The population here too consists almost entirely of low-caste Shoodras, Pariahs and Lubbays, numbering in all above 3,000.

Little Mount.—About four miles south of St. George's Cathedral and near the Marmalong bridge is a spur forming what is familiarly known as the Little Mount, where, tradition says, St. Thomas, the Apostle of India, was martyred. This, however, appears to be somewhat problematical. On the Little Mount stands a Roman Catholic Church, where a festival in connection with it is annually celebrated. A great throng of people, composed of the middle and lower classes, generally collects to witness the usual church processions, &c., which appear to cause great excitement. Under the arches of the Marmalong bridge may be observed various groups of excursionists, who make this their temporary abode until the close of the festival, which, as a rule, lasts for a period of ten days. There is not, however, anything historical attaching to the place, and beyond the festival above referred to, it is of little or no importance.

Guindy.—A little further south lies Guindy, which may be reached by a short drive from the Marmalong bridge. At Guindy is the Governor's country-seat. It is in many respects superior to the Government House at Madras, and owes its modern form to Lord Elphinstone. The park surrounding Government House is very extensive and admirably laid out. A broad and well-formed road runs direct from the main entrance, which presents the façade to full view. At Guindy is the Madras Race Course, one of the best in Southern India, and here also is the principal meet of the Madras Hounds.

St. Thomas' Mount.—Passing over the Marmalong bridge and turning to the right, a drive of 3 miles along a well-laid out road, beautifully shaded by an avenue of banyan trees will bring the visitor to St. Thomas' Mount, familiarly known as The Mount. This is an isolated cliff of green stone and syenite, about 220 feet above the level of the sea.

The summit of the Mount is crowned by an old Roman Catholic Church, called the "Expectation of the Blessed Virgin." The building, erected in 1547, measures 109 feet by 78 and belongs now to the Portuguese Mission in the diocese of Mylapore. Behind the altar of this church is a curiously carved stone cross with a very ancient inscription which Dr. Burnell refers back to A.D. 800; it is attributed to Nestorians. Translated into English, this inscription reads—"Who believes in the Messiah and in God above, and in the Holy Ghost, is in favour with Him who bore the Cross." In 1687, there was said "to be a tree on the top of the Mount which is called 'Arbor triste,' that seemeth not to flourish all the day long, but from sun setting to sun rising it is exceedingly full of white blossoms, which withered and fell at mid-day, the very leaves also shut themselves up in the day time!" The Mount may be ascended for a general panoramic view of the cantonment and parade-ground of the artillery, which is always quartered here. The ascent is made by a flight of some 200 steps. There is also here a flagstaff which used to be a land-mark for vessels at sea standing in for Madras from the south.

The Cantonment below the hill is, at present, garrisoned by two batteries of Royal Field Artillery, and by a regiment of Native Infantry. It will, in the near future, be increased by a wing of a British Infantry regiment, and contains some very handsome buildings—among them the various barracks for the Artillery, etc. The garrison church, which is a very handsome and most ecclesiastical building, dedicated to St. Thomas, is said to be a copy of the historical church of St. Clement Danes, Strand, London. It was built by Government in the years 1825-26, at a cost of Rs. 42,714, and was consecrated on October 31, 1880. It will accommodate 500 worshippers. The church contains many well-executed and interesting memorials of Royal Artillery officers, the most noteworthy being the famous monument to the memory of Colonel Noble, the work of the eminent sculptor Chantrey. Over the altar there is a large painting representing the appearance of our Lord to St. Thomas; this was painted in 1681 by Lieut.-Colonel J. B. Richardson, R.A., and presented by him to the church. In the chancel of the church there is some excellent carving in wood, the work of the Rev. James Sharp, a former Chaplain of St. Thomas' Mount. In the churchyard there is a handsome Cenotaph to the memory of General Sydenham, a distinguished Artillery officer. The mess house of the Royal Artillery is, perhaps, one of the most handsome of the many excellent officers' mess houses in India.

An excellent Soldiers' Institute is located at St. Thomas' Mount, and is much used by the troops in the garrison. The Institute was built from funds collected by the Rev. Canon A. H. B. Brittain, M.A., to whose energy the great Soldiers' Institute at Secunderabad is entirely due. The Institute comprises a large concert hall, a billiard room, a library, reading, recreation and game rooms, a bar, supper rooms, rooms for the Superintendent, and a lavatory with hot and cold baths. Detached from the main building is a Soldiers' chapel or Devotional Room, and still further away, a commodious house for the accommodation of the ladies who will be responsible for the internal economy of the Institute. About four acres of land are laid out for the out-door recreation of the men. Experience has proved how much the soldiers appreciate these Institutes, which are free and open without question to any man wearing the King's uniform. There are also a well-built Wesleyan and two Roman Catholic chapels.

Ponnamallee.—This old sanatorium for British troops is situated about 13 miles south-west of Madras. It can be reached in about two hours' drive along a well macadamised road, or by rail via Avady. The station is generally a healthy one. The small permanent European population of the place are chiefly pensioners. There is a Cantonment Magistrate's and a District Munsif's Court here. A large and handsome hospital has been recently erected at the station.

Maharellipuram.—The city of the great Bali, known familiarly to the English as the Seven Pagodas, is situated on the coast about 35 miles south of Madras and about 5 north of Sadras. It is one of the most interesting, and to archaeologists one of the most important spots of Southern India. The antiquities of the place may be divided into three groups—(1) the 5 Rathas to the south of the village, belonging probably to the latest Buddhist period; (2) the cave temples, monolithic figures, carvings, and sculptures west of the village, probably of the fifth or sixth century A. D., (these contain some marvellous reliefs, ranking with those of Ellora and Elephanta); (3) the more modern temples of Vishnu and Shiva, the latter being washed by the sea. In the neighbourhood there is a Brahmin village, and an excellent new rest-house affording accommodation for six persons; eggs, fowls, sea-fish and milk are always to be got. A visit to this place will well repay those who take an interest in mythological and antiquarian subjects. The journey can be made in a few hours with ease and comfort by the Buckingham Canal. There is a good metalled road from Chingleput Railway Station (Refreshment Rooms) to Sadras Bridge (18 miles) where boats are taken. Application should be made beforehand to Varatha Raju Chetty, although boats can often be got without previous notice. The journey is also often made from Madras by the Buckingham Canal; apply for boats to the Wharf Superintendent, the Basin, Madras.

Sadras.—Sadras, which can also be reached by the same canal, is an old Dutch settlement formed in the year 1647. It is situated on the coast and must have been, during its occupation by the Dutch, an imposing place and flourishing town, but now it consists merely of a few houses and a native village of no importance. The fort is in a state of ruin, but enough of the fortifications remain to show the great strength of the masonry and the plan of the place. The monuments of the dead which it contains are an interesting subject of study. The former official residence of the Governor is now converted into a travellers' bungalow. It is rather a curious bomb-proof building, consisting of a hall with rooms on either side and out-offices in close proximity, the whole forming a square of no considerable dimensions. A short way off from this place stands the Governor's garden-house, a quaint but splendid edifice with towers, elevated terraces and curious arches. It is in a dilapidated state, and portions of it have fallen to the ground. There are still traces of a well-laid out garden and splendid tanks and other objects of interest about the place.

Covelong.—In this connection Covelong, about 20 miles south of Madras, may also be mentioned. It was one of the earliest European settlements and formerly a place of some strategical importance. Covelong possesses a Roman Catholic church, almshouse and orphanage. The salt-pans to the west of the village are large and there is some export trade in this article. Excellent oysters are found here. The inhabitants are chiefly fishermen and salt-manufacturers.

THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS.

GOVERNED BY MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT, III OF 1901.

OFFICE—No. 22, Erabalu Chetti Street, George Town.

The earliest measure of municipal government consisted of the appointment of watchmen and the imposition of a scavenger cess in 1678. At various periods small cesses on trades and commodities appear to have been levied for town purposes, but whether at any time the quit-rents were directly devoted to similar objects is not clear. The "Conicopolis Fund" was assigned in 1735 for the maintenance of bridges and roads, and a little later this was augmented by the profits on public lotteries. From 1688 the Mayor and Corporation had control of municipal work and funds. In 1793 an Act allowing the imposition of municipal taxes was passed; and in 1795 a committee was appointed for the better administration of the town. Rules for markets and public conveyances and a provision tariff were drawn up by this body, and at the same time a portion of the excise revenue was devoted to municipal purposes. No trace of further municipal legislation is to be found till 1841; but since that date there have been numerous enactments on the subject. Municipal Acts were passed in 1856, 1865, 1867, 1871, 1878, 1884 and 1901. In 1867 the principle of representation was first asserted. At present the annual income of the city from taxation is about 12 lakhs of rupees, or a general incidence, including tolls, of Rs. 2.5-8 per head of the population—not an excessive charge when it is considered that this has to provide for the sanitation of about 500,000 inhabitants, spread over 27 square miles, to maintain and light some 275 miles of road, to furnish drinking water, to contribute to schools and hospitals, and to provide a system of vaccination, &c. The Corporation consists of a paid President, an Engineer, with other officers, and 36 Honorary Commissioners, 20 of them elected at Divisional elections and the remainder appointed as follows:—3 by the Madras Chamber of Commerce, 3 by the Madras Trades Association, 1 by the Harbour Trust Board, 1 by the Railways, 8 by the Local Government. Details of the Corporation, with rules, bye-laws, &c., are here given.

Tax on Buildings and Lands.

The Corporation may levy an annual tax, not exceeding ten per cent. of the annual value, determined under this Chapter, on all buildings and lands, provided that the following shall be exempt:—

- light-houses;
- public piers, wharves, jetties and other works connected with the harbour of Madras;
- places set apart for public worship and either actually so used or used for no other purpose;
- hospitals;
- burial and burning grounds; and
- any building or land the annual value whereof is less than fourteen rupees and the owner whereof has no other property liable to tax under this Act.

(1) The annual value of lands and buildings for the purpose of this Chapter shall be deemed to be the gross annual rent at which the land or building might reasonably be expected to let from month to month or from year to year. If, in the case of any building not erected for letting purposes and not ordinarily let, such gross annual rent cannot, in the opinion of the President, be estimated, then the annual value thereof shall be deemed to be six per cent. on the sum obtained by adding the estimated present cost of erecting the building, less a reasonable amount on account of depreciation, if any, to the estimated value of the land valued with the building as part of the same premises.

(2) In calculating the value of any land or building under sub-section (1), the value of any machinery thereon or therein shall be excluded.

Determination of annual value or tax. The annual value of any land or building under this Chapter and the amount of the tax to be paid thereon shall be fixed by the President.

(1) For the purposes of this Chapter the President may, by notice in writing, call on the owner or occupier of any land or building to furnish him, within a week after the service of the notice, with returns of the rent actually received for such land or building, of the measurements thereof and of the cost of erecting the building.

