IN the hands of a Government which seeks to hold a country by force and guile, to rule by dividing the people, there can be few weapons as powerful and lethal as caste. But with a Government based on adult franchise and the goodwill of the people caste demands a wholly different use. It becomes an occasion calling for the beneficent protection of the law to nourish and fulfil the best in an individual. And to this is precisely what the Constitution has addressed itself.

INTRODUCTION

The 1961 Census enumeration took no notice of the fact of a person's caste unless it was one of the Scheduled Castes. The question of definition and origin of castes generally need not therefore be a subject for comment in this Report which presents the following seven special tables prepared for the Scheduled Castes.

- (i) SCT I—Part A —Industrial classification of persons at work and Non-workers by sex.
- (ii) SCT II—Part A —Age and marital status.
- (iii) SCT III—Part A(i)—Education in urban areas only.
- (iv) SCT III—Part B(i)—Education in rural areas only.
- (v) SCT IV—Part A —Religion.
- (vi) SCT V—Part A —Sample household engaged in cultivation classified by interest in land and size of land cultivated in rural areas only.
- (vii) SC I —Persons not at work classified by sex, type of activity and educational level.

Eight other special tables prepared for the Scheduled Tribes are presented in the accompanying book Part V-A(ii). Apart from these tables, the total figures of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes population for each village and town have been given in the Primary Census Abstract. The figures for the police stations and towns will be found in Part II-A of the West Bengal Census Report, and for villages in the District Census Handbooks. Lists of villages populated predominantly by the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes are given in Appendices to Parts V-A(i) and V-A(ii). Table C-VIII, Printed in Part II-C(i) of the Report, classifies the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes population of the districts by literacy and industrial categories of workers and non-workers. Ethnographic Notes on Scheduled Castes and Tribes based on studies undertaken as ancillaries to the 1961 Census enumeration will be found in Part V-B. Such comprehensive material on Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes has not been published before.

Caste tabulation was a prominent feature of most of the Censuses taken before Independence and the chapters on Castes in the Census Reports stood out as painstaking studies of the Indian Castes. Extracts from the questionnaire and lists of tables prepared on castes at each of the censuses since 1872 are given in Appendix I to this Introduction. It would appear that the beginning of the story lay in two questions: one on 'religion or caste' and the other on 'race and tribe'—asked in the enumeration of 1872, the first regular Census ever taken in this country. The names of separate castes, tribes and races returned were found so numerous in Bengal (which then included Bengal proper, Bihar, Assam, Orissa and Chota Nagpur) that their proper classification was considered a matter of very great significance for an understanding of the ethnical varieties of the population. Beverley, who took the Census, thought best to arrange the names separately for each province and to classify them 'rather by the occupation of various castes than by the stereotyped, though somewhat exploded, four-fold classification of Manu'—and in the process of classification and commentary thereon produced a Report which, supplemented by Magrath's monograph on the castes of Bihar, remained, until the publication of Risley's Castes and Tribes of Bengal the most complete guide we had of the ethnic elements of which the population was made up. An almost contemporary publication which laid Beverley under particular obligation was Descriptive Ethnology of Bengal by Colonel Dalton, then Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, and Beverley gracefully recognised that the timely publication of this work had vastly facilitated the classification adopted in his Report.

Race and function formed the basis of the Beverley Scheme under which the 'natives of India and British Burmah' excluding the Muhamadans and the Burmese were classified as Aboriginal Tribes, Semi-Hinduised Aborigines, Hindus and persons of Hindu origin not recognising caste. The Hindus were further sub-classified into Superior Castes, Intermediate Castes, Trading Castes, Pastoral Castes, Castes engaged in preparing cooked food, Agricultural Castes, Castes engaged chiefly in personal services, Artisan Castes, Weaver Castes, Labouring Castes, Castes occupied in selling fish and vegetables, Boating and Fishing Castes, Dancer, Musician, Beggar and Vagabond Castes, Persons enumerated by nationality* only and Persons of unknown or unspecified Castes.

Bourdillon, Beverley's successor in 1881, treated the subject of Castes very briefly for several reasons. He was of opinion that it did not come within the proper domain of his work to attempt any exhaustive treatment of so large a subject the interest of which was rather ethnological than statistical and confined his caste tables, on the basis of the recommendations of a Committee of experts who were appointed to report on the preliminaries of the Census, to the showing of districtwise distribution of every Hindu Caste which had one lakh or more representatives in the Lieutenant-Governorship of Bengal dividing, furthermore, all the castes into five great classes, viz., Brahmins, Rajputs, Other Hindu Castes, Aboriginal Tribes and Castes, and Hindus not recognising caste; and lastly the indefinite group of Hindus—class not stated. In a supplementary table he showed details of the smaller castes which, as they did not reach the standard of one lakh persons, were grouped together in the main table under a general heading of 'others'.

Although the 1872 scheme of origin-cum-occupation classification of the castes was negatived for the Imperial Tables in 1881, Bourdillon made use of the 1872 classification and appended a statement to his Report showing a tally of the castes enumerated in 1881 according to the classification adopted in 1872.

The Report of 1891 differed greatly from that of 1881 in respect of the treatment of castes, tribes and races. O'Donnell, in apparent disregard of his predecessor's opinion that it did not come within the proper domain of the Census Superintendent's work to attempt any exhaustive treatment of so large a subject, devoted much time and labour in discussing the views of Nesfield, Risley and others on many intricate anthropological questions. As regards classification, the Census Commissioner had prescribed, in order 'to ensure uniformity of classification', a scheme of grouping of castes more or less in accordance with the position assigned to each in the social scale and directed that for imperial purposes the numerical table required should include every distinct caste or tribe under its appropriate class and group. The scheme of classification finally adopted for the Bengal tables divided the castes on the basis of traditional occupation and race into five main groups, viz., Agricultural; Professional; Commercial; Artisan and Village Menial; and Vagrant Minor Artisans and Performers. The Agricultural group was composed of four classes of castes, viz., Military and Dominant; Other Agricultural; Foreign Recruits; and Forest and Hill tribes; the 'Other Agricultural' class being further subdivided into cultivating and pastoral sub-classes. The Professional group comprised castes with such traditional occupations as Priests, Devotees, Temple Servants, Genealogists, Writers, Physicians, Astrologers, Musicians, Dancers and Singers, Actresses and Mimes, while Traders, Pedlars and Carriers formed the Commercial group of Castes. The group Artisan and Village Menial included a long list of castes who, by traditional occupation, were Goldsmiths, Barbers, Blacksmiths, Carpenters and Turners, Brass and Copper-smiths, Tailors, Confectioners, Washerman, Cotton Cleaners, Shepherds, Oil-pressers, Potters, Glass Workers, Bracelet Makers, Salt Workers, Lime Burners, Goldsmiths, Refuse Collectors, Iron-smelters, Fishermen, Palki-bearers, Distillers, Butchers, Leather Workers, Scavengers etc. Among vagrant Minor Artisans and Performers were Grindstone Makers, Earth-workers, Knife Grinders, Mat makers, Hunters, Miscellaneous disreputables, Tumblers and Acrobats, Jugglers etc. The non-Indian Asiatic Races, Mixed Asiatic Races, non-Asiatic Races and Eurasians comprised the last group 'Races and Nationalities' in which the race was the criterion. The other groups, as it would be seen, were based mainly upon function, but it was explained that the occupation to which a caste was credited was not necessarily that actually exercised by the caste at that time but that which was assigned to it by tradition and generally implied in its appellation. The tables on castes were thus much different from those on occupation. The 1872 and 1891 Schemes of classification of the Castes are reproduced in Appendix II.

