GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.
Fort William, 17th December 1857.

No. 1588 of 1857.—The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General on the 28th November 1857, and is published in General Orders:—

ACT No. XXXII OF 1857.

An Act to amend the Articles of War for the Native Army.

WHEREAS it is expedient that, on every conviction of Mutiny or Desertion, the Government or the Court, or other lawful authority by which the offender shall be convicted, should have power to order the offender to be marked: It is enacted as follows:—

I. It shall be lawful for the Government, by any general or special order, to direct that all or any persons or person subject to the Articles of War for the Native Army, who have been or shall be convicted of Mutiny or Desertion, shall be marked on the left side two inches below the arm-pit with the letter M in the case of a conviction of Mutiny, and with the letter D in the case of a conviction of Desertion, either alone or together with such other mark as the Government may consider necessary for the purpose of identifying the offender at any future time, or of denoting the punishment to which he has been sentenced. The letter shall not be less than an inch long; and such letter and other mark shall be made upon the skin with some ink, gunpowder, or other preparation, so as to be visible and conspicuous and not liable to be obliterated.

II. It shall also be lawful for the Court, or other lawful authority by which any person subject to the Articles of War for the Native Army may be convicted of Mutiny or Desertion, to order, as part of the sentence on such person, that he be marked with the letter M or D, as the case may be, which letter shall be made in the manner herein-before directed.

III. The word "Government," as used in this Act, shall mean the Governor General of India in Council, or the Executive Government of the Presidency within which the offender shall have been tried.

IV. Any sentence or order, by which any person subject to the Articles of War for the Native Army may upon conviction of Mutiny or Desertion have been ordered to be marked, shall be deemed valid.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 6TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 4 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 23RD DECEMBER 1857.

No. 1627 OF 1857.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatches from Major General Gowan, C. B., Commanding in the Upper Provinces, and Major General Penny, C. B., Commanding at Delhi, detailing the proceedings of the Columns detached from Delhi under the Command of Brigadier Showers and Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed.

The Governor General in Council has much pleasure in conveying his warm acknowledgments to Lieutenant Colonel Greathed and the Officers and Men under his Command, for their gallant conduct and exertions on the occasions of the attacks on the Insurgents at Boolundshuhur, at Malagurh, at Allyghur, and lastly at Agra, where, after a very long match, and joined by the Garrison of Agra, consisting of No. 20 Light Field Battery and the 3rd European Regiment under the Command of Colonel Cotton, Commandant of Agra, the Column entirely routed a large Force of Insurgent Sepoys, taking the whole of their Guns, Baggage, Camp, &c.

The Governor General in Council also desires to convey to Brigadier Showers, and to the Officers and Men under his Command, the assurance of the great satisfaction with which he views their zeal and exertions in the several conflicts with the Insurgents in the Districts to the Westward of the Jumna.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,

Secretary to the Government of India in the Military Department.

No. 206.

From Maj-Gen. G. E. GOWAN, Comdg. in the Upper Provinces.

To Major MAYHEW, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

Calcutta, Head Quarters, Meean Meer, the 6th October 1857.

SIR,

I do myself the honor of forwarding, for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and the Supreme Government, Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's detailed Report of his proceedings against the Mutineers at Boolundshuhur on the 28th Ultimo.

I have, &c.,

G. E. GOWAN, Maj-Gen., Comdg. in the Upper Provinces.

From Maj-Gen. A. WILSON, Comdg. Field Force.

To MAJOR PRIOR, Asst. Adj. Genl., Lahore,

SIR,

Delhi Palace, 30th September 1857.

In continuation of my letter, No. 1550, of yesterday's date, I have the honor to forward, for submission to Major-General Gowan, C. B., Commanding in the Upper Provinces, Lieutenant-

Colonel E. H. Greathed's detailed Report of his proceedings against the Mutineers at Boolundshuhur on the 28th Instant.

I beg to bring to the favorable notice of the Major-General the several Officers whose names have been particularly mentioned by Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed in his Despatch.

I have, &c.,

A. WILSON, Maj. Genl. Comdg. Field Force.

FROM LIEUTENANT-COLONEL E. H. GREATHED, Comdg. Moveable Column.
TO CAPTAIN STEWART, Depy. Asst. Adgt. Genl.,

SIR,

Delhi, Boolundshuhur, 29th September 1857.

In continuation of my Report of yesterday's date, I have the honor to report to you, for the information of the Major-General Commanding, that on my arrival at Boolundshuhur with the main Column yesterday morning, I received a report that the Enemy occupied a strong position at the fork of two roads behind a breast-work, in which two Guns were at first said to be posted. It appeared afterwards there were six, of which two were 9-Pounders. I immediately sent H. M.'s 8th and two Guns as a reinforcement to those already in advance. I afterwards brought up Captain Bouchier's Light Field Battery, H. M.'s 75th Regiment, and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry, leaving Major Turner, H. A., in Command of the Reserve, consisting of one Troop of Horse Artillery, 4th Punjaub Infantry, and the 2nd Punjaub Cavalry.

The action was maintained on the part of the Enemy's Guns with great spirit for a very considerable time, notwithstanding the admirable practice of Captain Bouchier's Battery on the right and the cross fire from Captain Remington's Guns on the left road. I had in the meantime pushed forward in the centre, between the Guns, which were supported by Cavalry and Infantry, and in advance of the position first occupied by Major Ouvry, as mentioned in that Officer's Report, and also on the right of Captain Bouchier's Battery, in the centre H. M.'s 75th, and on the right H. M.'s 8th and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry, with directions to clear the strong positions held by the Rebels. This duty was well performed by the 8th under Captain Hinde, the 75th under Major Gordon, and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry under Captain Green. Seeing that the flanks were protected, I ordered Captain Bouchier to advance, which he did at a gallop. At the same time H. M.'s 75th cleared the enclosures in the centre, and advanced with a cheer, and the Rebels deserted their Entrenchments, leaving one 9-Pounder in our hands.

The Cavalry then advanced by the two roads at a gallop, and I have the honor to refer you, for the particulars of the conduct of both Artillery and Cavalry, to the Reports of Major Turner and Major Ouvry. During the action the Enemy's Cavalry menaced both my flanks in considerable numbers, but was uniformly driven off with considerable loss. After I had cleared the Town, I encamped on the other side of the bridge, over the Kalee Nuddee, on the Anoopshuhur road, with the intention of marching to Malagurh this morning. In the afternoon intelligence was brought to me that the Fort had been completely evacuated and that Wallee Dad had fled to Anoopshuhur.

I sent over 50 Sowars immediately to take possession of his Fort, which I visited this morning, and made arrangements for its immediate destruction: these will be completed to-morrow, and as soon as I have made arrangements for my Wounded, I shall march towards Anoopshuhur.

I have the honor to request that you will draw the favorable consideration of the Major-General to the Reports of Major Turner and Major Ouvry, and to the mention they have made of the Officers and Soldiers mentioned in them. When all did their duty entirely, it is difficult and invidious to draw distinctions; but I must be permitted to express my best thanks to Major Turner for the uniform assistance and kind counsel he has afforded me on every occasion. The conduct of Captain Bouchier and his Officers and Men in the management of their Battery was the subject of my admiration, as they were immediately under my own eye throughout.

The activity and judgement of Major Ouvry has been conspicuous throughout, and in the affair of yesterday he gave me the most zealous assistance in every point where he could be of service. I trust that the wound of Captain Drysdale, Commanding the 9th Lancers, whose horse was shot dead under him when most gallantly charging at the head of his Regiment, will not deprive the Government of his services for any lengthened period. Every Officer and Man in the Force appeared to forget fatigue in their determination to drive the Rebels from the position they had taken in our front.

I received the most effective aid from those excellent Officers, Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General, and Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; also from my Brigade Major, Captain Bannatyne, and my Orderly Officer, Lieutenant Ximenes of the 8th Regiment.

Mr. Sapte, C. S., was kind enough to accompany me throughout, and to give me much assistance.

I have, &c.,

FROM MAJOR H. A. OUVRY, H. M.'s 9th Lancers, Commanding Cavalry Brigade.
TO LIEUTENANT-COLONEL GREATHED, Commanding Moveable Column, Boolundshuhur Camp,
Boolundshuhur, 28th September 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you, that I preceded the Column of march according to your order this morning. On my Advanced Guard of Light Cavalry arriving near the Town of Boolundshuhur, it was observed to be occupied by the Enemy in force, who had a breast-work across the road and Guns in position.

I immediately ordered Guns to the front, which advanced within five hundred yards of the breast-work. The Enemy then opened with a Round Shot, which was replied to by our Guns.

Having received most valuable information from Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, that there was a road on my right, by which I could take the Enemy's breast-work in flank, I called a reinforcement of Artillery to the front and posted them on this road, when they did excellent service.

The Kutcherry, a pukka building, I also occupied with 100 Infantry, who were sent to the front at my request.

At this period you having arrived on the spot with the Infantry, I went to the left to take the Command of the Cavalry, with whom I had previously posted a division of Horse Artillery, which I ordered to open fire on the right flank of the Enemy's position.

After a very hot and well-sustained fire of two hours, I observed you advancing your Infantry and Guns on the Enemy's left flank, driving them before you from their position.

As I also observed that they were flying on the road to Gurmucktesir Ghât, and towards Malagurh, I ordered H. M.'s 9th Lancers to advance in pursuit, followed by the division of Artillery.

The 9th Lancers charged through the City, which was shortly afterwards occupied by the Infantry.

The road on the other side the Town was partially blocked up with waggons and carts, and the Enemy dispersing into the khets in the open country, I ordered the Cavalry to halt, and advanced two Guns to the bridge over the East Kalee Nuddee.

The Sepoys endeavored to make a stand outside the City Gate, but were immediately charged and dispersed by the head of the Column of the 9th Lancers, who have killed a number of them, and I cannot speak too highly of the gallantry of that Regiment in charging through the Town under a most severe fire from the houses.

I wish to bring most particularly to your notice the services of the Artillery engaged; the manner in which they brought their Guns into close action, and the constancy of their fire merits special mention.

I regret to say that my loss has been very distressing, as I have been deprived of the services of four most valuable Officers in the 9th Lancers, the Return of which I have already had the honor to transmit to you.

The splendid conduct of the Irregular Cavalry merits the highest praise; they have killed 200 of the Enemy's Sowars during the action and towards its close.

I wish most particularly to bring to your notice the distinguished gallantry of Captain Drysdale, Commanding H. M.'s 9th Royal Lancers, who sustained a fracture of the collar-bone from the fall of his horse, which was shot as he was charging the Sepoys on the Right of the Town, after he had passed through it; also of Trumpeter and Lance Corporal Kens and of Private Jordan, who saved him and brought him out of the melee.

The names of Lieutenant Sarel, 9th Lancers, who advanced with his Squadron in pursuit by your direction, and of Lieutenant Blair, 2nd Dragoon Guards (attached to the 9th Lancers), the former severely wounded in the right hand (four-finger of right hand since amputated) and left arm; and the latter, who was most dangerously wounded in a personal conflict with one of the Rebel Sowars, also deserve special mention.

The names also of Captains Bouchier and Remington, of the Artillery, whose Battery and Troop were engaged during the whole action, as well as that of Lieutenant Cracklow, who had a division of Guns employed, and whose loss must have been heavy, I desire to bring prominently to your notice.

In the Irregular Cavalry, Lieutenant Watson charged and defeated a superior force of the Enemy's Horse, who were advancing to attack him, driving them into the Town, and cutting up a great many. I regret to say that, on this occasion, Captain Best, of whose conduct Lieutenant Watson speaks very highly, received a severe sabre wound. Lieutenant Watson has also brought to my notice the services of Mr. Lyall, a Civilian, who was with him during the whole action, and offered him the most valuable assistance.

The names of Lieutenants Younghusband and Gough, Commanding Irregular Corps, I also consider it my duty to bring to your notice, as having performed most gallant service during the day.

Lieutenant Probyn, with his Horse, charged and defeated a body of Cavalry and armed Goojers, who attacked the Baggage while we were engaged with the Enemy.

From Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, and from Lieutenant Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army, I received the most valuable information and assistance, and I wish to bring them conspicuously to your notice.

To Mr. Sapte, the Collector of the District, I have to return my most sincere thanks for the assistance he afforded me, through his local knowledge of the ground.

The assistance I received from my two Orderly Officers, Captain the Hon'ble A. Anson, H. M.'s 84th Regiment, and Lieutenant Martin, of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, during the long period of eleven hours that we were in the saddle, was most valuable and effective.

No. 84.

FROM MAJOR F. TURNER, Comdg. Arty. of Moveable Column.

TO CAPTAIN BANNATYNE, Major of Brigade, Moveable Column.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th Sept. 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward the Reports of the Officers of Artillery Commanding Batteries and Detachments in action to-day against the Rebels, also Returns of Casualties and Ordnance expended.

Captain Remington, Commanding 1st Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery.
Captain Blunt, Commanding 2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery.
2nd Lieut Cracklow, Commanding Detachment do. do.
Captain Bouchier, Commanding No. 17 Light Field Battery.
2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery.
Her Majesty's 75th Regiment.
4th Punjab Infantry.
4th Punjab Cavalry.

A more detailed Statement of the Ordnance and other Ammunition captured shall be given hereafter.

Having been directed by the Officer Commanding the Moveable Column to Command the Reserve (Corps noted in the Margin,) I was not an eye-witness of the performances of the Guns in action; but I have great pleasure in pressing upon Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's attention the very gallant conduct of Serjeant Diamond and Gunner Fitzgerald, of the 2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery, who, after the rest of their Gun's crew were disabled, continued to serve it under a very heavy fire of Musketry, and I trust that by Colonel Greathed, this gallant conduct, as also that of Second Lieutenant Cracklow, may be brought to the notice of Major-General Wilson Commanding Delhi Field Force, and Commandant of Artillery.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) F. TURNER, MAJOR, Comdg. Arty. of Moveable Column.

FROM CAPTAIN F. REMINGTON, Comdg. 1st Tr. 1st Bde. H. A.,

TO LIEUTENANT BUNNY, Arty. Dets. Staff, Moveable Column.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th Sept. 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for the information of Major Turner, Commanding Artillery with the Moveable Column, that after leaving the main body, shortly after day-break, with the right division of my Troop under Lieutenant Murray, I proceeded up the road which was our line of march, till I came within view of a breast-work which the Enemy had thrown across the road.

Two embasures were distinctly visible, and I accordingly quickened my men till within what I considered 600 yards of the Enemy. I afterwards found that it must have been about 900 yards, but I was deceived in the distance, owing to the early morning light and the avenue of trees bounding the road. The Enemy opened a tolerably brisk fire from their Guns, one of very small calibre; but the fire of my Guns caused that of the Enemy to slacken very soon, and on the arrival of my centre and left divisions under Lieutenants Manderson and Traill, the Enemy's fire almost ceased. I was obliged to form these latter on the right of the road in ploughed land, and owing to the intervention of trees and gardens, it was difficult to form any correct estimate of the effect of their fire. After expending the ammunition of the Howitzer limber, and the same number of rounds from my left division, I advanced at a gallop, about 400 yards nearer, and it was here I discovered how deceptive the distance had been. My new position was about 500 yards distant from the Enemy's entrenchment, whence two Guns still continued to fire occasional shots at us, notwithstanding I kept up a continued fire on it.

On an Officer* being sent to me to tell me to cease firing, as the Infantry were advancing, I limbered up, crossed the road, and proceeded to the left, where Captain Norrish told me my presence was desirable, if possible. A vidette of H. M.'s 9th Lancers guided me to a road, on which he told me a squadron of his Regiment had proceeded with two Guns. The ground was very heavy, and I could only proceed at a walk; but as soon as I got on a road, I ordered the trot and followed the line of the Lancers and Guns, till I arrived at a place where they were halted. Shortly after a heavy fire of Musketry was opened on them from a Serai, at the entrance of which they were; and as they were obliged to withdraw a short distance, I formed Battery to the front with my left division under Lieutenant Traill, which I placed on some high ground to the right of the road to meet contingencies.

I am happy to say, the arrival of the Seikh Infantry prevented the contingency I dreaded; but it was not in time to prevent serious loss to a division of Captain Blunt's Troop under Lieutenant Cracklow.

The latter Officer having informed me, that his Guns were temporarily disabled owing to casualties, I advanced through the Serai, whence the Enemy had by this time been dislodged, with my right division, and took up a position at the further end of the bridge on this side of the Serai. As soon as the Baggage made its appearance, I moved off in the direction of Camp, as requested by the Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General. Since my arrival in Camp, two 9-Pounder Ammunition Waggon and two Carts have been brought into my Park by villagers. They contain some 9lb. and 6lb. Shot and a few Cartridges. Accompanying are a list of Casualties and a Return of Ammunition expended.

I have &c.,

From Captain C. H. BLUNT, Commanding in Charge of 2nd Tr. 3rd Bde.

To Major F. TURNER, Commanding Artillery with Moveable Column.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th September 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward, for your information, the Report I have received from Lieutenant Cracklow, who commanded two Guns detached to-day from the Troops under my Command.

As they were the only Guns actually engaged with the Enemy, I need not add any further report of the proceeding of the remaining three Guns of the Troop.

I beg to call to your notice the high commendation which Lieutenant Cracklow has, in his Report, bestowed on Serjeant Diamond and Gunner Fitzgerald. This commendation has been confirmed and strengthened by several Officers in Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, who were witnesses of their gallant conduct.

I have &c.,

(Signed) C. H. BLUNT, Lt. Capt., in charge of 2d Tr. 3d Bde.

From Lieutenant G. CRACKLOW, Commanding in charge 2d Tr. 3d Bde. H. A.

To Captain BLUNT, Commanding in charge 2d Tr. 3d Bde. H. A.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 27th September 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for your information, that, in accordance with the orders I received, I proceeded with two Guns to support the left Cavalry Picquet. On arriving at the Picquet, the Officer Commanding ordered me to open a flanking fire on two Guns of the Enemy, which were posted at the end of a road about 700 yards off, I did so, and continued firing until the Guns were taken by our people.

I then accompanied the Cavalry along the road, leading by the left of the City. As we were proceeding down the road, a man put his musket over a wall and shot a horse in the leading Gun. Soon after this, two more horses were shot in the same team, and as no horses could be got to replace the casualties, the syces with the bad horses having disappeared as soon as the firing commenced, the Gun was obliged to be left behind, and did not come into action at all. I proceeded to the front with the other Guns. We advanced through the gate of a small Serai, and I was ordered to take my Gun through the opposite gate, and up to a bridge, which was about 200 yards in advance of the gate along the pukka road. I first advanced myself to see what was the state of affairs on the other side. I found that the Enemy were advancing in considerable numbers along a wall to my right, and it was evident to me, that if I advanced the Gun, I should have had it disabled in a few minutes by the Enemy's Musketry fire in my rear, and that the Gun would most probably have been taken, as there were no Infantry to stand by it. I retired the Gun above 40 yards to the first gate of the Serai and opened fire on the Enemy, who had by this time advanced to the Gate-way through which I had been ordered to advance the Gun, and continued firing for about a quarter of an hour, after which the Infantry having advanced, the Enemy were driven back. As my Gun was disabled, one man having been killed and four wounded, I retired and Captain Remington's Guns were ordered to relieve me.

I beg to bring to your notice the gallant conduct of Serjeant Diamond and Gunner Fitzgerald. These two men, when the rest of the Crew were disabled, served the Gun under a heavy Musketry fire; their coolness and daring elicited the admiration of all present.

I have the honor to enclose Casualty Rolls of the Men and Horses, and a Return of Ammunition expended.

I have &c.,

To Lieutenant BUNNY, Adj. Arty. Division.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th September 1857.

SIR,

I beg to report, for the information of Major Turner, that agreeably to his order, I proceeded to the support of the 1st Troop 1st Brigade, formed up my Battery to the right of their position, and immediately became engaged with the Enemy's Guns and Infantry.

The fire from the Enemy's Battery, was silenced; and supported by the Infantry, I advanced along the road, took a Gun (9-Pounder), and as the Infantry kept advancing with me, I took two of my Guns at a gallop down the road to the Gaol. A few rounds of Grape cleared my advance, and the Enemy, both Cavalry and Infantry, fled from the position they had occupied on my right.

At the Gaol our Cavalry took up the pursuit, and I remained there until ordered to return to Camp by the Commanding Officer of the Force. I cannot speak too highly of the coolness and steadiness of my Officers and Men; and I should be doing an injustice were I not to bring to notice the assistance I obtained from Lieutenant Roberts, of the Artillery, who showed me my ground, and in rapid advance down the road first arrived at the Guns we captured.

A Roll of Casualties and expenditure of Ammunition is annexed.

STATEMENT of Ordnance, Ammunition, &c., captured from the Enemy in Action on the 28th September 1857.

FROM MAJOR GEN. N. C. PENNY, Comdg. Field Force,

TO MAJOR GEN. MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff, Army Head Quarters, Delhi, 20th Oct. 1857.

SIR,

With reference to your Memorandum, dated Government House, Calcutta, 22nd September 1857, transmitted to me by Colonel Wilson, Commanding at Cawnpore, I have the honor to submit the following statement of the recent proceedings of the Force under my Command.

As soon after the fall of Delhi as circumstances would admit, a Moveable Column was detailed for the purpose of pursuing the main body of the Rebels who had gone down the Western Bank of the Jumna; but before the necessary arrangements could be completed, it was ascertained that the Mutineers were crossing the River, with the evident intention of making their escape through the Doab and proceeding to Rohilcund or Oude.

To cut off this portion of the Rebels, and prevent them from executing either of the above projects, was considered by my predecessor, General

Wilson, to be of the first importance. Consequently the route of Colonel Greathed's Column (strength as per margin) was changed and he was ordered to proceed towards Allypore via Boolundshuhur.

It became necessary to go to Boolundshuhur for the purpose of destroying the Fort of Malagurh, the Nawab of which place gave much trouble during the outbreak. In the Station and City of Boolundshuhur the Column encountered the Jhansi, Mutineers and Malagurh Insurgents, and after a sharp action signally defeated them.

The Nawab of Malagurh's Fort—a place of some strength—about four miles distant from the Station of Boolundshuhur—was then blown up by our Engineers.

Colonel Greathed's Report of this affair has, however, been forwarded through General Gowan, Commanding in the Upper Provinces, for the Commander-in-Chief's information.

Having made arrangements for conveying the Wounded to Meerut, the Column proceeded by the Trunk Road to Allygurh, which was found to be occupied by the two Rebel Thakoors of Akerabad. Colonel Greathed at once attacked and drove them from the City and Suburbs, killing about 400 men, chiefly Sowars and Mahomedan fanatics; but I need not trouble you with details, as the Report of the Officer in Command has already been forwarded to Army Head Quarters.

The day after the occupation of Allygurh, the Column followed the Rebel leaders to Ackera-bad, their place of residence, which was burnt and destroyed by the Troops, who had previously slain the two Chiefs and about 100 of their Followers.

At this juncture, the Chief Commissioner, North-Western Provinces, sent the most urgent requisition for aid to Colonel Greathed, who at once detached two Troops of Horse Artillery and a body of Cavalry, by forced marches, to Agra, which was threatened by the Mutineers collected at Dholpore; the remainder of the Column followed by forced marches likewise, and reached the Cantonment of Agra on the morning of the 10th Instant.

Before their Camp was pitched, the Troops were surprised by the Mutineers from Neemuch Nusserabad, Mhow, and other places, who had previously combined for the express purpose of attacking Agra, which they supposed to be weakly defended.

Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's first Report of the engagement having been transmitted through General Gowan, the second is herewith attached.

The Station of Agra being now freed from all chance of attack it was determined that the Moveable Column should at once push on towards Lucknow, where reinforcements were said to be much needed. Acting upon these resolutions, Colonel Greathed reports that he will reach Mympooree on the 20th Current.

Little or no opposition is anticipated, as the Nawab of Futtygurh—the only person from whom resistance may be expected—is reported to have but a small band of retainers under his command.

I trust that by the time this reaches you, Colonel Greathed's Column will have arrived at Cawnpore, and that he will be in direct communication with Army Head Quarters.

I will now detail, in a few words, the operations conducted by Brigadier Showers on the Western side of the Jumna.

A small Column, consisting of the following Troops—

- 4 Horse Artillery Guns,
- 300 Irregular Cavalry,
- 200 H. M.'s 52nd Regiment Light Infantry;
- 200 Guide Infantry.
- 300 4th Sikh Infantry.

Was despatched towards Furreednugger, for the purpose of restoring order among the disaffected Goojur villages, as well as with the view of destroying any detachments of Rebels that might be encountered. After executing this duty Brigadier Showers returned to Delhi.

On the 2d Current another Column, composed of the Troops mentioned in the Margin was despatched into the District under the same Officer.

- No. 14 Lt. Field Battery.
- 2 18-Pounder Guns.
- 2 54-Pounder Mortars.
- 2 Companies Sappers.
- H. M.'s 6th Dn. Guards, Guide Cavalry
- Hodson's Horse.
- 2nd Eur. Ben. Fusiliers.
- Kemaon Battalion.
- 1st Punjab Infantry.

Rewaree and its 13 Guns, without opposition,—Rao Toola Ram having fled with his Followers, it is supposed, towards Bickaneer.

The Nawab of Dadree submitted to our authority, and the Nawab of Jhujjur has likewise given himself up and now awaits his trial.

Brigadier Showers' Report of his latter proceedings is herewith enclosed.

I have, &c.,

FROM LIEUT.-COLONEL E. H. GREATHED, Commanding Moveable Column.
To CAPT. D. M. STEWART, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

Camp Agra, 13th October 1857.

SIR,

In recapitulation of my hasty letter of the 11th Instant, I have the honor to acquaint you, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Delhi Field Force, that after a march of forty-four miles in twenty-eight hours, the Moveable Column under my Command encamped on the Parade Ground at this Station at 8 A. M., on the 10th Instant. At 10½ o'clock 4 Guns were heard by us on our right flank, and the Assembly was sounded. I galloped to the front, and found the Artillery already in action and the 5th Lancers in their saddles formed up in Squadrons. The Enemy had attacked our front and right flank with his Artillery which raked our Camp. On seeing this, I moved with H. M.'s 8th (the King's) Regiment and the 4th Punjaub Infantry (taking with me on the way the three Squadrons of 1st, 2nd and 5th Punjaub Cavalry) to the right, with the view of outflanking and capturing the Guns on that flank. I must not omit to mention that, when I reached the front, three minutes after this surprise, I found the whole of the Troops without exception drawn up on their respective alarm posts, as if for parade.

I extended the Infantry along the road leading from the Parade Ground to the Infantry Barracks in skirmishing order with supports, with directions to advance to their front and clear the compounds of the Enemy's Infantry. Taking with me the Punjaub Cavalry, I then proceeded to the European Barracks, and pointed out to Lieutenant Watson the open ground upon which I conceived that he might work with effect. How admirably he did so, will be seen in his own Report.

By this time the Agra 9-Pounder Battery came up, and I advanced it in support of the right flank of the Infantry, on the road leading from the Artillery Parade Ground, and the enclosures were speedily cleared. In doing this the 4th Punjaub Infantry distinguished itself, as it did throughout the day.

The advance of the Infantry and Battery enabled Lieutenant Watson to make his charge and capture the Guns and Standards, and after that, the Enemy did not make any stand, although they continued to fire Round Shot as they retreated. I continued the pursuit to a village three miles on the Gwalior road, and halted to enable the left to come up. Here we were joined by the 3rd European Regiment, who took their place in the line, detaching two Companies to support the Punjaub Infantry engaged in driving out the Enemy, who still hung on our flanks in the jungle and topes on our right. Colonel Cotton, Commanding the Agra Garrison, then assumed Command, and the pursuit was continued to the Khara Nuddee; with Artillery and Cavalry, the Infantry finally halting at a village five miles on the Gwalior road, where the Enemy's Camp had been pitched. The route was now complete, and the whole face of the Country covered with fugitives. The Enemy fled across the Khara Nuddee under the effective fire of Grape and Round Shot from our Artillery. The accompanying Return from Major Turner will show that 12 Guns were captured, and the Enemy lost the whole of his Tents, Baggage and Ammunition. I have reason to believe that scarcely a cart was taken across the River, and most certainly not one Gun.

The conduct of the Troops engaged during the whole affair was beyond any praise of mine; but it is my duty to bring to the special notice of the Major-General Commanding their admirable steadiness at the outset of the action when taken completely by surprise, and, when a great part of the Troops had scarcely arrived on the ground. The quickness with which the Artillery came into action under a destructive fire, and its subsequent services, was worthy of their reputation. The Cavalry showed throughout the day that they were led by Officers who combined steadiness and an eye for ground with the greatest gallantry. The Infantry drove the Enemy flying from the enclosures, and pursued them for several miles with the most persevering resolution, and the conduct of the Punjaub Infantry Regiments, which had had no assistance from carriage during the march, deserves the most favorable notice. The Sappers and Miners were also most steady and forward in the pursuit. I refer you for details of the operations on the left to Major Ouvry, as I was not able to leave the right till the Enemy was in full flight. The Cavalry and Artillery marched over at sixty-four miles, and the Infantry fifty-four miles of road, in less than thirty-six hours, besides moving through fields during action. Captain Bouchier's 9-Pounder Battery had marched in during the night from Hattrass, thirty miles, without a halt. I beg to bring prominently to the favorable notice of the Major-General Commanding the gallantry and unwearied exertions of the whole of the Troops engaged. The Artillery, under Major Turner, were led in a manner which caused general admiration. Major Ouvry, as usual, did the most efficient service with his Cavalry. The 9th Lancers distinguished themselves under Captain Anson during the whole day, and most particularly in a gallant charge on a large body of the Enemy's Sowars, in which they rescued a Gun which had been temporarily disabled.

The conduct of Lieutenant Watson, seconded by Lieutenant Gough, Lieutenant Probyn, and Lieutenant Younghusband, is entitled to the warmest praise. These Officers appear to have all the qualities which distinguish the Cavalry Officer. I am happy to say that Lieutenant Younghusband's injuries, though severe, will not detain him long from his duty. Captain Hinde particularly distinguished himself in Command of the 8th—the King's Regiment—in the capture of an 18-Pounder at a village, and the dispersion of the Mutineers who attempted to resist him. I have also to bring to the notice of the Major-General the services of Captain Gordon, Commanding H. M.'s 75th Regiment; Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; and Lieut. Paul, Commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry.

My best thanks are due to the untiring exertions and able assistance of Captain Norman, sistant Adjutant General; Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Captain Bannatyne, my Brigade Major—who rendered me most active aid throughout the day; Lieutenant Ximenes, my Orderly Officer, also did good service.

I have, &c.,

To the admirable arrangements of Captain Dickens, Deputy Assistant Commissary General, it was owing that we were able to make the forced march from Hattrass, and arrive in time to intercept the advance of the Mutineers on Agra.

Camp Agra, 11th October 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for the information of Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, that on the 18th of October 1857, immediately after arriving at Agra, and pitching our tents on the encamping ground beyond the Cantonments, the Enemy, whose presence was utterly unknown, made a sudden attack on our Camp with their heavy Artillery.

The 9th Lancers immediately formed upon the left of the Artillery facing the Gwalior road.

On arriving in the field, I perceived a large force of the Enemy's Cavalry advancing on our left; they had reached and sabred the Gunners of one Gun. I immediately ordered the Lancers to charge, which duty they did most effectually, filling and dispersing them entirely.

Two Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, with Hodson's Horse, which then arrived, took up a position, supporting two Guns, which kept a large Cavalry Force of Enemy at bay, and protecting the Camp.

The three Regiments of Irregular Cavalry formed upon the right of our Camp under Captain Watson, whose Report I have herewith the honor to enclose.

After an advancing cannon fire of some duration, which I supported with the Cavalry, the Enemy gave way, and were pursued ten miles to the banks of the Kharee Nuddee by the Artillery and Cavalry. Great numbers were destroyed, and all their Guns, Ammunition, and Baggage fell into our hands.

SIR,

IN accordance with your instructions, I do myself the honor of making the following Report of the circumstances which occurred in the right of our line in yesterday's action with the Mutineer's Force, and of the part taken in it by the three Squadrons of the Punjaub Cavalry which paraded under my Command.

Shortly after the Enemy's fire opened upon our Camp, the three Squadrons, mustering about 210 sabres, moved off towards the European Barracks; Colonel Greathed, who was present, informing me that beyond the Barracks I should find open ground, from which I could operate with effect upon the Enemy's left flank. Passing the Barracks I came under fire of the Enemy's Guns and Musketry. I therefore proceeded at a trot to some walls close to their left flank, and there drew up the three Squadrons in open Column. After waiting in this position for about five minutes, I perceived a favorable opportunity for charging, and advancing clear of the walls, wheeled into line, and swept down at a gallop on their flank.

The effect of this was the instantaneous flight of the Mutineers; but they were too late to escape us, and a large number of their Infantry and Artillery-men fell under our sabre, and we captured three heavy Guns and five Standards.

Shortly after this, the whole of our line advanced, and the three Squadrons falling in on the left of the road, joined in the pursuit, and turning off at the river to a ford about half a mile to the left of the road, captured two 9-Pounder Guns and numerous Ammunition Carts, &c., &c. We turned the Guns upon such of the Enemy as were within range on the opposite bank, and served them for some time with considerable effect. We formed the Rear Guard on the return to Camp, which we reached about 9 P. M.

EUROPEAN OFFICERS ENGAGED.

1st Punjaub Cavalry.
Lieut. Watson, Commanding.
Lieut. Mackenzie, attached.
Lieut. Maclean, ditto.
2nd Punjaub Cavalry.
Lieut. Probyn, Commanding.
Lieut. Macdonell, attached.
5th Punjaub Cavalry.
Lieut. Younghusband, Commanding.
Lieut. Plowden, attached.

The three Squadrons lost in this action 2 men killed and 15 wounded, and of the European Officers engaged, Lieutenant Maclean was severely, and Lieutenants Probyn, Macdonell, and Plowden slightly wounded.

Lieutenant Younghusband, Commanding the Squadron of 5th Punjaub Cavalry, was, I regret to say, very severely injured by falling down one of the numerous dry wells that were scattered about the Baziree fields, through which we charged upon the Enemy.

I need not assure you that the whole of the European and Native Officers and Troops engaged, behaved throughout with the greatest gallantry, and I trust that you will be good enough to bring their services on this occasion to the favorable notice of the Government.

Camp Dadree, 16th October 1857.

Sir,

I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Meerut Division, that I reached Dadree yesterday, where I found the following Guns, of which I have taken possession:—

- 2 Brass Guns.
- 2 Iron Ditto.
- 2 Ditto Ditto.

The Brass Guns I purpose to take with me; but the Iron Guns I have directed to be destroyed.

Sir Theophilus Metcalfe will have reported the arrangements that have been made with respect to the Nawab of Dadree; but it will be satisfactory to me to hear that the Nawab received the Moveable Column under my command with the utmost respect, coming himself on the istakbul, and expressing his readiness to submit to any enquiry that the Government intended to institute into his conduct during the period of the late insurrection, and to afford his assistance in arresting any Mutineers and Insurgents who might take refuge within his jurisdiction.

I have further to report, that the Force of the Hurrianah and Cashmere Auxiliary Forces arrived this morning. I shall hereafter have the honor to forward the present state of that Force. I purpose to move to-morrow morning to Chookookeous, a sporting residence of the Nawab of Jhujjur, about ten miles from that Town, where, I have reason to believe, he will come out and meet me. The day following I propose to proceed to Jhujjur.

Camp Jhujjur, 18th October 1857.

Sir,

IN continuation of my letter of the 16th Instant, I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Delhi Field Force, that from Dadree I proceeded with my Column yesterday morning to Chookookeous. On the road a deputation from the Nawab of Jhujjur came out to meet me, to intimate that the Nawab was at a short distance from Chookookeous, and that he awaited instructions to come into my Camp. I communicated to him, on his arrival, the instructions of Government, and after the delivery of the Perwannah from the Commissioner, he was arrested, and has since been under the charge of Captain R. Lawrence.

The Nawab was frank in his communications regarding the state of his Troops, and of the objections that he suspected his father-in-law, Ubdool Sumund Khan, would make to giving himself up. Having, therefore, reason to apprehend that some opposition would be made to my taking possession of the Fort and the Arms and Ammunition and Horses of the Troops, I moved forward my Force, prepared to attack them if there should be any opposition. During the night, however, all the Troops—both Sowars and Footmen—fled, and on my reaching the Cantonments, I found the whole deserted; the only Horses remaining in the Cavalry Stables were those which belonged to the Nawab. A very few men remained, and those that did, gave up their arms without opposition.

I afterwards entered and took possession of the Fort, with about 21 Guns and a large quantity of Powder and Ammunition, a report of which I shall hereafter have the honor to forward.

I had intended to make a forced march from Dadree to Jhujjur, in the hope of surprising the Nawab and his relations. Difficulties, however, arising, I was obliged to give up the plan; but to prevent the Nawab from effecting his escape, I detached the Guide Cavalry and the Punjaub Mounted Police to Nahur on the 17th, with orders that they should be on the look-out for fugitives, from Jhujjur. Captain Sandford, who Commanded, reports having seen a number of armed men proceeding in the direction of Nahur, of whom he had cut up all whom he could overtake.

I have heard from other sources, that the fugitive Soldiers were making towards Kanoud. I have, therefore, detached to-day a Force, consisting of the 6th Dragoon Guards under the Command of Colonel Custance and Hodson's Horse, to Nahur, for the purpose of overtaking them and of obtaining possession of the Fort of Kanoud and of the Treasure said to be deposited there, before the place can be reinforced. This Force will reach Kanoud to-morrow morning. I purpose myself to follow them with the remainder of my Column this evening, and hope to reach it on the 20th Instant.

After settling the place, I shall, if nothing occurs to render other measures necessary, return to Jhujjur in three marches, as I understand the Bahadoorgurh and Furrookhnuggur Nawabs are to be visited by my Column.

Agra Fort, the 19th October 1857.

Foreign Department.

SIR,

I am directed by the Chief Commissioner to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, the accompanying Reports and Returns received from Lieutenant-Colonel Cotton, Commanding at Agra, and Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column detached from the Force before Delhi, describing the action of the 10th Instant, in which a large force of the Mutineers was completely routed with loss of all their Guns and Camp and the Plunder which they had previously accumulated.

2. These Reports are so full and clear, that little is left to be added on the part of the Chief Commissioner beyond a brief recapitulation of the events which preceded the attack upon the Cantonments, and an acknowledgment of the services of those Officers and Troops to whom, under Providence, this success is to be attributed.

3. The daily communications which have been made from the Intelligence Department will have informed His Lordship of the movements of the Mhow Mutineers, who remained apparently undecided as to their subsequent course at Dholepore, until they were reinforced by the Neemuch Brigade, when an attack upon Agra seems to have been finally determined upon.

4. For several days there was a report, that an onward move would be made on the following day; but no actual change of position took place until the 6th, when the Force broke ground, and intimation of this was received and communicated to the Military Authorities the same day.

5. Colonel Greathed, with his Column, had by this date arrived at Akrabad, one march from Allygurh, on the Trunk Road, in the direction of Cawnpore, and an express was immediately despatched, requesting him to advance towards Agra, unless he had good grounds for believing that he could come up with the fugitive Brigade of Mutineers which was pressing towards the Eastward.

6. The information of subsequent days proved the necessity for obtaining reinforcements for the protection of Agra, and Colonel Greathed was therefore directed on the 7th, and by a subsequent more urgent letter on the 8th, to hasten towards this place; and in case of any delay in advancing the Main Column, to push forward at all events 500 Cavalry and a Troop of Horse Artillery.

7. On the morning of the 9th, a vidette of Militia Cavalry, which had been sent out to reconnoitre, was driven in by the Enemy's Horse and pursued to within two or three miles of Cantonments. This occurrence proving the close proximity of the Enemy, was communicated to Colonel Greathed at once, and it was deemed of sufficient importance to render it advisable to forward the letter by an Officer. This service was performed by Captain Patton, of the 3rd European Regiment, Fort Adjutant of Agra; and the Chief Commissioner desires to acknowledge his obligation to this willing and energetic Officer for the promptitude with which the Despatch was conveyed to Colonel Greathed's Camp.

8. The subsequent events and their results are detailed in the Reports. The Chief Commissioner would only observe that to Colonel Cotton's high personal qualifications, both as a Soldier and Commander, we owe the completeness of this success. Led by him, the tired Troops were inspired to continue the pursuit of the flying Enemy, until the capture of all his Guns, Camp, and plunder deprived him of the means of further aggression, and rendered the dissolution of his Army inevitable.

9. Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column, brought his men into action with a rapidity and precision that entitle him to the highest praise, and when it is remembered that the Column had only just come off a long and harassing forced march, the steadiness of the Men and coolness of the Officers entitle all to the warmest commendation.

10. It gives the Chief Commissioner much pleasure to bring specially to the notice of His Lordship the services on this occasion of—

- Major Ouvry, Commanding the Cavalry.
- Major Turner, Commanding the Artillery.
- Captains Remington and Blunt, of the Artillery.
- Captain Bourchier, Commanding Light Field Battery.
- Lieutenant Pearson, Commanding No. 21 Light Field Battery.
- Captain Anson, Commanding H. M.'s 9th Lancers.
- Captain Watson, Commanding 1st Punjaub Cavalry.
- Lieutenant Probyn, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Cavalry.
- Captain Younghusband, Commanding 5th Punjaub Cavalry.
- Captain Hinde, Commanding H. M.'s 8th Regiment.
- Captain Gordon, H. M.'s 75th Regiment.
- Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry.
- Captain Paul, Commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry.
- Lieutenant Gough, Commanding Hodson's Horse.
- Lieutenant Lang, of the Engineers.
- Colonel Riddell, of the 3rd European Regiment.
- Lieutenant Vere, Commanding Agra Militia Cavalry.
- Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army.
- Captain Wilson, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

Captain Dickens, Deputy Assistant Commissary General.
 Captain Anson, Lieutenant Ximenes, Orderly Officers to Col. Greathed.
 Captain Bannatyne, Brigade Major, Moveable Column.
 Major Macleod, Engineers.
 Major Montgomery, Brigade Major.
 Captain Watton, 3rd European Regiment, Fort Adjutant.
 Captain Rawlins, on the Personal Staff of Colonel Cotton, Commanding.
 Major Eld.

Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, Moveable Column.

11. The trifling loss of our Troops in killed would have been a subject of more sincere congratulation, had not the list included the name of Captain French, of the 9th Lancers. This valuable Officer fell mortally wounded in a most spirited and decisive charge, in which his Regiment, led by Captain Anson, broke and dispersed the Enemy's Cavalry.

12. Lieutenant Jones was at the same time severely wounded; but it is trusted that he is now in a fair way to recovery.

13. Subsequent information shows the Enemy's Force, scattered and dispirited, are endeavouring, in small disorganized Parties, to reach the vicinity of their homes, which are chiefly in the Oude Provinces.

FROM LIEUT.-COL. H. COTTON, Commanding at Agra,

To C. B. THORNHILL, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort Agra, the 13th Oct. 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Chief Commissioner, and transmission to Government, the following account of the action which took place at the Station on the 10th Instant with the mutinous Troops from Mhow, 23rd N.I. and 1st Light Cavalry, increased by part of the fugitive Forces from Delhi and mal-contents from Dholepore and the neighbourhood, and which resulted in the most complete route of the Enemy, with the loss of all their Guns, Camp Equipage, Baggage, and Plunder.

The Chief Commissioner is aware of the very imperfect information we have from time to time received of the movements of this body, and that it was not until about 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, when I was arranging with him for moving out the Troops to the Kharee River, that intelligence was brought in, that a sudden attack had been made on the Camp of the Moveable Column under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, which had arrived that morning.

I lost no time in repairing to the Camp, when I took Command, and found that the Enemy, who now completely hidden by the high standing corps, had opened a heavy fire from a strong Battery in the centre, supported by several Guns on each flank, and were sweeping our position with a powerful cross-fire.

Our Troops had been drawn up by Colonel Greathed in a most judicious manner. A flank attack made by a large body of Cavalry, under cover of the Khelat-i-Ghilzie lines, had been effectually repulsed with great loss to them by a brilliant charge of the Picquet of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, led by Captain French and Lieutenant Jones.

Their attack was then soon overpowered and turned into a complete route, notwithstanding several ineffectual attempts to make a stand, our Guns following them up steadily, and the Cavalry cutting up all within their reach on both sides of the road. The pursuit was continued during the rest of the day for a distance of eleven miles, until the Enemy had been driven across the Kharee, and thoroughly dispersed with the loss of all their Guns, 12 in number, Camp Equipage, Baggage, and Plunder.

Considering that the attack was made before the Camp was pitched, and after the Troops (with the exception of the 3rd European Regiment and Lieutenant Pearson's Battery) had performed a long and harassing forced march, and been under arms for fully twenty-six hours, too much praise cannot be bestowed on the Troops engaged in this brilliant affair; but especially is praise due to the Detachment of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, whose charge I have noticed above, and who, in addition to several of their men disabled, and to Lieutenant Jones, who was very severely wounded, had the misfortune to lose their commanding Officer, Captain French, whose untimely death is a great loss to the Service.

In connection with this action, it is my desire to bring prominently to the notice of the Government and the Chief Commissioner, Major Ouvry, Commanding the Cavalry; Major Turner, Commanding the Artillery; and Captains Remington and Blunt, of that branch; also Captain Burchier, Commanding Light Field Battery, and Lieutenant Pearson, Commanding No. 21 Light Field Battery; Captain Anson, Commanding H. M.'s 9th Lancers; Captain Watson, 1st Punjab Cavalry; Lieutenant Probyn, 2nd Punjab Cavalry; Captain Younghusband, 5th Punjab Cavalry; Captain Green, 2nd Punjab Infantry; Captain Paul, 4th Infantry; Lieutenant Gough, Commanding Hodson's Horse; and Lieutenant Lang, of the Engineers; Colonel Riddell, of the 3rd European Regiment, Lieutenant Vere; and all under their Command. To Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army; Captain Wilson, Deputy Judge Advocate General; Captain Anson, Orderly Officer to Colonel Greathed; Captain Bannatyne, Brigade

Major of the Moveable Column; Majors McLeod and Montgomery, Brigade Major; Captains Patton and Rawlins, my Personal Staff; Major Ehl, and Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, Moveable Column—I feel indebted for their services in the Field. To Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column, who apparently was not aware of my being on the Field, until I had ordered the advance, my thanks are due for the assistance rendered in the pursuit.

I beg to append a Return of Killed and Wounded, and a list of the Ordnance taken, amongst which will be observed several pieces of large Calibre.

I have, &c.,

No. 1628 of 1857.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to publish the subjoined Despatch from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, dated the 12th of November 1857, and the Report by Captain Peel, C. B., of the Royal Navy, received therewith, of the Action with the Insurgents at Khujwa, on the 1st of November.

Concurring in the justice of the observations which His Excellency has felt himself constrained to make on the circumstances under which this conflict took place, the Governor General in

It became necessary to go to Boolundshuhur for the purpose of destroying the Fort of Malagurh, the Nawab of which place gave much trouble during the outbreak. In the Station and City of Boolundshuhur the Column encountered the Jinnai, Mutineers and Malagurh Insurgents, and after a sharp action signally defeated them.

The Nawab of Malagurh's Fort—a place of some strength—about four miles distant from the Station of Boolundshuhur—was then blown up by our Engineers.

Colonel Greathed's Report of this affair has, however, been forwarded through General Gowan, Commanding in the Upper Provinces, for the Commander-in-Chief's information.

Having made arrangements for conveying the Wounded to Meerut, the Column proceeded by the Trunk Road to Allygurh, which was found to be occupied by the two Rebel Thakoors of Akerabad. Colonel Greathed at once attacked and drove them from the City and Suburbs, killing about 400 men, chiefly Sowars and Mahomedan fanatics; but I need not trouble you with details, as the Report of the Officer in Command has already been forwarded to Army Head Quarters.

The day after the occupation of Allygurh, the Column followed the Rebel leaders to Akerabad, their place of residence, which was burnt and destroyed by the Troops, who had previously slain the two Chiefs and about 100 of their Followers.

At this juncture, the Chief Commissioner, North-Western Provinces, sent the most urgent requisition for aid to Colonel Greathed, who at once detached two Troops of Horse Artillery and a body of Cavalry, by forced marches, to Agra, which was threatened by the Mutineers collected at Dholpore; the remainder of the Column followed by forced marches likewise, and reached the Cantonment of Agra on the morning of the 10th Instant.

Before their Camp was pitched, the Troops were surprised by the Mutineers from Neemuch, Nusserabad, Mhow, and other places, who had previously combined for the express purpose of attacking Agra, which they supposed to be weakly defended.

Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's first Report of the engagement having been transmitted through General Gowan, the second is herewith attached.

The Station of Agra being now freed from all chance of attack it was determined that the Moveable Column should at once push on towards Lucknow, where reinforcements were said to be much needed. Acting upon these resolutions, Colonel Greathed reports that he will reach Mympooree on the 20th Current.

Little or no opposition is anticipated, as the Nawab of Futtygurh—the only person from whom resistance may be expected—is reported to have but a small band of retainers under his command.

I trust that by the time this reaches you, Colonel Greathed's Column will have arrived at Cawnpore, and that he will be in direct communication with Army Head Quarters.

I will now detail, in a few words, the operations conducted by Brigadier Showers on the Western side of the Jumna.

A small Column, consisting of the following Troops—

- 4 Horse Artillery Guns,
- 300 Irregular Cavalry,
- 200 H. M.'s 52nd Regiment Light Infantry;
- 200 Guide Infantry.
- 300 4th Sikh Infantry.

Was despatched towards Furreednugger, for the purpose of restoring order among the disaffected Goojur villages, as well as with the view of destroying any detachments of Rebels that might be encountered. After executing this duty Brigadier Showers returned to Delhi.

On the 2d Current another Column, composed of the Troops mentioned in the Margin was despatched into the District under the same Officer.

- No. 14 Lt. Field Battery.
- 2 18-Pounder Guns.
- 2 5½-Pounder Mortars.
- 2 Companies Sappers.
- H. M.'s 6th Dn. Guards, Guide Cavalry
- Hodson's Horse.
- 2nd Eur. Ben. Fusiliers.
- Kemaon Battalion.
- 1st Punjaub Infantry.

Rewaree and its 13 Guns, without opposition,—Rao Toola Ram having fled with his Followers, it is supposed, towards Bickancer.

The Nawab of Dadree submitted to our authority, and the Nawab of Jhujjur has likewise given himself up and now awaits his trial.

Brigadier Showers' Report of his latter proceedings is herewith enclosed.

D. M. STEWART, Captain, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

FROM LIEUT.-COLONEL E. H. GREATHED, Commanding Moveable Column.
TO CAPT. D. M. STEWART, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

Camp Agra, 13th October 1857.

SIR,

In recapitulation of my hasty letter of the 11th Instant, I have the honor to acquaint you, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Delhi Field Force, that after a march of forty-four miles in twenty-eight hours, the Moveable Column under my Command encamped on the Parade Ground at this Station at 8 A. M., on the 10th Instant. At 10½ o'clock 4 Guns were heard by us on our right flank, and the Assembly was sounded. I galloped to the front, and found the Artillery already in action and the 5th Lancers in their saddles formed up in Squadrons. The Enemy had attacked our front and right flank with his Artillery which raked our Camp. On seeing this, I moved with H. M.'s 8th (the King's) Regiment and the 4th Punjaub Infantry (taking with me on the way the three Squadrons of 1st, 2nd and 5th Punjaub Cavalry) to the right, with the view of outflanking and capturing the Guns on that flank. I must not omit to mention that, when I reached the front, three minutes after this surprise, I found the whole of the Troops without exception drawn up on their respective alarm posts, as if for parade.

I extended the Infantry along the road leading from the Parade Ground to the Infantry Barracks in skirmishing order with supports, with directions to advance to their front and clear the compounds of the Enemy's Infantry. Taking with me the Punjaub Cavalry, I then proceeded to the European Barracks, and pointed out to Lieutenant Watson the open ground upon which I conceived that he might work with effect. How admirably he did so, will be seen in his own Report.

By this time the Agra 9-Pounder Battery came up, and I advanced it in support of the right flank of the Infantry, on the road leading from the Artillery Parade Ground, and the enclosures were speedily cleared. In doing this the 4th Punjaub Infantry distinguished itself, as it did throughout the day.

The advance of the Infantry and Battery enabled Lieutenant Watson to make his charge and capture the Guns and Standards, and after that, the Enemy did not make any stand, although they continued to fire Round Shot as they retreated. I continued the pursuit to a village three miles on the Gwalior road, and halted to enable the left to come up. Here we were joined by the 3rd European Regiment, who took their place in the line, detaching two Companies to support the Punjaub Infantry engaged in driving out the Enemy, who still hung on our flanks in the jungle and topes on our right. Colonel Cotton, Commanding the Agra Garrison, then assumed Command, and the pursuit was continued to the Khara Nuddee; with Artillery and Cavalry, the Infantry finally halting at a village five miles on the Gwalior road, where the Enemy's Camp had been pitched. The route was now complete, and the whole face of the Country covered with fugitives. The Enemy fled across the Khara Nuddee under the effective fire of Grape and Round Shot from our Artillery. The accompanying Return from Major Turner will show that 12 Guns were captured, and the Enemy lost the whole of his Tents, Baggage and Ammunition. I have reason to believe that scarcely a cart was taken across the River, and most certainly not one Gun.

The conduct of the Troops engaged during the whole affair was beyond any praise of mine; but it is my duty to bring to the special notice of the Major-General Commanding their admirable steadiness at the outset of the action when taken completely by surprise, and when a great part of the Troops had scarcely arrived on the ground. The quickness with which the Artillery came into action under a destructive fire, and its subsequent services, was worthy of their reputation. The Cavalry showed throughout the day that they were led by Officers who combined steadiness and an eye for ground with the greatest gallantry. The Infantry drove the Enemy flying from the enclosures, and pursued them for several miles with the most persevering resolution, and the conduct of the Punjaub Infantry Regiments, which had had no assistance from carriage during the march, deserves the most favorable notice. The Sappers and Miners were also most steady and forward in the pursuit. I refer you for details of the operations on the left to Major Ouvry, as I was not able to leave the right till the Enemy was in full flight. The Cavalry and Artillery marched over at sixty-four miles, and the Infantry fifty-four miles of road, in less than thirty-six hours, besides moving through fields during action. Captain Bouchier's 9-Pounder Battery had marched in during the night from Hattrass, thirty miles, without a halt. I beg to bring prominently to the favorable notice of the Major General Commanding the gallantry and unwearied exertions of the whole of the Troops engaged. The Artillery, under Major Turner, were led in a manner which caused general admiration. Major Ouvry, as usual, did the most efficient service with his Cavalry. The 9th Lancers distinguished themselves under Captain Anson during the whole day, and most particularly in a gallant charge on a large body of the Enemy's Sowars, in which they rescued a Gun which had been temporarily disabled.

The conduct of Lieutenant Watson, seconded by Lieutenant Gough, Lieutenant Probyn, and Lieutenant Younghusband, is entitled to the warmest praise. These Officers appear to have all the qualities which distinguish the Cavalry Officer. I am happy to say that Lieutenant Younghusband's injuries, though severe, will not detain him long from his duty. Captain Hinde particularly distinguished himself in Command of the 8th—the King's Regiment—in the capture of an 18-Pounder at a village, and the dispersion of the Mutineers who attempted to resist him. I have also to bring to the notice of the Major-General the services of Captain Gordon, Commanding H. M.'s 75th Regiment; Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; and Lieut. Paul, Commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry.

My best thanks are due to the untiring exertions and able assistance of Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General; Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; a Captain Bannatyne, my Brigade Major—who rendered me most active aid throughout the day; Lieutenant Ximenes, my Orderly Officer, also did good service.

I have, &c.,

To the admirable arrangements of Captain Dickens, Deputy Assistant Commissary General, it was owing that we were able to make the forced march from Hattrass, and arrive in time to intercept the advance of the Mutineers on Agra.

Camp Agra, 11th October 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for the information of Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, that on the 18th of October 1857, immediately after arriving at Agra, and pitching our tents on the encamping ground beyond the Cantonments, the Enemy, whose presence was utterly unknown, made a sudden attack on our Camp with their heavy Artillery.

The 9th Lancers immediately formed upon the left of the Artillery facing the Gwalior road. On arriving in the field, I perceived a large force of the Enemy's Cavalry advancing on our left; they had reached and sabred the Gunners of one Gun. I immediately ordered the Lancers to charge, which duty they did most effectually, filling and dispersing them entirely.

Two Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, with Hodson's Horse, which then arrived, took up a position, supporting two Guns, which kept a large Cavalry Force of Enemy at bay, and protecting the Camp.

The three Regiments of Irregular Cavalry formed upon the right of our Camp under Captain Watson, whose Report I have herewith to enclose.

After an advancing cannon fire of some duration, which I supported with the Cavalry, the Enemy gave way, and were pursued ten miles to the banks of the Kharee Nuddee by the Artillery and Cavalry. Great numbers were destroyed, and all their Guns, Ammunition, and Baggage fell into our hands.

I have &c.,

FROM LIEUT. J. WATSON, Second in Command, 1st Punjaub Cavy.
TO MAJOR OUVRY, Commanding Cavalry Brigade,

Camp Agra, 11th Sept. 1857.

SIR,

IN accordance with your instructions, I do myself the honor of making the following Report of the circumstances which occurred in the right of our line in yesterday's action with the Mutineer's Force, and of the part taken in it by the three Squadrons of the Punjaub Cavalry which paraded under my Command.

Shortly after the Enemy's fire opened upon our Camp, the three Squadrons, mustering about 210 sabres, moved off towards the European Barracks; Colonel Greathed, who was present, informing me that beyond the Barracks I should find open ground, from which I could operate with effect upon the Enemy's left flank. Passing the Barracks I came under fire of the Enemy's Guns and Musketry. I therefore proceeded at a trot to some walls close to their left flank, and there drew up the three Squadrons in open Column. After waiting in this position for about five minutes, I perceived a favorable opportunity for charging, and advancing clear of the walls, wheeled into line, and swept down at a gallop on their flank.

The effect of this was the instantaneous flight of the Mutineers; but they were too late to escape us, and a large number of their Infantry and Artillery-men fell under our sabre, and we captured three heavy Guns and five Standards.

Shortly after this, the whole of our line advanced, and the three Squadrons falling in on the left of the road, joined in the pursuit, and turning off at the river to a ford about half a mile to the left of the road, captured two 9-Pounder Guns and numerous Ammunition Carts, &c., &c. We turned the Guns upon such of the Enemy as were within range on the opposite bank, and served them for some time with considerable effect. We formed the Rear Guard on the return to Camp, which we reached about 9 P. M.

EUROPEAN OFFICERS ENGAGED.
1st Punjaub Cavalry.
Lieut. Watson, Commanding.
Lieut. Mackenzie, attached.
Lieut. Maclean, ditto.
2nd Punjaub Cavalry.
Lieut. Probyn, Commanding.
Lieut. Macdonell, attached.
5th Punjaub Cavalry.
Lieut. Younghusband, Commanding.
Lieut. Plowden, attached.

The three Squadrons lost in this action 2 men killed and 15 wounded, and of the European Officers engaged, Lieutenant Maclean was severely, and Lieutenants Probyn, Macdonell, and Plowden slightly wounded.

Lieutenant Younghusband, Commanding the Squadron of 5th Punjaub Cavalry, was, I regret to say, very severely injured by falling down one of the numerous dry wells that were scattered about the Baziree fields, through which we charged upon the Enemy.

I need not assure you that the whole of the European and Native Officers and Troops engaged, behaved throughout with the greatest gallantry, and I trust that you will be good enough to bring their services on this occasion to the favorable notice of the Government.

Camp Dadree, 16th October 1857.

Sir,

I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Meerut Division, that I reached Dadree yesterday, where I found the following Guns, of which I have taken possession:—

- 2 Brass Guns.
- 2 Iron Ditto.
- 2 Ditto Ditto.

The Brass Guns I purpose to take with me; but the Iron Guns I have directed to be destroyed.

Sir Theophilus Metcalfe will have reported the arrangements that have been made with respect to the Nawab of Dadree; but it will be satisfactory to me to hear that the Nawab received the Moveable Column under my command with the utmost respect, coming himself on the istakbul, and expressing his readiness to submit to any enquiry that the Government intended to institute into his conduct during the period of the late insurrection, and to afford his assistance in arresting any Mutineers and Insurgents who might take refuge within his jurisdiction.

I have further to report, that the Force of the Hurriah and Cashmere Auxiliary Forces arrived this morning. I shall hereafter have the honor to forward the present state of that Force. I purpose to move to-morrow morning to Chookookeous, a sporting residence of the Nawab of Jhujjur, about ten miles from that Town, where, I have reason to believe, he will come out and meet me. The day following I propose to proceed to Jhujjur.

No. 10.

FROM BRIGADIER S. D. SHOWERS, Commanding Moveable Column.
TO CAPTAIN D. M. STEWART, Depg. Asst. Adj. Genl.
Camp Jhujjur, 18th October 1857.

Sir,

IN continuation of my letter of the 16th Instant, I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Delhi Field Force, that from Dadree I proceeded with my Column yesterday morning to Chookookeous. On the road a deputation from the Nawab of Jhujjur came out to meet me, to intimate that the Nawab was at a short distance from Chookookeous, and that he awaited instructions to come into my Camp. I communicated to him, on his arrival, the instructions of Government, and after the delivery of the Perwannah from the Commissioner, he was arrested, and has since been under the charge of Captain R. Lawrence.

The Nawab was frank in his communications regarding the state of his Troops, and of the objections that he suspected his father-in-law, Ubdool Sumund Khan, would make to giving himself up. Having, therefore, reason to apprehend that some opposition would be made to my taking possession of the Fort and the Arms and Ammunition and Horses of the Troops, I moved forward my Force, prepared to attack them if there should be any opposition. During the night, however, all the Troops—both Sowars and Footmen—fled, and on my reaching the Cantonments, I found the whole deserted; the only Horses remaining in the Cavalry Stables were those which belonged to the Nawab. A very few men remained, and those that did, gave up their arms without opposition.

I afterwards entered and took possession of the Fort, with about 21 Guns and a large quantity of Powder and Ammunition, a report of which I shall hereafter have the honor to forward.

I had intended to make a forced march from Dadree to Jhujjur, in the hope of surprising the Nawab and his relations. Difficulties, however, arising, I was obliged to give up the plan; but to prevent the Nawab from effecting his escape, I detached the Guide Cavalry and the Punjab Mounted Police to Nahur on the 17th, with orders that they should be on the look-out for fugitives, from Jhujjur. Captain Sandford, who Commanded, reports having seen a number of armed men proceeding in the direction of Nahur, of whom he had cut up all whom he could overtake.

I have heard from other sources, that the fugitive Soldiers were making towards Kanoud. I have, therefore, detached to-day a Force, consisting of the 6th Dragoon Guards under the Command of Colonel Custance and Hodson's Horse, to Nahur, for the purpose of overtaking them and of obtaining possession of the Fort of Kanoud and of the Treasure said to be deposited there, before the place can be reinforced. This Force will reach Kanoud to-morrow morning. I purpose myself to follow them with the remainder of my Column this evening, and hope to reach it on the 20th Instant.

After settling the place, I shall, if nothing occurs to render other measures necessary, return to Jhujjur in three marches, as I understand the Bahadoorgurh and Furrookhnuggur Nawabs are to be visited by my Column.

I have, &c.,

No. 235 of 1857.

FROM C. B. THORNHILL, Esq., Offg. Secy. to Govt. N. P. W.,
TO COL. R. J. H. BIRCH, C. B., Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept. Fort William.
Agra Fort, the 19th October 1857.

Foreign Department.

SIR,

I am directed by the Chief Commissioner to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, the accompanying Reports and Returns received from Lieutenant-Colonel Cotton, Commanding at Agra, and Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column detached from the Force before Delhi, describing the action of the 10th Instant, in which a large force of the Mutineers was completely routed with loss of all their Guns and Camp and the Plunder which they had previously accumulated.

2. These Reports are so full and clear, that little is left to be added on the part of the Chief Commissioner beyond a brief recapitulation of the events which preceded the attack upon the Cantonments, and an acknowledgment of the services of those Officers and Troops to whom, under Providence, this success is to be attributed.

3. The daily communications which have been made from the Intelligence Department will have informed His Lordship of the movements of the Mhow Mutineers, who remained apparently undecided as to their subsequent course at Dholepore, until they were reinforced by the Neemuch Brigade, when an attack upon Agra seems to have been finally determined upon.

4. For several days there was a report, that an onward move would be made on the following day; but no actual change of position took place until the 6th, when the Force broke ground, and intimation of this was received and communicated to the Military Authorities the same day.

5. Colonel Greathed, with his Column, had by this date arrived at Ackrabad, one march from Allygurh, on the Trunk Road, in the direction of Cawnpore, and an express was immediately despatched, requesting him to advance towards Agra, unless he had good grounds for believing that he could come up with the fugitive Brigade of Mutineers which was pressing towards the Eastward.

6. The information of subsequent days proved the necessity for obtaining reinforcements for the protection of Agra, and Colonel Greathed was therefore directed on the 7th, and by a subsequent more urgent letter on the 8th, to hasten towards this place; and in case of any delay in advancing the Main Column, to push forward at all events 500 Cavalry and a Troop of Horse Artillery.

7. On the morning of the 9th, a vidette of Militia Cavalry, which had been sent out to reconnoitre, was driven in by the Enemy's Horse and pursued to within two or three miles of Cantonments. This occurrence proving the close proximity of the Enemy, was communicated to Colonel Greathed at once, and it was deemed of sufficient importance to render it advisable to forward the letter by an Officer. This service was performed by Captain Patton, of the 3rd European Regiment, Fort Adjutant of Agra; and the Chief Commissioner desires to acknowledge his obligation to this willing and energetic Officer for the promptitude with which the Despatch was conveyed to Colonel Greathed's Camp.

8. The subsequent events and their results are detailed in the Reports. The Chief Commissioner would only observe that to Colonel Cotton's high personal qualifications, both as a Soldier and Commander, we owe the completeness of this success. Led by him, the tired Troops were inspired to continue the pursuit of the flying Enemy, until the capture of all his Guns, Camp, and plunder deprived him of the means of further aggression, and rendered the dissolution of his Army inevitable.

9. Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column, brought his men into action with a rapidity and precision that entitle him to the highest praise, and when it is remembered that the Column had only just come off a long and harassing forced march, the steadiness of the Men and coolness of the Officers entitle all to the warmest commendation.

10. It gives the Chief Commissioner much pleasure to bring specially to the notice of His Lordship the services on this occasion of—

- Major Ouvry, Commanding the Cavalry.
- Major Turner, Commanding the Artillery.
- Captains Remington and Blunt, of the Artillery.
- Captain Bouchier, Commanding Light Field Battery.
- Lieutenant Pearson, Commanding No. 21 Light Field Battery.
- Captain Anson, Commanding H. M.'s 9th Lancers.
- Captain Watson, Commanding 1st Punjab Cavalry.
- Lieutenant Probyn, Commanding 2nd Punjab Cavalry.
- Captain Younghusband, Commanding 5th Punjab Cavalry.
- Captain Hinde, Commanding H. M.'s 8th Regiment.
- Captain Gordon, H. M.'s 75th Regiment.
- Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjab Infantry.
- Captain Paul, Commanding 4th Punjab Infantry.
- Lieutenant Gough, Commanding Hodson's Horse.
- Lieutenant Lang, of the Engineers.
- Colonel Riddell, of the 3rd European Regiment.
- Lieutenant Vere, Commanding Agra Militia Cavalry.
- Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army.
- Captain Wilson, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

Council most cordially joins with His Excellency in doing honor to the memory of that gallant and much lamented Officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, C. B., of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, who nobly fell at the head of his small Force, by whose steady discipline and invincible courage the victory was gained over an Enemy very greatly superior in number.

His Lordship in Council warmly appreciates the valor, while he deeply regrets the loss of the many brave men who fell with their Commander.

On the fall of Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, the Command of the Detachment devolved on Captain Peel, R. N., and the Governor General in Council most heartily offers to that distinguished Officer the tribute of his admiration, for his conduct at the most critical period of the engagement, and for the intrepidity and judgment with which he achieved success.

His Lordship in Council likewise offers his best thanks to every Officer and man, of the Troops and of the Naval Brigade, the devotion of the whole having been most conspicuous on the occasion.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,

Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mil. Dept.

No. 1281.

From the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army,
To the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, The 12th November 1857.

SIR,—IN forwarding the enclosed Despatch,* and the annexed Returns to Government, I am instructed by the Commander-in-Chief to remark, that the action of which it gives an account was peculiarly severe, the loss of the Force engaged being at the rate of about one to five (1 to 5).

2. Success crowned the desperate efforts of the assailants; but it is evident, from the very lucid report of Captain Peel, C. B., R. N., that the attack was most hazardous, and that at one time the Force was in the greatest danger.

3. The Troops had been harassed by very long marches, and they were not in a state to attack, much less to follow up an attack.

4. It is most providential that the 5th Irregular Cavalry, owing to some accidental cause, had not advanced with the Rebel Infantry from Banda. Had they done so, not a man of the Detachment would have escaped to tell the tale.

5. Although the late gallant Colonel Powell, C. B., fell gloriously at the head of his Troops, the Commander-in-Chief conceives that he, in some measure, imperilled his most important charge, viz, that of the Siege Train, and therefore exceeded his duty.

6. A Company of the Royal Engineers was taken out in this affair and incurred loss; and this, in the face of the repeated instructions of the Commander-in-Chief, that they should not on any account be employed on such duties; and what is more, instead of being used as a last reserve, they were pushed forward in the front, to support the Skirmishers.

7. The result, however of all was success; and although obliged to criticise the disposition of the Force, His Excellency gladly bears testimony to the brilliant courage, and the untiring energy displayed by all ranks in conflict with the Enemy, and in the great efforts made to come up with him.

8. This fight affords one more instance of what the British Soldier will perform, in spite of every disadvantage and extraordinary fatigue.

9. This was a Soldier's fight, if there ever was one.

10. The Commander-in-Chief would especially direct the attention of the Government to the manner in which the Command was conducted by Captain Peel, C. B. R. N., after the death of Colonel Powell, C. B., at a moment of extreme danger and difficulty.

11. The return of the Papers is requested when no longer required.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

W. MAYHEW, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

FROM CAPTAIN W. PEEL, C. B., R. N., Commanding,
TO MAJOR GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff, Cawnpore.

Camp Futtehpore, 3d November 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to lay before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief the details of the Battle of Khujwa, with the circumstances which preceded it.

Detachments amounting to 700 men, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, of H. M.'s 53d Regiment, in charge of Siege Train Guns, and a large Convoy, were proceeding from Allahabad to Cawnpore, and had arrived on the 31st October, after a march of twelve miles at the Camping Ground of Thuree. The same afternoon intelligence was received from Futtehpore, that the Sepoy Mutineers of the Dinapore Regiments, with three Guns, had passed the Jumna, with the intention of either attacking Futtehpore or crossing over into Oude. The Camp was immediately struck, and we arrived at the Camping Ground of Futtehpore at midnight.

Colonel Powell then made arrangements for marching at day-light upon the Enemy, who were reported to be about twenty-four miles distant at Khujwa, beyond the village of Binkee. The Column of Attack consisted of 162 men of H. M.'s 53rd Regiment under Major Clarke, 68 of the Royal Engineers under Captain Clerke, 70 of a Depot Detachment under Lieutenant Fanning, of H. M.'s 64th Regiment, and 103 of the Naval Brigade under Captain Peel. It marched at day-light, and was joined from the Garrison of Futtehpore by a Company of the 93rd Highlanders, 100 in number, under Captain Cornwell, and two 9-Pounder Guns, under Lieutenant Anderson, Bengal Artillery. After proceeding for sixteen miles, the Column halted for refreshment, and then resumed the march at a rapid pace, passing through the village of Binkee at about 1-30 P. M., where the intelligence was confirmed that the Enemy was at hand.

The Troops pressed on without interruption, the Highlanders advancing in skirmishing order, supported by the Royal Engineers, and followed by the 53rd Regiment in Column, and then by the Naval Brigade. The Depot Detachment was with the Baggage. We advanced along the road which leads straight for the village of Khujwa, and saw that the Enemy's right occupied a long line of high embankments on our left of the road, which embankment, screened by a grove, continued towards the village, and that their left was higher up on the other side with their Guns posted in the centre on the road, two of them in advance, and one on a bridge near the village.

A Round Shot coming down the road, opened the battle at about 2-20 P. M., and the Column was ordered to edge to the right, and advanced on the Guns through the corn-fields, the Skirmishers of the 93rd and the Royal Engineers pushing on on both sides of the road. The Enemy's Artillery was well served, and did great execution, and the flank fire of Musketry from the embankment was very severe. The gallant Colonel Powell, himself on the left of the road, pressed on the attack, and had just secured the Guns of the Enemy, when he fell dead with a bullet through his forehead. In the meanwhile, the Naval Brigade had advanced on the right of the 53rd, and carried the Enemy's position in their front. It was then that the death of Colonel Powell was reported to me, and I was requested to assume the Command. The great force of the Enemy, the long line of their Defences, and the exhaustion of both our Men and Horses, after such long marches, rendered our position truly critical. The front of the column had become changed to the line of the road, and the Enemy, with all their Force behind them, threatened to intercept our rear. I left Lieutenant Hay, R. N., supported by two 9-Pounder Guns, to hold the position which his Party had gallantly carried, and which secured our rear, and collecting as many fresh Troops as were available, assisted principally by Lieutenant Lennox, Royal Engineers, (Captain Clerke being unfortunately severely wounded,) and by Ensign Traill, 53rd Regiment, we rushed across the road, and passing round the upper end of the embankment, divided the Enemy's Force, and drove them successively from all their positions.

The Enemy then retired in confusion, leaving us masters of their Camp, and with two of their Guns and a Tumbril in our possession.

The late hour of the evening (it was $\frac{1}{2}$ past 4 when the Enemy fired their last shot) and the excessive fatigue of the Troops, prevented any pursuit. We, therefore, spoiled their Camp, and leaving it with cheers, formed on the road by the bridge near the village, and sent Parties to collect our dead and wounded.

With the body of the Colonel on the limber of the Gun he had so gallantly captured, we then returned and encamped near the village of Binkee.

Our loss in the action was very severe, amounting to 95 Killed and Wounded. Enclosed are the Returns of the Detachments forming the Column of Attack.

The behaviour of the Troops and of the Naval Brigade was admirable, and all vied with each other and showed equal courage in the Field. The marching of the 53rd, and the accurate firing of the Highlanders, deserve special commendation.

I received the greatest assistance from Captain Cox, H. M.'s 75th Regiment, whom I would wish to bring to the favourable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief; and the arrangements of the Field Hospital under Doctor Grant, H. M.'s 53rd, and those of the Quarter Master's Department under Captain Marshall, were every thing that I could wish.

The total number of the Enemy was reported to be about 4,000 men, 2,000 of whom were Sepoys who fought in their uniform. Their loss was estimated at above 300 killed.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your very obedient Servant.

WILLIAM PEEL, Captain R. N., Commanding.

I have the pleasure to inform His Excellency, that the remaining Gun of the Enemy, with some Tumbrils, was brought in this evening by the Police, having been abandoned by the Rebels at about eight miles beyond Khujwa, and that the Sepoys have dispersed in all directions.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 7TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 5 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 24TH DECEMBER 1857.

No. 1649 of 1857.

THE Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying Despatches lately received from the Head Quarters of the Army.

These Papers contain accounts of the safe conveyance of the Women and Children, Sick and Wounded of the Garrison of Lucknow across the Ganges; of the resistance by Major-General Windham to a well-organized and desperate attack on his position at Cawnpore by a large body of Rebels; and of the subsequent defeat and utter rout of the Insurgents by the Troops under the immediate direction of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

Throughout these operations all branches of the Service vied with each other in enhancing the glorious name which the contests of the last few months have secured for the British Army in India.

As regards the operations of the 6th, the masterly guidance of the Commander-in-Chief has been scarcely less conspicuous at Cawnpore than it was at Lucknow; each disposition and movement of his Forces fitting into one complete and effective scheme proof against all disturbance by the chances of the day of battle. General Sir Colin Campbell has added largely to the heavy claim which he holds upon the gratitude and confidence of the Government, and of the Soldiers whom he leads to victory. In two hours the Camp of the Rebels was reached and taken, and their rout complete; seventeen Guns, and a large amount of Stores and Ammunition falling into the hands of the British Force.

His Lordship in Council desires to record his appreciation of the admirable manner in which Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C. B., has executed the duties of his Division, and particularly of his exertions in pursuit of the Enemy on the 6th, and his operations on the 8th and 9th of December, on which occasion he took fifteen of the Enemy's Guns without the loss of one man.

On this as on every occasion in which danger was to be faced and difficulty overcome, Captain Peel, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade, was foremost in intrepidity and resource.

Lieutenant Vaughan and the other Officers and Men of H. M. S. Shannon are worthy of their brave Commander; and it is a pleasure to the Governor General in Council to declare his warm admiration of their conduct.

The Governor General in Council very cordially concurs in the praise so justly bestowed by the Commander-in-Chief on the General Officers Commanding Divisions, on Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, and on all the Officers of the General Staff in all its branches and the Personal Staff, and Officers Commanding Brigades and Regiments, Troops and Batteries. In the commendation given by His Excellency to Officers of every Arm of the Service, the Governor General in Council most heartily joins.

To all Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men engaged in the defence of Cawnpore, or in the attack on the Enemy's position, the Governor General in Council offers his cordial thanks for their Gallantry and good service to the State.

It will be his pleasing duty to take the first opportunity of bringing their merits to the favorable notice of Her Majesty's Government, and of the Honorable Court of Directors.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mily. Dept.

Head Quarters Camp, Cannore, The 2nd December 1857.

On the 27th I marched with Brigadier-General Grant's Division, all the Ladies and Families who had been rescued from Jackson, and the Wounded of both Forces, making in all about two thousand (2000) people, whom it was necessary to carry, and encamped the evening of that day a little beyond Bunnee Bridge.

When we arrived at Banace, we were surprised to hear very heavy firing in the direction of Cawn-pore. No news had reached me from that place for several days ; but it appeared necessary, whatever the inconvenience, to press forward as quickly as possible.

The Force was accordingly pressed forward, Convoy and all, and was encamped within three miles of the Ganges, about three hours after dark, the Rear Guard coming in with the end of the train some twenty-four hours afterwards.

The retreat of the previous day had been effected with the loss of a certain amount of Camp Equipment, and shortly after my arrival, it was reported to me that Brigadier Carthew had retreated from a very important Outpost.

It had now become necessary to proceed with the utmost caution to secure the Bridge.

This was done very effectually, while Brigadier Hope's Brigade, with some Field Artillery and Cavalry, was ordered to cross the Bridge, and take position near the Old Dragoon Lines.

A cross fire was at the same time kept up from the Entrenchment, to cover the march of the Troops.

When darkness began to draw on, the Artillery Parks, the Wounded, and the Families, were ordered to file over the Bridge; and it was not till 6 o'clock P. M., the day of the 30th, that the last cart had cleared the Bridge.

The passage of the Force, with its encumbrances, over the Ganges, had occupied thirty hours.

The Camp now stretches from the Dragoon Lines in a half circle round the position occupied by the late General Sir Hugh Wheeler, the Foot Artillery Lines being occupied by the wounded and the Families.

A desultory fire has been kept up by the Enemy on the Entrenchment and the front of the Camp since this position was taken up, and I am obliged to submit to the hostile occupation of Cawnpore, until the actual despatch of all my encumbrances towards Allahabad has been effected.

However disagreeable this may be, and although it may tend to give confidence to the Enemy, it is precisely one of those cases in which no risk must be run.

I trust, when the time has arrived for me to act with due regard to these considerations, to see the speedy evacuation of his present position by the Enemy.

In the mean time, the position taken up by Brigadier-General Grant's Division, under my immediate orders, has restored the communications with Futtehpore and Allahabad, as had been anticipated. The Detachments moving along the road from these two places have been ordered to continue their march accordingly.

Major General Windham's Despatch, relating the operations conducted under his Command, is enclosed.

In forwarding that document, I have only to remark, that the complaint made by him in the second paragraph, of not receiving instructions from me, is explained by the fact of the letters he sent announcing the approach of the Gwalior Force not having come to hand.

The first notice I had of his embarrassment was the distant sound of Cannonade as above described.

All the previous reports had declared that there was but little chance of the Gwalior Contingent approaching Cawnpore.

I have, &c.,

C. CAMPBELL, General, Commander-in-Chief.

P. S.—Annexed is a Return of Casualties from the 29th Ultimo to this date.

Cawnpore, 30th November 1857.

Having received, through Captain H. Bruce of the 5th Punjaub Cavalry, information of the movements of the Gwalior Contingent, but having received none whatever from your Excellency for several days from Lucknow, in answer to my letters to the Chief of the Staff, I was obliged to act for myself.

I therefore resolved to encamp my Force on the Canal, ready to strike at any portion of the advancing Enemy that came within my reach, keeping at the same time my communications safe with Cawnpore.

Finding that the Contingent were determined to advance, I resolved to meet their first Division on the Pandoo Nuddee. My Force consisted of about 1,200 Bayonets and 8 Guns and 100 mounted Sowars. Having sent my Camp Equipage and Baggage to the rear, I advanced to the attack in the following order:—

Four Companies of the Rifle Brigade, under Colonel R. Walpole, followed by four Companies of the 88th Connaught Rangers, under Lieutenant-Colonel E. H. Maxwell, and four light 6-Pounder Madras Guns, under Lieutenant Chamier; the whole under the Command of Brigadier Carthew, of the Madras Native Infantry.

Following this Force was the 34th Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel R. Kelly, with four 9-Pounder Guns; the 82d Regiment in Reserve, with spare Ammunition, &c.

I had given directions, in the event of the Enemy being found directly in our front, and if the ground permitted, that Brigadier Carthew should occupy the ground to the left of the road, and that Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, with the 34th, divided into wings, and supported by his Artillery, should take the right. It so happened, however, that this order, on our coming into action, became exactly inverted by my directions in consequence of a sudden turn of the road. No confusion, however, was caused. The advance was made with a complete line of Skirmishers along the whole front, with Supports on either side and a Reserve in the centre.

The Enemy, strongly posted on the other side of the dry bed of the Pandoo Nuddee, opened a heavy fire of Artillery from siege and Field Guns; but such was the eagerness and courage of the Troops, and so well were they led by their Officers, that we carried the position with a rush, the men cheering as they went; and the village, more than half a mile in its rear, was rapidly cleared. The Mutineers hastily took to flight, leaving in our possession two 8-Inch Iron Howitzers and one 6-Pounder Gun.

In this fight my loss was not severe; but I regret very much that a very promising young Officer, Captain H. H. Day, 88th Regiment, was killed.

Observing from a height on the other side of the village, that the Enemy's main body was at hand, and that the one just defeated was their leading division, I at once decided on retiring to protect Cawn-pore, my Entrenchments, and the Bridge over the Ganges. We accordingly fell back, followed, however, by the Enemy up to the Bridge over the Canal.

On the morning of the 27th, the Enemy commenced their attack, with an overwhelming force of heavy Artillery. My position was in front of the City. I was threatened on all sides, and very seriously attacked on my front and right flank. The heavy fighting in front, at the point of junction of the Calpee and Delhi Roads, fell more especially upon the Rifle Brigade, ably Commanded by Colonel Walpole, who was supported by the 88th Regiment and 4 Guns (two 9-Pounders, two 24-Pounder Howitzers) under Captain D. B. Greene Royal Artillery, and two 24-Pounder Guns, manned by Seamen of the Shannon, under Lieutenant Hay, R. N., who was twice wounded. Lieutenant Colonel John Aclie, Royal Artillery, also afforded me marked assistance with these Guns.

In spite of the heavy bombardment of the Enemy, my Troops resisted the attack for five hours, and still held the ground, until, on my proceeding personally to make sure of the safety of the Fort, I found, from the number of men bayoneted by the 88th Regiment, that the Mutineers had fully penetrated the Town; and having been told that they were then attacking the Fort, I directed Major-General Dupuis, R. A., (who as my Second-in-Command I had left with the main body,) to fall back the whole Force into the Fort, with all our Stores and Guns, shortly before dark.

Owing to the flight of the Camp-followers at the commencement of the action, notwithstanding the long time we held the ground, I regret to state, that in making this retrograde movement, I was unable to carry off all my Camp Equipage and some of the Baggage. Had not an error occurred in the conveyance of an order issued by me, I am of opinion that I could have held my ground at all events until dark.

I must not omit, in this stage of the proceedings, to report that the flank attack was well met, and resisted, for a considerable time, by the 34th Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, and the Madras Battery under Lieutenant Chamier, together with that part of the 82nd Regiment which was detached in this direction under Lieutenant-Colonel D. Watson.

In retiring within the Entrenchments, I followed the general instructions issued to me by your Excellency, conveyed through the Chief of the Staff, namely, to preserve the safety of the Bridge over the Ganges, and my communications with your Force, so severely engaged in the important operation of the relief of Lucknow, as far as possible. I strictly adhered to the defensive.

After falling back to the Fort, I assembled the superior Officers on the evening of the 27th and proposed a night attack, should I be able to receive reliable information as to where the Enemy had assembled his Artillery.

Firstly.—That on the following day Colonel Walpole, Rifle Brigade, should have the defence of the advanced portion of the Town on the left side of the Canal, standing with your back to the Ganges. The details of the Force upon this point were as follows :—

4 Guns..... { Two 9-Pounders..... } Under Captain Greene, R. A.
 { Two 24-Pounder Howitzers..... }

(Two of these Guns were manned by Madras Gunners, and two by Seikhs.)

Secondly.—That Brigadier N. Wilson, with the 64th Regiment, was to hold the Fort and establish a strong Picquet at the Baptist Chapel on the extreme right.

Thirdly.—That Brigadier Carthew, with the 34th Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, and four Madras Guns, should hold the Bithoor Road in advance of the Baptist Chapel, receiving support from the Picquet there if wanted.

Fourthly.—That, with the 88th Regiment under Lieutenant Colonel Maxwell, I should defend the portion of the Town nearest the Ganges on the left of the Canal, and support Colonel Walpole if required.

The fighting on the 28th was very severe. On the left advance, Colonel Walpole, with the Rifles, supported by Captain Greene's Battery, and part of the 82d Regiment, achieved a complete victory over the Enemy and captured two 18-Pounder Guns.

The glory of this well contested fight belongs entirely to the above-named Companies and Artillery.

It was owing to the gallantry of the Men and Officers under the able leading of Colonel Walpole, and of my lamented relation, Lieutenant Colonel Woodford, of the Rifle Brigade (who, I deeply regret to say, was killed,) and of Lieutenant Colonel Watson, 82d, and of Captain Greene, R. A., that this hard contested fight was won and brought to so profitable an end. I had nothing to do with it beyond sending them Supports, and at the end of bringing some up myself.

I repeat that the credit is entirely due to the above-mentioned Officers and Men.

Brigadier Wilson thought proper, prompted by zeal for the Service, to lead his Regiment against four Guns placed in front of Brigadier Carthew. In this daring exploit, I regret to say, he lost his life, together with several valuable and able Officers. Major T. Stirling, 64th Regiment, was killed in spiking one of the Guns, as was also that fine gallant young man, Captain R. C. McGrea, 64th Regiment, who acted as Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General to the Force here. Captain W. Morphey, 64th Regiment, (the Brigade Major), also fell at the same time. Our numbers were not sufficient to enable us to carry off the Guns.

Captain A. P. Bowlby, now the Senior Officer of the 64th Regiment, distinguished himself, as did also Captain H. F. Saunders, of the 70th Regiment, who was attached to the 64th, and is Senior to Captain Bowlby, whose conduct he describes as most devoted and gallant; as was also that of the Men of the Regiment.

Brigadier Carthew, of the Madras Native Infantry, had a most severe and strong contest with the Enemy from morning till night; but I regret to add, that he felt himself obliged to retire at dark.

During the night of the 28th Instant, the Enemy occupied the Town, and on the morning of the 29th commenced bombarding my Entrenchments with a few Guns, and struck the Bridge of Boats several times.

The Guns mounted in the Fort were superior in number to those of the Enemy, and were well manned, throughout the day, by the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men of the Royal Artillery, Seamen of the Shannon, Madras and Bengal Gunners and Seikhs.

The chief Out-work was occupied by the Rifle Brigade, and in the course of the afternoon, by your Excellency's instructions, they were advanced, and gallantly drove the Mutineers out of that portion of the City nearest to our works, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Fyers, who was supported by Colonel Walpole.

Throughout the short period I have had the temporary Command of this Division, I have received, both in the Field and elsewhere, the most important assistance from Captain H. Bruce, 5th Punjab Cavalry. Without him I should have been at a great loss for reliable information, and although I am aware that your Excellency is not ignorant of his abilities, courage, and assiduity, I think it my duty to make this mention of his service to the Country.

Pressed as I am by the operations now going forward, I am not able to specify the services of every individual who has assisted me, where all have behaved so well. I have no Staff of my own, except Captain Roger Swire, of the 17th Foot, my Aide-de-Camp, who has behaved with his usual zeal and courage.

I therefore hope I may be allowed to thank, through your Excellency, the under-mentioned Officers for the great services they have voluntarily rendered me during this trying time:—

Major-General J. E. Dupuis, C. B., Commanding Royal Artillery in India....	} Specially.
Lieutenant-Colonel John Adye, C. B., Assistant Adjutant General, Royal Artillery ...
Lieutenant-Colonel H. D. Harness, Commanding Royal Engineers.....
Major Norman McLeod, Bengal Engineers.....
Lieutenant-Colonel John Simpson, 34th Regiment.....
Senior Surgeon R. C. Elliot, C. B., Royal Artillery.
Captain John Gordon, 82nd Regiment.
Captain Sarsfield Greene, Royal Artillery.
Captain Smyth, Bengal Artillery.

There are several other Officers in addition, who I fortunately found detained here en route to join your Excellency's Force, and I beg to submit their names also, viz:—

Captain R. G. Brackenbury, 61st Regiment.
Lieutenant Arthur Henley, 52nd Light Infantry.
Lieutenant Valentine Ryan, 64th Regiment.
Captain Ellis Cunliffe, 1st Bengal Fusiliers.
Lieutenant E. H. Budgen, 82nd Regiment (to whom I gave the Command of the 100 mounted Sowars.)

Captain C. E. Mansfield, 33rd Regiment.
Lieutenant P. Scratchley, Royal Engineers.
Lieutenant W. C. Milne, 74th Bengal Native Infantry.

I beg to inform your Excellency that I have called for Nominal Returns of the Killed and Wounded, and I have also directed all Officers Commanding Corps, Regiments, and Batteries, &c., to forward to me the names of any Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, or Soldiers, who may have specially distinguished themselves by gallantry in the Field, which shall be forwarded to your Excellency without delay.

In conclusion, I hope I may be permitted to express my sincere thanks to all the Regimental Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men, for the zeal, gallantry, and courage with which they have carried out my orders during the four days of harassing actions, which have successively taken place in the defence of this important strategic centre of present operations.

I beg to forward the enclosed Despatch, which I have received from Major-General Dupuis, and I have called upon the various Officers Commanding Corps, &c., to forward me the names of any Officers they may wish to recommend, which I will send to your Excellency as soon as I receive them.

I have, &c.,

C. A. WINDHAM, Major-General.

Cawnpore, 30th November 1857.

SIR,—WITHOUT entering into any detail of the operations carried on by the Force under your Command, on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th Instant, which I consider unnecessary, as you were present the whole time, yet I feel it my duty to bring to your notice the excellent conduct of the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men, both of the Royal and Bengal Artillery, whom you placed under my Command.

Lieutenant Oliver, R. A., who was in Command of a hastily equipped Battery of two 9-Pounders and two 24-Pounder Howitzers, manned by a few Royal Artillery and Bengal Gunners and some Seikhs, did his best to bring his Guns into action on the first day's operations on the Pandoo River; yet, from his extreme inexperience, I thought it better to place my Aide-de-Camp, Captain Sarsfield Greene, R. A., in Command, and I beg to bring to your notice the admirable manner in which he directed and fought the Guns at the close of the day.

On the 27th he supported the Rifle Brigade and 88th Connaught Rangers, and as our Force retired, he assisted to protect the retreat. Again, on the 28th, he supported Colonel Walpole and the Rifle Brigade on the advance on the left, and assisted materially in the capture of two 18-Pounder Guns. On the 29th he Commanded four Guns in the Fort. Lieutenant Chamier, of the Madras Artillery, who Commanded six light Guns, performed his duties entirely to my satisfaction, particularly on the 28th, when he was attached to the Force under Brigadier Carthew.

I beg also to bring to your consideration the conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel John Adye, my Assistant Adjutant General, who volunteered on the night of the 27th, and brought from the centre of the Town a 24-Pounder Gun, which had been left behind in the retreat, in consequence of its having been jammed in one of the narrow streets. (This Officer was assisted by Captains Austen and Bradford, of the Bengal Artillery.) On the 29th he again volunteered and took Command of the same Gun, (manned by a few Sailors and Madras Gunners,) and placed it in position to protect the Canal, where it proved of good service during the day. I beg also to testify to the willing exertions of Senior Surgeon R. C. Elliot on all occasions.

I have, &c.,

J. E. DUPUIS, Maj.-Genl. Commanding Royal Artillery in India.

TO THE RIGHT HON'BLE VISCOUNT CANNING, Governor General, Calcutta.

Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore, The 10th December 1857.

MY LORD,—I HAVE the honor to report to your Lordship, that late on the night of the 3rd Instant, the Convoy, which had given me so much anxiety, including the Families and half the Wounded, was finally despatched, and on the 4th and 5th the last arrangements were made for consigning the remainder of the Wounded in places of safety, while a portion of the Troops was withdrawn from the Entrenchments to join the Camp.

On the afternoon of the 5th, about 3 P. M., the Enemy attacked our left Picquets with Artillery, and showed Infantry round our left flank.

A desultory fire was also begun on our Picquets in the General Gung, which is an old bazaar of very considerable extent along the Canal, in front of the line occupied by the Camp.

These advanced positions had been held, since our arrival, by Brigadier Greathed's Brigade with great firmness, the Brigadier having displayed his usual judgment in their arrangement and support. On two or three occasions he had been supported by Captain Peel's heavy Guns and Captain Bouchier's Field Battery, when the Artillery of the Enemy had annoyed him and the general front of the Camp.

After two hours of Cannonading, the Enemy retired on the afternoon in question. Arrangements were then made for a general attack on him the next day.

His left occupied the old Cantonment, from which General Windham's post had been principally assailed. His centre was in the City of Cawnpore, and lined the houses and bazaars overhanging the Canal, which separated it from Brigadier Greathed's position, the principal streets having been afterwards discovered to be barricaded.

His right stretched some way beyond the angle formed by the Grand Trunk Road and the Canal, two miles in rear of which the Camp of the Gwalior Contingent was pitched, and so covered the Calpee road. This was the line of retreat of that body.

In short, the Canal, along which were placed his centre and right, was the main feature of his position, and could only be passed in the latter direction by two Bridges.

It appeared to me, if his right were vigorously attacked, that it would be driven from its position without assistance coming from other parts of his line, the wall of the town which gave cover to our Attacking Columns on our right being an effective obstacle to the movement of any portion of his Troops from his left to right.

Thus the possibility became apparent of attacking his Division in detail.

From intelligence received before and after the action, there seems to be little doubt that in consequence of the arrival of four Regiments from Oude, and the gathering of various mutinous Corps which had suffered in previous actions, as well as the assemblage of all the Nana's followers, the strength of the Enemy now amounted to about 25,000 men with all the Guns belonging to the Contingent, some (36) in number, together with a few Guns belonging to the Nana.

Orders were given to General Windham, on the morning of the 6th, to open a heavy Bombardment at 9 A. M. from the Entrenchment in the old Cantonment, and so induce the belief in the Enemy that the attack was coming from the General's position.

The Camp was struck early, and all the Baggage driven to the River side under a Guard, to avoid the slightest risk of accident.

Brigadier Greathed, re-inforced by the 64th Regiment, was desired to hold the same ground opposite the centre of the Enemy, which he had been occupying for some days past as above-mentioned, and at 11 A. M., the rest of the Force, as per margin, was drawn up in contiguous Columns in rear of some old Cavalry lines, and effectually masked from the observation of the Enemy.

The Cannonade from the Entrenchment having become slack at this time, the moment had arrived for the attack to commence.

The Cavalry and Horse Artillery, having been sent to make a detour on the left and cross the Canal by a Bridge a mile and a half further up, and threaten the Enemy's rear.

The Infantry deployed in parallel lines fronting the Canal.

Brigadier Hope's Brigade was in advance in one line, Brigadier Inglis' Brigade being in rear of Brigadier Hope.

At the same time Brigadier Walpole, assisted by Captain Smith's Field Battery, Royal Artillery, was directed to pass the Bridge immediately to the left of Brigadier Greathed's position, and to drive the enemy from the Brick-kilns, keeping the wall of the City for his guide.

The whole attack then proceeded, the Enemy quickly responding from his proper right to the fire of our heavy and Field Artillery.

Good use was made of these Guns by Captain Peel, C. B., R. N., and the Artillery Officers under Major-General Dupuis, C. B., R. A., Brigadier Crawford, R. A., and Major Turner, B. A.

The Sikhs of the 4th Punjaub Infantry, thrown into Skirmishing order, supported by H. M.'s 53rd Foot, attacked the Enemy in some old Mounds and Brick-kilns to our left with great vigor.

The advance then continued with rapidity along the whole line, and I had the satisfaction of observing in the distance that Brigadier Walpole was making equal progress on the right.

The Canal Bridge was quickly passed, Captain Peel leading over it with a heavy Gun, accompanied by a Soldier of H. M.'s 53rd, named Hannaford.

The Troops which had gathered together, resuming their line of formation with great rapidity on either side as soon as it was crossed, and continuing to drive the Enemy at all points, his Camp being reached and taken at 1 P. M., and his rout being complete along the Calpee road.

I must here draw attention to the manner in which the heavy 24-Pounder Guns were impelled and managed by Captain Peel and his gallant Sailors.

Through the extraordinary energy and good-will with which the latter have worked, their Guns have been constantly in advance throughout our late operations, from the relief of Lucknow, till now, as if they were light Field Pieces, and the service rendered by them in clearing our front has been incalculable. On this occasion there was the sight beheld of 24-Pounder Guns advancing with the first line of Skirmishers.

Without losing any time, the pursuit with Cavalry, Infantry and Light Artillery was pressed with the greatest eagerness to the fourteenth milestone on the Calpee road, and I have reason to believe that every Gun and Cart of Ammunition, which had been in that part of the Enemy's position which had been attacked, now fell into our possession.

I had the satisfaction of accompanying the Troops engaged in the pursuit, and of being able to bear witness to their strenuous endeavours to make the most of the success which had been achieved.

When I passed the Camp and went forward on the Calpee Road, Major-General Mansfield was desired by me to make arrangements for the attack of the position called the Subadar's Tank, which extended round the left rear of the Enemy's position in the old Cantonments. As this operation was a separate one, I beg to enclose, for your Lordship's consideration, the Major-General's own Narrative.

The Troops having returned from the pursuit at midnight on the 6th, and their baggage having reached them on the afternoon of the next day, Brigadier-General Grant was detached in pursuit on the 8th with the Cavalry, some Light Artillery, and a Brigade of Infantry, with orders to destroy public buildings belonging to the Nanna Sahib at Bithoor, and to press on to Serai Ghât, twenty-five miles from hence, if he had good tidings of the retreating Enemy. This duty was admirably performed by the Brigadier-General, and he caught the Enemy when he was about to cross the River with his remaining Guns.

The Brigadier-General attacked him with great vigor, and by the excellent disposition he made of his Force, succeeded in taking every Gun the Enemy possessed, without losing a single man. I have the pleasure to enclose the Brigadier-General's Report for your Lordship's perusal.

It now remains for me to bring to your Lordship's notice the Officers who have distinguished themselves during the series of operations which have occurred under my own eyes, since this Field Force left the neighbourhood of Lucknow.

I have a particular pleasure in again bringing to your Lordship's notice the zeal and great ability with which Major-General W. R. Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, has conducted the very important duties of his high position, and of my obligations to him for the most valuable assistance he has afforded me during the whole of the recent operations. I desire also to call your Lordship's attention to the able and distinguished manner in which he conducted the Troops placed under his orders, after the Enemy's centre had been divided, to the attack of their strong position at the Subadar's Tank, and to recommend to your Lordship's favorable consideration the names of the Officers who assisted him.

I have to thank Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C. B., very particularly for the admirable manner in which he has conducted the duties of the Force, and more particularly for his exertions on the 6th December, and the capital operations he performed on the 8th and 9th. The Brigadier-General speaks in the highest terms of his Divisional and Personal Staff, viz., Captain W. Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Lieutenant F. S. Roberts; Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Captain the Hon'ble A. H. Anson, Aide-de-Camp; Lieutenant C. W. Havelock, Extra Aide-de-Camp; and Captain H. M. Wilson, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

I have the greatest satisfaction in bringing to your Lordship's notice, Brigadiers Greathed, the Hon'ble A. Hope, Walpole, and Inglis. These Officers have all exerted themselves to the utmost, and have fully justified my expectations. They desire to record their obligations to the Officers Commanding Corps in their respective Brigades and to their Brigade Staff, as follows:—

Captain Hinde, Her Majesty's 8th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Wells, Her Majesty's 23rd Fusiliers; Major Lowe, Commanding Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Her Majesty's 38th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Thorold, Her Majesty's 42nd Highlanders; Col. Faber, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment; Major Bingham, Her Majesty's 64th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Leith Hay, Her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders; Lieutenant-Colonel Horsford, 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Lieutenant-Colonel Fyers, 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; Lieutenant W. C. L. Ryves, Commanding 4th Punjaub Rifles; Captain J. M. Bannatyne, Brigade Major 3rd Brigade; Captain J. H. Cox, Brigade Major 4th Brigade; Captain Lightfoot, Brigade Major 5th Brigade; Lieutenant C. A. Barwell, Brigade Major 6th Brigade.

Owing to his knowledge of the ground I requested Major-General Windham to remain in Command of the Entrenchment, the fire of which was a very important feature in the operations of the 6th December, although I felt and explained to General Windham, that it was a Command hardly worthy of an Officer of his rank. He gave me every satisfaction, and I have to thank him accordingly.

I must particularly notice the exertions of Captain H. W. Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army; of Captain Herbert Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General; and of Captain J. H. Smyth, Bengal Artillery, the latter of whom had been requested by me to take Command of the Artillery in the Entrenchment as a special duty.

Captain Smyth has rendered other great and valuable services since he left Calcutta, of which I have not had an opportunity before of recording my approval.

I desire also to bring to your Lordship's favorable notice, the Officers on the General Staff or belonging to the Personal Staff of myself or Major-General Mansfield, viz., Captain H. R. Garden, Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant G. Allgood, and Captain T. A. Carey, Deputy Assistants Quarter Master General; Captain G. C. Hatch, Deputy Judge Advocate General of the Army; Captain Sir David Baird, Bart., my first Aide-de-Camp; Captain J. Metcalfe, Interpreter; Lieutenant W. O. Lennox, Royal Engineers; Captain W. Rudman, Acting Assistant Adjutant General, Her Majesty's Forces; Lieutenant Hope Johnstone, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General to the Chief of the Staff; Lieutenant F. M. Alison, and Captain Forster, my Aides-de-Camp; and Captain Mansfield and Lieutenant D. M. Murray, Aide-de-Camp and Extra Aide-de-Camp to the Chief of the Staff.

To the Crew of H. M. S. Shannon, and to the Royal and Bengal Artillery, my thanks are alike due; but more particularly to Captain Peel, C. B., Royal Navy; to Brigadier Crawford, Royal Artillery; and to Major Turner, Bengal Horse Artillery. I cannot refrain from again drawing your Lordship's most marked attention to the very distinguished merits of the last-named (Major Turner).

As is always the case in the three Services, the Batteries and Troops were manœuvred with remarkable dexterity.

Captain Peel has brought to my favorable notice Lieutenant Vaughan, Royal Navy, and I should much wish that this recommendation may be known at the Admiralty; and Brigadier Crawford has expressed his obligations to his Brigade Major, Captain H. L. G. Bruce, Bengal Artillery, and has mentioned with marked distinction all the Officers holding Commands, viz., Captain Travers, Commanding Royal Artillery; Captains Remington and Blunt, Commanding Troops of Bengal Horse Artillery; Captains Middleton and Smith, Royal Artillery; and Captain Bouchier, Bengal Artillery, Commanding Light Field Batteries; Captain Longden,

The Infantry Brigade, under Brigadier the Hon'ble Adrian Hope, was of great use in supporting the advance of the Cavalry; but before they reached the ground, the Enemy were in retreat.

As soon as possible, I sent up the Sikh Infantry to secure the Guns, and am happy to say 14 Brass Guns and 1 18-Pounder, with Limbers, Waggon, &c., and a large quantity of Ammunition, were taken.

The success was complete, and I am truly grateful to God, and happy to say, though the fire of Grape from the Enemy was most severe and well-placed, falling amongst the Artillery like hail, I had not a single man even wounded, and only one horse of Captain Middleton's Battery, killed. It was truly marvelous and providential. 13 Guns, most of them 9-Pounder and 24-Pounder Howitzers, were playing with Grape on the gallant Artillery, and with Round Shot upon the Cavalry, the former within about 500 yards—and his Excellency is well aware with what precision these rebels fire their Guns—yet not one single man was wounded.

I gave directions at once to remove every thing from the spot, and the Highlanders, 53rd Regiment, and Sikhs, with a most praiseworthy zeal and activity, brought off all the Guns, Waggon, &c., from the quicksands, beyond which they had been placed. The Troops had been marching since 1 o'clock on the 8th, with occasional halts; and the moving in of the Guns to a position I had taken up for them within about 1 mile of the Camp, was not accomplished till dusk the following day. They had little to eat or drink for nearly twenty-four hours; but there was not a complaint.

I beg to request you will lay the names of the undermentioned Officers before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief:—Captain Middleton, who Commanded the whole of the Artillery, rendered the greatest services, both in the action and in the moving of the Guns; Lieut. Millman, who Commanded the Battery; Captain Remington, who worked his Guns admirably, and who was most zealous in giving every assistance to Captain Middleton; Brigadier A. Little, to whom I was much indebted for his Cavalry support to the Guns, and for the way in which he brought his Force to the front on the advance of the Enemy.

Major Ouvry, Commanding the 9th Lancers, a most active and zealous Officer.

Lieutenant Younghusband, Commanding 5th Punjaub Cavalry, and Lieutenant Gough, Commanding Hodson's Horse. To all of whom my thanks are due for the very able way in which they commanded their Regiments.

Lieutenant Malcolm, Commanding the Royal Engineers, and Lieutenant Forbes, Commanding the Bengal Engineers, who, with their men, executed the work entrusted to them with great ability and zeal.

Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope, Commanding the Infantry Brigade, was of the greatest possible assistance, and behaved with his usual well-known gallantry.

Lieutenant-Colonel Thorold, Commanding 42nd Highlanders; Colonel Faber, Commanding 53rd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Leith Hay, Commanding 93rd Highlanders; and Captain Ryves, Commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry.

My thanks are also due to these Officers for the able manner in which they Commanded their Regiments:—Captain McLeod, 42nd Highlanders, Commanding the Rear Guard; Lieutenant Smith, Commanding two 9-Pounder Guns, who performed the duties entrusted to them to my satisfaction. Captain Anderson, Ex-Commissariat Officer, whose duties were very severe, and Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, were most attentive and zealous. Captain Sarel, Brigade Major of Cavalry, Captain Cox, Brigade Major of Infantry, deserve my warmest approbation. Captain the Hon'ble G. A. Anson, my A. D. C., afforded me on this, as on every other occasion, the greatest assistance. Lieutenant Havelock, Extra A. D. C., was very useful. Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope talks in the highest strains of Lieutenant A. Butter, 93rd Highlanders, his Acting A. D. C. Captain Bruce, head of the Intelligence Department rendered me very great assistance in procuring information regarding the movements of the Enemy.

I have, &c.,

HOPE GRANT, Brigadier General, Commanding Force.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS: CHOULTRY PLAIN, 4th January 1858.

At a European District Court Martial held at Rangoon on Monday the 30th day of November 1857, Assistant Apothecary Thomas Johnson of the Madras Medical Establishment, doing duty with the Artillery at Rangoon, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

Charge.—For conduct unbecoming a Warrant Officer, and to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline in having on the morning of the 19th of November 1857, been in a state of incapacity for the performance of his duties from the effects of intoxication.

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner, Assistant Apothecary Thomas Johnson of the Madras Medical Establishment, is Guilty of the Charge.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner guilty as above stated doth sentence him, the said Assistant Apothecary Thomas Johnson of the Madras Medical Establishment, doing duty with the Artillery at Rangoon, to be placed Fifteen steps lower in the grade of Assistant Apothecary, than that in which he now stands.

RANGOON, 30th November 1857.

Confirmed—but I consider the sentence much too lenient.

MADRAS, 30th December 1857. } (Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lieutenant General, Commander in Chief.

Assistant Apothecary Johnson's name is to be transposed in the List of Assistant Apothecaries of the Madras Medical Establishment and will stand in future next below, Asst. Apothecary Charles Smith.

Assistant Apothecary Johnson is to be released from arrest, and directed to return to his duty.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. G. WOODS, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS: CHOULTRY PLAIN, 1st January 1858.

No. 1.—His Excellency the Commander in Chief notifies his intention of proceeding on his Tour of Inspection to the Southern Division &c., early this month.

His Excellency will be accompanied by the Quarter Master General. The remaining Officers of the General Staff named in G. O. C. C. of the 16th November last, No. 70 ;—the Judge Advocate General excepted who will conduct his duties at Ootacamund until further orders ;—will join His Excellency at Bangalore by transit, at which station Head Quarters will be established on the 23d Instant.

Correspondence for Departments to be addressed until further orders to the Presidency as directed in G. O. C. C. of the 16th November last, No. 70.

2d January 1858.

Lieut. Col. (Brevet Col.) G. Burn, 29th Regiment N. I., is appointed President of the Clothing Committee vice Major J. Stewart, 7th Regiment N. I., relieved from that duty.

No. 2.—Casting Committees for the Examination of Horses considered unfit for further Service are to be assembled in all Corps of Dragoons, Cavalry, and Horse Artillery and in Detachments of the latter, and in Horse Batteries attached to Companies of Artillery.

2. General Casting Committees will subsequently be assembled by order of Officers Commanding Divisions and Forces, for the final examination of Horses passed by Regimental Committees at all stations where more than one Corps may be stationed. At single stations, the examination of the Regimental Committee will be final.

3. Proceedings to be prepared in conformity with Form No. 3 page 391, of the General Regulations and forwarded through the prescribed Channels to the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

4. After the Casting Committees shall have closed their proceedings Officers Commanding Regiments, Detached Troops and Horse Batteries, will forward direct to the Remount Agent Ossoor, Memoranda shewing the number of Horses that will be required to complete their respective Regiments &c.

5. Officers Commanding Divisions and Stations, before transmitting the Proceedings of Casting Committees, will inspect all Horses proposed to be cast from Corps serving at their Head Quarters and enter in the Proceedings, under the head "Remarks" any observations they may deem fit to make.

6. A Remark is to be entered opposite any of the Horses considered serviceable for the Mounted Police, or for the use of the Cavalry Volunteer Guards.

HEAD QUARTERS : CHOULTRY PLAIN,

13TH JANUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders,

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 12 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 22ND DECEMBER 1857.

No. 1625 of 1857.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying Despatches relating to the first Relief of the Garrison of Lucknow, which have lately reached Government.

These Despatches contain an account of the proceedings of the Force under the Command of the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., before he forced his way into the City, as well as of the various operations carried on under Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., after a junction had been effected with the Garrison of the Residency on the 25th of September until the arrival of the Relieving Force under His Excellency General Sir Colin Campbell.

They show how thoroughly this gallant band has sustained the reputation of British Soldiers for courage, discipline, and determination, whether in the plain, in the hand to hand struggle of the street-fighting, or in the more wearying labours of the Siege.

The Governor General in Council has already had the satisfaction of acknowledging the obligations of the Government of India to Sir James Outram; but His Lordship in Council cannot deny himself the pleasure of expressing again his appreciation of Sir James Outram's eminent services, and his respect for the generous and soldier-like feeling which prompted Sir James to abstain from assuming the position due to his superior rank, and to leave in the hands of Sir Henry Havelock the completion of the undertaking which the latter had successfully begun.

To Brigadier Inglis, the Governor General in Council can give no higher praise than to say that, during the continuance of the Siege, after Sir James Outram had assumed the Chief Command in the Residency, his ability, energy, and vigilance were worthy of the lasting reputation which his conduct of the defence has secured to him.

Sir James Outram has acknowledged the efficient co-operation which he had from Brigadiers Hamilton and Stisted. To these Officers, as well as to Captain Bouverie and Captain Spurgin, serving on the Brigade Staff, the Governor General in Council desires to offer his hearty thanks for the good service they have done.

His Lordship in Council conveys to Major Eyre, who had already established a claim on the gratitude of the Government; to Captain Maude, Royal Artillery; to Captain Olpherts, Bengal Artillery; to Lieutenant Thomas, Commissary of Ordnance; and to the Officers and Men of the combined Force of Artillery, the assurance of the satisfaction with which he has received the evidence of their zeal and gallantry.

The labours that devolved upon the Engineer Department have been of a most important and difficult nature, and the Governor General in Council begs to assure Captain Crommelin, Commanding the Engineers; Lieutenant Hutchinson, Second in Command; Lieutenants Russell and Limond; the Officers and Men attached to, as well as those who volunteered to work with, the Department—his appreciation of the courage, skill, and energy with which they bore their very arduous part in the Siege.

Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, Commanding Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, deserves praise for the able manner in which he held an advanced post, exposed to the unceasing attacks of the Enemy; and to Captain Brasyer, Commanding the Regiment of Ferozepore; to Captain

Lockhart, Commanding Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders; to Captain Shute, Commanding a Detachment of Her Majesty's 64th, who have each maintained a difficult post with complete success; to Captain Willis, Commanding Her Majesty's 84th; to Captain Galwey, Commanding Madras Fusiliers; and to Lieutenant Mearn, Commanding Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, the Governor General in Council tenders his hearty thanks.

His Lordship in Council acknowledges with pleasure the cheerful alacrity with which Captain Barrow, Commanding Volunteer Cavalry, Captains Johnson and Hardinge, Commanding Irregular Cavalry, have come forward to volunteer their services on every opportunity: the latter Officer having also rendered good service as Deputy Quarter Master General.

The thanks of Government are due to Captain Garden, Assistant Quarter Master General; to Captain Moorsom, Her Majesty's 52nd Regiment, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, for the zeal they have exhibited in their various Departments; as also to Captains Alexander, Orr, and Carnegie, for their able services at the head of the Intelligence Department; and to Captain Macbean and Lieutenant James for the efficient manner in which, under their superintendence, the Commissariat arrangements have been carried out.

The Governor General in Council has great satisfaction in acknowledging the excellent provision made for the care of the Sick by the Medical Department under Superintending Surgeon J. Scott; and His Lordship in Council desires especially to tender his warm thanks to the Reverend Mr. Harris for the personal courage displayed by that gentleman in the discharge of his sacred duties, and for the unremitting assiduity with which he, throughout the Siege, has sought to allay the sufferings and provide for the comfort of the Sick and Wounded.

The Governor General in Council offers to Major North, Deputy Judge Advocate General; to Captain Hudson (H. M.'s 64th), Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; and to Lieutenant Hargood (Madras Fusiliers), serving on the Staff of the late Sir Henry Havelock, the thanks they have merited by the efficient discharge of their respective duties.

The support rendered to the Force, both in the Field and throughout the very intricate and difficult Engineering operations of the defence, by Colonel Napier, Military Secretary and Chief of the Adjutant General's Department, has been most valuable, and His Lordship in Council desires to assure Colonel Napier that his ability and exertions are fully appreciated by Government.

The Governor General in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the services of Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant General; Captain Gordon, Deputy Judge Advocate General; Lieutenants Sitwell and Chamier, of the Personal Staff of, and Mr. Money, Private Secretary to, Sir James Outram; of Captain Dawson and Ensign Hewitt, Orderly Officers, and of Mr. G. Couper, of the Civil Service, who volunteered to perform the duties of Aide-de-Camp.

In addition to those whose names have been more prominently brought to notice, the Governor General in Council desires to convey his hearty thanks to all Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men, who have been engaged in the operations referred to in these Despatches, for the valor they have displayed in the Field, for the firmness with which they have maintained their position in the City, and for the cheerful, willing, and earnest manner in which they have discharged all the various duties and borne the privations imposed upon them, under circumstances of extraordinary difficulty and hardship.

It will be a gratification to the Governor General in Council to bring the eminent services of Major General Sir James Outram's Force, Officers and Men, to the favorable notice of Her Majesty's Government and of the Hon'ble Court of Directors, by the first opportunity. Meanwhile the Governor General in Council directs, by a separate Order of this date, that the Donation Batta already granted to the Garrison under Brigadier Inglis shall be extended to Major General Sir James Outram's Force.

The Governor General in Council cannot conclude this notice of the events connected with the Relief of Lucknow without expressing his deep regret at the heavy loss which England has suffered by the fall of so many able Officers and gallant Men.

His Lordship in Council has already recorded his sense of the high worth of those true Soldiers, Sir Henry Havelock and Brigadier General Neill. Their names will be cherished with honor by their fellow-countrymen.

He now has to lament the untimely death of Colonel Campbell, Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, than whom the Queen's Service possessed no more gallant or promising Officer.

Major Haliburton, Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders; Major Cooper, Artillery; Major Simmons, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers; Major Stephenson, Madras Fusiliers; and many other brave Men amongst their comrades, have died in the discharge of their duty; and in memory of these the Governor General in Council desires to record his tribute of sorrow and gratitude.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,

No. 18 A.

FROM THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore, The 5th December 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, the Report, by Major-General Sir J. Outram, K. C. B., dated 25th Ultimo, of his operations subsequent to the 28th September last, and His Excellency would desire particularly to draw the attention of His Lordship to the skill displayed in the arrangements made for the defence of the position occupied by Sir J. Outram's Force at Lucknow, and to the gallantry and endurance of the Troops engaged.

2. Sir Colin Campbell would most especially refer to the valuable services of the late Major General Sir H. Havelock, whose death His Excellency, in common with the whole Army, deeply deplores, and of that talented and valuable Officer, Colonel R. Napier, of the Bengal Engineers, whose exertions were conspicuous and unceasing.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Lieut., Asst. Adjt. Genl. of Army.

FROM BRIGADIER GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force.
TO CAPTAIN H. W. NORMAN, Assistant Adjutant General, Head Quarters.

Residency, Lucknow, 30th September 1857.

SIR,—MAJOR GENERAL Sir James Outram, having, with characteristic generosity of feeling, declared that the Command of the Force should remain in my hands, and that he would accompany it as Civil Commissioner only, until a junction could be effected with the gallant and enduring Garrison of this place, I have to request that you will inform His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that this purpose was effected on the evening of the 25th Instant. But before detailing the circumstances, I must refer to antecedent events. I crossed the Sye on the 22nd Instant, the bridge at Bunnce not having been broken. On the 23rd I found myself in presence of the Enemy, who had taken a strong position, his left resting on the enclosure of the Alum Bagh, and his centre and right drawn up behind a chain of hillocks. The head of my Column at first suffered from the fire of his Guns, as it was compelled to pass along the Trunk Road between morasses; but as soon as my Regiments could be deployed along his front, and his right enveloped by my left, victory declared for us, and we captured five Guns. Sir James Outram, with his accustomed gallantry, passed on in advance, close down to the Canal. But as the Enemy fed his Artillery with Guns from the City, it was not possible to maintain this, or a less advanced position for a time taken up; but it became necessary to throw our right on the Alum Bagh, and refuse our left, and even then we were incessantly cannonaded throughout the 24th; and the Enemy's Cavalry, 1,500 strong, crept round through lofty cultivation, and made a sudden irruption upon the Baggage massed in our rear. The Soldiers of the 90th, forming the Baggage Guard, received them with great gallantry; but lost some brave Officers and Men, shooting down, however, 25 of the Troopers and putting the whole body to flight. They were finally driven to a distance by two Guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery.

The Troops had been marching for three days under a perfect deluge of rain, irregularly fed, and badly housed in villages. It was thought necessary to pitch tents, and permit them to halt on the 24th. The assault on the City was deferred until the 25th. That morning our Baggage and Tents were deposited in the Alum Bagh under an escort, and we advanced. The 1st Brigade, under Sir James Outram's personal leading, drove the Enemy from a succession of gardens and walled enclosures, supported by the 2nd Brigade, which I accompanied. Both Brigades were established on the Canal at the Bridge of Char Bagh.

From this point the direct road to the Residency was something less than two miles; but it was known to have been cut by trenches, and crossed by palisades at short intervals, the houses also being all loopholed. Progress in this direction was impossible; so the united Column pushed on, detouring along the narrow road which skirts the left bank of the Canal. Its advance was not seriously interrupted until it had come opposite the King's Palace or the Kaiser Bagh, where two Guns and a body of mercenary Troops were entrenched. From this Entrenchment a fire of Grape and Musketry was opened, under which nothing could live. The Artillery and Troops had to pass a Bridge partially under its influence; but were then shrouded by the buildings adjacent to the Palace of Fureed Buksh. Darkness was coming on, and Sir James Outram at first proposed to halt within the courts of the Mehal for the night; but I esteemed it to be of such importance to let the beleaguered Garrison know that succour was at hand, that with his ultimate sanction I directed the main body of the 78th Highlanders and Regiment of Ferozepore to advance. This Column rushed on with a desperate gallantry, led by Sir James Outram and myself, and Lieutenants Hudson and Hargood, of my Staff, through streets of flatroofed loopholed houses, from which a perpetual fire was kept up, and overcoming every obstacle, established itself within the enclosure of the Residency. The joy of the Garrison may be more easily conceived than described; but it was not till the next evening that the whole of my Troops, Guns, Tumbrils, and Sick and Wounded, continually exposed to the attacks of the Enemy, could be brought step by step within this enciente and the adjacent Palace of the Fureed Buksh. To form an adequate idea of the obstacles overcome, reference must be made to the events that are known to have occurred at Buenos Ayres and Saragossa. Our advance was through streets of houses such as I have described, and thus each forming a separate fortress. I am filled with surprise at the success of the operation, which demanded the efforts of 10,000 good Troops. The advantage gained has cost us dear. The killed, wounded, and missing, the latter being wounded Soldiers, who I much fear—some or all—have fallen into the hands of a merciless foe, amounted, up to the evening of the 26th, to 535 Officers and Men. Brigadier General Neill, Commanding 1st Brigade; Major Cooper, Brigadier, Commanding Artillery; Lieutenant Colonel Bazely, a Volunteer with the Force—are killed. Colonel Campbell, Commanding 90th Light Infantry; Lieutenant-Colonel Tytler, my Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; and Lieutenant Havelock, my Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, are severely, but not dangerously, wounded. Sir James Outram received a flesh wound in the arm in the early part of the action near Char Bagh; but nothing could subdue his spirit; and though faint from loss of blood, he continued to the end of the action to sit on his horse, which he only dismounted at the gate of the Residency. As he has now assumed the Command, I leave to him the narrative of all events subsequent to the 26th.

Enclosed is the return of Casualties up to that date.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

H. HAVELOCK, Brigadier-General, Commanding Oude Field Force.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL OUTRAM, Commanding Cawnpore and Dinapore Divisions,
TO MAJOR GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff.

Camp Alum Bagh, 25th November 1857.

Sir,—I HAVE the honor to acquaint His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief with the proceedings

- A. Report from General Havelock on operations of 16th November.
- B. Brigadier Inglis's Report of Garrison of Lucknow, also Engineer operations, Commissariat, &c. &c.
- C. Colonel Napier's Despatch of 25th and 26th in bringing up Siege Train, Sick and Wounded, &c.
- D. Colonel Napier's Despatch, reporting taking of Phillip's Garden Battery on 1st and 2nd October 1857.
- E. General Havelock's letter, forwarding Colonel Napier's Report of operations in Palaces.
- F. Brigadier Inglis's detailed Reports of Sorties, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4.
- G. Report of Captain Crommelin, Chief Engineer.
- H. Lieutenant Hutchinson's plan of Capt. Lockhart's post of this Force since the 28th of September, the date of my last Despatch, and beg to refer to the Documents enumerated in the margin. General Havelock has Commanded the Field Force occupying the Palaces and Out posts, and Brigadier Inglis has continued in Command of the Lucknow Garrison—an arrangement that has proved most convenient.

The first work required was to open a Roadway through the Palaces for the heavy Train, which had been brought into one of the Gardens on the 27th September, and by the 1st October was safely parked within the Entrenchment.

Contrary to the expectations expressed in my last Despatch, the Enemy, relying on the strong position of their remaining Battery, (the one known as "Phillips' Battery," continued to annoy the Garrison by its fire, and to maintain there a strong Force. Its capture, therefore, became necessary, and this was effected on the 2nd October, with the comparatively trifling loss of two killed and eleven wounded,—a result which was due to the careful and scientific dispositions of Colonel Napier, under whose personal guidance the operation was conducted. Three Guns were taken and burst; their carriages destroyed; and a large house in the Garden, which had been the Enemy's stronghold, was blown up.

With a view to the possibility of adopting the Cawnpore road as my line of communication with Alum Bagh, Major Haliburton, 78th Highlanders, commenced on the 3rd to work from house to house with the crow-bar and pick-axe.

On the 4th, this gallant Officer was mortally wounded; and his successor, Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers disabled. During the whole of the 5th, these proceedings were continued; but on the 6th they were relinquished, it being found that a large Mosque, strongly occupied by the Enemy, required more extensive operations for its capture than were expedient; therefore, after blowing up all the principal houses on the Cawnpore road, from which the Garrison had been annoyed by Musketry, the Reconnoitring party gradually withdrew to the post in front of Phillips Garden, which has since been retained as a permanent Outpost, affording comfortable accommodation to H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, and protecting a considerable portion of the entrenchment from molestation, besides connecting it with the Palaces occupied by General Havelock. During the foregoing operations, the Enemy, recovering from their first surprise, commenced to threaten our positions in the Palaces and Outposts by mining and assaults. As there were only a few Miners in the Garrison, and none with the Field Force, the Enemy could not be prevented from exploding three Mines, causing us a loss of several men; and on the 6th they actually penetrated into the Palaces in considerable numbers.

But they paid dearly for their temerity, being intercepted and slain at all points. Their loss on that day was reported in the city to have been 450 men.

A Company of Miners, formed of Volunteers from the several Corps, was placed at the disposal of the Chief Engineer, which soon gave him the ascendancy over the Enemy, who were foiled at all points, with the loss of their Galleries and Mines, and the destruction of their Miners in repeated instances.

The Sikhs of the Ferozepore Regiment have zealously labored at their own Mines, and though separated only by a narrow passage (16 feet wide) from the Enemy, have, under the guidance and direction of the Engineer Department, defended and protected their position.

The Outpost of H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, under Captain Lockhart, has also been vigorously assailed by the Enemy's Miners. Its proximity to the Entrenchment made it convenient to place it under the charge of the Officiating Garrison Engineer, Lieutenant Hutchinson, under whose skilful directions the Enemy have been completely out-mined by the Soldiers of H. M.'s 78th Regiment.

I am aware of no parallel to our series of Mines in modern War: 21 Shafts, aggregating 200 feet in depth, and 3,291 feet of Gallery, have been executed. The Enemy advanced 20 Mines against the Palaces and Outposts; of these they exploded three, which caused us loss of life, and two, which did no injury: seven have been blown in; and out of seven others, the Enemy have been driven, and their Galleries taken possession of by our Miners;—results of which the Engineer Department may well be proud. The reports and plans forwarded by Sir Henry Havelock, K. C. B., and now submitted to His Excellency, will explain how a line of Gardens, Courts and dwelling houses, without fortified enceinte, without flanking Defences, and closely connected with the buildings of a City, has been maintained for eight weeks in a certain degree of security; but notwithstanding the close and constant Musketry fire from loopholed walls and windows, often within 30 yards, and from every lofty building within Rifle range, and notwithstanding a frequent though desultory fire of Round Shot and Grape from Guns posted at various distances, from 70 to 500 yards! This result has been obtained by the skill and courage of the Engineer and Quarter Master General's Departments, zealously aided by the brave Officers and Soldiers who have displayed the same cool determination and cheerful alacrity in the toils of the Trench and amidst the concealed dangers of the Mine, that they had previously exhibited, when forcing their way into Lucknow at the point of the bayonet and amidst a most murderous fire.

But skilful and courageous as have been the Engineering operations, and glorious the behaviour of the Troops, their success has been in no small degree promoted by the incessant and selfdenying devotion of Colonel Napier,—who has never been many hours absent by day or night from any one of the points of operation,—whose valuable advice has ever been readily tendered and gratefully accepted by the Executive Officers,—whose earnestness and kindly cordiality have stimulated and encouraged all ranks and grades, amidst their harassing difficulties and dangerous labours.

I now lay before His Excellency, Brigadier Inglis' Report of the proceedings in the Garrison, since its relief by the Force under my Command, since the capture of the Enemy's Batteries, and the occupation of the Palaces and Posts.

The position occupied by the Oude Field Force relieved the Garrison of the Entrenchment from all molestation on one-half of its enceinte,—that is, from the Cawnpore road to the commencement of the River front; and the Garrison, reinforced by Detachments of the 78th and Madras Fusiliers, was enabled to hold as Outposts three strong positions commanding the road leading to the Iron Bridge, which have proved of great advantage, causing much annoyance to the Enemy, and keeping their Musketry fire at a distance from the body of the place.

The Defences, which had been barely tenable, were thoroughly repaired, and new Batteries were constructed to mount 13 additional Guns.

The Enemy, after the capture of the Batteries, adopted a new system of tactics. Their Guns were withdrawn to a greater distance, and disposed so as to act not against the Defences, but against the interior of the Entrenchment.

The moment they were searched out and silenced by our Guns, their position was changed, so that their Shot ranged through the Entrenchment; and but for the desultory nature of their fire might have been very destructive.

Under the care of the Superintending Surgeon, Dr. Scott, the Hospital was securely barricaded without detriment to ventilation.

From the Revd. J. P. Harris, Chaplain of the Garrison, the Sick and Wounded received the most marked and personal kindness. His spiritual ministrations in the Hospital were incessant; his Christian zeal and earnest philanthropy I have had constant opportunities of observing since my arrival in Lucknow; and but one testimony is borne to his exertions during the Siege and to the personal bravery he displayed in hastening from house to house in pursuit of his sacred calling, under the heaviest fire. Daily he had to read the funeral service over numbers of the Garrison, exposed to Shot, Shell and Musketry.

Order was established in the Magazine under Captain Thomas, the Garrison Commandant of Artillery and Commissary of Ordnance; and under Doctor Ogilvie, Sanatory Commissioner, the conservancy Department effected great and visible improvements in the condition of the Entrenchments, besides removing the horrible collection of filth and putrid carcasses which had accumulated in the Palaces taken possession of by the Relieving Force.

I cannot conclude this Report without expressing to His Excellency my intense admiration of the noble spirit displayed by all ranks and grades of the Force since we entered Lucknow. Themselves placed in a state of Siege,—suddenly reduced to scanty and unsavoury rations,—denied all the little luxuries, (such as Tea, Sugar, Rum and Tobacco,) which by constant use, had become to them almost necessities of life,—smitten, in many cases, by the same scorbutic affections and other evidences of debility, which prevailed amongst the original Garrison,—compelled to engage in laborious operations;—exposed to constant danger, and kept ever on the alert—their spirits and cheerfulness, and zeal and discipline, seemed to rise with the occasion. Never could there have been a Force more free from grumblers, more cheerful, more willing, or more earnest.

Amongst the Sick and Wounded this glorious spirit was, if possible, still more conspicuous than amongst those fit for duty.

It was a painful sight to see so many noble fellows maimed and suffering, and denied those comforts of which they stood so much in need.

But it was truly delightful and made one proud of his Countrymen, to observe the heroic fortitude and hearty cheerfulness with which all was borne.

My cordial acknowledgments are due to Brigadiers Hamilton and Stisted, and to their Brigade Staff—Captains Spurgin and Bouverie—for the efficient disposition of their Troops under General Havelock's orders and direction, and the vigilance with which they have guarded their extended position.

The glorious reputation which his defence of Lucknow has won for Brigadier Inglis, leaves little room for further commendation for the able manner in which that defence has been continued,—the vigor with which the defences of his Garrison have been improved and extended—and the unceasing vigilance which rendered every effort of the Enemy to assail him utterly hopeless. I cordially concur in, and second his recommendation to the favorable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, of the several Officers named in his Despatch.

To the gallant Brigadier Eyre, Commanding the Artillery, whose victories at Arrah and Jugdespore have already given him an European reputation; to the brave Captains Olpherts, of the Bengal Artillery; and Maude, of the Royal Artillery, Commanding Batteries; to Lieutenant Thomas, Commissary of Ordnance; and to the Officers and Men of the combined Force of Artillery, my hearty and sincere thanks are due. The duties which have fallen on them have been most arduous, and have been carried through with the zeal and gallantry which have ever distinguished their noble arm of the Service.

Captain Crommelin, Commanding the Engineer Department, has had to undertake very important duties of a novel and difficult nature, without trained Sappers and without any Establishment of trained Subordinates, and with a very small Staff. Under these disadvantages, combined with the very serious one of ill-health, Captain Crommelin, aided by the Executive Department, converted the open arcaded halls of the Palace into secure Barracks, and has kept aloof the Enemy's Miners.

To Captain Crommelin; to his gallant and energetic Second in Command, Lieutenant Hutchinson; to Lieutenants Russell and Limond, and the Officers and Men recommended by Captain Crommelin, I am very greatly indebted.

I have particularly to recommend to His Excellency's notice Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, Commanding H. M.'s 90th L. I., who throughout these operations has had charge of the advanced Garden and its dependent posts, which have been exposed to the unceasing attack of the Enemy. For the very able manner in which these posts have been held, Colonel Purnell deserves the highest praise.

Captain Brasyer, Commanding the Regiment of Ferozepore; and Captain Lockhart, Commanding H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, have each maintained a difficult position with the most perfect success. These Officers, to whom I must also add Captain Shute, Commanding Detachment H. M.'s 64th Regiment, have gallantly led their men in every Sortie.

To Captain Willis, Commanding H. M.'s 84th Regiment; Captain Galwey, Commanding Madras Fusiliers; and Lieutenant Meara, Commanding H. M.'s 5th Regiment (Fusiliers), I must tender my acknowledgments. Captain Barrow, Commanding Volunteer Cavalry; Captains Johnson and Hardinge, Commanding Irregular Cavalry, though precluded from acting in their proper capacity, have zealously volunteered for every service in which they or their men could be useful, and have maintained posts, or furnished working parties with cheerful alacrity.

To Captain Garden, Assistant Quarter Master General; to Captain Hardinge, Officiating Deputy Quarter Master General; Captain Moorsom, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, my thanks are particularly due; and also to Captains Alexander, Orr and Carnegie, for their services at the head of the Intelligence Department;—notwithstanding the complete hostility of the country, many trustworthy messengers have been furnished by which communications have been safely carried to Alum Bagh and Cawnpore. Captain Moorsom, of H. M.'s 52nd Regiment, having surveyed the City and environs of Lucknow previous to the outbreak of hostilities, has constantly been able to render most important service, and is a very bold and intelligent Officer.

The Commissariat arrangements have been most efficiently conducted under Captain Macbean, attached to the Oude Field Force; and Lieutenant James, attached to the Garrison; and I have to thank them for their valuable services.

I beg to recommend, to particular notice, the excellent arrangements made for the care of the Sick by the Medical Department under Superintending Surgeon J. Scott, whose energy and zeal have been unremitting in the performance of his arduous duties.

I have further to recommend to His Excellency's notice Lieutenant Hudson, H. M.'s 64th Regiment, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; and Lieutenant Hargood, Madras Fusiliers, A. D. C. on the Staff of the late Sir H. Havelock; also the Officers of my Divisional and Personal Staff.

To Major North, General Havelock's Deputy Judge Advocate General, and subsequently one of the Prize Agents, my thanks are due for the readiness and success with which he established and superintended the manufacture of Enfield Rifle Cartridges.

This valuable service was rendered without any relaxation of his other duties, in the prosecution of which he met with a wound.

The pleasing duty now remains of acknowledging my obligations to my Personal Staff.

To Colonel Napier, Military Secretary, Chief of the Adjutant General's Department, for the efficient support I have ever received from him throughout these operations, and whose gallantry in the Field was as conspicuous as his able guidance of the Engineering operations above detailed was valuable.

I have much pleasure in making favorable mention of the services of Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant General, who has afforded me every assistance; also Captain Gordon, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

My Aides-de-Camp—Lieutenants Sitwell and Chamier—have rendered me most constant and zealous aid. I was unfortunately deprived of Lieutenant Sitwell's services on the 25th September, owing to a contusion received early in the day; and again, on returning from the Garrison, from a severe wound on the 17th November. Lieutenant Chamier has attended at my side in the Field throughout every operation.

My thanks are due also to my Private Secretary, Mr. W. J. Money, who has accompanied the Army in the Field in addition to his valuable services in his Civil capacity.

I have to acknowledge the services of Captain Dawson and Ensign Hewitt, Orderly Officers. I was glad to avail myself of the services of Mr. George Couper, C. S., who volunteered to perform the duties of an Aide-de-Camp during our stay in the Garrison and on the night of our retiring from it.

It is with the deepest regret that I have to record at the head of the gallant and distinguished Officers who have so zealously and ably aided these operations, and whose loss their country has to deplore, the name of the lamented Sir Henry Havelock, on whose merits it would be superfluous for me to dwell. Worn out by toils and exposure, he lived but long enough to witness the end for which he had fought so nobly, and to receive the valued token conveyed to him of the approbation of his Sovereign.

Colonel Campbell, of H. M.'s 90th L. I., who, in my former Despatch, was returned as wounded, has since died. In him England has lost a most gallant and distinguished Officer.

By the fall of the gallant Officers—Major Haliburton, H. M.'s 78th; Major Simmonds, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers; and Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers, the country and service have sustained a very heavy loss.

I have also, with sorrow, to record the loss of the many other valuable Officers and Soldiers who have fallen in the performance of their duty during the course of these operations, which have involved a total loss (subsequently to those reported in General Havelock's Despatch of the 28th October,) of 6 European Officers, 1 Native Officer, and 120 Rank and File killed; 27 European Officers, 7 Native, and 382 Rank and File wounded; total, 551 killed and wounded.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. OUTRAM, Major-General, Comdg. Cawnpore and Dinapore Division.

From MAJOR GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force.

To COLONEL R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff, &c.

To MAJOR GENERAL SIR JAMES OUTRAM, G. C. B.,

Lucknow, 16th November 1857.

SIR,—I beg to report, for the information of Major General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the complete success of the operations in which the Troops of my Division were employed under his own eye this evening, in capturing a succession of houses in advance of the Palace of Fureed Buksh. I have given in the margin the details of Detachments employed. The nature of the enterprize may be shortly described as follows. The progress of the relieving Force under His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief was anxiously watched, and it was determined that as soon as he should reach the Sikunder Bagh, about three miles from the Residency, the outer wall of the Advance Garden of the Palace, in which the Enemy had before made several breaches, should be blown in by Mines previously prepared; that two powerful Batteries erected in the enclosure should then open on the Insurgents' Defences in front, and after the desired effect had been produced, that the Troops should storm two buildings, known by the names of the Hern Khana, or Deer-house, and the Steam Engine-house. Under these also, three Mines had been driven.

Reserve 200 from 5th Fusiliers, 78th Highlanders, and Regiment of Ferozepore.

Each Column being accompanied by a party of Miners, with tools and Powder bags, under Command of an Engineer Officer.

It was ascertained, about 11 A. M. that Sir Colin Campbell was operating against the Sikunder Bagh. The explosion of the Mines in the Garden was therefore ordered. Their action was, however, comparatively feeble, so the Batteries had the double task of completing the demolition of the wall and prostrating and breaching the works and the buildings beyond it. Brigadier Eyre commanded in the left Battery; Captain Olpherts in the right; Captain Maude shelled from six Mortars in a more retired quadrangle of the Palace. The Troops were formed in the Square of the Chuttur Munzil, and brought up in succession through the approaches, which in every direction intersected the Advance Garden. At $\frac{1}{4}$ past 3 two of the Mines at the Hern Khana exploded with good effect. At half-past 3 the advance sounded. It is impossible to describe the enthusiasm with which this signal was received by the Troops. Pent up in action for upwards of six weeks, and subjected to constant attacks, they felt that the hour of retribution and glorious exertion had returned.

Their cheers echoed through the Courts of the Palace, responsive to the bugle sound, and on they rushed to assured victory. The Enemy could nowhere withstand them. In a few minutes the whole of the buildings were in our possession, and have since been armed with Cannon and steadily held against all attack. It will be seen by the enclosed Return that the loss has been small. I received, throughout the operations, the most effective aid from my Staff—Lieutenant Hudson, Acting Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Lieutenant Moorsom, 52nd Light Infantry,

Acting Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Hargood, 1st Madras Fusiliers, my Aide-de-Camp; and Lieutenant C. W. Havelock, 12th Irregular Cavalry, my Orderly Officer.

The Officers of Artillery—Brigadier Eyre, and Captains Olpherts and Maude—have earned my best thanks.

I must commend all the Officers in charge of Detachments; but most prominently Lieutenant Colonel Purnell, 90th Light Infantry, whose conduct throughout the affair evinced the most distinguished gallantry united to imperturbable coolness, and the soundest judgment; as well as to Lieutenants Russell, Hutchinson, and Limond, of the Engineers, and Captain Oakes (attached) who showed the way to the several points of attack.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. HAVELOCK, Major-General, Commanding Oude Field Force.

J. HUDSON, Lieut., Acting Depy. Asst. Adj. Genl., Oude Field Force.

From BRIGADIER J. INGLIS, Commanding the Garrison of Lucknow,

To COLONEL R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff, &c.

Lucknow Garrison, 12th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to request that you will do me the favor to submit to Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., Commanding the Forces, the following record of events in this position since the arrival of the Army under his Command.

1. On the following morning I received instructions to place under the orders of Major Haliburton, 78th Highlanders, as strong a Detachment as I could spare from the Garrison, in order to strengthen the Rear Guard which had been left at Mr. Martin's house, in charge of the heavy Guns that had arrived with the Force. I accordingly detailed a Party of 100 men of the 32nd Foot, under the Command of Captain Lowe, who was accompanied by Captain Bassano, Captain McCabe, and Lieutenant Cooke, of the same Corps. This Detachment remained all day in position with the Rear Guard, and on the following morning it covered the extreme rear, on the march into the "Fureed Buksh" whence Captain McCabe led a party of Volunteers, composed of the 5th, 32nd, and 90th Regiments, into a Garden, and routed the Enemy with great slaughter. Early the next day, this Detachment, having performed the arduous duties assigned them, returned to my Garrison. In these operations, the 32nd Regiment had one Serjeant and one Private killed, and two Serjeants and two Privates wounded. Captain Lowe also received a severe wound.

2. The report of the several Sorties made under the direction of the Major-General Commanding the Forces, and in which Detachments from this Garrison have borne (I would fain hope) a distinguished part, have been so fully detailed by the Officers who Commanded on these occasions, that I need not enter further on the subject than to express my admiration of the gallant and devoted behaviour of both Officers and Men.

3. As soon as these operations were terminated, I turned my attention to the state of the Batteries and Defences of this position, many of which were in a very dilapidated state, as the Major-General is aware, especially the part called the Brigade Mess, at either flank of which was an open breach, neither of which we had ever been able to repair or strengthen; or ever adequately to defend. But the large number of Doolie Bearers placed at my disposal by the Chief of the Staff, and the increased strength of the Garrison, enabled me to carry on the works with vigor, and to materially strengthen all my critical positions.

4. Since the arrival of the Force, a large Mound and a Masjid adjacent to Innes' post were taken possession of by the late Lieutenant Graydon, and have been made defensible, as they completely overlook and command the Iron Bridge, and approach therefrom. A description of the works that have been carried out is fully given in the appended Memorandum by the Engineer Officer. Great praise is due to the great professional skill, the persevering energy, and the untiring personal activity displayed by Lieutenant Hutchinson, under whom the works have been carried out.

5. Owing to the extreme paucity of numbers attached to the Garrison Magazine, and the harassing duties which have devolved on this Establishment during this very protracted Siege, it has necessarily always been in a somewhat unsatisfactory state, and I gladly seized the opportunity to remodel it. With this end in view, I directed Lieutenant Thomas, in charge of the Magazine, to remove it to the Post Office compound, as affording the most convenient site for piling Shot and collecting together the various materials appertaining to this Department. This duty has been ably performed by Mr. Conductor Bewsey, Officiating Sub-Conductor, under the directions of Lieutenant Thomas, and I have now the pleasure to report that all the spare Shot and Shell has been collected, gauged and piled. The spare Muskets and Musket Barrels have also been collected, and a large supply of Cartridges, Wads, Fuzes, Quick and Slow Matches, have been prepared. The Establishment have besides been employed in repairing Sponge Stalls, grummetting Shot and Shell, and in collecting wood, iron, lead, and other materials from the Fureed Buksh and other places. The Ordnance Drivers have also rendered assistance in removing Guns and Mortars, and in erecting and repairing Batteries and issuing Stores.

6. The buried Treasure, amounting to nearly twenty-five lakhs of Rupees, is being exhumed, and placed again under the charge of the Civil Authorities.

7. The Commissariat arrangements made in Garrison, under the directions of Sir James Outram, G. C. B., have involved a considerable reduction in rations, and this deprivation, coming as it did upon the Garrison at the end of so long a Siege, in addition to the want of Malt Liquor and Spirits, has borne somewhat heavily on every one; but all have sustained the deprivation cheerfully, and none more so than the women, whose admirable conduct I have alluded to in a former Despatch. An appended Memorandum, furnished by the Garrison Commissariat Officer, enters fully into the Commissariat arrangements that have been made.

8. The great number of Wounded which accompanied the Major-General's Force into this position, speedily increased the number of Patients from 130 to 627, and as nearly all arrived without bedding, and as there was besides but a small supply of medicine, it became necessary to make every arrangement to meet these wants. In order to provide the requisite shelter, two large double-pole tents have been pitched close to the Hospital portico, and a large room in the Begum Kotee made over for the accommodation of wounded Officers. The buildings in the Central Seikh Square were also assigned to the remaining portion of the Sick and Wounded. Old tents have been cut up for bedding, and the Patients have been made as comfortable as circumstances would admit; and I am sure that Sir James Outram, G. C. B., will have viewed, with the same satisfaction as myself, the excellent arrangements which have been made by that indefatigable Officer, Superintending Surgeon Scott.

9. During the period which this Report embraces, the proceedings of the Enemy have been marked by much less activity than heretofore. Several of their Guns, however, have been moved across the River, whence they have kept up a desultory cannonade, which has been silenced on most occasions by a few rounds of our heavy Ordnance.

10. Their Musketry fire has, however, occasionally been so heavy, especially by night, as to induce a belief that they intended an attack; but these demonstrations have rarely lasted for any lengthened period, though they have rendered it necessary that every man should be under arms for the time. Owing to the repairs made to our Defences, and the increased cover obtained thereby, our casualties on these occasions have been but few.

11. Among the Officers belonging to this Garrison, who have fallen since the advent of the Major General's Force, I deeply regret to have to record the loss of Captain Hughes, of the 57th Regiment N. I., doing duty with H. M.'s 32nd Foot, who was mortally wounded at the attack of a house which formed one of the Enemy's out posts. Captain McCabe, H. M.'s 32nd Foot, a most distinguished Officer, has also fallen; he received his death-wound while leading his fourth Sortie. Lieutenant Graydon, too, of the 44th Regiment N. I., an Officer of great merit was mortally wounded while assisting in barricading his post.

12. Of the Officers attached to this Garrison, who have had opportunities of distinguishing themselves, I would beg to bring to notice the gallant conduct of Captain Lowe and Lieutenant Lawrence, of H. M.'s 32nd Foot, who have each led a Sortie; Lieutenant Hardinge, too, Officiating Deputy Quarter Master General, who headed two Sorties; also Lieutenant Aitken, accompanied by Lieutenant Cubitt, of the 13th Regiment N. I., who led a Party of his Regiment to a successful attack on a barricaded Gate-way held by the Enemy; Major Apthorp and Captain Kemble, 41st Regiment N. I.; Lieutenants Huxham (wounded slightly in two places) and Ouseley 48th Regiment N. I.; Lieutenant Warner, of the 7th L. C.; Lieutenant Cooke, H. M.'s 32nd Foot; and Lieutenant Mecham, of the Madras Army—also accompanied Sorties and distinguished themselves.

13. Neither must I omit to record my appreciation of the gallant bearing of the Engineer Officers—Lieutenants Anderson, Hutchinson, and Innes—who accompanied the Storming Parties.

14. My thanks are due to the Officers Commanding Outposts, who have continued to evince the same vigilance and gallantry that has characterized their conduct throughout this memorable Siege.

15. I have already expressed my inability to do justice to the behaviour of the Troops, both European and Native, and I can therefore only say that they have continued to exhibit the same gallantry under fire, and the same patience under suffering and privation as heretofore.

16. The several Officers who compose my Staff, have continued to render me every assistance, and have given me every satisfaction in their several Departments.

17. Lastly, I beg to express my grateful acknowledgments to the Major-General Commanding the Forces for the additional Force placed at my disposal, composed of Detachments of the Artillery, Volunteer Cavalry, 1st Madras Fusiliers, and 78th Highlanders, all of whom have borne themselves as becomes British Soldiers. I have also to add my deep sense of the valuable counsel and advice which I have received from yourself on all occasions.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Lucknow Garrison.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force,
TO CAPTAIN DODGSON, Assistant Adjutant General.

Lucknow, 19th November 1857.

SIR,—I BEG to forward, for submission to Major General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the accompanying Report of Captain Crommelin, Field Engineer, with plans, and rejoice in this opportunity of testifying to the merits of this Officer, and his untiring industry when the state of his health has permitted his exertions to be fully developed.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

HENRY HAVELOCK, Major-Genl., Comdg. Oude Field Force.

FROM CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force.

Camp Alum Bagh, 25th November 1857.

SIR,—In continuation of my letter dated 12th Instant, I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Oude Field Force, upon the "Final Engineering Offensive Operations" at the Palace and Gardens of the Chuttur Munzil.

The Cavalier Battery, alluded to at the conclusion of my previous Report, was completed during the night of the 13th Instant, and was armed with the heavy Guns on the morning of the 14th, viz., the day originally appointed for the storming of the Hern Khana, Engine-house, and King's Stables.

During the night of the 13th, 29 charges of Powder (each 25 lbs. in weight) were laid in chambers that had been previously prepared for them, under the foundation of the East face of the advanced Garden wall, and immediately in front of the Cavalier Battery. These charges were intended for the demolition of that part of the wall that screened the Engine-house, Stables, and the other adjacent buildings that were to be breached from the Guns of the Battery. I would here remind you that our attack was postponed from the morning of the 14th to that of the 16th. The charges of Powder were thus exposed, in common Canvas bags, for more than forty-eight hours, to the damaging influence of a very damp sandy soil; so that when they were exploded, their effect, owing to the deterioration of the Powder, was only sufficient to shake and split the wall in several places, and to form a small breach. The wall, however, was so much injured, that the Artillery had an easy task in battering down as much as was necessary. The charges, I may mention, were half as large again as those recommended by Sir W. Pasley (our best practical authority on this as well as most other points of Engineering detail), and were such as had been successfully used by myself at Peshawur in a precisely similar case.

During the night of the 12th and 13th, the trench (d,d) was widened for the passage of Guns; screens were also constructed in the advanced Garden; and other precautionary measures taken, to protect our Force against any Musket fire that might be poured in through the breaches in our own wall.

During the 15th the three Mines that had been prepared for the formation of breaches in the Hern Khana were loaded and tamped. These Mines were sprung on the afternoon of the 16th. That at the North-west corner of the building effected the breach by which the Right and Centre Columns of Attack entered. Lieutenant Hall, in his Report, erroneously states that this breach was made by the 18-Pounder Gun at the Barricade.

The centre Mine failed to explode, owing, I imagine, to some wet Sand having been dislodged from the roof of the Mine by the concussion of our Artillery, and having fallen upon the Powder house.

The left charge, which was the largest, exploded; but it proved to be 10 feet short of the building and consequently effected no breach or injury. This error in the position of the charge is not to be wondered at, when it is considered—1st, that we could not, by the most careful survey, satisfy ourselves as to the exact position of the Hern Khana, and, 2ndly, that we could not survey the Mine itself with the prismatic compass, as no lights would burn owing to the foulness of the air near the end of a gallery that had been carried to the (I believe) unprecedented length of 289 feet without the aid of air-pipes.

On the morning of the 16th every thing was ready for the attack upon the Hern Khana, Engine-house, and Stables. Copies of instructions, the details of which had been prepared by myself, from Memoranda drawn out by Colonel Napier, (Chief of the Staff,) were handed over to each of the five Officers Commanding the Storming Parties, and to the Engineer Officers accompanying them; and these instructions were further explained, by the aid of plans, to several of the Commanding Officers.

For an account of the operations of the Storming Parties I must refer to the enclosed Reports (in original) of Lieutenants Hutchinson, Russell, Limond, and Hall, with the remark that the duties of the Officers under my Command appear to me to have been rapidly and efficiently carried out.

I must also refer to a separate Report by Lieutenant Hutchinson, Directing Engineer, upon the Engineering operations, from the 16th November to the hour of our evacuation of the Bailey Guard Entrenchment and Chuttur Munzil Palace—confinement to my quarters owing to an injury of the leg having prevented my superintending them personally.

It now remains for me to bring to the favorable notice of the Major-General Commanding, those Officers and Men of the Engineer Department who have rendered good service; and in the first place, I trust it may not be considered out of order, that I here thankfully record my acknowledgment of the assistance that has always been afforded me by my experienced brother Officer, Colonel Napier, Military Secretary and Chief of the Staff to Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., who, notwithstanding the pressure of his other important duties, was ever ready to aid me with his valuable counsel and advice, to meet my constant demands for workmen and Materials, and to superintend and direct the works during the last month of our operations, when I was disabled from personally superintending them myself.

Lieutenant G. Hutchinson, of Engineers, deserves very great credit for the very able manner in which he discharged the duties of Directing Engineer of the works during the last ten days of our operations. His services as one of the Engineers of the original Garrison will be duly reported by the proper Authority.

Lieutenant Russell, of Engineers, has rendered me very efficient aid as Brigade Major of Engineers; his constant and unwearying exertions, both by night and by day, merit my best thanks and the highest praise.

Lieutenant Limond, the only other Engineer Officer under my Command, has also proved himself a very able and energetic Officer, and has rendered very excellent service. To him, and to Lieutenant Russell, was entrusted the general supervision of all the works from the time that I was disabled until the appointment of Lieutenant Hutchinson as Directing Engineer—a period of about three weeks.

The Officers and Volunteers that have acted in the capacity of Assistant Field Engineers have, without exception, given me their best and readiest assistance; but I may with justice more conspicuously notice the names of Captain Oakes, 8th N. I.; Lieutenant Hall, 1st Bengal Fusiliers; Mr. Goldsworthy, Volunteer Cavalry; and of Mr. Cavanagh, Superintendent of the Chief Commissioner's Office.

Sergeants Duffy and Connell, Assistant Overseers in the Department of Public Works, have proved most useful, and their duties in supervising workmen and collecting materials, &c. &c., have been most cheerfully and efficiently performed.

I cannot close this Report, without noticing, in the most favorable manner, the important services performed by the under-mentioned Soldiers as Superintendents of Miners:—

Acting Sergeant Cullimore	} H. M.'s 32nd Regiment.
" " Banetta...
" " Farrer ...
Corporal Dowling ...

Corporal Hosey, Madras Fusiliers.

Private Baylan, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers.

Their duties have been of a very dangerous and arduous character, and have invariably been performed to my complete satisfaction.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

W. A. CROMMELIN, Captain, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force.

FROM LIEUTENANT G. HUTCHINSON, Engineers, Director of Works.

TO CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Engineers, Chief Engineer.

Lucknow, 21st November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward Lieutenant Limond's statement regarding the Sortie Party he led; also that of Lieutenant Hall.

With reference to my own Party, I have to state that, starting from the Garden Picquet-house, Captain Shute and myself led the Party to foot of Stockade which we scaled, and that then I turned off at once for the house called Captain Orr's, and in unison with Lieutenant Hall and Lieutenant Hay, who accompanied me, commenced carrying out our instructions. Up to this time not a man had been lost. Captain Shute led his men on beyond the Hern Khana, and took a Garden and a Gun.

Our Mines exploded short; but the Mine from the Garden Picquet decidedly shook and damaged the wall.

Communication with the Garden was completed during the night, and all barricades, loop-holes, &c.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

G. HUTCHINSON, Lieutenant, Director of Works.

FROM LIEUTENANT M. HALL, Assistant Field Engineer.

TO CAPTAIN HUTCHINSON, Directing Engineer.

Hern Khana, 21st November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Captain Crommelin, Field Engineer that, in accordance with his instructions, I accompanied the Right Column of Attack on the Hern Khana, under Captain Willis, 84th Regiment, on the 16th Instant.

Immediately after the explosion of the Barricade Mine, we sallied out and made for the part of the building where it was intended the Right breach should have been made. On arriving at the wall of the Hern Khana, we found the crater of the Mine, which was about ten feet short of the wall which remained uninjured. We therefore turned to the left, and entered the Hern Khana by the Left breach, which had been made by the 18-Pounder Gun at the Barricade at end of lane.

