Rulings—
Bills—Amendments to—
Amendments thrown out by a large majority in the committee stage need not be selected under S.O. No. 32 (6) for discussion in the full House ..	560
New clauses not relevant to any particular clause but relevant to a Bill may be moved ..	560
It is a working rule, that amendments to Bills for consideration on a particular day should reach the Secretary before 3 p.m. the previous day but when an amendment represents a compromise between the parties, it would be specially dealt with ..	96
The mover of a Bill may bring in an amendment contrary to its provisions as reported by the Select Committee ..	72
An amendment substantially identical with one already voted upon, though slightly differing in scope, is not in order ..	864

Bills—Committee stage—
Rules as to number of speeches are not strictly observed in the committee stage ; except that, there is not much distinction between the committee stage and the stage of consideration of the Bill by the House	560
Bills—Select Committee on—
A Bill, which has passed through a Select Committee and on which a final report has been drawn up and circulated, cannot be recommitted to another Select Committee under S.O. No. 44	441-442, 462
There is nothing in the Standing Orders preventing the commitment of two Bills to one and the same Select Committee	365-366
Bills—Select Committee, Chairmanship of—
There is no objection to including the President in a Select Committee to be its Chairman	1232
The President being a member of the Select Committee, the convention is that he can nominate himself as its Chairman under S.O. No. 40, if the Leaders of parties agree unanimously to such a course	1232
Bills—Select Committee, instructions to—
The procedure of allowing members to move in the Council for issuing instructions to the Select Committee, though not provided for by rules or Standing Orders, is adopted, under the powers of the President vested by S.O. No. 79, in consonance with the practice in the House of Commons	1061
Bills—Select Committee's powers—
Interpretation of Standing Order No. 40 (4). Issuing a questionnaire to the local bodies by the Select Committee on the Local Boards Act Amending Bill cannot be called 'hearing expert evidence'. The expression 'special interests affected' in the case of the Local Boards Bill does not include the local bodies.	1238-1239
Select Committee's powers to introduce amendment—A Select Committee cannot introduce any provision which is not within the scope of a Bill	1034-1038
Bills—Select Committee's powers to introduce amendments, limitations on—
If the Select Committee puts in provisions which could not be introduced in the Bill, the Bill should be recommitted to the Select Committee for omitting such things, as the Council cannot discuss such provisions in open House	1038 Debate—
President's speeches—It should be a convention not to refer to the speeches made by the presidents while they were members of the Council	1208
Decorum—
A member rising to offer a personal explanation should do so from the seat allotted to him in the House	1047
Conversations between members across the table may disturb a debate and can more conveniently take place in the lobbies instead of in the House	826, 827
Demands for supplementary grants—Cut motions on—
A cut motion which does not refer to the administrative liability of the Government in regard to the sum involved in the grant is out of order	1344-1345
Motion(s) under rule 24-A—
A— is not a 'resolution' and need not be in the form of a specific recommendation to Government	380
Ruled that the motion 'that the Assistant Secretary, Legislative Council, be given facilities to study first-hand Parliamentary procedure and practice' raised a definite matter of general public interest and therefore came under the ambit of rule 24-A	380-381
Questions and Answers—
A question should not be of the nature of a resolution	608
Government can confine themselves, in answering questions, to the information available with them	608
Question time should not be availed of as an opportunity to demand an assurance on any matter from a Member of Government	418
Quotations
The practice is that the official books or documents from which quotations are made are generally supplied, or an undertaking to supply them is given	82
Resolutions involving financial liability or imposing any charge on revenues—
Sanction of the Governor under section 80-C of the Government of India Act not necessary to the moving of a resolution recommending the undertaking of a financial liability	1813-1814

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS

Agriculture

Action taken on the recommendations of the Agricultural Commission.

* 403 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the recommendations of the Agricultural Commission have been considered by the Government;

(b) what the recommendations are that this Government have accepted; and

(c) how far those recommendations have been carried out in practice?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The Agricultural Advisory Committee are considering the recommendations of the Royal Commission and the Government propose to take action in accordance with the Committee's decisions.

Copies * of G.O. No. 416, Development, dated 8th March 1929, appointing the Committee, and of the minutes of the meetings of the Committee held on the 14th February, 14th May and 15th June are placed on the table.

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, from the hon. the Minister for Development with reference to the answer to clauses (a), (b) and (c), whether the decisions of the Committee will be final?"

* Printed as Appendix I on pages 97-105 infra.

[24th September 1929]

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"Not final. Its functions are only advisory."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"It is stated here, Sir, that the Government propose to take action in accordance with the Committee's decisions . . . ?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"That is cross-examination."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. the Minister, with reference to the note of the Appendix I which states and restricts that the main functions of the Committee will be to examine the recommendations of the Royal Commission more especially those affecting more than one department, etc. What is being done in regard to other recommendations that do not concern other departments?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"They are being considered by the Development Department in the first instance."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know if the Development Department have come to any decision on any of these recommendations?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"If the hon. Member will refer to the minutes of the proceedings printed in the Appendix, he will see whether they have come to any decision or not."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"In the first sentence of the Appendix it is stated that the Government have had under their consideration certain things and that proposals based on them should be submitted to the Government for consideration. I want to know which Government it is that considered them in the first instance, which Government it is that is now considering, and which Government it is that is going to submit them for the consideration of the Government."

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"There are three statements there containing the recommendations. One is giving the recommendations with regard to the Government of India and our Government; the second is the recommendations to be considered by our Government only; and the third is with regard to things not concerning us at all. Therefore the main considerations that are being taken now are about the recommendations to be considered by our own Government."

Constitution and recommendations of the Madras Agricultural Advisory Committee.

* 404 Q.—Mr. G. R. PREMAYYA: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the names of the members of the Madras Agricultural Committee appointed to consider the action to be taken on the recommendations of the Agricultural Commission;

(b) how many times they met since the Committee had been constituted;

(c) what are the important subjects discussed at each meeting;

[24th September 1929]

- (d) what are the final recommendations of the Committee; and
 (e) what is the expense incurred by the Government on account of the Agricultural Advisory Committee since it was constituted?

A.—(a) The following are the members of the Committee which is presided over by His Excellency the Governor:—

- (1) Hon. the Minister for Development.
- (2) Hon. the Finance Member.
- (3) Secretary to Government, Development Department.
- (4) Director of Agriculture.
- (5) Director of Veterinary Services.
- (6) Registrar of Co-operative Societies.
- (7) Director of Industries.
- (8) Director of Fisheries.
- (9) Director of Public Instruction.
- (10) Director of Public Health.
- (11) M.R.Ry. Rao Sahib V. Krishna Menon Avargal, Calicut.
- (12) „ B. P. Sesha Reddi Garu, Bethamcherla, Kurnool district.
- (13) „ Rao Bahadur K. S. Venkatarama Ayyar Avargal, Negapatam.
- (14) The Raja of Parlakimedi.

(b) The Committee met three times since it was constituted.

(c) & (d) The information is contained in the minutes of the meetings of the Committee. Minutes of the May and June meetings were placed on the Council table in reply to question No. 51 asked by Mr. K. R. Karant.

The minutes^a of the meeting held in August are placed on the table.

(e) The only expense involved is on account of the travelling allowance of the members. Information regarding the travelling allowances drawn by the officials is not available with the Government. As regards the non-official members a sum of Rs. 694-12-0 has been so far claimed and paid.

Co-operative Societies

Number and location of land mortgage banks.

* 405 Q.—MR. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of land mortgage banks now working;
- (b) where each of them is situated; and
- (c) the work done by each?

A.—(a) to (c) A statement^b furnishing the information is appended.

^a Printed as Appendix II on page 106 infra.

24th September 1929]

Development of Industries

Bone-grinding factories in the Presidency.

* 406 Q.—MR. G. R. PREMAYYA: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) how many bone-grinding factories there are in the Province;
- (b) how many bone-grinding factories there are in Andhra desa; and
- (c) if there are none in the Andhra desa whether he proposes to establish any therein?

A.—(a) & (b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to Statement II appended to the Administration Report of the Indian Factories Act for the year 1928 published in G.O. No. 1087, Development, dated 27th June 1929.

(c) The Government have no such proposal under consideration at present.

Fisheries

Investigations done by the trawler 'Lady Goschen.'

* 407 Q.—DR. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) what class of vessel the 'Lady Goschen' is, auxiliary, transport or otherwise;

(b) whether it is specially adapted for the purpose of deep-sea fishing and plankton investigation;

(c) the purposes for which the trawler was employed since April 1928 and the income and expenditure in connexion therewith;

(d) how many officers and men have been employed on the trawler—

(i) for working it, and

(ii) for investigation purposes;

and what has been the cost each year;

(e) how many miles of the sea coast has this trawler so far investigated and how many miles yet remain to be investigated;

(f) at the rate at which this investigation is going on, in how many years is the investigation likely to be completed and what will it ultimately cost to the tax-payer; and

(g) what the object of this investigation is and how it is likely to benefit the fisherfolk?

A.—(a) The vessel is of the trawler type.

(b) Certain alterations and additions are now being carried out at Bombay in order to make her better fitted to conduct deep-sea fishing experiments and research.

(c) From April 1928 to end of June 1929 the vessel was employed on the following duties:—

Salt transport work; experimental dredging of pearl banks; and Deep-sea fishing and research; and inspection of the Laccadive and Amindivi islands.

The income and expenditure during the period were Rs. 19,339 and Rs. 1,00,734 respectively.

[24th September 1929]

- (d) (i) 1 and 22 respectively.
(ii) One Captain and one Inspector.

The establishment charges were in—

	RS.
1926-27	20,193
1927-28	22,259
1928-29	23,902

- (e) The area of available fishing grounds in the sea adjoining this Presidency is estimated to be 468,750 square miles. Forty thousand square miles have been investigated so far.
- (f) Approximately 21 years; the ultimate cost is estimated at about Rs. 17.18 lakhs.
- (g) The object of the investigation is to prepare a fishing chart in which each fishing ground will be located with information as to the principal varieties of marketable fish found there, the months in which they are found, the depth of the grounds, the nature of the bottom and its suitability for purposes of trawling and for anchorage, etc. With the aid of such a chart fishermen who have knowledge of their profession will be able to utilize their time and effort to the best advantage.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I know, Sir, whether it is the purpose of this Government to go on at this rate, wasting public funds, when the income is only Rs. 19,000 and odd and the expenditure is a lakh and odd on this trawler ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I cannot consider this a waste. Waste is being eliminated as far as possible."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I know, Sir, whether it is a fact that the useful life of this trawler is at an end, that any amount of repairs to it would be a waste and that she may break down at any moment? Already we are told that there was a break in the boilers, that the boilers burst ? "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member is already on the point of making a speech."

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" In the answer to clause (b), it is stated that certain alterations and additions are now being carried out. Do they include the equipment of a refrigerator, Sir ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" No, Sir."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" May I enquire with regard to (a), if the vessel is of a trawler type, whether it has been or will be ever used for trawling purposes ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Of course."

Mr. F. E. JAMES :—" Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state the number of working days put in by the trawler during the year ending June 1929 ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I want notice."

Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR :—" May I know when and from whom this trawler was purchased ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice."

24th September 1929]

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Do the Government mean having a biologist on the trawler to assist the master seaman ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Not yet, Sir."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" If the Government think that 21 more years are required for completing this investigation, will the trawler last till then, Sir ? "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is a hypothetical question."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" My question is this, and I put it straight to the hon. the Minister. The trawler is finished, it is dying out nearly, and in such a case are they going to waste public money on it, or are they going to buy a new one? If they are going to take 21 years for investigation itself, how do they expect to go on with this ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" We still think, Sir, that the trawler is not dying but that it is useful."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" Have the Local Government asked the Government of India whether they would undertake this survey and research work which appears to be more an All-India concern rather than a work of the Local Government ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" No, Sir."

Transport of salt by the trawler 'Lady Goschen.'

* 408 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the fishing trawler 'Lady Goschen' is employed for the transport of salt from Bombay;

(b) whether the Government consider it necessary to employ this vessel for that purpose, and if so, for what reasons;

(c) what percentage of salt used for curing fish is supplied by this means;

(d) whether the salted fish is manufactured in other places than the West Coast, and if so, whether the Government are supplying salt to those places also;

(e) at what rate salt is selling on the West Coast and at what rate it is sold by the Government agency;

(f) when this system of supplying salt to the curers of the West Coast was begun, why it was begun and who was supplying the salt till then;

(g) how this system helps the curers and whether there is a progressive increase in the number of fishermen buying salt at the hands of Government; and

(h) if not, why not?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The trawler 'Lady Goschen' has never been used for the transport of salt from Bombay. The hon. Member apparently refers to the employment of the vessel for the transport of salt from Tuticorin to the fish-curing yards on the West Coast. The vessel was employed on this work during the years 1926-27 and 1927-28 with the object of effecting a reduction in transport charges. The Government have recently directed that, for the present, the vessel should not be utilized for this work but used solely for conducting fishing experiments and research. As regards the quantity of salt transported by the trawler during the years 1926-27 and 1927-28 the hon. Member's attention is invited to Appendix III appended to the Administration Report of the Fisheries department for the year 1927-28 which has been placed at the disposal of the Press and is also available in the Council Library.

- (d) Fish is cured in some other coastal districts also and fish-curing yards have been opened in these districts and salt is supplied from them for curing purposes.
- (e) The present bazaar price of salt on the West Coast ranges between Rs. 2 and Rs. 2-2-0 per maund while the price at which salt is sold at the fish-curing yards is Rs. 1-4-0 per maund.
- (f) In 1874, the object being to supply to curers duty-free salt for manufacture of wholesome fish on sanitary and hygienic lines and at the same time prevent such salt being used for consumption to the detriment of salt revenue. Till then, the fish was cured mostly with salt-earth.
- (g) & (h) The system has helped the curers not only to the extent of saving the difference in price between the bazaar salt and the salt which is sold in the fish-curing yards but also to improve the trade in salt fish and develop their business. There is a progressive increase in the number of fishermen resorting to the fish-curing yards.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I know from the hon. the Minister whether the boilers broke down year before last ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Yes, Sir. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" And at that time we were told by the Government that the boilers were unfit and that it was not advisable to spend any more money on this trawler ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" We can repair it if it is out of order. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" If the boilers were to break down again, what is the use of spending lakhs on it? What is the use if it is not going to work . . . "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is arguing. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" Is the Minister aware that this trawler was sold as unserviceable, to our Government by a fishermen's firm in Scotland ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I do not know, Sir. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I know whether for 30 years before the War this vessel was being used for trawling in the German sea ? "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member is furnishing very useful information. "

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—" May I know how the salt is being transported to the yards ? "

[24th September 1929]

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" By means of contractors. "

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—" May I know what the charges are for this salt being delivered on the West Coast ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice, Sir. "

* Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" In the answer to clauses (a), (b) and (c) it is stated that the Government have recently directed that for the present the vessel should not be utilized for this (salt transport) work. Is it a fact that this trawler is the only trawler powerful enough to tow boats loaded with salt ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I believe so. "

* Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it a fact, Sir, that sometimes fish are obtained in such large quantities in the West Coast that the salt stored there is not enough, and the salt should be transported as quickly as possible? Then if this trawler is not used for transport of salt, what are the Government going to do ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" It is now sent for repairs, and when it returns the matter will be considered. "

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Will the trawler, when it comes back, be used for transporting salt ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" When it has no other work. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" When it has no other work, it is under repair. For how many days in the year is it under repair, and how long are the Government going to spend money on a vessel that is always under repair ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" That is not always under repair. It is now under repair. "

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—" Is this trawler christened ' Lady Goschen ' by this Government or by the original firm ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I am not aware of it, Sir. "

Veterinary

Betterment of the pay and prospects of Veterinary Surgeons.

* 409 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state with reference to my question No. 159, dated 9th August 1929, regarding improvement of the pay and prospects of Veterinary Surgeons, whether any, and, if so, what decision has been come to by Government in the matter ?

A.—The question is still under the consideration of Government.

Betterment of the pay and prospects of Veterinary Surgeons.

* 410 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state whether the Government have come to any decision regarding the question of bettering the pay and prospects of Veterinary Assistant Surgeons ?

A.—The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer given to question No. 409.

[24th September 1929]

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—"How long has this question been under the consideration of the Government? Have the Government come to any decision on the matter?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—"It will be decided at the time the budget is considered."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"May I enquire whether the Government is finding it difficult to attract students to the Veterinary College on account of the poor conditions of this service?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—"No, Sir. This year we find that a larger number of students have applied for admission into the college."

Adulteration of food stuffs

Extension of the Prevention of Adulteration of Food Act to Municipalities.

* 411 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state in which municipalities the Prevention of the Adulteration of Food Act has been brought into operation?

A.—The provisions of the Act were extended with effect from the 1st July 1929 to the City of Madras and the following mufassal municipalities :—

- | | |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| (1) Calicut. | (6) Nellore. |
| (2) Coimbatore. | (7) Ootacamund. |
| (3) Guntur. | (8) Rajahmundry. |
| (4) Karaikudi. | (9) Trichinopoly. |
| (5) Madura. | (10) Vizagapatam. |

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—"May I know why this Act has not been brought into operation in the other municipalities?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"The municipalities have to make contributions towards the cost of the analyst and one municipality after another is being asked if it is willing."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"May I know whether the Government asked the municipalities to pay exorbitant sums before this Act was extended to them, and several municipalities said that they could not bear the cost?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"I do not know whether the amount asked for is exorbitant. It depends on the financial resources of the municipalities; some are able to pay and some cannot."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"May I enquire whether this Act has been enforced at all with any effect?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"That question has been answered. The Act was extended only in July."

* Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR :—"May I know the rate of contribution collected from each municipality to meet the pay of the analyst?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"I think Rs. 720 is the minimum."

[24th September 1929]

* Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR :—"In view of this exorbitant rate of contribution, will the Government be pleased to extend the Act to more municipalities so that the charges on account of the analyst may be reduced?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"These analysts are to be paid by the Government. The Government cannot pay for services rendered by them to the municipalities. A larger number of analysts will be trained when there is need."

Excise

Representation from the Prohibition League, Malabar, to the Excise Licensing Board, Calicut.

* 412 Q.—Mr. C. GOPALA MENON: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to place on the table of the House the representation of the Prohibition League, Malabar, to the Excise Licensing Board, Calicut, the report called for on the same and the orders of Government thereon as promised in their reply to question No. 1105-B answered on 28th January 1929?

A.—The papers * are laid on the table.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"May I know if the policy of the Government is enunciated or reflected in the order on this representation, i.e., that the Board do not accept the recommendations contained in the representation?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"I do not think any question of policy arises in passing this order."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"May I ask if it is the policy of the Government to continue locating an arrack shop at a place disapproved of, and which is admitted to be unsuitable for such location?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"The Licensing Board has been invested with the authority of deciding themselves on this matter. They say that for the present year it is not possible to remove the shop elsewhere."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"What about the location of the shop during the next year?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"We are now concerned about this year."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"May I know whether on that Licensing Board men with considerable influence, representatives of the liquor vendors, are present, and their opinions prevailed but not the opinions of the more respected persons?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"Perhaps the hon. Member knows Calicut more than I do. I cannot answer that question."

Medical

Alleged location of a Nursing Home in the residential quarters of the Principal, Medical College.

* 413 Q.—Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Principal of the Medical College is given residential quarters within the Medical College compound;

(b) whether the said gentleman is maintaining a nursing home for his private practice;

(c) whether the said nursing home is located in a portion of the residential quarters of the said Principal; and

(d) if the reply to (c) is in the affirmative, the action taken or proposed to be taken to put a stop to this course of action?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) No.

(d) Does not arise.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“May I know if this officer is provided with quarters in the Government Maternity Hospital?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“Official quarters are provided, but not in the Medical College.”

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“Government Maternity Hospital also contains a portion of the Medical College, as midwifery is taught there, and I want to know whether this officer has or has not free quarters in that compound.”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“There are no free quarters. Every officer has to pay rent.”

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“May I know whether a portion of that quarters is occupied as a nursing home where private patients are confined and treated?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“Every doctor, wherever his quarters may be, can see and treat his private patients.”

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“In this case he is treating them in a place set apart as a nursing home. This is different from consulting practice.”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“I have said there is no nursing home.”

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“There is no nursing home in the Medical College. He is technically right. The portion of the quarters which the doctor is occupying now is being used as a nursing home. I want to know whether the Government are aware . . .”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“This is not the opportunity to furnish information.”

* Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR:—“The hon. the Minister has said that inasmuch as the doctor is paying rent, he is at liberty to treat his patients in his house. May I know if the quarters are intended only for residential purposes of the occupant, or is the occupant at liberty to use any portion as a nursing home?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“In fact there is no nursing home.”

Public Health

Grants to Maternity and Child Welfare Centres.

* 414 Q.—Dr. (Mrs.) S. MUTHULAKSHMI REDDI: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) the number of maternity and child welfare centres in the Presidency that are already receiving Government grants; and

(b) the number that have applied for grants?

A.—(a) & (b) The question of grants to maternity and child welfare centres in the Presidency was considered and dropped by the Government in December 1927. It was again taken up in July 1928 and the Government have since provided during the current year grants for the following works:—

(1) The Health and Welfare Association, Tellicherry, Rs. 2,000 for the construction of a maternity ward.

(2) The Health Week Maternity Ward Committee, Arkonam—Rs. 5,196 for the construction of a maternity ward.

They have also under consideration the application of the District Health Association, Trichinopoly, for a grant for the construction of a building.

Reduction of the fees for preparing vaccine for lepers.

* 415 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) what the fees are for the preparation of the vaccine for leper patients;

(b) whether there is any proposal to reduce the fees or to provide vaccine free of cost in the case of poor leper patients treated in charitable dispensaries; and

(c) whether Government have decided in favour of such reduced fees or free treatment?

A.—(a) to (c) The question is not understood. The Government are not aware of the issue of any such vaccine.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—“May I inquire whether the vaccine is being used for leper patients in the Government Leper Hospital?”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“It has been answered, ‘The Government are not aware of the issue of any such vaccine.’”

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—“I am asking, Sir, whether Government intend to provide any vaccine?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“So far, the Government are not aware of the issue of any such vaccine.”

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“Are the Government using any other drug for the cure of this disease, and are the patients made to pay for it?”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“The question does not arise.”

Registration

[24th September 1929]

Absence of the Inspector-General of Registration from the headquarters in Madras on other duty in 1928-29.

* 416 Q.—Mr. P. ANJANEYULU: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) for how many months the Inspector-General of Registration has been absent from the headquarters in Madras in the years 1928 and 1929 on other duty;

(b) whether his main duty is to inspect and supervise sub-registration and district registration offices and keep them in efficient condition;

(c) for what special reasons and for what special qualifications this officer is deputed to the Legislative Assembly to represent Madras Government;

(d) how many months he spent in Delhi, Simla and Ootacamund since 1928;

(e) (i) for how many days and weeks in the year his predecessor toured in the districts and for how many days or weeks the present Inspector-General of Registration toured in the districts and (ii) how many offices he inspected;

(f) how many offices and districts that are approachable and not approachable by motor-car still remain to be inspected in all; and

(g) the dates and offices inspected by him in detail during the last ten months?

A.—(a) One month in 1928 and two months and three weeks in 1929.

(b) Yes.

(c) He was not nominated to Legislative Assembly for any special reason or in consequence of the possession of any special qualifications.

(d) One month in Simla and 52 days in Ootacamund in 1928; and two months and three weeks in Delhi and 57 days in Ootacamund in 1929.

(e) (i) The year for which the comparative figures are required is not stated. During 1928 the present Inspector-General toured for 147 days.

(ii) The number of offices inspected during 1928 is 119; and 36 offices have been inspected up to 27th July 1929 this year.

(f) All the thirty District Registrars' offices were inspected in 1928. They will all be inspected in 1929. The question of inspecting sub-offices is left to the discretion of the Inspector-General.

(g) A list^a of the offices inspected by the Inspector-General during the ten months ending 30th June 1929 with dates of inspection is appended.

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—"So far as the answer to clause (c) is concerned, the Government have been pleased to say that there was no special reason for his nomination. May I know why he was nominated in that case?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The Government had to nominate somebody, and he was nominated."

^a Printed as Appendix V on pages 109-110 infra.

24th September 1929]

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"Did he apply for nomination?"

* The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Applications are not received for this place."

* Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"Is it a fact that any officer of the Government ought to be appointed for this place and that it is not on account of favouritism that this officer has been nominated?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"One officer has to be appointed, and he was appointed."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. Minister whether the Government thought that this officer would do better work in the Assembly than he would otherwise do here?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"What the Government thinks is a matter of opinion."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"May I know whether when this officer was holding the Commissionership of the Corporation of Madras, there were a number of defalcations at the time?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is not admissible."

* Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"Is it not a fact that his absence from Madras does not affect the discharge of his duties as Inspector-General of Registration?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"It is on that presumption that the officers are selected and sent to the Assembly."

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"Does the hon. Minister say that his absence from Madras for three months did not affect his work in this province?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"So far as I am aware, it did not affect his work here."

* Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"Is it not a fact that the papers were sent to him as if he were on tour and the work was carried on?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"That was so."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether Government consider that by sending him to the Assembly it would be a relief to the local administration?"

Number, etc., of the registration districts of Palghat, Calicut, Tellicherry and South Kanara.

* 417 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: With reference to my question No. 129 answered on 8th August 1929, will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to give the information received in regard to the registration districts of Palghat, Calicut, Tellicherry and South Kanara?

A.—A statement^a containing the information asked for is appended.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I invite the attention of the hon. Minister to the figures in the Appendix and ask him why the number of registration offices is so small in South Kanara, while the average area of jurisdiction per office and the average population per office are so large as compared with the registration districts of Calicut, Palghat and Tellicherry?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"These offices are based on the number of registrations they have to deal with. Probably the number of registrations in the offices of the South Kanara district is less."

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"In view of the fact that the surplus of the income in South Kanara is so much larger than in the neighbouring registration districts, will the hon. Minister consider the desirability of opening new offices in South Kanara?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"It is being considered."

Observance of the six years' service limit for promotion as District Registrars.

* 418 Q.—Mr. C. VENKATARAMAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is a Government Order to the effect that persons who were recruited to the upper grade of Sub-Registrars may be promoted as District Registrars only after they have completed six years' service;

(b) whether there was any limit fixed by any Government Order as to the total number that could be promoted as above and if so what the limit is;

(c) whether two such recruits were appointed as District Registrars after the completion of only 3½ and 5 years' service respectively;

(d) what were the reasons for making these two promotions in direct contravention of the Government Order referred to in (a); and

(e) what guarantees there are that such evasions of the above Government Order will not be allowed to occur again?

A.—(a) It was originally laid down as six years; but it was subsequently decided in 1926, that the six years' rule need not be adhered to and persons found fit may be appointed even earlier.

(b) No.

(c) Yes.

(d) & (e) Do not arise in view of the answer to clause (a) above.

Education

Opening of a supplementary section for the School Final students in Government Madrasa-i-Azam.

* 419 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state if the Government has made necessary arrangements to open another section of the School Final class in the Government Madrasa-i-Azam, to enable supplementary students of the same school to continue their studies?

A.—No. The opening of an additional section in the Madrasa-i-Azam is not possible owing to the limitation of accommodation.

* Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know from the hon. Minister whether he is aware that two or three years ago another section of the IV form was opened, and as a consequence of that it has become necessary to open a new section of the School Final class this year?"

[24th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"It is a question of building accommodation. It is impossible to open a new section until the new building of the Government Muhammadan College is complete."

* Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know why the Government did not foresee this contingency?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The question whether the Muhammadan College should be made permanent or not was decided only a year ago. Now, no other buildings are available. So, we shall have to wait till the new buildings are completed."

Number of over-aged Muslim boys sent out of the Madrasa-i-Azam.

* 420 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state how many Muslim boys have been sent out from the High School classes in the Government Madrasa-i-Azam on account of the age-limit rule?

A.—About six boys who were elderly and failed to get promotion were refused readmission. Considerations of character and conduct influenced the decision in some cases. There is no rule laying down any specific age limit for pupils in secondary schools.

* Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know from the hon. Minister what is the character and conduct of the boys that was responsible for the Principal or the Headmaster taking such a drastic step?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"In matters of discipline, the Government leave it to the heads of institutions to decide what the punishment should be."

* Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know whether it is a fact that because some of those boys wanted the school to be closed on account of Ramadan, the Principal took that action?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"As far as I am aware, I do not think so."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know whether the hon. Minister will make an enquiry into the matter, if that was not the case?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I do not think at this late hour any useful purpose will be served by such an enquiry."

Instruction in schools and colleges regarding the existence and ends of the League of Nations.

* 421 Q.—Mr. F. E. JAMES: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state what steps are being taken in schools and colleges throughout the Madras Presidency to familiarize students with the existence and ends of the League of Nations, and the terms of the covenants in pursuance of the resolution adopted by the Fourth Assembly of the League of Nations in September 1923?

A.—A summary of the measures taken to familiarize students in the existence and aims of the League of Nations and the terms of its covenant is given below.

In 1923 the Director of Public Instruction brought to the notice of subordinate officers and managers of schools the resolution in question adopted in September 1923 by the Fourth Assembly of the League of Nations and subsequently drew their attention to the existence of standard works on the League and of the publication entitled "the Survey of the League of Nations from January 1920 to June 1925". Copies of a pamphlet entitled "League of Nations" put together by Mr. Mackenzie (Director of Public Instruction, United Provinces) were distributed among District Educational Officers, Inspectresses of Schools and Government secondary and training schools. A book entitled "League of Nations Manual" published by Messrs. Macmillan & Co. has been prescribed for the Training School-Leaving Certificate Examination. A special cinema exhibition was given at the Elphinstone Picture Palace in December 1925 for the benefit of high school students in the City, when Professor F. S. Marvin exhibited his "League of Nations" film and lectured on the subject. In 1927 six lectures on the League were delivered by Mr. G. D. Watkins of the Madras Christian College under the auspices of the University of Madras.

Miss Nallamuthu Ammal, Lecturer, Lady Willingdon Training College, Madras, who had been granted a scholarship for post-graduate study in the United Kingdom was granted facilities by Government to visit Geneva before her return to India during the annual session of the Assembly of the League of Nations held in 1928, with a view to enabling her to obtain a knowledge of the organization and activities of the League.

In November 1927 the recommendations of the sub-committee of experts appointed by the International Committee on Intellectual Co-operation were communicated to the Director of Public Instruction and the Madras and Andhra Universities for further action.

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, whether the United States of America has refused to join the League of Nations?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question does not arise."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether the League of Nations is not at all advantageous to India?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"That is asking for an opinion."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"Do not the Government consider that it is not worth while for India joining the League of Nations, considering the status granted to India in the League of Nations in the matter of bringing home questions relating to India in the League?"

Mr. F. E. JAMES:—"May I ask the hon. Minister whether he will consider the question of educating the Members of the Legislative Council, as to the work of the League of Nations?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"That matter will be taken into consideration."

24th September 1929]

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether the adverse criticisms levelled against it by great authors like H. G. Wells and Keynes will be published in this country and in schools and colleges?"

Diwan Bahadur H. N. ARGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—"May I know if education of Members of the Legislative Council comes within the portfolio of the Minister for Education?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I believe it has that value all education has."

Agricultural education in higher elementary and secondary schools.

* 422 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) when the Director of Public Instruction appointed the Committee to work out proposals for the teaching of the elements of agriculture in higher elementary and secondary schools;

(b) what its personnel is;

(c) how often the Committee subsequently met, and on what dates;

(d) the business transacted on each occasion the Committee met;

(e) whether the Committee submitted any report embodying its proposals, and, if so, when;

(f) the nature of their proposals; and

(g) the orders of the Government thereon?

A.—(a) In August 1927.

(b) Mr. R. D. Anstead, M.R.Ry. C. Tadulinga Mudaliyar, Mr. H. Champion and Mr. W. C. Douglas.

(c) & (d) The Government understand that the Committee met on several occasions but have no information as to the dates on which the Committee met and the business transacted at each meeting.

(e), (f) & (g) An interim report of the Committee and the orders of Government on it are placed on the table.* The final report is awaited.

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"With reference to paragraph 4 in the appendix, may I know whether the Director of Public Instruction has sent in his detailed proposals?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"No, Sir. The interim report of the Committee was considered by the Government. The final report is awaited."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"With reference to the remark in paragraph 17 of the letter of the Director of Public Instruction (at page 115) in the appendix, 'Your Committee, therefore, request that definite orders may be issued to them on what basis Government desire them to further consider this scheme,' may I ask if Government have issued any further orders on the two or three references which the Committee made to them, without which the Committee thinks that they cannot go on with the work?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Yes, Sir."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know the nature of the orders?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice, Sir."

[24th September 1929]

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"I may refer to page 118 of the appendix where it is stated that the Government have accepted some of the recommendations of the Committee. The Government also consider that classes for the training of teachers may be established in the different language areas and that farms may be opened for teaching purposes. May I know whether the Government have made any provision in the coming budget for the purpose?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"That will be considered as a part of the whole scheme."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether any provision is going to be made in the next budget, so far as those recommendations are concerned?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"That depends on the proposals the Director of Public Instruction makes with regard to the matter."

Agricultural education in select elementary schools.

* 423 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the committee appointed to consider the question of imparting agricultural education in select elementary schools has submitted its report; and

(b) if it has, what the report is?

A.—(a) & (b) The hon. Member is referred to the answer to question No. 422.

Local Boards

Nomination of public prosecutors to local boards.

* 424 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that some of the gentlemen nominated to local bodies who are also public prosecutors are members of communities or castes who are duly represented in those bodies by election;

(b) what special grounds there were for such nominations; and

(c) whether it has been held by legal advisers of Government that election or nomination of a public prosecutor or official receiver as member of a municipal council or district board is not valid according to law, and whether such opinion has been accepted by Government?

A.—(a) Yes, in a few cases.

(b) It was thought that they would be useful members of the local bodies.

(c) Government have been advised—and they have accepted the advice—that a Public Prosecutor is, and an Official Receiver is not, eligible to stand for election to a local body. But there is no legal bar to their being nominated.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"May I inquire whether Government are aware that these gentlemen never attend the meetings of the local bodies to which they are nominated?"

[24th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"As far as I am aware, I believe they do attend the meetings."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"With reference to the answer to clause (c), may I know by whom the Government were advised and whether the Advocate-General was consulted in the matter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice, Sir."

Religious and Charitable Endowments

Introduction of the Bill to amend the Hindu Religious Endowments Act.

* 425 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Bill to amend the Hindu Religious Endowments Act is ready; and

(b) if so, when it will be introduced in the Council?

A.—(a) & (b) The hon. Member's attention is invited to answer to Mr. A. Ranganatha Mudaliyar's question No. 67.

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. the Minister for Local Self-Government whether the final scrutiny of the draft Bill was completed since August last?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"No, Sir."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know when it is likely to be finished?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I cannot give any definite statement."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know if it is intended to be introduced before the life of this Council expires?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I cannot say anything definitely."

Criterion for determining the jurisdiction of Temple Committees.

* 426 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether any order was issued by the Government to the effect that the Temple Committee's jurisdiction over temples depends on the gross and not on the net revenue of the temples in their respective areas of jurisdiction and if so, when; and

(b) how many temples whose net annual income is below Rs. 250 have, as a result of such orders, now been brought within the jurisdiction of Temple Committees and whether such temples are also required to pay their contribution to the Board and the Committees on their gross income?

A.—(a) I would refer the hon. Member to section 4 of the Hindu Religious Endowments Act II of 1927, under which the criterion for applicability or otherwise to a temple of the provisions of the Act is its gross income.

(b) Government have no information—and it will involve an undue amount of labour to collect—regarding the number of temples whose net annual income was less than Rs. 250 but which have still been brought within the scope of the Act. Such temples have, unless specially exempted, to contribute the prescribed payments to the Board and to the committees. The practice has, however, been in such cases to exempt them from these payments.

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know from the hon. Minister whether the Hindu Religious Endowments Board does not keep a list of such of the temples whose income is below Rs. 250, which have been brought under the operation of the Act ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I believe they do."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" Then, Sir, may I know what difficulty there is in giving such a list ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is very difficult to have a list prepared for publication."

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" In answer to clause (b), it is said, ' The practice has, however, been in such cases to exempt them from these payments.' Have the Committees been instructed to that effect ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As a matter of course, all the temples with an income of Rs. 250 and less have been exempted from the payment of the contribution."

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" On application made by the temple trustees ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As far as I am aware, it was done without any application from them."

Preference to resident candidates in nominations to temple committees.

* 427-A Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that, under the Madras Hindu Religious Endowments Act II of 1927 as amended by Act I of 1928, Endowment Committees should give, in appointing trustees to temples under its jurisdiction, preference to candidates residing in the village concerned and belonging to the religious denomination for whose benefit the temple concerned is chiefly maintained ;

(b) if the answer is in the affirmative, whether the Government will be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement in the undermentioned form showing the cases in which a departure from this provision of law has been made with reasons which necessitated such a departure and scrutinise the same ;

District.	Taluk.	Village.	Name of the temple.	Whether Saivite or Vaishnavite denomination.	Trustees.				Remarks as to the cause of departure.
					Name.	Denomination whether Saivite or Vaishnavite.	Place of residence.	Distance from the village in which the temple is situated.
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)	(7)	(8)	(9)	(10)

(c) if such scrutiny should disclose that the departure made is not justified, whether the Government will be pleased to issue instructions to the Endowment Board to see that the mistakes committed are rectified and are not allowed to recur ?

A.—All that is prescribed in the Act is that in appointing non-hereditary trustees, committees shall have due regard to the claims of persons belonging to the religious denomination for whose benefit the temple concerned is chiefly maintained—vide section 51 (2) of the Act.

Preference to resident candidates in nominations to Temple Committees.

* 427-B Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased—

(a) to state whether they have issued any instruction that in appointing trustees to temples under its jurisdiction, an Endowment Committee should give preference to candidates residing in the village concerned and belonging to the religious denomination for whose benefit the temple concerned is chiefly maintained ;

(b) to lay on the table of the House a statement in the undermentioned form showing the cases in which a departure from this principle has been made with reasons which necessitated such a departure ; and

District.	Taluk.	Village.	Name of temple.	Whether Saivite or Vaishnavite denomination.	Trustees.				Remarks as to the cause of departure.
					Name.	Denomination whether Saivite or Vaishnavite.	Place of residence.	Distance from the village in which the temple is situated.
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)	(7)	(8)	(9)	(10)

(c) to state whether in view of such departures, the Government propose to issue instructions to the Endowment Committees through the Endowments Board to see that they do not recur ?

A.—No ; since under section 51 (2) of the Hindu Religious Endowments Act, the appointment of trustees is a matter solely for the committees.

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know, Sir, if the Government are satisfied that in appointing these non-hereditary trustees the Committees have paid due regard to the claims of persons of religious denominations who are connected with the temples ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As the Act stands at present, it is entirely for the Committee to discharge this function of nomination of trustees, and I believe that as far as possible persons belonging to the religious denomination for which the temple has been constructed, are appointed."

Alleged representation from the Coimbatore District Ryots' Sangam regarding the collection of kist.

* 432 Q.—Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have received any representations from the Coimbatore District Ryots' Sangam "that the kist collections made up of 8 annas in the rupee in March every year may be changed into 4 annas in March and 4 annas in May every year"; and

(b) if so, what action Government have taken on the representations?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The Government examined the question, and they considered that, in the interests of both the Government and the ryots, the change proposed by the Coimbatore District Ryots' Sangam was neither advisable nor necessary. The Coimbatore District Ryots' Sangam has been informed accordingly.

* Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR:—"With reference to the answer to clause (b), that 'in the interests of both the Government and the ryots, the change proposed by the Coimbatore District Ryots' Sangam was neither advisable nor necessary', may I know whether any ryots of Coimbatore have at any time objected to the change proposed by the Sangam?"

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I must ask for notice on that point."

Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR:—"May I know whether the ryots were consulted when the Government examined the question?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Notice, Sir."

* 436 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether the Government will consider the desirability of appointing a Muslim as the Chief Judge, Court of Small Causes?

A.—Khan Sahib Muhammad Ibrahim Sahib Bahadur has been appointed as the Chief Judge.

Criminal Justice

Combination of the posts of public prosecutor and local board member.

* 437 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased—

(i) to place before the Council a statement showing the cases in which the appointment of Public Prosecutor is combined with that of nominated membership of local bodies like municipal council and district or taluk board;

(ii) to state whether it has been brought to the notice of Government that such combination is incompatible with public convenience or efficient disposal of public business; and

(iii) to state whether any of the gentlemen so nominated to a local body had been elected as its president and what special reasons there were for his being appointed as Public Prosecutor?

[24th September 1929]

A.—(i) A statement^a showing the cases in which a Public Prosecutor is also a nominated member of a district board or of a municipal council is laid on the table. The Government have no information in respect of appointments made to taluk boards which vest in the presidents of the district boards concerned.

(ii) No.

(iii) Yes. The appointment was made on the recommendation of the District Magistrate and the District Sessions Judge.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—“May I inquire, Sir, whether Government are aware that the combination of appointments cannot do justice to both their capacities and that one or the other of their work will suffer?”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—“The Government are not so aware.”

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I know whether the Government have considered or propose to consider the desirability of not nominating Public Prosecutors to local bodies, unless nobody else is available?”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—“So far as I am aware, the Government have not considered that question till now. As to whether the matter will be considered hereafter, it is left to my hon. Colleague.”