Judged by its result the 1891 Scheme was open to criticism in several respects, particularly in its non-accordance with caste tradition and practice. In different areas it proceeded on different principles with the result that it often separated groups which were really allies or included in the same category groups of widely different origin and status. So in 1901 the system of classification was abandoned for tabulation purposes. The arrangement of the caste table was alphabetical and it gave a general list of all the castes and tribes with their distinction by religion. An alphabetical arrangement was, very rightly, considered useful for reference, and essential for the purely statistical purposes of a census table. But so far as analysis of the data was concerned an alphabetical order did not help towards presenting an intelligible picture of the social grouping of that large portion of the people of the country which was organised, admittedly or tacitly, on the basis of caste. In this matter a new departure was taken at the 1901 Census. In his Report Gait attempted to arrange the caste groups that had to be dealt with on some system which would command general acceptance, at any rate within the limits of the province. The attempt resulted in throwing light upon a variety of social movements which escaped notice before and which added immensely to the interest of the Report and provided a sound statistical basis for all Ethnological studies later undertaken. The basis of this classification was social precedence as recognised by contemporary public opinion. No stereotyped scheme was drawn up but every province was left free to adopt its own system in consultation with its own experts and representative men.

According to the table of precedence for Bengal proper which was compiled by Risley and adopted by Gait "after careful examination by local committees of native gentlemen appointed for this purpose", the entire Hindu population of the tract, numbering nineteen millions, was divided into seven classes. The first class was reserved for the Brahmins. Next in order came the castes which were supposed to rank above the clean Sudras while the third group comprised all the castes commonly regarded as clean Sudras in which were included the functional castes originally known as Navasakha and other castes supposed to rank at par with them. The fourth group titled clean castes with degraded Brahmins was well defined and contained only two castes but the fifth group was a heterogeneous collection of castes who had little or nothing in common with each other and whose juxtaposition was due to the fact that they were all given a ranking below the castes already enumerated but were thought to be superior to the other degraded castes. The sixth group included a long list of castes who abstained from eating beef, pork and fowls, but from which the higher castes would not take water. The seventh and last group represented the lowest grade of the Bengal system, castes who ate unclean food, whom no Brahmin however degraded would serve and for whom neither barber nor washerman would work.

In 1911 it was realized that an attempt to tabulate, as in 1901, all castes and tribes would involve the compilation of figures for a great number of numerically insignificant minor groups at an expenditure of time and labour which would be incommensurate with the value of the results. It was decided that the caste table should give statistics only for the more important castes and that the local Government might include any other castes or order a complete tabulation. The Government of Bengal decided that figures should be compiled only for castes or tribes which in 1901 numbered fifty thousand or more, for other castes or tribes that accounted for twenty-five thousand or more in any single district, and for any other castes, tribes and races that were of local importance or of special ethnological interest. For the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and the districts of Darjeeling and Cooch Behar statistics were given only for selected castes and tribes while for Eastern Bengal statistics were compiled for all castes and tribes, over four hundred and fifty groups, half of them having under one thousand representatives. To avoid wounding the susceptibilities of the parties involved no attempt was made to set down the castes, either in the tables or in the commentary, in order according to its place in society. In the Report, only a subsidiary table was appended to the chapter dealing with castes classifying them according to their traditional occupation.

In 1921 also it was decided to present the statistics in no other manner than the alphabetical order of caste names. Separate statistics were tabulated and published for fifty-six 'non-Muhammadan' Indian castes and races and seven sections among the Muhammadans which contributed each something approaching one per mille to the total population of the province or more. In addition, figures were given in reference to forty-six other 'non-Muhammadan' castes and races which the Census of 1911 showed to form a considerable part of the population of certain districts. A subsidiary table appended to the chapter on Caste in the Report showed a broad classification of castes according to well recognised traditional occupations. No ranking was attempted and except incidentally in dealing with the claims put forward by certain castes, questions of precedence in the social scale were left severely alone.

In the meantime a new expression 'depressed classes' had attained a sizable measure of political significance, accentuated by the arrangement made for their special representation in the Legislative Council. Though the Legislature was duly reconstituted on the basis of this special representation, no definition of the term 'depressed class' was immediately devised, nor was such definition considered indispensable as the representatives were nominated, not elected. But the Census Report would perhaps have remained incomplete had it failed to estimate the numbers intended to be benefitted by these 'Reforms' and Thompson formulated in his Report an improvised classification for the 'depressed classes' on the basis of social disabilities. He refrained from laying down any clear cut principle on which to found the classification of 'depressed classes' but pointed out that 'it has not quite the same meaning as the backward classes, the classes backward in education and in civilization generally, and yet is not quite conterminous with the lowest class in the Hindu Social Scale'. In fact the term 'depressed' had more an economic than an ethnic nuance and could more fittingly be applied to the chronically indigent portion of the population. Hutton used the term 'exterior castes' in his all-India Report for 1931 'as the most satisfactory alternative' to the unfortunate label 'depressed class' but it was also criticised as being the same term as 'outcast'.

Notwithstanding its singularly imprecise connotation, the term 'depressed class' went on gathering snow-balling currency and importance and the Government of India notification in which the taking of the 1931 Census was prescribed directed that "attention should be paid to the collection of information conducive to a better knowledge of the backward and depressed classes and of the problem in their present and future welfare". No final decision had yet been reached by the provincial Government as to the list applicable to the province and therefore it fell to the lot of the Census Superintendent again to prepare his own list, and to formulate the principles on which to base it. Porter addressed himself to this task by examining the merits of the various possible criteria of 'depression', viz., prohibitions on temple entry, or on service by Brahmins and barbers, pollution by touch, food and drink taboos, civic disabilities, exclusion from public roads, wells, and schools and finally decided in favour of a multi-lateral test. His first criterion was untouchability whether of its milder or more severe variety. Secondly, he included in the list groups of aboriginal derivation and others 'whose social, economic and other circumstances' appeared to have entitled them to special franchise concessions. Thirdly, he reckoned as 'depressed' a number of other castes 'which may not be definitely or universally untouchable but are of very low status in Hindu Society'.

The following is a comparative list of castes listed as 'depressed' in the 1921 and 1931 Census Report of Bengal.

In the tabulation of castes generally, several deviations were made in 1931 from the usual treatment. As the standard of population of castes for tabulation, four per mille, instead of one per mille as in 1921, was adopted as a minimum. An exception was made in the case of 'depressed classes' and certain other groups. Another innovation was the presentation of figures for those who gave no return of caste including those who repudiated the caste system or declined to return their caste upon conviction or some other reason. It was for the first time in 1931 that a definite return of 'nil' was accepted for caste as distinct from the individuals who on account of ignorance or accident failed to state any caste at all. These returns of 'caste nil' totalled 1,883,464 for India, 98 per cent of which came from Bengal.

