“The labour of organising a census is such as no man can conceive, who has not himself undertaken it, or, at least, stood close by and watched the machine in full operation”. Now that the first volume of census figures is being published it is pleasant to recall the hard labour and willing co-operation rendered by the great body of private individuals and Government officials without whose assistance the machine could not have been operated.

It is impossible to acknowledge adequately the services of all those who contributed to the success of the Census. District and Subdivisional Officers in spite of their other preoccupations gave the Census their best. My thoughts go particularly to the District Census Officers, the Subdivisional Census Officers, the Circle Officers and the Block Development Officers on whom fell the brunt of the operations.

The tables printed in this volume are primarily the result of the toil of thousands of casual employees of the sorting and tabulation offices. Seven such offices were setup in different parts of the State as indicated below :

Name of Office	Districts dealt with	Deputy Superintendent
1. Calcutta Urban.	All urban areas except Darjeeling, Kurseong, Kalimpong and Gangtok.	Shri S. M. Bhattacharya, W. B. C. S.
2. Calcutta Rural I.	24-Parganas and Purulia.	Shri R. N. Sarkar, W. B. C. S.
3. Calcutta Rural II.	Howrah and Burdwan.	Shri J. Datta Gupta, W. B. C. S.
4. Calcutta Rural III.	Bankura.	Shri S. Sinha, W. B. C. S.
5. Krishnanagar.	Malda, Murshidabad, Nadia and Birbhum.	Shri M. C. Dutta, W. B. C. S.
6. Chandannagar.	Hooghly and Midnapore.	Shri B. Ray, W. B. C. S.
7. Siliguri.	Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri, Cooch Behar, West Dinajpur, Sikkim and the towns of Darjeeling, Kurseong, Kalimpong and Gangtok.	Shri A. Das Gupta, W. B. J. C. S.

A Central Tabulation Office, setup at Calcutta under the charge of Shri B. Ray, W. B. C. S., consolidated the returns from the regional centres and prepared the District and State Tables and most other tabular matter appearing in this volume.

All these offices worked under the direct supervision of the then Superintendent of Census Operations, Shri J. C. Sen Gupta, I. A. S. Before he made over charge of his office on the 24th December 1963 he had drafted for this volume a Preface which has been printed with slight adaptation. My grateful thanks are due to him.

Much useful work was done by my office to expedite publication of this volume. The Printing Section headed by Shri Ram Chandra Bhar, whose previous experience was a valuable asset, worked assiduously to ensure that the printing was accurate. Shri B. Ray, Deputy Superintendent of Census Operations, was closely associated with me at every stage of the preparation of this volume. Our comradeship in the 1961 Census Operations of West Bengal has all along been too great to be attested by exchange of formal acknowledgements.

Shri K. D. Ballal, I. A. S., Central Tabulation Officer, New Delhi, and his staff have earned my gratitude for their careful scrutiny and detailed checking of the tables. The Administrative Map of West Bengal printed in this volume was prepared at the office of the Registrar General, India, under the supervision of the Map Officer, Dr. (Miss) P. Sen Gupta. I am thankful to her for this gesture of co-operation.

I cannot acknowledge too fully my debt of gratitude to Shri Asok Mitra, I. C. S., Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner of India, but for whose invaluable help and guidance it would have been difficult for my colleagues and me to tide over several critical occasions.

I am greatly beholden to Shri R. Gupta, I. C. S., Chief Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, for the encouragement and support kindly extended to me.

In these days the pressure on the Government Press is extremely heavy and Shri B. K. Roy, Manager, Government of India Press, Calcutta had a difficult task to perform. It is gratifying that he treated the Census, one of his most exacting customers, with due consideration and efficiency.

PREFACE

THIS volume presents the General Population Tables (A-Series) and the Primary Census Abstract—the basic demographic data of the 1961 Census. Each table is preceded by a fly-leaf explaining its main features and the concepts involved. The Preface is intended to throw light on the operational aspects of the Census.

Prior to 1951, Censuses in India used to be taken on the basis of Census Acts which were promulgated for the various Censuses and each of which automatically stood repealed after a particular Census was over. From 1951 a radical change was brought about. A permanent Census Act was placed on the Statute Book in 1948 and the 1951 as also the 1961 Census was conducted in accordance with its provisions. This Census Act of 1948 requires that the Government of India, by a notification in the official gazette, should declare its intention of taking a Census in the whole or any part of the territories to which this Act extends, in order that a Census might be taken. This the Government of India did on the 5th December 1959. As a sequel to this notification, the other sections of the Census Act became effective for the purpose of taking the Census of 1961. In this notification the Government of India fixed the reference time for the Census at the sunrise of the 1st of March 1961.

But preparations for the Census were begun much earlier. The Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner, India, drafted, in consultation with a number of Ministries of the Government of India and various expert bodies, two sets of draft questionnaire which were put to the test in the field in West Bengal, the first set in March and the second in July-August 1959. These two sets of questionnaire were also put to the test in the other States of India and the final Census Schedules were drafted in the light of the experience gained during these two pre-tests at the First Conference of the Superintendents of Census Operations held in New Delhi in September-October 1959.

Four forms were used for the Census :

- (1) The House-list
- (2) The Individual Slip
- (3) The Household Schedule and
- (4) The Population Record.

It is necessary, preparatory to the taking of a Census, to prepare a list of houses in order to finalise administrative arrangements for the taking of the Census, which include the selection of an adequate number of primary workers and the printing of an adequate number of forms. It is one of the unique features of the 1961 Census that a standard House-list Form was used for preparing the House-list throughout India. The House-list contained 18 columns. In addition to the columns for recording the building number, the number of the Census house, the number of the household occupying the Census house, the number of males and females in the household, the name of the head of the household; it had also columns for recording the types of products, the number of persons employed and the kind of fuel or power used in industrial establishments and the materials of walls and roofs of Census-houses, the tenure-status of the households occupying them as also the number of rooms in the possession of each household. In the rural areas of West Bengal, a man's home frequently consists of a number of structures situated around a courtyard. Again, even in urban areas, there were buildings with compounds on which auxiliary structures like servants' quarters, kitchen, garages were to be found as separate structures away from the main building. In the instructions received from the Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner, India, three separate and distinct terms of (1) "Building", (2) "Census-house" and (3) "Household" were defined. The primary definition of the term "Building" was that it was an entire structure on the ground. But as the adoption of this definition for the term "Building" in all cases would have given a wrong idea of the number of buildings in the country, it was also laid down that if there were more than one structure within an enclosed or open compound belonging to the same person e.g. the main house, the servants' quarters, the garage etc., the entire collection of structures should be treated as one building. According to this definition, every compact structure on the ground which contained within it the kitchen, the servants' quarters and the garage etc., was treated as one building. In other cases the alternative definition was employed, that is, the main house, the servants' quarters, the garage taken together were considered as one building. On the same principle, a number of huts which constituted the home of one family in rural areas was treated as one building. It may be emphasised that in such a case, each hut was a separate structure on the ground.

A "Census-house" was defined as a structure or part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school etc., with a separate entrance. Under this definition, each of the component structures which constituted a building in the two cases mentioned above was treated as a separate Census-house. A flat in a building which had a separate entrance of its own which opened on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to the main gate, was treated as a separate and distinct Census-house, in addition to the particular types of shops etc. mentioned in the definition itself.

The term "Household" was defined as a group of persons who commonly lived together and took their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so. On a careful consideration of the implications of the definitions of the three terms "Building", "Census-house" and "Household", it would become clear that while in urban localities more than one household might be living in one Census-house, in rural areas more than one Census-house might be in occupation of one household. Each building was assigned a definite number and each Census-house in a building was assigned another number. If there were more than one household in one Census-house then each such household was differentiated from the others by assigning to it a letter of the alphabet.

As the Census was to be conducted with reference to a fixed date it was essential that the preparation for holding it was carried on in accordance with a calendar. The calendars followed in West Bengal and in Sikkim are reproduced at Appendix A to this Preface.

The House-list Form was filled up in West Bengal and Sikkim in October 1960. But before this could be done, certain preliminary steps had to be taken. The first and foremost of such steps was to decide on the administrative machinery that would be entrusted with the taking of the Census. It was decided with the concurrence of the Chief Secretary to the Government of West Bengal that in respect of each of the districts of the State excluding Calcutta, the District Magistrate would accept the administrative responsibility of seeing the Census through to its successful conclusion although he would not be legally appointed as a Census Officer for the purpose by the State Government. In a similar fashion, Subdivisional Magistrates were to shoulder the administrative responsibility for the Census in respective subdivisions. The District Magistrate was authorised by the State Government u/s 4(4) of the Census Act, to appoint a suitable member of the State Civil Service belonging either to its senior or junior branch, to assist him in the discharge of his responsibility in respect of the Census. This officer was designated as District Census Officer. The District Magistrate also appointed another officer of the State Civil Service to assist each Subdivisional Officer in taking the Census within the Subdivision. Such officer was designated as Subdivisional Census Officer. In areas covered by the National Extension Service Block, the Block Development Officers were appointed by the District Magistrate as Assistant Census Officers in charge of the Census of the respective National Extension Service Blocks. In areas not covered by such Blocks, the Circle Officer who was a Gazetted Officer of the State Government or some other suitable officer was so appointed. An Assistant Census Officer appointed in rural areas was not ordinarily expected to shoulder the burden of more than one National Extension Service Block or one police station in respect of the Census. So far as municipal towns were concerned, the Chairman of each municipality was appointed as Census Officer in charge of the Census of the town by the District Magistrate concerned.

So far as Calcutta was concerned, there was no provision in the Calcutta Municipal Act by which the Mayor could be requested to assume the responsibility of taking the Census of the city. The jurisdiction of the Chief Presidency Magistrate does not extend to the entire territorial limits of Calcutta and the Commissioner of Police could not obviously be asked to accept the administrative responsibility of taking the Census of Calcutta. Nor did the Commissioner of Police exercise jurisdiction over the entire city, because the former Tollygunge Municipality which now formed part of the city was still under the administration of the West Bengal Police (Tollygunge P.S. since renamed as Jadavpur P.S.). For purpose of the Census Calcutta City included the entire area covered by the Calcutta Municipal Act, the Fort William and Maidan, the Port and the Canals. A Deputy and an Assistant Superintendent of Census Operations had to be appointed for taking the Census of the city of Calcutta.

The House-list Form could not of course be filled up by only the Officers mentioned above, nor could the population be enumerated by them at the time of the actual Census. For this purpose Census Officers designated as House-numberers and Enumerators were appointed. For giving them guidance on the spot, a Circle Supervisor was appointed generally over every five House-numberers or Enumerators. The Circle Supervisors had as their immediate superiors, Census Officers designated as Charge Officers. In rural areas, a Charge coincided generally with the territorial limits of a Union Board or an Anchal Panchayat and in urban areas, a Ward of the town. In areas not covered by Union Boards or Anchal Panchayats, Charges were delimited according to administrative convenience. Non-municipal towns were divided into ad hoc Wards for this purpose.

In Sikkim, a Census Officer was appointed who had experience of the 1951 Census. He had under him sixteen Circle Supervisors. The "Mandal" in charge of the collection of revenue of each revenue block, was appointed as the House-numberer and later as the Enumerator.

Approximately 74,000 workers belonging to the various categories mentioned above were engaged in the taking of the Census of West Bengal and Sikkim in 1961 under the over-all supervision of the Superintendent of Census Operations, West Bengal and Sikkim.

The other preparatory arrangement that had to be completed before a list of buildings and houses could be prepared was the printing of an adequate number of forms. By forms is meant not only the House-list Forms but also the Individual Slip, the Household Schedule and the Population Record. 903,845 copies of the House-list Forms, 45,246,625 copies of the Individual Slip, 8,647,050 copies of the Household Schedule and 8,647,050 copies of the Population Record were printed for use in West Bengal and Sikkim. Out of these, 763,400 House-list Forms were printed in the Bengali language, 119,300 in the English language, 14,800 in the Nepali language and 6,345 in the Hindi language. 39,445,500 Individual Slips were printed in Bengali, 4,715,325 in English, 738,000 in Nepali and 347,800 in Hindi. The Household Schedule and the Population Record were printed on two sides of one sheet of paper and 943,875 copies of the Composite form in English, 7,484,000 copies in Bengali, 148,000 copies in Nepali and 71,175 copies in Hindi had to be printed for West Bengal and Sikkim.

In addition 452,850 Individual Slips in English, 3,466,800 in Bengali, 34,700 in Hindi and 71,500 copies in Nepali were printed in red ink for training purposes. 90,570 copies of the Composite Household Schedule-cum-Population Record Forms were also printed in English, 693,360 in Bengali, 14,300 in Nepali and 6,940 in Hindi, in red ink, for the same purpose. All these forms had to be despatched to the four corners of the country so that each primary Census worker, that is, the House-numberer or Enumerator received an adequate supply of the proper form.

The Census workers had to be trained in Census concepts and procedure before they could be entrusted with the execution of any phase of the Census. For this purpose two Instructional Booklets were drafted by the Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner, India, one of which contained instructions for the numbering of buildings and Census-houses and the filling up of the House-list Form and the other instructions for filling up the Individual Slip, the Household Schedule and the Population Record. These Booklets have been reproduced at Appendix B to this Preface. Needless to mention, these Instructional Booklets which were in English had to be translated into Bengali, Nepali and Hindi before they could be put to use in the areas in which forms in those languages had to be used. Every House-numberer, every Enumerator, every Circle Supervisor, every Charge Officer, every Assistant Census Officer, every Sub-divisional Census Officer, every District Census Officer, every Subdivisional Officer, every District Magistrate and everyone connected with the Census received a copy of the relevant booklet. A large number of training classes had also to be held by the Superintendent of Census Operations, West Bengal and Sikkim, at various places within West Bengal and Sikkim to explain the concepts and procedures mentioned in these two booklets to the District Magistrates, District Census Officers, Subdivisional Officers, Subdivisional Census Officers and Assistant Census Officers and Census Officers in charge of Census of towns, so that they in their turn could train up the Census Officers subordinate to them.

It was only after all these steps had been completed that the task of numbering every building and Census-house in West Bengal and Sikkim could be taken up in October 1960.

The principal object of preparing a complete list of all the buildings and Census-houses in West Bengal and Sikkim was to ascertain first how many persons would ultimately have to be enumerated at the time of the actual Census and, secondly, to form an idea of the variation in the density of population in the different parts of the country. The making of estimates on these two subjects proceeded on the assumption that the number of homeless persons was insignificant. Noting down of the number of inhabitants in a building or a Census-house, simultaneously with the painting of a number on it, made it possible to estimate the total population of the country. This also enabled the whole country to be divided into small primary areas containing population varying within very narrow limits. It was necessary to divide the country in this manner because the enumeration was required to be completed within a prescribed period throughout the country. The other columns of the House-list Form were also filled up at the same time the building or Census-house was numbered and the population residing in it noted but the items of information recorded in those columns were not necessary for the actual count. Those items of information were later processed and published in the E-Series Tables (Part IV of the Census Publications). Simultaneously with the preparation of the main House-list in the prescribed form, a summary of it was prepared on another form throughout West Bengal and Sikkim, except Calcutta, to serve as reference sheets to the Enumerator at the time of the enumeration. This summary sheet contained columns in which the numbers assigned to the building, the Census-house and the household were recorded along with the name of the head of the household and the purpose for which the Census house was used. In Calcutta, this summary sheet was prepared after the House-numbering and House-listing were over, by appointing Copyists. After the whole country had been divided into Enumeration Blocks, each Enumerator was given the relevant pages of these summary sheets which covered all the buildings within his Block to ensure that no building was left out at the time of enumeration. The important point to note in this connection is that this summary sheet did not contain the column for the number of persons inhabiting a building or a Census-house. Therefore, the enumeration of the population at the time of the actual Census could be done entirely independently of the enumeration done at the time of preparing the House-list.

But before the buildings and Census-houses could be numbered and the House-list Form filled up, it was necessary to decide how the numbering was to be done, that is, where it was to begin and where it was to end. It was clearly impossible to attempt to number all the buildings in a district of the State in one series. Even a town or a police station contained too many buildings to allow of all the buildings in a town or a police station being numbered in one series. It was therefore necessary to fix smaller and well known territorial units which contained manageable numbers of buildings. In rural areas, the revenue survey mauza was selected as such a well defined small geographical unit. In a town, all the buildings in one street were numbered in one series, provided the street was not itself too long and did not contain too many houses. If a street was too long and was intersected by other roads, the part of it between two intersections with other roads was treated as a separate street and the buildings on it were numbered in one series. All the revenue survey mauzas in a police station of West Bengal bear definite numbers assigned to them by the Director of Land Records and Surveys. These numbers are known as Jurisdiction List Numbers. In every district, a list of mauzas was prepared police station by police station and since all the buildings in one mauza were numbered in one series, it was possible to compute the total number of buildings in a police station and ultimately in the rural areas of the entire district. So far as a town was concerned, it was divided first into wards. Each street or lane in the town was numbered in a series, so that in a town, for the purpose of the Census, every street or lane was known by a definite number. Since all the buildings on a particular street were numbered in one series it became possible to compute the number of buildings in the town as a whole.

For the purpose of the Census of 1961, every municipal town, every Cantonment and every town, the affairs of which are administered by a Town Committee or a Union Committee, was treated as a town regardless of all other consideration. For classifying other areas as urban it was stipulated that (1) the total population of such an area should not be less than 5,000 (2) the density of population per square mile should be at least 1,000 and (3) 75 per cent of the adult male population should be engaged in pursuits other than agriculture. In 1951 also the same criteria were adopted for rural and urban classification.

But even after these preliminary arrangements had been settled it was not possible to take up the numbering of houses and the entering of them in the House-list Form before correctly ascertaining the existing boundaries of the fifteen districts of West Bengal and of Calcutta. The most important changes in the boundary of West Bengal that took place since 1951 were those caused by the implementation of the Bihar and West Bengal (Transfer of Territories) Act of 1956. The new district of Purulia was added to West Bengal, formed out of the major portion of the Purulia Subdivision of the Manbhum District in Bihar. Purulia was formally constituted into a district of West Bengal by the Government Notification No. 3855 G.A. dated the 1st November 1956 and was included in the Burdwan Division by Notification No. 3856 G.A. of 1st November 1956. A long strip of territory was also transferred from the Purnea District of Bihar to West Bengal. Initially this strip of area was made a part of the district of Darjeeling by the West Bengal Government Notification No. 3858 G.A., dated 1st November 1956. By Notification No. 3875 G.A., dated the 2nd November, 1956 the area was made a part of the district of West Dinajpur. This area was divided into the police stations of Chopra, Islampur, Goalpokhar and Karandighi by Notifications numbered 3859 G.A., 3860 G.A., 3861 G.A. and 3862 G.A. respectively of the 1st November 1956. By a further Notification No. 1177 G.A., dated 20th March 1959, that portion of the Chopra Police Station which lies to the north of the river Mahananda was made a part of the Phansidewa Police Station of the Darjeeling District from the 21st March 1959. The other important change of boundary of West Bengal took place due to the de jure transfer of the French possession at Chandernagore and its becoming a part of West Bengal under the Chandernagore (Merger) Act of 1954. By this Act, the former French possession at Chandernagore was merged into the district of Hooghly.

The boundaries of some police stations also in some districts underwent changes since 1951. It is not necessary to go into the details of such changes at this place as those details are given in the fly-leaves to the A-I Table.

