Spe

Dimensions of an acre.—The Acre is 4,840 sq. yards or 220×22 yards. The length of a side of sq. Acre is 60.57 yards; an area 110×22 yards (or 220×11 yards) would be half an acre; an area 55×22 yards (or 110×11 yds.) would be one quarter of an acre and so on.

An Acre roughly stated has four equal sides of $69\frac{1}{2}$ yards; accurate measurement gives each side 208.71 feet.

The side of a square half-acre would be 147.531 feet, and of a square quarter-acre 101.355 feet.

The above Imperial Land Measure is now employed as the standard in the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and the Colonies, generally also in the United States; but occasionally older measurements are referred to.

The Lancashire and Irish Acre, each of 160 perches, contains 7,840 sq. yards, equal to 1.619835 Status. 1 Status = 0.617347 Lancashire or Irish Acre.

The Cheshire Acre of 160 perches, each containing 64 sq. yards = 10,240 yards.

The Cunningham Acre, equal to 1.91322 Statute or 1 statute acre is equal to 0.7744 Cunningham.

The Scottish Acre = 1.261183 statute (nearly 6,104 sq. yards).

Measures of Energy

In Physics, the unit of force is the dyne, the amount that acting for one second on the gramme mass, gives it a velocity of one centimetre per second. The British unit is the poundal, which in one second gives one pound a velocity of one foot, per second. One poundal = 13,825.5 dynes. In Meteorology the unit of atmospheric pressure is the Bar, equal to the pressure of 100,000 dynes (1 megadyne) per square centimetre. The Meteorological Bar is thus 1,00,00,000 Chemical Bars.

Horse-power is energy exerted at the rate of 550 foot pounds per second; an alternative unit is the kilowatt (102 kilogram-metres per second) = 737.59 foot pounds per second.

Thermal Unit—The British Thermal Unit (B. Th. U.) is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water through one degree Fahrenheit. The gas Therm = 100,000 B. Th. U. $V = \text{cu. ft.}$ If consumed, $H = \text{declared heat value of the Company's gas (in B. Th. U. per 1 cu. ft.)}$ $P = \text{cost of therm in pence,}$ $B = \text{total bill in pence—then } B = V \times H \times P = 100,000 \text{ whence equivalent cost (in pence) per 1,000 cu. ft.} = B \times 1,000 \div V = H \times P \div 100.$

Definitions of Units of Capacity

A litre (l.) is a unit of capacity equivalent to the volume occupied by the mass of 1 kilogram of pure water at its maximum density (at a temperature of 4 deg. C. practically) and under the standard atmospheric pressure of 760 mm.

It is equivalent in volume to 1.000127 cubic decimetres.

A gallon (gal.) is a unit of capacity equivalent to the volume of 231 cubic inches. It is used for the measurement of liquid commodities only.

A bushel (bu.) is a unit of capacity equivalent to the volume of 2150.42 c. inches. It is used in the measurement of dry commodities only.

This bushel is the so-called stricken or struck bushel; many dry commodities are sold by heaped bushels, which is generally specified in the State Laws to be the usual stricken bushel (measure) "duly heaped in the form of a cone as high as the article will admit," or "heaped as high as may be without special effort or design." The heaped bushel was originally intended to be 25 per cent greater than the stricken bushel.

	360°—1 circumference or circle.

The Earth rotates at a velocity of 15 degrees an hour about 17·366 miles a minute, at the Equator. 1° is, therefore, equal to 4 minutes.

 Circular Acre is 235·501 feet, a Circular Road, 117,752 feet in diameter. The Circumference of the Globe is about 24,855 miles and the Diameter about 7,900 miles.

Note:—A circle of 7 yards diameter has in practice a circumference of 22 yards—1 chain.

Electrical Measures

Electrical measurements are expressed in terms of the centimetre, the gramme, and the second (C. G. S. units) and the value of the units has been fixed by international agreement. The principal units are as follows:—

Unit of resistance, the international Ohm which is based upon the ohm equal to 169 units of resistance of the C. G. S. system of electro-magnetic units and represented by the resistance offered to an unvarying electric current by a column of mercury at the temperature of melting ice, 14·4521 grammes in mass, of a constant cross sectional area, and of a length of 106·3 centimetres.

Unit of current, the international Ampere, which is one-tenth of the unit of current of the C. G. S. system of electro-magnetic units and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by the unvarying current which, when passed through a solution of nitrate of silver in water in accordance with a certain specification, deposits silver at the rate of 0·001118 of a gramme per second.

Unit of electro motive force, the international Volt which is the E. M. F. that, steadily supplied to a conductor whose resistance is one international ohm, will produce a current of one international ampere, and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by 1000/1434 of the E. M. F. between the poles of electrodes of the voltaic cell known as Clark's cell at a temperature 15° C. and prepared in the manner described in a certain specification.

Unit of quantity, the international Coulomb, which is the quantity of electricity transferred by a current of one international ampere in one second.

Unit of capacity, the international Farad which is the capacity of a conductor charged to a potential of one international coulomb. The unit generally used in practice is one-millionth part of this, or the microfarad.

Unit of work, the Joule, which is 107 units of work in the C. G. S. system, and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by the energy expended in one second by an international ampere in an international ohm. In practice the watt-hour is usually employed. It represents the work done by such a current in an hour, and equals 3,600 joules.

Unit of power, the Watt, which is 107 units of power in the C. G. S. system, and which is represented sufficiently well for practical use by the work done at the rate of one joule per second. 746 watts—1 horse-power and the value of a Board of Trade Unit (B.O.T.U.) is 1,000 watt hours or 3,60,000 joules or $1\frac{1}{3}$ horse-power hours.

Unit of induction, the Henry, which is the induction in the circuit when the E. M. F. induced in the circuit is one international volt while the inducing current varies at the rate of one international ampere per second.

For practical and commercial purposes, the chief units are the—

Volt—Electromotive force=about 226% of that given by one Daniell's battery cell.

Ohm—Resistance=the resistance offered to the passage of a current of electricity by a thread of mercury 105 cm. long. 1 mm. cross section at the temperature of melting ice.

Ampere—Current=the current 1 volt will drive through 1 ohm.

Coulomb—Quantity = 1 ampere flowing in 1 second of time.

Microfarad—Capacity = ·000001 coulomb at 1 volt pressure.

Watt—Power = 44 ft. lb. per minute.

Board of Trade Unit = 1,000 watts 1 hour, 746 watts = 1 horse-power.

In incandescent lamps of 16 candle power (nominal) about four watts are required per candle power to give good economical results for domestic purposes.

One Board of Trade Unit will keep a 16 candle incandescent lamp a light for about 16 hours.

METRIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

The Metric System is based upon the (assumed) length of the direct distance from the Equator to the North Pole. The ten-millionth part of this distance, as calculated in 1795, was adopted by the French Government as the unit of length and called a metre. All other measurements are derived from this unit; the cube of the tenth part of the metre is the unit of capacity, called a litre, and the weight of a litre of water at a certain temperature is the unit of weight, called a kilogramme. The unit of land measurement is 100,000 sq. metres, called a hectare. The above terms are now used in this country under the English names of metre, litre, kilogramme and hectare.

The Metric System is used in Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Norway and some other countries, the unit of which is the Gramme = 15.432 grains; the chief multiple of the Gramme is the Kilogramme = 2.2046 lb. In practical use this is found inconvenient for small purchases and nearly all commodities are sold by the demi or half kilo. The Centner of 50 kilos = 110½ lb. very nearly represents the English cwt. but heavy goods are sold by the Tonneau or 2204.621 lb. about 19 cwt. 77 lb., the Myriagramme being ignored.

In the United States and in Canada the cwt. is generally reckoned as 100 lb. and the ton of 20 cwt. = 2,000 lbs. (one short Ton.)

In Russia the Food of 36 lb. is the commercial weight; 622 Foods = 1 English ton.

The Unit of the British Indian Ponderary System is called the Tola. It weights 180 grains English troy Weight as does the Rupee. From it upwards are derived the heavy weights, viz., Chattack, Seer, Maund, and by its sub-division, the small or jewellers weights called Mashas, Ruttees and Dhans.

To Convert Indian Weight into Avoirdupois

Multiply the weight in Seers by 12 and divide by 35; the result will be the weight in lbs Avoirdupois; or multiply the weight in maunds by 36, and divide by 49; the result will be weight in cwt. Avoirdupois.

