INTRODUCTION

THE WORD 'CENSUS' is commonly understood to mean the counting of Heads. But the Census Operations now-a-days are really not so simple as one is apt to imagine from the term "Counting of Heads". Almost from their very inception Censuses in India have, in addition to counting heads, collected and published valuable information covering the economic, social and cultural aspects of the population. Census has assumed an added importance after the advent of independence and the establishment of a Welfare State. For the fulfilment by the State of the wide and varied responsibilities under the Constitution for the well-being of the citizens, possession of a rich supply of fairly reliable statistical data becomes necessary. The present day Censuses therefore do much more than merely count the number of persons inhabiting a particular area. The Census questionnaires actually have a wide coverage of details relating to social, economic, cultural and demographic characteristics of the community. The 1961 Census questionnaire has been framed in this background.

The aim of the 1961 Census was to present the population data as on 1st March, 1961. The actual enumeration was conducted between the 10th February, 1961 and 28th February, 1961, and in the final round between the 1st March, 1961 and 5th March, 1961 the Enumerators brought the records up to date by making corrections, wherever necessary, to the Household Schedules and Enumeration Slips already filled up, so as to make the entries conform to the situation at sun rise on 1st March, 1961. Though the enumeration lasted for a comparatively short period of less than a month much spade work had to be done well ahead of actual enumeration. In Mysore as in other parts of India, the activities relating to the 1961 Census began early in 1959 when the first pretesting of the draft questionnaire was taken up. The first pretest was conducted in January-February, 1959 by the State Statistics Department in a limited number of twelve urban and twelve rural blocks specially selected for the purpose. The draft questionnaire was revised in the light of the first pretest and this revised draft was subjected to a second pretest in August, 1959. The second pretest was conducted under the supervision of the Superintendent of Census Operations in a wider field, consisting of fifteen City blocks, eight Non-city urban blocks and 39 rural blocks. The field staff employed during this Second Pretest was mostly drawn from the categories providing the bulk of the enumeration personnel. The 1961 Census is the first Census in India in which the draft questionnaire was tested in the field before it was finalised.

Schedules used in the Census

The schedules to be used during the Census enumeration were finalised at the First Conference of State Superintendents of Census Operations held in September-October, 1959 after completion of pretesting. The instructions for filling up the schedules were also finalised at the same conference. The forms of the three schedules used during the enumeration stage and the instructions for filling them will be found in Annexures I, II and III.

The first of these schedules, is called the "Houselist". Houselists were prepared during the previous Censuses also but as the contents of the houselist were decided by the State Superintendents there was no uniformity in the contents. One of the special features of 1961 Census is that the houselists have been prepared using a common form all over India. Also the houselists prepared during 1961 Census contain more information in that the purpose to which the house is used, the tenure status, viz., whether it is owned or rented and the nature of the roof and wall are entered in respect of every house. If the house is a factory or workshop either exclusively or in addition to being used as a dwelling, the type of manufacture, processing or servicing done, a brief description of the products, the nature of power, if any, used and the number of persons working in the unit are also recorded. Against houses used solely or partly as dwellings, the number of rooms occupied by each household and the number of members in each household have been recorded. The preparation of the Houselists was completed by September 1960, (some months ahead of the enumeration) in this State and these houselists provided data for a rational delimitation of the jurisdiction of Enumerators and Supervisors and furnished a provisional estimate of population which was used to assess the quantity of forms to be kept ready for use during enumeration. The houselists were also the source from which the Block list given to each Enumerator to enable him to cover all houses in his Block systematically was prepared. The Socio-economic data about the materials used for construction, tenure status, utilization and pressure on accommodation in dwelling houses, and the particulars of Industrial Establishments have been tabulated separately and they are being published as Part VI of this series.

The other schedules used are (a) the Household Schedule and (b) the Individual Slip. Both these were used during the actual enumeration, the household schedule being filled up for each household and the individual slip for every individual. The household schedule furnishes information regarding cultivation by the household and also about the Household Industry, if any. The different tenures under which land is held, and the extent held under each tenure is recorded in the part devoted to cultivation, while the name of the industry and the number of months in the year during which conducted is recorded in the part devoted to household industry. Number of workers engaged in Household Cultivation only or Household Industry only, or both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry is recorded in a separate part, figures being given separately for the members of the family working and for hired workers. On the reverse of the Household Schedule is the Census Population Record containing the name, sex, relation to the head of the household, age, marital status and nature of work of each person in the household compiled from the Individual Slips relating to the household. This "Census Population Record" has replaced the National Register of Citizens prepared after 1951 enumeration.

The third schedule used during enumeration is the Individual Slip. The form used during the 1961 Census enumeration is the product of an attempt to reconcile the view that there should be minimum change from past schedules so as to ensure 1961 Census data being useful for comparison with the data of previous Censuses, and the view that the Census should collect information which will meet the needs of the present day. In the 1961 enumeration slip all the questions are printed in full. In 1951, only the serial numbers of the questions were printed on the slip. The Enumerator was given a separate chart giving the full question indicated by each serial number. The conscientious enumerator was saved in 1961 the trouble of looking into the chart every time he recorded an answer and the less conscientious ones who relied on their memory could commit fewer mistakes as the questions stared them in the face while they recorded replies. The most significant change from 1951 Individual Slip is in the form of questions relating to economic activity of the individual. Work has been emphasised and not income. Special efforts have been made to ensure that family workers, i.e., persons who assist in the family cultivation or family industry or family business but do not get any separate income apart from that accruing to the family as a whole, are recorded as workers and the nature of work done by them is mentioned.

The instructions of 1961 also indicated the procedure to be followed in recording in respect of persons engaged in more than one type of economic activity, the several activities, up to three, in the order of importance. The activity which claimed the largest portion of the working time was to be shown as the principal work and the others as the first subsidiary and second subsidiary, in the decreasing order of time devoted to each. Though secondary means of livelihood was recorded in 1951 also, the concept was different. The secondary means of livelihood recorded as such in the slip was actually a subsidiary item of work only to a self-supporting person. For an earning dependent, the activity recorded as secondary means of livelihood was actually the principal item of work, as the instructions of 1951 were to the effect that all earning dependants should be shown as having the same principal means of livelihood as the person on whom they are dependant.

In 1961 the class of the worker is recorded in the case of all persons other than those working as cultivators and agricultural labourers. In Household Industry, paid employees are recorded as such. In other economic activities, the worker is classified as an employer or employee or family worker or single worker. In 1951 the nature of the worker was shown under only three heads, viz., Employer, Employee and Independent worker and this classification was made only in respect of self-supporting persons. While the 1951 enumeration divided all persons not gainfully employed only into two categories, viz., those unemployed and seeking employment and those not seeking employment or not available for employment, the 1961 enumeration has endeavoured to collect detailed information regarding the class of persons grouped under the head "Not available for employment" in 1951. Such persons are classified as dependants, housewives, students, retired persons, beggars or inmates of Institutions as the case may be.

The Individual Slip is filled up separately for each person enumerated. Some abbreviations were evolved in English and the local languages for recording replies commonly expected so as to reduce the time spent by the Enumerator on scriptory work. These abbreviations were printed on a card of handy size and each Enumerator/Supervisor was given a card in the appropriate language. The card in English is reproduced as Part III in Annexure III. The slips and schedules required for use in this State were got printed in three languages, Kannada, English and Marathi in the proportion of 54 : 1 : 1.

Organisation of Census Operations

The preparatory work for the Census enumeration in February-March 1961 was organised in six different phases. The first of these six phases consisted of the listing and numbering of houses. This operation was carried out in the middle of 1960, through the agency of Revenue staff in rural areas and Municipal staff in urban areas. The second phase was the formation of Blocks. As stated earlier the Houselists provided the basic material for the demarcation of the Blocks. It was decided that a Block should, subject to geographical compactness and contiguity, consist of about 150 households in the rural areas and about 120 households in the urban areas, with a view primarily to ensuring that the workload on each Enumerator was the same. It was also considered essential that a Census Block should have well-demarcated boundaries. In the rural areas each village was formed into a separate Block, the larger villages being split up into a number of blocks, care being taken to see that no block covered parts of more than one village. In the urban areas, Blocks and Circles were so formed that no Block or Circle cut across any Municipal Division, Ward or Mohalla. After the formation of the Blocks, a notional map was prepared for each village showing the Block boundaries, the run of the house numbers and the important landmarks such as roads, temples, schools, etc. Taluk and Town maps were got prepared showing the boundaries of the Blocks and Circles and indicating therein the location code numbers also.

The third phase consisted of the appointment of Census Officers. In the first instance, the whole State was divided into 22 units—19 District units and 3 City units. Each of the nineteen District units was in the overall charge of a District Census Officer and a City Census Officer was appointed to be in the overall charge of each of the Cities of Bangalore, Mysore and Kolar Gold Fields. Under District/City Census Officers, came the Charge Superintendents, who were directly responsible for carrying out satisfactorily all the functions connected with the taking of the Census in their respective charges. A rural charge comprised all villages of the Taluk and the Tahsildar of the Taluk was the Charge Superintendent. In Urban areas, each Town/City was a separate charge, the exceptions being the Cities of Bangalore, Mysore and Kolar Gold Fields, which were divided into more than one charge. In the case of all towns other than the three cities mentioned above, the Charge Superintendent was the Chief Officer/Executive Officer of the Municipality if there was one and the Tahsildar/Deputy Tahsildar of the Taluk in other cases. Next in the Census hierarchy is the Supervisor in charge of a Circle comprising about 5 to 6 Blocks. His duty was to supervise the work of the Enumerators under his charge. The Enumerators and the Supervisors were mostly drafted from various departments of the Central and State Governments, and the Local Bodies.

The fourth phase related to the training of the Census Staff. A thorough training was imparted by the Superintendent of Census Operations and the Deputy Superintendents of Census Operations to the charge Superintendents, Supervisors and the Enumerators. In the training classes, the exact import of each term was explained clearly by giving concrete examples. A practical demonstration of filling up the slips was also given at the end of each training class.

The fifth and the most important stage was the enumeration. Enumeration commenced on the 10th February 1961 and continued up to the end of February, 1961. As the reference date for the Census was the sunrise of 1st March, 1961 it was necessary to ascertain whether any births or deaths had taken place during the interval between the last visit of the Enumerator to the household and the reference date. A revisional round was therefore made by the Enumerator from 1st to 5th March, 1961 for the purpose of ascertaining the changes, if any, which had occurred between the filling up of the Household Schedule and Individual Slips for the household concerned and the sunrise of 1st March, 1961 and necessary corrections were made.

The next and the final phase was the compilation of the provisional Totals. To facilitate early computation of the provisional figures, two abstracts were prescribed for being completed by the Enumerators. The Enumerator was instructed to write in the household schedule abstract the number of households for which information was recorded. The information in respect of all the blocks in the Circle was totalled up to give the figure for the Circle. The pad abstract on the cover of each pad had to be filled up by the Enumerator. This furnished information about the total number of males and females, and also the number of literates among them. The figures obtained from the abstracts of all the pads used in a Block were compiled in the Block Abstract and the results sent to the Supervisor. The Supervisors prepared Circle Summaries in the prescribed forms on the basis of Block Abstract and sent them to the Charge Superintendent. The Charge Superintendents in their turn prepared the Charge Summaries for their respective charges.

The District City Summaries were prepared by the respective District/City Census Officers. The provisional population of the State was worked out from the District and City Summaries.

Enumeration of Houseless Population

The enumeration will not be complete if only persons living in the houses are counted. There are houseless people also, such as beggars, vagrants, etc., without a permanent place of abode. These are found sleeping out in the open or at the bus stand, railway station and such other places. There may be persons who though having houses may be on the move during the period of enumeration in pilgrim specials, ships, boats and the like. Such houseless and mobile population was enumerated on the night of 28th February 1961. The houseless persons were counted in their usual places of haunt. In the rural areas, where the enumerator sometimes had charge of more than one village it was permissible to count the houseless persons on the following night also. Special arrangements were made with the co-operation of the Railway Board to enumerate pilgrims travelling by Pilgrim Specials, which had started on their journey before the day of commencement of enumeration and were on the move even at the end of the period of enumeration. The Railway Board had instructed all General Managers to furnish details of the pilgrims and other special trains that would be on the move during the entire period of enumeration and the exact stations they would stop on the night of the last day of enumeration. Special enumeration staff who were afforded all facilities by the Railway, enumerated all such mobile persons on the night of 28th February, 1961.

A calendar of events indicating the various stages of Census operations is set out in Annexure IV.

The following are some of the unique features of the 1961 Census.

(i) Village and Town Maps

For the first time in the Census History, an attempt has been made to get maps prepared, though they are merely notional, for all the villages and towns of the State. In the maps are shown the demarcation of Census Blocks, arrangement of houses within the blocks, the run of house numbers, etc., apart from the permanent landmarks of the village, town such as temples, important buildings, important roads, rivers, tanks, canals, etc.

(ii) Uniform Houselists and Housing Tables

The houselists also, as explained already contain rich information regarding all the buildings, structures, houses and households of the State. A common form of Houselist has been designed for adoption by all States and Union Territories in the country. The information collected from the Houselists has been analysed and some Tables have been prepared. These Tables along with some Subsidiary Tables are being published as a separate volume. The Tables that will be published in the Housing Report are listed in Annexure V.

(iii) Household Schedules and Census Population Record

The collection of information for the household as a unit in the Household Schedule has also been done for the first time in 1961. The Census Population Record replaces National Register of Citizens in the 1951 Census.

(iv) Household Economic Tables

These Tables have been prepared from a 20 per cent sample of the household schedules. Part III of the State Census volume contains the Household Economic Tables. The several Tables comprising Part III are listed in Annexure V.

(v) Industrial and Occupational classifications as distinct from classification of Livelihood

For the first time in the Indian Census history, a cross tabulation of the industry and occupation of the workers, i.e., the nature of industry/business/profession/service and the nature of work done by the workers, has been done in the 1961 Census. The workers are divided into nine categories as against eight Livelihood classes of 1951 Census. All Non-workers have been brought under separate category. In the 1951 Census, on the other hand, the emphasis was on income rather than work and the persons in each livelihood class were sub-divided into three groups, viz., Self-supporting persons, Earning Dependents and Non-earning dependents. The emphasis on income led to a substantial proportion of family workers getting included under Non-earning dependents. The workers have been assigned in 1961 into different categories on the basis of their economic activity with reference to the "Standard Industrial Classification" adopted by the Government of India and issued by the Director of Employment Exchanges. The Standard Industrial Classification covers all types of economic activity arranged in 9 Divisions, 45 Major Groups and 343 Minor Groups.