On getting into the Hern Khana we turned to our right, passed across the open square, and immediately commenced loopholing the wall which commands the street dividing our position from the Kaiser Bagh. On your arrival I reported myself to you.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

M. HALL, Lieut. 1st Bengal Fusiliers, Assistant Field Engineer.

FROM LIEUTENANT D. LIMOND, Engineers,
TO CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force.

Lucknow, 21st November, 1857.

SIR,—ACCORDING to orders, Lieutenant Chalmers, Asst. Field Engineer, and myself, accompanied the Detachment of the 90th Regiment L. I. on the attack upon the Engine-house. Keeping to the left on passing that building, we found the Rebels evacuating the same, and followed them up to the most advanced building, the "Overseer's House," which I at once directed to be barricaded. The Enemy opened on it with Guns from the Kaiser Bagh, and the house was then abandoned and burnt by Colonel Purnell's orders. The East wall of the Barahduree enclosure was at once loopholed, and the windows to the South blocked up with Sand bags. During the night a Battery for three light Guns was constructed at the Southren extremity of the lane, between the King's Stables and Barahduree enclosure. The doors and windows of the Engine-house facing the River were also barricaded. During the night a trench-covered communication was opened to the Advanced Garden, none being necessary between the Engine-house and King's Stables.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

DAVID LIMOND, Lieutenant, Engineers.

FROM LIEUTENANT J. RUSSEL, Brigade Major of Engineers,
TO CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Chief Engineer.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that, according to order, Capt. Oakes, Asst. Field Engineer and myself, accompanied the Detachment under Command of Captain Lockhart, H. M.'s 78th, on the 16th Instant, in the attack upon the King's Stables.

The Detachment was drawn up in line in the front Trench of the advanced Garden, and on the order for the advance being given, we crossed the parapet of the Trench and the breach in our front, and doubled across the open to the King's Stables, on reaching which some confusion occurred, for the lower part of the breach that had been made by our Guns was some 4 feet from the ground; and not seeing any easy mode of ingress, Captain Lockhart led the way into the enclosure of the Steam Engine-house on the left, and was followed by many of his men.

On his mistake being pointed out, however, he returned, and in company we entered the Court yard of the Stables, which we found deserted. The men of the Detachment followed us as quickly as they could.

Our orders were to man the walls of the Stables on the side of the Enemy; but the latter were retreating fast, pressed by our Troops from the Hern Khana, on seeing which many of the Detachment to which I was attached rushed across the road without orders and joined in the pursuit.

At Captain Lockhart's request I went to recall these men, and on my return I found that he had occupied the Barahduree and other buildings in rear of the King's Stables. Measures were immediately adopted for securing our position; but in a short time the portion of Captain Lockhart's Detachment was withdrawn, and the post left to the charge of a Detachment of H. M.'s 90th under Colonel Purnell.

During the night of the 16th, Lieutenant Limond, of Engineers, and myself constructed a Battery for 3 guns, which opened fire towards the Kaiser Bagh on the morning of the 17th.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. RUSSEL, Lieut., Brigade Major of Engineers.

FROM COLONEL R. NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.,
TO MAJOR GENERAL SIR JAMES OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding the Forces.

Lucknow, 16th October 1857.

SIR,—On the 25th Ultimo Colonel Campbell reported to you, that he, with a small Party of the 90th not exceeding 100 men and almost all the Wounded, the heavy Guns, and a large number of Ammunition, Waggons, were in the walled passage in front of the Motee Munzil Palace, which position he should be obliged to hold for the night, as he was invested by the Enemy, and could not advance without reinforcements.

On the morning of the 26th, a Detachment of 250 men, under Command of Major Simmons 5th Fusiliers, and part of the Ferozepore Regiment, under Captain Brasyer, were sent by your orders to reinforce Colonel Campbell, under the guidance of Captain Moorsom.

They had judiciously occupied a house and garden between Colonel Campbell's position and the Palace; but as they were unable to move from their position, I received your orders to proceed to their assistance, with a further reinforcement of 100 men of H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, under Colonel Stisted, and 2 Guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery and Captain Hardinge's Sowars.

Captain Olpherts strongly objected to his Guns being taken, and on considering the reason that he offered, I took it upon myself to dispense with them, merely taking spare bullocks. Captain Olpherts accompanied me as a Volunteer. As I had reason to believe that I could open a communication through the Palace, which would bring me near the position of the Guns, I took Mr. Cavanagh, an intelligent Civilian acquainted with the locality, and examined the Palace as far as was practicable, and obtained sufficient knowledge of it, to form my plan of operations.

I then led the Party by one of the side outlets of the Palace along the River bank to Major Simmons' position, under a smart fire from the Enemy, by which, however, we received little damage.

Under cover of the night, all the Sick and Wounded were quietly and safely transported along the River bank to the Entrenchment, by a path practicable for Camels and Doolies, but quite impracticable for Guns. Captain Hardinge made several journeys to bring up fresh Doolies, until every Sick and Wounded man was removed. He also took away the Camels laden with Enfield Ammunition. One of our 24-Pounders, which had been used on the previous day against the Enemy, but the working of which had ceased owing to the Musketry fire which poured upon it, was left in an exposed position; it was extricated in a very daring and dexterous manner by Captain Olpherts aided by Captain Crump (killed), and Private Duffy, of the Madras Fusiliers.

At 3 A. M. the whole Force proceeded undiscovered through the Enemy's posts, until the leading Division had reached the Palace; the heavy Guns and Waggons were safely parked in the Garden which I had reconnoitred on the preceding day. The Enemy were aroused too late to prevent the operation; but made an attack on the Rear Guard, which was ineffective.

I remained with Colonel Purnell to secure the position thus gained with trifling loss. A large body of Sepoys was discovered in a walled Garden, connected with that which contained our heavy Guns, by men of H. M.'s 90th, 5th Fusiliers, and 32nd, who gallantly charged in, led by Colonel Purnell, 90th, and Captain McCabe, 32nd, and almost annihilated them, securing the Garden itself as the rear of our position. Measures were immediately taken to open a road for the Guns through the Palace, and by the 1st Instant every Gun and Waggon was safely lodged in the Entrenchment.

It now remains for me to bring to your favorable notice the Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments—Colonel Stisted, 78th; Captain Brasyer, Seikhs; Captain Lowe, 32nd. The late lamented Major Simmons gave me very valuable aid.

To Colonel Purnell's lot fell the more difficult duty of Commanding the Rear Guard and of securing the position when gained. In the whole of the operations his assistance and support were of the greatest value.

Lieutenant Fraser, of the Artillery, was left, on the 26th, by the fall of Brigadier Cooper, in charge of the heavy Guns, and though wounded, his exertions assisted greatly in extricating the unwieldy Train.

I must beg most particularly to bring to your notice Captain Olpherts, of the Bengal Artillery. Without his unfailing determination, skill, and fertility of resource, we should never have been able to withdraw the 24-Pounder, but at the cost of a very heavy loss of life. From first to last his assistance has been invaluable, and cannot be too highly praised.

To Captain Hardinge's continued exertions is due the safe removal of the wounded, and Camels, with Rifle Ammunition.

My Assistant Adjutant General, Captain Dodgson, gave me every assistance. Captain Moorsom was here, as every where, a sagacious and daring guide. Captain Sitwell attended me zealously through the night.

Captain Olpherts recommends Private Duffy for the Victoria Cross for his gallantry in extricating the 24-Pounder Gun under a very heavy fire of Musketry, and I beg strongly to second his recommendation.

I have deeply to lament the loss of the gallant Captain Crump, Madras Army, killed whilst extricating the 24-Pounder.

The loss was as follows :—

Lucknow, 5th October 1857.

SIR,—On the 1st Instant, I received your orders to take the Enemy's Battery in the position called Phillips' Garden, near the Cawnpore road. For this object you placed at my disposal the following Troops :—

Detachments of Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers; 32d, 64th, 78th and 90th Regiments, and the Honorable East India Company's 1st Madras Fusiliers, under Major Haliburton, H. M.'s 78th; Captain Shute, H. M.'s 64th; and Captain Raikes, Madras Fusiliers, amounting to 568 men; Lieutenant Limond, Engineers, and Lieutenant Tulloh, Acting Assistant Field Engineer, attended the Column, with a party of five Miners of H. M.'s 32d, and a Party of Artillery, under Serjeant Smith, with means of bursting Guns.

In the afternoon of the 1st, the Column formed in the road leading to the Paen Bagh, and advanced through the buildings near the Jail, occupied the mass of houses on the left and front of Phillips' Garden, under guidance of Mr. Phillips, the former occupant, and the Enemy were driven from some houses and a Barricade on the left of our advance, by 50 men of the Madras Fusiliers, led by Lieutenant Groom under a sharp fire of Musketry, in a very spirited manner.

The houses in front were strongly barricaded, and in many cases the doors were bricked up; it was, therefore, late before we had worked a way to a point from whence we could command the Enemy's position. A party of the Enemy was driven out, and a row of loopholes was commenced immediately, and the ground examined right and left. Attempts to penetrate the Garden to the left were ineffectual; to the right an opening was obtained, which disclosed that the Enemy's Batteries were separated from us by a deep narrow lane, some 12 or 15 feet below the Garden; the latter was surrounded by a deep mud wall, with buildings attached. The face of the Battery was scarped and quite inaccessible without ladders. A heavy fire was kept up from the face of the Battery, and the lane was flanked by a strong Barricade. As it was dark, and a direct attack would be certain to cost many lives, I determined to wait till day-light before assaulting the Battery. The position was duly secured, and the men occupied the buildings for the night.

In the morning, after giving the men breakfast, and arranging with the Artillery to open fire from the Entrenchment, the Troops advanced. A severe fire was opened from the Barricade, flanking the lane on the right; but Major Haliburton detached Lieutenant Creagh, Madras Fusiliers, with a Party to turn the Barricade by the Cawnpore Road, which was effectually done. The Troops then doubled out through the lane, and forced a way through a Stockade into the Enemy's Batteries; the 5th Fusiliers and Detachment 64th in advance, under Lieutenant Brown, supported by the Madras Fusiliers and H. M.'s 32nd. The Enemy was immediately driven from the Battery, and Phillips' house occupied without further opposition. A Picquet being left in possession, the Troops advanced on the Guns which had been withdrawn to the end of the Garden and to the streets adjoining, and captured two 9-Pounders and one 6-Pounder Gun, driving off the Enemy who defended them with Musketry and Grape. The Guns were immediately dragged to the Garden and burst, their carriages completely destroyed, and their ammunition sent to the Entrenchment. Phillips' house was blown up by a Party under Lieutenant Innes, Engineers, and at dark the Troops withdrew to their position of the previous night.

In all the arrangements I was most fortunate in having the aid of that very able and brave Officer, Major Haliburton, H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, who deserves particular notice.

I beg to recommend to your favorable notice Captain Shute, H. M.'s 64th, and Lieutenant Brown, 5th Fusiliers, who led the Party into the Battery, and were foremost in capturing the two 9-Pounders. I also beg to recommend to your notice Private McHale, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers, who was the first man at the capture of one of the Guns.

Lieutenant Limond, of the Engineers, was very active in the duties of the Engineer Department, and in reconnoitring the Enemy's position. Captain Dawson and Lieutenant Hewett attended me zealously as Field Orderly Officers throughout the operations; and Mr. Cavanagh, Superintendent Chief Commissioner's Office, accompanied the Party as a guide, and was always to be found at the front.

The Guns were destroyed by Sergeant Smith with the party of Artillery.

The position of this Battery was so inaccessible, and the locality so little known, that the enterprise of taking it was considered by the experienced Chief Engineer of the Garrison as one of very serious difficulty. Owing to our laborious investigation of its position which enabled us to obtain command of it from the adjacent mass of buildings, I was able to take it at the comparatively small loss of 2 killed and 11 wounded.

I have only to add, that, although I have mentioned the names of those Officers who had the good fortune to be at the points of attack, yet the conduct of the whole of the Officers and Men was in every way deserving of your commendation; they were most eager to assault the Battery on the night of the 1st, but I restrained them, as I was convinced that I could effect the desired end without the serious loss that would have then been incurred.

Their attack when made was carried out with their unflinching gallantry.

It is impossible to estimate the loss of the Enemy.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

R. NAPIER, Colonel, Military Secretary, &c.

R. NAPIER, Colonel, Military Secretary, &c.

From MAJOR-GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force,

To CAPTAIN DODGSON, Acting Military Secretary.

Lucknow, 21st November 1857.

SIR,—I have much pleasure in forwarding for submission to Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the accompanying Report from Colonel R. Napier, Chief of the Staff, detailing the late operations at the advanced posts in the Palace of Fureed Buksh.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. HAVELOCK, Major-General, Commanding Oude Field Force.

From COLONEL R. NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.,

To CAPTAIN HUDSON, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Oude Field Force.

Lucknow, 20th November 1857.

SIR,

The Chief Engineer of the Oude Field Force being wounded at the time of our arrival at Lucknow, and further prevented, until the 8th Ultimo, from personally attending to his duties, by an accidental lameness, produced by his arduous exertions in constructing the Bridge at Cawnpore for the passage of the Force across the Ganges, there devolved upon me many duties not pertaining to my office, which it is proper that I should report through you, as I believe no Officer except myself is acquainted with all that has taken place, and the course of those duties give me an opportunity of noticing the valuable services of Officers which could not otherwise be brought to Major-General Havelock's knowledge.

On the morning of the 27th Ultimo, the Escort with the heavy Train occupied the range of Palaces called the Chuttur Munzil and Fureed Buksh.

Major-General Havelock is aware that these Palaces afford the only shelter that our Troops could have occupied, and that as mere shelter they give excellent accommodation; as a Military position they have very great disadvantages. The Northern face is well protected by the River Goomty; but the East and South East faces are surrounded by buildings and in contact with the City.

Captain Crommelin's plan, which he will submit with his Report of the Engineer Operations illustrates the preceding remarks.

The position was too extensive for our Force, nearly all of which was occupied in guarding it; but it was susceptible of no reduction, so that most desirable as it was that we should have occupied some of the exterior buildings as flanking defences, we were unable to do so, but were obliged to confine ourselves to the Palaces and Gardens, and to erect precautionary defences against any means of annoyance the Enemy could devise. Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, of H. M.'s 90th, being in Command of the Rear Guard on the 27th, I requested him to assume Command of the Palace Garden and Buildings adjacent to it. On the 28th the Palace buildings extending in the direction of the Khas Bazaar were explored by Captain Moorsom, who, with a party of 50 men of the 90th and 5th Fusiliers, gallantly drove the Enemy out at the point of the Bayonet, killing a considerable number with the loss of one man of H. M.'s 90th. Captain Moorsom then placed a Picquet in a house commanding the Cheena and Khas Bazaars. On the 3rd Instant the Enemy sprang a Mine under the Garden-wall, which merely shook it without bringing it down. On the 5th they exploded a second Mine, which effected a considerable breach, and appeared in some force with the intention of making an assault; but on the head of the Column showing itself on the breach, a well-directed fire from H. M.'s 90th caused it to retreat precipitately and with considerable loss. The Enemy also burned down one of the Gateways of the Garden, making a second practicable breach, at which they occasionally appeared to fire a Shot or two. Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell had retrenched both these Breaches, which it became evident that the Enemy had no real intention of assaulting; but they exposed the Garden to a severe Musketry fire from commanding buildings on the right, called the Hern Khana; it, therefore, became necessary to open trenches of communication, which were commenced by Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell and his Officers. On the 6th the Enemy blew up the Picquet overlooking the Cheena and Khas Bazaars, causing us a loss of three men, and in the confusion that ensued, penetrated in considerable numbers into the Palace; were many of them were destroyed. They are said to have lost 450 men! The remainder were driven back, but continued to occupy a part of the Palace buildings which had been in our possession. Of these the nearest to us is a Mosque Commanded by our buildings, but giving several easy means of access to our position. On the 8th the Enemy attacked from the Mosque our nearest Picquets; but were repulsed with loss. In order to prevent a repetition of this annoyance, I examined carefully, in company with Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell and Captain Moorsom, the buildings connecting us with those of the Enemy, and we succeeded in penetrating to a vault under their position, where, screened by the obscurity, we could see the Enemy closely surrounding the Entrance, and hear them in considerable numbers overhead. A charge of two barrels of Powder was lodged in the vault, and was fired by Lieutenant Russell, of the Bengal Engineers. The effect was complete; many of the Enemy were blown up, and their position greatly injured, whilst we obtained a command over the streets leading to the Khas and Cheena Bazaars, better and more secure from molestation than our previous one. This post was immediately and securely barricaded by Captain Crommelin, of the Engineers, who this day resumed his duties as Chief Engineer, and the value of his services was immediately apparent. Though our position was improved by this explosion, the possession of the Mosque was absolutely necessary to our security. I accordingly determined to re-capture it, and on expressing my wishes to Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, that Officer himself accompanied me with a small Party of the 90th and Madras Fusiliers. The Enemy 50 or 60 in number, were surprised and rapidly driven out with very trifling loss on our side, and the position immediately barricaded and secured by Captain Crommelin; it has ever since formed a good connection between the Picquets of the advanced Garden and the Quarters of Brasyer's Sikhs, and all attempts of the Enemy to molest it have been ineffective. It falls within Captain Crommelin's province to report in detail the various operations by which our difficult position, in close contact with the City, occupied by a numerous and persevering Enemy, has been defended and protected.

I beg to bring to the notice of Major-General Havelock the excellent services performed by Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, who has commanded in the Advance Garden and its Outposts since their occupation. Much of the Trench work by which it was rendered unassailable has been executed by his men, and under his superintendence, directed by the Engineer Department. On all occasions he has given the cordial and able co-operation of a most brave and accomplished Officer. Captain Grant, of the Madras Fusiliers, has Commanded the post of the Mosque, from the 11th October to the 2nd November, when he was severely wounded. He maintained the post under a constant and close Musketry fire, and repeated attacks by Mining, with cool courage and judgment: both these qualities were required to avoid real, and to disregard the imaginary dangers of Mines, and Captain Grant has displayed them in an eminent degree.

The daring and intelligent Captain Moorson has been engaged in most of the above operations, and has given very valuable assistance.

Captains Rattray and Wade have shown themselves excellent Commanders of Outposts.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

R. NAPIER, Colonel, Military Secretary &c.

No. 116.

From BRIGADIER J. INGLIS, Commanding the Garrison,

To COLONEL NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.

Lucknow, 22nd October 1857.

SIR,—For the information of Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., Commanding the Division, I have the honor to enclose two Reports from Officers Commanding Sortie-parties, giving an account of their proceedings whilst so employed.

Both these Officers carried out my orders in a most satisfactory manner, and were most successful in the performance of the duties entrusted to them.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Garrison of Lucknow.

From LIEUT. B. M. M. AITKEN, Commanding Treasury Guard,

To CAPTAIN WILSON, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lucknow.

Lucknow, 21st October 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to state, for the information of Brigadier Inglis, Commanding the Garrison, the proceedings of a Party of the Regiment under my Command, on the night of the 25th, and morning of the 26th September, which ended in the capture of the Terec Kotee.

On the evening of the 25th, after the First Column of the Relieving Force arrived, I heard the shouts of the Second Column in the City in the direction of the Jail, and thinking they might get entangled in the lanes and might suffer from the Guns under the Clock Tower, I took 12 armed Sepoys of the Regiment, with pick-axes and shovels, for the purpose of clearing away, if possible, the Battery under the Clock Tower. We got over without opposition, as the head of the Second Relieving Column was by this time in the lane and close up to the Guns. As I thought this a good opportunity to occupy at least a portion of the Terec Kotee, I took upon myself the responsibility to take the Sepoys through a door made in the wall by the Insurgents. We advanced some distance quietly without meeting any one. At last in a court-yard we came upon a small body, eight in number, and took them prisoners, without firing a shot. I left the Sepoys in charge of a Havildar in this court-yard for the night, and reported the circumstance for the information of Brigadier Inglis, who ordered me to occupy the Terec Kotee with a stronger body in the morning.

Early next morning, we advanced to the bank of the River, and shot a few of the Insurgents who attempted to swim the River. At this time I observed a body of men on the top of a building with a Gateway. We attempted to get in by breaking in the principal gate, which was barricaded; but found this impossible. Havildar Ramnarain Pande, however, succeeded in breaking down one of the small doors at the side of the gate, and was the first man who made an entrance. We killed some five or six men in the Gateway, the others having got into the rooms above, and on the terraces which run towards the Fureed Buksh. A Party of the 32nd came up at this time under a Serjeant, and some 25 men altogether were shot and bayonnetted.

We had two Sepoys wounded, and one man of the 32nd was killed. I ought to mention that Captain Lowe, of H. M.'s 32nd, arrived with some men after we had got into the rooms, he having been employed in driving the Insurgents out of the Captain's Bazaar. All the Sepoys behaved well, and I beg to bring to the notice of the Brigadier the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Cubitt, who was most forward throughout the affair.

Unfortunately three of our Sepoys were wounded by the Europeans of the Second Relieving Column on the night of the 25th after we got over the Battery under the Clock Tower, they having been mistaken for Insurgents.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, servant,

B. M. M. AITKEN, Lieut. 13th N. I., Commanding Treasury Guard.

City Residency, Lucknow, Sept. 27th 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to acquaint you that, agreeably to your instructions, I proceeded yesterday morning in Command of 150 men of the 32nd Regiment for the purpose of clearing the Captain's Bazaar and adjoining posts occupied by the Enemy.

The Party was in three Divisions;—the first, under Captain Bassano, on the right; the second, in Reserve, under Captain Hughes, 57th N. I., (attached to the Regiment); and the third, under Lieutenant Lawrence. The first and second advanced under cover of the thick bushes between our trenches and the road, whilst the third, passing through Innes' Outpost, came out on the road through the houses in front, taking two small Guns as they entered it, and which they dismounted from their carriages. The Enemy were taken quite by surprise, and fled precipitately to the River, leaving a 6-Pounder Gun in the road. They were pursued by our men, and were nearly all shot or drowned in endeavouring to swim the river. Lieutenant Lawrence then led his Party towards the Iron Bridge, and most gallantly succeeded in capturing a 9-Pounder Gun, just as a second round of Grape was about to be fired at them. This Gun having been brought away they returned, and we took possession of the ruined Mosque, and clearing the Captain's Bazaar, killed some of the Enemy there, and captured an 18-Pounder Gun and four small Guns (two of them without carriages.)

I then proceeded to the Terec Kotee with part of the men; but found it unoccupied. A Gate by the River leading into the Furah Buksh Palace was then forced, and several of the Enemy inside killed. We were here met by a Party of the 13th N. I., under Lieutenant Aitken, who had come in by another entrance. Having your orders not to proceed further in this direction I withdrew the men.

Captain Hughes had, in the mean time, led a Party again towards the Iron Bridge, and, killing a great number of the Enemy in the houses about, spiked two large Mortars, which, however, he was unable to bring away. He was, I regret to say, dangerously wounded whilst forcing the door of a house. As the Party retired, they blew up a large Magazine of the Enemy's Powder.

The objects contemplated having been obtained not without loss, as the adjoining Return will show, I withdrew the Party to the Residency, leaving Guards at the ruined Mosque and Terec Kotee.

In conclusion I beg to bring prominently to your notice the great zeal and gallantry displayed by all engaged,—both Officers and Men,—so equally that it would be indvidious to particularise any one; but Lieutenant Lawrence has, however, begged me to report the distinguished bravery of Corporal Samuel Cole, and Private Michael Power in charging and capturing the 9 Pounder Gun.

Lieutenant Innes, of the Engineers, accompanied the Party throughout, and afforded me every assistance.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Lucknow, November 1857.

No. 147.

Directing a Report to be made of a Sortie by the Troops under Command of Major Stephenson, Madras Fusiliers, on the 27th September 1857.

SIR,—In reply to your letter dated 4th November 1857, No. and subject as per margin, I have the honor to state as follows.

About 2 P. M., on the 27th September 1857, the Madras Fusiliers were ordered to parade for a Sortie under Command of Major Stephenson, Commanding the same Regiment, for the purpose of taking some Guns in the Enemy's Cawnpore Battery.

The Regiment was told off in three Divisions, the strength of it not admitting of a larger number, Captain Fraser had Command of No. 1, Captain Galwey No. 2, and Captain Raikes of No. 3 Division; Lieutenant and Adjutant Gosling, Lieutenants Beaumont and Cleland, and Lieutenant the Honorable J. Fraser, 1st B. N. I., d. d. with the Fusiliers, fell in with the Regiment. A few men of H. M.'s 32d Regiment, under Lieutenant Warner, 7th B. C., Captain Kemble, 41st B. N. I., Lieutenant Huxham, 48th B. N. I., Lieutenant Anderson, Bengal Engineers, and Lieutenant Meham, 27th M. N. I., accompanied the Party.

The Party proceeded in strict silence out of the Bailey Gate to the Garden opposite, and passed through a door to the right, about half-way down to the Garden, which led through bye-paths till it reached the road, at which place there was a considerable street fire from loop holes and from the top of houses, and from the Guns of the Enemy in position. A charge was made at the nearest Gun, through long Grass ruins, small breaches in walls, and a broad ditch. Our men entered by the embrasure, and the Enemy immediately abandoned this Gun. A considerable delay occurred in making preparations for bursting this Gun, which, however, ultimately proved a failure, as some person had spiked it previously and in the hurry of the moment. During this time a Party of No. 1 Division, under Captain Fraser, proceeded to reconnoitre a little further, when they came on another Battery of the Enemy, consisting of a 24-Pounder and an 18-Pounder Gun. These were abandoned; but the Enemy being all round, and keeping such a fire on his party, Captain Fraser sent back to Major Stephenson to say he required a Reinforcement. On this Captain Galwey, of No. 2 Division, proceeded with a few men. On reaching the spot, he found that from the number of the Enemy (which he calculated from their heavy fire) that the position could not be held without a further reinforcement. The Battery was surrounded with high walls, and apparently with no outlets. Captain Galwey returned, and reported this to Major Stephenson. It was now discovered that there were with us no means by which we could destroy or dismantle the Gun; so Major Stephenson directed the advanced Party to fall back on him, which, however, they did not then do. Captain Fraser spoke in the highest terms of the gallantry of Serjeant Lidster, Madras Fusiliers, who spiked the 24-Pounder, and of Corporal William Dowling, H. M.'s 32d Regiment, who spiked the 18-Pounder Gun, being at the same time under a most heavy fire from the Enemy.

Finding it impossible to burst the first Gun, Major Stephenson left a Party to protect that Gun under a Subaltern, and proceeded with Captain Raikes' Division No. 3, which he had kept with him to the Advanced Battery, which, as before stated, was surrounded with high walls. At this time Serjeant Lidster, previously mentioned as having spiked a Gun under heavy fire, was killed. Major Stephenson called on some of the Volunteers or Guides to point out the way to the next Battery; but no one knew the way, or seemed at all aware of our locality, and at this time firing being heard in our rear, Major Stephenson was compelled to retire by the way we came, it being quite impossible to go forward without Guides. The three Guns were left spiked, owing to want of means to destroy them. On the return of the Party, it was exposed to a very destructive fire from the Enemy, from the tops of houses and loop-holes, and from want of means it was most difficult to take away our killed and wounded. One Serjeant, severely wounded, and since dead, must have been left on the ground, had not a Private of the 32d Regiment, in the most gallant manner, with the assistance of Captain Galwey, taken him up and carried him to a place of safety. Lieutenant Huxham, 48th B. N. I., was wounded.

I enclose a Return of the Killed and Wounded of the 1st Madras Fusiliers on this occasion.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

M. GALWEY, Captain, Commanding 1st Madras Fusiliers.

From Lieutenant A. C. WARNER, Adjutant 7th Light Cavalry,

To Captain WILSON, Offg. Dy. Asst. Adjutant General, Lucknow Garrison.

Lucknow, 7th November 1857.

SIR,—Agreeably to instructions received, I have the honor to report as follows.

In consequence of there being no available Officers with H. M.'s 32d Regiment, I was selected to Command a Party of that Corps on the 27th September in a Sortie for the purpose of capturing some of the Enemy's Guns, in a Battery opposite to our Cawnpore Battery.

We paraded about 2 P. M. with the Madras Fusiliers, and marched out of the Bailey Guard Gate, my Party in advance, the whole under Command of Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers. We proceeded through the "Taree Khotee", across the road in rear of the Clock Tower, and then took ground to our right. Immediately we had crossed the road, we became exposed to the Enemy's fire, and made a rush across a large Court-yard through a Door-way to our right. After passing through a succession of narrow streets and holes in the walls, we arrived at the Cawnpore road. We then came on one of the Enemy's Guns, which was firing grape down the Cawnpore road. I took my party to one side of the Embrasure, and on receiving the word of Command, we rushed in, headed by Major Stephenson. The Enemy abandoned their Gun, and a Naick of the 13th Regiment, "Kalka Tewaree" spiked it. We then endeavoured to burst it; but owing to the absence of water and other materials failed.

While we were attempting to burst this Gun, a Party of men under Captain Fraser, of the Madras Fusiliers, went on to another Battery of the Enemy's which was further in advance.

Shortly after this, the party under my Command went with Captain Galwey and some of his men to reinforce Captain Fraser. On arriving near his position, we found the Enemy in great force on all sides of us, keeping up a very heavy fire. We then retreated, by order of Major Stephenson, on the main body. One of the Madras Fusilier Serjeants being badly wounded, Captain Galwey, Lieutenant Meham, 27th Madras Native Infantry, Private Smith, H. M.'s 32d, and myself, with great difficulty, managed to get him back to the main body. This Private was, I regret to say, killed in the retreat. Major Stephenson then ordered us to retreat, which was done by the same route by which we had advanced. During the retreat, we were exposed to a heavy fire from the houses. The conduct of Corporal Cooney and Private Smith, of the 32d, who were both killed, was most noble.

I enclose a Return of the Killed and Wounded of H. M.'s 32d Regiment on this occasion.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

MEMORANDUM REGARDING THE SORTIE OF THE 27TH SEPTEMBER.

Chuttur Munzil, 8th November 1857.

On the 26th September I was warned by Brigadier Inglis to lead a Party from the Brigade Mess, and having taken the Guns in its front, to circle leftwards, taking or destroying all the Guns on the way till we should reach our own position, at the Jail or Terec Kotee. The Party, however, that was told off for this purpose on the 26th, was required to help in the heavy Guns and Rear Guard from the Mottee Mehal, and the Sortie was therefore temporarily deferred.

2. Having next morning mentioned the proposed Sortie to Lieutenant Anderson, Garrison Engineer, at the Fureed Buksh, he stated his opinion of the advisability of the Sortie debouching from the Jail and going in rear of the Square House and proceeding thence in a direction parallel to the road, by which plan we would start fair from our own ground, probably hit on the Enemy's usual route, and take the Guns in rear.

3. The Sortie having been re-arranged for the afternoon of the 27th, Lieutenant Anderson proposed to guide it himself. The Party was (as I learnt on reaching the first house attacked) Commanded by Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers, and the Party to explode the Guns consisted of Artillery-men under the Command of Captain Evans. Two Sepoys of the 13th N. I. accompanied us, under my orders, with picks, to help in knocking down obstacles, should it be necessary.

4. Lieutenant Anderson lead the Party out by the Terec Kotee and Jail, and rear of the Square House to the building now forming the left of the Highlanders' position. The Enemy being in possession of it, it was attacked; but the Party never appeared to enter the rooms and clear them: it only remained in or rushed through the court-yards and passages, shooting or bayonetting such of the Enemy as voluntarily came out.

5. The correct place for debouching from the house was on the same side, only further advanced, as that at which we had entered it, and, as I afterwards found, Lieutenant Anderson was waiting there to lead the men out, as soon as they should have taken possession of the house. But waiting for no guidance, they left the house at the point which they reached on rushing through it, and immediately found themselves on the road. Hearing a call for an Engineer Officer, I went forward, and found the Party on the road in front of an Embrasure, which was shortly afterwards charged, and the Gun taken. Not 40 men were present for the first ten minutes, and although Captain Evans and my two Sepoys were there, the rest of the Explosion Party were among the absentees. After waiting ten minutes, and Major Stephenson getting impatient, Captain Evans, hopeless of the arrival of the Bursting Party and material, spiked the Gun. This was no sooner done than they arrived, and the subsequent attempt to blow up the Gun was a failure, from the vent being filled up by the spike. During the attempt to burst the Gun, an Officer (Captain Galwey I believe) came to report the capture of two other Guns, the spiking of one of them, and the necessity for reinforcement. Major Stephenson having advanced towards them, asked me where we were, and what was to be done. As to what was to be done, on enquiry from Captain Evans it appeared that the men had drunk all the water reserved to moisten the clay to tamp the Guns, that in fact he could not burst them, and there were no spikes present with which to spike them. I therefore said that, wherever we might go, we could destroy no more Guns, and that consequently to return to the Entrenchment seemed to me advisable. As to the where we were, I said, I thought we were at the Battery on the left of the Cawnpore road, which opinion was also expressed by Mr. Cavanagh Mr. Phillips, our real guide, could give no opinion at all. To make certain of the locality, I told Major Stephenson I would cross the road and reconnoitre, which I accordingly did, and found that my conjecture had been correct. On my returning, the Party had commenced its return to the Entrenchments, which it effected by nearly the same route as that by which it had advanced.

The party which remained with Lieutenant Anderson, at the house first attacked, prevented the Enemy still on it from doing us much injury on our return, otherwise our loss might have been most serious. The separation of the whole Party into the two bodies, which was the previous cause of the failure in destroying the Guns, is entirely attributable to an advance having been made from that house without the direction of the proper guide.

J. McLEOD INNES, Lieutenant, Engineers.

NOTE.—This Sortie was designed to attack the Garden Battery, and it appears from the experience gained in a subsequent attack (1st, 2nd, and 3rd November) that the strength of the Party was quite inadequate to accomplish the object required. The real cause of the failure in bursting the Guns, instead of spiking, that was taken possession of, appears to have been the delay in bringing up the Bursting Party.

Had the house alluded to by Lieutenant Innes been taken possession of, instead of being nearly passed through, and measures taken to reconnoitre the ground in advance before the Party proceeded, it is probable that the result would have been more satisfactory, and that at all events the captured Guns would have been effectually destroyed; but without a much larger body of men, the complete conquest and destruction of the whole Garden Battery could not have been accomplished.

Party, as per Margin, under my Command, during the Sortie of the 29th Ultimo. We assembled in the Third Seikh Square, a little before day-break, as a Reserve, to an Attacking Party, under Command of Captain Hardinge, who, when he had taken the Guns in front of the Brigade Mess, advanced to his Right to take a Gun situated in a strong position in the middle of a lane, to the left front of Mr. Gubbin's house. He placed his men in a flanking position, and came to me for a Party to advance and take some houses to the right and left of the lane, from which there was a heavy fire. I advanced through the breach in the Seikh Square, with Lieutenant Ouseley, 48th Regiment N. I., Lieutenant the Hon'ble J. Fraser, and 35 men, and led them up the lane to the front of the Enemy's Stockade. I took up a position with four or five men, and fired on several of the Enemy who were trying to escape. Lieutenant Ouseley, the Honorable J. Fraser, and several men, got over the Stockade, and the Party under Captain Hardinge, came forward, and the Gun, a 6-Pounder, pointed towards him, was taken possession of. One of our men was killed as we reached the Stockade, and one wounded a short time after. 14 or 15 of the Enemy were killed, 9 of them in two huts to the right and left of the lane. I left this party of the Reserve, under Command of the Hon'ble J. Fraser, and went back to the remainder of the Reserve, which I found had advanced from the Seikh Square under Captain Galwey, and we proceeded down the lane and took up forward positions in a house which Captain Forbes, 1st Light Cavalry, and his Seikh Orderly, had examined and reported empty. There was a strong Party of the Enemy to our left front, who kept up a heavy fire. I placed part of the men under Captain Galwey in front of the house; another Party, under Captain Forbes, took possession of the upper story of the house; and I detached a third party to take possession of a Barricade across the street a little to our right front. Our loss here was one killed and one Wounded. Five or six of the men from this position got into a large house still further in advance, and I went and examined the house, and found, after getting into the lower story, that the enemy had begun two Mines, the Shafts of which were sunk to a considerable depth. I reported this to Lieutenant Innes, the Executive Engineer, who, on examination, decided on blowing them up. Being short of men, I ordered a Party of ten, under Serjeant Major Donovan, to come down our centre Bastion and occupy the house where the Mines were. He remained in charge till the Mines were blown up. During the time I was thus occupied, Lieutenant Ouseley rendered great service, by capturing a Gun, which had checked the advance of the Party to which he was attached, by being planted at the end of a very narrow lane, about 60 or 70 yards long. Lieutenant Ouseley, accompanied by Serjeant Higgins and four men of the 1st Madras Fusiliers, went through a number of houses and narrow passages, to the right of the lane, and finding their further progress stopped by a very high and steep Bastion, where they distinctly heard the voices of the Enemy, they ascended it, led by the above-named Officer; found it unoccupied, and rushed across it into a house, from which they fired down upon and killed two out of some 40 men assembled below them; and raising a cheer, routed the Enemy, and took possession of the Gun, without losing a man, or giving the Enemy the power of discharging the piece, to which drag-ropes were attached to enable the Enemy to pull it round the nearest corner, should we attempt to charge it. A Party of 8 or 10 men, from Captain Galwey's position, under Lieutenant Cleveland, reinforced Lieutenant Ouseley, and after the Gun had been removed, they retired, and the Bastion was blown up. Afterwards two small Guns were found in a lane close to this Battery, and taken possession of by Lieutenants Ouseley and Aitken, 13th Regiment N. I. The three were dismantled from their carriages and were sent into the Garrison, and the carriages broken up and burnt. Our loss at this point was one killed and two wounded—one of the latter, Mr. Lucas, whose zeal and gallantry on every occasion during the Siege every one has heard of. About 11 o'clock we returned into Garrison, having examined and cleared the Guns from the whole of the front of Mr. Gubbin's house. We had not time or men to examine the houses in front of our Centre Bastion, which I much regret, as there are constant reports from the men, that Mining is going on; but I have no good reason to suppose so, as I have invariably, when called, found the houses unoccupied, and heard no noises that would lead me to suppose that Mining was going on.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. APTHORP, Major, Commanding the Reserve.

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Lucknow Garrison.

From Lieutenant J. C. ANDERSON, Garrison Engineer.

To Colonel R. NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.

This Sortie proceeded simultaneously with two others—one from the Sikh Square to the right of the Brigade Mess, and another from the Redan towards the Iron Bridge, led by Captain McCabe, H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, with a few of the men of his Regiment, who had, during the Siege, been on duty on the posts opposite the position to be attacked. The whole strength of the Sorticing Party was 200 men, with a reserve of 150 men.

At daylight the Party issued from an opening in the Brigade Mess wall, and formed up under cover of a wall which runs parallel to the other at the distance of a few paces. The advance was then made in file, the men having to scramble over the debris of a house which had been blown down on a former occasion, and a rush made direct on the Enemy's Gun, 18-Pounder, which lay behind a breast-work, at the distance of 80 yards from the Brigade Mess. The Gunners fired two rounds at us when we made our appearance, but before they could fire again, we had scaled their Battery and driven them to flight. We then proceeded to force a building immediately to the left of the Gun. The lower story was quickly occupied. Captain McCabe, the gallant leader of many former Sorties, was mortally wounded in the operation, and some delay having in consequence occurred, a few of the Enemy in the upper-story had time to kill and wound several of our men before they were attacked and bayoneted. After the house had been taken possession of, a Picquet of 25 men was left to hold it, while the main body of our men proceeded along a narrow lane, under Command of Major Simmons, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers, to occupy two large buildings, about 60 and 80 yards, respectively, in advance of the first, with several other smaller buildings adjoining; the loss to the Enemy in all being probably above thirty men. On our side we had the misfortune to lose Major Simmons, who was killed by a Musket shot while leading his men into the most advanced building. We had now progressed to a position from which we had a view of the Enemy's 18-Pounder Gun in front of the Cawnpore Battery. It lay in a lane running towards the Cawnpore road, the end of which was barricaded and loopholed, and directly in line with it, on the opposite side of the road, the Enemy occupied a house from which they kept up a hot Musketry fire on our position.

I then sent for the Reserve, and desired that an Officer of rank might be sent to Command the whole party. General Sir J. Outram having become acquainted with our progress, sent word that, unless further advance could be made without danger of considerable loss, the design of proceeding against the Enemy's Gun, now in our view, should be abandoned, and that the Party should retire after destroying in succession the houses we had taken possession of. After consulting with Captain Evans, (attached to the Artillery,) who had meanwhile destroyed the Enemy's Gun, which we left at the first house and also a 6-Pounder Gun in its neighbourhood, I returned a reply to the General that further advance could not be made without considerable loss, and I proceeded to demolish the three large houses we held, commencing with the one furthest in advance, and withdrawing the Party gradually to the rear. This operation, in which 13 barrels of Powder were expended, destroyed the Principal Musketry cover of the Enemy against our Defences between the Brigade Mess and Cawnpore Battery, and the destruction of the Guns in front of the latter, together with that effected by the Sortieing Parties acting in conjunction with us to the right, has relieved a considerable portion of our work from serious annoyance. The Party returned about 9½ A. M.

From Lieutenant G. HARDINGE, Commanding Irregular Cavalry, &c.,
To Colonel R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff.

Lucknow, 22nd October 1857.

SIR,

Agreeably to your orders, I have the honor to report that the undermentioned Parties were made over to me to take the Guns to the front and right of the Brigade Mess and Sikh Square:—

H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, under Lieutenant Cooke.....	20 Men.
H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, under Captain Lockhart.....	140 „
1st Madras Fusiliers, under Capt. Galwey.....	90 „

Total...250 Men.

We fell in and filed out of the breach in the Sikh Square at day-break of the 29th September 1857.

The advance consisted of H. M.'s 32nd, Main Body H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, Reserve of 1st Madras Fusiliers, the Engineers under Lieutenant Innes, Artillery under Lieutenant J. Alexander, Major Apthorp, (whose Report I enclose,) Captain Forbes, and Lieutenant Ouseley, knowing the ground, accompanied the Reserve.

We formed silently under cover of some broken ground. The first Gun, a Brass 12-Pounder was taken by H. M.'s 32nd with a cheer. By keeping to the right of the embrasure, we avoided the discharge. Lieutenant Cook and Private Kelly were first at the Gun.

The 32nd occupied a house in rear of the Gun, and enabled the Artillery to burst it unmolested.

The 78th Highlanders, led by Captain Lockhart, who was slightly wounded, then charged a Gun to the right. The covering Party of the first Gun, and a considerable body of the Enemy, rallied round this Gun. Serjeant James Young, 78th Highlanders, the first man at the Gun bayonneted one of the Enemy's Gunners while re-loading, and was severely wounded by a sword-cut.

I ordered up a Party of the 1st Fusiliers, under Lieutenant the Hon'ble J. Fraser, to take the Enemy in rear, and a number of them were killed here and in the houses in the neighbourhood. Hand Grenades used with good effect.

Proceeding further to the right, opposite Mr. Gubbins' house, our further progress was stopped by a small Gun and some Wall-pieces at the end of a narrow line.

Lieutenant Ouseley, 48th N. I., and Lieutenant Aitken, 13th N. I., took these pieces in flank after a difficult detour, by getting into a house above them, and with a cheer and volley routed the Enemy. This manœuvre was most skilfully and gallantly executed. Serjeant Higgins, with 4 men of the Madras Fusiliers, and Private Browne, 32nd, are stated to have been the first men at the Gun. Mr. Lucas, a Volunteer, well known for his bravery, was mortally wounded here.

Major Apthorp and Captain Forbes, with the Fusiliers under Captain Galwey occupied the houses commanding the pieces which were brought away. Two Shafts of a Mine were here discovered and blown up.

The Batteries and Barricades were completely burnt and destroyed. Working Parties of the Sikh Cavalry, under Lieutenant Graham, and Sepoys of the 13th N. I., under Lieutenant Aitken, did good work.

I enclose Lieutenant Innes' Report. Under cover of the houses blown up, the Party fell back unmolested.

One heavy Gun was burst, three smaller ones and some Wall-pieces brought in.
Our loss was 4 killed and 11 wounded, including Mr. Lucas and Captain Lockhart.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. HARDINGE, Lt., Comdg. Irr. Cavy. & Offg. Dy. Qr. Mr. Genl.
J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Lucknow Garrison.

Memorandum of Demolitions Effected by the Party under Captain Hardinge, on the 29th September 1857.

Lucknow, 22nd October 1857.

The Party for demolition consisted of six miners of H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, with a Fatigue Party of six men supplied from the Troops under Captain Hardinge's guidance. It carried six barrels of Powder, with the requisite supply of hose, port-fire, and slow-match.

2. The house that covered the first Gun Battery was the first selected for demolition. I accordingly laid in it a charge of two barrels. The Colonel, Captain Hardinge pointed out the two next places which he proposed to destroy. They were houses in which the Enemy were said to be, and to eject whom would have been attended with no benefit, but probably with a considerable loss of life. One house being in a dilapidated condition, I laid one barrel of Powder against the middle of its outer-wall; the other was strong and I therefore lodged two barrels against its wall in a similar position.

3. These charges being laid, it was decided to defer the explosions till the time should arrive for retiring, when they should be fired in a reverse order to that in which the charges were laid.

4. On the capture of the Guns by the Reserve, I lodged a barrel of Powder at the Stockade where they had been, and fired it. The demolition was successful.

5. I have thus laid out all the six barrels, when Major Apthorp, in Command of the Reserve, reported the discovery of a house with Mines in it, leading probably to the Bastion and Out-houses at Mr. Graham's compound. I mentioned the want of Powder; but Lieutenant Graham arriving and reporting that more powder had been placed at my disposal, I requested to have four barrels sent me. On proceeding to examine the house and Mines, I found that there were two Shafts, but no Galleries. No Mines then had to be destroyed, only the house, in which therefore, I lodged and fired two barrels of Powder, bringing down the side of the house facing the Entrenchments.

6. The time for the Party to retire having now arrived, I fired the Mines mentioned in Para. 2, in a reverse order to that in which the charges had been laid. As the explosion did not occur till the Rear Guard was on the Entrenchment side of the buildings successively demolished, the inspection of the results could not be made on the site of the building destroyed; but as well as observation from a tolerably short distance could enable a decision to be arrived at, all the demolitions were successful.

REPORT OF A SORTIE MADE ON THE 29TH SEPTEMBER 1857, TOWARDS THE IRON BRIDGE.

Lucknow, 22nd October 1857.

On the morning of the 27th ultimo, I was directed by Lieutenant General Sir James Outram,

C. C. B. to proceed as Guiding Officer with a Column (strength as per STRENGTH OF COLUMN, to proceed to the destruction of Captain Shute's H. M.'s 64th Regiment.

3 Officers and 110 Men.

Total—6 Officers and 143 Men.

2. The principal object of the expedition was to destroy a 24 Pounder Gun, situated on a mound about 200 yards from Mr. Hill's shop, which had been doing immense injury in the Garrison during the Siege.

3. The Party started from James' outpost about day-break, and took and spiked 2 Mortars and 4 Zambardas Guns of small calibre, destroying the carriage of the latter. The Guns were placed on the roads leading towards the Iron Bridge and past Mr. Hill's shop, and the Column had to traverse a distance of 1,200 yards from the outpost before reaching the last Gun. The Party then returned about 500 yards and quitted the road to reach the 24-Pounder Gun above-mentioned. It was taken possession of, and the houses near having been occupied, it was destroyed successfully.

I regret, however, to add that the Column sustained considerable loss in consequence of an order with reference to occupying the houses in its rear leading to the Iron Bridge not having been carried out.

From Lieutenant G. HARDINGE, Commanding Irregular Cavalry, &c.,
To Colonel R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff.

Lucknow, 5th November 1857.

Sir,—Agreeably to your order I have the honor to report that, on the 3rd ultimo, the undermentioned Party was put under my Command for taking the Guns on the right of the Cawnpore road:—

H. M.'s 32nd Regt. Cooke..... 68 Men
H. M.'s 84th Regiment..... 12 Men
Madras Fusiliers..... 15 Men
Artillery..... 7 Men

On coming up the Batteries, we found the Enemy had deserted them, and withdrawn one or two Guns. They had burst a very heavy Gun on the Cawnpore road, and another, an iron 18-Pounder had the muzzle blown off. I had this destroyed after burning the Batteries and blowing up a large Mosque, in which four barrels of Powder were placed.

I withdrew the Party unmolested, the Enemy only firing from some distant houses. One man of H. M.'s 32nd Regiment was wounded.

Lieut. Graham and 20 Sikh Cavalry formed the working Party.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. HARDINGE, Lieut. Commanding Irregular Cavalry,
and Offg. Depy. Quarter Master General.

From Lieutenant G. HUTCHINSON, Engrs., Directors of Works,

To Colonel R. NAPIER, Engrs., Milg. Secy., &c., &c.

Lucknow, 21st November 1857.

Sir,—I have the honor to forward a plan and memo. showing Captain Lockhart's post and work done by the Engineer Department at that post.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. HUTCHINSON, Lieut., Engrs., Director of Works.

Memo. of Work executed at Captain Lockhart's Post from the first possession of it until the 21st of November 1857.

Barricades, &c.

Barricades were at once and primarily erected at all outlets and loopholes cut along all the walls.

Doorways of communications opened between the three main houses, which originally were distinct buildings, and such arrangements made as enabled us to command to the utmost the ruins on the right and left of position.

A canon-proof Barricade was erected across the Khas Bazar, communicating with 84th post, and an embrasure opened through it for a Gun: a second Barricade was afterwards placed across the Cawnpore road.

The Enemy commenced mining against us at H on the left of our Position, about six days after our occupying the post. We sunk a Shaft, preparatory to driving a Gallery, to meet them; but before we could complete the Shaft, the Enemy exploded a very large charge of Powder, some 10 feet short of our outer enclosure wall, which had the effect of shaking down the wall and filling up our shaft, by the masses of earth thrown into the air and descending into our Shaft. I regret to say we lost one man in this Shaft. By some fatality, though the men on duty and at the mine saw the Enemy's Train burning, and volumes of smoke issuing out of the houses from which they knew the Enemy were mining they did not move from the spot, but merely sent to report to their Officer. We were prepared for the explosion, and had the enclosure all ready barricaded off, so that the Enemy gained nothing by the Mine.

From this time up to within the last six days, we have been almost constantly at work day and night, countermining against them.

Our general success has been very good, having held our ground with an expenditure of but 200 lbs. of Powder, and resisted numerous attacks of the Enemy's Miners.

On two particular occasions our success was more than usual. A Gallery, driven from our shaft C, intercepted a Gallery of the Enemy's and our explosion completely cut off, some 12 feet of it; so that the next morning, on breaking into the portion so cut off, we dug out, or rather dragged out four dead bodies, the Enemy's Miners having been completely cut off in a tomb as it were, for the Gallery they were in was not broken down, but stopped up by our explosion.

In this case our operations commenced from Shaft D.

We broke into their Gallery some 12 feet from our wall about 12 o'clock at night, and Serjeant Day, our Superintending Miner, remained below, assisted by others, holding the entrance to their Gallery until I arrived.

On entering the Enemy's Gallery, I took Corporal Thompson, of the 78th Highlanders, with me, and observing the apparently great length of the Enemy's Mine, proceeded cautiously to extinguish the lights, so as to keep ourselves in darkness as we advanced. At this time the Enemy were in the Mine at or near their Shaft, which, contrary to their usual practice, they evidently wish to hold uninjured. They severally fill them in at once when we take their Gallery.

I proceeded, extinguishing the lights, until I distinctly saw the Enemy at the far end, and to advance further, would be to advance in a blaze of light. I therefore laid down and waited, as our preparations above, carried on under Lieutenant Tulloch, were not yet ready. Whilst laying there, I saw a Sepoy with Musket at trial advance down the Mine, and when within 40 feet of him, fired at him. My pistol missed fire, and before Corporal Thompson could hand me his pistol the Sepoy had retreated. After remaining some time longer, I placed another man with Corporal Thompson, and went up to get an Officer down, as I felt it required a very steady man down there to support us. While we were laying the charge, and making various arrangements, which utterly precluded our watching against an Enemy's advance, at the same time, Lieutenant Hay, of the 78th Highlanders, then Commanding the Picquet, kindly volunteered and took up my old post. Lieutenant Tulloch and Serjeant Day quickly got the Powder down, and all arrangements ready, when we then withdrew Lieutenant Hay, behind the partial Barriade we had formed; and whilst here, still watching with Corporal Thompson, he got two shots at another man who attempted to come down the Mine, and apparently wounded him. The Enemy made no more attempts to come down the Mine, but went outside their building, and came over our heads, apparently with the intention of breaking through. After some quarter of an hour's walking over head, they, I conclude, could not find the direction of the Mine, and retreated into the house.

Our charge of 50 lbs. which I had laid outside our Barriade, and 82 feet up the Enemy's Gallery, was soon tamped, and the charge fired by Lieutenant Tulloch. The charge being laid with 9 feet of sand bag tamping behind it, and none in front, the main force of the Powder acted towards the Enemy's Shaft, but it took down 40 feet backwards towards us, leaving us 40 feet to use as a listening Gallery. I deduce the Enemy's Mine to be 200 feet long and upwards, from the reconnoitring of Lieut. Hay and myself before we commenced laying our charge, and from the position of the house it came from. The Gallery had numerous air-holes and was thoroughly ventilated.

82 feet I fixed on as giving us the best amount of Gallery, and no more than we could well defend.

Lieut. Hay, 78th Highlanders, and Corporal Thompson, gave assistance.

I was much indebted to Lieut. Hay and Corporal Thompson in this business, and also to Lieut. Tulloch, who himself also fired the Mine—a somewhat difficult task, as our bore being short, he had to retreat some 60 feet through the Enemy's Gallery and ours, and then of the Shaft. Such is a brief account of our Mining operations.

The total length of Gallery work run is 500 feet, and five Shafts, averaging 12 feet deep, with a drain of 5 feet each.

The 9-Pounder Gun I placed in position in the house on the left of our position, as shown in plan, and it was useful in silencing the fire of a Gun of the Enemy's firing from a Stockade up the lane.

In concluding this Report, I would respectfully bring to your notice the valuable assistance rendered by Serjeant Day, of the 32nd, who was in charge of the Mines, and until Lieut. Tulloch was posted to the position, acted direct under my orders. His zeal and quiet steady management of the raw Recruits under him has been most commendable.

I would also bring to your notice the unremitting zeal and attention to his work, manifested by Lieut. Tulloch since he has been in charge of the post; and during the period of my acting here, Lieut. Tulloch has almost entirely—unassisted by me—carried on our system of Mines most successfully.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. HUTCHINSON, Lieut. Engrs., Director of Works.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, in directing the publication of the subjoined Despatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., dated the 30th of September 1857, considers it due to that Officer and to others who may have felt disappointment at the omission of it among the Despatches which were published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary of the 23rd Instant, to explain that although earlier in date than those Despatches it has been received after them, and that its publication has not been delayed.

His Lordship in Council most fully appreciates the valor of the Troops whom that distinguished Officer the late Sir Henry Havelock, aided and supported by Sir James Outram and by the lamented Brigadier General Neill, led victoriously through the hosts of the Insurgents and in the face of extraordinary difficulties, to the relief of the Garrison of Lucknow; and he desires that every Officer, Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier will accept the assurance of the entire approbation of Government, as offered to each and all individually.

The Governor General in Council observes with great satisfaction the Supplemental Order in which Sir J. Outram separately brings to notice the services rendered by the Ferozepore Regiment under their gallant Leader Captain Brasyer. The thanks of Government were given to this Regiment in the General Order, No. 1625, of the 22nd Instant; and His Lordship in Council willingly reiterates his acknowledgments to Captain Brasyer and his Officers and Men.

A Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, dated the 22nd of December 1857, is also now published. In it His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief prominently brings to notice the good service performed by the Officers of the Volunteer Cavalry, Commanded by Captain Barrow, and the Governor General in Council embraces with much satisfaction this opportunity of publicly recording his sense of the gallant conduct of Captain Barrow and his devoted Band, Officers and Men, ever forward where hard work and danger were to be found.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B.,

Lucknow, 30th September 1857.

SIR,—General Havelock having effected his junction with the Garrison holding the Residency of Lucknow on the evening of the 25th Instant, I, on the following day, resumed Command of the Troops, issuing the Order A., of which I enclose a copy for His Excellency's information. I had previously sent a note to the Commandant of the Garrison, warning him of our approach, and warning him not to be enticed into weakening his Garrison by detaching to our support when he should hear us engaged in the City, lest the Enemy should avail themselves of that opportunity to assault his position. This note I have since learnt he received—copy enclosed B.

Since we have obtained access to the exterior of the Entrenchments, we find that they had completed six mines in the most artistic manner—one of them from a distance of 200 feet under our principal defensive works, which were ready for loading, and the firing of which must have placed the Garrison entirely at their mercy. The delay of another day, therefore, might have sealed their fate.

To force our way through the City would have proved a very desperate operation, if indeed it could have been accomplished.

After passing the Bridge, therefore, which is at the entrance, General Havelock took his Force by detours to the right, where but little means comparatively of opposition had been prepared, until he approached the front of the "Kaiser Bagh" (King's Palace), from whence a heavy fire was opened upon us, and from that point (through a limited extent of about a quarter mile of street then intervened before reaching the Residency) the Troops were much exposed to the fire of the Enemy occupying the houses on both sides, as well as to some of the besieging Guns which had been turned against us, besides being obstructed by ditches which had been cut across the street—all which obstacles were overcome by the usual gallantry and dash of British Troops, but at a heavy cost. The Residency was joined in the evening; and the cheers of our rescued comrades overcame for the time our regrets for the many who had fallen in their cause.

General Havelock's Reports will acquaint your Excellency with details; my own Reports commencing from the following day, when, as the Enemy had, during the night, continued to occupy his offensive position and to maintain his fire on the Entrenchment, it became my first object to occupy or destroy his works; for, independent of the damage caused by his fire to the now crowded Garrison, no communication could be held with the City. I, therefore, on the morning of the 26th, ordered the Captain Bazaar to be cleared, which has heretofore harbored the Enemy in vexatious proximity to the Garrison, and it was occupied by H. M.'s 32nd Regiment under Brigadier Inglis, capturing 5 Guns, with a loss of one Officer (Captain Hughes, 57th L. I.) and 2 Privates killed and 7 Privates wounded, thus removing all obstruction from the River side of our position.

On the 27th September, the Palaces extending along on the line of the River, from the Residency to near the "Kaiser Bagh" ("Tara Kotee," "Chuttur Munzul," and "Forad Buksh"), were occupied for the accommodation of our Troops. On the same day, at noon, a party consisting of 150 men made a Sortie on another of the Enemy's positions and destroyed 4 Guns, at a loss of 8 killed and wounded. At day-light on the 28th, 3 Columns, aggregating 700 men, attacked the Enemy's works at three different points, destroyed 10 Guns, and demolished by powder explosions the houses which afforded position to the Enemy for musketry fire. This has effectually destroyed his attacks, excepting on one point, where he has still 3 Guns, which it is difficult to get at, but it is not likely the Enemy will attempt to maintain that isolated position; and as there has been no fire from thence this morning, it is probable he may have abandoned it. This successful operation was attended by the serious loss of 1 Officer and 15 men killed and missing, 1 Officer and 31 men wounded, the Officer killed being Major Simmons, Commanding H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers, most deeply regretted by the whole Army.

Our present prospects have now to be considered. It was the urgent desire of the Government that the Garrison should be relieved, and the women and children, amounting to upwards of 470 souls, withdrawn.

The Army of the Enemy has been beaten in the open field without difficulty. The resistance was more obstinate in the suburbs, and at a great sacrifice the Troops forced their way to the Garrison of Lucknow. The sick and wounded had been left with the baggage in a strong enclosure, called "Alum Bagh," 5 miles from the Lucknow Entrenchment.

In considering the heavy loss at which we forced our way through the Enemy, it was evident that there could be no possible hope of carrying off the sick, wounded, and women and children (amounting to not less than 1,500 souls, including those of both Forces.) Want of carriage alone rendered the transport through 5 miles of disputed suburb an impossibility.

There remained but two alternatives, one to reinforce the Lucknow Garrison with 300 men, and leaving every thing behind, to retire immediately with the remains of the Infantry upon the "Alum Bagh," thereby leaving the Garrison in a worse state than we found it, by the addition to the numbers they had previously to feed the great amount of our wounded and the 300 Soldiers, who would barely have sufficed to afford the additional protection that would have been required, without adding such strength as would have enabled them to make an active defence, to repel attacks by Sorties; or to prevent the Enemy occupying the whole of their old positions; while it would have been impossible for any smaller Force than the remainder of our Troops, diminished by those 300 men, to have any hope of making good their way back, and that not without very serious loss. I, therefore, adopt the second alternative as the only mode of offering reasonable hope of securing the safety of this Force, by retaining sufficient strength to enforce supplies of provisions, should they not be open to us voluntarily, and to maintain ourselves, even on reduced rations, until reinforcements advance to our Relief.

Now that Delhi has fallen and released our Forces, two Brigades might perhaps be spared for this service. But I am satisfied that even one Brigade, with two Batteries of Artillery, could make good its way to the "Dilkoosha" (a position three miles from hence on the Cawnpore side of the Canal,) the route to which, the rains now being over, will be practicable for Artillery by the direct road from "Alum Bagh."

With such a Force established at "Dilkoosha," we could without difficulty open out our communication, and withdraw the whole, or such portion of our Forces as may be desired after re-establishing our authority at Lucknow.

Since my decision has been made, I have received a letter from the "Alum Bagh," in which it is stated that they are in great want of provisions, but upon returns of what they have, it is clear that they are not aware of their resources, which were sufficient for some days. I have, therefore, ordered back the Cavalry to join them in the night by a circuitous route, with conditional orders to withdraw to Cawnpore, or to maintain their position, as may be found most practicable. Their only difficulty is provisions, as they are placed in a fortified enclosure, defended by two of our heavy Guns, and two 9-Pounders, besides other Guns taken from the Enemy, 250 European Soldiers, and a number of convalescents fit to bear arms.

I have the honor to be,

Your Excellency's most obedient servant,

1st October, P. Lucknow Residency, 26th September 1857.

DIVISION ORDERS.

The Relief of the Lucknow Garrison having last night been accomplished by General Havelock and his brave Troops, Major-General Sir J. Outram resumes his position as Commander of the Forces.

The Major-General heartily congratulates General Havelock and the Troops whom that gallant and distinguished Officer has so gloriously led to victory on brilliant successes over the hosts that have opposed them since the Army crossed the Ganges on the 19th instant. He sincerely believes that, in the history of Warfare, British valor was never more conspicuously displayed than on the 21st instant at

"Mungulwarra," on the 23d at "Alum Bagh," and on the 25th, when his heroic comrades forced the City Bridge and other formidable obstacles which interrupted their passage to the position held by the beleaguered Garrison. The Major-General deeply laments the heavy cost at which the Relief of our countrymen has been purchased, but the glorious devotion with which the gallant dead and equally gallant survivors staked their lives to rescue the Lucknow Garrison will be deeply appreciated by our Queen and our Country, and the safety of those whom we, under God's blessing, have been permitted to redeem from a dreadful fate, must be our consolation for the loss of so many of our noble comrades. The Major-General begs to return his most sincere and heartfelt thanks to the General and his Gallant Army for their glorious exertions, the only acknowledgment of their achievements which it is in his power to render. On General Havelock it will devolve, in his Reports to the Commander-in-Chief, to do justice to the Army which has so devotedly carried out his orders. But while fully aware, that every Arm was stimulated by the same brave spirit, the Major-General deems it right to bear his personal testimony to the admirable conduct of such of the Troops as acted under his immediate observation. He would especially note the behaviour of the 90th Regiment, who led the advance of the left attack at "Mungulwarra"; that of the Volunteer Cavalry, who charged the Artillery of the retiring Enemy and captured 2 of their Guns; that of the 84th and Detachment of the 6th attached to it, who led the attack on the Enemy's left at "Alum Bagh"; that of Captain Olphert's Battery, who so bravely followed up their retreat on that occasion, and Major Eyre's Battery, in opposing the many that afterwards bore on their position; that of the 5th Fusiliers and Captain Maude's Battery, who led the Column on the 25th instant, under a most murderous fire; that of the 1st Fusiliers (Madras), who charged the Bridge and Battery at the entrance of the City, led by the gallant Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Havelock; and finally, that of the 78th Highlanders, who led the advance on the Residency, headed by their brave Commander, Colonel Stisted, accompanied by the gallant Lieutenant Hargood, A. D. C. to General Havelock; Captain Grant, 1st Madras Fusiliers; Lieutenant Hudson, 6th Regiment; and Lieutenant Chamier, A. D. C.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER.

The Major-General regrets to find that, in noticing the services of the Troops which came under his personal attention, in Division Orders of 26th instant, he omitted to mention the Regiment of Ferozepore and its gallant leader, Captain Brasyer. The Major-General in that Order merely referred to what he himself observed, but was well aware that this Regiment was most prominently forward on every occasion. Though happening seldom to be in the same part of the Field, he takes blame to himself for having inadvertently omitted to mention their advance with the 90th at "Mungulwarra," which did come under his personal observation. The time has not yet come for the Major-General to notice the conduct of the Troops subsequently to his assuming Command, during which period the Sikh Regiment has been incessantly occupied on most important service; but they may rest assured that they, as well as all the Corps who have like them highly distinguished themselves since, will be brought to prominent notice.

TO BRIGADIER INGLIS.

North side of the River, 20th September 1857.

SIR,—The Army crossed the River yesterday, and all the material being over, marches to-morrow, and, under the blessing of God, will now relieve you. The Rebels, we hear, purpose making a desperate assault upon you as we approach the City, and will be on the watch in expectation of your weakening your Garrison to make a diversion in our favor as we attack the City. I beg to warn you against being enticed too far from your works when you hear us engaged. Such diversion as you can make without in any way risking your position, should only be attempted.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to transmit, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, copy of a letter dated the 15th instant, No. 7, from Captain L. Barrow, Commanding the Volunteer Cavalry with Major General Sir J. Outram's Force, bringing prominently to notice the names of Officers who have done good service in the Corps under his Command; and I am to request you will have the goodness to acquaint His Lordship in Council, that Sir James Outram has been requested to inform Captain Barrow, that the merits of these Officers, and more especially of Captain Barrow himself as Commandant of the Volunteer Cavalry, are highly appreciated by His Excellency.

I have the honor to be,

FROM CAPTAIN BARROW, Comdg. Volunteer Cavalry.

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,

1st or Major-Genl. Sir J. Outram's (G. C. B.) Division.

Camp Alum Bagh, 15th Dec. 1857.

SIR,—As most of the Officers of the Volunteer Cavalry have been removed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, their services being otherwise required, and many others having left wounded, I trust I shall be excused for bringing prominently to notice the names of all these Officers who have performed their duty well, and in an entirely new capacity.

2. The Officers as per margin marked* served since the Force left Allahabad on the 6th July under General Havelock, and those marked † joined at various periods of the Campaign. These Officers have not only performed the duties of Private Soldiers and Non-Commissioned Officers, but side by side with the Privates of the different Regiments composing the late Field Force. The arduous nature of these duties is so well known to the Major-General, that it only remains to bring to his notice the cheerful and exemplary manner in which the Officers performed them.

3. My object in bringing forward the names at this time is, that those now with His Excellency may have their conduct as Volunteers under his notice in their nomination to other appointments, for under a somewhat new and peculiar formation, they have readily adapted themselves to all circumstances, and behaved throughout as Officers should do, anxious to prove themselves good Soldiers.

No. 1667 of 1857.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council has received the accompanying Despatch from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and hastens to give publicity to it.

It supplies an omission in a previous Despatch from His Excellency, which was printed in the Gazette Extraordinary of the 24th Instant.

Major-General Windham's reputation as a Leader of conspicuous bravery and coolness, and the reputation of the Gallant Force which he Commanded, will have lost nothing from an accidental omission such as General Sir Colin Campbell has occasion to regret.

But the Governor General in Council will not fail to bring to the notice of the Government in England the opinion formed by His Excellency of the difficulties against which Major-General Windham, with the Officers and Men under his orders, had to contend.

TO THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Head Quarters, Camp near Cananore, the 20th December 1857.

MY LORD,—I have the honor to bring to your Lordship's notice, an omission, which I have to regret, in my Despatch of the 2nd December, and I beg to be allowed now to repair it.

I desire to make my acknowledgment of the great difficulties in which Major-General Windham, C. B., was placed during the operations he described in his Despatch, and to recommend him and the Officers whom he notices as having rendered him assistance, to your Lordship's protection and good offices.

I may mention, in conclusion, that Major-General Windham is ignorant of the contents of my Despatch of 2nd December, and that I am prompted to take this step solely as a matter of justice to the Major-General and the other Officers concerned.

I have the honor to be,

My Lord,

With the greatest respect,

Your Lordship's most obedient humble servant,

FORT ST. GEORGE, 16th JANUARY 1858.

No. 18 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is published for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 5th JANUARY 1858.

No. 16 of 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by a portion of the Troops under Command of Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., on a body of the Enemy in the neighbourhood of his Camp, on the 22d December last. His Lordship in Council concurs in the commendation given by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to Sir James Outram and the Officers and Men under his Command on the occasion.

No. 41 A.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Head Quarters Camp, Poora, December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council, copy of a Despatch of the 23d Instant, from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., reporting the circumstances of a successful attack made upon a portion of the Enemy in the neighbourhood of his Camp by a Detachment of the Troops under the Major-General's Command, in which four Guns were captured, and I am to state that His Excellency considers the whole affair to have been extremely well conducted, and to reflect much credit on the Troops engaged.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding Troops in Oude,

TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

Camp before Lucknow, 23d December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that I had yesterday an affair with the Enemy at a village called Guilee, three miles from hence, situated a little to the right of the road to Dil Khoosha.

I had been informed two days previously, by my spies, that the Enemy contemplated surrounding my position in order to cut off supplies, stop all foraging expeditions, and to intercept my communication with Bunnec. With this object they despatched a Force to Guilee, which took up a position between that village and Budroop, which places are about a mile distant from each other.

On the evening of the 21st Instant, I learnt that the Rebels had been reinforced, and that their strength amounted to about 4,000 Infantry, 400 Cavalry, and 8 Field Guns.*

Having ascertained that a space of about half a mile intervened between their position and the Gardens skirting the Canal and the Dil Khoosha, I moved out at 5 A. M. in the hope of surprising them at day-break and intercepting their retreat to the City, with a Force detailed in the accompanying Divisional Order, which I have this day issued, and to which I beg to refer His Excellency for all details, and for the terms in which I express my appreciation of the conduct of The Troops on the occasion.

* Since ascertained to have been only 4, all of which were captured.

The main body of the Enemy being on the march considerably in advance, retreated to the City, by a detour to the left out of our reach, and concealed by intervening tops of trees, on hearing the attack on their rear; but the loss of 4 Horse Artillery Guns, much Ammunition, besides Elephants and Baggage, and some 50 or 60 men slain, will, I think, deter the Enemy from again venturing beyond their defensive works, or at any rate from attempting, for some time to come, to carry out their plan of surrounding this Camp within a too limited circumference, and I have great hopes that the success of this expedition will be productive of good effect in restoring confidence to the neighbouring inhabitants.

Total
6 9-Pounder Guns, under Captain Olpherts.
130 Cavalry, under Major Robertson.
1227 Infantry, under Brigadier Stisted.
Right Column, under Lieut. Colonel Purnell, H. M.'s 90th Light Infantry.
Reserve, under Lt. Col. Hamilton, H. M.'s 78th Highlanders.

1. Major-General Sir James Outram has much pleasure in recording, in Division Orders, his satisfaction with the conduct of the Officers and Men (quoted in the margin) under the Command of Brigadier Stisted engaged yesterday in the skirmish at Guilee, in which four Guns and twelve Waggons filled with Ammunition, were captured.

2. The Right Column, under the Command of Lieut. Col. Purnell, H. M.'s 90th Regiment, consisting of Detachments of the 78th and 90th Regiments, and of the Ferozepore Regiment of Seikhs, excited his admiration by the gallant way in which with a cheer they dashed at a strong position held by the Enemy, and from which they were met by a heavy fire. Regardless of the overwhelming numbers and 6 Guns reported to be posted there, the suddenness of the attack, and the spirited way in which it was executed, resulted in the immediate flight of the Enemy, with hardly a casualty on our side.

3. Colonel Guy, in Command of the Left Column, consisting of 400 men of Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, under the guidance of Lieutenant Moorsom, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, was equally successful in his simultaneous attack on the adjacent village of Guilee, in which and the adjoining tope two Guns were captured.

4. The Enemy were now rapidly followed up across the plain by the Volunteer Cavalry, under Capt. Barrow, until they found refuge in a village from which they opened a fire of Grape and Musketry. They were, however, speedily dislodged, by the assistance of two of Captain Olpherts' Guns, under the Command of Lieutenant Smithett, and changing their line of retreat they endeavoured to reach the City by the way of the Dil Khoosha.

5. The Military Train, under Major Robertson, having been, however, despatched to make a flank movement, followed them up so rapidly that they dispersed their Cavalry, and drove their Guns into a ravine, where they were captured, the leading horses, of which the traces were cut, only escaping.

6. The Major General was particularly pleased with the very cool and soldier-like behaviour of the Military Train. Far ahead of the Infantry and unable to remove the Guns which were captured, they were menaced in their front by a large body of fresh Troops from the City, and attacked on their right flank by the main body of the Enemy, consisting of about 2,000 Infantry, who had commenced their march previous to our attack, and who on hearing their rear assailed also changed their route to one in the direction of the City, and seeing their Guns, in possession of so small a Force as that under Major Robertson, made demonstrations of an attempt to regain them; but by the bold front shown by the Military Train, and the gallant advance of their Skirmishers, were held at bay, until the arrival of a party of the 5th Fusiliers and two 9-Pounder Guns, under Captain Olpherts, completely secured their capture, and enabled a working party of the Madras Sappers, under the Command of Lieutenant Ogilvie, to extricate them from the ravine into which they had been driven. Captain Hutchinson, Chief Engineer, on this, as on several other occasions during the day, afforded much valuable assistance.

7. The Major-General has to thank Lieutenant-Colonel H. Hamilton, Commanding the Reserve, for the good position taken up by him, which, with the fire of the two Guns under Lieutenant Simpson, which were most judiciously posted, were of great assistance in checking the advance of the Enemy during the protracted operations of removing the captured Guns.

8. Sir James Outram has also to express his acknowledgments to Brigadiers Hamilton and Eyre, who were left in charge of the Camp, and with the small Force at their disposal, checked the dispositions for an attack which the Enemy was commencing with their Skirmishers on the left flank, until the return of the Force to Camp caused them to abandon their intentions.

9. It will be the pleasing duty of the Major-General to make His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief acquainted with the successful result of yesterday's operations, and his approbation of the conduct of all those concerned in them.

SUPPLEMENT TO DIVISION ORDERS.

In publishing to the Troops under his Command the Return of Casualties which occurred in the skirmish at Guilee on the 22nd Instant, as well as the Return of Ordnance captured by them, the Major-General is happy to have to record his approval of the conduct of Staff Serjeant Roddy, who was in Command of the two Guns attached to Colonel Guy's Column, and whom his Commanding Officer, Captain Olpherts, has mentioned for the able way in which he brought his Guns into action, and the good service he rendered in covering the rapid advance of the Column.

Major Robertson has also brought to his notice the great assistance he received on every occasion from Captain Lane, 5th Bengal Light Cavalry, and Lieutenant Rich, H. M.'s 9th Lancers, attached to the Military Train.

Commanding H. M. 43rd Regiment L. I.

Upon which charges the Court came to the following decision.

"The court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and nothing having been urged in defence, is of opinion, that the Prisoner Edward Fitzpatrick, Regimental number three thousand four hundred and thirty-six, Private in the A. or Captain Fiennis Middleton Colville's Company of Her Majesty's Forty-third Regiment of Light Infantry, is"

Finding on the First Charge.—"Guilty of the First Charge."

Finding on the Second Charge.—"Guilty of the Second Charge."

Sentence.—"The Court Sentences the Prisoner Edward Fitzpatrick, regimental number three thousand four hundred and thirty-six, Private in the A. or Captain Fiennis Middleton Colville's Company of Her Majesty's Forty-third Regiment of Light Infantry, to imprisonment with hard labor for two years, to be marked with the letter D in the usual manner, and to the forfeiture of all advantage, as to additional Pay, or Good Conduct Pay, and Pension on discharge, which might accrue from future service. The sentence of imprisonment to commence at the expiration of the imprisonment to which he has been previously sentenced. The Court further recommends the Prisoner to be discharged Her Majesty's service with ignominy."

Bangalore, twenty second of December,
one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

(Signed) W. F. BEDFORD, Lieut. Col.,
3d 60th Royal Rifles, President.

I approve and Confirm the Sentence of the Court to the extent of imprisonment with hard labor for twelve Calendar months, and to be marked with the letter D. The mitigated sentence to commence as directed by the Court. I will give the Prisoner one more opportunity of retrieving his character, as I observe that although his conduct has of late been so disgraceful, yet out of a service of eleven years and nine months, nearly eleven years of it were passed by the Prisoner without any conviction by Court Martial against him.

MADRAS,
4th January 1858.

(Signed) PATRICK GRANT, Lieut. General,
Commander in Chief.

This order is to be entered in the General Order Book, and read at the head of every Regiment in Her Majesty's Service on the establishment of Fort St. George.

By order of His Excellency Lieutenant General Sir Patrick Grant, K. C. B.

(Signed) CHARLES DENISON, Lieut. Colonel,
Deputy Adjt. Genl. H. M. Forces.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. G. WOODS, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

25TH JANUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 23D JANUARY 1858.

No. 26 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of Bombay, is republished at this Presidency.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Bombay Castle, 9th January 1858.

No. 47 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council has very great satisfaction in publishing, for the information of the Army, the following Report made to His Excellency the Commander in Chief by Brigadier Stuart, Commanding the Malwa Field Force (now 1st Brigade Nerbudda Field Force), of his successful Operations against the Insurgents assembled near Mundisore, during four days, from the 21st to the 24th November last :—

No. 201 OF 1857.

FROM BRIGADIER STUART, Commanding Malwa Field Force,

TO THE ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Bombay.

SIR,—With reference to my telegrams of the 25th and 26th instant, I have now the honour to forward the Reports, and to communicate, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, full particulars of the successful operations in which the Malwa Field Force, and the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent under Command of Major Orr, were engaged on the 21st, 22nd, 23rd, and 24th instant, against the Rebel Enemy in the vicinity of Mundisore.

2. On the morning of the 21st November, this Force, accompanied by the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, which, as I have already reported, is co-operating with me under Command of Major Orr, arrived within three miles and a half of Mundisore about 9 A. M., and as I had no good information as to the roads or the country in the immediate vicinity of the town, neither as to the fords of the river Sowna, which it was necessary to cross before reaching the town, I determined upon encamping until a good reconnoissance had been effected. The Rebel Enemy at Mundisore, hearing of our approach, had posted Picquets entirely covering the country over which we were advancing, and observing our Picquets thrown out, they mustered in some force outside the walls of the town, and appeared inclined to attack. I, however, contented myself with reinforcing the Picquets, and leaving the whole charge of the front to Major Robertson, 25th Regiment N. I. The Field Officer of the Day returned to Camp about 3 o'clock P. M. I received intimation from him that the Enemy were advancing in force, and threatening both our flanks and centre at same time. I accordingly moved out to meet them. They advanced steadily, with banners flying, and appeared in great numbers. On approaching our right front, however, they were most gallantly charged by Lieutenant Dew, H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, who, with some of his Men, occupied that ground as a Picquet. Captain Orr, Commanding 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, supported Lieutenant Dew, and the Enemy were driven back with great loss; and before our guns, which had quickly moved up, could open upon them, the attack on our centre was repulsed by a few rounds of our Artillery, whilst that on the left was successfully met by the Field Force under Major Orr. The Enemy, having been thus driven, back at all points, were pursued for some distance—in fact until they nearly reached the walls of the town; and nothing further occurred that day.

3. Having received intelligence from the Governor General's Agent that the portion of the Rebel Army before Neemuch, amounting to about five thousand, would probably raise the Siege of that place, and endeavour to effect a junction with their Head Quarters at Mundisore, I determined to frustrate this, by intercepting them. Accordingly, early on the morning of the 22nd Instant, I moved forward my Force in order of battle. Our advance was unopposed, and on my left flank reaching the village of Kuljepore, I made a flank movement to the left, as previously determined on, leaving the Advanced Guard to cover it, and to reinforce the Rear Guard, as we crossed the Bakri ford of the river Sowna, about 1,400 yards to the south-west of the town of Mundisore. Thus secured, the movement was safely effected, opposed only by a slight and ineffective fire from a gun on one of the south-west bastions of the town. I then encamped, facing the west of the town, my flanks well protected by the two branches of the river, and my line running at right angles to the right of Sir Thomas Hislop's Camp in 1817. Just previous to the Camp being marked out, it was reported that Cavalry were seen on the left, and Major Orr, taking the 1st Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent under Captain Abbott, and 4th Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent under Captain Murray, saw about 300 horse, supposed to be under Heera Sing, endeavouring to draw them off in a north-westerly direction, but keeping at too great a distance to allow of being attacked. Reinforcements of Cavalry were sent for, and whilst the Left Wing H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons under Captain Gall, and 3rd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent under Lieutenant Clerk, were moving up, intelligence was brought to Major Orr that Heera Sing's baggage had just left the village of Goraria, on the Neemuch road. The object of Heera Sing's party to draw our Cavalry away from his baggage thus being apparent, H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, the 1st Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, and the 4th Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, galloped off in pursuit, the 3rd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent remaining as a reserve. They caught up the Enemy about two miles south of Peeplia, and, after cutting up about 200 of them, halted at a nulla a mile to the south of that village. On perceiving it strongly occupied by the Enemy's Infantry, who showed many standards, they then returned to Camp.

4. Feeling assured that the Infantry seen in Peeplia formed the advance Guard of the Enemy, I moved at 8 o'clock A. M. on the 23d instant by my left, and crossed the northern branch of the river Sowna. I then halted my Column, and collected all my baggage on the reverse flank, then moving on to my proposed Camp on the Neemuch and Mundisore road, ready to oppose the Enemy either from one or the other direction. On coming on to the ground, the Enemy appeared in great force to the north; so, ordering my baggage to be collected on a strong mound, I strongly reinforced my Rear Guard and proceeded to meet them. After a short advance, I formed line to my front, facing northwards, and found the Enemy occupying a very strong position, with their right in and beyond the village of Goraria, their right centre covered by a date nulla and lines of date-trees, their battery of six guns on rising ground, with a large mud hut protecting their gunners, and their left stretched along the ridge running east from the village. My line advanced, covered by skirmishers; the Enemy's Infantry, with banners flying (many of them green), moved down to meet us through the intermediate fields of high jowarree, and their guns opened fire. I immediately halted my line, and replied to the fire with Captains Hungerford and Woolcombe's Batteries, at a range of about 900 yards. After a few rounds, I again advanced the line, and permitted Captain Hungerford to move his half Battery to a position on our right front, from which he could enfilade the Enemy. After an advance of about three hundred yards, our line was again halted, and firing resumed, that from both Batteries being very effective. A most gallant charge was then made on the Enemy's guns by the escort of Her Majesty 14th Light Dragoons attached to Captain Hungerford, under Lieutenant Martin, who found, however, that the position was still very strongly held by the Enemy's Infantry, and was compelled to retire, he himself being very severely wounded. Captain Hungerford's half Battery was again advanced to within one hundred yards, and, after a round or two of grape, the guns were at once again charged and captured, the Enemy flying in great numbers into the village to their right. The 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, under Captain S. Orr, was just at this moment rapidly advanced by our right front, and, having been wheeled to the front about the eighth of a circle, right thrown forward, and moved steadily on the village, which evidently held great numbers of the Enemy; their skirmishers disputed our advance, but were soon driven back. Having halted within about 300 yards of the village, our Artillery opened upon it with shot and shell, after which I directed the Infantry to advance and carry it. The men of the 86th and 25th Regiments dashed forward in the most gallant manner, and, having entered the village, commenced to drive all before them. They soon met, however, with very warm opposition, the Enemy having taken possession in great force of many houses, from which a most harassing fire was kept up on our men. Under these circumstances, and as, moreover, I could get no satisfactory accounts of what was passing in my rear, which I knew, from the firing I heard, as also from the pressing applications I had received for reinforcements, had been warmly engaged, I recalled the Infantry, and posted strong Picquets all round the village, and moved the remainder of the men a short distance off, to where the baggage had been passed up from the rear. I then learnt that during the afternoon, when we were hotly engaged in the front, a strong body of the Enemy from Mundisore attacked our rear, and endeavoured to carry off the siege train, baggage, &c.; they were, however, most gallantly repulsed on every occasion. In one of these attacks I regret to say that Lieutenant Redmayne, H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, was killed, whilst most bravely leading his men against the Enemy. Notwithstanding the many attempts made by the Enemy to press upon and harass our rear, it gives me great satisfaction to be able to state that not a particle of baggage was lost, nor a follower injured. On this occasion Lieutenant Leith, Commanding a Squadron 14th Light Dragoons, appears to have done good service; as also Lieutenant Fenwick, 25th Regiment N. I., in charge of the baggage. Gunner Maitland, of the Bengal Artillery; and Gunner Thomson, of the Bombay Artillery, also distinguished themselves, by assisting to work the heavy guns most effectively against the Enemy.

5. On the 24th instant, I arranged with Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery, that the village of Goraria, in which the Rebels had taken refuge, should be well shelled and again assaulted by the Infantry. Accordingly, I moved up to it about noon, and found that the Enemy were as I had left them the preceding evening, excepting that a few had attempted to escape, nearly all of whom were killed. After a heavy fire of three hours' duration, the Detachment H. M.'s 86th Regiment, under Command of Major Keane, and the 25th Regiment N. I. under Major Robertson, again stormed the village, and carried it, killing great numbers of the Enemy, they themselves also suffering severely. At sunset I withdrew the Troops, intending to move against the Fort of Mundisore the next day. Early, however, on the morning of the 25th instant, intelligence reached me that the Enemy had during the night completely evacuated Mundisore, and were scattered in flight throughout the country in various directions, having lost, it is computed, about fifteen hundred of their number during our operations against them. I accordingly removed my camp to Mundisore, and am now engaged in dismantling the Fort, destroying the guns, &c. before leaving this neighbourhood.

6. By the successful operations of the Malwa Field Force and Field Force Hyderabad Contingent in the vicinity of Mundisore, the Neemuch Garrison has been relieved from the Assault with which it was threatened; the insurgent Rebels have been dispersed from their stronghold, in which for months past they have been daily collecting all those disaffected to our rule, and peace and order will now, it is to be hoped, be re-established in these Districts.

7. I must now, in conclusion, place on record my grateful acknowledgments to Colonel Durand, Officiating Agent to the Governor General for Central India, for his cordial assistance to me on all occasions. He was present in the Field throughout the operations, and gave me the benefit of his advice, which proved of great service to me. Major Orr, Commanding Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, most ably co-operated with me on all occasions; and to him, and all under his Command, I am very much indebted. To Major Boileau, Field Engineer, and his Assistants, Lieutenants Prendergast (severely wounded) and Gordon; to Captain Mayne, Intelligence Department; to Captain Coley, Major of Brigade; to Lieutenant Macdonald, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster General; to Lieutenant Thain, Sub-Assistant Commissary General; and to Surgeon Mackenzie, Staff Surgeon, my warmest thanks are due: the assistance rendered me by these Officers left me nothing to wish for. A perusal of the report made by Captain Gall, Commanding Left Wing H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, will convey to His Excellency the Commander in Chief some idea of the good service performed by all ranks under his Command. I most fully concur in Captain Gall's report, and beg to commend to the consideration of His Excellency all the Officers and Men mentioned by him. Of Captain Gall himself, I must in justice add, that a more able, zealous, and hard-working Officer I have never met with, nor one more worthy of distinction. Of Captain Orr, 3rd Regt. Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, and the Officers and Men under his Command, I have already had reason to send the most favorable report to the Resident at Hyderabad. On this last occasion nothing could surpass the bravery shown by all ranks of this Regiment. Captain Orr himself is, I consider, a first-rate Cavalry Officer; his daring courage is admired by all, and in every affair in which he is engaged, his personal combats are most prominent features. To Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery Malwa Field Force; and to Captain Woolcombe, Commanding No. 4 Light Field Battery, and the Officers and Men under their Command, my best thanks are due. I do not think Artillery practice could have been better; and there can be but little doubt that the successful issue of operations is much to be attributed to their assistance. Of the conduct of Captain Brown, and the Officers and Men of the B. Company Madras Sappers and Miners, I have much pleasure in speaking in the highest terms; whether as Sappers or as Infantry, they have distinguished themselves on every occasion. They have undergone an incredible amount of hard labour during our late march with a siege train over a country without roads; nor must I omit to mention that they accompanied the storming parties into the village of Goraria, and proved of the greatest service. My best thanks are also due to Major Keane, and the Officers and Men of the Detachment H. M.'s 86th Regiment; the gallantry of all ranks was most conspicuous, and, on both occasions that the village was assaulted, the coolness and daring of the Officers and Men, at whose head Major Keane placed himself, elicited the praise of all. My Despatch from Dhar will have made His Excellency the Commander in Chief aware of the very high opinion I held of Major Robertson, and the Officers and Men of the 25th Regiment N. I. During the late operations, nothing could have been finer than the behaviour of all in this Regiment. Major Robertson distinguished himself on the 21st instant as Field Officer of the Day in the disposition of the Picquets, which duty I entirely confided to him, and by the skilful manner in which he met the attack made upon him in force on the afternoon of that day. During the succeeding days, Major Robertson rendered me the greatest assistance; the manner in which he led his Regiment on two occasions to storm the village of Goraria is beyond praise, and I consider that the admirable conduct of the 25th Regiment N. I. fully attests the worth of this Officer, who will, I hope, meet with some mark of distinction. In the praise conveyed to Captain Little, 25th Regiment N. I., by his Commanding Officer, I quite concur; and trust that His Excellency may be able to grant some mark of favor to this deserving Officer. In the two attacks on the village of Goraria, I could see no difference between the conduct of the men of the 25th Regiment N. I. and their comrades of H. M.'s 86th Regiment; the same daring and gallantry characterised both. Their list of casualties will show how warmly they were engaged; and I trust His Excellency will recognise the merits of this Regiment. Before closing this Despatch, I beg to report on the admirable conduct of Assistant Surgeon Butler, 4th Company 2d Battalion Artillery, who, during the engagement on the 23d instant, though suffering severely from sickness, left his dooley, and was engaged in the most active manner during the whole day in assisting to administer comfort to the wounded. The conduct of this Officer has been brought to my notice by the Staff Surgeon of the Force, and will, I trust, meet with some reward.

I have the honour to be, &c.

No. 49 of 1858.—With reference to Government General Order, No. 1625, of the 22nd December 1857, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying Letter, No. 44, dated 28th December 1857, from Brigadier Inglis, late Commanding the Lucknow Garrison.

His Lordship in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the services of Captain Wilson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Birch, Aide-de-Camp, and Captain Barwell, Fort Adjutant.

No. 44.

FROM BRIGADIER J. INGLIS, Late Comdg. Lucknow Garrison,

TO THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA, Military Department.

Cawnpore, 28th December. 1857.

SIR,—IN my Report to Major-General Sir James Outram G. C. B., of the operations which took place in the Garrison of Lucknow after the 25th of September until the 23rd of November last, when we were finally relieved by the Force under the personal Command of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, I unfortunately omitted the names of Captain Willson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Birch, A. D. C., and Captain Barwell, Fort Adjutant.

I have consequently observed with much regret that these Officers have not received notice in the General Order by the Governor General in Council under date the 22nd Instant.

I have, in my former Report, endeavoured to do justice to the merits of these Officers, and as they have continued to render me valuable service, I feel assured that they would have been prominently brought to the notice of the Governor General by Sir James Outram, G. C. B., but for my inadvertence, which I trust it is not too late to have corrected.

My anxiety that no time should be lost in rendering justice to the Officers above alluded to will I trust, be deemed sufficient excuse for my having addressed you direct.

I have, &c.,

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Late Comdg. Lucknow Garrison.

No. 54 of 1858.—Errata.—Brigadier J. Inglis, late Commanding Lucknow Garrison, having brought to notice that the names of Captain H. Forbes, of the 1st Light Cavalry, and Lieutenant A. S. Thain, of the 13th Native Infantry, were inadvertently omitted in the 12th Paragraph of the Brigadier's Despatch, dated 12th November 1857, published in the Extraordinary Gazette of the 23rd December 1857,* the Right Honorable the Governor General G. G. O. No. 1625 of in Council desires to rectify that omission, and that those Officers' names be added to that paragraph,—Captain Forbes' name after that of Major Apthorp, and Lieutenant Thain's after that of Lieutenant Cook. Order Books to be corrected accordingly.

No. 55 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by the Troops under Colonel Rowcroft, on a body of marauding Rebels in the neighbourhood of his Camp, on the 26th of December last.

To Colonel Rowcroft, to Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade, and to the Officers and Men under his Command; to the Detachment of Royal Marines under Lieutenant Pym, and that of the Bengal Police Battalion under Lieutenant Burton, as well as to the Officers, Civil and Military, honorably mentioned by Colonel Rowcroft, the Governor General in Council desires to offer his thanks for their services on this occasion.

The Governor General in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the good services rendered upon this occasion by the Nepaulese Troops acting under Colonel Rowcroft's Command. To the Officers and Soldiers of that Force generally, but especially to Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, Commanding the Ramdull Regiment, to Captain Dercedass Opudiah, of the same Corps, and to Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bashnial, Commanding the Gorucknath Regiment, His Lordship in Council desires to tender the thanks of Government for the great zeal and gallantry which they have displayed.

No. 80.

FROM COLONEL H. ROWCROFT, Commanding Sarun Field Force,

Camp Mujhowlee, on the River Cotaah Gundah, 25 miles West of Sewan, 28th Dec. 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, that the Field Force under my Command received a re-inforcement of the Gorucknath Regiment of Goorkhas—500 strong—on the morning of the 25th December, sent on to join me by forced marches from Segowlee, by His Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor and Mr. Samuells the Commissioner. It was represented to me strongly that they were too fatigued, foot-sore and hungry to march again that day, and that they had been without sleep for two nights. I therefore postponed for the day, though reluctantly, my arrangements to move and attack the Rebels at Sohunpore—7 miles distant, and about midway between my entrenched Camp at Myrwa and

Mujhowlee. About 7½, on the morning of the 26th December, I marched from Camp with the Force noted in the margin,* leaving two Companies—100 men—of Goorkhas, and 50 Matchlock-men of the Hutwa Rajah's, for the protection of the Camp, and of these, half a Company and 20 Matchlock-men to watch and secure the narrow Causeway Bridge over the river Jurhace, less than half a mile in front of my Camp. It was reported to me that the Rebels were posted in the village of Sohunpore, and in two or three large topes (woods) close to it, on either side of the Mujhowlee road, with a tank with high banks close in front of the village on the north, in which most of the Sepoys, and three of their four guns were posted. On arriving within little more than a half a mile of the position of the Rebels, I formed line, and took ground to the right to turn their left flank and act more easily on the tank. During this movement, the Enemy pushed forward numerous Skirmishers into the topes and cultivation, and opened fire of Guns and Musketry on our line. Our Skirmishers, consisting of the Marines, part of the Naval Brigade and Seikhs, soon returned their fire, doing much execution among the Enemy, especially the Marines with the Minié Rifles. We also opened fire with our Guns and a few Shells well thrown in two or three directions, checked the Rebels for a time. I advanced the line a short distance, when the main body of the Enemy rapidly moved to their right, to join a Force previously in position, I strongly suspect, on our left, their aim apparently being to surround us with their numbers. I changed our front immediately to our left. During this time, a village on our left was steadily and gallantly held by Lieutenant Burton, 40th Regiment N. I., with the 50 Seikhs, and I sent two Companies of the Ramdull Regiment of Goorkhas to reinforce him in holding that post, and, if possible, to capture a Gun firing on our left. Lieutenant Burlton reports that Soobadar Hinkumal Bushnia, 9th Company Ramdull Goorkhas, behaved very gallantly, constantly encouraging his men, and in riding at one of the Rebels who was attacking Lieutenant Burlton, inflicting fortunately only a cut through his turban and helmet, the Soobadar was very severely wounded by a tulwar cut round the left hip, a Seikhi then rushing up, cutting down, and killing the Rebel. After changing ground to the left, I advanced the line towards the Enemy, now and then allowing our Guns to throw a Shell or two. The Enemy made a show of advancing a short distance with about 50 Sowars in their front. After advancing the line a short distance, two or three Shells were beautifully pitched into the midst of this large body of Foot and Horsemen, at 900 or 1,000 yards distance, scattering them in all directions. I am sorry there was no opportunity to allow of the Goorkhas joining in a charge. The main body then moved rapidly to their left, as if to gain their old position in the topes and village. Our line was changed to the right. During the former advance and this movement, the Rebel Skirmishers were firing from heavy cover on us from our right and right rear. I ordered the Marines to skirmish and cover our right, and two Companies of the Gorucknath Regiment, who were placed in reserve, to cover our right rear. The line and Skirmishers advanced, firing a few rounds from our Guns into the topes, and in the direction of the tank. The Rebels seem to have had only a rear-guard at this time left at Sohunpore. The Skirmishers rapidly advanced into the topes, which we found quite clear of the Enemy. Three tents of Baboo Koer Singh's nephew, Hurkishen Singh, were here found all pitched, and a quantity of Grain, &c. I ordered the tents to be burnt at once. We then moved to the right to get on the Mujhowlee road, and continued our advance without delay to Mujhowlee, some six miles distant. Within about two miles of Mujhowlee we saw the rear of the Rebels entering the place, and on nearing it I ordered the Marines, and part of the Naval Brigade, and four Companies of the Gorucknath Regiment to push on rapidly after the Seikhs composing the advance guard, in the hopes of capturing their Guns crossing the deep ford of the Gunduk. I am happy to say one large iron six-pounder Gun and limber complete, full of Ammunition, was taken in the river. The Sikhs and some men of the Gorucknath Regiment, with Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bushnial, were among the first down at the river in capturing the Gun. The cultivation was so heavy, and we advanced on so quickly, it was difficult to ascertain the number of the Rebels killed. Two other tumbrils—one full of Ammunition, the other of Powder—and two or three carts were also taken. The Rebels, by all reports and appearances, were 1100 or 1200 Sepoys, and between 4000 and 5000 other armed men. The Naib Nazim Mushuruff Khan, was present in the action with his Force and also Alli Kurreem, Moulvee of Patna, who was first reported to have been killed in the action, but now said to have got away the evening before. The Governor General will be pleased to learn that this one day's work has completely cleared the District of this horde of marauding Rebels, relieving the many villages of their plundering and oppression. The Rajah of Mujhowlee and the people gladly welcomed us, as did other people on the road. I had promised the Rajah I would soon relieve him. The Rajah states the Rebels made sure of surrounding and destroying us as we were so few, and of being able to get into Chupra and to plunder the District. The Rajah also states that with the Sepoys, Matchlock-men, Sword and Spear-men the Rebels were more than 6000 or 7000 strong. I do not think the Rebels had heard of the arrival of the second Goorkha Regiment on the 25th December. I learn from the Mujhowlee Rajah and other reports, that there must have been some 120 of the Rebels killed, by the number of bodies since seen in their positions in the Field. Besides many wounded, a few Rebels were killed at the ford and six in one boat. I am happy to say we have had few casualties. The Gun and Musket firing of the Rebels was too high, their Round Shot and Match-lock Balls mostly passing over our heads, the Round Shot killing a Doolce Bearer and a Villager in our rear. A Goorkha Private of the Gorucknath Regiment was wounded by a Musket Ball, and also one of the Magistrate's Sowars. It is a marvel none in the line were hit, for numbers of the Round Shot, &c., passed over or by us, tearing up the ground, and recochetting, but without hitting any one. The action commenced about 10 A. M., and by ½ past 1 P. M., we had dispersed and driven the Rebels through the topes and village of Sohunpore, and followed them up and driven them out of Mujhowlee and over the river Gunduk by 4 P. M. The Troops had a hard day's work, and went through their fatigue most cheerfully. I was myself in the saddle for ten hours, or would have written to you earlier; but I wrote and reported our advance and successful attack and complete operation to Brigadier-General MacGregor, with Maharajah Jung Bahadoor, the same evening express to Bettiah. We bivouacked for the night near the river, having marched without tents or baggage, except two or three tents for the men of the Naval Brigade, and a few hackeries for the Ammunition, and to carry the Goorkhas and Seikhs in case of accidents during the action.

I marched again yesterday morning, 27th December, with a Detachment of the Naval Brigade, two Guns, and eight Companies of Goorkhas—400 men—and the Seikhs, crossed the River, and moved through Selimpore, and about two miles beyond, to the house of one Narain Dial Canongoe, formerly an Assistant Collector, who had been forward in marauding and giving aid to the Rebels. His house was blown up, burnt and destroyed. We also moved to another village, to the house of one Sungram Lall, the Nephew and Toomandar of the above and destroyed his house; but neither of the villages were injured. We returned to Camp at 4½ P. M.

I need hardly say that the Troops behaved, as British Marines and Seamen ever do, most excellently and gallantly: Captain Sotheby, ever ready and present with the Guns, and to afford me every assistance in the Field. Captain Sotheby has paid great attention to the drill and training of the Naval Brigade for land service, and in quickly training the horses and ponies for the Guns—horses for the large 12-pounder Howitzer, and ponies for the three others, and the Seamen to ride and act as Gunners, and under Lieut. Turner, R. N., in charge of the Artillery, they have had constant drill and training, and are now ready and steady for Field Service, and were in the action of the 26th December.

Lieutenant Grant, R. N., in charge of the Naval Skirmishers, Lieutenant Turner, R. N., in charge of the Artillery, Lieutenant Radcliffe, R. N., in charge of the Naval Column, and all the Officers of the Naval Brigade, and those attached to the Goorkha Regiments, zealously exerted themselves and afforded me every assistance.

Lieutenant Pym, Commanding the Royal Marines, especially did good service with the Minié Rifles, and the orders I sent him were at once understood, and promptly acted on, while skirmishing.

Captains Weston, 36th Regt. N. I., and Brooks, 1st Regt. Light Cavalry, respectively in Military charge of the Ramdull and Gorucknath Goorkha Regiments, afforded me every aid in the management of those Regiments, and Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regt. N. I., in charge of the Seikhs; and were ever ready for any duty and service ordered.

Captain Morgan, 22nd Regt. N. I., Field Force Staff, the Hon'ble Mr. Montague, R. N., my Acting A. D. C., and Mr. Lynch, Deputy Magistrate of Sewan, as also Mr. Nicholson, who acted as my A. D. C., afforded me every assistance in the Field, and during the entire day.

Mr. Nicholson's son, Mr. Kenneth Nicholson, to whom I gave the charge of the Rear Guard Company, Baggage and Camp-Followers, rendered me very useful service.

Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, Commanding Ramdull Regiment, Captain Dercedass Opudiah, Ramdull Regiment, Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bushnial, Commanding Gorucknath Regiment, and all the Officers of the two Goorkha Regiments, were anxious and ready to render good service, and the men of both Regiments were steady and willing in the Field, and kept well to the front with the European Force.

I respectfully beg to recommend Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M.'s Steam Frigate Pearl, and all the Civil, Military and Naval Officers, to the favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

I have reports that the Rebels left their Gun which played on our left behind them in some well or jungle at Sohunpore, and also the two Guns they are said to have crossed over the river somewhere hidden beyond Selimpore. The Rebels will feel the want of their Guns and Ordnance Stores at Goruckpore, as they are said to be in want of Ammunition.

On the evening of the 26th, I despatched a messenger to Myrwa to move on the Camp and Baggage, which was carefully brought on to this place at 4 P. M. yesterday, under Lieutenant Hamilton, 8th Regiment N. I., doing duty with the Naval Brigade.

I have ordered a Bridge of Boats to be got ready to cross the river to-morrow, to facilitate the movement over of the numerous hackeries, the only carriage we have, to be ready to move and act according to reports brought in, and probable orders from Brigadier General MacGregor to co-operate with the Maharajah's Nepaulese Army.

A few Sepoys and Rebels were brought in prisoners during yesterday. They will be duly and speedily disposed of. Proclamations have been sent out to the Villagers to capture all Rebels, and offering rewards.

I have, &c,

H. ROWCROFT, Colonel, Comdg. Sarun Field Force.

FROM THE DEPT. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Qrs. Camp, Goorsahai Gunge, The 1st January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, copy of a letter dated 28th Ultimo, from Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, C. B., Commanding Moveable Column, and of the reply thereto, dated 30th Idem, from the Chief of the Staff.

I have, &c.

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

FROM LIEUT.-COL. T. SEATON, Commanding Moveable Column,
TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Mynpoorie, 28th December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief that I reached this place yesterday, and found Raja Tej Sing's Force posted outside the Cantonments. I attacked him at once, routed them, took 6 Guns, and killed about 250 of his rabble. I took possession of the town at once, which I found nearly deserted. I had only two men wounded.

Since I left Delhi, this little Force of 1,959 men has captured 22 Guns and killed 1,400 Insurgents. I shall remain here until the 31st, and on that morning, march for Bhowgong, to cover the march of the Convoy, and be on the main road ready to communicate with His Excellency's Camp. I have sent six letters to your address; but have not as yet received any reply. I shall await His Excellency's orders, and be prepared to move in with the Convoy the moment I hear of His Excellency's approach. The Guns I captured at Gungeeree and Puttiale, I sent into Allygurh. Nine of them are of our own manufacture. Of the Guns captured yesterday, one is a fine new pattern 8-inch Howitzer, and was the fitting Gun of the carriage manufactory at Futtelgurh. Rajah Tej Sing fled to Bhowgong yesterday with only 16 Horsemen.

I have, &c.

T. SEATON, Lieut.-Col., Commanding Moveable Column.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL W. R. MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff,
TO LIEUT.-COL. T. SEATON, C. B., Commanding Moveable Column.

Dated Camp Merun-ha-Sarai, The 30th December 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to convey the direction of the Commander-in-Chief, that you will proceed with your Force to Bewur, and halt there until you receive a further order.

2. His Excellency offers you his hearty congratulations on the brilliant successes which have attended your march.

I am very sorry to hear that none of my Despatches have come to hand which have been sent to you repeatedly in duplicate.

3. His Excellency marches to-morrow to Goorsahai Gunge, and it is possible that he may proceed even nearer to the Kalee Nuddee.

I have, &c.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, THE 15TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 70 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report from Major General Penny, C. B. Commanding Delhi Field Force, dated 24th November 1857, with its Enclosures, relative to the Action fought at Narnool on the 16th of that month. His Lordship in Council concurs in the commendations given by His Excellency the Commander in Chief to the Troops on this occasion.

No. 45 A.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters Camp, Merun ka Serai, The 29th December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor, by direction of the Commander in Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, Copy of a Report from Major General N. Penny, C. B., Commanding the Delhi Field Force, dated 24th November last, with its Enclosures, relative to the Action fought at Narnool on the 16th Idem.

His Excellency considers that the Troops behaved very well in this Action, but more especially the Detachment of the Carabineers, under Captain Wardlaw, and the Guide Cavalry, under Lieutenant Kennedy, which were highly distinguished.

I have, &c.

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

No. 1663.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL N. PENNY, C. B., Commanding Delhi Field Force.
TO MAJOR GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff.

Delhi, 24th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, Captain Caulfield's Report, with its Enclosures, of the Action fought by the Moveable Column, to the Command of which he succeeded on the death of Lieutenant Colonel Gerrard, with the Joudpore Legion, and other Insurgents at Narnool, on the 16th Instant.

I have, &c.,

N. PENNY, Major General, Commanding Delhi Field Force.

FROM CAPTAIN J. P. CAULFIELD, Commanding Moveable Column,
TO CAPTAIN STEWART, Deputy Asst. Adj. General, Meerut Division.

Camp, near Narnool, 18th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Major General Penny, C. B., Commanding Meerut Division, that the Moveable Column, under Command of the late Lieutenant Colonel Gerrard, marched from Kanonde, at 1 A. M., on the morning of the 16th Instant. Owing to the slow progress made by the heavy Guns, the Column did not reach this place till 11 A. M. About two miles before arriving here, we passed a small village on our right, and some of the Guide Cavalry, who were sent to reconnoitre, brought back with them the Jemadar of the village, who informed us that the Enemy, numbering 1000 Infantry and 2500 Cavalry, with eight Guns, of which, however, only five were mounted, were encamped to the left of the village of Narnool on the other side of a Nullah, and that they intended to come out to meet us.

The Jemadar came with us willingly to point out their position, and brought us to the edge of a very large plain with hills on either side, and at the opposite end slightly wooded.

Here we halted until the heavy Guns came up, when Colonel Gerrard formed up the Column. The Carabineers and Guides on the right, then the 7th Punjaub Infantry, Horse Artillery, 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, Heavy Guns, 23rd Punjaub Infantry, Puttiala Infantry, Sikh Horse Artillery, and the Cavalry, under Captain Stafford. In this order we advanced, the Infantry in quarter distance column, at deploying distance, Colonel Gerrard leading in front of the left flank of the 1st Fusiliers, and very soon perceived the Enemy advancing to meet us.

After going about 400 yards, the Enemy opened fire from three Guns with round shot, grape and shrapnel.

The order was then given to deploy into line at the double, and for the Guns on both flanks to advance, while the heavy Guns opened fire at once. After about five minutes, the Enemy's fire having slackened a little, the Carabineers and Guides were ordered to charge by Captain Wardlaw, while the whole line advanced rapidly. The charge was most brilliantly executed under Command of Captain Wardlaw, of the Carabineers; the Enemy's Cavalry met them without flinching, and engaged them hand to hand. They swept along the whole front and through the Guns, and returned to their former position. The Enemy's Guns opened again with grape on the advancing line; but the 1st Fusiliers, who were immediately in front of them, now charged them in the most gallant and spirited manner, and captured two of them; the other was taken by the Mooltani Horse more to the left. The line again formed and advanced, the Enemy disputing every foot of ground with determination, and inclining to the right, the left flank crossing a deep and broad Nullah, and clearing some thick brush jungle, came in view of the village of Narnool on our right, and the Enemy's Camp across the Nullah, on some rising ground in front.

Colonel Gerrard himself brought up the Horse Artillery to bear upon the Camp and ordered the line to advance. At that moment he was mortally wounded, and the Command of the Force now fell upon me as next Senior Officer present.

I was then leading the 1st Fusiliers across the Nullah, and we charged the Enemy's Camp, followed by the Punjaub Infantry, and captured two more Guns, which were keeping up a heavy and destructive fire.

I was afterwards obliged to withdraw the Fusiliers to support the Guns, which I now opened on the village.

The Enemy returned in force, and re-possessed themselves of the Guns and Camp, and again opened fire. I immediately sent two Companies of the 1st Fusiliers, and two Companies of the Punjaub Infantry, and a party of the Carabineers and Guides to retake them. They succeeded in taking one; but the Enemy withdrew the other to a large pukka Serai, where they now took refuge.

I ordered the Guide Infantry, under Lieutenant Ward, to advance gradually upon them, occupying the tops of the intermediate houses, with the heavy Guns in their rear. The light Guns I ordered round to the left of the Serai, where there was a single door, the other one opening into the street being a strong double one. By the time the Guns had got round and opened fire, the Guides had taken possession of a high house commanding the Serai, and compelled the Enemy to evacuate it. This being reported to me I ordered the Guns to cease firing, and the Fusiliers and 7th Punjaub Infantry advanced into the Serai, taking the Gun at the door, and killing the few of the Enemy that remained inside.

The ground we had advanced over during the day, was between two and three miles, and it was now late, so I ordered the Fusiliers and Punjaub Infantry and Guide Infantry to occupy the Serai during the night, while Captain Stafford, with his Force, bivouacked on the Enemy's encamping ground. Early the following morning I cleared the City with a party of the Fusiliers, and found it nearly deserted. The three dismounted Guns we found in their Camp, and I have ordered one—an old worthless one—to be destroyed. The Enemy having fled in different directions, I was unable to follow them up.

I should estimate the loss of the Enemy at 350 killed and wounded. 300 bodies were counted on the Field. I have the honor to enclose a Return of Casualties in the Force under my Command, for the information of the Major-General.

My reason for not moving the Guns earlier to the left was, that a large body of men appeared on our right, and I was not certain whether they were friends or enemies; they proved to be friends. I did not send the Cavalry in pursuit owing to the lateness of the hour, and the men having been in their saddles since 1 A. M.

I sent a party, under Captain Wardlaw, the next morning, as soon as I could procure information as to the probable route taken by the Enemy. He followed them nearly as far as Kanta, but saw no signs of them.

I omitted to mention that, previous to taking the Gun on the left, Lieutenant Lind, with the Mooltani Horse, charged the Enemy's Cavalry on that flank, and cut up about thirty of them.

I have the honor to enclose the Report of Captain Stafford, Commanding Detachment, together with a Return* of his killed and wounded; also the Reports of Captain Wardlaw, Commanding Cavalry on the right, and Lieutenant Lind, Commanding Mooltani Horse.

My thanks are due to all ranks for the gallantry displayed, especially to Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments; but I would bring to the particular notice of the Major-General the names of Captain Wardlaw, of the Carabineers, and Lieutenant Cookworthy, Commanding 1st Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery. Too much praise cannot be given to these Officers, and I trust the Major-General will bring their names to the favorable notice of His Excellency the

* Not received.

Commander-in-Chief. Captain Stafford, Commanding Detachment Hurrianah Field Force; Lieutenant Lind, Commanding Mooltani Horse; Lieutenant Humphreys, Engineers. This Officer charged a party of the Enemy's Cavalry, and when wounded and unhorsed, fought his way out on foot. Lieutenant Money, Acting Adjutant, 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, when going to his assistance, had his horse shot under him. This Officer was of great use to Colonel Gerrard as his Detachment Staff. Great credit is due to Lieutenant Ward, 5th Native Infantry, doing duty with Guide Infantry, for the manner in which he took his men into the City. I was also much pleased with Lieutenant Godby, Commanding 7th Punjaub Infantry. Lieutenant Wallace, 1st Fusiliers, was wounded while acting as my Orderly Officer. Lieutenant Hogg, of the Commissariat, and Captain Osborn, 54th Native Infantry, were of great use to Colonel Gerrard and myself as Orderly Officers.

I would also beg the Major-General to bring to the notice of the Chief Commissioner the invaluable services of Mr. Ford, Collector of Goorgaon. His exertions in obtaining information and supplies, have been most indefatigable.

Captain Stafford makes favorable mention of Lieutenant Warner, 1st Fusiliers, and Lieutenants Pearce, Hamilton, Hunt and Walcott, Assistant Surgeon Minas, and Serjeant-Major Jackson.

Captain Wardlaw speaks most highly of the gallantry of the Carabineers and Guides, and of the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Hudson, Commanding Squadron of Carabineers, and Lieutenant Kennedy, Commanding Guides; also of Captain Sandford and Lieutenant Craigie, Guide Cavalry.

Lieutenant Lind, in his Report, speaks most favorably of Lieutenant Caulfield, 9th Cavalry, and Russell, 46th Native Infantry, doing duty with Mooltani Horse.

My very best thanks are also due to Dr. Brougham, 1st Fusiliers, for his attention to the wounded in the Field Hospital.

I have, &c.,

J. P. CAULFIELD, Captain, Comdg. Moveable Column.

FROM CAPTAIN W. J. STAFFORD, Comdg. Det. Hurrianah Field Force,
TO LIEUTENANT MONEY, Officiating Major of Brigade.

Camp, Narnool, 18th November 1857.

Punjaub Mounted Police... 70	SIR,—For the information of Captain J. P. Caulfield, Commanding
Esakhyl Horse..... 90	Moveable Column, I have the honor to report the part which the
Tuwanah Horse..... 90	Force under my immediate Command took in the engagement of the
Artillery, 4 six-Pounders.	16th Instant at Narnool, with the Joudhpore Legion and other Rebels.
23rd Punj. Infy... 500 bayonets.
Puttiala „... 260

When we had passed the village of Nusseerpore, about $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile from the Enemy's position, the Force, in obedience to Lieutenant-Colonel Gerrard's orders, advanced at deploying distance,—23rd Punjaub Infantry on the right, Guns in the centre, and the Puttiala Infantry on the left, the Cavalry being on the extreme left.

The force was soon directed to deploy, and the advance was ordered. After two of the Enemy's Guns were taken, the advance still continued in the same order, until we came to the dry bed of a river. Lieutenant G. G. Pearce, Commanding Cavalry of the Hurrianah Force, was, I much regret to say, here wounded (in two places), and the Command devolved upon Lieutenant R. A. Hamilton. The Guns being unable to cross the Nullah, they diverged to the right, and took up a position near the Horse Artillery Guns, whilst the 23rd Punjaub Infantry and Puttiala Infantry, in company with the first Fusiliers, crossed and advanced towards the Enemy's Camp, which was soon taken, two Guns falling into our possession. By order of Captain Caulfield, the Infantry under my Command returned to where our Guns were in position. Some time after this, and when the Rebels had returned to their Camp and commenced firing round shot at us with one of the Guns which had been previously taken, I was directed to re-occupy the Camp with two Companies of the 1st Fusiliers, and two Companies of the 23rd Punjaub Infantry, some Cavalry, with which Lieutenant Hamilton was, having been despatched to the left to follow up the Mutineers when routed. The Camp was attacked in flank, and the Gun, which had been annoying us, was gallantly charged and taken by the 1st Fusiliers, led by Lieutenant Warner. The two Guns were ordered to be removed, and the Infantry was directed to remain in the Enemy's Camp. I now returned to where the remainder of my Force was, and shortly afterwards the Serai was taken possession of.

My very best thanks are due to all; but more especially to Lieutenants Pearce and Hamilton, Commanding Cavalry; Lieutenant Hunt, Commanding 23rd Punjaub Infantry; and Lieutenant Walcott, Commanding Artillery, whose Gunners, lately embodied, behaved remarkably well. My thanks are also due to Sub-Assistant Surgeon P. A. Minas, in Medical charge, for his attention to the wounded.

Lieutenant Hunt makes favorable mention of Lieutenant Chatterton, Officiating Adjutant 23rd Punjaub Infantry; and Lieutenant Hamilton brings to notice the gallant conduct of Rissaldars Abdoolla Khan, Esakhyl Horse, Alum Khan, Tuwanah Horse, and Shere Mahomed Khan, Punjaub Mounted Police, and Jemadar Hatim Allee Beg, also of the Mounted Police. Rissaldar Alum Khan's conduct deserves special commendation, for when the Enemy returned to their Camp, he took up a position near a Temple and retained it until a reinforcement was brought up, when I saw him there myself. It was here that the Tuwanahs lost many horses. Lieutenant Walcott reports as follows on the conduct of Serjeant-Major J. H. Jackson, and

I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to it:—"I much wish to call your attention to the assistance rendered me by Serjeant-Major J. H. Jackson throughout the day—assistance peculiarly valuable in consequence of my being myself an Infantry Officer."

I beg to enclose a Return of killed and wounded.

I have, &c.,

W. J. STAFFORD, Captain, Comdg. Hurrianah Field Force.

No. 39.

FROM LIEUTENANT J. B. LIND, Commanding Mooltani Cavalry,
TO CAPTAIN CAULFIELD, Commanding Field Force.

Camp, Narnool, 18th November 1857.

SIR,—THE late lamented Colonel Gerrard, when forming his line of attack, directed the Mooltani Cavalry, under my Command, to form up on the left of the line. There not being room to do this at first, I was ordered to go round the hill on our left and cross it as soon as possible. I soon found this was impossible, and returned with all speed and got into my position. When the Enemy limbered up their Guns to retire, I ordered a charge, and captured the two 9-pounder Guns with their limbers. Immediately afterwards the Mooltanis were engaged in a smart affair with the Enemy's Cavalry, in which many of the Rebels were cut down and finally driven off. Our line being again re-formed, I kept my position on the left flank, and came up through a wood in rear of the entrenched position held by the Rebels. Afterwards, being directed to proceed back to our Guns, I was about to do so, but thought I had better bring off one of the Guns captured in the entrenched position beforementioned. Accompanied by Lieutenants Caulfield, Russell and Hamilton, and a few Sowars, we tried to get the Gun off, and whilst doing so were attacked by the Rebels (Cavalry and Infantry) in such force as made the abandoning of the Gun a matter of necessity. Ressaldar Wellydad Khan was here severely wounded and several Sowars also. The Mooltani Cavalry formed a part of the attacking party to retake it. We held the entrenched position during the night with the 23d Punjaub Infantry, Hurrianah Guns, and Lieutenant Hamilton's (Tuwanah) Cavalry.

I have every reason to be proud of having such Officers as Lieutenants Caulfield and Russell under my Command; their gallantry was most conspicuous in the charge in which the Guns were taken, and they rendered me every assistance during the day.

Ressaldar Attah Mahomed Khan behaved with his usual bravery, and was in the thickest of the fight.

Sowar Mitty Khan of the Gundapoor Troop of Mooltanis, also behaved very well. The whole Ressalah indeed showed well in all our hand to hand engagements with the Enemy, and were led by their Khans in them.

I have, &c.,

J. B. LIND, Lieutenant, Commanding Mooltani Cavalry.

TO CAPTAIN CAULFIELD, Commanding Moveable Column.

Camp, Narnool, 18th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that on the morning of the Action of the 16th Instant, I received instructions from Colonel Gerrard to Command the right, consisting of the Carabineers and Guides. Shortly after forcing the line, the Enemy's Guns re-opened fire on the extreme right, and several of the Carabineers were wounded. Our Horse Artillery advanced and returned the fire, and after a few rounds I received the order to advance. We did so, and perceiving the Enemy's Cavalry showing a disposition to charge, we accordingly charged, broke and dispersed them, cutting up a large number; but pluck of little avail against the swords of the Guides or Carabineers; about 50 were killed. The Guides charged through the Guns in rear, and several Gunners were killed, and the Carabineers, wheeling to the left about trees. I regret to say the Carabineers and Guides suffered rather severely in this charge. The gallant lantry displayed by both Corps was most conspicuous, and the conduct of the Guides was most distinguishing during the day, was wounded; but did not leave the Field though his left hand was disabled. I can only say that no European Corps could have charged with greater spirit or more effect than did the Guides on this occasion.

The Detachments under my Command had received orders to protect the right flank, whilst the attack on the Serai and Camp was going on; but the Enemy's Cavalry showing in various points on our rear and flanks, gave us a good deal of annoyance, and immediately we approached they fled. Subsequently, at the request of the Commanding Officer of the Fusiliers, I moved to the left a portion of the Carabineers to support their attack on the Camp, after their taking which, I sent Lieutenant Vyse with a Division in pursuit of the Enemy with the Irregulars under Captain Hamilton. Several of the Enemy were cut up.

Owing to a large Force appearing on our right, which afterwards proved to be the Jeypore Troops, I was unable to move the greater part of my Force to the left when the Enemy were in a number of the Enemy were cut up.

I have much pleasure in reporting the gallant way in which Lieutenant Hudson managed the Squadron of Carabineers under his Command. Captain Kennedy, whose conduct I have noticed above, in Command of the Guides, was worthy of the highest praise. Two other Officers of the Guides were severely wounded—Captain Sandford and Lieutenant Craigie—while gallantly leading on their men. I trust you will have the goodness to represent to the Major-General Commanding the conduct of the men under my Command. I forgot to mention that I received great assistance from Captain Anderson, of the 54th Native Infantry, Interpreter to the Carabineers, who came through the charge, and secured a tumbril, with three or four Carabineers.

I have, &c.,

G. WARDLAW, Captain, 6th Carabineers.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 30TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 37 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, THE 19TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 106 of 1858 —In continuation of Government General Order, No. 55 of the 12th January 1858, the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council directs the publication of the following letter from Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, No. 101, dated 11th Instant :—

No. 101.

FROM COLONEL F. ROWCROFT, Commanding Sarun Field Force,

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department, Calcutta.

Camp, Roodu-pore, 28 miles S. S. of Goruckpore, the 11th January 1858.

SIR,—In continuation of the letter to your address, dated 28th Ultimo, No. 80, I have the honor to forward the names of three men of the Naval Brigade slightly wounded in the action with the Rebels at Sohanpore on the 26th December who had been omitted to be reported to me before through an oversight.

William Mears, Private, Royal Marines, contusion of right hand by a spent musket ball.

Charles Chaffer, Private, Royal Marines, contusion of left hand by a splinter caused by a round shot.

I have, &c.,

Fort William, 21st January 1858.

No. 111 of 1858.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 1383 of the 5th November 1857, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following letters* from Major General Sir A. Wilson, K. C. B., lately in Command of the Delhi Field Force, bringing to notice the services of certain Officers which were not referred to in his previous Despatch, and to whom His Lordship in Council offers his warm acknowledgments of their excellent service :—

No. 812.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL A. WILSON, Comdt. of Arty. and late Comdg. Delhi Field Force,

TO THE ASST. ADJT. GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters.

Head Quarters of Artillery, Meerut, 21st December 1857.

SIR,—As an Addenda to my Despatch of the 22nd September last, I have the honor to request you will submit to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, for the purpose of being forwarded to Government, the name of Brevet Colonel J. Welshman, of the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, among the names of those Officers who have done good service with the Force before Delhi, but were wounded previous to the assault. Colonel Welshman commanded his Regiment from the commencement of operations, and led his men with cool and steady gallantry on several occasions, particularly in the action of Budlee Serai on the 8th; again, on the 20th and on the 23rd June, when he was severely wounded, when leading on his Regiment in the attack on the Zubzee Munde.

His name was unintentionally, and through an oversight, omitted in my former Despatch.

2. I beg also to forward a copy of a Report from Captain Muter, H. M.'s 60th Royal Rifles, who succeeded to the Command of the 4th Column of Attack, bringing to notice the services of a Detachment of Mooltanee Horse under the Command of Lieutenant Lind on the morning of the 14th September.

3. Major F. Gaitskell, Commanding the Artillery Brigade with the Field Force, has also requested that the name of Lieutenant G. A. Renny, Commanding the 5th Troop 1st Brigade H. A., may be inserted immediately after that of Captain Blunt in the 8th paragraph of his Despatch No. 20 of the 19th September, the services of this Officer entitling him to this recognition, which was accidentally omitted.

I have, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major Genl., Comdt. of Arty., and late Comdg. Deli Field Force.

* No. 812 dated 21st December 1857; No. 8 dated 5th January 1858; No. —dated 5th January 1858.

TO THE ASST. ADJUTANT GENERAL, Delhi Field Force, Delhi.

Palace, Delhi, 11th December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to enclose a Report from Lieutenant Lind, detailing the operations of a Force of 300 Sabres of the Mooltanee Horse under his Command, in conjunction with Major Reid's Column of Attack on Kishengunge, on the 14th September last.

I trust it is not too late to bring to the notice of Major General Wilson, then Commanding the Field Force, and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the services of this Officer and his party.

The position in which the Column of Attack was placed was very critical, and had I been aware that this Cavalry was on our right flank, I would have felt much greater confidence. Lieutenant Lind's movements appear to me to have been very judicious, and I would not have failed to have brought this to the notice of the General in Command, had I been earlier acquainted with the circumstances.

I have, &c.,

TO CAPTAIN MUTER, H. M.'s 60TH RIFLES.

Camp Gohana, Rohtuk District, 8th December 1857.

SIR,—Having omitted at the time to send in a Report after the fight at Kishengunge on the 14th September last, I would request the favor of your forwarding this letter to the Adjutant General of the Army, in order that, if possible, the Mooltanee Cavalry may appear in the Gazette as engaged. At 3 A. M. of the 14th September, Brigadier General Nicholson directed me to proceed to Hindoo Rao's with 300 Sabres of the Mooltanee Cavalry, and to place myself under Major Reid's orders. Major Reid ordered me to go to the Zubzee Mundee and await further orders there. In the Zubzee Mundee I found 2 Horse Artillery Guns and Regiment of Cashmeerees. These latter were soon engaged, and left my front open, when I proceeded along the road towards the Kishengunge. I found no ground for Cavalry to act on, and lost a few men and horses killed and wounded. An alarm was now raised, that the Enemy had got into our rear, so I returned up the Zubzee Mundee and drove out some Sepoys who had got into the street and were preparing to take possession of the houses. I was then returning to my former position, when the Guide Cavalry (who had mistaken my men from their white dresses to be the Enemy) were sent to charge me. By the advice of the Officer Commanding the Guides, and seeing that the 2 Horse Artillery Guns before mentioned had limbered up and were returning up the Zubzee Mundee, I withdrew my Cavalry into the plain, between the Mound and the Zubzee Mundee Picquet, where I got ground to act on and could prevent the Enemy's Cavalry from coming down on our rear, should they have attempted it. Whilst here, Colonel Dennis, H. M.'s 52d Light Infantry, sent me an order to retire on the "Fukoor's Tukeh," and to send the 4 Horse Artillery Guns at that post, which I obeyed, and was employed on that duty till the Guns were withdrawn on the 20th September.

2. I annex a Return of my loss in killed and wounded.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. B. LIND, Lieut., Comdg. Mooltanee Cavalry.

S. B. JOHNSON, Asst. Adj. Genl., Artillery.

No. 6.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL A. WILSON, Comdt. of Arty. and late Comdg., Delhi Field Force.

TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters Camp.

Head Quarters of Artillery, Meerut, 5th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief copy of a letter No. 27, dated 3rd October last, from Major F. Gaitskell, Commanding the Artillery Brigade with the Delhi Field Force, transmitting a Despatch of the 1st idem from Major J. Brind, bringing to notice the services performed by the Foot Artillery under his Command, during the operations against the City of Delhi.

2. These letters reached me too late, I regret to say, to accompany my Despatches detailing the assault and capture of that place, and have subsequently been delayed owing to my having been absent on Medical Certificate. They bear, however, such honorable testimony to the admirable services of Major J. Brind and those under his Command, that I trust His Excellency will be pleased to forward them to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, with the Expression of my hope that they may be published in continuation of my previous Despatches.

I have, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major General, Comdt. of Arty. and late Comdg. Delhi Field Force.

No. 27.

TO THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL, Delhi,

Delhi 3d October 1857.

SIR,—I have great pleasure in forwarding for submission to the Major General Commanding the Regiment the accompanying excellent Report received by me from Major J. Brind, Commanding the Foot Artillery of this Force, bringing to notice the services of that branch from the time he took Command (26th June 1857) until the more active operations of the Siege commenced, embracing a period of 2½ months, during which the Foot Artillery were in constant employment and undergoing the severest daily exposure.

2. The services of the Officers and men under his Command are so well and strongly brought to notice by Major Brind, that I can only record my entire concurrence in his Report. No Officers or Soldiers could have conducted themselves in a more zealous or gallant manner than did those of the Foot Artillery, or in a manner more likely to add fresh lustre to the Regiment.

3. But in thus doing only justice to such gallant Soldiers, I should consider I was neglecting a most important and a most agreeable duty, were I to abstain from bringing prominently to the notice of the Major General Commanding the Regiment the valuable and distinguished services of Major Brind himself whilst in Command of the Foot Artillery. From first to last, his energy and activity have been unceasing, ever foremost where danger was greatest, encouraging both Officers and men by his noble example, and whilst leading on those under him to every success in the Field, he, at the same time, never ceased to care for their wants and necessities in Camp.

The manner in which Major Brind exercised, without one hour's intermission, his Command of No. 1 Siege Battery, during the last eight days of the Siege, have already been brought to the notice of the Major General Commanding the Force, and I trust this last distinguished period of his Command (previous to the assault) will only tend the more surely to gain for Major Brind those honors which he so richly merits.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) F. GAITSKELL, Major, Commanding Artillery Brigade.

TO LIEUTENANT FRITH, H. A., Major of Brigade, Artillery Brigade.

Delhi, 1st October 1857.

SIR,—On the close of active operations connected with the Siege of Delhi, I feel it a duty I owe to Officers and men belonging to or doing duty with the Foot Artillery which I have Commanded since the 26th June, to bring their conduct to the notice of Major General A. Wilson, Commandant of Artillery and holding the chief Command of this victorious Army.

It would be superfluous in me to attempt any detailed Report of the unceasing labors, exposure to sun and wet, and dangers from the constant presence of an active and treacherous Enemy, to which the Foot Artillery was unavoidably exposed during the three months I have had the privilege of commanding it. As the Commanding Officer is fully aware of the peculiar circumstances under which this branch of the Army, especially, has been placed, gathered from various Stations and sent down in small detachments (with little more than the clothes on their backs) by Bullock Train, the Foot Artillery were called upon by the exigencies of the service to endure hardships beyond others. No Soldiers could have gone through the trials and dangers their country's cause imposed upon them in a more cheerful spirit, or with braver hearts, than did the Bengal Artillery attached to the Army of Delhi during this eventful period; and without disparagement to the mounted portion of the Regiment, of whose noble conduct, as passing under my observation during eight days and nights of constant danger and laborious exertion in No. 1 Breaching Battery, it has been my proud honor to report, I consider it an imperative duty to thus publicly express my admiration of Officers and men who have made my post one of honor and comparative ease.

If I have performed my duty to the satisfaction of Major General Wilson, it is mainly owing to the favorable position in which I have been placed and the health and strength with which I have been blessed.

Major Scott and Captain Bouchier's Batteries, though forming a portion of my Command, have not come so directly under my observation, owing to the detached nature of their duties; but I have much gratification in attesting to the satisfactory state of discipline and efficiency of the two Batteries, which justified me in feeling and placing the fullest confidence in these two Officers, and merely requesting that they would promptly carry out any orders received from the authorities, referring to me only when my support or assistance was required. Major Scott and his Command, by gallant services in the Field of Battle, had established a reputation previous to my arrival at Delhi, which, though fully appreciating and rejoicing in it, is not my province to allude to in this Report. Since leaving Delhi with the moveable column, Captain Bouchier and the Officers and men connected with him, have had an opportunity of proving themselves worthy members of the Bengal Artillery.

I take this opportunity of remarking that the sluggish and generally unsatisfactory way in which the Sikh Artillery, belonging more especially to the 2d and 3d Companies, performed their duties previous to the 7th of September, has been more than blotted out by the zeal and bravery evinced by this branch of our Regiment during the Siege. Some, and amongst them are Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officers, are, from various defects, unfit for the service, and as Sir John Lawrence recommended the step, I would suggest that these men be returned to their homes via Lahore and the distinguished promoted in their stead. This would leave us two effective Companies.

In expressing the high satisfaction I experienced in observing the zealous performance of duty on the part of the Foot Artillery with the Army of Delhi, I consider it incumbent on me to bring to special notice of Major General Wilson the Officers and men of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, who were employed in the Batteries as Artillery men under my command and observation. Lieutenants Evans and Blair are deserving of honorable mention for the zealous and cheerful performance of their duties. The coolness and bravery of Officers and men in situations of extreme danger, whilst engaged in a novel duty, called forth the admiration of all who witnessed, and especially of those who had the satisfaction of serving with them.

Lieutenant Boileau, of H. M.'s 61st Foot, also distinguished himself most honorably, previously to his gallant services in No. 1 Breaching Battery, as did a most deserving and brave young Officer, Lieutenant Ward, of the late 5th Regiment N. I., during and previous to the assault.

The following are the Artillery Officers doing duty under my Command, whose zeal, ability, and coolness in situations of great danger, called forth my especial approbation and thanks:—

Lieutenant A. H. Heath,

J. Fulton,

Sir W. Hamilton,

E. L. Earle,

R. T. Hare,

R. DeL. St. George,

H. Chichester,

D. S. Pemberton, and

Lieutenant Simon Budd, Riding Master, 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, whose long and faithful services are on record at Regimental Head Quarters, and Lieutenant T. E. Dickins, who was killed in action whilst serving his Gun in a most effective and gallant way.

It is now my melancholy task to notice most prominently one of our bravest and brightest ornaments, who has run his course, Captain Robert Fagan, the able and gallant Officer who fell mortally wounded on the 12th ultimo, after winning the honest admiration of all. Lieutenant Hildebrand, killed in the Battery I had the honor to Command, as shown in my Report of the services of No. 1 Breeching Battery, was a zealous and gallant Officer.

I have, &c.

S. B. JOHNSON, Assistant Adjutant General, Artillery.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL A. WILSON, Late Commanding Delhi Field Force,
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters Camp,

Meerut, 5th January 1858.

Sir,—Through an oversight which I much regret, the name of Surgeon J. C. Brown, in Medical charge of the 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery, was omitted in my Despatch dated 22nd September last, as one of those Officers of the Medical branch entitled to particular mention for the zeal and ability with which they discharged their important duties during the operations before Delhi.

2. In justice to this deserving Officer, I trust His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will be pleased to forward to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General my request that his name may be inserted immediately after that of Superintending Surgeon C. McKinnon, M. D., in the Despatch adverted to.

I have, &c.

A. WILSON, Major General, Late Comdg. Delhi Field Force.

Fort William, 22d January 1858.

No. 114 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier W. Campbell, Commanding at Allahabad, on a large body of rebels within a few miles of the Station on the 5th instant. His Lordship in Council concurs in the approbation expressed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of the conduct of Brigadier Campbell and the Officers and men under his Command on the occasion:—

Head Quarters Camp, Futtehgarh, the 13th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit copy of a Report dated the 8th instant, from Brigadier W. Campbell, Commanding at Allahabad, of a successful attack made by him, on the 5th instant, on a large body of rebels who had collected within a few miles of the Station; and in submitting it to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, I am to request you will have the goodness to express His Excellency's entire satisfaction with the manner in which the affair was conducted throughout, and with the behaviour of the Troops engaged.

I have, &c.

(Signed) H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

FROM BRIGADIER W. CAMPBELL, Commanding at Allahabad.
TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Fort William, 8th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that having received intelligence from Mr. Mayne, the Magistrate at Kunnooniagunge, of a large body of rebels having assembled at Munseata, about 12 miles from this on the other side of the Ganges towards Secundra, and the morning of the 5th January, in Command of the Force named in the margin.

I arrived at Munseata at day-light, and there found the rebels, about 700 strong, in position on a hill, with three Guns on the opposite side of a ravine. They immediately opened fire without effect. I ordered a Company of the Rifle Brigade under Command of Captain Lindsay, and two Companies of the 79th Highlanders under Lieutenant Colonel Taylor, to advance in skirmishing order, the former on the Enemy's left and the latter on their right. This was done with precision and great quickness. The Guns were ordered in action, but in consequence of the slowness of the bullocks and the celerity with which the Enemy retreated as soon as the Infantry commenced their firing, Colonel Gordon, R. A., was only able to fire one round.

The Skirmishers advanced in pursuit, Lieutenant Colonel Douglas following in support with the Guns and main body of the 79th. A good many of the Enemy were shot, and the Force passed through Munseata in the above order to Syrepore, about three miles, where many had posted themselves in a strong-built large house and in other buildings of the village. I regret I failed in taking the Enemy's Guns, which must have been hid by them, as no one saw them carried off at Syrepore. At Syrepore I ordered the Guns to come into action. A few rounds drove the rebels out of the village, and several of them were shot by the Rifles and 79th, who I had sent round each flank of the town, in order to cut off their retreat.

The village was then searched. A Jhissah Thakoor and two Bramins were found and hanged, one being a pensioned S-poy of the 71st Native Infantry. Many matchlocks and tulwars were found. At the request of Mr. Mayne, the Magistrate, the village was destroyed.

Immediately after this, Captain Matheson's Troop of Irregular Cavalry joined my force at the suggestion of Mr. Mayne, who knows the country and showed great zeal and gallantry during the whole of the day. I ordered this Troop to leave Hoonnumangunge, in order to endeavour to cut off the retreat of the rebels. This was exceedingly well executed. The Troop attacked the rebels with great gallantry and destroyed 40 or 50 of them. I collected the Troops in a grove of trees and halted to refresh them at 10 A. M.

At 10-30 A. M., Major Anderson, R. H. A., joined our Column, with the wounded detachments of his Troop, which was on the march from Benares to Allahabad. I, after consulting Colonel Wood, C. B., had sent an order to Major A., when I left the Fort, to obtain a guide at Hoonnumangunge and join me at Munseata and act as Cavalry.

At 11 A. M. firing was heard in our rear, and it was reported that the Naib Nizam, with 2,000 men, was coming to attack us. I waited a short time under the trees, then re-formed Royal Horse Artillery on the left, 79th in the centre, Guns on the right, and Rifles in the rear, as I then intended to send the last-named to destroy Paphamow, a small rebel village.

On leaving the wood, I found the Enemy, I think about 1,200 strong, within a mile and a half, I ordered the 79th out to skirmish and Colonel Gordon to come into action as soon as he could. At the same time I ordered the Royal Horse Artillery to cut off the retreat of the Enemy to our left. This was done with great quickness and effectually, about 150 being killed and many of the others driven back on the Infantry and Guns, where many were killed, the 79th and Rifles making some capital shots at long distance.

At this time Mr. Mayne reported he had seen the Nizam. I ordered Major Anderson, R. H. A. with half of his Troop, to follow him a short distance. He did not overtake him, but killed 100 more of the Enemy, some, I am told, men of consequence in the rebel force. Colonel Wood took Command of the remainder and prevented the rebels in the neighbouring villages, which were burnt from retreating to our left.

At Munseata I halted the Force for a short time, and then marched to Allahabad, arriving at 7-30 P. M. All reported present, with the exception of a few men, who came up with the guard that was left in our rear to bring up some carts that arrived at 9 P. M., when all were present.

The Enemy's loss cannot be calculated at less than 400. I have since heard that about that number were seen making their way to Secundra wounded.

I am thankful to say that our loss was only one man of Benares Horse killed and six wounded; the Royal Horse Artillery, two horses killed and five wounded; the Benares Horse, nine horses wounded.

I am much obliged to Lieutenant Colonel Wood, C. B., R. H. A., for his assistance during the day, and also to Lieutenant Colonel MacDonald, Rifle Brigade, who volunteered his service to accompany the Force, and I beg further to state that I was much satisfied with the manner in which Lieutenant Colonel Douglas, 79th, Commanded the Infantry, Lieutenant Colonel Taylor the Companies with which he was detached, Lieutenant Colonel Gordon the Foot Artillery, Major Anderson Detachments of his Troop R. H. A., Captain Lindsay the Rifles, and Captain Matheson the Benares Horse. This, I am told, is a newly-raised Corps, and the service they rendered on the 5th and their workman-like appearance, I beg respectfully to say, did them great credit. I sent them home before the Nizam's advance, as they had several wounded men and horses, and did not expect their services would be required.

Brigade Major Campbell and Captain Maxwell, Officiating Deputy Quarter Master General, were with the Force and performed their duties to my entire satisfaction, and Lieutenant Colonel Gordon reports that Captain Thurburne afforded him great assistance during the day. I am much obliged to Captain Frazer, 7th Hussars, who kindly acted as my A. D. C. and carried orders correctly and very quickly.

In conclusion I beg to state that I am very much indebted to Mr. Court and Mr. Mayne, Magistrates. The former accompanied me during the day and the latter attached himself to the Cavalry, where he did good service with his sword, and was most useful to the Commanding Officers.

I beg to add that all the Officers and men did a long day's work zealously and cheerfully.

I have the honor to forward a list of casualties.*

POSTSCRIPT.—I have the honor to add for the information of His Excellency, that since the above was written, Mr. Mayne has sent me one of the Enemy's Guns found by his men at Munseata concealed in the ground, and he also reports to me that the Enemy calculated their loss at 500 killed and 300 wounded.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

6TH FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 5TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 45 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 20th January 1858.

No. 109 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council directs the publication, in General Orders, of the following Military Letter, from the Honorable the Court of Directors to the Government of India, No. 160, dated 2d September 1857, with the Royal Warrant therein referred to :—

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

No. 160 of 1857.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

1. We transmit herewith three copies of a Royal Warrant, dated 13th June 1857, revising the Regulations under which Pensions and Allowances are granted on account of Wounds received in Action by Officers of Her Majesty's Service.

2. We desire that the Regulations under which the Officers of our Service receive Pensions and Allowances for Wounds received in Action, may be revised in accordance with the Rules prescribed by this Warrant.

We are, &c.,

(Signed) ROSS D. MANGLES,
And Eleven other Directors.

LONDON.
The 2d September 1857. }

VICTORIA R.

Whereas it has been found expedient to revise the Regulations under which Pensions and Allowances are granted on account of Wounds received in Action by Officers of Our Land Forces; Our Will and Pleasure is, that from and after the date hereof this Our Royal Warrant, to be administered and interpreted by Our Secretary of State for War, shall be the sole and standing authority upon the matters herein contained, and shall take effect from the 28th March 1854.

Given at our Court at Saint James's this Thirteenth day of June 1857, in the Twentieth year of Our Reign.

By Her Majesty's Command,
PANMURE.

Pensions and Allowances to Officers of the Land Forces limited to Wounds and Injuries received in Action.

1. If an Officer shall receive a Wound in Action, which shall occasion the loss of an eye, or a limb; or shall lose thereby the total use of a limb; or shall receive bodily injury equal in its consequences to the loss of a limb, he may be eligible to receive a Gratuity in money of one year's full pay of the Regimental rank or Staff appointment held by him at the time he was wounded for the loss of such eye, or limb.

2. If an Officer shall be wounded in Action, and it shall be reported by a Board of Army Medical Officers, assembled by order of the Secretary of State for War for the personal examination of such Officer, that he has, in consequence of his wound, lost a limb, or an eye; or has totally lost the use of a limb; or that he has sustained a severe injury, in Action, equal to the loss of a limb, he may be recommended to Her Majesty for a Pension, at the rate fixed in the annexed Scale for the rank held by him when he was wounded, and commencing one year after the Wound was received; the continuance of which shall depend upon the subsequent examinations and reports of a Military Medical Board, which the Secretary of State for War may appoint at any time for this purpose.

3. If the Officer shall have lost more than one limb, or eye, he may be recommended for a Pension for each limb, or for each eye, so lost in Action.

4. If the Wound received by an Officer in Action shall be so severe in its permanent effects as to be nearly equal, but not equal, to the loss of a limb and the injury shall be reported by the Military Medical Board as materially interfering with the capability of following his profession, or gaining his livelihood; he may be recommended to Her Majesty for a temporary Pension for two years, the continuance of which Gratuity of One Year's Pay.

Temporary Pension or Gratuity of 18 months' Pay.

Loss of more than one limb, or eye.

shall depend upon subsequent examinations before a Military Medical Board; or, he may be recommended for a Gratuity of eighteen months' full pay of his Regimental Rank or Staff appointment held by him when wounded; in which case no Pension shall be granted to him under this Regulation; unless he refund six of the eighteen months' Gratuity which may have been awarded to him.

5. If any Wound received in Action shall be certified to be severe and dangerous, but in its permanent effects not equal to the loss of a limb, the Officer receiving such Wound may, in consideration of the expense attending the cure thereof, receive a Gratuity varying, according to the nature of the case, from three to twelve months' full pay of the Regimental Rank or Staff appointment held by him at the time he was wounded.

6. If an Officer shall have held a Pension for a Wound received in Action for a term of five years, and shall have been examined, twice at the least, before a Board of Army Medical Officers, he may be recommended for the permanent continuance of such Pension; but if the Officer, before the expiration of the term of five years, shall have so far recovered, that his Wound or Injury is not equal to the loss of a limb, then he shall cease to receive such Pension, and shall have a Gratuity of full-pay according to the degree of his injury, as laid down in Article 5.

7. If within the period of five years after a Wound has been received, an Officer shall not apply for the Pension, or, on his so applying for it, the Wound shall not have been proved to be permanently equal to the loss of a limb, such Officer's claim to a Pension shall not at any subsequent period be entertained.

8. No Gratuity or Allowance for any Wound shall be granted after the lapse of five years from the time the wound was received.

9. No Pension for the loss of one eye, from a Wound received in Action, shall be granted, unless the actual loss of vision shall have occurred within five years after the Wound was received, and be solely attributable to such Wound.

10. As a general rule, the Pension shall be granted according to Regimental rank; but in cases in which Officers with Brevet Rank shall have been employed at the time they were wounded, in discharge of duties superior to those attached to their Regimental Commissions, the Gratuities and Pensions shall be given according to the Rank they held by Brevet.

11. These Pensions may be held together with any other Pay and Allowances to which an Officer may be entitled, without any deduction on account thereof.

No. 56 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, the 23d January 1858.

No. 134 of 1858.—The following Notification, from the Financial Department, is published in General Orders:—

No. 4, dated 22d January 1858.—Notification.—Read again the following papers:—

Extract Public Works Department, No. 1443, dated 27th March 1857, with its enclosure.

Read an Office Memo. No. 6196, dated the 30th ultimo, from the Public Works Department, with its enclosure, relative to the salary to be passed to an Uncovenanted Servant, from the date of his return from Furlough up to the date of joining his appointment.

RESOLUTION.—On the 21st August 1856, Mr. T. Login, Executive Officer, Bassein River, obtained, under Section VII,* Clause 3, of the Uncovenanted Service Absentee Rules, leave of absence to Europe for a period of six months. He was subsequently allowed by the Hon'ble Court, as a special case, nine months' leave of absence without pay, in addition to the six months already taken, thereby extending to fifteen months the whole period of his authorized absence from India; and which period, the Honorable Court directed, was to be regarded as if authorized under Section VIII.† of the above Rules.

Mr. Login having returned from England on the 31st October last, the Officiating Chief Engineer, Lower Provinces, solicits orders regarding the salary to be passed to him from that date up to the 28th November last, the date of his arrival at Purneah, the Head Quarters of the Division (Darjeeling Road), to which he is now attached.

The Officiating Secretary in the Public Works Department suggests the expediency of laying down general Rules (if such Rules do not already exist) to meet the cases of Uncovenanted Officers who, like Mr. Login, may not join appointments immediately on return from Furlough.

Referring to this suggestion, His Lordship in Council remarks that leave may be granted to Uncovenanted Servants preparatory to Furlough on private affairs, or for return to Station after the expiration of Furlough, only on the terms of Section VIII.‡ of the Uncovenanted Civil Service Absentee Rules, for the period specified in the Financial Notification of 14th October 1857, viz. four, six, or eight weeks, according as the distance to be travelled shall not exceed 300 or 600 miles, without forfeiture of appointment, but without pay; the period of absence not counting as service towards pension.

† Now altered to Section IX.

‡ Now altered to Section IX.

Rules, for the period specified in the Financial Notification of 14th October 1857, viz. four, six, or eight weeks, according as the distance to be travelled shall not exceed 300 or 600 miles, without forfeiture of appointment, but without pay; the period of absence not counting as service towards pension.

If the Furlough, however, be enjoyed in India, no preparatory leave is to be granted; the Furlough being reckoned from the date of the absentee's quitting his post to the date of his return thereto.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be sent to the Public Works Department, with a request that Mr. Login's case be treated under the Rule above laid down.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 29TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 181 of 1858.—A question having been raised by Major-General Sir A. Wilson, Bart., K. C. B., on behalf of the Troops comprising the Field Force engaged in the operations before Delhi, whether it was the intention of the Governor General in Council that the functions of the Prize Agents appointed by him should cease upon the issuing of the General Order, No. 1499 of 1857: it is hereby notified, for general information, that the abovementioned General Order affects only public property belonging to the State, and property belonging to private individuals, who should establish their claim to restitution by clearly identifying the property as their own, and in the case of Natives, by proving to the satisfaction of the Committee appointed under the provisions of the aforesaid General Order, that they have not been guilty of any offence for which they would be liable to the forfeiture of their property, and that they have, to the best of their ability, rendered active assistance to the British Government. The Order was not intended to affect property belonging to Rebels or Mutineers, or property belonging to individuals who either should neglect to claim it or who having claimed it should fail to make out their title to restitution in the manner prescribed. Such property will remain under the control of the Prize Agents, until the orders of Her Most Gracious Majesty respecting it shall be made known.

The Government has not the power to give up to the Army the property of private individuals of undoubted loyalty, which may have been captured. But the Governor General in Council avails himself of this opportunity to correct a misapprehension which exists that the donation of six months' Batta (ordered to be forthwith distributed) to the Troops engaged in the operations against Delhi, was intended to be in lieu of all other claims; and His Lordship in Council informs the Army, that he has expressed to the Hon'ble Court of Directors the opinion of the Government of India, that all moveable property of the description ordinarily distributable as Prize, belonging, or which may reasonably be presumed to belong, to Rebels or Mutineers, and which has been or shall be captured by the Troops engaged in suppressing the Rebellion, may be fairly treated as Prize, and that he has recommended the Hon'ble Court to adopt the necessary measures for obtaining Her Majesty's sanction to the distribution of such property accordingly.

No. 182 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., reporting the repulse of a large body of the Enemy, who made an unsuccessful attack on his position on the 12th Instant.

His Lordship in Council expresses his entire satisfaction with the manner in which Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., has conducted this affair, and with the behaviour of the Troops engaged on the occasion.

No. 62 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 29TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 183 A of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following * Despatches detailing the operations of the Malwa and Hyderabad Contingent Field Forces in the vicinity of Mundesore from the 21st to the 24th of November 1857.

The Governor General in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments to Brigadier C. S. Stuart, Commanding Malwa Field Force, to Major W. A. Orr, Commanding Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, and to the several Officers named by them, as well as to the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men engaged, for the excellent service rendered by them.

To CAPTAIN McDONALD, Dy. Asst. Qr. Mr. General, Malwa Field Force,

Camp near Mundesore, 25th November 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to forward for submission to the Brigadier Commanding Malwa Field Force a Report of the part taken by the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent under my Command during the operations near Mundesore, commencing from the 21st instant.

2. On the forenoon of that date, after making arrangements for the safety of my Camp, I directed a village, on the extreme left, to be occupied and held by a party of Cavalry and Infantry, as its possession appeared of importance. About 2 o'clock p. m. it was reported that the village was threatened. On reaching the spot, I found a strong body of the Enemy, horse and footmen, moving out into the open country, and advancing with much boldness. I directed reinforcements and Guns to be brought up at once, but before these could arrive, the Enemy had succeeded in forcing back the Picquet and occupying the village. On being joined by the Guns and Infantry, with the 1st and 4th Regiments of Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, the Artillery, assisted by two Guns of the Bombay (Captain Woolcombe's) Battery, under Command of Lieutenant Strutt, opened a very well-directed and effective fire, which cleared the village and forced back the Insurgents. It was again occupied by our Troops, the Enemy retiring slowly and in considerable force towards Mundesore. My orders being explicit on the subject of not forcing a general engagement, I contented myself with retaining possession of the village.

3. On the morning of the 22nd, the Force, by a flank movement, crossed the river and encamped on the West side of the Town of Mundesore. Whilst making a reconnoissance with Captain McDonald, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, two bodies of the Enemy were observed moving away. These consisted principally of horsemen. One got away too rapidly for pursuit was stayed by our finding a large body of the Enemy drawn up in our front, in a strong position, in a village, against which Cavalry could not act.

4. On the Enemy being observed in strength to the left of the village of Goraria, whilst the Column was en route on the morning of the 23rd, I received the directions of the Brigadier Commanding to deploy with my Force, to support the general attack, and to conform my movements to those of the Column. These directions were implicitly carried out; the Cavalry was held ready wherever it might be necessary to act; and to prevent any attempt on the left flank, a Detachment of two Companies of the 3rd Infantry Hyderabad Contingent, under Command of Captain

* For Brigadier Stuart's Despatch, vide Fort St. George Gazette Extraordinary, 23d January 1858, No. 26.

Similarly, with two Guns of the 1st Company Artillery, was ordered to reinforce the Rear Guard: the remainder of the Infantry and two Guns of the 4th Company Artillery, under Captain J. deC. Sinclair, assisted by two Guns of Captain Woolcombe's Battery, under Command of Lieutenant Keating, Bombay Artillery, advanced in line with the Column, and aided in the general operations. The fire of the Guns was most effective and good, throwing shot and shell with much precision into the Enemy's Ranks. On the capture of the Guns, and the advance of the Cavalry on the right, I brought forward the Cavalry on the left flank also, which was completely cleared of flying parties of the Insurgents. Having received orders further to reinforce the Rear Guard by two more Guns, I considered I should be best carrying out the views of the Brigadier, and concurring to the success of the day's operations, if I moved down the whole Cavalry to the rear, which had been reported to be hard pressed. This was rapidly effected. I found the Enemy had advanced to a position about eight hundred yards distant from the Rear Guard, that they were in force, and that it was necessary they should be dislodged as soon as possible, their number and boldness increasing. I accordingly directed the line to move forward, and after a short advance, the Guns opened and drove back the Enemy, they answering our fire from matchlocks. After a second advance, I ordered the Cavalry as per margin to charge and clear the front. They rapidly advanced upon a large body of retreating footmen; but unfortunately, the nature of the ground being broken and full of large gravel pits, from which a close, and sharp matchlock fire was opened, prevented the attack being as effective as otherwise it would have been. A good many Insurgents, however, were cut up, and those in the pits were afterwards shot down on the Infantry coming up.

5. I deeply regret to have to report that, in this charge, fell Lieutenant Redmayne, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons; whilst gallantly leading on his men, he was mortally wounded. His gallantry and daring courage were conspicuous to all, and I trust I may be permitted to say that, in him, Her Majesty's Service has lost an Officer of high promise.

6. In the operations against the village of Goraria, on the 24th Instant, this Force also took part, and a Detachment of Infantry under Captain Sinclair, 3rd Regiment, joined the stormers and shared in the assault upon the village.