To Convert Avoirdupois Weight into Indian Weight

Multiply the weight in lbs. Avoirdupois by 35 and divide by 72; or multiply the weight in cwt. by 49 and divide by 36; the result will be the weight in the former, in Seers, in the latter in Maunds.

A ton is equal to 27.222 Maunds or 27¼ Maunds nearly.

Bazaar Weight:—16 Chattacks or one seer, or 2 lb. 13 drs; and 40 seers 1 maund, or 82 lbs. 2 ozs. 3 drs. 100 Bazaar maunds = 100 Factory; and 1½ Factory maunds = 1 cwt.

Factory Weight:—16 Chattacks are one seer, or 1 lb. 13 ozs. 14 drs. and 40 seers, 1 maund or 74 lbs. 10 ozs. 11 drs. The Indian maund = 82.7 lb. Avoirdupois weight.

There appears to be no Indian Measures of capacity for such Dry and Liquid goods as are sold by weight. Wherever, for the sake of convenience, measures are employed, they are intended to represent some specific weight of a Seer, Chattack, &c.

(c) The provisions of Sections 5, 6, 20, 21, 23 and 25 of the Indian Stamp Act II of 1899 shall mutatis mutandis apply to calculations of value for the purpose of determining the registration fee.

(d) In the case of agreement to render service for hire, or to let movable property for hire, the value of the document shall not be taken at a higher amount than the hire for one year.

(e) In the cases of leases, the value shall be taken—

(1) at the total rent for the whole term when the lease is for one year or less.

(2) at the average annual rent when the lease is for periods exceeding one year; and

(3) at one-fifth of the whole amount of rents payable for the first fifty years when the lease is perpetual. When a fine or premium is paid or is made payable, or money is advanced, that amount also should be added to the value. When a lessee undertakes to pay assessment, quit rent, etc., in addition to the rent, the said payment should also be added to the rent value. If the rent is payable in kind and its money value is not specified in the lease, its value shall be taken to be the highest amount which the stamp borne by the document will suffice to cover. If the document is exempt from stamp duty, the money value of the produce rent shall be calculated at the current market rates.

(f) In the case of deeds of partition, the value of the separated share or shares on which stamp duty is payable shall be taken as the value of consideration.

(g) In the case of all other documents in which neither the consideration for the transaction nor the value of the property affected is expressed or in which it is only partially expressed, the value shall be the maximum amount which the stamp borne by the document shall suffice to cover, if the document is one which is liable to stamp duty at ad valorem rates. If the value cannot be determined from the stamp as for instance, when the deed is not liable to stamp duty, or is liable to duty at a fixed amount irrespective of the value of the transaction, or when the transaction is not susceptible of money valuation, the fee leviable shall be Rs. 9 provided that in cases where the value of only a portion of the property or consideration is given and that value exceeds Rs. 1,500, the fee shall be levied on the value so expressed.

Note—In the case of documents evidencing petty transactions incapable of valuation, the Inspector-General may, if he considers that the levy of a fee of Rs. 9 would be productive of hardship, authorize registering officers to levy a lower fee, which, however, shall not be less than 6 annas.

(h) The registration fee leviable upon a document purporting to give a collateral or auxillary or additional or substituted security or security by way of further assurance, where the principal or primary mortgage is proved to the satisfaction of the registering officer to have been duly registered, shall be the same as for the principal or primary mortgage, if the same does not exceed Rs. 4-8-0; otherwise it shall be Rs. 4-8-0.

HOW OUR RAILWAYS GREW UP

India's first railway line was opened from Bombay to Thana (21 miles) in 1853. The line from Calcutta (Howrah) to Hooghli (23 miles) followed in 1854. Then came the line from Madras to Walajah Road (65 miles) in 1856. By 1900 our railway milage was nearly 25,000 costing Rs. 330 crores. Our pre-partition figures stood at 40,524 miles, and about Rs. 900 crores. After partition our figures stand at about 34,000 miles, and Rs. 702 crores. All but 1,150 miles are State-owned. About 90 per cent. of our Railways to-day is single-track with train crossing delays. We have 46 per cent. of Broad Gauge and 44.2 per cent. of Metre Gauge and balance Narrow Gauge Lines.

Nation's Property Now

Our Railways were built up with capital and talent attracted from Britain. To attract capital, concessions, subsidies and guarantees of interest were made. In several years the Government became more and more the owners of our Railways. In the last 30 years, the State took over most of them for its own management. M. S. M., S. I., B. N. and B. B. & C. I. Railways were the last in the process, five years ago. Free India's unfettered control of our Railways dates only from August 15, 1947. Free India inherited with the Railways certain handicaps.

Now, more than ever before, Railways must earn more to keep going. Funds have to be found for catching up with heavy maintenance arrears for, overdue replacements and betterment, for provision of amenities, for positive progress and modernisation, for housing more staff and for staff welfare measures. And, Railways as a national business concern have to make profits for the nation. Since 1924, our Railways have paid Rs. 220 crores to the nation's exchequer.

Handicaps, Limitations and Adjustments

Nearly 90 per cent. of our railway milage is single-line with trains in both directions using the same track and with the obvious need for a train to be detained at a station for another train to arrive at the same or at the next station. This affects the speed of trains and curtails the capacity of the line in terms of the number of trains it can take at a time. Further, we have the Broad and the Metre Gauge tracks and consequently both passengers and goods undergo transshipment and resultant delays at Junctions. Thirdly, in the absence of concentrated traffic to and from a limited number of distant stations, the running of fast trains over long distances with few traffic stops is rendered difficult.

It is thus generally necessary to cater to long-distance and short-distance passengers with the same trains, the former complaining about too many stops and the latter clamouring for stops at more stations! Another adjustment is as between trains justified by the passenger traffic and those necessary to move goods traffic currently, within the limited track capacity. In the past our Railways were conservatively equipped and consummately exploited. That was then sound commercial business. It has to be remembered that the investments on Railways and their equipment had, from time to time, to be commercially justified and further modified to suit investing capacity.

World War II and After

The Second World War left our Railways exhausted. The end of the War afforded others, but not the Railways, some recuperative opportunity. For, the pressure of traffic continued unabated, and often increased. Further, following the partition, Railways in the North suffered dislocation in their working and the reaction therefrom did not spare the Railways in the South. Generally speaking, our Railways function now with about the same as the pre-war number of engines, carriages and wagons.

The passenger traffic has nearly trebled while the goods traffic is slightly more. The result is more passengers and goods traffic than trains can be run for. Fortunately, the position in respect of goods traffic has much eased in recent months and is almost current on the M. S. M. and S. I. Railways.

Efforts to Function Better

More engines and carriages are in view. Some engines have already been received from abroad. Others, to total up to nearly 900, are expected. Our own engines will shortly be produced at Mihijam near Calcutta, where a Rs. 14 crore scheme is being expeditiously pushed through to make India self-sufficient both for engines and for boilers. Carriages are being manufactured within the country and, in addition, arrangements have been made for their manufacture for us in Switzerland.

Overcrowding is made intolerable by ticketless travellers and passengers taking into their compartments bulky luggage and articles which both occupy and block sitting space. The immediate palliative for overcrowding is public co-operation in these two respects. Much depends on civic conscience made effective by public opinion. The remedy for overcrowding is to run more trains. This will be possible as soon as more engines and carriages are available. 2,700 more coaches than Railways had in April 1948 are needed. Getting this large number all at once is an impossibility.

Passenger Amenities

Amenities, mostly for Class III passengers, are long overdue and have top-priority for attention. Much has been done in the last one year. Far more remains to be done. Progress in this direction is not theatrical because so much has to be done and almost all stations have to be attended to.

Reservation of separate accommodation on trains for long-distance Class III passengers and advance issue of tickets to such passengers on the day previous to that of their travel have improved their travelling case. Long-distance travellers would no doubt like to have separate trains, with very few stops en route, for themselves. But, unfortunately, neither the traffic offering nor the facilities available permit of the Railways running many such separate trains.

New Class III carriages are being equipped with electric fans, water tanks with more capacity and better lavatories. Where electric power is available, stations are being electrified, with fans in Class III waiting halls in some cases. Railways have an ambitious programme for providing better and extended waiting, accommodation at most stations based on the number of passengers using them.

Passenger Guides have been appointed at bigger stations specially to attend to Class III passengers to assist the old and infirm and women and children. Their work ranges from saving passengers from being harassed by porters to answering all reasonable enquiries and from cleanliness of waiting rooms to assistance when entraining and detraining. It is impossible, within the limited space available, to catalogue all the amenities in view.

