FOREWORD

ONE OF THE HIGHLY involved and complex areas of demography is migration, and the tool the Indian Censuses have provided to measure it has been found to be somewhat less than adequate. A question on birth-place alone which featured all the earlier Censuses since 1872 without any reference to the period of stay or the cause of the movement had not yielded such information as would have been useful for separating the chaff of casual displacements from the grain of true migration, or for reading the intensity of job migration from the country to the town.

A beginning was made at the 1961 Census towards the enlargement of the scope of collection and analysis of migration statistics. For persons not born at the village or town of enumeration care was taken to collect information on two points besides birth-place, viz., the duration of residence at the place of enumeration and the rural-urban status of the place of birth. The tabulation was extended, beyond the showing of the usual distribution of the population by place of birth, to the production of such data as a cross-classification of the migrants by place of birth and duration of residence; a classification of the migrants to cities by age, education and, in case of workers, by occupation ; a grouping of city populations into those born locally, migrants from rural areas and migrants from other urban areas and a distribution of the industrial categories of workers and non-workers of each district and city by place of birth. A table introduced in 1951 classifying the non-Indian nationals by nationalities was repeated. Of the six tables prepared on migration, this book presents three. The rest are being produced in the accompanying book Part II-C(iii). A few maps, some of them believed to be first of their kind to be produced for this State, have been incorporated and it is hoped that the visual impact of the differently graded spheres and symbols used in them will be far more powerful than the same story told in statistics.

The hard and patient work that goes into the collection and processing (by means which are still almost entirely manual) of census data cannot be fully realised by persons not directly connected with the operation. The best of census traditions demands the maximum of efforts with the barest of resources and the honour of living up to the tradition goes to a group of temporary workers to whom the completion of the work is the satisfaction of a job well done and, at the same time, the loss of an employment.

NOTE

Of the six Migration Tables prepared on the result of the 1961 Census, this volume presents the first three. The remaining three are being included in Part II-C(iii).

2. At the earlier Censuses the migration statistics used to be produced by birth place returns alone. The figure for immigration into an area between two Census years was obtained by differencing the figures as per the two Censuses of persons enumerated in the area but born outside it and likewise the figure relating to emigrants from an area was obtained by differencing the figures for the two Censuses of persons born within the area but enumerated beyond it. This was found inadequate for a demographic study of the population with reference to internal migration because it implied lifetime migration in all cases and contemplated only one move directly from the place of birth to the place of enumeration. Migrants who died between two Censuses were not also correctly dealt with. In order to remove this drawback and to make a more detailed study of migration, two new questions were asked at the 1961 Census : one to ascertain from a person who was not born at the place of enumeration whether the birth place was rural or urban, and the other to ascertain the duration of his residence at the place of enumeration. Tables D-III and D-V are based on these two new questions, and in Tables D-II and D-VI the place of birth of the migrant population born elsewhere in India has been shown classified by Rural and Urban.

3. At the 1951 Census there was a special question on migration which applied only in cases of displaced persons from Pakistan. The question related to the person's date of arrival in India and the district of his origin in Pakistan. The question was dropped at the 1961 Census.

4. As migration relates essentially to the village or town in which a person is enumerated, it will be useful to examine here in brief the consequence of successive changes in the method of taking the Census in the record relating to migration. In all Censuses down to 1931 the count was synchronous, i.e., the enumeration was confined to only one night. Figures relating to migration, therefore, in those Censuses took into account every conceivable type of movement, ranging from casual displacements lasting for a few hours only to the permanent ones. From 1941 onwards, the enumeration period was extended to a number of days followed by a period of revisional round to be utilised by the Enumerators to check up their records for correctness against the Reference Day. This spreading out of the enumeration period resulted in the elimination of casual migration lasting for a few hours and temporary migration due to journeys on business etc., for a short period. The following is an extract from the "Instructions to Enumerators" issued by the Registrar General, India, for the 1961 Census. These instructions will give an idea as to the persons who were enumerated in the household to which they normally belonged and the persons who were enumerated elsewhere as migrants :

> 1. Enumerate all persons who are normally resident in the household, i.e., those who live in the household and also those who have recently become members of the household through marriage or birth or other vital social or domestic ties and are present at the time of your visit.
>
> 2. Enumerate also all persons who are normal residents in the household even if they are absent at the time of your visit, provided they left the household on or after the 10th February, 1961, or if they had left earlier than 10th February, 1961, are likely to return before the sunrise of 1st March, 1961.
>
> 3. Enumerate a visitor, a boarder, or a guest found in the household at the time of your visit, if he had not been enumerated before and if he will be away from his household between the 10th and 28th February, 1961, and warn him not to permit any other enumerator to enumerate him even if he goes back by 1st March 1961.
>
> 9. You should re-visit every household in your block during the period of final check (1st to 3rd March) when you should enumerate every birth that has taken place in the household since your visit but before sunrise of 1st March. You should cancel the slip for any death that might have taken place since your last visit but before sunrise of 1st March by drawing a bold line diagonally across the slip and write DEATH along the diagonal line. You should enumerate any visitor who may have arrived to stay since your last visit and who says he has not been enumerated anywhere else. But you should not take notice of any birth or death or visit occuring after sunrise of 1st March, 1961. After your re-visit if you have added any new slip or cancelled any slip already prepared you should make corresponding changes in the Census Population Record at the back of the Household Schedule.