7. I beg to bring to the favorable notice of the Brigadier Commanding the Malwa Field Force the conduct of the entire Force under my Command. My best thanks are due to Lieutenant Hastings Fraser, 4th Cavalry, my Staff Officer, for his zealous exertions in the performance of the numerous duties which devolved upon him, as well as for his prompt and ready aid at all times; to Captain Abbott, Commanding 1st Cavalry; Captain Murray, Commanding 4th Cavalry; Captain Sinclair, Commanding Left Wing 3rd Infantry; Captain J. deC. Sinclair, Commanding Artillery, and Lieutenant Johnson, Adjutant 1st Cavalry: To Surgeon Orr, 4th Cavalry, and Senior Surgeon Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, my best acknowledgments are due for the assistance he afforded me in the Field during the entire operations, for his care and attention to the wounded, and the arrangements made by him for their comfort.

8. I beg to forward a Nominal Return* of the killed and wounded during the four days' operations.

I have the honor to be &c.,

Fort William, 29th January 1858.

No. 171 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication, in General Orders, of the following letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors to the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 85, dated 18th November 1857:—

Financial Department.

No. 85 of 1857.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

1. We have had under consideration the position in which the wives and families, resident in this Country, of our Military Officers, are placed by the cessation, consequent on the present disturbed state of certain parts of India, of the remittances which have hitherto been made for their subsistence, and we have determined, as a temporary measure, that in all cases in which the parents, wives, guardians of the children, or brothers or sisters of the Company's Military or Medical Officers, or Chaplains, may produce satisfactory evidence of their having been in the receipt of Family Remittances from India, whether through our Home Treasury, or by means of private Agency, and of the stoppage of those remittances having been caused by the recent outbreak in India, a sum not exceeding the amount hitherto remitted, or the maximum allowed to be remitted through our Treasury by an Officer of each grade, shall be advanced quarterly to the relatives of such Officers, or to the guardians of their children, commencing with the first quarter after the receipt of the last remittance; and we have extended the benefit of this arrangement to those Officers' wives and families who have recently returned, or may yet arrive from India, and who, from the cause above adverted to, have had no arrangements made for their subsistence in this Country.

2. As the sums so advanced by us will be recoverable from the pay of the several Officers, we shall apprise you from time to time of the advances made; and you will cause each Officer, whose family may have been admitted to the benefit of the arrangement, to be informed thereof, thus affording him the opportunity of requesting the discontinuance of the advances, should he think fit. In the event of the decease of any of those Officers, the amount will be recoverable from the Pensions to which their families may be entitled from Lord Clive's Fund, or from any of the Indian Military Funds.

3. We forward in the Packet a statement of the advances made to the date of this Despatch.

We are, &c.,

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, BANGALORE, 12th February 1858.

At a Native General Court Martial held in Camp at Jubbulpore, on Thursday the 21st day of January 1858, Shekh Madar, Jemadar in the E. Company of the 33d Regiment of Native Infantry, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz.

First Charge.—For having in Camp at Jubbulpore, when on duty as Native Officer of the Quarter Guard of his Regiment in time of alarm been absent from his guard, when it was visited by the Acting Field Officer of the day at 5 o'clock post meridian on the 5th day of December 1857, and at 3 o'clock on the morning of the following day, and remaining absent during the greater part of the said night, without being regularly relieved or without leave.

Second Charge.—For conduct to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline in the following Instances.

First Instance.—For neglect of duty in having at the time and place mentioned in the 1st Charge failed to go visiting rounds.

Second Instance.—In having on the 6th day of December 1857, when undergoing examination before Lieutenant Colonel (Brevet Colonel) John Millar, his, the Prisoner's Commanding Officer, stated that he had "not quitted the Guard Tent except for a short time for the purpose of nature, and to go visiting rounds" he well knowing the above statement to be false.

Finding.—The Court on the evidence before it, is of opinion that the Prisoner Shekh Madar, Jemadar in the E. Company of the 33d Regiment of Native Infantry, is Guilty of the 1st Charge, but the Court finds that the times when the Acting Field Officer visited the Quarter Guard, when the Prisoner was absent, should be about half past 5 o'clock post meridian, on the 5th of December last year, and about half past three o'clock on the morning of the following day.

Guilty of the Second Charge in its First Instance.

Guilty of the Second Charge in its Second Instance.

Sentence.—The Court sentences the Prisoner Shekh Madar, Jemadar in the E. Company of the 33d Regiment of Native Infantry, to be dismissed the Service.

No. 66 of 1858.—The Governor in Council is pleased to notify the Rules laid down, and the duties prescribed, for the Inspector General of Hospitals at this Presidency.

2. He is to inspect the whole of the Hospitals, Military and Civil, Dispensaries, Depots of Medical Stores, the Presidency Medical Stores excepted, and Establishments connected with the Medical Department, throughout the Madras Presidency.

3. The object of his inspections is to ascertain that the duties of all ranks are thoroughly performed, that the regulations of the Medical Department are strictly carried out, that Stores are in sufficient quantity and of proper quality, and that, generally, every Department of the Medical Service in the Provinces is in a perfectly efficient state.

4. He is to issue no orders to Medical Officers or others, but to report fully upon every point to the Director General, to whom he will also submit whatever suggestions he may find it advisable to offer.

5. The periods of inspection will be arranged by the Director General,—sufficient time being allowed at each station to allow of the inspection being made thoroughly effective.

6. The whole of the Office records and correspondence of Superintending Surgeons and others is to come under his inspection,—and at the Presidency he is to be allowed access, on application to the Secretary to the Director General, to all such records as the Director General may consider likely to be useful to him in the prosecution of his duties.

7. The correspondence of the Inspector with the Director General is to be addressed to his Secretary.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 23d FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 68 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 9TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 226 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope on a large body of Rebels at Shumshabad, on the morning of the 27th January 1858.

2. To Brigadier Hope, as well as to the Officers and Men, His Honor in Council desires to offer his warm acknowledgments for the good services rendered on this occasion:—

FROM BRIGDR. A. HOPE, Lt.-Col., 93rd Highlanders, Commanding 3rd Brigade of Infantry, TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Camp near Fultehgurh, 29th January 1858.

Detail of Troops.
2 Squadrons 9th Lancers.
200 Hodson's Horse.
1 Troop Bengal Horse Artillery.
Field Battery } (4 Guns.)
Bengal Artillery }
42nd Royal Highlanders.
53rd Regiment.
4th Punjab Rifles.

SIR,— I HAVE the honor to report that, in accordance with the Commander-in-Chief's orders, communicated by you, I marched from this Camp (leaving the tents standing) on the 26th Instant at 11 P. M., with the Troops noted in the margin, and halting for three hours short of the village of Kooshinabad, proceeded at day-light on the 27th towards Shumshabad.

A thick fog compelled us to move cautiously, and it was 9 o'clock before the Column closed up under cover of the village of Shumshabad.

The Rebels in considerable force had taken post about $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile beyond that place. They occupied a commanding knoll on the edge of the plateau overlooking the plain, which stretches towards the river some six miles distant. On the knoll was a brick building, the shrine of a Mussulman Saint, and the place was surrounded by the remains of an old entrenchment, upon which they had raised a sand-bag Battery. Their front was defended by a ravine (impassable for Cavalry or Guns) which runs at right angles across the road to Mhow, along which we moved, and to the right of which their position was.

As the head of our Column emerged from the village, the fog cleared off, and some Cavalry out-posts of the Enemy having been driven in, we moved over some broken ground towards their Camp, now distinctly visible. They immediately opened upon us a well-directed fire of round shot, by which Lieutenant McDowell of Hodson's Horse, a most active Officer, was mortally wounded.

Captain Remington then led his Troop of Horse Artillery at a gallop across the bridge where the road crosses the ravine, and, supported by Captain Hodson's Irregular Horse, wheeled to the right and opened fire on the flank of the Enemy's Camp.

The Rebel Sowars made a daring attempt to outflank and cut off these Guns, but were very boldly met by Captain Hodson, afterwards supported by the 9th Lancers under Captain Steele; and in the charge which ensued, were driven over the steep bank into the plain below.

Meanwhile, Captain Blunt brought his Guns into action in an excellent position on the right bank of the ravine, and the line of Infantry was formed on the right, consisting of the 4th Punjab Rifles under Captain Wylde, the 42nd Royal Highlanders under Lieutenant-Colonel Cameron being on the extreme right, the 53rd Regiment under Major English being in second line.

The Enemy were unable to withstand the admirable fire of our Guns, and I ordered the Infantry, who had been screened in a hollow of the ground, to advance; and soon after, seeing the Camp nearly abandoned, the 4th Punjab Rifles were directed to secure it, which they did in a very spirited manner, shooting down many of the retreating Enemy.

The 42d at the same time changed front to their right, and lining the crest of the high bank, fired down on some of the Rebel Cavalry, who were moving on the plain towards our right flank.

The Cavalry and Horse Artillery advancing from our left flank, pursued the Enemy across the plain, killing numbers of them.

A Wing of the 53d was left to secure the position gained, the rest of the Force moving some distance over the plain, till it was evident no further stand could be made by the Rebels.

The Infantry and Guns then returned, and our bivouack was formed near the Rebel Camp; the Cavalry with two Guns (the whole under Captain Johnson, 9th Lancers) following up the track of the Enemy towards the Ghat for nearly ten miles and returning at about 4 P. M.

In the Enemy's Camp were taken four brass Guns, with a considerable quantity of ammunition, colors, &c. &c.

I believe the Enemy's Force to have consisted of two Regiments from Barcilly, the Pathans of Mhow, Shumshabad, Kaimgunge, &c., and a good many of the armed rabble collected by the hope of plunder. I should estimate their loss at 300 men, including two or three of their chiefs.

I enclose a list of our casualties, and His Excellency will see with regret that both Captain Steele and Captain Hodson have received severe sword-cuts while heading the pursuit.

The loss in the 4th Punjab Rifles was almost entirely caused by the explosion of one of the Enemy's tumbrils.

I beg to express my very sincere thanks to all the Officers in Command of Corps and to the Troops under their orders, and in particular to Captain Remington and to Captain Johnson, respectively the senior Officers of Artillery and Cavalry, for the able assistance they rendered me.

Captain Hodson's local knowledge and information was most valuable.

Captain Cox, 75th Regiment, my Brigade Major, and Lieutenant Butter, 98th Highlanders, my Orderly Officer, were most active and useful to me.

The Force returned to Camp yesterday with the Guns captured, of which I enclose a Return, as also the Reports of Captains Remington and Johnson.

RETURN of Casualties in the Force which was under the Command of Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope, from the 26th to the 28th Instant.

Camp Futtehghurh, 29th January 1858.

FROM CAPTAIN REMINGTON, Commanding Artillery with Brigadier Hope's Force,

TO CAPTAIN COX, Major of Brigade, Brigadier Hope's Force.

Camp Futtehghurh, 29th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier Hope, that when the Artillery was ordered to the front on the morning of the 27th instant, I proceeded with the 1st Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery under the guidance of Captain Hodson, with the view of taking the Enemy's position in flank. The ground was very much broken, and between us and the Enemy was a deep ravine.

Directly we advanced, the Enemy opened on us a fire of round shot. Captain Hodson having pointed out to me a bridge over the ravine, we galloped across, wheeled to the right, and advanced till within about six hundred yards of the Enemy's position. We opened fire here with great effect, our shot and shell evidently telling on the mass of men in the Entrenchment, besides exploding an Ammunition Tumbrel and firing the Enemy's Camp. During these operations, Captain Blunt advanced with his Battery rapidly to the front, and opened fire across the ravine at about the same distance from the Enemy's position as the ground we occupied. Captain Blunt's position was most judiciously selected, his fire raking the face of the Entrenchment opposed to us, and our fire performing the same good office for him. The Enemy's fire, considering the small number of Guns he had (four), was for a short time vigorous and well sustained; but the concentrated fire of our ten Guns was too much for him, and in half an hour he abandoned his Guns and Entrenchment and fled in confusion. We galloped up to the brink of the cliff on which the Enemy's position was (leaving the Entrenchment to our right) and plied the fugitives in the plain below with round shot and grape. Captain Blunt advanced on the right of the Entrenchment, and his fire raked the base of the cliff most effectively. We afterwards descended into the plain, but the Enemy's flight was too rapid to admit our overtaking them in a stern chase over very heavy ground, after a long march over sandy roads. I detached two Guns under Lieutenant Lindsay to follow up the retreat with the Cavalry, and with the main body returned to the captured Entrenchment near which our Camp was formed. Accompanying is a list of captured Ordnance. The casualties in the Artillery, I am happy to say, are only two Horses, one killed, the other wounded, both of the 1st Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery. I beg to forward for the Brigadier's inspection a plan of the Enemy's position, by Lieutenant Traill, an Officer of my Troop.

FROM CAPTAIN C. P. JOHNSON, 9th Lancers, Commanding Cavalry of the Column,

TO BRIGADIER THE HON'BLE ADRIAN HOPE, &c. &c. &c.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit to you the post taken by the Cavalry under my Command, consisting of 196 men of the 9th Lancers under Captain Steele and 230 men of Hodson's Horse, in the operations at Shumshabad.

The Enemy's position having been ascertained, Captain Remington's Troop of Horse Artillery was ordered by you to cross the Bridge over the nullah and attack their right flank. Captain Hodson's Regiment was sent in support; this point, however, was not gained without loss. Lieutenant McDowell, of Hodson's Horse, was struck down by a round shot and mortally wounded, and one man and horse of the 9th Lancers killed.

In Lieutenant McDowell, the Service has lost a gallant and valuable Officer.

On reaching the right flank of the Enemy, their Cavalry was observed in considerable force to our front and left. Captain Hodson immediately advanced his Regiment, and attacking them with his accustomed gallantry, completely routed them, many of their dead being left on the field. I regret to state that both Captain Hodson and Lieutenant Gough of his Regiment were wounded.

The precision of the Artillery fire having partially dislodged the Rebels from their entrenched position, the 9th Lancers were ordered to advance to the support of Hodson's Horse, who were already engaged with parties of their broken Infantry, one squadron being left in reserve, as a detached portion of the Enemy's Cavalry still threatened the Guns.

The attack to the front now became general and was entirely successful, though not untended with loss. Captain Hodson, who had preserved in spite of his wound, was again wounded, and this time severely, and compelled to resign his Command to Lieutenant Wise, who ably led the Regiment for the remainder of the day.

Captain Steele, Commanding the Detachment of the 9th Lancers, whilst gallantly charging at the head of his men, was severely wounded; Lieutenant Willis, of the same corps, slightly.

The pursuit was continued for some distance, and upwards of 300 of the Enemy were killed. According to your instructions, I subsequently advanced with the Cavalry and 2 Guns of Captain Remington's Troop of Horse Artillery for some miles on the road towards Sewajpore Ghât, but met with no opposition. The Enemy appeared to have been scattered in all directions.

I beg respectfully to call your attention to the disproportionate number of Officers who were wounded, as a proof of the noble manner in which they led their men; to the number of the Enemy's slain, as a proof that the men were not wanting in the support of their Officers.

In fact the conduct of the men during the long day's work was admirable. They had been ten successive hours in the saddle before coming into action, and nineteen before the pursuit was abandoned; but were always ready. I beg to enclose a list of casualties.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

25TH FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 24TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 69 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 12TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 238 of 1858.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 1383, of the 5th November last, the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from Major-General Sir A. Wilson, Bart, K. C. B., late in Command of the Delhi Field Force, forwarding Reports from Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Deacon, Her Majesty's 61st Foot, relative to the Capture of the Magazine in the City of Delhi, and from Major J. Brind, of Artillery, regarding the occupation of the Jumma Musjeed.

2. His Honor in Council desires to record his approbation of the excellent services rendered by the Officers above-named on the occasions now brought to notice :—

No. 48.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL SIR A. WILSON, K. C. B., Commandant of Artillery,
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters.

Head Quarters of Artillery, Meerut, 18th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, copy of a letter of the 9th Instant, from Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Deacon, of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, transmitting a statement of the operations against the Magazine in the City of Delhi, which was gallantly and successfully stormed by a Column under His Command on the 16th September last, the circumstances connected with which, reflecting great credit on all engaged, were, I regret to find, omitted in my Despatch of that date.

2. I also beg to submit a letter of the 24th September, from Major J. Brind, of the Artillery, detailing the operations of a Detachment under his Command against the Jumma Musjeed, which led to the capture and occupation of that important post on the 20th Idem; and I beg to bring this Officer to Sir Colin Campbell's very favorable consideration for his valuable services on this, as on every other occasion on which his energy and gallantry have been called into requisition.

3. I have to beg you will do me the favor of soliciting His Excellency to forward both these communications to Government, with my request that they may be published in continuation of my Despatches connected with the fall of the City of Delhi.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major-General, Commandant of Artillery.

FROM LIEUT.-COL. C. C. DEACON, H. M.'s 61st Regiment, Late Commanding Storming Party.

Perozepore, 9th January 1858.

SIR,—Having attentively perused the several Despatches which have been recently published, in reference to the late operations, before and subsequent to the Assault on the City of Delhi, and observing that no notice has been made of the Capture of the Magazine, beyond the fact of its having fallen on the 16th September last, up to which period it was the only Arsenal in possession of the Mutineers of the Bengal Native Army: however late it may now be, I feel it to be due to that portion of the Troops,

250 H. M.'s 61st Regiment, Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Deacon.

200 4th Punjaub Infantry, Commanded by Captain Wilde.

300 Belooch Battalion, Commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar.

H. M.'s 61st, reduced to 170, no more men being available.

which formed the Storming Party then under my Command, as per margin, to forward the annexed statement, with a view to your doing me the honor to forward the same to Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson,

K. C. B., for transmission to, and for the information of, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and the Government.

2. I may, I trust, be permitted to bring to the Major General's and your own recollection, that although I was not the Senior Officer at the time, that Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar, of the Belooch Battalion, on the previous evening (the 15th September), requested permission to be allowed to waive his right of Command in my favor, until after the Capture of the Magazine had been effected; and I trust I may therefore be permitted to lay claim to the honor of carrying out the Major-General's instructions, and for which I received, in presence of H. M.'s 61st Regiment, the Major-General's congratulations on the success on my proceedings on the morning of the 16th September, about half an hour after the fall of the Magazine to our arms.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. C. DEACON, Lt.-Col., H. M.'s 61st Rgt., Late Comdg. Storming Party.

STATEMENT OF LIEUTENANT-COLONEL C. C. DEACON, Commanding H. M.'s 61st Regiment, and late in Command of the Force that assaulted and captured the Delhi Magazine on the 16th Sept. 1857.

In compliance with instructions to that effect direct, and personally from Major-General Wilson, Commanding the Delhi Field Force, an Attacking Party as per margin, under my Command, paraded, on the 16th September 1857, for the purpose of assaulting the Magazine within the walls of the City of Delhi.

250 H. M.'s 61st Regiment, reduced to 170, no more being available.
300 Belooch Battalion.

2. The Force assembled in the College Gardens half an hour before day dawn, and was immediately formed into a Column of Attack, headed by H. M.'s 61st Regiment, supported by the 4th Punjaub Infantry under the Command of Captain Wilde, with the Belooch Battalion under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar in reserve; and at day-break, having previously taken ground to the left flank, until the Column was brought to face the Breach which had been made the previous day, the attack commenced. Not a word was spoken or a trigger pulled, until the stormers and the support had reached the summit of the Breach and the Magazine Yard, when a cheer and a charge were given and made, on which the Enemy, taken most completely by surprise, fled precipitately, throwing down their port-fires at their Guns. Several of them were bayoneted close to the Breach, the others were closely pursued by H. M.'s 61st and the 4th Punjaub Infantry. A party under Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, H. M.'s 61st Regiment (under the guidance of Captain H. W. Norman, A. A. G.), having passed through the Magazine, turned to their left, and spiked a Gun, which was in position on the Eastern wall of the City, and which was pointed at the College Garden Battery. On being reached, the Enemy fought very desperately. In addition to those who were killed within the Magazine grounds, many were shot down beyond the walls and within the buildings which stand between them and the Palace.

3. On reaching the summit of the Breach, two heavy iron Guns (apparently 32-Pounders) were found pointed at it loaded, one of which was temporarily spiked by Assistant Surgeon T. H. Reade and Color Sergeant Mitchell, both of H. M.'s 61st Regiment. Two 10½ inch (apparently) Mortars were likewise found in position in the Magazine Grounds facing the College Gardens. These were presently wheeled about, and a fire from them opened on the Palace and Selimgur.

4. So unexpected was the assault, that the casualties at the moment were most trifling, only one Private of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment killed, together with three Privates and one Sikh of Captain Wilde's Corps wounded.

5. Having successfully conducted the assault, I then sent Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, back to the Magazine, requesting that he would convey my wishes that the Belooch Battalion should retain possession of it and man the walls, until the return of Her Majesty's 61st and the 4th Punjaub Infantry, which was accordingly done; and on the Force being again concentrated, Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, as the Senior Officer present, assumed the Command; the 4th Punjaub Infantry, in compliance with previous orders, having proceeded to the College.

6. I must beg leave to state, that on the present, as well as on every occasion, from the period the Left Wing of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, joined its Head Quarters, I have ever received that Officer's ablest assistance and co-operation; that the 4th Punjaub Infantry, nobly supported Her Majesty's 61st at the assault; while to Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar and to Captain Wilde I am much indebted for the able assistance they rendered me in carrying out Major-General Wilson's orders.

7. I have only to add, that some 170 odd Guns, of kinds, together with stores of all descriptions, were found in the Magazine; that during the course of the fore and afternoon of the 16th September, attacks were made by the Enemy, which were repulsed on every occasion, and at every point, by the Troops, then within the walls, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, and some loss was sustained, Casualty Lists of which were sent in at the time; but throughout, nothing could have surpassed the ardour and gallantry of both the Officers and Men who were engaged in the assault, and who I had the honor and good fortune to lead.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. C. DEACON, Lieut.-Col., H. M. 61st Regt., Late Comdg. Assaulting Force.

FROM MAJOR JAMES BRIND, Comdg. Foot Arty., Late Comdg. at Jumma Musjeed,
TO MAJOR EWART, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

Dereah Gunj, Delhi, 24th September 1857.

SIR,—Understanding that reports of services performed by detached commands or special duties are to be made direct to you, for the information of Major-General Wilson, Commanding the Delhi Field Force, I have the honor to submit the following.

On the morning of the 20th instant, about day-break, I proceeded to the Burn Bastion, to ascertain that the Guns were provided with sufficient Ammunition, Details, &c. &c. After firing upon the flying Enemy along the front of the Ajmere Gate, and towards the woods in rear of Kissungunj, it was reported that a rapid advance upon the Jumma Musjeed would place it—and, from its commanding position, the rest of the City—in our possession. Brigadier Jones was on the spot, but as he required Captain Boyd,

Two Guns of No. 17 Light Field Battery.

Infantry.

Fifty men of Her Majesty's 8th Queen's, and 20 men of the 1st Bengal European Fusiliers, under Command of Captain Bannatyne, 8th Queen's.

Commanding the 2nd Fusiliers, to be ready to accompany him to the Ajmere Gate, I offered my services, having to accompany the Artillery under my Command with the Advance Columns, and requested that the Detachment as per margin might be placed at my disposal. Lieutenant Genneste, of the Engineers, with a party of the Sappers, volunteered to accompany me. By the aid of pressed Guides, and two Irregular Cavalry (Punjaub) Troopers, we occupied, one after another, the prominent posts leading to the Jumma Musjeed, such as the Kutwalee, Sonalee, and Futehporee Musjeeds, &c. &c., without difficulty or accident, having merely to force the gates and slay a few rebellious or suspicious characters. On taking possession of the Jumma Musjeed, and making the necessary disposition of my Artillery and Infantry, I was compelled to have the Durwan (who treacherously led a Serjeant of the 8th Queen's, Havildar of Coke's Punjab Corps, and two Regimental Bheesties under a heavy fire of Musketry from the Fort walls) of the Musjeed executed in the street to the front. The effect of these measures, together with the orderly and rapid movements of my Detachment, had a most favourable result, and contributed towards the almost bloodless success of the Military operations of the day, and the successful and complete occupation of the City, &c. of Delhi.

The steady, soldier-like, and determined bearing of the Detachment of Her Majesty's 8th Regiment, under the Command of that zealous and judicious Officer, Captain Bannatyne, made my task light. During the night of the Mutiny at Jullundur, when all were taken by surprise, and the rush upon our Guns of the panic-struck residents threw the Troop into a state of inaction, I experienced the most cheerful and judicious aid from Captain Bannatyne, who, on this occasion, so ably supported me. To Lieutenant Genneste of the Engineers, and the Officers Commanding the Detachments of Artillery, Lieutenant Wilson, H. A., and Lieutenant Harrington, of Captain Bouchier's Battery, I am much indebted for the valuable assistance they rendered me in the advance; as also to Lieutenant Seance, of the same Battery, who brought up a reinforcement. My Detachment forced an entrance into the Jumma Musjeed about an hour and a half prior to the assault upon the Palace. I at once reported my position for the orders of the Major-General, and made over Command of the post to Lieutenant-Colonel Greathead the following morning.

I have, &c.,

No. 239 of 1858.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 182, of the 29th January 1858, the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Despatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., Commanding in Oude, reporting the result of an attack made on his position by the Enemy on the 16th January 1858:—

No. 63.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding in Oude,

TO GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff of the Army in the East Indies.

Dated Camp Alum Bagh, 17th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that the Enemy made an attack on my position yesterday, similar to that reported in letter of the 12th instant, except that, though they did not show in such general strength, their attack was more bold than before. In the morning they made a sudden attack on the Jullalabad Picquet, and were received with a heavy fire, which drove them back immediately, leaving on the ground their leader, a Hindoo devotee representing Hunnoman, who was advancing bravely at their head, and several killed and wounded, whom they were unable to carry off. As they were seen removing many bodies, their loss must have been severe. Two 9-Pounders, under Captain Moir, were sent down to support the Picquet, and completed the expulsion of the Enemy from the cover in its front.

On the left front and left, the Enemy advanced skirmishers and threatened during the greater part of the day, suffering severely whenever they ventured within range. After dark they assembled in great strength in front of my left advanced village out-post, Commanded by Major Gordon, 75th Regiment, and attacked it with a large body of Infantry, who were allowed to approach within 80 yards of the post, when they were received with discharges of grape from three Guns and a heavy fire from the Rifles of the post, which inflicted very severe loss, and drove them off immediately. Some shells from an 8-inch Mortar expedited their retreat. The Enfield Rifles and Captain Maude's Guns in Alum Bagh had several opportunities of inflicting severe loss on the Enemy, which were promptly taken advantage of. A large body of Cavalry showed on my left rear, and were safely left to the vigilance of Captain Olpherts, who watched and kept them in check with his four Horse Battery Guns, supported by a Detachment of the Military Train under Captain Clarke.

The casualties of my Force during the day amounted to—
1 Bombardier, killed.

7 European Infantry, wounded.

1 Gunner, wounded by a fall from his Gun.

The judgment and coolness with which Major Gordon defended his post, deserve much praise; he was ably supported by Lieutenant Clarke, Commanding the Battery.

Much credit is also due to Lieutenant Wynne, of Her Majesty's 90th, who Commanded the Jullahabad Picquet.

Also to Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, Commanding the post, and Captain Maude, Commanding the Artillery at Alum Bagh.

To Captain Rattray, Commanding the Infantry, Lieutenant Gully, Commanding the Battery of No. 1 advanced out-post on the left, and to the Officers and Men of their posts for their vigilance and alertness in checking and punishing the Enemy at every opportunity.

Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

3D MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 2D MARCH 1858.

No. 77 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 15TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 264 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., Commanding, No. 62, dated 16th January 1858, transmitting Reports relative to the occupation and defence of the post of Alum Bagh, under Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel McIntyre, 78th Highlanders, and of the operations of the Artillery of his Force; Commanded by Major V. Eyre, Bengal Artillery.

2. His Honor in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments to the several Officers named in these Reports, as well as to the Officers and Men engaged, for the good services rendered by them.

No 62.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding in Oude,
TO MAJOR H. W. NORMAN, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

Camp, Alum Bagh, 16th January 1858.

SIR,—In consequence of my having received no Report from the Officer Commanding at Alum Bagh, the services of the Garrison and of particular Officers have not been brought to the notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

I therefore beg leave to submit, for the information of His Excellency, a Report recently received from Major McIntyre, H. M.'s 78th Regiment, of the occupation and defence of Alum Bagh, from the 25th September, when he was placed in Command of that post by the late Major General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., until the arrival of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief's Force.

During the earlier portion of Major McIntyre's occupation of Alum Bagh, whilst cut off from communication with Cawnpore, uncertain of the fate of the rest of the Force from the moment when he lost sight of it in the suburbs of Lucknow, and surrounded by a numerous Enemy, his Command was one of grave and anxious responsibility, and the firm and able manner in which he used his small resources to repulse the attacks of the Enemy, to strengthen his defences, and overcome the difficulties of his situation, and the cheerful conduct of the Troops under laborious duties, merit my cordial acknowledgments, and will, I feel sure, meet with His Excellency's approbation.

I beg to second most strongly the recommendation which Major McIntyre makes in favor of his Second in Command, Major Sibley, who Commanded at Alum Bagh, during three weeks, whilst Major McIntyre was on the sick list, also of the several Officers of the Staff or Commanding Detachments favorably mentioned by Major McIntyre.

I also beg permission to submit Brigadier Eyre's Report of the Artillery operations of the Oude Field Force, from the 21st September to the 24th November, which I have recently received. I beg now to recommend the several Officers mentioned by Brigadier Eyre, whose names have not already been submitted for the favorable notice of Government, for their service under their distinguished Commander, particularly Lieutenant A. Fraser, Brigade Major of Artillery, whose name, I regret to find, was omitted; but whose gallantry and very zealous services deserved favorable notice.

Captain Evans, of the Bombay Native Infantry, doing duty with the Artillery, was of much service in the Artillery Park, at the evacuation of the Residency of Lucknow.

Lieutenant T. H. Harvard, of the Artillery, performed good service as Commissary of Ordnance at Cawnpore, and during the march to Alum Bagh.

Lieutenant J. Anderson, of the Engineers, Commanding Engineers of the Lucknow Garrison, though confined to his couch by illness, never ceased to exert himself to supply the Engineer Department with materials, and Lieutenant J. M. Innes gave very valuable aid in the mining operations until he was also disabled by ill-health and fatigue.

The services of Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, were highly appreciated by the late Sir H. Havelock, and his personal attendance on myself during the march to Alum Bagh in the actions of the 21st and 23rd September, deserved my thanks and commendation.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

J. OUTRAM, Major-General, Commanding in Oude.

FROM MAJOR & BT. LIEUTENANT-COLONEL MCINTYRE, 78th Highlanders,

To COL. R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff with the Force under Maj.-Genl. Sir J. Outram.

Camp, near Alum Bagh, 3rd January 1858.

SIR,—HAVING been directed to report upon the circumstances attending the occupation and defence of the Alum Bagh, I have the honor to state, for the information of the Major-General Commanding, that on the advance of the Force on Lucknow, on the 25th of September last, under the late Major-General Sir Henry Havelock, K. C. B., I was appointed, by that Officer, to the Command of the place, with Detachments of Regiments, consisting of about 280 Europeans, some Sikhs, and four Guns. In it were placed the Sick of the Force, amounting to 128 men, of whom 64 were wounded, the Baggage, Commissariat, Treasure Chest, Reserve Ordnance Park, and a large quantity of small Arm Ammunition.

The Native Followers, Government and otherwise, could not have amounted to fewer than between four and five thousand persons, with an enormous number of Cattle of various descriptions. The supply of food for the Native Followers did not exceed the consumption of a few days, and we had little or nothing for the Cattle but what could be procured by foraging parties. Fortunately, some crops of Rice and other Grain, nearly ripe, were on the ground sufficiently near to enable us to gather them under the protection of our Guns. As these became consumed, the sufferings of the Native Followers from want became, I regret to say, very great. Any thing that could be thought of was done to alleviate them. Driven by starvation to seek for food too far in advance of our foraging parties, numbers were cut up by the Enemy, who surrounded us. The efforts made to relieve their wants from Cawnpore were for a considerable time unsuccessful, as even quill communications by cossids failed to reach their destination; however, on the 7th of October, a convoy of provisions, escorted by a party of 250 Men and two Guns, and Commanded by Major Bingham, H. M.'s 64th Regiment, reached us from Cawnpore, and on the 25th of the same month, a large convoy, intended for Lucknow, escorted by 500 Men and four Guns, under the Command of Major Barnston, H. M.'s 90th Regiment, reached the Alum Bagh. These enabled me to relieve, to a certain extent, the wants of the Native Followers. 150 men of Major Bingham's party were ordered to remain to reinforce the Garrison and 100 to return to Cawnpore by a forced night march to escort return Cattle.

Major Barnston's Detachment was ordered, after having rested for a day or two, to return to Cawnpore. As the Enemy had, however, appeared in very great numbers, and had become more daring than usual, I took upon myself the responsibility of detaining them, which turned out fortunately, for in a day or two I received an order to do so permanently. This gave me a Force of 900 Europeans and 10 Guns, which enabled me to increase my foraging parties, and then range.

To take steps for the immediate defence of my post was my first care, and I made use of every available means to accomplish it. Subsequently more permanent works were ably constructed by Lieutenant Judge, of the Engineers, assisted by Mr. Tait, Civil Engineer, attached to that Department. These were partially completed only, however bastions at the angles and a banquette beside were so, and the mango topes cut down in all directions round the post.

The Enemy constructed batteries, at different periods, at five different points, around us, and their fire was at times exceedingly annoying and destructive to the Native Followers and Cattle from their necessarily crowded state; but I am happy to say that during the period of our holding the position—forty-nine days—one European Soldier only was killed and two wounded.

Jellalabad—occupied in force by the Enemy with Cavalry, Infantry and four Guns—formed a sixth and dangerous neighbour; but on two occasions only did they bring out their Guns and open fire, and they were then soon silenced.

A two Gun Battery at the Yellow House, * about the Enemy's ears and silenced by our Artillery fire, under the able direction of Captain Moir, of the Bengal Artillery, was repaired during the night; but on a repetition of our fire, was again silenced, and eventually they withdrew their Guns from it.

The duty was at first very severe on both Officers and Men; but was performed most cheerfully by both. Much praise is due to the Artillery and Men attached, on whom it was even more severe than on the others.

From about the 3rd to the 22nd of October, in consequence of my illness, the Command of the post devolved on Major Sibley, of H. M.'s 64th Regiment, in charge of the Treasure Chest, the next Senior Officer, from whom I on all occasions received every assistance.

I trust the Major-General will not think it presumptuous on my part to bring to his notice the names of those Officers (in addition to those already mentioned) who were most conspicuous in the performance of their duties, and deserve much credit. They are—Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Gordon, Bengal Artillery, who Commanded the Detachments Artillery until the arrival of Captain Moir; Lieutenant Sandwith, H. M.'s 84th Regiment, Acting Field Engineer, (Lieutenant Sandwith was subsequently killed in Lucknow); Lieutenant Haldane, H. M.'s 64th Regiment, Acting Field Engineer; Lieutenant Morland, Acting Staff Officer (1st Bengal Fusiliers.)

The unwearied attention of Surgeon Innes, of H. M.'s 84th Regiment, and Surgeon Dominichette, of H. M.'s 75th Regiment, to the Sick and Wounded, and their exertions on entering the Alum Bagh with 64 wounded men, deserve the greatest praise.

May I be permitted to add that I on every occasion received the greatest assistance from Captain Moir, of the Artillery, who was ever at his post.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

J. MCINTYRE, Major, 78th Highlanders, & Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel.

FROM MAJOR V. EYRE, Commanding Artillery Brigade.

To COLONEL R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff with the Force under Major-General Sir J. Outram.

Camp, Alum Bagh, near Lucknow, the 8th January 1858.

SIR,—The publication of Major-General Sir James Outram's Despatches having brought to light the accidental omission of any detailed report from the Artillery Brigade under my orders, I gladly avail myself of his kind permission to fill up the blank, which I do the more readily since it affords me a fitting opportunity of placing on record publicly my own professional testimony of the signal services rendered by those whom it was my good fortune to Command during the recent operations at Lucknow.

2. On the lamented death of Brigadier Cooper on the 26th September I succeeded to the Command of the Brigade, and during my subsequent severe illness my place was temporarily filled by Captain Olpherts.

3. Owing partly to these changes, and partly to the constant occupation which the daily exigencies of the service demanded from Officers and Men in the Artillery, written Reports were not expected, and hence it may have heretofore escaped mention that, for two special acts of gallantry on the 25th September, both Captain Maude, R. A., and Captain Olpherts, B. A., Commanding Field Batteries, were rewarded by the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., with the much coveted distinction of the Victoria Cross.

4. I hope I shall be pardoned for this passing allusion to a fact so gratifying to the pride of the combined Artillery arms of England and India, which, in this campaign, have for the first time encountered the Enemies of their common country side by side in friendly emulation.

5. Never, I firmly believe, were Field Batteries exposed to a severer trial than that which attended the penetration of Lucknow on that memorable day! On Captain Maude, who was in advance, devolved the difficult task of silencing the Enemy's Guns which defended the bridge leading to the City. This he accomplished under a murderous cross fire of grape and musketry, with a loss of one-third of his men; and it was for his nerve and coolness on this occasion, (but for which the Army could not have advanced) that Major-General Sir James Outram, who was an eye-witness of his conduct, recommended him for the high distinction above recorded.

6. Captain Olpherts was almost simultaneously earning similar laurels by the conspicuous gallantry with which he assisted H. M.'s 90th Light Infantry, led by the lamented Colonel Campbell, in the capture of two Guns on our right, under a heavy fire of grape; carrying them off in triumph, attached to his spare limbers, through a most galling cross fire of musketry from the loopholes of neighbouring houses and walled gardens.

7. To narrate our whole proceedings on that day would involve too lengthily details, suffice it therefore to say that, after crossing the bridge, we met no serious obstacle until coming under the fire of grape and musketry from the King's Palace and the adjacent buildings on our left, and of round shot and shell from the Guns across the river on our right.

8. As our Force pushed on towards where the beleaguered Garrison of Lucknow were anxiously expecting deliverance, each battery in turn unlimbered on the road, to silence, if possible, the Enemy's Guns, and thus protect the advance of the main column. While thus engaged, the Gunners stood firm and undaunted like so many targets for the Enemy's concealed sharpshooters and grape shot, which latter ploughed up the ground on all sides, committing fearful havoc, as our list of casualties sufficiently testifies.

9. It was late at night ere the entire main body got out of fire; but two heavy Guns, under Lieutenant J. M. Fraser, together with some thirty ammunition and store carts, having remained at the Motee Munzil, with a party of H. M.'s 90th, under Colonel Campbell, to protect the rear guard and wounded, were unable to accomplish a junction with the main body until the morning of the 27th. The position of the 24-Pounder Gun was one of great peril, from which it was with difficulty extricated, chiefly through the able and energetic measures of Captain Olpherts, who had been sent back to render assistance, as very fully described and acknowledged by Colonel Napier in that Officer's Report, already published.

10. It was here that those brave and lamented Officers, Brigadier Cooper, B. A., and Captain Crump, M. A., his Brigade Major, fell victims to their noble zeal. Here also it was that Private Duffy, of the 1st Madras Fusiliers, a Volunteer with the Artillery, earned the Victoria Cross by his cool intrepidity and daring skill in assisting to extricate one of the Guns from its desperate position. Colonel Napier also speaks in high terms of Lieutenant Fraser's exertions on this occasion.

11. On succeeding to the Command of the Brigade, I appointed Lieutenant Fraser my Brigade Major, and found him most efficient, in fact I cannot speak too warmly of his soldierly zeal and devotion, which, thenceforward down to the present time, I have had constant opportunities of witnessing, and I regard him as a young Officer of the highest promise.

12. Being myself prostrated by fever for several weeks after our relief of the Lucknow Garrison, the temporary Command of the Artillery was most effectively exercised by Captain

Olpherts, whose well-tryed abilities always prove equal to every emergency. During the interval of seven weeks that elapsed until the happy arrival of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief's Force, the Artillery was chiefly occupied in defensive warfare against foes whose numerical strength and advantages of position enable them to surround and worry us at every point.

13. Owing to the paucity of our numbers from casualties and the great extent of our position, this involved a very great amount of labour for the Artillery, who were on continuous duty at their Guns without any relief, besides working hard in the construction of fresh batteries whenever required. Under all their fatigues, privations and dangers, the best spirit prevailed from first to last among the men, who considered no sacrifices, too great for the accomplishment of the noble end in view, viz., the deliverance of their country women and wounded comrades from the worst of fates.

14. It is satisfactory too to be able to state that the Native Establishments attached to Field Batteries, consisting of Gun Lascars, Horse and Bullock-drivers, Syces and Grass-cutters, behaved most loyally, though suffering as severely as any of the Troops in killed and wounded, yet none deserted! Sirdar Driver Gungoo, and Naik Darsun, of the Syce Drivers (killed by a round shot), both of No. 12 Light Field Battery, were particularly noted for their loyal devotion.

15. On the 16th November the near approach of the Commander-in-Chief's Force was the signal for renewed offensive operations on our side. These have been already alluded to in the late Sir H. Havelock's Despatch of that date. Our object was to drive the Enemy from certain strong positions which he occupied between us and the advancing columns, and in this we entirely succeeded, thereby greatly facilitating the junction of the two Forces, and saving the valuable lives of our Soldiers.

16. The batteries, which had been for some time previously constructed for this purpose, were concealed behind a lofty wall forming the boundary of our position in that quarter. On them were mounted four 18-Pounder Iron Guns, one 8-Inch Iron Howitzer, four 9-Pounder Field Guns, and two 24-Pounder Field Howitzers, under the skilful direction of Captain Olpherts, Lieutenants Fraser and Smithett (the latter twice wounded and distinguished on several occasions,) and Staff Serjeant Melville, of the 1st Company 5th Battalion. In position behind were six 8-Inch Mortars under Captain Maude, R. A., most ably assisted by Lieutenants Maitland, R. A., and Simpson and Ward, of the B. N. I., the two latter being Volunteers well instructed in Artillery Science.

17. At the appointed time large openings were effected by the united force of mines and breaches in the screen wall in our front, and the batteries opened an excessively hot fire for three hours on the buildings beyond, which were occupied in considerable force by the Enemy. Sufficient impression having been thus made, and mines having been exploded by the Engineers in several contiguous quarters, storming parties rushed out at 3 p. m., and quickly carried all before them with trifling loss.

18. During the night the Artillery pushed forward their heavy Guns to the advanced positions thus gained, when some batteries were rapidly constructed from which to open on the King's Palace, now within easy breaching distance. On the 17th our 8-Inch Howitzer shelled the Tara Kotee and Mess House with great effect, setting fire to the former and materially assisting the attack of the advancing force on the opposite side, although perhaps unknown to them, as it must have been difficult for them to distinguish our distant fire from that of the Enemy.

19. On the 18th a junction having been effected between the two Forces on the previous night, a joint bombardment took place of the King's Palace, in the outer wall of which several large breaches were rapidly effected, and great havoc made in the principal buildings behind it. This was continued at intervals, on the two following days, with great loss of life to the Enemy crowding within, as was subsequently ascertained, and there can be little doubt that had it suited our plan of operations, we might have at once walked into the place and occupied the Palace with comparatively little loss. But the great object we had in view having been triumphantly accomplished in the safe rescue of the sick, wounded and women from their recent perils, any longer delay at Lucknow was considered inexpedient until they should be safely conducted beyond the reach of their merciless foes: and on the night of the 22d we effected our final evacuation of the entrenchment.

20. Measures had been previously adopted for the removal or destruction of all our spare Ordnance, Ammunition and Military Stores. This entailed an ordinary amount of labour and physical endurance on the part of those to whose lot it fell to convey so many ponderous carriages by manual force through the narrow and intricate mazes of the Chuttur Munzil and Fardut Bux Palaces—a duty in which the Artillery were cheerfully aided by their Infantry comrades, who on all occasions have volunteered their services, both for ordinary labour and also for the higher obligations of manning the Guns when circumstances required.

21. Our hearty acknowledgments are also due to our scientific brethren of the Engineers, for their cordial and effective co-operation, to which we are no doubt indebted greatly for whatever success has attended our efforts.

22. Lieutenant Thomas, Madras Artillery, Commissary of Ordnance, I always found indefatigable in his duties, which were latterly very severe, as on him devolved the laborious preparations for removing our Magazine, and destroying such Guns and Military Stores as we were unable to carry away. With a very small Establishment he effected all this as satisfactorily as could be expected. Lieutenant J. Alexander, Artillery, of the Lucknow Garrison, also worked zealously with the Guns in position, and deserves creditable mention.

23. Before concluding this Report, I wish to record the excellent services rendered to the Artillery by Captain Evans, of the Bombay Infantry, who Commanded with great credit several Guns in position in the entrenchment, and whose zeal and devotion were conspicuous. Also those of Lieutenant Ouseley, of the B. N. I., who likewise attached himself to the Guns and rendered himself extremely useful.

24. Surgeon Irvine and Assistant Surgeon J. J. Clerke are also particularly deserving of mention for praiseworthy zeal in the discharge of their professional duties.

25. Lieutenant Delifosse, Artillery, one of the few survivors of the Cawnpore massacre, was attached as a Volunteer to Captain Olpherts' Battery, and behaved with great gallantry on the 25th September as well as in the previous engagements at Mungulwar and Alum Bagh. I regret to add that the privations and trials he thus for a second time endured in a beleaguered Garrison at length broke down his enfeebled frame, and obliged him to proceed with the sick to Cawnpore.

26. Among the Non-Commissioned Officers whose conduct most commended itself to notice were Serjeant Major Bird and Staff Serjeant Roddy, of the 2d Company 3d Battalion, and Staff Serjeant Melville, of the 1st Company 5th Battalion. The latter had twice distinguished himself before in Arrah. I beg most earnestly to recommend them to the consideration of superior authority.

27. Serjeant Major Lamont, of the Royal Artillery, fell gloriously at his Gun on the 25th of September, deeply lamented by the whole Artillery Brigade. He was a first-rate and most gallant Soldier, and must have attained honor and distinction had he survived.

28. Lieutenant D. Gordon, who had assisted me most zealously in working the heavy Guns in the actions of Mungulwar and Alum Bagh, was left behind at the latter place in Command of a portion of the heavy battery, as also Lieutenant G. M. Clerk, with two 9-Pounder Field Guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery, and I understood they were unable to render material assistance in the defence of that important position.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

VINCENT EYRE, Major, Comdg. Arty. Brigade, Oude Force.

P. S.—The last sentence had scarcely been penned when I was startled by the announcement that poor Lieutenant D. Gordon has been just killed in the Alum Bagh by a round shot. I deeply regret the loss of this most amiable and excellent young Officer.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

4TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 3D MARCH 1858.

No. 83 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 18TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 291 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report, descriptive of the operations of the left Column of the Force under Command of Brigadier General Franks, C. B., in an Action with the Insurgents at Nusrutpore, in the Allahabad District, on the 23rd January 1858.

His Honor in Council tenders his thanks to Brigadier General Franks, C. B., to Colonel Ingram, H. M.'s 97th Regiment, Commanding the left Column of the Field Force, and to the Officers named by them; to Lieut.-Colonel Indra Singh, Commanding the Nepalese Troops, and also to the whole Force, Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men, engaged on this occasion :—

No. 51 A.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters, Camp Arrowl, the 2nd February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, a Report, dated the 25th ultimo, from Brigadier General T. H. Franks, C. B., Commanding the Juanpore Field Force, of a successful Action fought with the Insurgents on the 23rd idem, by the Troops under his personal Command.

2. His Excellency desires to express his approbation of the manner in which the operation detailed was directed by the Brigadier General, and of the conduct of the Force, including the Goorkha Troops engaged.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

No. 66.

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF, Army Head Quarters, Futtygurh.

Camp near Secundra, the 25th January 1858.

SIR,—As you have already been informed by my telegraphic message of this date, the three Columns of this Field Force, previously posted respectively at Mahowl, Eelkuchlee, and Badshapore, made a concerted movement twelve miles to their left, the right and centre Columns on the 19th instant, and the left Column on the 21st.

2. This brought the latter, under Colonel Ingram, 97th Regiment, and of the strength noted marginally, to Secundra.

With six Field Guns.

3. The Nazim, who had been appointed Governor of the District by the Rebel Government of Lucknow, has held possession of it for the last seven months, and has had his out-posts at Capamow, within four miles of Allahabad.

4. The position of Nusrutpore, situated two and a half miles North-west of Secundra, is one of the strongest and most difficult of approach I have ever seen. A dense jungle, through which runs a chain of hillocks, extends a mile and a half North-east and South-west. At its North-western extremity is the stronghold of Beni Bahadoor Singh, a two-storied country house of solid masonry, surrounding which an extensive bastioned entrenchment had been thrown up, and a deep ditch cut. The entrance were all barricaded and covered by abatis.

Here, on the afternoon of that day, I learnt that the Nazim Fuzil Azeem, with 8,000 men and 14 Guns, was still at Soraou, seven miles distant from my Camp in a Westerly direction, while 200 matchlock-men were at Nusrutpore, the residence of Beni Bahadoor Singh, one of the most influential Telooqdars of this District, who has been most active in raising the population of this neighbourhood against our Government.

5. During the night of the 21st, and early morning of the 22d, the Nazim, dreading to await our approaching reinforcement of Cavalry in the more open neighbourhood of Soraou, moved by his left and occupied this position; and so confident was he of his impregnability, that he announced the completion of this movement by a salute of seven Guns as a challenge to our Force.

6. But he was not destined long to enjoy his fancied security. I was compelled to defer the combat during the whole of the 22d (though my baggage having been previously thrown into an entrenched enclosure, with a suitable Guard, under Captain Matheson, 13th Irregular Cavalry, my Force was in readiness for an immediate advance), for I was momentarily expecting the arrival of the promised reinforcement of two Squadrons of the 2d Dragoon Guards and 4 Horse Artillery Guns from Allahabad.

8. My Cavalry Patrols soon ascertained that Soraou was evacuated, and being thus convinced that the Enemy was concentrated at Nusrutpore, I changed direction and approached that position.

9. The Infantry moved in quarter distance Columns at deploying distance; Her Majesty's 97th Regiment in the centre, the Shere Regiment of Goorkhas on the left, the Burrui Bahadoor Battalion on the right, covered by the Horse Artillery Guns under Colonel D'Aguilar, C. B., disposed two on each flank, and by two Guns of No. 2 Madras Light Field Battery under Major Cotter, and three 9-Pounders, Commanded by Captain Thring, R. A., in the centre—the whole supported by 100 selected marksmen of the 97th, under Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Burton. The two Squadrons of the Bays protected our flanks, moving in rear of them out of reach of fire.

10. The close nature of the country every where, covered with high crops and thick tops of trees, rendered it necessary to move with caution.

11. The advanced posts of the Enemy, fearing to be intercepted, abandoned at our approach the Indigo Factory of Kapoorie, half a mile in front of the main position, in which they had originally placed two guns, and which, if obstinately defended, would have much opposed our advance. This was seized by our skirmishers with a rush.

12. As we passed the Factory, the line was deployed, the Guns advanced at a gallop, and taking post within 600 yards of the Enemy, opened on the fortified house and its vicinity a concentrated fire, which soon caused him to abandon the whole front, and withdraw his Artillery further into the jungle, where his fire gradually slackened, and it became apparent that he was about to relinquish the position.

13. On this I directed one Squadron of the Bays, with two Horse Artillery Guns under Colonel D'Aguilar, to sweep round and threaten the Enemy's right, while the other Squadron, Commanded by Major Smith, 2d Dragoon Guards, with the two remaining light Guns under Major Yates, R. A., made a flank movement to the right, and watched his left.

16. Meanwhile the left Squadron and Guns, under Colonel D'Aguilar, skirting the right of the jungle, entered and captured the Enemy's Camp, from which he retired precipitately abandoning Gun in his flight.

17. The Infantry, supported by the 9-Pounder Battery, moving steadily round the Enemy's left rear, came eventually on his line of retreat; but so rapid was his flight, that he was enabled to withdraw nearly all his Guns, and the skirmishers alone were able to close with the rear of the fugitives, of whom they shot and bayoneted great numbers.

18. By this time the Cavalry and Horse Artillery Guns from both flanks having united, were ready to continue the pursuit, but so much had the difficult nature of the ground, every where intersected by ravines and the density of the jungles, impeded their movements, that darkness closed in before this junction was effected.

19. But the great result had been gained of the complete dislodgment of the Enemy from this strong position, with the loss of nearly 500 men in killed and wounded, while two Guns, much ammunition, and the whole of his Camp and Camp Equipage, fell into our hands. Our loss only amounted to 6 men wounded, 3 horses killed, and 4 wounded.

20. I have to record my obligations to Colonel Ingram, 97th Regiment, who Commanded the left Column of the Field Force engaged in this Action, and carried out any suggestions which I made to him in a manner which left nothing to be desired; to the Officer attached to him, Lieutenant S. Cary, 37th Regiment N. I., Staff Officer of the Column, and Lieutenant R. T. F. Hamilton, 97th Regiment, acting as his Orderly Officer.

21. Also to Lieutenant-Colonel Indra Singh, Commanding the Nepalese Troops, and Majors Chumpa Singh and Bheer Bickram, Commanding respectively the Burrui Bahadoor and Shere Goorkha Battalions. The steadiness under fire, cheerful alacrity, and great intelligence of our Allies, excited my warmest admiration, and I have had much pleasure in communicating to His Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor the high opinion I entertain of those Regiments. The Officers attached to these Troops, Captain Miles, 23rd Regiment Native Infantry, in Military charge; Lieutenant Gully, 31st Native Infantry, acting with the left Battalion of Goorkhas, and Lieutenant Garden, have earned my best thanks. To the precision and rapidity of the fire of the Guns, both of Royal Horse, Madras, and Royal Foot Artillery, and that of the piece served by Goorkha Gunners, is to be attributed the rapid ejection of the Enemy from his strongly entrenched and nearly unapproachable position; and I beg to offer my acknowledgments to Lieutenant-Colonel D'Aguilar, C. B., R. H. A., Commanding the whole; to Major Cotter, Madras Artillery, whose Guns were manoeuvred and served in a manner that calls for my special notice; and to Captain Thring, R. A., in charge of three 9-Pounders. Major Smith, Commanding the two Squadrons 2d Dragoon Guards, and Lieutenant-Colonel Legh, Commanding 97th Regiment, acquitted themselves to my entire satisfaction.

The perfect steadiness under fire of the Bays was most remarkable in such young Soldiers, and the destructive fire of the Rifle skirmishers of the 97th Regiment reflected the greatest credit on the attention which has been paid to their instruction.

22. Mr. Mayne, Joint Magistrate of Gopeegunge, Messrs. Jenkinson and Elliott, Civil Service, and Mr. Carnegie, Head of the Intelligence Department, afforded me the most important information (of which the result proved the perfect accuracy) regarding the Enemy's position. They assisted in carrying my orders, and in every respect rendered me great assistance.

The two latter accompanied the right Squadron of Bays in their charge.

23. The Officers of my Personal Staff, Captain Havelock, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General (who, guided by Messrs. Mayne, Jenkinson and Elliott, reconnoitered the Enemy's position); Lieutenant J. Wall, 87th Fusiliers, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Henderson, 10th Foot, A. D. C.; and Lieutenant Innes, Field Engineer, gave me every aid in their respective positions.

24. Yesterday I moved to Soraou, which was found completely deserted by the Enemy, who have retired across the Oude Frontier, entirely evacuating the Allahabad District, this part of which they have so long infested with impunity.

25. The Enemy's Camp at Nusrutpore was burnt, with the exception of the Nazim's Durbar Tent, which has been sent in to Allahabad, and Beni Bahadoor Singh's stronghold has been destroyed.

26. The Civil Authority has been re-established at Soraou, and I have requested that it may be occupied by a Detachment of Sikhs from Allahabad.

27. To-morrow the left Column will move to Badshapore, and by the 30th Instant I hope to have three Columns of this Field Force (strength as per margin) united at Budlapore, awaiting His Excellency's further instructions, and in every respect prepared for further offensive operations.

Effectives.

No. 310 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report of an attack made by a party of the 1st Sikh Irregular Cavalry upon a party of Insurgents near the village of Secunderpore, in Oude :—
To THE MAJOR OF BRIGADE, CAWNPORE.

Camp Cawnpore, 26th January 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier Commanding at Cawnpore, that, in accordance with my instructions, I started yesterday evening for the village of Secunderpore, with 100 (one hundred) men. On arrival at that place, I found that the Rebels had retired to a Garden about three miles off, where they were encamped to the number of about 300 (three hundred). As I received information there, that the party from Oonow was on its way back to that place, I at once pushed on, taking with me 100 (one hundred) matchlock-men. We took the Rebels by surprise and succeeded in cutting up about 40 (forty), the rest making their escape in the high cultivation.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, FORT ST. GEORGE, 1st March 1858.

The following General Orders issued by His Excellency the Commander in Chief of India, are published for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 12th February 1858.

At a General Court Martial assembled at Cawnpore, on Friday the 18th day of December 1857, Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, was arraigned on the following Charges:—

1st.—That the said Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, grossly neglected his duty and disobeyed orders, in having, at Cawnpore, on or about the 8th December 1857, failed to afford medical aid to the sick and wounded Sikh Soldiers placed under his charge; in consequence of which neglect and disobedience, the aforesaid sick and wounded Soldiers remained for about twenty-four hours without proper medical assistance: such conduct being to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline, and highly unbecoming a Medical Officer.

2d.—That the said Assistant Surgeon Robertson, at Cawnpore, on the morning of the 9th December 1857, disobeyed the repeated orders of the Field Surgeon Diaper, of the Cawnpore field force, his superior Officer, to go then and there and attend upon the sick and wounded Sikh Soldiers placed under his charge, and disrespectfully said, when Field Surgeon Diaper threatened to report him to Army Head Quarters,—“I don't care a snuff”—or words to that effect; such conduct being highly insubordinate, and unbecoming a Medical Officer.

Finding—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence adduced, both on part of the prosecution and defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner, Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, is, not Guilty of the 1st Charge, and do therefore acquit him of the same; Guilty of the Second Charge; with the exception of the words “disobeyed the repeated orders of Field Surgeon Diaper, of the Cawnpore field force, his superior Officer,” of which it does acquit him.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner, Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, Guilty to the extent above stated, does sentence him, the said Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, to be severely reprimanded.

Revised Finding.—The Court having reconsidered the whole of the evidence before it, begs most respectfully to adhere to its former finding on both Charges.

REMARKS BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

The Commander in Chief is unable to accord his approval to the finding on the Second Charge, the evidence on which, in His Excellency's opinion, was quite sufficient for conviction; and in promulgating this decision, His Excellency cannot avoid remarking that it will be impossible for him to maintain the discipline of this Army, if Officers will not assist in upholding his endeavours to check and punish known misconduct.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

10TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 9TH MARCH 1858.

No. 86 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Camp Allahabad, the 12th February 1858.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to publish for general information, the following Despatch from Lieutenant Colonel P. V. Maxwell, C. B., 88th Regiment, dated 4th February 1858.

FROM LIEUTENANT COLONEL P. V. MAXWELL, C. B., 88th Regiment, Commanding Detachment.

TO BRIGADIER J. E. W. INGLIS, Commanding at Cawnpore.

Camp Bhogneepore, 4th February 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to report that the Enemy from Calpee attacked our position at 5 o'clock this morning. From the nature of the ground, which is much broken, and from the cover afforded by the Crops which are high, it is impossible to compute their numbers; but from the extent of ground which they occupied, they must have been in considerable force.

I advanced with 5 Companies of the 88th Regiment, 2 Guns of Royal Artillery (9-Pounders) under Captain Talbot, and 50 Sowars under Lieutenant Thompson. We defeated the Enemy, and had a running fight of four hours. They disputed every inch of the ground, making a stand at Chowra, a village three miles from this place. We pursued them as long as possible, and they retreated across the river, keeping up the fire of their skirmishers to the very last.

I am happy to say my casualties are but few. Lieutenant Thompson, Commanding the Sowars, was severely wounded in the leg, and his horse was twice wounded; 3 Sowars are wounded (slightly), 1 Private, 88th Regiment, dangerously wounded; 1 Private 88th Regiment, slightly wounded.

About 80 dead bodies of the Enemy were counted by my Officers,—all Sepoys.

Where all behaved well it is difficult to particularise; but I think it due to Major the Hon'ble J. J. Bourke, to bear testimony to the gallant and able manner in which he led on the skirmishers, and drove the Enemy out of the village of Chowra.

Forwarded by order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

Head Quarters; Camp Cawnpore, the 8th February 1858.

To Colonel R. J. H. BIRCH, C. B., Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mily. Dept., Allahabad.

Camp Allahabad, 15th February 1858.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great satisfaction in publishing for general information, the subjoined Despatch from the Governor General's Agent in Central India, dated the 3d Instant, reporting the relief of the Fortress of Saugor by the Force under the Command of Major General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B.

The Governor General desires to record publicly his acknowledgment of the courage and constancy with which Brigadier Sage has, with a small and inadequate Garrison, held the Fort of Saugor during upwards of seven months under trying circumstances; and of the bravery and exemplary endurance with which the Brigadier has been, throughout that period, so well supported by the Officers and Men of the 1st Company, 3d Battalion of Artillery, by those of the 31st Regiment N. I., by the Officers and some of the Men of the 42nd Regiment N. I., and the 3d Irregular Cavalry, as well as by the Officers of the several Departments of the Staff and the Civil Establishments.

No. 36 of 1858.

FROM SIR ROBERT HAMILTON, *Baronet, Agent to the G. G. for Central India.*To G. F. EDMONSTONE, Esq., *Secy. to the Govt. of India,*FORT WILLIAM, INDORE RESIDENCY, Camp Saugor, 3rd February 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE much satisfaction in reporting, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, that the second Division of the Central India Force, under the Command of Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B., relieved Saugor this morning, emancipated the Officers and Men with their families, who had for seven months been confined to the Fort, and enabled them to return and occupy their barracks and residences in the Cantonments.

2. I have the honor to annex a list of European British subjects in, and not in, the Government Service, who have thus been relieved from all peril after an anxious and trying confinement in a Fort, during the most inclement months of the year,* little adapted for the residence of Europeans, without much more than bare necessities, and deprived of the ordinary conveniences and comforts which are absolutely necessary in this country.

* 29th June 1857 to 3rd February 1858.

3. The mortality during this period has amounted to twenty-two: of these some were from cholera and small pox—which terrible diseases broke out in the Fort.

4. As we approached the Town, I may say the whole native population, in addition to the Europeans (Ladies and all), came out to welcome the Column, whose arrival spread the greatest joy and confidence amongst all classes.

5. On its march from Raatghur no opposition was encountered; but on the 31st Ultimo, information was brought to me that the Rebels had collected in some force beyond Jilla, about twelve miles from our Camp at Raatghur towards Korye. I immediately communicated the same to Sir Hugh Rose, who at once arranged to attack them. The result was very successful: the Rebels were driven with much loss from their strong position in the village of Burodia, and for some distance across the river; and they evacuated Korye (which has been occupied by some of the Regent of Bhopal's Troops) as well as Nuriaoli and Bhoplye, two positions from whence they had threatened and molested Saugor, stopping all communication by the direct road vid Bhopal and Sehore to Indore and Mhow.

6. I trust I may be permitted to offer my congratulations to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, on this relief of the last remaining station wherein our countrywomen and so many children had been beleaguered. The Officers of the Native Corps, the Civil Establishments, and the Europeans of the Company of Artillery who have so long held the Fort of Saugor, have well performed their duty, and their conduct will, I am sure, receive the approbation of His Lordship in Council. Cut off from all communication, and with the knowledge that succour could not be sent them for many weeks, they have nobly maintained the character of their country, and added another to the many instances of devotion and firmness which the Sepoy mutinies have elicited.

7. I have appended a Nominal Roll of the Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the 1st Company, 3rd Battalion, of Bengal Artillery, who were in the Fort of Saugor.

8. Brigadier Sage resigned the Command yesterday before our arrival, Brigadier Wheler having taken the Command of the Division. He is expected here in a couple of days.

I have, &c.,

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 22d February 1858.

No. 315 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council directs the publication of the following Report of the operations of the Cavalry Brigade under Brigadier, now Brigadier General, Hope Grant, C. B. :—

To MAJOR H. W. NORMAN, Asst. Adjt. General of the Army, Head Quarters.

Camp, Futtyghur, 10th January 1858.

SIR,—In compliance with the orders received from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, through you, I have the honor to forward a Report of the operations of the Cavalry Brigade at Delhi, in pursuit of the Mutineers down the Doab, and up to the time His Excellency joined the Force on the other side of the Ganges, on the way to Lucknow.

When this serious disturbance broke out H. M.'s 9th Lancers and two Troops of Horse Artillery constituted the European portion of the Force at Umballa, the remainder consisting of the 4th Light Cavalry (Lancers), the 5th, and 60th Regiments N. I.

Shortly after the news of the proceedings at Meerut and Delhi reached the Station, symptoms of disaffection on the part of these two Native Infantry Regiments became apparent: doubts also were entertained regarding the spirit of the Native Cavalry, and it behoved that the greatest watchfulness should be maintained by the European Troops, in expectation of an outbreak. They were, therefore, constantly, day and night, under arms, and at all times ready for immediate action, had such been necessary; indeed, on Sunday the 10th May and on two or three other occasions, these Troops actually were in saddle.

The probability of any movement of these Native Troops were off as portions of the European Infantry Regiments in the Hill Stations moved down to Umballa. By the end of the month of May a small compact Column had been assembled, and H. M.'s 9th Lancers formed the Cavalry of this Force. The 4th Light Cavalry (Lancers) were detached on duty to Saharunpore and other places in the vicinity of Umballa, except the Head Quarters and one Squadron, which accompanied the Force as far, towards Delhi, as Allipore, whence it proceeded to Meerut via Baghput.

At Allipore, early in June, this Force, Commanded by Major-General Sir H. Barnard, K. C. B., was joined by that from Meerut, under Brigadier A. Wilson, and two Squadrons of the 6th Dragoon Guards, Carabineers, under Lieutenant-Colonel Custance, were added to the Cavalry.

These Squadrons had already, on the banks of the Hindun, had the opportunity, twice, of meeting the Mutineers, and had, under their able Commander, rendered essential service on each occasion.

The Rebels and Mutineers, having taken up a strong position, defended by Artillery, at a place named Badul-ke-Serai, about five miles from Delhi, the Force moved to its attack on the morning of the 8th June. Three Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, Commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Yule, and two Troops of Horse Artillery were detached very early in the morning by the bank of the Canal to turn the Enemy's left. These Troops attained their point shortly after the attack commenced in front, and were soon in action. Two Squadrons and a portion of the Horse Artillery were very gallantly and successfully led by Lieutenant-Colonel Yule. The Cavalry charged the Rebels and rode through them. Lieutenant Jones, of the 9th Lancers, with his Squadron, captured one of their Guns, killing the Drivers, and, with Lieutenant-Colonel Yule's assistance, turned it upon a village occupied by the Rebels, who were quickly dislodged. This was a well-conceived act gallantly executed. The remainder of the Horse Artillery, for a short period got into very difficult ground, from which they took time to extricate themselves. The other Squadron of the 9th Lancers was left for their protection.

The Squadrons of the Carabineers and 4th Squadron of the 9th Lancers were with the main body of our Troops, and did good service. The Carabineers, from the right of our line, drove the Rebels after they had broken across the Canal. The Rebels having been driven out of Badul-ka-Serai, a hot pursuit, towards Delhi, was taken up but chiefly by the Infantry and Horse Artillery as the ground on each side the road was covered by houses and enclosures.

The operations of the day terminated by the firm possession, by the British Troops, of the heights before Delhi.

From this period, during all the Siege, nearly the whole of the outpost duties fell to the lot of the Cavalry. This duty was a very arduous one. The Rebels were constantly threatening our right flank in particular, and our rear, so that both by day and night the Cavalry were liable to be and were frequently turned out, and were necessarily held always in readiness.

On the 12th June the Guide Corps joined the Camp,—a very fine body, numbering about 260 men of Irregular Cavalry, Commanded by Captain Daly. This Corps had already achieved a high renown by its excellent service in the Punjab; and had, soon after reaching Delhi, an opportunity of displaying its excellent qualities, as on the 19th a very serious attack was made on our rear, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, by a strong Force of the Rebels with a numerous Artillery, who had posted their main body in a village beyond the Ochterlony Garden. Immediately on the commencement of the attack I moved out with the Cavalry and a portion of the Artillery; parties of whom acting on either flank of the garden named, drove the Enemy's Skirmishers back upon their position, and held them in check until the rest of the Artillery and the whole of the available portion of our small Force of Infantry could come up.

The ground was very disadvantageous for Cavalry, being much intersected by walls of gardens, &c.; but two Squadrons of the gallant 9th Lancers and the Guide Cavalry on our left, delivered a most successful charge, right at the Enemy, and drove them back completely. In this charge, I grieve to say, the 9th Lancers lost their gallant leader, Lieutenant-Colonel Yule, who was killed;—an excellent Officer, full of military ardour and zeal. The Regiment has to mourn in him the loss of one of its very bravest and most efficient Officers. Captain Daly also, leading his Guides, was severely wounded by a musket shot which, for the rest of the Siege, deprived the Corps and the Service at large of a most energetic, experienced Officer.

Ere the above was accomplished, evening had closed in, and soon it became too dark to distinguish friend from foe. The Enemy retired to their village, leaving a Gun and limber with its ammunition carriage on the ground. These were brought into our Camp on the following morning.

In my Despatch reporting this action, I had the sincere gratification of naming two Privates of the 9th Lancers, who had displayed signal gallantry in the fight,—Privates Thomas Hancock, who lost an arm on the occasion, and John Purcell, who had his horse shot under him, and was, I regret to say, afterwards killed at the assault of Delhi. Sir Henry Barnard was pleased to recommend that the Victoria Cross should be conferred on both. A Private Sowar also, named Rooper Khan, of the 4th Irregular Cavalry, my Orderly at the time, displayed great bravery and devotion in offering me his horse when my own had been killed under me and was chiefly instrumental in aiding my escape from the midst of the Enemy. I am happy in being able to record his promotion to Duffadar, and his admission to the Order of Merit in reward of such excellent conduct.

About this period other Regiments joined the Cavalry Force; portions of the 1st, 2nd and 5th Regiments of Punjab Cavalry, and Hodson's Horse. The latter consisted entirely of new Levies; but have since greatly improved and become useful Troops. The Squadron Commanded by Lieutenant Gough has, under my own observation, performed very valuable service, and their gallantry has been conspicuously noticed in a Despatch of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. The Punjab Corps, under their distinguished leaders, Lieutenant Watson, Lieutenant Nicolson afterwards, and at the present time Captain Probyn and Lieutenant Younghusband, have proved themselves admirable Soldiers. Confident in their Officers and assured of victory, these Troops have never hesitated to attack the Hindustani Horsemen in any odds, and have invariably forced them to give way.

On the 9th July a party of the 9th Irregular Cavalry, whose conduct I had been for some time doubtful of, proved themselves false to their oath of allegiance, and a Picquet on duty on the right flank of the Camp admitted a Force of the Enemy's Cavalry within their post. These Horsemen entered the Camp, fought desperately, and tried to take away a Battery of Guns. They also rode up to a Picquet where we had two heavy Guns placed in position, intending to spike them; but they were gallantly withstood by a party of the 9th Lancers under Command of Lieutenant Martin, who prevented the attack being made. I beg to be allowed to copy part of a letter written to me by Captain Light, of the Bengal Artillery, the Officer in Command of the Picquet:—

"I believe that to the prompt manner in which Lieutenant Martin got his party under arms, and the bold way in which he placed them between the Enemy and the rear of my Battery, both myself and the party of Artillery under my Command are indebted for escaping from an attack which must have been disastrous."

The Cavalry were frequently employed during the Siege of Delhi in escort and patrolling duties, occasionally making distant reconnaissances; and in the month of August Lieutenant Hodson, with 200 of his own men and a Squadron of Guide Cavalry, proceeded to Rohituck, where he fell in with a party of the Rebels and discomfited them, killing several; on one occasion, a Ressaldar and 25 men of Irregular Cavalry whom he had surprised. Lieutenant Hodson displayed great intelligence and alacrity in this duty, extricating himself from more than one perilous position, and on his return to Camp was able to give valuable information of the state of the Districts he had passed through.

The Cavalry were also able to afford assistance to the Artillery in the trenches, in consequence of numerous casualties and sickness having reduced their numbers and rendered the duties very severe. I was requested by Major-General Wilson, at this time in Command, to furnish men from the Carabineers and 9th Lancers, and I ordered 10 of the former and 60 of the latter daily, under Lieutenants Blair and Evans, of the 9th Lancers, who volunteered their services on this duty. Nothing could be better or more praiseworthy than the way in which the men of these two Regiments vied with each other day and night in the performance of this severe work, and I beg to be allowed to record here extracts from the Despatches of Major-General A. Wilson, Commanding the Force, and of Major Brind, of the Artillery who Commanded in the Batteries and witnessed their conduct:—

"I should neither be fulfilling the repeatedly expressed wishes of the Artillery Officers attached to this Force, nor following the dictates of my own inclination, if I failed to acknowledge the valuable assistance which has, throughout the operations before Delhi, been most cheerfully given by the Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of H. M.'s 9th Lancers and the 6th Dragoon Guards in working the Batteries. Without it, owing to the comparatively small number of Artillerymen, I should have been quite unable to man the Batteries efficiently, or keep up the heavy fire which, aided by these men, I have happily been able to do."

(Signed) A. WILSON, Major-General, Commanding Delhi Field Force."

"In expressing the high satisfaction I experienced in observing the zealous performance of duty on the part of the Foot Artillery with the Army of Delhi, I consider it incumbent on me to bring to the special notice of Major-General A. Wilson, the Officers and Men of the 9th Lancers, who were employed in the Batteries as Artillery-men under my Command and observation; Lieutenants Evans and Blair are deserving of honorable mention for the zealous and cheerful performance of their duties."

"The coolness and bravery of Officers and Men in situations of extreme danger, whilst engaged in a novel duty, called forth the admiration of all who witnessed it, and especially of those who had the satisfaction of serving with them."

(Signed) T. BRIND, Major, Comdg. Foot Arty. & No. 1 Battery."

At 2 o'clock, on the morning of the day of assault, all the Artillerymen, with the exception of two Sergeants, had been withdrawn for other duties, and the Guns in the 24-Pounder Breaching Battery were manned by 30 men of the 9th Royal Lancers. Their services were acknowledged by the Assistant Adjutant General of Artillery in the following letter to myself, a part of which I have the honor to copy:—

"Taking advantage of the darkness, the Enemy had during the night crowned the breach in the Cashmere Curtain with gabions and fascines, which we discovered at daybreak, and as they would have presented a very serious obstacle to our assaulting parties, it was absolutely necessary to clear them away before the attack took place."

"Through the zeal, and intelligence of your men, who worked like trained Artillerymen, I was enabled to accomplish this with perfect success, and Sir Archdale Wilson personally thanked them when he came down to the Battery for the very admirable services they had performed."

(Signed) G. B. JOHNSON, Asst. Adjt. Genl. of Arty, Late Comdg. 24-Pr. Battery."

A few men of the Carabineers and 10 men of the 9th Lancers also did permanent duty,—the former with Major Tombs' and the latter with Major Turner's Troops of Horse Artillery, in which they took their regular tour of all duties, and rendered by their ready willingness and intelligence, most useful and efficient aid, for which these Officers have expressed their thankfulness.

On the 14th September, the assault on the City of Delhi commenced, in which 600 of the Cavalry,—200 of whom were of the 9th Lancers and the rest Punjab Irregular Cavalry,—took part. To their lot it fell to cover the Attacking Columns and our principal Batteries from the Enemy without the walls of the place, and strongly posted near the Lahore Gate and in the Kishengunge Suburb. Nothing could exceed the noble conduct of all, both Native and European. In a position whence, from the nature of the ground, they could make no attack, these gallant Troops were exposed for two hours to a very severe fire both of Artillery and Infantry. In their front, the Enemy, flushed with success after having maintained their position at Kishengunge in face of an attempt to dislodge them by a small Column of our Troops from the right of Camp, moved down and occupied a small village about a hundred yards from the walls, with two 18-Pounders, which were in time silenced and spiked by our Horse Artillery; but on our right flank the fire of Artillery and Musketry from the Kishengunge Suburb which could not be kept down, as also from the Lahore Bastion, which had not fallen into our possession, was most galling. My A. D. C., Captain the Hon'ble A. Anson, was wounded in the hand, and Captain Prosser, 6th Dragoon Guards, Acting A. D. C., was dangerously wounded in the hand by a musket ball. The 9th Lancers were in first line supported by the Punjab Cavalry, and nothing could be finer than the unflinching coolness with which all these gallant Soldiers held this trying position. Nothing daunted by the numerous casualties and the certainty that they had only to endure; when I felt it my duty to praise their steady behaviour, they declared their willingness and determination to stand the fire as long as need be. The conduct of all—European and Native, Officers and Men—was most admirable. On this occasion the 9th Lancers were Commanded, with great coolness and judgment, by Captain Drysdale, a most gallant Officer, whose name I wish to bring under the favorable notice of His Excellency the Commander in Chief. The remainder of the Cavalry, under Command of Captain Anson, 9th Lancers, stopped behind for the protection of the Camp, which required the greatest vigilance and attention, and which was successfully performed. Until the final and complete fall of the City of Delhi on the 20th, the Cavalry were employed in protecting the Camp and covering the road leading therefrom to the Cashmere Gate, and on two occasions a Force made reconnaissances towards the Southern face of the City.

Hodson's Horse was employed in following up the retreat of the Enemy from Delhi, and owing to the activity and keen intelligence of their leader, succeeded in capturing the King of Delhi, who was brought in a prisoner; and a few days after, three of the King's sons were killed by them near Humayun's tomb. This Officer, with his Horsemen, was exceedingly useful in beating up the hiding places of the Rebels in the immediate neighbourhood of the City, and rendered most valuable service.

The portion of H. M.'s Carabineers were shortly detached with the Column under Brigadier Showers that operated to the West of the Jumna, and I regret to say I have no means at this time of placing on record the nature of the service they met with. Their previous history warrants me in the belief that they have surely sustained the good name they have so long and deservedly borne.

After the capture of Delhi, a Moveable Column, under Command of Brigadier Greathed, was despatched across the Jumna, and the following Corps of Cavalry formed part—H. M.'s 9th Lancers, Commanded by Captain Drysdale, and a Squadron each of the 1st Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant Watson, 2nd Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant Probyn, 5th Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant Younghusband, Hodson's Horse under Lieutenant Gough, the whole under Command of Major Ouvry, of the 9th Lancers, a most energetic, useful and brave Officer.

The Column left Delhi on the 24th September, and on the 28th encountered the Rebels and Mutineers at Bolundshuhur, where they had taken up a formidable position among the gardens and enclosures of the Civil Cantonment, having the Town in their rear. After having been beaten out of their position, the Cavalry were ordered to drive them out of the Town, and part of the 9th Lancers proceeded down the husband's Horse, took another road, the remainder of the Punjab Cavalry moving round outside the Town. This hazardous duty for Cavalry was ably executed. Captain Drysdale's Column pushed its way through, and discovered the Enemy reforming outside the Town. Preparing to return, they were instantly charged and dispersed. In this charge Captain Drysdale's horse was killed, and in falling that Officer's collar-bone was broken. Two men of the 9th Lancers—Lance Corporal Kells and Private Jordan—most gallantly extricated and brought away their Commander. Lieutenant Sarel was also successful, and cleared the portion of the Town through which he led his Squadrons; but in the act of running a Sepoy through, was shot in the hand and arm, and had one of his fingers blown away. Lieutenant Thonger was also wounded in the arm slightly. A most gallant feat was here performed by Lieutenant Blair, since exchanged into the 2nd Dragoon Guards, who was ordered to take a party of 1 Sergeant ed. This gallant young Officer is, I am thankful, doing well at Meerut, and will, I trust, be shortly restored to the Service in which his early career gives promise of distinction. Serjeant Shaw, of this party, also behaved in the most gallant manner. One of the men, Lance Corporal Andrews, lost his horse from falling with him. Serjeant pulled up between him and the Enemy, and enabled him to effect his escape. The Serjeant's horse was wounded on the occasion, and if it had not been for a party of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry, under Lieutenant Watson, coming up at the moment to their support, both these men would undoubtedly have lost their lives. Lieutenant Younghusband's Squadron charged a large body, and killed about 80 of the Enemy; and the remainder of the Punjaub Cavalry cut up many more outside the Town.

On the 6th October the Column again attacked the Mutineers and Rebels at Allygunh, and the Cavalry, Commanded by Major Ouvry, passing round the Town, fell in with them in retreat, and cut down about 200.

On the 8th the Punjaub Corps were sent to a village named Akbarapore, belonging to two notorious Rebels, Mungul Sein and Acbar Sein, whom they hoped to surprise. This was so well accomplished that both these Chiefs were killed and upwards of a hundred of their armed followers, our Cavalry having completely surrounded the village ere their approach was known.

On the following morning the Column moved to Bidghur, about forty-four miles distant from the Parade ground at Agra, whence, at the urgent summons of the Chief Commissioner for its immediate march, it proceeded with the utmost rapidity, and reached the Station on the 10th after a long and harassing march. Every thing had been reported quiet there, and although a strong Force of the Enemy was believed to be within ten or eleven miles of the place, no apprehension of any immediate attack existed.

The Regiment had hardly arrived and taken up the encamping ground on the Grand Parade, when four men, disguised as fakirs, beating tom-toms came up to the Quarter Guard of the 9th Lancers. The Serjeant desired them to go away, but one of the villains drew a tulwar and cut him down, then attacked another Serjeant and a Corporal, both of whom were wounded; but the Gaurd then moving out, all were killed. Hardly had this transpired, when Artillery concealed in the high Bajra Fields, opened from different positions a cross fire upon the few tents pitched, causing some loss. In a moment every Soldier stood to his arms. The Artillery from their Parks, while their horses were being put to, returned the fire. The Cavalry were quickly mounted, and ere a few minutes had elapsed, the Troops were prepared to repel the attack.

The Enemy's Cavalry, about 300 in number, hoping to find us unprepared, came round by our left flank and made a rush upon the Camp but were most gallantly met and repulsed by a Squadron of the 9th Lancers, led by Captain French. This enabled the Artillery and the remainder of the Force to prepare to attack the Enemy's position; but I grieve to state that this advantage was purchased at the cost of Captain French's life who fell, mortally wounded, in this charge, and the 9th Lancers lost a brave daring Officer, of ripe judgment, highly valued by the Regiment. Lieutenant Jones also, whom I have before mentioned was severely wounded; he was wounded by a shot, cut down and afterwards received twenty-two sword cuts in different parts of his body. This young Officer had so far through this Campaign given evidence of the possession of many high Military qualities. Ever foremost in danger, ready to undergo any hardship or fatigue at duty's call, he has exhibited intelligence and judgment on every occasion of his having been employed. He will, I have every hope, be restored to health.

About this period of the action, one of our Guns, of which all the Drivers and Gunners had been wounded, fell into the hands of the Enemy; but was recovered by a gallant charge of a Squadron of the 9th Lancers, under Lieutenant Wilkinson, detached for this object from the rest of the Corps by Captain Anson, who moved in support.

After this our Troops being well in hand, moved to an organized attack, and drove off the Enemy capturing their Guns in different places until their Camp was reached, whence the Enemy, being in full retreat, were pursued by the Artillery and Cavalry as far as the Kharee Nuddee, ten miles, capturing Baggage, the remainder of their Guns, killing many, and entirely dispersing the whole Force. The Irregular Cavalry made a most dashing charge at a Regiment of Infantry, drawn up to cover three heavy Guns. They drove them away, cut up a number, and took the Guns.

Their intended surprise of our Troops turned out evidently a surprise to themselves, as they could not have calculated on the presence of Brigadier Greathed's Column. Guns, Ammunition, Stores, and Standing Camp, all fell into our hands. The victory was complete.

On the 14th the Column re-crossed the Jumna, and proceeded by the Mynpoorie road towards Cawnpore.

Having been appointed to the Command, I was enabled, after some difficulty, accompanied by my Brigade Major, Captain Hamilton, to join the Force on the 18th October.

The Column moved on by forced marches, and arrived near Kanouj on the 22nd, when information reached me that a small Force of the Enemy, with 4 Guns, had that morning left the and 12 Men* and bring in a deserted ammunition waggon. As his party approached, a body of 50 or 60 of the Enemy's Horse came down upon him from a village where they had remained unobserved. Without a moment's hesitation, he formed up his men, and regardless of the odds, gallantly led them on, dashing through the Rebels. He made good his retreat without losing a man, leaving 9 of them dead upon the Field. Of these he killed 4 himself; but to my deep regret, after having run a Native Officer through the body with his sword, he was severely wounded, the joint of his shoulder being nearly severed.

Town with the purpose of crossing the Kali Nuddee, about two miles off. I immediately ordered off one Squadron 9th Lancers, with Watson's, Probyn's and Younghusband's Squadrons, with 2 Guns, the whole under Major Ouvry's Command, myself following in support with another Squadron of the 9th Lancers and 2 other Guns. Major Ouvry came up with them, attempting to cross the Nuddee. The enemy opened fire, which was quickly replied to and silenced, and their Guns taken. Major Ouvry had most successfully and with his usual gallantry, attacked them in a position where little resistance could be made. The Cavalry after this pursued them to the banks of the Ganges, executing great slaughter among them, and finally driving them into the river, in which several were drowned.

The Column pursued its march to Cawnpore, where it arrived on the 26th October, crossed the Ganges into Oude, and was engaged at Banterah on the 2nd November. In this skirmish the Cavalry and Horse Artillery endeavoured to come to close combat with the Enemy: but they would not stand; a 9-Pounder Gun was, however captured.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief shortly after assumed Command of the Troops in the Field, and the career and conduct of the Cavalry since have been under his own observation. I must, however, before closing this Report, beg permission to bring prominently forward, for His Excellency's consideration, the names of four very gallant young Officers, whose acts of bravery may, I trust, be deemed by the Commander-in-Chief such as to merit his recommending the bestowal of the Victoria Cross.

These Officers are Lieutenant Blair, 2nd Dragoon Guards, and Lieutenant Jones, 9th Lancers. The particular instances of acts of bravery on their part I have already mentioned. The other two are Captain Probyn, of the 2nd, and Lieutenant Watson, of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry. Captain Probyn has been distinguished for gallantry and daring throughout this Campaign. At the battle of Agra, when his Squadron charged the Rebel Infantry, he was some time separated from his men and surrounded by five or six Sepoys. He defended himself from the various cuts made at him, and before his own men joined him had cut down two of his assailants. At another time, in single combat with a Sepoy, he was wounded in the wrist by the bayonet and his horse also slightly wounded; but, though the Sepoy fought desperately, he cut him down. The same day he singled out a standard bearer, and in the presence of a number of the Enemy killed him and captured the standard. These are only a few of the gallant deeds of this brave young Officer. Skilful in the use of his sword and spear, and an excellent horseman, his active courage and coolness in conflict have borne him safely through many combats.

Lieutenant Watson, on the 14th November, with his own Squadron, and that under Captain (then Lieut.) Probyn, came upon a body of the Rebel Cavalry. The Ressaldar in Command of them—a fine specimen of the Hindustani Mussulman—and backed up by some half dozen equally brave men,—rode out to the front. Lieutenant Watson singled out this fine-looking fellow and attacked him. The Ressaldar presented his pistol at Lieutenant Watson's breast, at a yard's distance, and fired; but most providentially without effect; the ball must, by accident, have previously fallen out. Lieutenant Watson ran the man through with the sword and dismounted him; but the Native Officer, nothing daunted, drew his tulwar, and with his Sowars renewed his attack upon Lieutenant Watson, who bravely defended himself until his own men joined in the melee and utterly routed the party. In this rencontre Lieutenant Watson received a blow on the head from a tulwar, another on his left arm which severed his chain gauntlet glove, a tulwar cut on his right arm which fortunately only divided the sleeve of his jacket, but disabled the arm for some time; a bullet also passed through his coat, and he received a blow on his leg which lamed him for some days afterwards. His charger too was grazed by a bullet. On many other occasions, his good sword wielded by a strong arm, directed by a brave heart and cool head has laid low many an opponent in fair combat.

Nothing could have exceeded in gallantry and daring the conduct of all the four Officers whom I have thus prominently brought to notice.

I beg also to mention the excellent service and assistance I have on all occasions received from my Brigade Major (now Deputy Assistant Adjutant General of Division) Captain W. Hamilton, 9th Lancers, throughout the whole campaign. His exertions have been unceasing. He is brave, cool and collected in action, and at all times unremitting in attention to his duties, from which, in spite of the severity of the hot season and rains upon the constitution of so many, he was never day or night absent when called upon.

My Aide-de-Camp also, Captain the Honorable A. Anson, I wish to bring particularly to the favorable notice of His Excellency. His conduct has been most praiseworthy throughout the whole campaign. Animated by a most soldier-like spirit, active and intelligent, I have found him a most useful aid, and on all occasions my orders have been delivered with precision; and his own gallantry and bravery have been universally remarked upon. He was wounded at the assault of Delhi by a musket ball in the hand; but has, I am happy to say, some time since recovered and returned to his duty.

In conclusion I desire to express my obligation to the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of both European and Native Cavalry under my Command for their excellent conduct and ready obedience under all circumstances. Their qualities as Soldiers have been fully tested by exposure to hardships during all seasons of the year in this trying climate, and by all other vicissitudes of a Soldier's career, and in no instance have they failed to fulfil their duty, and deserve my highest commendations.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH MARCH 1858.

No. 95 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Camp, Allahabad, 22d February 1858.

No. 11 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great satisfaction in publishing, for general information, the subjoined Reports of an action fought with the Rebels at Anuntram on the 7th Instant, by Alexander's Horse, and a body of Zemindaree Troops led by Mr. A. O. Hume, Magistrate of Etawah, the whole under the Command of Captain Alexander.

The Governor General entirely concurs with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in considering this affair to reflect the highest credit on Captain Alexander and Mr. Hume, as well as Mr. Maconochie, who, with conspicuous bravery and cool determination, led their men against the very superior numbers of the Rebels, and obtained a signal victory over them.

Letter No. 36, dated 8th February, from Captain Alexander.

Letter dated 8th February, and plan of ground, from A. O. Hume, Esquire.

With report of an action fought by Alexander's Horse with the Rebels at Anuntram.

SIR,—I AM desired, by the Commander-in-Chief, to transmit, in original, the documents noted in the margin, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, and to request you will be good enough to bring to the especial notice of His Lordship, the extremely gallant conduct of Mr. Hume and Captain Alexander, under the circumstances detailed by these Officers. His Excellency considers the whole affair to reflect much credit on them, and on those who acted with such bravery under their orders.

BRIGADE HEAD QRS. FORT FUTTEHGURH, The 12th February 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the accompanying Despatches in original, (two in number,) received from Captain Alexander, Commanding Irregular Horse at Etawah, and Mr. Hume, Magistrate at that Station, giving an account of an action fought by them with the Rebels at Anuntram near Etawah, over whom they gained a complete victory.

2. The Despatches speak for themselves, and I need not bring to the notice of His Excellency the great gallantry and judgment displayed by Messrs. Hume and Maconochie, or Captain Alexander's nerve in consenting to the attack against such odds.

3. I think Captain Alexander could not have received a letter I sent him, prohibiting an attack on these people; but as it has turned out, the victory will be most useful, and tend in a great measure to ensure the tranquillity of the Etawah District.

I have, &c.,

TO CAPTAIN HAWES, Major of Brigade, Futtehgurh.

Camp, Ietawah, 8th February 1858.

Ordering the Picquet of 30 Rank and File of my Regiment, and 80 Sowars of the Etawah Local Horse, stationed at Bukewar to fall in, we proceeded to Anuntram, distant 6 miles. We arrived there about $\frac{1}{2}$ past 9 A. M., and found about 700 Matchlockmen, belonging to different loyal Zemindars, ready to join us.

We moved on at once to the Enemy's position, which was about a mile from Anuntram, and found them very strongly posted, stronger than we were led to believe from reports. Their right resting on the Cawnpore road, occupied a large tope of mangoe trees with a wall of 6 feet all round, and a small ditch in front; their left on a village (Phoolpore), and every grove and field between occupied by them. Their right was the chief position, and looked most formidable, the enclosure swarming with the Enemy, and one Gun facing down the road towards us.

Having reconnoitred, and having been offered the loan of a Gun from Anuntram, we came to the decision of attacking the place. Having shown ourselves to the Enemy, it appeared to us that the effect on the Country around would be very bad did we retire without attempting something ; so I formed the Cavalry into three Troops ; my own men I took opposite the right rear of the Enemy's entrenchment, and within 300 yards ; one Troop I directed to go to the right, and the third to remain in the centre as a support for the Gun, which had by this time come up, and was planted as near as we could judge opposite the Enemy's.

Mr. Hume having with some difficulty collected about 2 or 300 Matchlockmen out of the 700, advanced most gallantly with them towards the entrenchment. The fire of the Enemy had been directed towards my Troop; but seeing the advance of our Matchlockmen, turned it towards them. Our Gun then opened, advancing nearer at each discharge. About the fifth discharge, our Gun was close up to the wall, and a rush being made, headed in the most gallant manner by Mr. Hume, the Enemy began to retreat.

Having already got to their right rear with my Troop of 60 men, the time came for us to act. The word charge was given by me, and in a few seconds we were in the midst of them, sweeping round the rear of the entrenchment to the village on the Enemy's left. Many of the Enemy escaped owing to the great height of cultivation and the villages, where it was impossible for Cavalry to follow, and at the Local Horse acted on the right, when they saw my Troop come round, the victory would have been most complete; but they rendered no assistance at first. However, the Enemy were completely routed, their only Gun, with a quantity of Ammunition, Baggage, Ponies, Matchlocks, Swords, &c., captured, and about 125 killed in the field and six Enemy dispersing in all directions, and my party of Cavalry being too small to detach after them; besides we had then come about twenty-five miles, and had to return to Etawah the same evening, which we reached about 7. p. m.

The number of the Enemy could not certainly have been under 12 or 1300 men, including a few Sowars.

Our Casualties were :

Killed.

12 Matchlock men.

Wounded.

2 Sowars, both severely.

4 Horses, 3 severely, 1 slightly, } Alexander's Horse.

1 Sowar of Local Horse, slightly.

4-Horses ditto, severely.

15 Matchlockmen.

2 Horses missing.

A copy of Mr. Hume's report to Government is enclosed for the Brigadier's information, and shows the active and gallant part taken by that Officer and his Matchlockmen. I now beg to bring to the notice of Brigadier, Sector Ch. B.

I now beg to bring to the notice of Brigadier Soaton, C. B., the able assistance I received from Mr. Hume, who gallantly led the assault, and Mr. Maconochie who accompanied my Troop of Cavalry throughout the day, and was also to the front.

The conduct of my men was admirable, and many individual acts of gallantry were performed. Some of the Sowers of the Local Horse did their duty well, and the conduct of the Matchlockmen who went to the assault, after they once got in to the Enemy, Mr. Hume reports to have been excellent.

I beg to bring all parties concerned to the favourable notice of the Brigadier Commanding, and trust he may deem the affair worthy of being reported to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

The information regarding the Enemy's Regular Troops at Ajeetnail, and mentioned by Mr. Hume, was only brought to-day; and it is fortunate as things have turned out, that we did not know of it yesterday, for we should not have gone out, and this victory would not have been gained.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

W. R. E. ALEXANDER, Captain, Commanding Alexander's Horse, and at Etawah.

FROM A. O. HUME, Esq, Offg. Magte. & Collector of Etawah.
TO THE SECY. TO GOVT. OF THE N. W. P., AGRA,

Dated 8th February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that we yesterday obtained a signal success over the Enemy near Anuntram.

2. At 6 A. M. the 7th of February, Captain Alexander, Mr. Maconochie and myself left Etawah with 30 Sowars to visit the Picquet at Bukewar and reconnoitre the Enemy's position beyond. At Bukewar, we were joined by the Picquet, viz., 30 of Alexander's Horse, and about 80 of the Etawah Local Horse. We then pushed on to Anuntram, a small town on the main Oreyah and Cawnpore Road, distant about twenty-one miles from our Camp at Etawah. At Anuntram I called out about 700 of the Matchlockmen posted there to keep the Enemy in check, and taking a small Gun of Rao Juswant Rao's advanced along the main road. About a mile from Anuntram we found the Enemy posted in several dense mangoe topes surrounded by high earth-banks and occupying the intermediate Urhur and Castor Oil plant fields in skirmishing order. As we drew near, the Enemy concentrated themselves in the two enclosures C and B (see Sketch), still keeping, however, some hundreds of men out as skirmishers in the field immediately surrounding their position. As the banks surrounding the enclosure were not less than six feet high from outside as there were no entrances, and the branches of the trees come down to within two feet of the top of the bank. Captain Alexander, finding that his Cavalry could not attack them with any reasonable chance of success, halted them at D. After consulting him I posted the Local Horse at E, and then leaving them there with orders to cut up any fugitives, drew the men up in sort of line at G G with the Gun in the centre. The Enemy by this time had opened a smart fire on us, and Captain Alexander, to whom I reported what I had done, as well as the nature of the position which I had closely inspected from N, desired me to advance with the Gun, and Matchlockmen. Koor Lutchmun Sing and 3 or 4 of my own Sowars assisting me manfully, I succeeded in bringing up about 350 of the Matchlockmen into a position K K K, still keeping the Gun in the centre G. Our Matchlockmen nevertheless were no cowards; they fought bravely a little later hand to hand, but they were new to the system of going straight a head at our Enemy, were immensely out numbered, and were obliged to advance under a very heavy fire which, as they could under the most favorable circumstances, see only the heads of their opponents, they could not return with any effect.

3. By degrees, taking advantage of a number of small ridges intervening between us and the point which I had chosen for the attack, I pushed the men on to within twenty yards of the entrenchment, keeping up as we advanced a fire from the Rao's Gun in answer to that of the Enemy. I then ran the Gun up to the little knoll A which, distant about five yards from the entrenchment, gave me the command of the interior. By this time some 3 or 400 of the Enemy ran out of the opposite side of the enclosure in the direction N. N. and were promptly pursued by Captain Alexander and his sixty Troopers, who cut up a considerable number of them, though not without some casualties, as even single fugitives almost without exception turned and fought. The Local Horse did not assist; they had no European Officer I have applied in vain for one), and either would not, or thought they ought not to move without an order to do so. At A we fired one round, and all the men lining that particular portion of the "moorcha" beginning to run, the Matchlockmen made a rush, and to the number of 150 or 200 got in. Just as they did so the Enemy fired their Gun in our faces, doing, however, no damage, and then for the most part throwing away their Guns. Both parties went at it with swords. In less than a minute the main body of the Enemy, some 600 strong, ran out in the direction S S S; a few still stood by the Gun. These in a very short time were dispersed, and as I thought either cut up or driven out; but in this I was mistaken, (without uniform it was difficult to distinguish foes from friends,) and we had not proceeded fifty yards in pursuit, when we were stopped by shouts from the rear, and found that the Enemy had re-taken and loaded the Gun. We re-took it, however, before they could fire it. Lutchmun Sing and I then pushed on with some half dozen Sowars; but the Rebels were too far ahead, and we picked up only a few stragglers. Captain Alexander then returned from the pursuit in the direction N N; the Local Horse came up at last, the Enemy was pursued some three miles, and a number more accounted for, one and all however, fighting to the last. Nine persons were also taken, of whom six were hung. I ought to add that the enclosure C was evacuated directly we took the Gun.

4. The Enemy was certainly not less than 1200 strong when we advanced from the position K K K, and probably numbered not less than 2,000. They had a few Irregular Cavalry, and it is reported about 50 Sepoys; but I saw none of the latter. The former as usual kept well out of range, and ultimately disappeared without showing fight. They lost 125 men killed, their Gun (an iron one) and limber, matchlocks, swords, bundles of cloths, burtons, ponies, &c., in fact their whole Baggage. Our loss was not severe;—12 Matchlockmen were killed, a few (amongst them the brave leader of the the Chowdrayan of Binsea's men, Bhownance Sing) wounded; 2 of Alexander's men and 3 of his horses; 1 of the local Horseman and 4 of the horses badly wounded, and several other men and horses scratched more or less. The Gun was sent with the captured Gun to Etawah, having accomplished the

5. The pursuit over, we returned with the captured Gun to Etawan, having accomplished the whole affair, including the fifty miles ride, in twelve hours. It may be worth mentioning that the very time we made the attack, Lallporee Goosaeen, the Nana's Pirohit, with a considerable force of regular Mutineers, was at Ajeetmul, scarcely more than 6 miles from the battle field, so that we rather stole a march on him.

The Enemy were completely and utterly routed ; they abandoned their last Gun and two Ammunition Waggon, and numbers of their Infantry threw away their arms, and hid themselves in the fields

No. 347 of 1858.—In continuation of Government General Order, No. 1116, of the 3d September 1857, the following Extract of a Resolution, passed in the Foreign Department, under date the 8th Instant, is published in General Orders :—

RESOLUTION.—With reference to a question having arisen as to “ whether the Rule* of the Financial Department, that Civil Servants are to receive full Salary only up to the end of September, should be held applicable to the Members of the Lucknow Garrison at all, it appears to the President in Council that it would be equitable to exempt the whole Garrison from the operation of the Rule, or at least so to modify it in their case, as that it shall not have effect until the date on which the members of the Garrison having been relieved by the Commander in Chief reached Cawnpore. His Honor in Council observes that the Officers and others who were shut up in Lucknow, though their proper duties may have ceased, still continued to serve the Government in a quasi-Military capacity. Their labors were as arduous, their privations much greater than if they had been engaged in their ordinary duties, and under the peculiar circumstances of the case, it is but simple justice to permit all of them to draw the full Salaries of their respective appointments until the end of November last, on the last day of which they arrived at Cawnpore.”

13TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH MARCH 1858.

No. 96 of 1857.—The following Extracts from Letters from the Honorable the Court of Directors in the Military Department, are published for the information of the Army.

Letter dated 26th January 1858, No. 12.

To Court, Letter dated 20th June 1857, No. 62.
Para 1. Memorial from Riding Master James Barry, praying for the Commission of Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment.

* Adjutant General's letter 18th May 1857.

24. His Excellency the Commander in Chief in recommending the prayer of this Memorial observes as follows, "Mr. Barry has served as a Soldier for nearly 31 years of which period 18 years were passed as a Non-Commissioned Officer and 10 as Riding Master. The numerous testimonials appended to his Memorial afford proof of his very superior merits, and thoroughly exemplary conduct." Your Government having also forwarded the Memorial for favorable consideration, we authorize you to confer on Riding Master James Barry a Commission as Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment, from the date of your receipt of this despatch.

Letter dated 27th January 1858, No. 17.

To Court, Letter dated 7th July 1857, No. 72.
Paras 1 & 2. Memorial from Deputy Assistant Commissary Isaac Curran, of the Gun Carriage Manufactory, praying for a Lieutenant's Commission on the Invalid Establishment.

11. Referring to our letter of the 6th May 1857, No. 66, para 2, replying to your recommendation in favor of Deputy Assistant Commissary Lancaster, we have now the satisfaction of authorizing you to confer the Commission of Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment on Deputy Assistant Commissaries Curran and Lancaster, from the date of your receipt of this despatch.

2. Under the authority granted by the Honorable the Court of Directors, the Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to confer on Riding Master J. Barry and Deputy Assistant Commissaries I. Curran and J. Lancaster the rank of Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment, with date of Commissions from the 6th March 1858.

Letter dated 26th January 1858, No. 14.

Reply to Military Letter dated 27th October 1857, No. 138.

Report of the successful exertions of Captain Webb, Assistant Commissary General and Superintendent of Police at Secunderabad in preserving tranquillity during the festivals of the Mohurram and Deesserah. An early reply requested.

1. We concur with your Government and His Excellency the Commander in Chief in noticing, with marked approbation the zealous and able manner in which Captain Webb, and all serving under his orders, fulfilled their duty during the excitement of the religious festivals of the past season.

2. We have much satisfaction in acquiescing in your recommendation that as a special mark of the favor of Government for their services on this occasion, Head Cutwall Buldeo Sing and Jemadars of Police Roop Sing and Mahomed Gallub, shall be recorded as eligible for Pension on becoming unfit for further service. We also consider that as an immediate reward the Cutwall and Jemadars of Police should receive special personal allowances, (not to be continued to successors,) the Cutwall of 20 Rupees per month, and the Jemadars of 5 Rupees per month each; and we authorize you to make these grants accordingly.

3. The personal allowances of Twenty (20) Rupees per mensem to Head Cutwall Buldeo Sing, and of Five (5) Rupees per mensem each to Police Jemadars Roop Sing and Mahomed Gallub, authorised by the Court of Directors, will commence from the 6th March 1858, the date of receipt of this despatch.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH MARCH 1858.

No. 97 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for the information and guidance of parties concerned in this Presidency, the following Resolution of the Honorable the Court of Directors, with the Orders of the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council thereon dated the 8th January last, No. 91.

RESOLUTION.—The Honorable the Court of Directors having decided, in the case of Captain W. E. Hay, a retired Military Officer, subsequently appointed Assistant Commissioner at Kulu in the Punjab, that the rule under which Civil Pension is merged in the salary of Office, should apply to the case of Military Officers drawing Pensions for Military Service: and that upon this principle Captain Hay, should be allowed the authorized Salary of his appointment, minus the amount of his pension, the Chief Commissioner in the Punjab enquires whether this decision is applicable to Military Pensioners of the grade of Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates, who may be employed in the Uncovenanted Service as Clerks.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council observes that in Bengal measures have been taken to regulate the Allowances of Military Pensioners of every grade who have been re-employed in the Civil Department, according to the above orders of the Honorable Court which must be the guide for the future.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased accordingly to direct that in this Presidency, the new rule shall take effect from and after the 1st May, from which date the allowances of all Military Pensioners of every grade of the Honorable Company's Service employed in the Uncovenanted Service as Clerks, or otherwise, in all Public Offices and Establishments, including the Mounted Police, (Medical Warrant Officers and Subordinates temporarily employed in their professional capacity excepted) will be drawn minus the amount of their Pensions. Their Pensions will continue to be drawn on separate Abstract as heretofore. The requisite subsidiary orders are to be issued by the Military Auditor General in communication with the Civil Auditor and Superintendent of Pensions.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

17TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 16TH MARCH 1858.

No. 100 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to publish the following General Orders by the Government of India, dated 8th March 1851, and 15th October 1855, and to declare the rules therein laid down for the supply of Bedding to the European Troops of Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Services, and to the Wives of European Soldiers to be in future applicable to this Presidency, with the modifications noted in the margin.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Camp, Peshawur, 8th March 1851.

The Most Noble the Governor General is pleased to direct that bedding shall, hereafter, be furnished to the European Troops of Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Services, in Bengal, under the following rules:

Each European Soldier's bedding is to consist of

- 1 Cotton settringee, the size of the Barrack cot.
- 2 Cotton upper sheets.
- 1 Quilt, as at present, but to contain four, instead of three seers of cotton.
- 1 Good country blanket, to measure, when doubled, 7 by 4 feet.

* These articles, excepting the country Blanket, will be issued to the European Troops under the Madras Presidency on the 1st October next. A Europe Blanket will also be supplied to those who have not received one within the last three years.

The above articles are to be issued on the 1st October next. *

After the first issue each Soldier will be provided with

- 1 Quilt..... } Annually.
- 1 Sheet... }
- † A Europe Blanket triennially. 1 Blanket.... Biennially. †
- 1 Settringee... Triennially.

On the issue of new articles of bedding, the old ones are not to be made away with, but are to be kept in use until worn out.

Recruits are not to be allowed to give away, or dispose of the bedding supplied to them in England, but it is to be landed for their use, on their arrival in India.

Recruits will be supplied with quilts and settringees before they leave the Presidency, and the remaining articles of bedding will be provided on their joining their Corps. They will afterwards receive, annually, the same articles as are issued to their Regiments.

Indents for bedding are to be sent in to Division Commissariat Offices, in sufficient time to enable the articles to be issued, annually, on the 1st of October.

Commanding Officers may make their own arrangements for the supply of the several articles, provided the cost does not exceed the Commissariat rates.

All articles of bedding, whether supplied by the Commissariat Department or by Regimental authorities, are to be surveyed previous to issue, by a Committee composed of Officers Commanding Troops and Companies of Europeans, to be assembled by the Officer Commanding the station.

The bedding will always be provided in kind, and compensation in lieu will, under no circumstances, be allowed.

Soldiers are to be responsible for their bedding, in the same manner as for their Regimental necessities.

These rules, which are in supercession of all former orders on the subject, are to be applicable to the European Troops, only, serving in the Bengal Presidency, including European Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers on the Town Major's List, and not to Drummers of Native Corps, who will be supplied with quilts only as at present.

No extra carriage on the march will be allowed in consequence of the increased quantity of bedding now sanctioned.

(Signed) FRED. D. ATKINSON, Captain, Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept., with the Govr. Genl.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 15th October 1855.

No. 1036.—In further assimilation to the rules in force at Ceylon, for the supply of barrack articles, the Honorable the President in Council is pleased to direct that the wives of European Soldiers permitted to reside in barracks shall hereafter be provided with cots and bedding of the same description as is authorized for European Troops.

No. 66.

FROM COLONEL J. K. McCAUSLAND, Commanding in Kumaon,

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF, Army Head Quarters.

Camp, Huldwanee, 12th February 1858.

SIR,—I have already reported, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, my having formed a Camp at this place with the view, first, of protecting the Kumaon Hills; second, of clearing the Barbur and Turree Pergunnahs of Rebels.

2. On my arrival here, I found the position of the Enemy as follows:

A Force of 3,000 Infantry, with 800 Cavalry, and 6 Guns, Commanded by Fuzul Huq, was encamped at Sunda in a strong position on the banks of the Sookhee River, about 15 miles from my Camp.

Another Force, Commanded by Khali Khan, of 4,000 Infantry, 800 Cavalry, and 4 Guns, was encamped at Bunde, but within the last few days had advanced in this direction, and formed a Camp at Churpoorah, on the Paha Nuddee, 16 miles from here.

3. From the best information I was able to obtain, it appeared the intention of the Enemy was to make a combined attack on Huldwanee with a view, if successful, of endeavouring to force the Hill passes; my arrangements were made to act on the defensive, and there can be no doubt, had they attempted such a move it would have ended in their utter defeat.

4. On the afternoon of the 9th Instant, reliable information having been obtained that the Army under Fuzul Huq was about to effect a junction with Khali Khan's Force, I considered it advisable, if possible, to crush the latter before such junction could be effected. My great fear was that the Enemy might hear of my movements and escape the impending blow, so my preparations were conducted with the greatest secrecy. At 9 p. m. of the 9th Instant, nothing in Camp indicated an intended move. At that hour the Tents were quietly struck, and removed to the Munde, an enclosed square, barricaded and capable of being held by the Force I could spare for its protection, for some time at least against very superior numbers.

5. At 11½ p. m. I moved from Camp with the Troops as per margin, and marching all night through the forest, came on the Enemy's Camp, at Churpoorah, shortly after day-break, on the morning of the 10th.

I found his position a strong one, about 900 yards off the road, which was Commanded by his Guns. His rear and left were protected by the Paha Nuddee, which wound round his Camp. The only approach to his front and right flank was over rough broken ground, intersected by Nullahs, and covered with thick jungle grass and bushes; a small village filled with Infantry was on his right flank. His Force from 4 to 5,000 Infantry, about 1,000 Cavalry with 4 Guns.

6. The surprise was complete; the only portion of my Force at first visible to the Enemy was an advance Guard of the Rohilcund Horse, and a party of their Sowars, galloping towards us, asked if we were Fuzul Huq's Army, which they expected that morning to join them. Wheeling back the Cavalry, I fired a few rounds which undeceived them, and drew on us a heavy Artillery fire. Directly I ascertained their position, I drew up the Guns on the road, and opened on those of the Enemy, and ordered Captain Ross, Commanding the 66th Goorkhas, (leaving 2 Companies to protect the Artillery,) and Captain Baugh, Commanding the Nepal Contingent and Kumaon Levies, to advance on the Enemy's right flank, supported by the Rohilcund Horse, under Captain Crossman.

During this advance, the fire on our Artillery was very severe, the Enemy's Guns being served with the greatest rapidity and precision; their largest Gun was quickly disabled, and after about 40 minutes of very sharp firing, during which the Cavalry and Infantry were gradually nearing their right, they turned their Guns on them, and plied them with grape and round shot. Our Guns, thus relieved from the fire of the Enemy's, were enabled to commit immense execution in their large bodies of Cavalry, into which they poured sharpnel with beautiful precision and tremendous effect.

7. The advance of our line was steady and uninterrupted. The Enemy's Infantry and Cavalry, though offering opposition from every point of advantage which the nature of the ground gave them, and though they appeared in strength and fought with resolution, could not check the 66th and Nepal Goorkhas, who gained ground, firing with a rapidity and resolution they could not withstand.

In about an hour from their first advance, the village and right flank had been gallantly carried by the Infantry, who sweeping down the front, carried the Guns with a rush, cutting down every Artilleryman at his Gun. The resistance was very severe, and I believe that with hardly an exception, every European Officer in this charge had hand to hand encounters with the Enemy.

The Rohilcund Horse made a gallant charge during this advance, repulsing a very superior body of the Enemy's Cavalry, taking a standard, and cutting up a great number. They entered the Camp with the Infantry, and were most useful in cutting up stragglers.

8. As from the jungly nature of the ground it was impossible for me to witness all that was going on, I called for reports from Officers Commanding Corps, which, with a Camp Order issued by me on the occasion, I have the honor to forward for His Excellency's information, and have now only the pleasant duty of reporting the complete success of our operations, and bringing to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief the gallant conduct of all engaged.

9. The Enemy's standing Camp and Baggage fell into our hands and was burnt; the whole of his Ammunition was destroyed; of his Guns one was completely disabled and left on the Field; the other three with four tumbrils we brought with us into Camp. Their exact loss I am unable to state; the killed must exceed 300, and the wounded more than twice that number. The loss in their Cavalry must have been very heavy from the constant fire to which they were exposed.

It would have been imprudent for me to make any delay on the ground: it was quite possible that Fuzul Huq might have heard of our move, and pushed on to make an attack on this place before I could return. Our first shot was fired at ½ to 6 A. M.; at 8 A. M. we began to move back and reached our Camp here shortly after noon, the Force under my Command having marched 34 miles, and fought a severe action in 13 hours.

10. The blow thus struck must be a severe one to the Rebels in this quarter, and though Fuzul Huq keeps his Force together, I am watching him closely, and will attack if a favorable opportunity offers. His present position in the heart of a dense jungle renders it inadvisable to do so at present.

11. My best thanks are due to Captain Kirby, who Commanded the Artillery, and to Captain W. Maxwell, of the Artillery, who having returned to his Civil duties in the Suraie Pergunnah, served as a Volunteer with the Guns and rendered invaluable assistance. The services of this Officer I have already brought prominently to the notice of His Excellency, and when I state that it is by his unremitting exertions the Goorkha Artillery Company was trained, that limbers were made for the Guns, and that we were able to take the Field with Artillery at all, I feel that the Commander-in-Chief will fully appreciate his merits. Captain Ross, Commanding 66th Goorkhas, led the Regiment with great gallantry. His coolness and judgment were conspicuous, and I would beg to recommend him to the favorable notice of His Excellency. Lieutenant and Adjutant Tytler, 66th Goorkhas, severely wounded; Lieutenant Miles, 66th Goorkhas; Lieutenant Gepp, 66th Goorkhas, mortally wounded on the Field and since dead, have been brought to my notice as having prominently distinguished themselves. Captain Ross also mentions the gallant behaviour of Quarter Master Serjeant Delahoy, 66th Goorkhas, and the gallantry of Jusbahdoor Goorung, Sepoy, Lieutenant Miles' Company, was conspicuous.

Captain Baugh, Commanding the Nepal Contingent, to which I attached two Companies of the 66th Goorkhas, gallantly charged the right flank of the Enemy and carried the Guns. The efficiency of the Contingent is greatly due to his exertions for the past six weeks in drilling and equipping them. Captain Baugh speaks in high terms of Captain Bodee Maun Singh, who Commands the Goorkhas; Lieutenant Boree Gorung, and Adjutant Phulwan Sing. My best thanks are due to Captain Crossman, Commanding the Rohilcund Horse; this Corps has been organized and equipped by him within the last three months. He charged and dispersed at their head, a very superior body of Patan Cavalry across a country and under a fire that would have tried the metal of any Troops. The Officers and Men mentioned by him I would recommend to the favorable notice of His Excellency.

Captain Brownlow, my Major of Brigade, afforded me every assistance, and I would beg to recommend him to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief as a good and efficient Staff Officer. Captain Warde, late 68th Native Infantry, acted as my Orderly Officer, and was most active and useful.

Surgeon H. Irwin, 66th Goorkhas, accompanied the Force, and I am much indebted to him for his unremitting exertions for the comfort of the wounded on the Field, and their removal to Camp, which he effected with very inadequate means.

I cannot close this Report without recording, though I fear I may not do so in adequate terms, the assistance rendered to me on this and every occasion, during the last eight months, by Major H. Ramsay, the Commissioner of Kumaon. His exertions to equip, maintain and feed this Force have been unceasing. Suffering still from the effects of a severe accident which deprived him of the use of an arm, he accompanied me to the Field, where his local knowledge was invaluable. It is not for me to record the services he has rendered to Government in his District; but I may say that the general feeling of security that has prevailed in the Kumaon Hills was mainly due to his watchfulness and untiring energy.

Mr. C. Carmichael, of the Civil Service, and Mr. Reed, Inspector of Forests, accompanied the Troops, and made themselves most useful in pointing out the positions of the Enemy.

I enclose a Return of the Ordnance captured, and a Casualty Return of the Force, which I trust may not be considered excessive considering what has been accomplished and the strength and position of the Enemy.

No. 22 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report, by Major General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., of the repulse of an attack on his position at Alum Bagh, on the morning of the 21st February 1858, in which the arrangements made by Sir J. Outram were most judicious and effectual, and the conduct of the Troops engaged was highly creditable to them.

No. 83.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Comdg. 1st Division.
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

Camp Alum Bagh, 21st February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that this morning the Enemy attacked my position, and with the usual result.

2. Having filled all their trenches with as many men as they would hold, and placed large masses of Infantry in the topes all along our front in support of them, they commenced a simultaneous movement round both our flanks, at the same time threatening the whole length of our position, and attacking the North-east corner of the Alum Bagh, and also the Picquet and Fort of Jellalabad, against which they brought 4 Guns.

3. I immediately, on perceiving their intention, re inforced the posts of Alum Bagh and Jellalabad which easily repulsed the attacks made on them, and inflicted much loss on the assailants, who had advanced under cover of long grass and underwood within grape shot range of both these posts.

4. I detached about 250 Cavalry and 2 Field Guns to the rear of the Fort of Jellalabad, under Command of Captain Barrow, Volunteer Cavalry, where they suddenly came on about 2000 of the Enemy's Cavalry. Our Guns immediately opened on them, killing several, which caused them to withdraw to the immediate vicinity of the Infantry, attacking the Fort in number about 5,000; they remained there until the attack was abandoned, when they all withdrew towards the City.

5. The attack on our left flank was made by about from 8 to 10,000 Infantry and 500 Cavalry, to oppose whom I sent out the remaining 4 Field Guns available, supported by the Military Train (120 in number) under Command of Major Robertson, of the Military Train, keeping the 2d Infantry Brigade in reserve. The Cavalry and Guns soon drove back the Enemy's Cavalry, and their Infantry then halted, and on the Guns being turned on them, soon commenced to retreat also, and were followed up by us until within range of their Batteries.

6. A large Convoy was on the road at the time, the escort required for which materially crippled our small Cavalry Force, and prevented any thing more being effected than frustrating their attempts to gain our rear and molest the Convoy.

7. The reports from the City state the Enemy to have lost 60 killed and 200 wounded in their attack on Alum Bagh, and about 80 or 90 killed and wounded in front of Jellalabad. This was exclusive of their loss on the left flank, and along our front, where our heavy Artillery had constant opportunities of firing shell and shrapnel into the midst of their moving masses. I consider their loss to have been heavier than on any of their previous attacks.

8. I have the pleasure to state that, as on all former occasions, the conduct of the Troops engaged, both Officers and Men, was admirable.

9. Major Tinling, 90th Light Infantry, and Nicholson, Royal Engineers, Commanded respectively at Alum Bagh and Jellalabad, and defended their posts with much spirit. Major Nicholson particularly:

praises the energy with which Lieutenant Ford, of the Royal Artillery, opposed the fire of the Enemy's 4 Guns with the only Gun that could be brought to bear on them.

10 Our loss amounted to nine wounded.
A Nominal Roll is transmitted herewith.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 19th March 1858.

At a European General Court Martial held at Shoay Gheen on Saturday the 16th day of January 1858, Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

Charge.—For having at Shoay Gheen, on the 12th of September 1857, been drunk when on duty as Garrison Officer of the day.

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, is Guilty of the Charge.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner Guilty as above stated, doth sentence him, the said Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, to be cashiered.

SHOAY GHEEN, 21st January 1858.

Approved and confirmed.

OOTACAMUND,
18th March 1858. }

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lieutenant General,
Commander in Chief.

Recommendation by the Court.

The Court having thus performed the painful duty of awarding punishment in strict conformity to an Article of War which deprived them of all discretionary power beg leave to recommend the Prisoner to the merciful consideration of the confirming authority.

Remarks by His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

I. His Excellency the Commander in Chief considers it greatly to be regretted that the Court in recommending Lieutenant Carr as an object of mercy did not particularize the grounds of their recommendation.

They leave it to be inferred that the circumstances of the case or the character of the offender warrant their intercession, and they state that a more merciful sentence would have been passed, had the power rested in their hands.

II. But Lieutenant Carr has neither youth nor inexperience to plead in his behalf; his offence was not the result of accident, but of his own wilful act; he has produced no witnesses to character; and from his own defence it may be gathered that he has been addicted to intemperance.

III. Adverting to these considerations His Excellency feels disposed to attach little weight to the circumstances urged in defence, that a Bottle of Beer taken for refreshment on the road to visit his Guards, and exposure to the sun produced the effect upon Lieutenant Carr described by the witnesses. In His Excellency's opinion there are many circumstances that negative the supposition.

IV. When the Commander in Chief regards the state in which this Officer is represented to have been: dressed in full uniform in the performance of an important duty, wandering in the public Bazar and exhibiting his drunkenness to the gaze of a crowd of deriding natives, and before several European Soldiers, who felt scandalized by his conduct and interfered for his protection; and only prevented from exposing himself in this state before the Guards of the Station by the stratagem of two European Officers who fortunately succeeded in preventing his doing so, the case assumes a complexion admitting of no extenuation, and precludes His Excellency from pardoning an offence so destructive of all discipline.

V. Satisfied that he could not consistently give effect to the recommendation of the Court in the face of that which appeared on the Proceedings, the Commander in Chief referred to the Records for Lieutenant Carr's former character, but he regrets to find that habits of intemperance had been indulged in by that Officer, after frequent admonition from his superiors for some time past.

VI. Drunkenness on duty in an Officer is an offence of such an unpardonable nature, so subversive of all discipline, and from which such serious results might arise, that instances are rare in which it has been pardoned, and His Excellency will not help to establish precedents that shall afford to offenders the slightest hope that such an offence may be committed with impunity; the present sentence therefore must be carried into effect.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

(Signed) W. G. WOODS, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, is to be struck off the strength of the Army, from the date of the publication of this order at Shoay Gheen, which is to be reported to the Adjutant General of the Army.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,
W. G. WOODS, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

Lieutenant E. R. Hudleston, 14th Regiment N. I., in continuation to 5th June 1858—Madras.

No. 31.—The Commander in Chief directs the publication in General Orders for general information and guidance of the following Extracts from the forthcoming Section of the General Regulations of the Army.

“AMMUNITION, ARMS, ACCOUTREMENTS &c.”

Marking of Arms.

53. The Arms of the men of Regiments are invariably to be marked and the letters and figures requisite for this purpose are to be indented for by Corps.

54. In the marking of Arms, Accoutrements and appointments, with a view to avoid as far as possible, the exchange of Arms, &c., between Individuals of the same Corps on the occurrence of Casualties; the following system is to be observed in assigning Regimental, Troop or Company numbers.

55. In Regiments of Cavalry and Infantry Arms will be marked with numbers from 1 upwards according to the Regimental Establishment, but in the Horse and Foot Artillery and in the Corps of Sappers and Miners they will be numbered separately by Troops, Companies and Departments.

II. When all ranks as in Troops of Horse Artillery and Regiments of Cavalry, are equipped alike, numbers are to be assigned from 1 upwards according to establishment. That is, from the Native Commissioned Officer, or European Non-Commissioned Officer, to the Gunner or Private.

III. When there are two or more descriptions of Equipments in a Corps, the several Ranks equipped alike are to be numbered in separate series from 1 upwards. For instance, in a Company of Foot Artillery, the Sergeants and Buglers being differently equipped, the former will be numbered in one series from 1 upwards, and the latter (including half pay Buglers) in another series from 1 upwards, and similarly the Corporals, or Naigues, Bombardiers, Gunners or Privates, being all similarly equipped, will be numbered in a third series.

56. The Arms, Accoutrements and appointments are to be numbered in the same manner, with the addition of the distinguishing Letters and Figures of the Corps.

They are to be marked in one or more lines as may be found most convenient thus.

57. Thus in the Infantry the same Arms and Equipments will remain attached to a Private or Corporal so long as he serves in either rank in his Regiment and in the Cavalry throughout the whole period of his Service in his Corps whatever may be his rank.

58. To facilitate reference to the name of the Soldier responsible for each set of Equipments, the marks and numbers upon the Arms &c., in his possession are to be entered opposite his name in a Nominal Roll of the Troop, Company &c., which is to be inserted at the end of the Muster Roll Book.

59. Whenever new Muskets, Fuzils, Carbines or Rifles are issued for the first time to Corps, the year of issue with the Letter I, is to be marked, by the Ordnance Department, upon the surface of the Heel Plate between the two Screws which secure the Plate to the Butt, should any of these Arms be afterwards returned into Arsenal in a serviceable condition and re-issued to Corps, they are in like manner to be marked by the Ordnance Department with the year in which they may have been so returned and reissued. These letters and figures are never, during any subsequent repairs, or transfers from one Troop or Company to another, to be filed out. These marks are altogether independent of the Regimental marking above referred to.

MEMORANDUM.

The following communication from the Post Master General is published for general information.

No. 4583.—Considering the paucity of Regular Post Offices and the absence of District or local Post Offices on the lines of Post Road in that portion of H. H. the Nizam's territories within the Madras Postal range the Post Master General is of opinion that it would be advantageous to the Public Service if the rule which prohibits the despatch of Letters, &c. outside Tappal were so far modified as to enable Officers Commanding Forces, Regiments or Detachments marching within those limits to entrust Public Letters and despatches to runners to post at the nearest Post Office but no private letter must be given, nor must a runner be detained.

In the event of its coming to the knowledge of the Post Master General, that private Letters have been sent or runners detained, the privilege will be withdrawn and the matter reported to the Director General of the Post Office in India.

Service Letters for a Force &c, marching should be sent outside tappal from the Post Office nearest to the Camp.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 20th March 1858.

At a European General Court Martial held in Camp at Jubbulpore on Friday the 12th day of February 1858, Lieutenant George Shirley Newdick of the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

First Charge.—For having in Camp near Kamptee on the 2d of January 1858, neglected to obey a Regimental Order of the same date directing that sundry incomplete documents should be completed by Officers Commanding Companies and a report thereof sent in by Memorandum by 5 post Meridian of the same date.

Second Charge.—For un-officer-like conduct, to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline, in having, in Camp near Kamptee on the night of the 2d January 1858, been drunk, and thereby incapacitated for the performance of duty, he being at the time warned for duty as Regimental Orderly Officer for the following day, and his Regiment under orders to march at 3 o'clock on that morning.

Finding.—The Court having duly weighed and maturely considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner George Shirley Newdick, Lieutenant in the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, is

Guilty of the 2d Charge.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner Guilty as above stated, doth sentence him, the said George Shirley Newdick, Lieutenant in the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, to be placed at the bottom of the list of Lieutenants of the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry.

CAMP GHOSULPORE, 19th February 1858.

Approved and confirmed.

12th March 1858. }

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lieutenant General,
Commander in Chief.

Lieutenant Newdick's name is to be transposed in the List of Lieutenants of the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, and will stand in future next below Lieutenant E. D. Gompertz.

Lieutenant Newdick, is to be released from arrest and directed to return to his duty.

At a European General Court Martial held in Camp at Jubbulpore on Friday the 12th day of February 1858, James Killeen, General Number 3387, Gunner in the D. Company of the 3d Battalion of Madras Artillery, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

Charge.—For wilful murder, in having on or about the 4th day of January 1858, on the road between Puonaghur and Ghosulpore, being then and there a Soldier serving in the territories of the East India Company at a distance of upwards of 120 miles from the Presidency of Fort St. George, feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought, made an assault upon Jealall, a native of the Brahmin Caste, Labourer, and Inhabitant of Mohulla Bundyapoor in the Jubbulpore District, and then and there shot off, and discharged at, and against, the said Jealall, a Fuzil loaded with Gunpowder and a leaden bullet, and thereby, then and there inflicted between the 5th and 6th ribs of the said Jealall with the leaden bullet aforesaid, a mortal wound, whereof he, the said Jealall died at the same place on the same day.

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner James Killeen, General No. 3387, Gunner in the D. Company of the 3d Battalion of Madras Artillery, is Guilty of so much of the charge as amounts to Manslaughter.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner guilty as above stated, doth sentence him the said James Killeen, General Number 3387, Gunner in the D. Company of the 3d Battalion of Madras Artillery, to imprisonment without hard labor for two years.

CAMP, JUBBULPORE 15th February 1858.

Confirmed.

The Prisoner to be made over to the Civil Power at Jubbulpore, for the purpose of having the sentence carried into effect.

No. 120 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, 8th March 1858.

No. 28 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish, for general information, the subjoined Report of a very gallant and successful affair between the escort with a fleet of boats, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding Naval Brigade and the Rebels, which took place on the 17th of February 1858, near Chandepoor, and resulted in the capture of the Fort at that place, and the safe passage of the fleet of boats, up the Gogra.

No. 177.

FROM BRIGDR.-GENL. G. H. MACGREGOR, C. B., Military Commissioner,

TO THE SECY. TO GOVERNMENT with the Governor General, Foreign Department—Allahabad.

Camp, Phoolpoor Manja, 24th Feby. 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to enclose, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, a copy of a letter from Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, giving cover to a Report from Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the escort of the fleet of boats for the bridging of the Gogra, of a most gallant and creditable affair between the Enemy and the Escort, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, which resulted in the capture of the strong Fort of Chandepoor and the safe passage of the Fleet.

2. I would beg to bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council the gallant and spirited conduct of all the Officers and Men engaged on this occasion, and particularly that of Captain Sotheby, R. N., whose performance of the very arduous duty of escorting that large Fleet up so rapid and difficult a River, with one bank crowned with Forts manned by the Enemy, has been such as to merit the very best acknowledgments that I can bestow. The crowning exploit of attacking and capturing the strongest Fort on the River with his handful of men, will recommend itself at once to the notice of His Lordship in Council.

3. I would also beg particularly to mention the name of Captain Weston, attached to the Ramdull Regiment, who, I regret to say, was severely wounded, and who is spoken of in such high terms of praise by Captain Sotheby.

4. To Lieutenant Burlton, in Command of the Seikhs, and Captain Davidas Opadceah, in Command of the Goorkhas, my best thanks are due, as well as to all the Officers and Men of the Force.

Camp, Phoolpoor, right bank of the Gogra, 23rd February 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to transmit to you the accompanying letter No. 28, dated Phoolpoor, 22nd Instant, from Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M. S. Frigate Pearl, reporting a very gallant and successful affair on the 17th Instant, in taking the Fort of Chandepoor on the right bank of the River Gogra, by a Detachment of the Sarun Field Force under his Command, while giving escort to a fleet of boats, and the Jumna Steamer, proceeding up the River to be made available for crossing into Oudh the Nepalese Army under the Command of His Highness Maharajah Jung Bahadoor.

2. I shall esteem it a favor your bringing the same to the favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

3. I beg to express my great regret at losing the useful and active services of Captain Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, severely wounded.

4. I beg to annex a List of Casualties, and of the Ordnance and Stores captured on the 17th Instant.

I have &c.,

No 28.

To COLONEL ROWCROFT, Comdg. Field Force, Phoolpoor.

Camp, Phoolpoor, 22d Feby. 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to acquaint you, whilst escorting the fleet of 150 boats up the Gogra, I received information that the Village and Fort of Chandepoor on the right bank were strongly held by the Enemy, who intended to resist the progress of the boats. I therefore landed on the 17th Instant at 10 A. M., two miles below, with the Force named in the margin, to attack the Fort, and clear away all obstruction. Line being formed by the Seamen, with a Mountain Howitzer in the centre under Lieutenant Twinons, preceded by a strong body of Marines and Seamen as Skirmishers, with supports of Seikhs and other Seamen under Captain Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, and a reserve of Goorkhas, I quickly advanced through the thick cover and high growing crops; passing through the village, found it deserted; but on emerging from it, the Skirmishers were received by a heavy fire of Musketry and Guns from men concealed in rifle pits, in the thick prickly jungle of bamboo which surrounded the Fort. Captain Weston gallantly dashed forward, and whilst trying to force in the wicker gate, was badly wounded in the shoulder by a villain who had just implored mercy, and was carried to the rear. Mr. Ingles, mate, then took charge of the Skirmishers, and a good fire was kept up on both sides, our men getting shelter in the village; the Gun was quickly pushed up within 100 yards of the entrance and plied the jungle well with grape. At the same time I ordered Mr. Fowler, in the Jumna Steamer, to advance and enfilade the Fort with grape, which made it too hot, and the Goorkhas threatening the right flank, the Rebels being afraid of their retreat being cut off, fled through the jungle in the rear as we entered in the front, leaving behind them two Guns with spare waggon, ammunition, &c., and a quantity of silk dresses, silver-mounted swords, ornaments, money, &c., which evidently belonged to some influential men. The action commenced at 11, and firing ceased at 12-15.

The Enemy is supposed to have been about 300, but probably not many killed, as they were perfectly concealed. Our casualties were four wounded—two severely. I did not attempt to pursue them from the smallness of my Force, and the object perfectly accomplished, having passed up the Fleet, I burnt the Fort and adjacent buildings, withdrew the pickets, re-embarked on the Steamer, and proceeded up the River; but it being dark, without a Pilot, we shortly grounded and remained exposed to the shore till the next morning.

I have now much pleasure in bringing to your notice the cheerful manner of all under my Command, and especially I beg to recommend to the consideration of the Commander-in-Chief the gallant conduct of that fine Soldier, Captain Weston, whose temporary loss from his severe wound every one in the Camp most deeply deplores. Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Native Infantry, with his Seikhs were as usual well forward, and the Goorkhas, under Captain Davidas Opadecah, rendered good service. I am also much indebted to Captain Reid, 37th Native Infantry, for his valuable service, who landed as a Volunteer from his charge of the boats. Drs. Shore, R.N., and Hilson, H. E. I. C. S., were in close attendance with the wounded.

It is nearly impossible to describe the strength of the Fort, peculiar to Oudh surrounded by a thick jungle of prickly bamboo nearly impassable with high banks. Inside was a line of rifle-pits and loop-holed breast-works with a zig-zag path with gates, leading to a second set, and in front of the Fort were bastions with a sort of parapet all loop-holed, as were all the other buildings in the place, all round which was thick cover.

The following Officers were also present :—
Lord Charles Scott, Mr. Foot, Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Cooley, Boatswain; and the Jumna Steamer, Captain Williamson, was well handled.

I have, &c.,

R. SIMSON, Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of India, with the Governor General.

Allahabad, the 11th March 1858,

No. 31 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great pleasure in publishing the accompanying Despatch, from Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., reporting the particulars of an unusually resolute attack on his position, on the 25th February 1858, and of its gallant repulse by the Troops under his Command, to whom, as well as to their distinguished leader, His Lordship offers his thanks for the good service rendered on this occasion.

FROM MAJ.-GENL. SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Comdg 1st Division.
TO THE DEPUTY ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY,

Camp, Alum Bagh, 26th February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report the particulars of a repulse of a determined demonstration, which the Enemy made on our position yesterday, the 25th Instant.

2. The principal attack was on our right, against which 24 Regiments of Regular Infantry, 6 Nujeeb Corps, 1,000 Cavalry and 8 Guns moved out from the trenches; of this number about one-half, with 2 Guns, advanced towards our right rear, and having occupied the "topes" immediately to the East of Jellalabad, commenced shelling that post heavily, evidently in the hope of igniting the large quantity of combustible stores at present collected there, while the remainder held in support the villages and "topes" directly in front of the Enemy's out-works.

3. Large bodies of Infantry and Cavalry, with 3 Guns, simultaneously menaced our left, and the trenches in front of our position were occupied in force.

4. Soon after 10 A. M., I moved out with detachments of Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry, as per accompanying Return, to intercept the Column which had opened its Guns on Jellalabad, having previously sent Barrow's Volunteers and Wale's Horse round, via Nowrungabad, to co-operate in the rear.

5. As we advanced, a portion of the Enemy's reserve made a demonstration against our left; but were speedily driven back, and afterwards held in check by the 4 Guns of Remington's Troops, supported by a Squadron of the 7th Hussars, under Colonel Hagart, and by Brasyers' Seikhs.

6. The Column then moved forward, flanked on the left by Brigadier Campbell with the Native Cavalry, which pushed on in advance to intercept the Enemy's retreat, which, owing to their having heard the fire of Remington's Guns, proved more sudden than we had anticipated. The manœuvre was completely successful, and speedily converted their retreat into a rout, Brigadier Campbell's Detachment assailing them on one side, while Barrow's and Wale's Horse appeared on the opposite quarter, and the Military Train, under Captain Robertson, dashed into the middle of the flying Enemy, and Captured their 2 Guns. The rapidity of their flight prevented the Infantry from taking a prominent part in the action. At 1 P. M., when we finally left the field, the foe had vanished.

7. In the mean time the hostile forces on the left of my position had retired before the very effective fire of Moir's Guns, not liking the looks of the arrangement which had been prepared by Brigadier Franklyn, who had been left in command of the Camp, for their reception.

8. Judging from the corpses which strewed the field where the Cavalry had charged, and from the dense masses upon which our Guns repeatedly opened, the Enemy's Casualties must have been heavy. Our loss consisted of four men killed, five Officers and twenty men wounded.

9. My cordial acknowledgments are due to all the Officers and Men who conducted and took part in these operations, but especially to the Military Train, whose brilliant charge excited the enthusiasm of all who witnessed it.

10. Colonel Berkeley, my able and zealous Military Secretary, whose knowledge of the ground was of great service to Brigadier Campbell in cutting off the Enemy's retreat, was wounded while gallantly charging at the head of Hodson's Horse, as was Lieutenant Moorsom while rendering to Barrow and Wale assistance similar to that which Colonel Berkeley afforded the Brigadier.

11. About 4 P. M., the Enemy again moved out against us. On this occasion they directed their principal efforts against our left, and evinced more spirit and determination than they have hitherto done. Repeatedly they advanced within grape and musket range, and as they ever met with a warm reception from our Guns and Enfields, especially from those of the left front picket, Commanded by Major Master, of the 5th Fusiliers, they must have suffered severely.

* They renewed their fire from time to time during the night; but solely, I believe, with the object of covering the parties engaged in removing their dead. Our loss in this subsequent operation amounted to one man killed and fourteen wounded. In all five men killed, and thirty-five Officers and men wounded.

* Information has since been received, which states the Enemy's loss throughout the day to have been between 400 and 500.

12. The conduct of the Troops throughout the entire day and night was excellent at every point, and merits the highest commendation.

The usual Returns of Ordnance captured and of Casualties are hereby forwarded.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. OUTRAM, Major-Genl., Commanding 1st Division.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 15th March 1858.

No. 32 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Reports of an expedition against Ghose Mahomed Khan, the Agent of the Rebel Chief of Allygurh, which took place on the 24th of August 1857, in the District of Allygurh, near Coel.

These documents have only now reached Government in the Military Department.

The Governor General has much satisfaction in publicly recognizing the eminent services on that occasion of Mr. A. H. Cocks, Special Commissioner, of Brevet Major Montgomery, 15th Regiment Native Infantry, who Commanded the Expedition, of Captain Murray, late of the Gwalior Contingent, Commanding the Jat Horse; and His Lordship tenders his best thanks to Captain Strover, Commanding a Detachment of the 3d European Regiment, to Lieutenant Griffin, Commanding the Detachment of Artillery; to Lieutenant DeKantzo, in Command of the Militia; to Mr. Daniell, C. S.; to Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who particularly distinguished himself in the field; to Mr. P. Saunders, whose services are highly eulogized; and to the other Gentlemen of the Civil Service, and to the Military and Medical Officers, whose gallant conduct and good services are mentioned in these Reports.

The Governor General deeply laments the death of Mr. J. O'B. Tandy, who behaved with conspicuous gallantry in this affair, and whose conduct throughout was only what was to have been expected from his known character, and his former most zealous services.

FROM MR. A. H. COCKS, Special Commissioner,

TO C. B. THORNHILL, Esquire, Secy. to Government, N. W. P.

Sir,—I have the honor to report for the information of his Honor the Lieutenant Governor, that we are in possession of the important Town of Coel; and that, as far as can at present be ascertained, the effects of the victory which was obtained over the Rebels, on the 24th Ultimo, are as satisfactory as could be hoped for.

2. His Honor has already been demi-officially informed of the operations of the force under Major Montgomery. I now record the reasons for the advance on Coel, and a short resume of matters since I left Agra.

3. On the 21st Ultimo, I was deputed to Hattrass to collect revenue and restore confidence to the people of that part of the District, who had abstained in a certain measure from evincing the rebellious spirit generally shown by the inhabitants of this Zillah.

4. I found on arrival at Hattrass that none of the objects of the expedition could be satisfactorily carried out, in consequence of the insolence of Ghose Mahomed Khan, who had, on the part of the King of Delhi, set himself up at Coel as the Ruler of that place. He had sent out a considerable force of his horsemen to Mudrack, 8 miles from Allygurh, on the road to Hattrass, and an advance guard to Sasnee, only 6 miles from the latter place; and his followers boasted of their intention to advance on Hattrass itself.

(COPY.)

FROM BREVET-MAJOR G. J. MONTGOMERY, 15th N. I. Major of Brigade.
Commanding Detachment at Hattrass.

TO LIEUT.-COLONEL H. COTTON, Commanding at Agra.

Camp Hattrass, 1st September 1857.

SIR,—For your information, I have the honor to state, that the Detachment under my Command, as per margin, arrived at Hattrass, on the evening of the 21st Ultimo, and on the day following, intelligence was received that the Allygurh Insurgents, numbering 5 to 6,000, under Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Soobah of the King of Delhi, had assumed the offensive, and were marching to attack our position; further, that their advance guard had been pushed forward to Mudrack, about 12 miles from Hattrass. But as the information, though most important, could not be depended upon, Mr. J. O'B. Tandy volunteered, accompanied by Mr. C. Daniell, C. S., and Lieutenant De Kantzow, to ride on in the direction the Enemy were said to have taken up their position, for the purpose of obtaining reliable and certain information of the movements and position of the insurgents as far as possible.

2. In the meantime I made the necessary arrangements for repelling an attack, and to prevent a surprise during the night.

3. At midnight Mr. Tandy and party returned, bringing intelligence, that the advance guard of the insurgents had fallen back, leaving a party of Horse (supposed to be the Mutineers of the 15th Irregulars) at Mudrack, and had taken up their position, determined to fight in a garden with high embankments belonging to Maun Sing, close to and connecting with similar enclosures, near to and on the outskirts of the City of Allygurh.

4. From the information I received, I determined at once, in concurrence with the Commissioner A Cocks, Esq., on special duty, to attack their position at all hazard; and on Sunday the 23rd Ultimo, commenced our march towards Allygurh, lightly equipped and prepared against any contingency, and arrived at Sasnee about the close of the evening, having been detained by heavy rain on the line of march, and halted for the night. An old Indigo Factory close to the road with adjoining buildings, and the Government Carts placed at my disposal, afforded tolerable shelter for both men and Officers, and by the assistance of the Civil Authorities, large fires were lighted throughout the camp, by which the men dried their clothes. Every precaution was taken for the protection of the camp, and the night passed off without any thing occurring, worthy of notice, beyond the capture of a youth near one of the Guns, who was confined and subsequently flogged, it having been ascertained, that he had come from Allygurh.

5. At day-break, we resumed our march towards Allygurh in good heart, and elated with the prospect of meeting and chastising with retributive vengeance, Rebels and Mutineers unequalled for their cruel fiendish malignity and cowardly atrocities to our helpless (in most instances) countrymen and their families, though so vastly superior in number; but still fighting in a good cause and with the fullest reliance on Almighty Aid, of the result on closing with the Enemy, there was but one feeling which animated and pervaded the minds of most composing the Detachment.

6. I must here mention that on starting from Sasnee, Mr. Cocks placed at my disposal 70 Jat Horse and Matchlock men belonging to Thakoor Gobind Sing, the former being under the Command of Captain J. J. Murray, of the late Gwalior Contingent, and the latter of Mr. Daniell, C. S., and who, as will afterwards appear, were of great service.

7. On nearing Mudrack about seven miles from Allygurh, we observed a party of Cavalry quietly retiring, fully a mile ahead of our advance guard, which consisted of a Company of the 3rd Europeans on Elephants, preceded by the Militia Cavalry and Jat Horse. The Enemy's Cavalry had evidently no wish to interfere with our advance, and continued to retire, till nearing their position, they sidled off to the left, and were joined by others.

8. The Detachment continued to advance to within a quarter of a mile of Maun Sing's garden, and on ascertaining the exact position of the Enemy, measures were promptly taken for the protection of the carriage, &c., consisting of a numerous train of waggons, 130 head of cattle, 16 elephants, and many camels with ammunition and stores, which to me surrounded as we were on nearly all sides by overwhelming numbers of the Enemy, caused me no little anxiety.

9. The carriage, &c., having been collected on the smallest possible space by Captain Fanshawe, I placed at his disposal, for their protection, the Jat Matchlock men and a few Sowars under Mr. Daniell, who performed that important duty most efficiently and satisfactorily.

10. Having secured the baggage, &c., with greatest care and anxiety, I commenced the action by attacking, with the Militia Cavalry under Lieutenant De Kantzow and the Jat Horse, a large body of Cavalry chiefly Irregulars, who threatened our left and rear.

11. This duty was most gallantly and promptly performed, and our left and rear having thus been cleared of the Enemy's Cavalry, who were driven back to the rear of their main body, I brought the Guns into position, under cover of skirmishers, and opened fire, which was sharply replied to by the Enemy from behind the garden walls, against which I found Artillery

5. All these demonstrations quite paralyzed my efforts for good; and with the hearty concurrence of Major Montgomery, a movement on Coel was decided upon. We accordingly marched to Sasnee on the evening of the 23rd and halted there. The next morning we resumed our march and came up with the Rebels, 3 miles from Coel, at about 10 A. M., when the battle began, and lasted till 1 P. M.

6. Major Montgomery will report the plan of operations as well as the conduct of the Troops. I will only observe that before we left the field not an Enemy was in sight. The corpses of most of their slain were leisurely examined by us; and those of our own, only five in number, were reverently removed and placed on a conveyance.

7. On political grounds, I was most anxious to make an entrance into Allygurh; but for military reasons, (which Major Montgomery will explain, and which were undoubtedly most prudent,) the order was given to retire. This was done in a dignified manner. We remained three hours at Sasnee, and reached Hattrass at night.

8. The next morning I learnt that all the Rebels who fought against us, with Ghose Mahomed at their head, had precipitately abandoned the city; that two of the leaders, (Moulvees), who had inflamed the religious fanaticism of the Musulman population, had been killed; and that all the peaceful citizens of Coel were anxiously expecting our arrival.

9. More Ammunition was accordingly procured from Agra; and on the 28th, at 7 A. M., we made a triumphant entry into the Town and Cantonments, where we have remained ever since in undisturbed possession.

10. I beg to bring to your notice the useful and gallant services of Captain Murray, or the late Gwalior Contingent. His Report is herewith enclosed, and it fully shows the aid given by the Jat Horsemen under Thakoor Gobind Sing. Captain Murray has shown himself throughout the expedition to be as brave and dashing a soldier in the field as he is cautious and sensible in counsel; and his example infused some measure of courage into the Jats. I cordially agree with all he says of his subordinates. Mr. Hennessy is a most promising young gentleman; and I sincerely trust he may obtain a commission from the Hon'ble Company, to which I pledge myself he will do honor. Mr. P. Saunders was also prominently engaged during the whole action; and I mention him in my Report as he was in some measure associated with me. Major Montgomery will, I doubt not, mention his conspicuous gallantry, as well as that of his cousin, the amenable Mr. J. O'B. Tandy, who fell, as all anticipated, in a noble and self-sacrificing manner.

11. I trust Thakoor Gobind Sing will be well rewarded with a Khillut, as well as in some substantial manner, for the services he has rendered, and the sacrifices he has made to prove his fidelity.

12. Chobay Ghunseean Doss, late Tehseeldar of Hattrass must be mentioned as an extraordinary example of wisdom, bravery, and integrity. His intelligence from all parts has never failed; his advice has been judicious and honest; and his influence with all parties, and the respect with which he is treated by them, are as remarkable as his unflinching attitude towards the Enemies of the Government. In a word, during the whole of this rebellion, I have seen no native equal to him, or more deserving of the confidence on the Government of India, and of a higher mark of their regard.

13. The Deputy Collector of Boolundshuhur, Doorga Persad, has shown himself to be a man of considerable bravery, as well as of intelligence; and I would say the same of the two brothers of the Chobay Gunseean, by name Jai Kiso and Dhunput Roy, Tehseeldars, respectively, of Hattrass and Eglas.

14. I beg to express the high opinion I entertain of the services of Messrs. Lane, Daniell and E. Colvin. Mr. Lane was only a volunteer, and therefore I had not so much to do with him. Mr. Colvin was with me throughout the expedition. He not only gave me every assistance as a coadjutor in the work of the District, but was also prominent in the field, where he had the good fortune to shoot one of the leading Gazees. On Mr. Daniell and the foot under Rundeer Sing, devolved the protection of the baggage in the rear. The duty was important and dangerous, and it was well and bravely performed. I forward Mr. Daniell's Report.

15. In conclusion, I beg to express my hearty thanks to Major Montgomery for his uniform co-operation; and there is but one opinion amongst all who have been associated with him, as to the qualities he has shown in the Command of the Force. I know not whether to dilate most on his admirable arrangements on the line of march, or on the field of battle, or in Cantonments. He is every where day and night.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

A. COCKS, Special Commissioner.

of little avail. Information was now brought to me by Mr. P. Saunders who considerably and kindly placed his services at my disposal, that the Enemy were in great force on the right of the garden; I immediately directed Captain Murray to move round to the right with Jat Horse and cut off the Enemy on the general assault and carrying of their position with the Infantry; at the same time ordering Lieutenant Griffin to move up two of his Guns in the same direction. This movement took some little time, evidently occupying the attention of the Enemy, enabled me to make arrangements for the assault.

12. Leaving a sufficient number of men under Captain Stover to protect the Gun on the left, and all being ready, I gave the word, "Forward" and went to the front accompanied by Lieutenant Clark, and followed by No. 8 Company, of the 3rd European Regiment, under Lieutenant Blake; on reaching the garden wall, a large party of fanatical Mussulmen, headed by Moulvees rushed forward sword in hand from the right corner, and there ensued a most desperate hand to hand encounter, which terminated in their total destruction, and where we met with our chief loss, which might in a great measure have been avoided, had Captain Bacon's Company attached to the two Guns on the right fired upon them as they debouched from the garden immediately in their front.

13. Fortunately at this moment Lieutenant Griffin, at Captain Murray's request, moved up his two Guns, and getting well to the right, opened fire with terrible effect on their reserve, killing great numbers and completely dispersing the remainder. Captain Murray at the same time taking advantage of an opening in the wall, dashed forward with part of the Jat Horse, entered the garden, and cut up the Gazees who remained in it, among whom was the Chief Moulvee Abdoolzuleel, who was cut down in a hand to hand encounter by that Officer.

14. The field was now our own, after two hours fighting, the Enemy having been completely routed and dispersed in all directions, leaving at least 300 dead; thus terminating a decided victory against great odds, and with comparatively small loss on our side, considering the strength of their positions and the number of Gazees, who fought with the desperation and contempt of life of Mussulmen fanatics.

15. On the termination of the action, Mr. Cocks, who throughout the day was by my side, strongly urged following up our success on political grounds, by an immediate advance on Allygurh; but having to thread a defile of walled enclosures (most of which were occupied) a greater part of which running under and close to the city with enormous population; with our grape and canister nearly expended, without scarcely the possibility of getting at the Enemy with our Detachment, in the first instance scarcely equal to the undertaking, much reduced by the killed and wounded, with reports of aid for the insurgents being daily expected from Delhi, with no possibility of obtaining assistance from any quarter nearer than Agra, from where a man could scarcely be spared, with our wounded to attend to and all being well considered and explained to Mr. Cocks, I, with his fullest concurrence, decided on returning to our Head Quarters at Hattrass, taking with us our killed and wounded, with the determination of occupying Allygurh on completing our ammunition, and which we did on the 27th without the slightest opposition.

16. The force opposed to us, Commanded by Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Soobah on the part of Waleed Khan, appointed Soobah by the King of Delhi, was chiefly composed of Mussulmen, among whom were many Gazees, numbering from 5 to 6,000, with 150 Irregular Cavalry and 200 Mahomedan Horse, aided by levies of Zemindar Horse and Foot, chiefly Mewaties amounting to 6 or 700 Men, the whole headed by Moulvee Abdoolzuleel, a very influential religious instructor, and leader of the Gazees, being assisted by several other Moulvees, three of whom, including Abdoolzuleel, were killed, and a fourth wounded.

17. I attribute the success of the action to the cordial co-operation and assistance, I received from the Civil Authorities, and Officers and Men under my Command, and my best thanks are due to Captain Stover, Second in Command, (who in quarter and in the field has rendered me every assistance.) Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and men of the 3rd Europeans, which, though a young Regiment, and under very trying circumstances, behaved with the valour and spirit of British Soldiers.

18. To Lieutenant Griffin, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the Artillery, for the promptitude with which my orders were carried out and to whose energetic exertions I attribute in a great measure the success of the day.

19. Lieutenant DeKantzow, and the Militia Cavalry, who (with the Jat Horse under Captain Murray—this Officer signally distinguished himself in a single handed encounter with a Gazees, who, I am happy to say, was shot down, though not till Captain Murray received a severe, contusion in the arm,) rendered most important service, by successfully attacking and dispersing a large body of Irregular Cavalry at the commencement of the action. Of the conduct of the Militia, both in the field and quarters, I cannot speak too highly.

20. To Assistant Surgeon Mackellar, for his judicious medical arrangements, and his assiduous and humane attention to the wounded.

21. To Lieutenant Blake, 3rd European Regiment and Lieutenant Clarke, of the late Gwalior Contingent, who behaved with conspicuous gallantry, the latter being severely wounded.

22. Ensign O'Donnell, 67th N. I., who during the march, and in the field, assisted me very greatly.

23. Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who greatly distinguished himself, shooting five men with his Rifle, and one with a Revolver, and as he was also present in the action of the 5th July, and is specially be brought to the notice of Government, with a view to his obtaining Military employment.

24. I beg to bring prominently forward the praiseworthy conduct of Reverend Mr. Kellner, who gratuitously accompanied the Detachment, and for whose humane and unremitting attention to the wounded during the action and under fire, too much praise cannot possibly be bestowed.

25. I am also greatly indebted to Mr. Cocks for his cordial co-operation and assistance, on all occasions particularly on the day of the action, and for the very accurate information he obtained, when the most conflicting and contradictory accounts were spread abroad, evidently with the view of discouraging and throwing difficulties in the way of our advance. Also to Mr. Paterson Saunders, and Messrs. Lane and Colvin, of the Civil Service, of whose services I cannot speak too highly in conveying orders throughout the heat of the action.

26. To Captain Fanshawe, in charge of the carriage, &c., for his admirable management in providing ample carriage for the Detachment, and energetic exertions in the Postal Department, as also for the very accurate information he has at all times procured.

27. To Mr. Daniell, C. S., to whom was assigned the responsible duty of protecting the baggage with the Jat Matchlock men.

28. I deeply lament the loss of J. O'B. Tandy, Esq., and Ensign Marsh, 16th Grenadiers, both of whom were Volunteers; the former fell whilst attempting quite alone to enter the walled enclosures. This Gentleman's daring and gallantry could not be surpassed, and possessing, as he did, every qualification that could adorn a Soldier and a Gentleman, his loss has been a matter of the deepest regret to the whole of the party. Ensign Marsh, the son of an old Cavalry Officer in our Service, behaved most gallantly, and at last over-powered by odds, fell cut to pieces by the fanatic Gazees.

A List of the Killed and Wounded, I have the honor herewith to enclose.
I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

To A. COCKS, Esquire, Special Commissioner.

Camp Hattrass, 25th August 1857.

SIR,—AGREEABLY to your request, I have the honor to furnish for your information, the following account of the part taken by Thakoor Gobind Sing's Jat Horse,*

* 70 Sowars under Thakoor Gobind Sing.

under my Command, in the engagement with the Allygurh Insurgents, at Maun Sing's garden, on the 24th Instant.