While deciding the occupational classification of the workers, the actual work done by the worker has been the criterion and all types of work have been accommodated in the 331 Occupational families which constitute 75 occupational groups included in the 11 occupational divisions of the "National Classification of Occupations" issued by the Directorate-General of Resettlement and Employment, Ministry of Labour and Employment, Government of India.

With the adoption of the nine categories of workers and one category of Non-workers, there are only two categories, viz., Cultivators and Agricultural labourers for all workers in agriculture as against four in 1951—three for workers (Cultivators of land wholly or mainly owned, Cultivators of land wholly or mainly unowned and cultivating labourers) and one for Non-cultivating owners of land and agricultural rent receivers, who are included under Non-workers in 1961. Household Industry finds a separate place, Electricity, Gas, Water Supply and Sanitary services are shifted from "Production (other than cultivation)" in 1951 to "IX Other Services" in 1961. "Construction" which was included in "VIII—Other services and miscellaneous sources" in 1951 is now brought under a separate category "VI—Construction". "Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting, Orchard and Plantation work and allied activities" which were under "V—Production" in 1951 are now shown as a new category "III—Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting, Orchard and Plantation work and allied activities".

(vi) Special Migrants' Tables

A study has been made of the Migrant Population in the Bangalore Metropolitan Area and Part X of the Census volume relating to Mysore State will cover this study also. Some Tables have been prepared on the various cultural and demographic aspects of the Migrant Population of Bangalore Metropolitan Area.

(vii) Tables for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

Tables have been prepared furnishing some important figures relating to each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe in the State. This is the first time in Census history that a large number of Tables have been prepared in respect of each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe. These Special SCT/SC/ST Tables which will be presented in Part V of the State Volume have been enumerated in Annexure V.

(viii) Age Classification

In the Tables of the 1961 Census, age has been tabulated against quite a good number of characteristics. Table C IV which gives the single year age returns has been prepared on full count and not for a sample as in the earlier Censuses. Age is also a factor in a number of other tables where the data have been presented by age groups. In some of these tables only four broad age groups, viz., 0—14 years, 15-34 years, 35-59 years, 60 years and over are used while in some others the data are presented mostly for quinquennial age groups. Marital status, educational levels and industrial classification of workers, are some of the characteristics presented for age groups.

(ix) Classification by Educational Qualifications

Successful planning of future educational progress to fit in with the country's economic development and proper utilization of the country's man power are dependent on an accurate information regarding education of the population. A systematic analysis has been made regarding the educational levels attained and Tables have been constructed on this basis. The following levels have been made use of in different Tables dealing with education :

Rural Areas :

1. Literate (without educational level).
2. Primary or Junior Basic.
3. Matriculation and above.

Urban Areas :

1. Literate (without educational level).
2. Primary or Junior Basic.
3. Matriculation or Higher Secondary.
4. Technical diploma not equal to degree.
5. Non-technical diploma not equal to degree.
6. University degree or post-graduate degree other than technical degree.
7. Technical degree or diploma equal to degree or post-graduate degree:—

- (a) Engineering
- (b) Medicine
- (c) Agriculture
- (d) Veterinary and Dairying
- (e) Technology
- (f) Teaching
- (g) Others.

(x) Classification of Non-Workers

For the first time in the Census history, information has been collected and tabulated on the various categories of non-workers. The following are the categories into which the non-workers have been classified :

- (a) Full-time students or children attending schools who do no other work, such as make articles at home for sale nor even help part-time in their own family cultivation, industry, trade or business ;
- (b) Persons engaged in unpaid home duties (like housewives or other adult females) who do no other work such as make articles at home for sale or wages, nor help regularly even part-time in family cultivation industry, trade or business ;
- (c) Dependents including infants or children not attending School, persons permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age ;
- (d) Retired persons who are not employed again, rentiers, persons living on agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend or any other persons of independent means for securing which they do not have to work and who do no other work ;
- (e) Beggars, vagrants or independent women without indication of source of income and others of unspecified sources of income ;
- (f) Convicts in jails, inmates of penal, mental and charitable institutions ;
- (g) Persons who have not been employed before, but are seeking employment for the first time ;
- (h) Persons employed before but now out of employment and seeking employment.

Post Enumeration Check

Though all possible efforts are made to enumerate during the Census reference period all persons in the country, it is not always possible to ensure cent per cent coverage. Error in the count may be caused in two ways. The first may arise due to omission or duplication of houses. The second type of error may be caused by omission and over-counting of persons in the enumerated houses. Both these errors, though very insignificant so far as the magnitude is concerned, deserve to be measured, so that it is possible to assess the reliability of the population count. To find out the error involved in the Census count due to the above mentioned reasons, a post enumeration check was made in one percent of the rural blocks and two percent of the urban blocks. In Mysore State data for 380 rural and 124 urban blocks were obtained for the Post Enumeration Check.

Verification of the coverage of Census houses was done by the Verification Officer who was deputed from an adjoining block. He prepared an independent list of every house in the selected block, whether vacant or occupied, and recorded some identification particulars such as the Census number, name of the head of the Household, whether residential or not, etc., in respect of each census house. The information listed out by him was compared with the list of houses prepared independently by the Charge Superintendent from the original Census Schedules. Any omission or duplication in the Census of houses was discovered by matching these two records and investigating the discrepancies by the Charge Superintendent. By this procedure the magnitude of error in the population figures of the block, due to omission and duplication of houses was obtained.

The error due to missing or overcounting of population in the houses covered during the enumeration was done by a revisit to a sample of houses in each selected block by the Verification Officer. In rural areas the sample consisted of one in every 10 houses and in urban areas one in every 20 houses. The Verification Officer was given by the Charge Superintendent a list of inmates of the houses residing in these selected census houses. To assess the reliability of the work of the Verification Officer in 50 per cent of the houses spurious names were introduced in the list and in the remaining, name of one of the inmates of the house was deleted from the list. The Verification Officer was told that such changes had been made and if his verification is thorough, he should locate the 'ghosts' and the 'missing' persons apart from persons actually missed or overcounted during enumeration.

The results of the Post Enumeration Check confirm that the error in the population figures by either causes is very small. An analysis of the returns of Post Enumeration Check received in the Census office revealed that out of 30,310 houses covered by the rural blocks selected for Post Enumeration Check only 65 houses have been reported as missed and 8 houses as duplicated in the actual enumeration. In Urban areas, however, the magnitude of the error is somewhat higher. Out of 12,899 houses in the selected blocks, 102 were reported as missed and one house was reported duplicated.

The accuracy of the population of the houses covered by the enumeration is based on the checking of the records of sampled houses (3,032 rural houses and 596 urban houses). It revealed that out of a Population of 17,541 verified in rural blocks, 138 persons were missed and 19 were overcounted. In urban blocks, out of a population of 3,702 verified, 32 were found to have been missed and 2 overcounted.

The two results based on (a) resurvey of houses in the selected block and (b) resurvey of selected enumerated houses mentioned above were combined so as to obtain an overall estimate of under-or over-counting in Census. An unbiased estimate of the number of persons in the missed houses was obtained by raising the observed number by the reciprocal of sampling fraction of blocks. The estimated figure divided by the Census Population gave the percentage error on this account. This percentage came to 0.13 in rural and 0.50 in urban. Similarly, an unbiased estimate of number of persons not missed or duplicated was obtained by raising the observed figures by the reciprocal of the overall sampling fraction in the two-stage sampling. The number of persons so obtained was divided by the Censused population to get this percentage error. This percentage was 1.25 in rural and 1.13 in urban. Total of the two percentage errors gave the net percentage under-or over-counting in the Census. This percentage was 1.38 in rural and 1.63 in urban. Sampling error of the estimate was calculated in the usual manner. On the basis of these calculations it can be stated that the upper and lower limits of the actual population of the State was between 1,004 and 1,037 per thousand shown by the Census with a 99.7 per cent confidence level. In other words, it can be stated with 99.7 per cent confidence that the actual population of the State could be between 23,681,119 and 24,459,483.

1. Brief account of charges in areas of Mysore State and Districts from 1901 to 1961

The present State of Mysore is a new State which came into existence on 1st November 1956 under the States Reorganisation Act. The Part B State of Mysore and the Part C State of Coorg as they existed immediately prior to 1st November 1956 have been included in their entirety in the new State of Mysore and parts of the States of Bombay, Hyderabad and Madras as they existed immediately before 1st November 1956 have also been included in the new State of Mysore. The area and population (as per 1951 Census) contributed by each of these five units to the new State of Mysore are as follows :

	Area in Sq. miles.	Population 1951
Old Mysore State including the portion of Bellary District of Madras State transferred to Mysore State under Andhra State Act 1953.	33,310	9,848,684
Areas transferred from Bombay State under States Reorganisation Act	20,984	5,135,746
Areas transferred from Hyderabad State under States Reorganisation Act	13,789	2,718,296
Areas transferred from Madras State under States Reorganisation Act	4,313	1,469,825
Coorg State	1,595	229,405

The present State of Mysore being a new State which came into existence only on 1st November 1956, it may appear at first sight that changes in the areas of the State cannot be traced prior to 1956. However, the old State of Mysore is the corresponding State for the new State of Mysore under the States Reorganisation Act and in dealing with changes in area at the State level, only the erstwhile State of Mysore is considered.

The former State of Mysore came into existence in 1799 A.D. after the Fourth Mysore War and the extent included in it remained unchanged up to 1950. The figures given in the succeeding Census Reports, however, show a small variation as the area at each Census was based on the best available figures. In 1941, the area was 29,458 Sq. miles. In January 1950, there was an exchange of enclave areas between the State of Mysore and the Province of Madras under the Provinces and States (Absorption of Enclaves) Order 1950. These exchanges resulted in an increase in the area of the State and the total area of the State became 29,489 Sq. miles.

The next change in the area of the State was in October 1953 when the Bellary District of Madras State excluding the taluks of Adoni, Alur and Rayadurg was transferred to the State of Mysore under the Andhra State Act. 1953. This resulted in an addition of 3,821 Sq. miles to the area of the State.

The last change in the area of the State was that under the States Reorganisation Act, and the details of the transfers under the Act have been referred to already.

The variation in areas of the individual districts except Mysore and Mandya between 1911 and 1951 is too small to be of any significance in the present context. Even the changes between 1901 and 1911 were of a very minor nature except in the case of Raichur, Gulbarga and Bidar Districts. However, the districts which underwent changes in their respective jurisdictions in each decade has been listed below.

(A) BETWEEN 1901 AND 1911 :

- (i) Belgaum and Bijapur Districts :—1 village was transferred from Belgaum District to Bijapur District.
- (ii) Raichur, Gulbarga and Bidar Districts :—The District of Lingsugur in Hyderabad State was abolished and there was a large scale redistribution of jurisdiction between the districts of Hyderabad State, and this affected the districts of Raichur, Gulbarga and Bidar. The details of these changes are not available. The following extract from the 1911 Census Report of Hyderabad State would be of interest in this connection :

“Owing to the general readjustment of districts between 1901 and 1911, the talukas have undergone changes to such an extent as to render the figures for 1901 valueless for purposes of comparison. The process of adjustment of population to correspond with the present taluka areas would entail labour quite out of proportion to the results”.

(B) BETWEEN 1911 AND 1921 :

- (i) Belgaum and Dharwar Districts :—1 village was transferred from Belgaum District to Dharwar District.
- (ii) Bidar and Gulbarga Districts :—Kalyani Jagir was transferred from Bidar District to Gulbarga District.

(C) BETWEEN 1921 AND 1931 : No change in any district.

(D) BETWEEN 1931 AND 1941 :

- (i) Mysore and Mandya Districts :—The District of Mysore was bifurcated into two districts namely Mysore and Mandya.

(E) BETWEEN 1941 AND 1951 :

There were minor changes in Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur, Chitradurga, Bellary, Shimoga and South Kanara Districts on account of exchange of enclaves between Mysore State and Madras Province and in Dharwar, Bijapur, Raichur and Gulbarga Districts on account of exchange of enclaves between Bombay Province and Hyderabad State.

Sandur State merged in Bellary District.

Belgaum, Bijapur and Dharwar Districts absorbed the areas of the Princely States within them, which had merged in Bombay State. The details of the number of villages from each Princely State absorbed in each of the three districts are as follows :

District in which Villages have merged	Number of Villages from each of the former Princely States transferred to Districts in Column 1													Total
	Aundh	Jam-khandi	Jath	Kurund-wad Sr.	Kurund-wad Jr.	Mudhol	Ram-durg	San-gli	Savanur	Wadi Jagir	Kolhapur	Miraj Sr.	Miraj Jr.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15
Belgaum	..	7	4	23	23	..	32	64	..	1	90	3	2	249

Dharwar	..	16	..	..	..	..	7	73	25	..	..	17	15	153

Extensive changes in the jurisdiction of Bidar District have taken place in the decade. With the abolition of Atraf-I-Balda District, Bidar got all the Sarf-e-Khas areas of Humnabad Taluk. Apart from this, all the districts of Hyderabad State were reconstituted owing to the abolition of Sarf-e-Khas, Inam, Jagirs and other rights. This reconstitution involved transfer of some villages among the districts, but the principal change in the districts of Raichur, Bidar and Gulbarga was the transfer of Kalyani Jagir area from Gulbarga District to Bidar District.

(F) CHANGES BETWEEN 1951 AND 1961 :

These changes will be dealt with under three heads : Viz. (i) Minor changes between districts effected by the State Governments ; (ii) Changes under Andhra State Act, 1953 and (iii) Changes under States Reorganisation Act, 1956.

(i) Changes between districts effected by the State Governments :—There were only three minor changes. The first was the transfer of three villages, Viz. Bhoinyar K, Bhoinyar B and Khanapur from Bidar District to Gulbarga District in 1951. The second was due to the transfer of Hoskoti Vadeyar Village from Belgaum District to Bijapur District in 1952 and the third was the transfer of Kurgahalli and Mydanahalli Villages from Mandya District to Mysore District in 1957.