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I ask his hon. Colleague, Sir, whether Government will consider the desirability of not nominating Public Prosecutors to local bodies unless nobody else was available?”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“The hon. Member will do well to put a separate question.”

Enactment of a Probation of Offenders Act.

* 438 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether the Local Government intend to enact a Probation of Offenders Act and if not, why not?

A.—The question of undertaking legislation regarding the probation of offenders is now under the consideration of the Government of India. The Madras Government have decided that legislation in the matter should be undertaken by the Central Government rather than by the Local Government.

Enhancement of the sentence passed on Mr. White.

* 439 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state, with reference to question No. 1676, dated 11th March 1929, regarding punishment given to Mr. White for shooting a coolie in the harbour, whether the petition presented by the Crown Prosecutor for the enhancement of the sentence was simply for the enhancement of the fine?

A.—The Government have no information.

Forests

Construction of a public road connecting Hebri and Albadi.

* 440 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether in the village of Belve in the Coondapoor taluk of South Kanara district the people have at great cost and trouble constructed a public road that runs through a reserved forest, connecting Hebri and Albadi;

(b) whether the Forest department have charged a sum of Rs. 10 annually for a lease of this road; and

(c) whether the copy of the order to that effect has not been given to the concerned applicant in spite of a request in writing therefor?

A.—(a) & (c) Permission has been sought by the people of certain villages to make a road through the Tenkabole Reserved Forest but an agreement drawn up for the purpose by the District Forest Officer in February last (of which a copy was supplied to the concerned applicant), has not been signed and the road has not been made.

(b) One of the conditions originally proposed was a rent of ten rupees a year. But this was subsequently reduced to five rupees.

Concessions to the ryots in South Kanara to remove leaves, etc., from the reserved forests.

* 441 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the period of the forest concessions granted to the ryots in South Kanara to remove leaves, etc., from the reserved forests has already expired and if so, when;

(b) whether the same concessions have been extended for the future; and

(c) whether any notification has been issued, and to what effect, and when, if not, why not?

A.—(a) The period of the forest concessions last expired on 30th June 1929.

(b) They have been extended up to 31st December 1929 except in the case of the Herur reserve of Coondapoor taluk.

(c) Two notifications dated 12th June 1929, one extending the forest concessions up to 31st December 1929 (published in the Forest Supplement to the District Gazette on 24th June 1929) and the other withdrawing the same for Herur reserve of Coondapoor taluk were published in the South Kanara District Gazette. The concessions were withdrawn in the case of Herur reserve as the villagers had grossly abused the concessions to the detriment of the forests.

Budget*Action taken on the motions passed during the last budget sittings of the Council.*

* 445 Q.—SRIMAN BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo: Will the hon. the Member for Finance be pleased to state the action taken on each of the motions passed during the last budget sittings of the Council reducing demands for grants?

A.—A statement^a showing the action taken by Government on the reduction motions passed during the last budget sittings is placed on the table.

MR. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Referring to the Appendix, may I know whether, apart from the Survey Department, any other department of Government has observed the principle of Swadesi in the purchase of stores?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"Notice, Sir."

MR. S. SATYAMURTI:—"With reference to the motion for reducing stamp duties to the pre-Reform level, may I know when the Government expect to be in a position to pass orders?"

The hon. the Finance Member was referring to the Appendix which occasioned some delay in answering, on which

MR. S. SATYAMURTI:—"I am referring to Appendix X on page 41. I see Government Members do not read these answers before they are given here."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"They prepare the answers; therefore they need not read them again."

MR. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Some clerks in the Secretariat may do it."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"I strongly protest against that remark. All the answers are prepared by Members of Government themselves."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I join the hon. the Law Member in that."

MR. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Why not join me also? My question is this: With regard to the question of reducing stamp duties to the pre-Reform level, may I ask when the Government will be in a position to reach a conclusion and pass orders on this matter?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"I suppose by the next budget time."

MR. S. SATYAMURTI:—"With regard to the motion regarding the forest policy, may I know when the Government propose to appoint the committee?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"That has to be addressed to my hon. Colleague (the Law Member)."

MR. S. SATYAMURTI:—"The question on the agenda is 'Will the hon. Member for Finance be pleased to state the action taken on each of the motions passed during the last budget sittings of the Council reducing demands for grants?' When the question was sent to him he ought to have submitted to your office that the question ought to be split and sent to the various departments."

^a Printed as Appendix X on pages 127-128 infra.

[24th September 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question on the agenda is what action is taken on each of the motions passed, and the hon. Member now wants to know when the committee will be appointed."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"That is a supplementary question."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"That is not within the province of the Finance Member."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"That is a matter on which I want your ruling, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I agree with the Finance Member."

Finance

Expenditure on account of the pay of non-gazetted officers from 1920—22.

* 446 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Finance be pleased to state the expenditure incurred on pay and special pay of all officers who are not gazetted officers of the whole province in each of the years from 1920—21 to 1927—28?

A.—A statement^a is placed on the table.

Number, pay and pension of officers for the last twenty years.

(b) the total number and pay of non-gazetted officers including the menials for the same period;

(c) the total number of persons receiving pension and the total pension received by them, among the above classes of officers in each of the last 20 years; and

(d) the commutation allowances paid during the period in lieu of pensions under each class?

A.—The Government have not the information and do not consider that the labour involved in collecting the figures asked for would be justified.

Emigration

Alleged ill-treatment of travellers to Ceylon at Mandapam and Tuticorin.

* 448 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have received any complaints recently about the treatment meted out to the travellers from India to Ceylon by the medical authorities at Mandapam and Tuticorin;

(b) what steps the Government have taken or propose to take to guarantee good treatment being meted out to the said travellers; and

(c) whether there is any agent of this Government at these places to watch over the interests of the Indian travellers and if not, why not?

A.—(a) & (b) The Government have recently received a copy of a resolution said to have been passed at a meeting held under the auspices of the Indian Muslim Association in Ceylon and have called for a report.

(c) The Protectors of Emigrants at Dhanushkodi and Tuticorin are Agents of this Government on behalf of emigrants. The Government do not think that the interests of other travellers require a special agent.

Alleged sufferings of Indian passengers to Penang from Negapatam.

* 449 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether his attention has been drawn to the sufferings of Indian passengers by sea to Penang from Negapatam, especially with regard to food, accommodation and medical treatment;

(b) if so, whether he proposes to take steps to remedy the same; and

(c) if not, why not?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) Emigration is a Central subject under the Government of India. No complaints have been made to this Government.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"Sir, may I know whether there is any officer under the Madras Government who is looking after the emigrants?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Yes; the Commissioner of Labour."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know if the Government have drawn the attention of the Commissioner of Labour to the sufferings of these people?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"We have received no complaint. If any complaint has been received, it would have been referred to him."

Labour

Action taken on the report of the Unemployment Committee.

* 450 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) what the Government are doing to solve the unemployment problem in the province; and

(b) what action the Government have taken upon the report of the Unemployment Committee?

A.—The hon. Member is referred to the answer given to question No. 203 at the meeting of the Council held on the 10th August 1929.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know from the hon. the Home Member whether he remembers the promise made by him in February last, and whether he proposes to issue early orders in the matter?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Most of the recommendations of the Committee pertain to the departments under the charge of my hon. Colleagues, the Education Minister and the Minister for Agriculture. In those circumstances, it is not possible for me to take any action unless and until I receive the reports from the departments on the points raised in the Unemployment Committee report."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know whether, so far as labour is concerned, he has no jurisdiction over these matters?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"It is not a question of jurisdiction. The Unemployment Committee's report deals among other things with Agriculture and Education; and unless and until I receive notes or suggestions from the departments concerned, it is not possible for me to take action."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know whether he has invited his Colleagues who are in charge of Agriculture and Education to send their suggestions so that he may carry out the recommendations of the Committee's report?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"I have done that."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I ask when?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"About two or three months ago."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know when we can expect action of some sort taken?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"It is not possible for me to say."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether he has sent any reminders to the Ministers?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"I shall consider the suggestion."

Police

Action taken on the report regarding the question of Mr. B. Sambamurti.

* 451 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: With reference to the answers to questions Nos. 1879 to 1882, answered on 26th March 1929, will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether he has perused the records in the case of Mr. B. Sambamurti;

(b) whether he has considered the question of the propriety of the police launching proceedings in such cases without reference to Government or its legal advisers; and

(c) what action he intends taking?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) None.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"With reference to clause (b) of the question, may I know from the hon. the Home Member what were the considerations which led him to hold that it was proper for the Police to have taken action in this case in the manner they have done?"

[24th September 1929]

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Under the law they have got that power."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"The specific question is this: whether he has considered the propriety of the Police launching proceedings in such cases without reference to Government or its legal advisers. What were the considerations which led him to endorse that action taken by the Police without reference to Government or its legal advisers?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"The Police has the power and we cannot interfere."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know what were the considerations for which he looked into the records?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"To examine the question and see whether Government can interfere. I find there is no necessity for interference."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know the reasons why he says there is no necessity for interference?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"As I have said, the power is vested in the Police by law?"

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Why then should the Government examine the records? Do Government take orders as to what they should do without consulting their legal adviser or have they no conception of law?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"We have every conception of law."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether the hon. the Home Member has considered the propriety of arresting a gentleman without warrant and that in the dark hours of an early morning?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Notice."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"We thought that the question had been considered by the hon. the Home Member?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member wants notice of the question."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"May I know what are the considerations on which they would interfere?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"We do not want to interfere."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether the hon. the Home Member has examined the question as to the right of the Government to issue instructions to the subordinate Police officers in regard to matters that come under section 108, Criminal Procedure Code?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Yes."

[24th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know from the hon. the Home Member whether he has been advised by the legal advisers that he cannot issue instructions in this case ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" The Government came to the conclusion that in matters of this sort no interference on their part is necessary."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know the reasons on which that conclusion was come to ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" The law vests the power in the Police."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—" In coming to their conclusion, have the Government taken the advice of their legal advisers ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" Yes."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I definitely ask the hon. the Home Member whether he has taken legal opinion on this question, namely, that he cannot issue instructions to the subordinate Police in matters like this ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The Home Member says that he does not propose to issue instructions. The law vests the power in the Police and he does not propose to interfere with that power."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" May I know whether the hon. the Home Member will look into the records and also consider the question of the propriety of the District Magistrate of Kistna, asking security from Mr. Sambamurti when there was no speech made at all by Mr. Sambamurti in the Kistna district itself ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I should like to have notice of that question."

• Alleged difference in quarters given to Sergeants and Sub-Inspectors in the City.

* 452 Q.—Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is any difference between the quarters given to Sub-Inspectors of Police in the City and those given to Sergeants ;

(b) whether there is any difference in the house allowance allowed to Sub-Inspectors and that allowed to Sergeants ;

(c) whether any representation has been made by Sub-Inspectors about the insufficiency of their quarters ; and

(d) whether any Sub-Inspectors have petitioned the authorities that the house allowance should be paid to them so as to have their own quarters ?

A.—(a) Yes. The Government quarters provided for European, Anglo-Indian and Indian Sub-Inspectors were designed to suit their different habits of living.

(b) No. When Government quarters are not available, houses are rented for them by the Commissioner of Police. The maxima up to which houses can be rented in both cases is Rs. 40.

[24th September 1929]

(c) It was reported by the Commissioner of Police that the type-design for Indian sub-inspectors was unpopular. The proposal to revise the type-design was given up as the expenditure involved was excessive and it was decided to continue to rent houses where necessary.

(d) The Government have no information.

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR :—" May I know from the hon. the Home Member whether a two-storied building was unsuited to the style of living of an Indian sub-inspector ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I do not know ; I must ask for notice."

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR :—" May I know whether the Indian officers have to pay for their uniforms while the Europeans get it for nothing ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" Notice, Sir."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know what is the relative cost of the buildings for European, Anglo-Indian and Indian sub-inspectors ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I have no idea. As regards the rent, I think we pay them equally, i.e., Rs. 40 each. If my hon. Friend wants me to examine that question, I shall do it."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" As regards clause (a), the Government say : ' The Government quarters provided for European, Anglo-Indian and Indian sub-inspectors were designed to suit their different habits of living '. I am asking what is the relative cost to the Government in providing quarters for these people of different habits."

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I have no information ; I should like to have notice."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" With reference to answer to clause (b), may I know what is the average rent which is fixed by the Commissioner of Police for the various classes of Police servants for whom quarters are not available, and whether there is any difference in the average as fixed between Europeans and Indians ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I am not able to answer ; I shall examine it, if the hon. Member wishes."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" With reference to the answer to clause (c) of the question, may I know what the expenditure involved was in each case ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I have no information ; I am prepared to examine it."

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI :—" May I know if, in the opinion of the hon. the Home Member, the Indian sub-inspector is not fit to live in a building designed for an Anglo-Indian ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" It is a matter of opinion."

[24th September 1929]

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI:—" May I know the opinion of the hon. the Home Member in this matter ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—" It is not my personal opinion that is invited ; it is the opinion of the Government."

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI:—" May I know what is the opinion of the Government ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—" Notice, Sir."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—" May I know, with reference to the answer to clause (d), whether the Government are prepared to offer money in the form of rent to the sub-inspectors, so that they may provide their own quarters ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—" I should like to have notice of the question."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—" I want to know whether in a department under the portfolio of an Indian this racial distinction should be perpetuated—even in these small matters ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—" As far as I can see, there is no racial discrimination."

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI:—" May I know if a building designed for Anglo-Indians could be offered to Indian sub-inspectors ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—" I will examine the question."

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS

Excise

Propaganda against the use of toddy and liquor.

453 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state whether, in view of the auction sales of toddy and liquor shops, the public are informed that the Government are undertaking propaganda against the use of toddy and liquor ?

A.—The Government do not think that any such announcement is necessary.

Local Boards

Nomination of retired Indian Military Officers to local bodies.

454 Q.—Subadar-Major S. A. NANJAPPAH Bahadur: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether seats by nomination have been allotted to the retired Indian Military Officers in the municipalities and in the local boards as was represented to Government by me (as a Military Member in the Council) during the budget discussion on 28th February 1929 ; and

(b) if not, why ?

[24th September 1929]

A.—(a) No.

(b) No nominated seats are allotted to any particular community or class and in any case the number of retired Indian Officers of the Indian Army is too small in this Presidency to justify considering them as a separate community.

VI

A BILL TO AMEND THE MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT.

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—" I beg to present the Report * of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill (No. 4 of 1929) to amend the Madras City Police Act and move that the Bill as amended by the Select Committee be taken into consideration."

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—" I second it."

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 1.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—" Clause 1 is for the consideration of the House."

* Printed as Appendix XII on pages 129--142 infra.

[24th September 1929]

Mr. F. E. JAMES :—" Sir, I move—

'to omit the letter and brackets "a" in sub-clause (a) and omit sub-clause (b).'

"This sub-clause seeks to vest power in the Government to bring the Act into force on such date as they may, by notification, appoint. In the Bill, as it was originally introduced, there was a clause empowering the Government to frame rules and for the purpose of enabling them to do so, a provision of that kind was found necessary. Now, if the amendments of the hon. the Home Member are accepted there is no reason why the Act should not come into force early. Therefore, I feel that this particular sub-clause is not necessary."

The MAHARAJA OF PITHAPURAM :—" I second it."

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" Sir, I have no objection to accept the amendment."

The amendment was adopted.

Clause 1, as amended, was put, passed and added to the Bill.

Clause 2.

* The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" Sir, I beg to move—

'For the definition of "gaming" and the explanation thereto substitute the following :—

"Gaming" does not include a lottery but includes wagering or betting on a horse race except when such wagering or betting takes place

(i) on the date on which such race is to be run, and

(ii) in an enclosure, room or place, which the stewards or other authority controlling such race have, with the sanction of the Local Government, set apart for the purpose.'

"By this definition we have tried to minimize the evil that is now existing in Madras. We have now got about 215 bucket shops in Madras. I may say that the Government will be very careful in giving any sanction required under this provision. Anyhow, the bucket shop nuisance in Madras will certainly disappear."

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I second the amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The Maharaja of Pithapuram will move his amendment as an amendment to that of the hon. the Home Member."

The MAHARAJA OF PITHAPURAM :—" Sir, I beg to move—

'Omit the words "except when such wagering or betting takes place

(i) on the date on which such race is to be run, and

(ii) in an enclosure, room or place, which the stewards or other authority controlling such race have, with the sanction of the Local Government, set apart for the purpose'' in the amendment of the hon. the Home Member. My object in moving this amendment is to do away entirely with gambling in any place at any time. I thank the Government for going so far as they have done, but I most humbly, yet earnestly, request them to go a step further in the interests of the country. They have been pleased to admit in effect that betting is an evil. When it is an evil in one place, I fail to see how it ceases to be an evil in another place. (Mr. S. Satyamurti : 'Hear, hear'.) The Government, though they want to do away with betting, yet would go only to the extent of licensing this evil and placing it under some authority. I say that such licences should not be given at all whether it be in the city, outside the race course or within the premises of the Race Club. Now within the city of Madras there are no races run at all although there was a time when races were run within the city municipal limits on the Island grounds or what is known as the Gymkhana. Sir, there is nothing to prevent the municipal limits of Madras being extended beyond the race course at Guindy. So, my amendment is really necessary. Even poor people go and bet there and lose heavily, and many poor families, as many of us know, are ruined. To avoid this danger and to save the poor people as well as the rich and middle class people, I consider it of the utmost importance that gaming should be abolished in the race course as well as outside it. I request the Government most humbly to be graciously pleased to accept my amendment, and appeal to the House to rise to the occasion and support this amendment."

Mr. L. K. TULASIRAM :—" I second it."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—" Sir, I have given notice of a similar amendment and I take this opportunity of endorsing every statement made by the Maharaja of Pithapuram in his usual inimitable and most sincere style. He has brought home to the Government the absolute need for accepting this amendment. Without that amendment, I take it, Sir, that what has been a diffused evil would only be concentrated in one place and what has been existing in many places would only be localized. Further, what has been possibly a monthly occurrence would be limited to a number of days in the year. In other words, those that are given to this sort of gambling will be permitted to go to certain favoured licensed persons at Saidapet or Madras, and thither the rich ladies and gentlemen who take part in this sort of gambling would go as to a temple on festive occasions."

"Sir, in the amendment of the hon. the Home Member, the Government admit the absolute necessity for an amendment of the sort proposed by the Maharaja of Pithapuram, but he says that as we are human beings let us indulge in this weakness once upon a time and in a particular place. The hon. Member accepts the principle involved in this amendment, but he only wants to make an exception—a very big exception. This is the pivot on which the whole Bill revolves. If the object of the Bill is to put an end to gambling, then the amendment of the Maharaja should be accepted; but if we are only to put the soothing unction to our conscience and to say 'Oh, once in a way let us enjoy this gambling', then the very purpose of this Bill would be frustrated. Without adding any more observations at the present juncture, I earnestly commend the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram for the acceptance of the House."

* Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" Sir, I support this amendment for this reason. We must remember that it is the Madras City Police Act that we are seeking to amend. I do not see any reason why we should take into consideration any area or territory outside the limits of the Madras City. Sub-clause (ii) of the amendment of the Home Member would mean that the racers are run in the City of Madras. As far as we know it is absolutely impossible for any class of people to find a race course and indulge in betting in the City of Madras. There is not sufficient space for that purpose in the city. The Gymkhana grounds which was sufficient some years ago is not sufficiently extensive now. Therefore every one will agree with me that hereafter it will not be possible to run a horse race within the city. There is no necessity for sub-clause (ii). Sub-clause (i) is only a consequential clause, which, if sub-clause (ii) goes, should also go. I do not see any reason why the Government should be anxious to retain these sub-clauses. The implication of sub-clause (ii) is that instead of having these enclosures alongside the race course in Guindy, it permits the stewards to open such rooms or enclosures even within the city limits. I certainly object to it and see no reason why the Government should not come forward and accept the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. Therefore, Sir, on considerations of this nature I have no doubt that the Government will accept the amendment."

noon.

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI:—"The amendment of the hon. the Maharaja of Pithapuram is undoubtedly an unexceptionable amendment, but it seems to me that this is one of those instances where the zeal gets the better part of our judgment. In the Select Committee we have discussed all aspects of the question, and having regard to the objects of the Bill, namely, the suppression of bucket shops, we could not go further than what was really the original object of the Bill. We are not concerned with the rich magnates and men in affluent circumstances who are betting in a sportsmanlike spirit on horse racing. We are not concerned with the question whether betting is a matter which ought to be encouraged among noble men and men of affluent circumstances. It is a matter which requires the further consideration of the House. What we are concerned with in this Bill is to prevent credulous and ordinary poor people being swindled by the so-called bucket shop-keepers who offer big rewards for very small sums of money. Having that object in view, it seems to me to be necessary that we should confine our attention to that object only, viz., the suppression of bucket shops as mentioned in the original Bill. That concession too has not been extended to us. The hon. the Home Member proceeded on the assumption that certain bucket shops were necessary and made provision to enable at least the Commissioner of Police to license some of these bucket shops. That amounted to only legalizing the evil and when it was pointed out that the object of introducing the Bill was to check the growth of bucket shops and also to prevent swindling of the poor and credulous people, it seems that wiser counsels have prevailed on the Government with the result that we have the amendment now proposed by the hon. the Home Member. We must be satisfied for the present if these bucket shops are closed and if the gaming of betting and wagering on horse racing is confined to the day of the races and to an enclosure where the race is run. To achieve that object my hon. Friend, Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar, has given notice of an amendment that such licences should be issued to a place immediately adjacent to the race course. If that amendment is carried, it would certainly obviate the further growth of these bucket shops. My hon. Friend, Mr. Hameed Khan Sahib, is under the impression that there is no possibility of any race course being run in the City of Madras because the Island ground is small. Evidently he forgets the topography of Madras, and if the enterprising authorities of the race course take it into their head to have a race course in Madras, they will go in and around Madras City and find one. There are larger Island grounds than Mr. Hameed Khan had ever seen in Madras. The present amendment is for the purpose of making a provision for checking the growth of bucket shops. In case a horse race is to be run in the City of Madras, if my hon. Friend Mr. Govindaraja Mudaliyar's amendment, which states that licensing of any wagering should be limited to select places, viz., the enclosure in which the race is to be run, is carried, our object will be achieved. That was what was really existing before the bucket shops came into existence. We never wanted that betting should be stopped. It was only when a number of bucket shops sprang into existence in Madras and when every honest man turned out to be dishonest by expecting large sums of money for small investments, we grew conscious of this evil, and we wanted to suppress these bucket shops altogether. It seems to me that to attempt to stop betting altogether is a very difficult question, and I do not think the House would be well advised in introducing that question now and thus complicating the present issue and frustrating the very object of the Bill."

24th September 1929] [Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetti]

* Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"I support the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. The hon. Member is to be thanked for introducing this amendment. The hon. the Home Member's amendment is an improvement upon the suggestion of the Select Committee and the amendment proposed by the Maharaja of Pithapuram is an improvement on the hon. the Home Member's amendment. As observed by previous speakers, if the race course authorities care to have race courses in Madras, they can very well do so. It is our intention to see that families in Madras are not ruined. Sir, we have got a number of bucket shops, and we know that thousands of people are going there and wasting their money. The hon. the Home Member deserves all our thanks for bringing in this amending Bill to the Madras City Police Act. But, what I submit is that this is not of much avail. All these people will go to Guindy and bet there and thus waste their money. So, I wish very much that the hon. the Home Member not only accepts this amendment but also immediately introduces a Bill to amend the District Police Act. We are not for temperance. We want prohibition. Those who are rich may lose their money, and they may make up their loss in other directions. But poor people, if they are allowed to bet, lose everything in their possession. I know of instances where innocent and poor people have been ruined. Houses are mortgaged, and even the very clothes are pawned. So, I request the hon. the Home Member to accept this amendment and once for all do away with gaming in the City of Madras. There is no use of saying 'you don't have bucket shops in the City of Madras' and at the same time allowing the authorities of the race course with the sanction of the Government to have gaming houses instead. This is only to encourage those that want to bet to go to one bucket shop authorized by the race course authorities with the sanction of the Government instead of hanging on a number of scattered bucket shops. I, therefore, commend of hanging on a number of scattered bucket shops. I, therefore, commend of this amendment for the acceptance of the House, and I hope every one who is interested in the welfare of the people of the city and who sees their miserable condition will support the amendment."

* The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir Muhammad USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Mr. President, Sir, I entirely agree with the remarks of my hon. Friend, Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetti. ('Hear, hear'.) We must consider the practical difficulties in accepting this amendment. We must remember that when I introduced this Bill to suppress the bucket shops I stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons as follows :—

‘ It has come to the notice of Government that what are popularly known as “ bucket shops ” have sprung up in the city of Madras for the purpose of facilitating betting in connexion with horse-races. These bucket shops have led to much fraud and the deceit practised by them on the general public has been extensive.’

“ Thus the object of this Bill is not to penalize all kinds of betting or gaming, but it is only to suppress the bucket shops. By accepting the amendment I have proposed, what will happen is that the evil will be minimised to a very very great extent. Betting will be allowed only on the day on which the race is to be run in a place or a room which will have to be sanctioned by the Government. Government will think thrice before they give their sanction. And further if the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram is accepted and carried by this House, nothing will prevent people from resorting to other forms of betting than horse-race. Therefore, I think it is much better that we should allow the Government amendment to be passed. In view of the practical difficulties in the working of the Act if this amendment is carried, I would ask you to reject the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram.”

* MR. S. SATYAMURTI :—“ Sir, whether zeal outruns discretion or caution outruns courage, the House will presently decide. I would ask the House to decide whether, when a particular course is decided on, we ought not to give logical effect to it by accepting the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. Sir, I only want to dwell for a few minutes on the legal aspect of the question, since my hon. Friend, the Home Member, has brought in the name of the Advocate-General. I should like to know what this amendment exactly means. Does it mean that the local Government by way of an amendment to the Madras City Police Act can license enclosures, rooms or space which the stewards of the Guindy Race Course or authorities controlling such race may set apart for such purpose? Is it suggested by the Government that the object of the Bill is to enable the Government of Madras by legislation to license these bucket shops outside the city limits, that is to say, in and about the Guindy Race Course? If that is not the object, may I ask whether the scope of the amending Bill is limited, as it must be, to control the Police in the City of Madras? You will notice that the object of amending the Police Act of 1888 was this. The preamble begins thus :—‘ Whereas it is expedient to amend and consolidate the provisions of law for regulating the Police of the City of Madras.’ Of course, if it is claimed that this amendment will permit the Government to license these bucket shops outside the city, he will have to address a different set of arguments. I suggest that so far as this amendment goes this amending Bill is intended to gain certain statutory powers for the Police within the city of Madras. If the object of my hon. Friend, the Home Member, is to make it possible for the Government to license certain enclosures, rooms or places with the consent of the stewards in the City of Madras, the result will be that whereas now the bucket shops are at least run with some sense of moral turpitude, hereafter they will be run with a dignified sense, because they will have the licence of the Government of Madras and the sanction of the stewards of the Guindy Race Course. They can put in their notice boards that these places, like arrack shops and toddy shops, are also places which the Madras Government in the exercise of their humanitarian functions have licensed for the citizens of Madras. I should like to know, if the object of the Bill is to suppress the bucket shops. If that is so, then I cannot understand why the hon. the Home Member should object to this amendment. If one who is a Government Member says that he will think thrice before granting such licences, we on this side of the House equally urge that in the exercise of these powers which always involve a discrimination there is a liability to be abused. I need not say more. When you are tackling an evil, I should like to know why we should now say, that we ought not to interfere with individual liberty. As my hon. Friend, the Member for the City of Madras, pointed out, we are out for prohibition. Only the other day it was resolved in the Assembly that nobody should marry his daughter before she is fourteen. All arguments based on custom or religion were flouted by the Government of India, and as a whole the Government walked into the lobby against it. It is then somewhat too late to suggest that we ought not to interfere with the liberty of individuals to ruin himself and his family. My hon. Friend, the Member for Madras, has painted in very glowing colours the pitiable condition of many families. It is not a partisan question; it is a human question, the question of the poor who are ruining themselves, by this unnatural ambition to get rich quickly without earning it. One in a thousand may get rich in this way; the other 999 get ruined. I do not think that we ought to play with this evil, and allow it to exist in some form or other.

“ As for the theoretical position that races may sometimes come to Madras and therefore you must accept the position of the Government, I have two answers. At the rate at which the City of Madras is growing, I do not think there is any possibility of any very large ground being made available for races and spectators within the municipal limits; and even assuming that such race courses may spring up in the City of Madras, there will be time enough to introduce a Bill for the purpose of controlling such races. But if the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram is accepted by the House, it comes to this; that even when such races are run, there can be no betting or wagering, either here or anywhere else. It seems to me that the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram is necessary, in order to provide for the absolute suppression of these bucket shops.

“ But, Sir, legislation in this country is rarely original; these words are at least 60 years old. In 1867 the Bengal Gaming Act said that ‘ gaming includes wagering or betting on a horse-race except when such wagering or betting takes place on the date on which such race is to be run and in an enclosure room which the stewards have, with the sanction of the Local Government, set apart.’ Sixty-two years have elapsed, and my hon. Friend suggests that our civic conscience and our general moral feeling should express itself in the same phrase, in which they expressed themselves 62 years ago. I do suggest that even in the slow moving Cooum, much water has flowed since; and I think the time is come when we should take courage in both hands and put down these gambling houses and bucket shops. The hon. the Home Member pleaded ‘ why not trust this Government? We are not going to license unnecessary shops’. May I ask him ‘ why not trust the Legislative Council? We are people representing thousands and millions of people in this House. If this House says that gaming shall not be allowed, why do you want to take upon your head the unenviable responsibility of having to license some bucket shops here or there? Every time you do it, it is bound to be misunderstood by one party or other. There will be always people asking for these bucket shops; the hon. the Home Member's room will be besieged or his assistants' or the Commissioner's room will be besieged by applicants. Every man who is not obliged will begin to attribute motives, and this will add to the unpopularity of the Government which is already great. The Government of Madras is not so wonderfully popular as to add this very unpleasant function of licensing bucket shops. I think it is better that the Government fall into line with us, and accept this amendment which prohibits gaming altogether.

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

"My last point is this; what are the practical difficulties in enforcing this law? You prohibit the manufacture of salt, anywhere over the wide coasts of this country. My hon. Friend said 'practical difficulties' thrice; but he did not mention one of them. What are the practical difficulties? Echo answers 'what'. It seems to me, Mr. President, that the only sensible way of dealing with the question is by suppressing these shops completely in the City of Madras and by taking on hand another Bill to amend the District Police Act in order to prohibit this gambling even outside the city. Even if this amendment is accepted and these bucket shops go out, they may be a source of nuisance from outside the toll-gates. They are already making arrangements. A great deal was said about the rich going there and ruining themselves. In these days of special Guindy race buses and trains, of return tickets, of seasons tickets, of quick and cheap methods of conveyance, the ruin of these poor families will be rendered greater, not only by the loss actually on wagering, but also by the additional loss of the tram, train or bus fare; the result will be these unfortunate men and women will spend not only upon the actual wagering, but they will lose into the bargain, the money they have to spend for going to and fro. In these circumstances, it is a matter of humanity, it is a matter of practical statesmanship to accept the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. I should like to point out to the hon. the Home Member—I have no experience of Government—as a layman I can certainly say that there are many more practical difficulties in the way of the Government's amendment than in the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. I therefore commend very earnestly to the unanimous consent of the House the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Mr. President, Sir, at one stage I was feeling a little sympathy for the amendment of the hon. the Home Member. On the old Bill that he desired to give us, this Bill is really an improvement. But his arguments against the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram are not convincing. He is out to destroy bucket shops; before the bucket shops existed, there were no substitutes for them. The city got on without either the present bucket shops or substitutes for them. In the amendment the hon. the Home Member has suggested, there is a substitute for these bucket shops; this new substitute is 'licensed bucket shops'; they may be licensed by the Government or they may be approved by the stewards; yet they are there. Gambling is as bad as drinking. The hon. the Home Member may be prepared to give licence to these bucket shops. I think these places will be as bad as the places licensed by the Excise Department. I am sure there will be licensing fees; there will be questions of revenue; there will be questions of bias and prejudice. As my hon. Friend, the Member for the University, put it, the hon. Home Member will make himself more unpopular than he is to-day; he is sufficiently unpopular. I therefore feel, Sir, that there is nothing in the suggestion made by the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram that invades against the original intention of this Bill. The Maharaja of Pithapuram wants to prohibit horse-races. Such horse-races are not to-day run in the city of Madras; they are run elsewhere. He wants to prohibit without any substitute being provided for what did not exist hitherto and what has come into existence in the meanwhile. I think that is the right attitude to be taken. I am surprised that the hon. the Home Member has not been able to accept this amendment. If there was the least attempt on the part of the Maharaja of Pithapuram to disturb the great equanimity of the horse-race goers—there may be many people in this House—there would have been some cause for the anxiety of the hon. the Home Member. Still they can go on; they can still bet and wager; they can lose their money. As was pointed out by the Maharaja of Pithapuram, though it may be immoral in principle, still people have this liberty; nothing is cut short. To introduce in the city of Madras, under the cover of this new suggestion, licensed bucket shops is to extend the immorality to a larger sphere than the sphere now existing. I therefore feel without any hesitation that the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram should be supported."

* Dr. (Mrs.) S. MUTHULAKSHMI REDDI:—"Sir, I support the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram because I feel there cannot be or should not be any compromise with regard to this evil; we know that this gambling in the city of Madras deprives poor men of their earnings and makes the rich men richer. By this evil families are ruined, and as we do not have sufficient number of homes for such destitute people, their wives and children are helplessly stranded. The amendment of the Government says that the race can be run in an enclosure, room or place which the stewards can set apart with the sanction of the Local Government. I think that it is necessary and imperative that this evil should be completely stopped and not licensed or encouraged. With these words, I heartily support the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram."

* Mr. F. E. JAMES:—"Sir, with regard to this matter there are two attitudes which can be taken up. If betting is considered to be a social evil, it can be prohibited by legislation. That, I take it, is the view which is accepted by several Members of the House on the other side. If you take that view, you must vote for the amendment before the House. I would point out however that, if you accept the amendment and definitely prohibit any sort of gaming or wagering in the city of Madras, you must be prepared to extend, later on, the same prohibition to the whole province. (Voices:—yes.) A small section of the House appears to be prepared to do so, but I should like to point out that it means the abolition of racing of any kind. Any one who is interested in horse-breeding and horse-racing knows perfectly well that it is not possible without prizes and stakes. The view of the Members of this bench is they do not accept the position that betting and wagering should be prohibited altogether. Mr. Satyamurthi is, apparently a prohibitionist in this matter. He certainly did not take the same attitude on the child Marriage Bill; perhaps he has learnt wisdom! In any case, I trust he will take up the same attitude when the Brothels Bill comes up.

[Mr. F. E. James]

"Perhaps I may explain in this connexion the real purpose of this particular amendment. We have all along expressed the desire that the question of dealing with bucket shops should not be confined not merely to the City of Madras but should extend to the whole Presidency. We urged that point from the very beginning. But, we feel that inasmuch as the Government have introduced a Bill to amend the City Police Act, we should support it as a first step; and that Government should take, as early as possible, whatever steps are necessary to extend the provisions of the Bill to the Presidency. I hope the hon. Member will give us some indication with regard to this point when he speaks later on. This particular amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram does away with betting or gambling altogether. I may say in the first place that, as far as I am able to understand their view, the authorities in Guindy have absolutely no intention of taking undue advantage of the provisions of sub-sections (1) and (2). The reason for the inclusion of this clause is this: during the meetings of the Select Committee, it was made quite clear to me by various members of the Committee that we should not rule out the possibility of horse-racing in the City of Madras. Another Syndicate might wish to establish a race-course. Therefore, it was agreed that we were all willing to extend to such potential race enclosures those privileges which the race club at Guindy would continue to enjoy after the present Bill became law.

"There is only one other thing which I should like to refer to, and that is this: Mr. Satyamurti has dealt with the legal aspect of the question; but I should like now to deal with the practical aspect of the matter before the House. If you vote for the amendment now before the House, it will mean that you are entirely shutting out gaming on horse races in any part of the Presidency of Madras. That means that you will abolish racing altogether. If that is not your intention, and if you take the view that betting can be allowed under suitable control on the conditions laid down by the Home Member's amendment, then you must vote against the amendment."

MR. RAMANATH GOENKA :—"Mr. President, Sir, when I came into this House this morning, I was of opinion that I would have to support the amendment of the hon. the Home Member; but after going into the matter in detail, I find that the Bill, on the basis of which this amendment has been drafted, is one very like the Bengal Gambling Act of 1913. In that Act, however, it is provided 'an enclosure which the stewards controlling such a course may, with the sanction of the Local Government, set apart for the purpose . . . etc.' But here we have the words 'in an enclosure, room or place set apart . . . etc.' It naturally means bucket shops. In the Bengal Act, they have no alternative for the word 'enclosure' but here you have got 'room or place', which would only mean bucket shops. Surely, no race can be run in a room or place. The hon. the Home Member in the beginning of his speech said that the Government will sanction only one or two. What will they sanction? They will sanction one or two bucket shops! What does it mean then? It means that after killing these fifty or sixty bucket shops and putting those people to a lot of trouble, you will allow the stewards of the Guindy Race Club to come and open in the City of Madras one or two shops. If the Government simply said 'enclosure', then I would agree with them; but when they put in the alternative words 'room or place' and allow thereby a shop to be opened in the city with the sanction of the race club authorities, I must certainly object to that. It is very likely that the Guindy Race Club will apply for sanction to open a shop here and the Government who have got the power will sanction it. Therefore, Sir, as at present, I have no alternative but to support the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. I can support the Government amendment if it simply said 'enclosure' but as the words 'room or place' also are introduced, I am inclined to support the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram."

* Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO :—"Sir, I feel it difficult at this stage to understand the amendment of the hon. the Home Member as it stands on the paper. The object of this Bill is to suppress the growth of bucket shops in the City of Madras. This City Police Act has no jurisdiction beyond the City of Madras. The race-course is run at Guindy, and it is controlled by the stewards of the race club at Guindy. The fact is that the race club has no concern whatever with the bucket shops in the City of Madras or any relation to betting. Government is now introducing in this Bill by the amendment of the hon. the Home Member a clause which authorizes the race club to open or recommend the opening of a bucket shop in the City of Madras under its control. The object of this Bill is a very commendable one, that is, to suppress all the bucket shops existing at present in the City of Madras and to put down the evil prevalent in the city on account of this trade. Whilst that is a very laudable object, that the Government should authorize any particular body or encourage anybody to recommend the opening of a place or room or enclosure in the City of Madras for the purpose of this very gambling which is sought to be put down by the present Bill, is not quite clear. It seems to me, Sir, that there is something wrong either with the wording of the amendment of the hon. the Home Member or with the object of the Government in regard to this Bill, whether the intention is to license certain places, enclosures or rooms in the City of Madras to the exclusion of certain others. I have therefore this difficulty to understand why a place or room is included in the Government amendment. It has been explained to us by the hon. Member Mr. James that it is not the intention of the Government amendment that race clubs should recommend the licensing of any room or place or enclosure for the purpose of gambling. But we have no authoritative statement on behalf of the Government as to what their intention is, whether it is to be left to the option of the race club to open any licensed house in the City of Madras. It may be that the race club may not have any such intention now; but in course of time, the personnel of the stewards may change and the intention—which is now a very good one—of not opening a shop in the city may also change. Therefore, we would like to have a definite statement on the amendment; I hope the hon. the Home Member will consider this aspect of the matter, with a view to prevent any abuse of the power given to the Race club to open shops in the City of Madras. The enclosure of the race club is quite sufficient. I am sure if that point is made clear, the House will be in a better position to appreciate the amendment of the hon. the Home Member. My difficulty is, as I said, whether the Government can authorize the management of the race club to open or to recommend the opening of any gaming house in the City of Madras. If that is not so, I shall be perfectly satisfied and I shall vote for the amendment of the hon. the Home Member. But until that point is made clear, I feel doubtful whether it will be an advantage to accept the Government amendment and thereby give the power of opening such shops to particular bodies. I feel another difficulty also, Sir. The words used are 'which the stewards or other authority controlling such race, etc.' Of course the stewards are responsible men and if they ask for licence being granted, it may be granted to them at the race course. But what is meant by 'or other authority.' What that authority is, is not explained. The hon. the Home Member must tell the House what that 'other authority' is. These matters, require fuller explanation, and until that explanation is given, I am afraid we will not be in a position to vote on this motion."

[Sir A. P. Patro]

* Mr. ALLADI KRISHNASWAMI AYYAR :—“ Mr. President, so far as I could gather, the object of the Government is not certainly to permit the Guindy race-course authority to have enclosures or rooms or places within the City of Madras and to sanction betting being carried on in those rooms or places. I shall explain why exactly these words were put in by the Government. The Government are not committed, so far I can see, to the general principle that betting in every place must be prohibited, though they have an idea of extending the provisions of this Bill to the entire mufassal (Hear, hear). When once the Government recognize the principle that betting at any place even with the licence of the race-course authorities, or with the sanction of the Local Government, is to be prohibited the Government would necessarily be committed to that principle outside the city also. The Government were not prepared to take up such a position. (Mr. S. Satyamurti: Why not?) To the extent to which I was asked to explain, I am stating it. (Laughter.) Therefore you cannot have one kind of Bill for the mufassal and another kind of Bill for the City of Madras. If you are going to take up the position that betting in any form and in every place must be prohibited, such provision must occur as much in any Bill relating to the mufassal as in a Bill relating to the town of Madras. Inasmuch as it is the intention of the Government, when extending the provisions of this measure to the mufassal, to permit betting within enclosures sanctioned by the race-course authorities and not to prohibit anybody carrying on business at every place, this amendment is introduced in this form in the present Bill.