The South Indian Railway

The South Indian Railway dates back to July 1874. Its predecessors were the former Great Southern India Railway and Carnatic Railway. In 1944, the S. I. Ry. was taken over by the State. Its route mileage is 632.6 Broad Gauge and 1716.6 Metre Gauge. The Madras suburban section of 18 miles has two tracks for electric traction and one for steam traction. In the 17 months since January 1947, the Railway's workshop at Golden Rock turned out 84 Metre Gauge and 20 Broad Gauge coaches and 12 Broad Gauge boilers. Projects for extension, including that to electric traction, are under examination.

M. & S. M. Railway

The M. & S. M. Railway Co., Ltd., founded in 1908, succeeded to sections of Railway worked by earlier Companies. It was taken over by the State in 1944. It has a route mileage of 1132 Broad Gauge and 1810.5 Metre Gauge of which all except about 50 miles, in single track, and a 51-mile section in Portuguese India with its terminal harbour (Mormugao) is worked on an agency basis. Inadequacy of track capacity on the Broad Gauge was keenly felt during World War II, and provision of 22 more crossing stations and some minor facilities at a few stations acted as a palliative. The most difficult section for operating purposes is the North-East line (Madras-Bezwada especially) and further operating facilities are being provided there. While the South Indian Railway has junction connections only with the M. & S. M. Railway, the latter has junction connections with six Railway systems. This makes operating work and adjustments more complicated.

MADRAS GOVERNMENT'S IRRIGATION POLICY

Extracts from the Speech of the Hon'ble Minister for Public Works moving the Irrigation Demand in the Madras Legislative Assembly:

Details of Schemes investigated now and the costs thereof may be completely out of date a few years later when the entire project contemplated will have to be overhauled. Moreover the investigation of Schemes with a view to examining the possibility of evolving satisfactory projects often gives rise to false hopes, which it would not be wise to hold out.

The Government have been pursuing a liberal policy in execution of schemes not solely on considerations of direct financial return on the capital outlay, but with due regard also to the need for augmenting supplies of food and improving the well-being of the people.

It is obviously desirable that the execution of schemes must be in accordance with a well-defined plan. Such a plan for the five year period, practically ending in 1954-55, has been drawn up in draft by the Planning Commission in consultation with the State Government, and as work had been started on a number of schemes, the plan consists only of schemes actually in execution. The ultimate cost of the plan is Rs. 44 crores of which Rs. 30 crores is proposed to be spent in the first five years.

G. M. F. Schemes

Broadly speaking, the Madras Government's programme of irrigation development may be divided into three parts. The first part is a short-term programme for the execution of Grow More Food schemes, primarily to augment our supplies of food as quickly as possible. Government have endeavoured to execute schemes in dry tracts as far as practicable, provided water resources are available to justify such schemes and hold out promise of their successful working. Twenty-five schemes costing Rs. 12.65 lakhs have so far been executed and 13 schemes costing Rs. 48.45 lakhs are under execution in Rayalaseema; 69 schemes costing Rs. 38.5 lakhs have been executed and 62 schemes costing Rs. 141.4 lakhs are under execution in the Circars; 58 schemes costing Rs. 65.30 lakhs have been completed and 45 schemes costing Rs. 92.54 lakhs are under execution in Tamil Districts; 27 schemes costing Rs. 2.90 lakhs have been completed and ten schemes costing Rs. 22.83 lakhs are under execution in the Malabar and S. Kanara Districts. The total ayacut developed so far under the completed works is 69,300 acres. Among the more important schemes under execution are the Rallagedda Anicut in the Srikakulam District, the Coringa Island Project in the East Godavari Dist., the Polipalli Anicut in the Visakhapatnam Dist., the Kanur Schemes in the West Godavari Dist., the Manneru Anicut in Nellore, the Kollimagulavagu and Tigaleru Reservoirs in Kurnool, the Gooderu Tank Scheme in Cuddapah, the Pennar Kumadavadhi Project in Anantapur, the Ponnai Anicut in S. Arcot, the Sivalaperi Tank in Tirunelveli, provision of falling shutters to the Palar Anicut in South Arcot, Badathalava Project in Salem, excavation of a new channel in Coimbatore District, the Chermangalam Anicut in S. Kanara. The latest of such schemes sanctioned is the construction of an anicut across the Swarnamukhi river at Kalahasti in the Chittoor Dist. and the excavation of a short channel therefrom to join the old Chembudu channel for affording better supplies to the existing tanks in the area.

In the short-term programme must be included what are called Tank Improvement Schemes. So far 902 such works have been completed at a cost of Rs. 34 lakhs and 1,639 works, including 539 in the Circars, 187 in Rayalaseema, 860 in Tamilnad and 53 in Malabar and S. Kanara are under execution. The cost of the schemes under execution will be about three quarters of a crore of Rupees.

The second part of the programme consists of medium sized projects, the biggest of which are the Manimuthar in the Tirunelveli Dist. and the Malampuzha in the Malabar District, each costing Rs. 4 crores. The other projects in the category are the Mettur Canals Scheme costing Rs. 2½ crores, the Romperu Drainage Scheme and Walayar Project costing Rs. 1 crore each, and the Upper Pennar, the Bhairavanitippa and Araniyar Projects costing a little less than Rs. 1 crore each, and the Rallapad Project, Mangalam Reservoir Project each costing about half a crore of Rupees. The programme includes also a number of smaller works in the Krishna, Godavari and Cauveri deltas systems and elsewhere some of which have been completed.

In the third category are included the two large projects, the multipurpose Tungabhadra Project and the Lower Bhavani Project, the former costing Rs. 18½ crores and the latter Rs. 9½ crores. Provision has been made for the generation of power under these projects in addition to supply of water for irrigation.

Some of the schemes involve the execution of agreements with the neighbouring States of Mysore and Hyderabad.

Problem of Funds

It has not been an easy matter to find the funds required for the execution of the irrigation development programme. Costs have gone up to an unprecedented extent and Government have been hard put to it, to find the funds needed to complete the projects already taken up. Their resources are strictly limited and in the present conditions it is not easy even to find loan money. They have had to appeal to the Government of India for assistance and the latter agreed to lend money to meet the cost of the Tungabhadra and Lower Bhavani Projects during the previous financial year. As a result of further representations they agreed to provide loans to meet the cost in the current year, not only of Tungabhadra and Lower Bhavani Projects but the Malampuzha Project as well. Despite this help, the funds available in the current year will not be adequate to make the progress planned on the other schemes. The result is that they may be compelled to slow down the rate of execution of the works from time to time with reference to the funds available. When such is the case in respect of schemes under execution it can well be imagined what the position is in respect of new schemes not yet taken up. The funds available and those which may be available in the next year or two on the existing basis may not be adequate to complete the Five Year Programme. The levy of betterment fee on lands brought under irrigation as a result of the projects executed and other new taxation may provide some funds to complete the programme now in execution and it is hoped that a small margin of funds will be available for new schemes.

Proposals for the Current Year

For G. M. F. Schemes and Tank Improvement Schemes the Government of India were giving a subsidy of 50 per cent of the unproductive outlay on such schemes. In effect, this assistance amounted to the Government of India bearing 50 per cent of the cost of each scheme and this enabled the State to undertake the execution of schemes which, though not productive in terms of financial returns, promised reasonable additional supplies of food. In the current year, the Government of India have intimated that while they would be prepared to continue the subsidy of 50% in respect of schemes already in execution they would be giving a subsidy of only 25% in respect of new schemes to be taken up. In the light of the new terms intimated by the Government of India and the State's own financial resources the State Government made a very searching review of the position and came to the conclusion that the execution of all the 115 schemes on which practical progress has been made by the end of the previous financial year, should be continued in the current year earning the old rate of Central subsidy. Fifteen more schemes on which work had been commenced are also proposed to be continued. The total cost of these schemes in the current year will be as much as Rs. 60 lakhs. As regards Tank Improvement Schemes, 1,776 schemes dealt with by the Food Production branch, which were at various stages of progress at the close of the previous financial year, will all be continued in the current year. Tank Improvement Schemes in charge of the Public Works Department, on which also work had been partly completed would be continued in the current year. The total cost of Tank Improvement Schemes in the year will be Rs. 60 lakhs. Even this programme is rather ambitious and would strain our financial resources to the utmost. But Government are determined to spend the amounts I have indicated on these schemes in the current year and complete as many of them as possible.