It was only after the boundaries of the districts and their constituent units, the police stations and towns, had been ascertained correctly that the task of preparing the House-list could be taken up. In West Bengal, the map of every mauza on the scale of 16"=1 mile, prepared by the Director of Land Records and Surveys, was available for reference in case any doubt arose regarding the boundaries of a particular mauza. Knowledge of responsible local persons like the Presidents and Members of Union Boards or Anchal Panchayats was also availed of in settling doubts about the boundaries of the mauzas and at particularly congested places the boundaries were demarcated on the ground with the help of signboards. So far as towns were concerned, maps prepared by the civic authorities were consulted for fixing their boundaries on the ground. Here also the local knowledge of municipal employees like Tax Collectors was utilised for settling disputed boundaries.

The task of House-numbering and House-listing required for its successful completion that an adequate number of persons should be engaged in it. If the number was less than what was necessary the task would not be accomplished in the time allotted and if the number was more, sufficient work could not be assigned to each person. An estimate of the manpower required for this purpose could be made only if either the number of existing buildings or the approximate population was known. The population ascertained in 1951 was not of much help in forming an estimate of the population that had to be enumerated in 1961 as the population of a country does not change at a uniform rate from decade to decade. It was expected that the population would be found to have increased since 1951 by 20 per cent generally and the District Magistrates were accordingly instructed to assume that the population of each unit in the district, i.e., a police station or a town had increased by 25 per cent and then to calculate the requirement of manpower. This was done and every building and Census-house in the country was numbered and the details of all such buildings and Census-houses were entered in the House-list Form. In large mauzas, containing big populations, the numbering of the buildings and Census-houses had been done first on a relay system by the House-numberers appointed for that mauza, after which the House-list Form was filled by each House-numberer for his Block.

The same thing was done in towns for very long streets which could not be divided into sections.

The House-numbering and House-listing, which were over throughout the State of West Bengal as also in Sikkim by the end of October 1960, disclosed a population of 34,890,315. This meant an increase in the population since 1951 by 32.7 per cent. This unexpected rate of increase in the population necessitated the recruitment of an additional number of Census workers for acting as Enumerators. These extra men had to be trained up and some of the existing Blocks had to be partitioned into two or more for facility of work. This cast a severe strain on the District Magistrates.

The enumeration in 1961 was non-synchronous as in 1951 and in 1941. Although the reference time was the sunrise of the 1st of March 1961, the enumeration was spread over a number of days, from the 10th February to the 28th February 1961. During this period every Enumerator visited every house in his block and enumerated the residents. The record naturally had to be corrected so as to reflect the conditions obtaining at the sunrise of the 1st of March 1961, by a revisional round of visits between the 1st and 5th of March 1961. The revisional round of visits actually lasted three days, as the 2nd and the 3rd March 1961 were holidays on account of the 'Doljatra' festival. During this revisional round of visits, the record was corrected for births and deaths taking place between the dates of visits to households and the sunrise of 1st of March 1961. The record was also corrected by enumerating those persons who had not been enumerated elsewhere and who had arrived to stay with a household within the Block during the Enumerator's last visit to the household and the sunrise of the 1st of March. It was not necessary to make special arrangements for the persons who were travelling by trains or other conveyances across the country as every person was ordinarily enumerated against the household of which he was a member. It was only in respect of those persons who left their homes before the 10th of February 1961 and who continued to travel till the end of the Census count, that the Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner, India, had to make special rules for their enumeration. No such persons had to be enumerated in West Bengal. The cases of heads of certain households require special mention at this place. These persons usually spend the weekdays in town and the weekends at their homes which are situated outside the towns where they spend the weekdays. Such persons usually stay in hotels, messes, chummeries and boarding houses in the towns. Under the order of the Registrar General, India, these persons were not enumerated as members of the institutional households of which they were members during the weekdays but were enumerated in their homes as heads of their own households.

The homeless persons were enumerated throughout West Bengal and Sikkim in the night of the 28th February. During this night, every Enumerator went round his Block between specified hours of the night and enumerated all the homeless persons whom he encountered, after making sure that none of them had already been enumerated. A unique feature of the enumeration of homeless persons in 1961 was the non-employment of Police Officers for the purpose. It is expected that the method actually adopted resulted in a better coverage for homeless persons than had been possible before.

Immediately after the revisional round was over, every Enumerator prepared an abstract in respect of his Block containing information on the numbers of males, females, literate males, literate females and the number of households in his Block. These abstracts were compiled at higher levels until the total figures for the district were compiled for each district. These district figures were communicated to the Superintendent of Census Operations and to the Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner, India, by every District Magistrate. It is a matter of pride to record that the Provisional Totals were communicated by the District Magistrate of Bankura in the morning of the 8th March 1961. On the same day, the Magistrates of the districts of Birbhum, Howrah, Malda, Hooghly, Cooch Behar and Purulia communicated the Provisional Totals of their districts. The remaining districts including Calcutta communicated their Provisional Totals on the 9th and the Provisional Totals of the State were released to the Press with the concurrence of the Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner, India, in the afternoon of the 10th March, 1961.

Of the terms that will be encountered in going through the pages of this volume, the terms "Census-house" and "Household" have already been explained. The term "village" refers to the revenue survey mauza. Certain minor departures from this definition had to be made in a few cases, and such cases have been fully discussed in the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I. The other terms which will be encountered are Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, Houseless population, Institutional Population, Literate and Educated persons, workers working as Cultivators, workers working as Agricultural Labourers, workers in Mining, Quarrying, Live-stock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities, workers at Household Industry, workers in Manufacturing other than Household Industry, workers in Construction, workers in Trade and Commerce, workers in Transport, Storage and Communications, workers in Other Services and Non-workers.

The Scheduled Castes are the castes and the Scheduled Tribes are the tribes, the names of which have been listed by the President of India as belonging to the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in the appropriate Order passed by him under the Constitution of India. The names contained in the list vary from State to State and even in a particular State certain castes or tribes may be found declared as Scheduled in only particular areas of the State. The list in so far as it applies to West Bengal is reproduced below :—

This list gives only the names of the main castes or tribes. A caste may also be known by a local name which may be either a generic name or a synonym of the main caste and a tribe by the name of its sub-tribe or class. It was not possible to include all these nomenclatures in the President's Order. In the 1951 Census, due to strict application of the Order many persons who returned themselves by generic names or synonyms of castes were omitted to be enumerated as Scheduled Castes. In order to avoid such difficulties in 1961 it was decided by the Registrar General to ascertain for each district whether any generic name or synonym was found in the case of Scheduled Castes or whether the tribes were generally known by the name of sub-tribe or class and to prepare lists accordingly for circulation to the Enumerators for reference at time of enumeration. A list was accordingly prepared in consultation with the District Magistrates and referred to the Director of Tribal Welfare, Govt. of West Bengal, for scrutiny. The final list of synonyms and sub-caste/sub-tribe names that emerged from his scrutiny was circulated to the Enumerators along with the list as per the President's Order. A list of these synonyms and the sub-caste/sub-tribe names against each main caste/tribe is given at Appendix C to this Preface.

So far as Sikkim is concerned it was reported by the Chief Secretary to the Government of Sikkim that the Sikkim Durbar had not passed any Order declaring any caste or tribe as Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe. No person was therefore returned in that territory as belonging to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe.

The term Houseless Population relates to persons who live in the open and not in any dwelling houses. They have been referred to as homeless population elsewhere in this Preface. The definition of Houseless Population was the same in 1951.

Institutional Population relates to population enumerated in institutions like a penal, charitable or mental institution, hostel, hotel, hospital boarding house etc. and institutions therefore meant an establishment where persons not related to one another lived. In such institutional households, the Manager or Superintendent or the person who had administrative responsibilities or who by common consent was regarded as the Head, was treated as the Head of the Household.

In 1951, the population was divided into the three following classes :

- “(1) the home-keeping people who rarely leave their houses and then only for short periods,
- (2) the floating population. These are the people who belong to no fixed place of abode. They include :—
 - (a) travellers who are usually on the move and are found in hotels, sarais, dak-bungalows, melas, coolie gangs, brick-fields, etc. ;
 - (b) people who live in boats ; and
 - (c) the homeless poor, wandering tribes and such like who sleep where they will and have no address.
- (3) inmates of public institutions, such as the convict population in jails and patients in hospitals and asylums.”

A person was considered to be literate if he could read with felicity a written passage and could also write a simple letter in the language in which that passage was written.

Educated persons consisted of those who in addition to being literates, had also passed some written examination as proof of an educational standard.

The definitions were the same in 1951.

For the purpose of the 1961 Census, a person was classified either as a worker or as a non-worker. The non-workers were distributed among the following classes :

1. Full-time students or children attending school who did no other work, such as make articles at home for sale, nor even help part-time in his own family cultivation, industry, trade or business.

2. Persons engaged in unpaid home duties (like housewife or other adult female) who did no other work, such as make articles at home for sale or wages nor help regularly even part-time in family cultivation, industry, trade or business.
3. Dependents, including infants or children not attending school, persons permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age.
4. Retired persons who had not been employed again, rentiers, persons living on agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend or any other person of independent means for securing which he did not have to work and who did no other work.
5. Beggars, vagrants or independent women without indication of source of income and others of unspecified source of existence.
6. Convicts in jail (an undertrial prisoner was shown as a worker if he used to work before he was apprehended) or an inmate of a penal, mental or charitable institution.
7. Persons who had not been employed before but were seeking employment for the first time.
8. Persons employed before but out of employment at the time of enumeration and seeking employment.

If a person was found who did not do any work and who could not be readily classified then he was to be put in category 5.

For the purpose of recording the economic activity of a person, he was asked four questions (Questions 8-11). It was first ascertained whether he was working as a Cultivator. A person was deemed to be working as Cultivator if he or she was engaged either as employer, single worker or family worker in (a) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land owned or held from Government and (b) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share.

Cultivation involved ploughing, sowing and harvesting and did not include fruit growing or keeping orchards or groves or working for plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations. Persons engaged in fruit growing or orchardry or plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations were entered against Question 10 or Question 11 as the case might be.

A person who had given out his land to another person or persons for cultivation for money, kind or share of crop and who did not even supervise or direct cultivation of land, was not treated as working as a cultivator. Similarly, a person working in another person's land only as a labourer and who had no right or lease or contract on land on which he worked nor was responsible for taking decisions as to which crops to sow and when, of taking the risks of cultivation and was paid wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce (Agricultural Labourer) was not treated as a cultivator for this question.

It was next ascertained whether he worked as an Agricultural Labourer. An Agricultural Labourer was defined as a person who worked in another person's land only as a labourer without exercising any supervision or direction in cultivation, for wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce. In West Bengal, Bhagchasis or Share-Croppers were treated as Cultivators because they could not be dispossessed of the lands in their possession during the pendency of an agricultural season. Agricultural Labourers were recorded against Question No. 9.

A new term “ Household Industry ” was defined for the first time in 1961.

A Household Industry was defined as an industry conducted by the head of the household himself and/or mainly members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry, to be classified as a Household Industry, was not to be run on the scale of a registered factory. Thus the main criterion for a Household Industry was the participation of one or more members of a household. In rural areas the industry should be situated in the same village in which the household lives, while in urban areas the industry was to be confined to the house. A household industry was to be related to production, processing, servicing, preparing or making and selling of goods. Persons working in household industries were recorded as such in the Census questionnaire, giving the details of the industry, against Question No. 10.

The meaning of the term “ Worker ” would become apparent from the following instructions that were issued by the Registrar General and ex-officio Census Commissioner, India ;

“ For an undertrial prisoner enumerated in a Jail he should be recorded for the work or kinds of work he was doing before he was apprehended. Similarly, for a person temporarily in a hospital or similar institution he should be recorded for the kind of work he was doing before he was admitted into hospital or institution. But for a convict in a prison or for long term inmates of penal or charitable or mental institutions, the person's previous work should not be recorded but '1' should be recorded in Question 12 below.

The basis of work will be satisfied in the case of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock, dairying, household industry, etc., if the person has had some regular work of more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce the basis of work will be satisfied if the person was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the day on which you visited the household. If on the check or revisional round such a person is found to be unemployed no change in the original entry should be made. A person who is working but was absent from his work during the fifteen days preceding the day on which enumerated or even exceeding the period of fifteen days due to illness or other causes should be treated as worker. A person who has been offered work but has not actually joined should be treated as non-worker. Work includes not only actual work but effective supervision and direction of work.

Persons under training as apprentices with or without stipend or wages will be regarded as working.

An adult woman who is engaged in household duties but doing no other productive work to augment the family's resources should not be considered as working for purposes of this question. If, however, in addition to her household work she engages herself in work such as rice pounding for sale or wages, or in domestic services for wages for others or minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cowdung cakes or grass, etc., or any such work she should be treated as a worker.

Persons like beggars, pensioners, agricultural or non-agricultural, royalty, rent or dividend receivers, who may be earning an income but who are not participating in any productive work should not be treated as working unless they also work in cultivation, industry, trade, profession, business or commerce.

A public or social service worker who is actively engaged in public service activity or a political worker who is also actively engaged in furthering the political activity of his party will be regarded as a worker.

If a person was doing some work which could not be described under the heads Cultivation, Agricultural Labour and Household Industry or if he did any work in addition to some work under any or all of these categories, then the details of such work were entered against another question (Question 11).

It was only after negative replies had been obtained to questions numbered 8, 9, 10 and 11, that a person was classified as a non-worker and entered as such against Question No. 12.

At the time of processing the answers recorded on the Individual Slips, two Code Numbers were applied in respect of the economic activities described under Household Industry or in answer to the last question, that is, Question 11 on economic activity. These Code Numbers were the numbers relating to the Industrial Classifications and the occupational classification of a worker. These classifications had already been prepared by the Director General of Employment and Training, Ministry of Labour and Employment, Government of India. These Industrial Code Numbers are reproduced in the following pages as those will be necessary for a proper understanding of the Industrial Classification made in the Primary Census Abstracts. The Occupational Classification system is not reproduced as it would not be necessary to refer to that classification for a correct appreciation of the figures in the Primary Census Abstract.

	Fresh entrants to the Labour Market	999

It is necessary to point out here certain limitations of the Standard Industrial Classification vis-a-vis the Industrial Code Structure followed in the Census. Minor Group 000 to 004 of the S. I. C. relate to agricultural activities such as production of cereal crops, pulses, raw jute, raw cotton and kindred fibre crops, oil seeds, sugar cane and other cash crops. These Minor Groups were covered by Industrial Categories I and II, Cultivators and Agricultural Labourers, and were not therefore coded for further categorisation of the Census slips. Minor Group 999 which related to fresh entrants to the labour market was also excluded from the Census Code Structure, because in the Census these persons were not treated as workers.

All economic activities to which code numbers beginning with 0 or 1 had to be assigned were deemed as falling in the category of Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities. It must be pointed out that such activities did not include Cultivation or working as an Agricultural Labourer. Where a person was returned as working at Household Industry, he was recorded under the column Household Industry in the Primary Census Abstract, irrespective of the type of industry. Persons whose Industrial Classification Code began with 2 or 3 were shown under the head Manufacturing other than Household Industry. Persons whose occupations were given code numbers beginning with 4 were shown under the head Construction. Similarly persons whose industrial code numbers began with 6 were shown under the head Trade and Commerce. Persons whose code numbers began with the digit 7 were shown under the head Transport, Storage and Communications and persons whose code numbers began with any of the digits 5, 8 or 9 were shown under the head Other Services.

For the purpose of such classification, the principal work of the person concerned was taken into account. A person was asked at the time of enumeration, to state his principal work if he had more than one economic activity. That was considered to be the principal work on which the person devoted more time.

Persons who could neither be recorded as a Cultivator nor as an Agricultural Labourer nor working at Household Industry nor under any other economic activity were returned as Non-workers. A Worker did not necessarily earn money. Thus a Family Worker was a member of the family who worked without receiving wages in cash or kind, in an industry, business or trade conducted mainly by the members of the family and who ordinarily did at least one hour of work every day during the working season.

The following extracts given from the Enumeration Handbook of the 1951 Census would facilitate comparison between the system of classification of every person into a worker or Non-worker and then of every worker into one of the nine Industrial Categories of (1) Cultivation, (2) Agricultural Labour, (3) Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities, (4) Household Industry, (5) Manufacturing, (6) Construction, (7) Trade and Commerce, (8) Transport, Storage and Communications and (9) Other Services followed in the 1961 Census with the classification into eight Livelihood Classes, adopted in 1951.

Q. 9.—Economic Status

(a) Whether a person is "Self-supporting", "Earning Dependant" or "Non-earning Dependant".

(b) Whether ordinarily an "Employer", "Employee" or an "Independent Worker".

The Census is concerned with two economic characteristics of every individual—his economic status, and his means of livelihood.

Q. 9 relates to Economic Status and Q. Nos. 10 and 11 will deal with "Principal and Secondary Means of livelihood".

Q. 9 is divided into two parts. The first part requires the labelling of every person as a "self-supporting person" or an "earning dependant" or a "non-earning dependant". Every single human being must be allotted one of these labels and not more than one of them, and this will be referred to as his "Primary Economic Status".

The second part of the question has no application to non-earning dependants or to earning dependants. It relates only to self-supporting persons; and even among them, those exceptional cases of self-supporting persons who support themselves without gainful occupation or economic activity (e. g., rentiers and pensioners) are not covered. All others (that is, all those self-supporting persons who are both economically active and gainfully occupied) are to be allotted one or other of the three labels viz., "employer", "employee" or "independent worker" and this will be referred to as his "Secondary Economic Status".

Let us deal with the two parts in some detail below :

Part I—Dependency.

In this part write "1" for a self-supporting person, "2" for a non-earning dependant and "3" for an earning dependant.

Where a person is in receipt of an income and that income is sufficient at least for his own maintenance then he (or she, as the case may be) should be recorded as "self-supporting person". Any one who is not a self-supporting person in this sense is a "dependant". A "dependant" may be either an "Earning dependant" or a "Non-earning dependant". The test is whether he secures a regular income even though it may be small. The word "regular" means "non-casual". It is not intended to be confined only to income derived from continuous employment. It also includes income derived from seasonal employment. What it does exclude is individual income accruing casually and upon which one does not count for continuous livelihood. Such income may be in cash or in kind. Where the income which he secures is not sufficient to support him, that person is an "Earning dependant". A person who does not earn any income either in cash or in kind is a "Non-earning dependant".

You will note therefore that if a person's income is sufficient only for his own maintenance, he may be regarded as a "Self-supporting person". To be a "Self-supporting person" a man need not be able to support his family. All that is necessary is that he must earn some regular income in cash or kind which is sufficient for his own personal needs. He does not cease to be "self-supporting" merely for the reason that he, his wife and children taken together are not maintained by his own income. If the wife and children have no income of their own and are non-earning dependants they must be dependant on another person (other than the husband) otherwise they could not exist. Find out this other person on whom they are dependant.

NOTE—Where two or more members of a family household jointly cultivate land and secure income therefrom each of them should be regarded as earning a part of the income. None of them is, therefore a non-earning dependant. Each of them should be classified, as either a "Self-supporting person" or an "Earning dependant" according to the share of income attributable to him (or her). The same applies to any other business carried on jointly. No attempt should be made to make a detailed calculation of the share. What the head of the household declares to be the shares will be accepted. All that has to be ascertained is whether (in the opinion of the head of the household or managing member) the member concerned is entitled to a share which would be sufficient to cover the cost of his maintenance. If the answer is 'yes', he is "self-supporting"; if the answer is 'no', he is an "earning dependant". The considerations are exactly the same whether the individual is a male or a female, an adult or a non-adult.