(2) Every owner and occupier on whom such requisition is served shall be bound to comply with the same and to make a true return to the best of his knowledge or belief.

(3) The President may enter, inspect, survey, and measure such building or land, after giving twenty-four hours' notice to the owner or occupier.

The President shall enter the annual value of all lands and buildings fixed by him under section 131, and the tax payable thereon in an assessment book to be kept for the purpose at the Municipal office. Such book shall show—

- the name, number and description of the land or building;
- the name of the division and of the street, if any, in which the land or building is situated;
- the name of the owner of the same;
- the name of the occupier of the same;
- the annual value of the land or building; and
- the amount of the tax payable thereon.

(1) Any owner or occupier may at any time apply to the President to have his name entered as owner or occupier in the assessment book; and the President shall, unless there be in his opinion sufficient reason to the contrary (which reason shall be recorded in writing), cause such name to be entered in the assessment book.

(2) No owner or occupier, whose name is not entered in the assessment book, shall be entitled to object that any bill, warrant or notice required by this Act to be served on the owner or occupier of a building has not been made out in his name.

(1) When the assessment book is complete in respect of any division or part of a division the President shall give public notice thereof. Such notice shall state where, and between what hours such book may be inspected.

(2) Any person who is the owner or occupier of any land or building included in such book or agent of such owner or occupier shall be permitted to inspect the said book and to make extracts therefrom free of charge, and any other person shall be permitted to inspect the said book and to make extracts therefrom on payment of a fee of one rupee on each occasion.

Amendment of assessment book. The President may at any time, subsequent to the publication of the notice under section 135 amend the assessment book—

- by altering the valuation of any land or building, or the tax imposed thereon;
- by inserting in the assessment book the name of any person who is liable to pay the tax on any land or building, or the description of any land or building which is liable to tax; and
- by removing from the assessment book the name of any person, who is not liable to pay such tax, or the description of any land or building.

In every case in which any land or building is for the first time valued and assessed, or in which the valuation of any land or building is increased, the President shall give special notice thereof to the owner or occupier of the same; and when the valuation is increased, such notice shall state the grounds of the increase.

When any amendment has been made in the assessment book under section 136, the new valuation shall take effect from the commencement of the half-year next succeeding that in which the notice of objection was delivered under section 139, or if no such notice has been delivered, then from the commencement of the half-year next succeeding that in which such amendment was made; and until that time the old valuation shall continue in force, notwithstanding that the period for which it was made may have expired.

(1) Any owner or occupier of any land or building who is dissatisfied with a valuation fixed by the President under section 131 or section 136 may deliver at the Municipal office a written notice stating the grounds of his objection and applying for the revision of such valuation.

(2) Such notice must be delivered within fifteen days after the publication of the public notice referred to in section 135 or the receipt of the special notice referred to in section 137.

The tax fixed by the President under section 131 shall be paid by the owner of the land or building in two equal instalments, each instalment being payable within fifteen days after the commencement of the half-year to which it relates.

(1) When any building has been vacant for thirty consecutive days in any half-year, the President shall, if the owner of such building or his agent has given notice, remit so much, not exceeding a moiety, of the tax due for such half-year, as is proportionate to the number of days during which the building was vacant.

(2) The period in respect of which the remission is made shall be calculated from the date of delivery of such notice to the President; and every such notice shall expire with the half-year during which it is so delivered, and shall have no effect thereafter.

Notice of construction or reconstruction of buildings. If any building is constructed or reconstructed, the owner shall give notice thereof to the President within fifteen days from the date of completion or occupation of the same, whichever is the earlier.

22. Meat, entrails and offal shall be removed in suitable carts or baskets, and when such carts are provided by the Corporation a carting fee not exceeding 9 pies per carcass or 1 anna per basket shall be charged. The Superintendent and his assistants shall be bound to inspect daily all such carts or baskets and see that they are clean and suitable.

23. Every license holder using a slaughter-house shall be responsible for any damage done to the slaughter-house either by his own act or the act of his servants, and any such license holder refusing to pay for such damage done to the property of the Corporation shall have his license cancelled and the amount of such damage shall be recoverable by suit.

VACCINE DEPARTMENT.

Bye-laws under Section 109 (26) of the Madras City Municipal Act, 1904, for enforcement of compulsory vaccination.

1. In these bye-laws,—

Parent means the father or mother of a legitimate child and the mother of an illegitimate child. Guardian means any person to whom the care, nurture, or custody of any child falls by law or by natural right or recognised usage, or who has accepted or assumed the care, nurture or custody of any child, or to whom the care or custody of any child has been entrusted by any authority lawfully authorized in that behalf. Vaccinator means any (qualified medical practitioner) vaccinator appointed by the Corporation or any person who holds the written permission of the President, to vaccinate within the city. Qualified Medical Practitioner means a person holding a diploma which entitles him to practise as a Surgeon or a Physician in the King's dominions and also an Assistant Surgeon, a Licentiate of Medicine, an Apothecary and a Hospital Assistant. Child means a boy under twelve years of age or a girl under ten years of age. Unprotected child means a child who has not been protected from small-pox by having had that disease either naturally or by inoculation or by having been successfully vaccinated, and who has not been certified in the manner hereinafter provided to be insusceptible of vaccination. Vaccine Depot means a place or building where, by direction of the Corporation, public gratuitous vaccination is performed.

2. The parent or guardian of any unprotected child, who is more than six months old and who has resided within the limits of the city for one month, shall take or cause the child to be taken to a vaccine depot for vaccination, or shall procure his vaccination by a vaccinator.

3. The vaccinator to whom a child is taken for vaccination shall, if he finds that such child is not in a state to be vaccinated, deliver to the child's parent or guardian a certificate to the effect that the child is then in a state unfit for vaccination. The said certificate shall remain in force for the time specified therein not exceeding 3 months and may be renewed, if necessary. The case of unfitness shall be distinctly specified in the certificate.

4. If the vaccinator is of opinion that the child is in a state fit for vaccination, he shall forthwith vaccinate the child and deliver to his parent or guardian a memorandum stating the date on which the vaccination has been performed and that on which the child is to be inspected in order to ascertain the result of the operation.

5. (1) On the date of inspection given in the memorandum, the parent or guardian of every child, who has been vaccinated under the last preceding bye-law, shall take or cause him to be taken to a vaccinator for inspection. (2) If the vaccinator finds on inspection that the vaccination has been successful, he shall give to the parent or guardian a certificate to that effect. (3) In the event of the vaccination being unsuccessful, such parent or guardian shall, if the vaccinator so direct, cause the child to be forthwith vaccinated and subsequently inspected as on the previous occasion.

6. If the vaccinator is of opinion that a child who has been three times unsuccessfully vaccinated is insusceptible of vaccination, he shall deliver to the parent or guardian of such child a certificate to that effect.

7. Any parent or guardian who procures the vaccination of an unprotected child by a vaccinator not employed by the Corporation shall forward a certificate of successful vaccination to the President or Health Officer, or any person authorized by the President within fifteen days from the date of vaccination.

8. The President may cancel any certificate given under these bye-laws, if it be proved to his satisfaction that such certificate has been improperly given or obtained on behalf of any unprotected child, and thereupon such certificate shall no longer be valid and notice of such Cancellation shall forthwith be given to the party concerned.

9. (1) No fee or remuneration shall be accepted by a Municipal vaccinator for any vaccination performed or certificate given under these bye-laws. But if any parent or guardian is desirous that a child should be vaccinated in his own house, the President or Health Officer, or any person duly authorized by the President in this behalf, may, upon application by such person and upon payment by him of a fee which shall be charged at the rate of Rs. 2 for every single case and As. 4 for every additional case in the same house, direct a vaccinator to perform the vaccination as hereinbefore provided, at the residence of such person. (2) If any child, or the parent or guardian of a child, in respect of whom the application above referred to is made is a female, who, according to the customs of the country, does not appear in public, the President or the Health Officer, or any person duly authorized by the President in that behalf, shall direct a female vaccinator to visit the house of the said parent or guardian and perform the vaccination in the same manner as if the child had been presented for vaccination at a vaccine depot; but no fee shall be charged in respect of any application made under this clause.

10. If the President or Health Officer, or any person authorized by the President in that behalf, has reason to believe that there is an unprotected child in any house, he may call upon the parent or guardian of any child in the house or other person having custody of the child there to produce for inspection between 6 A.M. and 6 P.M. all the children in the house or under his care, and to state their age, parentage and place of birth and the duration of their residence in the city; and he shall, if on such requisition, the parent or guardian or other person having custody of the child refuse to produce such children for inspection, or if, after inspection, the fact is proved to his satisfaction that any child is unprotected, forthwith deliver to such parent or guardian, or cause to be affixed to his house, a notice requiring that the child be vaccinated within fifteen days at a time and place to be specified in the said notice. The person to whom the notice above referred to is given shall be bound to comply with it, unless he can produce a certificate stating that the child has already been successfully vaccinated or is either unfit for, or insusceptible of, vaccination.

11. (1) Any person who, in contravention of the provisions of these bye-laws, (a) neglects without reasonable excuse to take or cause a child to be vaccinated or after vaccination to be inspected, on a date to be prescribed by the vaccinator, (b) neglects to forward a certificate of successful vaccination under bye-law 7, (c) refuses to give information, or wilfully gives false information required by bye-law 231 regarding an unprotected child, or neglects to comply with the notice under the same bye-law; (2) Any Municipal vaccinator, who receives any remuneration for vaccinating a child or for granting a certificate, shall be liable on conviction before a Magistrate to a fine which may extend to twenty rupees.

12. A parent or guardian who, after conviction under bye-law 12, continues for one month his refusal or omission, may again be convicted before a Magistrate, and shall again be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees.

BUCKINGHAM CANAL.