As regards other schemes,—the Tungabhadra and Lower Bhavani Projects, the medium-sized projects and the smaller schemes in the deltas,—the total expenditure in the current year, including assistance from the Centre in the shape of loans to the extent of Rs. 5.84 crores for the Tungabhadra, Lower Bhavani and Malampuzha Projects would be Rs. 7.7 crores. The total demand for all these schemes which fall in the Capital Budget is Rs. 8.90 crores. This is a very large demand compared to previous years, but the current year happens to be more or less the peak period of execution of the Five Year Plan.

Bhavani Project

Water is expected to be let down in the Bhavani Project canal in September to irrigate about 12,000 acres in the current year. Water from the Mettur Canals Scheme is also likely to be available to irrigate about 7,500 acres in the current year. Irrigation under the Tungabhadra Project may commence about the middle of 1953.

Future Schemes

Obviously the first consideration must be for the schemes already in execution and to make every effort to complete them. It is not going to be easy to find the funds to complete the schemes taken up, and if we succeed in completing the programme as originally intended by about 1955 we should congratulate ourselves. However, the State has proposed to the Planning Commission a supplementary programme comprising all irrigation projects, the total ultimate cost of which will be Rs. 145 crores. The intention is, that if funds, become available after the completion of the current programme they then should take up schemes so as to spend on these new schemes about Rs. 40 crores by the end of 1955-56. The new schemes in the supplementary programme include the first stage of Krishna-Pennar Project, the Vaigai Reservoir Project, which would provide water for irrigating certain areas in Madurai District, the Gandikota Project which would irrigate lands in the Nellore and Cuddapah Districts, the Amaravathi Reservoir Project in the Coimbatore District, the Kanhirapuzha Reservoir Project in the Malabar District, the Sathanur Reservoir Project in the Salem District, the Tungabhadra High Level Scheme in the Bellary District, the Ramapadasagar Project and a number of minor schemes. I may add that so far as the Krishna-Pennar Project is concerned the entire question of what schemes on the Krishna and Godavari may be taken up has been referred by the Planning Commission to a technical committee. With such a large programme already drawn up, for the execution of which we need only funds, it would be futile to waste time and energy on investigating further new projects, especially when funds are not available even for the works in execution, leave alone the schemes proposed for the supplementary programme. The formulation of an irrigation project depends on a number of current factors such as flows of water, and above all, costs. Details of schemes investigated now and the cost thereof may be completely out of date a few years later, when the entire project completed will have to be overhauled. Moreover the investigations of schemes with a view to examining the possibility of evolving satisfactory projects often gives rise to false hopes, which would not be wise to hold out. For these reasons it is desirable to go slow on the investigation of new schemes for the present until we can see our way clear in regard to financial resources.

IRRIGATION AND CANALS

Important Waterways

1. The important waterways in the Madras State are the Godavari Canals, including the Dummagudem Canal, the Krishna Canals, the Buckingham Canal, the Kurnool-Cuddapah Canal, the West Coast Canals and the Vedaranniyam Canal.

2. Irrigation Systems used as Waterways:—The Godavari, the Krishna and the Kurnool-Cuddapah Canals are used both for navigation and irrigation while the others are intended to meet the requirements of navigation alone.

3. Waterways subject to the Provisions of Canals and Public Ferries Act:—All these waterways with the exception of the Kurnool-Cuddapah Canal and the Chilka Lake Canal are subject to the provisions of the Canals and Public Ferries Act (Madras Act 11 of 1890) and the rules framed thereunder.

4. Important Waterways as Means of Communication and Transport:—In the Godavari and the Krishna Deltas, the navigable canals are the chief highways and form a cheap and ready mode of access to the important markets. The Buckingham Canal has played an important part in the trade of the country traversed by it. Though its importance has been much diminished by the opening of the East Coast Railway, there is still a fair amount of transport of goods on the Canal. The Vedaranniyam Canal has lost much of its importance as a means of communication with the introduction of the Tirutturaipundi-Agastiyampalli Railway. In the west coast, the waterways form the chief means of communication and transport in the interior of the country.

5. Internal Communication with the Adjacent Waterways:—The Krishna Canals form the connecting link between the Godavari Canals and the Buckingham Canal and through communication is therefore possible between these three canal systems. The other main lines of navigation are not interconnected to one another.

6. Connection of the Waterways with the Sea:—All these waterways excepting the Kurnool-Cuddapah Canal are connected with the sea either by their tidal arms or through back-waters, etc.

Godavari Canals

1. The waterways of the Godavari Canals system comprise the following:—

(i) The Godavari river from above the anicut at Dowlaishwaram up to Tsandrapatla including the Sabari which is one of its tributaries.

(ii) Branch of the Godavari below the anicut including the tidal arms of the river which are connected with the sea and the delta canals by tail-end locks.

(iii) Canals of the delta system in the eastern, central and western sections of the delta.

2. Godavari River above the Dowlaishwaram Anicut:—The Godavari river is navigable for Dowlaishwaram up to Tsandrapatla, about 188 miles higher up. Above Tsandrapatla which is almost the northernmost limit of the Godavari District, navigation is possible for some distance in the Central Provinces. To avoid the rapids at Dummagudem an anicut has been constructed at the place and the river is connected by a short length of canal 2 miles 600 feet long with a lock at either end. The depth of the canal at full supply level is 5 ft. and the minimum navigable depth of 3 ft. is available for nearly nine months in the year.

3. Branches of the Godavari River below the Dowlaishwaram Anicut and other tidal arms:—Coringa river:—The river is a tidal arm separating the Coringa Island from the main land of the Godavari Eastern Delta and is navigable in high tide by vessels of low draft.

4. The Gowtami Godavari:—This reach is navigable from the 23rd mile below the anicut to the sea for a length of about 17 miles. It is also subject to tidal action and is navigable throughout the year for all vessels.

Teki Drain:—The Teki Drain is navigable from its mouth in the Coringa river to the Gangavaram Bridge on the Kotipalli-Cocanada road, a length of about 15 miles.

5. The Vasista River:—This river is navigable throughout the year from Koderu (at mile 28/0 below the anicut) to the sea at Antarvedi for a distance of 27 miles and can be used by all vessels of country craft. The portion of the river from Rasole (at the 37th mile) to the sea is very deep and is used by steam and motor-launches throughout the year.

6. The Vynatheyam River:—This river is a branch of the Vasista river and is navigable throughout the year from the Gannavaram aqueduct to the sea, a distance of nearly 16 miles, and can be used by all kinds of vessels. Vessels can pass under the aqueduct during the high tide except during floods in order to reach the Vasista arm of the river. The upper Kowsika and the Gorinkala drains which fall into this arm of the Godavari are also navigable upto the Bandarlanda Bridge and the Murganda Bridge, respectively for lengths of 3 and 4 miles. The Yanamadurru drain is navigable for small craft from Bhimavaram Bridge down to its infall into the Upputeru for a length of about 10 miles.

Note:—There are no locks in the anicut across the Godavari at Dowlaishwaram for boats to pass from above the anicut to the river below.

7. Canals of the Godavari Delta System:—Godavari Eastern Delta—Main Canal:—The Main Canal of the Godavari Eastern Delta takes off from the left bank of the Godavari river at Dowlaishwaram. The head lock at Dowlaishwaram connects the Eastern Delta canals with the Godavari River and the canals of the central and western deltas through their head locks at Bobberlanka and Vizeswaram, respectively. There is a wharf at Dowlaishwaram on the left side of the main canal at mile 0/34. This wharf is about 4 miles distant from both the Rajahmundry and the Kadiam railway stations and is connected with them by a local fund road. The Bank canal of the Godavari Eastern delta takes off at mile 0-6-330 ft. of the main canal, with an open head. At mile 4-1-150 ft. the main canal bifurcates into two canals which are called Samalkota and Cocanada canals.

The two canals have at present open heads. A lock and regulator are now proposed to be built at the head of the latter.

8. Samalkota Canal:—This canal takes off from the main canal and forms the northern boundary of the Eastern delta and runs more or less parallel to the railway line. Over the left bank of the canal runs the Rajahmundry-Cocanada road. On the left side of the canal at mile 29/5, there is the Deccan Sugar and Abkari Company and at mile 30/2 on the right side is situated the Government Agricultural Experimental station. There is a wharf at Samalkota about 2 furlongs from the railway station. The locks on this canal are at Samalkota, Venkatakrishnapuram and Cocanada at miles 30/4, 32/6 and 37/1 respectively. The last one is a tidal lock connecting the canal with the salt creek at Cocanada. The important places on this canal are Dwarapudi, Biccavole, Samalkot and Cocanada. All the quarries supplying building stone and gravel to the deltas are situated along this canal.

