SPECTACLES

AND

EYE GLASSES

SHOULD NOT BE USED

unless prescribed and supplied by those who are thoroughly experienced and capable of undertaking the all-important work of properly correcting defective vision.

A little reflection must convince intelligent people that they cannot afford to treat the Eye-sight with little consideration.

H. W. Nailer only supplies Lenses and Frames which are carefully prepared to formula. No pretence is made to compete with the ordinary spectacle vendor, who supplies Spectacles and Eyeglasses as he would any ordinary commodity, and who has not even a rudimentary knowledge of the Science of Optics, and in most cases does irreparable mischief.

H. W. Nailer has tested over 25,000 cases of Defective Vision.

Lieut.-Colonel. T. H. Pope, M.D., C.M., B.S.C., late Superintendent, Government Ophthalmic Hospital, Madras, says—"Mr. H. W. Nailer.....thoroughly understands the work in all its branches.....His long experience in such work enables him to easily comprehend what is wanted."

JEWELLERY DEPARTMENT.

RULES FOR CALLING IN MADRAS.

The following rules regulating calling were unanimously agreed to by the ladies of Madras after a canvass held in the beginning of November 1891, and are published for general information:—

1. Ladies and gentlemen leaving Madras for a time and then returning to it, may send their cards by post to their former friends and acquaintances to inform them of their return with the letters P. A. R. (pour annoncer retour) in the corner, precisely on the same principle as they would send round their P. P. C. (pour prendre congé) cards before leaving the place. The sending of the cards will be accepted as a visit and will be so considered and returned by the friend's card being sent in return.

2. The first visits of gentlemen must be paid in person between noon and 2 P.M., or between 4 and 6 P.M., and those of ladies may be paid either between noon and 2 P.M., or during the usual hours of calling in the evening.

3. Gentlemen may call in the afternoon between the hours of 4 and 6 P.M.

ARCOT (SOUTH).

A District in the Madras Presidency. Bounded on the North by Chingleput and North Arcot; on the South by Trichinopoly and Tanjore; on the East by the Bay of Bengal; and on the West by Salem. Area, 4,873 square miles. Population, 1,873,738. Language spoken:—Tamil.

Taluks.—See Taluk List. For Travellers' and Staging Bungalows, etc.—See Special Section.

Cuddalore.—A sea-port, and the Head-quarters of the district, is situated on the Pennair and Gadilam rivers; vessels anchor within about 1¼ miles of the shore. In 1682, the H. E. I. C. opened up negotiations with the Khan of Gingee for a factory at Cuddalore, and the first buildings were put up in 1683; a ring of Palmyra trees still marks the land ceded for the settlement. Trade grew rapidly, and the Company erected Fort St. David and enlarged their warehouses. In 1702 the fortifications were rebuilt on more modern lines. On the fall of Madras in 1746, the administration was taken to Cuddalore. Fort St. David was soon after twice besieged by Dupleix, but without success; in 1752, the Hd.-qrs. of Government were re-established in Madras, and, six years after, the French occupied the town and stormed and destroyed the Fort. It was re-taken by the British in 1760, but again fell into the hands of the French in 1772, and was unsuccessfully besieged by the British in the following year. In 1785 it was finally restored to England, under the treaty of Versailles.

A few of the ruins of the old Fort still exist, and the old garden-house (1738) of the Governors of Fort St. David is now the official residence of the Collector of the District.

There is a Station Club, and also one for Indian gentlemen. Conveyances can be hired at the Railway Station (South Indian Railway), and in the town.

BANGALORE.

Bangalore is a city situated in 12° 57' N. Lat. and 77° 35 E. Long., and is 71 miles north of Seringapatam; it is 216½ miles by rail, west of Madras. It covers an area of 21½ square miles, and is divided into two distinct parts, viz., the City or Pettah, which is the old Native Town of Bangalore Proper, and the Cantonment or Civil and Military Station. Bangalore is the seat of Government for the Mysore State, and the Civil and Military Station is the head-quarters of the Bangalore Brigade of the IX (Secunderabad) Division of the Army. It is also the head-quarters of the Resident in Mysore and Chief Commissioner of Coorg.

The name Bangalore is a corruption of Bengalûru, which is probably derived from Bengalu, a kind of bean (hence the proverbial "City of Beans"), and the following story has been related in connection with it: One day, when King Vira Ballâla was hunting, he became separated from his attendants, and, losing his way, wandered about till nightfall. At last, faint and weary, he came upon a solitary hut, in which was an old woman, to whom he applied for something to eat. She had nothing better to offer him than some Bengalu, green beans boiled in a little water, which, however, he was glad to get, and sharing them with his horse, passed the night under shelter of the lowly hut. The incident speedily became known, and the village (ûru) which sprung up, thence took the name of Bengalûru. Bangalore has long enjoyed a reputation for salubrity, and a climate suitable for Europeans. Many halo, healthy people of an older generation have settled there; children thrive there. The hot season is from March to May. Courts, schools and colleges have their vacations at this time. The heat is dry, and often untempered by any breeze; the maximum heat is from 90° to 95°, occasionally 99.° The mornings even at this time are fairly cool; with sunset the temperature falls rapidly and the nights are quite bearable. The S.-W. monsoon breaks in June, accompanied by high winds and cloudy days; thereafter the weather is cold and bracing and fairly warm clothing advisable. The City stands in the centre of the Mysore table-land, about 3,000 feet above the sea, the general level being broken by a few slight elevations. The old Fort stands in the extreme south-west, north of which is the Pettah. The Fort is said to have been originally built of mud in 1537 by a local chieftain, the Poligar Kempa Gowden. The present fortifications of rubble stone were built in 1761 by Hyder Ali from plans by a French Engineer. The old Palace of Hyder Ali and Tippu Sultan was used for offices until 1878, when they fell into decay, but a small portion was restored in 1880. Some foul, dark, subterranean dungeons still exist, one of which was Sir David Baird's prison for three years and ten months. The Civil and Military Station stretches away towards the north-east, terminating in the Native quarters of the Cantonment Bazaar, beyond which are the suburbs of St. John's Hill and Cleveland Town, dotted with the cottages of a large number of pensioned Europeans. The large open space between the two Native quarters contains the Race Course, the Cubbon Park, the High Ground, and the Parade-ground. Here also are situated the chief Government offices, the houses of well-to-do European residents and the principal Hotels. Beyond the Fort is the Lal Bagh, or Horticultural Gardens, one of the finest in India. The City contains an area of about 11 square miles, excluding the new extensions, and trade is brisk in cotton and grain. The Cantonment or Civil and Military Station covers an area of about 12½ square miles excluding the new extensions, and was assigned to the British Government for purposes of political and administrative control, the Maharajah of Mysore having renounced the exercise of jurisdiction within it. It is officered by a British Resident of the first class, who is also the Chief Commissioner of the Province of Coorg. In it are situated the Barracks and Lines of the troops. Here also is the residential quarters for Europeans, schools, banks, shops, and places of amusement and recreation. The Central Jail covers a large space to the west of Cubbon Park, and is built on the radiating principle. The Central College, to the south-east of the Jail, contains a hall with workshops for many trades. The Central College, to the south-east of the Jail, contains a hall with a roof supported by light monolithic columns, 30 feet high, quarried in the neighbourhood. The Maharajah's fine Palace is on the High Ground, in the extreme north. There are numerous churches of different Christian sects and many Hindu temples and Mahomedan mosques. There are several excellent schools here for European children.

It has a large industry of its own; Cloths, Towels, Table Cloths, Durries, Woollen pile Carpets, &c., are manufactured, Rope Spinning, Carpenter's, blacksmiths', basket and leather work, are also done here. S. Achyuta Rao.

Inspector-General of Prisons in Mysore.—Col. Smyth, M. D. I.M.S.

THE LABORATORIES AND OFFICES OF THE AGRICULTURAL CHEMIST AND THE MYCOLOGIST AND ENTOMOLOGIST TO THE GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE—Are situated to the north-east of the Central College. They were only recently completed and equipped and compare favourably with any institution of a similar kind in the world. Dr. A. Lehmann, PH. D., is in charge of the Chemical Laboratory and Dr. Leslie C. Coleman, PH. D., is in charge of the Mycological and Entomological Laboratories. Both are doing very useful work for the State and the Planters. An Experimental Farm has been opened in connection with the Laboratories, at Hebbal, about five miles from Bangalore.

COLE'S PARK—Which is in charge of the Municipality of the Civil and Military Station is situated to the west of St. John's Hill. Once a pleasant place of resort to the Residents of St. John's Hill, it is now less used as no band now plays in the Park.

CUBBON PARK.—The Cubbon Park was originally laid out by Major Sankey, R.E. It is named after Sir Mark Cubbon, a very popular Chief Commissioner of Mysore, and covers an area of more than 100 acres. It is situated east, north and south of the Public Offices, from the balcony of which a fine view is obtained, both of the Park and the surrounding country. The grounds include the Government Museum, the Sir Seshadri Iyer Memorial Hall, an equestrian statue in bronze of Sir Mark Cubbon by Baron Marochetti, and a white marble statue of the late Queen Victoria by Brock. The Tennis Courts of the Gymkhana Club are near the Museum.

THE GOLF LINKS.—Are situated on the High ground on what is known as the old Rifle Ranges and close to the West End Hotel which overlooks them. They consist of a Gentlemen's and a Ladies' course, each of 9 holes. Further information regarding them will be found under heading of "Bangalore Golf Club" in this volume, or on application to the Honorary Secretary.

PUBLIC OFFICES.—The Mysore State Public Offices, situated at the upper end of Cubbon Park, are the largest buildings in Bangalore. They consist of a fine two-storeyed structure in the Grecian style with verandahs all round, the entire length being 610 feet. It is intended to erect another block of buildings in the grounds of the Park to accommodate the State Law Courts. The new Mysore Survey Offices near the Maternity Road crossing is another fine block of buildings.

THE MYSORE GOVERNMENT MUSEUM—Established in 1865, is open to the public from 7 A.M. to 5-30 P.M. daily, Sundays and few special holidays excepted. The present building which was opened to the public in 1877 is situated in the Cubbon Park.

THE LAL BAGH.—The Lal Bagh is the Mysore Government Botanical Gardens. It is about two miles to the south-west of the Cantonment—a very pleasant drive. This beautiful pleasaunce was first laid out in the time of Hyder Ali and was greatly enlarged by Tippu Sultan. It now possesses a Pic-nic Pavilion, a much-needed addition, and a spacious and lofty Glass-House in which the Horticultural Shows are held. BELLARY.

The District of Bellary (Valahari) lies between latitudes 14° 14′ and 15° 57′ and longitude 75° 45′ and 77° 40′ with an area, including the Sandur State, of 6,136 sq. miles, and a population of 958,414 (according to 1901 Census) Languages spoken in the District are Canarese, Telugu, and Hindustani. It is bounded on the north by H. H. the Nizam's territory, from which it is divided by the Tungabudra river; on the south-west and south by the Mysore country, on the east by the districts of Anantapur and Kurnool, and on the west by Mysore and the district of Dharwar in the Bombay Presidency. The height of the plateau averages from 800 to 1,000 feet above the level of the sea. The western taluqs are the highest, as the country there gradually slopes towards the western ghats. In the southern taluq, also, as the table-land of Mysore is reached, the elevation is not inconsiderable. The soil in the eastern taluqs is largely composed of the celebrated régada or black cotton soil. In the western taluqs, there are patches of the same soil, but the red soils predominate, and, in the neighbourhood of hills, good gravel is found.

The general aspect is that of an extensive plateau, elevated on the shoulders of the western and eastern ghats, the plain of which forms a considerable angle with the horizon, inclining towards the east coast of the peninsula. Thus at Belgaum, in the South Mahratta country, the height of the plain is 2,568 feet above the level of the sea, at Bellary it is 1,600 feet. The western ghats clearly form the anticlinal line to which the arenaceous and chistous eastern ranges are more or less conformable. The plain has another and more gentle dip towards the north, to the beds of the Kistna and Tungabudra rivers. The bed of the Tungabudra is a little more than 1,000 feet above the level of the sea, the plain rises as we proceed south, and, in the centre of the district, it is 1,500 feet, and on the Mysore frontier in the south, 2,223 feet above the sea. To the centre of the district the surface of the plain presents a monotonous and almost treeless extent, bounded by the horizon, and unbroken, save by a few rocky elevations that stand forth abruptly from the sheet of black soil like rocks from the ocean. Of this tract, Sir T. Munro wrote: "These districts are more destitute of trees than any part of Scotland I ever saw; the traveller scarcely meets with one in twenty miles and nowhere with a clump of fifty." Since this was written large sums of money have been spent in planting topes and trees and some success has been attained. The town of Bellary itself is fairly well wooded, and, along all the roads in the district, avenues have been planted. The Sandur hills are covered with a good growth, though the trees are nowhere very large yet. Almost every variety of tree known in S. India can be found on these hills. In the Kudligi Taluk there are large areas now under reservation, containing a fair growth of small forest.

In the reign of Krishna Rayel of Vijiyanagar, a small fort was built at Bellary by Timmappa, a dependent of that king. He and his son Rangappa held it for many years, paying an annual tribute of Rupees 1,000. After the battle of Telikota, Bellary became subject to the Mohammedan sovereigns of Bijapur, but the successors of Rangappa Naick were almost independent, and in 1650, Hanumappa, his grandson, defeated the descendant of the Vijiyanagar Rajas, who claimed tribute from him, in a battle which was fought near Kampli. For another century the feud went on between the Rajas of Bellary, as they now styled themselves, and their former masters. After a time, Bellary became part of the possessions of the Nizam and was included in the Jaghire of Adoni, which had been given to Basálat Jung, the Nizam's brother. In 1769 Safdar Jung and M. Bussay were sent from Adoni to collect the tribute, which the Poligar had for some years refused to pay. The Poligar rashly called Hyder Ali to his aid, who reached Bellary by forced marches, and engaged and defeated the army of Basálat Jung, in the plain at the foot of the rock. Doddappa Naick, the Poligar, who had watched the contest from the top of the rock, fled by night to Sholapur, and Hyder took possession. He spent much money on the fortifications, and, with the assistance of some French adventurers, who were in his camp, he built the upper and the lower forts much as they now are. Tradition adds, that at the completion of the work these Frenchmen were hanged near the fort gate, because Hyder then for the first time discovered that the other rock was the higher, and that from it his stronghold could be commanded. Bellary was held by Hyder Ali and afterwards by Tippu till 1792, when, by the partition treaty of 1792, it fell to the Nizam. The rock round which Bellary town is built is a huge granitic mass, rising somewhat abruptly from the plain. It is about 450 feet above the level of the plain, and nearly two miles in circumference. To the east and south, the appearance presented is that of a heap of boulders irregularly piled one on the other, but, to the west, it slopes down more gradually and offers an unbroken surface of sheet-rock. To the north is a smaller detached mass of rocks.

The climate of Bellary is characterized by extreme dryness, in consequence of the air passing over such an extent of heated plains. Less rain is supposed to fall at Bellary than at any other place in South India. The quantity of moisture in the air, as indicated by the hydrometer, is exceedingly minute, though the air is remarkable for its transparency. More rain falls in the taluqs bordering on the Tungabudra. From the situation of the district, almost in the centre of the peninsula, it benefits by both monsoons, and yet does not get the full force of either. From the commencement of November to the end of May rain rarely falls, though sometimes, in April and May, there are violent thunderstorms and much atmospheric disturbance. In the first week in June, the south-west monsoon is looked for, and, with the first few heavy showers, the hot weather is at an end. About 5 inches of rain fall in this month and July. Towards the end of September, the wind veers round to the north, and, about the middle of October, the district is visited by the north-east monsoon. The average rainfall in September and October is 9½ inches.

The cool season begins in the month of November, at the close of the north-east monsoon. During this period the wind is steady from the north-east and the weather is extremely pleasant. In the early mornings the thermometer is often as low as 62°, but the usual daily range is from 67° to 83°. The atmosphere is clear and the nights very cool. Towards the end of February the weather begins to get hot, and early in March the country presents an altered appearance. As the month advances the hot west winds set in, vegetation disappears, all the grass is burned up, and the country resembles a dreary waste. In the black cotton country the soil, baked as hard as a stone, is split in all directions by cracks and fissures, from one to three feet in depth. In the other taluks dust-storms are of frequent occurrence. The atmosphere glows intensely, and the glare, increased by the white and sparkling nature of the ground, is most distressing. The tanks rapidly dry up and expose beds of slime and decomposing mud. The nights are generally calm, and the atmosphere is stagnant and oppressive to a degree. Towards the end of May the heat is almost insupportable. At midnight even, the thermometer sometimes marks 100° Fahr., and glass and wood crack simply from the heat. In the daytime the house can be cooled by cuscus tatties, but after sunset the hot wind usually fails. At the end of the month, or in the beginning of June, heavy clouds begin to gather in the south-west, and generally after a few days of oppressive stillness, the approach of the monsoon is heralded by two or three violent thunder-storms. These cool and refresh the air, and the hot weather is at an end. The interval between the two monsoons is generally very pleasant. The days are cloudy, and the air fresh and agreeable. September is usually close and oppressive, and this lasts till the rain falls. For three months of the year the heat is excessive, but the remaining nine months are comparatively cool and pleasant.

CHINGLEPUT.

The District of Chingleput derives its name from the Town Chingleput. The Town in Tamil is made up of two words "Chengalvam and pattan," Chengalvam means red lotus, as it was a town full of red lotus, which also now continue though not in abundance. The district encloses the city of Madras, and comprises the six taluqs of Chingleput, Conjeeveram, Madurantakam, Ponneri, Saidapet and Tiruvallur, with an area of 3,079 sq. miles, and population of 1,312,122, the majority of whom are engaged in agriculture. There are 22,225 weavers, a third of whom reside in and about Conjeeveram. The languages of the district are Tamil and Telugu. The Palar is the chief river in the district. Parts of the Chingleput and Madurantakam taluqs are undoubtedly pretty, presenting undulating plains varied by ridged or conical hills. These taluqs are well-known as snipe grounds. Snipes are found from October till the end of March. The South Indian Railway Company has two lines in the district; one short branch, 18¾ miles, connects Conjeeveram with Arkonam, another runs from Madras southwards, passing on its way through St. Thomas' Mount, Pallaveram, Chingleput and Madurantakam.