The Buckingham Canal is a salt-water tidal Canal; runs nearly parallel to the coast line, and very close to it. It extends from Madras northward, 196 miles, where it joins the fresh-water high level Kistna system of canals, the junction being effected by a two-chambered lock, the Kistna system being 7 feet higher: the Kistna system of canals being connected with that of the Godavari, through communication is therefore available to Cocanada and elsewhere northward in the Godavari District. Southward of Madras, the canal is cut as far as Alambari, where it is joined with the Mercanum backwater, and by this backwater, which is some 12 miles in extent, there is water communication up to Mercanum in the South Arcot District. The total distance of navigable waterway is over 400 miles. In the Buckingham Canal are absorbed the old Cochrane's Canal and the East Coast Canal. The extension of these canals during the famine of 1876-78 was one of the most important works executed during that period, when the northern and southern canals were also connected by means of the junction canal, the whole now forming one system of some 262 miles. The total cost of the project is Rs. 82,73,578, including expenditure from its commencement. The different descriptions of boats plying on the canal are, the Madras top boat; the Madras open cargo boat, principally employed in the shell and firewood traffic; the northern cargo boat, called Dinghees; the northern Bahadaree boat, which are passenger boats, but carry cargo as well, and are of very large carrying capacity, and well protected. Until 1899 there were no suitable cabin boats on the canal for the accommodation of European travellers on long journeys, but one boat is available for hire at a rent of Rs. 1½ per diem, on application to the Superintendent, Madras Basin, Washermanpetta. As this boat is much used during the cold weather months by travellers to Seven Pagodas, &c., early application is advisable. There is also an Inspection Boat available for rent, at Rs. 2 per diem, when not required for use by officers of the Department. The following are the towns and other places of some consequence on the northern canal: Ennore, Pulicat, Coromandel, Doogarajpatam, Kristnapatam (where the Nellore traffic is shipped and unshipped, Nellore distant 16 miles), Eskapally, Ramapatam (station of the American Baptist Mission), Kotapatnam, which is 2 miles from the canal on the east side, while Ongole is 8 miles off on the west side by road. The junction of the canal with that of the Kistna Canal is at Pedda Ganjam on the 196th mile of the canal. The present stations where six weeks' licenses are given are, Madras, Ennore South Lock (10 miles), Kandaleru South Lock (99 miles), Penner Lock (115 miles), Manneru Lock (169 miles); Komperu (195 miles) on the north canal. On the south canal, at Adyar and Panpanchavady. On the southern canal, the most important places are Covelong (29 miles), Mahabalypuram or Seven Pagodas (34 miles), Sadras (40 miles). There are bungalows on the canal at Sadras, Seven Pagodas, Ennore, Kristnapatam, Ramapatam, Kotapatam, and Kanuparti, belonging to the canal.

Annual license fees.—Cargo boats, Rs. 3 per ton of 50 cubic feet, which entitles the vessel to use all the canals, without any further payment.

Passenger boats, 1st class ... Rs. 6 per ton.

Do. do. 2nd " ... " 4 " "

Passenger boats are allowed to carry cargo as well as passengers. There is no fixed tariff for cargo. The canal north of Madras is now fit for traffic by boats not exceeding a draught of 3 feet, but the canal south of Madras is much inferior in every way, and is not fit for navigation by boats of more than 2 ft. draught. The canal is under the charge of the Executive Engineer, Chingleput Division, Office Chepak, and is divided into two sub-divisions. The Southern sub-division extends from Kandaleru river, 90 miles from Madras; to the end of southern canal at Mercanum, with office at Chepak, and the Northern sub-division from the Kandaleru river to the northern end of Pedda Ganjam (mile 196) with office at Ramapatam.

The Kistna canals, consisting of the artificial navigable channels and such portions of the natural waterways as are necessary for navigation between them in the Kistna district.

The Buckingham canal, consisting of the artificial reaches of the canal, such portions of the rivers, backwaters and estuaries connected with it as are necessary for navigation between the reaches in the Nellore, Chingleput and South Arcot districts and Coom river in Madras town.

to the canals in their charge, authorized to exercise the powers described in Section 7 of the Act and to delegate, in writing, all or any of those powers to any officer or subordinate working under them. These officers or subordinates are referred to in these rules as "Canal Officers."

II.—LICENSES.

4. Vessels to be licensed.—All vessels using any of the artificial canals shall be licensed except those registered under Rule 19 or exempted under Rule 2 or Rule 24.

5. Conditions and rates of fees.—On application by the owner of a vessel or his agent, either in person or by letter, for permission to navigate any particular line or connected lines of navigation, and on payment of the fees prescribed in the notification published under Section 6 of the Act, the Executive Engineer of the division concerned, or any other Canal Officer duly authorized by him, shall grant a license for such navigation either for one year or for six weeks as the owner of the vessel or his agent may elect, subject to a condition that claims for compensation in consequence of the closure of all or any of the canals for repairs, insufficiency of water, or any other impediment to navigation, shall not be recognized. The applicant shall furnish all the information necessary for the due filling in of the license. Boats which have not been previously licensed must be taken to a station where annual licenses are issued for measurement.

6. Counterpart of license.—Every Canal Officer empowered to grant licenses shall retain the counterpart of every license granted by him and shall be responsible that it corresponds to the license of which it is a counterpart. When an alteration is made in the license, a corresponding alteration shall be made in the counterpart thereof.

7. Transfer of license for one year.—If the ownership of a vessel licensed for one year is changed during the year for which the vessel is licensed, the officer who granted the license may, upon the application of the original owner and the transferee, alter the license by substituting the name of the latter for that of the former. But a license granted for one vessel shall not be transferred to another vessel.

8. Licenses for one year.—Every license for one year shall remain in force until the 30th April following the date of issue, unless it is cancelled or suspended as hereinafter provided.

9. Renewal of six weeks' licenses.—A license granted for six weeks may be renewed from time to time for further periods of six weeks by the issue of a new license on each occasion.

10. Conversion of a six weeks' license.—If a license granted for six weeks has not been renewed more than once, it may be converted into a license for the year in which it was issued upon receipt of the difference of fee payable for a six weeks' license and for a license for one year.

11. Gross tonnage.—The gross tonnage of a vessel shall be ascertained by multiplying its length, breadth and depth in feet and inches and dividing the product by fifty. The length shall be measured at half the midship depth in a straight line from the inside of the outer planking at the side of the stem to the inside of the outer planking at the side of the stern post and shall be hereinafter called the length for tonnage. The breadth for tonnage shall be one-sixth of the sum of five widths taken at equal distances along and right angles to the above length for tonnage measured from the rib on one side to the planking on the other side. If the vessel has a fixed internal planking or "ceiling," the said five widths shall be measured from the inner side of such ceiling on one side to the inner side thereof on the other side.

The depth of all vessels shall be measured in a vertical line at the centre of the length for tonnage. If a vessel is decked, the measurement for depth shall be from the under side of the deck planking or, in case of a break, below a line stretched in continuation of such deck planking. If the vessel is an open one or a "Rahadari" (transit) boat the measurement for depth shall be from an athwartship line extended from the upper edge of the upper strake on both sides of the vessel. If the vessel has a fixed ceiling (inner planking) the measurement for depth shall be to the inner side of such ceiling. If a vessel has no fixed ceiling the measurement for depth shall be to the inner side of the outer bottom plank.

12. What to be deemed the tonnage of a vessel.—Whenever the tonnage of any vessel has been ascertained, the same shall henceforth be deemed to be the tonnage thereof, unless any alteration is made in the form or capacity of such vessel or unless it is discovered that the tonnage thereof has been erroneously computed; and in either of such cases, such vessel shall be re-measured and her tonnage determined according to the rule hereinbefore contained in that behalf.

13. Registered tonnage.—The net or registered tonnage upon which fees are leviable shall be the gross tonnage less one-third for steamers and less fifteen per cent. for other vessels. Any fraction of a ton above half shall be taken as one ton and other fractions shall be rejected.

14. Enlarged or altered vessels.—A vessel that has been enlarged or so structurally altered as to affect the conditions upon which the license was obtained, shall not ply until it has been re-measured and a fresh license has been obtained. Such re-measurement and application for a new license shall be made at the station at which the original license was obtained. The applicant for such fresh license shall deliver up the old license to the Licensing Officer, and pay the difference between the fee paid by him and the fee leviable upon the new registered tonnage.

15. Number of passengers licensed to carry.—No vessel licensed to carry passengers shall carry a greater number of passengers than in the proportion of one adult or two children for every 7½ square feet of covered space, which shall be calculated by multiplying the length in feet over all covered space, by the mean of the three widths taken at equal distances. The Executive Engineer of the division, or any other Canal Officer duly authorized by him, may, during festivals, on application by the owner of any vessel or his agent, increase temporarily the limit of the number of passengers to be carried, so long as the safety of the public is not endangered thereby.

16. Licenses for passenger boats.—Licenses for passenger boats shall be either "first class" or "second class." The holder of a "first class" license may carry passengers of such caste or castes as he pleases. The holder of a "second class" license shall carry all passengers without distinction of caste.

17. Provision in case of loss of license.—If the original license be lost, a duplicate shall be issued by the Officer who granted the license on payment of the fee prescribed in the notification published under Section 6 of the Act. If the loss occurred during the absence of the vessel from the station at which it was licensed, the loss shall be reported to the nearest Canal Officer, who shall thereupon issue a pass. Such pass should hold good until the arrival of the vessel at the station at which the license was issued. Immediately upon such arrival, the owner or his agent shall deliver up the said pass and pay the prescribed fee for a duplicate license.

18. Rafts.—The owners or persons in charge of rafts using any of the canals shall pay the fees prescribed in the notification published under section 6 of the Act, and take out licenses, and these licenses shall be in force for six weeks from the date of issue.

20. Place of registration.—A vessel may be registered at any one of the licensing stations. The station at which a vessel is registered shall be its port of registry or the port to which she belongs.

21. Registering officer and register.—The Executive Engineer of the division in which the port of registry of a vessel is situate or any Canal Officer duly authorized by him in that behalf shall be responsible that the certificate of registration and its counterpart are duly filled in and that the counterpart is carefully preserved and altered when required so as to correspond to the certificate to which it refers.

22. Transfer of ownership and register.—When the ownership of vessel registered for one year is transferred during such period, the registration and certificate shall be altered at the request of the original owner and the transferee, by the substitution of the name of the latter for that of the former.

23. Procedure when certificate is lost.—If a certificate of registration is lost, the registering officer at the port of registry shall grant a duplicate of such certificate upon the receipt of the fees prescribed in the notification published under Section 6 of the Act.

24. Exception from payment of fees for registration.—No fee shall be levied for the registration of boats used solely for fishing on the Buckingham Canal; nor on sea-going boats and boats carrying firewood on the Masulipatam Canal, in the Kistna delta between the Tidal lock and the Peta basin and in the Godavari river; but all such boats shall be registered and certificates of registration shall be issued for them. Ferry vessels belonging to a District Board proceeding to their destination and not plying for traffic shall be allowed to pass through the canals free of charge on written permit from the Executive Engineer.

IV.—WHARVES.

25. Wharves.—A wharfrage fee at the rate prescribed in the notification published under Section 6 of the Act shall be paid by the owner of every vessel which loads or discharges cargo or ships or lands passengers at any of the wharves fixed under section 6 of the Act. The word "cargo" shall include empty bags, baskets, boxes, casks and other receptacles in which cargo is usually carried.

The wharf rules shall not apply to salt factories and salt channels already under the control of the Salt Department except the landing-place at the Salt Depot at Madras. No private wharves or landing-stages shall in future be constructed in connection with lines of navigation without the previous sanction of Government.