5. A brief resume is given here of the tables presented in this volume. Table D-I gives the number of persons belonging to different foreign nationalities who were resident in West Bengal and Sikkim during the Census. The table excludes non Indian Nationals who are members of Foreign Diplomatic and Consulate Missions in India, as these persons were not covered by the enmeration. This table corresponds to Table D-VI of the 1951 Census. It was for the first time in the 1951 Census that a question on a person's nationality was asked.

The Enumerator was instructed in 1961, as in 1951, to record the nationality as returned by the person enumerated. Table D-II shows the distribution of the population by places of birth. It recalls Table D-IV of the 1951 Census. A table on birth place is usually prepared in all Censuses. An important changes in 1961 as compared to previous Censuses is that births in Rural, Urban and Unclassifiable areas have been shown separately in the case of those born within India. The place of enumeration has also been classified separately into Rural and Urban areas. Table D-III is an entirely new table of the 1961 Census based on the special question about the duration of residence at the place (village/town/city) of enumeration in the case of persons not born there. This table is intended to supplement the information produced by the table on birth place for a detailed study on in-migration. The period of residence represents the number of completed years not reckoning periods of temporary absence on leave or holiday or tour or business.

6. In conformity with the Indian Census tradition, Sikkim has been treated as a part of India for the purpose of the migration tables.

7. Each table is preceded by a brief note explaining conceptual matters and the scope of the table.

NON-INDIAN NATIONALS

TABLE D-I—NON-INDIAN NATIONALS

This table recalls Union Table D-VI of the 1951 Census. It shows the number of non-Indian Nationals enumerated in the State, Divisions and Districts. The nationalities have been classified into five broad groups :

(1) Nationals of countries in Asia beyond India (including U.S.S.R.)
(2) Nationals of countries in Europe (excluding U.S.S.R.)
(3) Nationals of countries in Africa.
(4) Nationals of countries in Two Americas.
(5) Nationals of countries in Oceania

2. Persons whose nationality was not stated in the Enumeration Slip have been classified as the sixth group. Under each of the five groups of countries, the total Nationals of the countries under that group have been shown. In addition the Nationals of the principal countries in the group have been shown separately, figures relating to other countries in the group being shown under column 'Elsewhere' under each group. In the Appendix to the table the 'Elsewhere' column of each group has been spelt out in terms of individual countries. This table does not include non-Indian Nationals who are members of Foreign Diplomatic and Consulate Missions in India, as these persons were not covered by the enumeration.

3. It was for the first time in the 1951 Census that a question on a person's nationality was asked. The Enumerator was instructed in 1961, as in 1951, to record the nationality as returned by the person concerned. It was not for the Enumerator to make any enquiry as to the varacity of the return, even if the return to his knowledge appeared to be incorrect.

4. It is worthwhile to mention here that Sikkim has been treated to be a part of India for the purpose of this table and the other D-Series Tables. Goans or Portuguese Nationals who were born in the ex-Portuguese territories have been treated as Indian Nationals.

D-II

PLACE OF BIRTH

TABLE D-II—PLACE OF BIRTH

This table corresponds to Union Table D-IV of the 1951 Census. A table classifying the population according to places of birth is usually prepared for all Censuses. A time honoured practice of the Indian Census is to obtain migration figures from the table relating to place of birth. An additional question was asked in the 1961 Census to determine the period of stay of a migrant at the place of enumeration. Table D-III, a new table for the 1961 Census, has been prepared on the basis of duration of stay of a migrant at the place of enumeration.

2. Another important change in birth place data introduced in the 1961 Census is the classification of places of birth into Rural, Urban and Unclassifiable areas. The benefit accruing from this change is that inter-migration between rural and urban areas can be studied because places of enumeration have also been classified into rural and urban areas. A person has been treated as born in an urban area if the place of his birth was considered a town at the time of the enumeration, even if it was not so considered at his birth.

3. In the table figures have been presented down to the district level. For economy in space, the main table shows only some important countries, while the rest are shown in a Supplement. The countries of each continent which are shown in the main table are given in the statement below, the total of the returns for the remaining countries is shown in the main table against 'Elsewhere'. The details of 'Elsewhere' appear in the Supplement.

4. Persons born in Sikkim have been treated as persons born in India.

D-III

MIGRANTS CLASSIFIED BY PLACE OF BIRTH AND DURATION OF RESIDENCE IN PLACE OF ENUMERATION

TABLE D-III—MIGRANTS CLASSIFIED BY PLACE OF BIRTH AND DURATION OF RESIDENCE IN PLACE OF ENUMERATION

This is a new table for the 1961 Census. It classifies the migrants by duration of residence at the place of enumeration. The years of residence have been bracketed as follows :

Less than 1 year,
1-5 years,
6-10 years,
11-15 years,
16 years and over, and
Period not stated.

2. Separate figures have been given for each of the following categories of migrants :

A. Born elsewhere in the District of Enumeration.
B. Born outside the District but within the State of Enumeration.
C. Born in another State (State 1, State 2, etc.).
D. Born in Nepal.
E. Born in Pakistan.
F. Born in other countries outside India.
G. Birth place unclassifiable.

3. For categories A, B and C, the place of birth has been further classified by rural, urban and unclassifiable.

4. As already stated in the Fly-leaf to Table D-II, a new question was asked in the 1961 Census on the duration of residence of a migrant at the place of enumeration. This table is based on this question and is intended to supplement the data produced in Table D-II. This will provide material for a more detailed study of in-migration that was possible in the earlier Censuses.

5. The period of residence represents the number of completed years that the migrant has been in the village/town/city of enumeration. The Enumerator was instructed not to take into account period of temporary absence on leave or holiday or tour or business.
