*These places were temporary labour camps of Tungbhadra Project. In 1951 these camps were generally parts of the villages bearing the same name and the demarcation between the camps and rural area of the villages is not available in the 1951 District Census Handbook of Raichur and after being removed from the list of towns, these camps were generally merged in the respective villages of which these were parts.
†These were temporary labour camps of Tungbhadra Project, which disappeared in 1961 when the works completed and ummigrant labourers moved out.

*These places were temporary labour camps of Tungbhadra Project. In 1951, these camps were generally parts of the villages bearing the same name and the demarcation between the camps and rural area of the villages is not available in the 1951 District Census Handbook of Raichur and after being removed from the list of towns, these camps were generally merged in the respective villages of which these were parts.

†These were temporary labour camps set up at the Tungbhadra Project in 1951, which disappeared in 1961 when the work was completed and immigrant labourers moved out.