2. Before attacking their position, Major Montgomery ordered the Militia Cavalry, under Lieutenant DeKantzow, and the Jat Horse, to charge 150 Irregular Cavalry, who were threatening our left flank, and circling round to the rear of our column. The Militia Cavalry† being a small body and easily handled, were the first to move off, but the Jat Horse quickly followed in support, and by their formidable appearance, contributed in no small degree to the defeat of the Irregulars, who, after firing a few shots, were driven back to the rear of their position in complete disorder and did not again show themselves during the action.

These latter were in uniform and armed with carbines, &c.

3. Shortly afterwards I was ordered to sweep round by the right of Maun Sing's garden, and cut up some of the Enemy, who were making their escape; but finding a large party of at least 800 Men and 50 Sowars, drawn up in good order on the right of the garden, Lieutenant Griffin at my request, moved up two of his Guns and opened fire with terrible effect, killing at least 150 of them, and completely dispersing the remainder.

I was preparing to follow them up, when I received an order to charge into the garden and clear it of the Enemy. This, a portion of the Jat Horse did in gallant style, headed by Kurruck Sing, who (were 3 Sowars) was wounded in an encounter with seven of the most desperate Mussulmen, whom they killed. Kurruck Sing was also dangerously wounded by a Musket ball, on leaving the garden; but I am glad to say is going on favourably.

4. Thakoor Gobind Sing gave me every assistance, and was under fire throughout the engagement. Deputy Collector Doorga Persaud and Jey Kissan, Tehseeldar of Hatrass, also distinguished themselves.

5. I have great pleasure in bringing to your notice Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who kindly accompanied me, and as you must have observed, particularly distinguished himself. He killed five men with his Rifle, one with a Revolver, and would have been very severely wounded, had not his pouch saved him from a sword cut, in an encounter with a Mussulman, and he fortunately escaped with a contusion of the arm.

6. Mr. Collier, of the Militia Cavalry, who was attached to me, behaved with his usual gallantry.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. G. MURRAY, Capt, Late Gwalior Contingent, Comd. Jat Horse, on the 24th Instant.

MEMO.

SIR,

ON the morning of the 24th Instant, under Major Montgomery's orders, I marched with the contingent of footmen, furnished by Thakoor Gobind Sing, to the number of one hundred and eleven, from Sasnee. They were under the Command of Runder Sing, the Thakoor's nephew. I was ordered to remain with them all day, and march in the rear of the force, and to carry out the Commanding Officer's orders, with regard to this part of the force. They marched in excellent order, up to the field, about a mile distant from the rear of the force, the Enemy's Cavalry were seen a short distance to the right, but made no attempt at attack, keeping parallel to the rear guard, until they joined the main-body. I there received an order to dispose the men, in the rear, with a view to prevent any attack. The footmen were therefore drawn up, on each side of the baggage in the fields on the side of the road, and the Cavalry about ten in number, who were sent to my rear on the road, completed the cordon, being drawn up between the two lines of Infantry. They kept this position until the order to return to Hatrass, was given, when the horsemen marched in front of the main body, and the footmen in two lines on each side of the baggage. Thakoor Runder Singh's activity was conspicuous. The order he preserved among his men, was very creditable.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

C. J. DANIELL, Joint Magistrate.

No 33 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, forwarding a Report of the storming and capture of the Town of Meeangunge in Oude on the 23rd Ultimo, by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., and to record his concurrence in the high opinion expressed by His Excellency the Commander-in-chief, of the merits of that Officer, and his acknowledgment of the gallant and effective service of the Officers and Soldiers under Sir J. Hope Grant's Command.

Head Quarters, Camp before Lucknow, the 6th March 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of a Report, dated the 5th Instant, from Brigadier General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., Forwards Report of the successful storm of the Town of Meeangunge in Oude, by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier General Sir J. H. Grant of the successful storm of the Town of Meeangunge in Oude, on the 23rd Ultimo, by the Troops under his Command, on which occasion 6 Guns were captured, and about 900 of the Rebels killed or taken prisoners.

2. His Excellency considers that Sir J. Hope Grant, in this, as in all other affairs in which he has been engaged, displayed great energy, zeal and ability, and that he well deserves the approbation of his Lordship.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Sir,—I have the honor to report that, on the morning of the 23rd of February, I marched with the Force named in the margin, to Meeangunge, (with which I had been sent out to clear the country on the left bank of the Ganges, and along the main road from Cawnpore to Lucknow,) where I heard a Force of 2,000 Infantry had taken up a position in the Town with 300 Cavalry outside and 5 or 6 Guns.

The Town was an old walled City with three strong gates, one leading to Lucknow, another to Cawnpore, and the third to Rohilcund; at each of the gates were placed Guns behind strong breastworks, and these three sides were covered with trees. I reconnoitred and found on the fourth side, an excellent position within 350 yards, where the 2 heavy Guns under Major Anderson, c. B., could be brought up, and a part of the wall in which was a postern gate beside a house called the palace, which could be breached. I immediately ordered up the 2 Guns, placed the 53rd Regiment with the 38th in support, in rear of the Guns behind a village. I sent the Cavalry with 4 Guns of the Royal Horse Artillery, to cover the Lucknow road; and the 34th Regiment, with two other Guns and a troop of Cavalry, to cover the baggage on the Rohilcund road. Major Turner's Troop of 9-pounders, under Command of Lieutenant Bishop, I placed on the right of the heavy Guns, to keep down the musketry fire from the walls of the Town.

In the space of 50 minutes, the 2 heavy Guns made a practicable breach, and I then ordered the 53rd Regiment to advance to the assault. They were formed into two columns. One was to proceed through the left of the Town under Colonel English, the other to the right under Major Payne; this duty was performed most admirably by the 53rd; they approached the Town through some lanes to the left, they rushed in at the breach, stormed the Town and took it; 6 Guns were also taken. Numbers of the Enemy were killed, and numbers tried to make their escape through the gates, but we were every where prepared for them, and altogether there must have been 500 killed and 400 taken prisoners. The Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry, on all sides, did their duty and gave me the greatest satisfaction.

I cannot speak too highly of the assistance I received from Major Anderson, c. B., Commanding the Artillery, from Lieutenant-Colonel J. Hagart, Commanding the Cavalry, and from Lieutenant Colonel Sparks, Commanding the Infantry Brigades; also from Major Turner, Bengal Horse Artillery, and from Major Michell, and Lieutenant Bishop, Commanding Troops of Royal and Bengal Horse Artillery; from Major Horne, Commanding 7th Hussars, and from Captain Anson, Commanding 9th Lancers; from Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Commanding 34th Regiment, and from Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Commanding 38th Regiment; also from Lieutenant-Colonel English and Major Payne, 53rd Regiment, who so successfully Commanded all their Columns of assault, and from Captain Gough and Lieutenant Watson, Commanding Detachments of Irregular Cavalry; Lieutenant Dirom, Bengal Horse Artillery; Lieutenant Martin, 9th Lancers, and Captain Fendall, 53rd Regiment, Brigade Majors of Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry, were of the greatest use throughout the day. Lieutenant Warren, Commanding the heavy Guns, deserves great praise for the speedy and effective manner the wall was breached.

To my own personal Staff, I am deeply indebted for their services. Captain Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General, Captain the Honorable A. Anson, Aid-de-Camp, and Lieutenant Havelock, extra Aid-de-Camp. Captain Bruce, Head of the Intelligence Department, and Captain Evans, Deputy Commissioner, afforded me the most valuable aid in obtaining information on this, as on every other occasion; Lieutenants Wilkinson and Hogge, of the Commissariat Department, exerted themselves to the utmost, and materially lessened the difficulties of the march.

I have, &c.,

FORT ST. GEORGE, 13TH APRIL 1858.

No. 139 of 1858.—The Governor in Council has much pleasure in publishing for the information of the Army, the following letter addressed to the Adjutant General of the Army, by Brigadier General J. H. Franks, C. B., Commanding 4th Division Bengal Field Force, dated 13th March 1858, No. 153, bringing to notice the excellent service rendered by the undermentioned Officers of the Madras Army, while serving with the Jounpore Field Force, under his orders.

Major G. S. Cotter, Artillery.

Lieutenant W. J. Bradford, Artillery.

do W. Rawlins, 17th Regiment Native Infantry.

2d Lieutenant S. H. E. Chamier, Artillery.

Assistant Surgeon W. Doyle, F. R. C. S. L.

No. 153.

Begum Serai, city of Lucknow, 13th March 1858.

Sir,—Having lately relinquished on its incorporation with the main Army as the fourth Division, the Command of the Jounpore Field Force which has been since December last operating in the Jounpore, Azimgurh and Allahabad Districts for the expulsion of the Rebels ; whom it has defeated in the four actions of Nusrutpore, Chanda, Amerepore and Sultanpore. I feel it incumbent on me to bring to the notice of His Excellency the Commander in Chief in the Madras Presidency, the excellent services of the Officers of that Army who have been acting under my Command.

2. I allude especially to Major Cotter, Commanding A. Company 3d Battalion Madras Artillery with No. 2 Light Field Battery attached, whose handling of his Guns in all four of the actions I have enumerated has called forth my warm admiration, while his attention to the efficiency of his Battery and the well being of his Company have been most praiseworthy.

He has been assisted by two excellent Subalterns, Lieutenants Bradford and Chamier, who have on every occasion given him efficient support. The conduct of the former Officer in personally assisting to bring away two captured guns (taken at the attack on the Fort of Dhowram) under a heavy fire of matchlocks, has been specially brought to my notice by Lieutenant Colonel Maberly, Royal Artillery, late Commanding the Artillery of the Jounpore Field Force.

Assistant Surgeon Doyle, attached to Major Cotter's Battery has been most assiduous in the performance of his medical duties, and he was appointed by me to the charge of the Field Force Staff.

3. I have also been greatly indebted to Lieutenant Rawlins, 17th Madras Native Infantry, who served for some time as Baggage Master to the Right Column of the Field Force, then detached in the Azimgurh District and subsequently on that Column joining the Force, was appointed in the same capacity with it. The manner in which this Officer has carried out duties of a very arduous nature entailing constant exposure and fatigue has met with my entire approval.

4. These Officers have all in their several positions earned my thanks, and I beg to bring them to the favorable notice of the Commander in Chief.

I have the honor to be, &c.

(Signed) J. H. FRANKS, Brigadier General, Commanding 4th Division.

(Signed) C. A. BROWNE, Colonel,
Secretary to Government.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

F. S. GABB, Major,
Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 15TH APRIL 1858.

No. 140 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 22d March 1858.

No. 38 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has much pleasure in publishing the following Report of an engagement between a Detachment of the Jat Horse, under the Command of Captain J. J. Murray, and a body of the Enemy's Cavalry, at Kutchla Ghat, in which the latter were defeated and dispersed.

The Governor General tenders his acknowledgments to Captain Murray, Lieutenant Hennessy, and the Men who were engaged in this spirited affair.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

FROM CAPTAIN J. J. MURRAY, Comdg. Jat Horse,

To W. MUIR, Esq., Secy. to Govt., N. W. P.

Camp Kashgunge, 13th March 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of my letter No. 25, of the 11th Instant, to Lieutenant Prinsep, Detachment Staff, at Allygurh, giving the particulars of an affair I had with the Enemy's Cavalry at Kutchla Ghat, on the 11th Instant.

2. I earnestly beg to bring to the notice of Government, Local Lieutenant and Adjutant A. C. Hennessy, who was very severely wounded in the charge, and whose bravery was most conspicuous.

3. Nothing could exceed the steadiness of the men when retiring, and their bravery in the attack, those opposed to them being Irregular Cavalry, completely armed, and with every advantage in their favor.

4. The Enemy have not yet carried out their threat of advancing on this place, and I hope to be able to hold my position till the arrival of the Column under Major General Penny, three or four days hence, when I believe, the Jat Horse will return to Allygurh.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. J. MURRAY, Captain, Comdg. Jat Horse.

Copy of Letter No. 25, 11th March 1858.

FROM CAPTAIN J. J. MURRAY, Comdg. Jat Horse.

To LIEUTENANT PRINSEP, Offg. Detachment Staff, Allygurh.

Sir,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Major Eld, Commanding at Allygurh, that, having received information last night of the arrival of Nycazalle Khan at Kutchla Ghat, with 3 Guns and 1,000 Cavalry and Infantry, and further that Wulleedad Khan, thus re-inforced, intended to cross over with his whole Force this morning, I considered it advisable to make a re-advancement towards the Ghat, to watch the movements, and, as far as practicable, ascertain the actual strength of the Enemy.

Accordingly, this morning, I took with me 200 Horse, and, on approaching the Banks of the river, the Enemy, who were on the alert, turned out in force, having at least 600 Cavalry (Irregulars), 2,000 drilled Infantry, and 3 Field Guns, besides two or three others in position.

Having satisfied myself as to their strength, and observing no preparations for crossing over, I decided on returning at once to Kashgunge; but had scarcely moved off, when, to my great surprise, I saw a strong part of their Cavalry crossing the river immediately opposite the Ghat, and where I had been informed it was not fordable, under cover of their Field Guns. I continued to retire in perfect order, not wishing to engage with the Enemy so near their main body. They however advanced rapidly, and a mile on this side of Ruggoub pressed so closely on my Column, that I consider it necessary to charge them, and did so successfully, driving them to that village, beyond which I did not deem it prudent to follow them.

We killed seven of the Enemy, and completely checked their further advance.

I was thus enabled to continue my march unmonested to Sarun, where I halted during the day. In the charge, I regret to say that that most gallant young Officer, Lieutenant and Adjutant Hennessy, received three very severe sword cuts in the right arm, and which will deprive me of his valuable services for sometime, and two Sowars of the Jat Horse were killed. There Horses are also missing.

The advanced portion of the Enemy's Cavalry thus driven back, numbered about 200, and came on with great boldness, well knowing that my men were newly raised and without fire arms.

It appears that the Enemy, being checked in their advance in the direction, subsequently, with a strong Force, proceeded to the village of Arhair, 2 miles above the Ghat, where Darah Sing Thakoor has a strong Ghurrie, defended by 250 armed followers with a Gun. The Enemy attacked the place, but were unsuccessful, and recrossed the river in the afternoon, taking with them a Gun which had been left outside the Ghurrie.

When they retired, Darah Sing and his Followers left the place, and are now in Sarun. The Enemy lost a number of Men, and the Thakoor one or two.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

(Signed) J. J. MURRAY, Capt., Comdg Jat. Horse.

No. 40 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report, by Colonel F. Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, detailing the particulars of the signal victory obtained on the 5th Instant, by the Troops under his Command, over a Rebel force greatly outnumbering them.

Fully concurring in the praise bestowed by Colonel Rowcroft on Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade of Her Majesty's Ship Pearl; on Major Richardson, and Captain Chapman, and the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry led by them; on Colonel Byroon Singh Kooer and Major-Captain Sewuckram Thappa, and in his acknowledgment of the good services of the Officers and Men of all arms under his orders, the Governor General further desires to place on record his full appreciation of the admirable manner in which they were Commanded in this action by Colonel Rowcroft himself.

By Order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

Camp Amarah, 6th March 1858.

On the signal and complete defeat yesterday of the Enemy, who had moved up in great force, from "Belwa, Fyzabad, and Nawabgunge, Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding the Field Force, offers, with great pleasure, his best thanks and congratulations to all the Officers and Men of the Pearl's Naval Brigade, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N.; the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry under Major Richardson; Gorrucknath and Bunuk Goorkha Regiments, under Military charge of Captains Barclay and Brooks, with Captain MacGregor attached; to Colonel Byroon Singh Kooer, and Major-Captain Sewuckram Thappa, Goorkha Commandants; Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., in charge of the Naval Artillery; Lieutenants Ratcliffe and Grant, R. N., in charge of the Naval Column; Lieutenant Pym, R. N., in charge of Marine skirmishers, aided by a party of Rifles from the Naval Column under Lieutenant Burlton, in charge of Sikh skirmishers—all rendered their usual most active and excellent services. The charges of the Yeomanry Cavalry were gallant and most effective; early in the action that of the Right Squadron, under Captain Chapman, ordered and directed by Colonel Rowcroft, was carried out with a rapid and telling effect, driving in the left of the Enemy, killing great numbers, turning and shaking their centre. The advance of the Naval Brigade and Gorrucknath Regiment, ordered at the same time, drove the whole line of the Enemy into full retreat, compelling them to abandon their Guns; and here a Detachment of 20 Troopers, Yeomanry Cavalry, with Cornets Copland and Prinsep, ordered from the Right Squadron to the rear of Naval Guns, to cover and protect them, did excellent and useful service: the combined movements and advance of all the Troops leading to the capture of 7 of the Enemy's Guns. Shortly before this movement, Colonel Rowcroft received a Report from Major Richardson, Commanding Left Squadron on the left, that the Enemy, in great force, had got round our left rear, threatening our Camp. Orders were sent to Major Richardson, with a Troop of his whole Squadron, to attack and clear out the Enemy most gallantly and effectually carried out by Major Richardson and his Squadron, actively aided by a few Goorkha Companies under Captain Brooks. Major Richardson reports that he received great assistance from Cornets Kloer and Troup, who were his Orderly Officers. Colonel Rowcroft's best thanks are also due to Captain Morgan, Field Force Staff, and to Hon'ble V. A. Montague, his Acting A. D. C. for their ready and zealous services; also to Drs. Shore and Dickenson, of the Naval Brigade, and to Dr. J. W. R. Ainsbury, of the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, and to Revd. W. Williams, Naval Chaplain, present in the field.

The Field Force moved out about 7½ A. The action commenced at 8½ A. M. and closed 12½ P. M., in four hours; the Enemy, reported to be 4,000 Sepoys of the 1st, 10th, 58th, 56th, 5th Gwalior Contingent, and 2nd Oude Police Corps, 700 strong 10,000 Irregulars, 300 Sowars and 9 Guns, being beaten at all points pursued 7 miles and completely routed with heavy loss of 7 Guns with limbers and ammunition, and 500 killed and wounded. This most successful action by the Field Force may be considered to have saved Goruckpore from a second immediate rebellion.

Colonel Rowcroft is very happy that our Casualty List is not heavy, though he has to regret the loss of Second Master Mr. John Fowler, R. N., of the Pearl, killed in action by a round shot.

The above ordered to be read and explained to Regiments and Detachments at a parade ordered for that purpose.

No. 168.

To COLONEL R. J. H. BIRCH, C. B., Military Secretary, with the Right Honorable the Governor General, Allahabad.

Camp Amarah, 9 miles from Belwa, opposite Fyzabad, the 6th March 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to acquaint you for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General, on the 4th Instant, in the evening and during the night, I received reports that the Enemy were preparing in great force with several Guns to move on us from Belwa, Fyzabad and Nawabgunge. The Camp, Baggage, &c., was at once struck, and packed that night. About 7-30 the next morning, the 5th Instant, the Field Force as per margin, moved out of Camp, and I took up a position and formed line a little to the West of the village of Amarah and the Camp; the Naval Brigade and Guns in the centre across the road, the two Goorkha Regiments on the right and left of the Naval Brigade, the Sikh Detachment on the left of the Goorkhas, and the Yeomanry Cavalry, one Squadron on the right, and one on the left of my line. I rode forward a little in advance to meet a Cavalry Patrol. From the Officer's Report, I at first thought it was a party of the Enemy sent into the villages for plunder, but I immediately heard the bugles of the Enemy sounding a halt, and then the advance. I doubled the strength of the patrol, and ordered the Officer to obtain further information, and to be careful not to commit his Patrol by going into any village.

They soon returned, the Officer reporting the Enemy to be advancing in great force. Our line remained steady in position, anxiously awaiting the moment for attacking the Enemy.

The bugle sounds neared on our line, and the Enemy soon showed themselves in great force, their line extending right and left, overlapping our flanks. Our guns opened from the centre, and the Enemy commenced a heavy and rapid cannonade from several Guns on our line. I ordered out the skirmishers and the whole line to advance. I received a report from Major Richardson, Commanding left Squadron, that the Enemy in force were pushing round my left rear. I ordered him to detach a Troop, or if necessary with the Squadron, to attack and clear out the Enemy, but not to leave my left for any time. This was gallantly and effectually carried out by Major Richardson and his Squadron, zealously and actively aided by Captain Brooks, with a party of Goorkhas cutting up and killing a number of the Enemy. Here Captain Jenkins and Cornet Durnford had their Horses shot, and killed under them. Major Richardson reports that he received great assistance from Cornets Klover and Troup, his Orderly Officers.

2. I saw there was no time to be lost, and that a rapid and decisive blow must be struck. Leaving orders for the Guns to continue the advance and fire, and taking a party of Rifles of 20 men from the Naval Column, with Lieutenant Ingles, R. N., to re-inforce the Marine skirmishers, I rode on to the right Squadron, and ordered Captain Chapman to advance rapidly with his Squadron, inclining to the right, and bringing up his right shoulders to charge the Enemy's Sowars and Infantry, hoping it would also shake their centre. At the same time I sent an Orderly Trooper with an order to the Gorucknath Goorkha Regiment, on the right of the Naval Brigade, to advance at the charge, and the Goorkhas moved gallantly forward. The result of this movement was soon apparent. I saw the left of the Enemy hesitating, and some pressing towards their centre, the Sowars in rapid retreat.

Down came the Yeomanry Cavalry at a charging pace, well and steadily together, on the moving masses of Infantry, routing them and cutting down and killing great numbers, upwards of 90 reported. The whole left of the Enemy soon gave way. I galloped up to the Yeomanry Cavalry, and thanked Captain Chapman and the Squadron, for their good gallant movement and charge, and ordered Captain Chapman to move towards the left, to threaten the Enemy's centre. The combined movement and gallant bearing of the Troops, the steady advance of the Naval Brigade, soon shattered the whole line of the Enemy. They abandoned their Guns and were in full retreat, and our gallant Troops captured 7 Guns with limbers and ammunition. When ordering the right Squadron to advance, I detached a party of twenty Troopers to the rear of the naval Guns to cover and protect them, and this party, under Acting Cornets Copland and Prinsep, by their gallant and excellent service aided in capturing some of the Guns.

3. The pursuit now commenced for 7 miles to near Belwa, the Enemy having to be driven out of topos and villages as we advanced.

A short distance from Belwa, the Enemy made a short stand with a large force, keeping up an effective fire on us, from a heavy Gun; and here I have to regret the loss of Acting Second Master Mr. John Fowler, R. N., of the Pearl, killed by a round shot, also Private Poiroonoo Singh, of the Gorucknath Regiment, mortally struck by a round shot shattering his chest, (since dead.) The effective fire of our Guns, the advance of our Troops, and the Right Squadron moving forward to be ready for a charge, soon drove the Enemy out of sight into the heavy jungle and woods.

4. After advancing about a mile further, and halting a short time, I prepared for returning to Camp. The Troops began to feel the fatigue and heat, and the Goorkha Troops were much distressed with the heat, and marching through much heavy ground and cultivation.

5. My best and warmest thanks are due to Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade of the Pearl, and to the Officers and Seamen who with their Guns, were my main stay in the action, and most valuable to me at all times; also to Major Richardson, Commanding, and to Captain Chapman, Commanding Right Squadron, and to the Officers and Men of the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, whose services have been most useful to me—always active, ready and willing for any duty ordered. Also to Captain Barclay, 68th Regiment Native Infantry, and Brooks, 1st Light Cavalry, in Military charge of the two Goorkha Regiments, with Captain MacGregor, 9th Light Cavalry, attached, who were zealous and forward in their duties; and the Commandants, Colonel Byroop Sing Kooer, and Major Captain Senukram Thappah, always bravely urging on their men; also to those zealous active Officers, Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., in charge of Naval Artillery, Lieutenants Radcliffe, R. N., and Grant, R. N., in charge of Naval Column, and to Lieutenant Pym, R. N., with his gallant active Marine skirmishers, and to Lieutenant Ingles, R. N., with the useful and valuable Riflemen of the Naval Column, and to Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment Native Infantry, with his brave ready Sikh skirmishers, who reports Havildar Kurram Singh, Bengal Police Battalion, for his conspicuous good conduct and gallant bearing.

6. My best thanks are also due to Captain Morgan, 22nd Regiment Native Infantry, Field Force Staff, and to the Hon'ble V. A. Montague, R. N., my acting Aide-de-Camp, for their zealous ready services in the Field. Also to Doctors Shore and Dickenson of the Naval Brigade, Doctor J. W. R. Ainesbury, Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, ready and active for any thing required in their department; as also to Doctor Hilson, in Medical charge of the Burruck Regiment, and to Revd. Mr. Williams, Naval Chaplain present in the field. Also to Deputy Magistrate Shekh Karroodeen, present in the field, and rendering all the assistance in his power. Lieutenant Grant, R. N., and Midshipman Lord Charles Scott and Gunner W. M. Goodfellow, Seaman, with a few Sailors, quickly and gallantly turned one of the captured Guns on the Enemy, firing 3 rounds of grape.

7. The action commenced at 8-30 A. M., and closed at 12-30 P. M. In four hours the Enemy, their forces reported to be 4,000 Sepoys, 14,000 Irregulars, 300 Sowars and 8 Guns, were completely defeated and driven into rapid retreat, with the severe loss of 7 Guns and some 500 men killed and wounded. The Sepoys were of the 1st, 10th, 53rd and 56th Regiments Native Infantry, 5th Regiment Gwalior Contingent, and 2d Oude Police Battalion, 700 strong. The other Regiments had lately been completed to 500 and 600 strong. The Nazim Mahomed Hossein and Rajahs of Gonda and Churdah and other Chiefs, were present in the field on Elephants, but are said soon to have fled in Palankeens.

8. I am happy to report our Casualty List not heavy. I beg to attach it, also a list of Guns, limbers and ammunition captured.

9. This most successful action by the Field Force, so greatly out-numbered by the Enemy in men and Guns, may be considered to have saved Goruckpore a second immediate rebellion, the Baboos and Zemindars and Villages in neighbourhood being ready to rise to a formidable extent.

10. I beg earnestly to recommend all the Officers and Men of the different arms in action at the battle of Amorah, to the most favorable consideration of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General Viscount Canning.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

F. ROWCROFT, Colonel, Comdg. Sarun Field Force.

Lieutenant B. F. Schomberg of the 49th Regiment N. I., is appointed Adjutant to that Corps.

15th April 1858.

No. 38.—It having been brought to the notice of the Commander in Chief that owing to the careless manner in which the documents from which Temporary Pension Certificates are prepared, they are afterwards in many cases useless for purposes of identification before Committees on claims to permanent Pension; the attention of Commanding and Staff Officers of Stations, as well as of Commanding Officers of Regiments proceeding on Foreign Service, is called to the Family Payment Regulations Section VI, para 17, as regards Descriptive Rolls and Family Certificates, which His Excellency expects will in future be accurately prepared in all particulars.

The following posting is ordered.

To

Brigadier T. A. Duke.....Rangoon.

No. 39.—Under instructions from Government the Commander in Chief directs that Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments employed on Field Service beyond the limits of the Madras Presidency, whether of H. M.'s or the Honorable Company's Service, will punctually furnish Progress Reports, accompanied by Present States of the same date for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General.

2. These Reports are to be transmitted direct to the address of "the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Military Department, with the Governor General, Camp Allahabad."

No. 40.—With reference to para 9 G. O. C. C. 3d December last No. 74, Officers Commanding Native Infantry Corps, those on Field or Foreign Service excepted, are directed to detach Recruiting parties from Regimental Head Quarters without delay for the purpose of completing their Corps to the established strength.

The Commander in Chief expects that Commanding Officers will exert themselves to the utmost to fill up the ranks of their respective Regiments, as early as possible.

As a temporary measure Lieutenant W. Rose, of the 50th Regiment N. I., doing duty with the Sappers and Miners, is directed to join his Regiment.

Lieutenant and Brevet Captain R. Cadell, of the C. Company 5th Battalion Artillery, is appointed Adjutant and Quarter Master of Artillery in the Straits, but will continue with his present Company until his services can be dispensed with.

Fort William, 17th December 1857.

No. 1588 of 1857.—The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General on the 28th November 1857, and is published in General Orders :—

ACT No. XXXII of 1857.

An Act to amend the Articles of War for the Native Army.

WHEREAS it is expedient that, on every conviction of Mutiny or Desertion, the Government or the Court, or other lawful authority by which the offender shall be convicted, should have power to order the offender to be marked: It is enacted as follows :—

I. It shall be lawful for the Government, by any general or special order, to direct that all or any persons or person subject to the Articles of War for the Native Army, who have been or shall be convicted of Mutiny or Desertion, shall be marked on the left side two inches below the arm-pit with the letter M in the case of a conviction of Mutiny, and with the letter D in the case of a conviction of Desertion, either alone or together with such other mark as the Government may consider necessary for the purpose of identifying the offender at any future time, or of denoting the punishment to which he has been sentenced. The letter shall not be less than an inch long; and such letter and other mark shall be made upon the skin with some ink, gunpowder, or other preparation, so as to be visible and conspicuous and not liable to be obliterated.

II. It shall also be lawful for the Court, or other lawful authority by which any person subject to the Articles of War for the Native Army may be convicted of Mutiny or Desertion, to order, as part of the sentence on such person, that he be marked with the letter M or D, as the case may be, which letter shall be made in the manner herein-before directed.

III. The word "Government," as used in this Act, shall mean the Governor General of India in Council, or the Executive Government of the Presidency within which the offender shall have been tried.

IV. Any sentence or order, by which any person subject to the Articles of War for the Native Army may upon conviction of Mutiny or Desertion have been ordered to be marked, shall be deemed valid.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 23RD DECEMBER 1857.

No. 1627 OF 1857.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatches from Major General Gowan, C. B., Commanding in the Upper Provinces, and Major General Penny, C. B., Commanding at Delhi, detailing the proceedings of the Columns detached from Delhi under the Command of Brigadier Showers and Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed.

The Governor General in Council has much pleasure in conveying his warm acknowledgments to Lieutenant Colonel Greathed and the Officers and Men under his Command, for their gallant conduct and exertions on the occasions of the attacks on the Insurgents at Boolundshuhur, at Malagurh, at Allyghur, and lastly at Agra, where, after a very long match, and joined by the Garrison of Agra, consisting of No. 20 Light Field Battery and the 3rd European Regiment under the Command of Colonel Cotton, Commandant of Agra, the Column entirely routed a large Force of Insurgent Sepoys, taking the whole of their Guns, Baggage, Camp, &c.

The Governor General in Council also desires to convey to Brigadier Showers, and to the Officers and Men under his Command, the assurance of the great satisfaction with which he views their zeal and exertions in the several conflicts with the Insurgents in the Districts to the Westward of the Jumna.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,

Secretary to the Government of India in the Military Department.

To MAJOR PRIOR, Asst. Adj. Genl., Lahore,

SIR,

Delhi Palace, 30th September 1857.

In continuation of my letter, No. 1550, of yesterday's date, I have the honor to forward, for submission to Major-General Gowan, C. B., Commanding in the Upper Provinces, Lieutenant Colonel E. H. Greathed's detailed Report of his proceedings against the Mutineers at Boolundshuhur on the 28th Instant.

I beg to bring to the favorable notice of the Major-General the several Officers whose names have been particularly mentioned by Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed in his Despatch.

I have, &c.,

FROM LIEUTENANT-COLONEL E. H. GREATHED, Comdg. Moveable Column.
TO CAPTAIN STEWART, Depy. Asst. Adgt. Genl.,

SIR,

Delhi, Boolundshuhur, 29th September 1857.

In continuation of my Report of yesterday's date, I have the honor to report to you, for the information of the Major-General Commanding, that on my arrival at Boolundshuhur with the main Column yesterday morning, I received a report that the Enemy occupied a strong position at the fork of two roads behind a breast-work, in which two Guns were at first said to be posted. It appeared afterwards there were six, of which two were 9-Pounders. I immediately sent H. M.'s 8th and two Guns as a reinforcement to those already in advance. I afterwards brought up Captain Bouchier's Light Field Battery, H. M.'s 75th Regiment, and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry, leaving Major Turner, H. A., in Command of the Reserve, consisting of one Troop of Horse Artillery, 4th Punjaub Infantry, and the 2nd Punjaub Cavalry.

The action was maintained on the part of the Enemy's Guns with great spirit for a very considerable time, notwithstanding the admirable practice of Captain Bouchier's Battery on the right and the cross fire from Captain Remington's Guns on the left road. I had in the meantime pushed forward in the centre, between the Guns, which were supported by Cavalry and Infantry, and in advance of the position first occupied by Major Ouvry, as mentioned in that Officer's Report, and also on the right of Captain Bouchier's Battery, in the centre H. M.'s 75th, and on the right H. M.'s 8th and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry, with directions to clear the strong positions held by the Rebels. This duty was well performed by the 8th under Captain Hinde, the 75th under Major Gordon, and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry under Captain Green. Seeing that the flanks were protected, I ordered Captain Bouchier to advance, which he did at a gallop. At the same time H. M.'s 75th cleared the enclosures in the centre, and advanced with a cheer, and the Rebels deserted their Entrenchments, leaving one 9-Pounder in our hands.

The Cavalry then advanced by the two roads at a gallop, and I have the honor to refer you, for the particulars of the conduct of both Artillery and Cavalry, to the Reports of Major Turner and Major Ouvry. During the action the Enemy's Cavalry menaced both my flanks in considerable numbers, but was uniformly driven off with considerable loss. After I had cleared the Town, I encamped on the other side of the bridge, over the Kalee Nuddee, on the Anoopshuhur road, with the intention of marching to Malagurh this morning. In the afternoon intelligence was brought to me that the Fort had been completely evacuated and that Wallee Dad had fled to Anoopshuhur.

I sent over 50 Sowars immediately to take possession of his Fort, which I visited this morning, and made arrangements for its immediate destruction: these will be completed to-morrow, and as soon as I have made arrangements for my Wounded, I shall march towards Anoopshuhur.

I have the honor to request that you will draw the favorable consideration of the Major-General to the Reports of Major Turner and Major Ouvry, and to the mention they have made of the Officers and Soldiers mentioned in them. When all did their duty entirely, it is difficult and invalid to draw distinctions; but I must be permitted to express my best thanks to Major Turner for the uniform assistance and kind counsel he has afforded me on every occasion. The conduct of Captain Bouchier and his Officers and Men in the management of their Battery was the subject of my admiration, as they were immediately under my own eye throughout.

The activity and judgement of Major Ouvry has been conspicuous throughout, and in the affair of yesterday he gave me the most zealous assistance in every point where he could be of service. I trust that the wound of Captain Drysdale, Commanding the 9th Lancers, whose horse was shot dead under him when most gallantly charging at the head of his Regiment, will not deprive the Government of his services for any lengthened period. Every Officer and Man in the Force appeared to forget fatigue in their determination to drive the Rebels from the position they had taken in our front.

I received the most effective aid from those excellent Officers, Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General, and Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; also from my Brigade Major, Captain Bannatyne, and my Orderly Officer, Lieutenant Ximenes of the 8th Regiment.

Mr. Sapte, C. S., was kind enough to accompany me throughout, and to give me much assistance.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) E. H. GREATHED Comdg. Moveable Column.

(COPY.)

FROM MAJOR H. A. OUVRY, H. M.'s 9th Lancers, Commanding Cavalry Brigade.
TO LIEUTENANT-COLONEL GREATHED, Commanding Moveable Column, Boolundshuhur Camp,
Boolundshuhur, 28th September 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you, that I preceded the Column of march according to your order this morning. On my Advanced Guard of Light Cavalry arriving near the Town of Boolundshuhur, it was observed to be occupied by the Enemy in force, who had a breast-work across the road and Guns in position.

I immediately ordered Guns to the front, which advanced within five hundred yards of the breast-work. The Enemy then opened with a Round Shot, which was replied to by our Guns.

Having received most valuable information from Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, that there was a road on my right, by which I could take the Enemy's breast-work in flank, I called a reinforcement of Artillery to the front and posted them on this road, when they did excellent service.

The Kutcherry, a pukka building, I also occupied with 100 Infantry, who were sent to the front at my request.

At this period you having arrived on the spot with the Infantry, I went to the left to take the Command of the Cavalry, with whom I had previously posted a division of Horse Artillery, which I ordered to open fire on the right flank of the Enemy's position.

After a very hot and well-sustained fire of two hours, I observed you advancing your Infantry and Guns on the Enemy's left flank, driving them before you from their position.

As I also observed that they were flying on the road to Gurmucktesir Ghât, and towards Malagurh, I ordered H. M.'s 9th Lancers to advance in pursuit, followed by the division of Artillery.

The 9th Lancers charged through the City, which was shortly afterwards occupied by the Infantry.

The road on the other side the Town was partially blocked up with waggons and carts, and the Enemy dispersing into the khets in the open country, I ordered the Cavalry to halt, and advanced two Guns to the bridge over the East Kalee Nuddee.

The Sepoys endeavored to make a stand outside the City Gate, but were immediately charged and dispersed by the head of the Column of the 9th Lancers, who have killed a number of them, and I cannot speak too highly of the gallantry of that Regiment in charging through the Town under a most severe fire from the houses.

I wish to bring most particularly to your notice the services of the Artillery engaged; the manner in which they brought their Guns into close action, and the constancy of their fire merits special mention.

I regret to say that my loss has been very distressing, as I have been deprived of the services of four most valuable Officers in the 9th Lancers, the Return of which I have already had the honor to transmit to you.

The splendid conduct of the Irregular Cavalry merits the highest praise; they have killed 200 of the Enemy's Sowars during the action and towards its close.

I wish most particularly to bring to your notice the distinguished gallantry of Captain Drysdale, Commanding H. M.'s 9th Royal Lancers, who sustained a fracture of the collar-bone from the fall of his horse, which was shot as he was charging the Sepoys on the Right of the Town, after he had passed through it; also of Trumpeter and Lance Corporal Kens and of Private Jordan, who saved him and brought him out of the mêlée.

The names of Lieutenant Sarel, 9th Lancers, who advanced with his Squadron in pursuit by your direction, and of Lieutenant Blair, 2nd Dragoon Guards (attached to the 9th Lancers), the former severely wounded in the right hand (four-finger of right hand since amputated) and left arm; and the latter, who was most dangerously wounded in a personal conflict with one of the Rebel Sowars, also deserve special mention.

The names also of Captains Bouchier and Remington, of the Artillery, whose Battery and Troop were engaged during the whole action, as well as that of Lieutenant Cracklow, who had a division of Guns employed, and whose loss must have been heavy, I desire to bring prominently to your notice.

In the Irregular Cavalry, Lieutenant Watson charged and defeated a superior force of the Enemy's Horse, who were advancing to attack him, driving them into the Town, and cutting up a great many. I regret to say that, on this occasion, Captain Best, of whose conduct Lieutenant Watson speaks very highly, received a severe sabre wound. Lieutenant Watson has also brought to my notice the services of Mr. Lyall, a Civilian, who was with him during the whole action, and offered him the most valuable assistance.

The names of Lieutenants Younghusband and Gough, Commanding Irregular Corps, I also consider it my duty to bring to your notice, as having performed most gallant service during the day.

Lieutenant Probyn, with his Horse, charged and defeated a body of Cavalry and armed Goojers, who attacked the Baggage while we were engaged with the Enemy.

From Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, and from Lieutenant Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army, I received the most valuable information and assistance, and I wish to bring them conspicuously to your notice.

To Mr. Sapte, the Collector of the District, I have to return my most sincere thanks for the assistance he afforded me, through his local knowledge of the ground.

The assistance I received from my two Orderly Officers, Captain the Hon'ble A. Anson, H. M.'s 8th Regiment, and Lieutenant Martin, of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, during the long period of eleven hours that we were in the saddle, was most valuable and effective.

FROM MAJOR F. TURNER, Comdg. Arty. of Moveable Column.

TO CAPTAIN BANNATYNE, Major of Brigade, Moveable Column.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th Sept. 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward the Reports of the Officers of Artillery Commanding Batteries and Detachments in action to-day against the Rebels, also Returns of Casualties and Ordnance expended.

Captain Remington, Commanding 1st Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery.

Captain Blunt, Commanding 2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery.

2nd Lieut Cracklow, Commanding Detachment do. do.

Captain Bouchier, Commanding No. 17 Light Field Battery.

2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery.

Her Majesty's 75th Regiment.

4th Punjab Infantry.

4th Punjab Cavalry.

A more detailed Statement of the Ordnance and other Ammunition captured shall be given hereafter.

Having been directed by the Officer Commanding the Moveable Column to Command the Reserve (Corps noted in the Margin,) I was not an eye-witness of the performances of the Guns in action; but I have great pleasure in pressing upon Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's attention the very gallant conduct of Serjeant Diamond and Gunner Fitzgerald, of the 2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery, who, after the rest of their Gun's crew were disabled, continued to serve it under a very heavy fire of Musketry, and I trust that by Colonel Greathed, this gallant conduct, as also that of Second Lieutenant Cracklow, may be brought to the notice of Major-General Wilson Commanding Delhi Field Force, and Commandant of Artillery.

I have, &c.,

FROM CAPTAIN F. REMMINGTON, Comdg. 1st Tr. 1st Bde. H. A.,

TO LIEUTENANT BUNNY, Arty. Dett. Staff, Moveable Column.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th Sept. 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for the information of Major Turner, Commanding Artillery with the Moveable Column, that after leaving the main body, shortly after day-break, with the right division of my Troop under Lieutenant Murray, I proceeded up the road which was our line of march, till I came within view of a breast-work which the Enemy had thrown across the road.

Two embasures were distinctly visible, and I accordingly quickened my men till within 900 yards, but I was deceived in the distance, owing to the early morning light and the avenue of trees bounding the road. The Enemy opened a tolerably brisk fire from their Guns, one of very small calibre; but the fire of my Guns caused that of the Enemy to slacken very soon, and on the arrival of my centre and left divisions under Lieutenants Manderson and Traill, the Enemy's fire almost ceased. I was obliged to form these latter on the right of the road in ploughed land, and owing to the intervention of trees and gardens, it was difficult to form any correct estimate of the effect of their fire. After expending the ammunition of the Howitzer limber, and the same number of rounds from my left division, I advanced at a gallop, about 400 yards nearer, and it was here I discovered how deceptive the distance had been. My new position was about 500 yards distant from the Enemy's entrenchment, whence two Guns still continued to fire occasional shots at us, notwithstanding I kept up a continued fire on it.

On an Officer* being sent to me to tell me to cease firing, as the Infantry were advancing, I limbered up, crossed the road, and proceeded to the left, where Captain Norman told me my presence was desirable, if possible. A vidette of H. M.'s 9th Lancers guided me to a road, on which he told me a squadron of his Regiment had proceeded with two Guns. The ground was very heavy, and I could only proceed at a walk; but as soon as I got on a road, I ordered the trot and followed the line of the Lancers and Guns, till I arrived at a place where they were halted. Shortly after a heavy fire of Musketry was opened on them from a Serai, at the entrance of which they were; and as they were obliged to withdraw a short distance, I formed Battery to the front with my left division under Lieutenant Traill, which I placed on some high ground to the right of the road to meet contingencies.

I am happy to say, the arrival of the Sikh Infantry prevented the contingency I dreaded; but it was not in time to prevent serious loss to a division of Captain Blunt's Troop under Lieutenant Cracklow.

The latter Officer having informed me, that his Guns were temporarily disabled owing to casualties, I advanced through the Serai, whence the Enemy had by this time been dislodged, with my right division, and took up a position at the further end of the bridge on this side of the Serai. As soon as the Baggage made its appearance, I moved off in the direction of Camp, as requested by the Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General. Since my arrival in Camp, two 9-Pounder Ammunition Waggons and two Carts have been brought into my Park by villagers. They contain some 9lb. and 6lb. Shot and a few Cartridges. Accompanying are a list of Casualties and a Return of Ammunition expended.

I have &c.,

From Captain C. H. BLUNT, Commanding in Charge of 2nd Tr. 3rd Bde.

To Major F. TURNER, Commanding Artillery with Moveable Column.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th September 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward, for your information, the Report I have received from Lieutenant Cracklow, who commanded two Guns detached to-day from the Troops under my Command.

As they were the only Guns actually engaged with the Enemy, I need not add any further report of the proceeding of the remaining three Guns of the Troop.

I beg to call to your notice the high commendation which Lieutenant Cracklow has, in his Report, bestowed on Serjeant Diamond and Gunner Fitzgerald. This commendation has been confirmed and strengthened by several Officers in Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, who were witnesses of their gallant conduct.

I have &c.,

From Lieutenant G. CRACKLOW, Commanding in charge 2d Tr. 3d Bde. H. A.

To Captain BLUNT, Commanding in charge 2d Tr. 3d Bde. H. A.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 27th September 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for your information, that, in accordance with the orders I received, I proceeded with two Guns to support the left Cavalry Picquet. On arriving at the Picquet, the Officer Commanding ordered me to open a flanking fire on two Guns of the Enemy, which were posted at the end of a road about 700 yards off, I did so, and continued firing until the Guns were taken by our people.

I then accompanied the Cavalry along the road, leading by the left of the City. As we were proceeding down the road, a man put his musket over a wall and shot a horse in the leading Gun. Soon after this, two more horses were shot in the same team, and as no horses could be got to replace the casualties, the syces with the bad horses having disappeared as soon as the firing commenced, the Gun was obliged to be left behind, and did not come into action at all. I proceeded to the front with the other Guns. We advanced through the gate of a small Serai, and I was ordered to take my Gun through the opposite gate, and up to a bridge, which was about 200 yards in advance of the gate along the pukka road. I first advanced myself to see what was the state of affairs on the other side. I found that the Enemy were advancing in considerable numbers along a wall to my right, and it was evident to me, that if I advanced the Gun, I should have had it disabled in a few minutes by the Enemy's Musketry fire in my rear, and that the Gun would most probably have been taken, as there were no Infantry to stand by it. I retired the Gun above 40 yards to the first gate of the Serai and opened fire on the Enemy, who had by this time advanced to the Gate-way through which I had been ordered to advance the Gun, and continued firing for about a quarter of an hour, after which the Infantry having advanced, the Enemy were driven back. As my Gun was disabled, one man having been killed and four wounded, I retired and Captain Remington's Guns were ordered to relieve me.

I beg to bring to your notice the gallant conduct of Serjeant Diamond and Gunner Fitzgerald. These two men, when the rest of the Crew were disabled, served the Gun under a heavy Musketry fire; their coolness and daring elicited the admiration of all present.

I have the honor to enclose Casualty Rolls of the Men and Horses, and a Return of Ammunition expended.

To Lieutenant BUNNY, Adj. Arty. Division.

Camp Boolundshuhur, 28th September 1857.

SIR,

I beg to report, for the information of Major Turner, that agreeably to his order, I proceeded to the support of the 1st Troop 1st Brigade, formed up my Battery to the right of their position, and immediately became engaged with the Enemy's Guns and Infantry.

The fire from the Enemy's Battery, was silenced; and supported by the Infantry, I advanced along the road, took a Gun (9-Pounder), and as the Infantry kept advancing with me, I took two of my Guns at a gallop down the road to the Gaol. A few rounds of Grape cleared my advance, and the Enemy, both Cavalry and Infantry, fled from the position they had occupied on my right.

At the Gaol our Cavalry took up the pursuit, and I remained there until ordered to return to Camp by the Commanding Officer of the Force. I cannot speak too highly of the coolness and steadiness of my Officers and Men; and I should be doing an injustice were I not to bring to notice the assistance I obtained from Lieutenant Roberts, of the Artillery, who showed me my ground, and in rapid advance down the road first arrived at the Guns we captured.

A Roll of Casualties and expenditure of Ammunition is annexed.

I have, &c.,

SIR,

With reference to your Memorandum, dated Government House, Calcutta, 22nd September 1857, transmitted to me by Colonel Wilson, Commanding at Cawnpore, I have the honor to submit the following statement of the recent proceedings of the Force under my Command.

As soon after the fall of Delhi as circumstances would admit, a Moveable Column was detailed for the purpose of pursuing the main body of the Rebels who had gone down the Western Bank of the Jumna; but before the necessary arrangements could be completed, it was ascertained that the Mutineers were crossing the River, with the evident intention of making their escape through the Dooab and proceeding to Rohilcund or Oude.

To cut off this portion of the Rebels, and prevent them from executing either of the above

D. M. STEWART, Captain, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

FROM LIEUT.-COLONEL E. H. GREATHED, Commanding Moveable Column.
To CAPT. D. M. STEWART, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.
Camp Agra, 13th October 1857.

Sir,

In recapitulation of my hasty letter of the 11th Instant, I have the honor to acquaint you, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Delhi Field Force, that after a march of forty-four miles in twenty-eight hours, the Moveable Column under my Command encamped on the Parade Ground at this Station at 8 A. M., on the 10th Instant. At 10½ o'clock 4 Guns were heard by us on our right flank, and the Assembly was sounded. I galloped to the front, and found the Artillery already in action and the 5th Lancers in their saddles formed up in Squadrons. The Enemy had attacked our front and right flank with his Artillery which raked our Camp. On seeing this, I moved with H. M.'s 8th (the King's) Regiment and the 4th Punjaub Infantry (taking with me on the way the three Squadrons of 1st, 2nd and 5th Punjaub Cavalry) to the right, with the view of outflanking and capturing the Guns on that flank. I must not omit to mention that, when I reached the front, three minutes after this surprise, I found the whole of the Troops without exception drawn up on their respective alarm posts, as if for parade.

I extended the Infantry along the road leading from the Parade Ground to the Infantry Barracks in skirmishing order with supports, with directions to advance to their front and clear the compounds of the Enemy's Infantry. Taking with me the Punjaub Cavalry, I then proceeded to the European Barracks, and pointed out to Lieutenant Watson the open ground upon which I conceived that he might work with effect. How admirably he did so, will be seen in his own Report.

By this time the Agra 9-Pounder Battery came up, and I advanced it in support of the right flank of the Infantry, on the road leading from the Artillery Parade Ground, and the enclosures were speedily cleared. In doing this the 4th Punjaub Infantry distinguished itself, as it did throughout the day.

The advance of the Infantry and Battery enabled Lieutenant Watson to make his charge and capture the Guns and Standards, and after that, the Enemy did not make any stand, although they continued to fire Round Shot as they retreated. I continued the pursuit to a village three miles on the Gwalior road, and halted to enable the left to come up. Here we were joined by the 3rd European Regiment, who took their place in the line, detaching two Companies to support the Punjaub Infantry engaged in driving out the Enemy, who still hung on our flanks in the jungle and topes on our right. Colonel Cotton, Commanding the Agra Garrison, then assumed Command, and the pursuit was continued to the Khara Nuddee; with Artillery and Cavalry, the Infantry finally halting at a village five miles on the Gwalior road, where the Enemy's Camp, had been pitched. The route was now complete, and the whole face of the Country covered with fugitives. The Enemy fled across the Khara Nuddee under the effective fire of Grape and Round Shot from our Artillery. The accompanying Return from Major Turner will show that 12 Guns were captured, and the Enemy lost the whole of his Tents, Baggage and Ammunition. I have reason to believe that scarcely a cart was taken across the River, and most certainly not one Gun.

The conduct of the Troops engaged during the whole affair was beyond any praise of mine; but it is my duty to bring to the special notice of the Major-General Commanding their admirable steadiness at the outset of the action when taken completely by surprise, and when a great part of the Troops had scarcely arrived on the ground. The quickness with which the Artillery came into action under a destructive fire, and its subsequent services, was worthy of their reputation. The Cavalry showed throughout the day that they were led by Officers who combined steadiness and an eye for ground with the greatest gallantry. The Infantry drove the Enemy flying from the enclosures, and pursued them for several miles with the most persevering resolution, and the conduct of the Punjaub Infantry Regiments, which had had no assistance from carriage during the march, deserves the most favorable notice. The Sappers and Miners were also most steady and forward in the pursuit. I refer you for details of the operations on the left to Major Oury, as I was not able to leave the right till the Enemy was in full flight. The Cavalry and Artillery marched over at sixty-four miles, and the Infantry fifty-four miles of road, in less than thirty-six hours, besides moving through fields during action. Captain Bourchier's 9-Pounder Battery had marched in during the night from Hattrass, thirty miles, without a halt. I beg to bring prominently to the favorable notice of the Major-General Commanding the gallantry and unwearied exertions of the whole of the Troops engaged. The Artillery, under Major Turner, were led in a manner which caused general admiration. Major Oury, as usual, did the most efficient service with his Cavalry. The 9th Lancers distinguished themselves under Captain Anson during the whole day, and most particularly in a gallant charge on a large body of the Enemy's Sowars, in which they rescued a Gun which had been temporarily disabled.

The conduct of Lieutenant Watson, seconded by Lieutenant Gough, Lieutenant Probyn, and Lieutenant Younghusband, is entitled to the warmest praise. These Officers appear to have all the qualities which distinguish the Cavalry Officer. I am happy to say that Lieutenant Younghusband's injuries, though severe, will not detain him long from his duty. Captain Hinde particularly distinguished himself in Command of the 8th—the King's Regiment—in the capture of an 18-Pounder at a village, and the dispersion of the Mutineers who attempted to resist him. I have also to bring to the notice of the Major-General the services of Captain Gordon, Commanding H. M.'s 75th Regiment; Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; and Lieut. Paul, Commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry.

SIR,

Camp Agra, 11th October 1857.

I have the honor to report, for the information of Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, that on the 18th of October 1857, immediately after arriving at Agra, and pitching our tents on the encamping ground beyond the Cantonments, the Enemy, whose presence was utterly unknown, made a sudden attack on our Camp with their heavy Artillery.

The 9th Lancers immediately formed upon the left of the Artillery facing the Gwalior road. On arriving in the field, I perceived a large force of the Enemy's Cavalry advancing on our left; they had reached and sabred the Gunners of one Gun. I immediately ordered the Lancers to charge, which duty they did most effectually, filling and dispersing them entirely.

Two Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, with Hodson's Horse, which then arrived, took up a position, supporting two Guns, which kept a large Cavalry Force of Enemy at bay, and protecting the Camp.

The three Regiments of Irregular Cavalry formed upon the right of our Camp under Captain Watson, whose Report I have herewith the honor to enclose.

After an advancing cannon fire of some duration, which I supported with the Cavalry, the Enemy gave way, and were pursued ten miles to the banks of the Kharee Nuddee by the Artillery and Cavalry. Great numbers were destroyed, and all their Guns, Ammunition, and Baggage fell into our hands.

SIR,

Camp Agra, 11th Sept. 1857.

In accordance with your instructions, I do myself the honor of making the following Report of the circumstances which occurred in the right of our line in yesterday's action with the Mutineer's Force, and of the part taken in it by the three Squadrons of the Punjab Cavalry which paraded under my Command.

Shortly after the Enemy's fire opened upon our Camp, the three Squadrons, mustering about 210 sabres, moved off towards the European Barracks; Colonel Greathed, who was present, in effect upon the Enemy's left flank. Passing the Barracks I came under fire of the Enemy's Guns and Musketry. I therefore proceeded at a trot to some walls close to their left flank, and there drew up the three Squadrons in open Column. After waiting in this position for about five minutes, I perceived a favorable opportunity for charging, and advancing clear of the walls, wheeled into line, and swept down at a gallop on their flank.

The effect of this was the instantaneous flight of the Mutineers; but they were too late to escape us, and a large number of their Infantry and Artillery-men fell under our sabre, and we captured three heavy Guns and five Standards.

Shortly after this, the whole of our line advanced, and the three Squadrons falling in on the left of the road, joined in the pursuit, and turning off at the river to a ford about half a mile to the left of the road, captured two 9-Pounder Guns and numerous Ammunition Carts, &c., &c. We turned the Guns upon such of the Enemy as were within range on the opposite bank, and served them for some time with considerable effect. We formed the Rear Guard on the return to Camp, which we reached about 9 P. M.

EUROPEAN OFFICERS ENGAGED.

Lieut. Maclean, ditto.
2nd Punjab Cavalry.
Lieut. Probyn, Commanding.
Lieut. Macdonell, attached.
5th Punjab Cavalry.
Lieut. Younghusband, Commanding.
Lieut. Plowden, attached.

The three Squadrons lost in this action 2 men killed and 15 wounded, and of the European Officers engaged, Lieutenant Maclean was severely, and Lieutenants Probyn, Macdonnell, and Plowden slightly wounded.

Lieutenant Younghusband, Commanding the Squadron of 5th Punjab Cavalry, was, I regret to say, very severely injured by falling down one of the numerous dry wells that were scattered about the Baziree fields, through which we charged upon the Enemy.

I need not assure you that the whole of the European and Native Officers and Troops engaged, behaved throughout with the greatest gallantry, and I trust that you will be good enough to bring their services on this occasion to the favorable notice of the Government.

Camp Dadree, 16th October 1857.

Sir,

I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Meerut Division, that I reached Dadree yesterday, where I found the following Guns, of which I have taken possession:—

- 2 Brass Guns.
- 2 Iron Ditto.
- 2 Ditto Ditto.

The Brass Guns I purpose to take with me; but the Iron Guns I have directed to be destroyed.

Sir Theophilus Metcalfe will have reported the arrangements that have been made with respect to the Nawab of Dadree; but it will be satisfactory to me to hear that the Nawab received the Moveable Column under my command with the utmost respect, coming himself on the istakbul, and expressing his readiness to submit to any enquiry that the Government intended to institute into his conduct during the period of the late insurrection, and to afford his assistance in arresting any Mutineers and Insurgents who might take refuge within his jurisdiction.

I have further to report, that the Force of the Hurrianah and Cashmere Auxiliary Forces arrived this morning. I shall hereafter have the honor to forward the present state of that Force. I purpose to move to-morrow morning to Chookookeous, a sporting residence of the Nawab of Jhujjur, about ten miles from that Town, where, I have reason to believe, he will come out and meet me. The day following I propose to proceed to Jhujjur.

Camp Jhujjur, 18th October 1857.

Sir,

IN continuation of my letter of the 16th Instant, I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Delhi Field Force, that from Dadree I proceeded with my Column yesterday morning to Chookookeous. On the road a deputation from the Nawab of Jhujjur came out to meet me, to intimate that the Nawab was at a short distance from Chookookeous, and that he awaited instructions to come into my Camp. I communicated to him, on his arrival, the instructions of Government, and after the delivery of the Perwannah from the Commissioner, he was arrested, and has since been under the charge of Captain R. Lawrence.

The Nawab was frank in his communications regarding the state of his Troops, and of the objections that he suspected his father-in-law, Ubdool Sumund Khan, would make to giving himself up. Having, therefore, reason to apprehend that some opposition would be made to my taking possession of the Fort and the Arms and Ammunition and Horses of the Troops, I moved forward my Force, prepared to attack them if there should be any opposition. During the night, however, all the Troops—both Sowars and Footmen—fled, and on my reaching the Cantonments, I found the whole deserted; the only Horses remaining in the Cavalry Stables were those which belonged to the Nawab. A very few men remained, and those that did, gave up their arms without opposition.

I afterwards entered and took possession of the Fort, with about 21 Guns and a large quantity of Powder and Ammunition, a report of which I shall hereafter have the honor to forward.

I had intended to make a forced march from Dadree to Jhujjur, in the hope of surprising the Nawab and his relations. Difficulties, however, arising, I was obliged to give up the plan; but to prevent the Nawab from effecting his escape, I detached the Guide Cavalry and the Punjab Mounted Police to Nahur on the 17th, with orders that they should be on the look-out for fugitives, from Jhujjur. Captain Sandford, who Commanded, reports having seen a number of armed men proceeding in the direction of Nahur, of whom he had cut up all whom he could overtake.

I have heard from other sources, that the fugitive Soldiers were making towards Kanoud. I have, therefore, detached to-day a Force, consisting of the 6th Dragoon Guards under the Command of Colonel Custance and Hodson's Horse, to Nahur, for the purpose of overtaking them before the place can be reinforced. This Force will reach Kanoud to-morrow morning. I purpose myself to follow them with the remainder of my Column this evening, and hope to reach it on the 20th Instant.

After settling the place, I shall, if nothing occurs to render other measures necessary, return to Jhujjur in three marches, as I understand the Bahadoorgurh and Furrookhnuggur Nawabs are to be visited by my Column.

Agra Fort, the 19th October 1857.

Foreign Department.

SIR,

I am directed by the Chief Commissioner to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, the accompanying Reports and Returns received from Lieutenant-Colonel Cotton, Commanding at Agra, and Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column detached from the Force before Delhi, describing the action of the 10th Instant, in which a large force of the Mutineers was completely routed with loss of all their Guns and Camp and the Plunder which they had previously accumulated.

2. These Reports are so full and clear, that little is left to be added on the part of the Chief Commissioner beyond a brief recapitulation of the events which preceded the attack upon the Cantonments, and an acknowledgment of the services of those Officers and Troops to whom, under Providence, this success is to be attributed.

3. The daily communications which have been made from the Intelligence Department will have informed His Lordship of the movements of the Mhow Mutineers, who remained apparently undecided as to their subsequent course at Dholepore, until they were reinforced by the Neemuch Brigade, when an attack upon Agra seems to have been finally determined upon.

4. For several days there was a report, that an onward move would be made on the following day; but no actual change of position took place until the 6th, when the Force broke ground, and intimation of this was received and communicated to the Military Authorities the same day.

5. Colonel Greathed, with his Column, had by this date arrived at Akkrabad, one march from Allygurh, on the Trunk Road, in the direction of Cawnpore, and an express was immediately despatched, requesting him to advance towards Agra, unless he had good grounds for believing that he could come up with the fugitive Brigade of Mutineers which was pressing towards the Eastward.

6. The information of subsequent days proved the necessity for obtaining reinforcements for the protection of Agra, and Colonel Greathed was therefore directed on the 7th, and by a subsequent more urgent letter on the 8th, to hasten towards this place; and in case of any delay in advancing the Main Column, to push forward at all events 500 Cavalry and a Troop of Horse Artillery.

7. On the morning of the 9th, a vidette of Militia Cavalry, which had been sent out to reconnoitre, was driven in by the Enemy's Horse and pursued to within two or three miles of Cantonments. This occurrence proving the close proximity of the Enemy, was communicated to Colonel Greathed at once, and it was deemed of sufficient importance to render it advisable to forward the letter by an Officer. This service was performed by Captain Patton, of the 3rd European Regiment, Fort Adjutant of Agra; and the Chief Commissioner desires to acknowledge his obligation to this willing and energetic Officer for the promptitude with which the Despatch was conveyed to Colonel Greathed's Camp.

8. The subsequent events and their results are detailed in the Reports. The Chief Commissioner would only observe that to Colonel Cotton's high personal qualifications, both as a Soldier and Commander, we owe the completeness of this success. Led by him, the tired Troops were inspired to continue the pursuit of the flying Enemy, until the capture of all his Guns, Camp, and plunder deprived him of the means of further aggression, and rendered the dissolution of his Army inevitable.

9. Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column, brought his men into action with a rapidity and precision that entitle him to the highest praise, and when it is remembered that the Column had only just come off a long and harassing forced march, the steadiness of the Men and coolness of the Officers entitle all to the warmest commendation.

10. It gives the Chief Commissioner much pleasure to bring specially to the notice of His Lordship the services on this occasion of—

- Major Ouvry, Commanding the Cavalry.
- Major Turner, Commanding the Artillery.
- Captains Remington and Blunt, of the Artillery.
- Captain Bourchier, Commanding Light Field Battery.
- Lieutenant Pearson, Commanding No. 21 Light Field Battery.
- Captain Anson, Commanding H. M.'s 9th Lancers.
- Captain Watson, Commanding 1st Punjab Cavalry.
- Lieutenant Probyn, Commanding 2nd Punjab Cavalry.
- Captain Younghusband, Commanding 5th Punjab Cavalry.
- Captain Hinde, Commanding H. M.'s 8th Regiment.
- Captain Gordon, H. M.'s 75th Regiment.
- Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjab Infantry.
- Captain Paul, Commanding 4th Punjab Infantry.
- Lieutenant Gough, Commanding Hodson's Horse.
- Lieutenant Lang, of the Engineers.
- Colonel Riddell, of the 3rd European Regiment.
- Lieutenant Vere, Commanding Agra Militia Cavalry.
- Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army.
- Captain Wilton, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

Captain Dickens, Deputy Assistant Commissary General.
 Captain Anson, Lieutenant Ximenes, Orderly Officers to Col. Greathed.
 Captain Bannatyne, Brigade Major, Moveable Column.
 Major Macleod, Engineers.
 Major Montgomery, Brigade Major.
 Captain Watton, 3rd European Regiment, Fort Adjutant.
 Captain Rawlins, on the Personal Staff of Colonel Cotton, Commanding.
 Major Eld.
 Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, Moveable Column.

11. The trifling loss of our Troops in killed would have been a subject of more sincere congratulation, had not the list included the name of Captain French, of the 9th Lancers. This valuable Officer fell mortally wounded in a most spirited and decisive charge, in which his Regiment, led by Captain Anson, broke and dispersed the Enemy's Cavalry.

12. Lieutenant Jones was at the same time severely wounded; but it is trusted that he is now in a fair way to recovery.

13. Subsequent information shows the Enemy's Force, scattered and dispirited, are endeavouring, in small disorganized Parties, to reach the vicinity of their homes, which are chiefly in the Oude Provinces.

FROM LIEUT.-COL. H. COTTON, Commanding at Agra,
 To C. B. THORNHILL, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Fort Agra, the 13th Oct. 1857.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Chief Commissioner, and transmission to Government, the following account of the action which took place at the Station on the 10th Instant with the mutinous Troops from Mhow, 23rd N.I. and 1st Light Cavalry, increased by part of the fugitive Forces from Delhi and mal-contents from Dholepore and the neighbourhood, and which resulted in the most complete route of the Enemy, with the loss of all their Guns, Camp Equipage, Baggage, and Plunder.

The Chief Commissioner is aware of the very imperfect information we have from time to time received of the movements of this body, and that it was not until about 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, when I was arranging with him for moving out the Troops to the Kharee River, that intelligence was brought in, that a sudden attack had been made on the Camp of the Moveable Column under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, which had arrived that morning.

I lost no time in repairing to the Camp, when I took Command, and found that the Enemy, who now completely hidden by the high standing corps, had opened a heavy fire from a strong Battery in the centre, supported by several Guns on each flank, and were sweeping our position with a powerful cross-fire.

Our Troops had been drawn up by Colonel Greathed in a most judicious manner. A flank attack made by a large body of Cavalry, under cover of the Khelat-i-Ghilzie lines, had been effectually repulsed with great loss to them by a brilliant charge of the Picquet of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, led by Captain French and Lieutenant Jones.

Their attack was then soon overpowered and turned into a complete route, notwithstanding several ineffectual attempts to make a stand, our Guns following them up steadily, and the Cavalry cutting up all within their reach on both sides of the road. The pursuit was continued during the rest of the day for a distance of eleven miles, until the Enemy had been driven across the Kharee, and thoroughly dispersed with the loss of all their Guns, 12 in number, Camp Equipage, Baggage, and Plunder.

Considering that the attack was made before the Camp was pitched, and after the Troops (with the exception of the 3rd European Regiment and Lieutenant Pearson's Battery) had performed a long and harassing forced march, and been under arms for fully twenty-six hours, too much praise cannot be bestowed on the Troops engaged in this brilliant affair; but especially is praise due to the Detachment of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, whose charge I have noticed above, and who, in addition to several of their men disabled, and to Lieutenant Jones, who was very severely wounded, had the misfortune to lose their commanding Officer, Captain French, whose untimely death is a great loss to the Service.

In connection with this action, it is my desire to bring prominently to the notice of the Government and the Chief Commissioner, Major Ouvry, Commanding the Cavalry; Major Turner, Commanding the Artillery; and Captains Remington and Blunt, of that branch; also Captain Bouchier, Commanding Light Field Battery, and Lieutenant Pearson, Commanding No. 21 Light Field Battery; Captain Anson, Commanding H. M.'s 9th Lancers; Captain Watson, 1st Punjab Cavalry; Lieutenant Probyn, 2nd Punjab Cavalry; Captain Younghusband, 5th Punjab Cavalry; Captain Green, 2nd Punjab Infantry; Captain Paul, 4th Infantry; Lieutenant Gough, Commanding Hodson's Horse; and Lieutenant Lang, of the Engineers; Colonel Riddell, of the 3rd European Regiment, Lieutenant Vere; and all under their Command. To Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army; Captain Wilson, Deputy Judge Advocate General; Captain Anson, Orderly Officer to Colonel Greathed; Captain Bannatyne, Brigade

Major of the Moveable Column; Majors McLeod and Montgomery, Brigade Major; Captains Patton and Rawlins, my Personal Staff; Major Ehl, and Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, Moveable Column—I feel indebted for their services in the Field. To Colonel Greathed, Commanding the Moveable Column, who apparently was not aware of my being on the Field, until I had ordered the advance, my thanks are due for the assistance rendered in the pursuit.

I beg to append a Return of Killed and Wounded, and a list of the Ordnance taken, amongst which will be observed several pieces of large Calibre.

I have, &c.,

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel, Secy. to the Govt. of India in the Mil. Dept.

No. 1628 of 1857.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to publish the subjoined Despatch from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, dated the 12th of November 1857, and the Report by Captain Peel, C. B., of the Royal Navy, received therewith, of the Action with the Insurgents at Khujwa, on the 1st of November.
 Concurring in the justice of the observations which His Excellency has felt himself constrained to make on the circumstances under which this conflict took place, the Governor General in Council most cordially joins with His Excellency in doing honor to the memory of that gallant and much lamented Officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, C. B., of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, who nobly fell at the head of his small Force, by whose steady discipline and invincible courage the victory was gained over an Enemy very greatly superior in number.

His Lordship in Council warmly appreciates the valor, while he deeply regrets the loss of the many brave men who fell with their Commander.

On the fall of Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, the Command of the Detachment devolved on Captain Peel, R. N., and the Governor General in Council most heartily offers to that distinguished Officer the tribute of his admiration, for his conduct at the most critical period of the engagement, and for the intrepidity and judgment with which he achieved success.

His Lordship in Council likewise offers his best thanks to every Officer and man, of the Troops and of the Naval Brigade, the devotion of the whole having been most conspicuous on the occasion.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,

Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Milg. Dept.

No. 1281.

From the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army,
To the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, The 12th November 1857.

SIR,—IN forwarding the enclosed Despatch,* and the annexed Returns to Government, I am instructed by the Commander-in-Chief to remark, that the action of which it gives an account was peculiarly severe, the loss of the Force engaged being at the rate of about one to five (1 to 5).

2. Success crowned the desperate efforts of the assailants; but it is evident, from the very lucid report of Captain Peel, C. B., R. N., that the attack was most hazardous, and that at one time the Force was in the greatest danger.

3. The Troops had been harassed by very long marches, and they were not in a state to attack, much less to follow up an attack.

4. It is most providential that the 5th Irregular Cavalry, owing to some accidental cause, had not advanced with the Rebel Infantry from Banda. Had they done so, not a man of the Detachment would have escaped to tell the tale.

5. Although the late gallant Colonel Powell, C. B., fell gloriously at the head of his Troops, the Commander-in-Chief conceives that he, in some measure, imperilled his most important charge, viz, that of the Siege Train, and therefore exceeded his duty.

6. A Company of the Royal Engineers was taken out in this affair and incurred loss; and this, in the face of the repeated instructions of the Commander-in-Chief, that they should not on any account be employed on such duties; and what is more, instead of being used as a last reserve, they were pushed forward in the front, to support the Skirmishers.

7. The result, however of all was success; and although obliged to criticise the disposition of the Force, His Excellency gladly bears testimony to the brilliant courage, and the untiring energy displayed by all ranks in conflict with the Enemy, and in the great efforts made to come up with him.

8. This fight affords one more instance of what the British Soldier will perform, in spite of every disadvantage and extraordinary fatigue.

9. This was a Soldier's fight, if there ever was one.

10. The Commander-in-Chief would especially direct the attention of the Government to the manner in which the Command was conducted by Captain Peel, C. B. R. N., after the death of Colonel Powell, C. B., at a moment of extreme danger and difficulty.

11. The return of the Papers is requested when no longer required.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

W. MAYHEW, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

FROM CAPTAIN W. PEEL, C. B., R. N., Commanding,
TO MAJOR GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff, Cawnpore.

Camp Futtehpore, 3d November 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to lay before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief the details of the Battle of Khujwa, with the circumstances which preceded it.

Detachments amounting to 700 men, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, of H. M.'s 53d Regiment, in charge of Siege Train Guns, and a large Convoy, were proceeding from Allahabad to Cawnpore, and had arrived on the 31st October, after a march of twelve miles at the Camping Ground of Thurree. The same afternoon intelligence was received from Futtehpore, that the Sepoy Mutineers of the Dinapore Regiments, with three Guns, had passed the Jumna, with the intention of either attacking Futtehpore or crossing over into Oude. The Camp was immediately struck, and we arrived at the Camping Ground of Futtehpore at midnight.

Colonel Powell then made arrangements for marching at day-light upon the Enemy, who were reported to be about twenty-four miles distant at Khujwa, beyond the village of Binkee. The Column of Attack consisted of 162 men of H. M.'s 53rd Regiment under Major Clarke, 68 of the Royal Engineers under Captain Clerke, 70 of a Depot Detachment under Lieutenant Fanning, of H. M.'s 64th Regiment, and 103 of the Naval Brigade under Captain Peel. It marched at day-light, and was joined from the Garrison of Futtehpore by a Company of the 93rd Highlanders, 100 in number, under Captain Cornwell, and two 9-Pounder Guns, under Lieutenant Anderson, Bengal Artillery. After proceeding for sixteen miles, the Column halted for refreshment, and then resumed the march at a rapid pace, passing through the village of Binkee at about 1-30 P. M., where the intelligence was confirmed that the Enemy was at hand.

The Troops pressed on without interruption, the Highlanders advancing in skirmishing order, supported by the Royal Engineers, and followed by the 53rd Regiment in Column, and then by the Naval Brigade. The Depot Detachment was with the Baggage. We advanced along the road which led straight for the village of Khujwa, and saw that the Enemy's right occupied a long line of high embankments on our left of the road, which embankment, screened by a grove, continued towards the village, and that their left was higher up on the other side with their Guns posted in the centre on the road, two of them in advance, and one on a bridge near the village.

A Round Shot coming down the road, opened the battle at about 2-20 P. M., and the Column was ordered to edge to the right, and advanced on the Guns through the corn-fields, the Skirmishers of the 93rd and the Royal Engineers pushing on on both sides of the road. The Enemy's Artillery was well served, and did great execution, and the flank fire of Musketry from the embankment was very severe. The gallant Colonel Powell, himself on the left of the road, pressed on the attack, and had just secured the Guns of the Enemy, when he fell dead with a bullet through his forehead. In the meanwhile, the Naval Brigade had advanced on the right of the 53rd, and carried the Enemy's position in their front. It was then that the death of Colonel Powell was reported to me, and I was requested to assume the Command. The great force of the Enemy, the long line of their Defences, and the exhaustion of both Officers and Men, after such long marches, rendered our position truly critical. The front of the battle had become changed to the line of the road, and the Enemy, with all their Force, behind their embankment, threatened to intercept our rear. I left Lieutenant Hay, R. N., supported by the two 9-Pounder Guns, to hold the position which his Party had gallantly carried and which secured our flank, and collecting as many fresh Troops as were available, assisted principally by Lieutenant Lennox, Royal Engineers, (Captain Clerke being unfortunately severely wounded,) and by Ensign Traill, 53rd Regiment, we rushed across the road, and passing round the upper end of the embankment, divided the Enemy's Force, and drove them successively from all their positions.

The Enemy then retired in confusion, leaving us masters of their Camp, and with two of their Guns and a Tumbril in our possession.

The late hour of the evening (it was $\frac{1}{2}$ past 4 when the Enemy fired their last shot) and the excessive fatigue of the Troops, prevented any pursuit. We, therefore, spoiled their Camp, and leaving it with cheers, formed on the road by the bridge near the village, and sent Parties to collect our dead and wounded.

With the body of the Colonel on the limber of the Gun he had so gallantly captured, we then returned and encamped near the village of Binkee.

Our loss in the action was very severe, amounting to 95 Killed and Wounded. Enclosed are the Returns of the Detachments forming the Column of Attack.

The behaviour of the Troops and of the Naval Brigade was admirable, and all vied with each other and showed equal courage in the Field. The marching of the 53rd, and the accurate firing of the Highlanders, deserve special commendation.

I received the greatest assistance from Captain Cox, H. M.'s 75th Regiment, whom I would wish to bring to the favourable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief; and the arrangements of the Field Hospital under Doctor Grant, H. M.'s 53rd, and those of the Quarter Master's Department under Captain Marshall, were every thing that I could wish.

The total number of the Enemy was reported to be about 4,000 men, 2,000 of whom were Sepoys who fought in their uniform. Their loss was estimated at above 300 killed.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your very obedient Servant.

WILLIAM PEEL, Captain R. N., Commanding.

I have the pleasure to inform His Excellency, that the remaining Gun of the Enemy, with three Tumbrils, was brought in this evening by the Police, having been abandoned by the Rebels in their flight about eight miles beyond Khujwa, and that the Sepoys have dispersed in all directions pursued by the villagers.

GENERAL ORDERS.

HEAD QUARTERS : CHOULTRY PLAIN,

5TH JANUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 7TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 5 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 24TH DECEMBER 1857.

No. 1649 of 1857.

THE Right Honorable the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying Despatches lately received from the Head Quarters of the Army.

These Papers contain accounts of the safe conveyance of the Women and Children, Sick and Wounded of the Garrison of Lucknow across the Ganges; of the resistance by Major-General Windham to a well-organized and desperate attack on his position at Cawnpore by a large body of Rebels; and of the subsequent defeat and utter rout of the Insurgents by the Troops under the immediate direction of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

Throughout these operations all branches of the Service vied with each other in enhancing the glorious name which the contests of the last few months have secured for the British Army in India.

As regards the operations of the 6th, the masterly guidance of the Commander-in-Chief has been scarcely less conspicuous at Cawnpore than it was at Lucknow; each disposition and movement of his Forces fitting into one complete and effective scheme proof against all disturbance by the chances of the day of battle. General Sir Colin Campbell has added largely to the heavy claim which he holds upon the gratitude and confidence of the Government, and of the Soldiers whom he leads to victory. In two hours the Camp of the Rebels was reached and taken, and their rout complete; seventeen Guns, and a large amount of Stores and Ammunition falling into the hands of the British Force.

His Lordship in Council desires to record his appreciation of the admirable manner in which Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C. B., has executed the duties of his Division, and particularly of his exertions in pursuit of the Enemy on the 6th, and his operations on the 8th and 9th of December, on which occasion he took fifteen of the Enemy's Guns without the loss of one man.

On this as on every occasion in which danger was to be faced and difficulty overcome, Captain Peel, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade, was foremost in intrepidity and resource.

Lieutenant Vaughan and the other Officers and Men of H. M. S. Shannon are worthy of their brave Commander; and it is a pleasure to the Governor General in Council to declare his warm admiration of their conduct.

The Governor General in Council very cordially concurs in the praise so justly bestowed by the Commander-in-Chief on the General Officers Commanding Divisions, on Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, and on all the Officers of the General Staff in all its branches and the Personal Staff, and Officers Commanding Brigades and Regiments, Troops and Batteries. In the commendation given by His Excellency to Officers of every Arm of the Service, the Governor General in Council most heartily joins.

To all Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men engaged in the defence of Cawnpore, or in the attack on the Enemy's position, the Governor General in Council offers his cordial thanks for their Gallantry and good service to the State.

It will be his pleasing duty to take the first opportunity of bringing their merits to the favorable notice of Her Majesty's Government, and of the Honorable Court of Directors.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mily. Dept.

(Two of these Guns were manned by Madras Gunners, and two by Seikhs.)
Secondly.—That Brigadier N. Wilson, with the 64th Regiment, was to hold the Fort and establish a strong Picquet at the Baptist Chapel on the extreme right.

Thirdly.—That Brigadier Carthew, with the 34th Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, and four Madras Guns, should hold the Bithoor Road, in advance of the Baptist Chapel, receiving support from the Picquet there if wanted.

Fourthly.—That, with the 88th Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Maxwell, I should defend the portion of the Town nearest the Ganges on the left of the Canal, and support Colonel Walpole if required. The fighting on the 28th was very severe. On the left advance, Colonel Walpole, with the Rifles, supported by Captain Greene's Battery, and part of the 82d Regiment, achieved a complete victory over the Enemy and captured two 18-Pounder Guns.

The glory of this well-contested fight belongs entirely to the above-named Companies and Artillery. It was owing to the gallantry of the Men and Officers under the able leading of Colonel Walpole, and of my lamented relation, Lieutenant Colonel Woodford, of the Rifle Brigade (who, I deeply regret to say, was killed,) and of Lieutenant Colonel Watson, 82d, and of Captain Greene, R. A., that this hard-contested fight was won and brought to so profitable an end. I had nothing to do with it beyond sending them Supports, and at the end of bringing some up myself.

I repeat that the credit is entirely due to the above-mentioned Officers and Men. Brigadier Wilson thought proper, prompted by zeal for the Service, to lead his Regiment against four Guns placed in front of Brigadier Carthew. In this daring exploit, I regret to say, he lost his life, together with several valuable and able Officers. Major T. Stirling, 64th Regiment, was killed in striking one of the Guns, as was also that fine gallant young man, Captain R. C. McGrea, 64th Regiment, who acted as Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General to the Force here. Captain W. Morphey, 64th Regiment, (the Brigade Major), also fell at the same time. Our numbers were not sufficient to enable us to carry off the Guns.

Captain A. P. Bowlby, now the Senior Officer of the 64th Regiment, distinguished himself, as did also Captain H. F. Saunders, of the 70th Regiment, who was attached to the 64th, and is Senior to Captain Bowlby, whose conduct he describes as most devoted and gallant; as was also that of the Men of the Regiment.

Brigadier Carthew, of the Madras Native Infantry, had a most severe and strong contest with the Enemy from morning till night; but I regret to add, that he felt himself obliged to retire at dark. During the night of the 28th Instant, the Enemy occupied the Town, and on the morning of the 29th commenced bombarding my Entrenchments with a few Guns, and struck the Bridge of Boats severally times.

The Guns mounted in the Fort were superior in number to those of the Enemy, and were well manned, throughout the day, by the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men of the Royal Artillery, Seamen of the Shannon, Madras and Bengal Gunners and Seikhs.

The chief Out-work was occupied by the Rifle Brigade, and in the course of the afternoon, by your Excellency's instructions, they were advanced, and gallantly drove the Mutineers out of that portion of the City nearest to our works, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Fyers, who was supported by Colonel Walpole.

Throughout the short period I have had the temporary Command of this Division, I have received, both in the Field and elsewhere, the most important assistance from Captain H. Bruce, 5th Punjab Cavalry. Without him I should have been at a great loss for reliable information, and although I am aware that your Excellency is not ignorant of his abilities, courage, and assiduity, I think it my duty to make this mention of his service to the Country.

Pressed as I am by the operations now going forward, I am not able to specify the services of every individual who has assisted me, where all have behaved so well. I have no Staff of my own, except Captain Roger Swire, of the 17th Foot, my Aide-de-Camp, who has behaved with his usual zeal and courage.

I therefore hope I may be allowed to thank, through your Excellency, the under-mentioned Officers for the great services they have voluntarily rendered me during this trying time:—

Major-General J. E. Dupuis, C. B., Commanding Royal Artillery in India...
 Lieutenant-Colonel John Adye, C. B., Assistant Adjutant General, Royal Artillery...
 Lieutenant-Colonel H. D. Harness, Commanding Royal Engineers...
 Major Norman McLeod, Bengal Engineers...
 Lieutenant-Colonel John Simpson, 34th Regiment...
 Senior Surgeon R. C. Elliot, C. B., Royal Artillery...
 Captain John Gordon, 82nd Regiment...
 Captain Sarsfield Greene, Royal Artillery...
 Captain Smyth, Bengal Artillery...

There are several other Officers in addition, who I fortunately found detained here en route to join your Excellency's Force, and I beg to submit their names also, viz:—

Captain R. G. Brackenbury, 61st Regiment...
 Lieutenant Arthur Henley, 52nd Light Infantry...
 Lieutenant Valentine Ryan, 64th Regiment...
 Captain Ellis Cunliffe, 1st Bengal Fusiliers...
 Lieutenant E. H. Budgen, 82nd Regiment (to whom I gave the Command of the 100 mounted Sowars.)

Captain C. E. Mansfield, 33rd Regiment...
 Lieutenant P. Scratchley, Royal Engineers...
 Lieutenant W. C. Milne, 74th Bengal Native Infantry...

I beg to inform your Excellency that I have called for Nominal Returns of the Killed and Wounded, and I have also directed all Officers Commanding Corps, Regiments, and Batteries, &c., to forward to me the names of any Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, or Soldiers, who may have specially distinguished themselves by gallantry in the Field, which shall be forwarded to your Excellency without delay.

In conclusion, I hope I may be permitted to express my sincere thanks to all the Regimental Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men, for the zeal, gallantry, and courage with which they have carried out my orders during the four days of harassing actions, which have successively taken place in the defence of this important strategic centre of present operations.

I beg to forward the enclosed Despatch, which I have received from Major-General Dupuis, and I have called upon the various Officers Commanding Corps, &c., to forward me the names of any Officers they may wish to recommend, which I will send to your Excellency as soon as I receive them.

I have, &c.,

C. A. WINDHAM, Major-General.

To Major-General C. A. WINDHAM, C. B., Commanding the Cawnpore Division.

Cawnpore, 30th November 1857.

SIR,—WITHOUT entering into any detail of the operations carried on by the Force under your Command, on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th Instant, which I consider unnecessary, as you were present the whole time, yet I feel it my duty to bring to your notice the excellent conduct of the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men, both of the Royal and Bengal Artillery, whom you placed under my Command.

Lieutenant Oliver, R. A., who was in Command of a hastily equipped Battery of two 9-Pounders and two 24-Pounder Howitzers, manned by a few Royal Artillery and Bengal Gunners and some Seikhs, did his best to bring his Guns into action on the first day's operations on the Pandoo River; yet, from his extreme inexperience, I thought it better to place my Aide-de-Camp, Captain Sarsfield Greene, R. A., in Command, and I beg to bring to your notice the admirable manner in which he directed and fought the Guns at the close of the day.

On the 27th he supported the Rifle Brigade and 88th Connaught Rangers, and as our Force retired, he assisted to protect the retreat. Again, on the 28th, he supported Colonel Walpole and the Rifle Brigade on the advance on the left, and assisted materially in the capture of two 18-Pounder Guns. On the 29th he commanded four Guns in the Fort. Lieutenant Chamier, of the Madras Artillery, who commanded six light Guns, performed his duties entirely to my satisfaction, particularly on the 28th, when he was attached to the Force under Brigadier Carthew.

I beg also to bring to your consideration the conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel John Adye, my Assistant Adjutant General, who volunteered on the night of the 27th, and brought from the centre of the Town a 24-Pounder Gun, which had been left behind in the retreat, in consequence of its having been jammed in one of the narrow streets. (This Officer was assisted by Captains Austen and Bradford, of the Bengal Artillery.) On the 29th he again volunteered and took Command of the same Gun, (manned by a few Sailors and Madras Gunners,) and placed it in position to protect the Canal, where it proved of good service during the day. I beg also to testify to the willing exertions of Senior-Surgeon R. C. Elliot on all occasions.

I have, &c.,

J. E. DUPUIS, Maj.-Genl. Commanding Royal Artillery in India.

TO THE RIGHT HON'BLE VISCOUNT CANNING, Governor General, Calcutta.

Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore, The 10th December 1857.

MY LORD,—I HAVE the honor to report to your Lordship, that late on the night of the 3rd Instant, the Convoy, which had given me so much anxiety, including the Families and half the Wounded, was finally despatched, and on the 4th and 5th the last arrangements were made for consigning the remainder of the Wounded in places of safety, while a portion of the Troops was withdrawn from the Entrenchments to join the Camp.

On the afternoon of the 5th, about 3 P. M., the Enemy attacked our left Picquets with Artillery, and showed Infantry round our left flank.

A desultory fire was also begun on our Picquets in the General Gung, which is an old bazaar of very considerable extent along the Canal, in front of the line occupied by the Camp.

These advanced positions had been held, since our arrival, by Brigadier Greathed's Brigade with great firmness, the Brigadier having displayed his usual judgment in their arrangement and support. On two or three occasions he had been supported by Captain Peel's heavy Guns and Captain Bouchier's Field Battery, when the Artillery of the Enemy had annoyed him and the general front of the Camp.

After two hours of Cannonading, the Enemy retired on the afternoon in question.

Arrangements were then made for a general attack on him the next day.

His left occupied the old Cantonment, from which General Windham's post had been principally assailed. His centre was in the City of Cawnpore, and lined the houses and bazaars overhanging the Canal, which separated it from Brigadier Greathed's position, the principal streets having been afterwards discovered to be barricaded.

His right stretched some way beyond the angle formed by the Grand Trunk Road and the Canal, two miles in rear of which the Camp of the Gwalior Contingent was pitched, and so covered the Calpee road. This was the line of retreat of that body.

In short, the Canal, along which were placed his centre and right, was the main feature of his position, and could only be passed in the latter direction by two Bridges.

It appeared to me, if his right were vigorously attacked, that it would be driven from its position without assistance coming from other parts of his line, the wall of the town which gave cover to our Attacking Columns on our right being an effective obstacle to the movement of any portion of his Troops from his left to right.

Thus the possibility became apparent of attacking his Division in detail. From intelligence received before and after the action, there seems to be little doubt that in consequence of the arrival of four Regiments from Oude, and the gathering of various mutinous Corps which had suffered in previous actions, as well as the assemblage of all the Nana's followers, the strength of the Enemy now amounted to about 25,000 men with all the Guns belonging to the Contingent, some (26) in number, together with a few Guns belonging to the Nana.

Orders were given to General Windham, on the morning of the 6th, to open a heavy Bombardment at 9 A. M. from the Entrenchment in the old Cantonment, and so induce the belief in the Enemy that the attack was coming from the General's position.

The Camp was struck early, and all the Baggage driven to the River side under a Guard, to avoid the slightest risk of accident.

Brigadier Greathed, re-inforced by the 64th Regiment, was desired to hold the same ground opposite the centre of the Enemy, which he had been occupying for some days past as above-mentioned, and at 11 A. M., the rest of the Force, as per margin, was drawn up in contiguous Columns in rear of some old Cavalry lines, and effectually masked from the observation of the Enemy.

The Cannonade from the Entrenchment having become slack at this time, the moment had arrived for the attack to commence.

The Cavalry and Horse Artillery, having been sent to make a detour on the left and cross the Canal by a Bridge a mile and a half further up, and threaten the Enemy's rear.

The Brigadier-General attacked him with great vigor, and by the excellent disposition he made of his Force, succeeded in taking every Gun the Enemy possessed, without losing a single man. I have the pleasure to enclose the Brigadier-General's Report for your Lordship's perusal.

It now remains for me to bring to your Lordship's notice the Officers who have distinguished themselves during the series of operations which have occurred under my own eyes, since this Field Force left the neighbourhood of Lucknow.

I have a particular pleasure in again bringing to your Lordship's notice the zeal and great ability with which Major-General W. R. Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, has conducted the very important duties of his high position, and of my obligations to him for the most valuable assistance he has afforded me during the whole of the recent operations. I desire also to call your Lordship's attention to the able and distinguished manner in which he conducted the Troops placed under his orders, after the Enemy's centre had been divided, to the attack of their strong position at the Subadar's Tank, and to recommend to your Lordship's favorable consideration the names of the Officers who assisted him.

I have to thank Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C. B., very particularly for the admirable manner in which he has conducted the duties of the Force, and more particularly for his exertions on the 6th December, and the capital operations he performed on the 8th and 9th. The Brigadier-General speaks in the highest terms of his Divisional and Personal Staff, viz., Captain W. Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Lieutenant F. S. Roberts; Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Captain the Hon'ble A. H. Anson, Aide-de-Camp; Lieutenant C. W. Havelock, Extra Aid-de-Camp; and Captain H. M. Wilson, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

I have the greatest satisfaction in bringing to your Lordship's notice, Brigadiers Greathed, the Hon'ble A. Hope, Walpole, and Inglis. These Officers have all exerted themselves to the utmost, and have fully justified my expectations. They desire to record their obligations to the Officers Commanding Corps in their respective Brigades and to their Brigade Staff, as follows:—

Captain Hinde, Her Majesty's 8th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Wells, Her Majesty's 23rd Fusiliers; Major Lowe, Commanding Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Her Majesty's 38th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Thorold, Her Majesty's 42nd Highlanders; Col. Faber, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment; Major Bingham, Her Majesty's 64th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Leith Hay, Her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders; Lieutenant-Colonel Horsford, 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Lieutenant-Colonel Fyers, 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjab Infantry; Lieutenant W. C. L. Ryves, Commanding 4th Punjab Rifles; Captain J. M. Bannatyne, Brigade Major 3rd Brigade; Captain J. H. Cox, Brigade Major 4th Brigade; Captain Lightfoot, Brigade Major 5th Brigade; Lieutenant C. A. Barwell, Brigade Major 6th Brigade.

Owing to his knowledge of the ground I requested Major-General Windham to remain in Command of the Entrenchment, the fire of which was a very important feature in the operations of the 6th December, although I felt and explained to General Windham, that it was a Command hardly worthy of an Officer of his rank. He gave me every satisfaction, and I have to thank him accordingly.

I must particularly notice the exertions of Captain H. W. Norman, Assistant Adjutant General of the Army; of Captain Herbert Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General; and of Captain J. H. Smyth, Bengal Artillery, the latter of whom had been requested by me to take Command of the Artillery in the Entrenchment as a special duty.

Captain Smyth has rendered other great and valuable services since he left Calcutta, of which I have not had an opportunity before of recording my approval.

I desire also to bring to your Lordship's favorable notice, the Officers on the General Staff or belonging to the Personal Staff of myself or Major-General Mansfield, viz., Captain H. R. Garden, Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant G. Allgood, and Captain T. A. Carey, Deputy Assistants Quarter Master General; Captain G. C. Hatch, Deputy Judge Advocate General of the Army; Captain Sir David Baird, Bart., my first Aide-de-Camp; Captain J. Metcalfe, Interpreter; Lieutenant W. O. Lennox, Royal Engineers; Captain W. Rudman, Acting Assistant Adjutant General, Her Majesty's Forces; Lieutenant Hope Johnstone, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General to the Chief of the Staff; Lieutenant F. M. Alison, and Captain Forster, my Aides-de-Camp; and Captain Mansfield and Lieutenant D. M. Murray, Aide-de-Camp and Extra Aide-de-Camp to the Chief of the Staff.

To the Crew of H. M. S. Shannon, and to the Royal and Bengal Artillery, my thanks are alike due; but more particularly to Captain Peel, C. B., Royal Navy; to Brigadier Crawford, Royal Artillery; and to Major Turner, Bengal Horse Artillery. I cannot refrain from again drawing your Lordship's most marked attention to the very distinguished merits of the last-named (Major Turner).

As is always the case in the three Services, the Batteries and Troops were manœuvred with remarkable dexterity.

Captain Peel has brought to my favorable notice Lieutenant Vaughan, Royal Navy, and I should much wish that this recommendation may be known at the Admiralty; and Brigadier Crawford has expressed his obligations to his Brigade Major, Captain H. L. G. Bruce, Bengal Artillery, and has mentioned with marked distinction all the Officers holding Commands, viz., Captain Travers, Commanding Royal Artillery; Captains Remington and Blunt, Commanding Troops of Bengal Horse Artillery; Captains Middleton and Smith, Royal Artillery; and Captain Bouchier, Bengal Artillery, Commanding Light Field Batteries; Captain Longden,

The Infantry deployed in parallel lines fronting the Canal. Brigadier Hope's Brigade was in advance in one line, Brigadier Inglis' Brigade being in rear of Brigadier Hope.

At the same time Brigadier Walpole, assisted by Captain Smith's Field Battery, Royal Artillery, was directed to pass the Bridge immediately to the left of Brigadier Greathed's position, and to drive the enemy from the Brick-kilns, keeping the wall of the City for his guide.

The whole attack then proceeded, the Enemy quickly responding from his proper right to the fire of our heavy and Field Artillery.

Good use was made of these Guns by Captain Peel, C. B., R. N., and the Artillery Officers under Major-General Dupuis, C. B., R. A., Brigadier Crawford, R. A., and Major Turner, B. A. The Sikhs of the 4th Punjab Infantry, thrown into Skirmishing order, supported by H. M.'s 53rd Foot, attacked the Enemy in some old Mounds and Brick-kilns to our left with great vigor.

The advance then continued with rapidity along the whole line, and I had the satisfaction of observing in the distance that Brigadier Walpole was making equal progress on the right. The Canal Bridge was quickly passed, Captain Peel leading over it with a heavy Gun, accompanied by a Soldier of H. M.'s 53rd, named Hannaford.

The Troops which had gathered together, resuming their line of formation with great rapidity on either side as soon as it was crossed, and continuing to drive the Enemy at all points, his Camp being reached and taken at 1 P. M., and his rout being complete along the Calpee road. I must here draw attention to the manner in which the heavy 24-Pounder Guns were impelled and managed by Captain Peel and his gallant Sailors.

Through the extraordinary energy and good-will with which the latter have worked, their Guns have been constantly in advance throughout our late operations, from the relief of Lucknow, till now, as if they were light Field Pieces, and the service rendered by them in clearing our front has been incalculable. On this occasion there was the sight beheld of 24-Pounder Guns advancing with the first line of Skirmishers.

Without losing any time, the pursuit with Cavalry, Infantry and Light Artillery was pressed with the greatest eagerness to the fourteenth milestone on the Calpee road, and I have reason to believe that every Gun and Cart of Ammunition, which had been in that part of the Enemy's position which had been attacked, now fell into our possession.

I had the satisfaction of accompanying the Troops engaged in the pursuit, and of being able to bear witness to their strenuous endeavours to make the most of the success which had been achieved.

When I passed the Camp and went forward on the Calpee Road, Major-General Mansfield was desired by me to make arrangements for the attack of the position called the Subadar's Tank, which extended round the left rear of the Enemy's position in the old Cantonments. As this operation was a separate one, I beg to enclose, for your Lordship's consideration, the Major-General's own Narrative.

The Troops having returned from the pursuit at midnight on the 6th, and their baggage having reached them on the afternoon of the next day, Brigadier-General Grant was detached in pursuit on the 8th with the Cavalry, some Light Artillery, and a Brigade of Infantry, with orders to destroy public buildings belonging to the Nanna Sahib at Bithoor, and to press on to Serai Ghât, twenty-five miles from hence, if he had good tidings of the retreating Enemy. This duty was admirably performed by the Brigadier-General, and he caught the Enemy when he was about to cross the River with his remaining Guns.

Orders were given to General Windham, on the morning of the 6th, to open a heavy Bombardment at 9 A. M. from the Entrenchment in the old Cantonment, and so induce the belief in the Enemy that the attack was coming from the General's position. The Camp was struck early, and all the Baggage driven to the River side under a Guard, to avoid the slightest risk of accident.

Bruce, Bengal Artillery, and has mentioned with marked distinction all the Officers holding Commands, viz., Captain Travers, Commanding Royal Artillery; Captains Remington and Blunt, Commanding Troops of Bengal Horse Artillery; Captains Middleton and Smith, Royal Artillery; and Captain Bouchier, Bengal Artillery, Commanding Light Field Batteries; Captain Longden,

As soon as possible, I sent up the Sikh Infantry to secure the Guns, and am happy to say 14 Brass Guns and 1 18-Pounder, with Limbers, Waggon, &c., and a large quantity of Ammunition, were taken.

The success was complete, and I am truly grateful to God, and happy to say, though the fire of Grape from the Enemy was most severe and well-placed, falling amongst the Artillery like hail, I had not a single man even wounded, and only one horse of Captain Middleton's Battery, killed. It was truly marvelous and providential. 13 Guns, most of them 9-Pounder and 24-Pounder Howitzers, were playing with Grape on the gallant Artillery, and with Round Shot upon the Cavalry, the former within about 500 yards—and his Excellency is well aware with what precision these rebels fire their Guns—yet not one single man was wounded.

I beg to request you will lay the names of the undermentioned Officers before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief :—Captain Middleton, who Commanded the whole of the Artillery, rendered the greatest services, both in the action and in the moving of the Guns ; Lieut. Millman, who Commanded the Battery ; Captain Remington, who worked his Guns admirably, and who was most zealous in giving every assistance to Captain Middleton ; Brigadier A. Little, to whom I was much indebted for his Cavalry support to the Guns, and for the way in which he brought his Force to the front on the advance of the Enemy.

Lieutenant Younghusband, Commanding 5th Punjaub Cavalry, and Lieutenant Gough, Commanding Hodson's Horse. To all of whom my thanks are due for the very able way in which they commanded their Regiments.

Lieutenant Malcolm, Commanding the Royal Engineers, and Lieutenant Forbes, Commanding the Bengal Engineers, who, with their men, executed the work entrusted to them with great ability and zeal.

Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope, Commanding the Infantry Brigade, was of the greatest possible assistance, and behaved with his usual well-known gallantry.

Lieutenant-Colonel Thorold, Commanding 42nd Highlanders; Colonel Faber, Commanding 53rd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Leith Hay, Commanding 93rd Highlanders; and Captain Ryves, Commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry.

My thanks are also due to these Officers for the able manner in which they Commanded their Regiments :—Captain McLeod, 42nd Highlanders, Commanding the Rear Guard ; Lieutenant Smith, Commanding two 9-Pounder Guns, who performed the duties entrusted to them to my satisfaction. Captain Anderson, Ex-Commissariat Officer, whose duties were very severe, and Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, were most attentive and zealous. Captain Sarel, Brigade Major of Cavalry, Captain Cox, Brigade Major of Infantry, deserve my warmest approbation. Captain the Hon'ble G. A. Anson, my A. D. C., afforded me on this, as on every other occasion, the greatest assistance. Lieutenant Havelock, Extra A. D. C., was very useful. Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope talks in the highest strains of Lieutenant A. Butter, 93rd Highlanders, his Acting A. D. C. Captain Bruce, head of the Intelligence Department rendered me very great assistance in procuring information regarding the movements of the Enemy.

I have, &c.,

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS: CHOULTRY PLAIN, 4th January 1858.

At a European District Court Martial held at Rangoon on Monday the 30th day of November 1857, Assistant Apothecary Thomas Johnson of the Madras Medical Establishment, doing duty with the Artillery at Rangoon, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

Charge.—For conduct unbecoming a Warrant Officer, and to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline in having on the morning of the 19th of November 1857, been in a state of incapacity for the performance of his duties from the effects of intoxication.

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner, Assistant Apothecary Thomas Johnson of the Madras Medical Establishment, is Guilty of the Charge.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner guilty as above stated doth sentence him, the said Assistant Apothecary Thomas Johnson of the Madras Medical Establishment, doing duty with the Artillery at Rangoon, to be placed Fifteen steps lower in the grade of Assistant Apothecary, than that in which he now stands.

RANGOON, 30th November 1857.

Confirmed—but I consider the sentence much too lenient.

MADRAS,
30th December 1857.

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lieutenant General,
Commander in Chief.

Assistant Apothecary Johnson's name is to be transposed in the List of Assistant Apothecaries of the Madras Medical Establishment and will stand in future next below, Asst. Apothecary Charles Smith.

HEAD QUARTERS : CHOULTRY PLAIN,

13TH JANUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 12 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 22ND DECEMBER 1857.

No. 1625 of 1857.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying Despatches relating to the first Relief of the Garrison of Lucknow, which have lately reached Government.

These Despatches contain an account of the proceedings of the Force under the Command of the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., before he forced his way into the City, as well as of the various operations carried on under Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., after a junction had been effected with the Garrison of the Residency on the 25th of September until the arrival of the Relieving Force under His Excellency General Sir Colin Campbell.

They show how thoroughly this gallant band has sustained the reputation of British Soldiers for courage, discipline, and determination, whether in the plain, in the hand to hand struggle of the street-fighting, or in the more wearying labours of the Siege.

The Governor General in Council has already had the satisfaction of acknowledging the obligations of the Government of India to Sir James Outram; but His Lordship in Council cannot deny himself the pleasure of expressing again his appreciation of Sir James Outram's eminent services, and his respect for the generous and soldier-like feeling which prompted Sir James to abstain from assuming the position due to his superior rank, and to leave in the hands of Sir Henry Havelock the completion of the undertaking which the latter had successfully begun.

To Brigadier Inglis, the Governor General in Council can give no higher praise than to say that, during the continuance of the Siege, after Sir James Outram had assumed the Chief Command in the Residency, his ability, energy, and vigilance were worthy of the lasting reputation which his conduct of the defence has secured to him.

Sir James Outram has acknowledged the efficient co-operation which he had from Brigadiers Hamilton and Stisted. To these Officers, as well as to Captain Bouverie and Captain Spurgin, serving on the Brigade Staff, the Governor General in Council desires to offer his hearty thanks for the good service they have done.

His Lordship in Council conveys to Major Eyre, who had already established a claim on the gratitude of the Government; to Captain Maude, Royal Artillery; to Captain Olpherts, Bengal Artillery; to Lieutenant Thomas, Commissary of Ordnance; and to the Officers and Men of the combined Force of Artillery, the assurance of the satisfaction with which he has received the evidence of their zeal and gallantry.

The labours that devolved upon the Engineer Department have been of a most important and difficult nature, and the Governor General in Council begs to assure Captain Crommelin, Commanding the Engineers; Lieutenant Hutchinson, Second in Command; Lieutenants Russell and Limond; the Officers and Men attached to, as well as those who volunteered to work with, the Department—his appreciation of the courage, skill, and energy with which they bore their very arduous part in the Siege.

Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, Commanding Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, deserves praise for the able manner in which he held an advanced post, exposed to the unceasing attacks of the Enemy; and to Captain Brasyer, Commanding the Regiment of Ferozepore; to Captain

Lockhart, Commanding Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders; to Captain Shute, Commanding a Detachment of Her Majesty's 64th, who have each maintained a difficult post with complete success; to Captain Willis, Commanding Her Majesty's 84th; to Captain Galwey, Commanding Madras Fusiliers; and to Lieutenant Mearn, Commanding Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, the Governor General in Council tenders his hearty thanks.

His Lordship in Council acknowledges with pleasure the cheerful alacrity with which Captain Barrow, Commanding Volunteer Cavalry, Captains Johnson and Hardinge, Commanding Irregular Cavalry, have come forward to volunteer their services on every opportunity: the latter Officer having also rendered good service as Deputy Quarter Master General.

The thanks of Government are due to Captain Garden, Assistant Quarter Master General; to Captain Moorsom, Her Majesty's 52nd Regiment, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, for the zeal they have exhibited in their various Departments; as also to Captains Alexander, Orr, and Carnegie, for their able services at the head of the Intelligence Department; and to Captain Macbean and Lieutenant James for the efficient manner in which, under their superintendence, the Commissariat arrangements have been carried out.

The Governor General in Council has great satisfaction in acknowledging the excellent provision made for the care of the Sick by the Medical Department under Superintending Surgeon J. Scott; and His Lordship in Council desires especially to tender his warm thanks to the Reverend Mr. Harris for the personal courage displayed by that gentleman in the discharge of his sacred duties, and for the unremitting assiduity with which he, throughout the Siege, has sought to allay the sufferings and provide for the comfort of the Sick and Wounded.

The Governor General in Council offers to Major North, Deputy Judge Advocate General; to Captain Hudson (H. M.'s 64th), Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; and to Lieutenant Hargood (Madras Fusiliers), serving on the Staff of the late Sir Henry Havelock, the thanks they have merited by the efficient discharge of their respective duties.

The support rendered to the Force, both in the Field and throughout the very intricate and difficult Engineering operations of the defence, by Colonel Napier, Military Secretary and Chief of the Adjutant General's Department, has been most valuable, and His Lordship in Council desires to assure Colonel Napier that his ability and exertions are fully appreciated by Government.

The Governor General in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the services of Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant General; Captain Gordon, Deputy Judge Advocate General; Lieutenants Sitwell and Chamier, of the Personal Staff of, and Mr. Money, Private Secretary to, Sir James Outram; of Captain Dawson and Ensign Hewitt, Orderly Officers, and of Mr. G. Couper, of the Civil Service, who volunteered to perform the duties of Aide-de-Camp.

In addition to those whose names have been more prominently brought to notice, the Governor General in Council desires to convey his hearty thanks to all Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men, who have been engaged in the operations referred to in these Despatches, for the valor they have displayed in the Field, for the firmness with which they have maintained their position in the City, and for the cheerful, willing, and earnest manner in which they have discharged all the various duties and borne the privations imposed upon them, under circumstances of extraordinary difficulty and hardship.

It will be a gratification to the Governor General in Council to bring the eminent services of Major General Sir James Outram's Force, Officers and Men, to the favorable notice of Her Majesty's Government and of the Hon'ble Court of Directors, by the first opportunity. Meanwhile the Governor General in Council directs, by a separate Order of this date, that the Donation Batta already granted to the Garrison under Brigadier Inglis shall be extended to Major General Sir James Outram's Force.

The Governor General in Council cannot conclude this notice of the events connected with the Relief of Lucknow without expressing his deep regret at the heavy loss which England has suffered by the fall of so many able Officers and gallant Men.

His Lordship in Council has already recorded his sense of the high worth of those true Soldiers, Sir Henry Havelock and Brigadier General Neill. Their names will be cherished with honor by their fellow-countrymen.

He now has to lament the untimely death of Colonel Campbell, Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, than whom the Queen's Service possessed no more gallant or promising Officer.

Major Haliburton, Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders; Major Cooper, Artillery; Major Simmons, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers; Major Stephenson, Madras Fusiliers; and many other brave Men amongst their comrades, have died in the discharge of their duty; and in memory of these the Governor General in Council desires to record his tribute of sorrow and gratitude.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,

Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mily. Dept.

No. 18 A.

FROM THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore, The 5th December 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, the Report, by Major-General Sir J. Outram, K. C. B., dated 25th Ultimo, of his operations subsequent to the 28th September last, and His Excellency would desire particularly to draw the attention of His Lordship to the skill displayed in the arrangements made for the defence of the position occupied by Sir J. Outram's Force at Lucknow, and to the gallantry and endurance of the Troops engaged.

2. Sir Colin Campbell would most especially refer to the valuable services of the late Major General Sir H. Havelock, whose death His Excellency, in common with the whole Army, deeply deplores, and of that talented and valuable Officer, Colonel R. Napier, of the Bengal Engineers, whose exertions were conspicuous and unceasing.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Lieut., Asst. Adj. Genl. of Army.

FROM BRIGADIER GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force.

Residency, Lucknow, 30th September 1857.

SIR,—MAJOR GENERAL Sir James Outram, having, with characteristic generosity of feeling, declared that the Command of the Force should remain in my hands, and that he would accompany it as Civil Commissioner only, until a junction could be effected with the gallant and enduring Garrison of this place, I have to request that you will inform His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that this purpose was effected on the evening of the 25th Instant. But before detailing the circumstances, I must refer to antecedent events. I crossed the Sye on the 22nd Instant, the bridge at Bunnce not having been broken. On the 23rd I found myself in presence of the Enemy, who had taken a strong position, his left resting on the enclosure of the Alum Bagh, and his centre and right drawn up behind a chain of hillocks. The head of my Column at first suffered from the fire of his Guns, as it was compelled to pass along the Trunk Road between morasses; but as soon as my Regiments could be deployed along his front, and his right enveloped by my left, victory declared for us, and we captured five Guns. Sir James Outram, with his accustomed gallantry, passed on in advance, close down to the Canal. But as the Enemy fed his Artillery with Guns from the City, it was not possible to maintain this, or a less advanced position for a time taken up; but it became necessary to throw our right on the Alum Bagh, and refuse our left, and even then we were incessantly cannonaded throughout the 24th; and the Enemy's Cavalry, 1,500 strong, crept round through lofty cultivation, and made a sudden irruption upon the Baggage massed in our rear. The Soldiers of the 90th, forming the Baggage Guard, received them with great gallantry; but lost some brave Officers and Men, shooting down, however, 25 of the Troopers and putting the whole body to flight. They were finally driven to a distance by two Guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery.

The Troops had been marching for three days under a perfect deluge of rain, irregularly fed, and badly housed in villages. It was thought necessary to pitch tents, and permit them to halt on the 24th. The assault on the City was deferred until the 25th. That morning our Baggage and Tents were deposited in the Alum Bagh under an escort, and we advanced. The 1st Brigade, under Sir James Outram's personal leading, drove the Enemy from a succession of gardens and walled enclosures, supported by the 2nd Brigade, which I accompanied. Both Brigades were established on the Canal at the Bridge of Char Bagh.

From this point the direct road to the Residency was something less than two miles; but it was known to have been cut by trenches, and crossed by palisades at short intervals, the houses also being all loopholed. Progress in this direction was impossible; so the united Column pushed on, detouring along the narrow road which skirts the left bank of the Canal. Its advance was not seriously interrupted until it had come opposite the King's Palace or the Kaiser Bagh, where two Guns and a body of mercenary Troops were entrenched. From this Entrenchment a fire of Grape and Musketry was opened, under which nothing could live. The Artillery and Troops had to pass a Bridge partially under its influence; but were then shrouded by the buildings adjacent to the Palace of Fureed Buksh. Darkness was coming on, and Sir James Outram at first proposed to halt within the courts of the Mehal for the night; but I esteemed it to be of such importance to let the beleaguered Garrison know that succour was at hand, that with his ultimate sanction I directed the main body of the 78th Highlanders and Regiment of Ferozepore to advance. This Column rushed on with a desperate gallantry, led by Sir James Outram and myself, and Lieutenants Hudson and Hargood, of my Staff, through streets of flatroofed loopholed houses, from which a perpetual fire was kept up, and overcoming every obstacle, established itself within the enclosure of the Residency. The joy of the Garrison may be more easily conceived than described; but it was not till the next evening that the whole of my Troops, Guns, Tumbrils, and Sick and Wounded, continually exposed to the attacks of the Enemy, could be brought step by step within this enciente and the adjacent Palace of the Fureed Buksh. To form an adequate idea of the obstacles overcome, reference must be made to the events that are known to have occurred at Buenos Ayres and Saragossa. Our advance was through streets of houses such as I have described, and thus each forming a separate fortress. I am filled with surprise at the success of the operation, which demanded the efforts of 10,000 good Troops. The advantage gained has cost us dear. The killed, wounded, and missing, the latter being wounded Soldiers, who I much fear—some or all—have fallen into the hands of a merciless foe, amounted, up to the evening of the 26th, to 535 Officers and Men. Brigadier General Neill, Commanding 1st Brigade; Major Cooper, Brigadier, Commanding Artillery; Lieutenant Colonel Bazely, a Volunteer with the Force—are killed. Colonel Campbell, Commanding 90th Light Infantry; Lieutenant-Colonel Tytler, my Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; and Lieutenant Havelock, my Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, are severely, but not dangerously, wounded. Sir James Outram received a flesh wound in the arm in the early part of the action near Char Bagh; but nothing could subdue his spirit; and though faint from loss of blood, he continued to the end of the action to sit on his horse, which he only dismounted at the gate of the Residency. As he has now assumed the Command, I leave to him the narrative of all events subsequent to the 26th.

Enclosed is the return of Casualties up to that date.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

H. HAVELOCK, Brigadier-General, Commanding Oude Field Force.

NUMERICAL RETURN of Killed, Wounded, and Missing of the Troops composing Oude Field Force, in the Actions of the 25th and 26th September 1857, under Brigadier General Havelock, C. B., Commanding.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL OUTRAM, Commanding Cawnpore and Dinapore Divisions,
TO MAJOR GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff.

Camp Alun Bagh, 25th November 1857.

Sir,—I HAVE the honor to acquaint His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief with the proceedings

- Report from General Havelock on operations of 16th November.
- Brigadier Inglis's Report of Garrison of Lucknow, also Engineer operations, Commissariat, &c. &c.
- Colonel Napier's Despatch of 25th and 26th in bringing up Siege Train, Sick and Wounded, &c.
- Colonel Napier's Despatch, reporting taking of Phillip's Garden Battery on 1st and 2nd October 1857.
- General Havelock's letter, forwarding Colonel Napier's Report of operations in Palaces.
- Brigadier Inglis's detailed Reports of Sorties, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4.
- Report of Captain Crommelin, Chief Engineer.
- Lieutenant Hutchinson's plan of Capt. Lockhart's post.

Contrary to the expectations expressed in my last Despatch, the Enemy, relying on the strong position of their remaining Battery, (the one known as "Phillips' Battery,") continued to annoy the Garrison by its fire, and to maintain there a strong Force. Its capture, therefore, became necessary, and this was effected on the 2nd October, with the comparatively trifling loss of two killed and eleven wounded,—a result which was due to the careful and scientific dispositions of Colonel Napier, under whose personal guidance the operation was conducted. Three Guns were taken and burst; their carriages destroyed; and a large house in the Garden, which had been the Enemy's stronghold, was blown up.

With a view to the possibility of adopting the Cawnpore road as my line of communication with Alun Bagh, Major Haliburton, 78th Highlanders, commenced on the 3rd to work from house to house with the crow-bar and pick-axe.

On the 4th, this gallant Officer was mortally wounded; and his successor, Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers disabled. During the whole of the 5th, these proceedings were continued; but on the 6th they were relinquished, it being found that a large Mosque, strongly occupied by the Enemy, required more extensive operations for its capture than were expedient; therefore, after blowing up all the principal houses on the Cawnpore road, from which the Garrison had been annoyed by Musketry, the Reconnoitring party gradually withdrew to the post in front of Phillips Garden, which has since been retained as a permanent Outpost, affording comfortable accommodation to H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, and protecting a considerable portion of the entrenchment from molestation, besides connecting it with the Palaces occupied by General Havelock. During the foregoing operations, the Enemy, recovering from their first surprise, commenced to threaten our positions in the Palaces and Outposts by mining and assaults. As there were only a few Miners in the Garrison, and none with the Field Force, the Enemy could not be prevented from exploding three Mines, causing us a loss of several men; and on the 6th they actually penetrated into the Palaces in considerable numbers.

But they paid dearly for their temerity, being intercepted and slain at all points. Their loss on that day was reported in the city to have been 450 men.

A Company of Miners, formed of Volunteers from the several Corps, was placed at the disposal of the Chief Engineer, which soon gave him the ascendancy over the Enemy, who were foiled at all points, with the loss of their Galleries and Mines, and the destruction of their Miners in repeated instances.

The Sikhs of the Ferozepore Regiment have zealously labored at their own Mines, and though separated only by a narrow passage (16 feet wide) from the Enemy, have, under the guidance and direction of the Engineer Department, defended and protected their position.

The Outpost of H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, under Captain Lockhart, has also been vigorously assailed by the Enemy's Miners. Its proximity to the Entrenchment made it convenient to place it under the charge of the Officiating Garrison Engineer, Lieutenant Hutchinson, under whose skilful directions the Enemy have been completely out-mined by the Soldiers of H. M.'s 78th Regiment.

I am aware of no parallel to our series of Mines in modern War: 21 Shafts, aggregating 200 feet in depth, and 3,291 feet of Gallery, have been executed. The Enemy advanced 20 Mines against the Palaces and Outposts; of these they exploded three, which caused us loss of life, and two, which did no injury: seven have been blown in; and out of seven others, the Enemy have been driven, and their Galleries taken possession of by our Miners;—results of which the Engineer Department may well be proud. The reports and plans forwarded by Sir Henry Havelock, K. C. B., and now submitted to His Excellency, will explain how a line of Gardens, Courts and dwelling houses, without fortified enceinte, without flanking Defences, and closely connected with the buildings of a City, has been maintained for eight weeks in a certain degree of security; but notwithstanding the close and constant Musketry fire from loopholed walls and windows, often within 30 yards, and from every lofty building within Rifle range, and notwithstanding a frequent though desultory fire of Round Shot and Grape from Guns posted at various distances, from 70 to 500 yards! This result has been obtained by the skill and courage of the Engineer and Quarter Master General's Departments, zealously aided by the brave Officers and Soldiers who have displayed the same cool determination and cheerful alacrity in the toils of the Trench and amidst the concealed dangers of the Mine, that they had previously exhibited, when forcing their way into Lucknow at the point of the bayonet and amidst a most murderous fire.

But skilful and courageous as have been the Engineering operations, and glorious the behaviour of the Troops, their success has been in no small degree promoted by the incessant and self-denying devotion of Colonel Napier,—who has never been many hours absent by day or night from any one of the points of operation,—whose valuable advice has ever been readily tendered and gratefully accepted by the Executive Officers,—whose earnestness and kindly cordiality have stimulated and encouraged all ranks and grades, amidst their harassing difficulties and dangerous labours.

I now lay before His Excellency, Brigadier Inglis' Report of the proceedings in the Garrison, since its relief by the Force under my Command, since the capture of the Enemy's Batteries, and the occupation of the Palaces and Posts.

The position occupied by the Oude Field Force relieved the Garrison of the Entrenchment from all molestation on one-half of its enceinte,—that is, from the Cawnpore road to the commencement of the River front; and the Garrison, reinforced by Detachments of the 78th and Madras Fusiliers, was enabled to hold as Outposts three strong positions commanding the road leading to the Iron Bridge, which have proved of great advantage, causing much annoyance to the Enemy, and keeping their Musketry fire at a distance from the body of the place.

The Defences, which had been barely tenable, were thoroughly repaired, and new Batteries were constructed to mount 13 additional Guns.

The Enemy, after the capture of the Batteries, adopted a new system of tactics. Their Guns were withdrawn to a greater distance, and disposed so as to act not against the Defences, but against the interior of the Entrenchment.

The moment they were searched out and silenced by our Guns, their position was changed, so that their Shot ranged through the Entrenchment; and but for the desultory nature of their fire might have been very destructive.

Under the care of the Superintending Surgeon, Dr. Scott, the Hospital was securely barricaded without detriment to ventilation.

From the Revd. J. P. Harris, Chaplain of the Garrison, the Sick and Wounded received the most marked and personal kindness. His spiritual ministrations in the Hospital were incessant; his Christian zeal and earnest philanthropy I have had constant opportunities of observing since my arrival in Lucknow; and but one testimony is borne to his exertions during the Siege and to the personal bravery he displayed in hastening from house to house in pursuit of his sacred calling, under the heaviest fire. Daily he had to read the funeral service over numbers of the Garrison, exposed to Shot, Shell and Musketry.

Order was established in the Magazine under Captain Thomas, the Garrison Commandant of Artillery and Commissary of Ordnance; and under Doctor Ogilvie, Sanatory Commissioner, the conservancy Department effected great and visible improvements in the condition of the Entrenchments, besides removing the horrible collection of filth and putrid carcasses which had accumulated in the Palaces taken possession of by the Relieving Force.

I cannot conclude this Report without expressing to His Excellency my intense admiration of the noble spirit displayed by all ranks and grades of the Force since we entered Lucknow. Themselves placed in a state of Siege,—suddenly reduced to scanty and unsavoury rations,—denied all the little luxuries, (such as Tea, Sugar, Rum and Tobacco,) which by constant use, had become to them almost necessities of life,—smitten, in many cases, by the same scorbutic affections and other evidences of debility, which prevailed amongst the original Garrison,—compelled to engage in laborious operations;—exposed to constant danger, and kept ever on the alert—their spirits and cheerfulness, and zeal and discipline, seemed to rise with the occasion. Never could there have been a Force more free from grumblers, more cheerful, more willing, or more earnest.

Amongst the Sick and Wounded this glorious spirit was, if possible, still more conspicuous than amongst those fit for duty.

It was a painful sight to see so many noble fellows maimed and suffering, and denied those comforts of which they stood so much in need.

But it was truly delightful and made one proud of his Countrymen, to observe the heroic fortitude and hearty cheerfulness with which all was borne.

My cordial acknowledgments are due to Brigadiers Hamilton and Stisted, and to their Brigade Staff—Captains Spurgin and Bouverie—for the efficient disposition of their Troops under General Havelock's orders and direction, and the vigilance with which they have guarded their extended position.

The glorious reputation which his defence of Lucknow has won for Brigadier Inglis, leaves little room for further commendation for the able manner in which that defence has been continued,—the vigor with which the defences of his Garrison have been improved and extended—and the unceasing vigilance which rendered every effort of the Enemy to assail him utterly hopeless. I cordially concur in, and second his recommendation to the favorable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, of the several Officers named in his Despatch.

To the gallant Brigadier Eyre, Commanding the Artillery, whose victories at Arrah and Jugdespore have already given him an European reputation; to the brave Captains Olpherts, of the Bengal Artillery; and Maude, of the Royal Artillery, Commanding Batteries; to Lieutenant Thomas, Commissary of Ordnance; and to the Officers and Men of the combined Force of Artillery, my hearty and sincere thanks are due. The duties which have fallen on them have been most arduous, and have been carried through with the zeal and gallantry which have ever distinguished their noble arm of the Service.

Captain Crommelin, Commanding the Engineer Department, has had to undertake very important duties of a novel and difficult nature, without trained Sappers and without any Establishment of trained Subordinates, and with a very small Staff. Under these disadvantages, combined with the very serious one of ill-health, Captain Crommelin, aided by the Executive Department, converted the open arcaded halls of the Palace into secure Barracks, and has kept aloof the Enemy's Miners.

To Captain Crommelin; to his gallant and energetic Second in Command, Lieutenant Hutchinson; to Lieutenants Russell and Limond, and the Officers and Men recommended by Captain Crommelin, I am very greatly indebted.

I have particularly to recommend to His Excellency's notice Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, Commanding H. M.'s 90th L. I., who throughout these operations has had charge of the advanced Garden and its dependent posts, which have been exposed to the unceasing attack of the Enemy. For the very able manner in which these posts have been held, Colonel Purnell deserves the highest praise.

Captain Brasyer, Commanding the Regiment of Ferozepore; and Captain Lockhart, Commanding H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, have each maintained a difficult position with the most perfect success. These Officers, to whom I must also add Captain Shute, Commanding Detachment H. M.'s 64th Regiment, have gallantly led their men in every Sortie.

To Captain Willis, Commanding H. M.'s 84th Regiment; Captain Galwey, Commanding Madras Fusiliers; and Lieutenant Meara, Commanding H. M.'s 5th Regiment (Fusiliers), I must tender my acknowledgments. Captain Barrow, Commanding Volunteer Cavalry, Captains Johnson and Hardinge, Commanding Irregular Cavalry, though precluded from action in their proper capacity, have zealously volunteered for every service in which they or their men could be useful, and have maintained posts, or furnished working parties with cheerful alacrity.

To Captain Garden, Assistant Quarter Master General; to Captain Hardinge, Officiating Deputy Quarter Master General; Captain Moorsom, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, my thanks are particularly due; and also to Captains Alexander, Orr and Carnegie, for their services at the head of the Intelligence Department;—notwithstanding the complete hostility of the country, many trustworthy messengers have been furnished by which communications have been safely carried to Alum Bagh and Cawnpore. Captain Moorsom, of H. M.'s 52nd Regiment, having surveyed the City and environs of Lucknow previous to the outbreak of hostilities, has constantly been able to render most important service, and is a very bold and intelligent Officer.

The Commissariat arrangements have been most efficiently conducted under Captain Macbean, attached to the Oude Field Force; and Lieutenant James, attached to the Garrison; and I have to thank them for their valuable services.

I beg to recommend, to particular notice, the excellent arrangements made for the care of the Sick by the Medical Department under Superintending Surgeon J. Scott, whose energy and zeal have been unremitting in the performance of his arduous duties.

I have further to recommend to His Excellency's notice Lieutenant Hudson, H. M.'s 64th Regiment, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; and Lieutenant Hargood, Madras Fusiliers, A. D. C. on the Staff of the late Sir H. Havelock; also the Officers of my Divisional and Personal Staff.

To Major North, General Havelock's Deputy Judge Advocate General, and subsequently one of the Prize Agents, my thanks are due for the readiness and success with which he established and superintended the manufacture of Enfield Rifle Cartridges.

This valuable service was rendered without any relaxation of his other duties, to the protestation of which he men with a gallant.

The pleasing duty now remains of acknowledging my obligations to my Personal Staff.

To Colonel Napier, Military Secretary, Chief of the Adjutant General's Department, for the efficient support I have ever received from him throughout these operations, and whose gallantry in the Field was as conspicuous as his able guidance of the Engineering operations above detailed was valuable.

I have much pleasure in making favorable mention of the services of Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant General, who has afforded me every assistance; also Captain Gordon, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

My Aides-de-Camp—Lieutenants Silwell and Chamier—have rendered me most constant and zealous aid. I was unfortunately deprived of Lieutenant Silwell's services on the 24th September, owing to a contusion received on the head, and another on the forehead, from a stone thrown at him from a battery on the 24th September, and another on the 25th September, and another on the 26th September, and another on the 27th September, and another on the 28th September, and another on the 29th September, I have to acknowledge the services of Captain Dawson and Ensign Hewitt, Orderly Officers. I was glad to avail myself of the services of Mr. George Couper, C. S., who volunteered to perform the duties of an Aide-de-Camp during our stay in the Garrison and on the night of our retiring from it.

It is with the deepest regret that I have to record at the head of the gallant and distinguished Officers who have so zealously and ably aided these operations, and whose loss their country has to deplore, the name of the lamented Sir Henry Havelock, on whose merits it would be superfluous for me to dwell. Worn out by toils and exposure, he lived but long enough to witness the end for which he had fought so nobly, and to receive the valued token conveyed to him of the approbation of his Sovereign.

Colonel Campbell, of H. M.'s 90th L. I., who, in my former Despatch, was returned as wounded, has since died. In him England has lost a most gallant and distinguished Officer.

By the fall of the gallant Officers—Major Haliburton, H. M.'s 78th; Major Simmonds, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers; and Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers, the country and service have sustained a very heavy loss.

I have also, with sorrow, to record the loss of the many other valuable Officers and Soldiers who have fallen in the performance of their duty during the course of these operations, which have involved a total loss (subsequently to those reported in General Havelock's Despatch of the 28th October,) of 6 European Officers, 1 Native Officer, and 120 Rank and File killed; 27 European Officers, 7 Native, and 382 Rank and File wounded; total, 551 killed and wounded.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. OUTRAM, Major-General, Comdg. Cawnpore and Dinapore Division.

From MAJOR GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force,

To COLONEL R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff, &c.

To MAJOR GENERAL SIR JAMES OUTRAM, G. C. B.

Lucknow, 16th November 1857.

SIR,—I beg to report, for the information of Major General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the complete success of the operations in which the Troops of my Division were employed under his own eye this evening, in capturing a succession of houses in advance of the Palace of Fureed Buksh.

I have given in the margin the details of Detachments employed.

The nature of the enterprize may be shortly described as follows.

The progress of the relieving Force under His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief was anxiously watched, and it was determined that as soon as he should reach the Sikunder Bagh, about three miles from the Residency, the outer wall of the Advance Garden of the Palace, in which the Enemy had before made several breaches, should be blown in by Mines previously prepared; that two powerful Batteries erected in the enclosure should then open on the Insurgents' Defences in front, and after the desired effect had been produced, that the Troops should storm two buildings, known by the names of the Hern Khana, or Deer-house, and the Steam Engine-house. Under these also, three Mines had been driven.

Reserve 200 from 5th Fusiliers, 78th Highlanders, and Regiment of Ferozepore.

Each Column being accompanied by a party of Miners, with tools and Powder bags, under Command of an Engineer Officer.

It was ascertained, about 11 A. M. that Sir Colin Campbell was operating against the Sikunder Bagh. The explosion of the Mines in the Garden was therefore ordered. Their action was, however, comparatively feeble, so the Batteries had the double task of completing the demolition of the wall and prostrating and breaching the works and the buildings beyond it. Brigadier Eyre commanded in the left Battery; Captain Olpherts in the right; Captain Maude shelled from six Mortars in a more retired quadrangle of the Palace. The Troops were formed in the Square of the Chuttur Munzil, and brought up in succession through the approaches, which in every direction intersected the Advance Garden. At $\frac{1}{2}$ past 3 two of the Mines at the Hern Khana exploded with good effect. At half-past 3 the advance sounded. It is impossible to describe the enthusiasm with which this signal was received by the Troops. Pent up in in action for upwards of six weeks, and subjected to constant attacks, they felt that the hour of retribution and glorious exertion had returned.

Their cheers echoed through the Courts of the Palace, responsive to the bugle sound, and on they rushed to assured victory. The Enemy could nowhere withstand them. In a few minutes the whole of the buildings were in our possession, and have since been armed with Cannon and steadily held against all attack. It will be seen by the enclosed Return that the loss has been small.

I received, throughout the operations, the most effective aid from my Staff—Lieutenant Hudson, Acting Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Lieutenant Moorsom, 52nd Light Infantry,

Acting Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Hargood, 1st Madras Fusiliers, my Aide-de-Camp; and Lieutenant C. W. Havelock, 12th Irregular Cavalry, my Orderly Officer. The Officers of Artillery—Brigadier Eyre, and Captains Olpherts and Maude—have earned my best thanks.

I must commend all the Officers in charge of Detachments; but most prominently Lieutenant Colonel Purnell, 90th Light Infantry, whose conduct throughout the affair evinced the most distinguished gallantry united to imperturbable coolness, and the soundest judgment; as well as to Lieutenants Russell, Hutchinson, and Limond, of the Engineers, and Captain Oakes (attached) who showed the way to the several points of attack.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. HAVELOCK, Major-General, Commanding Oude Field Force.

J. HUDSON, Lieut., Acting Depy. Asst. Adj. Genl., Oude Field Force.

FROM BRIGADIER J. INGLIS, Commanding the Garrison of Lucknow,
To COLONEL R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff, &c.

Lucknow Garrison, 12th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to request that you will do me the favor to submit to Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., Commanding the Forces, the following record of events in this position since the arrival of the Army under his Command.

1. On the following morning I received instructions to place under the orders of Major Haliburton, 78th Highlanders, as strong a Detachment as I could spare from the Garrison, in order to strengthen the Rear Guard which had been left at Mr. Martin's house, in charge of the heavy Guns that had arrived with the Force. I accordingly detailed a Party of 100 men of the 32nd Foot, under the Command of Captain Lowe, who was accompanied by Captain Bassano, Captain McCabe, and Lieutenant Cooke, of the same Corps. This Detachment remained all day in position with the Rear Guard, and on the following morning it covered the extreme rear, on the march into the "Fureed Buksh" whence Captain McCabe led a party of Volunteers, composed of the 5th, 32nd, and 90th Regiments, into a Garden, and routed the Enemy with great slaughter. Early the next day, this Detachment, having performed the arduous duties assigned them, returned to my Garrison. In these operations, the 32nd Regiment had one Serjeant and one Private killed, and two Serjeants and two Privates wounded. Captain Lowe also received a severe wound.

2. The report of the several Sorties made under the direction of the Major-General Commanding the Forces, and in which Detachments from this Garrison have borne (I would fain hope) a distinguished part, have been so fully detailed by the Officers who Commanded on these occasions, that I need not enter further on the subject than to express my admiration of the gallant and devoted behaviour of both Officers and Men.

3. As soon as these operations were terminated, I turned my attention to the state of the Batteries and Defences of this position, many of which were in a very dilapidated state, as the Major-General is aware, especially the part called the Brigade Mess, at either flank of which was an open breach, neither of which we had ever been able to repair or strengthen, or even adequately to defend. But the large number of Doolie Bearers placed at my disposal by the Chief of the Staff, and the increased strength of the Garrison, enabled me to carry on the work with vigor, and to materially strengthen all my critical positions.

they completely overlook and command the Iron Bridge, and approach therefrom. A description of the works that have been carried out is fully given in the appended Memorandum by the Engineer Officer. Great praise is due to the great professional skill, the persevering energy, and the untiring personal activity displayed by Lieutenant Hutchinson, under whom the works have been carried out.

5. Owing to the extreme paucity of numbers attached to the Garrison Magazine, and the harassing duties which have devolved on this Establishment during this very protracted Siege, it has necessarily always been in a somewhat unsatisfactory state, and I gladly seized the opportunity to remodel it. With this end in view, I directed Lieutenant Thomas, in charge of the Magazine, to remove it to the Post Office compound, as affording the most convenient site for piling Shot and collecting together the various materials appertaining to this Department. This duty has been ably performed by Mr. Conductor Bewsey, Officiating Sub-Conductor, under the directions of Lieutenant Thomas, and I have now the pleasure to report that all the spare Shot and Shell has been collected, gauged and piled. The spare Muskets and Musket Barrels have also been collected, and a large supply of Cartridges, Wads, Fuzes, Quick and Slow Matches, have been prepared. The Establishment have besides been employed in repairing Sponge Staffs, grummetting Shot and Shell, and in collecting wood, iron, lead, and other materials from the Fureed Buksh and other places. The Ordnance Drivers have also rendered assistance in removing Guns and Mortars, and in erecting and repairing Batteries and issuing Stores.

6. The buried Treasure, amounting to nearly twenty-five lakhs of Rupees, is being exhumed, and placed again under the charge of the Civil Authorities.

7. The Commissariat arrangements made in Garrison, under the directions of Sir James Outram, G. C. B., have involved a considerable reduction in rations, and this deprivation, coming as it did upon the Garrison at the end of so long a Siege, in addition to the want of Malt Liquor and Spirits, has borne somewhat heavily on every one; but all have sustained the deprivation cheerfully, and none more so than the women, whose admirable conduct I have alluded to in a former Despatch. An appended Memorandum, furnished by the Garrison Commissariat Officer, enters fully into the Commissariat arrangements that have been made.

8. The great number of Wounded which accompanied the Major-General's Force into this position, speedily increased the number of Patients from 130 to 627, and as nearly all arrived without bedding, and as there was besides but a small supply of medicine, it became necessary to make every arrangement to meet these wants. In order to provide the requisite shelter, two large double-pole tents have been pitched close to the Hospital portico, and a large room in the Begum Kotee made over for the accommodation of wounded Officers. The buildings in the Central Seikh Square were also assigned to the remaining portion of the Sick and Wounded. Old tents have been cut up for bedding, and the Patients have been made as comfortable as circumstances would admit; and I am sure that Sir James Outram, G. C. B., will have viewed, with the same satisfaction as myself, the excellent arrangements which have been made by that indefatigable Officer, Superintending Surgeon Scott.

9. During the period which this Report embraces, the proceedings of the Enemy have been marked by much less activity than heretofore. Several of their Guns, however, have been moved across the River, whence they have kept up a desultory cannonade, which has been silenced on most occasions by a few rounds of our heavy Ordnance.

10. Their Musketry fire has, however, occasionally been so heavy, especially by night, as to induce a belief that they intended an attack; but these demonstrations have rarely lasted for any lengthened period, though they have rendered it necessary that every man should be under arms for the time. Owing to the repairs made to our Defences, and the increased cover obtained thereby, our casualties on these occasions have been but few.

11. Among the Officers belonging to this Garrison, who have fallen since the advent of the Major General's Force, I deeply regret to have to record the loss of Captain Hughes, of the 57th Regiment N. I., doing duty with H. M.'s 32nd Foot, who was mortally wounded at the attack of a house which formed one of the Enemy's out posts. Captain McCabe, H. M.'s 32nd Foot, a most distinguished Officer, has also fallen; he received his death-wound while leading his fourth Sortie. Lieutenant Graydon, too, of the 44th Regiment N. I., an Officer of great merit was mortally wounded while assisting in barricading his post.

12. Of the Officers attached to this Garrison, who have had opportunities of distinguishing themselves, I would beg to bring to notice the gallant conduct of Captain Lowe and Lieutenant Lawrence, of H. M.'s 32nd Foot, who have each led a Sortie; Lieutenant Hardinge, too, Officiating Deputy Quarter Master General, who headed two Sorties; also Lieutenant Aitken, accompanied by Lieutenant Cubitt, of the 13th Regiment N. I., who led a Party of his Regiment to a successful attack on a barricaded Gate-way held by the Enemy; Major Apthorp and Captain Kemble, 41st Regiment N. I.; Lieutenants Huxham (wounded slightly in two places) and Ouseley 48th Regiment N. I.; Lieutenant Warner, of the 7th L. C.; Lieutenant Cooke, H. M.'s 32nd Foot; and Lieutenant Meham, of the Madras Army — also accompanied Sorties and distinguished themselves.

13. Neither must I omit to record my appreciation of the gallant bearing of the Engineer Officers—Lieutenants Anderson, Hutchinson, and Innes—who accompanied the Storming Parties.

14. My thanks are due to the Officers Commanding Outposts, who have continued to evince the same vigilance and gallantry that has characterized their conduct throughout this memorable Siege.

15. I have already expressed my inability to do justice to the behaviour of the Troops, both European and Native, and I can therefore only say that they have continued to exhibit the same gallantry under fire, and the same patience under suffering and privation as heretofore.

16. The several Officers who compose my Staff, have continued to render me every assistance, and have given me every satisfaction in their several Departments.

17. Lastly, I beg to express my grateful acknowledgments to the Major-General Commanding the Forces for the additional Force placed at my disposal, composed of Detachments of the Artillery, Volunteer Cavalry, 1st Madras Fusiliers, and 78th Highlanders, all of whom have borne themselves as becomes British Soldiers. I have also to add my deep sense of the valuable counsel and advice which I have received from yourself on all occasions.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,
J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Lucknow Garrison.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force,
To CAPTAIN DODGSON, Assistant Adjutant General.

Lucknow, 19th November 1857.

SIR,—I beg to forward, for submission to Major General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the accompanying Report of Captain Crommelin, Field Engineer, with plans, and rejoice in this opportunity of testifying to the merits of this Officer, and his untiring industry when the state of his health has permitted his exertions to be fully developed.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

HENRY HAVELOCK, Major-Genl., Comdg. Oude Field Force.

FROM CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force.

To CAPTAIN HUDSON, Depy. Asst. Adjt. Genl., Oude Field Force.

Camp Alum Bagh, 25th November 1857.

SIR,—In continuation of my letter dated 12th Instant, I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Oude Field Force, upon the "Final Engineering Offensive Operations" at the Palace and Gardens of the Chuttur Munzil.

The Cavalier Battery, alluded to at the conclusion of my previous Report, was completed during the night of the 13th Instant, and was armed with the heavy Guns on the morning of the 14th, viz., the day originally appointed for the storming of the Hern Khana, Engine-house, and King's Stables.

During the night of the 13th, 29 charges of Powder (each 25 lbs. in weight) were laid in chambers that had been previously prepared for them, under the foundation of the East face of the advanced Garden wall, and immediately in front of the Cavalier Battery. These charges were intended for the demolition of that part of the wall that screened the Engine-house, Stables, and the other adjacent buildings that were to be breached from the Guns of the Battery. I would here remind you that our attack was postponed from the morning of the 14th to that of the 16th. The charges of Powder were thus exposed, in common Canvas bags, for more than forty-eight hours, to the damaging influence of a very damp sandy soil; so that when they were exploded, their effect, owing to the deterioration of the Powder, was only sufficient to shake and split the wall in several places, and to form a small breach. The wall, however, was so much injured, that the Artillery had an easy task in battering down as much as was necessary. The charges, I may mention, were half as large again as those recommended by Sir W. Pasley (our best practical authority on this as well as most other points of Engineering detail), and were such as had been successfully used by myself at Peshawur in a precisely similar case.

During the night of the 12th and 13th, the trench (d,d) was widened for the passage of Guns; screens were also constructed in the advanced Garden; and other precautionary measures taken, to protect our Force against any Musketry fire that might be poured in through the breaches in our own wall.

During the 15th the three Mines that had been prepared for the formation of breaches in the Hern Khana were loaded and tamped. These Mines were sprung on the afternoon of the 16th. That at the North-west corner of the building effected the breach by which the Right and Centre Columns of Attack entered. Lieutenant Hall, in his Report, erroneously states that this breach was made by the 18-Pounder Gun at the Barricade.

The centre Mine failed to explode, owing, I imagine, to some wet Sand having been dislodged from the roof of the Mine by the concussion of our Artillery, and having fallen upon the Powder house.

The left charge, which was the largest, exploded; but it proved to be 10 feet short of the building and consequently effected no breach or injury. This error in the position of the charge is not to be wondered at, when it is considered—1st, that we could not, by the most careful survey, satisfy ourselves as to the exact position of the Hern Khana, and, 2ndly, that we could not survey the Mine itself with the prismatic compass, as no lights would burn owing to the foulness of the air near the end of a gallery that had been carried to the (I believe) unprecedented length of 289 feet without the aid of air-pipes.

On the morning of the 16th every thing was ready for the attack upon the Hern Khana, Engine-house, and Stables. Copies of instructions, the details of which had been prepared by myself, from Memoranda drawn out by Colonel Napier, (Chief of the Staff,) were handed over to each of the five Officers Commanding the Storming Parties, and to the Engineer Officers accompanying them; and these instructions were further explained, by the aid of plans, to several of the Commanding Officers.

For an account of the operations of the Storming Parties I must refer to the enclosed Reports (in original) of Lieutenants Hutchinson, Russell, Limond, and Hall, with the remark that the duties of the Officers under my Command appear to me to have been rapidly and efficiently carried out.

I must also refer to a separate Report by Lieutenant Hutchinson, Directing Engineer, upon the Engineering operations, from the 16th November to the hour of our evacuation of the Bailey Guard having prevented my superintending them personally.

It now remains for me to bring to the favorable notice of the Major-General Commanding, those Officers and Men of the Engineer Department who have rendered good service; and in the first place, I trust it may not be considered out of order, that I here thankfully record my acknowledgments of the assistance that has always been afforded me by my experienced brother Officer, Colonel Napier, Military Secretary and Chief of the Staff to Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., who, notwithstanding the pressure of his other important duties, was ever ready to aid me with his valuable counsel and advice, to meet my constant demands for workmen and Materials, and to superintend and direct the works during the last month of our operations, when I was disabled from personally superintending them myself.

Lieutenant G. Hutchinson, of Engineers, deserves very great credit for the very able manner in which he discharged the duties of Directing Engineer of the works during the last ten days of our operations. His services as one of the Engineers of the original Garrison will be duly reported by the proper Authority.

Lieutenant Russell, of Engineers, has rendered me very efficient aid as Brigade Major of Engineers; his constant and unwearying exertions, both by night and by day, merit my best thanks and the highest praise.

Lieutenant Limond, the only other Engineer Officer under my Command, has also proved himself a very able and energetic Officer, and has rendered very excellent service. To him, and to Lieutenant Russell, was entrusted the general supervision of all the works from the time that I was disabled until the appointment of Lieutenant Hutchinson as Directing Engineer—a period of about three weeks.

The Officers and Volunteers that have acted in the capacity of Assistant Field Engineers have, without exception, given me their best and readiest assistance; but I may with justice more conspicuously notice the names of Captain Oakes, 8th N. I.; Lieutenant Hall, 1st Bengal Fusiliers; Mr. Goldsworthy, Volunteer Cavalry; and of Mr. Cavanagh, Superintendent of the Chief Commissioner's Office.

Serjeants Duffy and Connell, Assistant Overseers in the Department of Public Works, have proved most useful, and their duties in supervising workmen and collecting materials, &c., &c., have been most cheerfully and efficiently performed.

I cannot close this Report, without noticing, in the most favorable manner, the important services performed by the under-mentioned Soldiers as Superintendents of Miners:—

Acting Serjeant Cullimore	} H. M.'s 32nd Regiment.
" " Banetta...
" " Farrer ...
Corporal Dowling ...

Corporal Hosey, Madras Fusiliers.

Private Baylan, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers.

Their duties have been of a very dangerous and arduous character, and have invariably been performed to my complete satisfaction.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

W. A. CROMMELIN, Captain, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force.

FROM LIEUTENANT G. HUTCHINSON, Engineers, Director of Works.
To CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Engineers, Chief Engineer.

Lucknow, 21st November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward Lieutenant Limond's statement regarding the Sortie Party he led; also that of Lieutenant Hall.

With reference to my own Party, I have to state that, starting from the Garden Picquet-house, Captain Shute and myself led the Party to foot of Stockade which we scaled, and that then I turned off at once for the house called Captain Orr's, and in unison with Lieutenant Hall and Lieutenant Hay, who accompanied me, commenced carrying out our instructions. Up to this time not a man had been lost. Captain Shute led his men on beyond the Hern Khana, and took a Garden and a Gun.

Our Mines exploded short; but the Mine from the Garden Picquet decidedly shank and damaged the wall.

Communication with the Garden was completed during the night, and all barricades, loop-holes, &c.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

G. HUTCHINSON, Lieutenant, Director of Works.

FROM LIEUTENANT M. HALL, Assistant Field Engineer.
To CAPTAIN HUTCHINSON, Directing Engineer.

Hern Khana, 21st November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Captain Crommelin, Field Engineer that, in accordance with his instructions, I accompanied the Right Column of Attack on the Hern Khana, under Captain Willis, 84th Regiment, on the 16th Instant.

Immediately after the explosion of the Barricade Mine, we sallied out and made for the part of the building where it was intended the Right breach should have been made. On arriving at the wall of the Hern Khana, we found the crater of the Mine, which was about ten feet short of the wall which remained uninjured. We therefore turned to the left, and entered the Hern Khana by the Left breach, which had been made by the 18-Pounder Gun at the Barricade at end of lane.

On getting into the Hern Khana we turned to our right, passed across the open square, and immediately commenced loop-holing the wall which commands the street dividing our position from the Kaiser Bagh. On your arrival I reported myself to you.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

M. HALL, Lieut. 1st Bengal Fusiliers, Assistant Field Engineer.

FROM LIEUTENANT D. LIMOND, Engineers,
TO CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force.

Lucknow, 21st November, 1857.

SIR,—According to orders, Lieutenant Chalmers, Asst. Field Engineer, and myself, accompanied the Detachment of the 90th Regiment L. I. on the attack upon the Engine-house. Keeping to the left on passing that building, we found the Rebels evacuating the same, and followed them up to the most advanced building, the "Overseer's House," which I at once directed to be barricaded. The Enemy opened on it with Guns from the Kaiser Bagh, and the house was then abandoned and burnt by Colonel Purnell's orders. The East wall of the Barahduree enclosure was at once loopholed, and the windows to the South blocked up with Sand bags. During the night a Battery for three light Guns was constructed at the Southren extremity of the lane, between the King's Stables and Barahduree enclosure. The doors and windows of the Engine-house facing the River were also barricaded. During the night a trench-covered communication was opened to the Advanced Garden, none being necessary between the Engine-house and King's Stables.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

DAVID LIMOND, Lieutenant, Engineers.

FROM LIEUTENANT J. RUSSEL, Brigade Major of Engineers,
TO CAPTAIN CROMMELIN, Chief Engineer.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that, according to order, Capt. Oakes, Asst. Field Engineer and myself, accompanied the Detachment under Command of Captain Lockhart, H. M.'s 78th, on the 16th Instant, in the attack upon the King's Stables.

The Detachment was drawn up in line in the front Trench of the advanced Garden, and on the order for the advance being given, we crossed the parapet of the Trench and the breach in our front, and doubled across the open to the King's Stables, on reaching which some confusion occurred, for the lower part of the breach that had been made by our Guns was some 4 feet from the ground; and not seeing any easy mode of ingress, Captain Lockhart led the way into the enclosure of the Steam Engine-house on the left, and was followed by many of his men.

On his mistake being pointed out, however, he returned, and in company we entered the Court yard of the Stables, which we found deserted. The men of the Detachment followed us as quickly as they could.

Our orders were to man the walls of the Stables on the side of the Enemy; but the latter were retreating fast, pressed by our Troops from the Hera Khana, on seeing which many of the Detachment to which I was attached rushed across the road without orders and joined in the pursuit.

At Captain Lockhart's request I went to recall these men, and on my return I found that he had occupied the Barahduree and other buildings in rear of the King's Stables. Measures were immediately adopted for securing our position; but in a short time the portion of Captain Lockhart's Detachment was withdrawn, and the post left to the charge of a Detachment of H. M.'s 90th under Colonel Purnell.

During the night of the 16th, Lieutenant Limond, of Engineers, and myself constructed a Battery for 3 guns, which opened fire towards the Kaiser Bagh on the morning of the 17th.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. RUSSEL, Lieut., Brigade Major of Engineers.

FROM COLONEL R. NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.,

TO MAJOR GENERAL SIR JAMES OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding the Forces.

Lucknow, 16th October 1857.

SIR,—On the 25th Ultimo Colonel Campbell reported to you, that he, with a small Party of the 90th not exceeding 100 men and almost all the Wounded, the heavy Guns, and a large number of Ammunition, Waggons, were in the walled passage in front of the Motee Munzil Palace, which position he should be obliged to hold for the night, as he was invested by the Enemy, and could not advance without reinforcements.

On the morning of the 26th, a Detachment of 250 men, under Command of Major Simmons 5th Fusiliers, and part of the Ferozepore Regiment, under Captain Brasyer, were sent by your orders to reinforce Colonel Campbell, under the guidance of Captain Moorsom.

They had judiciously occupied a house and garden between Colonel Campbell's position and the Palace; but as they were unable to move from their position, I received your orders to proceed to their assistance, with a further reinforcement of 100 men of H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, under Colonel Stisted, and 2 Guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery and Captain Hardinge's Sowers.

Captain Olpherts strongly objected to his Guns being taken, and on considering the reason that he offered, I took it upon myself to dispense with them, merely taking spare bullocks. Captain Olpherts accompanied me as a Volunteer. As I had reason to believe that I could open a communication through the Palace, which would bring me near the position of the Guns, I took Mr. Cavanagh, an intelligent Civilian acquainted with the locality, and examined the Palace as far as was practicable, and obtained sufficient knowledge of it, to form my plan of operations.

I then led the Party by one of the side outlets of the Palace along the River bank to Major Simmons' position, under a smart fire from the Enemy, by which, however, we received little damage.

Under cover of the night, all the Sick and Wounded were quietly and safely transported along the River bank to the Entrenchment, by a path practicable for Camels and Doolies, but quite impracticable for Guns. Captain Hardinge made several journeys to bring up fresh Doolies, until every Sick and Wounded man was removed. He also took away the Camels laden with Enfield Ammunition. One of our 24-Pounders, which had been used on the previous day against the Enemy, but the working of which had ceased owing to the Musketry fire which poured upon it, was left in an exposed position; it was extricated in a very daring and dexterous manner by Captain Olpherts aided by Captain Crump (killed), and Private Duffy, of the Madras Fusiliers.

At 3 A. M. the whole Force proceeded undiscovered through the Enemy's posts, until the leading Division had reached the Palace; the heavy Guns and Waggons were safely parked in the Garden which I had reconnoitred on the preceding day. The Enemy were aroused too late to prevent the operation; but made an attack on the Rear Guard, which was ineffective.

I remained with Colonel Purnell to secure the position thus gained with trifling loss. A large body of Sepoys was discovered in a walled Garden, connected with that which contained our heavy Guns, by men of H. M.'s 90th, 5th Fusiliers, and 32nd, who gallantly charged in, led by Colonel Purnell, 90th, and Captain McCabe, 32nd, and almost annihilated them, securing the Garden itself as the rear of our position. Measures were immediately taken to open a road for the Guns through the Palace, and by the 1st Instant every Gun and Waggon was safely lodged in the Entrenchment.

It now remains for me to bring to your favorable notice the Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments—Colonel Stisted, 78th; Captain Brasyer, Seikhs; Captain Lowe, 32nd. The late lamented Major Simmons gave me very valuable aid.

To Colonel Purnell's lot fell the more difficult duty of Commanding the Rear Guard and of securing the position when gained. In the whole of the operations his assistance and support were of the greatest value.

Lieutenant Fraser, of the Artillery, was left, on the 26th, by the fall of Brigadier Cooper, in charge of the heavy Guns, and though wounded, his exertions assisted greatly in extricating the unwieldy Train.

I must beg most particularly to bring to your notice Captain Olpherts, of the Bengal Artillery. Without his unfailing determination, skill, and fertility of resource, we should never have been able to withdraw the 24-Pounder, but at the cost of a very heavy loss of life. From first to last his assistance has been invaluable, and cannot be too highly praised.

To Captain Hardinge's continued exertions is due the safe removal of the wounded, and Camels, with Rifle Ammunition.

My Assistant Adjutant General, Captain Dodgson, gave me every assistance. Captain Moorsom was here, as every where, a sagacious and daring guide. Captain Sitwell attended me zealously through the night.

Captain Olpherts recommends Private Duffy for the Victoria Cross for his gallantry in extricating the 24-Pounder Gun under a very heavy fire of Musketry, and I beg strongly to second his recommendation.

I have deeply to lament the loss of the gallant Captain Crump, Madras Army, killed whilst extricating the 24-Pounder.

The loss was as follows:—

To Major General Sir JAMES OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding the Forces.

Lucknow, 5th October 1857.

SIR,—On the 1st Instant, I received your orders to take the Enemy's Battery in the position called Phillips' Garden, near the Cawnpore road. For this object you placed at my disposal the following Troops:—

Detachments of Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers; 32d, 64th, 78th and 90th Regiments, and the Honorable East India Company's 1st Madras Fusiliers, under Major Haliburton, H. M.'s 78th; Captain Shute, H. M.'s 64th; and Captain Raikes, Madras Fusiliers, amounting to 568 men; Lieutenant Limond, Engineers, and Lieutenant Tulloh, Acting Assistant Field Engineer, attended the Column, with a party of five Miners of H. M.'s 32d, and a Party of Artillery, under Serjeant Smith, with means of bursting Guns.

In the afternoon of the 1st, the Column formed in the road leading to the Paen Bagh, and advanced through the buildings near the Jail, occupied the mass of houses on the left and front of Phillips' Garden, under guidance of Mr. Phillips, the former occupant, and the Enemy were driven from some houses and a Barricade on the left of our advance, by 50 men of the Madras Fusiliers, led by Lieutenant Groom under a sharp fire of Musketry, in a very spirited manner.