26. Wharf limits.—No vessel shall load or unload on any part of a canal or channel within one mile on either side of a wharf, except by special permission in writing of the officer in charge of the division and on payment of the prescribed wharfrage fees. In Madras town the wharf limits shall be taken to be the municipal boundary on the north and Adyar South Lock on the south and shall include the whole of the Cooum River up to Harris Bridge. Within these limits no vessel shall load or unload at any places other than those described as landing-places in the local wharf rules for the regulation of traffic published under Rule 28 except with the permission of the Canal Officer and payment of fees as aforesaid. Goods shall not be stacked on any towpath or on the canal side of any towpath under any circumstance nor shall they be stacked on canal lands without special permission in writing from the Canal Officer.

27. Wharves which may be declared hereafter.—Wharfrage fees at the above rates shall also be levied at any wharf which may hereafter be constructed, from the date on which it may be declared, by a notification in the Fort St. George Gazette and in the Gazette of the district concerned, to be available for loading and unloading cargo and shipping and landing passengers.

28. Regulation of traffic at wharves.—The regulation of traffic at wharves shall be according to the rules framed in that behalf and approved by Government. Such rules shall be fixed to a notice-board in a conspicuous place at each end of the wharf and any infringement thereof shall be punished by suspension of the license of the vessel contravening the rule or rules for a period not exceeding three months.

29. Wharf tickets.—Every person in charge of a vessel on which wharfrage fee is leviable shall, before putting use of any of the wharves declared under Section 6 of the Act, obtain from the Wharf Superintendent a wharf-clearance ticket. This ticket will permit the holder to make use of any of the wharves for a period not exceeding seven days from the date of issue. In Madras town wharf tickets will be issued by the Superintendent of the Madras basin to vessels coming from the north and by the Superintendent of the Adyar south lock to vessels coming from the south. On the expiry of the ticket, the vessel must either (a) leave the wharf limits, (b) take out a fresh ticket or (c) pay demurrage as provided in Rule 30. In Madras town within the limits described in Rule 26, empty vessels may also be permitted to lie up for a certain period and at a certain place, or to pass through the limits of the Madras Town Wharf, without payment of wharfrage or demurrage fees on the issue of a special permit signed by a Canal Officer, provided that, during the period covered by the permit, the vessel does not load or unload goods nor ship or land passengers.

30. Demurrage fee on vessels.—On the expiry of a wharf ticket it shall be optional to the owner of every vessel remaining at a wharf to pay a demurrage fee at the rate prescribed in the notification published under Section 6 of the Act, instead of taking out a fresh wharf ticket. Provided that no demurrage fee shall be charged for any days during which a vessel is not allowed to lie at the wharf.

31. Demurrage fee on goods.—The consignee of goods landed at the wharf of discharge shall remove his goods from such wharf within seven days from the date on which such goods are landed; and if the said goods be not removed within such time, the consignee shall pay a demurrage fee at the rate prescribed in the notification published under Section 6 of the Act. The said goods shall not be removed until the said fee is paid.

32. Additional wharfrage fee for test-weighing or test-measurement.—Consignees of goods using the places reserved at wharves for test-measuring or test-weighing goods shall pay the additional wharfrage fee prescribed for the purpose in the notification published under Section 6 of the Act, and shall not allow the goods to remain at the reserved places longer than necessary for taking such test-measurement or test-weight.

V.—NAVIGATION RULES.

33. Dimensions of vessels and rafts.—No vessel exceeding 90 feet in length and 13 feet in width shall navigate the canals, except those built before the 31st December 1880, for which a special license may be granted by the Canal Officer.

In the portion of the Buckingham Canal known as the Junction Canal in the town of Madras and south of it, the fixed fittings of vessels, such as the roofs of boats, steps of masts, funnel sockets, &c., and cargo piled on vessels shall not be higher than 6 feet above water level, and piled cargo or roofs or fixed fittings shall not exceed 12 feet in width.

No raft exceeding 90 feet in length, 12 feet in breadth, or drawing more than 2 feet of water, shall be allowed on any of the canals. Nothing shall be allowed to project beyond the side of any vessel or raft.

34. Free board.—No vessel carrying cargo shall be navigated in the canals unless it has a free board of at least 9 inches; and no vessel carrying passengers shall be so navigated unless it has a free board of at least 12 inches. The free board shall be measured from the water's edge to the top of the gunwale, when the vessel has no deck and to the upper side of the plank of the deck when the vessel has a deck.

35. Passenger boats may carry cargo on certain conditions.—A boat licensed to carry passengers may also carry cargo, every 10 cubic feet of cargo being considered as equivalent to one passenger; but the total of the number of passengers so calculated and the passengers actually carried shall not exceed the number of passengers which the boat is licensed to carry. No such vessel shall carry cargo on the roof or side of the vessel, nor any cargo such as fish, mahuro, bones, skins or other articles which, in the opinion of the Canal Officer, is offensive or dangerous.

36. Care and management of vessels.—No vessel shall be navigated without one person at least, on board, competent to steer and manage her and acquainted with the rules regulating the navigation of the canals. No vessel shall lie or be left without a person on board capable of taking care of her.

37. Lights.—Vessels using any of the canals shall, between sunset and sunrise, exhibit the following lights:—

Vessels.	When moving.	When moored.
Steamers	One clear white light on the upper deck. One bull's eye bright red light 8" diameter on the port or left side. One bull's eye bright green light 8" diameter on the starboard or right side.	One clear white light at not less than 4 feet above the water level and so placed that it shall be visible fore and aft.
All vessels not propelled by steam.	One clear white light at the fore-end fixed not less than 4 feet above the water level. One clear white light in the general cabin or inside.	Do. do.
Rafts	One clear white light at each end.	One clear white light at each outer corner.

The two bull's eye lights shall be so placed and fitted that both may be visible only from a point directly ahead of the vessel and so as not to be obscured by any of the fittings, cargo or passengers. Subject to these provisions, the lights may be placed in the front or on the top of the cabin, at the sides of the vessel near the bow or on supports specially provided for the purpose.

38. Speed of steamers.—No steamer shall travel at a greater speed than 4 miles per hour and, between sunset and sunrise, the speed shall not exceed 3 miles per hour. Steamers shall reduce their speed to 3 miles an hour when they come within half a mile of a lock and shall then whistle to give notice of their approach to the lock establishment. Steamers shall be warped or poled into and out of locks and shall not use their propellers or paddle wheels until quite clear of the locks. Every steamer shall be furnished with an efficient steam whistle. Steamers shall reduce their speed to 3 miles an hour during the day and to 2 miles an hour between sunset and sunrise when passing round a bend in any canal and shall whistle when approaching such bend. Every vessel under steam shall stop and reverse whenever necessary. Steamers shall whistle when within 100 yards of any boat and reduce speed to 2 miles an hour.

39. The passing of vessels.—When two vessels meet on the Godavari or Krishna canals, the vessel going with the current shall keep out of the way of the other vessel. In other canals, vessels going north shall keep out of the way of those going south. Vessels under sail shall keep out of the way of vessels which are being towed, and vessels under steam shall keep out of the way of all other vessels.

Every vessel overtaking another vessel shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is being overtaken. Where by these rules one of two vessels is required to keep out of the way the other shall keep her course. Every vessel under steam when passing a vessel which is being towed from the towing path on the offside thereof and every vessel not under steam, shall take the towing path side when meeting, or passing, or approaching to, or being overtaken by, a vessel under steam. The steam whistle of every vessel under steam shall be sounded when such vessel is about to round and is rounding any turnings in the navigation as well as when such vessel is meeting, approaching, or overtaking any vessel.

40. Sails when to be lowered.—All vessels under sail shall lower their sails when passing through a masonry aqueduct, lock or flood-gate.

41. Inspection of vessels other than steamers.—The Canal Officer in charge of a licensing station shall, from time to time, inspect all licensed vessels at such station to see if they are maintained in a proper state of repair and cleanliness and if their gear is in good condition, and may suspend the licenses if the vessels are out of repair or unsafe or otherwise unfit for public use or for the carriage of goods as the case may be. So long as a license is suspended, the vessel to which it relates shall not ply on any of the canals.

42. Inspection of steamers.—All steamers shall be inspected by the Canal Officer before they are licensed and once every six months thereafter to see that the vessels and their machinery are in good working order, that the boilers are provided with proper gauges and are safe and that the vessels are in charge of a competent crew. Certificates of inspection shall be issued in a form provided for this purpose. In the event of such deterioration of machinery and boilers as may, in the opinion of the inspecting officer, cause danger, the license of the vessel shall be cancelled or suspended.

43. Production of license and stoppage of vessels.—When required so to do by a Canal Officer, every person in charge of a vessel shall stop the vessel and produce the license or certificate of registration as the case may be. Persons in charge of vessels carrying passengers or cargo or both and of vessels propelled by steam, shall assist Canal Officers in their inspections and shall make a true statement of the number of passengers and the nature of the cargo on board.

44. Limit of Canal Officers' powers.—A Canal Officer may, on account of the infringement of any provisions of the Act or any of the rules and regulations passed under it, suspend the annual license of a vessel for not more than—fifteen days for a first offence, thirty days for a second offence in the same year,

sixty days for a third offence in the same year, and for the unexpired portion of the license for a fourth offence in the same year. He may suspend the six weeks' license for not more than fifteen days for a first offence and for the unexpired portion of the license for a second offence in the same year.

45. Pass for vessels under suspension to proceed to their destination.—When the license for a vessel carrying cargo or passengers or both is suspended, the officer by whom the license is suspended shall grant a pass permitting the vessel to proceed to its destination for the purpose of landing cargo and passengers or to a place where she can be repaired. Such passes shall be in duplicate, of which one part shall be retained in the issuing office and the other part shall be delivered to the person in charge of the vessel. The fact and period of suspension shall be recorded by the Canal Officer upon the license and upon the counterpart, but if the counterpart is not in his possession, he shall communicate the fact of suspension to the officer who issued the license. In the case of the suspension of a license because of the defective state of a vessel's hull, machinery or gear, the suspension shall continue until the owner obtains a certificate from an inspecting officer that the necessary repairs have been effected and that the vessel is again safe, sound and fit for the navigation of the canals. Such certificate shall be endorsed on the license immediately under the order of suspension, which shall thereupon cease to have any effect. The order of suspension shall declare that it shall be in force unless and until such certificate is obtained. A copy of such certificate shall be served upon, and be filed by, the officer who suspended the license.

46. Punishment of owners of rafts.—Owners of rafts shall, in lieu of suspension, be punished by a fine of two rupees for each offence, until payment of which the raft shall not proceed. If the fine is not paid within ten days, the Canal Officer concerned is empowered to cause the raft to be removed from the canal.

47. Marks and figures to be painted on vessels.—The owners of vessels other than rafts shall have the following figures and marks painted conspicuously on their vessels before using them on any of the canals and shall be responsible that those marks and figures are not defaced or obliterated:—

- (1) The number of the license or certificate of registration and the initial or initials of the name or names of the canals which a vessel is licensed to navigate shall be painted on each bow.
- (2) The tonnage of the vessel shall be similarly painted on each side of the sternpost above the load line.
- (3) The number of passengers which the vessel is licensed to carry, on the stern of each such vessel or on the after-part of the cabin with the letter P prefixed.
- (4) The load line for a length of 3 feet amidships, on both sides.
- (5) Gauges in feet and tenths, with figures indicating feet and half-feet shall be painted on both ends of vessels to enable their actual draft to be readily ascertained at any time.