Even at the 1941 Census about one quarter of the Hindus in the province refrained from returning particulars of caste. By that time, a new term 'Scheduled Castes' was introduced in the socio-political parlance to replace the controversial term 'depressed classes' by the Government of India (Scheduled Castes) Order of 1936 which, read with Article 26(1) of the First Schedule to the Government of India Act of 1935 purported to list 'such castes, races, or tribes, or parts of or groups within castes, races, or tribes, being castes, races or tribes which appear to His Majesty in Council to correspond to classes of persons formerly known as the depressed classes as His Majesty may specify'. Seventysix such castes (including Hindu members of fourteen tribes) were listed and the Imperial Table XIII prepared on the 1941 Census showed Hindus classified in three categories, viz., Scheduled Castes, Caste not returned, and others. At the request and expense of the local Government districtwise tables were prepared for each of the Scheduled Castes (including those included in Tribes) and some selected non-Scheduled Castes and tribes in Bengal.

At the 1951 Census enumeration information about caste name was collected only in case of persons who did not belong to the 'non-backward' castes. The West Bengal Government in their Home (C & E) Department Memo No. 879-A.R. 3C-1/50 dated the 1st June 1950 decided on a list of 'non-backward' castes prevailing in the State. This list was given to the enumerator with the instruction that in case of persons belonging to castes not included in it the name of the caste or tribe actually returned by the person was to be enumerated. So, it was for the first time in 1951 that names of all castes were not collected.

The list of the 'non-backward' classes, as subsequently amended, was as follows :

In January 1950 the Constitution was adopted. It is one of the directive principles of State policy according to the Constitution that the State should promote with special care the educational and economic interests of the weaker sections of the people, and in particular of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and protect them from social injustice and all forms of exploitation (Article 46). The Constitution does not lay down any general definition of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes but according to Articles 341 and 342 the President may with respect to any State or Union Territory, and where it is a State after consultation with the Governor thereof, by public notification, specify the castes, races or tribes which shall for the purposes of the Constitution be deemed to be Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes in relation to the State or Union Territory as the case may be.

The first Order in this respect was issued by the President in 1950. Union Table D-III of the 1951 Census showed the total figures of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes population for each district. At the expense of the State Government the strength of each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe by locality and sex was extracted for West Bengal.

Consequent upon the Reorganisation of States, the Scheduled Castes Order was modified in 1956. The following is a comparative list of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in Bengal under the 1936, 1950 and 1956 Orders :

An acknowledged conundrum of caste tabulation is the great variety and confusion of names. A caste name given in the Official Orders is sometimes found to be different from the name by which the caste is familiar or which is current in the locality of enumeration. The local name of a caste may be either a generic name or a synonym of the main caste name. It was obviously not possible to include all these nomenclatures in the President's Order. In the 1951 Census, due to strict application of the Order many persons who returned themselves by generic names or synonyms of castes were omitted to be shown as Scheduled Castes. In order to avoid such difficulties in 1961 it was decided by the Registrar General to ascertain for each district whether any generic name or synonym was current for any Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe and to prepare lists accordingly for circulation to the Enumerators for reference at the time of enumeration. A list was accordingly prepared in consultation with the District Officers and referred to the Director of Tribal Welfare, Government of West Bengal for scrutiny. The final list of synonyms and sub-caste names that emerged from his scrutiny was circulated to the Enumerators along with the list as per the President's Order. These synonyms and sub-caste names* were :

Synonym	For
Satnami	Chamar, Charmakar, Mochi, Muchi, Rabidas, Ruidas or Rishi
Dhopa, Rajak or Sukladas	Dhoba or Dhobi
Rajbar	Rajwar
Byagra Kshatriya	Bagdi or Duley
Chunari	Baiti
Bid, Bin	Bind
Dai	Doai
Layak	Khaira
Pure	Pod or Poundra
Sub-caste name	Of caste name
Let, Matla	Bagdi or Duley

In the case of Scheduled Tribes, two synonyms were noted ; viz., Mudikora for Kora and Bodo for Mech.

In addition, the following special instructions were issued to the Enumerators :

The following Castes or Tribes do not belong to the Scheduled Castes or Tribes but it is likely that these Castes or Tribes are also known by some other names which are mentioned in the Schedule of Castes and Tribes. Special enquiry may be made in case of these Castes or Tribes and the corresponding name in the Schedule of Castes and Tribes may be entered, along with the name of the Caste or Tribe given below, if it is found that any of these Castes or Tribes in reality is one of the Scheduled Castes or Tribes:

1 Bhakat	6 Dhangad
2 Dhibar	7 Madeshiya
3 Majhi	8 Kshatriya
4 Deshi	9 Sarder
5 Nagbonshi	10 Buna or Buno

* Authenticity is, however, subject to further investigation.

In spite of these precautions vague and incomplete returns could not be avoided. Entries like 'Harijan', 'Achhut', 'Tapsil' were made in the Schedules. In the tables they were treated as "unclassified". Persons so returned constitute 4.50 per cent and 3.36 per cent of the Scheduled Castes population and Scheduled Tribes population respectively.

In the tables the caste names have been arranged alphabetically. Where two or more caste names are grouped under one item in the President's Order, total figures for all the names have been shown against the item, arranged in the alphabetical order on the basis of the first name of the item.

The last and the most important question which remains to be commended to the reader's attention is the area restrictions in the List of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. The restrictions were introduced in the Order of 1956 mainly to ensure status quo in respect of the communities living in areas affected by the States' Reorganisation. Section 14 of the Bihar and West Bengal Transfer of Territories Act, 1956, laid down that "as soon as may be after the commencement of this Act, the President may, by notified order, make such modifications in the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, and the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950, as he thinks fit, having regard to the transfer of territories effected by Section 3".

Under the Modification Order of 1956, which is now current, sixty three groups are treated as Scheduled Castes in West Bengal but only twelve among them are scheduled, throughout the State, the others are declared as scheduled only with reference to specific areas of the State. Of the forty one Scheduled Tribe groups in West Bengal only seven are listed for the entire State. A person has been shown in the Census as belonging to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe if he was enumerated in an area specified for that particular Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe. For Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes which are declared as such for specified areas of the State (not its whole area) the population figures represent the population enumerated in those specified areas alone and do not include the population which may be residing in the State but outside those specified areas. The restriction, in effect, was based not on nativity but on physical presence on the day of the enumeration.

The restrictions often make little sense and there is indeed a good case for integration of the lists into a unified frame to fit the present dispensation of the State. It seems odd, for example, that a person belonging to the Paliya community is a member of the Scheduled Castes in the Raiganj police station of the West Dinajpur district but ceases to be so as soon as he crosses over to the adjoining Karandighi police station of the same district. The case of the Bhumiij is still more intriguing. He is a member of the Scheduled Castes in the territories transferred from the Purnea district of Bihar, but elsewhere in the State he belongs to the Scheduled Tribes.

To each table presented in this volume a fly-leaf has been added explaining the scope of the table and the concepts involved. A brief note, the first draft of which was prepared by Shri Aniruddha Sengupta, M.Sc., Tabulation Assistant, discussing the statistical aspects of the tables follows this Introduction. For such of the views as I have been able to express in this Introduction or in the Notes I am alone responsible in my personal capacity and they do not reflect in any way the policy of the Government.