9. Cocanada Canal:—This canal takes off from the main canal at 4-1-150 ft. with an open head. There are first class locks at Medapadu, Tossipudi, Chintapalli and Kovvur at miles 9/3, 16/0, 20/4 respectively. The last one is a tidal lock connecting the canal with the salt creek at Jagannaikpur which joins the Bay of Bengal at Cocanada. There is a wharf on the salt creek at Jagannaikpur which is a heavy traffic centre. The Cocanada railway station is about a mile from the wharf.

10. Bank Canal:—This canal starts at 0-6-330 ft. of the main canal with an open head and runs for a length of 40 miles 26 chains, mostly by the side of the left flood bank of the Gowtami Godavari and falls into the Coringa river at Tallarevu. There are five locks at Chopella, Kapileswarapuram, Kulla, Masakapalli and Tallarevu at miles 8/7½, 16/0, 21/½, 29/6 and 40/2½ respectively. The last one is a tidal lock connecting the canal with the salt creek known as the Coringa river. Alamu and Kotipalli are the two important places on this canal. The Kotipalli railway station is within 4 furlongs (from 26/2) of the Bank Canal.

11. Mandapeta Canal:—This canal takes off at mile 6/4 of the Cocanada Canal with an open head and falls into the Coringa Canal at mile 23/4 of the latter. It has two locks at Tapeswaram and Pasalapudi at miles 11/4 and 18/0 respectively.

12. Coringa Canal:—This canal starts at mile 13/1 of the Bank Canal with an open head and falls into the Coringa River at Manjair lock at 35 miles 28 chains and is thus connected with the sea. There are three locks on the canal at Alamu, Vella and Manjair at miles 14/2, 25/7½ and 35/3 respectively. The last one is a tidal lock.

13. Injaram Canal:—This canal starts at mile 21/6 of the Coringa Canal with an open head and ends with a surplus weir at 32 miles 78 chains. It is navigable throughout its length but the end at the surplus weir is a blind one. It has one second class lock at 29 miles 78 chains at Verrapothavaram.

14. Kovvur Manjair Junction Canal:—This canal is a junction canal connecting the Cocanada Canal (at mile 28/2½) with the Coringa Canal (at mile 35/1). There are two locks one at each end; the lock on the Cocanada Canal end is called the new Kovvur lock and that at the other end the new Manjair lock. Both are second class locks with revetted chambers.

15. Tonnage of Boats, Maximum Draft, Depths of Waters in Canals etc.:—The maximum tonnage of most of the boats plying in the canals of the Eastern delta is 40 tons; but there are a few barges with tonnage ranging from 43 to 58 tons, which are occasionally used when the depth is favourable.

The maximum draft is $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 feet. All the canals are navigable except during the closure period of about five weeks from 1st May. Navigable depth cannot be maintained in the canals for some periods commencing from about the end of February to the date of closure of the canals and for about a month after reopening of the canals, i.e., from about the month of June till the arrival of freshes in the river. The dimensions of the smallest chamber of the locks on these canals are $105' \times 15'$.

16. Godavari Central Delta :—Main Canal :—The main canal of the Godavari Central delta takes off from the Akhanda Godavari River in its middle near Bobberlanka. The head-lock at Bobberlanka connects Central delta canals with the Godavari river and the Eastern and the Western delta canals through their head-locks at Dowlaishwaram and Vizeswaram, respectively. The bank canal of the Central delta takes off from the main canal at $8\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

17. Bank Canal :—This canal takes off from the main canal at $8\frac{1}{2}$ miles with a lock known as the Lolla lock, and runs alongside the right flood bank of the Gowtami Godavari thus forming the Eastern boundary of the Central delta. The canal is navigable for a length of 43 miles 8 chains (including the main canal portion) up to Kundaleswaram weir. Besides the Lolla lock at its head, there are three locks at Vadapalem, Chintalanka and Annampalli at miles 20/0, 26/7 and 31/6 respectively.

18. Gannavaram Canal :—From mile $8\frac{1}{2}$ of the main canal, the Gannavaram Canal takes off with the Ralli lock at its head. The alignment of the canal follows the Western boundary of the Central delta. The canal is navigable throughout its length of 45 miles 14 chains. Besides the Ralli lock, there are four locks at Gopalpur, Mondepulanka, Sivakodu, and Sakhinipalli at miles 17/2, 28/1, 38/7 $\frac{1}{2}$ and 45/1 $\frac{1}{2}$ (tail-end), respectively. The last one is a tidal lock connecting the canal with the Vasista Godavari river and with the canals of the Godavari Western delta through the Narasapur lock. This canal crosses the Vynatheyam arm of the Godavari by the Gannavaram Aqueduct.

There is a wharf at Gannavaram at mile 28/6 of the canal. Gopalpur, Gannavaram, Tatipaka and Razole are the important commercial centres of the canal.

19. Amalapur Canal :—This canal takes off from mile $8\frac{1}{4}$ of the Gannavaram Canal. A new lock known as Ralli new lock was recently constructed at its head. The canal is navigable down to mile 34/6. Besides the lock at its head, there are four locks at Palivela, Mukkamala, Nadipudi and Chintalapudi at miles 19/7 $\frac{1}{2}$, 26/2 $\frac{1}{2}$, 30/1 and 34/6 respectively.

Ralli, Kothapeta, Palivela and Amalapuram are the important places on the canal.

20. Bendamurlanka Canal :—This canal takes off from mile 30/3 of the Amalapur Canal below Nadipudi lock with an open head and is navigable only for a length of two miles at the end of which the Indupalli weir intervenes.

21. Tonnage of boats, depths of water in canals, etc. :—The maximum tonnage of boats plying in the canals of Central delta is 58 tons and the draft when loaded ranges between $3\frac{1}{2}$ and 4 feet. The minimum dimensions of the locks on the canals are $80' \times 15'$.

22. Godavari Western Delta—Main Canal :—The main canal of the Godavari Western Delta takes off from the right bank of the Godavari river at Vizeswaram. The head-lock at Vizeswaram connects the Western Delta canal system with the Godavari. Generally navigable up to Bhadrachalam and with the canal systems of the Eastern deltas through their head-locks at Bobberlanka and Dowlaishwaram respectively. The only wharf on the canal is at Nidadavole, a big village and railway station situated on its right bank at $4\frac{1}{2}$. The Kakarparru canal branches off at mile 5/7 $\frac{1}{2}$ on the left side and the main canal below this point is known as the Ellore canal.

23. Kakarparru Canal and its Branches :—At mile 7/0 and about a mile below the open head of the Kakarparru canal, the Gostanadi and Velpur Canal branches off on the right side and has a lock at its head. Tanuku, Velpur, Penumantra, Mamudur, Vissacoderu and Bhimavaram on this canal at miles 30/2, 36/5 and 40/7, respectively. The last lock is a tidal one and is also the terminal lock. It connects the Godavari Western delta with the sea and with the canal systems of Krishna delta via the Yenamadurru drain and the Upputaru, besides affording access to the other canals of the delta such as the Narasapur canal and the Venkayya and Weyyeru canal.

24. Bank Canal :—Some distance below the off-take of the Gostanadi and Velpur canal, i.e., at mile 7/2, is the first lock on the Kakarparru canal. The Bank canal branches off from the left side of the Kakarparru canal at mile 14/5 with an open head. Sidhantam, Koderu, Doddipatla and Lakshmipalem are the important villages on this canal. There are locks at Sidhantam, Koderu and Lakshmipalem at miles 24/2, 30/6 and 39/4, respectively; the last one is the terminal lock and is a tidal one. This lock connects the Godavari Western delta with the Vasista Godavari below the anicut and with the Central delta through Sakhinipalli lock also connects it with the Godavari river. About two miles below the head of the Bank canal, the Kakarparru canal terminates at the Peravali lock.