The said numerals and letters shall be in English and shall be painted in white on a black ground or black on a white ground. Each numeral or letter shall be not less than 4 inches in length and of proportionate breadth.

48. Circulation of rules.—A copy of the navigation rules and regulations in English or in the vernacular shall, at the time of registration or taking out a license for every vessel other than a raft, be given to the owner or person in charge thereof, if he has not already got one, and his signature taken in the register of licenses in token that he has received, or has already in his possession, a copy of the navigation rules and regulations.

49. Moorings of vessels.—No vessel shall moor, load on, unload cargo, or ship, or land passengers within the limits prohibited by notice-boards at any lock or masonry work other than the quays or wharves specially provided for the purpose. No vessel shall moor on the two-path side, if there be only one such path, or on the windward side of a canal, if there be two such paths, except when actually loading or unloading. Vessels when moored shall strike or lower masts and shall be made fast stem and stern to the bank in a single line. Rafts when moored shall be securely fastened at both ends to the canal bank so as not to obstruct navigation.

50. Interference with locks.—No person unless duly authorized shall interfere with the locks or any part of their machinery.

51. Place and time of repairs of vessels.—No vessel shall be repaired in any canal without the written permission of the Canal Officer. The repairs shall be made at the place and during the time named in the written permission, and at no other place or time. The owner of the vessel shall remove from the canal all surplus materials used for such repairs within fifteen days after the repairs are completed. In the event of his failing to do so, such materials shall be removed by the Canal Officer at the expense of the owner of the vessel and the license may be suspended until payment is made.

52. Sea-going vessels.—Sea-going vessels brought into rivers and backwaters for any purpose other than to ply for hire shall anchor or lay up outside the fair way of the canal traffic in such place and manner as the Canal Officer shall direct.

53. Petroleum vessels.—Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing rules:—

(a) No vessel carrying petroleum in bulk on any canal shall be tied up within a quarter of a mile of any lock or wharf or within any other limits which may from time to time be fixed by the Executive Engineer in charge of the canal. The limits within which a vessel carrying petroleum in bulk may not, under this clause, be tied up shall be indicated by red posts.

Provided that any such vessel may subject to rule (c) be tied up within a quarter of a mile of a lock for such period only as may be necessary to allow its arrival to be intimated to the lock superintendent and for the lock to be opened.

(b) From sunset to sunrise guarded red lights of approved pattern shall be displayed on the bow and stern of a vessel carrying petroleum in bulk on a canal and on that side of the vessel on which other vessels may pass it.

(c) A vessel carrying petroleum in bulk on a canal shall not enter a lock with another vessel nor remain with other vessels in the approach or tail channel of a lock. No other vessel shall enter a lock or the approach or tail channel of a lock as long as there is a vessel carrying petroleum in bulk in such lock or approach or tail channel as the case may be.

(d) A vessel carrying petroleum in bulk will be passed through the lock in precedence of all other vessels.

(e) The Executive Engineer may, by the issue of a notice to the licensee or to the person in charge of a licensed vessel, prohibit a vessel carrying petroleum in bulk from plying whenever he is of opinion that there is the danger of the stranding of the said vessel on account of the shallowness of the water, or that there is danger on account of floods.

(f) Suitable moorings shall be carried on vessels carrying petroleum in bulk. Ropes may be used for moorings, but mooring chains shall also be carried on board to be used in case of emergencies requiring such appliances.

(g) Clauses (a), (b), (c), (d) and (f) shall apply also to any vessels in which petroleum has been carried in bulk until the petroleum compartments have been thoroughly cleaned and certified by the officer appointed under rule 13 (4) of the rules made under the Petroleum Act, 1896 (VIII of 1896), to be quite free from petroleum and from petroleum gas.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, A. E. LAWSON,
MADRAS, 1st August 1907. Secretary.

GENERAL ARBITRATION AND SURVEY RULES.

(As approved in 1907.)

Whereas it is desirable to receive references from, to arbitrate between, or to hold surveys for, parties willing to abide by the judgment and decision of the Chamber of Commerce, it has been decided by the Committee of the Chamber, and the decision has been approved and made operative by a General Meeting of the Members, that the subjoined shall be the Rules to be observed and followed in all cases of disputes when the assistance of the Chamber shall be invoked, except such as relate to Piece-Goods and Yarns which have been separately provided for.

1. For the purpose of giving effect to the above the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce shall either appoint such Arbitrator or Arbitrators, Surveyor or Surveyors, as they shall think fit, or appoint a Sub-Committee of three persons, one of whom at least shall be a member of the Committee of the Chamber, to consider and decide the reference.

If two Arbitrators or Surveyors are appointed and disagree, the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce shall appoint an Umpire, whose decision shall be final.

2. The question to be referred to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce under these Rules shall be such as relate to mercantile transactions generally, excluding those connected with Piece-Goods and Yarns, as noted in the preamble.

3. In case of applications to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce for a decision in any dispute, the Committee shall select gentlemen to deal with and decide the reference.

4. Every application shall state that the parties concerned will accept and abide by the decision of the Chamber.

5. When a gentleman who may be appointed an Arbitrator, or Surveyor, is directly or indirectly interested in any matter referred to him by the Chamber, he shall notify his inability to act, and in such case a fresh appointment shall be made forthwith.

6. The decision of the Umpire shall be the decision of the Arbitration or Survey; such decision need not necessarily coincide with the opinion of either of the Arbitrators or Surveyors.

7. All decisions by Arbitrators or Surveyors, under these Rules shall be submitted in writing to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which shall cause the same to be communicated to the parties concerned.

Each decision, so far as may be possible, shall be supported by a statement of the reasons upon which it is based.

8. Arbitrators or Surveyors shall have the right to call for such evidence as they may deem necessary, but shall not have the right to take the opinion or assistance of Attorneys or Counsel.

9. When a matter shall have been referred to a Sub-Committee, the decision of the majority of such Sub-Committee, shall be final.

Such Sub-Committee shall, for the purpose of the reference made to it, be deemed to represent the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and to exercise for such purpose only, the full authority of such Committee.

10. All decisions of Sub-Committees shall be in writing; shall, so far as may be possible, recapitulate the reasons on which they are founded; shall be signed by the Chairman of such Sub-Committee, and shall, under the direction of the Sub-Committee, be communicated to the parties by the Secretary to the Chamber of Commerce, who, under these Rules, shall act as Secretary to all Sub-Committees.

11. Sub-Committees shall have the right to take such evidence as they may deem necessary, and shall also have power to call for the opinion or assistance of Attorneys or Counsel, provided that the disputants have previously agreed to this course being followed, and have further agreed to bear the expense thereof.

12. Before any application for Arbitration or Survey shall be entertained, both parties shall make such deposit with the Secretary as may be directed by the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce shall fix the fees for each Arbitration or Survey.

13. The Arbitrators or Surveyors shall state in their Report by whom and in what proportion, if any, the fees and expenses shall be paid.

Deposits not affected by this Rule will be returned.

14. In cases where neither of the parties to the reference is a Member of the Chamber of Commerce, the fees payable shall be double those payable by Members of the Chamber, and such enhanced fees shall be divided equally between the Arbitrators, Surveyors, or Umpire, and the Chamber of Commerce.

15. A record of all Arbitrations and Surveys and all decisions by Sub-Committees shall be kept at the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

16. Arbitrators, Surveyors and Sub-Committees shall, at all times, before giving their decision, be at liberty to take the opinion of the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce on any point or points which may arise.

RULES FOR SURVEY REPORTS AND ARBITRATION AWARDS ON PIECE-GOODS AND YARNS.

(As revised in 1907.)

Whereas it has been represented to the Madras Chamber of Commerce that it is desirable to give Survey Reports and Arbitration Awards on Piece-goods and Yarns an official character, the following Rules (in which the word "Arbitrator" includes "Surveyor") have been passed by the Chamber for the attainment of that end:—

Rule I.—Certain gentlemen, who have been nominated and unanimously elected by ballot by the Committee of the Chamber, shall be appointed Arbitrators to the said Chamber of Commerce; but the Chamber reserves the right of cancelling the first and all future appointments by a majority of votes of the Committee of the Chamber by ballot.

Rule II.—References to the Chamber may be made—

(1) if both parties to a contract state their willingness in writing to abide by the decision of the Arbitrator selected by the Imports Sub-Committee from the above list, or subsequent additions thereto;

(2) if one of the parties to a contract state in writing that one of the conditions of the contract in dispute be that a reference lies by him to the Chamber of Commerce.

(3) On a request being made in writing that a Survey be held owing to damage or defect in goods, and if, in the opinion of the Imports Sub-Committee, the proposed Survey is one which the Chamber should undertake. The nature of the damage or defect in the goods must be clearly stated, and the application should also state the purpose for which the Survey Report is required.

Rule III.—No Arbitrator shall adjudicate in a matter in which he or his employer is interested, and no two Arbitrators connected with the same firm shall be selected to settle any dispute.

Rule IV.—The Imports Sub-Committee shall select the Arbitrators from the authorised list, subject to the provisions of Rule III.

Rule V.—One or more Arbitrators shall be appointed for the settlement of each matter under reference, according to the wishes of the person or persons referring the question to the Chamber. In the event of no special number of Arbitrators being agreed to, one only shall be appointed.

Rule VI.—The names of Arbitrators shall not be made known to any person whatever, except as provided in Rule XIX, but the Secretary's record of names of Arbitrators shall be available for inspection by the Imports Sub-Committee and by the Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, or, in his absence from Madras, by the Vice-Chairman.

Rule VII.—The approved list of Arbitrators under these Rules shall be circulated annually, or whenever asked for, to all Members of the Chamber, and shall be supplied to any party applying for the same.

Rule VIII.—Before any Arbitration shall be entertained a deposit of Rs. 16 for each Arbitrator, and Rs. 16 for an Umpire (in case the number of Arbitrators asked for be an even number), and Rs. 16 for the Chamber of Commerce for each contract, together with the value of stamp under the Indian Stamp Act, (Act II of 1899), required on the award, shall be made with the Secretary. Fees not expended will be returned to the depositor.

In cases where neither of the parties to the application is a subscribing Member of the Chamber of Commerce, the fees payable shall be double those mentioned in the preceding part of this Rule, and the said enhanced fees shall be divided equally between the Arbitrators and Umpire of the one part, and the Chamber of Commerce of the other part.