A NOTE ON THE SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION

Comparison with other States of India

In a total population of 34,926,279 persons in West Bengal, 6,890,314 (or 19.73 per cent) belong to the Scheduled Castes. The Statement below gives the total population, Scheduled Caste population, their percentage to Total population and their percentage distribution among the States in India and the Union Territories:

STATEMENT I
SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION IN DIFFERENT STATES, 1961

India/States	Total population	Scheduled Caste population	Percentage of Scheduled Caste population to Total population	Percentage distribution among the States and Union Territories
1	2	3	4	5
INDIA	439,234,771	64,449,275	14.67	100.00
Andhra Pradesh	35,983,447	4,973,616	13.82	7.72

West Bengal	34,926,279	6,890,314	19.73	10.69
All Union Territories	7,941,110	902,529	11.37	1.40

Among the States, West Bengal ranks second by size of the Scheduled Castes population which constitutes 10.69 per cent of the country's total Scheduled Castes population. So far as the proportion of the Scheduled Castes population in the Total population is concerned, West Bengal occupies the third place, the first two places being held by Uttar Pradesh and the Punjab respectively. The lowest position is held by Maharashtra.

Distribution of the Scheduled Castes among the Districts and Police Stations

The population of individual Scheduled Castes in the district, separately for rural and urban areas, is given in Table SCT-I Part A. The distribution of the total Scheduled Castes population among the divisions and districts of the State is as follows :

STATEMENT II

DISTRICTWISE DISTRIBUTION OF THE SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION OF WEST BENGAL, 1961

Purulia	1,360,016	200,843	14.77	2.91

24-Parganas has the largest Scheduled Castes population (15.25 lakhs), although the district ranks sixth in terms of the proportion of the Scheduled Castes population to the Total population. By the size of the Scheduled Castes population, the second, third and fourth positions are held by Burdwan (7.53 lakhs), Midnapore (5.63 lakhs) and Bankura (4.93 lakhs) respectively.

Out of the 16 districts in West Bengal, only 5 districts, viz., 24-Parganas, Burdwan, Midnapore, Bankura and Cooch Behar account for more than 55 per cent of the total Scheduled Castes population. Four districts, viz., Purulia, Malda, Calcutta and Darjeeling contain between them a little more than 8 per cent of the State's total Scheduled Castes population.

Cooch Behar (46.90 per cent) ranks first in terms of percentage of the Scheduled Castes population to Total population. The next five positions are held by Jalpaiguri (30.80 per cent), Bankura (29.60 per cent), Birbhum (29.14 per cent), Burdwan (24.45 per cent) and 24-Parganas (24.28 per cent) respectively. The district having the lowest percentage is Calcutta (4.33 per cent).

The distribution of 286 police stations of the State according to the percentage of the Scheduled Castes population to their Total population is as below :

STATEMENT III

It is interesting to note that the first sixteen Scheduled Castes, out of a total of sixtytwo returned in the State, account for 89.91 per cent of the total Scheduled Castes population. The last seventeen Scheduled Castes (excluding the unspecified class), which have less than 5,000 representatives each in the State, together constitute only 0.42 per cent to the total Scheduled Castes population. We also find that as many as 309,721 persons have been returned under such generic names as 'Scheduled Castes', 'Harijans', etc., and their caste is exhibited as 'Unclassified' in the table. Actually however, this unclassified Scheduled Caste population should belong to one or other of the castes enumerated.

The statement below shows the distribution per 10,000 of total population of the sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes of the State among the districts.

The Rajbanshis are mainly concentrated in the two districts of Jalpaiguri and Cooch Behar which account for 62 per cent of them. Bagdis or Duleys are prominent in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, 24-Parganas and Midnapore, which, incidentally, claim between them 62 per cent of the total population of this caste in the State. The Pods or Poundras have been found in significant numbers only in the 24-Parganas district. Only 17 per cent of the Pods live outside that district. The Namasudras are distributed chiefly in the districts of 24-Parganas, Nadia and Burdwan which together represent about 66 per cent of total population of the caste in the State. Bauris are to be found in all the districts but their numbers are significant only in the districts of Bankura, Burdwan and Purulia. About 50 per cent of the Chamar or Charmakar population live in three districts, viz., Burdwan, Birbhum and 24-Parganas, the remaining 50 per cent being spread, almost evenly, over the other districts. In case of the Dhobas or Dhobis also, the population is spread all over the State but three districts, viz., Midnapore, 24-Parganas and Burdwan account for more than a half of the population. For the Doms or Dhangads the principal habitat lies in the districts of Birbhum, Burdwan, Midnapore and Purulia which between them dispose of 80 per cent of the population of the caste. Burdwan, Midnapore and Birbhum claim about 53 per cent of the members of the Hari community also. So far as the Mal community is concerned the principal districts are Birbhum, Murshidabad and Bankura. Only a fourth of the members of this community live outside these districts. The major concentration of the Kaoras is found in the 24-Parganas district. They are virtually unrepresented in other districts except Howrah, Hooghly and Burdwan. In the case of the Jalia Kaibarttas the districtwise distribution is fairly even. The Sunris (excluding Saha) are found in larger numbers in the south-western part of the State than elsewhere. The districts of Bankura, Burdwan, Birbhum and Midnapore represent about 80 per cent of the population of this community. For the Lohars the principal district is Bankura. The Paliyas are not found outside the districts of West Dinajpur and Malda. The Jhalo Malos, or simply Malos, are found in small numbers in most of the districts but Murshidabad, Nadia and 24-Parganas represent three-fourths of them.

Variation in the population of Scheduled Castes, 1951-61

In 1951 the Scheduled Castes population of West Bengal (as she was then constituted) was 4,696,205. In 1961 the Scheduled Castes population of the State was 6,890,314. The figures are not comparable due to intercensal changes (a) in the jurisdiction of the State and (b) in the administrative list of Scheduled Castes. The jurisdictional changes consist of transfer to the State of the former French possession of Chandernagore, and of parts of the Manbhum and Purnea districts of Bihar. The two statements below describe the administrative changes in the list of Scheduled Castes.

STATEMENT VII

COMMUNITIES TREATED AS SCHEDULED CASTES IN 1951 BUT NOT IN 1961

Meaningful comparison can therefore be instituted only in respect of those selected communities which were treated as Scheduled Castes in 1951 throughout the State, as she was then constituted, and also in 1961 throughout the State except in the Purulia district and the territories transferred from the Purnea district of Bihar. Statement IX shows the 1951 and 1961 population figures of these selected Scheduled Castes and the percentage variation. The 1951 figures include the figures for Chandernagore.

There are extraordinary variations in the figures for some communities, e.g., Kandra, Kadar, Doai, Gonrhi and Paliya which seem to have increased their numbers by more than 500 per cent. On the other hand, a net decline has been observed in the case of Bediya, Bhuiya, Kaora, Khatik, Kotal, Mallah, Mehtor, Nuniya, Patni and Tiyar communities. It is hardly possible to ascribe specific reasons to these variations some part of which seems to have been which caused by such indeterminate factors as confusion over names, ignorance of the respondent and personal equation by the enumerator.

