HOUSING AND ESTABLISHMENTS TABLES

An attempt was made in the 1961 Census for the first time in Indian Census history to collect uniformly throughout the country the important basic data on housing to meet the needs of different organisations connected with formulating and implementing housing programmes. At this Census not only uniform definitions of a 'house' and a 'household' have been adopted but a definite form was prescribed for preparing the houselists throughout the country. The important items included in the houselist are (1) purpose for which a census house was used, (2) material of wall and roof, (3) number of rooms occupied by households, (4) tenure status of households, (5) essential data relating to industrial establishments, workshops and factories, like the name of the industrial establishment, average number of persons employed per day and the kind of power or fuel if using machinery, and (6) the number of occupants of dwellings by sex.

Five housing tables were prepared from the houselists viz:

- (1) Table E-I—Census houses and the uses to which they are put,
- (2) Table E-II—Tenure status of sample Census households living in Census houses used wholly or partly as dwellings,
- (3) Table E-III—Census houses used as factories and workshops classified by industry, power and no power used and size of employment,

- (4) Table E-IV—Distribution of sample households living in Census houses used wholly or partly as dwellings by predominant material of wall and predominant material of roof, and
- (5) Table E-V—Sample households classified by number of members and by number of rooms occupied.

Tables E-I and E-III were prepared on full count, i.e., the data collected in respect of all the houses, in the houselists were tabulated. In the case of tables E-II, E-IV, and E-V, however, the data were tabulated only for a 20% sample of the households drawn systematically with a random start, separately for each taluk, and individually for every town with a population of 50,000 persons or more and for all the other towns in a district together. As tenure status, wall and roof materials and number of rooms and household size are fairly homogeneous characteristics in compact areas like villages and wards or blocks in towns, it was considered that a 20% sample would adequately represent the actual situation and incidentally reduce the time and cost involved in tabulation. These five tables are printed in this volume.

The information extracted in these housing tables is analysed and discussed in the Report on Housing and Establishments, Part IV-A volume of this State. The eleven subsidiary tables relating to these housing tables, which were prepared to analyse the data are also printed at the end of the Report.

CENSUS HOUSES AND THE USES TO WHICH THEY ARE PUT

TABLE E-I

CENSUS HOUSES AND THE USES TO WHICH THEY ARE PUT

This table gives for the State, districts, taluks and cities/towns with a population of 50,000 persons or more, the total number of Census houses according to the houselists and their distribution according to the 12 categories of uses to which they are put. Vacant houses are treated as a separate class and the number of such houses is also given in the table. The figures for all categories are furnished for total, rural and urban separately. The terms used in this table are explained below:

- (i) A Census house was defined as a structure or part of a structure inhabited or vacant or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school etc., with a separate main entrance. Flats or blocks with separate entrances of their own and independent of each other giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate were considered as separate Census houses. Each of the different structures within an enclosed compound together constituting a building, was also treated as a separate Census house.
- (ii) Vacant Houses : A Census house was treated as "Vacant" if it was found unoccupied at the time of houselisting. A house was not considered vacant if the occupants were temporarily absent and the house kept locked at the time of the visit of the houselisting Enumerator, unless it was found to be unoccupied i.e., not used for any purpose, residential or otherwise. (It may however be pointed out here that some Enumerators had noted as "vacant" in the houselists against a house number in respect of some vacant sites where at one time a house existed and was therefore originally allotted a house number but later the house itself ceased to be in existence and only a vacant site remained. Similarly dilapidated houses unfit for occupation might have also been recorded as vacant).
- (iii) Dwellings : A Census house was treated as a dwelling if it was used exclusively for the purpose of human habitation, not combined with any other use.
- (iv) Shop-cum-dwellings : If a Census house was used both for the purpose of living and also for running a shop where some goods and articles were sold for cash or credit it was treated as a shop-cum-dwelling. But if the shop portion and the living portion though located in the same building form separate portions having separate accesses, then each portion was treated as a separate Census house as per the definition of a Census house and categorised separately according to the use to which each of the Census houses was put.
- (v) Workshop-cum-dwellings : If a Census house was used both for the purpose of living and also for locating a workshop i.e., a place where some production, processing, repair or servicing were carried on for example, handlooms located inside a residential house, toy manufacture done at home, pottery making, oil "ghani" located in a residential house, cycle repair shop run at home etc., it was treated as a workshop-cum-dwelling.
- (vi) Hotels, Dharmashalas, Sarais, Tourist Homes and Inspection Bungalows : The terms are self-explanatory. All those Census houses intended for temporary sojourn of people came under this category. Hotels with lodging facilities travellers bungalows, choultries etc., come under this category.
- (vii) Shops excluding eating Houses : Census houses used purely for running shops i.e., places where goods and articles are sold for cash or credit were brought under this category. Restaurants and eating houses where also some articles are sold were not to be included under this category.
- (viii) Business Houses and Offices : These cover the Census houses in which banks, offices of firms, commercial and business houses, governmental as well as non-governmental offices etc., are located.
- (ix) Factories, Workshops and Worksheds : Under this category are combined all the Census houses which are used solely as places of production, processing, repairing and servicing. They may be large scale factories registered under the Indian Factories Act, 1948 or merely small workshops, or worksheds where some process of production, repairing or servicing goes on.
- (x) Schools and other Educational Institutions, including Training Classes, Coaching and Shop Classes : These terms are self explanatory. All Census houses used as schools of all grades or other teaching institutions are brought under this category.
- (xi) Restaurants, Sweetmeat shops and eating places : Restaurants (without lodging facilities), tea stalls, sweetmeat shops, etc., come under this category.
- (xii) Places of entertainment and Community gathering (Panchayat Ghar) : These cover places of worship as well where community gathering takes place such as temples, mosques, churches, etc.
- (xiii) Public Health and Medical Institutions, Hospitals, Health Centres, Doctors' Clinics, Dispensaries : The terms used are clear and need no explanation.
- (xiv) Others : Besides the categories mentioned above there will be a host of Census houses used for different purposes which cannot be conveniently brought under any of the above categories, for example cattle sheds, cattle pounds, garages, godowns, bus passenger shelters, places of personal service such as a barber's saloon, laundry-cum-dwellings, a gate-keeper's shed, water pump shed etc. All these miscellaneous cases were included under "Others".