Rule IX.—As soon as possible after applying for Arbitration under the Chamber's Rules, each of the parties shall submit in writing a statement of the matter in dispute; the original of such statement shall be signed, but for the use of the Arbitrator, the parties shall submit an unsigned copy of their statements.

A joint statement may be signed and sent in, but with an unsigned copy thereof.

The original contract, or an attested copy, must accompany every reference, and the Secretary shall make the necessary extracts therefrom for the use of the Arbitrator. The number of packages in dispute, with the names of the ships and bale marks and numbers, should also be stated, but the Secretary will omit the marks when passing on the information to the Arbitrator.

Rule X.—At the time appointed by the Secretary, the parties will have ready at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, or elsewhere as directed by the Secretary, the sale samples duly attested, and, if required, sample pieces, or complete bales. Goods, or samples thereof so sent, will be at sender's risk, and should be accompanied by a poen in charge. When it is necessary to open original packages a cooper must be in attendance.

Rule XI.—In the event of the Arbitrators not being able to come to a decision by a majority of votes, the Imports Sub-Committee shall appoint an Umpire to decide the matter, and his decision shall be final, and need not necessarily agree with that of either of the Arbitrators.

Rule XII.—Arbitrators and Umpires shall have the right to call for such evidence as they may deem necessary, but shall not have the right to take the opinion or assistance of Attorneys or Counsel.

In the event of any special difficulty arising in the course of an Arbitration, the Arbitrator or Umpire shall refer the matter to the Imports Sub-Committee for disposal.

Rule XIII.—Arbitrators and Umpires shall, as far as possible, support their awards by a statement of the reasons upon which the same may be founded.

Rule XIV.—If the seller shall have offered an allowance equal to, or more than, the allowance granted by the Arbitrator, then the whole cost of the survey or Arbitration shall fall on the buyer. If the buyer has offered to accept an allowance equal to or less than the allowance decided by the Arbitrator, then the whole cost of the Survey or Arbitration shall fall upon the seller. If the Arbitrator awards no allowance, the whole cost of the Arbitration shall fall on the buyer. In all other cases the award shall state which of the parties to the Arbitration is liable for the payment of the Arbitration fees.

Rule XV.—All decisions shall be submitted in writing to the Secretary, who shall then, without disclosing the names of the Arbitrators, communicate the result to the parties concerned.

Rule XVI.—A record of all Arbitrations shall be kept in the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rule XVII.—Both the parties to an arbitration shall, on application, be entitled to receive from the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce a certified copy of the award under his signature. For each copy of such certificate a fee of Rs. 3-8 shall be payable to the Chamber of Commerce.

LOST NOTES, OBTAINMENT OF DUPLICATES.

RESOLUTION.—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, Fort William, the 11th January 1882, No. 50.

Read the undermentioned papers relating to the issue of duplicates of Government Promissory Notes alleged to have been lost or destroyed:—

For the second time—

Proceedings in the Financial Department for the month of September 1873, Accounts Nos. 6-12, deciding that, as a general rule, duplicate notes should not be issued till after ten years from the last correct advertisement of loss and then only under direct orders received from the Government of India.

Proceedings in the Financial Department for October 1873, Nos. 772 and 773, authorising the Comptroller-General to issue duplicates under the rules, taking orders of Government only in exceptional cases.

For the first time—

Letter from Comptroller-General, No. 733, dated the 23rd April 1880.

" to	"	664,	"	19th May	"
" from	"	2614,	"	28th June	"
" to	"	2241D,	"	15th	"
" to	"	2370,	"	9th Sept.	"
" from	"	2468,	"	27th Aug.	"
" from	"	4478D,	"	9th Sept.	"

OBSERVATIONS.—By existing practice, when the applicant for a duplicate note has given evidence of the loss of the original, and has established, by strong prima facie evidence, his title to the note, and has taken the prescribed measures preliminary to the application, a duplicate is issued after the lapse of ten years from the date of the last correct advertisement of the loss on a bond being executed by the claimant and two sureties, indemnifying Government against loss. Meanwhile, interest is allowed to be drawn also under a bond of indemnity.

2. It is found that, as the law at present stands, these measures do not give the Government sufficient protection from loss, as the period of limitation against the possible holder of the original note runs only from the date on which the note becomes payable; and the date may be many years after the bond of indemnity under which the duplicates have been issued has ceased to be of any practical value.

RESOLUTION.—To protect the State from such double liability, the Governor-General in Council has resolved to modify the procedure as follows:—

- (1) Every claim to the issue of a duplicate note, in lieu of one alleged to be lost will be submitted by the Public Debt Office to be provisionally decided by the Comptroller-General, after at least two years have elapsed from the date of the last correct advertisement.
- (2) If there appears to be no objection to the issue of a duplicate note to the claimant, the Comptroller-General will record his opinion to that effect, and will direct that interest upon the note be paid to the claimant after execution of a bond of indemnity with two sufficient sureties.
- (3) If the note is payable after notice given in the Gazette, the Comptroller-General will give that notice, and will (unless any reason to the contrary appears) issue a duplicate note, on indemnity bond as above, six years after the date of payment fixed in such notice.
- (4) But if the note is of a loan of which such notice of payment cannot immediately be given, then no further steps can be taken, until notice of payment can be given in accordance with the terms of the loan.
- (5) The Comptroller-General will publish these notices twice a year, about January and again about July, and will to each such notice append a list showing the numbers of notes already within the last six years advertised for payment under this Resolution.
- (6) These orders will apply to all notes on which, under existing rules, interest has been ordered to be paid, but on which duplicates have not yet been issued.
- (7) No lost note of a loan which has been ordered for discharge may be paid until a duplicate note has been issued under the above procedure.

These orders do not apply to stock certificates payable to bearer, of which duplicates may not be issued without special orders of Government in each case.

(Signed) T. C. HOPE, Secy. to the Govt. of India.

RAILWAY TELEGRAPHS.

The Madras and Southern Mahratta and South Indian Railway Companies forward Telegram Messages for the public on the following conditions, viz. :—

That the wires are not occupied by messages relating to the Company's service. The accuracy of messages is not guaranteed, and the sender and receiver must accept all risks arising from non-delivery, errors, or delays.

The Government Rules as to Charges, Address, &c., apply to messages tendered at Railway Stations.

The Sender can prepay for a reply.

Messages will be delivered free of Charge at any place within five miles of a Telegraph station. Beyond this distance, messages will be sent by Post, or by such other means as the sender may arrange and pay for.

Complaints respecting delays to messages, &c., should be addressed to the General Traffic Manager, Madras.

Proper forms, on which to write messages, are available gratis, at all stations and senders are requested to use these forms only, when practicable.

For further particulars, see the Indian Telegraph Guide.

At some of the principle stations paid messages will be accepted throughout the day and night. At other stations the recognised hours for the acceptance of paid messages are between 6 hours and 18 hours daily.

Telegrams for stations other than those in India and Ceylon are not accepted at Railway stations.

REUTER'S TELEGRAM COMPANY (LIMITED).

PRIVATE TELEGRAM SERVICE

GREAT BRITAIN, CONTINENT OF EUROPE, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AUSTRALASIA, CHINA AND SOUTH AFRICA.

The Company registers free of charge the names and addresses of senders and receivers under a Code word, to be selected by the Company, which can be used, both Outwards and Homewards, after the arrival of the mail by which the registration is effected. Both parties are duly notified when the Cypher is available and full instructions how to use it accompany the notice.

The Cypher addresses registered with the Company are only available for the transmission of telegrams through its Agencies, and messages intended to be sent under such Cypher addresses must be delivered at or sent to the Company's offices for despatch.

Every telegram transmitted through the Company's Agency is delivered to the receiver with the full name and address of the sender, if registered, and the date on which it was despatched. To receivers in the morissil a copy of the telegram wired from the Agency is transmitted by post.

Any change in address should be at once notified to the Company to ensure prompt and correct delivery of telegrams.

Enquiries respecting any telegram received through the Company, if not intelligible to the receiver, should be made at once of the Company's Manager. The Company does not hold itself in any way responsible for any charges or expenses incurred by the independent action of senders or receivers.

Passengers homeward may, if desired, have their arrival announced by telegram to their friends in India at a cost of Rs. 1-5-0 only. Particulars on application to the Manager in Madras.

All telegrams, correspondence, &c., should be addressed to, and cheques, remittances, &c., be made payable to the Manager, Madras, from whom any further information that may be desired can be obtained.

Tariffs, telegram forms, &c., are supplied gratis on application, and senders are requested to use the Company's form only.

ADVANTAGES TO SENDERS.

The advantages offered to senders of private telegrams through the Agency are :—
Free Registration—Whereby the full addresses of both sender and receiver are telegraphed in one word only.

Rebate.—A rebate of 5 annas is allowed on telegrams sent under addresses registered with this Company, provided not less than 6 messages are sent through the Company within the half-year.

Claims for rebate should be sent to this office every half-year ending 30th June and 31st December of each year. Forms for claiming rebate will be supplied on application.

NOTE.—No claim will be entertained after a lapse of 6 months.

Use of Private Code.—Telegrams in plain language can be forwarded in the Company's Code at a considerable saving of expense. A new and complete Code has been compiled especially to meet the requirements of private senders on social and business matters, thus affording facilities for cheap telegraphing which have not hitherto been accessible to the public.

Telegrams so coded will, in all cases, be translated before delivery to the receiver, to whom a copy in plain language only will be handed.

A charge of Rs. 2 is made on such telegrams in addition to the ordinary rate.

The Codes being the private property of the Company are not for sale.

RESIDENT SENDERS can obtain every assistance in coding their messages at the Company's office.

MORISSIL SENDERS can forward their telegrams in plain language, writing the words "Code and despatch" immediately before the address or registered Code word of the receiver. The Company's Manager will then code the text as economically as possible, adhering to the wording employed by the sender.

The introduction of private code words in messages to be sent in the Company's Code is not permissible, as such would lead to serious confusion and errors.

Remittances.—Remittances by mail or telegraph are now undertaken to all parts of the world at very favourable rates. Particulars on application to the Manager.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SENDERS.

ALL CHARGES ARE PAYABLE IN ADVANCE, and the Company does not undertake to forward any telegram that is unpaid or insufficiently paid. Under charges are recoverable from the sender.

RAILWAY TICKETS FROM MARSEILLES TO LONDON.

The P. & O. Company do not accept any responsibility whatsoever with regard either to the Railway or Car Services. It must be distinctly noted also that the P. & O. Company cannot be held responsible for any delay or other incident which may occur on the journey; and in issuing Railway Tickets, do so in order to meet the convenience of passengers, such Tickets being subject to the Railway Company's conditions and regulations.

The French Railways only allow children under 7 years of age to travel at half rates, and the full fares have therefore to be paid for children over this age. Infants under 3 years are carried free, but no seat is provided in the train. Ayahs and Native Servants pay the full ordinary rates.