There is yet another point which it will be useful to take note of. At the 1951 Census the enumeration was conducted with reference to a negative list, i.e., a list of 'non-backward' castes, and the enumerator was free to record any caste name returned provided the name did not appear in that list. A great variety of names therefore found its way to the enumeration slips and for the purpose of preparation of tables on Scheduled Castes only those names were picked up which conformed to the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950. Generic names, synonyms or sub-caste names by which some of these Scheduled Castes are sometimes known therefore remained outside the scope of the tabulation. In 1961, on the other hand, the enumerator was given a complete list of all Scheduled Castes together with corresponding generic names, synonyms and sub-caste names with special instructions to enquire into all doubtful names before recording them. The coverage this time is therefore expected to be more accurate.

Rural-urban break up

Of the Total population of the State 75.55 per cent live in the rural areas and 24.45 per cent in the urban areas. But, of the Scheduled Castes population 90.23 per cent live in the rural areas and only 9.77 per cent in the urban areas. This indicates that there is relatively a greater concentration of the Scheduled Castes in rural areas than in urban areas. Obviously the position will vary from district to district. The following statement shows the rural-urban proportions of the Total and Scheduled Castes population in the different districts of the State.

Midnapore	92.30	7.70	94.30	5.70

Purulia is the only district where the proportion of town dwellers is higher in the Scheduled Castes population than in the Total population. In all other districts, the urban areas have less than their share of the Scheduled Castes population, the deficiency being the most pronounced in the districts of Cooch Behar, Nadia, 24-Parganas, Hooghly and Burdwan. The most urbanised district (after Calcutta) is Howrah both in terms of the Total population and the Scheduled Castes population. The least urbanised district is Malda in terms of the Total population, but Cooch Behar in terms of the Scheduled Castes population.

The percentage distribution of the sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes by rural and urban areas is shown in the statement presented below :

Paliya	98.79	1.21
Jhalo Malo or Malo	89.92	10.08

In these sixteen Scheduled Castes those having more than 95 per cent of population belonging to rural areas are Paliya, Pod or Poundra, Rajbanahi and Bagdi or Duley. The castes having more than 20 per cent of population belonging to urban areas are Dhoba or Dhobi, Jalia Kaibartta and Chamar or Charmakar. It is also observed that the Scheduled Caste Dhoba or Dhobi has the lowest proportion of population in rural areas and the Scheduled Caste Paliya has the lowest proportion of population in urban areas among these sixteen numerically important castes.

The following statement shows the distribution of 184 towns in West Bengal according to the percentage of Scheduled Caste population to total population :

The eleven towns in which more than 30 per cent of population belong to the Scheduled Castes are :

Bagula (55.12), Canning (47.01) Manikpur (46.79), Domohani (41.34), Sarenga (39.79), Chandrakona (34.77), Amlagora (33.41), Dishergarh (32.16), Dainhat (31.07), Arambagh (30.42) and Jamuria (30.01).

A list of villages predominantly populated by the Scheduled Castes will be found at the end of this volume.

Age composition

The distribution of the Scheduled Castes population by broad age-groups: 0 to 14 years, 15 to 44 years and 45 years and above has been shown in Table SCT-II Part A. The statement below shows the percentage distribution of the Total population and the Scheduled Castes population between these three age-groups.

STATEMENT XIII

AGE COMPOSITION OF THE TOTAL POPULATION AND SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION, 1961

Age-group	Percentage of
	Total population	Scheduled Castes population
1	2	3
0 to 14	40.92	40.95
15 to 44	53.65	43.03
45 and Above	5.40	15.99
Age not stated	0.03	0.03

The proportion of children is the same in the Scheduled Castes population as in the Total population. But the proportion of the population in the working age-group is much lower in the Scheduled Castes population than in the Total population, with a matching excess in the proportion of elderly and old persons. The Scheduled Castes population is, therefore, on the whole more elderly than the Total population.

The percentages of the population in three broad age-groups and also the group "Age not stated" in respect of the sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes are shown below:

Paliya	100	41.16	43.52	15.30	0.02
Jhalo Malo or Malo	100	41.40	42.16	16.39	0.05

Among the sixteen Scheduled Castes the caste Pod or Poundra has the highest proportion of population (43.06 per cent) in the age-group 0 to 14 years. In the age-group 15 to 44 years the Scheduled Caste Bauri has the highest percentage of population (45.85). The caste Dhoba or Dhobi has the highest percentage of population (18.42) in the age-group 45 years and above. The lowest percentages of Scheduled Caste population among these sixteen castes in the age-groups 0 to 14, 15 to 44 and 45 and above are 37.00, 41.06 and 14.38 for the castes Dhoba or Dhobi, Namasudra and Bauri respectively.

Sex Ratio

In the Scheduled Castes population of the State there are 916 females for every 1,000 males. In the Total population the corresponding ratio is 878 : 1,000. As we do not have migration data and vital statistics for the Scheduled Castes population separately, it is not possible to estimate how much of this sex ratio differential is caused by migration and how much by births and deaths.

The following statement shows the 1961 sex ratio for sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes :

STATEMENT XV

SEX RATIOS AMONG THE SIXTEEN NUMERICALLY MAJOR SCHEDULED CASTES, 1961

Scheduled Caste	Sex Ratio
ALL SCHEDULED CASTES	916
Rajbanshi	900
Bagdi or Duley	967
Pod or Poundra	921
Namasudra	915

Kaora	956
Jalia Kaibartta	936
Sunri excluding Saha	950
Lohar	932
Paliya	909
Jhalo Malo or Malo	938

It is seen that among these sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes, those with sex ratios lower than the all Scheduled Castes average are Rajbanshi, Namasudra, Bauri, Dom or Dhangad, Paliya and Chamar or Charmakar, the community last named having the lowest ratio of 803. The highest sex ratio (among the sixteen Scheduled Castes) is 980 recorded by the Mal community. The second and third places are occupied by Hari (974) and Bagdi or Duley (967). The castes Kaora (956), Sunri excluding Saha (950), Jhalo Malo or Malo (938) also have considerably high sex-ratios.

Marital Status

Table SCT-II Part A shows the marital status classification, by age and sex, for each of the Scheduled Castes. The following summary statement shows the comparative distribution for the Total and Scheduled Castes population by marital status.

STATEMENT XVI

DISTRIBUTION BY MARITAL STATUS OF TOTAL POPULATION AND SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION, 1961

Marital Status 1	Total Population		Scheduled Castes population
	Males 2	Females 3	Males 4	Females 5
TOTAL	10,000	10,000	10,000	10,000

Widowed	267	1,237	316	1,335
Divorced or Separated	29	44	31	45
Unspecified Status	6	7	5	6

The degree of prevalence of the institution of marriage is thus higher in the Scheduled Castes population than in the Total population. The proportion of Never Married persons of either sex is larger in the Total than in the Scheduled Castes population.

The age-groupwise distribution by marital status is shown in Statement XVII.