(ii) Changes under Andhra State Act, 1953 :—Under the Andhra State Act, 1953, Adoni and Alur Taluks of Bellary District were transferred to Kurnool District and Rayadurg Taluk of Bellary District to Anantapur District.

(iii) Changes under States Reorganisation Act, 1956 :—States Reorganisation affected Belgaum, Mysore, South Kanara, Gulbarga, Raichur and Bidar Districts. Chandgad Taluk was taken away from Belgaum District, Kasargod Taluk and Amindivi Islands from South Kanara District, Tandur and Kodangal Taluks from Gulbarga District, Alampur and Gadwal Taluks from Raichur District, Narayankhed, Udgir, Nilanga, Ahmedapur and Zahirabad (except Nirna Circle) Taluks and Nyalkal Circle of Bidar Taluk from Bidar District. Mysore District got Kollegal Taluk from Coimbatore District.

Changes in the Area of Districts from 1901

2. Effects of Andhra State Act, 1953 and States Reorganisation Act, 1956

The area and population of the State have more than doubled owing to the changes brought about by the Andhra State Act, 1953, under which the present Bellary District merged with Mysore State, and the States Reorganisation Act 1956, which accounted for the merger of the present Belgaum, Bidar, Bijapur, Coorg, Dharwar, Gulbarga, North Kanara, Raichur and South Kanara Districts and Kollegal Taluk. To speak in terms of the extent and population of the merged areas, Mysore State gained an area of 44,405 Sq. miles and a population of 12,427,639 as per 1961 Census on account of the merger of the aforementioned areas in the decade 1951-61. The extent and the population of the areas of Mysore State as it existed in 1951 would be 29,442 Sq. miles and 11,159,133 persons respectively as per the Census, 1961. Thus it could be seen that the combined effect of the above two Acts has increased the area and population of the Old Mysore State by 150.82 per cent and 111.37 per cent respectively in "terms of 1961 Census figures".

3. Figures of Surveyor General and Commissioner for Land Records, Survey and Settlement

The following table, gives the districtwise figures of areas as per the Surveyor General, India and the Commissioner for Land Records, Survey and Settlement in Mysore.

District	Area in Sq. miles		District	Area in Sq. miles
	Surveyor-General of India	Commissioner for Land Records, Survey and Settlement		Surveyor-General of India	Commissioner for Land Records, Survey and Settlement
MYSORE STATE	74,210	73,846	10. Gulbarga	6,332	6,271
1. Bangalore	3,081	3,124	11. Hassan	2,638	2,680
2. Belgaum	5,163	5,156	12. Kolar	3,188	3,180
3. Bellary	3,825	3,821	13. Mandya	1,924	1,873
4. Bidar	2,119	2,078	14. Mysore	4,617	4,534
5. Bijapur	6,594	6,567	15. North Kanara	3,965	3,976
6. Chikmagalur	2,787	2,824	16. Raichur	5,491	5,435
7. Chitradurga	4,185	4,171	17. Shimoga	4,066	4,058
8. Coorg	1,587	1,590	18. South Kanara	3,249	3,150
9. Dharwar	5,303	5,284	19. Tumkur	4,066	4,074

The area figures according to these sources for the State as a whole are remarkably close to each other. Even in case of districts the difference between the figures furnished by the above sources is not more than 100 Sq. miles. The small difference in the district figures could be attributed to the different methods adopted by these sources for measuring the area. It is also relevant to point out that under the Bombay system of land survey which has been followed all over the State except Bellary, Coorg and South Kanara Districts and Kollegal Taluk, the area of a village is built up from total area of the constituent survey numbers to which is added the estimated area of land not constituted into survey numbers such as rivers flowing through a village and main roads. The estimates of areas of unnumbered land in thousands of villages is thus bound to differ from the area given by the Surveyor General based on measurement of entire tracts by the trigonometrical method.

4. Changes in Jurisdiction in State, Districts, Taluks and Villages

In the decade 1951-61, the area of the State as already stated earlier, underwent two major changes. The first of them was effected when Bellary District excluding Alur, Adoni and Rayadurg Taluks was transferred to Mysore State from Madras State, when the Andhra State Act, 1953 came into force. With the merger of Bellary District, the area of this State increased from 29,489 Sq. miles to 33,310 Sq. miles.

The next change in the State's jurisdiction is the outcome of States Reorganisation Act, 1956, under which the areas as listed below were formed into the New Mysore State.

- (i) the territories of the State of Mysore as it existed on the eve of the States Reorganisation.
- (ii) Belgaum District except Chandgad Taluk, Bijapur, Dharwar and Kanara Districts in the then existing State of Bombay.
- (iii) (a) Gulbarga District except Kodangal and Tandur Taluks.
(b) Raichur District except Alampur and Gadwal Taluks.
(c) Humnabad, Bhalki and Santapur (Aurad) Taluks, Bidar Taluk except Nyalkal Circle and Nirna Circle of Zahirabad Taluk of Bidar District in the then existing State of Hyderabad.
- (iv) South Kanara District except Kasargod Taluk and Amindivi Islands and Kollegal Taluk of Coimbatore District in the then existing State of Madras.
- (v) the territories of the then existing State of Coorg.

Consequent on these changes, the area of the State increased from 33,310 Sq. miles to 73,846 Sq. miles.

There are three cases of inter-district transfers of villages in the decade :

- (i) 3 villages of Khanapur, Bhoinyar K and Bhoinyar B in Humnabad Taluk of Bidar District were transferred in 1951 to Chincholi Taluk of Gulbarga District.
- (ii) Hoskoti Vadayar Village in Ramdurg Taluk of Belgaum District was transferred to Badami Taluk of Bijapur District with effect from 1st August 1952 (Vide Government of Bombay Resolution No. 6342/49, dated 6th May 1952).
- (iii) 2 villages Kurgahalli and Mydanahalli of Srirangapatna Taluk of Mandya District were transferred to Mysore Taluk of Mysore District in 1957 (Vide Government of Mysore Order No. RD 218 FT 57, dated 7th May 1957).

The number of transfer of villages between taluks of the same district is quite appreciable in number.

In Bellary District, a new taluk with Mallapuram as Headquarters was formed by drawing 7 villages from Hospet Taluk and 25 villages from Hadagalli Taluk, with effect from 1st April 1960.

In Coorg District, 3 taluks have been created from the 2 taluks which existed at the commencement of the decade [Vide Chief Commissioner of Coorg Notification No. A1. 21776/Eatt. 2/53 (A.C.)49, dated 13th November 1953]. The following table reveals the present position :

Name of the Present Taluk	Name of the transferred 'Nad' or Hobli from the old Taluk
	North Coorg	South Coorg
Somvarpet Taluk	Sanivarsanthe Hobli, Fraserpet Hobli, Somvarpet Nad, Suntikoppa Nad	Villages of Abbiatmangala and Nellia Hudkeri (which were in Ammathi Nad)
Virajpet Taluk	Nil	Ammathi Nad except Abbiatmangala and Nellia Hudkeri Villages. Ponnampet Nad, Srimangala Nad, Virajapet Nad.
Mercara Taluk	Mercara Nad, Bhagamandala Nad	Napoklu Nad

The above changes took effect from 15th December 1953. Between 1954 and 1961, 2 more villages of South Coorg Taluk (viz. Kudlur Shettalli and Valnur Thyagathur) were transferred to Somvarpet Taluk.

In Kolar District, 6 villages of Mulbagal Taluk (viz. Kanampalli, Karangi, Rajagundlahalli, Mattakanna Sandra, Channagarahalli and Yamanuru) have been transferred to Srinivasapur Taluk under Government of Mysore, G.O. No. RD. 10 SST. 57, dated 25th April 1957.

In South Kanara District the number of transfers of villages has been too many during the decade. Two new taluks were formed, first Belthangady Taluk and subsequently Buntwal Taluk. As almost all taluks of the district were affected consequent on the formation of the aforesaid two taluks, it is felt desirable to give the position in a tabular form :

Statement of transfer of villages between taluks of South Kanara District—Position as on 1st October 1959

Name of New Taluk	Number of Villages transferred from the Old Taluks of					Total No. of Villages
	Coondapur	Karkal	Mangalore	Puttur	Udipi
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Belthangady	..	29	..	52	..	81
Buntwal	..	..	61	24	..	85
Karkal	..	75	3	..	..	78
Coondapur	100	..	..	..	1	101
Mangalore	..	..	103	..	..	103
Puttur	..	..	..	107	..	107
Udipi	..	..	1	..	113	114

The changes in the jurisdiction of villages, however, are too numerous to be mentioned here. These changes are in the form of merger of villages in part or full with the adjoining towns, merger of two or more inhabited villages, amalgamation of Becharak villages with the neighbouring inhabited villages. However, one or two major changes which have taken place in the jurisdiction of villages in the decade have been given below :

In Dharwar District, in accordance with Mysore Government G.O. No. RD 18 BND 58, dated 23-1/6-2-1959, 224 uninhabited villages of Dharwar District were amalgamated with the adjoining villages. Similarly in North Kanara District also, 41 villages have amalgamated with the adjoining Villages. But in this case, all these 41 villages are not depopulated.

5. Rural and Urban Population

DEFINITION OF URBAN AREA IN 1961

For the first time in the 1961 Census, uniform and somewhat rigid tests were sought to be applied throughout the country for an area to be recognised as an Urban unit. The criteria prescribed are :

(1) All Municipalities, Cantonments, Notified Areas and other places enjoying recognised local administration like civil lines will be treated automatically as towns :

(2) For other areas the eligibility yard sticks applied are :

- (a) a population of not less than 5,000 ;
- (b) a density of not less than 1,000 persons per square mile ; and
- (c) at least three-fourths of the adult male population should be employed in pursuits other than agriculture.

The Superintendents of Census Operations were empowered to treat as towns any other place which while not fulfilling any of the conditions mentioned above possessed pronounced urban characteristics and amenities.

The following statements will reveal the changes made in the list of towns of 1951 Census in Classes IV, V and VI after adopting the new criteria for towns of 1961 Census :

Statement showing the names of towns of 1951 Census in Classes IV, V and VI, which have been eliminated in 1961

Note.—*The area corresponding to Bankapur Town of 1951 Census is spread over 4 villages, viz. Ankadkhan, Kottigeri, Shabazar and Khajanpur in 1961. The population 9,763 of 1961 is the aggregate of the population of these 4 villages.

†These places were temporary camps of Tungabhadra Project and their separate existence is now extinct. In 1951 Census, these Camps were generally part of the villages bearing the same name and the demarcation between the Camp area and the rural area of the village is not available.

7. Definition of 'Village'

No distinction has been made between a 'Census Village' and a 'Revenue Village'. The census village includes all areas within the jurisdiction of the revenue village, such as the main settlement, the hamlets, and the scattered and even isolated homesteads within the boundaries of the revenue village. The boundaries of the revenue village are well demarcated as per the cadastral survey map of the Survey and Settlement Department. The survey maps of all villages of the State are available with the taluk and village authorities.

Any area included within the jurisdiction of an urban area as defined in Section 5 supra has been excluded from the census village.

A revenue village without any inhabitants is termed 'Uninhabited' or 'Bechirak'.

Note :—*Districts and States as they existed in that Census.

In the table shown above, the number of villages for each district has been given without adjusting for the territorial changes that have taken place from time to time. Thus the figures represent only the position as the districts and States existed at the various Censuses.

9. In the table furnished in the precedent section, we find that large scale variation in the number of villages appears only in two decades, viz. 1941-1951 and 1951-1961. The changes in the decade 1941-51 are mainly due to the transfer of enclave villages between the neighbouring Provinces and States and also the merger of villages of the Princely States with the districts in 1948. The variation in the number of villages in the several district in the decade is mainly due to the following two changes :

The first one is due to the creation of Andhra State in 1953 when the District of Bellary except Alur, Adoni and Rayadurg Taluks merged with Mysore State. The second is due to the States Reorganisation Act, 1956, when parts of Raichur, Gulbarga, Bidar, Belgaum, South Kanara and Coimbatore Districts have merged with the present State of Mysore along with Bijapur, Dharwar, North Kanara and Coorg Districts which merged en block with Mysore State,

11. The statement in the preceding section gives some idea of the progress of urbanisation. As a similar statement was not prepared in 1951, it is not possible to draw pointed reference to the progress of urbanisation during the decade 1951-61.

Villages near cities and big towns acquire urban characteristics gradually by association, and in due course get merged in the urban unit. Most of the Municipal Councils or corresponding local Government authorities in charge of urban areas are, however, reluctant to include villages nearby within the urban unit until the village has reached almost the same level of development as the urban area. Almost always there is a time lag between a village acquiring some urban characteristics and its inclusion in an urban unit. Even when such inclusion is finally decided on, only the portion of the village actually adjoining the urban unit is included and not the whole village. This practice accounts for the large number of villages, only portions of which are included in towns. In the case of Bangalore Metropolitan Area and Kargal Project Area, the entire area which is subject to urban influences has been treated as a single urban unit for census purposes, though the areas are not single administrative units. This accounts for the large number of villages included in towns in Bangalore and Shimoga Districts. The Kolar Gold Fields Sanitary Board is, however, unique in that, apart from the area which is given full urban amenities, the sanitary board controls general sanitation in a belt area mostly rural in character, with a view to safeguarding the health of the mining centre. Thus a large number of villages in Kolar District also get included in urban units.

Most of the other towns are confined to two or three villages except bigger cities like Mysore and Hubli Dharwar Town-Group.

12. Census Houses

A 'Census House' is defined to be a structure or a part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or used for non residential purposes such as or place of business, workshop, school, etc., having a separate entrance.

If a building has a number of flats or blocks which have separate entrances of their own and are independent of each other giving on the road or a common staircase or a common court-yard leading to a main gate, each flat or block has been considered as a separate census house. If within an enclosed or open compound there are separate buildings, then each such building has also been treated as a separate census house. If all the structures within an enclosed compound are together treated as one building, then each structure with a separate entrance has been treated as a separate census house.

As distinct from census house, a Census Household is defined to be a group of persons who commonly live together in the same census house and who would take their meals from a common kitchen unless exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so.

13. Occupied Residential Houses

If a census house was occupied by one or more census households then it was regarded as an Occupied Residential House. All vacant and those used for non-dwelling purposes at the time of enumeration have not been accounted for either in the Primary Census Abstract or in any other Table.