The railway tickets are available for 30 days, and allow the passengers to break the journey at intermediate stations between Marseilles and Paris and at Amiens only between Paris and Calais. They are available by the Boulogne and Folkestone or Calais and Dover routes but not via Dieppe and Newhaven.

Passengers staying in Marseilles or the Riviera can keep the Railway Tickets as long as they like, as the 30 days count only from the day the tickets are stamped at the Marseilles Railway Station when Passengers commence the journey to London.

P. & O. MARSEILLES EXPRESS.

As soon as possible after the arrival of the Steamer the Sleeping Car Company run a Special Train composed entirely of Sleeping, Restaurant, and Baggage Cars, through from Marseilles to Calais for the convenience of passengers holding First Class Railway and Sleeping Car Tickets, who are travelling by the Company's Steamers from Bombay. This Special Train is drawn up at Mole C where the Company's Steamers are berthed, and passengers holding the above Tickets are therefore enabled to proceed direct from the Ship to the Train without the delay necessitated by a journey through the town to the Railway Station. In addition to the First Class Railway fare the Sleeping Car Company charge £2-15-0 or Rs. 42, if paid for in India for each berth in this train. No reduction in this extra charge is made for children, although half the First Class Railway fare only is payable for a child between 3 and 7 years of age, and two children are not allowed to occupy the same berth.

LANDING AND CLEARANCE OF BAGGAGE AT MARSEILLES.

For the convenience of their passengers, the Company make special arrangements for the expeditious discharge and clearance of Baggage at Marseilles, and for this purpose rent sheds on the quay in close proximity to where the steamers discharge. The baggage is taken from the ship by P. & O. Company's men (wearing a distinctive badge on their caps) to the sheds, where it is examined by the Customs authorities, and it is subsequently carried by them to the Passengers' conveyances.

Passengers are requested to note that no charge is made for this work and are specially warned against giving their luggage to unauthorised touts and interpreters. The Company's Interpreter in Union meets all Steamers on arrival and Assists Passengers with their Baggage through the Customs and sees that they are not imposed upon.

The above arrangement only refers to luggage cleared during Customs-hours which are from 1st April to 30th September, 7 A.M. to 12 and 2 P.M. to 7 P.M.; from 1st October to 31st March, 8 A.M. to 12 and 2 P.M. to 3 P.M. Baggage cleared out of Customs-hours must be sent to the Custom House General Visiting Rooms.

REGISTRATION OF BAGGAGE FROM MARSEILLES TO LONDON.

All passengers whether travelling First or Second class by ordinary train, or by the Special Sleeping Car Train, can register their baggage at Mole C, where the steamers are berthed through to London (Charing Cross Station). This arrangement enables passengers to proceed to the Railway Station in comfort without encumbering themselves with their impediments, and moreover prevents any Customs Examination at Marseilles of any package so registered. A charge of 1 franc is made for the registration of each package, which covers everything unless the weight of the baggage registered is in excess of the amount allowed free over the French Railways. Passengers must be careful to attend to the registering and to secure a receipt for their registered baggage.

PASSENGERS VIA BRINDISI.

The steamers "Isis" and "Osiris" leave Port Said for Brindisi in connection with the homeward mail vessels, and passengers wishing to proceed to the latter port must tranship at Port Said. The Company issue specially cheap combined tickets, either single or return which include the rail and sleeping car tickets, by the special trains between Brindisi and London. These tickets, however, must in all cases be taken in Bombay before embarkation, otherwise the ordinary rail and sleeping fare of £16-15-8 will be charged. On arrival at Brindisi the Company's Agent boards the steamer, and gives all information relative to trains, &c.; he is accompanied by the Company's Commissionaire in uniform with red facings, who aids passengers by interpreting for them, and assists them in passing their baggage through the Customs; and at the Station. The Customs authorities do not allow deck chairs to be landed unless accompanied by the owners. Passengers are therefore requested to see that any chairs they wish to leave at Brindisi are deposited at the Company's Office, where they can be left until re-embarkation, provided they are reclaimed within 12 months.

Passengers by this Special Train are entitled to a free allowance of 66 lbs. of baggage, and any excess of this amount is charged for at the rate of about 13 francs per 10 kilos or fractional part thereof.

The Special Train leaves about an hour after the arrival of the Steamer. It runs through to Calais, and has a Restaurant Car fitted with all appliances for cooking; meals being served in the Dining Saloon, the whole being of the most modern description.

No charge is made for infants under 3 years of age with the parent, as no berth is provided; children occupying a berth pay the full rate. Servants, European or Native, pay the same as other passengers.

The Special Trains have no Second Class carriages. Passengers by this class travel by the ordinary daily train.

Second saloon passengers travelling via Brindisi are charged Rs. 60 above the Marseilles rates each way, to travel First Saloon between Port Said and Brindisi as there is no Second Saloon accommodation in these Express Steamers.

The P. & O. Company do not accept any responsibility whatsoever with regard either to the Railway or Car Services. It must be distinctly noted also that the P. & O. Company cannot be held responsible for any delay or other incident which may occur on the journey; and in issuing Railway Tickets, do so in order to meet the convenience of passengers, such Tickets being subject to the Railway Company's conditions and regulations.

No luggage is admitted into the Sleeping Car itself except a hand-bag, which must not exceed 20 inches long by 12 inches wide by 10 inches high, and a bundle of rugs, which can be placed in the space under the sleeping berth. The bag, &c., taken into the Car is subject to examination at Modane by the Customs authorities.

There is a Luggage Van attached to the train for the conveyance of an ordinary amount of baggage for each Passenger, and all such baggage by this Service must be registered in Brindisi through to London.

There are separate lavatories in the Cars for ladies and gentlemen, and separate compartments can be reserved for ladies if required.

The new Sleeping Cars now put on this service have also a lavatory between each two compartments.

The Sleeping Car is heated and provided with bedding.

Breakfast, Luncheons, Dinners, &c., are served in the Dining Car at the following prices:—Breakfast...1s. 6d.; Luncheons...4s. 0d.; Dinners...5s. 6d.

Other refreshments at reasonable prices.

When the whole of the berths in the Special train are not taken by through passengers to Calais, the vacant ones can be let at Brindisi to passengers proceeding to any intermediate station, who can book baggage to such intermediate stations by the Train.

REGISTRATION OF BAGGAGE FROM BRINDISI TO LONDON.

Baggage can be registered through, without examination, to all the principal towns in France, Germany, Austria, and to London, but to no other town in England.

Cases nailed or screwed down cannot be accepted as Registered packages; they can only be sent on as merchandise through a licensed Shipping Agent.

Special labels for registration can be obtained on board the steamers between Port Said and Brindisi, and passengers intending to proceed by the Special Train to Calais are requested to have all packages they intend for registration beyond the Italian frontier sent on deck an hour before arrival and placed on the part marked out for them by the Ship's Officers. Such packages will not be opened, but will be registered by the Railway authorities and taken by the Customs Guards to the Railway Station.

Baggage, whether for passengers proceeding by the "Peninsular Express" or by Local train, is examined in the Railway Station opposite to which the Express Steamers now berth.

No fees are due to the Porters for Registered Baggage; the Railway Company charge 50 centimes a package for carriage of same from the Ship to the Station, which amount is collected at the time of registration, and a Customs fee of 25 centimes a package is also charged.

Passengers by the Special Train can insure their baggage from Bombay to London via Brindisi or vice versa against all risks at the same rate as if they proceeded the whole way by sea.

The Steamers of the Union Company of New Zealand, and Messrs. Huddart, Parker & Co., leave Melbourne frequently for Hobart and Launceston, and one usually starts as soon as possible after the arrival of the P. & O. Mail Steamer. The usual services are tri-weekly to and from Launceston, weekly to Hobart.

First Class	...	1	12 6

They pass the Passengers' Baggage through the Docks and into the Train free of Dock Dues and Portage; they are available for Seven days from the day of landing; and they also admit of the journey being broken at any Main Line Station, provided it is completed within that period, and that application is made to the Booking Clerk at the Docks for the necessary authority. These Coupons must be stamped at the Booking Office at the Docks. In the event of a Passenger having omitted to provide himself with a Coupon abroad, he can obtain an Order from the Company's Agent, who boards the Steamer at Plymouth, for presentation at the Great Western Railway Booking Office on shore, which will be exchanged for a Railway Ticket, ensuring similar privileges and advantages. Orders obtainable from the Company's Agent boarding the Steamer will also enable Passengers proceeding by the Great Western Railway to Stations other than London to obtain Tickets covering all Dock and Portage Dues. There are several trains daily to London and all parts of England, and when the number of Passengers is sufficiently large, special Trains to London will also be put on to meet their convenience. Convenient Warehouses for the clearance and labelling of Baggage, and well-appointed Waiting Rooms, with Railway Booking and Postal Telegraph Offices attached, are provided close to the landing-place on the premises of the Great Western Company's Docks. Compartments in the splendid First-class carriages of this Line are specially reserved for Saloon Passengers landing at Plymouth from the Company's Steamers, in order that they may proceed on their journey without being inconvenienced by other travellers. These carriages are stationed in front of the Baggage Warehouse at the Docks, so that passengers may take their seats as soon as their Baggage is cleared, and avoid the necessity of walking or driving to the Millbay Railway Station. This station is within several first-class Hotels, within easy distance of the Docks.

PLYMOUTH--LONDON TRAIN SERVICE.

With a view to increasing the facilities available to homeward passengers by this Company's steamers it has been arranged with the Great Western Railway Company that whenever passengers are landed at Plymouth from the Ocean steamers too late for them to proceed by the night mail, leaving Plymouth at 8.10 p.m. or before 7 A.M. or at any time on Sundays or Sunday nights, a special train shall be run from Plymouth to London for the conveyance of Passengers and Mails, provided there are not less than 25 first-class passengers proceeding. It is understood, also, that whenever more passengers are landed during the day time than can be conveniently accommodated by either of the regular express trains from Plymouth to London, a special train will always run for their accommodation. The Great Western Railway Company has carriages of corridor type, fitted with all modern improvements, lavatory accommodation for each class, etc., specially for the accommodation of passengers landing at Plymouth; and the special trains running from Plymouth to London perform the journey in from five to five and a-half hours.

TILBURY DOCKS (London).

Every facility will be afforded at these Docks to those passengers who proceed to London in the Steamer. A frequent Train Service is kept up between the Docks and the Termini at Fenchurch Street and Liverpool Street; and Vans of the London Parcels Delivery Company meet every Steamer for the collection of Baggage for delivery in London Suburbs, or at any of the various Railway Stations. A Van is also in attendance at the Baggage Shed daily.

QUARANTINE.

Passengers have to defray their own expenses for Hotels in the event of any detention and in all cases in which the Company's ships, or the passenger or passengers holding the passage ticket, may be placed in quarantine. First Saloon passengers will be charged 10s. and Second Saloon passengers 5s. per day, for their maintenance, either on board or on shore, or such further sum over and above 10s. and 5s., respectively, as any authority ordering may demand in respect of such maintenance.