This does not mean that everyone who works is necessarily a self-supporting person, or an earning dependant. Thus for instance, a housewife who cooks for the family, brings up the children or manages the household, is doing very valuable work. Nevertheless, her economic status is that of a "Non-earning dependant", if she does not also earn an income, and should be recorded as such.

Part II

The enumerator should distinguish whether a "self-supporting" person is an "employer", an "employee" or an "independent worker". This part should record an answer in respect of only those persons who have been recorded in Part I of Q. 9 as "Self-supporting". In respect of those who have been entered as "earning" or "non-earning" dependants in Part I of Q. 9, the answer in Part II will be a "X" meaning "nil" or "does not apply".

(a) An 'employer' is only that person who has necessarily to employ other persons in order to carry on the business from which he secures his livelihood. Thus if a person employs a cook or other person for domestic services, he should not be regarded as an employer merely for that reason. But a doctor employing a Compounder in order to relieve him of part of his own work or a lawyer employing a clerk for a like purpose is an employer. Similarly, for example, money-lender who employs persons to realise interest on his behalf is an employer. A person is an employer even if he employs one person provided that the latter is regularly employed and helps the former in earning his income.

(b) An 'employee' is a person who ordinarily works under some other person for a salary or a wage in cash or kind, as the means of earning his livelihood. There may be persons who are employed as managers, superintendents, agents, etc., and in that capacity control other workers. Such persons are also employees only and should not be regarded as employers.

(c) An 'independent worker' means a person who is not employed by any one else and who also does not employ anybody else in order to earn his livelihood.

Q. 10.—Principal Means of Livelihood

This is a very important question. Please therefore pay great care in securing a correct answer.

You have to ask every person how he makes his living and put down the answer here.

"Means of livelihood" of any individual ordinarily means the gainful occupation which forms the source from which that income which is utilised for his maintenance is normally derived; but it is more comprehensive inasmuch as, in exceptional cases, income may be secured without gainful occupation. "Principal Means of Livelihood" means the same thing as "Means of Livelihood" for every person who has only one means of livelihood. Where a person has more than one, that which gives him the greater part of his income is his "Principal Means of Livelihood". That which gives him the next most important part of his income is called the secondary means of livelihood. You have to record only the principal means of livelihood against Question 10. These secondary means of livelihood should be recorded separately under Question 11.

In the sense thus defined, every human being, without any exception, has a 'Principal Means of Livelihood'—whether or not he is a self-supporting person. Every non-earning dependant is maintained exclusively by the income of some self-supporting person on whom he is dependant. Consequently, the 'Principal Means of Livelihood' of the latter is required to be recorded as the 'Principal Means of Livelihood' of the former. The same rule applies to 'Earning Dependants' also (no attempt being made to assess the degree of sufficiency of his own income or the extent of his dependence on others). Thus, the answer to Question 10 should be the same for a self-supporting person, as well as all other persons who may be dependant on him whether earning or non-earning: the wife, son, daughter, old dependant persons whose principal means of livelihood should be recorded as that of the head of the household.

Four simple contractions have been provided which will cover most cases where the livelihood is dependent on agriculture. If you find that a person falls under two of these four categories, note that category which provides the largest income against Question 10, and the second against Question 11. No note need be taken of more than two such categories in any case. Distinction should be made of those who cultivate the land and those who merely labour on the land. The man who directs the cultivation, e.g., when and where to plough, when and what to sow, reap so on, even though he does not perform any manual labour is the cultivator. The man who merely does the manual labour but has no authority as to when and what to plough sow, reap or direct such activity is not a cultivator but a manual labourer. If you keep this distinction clearly in mind you will be able to say at once whether a minor, a blind person or a lady—to take extreme cases—belongs to category 1 or category 4 described below.

Write 1 for a person who cultivates land owned by him. These are those who cultivate their own land on payment or rent or free of rent either themselves or through hired labour or bargadars. These correspond to Raiyats, Korfars, etc.

Write 2 for a person who cultivates land owned by another person. These are persons who cultivate others' land on a share basis. These correspond to bhagdars, bargadars, adhiars, etc.

Write 3 for a person who is employed as a labourer by another person who cultivates land—Such a person has no plough or cattle or land but his labour is hired by others. He is an agricultural labourer and is known as 'Kishan', 'Munish' or 'Jan'.

Write 4 for a person who receives rent in cash or kind in respect of land which is cultivated by another person. This class corresponds to zamindars, tenure-holders and holders of similar top of middle interests.

In all other cases, you will write fully and clearly what the person does in order to earn his livelihood and at which place he does it.

* * *
Re. Livelihoods derived from unearned incomes—Examples are pension, income from investments, a share holder (a shareholder is not in the same category as a co-sharer).

Q. 11.—Secondary Means of Livelihood.

Do not repeat here what you have written against Question No. 10.

- (a) A "self-supporting" person may have more than one means of livelihood in some cases. If so, you should record his second means of livelihood against question No. 11.
- (b) An "earning dependant" is maintained partly by the income of his guardian (who supports him) and partly by his own. Do not inquire which income is more important. His principal means of livelihood should always be taken to be the same as that of the "self-supporting" person on whom he is dependent. The occupation which gives him any income should always be taken to be his secondary means of livelihood and recorded against question No. 11.
- (c) "Non-earning dependants" (Q. 9—Part I) have no secondary means of livelihood and in their case put a (X) cross for this question.

The system of classification into Livelihood Classes adopted in the 1951 Census, was different from that of 1961 Census. There were eight Livelihood Classes as follows:—

- I—Cultivators of land wholly or mainly owned and their dependents.
- II—Cultivators of land wholly or mainly unowned and their dependents.
- III—Cultivating labourers and their dependants.
- IV—Non-cultivating owners of land; Agricultural rent receivers and their dependants.

V—Persons who derive their principal means of livelihood from Production other than Cultivation and their dependants.

VI—Persons who derive their principal means of livelihood from Commerce and their dependants.

VII—Persons who derive their principal means of livelihood from Transport and their dependants.

VIII—Persons who derive their principal means of livelihood from Other Services and miscellaneous sources and their dependants.

Because of the fundamental difference in approach towards the subject of economic activity in the two Censuses, it would not be worthwhile to prolong the comparison any further. It should only be mentioned that the comparison that can be made with confidence, is between the number of workers, returned at the two Censuses working in the agricultural sector and in the non-agricultural sector, that is, either working as Cultivator or as Agricultural Labour and others who were not employed as such. But this limited comparison is also not possible straightaway as the figures under the Livelihood Classes in 1951 also included the earning and non-earning dependants. Even for such comparison, the number of actual workers in the categories of Cultivation and Agricultural Labour will first have to be worked out with the aid of other economic tables of the 1951 Census.

The filled in record for the whole area of West Bengal and Sikkim, after completion of Tabulation Work, will be stored at 146/7B, Rabindra Sarani Calcutta and at "Anjali", Grand Trunk Road Borapanchanantola, Chandannagar.

Specimen forms of House-list, Household Schedule, Population Record and Enumeration Slip in three regional languages in which they were used in West Bengal and Sikkim, i.e., Bengali, Nepali and Hindi are printed at appendix D to this Preface.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING UP THE HOUSELIST

Column 1—Line Number

Only one digit of the line number has been printed in this column. The line numbers should be continuous for your block. Where the line numbers exceed 9 write the earlier digit(s) yourself.

Column 2—Building Number (Municipal or Local Authority or Census Number, if any).

This refers to the entire structure on the ground. There are, however, high, large or long buildings along a street or lane which have been partitioned or portions of which have been sold, which have distinct, separate main exit on the road and which belong to separate owners or occupiers or alternatively there are a series of different houses joined each to each by common walls on either side to make the whole look like one building but parts of which have been built at different times and belong to separate owners. Such distinguishable structures, although not separate from each other should be regarded as separate buildings and given separate numbers. Each building should have a separate number. If in big cities a large mansion or building containing several census houses has a well known name by which it is generally known then the name of the building should also be recorded for convenient reference. If there are more than one structure within an enclosed or open compound belonging to the same person, e.g., the main house, the servants quarters, the garage, etc., only one building number should be given. If the locality consists of a number of streets in a village, the buildings in the various streets should be numbered continuously and the streets should be taken in uniform order, from North-West to South-East. Experience suggests that the best way of numbering is to continue with one consecutive serial on one side of the street and complete the numbering on that side before crossing over to the end of the other side of the street and continuing with the serial, stopping finally opposite to where the first numbering began. In a city enumeration block, the numbering will have to respect the axis of the street and not any preconceived geographical direction like North-West. A building under construction should also be given a number in the serial. If a new hut or building is constructed between the time when the housenumbers and houselisting have been completed and the census count it should be given a new number beyond the last number of the serial for the village. Arabic numerals should be used for building numbers.

This will facilitate verification by supervisors. In areas, e.g., urban, where the buildings are already numbered by the municipal or other authorities, the enumerator may adopt the existing numbers in the Houselist. In such cases, column 2 will carry the established municipal or local authority number which will facilitate identification. Where there are municipal or local authority numbers but there are reasons to believe that the number is incomplete or unsatisfactory, the municipal or local authority number may still be entered in column 2, but at the same time it will be necessary to serially number the buildings afresh for the purposes of census houselist. In that case, the new census serial for buildings will be entered in column 3 and the new census numbers for the buildings will have to be painted on the buildings themselves. In those cases where there are no municipal or local authority numbers in existence, all buildings will have to be serially numbered for the census and column 2 will contain entries of this census serial. This number will have to be repeated in column 3 with sub-numbers for census houses, if any.

Column 3—Building Number (Column 2) with sub-numbers for each Census House.

A census house is a structure or part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school, etc., with a separate entrance.

If a building has a number of flats or blocks which have separate entrances of their own and are independent of each other giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate, they will be considered as separate census houses. If within an enclosed or open compound there are separate buildings then each such building will also be a separate census house. If all the structures within an enclosed compound are together treated as one building then each structure with a separate entrance should be treated as a separate census house.

The order in which census houses within a building should be numbered should be continuous, preferably clockwise, or in any convenient manner if it is at all difficult to do it clockwise. If a building itself is a census house, then it will have only one number, namely, that of the building. If within a building there are a number of census houses, then each census house will have two sets of numbers, e.g., the number of the building and the sub-number of the census house. The census house number should be written after the building number in arabic numerals in brackets such as 2(2), 3(2), etc. A census house may contain more than one household in which case, each household will have to be denoted by a separate alphabetical sub-number (see instructions for column 11 below).

Column 4 Purpose for which census house used, e.g., dwelling, shop, shop-cum-dwelling, business, factory, workshop, school or other institution, jail, hostel, hotel, etc.

The actual use to which a census house is put should be written here.

In the case of a factory or workshop 'Factory' should be written for a large factory if registered under the Indian Factories Act and 'Workshop' for a small unregistered workshop. A workshop is a place where some kind of production, repair or servicing goes on or where goods or articles are made and sold. Similarly, a shop is a place where articles are sold for cash or for credit. Business houses are those where transactions in money or other articles are taking place e.g., bank, etc. But rooms or apartments where professional consultations are held such as by doctors, hakims, pleaders, etc., should be described as 'professional consultation rooms' and not workshops. In the case, however, of a dispensary where, in addition to consultation by a doctor, medicines are prepared and sold, the house should be described as a dispensary. Write also if used for place of worship or congregation or if unoccupied, 'vacant'. If the census house is a shop, business house, bank, etc., but is not a factory or workshop as defined above, the name of the proprietor, manager or director should be entered in column 18.

Columns 5 to 8—"If this census house is used as an establishment, workshop or factory".

These columns apply only in cases where the census house is a factory or a workshop, i.e., where some kind of production, processing, repair or servicing is undertaken or where goods or articles are made and sold. If the census house is not used for purposes of a factory or workshop write 'X' in each of the columns 5 to 8.

Column 5—Name of establishment or proprietor.

Write the name of the establishment in the case of factories or large manufacturing concerns and write the name of the proprietor in the case of small workshops and establishments like confectioneries where no distinct name has been given to them like Halwai shop, etc. If the census house is not used for the purpose of a factory or workshop put 'X' in each of the columns 5 to 8.

Column 6—Name of product(s), repair or servicing undertaken.

In this column enter the actual work that is being done in the establishment, factory or workshop, like paper making, shoe making, cycle repairing, motor servicing, etc.

Column 7—Average number of persons employed daily last week (including proprietor or household members, if any).

The total number of workers including apprentices, either paid or unpaid, employed in the factory or workshop, including the owner or proprietor and any of his family members (if working), should be entered. The average number of persons working per day during the week preceding the date of your visit should be entered.

In case more than one product is produced it is not necessary to enquire the number of persons employed in the production of each product. It may not be possible to get this information in cases where the operations may be composite.

Column 8—Kind of fuel or power, if machinery is used.

If the factory or workshop uses steam or diesel engine or fuel, e.g., kerosene, soft coke, electricity, water-mill, etc., for running the machinery used for production, servicing or repairs, write what fuel or power is actually used.

Columns 9 and 10—Description of Census House.

Column 9—Material of wall.

Under this column the material out of which most of the walls of the house are made, i.e., grass, leaves, reeds, bamboo, unburnt bricks, mud, burnt bricks, stone, cement concrete or timber should be written. Where a house consists of separate structures each of different materials, the material out of which the walls of the main bedrooms are made are to be recorded.

Column 10—Material of roof.

The material out of which most of the outer roof exposed to the weather and not the ceiling is made, i.e., tiles, thatch, corrugated iron, zinc or asbestos cement sheets or concrete, etc. should be written. In the case of a multi-storeyed building the intermediate floor or floors will be the roof of the lower floor.

Column 11—Sub-number of each Census Household with Census House number (Column 3).

A household is a group of persons who commonly live together and would take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so.

There may be one or more households in a census house. Each household should be separately numbered. This can be done by using the alphabets as (A), (B), (C), etc. For example, if building No. 2 is also a census house and has three households, the household numbers will be 2(A), 2(B) and 2(C). If building No. 4 has two census houses, the houses will be numbered as 4(1) and 4(2). If within each house there are respectively 3 and 2 households, then they will be numbered as 4(1A), 4(1B), 4(1C) and 4(2A) and 4(2B).

Column 12—Name of Head of Household.

The name of the Head of each household given in column 11 should be written here. The Head of a household, for census purposes, is the person on whom falls the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household. The name of the person who is actually acknowledged as Head of the household should be recorded. In the case of places like messes, boarding houses, chummeries etc., where people live together with no ties of relationship, the manager or superintendent or the person who by common consent is regarded as the Head should be recorded as Head of the household.

If the census house is used as a sitting place cattle shed, etc., write the use to which it is put (and add the name of the owner).

Column 13—Number of rooms in Census Household.

If a census house is occupied by one household the enumeration of rooms should be simple.

If a census house consists of a number of households the number of rooms occupied by each household should be entered on each line against the name of the Head of the household. In cases where more than one household occupy a single room or share more than one room in such a way that it is not possible to say the number of rooms occupied by each household, the number of rooms should be given together within brackets as common to both the households.

A room should usually have four walls with a doorway with a roof overhead and should be wide and long enough for a person to sleep in, i.e., it should be at least 6 feet. long. Unenclosed verandah, kitchen, store, garage, cattle shed and latrine which are not ordinarily used for living and sleeping should not be treated as rooms. An enclosed room, however, which is used for living, dining, storing and cooking should be regarded as a room.

Column 14—Does the household live in own or rented house ?

If the household lives in own house write 'O'. If the household lives in a rented house write 'R'.

In the case of public buildings like schools, hospitals, etc., or places of worship, put 'X', in this column, Columns 15 to 17—Number of persons residing in census household on day of visit.

Write the number of males residing in the household in column 15, the number of females residing in the household in column 16 and the total number of persons in column 17.

Column 18—Remarks.

In this column should be entered any useful or significant information about the building or the census house or the census household that has not been entered in any other column. For example if the census house is a shop the name of the proprietor or owner should be recorded in this column. If a census house is vacant at the time of house listing but there is reason to believe that the house will be occupied in the course of the next few days, and almost certainly before the census enumeration period, then the word 'Vacant' should be entered in column 4 and a remark should be entered in column 18 to the effect 'likely to be occupied shortly'. Thus, the Remarks column should be utilised for recording all significant information relating to the building or census house or census household. If the members of the household living in the Census house belong to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe then write SC or ST, as the case may be, in this column.

Each person engaged in house-numbering of one block will have to make out an abstract at the conclusion of houselisting and house numbering. This abstract will be in the form shown below :

CENSUS OF INDIA 1961

INSTRUCTIONS TO ENUMERATORS

The 1961 Census count will relate to the sunrise of 1st March, 1961. The count will be spread over a period of 19 days, beginning on the 10th February and ending on the 23rd February, 1961. During this period you should visit every household in your block for enumeration. On the night of 28th February you will have to go round your enumeration block and enumerate all persons who are houseless. (In large cities the enumeration of houseless persons will have to be undertaken in a different manner for which more elaborate arrangements will be made.) During the period of 1st March to 3rd March you will have to pay a revisional round to every household and verify that your earlier work of enumeration has been completed in every respect. If during this revisional round you find that a birth has taken place in any household between the time of your first visit and the sunrise of 1st March, 1961, you will have to fill up a new slip for this birth; if there has been a death in any household during the same period you will have to cancel the slip of the dead person; if there is a visitor in any household who has come to stay during the same period and has not been enumerated elsewhere, you will have to fill up a new slip for this visitor. But you will not have to take notice of any birth or death or visit occurring after sunrise of 1st March, 1961.

You will have been supplied by your Supervisor household schedule forms in books of 50 or 25 each for recording information relating to the household as a whole and enumeration pads consisting of 100 or 25 slips each to record information of individuals living in the household. Instructions for filling up the household schedule and the individual slips are given in this booklet. You should carefully observe them when filling each household. You can fill up the household schedule first or the enumeration slips first but for every household you should fill up both before you leave the household and also fill up the Census Population Record at the back of the household schedule.

A—INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING UP THE HOUSEHOLD SCHEDULE

At the top of the Schedule you will find the Location Code. You will have to write the Location Code of the household here. Your supervisor will give you the Code numbers representing your district, tehsil/thana/town, village/ward/block. You should take care to write these three numbers connected together by oblique strokes in between in every household schedule.

When you are visiting each household for enumeration you should write the code number of the household also on the Household Schedule. For purposes of the census a Census House has been defined as a structure or a part of structure, a dwelling, a shop, workshop, factory or place of business, or shop-cum-dwelling giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate or enjoying a separate entrance. A household means the entire group of persons who commonly live together in the same census house and take their meals from a common mess unless the exigencies of work prevent them from doing so. In some census houses there may be more than one group of persons, each group with a common mess. In such cases, each group should be regarded as a separate household for purposes of the census and a separate household schedule should be prepared. You should write the household number from the extracts of the Houselist given to you by your supervisor. If, in any case, you find a census house or a household satisfying the definitions given above has not been numbered you should bring it to the notice of your supervisor and have a separate number given to the house or household and enumerate the household.