Chingleput is the chief town of the district and here are the offices of the District Judge and Sub-Collector, but the Head-quarters of the Collectorate are at Saidapet. The Fort, which is Chingleput's chief characteristic, was erected after the fall of the Vijiyanagar power about the end of the 16th century. It passed out of the possession of its original constructors, the Hindus, into the hands of the Mahomedans, and, in 1751, it was taken by Chanda Sahib from Mahomed Ali, when, with the aid of the French, he invaded the Carnatic. In 1752, a French force sallied from it and made a fruitless attempt to prevent the capture of Covelong by Capt. Clive, who, after reducing the place marched on Chingleput and took it. With the advent of peace, a jail was established, and, in 1887, the fort was practically handed over to the Educational department for the purpose of a Reformatory School. This school is intended for the juvenile offenders of the Presidency, who are sent there by the Magistracy, usually for petty offences, theft, etc. The staff consists of a Superintendent who is the Medical Officer of the District, a Deputy Superintendent, who is the chief and permanent executive officer, and who is a member of the Provincial Educational Service. The present incumbent is Mr. J. W. Coombes, B.A., L.T., an English-trained expert in weaving and kindred industries. There is also a staff of teachers and trained instructor-maistries. The boys are taught carpenter's, blacksmith's and rattan work, tailoring, weaving, etc. There is also a band and bugle class. Great attention is paid to physical and moral training, and, when the boys leave the institution they are provided with appointments through the help of the District Magistrate. The work of the institution is unique, and it is well worth a visit; it differs from similar institutions in other parts of India, inasmuch as the boys are treated in a manner akin to that of a Boarding School. There are two High Schools in the town, the Native High School and the U. F. C. M. High School with a student population of 800.

The principal places of interest in the District are:—

The Seven Pagodas on the coast, which can be approached by road from Chingleput, at a distance of 18 miles. These are monolithic temples, Dravidian in character, and are certainly anterior to the 7th century, B.C. No traveller should fail to visit these works of the sculptor's art.

Tirukalikundram, or the hill of the sacred kites, is situated half-way between Chingleput and the sea coast. It is a ridge terminating in a spiked hill, on which stand the remains of a quaint temple of great antiquity, and dedicated to Siva. Every day two birds of the kite species come to the hill to be fed by an attendant Pandarum. They are said to come from Benares.

Conjeeveram lies 22 miles West of Chingleput. The native name of the place is Kanchi or golden city, (or the place where Brahma worshipped Vishnu) and Siva is said to have exclaimed that "of all towns Kanchi is best." There is a large weaving community, and fine country cloths of all kinds are still manufactured there in large quantities. Conjeeveram is the most sacred city in the South of India. There are three important temples, the oldest is dedicated to Siva, the second to Vishnu, and the third to the "loving-eyed" Parvati, the wife of Siva. The town has always been celebrated for its fine wide streets and pleasant appearance; it possesses a good water supply, the water being pumped from a fine well situated in the middle of the Vegarathy, a tributary of the Palar river. It is an important municipal town in the district.

Sriperumbudur is situated about 25 miles to the west of Madras. It is noted as the birth-place of the famous Sri Ramanuja Chariar of the Vaishnava sect.

Wallajahbad is situated on the Palar between Conjeeveram and Chingleput. It was a Military Cantonment for many years, but the mortality became so great that the place received the name of "the grave of Europeans."

Pallilore, a village ten miles north-west of Conjeeveram, was twice the scene of battle between the English and Hyder Ali. It was in the first battle in 1780 that the English sustained the most crushing defeat ever inflicted on them in India. In the following year Hydor gave battle at the same place, and was defeated by Sir Eyre Coote. On the field are two tombs of officers who were killed in the 2nd battle.

Madurantakam is situated on the Great Southern Trunk Road, at the 50th milestone from Madras. The Railway passes the town. The majority of the landholders are Vaishnuvite Brahmins. The only noteworthy feature of the place is its very fine tank.

Karunguli is two miles from Madurantakam. The most interesting historic monument is the fort the origin of which appears to be Mahomedan; about 1750 it passed into the hands of the French, when Dupleix espoused the cause of Chanda Sahib. In 1759, Sir Eyre Coote marched against it unsuccessfully, but, in the year following, it fell into the hands of Hyder. In 1781, Sir Eyre, who was at Chingleput, sent Capt. Davis with 1,000 men to occupy it, which he did by blowing open the gateways. The Madurantakam tank, one of the largest in the South, which was formed towards the end of the 18th century by damming up the Kiliyar river, commemorates the name of Mr. Place, the collector, under whose auspices it was constructed. His house at Karunguli is now used as a Travellers' Bungalow.

Saidapet Taluk. The rivers that flow through this taluq are:—

1. The Cortellion, which falls into Ennore backwater.
2. The Cooum, after supplying the Chembrambakam tank, flows through the town of Madras into the Sea.
3. The Adyar which flows to the South of Mylapore, a suburb of Madras.

The only two works of importance are the Red Hills and Chembrambakam tanks.

The Red Hills tank depends for its supply on a channel taken off from an anicut across the Cortellion. The water first flows into the Sholavaram tank, and then through a regulating sluice into a channel for its conveyance to the Northern end of the Red Hills tank. A large and open channel conveys the water to the City of Madras; this is a serious defect in the system. During the hot months water often becomes scarce and has to be pumped.

Saidapet is five miles from Fort St. George and is the head-quarters of the Collector. Of late years, it has become an Educational centre, with the establishment of the Agricultural and Teachers's Colleges. The former college has now been shifted to Coimbatore.

Guindy is about a mile-and-a-half South of Saidapet. The Governor of Madras has a residence and an extensive Park here. The King Institute, for bacteriological investigations and the manufacture of vaccine, is located in Guindy. Oakes & Co., Ld., Madras, have a cigar factory here.

Poonamallee is situated on the Western Trunk Road, 13 miles from Madras. It was established as a Cantonment for the purpose of receiving European invalids. It is still used as a sanitarium for British troops.

Tiruvallur.—At the Northern end of this taluq the Nagalapuram and Sattiyavedu Hills relieve the flatness of it—Kámbákam Drug, the highest point, is 2,548 feet above the level of the Sea. The Cooum has its source principally in the surplus waters of the tank of the same name. Red handkerchieves and Mussulman cloths are manufactured in the Sattiyavedu Division, and are sent to Bangalore. Tiruvallur is the chief town of the taluq. The temple, at each new moon, attracts crowds of natives from Madras, to whom, it would appear, the greatest sin, if they were prevented from paying their devotions, and performing their ablutions.

CHITALDRUG—MYSORE.

A District in the North of the Mysore State, between 13° 40′ and 13° 2′ N. Lat.; and 75° 42′ and 77° 6′ E. Long. Area 4,025 square miles. Population, 497,018. Languages:—Telugu and Canarese.

Sub-Divns.:—CHALLAKERE, CHITALDRUG, DAVENGERE, HIRIYUR, HOLALKERE, JAGALUR, MOLKALMURU AND HOSADURGA. For Staging Bungalows, etc., see separate section.

CHITALDRUG is the chief town of the District of the same name, situated to the North of the Mysore Province; the M. and S. M. Railway traverses the district. Chitaldrug is 24 miles from the Holalkere railway station and 126 miles North-west of Bangalore, on the Bangalore-Harihar road. The town is surrounded with a line of old fortifications. The Mahal or palace in the inner fort, built by Tippoo Sultan, is used as the Cutcherry. Before it is an enormous trough for watering elephants, which was found on the hill, and was cut from a single stone. To the west, in a rugged and picturesque group of hills, is the Ankli math, this is a curious series of subterranean chambers, now regularly built round with masonry. In them are shrines, lingams, baths and pedestals; the style of the architecture is about 620 years old, but the caverns no doubt existed long before. About 6 miles South of Chitaldrug is the Jog matte, a hill 4,000 feet above sea-level. It is a convenient resort from the intense heat of the hot months.

COCHIN STATE.

Description and Position.—Cochin (Vernacular-Kochi) is a Native State in subsidiary alliance with the British Government and politically connected with the Presidency of Madras. It is said to be called after the town of that name, formerly its Capital, where in 1502 the Portuguese were allowed to settle and erect a Fort. In 1663 it was captured by the Dutch, and from them the British took possession of it and it is now a British possession. The State lies between 9° 40′ and 10° 50′ N. Lat., and 76° 5′ and 76° 58′ E. Long. It is bounded on the north by British Malabar, on the east by British Malabar, Coimbatore and Travancore, on the south by Travancore and, on the west by British Malabar and the Arabian Sea. The area of the State is 1,361½ square miles. Population 8,12,025.

Physical feature.—The Cochin State is naturally divided into three well-defined parts or zones—the hills, the plains, and the seaboard. The hilly or eastern portion, which covers nearly half the extent of the State, is broken by long spurs, extensive ravines, forests and tangled jungles rising, terrace by terrace, to an elevation of 5,000 feet above the sea level. It is covered with magnificent forests of teak and other valuable trees, and exhibits everywhere a splendid luxuriance of foliage and flowers. Stretching westward, in gentler slopes and gradually widening valleys, but broken here and there by isolated low hills, the plains succeed forestclad uplands. Intersected by numerous rivers and streams, dotted everywhere with homes and farmsteads, and closely cultivated wherever possible, these plains stretch towards the backwaters, in a succession of gentle undulations. Between the backwaters and the sea is the long and narrow stretch of sandy seaboard, densely covered with luxuriant cocoanut, palms, and, in parts, where there are natural or artificial embankments, large quantities of rice are grown. It is low and generally swampy and, in several parts, liable to be flooded during the monsoon inundations.

Administration.—The State consists of the Taluks of Cochin-Kanayanur, Mukundapuram, Trichur, Talapilli, Chittur and the principality of Cranganore.

Ranges of Hills.—The chief ranges of hills are the Nelliampathies with Parambikulam and the Pothundi in the Chittur taluk, the Machad in the Talapilli taluk, the Paravattani in the Trichur taluk, the Palapilli, Kodasseri, and Adarapilli in the Mukundapuram taluk, and Malayattur in the Kanayanur taluk.

Rivers.—The chief rivers are the Alwaye or Periyar, the Chalakudi, the Kurumali, the Manali, the Ponneri, and the Anamalai. There is a picturesque waterfall, of nearly 150 feet at Adarapilli.

Backwaters.—One of the most striking physical features of the country is the continuous chain of lagoons or backwaters, running parallel to the sea, and receiving the drainage of the numerous streams descending from the Western Ghats. They are very irregular in form, with a breadth which ranges between four miles and a few dozen yards; branch out into a number of intricate and shallow channels, and contain several low alluvial islands. They communicate with the sea at three points—Cochin, Cranganur and Chetwai. Though these backwaters are shallow in most places, navigation is at all times possible for flat-bottomed passenger and cargo boats. In places where they are very deep, navigation during the monsoon season is often dangerous and tedious. There are also two extensive freshwater lakes, which are connected with each other, the Enammakal and the Manakudi. The other lakes are Cochin, Kaitbapuzha, and Chathanad, which are salt-water.

Islands.—The chief among the islands are Kumbalangi, Kumbalom, Vendurüthy, Bolghatty, Kudamakudi and Panambakad. At the southern extremity of Bolghatty is situated the British Residency, commanding a grand view on its three sides and overlooking the Cochin Harbour.

Soil and Climate.—The prevailing geological formation of the Eastern zone is gneiss, which decomposes into a soil, which, in combination with the climate, is eminently suited to promote a luxuriant forest growth. Proceeding westwards, the formation merges into a laterite underlain by gneiss, and becomes sandy on the seaboard. The climate, though damp and enervating, is not particularly unhealthy. It is most moist and enervating in the southern taluks, which are situated by the sea and the backwaters but less so in the northern taluks. Of all parts of the State, the Chittur Taluk, situated within the Palghat gap, has the driest and most bracing climate. The lower hills and parts of Chittur are feverish, especially during the dry months.

Flora and Fauna.—The forests abound in teak, rosewood, blackwood, ebony, white cedar, red cedar, Irul (X. dolabriformis), Aini (A. hirsutta), Vedaukoruna (B. xylocarpa), Venga (P. marsupium), Pongu (C. bracteatum), Veemba (X. clyclina), Venteak (L. lanceolata), Mailellu (V. altissima), Elavu (B. malabaricum) and other trees and plants of commercial and medicinal value. Coffee and cardamoms are grown on the Nelliampathies. The flora of the laterite plains consist of jack, mango, areca palms, banana, and various species of plantain. The cocoanut palm is the chief growth of the seaboard. The forests of Cochin contain all the larger animals of South India. Elephant and bison are common in the Parambikulam Range, and, to a smaller extent, in the Kodasseri Range. Ibex are seen occasionally in the higher ranges of the Nelliampathies. The tiger, bear, cheetah, leopard, hyæna and sámbhar, with many varieties of deer, are met with in all the forests. The true hunting leopard and wolf are said to be found in some of the jungles. Monkeys and birds are abundant, both in the hills and the plains, as also are snakes and other reptiles. Fish of various tribes and species abound in the rivers and backwaters.

Arts, Manufactures and Industries.—Cotton weaving is carried on to some extent in Chittur and Talapilli taluks. There, laced and unlaced cloths of fine texture are manufactured. Grass mats, of exquisite colouring and texture, are made in Vadakancherry. They are highly admired and are in great demand. Coir matting, ropes and rugs of good quality are made in Ernakulam and Mattancherry. The most important factory industry is the extraction of cocoanut oil by steam mills, all in the Cochin-Kanayanore taluk. There are half-a-dozen factories of tile and brick works (Mangalore pattern) in Trichur, Chittur and Mukundapuram taluks. There are also steam saw-mills and a hydraulic press. Agriculture is the chief occupation of the people.

Commerce.—The chief exports are cocoanut oil, coir yarn, rope fibre and matting, cocoanut, copra, oil cake, timber, coffee, lemon-grass oil, ginger, pepper, fish and prawns. The chief imports are rice and paddy, cotton piece-goods, raw cotton and twist yarn, metals, cutlery, hardware, sugar, kerosine oil and salt.

Tramway.—The approximate area of the Cochin forests is nearly six hundred square miles, about half of which are virgin forests, unworked for want of a suitable outlet. From the Parambikulam Range an outlet in the shape of a tramway and timber slide has been constructed by the Government, up to Chalakudy, a Station on the Shornanur-Cochin Railway, a distance of 47 miles, and it is now in working condition.

Railway.—A branch line of Railway (metre gauge) was opened in June, 1902, from Shoranur to Ernakulam, the capital of the State. The line, 64·8 miles, cost nearly 70 lakhs of Rupees, and is now worked by the South Indian Railway Company.

Roads and Communications.—There are in all 450 miles of metalled road maintained by the State, besides the unmetalled. The backwaters, also, afford easy communication with several parts of the State.

Cranganur.—Cranganur taluk is a separate principality, under a Chief, who pays a tribute of Rs. 6,857 to Cochin. It is financially autonomous, but is, in all other respects, treated as an integral part of the State.

Revenue.—The gross revenue of the State for the year (the official year 1082 M.E.) 1906-1907, including the principality of Cranganur, was 31 and odd lakhs of Rupees.

Languages.—Malayalam, the vernacular and the official language of the State, is spoken by the majority of the people, but Tamil, Telugu, Konkani (a dialect of Marathi), Canarese, and Tulu are also spoken.

Towns.—The principal towns in the State are Chittur, Thattamangalam, Ernakulam, Tripunithura, Mattancherri, Irinjalakada, Trichur, and Kunnankulam. Ernakulum is the capital of the State (population 21,991). The next town in importance is Trichur (population 15,585). Mattancherri is a commercial town (population 20,061). Tripunithura is the seat of His Highness the Raja and his family.

Ruler.—H. H. Sir Sri RAMA VARMA, G.C.S.I., F.M.U., etc., Rajah of Cochin (Kshatriya), born 27th December, 1852; ascended the Musnud, 23rd October, 1895.

Cousin, &c., of H. H. the Raja.—H. H. Rama Varma, Eliah Raja of Cochin.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE AND RESEARCH INSTITUTE, COIMBATORE.

This institution is the successor to the Agricultural College, at Saidapet. Its construction is due to the expansion of the Agricultural Departments in all the provinces of India consequent upon the grants made by the Government of India towards Agricultural Education and Research. The land upon which the late College at Saidapet stands is a poor sandy loan little fitted for experimental purposes and not typical of any large area of land in the Presidency. The farm also was not in the centre of important agricultural tract and had little influence upon the ryot population. The buildings, again, were only sufficient for the College purposes and laboratory accommodation was not available for the Research Chemist; the laboratory accommodation for the college itself was very indifferent and inconvenient. It was therefore decided to close the Saidapet College and Farm and to remove the whole institution to a more suitable site in an important agricultural tract and Coimbatore was finally selected.

The area of the estate is 450 acres, of which 45 acres are good single crop wet lands and of the remainder about 300 acres are available for cultivation and experimental purposes. These lands are of all classes from dry black cotton soil to red loamy garden lands.

The main buildings, of which the foundation stone was laid by His Excellency the Governor on September 24th, 1906, provides accommodation for three classes of 20 students each with the necessary well-equipped Laboratories as well as for the laboratories of the Agricultural Chemist and the Government Botanist together with their respective offices.

Quarters are provided for the officers and staff of Assistants and Clerks. Hostel accommodation is provided for sixty students, each six students having a separate kitchen and dining-room. The farm is also provided with a good range of cattle byres, buildings and offices.

The object of the Research Institute is investigation of chemical, biological, and practical problems dealing with Indian Agriculture and the improvement of the crops and practices, where possible, of the ryots. The College will give instruction both theoretical and practical in the sciences upon which agriculture is based and in the principles and practices of agriculture itself, and is intended to benefit all those who take a practical interest in agriculture either as landholders or actual cultivators.

HYDERABAD (DECCAN.)

H. H. THE NIZAM'S DOMINIONS.

The Dominions of His Highness the Nizam lie between 15° 10′ and 21° 40′ North latitude and between 74° 35′ and 81° 25′ East longitude.

They occupy a tract, 82,698 square miles in area, in the central portion of the table-land of the Dekhan, which, in the generally accepted sense of the term, refers to that portion of Southern India, which is bounded on the north and south by the Nerbudda and the Kistna, and laterally by the Eastern and Western Ghâts. The Dominions are bounded on the north by the District of Khandesh and the river Tapti, which separates them from the district of Burhanpur in the Bombay Presidency on the south by the rivers Tungabhadra and Kistna, forming the northern boundary of the districts of Bellary, Karnul and Guntur, and by the district of Kistna, all in the Madras Presidency; on the east by the Rivers, Wardha and Godavari, which flow along the western limits of the districts of Chanda and Sironcha, in the Central Provinces; and on the west by the districts of Dharwar, Kaladgi, Sholapur and Ahmednagar, all in the Bombay Presidency. A portion of the River Sina also forms the western boundary of the Nizam's Dominions, but the taluks of Jamker, Barsi and a part of Knigam, all in British territory, are to the east of that river. Similarly, a part of the River Godavari separates the Nizam's Dominions on the west from British territory; but a few of the Nizam's villages are beyond that river. The languages spoken in the Dominions are Hindustani, Telugu, Canarese and Mahrathi. Population (1901) 11,141,142.