The houses in front were strongly barricaded, and in many cases the doors were bricked up; it was, therefore, late before we had worked a way to a point from whence we could command the Enemy's position. A party of the Enemy was driven out, and a row of loopholes was commenced immediately, and the ground examined right and left. Attempts to penetrate the Garden to the left were ineffectual; to the right an opening was obtained, which disclosed that the Enemy's Batteries were separated from us by a deep narrow lane, some 12 or 15 feet below the Garden; the latter was surrounded by a deep mud wall, with buildings attached. The face of the Battery was scarped and quite inaccessible without ladders. A heavy fire was kept up from the face of the Battery, and the lane was flanked by a strong Barricade. As it was dark, and a direct attack would be certain to cost many lives, I determined to wait till day-light before assaulting the Battery. The position was duly secured, and the men occupied the buildings for the night.

In the morning, after giving the men breakfast, and arranging with the Artillery to open fire from the Entrenchment, the Troops advanced. A severe fire was opened from the Barricade, flanking the lane on the right; but Major Haliburton detached Lieutenant Creagh, Madras Fusiliers, with a Party to turn the Barricade by the Cawnpore Road, which was effectually done. The Troops then doubled out through the lane, and forced a way through a Stockade into the Enemy's Batteries; the 5th Fusiliers and Detachment 64th in advance, under Lieutenant Brown, supported by the Madras Fusiliers and H. M.'s 32nd. The Enemy was immediately driven from the Battery, and Phillips' house occupied without further opposition. A Picquet being left in possession, the Troops advanced on the Guns which had been withdrawn to the end of the Garden and to the streets adjoining, and captured two 9-Pounders and one 6-Pounder Gun, driving off the Enemy who defended them with Musketry and Grape. The Guns were immediately dragged to the Garden and burst, their carriages completely destroyed, and their ammunition sent to the Entrenchment. Phillips' house was blown up by a Party under Lieutenant Innes, Engineers, and at dark the Troops withdrew to their position of the previous night.

In all the arrangements I was most fortunate in having the aid of that very able and brave Officer, Major Haliburton, H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, who deserves particular notice.

I beg to recommend to your favorable notice Captain Shute, H. M.'s 64th, and Lieutenant Brown, 5th Fusiliers, who led the Party into the Battery, and were foremost in capturing the two 9-Pounders. I also beg to recommend to your notice Private McHale, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers, who was the first man at the capture of one of the Guns.

Lieutenant Limond, of the Engineers, was very active in the duties of the Engineer Department, and in reconnoitring the Enemy's position. Captain Dawson and Lieutenant Hewett attended me zealously as Field Orderly Officers throughout the operations; and Mr. Cavanagh, Superintendent Chief Commissioner's Office, accompanied the Party as a guide, and was always to be found at the front.

The Guns were destroyed by Sergeant Smith with the party of Artillery.

The position of this Battery was so inaccessible, and the locality so little known, that the enterprise of taking it was considered by the experienced Chief Engineer of the Garrison as one of very serious difficulty. Owing to our laborious investigation of its position which enabled us to obtain command of it from the adjacent mass of buildings, I was able to take it at the comparatively small loss of 2 killed and 11 wounded.

I have only to add, that, although I have mentioned the names of those Officers who had the good fortune to be at the points of attack, yet the conduct of the whole of the Officers and Men was in every way deserving of your commendation; they were most eager to assault the Battery on the night of the 1st, but I restrained them, as I was convinced that I could effect the desired end without the serious loss that would have then been incurred.

Their attack when made was carried out with their unfailing gallantry.

It is impossible to estimate the loss of the Enemy.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

R. NAPIER, Colonel, Military Secretary, &c.

R. NAPIER, Colonel, Military Secretary, &c.

From MAJOR-GENERAL H. HAVELOCK, Commanding Oude Field Force,
To CAPTAIN DODGSON, Acting Military Secretary.

Lucknow, 21st November 1857.

SIR,—I have much pleasure in forwarding for submission to Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the accompanying Report from Colonel R. Napier, Chief of the Staff, detailing the late operations at the advanced posts in the Palace of Fureed Buksh.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

H. HAVELOCK, Major-General, Commanding Oude Field Force.

From COLONEL R. NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.,

To CAPTAIN HUDSON, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Oude Field Force.

Lucknow, 20th November 1857.

SIR,

The Chief Engineer of the Oude Field Force being wounded at the time of our arrival at Lucknow, and further prevented, until the 8th Ultimo, from personally attending to his duties, by an accidental lameness, produced by his arduous exertions in constructing the Bridge at Cawnpore for the passage of the Force across the Ganges, there devolved upon me many duties not pertaining to my office, which it is proper that I should report through you, as I believe no Officer except myself is acquainted with all that has taken place, and the course of those duties give me an opportunity of noticing the valuable services of Officers which could not otherwise be brought to Major-General Havelock's knowledge.

On the morning of the 27th Ultimo, the Escort with the heavy Train occupied the range of Palaces called the Chuttur Munzil and Fureed Buksh.

Major-General Havelock is aware that these Palaces afford the only shelter that our Troops could have occupied, and that as mere shelter they give excellent accommodation; as a Military position they have very great disadvantages. The Northern face is well protected by the River Goomty; but the East and South East faces are surrounded by buildings and in contact with the City.

Captain Crommelin's plan, which he will submit with his Report of the Engineer Operations illustrates the preceding remarks.

The position was too extensive for our Force, nearly all of which was occupied in guarding it; but it was susceptible of no reduction, so that most desirable as it was that we should have occupied some of the exterior buildings as flanking defences, we were unable to do so, but were obliged to confine ourselves to the Palaces and Gardens, and to erect precautionary defences against any means of annoyance the Enemy could devise. Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, of H. M.'s 90th, being in Command of the Rear Guard on the 27th, I requested him to assume Command of the Palace Garden and Buildings adjacent to it. On the 28th the Palace buildings extending in the direction of the Khas Bazaar were explored by Captain Moorsom, who, with a party of 50 men of the 90th and 5th Fusiliers, gallantly drove the Enemy out at the point of the Bayonet, killing a considerable number with the loss of one man of H. M.'s 90th. Captain Moorsom then placed a Picquet in a house commanding the Cheena and Khas Bazaars. On the 3rd Instant the Enemy sprang a Mine under the Garden-wall, which merely shook it without bringing it down. On the 5th they exploded a second Mine, which effected a considerable breach, and appeared in some force with the intention of making an assault; but on the head of the Column showing itself on the breach, a well-directed fire from H. M.'s 90th caused it to retreat precipitately and with considerable loss. The Enemy also burned down one of the Gateways of the Garden, making a second practicable breach, at which they occasionally appeared to fire a Shot or two. Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell had retrenched both these Breaches, which it became evident that the Enemy had no real intention of assaulting; but they exposed the Garden to a severe Musketry fire from commanding buildings on the right, called the Hern Khana; it, therefore, became necessary to open trenches of communication, which were commenced by Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell and his Officers. On the 6th the Enemy blew up the Picquet overlooking the Cheena and Khas Bazaars, causing us a loss of three men, and in the confusion that ensued, penetrated in considerable numbers into the Palace, where many of them were destroyed. They are said to have lost 450 men! The remainder were driven back, but continued to occupy a part of the Palace buildings which had been in our possession. Of these the nearest to us is a Mosque Commanded by our buildings, but giving several easy means of access to our position. On the 8th the Enemy attacked from the Mosque our nearest Picquets; but were repulsed with loss. In order to prevent a repetition of this annoyance, I examined carefully, in company with Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell and Captain Moorsom, the buildings connecting us with those of the Enemy, and we succeeded in penetrating to a vault under their position, where, screened by the obscurity, we could see the Enemy closely surrounding the Entrance, and hear them in considerable numbers overhead. A charge of two barrels of Powder was lodged in the vault, and was fired by Lieutenant Russell, of the Bengal Engineers. The effect was complete; many of the Enemy were blown up, and their position greatly injured, whilst we obtained a command over the streets leading to the Khas and Cheena Bazaars, better and more secure from molestation than our previous one. This post was immediately and securely barricaded by Captain Crommelin, of the Engineers, who this day resumed his duties as Chief Engineer, and the value of his services was immediately apparent. Though our position was improved by this explosion, the possession of the Mosque was absolutely necessary to our security. I accordingly determined to re-capture it, and on expressing my wishes to Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, that Officer himself accompanied me with a small Party of the 90th and Madras Fusiliers. The Enemy 50 or 60 in number, were surprised and rapidly driven out with very trifling loss on our side, and the position immediately barricaded and secured by Captain Crommelin; it has ever since formed a good connection between the Picquets of the advanced Garden and the Quarters of Brasyer's Sikhs, and all attempts of the Enemy to molest it have been ineffective. It falls within Captain Crommelin's province to report in detail the various operations by which our difficult position, in close contact with the City, occupied by a numerous and persevering Enemy, has been defended and protected.

I beg to bring to the notice of Major-General Havelock the excellent services performed by Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, who has commanded in the Advance Garden and its Outposts since their occupation. Much of the Trench work by which it was rendered unassailable has been executed by his men, and under his superintendence, directed by the Engineer Department. On all occasions he has given the cordial and able co-operation of a most brave and accomplished Officer. Captain Grant, of the Madras Fusiliers, has Commanded the post of the Mosque, from the 11th October to the 2nd November, when he was severely wounded. He maintained the post under a constant and close Musketry fire, and repeated attacks by Mining, with cool courage and judgment: both these qualities were required to avoid real, and to disregard the imaginary dangers of Mines, and Captain Grant has displayed them in an eminent degree.

The daring and intelligent Captain Moorsom has been engaged in most of the above operations, and has given very valuable assistance.

Captains Rattray and Wade have shown themselves excellent Commanders of Outposts.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

R. NAPIER, Colonel, Military Secretary &c.

From BRIGADIER J. INGLIS, Commanding the Garrison,

To COLONEL NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.

Lucknow, 22nd October 1857.

SIR.—FOR the information of Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., Commanding the Division, I have the honor to enclose two Reports from Officers Commanding Sortie-parties, giving an account of their proceedings whilst so employed.

Both these Officers carried out my orders in a most satisfactory manner, and were most successful in the performance of the duties entrusted to them.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Garrison of Lucknow.

From LIEUT. B. M. M. AITKEN, Commanding Treasury Guard,

To CAPTAIN WILSON, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lucknow.

Lucknow, 21st October 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to state, for the information of Brigadier Inglis, Commanding the Garrison, the proceedings of a Party of the Regiment under my Command, on the night of the 25th, and morning of the 26th September, which ended in the capture of the Terec Kotee.

On the evening of the 25th, after the First Column of the Relieving Force arrived, I heard the shouts of the Second Column in the City in the direction of the Jail, and thinking they might get entangled in the lanes and might suffer from the Guns under the Clock Tower, I took 12 armed Sepoys of the Regiment, with pick-axes and shovels, for the purpose of clearing away, if possible, the Battery under the Clock Tower. We got over without opposition, as the head of the Second Relieving Column was by this time in the lane and close up to the Guns. As I thought this a good opportunity to occupy at least a portion of the Terec Kotee, I took upon myself the responsibility to take the Sepoys through a door made in the wall by the Insurgents. We advanced some distance quietly without meeting any one. At last in a court-yard we came upon a small body, eight in number, and took them prisoners, without firing a shot. I left the Sepoys in charge of a Havildar in this court-yard for the night, and reported the circumstance for the information of Brigadier Inglis, who ordered me to occupy the Terec Kotee with a stronger body in the morning.

Early next morning, we advanced to the bank of the River, and shot a few of the Insurgents who attempted to swim the River. At this time I observed a body of men on the top of a building with a Gateway. We attempted to get in by breaking in the principal gate, which was barricaded; but found this impossible. Havildar Ramnarain Pande, however, succeeded in breaking down one of the small doors at the side of the gate, and was the first man who made an entrance. We killed some five or six men in the Gateway, the others having got into the rooms above, and on the terraces which run towards the Fureed Buksh. A Party of the 32nd came up at this time under a Serjeant, and some 25 men altogether were shot and bayoneted.

We had two Sepoys wounded, and one man of the 32nd was killed. I ought to mention that Captain Lowe, of H. M.'s 32nd, arrived with some men after we had got into the rooms, he having been employed in driving the Insurgents out of the Captain's Bazaar. All the Sepoys behaved well, and I beg to bring to the notice of the Brigadier the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Cubitt, who was most forward throughout the affair.

Unfortunately three of our Sepoys were wounded by the Europeans of the Second Relieving Column on the night of the 25th after we got over the Battery under the Clock Tower, they having been mistaken for Insurgents.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

B. M. M. AITKEN, Lieut. 13th N. I., Commanding Treasury Guard.

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Lucknow Garrison

From CAPTAIN E. W. D. LOWE, Comdg. H. M.'s 32nd Regt.,

To BRIGADIER J. INGLIS, Comdg. Lucknow Garrison.

City Residency, Lucknow, Sept. 27th 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to acquaint you that, agreeably to your instructions, I proceeded yesterday morning in Command of 150 men of the 32nd Regiment for the purpose of clearing the Captain's Bazaar and adjoining posts occupied by the Enemy.

The Party was in three Divisions;—the first, under Captain Bassano, on the right; the second, in Reserve, under Captain Hughes, 57th N. I., (attached to the Regiment); and the third, under Lieutenant Lawrence. The first and second advanced under cover of the thick bushes between our trenches and the road, whilst the third, passing through Innes' Outpost, came out on the road through the houses in front, taking two small Guns as they entered it, and which they dismounted from their carriages. The Enemy were taken quite by surprise, and fled precipitately to the River, leaving a 6-Pounder Gun in the road. They were pursued by our men, and were nearly all shot or drowned in endeavouring to swim the river. Lieutenant Lawrence then led his Party towards the Iron Bridge, and most gallantly succeeded in capturing a 9-Pounder Gun, and a second round of Grape was about to be fired at them. This Gun having been brought away they returned, and we took possession of the ruined Mosque, and clearing the Captain's Bazaar, killed some of the Enemy there, and captured an 18-Pounder Gun and four small Guns (two of them without carriages.)

I then proceeded to the Terec Kotee with part of the men; but found it unoccupied. A Gate by the River leading into the Fureh Buksh Palace was then forced, and several of the Enemy inside killed. We were here met by a Party of the 13th N. I., under Lieutenant Aitken, who had come in by another entrance. Having your orders not to proceed further in this direction I withdrew the men.

Captain Hughes had, in the mean time, led a Party again towards the Iron Bridge, and, killing a great number of the Enemy in the houses about, spiked two large Mortars, which, however, he was unable to bring away. He was, I regret to say, dangerously wounded whilst forcing the door of a house. As the Party retired, they blew up a large Magazine of the Enemy's Powder.

The objects contemplated having been obtained not without loss, as the adjoining Return will show, I withdrew the Party to the Residency, leaving Guards at the ruined Mosque and Terec Kotee.

In conclusion I beg to bring prominently to your notice the great zeal and gallantry displayed by all engaged,—both Officers and Men,—so equally that it would be invidious to particularise any one; but Lieutenant Lawrence has, however, begged me to report the distinguished bravery of Corporal Samuel Cole, and Private Michael Power in charging and capturing the 9 Pounder Gun.

Lieutenant Innes, of the Engineers, accompanied the Party throughout, and afforded me every assistance.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

No. 147.

Directing a Report to be made of a Sortie by the Troops under Command of Major Stephenson, Madras Fusiliers, on the 27th September 1857.

SIR,—In reply to your letter dated 4th November 1857, No. and subject as per margin, I have the honor to state as follows.

About 2 P. M., on the 27th September 1857, the Madras Fusiliers were ordered to parade for a Sortie under Command of Major Stephenson, Commanding the same Regiment, for the purpose of taking some Guns in the Enemy's Cawnpore Battery.

The Regiment was told off in three Divisions, the strength of it not admitting of a larger number, Captain Fraser had Command of No. 1, Captain Galwey No. 2, and Captain Raikes of No. 3 Division; Lieutenant and Adjutant Gosling, Lieutenants Beaumont and Cleland, and Lieutenant the Honorable J. Fraser, 1st B. N. I., d. d. with the Fusiliers, fell in with the Regiment. A few men of H. M.'s 32d Regiment, under Lieutenant Warner, 7th B. C., Captain Kemble, 41st B. N. I., Lieutenant Huxham, 48th B. N. I., Lieutenant Anderson, Bengal Engineers, and Lieutenant Meham, 27th M. N. I., accompanied the Party.

The Party proceeded in strict silence out of the Bailey Gate to the Garden opposite, and passed through a door to the right, about half-way down to the Garden, which led through bye-paths till it reached the road, at which place there was a considerable street fire from loop holes and from the top of houses, and from the Guns of the Enemy in position. A charge was made at the nearest Gun, through long Grass ruins, small breaches in walls, and a broad ditch. Our men entered by the embrasure, and the Enemy immediately abandoned this Gun. A considerable delay occurred in making preparations for bursting this Gun, which, however, ultimately proved a failure, as some person had spiked it previously and in the hurry of the moment. During this time a Party of No. 1 Division, under Captain Fraser, proceeded to reconnoitre a little further, when they came on another Battery of the Enemy, consisting of a 24-Pounder and an 18-Pounder Gun. These were abandoned; but the Enemy being all round, and keeping such a fire on his party, Captain Fraser sent back to Major Stephenson to say he required a Reinforcement. On this Captain Galwey, of No. 2 Division, proceeded with a few men. On reaching the spot, he found that from the number of the Enemy (which he calculated from their heavy fire) that the position could not be held without a further reinforcement. The Battery was surrounded with high walls, and apparently with no outlets. Captain Galwey returned, and reported this to Major Stephenson. It was now discovered that there were with us no means by which we could destroy or dismantle the Gun; so Major Stephenson directed the advanced Party to fall back on him, which, however, they did not then do. Captain Fraser spoke in the highest terms of the gallantry of Serjeant Lidster, Madras Fusiliers, who spiked the 24-Pounder, and of Corporal William Dowling, H. M.'s 32d Regiment, who spiked the 18-Pounder Gun, being at the same time under a most heavy fire from the Enemy.

Finding it impossible to burst the first Gun, Major Stephenson left a Party to protect that Gun under a Subaltern, and proceeded with Captain Raikes' Division No. 3, which he had kept with him to the Advanced Battery, which, as before stated, was surrounded with high walls. At this time Serjeant Lidster, previously mentioned as having spiked a Gun under heavy fire, was killed. Major Stephenson called on some of the Volunteers or Guides to point out the way to the next Battery; but no one knew the way, or seemed at all aware of our locality, and at this time firing being heard in our rear, Major Stephenson was compelled to retire by the way we came, it being quite impossible to go forward without Guides. The three Guns were left spiked, owing to want of means to destroy them. On the return of the Party, it was exposed to a very destructive fire from the Enemy, from the tops of houses and loop-holes, and from want of means it was most difficult to take away our killed and wounded. One Serjeant, severely wounded, and since dead, must have been left on the ground, had not a Private of the 32d Regiment, in the most gallant manner, with the assistance of Captain Galwey, taken him up and carried him to a place of safety. Lieutenant Huxham, 48th B. N. I., was wounded.

I enclose a Return of the Killed and Wounded of the 1st Madras Fusiliers on this occasion.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

M. GALWEY, Captain, Commanding 1st Madras Fusiliers.

FROM LIEUTENANT A. C. WARNER, Adjutant 7th Light Cavalry,

TO CAPTAIN WILSON, Offg. Dy. Asst. Adjutant General, Lucknow Garrison.

Lucknow, 7th November 1857.

SIR,—Agreeably to instructions received, I have the honor to report as follows. In consequence of there being no available Officers with H. M.'s 32d Regiment, I was selected to Command a Party of that Corps on the 27th September in a Sortie for the purpose of capturing some of the Enemy's Guns, in a Battery opposite to our Cawnpore Battery.

We started about 2 P. M. with the Madras Fusiliers, and marched out of the Bailey Gate, my Party in advance, the whole under Command of Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers. We proceeded through the "Three Kiln" area, across the road in rear of the Clock Tower, and then advanced to our right. Immediately we had crossed the road, we were exposed to the Enemy's fire, and made a rush across a large Court-yard through a Door-way to the right. After passing through a narrow street, and into the walls, we arrived at the Cawnpore road. We then came to one of the Enemy's Guns, which was firing grape down the Cawnpore road. I took my party to the side of the Embrasure, and on receiving the word of Command, we rushed in, headed by Major Stephenson. The Enemy abandoned their Gun, and a Naik of the 13th Regiment, "Kalka Tewaree," spiked it. We then endeavoured to burst it; but owing to the absence of water and other materials failed.

While we were attempting to burst this Gun, a Party of men under Captain Fraser, of the Madras Fusiliers, went on to another Battery of the Enemy's which was further in advance.

Shortly after this, the party under my Command went with Captain Galwey and some of his men to reinforce Captain Fraser. On arriving near his position, we found the Enemy in great force on all sides of us, keeping up a very heavy fire. We then retreated, by order of Major Stephenson, to the main body. One of the Madras Fusilier Serjeants being badly wounded, Captain Galwey, Lieutenant Meham, 27th Madras Native Infantry, Private Smith, H. M.'s 32d, and myself, with great difficulty, managed to get him back to the main body. This Private was, I regret to say, killed in the retreat. Major Stephenson then ordered us to retreat, which was done by the same route by which we had advanced. During the retreat, we were exposed to a heavy fire from the houses. The conduct of Corporal Cooney and Private Smith, of the 32d, who were both killed, was most noble.

I enclose a Return of the Killed and Wounded of H. M.'s 32d Regiment on this occasion.

I have the honor to be,

MEMORANDUM REGARDING THE SORTIE OF THE 27TH SEPTEMBER.

Chuttur Munzil, 8th November 1857.

On the 26th September I was warned by Brigadier Inglis to lead a Party from the Brigade Mess, and having taken the Guns in its front, to circle leftwards, taking or destroying all the Guns on the way till we should reach our own position, at the Jail or Tere Kotee. The Party, however, that was told off for this purpose on the 26th, was required to help in the heavy Guns and Rear Guard from the Mottee Mehal, and the Sortie was therefore temporarily deferred.

2. Having next morning mentioned the proposed Sortie to Lieutenant Anderson, Garrison Engineer, at the Fureed Buksh, he stated his opinion of the advisability of the Sortie debouching from the Jail and going in rear of the Square House and proceeding thence in a direction parallel to the road, by which plan we would start fair from our own ground, probably hit on the Enemy's usual route, and take the Guns in rear.

3. The Sortie having been re-arranged for the afternoon of the 27th, Lieutenant Anderson proposed to guide it himself. The Party was (as I learnt on reaching the first house attacked) Commanded by Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers, and the Party to explode the Guns consisted of Artillerymen under the Command of Captain Evans. Two Sepoys of the 13th N. I. accompanied us, under my orders, with picks, to help in knocking down obstacles, should it be necessary.

4. Lieutenant Anderson lead the Party out by the Tere Kotee and Jail, and rear of the Square House to the building now forming the left of the Highlanders' position. The Enemy being in possession of it, it was attacked; but the Party never appeared to enter the rooms and clear them: it only remained in or rushed through the court-yards and passages, shooting or bayonetting such of the Enemy as voluntarily came out.

5. The correct place for debouching from the house was on the same side, only further advanced, as that at which we had entered it, and, as I afterwards found, Lieutenant Anderson was waiting there to lead the men out, as soon as they should have taken possession of the house. But waiting for no guidance, they left the house at the point which they reached on rushing through it, and immediately found themselves on the road. Hearing a call for an Engineer Officer, I went forward, and found the Party on the road in front of an Embrasure, which was shortly afterwards charged, and the Gun taken. Not 40 men were present for the first ten minutes, and although Captain Evans and my two Sepoys were there, the rest of the Explosion Party were among the absentees. After waiting ten minutes, and Major Stephenson getting impatient, Captain Evans, hopeless of the arrival of the Bursting Party and material, spiked the Gun. This was no sooner done than they arrived, and the subsequent attempt to blow up the Gun was a failure, from the vent being filled up by the spike. During the attempt to burst the Gun, an Officer (Captain Galwey I believe) came to report the capture of two other Guns, the spiking of one of them, and the necessity for reinforcement. Major Stephenson having advanced towards them, asked me where we were, and what was to be done. As to what was to be done, on enquiry from Captain Evans it appeared that the men had drunk all the water reserved to moisten the clay to tamp the Guns, that in fact he could not burst them, and there were no spikes present with which to spike them. I therefore said that, wherever we might go, we could destroy no more Guns, and that consequently to return to the Entrenchment seemed to me advisable. As to the where we were, I said, I thought we were at the Battery on the left of the Cawnpore road, which opinion was also expressed by Mr. Cavanagh. Mr. Phillips, our real guide, could give no opinion at all. To make certain of the locality, I told Major Stephenson I would cross the road and reconnoitre, which I accordingly did, and found that my conjecture had been correct. On my returning, the Party had commenced its return to the Entrenchments, which it effected by nearly the same route as that by which it had advanced.

The party which remained with Lieutenant Anderson, at the house first attacked, prevented the Enemy still on it from doing us much injury on our return, otherwise our loss might have been most serious. The separation of the whole Party into the two bodies, which was the previous cause of the failure in destroying the Guns, is entirely attributable to an advance having been made from that house without the direction of the proper guide.

J. McLEOD INNES, Lieutenant, Engineers.

NOTE.—This Sortie was designed to attack the Garden Battery, and it appears from the experience gained in a subsequent attack (1st, 2nd, and 3rd November) that the strength of the Party was quite inadequate to accomplish the object required. The real cause of the failure in bursting the Guns, instead of spiking, that was taken possession of, appears to have been the delay in bringing up the Bursting Party.

Had the house alluded to by Lieutenant Innes been taken possession of, instead of being nearly passed through, and measures taken to reconnoitre the ground in advance before the Party proceeded, it is probable that the result would have been more satisfactory, and that at all events the captured Guns would have been effectually destroyed; but without a much larger body of men, the complete conquest and destruction of the whole Garden Battery could not have been accomplished.

Party, as per Margin, under my Command, during the Sortie of the 29th ultimo. We assembled in the Third Sikh Square, a little before day-break, as a Reserve, to an Attacking Party, under Command of Captain Hardinge, who, when he had taken the Guns in front of the Brigade Mess, advanced to his Right to take a Gun situated in a strong position in the middle of a lane, to the left front of Mr. Gubbin's house. He placed his men in a flanking position, and came to me for a Party to advance and take some houses to the right and left of the lane, from which there was a heavy fire. I advanced through the breach in the Sikh Square, with Lieutenant Ouseley, 48th Regiment N. I., Lieutenant the Hon'ble J. Fraser, and 35 men, and led them up the lane to the front of the Enemy's Stockade. I took up a position with four or five men, and fired on several of the Enemy who were trying to escape. Lieutenant Ouseley, the Honorable J. Fraser, and several men, got over the Stockade, and the Party under Captain Hardinge, came forward, and the Gun, a 6-Pounder, pointed towards him, was taken possession of. One of our men was killed as we reached the Stockade, and one wounded a short time after. 14 or 15 of the Enemy were killed, 9 of them in two huts to the right and left of the lane. I left this party of the Reserve, under Command of the Hon'ble J. Fraser, and went back to the remainder of the Reserve, which I found had advanced from the Sikh Square under Captain Galwey, and we proceeded down the lane and took up forward positions in a house which Captain Forbes, 1st Light Cavalry, and his Sikh Orderly, had examined and reported empty. There was a strong Party of the Enemy to our left front, who kept up a heavy fire. I placed part of the men under Captain Galwey in front of the house; another Party, under Captain Forbes, took possession of the upper story of the house; and I detached a third party to take possession of a Barricade across the street a little to our right front. Our loss here was one killed and one Wounded. Five or six of the men from this position got into a large house still further in advance, and I went and examined the house, and found, after getting into the lower story, that the enemy had begun two Mines, the Shafts of which were sunk to a considerable depth. I reported this to Lieutenant Innes, the Executive Engineer, who, on examination, decided on blowing them up. Being short of men, I ordered a Party of ten, under Sergeant Major Donovan, to come down our centre Bastion and occupy the house where the Mines were. He remained in charge till the Mines were blown up. During the time I was thus occupied, Lieutenant Ouseley rendered great service, by capturing a Gun, which had checked the advance of the Party to which he was attached, by being planted at the end of a very narrow lane, about 60 or 70 yards long. Lieutenant Ouseley, accompanied by Sergeant Higgins and four men of the 1st Madras Fusiliers, went through a number of houses and narrow passages, to the right of the lane, and finding their further progress stopped by a very high and steep Bastion, where they distinctly heard the voices of the Enemy, they ascended it, led by the above-named Officer; found it unoccupied, and rushed across it into a house, from which they fired down upon and killed two out of some 40 men assembled below them; and raising a cheer, routed the Enemy, and took possession of the Gun, without losing a man, or giving the Enemy the power of discharging the piece, to which drag-ropes were attached to enable the Enemy to pull it round the nearest corner, should we attempt to charge it. A Party of 8 or 10 men, from Captain Galwey's position, under Lieutenant Cleveland, reinforced Lieutenant Ouseley, and after the Gun had been removed, they retired, and the Bastion was blown up. Afterwards two small Guns were found in a lane close to this Battery, and taken possession of by Lieutenants Ouseley and Aitken, 13th Regiment N. I. The three were dismantled from their carriages and were sent into the Garrison, and the carriages broken up and burnt. Our loss at this point was one killed and two wounded—one of the latter, Mr. Lucas, whose zeal and gallantry on every occasion during the Siege every one has heard of. About 11 o'clock we returned into Garrison, having examined and cleared the Guns from the whole of the front of Mr. Gubbin's house. We had not time or men to examine the houses in front of our Centre Bastion, which I much regret, as there are constant reports from the men, that Mining is going on; but I have no good reason to suppose so, as I have invariably, when called, found the houses unoccupied, and heard no noises that would lead me to suppose that Mining was going on.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. APTHORP, Major, Commanding the Reserve.

From Lieutenant J. C. ANDERSON, Garrison Engineer,

To Colonel R. NAPIER, Military Secretary, &c.

Lucknow, 19th October 1857.

This Sortie proceeded simultaneously with two others—one from the Sikh Square to the right of the Brigade Mess, and another from the Redan towards the Iron Bridge, led by Captain McCabe, H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, with a few of the men of his Regiment, who had, during the Siege, been on duty on the posts opposite the position to be attacked. The whole strength of the Sortieing Party was 200 men, with a reserve of 150 men.

At daylight the Party issued from an opening in the Brigade Mess wall, and formed up under cover of a wall which runs parallel to the other at the distance of a few paces. The advance was then made in file, the men having to scramble over the debris of a house which had been blown down on a former occasion, and a rush made direct on the Enemy's Gun, 18-Pounder, which lay behind a breast-work, at the distance of 80 yards from the Brigade Mess. The Gunners fired two rounds at us when we made our appearance, but before they could fire again, we had scaled their Battery and driven them to flight. We then proceeded to force a building immediately to the left of the Gun. The lower story was quickly occupied. Captain McCabe, the gallant leader of many former Sorties, was mortally wounded in the operation, and some delay having in consequence occurred, a few of the Enemy in the upper-story had time to kill and wound several of our men before they were attacked and bayoneted. After the house had been taken possession of, a Picquet of 25 men was left to hold it, while the main body of our men proceeded along a narrow lane, under Command of Major Simmons, H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers, to occupy two large buildings, about 60 and 80 yards, respectively, in advance of the first, with several other smaller buildings adjoining; the loss to the Enemy in all being probably above thirty men. On our side we had the misfortune to lose Major Simmons, who was killed by a Musket shot while leading his men into the most advanced building. We had now progressed to a position from which we had a view of the Enemy's 18-Pounder Gun in front of the Cawnpore Battery. It lay in a lane running towards the Cawnpore road, the end of which was barricaded and loopholed, and directly in line with it, on the opposite side of the road, the Enemy occupied a house from which they kept up a hot Musketry fire on our position.

I then sent for the Reserve, and desired that an Officer of rank might be sent to Command the whole party. General Sir J. Outram having become acquainted with our progress, sent word that, unless further advance could be made without danger of considerable loss, the design of proceeding against the Enemy's Gun, now in our view, should be abandoned, and that the Party should retire after destroying in succession the houses we had taken possession of. After consulting with Captain Evans, (attached to the Artillery,) who had meanwhile destroyed the Enemy's Gun, which we left at the first house and also a 6-Pounder Gun in its neighbourhood, I returned a reply to the General that further advance could not be made without considerable loss, and I proceeded to demolish the three large houses we held, commencing with the one furthest in advance, and withdrawing the Party gradually to the rear. This operation, in which 13 barrels of Powder were expended, destroyed the Principal Musketry cover of the Enemy against our Defences between the Brigade Mess and Cawnpore Battery, and the destruction of the Guns in front of the latter, together with that effected by the Sortieing Parties acting in conjunction with us to the right, had relieved a considerable portion of our work from serious annoyance. The Party returned about 9½ A. M.

SIR,

Agreeably to your orders, I have the honor to report that the undermentioned Parties were made over to me to take the Guns to the front and right of the Brigade Mess and Sikh Square:—

H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, under Lieutenant Cooke..... 20 Men.
H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, under Captain Lockhart..... 140 „
1st Madras Fusiliers, under Capt. Galwey..... 90 „

Total...250 Men.

We fell in and filed out of the breach in the Sikh Square at day-break of the 29th September 1857.

The advance consisted of H. M.'s 32nd, Main Body H. M.'s 78th Highlanders, Reserve of 1st Madras Fusiliers, the Engineers under Lieutenant Innes, Artillery under Lieutenant J. Alexander, Major Apthorp, (whose Report I enclose,) Captain Forbes, and Lieutenant Ousley, knowing the ground, accompanied the Reserve.

We formed silently under cover of some broken ground. The first Gun, a Brass 12-Pounder was taken by H. M.'s 32nd with a cheer. By keeping to the right of the embrasure, we avoided the discharge. Lieutenant Cook and Private Kelly were first at the Gun.

The 32nd occupied a house in rear of the Gun, and enabled the Artillery to burst it unnoted.

The 78th Highlanders, led by Captain Lockhart, who was slightly wounded, then charged a Gun to the right. The covering Party of the first Gun, and a considerable body of the Enemy, rallied round this Gun. Serjeant James Young, 78th Highlanders, the first man at the Gun bayoneted one of the Enemy's Gunners while re-loading, and was severely wounded by a sword-cut.

I ordered up a Party of the 1st Fusiliers, under Lieutenant the Hon'ble J. Fraser, to take the Enemy in rear, and a number of them were killed here and in the houses in the neighbourhood. Hand Grenades used with good effect.

Proceeding further to the right, opposite Mr. Gubbins' house, our further progress was stopped by a small Gun and some Wall-pieces at the end of a narrow line.

Lieutenant Ouseley, 48th N. I., and Lieutenant Aitken, 13th N. I., took these pieces in flank after a difficult detour, by getting into a house above them, and with a cheer and volley routed the Enemy. This manoeuvre was most skilfully and gallantly executed. Serjeant Higgins, with 4 men of the Madras Fusiliers, and Private Browne, 32nd, are stated to have been the first men at the Gun. Mr. Lucas, a Volunteer, well known for his bravery, was mortally wounded here.

Major Apthorp and Captain Forbes, with the Fusiliers under Captain Galwey occupied the houses commanding the pieces which were brought away. Two Shafts of a Mine were here discovered and blown up.

The Batteries and Barricades were completely burnt and destroyed. Working Parties of the Sikh Cavalry, under Lieutenant Graham, and Sepoys of the 13th N. I., under Lieutenant Aitken, did good work.

I enclose Lieutenant Innes' Report. Under cover of the houses blown up, the Party fell back unmolested.

One heavy Gun was burst, three smaller ones and some Wall-pieces brought in.
Our loss was 4 killed and 11 wounded, including Mr. Lucas and Captain Lockhart.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Commanding Lucknow Garrison.

Memorandum of Demolitions Effected by the Party under Captain Hardinge, on the 29th September 1857.

Lucknow, 22nd October 1857.

The Party for demolition consisted of six miners of H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, with a Fatigue Party of six men supplied from the Troops under Captain Hardinge's guidance. It carried six barrels of Powder, with the requisite supply of hose, port-fire, and slow-match.

2. The house that covered the first Gun taken, was the first selected for demolition. I accordingly laid in it a charge of two barrels. This done, Captain Hardinge pointed out the two next places which he proposed to destroy. They were houses in which the Enemy were said to be, and to eject whom would have been attended with no benefit, but probably with a considerable loss of life. One house being in a dilapidated condition, I laid one barrel of Powder against the middle of its outer-wall; the other was strong and I therefore lodged two barrels against its wall in a similar position.

3. These charges being laid, it was decided to defer the explosions till the time should arrive for retiring, when they should be fired in a reverse order to that in which the charges were laid.

4. On the capture of the Guns by the Reserve, I lodged a barrel of Powder at the Stockade where they had been, and fired it. The demolition was successful.

5. I have thus laid out all the six barrels, when Major Apthorp, in Command of the Reserve, reported the discovery of a house with Mines in it, leading probably to the Bastion and Out-houses at Mr. Gubbins' compound. I mentioned the want of Powder; but Lieutenant Graham arriving and reporting that more powder had been placed at my disposal, I requested to have four barrels sent me. On proceeding to examine the house and Mines, I found that there were two Shafts, but no Galleries. No Mines then had to be destroyed, only the house, in which therefore, I lodged and fired two barrels of Powder, bringing down the side of the house facing the Entrenchments.

6. The time for the Party to retire having now arrived, I fired the Mines mentioned in Para. 2, in a reverse order to that in which the charges had been laid. As the explosion did not occur till the Rear Guard was on the Entrenchment side of the buildings successively demolished, the inspection of the results could not be made on the site of the building destroyed; but as well as observation from a tolerably short distance could enable a decision to be arrived at, all the demolitions were successful.

REPORT OF A SORTIE MADE ON THE 29TH SEPTEMBER 1857, TOWARDS THE IRON BRIDGE. Lucknow, 22nd October 1857.

On the morning of the 29th Ultimo, I was directed by Lieutenant General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., to proceed as Guiding Officer with a Column (strength as per strength of Captain Shute's Column) under the Command of Captain Shute, H. M.'s 64th Regiment.

STRENGTH OF CAPTAIN SHUTE'S COLUMN.
H. M.'s 32nd Regt.
1 Officer and 12 Men.
H. M.'s 64th Regt.
2 Officers and 21 Men.
H. M.'s 84th Regt.
3 Officers and 110 Men.
Total—6 Officers and 143 Men.

2. The principal object of the expedition was to destroy a 24 Pounder Gun, situated on a mound about 200 yards from Mr. Hill's shop, which had been doing immense injury in the Garrison during the Siege.

3. The Party started from Innes' outpost about day-break, and took and spiked 2 Mortars and 4 Zemindaree Guns of small calibre, destroying the carriage of the latter. The Guns were placed on the roads leadings towards the Iron Bridge and past Mr. Hill's shop, and the Column had to traverse a distance of 1,200 yards from the outpost before reaching the last Gun. The Party then returned about 300 yards, and quitted the road to reach the 24-Pounder Gun above-mentioned. It was taken possession of, and the houses near having been occupied, it was destroyed successfully.

I regret, however, to add that the Column sustained considerable loss in consequence of an order with reference to occupying the houses in its rear leading to the Iron Bridge not having been carried out.

From Lieutenant G. HARDINGE Commanding Irregular Cavalry, &c.,
To Colonel R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff.

Lucknow, 5th November 1857.

SIR,—Agreeably to your order I have the honor to report that, on the 2nd ultimo, the undermentioned Party was put under my Command for taking the Guns to the right of the Cawnpore road:—

H. M.'s 32nd Lieut. Cooke.....	68 Men
H. M.'s 84th Regiment.....	12 Men
Madras Fusiliers.....	15 Men
Artillery.....	7 Men

On coming up the Batteries, we found the Enemy had deserted them, and withdrawn one or two Guns. They had burst a very heavy Gun on the Cawnpore road, and another, an iron 18-Pounder had the muzzle blown off. I had this destroyed after burning the Batteries and blowing up a large Mosque, in which four barrels of Powder were placed.

I withdrew the Party unmolested, the Enemy only firing from some distant houses. One man of H. M.'s 32nd Regiment was wounded.

Lieut. Graham and 20 Sikh Cavalry formed the working Party.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. HARDINGE, Lieut. Commanding Irregular Cavalry,
and Offg. Depy. Quarter Master General.

From Lieutenant G. HUTCHINSON, Engrs., Directors of Works,
To Colonel R. NAPIER, Engrs., Mily. Secy., &c., &c.

Lucknow, 21st November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward a plan and memo. showing Captain Lockhart's post and work done by the Engineer Department at that post.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. HUTCHINSON, Lieut., Engrs., Director of Works.

Memo. of Work executed at Captain Lockhart's Post from the first possession of it until the 21st of November 1857.

Barricades, &c. Barricades were at once and primarily erected at all outlets and loopholes cut along all the walls.

Doorways of communications opened between the three main houses, which originally were distinct buildings, and such arrangements made as enabled us to command to the utmost the ruins on the right and left of position.

A canon-proof Barricade was erected across the Khas Bazar, communicating with 84th post, and an embrasure opened through it for a Gun: a second Barricade was afterwards placed across the Cawnpore road.

The Enemy commenced mining against us at H on the left of our Position, about six days after our occupying the post. We sunk a Shaft, preparatory to driving a Gallery, to meet them; but before we could complete the Shaft, the Enemy exploded a very large charge of Powder, some 10 feet short of our outer enclosure wall, which had the effect of shaking down the wall and filling up our shaft, by the masses of earth thrown into the air and descending into our Shaft. I regret to say we lost one man in this Shaft. By some fatality, though the men on duty and at the mine saw the Enemy's Train burning, and volumes of smoke issuing out of the houses from which they knew the Enemy were mining they did not move from the spot, but merely sent to report to their Officer. We were prepared for the explosion, and had the enclosure all ready barricaded off, so that the Enemy gained nothing by the Mine.

From this time up to within the last six days, we have been almost constantly at work day and night, countermining against them.

Our general success has been very good, having held our ground with an expenditure of but 200 lbs. of Powder, and resisted numerous attacks of the Enemy's Miners.

On two particular occasions our success was more than usual. A Gallery, driven from our shaft C, intercepted a Gallery of the Enemy's and our explosion completely cut off, some 12 feet of it; so that the next morning, on breaking into the portion so cut off, we dug out, or rather dragged out four dead bodies, the Enemy's Miners having been completely cut off in a tomb as it were, for the Gallery they were in was not broken down, but stopped up by our explosion.

In this case our operations commenced from Shaft D.

We broke into their Gallery some 12 feet from our wall about 12 o'clock at night, and Serjeant Day, our Superintending Miner, remained below, assisted by others, holding the entrance to their Gallery until I arrived.

On entering the Enemy's Gallery, I took Corporal Thompson, of the 78th Highlanders, with me, and observing the apparently great length of the Enemy's Mine, proceeded cautiously to extinguish the lights, so as to keep ourselves in darkness as we advanced. At this time the Enemy were in the Mine at or near their Shaft, which, contrary to their usual practice, they evidently wish to hold uninjured. They severally fill them in at once when we take their Gallery.

I proceeded, extinguishing the lights, until I distinctly saw the Enemy at the far end, and to advance further, would be to advance in a blaze of light. I therefore laid down and waited, as our preparations above, carried on under Lieutenant Tulloch, were not yet ready. Whilst laying there, I saw a Sepoy with Musket at trial advance down the Mine, and when within 40 feet of him, fired at him. My pistol missed fire, and before Corporal Thompson could hand me his pistol the Sepoy had retreated. After remaining some time longer, I placed another man with Corporal Thompson, and went up to get an Officer down, as I felt it required a very steady man down there to support us. While we were laying the charge, and making various arrangements, which utterly precluded our watching against an Enemy's advance, at the same time, Lieutenant Hay, of the 78th Highlanders, then Commanding the Picquet, kindly volunteered and took up my old post. Lieutenant Tulloch and Serjeant Day quickly got the Powder down, and all arrangements ready, when we then withdrew Lieutenant Hay, behind the partial Barricade we had formed; and whilst here, still watching with Corporal Thompson, he got two shots at another man who attempted to come down the Mine, and apparently wounded him. The Enemy made no more attempts to come down the Mine, but went outside their building, and came over our heads, apparently with the intention of breaking through. After some quarter of an hour's walking over head, they, I conclude, could not find the direction of the Mine, and retreated into the house.

Our charge of 50 lbs. which I had laid outside our Barricade, and 82 feet up the Enemy's Gallery, was soon tamped, and the charge fired by Lieutenant Tulloch. The charge being laid with 9 feet of sand bag tamping behind it, and none in front, the main force of the Powder acted towards the Enemy's Shaft, but it took down 40 feet backwards towards us, leaving us 40 feet to use as a listening Gallery. I deduce the Enemy's Mine to be 200 feet long and upwards, from the reconnoitring of Lieut. Hay and myself before we commenced laying our charge, and from the position of the house it came from. The Gallery had numerous air-holes and was thoroughly ventilated.

I was much indebted to Lieut. Hay and Corporal Thompson in this business, and also to Lieut. Tulloch, who himself also fired the Mine—a somewhat difficult task, as our bore being short, he had to retreat some 60 feet through the Enemy's Gallery and ours, and then of the Shaft. Such is a brief account of our Mining operations.

The total length of Gallery work run is 500 feet, and five Shafts, averaging 12 feet deep, with a drain of 5 feet each.

The 9-Pounder Gun I placed in position in the house on the left of our position, as shown in plan, and it was useful in silencing the fire of a Gun of the Enemy's firing from a Stockade up the lane.

In concluding this Report, I would respectfully bring to your notice the valuable assistance rendered by Serjeant Day, of the 32nd, who was in charge of the Mines, and until Lieut. Tulloch was posted to the position, acted direct under my orders. His zeal and quiet steady management of the raw Recruits under him has been most commendable.

I would also bring to your notice the unremitting zeal and attention to his work, manifested by Lieut. Tulloch since he has been in charge of the post; and during the period of my acting here, Lieut. Tulloch has almost entirely—unassisted by me—carried on our system of Mines most successfully.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,
G. HUTCHINSON, Lieut. Engrs., Director of Works.

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army
R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel, Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mty. Dept.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, in directing the publication of the subjoined Despatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., dated the 30th of September 1857, considers it due to that Officer and to others who may have felt disappointment at the omission of it among the Despatches which were published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary of the 23rd Instant, to explain that although earlier in date than those Despatches it has been received after them, and that its publication has not been delayed.

His Lordship in Council most fully appreciates the valor of the Troops whom that distinguished Officer the late Sir Henry Havelock, aided and supported by Sir James Outram and by the lamented Brigadier General Neill, led victoriously through the hosts of the Insurgents and in the face of extraordinary difficulties, to the relief of the Garrison of Lucknow; and he desires that every Officer, Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier will accept the assurance of the entire approbation of Government, as offered to each and all individually.

The Governor General in Council observes with great satisfaction the Supplemental Order in which Sir J. Outram separately brings to notice the services rendered by the Ferozepore Regiment under their gallant Leader Captain Brasyer. The thanks of Government were given to this Regiment in the General Order, No. 1625, of the 22nd Instant; and His Lordship in Council willingly reiterates his acknowledgments to Captain Brasyer and his Officers and Men.

A Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, dated the 22nd of December 1857, is also now published. In it His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief prominently brings to notice the good service performed by the Officers of the Volunteer Cavalry, Commanded by Captain Barrow, and the Governor General in Council embraces with much satisfaction this opportunity of publicly recording his sense of the gallant conduct of Captain Barrow and his devoted Band, Officers and Men, ever forward where hard work and danger were to be found.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Govt. of India, in the Mil. Dept.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B.,
TO HIS EXCELLENCY SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, G. C. B., Commander-in-Chief.

Lucknow, 30th September 1857.

SIR,—General Havelock having effected his junction with the Garrison holding the Residency of Lucknow on the evening of the 25th Instant, I, on the following day, resumed Command of the Troops, issuing the Order A., of which I enclose a copy for His Excellency's information. I had previously sent a note to the Commandant of the Garrison, warning him of our approach, and warning him not to be enticed into weakening his Garrison by detaching to our support when he should hear us engaged in the City, lest the Enemy should avail themselves of that opportunity to assault his position. This note I have since learnt he received—copy enclosed B.

Since we have obtained access to the exterior of the Entrenchments, we find that they had completed six mines in the most artistic manner—one of them from a distance of 200 feet under our principal defensive works, which were ready for loading, and the firing of which must have placed the Garrison entirely at their mercy. The delay of another day, therefore, might have sealed their fate.

To force our way through the City would have proved a very desperate operation, if indeed it could have been accomplished.

After passing the Bridge, therefore, which is at the entrance, General Havelock took his Force by detours to the right, where but little means comparatively of opposition had been prepared, until he approached the front of the "Kaiser Bagh" (King's Palace), from whence a heavy fire was opened upon us, and from that point (through a limited extent of about a quarter mile of street then intervened before reaching the Residency) the Troops were much exposed to which had been turned against us, besides being obstructed by ditches which had been cut across the street—all which obstacles were overcome by the usual gallantry and dash of British Troops, but at a heavy cost. The Residency was joined in the evening; and the cheers of our rescued comrades overcame for the time our regrets for the many who had fallen in their cause.

General Havelock's Reports will acquaint your Excellency with details; my own Reports commencing from the following day, when, as the Enemy had, during the night, continued to occupy his offensive position and to maintain his fire on the Entrenchment, it became my first object to occupy or destroy his works; for, independent of the damage caused by his fire to the now crowded Garrison, no communication could be held with the City. I, therefore, on the morning of the 26th, ordered the Captain Bazaar to be cleared, which has heretofore harbored the Enemy in vexatious proximity to the Garrison, and it was occupied by H. M.'s 32nd Regiment under Brigadier Inglis, capturing 5 Guns, with a loss of one Officer (Captain Hughes, 57th L. I.) and 2 Privates killed and 7 Privates wounded, thus removing all obstruction from the River side of our position.

On the 27th September, the Palaces extending along on the line of the River, from the Residency to near the "Kaiser Bagh" ("Tara Kotee," "Chuttur Munzul," and "Forad Bukah"), were occupied for the accommodation of our Troops. On the same day, at noon, a party consisting of 150 men made a Sortie on another of the Enemy's positions and destroyed 4 Guns, at a loss of 8 killed and wounded. At day-light on the 28th, 3 Columns, aggregating 700 men, attacked the Enemy's works at three different points, destroyed 10 Guns, and demolished by powder explosions the houses which afforded position to the Enemy for musketry fire. This has effectually destroyed his attacks, excepting on one point, where he has still 3 Guns, which it is difficult to get at, but it is not likely the Enemy will attempt to maintain that isolated position; and as there has been no fire from thence this morning, it is probable he may have abandoned it. This successful operation was attended by the serious loss of 1 Officer and 15 men killed and missing, 1 Officer and 31 men wounded, the Officer killed being Major Simmons, Commanding H. M.'s 5th Fusiliers, most deeply regretted by the whole Army.

Our present prospects have now to be considered. It was the urgent desire of the Government that the Garrison should be relieved, and the women and children, amounting to upwards of 470 souls, withdrawn.

The Army of the Enemy has been beaten in the open field without difficulty. The resistance was more obstinate in the suburbs, and at a great sacrifice the Troops forced their way to the Garrison of Lucknow. The sick and wounded had been left with the baggage in a strong enclosure, called "Alum Bagh," 5 miles from the Lucknow Entrenchment.

In considering the heavy loss at which we forced our way through the Enemy, it was evident that there could be no possible hope of carrying off the sick, wounded, and women and children (amounting to not less than 1,500 souls, including those of both Forces.) Want of carriage alone rendered the transport through 5 miles of disputed suburb an impossibility.

There remained but two alternatives, one to reinforce the Lucknow Garrison with 300 men, and leaving every thing behind, to retire immediately with the remains of the Infantry upon the "Alum Bagh," thereby leaving the Garrison in a worse state than we found it, by the addition to the numbers they had previously to feed the great amount of our wounded and the 300 Soldiers, who would barely have sufficed to afford the additional protection that would have been required, without adding such strength as would have enabled them to make an active defence, to repel attacks by Sorties; or to prevent the Enemy occupying the whole of their old positions; while it would have been impossible for any smaller Force than the remainder of our Troops, diminished by those 300 men, to have any hope of making good their way back, and that not without very serious loss. I, therefore, adopt the second alternative as the only mode of offering reasonable hope of securing the safety of this Force, by retaining sufficient strength to enforce supplies of provisions, should they not be open to us voluntarily, and to maintain ourselves, even on reduced rations, until reinforcements advance to our Relief.

Now that Delhi has fallen and released our Forces, two Brigades might perhaps be spared for this service. But I am satisfied that even one Brigade, with two Batteries of Artillery, could make good its way to the "Dilkoosha" (a position three miles from hence on the Cawnpore side of the Canal,) the route to which, the rains now being over, will be practicable for Artillery by the direct road from "Alum Bagh."

With such a Force established at "Dilkoosha," we could without difficulty open out our communication, and withdraw the whole, or such portion of our Forces as may be desired after re-establishing our authority at Lucknow.

Since my decision has been made, I have received a letter from the "Alum Bagh," in which it is stated that they are in great want of provisions, but upon returns of what they have, it is clear that they are not aware of their resources, which were sufficient for some days. I have, therefore, ordered back the Cavalry to join them in the night by a circuitous route, with conditional orders to withdraw to Cawnpore, or to maintain their position, as may be found most practicable. Their only difficulty is provisions, as they are placed in a fortified enclosure, defended by two of our heavy Guns, and two 9-Pounders, besides other Guns taken from the Enemy, 250 European Soldiers, and a number of convalescents fit to bear arms.

I have the honor to be,

Your Excellency's most obedient servant,

1st October, P. S.—The Cavalry failed to make their way out last night; the Enemy being found on the alert, and in such strength beyond our Picquets, it was not deemed prudent to attempt to force a passage; consequently this Despatch was brought back, and there will be no means of transmitting it at present.

Lucknow Residency, 26th September 1857.

DIVISION ORDERS.

The Relief of the Lucknow Garrison having last night been accomplished by General Havelock and his brave Troops, Major-General Sir J. Outram resumes his position as Commander of the Forces. The Major-General heartily congratulates General Havelock and the Troops whom that gallant and distinguished Officer has so gloriously led to victory on brilliant successes over the hosts that have opposed them since the Army crossed the Ganges on the 19th instant. He sincerely believes that, in the history of Warfare, British valor was never more conspicuously displayed than on the 21st instant at

"Mungulwarra," on the 23d at "Alum Bagh," and on the 25th, when his heroic comrades forced the City Bridge and other formidable obstacles which interrupted their passage to the position held by the beleaguered Garrison. The Major-General deeply laments the heavy cost at which the Relief of our countrymen has been purchased, but the glorious devotion with which the gallant dead and equally gallant survivors staked their lives to rescue the Lucknow Garrison will be deeply appreciated by our Queen and our Country, and the safety of those whom we, under God's blessing, have been permitted to redeem from a dreadful fate, must be our consolation for the loss of so many of our noble comrades. The Major-General begs to return his most sincere and heartfelt thanks to the General and his Gallant Army for their glorious exertions, the only acknowledgment of their achievements which it is in his power to render. On General Havelock it will devolve, in his Reports to the Commander-in-Chief, to do justice to the Army which has so devotedly carried out his orders. But while fully aware, that every Arm was stimulated by the same brave spirit, the Major-General deems it right to bear his personal testimony to the admirable conduct of such of the Troops as acted under his immediate observation. He would especially note the behaviour of the 90th Regiment, who led the advance of the left attack at "Mungulwarra"; that of the Volunteer Cavalry, who charged the Artillery of the retiring Enemy and captured 2 of their Guns; that of the 84th and Detachment of the 6th attached to it, who led the attack on the Enemy's left at "Alum Bagh"; that of Captain Olphert's Battery, who so bravely followed up their retreat on that occasion, and Major Eyre's Battery, in opposing the many that afterwards bore on their position; that of the 5th Fusiliers and Captain Maude's Battery, who led the Column on the 25th instant, under a most murderous fire; that of the 1st Fusiliers (Madras), who charged the Bridge and Battery at the entrance of the City, led by the gallant Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Havelock; and finally, that of the 78th Highlanders, who led the advance on the Residency, headed by their brave Commander, Colonel Stisted, accompanied by the gallant Lieutenant Hargood, A. D. C. to General Havelock; Captain Grant, 1st Madras Fusiliers; Lieutenant Hudson, 6th Regiment; and Lieutenant Chamier, A. D. C.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER.

The Major-General regrets to find that, in noticing the services of the Troops which came under his personal attention, in Division Orders of 26th instant, he omitted to mention the Regiment of Ferozepore and its gallant leader, Captain Brasyer. The Major-General in that Order merely referred to what he himself observed, but was well aware that this Regiment was most prominently forward on every occasion. Though happening seldom to be in the same part of the Field, he takes blame to himself for having inadvertently omitted to mention their advance with the 90th at "Mungulwarra," which did come under his personal observation. The time has not yet come for the Major-General to notice the conduct of the Troops subsequently to his assuming Command, during which period the Sikh Regiment has been incessantly occupied on most important service; but they may rest assured that they, as well as all the Corps who have like them highly distinguished themselves since, will be brought to prominent notice.

North side of the River, 20th September 1857.

SIR,—The Army crossed the River yesterday, and all the material being over, marches to-morrow, and, under the blessing of God, will now relieve you. The Rebels, we hear, purpose making a desperate assault upon you as we approach the City, and will be on the watch in expectation of your weakening your Garrison to make a diversion in our favor as we attack the City. I beg to warn you against being enticed too far from your works when you hear us engaged. Such diversion as you can make without in any way risking your position, should only be attempted.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to transmit, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, copy of a letter dated the 15th instant, No. 7, from Captain L. Barrow, Commanding the Volunteer Cavalry with Major General Sir J. Outram's Force, bringing prominently to notice the names of Officers who have done good service in the Corps under his Command; and I am to request you will have the goodness to acquaint His Lordship in Council, that Sir James Outram has been requested to inform Captain Barrow, that the merits of these Officers, and more especially of Captain Barrow himself as Commandant of the Volunteer Cavalry, are highly appreciated by His Excellency.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

FROM CAPTAIN BARROW, Comdg. Volunteer Cavalry.
TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,

1st or Major-Genl. Sir J. Outram's (G. C. B.) Division.

Camp Alum Bagh, 15th Dec. 1857.

SIR,—As most of the Officers of the Volunteer Cavalry have been removed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, their services being otherwise required, and many others having left wounded, I trust I shall be excused for bringing prominently to notice the names of all these Officers who have performed their duty well, and in an entirely new capacity.

2. The Officers as per margin marked* served since the Force left Allahabad on the 6th July under General Havelock, and those marked † joined at various periods of the Campaign. These Officers have not only performed the duties of Private Soldiers and Non-Commissioned Officers, but side by side with the Privates of the different Regiments composing the late Field Force. The arduous nature of these duties is so well known to the Major-General, that it only remains to bring to his notice the cheerful and exemplary manner in which the Officers performed them.

3. My object in bringing forward the names at this time is, that those now with His Excellency may have their conduct as Volunteers under his notice in their nomination to other appointments, for under a somewhat new and peculiar formation, they have readily adapted themselves to all circumstances, and behaved throughout as Officers should do, anxious to prove themselves good Soldiers.

No. 1667 of 1857.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council has received the accompanying Despatch from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and hastens to give publicity to it. It supplies an omission in a previous Despatch from His Excellency, which was printed in the Gazette Extraordinary of the 24th Instant.

Major-General Windham's reputation as a Leader of conspicuous bravery and coolness, and the reputation of the Gallant Force which he Commanded, will have lost nothing from an accidental omission such as General Sir Colin Campbell has occasion to regret.

But the Governor General in Council will not fail to bring to the notice of the Government in England the opinion formed by His Excellency of the difficulties against which Major-General Windham, with the Officers and Men under his orders, had to contend.

TO THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Head Quarters, Camp near Cawnpore, the 20th December 1857.
 MY LORD,—I have the honor to bring to your Lordship's notice, an omission, which I have to regret, in my Despatch of the 2nd December, and I beg to be allowed now to repair it.
 I desire to make my acknowledgment of the great difficulties in which Major-General Windham, C. B., was placed during the operations he described in his Despatch, and to recommend him and the Officers whom he notices as having rendered him assistance, to your Lordship's protection and good offices. I may mention, in conclusion, that Major-General Windham is ignorant of the contents of my Despatch of 2nd December, and that I am prompted to take this step solely as a matter of justice to the Major-General and the other Officers concerned.

I have the honor to be,

My Lord,

With the greatest respect,

Your Lordship's most obedient humble servant,

FORT ST. GEORGE, 16TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 18 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 5TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 16 of 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by a portion of the Troops under Command of Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., on a body of the Enemy in the neighbourhood of his Camp, on the 22d December last. His Lordship in Council concurs in the commendation given by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to Sir James Outram and the Officers and Men under his Command on the occasion.

No. 41 A.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Head Quarters Camp, Poora, December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council, copy of a Despatch of the 23d Instant, from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., reporting the circumstances of a successful attack made upon a portion of the Enemy in the neighbourhood of his Camp by a Detachment of the Troops under the Major-General's Command, in which four Guns were captured, and I am to state that His Excellency considers the whole affair to have been extremely well conducted, and to reflect much credit on the Troops engaged.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding Troops in Oude,
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

Camp before Lucknow, 23d December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that I had yesterday an affair with the Enemy at a village called Guilee, three miles from hence, situated a little to the right of the road to Dil Khoosha.

I had been informed two days previously, by my spies, that the Enemy contemplated surrounding my position in order to cut off supplies, stop all foraging expeditions, and to intercept my communication with Bunnec. With this object they despatched a Force to Guilee, which took up a position between that village and Budroop, which places are about a mile distant from each other.

On the evening of the 21st Instant, I learnt that the Rebels had been reinforced, and that their strength amounted to about 4,000 Infantry, 400 Cavalry, and 8 Field Guns.*

Having ascertained that a space of about half a mile intervened between their position and the Gardens skirting the Canal and the Dil Khoosha, I moved out at 5 A. M. in the hope of surprising them at day-break and intercepting their retreat to the City, with a Force detailed in the accompanying Divisional Order, which I have this day issued, and to which I beg to refer His Excellency for all details, and for the terms in which I express my appreciation of the conduct of The Troops on the occasion.

* Since ascertained to have been only 4, all of which were captured.

The main body of the Enemy being on the march considerably in advance, retreated to the City, by a detour to the left out of our reach, and concealed by intervening tops of trees, on hearing the attack on their rear: but the loss of 4 Horse Artillery Guns, much Ammunition, besides Elephants and Baggage, and some 50 or 60 men slain, will, I think, deter the Enemy from again venturing beyond their defensive works, or at any rate from attempting, for some time to come, to carry out their plan of surrounding this Camp within a too limited circumference, and I have great hopes that the success of this expedition will be productive of good effect in restoring confidence to the neighbouring inhabitants.

DIVISION ORDERS ISSUED BY MAJOR-GENERAL SIR JAMES OUTRAM, G. C. B.

Camp Alum Bagh, 23d December 1857.

2 9-Pounder Guns R. A. Captain Maude
4 do. 2nd Co. 3rd Bn. B. A. Captain Olpherts.

50 Volunteer Cavalry. Captain Barrow.
36 Irregular Cavalry. Lieutenant Ray and Lieutenant Graham.

156 H. M.'s 78th Highlanders. Captain Lockhart.
108 H. M.'s 84th Regiment. Captain O'Brien.
270 H. M.'s 90th Light Infantry. Captain Guise.
150 Regiment of Ferozepore. Captain Brasyer.
40 Madras Sappers. Lieutenant Ogilvie.
Total
6 9-Pounder Guns, under Captain Olpherts.
100 Cavalry, under Major Robertson.
1227 Infantry, under Brigadier Stisted.
Right Column, under Lieut. Colonel Purnell, H. M.'s 90th Light Infantry.
Reserve, under Lt. Col. Hamilton, H. M.'s 78th Highlanders.

3. Colonel Guy, in Command of the Left Column, consisting of 400 men of Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, under the guidance of Lieutenant Mearson, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, was equally successful in his simultaneous attack on the adjacent village of Guilee, in which and the adjoining tops two Guns were captured.

4. The Enemy were now rapidly followed up across the plain by the Volunteer Cavalry, under Capt. Barrow, until they found refuge in a village from which they opened a fire of Grape and Musketry. They were, however, speedily dislodged, by the assistance of two of Captain Olpherts' Guns, under the Command of Lieutenant Smithett, and changing their line of retreat they endeavoured to reach the City by the way of the Dil Khoosha.

5. The Military Train, under Major Robertson, having been, however, despatched to make a flank movement, followed them up so rapidly that they dispersed their Cavalry, and drove their Guns into a ravine, where they were captured, the leading horses, of which the traces were cut, only escaping.

6. The Major General was particularly pleased with the very cool and soldier-like behaviour of the Military Train. Far ahead of the Infantry and unable to remove the Guns which were captured, they were menaced in their front by a large body of fresh Troops from the City, and attacked on their right flank by the main body of the Enemy, consisting of about 2,000 Infantry, who had commenced their march previous to our attack, and who on hearing their rear assailed also changed their route to one in the direction of the City, and seeing their Guns, in possession of so small a Force as that under Major Robertson, made demonstrations of an attempt to regain them; but by the bold front shown by the Military Train, and the gallant advance of their Skirmishers, were held at bay, until the arrival of a party of the 5th Fusiliers and two 9-Pounder Guns, under Captain Olpherts, completely secured their capture, and enabled a working party of the Madras Sappers, under the Command of Lieutenant Ogilvie, to extricate them from the ravine into which they had been driven. Captain Hutchinson, Chief Engineer, on this, as on several other occasions during the day, afforded much valuable assistance.

7. The Major-General has to thank Lieutenant-Colonel H. Hamilton, Commanding the Reserve, for the good position taken up by him, which, with the fire of the two Guns under Lieutenant Simpson, which were most judiciously posted, were of great assistance in checking the advance of the Enemy during the protracted operations of removing the captured Guns.

8. Sir James Outram has also to express his acknowledgments to Brigadiers Hamilton and Eyre, who were left in charge of the Camp, and with the small Force at their disposal, checked the dispositions for an attack which the Enemy was commencing with their Skirmishers on the left flank, until the return of the Force to Camp caused them to abandon their intentions.

9. It will be the pleasing duty of the Major-General to make His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief acquainted with the successful result of yesterday's operations, and his approbation of the conduct of all those concerned in them.

SUPPLEMENT TO DIVISION ORDERS.

In publishing to the Troops under his Command the Return of Casualties which occurred in the skirmish at Guilee on the 22nd Instant, as well as the Return of Ordnance captured by them, the Major-General is happy to have to record his approval of the conduct of Staff Sergeant Roddy, who was in Command of the two Guns attached to Colonel Guy's Column, and whom his Commanding Officer, Captain Olpherts, has mentioned for the able way in which he brought his Guns into action, and the good service he rendered in covering the rapid advance of the Column.

Major Robertson has also brought to his notice the great assistance he received on every occasion from Captain Lane, 5th Bengal Light Cavalry, and Lieutenant Rich, H. M.'s 9th Lancers, attached to the Military Train.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS: CHOULTRY PLAIN, 16th January 1858.

The following General Order issued to Her Majesty's Troops, serving under this Presidency, are published for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER.

HEAD QUARTERS:
MADRAS, 5th January 1858.

3. At a General Court Martial holden at Bangalore, on Monday the 21st day of December 1857, Private Edward Fitzpatrick, regimental number three thousand four hundred and thirty-six, in the A. or Captain Fiennis Middleton Colville's Company of Her Majesty's Forty-third Regiment of Light Infantry, was arraigned upon the following Charges.

First Charge.—"For having at Madras on or about the twenty-ninth of November one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, when in Hospital under treatment, and a Prisoner awaiting the promulgation of the Proceedings of a District Court Martial on his trial, for desertion, escaped from his confinement before he was set at liberty by proper authority."

Second Charge.—"For having at the same time and place mentioned in the First Charge, deserted from the Left wing of Her Majesty's Forty-third Regiment of Light Infantry, and not returning until brought back to the Head Quarters of the Regiment at Bangalore on the twelfth of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, he having been made a Prisoner at Poonamallee on the third day of the same month and year."

"The above being in breach of the Articles of War."

Bangalore, seventeenth of December; one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

(Signed) J. M. PRIMROSE, Lieut. Col.,
Commanding H. M. 43rd Regiment L. I.

Upon which charges the Court came to the following decision.

"The court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and nothing having been urged in defence, is of opinion, that the Prisoner Edward Fitzpatrick, Regimental number three thousand four hundred and thirty-six, Private in the A. or Captain Fiennis Middleton Colville's Company of Her Majesty's Forty-third Regiment of Light Infantry, is"

Finding on the First Charge.—"Guilty of the First Charge."

Finding on the Second Charge.—"Guilty of the Second Charge."

Sentence.—"The Court Sentences the Prisoner Edward Fitzpatrick, regimental number three thousand four hundred and thirty-six, Private in the A. or Captain Fiennis Middleton Colville's Company of Her Majesty's Forty-third Regiment of Light Infantry, to imprisonment with hard labor for two years, to be marked with the letter D in the usual manner, and to the forfeiture of all advantage, as to additional Pay, or Good Conduct Pay, and Pension on discharge, which might accrue from future service. The sentence of imprisonment to commence at the expiration of the imprisonment to which he has been previously sentenced. The Court further recommends the Prisoner to be discharged Her Majesty's service with ignominy."

Bangalore, twenty second of December,
one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

(Signed) W. F. BEDFORD, Lieut. Col.,
3d 60th Royal Rifles, President.

I approve and Confirm the Sentence of the Court to the extent of imprisonment with hard labor for twelve Calendar months, and to be marked with the letter D. The mitigated sentence to commence as directed by the Court. I will give the Prisoner one more opportunity of retrieving his character, as I observe that although his conduct has of late been so disgraceful, yet out of a service of eleven years and nine months, nearly eleven years of it were passed by the Prisoner without any conviction by Court Martial against him.

MADRAS.
4th January 1858.

(Signed) PATRICK GRANT, Lieut. General,
Commander in Chief.

This order is to be entered in the General Order Book, and read at the head of every Regiment in Her Majesty's Service on the establishment of Fort St. George.

No. 26 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of Bombay, is republished at this Presidency.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Bombay Castle, 9th January 1858.

No. 47 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council has very great satisfaction in publishing, for the information of the Army, the following Report made to His Excellency the Commander in Chief by Brigadier Stuart, Commanding the Malwa Field Force (now 1st Brigade Nerbudda Field Force), of his successful Operations against the Insurgents assembled near Mundisore, during four days, from the 21st to the 24th November last :—

No. 201 of 1857.

FROM BRIGADIER STUART, Commanding Malwa Field Force,
TO THE ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Bombay.

SIR,—With reference to my telegrams of the 25th and 26th instant, I have now the honour to forward the Reports, and to communicate, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, full particulars of the successful operations in which the Malwa Field Force, and the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent under Command of Major Orr, were engaged on the 21st, 22nd, 23rd, and 24th instant, against the Rebel Enemy in the vicinity of Mundisore.

2. On the morning of the 21st November, this Force, accompanied by the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, which, as I have already reported, is co-operating with me under Command of Major Orr, arrived within three miles and a half of Mundisore about 9 A. M., and as I had no good information as to the roads or the country in the immediate vicinity of the town, neither as to the fords of the river Sowna, which it was necessary to cross before reaching the town, I determined upon encamping until a good reconnoissance had been effected. The Rebel Enemy at Mundisore, hearing of our approach, had posted Picquets entirely covering the country over which we were advancing, and observing our Picquets thrown out, they mustered in some force outside the walls of the town, and appeared inclined to attack. I, however, contented myself with reinforcing the Picquets, and leaving the whole charge of the front to Major Robertson, 25th Regiment N. I. The Field Officer of the Day returned to Camp about 3 o'clock P. M. I received intimation from him that the Enemy were advancing in force, and threatening both our flanks and centre at same time. I accordingly moved out to meet them. They advanced steadily, with banners flying, and appeared in great numbers. On approaching our right front, however, they were most gallantly charged by Lieutenant Dew, H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, who, with some of his Men, occupied that ground as a Picquet. Captain Orr, Commanding 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, supported Lieutenant Dew, and the Enemy were driven back with great loss; and before our guns, which had quickly moved up, could open upon them, the attack on our centre was repulsed by a few rounds of our Artillery, whilst that on the left was successfully met by the Field Force under Major Orr. The Enemy, having been thus driven, back at all points, were pursued for some distance—in fact until they nearly reached the walls of the town; and nothing further occurred that day.

3. Having received intelligence from the Governor General's Agent that the portion of the Rebel Army before Neemuch, amounting to about five thousand, would probably raise the Siege of that place, and endeavour to effect a junction with their Head Quarters at Mundisore, I determined to frustrate this, by intercepting them. Accordingly, early on the morning of the 22nd instant, I moved forward my Force in order of battle. Our advance was unopposed, and on my left flank reaching the village of Kuljepore, I made a flank movement to the left, as previously determined on, leaving the Advanced Guard to cover it, and to reinforce the Rear Guard, as we

4. Feeling assured that the Infantry seen in Peeplia formed the advance Guard of the branch of the river Sowna. I then halted my Column, and collected all my baggage on the reverse flank, then moving on to my proposed Camp on the Neemuch and Mundisore road, ready to oppose the Enemy either from one or the other direction. On coming on to the ground, the strong mound, I strongly reinforced my Rear Guard and proceeded to meet them. After a short advance, I formed line to my front, facing northwards, and found the Enemy occupying a very strong position, with their right in and beyond the village of Goraria, their right centre covered by a date nulla and lines of date-trees, their battery of six guns on rising ground, with a large mud hut protecting their gunners, and their left stretched along the ridge running east from the village. My line advanced, covered by skirmishers; the Enemy's Infantry, with banners flying (many of them green), moved down to meet us through the intermediate fields of high jowarree, and their guns opened fire. I immediately halted my line, and replied to the fire with Captains Hungerford and Woolcombe's Batteries, at a range of about 900 yards. After a few rounds, I again advanced the line, and permitted Captain Hungerford to move his half Battery to a position on our right front, from which he could enfilade the Enemy. After an advance of about three hundred yards, our line was again halted, and firing resumed, that from both Batteries being very effective. A most gallant charge was then made on the Enemy's guns by the escort of Her Majesty 14th Light Dragoons attached to Captain Hungerford, under Lieutenant Martin, who found, however, that the position was still very strongly held by the Enemy's Infantry, and was compelled to retire, he himself being very severely wounded. Captain Hungerford's half Battery was again advanced to within one hundred yards, and, after a round or two of grape, the guns were at once again charged and captured, the Enemy flying in great numbers into the village to their right. The 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, under Captain S. Orr, left, it swept down upon them in their retreat, and killed great numbers. Our line then changed front about the eighth of a circle, right thrown forward, and moved steadily on the village, which evidently held great numbers of the Enemy; their skirmishers disputed our advance, but were soon driven back. Having halted within about 300 yards of the village, our Artillery opened upon it with shot and shell, after which I directed the Infantry to advance and carry it. The men of the 86th and 25th Regiments dashed forward in the most gallant manner, and, having entered the village, commenced to drive all before them. They soon met, however, with very warm opposition, the Enemy having taken possession in great force of many houses, from which a most harassing fire was kept up on our men. Under these circumstances, and as, moreover, I could get no satisfactory accounts of what was passing in my rear, which I knew, from the firing I heard, as also from the pressing applications I had received for reinforcements, had been warmly engaged, I recalled the Infantry, and posted strong Picquets all round the village, and moved the remainder of the men a short distance off, to where the baggage had been passed up from the rear. I then learnt that during the afternoon, when we were hotly engaged in the front, a strong body of the Enemy from Mundisore attacked our rear, and endeavoured to carry off the siege train, baggage, &c.; they were, however, most gallantly repulsed on every occasion. In one of these attacks I regret to say that Lieutenant Redmayne, H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, was killed, whilst most bravely leading his men against the Enemy. Notwithstanding the many attempts made by the Enemy to press upon and harass our rear, it gives me great satisfaction to be able to state that not a particle of baggage was lost, nor a follower injured. On this occasion Lieutenant Leith, Commanding a Squadron 14th Light Dragoons, appears to have done good service; as also Lieutenant Fenwick, 25th Regiment N. 1., in charge of the baggage. Gunner Maitland, of the Bengal Artillery; and Gunner Thomson, of the Bombay Artillery, also distinguished themselves, by assisting to work the heavy guns most effectively.

5. On the 24th instant, I arranged with Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery, that the village of Goraria, in which the Rebels had taken refuge, should be well shelled and

6. By the successful operations of the Malwa Field Force and Field Force Hyderabad Contingent in the vicinity of Mundisore, the Neemuch Garrison has been relieved from the Assault with which it was threatened; the insurgent Rebels have been dispersed from their stronghold, in which for months past they have been daily collecting all those disaffected to our rule, and peace and order will now, it is to be hoped, be re-established in these Districts.

7. I must now, in conclusion, place on record my grateful acknowledgments to Colonel Durand, Officiating Agent to the Governor General for Central India, for his cordial assistance to me on all occasions. He was present in the Field throughout the operations, and gave me the benefit of his advice, which proved of great service to me. Major Orr, Commanding Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, most ably co-operated with me on all occasions; and to him, and all under his Command, I am very much indebted. To Major Boileau, Field Engineer, and his Assistants, Lieutenants Prendergast (severely wounded) and Gordon; to Captain Mayne, Intelligence Department; to Captain Coley, Major of Brigade; to Lieutenant Macdonald, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster General; to Lieutenant Thain, Sub-Assistant Commissary General; and to Surgeon Mackenzie, Staff Surgeon, my warmest thanks are due: the assistance rendered me by these Officers left me nothing to wish for. A perusal of the report made by Captain Gall, Commanding Left Wing H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, will convey to His Excellency the Commander in Chief some idea of the good service performed by all ranks under his Command. I most fully concur in Captain Gall's report, and beg to commend to the consideration of His Excellency all the Officers and Men mentioned by him. Of Captain Gall himself, I must in justice add, that a more able, zealous, and hard-working Officer I have never met with, nor one more worthy of distinction. Of Captain Orr, 3rd Regt. Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, and the Officers and Men under his Command, I have already had reason to send the most favorable report to the Resident at Hyderabad. On this last occasion nothing could surpass the bravery shown by all ranks of this Regiment. Captain Orr himself is, I consider, a first-rate Cavalry Officer; his daring courage is admired by all, and in every affair in which he is engaged, his personal combats are most prominent features. To Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery, Malwa Field Force; and to Captain Woolcombe, Commanding No. 4 Light Field Battery, and the Officers and Men under their Command, my best thanks are due. I do not think Artillery practice could have been better; and there can be but little doubt that the successful issue of operations is much to be attributed to their assistance. Of the conduct of Captain Brown, and the Officers and Men of the B. Company, Madras Sappers and Miners, I have much pleasure in speaking in the highest terms; whether as Sappers or as Infantry, they have distinguished themselves on every occasion. They have undergone an incredible amount of hard labour during our late march with a siege train over a country without roads; nor must I omit to mention that they accompanied the storming parties into the village of Goraria, and proved of the greatest service. My best thanks are also due to Major Keane, and the Officers and Men of the Detachment H. M.'s 86th Regiment; the gallantry of all ranks was most conspicuous, and, on both occasions that the village was assaulted, the coolness and daring of the Officers and Men, at whose head Major Keane placed himself, elicited the praise of all. My Despatch from Dhar will have made His Excellency the Commander in Chief aware of the very high opinion I held of Major Robertson, and the Officers and Men of the 25th Regiment N. I. During the late operations, nothing could have been finer than the behaviour of all in this Regiment. Major Robertson distinguished himself on the 21st instant as Field Officer of the Day in the disposition of the Piquets, which duty I entirely confided to him, and by the skilful manner in which he met the attack made upon him in force on the afternoon of that day. During the succeeding days, Major Robertson rendered me the greatest assistance; the manner in which he led his Regiment on two occasions to storm the village of Goraria is beyond praise, and I consider that the admirable conduct of the 25th Regiment N. I. fully attests the worth of this Officer, who will, I hope, meet with some mark of distinction. In the praise conveyed to Captain Little, 25th Regiment N. I., by his Commanding Officer, I quite concur; and trust that His Excellency may be able to grant some mark of favor to this deserving Officer. In the two attacks on the village of Goraria, I could see no difference between the conduct of the men of the 25th Regiment N. I. and their comrades of H. M.'s 86th Regiment; the same daring and gallantry characterised both. Their list of casualties will show how warmly they were engaged; and I trust His Excellency will recognise the merits of this Regiment. Before closing this Despatch, I beg to report on the admirable conduct of Assistant Surgeon Butler, 4th Company 2d Battalion Artillery, who, during the engagement on the 23d instant, though suffering severely from sickness, left his doolèy, and was engaged in the most active manner during the whole day in assisting to administer comfort to the wounded. The conduct of this Officer has been brought to my notice by the Staff Surgeon of the Force, and will, I trust, meet with some reward.

I have the honour to be, &c.

No. 49 of 1858.—With reference to Government General Order, No. 1625, of the 22nd December 1857, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying Letter, No. 44, dated 28th December 1857, from Brigadier Inglis, late Commanding the Lucknow Garrison.

His Lordship in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the services of Captain Wilson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Birch, Aide-de-Camp, and Captain Barwell, Fort Adjutant.

No. 44.

FROM BRIGADIER J. INGLIS, Late Comdg. Lucknow Garrison,

TO THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA, Military Department.

Cawnpore, 28th December. 1857.

SIR,—IN my Report to Major-General Sir James Outram G. C. B., of the operations which took place in the Garrison of Lucknow after the 25th of September until the 23rd of November last, when we were finally relieved by the Force under the personal Command of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, I unfortunately omitted the names of Captain Willson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Birch, A. D. C., and Captain Barwell, Fort Adjutant.

I have consequently observed with much regret that these Officers have not received notice in the General Order by the Governor General in Council under date the 22nd Instant.

I have, in my former Report, endeavoured to do justice to the merits of these Officers, and as they have continued to render me valuable service, I feel assured that they would have been prominently brought to the notice of the Governor General by Sir James Outram, G. C. B., but for my inadvertence, which I trust it is not too late to have corrected.

My anxiety that no time should be lost in rendering justice to the Officers above alluded to will I trust, be deemed sufficient excuse for my having addressed you direct.

I have, &c.,

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, Late Comdg. Lucknow Garrison.

No. 54 of 1858.—Errata.—Brigadier J. Inglis, late Commanding Lucknow Garrison, having brought to notice that the names of Captain H. Forbes, of the 1st Light Cavalry, and Lieutenant A. S. Thain, of the 13th Native Infantry, were inadvertently omitted in the 12th Paragraph of the Brigadier's Despatch, dated 12th November 1857, published in the Extraordinary Gazette of the 23rd December 1857,* the Right Honorable the Governor General G. G. O. No. 1625 of 1857. in Council desires to rectify that omission, and that those Officers' names be added to that paragraph,—Captain Forbes' name after that of Major Apthorp, and Lieutenant Thain's after that of Lieutenant Cook. Order Books to be corrected accordingly.

No. 55 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by the Troops under Colonel Roweroft, on a body of marauding Rebels in the neighbourhood of his Camp, on the 26th of December last.

To Colonel Roweroft, to Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade, and to the Officers and Men under his Command; to the Detachment of Royal Marines under Lieutenant Pym, and that of the Bengal Police Battalion under Lieutenant Burlton, as well as to the Officers, Civil and Military, honorably mentioned by Colonel Roweroft, the Governor General in Council desires to offer his thanks for their services on this occasion.

The Governor General in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the good services rendered upon this occasion by the Nepaulese Troops acting under Colonel Roweroft's Command. To the Officers and Soldiers of that Force generally, but especially to Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, Commanding the Ramdull Regiment, to Captain Dercedass Opudiah, of the same Corps, and to Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bashnial, Commanding the Gorucknath Regiment, His Lordship in Council desires to tender the thanks of Government for the great zeal and gallantry which they have displayed.

No. 80.

FROM COLONEL H. ROWCROFT, Commanding Sarun Field Force,

TO COLONEL R. J. H. BIRCH, C. B., Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept., Calcutta.

Camp Mujhowlee, on the River Cota Gundah, 25 miles West of Sewan, 28th Dec. 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, that the Field Force under my Command received a re-inforcement of the Gorucknath Regiment of Goorkhas—500 strong—on the morning of the 25th December, sent on to join me by forced marches from Segowlee, by His Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor and Mr. Samuells the Commissioner. It was represented to me strongly that they were too fatigued, foot-sore and hungry to march again that day, and that they had been without sleep for two nights. I therefore postponed for the day, though reluctantly, my arrangements to move and attack the Rebels at Sohunpore—7 miles distant, and about midway between my entrenched Camp at Myrwa and

Mujhowlee. About 7½, on the morning of the 26th December, I marched from Camp with the Force noted in the margin,* leaving two Companies—100 men—of Goorkhas, and 50 Matchlock-men of the Hutwa Rajah's, for the protection of the Camp, and of these, half a Company and 20 Matchlock-men to watch and secure the narrow Causeway Bridge over the river Jurhace, less than half a mile in front of my Camp. It was reported to me that the Rebels were posted in the village of Sohunpore, and in two or three large topes (woods) close to it, on either side of the Mujhowlee road, with a tank with high banks close in front of the village on the north, in which most of the Sepoys, and three of their four guns were posted. On arriving within little more than a half a mile of the position of the Rebels, I formed line, and took ground to the right to turn their left flank and act more easily on the tank. During this movement, the Enemy pushed forward numerous Skirmishers into the topes and cultivation, and opened fire of Guns and Musketry on our line. Our Skirmishers, consisting of the Marines, part of the Naval Brigade and Seikhs, soon returned their fire, doing much execution among the Enemy, especially the Marines with the Minié Rifles. We also opened fire with our Guns and a few Shells well thrown in two or three directions, checked the Rebels for a time. I advanced the line a short distance, when the main body of the Enemy rapidly moved to their right, to join a Force previously in position, I strongly suspect, on our left, their aim apparently being to surround us with their numbers. I changed our front immediately to our left. During this time, a village on our left was steadily and gallantly held by Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment N. I.,

Royal Marines	.. 30

with the 50 Sikhs, and I sent two Companies of the Ramdull Regiment of Goorkhas to reinforce him in holding that post, and, if possible, to capture a Gun firing on our left. Lieutenant Burton reports that Soobadar Hinkumal Bushnia, 9th Company Ramdull Goorkhas, behaved very gallantly, constantly encouraging his men, and in riding at one of the Rebels who was attacking Lieutenant Burton, inflicting fortunately only a cut through his turban and helmet, the Soobadar was very severely wounded by a tulwar cut round the left hip, a Sikh then rushing up, cutting down, and killing the Rebel. After changing ground to the left, I advanced the line towards the Enemy, now and then allowing our Guns to throw a Shell or two. The Enemy made a show of advancing a short distance with about 50 Sowars in their front. After advancing the line a short distance, two or three Shells were beautifully pitched into the midst of this large body of Foot and Horsemen, at 900 or 1,000 yards distance, scattering them in all directions. I am sorry there was no opportunity to allow of the Goorkhas joining in a charge. The main body then moved rapidly to their left, as if to gain their old position in the topos and village. Our line was changed to the right. During the former advance and this movement, the Rebel Skirmishers were firing from heavy cover on us from our right and right rear. I ordered the Marines to skirmish and cover our right, and two Companies of the Gorucknath Regiment, who were placed in reserve, to cover our right rear. The line and Skirmishers advanced, firing a few rounds from our Guns into the topos, and in the direction of the tank. The Rebels seem to have had only a rear-guard at this time left at Sohunpore. The Skirmishers rapidly advanced into the topos, which we found quite clear of the Enemy. Three tents of Baboo Koer Singh's nephew, Hurkishen Singh, were here found all pitched, and a quantity of Grain, &c. I ordered the tents to be burnt at once. We then moved to the right to get on the Mujhowlee road, and continued our advance without delay to Mujhowlee, some six miles distant. Within about two miles of Mujhowlee we saw the rear of the Rebels entering the place, and on nearing it I ordered the Marines, and part of the Naval Brigade, and four Companies of the Gorucknath Regiment to push on rapidly after the Sikhs composing the advance guard, in the hopes of capturing their Guns crossing the deep ford of the Gunduk. I am happy to say one large iron six-pounder Gun and limber complete, full of Ammunition, was taken in the river. The Sikhs and some men of the Gorucknath Regiment, with Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bushnia, were among the first down at the river in capturing the Gun. The cultivation was so heavy, and we advanced on so quickly, it was difficult to ascertain the number of the Rebels killed. Two other tumbrils—one full of Ammunition, the other of Powder—and two or three carts were also taken. The Rebels, by all reports and appearances, were 1100 or 1200 Sepoys, and between 4000 and 5000 other armed men. The Naib Nazim Mushuruff Khan, was present in the action with his Force and also Alli Kurreem, Moulee of Patna, who was first reported to have been killed in the action, but now said to have got away the evening before. The Governor General will be pleased to learn that this one day's work has completely cleared the District of this horde of marauding Rebels, relieving the many villages of their plundering and oppression. The Rajah of Mujhowlee and the people gladly welcomed us, as did other people on the road. I had promised the Rajah I would soon relieve him. The Rajah states the Rebels made sure of surrounding and destroying us as we were so few, and of being able to get into Chupra and to plunder the District. The Rajah also states that with the Sepoys, Matchlock-men, Sword and Spear-men the Rebels were more than 6000 or 7000 strong. I do not think the Rebels had heard of the arrival of the second Goorkha Regiment on the 25th December. I learn from the Mujhowlee Rajah and other reports, that there must have been some 120 of the Rebels killed, by the number of bodies since seen in their positions in the Field. Besides many wounded, a few Rebels were killed at the ford and six in one boat. I am happy to say we have had few casualties. The Gun and Musket firing of the Rebels was too high, their Round Shot and Match-lock Balls mostly passing over our heads, the Round Shot killing a Doolce Bearer and a Villager in our rear. A Goorkha Private of the Gorucknath Regiment was wounded by a Musket Ball, and also one of the Magistrate's Sowars. It is a marvel none in the line were hit, for numbers of the Round Shot, &c., passed over or by us, tearing up the ground, and recochetting, but without hitting any one. The action commenced about 10 A. M., and by $\frac{1}{2}$ past 1 P. M., we had dispersed and driven the Rebels through the topos and village of Sohunpore, and followed them up and driven them out of Mujhowlee and over the river Gunduk by 4 P. M. The Troops had a hard day's work, and went through their fatigue most cheerfully. I was myself in the saddle for ten hours, or would have written to you earlier; but I wrote and reported our advance and successful attack and complete operation to Brigadier-General MacGregor, with Maharajah Jung Bahadoor, the same evening express to Bettiah. We bivouacked for the night near the river, having marched without tents or baggage, except two or three tents for the men of the Naval Brigade, and a few hackeries for the Ammunition, and to carry the Goorkhas and Sikhs in case of accidents during the action.

I marched again yesterday morning, 27th December, with a Detachment of the Naval Brigade, two Guns, and eight Companies of Goorkhas—400 men—and the Sikhs, crossed the River, and moved through Selimpore, and about two miles beyond, to the house of one Narain Dial Canongoe, formerly an Assistant Collector, who had been forward in marauding and giving aid to the Rebels. His house was blown up, burnt and destroyed. We also moved to another village, to the house of one Sungram Lall, the Nephew and Topmandar of the above and destroyed his house; but neither of the villages were injured. We returned to Camp at 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ P. M.

I need hardly say that the Troops behaved, as British Marines and Seamen ever do, most excellently and gallantly: Captain Sotheby, ever ready and present with the Guns, and to afford me every assistance in the Field. Captain Sotheby has paid great attention to the drill and training of the Naval Brigade for land service, and in quickly training the horses and ponies for the Guns—horses for the large 12-pounder Howitzer, and ponies for the three others, and the Seamen to ride and act as Gunners, and under Lieut. Turner, R. N., in charge of the Artillery, they have had constant drill and training, and are now ready and steady for Field Service, and were in the action of the 26th December.

Lieutenant Grant, R. N., in charge of the Naval Skirmishers, Lieutenant Turner, R. N., in charge of the Artillery, Lieutenant Radcliffe, R. N., in charge of the Naval Column, and all the Officers of the Naval Brigade, and those attached to the Goorkha Regiments, zealously exerted themselves and afforded me every assistance.

Lieutenant Pym, Commanding the Royal Marines, especially did good service with the Minié Rifles, and the orders I sent him were at once understood, and promptly acted on, while skirmishing.

Captains Weston, 36th Regt. N. I., and Brooks, 1st Regt. Light Cavalry, respectively in Military charge of the Ramdull and Gorucknath Goorkha Regiments, afforded me every aid in the management of those Regiments, and Lieutenant Burton, 40th Regt. N. I., in charge of the Sikhs; and were ever ready for any duty and service ordered.

Captain Morgan, 22nd Regt. N. I., Field Force Staff, the Hon'ble Mr. Montague, R. N., my Acting A. D. C., and Mr. Lynch, Deputy Magistrate of Sewan, as also Mr. Nicholson, who acted as my A. D. C., afforded me every assistance in the Field, and during the entire day.

Mr. Nicholson's son, Mr. Kenneth Nicholson, to whom I gave the charge of the Rear Guard Company, Baggage and Camp-Followers, rendered me very useful service.

Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, Commanding Ramdull Regiment, Captain Dercedass Opudiah, Ramdull Regiment, Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bushnia, Commanding Gorucknath Regiment, and all the Officers of the two Goorkha Regiments, were anxious and ready to render good service, and the men of both Regiments were steady and willing in the Field, and kept well to the front with the European Force.

I respectfully beg to recommend Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M.'s Steam Frigate Pearl, and all the Civil, Military and Naval Officers, to the favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

I have reports that the Rebels left their Gun which played on our left behind them in some well or jungle at Sohunpore, and also the two Guns they are said to have crossed over the river somewhere hidden beyond Selimpore. The Rebels will feel the want of their Guns and Ordnance Stores at Goruckpore, as they are said to be in want of Ammunition.

On the evening of the 26th, I despatched a messenger to Myrwa to move on the Camp and Baggage, which was carefully brought on to this place at 4 P. M. yesterday, under Lieutenant Hamilton, 8th Regiment N. I., doing duty with the Naval Brigade.

I have ordered a Bridge of Boats to be got ready to cross the river to-morrow, to facilitate the movement over of the numerous hackeries, the only carriage we have, to be ready to move and act according to reports brought in, and probable orders from Brigadier General MacGregor to co-operate with the Maharajah's Nepalese Army.

A few Sepoys and Rebels were brought in prisoners during yesterday. They will be duly and speedily disposed of. Proclamations have been sent out to the Villagers to capture all Rebels, and offering rewards.

I have, &c,

H. ROWCROFT, Colonel, Comdg. Sarun Field Force.

Head Qrs. Camp, Goorsahaigunge, The 1st January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, copy of a letter dated 28th Ultimo, from Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, C. B., Commanding Moveable Column, and of the reply thereto, dated 30th Idem, from the Chief of the Staff.

I have, &c.

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

FROM LIEUT.-COL. T. SEATON, Commanding Moveable Column,
TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Mynpoorie, 28th December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief that I reached this place yesterday, and found Raja Tej Sing's Force posted outside the Cantonments. I attacked him at once, routed them, took 6 Guns, and killed about 250 of his rabble. I took possession of the town at once, which I found nearly deserted. I had only two men wounded.

Since I left Delhi, this little Force of 1,959 men has captured 22 Guns and killed 1,400 Insurgents. I shall remain here until the 31st, and on that morning, march for Bhowgong, to cover the march of the Convoy, and be on the main road ready to communicate with His Excellency's Camp. I have sent six letters to your address; but have not as yet received any reply. I shall await His Excellency's orders, and be prepared to move in with the Convoy the moment I hear of His Excellency's approach. The Guns I captured at Gungee and Puttialce, I sent into Allygurh. Nine of them are of our own manufacture. Of the Guns captured yesterday, one is a fine new pattern 8-inch Howitzer, and was the fitting Gun of the carriage manufactory at Futehgurh. Rajah Tej Sing fled to Bhowgong yesterday with only 16 Horsemen.

I have, &c.

T. SEATON, Lieut.-Col., Commanding Moveable Column.

Dated Camp Merun-hu-Sarai, The 30th December 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to convey the direction of the Commander-in-Chief, that you will proceed with your Force to Bewur, and halt there until you receive a further order.

2. His Excellency offers you his hearty congratulations on the brilliant successes which have attended your march.

I am very sorry to hear that none of my Despatches have come to hand which have been sent to you repeatedly in duplicate.

3. His Excellency marches to-morrow to Goorsahai Gunge, and it is possible that he may proceed even nearer to the Kaleo Nuddee.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 27TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 31 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, THE 15TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 70 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report from Major General Penny, C. B. Commanding Delhi Field Force, dated 24th November 1857, with its Enclosures, relative to the Action fought at Narnool on the 16th of that month. His Lordship in Council concurs in the commendations given by His Excellency the Commander in Chief to the Troops on this occasion.

No. 45 A.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters Camp, Merun ka Serai, The 29th December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor, by direction of the Commander in Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, Copy of a Report from Major General N. Penny, C. B., Commanding the Delhi Field Force, dated 24th November last, with its Enclosures, relative to the Action fought at Narnool on the 16th Idem.

His Excellency considers that the Troops behaved very well in this Action, but more especially the Detachment of the Carabineers, under Captain Wardlaw, and the Guide Cavalry, under Lieutenant Kennedy, which were highly distinguished.

I have, &c.

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

No. 1663.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL N. PENNY, C. B., Commanding Delhi Field Force.
TO MAJOR GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff.

Delhi, 24th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, Captain Caulfield's Report, with its Enclosures, of the Action fought by the Moveable Column, to the Command of which he succeeded on the death of Lieutenant Colonel Gerrard, with the Joudpore Legion, and other Insurgents at Narnool, on the 16th Instant.

I have, &c.,

N. PENNY, Major General, Commanding Delhi Field Force.

FROM CAPTAIN J. P. CAULFIELD, Commanding Moveable Column,
TO CAPTAIN STEWART, Deputy Asst. Adj. General, Meerut Division.

Camp, near Narnool, 18th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Major General Penny, C. B., Commanding Meerut Division, that the Moveable Column, under Command of the late Lieutenant Colonel Gerrard, marched from Kanonde, at 1 A. M., on the morning of the 16th Instant. Owing to the slow progress made by the heavy Guns, the Column did not reach this place till 11 A. M. About two miles before arriving here, we passed a small village on our right, and some of the Guide Cavalry, who were sent to reconnoitre, brought back with them the Jemadar of the village, who informed us that the Enemy, numbering 1000 Infantry and 2500 Cavalry, with eight Guns, of which, however, only five were mounted, were encamped to the left of the village of Narnool on the other side of a Nullah, and that they intended to come out to meet us.

The Jemadar came with us willingly to point out their position, and brought us to the edge of a very large plain with hills on either side, and at the opposite end slightly wooded.

Here we halted until the heavy Guns came up, when Colonel Gerrard formed up the Column. The Carabineers and Guides on the right, then the 7th Punjaub Infantry, Horse Artillery, 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, Heavy Guns, 23rd Punjaub Infantry, Puttiala Infantry, Sikh Horse Artillery, and the Cavalry, under Captain Stafford. In this order we advanced, the Infantry in quarter distance column, at deploying distance, Colonel Gerrard leading in front of the left flank of the 1st Fusiliers, and very soon perceived the Enemy advancing to meet us.

After going about 400 yards, the Enemy opened fire from three Guns with round shot, grape and shrapnel.

The order was then given to deploy into line at the double, and for the Guns on both flanks to advance, while the heavy Guns opened fire at once. After about five minutes, the Enemy's fire having slackened a little, the Carabineers and Guides were ordered to charge by Captain Wardlaw, while the whole line advanced rapidly. The charge was most brilliantly executed under Command of Captain Wardlaw, of the Carabineers; the Enemy's Cavalry met them without flinching, and engaged them hand to hand. They swept along the whole front and through the Guns, and returned to their former position. The Enemy's Guns opened again with grape on the advancing line; but the 1st Fusiliers, who were immediately in front of them, now charged them in the most gallant and spirited manner, and captured two of them; the other was taken by the Mooltani Horse more to the left. The line again formed and advanced, the Enemy disputing every foot of ground with determination, and inclining to the right, the left flank crossing a deep and broad Nullah, and clearing some thick brush jungle, came in view of the village of Narnool on our right, and the Enemy's Camp across the Nullah, on some rising ground in front.

Colonel Gerrard himself brought up the Horse Artillery to bear upon the Camp and ordered the line to advance. At that moment he was mortally wounded, and the Command of the Force now fell upon me as next Senior Officer present.

I was then leading the 1st Fusiliers across the Nullah, and we charged the Enemy's Camp, followed by the Punjaub Infantry, and captured two more Guns, which were keeping up a heavy and destructive fire.

I was afterwards obliged to withdraw the Fusiliers to support the Guns, which I now opened on the village.

The Enemy returned in force, and re-possessed themselves of the Guns and Camp, and again opened fire. I immediately sent two Companies of the 1st Fusiliers, and two Companies of the Punjaub Infantry, and a party of the Carabineers and Guides to retake them. They succeeded in taking one; but the Enemy withdrew the other to a large pukka Serai, where they now took refuge.

I ordered the Guide Infantry, under Lieutenant Ward, to advance gradually upon them, occupying the tops of the intermediate houses, with the heavy Guns in their rear. The light Guns I ordered round to the left of the Serai, where there was a single door, the other one opening into the street being a strong double one. By the time the Guns had got round and opened fire, the Guides had taken possession of a high house commanding the Serai, and compelled the Enemy to evacuate it. This being reported to me I ordered the Guns to cease firing, and the Fusiliers and 7th Punjaub Infantry advanced into the Serai, taking the Gun at the door, and killing the few of the Enemy that remained inside.

The ground we had advanced over during the day, was between two and three miles, and it was now late, so I ordered the Fusiliers and Punjaub Infantry and Guide Infantry to occupy the Serai during the night, while Captain Stafford, with his Force, bivouacked on the Enemy's camping ground. Early the following morning I cleared the City with a party of the Fusiliers, and found it nearly deserted. The three dismounted Guns we found in their Camp, and I have ordered one—an old worthless one—to be destroyed. The Enemy having fled in different directions, I was unable to follow them up.

I should estimate the loss of the Enemy at 350 killed and wounded. 300 bodies were counted on the Field. I have the honor to enclose a Return of Casualties in the Force under my Command, for the information of the Major-General.

My reason for not moving the Guns earlier to the left was, that a large body of men appeared on our right, and I was not certain whether they were friends or enemies; they proved to be friends. I did not send the Cavalry in pursuit owing to the lateness of the hour, and the men having been in their saddles since 1 A. M.

I sent a party, under Captain Wardlaw, the next morning, as soon as I could procure information as to the probable route taken by the Enemy. He followed them nearly as far as Kanta, but saw no signs of them.

I omitted to mention that, previous to taking the Gun on the left, Lieutenant Lind, with the Mooltani Horse, charged the Enemy's Cavalry on that flank, and cut up about thirty of them.

I have the honor to enclose the Report of Captain Stafford, Commanding Detachment together with a Return of his killed and wounded; also the Reports of Captain Wardlaw, Commanding Cavalry on the right, and Lieutenant Lind, Commanding Mooltani Horse.

My thanks are due to all ranks for the gallantry displayed, especially to Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments; but I would bring to the particular notice of the Major-General the names of Captain Wardlaw, of the Carabineers, and Lieutenant Cookworthy, Commanding 1st Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery. Too much praise cannot be given to these Officers, and I trust the Major-General will bring their names to the favorable notice of His Excellency.

* Not received.

Commander-in-Chief. Captain Stafford, Commanding Detachment Hurrianah Field Force; Lieutenant Lind, Commanding Mooltani Horse; Lieutenant Humphreys, Engineers. This Officer charged a party of the Enemy's Cavalry, and when wounded and unhorsed, fought his way out on foot. Lieutenant Money, Acting Adjutant, 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, when going to his assistance, had his horse shot under him. This Officer was of great use to Colonel Gerrard as his Detachment Staff. Great credit is due to Lieutenant Ward, 5th Native Infantry, doing duty with Guide Infantry, for the manner in which he took his men into the City. I was also much pleased with Lieutenant Godby, Commanding 7th Punjaub Infantry. Lieutenant Wallace, 1st Fusiliers, was wounded while acting as my Orderly Officer. Lieutenant Hogg, of the Commissariat, and Captain Osborn, 54th Native Infantry, were of great use to Colonel Gerrard and myself as Orderly Officers.

I would also beg the Major-General to bring to the notice of the Chief Commissioner the invaluable services of Mr. Ford, Collector of Goorgaon. His exertions in obtaining information and supplies, have been most indefatigable.

Captain Stafford makes favorable mention of Lieutenant Warner, 1st Fusiliers, and Lieutenants Pearce, Hamilton, Hunt and Walcott, Assistant Surgeon Minas, and Sergeant-Major Jackson.

Captain Wardlaw speaks most highly of the gallantry of the Carabineers and Guides, and of the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Hudson, Commanding Squadron of Carabineers, and Lieutenant Kennedy, Commanding Guides; also of Captain Sandford and Lieutenant Craigie, Guide Cavalry.

Lieutenant Lind, in his Report, speaks most favorably of Lieutenant Caulfield, 9th Cavalry, and Russell, 46th Native Infantry, doing duty with Mooltani Horse.

My very best thanks are also due to Dr. Brougham, 1st Fusiliers, for his attention to the wounded in the Field Hospital.

SIR,—For the information of Captain J. P. Caulfield, Commanding Moveable Column, I have the honor to report the part which the Force under my immediate Command took in the engagement of the 16th Instant at Narnool, with the Joudhpore Legion and other Rebels.

When we had passed the village of Nusseerpore, about $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile from the Enemy's position, the Force, in obedience to Lieutenant-Colonel Gerrard's orders, advanced at deploying distance,—23rd Punjaub Infantry on the right, Guns in the centre, and the Puttiala Infantry on the left, the Cavalry being on the extreme left.

The force was soon directed to deploy, and the advance was ordered. After two of the Enemy's Guns were taken, the advance still continued in the same order, until we came to the dry bed of a river. Lieutenant G. G. Pearce, Commanding Cavalry of the Hurrianah Force, was, I much regret to say, here wounded (in two places), and the Command devolved upon Lieutenant R. A. Hamilton. The Guns being unable to cross the Nullah, they diverged to the right, and took up a position near the Horse Artillery Guns, whilst the 23rd Punjaub Infantry and Puttiala Infantry, in company with the first Fusiliers, crossed and advanced towards the Enemy's Camp, which was soon taken, two Guns falling into our possession. By order of Captain Caulfield, the Infantry under my Command returned to where our Guns were in position. Some time after this, and when the Rebels had returned to their Camp, and commenced firing round shot at us with one of the Guns which had been previously taken, I was directed to re-occupy the Camp with two Companies of the 1st Fusiliers, and two Companies of the 23rd Punjaub Infantry, some Cavalry, with which Lieutenant Hamilton was, having been despatched to the left to follow up the Mutineers when routed. The Camp was attacked in flank, and the Gun, which had been annoying us, was gallantly charged and taken by the 1st Fusiliers, led by Lieutenant Warner. The two Guns were ordered to be removed, and the Infantry was directed to remain in the Enemy's Camp. I now returned to where the remainder of my Force was, and shortly afterwards the Serai was taken possession of.

My very best thanks are due to all; but more especially to Lieutenants Pearce and Hamilton, Commanding Cavalry; Lieutenant Hunt, Commanding 23rd Punjaub Infantry; and Lieutenant Walcott, Commanding Artillery, whose Gunners, lately embodied, behaved remarkably well. My thanks are also due to Sub-Assistant Surgeon P. A. Minas, in Medical charge, for his attention to the wounded.

Lieutenant Hunt makes favorable mention of Lieutenant Chatterton, Officiating Adjutant 23rd Punjaub Infantry; and Lieutenant Hamilton brings to notice the gallant conduct of Rissaldars Abdoolla Khan, Esakhyl Horse, Alum Khan, Tuwanah Horse, and Shere Mahomed Khan, Punjaub Mounted Police, and Jemadar Hatim Allie Beg, also of the Mounted Police. Rissaldar Alum Khan's conduct deserves special commendation, for when the Enemy returned to their Camp, he took up a position near a Temple and retained it until a reinforcement was brought up, when I saw him there myself. It was here that the Tuwanahs lost many horses. Lieutenant Walcott reports as follows on the conduct of Sergeant-Major J. H. Jackson, and

I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to it:—"I much wish to call your attention to the assistance rendered me by Serjeant-Major J. H. Jackson throughout the day—assistance peculiarly valuable in consequence of my being myself an Infantry Officer."

I beg to enclose a Return of killed and wounded.

I have, &c.,

W. J. STAFFORD, Captain, Comdg. Hurrianah Field Force.

No. 39.

FROM LIEUTENANT J. B. LIND, Commanding Mooltani Cavalry,
TO CAPTAIN CAULFIELD, Commanding Field Force.

Camp, Narnool, 18th November 1857.

SIR,—THE late lamented Colonel Gerrard, when forming his line of attack, directed the Mooltani Cavalry, under my Command, to form up on the left of the line. There not being room to do this at first, I was ordered to go round the hill on our left and cross it as soon as possible. I soon found this was impossible, and returned with all speed and got into my position. When the Enemy limbered up their Guns to retire, I ordered a charge, and captured the two 9-pounder Guns with their limbers. Immediately afterwards the Mooltanis were engaged in a smart affair with the Enemy's Cavalry, in which many of the Rebels were cut down and finally driven off. Our line being again re-formed, I kept my position on the left flank, and came up through a wood in rear of the entrenched position held by the Rebels. Afterwards, being directed to proceed back to our Guns, I was about to do so, but thought I had better bring off one of the Guns captured in the entrenched position beforementioned. Accompanied by Lieutenants Caulfield, Russell and Hamilton, and a few Sowars, we tried to get the Gun off, and whilst doing so were attacked by the Rebels (Cavalry and Infantry) in such force as made the abandoning of the Gun a matter of necessity. Ressaldar Wellydad Khan was here severely wounded and several Sowars also. The Mooltani Cavalry formed a part of the attacking party to retake it. We held the entrenched position during the night with the 23d Punjaub Infantry, Hurrianah Guns, and Lieutenant Hamilton's (Tuwanah) Cavalry.

I have every reason to be proud of having such Officers as Lieutenants Caulfield and Russell under my Command; their gallantry was most conspicuous in the charge in which the Guns were taken, and they rendered me every assistance during the day.

Ressaldar Attah Mahomed Khan behaved with his usual bravery, and was in the thickest of the fight.

Sowar Mitty Khan of the Gundapoor Troop of Mooltanis, also behaved very well. The whole Ressalah indeed showed well in all our hand to hand engagements with the Enemy, and were led by their Khans in them.

I have, &c.,

J. B. LIND, Lieutenant, Commanding Mooltani Cavalry.

TO CAPTAIN CAULFIELD, Commanding Moveable Column.

Camp, Narnool, 18th November 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that on the morning of the Action of the 16th Instant, I received instructions from Colonel Gerrard to Command the right, consisting of the Carabineers and Guides. Shortly after forcing the line, the Enemy's Guns re-opened fire on the extreme right, and several of the Carabineers were wounded. Our Horse Artillery advanced and returned the fire, and after a few rounds I received the order to advance. We did so, and perceiving the Enemy's Cavalry showing a disposition to charge, we accordingly charged, broke and dispersed them, cutting up a large number; but were charged by others on the left flank. They fought in the most determined manner, but found their pluck of little avail against the swords of the Guides or Carabineers; about 50 were killed. The Guides wheeled to their left and charged the Guns on the flank, and the Carabineers, wheeling to the left about, charged through the Guns in rear, and several Gunners were killed, and the majority fled amongst the trees. I regret to say the Carabineers and Guides suffered rather severely in this charge. The gallantry displayed by both Corps was most conspicuous, and the conduct of the Guides was most distinguished. Their Commanding Officer, Captain Kennedy, to whom I am much indebted for assistance during the day, was wounded; but did not leave the Field though his left hand was disabled. I can only say that no European Corps could have charged with greater spirit or more effect than did the Guides on this occasion.

The Detachments under my Command had received orders to protect the right flank, whilst the attack on the Serai and Camp was going on; but the Enemy's Cavalry showing in various points on our rear and flanks, gave us a good deal of annoyance, and immediately we approached they fled. Subsequently, at the request of the Commanding Officer of the Fusiliers, I moved to the left a portion of the Carabineers to support their attack on the Camp, after their taking which, I sent Lieutenant Vyse with a Division in pursuit of the Enemy with the Irregulars under Captain Hamilton. Several of the Enemy were cut up.

Owing to a large Force appearing on our right, which afterwards proved to be the Jeypore Troops, I was unable to move the greater part of my Force to the left when the Enemy were hle number of the Enemy were cut up.

I have much pleasure in reporting the gallant way in which Lieutenant Hudson managed the Squadron of Carabineers under his Command. Captain Kennedy, whose conduct I have noticed above, in Command of the Guides, was worthy of the highest praise. Two other Officer of the Guides were severely wounded—Captain Sandford and Lieutenant Craigie—while gallantly leading on their men. I trust you will have the goodness to represent to the Major-General Commanding the conduct of the men under my Command. I forgot to mention that I receive great assistance from Captain Anderson, of the 54th Native Infantry, Interpreter to the Carabineers, who came through the charge, and secured a tumbril, with three or four Carabineers.

I have, &c.,

Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE,

2D FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 30TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 37 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, THE 19TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 106 of 1858.—In continuation of Government General Order, No. 55 of the 12th January 1858, the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council directs the publication of the following letter from Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, No. 101, dated 11th Instant:—

No. 101.

FROM COLONEL F. ROWCROFT, Commanding Sarun Field Force,

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department, Calcutta.

Camp, Roodu-pore, 28 miles S. S. of Goruckpore, the 11th January 1858.

SIR,—In continuation of the letter to your address, dated 28th Ultimo, No. 80, I have the honor to forward the names of three men of the Naval Brigade slightly wounded in the action with the Rebels at Sohanpore on the 26th December who had been omitted to be reported to me before through an oversight.

William Mears, Private, Royal Marines, contusion of right hand by a spent musket ball.

Charles Chaffer, Private, Royal Marines, contusion of left hand by a splinter caused by a round shot.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) F ROWCROFT, Colonel, Commanding Sarun Field Force.

Fort William, 21st January 1858.

No. 111 of 1858.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 1383 of the 5th November 1857, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following letters* from Major General Sir A. Wilson, K. C. B., lately in Command of the Delhi Field Force, bringing to notice the services of certain Officers which were not referred to in his previous Despatch, and to whom His Lordship in Council offers his warm acknowledgments of their excellent service:—

No. 812.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL A. WILSON, Comdt. of Arty. and late Comdg. Delhi Field Force,

TO THE ASST. ADJT. GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters.

Head Quarters of Artillery, Meerut, 21st December 1857.

SIR,—As an Addenda to my Despatch of the 22nd September last, I have the honor to request you will submit to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, for the purpose of being forwarded to Government, the name of Brevet Colonel J. Welshman, of the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, among the names of those Officers who have done good service with the Force before Delhi, but were wounded previous to the assault. Colonel Welshman commanded his Regiment from the commencement of operations, and led his men with cool and steady gallantry on several occasions, particularly in the action of Budlee Serai on the 8th; again, on the 20th and on the 23rd June, when he was severely wounded, when leading on his Regiment in the attack on the Zubzee Munde.

His name was unintentionally, and through an oversight, omitted in my former Despatch.

2. I beg also to forward a copy of a Report from Captain Muter, H. M.'s 60th Royal Rifles, who succeeded to the Command of the 4th Column of Attack, bringing to notice the services of a Detachment of Mooltanee Horse under the Command of Lieutenant Lind on the morning of the 14th September.

3. Major F. Gaitskell, Commanding the Artillery Brigade with the Field Force, has also requested that the name of Lieutenant G. A. Renny, Commanding the 5th Troop 1st Brigade H. A., may be inserted immediately after that of Captain Blunt in the 8th paragraph of his Despatch No. 20 of the 19th September, the services of this Officer entitling him to this recognition, which was accidentally omitted.

I have, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major Genl., Comdt. of Arty. and late Comdg. Deli Field Force.

* No. 812 dated 21st December 1857; No. 8 dated 5th January 1858; No. — dated 5th January 1858.

TO THE ASST. ADJUTANT GENERAL, Delhi Field Force, Delhi.

Palace, Delhi, 11th December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to enclose a Report from Lieutenant Lind, detailing the operations of a Force of 300 Sabres of the Mooltanee Horse under his Command, in conjunction with Major Reid's Column of Attack on Kishengunge, on the 14th September last.

I trust it is not too late to bring to the notice of Major General Wilson, then Commanding the Field Force, and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the services of this Officer and his party.

The position in which the Column of Attack was placed was very critical, and had I been aware that this Cavalry was on our right flank, I would have felt much greater confidence. Lieutenant Lind's movements appear to me to have been very judicious, and I would not have failed to have brought this to the notice of the General in Command, had I been earlier acquainted with the circumstances.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) D. D. MUTER, Capt., H. M.'s 1st Battn. 60th Royal Rifles.

TO CAPTAIN MUTER, H. M.'s 60TH RIFLES.

Camp Gohana, Rohtuk District, 8th December 1857.

Sir,—Having omitted at the time to send in a Report after the fight at Kishengunge on the 14th September last, I would request the favor of your forwarding this letter to the Adjutant General of the Army, in order that, if possible, the Mooltanee Cavalry may appear in the Gazette as engaged. At 3 A. M. of the 14th September, Brigadier General Nicholson directed me to proceed to Hindoo Rao's with 300 Sabres of the Mooltanee Cavalry, and to place myself under Major Reid's orders. Major Reid ordered me to go to the Zubzee Mundee and await further orders there. In the Zubzee Mundee I found 2 Horse Artillery Guns and Regiment of Cashmeerees. These latter were soon engaged, and left my front open, when I proceeded along the road towards the Kishengunge. I found no ground for Cavalry to act on, and lost a few men and horses killed and wounded. An alarm was now raised, that the Enemy had got into our rear, so I returned up the Zubzee Mundee and drove out some Sepoys who had got into the street and were preparing to take possession of the houses. I was then returning to my former position, when the Guide Cavalry (who had mistaken my men from their white dresses to be the Enemy) were sent to charge me. By the advice of the Officer Commanding the Guides, and seeing that the 2 Horse Artillery Guns before mentioned had limbered up and were returning up the Zubzee Mundee, I withdrew my Cavalry into the plain, between the Mound and the Zubzee Mundee Picquet, where I got ground to act on and could prevent the Enemy's Cavalry from coming down on our rear, should they have attempted it. Whilst here, Colonel Denniss, H. M.'s 52d Light Infantry, sent me an order to retire on the "Fukeer's Tukea," and to remain as a support to 4 Horse Artillery Guns at that post, which I obeyed, and was employed on that duty till the Guns were withdrawn on the 20th September.

2. I annex a Return of my loss in killed and wounded.

I have, &c.,

No. 8.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL A. WILSON, Comdt. of Arty. and late Comdg., Delhi Field Force.

TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters Camp.

Head Quarters of Artillery, Meerut, 5th January 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to forward for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief copy of a letter No 27, dated 3rd October last, from Major F. Gaitskell, Commanding the Artillery Brigade with the Delhi Field Force, transmitting a Despatch of the 1st idem from Major J. Brind, bringing to notice the services performed by the Foot Artillery under his Command, during the operations against the City of Delhi.

2. These letters reached me too late, I regret to say, to accompany my Despatches detailing the assault and capture of that place, and have subsequently been delayed owing to my having been absent on Medical Certificate. They bear, however, such honorable testimony to the admirable services of Major J. Brind and those under his Command, that I trust His Excellency will be pleased to forward them to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, with the Expression of my hope that they may be published in continuation of my previous Despatches.

I have, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major General, Comdt. of Arty. and late Comdg. Delhi Field Force.

No. 27.

TO THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL, Delhi,

Delhi 3d October 1857.

Sir,—I have great pleasure in forwarding for submission to the Major General Commanding the Regiment the accompanying excellent Report received by me from Major J. Brind, Commanding the Foot Artillery of this Force, bringing to notice the services of that branch from the time he took Command (26th June 1857) until the more active operations of the Siege commenced, embracing a period of 2½ months, during which the Foot Artillery were in constant employment and undergoing the severest daily exposure.

2. The services of the Officers and men under his Command are so well and strongly brought to notice by Major Brind, that I can only record my entire concurrence in his Report. No Officers or Artillery, or in a manner more likely to add fresh lustre to the Regiment,

3. But in thus doing only justice to such gallant Soldiers, I should consider I was neglecting a most important and a most agreeable duty, were I to abstain from bringing prominently to the notice of the Major General Commanding the Regiment the valuable and distinguished services of Major Brind himself whilst in Command of the Foot Artillery. From first to last, his energy and activity have been unceasing, ever foremost where danger was greatest, encouraging both Officers and men by his noble example, and whilst leading on those under him to every success in the Field, he, at the same time, never ceased to care for their wants and necessities in Camp.

The manner in which Major Brind exercised, without one hour's intermission, his Command of No. 1 Siege Battery, during the last eight days of the Siege, have already been brought to the notice of the Major General Commanding the Force, and I trust this last distinguished period of his Command (previous to the assault) will only tend the more surely to gain for Major Brind those honors which he so richly merits.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) F. GAITSKELL, Major, Commanding Artillery Brigade.

TO LIEUTENANT FRITH, H. A., Major of Brigade, Artillery Brigade.

Delhi, 1st October 1857.

Sir,—On the close of active operations connected with the Siege of Delhi, I feel it a duty I owe to Officers and men belonging to or doing duty with the Foot Artillery which I have Commanded since the 26th June, to bring their conduct to the notice of Major General A. Wilson, Commandant of Artillery and holding the chief Command of this victorious Army.

It would be superfluous in me to attempt any detailed Report of the unceasing labors, exposure to sun and wet, and dangers from the constant presence of an active and treacherous Enemy, to which the Foot Artillery was unavoidably exposed during the three months I have had the privilege of commanding it. As the Commanding Officer is fully aware of the peculiar circumstances under which this branch of the Army, especially, has been placed, gathered from various Stations and sent down in small detachments (with little more than the clothes on their backs) by Bullock Train, the Foot Artillery were called upon by the exigencies of the service to endure hardships beyond others. No Soldiers could have gone through the trials and dangers their country's cause imposed upon them in a more cheerful spirit, or with braver hearts, than did the Bengal Artillery attached to the Army of Delhi during this eventful period; and without disparagement to the mounted portion of the Regiment, of whose noble conduct, as passing under my observation during eight days and nights of constant danger and laborious exertion in No. 1 Breaching Battery, it has been my proud honor to report, I consider it an imperative duty to thus publicly express my admiration of Officers and men who have made my post one of honor and comparative ease.

If I have performed my duty to the satisfaction of Major General Wilson, it is mainly owing to the favorable position in which I have been placed and the health and strength with which I have been blessed.

Major Scott and Captain Bouchier's Batteries, though forming a portion of my Command, have not come so directly under my observation, owing to the detached nature of their duties; but I have much gratification in attesting to the satisfactory state of discipline and efficiency of the two Batteries, which justified me in feeling and placing the fullest confidence in these two Officers, and merely requesting that they would promptly carry out any orders received from the authorities, referring to me only when my support or assistance was required. Major Scott and his Command, by gallant services in the Field of Battle, had established a reputation previous to my arrival at Delhi, which, though fully appreciating and rejoicing in it, is not my province to allude to in this Report. Since leaving Delhi with the moveable column, Captain Bouchier and the Officers and men connected with him, have had an opportunity of proving themselves worthy members of the Bengal Artillery.

I take this opportunity of remarking that the sluggish and generally unsatisfactory way in which the Sikh Artillery, belonging more especially to the 2d and 3d Companies, performed their duties previous to the 7th of September, has been more than blotted out by the zeal and bravery evinced by this branch of our Regiment during the Siege. Some, and amongst them are Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officers, are, from various defects, unfit for the service, and as Sir John Lawrence recommended the step, I would suggest that these men be returned to their homes via Lahore and the distinguished promoted in their stead. This would leave us two effective Companies.

In expressing the high satisfaction I experienced in observing the zealous performance of duty on the part of the Foot Artillery with the Army of Delhi, I consider it incumbent on me to bring to special notice of Major General Wilson the Officers and men of H. M.'s 9th Lancers, who were employed in the Batteries as Artillery men under my command and observation. Lieutenants Evans and Blair are deserving of honorable mention for the zealous and cheerful performance of their duties. The coolness and bravery of Officers and men in situations of extreme danger, whilst engaged in a novel duty, called forth the admiration of all who witnessed, and especially of those who had the satisfaction of serving with them.

Lieutenant Boileau, of H. M.'s 61st Foot, also distinguished himself most honorably, previously to his gallant services in No. 1 Breaching Battery, as did a most deserving and brave young Officer, Lieutenant Ward, of the late 5th Regiment N. I., during and previous to the assault.

The following are the Artillery Officers doing duty under my Command, whose zeal, ability, and coolness in situations of great danger, called forth my especial approbation and thanks:—

Lieutenant A. H. Heath,

" J. Fulton,

" Sir W. Hamilton,

" E. L. Earle,

" R. T. Hare,

" R. DeL. St. George,

" H. Chichester,

" D. S. Pemberton, and

Lieutenant Simon Budd, Riding Master, 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, whose long and faithful services are on record at Regimental Head-Quarters, and Lieutenant T. E. Dickins, who was killed in action whilst serving his Gun in a most effective and gallant way.

It is now my melancholy task to notice most prominently one of our bravest and brightest ornaments, who has run his course, Captain Robert Fagan, the able and gallant Officer who fell mortally wounded on the 12th ultimo, after winning the honest admiration of all. Lieutenant Hildebrand, killed in the Battery I had the honor to Command, as shown in my Report of the services of No. 1 Breeching Battery, was a zealous and gallant Officer.

I have, &c.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL A. WILSON, Late Commanding Delhi Field Force,
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters Camp.

Meerut, 5th January 1858.

Sir,—Through an oversight which I much regret, the name of Surgeon J. C. Brown, in Medical charge of the 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery, was omitted in my Despatch dated 22nd September last, as one of those Officers of the Medical branch entitled to particular mention for the zeal and ability with which they discharged their important duties during the operations before Delhi.

2. In justice to this deserving Officer, I trust His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will be pleased to forward to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General my request that his name may be inserted immediately after that of Superintending Surgeon C. McKinnon, M. D., in the Despatch adverted to.

No. 114 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier W. Campbell, Commanding at Allahabad, on a large body of rebels within a few miles of the Station on the 5th instant. His Lordship in Council concurs in the approbation expressed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of the conduct of Brigadier Campbell and the Officers and men under his Command on the occasion:—

No. 17 A.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,

TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters, Camp, Futtehghurh, the 13th January 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to transmit copy of a Report dated the 8th instant, from Brigadier W. Campbell, Commanding at Allahabad of a successful attack made by him, on the 5th instant on insurgents who had collected within a few miles of the Station; and in submitting it to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, I am to request you will have the goodness to express His Excellency's entire satisfaction with the manner in which the affair was conducted throughout, and with the behaviour of the Troops engaged.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

FROM BRIGADIER W. CAMPBELL, Commanding at Allahabad.
TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Fort William, 8th January 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to report for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that having received intelligence from Mr. Mayne, the Magistrate at Kunnooniagunge, of a large body of rebels having assembled at Munseata, about 12 miles from this on the other side of the Ganges towards Secundra, and knowing that the Lieutenant-Governor wished them to be dispersed, I proceeded from this at 2 A. M. on the morning of the 5th January, in Command of the Force named in the margin.

I arrived at Munseata at day-light, and there found the rebels, about 700 strong, in position on a hill, with three Guns on the opposite side of a ravine. They immediately opened fire without effect. I ordered a Company of the Rifle Brigade under Command of Captain Lindsay, and two Companies of the 79th Highlanders under Lieutenant-Colonel Taylor, to advance in skirmishing order, the former on the Enemy's left and the latter on their right. This was done with precision and great quickness. The Guns were ordered in action, but in consequence of the slowness of the bullocks and the celerity with which the Enemy retreated as soon as the Infantry commenced their firing, Colonel Gordon, R. A., was only able to fire one round.

The Skirmishers advanced in pursuit, Lieutenant Colonel Douglas following in support with the Guns and main body of the 79th. A good many of the Enemy were shot, and the Force passed through Munseata in the above order to Syrepor, about three miles, where many had posted themselves in a strong-built large house and in other buildings of the village. I regret I failed in taking the Enemy's Guns, which must have been hid by them, as no one saw them carried off at Syrepor. At Syrepor I ordered the Guns to come into action. A few rounds drove the rebels out of the village, and several of them were shot by the Rifles and 79th, who I had sent round each flank of the town, in order to cut off their retreat.

The village was then searched. A Jhissah Thakoor and two Bramins were found and hanged, one being a pensioned Sepoy of the 71st Native Infantry. Many matchlocks and tulwars were found. At the request of Mr. Mayne, the Magistrate, the village was destroyed.

Immediately after this, Captain Matheson's Troop of Irregular Cavalry joined my force at the suggestion of Mr. Mayne, who knows the country and showed great zeal and gallantry during the whole of the day. I ordered this Troop to leave Hoonnumangunge, in order to endeavour to cut off the retreat of the rebels. This was exceedingly well executed. The Troop attacked the rebels with great gallantry and destroyed 40 or 50 of them. I collected the Troops in a grove of trees and halted to refresh them at 10 A. M.

At 10-30 A. M., Major Anderson, R. H. A., joined our Column, with the wounded detachments of his Troop, which was on the march from Benares to Allahabad. I, after consulting Colonel Wood, C. B., had sent an order to Major A., when I left the Fort, to obtain a guide at Hoonnumangunge and join me at Munseata and act as Cavalry.

At 11 A. M. firing was heard in our rear, and it was reported that the Naib Nizam, with 2,000 men, was coming to attack us. I waited a short time under the trees, then re-formed Royal Horse Artillery on the left, 79th in the centre, Guns on the right, and Rifles in the rear, as I then intended to send the last-named to destroy Paphamow, a small rebel village.

On leaving the wood, I found the Enemy, I think about 1,200 strong, within a mile and a half. I ordered the 79th out to skirmish and Colonel Gordon to come into action as soon as he could. At the same time I ordered the Royal Horse Artillery to cut off the retreat of the Enemy to our left. This was done with great quickness and effectually, about 150 being killed and many of the others driven back on the Infantry and Guns, where many were killed, the 79th and Rifles making some capital shots at long distance.

At this time Mr. Mayne reported he had seen the Nizam. I ordered Major Anderson, R. H. A. with half of his Troop, to follow him a short distance. He did not overtake him, but killed 100 more of the Enemy, some, I am told, men of consequence in the rebel force. Colonel Wood took Command of the remainder and prevented the rebels in the neighbouring villages, which were burnt from retreating to our left.

At Munseata I halted the Force for a short time, and then marched to Allahabad, arriving at 7-30 P. M. All reported present, with the exception of a few men, who came up with the guard that was left in our rear to bring up some carts that arrived at 9 P. M., when all were present.

The Enemy's loss cannot be calculated at less than 400. I have since heard that about that number were seen making their way to Secundra wounded.

I am thankful to say that our loss was only one man of Benares Horse killed and six wounded; the Royal Horse Artillery, two horses killed and five wounded; the Benares Horse, nine horses wounded.

I am much obliged to Lieutenant Colonel Wood, C. B., R. H. A., for his assistance during the day, and also to Lieutenant-Colonel MacDonald, Rifle Brigade, who volunteered his service to accompany the Force, and I beg further to state that I was much satisfied with the manner in which Lieutenant-Colonel Douglas, 79th Commanded the Infantry, Lieutenant Colonel Taylor the Companies with which he was detached, Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon the Foot Artillery, Major Anderson Detachments of his Troop R. H. A., Captain Lindsay the Rifles, and Captain Matheson the Benares Horse. This, I am told, is a newly-raised Corps, and the service they rendered on the 5th and their workman-like appearance, I beg respectfully to say, did them great credit. I sent them home before the Nizam's advance, as they had several wounded men and horses, and did not expect their services would be required.

Brigade Major Campbell and Captain Maxwell, Officiating Deputy Quarter Master General, were with the Force and performed their duties to my entire satisfaction, and Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon reports that Captain Thurburne afforded him great assistance during the day. I am much obliged to Captain Frazer, 7th Hussars, who kindly acted as my A. D. C. and carried orders correctly and very quickly.

In conclusion I beg to state that I am very much indebted to Mr. Court and Mr. Mayne, Magistrates. The former accompanied me during the day and the latter attached himself to the Cavalry, where he did good service with his sword, and was most useful to the Commanding Officers.

I beg to add that all the Officers and men did a long day's work zealously and cheerfully.

I have the honor to forward a list of casualties.*

POSTSCRIPT.—I have the honor to add for the information of His Excellency, that since the above was written, Mr. Mayne has sent me one of the Enemy's Guns found by his men at Munseata concealed in the ground, and he also reports to me that the Enemy calculated their loss at 500 killed and 300 wounded.

PANMURE.

Pensions and Allowances to Officers of the Land Forces limited to Wounds and Injuries received in Action.

1. If an Officer shall receive a Wound in Action, which shall occasion the loss of an eye, or a limb; or shall lose thereby the total use of a limb; or shall receive bodily injury equal in its consequences to the loss of a limb, he may be eligible to receive a Gratuity in money of one year's full pay of the Regimental rank or Staff appointment held by him at the time he was wounded for the loss of such eye, or limb.

2. If an Officer shall be wounded in Action, and it shall be reported by a Board of Army Medical Officers, assembled by order of the Secretary of State for War for the personal examination of such Officer, that he has, in consequence of his wound, lost a limb, or an eye; or has totally lost the use of a limb; or that he has sustained a severe injury, in Action, equal to the loss of a limb, he may be recommended to Her Majesty for a Pension, at the rate fixed in the annexed Scale for the rank held by him when he was wounded, and commencing one year after the Wound was received; the continuance of which shall depend upon the subsequent examinations and reports of a Military Medical Board, which the Secretary of State for War may appoint at any time for this purpose.

3. If the Officer shall have lost more than one limb, or eye, he may be recommended for a Pension for each limb, or for each eye, so lost in Action.

4. If the Wound received by an Officer in Action shall be so severe in its permanent effects as to be nearly equal, but not equal, to the loss of a limb, and the injury shall be reported by the Military Medical Board as materially interfering with the capability of following his profession, or gaining his livelihood; he may be recommended to Her Majesty for a temporary Pension for two years, the continuance of which

Whereas it has been found expedient to revise the Regulations under which Pensions and Allowances are granted on account of Wounds received in Action by Officers of Our Land Forces; Our Will and Pleasure is, that from and after the date hereof this Our Royal Warrant, to be administered and interpreted by Our Secretary of State for War, shall be the sole and standing authority upon the matters herein contained, and shall take effect from the 28th March 1854.

Given at our Court at Saint James's this Thirteenth day of June 1857, in the Twentieth year of Our Reign.

By Her Majesty's Command,
PANMURE.

Pensions and Allowances to Officers of the Land Forces limited to Wounds and Injuries received in Action.

1. If an Officer shall receive a Wound in Action, which shall occasion the loss of an eye, or a limb; or shall lose thereby the total use of a limb; or shall receive bodily injury equal in its consequences to the loss of a limb, he may be eligible to receive a Gratuity in money of one year's full pay of the Regimental rank or Staff appointment held by him at the time he was wounded for the loss of such eye, or limb.

2. If an Officer shall be wounded in Action, and it shall be reported by a Board of Army Medical Officers, assembled by order of the Secretary of State for War for the personal examination of such Officer, that he has, in consequence of his wound, lost a limb, or an eye; or has totally lost the use of a limb; or that he has sustained a severe injury, in Action, equal to the loss of a limb, he may be recommended to Her Majesty for a Pension, at the rate fixed in the annexed Scale for the rank held by him when he was wounded, and commencing one year after the Wound was received; the continuance of which shall depend upon the subsequent examinations and reports of a Military Medical Board, which the Secretary of State for War may appoint at any time for this purpose.

3. If the Officer shall have lost more than one limb, or eye, he may be recommended for a Pension for each limb, or for each eye, so lost in Action.

4. If the Wound received by an Officer in Action shall be so severe in its permanent effects as to be nearly equal, but not equal, to the loss of a limb, and the injury shall be reported by the Military Medical Board as materially interfering with the capability of following his profession, or gaining his livelihood; he may be recommended to Her Majesty for a temporary Pension for two years, the continuance of which shall depend upon subsequent examinations before a Military Medical Board; or, he may be recommended for a Gratuity of eighteen months' full pay of his Regimental Rank or Staff appointment held by him when wounded; in which case no Pension shall be granted to him under this Regulation; unless he refund six of the eighteen months' Gratuity which may have been awarded to him.

5. If any Wound received in Action shall be certified to be severe and dangerous, but in its permanent effects not equal to the loss of a limb, the Officer receiving such Wound may, in consideration of the expense attending the cure thereof, receive a Gratuity varying, according to the nature of the case, from three to twelve months' full pay of the Regimental Rank or Staff appointment held by him at the time he was wounded.

6. If an Officer shall have held a Pension for a Wound received in Action for a term of five years, and shall have been examined, twice at the least, before a Board of Army Medical Officers, he may be recommended for the permanent continuance of such Pension; but if the Officer, before the expiration of the term of five years, shall have so far recovered, that his Wound or Injury is not equal to the loss of a limb, then he shall cease to receive such Pension, and shall have a Gratuity of full-pay according to the degree of his injury, as laid down in Article 5.

7. If within the period of five years after a Wound has been received, an Officer shall not apply for the Pension, or, on his so applying for it, the Wound shall not have been proved to be permanently equal to the loss of a limb, such Officer's claim to a Pension shall not at any subsequent period be entertained.

8. No Gratuity or Allowance for any Wound shall be granted after the lapse of five years from the time the wound was received.

9. No Pension for the loss of one eye, from a Wound received in Action, shall be granted, unless the actual loss of vision shall have occurred within five years after the Wound was received, and be solely attributable to such Wound.

10. As a general rule, the Pension shall be granted according to Regimental rank; but in cases in which Officers with Brevet Rank shall have been employed at the time they were wounded, in discharge of duties superior to those attached to their Regimental Commissions, the Gratuities and Pensions shall be given according to the Rank they held by Brevet.

11. These Pensions may be held together with any other Pay and Allowances to which an Officer may be entitled, without any deduction on account thereof.

No. 56 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, the 23d January 1858.

No. 134 of 1858.—The following Notification, from the Financial Department, is published in General Orders:—

No. 4, dated 22d January 1858.—Notification.—Read again the following papers:—

Extract Public Works Department, No. 1443, dated 27th March 1857, with its enclosure.

Read an Office Memo. No. 6196, dated the 30th ultimo, from the Public Works Department, with its enclosure, relative to the salary to be passed to an Uncovenanted Servant, from the date of his return from Furlough up to the date of joining his appointment.

Resolution.—On the 21st August 1856, Mr. T. Login, Executive Officer, Bassein River, obtained, under Section VII.,* Clause 3, of the Uncovenanted Service Absentee Rules, leave of absence to Europe for a period of six months. He was subsequently allowed by the Hon'ble Court, as a special case, nine months' leave of absence without pay, in addition to the six months already taken, thereby extending to fifteen months the whole period of his authorized absence from India; and which period, the Honorable Court directed, was to be regarded as if authorized under Section VIII.† of the above Rules.

Mr. Login having returned from England on the 31st October last, the Officiating Chief Engineer, Lower Provinces, solicits orders regarding the salary to be passed to him from that date up to the 28th November last, the date of his arrival at Purneah, the Head Quarters of the Division (Darjeeling Road), to which he is now attached.

The Officiating Secretary in the Public Works Department suggests the expediency of laying down general Rules (if such Rules do not already exist) to meet the cases of Uncovenanted Officers who, like Mr. Login, may not join appointments immediately on return from Furlough.

Referring to this suggestion, His Lordship in Council remarks that leave may be granted to Uncovenanted Servants preparatory to Furlough on private affairs, or for return to Station after the expiration of Furlough, only on the terms of Section VIII.‡ of the Uncovenanted Civil Service Absentee Rules, for the period specified in the Financial Notification of 14th October 1857, viz. four, six, or eight weeks, according as the distance to be travelled shall not exceed 300 or 600 miles, without forfeiture of appointment, but without pay; the period of absence not counting as service towards pension.

If the Furlough, however, be enjoyed in India, no preparatory leave is to be granted; the Furlough being reckoned from the date of the absentee's quitting his post to the date of his return thereto.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be sent to the Public Works Department, with a request that Mr. Login's case be treated under the Rule above laid down.

Foreign, Home, and Military Departments, Straits Settlements, Chief Commissioner, N. W. P., sent to the Departments, the Governments, and the Officers noted in the margin, for information and guidance.

Ordered further, that a copy be published in the Official Gazette for general information.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

16TH FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 15TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 58 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 29TH JANUARY 1858.

* No. 181 of 1858.—A question having been raised by Major-General Sir A. Wilson, Bart., K. C. B., on behalf of the Troops comprising the Field Force engaged in the operations before Delhi, whether it was the intention of the Governor General in Council that the functions of the Prize Agents appointed by him should cease upon the issuing of the General Order, No. 1499 of 1857: it is hereby notified, for general information, that the abovementioned General Order affects only public property belonging to the State, and property belonging to private individuals, who should establish their claim to restitution by clearly identifying the property as their own, and in the case of Natives, by proving to the satisfaction of the Committee appointed under the provisions of the aforesaid General Order, that they have not been guilty of any offence for which they would be liable to the forfeiture of their property, and that they have, to the best of their ability, rendered active assistance to the British Government. The Order was not intended to affect property belonging to Rebels or Mutineers, or property belonging to individuals who either should neglect to claim it or who having claimed it should fail to make out their title to restitution in the manner prescribed. Such property will remain under the control of the Prize Agents, until the orders of Her Most Gracious Majesty respecting it shall be made known.

The Government has not the power to give up to the Army the property of private individuals of undoubted loyalty, which may have been captured. But the Governor General in Council avails himself of this opportunity to correct a misapprehension which exists that the donation of six months' Batta (ordered to be forthwith distributed) to the Troops engaged in the operations against Delhi, was intended to be in lieu of all other claims; and His Lordship in Council informs the Army, that he has expressed to the Hon'ble Court of Directors the opinion of the Government of India, that all moveable property of the description ordinarily distributable as Prize, belonging, or which may reasonably be presumed to belong, to Rebels or Mutineers, and which has been or shall be captured by the Troops engaged in suppressing the Rebellion, may be fairly treated as Prize, and that he has recommended the Hon'ble Court to adopt the necessary measures for obtaining Her Majesty's sanction to the distribution of such property accordingly.

No. 182 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., reporting the repulse of a large body of the Enemy, who made an unsuccessful attack on his position on the 12th Instant.

His Lordship in Council expresses his entire satisfaction with the manner in which Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., has conducted this affair, and with the behaviour of the Troops engaged on the occasion.

No. 30 A.

FROM THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters Camp, Fettehgarh, The 19th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, Copy of a

* Dated 12th January 1858. Despatch* from Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., reporting the repulse of a large body of the Enemy, who made an unsuccessful attack on his position on the 12th Instant.

2. Sir James Outram's dispositions appear to have been made with such forethought as enabled him to inflict considerable loss on the Rebels without unnecessarily exposing his own Troops.

I have, &c.,

D. M. STEWART, Captain, Asst. Adj. General of the Army.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL J. OUTRAM, Commanding in Oude,

TO GENERAL W. R. MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff of the Army in the East Indies.

Camp, Alum Bagh, 12th January 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to inform His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that the Rebels of Lucknow attacked my position this morning, and were repulsed with considerable loss.

In consequence of reports that Mansoob Allie was collecting men and receiving re-inforcements from Lucknow, to intercept my communications, I sent a stronger escort than usual with my Convoy, now on its way from Cawnpore, consisting of 450 Infantry, 4 Guns and 80 Cavalry.

The Rebels were encouraged by this reduction of my Force to meditate an attack, of which I received information, for several days, and yesterday evening more definite accounts led me to expect them at sunrise this morning. I therefore made such dispositions of my Force and Outposts as were necessary, and the Troops breakfasted at daybreak, and were all in readiness.

About sunrise this morning, large masses of the Enemy were seen on my left front, and they gradually spread round the whole front and flanks of the position, extending from opposite to our left rear outpost to near Jellalabad on our right—a distance of at least six miles, and amounting at the lowest estimation to 30,000 men.

As soon as their movements were decidedly in advance, the Brigades,—the Right mustering 713 and the Left 733 Europeans and 100 men of the Regiment of Ferozepore,—were formed in front of their lines.

The Enemy first advanced upon my left front and flank, covered by a large body of Skirmishers, on which I detached two Regiments of the Left Brigade to support the out-posts, and extended in skirmishing order on their flanks, whilst the third Regiment was held in reserve; at the same time Major Olpherts, with four Horse Battery Guns, supported by a Detachment of the Military Train, was directed to check the Enemy on my left rear, where their Cavalry showed in the greatest strength. The Volunteer and Native Cavalry were drawn up to protect the rear of the Camp, which at this time appeared to be threatened.

The Right Brigade remained on its ground.

As soon as the Enemy were fairly within range they were exposed to a severe fire of Artillery from Alum Bagh, and from the advanced Batteries of my outposts on the left front and centre, and fled with the utmost precipitation, without having come within musket range, except at the left centre outpost, Commanded by Captain Down, 1st Madras Fusiliers, where a considerable number entered a grove of trees usually occupied by our outlying picquets, from which they were driven in a few minutes by the Skirmishers of the outpost.

On the left rear Major Olpherts moved out his Guns at a gallop, and advancing well to his front completely drove off and dispersed a very large body of Infantry and Cavalry which was endeavouring to penetrate to our rear, turning them back towards the City, and doing much execution by the fire of his Guns on their masses at 500 yards.

At this time I received a report that Alum Bagh and my right advanced outpost of Jellalabad were threatened, and on proceeding to the right I found that the Enemy had brought three Horse Artillery Guns, supported by an immense mass of Infantry, against the picquet which connects my right with Jellalabad, and which had been strengthened to 100 men with two Guns. I moved the Regiment of Ferozepore and the 5th Fusiliers with two Guns of Moir's Bullock Battery from the Right Brigade to the front, taking the Enemy in flank and driving them back. They were then exposed to the fire of Maude's Guns from Alum Bagh, which played upon them with great effect.

About this time the Enemy again advanced on the left front and flank, their Cavalry on this occasion being more to the front than before. A party of the latter galloped up to the Rifle-pits in front of the left advanced outpost; but Alexander's and Clarke's Guns opened on them and drove them back in confusion.

About the same time the Enemy on the right, again advancing from the heavy cover of groves and villages into which they had retreated, re-opened their Guns on the Jellalabad picquet; but were finally silenced and driven off by the fire of Moir's two Guns which had been sent to the picquet to reinforce it, and replace the two Guns originally there, which had been withdrawn to Jellalabad.

Simultaneously with the attack above described the Enemy advanced upon Alum Bagh and established themselves in the nearest cover, notwithstanding that they were seen to suffer severely from the Artillery and Rifle fire. About noon they also advanced into the open ground, and were immediately dispersed and driven back by the fire of Maude's Guns and the Riflemen from Alum Bagh.

By 4 o'clock P. M. the whole of the Enemy had disappeared and retired to the City or to their original positions in the gardens and villages in our front.

Nothing could exceed the eagerness of the Troops to come in contact with the Rebels, nor their disappointment at their precipitate flight to the cover of their works the moment the Guns opened and our line of Skirmishers advanced.

The Artillery made excellent practice on the masses of the Enemy, and in reply to the fire from their Batteries, which was maintained on our outposts and Alum Bagh with little intermission.

The casualties amount to one Officer slightly, three Privates slightly, and two severely wounded.

I take this opportunity of sending a Return of Casualties during the last fortnight, including to-day's.

The steadiness of the Troops and the promptitude with which my orders were carried out by my Officers gives me every assurance that the Enemy's attack, if it had been as formidable as their forces were numerous, would have been as signally defeated.

I have, &c.,

J. OUTRAM, Major-General, Commanding in Oude.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

18TH FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 16TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 62 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 29TH JANUARY 1858.

No. 183 A of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following * Despatches detailing the operations of the Malwa and Hyderabad Contingent Field Forces in the vicinity of Mundesore from the 21st to the 24th of November 1857.

The Governor General in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments to Brigadier C. S. Stuart, Commanding Malwa Field Force, to Major W. A. Orr, Commanding Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, and to the several Officers named by them, as well as to the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men engaged, for the excellent service rendered by them.

TO CAPTAIN McDONALD, Dy. Asst. Qr. Mr. General, Malwa Field Force,

Camp near Mundesore, 25th November 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to forward for submission to the Brigadier Commanding Malwa Field Force a Report of the part taken by the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent under my Command during the operations near Mundesore, commencing from the 21st instant.

2. On the forenoon of that date, after making arrangements for the safety of my Camp, I directed a village, on the extreme left, to be occupied and held by a party of Cavalry and Infantry, as its possession appeared of importance. About 2 o'clock P. M. it was reported that the village was threatened. On reaching the spot, I found a strong body of the Enemy, horse and footmen, moving out into the open country, and advancing with much boldness. I directed reinforcements and Guns to be brought up at once, but before these could arrive, the Enemy had succeeded in forcing back the Picquet and occupying the village. On being joined by the Guns and Infantry, with the 1st and 4th Regiments of Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, the Artillery, assisted by two Guns of the Bombay (Captain Woollcombe's) Battery, under Command of Lieutenant Strutt, opened a very well-directed and effective fire, which cleared the village and forced back the Insurgents. It was again occupied by our Troops, the Enemy retiring slowly and in considerable force towards Mundesore. My orders being explicit on the subject of not forcing a general engagement, I contented myself with retaining possession of the village.

3. On the morning of the 22nd, the Force, by a flank movement, crossed the river and encamped on the West side of the Town of Mundesore. Whilst making a reconnoissance with Captain McDonald, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, two bodies of the Enemy were observed moving away. These consisted principally of horsemen. One got away too rapidly for pursuit, but the other was followed by the Troops as per margin, and after a hard gallop of some five or six miles, overtaken and severely punished, a great many being cut down by Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons and Contingent Cavalry. The pursuit was stayed by our finding a large body of the Enemy drawn up in our front, in a strong position, in a village, against which Cavalry could not act.

4. On the Enemy being observed in strength to the left of the village of Goraria, whilst the Column was en route on the morning of the 23rd, I received the directions of the Brigadier Commanding to deploy with my Force, to support the general attack, and to conform my movements to those of the Column. These directions were implicitly carried out; the Cavalry was held ready wherever it might be necessary to act; and to prevent any attempt on the left flank, a Detachment of two Companies of the 3rd Infantry Hyderabad Contingent, under Command of Captain

* For Brigadier Stuart's Despatch, vide Fort St. George Gazette Extraordinary, 23d January 1858, No. 26.

Sinclair, with two Guns of the 1st Company Artillery, was ordered to reinforce the Rear Guard: the remainder of the Infantry and two Guns of the 4th Company Artillery, under Captain J. deC. Sinclair, assisted by two Guns of Captain Woolcombe's Battery, under Command of Lieutenant Keating, Bombay Artillery, advanced in line with the Column, and aided in the general operations. The fire of the Guns was most effective and good, throwing shot and shell with much precision into the Enemy's Ranks. On the capture of the Guns, and the advance of the Cavalry on the right, I brought forward the Cavalry on the left flank also, which was completely cleared of flying parties of the Insurgents. Having received orders further to reinforce the Rear Guard by two more Guns, I considered I should be best carrying out the views of the Brigadier, and conducing to the success of the day's operations, if I moved down the whole Cavalry to the rear, which had been reported to be hard pressed. This was rapidly effected. I found the Enemy had advanced to a position about eight hundred yards distant from the Rear Guard, that they were in force, and that it was necessary they should be dislodged as soon as possible, their number and boldness increasing. I accordingly directed the line to move forward, and after a short advance, the Guns opened and drove back the Enemy, they answering our fire from matchlocks. After a second advance, I ordered the Cavalry as per margin to charge and clear the front. They rapidly advanced upon a large body of retreating footmen; but unfortunately, the nature of the ground being broken and full of large gravel pits, from which a close, and sharp matchlock fire was opened, prevented the attack being as effective as otherwise it would have been. A good many Insurgents, however, were cut up, and those in the pits were afterwards shot down on the Infantry coming up.

5. I deeply regret to have to report that, in this charge, fell Lieutenant Redmayne, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons; whilst gallantly leading on his men, he was mortally wounded. His gallantry and daring courage were conspicuous to all, and I trust I may be permitted to say that, in him, Her Majesty's Service has lost an Officer of high promise.

6. In the operations against the village of Goraria, on the 24th Instant, this Force also took part, and a Detachment of Infantry under Captain Sinclair, 3rd Regiment, joined the stormers and shared in the assault upon the village.

7. I beg to bring to the favorable notice of the Brigadier Commanding the Malwa Field Force the conduct of the entire Force under my Command. My best thanks are due to Lieutenant Hastings Fraser, 4th Cavalry, my Staff Officer, for his zealous exertions in the performance of the numerous duties which devolved upon him, as well as for his prompt and ready aid at all times; to Captain Abbott, Commanding 1st Cavalry; Captain Murray, Commanding 4th Cavalry; Captain Sinclair, Commanding Left Wing 3rd Infantry; Captain J. deC. Sinclair, Commanding Artillery, and Lieutenant Johnson, Adjutant 1st Cavalry: To Surgeon Orr, 4th Cavalry, and Senior Surgeon Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, my best acknowledgments are due for the assistance he afforded me in the Field during the entire operations, for his care and attention to the wounded, and the arrangements made by him for their comfort.

8. I beg to forward a Nominal Return* of the killed and wounded during the four days' operations.

I have the honor to be &c.,

Fort William, 29th January 1858.

No. 171 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication, in General Orders, of the following letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors to the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 85, dated 18th November 1857:—

Financial Department.

No. 85 of 1857.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

1. We have had under consideration the position in which the wives and families, resident in this Country, of our Military Officers, are placed by the cessation, consequent on the present disturbed state of certain parts of India, of the remittances which have hitherto been made for their subsistence, and we have determined, as a temporary measure, that in all cases in which the parents, wives, guardians of the children, or brothers or sisters of the Company's Military or Medical Officers, or Chaplains, may produce satisfactory evidence of their having been in the receipt of Family Remittances from India, whether through our Home Treasury, or by means of private Agency, and of the stoppage of those remittances having been caused by the recent outbreak in India, a sum not exceeding the amount hitherto remitted, or the maximum allowed to be remitted through our Treasury by an Officer of each grade, shall be advanced quarterly to the relatives of such Officers, or to the guardians of their children, commencing with the first quarter after the receipt of the last remittance; and we have extended the benefit of this arrangement to those Officers' wives and families who have recently returned, or may yet arrive from India, and who, from the cause above adverted to, have had no arrangements made for their subsistence in this Country.

2. As the sums so advanced by us will be recoverable from the pay of the several Officers, we shall apprise you from time to time of the advances made; and you will cause each Officer, whose family may have been admitted to the benefit of the arrangement, to be informed thereof, thus affording him the opportunity of requesting the discontinuance of the advances, should he think fit. In the event of the decrease of any of those Officers, the amount will be recoverable from the Pensions to which their families may be entitled from Lord Clive's Fund, or from any of the Indian Military Funds.

3. We forward in the Packet a statement of the advances made to the date of this Despatch.

We are, &c.,

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, BANGALORE, 12th February 1858.

At a Native General Court Martial held in Camp at Jubbulpore, on Thursday the 21st day of January 1858, Shekh Madar, Jemadar in the E. Company of the 33d Regiment of Native Infantry, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz.

First Charge.—For having in Camp at Jubbulpore, when on duty as Native Officer of the Quarter Guard of his Regiment in time of alarm been absent from his guard, when it was visited by the Acting Field Officer of the day at 5 o'clock post meridian on the 5th day of December 1857, and at 3 o'clock on the morning of the following day, and remaining absent during the greater part of the said night, without being regularly relieved or without leave.

Second Charge.—For conduct to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline in the following Instances.

First Instance.—For neglect of duty in having at the time and place mentioned in the 1st Charge failed to go visiting rounds.

Second Instance.—In having on the 6th day of December 1857, when undergoing examination before Lieutenant Colonel (Brevet Colonel) John Millar, his, the Prisoner's Commanding Officer, stated that he had "not quitted the Guard Tent except for a short time for the purpose of nature, and to go visiting rounds" he well knowing the above statement to be false.

Finding.—The Court on the evidence before it, is of opinion that the Prisoner Shekh Madar, Jemadar in the E. Company of the 33d Regiment of Native Infantry, is Guilty of the 1st Charge, but the Court finds that the times when the Acting Field Officer visited the Quarter Guard, when the Prisoner was absent, should be about half past 5 o'clock post meridian, on the 5th of December last year, and about half past three o'clock on the morning of the following day.

Guilty of the Second Charge in its First Instance.

Guilty of the Second Charge in its Second Instance.

Sentence.—The Court sentences the Prisoner Shekh Madar, Jemadar in the E. Company of the 33d Regiment of Native Infantry, to be dismissed the Service.

No. 66 of 1858.—The Governor in Council is pleased to notify the Rules laid down, and the duties prescribed, for the Inspector General of Hospitals at this Presidency.

2. He is to inspect the whole of the Hospitals, Military and Civil, Dispensaries, Depots of Medical Stores, the Presidency Medical Stores excepted, and Establishments connected with the Medical Department, throughout the Madras Presidency.