At the right hand corner of the Location Code you will find a question "Is this an institution" with a rectangle below it. If you are enumerating any penal, charitable or mental institution, hostel, hotel, hospital, boarding house, etc., you should write the nature of the institution within the rectangle like jail, hospital, etc.

Below the Location Code you will find a column for recording the full name of the Head of the household. The Head of the household for census purposes is a person on whom falls the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household. Thus the Head of the household need not necessarily be the eldest male member but may even be a female or a younger member of either sex. You need not, however, make any elaborate enquiry about this and should record as Head of household the name of the person who is actually acknowledged as such.

Institutions like boarding houses, messes and chummeries should also be regarded as census households but of 'un-related persons living together'. In such a Household the manager or superintendent or the person who has administrative responsibilities or who by common consent is regarded as the Head, should be recorded as Head of the household. If in an Institution separate families are also living, each such family should be treated as a census household and a separate household schedule should be filled. In such cases the full name of the recognised Head of the household should be written.

If the Head of the household is a person who spends the weekdays in town and spends the week-ends at home, he should be recorded as Head of Household and entered for enumeration at his home. If he should be away for a fairly long time which covers the entire enumeration period than the person who is incharge in his absence should be recorded as the Head of the household.

You will find a parallelogram at the right hand side against the Full Name of the head of the household marked "S.C./S.T.". If the Head of the Household is a member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe obtaining in your District, you should write the name of the particular Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe to which the Head of the Household belongs within the parallelogram. If the Head of the Household does not belong to Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe you should put 'X' within the parallelogram.

You should then fill up the part of the household schedule relating to Cultivation and Household Industry. Sub-part 'A' relates to Cultivation; sub-part 'B' to Household Industry and sub-part 'C' to Workers at Cultivation or Household Industry.

Sub-part 'A' relating to Cultivation will have to be filled in only where the household cultivates land. (Land includes all land normally used for cultivation purposes including temporary fallows.) Three categories of land are given in items 1(i), 1(ii) and 2. Items 1(i) and 1(ii) relate to land actually cultivated by the household. Item 2 relates to land which is not cultivated by the household but has been given by it to private persons for cultivation for payment in money, kind or share. In each of the three cases the total of separate plots or parcels of land in different places, owned or held, or taken or given should be made and entered. A number of lines has been provided for this purpose in 1(i) and 1(ii) to account for separate plots or parcels of land held or owned or taken under different recognised local rights. If the household (a) cultivates land owned or held from Government or taken from private persons or institutions or (b) has given land to private persons for cultivation purposes you should ascertain the local name of the right on such land and record in the column relating to 'local name of right on land'. Category 1(i) land owned or held from Government, will include the total of all pieces of land owned or held in owner-like possession, e.g., land held directly from Government under a grant, lease or assignment, (i) with rights of permanent heritable and transferable possession, (ii) with rights of permanent and heritable possession, but without the right of transfer and (iii) temporary or conditional leases of any kind with the Government. Category 1(ii) land taken from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share, will include land (i) with rights of permanent, heritable and transferable possession, (ii) with rights of permanent and heritable possession but without right of transfer; (iii) held in a variety of tenancies or tenures which may be broadly classified as follows:—

- (a) tenants holding land with permanent and heritable rights whose land cannot be resumed by the owner on grounds of personal cultivation (such tenants may in some cases have the right of transfer also);
 - (b) tenants who have been given permanent rights subject to the right of resumption by the owner (in some cases the tenant has the right to acquire ownership of the non-resumable area. In other cases he does not possess the right);
 - (c) tenants holding land in areas where interim measures have been enacted for stay of ejectment or for continuing the leases for a specified period;
 - (d) tenants holding land on temporary leases who are liable to ejectment; and
 - (e) areas held on conditions of rendering service either to a village community or to Government (This also includes cases where labourers on plantations are given some land for cultivation with permanent rights); and
- (iv) the following:—
- (a) land taken for a fixed amount of money,
 - (b) land taken for a fixed amount of produce,
 - (c) land taken for a share of the produce,
 - (d) land for which money is paid partly in one and partly in any other form mentioned above, and
 - (e) land held free of consideration.

Category 2 Land given to private persons for cultivation for payment in money, kind or share will include the classifications mentioned in category 1(ii).

Categories 1(i) and (ii) will include only those plots or parcels of land which are cultivated by the household itself, that is, lands which lie within the village, or in adjacent villages, or within such a distance as enables the household to work on the land or actively supervise the cultivation. They will not include land owned or held in distant places where distance itself is a bar to active cultivation, constant supervision or direction. But Category 2 will include land in any part of the country whatsoever. You should ascertain the extent of land in each category of local right in acres and record in the column relating to 'Area in acres'. You should write the total of separate plots or parcels of land under the same right if they are situated in different places. If it is not possible to ascertain the extent of land in acres you should, if possible make a conversion from the local measure given to you. Even if this is not possible write the area in local measured giving invariably the name of the measure adopted.

This sub-part will not apply to households which do not possess any land. Thus, it will not apply to households which consist of only agricultural labourers without any land. In such cases put an 'X' in all the spaces provided in the right hand side and put a bold cross on this sub-part.

Land under any of the items in sub-part 'A' includes rent-free land, lands enjoyed in permissive possession or gifts without encumbrance or consideration. A household which is a member of a co-operative farm will record only that amount of land in the co-operative farm which had belonged to it before and under right enter 'co-operative farm'. Labour hired by such a co-operative farm should not be entered for this household.

Sub-part 'B' relates to Household Industry. This part will be filled up only where there is a Household Industry conducted by the Head of the household himself and/or mainly by members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry should not be on the scale of a registered factory. The participation of the Head of the household and/or members of the household is an essential feature of the Household Industry. In a rural area the Household Industry can be located either at home or within the village. But in an urban area the Household Industry or at least the major part of its work must be located only at home. A Household Industry should relate to production, processing, servicing or repairing and includes makers and sellers of goods.

The test for a Household Industry is mainly threefold:

- (a) Household Industry should embrace manufacture, processing or servicing and may include sale but should not be confined simply to buying and selling. At least part of the goods offered for sale from the household should be manufactured or processed by members of the household.

- (b) Household Industry should be on the household scale where the workers mainly will be the Head of the household himself and members of the household, the role of hired workers from outside being of secondary importance. Thus, in any Household Industry, members of the household should be in a position to lend a hand in the industry whenever they find the time in the course of their daily chores. Household Industry cannot, therefore, be on the scale of a registered factory but can use machinery and employ power like steam engine or oil engine or electricity to drive the machinery.

- (c) Location also is important, for proximity decides participation by members of the household. In a village this participation is possible if the Household Industry is located at home or within the village, because village organisation is such as makes it possible for members of the household to move about freely in the village to look after their work. In urban areas such a free movement is not possible and, therefore, for Household Industry in urban areas we should consider only those industries which are located at home. Where, however, part of the work is done outside the house, e.g., preparing and dyeing the yarn for weaving or winding into warp and wool or cleaning metal surfaces before electroplating in baths, it should still be considered a Household Industry, even in urban areas, as the main operation of weaving or of electroplating is conducted within the house and only one or two operations are conducted outside.

The following activities should also be regarded as illustrative of Household Industry. Biri makers who either alone or with help of members of the family roll biris at home, for wages at piece rates, while the contractor supplies the materials. Certain processes like buttoning and handsewing of tailored cloths, dyeing and printing of cloth, are carried out at home by members of the household both at residence and at 'place of work' or where womenfolk of the household fill in at home with lac gold ornaments prepared at the shop by male members of the household.

Ascertain from the Head of the household whether there are any Household Industries and write the nature of the industry(ies) in the column provided, if there are any. Then ascertain for how many months in a year roughly they are conducted and put down the number of months in the appropriate column. If the industry is conducted throughout the year write '12'. If there is no Household Industry of any sort put an 'X' in each of the places in the right hand corner where the answers will be written and put a bold cross on this sub-part.

Sub-part 'C' relates to Workers in Cultivation or Household industry.

In the case of households which are engaged only in Cultivation, if the Head of the household is working write 1 under the column 'Head' and ascertain how many other male and female members of the family are working. Write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers including the Head, if he is working, in the column relating to 'Total'. Then ascertain whether any hired workers are employed and, if so, write the number of such workers in the column allotted for it. The hired workers should have been in wholtime employment during last working season or should be in wholtime employment during current working season.

Similarly in the case of households engaged in Household Industry only, if the head of the household is working write 1 in the column relating to the 'Head', and also ascertain how many male members and female members of the family are working and write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers including the Head, if he is working, in the column relating to 'Total' and then ascertain the number of hired workers, if any, and then write the number of hired workers in the appropriate column.

If a household is engaged both in Cultivation and Household Industry ascertain whether the Head is working and write 1 under the column relating to the Head and also ascertain how many male and female members of the family are working both at Cultivation and the Household Industry and write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers in the column relating to Total. Ascertain the number of hired workers engaged by the family both for Cultivation and Household Industry and write the number in the appropriate column. In a Household engaged both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry, you need not ascertain how many are engaged in Household Cultivation and Household Industry separately.

Even if any of the members of the family working or hired labourers are absent during the period of the census count they should be counted for the purposes of the Household Schedule.

In the case of households engaged in Cultivation only, put 'X' in the columns relating to 'Household Industry only' and 'Both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry'. Similarly, in the case of Households engaged in Household Industry put 'X' in the columns relating to, Household Cultivation only, and 'Both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry'. If a household is engaged both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry put 'X' in the columns relating to 'Household Cultivation only' and 'Household Industry only'. If a household is not engaged in either Household Cultivation or Household Industry or both put 'X' in all the columns and a bold 'X' on this sub-part.

The test for a worker is whether a person is actually working in Cultivation or Household Industry or supervising or directing work thereon.

B. INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENUMERATING INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLDS

1. GENERAL

1. Enumerate all persons who are normally resident in the household, i.e., those who live in the household and also those who have recently become members of the household through marriage or birth or other vital social or domestic ties and are present at the time of your visit.

2. Enumerate also all persons who are normal residents in the household even if they are absent at the time of your visit, provided they left the household on or after the 10th February, 1961, or if they had left earlier than 10th February, 1961 are likely to return before the sunrise of 1st March, 1961.

3. Enumerate a visitor, a boarder, or a guest found in the household at the time of your visit if he had not been enumerated before and if he will be away from his household between the 10th and 28th February, 1961 and warn him not to permit any other enumerator to enumerate him even if he goes back by 1st March, 1961.

4. Do not enumerate pavement dwellers or others who do not form part of the household, when you are enumerating the households. These along with persons who do not normally reside in houses, i.e., members of wandering tribes, tramps sadhus, etc., would be separately enumerated on the night of the 28th February and on the 1st and 2nd March, 1961.

5. Each individual has to be enumerated in one slip. Before commencing enumeration of an individual make sure to fill the Location Code, in each case. The Location Code in the slips will be the same as in the household schedule to which the individuals relate.

6. The questions have been briefly printed in the slips, but only briefly, and you should study the detailed question forms and instructions for answering them without which you will be liable to miss some of the range and implications of the questions. You should ask the questions in the order in which they are given in the slips and proceed to record the answers in their given order. You should make use of the abbreviations recommended in these instructions for recording the answers to the various questions. All abbreviations required to be entered within the geometric designs should be written well within the designs.

7. Make repeated enquiries about new born babies and very young children for they are liable to be missed because they neither talk nor walk and no meals are usually cooked for them.

8. Before leaving one household for the next make doubly sure that all the persons that are to be enumerated in the household have been enumerated. As soon as you have completed the enumeration of the household fill up the Population Record at the back of the Household schedule for that household before you proceed to the next household. Strike the total for the number of males and females in the household and check it with the number of enumeration slips used before you sign the Population Record.

9. You should re-visit every household in your block during the period of final check (1st to 3rd March) when you should enumerate every birth that has taken place in the household since your visit but before sunrise of 1st March. You should cancel the slip for any death that might have taken place since your last visit but before sunrise of 1st March by drawing a bold line diagonally across the slip and write DEATH along the diagonal line. You should enumerate any visitor who may have arrived to stay since your last visit and who says he has not been enumerated anywhere else. But you should not take notice of any birth or death or visit occurring after sunrise of 1st March, 1961. After your re-visit if you have added any new slip or cancelled any slip already prepared you should make corresponding changes in the Census Population Record at the back of the Household Schedule.

10. As soon as you have completed a pad, you should fill up the enumerator's abstract on the cover of the pad. After you have completed the enumeration of your block and filled up all the abstracts in the pads, you should total up your figures and prepare your abstract for your entire block and hand it over to your supervisor along with your pads.

11. Under the Census Act, every person is legally bound to furnish you with the information you need for recording your answers. You must not ask information on any matters not necessary for the purposes of the census, for example, the amount of any person's income. Nor must you disclose to any unauthorised person any information given to you or the results of the enumeration. All census entries are confidential and cannot be admitted as evidence in any civil proceeding whatever or in any criminal proceeding other than a prosecution for a census offence.

II. INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING UP THE SLIPS

In each household you should first enumerate the Head of the household followed by other members of the household in the most convenient order and see that none of the persons in the household are left out. Please make repeated enquiries about infants and very young children, for they are liable to be left out of count. Count near relatives first, such as wife, son, daughter-in-law, daughter, son-in-law, grand-children, then distant relations and then domestic servants or other employees living in the household, boarders, visitors etc.

Location Code

Write the Location Code of the household in each slip. For instructions please see Section A above.

Q. 1 (a) Name.

Write the name of the person enumerated. If a woman's name is not given out describe her as 'so-and-so's mother, wife or daughter'. If a woman does not take the name of a person's husband and that husband's particular have to be recorded write 'so-and-so's husband'.

For newly born infants who have not yet been given a name write 'Baby' and write 'father's or mother's name'.

Q. 1 (b) Relationship to the Head of the household.

In the case of the Head of the household write 'Head'. The person who should be treated as the 'Head of the Household' has been fully explained in Part A. All relationships in this question should be recorded in respect of that person. In the case of relations write the relationship in full. Do not use words like nephew, niece or uncle, but state whether brother's or sister's son or daughter (for nephew or niece) or father's or mother's brother (uncle). 'Son' will include 'adopted son' or 'step son'; similarly for a daughter. In the case of visitors, boarders or employees write 'visitor', 'boarder', or 'employee' as the case may be.

If on the check or revisional round between the 1st and 3rd March the Head of the household as recorded previously is found to have died, the person in the household who succeeds him by common consent as Head should be recorded as Head and the relationships in all other slips will have to be suitably corrected. The slip of the dead Head of household will, of course, be cancelled.

In the case of places like messes, boarding houses, chummeries, etc., where people live together with no ties of relationship, the manager or superintendent or the person who by common consent is regarded as the Head should be recorded as Head of the household. Other members should be recorded as 'unrelated' in this question.

Q. 2 Age in completed years last birthday.

Write age in years completed last birthday. For infants below one year of age, write 'O'. You will find many persons who cannot state their age correctly. You should assist them to state the correct age. If you are not able to elicit correct age directly, you should stimulate their memory by referring to historical incidents or religious events, etc. You may use any local calendar of such events that may have been prepared for the purpose.

Q. 3 Marital Status.

For never married	write	NM
Married	write	M
Widowed	write	W
Separated or Divorced	write	S

For a person who has never been married write 'NM'. For a person married, whether for the first or another time, write 'M'. Write 'M' also for persons who are recognised by custom or society as married and for persons in stable de facto union. Even if a marriage is disputed in the locality write 'M' if the person concerned says he or she is married or in stable de facto union. For a widowed person whose husband or wife is dead, and who has not been married, write 'W'. For a person who has been divorced in a lawful manner, either by decree of a law court or by a regular social or religious custom but who has not remarried, or a person who has been separated from wife or husband and is living apart with no apparent intention of living together again, write 'S'. For a prostitute return her marital status as declared by her.

Q. 4 (a) Birth-place.

1. If born in village or town in which enumerated.	write	PL
2. If born in another village or town of district in which enumerated.	write	D
3. If born in another district in the State of enumeration.	write name of district.
4. If born in another State in India.	write name of district and State if name of district is known; otherwise write name of State.
5. If born in a country outside India e.g., Pakistan or any other country.	write name of Country.
6. Persons born at sea or in air or in railway carriages or on road transport e.g., buses etc., should be entered as such.

Q. 4 (b) Whether born in Village or Town.

1. If born in a village	write	R
2. If born in a town which is considered a town at the present time even if it was not so considered at the time of birth.	write	U

Q. 4 (c) Duration of Residence.

1. For a person born in village or town or city in which enumerated.	write	X
2. For a person born in another village or town or city of district of enumeration or who was not born in the district of enumeration.	write the number of completed years this person has been in the village/town/city of enumeration. (Do not take into account periods of temporary absence on leave or holiday or tour or business.)
3. If the duration of residence is less than one year.	write	O
If the duration of residence is one year or over.	write the actual number of completed years of residence.

Q. 5 (a) Nationality.

1. For Indian nationals	write	I
2. For other nationals	write the nationality in full.

Q. 5 (b) Religion.

For Hindu	write	H
Muslim	write	M
Christian	write	C
Jain	write	J
Buddhist	write	B
Sikh	write	S

For others write the answers actually returned.

Q. 5 (c) Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes.

The answer to this question will be recorded only if a person belongs to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe. If the person belongs to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe obtaining in your State, or in your district write the name of the caste or tribe to which he belongs. For all others, write 'X' in this column. A list of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes obtaining in your State or in your district is given elsewhere in these instructions.

If the person belonging to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe returns his caste or tribe by a synonym or a generic name of a caste or tribe as given in your list, write the name as returned and the name of the relevant caste or tribe, as per printed list, within brackets.

Do not write the names of Scheduled Castes in general terms as 'Harijan', 'Achhut'. You should ascertain the name of the caste when it is returned and write it. If a person is negligent and insists on calling himself merely 'Harijan' tell him that this description will not earn the person any benefits under the Constitution permissible to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. This may persuade him to give out the correct name.

Scheduled Castes can belong only to the Hindu or Sikh religions. If a person belong to a Scheduled Caste, there will be either 'H' or 'S' in the answer to question 5 (b). Scheduled Tribes may belong to any religion.

Q. 6 Literacy and Education.

I. ILLITERATE OR LITERATE

For a person—

1. Who can neither read nor write or can merely read but cannot write in any language. Write O
2. Who can both read and write. Write L

The test for reading is ability to read any simple letter either in print or in manuscript i.e., if the person can read one of the examples in the Enumerator's Handbook with felicity he may be taken to have passed the test for reading. The test for writing is ability to write a simple letter. The test for literacy is satisfied if the person can with understanding both read and write.

II. STANDARD OF EDUCATION

If the person can both read and write and has also passed a written examination or examinations as proof of an educational standard attained, write the highest examination passed instead of L.

Q. 7(a) Mother Tongue.

Write the mother tongue in full including dialect as returned by the person enumerated. Mother tongue is language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person or mainly spoken in the household. If the mother died in infancy write the language mostly spoken in the person's home in childhood. In the case of infants and deaf mutes give the language usually spoken by the mother.

Q. 7(b) Any other Language(s).

After recording the mother tongue enquire whether the person knows any other language(s), Indian or foreign, and write the language(s) returned by him against this question. In case he does not know any other language put 'X'.