Physical Features.—The Dominions are a vast plateau of an average elevation of 1,250 feet, though some summits reach 2,500 feet above sea-level. The country is geologically and ethnologically divided into two large and almost equal divisions. The Godavari and the Manjra rivers separate these. The first of these divisions consists of regions of trappean rocks to the north and west, and the other to the south-east is composed of granite and limestone. The former is inhabited by the Mahratta and Kanarese people, whose staple food is wheat and jawari; and the latter is peopled by the Telugus, who subsist chiefly on rice. In this granitic and calcareous region, hills rude of vegetation, brushwood of every description scattered in profusion, detached perpendicular rocks and collections or masses of boulders, which seem to be piled by giant hands, are not scarce. The soil where formed from the decomposition of these rocks, is generally sandy and hence generally sterile. The rivers in this region, too, flow only in the rainy season. The trappean region generally presents a pleasing aspect with its luxurious vegetation and its crags, cliffs and hills. The soil derived from the decomposition of this formation—the ordinary black cotton soil and regar—is productive, fertile and impervious. Thus, while the granitic region is suggestive of sterility, the trappean region is synonymous with fertility. Thick jungles and forests are met with, mostly in the valleys of rivers, especially those of the Wardha, the Godavari and the Kistna. There is carboniferous sandstone along the right bank of the Godavari.

Political divisions.—Land may be divided into distinct heads with regard to administration and collection of revenue:—

(1) Sarf-i-Khas lands, assigned to the Sovereign in lieu of cash payments from the public treasury comprising an area of 7,113 square miles, with a population of 700,000. They consist of an entire district surrounding Hyderabad City (Atraf-i-Balda), two taluks in Bidar, two in Aurangabad, one in Nander, four in Naldurg and a few scattered villages. The revenue from these exceeds 41 lakhs of rupees;

(2) Paigah lands, assigned by the Nizam Ali Khan Asaf Jah to Shamsul-Umra Amir-i-Kabir for the maintenance of a body of horse, called "His Highness' Household troops," comprising about 2,373 square miles, with a population of about 5½ lakhs;

(3) Khalsa lands, or Divani territory divided, for administrative purposes, into four Subas, or divisions, which are further sub-divided into districts.

Jagirs.—As far back as the time of Tamerlane, it had been the custom to bestow jagirs as royal presents upon those who had in any way distinguished themselves by their services to the State. The Jagirs were granted either free of rent, for perpetuity, for life or on condition of rendering military service when required, &c. The jagirdars do not pay any fixed annual tribute to the Government. But those who used to pay Chouth (or a fourth part of their revenue) to the late Mahratta Peshwas, continue to pay the amount to the Nizam's Government from the time they came under it. The jagirs extend over 11,000 square miles, and many jagir villages are scattered over the Government territory. The total population of the jagirs is about 3,100,000.

Tributary Chiefs.—The principal tributary chiefs are the Rajahs of Gudwal, Wanparti, Aunagundi, Gopalpet, Amarchinta, and Juvalgiri. They hold small tracts of country and pay tribute to the Nizam's Government, ranging from Rs. 25,000 to 1,50,000 per annum.

Commerce.—The principal imports are: sugar, salt, glass, Englishware, piece goods, spirits, hard ware and cutlery, coffee, tea, saltpetre, mercury, opium, camphor and musk. The exports are: carpets, muslins, coal, grain, oilseeds, cotton, honey, wax, coarse woollen cloth and timber.

Industries.—The bulk of the people are engaged in agriculture. The principal manufactures in the country are: steel, manufactured out of iron ores, and once used for making swords and spear heads, carpets and rugs made at Warangal; kinkhab, or gold and silver cloth, plain and embroidered muslins, brocades of coloured silk with gold and silver thread, Tassa silk, saltpetre, Persian paper and pottery, and bidriware, which is made of an alloy of copper, lead, and tin, or zinc, and inlaid with floral and other decoration in gold or silver.

The Cave Temples of Ellora.—These Cave temples are the largest and most varied of the rock temples in India, and contain some of the finest specimens of Buddhist, Brahmanic and Jaina temples. The village of Ellora is situated about 14 miles to the north-west of Aurangabad, and about 6 miles from Daulatabad, a station on the Nizam's Guaranteed Railway line. There is no bungalow at Ellora, but close by, at Roza, there is a luxuriously furnished Guest House, maintained by His Highness the Nizam's Government. The caves are excavated in the scarp of a large plateau and run nearly north and south for a mile and a quarter. At each end, the scarp throws out a horn to the west. The oldest caves, the Buddhistic, are situated at the south end, at the point where the scarp begins to turn to the west. At the other extremity and in the north horn are the Jaina-caves, while the Brahmanic group is between the two. Taking the Kailasa as the centre, 16 caves lie to the south of it, 14 of which are Buddhist—and nearly as many to the north of it are Brahmanic and Jaina. The Buddhist caves of Ellora are all of the Mahayana group, and range in time from 350 to 550 A.D.

Ajunta Caves.—The celebrated Buddhist caves at Ajunta in the Aurangabad district are situated in the Indyadri hills, 4 miles to the north-west of the village. The paintings in the caves comprise "scenes of every-day life, such as preparing food, carrying water, buying and selling provisions, hunting scenes, elephant fights, men and women engaged in singing, dancing, and playing on musical instruments most vigorously painted upon the walls. Some of the earlier paintings are probably as old as the second century of the Christian era, the majority belonging to the sixth and seventh centuries.

The hill fort of Golcondah was formerly the seat of Government, and in the fort as well as near it, are the far-famed tombs of Golcondah, a series of splendid masoleums built in oriental style over the departed Sovereigns and Princes of the Golcondah dynasty. The tombs are greatly admired for their extent and beauty.

Climate, &c.—The climate may be said to be good, for it is pleasant and agreeable during the greater part of the year, being between extreme heat and cold. As the country is usually hilly the hot winds are not felt so keenly as in places where there are great sandy arid plains. It is only the south-west monsoon which sets in, in June, and continues till October, that is of any importance whatever to the country, the average rainfall during this monsoon being 30 inches. The rainfall during the south-east monsoon is scanty, and of little benefit to the country, the average being from 4 to 8 inches. Westerly winds blow from June to September, when they change for an easterly direction from October to February, and during March, April and May the winds are north-westerly. The Western Ghats do, in a measure, interfere with the volume of rain that might otherwise fall, but immediately the rain passes the ghats, it increases again, though very gradually.

Hyderabad is the capital of the Nizam's territories and the seat of Government. It is situated within six miles from the Fort of Golcondah. Its distance from Calcutta is about 1,220 miles, from Madras 460, and from Bombay 470 miles. The population of the City is 297,801. The City is approached by numerous bridges, gates and posterns, it being surrounded by a stone wall, which is in a weak and ruined state. Great improvements have been effected by widening the streets in several parts, and many sanitary arrangements have been introduced.

The following are among numerous buildings at Hyderabad worthy of a visit.

His Highness' Palaces, namely:—Purani Haveli, Chow Mahalla; Baradari; Sirdar Villa at Malakpett and Faluknamah Castle. The Golconda Fort and Tombs; Char Minar; Mecca Musjid; Bashir Bagh; Asmangarah; Sururnagar; the Victoria Memorial Orphanage; Shapurwadi; and the Public gardens.

The British Residency, Chudderghat.

The building in which the British Resident resides is called by this name. It is an elegant edifice in spacious grounds, and is enclosed by a high wall with bastions at the entrance gates. It is situated just north of the City of Hyderabad, the River Musi running in the intervening space.

In the right and left of the building are handsome wings, each containing accommodation sufficient for a large number of guests. The building is handsomely furnished, and has been described as "Oriental only in its magnificence, but perfectly English in its comforts." Opposite the front of the building, which is the entrance for European visitors or noblemen of Hyderabad, is a fine flower garden choicely laid out. In the compound are good houses for the First and Second Assistant Residents, and Escort officer and office accommodation for the Administrative, Printing, Treasury, Judicial, and Persian Departments. At one end of the compound are barracks for the detachment of Cavalry, and Company of Native Infantry, which form the Resident's Escort, under the command of a European Commissioned Officer. There are an old, but disused, burial-ground, a Racquet Court and Croquet Ground within the Residency compound. The Hyderabad Telegraph Office is situated within the Residency walls and an Imperial Branch Post Office. The Branch of the Bank of Bengal is close by.

Surrounding the Residency are a number of populous Bazaars, embracing an area of about a square mile, over which the Resident exercises jurisdiction, both in Civil and Criminal matters, population 16,901.

Rules for entering the City of Hyderabad.

Officers and other Europeans belonging to the District are prohibited from visiting the City of Hyderabad, or the Fort or Tombs of Golconda, without permission from the Resident, to be obtained on application through Staff Officers of Brigades. As it is usual to send intimation of all such visits beforehand to H. H. the Nizam's Government and obtain its assent to them, each application should, as a rule, reach the First Assistant Resident four days before the proposed visit.

Secunderabad.

Secunderabad (named after the Nizam Sikandar Jah) is the largest Military Station in India and is situated 6 miles north-east of Hyderabad City. It is the Winter Head-quarters of the IXth Secunderabad Division of the Army.

The Military Force stationed here consists of one Regiment of European and of Native Cavalry, one Battery of Royal Horse Artillery, three Batteries of Royal Artillery (Field and Garrison), two Regiments of British and three of Native Infantry, with a Company of Sappers and Miners. An Ordnance Establishment has charge of the Arsenal, and there is also a large Supply and Transport Staff. Cantonment boundaries extend as far as Bolarum, covering a total area of 19 square miles, including many interspersed villages. New double storied barracks have been erected for the European soldiers, and the quarters for the Native troops, are also comfortably built. The country for many miles around undulates into hummocks with a few out-crops of underlying rock, crossed from east to west by green-stone dikes. Shady trees line the roads of the Cantonment, otherwise the face of the country is bare, with but little depth of soil in elevated parts. Cultivation is carried on in the dips and valleys, in several of which tanks have been constructed. Immediately to the south-west of the Cantonment is a large artificial reservoir or tank known as the Hussain Sagar, about 13 miles in circumference.

The Parade ground is of great extent, upon it a Force of seven or eight thousand troops can be manœuvred with ease. Close by is the Cemetery. A short distance from Secunderabad is the Cantonment of Trimulgherry, containing an entrenched camp. At Trimulgherry is the Military Prison, nicknamed "Windsor Castle." Adjoining Secunderabad Cantonment to the north is Bolarum Cantonment. Here are stationed a Regiment of Cavalry, and one of Infantry.

KADUR—(Mysore State).

A District, forming the South-Western portion of the Nagar Division, lying between 13° 12′ and 13° 58′ N. Lat., and between 75° 8′ and 76° 25′ E. Long. It is bounded on the West by the Western Ghats; on the North by Shimoga; on the East by Chitaldrug; and on the South by Hassan. Area, 2,294 square miles. Population, 362,752. Languages spoken:—Canarese and Hindustani.

The chief town of the District is Chikmagalur. The District contains the loftiest range on the Mysore table land, the Baba Buden Hills, a horse-shoe shaped chain, forming a ridge 6,000 feet above sea-level, and containing a large number of Coffee and other estates. The Kalhatti Peak, 6,155 feet high, has on its summit a bungalow, which is a favourite hot weather resort. Bison, elephant and other large game are found in these hills. Chikmagalur is 25 miles from the Kadur Station of the M. & S. M. Railway. The main street of the town is two miles long, and there are many Muhammadan traders. At certain seasons high east winds render the town very unhealthy, but a wide belt of trees has been planted to try and mitigate this evil.

KODAIKANAL (PULNEY HILLS), MADURA DISTRICT.

The Pulney Hills are situated in the Madura District of the Madras Presidency. They are about 5 miles long from East to West and 15 miles broad. Including Anjinad they cover 798 square miles. The plateau has an average elevation of about 7,000 feet. Like the Nilgiris and the Shevaroys, the Pulneys consist of a mass of the charnockite series, and the general scenery is characteristic of this class of rocks. The Pulneys are connected towards the north-west with the Anamalais and towards the south with the Travancore hills.

The European settlement, KODAIKANAL, which was a very small place twenty-five years ago, now contains over 100 European houses scattered over an area of about 4 square miles. There are native villages outside the drainage area of the Lake containing 354 huts with a population of about 1,900. The settlement was in 1899 made a Municipality to the great advantage of the station, as regards sanitation and roads. The Lake, which forms the centre of the original settlement, is formed by an artificial bund erected by the late Sir Vere Levinge and covers an area of 66 acres. Its height above sea-level is 6,872 feet. There is a flourishing Boat Club with a number of good boats. The lake is well-stocked with baril (Barilius gatensis) which take a fly readily. The Club, which is centrally situated, is an excellent one.

In former days considerable difficulty was experienced in getting supplies at Kodaikanal, but this is no longer the case. There are now shops which retail stores at moderate prices; beef and mutton butchers are numerous, and excellent vegetables can be obtained all through the season. Bread and milk of high quality are got at Tapp's Bakery and Dairy, which is also a resort for afternoon teas. Almost all the houses in the station can now be reached by driving roads, though some of them are naturally, rather steep. There are also driving roads to "Neutral Saddle," 7 miles away at the foot of Perumal (7,826 feet) where there are a few houses at an elevation of about 5,200 feet: to the "Pillar Rocks" one of the finest pieces of scenery in South India, and towards Pumbari, a hill village, 8 miles distant. Bridle paths permit of riding excursions in many other directions.

The climate of Kodaikanal is probably the best of any hill station in India. This at least was the opinion of the meteorological authorities when they fixed upon it as the site of the new solar Physics Observatory, which forms a conspicuous object on the top of Nadingipuram Hill. The only meteorological statistics available are those published in the Annual Reports of the Observatory for 1899-1900 and 1904-1905, and they are for a place nearly 800 feet above the Lake. The highest shade temperature recorded was 74° in March, the lowest 40°·4 in November. In low lying places, especially near the Lake, frost is not uncommon in the early mornings between November and February. The mean monthly temperatures varied only from 52°·4 in November to 59°·4 in May. One of the most striking features of the climate is the extreme dryness of the atmosphere during the early months of the year. Though the annual rainfall is about 60 inches, the subsoil is so porous that even during the monsoon, water never lies on the ground for any time, so muddy roads are practically unknown. During the south-west monsoon, winds are strong in exposed places, but the Lake basin is so well sheltered that this causes little inconvenience.

The usual way of coming to Kodaikanal is by rail to Kodai Kanal Road station, S. I. R., where there is a Refreshment Room and a good Travellers' bungalow. Thence by Moter Service, bullock transit or by jutka to the Tope bungalow at the foot of the ghaut (32 miles), where meals can be obtained if previous notice has been sent, thence to the top—a distance of 12 miles—the journey may be made on ponies or in chairs or doolies. There are some private boarding houses in the station, but as these are generally well filled during the season, no visitor should risk coming up without making arrangements beforehand. There are no Hotels. Stores and luggage may be sent from Kodai Kanal Road Station by common carts, always waiting, at reasonable rates, and are carried up the Hills at a charge of 8 annas for 50 lbs. The wage of each bearer carrying a chair or dhooly is 10 annas, and the hire for riding ponies is 8 annas to Vengaiparay, one rupee to the 6th mile stone, Re. 1-8 to Shembaganur, and two rupees to Kodaikanal, or Neutral Saddle, whether one or two ponies are supplied for the Journey.

KOLAR DISTRICT—Mysore State.

KOLAR.—A town and District Head-quarters in the Mysore State, not to be confounded with the Kolar Gold Fields (q. v.); it is 11 miles by good road from the Bowringpet junction of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.

The town is one of great antiquity; it contains a very old temple and other interesting remains. It was the burial place of Futtah Ali, Hyder Ali's father; and his Makbara, a fine old building, is still maintained by State endowment. Hyder Ali frequently visited Kolar as a pleasure resort. North-west of the town are the Kolar-Betta hills, the highest peak of which is over 4,000 ft. above sea-level; the sides of the hills are mostly bare and rocky, but the top is a fine plateau, with many villages and much cultivation. There are iron-works and a sugar factory at Chickballapur.

It forms the eastern portion of the Nundidroog Division, lying between 12° 6′ and 13° 36′ N. Lat.; and between 78° 5′ and 78° 35′ E. Long. It is bounded on the North and North-East by Bellary and Cuddapah; on the South-East and South by North Arcot and Salem; on the West by the Bangalore and Tumkur Districts. Area, 3,179 square miles. Population, 723,600. Languages spoken:—Telugu, Hindustani, Canarese and Tamil.

KOLAR GOLD FIELDS, THE.

These gold fields occupy a small tract of country about sixty miles from Bangalore, in the east of the Mysore State, and east of a low ridge of hills; they stretch north and south for about 10 miles, the width varying from 1½ to 4 miles. About 10 square miles are held by the several Companies. The Gold Fields Railway connects the field with the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway by the junction at Bowringpet. About 20,000 persons are now employed on the mines, many being covenanted European miners. The population has risen from 7,055 in 1891 to 37,664 in 1901, it is now probably over 45,000.

The gold bearing strata has a tendency to run towards the Dharwar Gold Fields, which are probably part of the same geological formation. Power for working the mines is derived from the Cauvery Electric Power Works at Sivasamudram, whence 4,000 H. P. of electrical energy is regularly received, and arrangements are now being made to increase this to 6,000 H. P., which will probably enable the mines to do without the steam power altogether. The field is almost destitute of vegetation, and the scenery is dotted and scarred over with piles of crushed and spent quartz and cyanide sand; in appearance it is a typical gold mining settlement.

The mining camps are in the Kolar District, the head-quarters of which is Champion Reef, 9 miles from Bowringpet.

The Mysore State officials at the fields are—C. Srikantesvara Aiyar, B.A., B.L. Dy. Commr., Champion Reef; P. F. Bowring, 1st Class Magte., Marikuppum; T. S. A. MYSORE DISTRICT-(MYSORE STATE).

A District in the South of the State in the Astagram Division, situated between 11° 6′ and 12° 45′ N. Lat. and 75° 56′ and 77° 24′ E. Long. It is bounded on the North by Hassan and Tumkur Districts; East by Bangalore District, and the Madras District of Coimbatore; South by the Nilgiri Hills and Malabar; and West by Coorg. Area, 4,128 square miles. Population 1,227,061. Languages:—Canarese, Hindustani, Tamil and Telugu.