3. The object of his inspections is to ascertain that the duties of all ranks are thoroughly performed, that the regulations of the Medical Department are strictly carried out, that Stores are in sufficient quantity and of proper quality, and that, generally, every Department of the Medical Service in the Provinces is in a perfectly efficient state.

4. He is to issue no orders to Medical Officers or others, but to report fully upon every point to the Director General, to whom he will also submit whatever suggestions he may find it advisable to offer.

5. The periods of inspection will be arranged by the Director General,—sufficient time being allowed at each station to allow of the inspection being made thoroughly effective.

6. The whole of the Office records and correspondence of Superintending Surgeons and others is to come under his inspection,—and at the Presidency he is to be allowed access, on application to the Secretary to the Director General, to all such records as the Director General may consider likely to be useful to him in the prosecution of his duties.

7. The correspondence of the Inspector with the Director General is to be addressed to his Secretary.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

24TH FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 23D FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 68 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 9TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 226 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope on a large body of Rebels at Shumshabad, on the morning of the 27th January 1858.

2. To Brigadier Hope, as well as to the Officers and Men, His Honor in Council desires to offer his warm acknowledgments for the good services rendered on this occasion:—

FROM BRIGDR. A. HOPE, Lt.-Col., 93rd Highlanders, Commanding 3rd Brigade of Infantry,
TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Camp near Futtehgurh, 29th January 1858.

Detail of Troops.
2 Squadrons 9th Lancers.
200 Hodson's Horse.
1 Troop Bengal Horse Artillery.
Field Battery } (4 Guns.)
Bengal Artillery }
42nd Royal Highlanders.
53rd Regiment.
4th Punjab Rifles.

SIR,— I HAVE the honor to report that, in accordance with the Commander-in-Chief's orders, communicated by you, I marched from this Camp (leaving the tents standing) on the 26th Instant at 11 P. M., with the Troops noted in the margin, and halting for three hours short of the village of Kooshinabad, proceeded at day-light on the 27th towards Shumshabad.

A thick fog compelled us to move cautiously, and it was 9 o'clock before the Column closed up under cover of the village of Shumshabad.

The Rebels in considerable force had taken post about $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile beyond that place. They occupied a commanding knoll on the edge of the plateau overlooking the plain, which stretches towards the river some six miles distant. On the knoll was a brick building, the shrine of a Mussulman Saint, and the place was surrounded by the remains of an old entrenchment, upon which they had raised a sand-bag Battery. Their front was defended by a ravine (impassable for Cavalry or Guns) which runs at right angles across the road to Mhow, along which we moved, and to the right of which their position was.

As the head of our Column emerged from the village, the fog cleared off, and some Cavalry out-posts of the Enemy having been driven in, we moved over some broken ground towards their Camp, now distinctly visible. They immediately opened upon us a well-directed fire of round shot, by which Lieutenant McDowell of Hodson's Horse, a most active Officer, was mortally wounded.

Captain Remington then led his Troop of Horse Artillery at a gallop across the bridge where the road crosses the ravine, and, supported by Captain Hodson's Irregular Horse, wheeled to the right and opened fire on the flank of the Enemy's Camp.

The Rebel Sowars made a daring attempt to outflank and cut off these Guns, but were very boldly met by Captain Hodson, afterwards supported by the 9th Lancers under Captain Steele; and in the charge which ensued, were driven over the steep bank into the plain below.

Meanwhile, Captain Blunt brought his Guns into action in an excellent position on the right bank of the ravine, and the line of Infantry was formed on the right, consisting of the 4th Punjab Rifles under Captain Wylde, the 42nd Royal Highlanders under Lieutenant-Colonel Cameron being on the extreme right, the 53rd Regiment under Major English being in second line.

The Enemy were unable to withstand the admirable fire of our Guns, and I ordered the Infantry, who had been screened in a hollow of the ground, to advance; and soon after, seeing the Camp nearly abandoned, the 4th Punjab Rifles were directed to secure it, which they did in a very spirited manner, shooting down many of the retreating Enemy.

The 42d at the same time changed front to their right, and lining the crest of the high bank, fired down on some of the Rebel Cavalry, who were moving on the plain towards our right flank.

The Cavalry and Horse Artillery advancing from our left flank, pursued the Enemy across the plain, killing numbers of them.

A Wing of the 53d was left to secure the position gained, the rest of the Force moving some distance over the plain, till it was evident no further stand could be made by the Rebels.

The Infantry and Guns then returned, and our bivouack was formed near the Rebel Camp; the Cavalry with two Guns (the whole under Captain Johnson, 9th Lancers) following up the track of the Enemy towards the Ghat for nearly ten miles and returning at about 4 P. M.

In the Enemy's Camp were taken four brass Guns, with a considerable quantity of ammunition, colors, &c. &c.

I believe the Enemy's Force to have consisted of two Regiments from Barcilly, the Pathans of Mhow, Shumshabad, Katingunge, &c., and a good many of the armed rabble collected by the hope of plunder. I should estimate their loss at 300 men, including two or three of their chiefs.

I enclose a list of our casualties, and His Excellency will see with regret that both Captain Steele and Captain Hodson have received severe sword-cuts while heading the pursuit.

The loss in the 4th Punjaub Rifles was almost entirely caused by the explosion of one of the Enemy's tumbrils.

I beg to express my very sincere thanks to all the Officers in Command of Corps and to the Troops under their orders, and in particular to Captain Remmington and to Captain Johnson, respectively the senior Officers of Artillery and Cavalry, for the able assistance they rendered me.

Captain Hodson's local knowledge and information was most valuable. Captain Cox, 75th Regiment, my Brigade Major, and Lieutenant Butter, 93rd Highlanders, my Orderly Officer, were most active and useful to me.

The Force returned to Camp yesterday with the Guns captured, of which I enclose a Return, as also the Reports of Captains Remmington and Johnson.

RETURN of Casualties in the Force which was under the Command of Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope, from the 26th to the 28th Instant.

Camp Futtehghurh, 29th January 1858.

FROM CAPTAIN REMMINGTON, Commanding Artillery with Brigadier Hope's Force,

To CAPTAIN COX, Major of Brigade, Brigadier Hope's Force.

Camp Futtehghurh, 29th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier Hope, that when the Artillery was ordered to the front on the morning of the 27th instant, I proceeded with the 1st Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery under the guidance of Captain Hodson, with the view of taking the Enemy's position in flank. The ground was very much broken, and between us and the Enemy was a deep ravine.

Directly we advanced, the Enemy opened on us a fire of round shot. Captain Hodson having pointed out to me a bridge over the ravine, we galloped across, wheeled to the right, and advanced till within about six hundred yards of the Enemy's position. We opened fire here with great effect, our shot and shell evidently telling on the mass of men in the Entrenchment, besides exploding an Ammunition Tumbrel and firing the Enemy's Camp. During these operations, Captain Blunt advanced with his Battery rapidly to the front, and opened fire across the ravine at about the same distance from the Enemy's position as the ground we occupied. Captain Blunt's position was most judiciously selected, his fire raking the face of the Entrenchment opposed to us, and our fire performing the same good office for him. The Enemy's fire, considering the small number of Guns he had (four), was for a short time vigorous and well sustained; but the concentrated fire of our ten Guns was too much for him, and in half an hour he abandoned his Guns and Entrenchment and fled in confusion. We galloped up to the brink of the cliff on which the Enemy's position was (leaving the Entrenchment to our right) and plied the fugitives in the plain below with round shot and grape. Captain Blunt advanced on the right of the Entrenchment, and his fire raked the base of the cliff most effectively. We afterwards descended into the plain, but the Enemy's flight was too rapid to admit our overtaking them in a stern chase over very heavy ground, after a long march over sandy roads. I detached two Guns under Lieutenant Lindsay to follow up the retreat with the Cavalry, and with the main body returned to the captured Entrenchment near which our Camp was formed. Accompanying is a list of captured Ordnance. The casualties in the Artillery, I am happy to say, are only two Horses, one killed, the other wounded, both of the 1st Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery. I beg to forward for the Brigadier's inspection a plan of the Enemy's position, by Lieutenant Traill, an Officer of my Troop.

FROM CAPTAIN C. P. JOHNSON, 9th Lancers, Commanding Cavalry of the Column,

To BRIGADIER THE HON'BLE ADRIAN HOPE, &c. &c. &c.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit to you the post taken by the Cavalry under my Command, consisting of 196 men of the 9th Lancers under Captain Steele and 230 men of Hodson's Horse, in the operations at Shumshabad.

The Enemy's position having been ascertained, Captain Remmington's Troop of Horse Artillery was ordered by you to cross the Bridge over the nullah and attack their right flank. Captain Hodson's Regiment was sent in support; this point, however, was not gained without loss. Lieutenant McDowell, of Hodson's Horse, was struck down by a round shot and mortally wounded, and one man and horse of the 9th Lancers killed.

In Lieutenant McDowell, the Service has lost a gallant and valuable Officer.

On reaching the right flank of the Enemy, their Cavalry was observed in considerable force to our front and left. Captain Hodson immediately advanced his Regiment, and attacking them with his accustomed gallantry, completely routed them, many of their dead being left on the field. I regret to state that both Captain Hodson and Lieutenant Gough of his Regiment were wounded.

The precision of the Artillery fire having partially dislodged the Rebels from their entrenched position, the 9th Lancers were ordered to advance to the support of Hodson's Horse, who were already engaged with parties of their broken Infantry, one squadron being left in reserve, as a detached portion of the Enemy's Cavalry still threatened the Guns.

The attack to the front now became general and was entirely successful, though not unattended with loss. Captain Hodson, who had preserved in spite of his wound, was again wounded, and this time severely, and compelled to resign his Command to Lieutenant Wise, who ably led the Regiment for the remainder of the day.

Captain Steele, Commanding the Detachment of the 9th Lancers, whilst gallantly charging at the head of his men, was severely wounded; Lieutenant Willis, of the same corps, slightly.

The pursuit was continued for some distance, and upwards of 300 of the Enemy were killed. According to your instructions, I subsequently advanced with the Cavalry and 2 Guns of Captain Remmington's Troop of Horse Artillery for some miles on the road towards Sewajpore Ghât, but met with no opposition. The Enemy appeared to have been scattered in all directions.

I beg respectfully to call your attention to the disproportionate number of Officers who were wounded, as a proof of the noble manner in which they led their men; to the number of the Enemy's slain, as a proof that the men were not wanting in the support of their Officers.

In fact the conduct of the men during the long day's work was admirable. They had been ten successive hours in the saddle before coming into action, and nineteen before the pursuit was abandoned; but were always ready. I beg to enclose a list of casualties.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

25TH FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 24TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 69 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 12TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 238 of 1858.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 1333, of the 5th November last, the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from Major-General Sir A. Wilson, Bart, K. C. B., late in Command of the Delhi Field Force, forwarding Reports from Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Deacon, Her Majesty's 61st Foot, relative to the Capture of the Magazine in the City of Delhi, and from Major J. Brind, of Artillery, regarding the occupation of the Jumma Musjeed.

2. His Honor in Council desires to record his approbation of the excellent services rendered by the Officers above-named on the occasions now brought to notice :—

No. 48.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL SIR A. WILSON, K. C. B., Commandant of Artillery,
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Head Quarters.

Head Quarters of Artillery, Meerut, 18th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, copy of a letter of the 9th Instant, from Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Deacon, of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, transmitting a statement of the operations against the Magazine in the City of Delhi, which was gallantly and successfully stormed by a Column under His Command on the 16th September last, the circumstances connected with which, reflecting great credit on all engaged, were, I regret to find, omitted in my Despatch of that date.

2. I also beg to submit a letter of the 24th September, from Major J. Brind, of the Artillery, detailing the operations of a Detachment under his Command against the Jumma Musjeed, which led to the capture and occupation of that important post on the 20th Idem; and I beg to bring this Officer to Sir Colin Campbell's very favorable consideration for his valuable services on this, as on every other occasion on which his energy and gallantry have been called into requisition.

3. I have to beg you will do me the favor of soliciting His Excellency to forward both these communications to Government, with my request that they may be published in continuation of my Despatches connected with the fall of the City of Delhi.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major-General, Commandant of Artillery.

FROM LIEUT.-COL. C. C. DEACON, H. M.'s 61st Regiment, Late Commanding Storming Party.
TO BRIGADIER LONGFIELD, Late Commanding 4th Column, In reserve of Delhi Field Force, Delhi.

Ferozepore, 9th January 1858.

SIR,—Having attentively perused the several Despatches which have been recently published, in reference to the late operations, before and subsequent to the Assault on the City of Delhi, and observing that no notice has been made of the Capture of the Magazine, beyond the fact of its having fallen on the 16th September last, up to which period it was the only Arsenal in possession of the Mutineers of the Bengal Native Army: however late it may now be, I feel it to be due to that portion of the Troops,

250 H. M.'s 61st Regiment, Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Deacon.
200 4th Punjab Infantry, Commanded by Captain Wilde.
300 Belooch Battalion, Commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar.
H. M.'s 61st, reduced to 170, no more men being available.

which formed the Storming Party then under my Command, as per margin, to forward the annexed statement, with a view to your doing me the honor to forward the same to Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson,

K. C. B., for transmission to, and for the information of, His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and the Government.

2. I may, I trust, be permitted to bring to the Major General's and your own recollection, that although I was not the Senior Officer at the time, that Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar, of the Belooch Battalion, on the previous evening (the 15th September), requested permission to be allowed to waive his right of Command in my favor, until after the Capture of the Magazine had been effected; and I trust I may therefore be permitted to lay claim to the honor of carrying out the Major-General's instructions, and for which I received, in presence of H. M.'s 61st Regiment, the Major-General's congratulations on the success on my proceedings on the morning of the 16th September, about half an hour after the fall of the Magazine to our arms.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. C. DEACON, Lt.-Col., H. M.'s 61st Rgt., Late Comdg. Storming Party.

STATEMENT OF LIEUTENANT-COLONEL C. C. DEACON, Commanding H. M.'s 61st Regiment, and late in Command of the Force that assaulted and captured the Delhi Magazine on the 16th Sept. 1857.

In compliance with instructions to that effect direct, and personally from Major-General Wilson, Commanding the Delhi Field Force, an Attacking Party as per margin, under my Command, paraded, on the 16th September 1857, for the purpose of assaulting the Magazine within the walls of the City of Delhi.

250 H. M.'s 61st Regiment, reduced to 170, no more being available.
200 4th Punjaub Infantry.
300 Belooch Battalion.

2. The Force assembled in the College Gardens half an hour before day dawn, and was immediately formed into a Column of Attack, headed by H. M.'s 61st Regiment, supported by the 4th Punjaub Infantry under the Command of Captain Wilde, with the Belooch Battalion under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar in reserve; and at day-break, having previously taken ground to the left flank, until the Column was brought to face the Breach which had been made the previous day, the attack commenced. Not a word was spoken or a trigger pulled, until the stormers and the support had reached the summit of the Breach and the Magazine Yard, when a cheer and a charge were given and made, on which the Enemy, taken most completely by surprise, fled precipitately, throwing down their port-fires at their Guns. Several of them were bayoneted close to the Breach, the others were closely pursued by H. M.'s 61st and the 4th Punjaub Infantry. A party under Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, H. M.'s 61st Regiment (under the guidance of Captain H. W. Norman, A. A. G.), having passed through the Magazine, turned to their left, and spiked a Gun, which was in position on the Eastern wall of the City, and which was pointed at the College Garden Battery. On being reached, the Enemy fought very desperately. In addition to those who were killed within the Magazine grounds, many were shot down beyond the walls and within the buildings which stand between them and the Palace.

3. On reaching the summit of the Breach, two heavy iron Guns (apparently 32-Pounders) were found pointed at it loaded, one of which was temporarily spiked by Assistant Surgeon T. H. Reade and Color Serjeant Mitchell, both of H. M.'s 61st Regiment. Two 10½ inch (apparently) Mortars were likewise found in position in the Magazine Grounds facing the College Gardens. These were presently wheeled about, and a fire from them opened on the Palace and Selimghur.

4. So unexpected was the assault, that the casualties at the moment were most trifling, only one Private of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment killed, together with three Privates and one Sikh of Captain Wilde's Corps wounded.

5. Having successfully conducted the assault, I then sent Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, back to the Magazine, requesting that he would convey my wishes that the Belooch Battalion should retain possession of it and man the walls, until the return of Her Majesty's 61st and the 4th Punjaub Infantry, which was accordingly done; and on the Force being again concentrated, Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, as the Senior Officer present, assumed the Command; the 4th Punjaub Infantry, in compliance with previous orders, having proceeded to the College.

6. I must beg leave to state, that on the present, as well as on every occasion, from the period the Left Wing of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, joined its Head Quarters, I have ever received that Officer's ablest assistance and co-operation; that the 4th Punjaub Infantry, nobly supported Her Majesty's 61st at the assault; while to Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar and to Captain Wilde I am much indebted for the able assistance they rendered me in carrying out Major-General Wilson's orders.

7. I have only to add, that some 170 odd Guns, of kinds, together with stores of all descriptions, were found in the Magazine; that during the course of the fore and afternoon of the 16th September, attacks were made by the Enemy, which were repulsed on every occasion, and at every point, by the Troops, then within the walls, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, and some loss was sustained, Casualty Lists of which were sent in at the time; but throughout, nothing could have surpassed the ardour and gallantry of both the Officers and Men who were engaged in the assault, and who I had the honor and good fortune to lead.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. C. DEACON, Lieut.-Col., H. M. 61st Regt., Late Comdg. Assaulting Force.

FROM MAJOR JAMES BRIND, Comdg. Foot Arty., Late Comdg. at Jumma Musjeed,
TO MAJOR EWART, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

Deru Gunj, Delhi, 24th September 1857.

SIR,—Understanding that reports of services performed by detached commands or special duties are to be made direct to you, for the information of Major-General Wilson, Commanding the Delhi Field Force, I have the honor to submit the following.

On the morning of the 20th instant, about day-break, I proceeded to the Burn Bastion, to ascertain that the Guns were provided with sufficient Ammunition, Details, &c. &c. After firing upon the flying Enemy along the front of the Ajmere Gate, and towards the woods in rear of Kissungunj, it was reported that a rapid advance upon the Jumma Musjeed would place it—and, from its commanding position, the rest of the City—in our possession. Brigadier Jones was on the spot, but as he required Captain Boyd, Artillery.

Two 8-Inch Mortars.

Two Guns of No. 17 Light Field Battery.

Infantry.

Fifty men of Her Majesty's 8th Queen's, and 20 men of the 1st Bengal European Fusiliers, under Command of Captain Bannatyne, 8th Queen's.

Commanding the 2nd Fusiliers, to be ready to accompany him to the Ajmere Gate, I offered my services, having to accompany the Artillery under my Command with the Advance Columns, and requested that the Detachment as per margin might be placed at my disposal. Lieutenant Genneste, of the Engineers, with a party of the Sappers, volunteered to accompany me. By the aid of pressed Guides, and two Irregular Cavalry (Punjab) Troopers, we occupied, one after another, the prominent posts leading to the Jumma Musjeed, such as the Kutwalce, Sonalee, and Futtehpore Musjeeds, &c. &c., without difficulty or accident, having merely to force the gates and slay a few rebellious or suspicious characters. On taking possession of the Jumma Musjeed, and making the necessary disposition of my Artillery and Infantry, I was compelled to have the Durwan (who treacherously led a Serjeant of the 8th Queen's, Havildar of Coke's Punjab Corps, and two Regimental Bheesties under a heavy fire of Musketry from the Fort walls) of the Musjeed executed in the street to the front. The effect of these measures, together with the orderly and rapid movements of my Detachment, had a most favourable result, and contributed towards the almost bloodless success of the Military operations of the day, and the successful and complete occupation of the City, &c. of Delhi.

The steady, soldier-like, and determined bearing of the Detachment of Her Majesty's 8th Regiment, under the Command of that zealous and judicious Officer, Captain Bannatyne, made my task light. During the night of the Mutiny at Jullundur, when all were taken by surprise, and the rush upon our Guns of the panic-struck residents threw the Troop into a state of inaction, I experienced the most cheerful and judicious aid from Captain Bannatyne, who, on this occasion, so ably supported me. To Lieutenant Genneste of the Engineers, and the Officers Commanding the Detachments of Artillery, Lieutenant Wilson, H. A., and Lieutenant Harrington, of Captain Bouchier's Battery, I am much indebted for the valuable assistance they rendered me in the advance; as also to Lieutenant Seonce, of the same Battery, who brought up a reinforcement. My Detachment forced an entrance into the Jumma Musjeed about an hour and a half prior to the assault upon the Palace. I at once reported my position for the orders of the Major-General, and made over Command of the post to Lieutenant-Colonel Greathead the following morning.

I have, &c.,

No. 239 of 1858.—In continuation of G. G. O. No. 182, of the 29th January 1858, the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Despatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., Commanding in Oude, reporting the result of an attack made on his position by the Enemy on the 16th January 1858:—

No. 63.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding in Oude.

TO GENERAL MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff of the Army in the East Indies.

Dated Camp Alum Bagh, 17th January 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that the Enemy made an attack on my position yesterday, similar to that reported in letter of the 12th instant, except that, though they did not show in such general strength, their attack was more bold than before. In the morning they made a sudden attack on the Jullalabad Picquet, and were received with a heavy fire, which drove them back immediately, leaving on the ground their leader, a Hindoo devotee representing Hunnoman, who was advancing bravely at their head, and several killed and wounded, whom they were unable to carry off. As they were seen removing many bodies, their loss must have been severe. Two 9-Pounders, under Captain Moir, were sent down to support the Picquet, and completed the expulsion of the Enemy from the cover in its front.

On the left front and left, the Enemy advanced skirmishers and threatened during the greater part of the day, suffering severely whenever they ventured within range. After dark they assembled in great strength in front of my left advanced village out-post, Commanded by Major Gordon, 75th Regiment, and attacked it with a large body of Infantry, who were allowed to approach within 80 yards of the post, when they were received with discharges of grape from three Guns and a heavy fire from the Rifles of the post, which inflicted very severe loss, and drove them off immediately. Some shells from an 8-inch Mortar expedited their retreat. The Enfield Rifles and Captain Maude's Guns in Alum Bagh had several opportunities of inflicting severe loss on the Enemy, which were promptly taken advantage of. A large body of Cavalry showed on my left rear, and were safely left to the vigilance of Captain Olpherts, who watched and kept them in check with his four Horse Battery Guns, supported by a Detachment of the Military Train under Captain Clarke.

The casualties of my Force during the day amounted to—

1 Bombardier, killed.

7 European Infantry, wounded.

1 Gunner, wounded by a fall from his Gun.

The judgment and coolness with which Major Gordon defended his post, deserve much praise; he was ably supported by Lieutenant Clarke, Commanding the Battery.

Much credit is also due to Lieutenant Wynne, of Her Majesty's 90th, who Commanded the Jullahabad Picquet.

Also to Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, Commanding the post, and Captain Maude, Commanding the Artillery at Alum Bagh.

To Captain Rattray, Commanding the Infantry, Lieutenant Gully, Commanding the Battery of No. 1 advanced out-post on the left, and to the Officers and Men of their posts for their vigilance and alertness in checking and punishing the Enemy at every opportunity.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

3D MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 2D MARCH 1858.

No. 77 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 15TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 264 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., Commanding, No. 62, dated 16th January 1858, transmitting Reports relative to the occupation and defence of the post of Alum Bagh, under Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel McIntyre, 78th Highlanders, and of the operations of the Artillery of his Force; Commanded by Major V. Eyre, Bengal Artillery.

2. His Honor in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments to the several Officers named in these Reports, as well as to the Officers and Men engaged, for the good services rendered by them.

No 62.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL. SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Commanding in Oude,

TO MAJOR H. W. NORMAN, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

Camp, Alum Bagh, 16th January 1858.

SIR,—In consequence of my having received no Report from the Officer Commanding at Alum Bagh, the services of the Garrison and of particular Officers have not been brought to the notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

I therefore beg leave to submit, for the information of His Excellency, a Report recently received from Major McIntyre, H. M.'s 78th Regiment, of the occupation and defence of Alum Bagh, from the 25th September, when he was placed in Command of that post by the late Major General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., until the arrival of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief's Force.

During the earlier portion of Major McIntyre's occupation of Alum Bagh, whilst cut off from communication with Cawnpore, uncertain of the fate of the rest of the Force from the moment when he lost sight of it in the suburbs of Lucknow, and surrounded by a numerous Enemy, his Command was one of grave and anxious responsibility, and the firm and able manner in which he used his small resources to repulse the attacks of the Enemy, to strengthen his defences, and overcome the difficulties of his situation, and the cheerful conduct of the Troops under laborious duties, merit my cordial acknowledgments, and will, I feel sure, meet with His Excellency's approbation.

I beg to second most strongly the recommendation which Major McIntyre makes in favor of his Second in Command, Major Sibley, who Commanded at Alum Bagh, during three weeks, whilst Major McIntyre was on the sick list, also of the several Officers of the Staff or Commanding Detachments favorably mentioned by Major McIntyre.

I also beg permission to submit Brigadier Eyre's Report of the Artillery operations of the Oude Field Force, from the 21st September to the 24th November, which I have recently received. I beg now to recommend the several Officers mentioned by Brigadier Eyre, whose names have not already been submitted for the favorable notice of Government, for their service under their distinguished Commander, particularly Lieutenant A. Fraser, Brigade Major of Artillery, whose name, I regret to find, was omitted; but whose gallantry and very zealous services deserved favorable notice.

Captain Evans, of the Bombay Native Infantry, doing duty with the Artillery, was of much service in the Artillery Park, at the evacuation of the Residency of Lucknow.

Lieutenant T. H. Harward, of the Artillery, performed good service as Commissary of Ordnance at Cawnpore, and during the march to Alum Bagh.

Lieutenant J. Anderson, of the Engineers, Commanding Engineers of the Lucknow Garrison, though confined to his couch by illness, never ceased to exert himself to supply the Engineer Department with materials, and Lieutenant J. M. Innes gave very valuable aid in the mining operations until he was also disabled by ill-health and fatigue.

The services of Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, were highly appreciated by the late Sir H. Havelock, and his personal attendance on myself during the march to Alum Bagh in the actions of the 21st and 23rd September, deserved my thanks and commendation.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

J. OUTRAM, Major-General, Commanding in Oude.

FROM MAJOR & BT. LIEUTENANT-COLONEL MCINTYRE, 78th Highlanders,

To COL. R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff with the Force under Maj.-Genl. Sir J. Outram.

Camp, near Alum Bagh, 3rd January 1858.

SIR,—HAVING been directed to report upon the circumstances attending the occupation and defence of the Alum Bagh, I have the honor to state, for the information of the Major-General Commanding, that on the advance of the Force on Lucknow, on the 25th of September last, under the late Major-General Sir Henry Havelock, K. C. B., I was appointed, by that Officer, to the Command of the place, with Detachments of Regiments, consisting of about 280 Europeans, some Sikhs, and four Guns. In it were placed the Sick of the Force, amounting to 128 men, of whom 64 were wounded, the Baggage, Commissariat, Treasure Chest, Reserve Ordnance Park, and a large quantity of small Arm Ammunition.

The Native Followers, Government and otherwise, could not have amounted to fewer than between four and five thousand persons, with an enormous number of Cattle of various descriptions. The supply of food for the Native Followers did not exceed the consumption of a few days, and we had little or nothing for the Cattle but what could be procured by foraging parties. Fortunately, some crops of Rice and other Grain, nearly ripe, were on the ground sufficiently near to enable us to gather them under the protection of our Guns. As these became consumed, the sufferings of the Native Followers from want became, I regret to say, very great. Any thing that could be thought of was done to alleviate them. Driven by starvation to seek for food too far in advance of our foraging parties, numbers were cut up by the Enemy, who surrounded us. The efforts made to relieve their wants from Cawnpore were for a considerable time unsuccessful, as even quill communications by cossids failed to reach their destination; however, on the 7th of October, a convoy of provisions, escorted by a party of 250 Men and two Guns, and Commanded by Major Bingham, H. M.'s 64th Regiment, reached us from Cawnpore, and on the 25th of the same month, a large convoy, intended for Lucknow, escorted by 500 Men and four Guns, under the Command of Major Barnston, H. M.'s 90th Regiment, reached the Alumbagh. Those enabled me to relieve, to a certain extent, the wants of the Native Followers. 150 men of Major Bingham's party were ordered to remain to reinforce the Garrison and 100 to return to Cawnpore by a forced night march to escort return Cattle.

Major Barnston's Detachment was ordered, after having rested for a day or two, to return to Cawnpore. As the Enemy had, however, appeared in very great numbers, and had become more daring than usual, I took upon myself the responsibility of detaining them, which turned out fortunately, for in a day or two I received an order to do so permanently. This gave me a Force of 900 Europeans and 10 Guns, which enabled me to increase my foraging parties, and then range.

To take steps for the immediate defence of my post was my first care, and I made use of every available means to accomplish it. Subsequently more permanent works were ably constructed by Lieutenant Judge, of the Engineers, assisted by Mr. Tait, Civil Engineer, attached to that Department. These were partially completed only, however bastions at the angles and a banquette beside were so, and the mango tops cut down in all directions round the post.

The Enemy constructed batteries, at different periods, at five different points, around us, and their fire was at times exceedingly annoying and destructive to the Native Followers and Cattle from their necessarily crowded state; but I am happy to say that during the period of our holding the position—forty-nine days—one European Soldier only was killed and two wounded.

Jellalabad—occupied in force by the Enemy with Cavalry, Infantry and four Guns—formed a sixth and dangerous neighbour; but on two occasions only did they bring out their Guns and open fire, and they were then soon silenced.

A two Gun Battery at the Yellow House, about the Enemy's cars and silenced by our Artillery fire, under the able direction of Captain Moir, of the Bengal Artillery, was repaired during the night; but on a repetition of our fire, was again silenced, and eventually they withdrew their Guns from it.

The duty was at first very severe on both Officers and Men; but was performed most cheerfully by both. Much praise is due to the Artillery and Men attached, on whom it was even more severe than on the others.

From about the 3rd to the 22nd of October, in consequence of my illness, the Command of the post devolved on Major Sibley, of H. M.'s 64th Regiment, in charge of the Treasure Chest, the next Senior Officer, from whom I on all occasions received every assistance.

I trust the Major-General will not think it presumptuous on my part to bring to his notice the names of those Officers (in addition to those already mentioned) who were most conspicuous in the performance of their duties, and deserve much credit. They are—Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Gordon, Bengal Artillery, who Commanded the Detachments Artillery until the arrival of Captain Moir; Lieutenant Sandwith, H. M.'s 84th Regiment, Acting Field Engineer, (Lieutenant Sandwith was subsequently killed in Lucknow); Lieutenant Haldane, H. M.'s 64th Regiment, Acting Field Engineer; Lieutenant Morland, Acting Staff Officer (1st Bengal Fusiliers.)

The unwearied attention of Surgeon Innes, of H. M.'s 84th Regiment, and Surgeon Dominichette, of H. M.'s 75th Regiment, to the Sick and Wounded, and their exertions on entering the Alum Bagh with 64 wounded men, deserve the greatest praise.

May I be permitted to add that I on every occasion received the greatest assistance from Captain Moir, of the Artillery, who was ever at his post.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

J. MCINTYRE, Major, 78th Highlanders, & Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel.

FROM MAJOR V. EYRE, Commanding Artillery Brigade.

To COLONEL R. NAPIER, Chief of the Staff with the Force under Major-General Sir J. Outram.

Camp, Alum Bagh, near Lucknow, the 8th January 1858.

SIR,—The publication of Major-General Sir James Outram's Despatches having brought to light the accidental omission of any detailed report from the Artillery Brigade under my orders, I gladly avail myself of his kind permission to fill up the blank, which I do the more readily since it affords me a fitting opportunity of placing on record publicly my own professional testimony of the signal services rendered by those whom it was my good fortune to Command during the recent operations at Lucknow.

2. On the lamented death of Brigadier Cooper on the 26th September I succeeded to the Command of the Brigade, and during my subsequent severe illness my place was temporarily filled by Captain Olpherts.

3. Owing partly to these changes, and partly to the constant occupation which the daily exigencies of the service demanded from Officers and Men in the Artillery, written Reports were not expected, and hence it may have heretofore escaped mention that, for two special acts of gallantry on the 25th September, both Captain Maude, R. A., and Captain Olpherts, B. A., Commanding Field Batteries, were rewarded by the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., with the much coveted distinction of the Victoria Cross.

4. I hope I shall be pardoned for this passing allusion to a fact so gratifying to the pride of the combined Artillery arms of England and India, which, in this campaign, have for the first time encountered the Enemies of their common country side by side in friendly emulation.

5. Never, I firmly believe, were Field Batteries exposed to a severer trial than that which attended the penetration of Lucknow on that memorable day! On Captain Maude, who was in advance, devolved the difficult task of silencing the Enemy's Guns which defended the bridge leading to the City. This he accomplished under a murderous cross fire of grape and musketry, with a loss of one-third of his men; and it was for his nerve and coolness on this occasion, (but for which the Army could not have advanced) that Major-General Sir James Outram, who was an eye-witness of his conduct, recommended him for the high distinction above recorded.

6. Captain Olpherts was almost simultaneously earning similar laurels by the conspicuous gallantry with which he assisted H. M.'s 90th Light Infantry, led by the lamented Colonel Campbell, in the capture of two Guns on our right, under a heavy fire of grape; carrying them off in triumph, attached to his spare limbers, through a most galling cross fire of musketry from the loopholes of neighbouring houses and walled gardens.

7. To narrate our whole proceedings on that day would involve too lengthly details, suffice it therefore to say that, after crossing the bridge, we met no serious obstacle until coming under the fire of grape and musketry from the King's Palace and the adjacent buildings on our left, and of round shot and shell from the Guns across the river on our right.

8. As our Force pushed on towards where the beleaguered Garrison of Lucknow were anxiously expecting deliverance, each battery in turn unlimbered on the road, to silence, if possible, the Enemy's Guns, and thus protect the advance of the main column. While thus engaged, the Gunners stood firm and undaunted like so many targets for the Enemy's concealed sharpshooters and grape shot, which latter ploughed up the ground on all sides, committing fearful havoc, as our list of casualties sufficiently testifies.

9. It was late at night ere the entire main body got out of fire; but two heavy Guns, under Lieutenant J. M. Fraser, together with some thirty ammunition and store carts, having remained at the Motee Munzil, with a party of H. M.'s 90th, under Colonel Campbell, to protect the rear guard and wounded, were unable to accomplish a junction with the main body until the morning of the 27th. The position of the 24-Pounder Gun was one of great peril, from which it was with difficulty extricated, chiefly through the able and energetic measures of Captain Olpherts, who had been sent back to render assistance, as very fully described and acknowledged by Colonel Napier in that Officer's Report, already published.

10. It was here that those brave and lamented Officers, Brigadier Cooper, B. A., and Captain Crump, M. A., his Brigade Major, fell victims to their noble zeal. Here also it was that Private Duffy, of the 1st Madras Fusiliers, a Volunteer with the Artillery, earned the Victoria Cross by his cool intrepidity and daring skill in assisting to extricate one of the Guns from its desperate position. Colonel Napier also speaks in high terms of Lieutenant Fraser's exertions on this occasion.

11. On succeeding to the Command of the Brigade, I appointed Lieutenant Fraser my Brigade Major, and found him most efficient, in fact I cannot speak too warmly of his soldierly zeal and devotion, which, thenceforward down to the present time, I have had constant opportunities of witnessing, and I regard him as a young Officer of the highest promise.

Myself prostrated by fever for several weeks after our relief of the Lucknow Garrison, my temporary Command of the Artillery was most effectively exercised by Captain

Olpherts, whose well-tryed abilities always prove equal to every emergency. During the interval of seven weeks that elapsed until the happy arrival of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief's Force, the Artillery was chiefly occupied in defensive warfare against forces whose numerical strength and advantages of position enable them to surround and worry us at every point.

13. Owing to the paucity of our numbers from casualties and the great extent of our position, this involved a very great amount of labour for the Artillery, who were on continuous duty at their Guns without any relief, besides working hard in the construction of fresh batteries whenever required. Under all their fatigues, privations and dangers, the best spirit prevailed from first to last among the men, who considered no sacrifices too great for the accomplishment of the noble end in view, viz., the deliverance of their country women and wounded comrades from the worst of fates.

14. It is satisfactory too to be able to state that the Native Establishments attached to Field Batteries, consisting of Gun Lascars, Horse and Bullock-drivers, Syces and Grass-cutters, behaved most loyally, though suffering as severely as any of the Troops in killed and wounded, yet none deserted! Sirdar Driver Gungoo, and Naik Darsun, of the Syce Drivers (killed by a round shot), both of No. 12 Light Field Battery, were particularly noted for their loyal devotion.

15. On the 16th November the near approach of the Commander-in-Chief's Force was the signal for renewed offensive operations on our side. These have been already alluded to in the late Sir H. Havelock's Despatch of that date. Our object was to drive the Enemy from certain strong positions which he occupied between us and the advancing columns, and in this we entirely succeeded, thereby greatly facilitating the junction of the two Forces, and saving the valuable lives of our Soldiers.

16. The batteries, which had been for some time previously constructed for this purpose, were concealed behind a lofty wall forming the boundary of our position in that quarter. On them were mounted four 18-Pounder Iron Guns, one 8-Inch Iron Howitzer, four 9-Pounder Field Guns, and two 24-Pounder Field Howitzers, under the skilful direction of Captain Olpherts, Lieutenants Fraser and Smithett (the latter twice wounded and distinguished on several occasions,) and Staff Serjeant Melville, of the 1st Company 5th Battalion. In position behind were six 8-Inch Mortars under Captain Maude, R. A., most ably assisted by Lieutenants Maitland, R. A., and Simpson and Ward, of the B. N. I., the two latter being Volunteers well instructed in Artillery Science.

17. At the appointed time large openings were effected by the united force of mines and breaches in the screen wall in our front, and the batteries opened an excessively hot fire for three hours on the buildings beyond, which were occupied in considerable force by the Enemy. Sufficient impression having been thus made, and mines having been exploded by the Engineers in several contiguous quarters, storming parties rushed out at 3 p. m., and quickly carried all before them with trifling loss.

18. During the night the Artillery pushed forward their heavy Guns to the advanced positions thus gained, when some batteries were rapidly constructed from which to open on the King's Palace, now within easy breaching distance. On the 17th our 8-Inch Howitzer shelled the Tara Kotee and Mess House with great effect, setting fire to the former and materially assisting the attack of the advancing force on the opposite side, although perhaps unknown to them, as it must have been difficult for them to distinguish our distant fire from that of the Enemy.

19. On the 18th a junction having been effected between the two Forces on the previous night, a joint bombardment took place of the King's Palace, in the outer wall of which several large breaches were rapidly effected, and great havoc made in the principal buildings behind it. This was continued at intervals, on the two following days, with great loss of life to the Enemy crowding within, as was subsequently ascertained, and there can be little doubt that had it suited our plan of operations, we might have at once walked into the place and occupied the Palace with comparatively little loss. But the great object we had in view having been triumphantly accomplished in the safe rescue of the sick, wounded and women from their recent perils, any longer delay at Lucknow was considered inexpedient until they should be safely conducted beyond the reach of their merciless foes; and on the night of the 22d we effected our final evacuation of the entrenchment.

20. Measures had been previously adopted for the removal or destruction of all our spare Ordnance, Ammunition and Military Stores. This entailed an ordinary amount of labour and physical endurance on the part of those to whose lot it fell to convey so many ponderous carriages by manual force through the narrow and intricate mazes of the Chuttur Munzil and Furlut Bux Palaces—a duty in which the Artillery were cheerfully aided by their Infantry comrades, who on all occasions have volunteered their services, both for ordinary labour and also for the higher obligations of manning the Guns when circumstances required.

21. Our hearty acknowledgments are also due to our scientific brethren of the Engineers, for their cordial and effective co-operation, to which we are no doubt indebted greatly for whatever success has attended our efforts.

22. Lieutenant Thomas, Madras Artillery, Commissary of Ordnance, I always found indefatigable in his duties, which were latterly very severe, as on him devolved the laborious preparations for removing our Magazine, and destroying such Guns and Military Stores as we were unable to carry away. With a very small Establishment he effected all this as satisfactorily as could be expected. Lieutenant J. Alexander, Artillery, of the Lucknow Garrison, also worked zealously with the Guns in position, and deserves creditable mention.

23. Before concluding this Report, I wish to record the excellent services rendered to the Artillery by Captain Evans, of the Bombay Infantry, who Commanded with great credit several Guns in position in the entrenchment, and whose zeal and devotion were conspicuous. Also those of Lieutenant Ouseley, of the B. N. I., who likewise attached himself to the Guns and rendered himself extremely useful.

24. Surgeon Irvine and Assistant Surgeon J. J. Clarke are also particularly deserving of mention for praiseworthy zeal in the discharge of their professional duties.

25. Lieutenant Delifosse, Artillery, one of the few survivors of the Cawnpore massacre, was attached as a Volunteer to Captain Olpherts' Battery, and behaved with great gallantry, as well as in the previous engagements at Mungulwar and Alum Bagh.

privations and trials he thus for a second time endured in a beleaguered Garrison at length broke down his enfeebled frame, and obliged him to proceed with the sick to Cawnpore.

26. Among the Non-Commissioned Officers whose conduct most commended itself to notice were Serjeant Major Bird and Staff Serjeant Roddy, of the 2d Company 3d Battalion, and Staff Serjeant Melville, of the 1st Company 5th Battalion. The latter had twice distinguished himself before in Arrah. I beg most earnestly to recommend them to the consideration of superior authority.

27. Serjeant Major Lamont, of the Royal Artillery, fell gloriously at his Gun on the 25th of September, deeply lamented by the whole Artillery Brigade. He was a first-rate and most gallant Soldier, and must have attained honor and distinction had he survived.

28. Lieutenant D. Gordon, who had assisted me most zealously in working the heavy Guns in the actions of Mungulwar and Alum Bagh, was left behind at the latter place in Command of a portion of the heavy battery, as also Lieutenant G. M. Clerk, with two 9-Pounder Field Guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery, and I understood they were unable to render material assistance in the defence of that important position.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

VINCENT EYRE, Major, Comdg. Arty. Brigade, Oude Force.

P. S.—The last sentence had scarcely been penned when I was startled by the announcement that poor Lieutenant D. Gordon has been just killed in the Alum Bagh by a round shot. I deeply regret the loss of this most amiable and excellent young Officer.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

4TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 3D MARCH 1858.

No. 83 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 18TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 291 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report, descriptive of the operations of the left Column of the Force under Command of Brigadier General Franks, C. B., in an Action with the Insurgents at Nusrutpore, in the Allahabad District, on the 23rd January 1858.

His Honor in Council tenders his thanks to Brigadier General Franks, C. B., to Colonel Ingram, H. M.'s 97th Regiment, Commanding the left Column of the Field Force, and to the Officers named by them; to Lieut.-Colonel Indra Singh, Commanding the Nepalese Troops, and also to the whole Force, Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Men, engaged on this occasion :—

No. 51 A.

FROM THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, Military Department.

Head Quarters, Camp Arrowl, the 2nd February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, a Report, dated the 25th ultimo, from Brigadier General T. H. Franks, C. B., Commanding the Juanpore Field Force, of a successful Action fought with the Insurgents on the 23rd idem, by the Troops under his personal Command.

2. His Excellency desires to express his approbation of the manner in which the operation detailed was directed by the Brigadier General, and of the conduct of the Force, including the Goorkha Troops engaged.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

No. 66.

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF, Army Head Quarters, Futtygurh.

Camp near Secundra, the 25th January 1858.

SIR,—As you have already been informed by my telegraphic message of this date, the three Columns of this Field Force, previously posted respectively at Mahowl, Eelkuchlee, and Badshapore, made a concerted movement twelve miles to their left, the right and centre Columns on the 19th instant, and the left Column on the 21st.

2. This brought the latter, under Colonel Ingram, 97th Regiment, and of the strength noted marginally, to Secundra.

With six Field Guns.

3. The Nazim, who had been appointed Governor of the District by the Rebel Government of Lucknow, has held possession of it for the last seven months, and has had his out-posts at Capamow, within four miles of Allahabad.

4. The position of Nusrutpore, situated two and a half miles North-west of Secundra, is one of the strongest and most difficult of approach I have ever seen. A dense jungle, through which runs a chain of hillocks, extends a mile and a half North-east and South-west. At its North-western extremity is the stronghold of Beni Bahadoor Singh, a two-storied country house of solid masonry, surrounding which an extensive bastioned entrenchment had been thrown up, and a deep ditch cut. The entrenchment were all barricaded and covered by abatis.

Here, on the afternoon of that day, I learnt that the Nazim Fuzil Azeem, with 8,000 men and 14 Guns, was still at Soraou, seven miles distant from my Camp in a Westerly direction, while 200 matchlock-men were at Nusrutpore, the residence of Beni Bahadoor Singh, one of the most influential Telooqdars of this District, who has been most active in raising the population of this neighbourhood against our Government.

5. During the night of the 21st, and early morning of the 22d, the Nazim, dreading to await our approaching reinforcement of Cavalry in the more open neighbourhood of Soraou, moved by his left and occupied this position; and so confident was he of its impregnability, that he announced the completion of this movement by a salute of seven Guns as a challenge to our Force.

6. But he was not destined long to enjoy his fancied security. I was compelled to defer the combat during the whole of the 22d (though my baggage having been previously thrown into an entrenched enclosure, with a suitable Guard, under Captain Matheson, 13th Irregular Cavalry, my Force was in readiness for an immediate advance), for I was momentarily expecting the arrival of the promised reinforcement of two Squadrons of the 2d Dragoon Guards and 4 Horse Artillery Guns from Allahabad.

had left a part of his Force there, to fall on our left flank and rear.

8. My Cavalry Patrols soon ascertained that Soraou was evacuated, and being thus convinced that the Enemy was concentrated at Nusrutpore, I changed direction and approached that position.

9. The Infantry moved in quarter distance Columns at deploying distance; Her Majesty's 97th Regiment in the centre, the Shere Regiment of Goorkhas on the left, the Burruj Bahadoor Battalion on the right, covered by the Horse Artillery Guns under Colonel D'Aguilar, C. B., disposed two on each flank, and by two Guns of No. 2 Madras Light Field Battery under Major Cotter, and three 9-Pounders, Commanded by Captain Thring, R. A., in the centre—the whole supported by 100 selected marksmen of the 97th, under Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Burton. The two Squadrons of the Bays protected our flanks, moving in rear of them out of reach of fire.

10. The close nature of the country every where, covered with high crops and thick tops of trees, rendered it necessary to move with caution.

11. The advanced posts of the Enemy, fearing to be intercepted, abandoned at our approach the Indigo Factory of Kapoorie, half a mile in front of the main position, in which they had originally placed two guns, and which, if obstinately defended, would have much opposed our advance. This was seized by our skirmishers with a rush.

12. As we passed the Factory, the line was deployed, the Guns advanced at a gallop, and taking post within 600 yards of the Enemy, opened on the fortified house and its vicinity a concentrated fire, which soon caused him to abandon the whole front, and withdraw his Artillery further into the jungle, where his fire gradually slackened, and it became apparent that he was about to relinquish the position.

13. On this I directed one Squadron of the Bays, with two Horse Artillery Guns under Colonel D'Aguilar, to sweep round and threaten the Enemy's right, while the other Squadron, Commanded by Major Smith, 2nd Dragoon Guards, with the two remaining light Guns under Major Yates, R. A., made a flank movement to the right, and watched his left.

14. The 9-Pounder Battery continued its fire, under cover of which the Infantry broke into open column of Companies right in front, and encircled the Enemy's left rear, in which direction, as far as could be distinguished through the dense brush jungle, which covered his front, his fire was gradually retrograding.

15. During this flank movement, the Squadron of the Bays, under Major Smith, seeing a Gun in their front, behind a breast-work on the Enemy's extreme left, and the intervening ground appearing favorable, attempted to charge it, but arriving suddenly in full career on a deep and impassable ravine, which had hitherto been hidden from their view, with a steadiness which reflects the greatest credit on them, pulled up and retired to their former position, in support of the Guns.

16. Meanwhile the left Squadron and Guns, under Colonel D'Aguilar, skirting the right of the jungle, entered and captured the Enemy's Camp, from which he retired precipitately abandoning Gun in his flight.

17. The Infantry, supported by the 9-Pounder Battery, moving steadily round the Enemy's left rear, came eventually on his line of retreat; but so rapid was his flight, that he was enabled to withdraw nearly all his Guns, and the skirmishers alone were able to close with the rear of the fugitives, of whom they shot and bayonnetted great numbers.

18. By this time the Cavalry and Horse Artillery Guns from both flanks having united, were ready to continue the pursuit, but so much had the difficult nature of the ground, every where intersected by ravines and the density of the jungles, impeded their movements, that darkness closed in before this junction was effected.

19. But the great result had been gained of the complete dislodgment of the Enemy from this strong position, with the loss of nearly 500 men in killed and wounded, while two Guns, much ammunition, and the whole of his Camp and Camp Equipage, fell into our hands. Our loss only amounted to 6 men wounded, 3 horses killed, and 4 wounded.

20. I have to record my obligations to Colonel Ingram, 97th Regiment, who Commanded the left Column of the Field Force engaged in this Action, and carried out any suggestions which I made to him in a manner which left nothing to be desired; to the Officer attached to him, Lieutenant S. Cary, 37th Regiment N. I., Staff Officer of the Column, and Lieutenant R. T. E. Hamilton, 97th Regiment, acting as his Orderly Officer.

21. Also to Lieutenant-Colonel Indra Singh, Commanding the Nepalese Troops, and Majors Chumpa Singh and Bheer Bickram, Commanding respectively the Burruj Bahadoor and Shere Goorkha Battalions. The steadiness under fire, cheerful alacrity, and great intelligence of

7. These Troops—detained by some delay at that place—having reached me on the night of the 22d, I moved out on the following morning, making a wide circuit towards Soraou, as if to turn the right flank of the Enemy's position, but actually to push a Reconnaissance towards that place, and ascertain whether there was any truth in a report that the Nazim

our Allies, excited my warmest admiration, and I have had much pleasure in communicating to His Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor the high opinion I entertain of those Regiments. The Officers attached to these Troops, Captain Miles, 23rd Regiment Native Infantry, in Military charge; Lieutenant Gully, 31st Native Infantry, acting with the left Battalion of Goorkhas, and Lieutenant Garden, have earned my best thanks. To the precision and rapidity of the fire of the Guns, both of Royal Horse, Madras, and Royal Foot Artillery, and that of the piece served by Goorkha Gunners, is to be attributed the rapid ejection of the Enemy from his strongly entrenched and nearly unapproachable position; and I beg to offer my acknowledgments to Lieutenant-Colonel D'Aguilar, C. B., R. H. A., Commanding the whole; to Major Cotter, Madras Artillery, whose Guns were manoeuvred and served in a manner that calls for my special notice; and to Captain Thring, R. A., in charge of three 9-Pounders. Major Smith, Commanding the two Squadrons 2nd Dragoon Guards, and Lieutenant-Colonel Leigh, Commanding 97th Regiment, acquitted themselves to my entire satisfaction.

The perfect steadiness under fire of the Bays was most remarkable in such young Soldiers, and the destructive fire of the Rifle skirmishers of the 97th Regiment reflected the greatest credit on the attention which has been paid to their instruction.

22. Mr. Mayne, Joint Magistrate of Gopeegunge, Messrs. Jenkinson and Elliott, Civil Service, and Mr. Carnegie, Head of the Intelligence Department, afforded me the most important information (of which the result proved the perfect accuracy) regarding the Enemy's position. They assisted in carrying my orders, and in every respect rendered me great assistance.

The two latter accompanied the right Squadron of Bays in their charge.

23. The Officers of my Personal Staff, Captain Havelock, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General (who, guided by Messrs. Mayne, Jenkinson and Elliott, reconnoitered the Enemy's position); Lieutenant J. Wall, 87th Fusiliers, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Henderson, 10th Foot, A. D. C.; and Lieutenant Innes, Field Engineer, gave me every aid in their respective positions.

24. Yesterday I moved to Soraou, which was found completely deserted by the Enemy, who have retired across the Oude Frontier, entirely evacuating the Allahabad District, this part of which they have so long infested with impunity.

25. The Enemy's Camp at Nusrutpore was burnt, with the exception of the Nazim's Durbar Tent, which has been sent in to Allahabad, and Beni Bahadoor Singh's stronghold has been destroyed.

26. The Civil Authority has been re-established at Soraou, and I have requested that it may be occupied by a Detachment of Sikhs from Allahabad.

No. 310 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report of an attack made by a party of the 1st Sikh Irregular Cavalry upon a party of Insurgents near the village of Secunderpore, in Oude :—
To THE MAJOR OF BRIGADE, CAWNPORE.

Camp Cawnpore, 26th January 1858.
SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier Commanding at Cawnpore, that, in accordance with my instructions, I started yesterday evening for the village of Secunderpore, with 100 (one hundred) men. On arrival at that place, I found that the Rebels had retired to a Garden about three miles off, where they were encamped to the number of about 300 (three hundred). As I received information there, that the party from Oonow was on its way back to that place, I at once pushed on, taking with me 100 (one hundred) matchlock-men. We took the Rebels by surprise and succeeded in cutting up about 40 (forty), the rest making their escape in the high cultivation.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

A. R. D. MACKENZIE, Lieutenant.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, FORT ST. GEORGE, 1st March 1858.

The following General Orders issued by His Excellency the Commander in Chief of India, are published for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 12th February 1858.

At a General Court Martial assembled at Cawnpore, on Friday the 18th day of December 1857, Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, was arraigned on the following Charges:—

1st.—That the said Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, grossly neglected his duty and disobeyed orders, in having, at Cawnpore, on or about the 8th December 1857, failed to afford medical aid to the sick and wounded Sikh Soldiers placed under his charge; in consequence of which neglect and disobedience, the aforesaid sick and wounded Soldiers remained for about twenty-four hours without proper medical assistance: such conduct being to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline, and highly unbecoming a Medical Officer.

2d.—That the said Assistant Surgeon Robertson, at Cawnpore, on the morning of the 9th December 1857, disobeyed the repeated orders of the Field Surgeon Diaper, of the Cawnpore field force, his superior Officer, to go then and there and attend upon the sick and wounded Sikh Soldiers placed under his charge, and disrespectfully said, when Field Surgeon Diaper threatened to report him to Army Head Quarters,—“I don't care a snuff”—or words to that effect; such conduct being highly insubordinate, and unbecoming a Medical Officer.

Finding—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence adduced, both on part of the prosecution and defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner, Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, is, not Guilty of the 1st Charge, and do therefore acquit him of the same; Guilty of the Second Charge; with the exception of the words “disobeyed the repeated orders of Field Surgeon Diaper, of the Cawnpore field force, his superior Officer,” of which it does acquit him.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner, Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, Guilty to the extent above stated, does sentence him, the said Assistant Surgeon Charles Robertson, of the 1st European Madras Fusiliers, to be severely reprimanded.

Revised Finding.—The Court having reconsidered the whole of the evidence before it, begs most respectfully to adhere to its former finding on both Charges.

REMARKS BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

The Commander in Chief is unable to accord his approval to the finding on the Second Charge, the evidence on which, in His Excellency's opinion, was quite sufficient for conviction; and in promulgating this decision, His Excellency cannot avoid remarking that it will be impossible for him to maintain the discipline of this Army, if Officers will not assist in upholding his endeavours to check and punish known misconduct.

(Signed) C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander in Chief, East Indies.

Assistant Surgeon Robertson, is to be released from arrest, and directed to return to his duty.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

10TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 9TH MARCH 1858.

No. 86 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Camp Allahabad, the 12th February 1858.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to publish for general information, the following Despatch from Lieutenant Colonel P. V. Maxwell, C. B., 88th Regiment, dated 4th February 1858.

FROM LIEUTENANT COLONEL P. V. MAXWELL, C. B., 88th Regiment, Commanding Detachment.

TO BRIGADIER J. E. W. INGLIS, Commanding at Cawnpore.

Camp Bhognepore, 4th February 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to report that the Enemy from Calpee attacked our position at 5 o'clock this morning. From the nature of the ground, which is much broken, and from the cover afforded by the Crops which are high, it is impossible to compute their numbers; but from the extent of ground which they occupied, they must have been in considerable force.

I advanced with 5 Companies of the 88th Regiment, 2 Guns of Royal Artillery (9-Pounders) under Captain Talbot, and 50 Sowars under Lieutenant Thompson. We defeated the Enemy, and had a running fight of four hours. They disputed every inch of the ground, making a stand at Chowra, a village three miles from this place. We pursued them as long as possible, and they retreated across the river, keeping up the fire of their skirmishers to the very last.

I am happy to say my casualties are but few. Lieutenant Thompson, Commanding the Sowars, was severely wounded in the leg, and his horse was twice wounded; 3 Sowars are wounded (slightly), 1 Private, 88th Regiment, dangerously wounded; 1 Private 88th Regiment, slightly wounded.

About 80 dead bodies of the Enemy were counted by my Officers,—all Sepoys.

Where all behaved well it is difficult to particularise; but I think it due to Major the Hon'ble J. J. Bourke, to bear testimony to the gallant and able manner in which he led on the skirmishers, and drove the Enemy out of the village of Chowra.

Forwarded by order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

Head Quarters; Camp Cawnpore, the 8th February 1858.

To Colonel R. J. H. BIRCH, C. B., Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Mil. Dept., Allahabad.

Camp Allahabad, 15th February 1858.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great satisfaction in publishing for general information, the subjoined Despatch from the Governor General's Agent in Central India, dated the 3d Instant, reporting the relief of the Fortress of Saugor by the Force under the Command of Major General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B.

The Governor General desires to record publicly his acknowledgment of the courage and constancy with which Brigadier Sage has, with a small and inadequate Garrison, held the Fort of Saugor during upwards of seven months under trying circumstances; and of the bravery and exemplary endurance with which the Brigadier has been, throughout that period, so well supported by the Officers and Men of the 1st Company, 3d Battalion of Artillery, by those of the 31st Regiment N. I., by the Officers and some of the Men of the 42nd Regiment N. I., and the 3d Irregular Cavalry, as well as by the Officers of the several Departments of the Staff and the Civil Establishments.

No. 36 of 1858.

FROM SIR ROBERT HAMILTON, *Baronet, Agent to the G. G. for Central India.*TO G. F. EDMONSTONE, Esq., *Secy. to the Govt. of India,*FORT WILLIAM, INDORE RESIDENCY, Camp Saugor, 3rd February 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE much satisfaction in reporting, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, that the second Division of the Central India Force, under the Command of Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B., relieved Saugor this morning, emancipated the Officers and Men with their families, who had for seven months been confined to the Fort, and enabled them to return and occupy their barracks and residences in the Cantonments.

2. I have the honor to annex a list of European British subjects in, and not in, the Government Service, who have thus been relieved from all peril after an anxious and trying confinement in a Fort, during the most inclement months of the year,* little adapted for the residence of Europeans, without much more than bare necessities, and deprived of the ordinary conveniences and comforts which are absolutely necessary in this country.

* 29th June 1857 to 3rd February 1858.

3. The mortality during this period has amounted to twenty-two: of these some were from cholera and small pox—which terrible diseases broke out in the Fort.

4. As we approached the Town, I may say the whole native population, in addition to the Europeans (Ladies and all), came out to welcome the Column, whose arrival spread the greatest joy and confidence amongst all classes.

5. On its march from Raatghur no opposition was encountered; but on the 31st Ultimo, information was brought to me that the Rebels had collected in some force beyond Jilla, about twelve miles from our Camp at Raatghur towards Korye. I immediately communicated the same to Sir Hugh Rose, who at once arranged to attack them. The result was very successful: the Rebels were driven with much loss from their strong position in the village of Burodia, and for some distance across the river; and they evacuated Korye (which has been occupied by some of the Regent of Bhopal's Troops) as well as Nurioli and Bhoplye, two positions from whence they had threatened and molested Saugor, stopping all communication by the direct road via Bhopal and Sehore to Indore and Mhow.

6. I trust I may be permitted to offer my congratulations to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, on this relief of the last remaining station wherein our countrywomen and so many children had been beleaguered. The Officers of the Native Corps, the Civil Establishments, and the Europeans of the Company of Artillery who have so long held the Fort of Saugor, have well performed their duty, and their conduct will, I am sure, receive the approbation of His Lordship in Council. Cut off from all communication, and with the knowledge that succour could not be sent them for many weeks, they have nobly maintained the character of their country, and added another to the many instances of devotion and firmness which the Sepoy mutinies have elicited.

7. I have appended a Nominal Roll of the Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the 1st Company, 3rd Battalion, of Bengal Artillery, who were in the Fort of Saugor.

8. Brigadier Sage resigned the Command yesterday before our arrival, Brigadier Wheler having taken the Command of the Division. He is expected here in a couple of days.

I have, &c.,

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 22d February 1858.

No. 315 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council directs the publication of the following Report of the operations of the Cavalry Brigade under Brigadier, now Brigadier General, Hope Grant, C. B. :—

TO MAJOR H. W. NORMAN, Asst. Adjt. General of the Army, Head Quarters.

Camp, Fattyghur, 10th January 1858.

SIR,—In compliance with the orders received from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, through you, I have the honor to forward a Report of the operations of the Cavalry Brigade at Delhi, in pursuit of the Mutineers down the Doab, and up to the time His Excellency joined the Force on the other side of the Ganges, on the way to Lucknow.

When this serious disturbance broke out H. M.'s 9th Lancers and two Troops of Horse Artillery constituted the European portion of the Force at Umballa, the remainder consisting of the 4th Light Cavalry (Lancers), the 5th, and 60th Regiments N. I.

Shortly after the news of the proceedings at Meerut and Delhi reached the Station, symptoms of disaffection on the part of these two Native Infantry Regiments became apparent: doubts also were entertained regarding the spirit of the Native Cavalry, and it behoved that the greatest watchfulness should be maintained by the European Troops, in expectation of an outbreak. They were, therefore, constantly, day and night, under arms, and at all times ready for immediate action, had such been necessary; indeed, on Sunday the 10th May and on two or three other occasions, these Troops actually were in saddle.

The probability of any movement of these Native Troops wore off as portions of the European Infantry Regiments in the Hill Stations moved down to Umballa. By the end of the month of May a small compact Column had been assembled, and H. M.'s 9th Lancers formed the Cavalry of this Force. The 4th Light Cavalry (Lancers) were detached on duty to Saharunpore and other places in the vicinity of Umballa, except the Head Quarters and one Squadron, which accompanied the Force as far, towards Delhi, as Allipore, whence it proceeded to Meerut via Baghput.

At Allipore, early in June, this Force, Commanded by Major-General Sir H. Barnard, K. C. B., was joined by that from Meerut, under Brigadier A. Wilson, and two Squadrons of the 6th Dragoon Guards, Carabineers, under Lieutenant-Colonel Custance, were added to the Cavalry.

These Squadrons had already, on the banks of the Hindun, had the opportunity, twice, of meeting the Mutineers, and had, under their able Commander, rendered essential service on each occasion.

The Rebels and Mutineers, having taken up a strong position, defended by Artillery, at a place named Badul-ke-Serai, about five miles from Delhi, the Force moved to its attack on the morning of the 8th June. Three Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, Commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Yule, and two Troops of Horse Artillery were detached very early in the morning by the bank of the Canal to turn the Enemy's left. These Troops attained their point shortly after the attack commenced in front, and were soon in action. Two Squadrons and a portion of the Horse Artillery were very gallantly and successfully led by Lieutenant-Colonel Yule. The Cavalry charged the Rebels and rode through them. Lieutenant Jones, of the 9th Lancers, with his Squadron, captured one of their Guns, killing the Drivers, and, with Lieutenant-Colonel Yule's assistance, turned it upon a village occupied by the Rebels, who were quickly dislodged. This was a well-conceived act gallantly executed. The remainder of the Horse Artillery, for a short period got into very difficult ground, from which they took time to extricate themselves. The other Squadron of the 9th Lancers was left for their protection.

The Squadrons of the Carabineers and 4th Squadron of the 9th Lancers were with the main body of our Troops, and did good service. The Carabineers, from the right of our line, drove the Rebels after they had broken across the Canal. The Rebels having been driven out of Badul-ka-Serai, a hot pursuit, towards Delhi, was taken up but chiefly by the Infantry and Horse Artillery as the ground on each side the road was covered by houses and enclosures.

The operations of the day terminated by the firm possession, by the British Troops, of the heights before Delhi.

From this period, during all the Siege, nearly the whole of the outpost duties fell to the lot of the Cavalry. This duty was a very arduous one. The Rebels were constantly threatening our right flank in particular, and our rear, so that both by day and night the Cavalry were liable to be and were frequently turned out, and were necessarily held always in readiness.

On the 12th June the Guide Corps joined the Camp,—a very fine body, numbering about 260 men of Irregular Cavalry, Commanded by Captain Daly. This Corps had already achieved a high renown by its excellent service in the Punjab; and had, soon after reaching Delhi, an opportunity of displaying its excellent qualities, as on the 19th a very serious attack was made on our rear, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, by a strong Force of the Rebels with a numerous Artillery, who had posted their main body in a village beyond the Ochterlony Garden. Immediately on the commencement of the attack I moved out with the Cavalry and a portion of the Artillery; parties of whom acting on either flank of the garden named, drove the Enemy's Skirmishers back upon their position, and held them in check until the rest of the Artillery and the whole of the available portion of our small Force of Infantry could come up.

The ground was very disadvantageous for Cavalry, being much intersected by walls of gardens &c.; but two Squadrons of the gallant 9th Lancers, and the Guide Cavalry on our left, delivered a most successful charge, right at the Enemy, and drove them back completely. In this charge, I grieve to say, the 9th Lancers lost their gallant leader, Lieutenant-Colonel Yule, who was killed;—an excellent Officer, full of military ardour and zeal. The Regiment has to mourn in him the loss of one of its very bravest and most efficient Officers. Captain Daly also, leading his Guides, was severely wounded by a musket shot which, for the rest of the Siege, deprived the Corps and the Service at large of a most energetic, experienced Officer.

Ere the above was accomplished, evening had closed in, and soon it became too dark to distinguish friend from foe. The Enemy retired to their village, leaving a Gun and limber with its ammunition carriage on the ground. These were brought into our Camp on the following morning.

In my Despatch reporting this action, I had the sincere gratification of naming two Privates of the 9th Lancers, who had displayed signal gallantry in the fight,—Privates Thomas Hancock, who lost an arm on the occasion, and John Furell, who had his horse shot under him, and was, I regret to say, afterwards killed at the assault of Delhi. Sir Henry Barnard was pleased to recommend that the Victoria Cross should be conferred on both. A Private Sowar also, named Rooper Khan, of the 4th Irregular Cavalry, my Orderly at the time, displayed great bravery and devotion in offering me his horse when my own had been killed under me and was chiefly instrumental in aiding my escape from the midst of the Enemy. I am happy in being able to record his promotion to Duffadar, and his admission to the Order of Merit in reward of such excellent conduct.

About this period other Regiments joined the Cavalry Force; portions of the 1st, 2nd and 5th Regiments of Punjab Cavalry, and Hodson's Horse. The latter consisted entirely of new Levies; but have since greatly improved and become useful Troops. The Squadron Commanded by Lieutenant Gough has, under my own observation, performed very valuable service, and their gallantry has been conspicuously noticed in a Despatch of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. The Punjab Corps, under their distinguished leaders, Lieutenant Watson, Lieutenant Nicolson afterwards, and at the present time Captain Probyn and Lieutenant Younghusband, have proved themselves admirable Soldiers. Confident in their Officers and assured of victory, these Troops have never hesitated to attack the Hindustani Horsemen in any odds, and have invariably forced them to give way.

On the 9th July a party of the 9th Irregular Cavalry, whose conduct I had been for some time doubtful of, proved themselves false to their oath of allegiance, and a Picquet on duty on the right flank of the Camp admitted a Force of the Enemy's Cavalry within their post. These Horsemen entered the Camp, fought desperately, and tried to take away a Battery of Guns. They also rode up to a Picquet where we had two heavy Guns placed in position, intending to spike them; but they were gallantly withstood by a party of the 9th Lancers under Command of Lieutenant Martin, who prevented the attack being made. I beg to be allowed to copy part of a letter written to me by Captain Light, of the Bengal Artillery, the Officer in Command of the Picquet:—

"I believe that to the prompt manner in which Lieutenant Martin got his party under arms, and the bold way in which he placed them between the Enemy and the rear of my Battery, both myself and the party of Artillery under my Command are indebted for escaping from an attack which must have been disastrous."

The Cavalry were frequently employed during the Siege of Delhi in escort and patrolling duties, occasionally making distant reconnaissances; and in the month of August Lieutenant Hodson, with 200 of his own men and a Squadron of Guide Cavalry, proceeded to Rohtuck, where he fell in with a party of the Rebels and discomfited them, killing several; on one occasion, a Ressaldar and 25 men of Irregular Cavalry whom he had surprised. Lieutenant Hodson displayed great intelligence and alacrity in this duty, extricating himself from more than one perilous position, and on his return to Camp was able to give valuable information of the state of the Districts he had passed through.

The Cavalry were also able to afford assistance to the Artillery in the trenches, in consequence of numerous casualties and sickness having reduced their numbers and rendered the duties very severe. I was requested by Major-General Wilson, at this time in Command, to furnish men from the Carabineers Evans, of the 9th Lancers, who volunteered their services on this duty. Nothing could be better or more praiseworthy than the way in which the men of these two Regiments vied with each other day and night in the performance of this severe work, and I beg to be allowed to record here extracts from the Despatches of Major-General A. Wilson, Commanding the Force, and of Major Brind, of the Artillery who Commanded in the Batteries and witnessed their conduct:—

"I should neither be fulfilling the repeatedly expressed wishes of the Artillery Officers attached to this Force, nor following the dictates of my own inclination, if I failed to acknowledge the valuable assistance which has, throughout the operations before Delhi, been most cheerfully given by the Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of H. M.'s 9th Lancers and the 6th Dragoon Guards in working the Batteries. Without it, owing to the comparatively small number of Artillerymen, I should have been quite unable to man the Batteries efficiently, or keep up the heavy fire which, aided by these men, I have happily been able to do.

(Signed) A. WILSON, Major-General, Commanding Delhi Field Force."

"In expressing the high satisfaction I experienced in observing the zealous performance of duty on the part of the Foot Artillery with the Army of Delhi, I consider it incumbent on me to bring to the special notice of Major-General A. Wilson, the Officers and Men of the 9th Lancers, who were employed in the Batteries as Artillery-men under my Command and observation; Lieutenants Evans and Blair are deserving of honorable mention for the zealous and cheerful performance of their duties.

"The coolness and bravery of Officers and Men in situations of extreme danger, whilst engaged in a novel duty, called forth the admiration of all who witnessed it, and especially of those who had the satisfaction of serving with them.

(Signed) T. BRIND, Major, Comdg. Foot Arty. & No. 1 Battery."

At 2 o'clock, on the morning of the day of assault, all the Artillerymen, with the exception of two Sergeants, had been withdrawn for other duties, and the Guns in the 24-Pounder Breaching Battery were manned by 30 men of the 9th Royal Lancers. Their services were acknowledged by the Assistant Adjutant General of Artillery in the following letter to myself, a part of which I have the honor to copy:—

"Taking advantage of the darkness, the Enemy had during the night crowned the breach in the Cashmere Curtain with gabions and fascines, which we discovered at daybreak, and as they would have presented a very serious obstacle to our assaulting parties, it was absolutely necessary to clear them away before the attack took place.

"Through the zeal, and intelligence of your men, who worked like trained Artillerymen, I was enabled to accomplish this with perfect success, and Sir Archdale Wilson personally thanked them when he came down to the Battery for the very admirable services they had performed.

(Signed) G. B. JOHNSON, Asst. Adj. Genl. of Arty., Late Comdg. 24-Pr. Battery."

A few men of the Carabineers and 10 men of the 9th Lancers also did permanent duty,—the former with Major Tombs' and the latter with Major Turner's Troops of Horse Artillery, in which they took their regular tour of all duties, and rendered by their ready willingness and intelligence, most useful and efficient aid, for which these Officers have expressed their thankfulness.

On the 14th September, the assault on the City of Delhi commenced, in which 600 of the Cavalry,—200 of whom were of the 9th Lancers and the rest Punjab Irregular Cavalry,—took part. To their lot it fell to cover the Attacking Columns and our principal Batteries from the Enemy without the walls of the place, and strongly posted near the Lahore Gate and in the Kishengunge Suburb. Nothing could exceed the noble conduct of all, both Native and European. In a position whence, from the nature of the ground, they could make no attack, these gallant Troops were exposed for two hours to a very severe fire both of Artillery and Infantry. In their front, the Enemy, flushed with success after having maintained their position at Kishengunge in face of an attempt to dislodge them by a small Column of our Troops from the right of Camp, moved down and occupied a small village about a hundred yards from the walls, with two 18-Pounders, which were in time silenced and spiked by our Horse Artillery; but on our right flank the fire of Artillery and Musketry from the Kishengunge Suburb which could not be kept down, as also from the Lahore Bastion, which had not fallen into our possession, was most galling. My A. D. C., Captain the Hon'ble A. Anson, was wounded in the hand, and Captain Prosser, 6th Dragoon Guards, Acting A. D. C., was dangerously wounded in the hand by a musket ball. The 9th Lancers were in first line supported by the Punjab Cavalry, and nothing could be finer than the unflinching coolness with which all these gallant Soldiers held this trying position. Nothing daunted by the numerous casualties and the certainty that they had only to endure; when I felt it my duty to praise their steady behaviour, they declared their willingness and determination to stand the fire as long as need be. The conduct of all—European and Native, Officers and Men—was most admirable. On this occasion the 9th Lancers were Commanded, with great coolness and judgment, by Captain Drysdale, a most gallant Officer, whose name I wish to bring under the favorable notice of His Excellency the Commander in Chief. The remainder of the Cavalry, under Command of Captain Anson, 9th Lancers, stopped behind for the protection of the Camp, which required the greatest vigilance and attention, and which was successfully performed. Until the final and complete fall of the City of Delhi on the 20th, the Cavalry were employed in protecting the Camp and covering the road leading therefrom to the Cashmere Gate, and on two occasions a Force made reconnaissances towards the Southern face of the City.

Hodson's Horse was employed in following up the retreat of the Enemy from Delhi, and owing to the activity and keen intelligence of their leader, succeeded in capturing the King of Delhi, who was brought in a prisoner; and a few days after, three of the King's sons were killed by them near Humayun's tomb. This Officer, with his Horsemen, was exceedingly useful in beating up the hiding places of the Rebels in the immediate neighbourhood of the City, and rendered most valuable service.

The portion of H. M.'s Carabineers were shortly detached with the Column under Brigadier Showers that operated to the West of the Jumna, and I regret to say I have no means at this time of placing on record the nature of the service they met with. Their previous history warrants me in the belief that they have surely sustained the good name they have so long and deservedly borne.

After the capture of Delhi, a Moveable Column, under Command of Brigadier Greathed, was despatched across the Jumna, and the following Corps of Cavalry formed part—H. M.'s 9th Lancers, Commanded by Captain Drysdale, and a Squadron each of the 1st Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant Watson, 2nd Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant Probyn, 5th Punjab Cavalry under Lieutenant Younghusband, Hodson's Horse under Lieutenant Gough, the whole under Command of Major Ouvry, of the 9th Lancers, a most energetic, useful and brave Officer.

The Column left Delhi on the 24th September, and on the 28th encountered the Rebels and Mutineers at Bolundshuhur, where they had taken up a formidable position among the gardens and enclosures of the Civil Cantonment, having the Town in their rear. After having been beaten out of their position, the Cavalry were ordered to drive them out of the Town, and part of the 9th Lancers proceeded down one street, while another portion of the same Regiment, under Lieutenant Sarel, supported by Younghusband's Horse, took another road, the remainder of the Punjab Cavalry moving round outside the Town. This hazardous duty for Cavalry was ably executed. Captain Drysdale's Column pushed its way through, and discovered the Enemy reforming outside the Town. Preparing to return, they were instantly charged and dispersed. In this charge Captain Drysdale's horse was killed, and in falling that Officer's collar-bone was broken. Two men of the 9th Lancers—Lance Corporal Kells and Private Jordan—most gallantly extricated and brought away their Commander. Lieutenant Sarel was also successful, and cleared the portion of the Town through which he led his Squadrons; but in the act of running a Sepoy through, was shot in the hand and arm, and had one of his fingers blown away. Cornet Thonger was also wounded in the arm slightly. A most gallant feat was here performed by Lieutenant Blair, since exchanged into the 2nd Dragoon Guards, who was ordered to take a party of 1 Sergeant Lance Corporal Clancey was left as a vidette at a Nullah a short distance off.

This gallant young Officer is, I am thankful, doing well at Meerut, and will, I trust, be shortly restored to the Service in which his early career gives promise of distinction. Serjeant Shaw, of this party, also behaved in the most gallant manner. One of the men, Lance Corporal Andrews, lost his horse from falling with him. Serjeant pulled up between him and the Enemy, and enabled him to effect his escape. The Serjeant's horse was wounded on the occasion, and if it had not been for a party of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry, under Lieutenant Watson, coming up at the moment to their support, both these men would undoubtedly have lost their lives. Lieutenant Younghusband's Squadron charged a large body, and killed about 80 of the Enemy; and the remainder of the Punjaub Cavalry cut up many more outside the Town.

On the 6th October the Column again attacked the Mutineers and Rebels at Allygunh, and the Cavalry, Commanded by Major Ouvry, passing round the Town, fell in with them in retreat, and cut down about 200.

On the 8th the Punjaub Corps were sent to a village named Akbarapore, belonging to two notorious Rebels, Mungul Sein and Acbar Sein, whom they hoped to surprise. This was so well accomplished that both these Chiefs were killed and upwards of a hundred of their armed followers, our Cavalry having completely surrounded the village ere their approach was known.

On the following morning the Column moved to Bidgghur, about forty-four miles distant from the Parade ground at Agra, whence, at the urgent summons of the Chief Commissioner for its immediate march, it proceeded with the utmost rapidity, and reached the Station on the 10th after a long and harassing march. Every thing had been reported quiet there, and although a strong Force of the Enemy was believed to be within ten or eleven miles of the place, no apprehension of any immediate attack existed.

The Regiment had hardly arrived and taken up the encamping ground on the Grand Parade, when four men, disguised as fakirs, beating tom-toms came up to the Quarter Guard of the 9th Lancers. The Serjeant desired them to go away, but one of the villains drew a tulwar and cut him down, then attacked another Serjeant and a Corporal, both of whom were wounded; but the Gaurd then moving out, all were killed. Hardly had this transpired, when Artillery concealed in the high Bajra Fields, opened from different positions a cross fire upon the few tents pitched, causing some loss. In a moment every Soldier stood to his arms. The Artillery from their Parks, while their horses were being put to, returned the fire. The Cavalry were quickly mounted, and ere a few minutes had elapsed, the Troops were prepared to repel the attack.

The Enemy's Cavalry, about 300 in number, hoping to find us unprepared, came round by our left flank and made a rush upon the Camp but were most gallantly met and repulsed by a Squadron of the 9th Lancers, led by Captain French. This enabled the Artillery and the remainder of the Force to prepare to attack the Enemy's position; but I grieve to state that this advantage was purchased at the cost of Captain French's life who fell, mortally wounded, in this charge, and the 9th Lancers lost a brave daring Officer, of ripe judgment, highly valued by the Regiment. Lieutenant Jones also, whom I have before mentioned was severely wounded; he was wounded by a shot, cut down and afterwards received twenty-two sword cuts in different parts of his body. This young Officer had so far through this Campaign given evidence of the possession of many high Military qualities. Ever foremost in danger, ready to undergo any hardship having been employed. He will, I have every hope, be restored to health.

About this period of the action, one of our Guns, of which all the Drivers and Gunners had been wounded, fell into the hands of the Enemy; but was recovered by a gallant charge of a Squadron of the 9th Lancers, under Lieutenant Wilkinson, detached for this object from the rest of the Corps by Captain Anson, who moved in support.

After this our Troops being well in hand, moved to an organized attack, and drove off the Enemy capturing their Guns in different places until their Camp was reached, whence the Enemy, being in full retreat, were pursued by the Artillery and Cavalry as far as the Kharee Nuddee, ten miles, capturing Baggage, the remainder of their Guns, killing many, and entirely dispersing the whole Force. The Irregular Cavalry made a most dashing charge at a Regiment of Infantry, drawn up to cover three heavy Guns. They drove them away, cut up a number, and took the Guns.

Their intended surprise of our Troops turned out evidently a surprise to themselves, as they could not have calculated on the presence of Brigadier Greathed's Column. Guns, Ammunition, Stores, and Standing Camp, all fell into our hands. The victory was complete.

On the 14th the Column re-crossed the Jumna, and proceeded by the Mynpoorie road towards Cawnpore.

Having been appointed to the Command, I was enabled, after some difficulty, accompanied by my Brigade Major, Captain Hamilton, to join the Force on the 18th October.

The Column moved on by forced marches, and arrived near Kanouj on the 22nd, when information reached me that a small Force of the Enemy, with 4 Guns, had that morning left the Town with the purpose of crossing the Kali Nuddee, about two miles off. I immediately ordered off one Squadron 9th Lancers, with Watson's, Probyn's and Younghusband's Squadrons, with 2 Guns, the whole under Major Ouvry's Command, myself following in support with another Squadron of the 9th Lancers and 2 other Guns. Major Ouvry came up with them, attempting to cross the Nuddee. The enemy opened fire, which was quickly replied to and silenced, and their Guns taken. Major Ouvry had most successfully and with his usual gallantry, attacked them in a position where little resistance could be made. The Cavalry after this pursued them to the banks of the Ganges, executing great slaughter among them, and finally driving them into the river, in which several were drowned.

The Column pursued its march to Cawnpore, where it arrived on the 26th October, crossed the Ganges into Oude, and was engaged at Banterah on the 2nd November. In this skirmish the Cavalry and Horse Artillery endeavoured to come to close combat with the Enemy: but they would not stand; a 9-Pounder Gun was, however captured.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief shortly after assumed Command of the Troops in the Field, and the career and conduct of the Cavalry since have been under his own observation. I must, however, before closing this Report, beg permission to bring prominently forward, for His Excellency's consideration, the names of four very gallant young Officers, whose acts of bravery may, I trust, be deemed by the Commander-in-Chief such as to merit his recommending the bestowal of the Victoria Cross.

These Officers are Lieutenant Blair, 2nd Dragoon Guards, and Lieutenant Jones, 9th Lancers. The particular instances of acts of bravery on their part I have already mentioned. The other two are Captain Probyn, of the 2nd, and Lieutenant Watson, of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry. Captain Probyn has been distinguished for gallantry and daring throughout this Campaign. At the battle of Agra, when his Squadron charged the Rebel Infantry, he was some time separated from his men and surrounded by five or six Sepoys. He defended himself from the various cuts made at him, and before his own men joined him had cut down two of his assailants. At another time, in single combat with a Sepoy, he was wounded in the wrist by the bayonet and his horse also slightly wounded; but, though the Sepoy fought desperately, he cut him down. The same day he singled out a standard bearer, and in the presence of a number of the Enemy killed him and captured the standard. These are only a few of the gallant deeds of this brave young Officer. Skilful in the use of his sword and spear, and an excellent horseman, his active courage and coolness in conflict have borne him safely through many combats.

Lieutenant Watson, on the 14th November, with his own Squadron, and that under Captain (then Lieut.) Probyn, came upon a body of the Rebel Cavalry. The Ressaldar in Command of them—a fine specimen of the Hindustani Mussulman—and backed up by some half dozen equally brave men,—rode out to the front. Lieutenant Watson singled out this fine-looking fellow and attacked him. The Ressaldar presented his pistol at Lieutenant Watson's breast, at a yard's distance, and fired; but most providentially without effect; the ball must, by accident, have previously fallen out. Lieutenant Watson ran the man through with the sword and dismounted him; but the Native Officer, nothing daunted, drew his tulwar, and with his Sowars renewed his attack upon Lieutenant Watson, who bravely defended himself until his own men joined in the melee and utterly routed the party. In this rencontre Lieutenant Watson received a blow on the head from a tulwar, another on his left arm which severed his chain gauntlet glove, a tulwar cut on his right arm which fortunately only divided the sleeve of his jacket, but disabled the arm for some time; a bullet also passed through his coat, and he received a blow on his leg which lamed him for some days afterwards. His charger too was grazed by a bullet. On many other occasions, his good sword wielded by a strong arm, directed by a brave heart and cool head has laid low many an opponent in fair combat.

Nothing could have exceeded in gallantry and daring the conduct of all the four Officers whom I have thus prominently brought to notice.

I beg also to mention the excellent service and assistance I have on all occasions received from my Brigade Major (now Deputy Assistant Adjutant General of Division) Captain W. Hamilton, 9th Lancers, throughout the whole campaign. His exertions have been unceasing. He is brave, cool and collected in action, and at all times unremitting in attention to his duties, from which, in spite of the severity of the hot season and rains upon the constitution of so many, he was never day or night absent when called upon.

My Aide-de-Camp also, Captain the Honorable A. Anson, I wish to bring particularly to the favorable notice of His Excellency. His conduct has been most praiseworthy throughout the whole campaign. Animated by a most soldier-like spirit, active and intelligent, I have found him a most useful aid, and on all occasions my orders have been delivered with precision; and his own gallantry and bravery have been universally remarked upon. He was wounded at the assault of Delhi by a musket ball in the hand; but has, I am happy to say, some time since recovered and returned to his duty.

In conclusion I desire to express my obligation to the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of both European and Native Cavalry under my Command for their excellent conduct and ready obedience under all circumstances. Their qualities as Soldiers have been fully tested by exposure to hardships during all seasons of the year in this trying climate, and by all other vicissitudes of a Soldier's career, and in no instance have they failed to fulfil their duty, and deserve my highest commendations.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Camp, Allahabad, 22d February 1858.

No. 11 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great satisfaction in publishing, for general information, the subjoined Reports of an action fought with the Rebels at Anuntram on the 7th Instant, by Alexander's Horse, and a body of Zemindaree Troops led by Mr. A. O. Hume, Magistrate of Etawah, the whole under the Command of Captain Alexander.

The Governor General entirely concurs with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in considering this affair to reflect the highest credit on Captain Alexander and Mr. Hume, as well as Mr. Maconochie, who, with conspicuous bravery and cool determination, led their men against the very superior numbers of the Rebels, and obtained a signal victory over them.

Letter dated 8th February, and plan of ground, from A. O. Hume, Esquire.

With report of an action fought by Alexander's Horse with the Rebels at Anuntram.

SIR,—I AM desired, by the Commander-in-Chief, to transmit, in original, the documents noted in the margin, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, and to request you will be good enough to bring to the especial notice of His Lordship, the extremely gallant conduct of Mr. Hume and Captain Alexander, under the circumstances detailed by these Officers. His Excellency considers the whole affair to reflect much credit on them, and on those who acted with such bravery under their orders.

BRIGADE HEAD QRS. FORT FUTTEHGURH, The 12th February 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the accompanying Despatches in original, (two in number,) received from Captain Alexander, Commanding Irregular Horse at Etawah, and Mr. Hume, Magistrate at that Station, giving an account of an action fought by them with the Rebels at Anuntram near Etawah, over whom they gained a complete victory.

2. The Despatches speak for themselves, and I need not bring to the notice of His Excellency the great gallantry and judgment displayed by Messrs. Hume and Maconochie, or Captain Alexander's nerve in consenting to the attack against such odds.

3. I think Captain Alexander could not have received a letter I sent him, prohibiting an attack on these people; but as it has turned out, the victory will be most useful, and tend in a great measure to ensure the tranquillity of the Etawah District.

I have, &c.,

T. SEATON, Brigadier, Comdg. the Futtehghur District.

To CAPTAIN HAWES, Major of Brigade, Futtehgurh.

Camp, Etawah, 8th February 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier Commanding, that deeming it advisable to visit my outpost at Bukewar, and also reconnoitre the Enemy's position at Anuntram, I proceeded yesterday morning, at day-light, with a party of 30 Sowars of my Regiment, and accompanied by Mr. Hume, the Magistrate, and Mr. Maconochie, the Deputy Magistrate of Etawah.

Ordering the Picquet of 30 Rank and File of my Regiment, and 80 Sowars of the Etawah Local Horse, stationed at Bukewar, to fall in, we proceeded to Anuntram, distant 6 miles. We arrived there about $\frac{1}{2}$ past 9 A. M., and found about 700 Matchlockmen, belonging to different loyal Zemindars, ready to join us.

We moved on at once to the Enemy's position, which was about a mile from Anuntram, and found them very strongly posted, stronger than we were led to believe from reports. Their right resting on the Cawnpore road, occupied a large tope of mangoe trees with a wall of 6 feet all round, and a small ditch in front; their left on a village (Phoolpore), and every grove and field between occupied by them. Their right was the chief position, and looked most formidable, the enclosure swarming with the Enemy, and one Gun facing down the road towards us.

Having reconnoitred, and having been offered the loan of a Gun from Anuntram, we came to the decision of attacking the place. Having shown ourselves to the Enemy, it appeared to us that the effect on the Country around would be very bad did we retire without attempting something; so I formed the Cavalry into three Troops; my own men I took opposite the right rear of the Enemy's entrenchment, and within 300 yards; one Troop I directed to go to the right, and the third to remain in the centre as a support for the Gun, which had by this time come up, and was planted as near as we could judge opposite the Enemy's.

Mr. Hume having with some difficulty collected about 2 or 300 Matchlockmen out of the 700, advanced most gallantly with them towards the entrenchment. The fire of the Enemy had been directed towards my Troop; but seeing the advance of our Matchlockmen, turned it towards them. Our Gun then opened, advancing nearer at each discharge. About the fifth discharge, our Gun was close up to the wall, and a rush being made, headed in the most gallant manner by Mr. Hume, the Enemy began to retreat.

Having already got to their right rear with my Troop of 60 men, the time came for us to act. The word charge was given by me, and in a few seconds we were in the midst of them, sweeping round the rear of the entrenchment to the village on the Enemy's left. Many of the Enemy escaped owing to the great height of cultivation and the villages, where it was impossible for Cavalry to follow, and at the Local Horse acted on the right, when they saw my Troop come round, the victory would have been most complete; but they rendered no assistance at first. However, the Enemy were completely routed, their only Gun, with a quantity of Ammunition, Baggage, Ponies, Matchlocks, Swords, &c., captured, and about 125 killed in the field and six hung. We followed them up for about three miles, and then gave up further pursuit, the Enemy dispersing in all directions, and my party of Cavalry being too small to detach after them; besides we had then come about twenty-five miles, and had to return to Etawah the same evening, which we reached about 7. P. M.

The number of the Enemy could not certainly have been under 12 or 1300 men, including a few Sowars.

Our Casualties were:

Killed.

12 Matchlock men.

Wounded.

2 Sowars, both severely,

4 Horses, 3 severely, 1 slightly, } Alexander's Horse.

1 Sowar of Local Horse, slightly.

4 Horses ditto, severely.

15 Matchlockmen.

2 Horses missing.

A copy of Mr. Hume's report to Government is enclosed for the Brigadier's information, and shows the active and gallant part taken by that Officer and his Matchlockmen.

I now beg to bring to the notice of Brigadier Soaton, C. B., the able assistance I received from Mr. Hume, who gallantly led the assault, and Mr. Maconochie who accompanied my Troop of Cavalry throughout the day, and was also to the front.

The conduct of my men was admirable, and many individual acts of gallantry were performed. Some of the Sowars of the Local Horse did their duty well, and the conduct of the Matchlockmen who went to the assault, after they once got in to the Enemy, Mr. Hume reports to have been excellent.

I beg to bring all parties concerned to the favourable notice of the Brigadier Commanding, and trust he may deem the affair worthy of being reported to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

I trust the Brigadier will not consider I exceeded my duty in attacking a position I had previously reported as being too strong for the whole of our Force. I think, however, Anuntram will be free from Roop Sing and his followers, for some time to come.

The information regarding the Enemy's Regular Troops at Ajeetmul, and mentioned by Mr. Hume, was only brought to-day; and it is fortunate as things have turned out, that we did not know of it yesterday, for we should not have gone out, and this victory would not have been gained.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

W. R. E. ALEXANDER, Captain, Commanding Alexander's Horse, and at Etawah.

FROM A. O. HUME, Esq, Offg. Magte. & Collector of Etawah.

TO THE SECY. TO GOVT. OF THE N. W. P., AGRA,

Dated 8th February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that we yesterday obtained a signal success over the Enemy near Anuntram.

2. At 6 A. M. the 7th of February, Captain Alexander, Mr. Maconochie and myself left Etawah with 30 Sowars to visit the Picquet at Bukewar and reconnoitre the Enemy's position beyond. At Bukewar, we were joined by the Picquet, viz., 30 of Alexander's Horse, and about 80 of the Etawah Local Horse. We then pushed on to Anuntram, a small town on the main Oreyah and Cawnpore Road, distant about twenty-one miles from our Camp at Etawah. At Anuntram I called out about 700 of the Matchlockmen posted there to keep the Enemy in check, and taking a small Gun of Rao Juswant Rao's advanced along the main road. About a mile from Anuntram we found the Enemy posted in several dense mangoe topes surrounded by high earth-banks and occupying the intermediate Uthur and Castor Oil plant fields in skirmishing order. As we drew near, the Enemy concentrated themselves in the two enclosures C and B (see Sketch), still keeping, however, some hundreds of men out as skirmishers in the field immediately surrounding their position. As the banks surrounding the enclosure were not less than six feet high from outside as there were no entrances, and the branches of the trees come down to within two feet of the top of the bank. Captain Alexander, finding that his Cavalry could not attack them with any reasonable chance of success, halted them at D. After consulting him I posted the Local Horse at E, and then leaving them there with orders to cut up any fugitives, drew the men up in sort of line at G G with the Gun in the centre. The Enemy by this time had opened a smart fire on us, and Captain Alexander, to whom I reported what I had done, as well as the nature of the position which I had closely inspected from N, desired me to advance with the Gun, and Matchlockmen. Koor Lutchmun Sing and 3 or 4 of my own Sowars assisting me manfully, I succeeded in bringing up about 350 of the Matchlockmen into a position K K K, still keeping the Gun in the centre G. Our Matchlockmen nevertheless were no cowards; they fought bravely a little later hand to hand, but they were new to the system of going straight a head at our Enemy, were immensely out numbered, and were obliged to advance under a very heavy fire which, as they could under the most favorable circumstances, see only the heads of their opponents, they could not return with any effect.

3. By degrees, taking advantage of a number of small ridges intervening between us and the point which I had chosen for the attack, I pushed the men on to within twenty yards of the entrenchment, keeping up as we advanced a fire from the Rao's Gun in answer to that of the Enemy. I then ran the Gun up to the little knoll A which, distant about five yards from the entrenchment, gave me the command of the interior. By this time some 3 or 400 of the Enemy ran out of the opposite side of the enclosure in the direction N, N. and were promptly pursued by Captain Alexander and his sixty Troopers, who cut up a considerable number of them, though not without some casualties, as even single fugitives almost without exception turned and fought. The Local Horse did not assist; they had no European Officer I have applied in vain for one, and either would not, or thought they ought not to move without an order to do so. At A we fired one round, and all the men lining that particular portion of the "moorcha" beginning to run, the Matchlockmen made a rush, and to the number of 150 or 200 got in. Just as they did so the Enemy fired their Gun in our faces, doing, however, no damage, and then for the most part throwing away their Guns. Both parties went at it with swords. In less than a minute the main body of the Enemy, some 600 strong, ran out in the direction S S S; a few still stood by the Gun. These in a very short time were dispersed, and as I thought either cut up or driven out; but in this I was mistaken, (without uniform it was difficult to distinguish foes from friends,) and we had not proceeded fifty yards in pursuit, when we were stopped by shouts from the rear, and found that the Enemy had re-taken and loaded the Gun. We re-took it, however, before they could fire it. Lutchmun Sing and I then pushed on with some half dozen Sowars; but the Rebels were too far ahead, and we picked up only a few stragglers. Captain Alexander then returned from the pursuit in the direction N N; the Local Horse came up at last, the Enemy was pursued some three miles, and a number more accounted for, one and all however, fighting to the last. Nine persons were also taken, of whom six were hung. I ought to add that the enclosure C was evacuated directly we took the Gun.

4. The Enemy was certainly not less than 1200 strong when we advanced from the position K K K, and probably numbered not less than 2,000. They had a few Irregular Cavalry, and it is reported about 50 Sepoys; but I saw none of the latter. The former as usual kept well out of range, and ultimately disappeared without showing fight. They lost 125 men killed, their Gun (an iron one) and limber, matchlocks, swords, bundles of clothes, burtons, ponies, &c., in fact their whole Baggage. Our loss was not severe;—12 Matchlockmen were killed, a few (amongst them the brave leader of the the Chowdrayan of Binsea's men, Bhovance Sing) wounded; 2 of Alexander's men and 3 of his horses; 1 of the local Horseman and 4 of the horses badly wounded, and several other men and horses scratched more or less.

5. The pursuit over, we returned with the captured Gun to Etawah, having accomplished the whole affair, including the fifty miles ride, in twelve hours. It may be worth mentioning that the very time we made the attack, Lalpooree Goospeen, the Nana's Pirohit, with a considerable force of regular Mutineers, was at Ajeetmul, scarcely more than 6 miles from the battle field, so that we rather stole a march on him.

6. I having been chiefly with the Matchlockmen, my account is necessarily a one sided one ; but it must not be supposed that I wish to ignore the services rendered by the rest of the Force. It is true that owing to the nature of the position, the brunt of the assault fell upon the Footmen ; but the great loss sustained by the Enemy is chiefly owing to the energetic pursuit by Captain Alexander and his Horse. About 20 were killed in the entrenchment and within a few yards of it by the Matchlockmen ; 11 were killed by the small party with me ; but the rest were, I believe, to a man cut up by Alexander's Horse ; the fugitives, be it remembered, fighting most resolutely, and using swords, spears and matchlocks, but too successfully.

7. The gallant conduct of Koor Lutchmun Sing, my Deputy Magistrate ; of Rahcen Buksh, a Duffadar, formerly of the Gawlior Contingent, now of the Etwah Local Horse ; and of Bhowanee Sing, the leader of the the Binsea men, deserves especial notice.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 25th February 1858.

No. 340 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Reports of two actions fought by the Troops under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, C. B., Commanding a Moveable Column, with a large body of Rebels, near Gungeree and Puttiallee, in the Etah District :

FROM THE DEPY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY,

TO THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA, Military Department.

HEAD QUARTERS, CAMP, FUTTEHGURH, The 29th January 1858.

SIR, — I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, in original, a letter from Major-General N. Penny, C. B., Commanding the Delhi Field Force, No. 1729, of the 22d Ultimo, (which, owing to the direct dawk communications being closed; was sent by a circuitous route, and has only now reached Head Quarters,) enclosing copies of two Reports, dated the 15th and 18th Idem, from Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, C. B., Commanding a Moveable Column, of two actions fought by the Troops under his orders, in both of which his Force achieved decisive successes.

2. His Excellency is desirous of expressing his unqualified approbation of the manner in which these affairs were conducted, and of the behaviour of the Officers and Troops engaged; but he deeply laments the loss of three brave Officers of the Carabiniers,—Captain Wardlaw, Lieutenants Hudson and Vyse—in the brilliant and successful charge made by the Detachment of this Regiment under Captain Wardlaw's Command, and a party of the 9th Lancers under Captain Head, who was dangerously wounded.

FIELD FORCE STAFF OFFICE, Delhi, 22d December 1857.

SIR,—HEREWITH I have the honor to transmit, for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, copies of two Despatches* from Lieutenant-Colonel T. Scaton, C. B., detailing the particulars of engagements with considerable bodies of Rebels near Gungeree and Puttialee in the Etah District.

The Lieutenant-Colonel's arrangements appear to have been most skilful and judicious. I trust they will meet with His Excellency's approbation.

I have, &c.,

N. PENNY, Major General, Commanding Field Force.

FROM LIEUT.-COL. SEATON, Comdg. Movable Column,

TO CAPTAIN STEWART, Depy. Asst. Adj. General.

Camp, Khasgunge, 15th December 1857.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Major-General Penny, C. B., Commanding Delhi Field Force, that I reached Gungeree, with the Column under my Command on the 15th Instant, where I found Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar with his Detachment as per margin.

2 6 Pounder Guns.
200 Affghan Horse.
300 Belooch Battalion.

Immediately after encamping I sent a party of Horse, under Captain Hodson, to reconnoitre the road in the direction of Khasgunge as far as Bilram, a Village within four miles of that town. Shortly after the party set out, Captain Light, my Orderly Officer, returned with information that the party had discovered the Enemy's Horse advancing at some distance towards our flanks, and presently Captain Hodson himself brought intelligence that the Enemy was approaching in force.

I had kept the Dragoon Horses saddled, so the Troop speedily mounted and moved out in support of the reconnoitering party that was showing front to the Enemy. In the mean time the line turned out. The Troop Horse Artillery, under Captain Bishop, came to the front, speedily followed by 2 Guns under Lieutenant Griffin.

As the Enemy's Infantry and Artillery were now plainly visible, I directed Lieutenant Colonel Kinleside to move forward with the Artillery and engage the Enemy in order to check their advance and give time for the Infantry to disengage itself from the mass of ravines in front, and form up.

The Artillery engaged in the most gallant style ; but as the Enemy's Horse continued to advance taking ground to the left apparently with the intention of cutting off the Troop Horse Artillery, I called up the Dragoon in support, and directed Captain Wardlaw, Commanding to charge the Enemy if a favorable opportunity offered.

In the mean time the whole Force moved out and were formed up by Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar, of the Belooch Battalion, and Captain Hodson, seeing the Enemy's Horse advancing still against our left, anticipated the order I sent him, and moved up with his whole Regiment. The Enemy's fire now began to slacken, and Captain Wardlaw, seeing his opportunity, charged with the Carabineers and Lancers and captured 2 Guns, whilst Captain Hodson, advancing immediately against the Enemy's right, they were driven in utter confusion from the field, hotly pursued by our Cavalry and Artillery.

The Enemy were completely and utterly routed ; they abandoned their last Gun and two Ammunition Waggon, and numbers of their Infantry threw away their arms, and hid themselves in the fields or continued their headlong flight over the Country. Numbers were shot in the fields, and many, rendered desperate by their situation, defended themselves fiercely and were killed.

The Enemy had evidently not expected to meet any Force, except the small Detachment under Colonel Farquhar; they were therefore astounded by the fire of so many Guns, and by the appearance, on their right, of the large body of Horse under Captain Hodson, so that when charged by Captain Wardlaw, they were instantly routed, and I was unable consequently to bring the Infantry into action; but their presence near at hand enabled me with confidence to order the Cavalry and Artillery to continue the pursuit of the Enemy for several miles, and with great effect.

From my own observation, and the report of others, I estimate the loss of the Enemy as over 200 killed, and as we subsequently learnt, numbers crept away wounded and died.

My own loss was in the Cavalry solely, and amounted to 48. Of these 22 are slightly wounded; but I deeply regret to report the death of that good and gallant Soldier, Captain Wardlaw; his brave brothers in arms, Captain Hudson and Lieutenant Vyse, of the 6th Carabineers; and also the severe wound of Captain Head, who Commanded the Detachment 9th Lancers.

The charge executed by the Carabineers and Lancers, led by Captain Wardlaw, was so truly dashing and brilliant, that I could not do otherwise than make most prominent mention of it, and I am sure the Major-General will regret, as deeply as myself, that he and his gallant comrades were not spared to serve their Country on future occasions.

The General will see by the list of Casualties that Captain Hudson's newly raised body of Horse was not at all backward. It rendered excellent service, less it could not do under its distinguished Commander, whom I beg particularly to mention to the Major General as having, on every possible occasion, rendered me the most effective service, whether in gaining information, reconnoitering the Country, or leading his Regiment.

The Troop of Horse Artillery, under Captain Bishop, and the 2 Guns, under Lieutenant Griffin the whole Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Kinleside, mainly contributed to the defeat of the Enemy, and the Major General will duly appreciate their coolness and skill. I received the most efficient aid from my Brigade Major, Captain French, and from my Orderly Officer, Captain Light, of the Artillery, who conveyed my order to the Dragoons to charge, and went in with them, and I may say I never saw greater zeal and alacrity displayed than by the Officers who accompanied me to the Field either as Field Engineers or as Volunteers. I could almost regret the Enemy did not make a greater show of resistance.

FROM LIEUTENANT-COLONEL SEATON, C. B., Commanding Moveable Column,
 TO CAPTAIN STEWART, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

Camp, Puttiallee, 18th December 1857.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding Delhi Field Force, that I marched with the Force, as per margin, from Suhawur, at daylight yesterday.

Having reason to believe the Enemy might be at Puttiallee, I strengthened my Advance Guard with Cavalry and 2 Horse Artillery Guns, whilst Captain Hodson went forward with a large party of his Regiment, throwing out reconnoitering parties on each flank, so as to give timely notice and prevent all chance of a surprise.

Soon after the Column had cleared the village of Serai Nawabgunge, about four miles West of this place, I received intimation from Captain Hodson that the Enemy's videttes were close in his front, had fired on his party, and retired slowly as he advanced. I immediately sent on the two Horse Artillery Guns attached to the Advance Guard under Lieutenant Deroin to join Captain Hodson, at the same time forming the Infantry up in quarter distance Columns at deploying distance to the right of the road, with Guns on each flank, and the whole of my Cavalry on my extreme right.

Having sent orders to Captain Hodson not to engage the Enemy further, I took the opportunity of serving out the bread and grog to the men, thus allowing time for the heavy Guns, under Lieutenant Gillespie, to arrive. By this time the Enemy had opened fire from 3 Guns at Captain Hodson's party, unreplyed to by us until I had got my Infantry near enough to act effectively should the Enemy stand. I now directed Lieutenant-Colonel Kinleside to bring his Artillery into action, which was at once and most effectually done.

Four Horse Artillery Guns, under Lieutenants Deroin and Griffin, dashed to our immediate front, whilst 4 more, under Lieutenant Bishop, taking a detour to the right and wheeling into line, took the Enemy in flank. The Enemy, mean time, had shown his strength, and opened 11 Guns, some of heavy calibre, upon us. By this time the Infantry and heavy Guns topped the rise which had previously hidden them, and the sun being to the back of the foe, shone directly on us, exposing a front so formidable as to deprive him of all further courage to resist. His fire slackened, and at last ceased altogether, and the Horse Artillery, hammering up, charged, with some of Hodson's Horse, right into the Enemy's Camp, capturing several Guns in position, all the Camp, Magazine, &c., and cutting down numbers of the Gunners.

My object in keeping so large a body of my Cavalry on my right was now attained, as instead of going through the Town, and being checked by the numbers of enclosures, gardens, &c., which extend for more than a mile to its East, they went round, and thus came into the open plain beyond, on more even terms with the Enemy. Colonel Kinleside got quickly through the Town, and joining the Cavalry beyond, carried on the pursuit with them. This was kept up for seven miles. The Enemy were cut down on all sides, whilst many were drowned in endeavouring to cross the wheels of the Boor Gungha to our left, or shot in the water. Several Guns, Tumbrills, &c., were taken in this pursuit.

Meantime directing Captain Stafford with his Regiment to take charge of the Enemy's Camp and the captured Guns, I requested Major Eld to skirmish through the gardens with the Infantry. This was most efficiently performed, and numbers of the Enemy killed.

In this engagement 12 Guns and many Tumbrills were captured, a list of which I have the honor to enclose, and I estimate the loss of the Enemy to be over 700 killed. I might with safety estimate their loss much higher.

My own loss, as the Major-General will perceive from the accompanying Return, was most trifling.

In this, as in the late affair at Gungeree, the Artillery and Cavalry were principally engaged, and in fact the action was fought by them. I cannot speak too highly in their praise, and I beg to mention to the Major-General, Colonel Kinleside, who Commanded the whole of the Artillery, and Lieutenants Bishop, Deroin, and Griffin, who served under him.

To Lieutenant Russell, who Commanded the Dragoons, and his brave comrades, my thanks are specially due for their gallantry in action, and the vigour of their pursuit.

After the action at Gungeree I specially mentioned Captain Hodson and his Regiment. I can but repeat what I then said, and beg that the Major-General will be good enough to bring this Officer, and his great and important services, to the special notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. The Infantry had no opportunity of coming in contact with the Enemy; but I must beg to mention to the Major-General that on all occasions I have met with the most zealous and efficient support from that good Officer, Major Eld, who on this occasion took Command of the line.

From my Staff Officers, Captain French and Captain Light, I received all that active and zealous assistance I expected from two such efficient Officers. They shared in the pursuit of the Enemy, and I must not omit to mention how much obliged I felt to Captains Taylor and Greathed, who went forward with Captain Hodson to reconnoitre the Enemy's position, protected by a party of Hodson's Horse under Lieutenant McDoughall, to whom my thanks are due.

I have, &c.,

No 347 of 1858.—In continuation of Government General Order, No. 1116, of the 3d September 1857, the following Extract of a Resolution, passed in the Foreign Department, under date the 8th Instant, is published in General Orders :—

RESOLUTION.—With reference to a question having arisen as to “ whether the Rule* of the Financial Department, that Civil Servants are to receive full Salary only up to the end of September, should be held applicable to the Members of the Lucknow Garrison at all, it appears to the President in Council that it would be equitable to exempt the whole Garrison from the operation of the Rule, or at least so to modify it in their case, as that it shall not have effect until the date on which the members of the Garrison having been relieved by the Commander in Chief reached Cawnpore. His Honor in Council observes that the Officers and others who were shut up in Lucknow, though their proper duties may have ceased, still continued to serve the Government in a quasi-Military capacity. Their labors were as arduous, their privations much greater than if they had been engaged in their ordinary duties, and under the peculiar circumstances of the case, it is but simple justice to permit all of them to draw the full Salaries of their respective appointments until the end of November last, on the last day of which they arrived at Cawnpore.”

* Published in the Gazette of 2d September 1857, page 1374.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

13TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH MARCH 1858.

No. 96 of 1857.—The following Extracts from Letters from the Honorable the Court of Directors in the Military Department, are published for the information of the Army.

Letter dated 26th January 1858, No. 12.

To Court, Letter dated 20th June 1857, No. 62
Para 1. Memorial from Riding Master James Barry, praying for the Commission of Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment.

* Adjutant General's letter 18th May 1857.

24. His Excellency the Commander in Chief in recommending the prayer of this Memorial observes as follows, "Mr. Barry has served as a Soldier for nearly 31 years of which period 18 years were passed as a Non-Commissioned Officer and 10 as Riding Master. The numerous testimonials appended to his Memorial afford proof of his very superior merits, and thoroughly exemplary conduct." Your Government having also forwarded the Memorial for favorable consideration, we authorize you to confer on Riding Master James Barry a Commission as Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment, from the date of your receipt of this despatch.

Letter dated 27th January 1858, No. 17.

To Court, Letter dated 7th July 1857, No. 72.
Paras 1 & 2. Memorial from Deputy Assistant Commissary Isaac Curran, of the Gun Carriage Manufactory, praying for a Lieutenant's Commission on the Invalid Establishment.

11. Referring to our letter of the 6th May 1857, No. 66, para 2, replying to your recommendation in favor of Deputy Assistant Commissary Lancaster, we have now the satisfaction of authorizing you to confer the Commission of Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment on Deputy Assistant Commissaries Curran and Lancaster, from the date of your receipt of this despatch.

2. Under the authority granted by the Honorable the Court of Directors, the Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to confer on Riding Master J. Barry and Deputy Assistant Commissaries I. Curran and J. Lancaster the rank of Lieutenant on the Veteran Establishment, with date of Commissions from the 6th March 1858.

Letter dated 26th January 1858, No. 14.

Reply to Military Letter dated 27th October 1857, No. 138.

Report of the successful exertions of Captain Webb, Assistant Commissary General and Superintendent of Police at Secunderabad in preserving tranquillity during the festivals of the Mohurram and Deesserah. An early reply requested.

1. We concur with your Government and His Excellency the Commander in Chief in noticing, with marked approbation the zealous and able manner in which Captain Webb, and all serving under his orders, fulfilled their duty during the excitement of the religious festivals of the past season.

2. We have much satisfaction in acquiescing in your recommendation that as a special mark of the favor of Government for their services on this occasion, Head Cutwall Buldeo Sing and Jemadars of Police Roop Sing and Mahomed Gallub, shall be recorded as eligible for Pension on becoming unfit for further service. We also consider that as an immediate reward the Cutwall and Jemadars of Police should receive special personal allowances, (not to be continued to successors,) the Cutwall of 20 Rupees per month, and the Jemadars of 5 Rupees per month each; and we authorize you to make these grants accordingly.

3. The personal allowances of Twenty (20) Rupees per mensem to Head Cutwall Buldeo Sing, and of Five (5) Rupees per mensem each to Police Jemadars Roop Sing and Mahomed Gallub, authorised by the Court of Directors, will commence from the 6th March 1858, the date of receipt of this despatch.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH MARCH 1858.

No. 97 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for the information and guidance of parties concerned in this Presidency, the following Resolution of the Honorable the Court of Directors, with the Orders of the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council thereon dated the 8th January last, No. 91.

RESOLUTION.—The Honorable the Court of Directors having decided, in the case of Captain W. E. Hay, a retired Military Officer, subsequently appointed Assistant Commissioner at Kulu in the Punjab, that the rule under which Civil Pension is merged in the salary of Office, should apply to the case of Military Officers drawing Pensions for Military Service: and that upon this principle Captain Hay, should be allowed the authorized Salary of his appointment, minus the amount of his pension, the Chief Commissioner in the Punjab enquires whether this decision is applicable to Military Pensioners of the grade of Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates, who may be employed in the Uncovenanted Service as Clerks.

The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council observes that in Bengal measures have been taken to regulate the Allowances of Military Pensioners of every grade who have been re-employed in the Civil Department, according to the above orders of the Honorable Court which must be the guide for the future.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased accordingly to direct that in this Presidency, the new rule shall take effect from and after the 1st May, from which date the allowances of all Military Pensioners of every *grade of the Honorable Company's Service employed in the Uncovenanted Service as Clerks, or otherwise, in all Public Offices and Establishments, including the Mounted Police, (Medical Warrant Officers and Subordinates temporarily employed in their professional capacity excepted) will be drawn minus the amount of their Pensions. Their Pensions will continue to be drawn on separate Abstract as heretofore. The requisite subsidiary orders are to be issued by the Military Auditor General in communication with the Civil Auditor and Superintendent of Pensions.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 12TH MARCH 1858.

No. 98 of 1858.—The undermentioned Officer has returned to his duty, by permission of the Honorable the Court of Directors, without prejudice to his rank.

Captain R. Caulfield, 7th Regiment Light Cavalry—Arrived at Bombay on the 27th February 1858.

The undermentioned Officers are permitted to proceed to Europe.

Colonel C. J. Green, of the Engineers, Chief Engineer of Mysore..... } On Medical Certificate for 15 months
Superintending Surgeon J. McKenna, M.D. } under the regulations of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

The leave of absence to the Isle Reunion granted in G. O. G. 29th May and 7th July 1857 Nos. 152 and 207, to Assistant Surgeon M. C. Furnell, is extended to 8th March 1858, the date of his arrival at Madras.

The transfer of the undermentioned Non-Commissioned Officers to the Non-Effective Establishment on the superior pension has been confirmed by the Honorable the Court of Directors.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

17TH MARCH 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 16TH MARCH 1858.

No. 100 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to publish the following General Orders by the Government of India, dated 8th March 1851, and 15th October 1855, and to declare the rules therein laid down for the supply of Bedding to the European Troops of Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Services, and to the Wives of European Soldiers to be in future applicable to this Presidency, with the modifications noted in the margin.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE MOST NOBLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Camp, Peshawur, 8th March 1851.

The Most Noble the Governor General is pleased to direct that bedding shall, hereafter, be furnished to the European Troops of Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Services, in Bengal, under the following rules:

Each European Soldier's bedding is to consist of

- 1 Cotton settringee, the size of the Barrack cot.
- 2 Cotton upper sheets.
- 1 Quilt, as at present, but to contain four, instead of three seers of cotton.
- 1 Good country blanket, to measure, when doubled, 7 by 4 feet.

* These articles, excepting the country Blanket, will be issued to the European Troops under the Madras Presidency on the 1st October next. A Europe Blanket will also be supplied to those who have not received one within the last three years. The above articles are to be issued on the 1st October next.*

After the first issue each Soldier will be provided with

- 1 Quilt..... } Annually.
- 1 Sheet... }
- 1 Blanket.... } Biennially. †
- 1 Settringee... } Triennially.

† A Europe Blanket triennially.

On the issue of new articles of bedding, the old ones are not to be made away with, but are to be kept in use until worn out.

Recruits are not to be allowed to give away, or dispose of the bedding supplied to them in England, but it is to be landed for their use, on their arrival in India.

Recruits will be supplied with quilts and settringees before they leave the Presidency, and the remaining articles of bedding will be provided on their joining their Corps. They will afterwards receive, annually, the same articles as are issued to their Regiments.

Indents for bedding are to be sent in to Division Commissariat Offices, in sufficient time to enable the articles to be issued, annually, on the 1st of October.

Commanding Officers may make their own arrangements for the supply of the several articles, provided the cost does not exceed the Commissariat rates.

All articles of bedding, whether supplied by the Commissariat Department or by Regimental authorities, are to be surveyed previous to issue, by a Committee composed of Officers Commanding Troops and Companies of Europeans, to be assembled by the Officer Commanding the station.

The bedding will always be provided in kind, and compensation in lieu will, under no circumstances, be allowed.

Soldiers are to be responsible for their bedding, in the same manner as for their Regimental necessities.

These rules, which are in supercession of all former orders on the subject, are to be applicable to the European Troops, only, serving in the Bengal Presidency, including European Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers on the Town Major's List, and not to Drummers of Native Corps, who will be supplied with quilts only as at present.

No extra carriage on the march will be allowed in consequence of the increased quantity of bedding now sanctioned.

(Signed) FRED. D. ATKINSON, Captain, Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept., with the Govr. Genl.

No. 66.

FROM COLONEL J. K. MCCAUSLAND, Commanding in Kumaon,

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF, Army Head Quarters.

Camp, Huldwanee, 12th February 1858.

SIR,—I have already reported, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, my having formed a Camp at this place with the view, first, of protecting the Kumaon Hills; second, of clearing the Barbur and Turaee Pergunnahs of Rebels.

2. On my arrival here, I found the position of the Enemy as follows:

A Force of 3,000 Infantry, with 800 Cavalry, and 6 Guns, Commanded by Fuzul Huq, was encamped at Sunda in a strong position on the banks of the Sookhee River, about 15 miles from my Camp.

Another Force, Commanded by Khali Khan, of 4,000 Infantry, 800 Cavalry, and 4 Guns, was encamped at Bunde, but within the last few days had advanced in this direction, and formed a Camp at Churpoorah, on the Paha Nuddee, 16 miles from here.

3. From the best information I was able to obtain, it appeared the intention of the Enemy was to make a combined attack on Huldwanee with a view, if successful, of endeavouring to force the Hill passes; my arrangements were made to act on the defensive, and there can be no doubt, had they attempted such a move it would have ended in their utter defeat.

4. On the afternoon of the 9th Instant, reliable information having been obtained that the Army under Fuzul Huq was about to effect a junction with Khali Khan's Force, I considered it advisable, if possible, to crush the latter before such junction could be effected. My great fear was that the Enemy might hear of my movements and escape the impending blow, so my preparations were conducted with the greatest secrecy. At 9 p. m. of the 9th Instant, nothing in Camp indicated an intended move. At that hour the Tents were quietly struck, and removed to the Mundee, an enclosed square, barricaded and capable of being held by the Force I could spare for its protection, for some time at least against very superior numbers.

5. At 11½ p. m. I moved from Camp with the Troops as per margin, and marching all night through the forest, came on the Enemy's Camp, at Churpoorah, shortly after day-break, on the morning of the 10th.

I found his position a strong one, about 900 yards off the road, which was Commanded by his Guns. His rear and left were protected by the Paha Nuddee, which wound round his Camp. The only approach to his front and right flank was over rough broken ground, intersected by Nullahs, and covered with thick jungle grass and bushes; a small village filled with Infantry was on his right flank. His Force from 4 to 5,000 Infantry, about 1,000 Cavalry with 4 Guns.

6. The surprise was complete; the only portion of my Force at first visible to the Enemy was an advance Guard of the Rohileund Horse, and a party of their Sowars, galloping towards us, asked if we were Fuzul Huq's Army, which they expected that morning to join them. Wheeling back the Cavalry, I fired a few rounds which undeceived them, and drew on us a heavy Artillery fire. Directly I ascertained their position, I drew up the Guns on the road, and opened on those of the Enemy, and ordered Captain Ross, Commanding the 66th Goorkhas, (leaving 2 Companies to protect the Artillery,) and Captain Baugh, Commanding the Nepal Contingent and Kumaon Levies, to advance on the Enemy's right flank, supported by the Rohileund Horse, under Captain Crossman.

During this advance, the fire on our Artillery was very severe, the Enemy's Guns being served with the greatest rapidity and precision; their largest Gun was quickly disabled, and after about 40 minutes of very sharp firing, during which the Cavalry and Infantry were gradually nearing their right, they turned their Guns on them, and plied them with grape and round shot. Our Guns, thus relieved from the fire of the Enemy's, were enabled to commit immense execution in their large bodies of Cavalry, into which they poured sharpnel with beautiful precision and tremendous effect.

7. The advance of our line was steady and uninterrupted. The Enemy's Infantry and Cavalry, though offering opposition from every point of advantage which the nature of the ground gave them, and though they appeared in strength and fought with resolution, could not check the 66th and Nepal Goorkhas, who gained ground, firing with a rapidity and resolution they could not withstand.

In about an hour from their first advance, the village and right flank had been gallantly carried by the Infantry, who sweeping down the front, carried the Guns with a rush, cutting down every Artilleryman at his Gun. The resistance was very severe, and I believe that with hardly an exception, every European Officer in this charge had hand to hand encounters with the Enemy.

The Rohileund Horse made a gallant charge during this advance, repulsing a very superior body of the Enemy's Cavalry, taking a standard, and cutting up a great number. They entered the Camp with the Infantry, and were most useful in cutting up stragglers.

8. As from the jungly nature of the ground it was impossible for me to witness all that was going on, I called for reports from Officers Commanding Corps, which, with a Camp Order issued by me on the occasion, I have the honor to forward for His Excellency's information, and have now only the pleasant duty of reporting the complete success of our operations, and bringing to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief the gallant conduct of all engaged.

9. The Enemy's standing Camp and Baggage fell into our hands and was burnt; the whole of his Ammunition was destroyed; of his Guns one was completely disabled and left on the Field; the other three with four tumbrils we brought with us into Camp. Their exact loss I am unable to state; the killed must exceed 300, and the wounded more than twice that number. The loss in their Cavalry must have been very heavy from the constant fire to which they were exposed.

It would have been imprudent for me to make any delay on the ground: it was quite possible that Fuzul Huq might have heard of our move, and pushed on to make an attack on this place before I could return. Our first shot was fired at ½ to 6 A. M.; at 8 A. M. we began to move back and reached our Camp here shortly after noon, the Force under my Command having marched 34 miles, and fought a severe action in 13 hours.

10. The blow thus struck must be a severe one to the Rebels in this quarter, and though Fuzul Huq keeps his Force together, I am watching him closely, and will attack if a favorable opportunity offers. His present position in the heart of a dense jungle renders it inadvisable to do so at present.

11. My best thanks are due to Captain Kirby, who Commanded the Artillery, and to Captain W. Maxwell, of the Artillery, who having returned to his Civil duties in the Suriaie Pergunnah, served as a Volunteer with the Guns and rendered invaluable assistance. The services of this Officer I have already brought prominently to the notice of His Excellency, and when I state that it is by his unremitting exertions the Goorkha Artillery Company was trained, that limbers were made for the Guns, and that we were able to take the Field with Artillery at all, I feel that the Commander-in-Chief will fully appreciate his merits. Captain Ross, Commanding 66th Goorkhas, led the Regiment with great gallantry. His coolness and judgment were conspicuous, and I would beg to recommend him to the favorable notice of His Excellency. Lieutenant and Adjutant Tytler, 66th Goorkhas, severely wounded; Lieutenant Miles, 66th Goorkhas; Lieutenant Gepp, 66th Goorkhas, mortally wounded on the Field and since dead, have been brought to my notice as having prominently distinguished themselves. Captain Ross also mentions the gallant behaviour of Quarter Master Serjeant Delahoy, 66th Goorkhas, and the gallantry of Jusbahdoor Goorung, Sepoy, Lieutenant Miles' Company, was conspicuous.

Captain Baugh, Commanding the Nepal Contingent, to which I attached two Companies of the 66th Goorkhas, gallantly charged the right flank of the Enemy and carried the Guns. The efficiency of the Contingent is greatly due to his exertions for the past six weeks in drilling and equipping them. Captain Baugh speaks in high terms of Captain Bodee Maun Singh, who Commands the Goorkhas; Lieutenant Boree Gorung, and Adjutant Phulwan Sing. My best thanks are due to Captain Crossman, Commanding the Rohileund Horse; this Corps has been organized and equipped by him within the last three months. He charged and dispersed at their head, a very superior body of Patan Cavalry across a country and under a fire that would have tried the metal of any Troops. The Officers and Men mentioned by him I would recommend to the favorable notice of His Excellency.

Captain Brownlow, my Major of Brigade, afforded me every assistance, and I would beg to recommend him to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief as a good and efficient Staff Officer. Captain Warde, late 68th Native Infantry, acted as my Orderly Officer, and was most active and useful.

Surgeon H. Irwin, 66th Goorkhas, accompanied the Force, and I am much indebted to him for his unremitting exertions for the comfort of the wounded on the Field, and their removal to Camp, which he effected with very inadequate means.

I cannot close this Report without recording, though I fear I may not do so in adequate terms, the assistance rendered to me on this and every occasion, during the last eight months, by Major H. Ramsay, the Commissioner of Kumaon. His exertions to equip, maintain and feed this Force have been unceasing. Suffering still from the effects of a severe accident which deprived him of the use of an arm, he accompanied me to the Field, where his local knowledge was invaluable. It is not for me to record the services he has rendered to Government in his District; but I may say that the general feeling of security that has prevailed in the Kumaon Hills was mainly due to his watchfulness and untiring energy.

Mr. C. Carmichael, of the Civil Service, and Mr. Reed, Inspector of Forests, accompanied the Troops, and made themselves most useful in pointing out the positions of the Enemy.

I enclose a Return of the Ordnance captured, and a Casualty Return of the Force, which I trust may not be considered excessive considering what has been accomplished and the strength and position of the Enemy.

No. 22 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report, by Major General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., of the repulse of an attack on his position at Alum Bagh, on the morning of the 21st February 1858, in which the arrangements made by Sir J. Outram were most judicious and effectual, and the conduct of the Troops engaged was highly creditable to them.

No. 83.

FROM MAJOR GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Comdg. 1st Division.

TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

Camp Alum Bagh, 21st February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that this morning the Enemy attacked my position, and with the usual result.

2. Having filled all their trenches with as many men as they would hold, and placed large masses of Infantry in the topes all along our front in support of them, they commenced a simultaneous movement round both our flanks, at the same time threatening the whole length of our position, and attacking the North-east corner of the Alum Bagh, and also the Picquet and Fort of Jellalabad, against which they brought 4 Guns.

3. I immediately, on perceiving their intention, re inforced the posts of Alum Bagh and Jellalabad which easily repulsed the attacks made on them, and inflicted much loss on the assailants, who had advanced under cover of long grass and underwood within grape shot range of both these posts.

4. I detached about 250 Cavalry and 2 Field Guns to the rear of the Fort of Jellalabad, under Command of Captain Barrow, Volunteer Cavalry, where they suddenly came on about 2000 of the Enemy's Cavalry. Our Guns immediately opened on them, killing several, which caused them to withdraw to the immediate vicinity of the Infantry, attacking the Fort in number about 5,000; they remained there until the attack was abandoned, when they all withdrew towards the City.

5. The attack on our left flank was made by about from 8 to 10,000 Infantry and 500 Cavalry, to oppose whom I sent out the remaining 4 Field Guns available, supported by the Military Train (120 in number) under Command of Major Robertson, of the Military Train, keeping the 2d Infantry Brigade in reserve. The Cavalry and Guns soon drove back the Enemy's Cavalry, and their Infantry then halted, and on the Guns being turned on them, soon commenced to retreat also, and were followed up by us until within range of their Batteries.

6. A large Convoy was on the road at the time, the escort required for which materially crippled our small Cavalry Force, and prevented any thing more being effected than frustrating their attempts to gain our rear and molest the Convoy.

7. The reports from the City state the Enemy to have lost 60 killed and 200 wounded in their attack on Alum Bagh, and about 80 or 90 killed and wounded in front of Jellalabad. This was exclusive of their loss on the left flank, and along our front, where our heavy Artillery had constant opportunities of firing shell and sharpnel into the midst of their moving masses. I consider their loss to have been heavier than on any of their previous attacks.

8. I have the pleasure to state that, as on all former occasions, the conduct of the Troops engaged, both Officers and Men, was admirable.

9. Major Tinling, 90th Light Infantry, and Nicholson, Royal Engineers, Commanded respectively at Alum Bagh and Jellalabad, and defended their posts with much spirit. Major Nicholson particularly:

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 19th March 1858.

At a European General Court Martial held at Shoay Gheen on Saturday the 16th day of January 1858, Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

Charge.—For having at Shoay Gheen, on the 12th of September 1857, been drunk when on duty as Garrison Officer of the day.

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, is Guilty of the Charge.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner Guilty as above stated, doth sentence him, the said Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, to be cashiered.

SHOAY GHEEN, 21st January 1858.

Approved and confirmed.

OOTACAMUND,
18th March 1858. }

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lieutenant General,
Commander in Chief.

Recommendation by the Court.

The Court having thus performed the painful duty of awarding punishment in strict conformity to an Article of War which deprived them of all discretionary power beg leave to recommend the Prisoner to the merciful consideration of the confirming authority.

Remarks by His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

I. His Excellency the Commander in Chief considers it greatly to be regretted that the Court in recommending Lieutenant Carr as an object of mercy did not particularize the grounds of their recommendation.

They leave it to be inferred that the circumstances of the case or the character of the offender warrant their intercession, and they state that a more merciful sentence would have been passed, had the power rested in their hands.

II. But Lieutenant Carr has neither youth nor inexperience to plead in his behalf; his offence was not the result of accident, but of his own wilful act; he has produced no witnesses to character; and from his own defence it may be gathered that he has been addicted to intemperance.

III. Adverting to these considerations His Excellency feels disposed to attach little weight to the circumstances urged in defence, that a Bottle of Beer taken for refreshment on the road to visit his Guards, and exposure to the sun produced the effect upon Lieutenant Carr described by the witnesses. In His Excellency's opinion there are many circumstances that negative the supposition.

IV. When the Commander in Chief regards the state in which this Officer is represented to have been: dressed in full uniform in the performance of an important duty, wandering in the Public Bazar and exhibiting his drunkenness to the gaze of a crowd of deriding natives, and before several European Soldiers, who felt scandalized by his conduct and interfered for his protection; and only prevented from exposing himself in this state before the Guards of the Station by the stratagem of two European Officers who fortunately succeeded in preventing his doing so, the case assumes a complexion admitting of no extenuation, and precludes His Excellency from pardoning an offence so destructive of all discipline.

V. Satisfied that he could not consistently give effect to the recommendation of the Court in the face of that which appeared on the Proceedings, the Commander in Chief referred to the Records for Lieutenant Carr's former character, but he regrets to find that habits of intemperance had been indulged in by that Officer, after frequent admonition from his superiors for some time past.

VI. Drunkenness on duty in an Officer is an offence of such an unpardonable nature, so subversive of all discipline, and from which such serious results might arise, that instances are rare in which it has been pardoned, and His Excellency will not help to establish precedents that shall afford to offenders the slightest hope that such an offence may be committed with impunity; the present sentence therefore must be carried into effect.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

(Signed) W. G. WOODS, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

Lieutenant Robert Carr of the 37th Regiment Grenadiers, is to be struck off the strength of the Army, from the date of the publication of this order at Shoay Gheen, which is to be reported to the Adjutant General of the Army.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. G. WOODS, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 15th March 1858.

No. 30.—The Commander in Chief directs it to be notified that Government have sanctioned the issue of Cloaks to all East Indian Drivers of Horse Field Batteries.

The undermentioned Officers have obtained leave of absence from their Corps and Stations.

Bt. Colonel J. Allardyce, 45th Regt. N. I., from date of departure from Rangoon, 60 days privilege leave—Madras, preparatory to applying for permission to retire from the service.

Lieutenant Colonel H. C. Gosling, 10th Regiment N. I., from date of arrival of the 10th Regt. N. I. at Cocanada en route to Secunderabad 60 days privilege leave.

Lieutenant E. R. Hudleston, 14th Regiment N. I., in continuation to 5th June 1858—Madras.

No. 31.—The Commander in Chief directs the publication in General Orders for general information and guidance of the following Extracts from the forthcoming Section of the General Regulations of the Army.

“AMMUNITION, ARMS, ACCOUTREMENTS &c.”

Marking of Arms.

53. The Arms of the men of Regiments are invariably to be marked and the letters and figures requisite for this purpose are to be indented for by Corps.

54. In the marking of Arms, Accoutrements and appointments, with a view to avoid as far as possible, the exchange of Arms, &c., between Individuals of the same Corps on the occurrence of Casualties; the following system is to be observed in assigning Regimental, Troop or Company numbers.

55. In Regiments of Cavalry and Infantry Arms will be marked with numbers from 1 upwards according to the Regimental Establishment, but in the Horse and Foot Artillery and in the Corps of Sappers and Miners they will be numbered separately by Troops, Companies and Departments.

II. When all ranks as in Troops of Horse Artillery and Regiments of Cavalry, are equipped alike, numbers are to be assigned from 1 upwards according to establishment. That is, from the Native Commissioned Officer, or European Non-Commissioned Officer, to the Gunner or Private.

III. When there are two or more descriptions of Equipments in a Corps, the several Ranks equipped alike are to be numbered in separate series from 1 upwards. For instance, in a Company of Foot Artillery, the Sergeants and Buglers being differently equipped, the former will be numbered in one series from 1 upwards, and the latter (including half pay Buglers) in another series from 1 upwards, and similarly the Corporals, or Naigues, Bombardiers, Gunners or Privates, being all similarly equipped, will be numbered in a third series.

56. The Arms, Accoutrements and appointments are to be numbered in the same manner, with the addition of the distinguishing Letters and Figures of the Corps.

They are to be marked in one or more lines as may be found most convenient thus.

* Initials or number of Regiment.
† Letter of Troop or Company.
‡ Regimental, Troop or Company number.
|| Year of receipt into Corps from Arsenal.

Horse Artillery.		1st Light Cavalry.
* II A.	* H. A.	* 1
† A. or † A. I.	†	† 2
‡ 1	‡	‡ 46
46	46

† C. or † C. 3	† 3	† 4
‡ 3	‡ 46	‡ 46
46

57. Thus in the Infantry the same Arms and Equipments will remain attached to a Private or Corporal so long as he serves in either rank in his Regiment and in the Cavalry throughout the whole period of his Service in his Corps whatever may be his rank.

58. To facilitate reference to the name of the Soldier responsible for each set of Equipments, the marks and numbers upon the Arms &c., in his possession are to be entered opposite his name in a Nominal Roll of the Troop, Company &c., which is to be inserted at the end of the Muster Roll Book.

59. Whenever new Muskets, Fuzils, Carbines or Rifles are issued for the first time to Corps, the year of issue with the Letter I, is to be marked, by the Ordnance Department, upon the surface of the Heel Plate between the two Screws which secure the Plate to the Butt, should any of these Arms be afterwards returned into Arsenal in a serviceable condition and re-issued to Corps, they are in like manner to be marked by the Ordnance Department with the year in which they may have been so returned and reissued. These letters and figures are never, during any subsequent repairs, or transfers from one Troop or Company to another, to be filed out. These marks are altogether independent of the Regimental marking above referred to.

* I 52 First issued 1852.

R 59 Returned into Stores . . . 1859.
R I 60 Reissued 1860.
R 68 Returned into Stores . . . 1868.

The example in the margin* illustrates what is required.

MEMORANDUM.

The following communication from the Post Master General is published for general information.
No. 4583.—Considering the paucity of Regular Post Offices and the absence of District or local Post Offices on the lines of Post Road in that portion of H. H. the Nizam's territories within the Madras Postal range the Post Master General is of opinion that it would be advantageous to the Public Service if the rule which prohibits the despatch of Letters, &c. outside Tappal were so far modified as to enable Officers Commanding Forces, Regiments or Detachments marching within those limits to entrust Public Letters and despatches to runners to post at the nearest Post Office but no private letter must be given, nor must a runner be detained.

In the event of its coming to the knowledge of the Post Master General, that private Letters have been sent or runners detained, the privilege will be withdrawn and the matter reported to the Director General of the Post Office in India.

Service Letters for a Force &c, marching should be sent outside tappal from the Post Office nearest to the Camp.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 20th March 1858.

At a European General Court Martial held in Camp at Jubbulpore on Friday the 12th day of February 1858, Lieutenant George Shirley Newdick of the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

First Charge.—For having in Camp near Kamptee on the 2d of January 1858, neglected to obey a Regimental Order of the same date directing that sundry incomplete documents should be completed by Officers Commanding Companies and a report thereof sent in by Memorandum by 5 post Meridian of the same date.

Second Charge.—For un-officer-like conduct, to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline, in having, in Camp near Kamptee on the night of the 2d January 1858, been drunk, and thereby incapacitated for the performance of duty, he being at the time warned for duty as Regimental Orderly Officer for the following day, and his Regiment under orders to march at 3 o'clock on that morning.

Finding.—The Court having duly weighed and maturely considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner George Shirley Newdick, Lieutenant in the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, is Guilty of the 1st Charge.

Guilty of the 2d Charge.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner Guilty as above stated, doth sentence him, the said George Shirley Newdick, Lieutenant in the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, to be placed at the bottom of the list of Lieutenants of the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry.

CAMP GHOSULPORE, 19th February 1858.

Approved and confirmed.

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lieutenant General,
Commander in Chief.

Lieutenant Newdick's name is to be transposed in the List of Lieutenants of the 1st Regiment of Native Infantry, and will stand in future next below Lieutenant E. D. Gompertz.

Lieutenant Newdick, is to be released from arrest and directed to return to his duty.

At a European General Court Martial held in Camp at Jubbulpore on Friday the 12th day of February 1858, James Killeen, General Number 3387, Gunner in the D. Company of the 3d Battalion of Madras Artillery, was arraigned on the following Charge, viz :

Charge.—For wilful murder, in having on or about the 4th day of January 1858, on the road between Punnaghur and Ghosulpore, being then and there a Soldier serving in the territories of the East India Company at a distance of upwards of 120 miles from the Presidency of Fort St. George, feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought, made an assault upon Jealall, a native of the Brahmin Caste, Labourer, and Inhabitant of Mohulla Bundyapoor in the Jubbulpore District, and then and there shot off, and discharged at, and against, the said Jealall, a Fuzil loaded with Gunpowder and a leaden bullet, and thereby, then and there inflicted between the 5th and 6th ribs of the said Jealall with the leaden bullet aforesaid, a mortal wound, whereof he, the said Jealall died at the same place on the same day.

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner James Killeen, General No. 3387, Gunner in the D. Company of the 3d Battalion of Madras Artillery, is Guilty of so much of the charge as amounts to Manslaughter.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner guilty as above stated, doth sentence him the said James Killeen, General Number 3387, Gunner in the D. Company of the 3d Battalion of Madras Artillery, to imprisonment without hard labor for two years.

CAMP, JUBBULPORE 15th February 1858.

Confirmed.

The Prisoner to be made over to the Civil Power at Jubbulpore, for the purpose of having the sentence carried into effect.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, 8th March 1858.

No. 28 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish, for general information, the subjoined Report of a very gallant and successful affair between the escort with a fleet of boats, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding Naval Brigade and the Rebels, which took place on the 17th of February 1858, near Chandepoor, and resulted in the capture of the Fort at that place, and the safe passage of the fleet of boats, up the Gogra.

TO THE SECY. TO GOVERNMENT with the Governor General, Foreign Department—Allahabad.

Camp, Phoolpoor Manja, 24th Feby. 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to enclose, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, a copy of a letter from Colonel Roweroff, Commanding Sarun Field Force, giving cover to a Report from Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the escort of the fleet of boats for the bridging of the Gogra, of a most gallant and creditable affair between the Enemy and the Escort, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, which resulted in the capture of the strong Fort of Chandepoor and the safe passage of the Fleet.

2. I would beg to bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council the gallant and spirited conduct of all the Officers and Men engaged on this occasion, and particularly that of Captain Sotheby, R. N., whose performance of the very arduous duty of escorting that large Fleet up so rapid and difficult a River, with one bank crowned with Forts manned by the Enemy, has been such as to merit the very best acknowledgments that I can bestow. The crowning exploit of attacking and capturing the strongest Fort on the River with his handful of men, will recommend itself at once to the notice of His Lordship in Council.

3. I would also beg particularly to mention the name of Captain Weston, attached to the Ramdull Regiment, who, I regret to say, was severely wounded, and who is spoken of in such high terms of praise by Captain Sotheby.

4. To Lieutenant Burlton, in Command of the Seikhs, and Captain Davidas Opadceah, in Command of the Goorkhas, my best thanks are due, as well as to all the Officers and Men of the Force.

I have, &c.,

Camp, Phoolpoor, right bank of the Gogra, 23rd February 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to transmit to you the accompanying letter No. 28, dated Phoolpoor, 22nd Instant, from Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M. S. Frigate Pearl, reporting a very gallant and successful affair on the 17th Instant, in taking the Fort of Chandepoor on the right bank of the River Gogra, by a Detachment of the Sarun Field Force under his Command, while giving escort to a fleet of boats, and the Jumna Steamer, proceeding up the River to be made available for crossing into Oudh the Nepalese Army under the Command of His Highness Maharajah Jung Bahadoor.

2. I shall esteem it a favor your bringing the same to the favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

3. I beg to express my great regret at losing the useful and active services of Captain Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, severely wounded.

4. I beg to annex a List of Casualties, and of the Ordnance and Stores captured on the 17th Instant.

I have &c.,

No 28.

To COLONEL ROWCROFT, Comdg. Field Force, Phoolpoor.

Camp, Phoolpoor, 22d Feby. 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to acquaint you, whilst escorting the fleet of 150 boats up the Gogra, I received information that the Village and Fort of Chandepoor on the right bank were strongly held by the Enemy, who intended to resist the progress of the boats. I therefore landed on the 17th Instant at 10 A. M., two miles below, with the Force named in the margin, to attack the Fort, and clear away all obstruction. Line being formed by the Seamen, with a Mountain Howitzer in the centre under Lieutenant Twinons, preceded by a strong body of Marines and Seamen as Skirmishers, with supports of Sikhs and other Seamen under Captain Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, and a reserve of Goorkhas, I quickly advanced through the thick cover and high growing crops; passing through the village, found it deserted; but on emerging from it, the Skirmishers were received by a heavy fire of Musketry and Guns from men concealed in rifle pits, in the thick prickly jungle of bamboo which surrounded the Fort. Captain Weston gallantly dashed forward, and whilst trying to force in the wicker gate, was badly wounded in the shoulder by a villain who had just implored mercy, and was carried to the rear. Mr. Ingles, mate, then took charge of the Skirmishers, and a good fire was kept up on both sides, our men getting shelter in the village; the Gun was quickly pushed up within 100 yards of the entrance and plied the jungle well with grape. At the same time I ordered Mr. Fowler, in the Jumna Steamer, to advance and enfilade the Fort with grape, which made it too hot, and the Goorkhas threatening the right flank, the Rebels being afraid of their retreat being cut off, fled through the jungle in the rear as we entered in the front, leaving behind them two Guns with spare waggon, ammunition, &c., and a quantity of silk dresses, silver-mounted swords, ornaments, money, &c., which evidently belonged to some influential men. The action commenced at 11, and firing ceased at 12-15.

The Enemy is supposed to have been about 300, but probably not many killed, as they were perfectly concealed. Our casualties were four wounded—two severely. I did not attempt to pursue them from the smallness of my Force, and the object perfectly accomplished, having passed up the Fleet, I burnt the Fort and adjacent buildings, withdrew the pickets, re-embarked on the Steamer, and proceeded up the River; but it being dark, without a Pilot, we shortly grounded and remained exposed to the shore till the next morning.

I have now much pleasure in bringing to your notice the cheerful manner of all under my Command, and especially I beg to recommend to the consideration of the Commander-in Chief the gallant conduct of that fine Soldier, Captain Weston, whose temporary loss from his severe wound every one in the Camp most deeply deplores. Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Native Infantry, with his Sikhs were as usual well forward, and the Goorkhas, under Captain Davidas Opadecah, rendered good service. I am also much indebted to Captain Reid, 37th Native Infantry, for his valuable service, who landed as a Volunteer from his charge of the boats. Drs. Shore, R.N., and Hilson, H. E. I. C. S., were in close attendance with the wounded.

It is nearly impossible to describe the strength of the Fort, peculiar to Oudh surrounded by a thick jungle of prickly bamboo nearly impassable with high banks. Inside was a line of rifle-pits and loop-holed breast-works with a zig-zag path with gates, leading to a second set, and in front of the Fort were bastions with a sort of parapet all loop-holed, as were all the other buildings in the place, all round which was thick cover.

The following Officers were also present:—
Lord Charles Scott, Mr. Foot, Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Cooley, Boatswain; and the Jumna Steamer, Captain Williamson, was well handled.

R. SIMSON, Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of India, with the Governor General.

Allahabad, the 11th March 1858,

No. 31 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great pleasure in publishing the accompanying Despatch, from Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., reporting the particulars of an unusually resolute attack on his position, on the 25th February 1858, and of its gallant repulse by the Troops under his Command, to whom, as well as to their distinguished leader, His Lordship offers his thanks for the good service rendered on this occasion.

FROM MAJ.-GENL. SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B., Comdy 1st Division.

TO THE DEPUTY ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY,

Camp, Alum Bagh, 26th February 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report the particulars of a repulse of a determined demonstration, which the Enemy made on our position yesterday, the 25th Instant.

2. The principal attack was on our right, against which 24 Regiments of Regular Infantry, 6 Nujeeb Corps, 1,000 Cavalry and 8 Guns moved out from the trenches; of this number about one-half, with 2 Guns, advanced towards our right rear, and having occupied the "topes" immediately to the East of Jellalabad, commenced shelling that post heavily, evidently in the hope of igniting the large quantity of combustible stores at present collected there, while the remainder held in support the villages and "topes" directly in front of the Enemy's out-works.

3. Large bodies of Infantry and Cavalry, with 3 Guns, simultaneously menaced our left, and the trenches in front of our position were occupied in force.

4. Soon after 10 A. M., I moved out with detachments of Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry, as per accompanying Return, to intercept the Column which had opened its Guns on Jellalabad, having previously sent Barrow's Volunteers and Wale's Horse round, via Nowrungabad, to co-operate in the rear.

5. As we advanced, a portion of the Enemy's reserve made a demonstration against our left; but were speedily driven back, and afterwards held in check by the 4 Guns of Remington's Troops, supported by a Squadron of the 7th Hussars, under Colonel Hagart, and by Brasyers' Seikhs.

6. The Column then moved forward, flanked on the left by Brigadier Campbell with the Native Cavalry, which pushed on in advance to intercept the Enemy's retreat, which, owing to their having heard the fire of Remington's Guns, proved more sudden than we had anticipated. The manœuvre was completely successful, and speedily converted their retreat into a rout, Brigadier Campbell's Detachment assailing them on one side, while Barrow's and Wale's Horse appeared on the opposite quarter, and the Military Train, under Captain Robertson, dashed into the middle of the flying Enemy, and Captured their 2 Guns. The rapidity of their flight prevented the Infantry from taking a prominent part in the action. At 1 P. M., when we finally left the field, the foe had vanished.

7. In the mean time the hostile forces on the left of my position had retired before the very effective fire of Moir's Guns, not liking the looks of the arrangement which had been prepared by Brigadier Franklyn, who had been left in command of the Camp, for their reception.

8. Judging from the corpses which strewed the field where the Cavalry had charged, and from the dense masses upon which our Guns repeatedly opened, the Enemy's Casualties must have been heavy. Our loss consisted of four men killed, five Officers and twenty men wounded.

9. My cordial acknowledgments are due to all the Officers and Men who conducted and took part in these operations, but especially to the Military Train, whose brilliant charge excited the enthusiasm of all who witnessed it.

10. Colonel Berkeley, my able and zealous Military Secretary, whose knowledge of the ground was of great service to Brigadier Campbell in cutting off the Enemy's retreat, was wounded while gallantly charging at the head of Hodson's Horse, as was Lieutenant Moorsom while rendering to Barrow and Wale assistance similar to that which Colonel Berkeley afforded the Brigadier.

11. About 4 P. M., the Enemy again moved out against us. On this occasion they directed their principal efforts against our left, and evinced more spirit and determination than they have hitherto done. Repeatedly they advanced within grape and musket range, and as they ever met with a warm reception from our Guns and Enfields, especially from those of the left front picket, Commanded by Major Master, of the 5th Fusiliers, they must have suffered severely.

* They renewed their fire from time to time during the night; but solely, I believe, with the object of covering the parties engaged in removing their dead. Our loss in this subsequent operation amounted to one man killed and fourteen wounded. In all five men killed, and thirty-five Officers and men wounded.

12. The conduct of the Troops throughout the entire day and night was excellent at every point, and merits the highest commendation.

The usual Returns of Ordnance captured and of Casualties are hereby forwarded.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. OUTRAM, Major-Genl., Commanding 1st Division.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

1. With reference to our Military Despatch, No. 250 of 1857, dated 9th December, we have to apprise you that, as a special mark of the sense which we entertain of the skill, sound judgment, steady resolution and gallantry of Major General Sir Archdale Wilson, Baronet, K. C. B., in the operations which resulted in the storm and capture of Delhi, by which, under the blessing of Divine Providence, the reputation of the British Arms and Nation has been nobly sustained, we have resolved to grant him a Special Pension of £1,000 a year.

We have also resolved in recognition of the brilliant and eminent services of the late Brigadier Generals Neill and Nicholson, to grant to Lady Neill, the widow of the former Officer, a special Pension of £500 a year, and one of similar amount to Mrs. Nicholson, the mother of the latter Officer, in addition to the allowances to which they are respectively entitled under the Regulations making special pecuniary grants to the families of Officers killed in action.

General Orders by the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 9TH APRIL 1858.

No. 131 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 15th March 1858.

No. 32 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Reports of an expedition against Ghose Mahomed Khan, the Agent of the Rebel Chief of Allygurh, which took place on the 24th of August 1857, in the District of Allygurh, near Coel.

These documents have only now reached Government in the Military Department.

The Governor General has much satisfaction in publicly recognizing the eminent services on that occasion of Mr. A. H. Cocks, Special Commissioner, of Brevet Major Montgomery, 15th Regiment Native Infantry, who Commanded the Expedition, of Captain Murray, late of the Gwalior Contingent, Commanding the Jat Horse; and His Lordship tenders his best thanks to Captain Stroker, Commanding a Detachment of the 3d European Regiment, to Lieutenant Griffin, Commanding the Detachment of Artillery; to Lieutenant DeKantzow, in Command of the Militia; to Mr. Daniell, C. S.; to Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who particularly distinguished himself in the field; to Mr. P. Saunders, whose services are highly eulogized; and to the other Gentlemen of the Civil Service, and to the Military and Medical Officers, whose gallant conduct and good services are mentioned in these Reports.

The Governor General deeply laments the death of Mr. J. O'B. Tandy, who behaved with conspicuous gallantry in this affair, and whose conduct throughout was only what was to have been expected from his known character, and his former most zealous services.

FROM MR. A. H. COCKS, Special Commissioner,

TO C. B. THORNHILL, Esquire, Secy. to Government, N. W. P.

Sir,—I have the honor to report for the information of his Honor the Lieutenant Governor, that we are in possession of the important Town of Coel; and that, as far as can at present be ascertained, the effects of the victory which was obtained over the Rebels, on the 24th Ultimo, are as satisfactory as could be hoped for.

2. His Honor has already been demi-officially informed of the operations of the force under Major Montgomery. I now record the reasons for the advance on Coel, and a short resume of matters since I left Agra.

3. On the 21st Ultimo, I was deputed to Hattrass to collect revenue and restore confidence to the people of that part of the District, who had abstained in a certain measure from evincing the rebellious spirit generally shown by the inhabitants of this Zillah.

4. I found on arrival at Hattrass that none of the objects of the expedition could be satisfactorily carried out, in consequence of the insolence of Ghose Mahomed Khan, who had, on the part of the King of Delhi, set himself up at Coel as the Ruler of that place. He had sent out a considerable force of his horsemen to Mudrack, 8 miles from Allygurh, on the road to Hattrass, and an advance guard to Sasnee, only 6 miles from the latter place; and his followers boasted of their intention to advance on Hattrass itself.

5. All these demonstrations quite paralyzed my efforts for good; and with the hearty concurrence of Major Montgomery, a movement on Coel was decided upon. We accordingly marched to Sasnee on the evening of the 23rd and halted there. The next morning we resumed our march and came up with the Rebels, 3 miles from Coel, at about 10 A. M., when the battle began, and lasted till 1 P. M.

6. Major Montgomery will report the plan of operations as well as the conduct of the Troops. I will only observe that before we left the field not an Enemy was in sight. The corpses of most of their slain were leisurely examined by us; and those of our own, only five in number, were reverently removed and placed on a conveyance.

7. On political grounds, I was most anxious to make an entrance into Allygurh; but for military reasons, (which Major Montgomery will explain, and which were undoubtedly most prudent,) the order was given to retire. This was done in a dignified manner. We remained three hours at Sasnee, and reached Hattrass at night.

8. The next morning I learnt that all the Rebels who fought against us, with Ghose Mahomed at their head, had precipitately abandoned the city; that two of the leaders, (Moulvees), who had inflamed the religious fanaticism of the Musulman population, had been killed; and that all the peaceful citizens of Coel were anxiously expecting our arrival.

9. More Ammunition was accordingly procured from Agra; and on the 28th, at 7 A. M., we made a triumphant entry into the Town and Cantonments, where we have remained ever since in undisturbed possession.

10. I beg to bring to your notice the useful and gallant services of Captain Murray, or the late Gwalior Contingent. His Report is herewith enclosed, and it fully shows the aid given by the Jat Horsemen under Thakoor Gobind Sing. Captain Murray has shown himself throughout the expedition to be as brave and dashing a soldier in the field as he is cautious and sensible in counsel; and his example infused some measure of courage into the Jats. I cordially agree with all he says of his subordinates. Mr. Hennessy is a most promising young gentleman; and I sincerely trust he may obtain a commission from the Hon'ble Company, to which I pledge myself he will do honor. Mr. P. Saunders was also prominently engaged during the whole action; and I mention him in my Report as he was in some measure associated with me. Major Montgomery will, I doubt not, mention his conspicuous gallantry, as well as that of his cousin, the lamented Mr. J. O'B. Tandy, who fell, as all anticipated, in a noble and self-sacrificing manner.

11. I trust Thakoor Gobind Sing will be well rewarded with a Khillut, as well as in some substantial manner, for the services he has rendered, and the sacrifices he has made to prove his fidelity.

12. Chobay Ghunseean Doss, late Tehseeldar of Hattrass must be mentioned as an extraordinary example of wisdom, bravery, and integrity. His intelligence from all parts has never failed; his advice has been judicious and honest; and his influence with all parties, and the Enemies of the Government. In a word, during the whole of this rebellion. I have seen no native equal to him, or more deserving of the confidence on the Government of India, and of a higher mark of their regard.

13. The Deputy Collector of Boolundshuhur, Doorga Persad, has shown himself to be a man of considerable bravery, as well as of intelligence; and I would say the same of the two brothers of the Chobay Gunseean, by name Jai Kiso and Dhunput Roy, Tehseeldars, respectively, of Hattrass and Eglas.

14. I beg to express the high opinion I entertain of the services of Messrs. Lane, Daniell and E. Colvin. Mr. Lane was only a volunteer, and therefore I had not so much to do with him. Mr. Colvin was with me throughout the expedition. He not only gave me every assistance as a coadjutor in the work of the District, but was also prominent in the field, where he had the good fortune to shoot one of the leading Gazees. On Mr. Daniell and the foot under Runder Sing, devolved the protection of the baggage in the rear. The duty was important and dangerous, and it was well and bravely performed. I forward Mr. Daniell's Report.

15. In conclusion, I beg to express my hearty thanks to Major Montgomery for his uniform co-operation; and there is but one opinion amongst all who have been associated with him, as to on his admirable arrangements on the line of march, or on the field of battle, or in Cantonments. He is every where day and night.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

A. COCKS, Special Commissioner.

Command, as per margin, arrived at Hattrass, on the evening of the 21st Ultimo, and on the day following, intelligence was received that the Allygurh Insurgents, numbering 5 to 6,000, under Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Soobah of the King of Delhi, had assumed the offensive, and were marching to attack our position; further, that their advance guard had been pushed forward to Mudrack, about 12 miles from Hattrass. But as the information, though most important, could not be depended upon, Mr. J. O'B. Tandy volunteered, accompanied by Mr. C. Daniell, C. S., and Lieutenant De Kantzow, to ride on in the direction the Enemy were said to have taken up their position, for the purpose of obtaining reliable and certain information of the movements and position of the insurgents as far as possible.