“ One of the hon. Members referred to the Bengal Act. I might at once point out that this Bill goes much further than legislation in any other part of India; because under the Bill as it stands, you are prohibiting betting itself, not merely the keeping of houses for the purpose of betting. There is a drastic provision, as hon. Members would observe later on in which it is stated that betting on horses itself is punishable except in particular places. Even that does not obtain in Calcutta, Bombay or any other place; it is only gaming in a common gaming house that is punished in other places. So far as this Government are concerned, they have to that extent gone much further than legislation in other places in that this legislation punishes gaming, while also punishing the person who keeps the gaming house. The object of the saving clause is merely to recognize the principle that in a particular place sanctioned by the Local Government and recommended by the race course authorities, betting may go on. I am not now on the moral principle involved—I for myself never indulge in any betting or gaming. (Mr. S. Satyamurti: Then why do you want others to do that?) In my opinion, so far as the general laws are concerned, in no country, either on the continent or in England (A voice: Which continent?)—I refer to Europe—is gaming per se an offence. It may be that the Madras legislature may go a little further. There is nothing wrong in going further; but in matters of legislation of this kind, you must have some regard for the legislation obtaining in other countries. The Madras Government have gone one step further than the other Governments. The question is whether you are going to adopt the principle of abolishing betting of every kind. So far as I am concerned, I regard betting on every kind of game as immoral. Therefore, unless a comprehensive legislation of that kind is going to be introduced, punishing betting of every kind, there is no point in saying that we have got rid of one evil by punishing betting in respect of horse races. So long as the legislature is not prepared to punish betting of every kind in clubs and in other places, there is no point in the argument that there is as much immorality in one kind of betting as in other kinds of betting. Some limit will have to be necessarily placed, and the Government have thought that the limit is to be the limit of sanction by the Local Government and also its being run under the authority of the race-course.

“ This Council must definitely make up its mind. If you are going to delete this clause, you must be prepared to take such steps as to prohibit betting of every kind in any enclosure not only here but in Guindy. By merely passing this amendment you will not be prohibiting betting within the Guindy race-course, because this Act does not apply to the Guindy race-course, that being outside the City of Madras. 12-45 p.m.

“ You will have also to take up the general principle of betting, and the Madras legislature will have to undertake legislation prohibiting betting of every kind. So far as I know, the law in England has not as yet made gaming an offence.” (Mr. S. Satyamurti: It is a backward country)

* Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—“ Mr. President, Sir, coming from the mufassal, I may be thought of taking only academic interest in the matter, as this Bill is applicable only to the City of Madras. Many of us were anxious that the Select Committee might make some provision giving power to the Local Government, as in the case of the Brothels Bill, to extend the provisions of the Bill to the mufassal also. But the words that have fallen from the hon. Member Mr. James and the hon. the Advocate-General make people from the mufassal to be a little more careful about this Bill and to speak out their views. Mr. James seems to think that if the Maharaja of Pithapuram's amendment is passed there will be no betting in any race-course at all. I may once for all say that it is the earnest desire of many of us that there should be no betting on races even anywhere in this Presidency. We fought for some such principle when the Entertainment Tax Bill was under consideration here. But, apart from that, Mr. James is evidently making a confusion between the two things. If this provision of the hon. the Home Member is accepted and made applicable to the mufassal also, Sir, in Coimbatore, next year there will be half a dozen licensed bucket shops under the sanction of some race-course even in Bombay.

“ The provision is wide enough. Even in regard to the Guindy races, the amendment of the hon. the Home Member will enable half a dozen bucket shop people in Coimbatore getting licences or sanction from the Government or from somebody conducting race-courses in Bombay, Calcutta or even the Derby race-course. It is not confined to any race-course anywhere. I think the hon. the Finance Member may well congratulate himself if these bucket shops are let into auction as is done in the case of toddy shops and arrack shops, with the result that the bucket shops will not only be thriving, but they will be run with licences after paying large bid amounts, and we know the consequences. Our main and the sole object is that betting on the whole should be prohibited both in the city and in the mufassal.

"But, on the other hand, if Mr. James is very anxious, along with his colleagues, to have some betting, why not confine it to the race-course itself? It would have been much more reasonable if the hon. Member Mr. James and his colleagues, who care so much for our welfare, would suggest an amendment to the hon. the Home Member's amendment, namely that such betting might take place inside the race-courses themselves. That would be something. As it is, at present, we know how poor men go to Guindy and inside the race-course bid for the races. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan:—It will develop.) Of course, as my hon. Friend suggests, the race-courses will develop themselves and the limits extended even into the city. As it is, the amendment gives wide powers, apart from the intentions of the Government. Of course, nobody can say what the intentions of the Government will be to-morrow. I am sure the hon. the Home Member cannot bind his successor to his present intentions. When a comprehensive Bill comes into this Council prohibiting similar things in the mufassal, then probably this Council may consider the advisability of having a provision that within the race-course such kind of betting may be allowed. I must warn my hon. Friend Mr. James that he has not convinced us of his arguments. People who take an interest in races may come forward with subscriptions, certainly the European Association and its Members might pay very liberally and pay the various stewards and jockeys when the races take place; and certainly many of us also will be very glad to subscribe our mite if such a subscription list is opened. That is far from saying that even poor people can be encouraged and asked to come and take part in these lotteries. It is from that point of view and having much interest both in the mufassal as regards the prospective Bill and also having an interest in the city, I feel we must oppose the hon. the Home Member's amendment, and we would ask him to accept the amendment proposed by the Raja Sahib which will be very useful if this Bill is to be made useful at all. Let us not create a good thing and create an exception which in many cases will prove more dangerous than the present evil does."

* Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—"Mr. President, Sir, I think we should have no objection to accept the amendment if certain words or clauses are added to restrict betting. I believe the hon. Member, Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetti, has referred to an amendment of which notice has been given by Mr. Govindaraja Mudaliyar restricting betting only to the racing ground. If some such amendment is adopted, I think the ambiguity or the danger lurking in this amendment will be removed. As it is, it makes all betting an offence, and gives rise to unnecessary, unwarranted interference with the liberty of the free citizen."

"Then, as regards the other question, namely that betting like drink is an evil, I most emphatically state that betting is not an evil in itself. I think my hon. Friend the Member for the University knows it. (Mr. S. Satya-murti: He never bets.) Nor, do I, and I know that thousands of Indians, that the vast majority of people anywhere avoid every kind of betting. This shows that they are able to take care of themselves without the aid of legislation. As regards betting in the race-course, to make a law to put a stop to it, is really to make what is not intrinsically an evil, what is in itself a harmless and a legitimate and innocent amusement with small stakes and carried on with proper safeguards and on a restricted scale, a criminal offence punishable by fine, imprisonment or both. Sir, what we must aim at is that this bill has to be restricted to sportsmen who will take the trouble to see that the races are conducted in a really sportsmanlike manner."

24th September 1929] [Mr. S. Arpudaswami Udayar]

"I am glad that my hon. Friend Dr. Natesa Mudaliyar spoke very eloquently of the ruin wrought by bucket shops in the city. Certainly he has much larger experience than myself. If, for instance, stewards are authorized in close proximity to the race-course to have one or two rooms, I think that there will be no inducement or facility afforded to the middle or poorer classes to go and ruin themselves by betting. Therefore, Sir, I do repeat that betting is not intrinsically an evil. If there is an abuse of it, if what is harmless and legitimate is by perverse ingenuity turned to harmful, immoral purpose, then certainly it becomes an evil. Legislature can come in only when such things are abused by people to such an extent as to call for a drastic remedy. There might of course be very many persons who have not got the strength to resist all these attractions and when their number increases, in consequence of which this evil spreads, then of course, the legislature will be justified in interfering with the liberty of the people. In other words, interference with the liberty of a reasonable being is justified only when he is incapable of any strength of will, or of a right use of reason. If, on the other hand, my hon. Friends are going to put a stop to every kind of betting, though by itself betting is not an evil, then I must cry 'halt'. Therefore, I do not approve of the arguments of my hon. Friend based on ethical or moral grounds. If the hon. the Home Member would adopt some such amendment as that which is going to be moved by my hon. Friend Mr. Govindaraja Mudaliyar. . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I am afraid, the hon. Member is anticipating too much."

* Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—"If some such amendment is adopted, we may do well to support it and avoid a prurient and dangerous piece of legislation."

* Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—"Mr. President, Sir, I do not agree with my hon. Friend Mr. Udayar, especially with the statement that he does not consider betting as an evil in itself. If that is the case, then he seems to think that drinking also is not an evil in itself. I think that all thinking men will be satisfied that both are evils, and as a Muhammadan, I am bound to support any measure that will put down this kind of betting, because, Islam regards betting and drinking as of the same kind of vice. The holy Koran has mentioned them in the same verse, placing them in the same category. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'What about the Home Member?') Although the hon. the Home Member is a Muslim, yet as he is a Member of the Government he is not giving his own opinion, but the opinion of the Government, as the mouthpiece of the Government, as regards this matter. The Government perhaps don't consider it practicable to go the whole length of saying that betting should be put down altogether. The opinions of the Members on the other side is to restrict betting to the enclosures where racing is going on not only in the city of Madras but to enforce it in such other places outside the Madras town. I also feel some doubt as the hon. Sir Patro felt in understanding the intentions of Government and if this is made clear, I think all will be able to make up their minds."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I understand that Mr. Wood wants to move for the omission of the words 'room or place', and 'stewards or other'. Before he proposes to do that, I think the consideration of the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram has to be postponed."

* The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Mr. President, Sir, I move that the consideration of the present amendment be deferred till the amendment now proposed by Mr. Wood is considered and disposed of."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" On a point of order, Mr. President. This motion of the hon. the Education Minister is out of order, and there can be no postponement of a matter pending disposal. Moreover, the motion is not yet before the House. I think it must not be moved."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Notice of the amendment has been given to me and the consideration of the present amendment may be postponed till that amendment is disposed of. We have got into the practice of postponing one item in the agenda before another item is disposed of, though that other item has not been moved. This is an item of which I have received notice. The amendment is 'In the amendment of the hon. the Home Member omit the words "room or place", and "stewards or other".'"

1 p.m. * The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I now move that the consideration of the amendment be deferred till the consideration of the amendment, Mr. President, which you just now read out."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I second it."

* Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—" I do not think the hon. the Minister had given us any reason as to why this motion should be preferred to the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. I am afraid by this motion the hon. the Minister is making matters worse. We are now dealing with an important question. The whole thing is, apart from the question of enclosure, room or place, whether Government or stewards should have the power of licensing the new bucket shops. There is no use of discussing the present amendment first and then disposing of the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. I am afraid unless some very good reason is given as to why the Maharaja's amendment should be given up we cannot agree to this amendment. When we have proceeded so far with the discussion on the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram, it is better to straightway discuss that question and vote on it once for all, in preference to the question regarding the general power of instituting new bucket-shops anywhere, even thousands and thousands of miles away from the race-course, that should be given to the Government or to the stewards. I am afraid Mr. Wood has not explained to us whether the term 'enclosure' excludes 'rooms.' I do not think it necessary or desirable that we should give room for such vagueness, and I hope it will be cleared by bringing an amendment if necessary to the betting being permitted within the limits of the race compound."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" Sir, I rise to enter my strong protest at the way in which an amendment is introduced in this House at this stage, when we are discussing the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram, by way of compromise to bring round possibly a few hostile votes. I think there is nothing to warrant this procedure on the part of the Chief Minister, to spring upon this House at this stage an amendment like this, except the fact that he is pained to see the support given to the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram from unexpected quarters like Mr. Schamnad and Mr. Arpudawami Udayar, usually advocates of the Government cause. Sir, to bring forward this amendment as a compromise and thus refuse the House an opportunity to straightway vote on the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram, I submit, Sir, is unfair to the House. I think the power of selection is best left in the hands of the hon. the President, because otherwise it comes to this: the majority of the House can always, by entering into a pact with cross-benchers, prevent straight votes. I think it ought to be left to the hon. the President to choose the order in which the amendments should be placed. I still venture to submit that you will see that there is a point in what I say, and see that the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram is put to vote. Now, Sir, what is the object of the motion for the adjournment of the consideration of this amendment? The only object I can see is to conciliate the Opposition. And, after all, how far does he succeed? The amendment merely answers one point of my hon. Friend, Mr. Ramanath Goenka, that these words are not found in the Bengal Code. Tweedledum and tweedledee! This is not the way of meeting the Opposition. This is more like treating us like children who are satisfied with some imitation fruit when they cry for milk or food. Therefore I wish the House is allowed to give a straight vote on the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram."

* Mr. F. E. JAMES :—" Sir, I should like to explain why this procedure should be adopted. During the course of the discussion some misapprehension arose in the minds of the hon. Member and those who share his views as to whether the power of opening new bucket-shops should be vested in the Government and whether they could be established outside the actual racing enclosure. Now I may say, as far as we are concerned, we have no intention that bucket-shops should be opened apart from the actual race enclosure, nor, I think, have the Government any such idea. If the amendment is amended in the sense that no betting or wagering in a horse-race is permissible except in the racing enclosure on the day of racing, we certainly have no objection whatsoever to it. I believe that it was with this intention that the Government brought forward their amendment."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" Mr. President, Sir, the adjournment motion should not be supported, because it is not at all necessary at this stage. Now we are concerned, as Mr. James has put it, with the general principles whether wagering or betting at a horse-race also should be altogether prohibited or not, whether wagering and betting are evils in themselves and as such require to be suppressed altogether, and whether that should be first in the City and in the mufassal later on. If we believe that they are evils and that they are ruining not only the poor people but also the rich who deserve as much sympathy at our hands as the poor, because the rich people suddenly become poor and extremely miserable, then wagering and betting at horse-races deserve to be suppressed, and we ought to give our votes straightway to the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. But if the gambling and wagering are not great evils as some hon. Members believe, but are only innocent pleasures that can be exercised under certain control . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I am afraid the hon. Member is not speaking on the postponement of the consideration of the amendment . . ."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" Yes, Sir. I am coming to that."

[24th September 1929]

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I request the hon. Member to come at once to the point."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" If they are innocent pleasures that can be allowed to go on either on a licence from the Government or in a particular place and that near a race-course, then those people who believe in that ought to defeat the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram. Therefore, we have first to take that decision. On the general principle, if the motion of the Maharaja of Pithapuram is carried in this House, then there will be no question of compromising with the evil. But, if his motion is lost, then Mr. Wood's amendment will come in. Therefore, the greater is the reason why we should proceed with the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram, which concerns with the general principles. Therefore, I submit the House ought to decide that first, and then if it is lost we may go on with the consideration of the amendment of Mr. Wood."

* Mr. J. A. DAVIS :—" Mr. President, many of us on this side of the House feel that this cannot give a straight vote unless the amendment is made clear as suggested in Mr. Wood's amendment. We are anxious to have bucket-shops in Madras closed, but we are not prepared to go the length of putting a stop to all race betting on a race-course to achieve this object. Mr. Wood's amendment helps us to do this, and therefore I think it a timely amendment and that it should be dealt with before the Maharaja's amendment is put to the vote. I therefore support Mr. Wood's amendment being taken into consideration first."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I feel some technical difficulty in putting these amendments. Really the intention of the Maharaja of Pithapuram is to omit certain words—and it appears to me a certain section of the House is in favour of retaining the amendment with certain omissions—and therefore the better course will be, after allowing the Government to make a statement regarding their attitude on the amendment of Mr. Wood, to put the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram to vote. When once it is disposed of (if that portion is retained), I shall give permission to Mr. Wood to move his amendment. I think that will remove all difficulties. I give an opportunity to the hon. the Home Member to make a statement so far as the attitude of the Government is concerned regarding the proposed amendment of Mr. Wood."

1-15 p.m. The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I am willing to accept Mr. Wood's amendment, Sir."

The motion for postponement was not pressed.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I will now put the amendment of the Maharaja of Pithapuram to the vote of the House."

"The question is—

In the amendment of the hon. the Home Member, to omit the words 'except when such wagering or betting takes place (i) on the date on which such race is to be run, and (ii) in an enclosure, room or place which the stewards or other authority controlling such race have, with the sanction of the Local Government, set apart for the purpose'."

[24th September 1929]

[Mr. C. E. Wood]

"In proposing this amendment, Sir, I wish to say a few words. I do so in order to meet the objections which have been raised by several hon. Members on the other side of the House and by some hon. Members on this side of the House also. I am told that in introducing this Bill there was no intention whatever to prevent betting on race-courses under the control or authority of the stewards. It was a Bill introduced with the idea of abolishing all bucket shops, which have been recognized as a very great evil in the city; and it was intended to permit within a race-course enclosure all betting. Certain hon. Members have raised objections to the Bill on the ground that under it there is still some possibility of the establishment of bucket shops. It is only to make it quite clear that this is not so, that I propose this amendment, and I hope that Mr. Goenka, Mr. Venkataramana Ayyangar, Mr. Satyamurti and others will all be in agreement with this amendment, and that it will be passed."

The hon. DE. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"I second the amendment."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"I am at a loss to see, Sir, what object this amendment will serve. At present we have got races at Guindy, outside the limits of the Corporation of Madras. Now, the object of this amendment is to allow the race-course authorities to get licence from the Government so as to have enclosures for betting within the premises of the race-course. But, we have got no race-course within the city. . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"We are legislating for the future as well."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"I move, Sir, the motion I have already handed over to you—

'that consideration of this Bill be adjourned till after the Government brings in a comprehensive Bill on the subject to cover the whole Presidency including the City.'

P.M.

"From the speeches of the hon. the Advocate-General and of the other Members supporting the amendment of the Government, it is clear that there is an attempt by which a system of licensed betting is to be allowed. That is to say, they do not want a prohibition of betting altogether. But they want to allow betting within certain limits, i.e., within the premises of the race-course, under a licence. At present, the Bill is brought only for the purpose of stopping betting within the municipal limits. At the same time, there are provisions in the Bill which will have to be covered by another future Act. The intentions of the Government are now indicated by implication, and there is no express provision in this Act as to what the Government will do for betting outside the municipal limits. The hon. the President himself said that it was a matter for the future. Then, where is the hurry? Why not wait and bring before us later on a comprehensive Bill, a scientific Bill, after consulting the Advocate-General and the Advisory Committee, so that we will have something tangible, something clear, something definite before us, in order that this evil of betting may be put down once for all? Why should we imply in this Bill the intention of the Government of doing something in future, and what is the use of our going on with an imperfect Bill of this sort? I see a most scandalous state of things to-day, Ministers and Members going here and there"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Those remarks are not relevant to the consideration of the adjournment motion."

24th September 1929]

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"It is relevant in this way, Sir. That only shows that there is a conflict of opinions in this Council among the Ministers and the Members of Government and the Advocate-General and other Members of the Council. They speak of the intentions of the Government to come forward with an improved Bill in the future. That shows that we have a very imperfect Bill at present. Then, why force it down our throats now? The Bill is clumsily drawn up, and it is not comprehensive. The Government have got their drafting authority and they can very well draft a comprehensive Bill on the lines on which they want to take action, and bring it before this House at the earliest possible opportunity. I, therefore, think that this Bill should not be considered by the Council at present."

Mr. BASHIR AHMED SAYEED :—"I second it."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that the consideration of this Bill be adjourned till after the Government brings in a comprehensive Bill on the subject to cover the whole Presidency including the City."

The adjournment motion was put and negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I will now put the amendment of the hon. Member, Mr. Wood, to the House, namely—

'in the amendment of the hon. the Home Member for sub-clause (ii) substitute the following :—

"In a place or places within the race enclosure which the authority controlling such race has, with the sanction of the Local Government, set apart for the purpose"

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"Mr. President, on the scope of this amendment, I should like to know what the legal opinion is. As there is no race-course in the city of Madras, the amendment is capable of being understood to mean that gaming will be absolutely prevented in Madras until a race-course is established in the City. Is that the scope of the amendment, Sir?"

Mr. ALLADI KRISHNASWAMI AYYAR :—"That is the effect of the Bill as it stands at present. Every kind of betting within the city is punishable under this Bill."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I will now put the amendment to the House."

The amendment was put and adopted.

The amendment of the hon. the Home Member, as amended by Mr. Wood, was put and adopted.

The House then adjourned for lunch.

After lunch (2-35 p.m.)

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"It is not necessary for Mr. Govindaraja Mudaliyar to move his amendment. The question is that clause 2, as amended, shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted and clause 2, as amended, was added to this Bill.

Clause 3.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that clause 3 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was negatived, and the clause was deleted.

[24th September 1929]

Clause 4.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that clause 4 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was negatived, and the clause was deleted.

Clause 5.

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"I beg to move the following amendment :

Re-number clause 5 of the Bill as clause 3 and for clause 3 as so re-numbered substitute the following :—

3. Section 37 of the said Act shall be re-numbered as sub-section (1) of section 37 and to that section as so re-numbered the following sub-sections shall be added, namely :

(2) Whoever opens, keeps or uses, or permits to be opened, kept, or used any enclosure, room or place for the purpose of gaming on a horse race shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for every day on which such enclosure, room or place is so opened, kept or used.

(3) Whoever is found gaming on a horse race shall be liable, on conviction, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in this Act, to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees or to imprisonment not exceeding one month."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"I second it."

The following amendment stood in the name of Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar :—

"In the proposed new sub-clause (3) given notice of by the hon. the Mover, insert at the end after the word "used" the words "or with imprisonment of either description not exceeding three months or with both".

Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR :—"Mr. President, Sir, my amendment is to sub-clause (2). By inadvertence it was put down as amendment to sub-clause (3). Again, instead of the word 'with' before the words 'imprisonment' and 'both', the word 'to' should be used. That would be more grammatical. So, if my amendment is passed, the penalty will be distinct and separate. My real point is that while the person who is found betting on a race-horse is liable to imprisonment, the person who lures him to destruction and gains thereby is not liable, under the proposed clause 3, to the same penalty. The punter is placed in a worse position than the person who lures him to destruction. The Government have inadvertently lost sight of this inconsistency or perhaps the fine of Rs. 500 for each day loomed so large before them that they thought that it was a sufficiently deterrent punishment. There seemed to be some doubt or confusion in this matter. That is why I tabled my amendment, so that the imprisonment clause may come after the word 'used'. I say advisedly Rs. 500 for every day or in the alternative a period of imprisonment or in a bad case, both. I should think that the Government would see their way to accept this amendment, because it is logical and it is also justified by reason. I formally move this amendment for the acceptance of the House."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—"I second it."

[24th September 1929]

* The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir Muhammad USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"Sir, the Government have accepted the recommendation of the Select Committee in this matter. It seems to me that the punishment proposed by my hon. Friend is rather severe. Government consider that what we have accepted is enough to meet the situation. I therefore oppose the amendment."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"May I appeal to Government to reconsider the question? According to sub-clause (2) whoever opens, keeps or uses, etc., a room or place for the purpose of gaming on a horse-race shall be liable to a fine of Rs. 500; but if a man goes about gaming on a horse-race he becomes, according to sub-clause (3), liable both to fine and to imprisonment. It seems to me quite illogical that a man who actually disobeys the law and opens a room for gaming on a horse race should be let off with a fine only, whereas a man who is found gaming on a horse-race should be fined or imprisoned. Certainly the former is more guilty than the latter. Moreover, the present Bill, as it is, practically prohibits gaming within the City of Madras until a race course is opened in Madras, and the effect of my hon. Friend's amendment would be that until a race course is opened in Madras, there shall be no betting or wagering. If a man disobeys that law and opens a place for the purpose of wagering or betting, I submit his crime may well be visited with something much more than a fine of Rs. 500. I submit that unless the Magistrate has got powers to give deterrent punishment to a man who disobeys the law, it may well happen that he would go on paying this fine Rs. 500 every day, and yet profit by his business. I think the object of the Bill will be rendered nugatory, and the whole thing will become a farce unless the Government accepts the amendment."

"May I also say one thing? After all, this clause merely gives the Magistrate power to inflict a fine or imprisonment or both. I am sure we can trust the Magistrates not to abuse this power and inflict the extreme penalty in the case of first offenders. It is only in hard cases where people disobey the law and go on disobeying that the extreme penalty would be inflicted. It seems to me that this amendment ought to be accepted by the Government and by the House."

* The hon. Sir. THOMAS MOIR :—"I do not think the Government would object to imprisonment being provided as an alternative punishment in this clause. But there is one difficulty. As the clause reads at present it has cumulative effect. It may mean imprisonment for three months for each day. (Cries of no, no.) If this amendment is accepted, I am afraid that would be the interpretation put upon it when the matter goes to a court. It seems to me that there must be some limit to the punishment of imprisonment which may be inflicted."

* Mr. ALLADI KRISHNASWAMI AYYAR :—"Mr. President, apart from the question that there should be a deterrent punishment, I feel some difficulty. It may lead to some complication. If the hon. Member's amendment is accepted it will read like this: 'or imprisonment not exceeding three months.' You have provided for cumulative punishment in the case of fine. It may be susceptible to the interpretation that for each day he will be liable to three months imprisonment. (Cries of: Make it clear.) That is true. We may make it clear. I am merely pointing out the difficulty. You may make a change to the effect 'Whoever keeps . . . ' (A voice: Draft it properly.)"

[24th September 1929]

Preamble.

Mr. F. E. JAMES :—" Mr. President, I move

'in lines 2 and 3 of the preamble for the words "for the purpose herein-after appearing" substitute the words "for the purpose of controlling, betting and wagering on horse races".'

"Sir, it is an accepted principle of statute law that the preamble should define in general terms the purpose of the Bill and that is what I have aimed at in moving this amendment."

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—" I second it."

3 p.m. * The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that in lines 2 and 3 of the preamble for the words 'for the purpose hereinafter appearing' the words 'for the purpose of controlling, betting and wagering on horse races' be substituted."

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I beg to accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and adopted. The preamble, as amended, was put, passed and added to the Bill.

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I now move that the Bill, as amended, be passed into law."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I second it."

The motion was adopted and the Bill, as amended, was passed into law.

VII

THE MALABAR TENANCY BILL (BILL No. 9 OF 1929).

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Mr. President, Sir, I beg to present the Report^a of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Malabar Tenancy Bill and move that the Bill, as amended by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I second it."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that the Malabar Tenancy Bill, as amended by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

The motion was adopted.

The following motion standing in the name of Mr. Basheer Ahmed Sayeed was, with the permission of the House, withdrawn :—

'That the consideration of the Report of the Select Committee on the Malabar Tenancy Bill be adjourned to the next meeting of the Council and that in the meanwhile, the Bill, as reported upon by the Select Committee, be republished in order to enable the Members to study the Bill.'

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Clause 1 is for the consideration of the House."

* Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—" Mr. President, Sir, I beg to move

'that in clause 1, sub-clause (2) for the words "whole of the district of Malabar", the words "taluks of Palghat, Walluvanad, Ernad, Ponnani and Calicut of the Malabar district" be substituted.'

24th September 1929]

[Mr. K. Uppi Sahib]

"My reason for moving this amendment is that there are very distinct differences between the land tenures of North Malabar and those of South Malabar. The framers of the Bill seemed to have in their mind the conditions of South Malabar when they framed the scheme of the Bill. First of all the physical condition of North Malabar and that of South Malabar differ very much. North Malabar is a land of gardens, whereas South Malabar is mostly a land of paddy fields. The incidence of land tenure is very different. First of all let me take the kanam. What is called kanam in South Malabar is a tenure, but kanam as a tenure is unknown in North Malabar. Kanam in North Malabar is nothing but mortgage. In South Malabar, generally the tenants approach the janmis for renewal or for lease of a kanam, but in North Malabar the janmi when he is in need of money goes in search of a monied man to borrow money on the security of his property. This mortgage is called kanam there. He goes whenever he is in need of money. He takes the records relating to his property and requests the monied man to give him money on the security of the land. Generally it is the big janmi that takes the property on kanam and it is the middle class janmi of North Malabar that gives it on kanam. Generally in such cases money is given for a fixed rate of interest, the usual rate being 5 per cent. In South Malabar the kanamdar is a tenant, but in North Malabar the kanamdar is a mere mortgagee. In South Malabar the janmi considers it an honour to have a number of kanam tenants under him, but in North Malabar to say that a janmi has leased out his property on kanam is considered to be a degradation because when he leases out his property on kanam he will be considered to be insolvent. In North Malabar if a man goes to the janmi and asks him to give him a property on kanam, the janmi will consider it highly insulting to him and I am afraid that such a man will be even severely dealt with because the man whom you ask for kanam demise will be considered insolvent by the public and he will lose his prestige among the public. Generally the property on the security of which the janmi received money will be given possession of to kanamdar and the rent of the land will be adjusted to cover the interest of the money advanced. Very often the janmi himself agrees to be the tenant under his kanaree. That is when a property is given on kanam and when the janmi finds that the income from the land is higher than the interest on the money he received, he takes the land back on lease as a tenant under the kanamdar on condition that he will pay interest on kanam in cash. No janmi in South Malabar will agree to be a tenant under a kanamdar. In South Malabar kanam demises are always for a period of twelve years. It is one of the incidents of kanams of South Malabar. In North Malabar kanams are given for 5 or 6 or 12 or 36 years. In North Malabar in almost all the documents you will find there is a provision for the sale of property, because it is necessary for realizing the mortgage money by sale of the property in cases of usufructuary mortgages. In South Malabar kanam deeds we cannot find such a provision. In North Malabar you will not find a single document in which there is an express or implied provision for renewal of a kanam. Renewal of kanam is foreign to North Malabar, and North Malabar kanam is resorted to only on a commercial basis, and not as a system of tenure. Michavaram is never heard of in North Malabar.

"For these reasons I say any kind of permanency given to North Malabar kanam and thus making it irredeemable will be a brutal violation of the most salutary and well-known legal maxim, 'once a mortgage always a mortgage'. In North Malabar it will be absolutely unfair to the mortgagor to prohibit him from redeeming his property, which he mortgaged when he was in need of money and it will be equally unfair to prevent the kanaandar (the mortgagee) from realizing his money when he requires the same after the expiry of the term.

p.m.

"Then, as regards certain provisions in the Bill regarding the kuzhikanamdar, kuzhikanam is a term which is unknown in South Malabar. Kuzhikanam tenant means a tenant of garden lands. It is stated by all people who have studied the conditions of North Malabar that in North Malabar big janmis are exceptional. There are only some ten or fifteen janmis who pay more than Rs. 1,000 or Rs. 2,000 as assessment. The rest are peasant proprietors, that is to say, janmis owning 10 or 15 acres of land. So there is a free circulation of land there. There is no class of people called the tenant class in North Malabar. In South Malabar the Nayars and Mappillas are called kudian class. In North Malabar there is no separate class as kudian class. All are peasant proprietors. Certainly the provisions under this Act will work very hard against these peasant proprietors. I must say that this Act will drive within 12 or 15 years the peasant proprietors of North Malabar to the field as mere labourers. This Act provides that the janmi or the landlord of the garden land will be entitled to certain fair rent with regard to his trees and with regard to tenant's trees. But he is not allowed to receive it. If the rent now existing falls short of the fair rent the landlord cannot enhance the rent to the extent of the fair rent. The enhancement of rent can be done only by $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of the existing rent at renewal after a period of twelve years. Suppose an ordinary janmi in North Malabar has got ten tenants under him. The provision in the Bill is that the janmi will be bound to give when only the tenant applies. The tenant cannot be compelled to take a renewal. Suppose a janmi owning 10 acres of land has got ten tenants under him. They are paying rent which may not be fair rent; say six of them pay more than fair rent. These people will go to the court and apply to the court to have the rent payable by them, fixed, according to this Act. In that case the janmi's income will be reduced by at least 20 per cent. The remaining four tenants find that the existing rent is favourable to them; if they go to court they will have to pay higher rent; therefore they will stand aloof and the janmi has no means of compelling them to take renewal, except by filing an eviction suit. The only course left open to the janmi is to go to court and to file a suit for eviction. The tenant can compel the janmi to go even up to the High Court. After tedious and costly litigation, what is the advantage to the janmi? The janmi will have to pay the value of compensation and evict the tenant. Even then the tenant can refuse to take a renewal. Naturally, the tenant will ask himself 'can he evict me?'. If he finds that the janmi is impecunious, he can very well say to him 'I do not want renewal; I shall take the value of my improvements'. Generally the value of the improvements is very high and the interest on the money in cases of such eviction does not come up even to 2 per cent. What is the alternative for this impecunious janmi? Either he must pay the value of compensation decreed by the court or he must give a melcharth or apply to the court to sell his property and get the balance if anything remains after setting off the value of tenant's improvement. As I have told the House, the ordinary janmis of North Malabar are mostly peasant proprietors. These peasant proprietors will not be able to pay the value of compensation decreed by the court and redeem the property. The other alternative is to give the land on melcharth. I assure the House and the tenants' representatives in this House will agree with me that nobody will take a melcharth hereafter under the provisions of this Bill. I do not know the conditions in South Malabar. In North Malabar melcharth is generally taken for three purposes, viz., to cultivate, to build a house or to spite an enemy. Under the provisions of this Act, the melcharthdar cannot evict the tenant for the first two reasons, i.e., for building a house or for cultivation by himself. If it is only to spite the enemy, the existing tenant can very well go to the court and say that he is prepared to take renewal. Then the melcharthdar will have to walk away taking the renewal fee paid by him; he can snap his fingers at the melcharthdar. So nobody will take melcharth under these conditions. The only alternative for the peasant proprietor is to sell away his property. In this way this Bill will be working very hard upon the middle class of North Malabar. You will all admit the middle class is the backbone of every society. The middle class of North Malabar will be ruined in the course of another 20 years. The object of this Bill is to protect the middle class people of Malabar; but in fact it is going to annihilate the present middle class people of North Malabar.

"Then the provision regarding kudiyruppus also is going to work very hard on the peasant proprietors of North Malabar. It is a land of gardens; there are very few gardens which extend to more than two or three acres. They are mostly half or one acre less in extent. In the middle of such gardens there will be a small house; in that house the tenant may have been living for the last ten years. In such cases the tenant can purchase the kudiyruppu. He can after this Act comes into force get the site of house sold by a court. When the central portion of such a garden is sold the rest of the land, that is, the margin round the house will be quite useless to the janmi, because nobody will take up a land where he has no accommodation, where he cannot live and where the house will be at the disposal of another person who lives there. What is the remedy? Generally the property of these peasant proprietors is not round their houses but is away from their villages. It will be in the possession of a tenant. In North Malabar not even one big janmi has got more than 15 acres concentrated in one amsam. Usually each janmi possesses two or three acres in an amsam. More than five acres nobody will have in one amsam or village. If the tenant gets this kudiyruppu, if the central portion of the paramba is sold, no other tenant will come to take the rest of the paramba. The result is the existing tenant can get the rest of the land for a song.

"Another unfair and confiscatory provision of the Bill is this. North Malabar is a land of gardens. Mostly they are gardens of pepper and coconut; these are the chief produce of North Malabar. Nothing can be levied for pepper grown in coconut gardens hereafter under the Act. I have in my possession gardens whose chief produce is coconut; I get from them more than Rs. 200 or 300 out of pepper grown in them; that is the minor produce of the paramba. What I realize from coconut is about Rs. 300. There are some parambas where the yield from pepper is higher than that from coconut; but at the same time it cannot be said that pepper is the chief produce of that paramba. If anybody goes to North Malabar he will find only mixed gardens; you cannot find a single garden whose chief produce is pepper within 15 miles from the coast. To deprive the janmi of such a big source of income is really confiscatory. Why should the janmi lose? Why should he be deprived of the yield of his own trees, which he might have paid for or which he might have planted? The Bill explicitly says that the janmi shall not be entitled to get anything out of gardens where pepper is not their chief produce.

"Another injustice done to the janmis of North Malabar by the provisions of this Bill is they are allowed to collect certain fair rent but they are not entitled to receive it. If you look at the proceedings of the conference of janmis and tenants convened by His Excellency, you will find that the fair rent is fixed after deducting all expenses, even the interest on the renewal fee. But it is provided in the Act that proprietors of garden lands shall not receive this fair rent if the existing rent is less than fair rent. The enhancement shall be only at the rate of two annas in the rupee. The result will be the janmi of garden land in North Malabar will never get his fair rent. Because, supposing the rent of a land was Rs. 20 when I leased it five years ago and by the time the Act comes into operation the gross produce of the pambha has reached Rs. 100, I am entitled to get, according to the Bill, Rs. 40. One provision of the Bill says that I shall be entitled to get only Rs. 20 plus two annas per rupee for twenty rupees. Why should the janmi be deprived of Rs. 17½? In the case of paddy lands you allow fair rent; fair rent is allowed after 12 years. In the case of gardens, why should the janmi be penalized like this? Coconut trees live for 60 or 70 years only. According to the example I have put before the House to reach this sum of Rs. 40 it will take six renewals or 72 years. Neither my trees, nor my tenant nor myself will be there then. Why should I be deprived of my share for 72 years which may be Rs. 1,000? I should say that the framers of this Bill had in mind only the conditions of South Malabar, where janmis do not attach importance to garden lands. The people of South Malabar attach much importance to paddy lands. So we have no quarrel with regard to the arrangements that have been made about customary verumpattamdars. In the case of garden lands certain provisions of the Bill are confiscatory. Regarding fair rent, it is allowed, but the janmi is not allowed to receive it. The provisions of the Bill not allowing any share out of the produce from pepper are really confiscatory.

"In North Malabar the kudiyan class and the janmi class are the same. There is no particular class called kudiyan class. Mr. Pate said that the problem in North Malabar is due to the ambition of Tiyyas to become janmis. There is Mr. Krishnan here. I am sure he is going to oppose me very vehemently. He is also a janmi. There are many big Tiyya tenants there. It is always open to them to become janmis. Mr. Krishnan was telling me a few minutes ago about a person who was a non-entity in Malabar a few years ago and who has now become a big janmi, because he is a merchant and he could buy janmi properties. If one has got money in North Malabar he can purchase lands. Every day lands are sold; gardens are sold; paddy lands are sold. If you take the statistics of registration offices, you will find that a large number of janmam lands are being sold and bought every day in North Malabar. The land in North Malabar is not closed up in a few hands as in South Malabar. In South Malabar it is impossible in certain areas to get even half an acre of land for lakhs of rupees; janmis are not prepared to part with their lands. In North Malabar janmis do not hold lands for holding purpose but for making money. The possession of land is done only on commercial line. Therefore there is no necessity for a Bill of this kind for North Malabar.

"Sir, if I could get very high value for a piece of land which belongs to me, I would sell it and buy another two pieces of land in another place. Lands are available in Malabar, only money is wanted. Therefore, I am not against any tenancy legislation. Let me make my position clear. I am not speaking now in the interests of the janmis of North Malabar; perhaps they will be able to withstand the effects of this Bill. But I say the peasant proprietors are abounding in North Malabar and I say that their interests should be protected. You are going to drive those people out into the fields and you are trying to make them labourers, so that they will be nowhere within the next twenty years. With these words, Sir, I move my amendment for the consideration of the House."

3-30 p.m.

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"Sir, I second the amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is.
'for the words "whole of the district of Malabar" substitute the words "taluks of Palghat, Walluvanad, Ernad, Ponnani and Calicut of the Malabar district".'

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"Sir, I am not surprised that my hon. Friend from Malabar has made a second attempt in a matter that he lost some years ago. Last time when this Bill came before the House, the very same arguments were advanced by my friend Mr. Uppi Sahib for excluding the whole of North Malabar from the provisions of the Bill, and his arguments did not find favour with the then House; and I am sure I will be able to convince this House that every argument that has been advanced by him for excluding North Malabar from the provisions of this Bill is unsound.

"I may, for your special information, read to you, gentlemen . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Order, order. The hon. Member will have to address the Chair."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"Excuse me, Sir. I am sorry. I may read for your information, the evidence of a respectable pleader of North Malabar before the Raghavayya Committee. (Hon. Members: "We have not got copies, Sir.")

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Are not copies of the evidence supplied to the Members?"

Hon. MEMBERS:—"No. They have not been placed on the table."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Hon. Members complain that copies of the evidence have not been supplied to them. Perhaps Mr. Krishnan, being a Member of that Committee, got a copy."

Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"I would request the hon. the Revenue Member at least to give such copies as are now available to the Members, because I want to show that my hon. Friend, Mr. Uppi Sahib, is incorrect in saying that North Malabar . . ."

[24th September 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Order, order. Generally, a private Member can refer to a book unpublished or not circulated; but in this case, I understand that Members have applied to the Government to supply them with copies; and when they are not supplied, I do not think I can allow it. The publication is a Government publication and when one section of the House or one Member has received the same from the Government and other Members have not received it, I have to shut out the reference to it. The hon. Member cannot quote from the book until such books are supplied to all other hon. Members."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" Sir, I am sorry that on account of circumstances over which I have no control, I am not able to quote from the book. But I may, Sir, still request you to consider one question; and that is, that so far as I know, copies have been made available by the Government for sale. I do not know whether that point has been taken into consideration by you and is covered by your ruling."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Order, order. Every Member of the House is entitled to get every publication of the Government without paying any price therefor."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" On a point of order, Sir. Will you not give a direction to the Government to supply copies to every hon. Member of the House? Otherwise, you will be depriving the House of the very valuable evidence collected by the Raghavayya Committee. I think the House ought not to be deprived of the advantage of looking into the evidence tendered before that Committee."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I shall be glad to have copies supplied, as far as they are available, Sir. But I am not sure how many copies will be available."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Will the hon. Member be able to tell me how many copies are available?"