The number of languages recorded against this question should not be more than two. These languages should be other than his mother tongue which he speaks and understands best and can use with felicity in communicating with others. Such language or languages will exclude dialects of the same language.

Qs. 8 to 11 Working.

These questions apply only to workers. A person who is working may be working as a Cultivator, as an Agricultural Labourer, at a Household Industry or may be doing any other work. You have to record the answer in questions 8, 9, 10 and 11 according as the person is working as a Cultivator or as an Agricultural Labourer or at Household Industry or doing any other work. He may be engaged in only one of the above four categories or in more than one. Thus a person can be working both as a Cultivator and an Agricultural Labourer, in which case he should be entered both in Q. 8 and Q. 9. Or, he may be working both as Cultivator and at Household Industry in which case he will be entered in Q. 8 and Q. 10. Or, he may be working in any possible combination of 8, 9, 10 and 11, in which case he will be entered in the appropriate places. Or, he may be doing just one kind of work in which case he will be entered in only one of the four Questions 8 to 11.

Detailed instructions as to how the answers should be recorded in the individual questions are given against those questions below. You should carefully study them before recording the worker who is also actively engaged in furthering the political activity of his party will be regarded as a worker and entered fully in Q. 11.

After you have filled up the answers to questions 8 to 11, if you find that in the case of any person more than one productive activity has been recorded i.e., more than one of the questions, 8, 9, 10 or 11, has been filled up by some work you should ask him which one of the activities that has been recorded for him is his principal work. The principal work is the one on which the person spends most time. Put a ring round the number of the question, 8, 9, 10 or 11, according to the work on which the person says he spends most time. You should invariably ask for the principal work where more than one work is recorded and put a ring round the question relating to the principal work.

It may be that in a few cases you find that you have recorded more than two productive activities in questions 8 to 11 i.e., more than two of the questions, 8 to 11, would have been filled up by some work. In such cases you should first ascertain the principal work i.e., the one on which the person spends most time and put a ring round the number of the question. You should then ascertain the work which is the next in importance to his principal work i.e., the work after his principal work which occupies most time. You should put a tick against the question number of that work on the right hand side of the question number. The ring and the tick should be put clearly so that any difficulty will not be felt to recognise them clearly.

Q. 8 Working as Cultivator.

For a person working as cultivator write C. For a person not working as cultivator and for a person not working at all put X.

For purposes of the census a person is working as cultivator if he or she is engaged either as employer, single worker or family worker in (a) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land owned or held from Government and (b) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share.

Cultivation involves ploughing, sowing and harvesting and does not include fruit growing or keeping orchards or groves or working for plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations. Persons engaged in fruit growing or orchardry or plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations should be entered into Q. 10 or Q. 11 as the case may be.

answers. For an undertrial prisoner enumerated in a Jail he should be recorded for the work or kinds of work he was doing before he was apprehended. Similarly, for a person temporarily in a hospital or similar institution he should be recorded for the kind of work he was doing before he was admitted into hospital or institution. But for a convict in a prison or for long term inmates of penal or charitable or mental institutions, the person's previous work should not be recorded but 'I' should be recorded in Q. 12 below.

The basis of work will be satisfied in the case of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock, dairying, household industry, etc., if the person has had some regular work of more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce the basis of work will be satisfied if the person was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the day on which you visited the household. If on the check or revisional round such a person is found to be unemployed no change in the original entry should be made. A person who is working but was absent from his work during the fifteen days preceding the day on which enumerated or even exceeding the period of fifteen days due to illness or other causes should be treated as worker. A person who has been offered work but has not actually joined should be treated as non-worker. Work includes not only actual work but effective supervision and direction of work.

Persons under training as apprentices with or without stipend or wages will be regarded as working.

An adult woman who is engaged in household duties but doing no other productive work to augment the family's resources should not be considered as working for purposes of this question. If, however, in addition to her household work she engages herself in work such as rice pounding for sale or wages, or in domestic services for wages for others or minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cowdung cakes or grass, etc., or any such work she should be treated as a worker.

Persons like beggars, pensioners, agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend receivers, who may be earning an income but who are not participating in any productive work should not be treated as working unless they also work in cultivation, industry, trade, profession business or commerce.

A public or social service worker who is actively engaged in public service activity or a political

The following classification will illustrate as to which answers should be entered under Q. 8 and which others under Q. 11 :—

Under Q. 8—Cultivation, involving ploughing, sowing and harvesting

1. Production of cereal crops (including Bengal gram), such as rice, wheat, jowar, bajra, maize ; roots and tubers like potato, yam, beet, etc. ; sugar-cane, etc.
2. Production of pulses, such as arhar, moong masur, urd, khesari, other gram.
3. Production of raw jute and kindred fibre crops.
4. Production of raw cotton and kindred fibre crops.

Under Q. 11—Other Field Produce, Plantation Crops

A. Other Field Produce :

1. Production of other crops including vegetables not covered in Q. 8.
2. Production of fruits and nuts in plantations, vines and orchards (like coconut, arecanut, etc.).
3. Production of wood, bamboo, cane reeds, thatching grass, etc.
4. Production of juice by tapping palms.
5. Production of other agricultural produce (including fruits and nuts not covered by Serial No. 2 and flowers) not covered above.

B. Plantation Crops :

1. Production of tea in plantation.
2. Production of coffee in plantation.
3. Production of rubber in plantation.
4. Production of tobacco in plantation (does not include tobacco which is cultivated in rotation with other cereal crops, in which case it would go under cultivation).
5. Production of ganja, cincona, opium, poppy, saffron, etc.
6. Production of other plantation crops not covered above.

A person who has given out his land to another person or persons for cultivation for money, kind or share of crop and who does not even supervise or direct cultivation of land, will not be treated as working as cultivator. Similarly a person working in another person's land only as a labourer and has no right or lease or contract on land on which he works, nor is responsible for taking decisions as to which crops to sow and when, or taking the risks of cultivation and is paid wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce (Agricultural Labourer) will not be treated as cultivator in this question.

Q. 9 Working as Agricultural Labourer.

Write AL for a person working as Agricultural Labourer, i.e., a person who works in another person's land only as a labourer without exercising any supervision or direction in cultivation, for wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce. For others put ×. The labourer should have no right or lease or contract on land on which he works. Nor should he be responsible for taking decisions as to which crops to sow any when, or taking the risks of cultivation. A share of the produce goes to him only as wages. He should have been working as Agricultural Labourer in the last or current cultivating season.

Qs. 10(a) & 10(b) Household Industry.

If a person is working in a Household Industry write (1) the nature of work done by him in the Household Industry against question 10(a) and (2) the nature of the Household Industry against question 10(b). Otherwise put × in both questions 10(a) and 10(b). A Household Industry is defined as an industry conducted by the Head of the household himself and/or mainly members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry should not be run on the scale of a registered factory. Thus the main criterion for a Household Industry is the participation of one or more members of a household in rural areas. In the urban areas the industry should be confined to the house. You should carefully keep in mind the definition of Household Industry in the rural area if you are enumerating a rural area and the definition in the urban area if you are enumerating an urban area.

A Household Industry should relate to production, processing, servicing, preparing or making and selling of goods. It does not include professions such as pleader or doctor or barber or waterman or astrologer.

A person though he may not be working in his own Household Industry may be working as a paid employee in another Household Industry. You should, therefore, enquire whether the person who is not working in his own Household Industry is working in any other Household Industry and if so, write the nature of the work done by him against question 10(a) and the nature of the Household Industry against 10(b).

Q. 10(c) If Employee in Household Industry.

This question will be filled up only for a person who is working as a paid employee in another person's Household Industry. In his or her case write E. E. For all others put ×.

The following examples will illustrate how questions 10(a) to 10(c) should be filled up for persons working at Household Industry.

Q. 10—Working at Household Industry

(a) Nature of work	(b) Nature of Household Industry	(c) If Employee
1. Spinning yarn	Spinning yarn in Ambar Charkha	×
2. Dyeing and printing yarn	Handloom weaving	×
3. Threshing and cleaning grain	Flour making chakki	×
4. Labourer employed for crushing oil	Oil ghani	E. E.
5. Tempering and polishing implements	Blacksmithy making agricultural implements	×
6. Labourer employed for making and firing kiln	Earthenware pottery	E. E.
7. Throwing & Turning pottery	Earthenware pottery	×
8. Making wooden doors and windows	Carpentry	×
9. Filling gold ornaments with lac	Goldsmithy	×
10. Labourer working hosiery machine	Hosiery	E. E.
11. Keeping accounts	Hosiery	×
12. Polishing and Scraping metal	Electroplating	×
13. Labourer employed for putting iron hoop on cart-wheels	Cartwheelwright	E. E.
14. Repairing of guns	Gunsmithy	×
15. Bee Keeping	Production of honey	×
16. Tending cattle	Livestock raising	×

Q. 11 Doing Work other than 8, 9 or 10.

If a worker is not working as a cultivator or as an agricultural labourer or at any Household Industry write the actual work he is doing. If a person is working as a cultivator or as an agricultural labourer or at Household Industry and also does some other work (including dairying or livestock raising, orchard or plantation, etc., as distinct from cultivation of crops) which does not relate to any of the above categories, write the other work he does in this question. If he is engaged in more than one work and neither of them relates to any of the three categories mentioned above write here the work on which he devotes more time.

Q. 11(a) Nature of Work.

In the case of person not working or who work, only as cultivator or as agricultural labourer or at Household Industry, put '×'.

Describe fully the nature of the work done by the person himself. Full and precise information as to the nature of work done by the person should be given either in the vernacular or in English or in vernacular transliteration of English. At previous censuses much trouble has been caused by inadequate answers, and if you do not succeed in obtaining satisfactory information on the individual slips, you will be required to make a further visit for that purpose.

Q. 11(b) Industry, Business, Trade, Profession or Service.

In the case of a person who is working and the nature of whose own work has been recorded in Question 11(a), you should write here the nature of industry, business, trade, profession or service in which the person works.

As in the case of Question 11(a), you should describe in detail the nature of industry, business, trade, profession or service in which the person works. Vague answers should be avoided. In the case of industries, the articles which are produced or serviced or repaired, should be given. If more than one article is produced the chief article produced or serviced or repaired should be given. In the case of business or trade the principal article of trade should be described. In the case of service describe the nature of the service to which the person's work belongs. The description should be such that it would be possible to classify the establishment in which the person is working for purposes of industrial classification of the population. The description should be either in the vernacular or in English or in vernacular transliteration of English,

In the case of a person for whom an × is put in Question 11(a), put an × in this question also.

Important points to remember in Questions 11(a) and 11(b).

1. Women or children who help with work, such as rice pounding or doing domestic service for wages or minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cowdung cakes, grass, etc., should be described fully even if they work part time. In the case of married or grown-up women who do any of the work mentioned above in addition to the usual household duties such work should be fully described and HW written in brackets after the full description.

2. If a person makes the articles he sells, he should be entered as maker and seller of them.

3. Wherever convenient, for complete description, the work should be expressed by the vernacular name by which it is known.

4. The following are too vague and must not be used by themselves :

Scientist, technician, civil servant, clerk, engineer, inspector, checker, foreman, overseer, supervisor, labourer, machinist, assistant, contractor, polisher.

5. Labourers.—For an unskilled labourer usually employed on one sort of work alone; give also the sort of work done, e.g., railway porter, market or bazar porter, labourer employed on road digging, bricklayer's labourer. If accustomed to work on various jobs, write general labourer.

6. Machine Operators.—Always state the kind of machine giving its recognized name, if any.

7. Shop-keepers, Retail Dealers, Shop Assistants.—If wholly or mainly engaged in selling, write 'Dealer' (if principal) or, Shop Assistant or Salesman (if assisting) and state whether the business is wholesale or retail or both. For shop assistants and salesman in stores with several departments, state the particular department in which engaged (e.g., Ship and Railway Parts, Fans and Sewing Machines, Grocers and Confectioners).

8. Transport Workers.—Describe fully the nature of the transport, e.g., air transport, rail transport, transport by motor car or motor cycle, or vehicles drawn by horse, etc.

9. Services.—For a person engaged in the Defence Services write 'Service of Central Government'.

10. If the job is known in the trade or industry by a special name, use that name. Managers, Foreman, etc., should be given the department/branch wherever applicable, e.g., Sales Manager or a Manager of Hardware Department, Machine Shop Foreman or Boiler Room Foreman, etc. The following terms are insufficient by themselves :—

Manufacturer, merchant, agent, broker, refractor, dealer, engineer and iron works, etc.

11. Domestic services.—In the case of any private servant e.g., a cook or domestic servant write only 'private cook or domestic servant'. There is no industry in his case but in the case of persons employed in hostels, restaurants, boarding houses, institutions, etc., the words, hotel, restaurant, etc., should be added.

For persons in the employ of Firms carrying on two or more businesses, if the businesses are carried on in separate premises then the business carried on at the premises in which the person is employed should be given. If the businesses are carried on in the same premises but each has a separate organisation (i.e., they have separate records of employment, production, etc.) then the appropriate business should be quoted. If, however, the two activities are carried on side by side then the major activity of the firm or establishment should be given.

12. Commerce.—Special care should be taken to see that the distinction between retail and wholesale business is clear. As in industries, the goods handled should be clearly indicated.

Q. 11(c) Class of Worker.

For a person who is :

- | | | |
|--|-------|----|
| 1. an Employer , that is, who hires one or more persons in his work described in Q. 11(a). | Write | MR |
| 2. an Employee , that is, who does his work described in Q. 11(a) under others for wages or salary in cash or kind. | Write | EE |
| 3. a Single Worker , that is, who is doing his work described in Q. 11(a) without employing others, except casually and without the help of other members of the family except casually. This will include workers working as members of co-operatives. | Write | SW |
| 4. a Family Worker , that is, who is doing his work described in Q. 11(a) in own family without wages or salary in cash or kind. | Write | FW |

For a person for whom an '×' is put in Qs. 11(a) and 11(b) put an × in this question also.

Explanation :

(i) An Employer is a person who has to employ other persons in order to perform the work entered in Q. 11(a). That is to say, such a person is not only responsible for his own personal work but also for giving work to others in the business mentioned in Q. 11(a). But a person who employs domestic servants for household duties or has subordinates under him in an office where he is employed by others, is not an employer, even if he has the power to employ another person in his office on behalf of his own employer or employers.

(ii) An Employee is a person who usually works under some other person for salary or wages in cash or kind. There may be persons who are employed as managers, superintendents, agents, etc., and in that capacity employ or control other workers on behalf of their own employers. Such persons are only employees, as explained above, and should not be regarded as employers.

(iii) A Single Worker for the purpose of Q. 11(c) is a person who works by himself but not as Head of household in a Household Industry. He is not employed by any one else and in his turn does not employ any body else not even members of his household except casually. This definition of a Single Worker will include a person who works in joint partnership with one or several persons hiring no employees, and also a member of a producers' co-operative. Each one of the partners or members of such producers' co-operatives should be recorded as 'Single Worker'.

The following examples will illustrate how Qs. 11(a) to 11(d) should be filled up for person doing work other than 8, 9 or 10.

TABLE A-I
AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

UNION TABLE A-I—AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

1. Introduction

This table furnishes for the State, each administrative division and district, for rural and urban areas separately, the area in Sq. miles/Sq. kilometres, population per Sq. mile, number of villages : inhabited and uninhabited, number of towns, number of occupied residential houses and the population separated by males and females according to the 1961 Census. This is the basic population table for the census. In the previous censuses it was not the practice to give density in this table, but this time density figures have been included. In the State Table A-I similar figures have been presented down to the Police Station/City/Town-Group/Town level.

2. Changes in area of State and Districts 1901-1961

Extensive changes have taken place in the boundary of the State and of the districts from time to time. But as the State of West Bengal was created only in 1947, it is not possible to have a retrospective account of the changes in its area since 1901. Similar is the case with the districts affected by the Partition. The following Table shows changes of area since 1901 only for those districts which were unaffected by Partition. For the State and the reorganised or newly created districts the table shows area figures only for Censuses taken since their reorganisation or creation.

*Sources and methods of computation have been explained later in this fly-leaf.

2.1. Full account of changes in jurisdiction and area between 1951 and 1961 may be obtained from Appendix I to Table A-I and the Appendix to Table A-II.

3. Effect of States Reorganisation in 1956

Under the Bihar and West Bengal (Transfer of Territories) Act 1956 territories were transferred to West Bengal from two districts of Bihar, viz., the districts of Purnea and Manbhum. Section 3(1) of the Act reads as follows :

3(1) As from the appointed day, there shall be added to the State of West Bengal the territories which on the 1st day of March, 1956, were comprised in—

(a) that portion of Kishanganj Sub-division of Purnea District which lies to the east of the boundary line demarcated in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) by an authority appointed in this behalf by the Central Government and that portion of Gopalpur Thana of the said district which lies to the east or north, as the case may be, of the said boundary line ; and

and the said territories shall there-upon cease to form part of the State of Bihar.

3.1. Shri V. Viswanathan, I.C.S., was appointed by the Central Government as the authority to demarcate the boundary line between the States of Bihar and West Bengal in the Purnea District in pursuance of the provisions of this section. His report was published under Government of India, Ministry of Home Affairs Notification No. S.R.O. 2473, dated the 25th October 1956 (Gazette of India, Extra Ordinary, Part II—Section 3 of the 25th October 1956). This Notification was subsequently amended by Notification No. S.O. 1728, dated the 11th July 1960 (Gazette of India, Part II—Section 3 of the 16th July, 1960). According to this report, as modified by the amendment, the following area was transferred from the Purnea District of Bihar to West Bengal :

Serial No.	Name of Revenue Thana	Name of Police Station	Number of Villages	Area (in Sq. miles) as per Bihar records	Population (1951 Census)
1	Islampur	Thakurganj	12	336.40	14,357
		Chopra	124		52,858
		Islampur	120		57,317
2	Kishanganj	Kishanganj	286	246.79	63,743
		Goalpokhar	94		35,226
3	Gopalpur	Karandighi	270	149.69	47,165
Total			906	732.88	270,666

3.2. Under sub-section (3) of Section 3 of the Act, the territory specified in clause (a) of sub-section(1), (i.e., the territory transferred from the Purnea District) was to be included in the Darjeeling District of West Bengal, and the territory specified in clause (b) of that sub-section (i.e., the territory transferred from the Manbhum District) was to be constituted as a separate District styled as Purulia District within Burdwan Division of the State of West Bengal.

3.3. On 1st November 1956, the day on which the transfer of territories came into effect, the Government of West Bengal issued a series of Notifications to bring the gained territories into the fold of its existing administrative set-up. The notifications are listed below :

No. 3855 G.A.

No. 3863 G.A.

Refixing the jurisdiction of the Siliguri Subdivision of the Darjeeling District so as to include within it the new police stations of Chopra, Islampur, Goalpokhar and Karandighi.

3.4. As already stated, it was provided for by the Parliament that the territory transferred from the district of Purnea to the State of West Bengal should be annexed to the district of Darjeeling. The Notifications issued on the 1st November, 1956 only followed up this provision. On the 2nd November 1956, however, the Government of West Bengal issued another series of notifications transferring this territory from the district of Darjeeling to the district of West Dinajpur. The notifications were :

No. 3875 G.A.

Including the new police stations of Chopra, Karandighi, Islampur and Goalpokhar in the district of West Dinajpur.

No. 3876 G.A.