STATEMENT XVII

DISTRIBUTION OF THE TOTAL AND SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION BY AGE-GROUP AND MARITAL STATUS, 1961

Unspecified Status	Males	4	5	8	5	6	5	381	303
	Females	3	4	11	7	10	6	161	103

In age-group 0 to 14 the proportion of Never Married persons of either sex is higher in the Total than in the Scheduled Castes population. A natural consequence of early marriage is widowhood and in age-group 15 to 44 about 10 per cent of the Scheduled Castes females are widows, against 8 per cent in the case of Total females of the same age-group. An interesting feature of the distribution is that in age-group 45 and above the proportion of widowed and divorced or separated females is lower in the case of Scheduled Castes than the Total population. This may indicate a higher incidence of widow remarriages among the Scheduled Castes.

Statement XVIII shows the classification by marital status of the population of the sixteen numerically major Scheduled Castes of the State.

Jhalo Male or Malo	Males	5,666	3,964	340	17	13
	Females	4,052	4,390	1,513	35	10

Judging from the proportion of the Never Married among the females, the institution of marriage seems to be the most universal in the Dom or Dhangad community. Bauri, Lohar, Chamar or Charmakar, Dhoba or Dhobi, Hari, Bagdi or Duley, Mal and Kaora are the other communities where the proportion of the Never Married among the females is less than the all-Scheduled Castes average. This proportion is the highest, of these sixteen Scheduled Castes, among the Paliyas. The proportion of widows among females is higher than the all-Scheduled Castes average in the case of the Bagdi or Duley, Jhalo Malo or Malo, Lohar, Dom or Dhangad, Sunri excluding Saha, Mal, Hari, Namasudra, Dhoba or Dhobi and Jalia Kaibartta communities. It is significant that the proportion of widows is the lowest among the Paliya women, among whom, as we have already seen, the proportion of the Never Married is the highest. The proportion of the Divorced or Separated is the highest among the women of Mal community and the lowest among the Rajbanshi.

Literacy and Education

Parts A(i) and B(i) of Table SCT-III show the literacy and educational levels for each Scheduled Caste for urban and rural areas respectively.

The following statement compares the sexwise literacy percentages of the Total population and the Scheduled Castes population for the State and districts :

Purulia	17.79	30.20	5.04	7.05	12.39	1.29

In each district of the State, literacy is lower in the Scheduled Castes population than in the total population, the divergence being the most pronounced in the districts of Bankura, Birbhum, Purulia, Burdwan, Howrah and Hooghly. Calcutta has the highest literacy rates both in the Total population and the Scheduled Castes population, but the district with the lowest literacy rates is Malda in case of the Total population and Purulia in case of the Scheduled Castes population. The districts where the Scheduled Castes literacy rates are above the State average are Darjeeling, Cooch Behar, Nadia, 24-Parganas, Calcutta, Howrah and Midnapore.

It is in female literacy in particular that the Scheduled Caste rates are very low. In the Total population the lowest female literacy rate for a district is 5 per cent in Purulia while in the Scheduled Castes population the female literacy rate is below that mark in all the districts except Calcutta, Darjeeling, Nadia, Howrah, 24-Parganas and Cooch Behar.

The rural-urban differential of literacy rates is also quite marked. The Scheduled Castes population of West Bengal has a male literacy rate of 21 per cent in the rural areas and of 28.3 per cent in the urban areas. The respective female literacy rates are 3.8 per cent and 12.8 per cent respectively.

The 1961 literacy percentages, sexwise, for sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes of the State are shown below :

Lohar	8.30	13.96	2.22
Paliya	11.66	20.58	1.83
Jhalo Malo or Malo	14.50	22.05	6.44

Sunri has the highest literacy percentage (28.58 per cent) among the sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes. The castes having literacy rates higher than 15 per cent are Pod or Poundra (21.68 per cent), Namasudra (21.02 per cent), Dhoba or Dhobi (18.93 per cent) and Jalia Kaibartta (17.95 per cent). The Scheduled Caste Bauri (5.47 per cent) has the lowest literacy percentage among these sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes. It is observed that the caste Rajbanshi which has the largest population ranks sixth in respect of literacy percentage and the caste Jhalo Malo or Malo which has the lowest population among these sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes, ranks seventh in respect of literacy percentage.

The following statement indicates the percentage distribution of the Scheduled Castes and general population by literacy and educational levels sexwise.

STATEMENT XXI

LEVELS OF EDUCATION IN THE TOTAL AND SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION, 1961

Educational Level	Total Population			Scheduled Castes Population
	Persons	Males	Females	Persons	Males	Females

Matriculation and above	2.85	4.67	0.79	0.34	0.61	0.04

It is evident that in the case of the Scheduled Castes population literacy consists mostly of education below or upto the Primary or Junior Basic level.

Religion

Table SCT-IV Part A classifies the Scheduled Castes population by religion. Under the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Order (Amendment) Act, 1956, no person who professes a religion different from the Hindu or the Sikh religion can be deemed to be a member of a Scheduled Caste.

Of the 6,890,314 persons belonging to the Scheduled Castes in West Bengal only 196 are Sikhs and the rest are Hindus. The following statement shows the distribution of the 196 Sikhs by caste :

STATEMENT XXII

Economic Activity

An important departure was made at the 1961 Census in the collection of data on the economic characteristics of the population. Instead of dividing the population into earners and dependents on the basis of income and into livelihood classes on the basis of the means of livelihood of the earners, stress was laid on work so that all people who worked including family workers who were not in receipt of any income, or persons working who could not earn enough for their maintenance, were returned as workers and all those who did no work were shown as non-workers.

The workers were classified into the following nine basic Industrial Categories:

- I—As Cultivator ;
- II—Agricultural Labourer ;
- III—In Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities ;
- IV—At Household Industry ;
- V—In Manufacturing other than Household Industry ;
- VI—In Construction ;
- VII—In Trade and Commerce ;
- VIII—In Transport, Storage and Communications ; and
- IX—In Other Services.

The Non-workers were treated as the tenth category.

The following is a brief description of the Industrial Categories :

Category I

This category includes both owner cultivators and tenant cultivators. Along with workers doing manual work on land are also included persons who are engaged in active supervision or direction of cultivation. All persons working in cultivation of land on which they have either ownership or tenancy rights are included in this category.

Category II

All other persons working on land as labourers on wages without holding any right upon the land are classified as agricultural labourers and included in the second category.

Category III

Workers in mining, quarrying, livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting, plantations, orchards and allied activities are included in this category.

Category IV

"Household Industry" is defined as an industry conducted at home in urban areas or within the village in rural areas by the head of the household himself and/or mainly by the members of the household. A household industry is not run on the scale of a registered factory and relates to processing, servicing, repairing or making of goods. This may include sale of goods, but should not be confined merely to buying and selling. Thus, the main criteria for household industry are its smaller scale, its being run at home in urban areas and within the village in rural areas and the participation of the head of the household and/or one or more members of the household. Professional, personal and such other 'Services' are not covered by this definition, although they may be run at home. A person working as an employee in another person's household industry has also been treated as working at household industry.

Category V

"Manufacturing" includes all types of production, processing, servicing or repairing of goods. This category does not include production, processing, etc., which is carried on at household level and is classified as household industry.