Head-quarters.—MYSORE TOWN.

The Head-quarters of the State Departments are at Bangalore, Mysore, the titular Capital of the Native State of the same name, is situated on the north-western side of the Chamundi Hill, it is 85 miles by rail from Bangalore. The town has been much improved of late years, and the newer portion of it (called after the late Maharajah), Chamarajpoora, has more than doubled its area in the past few years.

The Public Offices are to the west of the town in the Gordon Park, near these are the Maharani's College, the Law Courts, The Maharajah's College and Roman Catholic Church. The fine Curzon Park was opened in 1902, just before the installation of the Maharajah, it is beautifully laid out with shady walks and nooks, parterres and fountains, it extends along the northern and western sides of the old Fort; in the centre of the Park is a fine statue of the late Maharajah. Within the Park enclosure are the Club, Town and Masonic Halls, Post and Telegraph offices, etc. There is a hotel, "the Gordon," and an Anglican Church, St. Bartholomew's. The fine new Palace of the Maharajah is within the Fort and well worthy of a visit, the building is Hindu in design, and, with the exception of some fine pictures, shews little of the influence of European art. The front contains a very fine Durbar Hall. The summer palace is East of the Fort, near by are the Maharajah's stables and a good Zoological Garden, in which is a well planned "maze". The Race Course, one of the best in Southern India, is near the foot of the hill, in its centre is the Polo ground. European residents mostly live to the East of the town. The old Government House is now a guest house for European visitors, near it is the house which was, for some years, occupied by the first Duke of Wellington, then Colonel Wellesley.

The city will shortly be lit with electricity from the falls of the Cauvery at Sivasamudram. The Population of the city is 68,150.

MYSORE STATE, THE

The capital of the Province, and the residence of H. H. the Maharajah is situated in 12° 18' N. lat., and 76° 42' E. long. at the North-western base of the Chamundi Hill. It includes three suburbs, and embraces an area of about 3 square miles. The town is built in a valley formed by two ridges running North and South. There is also a slight ascent on the northern side, so that the town is almost in a basin. The houses of the European residents are to the East of the Town. The front portion of the Residency was built by Colonel Wilks at the beginning of the present century, and is in the Doric Order of Architecture. The back was added a few years later by Sir John Malcolm, and contains one of the greatest halls in Southern India. A new suburb has sprung up to the West at the village of Kookerhulli. A grand new Palace and Durbar hall and new public offices and several houses have been recently built, road nicely laid out, and the whole place made bright and cheerful.

Fauna.—The wealth of the animal kingdom in the Mysore State can be most conveniently illustrated by naming the animals to be met with in each of the districts of the country. In the Bangalore District there are the tiger, deer, cheetah or panther, wild hog, porcupine, bear, jackal, buffalo and wild cat. The larger game is mostly confined to the Magadi, Kankanhalli and Closepet taluks. Bandicoots are very numerous. Among birds are the jungle fowl, pea-fowl and spur-fowl, the bustard, florican, partridge, quail, and rock-pigeon, snipe, teal and wild ducks. Several species of fresh-water fish are obtained in the larger tanks. In the Kolar District, the chief wild animals are a few bears, met with in the Miekalnaikanpalya and Budikoti jungles; cheetahs and wild boar in the Nundydroog, Madimadagu, Sannakal and Dokkal-konda hill ranges; hyænas, jackals, antelope, porcupines and hares in unfrequented parts; and the mongoose and smaller animals in the hedges around villages. The birds are similar to those of the Bangalore District. The town of Kolar and the villages adjacent to it are noted for turkeys, which are reared in large numbers for export to Bangalore, Bellary, and other places. In the Tumkur District the tiger, panther, bear and wild hog are to be met within the reserved forest tracts around Devarayandroog; while deer and cheetahs are sometimes to be seen in the jungly parts of the Sira taluk. Birds of prey are said to be numerous in this District. In the Chittaldroog District, the tiger, panther, bear, hyæna and wild hog infest most of the hilly and wild tracts; and deer are to be found chiefly in Hiriyur, Chittaldroog and Pavagada. All kinds of wild fowl are very numerous in the secluded tanks in the South; and pelicans may be seen about Mattod. Good herds of oxen and sheep are found grazing in the East, North and North-western parts of this District. The Mysore District lays claim to the possession of the chief elephant tracts, which are to be found in the jungles in the South, East and West; but their destruction is prohibited by the Government. This District is famous for its cattle, especially the breeds known as the Amrat Mahal, the Halikar and the Madesvara betta or Madhugiri, and good sheep can be obtained from the Nagamangala, Madur and Mandiya taluks. In the Hassan District, the forests of the Mulnad and the rocky hills, in the Hassan, Arkalgud and Harnhalli taluks give shelter to numerous wild beasts, among which tigers, cheetahs, bears, elk, spotted deer, jungle sheep and wild pigs are the most common; black cheetahs are occasionally shot in Manjarabad, and herds of elephants and bison visit the hilly tracts on the vergo of the Ghauts. In the Shimoga District, bison and elephants are common in the Sagar taluk, while tigers, panthers and bears are found principally in the West, and in Shikarpur. Wild boar abound in Chennagiri, Nyagar and other parts; sambar, chittul and jungle sheep are frequent in the wooded tracts. Wild geese, ducks and teal frequent the tanks in Chennagiri and Shimoga, while pea-fowl and jungle fowl are to be had in the woods.

The administrative capital of the State is BANGALORE (q. v.)

NELLORE.

Description.—A district on the Eastern or Coromandel Coast, lying between 30° 25′ and 15° 55′ N. lat., and between 79° 9′ and 80° 14′ E. long. On the east it is washed by the Bay of Bengal; its western boundary is formed by the Eastern Ghâts, which separate it from the districts of Kurnool and Cuddapah; north it is bordered by Guntur District; south by North Arcot and Chingleput. Estimated total area, 7,942 square miles; total population, according to the Census of 1901, 1,272,815 persons.

Physical Geography.—This District occupies a tract of low land stretching from the base of the Eastern Ghâts to the sea. Its general aspect is forbidding. The coast line is uniformly a fringe of blown sand, through which the waves occasionally break and spread a salt sterility over the fields. Farther inland, the country begins to rise. But the soil is not naturally fertile, nor are means of irrigation readily at hand except in Nellore taluk. Scarcely half of the total area is cultivated. The rest is either a rocky waste or covered with dense scrub jungle. The finest trees are to be found in the neighbourhood of the village sites. Along the western frontier rises a barren range of mountains, which throws out numerous spurs into the plain. A remarkable natural feature is the island of Sriharikota, a low ridge of sand which divides the Lake of Pulicat from the main sea. Inhabited chiefly by scattered families of the wild tribe of Yanadies, most of it has never been brought under cultivation; but Madras is supplied with fuel from this otherwise unprofitable waste. The chief rivers of Nellore are the Penner and the Swarnamukhi, which rise in the table-land above the Ghats, and flow east to the sea. The numerous minor streams are little more than mountain torrents. The Penner runs through the district for a total course of about 70 miles, passing by the town of Nellore. For nine months of the year its bed, which is rocky among the hills but sandy lower down, is almost dry, with deep pools here and there, in which fish collect. The season of flood (full or partial) lasts for about 60 days. When the stream is at its highest, the volume of water is 500 yards wide and 30 feet deep, filling the bed from bank to bank. The chief irrigation works on the Penner are the anicut at Nellore town, from which numerous channels are led off on the south bank, and an anicut made at Sangam, a place 18 miles west of Nellore, and which irrigates land north of the river. The floods of the Swarnamukhi also supply a series of irrigation channels. The bordering range of the Eastern Ghâts rises in its highest peak, Penchalakonda, to an elevation of about 3,600 feet above sea-level. Detached from this range is the isolated hill or droog of Udayagiri (3,079 feet), which was formerly an important rock fortress. Throughout the district generally, the underlying rocks belong to the metamorphic series, which occasionally crops up in the form of gneiss, schist, and quartz, and is intersected by veins of quartz and volcanic rocks. The Eastern Ghâts, on the other hand, are capped by a series of sedimentary formation, chiefly altered sandstone and slate, known as the "Cuddapah Group." Organic remains of fern-like plants have been found in several places. A band of laterite, varying greatly in width, extends almost continuously along the coast, and is largely quarried for building materials. Copper was discovered in the north-eastern corner of Udayagiri taluk in 1801. The ore was found on assay to yield a large percentage of metal, and European capital was attracted to the spot. But the enterprise has repeatedly proved unsuccessful, and no fresh attempt has been made since 1840. Saltpetre is made in a few villages, by refining down the nitrous earth to be found on the surface. Mica is worked in the south of the District. Wild animals are comparatively rare. Tigers are almost unknown, except when a stray one wanders across the mountains from Cuddapah. Leopards, bears, sambhar, deer, and occasionally bison, are still found among the western hills. Antelope, spotted deer, and wild hog are generally distributed, while the small game comprise snipe, duck, bustard and florican.

NILGIRIS (THE).

Geographical position.—The Nilgiri District,—as it existed prior to the annexation on the 31st March 1877, of the tracts known as the Nambalakód, Cheramkód and Munnanád Amshoms, before then part of the Wainád Taluk of Malabar,—lies between latitude 11° 8' and 11° 37' north, and longitude 76° 27' and 77° 4' east. Within these limits rise the Nilgiri Hills, a vast mountain block, comprising two more or less distinct hill ranges, usually known as the Nilgiris Proper and the Kúndas. Apart from the Kúnda and Nídumalé ranges, the surface of the Nilgiris is divided into an upper and lower plateau. The lower forming an irregular shelf, rests upon the north-eastern and southern slopes of the Doddabetta, or great central range, and its offshoots, including the north-east angle of the plateau, sometimes, though without sufficient reason, called the Kótagiri range. The higher plateau, known amongst the aborigines as the "Mél," or upland and comprises the tract lying between the western slopes of Doddabetta and the Nídumalé and Kúnda ranges. The average elevation of this higher plateau above the lower may be roughly stated at from 1,000 to 1,500 feet.

Waterfalls are numerous and picturesque, though not of great depth or volume. The highest is Kólakambé, north of the hill of that name, having an unbroken fall of about 400 feet. Second to this is St. Catherine's Fall (250 feet) in a stream south of Kótagiri. Then follows the lower Fall of Paikaré (200 feet) and after it the upper (180 feet). Of nearly the same height is the Kalhatti Fall (170 feet) on the Segúr Pass. The Kátéri Fall in the river of the same name, six miles from Ootacamund, is 160 feet in depth.

Lakes.—There are no natural lakes in the plateau, but art has attempted to supply in Ootacamund the defects of nature, for there are some artificial lakes or reservoirs, formed by banking up streams at narrow parts of the vallies. The most important is the Ootacamund lake, a marked feature in the station, and one which adds greatly to its beauty. Its form is serpentine the bends being caused by the projecting spurs of the hills on either side. Its length is about two miles and a half, breadth from three to four hundred yards. A road follows the windings of its banks throughout and forms the principal drive of the station, being nearly five miles long.

Scenery.—The interior of the plateau consists chiefly of grassy undulating hills divided by narrow valleys, which invariably contain a stream or a swamp. In the hollows of the hill-sides nestle small beautiful woods, locally known as shólas. It is seldom that so much variety of beauty is found in so small a compass. Let a visitor take a short ride in almost any direction from almost any part of the plateau, and passing along shady English looking lanes, sheltered by thickets of blackberry and wild rose; across bare breezy downs, sometimes dotted with twisted crimson flowering rhododendron and intersected by swampy valleys, where buffaloes wade and wallow, through dense woods carpeted with rare ferns and gorgeous in spring-tints, beside which the colouring of an English autumn is faint and dull, by native villages, with their patches of cultivation and their magnificent single trees, he will find himself on some ridge or promontory, looking straight down from 4,000 to 6,000 feet, on to a scene that changes like the figures in a kaleidoscope. In the morning a sea of clouds lies at his feet, and gradually rises round him. In the afternoon this has cleared away, and reveals perhaps a vast crimson plain, veined by dark lines of wood, dotted with isolated hummocks like giant ant-hills, and terminating in faint blue lines of mountains, the furthest of which seems to hang half-way up the sky; perhaps on a tumbled mass of hills and valleys, a perfect dissolving view, for the eye has hardly traced the outline of some rocky ridge, glowing red in the sun-light, before a blue-cloud shadow blots it out, and a fresh series of crests and ravines start into sight beyond. Broken peaks, hung with wood frame the picture, and on all sides lies tropical sunlight, intensified by the keen thin mountain air.

The climate, or rather climates, of the Nilgiri Hills—for that of each hill and valley seems to vary according to its exposure to the monsoons, its elevation, or other local causes—may be generally described as for the greater part of the year dry, bracing and exhilarating, and more equable than those of Europe; the maximum range of the thermometer being only from 8 to 9 degrees at Ootacamund, and from 12 to 15 degrees at Wellington throughout the year, in the middle of the day, as against 28 degrees in London. December and January are frosty months, the wind is keen and the sky beautifully blue. This is the unhealthy season. Water cakes into thin layer ice in the winter. South-west monsoon.—During the south-west monsoon, which usually prevails until the early part of October, much rain falls, and the air is generally saturated with moisture. The hills are quickly covered with luxuriant grasses and the forest trees put forth their fresh leaves. During August and September breaks, as they are called, occur. The mists clear off, and the sun shines forth for several days successively. The scenery, usually beautiful, is now surpassingly so, the undulating ground of the whole plateau being clothed with verdure of peculiar richness. This is usually considered to be the healthiest time of the year, and Europeans who have resided for any length of time upon the Hills, and judge the climate by experience, invariably prefer the rainy season to any other. North-east monsoon.—This begins about the middle of October and generally opens with vivid flashes of lightning and rattling peals of thunder, accompanied with heavy rain. There are breaks now and again, but rain is heavy. The wind occasionally becomes frosty and heavy fogs occur, especially in November.

Cases of illness which derive most benefit from a change to the Hill climate.—On the Nilgiri tableland we have a climate essentially temperate, and one which experience tells us is capable of conferring the greatest benefit in suitable cases. The cool refreshing breezes, together with the lovely mountain scenery, and relaxation from work, combine to effect an improvement in the health of those who have been exposed for any length of time to the enervating influences of the plains. For the following classes the climate will be found unquestionably most suitable and invigorating. Young people of weakly constitution, who have broken down through overwork in a tropical climate, or who from having come out to India before their constitution may be said to have been properly formed, and in consequence have been reduced to a state of general debility after their arrival in the country. Older persons who, by reason of a prolonged residence on the plains without change, or who, after suffering from some slight illness, have been troubled with dyspepsia, nervous debility, mental depression, or loss of appetite, and who in consequence feel an inability to perform their accustomed duties. These are the cases which derive the most permanent benefit from a residence on the Hills. It is presumed that in the above cases there is a freedom from all structural disease. Convalescence from many of the more trivial diseases to which Europeans are subject on the plains is generally hastened by a residence on these Hills, attention being paid to the selection of a station for such cases in due accordance with the age and state of the patient and the season of the year. The Hills are no place for consumptives, or those suffering from asthma, fevers, chronic diarrhœa, dysentery and liver

The boundaries of the District are, North, Mysore; South, Malabar and Coimbatore; East, Coimbatore; West, Malabar. Area, 957 square miles. Population, 91,034. Languages are Toda and Badaga spoken by the indigenous tribes, and Canarese, Tamil and Malayalam are in common use.

1. Government Botanical Gardens.....Ootacamund.
2. Government Parks..... „
3. St. Thomas' Cemetery..... „
4. Government House Garden..... „
5. Sim's Park.....Coonoor.

(1) The Ootacamund Botanical Garden was opened during the Governorship of the Marquis of Tweeddale in 1847, and covers an area of about 51 acres. The grounds are beautifully laid out and planted with a great variety of exotic timber and ornamental trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants. There is a fine terrace laid out with flower beds in the Italian fashion, a conservatory which is open to the public, and a range of propagating houses.

The objects of this and the branch gardens are as follow:—

1. To improve horticulture in this Presidency.
2. To introduce, to propagate and to distribute vegetable productions not indigenous to India.
3. To further the distribution of seeds and plants.
4. To conduct experiments in the cultivation of indigenous and exotic economic plants, and in the preparation of commercial samples of their various raw products, with a view to making better known the value, and furthering and extending the cultivation of such plants for the sake of their commercial products in this Presidency.

Residents in Southern India are indebted to these gardens for the introduction and distribution of many varieties of English and foreign fruits, vegetables, fodder plants, useful timber trees and also various medicinal plants. In 1861 the valuable quinine-yielding Cinchonas, that now cover many thousand acres in India and Ceylon, were introduced.

(2) The Government Parks comprise:—

(a) Stonehouse Park,
(b) Crewe and Ottley Hall lands;
(c) Bombay Hill;
(d) Post Office Hill;
(e) Church Hill;
(f) Jail Hill.

Government have placed these different lands in charge of the Curator, from the 1st September 1905, for conservation.

(3) St. Thomas' Cemetery is under the Superintendence of the Curator.

(4) Government House Gardens, Ootacamund.—These gardens and grounds belong to the hill residence of His Excellency the Governor of Madras, and are consequently private. They are purely ornamental in character, and are not open to the public.

(5) Sim's Park, Coonoor, was opened in 1874, as a pleasure ground for the inhabitants of, and visitors to, Coonoor and Wellington. It is prettily situated in a valley on the north side of Coonoor at an elevation of 5,800—5,900 feet, and is about 30 acres in extent.

(6) Benhope.—A small Nursery which is looked after on behalf of the Forest Department since 1902, at 2,800 feet elevation also on the old Ghât road.

(7) The Burliar Experimental Garden, 7¼ miles below Coonoor, on the Coonoor Ghât, is at an elevation of 2,300 to 2,500 feet, and was purchased in 1871 for Rs. 2,000. Experience has proved that the site, which commands a plentiful supply of water all the year round for irrigation purposes, is well adapted for the growth of trees and plants peculiar to tropical America, the West Indies, tropical Africa, the Straits, and the Eastern Archipelago. The Para, Central American, Ceara, and Funtumia rubber trees, the Mangosteen, Nutmeg, Cinnamon, Clove, Allspice, Cocoa, Coca, Mahogany, Camphor, Coffee trees of different species, Oranges, Breadfruit, Cocoanut, Custard Apple, Litchi, Langsat, Paraguay Tea, Avocado Pear, Durian and Plantains—including the Manilla Hemp plant—are all represented and thriving well in the Garden, which covers about 8 acres.