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I will have to find out, Mr. President."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" If the hon. Member gives me an assurance that he will supply hon. Members with that book, I shall allow Mr. Krishnan to go on with the quotation."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" I speak subject to correction, Sir; but I believe copies will be available to all the Members. As a matter of fact, the Members of the Select Committee have already been supplied with copies of the book, and therefore the number of copies necessary for the other members may perhaps be available. But I speak subject to correction, Sir."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" In that case, Sir, may I request you to reconsider your ruling and allow me to quote the evidence of a few witnesses?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" If the Government give me an assurance that they will supply copies, I am prepared to allow it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I shall certainly place copies in the Library, Sir, if sufficient number of copies are not available for supply to all hon. Members."

[24th September 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member may now go on with the quotation."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" Sir, in answer to the questionnaire that was issued by the Raghavayya Committee, this vakil, a graduate in Law, a pleader of the District Munsif's Court at Kuttuparamba within whose jurisdiction the whole of the properties of my friend Mr. Uppi's tarwad are situated, and who has considerable experience of the Muhammadan janmis of North Malabar, gives a few instances of janmi oppression. I will quote one or two of them which will convince the House as to the reasons why my friend Mr. Uppi is so strong with regard to the exclusion of North Malabar :
'Kottal is a very rich janmi tarwad in the Kottayam amsam of Kottayam taluk.'

I need not tell you that my friend Mr. Uppi representing the Muhammadan constituency of North Malabar is a member of that tarwad.

'A member of the tarwad wanted a tenant of theirs Cheruvary Kunhambu who had a decent position in life and who and whose karnavan were holding several parambas and lands under Kottal tarwad and the relations of Kottal tarwad, to assign a paramba to a nominee of that member. The tenant refused to do so unless consideration money was paid at once. This irritated the janmi and the result was series of civil and criminal actions by and against the tenant and almost all the lands and parambas in the possession of the family of the tenant were recovered through court or otherwise and the once well-to-do tenant has been ruined.'

'That is the Kottal tarwad. Here is a second instance :
'Erinjai Karvanta Valappil Kunhi Mayan Haji.'

Who is the direct brother-in-law of my friend Mr. Uppi—

'is a big janmi of Punnat, a place in Kottayam taluk. He is the son of the present karnavan of Kottal tarwad and owns several properties in and around Kottayam amsam. A kariyasthan of Kottal tarwad filed a money suit against a tenant Rayaroath Velandi Kelappan who held properties both under Kottal and Haji.'

Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—" Mr. President, as a matter of personal explanation, Sir. Will the hon. Member kindly read the whole of the oral examination of this particular gentlemen whom he is quoting? The witness broke down in oral evidence and he had to admit that what he said in his written evidence was not true at all (Laughter)."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" Sir, I want to raise a point of order. He may read the evidence, but it will be very indelicate to mention the names of those who are connected with the Members of this House. He can simply say 'A' or 'B'."

Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" I shall abide by the ruling of the President."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I think that in order to avoid much heat in the debate, the best thing will be not to make any reference to the personal relationship of the Members of this House with the various witnesses that appeared before the Raghavayya Committee; no useful purpose will be served by that. There will also be a lot of personal explanations if names are mentioned."

Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" I bow to your ruling, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" It is not a ruling, it is only a suggestion."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" On a point of order, Sir. Since the copies of the evidence have not been supplied to us, we are not in a position to understand what the hon. Member is reading. He may also misread."

[Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao] [24th September 1929]

Unless we have the books, we cannot be in a position to know what he reads. Therefore, until the copies are supplied and placed on the table of the House, I request you not to allow such quotations being read."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Regarding quotations, the practice is that the book from which the quotations are made, is generally supplied; or in its absence, an undertaking to supply the book is given. At the same time, I would request the hon. Member Mr. Krishnan not to exhaust the House by exhaustively quoting the whole of the evidence."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"I will accept your suggestion, Sir, and proceed. I am only quoting these, Sir, to show that so far as North Malabar is concerned, Mappillas are real janmis. I do not say the Mappillas exhaust what we call the janmis; but the rich classes of janmis in North Malabar are the Muhammadans; and I dare say they will stand to lose some prestige if the Bill is made applicable to them also. I shall address myself now to a few of the points brought to the notice of this House."

"It was first suggested, Sir, that there was no agitation for tenancy reform in North Malabar. My friend is not correct in that statement. If I remember aright—and I believe I had some hand in it—from the year 1918, the North Malabar tenants have been keeping up an agitation. And if I remember aright, the very first draft Bill that was submitted to the Government of this province in regard to the tenancy problem, was the one submitted by the North Malabar tenants. Ever since that time, they have been keeping up the agitation. Ultimately about 44 tenants who were hardly able to earn a living, travelled all the way to Madras in order to present their case before the Justice party then in power, at the South Indian Liberal Federation. It is therefore not correct to say, that in North Malabar, there has been no agitation for tenancy reform."

"Then, my friend Mr. Uppi brought to the notice of this House several instances in which this Bill would work hardship to the janmis of North Malabar. That is a question, Sir, which will have to be decided as each section is being considered by this House. My friend has said that in North Malabar there is a difference in kanam. Surely, when this question of the kanam comes up, the point as to how far the kanams of Malabar should be included or excluded will have to be considered. But it is too much to say that by one stroke of the pen the whole of the tenants of North Malabar numbering over 10 lakhs should also be excluded from the provisions of this Act, merely because the kanam of North Malabar is different from the kanam of South Malabar. The kanam of North Malabar is as much the same as the kanam of South Malabar except that it has been indiscriminately used in some documents where the word 'hypothecation' ought to have been used. I shall discuss this point at the appropriate place; but I only point out now that no confusion need be made on account of the fact that there is some difference between the kanams of North Malabar and those of South Malabar."

"Then my friend, Mr. Uppi, said that there is some difference in the Kudiiruppu and that it would work hardship. By all means, when the section is taken up, let my friend bring in an amendment that kudiiruppu so far as North Malabar is concerned shall be viewed differently from that in South Malabar. Let us by all means discuss that question at the proper time; but to say that because there is a provision in this Bill by which the tenant is given a right to purchase kudiiruppu, therefore the whole of the North Malabar should on that account be excluded, surely does not stand to reason."

"Then, Sir, my friend said that there are not many janmis in North Malabar enjoying large number of acres of land. My friend probably had in mind the fields in the amsam in and around his place. But if my hon. Friend will go with me to Chirakkal taluk, I will show him miles and miles of land under one janmi. If he will kindly go with me to the Kurumbranad taluk, I shall show him miles and miles of land belonging to one particular janmi. It is not therefore correct to say that in North Malabar there are no janmis and that there is no tenancy problem there, which the tenants have so far taken notice of."

"Next, Sir, my hon. Friend said that in the Act, the lands where pepper is being cultivated have not been taken into consideration. I say, by all means let him press that point in the shape of an amendment when the relevant section is taken up for consideration. But to say that because pepper lands have been excluded in the Bill therefore the provisions of the Bill should not apply to the whole of North Malabar, is certainly not fair; and it is not open to my friend to say so."

"Then again, Sir, he said something about fair rent, and he probably wants to delete by a stroke of the pen the provisions relating to fair rent. By all means let him bring forward an amendment when that question is taken up for consideration by the House. Then the House will be in a position to decide on the question in a proper perspective. But to say that on that account North Malabar should be excluded from the operation of this Act is tantamount to imposing great injustice on the tenants who are clamouring for some relief from the oppression of the janmi in North Malabar."

"Sir, although I do not want to make any personal remarks, I may say that Mappilla janmis as a class in North Malabar are related to each other. All big janmis in North Malabar are in some way or other related to each other; so that the Mappilla janmis as a class will have common interests which fact also I request the House to seriously consider when discussing this question about the exclusion of North Malabar from the provisions of this Bill. Then, Sir, it is said that the janmis in North Malabar consider it infra dig to hold lands. Probably my hon. Friend has forgotten his own district. There again he is making a great mistake. Probably, he has not travelled beyond his own taluk and so may not know his entire constituency. If he goes to Chirakkal, he will find hundreds of kanam tenants under the Raja who are still tenants and pay what they call janmibhogam. My friend is not right when he says that the North Malabar janmis consider it infra dig to hold kanam lands. After all, all are cultivators and if any class of tenants require protection more than any other, it is the cultivator of the garden lands. It is probable that very many of us are not acquainted with the cultivation of coconut gardens. It takes fifteen years in certain places before the trees bring forth fruits. When first the tree is planted, there are various obstacles in the way. For instance, cattle eat away the plants; there is the season that dries up the tree and it takes about four years for the tenant to bring up the tree to a stage."

[Mr. K. Krishnan]

Then, look at the amount of money that is spent and the capital expenditure incurred during the first five years; and also the interest on the amount has to be considered. Then, it is only after fifteen years that the tenant reaps his fruit and it is then that the landlord comes in and deprives the tenant of the fruit of his labour, for which he took fifteen years for rearing up the tree in the hope of getting some fruit. I ask my hon. Friend to consider whether when you bring up a child or any close relation and afterwards you are told 'I will give you thousand rupees for the child, will you give the child back to me' he would comply. After all, what is it that he gives? Is the full value given as compensation for the tenant when he is evicted of his holding? I say that my Friend is exaggerating the position too much when he says that compensation for improvements is a sufficient guarantee against non-eviction. If statistics are examined, you will find that North Malabar stands first in the number of original suits and that 75 per cent of those original suits are eviction suits. As a matter of fact it was on the advisability of introducing tenancy law that statistics were collected. On seeing the statistics it was found that it was one of the reasons why tenancy law was necessary for Malabar, because eviction seems rampant in Malabar. As melcharth was rampant in North Malabar, it was necessary to relieve the tenants against the oppression of the janmis. I, therefore, submit that the taluks which my hon. Friend wants to exclude should under no circumstances be excluded."

Mr. A. ACHUTAN :—"Sir, speaking on behalf of the tenants of Malabar, especially of North Malabar, who are kuzhikanamdars I may say that if there is any class of tenants who are entitled to legislative protection, it is the kuzhikanamdars, because they are a class of tenants who occupy a very important place in the scheme of agricultural system in Malabar. They have spent immense amount of capital; they have spent years of labour in improving and cultivating the soil; they have converted the sandy places into smiling gardens: and it is they who have made North Malabar so beautiful to look upon. If there is any class of tenants who require protection, it is such a class of kuzhikanamdars more than any other class. I have myself given notice of an amendment (No. 15 in the list) not to limit the scope of this Bill to the agricultural tenants alone, but I have tabled the amendment advisedly to extend the operation of this legislation to non-agricultural tenants as well. When I come to move that amendment, I will submit my views upon that subject in detail. But, as far as the kuzhikanamdars of North Malabar are concerned, to say that this legislation should not be made applicable to them, is not warranted by facts. If there is any class of tenants who are entitled to protection, it is the kuzhikanamdar through whose labours and through whose sweat of the brow the coffers of the janmis are filled. It is they who have helped the janmis to swell their coffers and to leave them out of consideration and to deny them the benefit of this legislation will prove very uncharitable and will be mischievous. Now, my Friend Mr. Krishnan has met all the important points raised on behalf of janmis. All that I wish to say is that there can be no distinction made between North Malabar and South Malabar. The tenants of Malabar are entitled to be protected against the landlords whose exorbitant demands have crushed them almost. When I come to deal with my amendment, I will have to say something more with regard to that. As regards this amendment, I can only say that the kuzhikanamdars are more entitled to this beneficial legislation than any other class of people."

24th September 1929]

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON :—"Mr. President, I am not able to support this amendment. I am afraid the hon. Mover has not examined the various points that arise from it. With his amendment, no doubt he has tried to elucidate all aspects of the question; he has tried to show that kanam in North Malabar is different from the kanam in South Malabar. He has also tried to show that kuzhikanamdar does not merit protection. But, I am afraid, Mr. Uppi has forgotten the fact that the great protagonist of the janmi class in North Malabar was a member of the Raghavayya Committee. There was Mr. Krishnan who was a representative of the tenants as a member of the Raghavayya Committee and their combined deliberations have been recorded in the report they have submitted to the Government. They say that if there is any class of tenants who merit protection, it is the kuzhikanamdar. With your permission, Sir, I may be allowed to quote one passage from that report on page 51—Paragraph 107: It is as follows:—

'In making Malabar pre-eminently the land of the coconut the part played by the kuzhikanam tenant has not been inconsiderable, and with the growing increase in the trade in copra and the consequent extension of garden cultivation, his services are likely to be required in an increasing measure by the owners of land, especially in North Malabar. In many cases, the present tenants or their sires are or were the persons who converted barren land into smiling gardens; in other cases they have come in after paying considerable sums of money to those who did so, and in not a few instances it is the owner of the garden that has inducted them into it not being able to take care of it himself. Anything which would make such an useful class of tenants economically more stable and efficient, requires careful consideration.'

"That is the opinion which was endorsed by Diwan Bahadur Narayana Kurup and that is the opinion arrived at by strangers like Messrs. Desikachari and Raghavayya who have no interest in Malabar."

Mr. BASHEER AHMAD SAYEED :—"Have you read paragraph 108?"

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON :—"You can read it if you want. There are very many other passages. As a matter of fact, kuzhikanamdar is responsible for the prosperity of North Malabar."

"Now, Sir, with reference to garden lands, anybody who has experience of Malabar and who has seen Malabar must be aware of the fact that coconut gardens lie along the sandy tracts adjoining the sea-coast and will frankly admit who is responsible for the planting of those trees. It is the kuzhikanamdar and nobody else. Again with reference to forest lands, that is the high-dar and nobody else. About seven miles from Badagara, it is the kuzhikanamdar that has made those forests. If you go along the coast, it is completely covered with those forests. Who has done all that? Is it the coconut gardens beautiful and splendid. Who has done all that? Is it the janmis that have done this? I have not heard that said of any janmi as yet. I will await what Mr. Uppi has got to say about it. If you go to the other parts of North Malabar, to Taliparamba where pepper is grown, you will find that the kuzhikanamdar has planted them. It is not the janmi that has planted those things. (Mr. K. Uppi Sahib: The janmi also.) Perhaps he has done it only in the wake of the kuzhikanamdar and that is only very rare. The janmi has no inclination to do it. So, if there is any class of tenants who require particular protection, it is the man who really worked in the land, who has made the land what it is and who has converted the barren lands into lands which can yield by the sweat of the brow and that is the kuzhikanamdar. To say that the kuzhikanamdar does not require protection, is monstrous I submit; nothing more monstrous can be imagined."

[Mr. K. P. Raman Menon]

"Then again, with reference to pepper gardens, in the course of the enquiry by the Raghavayya Committee, it was elicited both from the landlords and the tenants that so far as pepper gardens were concerned nobody wanted any protection. That is probably the reason why pepper gardens have been omitted from the scope of this Bill. I do not want to traverse the ground covered by Mr. Krishnan. I agree with all the matters that have been mentioned by him. I will only add that so far as my personal experience goes in the Kurumbranad taluk, three-fourths belong to the Kadathanad Raja and there are similar three or four janmis in North Malabar. Is it correct to say that there are no janmis there? I do not know if there are small proprietors elsewhere in the Kottayam taluk. There also so far as I am aware there are big Mappilla janmis, who own immense lands in those parts. So that, it is idle to say that in North Malabar there are a number of small janmis who are going to be adversely affected by this Bill. It is quite proper that Mr. Uppi should try to exclude small janmis by bringing forward an apt provision in the Bill. That will be the proper direction in which Mr. Uppi's activities are to be made, but not to exclude the whole of this district of North Malabar.

"Then again, where would you draw a line as regards North Malabar. There is already the official line drawn between North Malabar and South Malabar. For purposes of civil jurisdiction, North Malabar is supposed to be the district of North Malabar. So far as revenue jurisdiction is concerned, there is only one Collector for the whole district, North Malabar and South Malabar. Then, so far as divisional officers are concerned, Calicut and Kurumbranad are clubbed together. So far as revenue administration is concerned also it is the same. There are so many affinities between these taluks and how can you draw a line and say that Kurumbranad should be excluded and not Calicut? Now as regards the Calicut taluk itself, the conditions in the northern portion of the taluk are akin to those of North Malabar. It is therefore practically impossible to draw a line and it will lead to endless confusion to differentiate one portion from the other. If there are any particular aspects of the Bill or any particular principles of the Bill with reference to any particular tenure, which are perhaps detrimental to the interests of both the tenant and the landlord in North Malabar, then with reference to these, I submit, there will be time enough for him to see that these defects are corrected and the Bill amended. It is absolutely impractical to exclude the whole of North Malabar from the scope of the Bill and I would join in the protest against the exclusion of North Malabar."

* Mr. C. GOPALA MENON :—"I oppose this motion of Mr. Uppi Sahib that Malabar should be divided for the tenancy legislation into two halves, North and South Malabar. The arguments put forward by him can be met, when we come face to face with the very many amendments under the different clauses, of which the hon. Member has given notice and we can meet them by suitably amending those clauses. If the janmi representatives are to get themselves exempted from the operation of this Bill, because there are several contentious points on which they differ, it should not be their idea that a certain portion of the district should be exempted from the operation of the provisions of this Bill, but the right course should be that the clauses are to be so amended as to make them suitable to all parts of Malabar. With these remarks I oppose the motion."

24th September 1929]

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"Mr. President, it is not very surprising that Mr. Uppi Sahib should rise and ask this House to exclude North Malabar from the operation of this Bill. Those who know anything about this matter, know that the conditions prevailing in North Malabar are vastly different from the conditions prevailing in South Malabar. Mr. Uppi Sahib has given strong reasons in support of his case. It may be true that here and there in North Malabar a janmi owns extensive properties; but the majority of janmis are very poor. Their poverty and helplessness have been recognized by the Raghavayya Committee. Under the Improvement Act, heavy compensation has to be paid in respect of kuzhikanam lands. In the Bill drafted by the Raghavayya Committee as also in the present Bill there is a clause which allows the janmi to sue for renewal fees on the specific ground that the value of improvements is so high that the kuzhikanamdar could defy the janmi and challenge him to redeem. In North Malabar which is the land of coconut gardens the tenant requires no special protection. If you allow the provisions of this Bill to operate in respect of the kanams of North Malabar, the result will be to take away the janmi's right altogether. The rate of interest prescribed for kanartham is so high that nothing will be left for calculating the renewal fee.

"Now it may sound a little awkward to ask you for the exclusion of a large portion of the district. But since the Bill has very little relation to the actual condition prevailing in the district, it has become necessary to ask for this relief."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"Mr. President, Sir, I think in matters relating to Malabar Tenancy Legislation, we shall come across several difficult situations which are not quite easy of solution. I sincerely sympathise with my friend Mr. Uppi Sahib in some of the arguments which he advances for excluding North Malabar. My only submission is that the remedy he suggests is not the proper one. I agree with him when he says that the kanams of North Malabar are different in character from those of South Malabar. The Kanam in South Malabar is a tenure while the kanam in North Malabar is a mortgage. The word 'Kanam' means mortgage in North Malabar while the word 'kanam' is never used to denote mortgage in South Malabar. My friend, Mr. Achutan, the expert member nominated by Government, has himself given an amendment that the kanams of North Malabar ought to be excluded from the operation of this Bill. If my friend, Mr. Uppi Sahib had confined himself to those defects I would certainly have voted with him. But he has prescribed a very sweeping remedy for the evils that he finds in the Bill. There are few classes of people who are given protection under the Bill. There is the actual cultivator of paddy lands, who is called verumpattamdar, then there is the kuzhikanamdar, the cultivator of the garden land; the kudiiruppu holder, the occupier of the homestead; and there are the kanamdars who are tenure holders and not mortgage holders. The kanams of North Malabar, especially Chirakkal and Kottayam do not partake of the character of the kanams of South Malabar, and from the analysis made by the Raghavayya Committee with regard to the acreage that is cultivated by the kanamdars in the South and North Malabar it will be seen that it is a tenure in South Malabar but not so in North Malabar. It is very rarely that mortgages comprise an appreciable proportion of cultivated area in any country. In South Malabar a very large portion of the cultivated area is held under kanam tenure and they have been left unredeemed for centuries. On page 150 of the report the percentage of cultivators and cultivated area is given. And if you study the figures you will see that more than half of the land that is actually cultivated is cultivated by kanam tenants. In North Malabar, in Chirakkal it is $\frac{1}{4}$, in Kottayam it is $\frac{1}{5}$, in Wynad it is $\frac{1}{4}$, and as we come south to Kurumbanad it increases to $\frac{1}{3}$, in Calicut it is $\frac{1}{2}$, in Ernad it is $\frac{2}{3}$, and in Ponnani it is $\frac{1}{2}$. Thus you can see the kanams of North Malabar comprise comparatively small acreage, while they cover half or more than half the cultivated area in South Malabar. I can understand an amendment to exclude kanams of North Malabar, especially those of Chirakkal and Kottayam taluks. There may be a few kanams here and there which may be akin to the kanams in South Malabar but in a legislation like this, we shall have to ignore such exceptions. So far as the boundary of North and South Malabar is concerned, we may safely fix the Murad river as the line of demarcation. I know some of my tenant friends will not agree with me and I am sure Mr. Raman Menon does not see eye to eye with me on this point. So far as kanams are concerned that is my position. So far as kudiiruppu holders are concerned, there is no difference between North and South Malabar."

[Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar.]

4-15 p.m. Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—"A word of personal explanation, Sir. I am not against giving permanency to holders of kudiiruppus, but I only told the House how this Bill would work against the middle class people in North Malabar."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"You cannot possibly make a distinction between homesteads of North Malabar and homesteads of South Malabar. They are the same. Now, Sir, if you are to give protection by means of this Bill to homesteads in one place, you have to give that protection both to North Malabar and to South Malabar. The difficulty mentioned by my hon. Friend on this point was this. If there is a house in a small garden, say in the middle of it, and if you allow the owner of the homestead to purchase it, that will be a breaking up of the holding altogether. He said that there would be many difficulties. I think he is not right. You will see from the provisions of this Bill there are two classes of homesteads, (1) separate kudiiruppus and (2) separable kudiiruppus which can be separated from the holding and which are not essential for the enjoyment of the remaining portion. Suppose there is a big garden and there is a small house in the middle. The middle portion is always necessary for the enjoyment of the remaining portion. Hence such a kudiiruppu will not be separable. But suppose on the other hand there is a paramba with a house in the middle and the whole of the paramba is necessary for the enjoyment of the holding; that is what is called separate kudiiruppu. In the case of a separate kudiiruppu there is not an inch of ground more than what is absolutely necessary or essential for the enjoyment of the holding by the owner of the homestead. Such a separate kudiiruppu holder can apply for the purchase of the property. He has to give the full market value to the landlord. In such a case how does the landlord suffer? Only the man who has been occupying it for a long time loses his property, but if the tenant buys the property, the landlord gets the full market value of it. The man who has been in possession of the property and who built a house therein is given the option or the right to purchase the land. Therefore the janmi is not injured in any way. If on the other hand there are other properties also in the holding which cannot be enjoyed without the particular place where the homestead stands, then that man has no right to purchase at all under this Bill. So that the janmi is not deprived of his property.

[24th September 1929]

"Then, I come to cultivating tenants. My friend said nothing on that. He did not say that the paddy lands in North Malabar should be excluded. The tenants of such lands are called customary tenants. Then, we come to kuzhikanam. It is with reference to this that he raised the argument that the middle classes would be ruined and wiped away. Many of the difficulties mentioned by him are not difficulties that are really in existence. My friend says that most of these people are holders of small items of property. I understand Mr. Raman Menon to say that the remedy lies not in moving this amendment but in excluding owners of small acreages of janmi lands from the operation of this Act. If you exclude the kuzhikanams of North Malabar from the operation of this Bill, I think you will be doing a very great disservice to the tenants of North Malabar. The only difficulty that my hon. Friend mentioned was that it will be impossible for the janmi to evict these tenants on payments of high value for improvements. But may I say, Sir, that no janmi has come forward up to now stating that he had such a difficulty and that legislation should be passed to remedy it? We have never heard of janmis coming forward and saying that they want legislation. Only the tenants have been crying aloud. What has existed till now, will exist hereafter also. Some protection is given to the janmi also under this Bill. I mention this simply to remove the fears of Mr. Uppi Sahib. Now, the renewal fee and rent are made a charge upon the property. When he brings a suit for eviction and when he obtains a decree and finds himself unable to deposit the value of improvements and recover the property, he has the right of sale. He can apply for the sale of the property and then sell the tenant's interest and thereby solve the problem. Once a janmi files a suit for eviction and the tenant applies for renewal and a renewal is granted then every twelfth year afterwards the janmi is entitled to file a suit for renewal fee. Could he do that now? Till now, the North Malabar janmis could not have dreamt of recovering the renewal fee alone by a suit. Now the janmi can sue for renewal fee alone without being driven to a suit for eviction. That is another advantage

"There is another matter referred to by Mr. Uppi Sahib. Mr. Kotieth Krishnan has not correctly understood it, if I may say so, and that is about fair rent and kuzhikanam fee. That I will explain on another occasion as it will be out of place to explain it now."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"With all these reservations, if the hon. Member takes up one hour now, and then if he reverts to these matters to-morrow, I am afraid much time will be taken up in the discussion of this Bill."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"I think, Sir, in a matter like this, it is better to explain. I bow to your ruling, Sir, and shall . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I am most disinclined to stop any speech, but at the same time I leave it to hon. Members to see that the Bill is finished at least in ten days."

[24th September 1929]

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"Therefore it is that I do not elaborately argue about that aspect now. I thought it essential to refer to these points because a good deal of misunderstanding exists on the matter. Therefore, I submit, Sir, that the amendment moved by my friend Mr. Uppi Sahib to exclude North Malabar from the operation of this Bill cannot be accepted."

* Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—"Sir, in spite of all that has been said by my hon. Friends Mr. Raman Menon and Mr. Kotieth Krishnan, there is a good deal of difference between North Malabar and South Malabar. Only people who have been living there for a long time can realize the differences that actually exist. It was stated by Mr. Raman Menon that he deprecated the idea of dividing the district into two parts, and make this law applicable only to one part. I say the district is already treated as two districts. Except the Department of Revenue, all the other departments have got two district officers. There are two district judges, two district superintendents of police, etc. In the matter of physical features, land tenure and every other thing there is vast difference between the two districts. So, there is vast difference in all these things. Some words used by the Members in speaking on this motion may look to most of the Members here like a mantram or word of enchantment, I mean words like kuzhikanam, etc. I may say there is nothing extraordinary about them. Kuzhikanam tenant means a tenant as any other tenant in any other district who has been permitted to make improvements in gardens. The term only means a man who improves the garden. If kuzhikanam tenants require protection, similar protection must be given in other districts also. But there is this one difference. The tenant is in a much better position in Malabar. The tenant of a garden gets under the Malabar Tenants Compensation for Improvements Act a much more liberal compensation than the tenants in other districts of the Presidency. Therefore, he in no way requires better treatment than the tenants in other parts of the Presidency. Another word that was many times repeated and which many Members might not have understood is the word kanam. Kanam means simply a mortgage with possession, a transfer by way of mortgage or a usufructuary mortgage and in North Malabar the kanams are usufructuary mortgages just as you have in any other district or any other place. In South Malabar the kanam is an advance made by the tenant to the landlord perhaps by way of security for the rent. In the case of a land yielding a thousand rupees, the kanam amount will be about ten or twenty rupees. It may have been taken as security for the due payment of rent by the tenant; so it is not at all a mortgage. It has been admitted by Mr. Madhavan Nayar that there is vast difference between the kanam tenure in North Malabar and that in South Malabar. In many other respects also there is vast difference, and I do not see why they should not be treated as separate districts. So I think it will be quite necessary, in order to do justice to the tenants and janmis of North Malabar to exclude the three taluks of Chirakkal, Kottayam and Kurumbranad from the operation of this Bill."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that in clause 1 for the words 'whole of the district of Malabar', the words 'taluks of Palghat, Walluvanad, Ernad, Ponnani and Calicut of the Malabar district' be substituted."

The amendment was declared lost.

The amendment was negatived.

* The hon the PRESIDENT :—"As regards amendment No. 2 of the Muppil Nayar to sub-clause (3), I do not think I can select it, because I think it is unnecessary and unimportant."

* The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALLAPPARA :—"Amendment Nos. 2 and 3 should be read together, Sir. That is my amendment. That was also the amendment which the Government wanted to introduce."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I have said that the amendment No. 2 need not be moved. The hon. Member may move the next amendment for the omission of the proviso to sub-clause (3)."

[24th September 1929]

* The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA :—" I move—

'That the proviso to sub-clause (3) be deleted.'

"The object of my amendment is that the Act should not be made applicable to suits which have been already filed, i.e., on or before 30th July 1929. Because many janmis have filed suits not knowing that this Bill would be passed; otherwise it would be a great hardship to them after having spent money for court-fees and other expenditure connected with suits. Therefore, it will be a real grievance to the janmis to give retrospective effect to this clause as it stands."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Mr. President, Sir, in seconding this amendment, it strikes me that there is really no case made out for giving retrospective effect to this Bill. There was no evidence before the Select Committee, which made the alteration, to show that any considerable number of suits had been filed. The Government themselves did not think it was necessary to have such a provision when they brought forward their Bill. It is true that there have been suits between landlord and tenant in Malabar for half a century. That is no reason why people who have acquired rights and who are trying to put those rights into operation should be deprived of their opportunity. If it is suggested that the people who have gone to the court have done so with the idea of defeating the objects of this Bill, my answer is this: considering the history of this legislation in the last Council, I think people were perfectly justified in believing that the Government were not quite serious as they say they are. A Bill that had been passed by the Council was vetoed. The Government have come out with another Bill. One does not know whether it will be passed. The Bill is exactly on the same lines as the one vetoed, and it was quite natural if the people of Malabar did not take the Government seriously. I think, therefore, that to apply the provisions of this Bill to suits already filed is to inflict an injury which is not at all justified.

"Now, retrospective legislation may be justified under very exceptional circumstances. No valid reason has been suggested for taking so unusual a step. The conditions in Malabar are much the same as before the publication of this Bill. Is it suggested that there has been a considerable number of melcharths or eviction suits? It may be that a certain number of suits have been filed. But even these might have been filed under compelling necessity. Now, are you going to say that because you are introducing an Act now, the new provisions shall apply to all those suits which are pending? I think it will work a great hardship. There are many provisions in this Bill which will turn Malabar upside down. Do not go back and strike at people who had not contemplated such a disaster as this."

* Mr. A. ACHUTAN :—" Sir, as regards this amendment, I may say that retrospective effect is given to the enactment not on extraneous circumstances, not on account of grounds that are outside the scope and intent of the Act; but, generally, retrospective effect to an enactment is given on account of the fact that the legislation contemplated has in itself elements to justify the giving of retrospective effect. There are enactments which are expressly stated to be retrospective in effect, and there are enactments which are expressly stated to be not retrospective. Those enactments which are expressly stated to be retrospective are enactments which are in their character explanatory and declaratory of the rights and liabilities of the parties affected by the legislation, and those enactments which are not stated to be retrospective are enactments which created for the first time some new right or liability which was unknown before that particular legislation. Now, here we have to consider whether this legislation is fundamentally different from enactments to which retrospective effect is given. To my mind, this legislation is declaratory and explanatory of the rights and liabilities of the parties affected by this legislation. It only declares and explains what the relations between the landlord and tenant have been, and are now, and are destined to be hereafter. It does not create as regards those rights and liabilities a new status, or introduce a new right. But it only explains the rights and liabilities of the parties concerned. If it were otherwise, and if the legislation aimed at creating new rights and liabilities, then there might be some substantial reason for not giving retrospective effect.

"For the reason that I have already submitted, namely, that this Bill is only declaratory of the existing rights, I say that giving retrospective effect to this Bill need not violate any principles of sound legislation.

"I, therefore, oppose the amendment."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—" Now, without making a long speech, I shall mention one circumstance, which the House may consider before voting upon this amendment. The whole object of this legislation can be defeated by every janmi spending a few rupees between the time of the publication of the Bill and that of the Act coming into force by getting certain documents of the melcharth, created and registered in the meanwhile. That is why this provision was introduced by the Select Committee. As a matter of fact, in Cochin in a place called Vadukancheri, what happened was that within fifteen days of the passing of the Cochin Tenant Regulation about 600 suits were filed. A melcharth has simply to be created by spending two rupees before the Act comes into force, and then by filing a suit they can recover the property. It is only to defeat that, this proviso was introduced. It is very, very essential that this proviso should be retained. I, therefore, strongly and vehemently oppose this amendment."

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON :—" Now, Sir, I have to oppose this amendment. No doubt, it is against ordinary procedure to give retrospective effect. But, as Mr. Achutan remarked, when the legislation is supposed to be declaratory of existing rights, then there is no harm being done to anybody. Then, again, turning to the report of the Raghavayya Committee, it will be observed that eviction suits have been filed with a view to defeat the provisions contemplated in a Bill of this kind.

"As a matter of fact I cannot take it seriously when Mr. Unni said that this Bill was not wanted by the janmis or tenants of Malabar. Seeing the grave situation in Malabar, Government came to the rescue of the tenants and appointed a committee at huge expense, and their final recommendation are now before us in the nature of a Bill. To say that all this trouble and expense was a huge hoax would be rather straining the language too far. When as a matter of fact evidence was being collected and there was apprehension that the janmis might be deprived of their rights, they rushed to courts, and there has been inrush of litigation in all the courts. So at least from the date of the publication, the Bill should have effect."

The amendment was put and negatived.

"Provided that in all suits for eviction instituted after the 30th July 1929 and pending in the court of first instance on the date when this Act comes into force"

"Sir, this amendment is intended to bring out more clearly the intention of the Select Committee's amendment. I understand that there may be some doubt as to whether the amendment passed by the Select Committee would apply to cases which are pending in an appellate court. It was our intention that it should not apply to such cases, because it would turn the appellate court into a court of first instance with a restricted power of appeal. I beg to move this amendment."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"I second it."

[24th September 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Mr. Saldanha has to move his amendment in a slightly amended form."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"The present amendment of the Revenue Member is practically putting correctly what was intended. But my amendment is for excluding appeals as well as execution petitions. I beg to move my amendment:—

'Substitute for the words "provided that in all original suits for eviction instituted after this 30th July 1929" the words "provided that in all suits for eviction with appeals thereon or applications for execution of decrees thereon, instituted before or after the 30th July 1929".'

"I shall give the reasons for this amendment very briefly. The legislation as to the Malabar tenants has been due for a long time. For the last fifty years agitation has been going on for tenancy legislation, and all the commissions appointed by Government, independent of individual opinions, have been for some legislation in favour of the tenants. The object of the legislation was to give fixity of tenure. Suits for eviction have been increasing. At last a Bill was brought for the first time and passed by this Council to give relief to the tenants. This Bill is unique in the whole history of India. It was vetoed by His Excellency the Governor and for reasons which I consider were inadequate. The principle of that Bill has been accepted by Government and is embodied even in this Bill. That principle would be accepted by all fair-minded men. Such legislation should come one day or other, because the world force is too great to be resisted even by the mighty janmis or even by the mighty British Empire. Things are moving rapidly all round and Malabar is also moving with the times. Suits as shown from the figures in the report have been increasing rapidly, and a number of suits just at present have been filed and have come to my notice. I can give the names and figures to-morrow. There cannot be any doubt that a large number of tenants have already to face litigation for eviction, and their condition is very parlous and perilous. There are suits just now which are filed before the 30th July, the date on which this Bill is published and they are pending in the courts. In their case it is but fair that the new legislation should be enforced. I admit, Sir, that in the case of an ordinary legislation which would affect the rights of parties seriously retrospective effect should not be given. But there are cases in which when legislation had been under consideration for a long time such retrospective effect had been given. When appeals are pending the action is pending, and therefore the cause of action is pending (laughter). This Bill is only a continuation of the previous Bill, and the appeal is also a continuation of the action and the cause of action brought about by it. Therefore, when an appeal is pending or application for execution is pending, I think the substantive rights which are declared by this Act should also be enforced. It is a natural right which the tenants are entitled to. People in Malabar have suffered somewhat too long on account of what I may call over-landlordism, on account of the unheard of domination of the janmis. Therefore, in these cases, the new law as to substantive rights should be applied. I do not dwell upon this point. 5 p.m. I hope the House by a majority will pass this."

Mr. ALLADI KRISHNASWAMI AYYAR:—"Mr. President, I find it difficult to appreciate how the rights and obligations of parties can be governed in the course of execution proceedings. I can understand the provision being extended to appeals. If the hon. Member wants it he may extend it to appeals, but it is very difficult to see how the rights and obligations could be regulated with reference to execution proceedings. There is a decree passed and the court is giving effect to it. It is not called upon to adjudicate the rights and obligations of the parties at the execution stage."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Does the hon. Member, after the advice of the Advocate-General, confine himself to appeals?"

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"Yes, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Then his amendment would be appropriate in the following form: 'To insert after the word "eviction" the words "and appeals against decrees in such suits" and omit the words "in the court of the first instance"'. That will be the proper form of his amendment."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"I propose the question in that form."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"And the debate will be resumed to-morrow."

"Before the House is adjourned, as I had to select the amendments to-day, I wish to inform hon. Members that any amendment that is sent after 3 p.m. the previous day would not be selected by me under Standing Order 32 (6). Therefore, I suggest that those who want to send notices of amendments for consideration on a particular day must do so so as to reach the Secretary's Office before 3 p.m. the previous day. Of course I have no objection to make exceptions in special cases whenever an amendment represents a compromise between the parties. This course would give me time to select the amendments to be moved in order."

"The Council will now adjourn and re-assemble to-morrow at 11 a.m."

[Vide answer to question No. 403 asked by Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 24th September 1929, page 12 supra.]

G.O. No. 416, Development, dated 8th March 1929.

READ—the following paper:—

G.O. No. 1600, Development, dated 24th September 1928.

Order—No. 416, Development, dated 8th March 1929.

The Government have had under their consideration the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Agriculture and the manner in which these recommendations may most conveniently be examined and proposals based on them submitted to Government for consideration with reference to existing conditions, their comparative degrees of urgency and the financial resources at the disposal of Government. A marked feature of the report and its recommendations is the extent to which it is recognized that there are many matters affecting the improvement and advancement of agriculture which imply or necessitate the co-ordination of the work of more than one department both as regards their technical and scientific aspect and in respect of the practical considerations which would influence or determine any concrete proposals for carrying them into effect. It is mainly on the departments which are at present administratively controlled through the Development Secretariat that the responsibility of devising measures for giving effect to the recommendations of the Royal Commission will fall and it is in respect of these departments that problems of co-ordination and joint action will principally arise. There are also important problems which will involve the co-operation of the departments of Public Instruction and Public Health. Questions in which other departments of the administration are concerned may arise from time to time, but for the present the problem which the Government have had under examination is whether means could not be adopted to bring the special departments referred to above into closer contact and collaboration in the task of examining the proposals of the Royal Commission in the light of conditions in this Presidency with special regard to matters in which more than one department is concerned.

2. After full consideration Government have decided to constitute a Committee on the following lines:—

His Excellency the Governor—President.
The hon. the Minister for Development.
The hon. the Finance Member.
The Secretary to Government, Development Department.
The Director of Agriculture.
The Director of Veterinary Services.
The Registrar of Co-operative Societies.
The Director of Industries.
The Director of Fisheries.

[24th September 1929]

The Director of Public Instruction.

The Director of Public Health and four non-officials to be nominated by His Excellency the Governor.

The Secretary to Government, Development Department, will be the Secretary to the Committee.

3. The headquarters of Government for the time being will be the headquarters of the Committee and non-official members will be eligible for travelling allowance at the following rates for attending the meetings of the Committee:—

Railway journeys—One first-class and one third-class fare.

Road journeys—Mileage at 12 annas a mile.

Halts at headquarters—Rs. 7-8-0 a day.

The grant of travelling allowance will be subject to the provisions of the ordinary Madras Travelling Allowance Rules.

The expenditure will be met from the provision under the head "22. R.C. a. General Administration—Civil Secretariats—v. Development Department—Allowances—Voted—Travelling allowances".

4. The Government will now proceed to lay down the scope and functions of the Committee—

(1) The Committee will be a purely advisory and consultative body.

(2) It will not be concerned with questions affecting the internal administration, personnel, discipline or terms of service in any department.

(3) Its main functions will be to examine the recommendations of the Royal Commission, more especially those affecting more than one department and to place before Government its suggestions as to the manner and extent to which these recommendations are applicable to the Madras Presidency and the measures by which effect may be given to them.

(4) Proposals affecting the revenues of the Government will not be within its scope and should any issue affecting these revenues incidentally arise it will be at once referred to the department which is responsible for safeguarding and collecting these revenues.