2. In the meantime I made the necessary arrangements for repelling an attack, and to prevent a surprise during the night.

3. At midnight Mr. Tandy and party returned, bringing intelligence, that the advance guard of the insurgents had fallen back, leaving a party of Horse (supposed to be the Mutineers of the 15th Irregulars) at Mudrack, and had taken up their position, determined to fight in a garden with high embankments belonging to Maun Sing, close to and connecting with similar enclosures, near to and on the outskirts of the City of Allygurh.

4. From the information I received, I determined at once, in concurrence with the Commissioner A. Cocks, Esq., on special duty, to attack their position at all hazard; and on Sunday the 23rd Ultimo, commenced our march towards Allygurh, lightly equipped and prepared against any contingency, and arrived at Sasnee about the close of the evening, having been detained by heavy rain on the line of march, and halted for the night. An old Indigo Factory close to the road with adjoining buildings, and the Government Carts placed at my disposal, afforded tolerable shelter for both men and Officers, and by the assistance of the Civil Authorities, large fires were lighted throughout the camp, by which the men dried their clothes. Every precaution was taken for the protection of the camp, and the night passed off without any thing occurring, worthy of notice, beyond the capture of a youth near one of the Guns, who was confined and subsequently flogged, it having been ascertained, that he had come from Allygurh.

5. At day-break, we resumed our march towards Allygurh in good heart, and elated with the prospect of meeting and chastising with retributive vengeance, Rebels and Mutineers unequalled for their cruel fiendish malignity and cowardly atrocities to our helpless (in most instances) countrymen and their families, though so vastly superior in number; but still fighting in a good cause and with the fullest reliance on Almighty Aid, of the result on closing with the Enemy, there was but one feeling which animated and pervaded the minds of most composing the Detachment.

6. I must here mention that on starting from Sasnee, Mr. Cocks placed at my disposal 70 Jat Horse and Matchlock men belonging to Thakoor Gobind Sing, the former being under the Command of Captain J. J. Murray, of the late Gwalior Contingent, and the latter of Mr. Daniell, C. S., and who, as will afterwards appear, were of great service.

7. On nearing Mudrack about seven miles from Allygurh, we observed a party of Cavalry quietly retiring, fully a mile ahead of our advance guard, which consisted of a Company of the 3rd Europeans on Elephants, preceded by the Militia Cavalry and Jat Horse. The Enemy's Cavalry had evidently no wish to interfere with our advance, and continued to retire, till nearing their position, they sidled off to the left, and were joined by others.

8. The Detachment continued to advance to within a quarter of a mile of Maun Sing's garden, and on ascertaining the exact position of the Enemy, measures were promptly taken for the protection of the carriage, &c., consisting of a numerous train of waggons, 130 head of cattle, 16 elephants, and many camels with ammunition and stores, which to me surrounded as we were on nearly all sides by overwhelming numbers of the Enemy, caused me no little anxiety.

9. The carriage, &c., having been collected on the smallest possible space by Captain Fanshawe, I placed at his disposal, for their protection, the Jat Matchlock men and a few Sowars under Mr. Daniell, who performed that important duty most efficiently and satisfactorily.

10. Having secured the baggage, &c., with greatest care and anxiety, I commenced the action by attacking, with the Militia Cavalry under Lieutenant De Kantzow and the Jat Horse, a large body of Cavalry chiefly Irregulars, who threatened our left and rear.

11. This duty was most gallantly and promptly performed, and our left and rear having thus been cleared of the Enemy's Cavalry, who were driven back to the rear of their main body, I brought the Guns into position, under cover of skirmishers, and opened fire, which was sharply replied to by the Enemy from behind the garden walls, against which I found Artillery of little avail. Information was now brought to me by Mr. P. Saunders who considerably and kindly placed his services at my disposal, that the Enemy were in great force on the right of the garden; I immediately directed Captain Murray to move round to the right with Jat Horse and cut off the Enemy on the general assault and carrying of their position with the Infantry, at the same time ordering Lieutenant Griffin to move up two of his Guns in the same direction. This movement took some little time, evidently occupying the attention of the Enemy, enabled me to make arrangements for the assault.

12. Leaving a sufficient number of men under Captain Stover to protect the Gun on the left, and all being ready, I gave the word, "Forward" and went to the front accompanied by Lieutenant Clark, and followed by No. 8 Company, of the 3rd European Regiment, under Lieutenant Blake; on reaching the garden wall, a large party of fanatical Mussulmen, headed by Moulvees rushed forward sword in hand from the right corner, and there ensued a most desperate hand to hand encounter, which terminated in their total destruction, and where we met with our chief loss, which might in a great measure have been avoided, had Captain Bacon's Company attached to the two Guns on the right fired upon them as they debouched from the garden immediately in their front.

13. Fortunately at this moment Lieutenant Griffin, at Captain Murray's request, moved up his two Guns, and getting well to the right, opened fire with terrible effect on their reserve, killing great numbers and completely dispersing the remainder. Captain Murray at the same time taking advantage of an opening in the wall, dashed forward with part of the Jat Horse, entered the garden, and cut up the Gazees who remained in it, among whom was the Chief Moulvee Abdoolzuleel, who was cut down in a hand to hand encounter by that Officer.

14. The field was now our own, after two hours fighting, the Enemy having been completely routed and dispersed in all directions, leaving at least 300 dead; thus terminating a decided victory against great odds, and with comparatively small loss on our side, considering the strength of their positions and the number of Gazees, who fought with the desperation and contempt of life of Mussulmen fanatics.

15. On the termination of the action, Mr. Cocks, who throughout the day was by my side, strongly urged following up our success on political grounds, by an immediate advance on Allygurh; but having to thread a defile of walled enclosures (most of which were occupied) a greater part of which running under and close to the city with enormous population; with our grape and canister nearly expended, without scarcely the possibility of getting at the Enemy with our Detachment, in the first instance scarcely equal to the undertaking, much reduced by the killed and wounded, with reports of aid for the insurgents being daily expected from Delhi, with no possibility of obtaining assistance from any quarter nearer than Agra, from where a man could scarcely be spared, with our wounded to attend to and all being well considered and explained to Mr. Cocks, I, with his fullest concurrence, decided on returning to our Head Quarters at Hattrass, taking with us our killed and wounded, with the determination of occupying Allygurh on completing our ammunition, and which we did on the 27th without the slightest opposition.

16. The force opposed to us, Commanded by Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Soobah on the part of Waleed Khan, appointed Soobah by the King of Delhi, was chiefly composed of Mussulmen, among whom were many Gazees, numbering from 5 to 6,000, with 150 Irregular Cavalry and 200 Mahomedan Horse, aided by levies of Zemindaree Horse and Foot, chiefly Mewaties amounting to 6 or 700 Men, the whole headed by Moulvee Abdoolzuleel, a very influential religious instructor, and leader of the Gazees, being assisted by several other Moulvees, three of whom, including Abdoolzuleel, were killed, and a fourth wounded.

17. I attribute the success of the action to the cordial co-operation and assistance, I received from the Civil Authorities, and Officers and Men under my Command, and my best thanks are due to Captain Stover, Second in Command, (who in quarter and in the field has rendered me every assistance.) Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and men of the 3rd Europeans, which, though a young Regiment, and under very trying circumstances, behaved with the valour and spirit of British Soldiers.

18. To Lieutenant Griffin, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the Artillery, for the promptitude with which my orders were carried out and to whose energetic exertions I attribute in a great measure the success of the day.

19. Lieutenant DeKantzow, and the Militia Cavalry, who (with the Jat Horse under Captain Murray—this Officer signally distinguished himself in a single handed encounter with a Gazee, who, I am happy to say, was shot down, though not till Captain Murray received a severe, contusion in the arm,) rendered most important service, by successfully attacking and dispersing a large body of Irregular Cavalry at the commencement of the action. Of the conduct of the Militia, both in the field and quarters, I cannot speak too highly.

20. To Assistant Surgeon Mackellar, for his judicious medical arrangements, and his assiduous and humane attention to the wounded.

21. To Lieutenant Blake, 3rd European Regiment and Lieutenant Clarke, of the late Gwalior Contingent, who behaved with conspicuous gallantry, the latter being severely wounded.

22. Ensign O'Donnell, 67th N. I., who during the march, and in the field, assisted me very greatly.

23. Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who greatly distinguished himself, shooting five men with his Rifle, and one with a Revolver, and as he was also present in the action of the 5th July, and is specially be brought to the notice of Government, with a view to his obtaining Military employment.

24. I beg to bring prominently forward the praiseworthy conduct of Reverend Mr. Kellner, who gratuitously accompanied the Detachment, and for whose humane and unremitting attention to the wounded during the action and under fire, too much praise cannot possibly be bestowed.

25. I am also greatly indebted to Mr. Cocks for his cordial co-operation and assistance, on all occasions particularly on the day of the action, and for the very accurate information he obtained, when the most conflicting and contradictory accounts were spread abroad, evidently with the view of discouraging and throwing difficulties in the way of our advance. Also to Mr. Waterson Saunders, and Messrs. Lane and Colvin, of the Civil Service, of whose services I cannot speak too highly in conveying orders throughout the heat of the action.

26. To Captain Fanshawe, in charge of the carriage, &c., for his admirable management in providing ample carriage for the Detachment, and energetic exertions in the Postal Department, as also for the very accurate information he has at all times procured.

27. To Mr. Daniell, C. S., to whom was assigned the responsible duty of protecting the baggage with the Jat Matchlock men.

28. I deeply lament the loss of J. O'B. Tandy, Esq., and Ensign Marsh, 16th Grenadiers, both of whom were Volunteers; the former fell whilst attempting quite alone to enter the walled enclosures. This Gentleman's daring and gallantry could not be surpassed, and possessing, as he did, every qualification that could adorn a Soldier and a Gentleman, his loss has been a matter of the deepest regret to the whole of the party. Ensign Marsh, the son of an old Cavalry Officer in our Service, behaved most gallantly, and at last over-powered by odds, fell cut to pieces by the fanatic Gazees.

A List of the Killed and Wounded, I have the honor herewith to enclose.
I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. J. MONTGOMERY, Brevet-Major, Major of Brigade, late Comdg. Det.

To A. COCKS, Esquire, Special Commissioner.

Camp Hattrass, 25th August 1857.

SIR,—AGREEABLY to your request, I have the honor to furnish for your information, the following account of the part taken by Thakoor Gobind Sing's Jat Horse, under my Command, in the engagement with the Allygurh Insurgents, at Maun Sing's garden, on the 24th Instant.

* 70 Sowars under Thakoor Gobind Sing.

2. Before attacking their position, Major Montgomery ordered the Militia Cavalry, under Lieutenant DeKantzow, and the Jat Horse, to charge 150 Irregular Cavalry, who were threatening our left flank, and circling round to the rear of our column. The Militia Cavalry† being a small body and easily handled, were the first to move off, but the Jat Horse quickly followed in support, and by their formidable appearance, contributed in no small degree to the defeat of the Irregulars, who, after firing a few shots, were driven back to the rear of their position in complete disorder and did not again show themselves during the action. These latter were in uniform and armed with carbines, &c.

3. Shortly afterwards I was ordered to sweep round by the right of Maun Sing's garden, and cut up some of the Enemy, who were making their escape; but finding a large party of at least 800 Men and 50 Sowars, drawn up in good order on the right of the garden, Lieutenant Griffin at my request, moved up two of his Guns and opened fire with terrible effect, killing at least 150 of them, and completely dispersing the remainder.

I was preparing to follow them up, when I received an order to charge into the garden and clear it of the Enemy. This, a portion of the Jat Horse did in gallant style, headed by Kurruck Sing, who (were 3 Sowars) was wounded in an encounter with seven of the most desperate Mussulmen, whom they killed. Kurruck Sing was also dangerously wounded by a Musket ball, on leaving the garden; but I am glad to say is going on favourably.

4. Thakoor Gobind Sing gave me every assistance, and was under fire throughout the engagement. Deputy Collector Doorga Persaud and Jey Kissan, Tehseeldar of Hattrass, also distinguished themselves.

5. I have great pleasure in bringing to your notice Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who kindly accompanied me, and as you must have observed, particularly distinguished himself. He killed five men with his Rifle, one with a Revolver, and would have been very severely wounded, had not his pouch saved him from a sword cut, in an encounter with a Mussulman, and he fortunately escaped with a contusion of the arm.

6. Mr. Collier, of the Militia Cavalry, who was attached to me, behaved with his usual gallantry.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. G. MURRAY, Capt, Late Gwalior Contingent, Comdg. Jat Horse, on the 24th Instant.

MEMO.

Sir,

ON the morning of the 24th Instant, under Major Montgomery's orders, I marched with the contingent of footmen, furnished by Thakoor Gobind Sing, to the number of one hundred and eleven, from Sasnee. They were under the Command of Runder Singh, the Thakoor's nephew. I was ordered to remain with them all day, and march in the rear of the force, and to carry out the Commanding Officer's orders, with regard to this part of the force. They marched in excellent order, up to the field, about a mile distant from the rear of the force, the Enemy's Cavalry were seen a short distance to the right, but made no attempt at attack, keeping parallel to the rear Guard, until they joined the main-body. I there received an order to dispose the men, in the rear, with a view to prevent any attack. The footmen were therefore drawn up, on each side of the baggage in the fields on the side of the road, and the Cavalry about ten in number, who were sent to my rear on the road, completed the cordon, being drawn up between the two lines of Infantry. They kept this position until the order to return to Hattrass, was given, when the horsemen marched in front of the main body, and the footmen in two lines on each side of the baggage. Thakoor Runder Singh's activity was conspicuous. The order he preserved among his men, was very creditable.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

C. J. DANIELL, Joint Magistrate.

No 33 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, forwarding a Report of the storming and capture of the Town of Meeangunge in Oude on the 23rd Ultimo, by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier General Sir J. Sir,—I have the honor to report that, on the morning of the 23rd of February, I marched with the Force named in the margin, to Meeangunge, (with which I had been sent out to clear the country on the left bank of the Ganges, and along the main road from Cawnpore to Lucknow,) where I heard a Force of 2,000 Infantry had taken up a position in the Town with 300 Cavalry outside and 5 or 6 Guns.

The Town was an old walled City with three strong gates, one leading to Lucknow, another to Cawnpore, and the third to Rohilcund; at each of the gates were placed Guns behind strong breastworks, and these three sides were covered with trees. I reconnoitred and found on the fourth side, an excellent position within 350 yards, where the 2 heavy Guns under Major Anderson, C. B., could be brought up, and a part of the wall in which was a postern gate beside a house called the palace, which could be breached. I immediately ordered up the 2 Guns, placed the 53rd Regiment with the 38th in support, in rear of the Guns behind a village. I sent the Cavalry with 4 Guns of the Royal Horse Artillery, to cover the Lucknow road; and the 34th Regiment, with two other Guns and a troop of Cavalry, to cover the baggage on the Rohilcund road. Major Turner's Troop of 9-pounders, under Command of Lieutenant Bishop, I placed on the right of the heavy Guns, to keep down the musketry fire from the walls of the Town.

In the space of 50 minutes, the 2 heavy Guns made a practicable breach, and I then ordered the 53rd Regiment to advance to the assault. They were formed into two columns. One was to proceed through the left of the Town under Colonel English, the other to the right under Major Payne; this duty was performed most admirably by the 53rd; they approached the Town through some lanes to the left, they rushed in at the breach, stormed the Town and took it; 6 Guns were also taken. Numbers of the Enemy were killed, and numbers tried to make their escape through the gates, but we were every where prepared for them, and altogether there must have been 500 killed and 400 taken prisoners. The Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry, on all sides, did their duty and gave me the greatest satisfaction.

I cannot speak too highly of the assistance I received from Major Anderson, C. B., Commanding the Artillery, from Lieutenant-Colonel J. Hagart, Commanding the Cavalry, and from Lieutenant Colonel Sparks, Commanding the Infantry Brigades; also from Major Turner, Bengal Horse Artillery, and from Major Mitchell, and Lieutenant Bishop, Commanding Troops of Royal and Bengal Horse Artillery; from Major Horne, Commanding 7th Hussars, and from Captain Anson, Commanding 9th Lancers; from Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Commanding 34th Regiment, and from Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Commanding 38th Regiment; also from Lieutenant-Colonel English and Major Payne, 53rd Regiment, who so successfully Commanded all their Columns of assault, and from Captain Gough and Lieutenant Watson, Commanding Detachments of Irregular Cavalry; Lieutenant Dirom, Bengal Horse Artillery; Lieutenant Martin, 9th Lancers, and Captain Fendall, 53rd Regiment, Brigade Majors of Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry, were of the greatest use throughout the day. Lieutenant Warren, Commanding the heavy Guns, deserves great praise for the speedy and effective manner the wall was breached.

To my own personal Staff, I am deeply indebted for their services. Captain Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General, Captain the Honorable A. Anson, Aid-de-Camp, and Lieutenant Havelock, extra Aid-de-Camp. Captain Bruce, Head of the Intelligence Department, and Captain Evans, Deputy Commissioner, afforded me the most valuable aid in obtaining information on this, as on every other occasion; Lieutenants Wilkinson and Hogge, of the Commissariat Department, exerted themselves to the utmost, and materially lessened the difficulties of the march.

I have, &c.,

FORT ST. GEORGE, 13TH APRIL 1858.

No. 139 of 1858.—The Governor in Council has much pleasure in publishing for the information of the Army, the following letter addressed to the Adjutant General of the Army, by Brigadier General J. H. Franks, C. B., Commanding 4th Division Bengal Field Force, dated 13th March 1858, No. 153, bringing to notice the excellent service rendered by the undermentioned Officers of the Madras Army, while serving with the Jounpore Field Force, under his orders.

Major G. S. Cotter, Artillery.

Lieutenant W. J. Bradford, Artillery.

do W. Rawlins, 17th Regiment Native Infantry.

2d Lieutenant S. H. E. Chamier, Artillery.

Assistant Surgeon W. Doyle, F. R. C. S. L.

No. 153.

Begum Serai, city of Lucknow, 13th March 1858.

Sir,—Having lately relinquished on its incorporation with the main Army as the fourth Division, the Command of the Jounpore Field Force which has been since December last operating in the Jounpore, Azimgurh and Allahabad Districts for the expulsion of the Rebels ; whom it has defeated in the four actions of Nusrutpore, Chanda, Amerepore and Sultanpore. I feel it incumbent on me to bring to the notice of His Excellency the Commander in Chief in the Madras Presidency, the excellent services of the Officers of that Army who have been acting under my Command.

2. I allude especially to Major Cotter, Commanding A. Company 3d Battalion Madras Artillery with No. 2 Light Field Battery attached, whose handling of his Guns in all four of the actions I have enumerated has called forth my warm admiration, while his attention to the efficiency of his Battery and the well being of his Company have been most praiseworthy.

He has been assisted by two excellent Subalterns, Lieutenants Bradford and Chamier, who have on every occasion given him efficient support. The conduct of the former Officer in personally assisting to bring away two captured guns (taken at the attack on the Fort of Dhowram) under a heavy fire of matchlocks, has been specially brought to my notice by Lieutenant Colonel Maberly, Royal Artillery, late Commanding the Artillery of the Jounpore Field Force.

Assistant Surgeon Doyle, attached to Major Cotter's Battery has been most assiduous in the performance of his medical duties, and he was appointed by me to the charge of the Field Force Staff.

3. I have also been greatly indebted to Lieutenant Rawlins, 17th Madras Native Infantry, who served for some time as Baggage Master to the Right Column of the Field Force, then detached in the Azimgurh District and subsequently on that Column joining the Force, was appointed in the same capacity with it. The manner in which this Officer has carried out duties of a very arduous nature entailing constant exposure and fatigue has met with my entire approval.

4. These Officers have all in their several positions earned my thanks, and I beg to bring them to the favorable notice of the Commander in Chief.

I have the honor to be, &c.

(Signed) J. H. FRANKS, Brigadier General, Commanding 4th Division.

(Signed) C. A. BROWNE, Colonel,
Secretary to Government.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

F. S. GABB, Major,
Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 15TH APRIL 1858.

No. 140 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 22d March 1858.

No. 38 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has much pleasure in publishing the following Report of an engagement between a Detachment of the Jat Horse, under the Command of Captain J. J. Murray, and a body of the Enemy's Cavalry, at Kutchla Ghat, in which the latter were defeated and dispersed.

The Governor General tenders his acknowledgments to Captain Murray, Lieutenant Hennessy, and the Men who were engaged in this spirited affair.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

FROM CAPTAIN J. J. MURRAY, Comdg. Jat Horse,
TO W. MUIR, Esq., Secy. to Govt., N. W. P.

Camp Kashgunge, 13th March 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of my letter No. 25, of the 11th Instant, to Lieutenant Prinsep, Detachment Staff, at Allygurh, giving the particulars of an affair I had with the Enemy's Cavalry at Kutchla Ghat, on the 11th Instant.

2. I earnestly beg to bring to the notice of Government, Local Lieutenant and Adjutant A. C. Hennessy, who was very severely wounded in the charge, and whose bravery was most conspicuous.

3. Nothing could exceed the steadiness of the men when retiring, and their bravery in the attack, those opposed to them being Irregular Cavalry, completely armed, and with every advantage in their favor.

4. The Enemy have not yet carried out their threat of advancing on this place, and I hope to be able to hold my position till the arrival of the Column under Major General Penny, three or four days hence, when I believe, the Jat Horse will return to Allygurh.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. J. MURRAY, Captain, Comdg. Jat Horse.

Copy of Letter No. 25, 11th March 1858.

FROM CAPTAIN J. J. MURRAY, Comdg. Jat Horse.
TO LIEUTENANT PRINSEP, Offg. Detachment Staff, Allygurh.

Sir,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Major Eld, Commanding at Allygurh, that, having received information last night of the arrival of Nycazalle Khan at Kutchla Ghat, with 3 Guns and 1,000 Cavalry and Infantry, and further that Wulleedad Khan, thus re-inforced, intended to cross over with his whole Force this morning, I considered it advisable to make a re-advancement towards the Ghat, to watch the movements, and, as far as practicable, ascertain the actual strength of the Enemy.

Accordingly, this morning, I took with me 200 Horse, and, on approaching the Banks of the river, the Enemy, who were on the alert, turned out in force, having at least 600 Cavalry (Irregulars), 2,000 drilled Infantry, and 3 Field Guns, besides two or three others in position.

Having satisfied myself as to their strength, and observing no preparations for crossing over, I decided on returning at once to Kashgunge; but had scarcely moved off, when, to my great surprise, I saw a strong part of their Cavalry crossing the river immediately opposite the Ghat, and where I had been informed it was not fordable, under cover of their Field Guns. I continued to retire in perfect order, not wishing to engage with the Enemy so near their main body. They however advanced rapidly, and a mile on this side of Ruggoub pressed so closely on my Column, that I consider it necessary to charge them, and did so successfully, driving them to that village, beyond which I did not deem it prudent to follow them.

We killed seven of the Enemy, and completely checked their further advance.

I was thus enabled to continue my march unmonested to Sarun, where I halted during the day. In the charge, I regret to say that that most gallant young Officer, Lieutenant and Adjutant Hennessy, received three very severe sword cuts in the right arm, and which will deprive me of his valuable services for sometime, and two Sowars of the Jat Horse were killed. There are also missing.

The advanced portion of the Enemy's Cavalry thus driven back, numbered about 200, and came on with great boldness, well knowing that my men were newly raised and without fire arms.

It appears that the Enemy, being checked in their advance in the direction, subsequently, with a strong Force, proceeded to the village of Arhair, 2 miles above the Ghat, where Darah Sing Thakoor has a strong Ghurrie, defended by 250 armed followers with a Gun. The Enemy attacked the place, but were unsuccessful, and recrossed the river in the afternoon, taking with them a Gun which had been left outside the Ghurrie.

When they retired, Darah Sing and his Followers left the place, and are now in Sarun. The Enemy lost a number of Men, and the Thakoor one or two.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

No. 40 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report, by Colonel F. Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, detailing the particulars of the signal victory obtained on the 5th Instant, by the Troops under his Command, over a Rebel force greatly outnumbering them.

Fully concurring in the praise bestowed by Colonel Rowcroft on Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade of Her Majesty's Ship Pearl; on Major Richardson, and Captain Chapman, and the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry led by them; on Colonel Byroon Sing Kooer and Major-Captain Sewuckram Thappa, and in his acknowledgment of the good services of the Officers and Men of all arms under his orders, the Governor General further desires to place on record his full appreciation of the admirable manner in which they were Commanded in this action by Colonel Rowcroft himself.

By Order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

Camp Amarah, 6th March 1858.

On the signal and complete defeat yesterday of the Enemy, who had moved up in great force, from "Belwa, Fyzabad, and Nawabgunge, Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding the Field Force, offers, with great pleasure, his best thanks and congratulations to all the Officers and Men of the Pearl's Naval Brigade, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N.; the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry under Major Richardson; Gorucknath and Bunuk Goorkha Regiments, under Military charge of Captains Barclay and Brooks, with Captain MacGregor attached; to Colonel Byroon Singh Kooer, and Major-Captain Sewuckram Thappa, Goorkha Commandants; Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., in charge of the Naval Artillery; Lieutenants Batcliffe and Grant, R. N., in charge of the Naval Column; Lieutenant Pym, R. N., in charge of Marine skirmishers, aided by a party of Rifles from the Naval Column under Lieutenant Burlton, in charge of Sikh skirmishers—all rendered their usual most active and excellent services. The charges of the Yeomanry Cavalry were gallant and most effective; early in the action that of the Right Squadron, under Captain Chapman, ordered and directed by Colonel Rowcroft, was carried out with a rapid and telling effect, driving in the left of the Enemy, killing great numbers, turning and shaking their centre. The advance of the Naval Brigade and Gorucknath Regiment, ordered at the same time, drove the whole line of the Enemy into full retreat, compelling them to abandon their Guns; and here a Detachment of 20 Troopers, Yeomanry Cavalry, with Cornets Copland and Prinsep, ordered from the Right Squadron to the rear of Naval Guns, to cover and protect them, did excellent and useful service: the combined movements and advance of all the Troops leading to the capture of 7 of the Enemy's Guns. Shortly before this movement, Colonel Rowcroft received a Report from Major Richardson, Commanding Left Squadron on the left, that the Enemy, in great force, had got round our left rear, threatening our Camp. Orders were sent to Major Richardson, with a Troop of his whole Squadron, to attack and clear out the Enemy most gallantly and effectually carried out by Major Richardson and his Squadron, actively aided by a few Goorkha Companies under Captain Brooks. Major Richardson reports that he received great assistance from Cornets Kloer and Troup, who were his Orderly Officers. Colonel Rowcroft's best thanks are also due to Captain Morgan, Field Force Staff, and to Hon'ble V. A. Montague, his Acting A. D. C., for their ready and zealous services; also to Drs. Shore and Dickenson, of the Naval Brigade, and to Dr. J. W. R. Ainesbury, of the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, and to Revd. W. Williams, Naval Chaplain, present in the field.

The Field Force moved out about 7½ A. The action commenced at 8½ A. M. and closed 12½ P. M., in four hours; the Enemy, reported to be 4,000 Sepoys of the 1st, 10th, 58th, 56th, 5th Gwalior Contingent, and 2nd Oude Police Corps, 700 strong 10,000 Irregulars, 300 Sowars and 9 Guns, being beaten at all points pursued 7 miles and completely routed with heavy loss of 7 Guns with limbers and ammunition, and 500 killed and wounded. This most successful action by the Field Force may be considered to have saved Goruckpore from a second immediate rebellion.

Colonel Rowcroft is very happy that our Casualty List is not heavy, though he has to regret the loss of Second Master Mr. John Fowler, R. N., of the Pearl, killed in action by a round shot.

The above ordered to be read and explained to Regiments and Detachments at a parade ordered for that purpose.

No. 168.

To COLONEL R. J. H. BIRCH, C. B., Military Secretary, with the Right Honorable the Governor General, Allahabad.

Camp Amarah, 9 miles from Belwa, opposite Fyzabad, the 6th March 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to acquaint you for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General, on the 4th Instant, in the evening and during the night, I received reports that the Enemy were preparing in great force with several Guns to move on us from Belwa, Fyzabad and Nawabgunge. The Camp, Baggage, &c., was at once struck, and packed that night. About 7-30 the next morning, the 5th Instant, the Field Force as per margin, moved out of Camp, and I took up a position and formed line a little to the West of the village of Amarah and the Camp; the Naval Brigade and Guns in the centre across the road, the two Goorkha Regiments on the right and left of the Naval Brigade, the Sikh Detachment on the left of the Goorkhas, and the Yeomanry Cavalry, one Squadron on the right, and one on the left of my line. I rode forward a little in advance to meet a Cavalry Patrol. From the Officer's Report, I at first thought it was the party of the Enemy sent into the villages for plunder, but I immediately heard the bugles of the Enemy sounding a halt, and then the advance. I doubled the strength of the patrol, and ordered the Officer to obtain further information, and to be careful not to commit his Patrol by going into any village.

They soon returned, the Officer reporting the Enemy to be advancing in great force. Our line remained steady in position, anxiously awaiting the moment for attacking the Enemy. The bugle sounds neared on our line, and the Enemy soon showed themselves in great force, their line extending right and left, over-lapping our flanks. Our guns opened from the centre, and the Enemy commenced a heavy and rapid cannonade from several Guns on our line. I ordered out the skirmishers and the whole line to advance. I received a report from Major Richardson, Commanding left Squadron, that the Enemy in force were pushing round my left rear. I ordered him to detach a Troop, or if necessary with the Squadron, to attack and clear out the Enemy, but not to leave my left for any time. This was gallantly and effectually carried out by Major Richardson and his Squadron, zealously and actively aided by Captain Brooks, with a party of Goorkhas cutting up and killing a number of the Enemy. Here Captain Jenkins and Cornet Durnford had their Horses shot, and killed under them. Major Richardson reports that he received great assistance from Cornets Kloer and Troup, his Orderly Officers.

2. I saw there was no time to be lost, and that a rapid and decisive blow must be struck. Leaving orders for the Guns to continue the advance and fire, and taking a party of Rifles of 20 men from the Naval Column, with Lieutenant Ingles, R. N., to re-inforce the Marine skirmishers, I rode on to the right Squadron, and ordered Captain Chapman to advance rapidly with his Squadron, inclining to the right, and bringing up his right shoulders to charge the Enemy's Sowars and Infantry, hoping it would also shake their centre. At the same time I sent an Orderly Trooper with an order to the Gorucknath Goorkha Regiment, on the right of the Naval Brigade, to advance at the charge, and the Goorkhas moved gallantly forward. The result of this movement was soon apparent. I saw the left of the Enemy hesitating, and some pressing towards their centre, the Sowars in rapid retreat.

Down came the Yeomanry Cavalry at a charging pace, well and steadily together, on the moving masses of Infantry, routing them and cutting down and killing great numbers, upwards of 90 reported. The whole left of the Enemy soon gave way. I galloped up to the Yeomanry Cavalry, and thanked Captain Chapman and the Squadron, for their good gallant movement and charge, and ordered Captain Chapman to move towards the left, to threaten the Enemy's centre. The combined movement and gallant bearing of the Troops, the steady advance of the Naval Brigade, soon shattered the whole line of the Enemy. They abandoned their Guns and were in full retreat, and our gallant Troops captured 7 Guns with limbers and ammunition. When ordering the right Squadron to advance, I detached a party of twenty Troopers to the rear of the naval Guns to cover and protect them, and this party, under Acting Cornets Copland and Prinsep, by their gallant and excellent service aided in capturing some of the Guns.

3. The pursuit now commenced for 7 miles to near Belwa, the Enemy having to be driven out of topes and villages as we advanced.

A short distance from Belwa, the Enemy made a short stand with a large force, keeping up an effective fire on us, from a heavy Gun; and here I have to regret the loss of Acting Second Master Mr. John Fowler, R. N., of the Pearl, killed by a round shot, also Private Poiroonoo Singh, of the Gorucknath Regiment, mortally struck by a round shot shattering his chest, (since dead.) The effective fire of our Guns, the advance of our Troops, and the Right Squadron moving forward to be ready for a charge, soon drove the Enemy out of sight into the heavy jungle and woods.

4. After advancing about a mile further, and halting a short time, I prepared for returning to Camp. The Troops began to feel the fatigue and heat, and the Goorkha Troops were much distressed with the heat, and marching through much heavy ground and cultivation.

5. My best and warmest thanks are due to Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade of the Pearl, and to the Officers and Seamen who with their Guns, were my main stay in the action, and most valuable to me at all times; also to Major Richardson, Commanding, and to Captain Chapman, Commanding Right Squadron, and to the Officers and Men of the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, whose services have been most useful to me—always active, ready and willing for any duty ordered. Also to Captain Barclay, 68th Regiment Native Infantry, and Brooks, 1st Light Cavalry, in Military charge of the two Goorkha Regiments, with Captain MacGregor, 9th Light Cavalry, attached, who were zealous and forward in their duties; and the Commandants, Colonel Byroop Sing Kooer, and Major Captain Senukram Thappah, always bravely urging on their men; also to those zealous active Officers, Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., in charge of Naval Artillery, Lieutenants Radcliffe, R. N., and Grant, R. N., in charge of Naval Column, and to Lieutenant Pym, R. N., with his gallant active Marine skirmishers, and to Lieutenant Ingles, R. N., with the useful and valuable Riflemen of the Naval Column, and to Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment Native Infantry, with his brave ready Sikh skirmishers, who reports Havildar Kurrum Singh, Bengal Police Battalion, for his conspicuous good conduct and gallant bearing.

6. My best thanks are also due to Captain Morgan, 22nd Regiment Native Infantry, Field Force Staff, and to the Hon'ble V. A. Montague, R. N., my acting Aide-de-Camp, for their zealous ready services in the Field. Also to Doctors Shore and Dickenson of the Naval Brigade, Doctor J. W. R. Ainesbury, Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, ready and active for any thing required in their department; as also to Doctor Hilson, in Medical charge of the Burruck Regiment, and to Revd. Mr. Williams, Naval Chaplain present, in the field. Also to Deputy Magistrate Shekh Karroodeen, present in the field, and rendering all the assistance in his power. Lieutenant Grant, R. N., and Midshipman Lord Charles Scott and Gunner W. M. Goodfellow, Seaman, with a few Sailors, quickly and gallantly turned one of the captured Guns on the Enemy, firing 3 rounds of grape.

7. The action commenced at 8-30 A. M., and closed at 12-30 P. M. In four hours the Enemy, their forces reported to be 4,000 Sepoys, 14,000 Irregulars, 300 Sowars and 8 Guns, were completely defeated and driven into rapid retreat, with the severe loss of 7 Guns and some 500 men killed and wounded. The Sepoys were of the 1st, 10th, 53rd and 56th Regiments Native Infantry, 5th Regiment Gwalior Contingent, and 2d Oude Police Battalion, 700 strong. The other Regiments had lately been completed to 500 and 600 strong. The Nazim Mahomed Hossein and Rajahs of Gonda and Churdah and other Chiefs, were present in the field on Elephants, but are said soon to have fled in Palankeens.

8. I am happy to report our Casualty List not heavy. I beg to attach it, also a list of Guns, limbers and ammunition captured.

9. This most successful action by the Field Force, so greatly out-numbered by the Enemy in men and Guns, may be considered to have saved Goruckpore a second immediate rebellion, the Baboos and Zemindars and Villages in neighbourhood being ready to rise to a formidable extent.

10. I beg earnestly to recommend all the Officers and Men of the different arms in action at the battle of Amarah, to the most favorable consideration of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General Viscount Canning.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

F. ROWCROFT, Colonel, Comdg. Sarun Field Force.

WHEREAS We have taken into Our Royal consideration the position of Serjeants and other Non-Commissioned Officers above the rank of Corporal in respect of Pay, and whereas it has been represented unto Us that the distinction and rewards for Good Conduct, granted by Our Royal Warrant of the 1st July 1848, do not extend to these ranks, and cannot be extended to them with propriety and convenience, Our Will and Pleasure is, that every Non-Commissioned Officer, above the rank of Corporal, serving in Our Regular Army, shall receive an addition of Two pence to the present daily pay of his rank, and shall have no claim to Good Conduct Pay assigned to the ranks below that of Serjeant.

It is our further Will and Pleasure that the addition to be made to the present pay of the Non-Commissioned Officers above the rank of Corporal serving in Our Ceylon Rifle Regiment and Royal Malta Fencibles Regiment shall be One Penny a day, except the European Non-Commissioned Officers of the former Corps, who shall receive an addition of Two Pence a day, and that this Our Royal Warrant shall not apply to the Medical Staff Corps.

It is Our further Will and Pleasure that these additions to the Pay of Our Army shall take effect from and after the 1st Instant, from which date the provisions of the War Office Circular, dated 16th January 1857, shall cease and determine.

Given at Our Court at St. James's this 30th day of January 1858, in the Twenty-first year of Our Reign.

By Her Majesty's Command,
PANMURE.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS: OOTACAMUND, 17th April 1858.

At a European District Court Martial held at Rangoon on the 19th day of March 1858, Thomas Johnson, Assistant Apothecary, doing duty with the Artillery at Rangoon, was arraigned on the following Charges, viz.

Charge.—For conduct unbecoming a Warrant Officer and to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline, in having at Rangoon on or about the 26th day of December 1857, when under arrest awaiting the decision of a District Court Martial which had tried him for drunkenness induced an attack of Delirium Tremens by the excessive use of intoxicating liquors.

Additional Charge.—For conduct unbecoming a Warrant Officer and to the prejudice of good order and Military discipline in having at Rangoon between the 26th of December 1857, and the 8th of March 1858, by the excessive use of intoxicating liquors so aggravated his attack of Delirium Tremens as to disable him from appearing before a Court Martial to answer to the charge preferred against him.

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, is of opinion that the Prisoner Thomas Johnson, Assistant Apothecary, Madras Medical Establishment, is Guilty of the Charge.

Not Guilty of the Additional Charge, there being no evidence that the Prisoner retarded his cure by the use of Intoxicating liquors whilst a Patient in Hospital.

Sentence.—The Court having found the Prisoner Guilty to the extent above stated and having furthermore taken into consideration his general character doth sentence him, the said Thomas Johnson, Assistant Apothecary, in the Madras Medical Department, to be dismissed the service.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 3d April 1858.

No. 53 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish for general information the following Despatch from the Officer Commanding in Kumaon, submitting the Report of a successful attack by the Troops under Captain F. W. Baugh, commanding Nepal Contingent, on a party of the Enemy at Sitargunge, on the 4th March 1858.

No. 128.

FROM COLONEL J. K. McCAUSLAND, Commanding in Kumaon.

TO THE DY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY.

Dated Camp Huldwanee, 16th March 1858.

SIR,—For the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, I have the honor to forward a Report from Captain Baugh, of a successful attack upon a party of the Enemy.

2. Having heard they had sent a detachment to collect revenue at Sitargunge, 25 miles from this, I determined to surprise them. The unfortunate and unexpected absence of the larger part of their Force rendered the expedition less successful than I had hoped it would have been. We have since ascertained that the number of the Enemy killed was 25, and the effect must be very good, as it will show them they are not safe within 30 miles of the Hills.

3. Considerable credit is due to Captain Baugh, for his exertion in mounting the whole party on elephants, and for his subsequent arrangements. Mr. C. Carmichael, C. S., was most useful. Surgeon H. Irwin, 66th Goorkhas, volunteered to accompany the Force.

* Half-way before Huldwanee and Bareilly, on the direct road 30 miles from this.

4. The Rebel Army is now at Buteree* under command of Fuzul Huq, and is reported to consist of about five thousand men with 6 Guns.

I have, &c.,

FROM CAPTAIN F. W. BAUGH, Commanding Nepal Contingent.

TO CAPTAIN BROWNLOW, Major of Brigade, Camp.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of the Officer Commanding in Kumaon, that, agreeably to instructions, I marched at 10 P. M. on the 3rd Instant with the Force, as per margin, to Sitargunge. The Infantry and Artillery mounted on elephants and arrived there at daylight on the 4th Instant

I was unfortunately delayed $\frac{3}{4}$ of an hour on the road by the elephant carrying one of the Mountain Howitzers falling sick.

The Rebels had double sentries posted on the roof of the Government Tehseel, a high building some 40 or 50 yards square. I ordered the Cavalry to gallop up and surrounded it: but before they could do so, some eight or ten of the Rebels made their escape to the West into the high grass, the rest 15 were killed, among whom was a man called Khoda Buksh and said to be the Thannadar of the place, who had wounded a Sepoy of the 66th Goorkhas slightly, the only casualty that occurred. The main body of this party had gone the previous day to a dinner at a village about 6 miles distant, and I deemed it imprudent to follow them.

All their papers and horses were captured, and brought into Camp, at which I arrived at 3 p. m., on the 14th Instant, having marched 50 miles in 17 hours, including 3 hours in the different halts.

Mr. C. Carmichael, C. S., who accompanied the force at the request of Major Ramsay, Commissioner, gave me every assistance from his knowledge of the different localities on the road and at Sitargunge. All behaved with the greatest cheerfulness and activity.

I have, &c.,

Lucknow, the 5th April 1858.

No 54 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General having now received the Despatches from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, giving an account of the re-taking of Lucknow by the Force under His Excellency's personal Command, is pleased to publish them for general information.

In December last, it became the grateful duty of the Governor General in Council to promulgate in General Orders the announcement of the relief of the Garrison of Lucknow, so admirably achieved by General Sir Colin Campbell, G. C. B., and the rescue of the Women and Children, sick and wounded, long detained there. It is now the Governor General's privilege to convey to His Excellency the tribute of his high admiration and of his most cordial congratulations on the capture of the strong City of the Rebels.

From the 2nd till the 16th of March, a series of masterly operations took place, by which the Commander-in-Chief, nobly supported in his well laid plans of attack by the ability and skill of the General Officers, and by the indomitable bravery and resolution of the Officers and Men of all Arms, drove the Rebels successively from all their strongly fortified posts till the whole fell into the possession of our Troops.

That this great success should have been accomplished at so little cost of valuable lives, enhances the honor due to the Leader who has achieved it.

It is a pleasure to the Governor General to acknowledge publicly the services of the General and other Officers who took part in the capture of Lucknow.

During the last days of the operations, the Nepalese Force, under Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, was associated with the Army under General Sir Colin Campbell's Command.

To the distinguished Leader of that Force, the Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, the Governor General desires to express his thanks for the hearty co-operation which the Commander-in-Chief received from His Highness, and for the gallant bearing of His Highness' Troops.

To Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the Government of India is under a new debt of gratitude. After having held the exposed post of Alum Bagh for more than three months, in the face of powerful bodies of Rebels, whose attacks he never failed to repel, Sir James Outram has further greatly distinguished himself at the head of the 1st Division, by the brilliant and thoroughly complete manner in which he executed the duties entrusted to him. The Governor General requests that Sir James Outram will accept his most sincere thanks.

His Lordship offers his hearty acknowledgments to the other General Officers whose services are prominently noticed in these Despatches:—

To Major General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, of whose eminent services the Commander-in-Chief speaks with well merited commendation.

To Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson, Baronet, K. C. B., in chief Command of the Artillery who, after winning lasting renown in the Capture of Delhi, has borne a conspicuous part in the reduction of Lucknow.

To Major-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding the Cavalry of the Force; to Brigadier-General Franks, C. B.; Brigadier-General Walpole, and Brigadier-General Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B., Commanding the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Divisions, of Infantry.

The Governor General has to record his acknowledgments to Captain Sir William Peel, K. C. B., Commanding the Naval Brigade of Her Majesty's Ship Shannon, and to offer his especial thanks to him for his remarkable services.

The Governor General entirely concurs with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, in prominently recognizing the great skill and ability of Brigadier Napier, who Commanded the Engineers of Her Majesty's and the East India Company's Services forming part of the Force. Brigadier Napier is especially entitled to the thanks of the Governor General; and to him, to Colonel Harness, Commanding the Royal Engineers, and to the several Officers under them, of both the services, His Lordship's grateful acknowledgments are offered.

The Governor General has much satisfaction in expressing his high sense of the merits of the several Officers Commanding Brigades and Regiments.

To the Commanding Officers of the Royal Artillery, of the Naval Artillery, and of the Bengal and Madras Artillery, the Governor General tenders his cordial thanks.

To Major Norman, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, to whose superior merits and distinguished services the Commander-in-Chief bears willing testimony, a tribute in which the Governor-General concurs; to Colonel the Hon'ble W. L. Pakenham, C. B., Officiating Adjutant General, Her Majesty's Forces in India; to Lieutenant-Colonel Macpherson, Officiating Quarter Master General of the Army; to Captain Seymour, Officiating Quarter Master General Her Majesty's Forces; to Captain Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General, and Captain Algood, Assistant Quarter Master General; to Lieutenant-Colonel Keith Young, Judge Advocate General; to Captain Fitzgerald, Assistant Commissary General, who is specially mentioned by the Commander-in-Chief to Lieutenant P. Stewart, of Engineers, Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs; to Dr. MacAndrew, Inspector General of Hospitals, Her Majesty's Forces, and to Doctor Brown, Superintending Surgeon of the Force, the Governor General has much satisfaction in expressing his sense of the good service they have rendered.

To the Officers of the Personal Staff of the Commander-in-Chief, of the Chief of the Staff, and of General Officers Commanding Divisions, the thanks of the Governor General are due; and His Lordship records his acknowledgments to the Officers of the Staff, of Divisions and Brigades, all of whom have zealously performed their duty.

To the Officers and Men of every Service, Soldiers, Seamen and Marines, composing the Force by which Lucknow has been taken, the Governor General desires to express his admiration of their conduct, and to tender to each individual the thanks of the Government of India. His Lordship will take the earliest opportunity of bringing under the favourable notice of Her Majesty's Government, and of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the services rendered by the Forces.

In testimony of the services, the Governor General is pleased to direct that every Officer and Soldier, European and Native, and the Officers and Men of the Navy, who took part in the capture of Lucknow, shall receive a donation of six months batta.

By Order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE VISCOUNT CANNING, Governor General of India, &c., &c., &c.,

Camp, La Martiniere, Lucknow, 22d March 1858.

MY LORD,—I have the honor to announce to your Lordship, that I transferred my Head Quarters to the Camp of Brigadier-General Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B., at Buntara, on the 28th Ultimo, the Division which had been detached under Brigadier-General, Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., and that under Brigadier-General Walpole joining the next day.

Having received tolerably correct information with respect to the lines of works which had been constructed by the Enemy for the defence of Lucknow, it appeared evident to me that the necessity would arise for operating from both sides of the Goomtee, when the capture of the City should be seriously entertained.

Two very important reasons conduced to show the expediency of such a course,—the one being that it would become possible to enfilade many of the Enemy's new works,—the other that great avenues of supply would be closed against the Town, although I could not hope to invest a City having a circumference of twenty miles.

My first preparations, therefore were made for the purpose of crossing the River. Bridges of Casks had been previously constructed, and were ready in the Engineer's Park.

On the 2nd March, I advanced on Dilkhoosha with Troops as per margin, and seized that position after a skirmish in which a Gun was taken from the Enemy.

When the Brigades of Infantry began to close on the Advance Guard, the Enemy opened several Guns which were in positions in strong Bastions, along the line of the Canal. This fire was heavy and well sustained.

These Guns commanded the Plateau, and compelled me to retire the Camp as far back as it was possible, but not so far I could have wished owing to the Ravines in rear.

The Palace of Dilkhoosha was occupied as an

In testimony of the services, the Governor General is pleased to direct that every Officer and Soldier, European and Native, and the Officers and Men of the Navy, who took part in the capture of Lucknow, shall receive a donation of six months batta.

THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE VISCOUNT CANNING, Governor General of India, &c., &c., &c.,

Camp, La Martiniere, Lucknow, 22d March 1858.

MY LORD,—I have the honor to announce to your Lordship, that I transferred my Head Quarters to the Camp of Brigadier-General Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B., at Buntara, on the 28th Ultimo, the Division which had been detached under Brigadier-General, Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., and that under Brigadier-General Walpole joining the next day.

Having received tolerably correct information with respect to the lines of works which had been constructed by the Enemy for the defence of Lucknow, it appeared evident to me that the necessity would arise for operating from both sides of the Goomtee, when the capture of the City should be seriously entertained.

Two very important reasons conduced to show the expediency of such a course,—the one being that it would become possible to enfilade many of the Enemy's new works,—the other that great avenues of supply would be closed against the Town, although I could not hope to invest a City having a circumference of twenty miles.

My first preparations, therefore were made for the purpose of crossing the River. Bridges of Casks had been previously constructed, and were ready in the Engineer's Park.

On the 2d March, I advanced on Dilkhoosha with Troops as per margin, and seized that position after a skirmish in which a Gun was taken from the Enemy.

When the Brigades of Infantry began to close on the Advance Guard, the Enemy opened several Guns which were in positions in strong Bastions, along the line of the Canal. This fire was heavy and well sustained.

These Guns commanded the Plateau, and compelled me to retire the Camp as far back as it was possible, but not so far I could have wished owing to the Ravines in rear.

The Palace of Dilkhoosha was occupied as an fore they could do so, some eight or ten of the Rebels made their escape to the West into the high grass, the rest 15 were killed, among whom was a man called Khoda Buksh and said to be the Thannadar of the place, who had wounded a Sepoy of the 66th Goorkhas slightly, the only casualty that occurred. The main body of this party had gone the previous day to a dinner at a village about 6 miles distant, and I deemed it imprudent to follow them.

All their papers and horses were captured, and brought into Camp, at which I arrived at 3 p. m., on the 4th Instant, having marched 50 miles in 17 hours, including 3 hours in the different halts.

Allahabad, the 5th April 1858.

No 54 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General having now received the Despatches from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, giving an account of the re-taking of Lucknow by the Force under His Excellency's personal Command, is pleased to publish them for general information:—

In December last, it became the grateful duty of the Governor General in Council to promulgate in General Orders the announcement of the relief of the Garrison of Lucknow, so admirably achieved by General Sir Colin Campbell, G. C. B., and the rescue of the Women and Children, sick and wounded, long beleaguered there. It is now the Governor General's privilege to convey to His Excellency the tribute of his highest admiration, and of his most cordial congratulations on the capture of the strong City of the Rebels.

From the 2nd till the 16th of March, a series of masterly operations took place, by which the Commander-in-Chief, nobly supported in his well laid plans of attack by the ability and skill of the General Officers, and by the indomitable bravery and resolution of the Officers and Men of all Arms, drove the Rebels successively from all their strongly fortified posts, till the whole fell into the possession of our Troops.

That this great success should have been accomplished at so little cost of valuable lives, enhances the honor due to the Leader who has achieved it.

It is a pleasure to the Governor General to acknowledge publicly the services of the General and other Officers who took part in the capture of Lucknow.

During the last days of the operations, the Nepalese Force, under Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, was associated with the Army under General Sir Colin Campbell's Command.

To the distinguished Leader of that Force, the Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, the Governor General desires to express his thanks for the hearty co-operation which the Commander-in-Chief received from His Highness, and for the gallant bearing of His Highness' Troops.

To Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the Government of India is under a new debt of gratitude. After having held the exposed post of Alum Bagh for more than three months, in the face of powerful bodies of Rebels, whose attacks he never failed to repel, Sir James Outram has further greatly distinguished himself at the head of the 1st Division, by the brilliant and thoroughly complete manner in which he executed the duties entrusted to him. The Governor General requests that Sir James Outram will accept his most sincere thanks.

His Lordship offers his hearty acknowledgments to the other General Officers whose services are prominently noticed in these Despatches:—

To Major General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, of whose eminent services the Commander-in-Chief speaks with well merited commendation.

To Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson, Baronet, K. C. B., in chief Command of the Artillery who, after winning lasting renown in the Capture of Delhi, has borne a conspicuous part in the reduction of Lucknow.

To Major-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding the Cavalry of the Force; to Brigadier-General Franks, C. B.; Brigadier-General Walpole, and Brigadier-General Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B., Commanding the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Divisions, of Infantry.

The Governor General has to record his acknowledgments to Captain Sir William Peel, K. C. B., Commanding the Naval Brigade of Her Majesty's Ship Shannon, and to offer his special thanks to him for his remarkable services.

advance Picquet on the right, and the Mahomed Bagh on the left,—heavy Guns helping acted in battery at both points to keep down the hostile fire.

During the whole of the 2nd, until these arrangements could be completed, the Troops were much annoyed by the Enemy's Guns.

After that day, until an advance took place, although the shot ranged up to and sometimes into the Camp, but slight loss ensued from this cause.

On the 3rd and 4th, the remainder of the Siege Train, together with Brigadier General Walpole's Division, closed up on the Dilkhoosha position, the Right of our line resting on Bibiapore and the Goomtee, the Left being towards Alum Bagh.

There was an interval of about two miles between our left and Jellalabad, the right of the Alum Bagh position. This interval was occupied by a Regiment of Irregular Horse.* Brigadier Campbell, with a strong Brigade of Cavalry and Horse Artillery, secured the extreme left, and swept the Country towards the North-West.

* Hodson's.

Three Infantry Regiments were withdrawn from Alum Bagh, and joined the Head Quarters Camp.

On the 5th, General Franks, or the 4th Division of Infantry, came into direct communication with me. This Officer had marched right across the Kingdom of Oude, having signally defeated many bodies of Insurgents, and kept his time with punctuality according to the orders given to him, with which your Lordship is already acquainted.

On the same day the Goomtee was bridged near Bibiapore. Whilst the bridge was being formed, the Enemy showed on the left bank, causing the necessity of a disposition of Troops and heavy Guns. He did not, however, make a real attack.

These Guns were very useful in another respect, as their practice on the Martiniere silenced much fire, which would otherwise have annoyed the Picquets.

They were accordingly kept on the same ground for some days, till the advance of the Troops rendered them unnecessary.

On the 6th, Sir James Outram G. C. B., who had been withdrawn from Alum Bagh, crossed the Force sent across the Goomtee under Sir J. Outram. to the left bank of the Goomtee with Troops as per margin, the 4th Division under Brigadier General Franks, C. B., taking the place vacated by Brigadier General Walpole in the line.

The plan of attack which had been conceived, was now developed, and Sir J. Outram was directed to push his advance up the left bank of the Goomtee, while the Troops in the position of Dilkhoosha, remained at rest, till it should have become apparent that the first line of the Enemy's works, or the rampart running along the Canal and abutting on the Goomtee, had been turned.

The works may be briefly described as follows:—

The series of courts and buildings called the Kaiser Bagh, considered as a citadel by the Rebels was shut in by three lines of defence towards the Goomtee, of which the line of the canal was the outer one.

The second line circled round the large building called the Moss-house and the Moti Mahul, and the first or interior one was the principal rampart of the Kaiser Bagh.

The rear of the enclosures of the latter being closed in by the City through which, approach would have been dangerous to an assailant.

These lines were flanked by numerous bastions, and rested at one end on the Goomtee, and at the other on the great buildings of the Street called the Huzrut Gunge, all of which were strongly fortified, and flanked the Street in every direction.

Extraordinary care had been expended on the defences of the houses and bastions, to enfilade the Street. His duty was ably performed by Sir James Outram, who pitched his camp on the 6th Instant, after a skirmish of his Advance Guard, in front of the Chukkur Walla Kotee, or Yellow-house.

On the 7th he was attacked by the Enemy, who was speedily driven back.

Having reconnoitered the ground on the 8th Instant, I directed Sir James Outram to arrange his Batteries during the succeeding night, and to attack the Enemy's position, the key of which was the Chukkur Walla Kotee, the next day or the 9th.

This was done in very good style by the Troops under his Command, the Enemy being driven at all points, the Yellow-house being seized, and the whole Force advanced for some distance through ground affording excellent cover for the Enemy.

He was then able to bring his Right Shoulders forward, occupying the Fyzabad Road, and to plant his Batteries for the purpose of enfilading the works on the Canal before alluded to.

He lost no time in doing this, other Batteries of heavy Guns and Howitzers being constructed during the following night to play on the works and the Kaiser Bagh.

While this attack was being made by Sir James Outram, along the left bank of the Goomtee on the 9th Instant, a very heavy fire was kept up on the Martiniere both from Mortars and heavy Guns, placed in position during the previous night on the Dilkhoosha Plateau.

At 2 P. M., the 42nd Highlanders, supported by the 93rd Highlanders, the 53rd and 90th Regiments, stormed the Martiniere under the direction of Brigadier-General Sir Edward Lugard K. C. B., and Brigadier the Honorable Adrian Hope.

It was quickly seen that the enfilading fire on the line of the Canal from the opposite side of the River had produced the expected result.

The 4th Punjab Infantry, supported by the 42nd Highlanders, climbed up the entrenchment abutting on the Goomtee, and proceeded to sweep down the whole line of the works, till they got to the neighbourhood of Banks' house, when it became necessary to close operations for the night.

Major Wylde, 4th Punjab Rifles, distinguished himself very much on this occasion. The line of works was strongly occupied by the troops which had first entered, and by the 53rd Regiment.

On the 10th Instant, Sir James Outram was engaged in strengthening his position. Sir James Hope Grant, K. C. B., being employed in patrolling towards the Cantonment with the Cavalry placed under Sir James Outram's orders, a system of extensive patrolling or reconnoissance having been established by my order in that direction, from the time that the first position had been taken up across the Goomtee.

At sun-rise on the same day, a disposition of Troops and Heavy Guns was made by Sir Edward Lugard, for the attack of Banks' house, which was carried at noon, and secured as a strong Military post.

The second part of the plan of attack against the Kaiser Bagh now came into operation, viz., to use the great blocks of Houses and Palaces, extending from Banks' house to the Kaiser Bagh as our approach, instead of sapping up towards the front of the second line of works.

By these means I was enabled to turn the new works towards our own Left, at the same time that they were enfiladed on the right by Sir James Outram's advance.

The latter had already received orders to plant his Guns with a view to raking the Enemy's position, to annoy the Kaiser Bagh both with vertical and direct fire, also to attack the suburbs in the vicinity of the Iron and Stone-Bridges, shortly after day-break, and so Command the Iron-Bridge from the left Bank.

All this was carried out by Sir James Outram with the most marked success. The Enemy, however, still held tenaciously to his own end of the Iron-Bridge on the right bank, and there was heavy cannonading from both sides, till the Bridge was afterwards taken in reverse.

Sir Edward Lugard's attack on the 11th was pressed forward in like manner.

The operation had now become one of Engineering character, and the most earnest endeavours were made to save the Infantry from being hazarded before due preparation had been made.

The Chief Engineer, Brigadier Napier, placed the Batteries with a view to breaching and shelling a large block of Palaces called the Begum Kotee.

The latter was stormed with great gallantry by the 93rd Highlanders, supported by the 4th Punjab Rifles, and one thousand Goorkhas, led by Brigadier the Honorable Adrian Hope, under the direction of Brigadier General Sir Edward Lugard, at 4. P. M.

The Troops secured the whole block of buildings, and inflicted a very heavy loss on the Enemy, the attack having been one of very desperate character.

This was the sternest struggle which occurred during the Siege.

From thenceforward the Chief Engineer pushed his approach with the greatest judgment through the enclosures, by the aid of the Sappers and of heavy Guns, the troops immediately occupying the ground as he advanced, and the Mortars being moved from one position to another as ground was won on which they could be placed.

The buildings to the right, and the Secunder-Bagh were taken in the early morning of the same day without opposition.

During the night of the 12th, Sir James Outram was reinforced with a number of heavy Guns and Mortars, and directed to increase his fire on the Kaiser Bagh, while at the same time, Mortars placed in position at the Begum's house never ceased to play on the Emambara, the next large Palace it was necessary to storm between the Begum Kotee and the Kaiser Bagh.

On Brigadier-General Franks, C. B., who had relieved Sir Edward Lugard, and the 2nd Division, with the 4th Division, on the 12th Instant, devolved the duty of attacking the Emambara.

A Column of Attack was formed for that purpose by Brigadier D. Russell, on the morning of the 14th.

In the mean time, the Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, with a force of about (9,000) Nine Thousand Men and with 24 Field Guns drawn by men, had arrived, and taken his position in our line on the 12th Instant, and moved close to the Canal on the 13th.

At my request, His Highness was begged by Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., the Special Commissioner attached to him, to pass the Canal and attack the suburb in his front and considerably to the left of Banks' house. To this His Highness acceded with much willingness, and his Force was most advantageously employed in thus covering my left for several days, during which, from the nature of our operations, I was obliged to mass all the available strength of the British Force towards the right, in the joint attack carried along both banks of the Goomtee.

The Emambara was carried early on the 14th, and the Seikhs of the Ferozepore Regiment under Major Brasyer, pressing forward in pursuit, entered the Kaiser Bagh, the third line at the defences having been turned without a single Gun being fired from them.

Supports were quickly thrown in, and all the well-known ground of former defence and attack, the Moss-house, the Tara Kotee, the Motee Mehal, and the Chuttur Munzil were rapidly occupied by the Troops, while the Engineers devoted their attention to securing the position towards the South and West. The day was one of long and continued exertion, and every one felt that, although much remained to be done before the final expulsion of the Rebels, the most difficult part of the undertaking had been overcome.

This is not the place for description of the various buildings successively sapped into and stormed: suffice it to say, that they formed a range of massive palaces and walled courts of vast extent, equalled perhaps, but certainly not surpassed in any capital in Europe. Every outlet had been covered by a work, and on every side were prepared barricades and loopholed parapets.

The extraordinary industry evinced by the Enemy in this respect has been really unexampled. Hence the absolute necessity for holding the Troops in hand, till at each successive move forward the Engineers reported to me that all which could be effected by Artillery and the Sappers had been done before the Troops were led to the assault.

The 15th Instant was employed in securing what had been taken, removing powder, destroying mines, and fixing mortars for the further bombardment of the positions still held by the Enemy on the line of our Advance up the Goomtee, and in the heart of the City.

Brigadier-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., was sent out with Cavalry on one side towards Seetapore to intercept fugitives, while Brigadier Campbell marched with like orders in the direction of Sundeela on a similar duty. They returned on the 17th to their former positions.

On the 16th Instant, Sir James Outram, with the 5th Brigade under Brigadier Douglas, supported by two other Regiments, H. M.'s 20th and the Regiment of Ferozepore, having crossed over the Goomtee by a Bridge of Casks opposite the Secunder Bagh, advanced according to order through the Chuttur Munzil to take the Residency.

During the first movements of this operation, a movement of the Enemy in retreat across the Stone-Bridge became apparent.

Sir James was ordered to press forward, and he was able, almost without opposition, not only to take the Iron-Bridge in reverse, which was my principal object, but also to advance for more than a mile and occupy the Muchee Bawun and great Emanbara.

In short the City was ours.

Brigadier General Walpole's Picquets on the left bank were attacked by the retreating Enemy who was, as usual, heavily repulsed.

On the 19th a combined movement was organized.

Sir James Outram moved forward directly on the Moosa Bagh, the last position of the Enemy on the line of the Goomtee.

Sir J. Hope Grant cannonaded the latter from the left bank, while Brigadier Campbell, moving right round the Western side from the Alum Bagh, prevented retreat in that direction.

The rout was now complete, and great loss was inflicted on the Enemy by all these Columns.

On the 16th for the last time, the Enemy had shown in some strength before Alum Bagh, which on that date was held by only two of our Regiments.

Jung Bahadoor was requested to move to his left up the Canal, and take the position in reverse from which our position at Alum Bagh had been so long annoyed.

This was executed very well by His Highness, and he seized the positions one after another with little loss to himself.

The Guns of the Enemy, which the latter did not stop to take away, fell into his hands.

On the 21st, Sir Edward Lugard was directed to attack a stronghold held by the Moulvie in the heart of the City. This he occupied after a sharp contest, and it now became possible to invite the return of the inhabitants, and to rescue the City from the horrors of this prolonged contest.

Brigadier Campbell, with his Cavalry, attacked the Enemy when retreating from the City in consequence of Sir Edward Lugard's advance, inflicting heavy loss, and pursued him for six miles.

I beg to enclose Sir James Outram's own account of his operations, which were removed from my immediate superintendence, till he re-crossed the Goomtee prior to the attack of the 16th.

It was matter of real gratification to me to be able to entrust the Trans-Goomtee operation to this very distinguished Officer, and after that had been conducted to my perfect satisfaction, to bring him forward again to put the finishing stroke on the Enemy, while the extended position in the Town was of necessity held by the Troops who had won it. My thanks are eminently due to him, and I trust he will receive them as heartily as they are offered.

I have now the pleasing task of communicating to your Lordship, the name of an Officer to whom, not only I as Commanding General, but to whom in truth, the service at large is under great obligation. Major General Mansfield, the Chief of the Staff, whose labour has been unceasing, whose abilities are of the highest order, and have been of the greatest use to me during this campaign. It is impossible for me to praise this Officer too highly, or to recommend him sufficiently to the protection of your Lordship and of the Government.

I desire to draw the particular attention of your Lordship to Brigadier-Generals Franks; C. B., Walpole, Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B.; and Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B.

Their Divisions have been most admirably commanded, and they have on every occasion amply justified all my expectations.

Brigadier-Generals Walpole and Sir J. Hope Grant were employed more immediately under the direction of Sir James Outram, who speaks in the highest terms of the assistance he received from them.

Sir J. H. Grant's management of his Cavalry and Horse Artillery is always most admirable.

As detailed above, the manner in which the attacks on the main line of operations were directed by Sir Edward Lugard and Brigadier General Franks reflected the greatest credit on them.

The Officers in Command of the Cavalry Brigades have proved themselves equal to their high position, and are worthy of your Lordship's favorable consideration.

Brigadier Campbell, in Command of the Cavalry on the left, performed his detached duty with much vigilance and judgment. His march round the City on the 19th Instant, which was a running fight for the greater part of the day, was a very difficult one.

His pursuit, on the 21st, of the party which broke away after being driven by Sir Edward Lugard from Shadut Gunge, was highly effective.

Brigadier Hagart has received the marked commendation of Sir J. Hope Grant, and the Brigadiers in Command of Infantry Brigade, have particularly distinguished themselves under the eyes of their Divisional Commanders :—

Brigadier D. Russell,	1st Brigade.
„ P. M. M. Guy	3rd „
„ Hon'ble A. Hope,	4th „
„ Douglas, C. B.,	5th „
„ Horsford, C. B.,	6th „
„ Eveleigh,	7th „

and Lieutenant-Colonel Longdon, (Her Majesty's 10th Foot) attached to the Goorkha Brigade by order of the Commander-in-Chief.

The Head Quarters 2nd Brigade, with the 5th Fusiliers, and 78th Highlanders under Brigadier Franklin, remained at Alum Bagh in position and was well disposed by that Officer to resist the Enemy's demonstration on the 16th Instant.

To Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson, K. C. B., my warmest acknowledgments are due for the effective manner in which he Commanded the Artillery Division.

The four Corps, the Naval Brigade, the Royal Artillery, the Bengal Artillery, and the Madras Artillery, worked with the greatest harmony under his happy direction as one Regiment.

The merits of Sir Archdale Wilson are too widely known to gain anything by encomium from me; but I may be permitted to express my great satisfaction at having been able to avail myself of the assistance of this most distinguished Officer. The effective fire of the Artillery during the long operations which depended so much on the management of that arm elicited general admiration.

The practice of the 68-Pounders of the Naval Brigade was capital, while the Kaiser Bagh and other great buildings which had been stormed, showed in a very convincing manner how truly the shells had been directed by the Royal and Bengal Artillery.

Whenever the Field Artillery could be used, the Troops of Horse Artillery and Field Batteries of Royal Artillery, the Bengal Artillery and the Madras Artillery did the most excellent service.

Sir Archdale Wilson expresses his great obligations to Captain Sir William Peel, K. C. B., Royal Navy, till that most gallant Officer was severely wounded, and to Brigadiers Wood, C. B., Royal Horse Artillery, and Barker, C. B., Royal Artillery, respectively Commanding the Field and Siege Artillery Brigades.

It would be difficult for me to give an adequate idea of the zeal and activity displayed by the Chief Engineer, Brigadier Napier, Bengal Engineers. Many of the operations depended on his proper appreciation of the obstructions to be overcome, and the means at his disposal for that purpose.

His great professional skill and thorough acquaintance with the value of his Enemy have been of the greatest service, and I recommend him most cordially to your Lordship's protection.

I am under very great obligations to him.

The Officers of the great Departments of the Army have accompanied me during the Siege and I beg to return them my thanks. They are as follows :—

Major H. W. Norman, Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

Lieutenant-Colonel W. Macpherson, Officiating Quarter Master General of the Army.

Colonel Honorable W. L. Pakenham, C. B., Officiating Adjutant General, H. M.'s Forces.

Captain C. F. Seymour, 84th Regiment, Officiating Quarter Master General H. M.'s Forces.

Captain G. Algood, Officiating Assistant Quarter Master General of the Army.

Lieutenant Colonel Keith Young, Judge Advocate General of the Army.

Lieutenant P. Stewart, Bengal Engineers, Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs.

Doctor MacAndrew, Inspector General of Hospitals, H. M.'s Forces.

Doctor Brown, the Superintending Surgeon of the Force, has again won my sincere thanks for his admirable arrangements.

Captain Fitzgerald, Assistant Commissary General, who has had the disposition of the Commissariat in the Field, has met every want of the Army. He has distinguished himself much, and is a credit to his Department.

I must draw very particular attention to the services of Major Norman, Deputy Adjutant General, who besides his ordinary Departmental duties, has performed the very onerous one of Adjutant General of the Army in the Field throughout the Campaign.

To Captain H. Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General, Head of the Intelligence Department, and to Captain G. Algood, Officiating Assistant Quarter Master General, who performed the duties of Quarter Master General of the Army in the Field, until the arrival of Lieutenant Colonel Macpherson. These Officers have all been most active in the performance of their duties.

To my Personal Staff and that of Major-General Mansfield, my acknowledgments are due, but more particularly to my Military Secretary, Colonel Sterling, C. B., and to Captain R. G. Hope Johnstone, Bombay Army, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General to the Chief of the Staff. These two Officers are most indefatigable.

A List of the other Members of these Staffs is appended.

Finally, I wish to draw your Lordship's attention to the conduct of the Regimental Officers, Commissioned and Non-Commissioned, and to the Men of the Regiments.

Their conduct has been very brilliant throughout. The manner in which the 93rd Regiment flung itself into the Begum Kotee, followed by the 4th Sikhs and supported by the 42nd, was magnificent, and the subsequent attack on the Emambara and the Kaiser Bagh reflected the greatest credit on the Regimental Leaders of the 4th Division, and the Soldiers who followed them.

Corrected Lists will be sent immediately of the Officers and Soldiers who are deemed most worthy of distinction in a Force in which every one has a claim.

I have the honor to be,

My Lord,

With the greatest respect,

Your Lordship's most obedient and humble Servant,

C. CAMPBELL, General, Commander-in-Chief in India.

TO THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE VISCOUNT CANNING, Governor General, &c., &c., &c., Camp Lucknow, 28th March 1858.

MY LORD,—I have the honor to report to your Lordship the departure of His Highness Jung Bahadur from the Camp before Lucknow.

I desire to take this opportunity to express my thanks to His Highness for the assistance rendered to me during the late operations by him and his gallant Troops.

I found the utmost willingness on his part to accede to any desire of mine during the progress of the Siege, and from the first His Highness was pleased to justify his words that he was happy to be serving under my Command.

His Troops have proved themselves worthy of their Commanders, and it will doubtless be a happiness to them hereafter that they were associated with the British Arms for the reduction of the great City of Lucknow.

My best thanks are due to the Special Commissioner, Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., the medium of communication between His Highness and myself.

I beg to recommend him and the British Officers serving under his orders to the favorable consideration of your Lordship.

I have the honor to be,

My Lord,

With the greatest respect,

Your Lordship's most obedient and humble Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

Memorandum of Operations carried on under the Command of Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., during the Siege of Lucknow.

ON the morning of the 6th Instant, shortly before daybreak, I proceeded with the Force named in the margin, to cross the Goomtee River, over the two temporary Bridges which had been constructed by the order of His Excellency, the whole of the Cavalry being under the Command of Brigadier General Sir James Hope Grant, K. C. B., the Infantry under that of Brigadier Walpole, the Field Artillery under Brigadier D. Wood, C. B., the Siege Artillery, which subsequently joined me, under Lieutenant Colonel Riddell, R. A. After proceeding a short distance in a Northerly direction, the Enemy became visible on our left flank, and on being approached by the Cavalry, they were discovered to be in considerable force, chiefly Sowars. The 2nd Punjab Cavalry then attacked on the Right, while Major Smith, of the Queen's Bays, with two Squadrons of his own Regiment, one Squadron of the 9th Lancers, and Lieutenant-Colonel D'Aguilar's Troop of Horse Artillery, advanced from our left. The Enemy were immediately driven back, and pursued to the banks of the River, many being cut up; but I regret to state that in this charge the gallant Major Smith was killed. Our Camp was then formed on the Fyzabad Road, about half a mile in advance of the village of Chinihut, on the Lucknow side. Early on the following morning, 7th March, the Enemy made a smart attack on our advanced picquets, and brought out several Guns under cover of ravines and clumps of trees in our front. They were, however, speedily withdrawn, on our Skirmishers and Horse Artillery and Captain Middleton's Field Battery, protected by the Cavalry, coming to the front and opening their fire. The Artillery* practice on this occasion, as on the preceding day, was admirable.

* Lt.-Col. D. Aguilar's, C. B., R. A., Capt. Remington's B. A., and Capt. Mackinnon's Troop.

3. The following day, the 8th Instant, under the instructions of his Excellency, Colonel

D'Aguilar's Troops of Horse Artillery and the 9th Lancers re-crossed the River to the Head Quarters Camp, and the Siege Guns named in the margin joined me. Having decided upon an attack on the Enemy's position, on the next morning, the 9th Instant, I caused an entrenchment for eight 24-Pounder Guns and three 8-inch Howitzers to be constructed during the night. The Battery was armed, and commenced its fire at day-break with excellent effect, after which the Right Column of Infantry, accompanied by Captain Gibb's Field Battery, under Brigadier General Walpole, covered with a cloud of Skirmishers Commanded by Brigadier Horsford, C. B. supported by the 5th Brigade under Brigadier Douglas, drove the Enemy through the jungles, walls, and villages which afforded them an excellent cover, and bringing the right shoulders forward, occupied the Fyzabad Road. In the mean time, the left Column of Attack, composed of the first Bengal Fusiliers, supported by 2 Companies of the 79th Highlanders, which had been held in readiness on the left Battery, together with the Horse Artillery under Brigadier Wood, which had been formed in rear of the Bridge across the Kokral, advanced, and in concert with the Right Column, carried the Chukr Kothee, (or Yellow house), the key of the Rebel position, in gallant style, and thereby turned the strong line of entrenchment, which had been constructed by the enemy on the right bank of the Goomtee, of which success the Skirmishers on the other side of the River, subsequently, were apprised by Lieutenant Butler, of the Bengal Fusiliers, who swam across the Goomtee, and climbing the parapet, remained in that position for a considerable time under heavy fire of Musketry, until the work was occupied. After the occupation of the Chukr Kothee, we drove the enemy rapidly through the old Irregular Cavalry lines and suburbs to the Padshah Bagh. The fortified gates of this strong-walled enclosure were blown open, and the garden occupied, and two Guns found by our Troops. Three Guns and a Howitzer were then placed in position to enfilade the works in rear of the Martiniere. A Battery of two 24-Pounder Guns and two 8-inch Howitzers was placed near the River to keep down the fire from the Town. A Battery for five Mortars was constructed during the night, and in the morning commenced playing on the Kaiser Bagh. Four heavy Guns were also placed in a work thrown up by the enemy at the east entrance into the Padshah Bagh.

4. On the 10th, we were occupied in strengthening our position, the enemy being in force in the suburbs in our front, from which they made an attack in considerable numbers on a picquet held by the 79th Highlanders, but were repulsed with heavy loss. General Sir James Hope Grant occupied himself the while in patrolling the vicinity, during which operation a most valuable young Officer, Major Sandford of the 5th Punjab Irregular Cavalry, was unfortunately killed; but the enemy suffered severely.

5. During this night, another Battery was constructed in the Padshah Bagh for four 24-Pounders, two 8-inch Howitzers, and five 8-inch Mortars, which kept up a vertical and direct fire on the defences in the interior of the Kaiser Bagh. Two more 24-Pounders were also brought to bear on the Mess house and on the Kaiser Bagh, in compliance with the instructions of His Excellency. I made arrangements to attack the suburbs in the vicinity of the Iron and Stone-

Major Warren, Captains Wilnot and Thyme and Lieutenant Grey, who all behaved most gallantly. Captain Thyme, a most promising Officer, I regret to say, was mortally wounded. This column occupied the houses down to the river's bank, and the head of the Iron-Bridge, to the right of which the two 24 Pounder Guns were placed in Battery. The spirit and dash of the men during this critical operation was most remarkable, and merits my highest commendation. Lieutenant Moorson Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, who had been deputed by me to guide the Column, was killed on the spot while reconnoitring on the opposite side of the road. I deplore sincerely the loss of this most gallant and promising young Officer, whose soldierlike zeal and acquirements rendered him an ornament to his profession.

7. Having left the Bengal Fusiliers posted in the Mosque on the Cantonment Road, I proceeded with the remainder of the Right Column in that direction, and shortly afterwards met Sir J. H. Grant's Cavalry and Horse Artillery, which in the mean time had been operating on the extreme right. Turning now towards the Stone-Bridge, we surprised the Camp of the Rebel 15th Irregular Horse, whose standards and 2 Guns were captured by the Rifles, the Enemy flying in all directions over the plain, many being cut up by our Cavalry.

8. I then penetrated to the head of the stone-Bridge, through the strong and dense suburbs without encountering any material opposition. The Enemy, however, were able to command it with Guns, as well as with Musketry, from the tops of several high and strong Stone-Houses from the opposite side of the River, and the position was moreover too distant, and the approaches too intricate, to warrant my holding it permanently with the Force at my disposal. I therefore withdrew to the Mosque at the cross road, already occupied by the Bengal Fusiliers our route being through suburbs in which we destroyed a quantity of munitions of war, and finally we retired to Camp, when the arrangements for the occupation of the Iron Bridge had been completed.

9. During the nights of the 12th and 13th, having been reinforced by four 18-Pounder Guns, two 10-inch Howitzers, five 10-inch Mortars, and four 5½-inch Mortars, three Batteries were erected from which five 10-inch Mortars, ten 8-inch Mortars, four 24-Pounder Guns, were brought to bear upon the Kaiser Bagh on the fall of which on the morning of the 14th, the Guns and Mortars were turned on the Residency, and the Buildings to the right of the Bridge. During this operation Lieutenant Cuthbert, of the Royal Artillery, brought himself prominently to notice by extinguishing a fire in a small building in front of his Battery, in a very dangerous and exposed position. The operations connected with a breastwork across the Iron Bridge, were conducted by Lieutenant Wynne, R. E. and Sergeant Paul, who displayed great coolness and resolution in the face of a heavy and continual fire.

Having been ordered to join His Excellency's Camp, my operations on the North side of the Goomtee were here brought to a close.

Our casualties during these proceedings amounted to five Officers killed and nine wounded, and the loss in men including Sergeants, was twenty-one killed and one hundred and four wounded. Total twenty-six killed and one hundred and thirteen wounded. With the exception of the Officers, the above statement of casualties does not include the Cavalry Division, General Sir J. H. Grant having been ordered off into the district, neither his casualty list, nor his notice of his Officers has been received. From the peculiar nature of the fighting, the actual loss of the enemy is difficult to ascertain. But I cannot estimate it at less than two thousand throughout the whole operations.

On the 16th Instant, under instructions from His Excellency, I proceeded to the Kaiser Bagh, where I found the 5th Brigade under the Command of Brigadier Dougals, C. B. comprising the 23rd Fusiliers, the 79th Highlanders, and the 1st Bengal Fusiliers, to which His Excellency had added Her Majesty's 20th Regiment and the Ferozepore Regiment of Seikhs.

Vast numbers of the enemy having been seen crossing the Stone Bridge from the City, apparently with the design of attacking Brigadier General Walpole's Camp, on the North of the Goomtee, His Excellency ordered me to press our movement. I immediately ordered the advance, and took possession of the Residency with little opposition, the 23rd Fusiliers charging through the gateway, and driving the enemy before them at the point of the bayonet, the remainder of the Brigade following them in reserve.

The enemy having been dislodged from the Residency, two Companies of the 23rd under Lieutenant-Colonel Bell, accompanied by Captain Gould Weston, who pointed out the road, pressed rapidly forward and captured the brass Gun, which was in position to sweep the Iron Bridge, after some opposition. In the meanwhile the Residency height was crowned by a Field Battery of Madras Artillery, under the Command of Major Cotter, which kept up a heavy fire on the Muchhee Bhowun. This Battery was subsequently withdrawn, and replaced by two 68-Pounder Guns of the Naval Brigade. On their arrival, the Bengal Fusiliers moved to the Iron Bridge

Bridges, and shortly after day-light on the 11th Instant, the Right Column as per margin formed on the Fyzabad Road under the immediate Command of Brigadier General Walpole, and worked its way covered by the Skirmishers, through the Town, until it reached the Mosque on the old Cantonment road, which commands the approach to the Iron Bridge.

per margin proceeded along the lower road, towards the Iron Bridge. These two columns were connected by a strong chain of Skirmishers, which as well as the left column, met with considerable opposition, as the enemy opened 3 guns on them from the opposite side of the river, and also held the ground in great strength in front of the Rifle Skirmishers. Commanded by Brevet and shortly afterwards advanced together with the Regiment of Ferozepore, and took the Muchhee Bhowun and the Imambarah, the enemy precipitately retiring, and abandoning six Guns. One Company of the Fusiliers under Captain Salisbury was pushed on to the Roomidurwaza gate, where another Gun was captured. The 79th were then brought up to occupy the Imambarah, and the remainder of the Bengal Fusiliers were placed in the Muchhee Bhowun.

On the morning of the 17th, Brigadier Douglas caused the Hoseinabad Mosque and the Dowlutkhana, in which two Guns and a small Mortar were found to be occupied by a Company of the 79th Highlanders. About 1 p. m. with the Force named in the margin, I moved towards the block of buildings known as Shurfooddowlah's house, having previously occupied the entrance to the Chowk with 3 Companies, of the 79th Highlanders.

On arriving at the Juna Musjit, nine cart loads of powder were found in a Court-yard in the rear which impeded our progress I therefore directed it to be destroyed under the supervision of the Engineers. I regret, however, to have to state that from some accidental cause the powder ignited.

Captain Clarke, R. E. and Lieutenant Brownlow, B. E. who had greatly distinguished themselves, have since died from the effects of the explosion, in whose melancholy death the service has sustained a heavy loss, which I sincerely deplore. About thirty men shared their fate, and the rest of the working party were more or less injured.

I then sent two Companies of the 79th Highlanders with one 8-inch Howitzer, to take possession of Shurfooddowlah's house, which was occupied without any casualty, the enemy precipitately retreating, although they had made every preparation for a vigorous defence. An Iron Gun and a Brass Gun with an Ammunition Waggon, together with several small Guns, all in position, were captured.

I then reinforced the three Companies of the 79th in the Chowk, with five Companies of the 20th Regiment, and completed the chain of communication.

On the 18th, Brigadier Douglas ordered Lieutenant Gordon, Commanding a picquet of the 20th, to clear the houses in his front, which he effected much to the Brigadier's satisfaction, killing twenty-three of the enemy.

The Stone-Bridge was found to be undermined, and the circumstance reported to His Excellency.

On the morning of the 19th, under instructions from His Excellency, I proceeded to attack the Moosa Bagh, the Force named in the margin, being assembled for that purpose.

At about ½ past 6 A. M., I proceeded to Gao Ghat, and found Ali Nuki Khan's house occupied by the enemy, who opened a sharp fire of Musketry on the head of the Column Two Companies of the 79th, led by Lieutenant Evereth, being ordered to advance, soon drove the enemy out, and took possession of it considerable delay here took place in consequence of having to break through a thick wall, during which time I ordered up a Wing of the Bengal Fusiliers to occupy the house. The Troops then advanced through the suburbs without opposition towards Moosa Bagh, which position the enemy was reported to occupy with thirteen Guns, and five or six thousand men.

On arriving on the open Ground two Guns were opened on the Column, and the Enemy appeared in great strength on the road. I immediately ordered out Skirmishers from the 79th and 23rd, and Capt. Middleton's Battery to the front, whose fire soon silenced that of the Enemy, during which time the Lancers made a flank movement to the Enemy's Left, and on our advance, their whole Force took the flight, abandoning their Guns; on finding which I sent to order back the heavy Guns under escort of the three Companies of the 20th Regiment has being no longer required.

The two Squadrons of the 9th Lancers followed up the pursuit for about four miles, when they overtook the Enemy, captured six Guns and killed about a hundred of them, the rest dispersing over the Country, and escaping by the aid of the Nullahs and broken feature of the Country. The conduct of the Officers and men of the 9th, was most gallant, as they undauntedly charged masses of the enemy.

The Field Artillery and Infantry followed in support as rapidly as possible, and captured four more Guns, making in all twelve, which I believe to be the total possessed by the enemy, no trace of the reported thirteenth Gun being observable.

I then occupied the Moosa Bagh with the 2nd Punjab Infantry under Major Green, and withdrew the rest of the Troops to their quarters in the City.

Throughout the course of these operations, which were very laborious, the cheerfulness and zeal of both Officers and Men were most conspicuous, and merit my warmest thanks.

I have to express my particular acknowledgments to Brigadier-General Walpole, who afforded me on every occasion the most cordial support, and very ably carried out the operations which fell to his share; also to Brigadier-General Sir James Hope Grant, commanding the Cavalry, whose vigilance and activity in the execution of his onerous duties were unceasing.

Brigadier Wood, C. B., Commanding the Field Batteries, and Lieutenant-Colonel Riddell, Commanding the Siege Train, carried on their respective duties to my entire satisfaction. The services of Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, B. A., specially attached to the Force, were of the highest value to me, and I beg to tender him my cordial acknowledgment for the same.

It is a source of much gratification to me to submit the names of those Officers engaged in the operations on the North bank of the Goomtee, who have been honorably mentioned by Brigadier-General Walpole and their respective Commanders, viz., Brigadiers Horsford, C. B., and Douglas, Commanding 5th and 6th Brigades, Lieut-Colonel Hill, Commanding 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, Lieut-Colonel Macdonald, C. B., Commanding 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade, Captain Gibbon, R. A., who commanded the 9-Pounder Field Battery.

The Brigadier-General also particularly notices the conduct of Captain Barwell, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, and Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; also that of Captain Warner, A. D. C., and Lieutenant Eceless, his orderly Officer.

The Brigadiers wish to record the services of their respective Staffs:—Captain Macpherson, 78th Highlanders, (wounded,) Brigade Major of the 5th Brigade, Brevet Major Mollan, Brigade Major 6th Brigade, and Brevet Major Ross, and Lieutenant Walker, their Orderly Officers.

Brigadier Wood, C. B. favourably mentions the conduct and professional knowledge of Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, Lieutenant Colonel D'Aguilar, Major Yates, Brevet-Major Penny-quick, Captain Gibbon, Captain Mackinnon, Captain Remington, and Captain Johnston; he also notices the assistance he received from Captain Frith, his Brigade-Major, and Captain Scott, in charge of the Commissariat arrangements.

Lieutenant-Colonel Riddle, Commanding Siege Train, eulogizes Captains Thring, Good-enough, and Walker, R. A., Captain Pearson and Lieutenant Simeon, B. A., and Lieutenants Cuthbert and Fitzmaurice, R. A., and Major Turner and Captain Young, Staff Officers.

Major Nicholson, R. E., highly applauds the energy displayed by the Officers of that Department, viz., Lieutenants Malcolm, Wynne Swetenham and Keith, R. E., and Lieutenants Watson, Tenant, Hovenden, and Nuthall, B. E.

Lieutenant-Colonel Wells records the services of Major Bruce, Captains Prevost, Duff and Norton, of the 23rd Fusiliers.

I have next to notice the services of the Officers engaged on the South of City side of the River.

Brigadier Napier, Captain Hutchinson, Brigade Major, and Lieutenant Greathed, of the Engineers afforded me on different occasions the greatest assistance by their professional advice, and I tender them my cordial thanks; they were ably seconded by Lieutenant Tulloch and Mr. May, attached to that Department.

Major Brayser led his Seikhs with his usual gallantry, and I regret to add, was severely wounded.

My thanks are also due to Captain Bennett, Commanding Her Majesty's 20th Regiment.

Captain Coles, in Command of two Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, did good service in pursuing the Enemy when they abandoned their position in the Moosa Bagh. On this occasion the local knowledge of Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General of the 3rd Division, was of much use to me. Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant General, Captain Gordon, Deputy Judge Advocate General, and Ensign Hewitt, 41st Regiment N. I., Orderly Officer, were present at the occupation of the Moosa Bagh, having joined me from Alum Bagh, where they had been of much service in their respective appointments.

I have lastly to bring to His Excellency's consideration the services of those Officers who had the good fortune to be engaged in all the operations on both sides of the River.

Brigadier Douglas has carried out all his instructions with signal ability and success, and deserves my cordial acknowledgments, as does Major Nicholson, R. E., who evinced the most indefatigable industry in the construction of the heavy Batteries which it fell to his Department to execute, and in choosing sites for which he was constantly exposed to very heavy fire.

Lieutenant Colonel Wells, Commanded the 23rd Fusiliers until incapacitated by illness (on the last day's operation) when the Command was assumed by Lieutenant Colonel Pratt, who also commanded the left column of attack on the 11th Instant, across the river. Lieutenant Colonel Cunliffe, commanded the 1st Bengal Fusiliers, until the arrival of Captain Hume, who also deserves my thanks. Captain Middleton commanded the field Battery, which was actively engaged throughout.

Brigadier Douglas mentions with approbation, Captain Stevenson, Acting Brigade Major, and Lieutenants Walker, 79th, and Utteton, 23rd Fusiliers, his A. D. C. and Orderly Officer.

I have the highest pleasure in acknowledging how much I am indebted to the Officers of my Personal Staff.

His Excellency is already aware of the opinion I have formed of the merits and services of Colonel Berkely, H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, my Military Secretary; and the assistance I have derived from him throughout these operations, is an additional obligation I am under to this most deserving Officer.

Captain Chamier, A. D. C., and Lieutenant Hargood, A. D. C., (Horse killed), have worked with the unremitting zeal and activity which has characterized their conduct in all the operations in which I have been engaged since I left Allahabad in September last.

Captain Weston, 65th Regiment N. I., Orderly Officer, has signalized himself by the spirit and gallantry which he has displayed on several occasions, and has been of much use to me.

Captains Orr and Bunbury, of the Intelligence Department, have performed their duties with great ability, and Mr. Denison, C. S., who recently brought up Despatches from the Governor sufferers who were blown up in the explosion on the 17th Instant.

Mr. Kavanagh, Assistant Commissioner, from his knowledge of the localities, rendered good service on several occasions.

J. OUTRAM, Major General, Comdg. the 1st Divn. of the Army.

Roll of Officers who have served under Brigadier R. Napier, Commanding Engineer Brigade during the operations at Lucknow, in March 1858, and who are deemed deserving of honorable mention.

Corps or Department.	Rank and Names.	Remarks.
Royal Engineers.	Colonel Harness, Commanding Royal Engineers.....	In charge of the arrangement for taking the Emambarra, and highly energetic and valuable services, in securing the Kaisier Bagh, when the place was carried by a few of our Troops, and general cordial co-operation.
Ditto	Major Nicholson...	Conducted most satisfactorily, and with great energy and judgment all siege operations across the river, with the Division under Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B.
Ditto	Captain W. O. Lennox.....	Senior Field Engineer, on the attack on the Martiniere, actively employed in all the attacks before, and of the Kaisier Bagh.
Ditto	Captain Clerke...	Especially mentioned for honorable notice by Colonel Harness, R. E.
Ditto	Lieutenant F. Beaumont	Adjutant of the Royal Engineers.
		Very useful in fortifying position than by Major Wilde's Sikhs across the canal entrenchment, having accompanied their advance.
		In attack on Emambarra, took a house which turned the Enemy's defences, in part breached their outer wall, and enabled Major Brasyer's Sikhs to assault successfully, and materially aid the general assault.
		In attack on Kaisier Bagh, accompanied advance of Sikhs up Cheence Bazar, into a position in a gate-way which Commanded the Kaisier Bagh.
Ditto	Lieutenant P. T. Scratchely	Especially brought to notice by Colonel Harness, R. E.
Ditto	Lieutenant C. E. Wynne	Orderly Officer, attended me on all occasions, and was particularly useful.
		Especially recommended for notice by Major Nicholson, R. E., for the manner in which he removed a breast-work from the Iron-bridge under a heavy fire.
		Recommended by Major Nicholson for the Victoria Cross.

Corps or Detachment.	Rank and Names.	REMARKS.
Bengal Engineers.	Major A. Taylor Commanding Bengal Engineers	Invaluable services and energy in preparation of the Engineer Park. Great energy in charge of the arrangement for attacking Bank's house and Begum's palace; very valuable and cordial co-operation and assistance in all duties.
Ditto	Captain G. Hutchinson, Brigade Major	Directing Engineer with Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., in the attacks on the Residency, Muchie Bhawun and the Emambarra.
Ditto	Lieutenant Greathed	Directing Engineer in the attacks on Bank's house and Emambarra, also on 17th, and with Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., in taking the Moosa Bagh. Especially recommended for notice by Colonel Harness, R. E.
Ditto	Lieutenant Gulliver, Commanding Punjaub Sappers	Attack on the D. Bungalow.
Ditto	Lieutenant Maunsell, Commanding Bengal Sappers...	Attack on the Begum's Palace.
Ditto	Lieutenant Medley	Occupied the Kuddum Russool with Lieutenants Lang and Carnegie, 1 Non-Commissioned Officer and 4 Privates, held the Shah Nujiff with Lieutenant Champain, and 50 Punjaub Sappers, all other Troops being withdrawn on the night of the 8th within 200 yards of the Enemy.
		Prominently engaged in attacks on Emambarra, Kaisier Bagh, and Moosa Bagh.
Ditto	Lieutenant Hovenden	Very highly mentioned by Major Nicholson, R. E., for services rendered in Siege operations across the Goomtee.
Ditto	Lieutenant Brownlow, (since dead from a powder explosion)	Prominently engaged in attacks on Emambarra on which occasion he led a party across the main road, and drove the enemy out of a house important to hold, but was forced to retire owing to the heavy musketry fire of the Enemy; particularly useful in the attacks on the Residency Bridges Muchie Bhawun and Emambarra.
Ditto	Lieutenant Lang	Commanded a Sapper party in attack on the Martiniere and Canal Entrenchment, into which he accompanied the advance of the Highlanders.
		With Lieutenant Medley, when he occupied the Kuddum Russool with his small party, engaged in the attacks on the Emambarra, and with the foremost party of Sikhs in the Kaisier Bagh.
Ditto	Lieutenant Humphrey	Adjutant, Bengal Engineers.
Ditto	Lieutenant Champain, Adjutant Bengal Sappers	With Lieutenant Medley when he held the Shah Nujiff on night of 8th with 50 Sappers.
		Exceedingly useful in the attacks on the Residency Bridges, Muchie Bhawun and Emambarra.
Ditto	Lieutenant Pemberton	Director of the Park, the duties of which important position he has fulfilled to my entire satisfaction.
Ditto	Lieutenant Carnegie	One of the three Officers and four Men who occupied the Kuddum Russool.
Madras Engineer..	Lieutenant Scott	Actively engaged in all attacks on the Begum's Palace and Kaisier Bagh.
Madras Native Infantry with Madras Sappers	Ensign Ogilvy	Engaged in attack on the Emambarra and Kaisier Bagh in the taking of the latter, he accompanied the most advanced party of Her Majesty's 10th Foot, under Captain Norman, assisted in the defence of their post, and went through a heavy fire to bring up re-inforcements, which he did, remaining with them until severely wounded.
		Captain Norman publicly thanks Ensign Ogilvy for his services.
Bengal Native Infantry	Lieutenant Alfred Tulloch, doing duty with Detachment	Orderly Officer to Brigadier Napier. Attended me on all occasions, and was particularly active and useful.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

3D MAY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 28TH APRIL 1858.

No. 156 of 1858.—Major General John Low C. B. having obtained permission to proceed to Europe, the Right Honorable the Governor in Council desires to record in General Orders, the high sense which he entertains of that Officer's distinguished services.

For many years after his first joining the Madras Army, Major General Low was actively engaged in the Field, including the expedition to Java, in which he served as a volunteer with Her Majesty's 59th Regiment and was severely wounded—and the Battle of Mahidpore, in which he served as Aide-de-Camp to Sir John Malcolm, by whom he had been specially selected for combined Military and Political employment.

From the Battle of Mahidpore to the present time, Major General Low has been employed on duties of the highest public importance, calling on various occasions for the exercise at once of the soundest judgment and the most determined courage—and now, after a lengthened course of nearly fifty four years' service, distinguished throughout by the gallant and able fulfilment of every duty, the Major General returns to his native land, honored by the approbation of his Sovereign, and bearing with him the most cordial good wishes of his brother Officers and friends.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 30TH APRIL 1858.

No. 158 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following Promotions.

49th Regiment Light Infantry.

Senior Lieutenant Philip Lateward Codd to be Captain, and Senior Ensign William Nesbitt Wroughton to be Lieutenant, vice Buttler transferred to the Invalid Battalion; date of commissions 23th April 1858.

The leave of absence granted to Captain C. O. Lukin, 41st Regiment Native Infantry, in G. O. G. 12th February 1858, No. 57, is extended to the 8th July 1858 to enable him to join.

The following promotions are made in the Subordinate branch of the Medical Department.

No. 64 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a gallant and successful attack on the enemy retreating from Lucknow, by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., at Koorsee, on the road to Fyzabad, on the 23rd March 1858.

No. 167 A.

FROM THE DEPY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA, MILITARY DEPT. WITH THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Head Quarters, Camp Lucknow, the 28th March 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General, copy of a letter* from Brigadier General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding the Cavalry Division of this Army, dated 26th Instant, No. 60, reporting his having overtaken a body of the enemy at "Koorsee" in this neighbourhood, and captured 14 Guns.

2. His Excellency much regrets the loss in this affair of a gallant young Officer, Lieutenant MacDonnell, attached to the 2nd Punjaub Cavalry.

3. Returns of Casualties and of Ordnance captured in the action are annexed.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

FROM BRIGDR. GENL. SIR J. HOPE GRANT, K. C. B., Commanding Division.
TO THE DEPY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY.

Camp near Lucknow, 26th March 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report for the information of His Excellency Sir Colin Campbell, that agreeably to the orders received from Major General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, I marched at 12 o'clock on the night of the 22nd Instant with the Force, as per margin, in the direction of "Koorsee;" finding it however nearly impossible to proceed with the heavy Guns across the country roads in the dark, I halted the Column a short distance from the Cantonments until morning, it was consequently nearly 4 P. M., on the 23rd, before we arrived at "Koorsee." We found the enemy in full retreat along the Fyzabad road. Forming up the Cavalry and the Horse Artillery, I advanced, leaving the Infantry with the heavy guns pointing towards the village. Two guns of the advance guard under Lieutenant Hunter, had in the mean time come into action, against a party of rebels who were making their way out of a small ghurree on our left front, for the purpose of joining the main body on the Fyzabad road; these were soon dispersed, and as we were clear of the village I gave the order to change front to the right, by this movement our line completely covered the flank of the retreating enemy; a few rounds from the Horse Artillery caused them to scatter, on seeing which the 1st and 2nd Punjaub Cavalry on the left of the line under the command of Captain Samuel Brown charged most gallantly five or six times through the rebels, cutting up about two hundred and capturing 14 guns, besides several ammunition waggons, 2 elephants, some Camles, bullocks, and quantities of baggage.

I directed Lieutenant Manderson with 2 Guns, Horse Artillery and a Squadron of the 2nd Dragoon Guards, the whole under Command of Captain Loftus, to proceed to the support of the Punjaub Cavalry, the success was complete, achieved however at the loss of two fine gallant Officers Lieutenant MacDonnell, 2nd Punjaub Cavalry, killed, and Captain Cosserat, Commanding Detachment 1st Punjaub Cavalry, dangerously wounded.

I have to thank the following Officers for the assistance they afforded me :—

Brigadier Horsford, Commanding the Infantry, Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly, Royal Artillery, Commanding the Artillery; Captain Mackinnon and Major Remington, Commanding Troops of Bengal Horse Artillery, and Major Moirs, Bengal Artillery, Commanding Heavy Field Battery, Lieutenants Manderson and Hunter, Bengal Horse Artillery, and Lieutenant Briscoe, Commanding 2nd Dragoon Guards; Major Keene, Commanding the outposts, and Captain Loftus, both of the 2nd Dragoon Guards; Captain T. Browne, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Cavalry, and Captain Cosserat, and after that Officer was wounded; Lieutenant Mackenzie, Commanding Detachment 1st Punjaub Cavalry; Lieutenant Colonel English, C. B., Commanding Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment; Lieutenant Colonel MacDonell, C. B., Commanding 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Lieutenant Colonel Percy Hill, Commanding 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Major Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; also Lieutenant Watson, Commanding Sappers and Miners, and Major Mollan, Major of Brigade, Captain Scott, Officiating Deputy Commissary General, and — Forbes, Esquire, Civil Service.

My own personal Staff—

Major Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General; Captain the Honorable A. Anson, Aide-de-Camp, and Captain Johnson, Extra Aide-de-Camp, were of the greatest possible use to me.

I have &c.,

Military Department.

No. 51 of 1858.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

The necessity for Lieutenant-Colonel Grant's return to Europe on Medical Certificate having been established prior to the 23d March 1855, we are of opinion that although his actual embarkation was delayed for a short time after that date, he should not, in consequence, be deprived of the advantages conferred by the order of the 8th September 1856 upon those who quitted India prior to the 23d March 1855.

Letter dated 22d August 1857, No. 225.
1 and 2 Memorial from Lieut. Colonel S. A. Grant, Madras Infantry, praying that he may be promoted to the rank of Colonel by Brevet from the date on which he would have attained that rank had he actually left India on Furlough prior to the 23d March 1855.

We are, &c.,

(Signed) R. D. MANGLES,

And Nine other Directors.

No. 662 of 1858.—The following Notification, issued from the Financial Department, is published in General Orders:—

No. 20.—The 23d April 1858.—Read a Despatch from the Honorable the Court of Directors, No. 16 of 1858, dated the 3rd March.

Notification.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct that the following Resolution be published for general information:—

Resolution.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to resolve, in conformity with the orders of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, as conveyed in the 5th Paragraph of their Despatch above-mentioned, that the present rate of Interest, viz., 4 per Cent. per Annum, allowed to Military Depositors on sums lodged in the several Government Savings' Banks, be reduced from the 9th Instant, the date of the receipt of the above Despatch, to 3½ per Cent. per Annum, being equal to the rate fixed by the Royal Warrant for Soldiers' Deposits in Savings' Banks. The rate of 4 per Cent. per Annum allowed to Civil Depositors will be continued until further orders.

Fort William, 30th April 1858.

No. 674 of 1858.—The Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to authorize the issue to European Soldiers of Haversacks and Soda-water bottles covered with leather (in lieu of Canteens). These Articles are to be issued to Regiments as Camp Equipage, and are to be returned into Regimental Stores when no longer required, the Men being held answerable for any deficiency caused by neglect.

2. This Order is applicable to the three Presidencies.

No. 677 of 1858.—The following additions are to be made to the Rules noted in the margin, for the equipment of Vessels taken up for Troops, and the supply of Medical comforts to Invalids and others proceeding to England.

No. 175 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.
Fort William, 27th April 1858.

No. 651 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct that the following War Office Circular, No. 190, dated 18th December 1857, containing instructions relative to the mode of payment to the East India Company of Savings' Bank balances due to Soldiers of Her Majesty's Regiments proceeding to India, be published in General Orders:—

Circular, No. 190, (Savings' Banks.)

War Office, 18th December 1857.

India. Sir,—The Secretary of State for War having, with the concurrence of the Court of Directors of the East India Company, decided that instead of the Savings' Bank Accounts of a Regiment proceeding to the East Indies being closed in the manner prescribed by Article 35 of the Circular, No. 1151, dated 2d January 1854, the operations of the Adenda to War Office Regulations of 1848, page 82.

Bank shall not be suspended, but that the Bank should continue open until the transfer to the Government Savings' Bank in India can be there effected by the Commanding Officer of the Regiment. I am directed by Lord Panmure to acquaint you, that instructions have been accordingly issued to the several Governments in India, desiring that, upon the Commanding Officer of the Regiment furnishing to the Presidency Paymaster a list of the Savings' Bank Balances, with interest adjusted to the last day of the preceding month, together with a bill drawn on Her Majesty's Paymaster General (Army Account) for the amount, a corresponding sum may be placed to the credit of the several men in the Government Savings' Bank.

You will, therefore, be pleased, in conformity with this arrangement, to cause the Savings' Bank Accounts of the Regiment under your Command to be made up as soon as conveniently practicable, after the Corps shall have landed in India, and forwarded to this Office, giving your bill to the Presidency Paymaster for the amount of the balances, which should, of course, precisely agree with the total sum due to the several Depositors, according to the general abstract accompanying the final Savings' Bank Accounts to this Department.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

B. HAWES.

Regiment, was followed by the British Brigade, under Brigadier Eveleigh, C. B., and by the six Battalions of Goorkha Infantry, under Colonel Pulwan Singh, in Column of route. The rear and baggage guards consisting of five Companies of the 10th, 20th and 97th Regiments, and of three Companies of Goorkhas, with two Horsed Guns, under Major Radcliffe, 20th Regiment, closed the rear.

4. On reaching Koereepore, I learned thorough spies, that the Enemy in possession of "Chanda" under the Chuckledar Bunda Hoosain, numbered 8,000 men; of whom 2,500 were Sepoys of the 20th, 28th, 48th and 71st Regiments N. I., and that the Nazim Mehundee Hussun was still at Waree, eight miles distant in a Southerly direction with 10,000 Men and 11 Guns. The junction of his Forces was therefore still incomplete and I determined to attack him before it could be effected.

5. Halting the force out of fire, I reconnoitred the Enemy's position.

"Chanda" is a large village, at the South-eastern angle of which are a considerable mud Fort and a Serai, both of great height, and loopholed for musketry. Round the village, Fort and Serai, a breastwork had been thrown up, and a ditch excavated, and six pieces of Artillery were placed in position in it and on its left. The principal strength of the position consisted in the close and high cultivation surrounding it on three sides, and rendering approach most difficult.

6. My reconnoissance being complete, at 11 A. M., I attacked in the following order:—The Marksmen were extended in skirmishing order out of range of the Enemy's Artillery; then advancing to 700 yards, they opened fire, which was immediately replied to by the Guns opposed to us.

Having thus drawn the Enemy's fire, and ascertained the position of his Artillery, 8 of our light Guns were brought up at a gallop, supported as quickly as possible by the two 18-Pounders. Meantime, the main body followed in contiguous quarter distance columns, at deploying distance; the British Brigade in the centre, three Regiments of Goorkhas on the right, and three on the left; the Cavalry divided and covering the flanks; Captain Thring's four 9 Pounder Bullock Guns accompanied the Infantry in the centre. As they advanced into the plain, these columns deployed into line.

7. The skirmishers and light Guns now gradually moved forward, the Enemy retiring before them, the Goorkhas threatening the flanks, and the British Brigade advancing in support in the centre.

In this manner the Force soon drove the Enemy before it, carried the position and captured 6 Guns, following the Rebels through and past the village.

When the exhausted skirmishers could no longer reach the Enemy, two of Major Cotter's Guns, and the Cavalry* galloping to the front, acted with great effect; the Cavalry charging and cutting up a number of the Rebels, and the Guns following them with a destructive fire, till the dense thickets which bordered the plain forbid further pursuit.

8. The Force was then halted on the right of the road three miles beyond "Chanda."

9. Suspecting the Nazim to be now on the move from Waree on the left, I detached the Cavalry under Lieutenant C. N. Tucker, 8th Bengal Light Cavalry, and 2 Guns of Captain Middleton's Battery to watch that flank; while the Troops, fatigued by great heat and rapid movement, gained time to rest and refresh themselves, and liquor and cooked provisions were issued to them. The captured Artillery was also meanwhile collected.

10. When this had been accomplished, we took ground to the left across the road to the village of Amereepore, the better to cover the march of our baggage, and to meet the Enemy should he advance.

noted marginally) from the date of its leaving Singramow, and crossing the Oude Frontier on the 19th Ultimo, till its junction with the Army under His Excellency's Command, on the evening of the 4th Instant.

2. A report having gained credence in Camp, and reached the enemy, that no forward movement would be made before the 20th February, the Nazim Mehundee Hussun had issued his orders for his Force, hitherto divided at Waree and Chanda, to be concentrated at the latter place, by the evening of the 19th February.

3. At 6 A. M., however, of that day, the force under my command marched from Singramow, in the following order:—the Advance Guard composed of the whole of our small party of Cavalry, of 240 selected Marksmen; of the three British Regiments and four Horsed Guns, under Lieutenant Colonel Longden, 10th Regiment, under Brigadier Eveleigh, C. B., and by the six Battalions of Goorkha Infantry, under Colonel Pulwan Singh, in Column of route. The rear and baggage guards consisting of five Companies of the 10th, 20th and 97th Regiments, and of three Companies of Goorkhas, with two Horsed Guns, under Major Radcliffe, 20th Regiment, closed the rear.

Later in the day, near sunset, when all hopes of his approach seemed at an end, and while the ground for encampment was being taken up, the Enemy appeared on our left front.

11. The Force immediately changed front, and attacked in the same order as in the morning.

12. The Nazim having suffered severely on his right, which was exposed in the open plain to our Artillery and Rifle fire, sought shelter in some thick mangoe groves to his left: thus endeavouring to work round my right, and bringing an 18-Pounder into action at a distance. But this attempt was speedily checked by the three Battalions of Goorkhas on that flank, who, under Colonel Pulwan Singh advanced, fired, and charged driving the Enemy before them.

13. The complete state of preparation in which the Nazim found us, when he had anticipated coming unexpectedly on our left rear, took him by surprise. The heavy fire with which he was received completed his discomfiture and caused his almost immediate retreat in disorder towards Waree; his Guns having never been closely engaged, with the exception of the 18-Pounder before-mentioned. The lateness of the hour and his rapid flight alone, saved his Artillery from capture.

14. Thus terminated the action at an hour after dark: and the Force bivouacked on the ground it occupied at the close of the day. I estimate the Enemy's loss in these two actions to have been upwards of 800 killed and wounded.

15. On the 20th I remained halted; as the baggage, delayed by difficult ground, only arrived late on that day.

During this time the Enemy remained at Waree; my flank movement and his defeat at Amereepore, having thrown him off his direct line of retreat to Lucknow.

Report, however, tended to show that he contemplated making a wide circuit by our left, and occupying the strong jungle pass, position, and Fort of Budhayan nine miles in our front: which if stoutly defended, would have considerably delayed my progress.

But as he was kept in a state of uncertainty as to whether I might not attack him in front at Waree, or in flank if he should march towards Budhayan, to which place I was nearer than he, he deferred this movement till mine should be more distinctly defined, keeping his Troops constantly under arms watching mine.

16. At day break on the 21st, drawing up my Force in order of battle as if to march on Waree, allowed the whole of my baggage to file away past my right rear towards Lumbooh, the village of Roostum Suhia, a friendly Zemindar, who had shown that he was well affected towards the Government by the collection of supplies, and by safely escorting the bridge-of-boats from Singramow.

17. It having been given out that the Force would halt at Lumbooh, the Nazim, whose spies closely watched every movement, thought that he would still be in time to anticipate me at Budhayan.

But I pushed the baggage rapidly through the village of Lumbooh, and when this had been effected my advance guard under Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, withdrawing unperceived from Amereepore, overtook and headed the baggage, followed gradually by the whole Force which, by a rapid movement, seized Budhayan and occupied its Fort.

18. The Nazim thus missed his opportunity. He had been deceived as to my intentions sufficiently long to allow of the safe progress of my encumbrances through the defile of Budhayan, and had finally been forestalled in the possession of that strong position.

19. Five Companies of Goorkhas were thrown into the Fort, and six British Companies and two Guns posted on the Nullah which runs under it, assured the main Force encamped two miles in advances against attack on left flank or rear.

20. During the 22nd, I remained halted to allow the expected re-inforcements of Lahore Light Horse and Pathans to overtake me. In the course of this day the Nazim with the remnants of his Force, reached Badshahgunje two miles beyond Sultanpore, where he took up a position in the old Cavalry and Police Lines, and was joined by the fugitives from Chanda, by the whole of the mutinied Sepoys and Oude Irregulars of this District, and by the remains of the 7th Light and 12th and 15th Irregular Cavalry, the latter under Shaboodeen Khan, late a Ressaldar in the last named Regiment, and who had Command in the mutiny at Sultanpore. The Infantry was Commanded by the Rajah Hussun Ali Khan, of Hussunpore, assisted by his son and by Rhowani Sing, late Subadar of Infantry. The whole Force was under Mirza Guffoor Beg, a General of Artillery under the Old King of Oude, re-instated in his rank by the present Rebel Government, and sent from Lucknow specially to take this Command.

21. The Rebel Force, numbering 25,000 Men, of whom 5,000 were Sepoys and 1,100 Cavalry, with 25 Guns, occupied a position, a sketch of which accompanies this Report, and which was drawn by Lieutenant Innes, Assistant Field Engineer, from information furnished by Lieutenant Smith, 58th N. I., attached to the Goorkhas, and by Lieutenant Tucker, 8th Bengal Cavalry, who were stationed at Sultanpore at the time of the mutiny. On this plan, drawn up before the action, my operations were based. The position may be described as follows:—

22. A deep and winding ravine runs into the Goomtee, behind which the Enemy's line was posted in a plain, his left resting on the Sultanpore Bazar, the centre placed behind the ruined lines of the Police Battalion, and the right covered by a range of low hillocks in advance of the village and strong masonry Serai of Badshahgunje. This position is about a mile and a half in length. The direct road from Sultanpore to Lucknow intersects it at right angles, and on this, at the point where it crosses the Nullah, the Enemy's principal Battery was directed.

His other Guns were distributed along the position, three being posted in the village near the Bazar and Temple on his extreme left, and six in the Serai and village of Badshahgunje and to its right.

23. Marching at 6 A. M. from my ground in front of Budhayan, in the same order as in the 3rd paragraph of this Report, on arriving within a mile of the village of Loramow, my Cavalry caught sight of the Enemy's outposts: on which I formed my Force in order of battle, the front being covered by the 240 selected Marksmen of the British Brigade, and eight Horsed Guns under Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, 10th Foot, the Guns being 100 paces in rear of the skirmishers. The two 18-Pounders advanced in the centre along the high roads which runs through the Enemy's position. The British Brigade was formed in contiguous quarter distance columns at 25 paces interval, supported in second line by the 6 Battalions of Goorkhas, in quarter distance columns at deploying distance.

24. Moving through the village in this order, till fully in sight of the Enemy's picquets, who thus concluded that our advance would be, as they wished directly down the high road, I advanced with the Benares Horse under Captain Matheson, and the Detachment of 25 mounted Men of Her Majesty's 10th Regiment, under Lieutenant Tucker, and drove in the Enemy's outposts beyond the Nullah, and through a thick belt of trees which concealed their Force from ours.

Having done this, leaving the Benares Horse to prevent their outposts from again reconnoitering us, I moved with the Mounted Detachment to the left to examine the head of the Nullah which I felt convinced disappeared in the plain: and this proved to be the case, for my search found a point where the road from Allahabad crosses it, where the Troops and heavy Guns could pass the ravine out of reach of the Enemy's fire. Some rising ground here gave me a good view of the Rebel position, and ascertaining that it might be turned by its right, I ordered the whole force to take ground obliquely to its left.

25. My Baggage and Rear Guards under Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, C. B., 97th Regiment, were halted in rear of the village of Loramow, where the road to the station of Sultanpore branches off from the road to Lucknow.

The movement of the Force, unperceived for a long time by the Enemy, brought it round his right completely out of fire; the shot from his heaviest Guns, when he at length caught sight of our flank march, falling for short of our columns.

26. The skirmishers, who had been moving in file to flank, covering this movement, now turned to the front, and, with the light Guns, closed on the Enemy's position, the whole Force advancing in two lines in their rear, on the right flank of the Enemy, who, disconcerted by being thus turned was compelled to change the position of his heavy Guns, most of which it rendered useless. The left of my Force now came on the high road to Lucknow, dividing the Enemy's line, a part of which at once retreated along that road, taking with them the 4 Guns which had been on their extreme right.

My right now rested on the Nullah, and the left beyond the village of Badshahgunje.

27. The left, circling gradually forward, drove the Enemy from the different points of his position placing him with his back to the deep Nullah before described, (which here made a bend round his rear) and entirely cutting him off from his line of retreat. Finally, his central Battery of 5 heavy Guns was captured after an obstinate resistance, the Gunners standing by their pieces and serving them to the last.

The body of Hussun Ali's son was here found amidst slain, and the State palanquin of the Nazim lay in its neighbourhood.

28. After these Guns fell into our hands, the Enemy fled in all directions, escaping across the deep ravine in his rear. Three Guns and a considerable body, still retaining some formation, retired towards the station of Sultanpore, near which, taking post about a temple and in a thick grove, they continued to fire till finally driven from their Guns by two Regiments of Goorkhas.

29. The action was now at an end: the plan beyond the ravines was every where covered with fugitives, whom my want of Cavalry precluded my pursuing, and the ravines prevented the further advance of the Guns. Two Guns of Captain Middleton's Battery, and the small detachment of British Horse, however, continued the pursuit for nearly two miles along a comparatively open strip of land, and overtook and captured in a ravine 2 Guns which the Enemy had succeeded in with-drawing so far.

30. Halting the main body of the Force to cover the collection of the captured Ordnance, I pursued that portion of the Enemy, which had retired by the Lucknow road, for four miles with the 20th and 97th Regiments, and four Battalions of Goorkhas; and the mounted Soldiers of the 10th, under Lieutenant Tucker, followed these Guns for nine miles; but so precipitate had been the Enemy's flight that they were unable to come up with them; but some ammunition waggons and much baggage fell into our possession.

31. Thus ended the battle of Sultanpore, in which, with only 11 Casualties on our side, an Army of about 25,000 Men was driven from a position of great strength, and scattered to the winds, with the loss of 1,800 men killed and wounded, and leaving 21 Guns, 9 of them of siege calibre in our hands.

32. I am full of gratitude for the achievement of these great results with so trifling a loss of life.

The effect has been to open the road to Lucknow for the unopposed march of this Force as well as for that of the Maharajah Jung Bahadoor, who has taken this route, instead of that of Fyzabad, as he originally intended.

33. The Force halted after the action at Badshahgunje; where it was joined the same evening by the Lahore Light Horse, and Pathan Horse under Captain Balmain. Next day was employed in the destruction of the whole of the captured Artillery, for which I had no means of transport and of the stores of ammunition and material for gun-carriages, which were found in the town of Badshahgunje, where the Nazim's gun-carriage manufactory appears to have been situated. On the evening of the 24th, the 3rd Seikh Horse, the remaining portion of the Cavalry, detached by His Excellency, reached me.

34. On the 25th, in compliance with the telegram from the Chief of the Staff, received the previous night, the Force resumed its march, reaching the same day Moosafirkhana, 20 miles, and on the 26th Juddespore, 16 miles, where it was found absolutely necessary to halt on the 27th, to give the cattle rest.

35. By the 28th February, I reached Hydurgurh, 16 miles, and on the 1st March halted at Selimpore, 18 miles, from Lucknow: thus arriving as directed by His Excellency, within one march of that City on that date.

36. In this day's march occurred one of the most dashing Cavalry combats I have ever heard of.

Captain Aikman, Commanding the 3rd Seikh Cavalry, on the advanced picquet, with 100 of his Men, having obtained information just as the Force marched on the morning of the 1st, of the proximity, three miles off the high road, of a body of 500 Rebel Infantry, and 200 Horse, with 2 Guns, under Moosahib Ali Chuckledar, attacked and utterly routed them, cutting up more than 100 Men, capturing the Guns, and driving the survivors in and over the Goomtee,

This feat was performed under every disadvantage of broken ground, and partially under, the flanking fire of an adjoining Fort.

I regret to add that Lieutenant Aikman received a severe sabre cut in the face: which will not, I trust, long deprive me of the services of so enterprising an Officer.

37. On the evening of the 1st, the Force having made a march of eighteen miles, encamped on the Nullah of Selimpore; with the Goomtee half a mile on its right. The town of the same name was abandoned by the Enemy at the first sight of our Cavalry, though the strong earth-works surrounding it, which must have been for weeks in course of construction, might have been expected to encourage them to withstand our advance.

38. Immediately on my arrival at Selimpore at 7 P. M. on the 1st March, I reported the circumstance by Cossid for His Excellency's information, and solicited further instructions. A duplicate of this Report was despatched by a second runner in the forenoon of the 2nd.

On the evening of the 3rd a messenger from Captain Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General of the Army, brought me an order to advance on Lucknow.

39. Accordingly, on the 4th at 6. A. M. I marched from Selimpore, and reached without opposition a mosque a mile beyond the town of Ameythee, eight miles from Lucknow.

40. Here intelligence was brought that a large body of Rebels with 2 Guns were posted in and round the Fort at Dhowrara, two miles to the right of the road, and situated in very difficult ground amongst ravines which run into the Goomtee.

I had hitherto passed such Forts when situated at a distance from the road without taking any notice of their Garrisons, who almost universally evacuated them when left in rear of our Force.

But being apprehensive that this party, if left unmolested, might annoy my long train of baggage, I resolved to drive them out.

41. The main column under Brigadier Eveleigh, C. B., moved on a mile further on the road to Goorsahegunje, where it halted; while with the two Horse Artillery Guns of Lieutenant Colonel D'Aguilar's Troop under Lieutenant Arbuthnot, a squadron of 9th Lancers and some Seikh and Pathan Horse, the whole under Captain Coles, 9th Lancers, I examined the Fort. About 500 Rebels originally occupied it, while nearly 3,000 were collected in its vicinity, most of whom fled down the ravines and escaped over the river when they saw our Cavalry circling round their flanks: 200 however fell back and prepared to defend it.

42. The Enemy having opened fire on our approach from 2 small Guns, the two Horse Artillery Guns were brought into action at 600 yards, the Native Cavalry threatening the Enemy's flanks and the 9th Lancers being held in reserve well out of fire. The Guns were subsequently moved up successively to 400, 300 and 200 yards, but though they silenced the Enemy's Artillery fire, they failed in putting down that of the matchlockmen securely posted behind the parapet.

43. I therefore ordered up a Company of Marksmen from each British Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, 10th Foot, and two 24 Pounder Howitzers of Major Cotter's Madras Battery; after a few rounds from which the outer enclosure of the Fort and the Guns mounted there were abandoned. But a sharp matchlock fire was still kept up from the loopholes which every where pierced the keep into which the greater part of the defenders had retired. The Company of the 10th Foot was now extended in a meadow on the river side of the Fort, and closed on it in that direction, while the Companies of 20th and 97th attacked it from the South-east. A few of the assailed, seeing themselves on the point of being surrounded, rushed out of the Fort, and attempted to escape up one of the ravines, but after a desperate resistance they were despatched by the Native Cavalry posted watching every outlet.

44. The Companies of the 20th and 97th now effected an entrance, gallantly headed by Captain Middleton, 29th Regiment, and Ensign Elton, 37th Native Infantry, attached to 10th Foot, and bayoneted about 120 of the occupants.

45. But a report was now brought from Brigadier Eveleigh, that considerable bodies of the Enemy were hovering on his right front, and that he had disposed the Force to meet them.

46. Repeated attempts having failed to break down the door of a house in which the survivors had barricaded themselves, the shot from one of their own Guns which we turned against it, making no impression on the massive gate, a fire kindled against it having no effect, and my only Engineer Officer, Lieutenant Innes, having been severely wounded, while trying to burst open the entrance, I determined to withdraw from the place. The Guns having fallen into our hands, I considered it unnecessary to risk a further loss of life, and of time, especially as it was now represented that my presence was required with the Force. I accordingly drew off the Infantry; carrying with us the 2 captured Guns, whose removal was accomplished under the heavy matchlock fire which the Enemy continued to pour from the loopholes, principally by the per-and Venables, Civil Service, accompanied the Force in the action at Chanda and Amereepore. In the former action Mr. Venables, charging the flying Enemy with the Cavalry, with whom he did good service, received a severe spear wound through the thigh.

58. Mr. P. Carnegy, Special Commissioner with the Force, and head of the Intelligence Dept. has rendered me most valuable aid. His information regarding the Enemy has proved so correct, that on it alone the whole of my operations might have been planned: he has always accompanied me in the Field and assisted in conveying orders under the heaviest fire. To his knowledge of the locality and skillful guidance is to be principally attributed the capture of the 2 Guns which I have mentioned in the 29th paragraph of this report as having been overtaken by Captain Middleton, R. A.

59. To the Officers of my personal Staff my best thanks are due.

Captain Havelock, 18th Royal Irish, late 10th Foot, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, merits my special acknowledgments. On my appointment to this Command in December last he hastened to join me, though still suffering from severe wounds received at Lucknow.

Since then his great intelligence, unwearied energy, and devotion to his duties, have won him the admiration of every one in this Force.

60. Lieutenant J. Wall, 87th R. I. Fusiliers, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, and my Aide-de-Camp Lieutenant H. Henderson, 10th Foot, have afforded me the most zealous and efficient support in their respective positions, and I beg to commend them to the favorable consideration of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

61. I should be committing an injustice were I to omit to mention the Officers who Commanded the Rear and Baggage Guards of my Force; Lieutenant Colonels Turner, C. B., Legh, and Burton, of the 97th, Majors Radcliffe and Butler, of the 20th, Chichester, of the 97th Regiment, and Pennycuik, R. A. To the strict performance of most unattractive duties by these Officers, not less than the patient endurance of exposure by day and night of fatigue and hunger by the men under their Command do I owe the fact, that not one single article of Baggage nor one animal has fallen into the hands of the Enemy.

To estimate correctly the value of these services it must be recollected that a train of upwards of 2,000 carts, drawn in many instances by very inferior cattle, has been safely conducted, most of the time, without any aid from Cavalry, over roads often unbridged and nearly impassable, and through a country swarming with a hostile population. Amongst these Officers, Lieutenant Colonel Turner, C. B., 97th Regiment, claims my special commendation for his masterly disposition of his Rear and Baggage Guards at the village of Loramow during the battle of Sultanpore.

On the splendid discipline, firm constancy and dashing courage displayed by this Force, both Officers, and Men, it is needless for me to dilate; the results they have gained will speak for themselves. Suffice it to say that it has marched 130 miles, has beaten an immensely superior Enemy in four actions, and has captured * (34) thirty-four pieces of Ordnance with the loss in all of only 37 Officers and Men killed and wounded.

I beg to record here, before too late, my thanks to the Officers who invariably Commanded the three Companies of selected marksmen (who formed my advanced guards and were always the first to encounter the Enemy); Captain Norman, 10th Foot, Captain Lyons, 20th, and Major Chichester, 97th Regiment.

Returns of Killed, Wounded and Missing, with Nominal lists of the Casualties and Returns of captured Ordnance, are enclosed herewith.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obdt. humble Servt.,

T. H. FRANKS, Brigdr. Genl.,

Commanding 4th Divn. Late Commandg. Jounpore Field Force.

P. S.—A sketch of the operations at Chanda and Amereepore, and one of the action of Sultanpore, are enclosed.

sonal labour and exertions of Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly, R. A., and his Quarter Master Lieutenant Strange, R. A., of Captain Middleton, H. M.'s 29th Regiment, Provost Marshall to the Force, of Major Chichester, and Lieutenants Morgan and Gould, 97th Regiment, and Lieutenant Bradford, Madras Artillery.

47. I regret to add that Lieutenant Percy Smyth, 97th Regiment, a most brave and promising young Officer, here received a musket ball through the abdomen, from the effects of which he died the same night.

48. Galloping to the main body, I found that the alarm of attack had been caused by the appearance of a body of Horse, who had however fallen back towards the City.

The Force resuming its march, reached his Excellency's Camp without further interruption the same evening.

49. It now becomes my pleasing duty to enumerate the Officers to whom I am indebted for their cordial support during the operations above described. Brigadier Eveleigh, C. B., Commanding the British Brigade, and Lieutenant-Colonel Wroughton, in Military charge of the Goorkhas, deserve my warmest acknowledgments of the prompt and able manner in which they have seconded me in the three actions of Chanda, Amereepore, and Sultanpore. The Officers on their respective Staff, viz., Captain A. B. Johnston, 5th Regiment N. I., Brigade Major, British Brigade, Ensign Burne, 20th Regiment Brigade Quarter-Master, and Captain Bennett, 20th Foot, Orderly Officer to Brigadier Eveleigh, and Captain Steel, 17th N. I., Staff Officer to the Goorkha Force, are mentioned by the Officer under whom they serve as having rendered them every support in their several positions.

50. Lieutenant-Colonel E. Maberly, R. A., Commanding the Artillery of the Force, by his unwearied exertions and able performance of the arduous duties of organizing and superintending the Ordnance Park under circumstance of great difficulty, has earned my best thanks; and he has set a brilliant example to the Officers of his Arm in the Field in the different actions in which he has been present. Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly speaks in high terms of the Staff Officers attached to him; Lieutenants Smart and Strange of the Royal Artillery.

51. To Lieutenant-Colonels Fenwick, Lys and Ingram, Commanding respectively the 10th, 20th and 97th Regiments, I have to record my thanks for the skilful and spirited manner in which they invariably led their Regiments.

Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, 10th Foot, is an Officer second to few in Her Majesty's Service in attainments and experience; and I specially selected him on all occasions to Command my advanced Guard of Marksmen and light Guns, a duty invariably performed by him with an intelligence and gallantry not to be surpassed.

52. To Colonel Pulvan Singh, Commanding the Goorkha Force, I am under great obligations for his hearty co-operations; and he has been well supported by his Lieutenant-Colonels Shumshere Singh and Indra Singh, and by the Senior Major Chumpa Singh. The steadiness and intelligence of the Nepaulese Troops under these excellent leaders have been the subject of general admiration, and I have had occasion specially to allude to the conduct of the right Brigade in the action of Amereepore.

53. Major Cotter, Commanding a Battery of Madras Artillery; Captain Middleton, Commanding his own Battery of Royal Artillery; Captain Thring, Commanding a Battery of 9-Pounders, rendered most efficient service by the Masterly way in which they handled their Guns. Lieutenant Simeon, Bengal Artillery Commanding two Bullock Guns, and Lieutenant Percivall, Bengal Artillery, Deputy Commissary of Ordnance, have merited my approbation.

54. Lieutenant T. T. McLeod Innes, Assistant Field Engineer, has been of the greatest assistance to me with his professional aid. I have already mentioned his distinguished conduct at the attack on the Fort of Dhowrara. It is now his due to relate that at the action of Sultanpore, far in advance of the leading skirmisher, he was the first to secure a Gun which the Enemy were abandoning. Retiring from this, they rallied round another Gun farther back, from which the shot would in another instant have ploughed through our advancing columns, when Lieutenant Innes rode up unsupported, shot the Gunner about to apply the match, and remaining undaunted at his post, the mark for a hundred matchlockmen, sheltered in some adjoining huts, kept the Artillery Men at bay, until assistance reached him. For this act of gallantry, surpassed by none within my experience, it is my intention to recommend him for the honorable distinction of the Victoria Cross.

55. The Cavalry was Commanded at Chanda by Lieutenant Tucker, 8th Light Cavalry, at Sultanpore, by Captain Matheson, late 13th Irregular Cavalry, and the excellent services of these Officers are duly appreciated by me. The 1st named Officer made a most dashing charge at Sultanpore with the 25 mounted Men of H. M.'s 10th Regiment, and killed numbers of the Enemy.

56. Lieutenant Cary, 37th Regiment Native Infantry, in charge of the Treasure Chest, and Captain Middleton, H. M.'s 29th Regiment, Provost Marshal, invariably accompanied me in the Field, and were most useful in carrying orders. The latter Officer has already been mentioned as actively instrumental in withdrawing the captured Guns at Dhowrara, and throughout the time he has been with the Force he has displayed in no small degree activity, intelligence, and daring.

57. The Medical arrangements of the Force under Surgeon C. A. Gordon M. D., 10th Foot, have met with my entire approval, and the Commissariat Officers, Lieutenant Chalmers, 53rd Native Infantry, Lieut. H. R. Wroughton, 40th Native Infantry, and Lieut. Bolton, 50th Native Infantry, have been most assiduous and successful in the discharge of very arduous duties, as has Lieutenant Rawlins, 17th Madras Native Infantry, Baggage Master. No. 220.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL SIR HUGH ROSE, K. C. B., Comdg. Central India Field Force.

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,

Head Quarters, Camp Chuckurpoor, 20th March 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to forward the enclosed copy of Report of the capture of Chandairee, by Brigadier Stuart, Commanding my 1st Brigade, together with a Return of Casualties.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) HUGH ROSE, Major Genl., Comdg. Central India Field Force.

FROM BRIGADIER C. S. STUART, Comdg. 1st Brigade Central India Field Force.

TO THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL, Central India Field Force.

Camp Chandairee, 17th March 1858.

SIR.—I have the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding Central India Field Force, that the Fort of Chandairee was carried by assault at 5 p. m., this day, by the Troops of this Brigade. The breach was reported practicable last evening and proved a fair one; the impetuous rush of the stormers of the 86th and 25th Regiments, carried everything before it. Captain Keatinge, Political Assistant, was, I regret to say, severely wounded whilst forward in the storming party. I beg to enclose a List of Casualties on our side. The loss of the Enemy is unknown at present; but, in and about the Fort, there are from forty to fifty bodies. Their flight was most precipitate, and they scattered over the surrounding jungle in every direction, with the exception of about two hundred, who, somewhat in a body, fled northwards. All the Guns in the Fort, eight of Iron and two of brass, are in our possession. Major Robertson is in charge of the Fort, but I propose to make it over to the Sir Soobah of Scindiah, after having entirely demolished the bastion we breached. The town of Chandairee is now entirely freed from Rebels, and the inhabitants are resuming their occupations. The Sir Soobah has now charge of the gates of it, which, up to this morning, have been strongly held by the Rebels, who cut off all communication with it from my Brigade.

2. Lieutenant Dowker arrived here at half past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, giving me information of the approach of Captain Abbott, with a considerable body of Irregular Cavalry, from the Northwards. I instantly despatched a letter by a Native Officer's party of the 3rd Regiment C. H. C. to Captain Abbott, informing him of my intended attack on Chandairee this morning, and desiring him to invest the North side of the Fort. This letter most unfortunately never reached Captain Abbott, and to its mis-carriage must be attributed the escape of some of the Enemy.

3. I shall forward a Despatch giving all particulars of the Siege of Chandairee, for the information of the Major-General, as soon as possible.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. S. STUART, Brigadier, Comdg. 1st Brigade C. I. Field Force.

SIR,—By desire of the Commander-in-Chief, I have the honor to forward for Submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General, copy of a Report, dated the 6th Instant, from Major-General Sir J. E. W. Inglis, K. C. B., Commanding Cawnpore Division, of his recent expedition to Hurra, in which the portion of the 8th Irregular Cavalry engaged under the Command of Captain A. M. Mackenzie, behaved with marked gallantry.

FROM MAJOR-GENL. SIR J. E. W. INGLIS, K. C. B., Comdg. Field Force.

TO THE DEPY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY.

Dated Cawnpore, 6th April 1858

SIR,—Agreeably to instructions received from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief through Chief of the Staff, I assembled the Force, noted in the accompanying Return, at Oonao, on the evening of the 4th, and marched for Hurra at 3 A. M. on the 5th. On approaching that place, which is surrounded on three sides by an immense mangrove tope, some Sowars of the Enemy were observed by our Cavalry to retire rapidly; as we neared the village, two or three shots were fired, and I immediately received that the Enemy, not more than 200 or 300 in number, were escaping to our left front. I then directed Captain Mackenzie, Commanding 8th Irregular Cavalry, to follow and ascertain their movements, and I have the honor to enclose the Report of that Officer, by which it will be perceived that he followed the fugitives, and cut to pieces the Rebel leader and 25 of his Men. I then entered the village of Hurra which is naturally an exceedingly strong position, and having ascertained from Captain Evans, the Deputy Commissioner, that he considered it would tend more to the quieting of the District to establish Thannah there than to destroy the Fort, I placed 200 Matchlockmen and Burkundazes in the post, which I have no doubt they will hold against any Force that he brought against them. In conclusion, I beg to be permitted to bring to the favorable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the excellent services rendered by Captain Mackenzie, who, with the faithful remainder of his corps, most gallantly charged and destroyed a troublesome Enemy (Lutah Sing) and his body, all of whom rallied around their leader and fought desperately. The conduct of the Native Officers and Men was admirable, as also was that of Assistant Surgeon Currie, who accompanied Captain Mackenzie, and whose care of the wounded afterwards was unremitting. Captain Evans was with me the whole time, and I am much indebted to him for the valuable information his local knowledge enabled him to afford.

I reached Oonao on my return at 5-15 P. M., yesterday, and the Force marched into Cawnpore morning.

I have the honor to be,

(Signed) J. INGLIS, Major-General, Comdg. Field Force.

Camp Azimgurh, 22nd March 1858.

SIR.—I have the honor to report for the information of His Excellency the Commander in-Chief, that in consequence of a communication received from R. Davies, Esquire, Magistrate of Azimgurh, I marched from Camp Koelsa at about 3 A. M., on the 21st Instant, and proceeded to Atrawlia, so as to arrive at the latter place at day light, with detail as per margin.

Information had been received that a considerable body of Mutineers were in the neighbourhood of Atrawlia. I found them posted in several topes of mangoe trees, and advanced with skirmishers thrown out in front, the Guns being supported by a party of H. M.'s 37th Regiment and the Madras Light Cavalry on the flanks under the Command of Colonel Cumberlege.

I followed them for some distance as they retired, when shortly afterwards they were driven into the open country. The Cavalry were then enabled to act, and cut up a few of the Rebels but the ground was so marshy and unsound for the Horses, that the pursuit could not be continued. Lieutenant Welsh, however, opened fire with a 24-Pounder Howitzer, and sending a shell right in the midst of them, completed the discomfiture of the Rebels, who quickly dispersed amongst the neighbouring trees. After this, I continued my march to Lorkha, which place I reached without any further occurrence, and set the village on fire. Having effected the object for which I marched from Koelsa, I quietly marched back to Atrawlia. The men were halted in the neighbourhood of this village in a tope of trees, and breakfast was being prepared by the cooks, when news was brought in suddenly that the Rebels were advancing in great force. I proceeded with some skirmishers to ascertain their strength and position, and found them strongly posted behind a mud wall in the midst of topes of trees and sugar-cane. I then sent back orders to the Troops to advance ; but the number of the Rebels increased so fast, and they covered such a large space of ground, that both my flanks were threatened. Accordingly I took up my position on a rising piece of ground slightly in rear. The Rebels attempted to turn my left flank, and I withdrew into and through the village of Atrawlia at about 12 P. M., and moved slowly on Koelsa, my flanks and rear being covered by the Cavalry. The Rebels, though they followed and fired at a distance, the whole way, never once inflicted the slightest damage. Finding on my arrival at Koelsa that the Camp was threatened, and that the whole population in the district was disaffected, I despatched a Squadron of Cavalry, supported by a small Infantry Picquet, to watch the Rebels. They were quickly charged by the Cavalry and suffered a heavy loss, twenty-one dead bodies being counted on the Field besides wounded. Information was, however, received that a large body of Rebels, estimated at some 5,000, were advancing on the Camp. This created such a panic amongst the Camp-followers, that many of the hackery drivers left their carts, and all the Company's cooks ran away. Under those circumstances, and taking into consideration the position of my Camp, which was very untenable in case of a night attack, and that no supplies, or liquor of any kind whatever could be obtained for the men, I judged it expedient to retire upon Azimgurh, which I reached safely early this morning. In making this movement, I regret to say that, in consequence of many of the hackery drivers having run away, as I previously stated, I was compelled to leave a few tents and some baggage behind.

The loss of the Rebels, I judge, must have been some seventy men killed. The casualties on our side were very trifling ; two Gunners grazed by bullets, one Trooper Madras Cavalry severely wounded, and one Sowar mortally, since dead.

Nothing could exceed the steadiness of the Troops under my Command, and I must particularly mention the able assistance of Colonel Cumberlege of the 4th Madras Light Cavalry, Commanding, of Captain Pelly, Commanding Detachment H. M.'s 37th Regiment, Lieutenant Welsh, Bengal Artillery, for precision in firing, and moving his Guns in bad ground. The men marched nearly forty-eight miles by night, and did not get a single shot or a single blow over when in action, and upon very heavy rain, did not get a single drop of rain.

Lieutenant R. L. Liddell, 23rd Bengal Native Infantry, who accompanied me, displayed great zeal and activity in his duty.

The Rebels consisted of a large number of Sepoys, and on the bodies of the slain were found Swords and other Arms.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

No. 84 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General of India is pleased to publish for general information, the following Despatch from Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B., Commanding Central India Field Force, reporting his operations against the Fort of Garacota, on the 10th and 11th February 1858.

(Signed) R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel.

Secy. to the Govt. of India, Milly. Dept., with the Governor General.

FROM MAJOR-GENL. SIR HUGH ROSE, K. C. B. Comdg. Central India Field Force.
TO MAJOR-GENL. MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff.

Lucknow, Camp Comeri, the 9th March 1858.

SIR—I have the honor to state to you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, as follows:—

The Rebels of the Bundelcund, Shaghur, Saugor, and Nerbudda Districts, having obtained ascendancy in these Districts, had, before my Force arrived at Rathghur, invested Saugor from all sides, except one; having occupied the Fort of Rathghur, to its West, the fortified Camp of Nowreowlee, and the Fort of Koraye, to its North-East, the Fort of Sanoda and Garacota, to its East.

The Fort of Rehle, to the South-East, was gallantly held by Lieutenant Dickens, Commanding a Detachment of the 31st Bengal Native Infantry. The only road which was open, from Saugor, was the one leading to Nursingpore, and this road was frequented by Rebels, and only travelled by escorts.

The advance of the 2nd Brigade Central India Field Force, to Saugor, and its previous operations had relieved Saugor from any thing like investment, and opened its communications with the West and the North, so that I was enabled to communicate from Saugor, through Koraye, with Major Orr, Commanding the Advanced Guard of my 1st Brigade at Goonah, on the Mhow and Agra Grand Trunk Road; and single Officers and Stores had arrived unmolested at Saugor, from Mhow and Bombay, by the Schore, and Bhopal Road, both of which lines of communications I had opened with my two Brigades, in obedience to my instructions.

It now remained for my Second Brigade to open communications from Saugor towards the East, and to cut through the line which the Rebels had drawn from Dottiah and Jhansi, to the Nerbudda. As the best means of doing so, I determined to attack the Fort of Garacota.

Sir Robert Hamilton, Major Western, Deputy Commissioner of the Saugor District, and myself were of opinion that it would be dangerous for Saugor to leave in the hands of the Rebels so important a stronghold on its right flank, more especially as it was garrisoned by Sepoys, of the 52nd and other Regiments, and the consequences and the moral effect would have been bad, if I had advanced against the Rebels to the North, with Garacota unsubdued in my rear.

Having, the day after my arrival at Saugor, detached Sappers and Miners under Lieutenant Prendergast, to destroy, as much as possible, the works of Nowreowlee, twelve miles from Saugor, I sent Captain Hare, with his Detachments of all arms of the Hyderabad Contingent, to take the little Fort of Sanoda, where the Rebels had stores of Supplies; and directed him, at the same time to render the ford of the River Beas practicable for the Siege Artillery for the operations against Garacota.

On hearing of Captain Hare's approach, the Rebels fled from Sanoda, which they had been repairing. He found large supplies of Grain. He destroyed the front face, and restored a good deal of plunder to the villagers, who complained bitterly that the Rebels had robbed them of everything, and inflicted the greatest cruelties on them, to force them to give up their property; their nakedness and the barbarous mutilations of the persons of several of them attested the truth of what they said. However, Captain Hare is of opinion, that such is the anarchy caused by rebellion in this part of the country, that many of the plundered villagers, reduced to ruin, have become Plunderers and Rebels themselves.

Knowing the good effect, which rapid operations have on the Enemy, and the value of the cool weather for the extensive operations which I had before me, I made the three marches from Saugor to Garacota in two days, and encamped on the 10th February, near the village of Bussaree, which is close to Garacota: a Detachment of 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry, well conducted by Lieutenant Dick, having cut up a picket of 16 Rebels, which, I had information, was posted at a village two miles from Garacota.

Garacota is strong in every way. It is situated between two rivers, the "Giddaree" and the "Sonar," which may be said to act as ditches to it; it is surrounded, except on the East, by forest, jungle, and the towns of Garacota and Mahanuggur; its defences are so strong, that in 1818, a British Force of 11,000 Men, with 28 Siege Guns was unable to make a breach in them, and the besiegers, running short of ammunition, the garrison was allowed to evacuate the Fort with the honors of war.

The evening of my arrival before Garacota, I drove in, with some Guns of the Horse Artillery, and Captain Lightfoot's Battery, and skirmishers of the 3rd Europeans, the Enemy, who wished to prevent our occupation of the village of Bussaree; the 3rd Europeans, covered by Artillery, storming some houses still more in advance, and taking a ridge, close to the walls. During the night and next morning, the Sepoys, in numbers, attempted to re-take the position, but were immediately repulsed by Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, Commanding the Advanced Posts, and two 9-Pounders, under Captain Lightfoot, with which I had re-inforced him.

The next morning Lieutenant Colonel Liddell having reported to me that it would be desirable to take a hamlet, which had good views of and was near the North face of the Fort, I directed Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull to shell it, and Lieutenant Colonel Liddell to pass through some jungle and occupy the hamlet. The Mutineers came in numbers out of the Fort and an entrenched Camp to the South, to oppose the advance of the 3rd, their Buglers repeating the English skirmishing calls; but with the difference, that the 3rd went as rapidly forward as the Mutineers went to the rear, when the advance was sounded.

Lieutenant Dickens had written to me from Rehle, that when I attacked Garacota, he would advance from Rehle and take possession of the Paunch Ghat, a ford to the South of the Fort, from whence he could prevent the Rebels from escaping by the Dummoh Road to Shaghur, which would be their most probable line of escape. In order to communicate with this Officer, and would be their most probable line of investment, with him I made, with Brigadier Stewart, a complete reconnoissance of the whole of the country round Garacota. My guide assured me that Lieutenant Dickens could not hold the Paunch Ghat, because it was close to the defences of the Fort, and formed part of Garacota and Hardeenuggur, which the Enemy held. This made me the more anxious to reach Lieutenant Dickens and assist him. I therefore pushed on the reconnoissance through Hardeenuggur to the Paunch Ghat, where Lieutenant Dickens had not arrived. The Enemy had marked the ranges, and fired pretty accurately at the reconnoissance, but with no casualties. Skirmishers endeavoured to oppose my passage across the ford; but, with the 3rd Europeans and Irregular Cavalry, I drove them back, took their entrenchments on the opposite bank, and, crossing the second river returned to Camp, after thirteen hours' marching. The reconnoissance seized a noted Rebel, the Lumbardar of the village of Majiowa.

On my return, I found a letter from Lieutenant Dickens, stating that he had received subsequent information that Paunch Ghat could not be held, and had therefore not gone to it.

As the reconnoissance made the circuit of the Fort, I left Troops of all arms in position, investing the North-East, East, and South-East of the Fort; the Troops in Camp guarded the North and North-West. Having reckoned on the Rehle Detachment for the Southern investment, that part remained blank. On my return to Camp, I gave orders to Captain Hare to occupy, with his Detachment of all arms, the Paunch Ghat, which was at some distance; before he could arrive there, the Enemy had fled from the Fort by the Paunch Ghat and other outlets not watched in that direction.

However, I ought to add, that even if the Paunch Ghat had been occupied, it would have been quite impossible to have invested completely Garacota, with a force of my numbers, which, strictly speaking, was only sufficiently strong to guard its Camp, Field, and Siege Artillery.

My force was even more than usually weak; as in order to protect Saugor in my absence, I had left there a Troop of H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, and two Companies of the 24th Regiment. I had also sent the 31st and 42nd B. N. I. to Koraye to guard Saugor from the possibility of an attack from the North.

Every one on going round the Fort was surprised how the Rebels could have abandoned so rapidly a place of such strength, the thickness of the walls varying from fifteen to twenty-four feet.

Every thing gave evidence of a sudden panic; the Rebels had only half kneaded their cakes, and they left their Guns in the entrenched Camp, without attempting to carry them off. Their rapid abandonment of the Fort was the more remarkable, because the immense supplies, the Native Mint found in the Fort, and other circumstances, induced the belief that the Rebels intended to make Garacota the seat of their Central Government; the only money now current in Garacota are the 13 anna Rupees, coined in this Mint.

During the reconnoissance, Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull fired with the 8-inch Howitzer at a Gun, in the North face of the Fort, which was annoying the Troops in the advanced posts; the first shot of the Howitzer blew in the embrasure, dismounted the Gun, and blew off the head of the Sepoy in a red jacket, with an English Medal, and two Clasps, who served it. I have no doubt that this good shot, one of the many good shots made under fire by Lieutenant Strutt, B. A., whom I beg to recommend to your Excellency as a promising Artillery Officer, made the Sepoys reflect, that many such casualties might thin their numbers during the siege; but I think that the fall of Rathghur, and preparations for an investment, also intimidated them. I have observed that nothing alarms the Rebels more than a move to cut off their retreat.

I have the honor to enclose a list of Artillery found in the Fort, and of Casualties, which I am happy to say are light.

I sent off, immediately Captain Hare, with half a Troop of Horse Artillery; a Troop of H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, under Captain Need, and a Troop of the Hyderabad Cavalry, in pursuit of the Rebels by a route, which, from information I had received, I thought would enable him to cut into their line of retreat. They had, as I supposed, made a round to the South, and then turned Northwards towards Shaghur.

Captain Hare came up with the rear of the Rebels, as they had just crossed the river Beas, at the village of Bear.

The river was not practicable for Guns; Captain Hare therefore sent the Troop of H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, under Captain Need, and the Hyderabad Cavalry, across the river, after the enemy; they cut up 70 or 100 of them, of whom the greater part were Mutineers of the 52nd and other Native Regiments. They had all abundance of ammunition and copper caps. Captain Hare speaks highly of the conduct on this occasion of Captain Need and his Troop. Captain Hare describes him "as a good and dashing Officer;" he killed with his own hand, five of the Rebels, of whom three were Sepoys, and pursued with his gallant Troop the Rebels till dark. I beg to recommend Captain Need to your Excellency, as well as Captain Hare for his intelligence and activity in pursuing and coming up with the Rebels.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

HUGH ROSE, Major-General, Comdg. Central India Field Force.

Sir,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward copy of a letter, dated the 7th Instant, No. 337, from Brigadier T. Seaton, C. B., Commanding the Futtehghur District, reporting his successful attack on a body of Rebels at the village of Khankhur.

2. In submitting this Report to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, I am to request you will express His Excellency's cordial approval of the manner in which this service was conducted by the Brigadier, and his approbation of the patience and determination of the Troops as described by the Brigadier.

No. 337.

FROM BRIGADIER T. SEATON, C. B., Comdg. Futtehghur District,

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Head Quarters Dated Futtehghur, the 7th April 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to report for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that as the Rebels at Soorajpore Ghaut near Kumpil, were greatly increasing in numbers, and were beginning to send parties of Horsemen across the Ganges to plunder the country and collect revenue, and as I had no sufficient Cavalry to oppose them, I deemed it best, under all circumstances, to make a sudden move across the river on their main body posted near Bangown and its vicinity.

2. Accordingly last night, I moved out with the Troops at my disposal, as per margin, and taking with me a day's provisions and ammunition only, and came upon the Enemy posted at the village of Khankhur, and in groves of trees on the right and left. I formed Her Majesty's 82nd into line with loosened files, and the 7th Punjaub Infantry in a second line, and with the Cavalry on my left flank, and the Artillery on my right front, I advanced against the Enemy's position.

3. The Rebel Cavalry showed strongly on my right and left; Major Smith opened with his Guns on the Cavalry on the right, and a few rounds drove them back.

4. In the meantime the large body on the left advanced towards me, and got into the dry bed of a nullah about 700 yards off. As we could see their heads, I made the 82nd open fire on them, and in ten minutes, they also retreated as hard as they could. Our Artillery now commenced firing on the Enemy's Guns on our left; they replied feebly, and the shot went mostly over our heads. I steadily advanced against the village, the Rebels going off in numbers as we approached, and on getting up to it, the Rebels fled precipitately, abandoning 1 Gun, a "10-Pounder."

5. There were a good many Rebels in and about the village, and in rear of it; Lieutenant-Colonel Hale therefore, at my desire, brought the 82nd round, and destroyed every one we could find.

6. After gaining the village, I sent the Cavalry in pursuit; they returned in about an hour, having killed a number of the fugitives, and captured several standards, together with a small Gun, "a zumbooruk."

7. I now moved into the groves of trees lately occupied by the Enemy, planted videttes all round, and bivouacked until the afternoon; and at ½ past 3 o'clock commenced my homeward march. I fully expected that during the day the Enemy, collecting their forces from the villages

SIR,—I HAVE the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose copy of a letter, dated 15th Ultimo No. 2 A, from Brigadier St. G. D. Showers, C. B., Commanding Agra and Muttra District, reporting his relief of the village of Pinahut and defeat of Rebels in the ravines of the Chumbul, which I am to beg you will submit to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.
The Order of Merit has been bestowed on Sepoy Kasee Sing, 72nd Native Infantry, for gallant conduct.

2. His Excellency desires me to state that under the provisions of Government General Order No. 698, of 19th May 1857, he has directed the bestowal of the 3rd Class Order of Merit on Sepoy Kasee Sing, of the 72nd Regiment Native Infantry, for his gallant conduct in this affair.

No. A 2.

FROM BRIGADIER ST. G. D. SHOWERS, C. B., Comdg. Agra and Muttra District.
TO THE DEPUTY ASSISTANT ADJT. GENL., Meerut Division.
Camp Jeorah, 15th March 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Meerut Division, that in conformity with the arrangements reported in my letter A 1, of the 11th Instant, I moved out with the column noted in the margin, on the night of the 11th Instant. I reached Pinahut, on the 13th, just in time as it appears, to prevent the village from being plundered by the Rebels. They had collected there in force two days before, but on hearing of the arrival of my Force at Futtchbad, they decamped.

2. The villages inhabited by these Rebels are situated within, and bordering on the extensive and deep ravines of the River Chumbul, which are formed by the combined action of the drainage of the country on the one side, and by the eddies of the river on the other. They extend to the depth of 120 feet and upwards. There are no direct tracts through them. The sides of the ravines are more than usually rugged and irregular, and the ascent and descent among them is difficult, even to the inhabitants. The Rebels, feeling themselves secure in such a position, had issued out and plundered the villages which were loyal and peaceably disposed.

3. On reaching Pinahut, it was considered desirable that these Rebel villages should be destroyed. There were no roads to them, and it was necessary to move across the country, over ploughed and cultivated fields; but Mr. Phillips, the Magistrate, having supplied me with of Mungla and Patm, distant about two or three miles, would have attacked me, but their consternation at my unexpected attack was so great, that they did not, though for some hours their Horsemen continued to hover about when they finally disappeared in the direction of Ala Gunge.

8. The numbers of the Enemy are estimated at 800 Horse, amongst them 100 of the late Oude Military Police Horsemen, and 1,800 Infantry, including some Sepoys of the 41st and 10th Native Infantry, and Gwalior Contingent. They left as trophies in our hands the 10-Pounder Gun (native manufacture) already mentioned, and 2 small Guns, several standards, some tents, a heap of papers, the possession of which will afford much useful information, and a large quantity of ammunition, which, for want of sufficient draft cattle, I destroyed.

9. The great Enemies we had to encounter, were the long march out and home, full forty miles, the great heat of the weather and scarcity of water, for all along the road, the wells were few and the water foul: but the patience and determination of the Troops was worthy of all praise, and enabled me to strike a smart blow (for the loss of the Enemy was upward of 250 killed) and bring to a successful termination an operation that will, I trust, have the effect of showing them, that if they are not safe in their present position between two rivers, it would be dangerous for them to cross to our side. As soon as I learn the effects of this punishment, I will report the result to His Excellency.

10. My best thanks are due to all the Troops engaged, Officers and Men, and I trust that His Excellency will appreciate their services. The Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments were—

- Brevet-Major C. H. Smith, Royal Artillery, Commanding Artillery.
- Lieutenant-Colonel E. B. Hale, Commanding Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment.
- Captain E. L. Stafford, Commanding 7th Punjab Infantry.
- Lieutenant M. R. St. John, Commanding Detachment Alexander's Horse.
- Lieutenant C. Dekantow, Commanding Futtchgurh Organized Police Battalion.
- My Staff Captain W. H. Hawes, Major of Brigade.
- Lieutenant W. Myne, Deputy Assistant Commissary General.
- Lieutenant W. C. Ryves, (Second in Command Futtchgurh Levy), Orderly Officer.

11. Messrs Vansittart and Power, Civil Service, and Captain Bradford, Assistant Commissioner, accompanied the Troops to render any assistance they could, and I feel very greatly obliged to them. I must not omit to mention Deputy Magistrate Mirza Abbas Beg, who also accompanied me, and whose services in getting intelligence have been most invaluable ever since I came here. He is a most valuable servant of Government.

12. On my return to Futtchgurh I learnt that the Rebel gangs at Ala Gunge and Jerahpore, Mow, opposite to Bichpooriyah Ghaut, had broken up their bridge-of-boats at the first named place. I am just informed, however, now that our Force has returned, that they are rebuilding the same, most probably to enable the beaten Troops to passover the Ramgunga.