(8) Kullar, a block of about 10 acres of land at 1,300 to 1,400 feet elevation, handed over by the Forest Department in 1900, lies on the old Ghât road about a mile from Kullar Railway Station. Rubber, fibre producing plants, Teak and Mahogany trees are being experimented with there.

OOTACAMUND.

Ootacamund, the chief town of the Nilgiri district, the principal sanitarium of India, the summer head-quarters of the Madras Government, and till recently the Divisional Headquarters of the 9th (Secunderabad) Division, occupies the western slope of the Dodabetta mountain range. The town proper lies within the basin formed by two spurs of the Dodabetta mountain, the highest point of the southern being Elk Hill, and that of the northern the Club Hill. Owing to its peculiar features, Ootacamund is much exposed to the westerly winds, but is well protected upon the north and east. The bottom of the Ootacamund basin has been converted into an artificial lake some two miles in length and one-third of a mile in width, by throwing a dam across the main stream at a narrow pass where it issues from the central valley. This lake is divided into two by means of a causeway and bridge known as the "Willow Bund," from the Indian willows which line its banks. The bund is the means of communication between the north-west and south-west portions of the town. The western lake is sinuous in form. Upon the hills which surround it, more or less concealed by woods of eucalyptus, acacia, cypress and pine, stand some of the best private residences in the town. On a foreland of its southern bank stands the Church of St. Thomas, a Gothic building; and opposite to this on the north bank, though at a greater distance from the lake, the Roman Catholic Church dedicated to the Blessed Virgin. The upper lake, an oval piece of water, much contaminated by the drainage of the native town or bazaar which lies on its northern bank, has been reclaimed lately and is now utilized as a Gymkhana ground and Race Course. Round the margin of the whole lake runs a wide carriage-drive. The marsh at the head, or eastern extremity of the lake has been reclaimed, levelled, and forms a park, known as the Hobart Park, still used for purposes of public recreation. The area, including the lands lying on the northern and southern margins of the lake as far as the Willow Bund, is about thirty acres. Opposite to this, at the eastern extremity of the native bazaar, stands the Hobart School for native girls. To the east is the public market. On the slope of the hill behind the market are the Police lines and station; and above these ranges of buildings St. Bartholomew's Hospital, behind which, on the top of the ridge, are the jail buildings now used by the Inspector-General of Jails as his office and by the Nilgiri Volunteer Rifles for their Armoury and Recreation room. At a short distance to the east, on the same spur, is the Public Library, and opposite to it the Post Office; a little further on are the public offices of the district and lower down the Brecks' Memorial School. Nearer to the hill stands the Church of St. Stephen, the old station church; and opposite its gates the church and school of the Church of England Native Christians. The sides of the hill to the east and west of St. Stephen's are thickly studded with houses and cottages, including westward the Club House and the principal hotels, and eastward the Assembly Rooms. Looking to the east from St. Stephen's, but at a much lower elevation, on the western extremity of a minor spur of Dodabetta, stands "Stonehouse," which contains the Council Chamber and the offices of the Madras Secretariat. In the hollows and on the spurs of Dodabetta to the north and south of "Stonehouse" are many residences. The lands on these slopes are generally very fertile and well watered, and for this reason a considerable and yearly extending area is cultivated as garden land. In a steep ravine, about half a mile to the north of "Stonehouse," are the Public Gardens and the Todah "mund," from which Ootacamund takes its name. Above the Public Gardens, stretching across the Dodabetta saddle, is the Government Cinchona plantation. On the northern shoulder of the ravine, adjoining the Public Gardens, lies the hill residence of the Governor, backed by a fine wood of eucalyptus on the side of the Snowdon mountain. From the foot of "Stonehouse" towards the south runs the highway to Coonoor, disappearing in the deep cutting which separates Elk Hill from the Dodabetta range. This is a simple description of the main valley, but the limits of the station lie far beyond it and include two other important valleys; to the south and parallel with it, Lovedale, with its picturesque lake, above which stand the extensive storied buildings of the Lawrence Asylums (founded 1858); to the north the valley of Marlamund, which opens out towards the head of the Seegoor Pass. Between the Ootacamund and the Marlamund valleys is a hollow, across the outlet of which a dam has been thrown, forming the Marlamund reservoir from which, through a channel nearly three miles in length, the northern portion of Ootacamund is supplied with water. The houses occupied by Europeans in the station have often five or six acres of land attached and many have from twenty to seventy acres. In the chief native bazaar on the border of the lake, some two or three thousand persons are congregated; and perhaps half of this number again in Kandal, a bazaar in a small valley to the west of the station. But a large number of natives have their homes in scattered hamlets, chiefly in the eastern portions of the station. The inhabitants of these hamlets are chiefly Canarese, with a sprinkling of Tamils. There is no Badaga village within municipal limits, and only three or four Toda munds or Villages.

LOVEDALE.

LOVEDALE is three miles from Ootacamund on the summit and centre of the Nilgiri Hills. It lies between the 11th and 12th degrees of North Latitude and the 76th and 77th degrees of East Longitude, on the confines of Coimbatore and Malabar, at an elevation of 7,330 feet above the mean level of the sea, being 1,312 feet below Dodabetta and 103 feet above the Lake at Ootacamund, and 1,470 feet above the Barracks at Wellington. The mean annual temperature at Lovedale is 58°; the mean maximum is 68°, the mean minimum is 48°; the mean annual range 16°. On or near the ground, however, water often freezes during the winter months. Chinna-Dodabetta is on Lovedale and at its foot there is the Asylum Reservoir. The Lawrence Asylum buildings and ground cover an area of 730·76 acres. Close by eastwards, is Katir Valley occupied by Badagas. The Basel German Mission do good work among this class.

The amalgamation of the Madras Military Male Orphan Asylum with the Ootacamund Lawrence Asylum was effected in September 1903, on the completion of the new buildings at Lovedale. The amalgamation of the Military Female Orphan Asylum, Madras, with the Girls' Branch of the Ootacamund Lawrence Asylum took place in October 1904, special buildings having been erected for the purpose.

The salubrity of the situation (which surpasses that of some of the healthiest public schools in England) is shown by the diminished percentage of sick in Hospital, and the robust appearance and healthy appetite of the children.

Although the Institution may be said to have been adopted by the State, it is not perhaps so generally known that Government has never contemplated doing more than furnishing it with a liberal Grant-in-Aid.

The boys receive such a training as will fit them for usefulness hereafter in various lines of life whilst the girls are employed in such occupations as will tend to qualify them to become useful wives and mothers.

AMENDED RULES.—22nd December 1900, No. 4.

1. The following code of rules relating to the constitution and working of the Lawrence Asylum, Ootacamund, has been sanctioned by Government, and shall have effect from 1st January 1901.

In these rules the term "Eurasian" shall be restricted to the children of European fathers by Eurasian or native mothers, and of Eurasian fathers and mothers of whom both are the children of Europeans.

OBJECT.

2. The object of the institution, which shall consist of a Male and a Female branch, is to secure for European and Eurasian children of the classes specified in rule 39 a healthy and invigorating climate, to remove them from objectionable surroundings, to afford them secular and religious education, and to train them to earn a livelihood.

CONTROL.

3. The management of the Asylum shall be vested in a Committee, consisting of the Colonel on the Staff Commanding the Southern Brigade as ex-officio chairman, the Collector of the Nilgiris as ex-officio vice-chairman, the two Assistant Adjutants-General 9th (Secunderabad) Division, the Commandant of the Depôt at Wellington, the Civil Surgeon, Ootacamund, and two others to be appointed by Government, either by Office, or by name, as official members, and three non-official members resident at Ootacamund, and elected by the Committee. The Committee shall be directly responsible to Government for the administration of the Asylum, and shall carry out all the orders of Government relating thereto. The Principal shall ordinarily be the Secretary to the Committee; but if the Principal be not a clergyman of the Church of England, a clergyman of that Church shall be appointed as Chaplain, and the Committee may empower the latter to perform the duties of Secretary, and, with the sanction of Government, fix his remuneration as Chaplain and Secretary and define his duties in relation to those of the Principal.

He shall also be held to have vacated his appointment if he ceases for a period of three consecutive months to reside at Ootacamund, or if he fails to attend three consecutive meetings of the Committee. The Committee shall supply any vacancy which occurs and report the appointment to Government.

7. The Chairman, or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairmen, shall have power to defer declaring a resolution to have been carried, until he shall have obtained in writing the opinion, on the point at issue, of members who may have been absent from the meeting.

8. All letters to Government shall be passed by the Committee and shall be signed by the Chairman or the Vice-Chairmen; or, during the absence of the three from head-quarters, by the Secretary for the Chairman, and shall be submitted through the Director of Public Instruction.

9. The Committee shall, at each monthly meeting, appoint two of their members to visit the Institution during the ensuing month. These shall record any remarks they may have to make in a book provided for that purpose. This book shall be laid on the table at each monthly meeting.

10. The Committee shall elect six ladies resident in Ootacamund as Visitors, two of whom shall be appointed at each monthly meeting to visit the Female Branch during the ensuing month. These shall record any remarks they may have to make in a book provided for that purpose. This book shall be laid on the table at each monthly meeting.

14. The Principal shall perform such duties as may be enjoined on him by the Committee. He shall be responsible for the moral and intellectual training of the pupils. If a clergyman, he shall have pastoral charge of the institution. He shall be the executive officer of the Committee and shall be held responsible for the accounts; and he shall make all necessary disbursements, subject to the provisions of Rule 62. He shall communicate with the Chairman, or, in his absence, with the Vice-Chairmen, either directly or through the Secretary, if there be a separate Secretary, on all important matters which cannot be conveniently postponed to the next meeting of the Committee and shall generally be immediately subordinate to the Chairman or Vice-Chairmen as representing the Committee.

15. Other boys, after passing the Lower Secondary examination, will be taught telegraphy or music, or be prepared for the Civil and Military Medical Entrance examinations or for the examination of Inspectors' Assistants for the Madras and other Railways.

24. Instruction in religion.—The work of the day shall commence with religious teaching. The authorized version of the Bible shall be used, and the main truths of Christianity shall be taught without allusion to controverted points of faith and practice. The children of the Roman Catholic faith shall not be compelled to receive religious instruction from other than a clergyman or layman of their own faith. At the time when religious instruction is given in school, clergymen of the Church of Rome, or ministers of the Church of Scotland or other Presbyterian church or of a Nonconformist body, may, on giving previous notice to the Principal, attend and give instruction to the children of their respective communions in a place set apart for that purpose.

25. Divine service, in accordance with the rites of the Church of England, shall be performed twice on each Sunday.

26. The children of the Roman Catholic faith shall not be compelled to attend divine service conducted otherwise than in accordance with the rites of the Church of Rome.

27. The pupils shall be assembled daily, morning and evening, when the sanctioned form of prayer shall be read by the Principal or by such officer as he may appoint, subject to the condition in the preceding rule.

Admissions and Withdrawals.

33. Applications for admission shall be made through Officers Commanding Regiments, or the Head of the Departments to which the parents or guardians belong; and, in the case of pensioners, through their Paymasters or employers. In other cases, applications shall be made through any person of known respectability. All applications shall be addressed to the Secretary, who shall furnish printed forms of application and descriptive rolls to be filled up. The baptismal certificate of the candidate shall also be required, with the last-pay certificate, if he is in receipt of a Government allowance; also a leaving certificate if the candidate had attended a recognized school. Application forms shall contain a provision to the effect that, on withdrawing a pupil, the parent or guardian shall state his reason for doing so.

34. No candidate shall be admitted under five, nor above twelve years of age, except in special cases to be decided by the Committee.

35. The Secretary, in announcing to the parent or guardian the election of a candidate, shall fix a reasonable time for the candidate to join. If the candidate does not join within the period fixed, the fact shall be reported to the Committee.

36. On any boy attaining the age of sixteen (or eighteen in the case of boys allowed to enter on their Upper Secondary course) or any girl that of eighteen, the Principal shall report the circumstances to the Committee, and the Committee shall call upon the parent or guardian to remove the pupil. In the event of such pupil having neither parent nor guardian, the Committee shall take such measures as may seem best for the pupil's settlement in life. This rule, however, shall not prevent the Committee from accepting any suitable situation for a girl who shall have attained the age of sixteen years.

Qualifications for Admission.

37. The legitimate children of Europeans and Eurasians being officers or soldiers of His Majesty's British and Indian Military and Marine services, or persons employed in the Military and Civil Medical services, or effective Volunteers, of Civilians, whether connected with the public service or not, shall be eligible for admission. The cases of illegitimate orphan children shall be dealt with specially by the Committee.

38. LAWRENCE ASYLUM PRESS.

166, Mount Road, Madras.

ESTABLISHED 1790.

In September, 1789, the Rev. Dr Kerr, the then Superintendent of the Lawrence Asylum, proposed the establishment of a Printing Press, for the double purpose of replenishing the funds of the Asylum and furnishing occupation for the pupils. The Press was established first in the basement of the Principal's house, now occupied by the girls of the Civil Orphan Asylum, next in what is now the Chapel, afterwards in John Pereira's, and, lastly, where it now stands on the Mount Road, and commenced operations in 1790. At first its proceedings were limited, till Lord Clive, in 1800, gave it the Government printing, under certain conditions equally favorable to both parties. Later on, it published an official Gazette or Government Gazette, as it was called, the origin of the present Fort St. George Gazette, although it also was the best ordinary newspaper. In 1832 Government withdrew many of the privileges it had accorded to the Press, establishing the present Fort St. George Gazette, compelling the Asylum Gazette, or Male Asylum Herald, to pay postage, and diverting its printing to other presses.

The Ooty Branch Press was established in 1834, chiefly for the purpose of printing the Orders of the Army Head-Quarters; it also undertakes general work.

Almost the whole of the profits of both presses is given to the Lawrence Asylum; in 1907 and 1908, Rs. 80,000 were transferred each year to the Asylum. The Press is conducted strictly on commercial principles, its earnings being derived from work done for the public.

KOTAGIRI—Nilgiri District.

KOTAGIRI, or Kotergherry as it was formerly called, is 18 miles from the foot of the Nilgiris and 6,500 feet above the level of the sea. It is situated in North latitude 11° 19'. The first English settlers went to Kotagiri, which is still considered as possessing a better climate for invalids than Ootacamund or Coonoor. It is chiefly occupied by planters, and is so called from the Kotars who have a village in it. The Kotahs are a dirty lot. They live on carrion and their persons and huts are squalid and filthy. They are mostly blacksmiths by profession. Kotagiri produces tea, coffee, and oranges of superior kind in abundance. Potatoes and pears form no inconsiderable supply during July August and September. The Basel German Mission and the Roman Catholic Mission have established churches and schools here and are doing quiet but useful work.

COONOOR.

Coonoor is the alternative sanitarium with Ootacamund on the Nilgiris, and being in a more sheltered position is sometimes preferred. Its position is lat. 11° 20′ N., and long. 76° 50′ E., and it is distant 363 miles from Madras, 12 from Ootacamund. The scenery of Coonoor differs very greatly from that of Ootacamund; its vegetation is semi-tropical, the contour of the hills is bold, and the colouring of the scenery bright and warm. On the other hand, the vegetation of Ootacamund is rather that of the Temperate Zones; its hill lines are unbroken and undulating, and the colouring of the landscape cold and grey. The climate of Coonoor also differs as widely as its scenery, being warm, moist and relaxing, whilst that of Ootacamund is cool, dry and invigorating. Each supplies a need. The mean annual temperature in the shade at Coonoor is 62° F. In the warmer months the thermometer fluctuates between 55° and 75° F.; in the colder months 38° and 68° F. The average annual rainfall is 76 inches. The rate of mortality is remarkably low. The height of All Saints' Church above the sea-level is 5,954 feet, that of the Coonoor bridge about 5,500 feet. Most of the houses occupied by Europeans are between 5,700 and 6,000 feet above sea-level. Coonoor peak, however, is 6,893 feet above sea-level, or only 309 feet below the level of the Ootacamund lake. Coonoor lies at the head of the ravine and pass which bears its name.

The native town spreads over the lower slopes of the spurs of two hills, which terminate in a wedge-like promontory where the united waters of three streams break over the edge of the ghaut and are precipitated down the gorge under the name of the Coonoor river, finally joining the Kartairy river. The three streams are crossed by three bridges. On an eminence on the western spur stands the Protestant Mission Chapel, and on the eastern the Roman Catholic Church; below the latter is the market. The road to Upper Coonoor passes up the ridge and thence round the head of the valley, and along the wooded ridge which encloses it on the east and south. On this ridge stands the Coonoor Church, dedicated to All Saints, with a lofty square tower. The Church is surrounded by a grave-yard planted with exotic trees and flowers. To the east of this ridge is a ravine separating it from Tiger Hill, round which winds Lord Hobart's road, passing into the road to Lamb's Rock, Lady Canning's Seat, and the Dolphin's Nose, some five miles eastward of Coonoor above the Kotagherry gorge. Below this road, stretching away to the east as far as the eye can see, are the Coimbatore and Salem plains: the ancient Conga country; northwards the Biligherryrungam hills and the ranges which mark the line of the Balaghat country; whilst south and westwards is the Coonoor pass, walled in on the south by the "Hooliculldroog," which is backed by the Lambton's Peak range south of the Bhawany river and by the distant Anamullay mountains.

Behind the hill on which the Church stands is another valley, one of the finest on the western side of the Coonoor peak, along which runs the road to Kotagherry. This valley has been formed into a garden named Sim's Park, after Mr. J. D. Sim, a late Member of the Madras Council. It is an offshoot of the deep ravine which divides Coonoor from Wellington, and the upper portion of which has been converted into a race-course, unrivalled by any in India for the picturesqueness and beauty of its position. The drainage of this valley forms the middle stream of Coonoor, which meets the other streams at the old Coonoor bridge. This bridge is the central point of the Coonoor road system. Here the old and new ghat roads meet, and from it, along the right bank of the western stream as far as the Wellington bazaar, runs the main road to Ootacamund. Above this road to the left is the Tahsildar's Office, Sub-Magistrate's Court, the Police Station and Police lines. The old court buildings have recently been dismantled and rebuilt on a more extensive plan, and a few private residences; and below it the Railway Station. The Nilgiri Railway was opened in 1899 from Mettupalaiyam to Coonoor, the line being on the rack-rail system from the foot of the hills. This railway has been purchased by Government, and it is contemplated to work the whole line from Mettupalaiyam to Ootacamund by electric power, generated by the Coonoor and Kartairy streams, the power station to be situated near the present Runnymede station. This scheme also embraces electric lighting for Coonoor, Wellington, and Ootacamund. A continuation of the line from Coonoor to Ootacamund has recently been completed. A piped water supply scheme for the town of Coonoor was completed in April 1905. A Pasteur Institute for the Madras Presidency has been built in Coonoor, near Sim's Park. Three miles up the old Cotacamund road is situated the Government Cordite Factory worked by electric power obtained from the Kartairy Falls.