(ii). Persons per occupied census house.—The average number of persons per occupied census house in the State is 6 in rural as well as urban areas. There is not much variation from district to district in this respect. In fourteen districts, the number of persons per census house in urban areas and in eight districts the number of persons per census house in rural areas is the same as for the State as a whole. In Bellary and Rajahmundry Districts, however, there are only 5 persons per census house both in rural and urban areas. While all districts except Bidar exhibit 5 or 6 persons per occupied census house in their rural and urban areas, it is only in the urban areas of Bidar District we find as many as 7 persons per occupied census house. This is mainly due to Bidar (with 9 persons per census house) and Kalyani (with 8 persons per census house) towns which contribute the bulk of urban population in this district having a higher degree of congestion.

Comparing the sex ratios in the different districts, it is found that in South Kanara District both in rural and urban areas, the females outnumber the males while in other districts, it is the other way in varying degrees. The excess of females in South Kanara is as much as 97 per 1,000 males in rural areas, while in urban areas it is 16. The higher proportion of females is attributed to the migration of male population from this district to Bombay in search of work and to places up the Western Ghats to work as agricultural labourers. The smaller sex ratio found in urban areas than in rural areas in the district is again due to the migration of more males to cities and towns from the villages.

(iii) Percentage of Rural and Urban Population to Total Population :—Bangalore District, as can be expected has the largest proportion of urban population in the State because of the existence of Bangalore Metropolitan Area which in addition to being the administrative capital of the State is an educational, industrial and commercial centre. 54 percent of the population of the district is urban. The proportion of urban population to total population in five other districts is between 23 and 27 percent. They are Bellary (23 percent), Dharwar (27 per cent), Kolar (23 percent), Mysore (25 percent) and Shimoga (20 percent). These proportions are higher than in the remaining districts, which have between 10 and 19 percent. Comparatively higher urban population in Bellary District is due to Bellary and Hospet towns both of which are

The proportion of urban population in Coorg, Mandya and Hassan Districts is comparatively low varying between 10 percent and 13 percent. In Coorg and Hassan Districts there are very few towns that too with small populations while in Mandya District the population in rural areas is comparatively high due to cultivation of irrigated crops under Visvesvaraya Canal.

The density of rural population per square mile in Shimoga (190), Gulbarga (188), Chikmagalur (181), Coorg (177), Raichur (176) and North Kanara (144) Districts is comparatively low. Shimoga, Chikmagalur, Coorg and North Kanara Districts contain large areas of forest and hilly country. As such the rural population is scattered and sparse in these areas accounting for the low density. The low density in Gulbarga and Raichur Districts is due to the fact that they are subject to scarcity conditions very often as a result of scanty rainfall, and as such, cannot sustain as large a population per unit area as other districts.

Among the other districts, the density of urban population is considerably high. In Gulbarga, (9,844), Chitradurga (9,367) and Bidar (8,288) Districts, the high density can be traced to a few small sized towns with areas ranging from 0.1 square mile to 0.40 square mile in which the density varies from about 20,000 to 300,000 per square mile. Next in order come Mysore, Bangalore and Kolar Districts with 7,699, 6,215 and 6,650 respectively. In Mysore District, Mysore City which is the second biggest city in the State and was the seat of the ruler, and also an important educational centre has naturally a fairly high density per square mile. In this District, there are two very small towns one with an area of 0.10 square mile and the other 0.01 square mile. These also contribute to the high density of urban population in the district. Bangalore Metropolitan Area consisting of densely populated Bangalore Corporation Area and other suburbs has a fairly large concentration of population being the State's administrative capital, a great educational and industrial centre of All India importance and also being a flourishing commercial centre. The suburbs, satellite towns and extensions are well spread out and the concentration is mainly in the Corporation area only. This is the cause of low density for the district as compared to Mysore District. A fairly high density per square mile in Kolar District is due to the existence of eight out of thirteen towns with area less than one square mile, ranging between 0.10 to 0.80 square mile. Kolar Gold Fields City though having a fairly large population is spread over an area of 30 square miles in different small inhabited localities scattered all over this area. Its density is only 5,000 per square mile. Kolar Town which is the district headquarters and fairly important as a commercial centre has also a fairly high density.

Note :

1. Under Column 3, (a) represents the area figures furnished by the Surveyor General, India ; (b) represents the area figures furnished by the State Survey Department. The urban areas are based on the area of individual towns furnished by the local authorities. The rural area for State is obtained by subtracting the urban area from the State survey area.

2. The density figures of urban areas of States/India are worked out using the area figures corrected upto 2 places of decimal obtained by adding the area of individual towns in the respective units. For total and rural the density figures are worked out on area figures corrected upto 1 place of decimal.

3. Population per square mile has been calculated on area figures supplied by the State Survey Department, except in the case of Jammu and Kashmir, Andaman and Nicobar Islands and North East Frontier Agency for 'total' and 'rural' where these have been calculated on the figures supplied by the Surveyor General, India.

4. Area figures of some suburban units and Port Areas included as urban in Gujarat are not separately available. Population of these units is ignored for working out urban density. Rural density is based on the rural population only but the area figures also include the area of the urban units of which separate area is not available. The same procedure has been followed in the case of 8 towns of Goa, Daman and Diu for which area is not available.

* Surveyor General's figures. State Survey figures not available.

† These figures relate to area where All-India schedule was canvassed (i.e. for 38,705 population)

‡ The figures for North East Frontier Agency are provisional.

Note 1: Under columns 3a and 3b, (a) represents the area figures furnished by the Surveyor General of India, (b) represents the area figures furnished by the Commissioner for Settlement and Land Records in Mysore. The urban areas are based on the area of individual towns furnished by the local authorities. The rural area for a district is obtained by subtracting from the area furnished by the Commissioner for Settlement and Land Records, the urban area.

2: The Sq. kilometres and density figures of urban areas of District/State are worked out using the area figures corrected upto two places of decimals obtained by adding the areas of the Towns in the respective units and not using the area figures given in the Table. In addition to this, the area figures relating to Sq. kilometres are further adjusted to make the District/State totals tally.

3: Population per Sq. mile has been calculated on the area figures supplied by the Commissioner of Settlement and Land Records.

4: Under column 2, the following abbreviations are used: — T: Total R: Rural U: Urban.

A-I AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION—contd.

APPENDIX—I

Fly Leaf

The area figures in the Appendix have been compiled from the publications of the 1951 Census of the concerned States and Provinces. In Table A—I, the area figures for the taluks have been furnished by the Commissioner for Land Records, Survey and Settlement and they are the latest available figures on the date of enumeration.

Appendix I gives the 1951 territorial units which constitute the present set up of the State. It lists out the names of the units of their areas that go to make the present area of the State as a whole. This exhibits the transfers up to taluk level. It traces the growth of the State to the present area, since 1951.

A I AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

APPENDIX II

Fly Leaf

The Appendix II to Table A-I throws light on the contribution of villages whose population is 5,000 or more to the total rural population of the State, as also the contribution of towns each of whose population does not reach 5,000 to the total urban population of the State. In all, 172 villages each with population 5,000 or more contribute 5.98% of the rural population and 37 towns each with a population under 5,000 contribute 2.47% to the urban population for the State as a whole. Belgaum district has 51 villages each with population of 5,000 or more and their contribution is 1.82% to the State's rural population. Next in order occur Dharwar (27 villages), Bijapur (26 villages) and South Kanara (19 villages) districts. These four districts contribute 4.33% out of 5.98% of the State's rural population made up by the villages with a population 5,000 and over. No village in the districts of Coorg, Hassan, Kolar, Shimoga and Tumkur has a population exceeding 5,000.

Of the 37 towns with a population less than 5,000, 7 towns come from Coorg District, 5 towns from Hassan District and 4 each from Chitradurga and Mysore districts. Though Coorg is the smallest district both in terms of population and area, it has contributed the largest number of Class VI towns which are all Notified Areas and as such they had to be treated as towns in accordance with the criteria prescribed. In the districts of Belgaum, Bellary, Bidar, Bijapur, Dharwar, Gulbarga, North Kanara, Raichur and South Kanara, no town has a population less than 5,000.

A-I AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

APPENDIX III

Fly Leaf

In Appendix to Table A-I, the Houseless Population covers only such of the persons as are normal residents of the village or town, but do not have any shelter to live under except, of course, in nights where they sleep in the pavements of public and private buildings and similar places. The common types of the houseless persons are the pavement dwellers, beggars without houses, gipsies moving from place to place, etc. While every care has been taken to enumerate these people on the night of 28th February, 1961, it is not unlikely that a small proportion of them have escaped enumeration in large towns and cities. But in rural areas and small towns all the houseless people have been enumerated.

The Institutional Population covers the people residing in institutions providing boarding and/or lodging and similar facilities such as Hotels, Sarais, Hostels, Jails, Mutts, Hospitals, Boarding homes, etc. in which people from all walks of life, not necessarily related to one another live either permanently or temporarily.

TABLE A-II

VARIATION IN POPULATION DURING SIXTY YEARS

FLY-LEAF

1. Union Table A-II furnishes data on the population for the seven Censuses from 1901 to 1961 and the variations of population. This gives the growth of population from decade to decade and in the absence of reliable vital statistics data forms the main source for estimation of population.

2. Adjustments of Population from 1901 to 1951

Consequent on the passing of the Andhra State Act, 1953 and the States Reorganisation Act, 1956, a number of districts have been affected by inter-State transfer of areas. This has necessitated the recasting of the figures of earlier Censuses to work out the population at each of the earlier Censuses of the areas included in the State and in each district on 1st March 1961. The Registrar General has given in Census of India Paper No. 1 of 1957, the recast population figures for the districts from 1901 to 1951 after making the adjustments which became necessary consequent on the territorial changes effected by the Andhra State Act, 1953 and the States Reorganisation Act, 1956. Relevant extracts given below will indicate the adjustments made by the Registrar General in arriving at the figures. The Registrar General has, however, not taken cognisance of territorial exchanges between districts of the same State which had taken place between 1951 and 1956.

The method adopted by the Registrar General for recasting has been described as follows in Census of India Paper No. 1 of 1957 :

"In some cases, as a result of the Reorganisation of States, Census tracts or Tehsils/Taluks have been broken up and the portions allotted to different districts and States. The Census data for these different portions was not always available and estimates were made for the various Censuses according to the following procedure :—

“(i) The population and its sex break-up for 1941 and/or earlier Censuses were not available for the following affected portions of a district/taluk :

"(3) Chandgad Taluka of Belgaum District remaining in Bombay.

"(4) Ahmadpur, Nilanga and Udgir Taluks of Bidar District transferred from Hyderabad to Bombay.

* * * * *

"(8) Alampur and Gadwal Taluks of Raichur District transferred from Hyderabad to Andhra Pradesh.

(9) Kodungal and Tanchur Taluks of Gulbarga District transferred from Hyderabad to Andhra Pradesh.

* The population of these portions, for the Censuses concerned, has been estimated on the assumption that it bears to the population of the district concerned, in these Censuses, the same proportion as in the 1951 Census. The sex-wise break-up of the population thus obtained in the various Censuses has been estimated on the basis of the male/female proportion of the particular district tahuk, in the Census concerned.

“(ii) The total of the population of all the districts of the erstwhile Hyderabad State for 1931, 1921, 1911 and 1901 Censuses, did not tally with the total population of the State for the Censuses concerned. The difference between the figures for the State and the total of the figures for all districts was + 8,240 for 1931, + 16,456 for 1921, — 70,744 for 1911 and — 21,599 for 1901. The differences have been adjusted for the present table between the portions of the erstwhile Hyderabad State transferred to Andhra Pradesh, Bombay and Mysore States, on the basis of the proportion of population of these portions in the Censuses concerned.”

3. The Appendix to Table A- II gives the adjustments necessary to bring the 1951 population of the district to the jurisdiction of the district as at 1961 Census. Thus it throws light on the nature of the territorial changes that have taken place in the decade 1951-61 between the districts of the State and the population involved consequent on such changes in the jurisdiction of the districts.

5. A cursory examination of the table in Section 4 reveals that the growth of population in the present century has not been uniform from decade to decade. In almost all districts the growth of population during the 30 years from 1931 to 1961 has been more rapid than the growth during the 30 years from 1901 to 1931. It is therefore worthwhile to examine the growth of population in each district from 1901 to 1961 in two stages. In the first stage, we may consider the trend of population growth from 1901 to 1931 and in the second stage that between 1931 and 1961. The following table will explain the fact that up to 1931, the population has stayed more or less stationary and that substantial growth has been observed since 1931.

It is possible to go a little deeper into the problem while studying the above table. The population of the State has registered a growth of 12 per cent over the 30 year period from 1901 to 1931, while the growth is 61 per cent in the later period 1931-61. In as many as six districts, the population in 1931 was even less than that in 1901, and in five districts (Viz. Bangalore, Bidar, Chitradurga, Mandya and Tumkur) a fairly high rate of growth was observed in the same period. Of course, the rate of growth of population in the period 1931-61 has been more or less uniform in all districts barring one or two exceptions. What applies to the growth of total population in the period 1901-61, applies equally well to the growth of rural and urban populations. However, the growth of urban population is comparatively more rapid in both the periods for obvious reasons.

7. The sex-ratio in the State as a whole has been observed to be steadily decreasing from decade to decade. The sex-ratio which was 983 in 1901 has fallen to 959 in 1961. In some districts like Bangalore, Bijapur, Dharwar, Hassan, Mandya and Mysore, the sex-ratio has recorded a continuous downward trend from decade to decade in the present century. Even in the remaining districts with the exception of the two coastal districts of North Kanara and South Kanara, and the plantation district of Coorg, the sex-ratio continued to fall from decade to decade up to 1931 or 1941 and has been showing a slight upward trend from 1941. The sex-ratio in North Kanara, South Kanara and Coorg districts has been fluctuating from decade to decade but clear indications of an upward trend are seen in the later decades in these districts.

(ii) Amindivi Islands with an area 3.2 sq. miles transferred to newly formed Laccadive, Minicoy and Amindivi Islands Union Territory under States Reorganisation Act, 1956.