13. Enclosed I have the honor to attach a Nominal Roll of the European Officers and Men killed and wounded and a general Casualty Return of the Force which accompanied me.

I have &c.,

60 bidders to cut through any obstructions I might meet, we succeeded in reaching our present encampment with comparatively little difficulty. On coming up to the first village Bugrenha, I observed a stream of men behind it, with cattle, moving deeper into the ravines, on which I ordered up 100 Rank and File of Her Majesty's 8th (the King's) Regiment, and 100 of the Sikhs, and threw them into the ravines in pursuit. The column was under the Command of Major Hennessey, Commanding the Agra Police, and the rapidity with which he executed the movement, brought him up with the Rebels before the whole had time to cross the Chumbul. He succeeded in killing about 100 of them, among whom was Kuroora Singh, the owner of several villages, and a notorious Rebel.

4. After detaching Major Hennessey's Force, I moved on with the main body towards Jeorah, where I was led to suppose I should meet with considerable opposition. In advancing with 25 Sowars to the right, to attack it from that direction, I was met by a flank fire from some Matchlockmen in front of the ravines. These were supported by about a hundred Men in their rear, who had taken post at a Hindoo Temple, which it seemed they intended to defend. Waiting till the main body reached the opposite flank, I galloped into the village, which I now found evacuated. I then directed the Guns to be moved forward as far as the ravines admitted, and some shell to be thrown into the Temple. This dispersed the Men who had assembled there, when I entered the ravines with another column. We first came on the village of Khylee, which was deserted as we approached. In passing further into the ravines, the column encountered but little opposition. We met occasionally with parties who had settled themselves in the recesses, where they evidently expected they would remain unmolested, as they had brought out their bedding, clothing, food, &c., with their women and children.

5. The attack through these ravines was very laborious, on account of the necessity of keeping the top of the hills crowned by our Skirmishers, but it was of importance to make these Rebels feel that there are no positions which are inaccessible to the energy of British Troops.

6. It is impossible to estimate the strength of the Enemy, as they never showed themselves together, but they must have lost about 160 killed, our own loss was one Jemadar, of the Police Battalion, killed.

7. I cannot conclude this Despatch without reporting the gallant conduct of Kasse Singh, a Sepoy of the late 72nd Regiment Native Infantry, who, in a hand to hand encounter with the Rebel Chief Kuroora Singh, showed a dextrous use of the bayonet and musket against the sword. He parried four successive cuts, and then dashed his bayonet into his opponent. I beg to recommend the gallant conduct of this man, to the favorable consideration of the Major-General for promotion to a Naick.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 29th April 1858.

No. 668 of 1858.—The Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council directs the publication of the following Letter from Brigadier-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., in continuation of his report on the Cavalry operations, published in Government General Order, No. 315 of the 22d February 1858.

No. 54.

FROM BRIGADIER GENL. SIR J. H. GRANT, K. C. B., Commanding Cavalry Division.
TO THE DEPT. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY.

Dated Camp Lucknow Cantonments, the 8th March 1858.

SIR,—I beg to state for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that through inadvertence, I omitted to mention Lieutenant-Colonel W. N. Custance, 6th Dragoon Guards, in my report of the operations of the Cavalry Force during the present Campaign.

Lieutenant-Colonel Custance commanded a Wing of his Regiment throughout the whole of the operations before Delhi, and on the 14th September, the day of the assault, I gave him charge of the second line of Cavalry.

I regret very much my having omitted to mention the zealous support which I received from Colonel Custance during the arduous duties required of the Cavalry throughout the siege, and my approval of the judicious manner in which he carried out my orders on the day of the assault, on which occasion he was attended by Major Richardson, 3d Light Cavalry, and Lieutenant G. S. Davies, 6th Dragoon Guards, both most zealous and gallant Officers.

I have, &c.,

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 10th May 1858.

No. 130 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to direct the publication of the following Letter, from Brigadier F. Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force^e No. 260, dated 1st May 1858, forwarding a Report from Major Cox, Commanding Left Wing Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, of an action with the Rebels at Nuggur, on the 29th Ultimo:—

No. 260.

FROM F. ROWCROFT, Brigadier, Comdg. Sarun Field Force.

TO COL. BIRCH, C. B., Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept.,

with the Govr. Genl., Allahabad.

Camp Captaingunge, Goruckpore District, the 1st May 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to forward to you, for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, the accompanying Report, dated 30th April, from Major Cox, Commanding Left Wing Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, reporting to me the complete success of the Detachment I sent out under his Command, on the 29th Ultimo, to dislodge and disperse about 1,000 Sepoys and other Rebels who had assembled at Nuggur, six or seven miles South-East from Camp, but without Guns, and about the same distance from Bustee. It was necessary this should be done without delay, as from the reports received by the Commissioner, Mr. Wingfield, there was great probability of the Rebels at Nuggur being joined by a considerable force, with Guns, from Tanda. We learnt yesterday morning, that this was intended, and that the Rebels from Tanda were to have joined those at Nuggur on the night of the 29th April. A Karinda or Agent of the Nuggur Rajah, was at the head of the body of Rebels at Nuggur.

2. The two silk colors captured by the Sikhs are partly native, but the pike heads and tassals appear to be Regimental. One Native color was taken by the Men of the Naval Brigade, and another by Deputy Magistrate, Shekh Kairoodeen, who shot the Rebel with his pistol, who was carrying it away. A quantity of powder and ammunition and a number of ponies, and other property were captured. About 100 of the Enemy were killed and wounded. I am very glad to say we have only three Men wounded.

3. The expedition has been very ably and most successfully carried out by Major Cox, Commanding the Detachment, and the Officers and Men of all arms behaved admirably, and with great zeal and gallantry.

4. The Commissioner, Mr. Wingfield, accompanied the Detachment, and afforded Major Cox valuable assistance.

5. I beg to recommend all engaged to the most favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, Viscount Canning.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

F. ROWCROFT, Brigadier, Comdg. Sarun Field Force.

FROM MAJOR J. W. COX, 13th Light Infantry.

TO BRIGADIER ROWCROFT, Comdg. Field Force.

Camp Captaingunge, 30th April 1858.

SIR,—AUTHENTIC information having yesterday morning been received, that a body of the Left Wing II. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, 5 Officers and 151 men, under Command of Captain Kerr, 13th Light Infantry.

"Pearl" Naval Brigade, 5 Officers and 91 Men, with 2 12-Pr. Howitzers and 1 24-Pr. Rocket, under Lieut. Grant, R. N.

Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, 9 Officers and 58 Men, under Command of Captain Jenkins, B. Y. C.

Gorucknatt Regiment of Gen. Huz. 11 Officers and 281 Men, in charge of Captain Barclay, 63th Regiment F. I.

Seikhs of the Bengal Police Battalion, 1 Officer and 16 Men, under Lieut. Burton, H. E. I. Co.'s Service.

Enemy, about 1,000 strong (half of them being Sepoys,) were posted at and about the Town of Nuggur, seven miles from our Camp; I have the honor to report, that in compliance with your orders, I started to dislodge them at 1 p. m. with a Force as per margin.

The intelligence procured from villagers on the road, corroborated our information both as to the numbers and position of the Enemy; and on approaching, we found them in occupation of the Town, and partially ruined Fort of Nuggur, which is situated at the extremity of a dense bamboo jungle, about two miles in length, the jungle being bordered by a large lake with swampy ground about it; on the further extremity of the Town, there are thick groves of trees, which as well as the bamboo jungle, were occupied by the Enemy.

By making a slight detour, we kept the jungle about half a mile on our right as we advanced, covered by a flanking party of the 13th and the Seikhs who skirmished with the Enemy, and kept them back until the Column came opposite the Town and Fort. I then halted, and wheeled into line to the right, while I directed the two Guns and Rocket to take up a position on a slight rise of ground 500 yards from the Town, and sent the Cavalry round beyond the groves, to intercept any Force which might escape in that direction.

The Guns and Rocket under Lieutenant Grant, Royal Navy, then opened, with precision and effect, and after about 40 Shells and Rockets had been thrown, the Enemy's fire began to slacken; I then sent orders for the Guns to cease firing, directed Captain Kerr's Company of the 13th and the Seikhs to clear the groves beyond the Town, wheel to their right and enter from that side, while the remainder of the Naval Column gallantly led by Lieutenant Pym, R. M., Light Infantry, and the Goorkhas by Captain Barclay having arrived within 100 yards, we made a simultaneous advance on the Town and Fort which was completely successful; the Enemy were driven through both Town and Fort, some of them being killed in houses which they ineffectually attempted to defend, and were pursued for a considerable distance into the swamps and jungle, leaving 40 or 50 dead on the field.

As soon as we had got possession of the Town, I sent orders for the Cavalry to pass round to the rear, and endeavour to intercept the Enemy in their retreat; this was promptly done by Captain Jenkins, but the extremely unfavorable nature of the ground, prevented him from cutting off many of the fugitives.

Four standards were captured during the day, two of them being handsome silk colors, we also found a quantity of powder and ammunition, and a large number of baggage animals, with other property.

The conduct of the whole of the Troops was excellent, and they were ably and gallantly led by their respective Commanding Officers.

Mr. Wingfield, (the Civil Commissioner,) accompanied me during the action, and I feel much indebted for the valuable and accurate information he afforded me; he was also good enough to convey my orders to the Cavalry, and guide them to the position I wished them to take up. Lieutenant Liet, 13th Light Infantry, acted as Staff Officer on the occasion, to my entire satisfaction.

I beg to enclose a Return of Casualties which I am glad to say, are not of a serious nature.

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant.

J. W. COX, Major, 13th Light Infantry.

No. 131 of 1858.—In publishing the accompanying Despatches regarding the pursuit of the Insurgents under Koer Sing, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General desires to record his thanks to Brigadier-General Sir E. Lugard, K. C. B., for the judgment and energy with which his operations have been conducted; to Brigadier Douglas, C. B., for the very able and active manner in which he carried on the pursuit of the Rebels; and to the Officers named in the Despatches; and generally to the whole Force employed, for the courage, endurance, and gallantry shown by them during these operations.

Mr. Davies, C. S., Collector of Azimgurh, is also entitled to the acknowledgements of the Governor General for the valuable services rendered by him during these operations.

FROM THE DEPY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY,

TO THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA, Mily. Dept. with the Govr. Genl.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward for submission to Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of a Despatch from Brigadier-General Sir E. Lugard, K. C. B., Commanding Azimgurh Field Force, dated 25th ultimo, enclosing report from Brigadier J. Douglas, C. B., of his pursuit of Koer Sing to the banks of the Ganges.

2. The vigour and closeness of this pursuit, are considered by His Excellency, to reflect the highest credit upon the Brigadier, and upon the Troops under his Command.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

HEAD QUARTERS CAMP, Furreedpore, 4th May 1858.

FROM BRIGADIER-GENL. SIR E. LUGARD, K. C. B., Comg. Azimgurh Field Force.

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,

Camp Mhow, 25th April 1858.

SIR,—IN my Report of the 16th Instant, I had the honor to acquaint you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief that in consequence of the Rebels under Koer Sing having taken up a strong position at "Azimgurh," I had reinforced the pursuing Column, and placed the whole under the Command of Brigadier Douglas, C. B.

2. This Force then consisted of the details as per margin, which equipped as lightly as my means permitted, I deemed quite sufficient to accomplish the object in view.

3 Guns E. Troop, Royal Horse Artillery.
4 Guns Major Cotter's Battery.
2 5½-inch Mortars.
1 Squadron Military Train.
2 Squadrons Seikh Cavalry.
1 Wing 37th Foot.
84th Regiment.
Detachment Punjaub Sappers.

3. The remainder of the Field Force, including the heavy Guns, Park, &c., I retained under my immediate Command in Camp at Azimgurh, which place I considered it was necessary to hold strongly for the present, and to remain there myself, as a strong body of Rebels under the Rajahs of Nuhurpoor and Naneejor (who formed a portion of Koer Sing's Force before Azimgurh,) had gone in a northerly direction towards Oude; scattered portions also of Gholam Hossein's force, which I had dispersed at Tigra, were known to be near Sindah; and other parties of Rebels were reported to be collecting in the vicinity of Mundoree and Koelser, whilst Benares had been denuded of Troops to assist in the operations against Koer Sing. Thus the central situation of Azimgurh enabled me to watch the proceedings of the Rebels north of it, to cover Benares and Ghazeepore, and to direct and control the combined movements in pursuit of Koer Sing.

4. At day-break on the 17th Instant, Brigadier Douglas, in obedience to my instructions attacked the Rebels near Azimgurh, drove them from their position with much slaughter, and followed them to Ghosee, whence they fled to Nugra, and thence to Secunderpore, closely pursued by the Brigadier.

5. On reaching Secunderpore on the 19th, it was found that the Rebels had proceeded but a few hours, with the intention of crossing Gogra, as soon as he possibly could, the Brigadier followed, and at day-break of the 20th instant, came up with them at "Muneer Khass," and taking them by surprise, killed and wounded a great many, captured a brass 9-pounder Gun, complete with limber, horses, &c., two ammunition waggons, several elephants, horses and bullocks, with 20 carts laden with stores, harness, &c., and dispersed the main body, the bulk of which fled towards Bulliah and Beyreah.

6. Nineteen elephants were separated from the Rebel Force during this attack, and making their way to Ghazeepore, were handed over to the Magistrate there by the Native in charge.

2 Guns 6-Pounder.
2 Battery Guns.
50 Men 2nd Dragoon Guards.
180 " 4th Madras Cavalry.

300 Men Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry.
100 " 10th and 97th Foot.
100 " Madras Rifles.

7. Colonel Cumberlege who had been posted at Mhow to cover Ghazeepore, and co-operate with the pursuing Force, was duly warned and directed to move towards Bulliah, and endeavour to intercept the fugitives.

8. No time was lost by Brigadier Douglas in renewing the pursuit, but on reaching Shepore on the 21st it was found that Koer Sing had effected the passage of the river in boats, which had been prepared by his adherents, and were in readiness for him! The other 9-Pounder brass Gun which Koer Sing was known to have here, fell into our hands, together with several elephants, and much ammunition.

9. A party of Rebels is reported to have crossed, near Bulliah but I have not yet learnt what steps were taken to intercept them by Colonel Cumbeilge, who was placed there for that purpose.

10. Having left a sufficient force in Azimghurh, I am now en route with provisions to effect a junction with my scattered Troops who have been directed to meet me, when I shall be in a position to operate as may be necessary, against any bands of Rebels, either of Koer Sing's Force, who unable to cross, may still remain in the District, or against those to the northward of Azimghurh, who may again venture to collect in strength.

11. I regret extremely that, after the very great exertions which have been made to capture Koer Sing, he should have evaded our pursuit; he returns however to his own district a fugitive, hunted and nearly worn out with fatigue, and dispirited by the loss of nearly all his warlike munition.

12. Since the Rebels quitted Azimghurh, we have deprived them of five Guns (two of which belonged to the Government,) about 30 elephants, all their ammunition, and most of their stores and plunder; a large number of the Rebel Sepoys have been killed, and every report agrees that the remainder are much dispirited.

13. I beg you will do me the favor to bring to the especial notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the very extraordinary exertions made by Brigadier Douglas, and the Troops under his Command, and the judgment and entering energy with which this Officer has conducted the pursuit. I consider that all has been done; that it was possible for a military force to do under the circumstances; and that but for the unforeseen event of boats being in readiness on the river, the whole of the Rebels must have been captured or annihilated. Brigadier Douglas was just in time to fire a few rounds from his Guns at the rearmost boats, and sink one of them.

14. Much credit is also due to Mr. Davies, Civil Service, Magistrate of Azimghurh, who accompanied the Brigadier, and aided him with his local knowledge, and the correct intelligence of the movements of the Rebels.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) EDWARD LUGARD, Brigdr.-Genl., Comdg. Azimghurh Field Force.

P. S.—Since writing this, I have received from Brigadier Douglas, a more full and connected description than his daily reports; copy of this together with Returns of Casualties and captured ordnance, stores, &c., I beg to enclose.

FROM BRIGADIER JOHN DOUGLAS, C. B., Comdg. Brigade of the Azimghurh Field Force.
TO BRIGDR.-GENERAL SIR E. LUGARD, K. C. B., Comdg. Azimghurh Field Force.

Camp Sheopoor Ghaut, 22d April 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to forward for the information of Brigadier General Sir E. Lugard, K. C. B., a detailed account of the operations of the Force under my Command, from the 17th to the 21st April inclusive, the object being to press the Rebels as much as possible, and to force them to give up their Guns.

On the 17th, according to instructions, I marched at 3 A. M. from Nuthoopoor, with a Force as per margin, and found the Enemy strongly posted at Nughai near Azimutghurh; I sent the Cavalry and Horse Artillery of the Advanced Guard through the village by the road, the Infantry cutting across the fields, the Guns became immediately engaged, but the Enemy stood well behind their breast works. At the edges of tops of trees, it was now certain that a large Force was opposed to us with Artillery, as they came round on almost every side and made several attempts to charge the Guns. I threw part of the 37th, 84th, and the Company of Madras Rifles, into skirmishing order with supports, who rapidly advanced under a very heavy fire, carried the Enemy's positions, and drove them off; they retired in good order from top to top, followed the Infantry, a number were bayoneted in their trenches, and a color was taken by the 37th. Whilst the Infantry were clearing our front, the Enemy appeared in great force on our left, and were kept in check by the Horse Artillery and Major Cotter's Battery, supported by the Cavalry, who made several charges. I followed the Enemy for some distance, and a number were cut up; they were very determined, and evidently trained Soldiers: in their retreat they divided into two bodies, and I halted for some time, till I could ascertain which was the main body; I then started in pursuit along the lower Ghoosee road passing through Chuprah and Etawah, at which latter place the Enemy seemed to have united; our force bivouacked at Ghoosee, within four miles of the Enemy, after a march of twenty miles; from information afterwards received, the Enemy on our arrival, moved six miles further on.

On the 18th, we marched to within three miles of Mygra, a distance of about twenty-four miles, the Cavalry and Horse Artillery going on in advance, and following the Enemy till they took up their position in the town of Nagra: during the evening, information was received, that the Enemy hearing of our approach, had rapidly left the town, but the spies could not inform us which road they had taken, about midnight we heard that the Enemy had retired towards Secunderpoor, and intended to cross the Gogra there: at 2 A. M. on the 19th, we followed in pursuit, and bivouacked four miles beyond Secunderpoor, and within four miles of the Enemy at Munnuhur in the Ghazeepoor District: during this long march we picked up several of the Enemy's stragglers: we here heard that the Enemy were in much distress by the rapid pursuit, not having had time during the last two days either to cook or sleep. On the 20th, we started so as to arrive at Munnuhur, at daylight and found the Enemy posted in some very thick woods to the right of the village. I ordered a few rounds of grape to be fired, and then advanced part of the 37th and 84th, and Madras Rifles, in skirmishing order through the wood, the Cavalry and Horse and Madras Artillery moving round by the right. The Enemy were quickly driven from their position, broken and pursued for six miles, by the Cavalry and Artillery; the Horse Artillery and two of Major Cotter's Guns, supported by the greater portion of the Military Train, proceeding along the Bank of the Gogra, where a few of the Enemy crossed in boats, but under a heavy fire. Two of Major Cotter's Guns with a small portion of the Military Train, and the 3rd Seikh Cavalry, followed to the right in pursuit of a large body of about 1,500; unfortunately one of the Guns broke down in consequence of the rough nature of the ground, and they were obliged to be withdrawn, the Seikhs having continued the pursuit for several miles, cutting up a great number, and dispersing the remainder.

Captain Pearse, Commanding the Seikh Cavalry, desires particularly to mention the gallant conduct of Sepoy No. 1772, Furradun, Madras Rifles, who kept up with the Cavalry, killing several of the Enemy. In the hasty retreat of the Enemy, they abandoned a brass 9-Pounder Gun belonging to the Honorable East India Company's Service, complete in every respect, and several limbers and waggons, and immense quantity of ammunition and a large quantity of treasure, a number of bullocks and hackeries, and four elephants, and the Regimental Colors of the 28th Bengal Native Infantry were found wrapped round the body of a Subadar who was shot. The Enemy on this occasion were completely dispersed. Having collected my Force, I proceeded to Bansdeh, where the roads diverge to Bulliah and Beyreah, and then halted till I could ascertain which road the Rebels had taken. Koer Sing was reported first to have gone to a village named Rajagaon, and afterwards to Taintwar, where the dispersed Rebels had their rendezvous. I proceeded in that direction, and found several bodies of the Enemy on my left, and I also understood that they were holding the village; it being nearly dark and the country thickly wooded. I did not consider it advisable to advance further, and bivouacked within two miles of Taintwar. During this night no spies came in, we were under arms at 2 A. M., on the 21st; but at this time a spy came in, saying, that the Enemy had collected all their forces in a dry tank close to the village, and our reconnoitring party made the same statement, which prevented my moving off till daylight. On advancing, I found that the Enemy had moved off, and I am led to believe that they went at a very early hour. I immediately pushed the Cavalry and Horse Artillery on as quickly as possible to the ghaut, here, where it was reported the Enemy intended to cross the Ganges, but from all information I was led to believe, that they had no boats, and must ford on elephants in which case I should have been up in time to have prevented their crossing; the information however on this head proved false, as they were provided with boats, and the Cavalry and Horse Artillery arrived only in time to cut up about 200, and sink one of the last boats that crossed; on this march we took another Horse Artillery brass 9-Pounder Gun, belonging to the Honorable East India Company's Service, complete in every respect, and several elephants. I enclose a Return of the Killed and Wounded in the two actions, which must be considered very small, in comparison with that of the Enemy, which I believe could not have been less than one thousand Men. I believe the original number of the Enemy to have been between four and five thousand Men, nearly all Sepoys, a good many of them are still on this side of the river. I beg to bring to your notice, the admirable manner in which the Troops performed this rapid and arduous march of nearly 120 miles in five days, many hours in each day under a burning sun, and never under canvas. I beg to thank Colonel Riddell, Royal Artillery, for the assistance he rendered me during the action of the 17th, and whose orders were to return to Azimghurh; I have also to thank Major Cotter, Madras Artillery; Captain Lightfoot, Commanding the 84th Regiment; Captain Harrison, Commanding 37th Regiment; Captain Wyatt, Commanding Military Train; Captain Pearse, Commanding 3rd Seikh Cavalry, Captain Broome, Commanding Detachment Madras Rifles; Lieutenant Fulford, Commanding Punjab Sappers, for their able co-operation during the two actions: also Major Mitchell, Royal Horse Artillery, who was several times detached in Command of Cavalry and Artillery; also Lieutenants Jennings and Beadon, 3rd Seikh Cavalry, for the assistance they gave in reconnoitring and collecting information. I also beg most particularly to mention Captain Stevenson, 79th Highlanders, Major of Brigade, and Major Turner, Royal Artillery, who acted as Artillery Staff Officer, and who both rendered me valuable assistance. In conclusion, I beg to return my best acknowledgments to Mr. R. A. Davies, the Collector of Azimghurh, who accompanied me throughout the operations, and gave me the greatest assistance by his valuable information; he also carried orders for me during the actions, and behaved in the most gallant manner.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) JOHN DOUGLAS, Brigadier,
Commanding Brigade of the Azimghurh Field Force.

P. S.—It has just been reported by the Magistrate at Chuprah that Koer Sing is wounded in the thigh and arm.

No. 143 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General directs the publication of the two following Despatches from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, with the greatest satisfaction. It will be seen that the Hon'ble Court fully approve and support the recommendation in respect of Prize, which the Governor General in Council has made in favor of the Gallant troops composing the Field force by which Delhi was captured.

It will also be seen that in respect of batta, the grant of six months' batta which has been already awarded by the Governor General in Council, and beyond which the authority of the Government of India does not extend, has been increased by the Hon'ble Court to a grant of batta for twelve months, in favor of the Delhi Field Force and of the original Garrison of Lucknow.

The Hon'ble Court have further ordered a donation of six months' batta to be given to all those belonging to, or accompanying, the Force under Major-General Sir H. Havelock, which entered the Residency on the 25th of September last.

No. 84 of 1858.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

PARA 1. We have taken into our consideration, the communications made in your Military letters, dated on the 10th December 1857, and 3rd January 1858, relating to the property captured at Delhi; and announcing the grant to the troops composing the Field Force employed against that City, of a donation of six months' batta in recognition of their services.

2. We most cordially unite with you in expressing the highest appreciation of the claims of the troops comprising the Field Force, by which, as observed by you, "Delhi has been nobly wrested from the hands of the mutineers and rebels; and by whose gallantry, signal punishment has been inflicted on the insurgents there. The grant of six months' batta to all the troops engaged in the operations against that City, as a donation in recognition of their services, has our approval."

3. We concur in the views announced in your General Order of the 27th November 1857, on the question of claims on the part of the troops to have granted to them, as Prize, the property belonging to the State, and that belonging to private individuals, recovered from the mutineers. We also fully approve of your recommendation, that property taken by the troops, which is neither claimed on behalf of the State, nor claimed and identified by individuals who may establish their loyalty, should be considered to be Prize. We shall, accordingly, as soon as we are informed by you of the necessary particulars, make application to the Crown, in the usual form, praying a Royal Grant of the same as Prize.

4. We are further of opinion, that the Troops are entitled to a special grant on account of the value of the stores and other property recovered by them, on behalf of the State, and on behalf of private individuals, who may establish their loyalty and identify their property; and we have now to announce to you, that we have resolved to grant to the troops, on this account, an additional donation of six months' full batta.

5. We trust that no time will be lost in sending us full particulars of the Captures which we now propose to recognize as Booty of War.

6. The whole of the Despatches and Orders relating to these important operations, have been published in the London Gazette.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

No. 85 of 1858.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

PARA: 1. The whole of these documents have been published in the London Gazette. The perusal of them has excited throughout the British Dominions, and, we may add, throughout the civilized world, sentiments of enthusiastic admiration for the undaunted courage and the still higher qualities of indomitable resolution, fidelity and endurance of long continued danger, trial, and privation, displayed by the comparatively small body of troops and Volunteers, which so successfully defended the Residency; for the distinguished gallantry of the Forces under the late lamented Sir Henry Havelock, and the Commander-in-Chief, by which they were successively relieved; for the generous and soldier-like feeling which prompted Major-General Sir J. Outram, on joining Sir H. Havelock's Force, to abstain from assuming the position due to his superior rank, and to leave in the hands of that Officer, the completion of the service he had so triumphantly begun; for the eminent services of Sir J. Outram, after a junction had been effected with the Garrison of the Residency, on the 25th September, until the arrival of the relieving Force under His Excellency Sir C. Campbell; and, pre-eminently, for the consummate skill manifested by General Sir Colin Campbell, in withdrawing, without loss, the noble Garrison and all protected by them, to a place of safety.

2. It affords us the highest gratification to communicate to you our cordial approval of the measures adopted by you, in recognition of the heroism of the defenders of Lucknow, viz:—
1. "Every Officer and Soldier, European and Native, who has formed part of the Residency, between the 29th June, and the 25th September last, shall receive six months' batta."
2. "Every Civilian in the Covenanted Service of the East India Company, who has taken part in the defence of the Residency, within the above-named date, shall receive six months' batta, at a rate calculated according to the Military rank with which his standing corresponds."
3. "Every Uncovenanted Civil Officer or Volunteer, who has taken a like part, shall receive six months' batta, at a rate to be fixed according to the functions and position which may have been assigned to him."

4. "Every Native Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier, who has formed part of the Garrison, shall receive the Order of Merit, with the increase of pay attached thereto, and shall be permitted to count three years of additional service."

5. "The Soldiers of the 13th, 48th and 71st Regiments N. I., who have been part of the Garrison, shall be formed into a Regiment of the Line to be called the 'Regiment of Lucknow'."

3. We have now to announce to you our Resolution, to grant an additional donation of six months' full batta, to all those engaged in the defence of the Residency, between the 29th June, and 25th September 1857, and a donation of six months' batta to all those belonging to, or accompanying, the Force under the Command of Major-General Sir H. Havelock, which entered the Residency on the 25th September, and was engaged in its defence from that time till the 22nd of November 1857.

No. 144 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor-General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch, from Brigadier-General J. Jones, C. B., Commanding Roorkee Field Force, dated the 28th April 1858, reporting his proceedings at Moradabad.

(Signed) R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel, Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept., with the Governor General.

FROM BRIGADIER-GENERAL J. JONES, C. B., Comg. Roorkee Field Force.
TO THE DEPT. ADJT.-GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

Dated Camp Moradabad, 28th April 1858.

Sir,—The day following the action of Nugeenah (on the 22nd) the Column moved to Dhampoor, and on the 23rd, I struck, into the high road from Mezuffurnuggur to Moradabad at Noorpoor, with the view of nearing the Ganges in case the enemy should halt in their flight, and attempt to pass my right flank, and get into the Bijnoor district. I found the people on this road much more friendly; some of the villages had turned out against the enemy's Cavalry, and cut up about thirty, taking a gun also which had been broken down. Directions were forwarded to the Officer Commanding the Troops watching the ford at Duranuggur to cross and occupy Bijnoor. Mr. A. Shakespear, the Collector of the district, left my Camp at Noorpoor for Bijnoor, I must here record my thanks to Mr. Shakespear for the able assistance he has rendered me: his knowledge of the country is considerable, and the exertion he has made to obtain intelligence and supplies indefatigable. The Column marched to Chujlite on the 24th; intelligence reached me on the road that Moradabad had been occupied by Feroze Shah, son of the late Emperor of Delhi, with 2,500 followers. It appeared that he had defeated the troops of Rampore, on the 22nd instant, under the Nawab's nephew, taking his guns: some of the Nawab's troops had acted treacherously and gone over to the enemy.

On the morning of the 25th, I marched for Moradabad; on nearing the town I was met by the brother of the Nawab of Rampore. He had marched a body of troops from Rampore on Moradabad, and defeated Feroze Shah, who, hearing of our approach, evacuated Moradabad and retreated on Bareilly, taking his own and the guns captured with him. I encamped on the Race Course. Under the direction of Brigadier Coke, the town was occupied by Infantry and Cavalry, and a diligent search made for the rebel chiefs about whom he had obtained information. This search under that most indefatigable Officer was attended with unlooked-for success, and I have much pleasure in enclosing his report, and a list of the persons taken.

I would beg to draw the attention of His Excellency to the gallant conduct, as related in this report, of Lieutenant Richard Fisher Angelo, 1st Punjaub Infantry, and the loyal and faithful service of Willayat Hoosein Khan, Deputy Collector.

From Mr. J. F. D. Inglis, Civil Service, I have received most valuable assistance, and I am happy in having an Officer of this Service in my Camp, on whose knowledge and discretion I can so much rely.

From all the information I can gather, I am led to believe that the rebels who have escaped, are all making towards Bareilly, and I believe I have fully carried out His Excellency's directions to clear the enemy from this portion of Rohilkund.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) JOHN JONES, Brigdr.-Genl., Comg. Roorkee Field Force.

P. S.—I must not omit to mention an excellent young Officer of the Civil Service accompanying my Camp, Mr. Lowe, from whom I have received much assistance.

FROM LIEUT.-COLONEL JOHN COKE, Comdg Infantry of the Force.
To MAJOR MUTER, Asst. Adjt.-Genl. Field Force.

Dated Moradabad, 26th April 1858.

Sir,—On the arrival of the Force at this place yesterday, I obtained information from Mr. Inglis, Civil Service, in charge of the Civil Department with this Force, that it was probable that a number of the chief rebels were concealed in the City; this was confirmed by the information of Willayat Hoosein, Deputy Collector of Moradabad.

I accordingly made an inspection of the City with Mr. Inglis, and having settled the different points to be held during the search, I obtained the Major-General's sanction to take a sufficient Force into the City to carry out this object. I had previously placed parties of the Mooltanee Cavalry round the City to prevent the escape of the rebels: about 12 o'clock I proceeded with two guns of Captain Austin's battery, a party of Sappers and the 1st Punjaub Infantry, to search the Mohulla of Nawab Mujjoo Khan, the chief of the rebels in this district, who had caused himself to be proclaimed Nawab of Moradabad, and had instigated the people to murder and plunder the Europeans at this place.

After a long search, I succeeded in capturing Nawab Mujjoo Khan: one of his sons and his nephew were shot on the spot as resistance was made by the soldiers of the Nawab's guard.

The capture of the Nawab was effected by Lieutenant Angelo, doing duty with the 1st Punjaub Infantry, who deserves great credit for his spirited conduct on this occasion. This Officer having burst open the door of the room in which the Nawab and his sons were concealed, and having captured them, was fired on by the guard of the Nawab, who were in a room on an upper story, commanding the house in which the Nawab was concealed. Lieutenant Angelo rushed up the narrow stairs leading to this room, burst open the door, and single-handed entered the room, shot three men with his revolver, and on being joined by some of his men, captured the rest of the guard.

A quantity of property and some horses were, with my sanction, taken by the troops, and an elephant belonging to the Nawab, was made over to the Commissariat.

I enclose herewith a List of the Chief rebels, captured on this occasion, furnished by Mr. Inglis.

I am much indebted to Willayat Hoosein Khan, Deputy Collector, for the information afforded by him: he has proved the correctness of the opinion formed of him by Mr. Wilson, "that he was a loyal subject and might be fully trusted." I hope he may be rewarded for the excellent service he has rendered.

Having effected the capture of the rebel leaders, and as Mr. Inglis considered his police able to effect the capture of the followers of the Nawab and the other rebels in the City, I brought the force back to Camp.

The energy displayed by Officers and men in carrying out my orders after a long march in the five hours' laborious work in the City, was very creditable to them.

I have, &c.,

No. 145 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish for general information, the following Letter, from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, No. 297 A, dated the 6th of May 1858, and the Despatch which accompanied it, from Brigadier H. R. Jones, of Her Majesty's 6th Carabineers, giving an account of an affair which took place at Kukerowlee, on the 30th ultimo, between the rebels and the Force under Major-General N. Penny, C. B., who lost his life on the occasion.

The Governor General shares the deep regret expressed by His Excellency the Commander in Chief, at the loss which the service has suffered, in the death of that distinguished Officer.

Forwards a Despatch from Brigadier Jones, of H. M.'s 6th Carabineers, giving an account of an affair which took place at Kukerowlee, in the Budaon District of Rohilkund.

Dated 30th April 1858.

gives an account of an affair which lately took place at Kukerowlee, in the Budaon District of Rohilkund.

2. His Excellency desires to express the deep regret he feels at having to announce to His Lordship, the death of the lamented Major-General Penny, C. B. This old and very deserving Officer had remained patiently in the district for the last six weeks, at the head of his Moving Column, performing a most important service in the safe-guard of the communications, while the country was much denuded of troops in consequence of the operations in Oudh. With all the anxiety of a young man for military distinction, he rode a very long distance to confer, with His Excellency, prior to his passage of the Ganges, notwithstanding the intense heat of the weather.

3. As shown in the Despatch of Brigadier Jones, it would appear, that the lamented Major-General lost his life, in consequence of having been blinded by false intelligence, which caused him, probably for the sake of sparing his troops, to neglect some common military precautions.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

HEAD QUARTERS: Camp Bareilly, 6th May 1858.

FROM COLONEL H. R. JONES, Carabineers, Commanding Field Force.

TO THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Dated Camp Kukerowlee, 30th April 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that under the orders of Major-General Penny, C. B., Commanding the Force, a Column strength as per margin, was held in readiness to move from the village of Nerolee, upon the town of Oosait, at 8 o'clock P. M., on the evening of the 29th April. At the latter place, it was supposed that the rebels were in considerable force with one or more guns, and the object of the movement was to surprise and cut them up. The Column moved off at about 9 o'clock, but owing to one delay or another did not reach Oosait, a distance of about 7 miles, till 12 o'clock that night. The Column up to this point, moved in military formation with an advanced guard, followed by Artillery, duly supported by Cavalry with the Infantry in rear, the heavy guns and baggage having been sent with a sufficient escort straight to Kukerowlee.

When within a short distance of Oosait, Mr. Wilson the Commissioner informed General Penny, that the rebels had entirely evacuated the place, and with their guns had retired to Data-gunge. The Column, however, still moved forward, and on reaching Oosait, the information given to Mr. Wilson by the Town people appeared to satisfy him of the correctness of the

The four guns of Captain Hammond's Light Field Battery, were now ordered to the front, and nobly did this Officer and his men respond to the call. The ground, however, where the enemy had taken up their position, was to our left, nothing but a mass of sand hills, while to our right they were protected by thick groves of trees, and immediately in their rear, they had the town of Kukerowlee full back upon. Owing to these circumstances, and to the want of light, the execution done by the 1st of our Artillery, was less severe than it would have been under more favorable circumstances, and the same causes operated against an effective advance of our Cavalry. The enemy's numbers and real position could not be seen, and under these circumstances, it was deemed best merely to hold our ground. Day-light might enable us to determine the particular point for our attack, and the Infantry could be brought up and made available. On the arrival of Lieutenant-Colonel Bingham, with Her Majesty's 64th Foot, he was ordered to advance upon, and dislodge the enemy from his front and right: this was done in the most gallant style, and the enemy were speedily driven into the Town. Not feeling myself strong enough to follow them there, the Artillery was directed to fire the town by shelling, and this was speedily accomplished. Sometime after this, information was brought that the rebels were evacuating Kukerowlee at the opposite end of the town. The Force was accordingly put in pursuit, but it soon became evident that nothing but a rapid advance of Cavalry, would enable us to come up with them. Major Bickerstaff, in Command of the two Squadrons of Her Majesty's Carabineers, and Lieutenant Lindsay in Command of the Mooltan Horse, were accordingly ordered forward at a gallop to endeavour to overtake them: this duty was performed by both, thoroughly and zealously: they drove the enemy in confusion before them, and succeeded in cutting up many, capturing one of his guns and two carts containing powder. The enemy being no longer in sight, the Force returned to Kukerowlee, and encamped there for the day, after having marched fully 25 miles. I have now to return my thanks to the Officers and Men of Her Majesty's Staff, who, on his death volunteered their services to me, and rendered me much assistance during the day; viz., to Major Harriott, Deputy Judge Advocate-General; Captain Sims, Assistant Adjutant-General; Captain Briggs, Commissariat Officer with the Force; Lieutenant Eckstein, Assistant Quarter-Master-General: this Officer I regret to say, was severely wounded. Also Captain Dudgeon of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, and Lieutenant Wardo, of the late 11th Native Infantry, both Aide-de-Camps to Major-General Penny. A Return of Casualties will be forwarded as soon as made.

GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE: FORT ST. GEORGE.

9TH JUNE 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 7TH JUNE 1858.

No. 219 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 17th May 1858.

No. 146 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch, from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, dated 8th of May 1858, reporting operations against the rebels in Rohilcund.

His Lordship desires that His Excellency will accept his hearty congratulations and thanks upon the complete accomplishment of all the operations projected for Rohilcund.

The small cost of life at which success has been secured to the Forces under His Excellency's Command, is again a source of the highest satisfaction to the Governor General; while the cheerful endurance by the troops of the fatigue and exposure to which they have necessarily been subjected of late, is quite admirable.

The whole of Brigadier-General Jones' progress from Roorkee to Bareilly, has, in the Governor General's opinion, been marked with a happy combination of energy and prudence.

TO THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE VISCOUNT CANNING, GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Camp Bareilly, 8th May 1858.

MY LORD,—I have the honor to report to your Lordship, that according to my intentions already announced, my Head Quarters were transferred to General Walpole's Division in Rohilcund on the 27th ultimo. The siege train, &c., having joined him on the previous day.

The time had now arrived for General Walpole's Division to advance on Bareilly on the one side, while directions were sent to Brigadier-General Jones Her Majesty's 60th Rifles, with whose movements your Lordship has already been made acquainted, to move forward from Moradabad in a like direction.

The late lamented General Penny, C. B., was instructed to cross the Ganges with the Troops as per margin, at the same time at Nudowlee, to advance through the Badaon District, and unite himself to the Column under my immediate orders at Meranpore Mutra, on the end of the 6th March from Futtyghur.

Although this Officer unhappily lost his life in a trifling skirmish, the orders were literally obeyed, and the junction was effected as designed under the orders of Brigadier Jones, Her Majesty's 6th Dragoon Guards.

The rebels who had so long occupied the Ghats of the Ganges above Futtyghur, and the District of Badaon, having retired before him, and swelled the mass of the insurgents at Bareilly. During my advance from Futtyghur towards Bareilly, the detached parties of the enemy which had previously occupied Shahjehanpore, and the various large villages along the line of road, did not venture in a single instance to offer resistance. Accordingly every town and village was spared, and I advanced by the regular marches, having halted one day at Shahjehanpore to form a Military post at that place.

On the 5th instant, a movement was made on Bareilly. The information which had been furnished me from various quarters was most conflicting, and to place reliance on it, was utterly impossible. In short in spite of the assumed friendship of the Hindoo portion of the population, I have not found it easier to obtain information in Rohilcund on which trust could be put than has been the case in dealing with the insurrection in other parts of the Empire.

Very early on the morning of the 5th, the advance having been made from Fureedpore, the Force consisting of as per margin was formed in line-of-battle about six o'clock A. M. The first line consisted of the Highland Brigade, supported by the 4th Seikhs and Belooch Battalion, with a heavy Field Battery, in the centre with Horse Artillery and Cavalry, on both flanks under the respective Brigadiers and Commandants.

The second line was wholly employed for the protection of the baggage and siege train, this precaution appearing to be necessary owing to the very numerous rebel Cavalry. The enemy who had come out from the City with much boldness, and taken position on the left bank of the Nuttea Nuddee, having that stream in his rear, fired his first gun about seven o'clock A. M.

His guns were well placed, advantage having been taken of the road along which we were advancing, and of certain sand hills. The Horse Artillery and Cavalry advanced at the trot from both flanks, whilst the heavy Field Battery with Infantry in line, pressed up along the centre.

In a short time the enemy was driven from his guns, the left part of our line taking position on the river while the right crossed the bridge and advanced about three quarters of a mile towards the town. The heavy guns were rapidly passed over in succession, and placed in a position from which they raked the centre of the enemy's second line, which he had taken up in the suburbs. A considerable distance had now been traversed by the troops, and it became necessary to check the advance to allow time for the siege train and baggage to close up.

About 11 A. M., great activity was observed in the enemy's ranks, and while the attention of my right was occupied by a considerable body in the suburbs, the most determined effort that I have seen made in this war to turn and break through the left, was executed at this time by the enemy.

Some old Cavalry lines had been occupied by a Seikh Regiment. Such was the vigor with which this Regiment a most distinguished one (Major Wild's) under Command of Lieutenant McQueen, was attacked by a large body of fanatical Ghazees, that they gave way for a few minutes. The Ghazees pursuing their advantage, rushed like madmen on the 42d Highlanders, who had been formed in line in rear of the village to support the Seikhs as soon as the hostile movement was described. These men were all killed in the very ranks of the 42d Highlanders in a most desperate hand-to-hand encounter.

The 42d supported by the 4th Seikhs, and a part of the 79th Highlanders then advanced, sweeping through the various lines for about a mile and a half into the Cantonments where they were placed in position for the day.

Whilst the Ghazee attack had been going on the left of the first line, a very large body of the enemy's Cavalry, some 600 or 700 in number coming round our extreme left, attacked the baggage. They were quickly encountered by Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs's Horse Artillery troop, which after the first advance across the river, had been left to meet such a contingency, by Her Majesty's Carabineers (6th Dragoon Guards) the Moultee Horse and the Infantry of the rear guard; their instant dispersion took place.

This was the last effort made by the enemy. A short time afterwards the 79th and 93rd were directed to seize all the suburbs in their front, and the troops were put under shade as far as possible, the action having lasted for about six hours, and the troops having been under arms from 2 A. M.

Early on the next morning on the 6th instant, the whole force advanced into the Cantonment. At the same time I had the pleasure to hear Brigadier-General Jones' guns on the Moradabad side of Bareilly. This Officer had obeyed his instructions with great judgment and spirit, defeated a portion of the enemy on the 5th instant, taking three guns used finding himself resisted in his approach to the town on the 6th, took 3 more which were in position against him, entered the town and took three advanced positions without delay.

On the morning of the 7th, the town was finally reduced, and the Musselman portion of it, where there were still detached bodies of Ghazees remaining with the intention to sell their lives as dearly as possible, was cleared.

When I passed through Shahjehanpore, I was informed that the Fyzabad Moulvie and the Nawab of the former place were at Mohumdee, with a considerable body of men who had retired from Shahjehanpore I thought it would be impolitic to leave the district of that name without evidence of our presence; a post was therefore formed consisting of 500 H. M.'s 82nd Foot, a detachment of Artillery with 2 24-pounders and 2 9-pounders and DeKantzow's Horse, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, C. B., and H. M.'s 82nd Foot. He was directed to hold the large enclosure of the Jail, I anticipated that as soon as my back was turned, the Moulvie and the Nawab would annoy him. This expectation turned out to be correct, and on the 3d instant, he was attacked and invested by immense bodies and Cavalry. The guns brought against him were of very insignificant calibre, and he writes that he had no casualties within his entrenchments.

Brigadier-General Jones marched this morning with a force as per margin to his relief. The Brigadier-General has a discretionary power to attack Mohumdee after the relief has been effected. I have not as yet received Brigadier-General Jones' Despatch of his own operations on the 5th and 6th instant, but it will be forwarded to the Secretary of Government for submission to your Lordship in due course. In the mean time, I beg to recommend most favorably to your Lordship, the Brigadier-General and the Officers to whom he is indebted since his passage of the Ganges, to take part in the general contribution arranged for reduction of Rohilcund. I have the greatest reason to be satisfied with all the troops under my own immediate Command. Their alacrity to meet the enemy on all occasions is of course what your Lordship expects from them; but I must not lose this opportunity of bearing my testimony to the constancy displayed by all ranks of the Force in the performance of their duty during the great and incessant heat of the season of the year. It is difficult to speak too highly of that cheerful endurance of intense fatigue, to which we are indebted for the victories gained at comparatively trifling loss on the day of battle.

I beg to return my thanks to the Officers of the Staff, and Officers Commanding Regiments and Corps employed during the Campaign of Rohilcund, and to append a List of their names.

I have the honor to be, My Lord,

With the greatest respect, Your Lordship's
most obedient and humble Servant,

No. 150 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch, from Major-General Sir J. H. Grant, K. C. B., Commanding Lucknow Field Force, No. 85, dated 24th April 1858, reporting operations at Barree, against a rebel force assembled there.

No. 85.

FROM MAJOR-GENERAL SIR J. H. GRANT, K. C. B., Commanding Lucknow Field Force.
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT-GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

Dated Lucknow, 24th April 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that agreeably to the instructions I received from His Excellency, I marched with the force detailed in the margin, on the 11th instant, towards Barree, where a rebel force was reported to be assembled under the Fyzabad Moulvie. Early on the morning of the 13th, when about a mile from Camp Uttereah, my advanced guard consisting of one troop Irregular Cavalry, one Squadron 7th Hussars, two Horse Artillery guns, Pioneers of Regiments, and 100 Infantry, came upon an advanced force of the enemy. The advanced guard under the orders of Lieutenant Colonel J. M. Hagart, was immediately formed to the front. The enemy's Cavalry charged. Two Horse Artillery guns under the Command of Lieutenant Hunter, opened a well directed and rapid fire upon them, and a Detachment of the 1st Seikh Cavalry under Command of Lieutenant Prendergast, met them in a very gallant style, and had a hand-to-hand encounter with them, in which Lieutenant Prendergast was wounded. A Squadron of the 7th Hussars was covering the guns and in support. The enemy's Cavalry was soon driven off with loss. In the meantime I had ordered the Column to be formed to the front with the Cavalry to the right. The 2nd Battalion of the Rifle Brigade in the first line, on the left supported by the Wing of the 5th Punjab Infantry, the 38th in the 2nd line. The enemy's Cavalry which had retired to my right, moved round towards the rear, and made an attack upon the baggage, but they were repulsed and driven off by a Troop of the 7th Hussars, under Lieutenant Topham, supported by a Squadron of that Regiment under Major Horne, and the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, which I had ordered to cover the right rear. I then advanced against the main body of the enemy's Infantry, which was posted in a strong position in my front and towards the left. The Battalion of the Rifle Brigade soon drove them off, and they retired in disorder towards Barree. On this occasion the rapidity and steadiness with which the Cavalry under Lieutenant Colonel Hagart was manoeuvred on my right and right rear, when the enemy attempted to attack the long line of baggage, is deserving of great praise; the Horse Artillery, and the Field Battery also did good service here: whenever the enemy showed himself, there was a Detachment to meet and repulse him; on one occasion two Companies of the 1st Bengal Fusiliers in line, defeating a charge of Cavalry.

I would also bring to the notice of His Excellency the steadiness of the Rifles in the general advance, reserving their fire until it was really wanted.

The enemy showed no guns on the Field, but a tumbril full of ammunition was found deserted.

My acknowledgments are due to the following Officers for the support they rendered me on this occasion.

Brigadier Horsford, C. B., Commanding the Infantry, whose coolness and ability in manoeuvring his brigade, I wish to bring to His Excellency's notice.

Lieutenant-Colonel Hagart, Commanding the Cavalry, who also had the superintendence of the out-post duty on this as on former occasions, was most active and energetic.

Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly, Commanding the Artillery, who though suffering from bad health, was most active in the discharge of his duties.

Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Commanding 38th Regiment, Lieutenant-Colonel Hill, Commanding 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, Major Sir W. Russell, Commanding 7th Hussars, Major Horne, 7th Hussars, who had Command of the Detachment covering the rear.

Major Nicholson, Royal Engineers, Commanding Engineers and Sappers and Miners, who was most energetic and active. Captain Hume, Commanding 1st European Bengal Fusiliers; Captain Middleton, Commanding Battery, Royal Artillery; Captain Mackinnon, Commanding Troop, Bengal Horse Artillery; Captain Talbot, Royal Artillery, Commanding Heavy Battery; Captain Hutchinson, Commanding Squadron 2nd Dragoon Guards; Lieutenant Stewart, Commanding 1st Seikh Cavalry; Lieutenant Lawford, Commanding Squadron Hodson's Horse; Lieutenants Hunter and McLeod, Bengal Artillery; Lieutenant Prendergast, 1st Seikh Cavalry, who was wounded on the charge of the advanced guard; Lieutenant Topham, 7th Hussars; the Troop under this Officer's Command met the enemy's Cavalry at the charge, when one man of the 7th was killed, and Lieutenant Topham and six men wounded.

Major Mollan, 75th Regiment, Major of Brigade of Infantry, and Captain the Honorable J. Fiennes, Major of Brigade of Cavalry.

Captain Reid, Deputy Commissioner, and who had charge of the Intelligence Department, rendered important service.

To my personal Staff:—Captain the Honorable A. Anson 84th Regiment, Aide-de-Camp, Captain Wolseley, 90th Light Infantry, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master-General, and Major W. Hamilton, 9th Lancers, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, my acknowledgments are also due.

On arrival at Barree, it was found to be evacuated by the rebels; quantity of military stores were found in it, which were destroyed.

I arrived at Mamadabad on the 15th instant: there had been a large body of rebels here, but on the approach of the Column they dispersed. In the Fort was found one brass gun, and a quantity of gunpowder. The Nawab's house, a large building in the Fort, was blown up and completely destroyed by the Engineers in the course of the afternoon.

The Force arrived at Ramnuggur on the 19th. The Rajah's house here I had also destroyed, as he was assisting the rebels.

At Ramnuggur I received intelligence, that the large force which was assembled at Bitowlee, had dispersed on the approach of the Column.

On the 22nd, on the march from Monsoulée to Nawabgunge, three Native Iron guns were found in the Fort of Jungeerabad, which was given up without resistance, and a 24-pounder Native Iron gun was found at a village about three miles from Nawabgunge. The four guns were all destroyed.

On the 23rd instant, I made over Command of the Column to Brigadier Horsford, C. B., and it will be encamped to-morrow at Chenuote, four miles from the Iron-bridge.

I have, &c.,

Sir,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of India, that the Force under my Command as per margin, fought a general action with the troops of the Nawab of Banda, on the 19th Instant.

Nuwab Ali Bahadoor determined on opposing my advance on Banda, took up during the 18th instant a position about 5 miles from the left bank of the river Kane, selected with consummate judgment, and in every respect well adapted for the protection of his capital.

His Artillery commanded the main road on which my Force was moving, enabling him to withdraw his guns if hard pressed,—broken ground with numerous ravines and nullahs covered his whole front, affording excellent cover to a swarm of skirmishers, who, not only knew their value, but most skillfully availed themselves of them, whilst every desired movement on my part on the enemy's flanks was impeded by ground most difficult for the combined operations of Artillery and Cavalry.

The enemy, six thousand in number, with three thousand in reserve, were under the personal command of the Nawab, and principally composed of mutineers of the three arms, the Infantry with percussion muskets. Videttes on our flanks and front watched our advance, and a near approach to reconnoitre disclosed the enemy's position, from which a sharp fire of Artillery was opened.

An advanced party under Colonel Apthorp, K. F. S., 3rd Madras Europeans, first encountered their Infantry, and soon found themselves under a heavy fire; every nullah was vigorously disputed, and the judgment and decision with which that Officer conducted his movements, thus avoiding much severe loss called forth my highest commendations.

It now became necessary to dislodge a battery on our right flank, which would have swept through our skirmishers had they further advanced, and no men ever charged more nobly than the Squadron of the 2d Hyderabad Contingent Cavalry, under their gallant leader Captain Macintire, one gun was captured, the other in the mêlée escaped for a time, but the object was effected.

The main body of my force had now come up, and I directed its movement to the left, thus co-operating with the advanced guard which was hardly pressed. A flanking fire soon relieved them, and the desperate resistance and continued struggle of the enemy to maintain his ground, lead to many a hand-to-hand conflict, where the bayonet did great execution.

By the most persevering efforts my Artillery and Cavalry flanked the enemy, causing heavy loss and capturing 3 Guns, and the gallantry of Her Majesty's 12th Lancers and the Rissallah, were most conspicuous on these occasions.

The Horse Artillery and Horse Battery did their work with an alacrity, spirit and precision of fire not to be surpassed, and each man of the Native troop vied with the European soldier in his vigorous pursuit of the enemy.

The 18-pounders served by the Royal Artillery made some excellent practice; it was a work of much labor to bring them into position, but it was cheerfully and well executed by Officers and men.

Although the enemy now began to retire, it was four hours before the firing ceased; they fell back, occupying every available ground for opposition, and our guns were in constant employment to dislodge them.

The Nawab at length fled, leaving on the field (from information I have since received,) more than a thousand of his men, eight hundred of whom were amongst the killed; several men of note were slain, and within a few hours many notorious vagabonds have been hanged.

A Fort commanding the Ford was reported to be occupied by the enemy, and it was necessary to bring up some heavy guns previous to advancing; this retarded our movement and enabled the enemy to cross the river and get so far ahead as to escape further pursuit.

A flag of truce now approached; it was borne by some of the principal inhabitants of the City, who informed me the Nawab had fled, the town evacuated and the mutineers had set fire to their lines. So great indeed was the panic and so sudden, that on occupying the palace, we found food preparing for the Nawab.

My troops are now in possession of the palace and town, 13 large brass guns, besides several of small Calibre—a large quantity of ammunition, much valuable property belonging to the Nawab, some 40,000 Rupees in specie—four Elephants, fifty Camels with other Cattle, and about two thousand Rupees worth of grain of sorts.

The British Flag was hoisted under a general salute in the presence of the troops, and the Commissioner is busily employed in establishing order.

The contest was a lengthened one, but Europeans and Natives fought well and manfully against their disciplined enemy, and merit my warmest praise for their conduct.

It was the first time the 3rd Madras European Regiment was under fire. I noticed their steadiness and good discipline, with pride as well as the gallantry of the H. Company, who charged and with great slaughter, drove a large party from their stronghold.

Our own loss is extraordinarily small, considering the fire to which the troops were so long exposed. Amongst the killed I have to lament a promising young Officer, Lieutenant Colbeck, of the 3rd Europeans.

I beg to attach copies of the reports from Brigadier Miller, Commanding the Artillery, and Major Oakes, Commanding the Cavalry Brigade, and it is most gratifying to me to add my testimony to the distinguished gallantry of those Officers whose names they have brought to notice, and the dashing style in which they led their guns and troops into action.

Brigadier Miller, a most able and energetic Officer, disposed of his Artillery with a skill and intelligence most praiseworthy, and I cordially thank him. I regret to add he was severely wounded, and that I am thereby deprived for a time of his valuable services. Major Lavie assumed command, and I have special satisfaction in recording the steadiness and intelligence with which he conducted his important duties.

Major Oakes displayed the zeal and activity of an excellent Cavalry Officer throughout the day.

Brigadier Carpenter brought his Infantry into action, with a steady precision with which I was perfectly satisfied.

Colonel Apthorp's management of the troops placed at his disposal, was what I expected from an Officer of his high character. I beg to annex his Report.

It is a pleasing duty to bring to the special notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, a favour which I beg to solicit at your hands, the name of Capt. Macintire, of the Madras Artillery, Commanding a Squadron of the 2nd Hyderabad Contingent Cavalry, always distinguished for his zeal, a soldier's spirit and a judgment well fitting him for his command; his charge, on the enemy's guns (I had no Infantry at hand for that purpose,) was the admiration of all who witnessed the affair, and his men followed their leader with an ardor with which his high bearing has inspired them, and I cannot express myself in too high terms of their spirit and their gallantry. Lieutenant Ryall the Adjutant of the Regiment, accompanied the troop on its attack, and with his Commanding Officer, cut down several of the enemy in hand-to-hand combat.

I received much assistance from my Assistant Adjutant-General, Major R. Hamilton, an able intelligent and worthy Officer, as well as from my Assistant Quarter Master-General, Captain Lawder, both were by my side during the whole of the action; also Major Mayne, Deputy Judge Advocate General to the Force.

Lieutenant Homan, 50th Regiment Native Infantry, my Aide-de-Camp, was very useful to me.

Major Brett, 3rd Madras European Regiment, an experienced and able Officer, who was attached as orderly Officer to me during the day, was very active in carrying my orders.

The Officers of the Engineers' Department were with me on the Field, and Major Ludlow, Field Engineer, received the flag of truce.

The Commissariat Department under Lieutenant Barrow, has been admirably conducted for the many months the Force has been marching, and from the excellent system of this able Officer, the troops were furnished without delay with all their customary supplies at the conclusion of the contest.

I am very much indebted to Major Barrow, Commissary of Ordnance, whose duties have been most arduous, but who has performed them with the utmost efficiency; he was with me throughout the day, and of much service to me.

To Major Abbot of the Bengal Infantry, who with the troops of the Chirkarree Rajah, protected my baggage and a lengthened siege train, and brought all safely into Camp, my best thanks are due.

The arrangements of the Medical Department were excellent, and my thanks are due to Superintending Surgeon Davidson, and Field Surgeon Macfarlane.

I enclose a List of killed and wounded.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

CAMP BANDA: 24th April 1858.

To MAJOR-GENERAL WHITLOCK, Commanding Saugor Division.

Sir,—I beg leave prominently to bring to your notice, the gallant conduct of Captain Macintire, and his Squadron of Hyderabad Cavalry, which formed part of the advanced guard I had the honor to command in the action which took place yesterday-morning.

On approaching within six hundred yards of the enemy's position, I formed my troops into line, and placed Captain Macintire's Rissallah on the right. After advancing a short distance, I found that one or two of the enemy's guns were posted so as to enfilade the Infantry as they advanced. I therefore ordered Captain Macintire to charge the guns, which was done in most gallant style. The ground to be got over was most difficult for Cavalry, being intersected with deep nullahs filled with the enemy's Infantry.

I consider this charge enabled the Infantry to reach the enemy, who were at least 6000 strong, with comparatively trifling loss.

The whole of the guard behaved with the greatest gallantry on this occasion.

I remain, Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

CAMP BANDA: 20th April 1858.

No. 50.

To THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL, Saugor Field Division.

Sir,—I have the honor to forward herewith a Return of Casualties in the Artillery Brigade under my command, at the battle of Banda yesterday.

II. It will be observed, that these are providentially very small, a subject both of astonishment and congratulation, considering the length of time we were under fire, and the obstinate resistance of the enemy, whilst defending their first position, where their Artillery was chiefly brought into play against us, and which was both well and rapidly served, although fortunately for us, their range was generally short, probably owing to the inferiority of their powder.

III. It is a source of no slight gratification to me, to bring particularly to the Major-General's notice, the admirable conduct of the whole of the Native portion of the Artillery, affording as it did the most ample proof of their attachment to the service, and fidelity to the State. Nothing could be finer than the way in which the Native troop of Horse Artillery, under Major Brice, emulated the cheerfulness, alacrity, and cool courage of their gallant comrades of the European troop under Major Mein.

IV. It is not very often, I believe that opportunities offer to Artillerymen of distinguishing themselves in any line other than their own, but some such having presented themselves yesterday, were eagerly laid hold of by Officers and men. Major Lavie cut down one Gunner, and disarmed another flying from one of the enemy's guns taken; Major Barrow and Lieutenant Hennegan, gallantly supported by Lieutenant Blunt, of Her Majesty's 12th Royal Lancers, with a few of his men captured another gun; Serjeant Major Dinwiddie, F. Troop; and Serjeant Alford, D. Troop, Horse Artillery, (my Orderly Serjeant) cut down several of the enemy during the action, and the Major General himself, I believe, witnessed the daring manner in which a Gunner of the A. Troop Horse Artillery, (Michael Carroll, General No. 4054) went in on a mutineer, who was fighting with the resolution of despair, and had for some time kept several men both Europeans and Natives, at bay.

V. I cannot help wishing, that Captain Palmer's fine Company of the Royal Artillery, had had more opportunity of distinguishing themselves, but the effect on the enemy of the fire they did open from the 18-Pounders and 8-inch Howitzers, was most marked and did them much credit.

VI. The conduct during the action of every Officer and man under my orders, merits my unqualified approval and highest admiration; but I would beg leave to bring more prominently to the favorable notice of Major-General Whitlock, the names of the following Officer, viz.—Major Lavie, Commanding Madras Artillery Division; Major Brice, Commanding F. Troop, and Major Mein, Commanding A. Troop, Madras Horse Artillery; Captain Palmer, Commanding Royal Artillery; Lieutenant Pope, Commanding No. 1, Madras Horse Field Battery; Brevet-Captain Holmes, and Lieutenant Hennegan, Commanding Detachments of their respective troops of Horse Artillery with the advance; Major Barrow, Commissary of Ordnance, and Brevet-Captain Harrison, acting as my Brigade Major, for that excellent Officer Captain Gosling unfortunately laid up at present with small-pox.

VII. The zeal, kindness and attention of the different Medical Officers of the Brigade, Doctor Macfarlane, Field Surgeon, Assistant Surgeons, Allen and Dunman, of the Madras Horse Artillery, and Assistant Surgeon Webb, of the Royal Artillery, were most conspicuous, and as such well deserve especial mention being made of them.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Commanding Artillery Brigade S. F. Force.

CAMP BANDA: 20th April 1858.

No. 7 of 1858.

20th April 1858..

TO THE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Saugor and Nerbudda Field Force, Camp Bandah.

SIR,—I have the honor to inform you, for the information of the Major-General, Commanding the Division, that the Rissallah and a troop of the 12th Lancers, were detached with the advanced guard, the remainder of the brigade forming the main column, when the enemy's Artillery opened fire, (after crossing the dry bed of a river) I advanced the remainder of the Lancers in column of troops, when I saw the Rissallah charging the left flank of the enemy's position, owing to the bad ground which was greatly intersected by deep nullahs, the Lancers had to cross in single files, the Rissallah having been temporarily checked by an unexpected fire of grape and musketry from a nullah 20 yards off; before I could bring the Lancers up to support them, they suffered severely. I immediately formed line, and charged the enemy who did not stand, but dispersed all over the country. The Lancers followed them up for about four miles to the river Kane, cutting about three hundred of them. I then deemed it advisable to re-assemble them, and bring them back to the main column. The troop of Lancers attached to the advanced guard, charged the enemy's right flank and took a gun.

When we advanced upon the enemy's second position, I detached a troop of Lancers to protect the Artillery on our left flank, and a troop of the Rissallah, the Artillery on the right flank. When the heights were gained, the 12th Lancers advanced, and took a large brass gun pursuing the enemy, who were in full retreat, (here Brigadier Miller was cut down, whose life was saved by Private Thomas Elliss, 12th Lancers, who speared the rebel). The retreat of the enemy was covered by some heavy guns on the left of the Fort.

I then in concert with the Officer Commanding the European Horse Artillery, (the fire of the enemy being very heavy, and our guns not being able to tell upon them,) deemed it advisable to retire out of range, and wait until the heavy guns and main column came up.

I beg to bring to the favourable notice of the Major-General, Captain Prior, Commanding the 12th Lancers, and Captain Macintire, Commanding the 2nd Hyderabad Irregular Horse, who gave me every assistance by strictly carrying out my orders. Also my Brigade Major, Lieutenant Roe, 12th Lancers, who afforded me every help in conveying orders with rapidity.

A Nominal Roll of killed and wounded is transmitted herewith.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having addressed the subjoined Orders to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, to be published to the Army, they are accordingly published in Military Orders.

General Orders by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 14TH JUNE 1858.

No. 229 of 1858.—The following General Orders by the Government of India, are republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 22d May 1858.

No. 159 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from Brigadier Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, No. 258, dated 30th April 1858, forwarding a Report from Captain Clerk, Commanding Detachment at Bustee, of an action with the Rebels in that neighbourhood, on the 25th April 1858 :—

(Signed) R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel, Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept., with the Govr. Genl.

No. 258.

From Brigadier H. ROWCROFT, Comg. Sarun Field Force.

To Colonel BIRCH, C. B., Secretary to Government of India, in the Mily. Dept. Allahabad.

Camp Captaingunge, District of Goruckpore, The 30th April 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, a Report in original, from Captain Clerk, of the 4th Madras Cavalry, Commanding a small Detachment at Bustee, of an encounter which he had with a party of Rebels in that neighbourhood on the 25th Instant, and which appears to have been very ably carried out by Captain Clerk.

2. Mr. Wilson, Deputy Magistrate, gallantly lead the small Detachment of Goorkhas to the attack, and received a bullet through his hat, close over the head.

3. Sheoghoham Singh, the leader of the Insurgents, who was killed, was a man of considerable influence, and the Commissioner was about to offer a reward of Rs. 3,000 for his capture.

4. Captain Clerk has since reported to me, that the loss of the Enemy killed and dead of their wounds, has been ascertained to be sixty.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

H. ROWCROFT, Brigadier, Comg. Sarun Field Force.

FROM CAPTAIN E. CLERK, Comg. Detachment 4th Regt. Madras Light Cavalry.

To CAPTAIN MORGAN, Brigade Major, Goruckpore Field Force, Amorah.

Camp Captaingunge, the 26th April 1858.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier Rowcroft, Commanding the Goruckpore Field Force, that having received intelligence yesterday, that a party of Rebels under Sheoghoham Sing, had taken up a position at Pyrah, about six miles North of Bustee, on the road to Rudowlee; I proceeded with the Force noted in the margin to attack them.

49 Sabres.
4th Madras Cavalry.
150 Goorkhas.
Burruck Regiment.

2. I found the Rebels in a large grove of mangoe trees, terminating in a small village surrounded with bamboos, and separated by small spaces of open country from numerous other groves which extended to a considerable distance. Directing the Goorkhas to form line and advance straight on the Enemy, I rode round with my Troop to intercept their retreat from the further side of the village. At first the Enemy formed line at the edge of the grove of trees, but as the Goorkhas advanced, he retired, keeping up a sharp but ill directed fire, under the shelter of the bamboos where he, for sometime, made a stout resistance, till driven out by a party of Goorkhas led on by Mr. Wilson, the Assistant Magistrate. As soon as the Rebels appeared in the open, I charged them with my Troop, cutting down and wounding several, and driving them till they were completely dispersed in the surrounding groves.

3. As intelligence had been received, that another party of Rebels were about five miles from Bustee on the North-West, I did not consider it advisable to follow Sheoghoham Sing's party further, and accordingly returned to Camp.

4. Our loss is two killed and five wounded, six horses wounded and one missing.

5. I herewith forward a Casualty List.

6. The Enemy must have numbered from four, to five hundred, half of whom however retreated, on the opposite side of the village which I took without taking any part in the fight. Twenty-four bodies were found lying on the field, and amongst them that of Sheoghoham Singh.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

E. CLERK, Captain, Comg. Detachment 4th Regt. Madras Light Cavalry.

H. ROWCROFT, Brigadier, Comg. Field Force, Gorruckpore District.

FROM THE DEPY. ADJT.-GENL. OF THE ARMY,
TO THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA, Military Department with the Governor General.

SIR,—I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward copy of a Despatch, dated the 16th instant from Brigadier-General J. Jones, C. B., reporting his relief of the Garrison of Shahjehanpore, on the 11th idem; and I am to beg that, in submitting it to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, you will express to His Lordship, His Excellency's entire approval of the manner in which the duty entrusted to the Brigadier-General has been carried out.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy Adj. Genl. of the Army.

HEAD QUARTERS: Camp Shahjehanpore, 19th May 1858.

FROM BRIGADIER-GENERAL JOHN JONES, C. B., Comdg. Shahjehanpore Brigade.

TO THE DEPY. ADJT.-GENL. OF THE ARMY.

Dated Camp Shahjehanpore, 16th May 1858.

SIR,—By day-light of the morning of the 11th, I reached the ford, which I was to cross, to relieve the Garrison in the Jail of Shahjehanpore.

To cover the crossing of the main body, the Cavalry and No. 7 Light Field Battery crossed over; but on attempting the passage of the heavy guns, the ford was found impracticable, on account of quicksand.

A large body of the enemy's Cavalry crossing from the City by the bridge-of-boats, appeared on my right flank, and threatened the baggage in the rear.

Under these circumstances, I changed the plan suggested, and advanced upon the Jail over the bridge-of-boats and through the City.

I therefore withdrew the guns and Cavalry, which had passed the ford, and formed line with the Infantry, the 60th Rifles and 79th Highlanders being in advance, with the Light Field Battery, and Mooltanee Cavalry on the right, and the heavy guns and Carabineers on the left; the whole supported by the Wing of Her Majesty's 82nd, and the 22nd Punjab Infantry.

When within range, the heavy guns opened on the enemy's Cavalry, which though led by the Moulvie in person, was scattered by a few well directed rounds from the 8-inch Howitzers.

The Field guns pushing rapidly on, opened with effect as the enemy retreated across the bridge.

Having swept this bank clear, the heavy guns were moved close to the head of the bridge, and the town I shelled for two hours.

The fire was principally directed on the Fort, and it had the effect of setting the city on fire in several places.

When I had reason to believe that the place was abandoned by the enemy, I directed Colonel the Honorable Percy Herbert, with the Wing of the 82nd Regiment, and two guns to advance up the street, and occupy the Fort, and the head of the stone-bridge on the other side of the town, which was effected without opposition.

These points being secured, and the troops refreshed by the halt under a tope of trees, I advanced with the 60th and 79th, the four light guns, and the Carabineers.

I had previously detached Captain Cureton, with the Mooltanee Cavalry across by the ford I attempted in the morning, for the purpose of occupying the attention of the enemy, while I passed through the town, and came up in their rear.

He found on approaching the Jail, that the enemy had moved, and was able to open a communication with Colonel Hale.

No opposition was made to my passage through the streets, but on debouching into the open country, the enemy's Cavalry was seen in swarms. They were dispersed by the fire of the skirmishers, and retreated towards Mohumdee.

Major Bickerstaff led the Wing he commands of the Carabineers in pursuit and crossing the nullah, he succeeded in capturing one of the enemy's guns, and cutting up a few of their Cavalry.

On my approach, the enemy abandoned his position around the Jail, and having effected the relief, I pitched my Camp on the parade ground in the vicinity.

I regret to say, that the troops suffered very severely from the exposure in accomplishing these important operations.

The Brigade marched at 2 o'clock A. M., and the tents were not pitched till 7 o'clock that evening.

Some men were struck dead by the sun, and several carried into hospital.

The energy with which this trying work was done, and the patience with which the suffering was borne, elicited my highest admiration, and I feel much indebted to the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and men of this Force.

To Colonel the Honorable Percy Herbert, C. B., 82nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Taylor, 79th Highlanders; Major Palmer, 60th Rifles; and to Captain Ousely, 22d Punjab Infantry; my thanks are due. Also to Major Bickerstaff, Commanding a Wing of the Carabineers; and Captain Cureton, of the Mooltanee Cavalry; Captain Austin, Artillery; and to Lieutenant Stubbs, in charge of the heavy guns.

The members of my Staff, whom I have on several occasions, mentioned individually, showed their usual energy and cheerful endurance, and I am much indebted to them all.

I enclose a List of the Casualties, and a Statement of the gun captured.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) JOHN JONES, Brigadier-Genl. Comdg. Shahjehanpore Brigade.

No. 164 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish for general information, the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army, dated 12th May 1858, forwarding a Report of the operations of the Column under the Command of Brigadier-General J. Jones, C. B., Commanding Roorkee Field Force, against a body of rebels, on the 21st April 1858, near Nuggeenah.

The Governor General offers his best thanks to General Jones, and his acknowledgments to the Officers and men engaged, for the good service rendered in these operations.

FROM BRIGADIER-GENERAL J. JONES, C. B., Commanding Roorkee Field Force.
TO THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

Dated Camp Noorpoor, 23d April 1858.

Sir,—On the 20th instant, I forwarded from Nujeebabad, a Statement of the operations of the Column under my Command to the 19th April, and I now proceed from that date to inform His Excellency of the subsequent events.

On the 20th instant, the heavy guns arrived at Camp, and information reached me, that the rebels from Durranuggur, six thousand strong, had marched to Nuggeenah, and there been joined by the nephews of the Nujeebabad Nawab, with their followers and guns.

I moved early on the 21st, and crossed the canal which fronts the town of Nuggeenah by 8½ of clock a m. The enemy was then taking up his position. He was late on the ground, and lost the site I conclude he would have chosen. His left thrown forward rested on the canal communicating with the other bank by a bridge, and his line running at an inclined angle to the canal for between two and three miles, reached a top of trees which covered his right. He had two brass guns on his left, besides some iron pieces, 5 opposite the bridge by which I crossed, and others distributed along his front. I observed considerable bodies of Cavalry in his line, and I am of opinion from what I saw, and have since heard, that the numbers given by the spies (10,000 Infantry and 2,000 Cavalry) were not exaggerated.

The squadron 6th Dragoon Guards, I placed on the right flank with 2 guns, and the skirmishers of the advanced guard; the Mooltanee Regiment of Cavalry were on the left, and the remainder of the Field guns were pushed to the front and opened fire; the Infantry were rapidly formed in line, the 60th Rifles and 1st Punjab in advance, the 17th Punjab in support; the 1st Sikh Regiment swept the other bank of the canal; the enemy having poured a body of troops into our rear by means of the bridge they held.

In this formation, I advanced with the utmost speed: no time was given the enemy to get our range. The 60th Rifles and 1st Punjab Regiment charged the 5 guns, and instantly carried them, while the Squadron Carabineers under Captain Bott, captured at the gallop the guns on the enemy's left, one of which had burst on the field.

The rebels driven from their guns, attempted to retreat into the City, but I rapidly changed front to the right, throwing the left forward at the double, and cutting off their line of retreat, drove them to the left of the town. I afterwards found it had been prepared for defence, barricades having been erected in the streets. Bodies of the rebels sought shelter in walled enclosures, and were there cut to pieces: in one of these nearly two hundred were shot, and the town being afterwards entered by the 17th Punjab Regiment, numbers were there killed and many taken prisoners. I passed round Nuggeenah by the right, and halted in rear of the town; nothing of the enemy was to be seen, they had been scattered in every direction.

The Mooltanee Regiment of Cavalry swept round the town by the left, and moving rapidly in pursuit of the enemy's horse, headed the main body of the fugitives on the principal line of the retreat. Captain Cureton with great judgment, drew his men together and concealed them in a top of trees. Six elephants carrying Officers of importance among the rebels, accompanied by 3 guns and a body of Cavalry and Infantry, soon came by; the Mooltanee Regiment charged this body, cutting up the elephants, and capturing the elephants and guns. The Telegraph signaller taken some time ago by the enemy was re-taken here, and was the only person carried by the elephants that escaped death. Captain Cureton led his Regiment some miles in pursuit of other parties of fugitives, and left the ground covered with their bodies. In this action the force captured 10 brass guns and 5 of iron, a Return of which I have the honor to enclose. It is difficult to estimate accurately the enemy's loss in men, but it could be little less if not quite 800 killed. I am happy to add, that our loss in obtaining such results is trifling Lieutenant Gostling being the only Officer or British soldier killed. Annexed is a List of the Casualties.

I forward also a Despatch from Brigadier Coke, C. B., and I concur most heartily in what he says of his Brigade, and the Officers he mentions; my best thanks are due to himself. His gallantry is always conspicuous, and his energy indefatigable. I have to thank Captain Bott for the manner in which he led his Squadron 6th Dragoon Guards. To that able and most gallant Officer Captain Cureton, Commanding the Mooltanee Regiment of Cavalry, I consider some acknowledgment due, and I would especially recommend him to the notice of his Excellency, for the manner in which his Regiment has behaved on this occasion, and on the 17th instant, for the way in which he led it, and for the capture of the 3 guns and the 6 elephants. I have again to thank Captain Austen, for the style he brought his guns into action, and the admirable fire he kept up.

Brigadier Coke, C. B., has mentioned the gallant manner in which Major Palmer brought the 60th Rifles in their charge up to the guns, and the admirable conduct of that Battalion. My best thanks are due to him, and to Major Gordon, Commanding the 1st Sikhs who swept the canal clear of a large body of the enemy; to Captain Lambert, Commanding the 1st Punjab Regiment, for his charge on the guns; and to Captain Larkins, Commanding the 17th Regiment, who did good service in the town. I have received much assistance from Captain Drummond, Comdg. Field Engineer, and his subordinates; also from Surgeon Innes, Field Surgeon, and Captain Carter, Offg. Deputy Commissary General.

I am much indebted to Major Muter, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General; to Captain Tedlie, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master-General; to Lieutenant Deedes, Aide-de-Camp; and to Lieutenant Tyler, 20th Native Infantry, Orderly Officer, for their untiring zeal and ability. I have much pleasure in forwarding Captain Cureton's Report of the gallant conduct of Mr. Hannah, of the Roorkee College; and in seconding the application of Brigadier Coke, that this brave young gentleman may obtain a Commission for his conduct in the Field.

TO THE DEPY. ASST. ADJT. GENERAL, Roorkee Field Force.

Camp Dhanpore, 22d April 1858.

SIR,—With reference to the attack yesterday, on the Rebel force posted in front of the Town of Nuggeenah, I have the honor to report for the information of Brigadier-General Commanding, that the while the Force was passing the bridge over the canal, the advanced Guard of the 60th Royal Rifles, reported the Enemy advancing in our front. I sent an order to the rear, to bring up the Infantry. The Mooltance Cavalry, Captain Austen's Battery, and the 60th Royal Rifles, had already crossed the above-mentioned bridge.

The Artillery under Captain Austen, moved rapidly to the front, and opened fire in reply to the Enemy's Advance Guns, which were in a grove of trees about nine hundred yards to our front. The 60th Royal Rifles formed line, and advanced steadily to the front, the 1st Punjaub Infantry were formed to their left, and the Mooltance Cavalry on the left front of the 1st Punjaub Infantry.

Observing the Rebel Cavalry advance to turn our left, I directed Captain Cureton Commanding the Mooltance Cavalry, to attack them and after driving them back to turn the right of the Enemy's Infantry. The 1st Punjaub Infantry were ordered by me to advance, and take the Guns in flank, while the 60th Royal Rifles moved to the front.

These orders were well and rapidly carried out; the Rebels finding their flank completely turned, retreated hastily, abandoning their Guns, and were followed up for nearly two miles by the Artillery, 60th Royal Rifles, and 1st Punjaub Infantry.

Simultaneously with this move on the left, I sent directions to Major Gordon, Commanding 1st Sikh Infantry on the right, to move down both banks of the canal, which were thickly wooded and full of the Rebel Infantry. This was carried out in a most satisfactory manner, and the Enemy defeated at all points, fled rapidly.

The 17th Punjaub Infantry were held in reserve. Soon after our arrival at "Nuggeenah" when the pursuit of the Infantry had ceased, Captain Larkins was ordered with his Corps to clear the city of the Rebels, numbers were killed and taken prisoners. Numbers in their retreat, threw themselves into large walled gardens near the Town, from which but few escaped alive.

It is quite unnecessary for me to say any thing in praise of the 60th Royal Rifles, who have always distinguished themselves. On the 17th and 22d Instant, they proved themselves to be the perfection of Light Infantry.

My thanks are due to Major Palmer, Commanding the 60th Royal Rifles; Major Gordon, Commanding 1st Sikh Infantry; Captain Lambert, Commanding 1st Punjaub Infantry; and Captain Larkins, Commanding the 17th Punjaub Infantry; who carried out their orders most efficiently.

Captain Anderson, Major of Brigade, has shown himself on this and all other occasions, a most efficient Staff Officer.

Captain Parrott, of the Haupper Stud attached to the Camp; and Captain Smith, of the Pathan Horse, acted as my Orderly Officers; I am much obliged to them for their exertions.

I beg to forward herewith a Report from Captain Cureton, which was forwarded at my request, of the conduct of a young Student of the Roorkee College, in the hopes that his gallant conduct may lead to his advancement, or to his obtaining a Commission of which he appears most deserving.

I have, &c.,

FROM CAPTAIN CHARLES CURETON, Commanding the Mooltance Regiment of Cavalry.

TO BRIGADIER COKE, C. B., Commanding the Infantry Brigade.

Dated Camp Dhanpore, 22d April 1858.

SIR,—When ordered by you to advance, and out-flank the Enemy yesterday morning, I was joined by a young gentleman, who I thought was a young Officer, but who I have since learnt was Mr. Hannah of the Roorkee College. He begged permission to join my Regiment as a Volunteer, which I gladly assented to.

During the charge and pursuit, Mr. Hannah behaved with great gallantry; but I regret exceedingly to say, that he has received two dangerous wounds. I trust he will soon recover from these, and that he will not be ultimately a sufferer for his distinguished conduct.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) CHARLES CURETON, Captain, Comdg. the Mooltance Regt. of Cavy.

No. 166 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army, dated 18th May 1858, forwarding a report of the operations of the Shahjehanpore Brigade, under the Command of Brigadier-General Jones, C. B., against the Enemy on the 15th Instant.

From Major D. D. MUTER, Depy. Asst. Adjt.-Genl., Shahjehanpore Brigade.
To The Chief of the Staff.

Dated Camp Shahjehanpore, 15th May 1858.

SIR,—I am directed by Brigadier-General Jones, Commanding Shahjehanpore Brigade, to inform you, that the Enemy led by the Moulvie, attacked his position at Shahjehanpore at 12 o'clock this day.

The intelligence was, that the Rebels in great force would attack at day-light, and in three Columns. The Brigadier-General therefore took up his position at 2 o'clock A. M. The Enemy did not attack till 12 o'clock when he opened fire from the ridge that runs along the left bank of the nullah on the Mohum-dee side of Shahjehanpore. His guns were too far to produce any effect, but his Cavalry, of which he had a very large force, crossed this nullah a few miles up, and charged on our guns with considerable loss to themselves, but none to us. The troops will bivouac to night on the ground they occupy.

The enemy have not all withdrawn, and the Brigadier-General remains out in the Field. He has directed me to write and forward this express.

Had the information been positive, something might have been done to capture the rebels' guns, but an attack on the City and on the left flank was looked for, and cautious measures adopted.

A strong patrol of Mooltanee Cavalry have crossed the nullah, and the Brigadier-General awaits intelligence of the enemy's movements.

Dated Camp Shahjehanpore, 16th May 1858, 7 o'clock A. M.

SIR,—In continuation of the express of yesterday, I have to inform you, that the troops have this morning been withdrawn to Camp.

The enemy is said to have retreated to Mohumdee. His loss is reported as considerable. A Chief of importance is among the killed, but it has not yet been ascertained who he is.

There can be no doubt, that several of the Chief rebels led the attack yesterday, and it is the general opinion, that they have been much disheartened by the result.

Further intelligence will be sent express when it is received by me, and I have considerable bodies of Cavalry out.

As far as I can make out the enemy opened with 8 guns.

1. The Pay for any month of the English Artificers attached to the Royal Artillery is shewn in the margin. It includes Beer money; but is exclusive of Rations as in the case of other European Troops.

2. A Hospital Serjeant is not allowed per Troop or Company by the Royal Artillery Finance regulations; or by the rules of the Indian Government.

3. A Provost Serjeant is inadmissible for a single Troop or Company, but one will be allowed for 2 Troops or Companies on a Non-Effective Staff Pay of 8d. a day, as in European Regiments, and in the large Artillery Divisions of the Company's Army.

4. A Pay Serjeant per Troop, Company or Battery is entitled to a Non-Effective Staff Pay of (7) Seven Rupees per mensem.

5. Unless stores are attached to the Companies it does not appear necessary to retain a Non-Commissioned Officer in the grade of Quarter Master Serjeant with reserve Companies.

6. The Serjeant Conductor of Stores will be allowed an Extra Pay of 1 shilling and 6 pence a day besides the Pay of a Serjeant.

7. The Clerks allowed for the Lieutenant Colonel Commanding should be considered in the light of Orderly Room Clerks of Regiments, and should, as in the Battalion Offices, be paid by the Adjutant out of the allowances he receives on account of Writers and Stationery.

8. The allowance of Rupees (60) sixty per mensem for Command, Writing, Stationery, and repair of Arms and Accoutrements, which is given in European Troops and Companies of Artillery, precludes further claim on Government for Stationery and Office room.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 18TH JUNE 1858.

No. 237 of 1858.—The following General Order by the Government of India, is republished for the information of the Army.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 29th May 1858.

No. 172 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch, from the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army, dated 23d May 1858, forwarding a communication from Brigadier General Jones, C. B., Commanding Roorkee Field Force, detailing his operations since leaving Moradabad on the 3d, and his actions with the Rebels on the 5th and 6th of May, near and at Bareilly :—

From Brigadier-General JONES, C. B., Comdg. Roorkee Field Force.

To The Chief of the Staff,

Camp Shahjehanpore, 13th May 1858.

SIR,—On the 3d Instant, the Field Force left Moradabad for Bareilly, and on the morning of the 5th approached Meragunge, where a strong picquet of the Rebel Army was entrenched.

The Force that had been detached under Major Gordon, was re-called and joined near the village of Moollick.

I placed 4 Guns of No. 7 Light Field Battery on the right, supported by the Squadron of Carabineers and the Affghan Horse.

To the left I sent 2 Guns, and the Mooltanee Cavalry.

In the centre on the road were the heavy Guns, the 1st Sikhs on the right and the Royal Rifles on the left, supported by the 17th Punjaub Infantry. The 1st Punjaub Rifles were on the left of the 60th. In this formation, I passed through the Enemy's entrenchments, which he abandoned as I approached, retreating towards the River Dojora. As I saw it was not his intention to stand on this side of the stream, I determined to push him rapidly, and endeavour to capture his Guns, before they could be got into position on the other bank.

The Cavalry and Artillery on the right, were ordered to pass rapidly round a village, and come down on the Enemy's flank.

This order was admirably carried out by Captain Smith in Command who, moving swiftly, came up with the Rebels, and charging with the Affghan Horse, cut down a considerable number.

Finding it now impossible to get his 3 Guns over the ford, with this body in such close pursuit, the Enemy halted, formed up his Cavalry, and opened fire with his Guns.

Captain Austin instantly replied with shrapnell, and the destructive nature of this fire, and the imposing advance of the Carabineers, disconcerted these Horsemen, who turned and fled, leaving the Guns in Captain Smith's hands.

The Enemy attempted no further opposition, his well mounted Cavalry retreated rapidly to Bareilly with the General who had been sent from that City, with re-inforcements to check my advance.

The Field Force crossed the Dojora, and encamped on the left bank.

I enclose Captain Smith's Report, and also a detailed statement of the captured Ordnance. Early the next morning, I struck my Camp and drew up the Force close to the City of Bareilly. I failed in gaining positive intelligence of His Excellency's movements, as the country was swarming with fugitive Sowars, but my information led me to believe, that Khan Bahadoor had been defeated the day before, and that the Commander-in-Chief's Camp was pitched in the Cantonment.

I detached Captain Cureton with the Mooltanee Cavalry to the left, which appeared to be the Enemy's principal line of retreat, and this excellent Officer cut up about 100 of their Cavalry and Infantry among whom was the General, who had been sent out to oppose me.

Brigadier Coke led a party of Cavalry to the bridge, by which Bareilly is entered on this side, where he was informed some Guns had been abandoned; but he found them in position, and they opened on him with grape.

On this being reported to me by Major Muter, I ordered up the heavy Guns, and threw strong parties of the Royal Rifles into the gardens through which the road leads.

Brigadier Coke having reconnoitred and obtained a most correct idea of the position of those Guns, suggested, that our heavy Artillery should be moved to the right. Lieutenant Stubbs in charge, got his Guns into position at about 1,200 yards, and made some excellent practice.

By this fire, and that of the Rifles from the gardens, the Enemy were quickly silenced, when the Royal Rifles advanced, supported by the 17th Punjaub Infantry, and rushing up the street, captured at the point of the bayonet, the Guns the Enemy were endeavouring to withdraw.

Some Gazies threw themselves on these Soldiers, and were killed in the streets and adjoining houses; but a most valuable Color Serjeant of the Rifles was slain, and some men received severe sword cuts.

Under the direction of Brigadier Coke, the captured portion of the City was secured, the principal points being occupied and barricades erected in the streets.

While these operations were being performed, Captain Lambert with the 1st Punjaub Rifles, 2 Guns and the Squadron of Carabineers, made corresponding advance on the left, and bringing their left shoulders forward, swept the gardens clear of the Enemy, and advanced upon the bridge.

Entering the City with a portion of the Punjaub Rifles, he took part in the operations already described.

Captain Cureton was detached with a Squadron, and accompanied by my Aide-de-Camp, Lieutenant H. Deedes, passed round this City and entered His Excellency's Camp, whom I met the next morning in the centre of the City.

In these, the last operations of the Roorkee Field Force, 3 more Guns were captured, making in all since crossing into Rohileund on the 17th Instant, 36 pieces of Artillery.

The reputation borne by Brigadier Coke, C. B., led me to expect most valuable assistance from that Officer, and in this, I had in no instance, been disappointed. His high courage, energy, and judgment, render him an ornament to the service to which he belongs.

I am much indebted also to the Officers of his Brigade; to Major Palmer, who has so well Commanded the 1st Battalion 60th Rifles; to Major Gordon, Commanding the 1st Sikhs; Captain Larkins, of the 17th Punjaub Infantry, and Captain Lambert, of the 1st Punjaub Rifles.

I have before expressed the high estimation in which I hold Captain Cureton, of the Mooltanee Cavalry, who has shown himself so admirable a leader of Irregular Cavalry; and I am happy in bringing to His Excellency's notice, the distinguished part taken by Captain Smith, of the Affghan Horse, in the operations of the 5th.

I am much indebted to both Captain Austin, of the Artillery, and Captain Bott, of the Carabineers; for the steady support which they have always rendered.

I have also to notice three Officers, of the 60th Rifles, whose companies did such excellent and gallant service in the City; Captain Bowles, Captain McQueen, and Lieutenant Ashburnham.

I have received every assistance from Major Muter, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, also from Captain Tedlie, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General; Lieutenant H. Deedes, Aide-de-Camp, and Lieutenant Tyler, Orderly Officer. I am much indebted to that most valuable Officer, Captain Drummond, of the Engineers, and Lieutenant Brownlow, of the same Corps, and also Lieutenant W. Jeffreys, who Commanded the Sappers and Miners.

Surgeon Innes, Field Force Surgeon, has always exerted his excellent judgment and great skill to the utmost; and I am indebted to Captain Carter, Deputy Commissary General, for his untiring zeal.

I have &c.,

(Signed) JOHN JONES, Brigdr-Genl., Comdg. Roorkee Field Force.

From Captain A. SMITH, Commanding Affghan Horse.

To Major D. D. MUTER, Asst. Adj. Genl., Roorkee Field Force.

Camp Bareilly, the 7th May 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier General J. Jones, C. B., Commanding the Roorkee Field Force, that on the 5th Instant, agreeably to orders, I followed in pursuit of the retreating Enemy from the village of Meerung, with the Affghan Horse and Cocks' Rissalah, the latter under Lieutenant R. F. Angelo, 1st Punjaub Infantry. Strength together about 150.

During the pursuit, several fugitive Horsemen were overtaken and immediately cut down. After about 3 miles chase, we came upon a horsed Gun which had been abandoned by the flying Enemy; having secured which, we had advanced, but a short distance in continuance of the pursuit, when the Rebels opened on us with grape and round shot; observing that their fire swept down the road, I made a movement to the right, intending to charge their left flank, as however, there was a very large force of Cavalry in support of their position, and as my men had become much scattered owing to the rapidity of the pursuit, I deemed it necessary to wait till I should get a larger body collected.

The Enemy perceived our flank movement, and kept turning their Guns on us, thus removing their fire from the road, and leaving it clear for advance of Artillery of the Advanced Guard, which now came up, and taking up their position on our left opened fire.

During our gradual movement to the right, we were under a heavy fire as the Enemy had our range exactly. My own Horse was killed under me by a round shot, as was also that of a Sowar! and some were wounded with grape.

As soon as our Artillery ceased firing, we galloped forward, and got possession of 2 more Guns, cutting down the few Men who were just abandoning them, and continued the pursuit as far as the nullah at Dojora. Here observing the Enemy assembled about 700 strong, on the opposite bank, and most of our own party being very much behind, owing to the length of the pursuit, and the rapidity of the Rebel's flight, I drew up in a tope on this side to get my Men together, deeming that I carried out the orders I received in capturing the 3 Guns which were all, the Enemy were reported to have possessed. I should consider the Enemy's loss to be about 60 killed. Our own Casualties were of the Affghan Horse:—Men wounded 3, missing 1, supposed to be killed; Horses 1 killed, and 2 wounded. In Cocks' Rissalah, Men wounded 2, Horses killed 1, and wounded 1.

The Enemy's force consisted almost entirely of Cavalry and those well mounted.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) ANDREW SMITH, Captain, Comdg. Affghan Horse.

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 8th June 1858.

No. 63.—It has been brought to the notice of the Commander in Chief that the line of Electric Telegraph has latterly been unduly taken up by the transmission of Messages "on Service" of an ordinary nature such as might, without detriment to the public Service, have been despatched by post.

His Excellency calls upon all serving within the limits of this Command rigidly to abstain from making use of the Telegraph on Public Service except on occasions of decided public importance, in which a saving of time is indispensably necessary, and then to express themselves in the shortest possible terms.

Much Public and Private inconvenience has already arisen from the practice now forbidden.

9th June 1858.

Superintending Surgeon R. Cole, of the Mysore Division, is appointed to act as Superintending Surgeon Hyderabad Subsidiary Force, during the absence on medical certificate of Superintending Surgeon G. Pearse, M. D.

FORT ST. GEORGE, 25TH JUNE 1858.

No. 244 of 1858.—With reference to Section 4th of the Pay Code, head "Puckallies" the Right Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to sanction the following allotment of Puckallies for the Royal Artillery serving under the Madras Presidency; the same being in proportion to the greater strength of Troops and Companies relatively with those of the Madras Artillery.

To a Troop Horse Artillery (consisting of 196 men) ... 7 Puckallies.
 To a Field Battery (consisting of 219 men)..... 4 do
 To a Company in Garrison (consisting of 138 men)..... 3 do

The above number of Puckallies will be allowable when the Troop, Battery or Company is of the established strength; if below the established strength, a deduction in the number of Puckallies will be made on the principle here indicated. For instance the number of Puckallies allowed to a Troop of Horse Artillery is in the proportion of 1 to 28 men, a reduction of one Puckally therefore will be made if the number falls below 14.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 31st May 1858.

No. 174 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, No. 342 A, dated 23d May 1858, forwarding a communication from Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B., Commanding Central India Field Force, detailing his operations against, and the capture of the fortress and town of Jhansie.

His Lordship entirely concurs with the Commander-in-Chief in the satisfaction His Excellency has expressed at the manner in which this fortress has been captured by Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, and in His Excellency's high estimation of the services of the Major-General, and of the Officers and Men under his Command :—

To The Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept., with the Govr. Genl.

Head Quarters Camp, Shahjehanpore, The 23d May 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief to enclose, for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of a Despatch, dated the 30th Ultimo, from Major-General Sir H. Rose, K. C. B., Commanding Central India Field Force, detailing the operations of the Troops under his Command, against the fortress and town of Jhansie.

2. His Excellency desires to express his cordial satisfaction with the manner in which the capture of this important place was effected, and his perfect appreciation of the services of Sir H. Rose and those under his Command, and he begs to recommend all to the favorable consideration of His Lordship, especially those who have been more prominently mentioned by the Major-General.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

From Major-General Sir HUGHROSE, K. C. B., Comdg. Central India Field Force.

To The Chief of the Staff.

Camp, Mote, 30th April 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report to you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the operations of my force against the fortress and fortified city of Jhansie.

With the view to acquire rapid information respecting the Enemy's movements, I established a telegraph on a hill Commanding Jhansie, and the surrounding country. It was of great use, telegraphing the Ranees flight, the approach of the Enemy from the Betwa, &c.

On the 2nd Instant, Major Boileau reported to me that he had made all the necessary preparations for the escalade, and that a 24-Pounder Howitzer had been placed in battery in front of the Jokun Bagh for the purpose of enfilading, and clearing during the night the wall from the mound to the Fort, and the rocket bastion which is on it.

I issued a division order for the assault of the defences of the city wall, of which a copy, with a plan of attack, was furnished to the officers in Command.

I have the honor to enclose copies of reports from Brigadier Stuart, Commanding my 1st Brigade, and Brigadier Steuart, Commanding my 2d Brigade of the operations of their respective Columns against Jhansie.

The left attack ably and gallantly conducted by Brigadier Stuart, succeeded perfectly, its right Column passing without loss, or difficulty through the breach, which turned out as well as I thought it would. And the left effecting with some casualties, the escalade of the rocket bastion. Colonel Louth, Commanding Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, acted with cool judgment, and I witnessed with lively pleasure the devotion and gallantry of his Regiment.

The 3d Europeans under Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell did their duty, as they always have done; but they could not control adverse circumstances, arising from bad ladders, and a mistake in the road, they returned to the assault with alacrity, and fought their way through the town manfully.

I beg leave to support earnestly the recommendation of Officers contained in these Reports of the Brigadiers, particularly of Captain Garby, wounded. Lieutenant Dartnell severely wounded in three places, who led the assault of the rocket bastion, and Lieutenant Fox, severely wounded. It will be a gratification also to the relatives of Lieutenants Micklejohn and Dick, of the Bombay Engineers, to know that these two young Officers had gained by esteem by the intelligence and coolness which they evinced as Engineer Officers during the siege. I should have recommended both for promotion, if they had not died in their country's cause, for conspicuous gallantry in leading the way up two scaling ladders.

The 86th on the road to the Palace from the mound sustained many casualties from their left flank being exposed as they passed through an open space to a flanking musketry fire from an outwork of the Fort, and from houses, and the Palace itself to their front. I directed loop-holes for Riflemen to be made through houses which brought a fire to bear on the outwork of the Fort, a large house to be occupied close to the Palace, and covered communication to be made to the mound.

The skirmishers of the Regiment penetrated gallantly into the Palace. The few men who still held it, made an obstinate resistance, setting fire to trains of Gun-powder, from which several of the 86th received fatal injuries.

Having received no reports from the right attack, composed of the 3rd Europeans and Hyderabad Contingent, I made my way to them in the South-east quarter of the city. I found them engaged with the Enemy, and making their way to the Palace; the Rebels were firing at them from the houses, which the troops were breaking open, and clearing of their defenders.

I found Lieutenant Colonel Turnbull, Commanding the Artillery here, wounded mortally, I deeply regret to say, by a musket shot from a house.

He had followed me through the breach into the streets, and having received directions from me to bring Guns into the city to batter houses in which Rebels held out, he had gone round by the right to the east quarter of the City to fix the road by which they were to enter. The Aubagate was the best for Guns, but it was so barricaded by masses of stones, that it could not be opened for several hours.

In the despatches I have recorded the excellent service performed by Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull, particularly in the general action of the Betwa, always exposing himself to the fire of the Enemy in order to choose the best positions for his Guns. This devoted Officer was as useful to me as Commandant of Artillery as Captain of a Troop of Horse Artillery.

His premature fall prevented his receiving the reward which was his due. I can now only earnestly recommend, that his numerous family may inherit their father's claims on his country.

The right and left attacks being now concentrated in the Palace, I gained possession of a large portion of the City by advancing the 3rd Europeans to the North East, and occupying the Burrahgong-gate, on which I rested their right flank, forming an oblique line from the gate to the Palace with the 3rd Europeans and the 86th in the Palace. The two Regiments occupying with picquets commanding houses to their front. This line was a prolongation of the second line leading from the mound under the front to the Palace. This done, it was necessary to clear the large portion of the City in rear of this oblique line of the numerous armed Rebels who remained in the houses, and who were firing on the Troops. This was not effected without bloody, often hand-to-hand combats, one of the most remarkable of them was between detachments of Her Majesty's 85th Regiment and 3d Europeans, and thirty or forty Velaitie Sowars, the Body-guard of the Ranees in the Palace, Stables under the fire of the Fort. The Sowars full of Opium, defended their Stables, firing with matchlocks and pistols from the windows and loop-holes, and cutting with their tulwars, and from behind the doors. When driven in they retreated behind their houses, still firing or fighting with their swords in both hands till they were shot or bayoneted struggling even when dying on the ground to strike again. A party of them remained in a room off the stables which was on fire till they were half-burnt; their clothes in flames they rushed out hacking at their assailants, and guarding their heads with their shields.

Captain Rose, my Aide-de-Camp, saved the life of a man of the 86th, who was down, by bayoneting his assailant.

All the Sowars were killed, but not without several casualties on our side. The gallant Soldiers captured in the quarters of the Sowars, the Ranees standards, three standards of the body guard, three kettle drums and horses, and an English Union Jack of silk, which Sir Robert Hamilton tells me Lord William Bentick had given the grandfather of the husband of the Ranees, with the permission to have it the Soldiers their request to hoist on the Palace the flag of their country which they had so bravely won. Captain Sandwith, who was wounded, commanded with spirit the Europeans on this occasion, and Serjeant Brown, of the Commissariat Department, was the first to dash boldly into the stables.

Numerous incidents marked the desperate feeling which animated the defenders. A retainer of the Ranees tried to blow up himself and his wife; failing in the attempt, he endeavoured to cut her to pieces and then killed himself. Two Vilaities attacked by the videttes, threw a woman who was with them into a well, and then jumped down it themselves.

Whilst engaged in the town, I received a report from the Officer Commanding one of the Hyderabad Cavalry Flying Camps, that large body of the Enemy flying from the town, had tried to force his picquet; that a few had succeeded, but that the main body from 350 to 500 strong, had been driven back, and had occupied a high and rocky hill to the west of the Fort; that he had surrounded the hill with Cavalry till re-inforcements were sent. I immediately ordered out from the Camps of the two Brigades, the available Troops of all arms against the Hill. The enclosed Report from Major Gall, shows how satisfactorily these Rebels were disposed of. Lieutenant Park was killed whilst gallantly leading on a party of the 24th Bombay Native Infantry, along the ridge of the hill. The Ranees father, Mamoo Sahib, was amongst the Rebels; he was wounded on the hill, and captured some days afterwards and hanged at the Jokun Bagh.

After having cleared the quarter of the town in our possession of the Enemy, I had intended attacking the remainder of it, but deferred doing so till the next day on Brigadier Stuart's representation, that the men were too much exhausted for any further operations that day.

Towards sunset it was telegraphed from the observatory, that the Enemy were approaching from the East. I had therefore to re-occupy with all the force I could collect, the field of action of the Betwa, the devoted Troops marching to a fresh combat after thirteen hours' fighting in a burning sun with as much spirit if they had not been engaged at all.

The alarm proved to be a false one, Troops from Tehree having been mistaken for the Enemy.

The next day Brigadier Stuart and myself occupied the rest of the City by a combined movement, assisted by Major Gall, who spiritedly scaled the bastion at the Onow-gate from his Flying Camp, and capturing the Gun that was there, threw it down the rampart.

The following morning, a wounded Mahratta retainer of the Ranees, was sent in to me from Captain Abbott's Flying Camp. He stated that the Ranees, accompanied by 300 Vilaities and 25 Sowars, fled that night from the Fort; that after leaving it, they had been headed back by one of the picquets where the Ranees and her party separated, she herself taking to the right with a few Sowars in the direction of her intended flight to Bandiri. The observatory also telegraphed "Enemy escaping to the North-east." I immediately sent off strong detachments of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, 3rd Light Cavalry and Hyderabad Cavalry to pursue, with Guns to support them, as it was said that Tantai Topee had sent a Force to meet her. I also sent Brigadier Steuart, with Cavalry, to watch the fords of the Betwa.

In the meantime detachments of the 86th and 3rd Europeans took possession of the fortress.

In sight of Bandiri, 21 miles from Jhansie, the Cavalry came in sight of the Irregular Horse, sent to meet the Ranees, which separated probably with the view to mislead her pursuers as to her real course. Lieutenant Dowker, Hyderabad Cavalry, was sent by Captain Forbes, through the town of Bandiri, whilst he with the 3rd Light Cavalry and 14th Light Dragoons, passed it by the left. In the town, Lieutenant Dowker saw traces of the Ranees' hasty flight, and her tent in which was an unfinished breakfast; on the other side of the town he came up with and cut up forty of the Enemy consisting of Rohillas and Bengal Irregular Cavalry. Lieutenant Dowker was gaining fast on the Ranees, who with four attendants, was seen escaping on a grey horse, when he was dismounted by a severe wound, and obliged to give up the pursuit.

From the time the troops took the Palace, the Rebels lost heart and began to leave the town and fort. Nothing could prove more the efficiency of the investment than the number of them cut up by the picquets of the Flying Camps; the woods, gardens and roads round the towns were strewn with the corpses of fugitive Rebels. The Ranees flight was the signal for a general retreat. Early in the morning, I caused the outskirts of the City to be scoured with Cavalry and Infantry; it will give some idea of the destruction of insurgents which ensued when a party of the 14th Dragoons alone killed two hundred in one patrol. The Rebels who were chiefly Vilaities and Pathans, generally sold their lives as dearly as they could, fighting to the last with their usual dexterity and firmness. A band of 40 of these desperadoes barricaded themselves in a spacious house with a court yard, vaults, &c.; before they were aware of its strength, it was attacked by a detachment of Hyderabad Infantry under Captain Hare, with the loss of Captain Sinclair, of whose conduct it is my duty again to make honorable mention. Reinforcements and several pieces of siege Artillery were brought up by Major Orr, who commanded the attack against the house, but even when it had been breached and knocked to pieces, the Rebels continued to resist in the ruined passages and vaults. They were all as usual destroyed, but not without several casualties on our part. Major Orr expresses his obligations to Captains Woolcombe and Douglas, of the Bombay and Bengal Artillery. Lieutenant Lewis, and Ensign Fowler, of Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, the first very severely wounded, who led the men, and also Lieutenant Simpson, 23rd Regiment Bengal Native Infantry, wounded.

Captain Abbott, Hyderabad Cavalry, speaks highly of the gallantry with which Lieutenant Dun and detachments of the 1st and 4th Hyderabad Cavalry stormed, dismounted a house and garden held obstinately by the fugitives, and he recommends, as I beg to do also, the Officers whose names follow for promotion and for the Order of Merit for gallantry in the field.

RECOMMENDED FOR PROMOTION.

1st Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent.
Ressaldar Allaooddeen Khan, 3rd Troop.
Jemadar Mahomedeen Khan, wounded.

and Syed Sharief, 2d Cavalry, doing duty with 1th Cavalry.

RECOMMENDED FOR THE ORDER OF MERIT.

1st Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent.
Ressaldar Allaooddeen Khan, 3rd Troop.
Jemadar Mahomedeen Khan, 3rd Troop,
Wounded.

4th Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent.
Jemadar Hunooman Sing, Wounded.

It was not till Jhansie was taken, that its great strength was known.

There was only one part of the fortress, the South curtain, which was considered practicable for breaching. But when inside, we saw this was a mistake, there being at some distance in rear of the curtain a massive wall 15 or 20 feet thick, and immediately in rear of this a deep tank cut out of the live rock.

I beg leave to bring to the favorable notice of the Commander-in-Chief, the conduct of the Troops under my Command in the siege investment, and capture of Jhansie.

They had to contend against an Enemy more than double their numbers, behind formidable fortifications who defended themselves afterwards from house to house, in a spacious city, often under the fire of the Fort afterwards in suburbs, and in very difficult ground, outside the walls. The investing Cavalry force were day and night for 17 days on arduous duty, the men not taking their clothes off, the horses saddled and bridled up at night. The nature of the defence and the strictness of the investment, gave rise to continued and fierce combats; for the Rebels having no hope, sought to sell their lives as dearly as they could. But the discipline and gallant spirit of the Troops enabled them to overcome difficulties and opposition of every sort, to take the fortified city of Jhansie by storm, subduing the strongest fortress in Central India, and killing 5,000 of its Rebel garrison.

According to the first reports which I received, only 3,000 Rebels were killed, but those received since the withdrawal of the seven Flying Camps, make the loss of the Enemy amount to above 5,000 killed. Native accounts received by Brigadier Wheeler at Sangor, make the loss of Rebels to amount to more than 5,000.

I beg to recommend to His Excellency for gallant and good service in investing the fortress and city of Jhansie, Major Scudamore, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, the Senior Officer in Command of the Flying Camps; Major Gall, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons; Major Forbes, C. B., Commanding 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry; Captain Abbott, and Lieutenant Dowker, Hyderabad Cavalry.

The Commander-in-Chief will learn with pleasure, that the Troops under my Command, treated with great humanity the women and children of Jhansie: neither the desperate resistance of the Rebels nor the recollections of Jhansie of last year, could make them forget that in an English Soldier's eyes, women and children are spared; so far from hunting, the Troops were seen sharing their rations with them I gave orders also that the destitute women and children of Jhansie should be fed out of the prize grain.

I have the honor to enclose a List of the Guns and Ordnance Stores, captured in the city and Fort of Jhansie, and of the Casualties of the force during the siege. I regret much that our loss should have been so considerable, but it was caused in a great measure by the strict investment, which prove so fatal to the Enemy, and loss of my force is out of all proportion smaller than that of the Enemy.

They lost 50 to my one killed, not counting the wounded on our side.

I beg leave to state the obligations I am under to the following Officers for the services which they have rendered to me, during the Siege Operations and capture of Jhansie.

Brigadier Stuart, Commanding 1st Brigade; Brigadier Steuart, C. B., Commanding 2nd Brigade Lieutenant-Colonel Louth, Commanding Her Majesty's 86th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, Commanding 3rd Bombay European Regiment; Major Scudamore, Commanding Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons; Major Orr, Commanding Hyderabad Field Force; Major Forbes, C. B., Commanding 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry; Major Robertson, Commanding 25th Regiment Native Infantry; Captain Lightfoot, Commanding Battery Bombay Artillery; Captain Woolcombe, Commanding Battery Bombay Artillery; Captain Fenwick, Commanding Company Royal Engineers; Captain Hare, Commanding 5th Regiment, Hyderabad Infantry; Captain Brown, Commanding Company Madras Sappers and Miners; Lieutenant Goodfellow, Commanding Company Bombay Sappers and Miners; Lieutenant Lowry, Commanding Battery Royal Artillery.

General Staff.

Captain Wood, Assistant Adjutant-General; Captain Macdonald, Assistant Quarter-Master General; Major Boileau, Commanding Engineers; Captain Ommancey, Commanding Artillery; Lieutenant Haggard, Commissary of Ordnance; Doctor Arnott, Superintending Surgeon; Doctor Vaughan, Staff Surgeon; Captain Rose, Aide-de-Camp; Lieutenant Lyste, Interpreter.

I have much gratification in bringing to the notice of His Excellency, the Officers mentioned in the Brigade Despatches:—

First Brigade.

Major Stuart, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment.
Lieutenant Dartnell, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment.
Lieutenant Fowler, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment.
Lieutenant Jerome, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment.
Lieutenant Webber, Royal Engineers.
Ensign Sewel, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment.

Brigade Staff.

Captain Coley, Major of Brigade; Captain Bacon, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master-General.

From Brigadier C. S. STUART, Comdg. 1st Brigade, Central India Field Force,

To The Assistant Adjutant General, Central India Field Force.

Camp, Jhansie, 13th April 1858.

SIR,—In compliance with Field Force Orders, No. 7, of yesterday's date, I have the honor to transherewith a Return of Casualties in the 1st Brigade, Central India Field Force, during the siege and storm of Jhansie, and with reference to the latter, beg to place on record the part taken in it by the Brigade under my Command.

2. As directed in Field Orders, dated 2d April, the assaulting Column of the 1st Brigade was formed up at day-break of the 3d April, ready to move on the two points of attack which had been indicated, viz., the breach at the mound, and the rocket tower, and the low curtain immediately to the right of it. Lieutenant-Colonel Lowth, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, Commanded the former, Major Stuart, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, the latter, attack. On the signal being given, both parties moved steadily to the point under a smart fire from the Enemy. Captain Darby, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, led the stormers up the breach in the most gallant manner, and the Enemy were driven before them at all points, while at the same time Major Stuart's attack by escalade at the rocket tower succeeded admirably, though hotly opposed. On gaining the town, Lieutenant-Colonel Lowth, with great judgment, moved part of his Men to his right, and thus took the Enemy in flank and rear, when they were meeting the right attack of the 2nd Brigade with great vigour. All the Troops then of the 1st Brigade concentrated in the Rancee's Palace, which was taken possession of by Lieutenant-Colonel Lowth and his Men in the most gallant manner. As the Major-General himself was witness of greater part of the operations at this, and at a subsequent period, I do not enter into further details.

I beg in conclusion to bring to the notice of the Major-General, the excellent and gallant behaviour of both Officers and Men, of the 1st Brigade on this occasion: the energy and judgment displayed by Lieutenant-Colonel Lowth, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, proved of the greatest service, and much contributed to the success of our attack. Major Stuart, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, carried out the duties confided to him in the most satisfactory manner, and led the escalading party with the greatest gallantry; he was assisted by Lieutenant Dartnell, and Ensigns Sewell and Fowler, of Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, who were all wounded, the first two Officers severely; also by Lieutenant Webber, Royal Engineers, Commanding the ladder party of the Royal Sappers, who most ably performed their duty. On this occasion Lieutenant Dartnell greatly distinguished himself, as also Serjeant Alleyne Wolfe, and Private Roger Mathews, both of Her Majesty's 86th Regiment: the conduct of Lieutenant Jerome, and Private Burns, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, has also been brought to my notice: under a murderous fire they carried off Ensign Sewell who had fallen severely wounded, and who would otherwise have been cut up. I lament to say that Surgeon Stock, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, was killed near the Palace whilst most nobly and courageously attending the wounded under a hot fire. I beg also to record an act of daring on the part of Havildar Shaick Dawood, Light Company 25th Regiment Native Infantry, brought to my notice by Captain Little, Commanding that Regiment. After an entrance had been effected into the city, a number of Rebels were found to have taken refuge in the recesses of a large well, the only approach to which was by narrow and steep stairs having a sharp turning, at which one resolute man could have kept off any number: whilst measures were being arranged for seizing these Rebels, Havildar Shaick Dawood volunteered to capture them, so fixing his bayonet he boldly descended the well, and being followed by others, brought up thirteen of the Enemy.

I have, &c.,

No. 226.

From Brigadier C. STEUART, C. B. Comdg. 2d Brigade Central I. F. F.

To the Assistant Adjutant-General, Central India Field Force.

Camp, Jhansie, 29th April 1858.

SIR,—In obedience to orders received through you, the Brigade under my Command moved in two Columns on the morning of the 3rd of April to the assault of the town of Jhansie.

The left Column, led by Captain Robison, 3rd Bombay European Regiment, the right by Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, advanced with great steadiness through a very heavy fire of musketry and wall pieces towards the ladders, on reaching which they were assailed with rockets, earthen-pots filled with powder, and in fact every sort of missile.

On arriving at the temple where the reserve of which I was in Command was to take up its position Major Boileau, Madras Engineers, came to me and reported that the ladders were without protection, and requested me to give him some Europeans to protect them. I therefore gave him the hundred men of the 3rd Bombay European Regiment that were with the reserve; Lieutenant Meiklejohn and Dick, of the Bombay Engineers, led the way up the ladders of the right Column, both of whom were wounded, the latter severely. The ladders were found in some instances too short, in others too weak, breaking under the Men who were thus unnecessarily exposed, and the movement was made with great precision and coolness.

Shortly after this, Captain Robison, 3rd Bombay European Regiment, was informed by Captain Barby, Executive Engineer, that some of the 86th Regiment had entered by the breach to his left, and he doubled some of his party round to that point, at which he effected an entry and cleared the ramparts so as to enable the remainder to mount the ladders unopposed. Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, on finding his ladders of no use, ordered Lieutenant Goodfellow, of the Bombay Engineers, to try a bag of powder at a postern, but from being built up inside, no entry could be effected; however by this time Captain Robison had made good his lodgement, and was followed by the right Column, when all proceeded towards the palace, which, as the Major-General is aware, was taken after a desperate resistance.

Both Column behaved with great coolness and gallantry, and I trust I may be pardoned for bringing their leaders to the notice of the Major-General; as also Captain Sandwith, and Lieutenant Park, 3rd Bombay European Regiment; Lieutenant Goodfellow, Bombay Engineers, and also Privates Few and Whirlpool, 3rd Bombay European Regiment, of whom Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell speaks in the highest terms. Captain Robison's conduct in doubling round with some of his men to the breach, speaks for itself; but he has brought to my notice Corporal Hard, Privates Roger and Archibald, all of the Grenadier Company, and Private Drummond, No. 1, and Private Doran, No. 3 Company, of the 3rd Bombay European Regiment, all of whom fought most gallantly at the head of the ladders till they gave away. Ensign Newport and Private Gillman of No. 1 Company, 3rd Bombay European Regiment, assisted by Corporal Hard, of the Grenadiers, carried off the body of Lieutenant Fox, of the Madras Sappers and Miners, through the hottest of the fire, after Captain Robison had ordered the Troops to retire; Lieutenant Bonus, Bombay Engineers, has also been specially brought to my notice for the gallant manner in which he led up and maintained his position on the ladders, until disabled and knocked over by the blow of a stone.

Captain Todd, Brigade Major, and Captain Leckie, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General of the 2d Brigade, on this, as on every previous opportunity, have afforded me every assistance, and it is only to the circumstance of all former operations in which they have been engaged, being conducted so entirely under the Major-General, as to render any special report from me unnecessary, that I have failed in earlier bringing my sense of their worth to his notice; a circumstance which I feel sure will not act to their detriment.

I have, &c.

Allahabad, the 31st May 1858.

No. 176 of 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General is pleased to publish, for general information, the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, dated 24th May 1858, forwarding copy of one from Major-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., reporting his operations between the 10th and 13th Instant, with Returns of Casualties and of Ordnance captured.

No. 9858.

From Major General J. H. GRANT, Commanding Lucknow Field Force.
To the Chief of the Staff.

Head Quarters, Camp, Nugger, 14th May 1858.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, that on the morning of the 10th Instant, the Column under my Command arrived at Doundea Keira, which is a strong mud Fort in the midst of jungle, belonging to the Rebel Ram Buksh. On my arrival at this Fort, I found it deserted. Three Guns were found concealed in wells, one a brass 32-Pounder Howitzer. I had the Fort destroyed as much as possible, and the principal buildings in the Town belonging to Ram Buksh burnt. On the 12th, the Column marched to Nugger, and hearing there that Bene Madho and Shewrutten Sing had assembled an Army of 15,000 Infantry, 1,600 Cavalry, and 11 Guns at Sirsee, a village with a Fort in it five miles off, I determined that afternoon to proceed to attack them, leaving all the baggage, supplies, &c., with tents struck, in a safe position, with a force of Cavalry, Infantry, and Artillery for its protection.

It is very difficult in this country to get good information, though there are several excellent Civil Officers with the Column for that purpose; the consequence was, on arriving at the ground, I found it much stronger than I had reason to expect. The Enemy were placed along a difficult nullah with a very strong and large jungle in their rear. The Village and Fort of Towrie also lay in this jungle. The Enemy's first Gun began to open about 5 o'clock, but, as soon as our Column was formed with the Cavalry and Horse Artillery covering our right flank, they were attacked with such boldness and vigour, that they gave way and were driven into the jungle, leaving two Iron Guns behind them, a 9-Pounder and 8-Pounder.

Our Column was almost surrounded at one time, but the Cavalry and Artillery, the former Commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Hagart, a very superior Officer, and the latter by Captain Gibbon, succeeded in clearing our right flank, Brigadier Horsford, with the Rifles and Seikhs, supported by the 90th Regiment, in the most admirable manner drove them away from our left flank; the 38th Regiment supported the heavy Guns. The Enemy suffered a considerable loss, and it is reported and I believe with truth, that Shewruttin-Singh and his brother are both killed.

I did not think it advisable to allow the Troops to enter the jungle, and I directed them to bivouac for the night on the ground where the fight had taken place, and returned on the morning of the 13th to the Camp at Nuggur.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. HOPE GRANT, Major-General, Comdg. Lucknow Field Force.

HEAD QUARTERS: Camp Jellalabad, 24th May 1858.

Allahabad, the 1st June 1858.

No. 178 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Letter from the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army, No. 356 A, dated 28th May 1858, forwarding two despatches from Brigadier-General Jones, C. B., announcing his advance on Mohumdee, and his capture of that place.

No. 356 A.

From the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army,
To The Secretary to the Government of India, Mily. Dept., with the Govr. Genl.

Head Quarters Camp, Futtehgurh, The 28th May 1858.

Sir,—By desire of the Commander-in-Chief, I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, two Despatches,* dated the 24th and 25th Instant, from Brigadier-General J. Jones, C. B., announcing his advance on, and capture of the Mohumdee.

2. The Brigadier-General's operations were, His Excellency considers, pressed with their usual vigour, but the retreat of the Enemy was so rapid that he was not able to inflict heavy loss on the fugitives.

3. The Commander-in-Chief had himself arrived at Shahjehanpore with a weak escort on the 18th Instant. On the afternoon of that day, the Enemy showed in considerable force and there was a prolonged skirmish. The arrangements of the Force did not permit of an advance, and His Excellency restricted the efforts of the Troops. The Enemy suffered from the effects of our cannonade. A return of Casualties on this occasion is annexed.

4. The Commander-in-Chief thought it advisable to remain at Shahjehanpore till a sufficient Force had been assembled at that place to admit of the Brigadier General's forward movement being made with perfect safety. His Excellency's presence being much needed on the line of the telegraph communication owing to the numerous references from the Commanders of the various Columns still in the Field, he returned to Futtehgurh on the 25th Instant, very exact instructions having been given to Brigadier-General Jones for his guidance.

5. Head-Quarters are still at Futtehgurh.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army

GENERAL ORDERS

By His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

HEAD QUARTERS, OOTACAMUND, 14th June 1858.

Until further orders Captain L. A. Brydon, of H. M.'s 74th Highlanders, is appointed to Command the Convalescent Depot at Jackatalla.

No. 67.—The Commander in Chief directs it to be notified that Government has granted authority for two Farriers being attached to each of the Light Field Batteries driven by Europeans on the Peace Establishment, on the same Staff Allowances as is allowed in the Horse Brigade and in the East Indian Driver Companies.

A Puckally for each of the Batteries is also sanctioned.

No. 68.—The Commander in Chief leaves it discretionary with Officers Commanding Native Corps, to transfer Lascars, Puckallies, Bheasties Artificers, Bazar Chowdries and Peons to the ranks as Privates without previous reference to Army Head Quarters provided the parties wishing the transfer are pronounced in all respects fit for the ranks and are not above 28 years of age.

Such of the above as are entitled by the Regulations to Pension will be allowed to reckon three fourths of their service at the time of transfer towards Pension in their new grade, but not towards good Conduct Pay, the service for which counts from date of transfer as Private.

The Monthly Returns shewing the transfer should also shew under the head "Alterations and Casualties" the amount of service each man so transferred, is entitled to count.

The undermentioned Officer has obtained leave of absence from his Dept. and Station.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Allahabad, the 2d June 1858.

No. 182 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish for general information, the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, dated 26th May 1858, forwarding a Report by Brigadier-General Sir E. Lugard, K. C. B., of the operations of the Azimgurh Field Force, with Returns of Casualties and Ordnance captured in the skirmish at Jugdespore, on the 9th Ultimo :—

From Brigadier-General Sir E. LUGARD, K. C. B., Commanding Azimgurh Field Force.

To the Chief of the Staff,

Camp Jugdespore, 10th May 1858.

Sir,—I have the honor to make the following Report, of the operations of the Azimgurh Field Force under my Command, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

My last Despatch, dated the 25th Ultimo, will have informed you of the result of the pursuit of Koer Sing's Force, which I had directed under Brigadier Douglas, C. B., and of my having marched from Azimgurh on the 23rd Idem, to join the Brigadier in furtherance of the operations against the fugitives.

On the 30th Ultimo, learning that alarm was felt for the safety of Arrah, I directed Brigadier Douglas, who had already crossed his Troops over to the right bank, to move the 84th Foot, Sikh Cavalry, and two 9-Pounder Guns to that Station, without delay; and by making forced marches, I reached "Synha Ghat" on the 2d Instant, and at mid-day of the 4th, the whole of my Force was crossed to the right bank notwithstanding the prevalence of a strong Easterly gale, which continually prevented the boats leaving the bank, and on the 5th Instant, I reached Arrah.

As my Troops had not halted since quitting Azimgurh, and the marches had been of great length, I remained at Arrah on the 6th, to give them rest, and to enable me to have an interview with the Commissioner of Patna, and Brigadier Christie, who had come over on purpose to afford me all the assistance in their power in making my arrangements.

So far as I could learn from the extremely scanty information procurable, (every soul in the district being apparently against us), the Rebels confidently calculated upon my moving upon them East by the direct road from Arrah, via "Deena," or due South from Beheea, both of which led through dense jungle, and had been strongly entrenched. I therefore decided upon attacking from the West, but to provide against any attempt upon Arrah, I detached from Beheea on the morning of the 8th a Moveable Force, composed of a party of Sikh Sowars, two 9-Pounder Guns, two Companies 84th Foot, and one Company Madras Rifles, under Major Carr, (M. R.) with instructions to take post a few miles from the Town of Arrah on the Jugdespore road, and to be prepared to move as circumstances required. At the same time I despatched a patrol of Cavalry and Horse Artillery towards Damnaon, under Lieutenant-Colonel Robertson, Military Train; to distract the attention of the Enemy, and to conceal my ultimate plans, whilst I remained at Beheea threatening that road. A body of Rebels made an attempt during the day to cross the line of Railroad to my rear, but were driven back into the jungle with some loss.

On the 9th, I moved through the belt of jungle beyond Beheea, and circling due South, came upon the West side of Jugdespore, where the country is pretty open by the village of "Hatumpore." Sowars had given timely notice of my approach to the parties posted at the entrenchments of Deleca and Duwa, so on my arrival opposite Jugdespore, I found the whole Rebel Force prepared to defend their position; this decided me upon attacking the place at once, and as soon as the Troops were formed, I advanced upon it in line; the 10th Foot and one Company of Sikhs, with two 9-Pounder Guns on the right, the two 8-inch Howitzers in the centre, and the 84th Foot, with a Company of Madras Rifles and two 9-Pounder Guns on the left, the Cavalry and Horse Artillery protecting my flanks and rear.

The Rebels made a determined stand, first at the high embankments of a large tank, and when driven back by the Artillery fire, they held with much obstinacy the village and house of Jugdespore, but were speedily dislodged and driven through the jungle by the Infantry. Some of the 84th Foot arrived first at Koer Sing's house, and turned a Gun they found inside the enclosure, charged with grape, upon the Enemy; this Gun (with two others unfinished,) had been recently constructed for the purpose of defending the position; it was formed of wood with a copper tube, most skilfully made, and although unfit for much service, would have answered effectually for a short defence; a good deal of ammunition, tents, &c. were captured, with some store of grain; the Rebels fled South through the jungle.

After posting four Companies of European Infantry and one Company of Sikhs, under Captain Norman, 10th Foot, to hold Jugdespore for the night. I encamped the remainder of my Force on the plain between Hctumpore and Jugdespore,

My Casualties, I am happy to say, amounted to only two men slightly wounded.

I have much pleasure in expressing my great approbation of the conduct of all the Troops engaged.

I have, &c.,

No. 183 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch, from the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army, No. 352 A, dated 27th May 1858, forwarding a Report from Major W. Middleton, 17th Madras Native Infantry, of the successful operations of the Column under his Command, on the banks of the Jumna near the village of Ghurrah, on the 9th Ultimo. His Lordship concurs with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, in viewing the whole affair as most creditable to Major Middleton, and the Troops under his Command:—

No. 352 A.

From the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army,
To The Secretary to the Government of India, Mily. Dept., with the Govr. Genl.

Head Quarters Camp, Futtelgurh, the 27th May 1858.

SIR,—By desire of the Commander-in-Chief, I have the honor to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General, the enclosed copy of a Report from Major W. Middleton, 17th Madras Native Infantry, relating the operations of the Column under his Command, on the banks of the Jumna near the village of Ghurrah, where a party of Rebels was successfully surprised and destroyed.

2. The whole affair appears to His Excellency to be creditable to Major Middleton, and the Troops under his Command.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

From Major W. MIDDLETON, Comdg. Moveable Column.
To the Brigade Major, Madras Troops, Futtchpore.

Camp Ghatumpore, 10th May 1858.

Sir,—Agreeable to instructions received through Brigadier Cartlew, from the Assistant Adjutant General's Office, Cawnpore, I have the honor to report that not being able to obtain any certain information regarding the movements of a large body of Rebels that were threatening this place, I advanced the Moveable Column under my Command to this Station on the 8th Instant, and upon inquiry I ascertained that about 200 Rebel Sepoys, and a large body of Villagers had after plundering Lallpore, retired to the village of Ghurrah on the banks of the Jumna, distant from here 12 miles and were encamped there; and as they appeared to be the dread of this neighbourhood, I determined (with the assistance of a detachment of Her Majesty's 80th Regiment, kindly placed at my disposal by Colonel Maxwell) to drive them across the Jumna.

2. On the morning of the 9th Instant, I advanced with the Force as per margin towards the village of Ghurrah. On approaching the village, I ordered H. M.'s 80th Regt., Detachment and Madras Rifles, to advance in skirmishing order with supports. The Detachment 17th Regiment Madras Native Infantry forming the reserve, the Detachment 8th Bengal Irregular Cavalry forming on the right of the skirmishers. The Guns moving in rear of the skirmishers.

While moving forward in this order, a number of Men were seen escaping to the right with the intention of crossing by a ford, but they were intercepted by the Cavalry, (the Rebels opened fire upon them) and driven back. On the skirmishers approaching the banks of the river, the Rebels after firing a few shots fled, throwing their muskets and matchlocks into the river; between three and four hundred precipitated themselves into the water, and tried to reach the opposite bank; the Guns had by this time got into position and opened fire, which, together with the deadly fire of the Infantry, proved so severe that very few reached the opposite shore; three boats succeeded in escaping before the force came up; these, filled with Rebels opened fire upon us, but were soon silenced by Guns and Enfields: they took refuge in the bottom of their boats, until a favourable opportunity occurred of escape.

After clearing the river, I ordered the retreat to be sounded. We remained under some trees during the remainder of the day, and at 5 p. m. marched for our encampment. It is quite impossible to make any estimate of the loss of the Rebels, but I should suppose at the least there were 200 killed and wounded, while the loss on our side only amounted to one private of the 80th Regiment wounded, (contusion,) and one Private 80th Regiment missing. I cannot conclude without bringing to the notice of the Brigadier Commanding, the valuable services rendered by Lieutenant Woodcock, 8th Irregular Bengal Cavalry; by Lieutenant Bridge, Commanding Madras Artillery; by Captain Browne, Commanding Detachment Her Majesty's 80th Regiment; by Lieutenant Obbard, Commanding Detachment 17th Regiment Madras Native Infantry; by Captain Doveton, Commanding Madras Detachment Rifles; and to all Officers and Men under their Command, to all of whom I tender my best thanks; as also to Lieutenant R. Stuart, 17th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, Staff Officer; and Assistant Surgeon Busted.

I have, &c.,

H. W. NORMAN, Major, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army.

No. 184 of 1858.—The Right Honble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch, from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, No. 353 A. dated 27th May 1858, forwarding one from Major-General Sir S. Cotton, K. C. B., Commanding the Peshawar Division, detailing the operations of the Force under his immediate Command, recently employed on the Pusuffzai border.

The Governor General fully appreciates the ability and judgment of Sir S. Cotton, in the conduct of the expedition, and it will afford His Lordship great satisfaction to bring to the favourable notice of the Home Authorities, the eminent merits of the Major-General, and the excellent services of the Officers and Troops under his Command:—

To Major H. W. NORMAN, Depy. Adj. Genl. of the Army, Army Head Quarters.

Division Head Quarters, Camp Kubbul, 6th May 1858.

Sir,—In continuation of the Report made by me to the Quarter Master General of the Army, (copy of which is enclosed) announcing the assembly of a Field Force under my personal Command, for service on the Pusuffzai frontier; I have the honor to state for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that having been joined by the Commissioner, Lieutenant-Colonel Edwardes, C. B., the Force marched from Nowshera on the 23d Ultimo.

2. On the morning of the 25th Ultimo, the Force reached the Pusuffzai frontier, village of Selim Khan (distant from Punjar about 5 miles) and at the mouth of a Pass by which the Punjar valley is entered.

3. Reconnoitering parties, one under Captain Wright, Chief Staff Officer of the Force, and the other under Lieutenant-Colonel Edwardes, C. B., Commissioner, were at once sent forward when it was found that the fortified town of Punjar was only occupied by Mookurrub Khan, the Chief of the Khoodookhed tribe, with about 60 Sowars, the inhabitants having previously wholly evacuated the place,

4. Mookurrub Khan, apparently under the impression that the reconnoitering parties were closely followed up by our Column, fled leaving the Town entirely unoccupied.

5. It was now determined to enter the Punjar District; on the following morning, the Force being told off for that purpose into three Columns, as shown in the margin and making Selim Khan the "base" of operations, where our Camp remained standing, I proceeded in Company with Lieutenant Colonel Edwardes, with No. 1 Column, furnished with two days' provisions so as to enter the Punjar District by the Durrund Pass; whilst Colonel Renny, Her Majesty's 31st Regiment, proceeded in Command of No. 2 Column, direct to Punjar with orders to destroy that place; No. 3 Column, under Major Allan, H. M.'s 81st Regiment, remaining in charge of our standing Camp at Selim Khan.

6. At one o'clock on the morning of 26th April, No. 1 Column under my Command left Camp for Chinglee, and at day-light entered the Durrund Pass which is a remarkably narrow defile of about 2 miles, between two hills. It is not formidable to disciplined Troops, because the heights on either side have only to be crowned to cover the safe passage of the Force and the length of the Pass is so limited, that if stoutly contested, it could not resist for more than a couple of hours. The Enemy did well, therefore, to abandon it, and allow us to ascend unmolested into the elevated valley of Chinglee, or Upper Punjar.

7. It may be as well to record here, that there is a well of spring water in the Pass, at the foot of the last steep.

8. As soon as the Column had reached the top of the Durrund Pass, it proceeded at once by the most direct route, towards the village of Chinglee, which is the Chief place in the Punjar Country. Chinglee contains about 1,000 houses very substantially built, and is an emporium for the wood trade with the plains of Eusuffzai. Here resided Moobarus Khan, uncle of Mookurrub Khan, of Punjar, who had a substantial little Fort of wood and stone. But no resistance was attempted. During the day it was observed that some of the village people with their property had endeavoured to secrete themselves in ravines in the mountain side, overlooking the Town of Chinglee, and the 9th Punjaub Infantry under Captain Thelwall was ordered by a circuitous route to ascend the mountain with a view to cutting off their retreat into the Chumla territory, whilst a party of the 98th Foot under Captain Cotton, my Aide-de-Camp, proceeded straight up the hill to dislodge them from their position. A few shots only were however exchanged, and the Enemy hastily escaped, leaving a few killed by the 9th Punjaub Infantry.

During the day the Troops were employed under the direction of Captain Hyde, Engineers, in destroying the Fort, Town and Corps, and at night were bivouacked on a ridge near Chinglee.

9. On the 27th April, the Force having completed its work at Chinglee returned to Selim Khan, not by the Durrund Pass through which it came, but through the heart of the Country by Swawai and Punjar, for the importance of adding to our knowledge of the independent hills was not lost sight of. On the formation of the Force, I attached Lieutenant Taylor, of the Engineers, a very able Officer, to the Staff of the Field Force, for the express purpose of making a survey of the Country through which we passed. A copy of whose Map I beg to forward with this Report.

10. The direct road by which we returned from Chinglee to Selim Khan, proved to be of about equal length with the road via the Durrund Pass, but there can be no question that the Durrund line is the easiest for an Army. From Selim Khan to Chinglee via Durrund, is an open plain, with one difficulty in it, viz., the Pass itself, which can be soon surmounted. From Selim Khan to Chinglee via Punjar is chiefly through a broken country, winding among ups and downs of jungle and ravine, very embarrassing to a Column, and at one point passing through a rocky defile called Turrulce (the bed of the stream which flows under Punjar) which would be infinitely more formidable than the Durrund Pass, if disputed by the Enemy.

11. Mookurrub Khan's horsemen and footmen were seen lurking about our line of march this-day, but apparently, only in the hopes of preying on stragglers from the Force. On our return to Punjar we found scarcely a vestige left of the five villages from which it took its name, so thoroughly had its demolition been completed by the Troops of the 2nd Column, employed under the direction of Lieutenant Torey, Assistant Field Engineer.

12. We had now destroyed both Punjar and Chinglee, and might have moved on to Sutana, but, there was a stronghold in Mookurrub Khan's country which he had made over to the Syuds, and Hindostances, and only resorted to it in the last extremity. The name of this place is Mangul Thanna. It stands on one of the ~~entrances~~ ^{entrances} of the Mahab mountain, and it was the Head Quarters of that Moulvie Enayut Allee, who so bravely endeavoured at Narwanee and other places, to raise Eusuffzai in rebellion.

beginning of April 1858, and his followers were said to have gone off from Mungul Thanna to place themselves under another Hindustanee Moulvie there. But Mookur family and property were reported to have been removed for safety to the vacant Fort of Enayut Allee at Mungul Thanna. It would therefore render the chastisement of the Khan complete and memorable, if we could also destroy this last remaining fastness. By all accounts the road from Punjtar to Mungul Thanna was practicable, though difficult. The Tottallye people were our allies, and would show us the road. The Troops we had, were well suited to such an expedition. I therefore fully concurred with Colonel Edwardes, C. B., in the expediency of attacking Mungul Thanna.

the steep and wooded road, and on entering Mungul Thanna we found the Fort abandoned, and evinced sign of a hasty and recent flight.

15. Mungul Thanna consists of two villages, Upper and Lower. The Lower contains 30 or 40 houses and is occupied by Syuds, who are peaceable and inoffensive. Upper Mungul Thanna stands on a plateau in the midst of 3 crests, which are themselves out-works while held by the Garrison, but as soon as carried by an Enemy, command the place. On this plateau stood first, the fortified house of Enayut Allee, with enclosures for Hindustanee followers, secondly, the fortified residence of Syud Abbas; and thirdly, Syud Abbas's Citadel, a white masonry tower, the whole having about 30 or 40 houses clustered round them. These fortifications had been laboriously constructed of large stones and fine timber, and the Hindustanee fanatics, and thieves who flocked around Syud Abbas must have lived here in great enjoyment and security, and it was easy to understand the prestige that surrounded them.

16. The advanced Troops bivouacked at Mungul Thanna for the night; the Sappers being engaged all night under Captain Hyde's instructions in mining the buildings. At day-light of 30th April, the Troops being drawn off, the mines were fired, and when the dust and smoke cleared away, Mungul Thanna existed no longer.

17. Mungul Thanna is probably between 5000 and 6000 feet above the level of the sea. The trees grow thickly about it, and scenery about it, is much like that of Murree.

18. It would be possible to cross Mahabun from this point and descend upon Sattana in marches; but all accounts agree that the road is more difficult even than that to Mungul Thanna.

19. On the 30th April, the whole of the Troops at Mungul Thanna, Dhukara and Punjtar, returned to their Camp at Selim Khan, and there halted on the 1st May.

20. It now only remained to deal with the fanatic Colony of Sattana, for which purpose the Force under my Command proceeded towards Kubbul, distant from Sattana about 4 miles. The Force encamped at Kubbul on the morning of 3rd May.

21. By previous arrangements, Major Becher, the Deputy Commissioner of Hazara, moved down simultaneously to the left bank of the Indus with the Troops as per margin, with a view to crossing the river so as to co-operate with the Force under my Command, in making a general attack on the Enemy's villages of Sattana, and on their Gherree, or defensive enclosure near the village of Mundee.

22. Having on the evening of 2nd May reconnoitered the hills and Towns of the Enemy, and fixed on the following morning to make the general attack, Major Becher with his Troops crossed the Indus early in the day whilst the Force under my Command marched out of its encampment at Kubbul, towards the Enemy's position, thus coming upon him from the Eastward and Southward simultaneously. The Chief of the Umb territory, Jehandad Khan our ally, having occupied the hills Northward of Upper Sattana, and by so doing completed the general co-operation.

23. As we approached the Lower Sattana, the Columns of skirmishers detached as per margin, were directed to crown and hold the heights above the several villages of the Enemy. These with other Troops, hereafter mentioned, moved up the mountain at no less than six different points.

24. During the progress of these Troops up the steep and rugged sides of the mountain, I proceeded with Lieutenant-Colonel Edwardes, C. B., towards "Upper Sattana," and was there joined by Major Becher, with the 6th Punjaub Infantry under Lieutenant Quin, and 2nd Sikhs, under Captain Harding, which had just crossed the river. These Corps with the Guide Infantry, under Lieutenant Kennedy, proceeded to assist in holding the heights above the town. The Sappers and Miners, under Captain Hyde, of the Engineers, were set to work to destroy all the Towns. A Wing of Her Majesty's 81st Regiment, under Colonel Renny, was during these operations, placed in the Town of Upper Sattana.

I could from this spot observe the several Columns on the hills, and was enabled from thence to direct the operations generally.

25. The 18th Punjaub Infantry, under Lieutenant Williamson having, without opposition, succeeded in reaching the crest of the mountain above "Upper Sattana" and having moved Northward along the

13. On the 28th Ultimo, the Force was again divided into three Columns as per margin, in 1st Column to act against Mungul Thanna; the 2nd Column to proceed and halt at Punjtar, as a support to the 1st Column; and the 3rd Column to remain in reserve at Selim Khan, and to protect the Camp which was left standing.

14. At 11 p. m., on 28th April, the 1st Column under my own personal Command, left the Camp at Selim Khan, and pushed on by moonlight towards Mungul Thanna. The ascent of the hills was very arduous and toilsome, and half the Column was ultimately left as an intermediate support at Dhukara which is midway between Punjtar and Mungul Thanna. The advance reached the heights, about 11 p. m., not a shot had been fired at us, as we laboured

4. Feeling assured that the Infantry seen in Peeplia formed the advance Guard of the branch of the river Sowna. I then halted my Column, and collected all my baggage on the reverse flank, then moving on to my proposed Camp on the Neemuch and Mundisore road, ready to oppose the Enemy either from one or the other direction. On coming on to the ground, the strong mound, I strongly reinforced my Rear Guard and proceeded to meet them. After a short advance, I formed line to my front, facing northwards, and found the Enemy occupying a very strong position, with their right in and beyond the village of Goraria, their right centre covered by a date nulla and lines of date-trees, their battery of six guns on rising ground, with a large mud hut protecting their gunners, and their left stretched along the ridge running east from the village. My line advanced, covered by skirmishers; the Enemy's Infantry, with banners flying (many of them green), moved down to meet us through the intermediate fields of high jowaree, and their guns opened fire. I immediately halted my line, and replied to the fire with Captains Hungerford and Woolcombe's Batteries, at a range of about 900 yards. After a few rounds, I again advanced the line, and permitted Captain Hungerford to move his half Battery to a position on our right front, from which he could enfilade the Enemy. After an advance of about three hundred yards, our line was again halted, and firing resumed, that from both Batteries being very effective. A most gallant charge was then made on the Enemy's guns by the escort of Her Majesty 14th Light Dragoons attached to Captain Hungerford, under Lieutenant Martin, who found, however, that the position was still very strongly held by the Enemy's Infantry, and was compelled to retire, he himself being very severely wounded. Captain Hungerford's half Battery was again advanced to within one hundred yards, and, after a round or two of grape, the guns were at once again charged and captured, the Enemy flying in great numbers into the village to their right. The 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, under Captain S. Orr, left, it swept down upon them in their retreat, and killed great numbers. Our line then changed front about the eighth of a circle, right thrown forward, and moved steadily on the village, which evidently held great numbers of the Enemy; their skirmishers disputed our advance, but were soon driven back. Having halted within about 300 yards of the village, our Artillery opened upon it with shot and shell, after which I directed the Infantry to advance and carry it. The men of the 86th and 25th Regiments dashed forward in the most gallant manner, and, having entered the village, commenced to drive all before them. They soon met, however, with very warm opposition, the Enemy having taken possession in great force of many houses, from which a most harassing fire was kept up on our men. Under these circumstances, and as, moreover, I could get no satisfactory accounts of what was passing in my rear, which I knew, from the firing I heard, as also from the pressing applications I had received for reinforcements, had been warmly engaged, I recalled the Infantry, and posted strong Picquets all round the village, and moved the remainder of the men a short distance off, to where the baggage had been passed up from the rear. I then learnt that during the afternoon, when we were hotly engaged in the front, a strong body of the Enemy from Mundisore attacked our rear, and endeavoured to carry off the siege train, baggage, &c.; they were, however, most gallantly repulsed on every occasion. In one of these attacks I regret to say that Lieutenant Redmayne, H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, was killed, whilst most bravely leading his men against the Enemy. Notwithstanding the many attempts made by the Enemy to press upon and harass our rear, it gives me great satisfaction to be able to state that not a particle of baggage was lost, nor a follower injured. On this occasion Lieutenant Leith, Commanding a Squadron 14th Light Dragoons, appears to have done good service; as also Lieutenant Fenwick, 25th Regiment N. 1., in charge of the baggage. Gunner Maitland, of the Bengal Artillery; and Gunner Thomson, of the Bombay Artillery, also distinguished themselves, by assisting to work the heavy guns most effectively.

5. On the 24th instant, I arranged with Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery, that the village of Goraria, in which the Rebels had taken refuge, should be well shelled and

6. By the successful operations of the Malwa Field Force and Field Force Hyderabad Contingent in the vicinity of Mundisore, the Neemuch Garrison has been relieved from the Assault with which it was threatened; the insurgent Rebels have been dispersed from their stronghold, in which for months past they have been daily collecting all those disaffected to our rule, and peace and order will now, it is to be hoped, be re-established in these Districts.

7. I must now, in conclusion, place on record my grateful acknowledgments to Colonel Durand, Officiating Agent to the Governor General for Central India, for his cordial assistance to me on all occasions. He was present in the Field throughout the operations, and gave me the benefit of his advice, which proved of great service to me. Major Orr, Commanding Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, most ably co-operated with me on all occasions; and to him, and all under his Command, I am very much indebted. To Major Boileau, Field Engineer, and his Assistants, Lieutenants Prendergast (severely wounded) and Gordon; to Captain Mayne, Intelligence Department; to Captain Coley, Major of Brigade; to Lieutenant Macdonald, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster General; to Lieutenant Thain, Sub-Assistant Commissary General; and to Surgeon Mackenzie, Staff Surgeon, my warmest thanks are due: the assistance rendered me by these Officers left me nothing to wish for. A perusal of the report made by Captain Gall, Commanding Left Wing H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, will convey to His Excellency the Commander in Chief some idea of the good service performed by all ranks under his Command. I most fully concur in Captain Gall's report, and beg to commend to the consideration of His Excellency all the Officers and Men mentioned by him. Of Captain Gall himself, I must in justice add, that a more able, zealous, and hard-working Officer I have never met with, nor one more worthy of distinction. Of Captain Orr, 3rd Regt. Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, and the Officers and Men under his Command, I have already had reason to send the most favorable report to the Resident at Hyderabad. On this last occasion nothing could surpass the bravery shown by all ranks of this Regiment. Captain Orr himself is, I consider, a first-rate Cavalry Officer; his daring courage is admired by all, and in every affair in which he is engaged, his personal combats are most prominent features. To Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery Malwa Field Force; and to Captain Woolcombe, Commanding No. 4 Light Field Battery, and the Officers and Men under their Command, my best thanks are due. I do not think Artillery practice could have been better; and there can be but little doubt that the successful issue of operations is much to be attributed to their assistance. Of the conduct of Captain Brown, and the Officers and Men of the B. Company Madras Sappers and Miners, I have much pleasure in speaking in the highest terms; whether as Sappers or as Infantry, they have distinguished themselves on every occasion. They have undergone an incredible amount of hard labour during our late march with a siege train over a country without roads; nor must I omit to mention that they accompanied the storming parties into the village of Goraria, and proved of the greatest service. My best thanks are also due to Major Keane, and the Officers and Men of the Detachment H. M.'s 86th Regiment; the gallantry of all ranks was most conspicuous, and, on both occasions that the village was assaulted, the coolness and daring of the Officers and Men, at whose head Major Keane placed himself, elicited the praise of all. My Despatch from Dhar will have made His Excellency the Commander in Chief aware of the very high opinion I held of Major Robertson, and the Officers and Men of the 25th Regiment N. I. During the late operations, nothing could have been finer than the behaviour of all in this Regiment. Major Robertson distinguished himself on the 21st instant as Field Officer of the Day in the disposition of the Piquets, which duty I entirely confided to him, and by the skilful manner in which he met the attack made upon him in force on the afternoon of that day. During the succeeding days, Major Robertson rendered me the greatest assistance; the manner in which he led his Regiment on two occasions to storm the village of Goraria is beyond praise, and I consider that the admirable conduct of the 25th Regiment N. I. fully attests the worth of this Officer, who will, I hope, meet with some mark of distinction. In the praise conveyed to Captain Little, 25th Regiment N. I., by his Commanding Officer, I quite concur; and trust that His Excellency may be able to grant some mark of favor to this deserving Officer. In the two attacks on the village of Goraria, I could see no difference between the conduct of the men of the 25th Regiment N. I. and their comrades of H. M.'s 86th Regiment; the same daring and gallantry characterised both. Their list of casualties will show how warmly they were engaged; and I trust His Excellency will recognise the merits of this Regiment. Before closing this Despatch, I beg to report on the admirable conduct of Assistant Surgeon Butler, 4th Company 2d Battalion Artillery, who, during the engagement on the 23d instant, though suffering severely from sickness, left his doolèy, and was engaged in the most active manner during the whole day in assisting to administer comfort to the wounded. The con-

The rebels who had so long occupied the Ghats of the Ganges above Futtyghur, and the District of Badaon, having retired before him, and swelled the mass of the insurgents at Bareilly. During my advance from Futtyghur towards Bareilly, the detached parties of the enemy which had previously occupied Shahjehanpore, and the various large villages along the line of road, did not venture in a single instance to offer resistance. Accordingly every town and village was spared, and I advanced by the regular marches, having halted one day at Shahjehanpore to form a Military post at that place.

On the 5th instant, a movement was made on Bareilly. The information which had been furnished me from various quarters was most conflicting, and to place reliance on it, was utterly impossible. In short in spite of the assumed friendship of the Hindoo portion of the population, I have not found it easier to obtain information in Rohilcund on which trust could be put than has been the case in dealing with the insurrection in other parts of the Empire.

Very early on the morning of the 5th, the advance having been made from Fureedpore, the Force consisting of as per margin was formed in line-of-battle about six o'clock A. M. The first line consisted of the Highland Brigade, supported by the 4th Seikhs and Belooch Battalion, with a heavy Field Battery, in the centre with Horse Artillery and Cavalry, on both flanks under the respective Brigadiers and Commandants.

The second line was wholly employed for the protection of the baggage and siege train, this precaution appearing to be necessary owing to the very numerous rebel Cavalry. The enemy who had come out from the City with much boldness, and taken position on the left bank of the Nuttea Nuddee, having that stream in his rear, fired his first gun about seven o'clock A. M.

His guns were well placed, advantage having been taken of the road along which we were advancing, and of certain sand hills. The Horse Artillery and Cavalry advanced at the trot from both flanks, whilst the heavy Field Battery with Infantry in line, pressed up along the centre.

In a short time the enemy was driven from his guns, the left part of our line taking position on the river while the right crossed the bridge and advanced about three quarters of a mile towards the town. The heavy guns were rapidly passed over in succession, and placed in a position from which they raked the centre of the enemy's second line, which he had taken up in the suburbs. A considerable distance had now been traversed by the troops, and it became necessary to check the advance to allow time for the siege train and baggage to close up.

About 11 A. M., great activity was observed in the enemy's ranks, and while the attention of my right was occupied by a considerable body in the suburbs, the most determined effort that I have seen made in this war to turn and break through the left, was executed at this time by the enemy.

Some old Cavalry lines had been occupied by a Seikh Regiment. Such was the vigor with which this Regiment a most distinguished one (Major Wild's) under Command of Lieutenant McQueen, was attacked by a large body of fanatical Ghazees, that they gave way for a few minutes. The Ghazees pursuing their advantage, rushed like madmen on the 42d Highlanders, who had been formed in line in rear of the village to support the Seikhs as soon as the hostile movement was described. These men were all killed in the very ranks of the 42d Highlanders in a most desperate hand-to-hand encounter.

The 42d supported by the 4th Seikhs, and a part of the 79th Highlanders then advanced, sweeping through the various lines for about a mile and a half into the Cantonments where they were placed in position for the day.

Whilst the Ghazee attack had been going on the left of the first line, a very large body of the enemy's Cavalry, some 600 or 700 in number coming round our extreme left, attacked the baggage. They were quickly encountered by Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs's Horse Artillery troop, which after the first advance across the river, had been left to meet such a contingency, by Her Majesty's Carabineers (6th Dragoon Guards) the Moultee Horse and the Infantry of the rear guard; their instant dispersion took place.

This was the last effort made by the enemy. A short time afterwards the 79th and 93rd were directed to seize all the suburbs in their front, and the troops were put under shade as far as possible, the action having lasted for about six hours, and the troops having been under arms from 2 A. M.

Early on the next morning on the 6th instant, the whole force advanced into the Cantonment. At the same time I had the pleasure to hear Brigadier-General Jones' guns on the Moradabad side of Bareilly. This Officer had obeyed his instructions with great judgment and spirit, defeated a portion of the enemy on the 5th instant, taking three guns used finding himself resisted in his approach to the town on the 6th, took 3 more which were in position against him, entered the town and took three advanced positions without delay.

On the morning of the 7th, the town was finally reduced, and the Musselman portion of it, where there were still detached bodies of Ghazees remaining with the intention to sell their lives as dearly as possible, was cleared.

When I passed through Shahjehanpore, I was informed that the Fyzabad Moulvie and the Nawab of the former place were at Mohumdee, with a considerable body of men who had retired from Shahjehanpore I thought it would be impolitic to leave the district of that name without evidence of our presence; a post was therefore formed consisting of 500 H. M.'s 82nd Foot, a detachment of Artillery with 2 24-pounders and 2 9-pounders and DeKantzow's Horse, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, C. B., and H. M.'s 82nd Foot. He was directed to hold the large enclosure of the Jail, I anticipated that as soon as my back was turned, the Moulvie and the Nawab would annoy him. This expectation turned out to be correct, and on the 3d instant, he was attacked and invested by immense bodies and Cavalry. The guns brought against him were of very insignificant calibre, and he writes that he had no casualties within his entrenchments.

Brigadier-General Jones marched this morning with a force as per margin to his relief. The Brigadier-General has a discretionary power to attack Mohumdee after the relief has been effected. I have not as yet received Brigadier-General Jones' Despatch of his own operations on the 5th and 6th instant, but it will be forwarded to the Secretary of Government for submission to your Lordship in due course.

In the mean time, I beg to recommend most favorably to your Lordship, the Brigadier-General and the Officers to whom he is indebted since his passage of the Ganges, to take part in the general contribution arranged for reduction of Rohilcund. I have the greatest reason to be satisfied with all the troops under my own immediate Command. Their alacrity to meet the enemy on all occasions is of course what your Lordship expects from them; but I must not lose this opportunity of bearing my testimony to the constancy displayed by all ranks of the Force in the performance of their duty during the great and incessant heat of the season of the year. It is difficult to speak too highly of that cheerful endurance of intense fatigue, to which we are indebted for the victories gained at comparatively trifling loss on the day of battle.

I beg to return my thanks to the Officers of the Staff, and Officers Commanding Regiments and Corps employed during the Campaign of Rohilcund, and to append a List of their names.

I have the honor to be, My Lord,

With the greatest respect, Your Lordship's
most obedient and humble Servant,

C. CAMPBELL, General, Commander-in-Chief, East Indies.