WELLINGTON (SEE NILGIRIS).

The station of Wellington, which is the Convalescent Depôt for the British troops in the Madras Presidency, is in the Peranganâd Division of the Nilgiri District, and lies in latitude 11° 5' north and longitude 77° 5' east, with an area of 446 acres, or nearly two square miles, and a native population of 1,597. It is 6,100 feet above the level of the sea, situated on a spur running to the south-east from the Dodabetta or middle range of mountains, is well sheltered, only partially exposed to the monsoons, and well adapted from situation for a sanitarium. It is bounded on the north by the Dodabetta mountain, which is 8,760 feet above sea-level, and is sheltered by it partially from the south-west monsoon; on the south by Coonoor, two miles distant, from which it is separated by a deep ravine; on the east by Ketigiri, 13 miles distant; and on the west by a spur of the Doddabetta range stretching towards Kâteri.

Climate and its influence on health.—The climate at Wellington, although only 11 degrees from the equator, is most salubrious, temperate, and invigorating. The thermometer seldom rises in the shade above 75 degrees, and the days throughout the cold months are clear and bracing. The mornings are always refreshing, and, if the character and time of the setting in of the south-west monsoon is regular, the months of the middle part of the year are pleasant and healthy.

The soil in and about Wellington is of a rich red ferruginous clay or maral, resting on a granitic base with sienite in many places, and here and there felspar, mica, and veins of quartz. Flint and amethyst appear to be embedded in the granite, sienite or gneiss, in the form of crystallized silica.

The road up the ghât runs from east to west. On the first portion of the ascent the bamboo, cocoanut and nut grow in abundance, sheltering the road. On going higher, one observes the indigenous forest trees, among which are conspicuous the teak, of an inferior quality, the blackwood, which is useful for furniture, and takes a handsome polish, the oil, wild jack and vengay. Vengay is a superior timber considered by some equal to teak, and from it the bridges throughout the ghât are made. Lastly, the red and white cedars, the woods of which are suitable for building or making furniture. These trees are conspicuous for their great girth. About two-thirds up the ghât it is a pleasing relief to meet a resting-place, known as the 'Half-way House,' midway between Coonoor and Mettupalaiyam, or 5 miles from the former station. Here coffee is provided for troops coming up. It is well shaded, and a perennial spring of clear water flows close by. The ascent from Mettupalaiyam to Coonoor is about 4,500 feet. Midway between Ootacamund and Coonoor, i.e., at the 7th mile stone, Aruvenkad, stands the Cordite Factory.

PONDICHERRY—Mádras Presidency.

A City, Seaport, and Capital of the French Settlements in India, on the Coromandel Coast, within the South Arcot District, lying in Lat. 11° 5′ 57″; Long. 79° 52′ 53″. Population 156,094. Languages spoken.—French and Tamil.

Pondicherry, the Capital of the French Settlements in India, and the seat of Government was purchased by the French from the Vijayanagar Raja in 1672; it is situated on a flat sandy coast south-east of a long flat hill. The settlement forms part of the delta [conamoogam] of the Penniar, and a great portion of its surface is alluvial. Many artesian wells have been sunk, and excellent drinking water is obtainable. The hills known as the Montagnes Rouges form a natural girdle to the country about Pondicherry. The coast board of the settlement is about five miles, and its breadth from three to four miles. The climate is healthy. The territory is divided into three districts—the district of Pondicherry, properly so-called, containing besides the city, eleven villages; the district of Villenoor, containing forty-five villages; the district of Bahoor, containing thirty-six villages. These ninety-two villages are not all contiguous to each other, several being separated by English villages. The total superficies of the three districts is estimated at 69,000 acres which, in consequence of the parcelment, is scattered over a space of about 173,000 acres.

The first French settlement was made here in 1674 under François Martin and the Genl. Mons. Dupleix. In 1693 it was captured by the Dutch and restored at the Peace of Ryswick in 1699. The town was besieged by the English unsuccessfully in 1748; but was taken by Sir E. Coote in 1761 and restored in 1763. It was again captured by Sir Hector Munro in 1778 and restored in 1785; Colonel Braithwaite once more took it in 1793, and finally restored it in 1816. A very fine fort, which was built 500 yards from the sea, of brick covered with polished white plaster, was demolished by Sir Eyre Coote, in 1761. Down to the middle of the last century Pondicherry was the finest city in India.

The city now extends along the sea coast about a mile and a quarter, and is about three-quarters of a mile in breadth. The town is regularly built and is divided into two parts, the White town and the Black town, separated by a canal. The White town is by the sea side. Its streets are regularly laid out and cut each other at right angles, and the houses are well built. There is a fine Pier 150 metres long. Government House, a handsome building situated to the North of the Place Dupleix, is within 300 yards of the sea, near a fine statue of Mons. Dupleix, inscribed "to all the glories of France," which is on a handsome pedestal of Gingee stone. The town has no port, but an open roadstead, which being to windward for nine months of the year, and having less surf, is superior to that at Madras. But in consequence of the small depth of water near the shore and the violence of the surf, landing can be effected only by flat-bottomed boats constructed for the purpose. There are three hotels, and a fully furnished Travellers' bungalow near the Railway Station, which is maintained by a native gentleman. Travellers can reside in this house for three days free of charge, but must make their own arrangements regarding food, etc., with the servants. The usual mode of conveyance is the pousse pousse, a sort of bath chair; jutkas and carts are also procurable.

The British India Co.'s Negapatam and Rangoon steamers call weekly, and the same Co.'s Madras and Singapore boats once a fortnight; the Messageries and Asiatic Co.'s steamers touch at the Port every alternate week. Pondicherry is the seat of an Archbishop, and the head-quarters of the French Roman Catholic Missions; there is a fine Cathedral dedicated to Notre Dame des Anges. There is a Cercle (Club) for Europeans, and others for natives. Pondicherry is the terminus of the Villupuram-Pondicherry branch of the South Indian Railway. The city and environs contain many fine houses in the European style, and the high culture of the soil, the numerous canals crossed by neatly constructed bridges, and roads planted with trees, give to the surrounding district the appearance of a great garden.

Three miles South of Pondicherry is the Village of Veerampatnam, where is an ancient and interesting temple to the Goddess Sangalaniammal (an Avatar of Kali) which attracts many pilgrims from all over South India. Four miles South, at Aryankuppam, is a very old Roman Catholic Church.

PUDUKKOTTAI STATE.

MADRAS PRESIDENCY.

Description.—This Native State, otherwise called the Tondiman's country, lies between 10° 15' and 10° 29' N. lat., and between 78° 45' and 79° E. long., and is entirely surrounded by the British districts of Tanjore, Trichinopoly and Madura. Its area is 1,178 square miles; its population, 380,440, almost entirely agricultural. Languages spoken, Tamil and Telugu. The country is for the most part a flat plain, interspersed with small rocky hills, some of which are crowned by old forts. In the south-west, hills and jungles are found, but elsewhere the State is well cultivated. There are 7,549 tanks, some of considerable size. The gross revenue of the State is about 12 lakhs of rupees.

The first connection of the British Government with the chief of this state, then usually called Tondiman, (a family name derived from the word Tondai, an abridged form of Tondaimandalam, the supposed original home of the family), was formed at the siege of Trichinopoly in 1753, when the British army greatly depended on his fidelity and exertions for the supply of provisions. Subsequently, he was serviceable in the wars with Hyder Ali and in the Poligar War, the latter being the name given to the operations against the usurpers of the large zemindary of Sivagunga in the Madura district after the cession of the Carnatic. In 1803, he solicited as a reward for his services his claim to the fort and district of Kilanelly, situated in the southern part of Tanjore. This was founded on a grant by Pratap Sing, Rajah of Tanjore, and on engagements afterwards entered into by Colonel Braithwaite, General Coote, and Lord Macartney; the Government of Madras granted the fort and district of Kilanelly, and the cession was confirmed by the Court of Directors, upon the condition that the district should not be alienated, and that it should revert to the British Government upon proof being given at any time that the inhabitants laboured under oppression.

The Rajah maintains a military force of 152 officers and men. Chief town, bearing the same name is 33 miles south of Trichinopoly and 87 miles south-west of Tanjore. A Residency bungalow, a Travellers' bungalow, Court houses, and various other public buildings are in the town.

THE SHEVAROY HILLS.

Are situated in the Salem District between 78° 2' East longitude and 11° 65' North latitude, and extend over an area of 150 square miles. The highest point, Brandill's Hill, about a mile north of the Shevaroyan, from which an extensive view of the surrounding country can be obtained, is 5,410 feet above the level of the sea. The Shevaroyan, the next in height, has a small temple, and is often visited by picnic parties. Yercaud, 4,330 feet elevation, is the principal European settlement, and is resorted to by a large number of visitors as a Sanitarium in preference to the Nilgiris, on account of the facility with which it is reached from Madras and other towns; and of its more genial and milder climate which suits many for whom the Nilgiris are too cold. Salem railway station, (Suramangalam) from which alone the Shevaroys should be visited, lies 207 miles south-west of Madras, and is 14 miles by road and ghât, from the centre of Yercaud station. If the necessary arrangements have been made for ascending the ghât, Yercaud may be reached within 12 hours from Madras. It (Salem railway station) is 256 miles distant from Calicut, 97 miles from Coimbatore and 126 from Trichinopoly. These Hills are approached by three ghâts, one on the southern side communicating with the town of Salem and the railway station, another on the western side leading to Kadiampatty station, distant about 12 miles; and the last traced formerly as Bandy ghât on the northern side of these Hills, connecting them with the Mallapuram railway station, distant about 19 miles. A carriage-ghât to Salem, named after His Excellency Sir Arthur Havelock, is freely used for wheeled traffic. The distance by this ghât to Salem Railway Station is 20 miles. From the station Yercaud is reached in about three hours; to the foot of the old ghat road in jutkas at one rupee each, and the ascent is done on chairs at 5 annas per cooly carrying same, six coolies to a chair. Luggage coolies 4 annas each.

Yercaud contains the following among other public buildings:—Holy Trinity Church (Anglican), Roman Catholic Chapel, Roman Catholic Convent, French Mission, London Mission Chapel and School; Leipzig Lutheran Mission Chapel, Post Office, Victoria Rooms, Kutcherry, a Hotel (Fair Lawns), 2 Hotels and a Boarding Home, Market place, Hospital and Dispensary. There is a Sub-Treasury and a Sub-Registrar's Office, in charge of the Deputy Tahsildar, who is Sub-Magistrate of the Hill.

The European and Eurasian inhabitants of the Shevaroys number about 350, the former being in large majority; three-fifths of this population is settled in Yercaud and the remainder are in the outlying coffee estates. The Hills boast of a Rifle Volunteer Corps commanded by a Captain. There is one Club, the Yercaud.

There are decent drives in and around Yercaud and good bridle-paths leading to most of the plantations and villages; a Market or Shandy is held on Sundays. There are Bakeries in Yercaud, and shops for the sale of stores and liquors. Nearly all the English vegetables and fruit trees thrive remarkably well, and might be cultivated with profit to the grower.

The largest coffee estates are situated from 4 to 7 miles away from Yercaud at Nagaloro and on the Green Hills. Here some of the most flourishing estates are to be seen. Several exotic trees are met with, such as Eucalyptus (Blue Gum), Norfolk Pine (Auracaria Excelsa), Pinus Longifolia (Pine), Grevillia Robusta (Silver Oak), &c., &c., which present a striking contrast to the forest trees indigenous to these Hills, to which, however, with the exception of the Casuarina, they are much inferior in beauty. Roses and ferns of different kinds grow very well.

The permanent residents are chiefly planters, who also possess houses which they rent out during the season, which lasts from April to October, and even throughout the year.

The climate is healthy. These Hills get the benefit of both the south-west and north-east monsoons, which causes the rainfall to be more evenly distributed throughout the year, and thus enhances the value of the place as a coffee-growing district.

A tribe of natives, called Mallaialis (Hill-men), Vellallans by caste, the descendants of immigrants from near Conjeevaram (Kanchipuram), are to be met with living in numerous villages of from 20 to 100 conical-shaped huts. They are an agricultural race, cultivating different kinds of grain and breeding cattle and remarkable for their extreme clannishness. Labour is cheap. Independent of these Hill-men, coolies from the low lands come up to work on the estates at the following rates: men Re. 1, women 10 annas, and children 6 to 8 annas per week. There are very many spots within easy distance of Yercaud, commanding beautiful views of the low country and distant ranges, suitable for picnics and walking and riding parties, which have only to be seen to be appreciated, and the visitor is amply repaid for his walk, when he arrives at his destination, by the picturesque scenery that presents itself to his gaze.

TRAVANCORE STATE, THE

Description.—This (the southern portion of the ancient division of Kerala) is a Native State, situated between 8° 4′ and 10° 22′ N. lat., and between 76° 13′ and 77° 38′ E. long. It is bounded on the north by the Native State of Cochin and the British District of Coimbatore; on the east by the British Districts of Madura and Tinnevelly; on the south and west by the Indian Ocean. The extreme length of Travancore from north to south is 174 miles, its extreme breadth 75 miles. Area, 7,129 square miles. Population, 2,952,157. The State is in subsidiary alliance with the British Government, to which it pays a tribute of Rupees 8,00,000 a year. It is divided for administrative purposes into 31 taluks. Trivandrum is the chief town and the residence of the Maharajah. Languages spoken are Malayalam in the North and Tamil in the South.

Travancore is one of the most picturesque portions of Southern India. The mountains which separate it on the east from the British districts on the Coromandel Coast, and which at some points rise to an elevation of 8,000 feet above the sea, are clothed with magnificent primeval forest; while the belt of flat country, to an average distance of about 10 miles inland from the sea, is covered with an almost unbroken mass of cocoanut and areca palms, which, in a great measure, constitute the wealth of the country. The whole surface is undulating, and presents a series of hills and valleys, traversed from east to west by many rivers, the floods of which, arrested by the peculiar action of the Arabian Sea on the coast, spread themselves out into numerous lakes or lagoons, connected here and there by artificial canals, and forming an inland line of smooth water-communication which extends nearly the whole length of the coast, and is of the utmost value when the sea itself is closed for navigation during the monsoon. Naturally with its numerous villages, palmyra groves, and extensive swamps of rice, resembles in some respects the neighbouring district of Tinnevelly, except that, unlike Tinnevelly, it is nowhere sterile. Northward, this fertile plain is succeeded by the wooded and rugged surface of the Malayalam country. The rich and variegated tract along the coast is finely contrasted with the mountainous wilds farther inland. The hill scenery has peculiar beauties, among which are the wild, rocky and precipitous acclivities and fantastic forms of the mountains in the southern parts. Farther north, the mountain chain becomes less bold, a few rugged cliffs and conical summits alone breaking the sameness of its outline. The high range breaks into clusters of hills, and the valleys are studded with temples and churches. Indeed, the numerous houses and gardens, scattered thickly over the country, give it an appearance entirely different from that of the eastern coast. Manacoody, Colachel, Vizhinjam, Poondoray, Anjengo, Quilon, Poracaud and Alleppey are seaport towns, of which Alleppey, Quilon and Colachel are by far the most important, the others being frequented only by small native craft. The hill region is so extensive, and so marked a feature of the State, that it merits special notice. The mountains are of every variety of elevation, climate and vegetation. Some tracts are even now considered inaccessible. Certain portions have been taken up by European and native capitalists, by whom the natural fertility of the soil is being turned to good account. Some of the loftier mountains are entirely detached, except near their bases, from the neighbouring heights; they often have a precipitous descent towards the west, and are connected on that side with a succession of low hills, which diminish in altitude as they approach the coast. From Quilon southward, these secondary ranges soften down into undulating slopes, intersected by glens and valleys, which grow wider as the elevation of the hills decreases, and are cultivated invariably with rice, proving very productive. Among the mountains a few rough elevated tablelands are found; but the alternation of hill and valley is in most cases too rapid to allow of any large extent of level surface. The above remarks refer to the country west of the Periyaur river, between which and Dindigul rises a confused mass of hills. These have, however, similar characteristics; their summits, either broken into projecting cliffs, or thickly covered with trees, fall generally with precipitous abruptness, and present a variety of wild and magnificent forest scenery. These solitudes inclose some elevated plains (about one-twelfth of the whole area), which afford pasturage for cattle, and enjoy a good climate for a portion of the year. To the north, the mountains rise to an elevation of 8,000 feet, with plateaux over 7,000 feet. The more important of these is part of the group known as the Anamullays. The southernmost peak of note is the sacred Agasthyakudam (6,200 feet), the source of the Tambrapurny river. The plateaux, by reason of their good climate, rich soil, abundant timber and water-supply, are likely to become better known as the demand for coffee land increases. One plateau alone (Eroovimullay or Hamilton's Valley) is 6 miles long by 3 wide, and contains about 10,000 acres of excellent tea and coffee land. Similar smaller valleys are found in the group called the Kanandevan Hills. At the head of the Travancore Hills stands Anamudi (8,837 feet), the highest peak south of the Himalayas, and near it are several other peaks of 8,000 feet. South of this group is the lower region of the Cardamom Hills, so called from their special product. South of these, again, are large tracts of unsurveyed forest, which, with the exception of the Ashamboo coffee plantations, and one or two narrow strips near the main passes, continue to the Atchancoil river. Even south of this, although the hills become lower and narrower, the country is thinly inhabited almost to Cape Comorin. Numerous rivers run down from the ghâts, which flow by tortuous courses, with high banks and rocky beds, into the backwater; most of these are navigable only near the sea. The chief river of Travancore is the Periyaur, rising in the High Ranges, which after a course of 142 miles enters the backwater at Kodungallore (Cranganore), 60 miles of this river are navigable. A portion of its enormous volume of water is now diverted into Madura by the Periyar water works. The Pamba, and its tributary the Atchancoil, and the Kallada are the next in importance. The Western Tambrapurny, or, as it is locally known, the Coolitoray river, rising in the mountains to the north of Mahendragherry, a sister river of the larger Tambrapurny which flows east into Tinnevelly, flows westward, like all other Travancore rivers. Numerous small streams cross the narrow plain between the mountains and the sea, but no large irrigation works exist on them, the plentiful rainfall making these unnecessary, except in the extreme south. Here on the Paraly and Koda there are anicuts constructed by Pandyan kings. A succession of lagoons or backwaters, connected by navigable canals, extends along the coast, from Trivandrum northwards, forming a most important means of communication. Its extreme length is nearly 200 miles, namely, from Tirur in Bh. Malabar to Trivandrum; between the latter place and Quilon, there rises a high promontory of land about 6 miles in breadth, the highest portions of which in two places have been tunnelled through; to a length of over 3,000 feet and the remaining portion cut open into a canal, thus making the line of water communication complete. The total area of these lakes is 227½ square miles, of which 157½ are in Travancore, 53½ in Cochin, and 16½ in British territory. The largest lake is the Vembanaud (east of Alleppey), but except during the monsoon, it is shallow. A strip of land from 7 miles to about half a mile wide separates these backwaters from the sea. There are, however, several outlets, those at Chetwye, Codangalore, Cochin, Cauyancollam, Idara and Paravoor being the principal ones. Every kind of merchandise and a very large portion of the produce of the country is carried on these waters. There are also several good cart roads in the inland parts of the country for local traffic and the extension of the South Indian Railway to Quilon has opened up easy communication with Tinnevelly and Madura. The boats for water communication are of various sizes, and in most instances are formed of a single tree, the trunk of which is hollowed out. The ordinary size is about 20 feet by 2½ feet; the boats for carrying rice to a distance are larger, and have a deck or roof. Tampakam and anjaly trees are generally selected for boat-building, being durable and sufficiently large. Alum, sulphur, lignite and plumbago and mica exist. There are plumbago mines at Neyyattinkara and Nedumangaud and mica mines at Eraniel. The mountains and forests of Travancore afford some of the best sport to be got anywhere in India, especially in the shape of "large game." Elephants, whose ivory is a source of State revenue, are numerous. Tigers, leopards (including the black variety) bears, bison, sambhur, or "elk," and various kinds of deer abound.