The Captain may omit to call at any Port or Ports where, on account of quarantine restrictions existing or apprehended at such Port or Ports or existing or apprehended at any other Port or Ports, he may deem it advisable so to do, and when by reason of such omission to call or by reason of quarantine restrictions Passengers are unable to land at the Port to which they are booked and are carried to a Port beyond, they will be charged additional Passage Money for the conveyance to the Port at which they land.

BAGGAGE.

Passengers are specially cautioned against taking in their Baggage Matches, Loaded Cartridges, Caustic Acids, or other dangerous articles.

The attention of passengers by the Company's Steamers is requested to the undermentioned Regulations in reference to baggage; much trouble and loss are often caused by non-observance of them. All baggage should be packed in leather portmanteau or trunks, each package marked with the owner's name and port of destination in paint, in full, and fastened securely with case-locks, padlocks, and leather straps being liable to damage or removal. Canvas covers to packages of baggage are not recommended, as they are frequently removed and lead to the loss of packages. Deck chairs are conveyed at passengers' risk only. The baggage of passengers must contain only their personal effects. Packages containing jewellery, plate, or other valuables, must be specially declared and freight paid thereon at the Company's established rates, failing which such packages are liable to detention for freight by the Company's Agents. First Saloon passengers are allowed 3 cwt. of personal Baggage free of Freight; Second Saloon passengers and servants 1½ cwt. each; Children over three and under twelve years half these weights. Ayahs and other Native servants 1½ cwt. each free. A passenger taking a reserved cabin will be entitled to take in the steamers free of freight 4½ cwt.; and a married couple, paying for reserved accommodation, will be entitled to take 9 cwt. Passengers from Bombay can send baggage by steamer from Calcutta, should they find any convenience in doing so; and if proceeding via Brindisi or Marseilles can forward any of their packages to London by sea without extra charge. The charge for conveyance of extra baggage is at the rate of 10s. per cwt. between any two ports, payable on board. Heavy baggage for shipment by the Homeward steamers should be sent to the Ballard Pier on Friday afternoon, the day previous to sailing, and cabin baggage before 9 A.M. on Saturday. The attention of passengers is called to the importance of having their baggage labelled with Port of Destination.

Only hand packages will be received in the Company's steam-launches which convey passengers on board. In order to facilitate the shipment and stowing baggage, passengers are requested to have their packages distinctly marked "Cabin," "Wanted on Voyage," or "Not Wanted on Voyage," as the case may be. Labels can be obtained on application at the Company's Office. Coloured labels, showing the port at which baggage is to be landed, will be supplied on application at the Company's Offices, and passengers are advised to place two of these labels on each package before shipment. The Portmanteau for cabin use should not exceed 3 feet in length, 1 foot 9 inches in width and 1 foot 3 inches in depth. No packages exceeding this limit are allowed in the saloon or cabins. Passengers who may miss any package or baggage on arrival at their destination, are recommended to apply, without delay, to the Company's Agent, giving full particulars, in writing, when enquiry will at once be made. Bicycles, children's perambulators or mail carts or cases sent down for shipment with passenger's baggage will be charged at the following rates, irrespective of weight:—

	From Bombay to Aden or Colombo.	From Bombay to Europe, China or Australia.
Measuring 15 cubic feet and under	0 10 0	0 15 0
Over 15 cubic feet and under 25 cubic feet	1 0 0	1 10 0

For any excess above 25 cubic feet, 2s. per cubic foot, in addition to the initial charge. No "India-Rubber Solution" or other dangerous "Bicycle Accessory" can be received on any condition. N.B.—The Company will not be responsible for any detention, loss, damage, or injury to Bicycles under any circumstances whatever. CAUTION.—Goods of a dangerous or damaging nature.—The Company will not receive on board of their vessels any goods of a dangerous or damaging nature. If any such goods be shipped without notice, the shipper will not only be liable to the penalties imposed by statute, but also for all damages sustained in consequence of such shipment.

PASSENGERS' LETTERS.

Letters and Telegrams to Passengers at Ports of call should bear the Passenger's name, and should be addressed to the care of the Company's Agents at the respective ports, thus:—

Mr.
Passenger per S. S. "....."
c/o P. & O. S. N. Co.'s Agent, (Port).....

It is also recommended that the name and address of the sender be written on the lower left hand corner of all letters and parcels, in order that they may be returned if not delivered. The Outward Mail steamers are due to arrive in Bombay every Friday, and letters for Outward Passengers should always reach the Company's Bombay Office by the previous Thursday evening.

Same as above except for the ports
below mentioned:—

Return Tickets.—These are available for 2 years, and the period is reckoned from date of departure to date of arrival on return. Passengers who do not prepay the fare for Return Tickets cannot afterwards be put upon the footing of Return Ticket Holders. Return Tickets to Colombo or Calcutta can, by special arrangement, be made available to come home from Bombay or Karachi and vice versa.

Concessions.—Missionaries Bona fide and Railway Employees and their families, Tea Planters, Nuns, Sisters of Mercy, Hospital and Plague Nurses and Theatrical Companies are entitled to a reduction of 5 per cent. on the fares to London.

Allowances are not cumulative, and it is optional for passengers to choose which allowance they prefer.

Family Allowances.—According to the following scale:—

For a family paying three Full Fares (or their equivalent), and up to four, a deduction of 10 per cent. on full Steamer Charges.

For a family paying four Full Fares or over, a reduction of 15 per cent. on Full Charges.

Above reductions apply to Bona fide Family Parties only, and not to people who may join together for the sake of getting a reduction.

Family concessions are not given on return tickets.

Children over three and under twelve years of age pay half fare.

Infants travel free, but are not provided with berths. Should more than one child under 3 years be conveyed one-quarter fare each will be charged exclusive of the one taken free.

No passenger can take advantage of more than one concession at a time.

Karachi Passengers.—Steamers for Karachi usually call first at Bombay, and Passengers booked to the former port are provided with free tickets there by first available B. I. S. N. Co.'s Steamer, or they can wait and continue the journey by City or Hall Line Steamer. In the event also of a homeward steamer from Karachi, proceeding via Bombay, free tickets from Karachi to Bombay by B. I. S. N. Co. are also provided. In no case, however, are Passengers allowed to remain on board during the Steamer's stay at Bombay, but must reside ashore at their own expense.

Bombay Passengers.—Bombay Passengers booking home by City or Hall Line from Karachi, will be furnished, on application to the Bombay Agents, with free tickets by B. I. S. N. Co.'s Steamer there, but under no circumstances will any hotel or other expenses be paid.

THROUGH BOOKINGS VIA CONTINENTAL PORTS.

Homeward.—The Company's steamers from Karachi call (when sufficient inducement offers) at Genoa or Marseilles, and Passengers by this route are booked Overland to London.

A first-class passenger booked home to London via Marseilles or Genoa by an "A" class steamer, who may on arrival at either of these ports decide to continue to Liverpool by sea, will receive a refund of Rs. 50, or the equivalent thereof, at current rate of exchange, upon application to the Steamship Co., due notice of the change in his intentions being given in writing to the Genoa or Marseilles Agents. If in a steamer without Surgeon or Stewardess Rs. 55, or if a second-class passenger Rs. 30, or the equivalents, will be refunded.

A passenger booked to Liverpool, who may prefer to travel Overland from Marseilles to London instead of continuing the journey by sea can obtain the necessary tickets from the Marseilles Agents upon payment of £5.

The train service taken by Passengers from Marseilles is that of the direct line by the Paris-Lyons Mediterranean Railway via Lyons, Dijon, etc. The journey by fast train occupies about 22 to 23 hours from Marseilles to London. The route from Genoa is by Turin, Mont Cenis, Lyons, Dijon, Paris, etc., or by Milan, St. Gothard, Bale, Laon, etc., and the journey to London occupies about 30 and 36 hours respectively according to the route taken.

Passengers who elect to travel from Marseilles or Genoa 2nd class can, if they so wish pay two francs extra for the steamer journey from Calais to Dover, on board the Channel steamer, and travel 1st class for that distance. Passengers for London via Marseilles or Genoa must make their own messing arrangements across the Continent. Places in the sleeping cars cannot be actually secured until arrival at Marseilles or Genoa, and the notice has to be given through the Company's Agents on arrival of the steamer. Due extra fare is 48-50 francs per passenger from Marseilles or Genoa to Paris, which must be paid before commencement of journey.

Passengers can travel by the P. and O. special train from Marseilles provided there be room and at the extra cost of Pcs. 68-80=about £2-15-0.

The "City" and "Hall" Line Steamers being of various Passenger carrying capacity are, for the purpose of reference, divided into two groups, viz.:

"A" Class—Steamers of large Passenger capacity, carrying Surgeon and Stewardess.

"B" Class—Steamers carrying a limited number of Passengers, at lower rates, but having no Surgeon or Stewardess.

Surgeon.—Each "A" Class Steamer carries a thoroughly qualified Surgeon whose services are at the disposal of passengers gratis. Medicines are also supplied free.

Rebuilt and Secondhand Typewriters
DEPARTMENT,

No. 3, Esplanade Row, Madras.

REBUILT TYPEWRITERS

POPULAR PRICES.

WE are importing from America a large number of Rebuilt Typewriters of all makes such as Remington, Yost, Smith Premier, New Century and mostly Densmores. As the public demand for Rebuilt Typewriters is so great now ever since we introduced these Machines into the Market that we have taken a contract to purchase a large number of these machines. If you are in need of a high grade standard typewriter, at a low price, from Rs. 160 to Rs. 220, we shall be glad to supply you with one of these machines which are entirely rebuilt, worn out parts removed, and new parts substituted, re-polished, re-nickled, entirely re-enamelled and japanned by the American Manufacturers and which are as good as new in appearance and are of great durability. At the request of our several customers and enquirers, who specially requested us to supply them with the first-class second-hand machines, we have imported these Rebuilt Typewriters to meet the demands of the public and are selling them at the lowest rate.

Suppose you buy from us a Rebuilt Typewriter valued at Rs. 150 and use the machine for three years, what is your annual investment on a machine? It is only Rs. 50 per annum. What is your daily investment? It is only Rs. 4-2-8 per month. What is your daily investment? It is only two annas and odd a day. Suppose you have some manuscript containing 2,000 words, and you wish the same to be typed. A job Typewriting Office in a city generally charges Rs. 1-4-0 for 1,000 words, and for 2,000 words you will have to pay Rs. 2-8-0 besides paper charges. Whereas if you buy a Rebuilt Typewriter from us at cost of Rs. 150 and use it for three years, your investment on a Typewriter is only two annas and three pies a day nearly. Will it not be profitable to you to buy a Typewriter from us and use the same for your work without going to a Typewriting Office and paying high charges for your work? Write to us for particulars.