5. As regards the procedure of the Committee it will normally be regulated on the following lines. The meetings will be held from time to time on such dates and at such places as His Excellency the President may determine. The agenda for each meeting will be prepared by the Secretary to the Committee with the approval of His Excellency the President. Each item on the agenda will be taken up for discussion and with reference to such preliminary general conclusions as may be arrived at the Committee will decide the points on which further information is required whether in the form of statistics or a statement of facts or of the past history of any particular question under discussion. It will be the duty of the Secretary to procure the necessary information and lay it before the Committee. Such notes will be of a non-controversial nature and designed solely to give all information that may be required. With reference to the information supplied and the results of its own deliberations the Committee will then frame its recommendations to be transmitted to the Government by the Secretary to the Committee. It will be open to the Committee at any stage to form sub-committees of its own members for the examination of particular recommendations or points and to co-opt other officials or non-officials to assist either the main Committee or a particular sub-committee in its discussions.

[24th September 1929]

6. When non-officials are so co-opted they will come under the rules governing the travelling allowance of the non-official members of the Committee itself.

Minutes of the Meeting of the Madras Agricultural Advisory Committee held on 14th February 1929 at 5-30 p.m. at Government House.

PRESENT :

His Excellency the Governor—President.

The hon. the Minister for Development.

The hon. the Finance Member.

The Director of Veterinary Services, Madras.

The Chief Conservator of Forests.

The Director of Agriculture.

The Director of Industries.

The Director of Fisheries.

The Director of Public Health.

The Secretary to Government, Development Department.

Agenda.

(1) Proposal for standardizing forest grazing fees and improving the grazing facilities generally.

(2) Proposal by the Director of Veterinary Services, Madras, that all cattle breeding and cattle work should be transferred to the Veterinary Department from the Agricultural Department.

(3) To consider the recommendations made in Chapter IV of the Royal Commission's report—particularly the following:—

(3) The collation and publication of all the available information regarding the composition and characteristics of Indian soils (paragraph 76).

(5) and (6) The necessity for the appointment of a Soil Physics Expert (paragraphs 77 and 78).

(12) The expansion of subsidized manurial experimental stations on the lines of that now being started at Marteru (paragraphs 80 and 81).

(24) The necessity for the establishment of activated sludge plants (paragraph 84).

(29) The possibility of remission of water charges for growing green dressing crops (paragraph 86).

[24th September 1929]

(31) The possibility of extending the oil crushing industry (paragraph 87).

(36) An investigation of the economics of the bone crushing industry (paragraph 91).

(39) Railway concessions on fertilizer transport (paragraph 95).

(42) Hybridization work (paragraph 97).

1. It was resolved to drop the first item on agenda—Proposal for standardizing forest grazing fees, etc.

The Director of Agriculture also suggested the formation of a sub-committee to examine items (1) and (2) which had much in common, in a comprehensive manner.

As it was considered both possible and desirable to consider item (2) by itself, and without recourse to any assistance from departments other than the three concerned, namely, Forests, Agriculture and Veterinary, it was decided to take up the consideration of item (2) by itself.

For this purpose, the Director of Veterinary Services, Madras, and the Director of Agriculture were requested to forward to the Secretary to the Committee memoranda giving such previous history of the proposal as was available in the official records of their respective departments, and the grounds on which they would urge for or against the proposal.

When the main issue, as to which of these two departments is best equipped to undertake the duties pertaining to cattle breeding and live-stock generally, has been settled, it is proposed to take up the question of grazing which is the only aspect of this question in which the Forest Department is concerned.

2. Recommendations contained in Chapter IV of the Royal Commission's report—

(3) Collation and publication of information, already available, regarding composition and characteristics of Indian soils.

The Director of Agriculture pointed out that a very considerable amount of work had already been done on this subject, but that the results of this work had never been collected and published.

The hon. the Finance Member then drew attention to the very comprehensive classification of soils available in the settlement reports of districts and observed that to collect all this into one treatise dealing with the subject, would entail an amount of work rather out of proportion to its value.

The hon. the President held that publication of the results of Research was part of the duties of any Central Committee for Research and that this question may wait the formation of such a committee.

(5) and (6) As this item—the appointment of a Soil Physics Expert—had already been included in the scheme of reorganization submitted by the Director of Agriculture, it was resolved not to consider it now.

(12) Subsidized Manurial Experimental Stations—

The Director of Agriculture explained briefly the nature of such stations, which would be under the control and in the charge of the Agricultural Department. The collaborating firms would pay for the actual cost of the trials on a pro rata basis. The only cost to Government would be in connexion with staff. An extra assistant would be needed on each such station opened. The firms participating in the scheme were desirous, partly to improve their own manures by the help of local expert experience with them, but chiefly to market manures with a definite and authoritative recommendation behind them.

24th September 1929]

The hon. the Finance Member thought that there was no objection to the scheme from any financial point of view, as Government was not asked to pay for the manure used. It was resolved that the formation of such stations might with advantage be encouraged by Government.

(29) Postponed.

(31) The Director of Industries was asked to submit a memorandum relating to the previous history of this question.

The Director of Agriculture agreed to collaborate in its preparation, as the question had an agricultural as well as a purely industrial aspect.

(36) The Director of Industries was asked to prepare a note on this.

(39) As railways had already offered concessions, and as the question of Railway Transport was really a central subject, it was resolved not to go further into the question.

(42) Hybridization work.—Briefly discussed.

The following questions were discussed in connexion with grazing:—

(1) Whether the Forest Department had ever made any efforts to improve grazing in forests by the introduction either of fresh varieties of grass, or by improving the strains of existing grass.

The Chief Conservator referred to attempts made in the Silent Valley and in Tinnevely (Tirukurangudi Hills, near Mancholai and Navalkadai) to introduce Guinea grass. He was asked to submit a brief memorandum containing such information as was available in his department on that subject.

The Forest Panchayat Officer informed the Committee that apart from improvement of water facilities in panchayat reserves, and the preservation of existing grass-supplies by a more judicious system of regulating grazing in such reserves nothing had hitherto been done.

(2) With regard to certain departmental objections that had been raised regarding the status of this Committee reference was made to the fact that its functions were purely of an advisory nature, as had been indicated in its Resolution No. 7, dated 11th January 1929.

The President further pointed out that no information should be asked for from other departments of Government until such information was essential with reference to some specific question before the Committee. The Development Department had committed an error in procedure in asking for information from other departments, merely on the basis of the Commission's recommendations, before such information was really needed for the purposes of the Committee.

A meeting of the Agricultural Advisory Committee was held at the Secretariat, Stonehouse Hill, on 14th May 1929 at 11-30 a.m. His Excellency the Governor presided.

PRESENT:

The hon. the Finance Member.
The hon. the Minister for Development.
The Director of Agriculture, Madras.

[24th September 1929]

The Director of Veterinary Services, Madras.
 The Director of Public Instruction.
 The Chief Conservator of Forests.
 The Director of Industries.
 The Director of Public Health.
 The Secretary to Government, Local Self-Government Department.
 M.R.Ry. Rao Sahib V. Krishna Menon Avargal.
 M.R.Ry. B. P. Sessa Reddi Garu.
 M.R.Ry. Rao Bahadur K. S. Venkatarama Ayyar Avargal, B.A.
 The Under Secretary to Government, Development Department.

Agenda for the meeting—

(1) Proposal of the Director of Veterinary Services that all cattle-breeding and cattle-work should be transferred from the Agricultural Department to the Veterinary Department.

(2) Grazing.—Whether the Forest Department has ever made any efforts to improve grazing in forests by the introduction either of fresh varieties of grass or by improving the strains of existing grass.

(3) The establishment in all provinces of regulated markets on the Berar system as modified by the Bombay legislation is recommended.

The system of regulated markets should be extended to products other than cotton.

Regulated markets should only be established under provincial legislation.

[(Paragraphs 329 and 330 at pages 390 to 392 of the Royal Commission's Report.)]

(4) The desirability of appointing an officer of the grade of Deputy Director of Agriculture to work under the Registrar of Co-operative Societies as recommended by the Madras Committee on Co-operation might be examined. (Chapter XIII—Recommendation No. 38, based on paragraph 388 at pages 472–473 of the Report of the Royal Commission on Agriculture.)

(5) Agenda for the June meeting—

His Excellency the President called upon Mr. Ware to open discussion on the first subject on the agenda. After a detailed discussion, in which most of the members present took part as to the merits of the proposal, the Committee were finally of opinion that for the present there was no case for changing the system now existing.

The second subject on the agenda was then taken up for discussion. Mr. Richmond stated that nothing effective had been done so far in the Forest department to improve the quality of grass grown in grazing areas. He challenged the note submitted by the Director of Agriculture and said that he thought that the note could not be considered as accurate. Mr. Anstead admitted his note was subject to correction and that it was meant to help the Chief Conservator with such facts as would be useful to him in drawing up the note submitted by him. After some discussion it was decided to call upon the Forest department to prepare a note for the Committee showing how the existing grazing areas could be better utilized than at present for grazing purposes.

24th September 1929]

The third subject was then taken up and it was decided that a draft Bill should be prepared to introduce a general Act for examination by the Committee and that if such an Act be introduced its application should be confined to cotton in the first place.

The fourth subject, as it was not ready for discussion, was postponed to the next meeting.

It was decided that the next meeting should be held on Monday, the 17th June 1929.

Minutes of the meeting of the Agricultural Advisory Committee held at the Secretariat, Stonehouse Hill, at 12 noon on 15th June 1929.

A meeting of the Agricultural Advisory Committee was held at the Secretariat, Stonehouse Hill, on 15th June 1929 at 12 noon. His Excellency the Governor presided.

The hon. the Finance Member.
 The hon. the Minister for Development.
 The Director of Agriculture.
 The Registrar of Co-operative Societies.
 The Director of Public Instruction.
 The Director of Industries.
 The Director of Veterinary Services.
 The Director of Public Health.
 M.Ry. B. P. Sessa Reddi Garu.
 " Rao Sahib V. Krishna Menon Avargal.
 " Rao Bahadur K. S. Venkatarama Ayyar Avargal.
 " The Under Secretary to Government, Development Department.

The first subject on the agenda was—

Item 1—Grazing in forests—

Continuation of the discussion at the May meeting. Consideration of further points on which notes were called for at that meeting.

This subject was adjourned as the note called for by the Committee from the Chief Conservator was not ready.

Item 2.—The desirability of appointing an officer of the grade of Deputy Director of Agriculture to work under the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, as recommended by the Madras Committee on Co-operation, might be examined (Chapter XIII, recommendation No. 38, based on paragraph 388 at pages 472–473 of the Report of the Royal Commission on Agriculture).

It was agreed that a Deputy Director of Agriculture may be lent to the Co-operative department for a period of two years as an experimental measure, that his activities should be confined to cotton in the first instance and that at the end of the two years a full report on both the purely agricultural side of his activities and on the problem of marketing should be submitted to the Committee.

Item 3.—Seeds, seedling plants and cuttings of exotic varieties of indigenous species imported for experimental sowing or planting should be exempted from import duty.

[24th September 1929]

The Director of Agriculture was for removing the duty on barley to start with. The hon. the Finance Member pointed out that it would be better to get the exemption for all seeds.

The necessity for exemption from duty was agreed upon. It was suggested that the matter may be taken up with the Council of Agricultural Research. As this is a subject in which almost all the provinces, if not all Simla, was asked to ascertain at Simla and report as to the procedure to be adopted in cases like this.

Item 4.—No new variety should be put out unless it has been thoroughly well established that it possesses marked advantages over those already grown.

The Committee emphasized the importance as recommended by the Royal Commission on Agriculture of not introducing new varieties unless it has been thoroughly well established that it possesses marked advantages over those already grown and also that improved varieties should be thoroughly tested in the conditions under which they would be grown by the cultivator, a policy which the Madras Agricultural department has already adopted and desires to extend.

Item 5.—In all provinces in which pumping and boring operations are in progress on a considerable scale, the engineering section should be divided into two branches, one for work on agricultural machinery and implements and the other for pumping and boring.

Before taking up this item, His Excellency the President wished to know whether immediately after the Industries department had finished their work in boring operations the Agricultural department were stepping in and developing further the improvements effected by the former department. The Director of Industries said that this was not being done and that in future this would be carried out.

As action on these lines is being taken at present in this province no further action is considered necessary on these two items.

Item 6.—The preparation of suitable text-books for use in primary schools in rural areas is a matter of the greatest importance. It is essential that Text-Book Committee should be so constituted as to command confidence.

The Director of Public Instruction explained the functions of the Text-Book Committee and stated that there were very few books of the kind contemplated. A special officer would be required to prepare books of the kind contemplated.

Finally the Committee were of opinion that it was undesirable to attempt teaching agriculture to pupils who usually would be below twelve years and that no action need be taken on the recommendation.

Item 7.—The only method by which the advantages of the supply of combined nitrogen available in the large groups of oil seeds grown in India can be secured is by the natural development of the oil-crushing industry and the possibilities of an extension of the industry should be investigated.

The Director of Industries pointed out that the only way to retain the oil-seed manure would be to supply better methods of extracting oil so that the export of the by-products would be discouraged. The hon. the Finance

[24th September 1929]

Member stated that about twenty years ago the groundnut crop was practically unknown and that it was because there was foreign demand for the same that the ryots have taken to its cultivation on a large scale. If export was discouraged, it would induce the ryots to abandon this cultivation.

It was finally decided that it was best to leave the matter alone.

Item 8.—A thorough investigation of the economics of the bone-crushing industry is required before the establishment of bone-crushing factories at suitable centres can be recommended.

Mr. Venkatarama Ayyar instanced the case of the industry at Shiyali which turned out to be a failure.

The Director of Agriculture stated that, while about twenty years ago the price of bone-meal was Rs. 56, it is now about Rs. 120. He pointed out that if the price could be reduced to Rs. 85 there would be a ready demand for it from the ryots who could only then consider it as an economic proposition.

The Registrar of Co-operative Societies said that it was possible for some of the societies to purchase bones and sell them as bone-meal for about Rs. 85. The difficulty he found was in obtaining a demand for the same. The Director of Agriculture suggested raising export duty on these so that it may be prevented from leaving the country. He also pointed out that the price was being raised by the middlemen who were really being benefited by the high price obtained outside.

Hon'ble Finance Member pointed out that it would be difficult to prevent a ryot from selling the bone outside for Rs. 125 and compel him to utilize it for manure locally. He pointed out the fallacy in the remedy suggested inasmuch as it would be not Rs. 85, but Rs. 125 worth of manure that is used and accordingly cannot be considered an economic proposition.

It was agreed that nothing could be done to establish bone-crushing factories so long as the price of the bone-meal remained high.

Mr. V. Krishna Menon enquired whether all the members of the Committee, including the non-official members, were permitted to suggest subjects for discussion. This was agreed to.

Before the Committee adjourned, Mr. K. S. Venkatarama Ayyar on behalf of the Committee thanked His Excellency the Governor, who is shortly leaving the Presidency, for the great interest he has evinced in the agricultural development of this province, one of the results of which was the formation of this Committee.

His Excellency the President thanked the speaker and said that he was really glad to have been able to do something for agriculture in this province.

The meeting then terminated.

[SUBJECT 1.—Proposals of the Director of Agriculture for increasing the number of breeding bulls in the Presidency.]

The scheme of the Director of Agriculture is generally approved. Enquiry will be made of the Collector of Guntur whether there will be administrative difficulties in trying as an experiment the proposals made by the Deputy Director of Agriculture, Livestock, for the control of breeding among cattle grazing in the reserved forests of the Palnad taluk of the Guntur district.

[SUBJECT 2.—Agricultural demonstrations.]

The system under which the cultivator's land is used for demonstration was agreed to be the better one. Discussion of the subject was not however concluded when the meeting adjourned.

[Vide answer to question No. 412 asked by Mr. C. Gopala Menon at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 24th September 1929, page 21 supra.]

Copy of letter from M.R.Ry. R. Suryanarayana Rao, Honorary Joint Secretary, Prohibition League, Calicut, to the President, the Excise Licensing Board, Calicut, dated the 25th November 1928.

I understand that the Board is meeting on the 29th instant to consider objections for the sites settled for the arrack shops. I have the honour to bring to your Board's kind notice the fact that the arrack shop situated in the Robinson road is located on a very objectionable site. I may beg leave to point out that its location violates all the rules governing the location of liquor shops. There are two factories, the Standard Silk Weaving Factory and Mr. M. N. Nair's Weaving Factory, very near to it. The Radha Picture Palace is not very far from it, the distance being even less than a furlong. Besides, the main market of the town is within a distance of a few yards. I also understand, there is a bus-stand just opposite to the arrack shop. If I have rightly understood the policy of the Government, no liquor shops should be located within a distance of two furlongs from any cheri. The scavengers' quarters where the poor live can certainly be called a cheri, though all the dirt, etc., associated with the cheris may not be seen.

In these circumstances, I request your Board to change the site of the arrack shop and locate it in any other place without violating the rules governing the location of liquor shops.

Copy of letter from the Third Member, Board of Revenue and Commissioner of Excise, D. No. 576 Abk., dated 21st March 1929.

Proceedings.—At its second meeting held on 29th November 1928 under rule 13 (1) (b), the Licensing Board for the Calicut Municipality considered the objections put forth by the Honorary Secretary of the Prohibition League but decided to make no change in the location of arrack shop No. 3 in view of the fact that no better site could be secured within the notified limits and that a police man would be standing 'on point duty' within 20 yards of the shop. The objection of the Secretary to the Prohibition League is to the proximity of the shop to two factories, a picture palace, a bus-stand, a market and cheri. There is no recognized bus-stand just opposite to the shop as alleged by the Secretary to the Prohibition League though buses occasionally halt there to pick up passengers; the factories and the picture palace are situated on other roads and the site of arrack shop No. 3 is not in any way so close to them as to be considered objectionable. The market also is on a different road, while the so-called cheri is only a scavengers' line consisting of ten small huts.

2. The site of arrack shop No. 3 cannot be considered an ideal one for the location of an arrack shop. But that is not to be expected, for, in towns, places of public resort are generally spread over the whole area. Proximity to such places can be avoided only as far as possible. In this case the difficulty felt is that the boundaries approved by the Excise Licensing Board for the current lease are so narrow that they do not admit of the selection of a more suitable site. The Honorary Secretary to the League suggests the closure of the shop. The shop pays a monthly rental of Rs. 6,000 and is the most important one in the municipality. The sales in it being considerable, its closure will lead to very heavy congestion in some of the other shops in the municipality if not to unlicensed sales in the localities the demand in which is now being met from arrack shop No. 3. For these reasons and also in view of the final decision of the Licensing Board to make no change in the number of shops, at the meeting under rule 13 (1) (b) of the rules, the Collector has been directed to retain the shop for the current lease and to take steps in consultation with the Excise Licensing Board to have wider limits prescribed for the shop so as to enable the selection of a better site for the lease 1930-31.

[Vide answer to question No. 422 asked by Mr. A. Ranganatha Mudaliyar at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 24th September 1929, page 29 supra.]

Copy of letter from the Director of Public Instruction, R C. No. 231-F/26, dated the 28th April 1928, to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Law and Education Department.

[SUBJECT.—Alternative course in Agriculture in select Higher Elementary and Middle schools—Interim Report of the Committee submitted.]

With reference to Government Memorandum No. 2530-B-2, dated 3rd December 1927, requesting me to expedite the submission to Government of proposals for the introduction of agriculture as an alternative course in selected higher elementary and middle schools in this Presidency, I have the honour to submit herewith a copy of the Committee's Interim Report and to request that Government will be pleased to favour me with early orders on the issues raised therein.

2. I support the views of the Committee on the points raised in the report. It is also significant that as a result of experience the policy in the Punjab is changing.

[24th September 1929]

3. In paragraph 9 of the report, references are made to the latest syllabus of work prescribed in Bombay for standards V to VII and to Mr. Statham's note—copies of which are enclosed for reference.

4. The problem in Madras seems to me to be complicated as compared with the Punjab as in the latter there is not the same diversity of cropping systems and languages.

Interim Report.

Your Committee have made a tentative selection of ten higher elementary schools where the experiment might suitably be tried.

2. Before proceeding further, we should like an authoritative pronouncement on the following question :—

I. Whether the elements of agriculture are to be studied and practised in a school garden or on a school farm.

The decision in this regard will affect materially the details of the scheme, e.g., the initial and recurring cost of the scheme, the number of teachers that can be trained at a time, the syllabus of work. This applies both to the schools themselves and to the training course at the Agricultural College, Coimbatore. The views of your Committee on this subject are as follows :—

3. If agriculture qua agriculture, as a form of vocational training, is to be taught, the land acquired for the purpose must be sufficient in extent to make it an economic proposition, the aim being inter alia to show that farming by enlightened methods can be carried on at a profit. It is an accepted fact that an economic holding should not be less than five acres (except possibly in the case of paddy where it may be put at three acres) and that below this figure the holding is uneconomic. The evils of the existing fragmentation of farming land are too well known to need reiteration here, and we are of opinion that such fragmentation should be carefully avoided in school farms, if agriculture is to be taught and practised as technical agriculture. When it is considered that ordinarily more than one crop will be grown in each school, e.g., in the Board Higher Elementary school, Avanashi, Coimbatore district, one of the schools selected, cotton, sugar, chillies and tobacco would probably be cultivated—it will be realized that the amount of land needed for agriculture as a practical economic proposition will be more than can be managed by a teacher and the pupils of the higher standards of an elementary school (the strength of pupils in the Board Higher Elementary school, Avanashi, is Standard VI-12, Standard VII-14, Standard VIII-14).

4. There is also the fact that certain operations—ploughing, mhoting, harvesting—are beyond the physical capacity of school children. A considerable amount of casual labour will be required, which, apart from the expense involved, will be difficult to secure at seasons when labour is generally in demand on the fields.

5. Another difficulty also arises if practical agriculture is to be taught on a school farm. The school master is at once placed at a disadvantage with the ryots, the parents of his boys. They are skilled and very practical farmers, the school master is not. All he has had is a short course at the Agricultural College. He is not likely to be able to conduct a model farm and the ryot will criticize his methods and his yields. If, on the other hand, the school master is teaching nature study and the principles underlying agriculture, then he is on his own ground and cannot be criticised in the same way, for the ryot knows nothing about this. One of us who has recently paid a visit to the Punjab understood from conversations he had with the Director of Agriculture and the hon. Minister for Development that this difficulty has already been realized in that Province and that in consequence they are turning from the idea of school farms to school gardens in that Province.

6. On the other hand, it is possible to teach the elements of agriculture within the smaller limits of a school garden. A school garden would be divided into plots, one plot being assigned to each pupil. On this plot would be grown such garden vegetables as tomatoes, radishes, melons, brinjals, beans, yams, onions, etc., and flowers. It would also be possible to teach the principles underlying the raising of such field crops, as cotton, chillies, tobacco, cholam, fodder, grasses, etc., while not possible to actually raise these crops on an economic scale. Garden work of this kind has the advantage that it can be done by means of such simple tools as the mamutty, rake, etc., thus dispensing with the need of cattle ploughs and casual labour.

7. Our proposals in outline are that each pupil should be provided with a plot of land not less than 15' x 9' with extra plots for nurseries and demonstration purposes, plus a school orchard of about 1 acre for the cultivation of fruits, which would be worked not in plots but by the class as a whole.

8. The advantages attaching to this scheme are—

(1) The assignment of a particular plot of ground to each pupil ensures the personal and continued attention of the pupil to each plant grown on the plot throughout its life. This we believe to be the first essential in any scheme of practical work on the land, whether regarded from the educational or agricultural standpoint. Individual work of this kind would not be so easy to secure on a school farm worked by a class of pupils as a whole and—as would have to be the case—by different classes of pupils alternately.

(2) It dispenses with the need for outside labour and this ensures that the work is actually done by teacher and pupil.

(3) School gardens are far less costly than school farms and can be developed to a far greater extent throughout the Presidency than is possible in the case of farms.

9. A reference to the latest syllabus of work prescribed in Bombay will show that the practical work done in standard V consists in the cultivation of vegetables and flowers and one field crop on a guntha plot (576 square feet) per pupil, in standard VI as in standard V plus seed selection, in standard VII as in standard VI plus simple carpentry and smithy work if possible. Agriculture as agriculture appears to be largely a class room study. In the Punjab the scheme is one of 'practical agriculture'. This, however, is a vague definition, but nothing more definite is discoverable in the connected papers as to its scope and details. However, Mr. Statham, points out that the Educational Department of the Punjab does not claim to be teaching scientific agriculture as a vocation. We also note that in the Punjab there are approximately 27 middle schools with farms and 76 with gardens. It may, therefore, be reasonably implied that in Bombay the whole, and in the Punjab the larger part, of practical school work on the land is garden work and not farm work. We are of opinion that the scheme for Madras should be confined to school gardens, and request that an authoritative decision be given on this point.

II. Training of teachers.

10. It would appear to be the intention that teachers of higher elementary or secondary grade should be trained at the Government Agricultural College, Coimbatore. If this is the case, the instruction must be imparted through the medium of one language—English or a vernacular language. If English, the course should be confined to teachers of the secondary grade and those teachers of the Higher Elementary grade whose knowledge of English is sufficient to enable them to receive instruction in that language.

11. If a vernacular language is to be the medium of instruction, admission to the training course must be confined to teachers speaking one particular language, for it is not possible to make arrangements at Coimbatore to teach through the medium of more than one vernacular language at a time. Up to the present we have proceeded on this assumption, and have made a tentative selection of 10 schools in the Tamil country. The selection, however, may not be acceptable to Government in which case the only alternative is to teach the course in English.

12. The nature and scope of the course which it is proposed to provide for the training of teachers at the Agricultural College, Coimbatore, necessarily depends upon the decision arrived at on the points raised in paragraphs 2 to 8 of this report. If school gardens are to be adopted with the object of teaching nature study and merely the principles underlying agriculture, which is what your Committee recommends, then the course to be given at the Agricultural College, Coimbatore, can be a general course for everybody and it can be taught in English. This simplifies matters very considerably. The teachers will be given a course which will include the management of such school gardens, and the handling of garden crops such as vegetables, the rudiments of plant physiology, entomology, botany, etc., with an indication of how these can be developed and their application to the general principles of agriculture.

13. If, on the other hand, a system of school farms is to be adopted implying as it does farming practice and the raising of particular crops on an economic basis, difficulties at once arise. Such a course is much more difficult to teach. In the first place, it cannot be taught entirely in English and four separate vernaculars will have to be catered for. These four vernacular courses cannot all be taught at the same time and the objection foreshadowed in paragraph 10 arises. Again teachers from different areas will require instruction in different crops and the course can no longer be a general one common to all, e.g., the teacher from the west coast area will not require instruction in cotton, a crop he never sees, while a teacher from the Tinnevely area will require instruction in cotton as well as paddy and so on.

14. Consequently, it will be very difficult to devise a course for a number of teachers drawn from different localities, and in all probability it would be necessary to teach one course one year and a different course the next year over a cycle of years. More staff will be needed to cope with this and it will be much more expensive. Moreover, we very much doubt whether sufficient instruction could be imparted in a year to teachers, who will presumably know little or nothing about farming practice to begin with to enable them to teach their pupils how to raise a field crop successfully and economically. In fact, this is an added argument for school gardens and not school farms.

15. If the school farm system is to be adopted, it will be necessary to consider whether training centres should not be opened in each of the main language centres of the presidency in order to impart an intensive course of teaching and whether this should not be undertaken by the Educational Department and not the Agricultural Department.

16. It is perhaps worth mentioning that in the Punjab there is not that diversity of languages and cropping systems which is characteristic of Madras.

17. Your Committee, therefore, request that definite orders may be issued to them on what basis Government desire them to further consider this scheme as it is impossible for them to proceed further with an estimate of costs or to draw up a syllabus for a training course until the main principles put forward in this report are quite definitely decided upon.

Extract from Mr. Statham's note dated 9th June 1927.

I should like next to bring into prominent notice the fact that the Education Department of the Punjab does not claim even now to be teaching scientific agriculture as a vocation or to be turning out trained farmers and this in spite of the fact that there are regular classes for agriculture with examinations and certificates. This point was made clear in an order of the Punjab Government (C.M. No. 77, dated the 19th February 1919), and circulated to all Commissioners, Deputy Commissioners and Inspectors of Schools in the Punjab. This order states that "it was decided to include and to provide for teaching in agriculture in the ordinary vernacular middle schools rather than to start separate agricultural schools of a special type. In the first place, separate agricultural schools are expensive; in the second place, specialized training for boys below the age of 17 is premature and, above all, a sound and suitable measure of general education should be the basis of all specialized and vocational training. The aim of the Punjab Government is, therefore, to enrich the middle school course in rural areas by the inclusion of agricultural training and thus to bring it more in keeping with the environment of the pupils. And the object is to use agriculture as a means of mental discipline and training and as an important accessory to the general subjects taught in those schools."

In an order of the Government of the Punjab (C.M. No. 1125 G.S.), dated the 20th September 1923, C.M. No. 77, was reviewed and it was stated that "the Minister is also of opinion that the school courses should be reviewed. The Committee has recommended that the present teaching of agriculture might well be expanded into a new subject of rural science which would include the existing course in agriculture, theoretical as well as practical, would substitute agriculture for pure science and would embrace subjects such as elementary civics, hygiene, sanitation, physical geography and the principles of co-operation. A revised course along this general curriculum is under consideration." The non-vocational aspect of the teaching of agriculture in the Punjab is further borne out by the use that is being made of school gardens. Owing to the expense involved, the Punjab Government were not prepared to finance more than a limited number of school farms, but they were prepared to encourage the development of comparatively large school gardens in a large number of schools. There are, I believe, at the moment, approximately 27 middle schools with farms and 75 middle schools with gardens, in all cases the farms and the gardens being used as basis for the teaching of rural science and as a means of keeping the pupils in touch with their rural environment. A further important point to note is that the majority of the instructors teaching agriculture in the schools in the Punjab come themselves from the agricultural class.

G.O. Mis. No. 1455, Education, dated 9th July 1928.

Read—the following:—

G.O. No. 1619, Education, dated 25th August 1926.

From the Director of Public Instruction, R.C. No. 231-F./26, dated 28th April 1928.

Order—Mis. No. 1455, Education, dated 9th July 1928.

With his letter read above the Director of Public Instruction submits a copy of the interim report of the Committee appointed by him to frame detailed proposals for the introduction of instruction in the elements of agriculture in higher elementary and middle schools in this Presidency and requests the orders of Government on certain issues raised therein.

The questions raised by the Committee are—

(1) whether the elements of agriculture should be studied and practised in a school garden or on a school farm, and

(2) whether the teachers to be trained for imparting instruction in Agriculture should be taught through the medium of English or the vernacular.

The Government are pleased to pass the following orders on these questions:

2. Question (1)—School gardens or school farms to be provided.—The Government agree generally with the committee that school gardens would suffice for the purpose in view. They however consider that farms of about three acres each may be opened as is the case in the Punjab in places where the establishment of such farms is feasible.

3. Question (2)—Training of teachers.—The teachers to be trained are to be employed in higher elementary and middle schools where the medium of instruction is the mother-tongue of the pupils. It is therefore desirable that these teachers should receive their training through the medium of the vernacular. To this end the Government consider that classes for the training of teachers may be established in the different language areas.

4. The Director of Public Instruction is requested to proceed with the framing of the detailed proposals called for in G.O. No. 1619, dated 25th August 1926, and submit them to Government as early as possible.

(By order of the Government, Ministry of Education and Local Self-Government)

Secretary to Government.

BILL No. 4 OF 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Madras City Police Act, 1888.

To

THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR OF MADRAS.

WE, the undersigned members of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill further to amend the Madras City Police Act, 1888 (Bill No. 4 of 1929), have the honour to submit the following report.

[24th September 1929]

2. The Bill was published in the Fort St. George Gazette in English on the 22nd January 1929, in Tamil on the 22nd January 1929, and in Telugu on the 29th January 1929.

3. The Select Committee met on the following days, viz., 15th, 16th and 27th February 1929, to consider the provisions of the Bill.

4. We are of opinion that the provisions of the Bill are generally suitable for the purpose of carrying out the object of the Bill, namely, the suppression of 'bucket shops' in the City of Madras, and we have, therefore, not made any drastic changes in the Bill.

5. Clause 2.—We have thought it necessary to impose on the permitted class of wagering and betting with a book-maker referred to in sub-clause (b) of the definition of 'gaming' in clause 2 of the Bill, the further restriction that the wagering or betting shall take place in a licensed enclosure in the same way as wagering or betting referred to in sub-clause (a) of the same definition. This has necessitated the insertion in sub-clause (b) of an item similar to item (ii) of sub-clause (a). The provision in sub-clause (b), which restricts the issue of a licence by the Commissioner of Police only to a book-maker who holds licence from the authority having control of the race in respect of which the wagering or betting takes place, has been inserted as a proviso to clause 3, and consequently it has been omitted in clause (b).

6. Clause 3.—As section 36 of the Madras City Police Act, 1888, provides for the issue of licences by the Commissioner upon such conditions as subject to the control and direction of the Governor in Council, he may prescribe and as clause 4 of this Bill makes that section applicable to the new section 35-A inserted in the Act by this Bill, we have deemed it unnecessary to retain the words 'except in accordance with the conditions of a licence issued for the purpose by the Commissioner'. In their place, we have, following the language of sections 34 and 35, inserted the words 'without a licence from the Commissioner'. As according to the scheme of the Bill it is the place of betting or wagering that is licensed and not wagering or betting itself, we have substituted for the words 'no such licence shall be issued except for such wagering or betting as would not be gaming as defined in section 3' the following words, namely, 'provided that no such licence shall be issued so as to authorize any enclosure, room or place being opened, kept, or used for such wagering or betting as would be gaming as defined in section 3'. The reason for the addition of the second proviso has already been explained.

7. Clause 4.—We have deleted paragraph 2 of this clause as we consider it to be redundant.

8. Clause 5.—This clause, as at present worded, has the effect of fixing for the opening, keeping or using of an enclosure, room or place without licence under the new section 35-A, the same penalty as for using an enclosed place or building requiring a licence under section 34 or 35 without such licence. We consider that an offence against the provisions of section 35-A is very much more serious than one against the provisions of section 34 or 35 and that a fine of Rs. 50 per diem in respect of an offence under section 35-A will not be sufficiently deterrent. We accordingly fix a fine of Rs. 500 as the punishment for which a person guilty of an offence under section 35-A shall be liable for every day of use of premises without a licence for the purpose of gaming on horse races.

9. Clauses 11, 12 and 14 provide for penalties respectively for opening, keeping or using a common gaming house or for gaming or being found in a common gaming house or for gambling in a public street, place or thoroughfare. As this Bill is intended only to deal with the particular evil of gaming in respect of horse races and is not intended to affect other kinds of gaming already dealt with by the Madras City Police Act, we have not considered it necessary to touch those sections of the Act. Clauses 11, 12 and 14 have therefore been omitted.

10. Clause 15 of the Bill has the effect of raising the maximum fee leviable under section 77 of the City Police Act for a licence from Rs. 2 to Rs. 20. While we consider it unnecessary to enhance the fee leviable by the Commissioner of Police on licences other than those issued under the new section 35-A, we consider that a fee of Rs. 20 for a licence under that section will be quite inadequate and have provided that the maximum fee leviable for a licence under the section should be Rs. 100.

[24th September 1929]

11. A copy of the Bill as amended by us is appended. We consider that the changes introduced by the Committee are not of such importance as to necessitate the republication of the Bill in the Gazette.

NOTE.

I am not wholly in favour of the system of licensing established in this Bill, and am of the opinion that, owing to its restriction to municipal limits, bucket-shop operations will merely be transferred to areas immediately beyond the City boundaries if the Bill becomes Law. I would have preferred a Gaming Bill applicable to the whole presidency, somewhat on the lines of the Bengal enactments. As this committee was appointed, however, to consider a Bill to amend the Madras City Police Act, its scope was limited, and within that scope, and accepting the principle of licensing for the sake of compromise, I consider the amended Bill as satisfactory.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

On further reflection I have serious doubts as to whether Bill No. 4 of 1929 as revised in the Select Committee will serve to carry out effectively its purpose of suppressing bucket-shops in the City of Madras.

2. The plan of construction of the framers of the original draft amending Bill is clear from section 2 thereof. This section differentiates between such wagering or betting relating to a horse race as it is proposed to permit subject to licence, viz., (a) wagering or betting in an enclosure, room or place on the date on which the race is run directly between one individual in person and another and by a contrivance (totalizator) and (b) between persons wagering and a bookmaker authorized by the Race Club (authorized bookmaker), from all other forms of wegering or betting relating to a horse race (bucket-shops). The section brings the operations of the bucket-shops and the bucket-shop touts under the definition of 'gaming' and excepts the licensed totalizator and the authorized bookmaker therefrom. The intention, therefore, clearly was to bring the bucket-shops within the definition of a 'common gaming house' the keeping or the using of which is punished by section 45 of the existing City Police Act, and the customers thereof by section 46 of the existing City Police Act, and to make the bucket-shop street touts liable to the penalty prescribed in section 72 of the existing Act which penalizes 'gaming' in any public street, road or thoroughfare.

The defect in the original draft Bill, as I read it, was that the definition of a 'common gaming house' in section 3 of the existing Act, which requires the concerned enclosure, room or place to be kept or used for the profit or gain of the person owning or occupying, using or keeping it, was left unaltered. The City bucket-shops describe themselves as clubs and they have rolls of membership in which each customer is entered as a member and nominally at least, his membership is acquired by payment of a membership subscription. The bucket-shop keepers pose as mere agents of other turf operators and as accepting and carrying out betting transactions without profit to themselves and for the benefit of the so-called club members. This is as they make things appear, but the facts are known to be otherwise. They are actually making profits out of the club transactions, but it is impossible to adduce satisfactory proof of this in the criminal courts. Having defined bucket-shop business as 'gaming' therefore, it was still necessary by amendment of the definition of 'common gaming house' to bring the bucket-shops definitely and clearly under that definition. Some such words as the following added at the end of the existing definition of 'Common gaming house' would, I think, meet the case:—"Or which is kept or used for such wagering or betting relating to a horse race as is gaming under the following definition of 'gaming'."

3. It was taken for granted in Committee that the penalties in sub-sections 37 (2) and 40 (2) would apply to bucket-shops, but these sub-sections apply in fact only to places or premises requiring licences under the new sub-section 35 (a), whereas bucket-shops in which wagering and betting which is 'gaming' are carried on are imperatively and expressly precluded from being licensed under sub-section 35 (a). It seems more than doubtful whether the courts will be prepared to hold that places expressly precluded from obtaining licences are places 'required to take out licences,' and the obvious intention of the definition of 'gaming' in section 2 of the Amending Act would be directly against any such interpretation. My doubt whether the new sub-sections 37 (2) and 40 (2) could be used for the prosecution of bucket-shop keepers and their customers is very strong indeed.

As regards the bucket-shop street touts, it was assumed in Committee that they also would be punishable under section 37 (2) inasmuch as any particular place in the public streets, etc., is 'a place' as specified in the new section 35 (a). It seems again a matter for serious doubt whether a 'place' as specified in section 35 (a) does not signify a particular place in contra-distinction to the placeless business of a moving tout who does not restrict himself to a particular place, and the fact that the punishment of such an itinerant tout is specifically provided for in section 72 of the Act, goes strongly to fortify this doubt. Whether the courts would be legally justified in punishing or willing to punish such itinerant offenders by straining the language of section 35 (a) with this object, when the offences concerned are specifically penalized under another section, viz., 72, is also a matter to be considered.

4. It has been suggested to me that the difficulty as regards the prosecution of the bucket-shop keepers under sections 37 (2) and 40 (2) could be met by substituting in the proposed section 37 (a) for the words 'requiring a licence under section 35 (a) without having obtained the licence as required therein' the words 'without a licence.' My doubt as regards this is that section 35 (a) and sub-sections 37 (2) and 40 (2) were obviously designed to deal respectively with unlicensed betting and wagering such as do not come within the new definition of 'gaming' and with irregularities by licence-holders, and it would therefore be contrary to the whole design and intention of the Bill to use these sections for dealing with other forms of betting and wagering which are clearly intended to be excluded by careful definition from their scope. Moreover, such use of these sections would surely render nugatory and irrational the careful definition of 'gaming' which precedes them in section 2 of the Amending Bill.

5. As the Bill stands revised, the street tout would be punishable under section 72 of the existing Act, but it has to be pointed out that the provision in section 14 of the original draft Bill subjecting him to enhanced penalties—the section considered necessary to make the law effective—has been exercised by the Select Committee.

6. If the new law is to prove effective in carrying out its object, the definition of 'common gaming house' in section 3 of the Madras City Police Act should, I think, be amended on the lines indicated by me above and sections 11, 12 and 14 of the draft Amending Bill which have been excised in Select Committee should be restored. This would be in conformity with the structure of the Amending Bill and would fulfil the design and intentions of its framers.

C. B. CUNNINGHAM

NOTE.

Though the Bill is professedly for suppression of bucket-shops, in point of fact, it provides for regulation, which is all to the good, seeing that so long as races flourish, betting is bound to exist and to regulate an evil and keep under control is better than driving it underground and allowing it to run amok outside the city limits without any control whatever.

[24th September 1929]

S. N. DORAI RAJAH.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

The Statement of Objects and Reasons sets out that the Government have accepted the views of the committee appointed by it to the effect that mere control of bucket-shops is not practicable and that the object of legislation shall be to suppress them altogether. The Bill as now brought and considered by the Select Committee is not designed to suppress the bucket-shops altogether but makes provision for exercising control over them and to vest in the Commissioner of Police discretionary power. It is presumed that the Commissioner will have regard to the views set out in the Statement of Objects and Reasons and refuse to grant the licences provided in the Bill to bucket-shops. It is unwise to depend upon the discretion of a particular official however eminent he may be and however imbued a particular holder of the office at any point in time with a perfect sense of responsibility, may be.