Note.—1. The actual change in area has given against symbols in the (a) column in the district boundaries due to jurisdictional change does not agree with the net increase and decrease in the area figures given under columns 5 and 6 in brackets against the district. The difference is perhaps due to computational change.

2. The difference of area in 1951-61 given under columns 5 and 6 in brackets of this Appendix does not agree with the area given in columns 9 and 10 of Appendix I on account of revised computation.

3. The figures given in brackets in columns 5 and 6 represent the difference in area between 1951 and 1961 and the figures in brackets in column 7 show the difference in population between the areas as per the jurisdiction in 1951 and the present jurisdiction.

TABLE A-III
VILLAGES CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION

A III VILLAGES CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION

FLY-LEAF

1. A ‘Census Village’ has been defined in Section 7 of the Fly-leaf to Table A-I. Table A-III gives the figures for the number and population of villages in various population groups, viz. less than 200, 200-499, 500-999, 1,000-1,999, 2,000-4,999, 5,000-9,999, 10,000 and above. However, since all places having a population of 10,000 or more have been treated as towns, there are no villages available in the last range. Villages which are beehirak or uninhabited have not been taken into account in this table. Table A-III deals with rural population only.

2. Statement showing the percentage of population living in villages of various population sizes with reference to the total rural population in each district, 1931

3. Nearly three quarters of the State's rural population live in medium sized villages—i.e., in villages whose population ranges from 500 to 4,999, more than half of the total rural population being found in villages whose population ranges from 500 and 1,999. A closer observation of the table above reveals that in most of the districts of the former Mysore State, smaller villages, i.e., those villages having a population less than 500, contribute a quarter to a third of the rural population of the district. In the remaining districts, however, the medium and large sized villages contribute a fairly substantial proportion of the rural population of the district. It is interesting to note that in the districts of the former Mysore State, the number of inhabited villages per 100 square miles is more than that in most of the districts of the former Bombay, Madras and Hyderabad States now included in Mysore State. The following Table shows the number of villages per 100 square miles as also the density of population per square mile and the average population per village in each district.

The average population of a village for the State is 695. The average population per village is less than the State average in eight districts and it is more than the State average in the remaining eleven districts. Seven out of the eight districts where the population per village is less than the State average are in the former Mysore State. All these districts with small sized villages are found in the West and South-East of the State, while the Northern and North-Eastern districts generally have big villages.

The above table reveals an interesting feature. Though South Kanara and North Kanara Districts are adjacent to each other and lie on the Arabian Sea coast, there is marked difference between the average size of the villages in them. While the average number of inhabitants in a Village of South Kanara is the highest in the State, it is less than the State average in the case of North Kanara District. The coastal belt is the thickly populated area in both districts. The width of this coastal belt decreases towards the North and in some places it is as narrow as 10 miles. Almost the entire area of North Kanara District is found above the Western Ghats and these up-ghat areas have greater resemblance to Shimoga District than to South Kanara District. The present villages are the units recognised as the smallest administrative units for purposes of land revenue and land records when settlements were introduced by the British in the areas directly administered by them and on the British Indian pattern in the Native States. However, the practice during settlement operations was to recognize as separate units, each compact area which had been enjoying a separate status prior to the introduction of settlements. Thus the size of the villages would afford an indication of the pattern in which residential houses have sprung up from the earliest period. The size of villages appears to be related to the soil found in the area. In the districts situated in the Red Soil area, the villages having smaller population are more numerous than those having larger population. It is the other way about in the districts in the Black Cotton soil belt. It would seem plausible that the formation of villages was influenced considerably by the availability of drinking water facilities. In the black cotton soil area where it is more difficult to obtain potable water by sinking wells and perennial streams are also scarce, the tendency of people is to form large clusters around any available source of water. On the contrary, in the red soil area, where water could be struck anywhere and there are more perennial streams there is no necessity for people to settle down at fixed places only. Normally the people would sink a well or build a tank near their fields and small clusters would form round about each such source of water so that the cultivators could be within easy reach of their lands.

b—(Columns 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12) Percentage of population in this class to the total population.

5. While calculating the percentages for the above table, the figures of the districts as they existed as that Census have been taken. Since the table deals with percentages and not with the absolute figures as such, it was felt not necessary to recast the figures in accordance with the boundaries of the present districts. The percentages of Mandya and Mysore Districts for the 1901 and 1921 Censuses, during which the two districts constituted a single district, were recast for the existing boundaries, as talukwise figures for both the Censuses are available. To obtain the percentage for Raichur District for 1901 Census, the figures separately available for Raichur and Lingsagur Districts have been added and the percentages struck on the basis of the aggregate figures.

In this table, while the percentages for the 1961 Census only relate to rural population those for 1901, 1921 and 1951 relate to total population as the corresponding tables which were taken as the basis for calculation for this table have given the classification of both towns and villages by size group of population and not of villages only for the 1901, 1921 and 1951 Censuses.

A-IV TOWNS AND TOWN_GROUPS CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION IN 1961 WITH VARIATION SINCE 1901

FLY LEAF

1. Census_Town

A Census Town has been defined in Section 5 of Fly-leaf to Union Table A-I.

2. Classification_of Towns and Cities

Towns and Cities have been grouped into six classes on the basis of the population of each town or city. Class I comprises all towns (technically called Cities) with a population of 100,000 and above, Class II, those with a population of 50,000 or more but not exceeding 99,999, Class III, those with a population of 20,000 or more but not exceeding 49,999, Class IV, those with a population of 10,000 or more but not exceeding 19,999, Class V, those with a population of 5,000 or more but not exceeding 9,999 and Class VI, those with a population less than 5,000.

3. Town-Group

Town-groups have been formed in recognition of the fact that certain places treated as separate 'Towns', on account of their being under different administrative and civic units do actually constitute one demographic unit. The area included in each town-group has a certain demographic, economic, industrial and geographical unity, the study of which will be facilitated by presenting Census statistics for the group of towns as a whole in addition to the data for each constituent unit.

In all, there are eight town-groups in the State. The constituent towns of each town-group are listed below :

District	Name of Town-Group	Name of constituent Towns
1. Bangalore District	Bangalore Metropolitan Area Town Group	(a) Bangalore City Corporation and Trust Board Area (i) Bangalore City Corporation (ii) Trust Board Area (b) Devarajeevanahalli (c) H. A. L. Sanitary Board (d) Jalahalli (e) Jodi Kempapur (f) Kadugondanahalli (g) Kethamaranahalli (h) Yalahanka (i) Yeswantapura

9. The Appendix to Table A-IV presents the area and population of such of the places as are treated as towns in 1961 Census, but were not towns in 1951 Census, and also of those places which were treated as towns in 1951 Census, but not regarded as towns in the 1961 Census. The latter consist of two types. The first type comprises such of the towns of 1951 Census as are declassified as rural in 1961 Census. The second type consists of those towns of 1951 Census which have merged with the neighbouring towns, thus losing their separate existence as towns although they still continue as urban in 1961.

The Appendix will enable us to study some interesting features. Out of 30 places which have been newly treated as towns in the 1961 Census, three places, viz., Lakshmipur (Arsikere Taluk, Hassan District), Mandya Sugar Town (Mandya Taluk, Mandya District) and Bhadravati New Town (Bhadravati Taluk, Shimoga District) have been formed consequent on the bifurcation of Arsikere, Mandya and Bhadravati Towns respectively of the 1951 Census. As there are separate civic bodies for these three new towns of 1961 and the towns with which † These places were temporary camps of Tungabhadra Project and their separate existence is now extinct. In 1951 Census these camps were generally parts of the villages bearing the same name and the demarcation between the camp area and the rural area of the villages are not available in the 1951 District Census Handbook of Raichur. As such, it is not possible to furnish the area.

Note :—(i) In case of towns of Raichur and Bidar districts, the area figures given in columns 8 and 9 include the undifferentiated rural areas in the Urban area which cannot be separated. These area figures have been taken from District Census Handbooks (Rural Statistics).

(ii) All the Towns shown in Italics under column 2 of this Appendix are treated as such for the first time in the 1961 Census.

(iii) N. A. = Figures not available.

UNION PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

UNION PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

FLY-LEAF

1. Occupied Residential House

As explained in the Fly-leaf to Table A-1, the Census House has been defined as a structure, or part of a structure, a dwelling, a shop, workshop, factory or place of business, or shop-cum-dwelling having an independent entrance and giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate. In the Primary Census Abstract a census house which is used either solely for residential purposes or for a business or industry along with residence is termed as an Occupied Residential House. Each occupied residential house should thus have atleast one Census Household. Shop-cum-dwellings, Workshops-cum-dwellings and dwellings put to any other use are also considered as occupied residential houses in addition to Census houses used solely as dwellings.

A Census house partly used for dwelling purpose and partly for conducting business, trade and similar transactions by the family in residence is called Shop-cum-dwelling. On the other hand, the Census house used partly as a dwelling and partly as a workshop engaged in production, servicing or repair of goods, is called Workshop-cum-dwelling. In contrast to the Census house, a 'Household' means the entire group of persons who commonly live together in the same Census house and normally take their meals from a common mess unless the exigencies of work prevent them from doing so.

5. Houseless and Institutional Population.

Houseless persons : "Houseless persons" as the name itself indicates, are those persons, who at the time of enumeration were not found residing in houses. Persons like Pavement-dwellers, beggars without any house to live in were grouped under the category of Houseless persons.

Institutional Population : Hospitals, Boarding homes, Hostels, Jails, and such other agencies which provide boarding, lodging and similar facilities have been termed "Institutions". All people who were enumerated in these institutions are brought under Institutional Population.

6. Literacy and Education

All persons who were able to read and understand, any simple letter in any language either in print or in manuscript and to write simple letter are considered literate for Census purposes. If in addition to being able to read and write, any person has passed an examination or examinations as proof of an educational level attained, the highest examination passed was recorded in the enumeration slip.

7. Worker and Non-Worker

A person who is gainfully employed in any economic or social activity is taken as worker. But he has to satisfy a minimum criterion if he is to be called a "Worker" for Census purposes. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce, the basis of work will be satisfied if the person was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the person's enumeration. However, a person, who is working, but was absent from his work during the fifteen days preceding the day on which enumerated or even exceeding the period of fifteen days due to illness or other causes was treated as "Worker". The basis of work in the seasonal occupations such as Cultivation, Livestock, Dairying, Household industry, etc., is that the person should have had some regular work of more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season. "Work" includes in either case, not only actual work but effective supervision and direction of work. Persons under training as apprentices with or without stipend or wages have been regarded as working. A public or social worker who is actively engaged in public service activity or a political worker who is also actively engaged in furthering the political activity of his party has been regarded as working.

Persons who did not satisfy the criteria laid down for workers were termed as non-workers. The category of non-workers comprised the following classes of persons :—

- Full time students or children attending school who do no other work, such as making articles at home for sale, nor even help part-time in their own family cultivation, industry or business;
- Persons engaged in unpaid home duties (like housewives or other adult females) who do no other work such as making articles at home for sale or wages, nor help regularly even part-time in family cultivation, industry, trade or business;
- Dependents including infants, or children not attending schools, persons permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age;
- Retired persons who are not employed again, rentiers, persons living on agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend or any other persons of independent means, for securing which they do not have to work and who do no other work;
- Beggars, Vagrants or independent women without indication of source of income and others of unspecified source of income;
- Convicts in jails, inmates of penal, mental or charitable institutions;
- Persons who are seeking employment for the first time and persons who are out of employment and seeking employment again.

The "Workers" have been classified into 9 categories as follows :—

- Cultivators : For Census purposes, a cultivator is a person who is engaged either as employer, single worker or family worker in (a) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land owned or held from Government or (b) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share.
- Agricultural Labourers : An agricultural labourer is a person who works in another person's land only as a labourer without exercising any direction or supervision in cultivation.
- Workers engaged in Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities.
- Workers in Household Industry : For Census purposes, a Household Industry is defined as an industry conducted by the head of the household himself and/or mainly members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry should not be run on the scale of a registered factory. Household industries relate to production, processing, servicing, repairing or making and selling of goods. They do not cover such professions as Pleader, Doctor, Barber, Washerman or Astrologer, etc. All persons engaged in household industries have been brought under this category.
- Workers in Manufacturing other than Household Industry : Persons who are working as employers, employees, single workers, or family workers in activities connected with the production, processing, servicing or repairing of goods in factories, work shops or other similar establishments, which do not qualify to be included under Household industries as defined in the previous paragraph have been brought under this category.
- Workers in Construction : Persons who are engaged in Construction, maintenance, upkeep, repairs and similar occupations of buildings, roads, bridges, dams, canals and construction of electrical, water supply and sanitary installations, etc., are brought under this category.
- Workers in Trade and Commerce : Persons engaged in wholesale or retail trade in goods, or dealing with Insurance, Stocks, Shares or employed in Banking and Financial Institutions have been classified as workers in Trade and Commerce.
- Workers in Transport, Storage and Communication activities : Persons employed in Railway, Road Transport, Post and Telegraph and other agencies have been brought under this category.
- Workers in Other Services : This is the last category of workers which comprises employees of Central and State Governments, Local Bodies, Quasi-Governmental Bodies and those engaged in Educational and Scientific Services, Medical and Health Services, Religious and Welfare Services, Legal Services, Business Services, Community Services and Trade and Labour Associations, Recreation Services, Personal Services and other miscellaneous activities not covered by any of the categories listed above.

*Category of Workers—I As Cultivator; II As Agricultural Labourer; III In Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities; IV At Household Industry; V In Manufacturing other than Household Industry; VI In Construction; VII In Trade and Commerce; VIII In Transport, Storage and Communications; and IX In other Services.