Refixing the jurisdiction of the Raiganj Subdivision of West Dinajpur District so as to include within it the new police stations of Chopra, Karandighi, Islampur and Goalpokhar.

No. 3877 G.A.

Refixing the jurisdiction of the Siliguri Subdivision of the Darjeeling District so as to exclude from it the new police stations of Chopra, Karandighi, Islampur and Goalpokhar.

3.5. The administrative arrangement in this part of the transferred territory underwent another reshuffling on the 21st March 1959, when further changes came into effect under a series of notifications issued on the 20th March 1959 :

No. 1176 G.A.

No. 1177 G.A.

(a) Refixing the limits of Raiganj Subdivision of the West Dinajpur District so as to include only the police stations of Raiganj, Hemtabad, Kaliaganj, Itahar, Bangshihari and Kushmundi and (b) making a new subdivision styled as Islampur Subdivision of the West Dinajpur comprising the police stations of Chopra (as reconstituted), Karandighi, Islampur and Goalpokhar.

4. Area figures

Following the precedence set in the 1951 Census, area figures of districts furnished by the Survey of India have been printed in Union Table A-1 and in the Union Primary Census Abstract. Director, Map Publication, Survey of India has stressed that these figures should be treated as provisional and that more accurate area figure can be supplied only when the changed boundaries, owing to extensive territorial changes, are surveyed on the ground. He ascribed the changes in area figures of districts which underwent no jurisdictional change to fresh planimetry on large scale maps printed during 1959 to 1962.

4.1. The Director of Land Records and Surveys, West Bengal, was unable to furnish the revised area figures of the territorial units for the 1961 Census. He stated that the Jurisdiction Lists were yet to be revised and that the work was not expected to be complete before 1966. Even for mauzas, he did not think it advisable to utilize the area figures of the old Jurisdiction Lists without making it clear that the areas were subject to correction, since jurisdictions had been frequently changed by notifications since the Lists were last published. He was, however, of the opinion that it would be in order to utilize the old Jurisdiction Lists with the remark that the Lists had not been revised since they were last published.

4.2. In the absence of figures furnished by the State Survey Department, area figures for the different territorial units had to be computed for purposes of the Census from the various available sources. The Registrar General's instructions were that area figures of higher units could be built up from village area figures. But the problem was that authentic area figures even at the village level were not available. The Registrar General suggested that the best course would be to try and obtain the areas of police stations as closely as possible and then publish area figures of those mauzas which were available against their respective names. For those mauzas for which the figures were not available, the area figures might not be given and a symbol N.A. (not available) might be printed against them.

4.3. It was directed by the Registrar General that police station areas should be shown to the first place of decimal only. Area figures of higher units were arrived at from police station area figures.

4.4. The following notes on the methods of computation of the police station area figures for purposes of the 1961 Census will show that the figures are provisional, approximate and subject to revision :—

For police stations which had undergone no change in jurisdiction since 1951, area figures furnished by the Director of Land Records & Surveys for the 1951 Census were adopted.

For police stations which were reconstituted or newly created since the 1951 Census (except those comprised in the territory transferred from Bihar) adjustments were made in 1951 area figure with reference to the area of the mauzas involved in the jurisdictional changes. Area figures of the mauzas were obtained from the last published Jurisdiction Lists.

For the police stations included in the new district of Purulia, the area figures given against their respective names in 1951 Census Handbook of Purulia District were adopted. Purulia Town Police Station, which was contemporaneous with the Purulia Municipality was shown separately from the Purulia Muffassil Police Station.

The case of the area figure of the territory transferred from the Purnea District of Bihar was of much interest. Shri V. Viswanathan, I.C.S. Special Commissioner for Bihar-West Bengal boundary, did not give in his report a full list of the villages which were transferred to West Bengal from the Purnea District of Bihar. Instead, he listed the villages abutting on either side of the new border. His original report of the 25th October 1956, referred to earlier, contained a statement showing area and population transferred to West Bengal as a result of the demarcation. According to this statement 913 villages with a total area of 759 sq. miles were transferred to West Bengal. The statement was subsequently modified on the 11th July 1960. According to the modified statement (already reproduced earlier in this fly-leaf) the area transferred to West Bengal was as follows :

Name of Police Station	Area (in Sq. miles) as per Bihar records
Thakurganj	336.40
Chopra
Islampur
Kishanganj	246.79
Goalpokhar
Karandighi	149.69
Total	732.88

The Director of Land Records & Surveys, West Bengal, who was looked upon as the appropriate authority to furnish area figures for use in the State Tables of West Bengal, stated that he was not in a position to furnish the figures for the territory transferred from the Purnea District of Bihar till his own survey operation in the area was completed. In the meantime he could neither accept nor challenge the figures (732.88 Sq. miles as per Bihar records) quoted in Shri Viswanathan's modified report.

As figures according to the Survey Directorate of the State were not yet available, reliance had necessarily to be placed on other sources from which the police station area figures could be computed, even if provisionally, for the purposes of the census. But figures collected from different sources gave different results. The Director of Land Records & Surveys, West Bengal, obtained village-wise area figures of the transferred territory from the Director of Land Records, Bihar. The figures were added up in the Census Office and the following result obtained :

Area transferred from Bihar

1 Thakurganj P.S.	204.47 Sq. miles
2 Chopra P.S.
3 Islampur P.S.	133.66 "
4 Kishanganj P.S.	247.09 "
5 Goalpokhar P.S.
6 Karandighi P.S.	151.77 "
Total	736.99 Sq. miles

According to a computation made at the office of the Registrar General from the records of the 1951 Census of Bihar, the area figures of the transferred territory were :

Area transferred from Bihar

1 Thakurganj P.S.	60.5 Sq. miles
2 Chopra P.S.	139.7 "
3 Islampur P.S.	131.4 "
4 Kishanganj P.S.	186.7 "
5 Goalpokhar P.S.	73.0 "
6 Karandighi P.S.	150.7 "
Total	742.0 Sq. miles

According to the figures compiled by the Superintendent of Census Operations, Bihar, for the purposes of his own tables for the 1961 Census, these area figures were as follows :

Area transferred from Bihar

1 Thakurganj P.S.	56.96 Sq. miles
2 Chopra P.S.	146.11 "
3 Islampur P.S.	133.26 "
4 Kishanganj P.S.	180.51 "
5 Goalpokhar P.S.	66.30 "
6 Karandighi P.S.	150.24 "
Total	733.38 Sq. miles

The matter was referred to the Registrar General for decision. He suggested that the figure worked out by the Superintendent of Census Operations, Bihar, might be adopted. Accordingly, these figures, rounded up to one place of decimal, have been used in computing the area figures of the new police stations comprised in the transferred territory. It is perhaps needless to emphasise that the figures are provisional and subject to revision on the result of the survey conducted by the Director of Land Records & Surveys, West Bengal.

Another contentious matter was introduced by that portion of the ceded territory which was transferred from Chopra Police Station of West Dinajpur District to Pansidewa Police Station of Darjeeling District under Notification No. 1177 G.A., dated the 20th March 1959. The notification did not describe the villages which were involved in the jurisdictional change and the river Mahananda, the northern bank of which now constituted the boundary between two police stations and, for that matter, between two districts, was found to cut through one or two revenue mauzas. It was observed, however, that this portion of the transferred territory roughly coincided with the 12 villages of the old Thakurganj Police Station of Furrea District which were transferred to West Bengal. The area figure of 56.96 Sq. miles, furnished for these villages by the Superintendent of Census Operations, Bihar, was therefore taken to be the area of this tract.

The area of the former Tollygunge Municipality (since included in Calcutta) was deducted from the 1951 area figure of Tollygunge Police Station.

For Calcutta City, the area figure furnished by the Calcutta Corporation was adopted.

The area figure of that part of Garden Reach Police Station which is outside Calcutta City was not available from the 1951 Census tables. As a matter of fact, the police station did not find a mention in the 1951 State Table A-I for 24-Parganas District, presumably because the entire area of the police station was supposed to be included within the limits of the Calcutta City. Following the 1951 pattern of arrangement of the units, in 1961 also the Garden Reach Police Station was originally left out of account and no separate code number was assigned to it in the serial for the police stations of the 24-Parganas District; and in the original list of towns prepared for the 1961 Census, the Garden Reach Municipality, as in 1951, was shown to be situated entirely within the Metiabruz Police Station. It was not until the 1951 area figure of this latter police station was attempted to be fitted into the area figures of the urban units it now contained, that certain interesting facts came to light. It was found that in 1951 the mauzas Akra, Makhahati, Panchur, Ramdashati, Alampur and Paharpur (J. L. Nos. 1 to 6) of this police station were all censused as rural. The total area of these mauzas was 1,945.19 acres or 3.04 Sq. miles but in the State Table E (for 1951) the total rural area under this police station was shown at 0.3 Sq. miles only. The area of the Garden Reach Municipality was given at 3.42 Sq. miles and these two figures taken together were made to account for the total area of the Metiabruz Police Station (3.7 Sq. miles).

In 1961 the six mauzas (J. L. Nos. 1 to 6) were declared urban and they together formed part of the new non-municipal town of Panchur. The area of this town had to be shown at 3.04 Sq. miles, which was the total area of the constituent mauzas. The Chairman, Garden Reach Municipality, when asked to confirm the 1951 area figure of 3.42 Sq. miles, stated that the area of his municipality had all along been 5.00 Sq. miles.

The area of the Metiabruz Police Station was 3.7 Sq. miles in 1951 and it had not undergone any jurisdictional change in the inter-censal period. But the total area of the two towns it was supposed to contain exceeded the police station area by quite a big margin. It was revealed on enquiry that a part of the Garden Reach Police Station was within the jurisdiction of the Garden Reach Police Station. This police station was a Calcutta Suburban Police Station under the Calcutta Suburban Police Act of 1866 and was, therefore, under the administrative control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta (a factor which might have contributed to the earlier confusion). The portion of Garden Reach Police Station which included the municipal town of Garden Reach was, obviously, beyond the limits of Calcutta City. The area of this portion had to be reckoned as a part of the 24-Parganas District to arrive at its correct area and density figures. The area was calculated in the following manner:

Area of Panchur (Non-municipal)
Town	3.04 Sq. miles
Area of Garden Reach (Municipal)
Town	5.00 "
Total area of Metiabruz P.S. and part of Garden Reach P.S. (Outside Calcutta City)	8.04 "
Less area of Metiabruz P.S.	3.73 "
Area of Garden Reach P.S. (Outside Calcutta City)	4.31 "

The area figure of the 24-Parganas, Forest Division (1,629.753 Sq. miles) was furnished by the Chief Conservator of Forests, West Bengal. In Census tables the figure was rounded up to 1,630 Sq. miles. An attempt was made to establish the police station break-up of this figure by correspondence with the Chief Conservator of Forests, but the matter was not finalised till going to the Press.

The area figures of Sikkim and of its three Tehsils were furnished by the Sikkim Government.

4.5 The total area of West Bengal and Sikkim as given by the Survey of India was 36,573 Sq. miles, whereas the area figure obtained by adding up the computed area figures was 37,012.1 Sq. miles. The discrepancy of 439.1 Sq. miles could not be readily reconciled. The only thing to do about it was to attribute it to the difference in the modes of computation of the two sets of figures.

4.6 Rural-Urban break up of the total area was based on the computed area figures, not the area figures furnished by the Survey of India. The urban area figures for Table A-I was arrived at in the manner detailed below.

4.7 The area of each town was first obtained correct up to the second place of decimal. For cities and towns administered by Municipal Corporations, Municipal Commissioners, Town Committees, Station Committees, Union Committees etc., area figures furnished by the civic authorities concerned were adopted. Area figures of Taherpur, Gayespur Government Colony, Kataganj and Gokulpur Government Colony were furnished by the Refugee Rehabilitation Commissioner, and those of Phulia and Kalyani by the Development Department, Government of West Bengal. For Ichhapur Defence Estate, Barrackpur Cantonment, Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area, Durgapur Steel Project Area and Durgapur Coke Oven Project Area, area figures were furnished by the administrative offices concerned. The area figures of other non-municipal towns were obtained by adding up the area figures of the constituent mauzas.

4.8 For showing the urban area of a police station in State Table A-I and in the State Primary Census Abstract, the areas, correct to two places of decimal, of the towns situated in the police station were added up and the total was rounded off to the first place of decimal. The urban area thus arrived at was deducted from the police station area to obtain the rural area figure. It is important to note that the total urban area of the State as per Table A-I and the Primary Census Abstract is the cumulative total of the urban components of the police station area figures, but the total urban area of the State as per Table A-IV is the total of the area figures of all the towns in the State correct to the second place of decimal. This factor apart, the difference in urban area figures between A-I and A-IV Tables is also due to the fact that the totals of the area figures of the individual towns shown under Police Stations of Noapara, Barrackpore, Titagarh, Baranagar, Metiabruz and Garden Reach could not be tallied with the police station area figures for one or more of the following reasons: (i) municipal area figures were furnished by the civic authorities, while police station area figures were based on Jurisdiction Lists, (ii) river areas appertaining to and included in police station area might not have been included in municipal area figures, (iii) some of the towns fall in the jurisdiction of more than one police station. The town of 'Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area' was another source of discrepancy. The Aerodrome area extended to three police stations, viz., Dum-Dum, Barasat and Rajarhat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purpose of dividing the area of each of these police stations into rural and urban in Table A-I, the urban portion had been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area.

4.9 The density figures in Union and States Tables A-I are on the computed area figures.

4.10 It will not be out of place to point out here that the population, density or other figures shown in State Table A-I and State Primary Census Abstract against the police stations of Noapara, Barrackpore, Titagarh, Metiabruz and Garden Reach in the district of 24-Parganas do not exactly relate so the areas which correspond to the local limits of the jurisdictions of those police stations. The reason is that the towns which fall in these police stations have often cut across police station boundaries. Census data in respect of a town were collected for the town as a unit, not for the separate jurisdictions of the different police stations to which it might extend.

5.1 About a couple of years before the Census was taken the Government of West Bengal took a decision to divide the district of 24-Parganas, to create two new subdivisions and eight new police stations and to modify the boundaries and areas of three existing subdivisions and nine existing police stations of the district. As a preliminary step towards effecting this reorganisation of administrative units, the Government issued a series of notifications (listed below) on the 30th December 1959. But these notifications, by themselves, did not effect the territorial changes envisaged by them. They only stipulated that the changes described would come into force with effect from such date as might be notified later on :

- (i) No. 5287 PI, reconstituting the Jayanagar Police Station.
- (ii) No. 5828 PI, creating the Mandir Bazar Police Station.

- (ix) No. 5835 PI, reconstituting the Haroa Police Station.
- (x) No. 5836 PI, creating the Minakhan Police Station.
- (xi) No. 5837 PI, reconstituting the Hasnabad Police Station.
- (xii) No. 5838 PI, creating the Hingalganj Police Station.

- (xiv) No. 5840 PI, creating the Patharpratima Police Station.
- (xv) No. 5841 PI, reconstituting the Kulpi Police Station.
- (xvi) No. 5842 PI, reconstituting the Kakdwip Police Station.
- (xvii) No. 5843 PI, creating the Namkhana Police Station.

5.2. The territorial changes envisaged in these notifications were given effect only on the 1st September 1962 (by notification No. 3490 PI, dated the 25th August 1962), that is, eighteen months after the Census was taken. It will be seen that two sets of State Table A-I and State Primary Census Abstract for the district of 24-Parganas have been printed in this volume. The first set arranges the administrative units as they were on the sunrise of the 1st March 1961. It, therefore, does not take into account the territorial changes contained in the notifications listed above. The second set is a result of these changes and therefore follows the arrangement of the administrative units as they were to be on the 1st September 1962.

5.3. The circumstances leading to preparation of two sets of A-Series Tables and Primary Census Abstracts for the district of 24-Parganas need a little explanation. The Census in the district was organised and taken on the pattern of administrative units as they existed on 1st March 1961, i.e., on the basis of the old Police Stations. But as the Registrar General indicated to the Government of West Bengal that for the purposes of Census the notifications issued bringing about a division of the district on paper alone would be sufficient, and that it would not be necessary to have a physical division of the district, the slips were sorted and the data tabulated in the Sorting and Tabulation Office according to the new set up of Police Stations as contemplated under the notifications already issued. When the A-Series Tables and Primary Census Abstracts of the district were prepared after going through an elaborate process of re-arrangement of the village units with reference to the notifications, and the Tables sent to New Delhi, the Registrar General communicated his decision that the arrangement of Police Station boundaries should be as they were on the 1st March 1961. This reversion to the original position could not obviously be done for B, C and D-Series Tables as the Enumeration Slips had already been mixed up and made up into tracts corresponding to the new police stations. The Registrar General agreed that it would be sufficient to prepare only the A-Series Tables and Primary Census Abstracts of the district on the set up of old Police Stations, and that the other tables were not to be disturbed. The A-Series Tables and Primary Census Abstract according to the new police station boundaries are also printed in this volume along with the corresponding tables of the district on the set-up that existed on 1st March 1961 on account of their usefulness in the present context and also on account of the fact that Police Station-wise figures in other tables will have reference to these new Police Stations.

5.4. The remaining stages of the bifurcation process, namely creation of two new subdivisions and modification of the boundaries of three existing subdivisions were contemplated to be completed by the 1st of April, 1963, but were postponed due to the state of emergency, created by the Chinese aggression. In the meantime, the jurisdictions of the existing subdivisions of Basirhat, Diamond Harbour and Sadar were refixed by Notification Nos. 4050 G.A., 4051 G.A. and 4052 G.A. respectively, dated the 27th August 1962, so as to bring the new Police Stations into their fold.

6. The Urban Population

The criteria adopted for treating an area as urban in the 1961 Census have been explained in the Preface. In 1951, all municipal towns and areas administered by Town Committees, Union Committees, Station Committees and Cantonment Boards were treated as urban. Other areas were also classified as urban if such an area (a) contained a population of not less than 5,000 (b) had a density of population of not less than 1,000 inhabitants per sq. mile (c) had some im.

ortance as a centre of trade or distribution or administration and (d) had three quarters of adult male population chiefly employed in pursuits other than agriculture.

6.1. In 1961, the same criteria about urban classification were communicated to the District Magistrates while requesting them to suggest the names of places to be treated as towns in their districts for the purpose of the Census. But subsequently, the criterion (c) was not insisted upon specially but it is assumed that it has been automatically fulfilled in respect of all places declared as towns in 1961.

6.2. No urban area of 1951 has been eliminated excepting the non-municipal town of Kanchrapara Development Area Rural Colony in Nadia District which has given place to two newly created non-municipal towns of 1961 viz., Kalyani and Gayespur Government Colony. The Tollygunge Municipal Town has been included within the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Municipal Corporation and has ceased to exist.

6.3. 68 places have been declared towns in 1961 Census. A list showing the name and populations as per 1961 of the new towns under Classes IV, V and VI is given below :

Note.—Lebong and Jalpahar, cantonments in Darjeeling were treated as two separate towns in 1931 and 1941 but included in Darjeeling from 1951 onwards. Buxa, then a cantonment in Jalpaiguri, was treated as a town in 1901, 1911 and 1921, while Beldanga in Murshidabad, treated as town in 1921, 1931 and 1941 was declassified in 1951 and again reclassified in 1961. Garden Reach went to Calcutta in 1951 and was not counted in 24-Parganas in that year. Bolpur in Birbhum was treated as a town in 1921, but declassified in 1931 and again reclassified from 1941 onwards.