Under the Bill the present bucket-shops will masquerade under the name of book-maker and the mischief will continue with a gained status and thrive thereby.

An amending Bill containing a comprehensive definition of bucket-shops and an interdictory clause while operating as a direct legislative mandate for their suppression will avoid loopholes by way of construction and interpretation of lengthy provisions proposed in the present Bill.

If any drafting difficulty stands in the way which does not obviously exist, in amending the Police Act, a separate short Bill may be introduced to serve the intended object of suppressing bucket-shops whatever form it may take, after exercise of ingenuity.

[24th September 1929]

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

I agree to the minute of dissent of Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar.

12th March 1929.

C. D. APPAVU.

NOTE.

I sign this report as I fear even this measure to control wagering and betting might not be given effect to. I would like complete and entire suppression of wagering and betting in respect of horse-races outside the City of Madras. This, I think, can be done by defining the common gaming-house so as to include the bucket-shops. This nomenclature is, I now see, easily definable.

12th March 1929. S. VENKATACHALAM CHETTI.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

I have carefully perused the report signed by my hon. Colleagues on the Select Committee and I regret I have to differ from them on vital matters concerning the Bill.

It is common knowledge and is accepted on all hands that, within the last few years, what are known as 'bucket-shops' have sprung up in very large numbers in the City of Madras and the result has been disastrous from the point of view of the public. These bucket-shops have been the cause of the ruin of thousands of poor persons, who unable to resist the temptations afforded by these gambling houses, have been led to waste all their money and even borrow from money-lenders at heavy rates of interest and get steeped into debts. It is unnecessary to dilate this point any further.

The Madras Legislative Council has been agitating for the last several years and questions were frequently asked on the floor of the House, urging the abolition of these bucket-shops. The Government appointed a Committee under the Chairmanship of Mr. P. L. Moore to enquire into the question of how best to extinguish this evil. The Committee reported that "mere control of bucket-shops was not practicable and that the object of legislation should be to suppress them altogether."

But what is the effect of the present Bill, which according to the Statement of Objects and Reasons published with the Bill is designed 'to carry out the recommendations of the Committee?' In my opinion the Bill will be quite ineffective to deal with the evil in question—in fact what has been done is to legalize gambling in horse-racing through the medium of these bucket-shops, provided the keeper of a bucket-shop obtains a licence from the Commissioner of Police. This Bill does not in any way extinguish the evil; it does not help the poor man, who falls a victim to the temptation. The Bill, therefore, will be quite useless in effect, if the object of legislation is to root out the evil.

The divergence between the Statement of Objects and Reasons and the principle of the Bill will be quite obvious, on a mere reading of the two. It is stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons that the Bill is designed to 'suppress' these bucket-shops, but the provisions of the Bill go no further than to regulate their working, under a licence from the Commissioner of Police. If I understand the meaning of the word 'suppression' as it is generally used, it means putting down or extinguishment; and while the object of the Bill is declared to be the suppression of the bucket-shops, it really gives them statutory recognition.

I am unable to understand how the present Bill will even have the effect of restraining the activities of the persons who run these bucket-shops. Every person who declares himself to be the keeper of a bucket-shop and pays the licence fee is entitled to obtain a licence from the Commissioner of Police. What are the checks imposed by the Bill in order to ensure that fraud and deceit will not be practised on the public, the existence of which is recognized in the Statement of Objects and Reasons? I fail to see any. I cannot, therefore, agree with my colleagues that this Bill will be effective to check, much less to root out, this evil.

For the above reason, I am strongly of opinion that these bucket-shops should be abolished altogether. Any legislation which only tries to lop off the branches without cutting up the roots of the tree, will not have the desired effect of extinguishing its growth. I, therefore, feel that it is bad enough that gambling on race horse is allowed within the race course; it need not, it ought not, in the interests of the public, to be allowed to go on outside it, in every street of the City of Madras. Hence it is my opinion that section 35-A should be restricted in its scope only to the race course and it should be made a penal offence for any person to open, keep or use any place, other than that set apart for the purpose by the stewards of a race club, authorized by the Local Government to conduct horse races. The Bengal Public Gaming (Amendment) Act of 1913 contains such a provision and, though Calcutta is a larger and richer city than Madras and though the horse races there are of a higher order, the Bengal Legislature has thought it fit to penalize all kinds of betting and gambling including horse race, outside the precincts of the race course. Why should we not copy the law in Bengal in this matter?

I desire to make in the next place the following suggestion:—

The Bill should be made applicable to a radius of 10 miles from the limits of the City of Madras. There are provisions in the District Municipalities Act preventing the existence of slaughter-houses within 3 miles from the limits of a municipality. I cannot understand why a similar provision should not be incorporated in this Bill. There is nothing to prevent any number of bucket-shops coming into existence in places like Saidapet, Aminjikarai, and Tiruvottiyur and, with the existence of facilities for quick transport by motor buses, it will not be difficult for people to go and gamble at the bucket-shops in these places. As a matter of fact, many of them have already sprung up. And, remembering that distance and discomfort are no obstacles to a gambler's course, I do not see how the Hon'ble the Home Member can assert that the bucket-shops outside the City limits will not thrive. Nor do I see any constitutional difficulty in making such a provision in this Bill. If the local legislature has power to legislate for the area outside the City limits, then there is nothing to prevent its laying down that for purposes of this Bill, the City of Madras shall extend from Ennore to St. Thomas' Mount.

These are then the conclusions that I have come to. I would only conclude by reiterating what I have said before, namely, that unless drastic measures are taken by legislation, no object worth the name can be achieved.

BILL No. 4 OF 1929.

[As amended by the Select Committee.]

A Bill further to amend the Madras City Police Act, 1888.

Preamble

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras City Police Act, 1888, for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. (a) This Act may be called the Madras City Police (Amendment) Act, 1929.

Commencement.

(b) It shall come into force on such date as the Local Government may, by notification, appoint.

2. In section 3 of the Madras City Police Act, 1888 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the definition of 'common gaming-house', the following definitions shall be inserted, namely:—

'Gaming' does not include a lottery but includes wagering or betting except when such wagering or betting relates to a horse-race and takes place—

(a) (i) on the date on which such race is to be run;
(ii) in an enclosure, room or place set apart for the purpose under a licence issued by the Commissioner to a person specified in such licence in respect of such enclosure, room or place, and

(iii) between such licensee on the one hand and any individual in person acting entirely for himself on the other hand in such manner and by such contrivance as may be permitted by such licence, or

(b) (i) in an enclosure, room or place set apart for the purpose under a licence issued by the Commissioner, to a book-maker specified in such licence in respect of such enclosure, room or place, and

(ii) directly between the person wagering or betting and the book-maker holding the licence.

Explanation.—Any transaction by which a person in any capacity whatever employs another or engages for another in any capacity whatever to wager or bet whether with such licensee or book-maker or with any other person, even if it only be for the purpose of saving time or cost shall be deemed to be gaming, provided however that such licensee or book-maker may employ servants and any person may accept service with such licensee or book-maker for wagering or betting in such manner or by such contrivance as may be permitted by such licence:

'Instruments of gaming' include an article used as a subject or means of, or for the purpose of carrying on or facilitating, or in connection with gaming and any books, lists, tickets, forms or other documents used or intended to be used as a register or record or evidence of gaming.

3. After section 35 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"35-A. No enclosure, room or place, whether public or private, shall be opened, kept or used for wagering or betting upon a horse-race without a licence from the Commissioner:

Provided that no such licence shall be issued so as to authorize any enclosure, room or place, being opened, kept or used for such wagering or betting as would be gaming as defined in section 3:

Provided further that no such licence shall be granted by the Commissioner to a book-maker other than one holding a licence from the authority having control over the race in respect of which the wagering or betting takes place; nor shall any such licence have force beyond the time of the expiration of the latter licence."

4. In section 36 of the said Act for the words "the last two preceding sections", the words and figures 'section 34, 35 or 35-A' shall be substituted.

5. (1) Section 37 of the said Act shall be re-numbered as section 37(1).

(2) The following shall be added as sub-section, 37(2):—

"(2) Whoever opens, keeps or uses or permits to be opened, kept or used any enclosure, room or place requiring a licence under section 35-A without having obtained a licence as required therein

'Instruments of gaming.'

Insertion of a new section 35-A in Madras Act III of 1888.

Places used for wagering or betting upon horse-races to be licensed.

Amendment of section 36, Madras Act III of 1888.

Amendment of section 37, Madras Act III of 1888.

[24th September 1929]

shall be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for every day on which such enclosure, room or place is so opened, kept or used."

Amendment
of section 38,
Madras Act
III of 1888.

6. In section 38 of the said Act, for the words 'closed place or building' the word 'place' and for the word and figures 'or 35' the word and figures '35 or 35-A' shall be substituted.

Amendment
of section 39,
Madras Act
III of 1888.

7. In section 39 of the said Act, for the word and figures 'and 35' the figures and word '35 and 35-A' shall be substituted.

Amendment
of section 40,
Madras Act
III of 1888.

8. Section 40 of the said Act shall be re-numbered as sub-section (1) of that section and to the same section, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

- "(2) Whoever having been convicted of an offence
(a) punishable under sub-section (1) and
(b) relating to the places referred to in section 35-A or the licences granted under that section is again guilty of such offence shall be liable on conviction for every such subsequent offence to imprisonment not exceeding six months or to fine or to both."

Amendment
of sections 42
and 43,
Madras Act
III of 1888.

9. In sections 42 and 43 of the said Act, for the words "enclosed place or building" wherever they occur, the word 'place' shall be substituted.

Amendment
of section 44,
Madras Act
III of 1888.

10. In section 44 of the said Act, after the word 'wager' the word 'bet' shall be inserted.

Amendment
of section 51,
Madras Act
III of 1888.

11. In section 51 of the said Act, after the word 'wagers' the word 'bets' and after the word 'wagering' the words 'or betting' shall be inserted.

Amendment
of section 77,
Madras Act
III of 1888.

12. In section 77 of the said Act—

(1) after the words "this Act" the words "other than a licence under section 35-A" shall be added; and

(2) after the words "Governor in Council" at the end of the words "and for every licence under section 35-A the Commissioner shall levy a fee of Rs. 100" shall be added.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS

Labour

Compensation to the families of the deceased workmen reported by the Chief Inspector of Factories.

* 455 Q.—MR. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) the number of cases out of the 12 fatal accidents referred to in the report of the Chief Inspector of Factories for 1928, in which compensation was granted to the families of the deceased;

(b) the total amount so paid; and

(c) why no compensation was granted in the remaining cases, if any?

A.—(a) Compensation was granted in 11 cases.

(b) Rs. 4,123-4-0.

(c) In the remaining case no application for compensation was filed before the Commissioner by a dependent of the deceased and so the Commissioner could take no action.

Amelioration of the condition of depressed classes in Malabar plantations.

* 456 Q.—MR. A. B. SHETTY: With reference to my question No. 352 answered on 12th August 1929, regarding the condition of depressed classes working in plantations, will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have called for information in regard to clauses (a) and (b) of the question and if so, what it is; and

(b) whether the Labour Department proposes to do anything to ameliorate the condition of the Adi-Dravidas in the plantations?

A.—(a) The Government have not considered it necessary to call for information.

(b) The Labour Department has no jurisdiction in Coorg and Mysore.

Police

Alleged shadowing of Congress leaders and workers in Kistna and other districts.

* 457 Q.—MR. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is not a fact that policemen are engaged in shadowing Congress leaders and workers and following the latter whenever they go to other places;

[25th September 1929]

(b) what is the total additional expenditure to the Government from 1st January 1929 till 30th June 1929 on account of the police being employed for this purpose;

(c) the names of persons who are thus shadowed and followed for political reasons by the police in Kistna, Guntur, West Godavari and East Godavari districts; and

(d) whether the Government have issued any general instructions in this matter to the various District Superintendents of Police or whether they have left the whole of this business to the discretion of the latter?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The Government have no information.

(d) The Government have issued no instructions. The hon. Member is referred to the answer given to question No. 204 asked at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 10th August 1929.

MR. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know, with reference to clause (b) of this question, whether the Government are not aware of the extent of the additional expenditure involved in engaging police for the shadowing business?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"There is no additional expenditure involved and therefore there is no information."

MR. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, whether by posting the police who are engaged in this shadowing business on some other duty, the expenditure incurred on that other business could not be saved?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"No, Sir."

MR. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"With reference to question No. 204 referred to in the answer to clause (d) of this question, may I know what sort of persons are allowed to be shadowed by the police?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"There are no fixed principles laid down by the Government."

MR. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether it is left to the discretion of the police officers in the districts?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"To a great extent, I suppose."

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"May I know whether the Government will be pleased to call for the information asked for in clauses (a) to (c) of this question?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"There is no information."

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"Will the Government be pleased to call for the information from the Superintendents of Police in the districts concerned?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"I shall consider the suggestion, Sir."

MR. P. ANJANEYULU:—"May I ask whether the Government are aware that the police are not only shadowing political workers, but they actually go and interfere with them and ask them where they are going, what meetings they are attending and how long they would stay at particular places?"

[25th September 1929]

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"The Government are not aware of this. If specific instances are brought to my notice, I shall enquire."

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"May I know whether the Government have looked into the question whether, if this shadowing is given up, there will be a number of hands whose services can be dispensed with?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"No, Sir."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know what the hon. Member meant when in reply to a question whether any person is shadowed he said that the discretion of the police officer is used in shadowing?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That is cross-examination."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know whether any principle has been laid down for the guidance of local officers in the matter of shadowing?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"These questions have been answered last time."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"With reference to question No. 204 it was stated that those who directed their activities to the subversion of the British Government are shadowed by the police and that the police have discretion. May I know whether the members of the Economic Enquiry Committee also come under that class and whether the Government are aware that they were also watched when they visited the Kistna district?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"I do not know. I shall enquire into the matter."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—"May I know if it is not a fact that the Secretary of every Congress Committee is being watched?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"I have no information."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—"May I request the hon. the Home Member to call for the information whether this is a fact or not from the District Superintendents of Police?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"Yes, Sir. I shall consider the suggestion."

Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—"Is it the information of the Government that Congress leaders and workers are not at all shadowed?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"We do not know anything either way."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—"In view of the suggestions now put forward, will the hon. the Home Member make enquiries?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That has been already answered."

[25th September 1929].

Alleged failure to frame a charge-sheet in Manoranjan Gupta's case.

* 458 Q.—Mr. P. ANJANEYULU: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government is aware that the police failed to frame a charge-sheet against Manoranjan Gupta after his arrest at Bezwada before the Magistrate even after several adjournments;

(b) the causes for such failure on the part of the police;

(c) whether it is not a fact that they had no materials to frame a charge-sheet against him;

(d) what led the police to arrest him in the first instance; and

(e) what steps the Government have taken or propose to take against the concerned policeman who thus behaved in this episode?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) & (c) An investigation had to be made. It is not true that the police had no materials against him. The position was that such material as the police had required to be supplemented before a case could be proved. This was the object of the investigation. As at the end of the investigation the police considered that they could not completely prove their case, they very properly dropped the proceedings.

(d) The arrest was made under section 151 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(e) None.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"With reference to clause (d), may I know what the information was in the possession of the police when they made this arrest?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"It has been answered in clause (a) of question No. 459 that he was found in suspicious circumstances on the railway line just before the Statutory Commission were due to pass through Bezwada."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know what those suspicious circumstances were?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"The suspicious circumstances were that the police thought that some violent action would be taken."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know whether the suspicious circumstances included any details of possession of material in the hands of Mr. Manoranjan Gupta?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—"It is not necessary that there should be any material in the hands of Mr. Gupta. The police had suspicion of their own."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know if the hon. the Home Member knows on what facts that suspicion was based?"

Arrest of Mr. Manoranjan Gupta.

* 459 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether he has received information from the police of the Kistna district as to what offence was intended to be prevented by the arrest of

[25th September 1929]

Mr. Manoranjan Gupta at Bezwada in March last under section 151, Criminal Procedure Code;

(b) whether there was any evidence in the possession of the police before arresting him to presume that he was going to commit that offence, and, if so, what it was;

(c) why he was not discharged from bail and sureties as soon as the so-called commission of the offence was prevented;

(d) whether it is a fact that several adjournments were taken by the police saying that they would file a charge-sheet against him under section 124-A from the materials said to have been found with him on search after arrest and how many adjournments were taken by the police;

(e) whether he has been finally discharged in July by the Sub-divisional Magistrate, Bezwada, as the police could not file any case against him;

(f) which particular police officer or officers are responsible for his arrest without warrant; and

(g) whether the Government propose to take any action against the police officer or officers concerned for arresting and troubling Mr. Gupta without any materials?

A.—(a) He was found in suspicious circumstances on the railway line just before the Statutory Commission were due to pass through Bezwada.

(b) The police had information justifying their action under section 151 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(c), (d) & (e) He was kept on bail during an investigation under section 124-A. Seditious documents in Bengali were found in his possession. These had to be sent to Calcutta for translation. After the translations were received the question had to be examined whether their publication and dissemination could be proved. All this naturally took time. Finally the police decided that they could not prove the case against him and he was discharged from bail on 13th June 1929.

(f) & (g) The hon. Member is referred to the answers to clauses (k) and (l) of question No. 460.

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know what the exact offence was that was attempted to be prevented by arresting him and under what section of the Penal Code was it done?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"I have already said what the suspicious circumstances were; that the police thought that some violent action might be taken by him."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"What sort of action was it, may I know?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"I have already answered that question."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—"May I know whether the Government got any information from the police and whether they are satisfied that the police had sufficient reason to arrest him?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Yes, the Government are satisfied."

25th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether the fact that the Statutory Commission was due to pass through Bezwada was sufficient reason for his arrest?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"And also the past activities of Manoranjan Gupta."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know why he was not released as soon as the Simon Commission passed Bezwada and, if his arrest was due only to certain suspicious circumstances, why was bail continued?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"It was a matter for the police."

Arrest of Mr. Manoranjan Gupta.

* 460 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Mr. Manoranjan Gupta who was arrested on 12th March 1929 was eventually released and when;

(b) how long he was under remand;

(c) how many times adjournments were taken by the prosecution;

(d) whether any charge-sheet was filed, if not, why not;

(e) what was the information on which he was first arrested;

(f) what were the offences which he was apprehended to commit;

(g) whether any and, if so, what action was taken by the Government to determine the responsibility for this abortive proceeding;

(h) whether any legal advice was taken before the arrest was made;

(i) what was the amount of expense which this particular proceeding involved;

(j) whether any reparation was made by the Government to Mr. Gupta for the annoyance and inconvenience caused to him by reason of this protracted and abortive proceeding; if not, whether the Government intend to make any such reparation;

(k) who was the officer who effected the arrest; and

(l) what corrective action has the Government taken as regards the officer or officers responsible for this arrest?

A.—(a) Mr. Manoranjan Gupta was released on bail on the morning of the 13th March 1929 and his bail bond was cancelled on 13th June.

(b) The hon. Member is referred to the dates given in the answer to clause (a).

(c) The Government have no information of the exact number of adjournments.

(d), (e) & (f) The hon. Member is referred to the answers given to clauses (a) to (d) of question No. 458 and to clauses (a) and (b) of question No. 459.

(g) The Government consider that no action is necessary in a matter in which the police were discharging their ordinary duties.

(h) Not so far as the Government are aware.

(i) The Government have no information.

(j) No.

(k) The Inspector of Police, Bezwada.

(l) None.

[25th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether materials for the arrest were collected during the period of three months from 18th March to 18th June 1929 ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" The materials the police had were being examined."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" May I ask whether under section 151 a man can be arrested by the police without warrant and also detained even after the particular incident was over ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is asking for an opinion."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I ask whether this sort of action under section 151 is the ordinary duty of the police ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" Not the ordinary duty, but one within their powers."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" May I know whether without the sanction of the Government under section 124-A a man can be arrested and released on bail by the police ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" It is a matter for lawyers, Sir."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" It is asking for an opinion."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" In reply to clause (i) of this question the Government say that they have no information. May I know whether the Government will get the information on that point ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" I shall consider it."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" With reference to clause (h) may I know why no legal advice was taken before the arrest was made ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" It is not necessary that the police should take any legal advice."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" May I know, with reference to (j), whether the Government are prepared to grant any reparation to Mr. Gupta for having detained him in custody ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" No, Sir."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" In view of the answer given to a supplementary question, may I ask who examined the materials at the disposal of the police during three months ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" The police and their legal advisers."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know the reason why the Government do not propose to pay any reparation to Mr. Gupta for annoyance and inconvenience caused to him ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" The reason is, as I have already stated, the police, taking into consideration his antecedents and activities, thought that his presence in suspicious circumstances on the railway line might lead to some violent action and therefore they were justified in arresting him."

[25th September 1929]

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" I am not asking about the arrest. I am asking for the reasons why the Government do not propose to pay any reparation to this unfortunate young gentleman who was arrested and detained for three long months and the police dropped the case ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" He must thank himself for being at 1 a.m. on the railway lines at Bezwada."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" Is it the policy of the Government to arrest all people found on railway lines at 1 o'clock in the morning ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" The circumstances were that the Statutory Commission was to have passed through Bezwada at that time."

Mr. D. THOMAS :—" May I ask whether the subsequent three months were for the offence for which he was arrested or for some other offence ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" For the offence for which he was arrested."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" What was the offence for which he was originally arrested ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" It was suspected that some violent action might be committed."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" Is it the policy of the Government to arrest all people found on the railway lines at 1 o'clock in the morning ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" Yes, it is the policy of the Government to do so if they have got sufficient materials to arrest a man."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" Who was the legal adviser that was consulted by the police ? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" They have got their own prosecuting staff."

Local Fund Audit

Alleged annoyance caused by the Local Fund Audit Department.

* 461 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO : Will the hon. the Member for Finance be pleased to state—

(a) whether he has received any complaints that the work of the Local Fund Audit Department is causing unnecessary annoyance and hardship to the heads of local bodies ; and

(b) if so, whether he proposes to enquire into the matter ?

A.—(a) No specific complaint has been received by Government against the work of the Local Fund Audit Department.

(b) The question does not arise.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" With reference to clause (a), may I ask the hon. the Finance Member whether there have been any general complaints that the Local Fund Audit subordinates are unnecessarily interfering and recommending surcharges ? "

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR :—" There have been no complaints of the kind addressed to me."

[25th September 1929]

Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR:—"May I ask whether this was not specifically brought to the notice of the Government at the time of the budget?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member must be aware whether it was brought to the notice of the Government or not."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know whether the Government are aware that these Audit officers very often decline to assist heads of local authorities on matters connected with their work?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"That question was already raised in this Council and as a result of instructions issued, they have been told that whenever assistance is necessary, they should render such assistance."

Electricity

Powers of the Electrical Inspector regarding scrutiny of contracts for electrification of towns.

* 462 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Electrical Inspector is given permission (1) to draw out plans and estimates for municipalities on a scale of fees recently enhanced, (2) to scrutinize these very plans and estimates and approve the same on behalf of the Government for the granting of loans, (3) to scrutinize tenders and grant contracts to his own nominees, (4) to supervise the work of contractors so selected and (5) to take remuneration for all these acts; and

(b) whether the Government have information as to whether similar permission has been given to Electrical Inspectors in any other Presidency in India?

A.—(a) (1) & (4) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the orders in G.O. No 1619 W., dated 30th June 1928, which was placed on the Editors' Table.

(2) The Electrical Inspector to Government is not required to make a further scrutiny of plans and estimates prepared by him.

(3) The following is the procedure prescribed in article 334-A of the Municipal Account Code in regard to tenders for municipal electrical works—

"On the date fixed for the opening of the tenders, the Chairman shall open all the tenders and make sure by a preliminary examination that each tender satisfies the conditions specified. He shall reject any which is defective in any respect. The tenders which have not been rejected shall be forwarded to the Electrical Inspector to Government who will certify on each tender whether it is in accordance with the approved estimate, specification and design and recommend whether the tender is acceptable. In cases where the Electrical Inspector certifies a tender to be in order but does not recommend it, he shall record his general reasons for not recommending it. The Municipal Council shall immediately reject all tenders which have not been certified to be in order and shall make a selection from the remaining tenders having due regard to the recommendations of the Electrical Inspector to Government in regard to them. It is open to the Chairman of the Municipal Council to address the Government for obtaining a second opinion if he wishes to press the merits of any particular tender which has not been recommended by the Electrical Inspector."

[25th September 1929]

The Electrical Inspector to Government does not himself grant contracts to any tenderer.

(5) No. The fees realized from local bodies for the services rendered by the Electrical Inspector are credited to Government.

(b) The Government have no information.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"May I know what made the Government enhance the fees and what are the qualifications of this Electrical Inspector?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Notice, Sir."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"I want to know what made the Government enhance the fees inasmuch as he had the same qualifications only?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"The reason was this: it was represented to the Government that opportunities should be given to private persons skilled in electrical engineering to give advice to municipalities and others. It was also represented to the Government that according to the system then prevailing the Electrical Inspector was the only person authorized to give advice. Therefore, to give opportunities to private persons and encourage them the fees which were then levied by the Government through the Electrical Inspector were enhanced."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"Was that the only way of doing things, viz., by Government enhancing the fees in order to encourage private bodies? Why not the Government do it free?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"For, that is not feasible."

Scrutiny of the work done by the Electrical Inspector to Government.

* 463 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that at present the Electrical Inspector to Government is not subject to the control of any superior or revising authority in regard to his professional work as Consultant Engineer to municipalities; and

(b) whether in case a municipality does not approve of his recommendations for selection, he is empowered to enforce his selection on the municipality?

[25th September 1929]

A.—(a) Professional work done by the Electrical Inspector to Government for municipalities is not scrutinized by any other Government authority.

(b) No.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—“ May I know why the professional work done by this Inspector is not open to scrutinization by other officers? Is it because the Government take him as the supreme authority in these matters? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Because he is the supreme authority in his department and all others are subordinate to him.”

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—“ Is there any authority to check the plans and estimates prepared by him or is he to pass them himself? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Because he is the supreme authority in his department nobody checks them.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“ May I know whether the Government are aware that the system they follow has produced suspicion among the public of abuse of power by the electrical inspector in the exercise of patronage in respect of contracts? ”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know if the Electrical Inspector has no assistants? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Yes.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ Is there any difficulty in asking the assistant to prepare the estimates and the Electrical Inspector being asked to supervise that work.”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ It is left entirely to the head of the department, the electrical inspector, to issue such instructions as he likes to his subordinates.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know from the hon. the Law Member whether he is prepared to issue instructions that the preparation of plans and estimates by a single individual is harmful to the public? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ No useful purpose will be served by the issue of such instructions.”

Remuneration received by the Electrical Inspector for scrutiny of electrification schemes.

* 464-A Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) what are the amounts received by the Electrical Inspector and from whom, during the three years 1926–27, 1927–28 and 1928–29 for the professional services rendered by him;

(b) what portion of this amount went to the Government, how much went to his staff and how much was appropriated by him for his own;

(c) what the total amount of expenditure incurred by the Government is for maintaining the temporary staff working under him;

(d) the names of the municipalities during the last three years that went in for electrification schemes;

[25th September 1929]

(e) to whom did the fees charged for by the Electrical Inspector to the Government go regarding electrification schemes of the various municipalities for which the Electrical Inspector prepared the plans, estimates, specifications, etc.; and

(f) if the fees go to him and his staff, in what proportion it is divided?

A.—(a) Government have in special cases permitted the Electrical Inspector to render professional assistance to private parties and to receive fees. Particulars of the fees received by him are given in the attached statement.*

(b) A portion of the fees was given by the Electrical Inspector to his staff for helping him in the work out of office hours; no portion was credited to Government.

(c) No expenditure is incurred by Government for the temporary staff working under the Electrical Inspector as the staff is employed on municipal schemes and the charges are recovered from the local bodies concerned.

(d) The municipal councils who have proposed to take up electrical schemes or who have actually taken up schemes are Anakapalle, Bezwađa, Bellary, Cocanada, Conjeeveram, Coonoor, Erode, Hindupur, Kurnool, Masulipatam, Palacole, Pollachi, Salem, Tanjore and Vizagapatam.

(e) & (f) The fees realized from the municipal councils are wholly credited to Government.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—“ Sir, the particulars of fees are given in the appendix. They are abnormal sums and I should like to know whether it is the intention of the Government, in the case of a full-timed man, to allow him to have private practice and permit him to get such large sums of money from the Tirupati Devasthanam and other quasi-Governmental bodies such as the University and other private bodies, or whether they would encourage private persons? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ These full-timed officers are allowed to have practice only after office hours.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ If the Government have fixed any scale of fees for different kinds of work that the Electrical Inspector has to perform, may I know whether he restricts himself to that scale? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Notice, Sir.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“ With reference to clause (a), may I know what are the special causes for this Inspector being allowed to do private work? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ The reason is that private bodies are not satisfied with the work executed by other persons.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know for what work which the Electrical Inspector is doing fees are charged? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ For giving opinions for drawing plans and estimates, etc.”

[25th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I am asking what was the nature of work that this individual was doing ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" This was the nature of the work, viz., of drawing plans and estimates, etc. "

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—" Have the Government pledged themselves to a policy of allowing this Electrical Inspector to do all kinds of private work and thus get vast sums of money to the detriment of private practitioners ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" All the money paid by local bodies and municipalities are credited to Government. Only in the case of other private bodies for whom he does the work he gets the remuneration for himself. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" Will the Government put an end to this pernicious system ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is disallowed. "

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" May I know whether in view of the fact that the fees charged by the Electrical Inspector go to Government, the latter are prepared to reduce the scale of fees charged ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" The Government do not compel local bodies to take opinions from the Electrical Inspector. "

Remuneration received by the Electrical Inspector to Government for scrutiny of electrification schemes.

* 464-B Q.—Mr. T. M. NARAYANASWAMI PILLAI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) what is the amount of remuneration received by the Government Electrical Inspector and from whom during the three years 1926-27, 1927-28 and 1928-29 for the professional services rendered by him;

(b) what portion of this amount went to the Government, how much went to his staff and how much was appropriated by him for his own; and

(c) what is the total amount of expenditure incurred by the Government for maintaining the temporary staff working under him?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answers to clauses (a), (b) & (c) of question No. 464-A.

Distribution of the remuneration received by the Electrical Inspector from municipalities.

* 464-C Q.—Mr. T. M. NARAYANASWAMI PILLAI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) to whom did the fees charged for by the Electrical Inspector to the Government go regarding the electrification schemes of the various municipalities for which the Electrical Inspector prepared the plans, estimates, specifications, etc.; and

(b) if the fees go to him and his staff, in what proportion it is divided?

A.—(a) & (b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answers to clauses (e) & (f) of question No. 464-A.

[25th September 1929]

Applications from municipalities for electrification schemes.

* 465 Q.—Mr. T. M. NARAYANASWAMI PILLAI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) the names of the municipalities during the last three years that went in for electrification schemes as well as the names of applicants for electric licences during this period; and

(b) the names of applicants whose applications for licence were rejected by the Government and the grounds on which they were so rejected?

A.—(a) The Municipal Councils which propose to take up electrification schemes or have actually taken them up are Anakapalle, Bellary, Bezwada, Cocanada, Conjeeveram, Coonoor, Erode, Hindupur, Kurnool, Masulipatam, Palacole, Pollachi, Salem, Tanjore and Vizagapatam. The names of applicants for electric licences during this period are given in the annexed statement.*

(b) The application of the Conjeeveram Co-operative Electric Supply Corporation for a licence to supply electric energy in Conjeeveram was rejected because it was proposed to give a licence to the Municipal Council of Conjeeveram and there was not room for two licensees in the same area.

Alleged interference of the Electrical Inspector in municipal electrification schemes.

* 466 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether any municipality has complained of the exorbitant fees charged by the Electrical Inspector for his scrutiny of the plans and estimates submitted to him for securing Government loan;

(b) whether it is a fact that the Electrical Inspector to Government advises heads of municipalities not to permit their Electrical Engineers to take up consultation work for other municipalities for remuneration and if they do, they will be surcharged;

(c) whether it is a fact that the Electrical Inspector to Government advised the Chairman, Madura municipality, not to permit his Engineer to take up consultation work on remuneration for the Bezwada Municipal Council; and

(d) whether it is a fact that the Electrical Engineer, Madura municipality, was appointed consultant adviser by the Bezwada municipality with the knowledge and consent of the Chairman, Madura municipality, and whether later on, he was not permitted by the same Chairman on the advice of the Electrical Inspector to Government who had visited the Madura municipality in the meantime, to take up this consultation work?

A.—(a) One municipal council protested against the fees levied. In certain special circumstances of the case, the Government reduced the fees.

(b), (c) & (d) The Government have no information.

[25th September 1929]

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"There is an Inspector to the Government for electrical work. There is also an electrical inspector to the Madura municipality and that man is approached by other municipalities for giving them advice. Is it a fact that this Government Inspector who is more powerful than the Government themselves prevented the Inspector of the Madura municipality from taking up other works?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That is giving an opinion."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know whether the Electrical Inspector monopolises the advice that is to be given to municipalities and local boards?"

Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"I have specifically stated that these bodies are allowed to take advice from anybody they like."

Alleged interference of the Electrical Inspector in municipal electrification schemes.

* 467 Q.—Mr. T. M. NARAYANASWAMI PILLAI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether any municipalities have complained to the Government of the exorbitant fees charged by the Electrical Inspector for his alteration of schemes submitted to him; and

(b) whether the Government have received any complaints from the municipalities against the constant and unnecessary interference of the Electrical Inspector with them?

A.—(a) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer to clause (a) of question No. 466. The fees charged for the services of the Electrical Inspector to Government are fixed by Government and are credited to Government, not to the Electrical Inspector.

(b) The chairman of one municipal council complained of delay due to the Electrical Inspector's revision of plans. The Government after investigating the complaint found that the revision of the plans had been in the best interests of the council.

Forests

Objects of the proposed reorganization of the Forest Department.

* 468 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state what are the objects and purposes of the proposed reorganization of the Forest Department?

A.—The object is to determine future forest policy and to increase, if possible, the efficiency of the department.

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"May I know how this reorganization of the Forest department is going to be of any help to determine the future forest policy of the Government?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"Necessarily, the future forest policy depends upon this reorganization."

[25th September 1929]

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"May I know whether reorganization is going to take place before any forest policy is laid down or the forest policy is going to be laid down first and then reorganization is going to take place?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That is not asking for information."

Reorganization of the Forest Department.

* 469 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have now arrived at any conclusions regarding the question of the reorganization of the Forest Department; and

(b) if so, what they are?

A.—(a) & (b) The question is under consideration.

Jails

Alleged ill-treatment of Mr. M. S. Subrahmanya Ayyar in Madura jail.

* 470 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Mr. M. S. Subrahmanya Ayyar who is undergoing simple imprisonment in the Coimbatore jail is kept in practically solitary confinement though not in a 'solitary cell';

(b) whether he is treated with extra harshness on account of his political views;

(c) whether Mr. Subrahmanya Ayyar had recently a fit of blood-vomiting and was in an unconscious and precarious condition;

(d) whether the hospital assistant refused or neglected to attend on him when informed of his condition;

(e) whether Mr. Subrahmanya Ayyar has, since admission, lost 36 lb. in weight;

(f) what is the present condition of Mr. Subrahmanya Ayyar's health; and

(g) why Mr. Subrahmanya Ayyar should be kept in a separate place apart from other prisoners in the jail?

A.—(a) He is confined in the European yard and is allowed to move about freely about the yard all day. He is shut up in the cell only at nights. He has been alone, except for a short time when a European prisoner was in the jail.

(b) to (d) No.

(e) He has lost in weight by about 12 lb. in the jail.

(f) His health is reported to be good.

(g) It is considered expedient to keep this class of prisoner separate from others.

Alleged ill-treatment of Mr. M. S. Subrahmanya Ayyar in Madura jail.

* 471 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether Mr. M. S. Subrahmanya Ayyar, a political prisoner in Coimbatore jail, has been ailing for some time;

[25th September 1929]

- (b) whether his weight has been reduced by 32 lb. ;
 (c) whether he recently vomited blood ;
 (d) whether he once swooned in jail ;
 (e) whether the jail doctor treated him with indifference ;
 (f) whether his condition is precarious, and if so, whether the Government are prepared to consider about releasing him from jail ; and
 (g) what is the exact condition of Mr. Subrahmanya Ayyar ?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) He has lost weight by about 12 lb. in the jail.

(c) to (f) No.

(g) His health is reported to be good.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know what was the original weight of this gentleman when he was sent to prison ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ About 129 lb.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know whether medical opinion has been taken as to the decrease of 12 lb. in his weight. Is not the decrease in weight a fairly serious symptom ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ The report specifically says that he was not suffering from any serious disease.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know if a specific question has been asked of the medical officer whether this reduction in weight is not indicative of bad health ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Such a question was not asked.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know if that enquiry would be made ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ I do not think it is necessary, because this gentleman, as I believe, has now been released.”

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“ May I know why he was kept away from other political prisoners ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ The object was to give him ample room to move about.”

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“ At the time when this gentleman was in prison he was the only prisoner there and may I know why he was kept with the European prisoners ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Because the space there was more ample.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—“ May I ask the hon. the Law Member why this gentleman was given more ample room than others who were treated as prisoners of the same category ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Because prisoners who are educated sufficiently are treated with some special consideration. (Laughter.)”

25th September 1929]

Number and treatment of political prisoners in jails.

* 472 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) how many persons who are convicted of offences of a political character or have refused to furnish security under section 108, Criminal Procedure Code, are in the various jails of the Madras Presidency now, and what are their names with castes and creeds ; and

(b) whether since 19th March 1929 when the out motion to give better treatment to political prisoners was passed, any arrangements have been made to give them better food, clothing and bedding and to exempt them from any rigorous work in the jails and if so, what the improvements are ?

A.—(a) The Government have no information but have called for it.

(b) The matter is under the consideration of Government.

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“ May I know what are the steps which the Government have taken so far in the matter of giving better treatment to political prisoners after the budget session was over ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ It is under consideration.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“ May I know what steps have been taken ? ”
 The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ The Government are considering what steps should be taken.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“ They have not commenced correspondence even with the jail authorities ? ”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“ May I know when the Government expect to be in a position to pass orders on this matter ; may I know how much longer they will take to finish consideration ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ I am sorry I am not in a position to give any definite undertaking on that point.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know if there are any definite proposals in the matter ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ There are proposals before the Government and these proposals have now to be modified in the light of the communiqué issued by the Government of India.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“ May I know whether any steps have been taken by means of a letter or a note or nothing has been done ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ The Government are considering it.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“ May I know, with reference to the answer given to clause (a), if the Government will place the information on the table as soon as it is received ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ I will consider the suggestion.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“ May I know whether the death of Jatin-dranath Das owing to hunger strike has influenced Government's minds in any way in the matter of treatment of political prisoners ? ”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ The question is not admissible.”

[25th September 1929]

Changes in the dietary rules for political prisoners.

* 473 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether any change has been introduced in the dietary rules applicable to those that are popularly known as 'political prisoners' after the expression of the clear opinion of this House during the discussion of the last budget on 19th March 1929;

(b) if so, what changes have been introduced; and

(c) if not, why not?

A.—(a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) The matter is under the consideration of Government.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know the reasons why no change has been introduced in the dietary rules?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"They are under consideration."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know whether the Government realize how these people are suffering when the Government are considering over the matter?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"No, Sir. They are not suffering (Laughter)."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED SAHIB:—"May I know when the consideration will be over especially in view of the fact that a month has elapsed since the question was answered?"

Mr. G. HARISARVOTIAMA RAO:—"May I know whether the hon. the Law Member will issue transitory instructions so that these political prisoners spoken of in this question may be well treated pending Government coming to a definite decision on the matter?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"No, Sir."

Irrigation*Progress of the Appapuram project.*

* 474 Q.—Mr. P. ANJANEYULU: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have been pleased to move in the matter of the Appapuram project in the Guntur district; and

(b) at what stage the matter is?

A.—(a) & (b) The hon. Member's attention is invited to Question No. 1150-A answered on 30th January 1929. The Government have sanctioned a Special Public Works Division which will consider the Appapuram project along with others in connexion with the extension of irrigation in the Kistna delta.

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—"With reference to the answer given to this question that a special Public Works Division has been started, may I know when this was started?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"It was sanctioned from the 1st April this year."

[25th September 1929]

Progress of the Gundlakamma project.

* 475 Q.—Mr. P. ANJANEYULU: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether any report has been received in the matter of the Gundlakamma project in the Guntur district; and

(b) if so, when the project will be undertaken?

A.—(a) Yes. The hon. Member's attention is invited to the reports printed in G.O. No. 1352 I., dated 2nd May 1929, which has been published.

(b) No decision can be taken until the results of the gauging are known.

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—"As regards answer to clause (b), may I know for what period the Government are going to collect the results of gauging?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"The period is mentioned in the Government Order referred to in answer to clause (a); the discharges are to be observed for five years."

Investigation of the high flood channel from Kistna river and the Vempadu project.

* 476 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) at what stage the investigation of the high flood channel from the Kistna river at or near Mulapad is; and

(b) at what stage the construction of the Vempadu project in Gannavaram taluk in Kistna district is?