At first sight the higher proportion of women workers in the category IX-Other Services per 1,000 men in the rural areas than in the urban areas, appeared irreconcilable with the well known lack of employment opportunities for women in "Other Services" such as Public Services, Educational and Scientific Services, Medical and Health Services, Religious and Welfare Services, Legal and Business Services, Community Services, Recreation Services, etc., in rural areas. Further detailed examination disclosed that the bulk of the women workers under category IX-Other Services, were in the industrial minor groups 890—"Services rendered by organisations or individuals not elsewhere classified" and 900—"Activities unspecified and not adequately described including activities of such individuals who fail to provide sufficient information about their industrial affiliation to enable them to be classified". To get a more correct picture of the proportion of women workers under category IX-Other Services to men workers both rural and urban areas, the figures have been worked out separately for category IX-Other Services excluding industrial minor groups 890 and 900. They are as follows:

State/District	Sex ratio in Category IX-Other Services

I INDIA 1961 LIST

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING UP THE HOUSELIST

Note 1—Before commencing to fill up the list, note in red ink in a single line across all the columns, any landmark that would clearly indicate the location of the first building in the list, that is to say, the first Census number. The land mark may be a road, or the corner of a lane, a culvert, a big drain, a pond, an Aswathkalle, etc. Thereafter note similarly in red ink the description of any other prominent landmark you may come across as you proceed to complete the Houselist. Suppose, for example, the first building in your list happens to be next to an Aswathkalle. In that case, at the head of the Houselist you must write the word 'Aswathkalle' across the columns. Similarly, let us suppose there is a lane immediately next to, say, the 18th building. In that case, immediately below the entries in respect of that building write across the columns, the name of the lane in red ink. Or in case it is the main drain or culvert or other landmark, write the words 'main drain' 'culvert', etc. The note should be written between the lines and not on them.

The purpose of indicating the landmarks in the Houselist is to enable the Charge Superintendent to divide the area into compact blocks having well defined boundaries. As an extract of the Houselist relating to each such block will be given to the Enumerator in charge of it, the landmarks will enable him to distinguish the boundaries of the area assigned to him, without anybody's assistance.

Note 2.—If in the course of listing, you come across any building which has escaped numbering, you should give it a suitable sub-number, and enter the particulars about it in the Houselist, in its proper sequence. You must also immediately arrange to mark the sub-number on the building, in the usual way.

Column 1—Line number.

Only one digit of the line number has been printed in this column. The line numbers should be continuous for your block. Where the line numbers exceed 9 write the earlier digit(s) yourself.

Column 2—Building Number (Municipal or Local Authority or Census Number, if any).

This refers to the entire structure on the ground. There are, however, high, large or long buildings along a street or lane which have been partitioned or portions of which have been sold, which have distinct, separate main exit on the road and which belong to separate owners or occupiers or alternatively there are a series of different houses joined each to each by common walls on either side to make the whole look like one building but parts of which have been built at different times and belong to separate owners. Such distinguishable structures, although not separate from each other, should be regarded as separate buildings and given separate numbers. Each building should have a separate number. If in big cities a large mansion or building containing several census houses has well known name by which it is generally known then the name of the building should also be recorded for convenient reference. If there are more than one structure within an enclosed or open compound belonging to the same person e.g., the main house, the servants' quarters, the garage, etc., only one building number should be given. If the locality consists of a number of streets in a village, the buildings in the various streets should be numbered continuously and the streets should be taken in uniform order, from North-West to South-East. Experience suggests that the best way of numbering is to continue with one consecutive serial on one side of the street and complete the numbering on that side before crossing over to the end of the other side of the street and continuing with the serial, stopping finally opposite to where the first numbering began. In a city enumeration block, the numbering will have to respect the axis of the street and not any preconceived geographical direction like North-West. A building under construction should also be given a number in the serial. If a new hut or building is constructed between the time when the housenumbering and houselisting have been completed and the census count it should be given a new number beyond the last number of the serial for the village. Arabic numerals should be used for building numbers.

This will facilitate verification by supervisors. In areas e.g., urban, where the buildings are already numbered by the municipal or other authorities, the enumerator may adopt the existing numbers in the Houselist. In such cases, column 2 will carry the established municipal or local authority number which will facilitate identification. Where there are municipal or local authority numbers but there are reasons to believe that the number is incomplete or unsatisfactory, the municipal or local authority number may still be entered in column 2, but at the same time it will be necessary to serially number the buildings afresh for the purposes of census houselist. In that case, the new census serial for buildings will be entered in column 3 and the new census numbers for the buildings will have to be painted on the buildings themselves. In those cases where there are no municipal or local authority numbers in existence, all buildings will have to be serially numbered for the census and column 2 will contain entries of this census serial. This number will have to be repeated in column 3 with sub-numbers for census houses, if any.

Ascertain the year of construction of the building and note the year within brackets, immediately after the building serial number, if the building happens to have been constructed since 1951. Thus, for example, if building No. 49 was constructed in 1957, write 49 (1957) in this column. It is not necessary to give the year of construction in the case of buildings constructed before 1951.

A census house is a structure or part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school, etc., with a separate entrance.

If a building has a number of flats or blocks which have separate entrances of their own and are independent of each other giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate, they will be considered as separate census houses. If within an enclosed or open compound there are separate buildings then each such building will also be a separate census house. If all the structures within an enclosed compound are together treated as one building then each structure with a separate entrance should be treated as a separate census house.

The order in which census houses within a building should be numbered should be continuous, preferably clockwise, or in any convenient manner if it is at all difficult to do it clockwise. If a building itself is a census house, then it will have only one number, namely, that of the building. If within a building there are a number of census houses, then each census house will have two sets of numbers, e.g., the number of the building and the sub-number of the census house. The census house number should be written after the building number in arabic numerals in brackets such as 2(2), 3(2), etc. A census house may contain more than one household, in which case, each household will have to be denoted by a separate alphabetical sub-number (see instructions for column 11 below).

Column 4—Purpose for which census ho use used, e.g., dwelling, shop, shop-cum-dwelling, business, factory, workshop, school or other institution, jail, hostel, hotel etc.

The actual use to which a census house is put should be written here.

In the case of a factory or workshop 'Factory' should be written for a large factory if registered under the Indian Factories Act and 'Workshop' for a small unregistered workshop. A workshop is a place where some kind of production, repair or servicing goes on or where goods or articles are made and sold. Similarly, a shop is a place where articles are sold for cash or for credit. Business houses are those where transactions in money or other articles are taking place e.g., bank, etc. But rooms or apartments where professional consultations are held such as by doctors, hakims, pleaders, etc., should be described as 'professional consultation rooms' and not workshops. In the case, however, of a dispensary where, in addition to consultation by a doctor, medicines are prepared and sold, the house should be described as a dispensary. Write also if used for place of worship or congregation or if unoccupied, 'vacant'. If the census house is a shop, business house, bank, etc. but is not a factory or workshop as defined above, the name of the proprietor, manager or director should be entered in column '18.

Column 5 to 8—"If this census house is used as an establishment, workshop or factory"

These columns apply only in cases where the census house is a factory or a workshop i.e., where some kind of production, processing, repair or servicing is undertaken or where goods or articles are made and sold. If the census house is not used for purposes of a factory or work-shop write 'X' in each of the columns 5 to 8.

Column 5—Name of establishment or proprietor.

Write the name of the establishment in the case of factories or large manufacturing concerns and write the name of the proprietor in the case of small workshops and establishments like confectioneries where no distinct name has been given to them like Halwai shop, etc. If the census house is not used for the purpose of a factory or workshop put 'X' in each of the columns 5 to 8.

Hotels, restaurants and other eating places should also be shown in this column. For such establishments, however, it is not necessary to fill up columns 6, 7 and 8.

Column 6—Name of product(s), repair or servicing undertaken.

In this column enter the actual work that is being done in the establishment, factory or workshop, like paper making, shoe making, cycle repairing, motor servicing, etc.

Column 7—Average number of persons employed daily last week (including proprietor or household members, if any).

The total number of workers including apprentices, either paid or unpaid, employed in the factory or workshop, including the owner or proprietor and any of his family members (if working), should be entered. The average number of persons working per day during the week preceding the date of your visit should be entered.

In case more than one product is produced it is not necessary to enquire the number of persons employed in the production of each product. It may not be possible to get this information in cases where the operations may be composite.

Column 8—Kind of fuel or power, if machinery is used.

If the factory or workshop uses steam or diesel engine or fuel, e.g., kerosene, soft coke, electricity, water-mill, etc., for running the machinery used for production, servicing or repairs, write what fuel or power is actually used.

Columns 9 & 10—Description of Census House.

Column 9—Material of wall.

Under this column the material out of which most of the walls of the house are made i.e., grass, leaves, reeds, amboo, unburnt bricks, mud, burnt bricks, stone, cement concrete or timber should be written. Where a house consists of separate structures each of different materials, the material out of which the walls of the main bedrooms are made are to be recorded.

Column 10—Material of roof.

The material out of which most of the outer roof exposed to the weather and not the ceiling is made, i.e., tiles, thatch, corrugated iron, zinc or asbestos cement sheets or concrete etc., should be written. In the case of a multi-storeyed building the intermediate floor or floors will be the roof of the lower floor.

Column 11—Sub-number of each Census Household with Census House number (Column 3).

A household is a group of persons who commonly live together and would take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so.

There may be one or more households in a census house. Each household should be separately numbered. This can be done by using the alphabets as (A), (B), (C), etc. For example, if building No. 2 is also a census house and has three households, the household numbers will be 2(A), 2(B), and 2(C). If building No. 4 has two census houses, the houses will be numbered as 4(1) and 4(2). If within each house there are respectively 3 and 2 households, then they will be numbered as 4(1A), 4(1B), 4(1C) and 4(2A) and 4(2B).

Column 12—Name of Head of Household.

The name of the Head of each household given in column 11 should be written here. The Head of a household, for census purposes, is the person on whom falls the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household. The name of the person who is actually acknowledged as Head of the household should be recorded. In the case of places like messes, boarding houses, chummeris, etc., where people live together with no ties of relationship, the manager or superintendent or the person who by common consent is regarded as the Head should be recorded as Head of the household.

If the census house is used as a sitting place, cattle shed, etc., write the use to which it is put (and add the name of the owner).

Column 13—Number of rooms in Census Household.

If a census house is occupied by one household the enumeration of rooms should be simple.

If a census house consists of a number of households the number of rooms occupied by each household should be entered on each line against the name of the Head of the household. In cases where more than one household occupy a single room or share more than one room in such way that it is not possible to say the number of rooms occupied by each household, the number of rooms should be given together within brackets as common to both the households.

A room should usually have four walls with a doorway with a roof overhead and should be wide and long enough for a person to sleep in, i.e., it should be at least 6 ft. long. Unenclosed verandah, kitchen, store, garage, cattle shed and latrine which are not ordinarily used for living and sleeping should not be treated as rooms. An enclosed room, however, which is used for living, dining, storing and cooking should be regarded as a room.

Column 14—Does the household live in own or rented house ?

If the household lives in own house write ' O '. If the household lives in a rented house write ' R '.

In the case of public buildings like schools, hospitals, etc., or places of worship, put ' X ' in this column.

Column 15 to 17—Number of persons residing in census household on day of visit.

Write the number of males residing in the household in column 15, the number of females residing in the household in column 16 and the total number of persons in column 17.

Column 18—Remarks.

In this column should be entered any useful or significant information about the building or the census house or the census household that has not been entered in any other column. For example, if the census house is a shop, the name of the proprietor or owner should be recorded in this column. If a census house is vacant at the time of houselisting but there is reason to believe that the house will be occupied in the course of the next few days and almost certainly before the census enumeration period, then the word ' Vacant ' should be entered in column 4 and a remark should be entered in column 18 to the effect ' likely to be occupied shortly '. Thus, the Remarks column should be utilised for recording all significant information relating to the building or census house or census household.

In the case of households belonging to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, add also the contraction S.C. or S.T., as the case may be, in this column in addition to other particulars.

Each person engaged in housenumbering of one block will have to make out an abstract at the conclusion of houselisting and housenumbering.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING UP THE HOUSEHOLD SCHEDULE

At the top of the Schedule you will find a space provided for noting the Location Code. You will have to write the Location Code of the household here. Your supervisor will give you the Code numbers representing your district, charge and block. You should take care to write these three numbers connected together by oblique strokes in between on every household schedule.

When you are visiting each household for enumeration you should write the code number of the household also on the Household Schedule. For purposes of the census a Census House has been defined as a structure or part of a structure, a dwelling, a shop, workshop, factory or place of business, or shop-cum-dwelling giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate or enjoying a separate entrance. A household means the entire group of persons who commonly live together in the same census house and take their meals from a common mess unless the exigencies of work prevent them from doing so. In some census houses there may be more than one group of persons, each group with a common mess. In such cases, each group should be regarded as a separate household for purposes of the census and a separate household schedule should be prepared. You should write the household number from the extracts of the Houselist (Block List) given to you by your supervisor. If, in any case, you find a census house or a household satisfying the definitions given above has not been numbered you should bring it to the notice of your supervisor and have a separate number given to the house or household and enumerate the household.

At the top right hand corner of the household schedule you will find a question "Is this an institution," with a rectangle below it. If you are enumerating any penal, charitable or mental institution, hostel, hotel, hospital, boarding house, etc., you should write the nature of the institution within the rectangle like jail, hospital, etc.

Below the Location Code you will find a column for recording the full name of the Head of the household. The Head of the household for census purposes is a person on whom falls the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household. Thus the Head of the household need not necessarily be the eldest male member but may even be a female or a younger member of either sex. You need not, however, make any elaborate enquiry about this and should record as Head of household the name of the person who is actually acknowledged as such.

Institutions like boarding houses, messes and chummeries should also be regarded as census households but of 'unrelated persons living together'. In such a Household the manager or superintendent or the person who has administrative responsibilities or who by common consent is regarded as the Head, should be recorded as Head of the household. If in an Institution separate families are also living, each such family should be treated as a census household and a separate household schedule should be filled up. In such cases the full name of the recognised Head of the household should be written.

If the Head of the Household is a person who spends the week-days in town and spends the week-ends at home, he should be recorded as Head of Household and entered for enumeration at his home. If he should be away for a fairly long time which covers the entire enumeration period then the person who is in charge in his absence should be recorded as the Head of the Household.

You will find a parallelogram at the right hand side against the full name of the head of the household marked "S.C./S.T.". If the Head of the Household is a member of a Scheduled Caste or a Scheduled Tribe obtaining in your State or in your District you should write S.C. or S.T. as the case may be within the parallelogram. If the Head of the Household does not belong to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe you should put 'X' within the parallelogram.

You should then fill up the part of the household schedule relating to Cultivation and Household Industry. Sub-part 'A' relates to Cultivation ; Sub-part 'B' to Household Industry and Sub-part 'C' to Workers at Cultivation or Household Industry.