Resolution of the Government of India, Home Department (Public), dated Calcutta, 29th January 1904, No. 234—42.

About three years ago the Government of India were led to consider the methods that might most advantageously be adopted for the preservation of historical relics and of interesting sites or buildings in India, and for the perpetuation of the surviving records of a past that is every day tending to disappear more and more from the public recollection. Among the objects that commended themselves to their notice from this point of view was the commemoration of the houses or dwellings which are notable for their historical associations, or in which distinguished public men, whether European or Indian, have resided at different portions of their careers. A good many of these are still standing, and are pointed out with certainty to the student or traveller. The antecedents and identity of others are already becoming matters of uncertainty; and authentic history is beginning to pass, in some cases into tradition, in others into legend. It seemed desirable, before this process had attained further dimensions, to arrest and crystallize, as far as possible, the definite knowledge that is still forthcoming of the former residences of men who have left an enduring mark upon the civil and military administration or upon the moral and intellectual development of India.

2. In England the Society of Arts has for some time past interested itself in a similar undertaking, by placing upon the facade of houses in London and elsewhere a circular terracotta medallion with a simple inscription on its face, recording the fact that this or that famous personage lived there in such and such a year or years. In this way, a number of valuable historical memories have been revived or recovered; and a walk through some of the older London streets has been rendered not only interesting but instructive.

3. Accordingly, after careful consultation with the local Governments concerned, the Government of India have determined to adopt a similar plan in this country. The buildings which they have decided to commemorate for historical reasons or as having been the residences of famous men are shown in the statements annexed to this resolution which indicate the grounds for the decision in each case. The number is necessarily limited, and great care has been exercised in the selection of these buildings whose associations are mainly personal, so as to prevent that which should be an honour to the few from becoming the prerogative of the many. Some of these houses are the property of Government, and no difficulty arises in the placing of a memorial medallion upon them. Others belong to private persons and the permission of the owner has been sought for its erection. It is understood that in all cases this has been readily given. It has not been found in England that any serious objection has been entertained by individual proprietors to the fulfilment of what is really a public trust: and the Government of India have not been disappointed in their expectation that the standard of public spirit in India would be found to be in no way lower than in Great Britain. The Governor-General in Council trusts that the measures now adopted will have the effect of preserving those personal and local associations which in India are peculiarly liable to be forgotten, and that a direct stimulus will thus be given to the more intimate study of the history of the past. The example thus set may perhaps admit of being followed in places where distinguished Indian statesmen have rendered conspicuous service to Native States.

GENERAL.

In June 1907 notice was given by the Secretary of State of his intention to acquire the undertaking of the Madras Railway Company on 1st January 1908.

The Madras Railway was divided between the South Indian Railway, who have taken the Jalarpet-Mangalore section, and a new Company "the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway" who have taken over the working of the North-East, North-West and Bangalore Branches of the old Madras Railway and of the whole Southern Mahratta Railway system including the lines worked for the Mysore, Kolhapur and Sangli States and the West of India Portuguese Railway. The open Mileage of the system is broad gauge 1,040 miles, metre gauge 2,016 miles, and total 3,056 miles.

The South Indian Railway Company have running powers over the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway line from Jalarpet to Madras and Bangalore and also have the right to quote rates from the Jalarpet-Mangalore to the Bangalore-Madras section but not in the opposite direction. The open mileage of the South Indian Railway system is broad gauge 449 miles, metre gauge 1,172 miles, and 2′6″ gauge 45 miles—total 1,666 miles.

SOUTH INDIAN RAILWAY, 3′ 3¾″ GAUGE.

Works completed. A short length of about half a mile from Pamban to Mandal Point was opened for traffic in January last. Work on the new Egmore station was approaching completion. This has since been completed.

Shuttle services. With a view to encourage passenger traffic, a series of short local services called Shuttle services, was started in June 1906, to bring the people into the large towns in the morning and take them back in the evenings. The service proved so popular, that at the end of 1907 the number of such trains rose to 208 daily. To encourage business, a large number of trial stations has been opened.

Bridges. The introduction of locomotives of a heavier type has necessitated the renewal of a large number of girders. This work was so far advanced during the year as to enable the new engines to be worked from Tanjore to Quilon and Tuticorin.

Rolling-stock (1907). The total Rolling-stock on the system at the close of the year consisted of 248 locomotives, 1,096 coaching vehicles and 4,021 goods vehicles. The number of engines and vehicles fitted with vacuum brake at the end of the year was 93 engines, 309 coaching vehicles including passenger brake vans and 89 goods vehicles including goods brake vans. One hundred and thirty-two vehicles were fitted for lighting by electricity. All the eight mail trains on the line were fitted with means of communication throughout between passengers and guards and drivers and the number of carriages fitted with such communication at the end of the year, was 274 including 155 third-class carriages.

Accidents (1907). Only one person was injured during the year owing to train accidents and none were killed. There were no accidents of importance during the year.

Persons employed (1907). The number of persons employed on the open line on the 31st December 1907 was 169 Europeans, 717 Eurasians and 15,221 natives. The number of depositors in the Provident Fund was 3,371 and the total amount at credit on the 31st December 1907 was Rs. 21,09,687.

Police (1907). The Police force employed on the line consisted of 253 men and the total cost of the force to the railway was Rs. 75,984.

Schools (1907). Six schools, five for Europeans and Eurasians and one for native children were maintained by the railway and their net cost to the railway excluding contributions by Government and collections from the school-fees, amounted to Rs. 8,644.

Volunteers (1907). At the close of the year, the strength of the Volunteer Corps was 557, of whom 488 were efficients.

Finance (1907). The Capital expenditure on the South Indian Railway at the close of the year 1907 was Rs. 906·35 lakhs and the net earnings were Rs. 71·70 lakhs which represented a dividend of 7·91 per cent. against 6·62 in 1906. The Capital expenditure on the Travancore Branch (108·46 miles—50·48 in British territory and 57·98 miles in Native State) was 161·94 lakhs and the net earnings were Rs. 3·05 lakhs, equivalent to a dividend of 1·82 per cent. On the Tanjore District Board Railway (103·36 miles) which is worked by the South Indian Railway on behalf of the District Board the Capital expenditure was 47·87 lakhs, and the net earnings were Rs. 2·86 lakhs which represents a dividend of 5·98 per cent. on the Capital outlay against 4·85 per cent. in 1906. The Pondicherry Railway, 7·85 miles in length, is owned by the French Government and worked by the South Indian Railway. The Capital expenditure on the line amounted to Rs, 5·69 lakhs and the net earnings to Rs. 33,966 equivalent of 5·97 per cent. The Peralam-Karaikkal Railway with a mileage of 14·65 is also worked by the South Indian Railway on behalf of the French Government. The Capital expenditure on the line was Rs. 7·24 lakhs and the net earnings of the year were Rs. 9,408 which yielded a dividend of 1·30 per cent.

LINES UNDER CONSTRUCTION.

Rameswaram Extension.*

The construction of the railway from Rameswaram to Dhanushkodi, a length of 11 miles, in extension of the Pamban-Rameswaram line, was sanctioned by the Railway Board. Work is in progress and is likely to be completed in a few months. The connection between the main line and the isolated railway on the Rameswaram Island, is however, still in abeyance, pending a final decision as to whether the Pamban-Strait shall be crossed by a causeway or arched viaduct with a swing bridge for passing ships, or whether the Strait shall be entirely closed and an alternative passage provided by means of a short light draft canal across the Rameswaram Island. Work on the Coonoor-Ootacamund Extension.*

Coonoor-Ootacamund extension is well advanced and is expected to be opened for the carriage of passengers as far as Fern Hill on 15th September. The question of electrifying the Nilgiri Railway is still under consideration.

Vizianagaram-Raipur Railway.

Construction work is confined for the present to the Vizianagram-Parvatipur section, about 52 miles, which is expected to be opened on 1st November 1908 for goods traffic and on 1st January 1909 for passenger traffic.

Kurnool Branch Railway.

Work on the Kurnool Branch Railway, 32 miles, is in progress and the line is expected to be opened in the Autumn of 1908.

SOUTHERN MAHRATTA RAILWAY.

The Southern Mahratta Railway metre gauge system which was formerly under the control of the Government of Bombay, has now been brought into the Madras Circle of inspection.

DISTRICT BOARD RAILWAYS.

The Bezwada-Masulipatam Railway, 49¼ miles, which was constructed by the Southern Mahratta Railway Company on behalf of the District Board of Kistna, was opened for public traffic in February 1908 by His Excellency the Governor of Madras.

The development of District Board Railways was hindered by the delay that occurred in arranging satisfactory terms for their construction and working by the parent line and also by the redistribution of railways in Southern India and by the proposals for a broad gauge connection between India and Ceylon which has been indefinitely postponed.

Proposals are about to be put forward by the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company as to gauge and terms of construction and working of the Guntur-Repalle line, 38 miles, on behalf of the District Board of Guntur.

Negotiations with the South Indian Railway Company as to the terms for the construction and working of the Nidamangalam-Mannargudi and Tirutturaippundi-Vedaranniyam Railways and the Tinnevelly-Tiruchendur Railway were in progress.

LINES PROJECTED OR SURVEYED.

Surveys were in progress by the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company for two famine protective lines of railway on the 2′ 6″ gauge from Singarayakonda to Kanigiri, 39 miles, and from Kavali or Bitragunta to Udayagiri (50 miles). Surveys were made by the South Indian Railway Company for a line 93 miles long from Trichinopoly to Panruti on the metre gauge and by the Madras Railway for the re-alignment of the South-West line main line from mile 193·06 to mile 211·74 through the town of Salem on the 5′ 6″ gauge, the report and estimate for the former project is under the consideration of the Railway Board and the latter project has been negatived.

MADRAS ELECTRIC TRAMWAYS.

The Madras Electric Tramways were operating a route mileage of 12 miles and 7 furlongs, of which 3 miles and 6 furlongs were provided with double tracks. There were at the Power Station five engines with an aggregate of 1,421 horse-power driving the electric generators and another of 20 horse-power for lighting purposes. The rolling-stock of the system consisted of 60 motor-cars and 7 trailers and the average daily service was 48 in 1907. The line continued to be worked on the overhead trolly system. During the official year 1907-1908 the cars ran 1,238,758 miles and carried 11,670,130 passengers as against 1,178,492 miles and 9,579,832 passengers in 1906.

Situated in North Travancore, the British Boundary dividing them from the Pulni Hills and Madura District on the East, and the Coimbatore District on the North.

Elevation from 1,000 feet rising to Anaimudi, 8,837 feet, the highest mountain in Southern India.

Munnar, 4,800 feet elevation, is the Head-quarters of the Kanan Devan Hills Produce Company, at which place there is a Post Office and Telegraph Office, within easy reach of the other estates.

Kolaikanal Road is the nearest Railway station, a cart road thence to Bodynaikanur, the foot of the ghât, and from there a bridle path for 20 miles to Devacolam; a Ropeway and Tramway have been constructed to Munnar.

Much of the land is the property of the Kanan Devan Hills Produce Company, who have opened out the country.

Whereas it is expedient to provide for certain matters relating to fisheries in British India: It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Fisheries Act, 1897.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, except Burma; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Act to be read as supplemental to other Fisheries Laws.

2. Subject to the provisions of sections 8 and 10 of the General Clauses Act, 1887, this Act shall be read as supplemental to any other enactment for the time being in force relating to fisheries in any part of British India except Burma.

3. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "fish" includes shell-fish:

(2) "fixed engine" means any net, cage, trap or other contrivance for taking fish, fixed in the soil or made stationary in any other way: and

(3) "private water" means water which is the exclusive property of any person, or in which any person has for the time being an exclusive right of fishery whether as owner, lessee or in any other capacity.

Explanation.—Water shall not cease to be "private water" within the meaning of this definition by reason only that other persons may have by custom a right of fishery therein.

Destruction of fish by explosives in inland waters and on coasts.

4. (1) If any person uses any dynamite or other explosive substance in any water with intent thereby to catch or destroy any of the fish that may be therein, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two months, or with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees.

(2) In sub-section (1) the word "water" includes the sea within a distance of one marine league of the sea-coast: and an offence committed under that sub-section in such sea may be tried, punished and in all respects dealt with as if it had been committed on the land abutting on such coast.

Destruction of fish by poisoning of waters.

5. (1) If any person puts any poison, lime or noxious material into any water with intent thereby to catch or destroy any fish, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two months, or with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees.

(2) The Local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, suspend the operation of this section in any specified area, and may in like manner modify or cancel any such notification.

Protection of fish in selected waters by rules of Local Government.

6. (1) The Local Government may make rules for the purposes hereinafter in this section mentioned, and may by a notification in the official Gazette apply all or any of such rules to such waters, not being private waters, as the Local Government may specify in the said notification.

(2) The Local Government may also, by a like notification, apply such rules or any of them to any private water with the consent in writing of the owner thereof and of all persons having for the time being any exclusive right of fishery therein.

(3) Such rules may prohibit or regulate all or any of the following matters, that is to say:—

(a) the erection and use of fixed engines;

(b) the construction of weirs; and

(c) the dimension and kind of the nets to be used and the modes of using them.

(4) Such rules may also prohibit all fishing in any specified water for a period not exceeding two years.

(5) In making any rule under this section the Local Government may—

(a) direct that a breach of it shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, and, when the breach is a continuing breach, with a further fine which may extend to ten rupees for every day after the date of the first conviction during which the breach is proved to have been persisted in; and

(b) provide for—

(i) the seizure, forfeiture and removal of fixed engines erected, or used, or nets used, in contravention of the rule, and

(ii) the forfeiture of any fish taken by means of any such fixed engine or net.

(6) The power to make rules under this section is subject to the condition that they shall be made after previous publication.

Arrest without warrant for offences under this Act.

7. (1) Any police-officer, or other person specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, either by name or as holding any office, for the time being, may, without an order from a Magistrate and without warrant, arrest any person committing in his view any offence punishable under section 4 or 5 or under any rule under section 6—

(a) if the name and address of the person are unknown to him, and

Provided that no person so arrested shall be detained longer than may be necessary for bringing him before a Magistrate, except under the order of a Magistrate for his detention.

1. 2. These rules will be published in the Jarida and in the Secunderabad Notice Sheet and, all Revenue Police and Forest Officers, of His Highness' Government shall be furnished with copies in Vernacular with a view to giving them wider publicity and enforcing them wherever and whenever necessary.

3. The word "game" includes all the animals and birds named in the annexed schedule, and such other animals and birds as His Highness' Government may deem fit, from time to time, to specify by notification in the Jarida (Section 2).

Definition of "Game."

4. For the purposes of these Rules the big game country in His Highness' Dominions is divided into three circles. One circle only will be open for shooting each year, from the 1st March to the 31st May, and the same circle for 10 days at Christmas.

Local extent.

The Circles include the following Districts, which have been notified in the Jarida:—

No. I.—Nizamabad, Parbhani, Nandair, Aurangabad, Bir and Medak.
No. II.—Warangal, Naldrug, Adilabad, Gulbargah and Bidar.
No. III.—Mahbubnagar, Karimnagar, Nalgunda and Raichur.

5. Those portions of the country which have been exclusively reserved for His Highness' shikar, come under the direct control of His Highness' Shikar Department.

6. All Paigha Nobles, owners of Samasthans and Jagirdars have the right to grant or refuse permission for shooting in their Elakas. They must, however, conform with the Shikar Rules as regards close season for small game, and destruction of Hinds and Does, Buffaloes, Bison, Cheeta Cubs, and the young of Deer, as laid down in para. 25.

7. Applications for permission to shoot big game in His Highness' Dominions should be forwarded on or before the 1st November, and will be disposed of on or about the 1st January. British officers should apply to His Excellency the Minister through the Resident; other sportsmen through the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Minister. Such applications should be made for each party by the officer responsible for such party. In no case is the party to exceed four guns.

Applications for shooting passes.

Each application for a shooting permit should be accompanied by a fee of Government Rs. 25 per gun; the fund so formed shall be used for legitimate expenses in connection with the preservation of game.

In the event of there being more than one application for shooting in the same area, the applicants shall cast lots at the house of the Minister's Private Secretary, on a date which will be duly notified.

Applications from outside His Highness' Dominions will not be entertained until applications from officers residing in His Highness' Dominions have been met.

The applications should show clearly :—

(a) The name of the officer responsible for the party.
(b) Date of departure of the shikar camp.
(c) Number of horses and bullocks.
(d) Number of followers.
(e) General line of country to be shot over.
(f) List of provisions that will be required and their quantity.

8. The supplies marginally noted will be provided by the District officials on payment at the rates quoted in the schedule, which can be obtained from the Tahsildar of the Taluk or his Assistant. It should, however, be clearly understood that only such articles can be supplied as are obtainable locally, and that payment must be made in cash on the spot, and receipts taken from the Patel.