A.—(a) The hon. Member's attention is invited to questions Nos. 523 and 1252 answered on 12th October 1928 and 1st February 1929 respectively. The gauging staff has been sanctioned and, as already stated, gaugings have to be taken for three years.

(b) The Government have approved of an estimate amounting to Rs. 1,05,066 for the Vempad project and it will be brought forward for consideration with the budget estimates for 1930-31.

Supply of water from the Divi pumping project.

* 478 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) when water was first supplied in each of the years since the Divi pumping project was started and till what time the same was continued;
- (b) the area for which the water was supplied in each year; and
- (c) the total revenue derived from the project in each year?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) A statement* giving the information required is laid on the table.

Loans

Modification of rules regulating grant of loans under the Land Improvements and Agriculturists' Loans Acts.

* 479 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Government propose to make the rules regarding the grant of loans under the Land Improvements Loans Act and the Agriculturists' Loans Act more liberal and elastic; and
- (b) if so, when the new rules will come into force?

A.—(a) & (b) No such proposals are under the consideration of the Government. The Government have recently ordered that the rate of interest charged on advances to cultivators should be reduced from $7\frac{1}{4}$ per cent to $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent per annum with effect from 1st April 1929. Further, as regards the levy of penalty on outstanding arrears of loans, they have directed that no penalty should be charged when the amount of arrears does not exceed Rs. 10 and that when the arrears exceed that figure, it should be left to the discretion of the officer to impose, or not to impose the penalty. The loan rules have been amended in accordance with these orders.

Reduction of the rate of interest under the Land Improvement Loans Act.

* 480 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state, with reference to Question No. 1721, dated 14th March 1929, regarding reduction of rate of interest under the Land Improvements Loans Act—

- (a) whether the Government have arrived at any decision;
- (b) if so, what the decision is; and
- (c) what the present rate is?

A.—(a) Yes.

- (b) & (c) The rate of interest was reduced from $7\frac{1}{4}$ per cent to $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent per annum with effect from 1st April 1929 by G.O. No. 422, Finance, dated 1st June 1929. The Government Order was placed at the disposal of the Press.

Education

Opening of a secondary school for Muslim girls in Georgetown.

* 481 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether he has taken any steps to open a secondary school for Muslim girls in Georgetown?

A.—The question is under consideration.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know from the hon. the Minister ^{11-30 a.m.} how long it will take for the school to be established?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Impossible to give any definite time."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I ask whether the matter has been under consideration for the last $2\frac{1}{2}$ years?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I am as well aware as the hon. Member of it."

Appointment of Mr. Verghese to the Madras Education Service.

* 482 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) whether one Mr. Verghese was appointed directly to the Madras Education Service;
- (b) what degree or degrees he has taken in Madras or elsewhere;
- (c) what is the rank and the class taken by him in the respective examinations; and
- (d) whether it is a fact that Mr. Verghese was appointed District Educational Officer though he had no previous teaching or administrative experience and what are the special reasons for such an appointment?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) B.A. (Honours) in Philosophy of the Madras University and B.A. (Honours) in History of the Oxford University.

(c) Third class in both.

(d) The Selection Committee and the Director of Public Instruction recommended that he would make an efficient District Educational Officer. He has also taken the Diploma in Education at Oxford.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know who are the members of the Selection Committee?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The Selection Committee has varied from time to time. I cannot definitely give information on the point who were the members of the Committee when this particular gentleman was selected."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"Who are the members now?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice, Sir."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know whether the Selection Committee and the Director of Public Instruction made this recommendation jointly or separately?"

[25th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"The Selection Committee first approved of this candidate and the Director of Public Instruction recommended that he may be appointed."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—"May I know by whom this Selection Committee was constituted?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"The Selection Committee was of course constituted by the Local Government."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"May I know, with reference to answer (d), whether this gentleman's name was sent up by the Selection Committee and the Director of Public Instruction or whether the Government consulted these two officers or bodies for their opinions on the proposals of the Government to appoint this gentleman?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"The Selection Committee and the Director of Public Instruction recommended the gentleman."

Proposed additional appointments to the Madras Educational Service.

* 483 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Government propose to make any more direct appointments to the Madras Education Service during the course of this year;
- (b) if so, the names and qualifications of the candidates;
- (c) whether there are any applications pending with the Director from other candidates, specially Muhammadans, for appointment in the Madras Education Service and what are their names and qualifications; and
- (d) who is the person making these appointments and whether he is assisted by any committee?

- A.—(a) & (b) It cannot be stated at present whether any more direct appointments will be made to the Madras Educational Service.
- (c) The Government do not consider it desirable to furnish the information called for.
- (d) Appointments to the Madras Educational Service are made by the Government from among the lists of candidates recommended by a Selection Committee which has been constituted to advise the Government on the selection in India of candidates for direct appointments to the higher branches of the Educational services.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"With reference to answer (b), may I know whether it is the policy of the Government to appoint all those people who have got diplomas in teaching as they have done in the case of Mr. Verghese?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"It is not a question of every person possessing a diploma getting an appointment."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"With reference to answers (a) and (b), may I know when the Government expect to make up their minds on this question of recruiting directly to the Madras Educational Service hereafter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"Certain number of men for certain places will certainly have to be recruited directly for the Educational Service. What proportion of them will be so recruited will soon be decided."

[25th September 1929]

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"When will it be decided?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"I expect soon."

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—"With reference to answer (d), may I know if the Selection Committee selects candidates from the whole of India?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"Selection in India as far as this province is concerned."

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—"May I know if the hon. the Minister or the Government issued circulars to these Selection Committees how they should proceed when selecting candidates?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"No instructions have at all been given to the Committee."

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—"Will the Government be pleased to issue circulars that the committees should select candidates according to communities provided there are candidates available?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"The final authority being vested in the Government with regard to appointments, the Government did not think it necessary to give any such instructions."

Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR :—"With regard to these appointments, may I know whether they are appointed on probation in the first instance or permanently?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"I am sorry I cannot give an answer to that question; I want notice."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"May I know whether the Committee invites applications or merely selects from those who have applied?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"They consider all applications that are sent up to the Selection Committee and people know that the Committee are going to select candidates."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—"With regard to these appointments, may I know whether they are advertised in the papers before selection is made?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"Notice, Sir."

Appointment of Mr. I. N. Menon as Professor of Philosophy.

* 484 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Mr. I. N. Menon has been appointed Professor of Philosophy in the Presidency College;
- (b) whether it is a fact that he has never taught Honours classes previously;
- (c) whether he has ever before taken the Intermediate or the B.A. classes and if so, in what colleges and how long; and
- (d) what are the special reasons for appointing him in supersession of a senior and experienced Professor?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) No.

[25th September 1929]

- (c) Yes; the Intermediate classes in the Government Brennen College, Tellicherry, for about one year and eight months and the Government College, Coimbatore, for about a year and a half. Before joining Government service he did work with the B.A. and B.A. (Hons.) classes in the Christian College.
- (d) There has been no supersession. Mr. I. Narayana Menon was selected for the post as having the most suitable qualifications.

Service of the Superintendent of the Government Hobart School for Girls.

* 485 Q.—MR. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) for how many years the present Superintendent of Government Hobart School for Girls has been holding this appointment; and
- (b) the number of years each one of her predecessors held the same appointment?

A.—(a) Three years and three months since 8th June 1926.

Local Boards

Construction of the Srisaïlam road.

* 487 Q.—MR. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the negotiations between the Government and the District Board, Kurnool, in regard to finding funds for the Srisaïlam road have been completed;

(b) whether the railway-cess fund collections have been suggested by the Government for utilization; and

(c) when the road is likely to be sanctioned?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) No.

(c) The proposal to construct the road was indefinitely postponed as the Kurnool District Board was unable to meet its share of the cost from its funds and was unwilling to take a loan for the purpose.

MR. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether the district board was not prepared to consider the question of asking for a loan after the quota to be made had been once settled?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"It refused to consider the question of quota at all."

MR. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know what quota the Government required of the District Board?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The Government were prepared to give only half the grant and the district board does not want to proceed on that basis."

Construction of a bridge over the Gundlakamma.

* 488 Q.—MR. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the question of constructing a bridge over the Gundlakamma at Markapur in the Kurnool district has been taken up; and

(b) if so, at what stage the matter stands?

A.—(a) & (b) The President, District Board, Kurnool, reported in February 1928 that the matter was under the consideration of the district board. The Government have no information as to the present stage of the matter.

[25th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the hon. the Minister will kindly ascertain what has happened since February 1928 ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I shall call for the information."

Exemption to unpassed men in local board service for appearing for special tests examinations.

* 489 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether men in employment under local bodies hitherto exempted from general qualification for purposes of appearing for special tests are still required to obtain exemption from general qualification even when they have passed the special tests and have full technical qualifications for the posts they hold ;

(b) whether he is aware that such a requirement affects men of very long service ; and

(c) whether he will get the question examined and treat all such men as having been exempted already from the general qualification ?

A.—(a) & (b) Yes.

(c) The question was examined lately and, though it was decided not to exempt the persons in question as a class, certain working principles were laid down which govern the disposal of individual cases of real hardship.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know from the hon. the Minister for Education what are the working principles that have been laid down in this matter ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Notice, Sir."

Municipalities

Acceptance of tenders by municipal councils for electrical works.

* 490 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the reasons the Government assign for issuing G.O. No. 2013, L. & M., dated 30th April 1929, were brought by them to the notice of the councils concerned and explanations obtained by them ;

(b) whether it is a fact that the Government Order was issued without the knowledge of the councils merely on the strength of the Electrical Inspector's statements ;

(c) whether an enquiry was instituted for finding out the correctness or otherwise of the statement made by the Electrical Inspector regarding the irregularities of a number of municipal councils ;

(d) whether it is a fact that the Cocanada, Bezwada, Kurnool and Tanjore municipalities did not either accept at all or only accepted in part the Electrical Inspector's recommendations in the matter of selection of contractors for their town schemes ; and

(e) whether the Government Electrical Inspector was present in the various places at the meetings when tenders were accepted and did all he could to enforce his recommendations by threatening the councils with surcharge if his recommendations were not accepted ?

[25th September 1929]

A.—(a) No.

(b) & (c) The Government passed the order after a full consideration of the facts brought to their notice by the Electrical Inspector to Government.

(d) The Cocanada and Bezwada Municipal Councils did not accept at all or accepted only in part the recommendations of the Electrical Inspector to Government in the matter of selection of contractors. The Government have no information about other councils.

(e) The Electrical Inspector to Government was present at some of the meetings of the Cocanada and Bezwada Municipal Councils. The Government have no information on the allegation mentioned in the latter part of the clause.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I know from the hon. Minister why the Government passed the order on the representation of that perfect gentleman, the Electrical Engineer to Government, behind the back of . . ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member will not be allowed to use epithets qualifying the Electrical Engineer when putting supplementary questions about him."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" I am sorry, Sir. May I ask why the Government preferred the recommendations of the Electrical Inspector against the views of municipalities and local bodies and why they passed this order without giving these local self-governing bodies a chance to explain the matter ? Is it the intention of the Government to deprive them of their rights ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As I said once before, I am taking this whole matter into consideration ; I hope we will be able to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" Thank you, Sir."

Selection of contractors for electrical works by the municipalities.

* 491 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state under what law and for what reasons the Government are depriving municipalities of selecting their own contractors for their works ?

A.—The hon. Member apparently refers to the recent instructions issued in G.O. No. 2013, L. & M., dated 30th April 1929, regarding acceptance of tenders by municipal councils for electrical works. These were not issued under any specific provision of the Act but as executive instructions for the guidance of the council. They do not produce the effect suggested by the hon. Member.

Electrification schemes for Cocanada, Bezwada, etc.

* 492-A Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether in the municipalities of Cocanada, Bezwada, Kurnool, Tanjore and Sembiam union electrification has been taken up ;

[25th September 1929]

(b) what the names are of the companies recommended by the Electrical Inspector to Government in the main for (i) generating plant and (ii) line materials and erection of distribution systems;

(c) in how many of the above cases were his recommendations accepted and in how many rejected by the municipalities;

(d) whether the municipalities and local bodies are bound to obtain the approval of the Electrical Inspector to Government to the appointment of their Electrical Engineers; and

(e) if so, how this power is vested in him and up to what pay it is left to his unfettered discretion?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) & (c) In the case of the Bezwada electrification scheme the Electrical Inspector to Government recommended the names of Messrs. Mirrless Bickerton and Day, Limited, and Messrs. Callenders Cable and Construction Company, Limited, for generating plant and line materials, respectively. The Municipal Council did not accept either of these recommendations. The names of the same two companies were recommended by the Electrical Inspector in the case of the Tanjore electrification scheme also. The Tanjore Municipal Council accepted the recommendation only for line materials. The Sembiam Union Board has accepted the recommendation of the Electrical Inspector that a bulk supply of energy may be obtained from the Madras Electric Supply Corporation, Limited. The Government have no information in respect of the other schemes.

(d) & (e) No.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I ask if the Government are satisfied that this gentleman always recommends English firms when other firms quote cheaper and better terms. . ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The first portion of the question is certainly admissible ; when he tries to improve it, it becomes inadmissible. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I ask if the hon. the Minister is aware that the terms of Swadeshi firms are always favourable ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I am not an electrical expert. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know if the hon. the Minister is prepared to get information with regard to the other municipalities ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As I said, Sir, the whole question is under review and I shall see what could be done and that these local bodies also have their say in the matter. "

Recommendations of the Electrical Inspector on the electrification schemes of Cocanada, etc.

* 492-B Q.—Mr. T. M. NARAYANASWAMI PILLAI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) what are the names of companies recommended by the Electrical Inspector to Government, in the main for : (i) generating plant, and (ii) line materials and erection of distribution system, in the municipalities of Cocanada, Bezwada, Kurnool, Tanjore and Sembiam Union where electrification is taken up ; and

(b) in how many of the above cases his recommendations were accepted and in how many rejected by the municipalities ?

A.—(a) & (b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer given to clauses (b) and (c) of Question No. 492-A.

Approval of the Electrical Inspector to Government to appointment of Electrical Engineers by local boards.

* 492-C Q.—Mr. T. M. NARAYANASWAMI PILLAI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether the municipalities and local boards are bound to obtain the approval of the Electrical Inspector to Government in the appointment of their electrical engineers ?

A.—The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer given to clause (d) of Question No. 492-A.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" In view of the whole matter being put in the melting pot and considered by the Government, may I know if the Government will consider the desirability of giving these appointments to Indian Electrical experts ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" That will depend on the municipalities and the Electrical Engineer ; the Government cannot interfere. "

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" May I ask whether the local bodies will be given greater freedom in the choice of the contractors ? Will the hon. Minister consider this question also ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" It has been answered that the whole question is under consideration. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether this aspect is under the consideration of the Government, the aspect of making some arrangements to come to a conclusion when the municipalities and local bodies differ from the Electrical Engineer ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" That matter will certainly be considered. "

Scrutiny of municipal electrification schemes before granting loans.

* 493 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact as a condition precedent to the grant of a loan by the Government to any municipality, the Government insist upon the scrutiny and sanction by the Electrical Inspector to Government of the plans and estimates of the scheme proposed ; and

(b) whether it is a fact that in the course of such scrutiny, if the Electrical Inspector to the Government offers any suggestion or alteration, or addition to the scheme placed before him, he is permitted by the Government to charge fees therefor ?

[25th September 1929]

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Fees are not charged for the Government Electrical Inspector's scrutiny of the estimates or modification of the schemes; but if at the request of the local body concerned the Electrical Inspector himself undertakes the work of revising the plans and estimates, etc., with a view to rectify the defects noticed by him fees are charged according to the time taken and nature of the work.

Electrification of Sembiam union.

* 494 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the attention of the Government has been drawn to the Chingleput District Administration Report regarding the electrification of the union of Sembiam, especially to the scheme originally drawn up by the present Electrical Inspector to the Government (Mr. Greenwood) for which fees were charged by him and paid by the union, and which when forwarded to him by the Local Self-Government Department for the purpose of sanctioning a loan was at first not approved by him; and

(b) whether it is a fact that later, when it was pointed out by the district board that he had drawn up the scheme himself and been paid for it, the same was approved without any modification whatsoever?

A.—(a) Yes; but fees for the Electrical Inspector's services were not charged by him but by Government and were credited to Provincial funds.

(b) The President of the Sembiam Union Board brought to the notice of Government in 1927 that the Electrical Inspector wanted the scheme to be thoroughly investigated before it could be further proceeded with. The Inspector's estimate of 1926 showing a yearly loss of Rs. 5,000 and odd was based on assumptions and technical data not investigated by him and hence his suggestion to have a thorough investigation of the scheme. As, however, the union board was able and willing to provide Rs. 5,000 against the possible loss, the Inspector subsequently agreed to proceed with the scheme without further investigation.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"In this case, Mr. President, I should like to know whether the Government are aware that there is a flaw in the estimates prepared by the Inspector himself?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice, Sir."

Co-operative Societies*Formation of a Central Weavers' Society.*

* 499 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: With reference to answer to clause (b) of question No. 53, dated 7th August 1929, will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the proposals made by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies regarding the formation of a Central Weavers' Society for the purchase of yarn and sale of finished products, and

(b) the orders, if any, of the Government thereon?

A.—(a) & (b) The Registrar has sent proposals for the formation of such a society and they are under consideration.

Fisheries*Alleged rule fixing the minimum number of teachers in Fisheries Schools.*

* 500 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that in schools maintained by the Fisheries Department the Director of Fisheries strictly adheres to the rule that there shall not be more than one teacher for 40 pupils;

(b) whether he is aware that the rule lays down only a minimum number of teachers required; and

(c) whether it is a fact that the Fisheries Department have applied to the District Educational Council, Malabar, to exempt them from the operation even of this rule in regard to some schools maintained by the department?

A.—(a) & (b) There is no rule that there should not be more than one teacher for 40 pupils. The rule followed by the Fisheries Department in regard to the admission of pupils into the elementary schools maintained by them is the same as that which governs admission in ordinary elementary schools under public management. The rule is that there should be at least one teacher for every 40 pupils and that it is desirable that there should be a teacher for every 30 pupils. The Fisheries Department is following this rule as far as possible.

(c) The rule from which exemption has been sought by the Department of Fisheries was passed by the District Educational Council, Malabar, and is to the following effect:—

"No single-teacher school shall, with effect from 1st April 1929, have more than three standards or an aggregate strength of more than 40 pupils except with the approval of the inspecting officer concerned and that in all other schools not more than two classes, the aggregate strength of which is 40 or less, shall be handled by one teacher."

Qualifications of supervisors of Fishermen Co-operative Societies.

* 502 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the officers in charge of the fish-curing yards are also required to supervise the working of the co-operative societies for fishermen;

(b) whether these officers have received any co-operative training;

(c) whether sub-inspectors are deputed for training in the Co-operative Institute at Coimbatore; and

(d) what reserve of officers is provided for normal work to depute sub-inspectors regularly for training at Coimbatore?

A.—(a) They are required to help and improve the condition of societies working in the villages served by the yards of which they are in charge.

(b) to (d) Two sub-inspectors were specially deputed to attend the co-operative training classes held at Coimbatore in January 1929. No substitutes were appointed in their places. Other officers have not received any special training.

Veterinary*Survey of cattle of the Kurnool district.*

* 503 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the work of the survey of cattle of the Kurnool district has been undertaken;

(b) if so, what areas have been so far covered;

(c) what the scope of the survey is;

[25th September 1929]

- (d) whether the survey extends to sheep and goats; and
 (e) what arrangements have been made for the supply of stud bulls in the Kurnool district?

A.—(a) No.

(b) to (d) Do not arise.

(e) None at present.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“With reference to answer (a), may I know whether the survey of Kurnool cattle will be taken up?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—“I cannot say, Sir.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“May I ask if the hon. the Minister is aware that Kurnool suffered worst from rinderpest last year?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—“May be.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“May I know whether he will make arrangements to have stud bulls stationed at Kurnool?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—“If there are good opportunities there for breeding, the question will be considered.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“May I know definitely whether he is considering the claims of the Kurnool district in connexion with the question of supply of stud bulls?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—“All districts are being considered.”

Loan of buffaloes and bulls to local bodies.

* 504 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the number of stud bulls and buffaloes sold or lent to the District Board, Village Panchayats or any other bodies or individuals in the Chingleput district and when they were lent or sold; and

(b) where they are serving now and whether their service is reported to be satisfactory?

A.—(a) Four breeding bulls (one Ongole and three Sind) and one buffalo bull were sold to the Chingleput District Board. One Ongole bull was placed at stud in the Veterinary Hospital, Conjeeveram. They were issued in 1928 and 1929.

(b) One Ongole bull at Villivakkam, three Sind bulls at Karlapakkam, Valarpuram and Kattiyampandal and one buffalo bull at Poonamallee.

The Ongole bull at Conjeeveram is serving well. Excepting one Sind bull, about which there is no information, the other bulls have all served cows but the number of services is small. The District Board was requested to see that proper use is made of these bulls. The buffalo bull at Poonamallee refused to serve. It was therefore returned to the Veterinary Hospital, Madras, for testing and is still under treatment.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS TO THE SENATE OF THE ANNAMALAI UNIVERSITY.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“Under section 15, clause III, sub-clause (3), of the Annamalai University Act, 1929, five members have to be elected to the Senate of the Annamalai University by the Madras Legislative Council from amongst its members according to the principle of proportional representation by means of the single transferable vote. I have directed that the elections should be held in accordance with the regulations made under Standing Order 77. In accordance with these regulations, I fix 3 p.m. on the 26th as the time by which notice of nominations should be sent to the Secretary.

“The Council will now resume the considerations of the Malabar Tenancy Bill.”

III

THE MALABAR TENANCY BILL.

Clause 1.

Proviso to sub-clause (3).

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“The question is “in the amendment of the hon. the Revenue Member, insert after the word “eviction” the words “and appeals against decrees in such suits” and omit the words “in the court of first instance.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“I wish to know whether Mr. Saldanha has given up the question of execution of decrees referred to in his amendment, and whether the Council has allowed him to withdraw that part of the amendment”.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“He moved his amendment in a modified form.”

* Mr. C. R. PARTHASARATHI AYYANGAR :—“The proposition, Sir, is that, when this Act comes into force, suits and appeals that may be pending in courts should have the benefit of the provisions of this Bill. This is not a new question. Even in the Madras Estates Land Act there is provision to this effect. Under section 6 of that Act occupancy right can be given even though the landlord has obtained a decree for ejectment. Therefore such a provision as this is not unknown. Retrospective effect being given to such provisions is not unknown. Under the provisions of the Madras Estates Land Act, occupancy rights have been given with retrospective effect. There is nothing extraordinary in giving retrospective effect in such cases.

“There is also another section in the Estates Land Act, section 18, which clearly supports this idea of giving retrospective effect. When the object of this Act is to give a sort of stability to the rights of the tenants, surely there can be nothing improper or inequitable in giving retrospective effect to the provisions. I accordingly support the amendment of Mr. J. A. Saldanha.”

a.m.

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"Sir, I also want to point out that in the case of appeals after the passing of the Madras Estates Land Act, which were pending at the time, the courts held in various decisions like 21, Madras Law Journal, and others that notwithstanding any decree for ejectment passed in favour of the landlords before the passing of the Estates Land Act, the provisions of that Act did apply to the cases in which appeals were allowed. Therefore, it is not a new thing at all to give retrospective effect in the present case. Therefore, Mr. Saldanha's amendment is quite in order and we are not giving by this amendment any out of the way concession to the tenants. After all, we only want that the tenants should not be ejected, that they should have fixity of tenure and that agrarian discontent now prevailing in Malabar should be wiped off, that the lands should become richer through better cultivation by the tenants after they are given fixity of tenure, and that the tenants should command a better status."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Mr. President, Sir, as I pointed out yesterday, it is not a very usual thing to give retrospective effect to an enactment such as the one before us. In this case, it will really be hard if retrospective effect is made to depend entirely on the quickness with which a Judge disposes of a case. There may be cases instituted after the 30th July 1929 in the court of a very clever District Munsif, and in such cases we may take it that he has already disposed of them; but in the case of a slow-coach of a District Munsif in whose court cases are instituted, the cases may drag on for years together. Therefore the effect of this clause depends largely upon the individual capacity of the District Munsif. I should rather think that it will be dangerous to extend this Act to cases of appeals pending at the time of the passing of the Act, as my hon. friend Mr. Saldanha in his enthusiasm for all good things, has suggested. After all, men have gone to work thinking that they are acquiring certain rights, and if by this amendment, we ask them to give up those rights, certainly it will be very unfair and unjust. It is not always that people know what is going to happen. They may think in all innocence that such an Act may not be passed here; and I do not think there is any equity or justice in inflicting punishments upon people who never expected this kind of trouble to arise. I think, so far as the conditions in Malabar are concerned, whatever the theoretical aspect of the matter may be, it will be quite sufficient to give effect to this Act from the date on which it receives the assent of the Governor-General. There are no facts before the House now, there were no facts before the Select Committee, and apparently there were no facts before the Government either, which could induce them to introduce a provision for giving retrospective effect to this measure. What the Government did not think worth while, the Select Committee did; and yet there were no facts before them. My hon. friend Mr. Saldanha promised this morning that he would give us facts and figures to show that suits have been instituted in large numbers. I should really be delighted to know how many suits have been instituted. I am sure if he had those facts and figures, he would have placed them before the House. I expect however that he has none. If there be a few suits instituted in the Malabar courts, I think we need not take them into consideration and do such a strange thing as giving retrospective effect to a legislation affecting a very large number of people."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Mr. President, Sir, I am really sorry that the principle that underlies an appeal is not understood. The Government have by this Bill accepted a change in the law, and they have also accepted that original suits can be dealt with under this law. When an appeal is filed, practically the judgment of the lower court is in suspense, and in appeal, points of law and equity might be urged anew. When a new legislation has been undertaken to be enacted, it is really strange how the Government want to restrict its operation to the original suits only. Appeals do partake of the nature of original suits in so far as the law is concerned, and it is wrong that we should restrict the operation of this Act to mere original suits. I feel that the Government will not be doing any violence to the principles of the Bill which we are now accepting on the floor of the House, if they permit appeals also to be included in this clause. I appeal to the Government to realize the necessity for including appeals. I ask, where is the justification for us to allow the operation of this law to original suits and decline it to appeals? Those who have filed original suits and have filed appeals later on are as much entitled to see that they are given full justice as those who have filed original suits. Justice in this case requires that when you have accepted a change in the principle of the law, appeals also should be allowed to come under the law. I therefore suggest that the amendment of my hon. friend from South Kanara should be supported."

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"Sir, I want to have a doubt cleared which I feel as regards this amendment. As I understand the amendment of Mr. Saldanha and several other amendments which follow, there are two ideas involved; one is that in regard to suits in the original court or in the appellate court, whether they were instituted before or after the 30th July, if they are pending either in the original or in the appellate court, the Act will apply. That is one aspect of the matter. Then again, there is another aspect. I want to know what my friend means by 'appeals.' Does he include second appeals also under that term? This is a matter which has not been explained at all. I want to have these doubts cleared before I can resolve to vote upon this amendment."

* Mr. S. SATYANURTI:—"Sir, I regret I cannot support the amendment. Sir, in the original Bill which was introduced by my hon. friend the Law Member, there was no provision at all for retrospective effect being given to the provisions of this Bill even in the case of suits pending in the original court. Even in the Bill as it was referred to the Select Committee, there was no provision at all. But in the Select Committee stage it was pointed out that taking advantage of the possibility of this Bill becoming law, a large number of janmis might file suits which would deprive the tenants of their just rights under this Bill, if the Bill were to become law on the date of the institution of those suits. Therefore, a date was suggested, 30th July of this year—when this Bill was published—and it was provided that in the case of original suits instituted after this date, the rights and liabilities of both the parties should be decided as though this Bill had become law after the 30th July. I think, Sir, that is so far as we can go, and so far we have gone. I think we should protect people from eleventh hour attempts to bring in new amendments, not with a view to solve the question of disputed rights, but merely with a view to deprive people of the rights that they would have had for this Bill. I think to make this Act applicable to appeals pending now is really less than fair or just to those people whose rights are sought to be established by this Bill. Moreover, the point raised by my hon. friend from Malabar in his arguments against the amendment, is a very strong one. There may be first appeals, second appeals, Privy Council appeals and Letters Patent appeals and they will be too many; and it may be that appeals may be pending for a long time in one or another place. In such a case, surely we shall be affecting litigation which began seven or eight years ago. I do not think that is a fair proposition, and I would ask the House respectfully to reject the amendment."

* Mr. D. THOMAS :—"Mr. President, there is one word which I should like to submit for the consideration of this House. When original suits are filed, issues are framed, then evidence is adduced on the nature of the case and so many processes have to be gone through. If the new Act is to apply to all appeals, then the issues will have to be framed again on the basis of the new law and the whole thing will have to be recast. Evidence will have to be adduced afresh and an opportunity will have to be given to both parties to adduce further evidence. I submit it will not be a practical proposition, and will lead to great difficulties if this amendment is accepted."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I take that the House is ready for a vote."

"The question is that in the amendment of the hon. the Revenue Member after the word 'eviction' insert the words 'and appeals against decrees in such suits' and omit the words 'in the court of first instance'."

The amendment was put and declared carried. A poll was demanded by the hon. Diwan Bahadur M. Krishnan Nayar and the House divided thus :—

Ayes 12. Noes 55:

12 noon.

The amendment was negatived.

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"Sir, I beg to move that the words 'instituted after the 30th July 1929' be deleted in the proviso. Thereby, the section will read like this :

'Provided that in all original suits for eviction pending on the date when this Act comes into force which would have been governed by the provisions of this Act had it been in force at the time of their institution the rights and obligations of the parties concerned shall be recognized by the provisions of this Act.'

"Thus, you will see that appeals are taken out of the category altogether. We want to give protection to the parties in those suits which are pending in the original courts at the time the Act comes into force. I submit that difficulties in extending the protection of the Act to appeals do not arise in this amendment and when a legislation of this character is passed, the parties in suits which are pending in the original courts must be given protection. Therefore I move the amendment."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"I second the amendment, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that in the amendment of the hon. the Revenue Member, omit the words 'instituted after the 30th July 1929 and'."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Mr. President, Sir, I am not prepared to accept this amendment. As has already been pointed out yesterday, it is somewhat exceptional to give any law retrospective effect and it is not usual to give laws passed by any legislative body retrospective effect unless necessity is shown. I do not think it has been shown that there is any necessity to give retrospective effect to the provisions of this Act earlier than 30th July 1929, the date on which this Bill was first published."

* Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—"Mr. President, Sir, the reasons which the hon. the Revenue Member has advanced for not giving retrospective effect are not at all convincing. It is a fact admitted both by the Government and by the people of Malabar that a tenancy legislation is long overdue. There were not a few attempts made to somehow or other remedy this state of affairs that has been existing for the last one century. Even though attempts were made, unfortunately for the tenants and for the other parties interested in Malabar, no satisfactory tenancy law was made up to now to safeguard the interests of the tenants. And when it is made after such a long time and when there is no practical difficulty in giving them the benefit of this legislation it is but just and right that retrospective effect should be given at least to all pending suits in the courts of first instance. It is not on account of any want of agitation on the part of the people that legislation is delayed, but if we read the history of this legislation, you will find that in many cases, the Government was slack in carrying out this legislation. As a matter of fact, you know that when a Bill was passed by this House, it was vetoed by His Excellency the Governor. Had that Bill been passed, not only those whose cases are pending in the courts, but others also would have derived the benefit of the legislation. So, when you find there is no practical difficulty and especially when you find that this remedy was sought to be effected for a long time, it is but right that retrospective effect should be given at least to all pending suits in the original courts."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Mr. President, Sir, I was rather surprised to hear the hon. the Leader of the Opposition referring to a century of history in support of a proposition of this character. If a century or more is behind this legislative proposal, there is also exactly the same century which refused to grant that benefit which the present Act proposes to grant. If there was a warning from anybody, I say, it would be fair to the sense of the Government to agree that there should be no Bill of the kind that was vetoed. Now, they bring forward a Bill and ask us to believe that they always intended to give legislative protection. It is not fair. We have not rushed to courts. It is not in the interests of the landlord at all that I am pleading, because I am perfectly certain that there are not many cases of eviction by the janmis. I do not know whether kanamdars have filed suits for eviction. So far as the janmis are concerned, I am in a position to say that very few suits have been filed in the courts in Malabar. If you want to enact legislation, do it by all means, but do it in a reasonable way. It is not fair to ask people who are not responsible for this legislation or for the past, to suffer for the dilatoriness of Government or their unpreparedness or their unwillingness to take legislation on hand. 'What might have been' is always in the land of regrets. If the Government had done so a century ago and if the Government had expropriated all the janmis a century ago, there would not have been this question at all and many other questions would not have come up on the floor of this House if those things had been done. So, let us get on with the present rather than attempt to think and regret in terms of what might have been. I am sure the hon. the Leader of the Opposition will see that it is not at all reasonable to inflict a wrong of this character on people who are not responsible for the present situation or for the circumstances in which they find themselves."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" Mr. President, Sir, I rise to point out a practical difficulty in the working of this motion. If this amendment were accepted, the clause will read :

'provided that in all original suits for eviction pending in the court of first instance on the date when this Act comes into force, etc.'

"Therefore the mere accident of the quickness or the dilatoriness on the part of the district munsif or the particular trying judge will determine the suit or suits to which the provisions of this Act will apply. If he goes on disposing of these suits after this Bill is passed by this House, and before it becomes law by the signature of His Excellency the Governor and His Excellency the Governor-General, it will be good for the people concerned to get their suits disposed of. So, if they try to get their suits disposed of on or before the date this Act comes into force, then the provisions of this Act will not apply to them. If there are dilatory district munsifs or other reasons by which you can prolong the agony of trials by issuing subpoenas, making defendants or plaintiffs ill or by putting in affidavits, the result will be you will be encouraging these tactics which will add to delay in litigation, and which will let in a new class of suits depending on personal accidents, to which the provisions of this Act will apply. So, I once more repeat that the clause as emerged from the Select Committee is all that we need, and I earnestly appeal to the House to go on with the substantive provisions of the Bill, and not to waste more time on small things."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" Mr. President, I am rather surprised at Mr. Satyamurti speaking at this stage with an amount of callousness in regard to the pitiable condition of the people in Malabar. If he had really known their condition, I do not think he would have talked in this sort of style. I was asked whether I had materials to show that there were suits filed recently just before this Bill was published in the Gazette.

"First of all, let me say that I have got details of one case at least filed before this Bill was published and it is a suit filed in the court at Chowghat just a few days before 30th July 1929 and that for the eviction of a tenant from five acres and odd. I also know of several similar suits instituted about that time in other courts against Christians. If this is the case in a small part of the taluk, I am sure there must be several suits in other parts of the district. It is not a pleasant thing for janmis—even kanamdars—often to file suits for eviction. In Malabar the poor are in the hands of janmis or the highest landholders. After all, it is a question of big spiders against flies, who, though very many, are mostly poor. The sympathy of the Government in this presidency has been with these landlords. Whereas, in the neighbouring State of Cochin as also in Travancore they brought forward generous legislation about 50 years ago granting fixity of tenure to kanam tenants. I speak of Ponnani taluk which is contiguous to the Cochin State and also contiguous to the Travancore State, and the conditions are similar. Government have been deliberately delaying legislation which was proposed by more than one commission. Every commission appointed for the last 50 years has proposed some legislation in the interests of the kanamdar—whether they are cultivating kanamdars or not. Now, this legislation has been long overdue. After all, what is it that we are asking for? It is but a very humble and modest request—that in those cases of suits that were filed some time in January . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" We have not come to that amendment as yet. It affects all pending suits."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" Whenever filed? So, this legislation has been pending for a long time. After the last Bill was passed by this House, His Excellency the Governor negatived it. Mr. Krishnan Nayar then brought forward a Bill which should have been passed long ago, but the Government have been delaying unnecessarily and if Government had only let this Council its own way, that Bill would have been passed long ago and His Excellency would not have vetoed that Bill for a second time. And so to say that Government gave no warning is, I submit, rather incorrect. I am surprised to find the hon. Member for the University, who 12-15 professes to represent so many people in Malabar, should rise up and say p.m. that we who come from Malabar are ignorant of what is happening there, and what happens is that generally Government look for support to the rich janmis, landlords and aristocrats and do not take into consideration the wishes of the ordinary people. Surely legislation is belated and I am sure there will come a time when they will have to answer for this belatedness. The janmis should thank themselves for the Government having delayed legislation for so long a time. And the janmis should not depend upon Government to bring a Bill which is on the whole satisfactory to them. Anyhow we have to be thankful for the small mercies, and I hope sooner or later drastic legislation will be brought about, and for the time being we shall be content with this modest amendment governing all pending suits."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I take it the House is ready for a vote. (After a pause.) The question is, in the amendment of the hon. the Revenue Member omit the words 'instituted after the 30th July 1929'."

The amendment was put and negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that the following proviso be substituted for the proviso to clause 1 of the Bill: 'Provided in all suits for eviction instituted after the 30th July 1929 and pending in the court of first instance on the date when this Act comes into force'."

The amendment was put and carried.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is, clause 1, as amended, shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was carried, and clause 1 was added to the Bill.

Clause 2.

Sub-clause (1).

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Mr. President, I beg to move—
"that before the word 'lands' insert 'forest or dry', and after "timber" insert 'land transferred', and at the end add 'for any other non-agricultural purpose or'."

"The object of this amendment is to exclude extensive forest tracts which are let for purposes of plantations. In Malabar such tracts are let for purposes of planting timber and other trees and also for the raising of buildings such as factories, warehouses, etc. To bring them also within the purview of this Act will, I fear, go against the object of the Bill which relates to agricultural tenancies only. Therefore it is that this amendment is moved."

Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD:—"Mr. President, Sir, I have great pleasure in seconding this motion, for any one who is conversant with the conditions obtaining in Malabar will at once recognize that a large extent of forest land is let for building purposes, for raising firewood, for raising timber and plantations. And it is but fair that these should be exempted from the operation of this Bill. Hence I beg to second this motion."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"I want to know whether Mr. Sankaran Unni does not want to move the words 'with or without wet'."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"No, he does not move those words."

* Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD:—"Sir, I have given notice of a motion similar to this and it comes later on, and therefore I have great pleasure in seconding this motion. The fundamental principle of the Bill is improvement of agriculture and protection of agricultural tenant. Therefore all engagements for non-agricultural purposes should be excluded from the purview of this Bill. Such kinds of lands are large in Malabar and in my own family there are leases granted for the purpose of building shops, warehouses, etc. We are now legislating in respect of agricultural tenancies and it is with a view to make things clear that this amendment is brought forward."

25th September 1929]

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"May I suggest, Sir, that the several parts of this amendment be put to vote separately?"

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"Sir, I wish to oppose this amendment. The main reason of my hon. Friend is that there are leases granted for the raising of forests, tea plantations, etc. With reference to that, as a matter of fact, large portions of dry land have been leased out to tenants only for a particular purpose and for the use of other lands that are wet including small holdings. This amendment runs against the tenor of section 10, which is to come hereafter. And if there is any apprehension that as a matter of fact the inclusion of large tracts of dry land in leases granted to tenants may be detrimental to the interests of the landlords there is the provision in section 11."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"May I point out, Sir, that section 11 fixes the holdings and does not refer to the limiting of holdings?"

Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"I think fixing means limiting the holdings. Then turning to the question of warehouse, from sub-clause (3) of section 2, it will be seen that any building owned by a landlord including a house, shop or warehouse, the site thereof, together with the garden or land appurtenant thereto—all these things are excluded from the operation of this Bill. If, as a matter of fact, there are leases granted for factories—I tried my best to recollect instances of leases where factories have been raised and I am unable to pick up any instance, except one, I think it is somewhere in Nilambur—these instances are rare and such an amendment like this will be restricting the enterprising spirit of the people to whom these leases are granted. I submit, therefore, that this amendment should not be accepted."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I take it the House is ready for a vote. I shall put the three parts separately. The question is, in clause 2, sub-clause (1), in line 1, before the word 'lands' insert the words 'forest or dry'."

The amendment was negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is, in line 2, after the word 'timber' insert the words 'land transferred'."

The amendment was negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is, at the end, insert the words 'for any other non-agricultural purpose or'."

The amendment was negatived.

Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD:—"Mr. President, I beg to move—

"in line 3 after 'rubber' insert the words 'or trees such as jack, mango, palmyra, except coconut and arecanut'."

Mr. MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALLAPPARA:—"I beg to second it."

Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"Mr. President, Sir, here again I have to oppose the amendment. I am unable to see any land let out particularly to the cultivation of jack, mango or palmyra alone. No doubt, it happens that in a holding there are dry lands in which jack trees are planted, in which mango trees are planted, in which palmyra trees are planted. But then to say that there are leases granted for the particular purpose of planting mangoes or jack trees or palmyras is not correct. According to my some-what long experience I may submit, Sir, that the insertion of these words

p.m.