The data presented in Table E-I and the related Subsidiary Tables E-I.1 and E-I.2 are analysed and discussed in detail in Chapter II-Uses of Occupied Census houses of the Report on Housing and Establishments, Part IV-A Volume of this State.

TABLE E-II
TENURE STATUS OF SAMPLE CENSUS HOUSEHOLDS LIVING IN CENSUS HOUSES
USED WHOLLY OR PARTLY AS DWELLINGS

(Based on 20% Sample)

This table is based on a 20% sample of the households drawn systematically with random start separately for each taluk, for each of the cities/towns with a population of 50,000 persons or more, and for all the other urban areas put together in a district. This table gives the number of households occupying owned/rented accommodation, for the State, districts, taluks separately for total, rural and urban areas and also individually for cities/towns with population of 50,000 persons or more. The distribution of households in the two categories owned/rented is presented according to four types of uses viz., (i) dwellings, (ii) shop-cum-dwellings, (iii) workshop-cum-dwellings and (iv) dwellings with other uses, to which the Census houses occupied by these households can belong.

A household was defined as a group of persons who commonly live together and take their meals from a common kitchen unless exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so.

The Houselisting Enumerators were instructed to record the tenure status—whether a household lived in a house owned by it or in a rented house—as stated by the head or any responsible member of a household.

They were not instructed to verify whether the statement made by the members of household in this regard were true in the legal sense of the terms 'owned' and 'rented'. It is, therefore, possible that in a few cases (though the number may be very small) the particulars recorded about the tenure status may not represent the actual position. Information about tenure status was recorded in the houselists in almost all the cases; however, in some very rare cases of omission of these particulars by the Enumerators, the households in the rural areas were treated as occupying owned houses as generally they will be, while in the urban areas they were considered as living in rented houses.

It should not be considered that all the households shown as occupying rented houses were actually paying rent. There were a few cases of households staying in houses with the permission of the owners, free of payment of rent. In such cases also, the households were deemed to be occupying rented houses.

The data contained in Table E-II and the related Subsidiary Tables E-II.1 and E-II.2 are analysed and discussed in detail in Chapter III—Tenure Status of Census households—of the Report on Housing and Establishments, Part IV-A Volume of this State.

TABLE E-III

CENSUS HOUSES USED AS FACTORIES AND WORKSHOPS CLASSIFIED BY INDUSTRY, POWER AND NO-POWER USED AND SIZE OF EMPLOYMENT

TABLE E-III

CENSUS HOUSES USED AS FACTORIES AND WORKSHOPS CLASSIFIED BY INDUSTRY, POWER AND NO-POWER USED AND SIZE OF EMPLOYMENT

This table gives the number of factories and workshops classified by the industry for the State, districts and taluks separately for rural and urban areas and individually for each city/town with a population of 50,000 or more. The number of factories and workshops in each of the industries is further distributed according to the size of employment and kind of fuel or power used. All the manufacturing units, whether they are big factories or small household industrial units, are classified into different industries according to the Indian Standard Industrial Classification. Under this classification the whole range of economic activity (which includes agriculture, mining, manufacturing, construction, trade, communications and transport, other services etc.) is divided into 9 divisions; each division is further divided into Major groups which are again sub-divided into Minor groups. The Divisions, Major groups and Minor groups are given code numbers for facilitating analysis and reference. Table E-III which pertains only to manufacturing units is concerned with Divisions 2 and 3—Manufacturing, and only one Major group viz., 04—Livestock and hunting in Division 0—Agriculture, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing and Hunting. The full description of the Major and Minor groups that appear in this table is given below. [A complete list of the Indian Standard Industrial Classification is given in the fly leaf to 1961 Census Table B-IV Part C printed in Part II-B (i) Volume of this State].