25. Narasapur Canal:—Below the Peravali lock, the canal is known as the Narasapur canal. Penugonda, Marteru, Palacol Narasapur and Mogaltur are some of the important towns on the canal. There are six locks on the canal at Itempudi, Marteru, Kavitam, Palacole, Narasapur and Mogaltur at miles 21/3, 25/0, 28/1, 33/0, 38/0 and 56/0 respectively. The lock at Narasapur connects the canal with the Vasista Godavari, the Central delta and the sea through the Godavari. Mogaltur lock is the terminal lock and is a tidal one. It connects the delta through the Mogaltur salt creek and the Upputeru with the sea and with the canal systems of the Krishna delta and also provides connection with the other canals of the Godavari Western delta through the Gostanad i and Velpur canal and the Venkayya and Weyyeru Canal. There are two wharves on this canal at Palacole and Narasapur within a mile of the railway stations for these places.

26. Ellore Canal and other off-takes:—Attili Canal:—This canal branches off from the left side of the Ellore canal at mile 6/6 with an open head. Tenali, Mandapaka and Attili are the big villages on it. Gudicherla lock is the first lock situated at mile 11/0 of the canal. Gummampadu lock at mile 20/4 of the canal is the terminal lock. The canal is a blind one and is not navigable except for a small length down to Attili which is situated a little below the terminal lock.

27. Junction Canal:—At mile 9/6 of the Ellore canal, the junction canal branches off on the left side with an open head. Muddapuram is the only important village on it and there is a lock at this place at mile 12/4. Access to the Venkayya and Weyyeru and the Undi and the old Weyyeru canals is possible only through this lock.

28. Ellore Canal:—Below the head of the Junction canal, the Ellore canal runs for nearly 36½ miles. Tadepalligudem, Ungutur, Chebrole, Kaikaram, Pulla, Bhimadole, Gundugolanu and Ellore are the important places on the canal. At the tail-end is the Ellore lock, connecting this canal with the Ellore canal of the Krishna delta. There is a wharf at Tadepalligudem just south of the railway station.

29. Venkayya and Weyyeru Canal:—The tail channel from Muddapuram lock meets the Venkayya and Weyyeru canal at mile 13/2. The important villages on the Venkayya and Weyyeru canal are Ravipadu, Ganapavaram, Akidu and Cherukumilli. It has two locks, one at Parimella at mile 20/8 and the other, the end, lock, and a tidal one at Yelurpadu at mile 45/3. The second lock connects the delta with the sea and with the canal systems of the Krishna delta and the other canals of the Godavari Western delta through the Upputeru.

30. Undi Canal:—At mile 19/7 of the Venkayya and Weyyeru canal branches off the Undi canal on the left bank with the head-lock called the Chilakampadu lock. Chilakampadu, Pippara, Yendagandi, Garagaparru, Gollalacoderu, Mahadevapatnam and Undi are the big villages on this canal. At Yendagandi is another lock at mile 27/6. The canal is navigable down to mile 35/5 only and is therefore a blind one.

31. Old Weyyeru Canal:—At mile 35/1 of the Venkayya and Weyyeru canal branches off the old Weyyeru canal on the right side with a head-lock called the Chinakapavaram lock at mile 35/3. Chinakapavaram is the only important village on it. The canal ends at 40/9 and is a blind one.

The Buckingham Canal

1. General Description:—The Buckingham Canal connects the Commanur Canal of the Krishna Western delta with the Mercanam backwaters in South Arcot district and is about 258 miles long. It affords an easy and cheap mode of communication from the northernmost point of the Godavari canals to Madras and also to 62 miles further south. It is a coastal canal running through backwaters, depressions, lowlying land and estuaries of all the rivers in this length.

2. Capacity of the Canal:—Taking into consideration the depth of water maintained and the tonnage of boats that can ply in it, the canal may be divided into two reaches, viz., North canal which extends to 196 miles north of Madras. South canal which extends to about 62 miles south of Madras. The North canal is navigable for boats up to 30 tons capacity having draft not exceeding 3 feet. The South canal is navigable for boats up to 10 tons capacity having draft not exceeding two feet. A bottom width of 20 feet adequate for the passage of two boats one along side the other is maintained throughout the canal.

3. Conditions of Canal for Traffic:—The canal is ordinarily fit for navigation all the year round. No difficulty is felt in the locked-in portions of the canal at any time during the year. In the open reaches of the canal, i.e., in river crossings, the only precaution that boats will have to take is to endeavour to arrive and cross the tidal rivers when the tide is at or above mid tide. In the Pennar river especially the crossing should be done at high tide. During the prevalence of heavy monsoon floods delays of a few days in crossings occur and are inevitable.

4. Supplementary Canals, Backwaters, etc.:—In addition to the canal proper, almost all the backwaters and depressions which the canal crosses are also navigable throughout the

the south through the Puraparamba cut. This cut was made by Mr. Conolly through a high ground to connect the Ponnani and Kadalundi rivers. The definitely artificial portion in section III begins from the Puraparamba cut and ends at Kuttayi at a distance of about 15 miles. This whole length is now in disrepair. The restoration of this reach will establish through communication between Cochin, Calicut and Badagara.

4. Canal from Tirur to Ala:—This is by far the most important waterway in the West Coast. Though it ends at Ala, it extends further southwards as far as Trivandrum.

This section of the canal may be divided into the following reaches:

1. Tirur to Ponnani via Tirur and Ponnani rivers. Completely natural; length 16 miles.

2. Ponnani to Chetwayi:—Consists of artificial canals connecting natural backwaters. Length 21½ miles.

3. Chetwayi to Edathuruthi consisting of natural waterways. Length 14½ miles.

4. Edathuruthi to Chanthrapani. Completely artificial canal. Length 4 miles.

5. Chanthrapani to Ala. Length 10½ miles.

At the head of this canal is the Tirur railway station and the canal in its southern course passes through the important towns of Ponnani, Chowghat and Cochin. In the native States, the continuation of this canal passes through Mattancherry, Ernakulam, Alleppey, Quilon and Trivandrum. The growth of the Cochin Harbour has contributed to enhance the importance of this waterway.

At Kuttayi, 10 miles south of Tirur, occurs the connection with section III of the canal which is now in disrepair. From Ponnani begins the first artificial stretch nearly 3 miles long connecting the Ponnani and Valiangode rivers. The second stretch begins from Valiangode and extends to a distance of 10½ miles where it enters the Chowghat backwaters which with the Chetwayi River stretches as far as the Chetwayi bar, 21½ miles from Ponnani. From here the Karamchira river takes the navigation line as far as Edathuruthi which is 36 miles from Ponnani. From here begins the third stretch of the artificial canal which requires constant attention.

The Krishna Delta Canals System

1. General description:—The anicut across the Krishna river at Bezwada ensures a permanent connection between the Krishna Eastern and Western Delta Canals, which take off from above the anicut on either side of the river. The depth of water in both the main canals will be not less than 8 feet, between the months of June and January, and is sufficient for cargo boats, whose tonnage ranges from 1 to 40 tons. Ordinary country craft can ply across the river when there is not more than 12 feet of water over the crest of the anicut. When there is more than 12 feet of water the service of the Public Works Department steamer 'Havelock' can be had on payment of charges in accordance with the rates prescribed from time to time. The steamer can haul two 40-ton boats at a time. The approach to the head-locks in the canal is unsafe when there is a depth of 12 feet of water over the crest of the anicut and navigation is prohibited during such periods. But interruptions on this account are of short duration and are not serious. All canals in the Krishna delta are generally closed from the 15th March to 1st June every year. During the month of February there will be low supply in the canals and navigation will be difficult during the period.

2. Krishna River above the Anicut:—Above the anicut the river is navigable for 22 miles throughout the year, and for 60 miles during the monsoon months of July to November.

There is no lock in the Bezwada anicut for boats to cross the anicut.

3. Krishna River below the Anicut:—From Bezwada to Adavipalam lock at the tail end of the Krishna Western Bank canal, the river is navigable for light river steamers, launches and heavy cargo boats during the flood season from July to end of November. Thereafter, navigation is difficult in this reach till the next arrival of floods in July. For the rest of the year, i.e., December to June, the river is navigable up to fourteen miles above Adavipalam for light crafts of 30 tons drawing 3 to 4 feet of water.

The reach from Adavipalam lock to the sea is about 16 miles. It is tidal and navigable at all seasons of the year for light river-steamers, launches and cargo boats.

4. Wharves on the main Canal:—There is a wharf just below the head-lock at Bezwada, situated at about ¾ of a mile from Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway goods shed. There are two covered store sheds in the wharf, 50 ft. by 17 ft. each, as well as an open place 600 ft. by 30 ft. for storing materials. Wharfage fees are collected for loading and stocking materials on the river berm above the head-lock at Bezwada.