7. The Rural Population

For all Censuses since 1921 a village, for Census purposes, has been a survey mauza. In 1901 and 1921, when the cadastral survey had not been completed in most of the districts and when the mauza boundaries laid down in the General Revenue Survey were not always clearly traceable, the term 'village' in Census usage was rather indeterminate because it had different meanings in different areas, sometimes it meant a survey mauza, sometimes a residential village. The following extract from the 1901 Report (p. 34) will bring out the position clearly :

"A village may be either a collection of houses bearing a separate name, or else the mauza, i.e., the area treated as a village at the survey. The latter has the advantage of being a definite unit regarding which there can be no manner of doubt so long as the boundaries laid down at the survey are known, but it does not at the present time necessarily correspond to the residential village. One of the latter may spread over two mauzas or survey villages, or two may lie in the same mauza or the mauza may be altogether uninhabited. On the other hand, if the survey unit be neglected, it is very difficult to say with any precision what constitutes a village. There are many collections of houses which would by one person be called separate villages, while another would treat them as hamlets of other villages in the neighbourhood. In Bengal the records of the revenue survey have not been kept upto date and in most districts the survey mauza is no longer clearly traceable. Generally, therefore, a village was taken for census purposes to mean a residential village, i.e., as a collection of houses bearing a separate name with its dependent hamlets. Where, however, there has been a recent cadastral survey, as in parts of Bihar and Orissa, the survey mauza was taken as the census unit".

7.1. The position had improved, even if slightly, in 1911. To quote from the Report (p. 41) of 1911 :

"The term village as used in the census records has very different meanings. In the province of Bengal as constituted at the time of the census the mauza, or survey or settlement village, was treated as the census village, except in four districts ; in the districts then included in Eastern Bengal and Assam the residential village was taken as the unit. In other words, the census village corresponded to the mauza in all the districts of Bihar and Orissa, except Manbhum, Palamau and Hazaribagh, while in Bengal it corresponded to the mauza in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, to the settlement village in Cooch Bihar, and elsewhere to the residential village, i.e., a group of houses bearing a separate name".

7.2. It was from 1921 onwards that the term village corresponded to a revenue survey mauza. In 1961 also a village as a general rule was taken to mean a revenue survey mauza with a jurisdiction list number. Departure from this general rule was to be made only when peculiar circumstances made adherence to it impossible. For example, where a tea estate or forest unit comprised two or more revenue survey mauzas, the separate boundaries of which could not be demarcated on the ground, the tea estate or forest unit concerned was itself treated as a Census village irrespective of the number of mauzas it contained. The Alipurduar Railway Colony in the Jalpaiguri district, the Haringhata Dairy Firm, the Dhubulia Camp, the Cooper's Camp, the Rupasri Camp and the Ranaghat Women's Home in the Nadia District sprang up in rural areas in such a manner that mauza boundaries intersecting them were untraceable. These units had to be treated as separate villages. The Kalai-kunda Airbase in Midnapore District was also treated as a separate village. In the Sunderban Forest Area, which is not covered by conventional revenue survey mauzas, the Census unit was a forest Beat.

7.3. Where part of a revenue survey mauza had been included in urban areas, the rural part of that mauza was counted as one village.

7.4. Another case of exception is the territory of Sikkim where the collection block under the charge of a Mandal (Revenue Collecting Officer) has been treated as a village.

7.5. The following table shows for each district the number of populated villages at each Census since 1901 :

NOTE :—(i) State level figures for 1901-1941 are not given because adjusted figures for Purulia for these years are not available.

(ii) In the districts of Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri mauzas which were merged in a Tea Estate or a Forest Union, and for which the boundary lines could not be demarcated on the ground, were together counted a single inhabited village in 1961. The variations over sixty years are also due to changes in number of mauzas by settlement operations, change in the number of uninhabited mauzas and absorption by towns of rural mauzas. Enclaves of Cooch Behar in Pakistan were not covered in the 1961 Census of India.

² Same as in 1 above. Includes Alipur Duar Railway Colony which has been counted as a separate village.

³ Excludes the enclaves in East Pakistan.

⁵ Includes that part of the village Govindpur on Malda-Purnea border which is claimed by the West Bengal Government.

⁶ Includes Haringhata Dairy Firm, Dhubulia Camp, Cooper's Camp and the Ranaghat Women's Home which were treated as separate villages.

⁷ In the Sunderban Forest area the Census Unit was a Forest Beat.

⁸ Includes the Kalaikunda Air Base which was counted as a separate village.

7.7 In the above statement the figures under Cols. 3 and 5 represent the total number of uninhabited and inhabited villages respectively as given in Cols. 6 and 5 of Union Table A-I. How far these villages correspond to revenue survey mauzas has been explained earlier in this fly-leaf. It has also been stated earlier that where part of the mauza is included in a town, the rural part of that mauza has been counted as one village. The figure under Col. 4b of the above statement is, therefore, again included either in Col. 5 or in Col. 3, according as the rural part of the mauza is inhabited or not. Where a mauza is wholly urban, but different parts of it have been included in different urban areas, the mauza as a whole has been shown in Col. 4a as fully included in towns. In the absence of revised Jurisdiction Lists correct to the present boundaries of the different districts, the figure at Col. 2 has been obtained by adding those at Cols. 3, 4a and 5. For Sikkim, the figure represents collection blocks.

7.8. The figures at Col. 4b stand for the number of mauzas which have been partly included in the non-municipal towns only. It may be possible that some of the municipal towns also comprise parts of revenue survey mauzas. But as an authentic account of the composition of the municipal towns in the State could not be readily obtained, they were left out of reckoning for the purposes of computing the figures under Col. 4b of this statement.

7.9. The non-municipal town of Hili in the West Dinajpur District contains two whole mauzas and parts of two other mauzas. The town is situated on the Indo-Pak border. As a matter of fact, the present town is only a part of the old town of Hili that existed prior to the Partition. The boundary line in this area which follows the Western edge of the railway lands adjoining the Santahar—Parbatipur (E. B. Rly). Railway cuts across the mauzas of Basudevpur (J. L. No. 363) and Dharanda (J. L. No. 359), parts of which are now in the Indian Union and comprised in the town of Hili.

7.10. The Refugee towns of Taherpur, Gayespur Government Colony and Phulia and the new town of Kalyani were formed by the authorities concerned in such a manner that they included several mauzas in parts only. Taherpur contains parts of mauzas Taherpur (J. L. No. 4), Bhaduri (2), Mahishdanga (3), Palitpara (25) and Barasat (28) of Ranaghat Police Station. Kalyani contains parts of the following mauzas of the Chakdah Police Station : Birpara (52), Chandmari (78), Saguna (80), Joydebbati (79), Uttarpara (76), Dakshin Ghoshpara (63), Char Jadubati (53), Majherchar (54), Char Kanchrapara (56), Krishnadebbati (60), Kanchrapara (57), Dakshin Bhabanipur (69), Gopalpur (75), Sarati (49) and Muralipur (51). Gayespur Government Colony includes parts of the mauzas of Gayeshpur (87), Dogachhia (88), Raghunathpur (82) and Kanpur (86) of the Chakdah Police Station, and the town of Phulia comprises parts of the mauzas of Baincha (70), Sukpukuria (58), Belgaria (57) and Udaypur (73) of the Santipur Police Station.

7.11. A part of the mauza Jadavpur (J. L. No. 35) of the Tollygunge Police Station (West Bengal Police) being included in the Calcutta Corporation, the remaining part of it has been shown under the new non-municipal town bearing the name of, the mauza. In other words what now constitutes the non-municipal town of Jadavpur is only a part of the revenue survey mauza of Jadavpur of the Tollygunge Police Station (West Bengal Police) since renamed as Jadavpur Police Station. In 1951 this part of the mauza was censused as rural. The remaining part of the mauza which is now included in the Corporation of Calcutta formed part of the erstwhile Tollygunge Municipal town in 1951. The entire area of the municipality is now merged in Calcutta. The industrial estate of Batanagar extends to part of the mauza Bangla (J. L. No. 41) of Maheshtola Police Station, the other part of the mauza being covered by the non-municipal town of Nangi. The Refugee Township of New Barrackpur Colony contains parts of mauzas Agapur (J. L. No. 33) and Kodalia (J. L. No. 36) of the Khardah Police Station.

7.12. The non-municipal urban area of Outer Burnpur, an out growth beyond the limits of Burnpur Town, includes, besides the two mauzas of Santa (J. L. No. 28) and Hirapur (J. L. No. 29), the mauza Narsimhabad (J. L. No. 27) of Hirapur Police Station in part only because the other part is in the town of Burnpur which is the property of the Indian Iron and Steel Company Ltd. This urban area of Outer Burnpur is beyond the limits of the walled town of Burnpur the civic affairs of which are managed by the Indian Iron and Steel Company. It was decided by the Registrar General, India, to count Outer Burnpur and Burnpur as one and he arranged them accordingly in the Final Population Totals Volume (Paper No. 1 of 1962). He desired that in the State Tables of West Bengal also Outer Burnpur and Burnpur should be counted as one for the sake of parity with the central publication. Accordingly, in Tables A-I and A-IV, Outer Burnpur and Burnpur have been counted as one town, but separate sub-totals for each unit have been shown.*

*The non-municipal urban area of Baly treated as urban for the first time in the 1961 Census, and the adjoining municipal town of Baly were, likewise, counted together as one unit in the tables in pursuance of the Registrar General's decision.

The towns of Durgapur Steel Project Area and Durgapur Coke Oven Plant Area were constituted by the respective authorities concerned after acquiring suitable areas of land which spread across parts of several mauzas. Thus, the Durgapur Steel Project Area covers parts of the following mauzas of the Durgapur Police Station: Benachiti (67), Bhiringi (68), Faridpur (74), Dhandabag (66), Bijupara (57), Amrai (58), Kururia (56), Mahishkhanpuri (75), Gopinathpur (85), Goalara (78), Radhamadhabpur (87), Phuljhari (82), Kamalpur (47), Chak-Bhabani (77), Pardai (76), Mamra (86), Sobhapur (46), Parulia (44), Banagram (73), Punabad (69), Mejudihi (65), Sujara (63), Waria (64), Dhunara (70), Pursha (71), Gopalmath (54), Mohanpur (61), Jagurbandh (62), Angadpur (89), Par Radhamadhabpur (88), Raturia (90) and Arjunpur (72). Besides, parts of the following mauzas of the Ondal Police Station are also included in the Durgapur Steel Project Area: Ondal (52), Dubchuria (55) and Shirampur (56). The Durgapur Coke Oven Project Area extends to parts of mauzas Gopinathpur (85), Birbhanpur (91) and Radhamadhabpur (87) of the Durgapur Police Station.

7.13. As for the Ichhapur Defence Estate and the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area, which are the properties of the Defence and Civil Aviation Departments respectively, it could not be ascertained whether these places, treated as non-municipal towns for the purposes of the Census, contained any mauza in part because details of the composition of these places were not known.

7.14. The four constituent units of the Kharagpur Town viz., (i) the Kharagpur Municipality, (ii) the Kharagpur Railway Settlement, (iii) the Indian Institute of Technology Area and (iv) the Kharagpur Non-municipal Town comprising the remaining parts of the Inda and Kharida Unions, contain, between themselves, parts of several mauzas, but all the four units taken together do not include any mauza in part, because their combined area is conterminous with the area of the Kharagpur Town Police Station.

8. Census-house

For the purpose of 1961 Census the term 'Census-house' was defined as follows:

"A Census house is a structure or part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school, etc., with a separate entrance.

If a building has a number of flats or blocks which have separate entrances of their own and are independent of each other giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate, they will be considered as separate census houses. If within an enclosed or open compound there are separate buildings then each such building will also be a separate census house. If all the structures within an enclosed compound are together treated as one building then each structure with a separate entrance should be treated as a separate census house".

8.1. Occupied Residential House meant the same thing as an occupied Census-house. All Census-houses used wholly or partly as dwellings, including a parlour or sitting-room, a kitchen, a latrine which were located in structures auxiliary to the main house were counted as occupied Census-houses, but cow-sheds, grain golas etc., though auxiliary to the main house, were excluded. The total number of occupied Census-houses in each Enumeration Block was recorded by the Enumerator in his Household Schedule Abstract which was later totalled in Tabulation Offices and entered in the Primary Census Abstract and A-I Table.

8.2. The following Table shows for the State and for each district the number of persons per occupied Census-house, number of females per 1,000 males, the percentage of rural and urban population to total population and density per square mile:

NOTES :

1. Under each of the columns 3a and 3b, (a) represents the area figures furnished by the Surveyor General of India, (b) represents the area figures computed for purposes of the Census from the last published jurisdiction lists and other sources. For a description of the sources and the method of computation of the rural-urban area reference is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I.

2. The Sq. Km. and density figures of urban areas of district/State are worked out using the area figures corrected up to two places of decimal obtained by adding the areas of the towns in the respective units and not using the area figures given in this table. In addition to this, the area figures relating to Sq. Km. are further adjusted to make the district/State totals tally.

3. Population per Sq. mile has been calculated on computed area figures.

4. Mauzas which have been merged in Tea Estates and forest units, and for which the boundary lines could not be demarcated on the ground, have been together counted as a single inhabited village for the purposes of Table A-I and Table A-III (and its fly-leaf). There is a difference of 13 inhabited villages (11 in West Bengal and 2 in Sikkim) between column 2 of A-III (and its fly-leaf) and column 5 of Table A-I, because separate population figures of the following inhabited mauzas which have been treated as separate units in A-I, but merged in A-III (and its fly-leaf) could not be ascertained :

State	District	Name of Police Station	Name of Mauza with J. L. No.	Remarks
West Bengal	Cooch Behar	Cooch Behar	J. L. No. 573-Charakpara	Merged with other mauzas .
		Mathabhanga	J. L. No. 248-Giladanga	Ditto
		Mekliganj	J. L. No. 180-Dhuliachhat	Ditto
	Malda	Manikchak	J. L. No. 14 (Name not available in Jurisdiction List).	Merged with J. L. No. 12.
		Haringhata	J. L. No. 46—Bhepur	Included in 'Haringhata Firm' for administrative convenience.
	Nadia	Ditto	J. L. No. 47—Daluipur
		Ditto	J. L. No. 48—Dhandhanian
	Hooghly	Pandua	J. L. No. 111—Nesarguri	Merged with other mauzas .
	Bankura	Bankura	J. L. No. 276—Nabagram	Ditto
		Ditto	J. L. No. 281—Ailta	Ditto
Sikkim	..	Indpur	J. L. No. 100—Nadusenara	Ditto
		Gangtok Tehsil	No. 168—Reshi	Merged with other collection blocks.
		Namchi Tehsil	No. 191—Dentane	Ditto

5. The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations, viz., Dum-Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purpose of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into Rural and Urban, the urban portion has been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted for in under Dum Dum P. S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion is included in the rural area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat. There is thus a difference in the total urban area as given in Tables A-I and A-IV.

In case of Police Stations Noapara, Barrackpore, Baranagar and Titagarh the totals of the area figures of the individual towns shown under them do not agree with the P. S. area figures because of the following :

(i) Municipal area figures have been adopted as furnished by the municipal authorities, while Police Station area figures are based on the last published Jurisdiction List, (ii) river areas appertaining to the Police Stations have not always been included in municipal area figures, (iii) some of the Municipalities fall in the jurisdiction of more than one Police Station.

Apart from the above reasons, there has also been difference between total urban area of the State as per Tables A-I and A-IV on account of the fact that for Table A-I, urban area figures have been rounded off to one place of decimal at the Police Station level, whereas in Table A-IV, all area figures have been given correct to the second place of decimal upto the State level.

6. For Cooch Behar District, the figures (except those under Cols. 3a and 3b) do not include the figures for the enclaves in Pakistan territory.

7. The population of Ratua Police Station in the district of Malda includes the population of five tolas of the mauza Govindpur (Thana No. 349 of Katihar Revenue Thana) on the Bihar-West Bengal border. West Bengal claimed these tolas as they had all along been administered as parts of West Bengal. It was decided by the Registrar General that Census in these tolas would be taken by the West Bengal authorities without prejudice to the claims of either Government, pending final settlement of the issue between them.

†The population of Ratua Police Station in the district of Malda includes the population of five tolas of the mauza Govindpur (Thana No. 349 of Katihar Revenue Thana) on the Bihar-West Bengal border. West Bengal claimed these tolas as they had all along been administered as parts of West Bengal. It was decided by the Registrar General that Census in these tolas would be taken by the West Bengal authorities without prejudice to the claims of either Government, pending final settlement of the issue between them.

¹ The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations, viz., Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purposes of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into rural and urban, the urban portion has been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted for under Dum Dum P.S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion, is included in the rural area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat.

² Behala Police Station excludes an urban population of 185,811 (102,674 Males and 83,137 Females) which is included in South Suburban Town-Group under South Suburban (M) town. It also excludes area, number of towns and occupied residential houses of South Suburban (M) town.

³ Metiabruz Police Station excludes an urban population of 25,131 (14,433 Males and 10,698 Females) which is included in South Suburban Town-Group under Panchur (N.M.) town. It also excludes area, number of towns and occupied residential houses of Panchur (N.M.) town.

*See note at the end of this table.

†In case of Police Stations Noapara, Barrackpore, Titagarh and Baranagar, the totals of the area figures of the individual towns shown under them do not agree with the Police Station area figures because of the following: (1) Municipal area figures have been adopted as furnished by the municipal authorities, while Police Station area figures are based on last published Jurisdiction Lists, (2) river areas appertaining to Police Stations have not always been included municipal area figures, (3) some of the municipalities fall in the jurisdiction of more than one Police Station.

‡The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations, viz. Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purposes of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into rural and urban, the urban portion has been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted for under Dum Dum P. S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion, is included in the rural area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat.

NOTES :

1. Area figures under columns 3a and 3b represent computed area figures. For a description of the sources and the methods of computation of the total, rural and urban area figures attention is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-1.

2. The Sq. Km. and density figures of urban areas of Police Station/ Subdivision/District/State are worked out using the area figures corrected upto 2 places of decimal obtained by adding the areas of towns in respective units and not using the area figures given in the table. In addition to this the area figures relating to Sq. Km. are further adjusted to make the Police Station/Subdivision/District/State totals tally.

3. Towns treated as such for the first time in 1951 Census which continue as towns in 1961 Census are shown with asterisk(*) on their left.