The data contained in Table E-III and the related Subsidiary Tables E-III.1, E-III.2 and E-III.3 are analysed and discussed in detail in Chapter IV—Workshops and Factories—of the Report on Housing and Establishments, Part IV-A Volume of this State.

TABLE E-IV

DISTRIBUTION OF SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS LIVING IN CENSUS HOUSES
USED WHOLLY OR PARTLY AS DWELLINGS BY PREDOMINANT
MATERIAL OF WALL AND PREDOMINANT MATERIAL OF ROOF

DISTRIBUTION OF SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS LIVING IN CENSUS HOUSES USED WHOLLY OR PARTLY AS DWELLINGS BY PREDOMINANT MATERIAL OF WALL AND PREDOMINANT MATERIAL OF ROOF

(Based on 20% Sample)

This table is based on the same 20% sample of households for which Table E-II was prepared and gives the distribution of the Census houses occupied by the sample households according to different types of wall and roof material for the State, districts, taluks for total, rural and urban areas and individually for each city/town with a population of 50,000 persons or more.

The wall materials of houses were classified under the following eight types:

- (i) Grass, leaves, reeds or bamboo
- (ii) Timber
- (iii) Mud
- (iv) Bricks
- (v) Corrugated iron or other metal sheets
- (vi) Stone
- (vii) Cement concrete and
- (viii) All other materials

As the first seven specific categories cover all the materials used for making the walls of the houses in Andhra Pradesh, the entries under "other materials" indicate the cases where the Enumerators did not record the material used for the walls. There were only 540 such cases in this State—401 in the rural areas and 139 in the urban areas.

The roof materials of houses were categorized under the following seven types:

- (i) Grass, leaves, reeds, thatch, wood or bamboo
- (ii) Tiles, slate or shingle
- (iii) Corrugated iron, zinc or other metal sheets
- (iv) Asbestos cement sheets
- (v) Brick and lime
- (vi) Concrete and stone slabs and
- (vii) All other materials

Mud is the only material that is included under 'All other materials' apart from the very stray cases where the Enumerators did not record the roof material which are, therefore, included in this category.

In the case of a house consisting of separate structures each of different materials, the material out of which the main bed rooms were made was considered as the wall material of the house. Similarly in regard to the roof, the material out of which most of the outer roof exposed to the weather (and not the ceiling) was made was taken as the roof material of a house.

The data contained in Table E-IV and the related subsidiary tables E-IV.1 and E-IV.2 are analysed and discussed in detail in Chapter V—Material of Wall and Roof—of the Report on Housing and Establishments, Part IV-A volume of this State.

TABLE E-V

SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS CLASSIFIED BY NUMBER OF MEMBERS AND BY NUMBER OF ROOMS OCCUPIED

TABLE E-V
SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS CLASSIFIED BY NUMBER OF MEMBERS AND
BY NUMBER OF ROOMS OCCUPIED

(Based on 20% Sample)

This table also is based on the same 20% sample of households for which Tables E-II and E-IV were prepared. Table E-V gives the total number of households, the total number of members in them and the total number of rooms occupied by the sample households. The households are further distributed according to those with 1 room, 2 rooms, 3 rooms, 4 rooms and 5 rooms or more. The number of members by sex in each of these 5 categories is also given. The figures in this table also are given for the State, districts, taluks for total, rural and urban areas separately and individually for each city/town with a population of 50,000 persons or more.

For the purpose of the Houselists, a 'room' was defined as a construction usually having four walls with a door way, a roof overhead and wide and long enough for a person to sleep in i.e., atleast six feet long. Unenclosed verandahs, kitchens, store rooms, garages, cattle sheds, bath rooms and latrines which are not ordinarily used for living and sleeping were not treated as rooms. If, however, an enclosed room was used both for living and for cooking or dining etc., it was treated as a room.

The data contained in Table E-V and the related Subsidiary Tables E-V.1 and E-V.2 are analysed and discussed in detail in Chapter VI—Household Population—of the Report on Housing and Establishments, Part IV-A volume of this State.