Category VI

This category includes workers engaged in construction and maintenance of buildings, roads, railways, bridges and telegraph and telephone lines, waterways, reservoirs, etc.

Category VII

This category includes workers engaged in any capacity in wholesale or retail trading activity and commercial transactions relating to imports and exports, real estate and properties, stock and shares, insurance, money-lending, banking, etc.

Category VIII

This category includes workers engaged in transport activities by air, rail, road and water and in services incidental to transport such as packing, carting, loading, unloading, etc. Workers engaged in storage, warehousing and communication services such as Posts, Telegraphs, Telephones, Wireless Signalling, Information and Broadcasting are also included in this category.

Category IX

This category includes (i) Public Utility Services like electricity, gas or water supply and sanitary services; (ii) Central, State, Quasi-Governments or Municipal employees in administrative departments or offices; (iii) Professional services (iv) Trade or labour associations, recreational and personal services; and (v) Services not elsewhere classified, etc.

The distribution of the Scheduled Castes population according to the industrial categories of workers and non-workers is shown in Table SCT-I Part A for rural and urban areas separately. It is for the first time that the economic classification of the Scheduled Castes population has been recorded in such detail for each community. As such, any comment on the statistics relating to economic activities must be handicapped first by a lack of adequate and comparable statistics from earlier censuses and secondly, due to non availability of detailed break-ups of the classification of economic activities.

As regards the workers it will be pertinent to assess the position of the Scheduled Castes in comparison to the total population. The proportion of workers for total, rural and urban areas and for males and females in the Scheduled Castes population and the Total population of West Bengal is as follows:

STATEMENT XXIII

PROPORTION OF WORKERS IN THE TOTAL AND SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION, 1961

Population		Percentage of Workers to Total population
		Total	Rural	Urban
1		2	3	4
Total Population	Males	53.98	53.47	55.38
	Females	9.43	10.62	5.12
Scheduled Caste Population	Males	55.32	55.23	56.08
	Females	10.84	10.91	10.06

The participation rate, for either sex, is thus higher in the Scheduled Castes population than in the Total population for both rural and urban areas. This does not necessarily indicate economic prosperity of the Scheduled Castes, for when a large section of the population lives at subsistence level, even the children and womenfolk have to lend a hand in household cultivation, industry or business to eke out a living for the family.

We now pass on to the consideration of the types of activities in which the Scheduled Castes are engaged. The statement below shows the distribution among the nine industrial categories of workers of 10,000 males and females separately for the Scheduled Castes and the Total population.

STATEMENT XXIV

DISTRIBUTION PER 10,000 WORKERS OF EACH SEX OF THE TOTAL AND SCHEDULED CASTES POPULATION BY INDUSTRIAL CATEGORIES, 1961

III—In Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities	437	902	617	701
IV—At Household Industry	299	1,217	259	1,003
V—In Manufacturing other than Household Industry	1,239	491	633	600
VI—In Construction	146	30	81	46
VII—In Trade and Commerce	833	233	294	363
VIII—In Transport, Storage and Communications	385	35	183	28
IX—In Other Services	1,344	1,299	952	1,442

A little more than 68 per cent of the Scheduled Castes male workers are engaged in agriculture either as cultivators or Agricultural labourers. The corresponding percentage among the Total male workers is 53. Among females the percentage is 58 both for Scheduled Castes and Total. On the whole, therefore, the proportion of workers engaged in agriculture is much higher in the Scheduled Castes than in the Total population.

The Cultivator-Agricultural labourer ratio is 100 : 69 in the Scheduled Castes population as compared to 100 : 40 in the Total population.

After agriculture, Category III—Mining, Quarrying, etc., is the only group of activities in which the proportion of the males engaged is higher in the Scheduled Castes workers than in the Total workers.

The statement next page shows the distribution of 10,000 persons of the sixteen numerically major Scheduled Castes by industrial categories of workers and non-workers.

In cultivation, the Scheduled Caste Rajbanshi has the first place, Paliya has the second place and the Scheduled Caste Kaora has the last position.

There are more agricultural labourers than cultivators in the communities of Bagdi or Duley, Chamar or Charmakar, Dom or Dhangad, Hari, Lohar, Bauri, Mal and Kaora. In the three communities last named for every cultivator there are more than two agricultural labourers. Jhalo Malo or Malo, a fishing community, has the largest proportion of workers and the caste Paliya has the lowest proportion of workers in the Category III. In the fourth category i.e., in Household Industry the Chamar or Charmakar has the highest representation while the lowest position here also is held by the Paliya. The largest proportion of non-workers are found in the Scheduled Caste Namasudra which has 7,387 non-workers in every 10,000 persons. The caste Dom or Dhangad has 5,425 non-workers among 10,000 persons, which is the smallest proportion of non-workers among these sixteen numerically important Scheduled Castes.

Table SOT-V Part A shows sample Scheduled Castes Households engaged in cultivation classified by interest of land and size of land cultivated in rural areas. The material is available only for rural areas and for all Scheduled Castes as a group and not for each Scheduled Caste separately. The interest in land has been classified into three categories.

(i) Owned or held from Government ;

(ii) Held from private persons or institution for payment in money, kind or share ; and

(iii) Partly held from Government and partly from private persons for payment in money, kind or share.

The statement below shows the percentage of the households in each of the three categories mentioned above in the rural areas.

STATEMENT XXVI

CULTIVATING HOUSEHOLDS CLASSIFIED BY INTEREST IN LAND CULTIVATED, 1961

Interest in Land	General Households	Scheduled Caste Households
1	2	3
(i) Owned or held from Government	65.64	56.08
(ii) Held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share	13.34	20.44
(iii) Partly held from Government and partly from private persons for payment in money, kind or share	21.02	23.48
Total	100.00	100.00

Though owner-cultivator households are a majority among the cultivating households of both the Total and Scheduled Castes population it would appear that the proportion of cultivating households holding land as tenant cultivators and share croppers is higher among the Scheduled Castes cultivating households than the General cultivating households.

Percentage distribution of cultivating households by size of land cultivated is given below separately for the General and Scheduled Castes households.

STATEMENT XXVII

DISTRIBUTION OF GENERAL AND SCHEDULED CASTES CULTIVATING HOUSEHOLDS BY SIZE OF LAND CULTIVATED, 1961

Size of Holdings	General Households	Scheduled Castes Households
1	2	3
ALL SIZES	100	100

30.0—49.9 "	0.22	0.16
50 and above	0.08	0.08
Unspecified	0.46	0.53

The average size of holding is thus slightly lower for the Scheduled Castes cultivating households than the General cultivating households.

Table SCT-I Part A also shows figures of workers among Scheduled Castes engaged in two special occupations, viz., (i) Tanning and Currying of hides and skins and (ii) Scavenging. In West Bengal both of these occupations are more common in urban than in rural areas. The distribution of Scheduled Castes workers engaged in these occupations by urban and rural areas and by sex is shown in the statement below :

These special occupations are not confined to a few Scheduled Castes only. As a matter of fact, 34 Scheduled Castes have been returned under the occupation Tanning and Currying of hides and skins and 37 under Scavenging. The castewise distribution of these occupations is given in the statement below. It may be noted that Tanning and Currying of hides and skins do not include making or repairing of footwear and other leather goods. Scavenging includes sweeping of streets etc. The following two statements show the castewise distribution of these occupation.