Sub-part 'A' relating to Cultivation will have to be filled in only where the household cultivates land. (Land includes all land normally used for cultivation purposes including temporary fallows). Three categories of land are given in items 1 (i), 1 (ii) and 2. Items 1 (i) and 1 (ii) relate to land actually cultivated by the household. Item 2 relates to land which is not cultivated by the household but has been given by it to private persons for cultivation for payment in money, kind or share. In each of the three cases the total of separate plots or parcels of land in different places, owned or held, or taken or given should be made and entered. A number of lines has been provided for this purpose in 1 (i) and 1 (ii) to account for separate plots or parcels of land held or owned or taken under different recognised local rights. If the household (a) cultivates land owned or held from Government or taken from private persons or institutions or (b) has given land to private persons for cultivation purposes you should ascertain the local name of the right on such land and record in the column relating to 'local name of right on land'. Category 1 (i) land owned or held from Government, will include the total of all pieces of land owned or held in owner-like possession, e.g., land held directly from Government under a grant, lease or assignment, (i) with rights of permanent, heritable and transferable possession, (ii) with rights of permanent and heritable possession, but without the right of transfer and (iii) temporary or conditional leases of any kind with the Government. Category 1 (ii) land taken from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share, will include land (i) with rights of permanent, heritable and transferable possession; (ii) with rights of permanent and heritable possession, but without right of transfer; (iii) held in a variety of tenancies or tenures which may be broadly classified as follows :

(a) tenants holding land with permanent and heritable rights whose land cannot be resumed by the owner on grounds of personal cultivation (such tenants may in some cases have the right of transfer also);

- (b) tenants who have been given permanent rights subject to the rights of resumption by the owner (In some cases the tenant has the right to acquire ownership of the non-resumable area. In other cases he does not possess the right);
- (c) tenants holding land in areas where interim measures have been enacted for stay of ejectment or for continuing the leases for a specified period;
- (d) tenants holding land on temporary leases who are liable to ejectment; and
- (e) areas held on condition of rendering service either to a village community or to Government. (This also includes cases where labourers on plantations are given some land for cultivation with permanent rights); and
- (iv) the following :—
- land taken for a fixed amount of money;
 - land taken for a fixed amount of produce;
 - land taken for a share of the produce;
 - land for which money is paid partly in one and partly in any other form mentioned above; and
 - land held free of consideration.

Category 2, i.e., Land given to private persons for cultivation for payment in money, kind or share will include the classifications mentioned in category 1 (ii).

Categories 1 (i) and (ii) will include only those plots or parcels of land which are cultivated by the household itself, that is, lands which lie within the village, or in adjacent villages, or within such a distance as enables the household to work on the land or actively supervise the cultivation. They will not include land owned or held in distant places where distance itself is a bar to active cultivation, constant supervision or direction. But Category 2 will include land in any part of the country whatsoever. You should ascertain the extent of land in each category of local right in acres and record in the column relating to 'Area in acres'. You should write the total of separate plots or parcels of land under the same right if they are situated in different places. If it is not possible to ascertain the extent of land in acres you should if possible make a conversion from the local measure given to you. Even if this is not possible write the area in local measure giving invariably the name of the measure adopted.

In the case of lands situated at a distance from a household, some heads of households may return as actual cultivators arguing that they are actually engaged in cultivation, as it is done under their supervision and direction. It is not possible for the household to supervise the cultivation of land situated at a great distance from the household. But at the same time, if the head of the household insists that he is cultivating the land, it would not be feasible to question his statement. In such cases, the position that it is not possible for the household to supervise cultivation of land situated at a great distance from the household should be explained to the head of the household. If the head of the household insists even after such explanation that the land is cultivated by the household, it should be recorded as such.

This sub-part will not apply to households which do not possess any land. Thus, it will not apply to households which consist of only agricultural labourers without any land. In such cases put an 'X' in all the spaces provided in the right hand side and put a bold cross on this sub-part.

Land under any of the items in sub-part 'A' includes rentfree land, lands enjoyed in permissive possession or gifts without encumbrance or consideration. A household which is a member of a co-operative farm will record only that amount of land in the co-operative farm which had belonged to it before and under right enter 'co-operative farm'. Labour hired by such a co-operative farm should not be entered for this household.

Sub-part 'B' relates to Household Industry. This part will be filled up only where there is a Household Industry conducted by the Head of the household himself and/or mainly by members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry should not be on the scale of a registered factory. The participation of the Head of the household and/or members of the household is an essential feature of the Household Industry. In a rural area the Household Industry can be located either at home or within the village. But in an urban area the Household Industry or at least the major part of its work must be located only at home. A Household Industry should relate to production, processing, servicing or repairing and includes makers and sellers of goods.

The test for a Household Industry is mainly threefold :—

- Household Industry should embrace manufacture, processing or servicing and may include sale but should not be confined simply to buying and selling. At least part of the goods offered for sale from the household should be manufactured or processed by members of the household.
- Household Industry should be on the household scale where the workers mainly will be the Head of the household himself and members of the household, the role of hired workers from outside being of secondary importance. Thus, in any Household Industry, members of the household should be in a position to lend a hand in the industry whenever they find the time in the course of their daily chores. Household Industry cannot, therefore, be on the scale of a registered factory but can use machinery and employ power like steam engine or oil-engine or electricity to drive the machinery.

- Location also is important. for proximity decides participation by members of the household. In a village this participation is possible if the Household Industry is located at home or within the village, because village organisation is such as makes it possible for members of the household to move about freely in the village to look after their work. In urban areas such a free movement is not possible and therefore, for Household Industry in urban areas we should consider only those industries which are located at home. Where, however, part of the work is done outside the house, e.g. preparing and dyeing the yarn for weaving or winding into warp and wool or clean-in metal surfaces before electroplating in baths, it should still be considered a Household Industry, even in urban areas, as the main operation of weaving or of electroplating is conducted within the house and only one or two operations are conducted outside.

The following activities should also be regarded as illustrative of Household Industry. Beedi-makers who either alone or with help of members of the family roll beedis at home, for wages at piece-rates, while the contractor supplies the materials. Certain processes like buttoning and handsewing of tailored cloths, dyeing and printing of cloth, are carried out at home by members of the household both at residence and at 'place of work' or where womenfolk of the household fill in at home with lac gold ornaments prepared at the shop by male members of the household.

Ascertain from the Head of the household whether there are any Household Industries and write the nature of the industry (ies) in the column provided, if there are any. Then ascertain for how many months in a year roughly they are conducted and put down the number of months in the appropriate column. If the industry is conducted throughout the year write '12'. If there is no Household Industry of any sort put an 'X' in each of the places in the right hand corner where the answers will be written and put a bold cross on this sub-part.

Sub-part 'C' relates to Workers in Cultivation or Household Industry.

In the case of households which are engaged only in Cultivation, if the Head of the household is working write 1 under the column 'Head' and ascertain how many other male and female members of the family are working. Write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers including the Head, if he is working, in the column relating to 'Total'. Then ascertain whether any hired workers are employed and if so, write the numbers of such workers in the column allotted for it. The hired workers should have been in wholetime employment during last working season or should be in wholetime employment during current working season.

Similarly in the case of household engaged in Household Industry only, if the head of the household is working write 1 in the column relating to the 'Head' and also ascertain how many male members and female members of the family are working and write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers including the Head. If he is working, in the column relating to 'Total' and then ascertain the number of hired workers, if any, and then write the number of hired workers in the appropriate column.

If a household is engaged both in Cultivation and Household Industry ascertain whether the Head is working and write 1 under the column relating to the Head and also ascertain how many male and female members of the family are working both at Cultivation and the Household Industry and write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers in the column relating to Total. Ascertain the number of hired workers engaged by the family both for Cultivation and Household Industry and write the number in the appropriate column. In a Household engaged both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry, you need not ascertain how many are engaged in Household Cultivation and Household Industry separately.

Even if any of the members of the family working or hired labourers are absent during the period of the census count they should be counted for the purposes of the Household Schedule.

In the case of households engaged in Cultivation only, put 'X' in the columns relating to 'Household Industry only' and 'Both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry'. Similarly, in the case of households engaged in Household Industry put 'X' in the columns relating to, 'Household Cultivation only' and 'Both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry'. If a household is engaged both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry put 'X' in the columns relating to 'Household Cultivation only' and 'Household Industry only'. If a household is not engaged in either Household Cultivation or Household Industry or both put 'X' in all the columns and a bold, 'X' on this sub-part.

The test for a worker is whether a person is actually working in Cultivation or Household Industry or supervising or directing work thereon.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENUMERATING INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLDS

PART I. GENERAL

1. Enumerate all persons who are normally resident in the household, i.e., those who live in the household and also those who have recently become members of the household through marriage or birth or other vital social or domestic ties and are present at the time of your visit.

2. Enumerate also all persons who are normal residents in the household even if they are absent at the time of your visit, provided they left the household on or after the 10th February 1961, or if they had left earlier than 10th February 1961, are likely to return before the sunrise of 1st March 1961.

3. Enumerate a visitor, a boarder, or a guest found in the household at the time of your visit, if he had not been enumerated before and if he will be away from his household between the 10th and 28th February 1961, and warn him not to permit any other enumerator to enumerate him even if he goes back by 1st March 1961.

4. Do not enumerate pavement-dwellers or others who do not form part of the household, when you are enumerating the households. These along with persons who do not normally reside in houses, i.e., members of wandering tribes, tramps, sadhus, etc., would be separately enumerated on the night of the 28th February.

5. Each individual has to be enumerated on one slip. Before commencing enumeration of an individual, make sure to fill the Location Code in each case. The Location Code in the slips will be the same as in the household schedule to which the individuals relate.

6. The questions have been briefly printed in the slips, but only briefly, and you should study the detailed question forms and instructions for answering them, without which you will be liable to miss some of the range and implications of the questions. You should ask the questions in the order in which they are given in the slips and proceed to record the answers in their given order. You should make use of the abbreviations recommended in these instructions for recording the answers to the various questions. All abbreviations required to be entered within the geometric designs should be written well within the designs.

7. Make repeated enquiries about new born babies and very young children for they are liable to be missed because they neither talk nor walk and no meals are usually cooked for them.

8. Before leaving one household for the next make doubly sure that all the persons that are to be enumerated in the household have been enumerated. As soon as you have completed the enumeration of the household fill up the Population Record at the back of the Household Schedule for that household before you proceed to the next household. Strike the total for the number of males and females in the household and check it with the number of enumeration slips used before you sign the Population Record.

9. You should re-visit every household in your block during the period of final check (1st to 5th March) when you should enumerate every birth that has taken place in the household since your visit, but before sunrise of 1st March. You should cancel the slip for any death that might have taken place since your last visit, but before sunrise of 1st March by drawing a bold line diagonally across the slip and write DEATH along the diagonal line. You should enumerate any visitor who may have arrived to stay since your last visit and who says he has not been enumerated anywhere else. But you should not take notice of any birth or death or visit occurring after sunrise of 1st March 1961. After your revisit if you have added any new slip or cancelled any slip already prepared you should make corresponding changes in the Census Population Record at the back of the Household Schedule.

10. As soon as you have completed a pad, you should fill up the pad abstract on the cover of the pad. After you have completed the enumeration of your block and filled up all the abstracts in the pads, you should total up your figures and prepare your abstract for your entire block and hand it over to your supervisor along with your pads.

11. Under the Census Act every person is legally bound to furnish you with the information you need for recording your answer. You must not ask information on any matters not necessary for the purposes of the census, for example, the amount of any person's income. Nor must you disclose to any unauthorised person any information given to you or the results of the enumeration. All census entries are confidential and cannot be admitted as evidence in any civil proceeding whatever or in any criminal proceeding other than a prosecution for a census offence.

Q. 7 (a) Mother-tongue.

Write the mother-tongue in full including dialect as returned by the person enumerated. Mother-tongue is language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person or mainly spoken in the household. If the mother died in infancy write the language mostly spoken in the person's home in childhood. In the case of infants and deaf-mutes give the language usually spoken by the mother.

Q. 7(b) Any other Language (s).

After recording the mother-tongue enquire whether the person knows any other language (s), Indian or Foreign, and write the language(s) returned by him against this question. In case he does not know any other language put 'X'.

The number of languages recorded against this question should not be more than two. These languages should be other than his mother-tongue which he speaks and understands best and can use with felicity in communicating with others. Such language or languages will exclude dialects of the same language.

Qs. 8 to 11 Working.

These questions apply only to workers. A person who is working may be working as a Cultivator, as an Agricultural Labourer, at a Household industry or may be doing any other work. You have to record the answer in questions 8, 9, 10 and 11 according as the person is working as a Cultivator or as an Agricultural Labourer or at Household Industry or doing any other work. He may be engaged in only one of the above four categories or in more than one. Thus a person can be working both as a Cultivator and a Agricultural Labourer, in which case he should be entered both in Q. 8 and Q. 9. Or, he may be working both as Cultivator and at Household Industry in which case he will be entered in Q. 8 and Q. 10. Or, he may be working in any possible combination of 8, 9, 10 and 11, in which case he will be entered in the appropriate places. Or, he may be doing just one kind of work in which case he will be entered in only one of the four Questions 8 to 11.

Detailed instructions as to how the answers should be recorded in the individual questions are given against those questions below. You should carefully study them before recording the answers. For an under-trial prisoner enumerated in a Jail he should be recorded for the work or kinds of work he was doing before he was apprehended. Similarly, for a person temporarily in a hospital or similar institution he should be recorded for the kind of work he was doing before he was admitted into hospital or institution. But for a convict in a prison or for long term inmates of penal or charitable or mental institutions, the person's previous work should not be recorded but '1' should be recorded in Q. 12 below.

The basis of work will be satisfied in the case of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock, dairying, house-hold industry, etc., if the person has had some regular work of more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce the basis of work will be satisfied if the person was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the day on which you visited the household. If on the check or revisional round such a person is found to be unemployed no change in the original entry should be made. A person who is working but was absent from his work during the fifteen days preceding the day on which enumerated or even exceeding the period of fifteen days due to illness or other causes should be treated as worker. A person who has been offered work but has not actually joined should be treated as non-worker. Work includes not only actual work but effective supervision and direction of work.

Persons under training as apprentices with or without stipend or wages will be regarded as working.