4. Towns treated as such for the first time in 1961 are printed in italics.

5. The following abbreviations have been used for the status of a town :

M.C.	Municipal Corporation
M	Municipality
N.M.	Non-municipal Town
T.C.	Town Committee
Cantt.	Cantonment
S.C.	Station Committee
U.C.	Union Committee

6. Mauzas which have been merged in Tea Estates and forest units, and for which the boundary lines could not be demarcated on the ground, have been together counted as a single inhabited village for the purposes of Table A-I and Table A-III (and its fly-leaf). There is a difference of 13 inhabited villages (11 in West Bengal and 2 in Sikkim) between column 2 of A-III (and its fly-leaf) and column 5 of Table A-I because separate population figures of the following inhabited mauzas which have been treated as separate units in A-I, but merged in A-III (and its fly-leaf) could not be ascertained :

State	District	Name of Police Station	Name of Mauza with J. L. No.	Remarks
West Bengal	Cooch Behar	Cooch Behar	J. L. No. 573-Charakpara	Merged with other mauzas .
		Mathabhanga	J. L. No. 248-Giladanga	Ditto
		Mekliganj	J. L. No. 180-Dhuliachat	Ditto
	Malda	Manikchak	J. L. No. 14 (Name not available in Jurisdiction List).	Merged with J. L. No. 12.
	Nadia	Haringhata	J. L. No. 46-Bhepur	Included in 'Haringhata Firm' for Administrative convenience.
		Ditto	J. L. No. 47-Daluipur
		Ditto	J. L. No. 48-Dhandhania
	Hooghly	Panduah	J. L. No. 111-Nesarguri	Merged with other mauzas .
	Bankura	Bankura	J. L. No. 276-Nabagram	Ditto
		Ditto	J. L. No. 281-Ailta	Ditto
Sikkim		Indpur	J. L. No. 100-Nadusenara	Ditto
		Gangtok Tehsil	No. 168-Reshi	Merged with other collection blocks.
		Namchi Tehsil	No. 191-Dentane	Ditto

7. The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations, viz., Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purpose of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into Rural and Urban, the urban portion has been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted for under Dum Dum P.S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion is included in the rural area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat. There is thus a difference in the total urban area given in Tables A-I and A-IV.

In case of Police Stations Noapara, Barrackpore, Baranagar and Titagarh the total of the area figures of the individual towns shown under them do not agree with the P.S. area figures because of the following :

(i) Municipal area figures have been adopted as furnished by the municipal authorities, while Police Station area figures are based on the last published Jurisdiction List, (ii) river areas appertaining to the Police stations have not always been included in municipal area figures, (iii) some of the municipalities fall in the jurisdiction of more than one Police Station.

Apart from the above reasons, there has also been difference between total urban area of the State as per Tables A-I and A-IV on account of the fact that for Table A-I, urban area figures have been rounded off to one place of decimal at the Police Station level, whereas in Table A-IV, all area figures have been given correct to the second place of decimal upto the State level.

TABLE A-I--AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

APPENDIX I TO TABLE A-I

This appendix serves the very important purpose of tracing the growth of the State to its 1961 area and jurisdiction since the 1951 Census. Extensive changes in jurisdiction have followed from the reorganisation of States, inter-district and inter-police station transfer of territories and creation of new police stations. This appendix shows, down to each police station, details of gain or loss of territories since 1951.

2. So far as the district of 24-Parganas is concerned, this appendix does not cover the changes brought about by the reorganisation or creation of those police stations which were mentioned in Notification No. 3490 P1, dated the 25th August 1962, because the changes took effect after the Census had been taken.

3. The sub-appendix to this appendix explains changes in area since 1951 of the municipal towns.

4. For an explanation of the method of computing the area figures attention is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I

(2) For an explanation of the sources and methods of computation of the area figures, attention is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I. Area figures of the territory transferred from the Purnea district of Bihar are furnished by the Superintendent of Census Operations, Bihar. There is a difference of about 0.5 Sq.miles between these figures and those contained in the Corrigendum to Viswanathan Report (Notn. No. S O. 1728 dt. 11-7-60 published in Gazette of India Part II, Section 3 of the 16th July 1960).

APPENDIX II TO TABLE A-I

One of the criteria for a place to be treated as a town for the purposes of the Census was that it should normally have a population of 5,000 or over. For various reasons, many places with a population of 5,000 and above could not be declared urban, while a few places with less than 5,000 population had to be treated as towns. This appendix gives the number of such places, their population, and percentage of their population to the total rural or urban population, as the case may be, of the State. In a note to the appendix (List "A") names with area and population figures of such of those towns under 5,000 population which were treated as towns for the first time in the 1961 Census have been given. List "B", which was designed to give a similar list of old towns declassified as rural in 1961, is to be treated as 'nil' in respect of West Bengal and Sikkim.

TABLE A-II
VARIATION IN POPULATION DURING SIXTY YEARS

UNION TABLE A-II—VARIATION OF POPULATION DURING SIXTY YEARS

1. Introduction

This table gives for the State, and for each district, the 1961 Census population and the population for previous six Censuses with variation for each decade. One of the main changes in this table, since the last Census is that this time percentage variation has been given from decade to decade.

2. Adjustment of Population 1901 to 1951

To ensure comparability, the figures furnished in this table for previous Censuses have been adjusted, wherever necessary, to correspond to the territorial limits as on the 1st March 1961 of the State and districts. For districts which have not undergone any change in jurisdiction since 1951 Census, adjusted population figures of the back decades have been reproduced from the Union Table A-II of West Bengal for the 1951 Census. Details of territorial transfers between 1951 and 1961 have already been given in Appendix I to Table A-I. The districts which have undergone territorial change over this period are Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri, Cooch Behar, West Dinajpur, 24-Parganas, Calcutta and Hooghly. A new district, the district of Purulia, has also come into being. So far as the changes in the districts of 24-Parganas, Calcutta and Hooghly are concerned, adjustment of population for the back decades was a simple matter, since separate population figures for the former Tollygunge Municipality and the former French possession of Chandernagore were available for all the previous Censuses. But there were difficulties with the districts of Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri, Cooch Behar, West Dinajpur and Purulia. Changes were caused, in case of the districts of Darjeeling, West Dinajpur and Purulia by transfer of portions of Purnea and Manbhum Districts of Bihar to West Bengal, and in case of the districts of Jalpaiguri and Cooch Behar, by the transfer of 17 Chhitis from the latter district to the former. The 1951 population figures and sex break-up in respect of the territories involved in these transfers could be ascertained from the Village Directories in the District Handbooks concerned. But exact figures for 1941 and earlier Censuses were not available because the transfers involved units less than a Census tract. For these Censuses the population of the areas transferred has been estimated on the assumption that it bears to the population of the next bigger unit (like police station/ subdivision/ district) from which the transfer has been made and for which population figure for the particular Census is available, the same proportion as it did in 1951. The sex break-up of the estimated population so obtained was worked out on the basis of the sex-ratio in the particular previous Census for the next bigger unit (police station/ subdivision/district).

3. Percentage Variation of Population 1901-1961

The following statement shows the percentage variation of population during 1901-1961 for rural and urban areas separately :

1. Introduction

This table corresponds to Union Table A-III of 1951 but, unlike 1951, excludes towns and urban population from its scope. Another point of difference is that the population group of less than 500 of the last Census has been split up into two groups: less than 200 and 200-499. As the table relates only to villages, the largest group this time is only 10,000 and over. In a statement towards the end of this fly-leaf, sub-totals for broader population groups have been shown. For the definition of "Village" attention is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I.

2. Percentage of Population living in Villages of various Population Sizes.

The statement opposite gives the percentage of population living in villages of various population sizes with reference to the total rural population in each district in 1961.

NOTES :—

1. Mauzas which have been merged in Tea Estates and forest units, and for which the boundary lines could not be demarcated on the ground, have been together counted as a single inhabited village for the purposes of Table A-I and Table A-III (and its fly-leaf). There is a difference of 13 inhabited villages (11 in West Bengal and 2 in Sikkim) between column 2 of A-III (and its fly-leaf) and column 5 of Table A-I because separate population figures of the following inhabited mauzas which have been treated as separate units in A-I, but merged in A-III (and its fly-leaf) could not be ascertained :

2. For Cooch Behar District, the figures do not include those for the enclaves in Pakistan territory.

3. The population of Ratua Police Station in the district of Malda includes the population of five tolas of the mauza Govindpur (Thana No. 349 of Katihar Revenue Thana) on the Bihar-West Bengal border. West Bengal claimed these tolas as they had all along been administered as parts of West Bengal. It was decided by the Registrar General that Census in these tolas would be taken by the West Bengal authorities without prejudice to the claims of either Government, pending final settlement of the issue between them.

Note : Mauzas which have been merged in Tea Estates and forest units, and for which the boundary lines could not be demarcated on the ground, have been together counted as a single inhabited village for the purposes of Table A-I and Table A-III (and its fly-leaf). There is a difference of 13 inhabited villages (11 in West Bengal and 2 in Sikkim) between column 2 of A-III (and its fly-leaf) and column 5 of Table A-I because separate population figures of the following inhabited mauzas which have been treated as separate units in A-I, but merged in A-III (and its fly-leaf) could not be ascertained :

TABLE A-IV
TOWNS (AND TOWN-GROUPS) CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION IN 1961
WITH VARIATION SINCE 1901

UNION TABLE A-IV—TOWNS (AND TOWN-GROUPS) CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION IN 1961 WITH VARIATION SINCE 1901

1. Introduction

This table shows the growth of each town since 1901 Census. The table corresponds to Union Table A-IV of 1951, but this time additional columns have been provided to show, as in Table A-II, percentage variation from decade to decade. The 1961 area of the towns in both Sq. miles and Sq. kilometres have also been shown. For explanation of the source of the area figures, attention is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I.

2. Definition of Towns

A town has already been defined in the Preface. For the purpose of 1961 Census, every municipal town, cantonment, and every town the affairs of which are administered by a Town Committee, or a Union Committee, or a Station Committee, was treated as a town regardless of all other consideration. For classifying other areas as urban it was stipulated that (1) the total population of such an area should not be less than 5,000, (2) the population per square mile should be at least 1,000 and (3) 75 per cent of the adult male population should be engaged in pursuits other than agriculture.

3. Classification of Towns

For purposes of this table all towns have been divided into six classes according to their 1961 population. If two or more urban units are adjacent and together form a compact urban unit, the entire town-group has been classified with reference to the total population. The total population of the town-group, along with population of the individual urban units within the town-group, has been given in that class. The classes are as follows :

- I—Population of 100,000 and over
- II—Population of 50,000—99,999
- III—Population of 20,000—49,999
- IV—Population of 10,000—19,999
- V—Population of 5,000—9,999
- VI—Population of less than 5,000.

4. Town-Groups

Grouping of certain contiguous or adjacent urban units as town groups is a special feature of the 1961 Census. A 'town-group' is a group of towns which are situated in close proximity to one another and are assumed on the basis of such geographical proximity, to be economically inter dependent to some extent. In the absence of any information regarding place of work of the workers, it has not however been possible to establish definitely economic linkage between the constituent urban units of a town-group. By such grouping attention has been focussed on the desirability of merging the constituent units of a town-group into a larger or more economically viable unit. But no finality is claimed for such grouping and the Department of Local Self Government is at liberty to group the towns differently for the purpose of establishment of bigger towns in place of the smaller ones if it is felt that the new grouping would result in more economically viable units and at the same time would be more conducive to the economic progress of the State.

5. Changes in Classification

8. Adjustment of the 1951 Urban Population to the 1961 Territorial contents of the Towns

It is not possible to ascertain, for purposes of comparison, what would have been the urban population of the State in 1951 if these places treated as towns in 1961 had been treated as such in 1951 also, because, as it will be seen from the Explanatory Notes (A) to the Appendix to Table A-IV, some of the new towns added in 1961 consisted of parts of mauzas. The 1951 population of these parts are not available. It is necessary to state that no town was created for purposes of the Census in 1961 with part mauzas. Only those towns have been shown as constituted of parts of mauzas which had already been created by competent authorities in that manner. The towns of Durgapur Steel Project Area, Durgapur Coke Oven Plant Area, Kalyani, Gayespur Government Colony etc. are the examples of such towns. All such towns and the mauzas which have been included in them in parts, have been described in the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I.

wns treated as such for the first time in 1951 Census which continue as towns in 1961 Census are shown with asterisk (*) on their left.

wns treated as such for the first time in 1961 are printed in italics.

e area figures represent the 1961 area of the town/town-groups. For a description of the sources and methods of computation of the attention is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-1.

re area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations, viz., Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area each could not be ascertained. For the purpose of dividing the area each of these Police Stations into Rural and Urban, the urban been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted Dum Dum P.S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion is included area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat. There is thus a difference in the total urban area as given in Tables IV.

se of Police Stations Noapara, Barrackpore, Baranagar and Titagarh the totals of the area figures of the individual towns shown under them ee with the P.S. area figures because of the following :

Municipal area figures have been adopted as furnished by the municipal authorities, while Police Station area figures are based on the ed Jurisdiction List. (ii) river areas appertaining to the Police Stations have not always been included in municipal area figures, of the municipalities fall in the jurisdiction of more than one Police Station.

rt from the above reasons, there has also been difference between total urban area of the State as per Tables A-I and A-IV on account that for Table A-I, urban area figures have been rounded off to one place of decimal at the Police Station level, whereas in Table A-IV, ures have been given correct to the second place of decimal upto the State level.

2. Towns printed in Italics have been treated as such for the first time in 1961 Census while town printed in Roman type was also treated as such in the back decades but declassified in 1951 Census.
3. The 1951 town Kanchrapara Development Area Rural Colony with a population of 12,109 has been merged in Kalyani and Gayespur Govt. Colony in 1961. Separate population for these towns for 1951 is not available.

PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

UNION PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

1. Introduction

In the 1951 Census a significant change was made in the presentation of Census data at the village or town level. In the 1941 and earlier Censuses Religion was adopted as the basis on which primary sorting and tabulation were done and the population, classified by religion and sex, thus obtained, was given in the Village Statistics. At the 1951 Census economic classification substituted the classification based on religion. For this purpose, the population was divided into eight livelihood classes and in each livelihood class the self-supporting persons and their dependents were included. The eight livelihood classes were framed with reference to the Means of Livelihood returns at the Census.

1.1. At the 1961 Census the concept of dependency was abandoned for economic classification of the population. Primary classification of the population at the village-town level was made on the basis of the following ten Industrial Categories. Non-workers being shown as a separate Category:

- I—Working as Cultivator
- II—Working as Agricultural Labourer
- III—Working in Mining, Quarrying, Live-stock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting, and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities
- IV—Working at Household Industry
- V—Working in Manufacturing other than Household Industry
- VI—Working in Construction
- VII—Working in Trade and Commerce
- VIII—Working in Transport, Storage and Communications
- IX—Working in Other Services
- X—Non-workers

1.2. In the Union Primary Census Abstract figures are presented down to the district level separately for rural and urban population. The State Primary Census Abstract shows figures down to the police station/town level (ward level in case of Calcutta). For each police station, total, rural and urban figures have been shown separately wherever a police station contains urban area.

2. Census-house and Household

The terms 'Census-house' and 'Occupied Census-house' have been defined in the fly-leaf to Union Table A-1. The term 'Household' for the 1961 Census was defined as a group of persons who commonly lived together and took their meals from a common kitchen, unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so. The following statement shows the percentage of households to number of houses in rural and urban areas, district by district:

The terms 'Scheduled Castes', 'Scheduled Tribes', 'Houseless Persons', 'Institutional Population' and the concepts of literacy and education have been explained in the Preface to this volume. There the terms 'Worker' and 'Non-worker' have also been defined, and the principles of industrial classification of workers into nine categories explained. Reference is invited to the Preface for the definition of the term 'Household Industry' as well.

4. Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

The following statement shows percentage of Scheduled Castes and of Scheduled Tribes in West Bengal severally to total males and females by rural and urban areas of each district and in cities and towns with population of 50,000 and over. As the Sikkim Durbar did not pass any order declaring any caste or tribe as Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe in that territory, no person was returned in Sikkim as a member of a Scheduled Caste or a Scheduled Tribe.

NOTES :

1. Under column 3, (a) represents the area figures furnished by the Surveyor General of India, (b) represents the area figures computed for purposes of the Census from the last published Jurisdiction Lists and other sources. For a description of the sources and the methods of computation of the rural-urban area attention is invited to the fly-leaf to Union Table A-I.

2. The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations, viz., Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purpose of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into Rural and Urban, the urban portion has been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted for under Dum Dum P. S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion is included in the rural area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat. There is thus a difference in the total urban area as given in Primary Census Abstract and Table A-IV.

In case of Police Stations Nongpara, Barrackpore, Baranagar and Titagarh the totals of the area figures of the individual towns shown under them do not agree with the P. S. area figures because of the following :

(i) Municipal area figures have been adopted as furnished by the municipal authorities, while Police Station area figures are based on the last published Jurisdiction Lists, (ii) river areas appertaining to the Police Stations have not always been included in municipal area figures, (iii) some of the Municipalities fall in the jurisdiction of more than one Police Station.

Apart from the above reasons, there has also been difference between total urban area of the State as per Primary Census Abstract and Table A-IV on account of the fact that for Primary Census Abstract, urban area figures have been rounded off to one place of decimal at the Police Station level, whereas in Table A-IV, all area figures have been given correct to the second place of decimal upto the State level.

3. For Cooch Behar district, the figures (except those under Col. 3) do not include the figures for the enclaves in Pakistan territory.

4. The population of Ratua P. S. in the district of Malda includes the population of five tolas of the mauza Govindpur (Thana No. 349 of Katihar Revenue Thana) on the Bihar-West Bengal border. West Bengal claimed these tolas as they had all along been administered as parts of West Bengal. It was decided by the Registrar General that Census in these tolas would be taken by the West Bengal authorities without prejudice to the claims of either Government, pending final settlement of the issue between them.

† The population of Ratua Police Station in the district of Malda includes the population of five tolas of the mauza Govindpur (Thana No. 349 of Katihar Revenue Thana) on the Bihar-West Bengal border. West Bengal claimed these tolas as they had all along been administered as parts of West Bengal. It was decided by the Registrar General that Census in these tolas would be taken by the West Bengal authorities without prejudice to the claims of either Government, pending final settlement of the issue between them.

† In case of Police Stations Noapara, Barrackpore, Titagarh, Baranagar, Dum-Dum.

†In case of Police Stations Noapara, Barrackpore, Titagarh, Baranagar, Metiabruz and Garden Reach (Outside Calcutta City), the totals of the area figures of the individual towns shown under them do not agree with the Police Station area figures because of the following: (1) Municipal area figures have been adopted as furnished by the municipal authorities, while Police Station area figures are based on last published Jurisdiction Lists; (2) river areas appertaining to Police Stations have not always been included in municipal area figures; (3) some of the municipalities fall in the jurisdiction of more than one Police Station.

†The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations, viz., Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purposes of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into rural and urban, the urban portion has been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome area has been accounted for under Dum Dum P. S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion, is included in the rural area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat.

†The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations viz., Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purposes of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into rural and urban, the urban portion of each could not be ascertained. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted for under Rajarhat.

† In case of Police Stations Noapara, Barrackpore, Titagarh, Baranagar, Metiabruz and Garden Reach (Outside Calcutta City), the totals of the area figures of the individual towns shown under them do not agree with the Police Station area figures because of the following: (1) Municipal area figures have been adopted as furnished by the municipal authorities, while Police Station area figures are based on last published Jurisdiction Lists, (2) river areas appertaining to Police Stations have not always been included in municipal area figures, (3) some of the municipalities fall in the jurisdiction of more than one Police Station.

† The area of Dum-Dum Aerodrome actually extends to three Police Stations viz., Dum Dum, Rajarhat and Barasat, but its exact area falling under each could not be ascertained. For the purposes of dividing the area of each of these Police Stations into rural and urban, the urban portion has been computed without taking into account the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area. Part of the Dum-Dum Aerodrome Area has been accounted for under Dum Dum P.S. because it is in North Dum-Dum and Dum-Dum municipal towns but the remainder which is the major portion is included in rural area of the two remaining Police Stations of Rajarhat and Barasat.