5. Krishna Eastern Delta—Main Canal:—The head-lock is at Bezwada and is 150 ft. long and 16 ft. wide. It accommodates three cargo boats up to 40 tons at a time. The depth maintained in the main canal is about 11 ft. from July to November. There is difficulty in navigation for loaded boats when the reading on the head-sluice gauge drops below 8 feet. The main canal divides itself into three branches within the first mile, viz., the Ellore rivers and Masulipatam canals. There are locks and regulators across the canals at 1 mile $1\frac{1}{2}$ furlongs, 1 mile 5 furlongs and 1 mile $\frac{1}{2}$ furlong, respectively and their dimensions are 105 ft. by 18 ft. respectively.

6. Ellore Canal:—This canal takes off at 0 mile $4\frac{1}{2}$ furlongs of the Krishna Eastern Delta Main Canal and runs parallel to the Madras and Southern Mahratta (Broad Gauge) Railway line and the Great Northern Trunk Road. The maximum distance between the railway line and the canal at any place is about three miles. The canal runs very close to the railway line at Ellore, the distance being only about 50 yards. At Ellore, the canal connects with the Godavari Delta canals through a junction lock. There are two wharves on the canal, one at Perikeedu and the other at Ellore. The former is $\frac{1}{2}$ mile from Nuzwid railway station while the latter is very close to the Ellore railway station. The canal runs through the heart of the Ellore Railway town which is the headquarters of the West Godavari District.

7. Ryves Canal:—This canal branches off from the Krishna Eastern Delta Main Canal at 0 mile 5 furlongs from its head. There is a wharf at 1 mile 2 furlongs mainly used for loading quarry materials from the quarry near by. Besides the head-lock, there is a lock at Komatigunta at 13 miles 5 furlongs. The depth of water generally maintained in the Canal varies from 6 to 7 ft. It joins the Pulleru Canal at Marrivada. The head-way at three bridges between Bezvada and Kadavakollu is too low except for small cargo boats.

8. Masulipatam Canal:—This is an important canal connecting the two important towns, Bezvada and Masulipatam. It takes off from Eastern Delta Main canal at 0 mile 5 furlongs and ends at a tidal lock at Masulipatam, through which access can be had to the sea. The total length of the canal is 48 miles 5 furlongs. The canal runs almost parallel to the Masulipatam-Hyderabad railway line at Ellore, the distance being only about 50 yards. At Ellore the canal connects with the Godavari Delta canals through a junction lock. There are two wharves on the canal, one at Pamarru and the other at Cintaguntapalem. The former is about 9 miles from Gudivada railway station and the latter is about three miles from Masulipatam railway station.

9. Krishna East Bank Canal:—This canal takes off at mile $4\frac{1}{2}$ of the right bank of the Masulipatam canal, near Yenamalakuduru and runs for a length of 10 miles 7 furlongs along the left flood bank of the Krishna river. Only small cargo boats of about 10 to 12 tons ply in this canal. The depth of water in the canal is about 5 feet. But the canal is being improved and widened to be useful both for irrigation down to about $34\frac{1}{2}$ miles from its head.

10. Pulleru Canal:—This canal branches off from the Masulipatam canal at 12 miles 5 furlongs. It is not navigable from Kankipadu to Vuyyur weir, i.e., from 12 miles 5 furlongs to 21 miles $6\frac{1}{2}$ furlongs. It joins the Ryves canal at Marrivada and runs down to Gudlavaluru (36th mile) where it bifurcates into two navigable canals, viz., the Bantumilli canal and the Polraz canal. Both these canals connect with the Godavari Delta canals, via Upputeru. There is a wharf called Cowtaram wharf at 35 miles $7\frac{1}{2}$ furlongs very near the Gudlavaluru railway station.

11. Junction Canal:—This canal is a short link connecting the Pulleru and the Bandar canals.

12. Bantumilli Canal:—This canal takes off at 36 miles 1 furlong of the Pulleru canal and ends at the Lakshmipuram tidal lock at 62 miles 3 furlongs and through this canal access can be had to the Godavari canals through the Upputeru through Mogalturu, Bhimavaram and Yelurpadu locks.

13. Polraz Canal:—This canal takes off from the Pulleru canal at 36 miles $\frac{1}{2}$ furlong and ends at 62 miles 1 furlong at the Tadinada lock through which access can be had to the Upputeru and thence to the Godavari Delta canals or the sea.

There is a wharf on the canal at Mudinepalli 6 miles from the nearest railway stations, Gudlavaluru and Cowtaram.

14. Krishna Western Delta—Main Canal:—The head-lock is 150 ft. long and 16 ft. wide and accommodates three cargo boats at a time. The depth of water maintained in the main canal is about 12 feet between the months of July and November. Navigation in the canal is generally difficult if the head-sluice gauge reads less than 8 ft. The first branch, viz., the Krishna Western Bank canal, takes off on the left at 7 miles 6 furlongs and the main canal itself ends at 11 miles 7 furlongs where it bifurcates into two, viz., the Commanur canal and the Nizampatam canal.

15. Krishna Western Bank Canal:—The Bank canal closely follows the right bank of the Krishna river as far as the tail lock at Adavipalem at 54 miles 1 furlong where it enters the Krishna river in the tidal reach.

A branch railway line (broad gauge) runs from Tenali to Repalle not far from the Bank canal, increasing the facilities for traffic of the riverside villages and another branch railway line (broad gauge) runs from Tenali to Guntur crossing the Commanur canal near Jagarlamudi.

16. Commanur Canal:—The Commanur canal starts 11 miles 6 furlongs of the Main canal near Duggirala and joins the Buckingham Canal at 70 miles 2 furlongs at the Peddaganjam tidal lock near Peddaganjam.

17. Nizampatam Canal:—The Nizampatam Canal starts from 13 miles of the Main canal and ends at Nizampatam tidal lock at 41 miles 1 furlong through which vessels can pass into the Tungabhadra drain and the tidal creek beyond.

Alwaye: is a popular health resort on the banks of a river the waters of which are said to have medicinal properties. A large fertilizer factory has been established at Alwaye.

Angamali: is the station for Kaladi, famous as the birth place of Sri Sankaracharya. The temple of Sankara is built in idyllic surroundings on the banks of the Alwaye River.

Calicut: is a business centre on the West Coast and a port of call for coastal vessels. It was here that Vasco-da-Gama first landed in 1498 A. D. A busy trade in coir, copra and timber is handled by Calicut which is served by a number of navigable canals.

Cape Comorin: otherwise called as Kanyakumari. A place of great interest for tourists and pilgrims where the Arabian Sea and the Bay of Bengal join. Sunset and sunrise here provide a grand sight.

Charamparambu : is about $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Cranganore and is said to be the palace where Chera Kings had their palace.

Cochin : is the largest sea-port on the West Coast, next to Bombay. It is the outlet for the produce of Malabar and its hinterland. One of the earliest European settlements in India, Cochin has numerous vestiges of the past. The harbour situated on Willington Islands is open for shops all the year round. There is a Travellers' Bungalow and a Western style hotel called "Malabar Hotel".

Cranganore : There is a Bagavathi Temple famous throughout Malabar. There is a Siva Temple called Tiruvanjikulam and is considered as Thillai of Malabar.

Guruvayur : Twenty miles from Trichur and 18 miles from Pattambi Railway Stations is the famous temple of Sri Krishna at Guruvayar which is held in great reverence by all Hindus.

Pallivasal : place where electricity is being generated.

Peermedu : is in a higher level which is beautifully situated among the Hills. It is a health resort.

Sucheendram : consists of old temples of interest with cuttings and carvings, beautifully made many years ago, still well preserved.

Thiruppunithura : It is a town beautifully laid up and most of the residences belong to the Princes and Princesses of Cochin State.

Trivandrum : the southernmost terminus of the Railway and the capital of Travancore-Cochin State, is a picturesque city and also a place of great religious importance. The temple of Sri Padmanabha, the family deity of the Maharajas of Travancore and known to Northerners as "Ananthasayanam", is a sacred shrine maintained in its pristine purity. Well-known for its ups and downs and luxuriant vegetation, the city has beautiful, well-illuminated roads and buildings of artistic pattern. The public gardens and Zoo which are the best in South India, the Art Gallery known as the 'Chitralaya', the Ranga Vilas Palace with its rare collections of specimens of art, the Museum, the Public Library and the Aquarium, said to be the best in the East, are among the many sights at Trivandrum. The seat of the Travancore University, Trivandrum is also a great educational and cultural centre.

