Shri T. R. Sareen, temporary Assistant Archivist (Grade I, General) having been awarded a British Council scholarship valid for three months, proceeded to U. K. for training in Archives-Keeping from 31 December 1968.

The total strength of the Department (excluding the two Regional Offices) was 358 as against last year's strength of 376.

The Estimates Committee of the Parliament visited the Department during the year and examined its work.

Re-transfer of the administrative control of Goa Archives from this Department to Goa Administration with effect from 1 April 1969 was agreed to, in principle, by the Government of India.

Accessions

Public Records.—Acute paucity of storage space hampered the record-retirement programme of the Department. Principal accessions during the two years under report were 1,080 volumes and 507 bundles of records belonging to the Ministry of External Affairs for the years 1860-1922, 71 files of the Ministry of Home Affairs for the period 1932-50, 401 volumes of All India Radio News Bulletins for 1950-61 and 145 authenticated copies of bills passed by the various State Legislatures and assented to by the President of India.

Private Papers and Manuscripts.—Pursuing its programme of acquiring private papers of historical value, the Department received from the office of the Collected Works of Mahatma Gandhi two original letters of Gandhiji written to Shri Rangaswami Iyengar. It also received seven original letters of Gandhiji written to Srinivasa Sastri and S. G. Vave and some of his correspondence and notes on Champaran Satyagraha. These were received from the Servants of India Society, Poona. Besides these, the Department received as gift further valuable papers relating to late Dadabhai Naoroji and some materials collected for a biography of Bhulabhai

Desai from Dadabhai Naoroji Memorial Prize Trust, Bombay and Shri M. C. Setalvad respectively. These papers shed light on the life and times of these two eminent Indians. Another important collection received as gift by the Department covers the papers of Sir Sita Ram. This collection consists of correspondence files, diaries, press-clippings etc., pertaining mostly to affairs in U.P. during the last fifty years. Also Shri K. Santhanam made a gift of thirty files of his personal papers and six volumes of press-cuttings which cover the period 1943-65. A copy of the judgment in the trial of Bhagat Singh, B. K. Microfilm copies were prepared for the Department of a rare Persian book entitled Safar-Namah by Abdul Latif and a Sanskrit manuscript called Tarayantra. The former throws light on the social and cultural conditions prevailing in northern India in the seventeenth century. A microfilm copy of the prayer book of Bahadur Shah II was also acquired by the Department.

Books and periodicals.—The Departmental library added to its holdings 1,414 books, 82 journals and 3,315 issues of periodical through purchase, presentation and exchange. Appraisal

The programme of appraising non-current records, sorting out those worthy of permanent retention and drawing up schedules of unimportant papers with a view to their eventual destruction registered good progress during the period. As many as 39,085 files of the Ministry of External Affairs, former Ministry of States, Department of Education, Health and Lands, Office of the Comptroller and Auditor General of India, Hyderabad Residency, and Rajputana States Agency and their successor bodies were appraised, and, out of these, 8,207 files were found fit to be retained permanently. Records of liquidated clubs like Jhansi Club, Allahabad Club and Naini Tal Club were also examined and those that were found to be of historical value were accessioned.

Research and Reference Service

Research Room of the Department continued to be kept open from 9 A.M to 8 P.M. on week days and from 9 A.M. to 4.30 P.M. on Sundays and second Saturdays. Number of scholars availing of the research facilities offered by the Department has been rising every year, as is evident from the fact that in 1968, the number of scholars who made use of the manuscript and printed materials in the custody of the Department was 387 as against 362 in the previous year. Among the scholars, there was a fair number from U.S.A., U.K., Czechoslovakia, Japan, U.S.S.R. and Australia. The subjects of their research covered a wide range touching almost all aspects of Indian history, particularly the Indian National Movement. (Please see Appendix II).

The Department attended to requisitions for 1,94,830 documents from research scholars and members of the staff, and received back from them 2,25,613 documents which were restored to their proper places. Such requisitions from the various agencies of the Government of India were also attended to. The Department also supplied 2,86,533 exposures of microfilm, 8,678 metres of positive prints, and 9,452 copies of enlargement prints to various public and private institutions and individuals. Besides non-current public records, the scholars were allowed access to private collections acquired by the Department through purchase or gift. The Department's library also attended to 1,08,544 requisitions for books, periodicals, parliamentary papers and other printed materials from research scholars, members of the staff, public and private agencies and individuals.

A large number of enquiries from public and private agencies as also from individual scholars on a variety of topics was dealt with by the Department as usual. Some of the interesting enquiries in response to which information was supplied related to : material for a documentary film on Lala Lajpat Rai; the great Tibetologist Sarat Chandra Das and the great linguist and librarian of the Imperial (now National) Library, Calcutta, Hari Nath De; the date on which the honorific epithet 'Royal' was conferred on the Indian Air Force; Sir Chhotu Ram and his times; documents relating to the Jews in India; Ananda Mayi Ma; Dr. John Henderson; contribution of Sir John Marshall and V. Owing to continuing difficulty in the procurement of imported repair materials for want of adequate foreign exchange, only 1,28,276 sheets could be laminated during the period under report. In addition, 54,904 sheets, 4 maps and 4 farmans were repaired with tissue paper and 6,082 sheets, 128 maps and 74 palm-leaf manuscripts with chiffon. Also 75,689 sheets, and 1,656 maps underwent minor repair. 1,88,365 sheets were deacidified and freed from old patches of paste etc., 1,372 maps mounted, 1,43,444 sheets flattened, 4,76,761 sheets guarded, and 18,038 original consultations docketed. Besides this, 1,321 volumes, 3,921 books, 302 original consultations and 3,328 miscellaneous items were bound, and leather preservative dressing was applied to 67,313 leather-bound volumes.

With the permission of the owners, the Department prepared a microfilm copy of the papers of Dr. Y. Subba Rao, the eminent biologist.

Research Laboratory

Tests were conducted in the research laboratory of the Department on some indigenous substitutes for imported tissue paper and cellulose acetate foil in order to ascertain their suitability for repair purpose. However, none of the samples that were tested was found up to the mark. In order to draw up specifications for satisfactory material to be used for preparing docket-covers, the laboratory continued the testing of various types of indigenous paper. It also continued its work of finding out the effect of some common fumigants and insecticides on the Permalife paper approved by the ICOM Committee on Laboratories for the Museums, as well as of determining the suitability of carboxy methyl cellulose for use as an adhesive for binding jobs. A few microfilms from among the collections of the Department were examined for hypo elimination test. Examination of physical and chemical characteristics of original receipts among Persian records of the Department was also undertaken. Urgent precautionary measures were taken for preventing fungus infestation among the records kept in the ground floor stack area of the Department.

Due to the persistent shortage of imported raw film and repair materials, the Department could render technical service to a limited number of institutions and individuals.