An adult woman who is engaged in household duties but doing no other productive work to augment the family's resources should not be considered as working for purposes of this question. If, however, in addition to her household work she engages herself in work such as rice pounding for sale or wages, or in domestic services for wages for others or minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cow-dung cakes or grass, etc., or any such work she should be treated as a worker.

Persons like beggars, pensioners, agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend receivers, who may be earning an income but who are not participating in any productive work should not be treated as working unless they also work in cultivation, industry, trade, profession, business or commerce.

A public or social service worker who is actively engaged in public service activity or a political worker who is also actively engaged in furthering the political activity of his party will be regarded as a worker and entered fully in Q. 11.

After you have filled up the answers to questions 8 to 11, if you find that in the case of any person more than one productive activity has been recorded i.e., more than one of the questions 8, 9, 10 or 11 has been filled up by some work you should ask him which one of the activities that has been recorded for him is his principal work. The principal work is the one on which the person spends most time. Put a ring round the number of the questions 8, 9, 10 or 11, according to the work on which the person says he spends most time. You should invariably ask for the principal work where more than one work is recorded and put a ring round the question relating to the principal work.

It may be that in a few cases you find that you have recorded more than two productive activities in questions 8 to 11 i.e., more than two of the questions 8 to 11 would have been filled up by some work. In such cases you should first ascertain the principal work i.e., the one which the person spends most time and put a ring round the number of the question. You should then ascertain the work which is the next in importance to his principal work, i.e., the work after his principal work which occupies most time. You should put a tick against the question number of that work on the right hand side of the question number. The ring and the tick should be put clearly so that any difficulty

Q. 8. Working as Cultivator.

For a person worknig as cultivator write C. For a person not working as cultivator and for a person not working at all put X.

For purposes of the census a person is working as cultivator if he or she is engaged either as employer, single, worker or family worker in (a) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land owned or held from Government and (b) Cultivation of lands or supervision or direction of cultivation of land held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share.

Cultivation involves ploughing, sowing and harvesting and does not include fruit-growing or keeping orchards or groves or working for plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations. Persons engaged in fruit-growing or orchard or plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations should be entered in Q. 10 or Q. 11 as the case may be.

A person who has given out his land to another person or persons for cultivation for money, kind or share of crop and who does not even supervise or direct cultivation of land, will not be treated as working as cultivator. Similarly, a person working in another person's land only as a labourer and has no right or lease or contract on land on which he works, nor is responsible for taking decisions as to which crops to sow and when, or taking the risk of cultivating and is paid wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce (Agricultural Labourer) will not be treated as Cultivator in this question.

Q. 9. Working as Agricultural Labourer.

Write AL for a person working as agricultural labourer, i.e., a person who works in another person's land only as a labourer without exercising any supervision or direction in cultivation, for wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce. For others put X. The labourer should have no right to lease to contract on land on which he works, nor should he be responsible for taking the decisions as to which crops to sow and when, or taking the risks of cultivation. A share of the produce goes to him only as wages. He should have been working as Agricultural Labourer in the last or current cultivating season.

Qs. 10 (a) and 10 (b) Household Industry.

If a person is working in a Household Industry write (1) the nature of work done by him in the Household Industry against question 10 (a) and (2), the nature of the Household Industry against question 10 (b). Otherwise put X in both question 10 (a) and (b). A Household Industry is defined as an industry conducted by the Head of the Household himself and/or mainly members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry should not be run on the scale of registered factory. Thus the main criterion for a Household Industry is the participation of one or more members of a household in rural areas. In the urban areas the industry should be confined to the house. You should carefully keep in mind the definitions of Household Industry in the rural area if you are enumerating a rural area and the definition in the urban area if you are enumerating an urban area.

A Household Industry should relate to production, processing, servicing, repairing or making and selling of goods. It does not include professions such as pleader or doctor or barber or waterman or astrologer.

A person though he may not be working in his own Household Industry may be working as a paid employee in another Household Industry. You should, therefore, enquire whether the person who is not working in his own Household Industry is working in any other Household Industry and if so, write the nature of the work done by him against question 10 (a) and the nature of the Household Industry against 10 (b).

Q. 10 (c) if Employee in Household Industry.

This question will be filled up only for a person who is working as a paid employee in another person's Household Industry. In his or her case write E.E. For all others put X.

The following examples will illustrate how questions 10 (a) to 10 (c) should be filled up for persons working at household Industry.

Q. 10—Working at Household Industry.

(a) Nature of work		(b) Nature of Household Industry		(c) If Employee
1. Spinning yarn		Spinning yarn in Ambar Charkha		X
2. Dyeing and printing yarn		Handloom weaving		X
3. Threshing and cleaning grain		Flour making chakki		X
4. Labourer employed for crushing oil		Oil ghani		E.E.
5. Tempering and polishing implements		Blacksmithy; making agricultural implements		X
6. Labourer employed for making and firing kiln		Earthenware pottery		E.E.
7. Throwing and Turning pottery		Earthenware pottery		X
8. Making wooden doors and windows		Carpentry		X
9. Filling gold ornaments with lac		Goldsmithy		X
10. Labourer working hosiery machine		Hosiery		E.E.
11. Keeping Accounts		Hosiery		X
12. Polishing and Scrapping metal		Electroplating		X
13. Labourer employed for putting iron hoop on cartwheels		Cartwheelwright		E.E.
14. Repairing of guns		Gunsmithy		X
15. Bee Keeping		Production of honey		X
16. Tending cattle		Livestock raising		X

Q. 11 Doing Work other than 8, 9 or 10.

If a worker is not working as a cultivator or as an agricultural labourer or at any Household Industry write the actual work he is doing. If a person is working as a cultivator or as an agricultural labourer or at Household Industry and also does some other work (including dairying or livestock raising, orchard or plantation, etc., as distinct from cultivation of crops) which does not relate to any of the above categories, write the other work he does in this question. If he is engaged in more than one work and neither of them relates to any of the three categories mentioned above write here the work in which he devotes more time.

Q. 11 (a) Nature of Work.

In the case of a person not working or who works only as cultivator or as agricultural labourer or at Household Industry, put 'X'.

Describe fully the nature of the work done by the person himself. Full and precise information as to the nature of work done by the person should be given either in the vernacular or in English or in vernacular transliteration of English. At previous censuses much trouble had been caused by inadequate answers and if you do not succeed in obtaining satisfactory information on the individual slips, you will be required to make a further visit for that purpose.

Q. 11 (b) Industry, Business, Trade, Profession or Service.

In the case of a person who is working and the nature of whose own work has been recorded in Question 11 (a), you should write here the nature of industry, business, trade, profession or service in which the person works.

As in the case of Question 11 (a), you should describe in detail the nature of industry, business, trade, profession or service in which the person works. Vague answers should be avoided. In the case of industries, the articles which are produced or serviced or repaired, should be given. If more than one article is produced the chief article produced or serviced or repaired should be given. In the case of business or trade the principal article of trade should be described. In the case of service describe the nature of the service to which the person's work belongs. The description should be such that it would be possible to classify the establishment in which the person is working for purposes of industrial classification of the population. The description should be either in the vernacular or in English or in vernacular transliteration of English.

In the case of a person of whom an X is put in Question 11 (a) put an X in this question also.

Important points to remember in Questions 11 (a) and 11 (b).

1. Women or children who help with work, such as ricepounding or doing domestic service for wages or minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cowdung cakes, grass, etc., should be described fully even if they work part-time. In the case of married or grown-up women who do any of the works mentioned above in addition to the usual household duties such work should be fully described and HW written in brackets after the full description.

2. If a person makes the articles he sells, he should be entered as maker and seller of them.

3. Wherever convenient, for complete description, the work should be expressed by the vernacular name by which it is known.

4. The following are too vague and must not be used by themselves :—

Scientist, technician, civil servant, clerk, engineer, inspector, checker, foreman, overseer, supervisor, labourer, machinist, assistant contractor, polisher.

5. Labourers.—For an unskilled labourer usually employed on one sort of work alone, give also the sort of work done, e.g., railway porter, market or bazaar porter, labourer employed on road-digging, brick-layer's labourer. If accustomed to work on various jobs, write general labourer.

6. Machine Operators.—Always state the kind of machine giving its recognized name, if any.

7. Shop-keepers, Retail Dealers, Shop Assistants.—If wholly or mainly engaged in selling, write, 'Dealer' (if principal) or, Shop Assistant or Salesman (if assisting) and state whether the business is wholesale or retail or both. For Shop Assistants and Salesmen in stores with several departments, state the particular department in which engaged (e.g., Ship and Railway Parts, Fans and Sewing Machines, Grocers and Confectioners).

8. Transport Workers.—Describe fully the nature of the transport, e.g., air transport, rail transport, transport by motor car or motor cycle, or vehicles drawn by horse, etc.

9. Services.—For a person engaged in the Defence Services write 'Service of Central Government'.

10. If the job is known in the trade or industry by a special name, use that name. Manager, Foreman, etc., should be given the department, branch wherever applicable, e.g., Sales Manager or a Manager of Hardware Department, Machine Shop Foreman or Boiler Room Foreman, etc. The following terms are insufficient by themselves :—

Manufacturer, merchant, agent, broker, refractor, dealer, engineer, and iron works, etc.

11. Domestic services.—In the case of any private servant, e.g., a cook or domestic servant, write only 'private cook or domestic servant'. There is no industry in his case but in the case of persons employed in hostels, restaurants, boarding houses, institutions, etc., the words hotel, restaurant, etc., should be added.

For persons in the employ of firms carrying on two or more businesses if the businesses are carried on in separate premises then the business carried on at the premises in which the person is employed should be given. If the businesses are carried on in the same premises but each has a separate organisation (i.e., they have separate records of employment, production, etc.,) then the appropriate business should be quoted. If, however, the two activities are carried on side by side then the major activity of the firm or establishment should be given.

12. Commerce.—Special care should be taken to see that the distinction between retail and wholesale business is clear. As in industries, the goods handled should be clearly indicated.

Q. 11 (c) Class of Worker.

For a person who is :—

1. an Employer , that is who hires one or more persons in his work described in Q. 11 (a)	write	MR
2. an Employee , that is, who does his work described in Q. 11 (a) under others for wages or salary in cash or kind.	write	EE
3. a Single Worker , that is, who is doing his work described in Q. 11(a) without employing others, except casually and without the help of other members of the family except casually. This will include workers working as members of co-operatives.	write	SW
4. a Family Worker , that is who is doing his work described in Q. 11(a) in own family without wages or salary in cash or kind.	write	FW

For a person for whom an 'X' is put in Qs. 11 (a) and 11 (b) put an X in this question also.

Explanation

(i) An Employer is a person who has to employ other persons in order to perform the work entered in Q. 11 (a). That is to say, such a person is not only responsible for his own personal work but also for giving work to others in the business mentioned in Q. 11(a). But a person who employs domestic servants for household duties or has subordinates under him in an office where he is employed by others, is not an employer, even if he has the power to employ another person in his office on behalf of his own employer or employers.

(ii) An Employee is a person who usually works under some other person for salary or wages in cash or kind. There may be persons who are employed as managers, superintendents, agents, etc., and in that capacity employ or control other workers on behalf of their own employers. Such persons are only employees, as explained above, and should not be regarded as employers.

(iii) A Single Worker for the purposes of Q. 11 (c) is a person who works by himself but not as Head of household in a Household Industry. He is not employed by any one else and in his turn does not employ anybody else not even members of his household except casually. This definition of a Single Worker will include a person who works in joint partnership with one or several persons hiring no employees, and also a member of a producers' co-operative. Each one of the partners or members of such producers' co-operative should be recorded as 'Single Worker'.

(iv) A Family Worker is a member who works without receiving wages in cash or kind in an industry, business or trade conducted mainly by members of the family and ordinarily does at least one hour of work every day during the working season. For the purpose of the entire Q. 11, such an industry should be on a scale larger than what has been covered in 'Household Industry' in Q. 10 whether run at home or away from home in town or village and even away from village in rural area and should ordinarily be in the nature of a recognised partnership, joint-stock company or registered factory. For the purpose of this definition members of a family may be drawn from beyond the limits of the household by ties of blood or marriage. The family worker may not be entitled to a share of the profits in the work if the business carried on either by the person or head of the household or other relative.

Members of the household who help solely in household duties should not be treated as family workers.

Q. 11 (d) Name of Establishment.

Describe in detail the name of the factory, workshop, business house, company, shop, etc. If a person has no fixed place or work write 'No fixed place of work'.

For a person for whom an X is put in Qs. 11 (a), 11 (b) and 11 (c) put an X in this question also.

The following examples will illustrate how Qs. 11 (a) to 11 (d) should be filled up for person doing work other than 8, 9 or 10.

Q. 12. Activity, if not Working

This question will apply to a person NOT working.

Write 'X' in this question for a person who is working, that is, for whom you have recorded the work in any of the questions 8 to 11 above.

The following activities should be recorded in the case of persons NOT Working :—

- | | | |
|---|-------|----|
| 1. For a full-time student or child attending school who does no other work, such as make articles at home for sale nor even help part-time in his own family cultivation, industry, trade or business. | write | ST |
| 2. For a person engaged in unpaid home duties (like housewife or other adult female) who does no other work, such as make articles at home for sale or wages, nor help regularly even part-time in family cultivation, industry, trade or business. | write | HW |
| 3. For any dependent, including an infant or child not attending school, a person permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age. | write | D |
| 4. For a retired person who is not employed again, retire, person living on agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend or any other person of independent means for securing which he does not have to work and who does no other work. | write | R |
| 5. For a beggar, vagrant or independent woman without indication of source of income and others of unspecified source of existence. | write | B |
| 6. For a convict in jail (an undertrial prisoner will be shown as a worker if he used to work before he was apprehended) or an inmate of a penal, mental or charitable institution. | write | I |
| 7. For a person who has not been employed before but is seeking employment for the first time. | write | NE |
| 8. For a person employed before but now out of employment and seeking employment | write | UN |

Explanation:—if a person, who does not work, cannot be readily classified in any of the above categories, put him in category 5 and write B in this question. A retired person who has taken up regular work again should not be entered in this question as he would have been entered for his new work in Question 8 to 11.

A person who is not working but has been offered work which he has not joined should be included in item 3 and 'D' should be written. He should not be included in items 7 or 8.