TABLES ON SCHEDULED CASTES

In the first occupation the communities Chamar, Charmakar, Mochi, Muchi, Rabidas, Ruidas or Rishi and in the second Mehtor, Dom or Dhangad are numerically the most predominant.

TABLE SCT-1 PART A
INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION OF PERSONS AT WORK AND NON-WORKERS BY SEX FOR
SCHEDULED CASTES

THIS TABLE is prepared for each Scheduled Caste for the State and districts, for their rural and urban areas separately. It gives the population of each Scheduled Caste and shows in which sector of industry the members of each Scheduled Caste are working and how many of them are non-workers. The description of the concept of workers and non-workers and of the nine industrial categories will be found in the Introductory Note.

The special feature of this table is the presentation of the data in special occupations like (i) Tanning and Currying of hides and skins and (ii) Scavenging in which some members of the Scheduled Castes are working. The number of persons shown as engaged in these two occupations consists of only those who are engaged in them as their principal work. Figures of all such persons have however been also included in Household Industry, Manufacturing other than Household Industry and Other Services, as the case may be.

TABLE SCT-II PART A
AGE AND MARITAL STATUS
FOR SCHEDULED CASTES

THIS TABLE gives the distribution of Scheduled Castes population of the State and districts by sex, broad age-groups and marital status. The presentation is for all Scheduled Castes as a group as well as for each Scheduled Caste separately, but without any break up for rural and urban areas. The age-groups adopted are 0 to 14, 15 to 44, 45 and above and Age not Stated.

Never Married are persons who have never been married. Married persons are those who are married whether for the first or another time and whose marriage is subsisting. These include those recognised as married by custom, society or by the couple themselves who are in stable de facto union even if the marriage is disputed in the locality. Widowed are those whose husbands or wives are dead and who have not married again. Divorced or separated include persons divorced in a lawful manner either by decree of a law court or by a regular social or religious custom but who have not remarried or a person who has been separated from spouse and is living apart with no apparent intention of living together again. For a prostitute her marital status was recorded as declared by her.

TABLE SCT-III PART A(i)
EDUCATION IN URBAN AREAS
ONLY FOR SCHEDULED CASTES

THIS PART of the table presents the distribution of Scheduled Castes population by sex and education for the Urban Areas only. The figures for the Rural Areas will be found in Part B(i) of the table. The information is for all Scheduled Castes as a group as well as for each Scheduled Caste separately. Data are presented for the State, its administrative divisions and districts. The educational levels adopted for the classification in Urban Areas are as follows (i) Illiterate, (ii) Literate (without educational level), (iii) Primary or Junior Basic, (iv) Matriculation or Higher Secondary, (v) Technical Diploma not equal to Degree, (vi) Non-technical Diploma not equal to Degree, (vii) University Degree or Post-graduate Degree other than Technical Degree, (viii) Technical Degree or Diploma equal to Degree or Post-graduate Degree.

The 1961 Census definition of literacy was ability to read and write any simple letter either in print or in manuscript. If a person could both read and write and had also passed a written examination as proof of an educational level attained, the highest examination passed was recorded in the Census slip. The figures for educational levels shown in the table relate to the levels already attained and not those being studied.

TABLE SCT-III PART B(i)
EDUCATION IN RURAL AREAS
ONLY FOR SCHEDULED CASTES

THIS PART of the table presents the distribution of the Scheduled Castes population of the rural areas by literacy and levels of education. The figures are presented for all Scheduled Castes as a group as well as for each Scheduled Caste separately. The levels of education are : Illiterate, Literate without educational level, Primary or Junior Basic, Matriculation and above.

The Census definition of literacy was ability to read and write any simple letter either in print or in manuscript. If a person who could both read and write had also passed a written examination the highest examination passed was recorded in the Census Slip. The figures for educational levels shown in the table relate to the levels already attained and not those being studied.

Material is presented for the State, its administrative divisions and districts.

UNDER the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Order (Amendment) Act 1956 no person who professes a religion different from the Hindu or the Sikh religion can be deemed to be a member of the Scheduled Caste. This table classifies the Scheduled Castes population of the State by religion.

In West Bengal only 196 persons belonging to the Scheduled Castes have returned themselves as Sikhs. They are confined only to six districts, viz., Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri, 24-Parganas, Calcutta, Hooghly and Burdwan. This table has, therefore, been prepared for the two administrative divisions and only these six districts. In case of the other districts, as all the Scheduled Castes belong to the Hindu religion, their figures will be the same as those of the castewise population given in Table SCT-I Part A.

Figures are given separately for the rural and urban areas. Of the 196 Sikh members of the Scheduled Castes only 2 belong to the rural areas and the remaining to the urban areas.

TABLE SCT-V PART A
SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS
ENGAGED IN CULTIVATION
CLASSIFIED BY INTEREST IN
LAND AND SIZE OF LAND
CULTIVATED IN RURAL AREAS
ONLY FOR MEMBERS OF
SCHEDULED CASTES

THIS TABLE has been prepared on the basis of the data collected in Household Schedules canvassed in the 1961 Census and has been compiled for a 20 per cent sample drawn from total household. It shows the distribution of sample households among the Scheduled Castes engaged in cultivation, classified by size of land and interest in land cultivated. The table is similar to the Household Economic Table B-XI for general population presented in Part-III of the West Bengal Census Report.

When the head of a household himself and/or any of the members of the household is engaged, even as a secondary work, in cultivation of land the household is said to be a cultivating household. The distribution by size groups shown in this table is of the cultivating or operational holdings and not of the ownership holdings.

Material is presented for the State its administrative divisions and districts for the rural areas only. The presentation is for all Scheduled Castes as a group and not for each Scheduled Caste individually.

TABLE SC-I
PERSONS NOT AT WORK
CLASSIFIED BY SEX, TYPE OF ACTIVITY AND EDUCATIONAL LEVELS FOR SCHEDULED
CASTES

THIS TABLE presents the distribution of the non-workers among Scheduled Castes population by sex, type of activity and educational level. The presentation is for all the Scheduled Castes as a group, not for each Scheduled Caste separately. Data are given for the State, its administrative divisions and districts, and for the total, rural and urban areas for each unit separately.

Non-workers in this table have been classified by the following four types of activity, viz.,

- (i) full time students ;
- (ii) persons seeking employment for the first time;
- (iii) persons employed before, but now out of employment and seeking work ; and
- (iv) others.

The last group of 'others' include the following five type, viz.,

- (a) housewives and others engaged in unpaid household duties ;
- (b) dependents, infants and disabled ;
- (c) retired, rentier or other persons of independent means ;
- (d) baggars, vagrants, etc. ; and
- (e) inmates of penal, mental and charitable institutions.

Separate figures for these five types have not been given.

Educational levels have been classified into the following :

- (i) Illiterate ;
- (ii) Literate (without educational level) ;
- (iii) Primary or Junior Basic ;
- (iv) Matriculation or Higher Secondary ; and
- (v) Above Matriculation or Higher Secondary.