Supplies.
Grass or Karbi, Fowls, Eggs, Milk, Ghee, Gram or Kulthi, Dhal, Attah, Rice, Goats and Sheep.

9. Intimation of the number of beaters required should be given to the nearest Revenue official, to enable him to collect them from adjoining villages. The beaters will be entitled to four annas each per diem if big game is killed. If the day is blank, or only small game is shot, the rate is two annas each per diem.

Payments.

If the beaters are collected at the camp on requisition and are not employed, they must be paid one anna each.

Sportsmen will be held responsible that each beater is promptly paid. Payment is on no account to be deferred to the following day.

All buffaloes required for Garas must be previously purchased outright, and should not be returned to the owners, unless the owners agree to take them.

Garas.

The following is the approximate rate to be paid for buffaloes :—

	Rs.
2 years old	4
3 do.	6
4 do.	7

Sportsmen should abstain from purchasing buffaloes over the age of four years, as it entails hardship on the ryots who use them for agricultural and other purposes, also they are too big for garas.

10. The period of the permit shall in no case exceed three months, and no application will be received for reserving ground for a period of less than one month.

Parties are limited to 4 guns each, and each gun shall be limited to 4 tigers, 4 bears, 2 sambar, and 2 spotted deer. No limit is placed on other animals the shooting of which is permissible under the rules.

Limit of Bag.

In the event of one of a party of four retiring, his place can be taken by another (on payment of the license fee) within the prescribed form, but the new comer can only shoot as many head of game as to make up the limit allowed originally to the retiring sportsman.

Explanation.—A, B, C and D make up a party. A shoots 3 tigers, 4 bears, 2 sambars and 1 cheetah when he has to leave before his 3 months are up. His place can be taken in the party by E who however can only shoot 1 tiger and 1 cheetah (although he pays the full fee).

11. Copies of permits issued will be forwarded by the Minister's Private Secretary to the Conservator of Forests and the Inspector-General of Police.

The Conservator of Forests, if he finds that the shooting areas for which the passes have been granted are situated in the reserved forests, will forward copies of the rules prescribed for shooting in such forests to the applicants, who are bound to abide by them strictly.

Shooting areas in the open districts will be defined, and each party will be restricted to the area so defined. In no case shall such area exceed one Taluka.

12. If the shooting party does not arrive on the ground within the first month of the period specified in the permit, it shall forfeit all claims to that area. If for any reason it is desired to have the period extended, fresh sanction must be obtained. No extra fee will be levied.

13. When all the areas are apportioned, notice will be published in the Notice of Secunderabad, and the Jarida, showing where each party is permitted to shoot.

Shooting permits are not transferable.

NOTE.—All permits must be returned to the Secretary on the completion of the shoot together with a correct account of all animals shot, measurements and if possible a short account of the shoot with photos for record and publication. The measurements of all animals shot and length of the horns of sambar and cheetah must be faithfully reported to the Committee. All measurements to be taken before skinning, and horns to be measured straight from tip to base. Sportsmen are particularly requested to refrain from killing small stags, the heads of which cannot be looked on as trophies. 24" for cheetal, 36" for sambar, 18" for buck, and 8" for chinkara are considered the ordinary limits.

14. All accidents and injuries to shikaris, beaters and others shall be reported in detail at once to the nearest Magistrate and Police Officer, and a copy must be sent to the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Minister.

15. Officers exempted under these rules and officers who tour over His Highness' Dominions are limited to shooting 4 tigers, 4 bears, 2 sambar, and 2 cheetah each during the year. THE MYSORE GAME AND FISH PRESERVATION REGULATION.

President.—A. R. Park, Hanbalu, P.O.
Hony. Secretary.—Thos. Hunt, Herebellalee, P.O.

REGULATION No. 11 OF 1901.

(PASSED ON THE 8TH DAY OF APRIL 1901).

A Regulation to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of Wild Animals and Birds, and to provide for the protection of game and Fish in Mysore.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of wild animals and birds, and to provide generally for the protection of game and fish in Mysore, Her Highness the Maharani-Regent is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short Title.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the "Mysore Game and Fish Preservation Regulation, 1901."

Extent and commencement.

(2) It shall extend to such local areas as may from time to time be specified by Government by notification in the Official Gazette.

"Game" defined.

2. In this Regulation, "Game" means antelope, ibex, jungle-sheep, sambhar and all other descriptions of deer, bison, hare, jungle-fowl, spur-fowl, pea-fowl, partridge, grouse, quail, woodcock, bustard, florican, duck and teal, and shall include such other animals and birds as the Government of Mysore may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare to be Game.

Absolute protection of particular classes other than "Game."

3. The Government of Mysore may, from time to time, by notification in the Official Gazette, prohibit absolutely the killing or capture of any specified kinds of animals or birds, the killing or capture of which the Government may consider unsportsmanlike or otherwise inexpedient, provided that such animals or birds do not come under the definition of "Game" for the time being in force.

Limited protection of particular classes killed for commercial purposes.

4. Whenever the Government of Mysore has reason to believe that any particular kinds of wild animals or birds, whether included in the definition of "Game" or not, are being largely destroyed for the sake of their skins, horns or plumage for commercial or other purposes, it may, by notification in the Official Gazette,

(a) prohibit the killing or capture of such particular kinds except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license, granted by such officer and in such form as the Government may prescribe in this behalf, and

(b) prohibit the killing or capture of such particular kinds either during a defined period of time, or within a defined area, or both.

Regulation of fishing.

5. (1) The Government of Mysore may from time to time, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for the regulation and control of fishing in any stream or lake, and may, from time to time, amend or cancel any rule so made.

11. The power to arrest offenders under the circumstances referred to in section 11 of Regulation, (i.e., whether the offence is committed in the view of the person making the arrest and the offender on demand refuses to give his name and address or gives a name which there is reason to believe is false) may be exercised by the following persons, namely:—

CHROMIUM MINES.

A chromium mine has been opened out at Tiptur, Tumkur District, Mysore Province, about 90 miles from Bangalore. The distance of the mines from Tiptur Railway Station is 19 miles and the Mine is situated near the village of Tagadur. A lot of ore has been collected and trenches sunk about the blocks, and machinery is being got up to crush the ore. The Company is sending out an Analyst, Mining Engineer, etc., and a laboratory is being built. A large well is being sunk for the supply of water for the machinery. The Company has also acquired lands up to Arsikere, 18 miles away. The mines were opened in October, 1906. The ore, which has been collected since November, is of good grade, and runs in two reefs. Trenches 35 ft. deep have been sunk, and the ore still extends. No work has been started on the other block, but some ore has been collected and stacked. There is a good deal of labour available about Tiptur, but it is very hard to procure Woddurs. Roads are being made from the Government road to Mysore to the Camp, which is two or three miles from the Government road. The water about Tagadur Camp is fairly good, and the place is healthy, but the other blocks near Arsikere, one called the Belgumba block and the other the Gubblilalli block, are feverish and unhealthy, and the water is bad. The best chrome lies on the Bhtarballi block, about six miles from Tagadur Camp.

Other people are prospecting about Tiptur for chrome, but the Chromium Company seems to have taken up all the chrome lands. There is, however, green stone, corundum and good quartz about Tiptur.

Chromium has recently been discovered in the Chenharoyapatna Taluk of the Hassan District in the Mysore State.

Chromium is a metallic element not occurring in the free state, discovered by Vanquelin in 1797. It is remarkable for the brilliant colours, red, yellow or green of its compounds. It is a white brittle metal requiring an intense heat for its fusion. It is found in red lead and is a compound of magnetic oxide of iron.

CHROME LEATHER MANUFACTURERS.

About 13 years ago a new process of manufacturing leather, in which various compounds of Chromium instead of vegetable tanning materials were used, was introduced and the leather thus prepared, owing to its very remarkable properties, rapidly came into popular favour. The manufacture of chrome leather, as it is now called, was taken up in America very largely, and as in the chrome tanning processes it is necessary to complete the dressing of the leather almost immediately after the tanning, the demand for half-finished East India Goat and Sheep skins fell off and a large trade sprang up in raw skins. The Madras tanners naturally suffered severely, but in face of the fiscal regulations of most foreign countries it was considered practically hopeless to attempt to manufacture chrome leather, for export. Moreover, it was definitely accepted by the Madras tanners, both European and Native, that chrome tanning was not commercially feasible in Madras owing to climatic difficulties. In the School of Arts, however, a different opinion was held, and a new industry being wanted to replace that in aluminium which had recently been transferred to a private company, the sanction of Government was obtained to carry out experiments in the manufacture of chrome leather, not for export but for use in the country. It is just now four years since these experiments were started, and they have proved completely successful, with the result that the Chrome Leather Department now under the control of the Director of Industrial Technical Enquiries is carrying on the manufacture of chrome leather and articles made from chrome leather on a very extensive scale. It has to some extent succeeded in impressing the local tanners with the importance of the industry and the practical courses of instruction, which are given, are very largely attended by students from all parts of India connected with the trade.

The original idea was to manufacture water-bags, massacks, mhotes, kavalais or Chursas as they are called in different parts of India. It was soon found that there was no difficulty in doing this, and that in fact it was possible to carry the original idea much farther, as the leather proved equally suitable for practically all purposes for which it is usually employed. Dyeing and leather dressing were therefore taken up and finished leathers are now made suitable for harness, saddlery, boots and shoes, sandals and slippers, belting, washers for cotton gin rollers, and a great variety of other industrial purposes.

Three and a half years ago a workshop was started for the purpose of manufacturing from the leather, articles in current damand, and the success of this establishment has been very great and the growing demand for its productions clearly proves that chrome leather is eminently suited to the requirements of the country.

Early in 1908 the Tanning work which from the outset had been carried on at the School of Arts was transferred to a new and elaborately equipped Tannery at Sembium about 5 miles to the North of Madras while the leather manufacturing was transferred to No. 1 Poonamallee Road.

Chrome tanned leather is in every way a superior material to any that has hitherto been produced in India, and in many respects it has great advantages over the very best English leather. Water has very little effect upon it, and chrome leather which has been wetted is just as soft when dried as before, and as a material for boots and gaiters this advantage is a very important one. It is well known that ordinary leather is rapidly destroyed when subjected to frequent alternations of wetting and drying. The leather becomes hard and cracks, whereas chrome leather, remaining soft and pliable, is unaffected by such treatment. Compared with bark leather, chrome leather is soft and well adapted for boots and shoes, whilst, by a special process, sole leather can be prepared from it which is extremely durable.

The Chrome Leather Industry is now making rapid progress and it is probably only a matter of time before it comes into almost universal use for the manufacture of leather suitable for local requirements. In India the largest demand for leather is for water bags, or mhotes, of which many hundred thousands are required every year, and for each mhote two good hides are used up. To supply the sandals required by nearly 300 million people a very large quantity of leather is also used, and for both these classes of goods chrome leather has been found by the natives to be eminently suited to their requirements. In certain tracts of country where the ryots have come to know the properties of the leather they have taken to it entirely, with the result that the demand is growing rapidly.

A number of Chrome Tanneries have been started in various parts of India, but none of them, as yet, are working on so large a scale as the School of Arts in Madras, where the pioneer tannery was originally established, and where it has now become necessary to establish a large tannery for the purpose of meeting the demand. The new Government Tannery is situated in the village of Sembiam, which is to the north of Perambur, and is now being equipped with modern tanning machinery. When it is remembered that the leather trade of the South of India, external and internal, is probably not far short of six crores of rupees per annum, the importance of the developments now going on can hardly be over-estimated. The future success of chrome leather seems assured, and it will undoubtedly be followed by a material increase in the exports, as the diminished internal consumption due to the greater durability and superior quality of the leather will put an end to the waste of much valuable raw material which is now being spoiled by the village chucklers.

Efforts are being made to establish local Chrome Tanneries to supply the requirements of the agricultural population, and so far two have been established in the Madras Presidency, one at Salem and the other at Coimbatore. Chrome Tanneries have also been established on a small scale in other parts of India, notably in Bombay, Nuosari, Calcutta and Cuttack.

MANGANESE AND MAGNESITE MINES.

One of the most remarkable developments of the mining industry in India is the extraordinary growth of the trade in Manganese. About a dozen years ago the country was not in the least interested in this ore and, in fact, had no knowledge of the existence of deposits that could be worked on a commercial scale. In 1895 Messrs. Turner, Macfadyen and Glass made important discoveries of Manganese ore in the Vizagapatam District, and recognising its commercial value proceeded to work the deposits. The Vizianagram Mining Co., Limited, was the outcome, and a most successful venture it has proved. The first shipments were made in 1895-96, when 555,100 cwts. valued locally at Rs. 1,82,064, were exported. The ore being of high commercial quality found a ready market at Home, on the Continent, and in the United States, at prices that left a very handsome margin of profit, one of the largest purchasers of Vizagapatam ore being Mr. Andrew Carnegie. There is at present a "boom" in Indian Manganese especially as owing to the temporary closure of the Manganese industry in the Caucasus due to internal troubles in Russia there has been a rise in the value of the mineral. Some idea may be formed of the enormous increase in the output of the Indian mines when it is stated that while the total production and export of the ore in 1895-96 amounted to 22,758 tons valued at 1·82 lakhs of rupees, it now stands at 453,212 tons valued at Rs, 65·29 lakhs.

The Capitalist wishing to invest his money in Manganese naturally wishes to know all about it, and it is not improbable that many people are deterred from making investments owing to their ignorance of the metal and its uses. Manganese itself is a metallic element, allied (in many of its basic properties) to chromium and iron, and (in its acid properties) to the halogen elements—chlorine, bromine and iodine. It is not found in an elementary condition, its most usual occurrence being in the form of an oxide. Manganese ores are very frequently in the form of nodules the chief deposits being in the Caucasus, Brazil, the Hartz mountains, Sardinia, Italy, Arkansas and India. In India the best known localities are Gosalpore and Jubbulpore in the Central Provinces, Shimoga, Chittaldrug and Tumkur in Mysore, the Sandur State in the Kurnool District, Vizagapatam and Bimlipatam on the East Coast and places on the West Coast near Marmagoa. There are also deposits in the Dharwar and Satara Districts of the Bombay Presidency. In Mysore the manganese deposits are associated with limestone or with laterite, massive or as nodules. The massive form is extremely compact and of an almost steel-grey colour and metallic lustre. The nodules are grey-black and have the structure characteristic of chemically-formed manganese ores. These deposits cover a considerable area in parts of the Shimoga and Chittaldrug districts, and are usually in the form of patches sometimes of considerable thickness, but more generally as "surface material." When the deposit is thick the ore is massive, in other cases it is nodular. The Shimoga outcrops were discovered by Mr. H. Kolsall-Slater of the Mysore Geological department. The discovery of manganese ores in paying quantities in the Mysore State has given a great impetus to minor mining, and whereas a little more than a year ago, no capitalists could be found to take up concessions, the demand for rich land at present is very far in excess of the supply.

In Vizagapatam and Bimlipatam the occurrence of manganese ore is associated with limestone, the deposits at the latter place being reported to contain as much as 76 per cent. of red oxide of manganese. The output of the Mysore mines finds exit at the port of Marmagoa, and until considerable improvement is made in the harbour arrangements at that port large stocks of the ore must be expected to accumulate pending shipment.

Prior to the year 1905 Russia was the chief source of the European supply, but owing to internal disturbances during that year the Caucasian supply of ore partially failed and a great demand therefore arose for Indian and Brazilian manganese, and prices rose considerably.

The greater part of the manganese ore production of the world is utilised in the manufacture of steel and iron. The steel so made is extraordinarily hard and tough, very difficult to work and on this account is extensively used for many purposes where hardness, toughness and great power to resist grinding wear are required. For mining drills and mining machinery of all kinds, it is in great demand. The higher ores containing over 56 per cent. manganese are employed in the chemical industry for the preparation of oxygen, bromine and iodine; in glass making and for colouring enamels, in dyeing, calico printing, etc. The presence of 1·25 per cent. of manganese gives strength and ductility to iron. Beyond this limit if manganese be added, the iron begins to lose its strength and ductility and at 3·5 to 5 per cent. the cast iron is brittle. Above 6·5 per cent. the toughness and ductility begin to return and on further addition of manganese the alloy is less subject to magnetising forces. At 13 per cent. the alloy is practically non-magnetic.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

THE INDIAN FACTORIES ACT.

ACT No. XV OF 1881.

AN ACT TO REGULATE LABOUR IN FACTORIES.

(As modified up to the 1st December, 1904.)

Preamble. WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate labour in factories; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preliminary.

Short title and local extent. 1. This Act may be called the Indian Factories Act, 1881.

It applies to the whole of British India.

Interpretation-clause. 2. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

"factory;" "factory" means any premises (other than indigo-factories or premises situated on, and used solely for the purposes of, a tea or coffee plantation) wherein is carried on, for not less than four months in the whole in any one year, any process for, or incidental to, making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing or otherwise adapting for use, transport or sale any article or part of an article; and

(a) wherein steam, water or other mechanical power is used in aid of any such process; and

(b) wherein, subject to the provisions of section 20, not less than fifty persons are on any day simultaneously employed in any manual labour in, or incidental to, any such process; and every part of a factory shall be deemed to be a factory, except any part used exclusively as a dwelling;

"child;" "child" means a person under the age of [fourteen] years;

"mill-gearing;" "mill-gearing" includes every shaft, whether upright, oblique or horizontal, and every wheel, drum, pulley, rope, driving strap or band, by which the motion of the first moving power is communicated to any machine:

"employed." a person who works in a factory, whether for wages or not, in a manufacturing process or handicraft, or in cleaning any part of the factory used for any manufacturing process or handicraft, or in cleaning or oiling any part of the machinery or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to, or connected with, the manufacturing process or handicraft, or connected with the article made or otherwise the subject of the manufacturing process or handicraft therein, shall be deemed to be employed therein within the meaning of this Act.

Inspectors and Certifying Surgeons.

Inspectors. 3. The Local Government may in its discretion, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint, [by name or by office,] such persons as it thinks fit to be Inspectors of factories within such local limits as it may assign to such Inspectors, and may suspend or dismiss any persons so appointed.

The District Magistrate shall, in virtue of his office, be an Inspector of all factories, if any, in his district.

Such Inspectors shall be deemed public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, and shall be officially subordinate to such authority as the Local Government may from time to time indicate in this behalf.

XLV of 1860.

Powers of Inspector. 4. An Inspector of factories may, within the local limits for which he is appointed,—

(a) enter, with such assistants (if any) as he thinks fit, any factory whenever he has reason to believe that any person is employed therein;