Vaikom : contains the famous Siva Temple worshipped by all the Hindus of the State and outside.

Varkala : The Temple of Sri Janardana sacred to the Hindus of North and South.

In the MYSORE STATE

Bangalore : The most important City in the Mysore State is situated at an altitude of over 3000 ft. and has a salubrious climate which has made it one of the most attractive health resorts in India. It is the seat of the Mysore Government and is a city replete with fine parks, beautiful avenues and modern buildings. It has developed into a great industrial centre and there are woollen, silk, soap and ceramic factories. The public parks known as "Lal Bagh" and "Cubbon Park", the Maharaja's palace, the Museum and the Cantonment are places worth visiting. Seven miles from Bangalore city is situated the Hindustan Aircraft Factory, the only one of its kind in India.

Thirty-five miles from Bangalore by road and also connected with it by a light railway is the Nandi Hill Station, 4,851 ft. above sea-level. It has an excellent climate and is very popular during the summer season.

Belgaum : Has a temperate and healthy climate, its altitude being 2,500 ft. It is a military cantonment of great importance and is also the headquarters of a Commissioner. It has a number of colleges and is of great commercial and industrial importance.

Belur : Is reminiscent of the splendour of Hoysala times. There are a number of architectural monuments ranking amongst the greatest masterpieces of Hindu art. Dating back from the 12th Century, the temples at Belur contain such perfect pieces of sculpture that it is impossible to imagine how old they are. One notes with wonder that the sculptors of these temples used granite as if it were ivory.

Bhadravati : Is an important industrial centre in the Mysore State. The Mysore Iron and Steel Works are the second largest in India and contain a Charcoal-Blast Furnace and Wood-Distillation Plant. There are also Cement, Fertilizer and Paper factories.

Chamundi Hill : Sri Chamundeswari is the tutelary Deity of the ruling house of Mysore and it is after Her that the hill which stands like a guardian angel over the city is named. An excellent road runs to the top from where a wonderful panorama of the undulating plains with India's well-known Blue Mountains-the Nilgiris-and the city below, is obtained two thirds up sits a giant stone Nandi or sacred bull of God Siva hewn out of a single boulder more than two hundred and fifty years ago. At night the sight of the city's myriad lights sparkling in the plain beneath cannot fail to produce a lasting impression.

Gerosoppa Falls (JOG FALLS): 19 miles from Sagara on the Binur-Sagara Branch are the well-known Jog Falls which are unrivalled for their majestic beauty and grandeur. These falls are formed by the river Sharavathi falling into a mighty chasm about half-a-mile wide and 960 ft. deep. They have been described as one of the grandest natural sights, having few rivals in any part of the world. The roaring waters have been harnessed and the electric power developed has been utilised for feeding the neighbouring districts.

Gokak: Gokak Falls about 3½ miles from the station provide the motive power for the Gokak Mills which is a flourishing textile mill. The town of Gokak is noted for its manufacture of toys.

Hassan: Is the best place from which to visit colossal statue of Gomateswara at Sravanabelagola is 30 miles from Hassan while Belur is 25 miles and Halebid is 10 miles from Belur.

Harihar: On the Bangalore-Poona section, is a frontier town of the Mysore State on the right bank of the Tungabhadra river. It was once a Military Cantonment and contains the famous endowed temple of Harihara created in the 13th century. During the Mohammedan occupation of the town the roof of the temple was used as a mosque, a door being made into the front of the tower for the admission of the officiating priest. There are refreshment rooms at the Railway station for both Europeans and Indians and a good Travellers' Bungalow near the station.

Jejuri: Is renowned for its beautiful temples built on the crest of a small hill dedicated to Sri Khandoba and attracts thousands of devotees during the festivals. The important ones are the Somavati, Maghi, Bhadrpad, Chammpa Shasthi and Chitra Poornima festivals. The sacred tank and the spacious Dharmasala at Jejuri are said to have been built by Rani Ahalya Bai.

Kolar Gold Fields: About 95% of India's output of gold is obtained from the Kolar Gold Fields in Eastern Mysore, about 50 miles from Bangalore, where there is a single gold-bearing reef of quartz some four miles long. An 8-mile long branch line connects Bangarpet with the Gold Fields. It was in 1885 that Messrs. John Taylor & Sons took over the management of the mines. Electric Power is obtained from Sivasamudram and the mines are well equipped and efficiently managed. The deepest workings are in the Ooregum Mine, being 9,664 ft. below Field Datum or 6,697 ft. vertically below mean sea level. The mines employ 24,000 people and there is a large township.

Krishnaraja Sagar: One of the most interesting places in the State is Krishnaraja Sagar, 12 miles from Mysore. Here in mighty dam 124 feet height and 2 miles long, impounds the waters of the Cauvery and forms the second largest artificial lake in the world. Below the lake has been laid out the charming Terrace Garden, with its exquisite fountains, flower beds, terraces, footpaths, channels and cascades, producing the most wonderful rainbow effects of colour.

The location of an image of the Goddess Cauvery with a bowl in Her hand from which flows a continuous stream of water indicative of perpetual beneficence and prosperity at the entrance to the garden is particularly apt and pleasing. At night, when the dam, the gardens, the fountains and the Cauvery niche are lit up with electric lights, a beautiful picture reminiscent of the fairy land or one's childhood is unfolded as if by magic and leaves an indelible impression on the minds of all who behold it. For the convenience of visitors a Rest House commanding a full view of the garden has been erected.

Mandya Town: A tourist who combines with sight-seeing in the State will do well to visit the Sugar Factory at Mandya, which is the second Largest of its kind in India, with a capacity to crush 1,400 tons of sugar cane per day. Close to the Factory is an up-to-date Distillery for the manufacture of Denatured Spirit.

Mysore: Few places in India possess more attractions of general interest than the picturesque State of Mysore. Situated in the South, with a mean elevation of 2,000 to 3,000 feet above sea level, it enjoys a mild and equable climate throughout the year.

It is a land of lofty mountains, primeval forests and the most lovely water falls. Its forests are the special of the tiger, bison and wild elephant and it is here that the cultivation of coffee, sandalwood and teak is carried to such high standards.

Among all the countries of the East, Mysore produces by far the greatest quantity of gold.

The State covers an area of 29,483 square miles and has to-day a population of nearly 7,000,000. The history of this beautiful land is full of interest. Tradition, in the first instance, connects it with the two great Indian epics, the Ramayana and the Mahabharata. Coming down to more historical times some of the famous edicts and pillars of Asoka, which are to be found in the north of the State, definitely proclaim it to have been part of the mighty Mauryan Empire.

Seringapatam : Which from 1610 to 1799 A. D. was the capital of Mysore State, lies about ten miles away from the present capital. The crumbling fort bastions and dungeons are of particular historical interest for it was here that the British finally overcame Tippu Sultan after an historic siege and assault and the present rulling dynasty was re-invested with the government of the State. Other places of interest are "Scotts' Bungalow", the "Dariya Dowlat Bagh" or "Garden of the Wealth of the Sea", a favourite spot with Tippu; the "Water Gate" where Tippu met his death and the "Gumbaz" in which Tippu and his parents are buried.

Sivaganga : Nidavanda, on the Bangalore-Poona section is the nearest station for Sivaganga, a sacred hill of conspicuous conical form. It contains some large temples carved out of caves, also an unfathomable sacred pool named the Pathala Ganga or Ganges of the lower regions, in a cleft of the hill. At the summit are two pillars from one of which a miraculous stream of water is said to ooze on the day of winter solstice. A fair is held here on the day of Makara Sankranti in the month of Magha (January) at which thousands of people assemble. Bullock-carts and jutkas or single horse carriages are available at Nidavanda for the conveyance of Pilgrims to the sacred hill. There are two Dharmasalas on the hill besides several mantapas for the accommodation of pilgrims.

Sivasamudram : Thirty miles from Maddur Station is the famous Sivasamudram Dam which harnesses the waters of the Cauvery for generating electricity. Here the Cauvery branches into two streams each of which makes a descent of about 200 feet in a succession of picturesque rapids and cascades. The surrounding forest scenery is extremely grand while the giant generating station with a capacity of 34,500 kilowatts, is a marvel of engineering skill.

Sringeri : Easily accessible by bus from Tarikere and Shimoga stations, Sringeri is a picturesque place on the banks of the river Tunga. The great philosopher Sankara settled and established his mutt here. The spiritual throne established by him has been occupied by his apostolic successors down to the present day.