[Mr. K. P. Raman Menon] [25th September 1929]

will be only an insidious attempt to get those portions of a holding which are planted with these trees outside the scope of this legislation. I submit, therefore, that this amendment should not be accepted."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Mr. President, Sir, the amendment moved by my hon. Friend Mr. Nambudripad is nothing so very strange as that. He has assured us that in his own family there are leases given for the purpose of raising gardens of fruit-bearing trees such as those mentioned in the amendment. Is there any impossibility in such a thing being done at all? I know that my hon. Friend Mr. Raman Menon's experience of the conditions of Malabar is indeed very great and wide, and I always respect him for that. But at the same time I must point out that there are other people also who, in their moderate experience, may have come across instances which might not have come within Mr. Raman Menon's knowledge. My hon. Friend Mr. Nambudripad says that he knows of instances of that kind. Even supposing that there are not instances of that kind now actually in existence, what is there to prevent such leases being given in the future? Are you going to legislate that when leases of that kind are given, the provisions of this Act shall apply to them? What is sought by means of this amendment is that when leases for growing fruit-trees other than coconut and arecanut are given, those leases may not be affected by this Act. Mr. Raman Menon did not try to say that this Act should apply to those leases. But he said that there are no such leases. Supposing there is just one such lease, then I take it that he would be ready to agree to this amendment. Supposing a large number of leases would come into existence, in that case also I take it he will be prepared to accept this amendment."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"Sir, I oppose this amendment. The implications contained in the amendment are very wide and I request this House to seriously consider this question when they vote on it. Generally, land is not given merely for the purpose of planting coconut or arecanut trees, etc. It is given for the purpose of planting, and if these words are inserted, and if in any garden hereafter it is found that a few jack trees or coconut trees are planted, then many questions will arise and in the law courts the parties will contend that this is not a lease which has been given for the purpose of planting jack trees or coconut trees and therefore that has to be excluded from the provisions of this Act. I submit, therefore, that very serious consequences and endless litigation between the landlord and tenant will be the result if this amendment is accepted."

The amendment was put and negatived.

Sub-clause (2).

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR:—"Sir, I beg to move that between the words 'pepper' and 'is', the words 'or cashewnut' be inserted.

"I move this amendment for this reason. There are certain lands in North Malabar, sandy tracts, where it is possible to raise only cashewnut, just as even in the Tanjore district at present large tracts consisting of 80, 40 or even 100 acres are set apart for the cultivation of this tree, which alone grows on the sandy soils. Now, if a janmi or a landlord has allowed such a large tract for the cultivation of cashewnut—the only tree that can be grown thereon—I do not see why that should come under the operation of this Act. For these reasons, I move this amendment."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"I second it."

25th September 1929]

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"Sir, I oppose this amendment. The same argument that I put before the House regarding the previous amendment holds good here also. I do not know what experience my hon. Friend Mr. Arpudaswami Udayar has of North Malabar except probably his one day's stay in North Malabar when he came up there. I may say, Sir, that no land is given on lease merely for the purpose of planting cashewnuts or coconuts. Complications will arise therefrom if this amendment is accepted, and I respectfully request that this House be not a party to create such complications when we are trying to avoid such complications as far as possible."

Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB:—"As the motion raises an important question, I wish to speak on it. In South Kanara cashewnut is a very important produce."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"But we are legislating for Malabar."

Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB:—"I am just referring to it as it is adjacent to Malabar. In taluks of Malabar adjacent to South Kanara cashewnut is a very important produce, and the price of cashewnut also is growing high. There are people who have planted 100 and even 200 acres with cashewnut trees, and there are people who are about to begin that cultivation. According to the provisions of this Act, if this cashewnut is not excluded from the provisions of this Act, it will operate very heavily against this new industry in Malabar. Now, for the present it is not going to affect anybody. Mr. Krishnan said there is no lease for mere cashewnut. I think, Sir, that a man who has taken a piece of land for cultivating coconut can very well cultivate cashewnut and can snap his finger at the janmi because he will have to pay only a nominal rent. Therefore, I support this motion."

The amendment was put and negatived.

Sub-clause (3).

* Mr. A. ACHUTAN:—"Sir, I move that sub-clause (3) be omitted. In doing so, I may be allowed to submit that I find myself in this wilderness of amendments and I feel considerable difficulty in locating them at once. My object, Sir, in moving this amendment is to draw the attention of this House to a crying evil that is shaking the foundations of civic and public life in some of the urban areas and municipal towns of Malabar. The warehouses referred to in this sub-clause are mostly to be found in the municipal towns and urban areas and it is with such buildings and the tenants in occupation of such buildings that this amendment deals. And this Bill after it becomes law will confer some benefits only on the agricultural tenants. It is they who for the first time in the history of legislation will be able to enjoy a spirit of independence and individuality. As a result of this legislation, there will be an improvement in the economic position of the tenants of agricultural holdings, and they will enjoy civic and political freedom. Now after conferring such substantial benefits on the agricultural tenants, to deny those benefits to an important section of the population, namely, the non-agricultural tenants, is in my opinion a bar to the country's progress, economically, socially, and politically. Agriculture of course, I admit, is a very important thing. But no less important are industry, commerce and trade. It is the persons who pursue these avocations of trade, industry and commerce that are coldly left out of the beneficent provisions of this legislation. To leave them in the lurch by means of this sub-clause and expect them to shift for themselves as best they could is not wise. Now land is taken out of the hands or the ownership of the janmi, and on that principle something like a fixity of tenure is given to a tenant. Well, Sir, houses, shops and warehouses can also be said to be in the absolute ownership of the janmi. After giving fixity of tenure to the agricultural tenant why should you deny such fixity of tenure to the non-agricultural tenants who are the mainstay of the urban population in the municipal towns of most parts of Malabar. In the case of these non-agricultural tenants what I submit is that capricious and arbitrary evictions are more fraught with danger to the tenants and also to the general public than in the case of the agricultural tenant. I can quote instances from my own experience in municipal towns of janmis owning warehouses, buildings, etc., having issued 100 to 150 eviction notices on the industrial and commercial tenants of their holdings as the result of municipal elections. I come from the municipality of Cannanore, and if this House were to institute an enquiry as to the facts and circumstances connected with the recent municipal elections, you will find to what extent the janmi is harassing the tenants. The janmi's oppression is so great that self-respecting non-agricultural tenants had to barter their souls for a mess of pottage as a result of the harassment and oppression of the janmi; and the result is that the municipal elections in my part of the country have become reduced to a farce. (Mr. S. Satyamurti:—'They are the same everywhere') It is specially so in North Malabar. I speak from experience and you can take it from me when I say that an ex M.L.C., a member of this House, had to succumb to the machinations of the janmi and record an open vote as if he was an ignorant and illiterate man who did not know how to read and write. He had to go to the polling officer and say, 'Sir, I do not know how to put my mark on the voting paper, and so I will give my vote by open voting! Why? To satisfy the janmi he had to vote according to the janmi's instructions. If an ex M.L.C. can be reduced to this position, to sell his soul for a song, what do you think would be the condition, the miserable condition, of others who are not so fortunate?

[Mr. A. Achutan]

12-45 p.m. "I can quote instances after instances. I will ask the House to institute an enquiry and to appoint a special officer to ascertain and investigate into the history of municipal elections in recent times in North Malabar. You will see a great number of literate and illiterate tenants are under the tender mercy of the janmis and are compelled to give their votes according to the wishes of the janmi. Have you heard of such things in any civilized country except in the land of these harassing and oppressive janmis? Now, I say this again and again to the House that the harassment of these non-agricultural tenants, especially in urban areas, by the janmis is more intensive because the area is limited, and the harassment has become unbearable and intolerable. So long as we exclude from the beneficent provisions of this Bill these non-agricultural tenants, so long, I say, will the elections to local boards and municipalities be a farce."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I am afraid the hon. Member is repeating himself. The rules do not permit an hon. Member to repeat his own arguments."

* Mr. A. ACHUTAN:—"Therefore, what I submit is that in regard to these non-agricultural tenants the necessity for fixity of tenure of some sort or other is as great as it is in the case of agricultural tenants. There is no justification for making fish of one thing and flesh of another. Both stand on the same footing. Both are alike. We have heard of pocket-boroughs in English constitutional history, and I am glad they are dead by now in England. But these pocket-boroughs are very much alive and kicking in my own part of the country. Therefore, I say that if you give fixity of tenure only to the agricultural tenants, you will allow that part of the body politic to grow on healthy lines, but if you exclude the other part and deny fixity of tenure to the non-agricultural tenants, then, the most important part of the body politic will rot, fester, die and decay. Therefore, in the interests of democracy, in the interests of purity of civic and public life, in the interests of commerce and trade, I appeal to this House to take a long and broad view and extend the provisions of this Act to non-agricultural tenants, just as much as they are applicable to the agricultural tenants."

25th September 1929]

[Mr. A. Achutan]

Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"I second it."

Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"Mr. President, Sir, I am exceedingly sorry that the eloquent arguments of my hon. Friend, Mr. Achutan, have not appealed to me at all. Even a casual reader of this Bill will see that it takes the line of least resistance and, without bringing about any revolutionary change, gives certain classes of tenants protection from arbitrary evictions. To extend the provisions of this Bill and the protection of this Bill to houses which have been hired out yesterday, or the day before yesterday, or last year, or two years ago, by a person who owns it, and give the tenant of such a house fixity of tenure will certainly be a most revolutionary change that anybody can effect in the ownership of lands. I do not think that more arguments are necessary to show that this amendment of my hon. Friend cannot possibly be accepted, either by the tenant or the landlord, either by the janmi or the kanamdar, or anybody whatsoever. I therefore submit that the whole House should vote this down and not give any support to it."

The amendment was put and negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Amendment Nos. 17 and 18 are for adding new sub-clauses after sub-clause (3). If amendment No. 16 is carried, permission will be given to move the other sub-clauses; if the amendment is voted against, the new sub-clauses cannot be added. I want to know whether the Movers want to move each of the new clauses separately, and then, if necessary, to move the consequential amendment."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"My amendment No. 16 is only consequential on amendment No. 18."

New sub-clauses after sub-clause (3).

* Mr. K. URFI SAHIB:—"Sir, I move—

'To add the following as sub-clauses (4) and (5):—

"(4) Lands in North Malabar held on 'kanam'—Provided that nominal kanams which are charged over kushikanam or leases of paddy lands shall not be deemed to be kanams for the purpose of this clause.

"(5) Lands given on leases of usufruct."

"I have given yesterday my reasons for excluding kanams in North Malabar. I am afraid the House is prejudiced somehow or other that this matter is put, from the janmi's standpoint. I beg to submit to the House, Sir, that the janmis of North Malabar will not thank me for moving this amendment. In North Malabar, it is generally the big janmis that have big kanams and give their lands on kanam. I told the House yesterday that it is the janmi with a small income that demises his property on kanam. When a man is in need of money he goes about in search of a lender and receives money on the security of land. The period of kanam in North Malabar varies from five to thirty-six years, and in the kanam deeds in North Malabar you will not find any stipulations about renewal, such as are found in kanam deeds of South Malabar. And also there are no provisions in kanam deeds of North Malabar to pay michavaram to the janmi. There is a provision in this Bill to exclude kanams if the kanartham is more than 60 per cent of the janm value of the property. This will not serve the purpose as regards North Malabar kanams. In North Malabar, all kanams, except perhaps nominal kanams in the southern part of Kurumbranad taluk, are real mortgages executed when the proprietor was in need of money. I do not understand why the Government is penalizing a man for not borrowing more money than he needed. Take, for instance, a man who has property worth Rs. 1,000, and when he is in need of money he mortgages that property for Rs. 300. According to the provisions of this Bill, i.e. according to clause 17, the janmi who has leased out or given his property on lease for Rs. 300, because it is less than 60 per cent of the janmam value of the property, will not be allowed to redeem it. Why should a man be penalized for not taking more money than he needed? So, I say that if the tenants have any complaint about kanams created in the southernmost part of the Kurumbranad taluk, they must be included under this Act, and that the rest of the kanams in North Malabar must be excluded. I therefore submit my amendment for the consideration of the House."

[Mr. K. Uppi Sahib]

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" I second it."

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" Speaking on this amendment, may I just appeal through you, Sir, to my hon. Friend to withdraw the amendment at this stage and to bring it more appropriately when discussing clause 17, which excludes certain kinds of kanam from the operation of this Bill? There will also be further time to consider this matter, because some of the grievances which really seem to exist in the case of North Malabar are also found to exist in the case of kanams elsewhere. As clause 17 deals with the exclusion of certain kanams, may I just request him, Sir, to withdraw this amendment at this stage and bring it up along with the other amendment to clause 17?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" If any hon. Member objects to the withdrawal, it will be put to the vote."

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR :—" I object."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" It has not been withdrawn. The question is for the consideration of the House."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" The Government think that in a question of this kind they can leave it to the parties, because the matter is not so clear as some other matters are. No doubt, the Raghavayya Committee dealt with it in a particular manner, the result of which is embodied in section 17 of the Bill. Sir, looking at the two Bills introduced by my hon. Friend the Law Member, when he was a non-official member, I find the exact words used by him in his Bill. Clause 4 in both the Bills say, 'Nothing in this Act shall affect lands in North Malabar held on kanam tenure. Nominal kanams which are charged over kuzhikanams or lease of paddy lands shall not be deemed to be kanams for the purpose of this section.'

25th September 1929]

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

"Now, the amendment just before the House practically embodies that clause of the Bill which is retained in a different language to make it adaptable to the structure of the clause as it stands. The Raghavayya Committee deals with it at page 50 (paragraph 106) as follows:—

'It is only necessary to add that these proposals as regards the kanamdars should apply, in the opinion of the Committee, only to cases of real kanams. It has been represented that in North Malabar there are few kanams of the sort contemplated in the opening paragraph of this chapter and that recent kanams in South Malabar are mostly of the same description, namely, real mortgages in which mortgage money is so large that the interest thereon is ordinarily equal to the income from the land. Mr. Krishnan Nayar has recognized this in his second Bill and also in his new Bill and has provided that the tenancy legislation that he has sought for should not cover kanams in North Malabar. This, the Committee thinks, is not the correct way of dealing with the situation. For, as stated above, there are similar kanams in South Malabar also. It seems to the Committee that the logical method is to exclude altogether from the scope of its proposals all kanams which are really mortgages, and with that view, it proposes to exclude all kanams both in North and South Malabar, where the kanam amount is more than 60 per cent of the janmam value of the land at the time these proposals come into effect, or, as regards future kanams, at the time such kanams are created.'

"This proposal is embodied in clause 17 of the present Bill where in sub-clause (3) the Bill provides, 'Nothing in this section shall apply to a kanam (1) wherein the kanartham exceeds sixty per cent of the value of the janm's rights in the holding; on the date of the commencement of this Act, or in the case of future kanams on the date on which the kanam is created,' etc."

"That is so far as one part of the amendment just now before the House is concerned. Now, the amendment consists of two parts, namely, 'Lands in North Malabar held on kanam provided that nominal kanams, shall not be deemed to be kanams for the purpose of this clause' and 'Lands given on leases of usufruct'. Therefore, while the Raghavayya Committee deals with cases of real mortgage, although they are called kanams, I submit the points raised in this amendment have got to be met by Government. I am only anxious for information. If really there is nothing in the arguments advanced by my hon. Friends in support of the amendment, I think the House will be prepared to vote it down. On the other hand, it seems to me that there are points in the amendment which have not been met by the Raghavayya Committee. I want to know the position of Government with regard to the kanams in North Malabar, which Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill wanted should not be deemed to be kanams for the purpose of this clause, and also lands given on leases of usufruct. So far as North Malabar is concerned, I am prepared to agree with the conclusion of the Raghavayya Committee. I am willing to accept the 60 per cent as a fair test. But as regards the two other points mentioned in the amendment, I should like to know what objection the Government has to accepting them."

Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" Mr. President, Sir, the question of the exclusion of the kanams my friend elaborated yesterday, and I have also tried to meet some of those points. At the same time I said that at the proper time I would be able to give some explanation in regard to it. As regards the amendment itself, if it is accepted as it stands, there will be considerable trouble in deciding what is a nominal kanam and what is not a nominal kanam. Unless we are able to distinguish the two and unless we give some idea on which the courts can decide cases coming before them, this provision would not be workable. The amendment is too vague to be incorporated as a provision in the Act. I oppose it on that particular point itself."

"Then my friend in elaborating his argument said that the conditions in North Malabar are different from the conditions in South Malabar. I deny that proposition. Lands are mortgaged as much in South Malabar as they are in North Malabar. There is no special sanctity in the mortgages created in South Malabar as against mortgages created in North Malabar. In ordinary parlance, the word kanam has been used for hypothecation. Therefore some confusion has arisen in North Malabar which probably has not arisen in South Malabar, which after all is only on account of the linguistic differences in technical terms which are used for particular transactions in the two portions of the district. Therefore, when this question was considered, the Raghavayya Committee said that it would not be possible to distinguish the kanams in North Malabar from the kanams in South Malabar. (Mr. Basheer Ahmad Sayeed : Where ?) Then my friend said that in North Malabar there is no michavaram fixed. I am only drawing attention to the definition of the word 'kanam' in the Act. That definition itself excludes such kanams. Therefore the large class of kanams which my friend has in view will not come within the purview of this Act.

[Mr. K. Krishnan]

"Then my friend drew a distinction between kanams in North Malabar and those in South Malabar and said that there was no question of payment of renewal fees in North Malabar. My friend need have no apprehension whatever that such kanams will be included within the definition of the word 'kanam.' The two points on which my friend argued were considered not only by the Raghavayya Committee but also by the special committee and he need be under no apprehension that such kanams will come within the purview of the Act.

"Then, there is only the real kanam remaining. My friend states there are various portions of Malabar where small kanams are tacked on to the leases for the purpose of recovery of the property on payment of a small fee as court-fee. Within the last few years the janmis have discovered that if they tack on a few rupees of kanam to a lease, then the court-fee that need be paid is only upon the kanam and not on the revenue that is generally payable or the year's rent, as the case may be. Seeing therefore that these kanams have come to stay, and seeing that there are kanams in leases and they are leases of garden lands which have been planted by the tenants, it will not be sought to exclude all these cultivating tenants, who unfortunately have been asked by janmis to tack on a few rupees of kanam to the leases and dignify it by the word kanam. Therefore I ask my friend to agree to the suggestion of my friend from South Kanara and withdraw this amendment, and when we come to discuss section 17, then it may be quite proper for him to make suggestions for improving the section. At present the amendment as it stands can under no circumstances be accepted, because it is so indefinite that no court will be able to act upon it. After all, we are making an enactment for the courts to act upon, and under such circumstances I oppose the amendment."

* "The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Mr. President, Sir, the hon. Member for the University has asked what is the position of Government with reference to these amendments. I take it, Sir, the effect of the first amendment is to exclude from the operation of the Act all lands in North Malabar held on kanam except those nominal kanams mentioned in the proviso—these nominal kanams would be still subject to the provisions of the Act. The position of the Government is that taken up by the Raghavayya Committee, as explained in the passage in the report which the hon. Member for the University has read, viz., that it is better not to exclude any particular kanams from the operation of the Act, but to make provisions the effect of which would be that kanams which are really mortgages would be excluded, whether they are in North Malabar or in South Malabar; and the Raghavayya Committee took the figure of 60 per cent which is based upon the figure of 66½ per cent mentioned in the Transfer of Property Act in relation to mortgages.

[Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell]

"As regards lands given on leases of usufructs, I understand that to mean the land on which trees are situated is not leased to the tenant, but the tenant is allowed to have only the use of the fruits of the trees. On the East Coast, we are accustomed to tree pattas, that is to say, to lease of trees either by Government or by landlords apart from the land, and it is usual to talk of the grant of patta for trees as well as patta for land. This Bill relates only to leases of land and not to leases of trees without the land. A tenant is defined as any person who has paid or has agreed to pay rent or other consideration for his being allowed by another to enjoy the land of the latter, etc. The Act would not apply to a lease for the usufruct of trees without the land on which they are situated."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Sir, I am sorry the hon. the Revenue Member has deemed fit to oppose the motion. It is a well-known fact that conditions in North Malabar have greatly altered. It has been pointed out by my friend that the janmis in order to facilitate suits have put in small sums as kanams. That is just the reason why we are coming in with this amendment. A few years ago, these kanams were not there. The new definition seeks to bring this class of leases within its scope. No one who knows the facts would have thought of including North Malabar kanams in this legislation. There is another difficulty. Originally it used to be the rule that no michavaram of any sort was payable to the janmi. Now the janmis get two seers of rice, etc., as michavaram. The consequence is the conditions which we have mentioned in regard to kanams are present in these cases. The test of 60 per cent does not really apply. In fact, I have collected a large number of instances to show that the 60 per cent rule will not exclude the kanams of North Malabar. Here is a typical instance. The rent payable in paddy is 1,200 seers. The money value of 1,200 seers is about 130 rupees. Therefore the rent is Rs. 156. The kanam on that holding is Rs. 1,750. Interest on kanam is Rs. 157-8-0 and the Government revenue Rs. 12. The michavaram is Rs. 38. The result is a minus balance of Rs. 51-8-0.

"If the interest on the kanam amount is calculated at the rate specified in the Bill; if you also take into account the michavaram that has to be paid annually and then the Government revenue, there would be nothing left as profit to be taken into account for calculating the renewal fee. That is a real injury. Therefore if you allow North Malabar kanams, whether nominal or otherwise, the difficulty will be that you will be taking away the rights of janmis altogether. Now, if fixity of tenure is given to the rights of janmis altogether, the result will be that the janmi will have to live on the michavaram. It would be tantamount to expropriation. It is therefore desirable to exclude the kanams of North Malabar. I have an amendment lower down in which I have suggested the exclusion of kanams in the taluks of North Malabar and gardens in the taluks of Ponnani and Calicut. I request the House to pass this amendment."

[25th September 1929]

The amendment was put and declared lost.

A poll was demanded and the House divided thus:

The amendment was negatived.

* The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"Mr. President, I beg to move to add the following as sub-clause (4):—

(4) Lands held by non-cultivating kanamdar, non-cultivating kuzhi-kanamdar, non-cultivating verumpattamdar and non-cultivating customary verumpattamdar.

"The object of my amendment is to eliminate all classes of non-cultivators. I am at a loss to understand why such a valuable right should be taken away from the jammis and given to non-cultivating people. In every land legislation, all intermediaries are eliminated. We have as a parallel the Estates Land Act where the izaradars are given no occupancy right. This is a similar legislation and as such I think it is highly unjust to confer the right of occupancy on non-cultivating classes. Since the object of all legislation in respect of land should be to avoid multiplicity of proprietors, in this case also it should be done and my amendment should be acceptable to the House."

[25th September 1929]

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD:—"I second the amendment."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"My friend Mr. Muppil Nayar could have as well moved an amendment to the effect that this Bill which has been introduced by the hon. the Revenue Member may not be passed into law at all."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"That comes at a later stage. I am sure he will make a very interesting speech then."

Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"Two opportunities are taken, one in the beginning and one possibly at the end and this is the opportunity taken at the beginning."

"Sir, I submit that no motion could be more fatal to this Bill than the one which has been just now moved by my hon. Friend Mr. Muppil Nayar. The whole problem in Malabar has been the problem of the kanamdar. The trouble in Malabar all these fifty years has been due to the fact that kanamdars who enjoyed fixity at one time have been by force of circumstances deprived of that fixity. The kanamdars who constitute a very large percentage of tenure-holders were cultivators. But some of them have ceased to be cultivators now whilst others are still actually cultivating. The time when they ceased to be cultivators and the reason why they have ceased to be cultivators have to be considered before the House votes upon this proposition one way or the other and gives a decision whether only cultivating kanamdars can be given the protection this Bill seeks to give. You will see from the reports of the Raghavayya Committee and from the statistics collected by the committee that a very large percentage of the cultivated acreage in Malabar is held by kanamdars. Some of them are cultivators of the whole soil and some of them are cultivators of only a portion; because, as I have stated in my dissenting minute, in recent times there has been a change. On account of certain social troubles in Malabar some of these kanamdars have ceased to be cultivators. I have mentioned in my dissenting minute that all these kanamdars were at one time actual cultivators. With the spread of English education and with the spread of new ideas during recent years, there has been strained relations between the head of a family and the junior members thereof and it is to remedy that evil that another Bill is going to be introduced in this Council called the Marumakkattayam Bill. Formerly the kanamdars were actually cultivating the soil but when the karanavan who is the uncle and not the father of the remaining members of the family neglected the interest of the tarwad and cared more for his wife and children and utilized the surplus income for the aggrandisement of his wife and children, the junior members naturally felt that they were not bound to work for the tarwad and increase his income. The result was that there were very few members in the family to cultivate the soil. Instead of cultivating the soil and increasing the income of the tarwad, what the anandravans did was to arrest their claim to maintenance and get it either through court or otherwise. Naturally, therefore, there were few or none in the tarwad to till the land. As the karanavan had to maintain the family and as the sole income of the tarwad was from the land, he had to let out the land on verumpattam. That is the reason why some of these kanamdars have ceased to be cultivating kanamdars. But whether they have been cultivating or not cultivating, the kanamdars were the persons that were solely responsible for the improvement of the lands."

[Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar]

[25th September 1929]

1-30 P.M. The verumpattamdars were often changed and as the Raghavayya Committee makes it clear in their report, they had no abiding interest in the lands. Their position of course should be improved. But till now they were only tenants at will. They did not improve the lands because they had not got the necessary money. For centuries the kanamdars were in touch with the lands and they had to spend all the money that is necessary for improving the land."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The House will now adjourn and re-assemble after lunch at 2-30 p.m."

After lunch (2-30 p.m.)

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Mr. Madhavan Nayar will continue his speech on the amendment of the Muppil Nayar."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"Sir, I have been trying to show you that most of these kanamdars were actual cultivators of the soil and many of them still continue to be the cultivators. Some have ceased to be cultivators of their holdings or portion of their holdings. Sir, this change of cultivating kanamdar into non-cultivating kanamdar and a non-cultivating kanamdar into a cultivating kanamdar is going on day after day, year in and year out. This is seen from the piece of evidence collected by the Raghavayya Committee. On page 113 they quote the example of a cultivating kanamdar who was cultivating his lands till last year and who ceased cultivation and let out his land to a verumpattamdar. For several reasons kanamdars cease to be cultivating kanamdars. It may be that a person who was cultivating his land or the persons with whose help he has been cultivating leave their places for some reason or another and their properties have to be leased on verumpattam lease. Several cultivating tenants thus become non-cultivating kanamdars, so that what I submit is you cannot make a hard and fast distinction between a cultivating kanamdar and a non-cultivating kanamdar. One who is a cultivating kanamdar this year may turn out to be a non-cultivating kanamdar next year and one who is a non-cultivating kanamdar this year may turn out to be a cultivating kanamdar next year. Whether cultivating or non-cultivating these people have been in possession of the land and enjoyed the land for centuries. It is not a case of a few men coming recently into the possession of the lands, e.g., a few Government officials and a few vakils. How absurd that suggestion is will appear from the fact that there are thousands and thousands of kanam families in Malabar. The number of vakils in Malabar are only very few. There are only about 400 vakils and out of these only about 100 hold property. To say that kanamdars are all vakils is absurd. When there are thousands of acres in possession of kanamdars and enjoyed by these kanam families, to say that a few vakils and a few officials enjoy the whole or even an appreciable extent of these lands is, to say the least, ridiculous. Kanamdars are not middlemen. They were in touch with the lands for a number of years. They were cultivating the lands for number of years. They improved the land. The verumpattamdar to whom we propose to give fixity of tenure has not been able to do anything because he was poor. Whatever my friend may blurt from there, the truth is this. The Raghavayya Committee, which consisted of such janmi representatives as the Raja of Kollengode and Mr. T. C. Narayana Kurup, recognized the claims of the non-cultivating kanamdar. You will remember with what vehemence and with what intensity of feeling we opposed the constitution of that committee which was composed mainly of reactionaries who had no sympathy with the tenants. That committee went into the country and collected evidence and made enquiries on a large scale. For the first time they recognized the claims of the kanamdar and they realized the justice of making no distinction between a cultivating kanamdar and a non-cultivating kanamdar. The result was that they reported that all the kanamdars without any distinction must be given some protection against unjust and arbitrary eviction.

[25th September 1929] [Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar]

"Sir, I do not mean to take up the time of the Council by going in detail into the vexed question as to whether they are the proprietors of the soil or not. It might be pointed out that some eminent men have stated that these kanamdars are not co-proprietors of the land at all. I shall confine myself to quoting a passage from the Raghavayya Committee's report when they deal with the historical argument for giving protection to these kanamdars. They say on page 21: 'The documents that were collected by Mr. Logan were also examined by Sir William Robinson who too was in Malabar for a long time.' In the note that Sir William Robinson recorded after this examination he differed in some respects from Mr. Logan and even strongly criticized him. But with reference to the nature of the kanam right, his views are clear and emphatic. Sir William Robinson asserts and repeats the assertion in several parts of his note that the kanakar was an ordinary landholder and that kanam like kaniachi, mirasi or muli of other districts denoted ownership, the ancient ryotwari proprietorship in land of South India. Kanam right according to him was an ancient immemorial, indefeasible and complete hereditary right of property which was recognized and affirmed alike by the common law of the land and popular consensus of ages, had stood severe tests and had been defended no less earnestly than the best titles to land in England. The kanakars in his opinion were a body of influential and peaceful inhabitants, the proprietors and landholders of the country, persons interested in having the common law of the land, the agrarian law of property, the kana-janma maryada maintained and enforced. They often exercised great strength and independence. A mere fugitive right of possession with menace of forfeiture and eviction at will was never a characteristic of the tenure known as kanam. Gentlemen (Ories of 'Order, order') I beg your pardon. To continue my quotation this is what they say—

'The kanakars did not belong to the category of intermediaries and speculators to which it has now become the fashion in some quarters to relegate them.

They were neither mortgagees nor tenants who tolerated change or ouster. The conclusions of Sir William Robinson regarding the ancient land tenures of Malabar are corroborated by the statements of Sir Thomas Munro, Mr. Ellis and other earlier authorities as to the ryotwari character of all landed property throughout the West Coast and especially in Malabar.'

"Sir, I refer to this passage and say that you cannot so very easily dismiss with impunity that assertion. It is perfectly unsustainable to say that these kanamdars are not co-proprietors and that they are only middlemen and speculators. They are not middlemen, they are not speculators, nor is it true that they have come into possession of lands as investors of money."

[Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar] [25th September 1929]

"Mr. President, I shall proceed in spite of all the interruption from that side of the House. The House will easily see that it is not a case of kanamdar being a speculator or a middleman, but it is a case of his having proprietary interest in the land. But, Sir, I am not prepared to stand on that ground alone. Whether you recognize him as a proprietor of the soil or not, I do not very much care. I base my argument on economic grounds also. I say the kanamdar is responsible for the improvement of the land. I refer again to the Raghavayya Committee's report of which the Raja of Kollengode has been a Member. On page 47 they say—

'The problem has not been so easy of solution as regards the non-cultivating kanamdar. But the Committee has come to the conclusion that in this matter no distinction need be made between him and the cultivating kanamdar. In the first place a non-cultivating kanamdar has in spite of the fact that the courts have held for over seventy years that the kanam is redeemable in practice been redeemed in very few cases. There are numerous families which have been allowed to hold on kanam the same lands for a century and over and if evictions have attracted special attention it is partly because in spite of the courts' decrees the kanamdars have been believing wrongly it may be that they would be allowed to continue on the land if only they paid the renewal fee and rent regularly' and so on. Then they say 'Apart from this the impression left on us by the evidence is, that in many cases these kanamdars must have materially contributed' mark the words please.

'These kanamdars must have materially contributed during long course of years towards the cost of improving the lands which they hold and often for conversion of waste into cultivable ones and are materially assisting in the cultivation of the lands by advancing to the actual cultivator funds necessary for cultivation. Such services would in the opinion of the Committee be necessary at any rate for a fairly long time to come. The verumpattamdar to whom the Committee is recommending the grant of a qualified fixity is not in the majority of cases likely to find funds' and so on.'

"So that, it will be seen that the person who is responsible for the improvement of the land is the kanakar. It may be mentioned by the janmi representative on the other side that the rent that was fixed in the old days was lower than the rent that might be, actually got from the property at present. How can there be this difference. If as a matter of fact the janmi is the actual proprietor of the soil and if the janmi is entitled to whole rent also and if there has been no improvement in the land, why did the janmi deprive himself of the full rent that can be derived from the property?

p.m

"Either it must be because the kanamdars are recognized to be the co-proprietors of the soil and that they are entitled to a share of the produce or it must be that the present rent that you collect is the result of improvement by him, the conversion, by the kanamdar, of one crop into two crops, of constructing wells, deepening lands, reclaiming new lands and so on. For all these things the janmi did not contribute even a pie. It is not pretended by the janmis that they contributed to those improvements. If anybody is responsible for that, it is not the verumpattamdar who is too impetuous, but it is the kanamdar; he alone has been in a position to spend money on those improvements. I know it very well and Mr. Unnikrishna knows it also. We know as a matter of fact that Malabar is subjected to heavy rainfall and floods every year. The verumpattamdar goes and reports to the kanamdar about the damages to the land. It is the kanamdar who repairs the breached bund and puts up embankments in the land. Thus you will see that the kanamdar—whether cultivating or non-cultivating—whether he has been in possession of the land or not—was the man who was responsible for the improvement of the land. In Madhava Rao's Bill and in the Bill prepared by Mr. Innes his claims were recognized. The Raghavayya Committee which was constituted by the Government went to the country, collected evidence and examined witnesses, and the representatives of the janmis themselves admitted that kanamdars are really entitled to protection. And the Government has now come forward for the first time recognizing the rights of the kanamdars. The janmis may say that they are entitled to compensation. Whether they are entitled to compensation or not will be discussed later on. But do not say that those persons who have been in touch with the land, who have been in possession of the land, and who have been cultivating the land are not entitled to protection. While the janmis who did not reclaim the land, who did not improve the land, who did not spend a pie upon it, say they are entitled to the land and to enjoy the land, why not the kanamdar who is responsible for the improvement of the land, who has been cultivating the land and who has been in possession of the land? He is the sole man who ought to be protected next to the verumpattamdar. I certainly plead that verumpattamdar has to be protected. But secure to the kanamdar also his legitimate rights to which he is richly entitled. Do not drive him away. If you do not protect the kanamdar, you will destroy the backbone of the people of Malabar. The poor kanamdars—52,000 families—have been the cultivators of five lakhs of land; they are the people who ought to be protected. It is for them that we plead; you have to protect them. I submit, Sir, this matter vitally affects the interests of Malabar. Do not be carried away by arguments that kanamdars are middlemen. I do not want protection; some of us need not be protected. But you have to protect the four tenants of Malabar, the real persons who were responsible for the improvement of Malabar, the persons who reclaimed waste lands into cultivable lands, improved them and made them what they are to-day. I therefore submit that you ought not to make any distinction between cultivating and non-cultivating kanamdars. The Raghavayya Committee has recognized this fact and you have to accept it. We do not want that you must give them fresh rights. They have been enjoying certain rights for centuries; let them enjoy them now also. Give the janmis what is their due. It is impossible for some kanamdars to pay the heavy compensation prescribed by the Bill; such people may have to go out; we cannot help it. But those people who are able to pay such a heavy price and who are prepared to retain the land ought to be allowed to enjoy it, for they have been enjoying it for centuries. They are the persons who are entitled to be in possession of the land. Do not deprive them of their right to remain in the land, provided they give whatever compensation that is fixed by the Act. That is our prayer, Sir, and that is what the Bill provides for. Therefore the amendment of my hon. Friend, the Muppil Nayar of Kavalappara, ought to be opposed. The janmis profess sympathy with the verumpattamdar. The amendments that have been tabled by hon. Members on this side to several clauses are really calculated to improve the condition of verumpattamdars. We will support the verumpattamdars; we shall see whether the members on the other side also will do the same."

[25th September 1929] [Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I think the hon. Member is anticipating debate."

Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"I realize it myself; therefore I stop there. My submission to you, Sir, is you cannot make any distinction between cultivating and non-cultivating kanamdars. You have to vote down this amendment and support the proposition put forward by the representatives of kanamdars in this House. I therefore appeal to the House to oppose this amendment and to throw it out."

[25th September 1929]

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Mr. President, Sir, it is a misfortune to have to follow a speaker like my hon. Friend. (A voice:—A real misfortune.) It is a real misfortune, because I have neither the eloquence nor the extraordinary quickness of perception of my hon. Friend. I belong to a backward tribe. I belong to a class that cannot improve themselves or their land. He belongs to a class of enlightened patriots who, at the expense of their neighbours easily improve themselves and their lands. This, Sir, is a matter in which we should not be carried away by the excitement of the moment. This is a matter that affects us vitally and the House ought to take such an interest in it as would enable it to come to a decision impartially. Excited speeches can break no bones however good; I know they will attract a larger audience in this House than a calm and cautious statement of facts. The hon. Gentleman opened his remarks by entering an apologia for the non-cultivating kanamdars. He told us that kanamdars were cultivators till a few years ago; and that they have ceased to cultivate because there were family quarrels, or because Marumakkathayam law was in force. It is immaterial whether the kanamdar has got a quarrel in his house or not. The only thing that is relevant for consideration is 'is he or is he not a cultivator'. If he says that he is a cultivator, then all this excitement, all this heat, all this tub-thumping is unnecessary. He ought to feel perfectly safe and not oppose this motion. But since he fears so much, I ask the House to draw the only sensible conclusion that he is not a cultivator. He is not speaking for the cultivating kanamdar but speaks for a class that is not in touch with the land. (Mr. J. A. Saldanha:—Are you in touch with the land?) The hon. Member, Mr. Saldanha, asks me if I am in touch with land. Granted, I am not. Why should I be deprived of this land? Why should other people be given this land? The reason is or is alleged to be that I am not a cultivator myself. A man who is not cultivating the land and improving it ought not to hold it. I think, the proposition put in that form has something to be said for it. But why should another man who is not cultivating it get a preference over me. If I am punished for one sort of crime, why should another man be given a reward for exactly the same crime? I do not quite understand the reason. If my hon. Friend wants the House to believe that the kanamdar is the very angel who protects the land in Malabar, I want to disabuse the House of that impression. He said Europeans might say this and their opinions should not count. But the only authority he could cite in his favour was an European. I believe Mr. Robinson was not a Malayalee. Sir, there is considerable advantage in quoting Europeans in this connection, because these men have been officers who have been in touch with the people, who have studied the question sometimes under instructions from the Government, sometimes, because they took an interest in the problem. They have, without any prejudice or bias one way or the other, come to certain conclusions. It is these conclusions that have been canvassed again and again by each party in turn. What is the opinion of the first European who formed a view of the matter after investigation? I may inform the House at once that no one, at any time, has said that kanamdars were co-proprietors with the janmi. The only authority to which my hon. Friend could refer in order to make out a case was the theory of Mr. Logan which has been examined and thrown away by every competent observer who has come into contact with this problem. The theory of co-proprietorship is not relevant in the connection, either for the reason that the Government proceed on the basis of the present legal position of the parties. The relationship that exists between the kanamdar and the janmi is the relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee. The janmi is the sole proprietor of the soil and the kanamdar is a mortgagee with a very limited interest, the right of holding the land for a period of twelve years and at the end of which period he is to go out when he is paid his kanam and the value of his improvements, if any. In this piece of legislation with which we are concerned, I think it is absolutely irrelevant to speak of historical grounds. All those historical theories have been taken out of the field. I consider it is not necessary to deal with the question from the point of view of historical arguments. All that we are concerned with is 'should the kanamdar who is not a cultivator get fixity of tenure along with the verumpattamdar'. Let others speak. There are certain people who have studied this question very carefully. It is not the Raghavayya Committee alone that has gone into it. That Committee was particularly asked to bear in mind the existing rights of parties; they were asked to frame a Bill on the basis of the law as it stood. The Government said—in fact they laid an injunction on the Committee—that they should remember that for three-quarters of a century the British courts have held that the kanamdar is only a mortgagee and the janmi the absolute proprietor of the soil. They were asked to take into account another matter also. They were asked to frame proposals which would include reasonable compensation for the janmi for the rights that may be taken away from him. The Raghavayya Committee have gone beyond the instructions given to them.

"Their draft Bill violates instructions issued by the Government. The Government vetoed the Bill of Mr. Krishnan Nayar passed by the Council on the specific ground that it was a confiscatory measure. Now, Sir, here is a Bill which the Raghavayya Committee has prepared which contains not a single element of compensation. How is it, I ask, that the Government have thought it possible to accept a Bill, which is, really vitiated by the same tendencies as those embodied in Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill? It is really difficult to explain. I would therefore like to elicit information from the Government as to why this Bill has been accepted by them in view of the protestations they made on the last occasion and have been making for the last three quarters of a century. It is not possible to explain their attitude. If the Government are prepared to say that they have enough justification for doing so, then I shall accept their position. But what is the use? This Bill in providing for fixity of tenure for kanamdars, is doing a great deal of injury to us, a greater injury than the Bill of Mr. Krishnan Nayar sought to inflict on us. In fact, this Bill—I have no desire to elaborate this point—is a great deal more confiscatory than Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill, in that it contains provisions which take away the rights, the immemorial right of the janmis in their lands without compensation of any sort. Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill gave us a larger renewal fee than what this Bill provides for, and that is the only kind of so-called compensation available to us now. If kanamdars are cultivators, they have nothing to fear; but if they are not, let us examine what they really are. What kind of people are they? Are they the men to whom may be entrusted the destinies of the poor, the impecunious, the hard-working and toiling verumpattamdars; are they the class of people who could be depended upon not to sit tight over the verumpattamdars and to treat them well? Test them properly. Does their character, does their past, justify it? Have they got in them any of the elements which go as I am except, of course, in the case of the cultivator—

'Which may limit the powers they now enjoy and curtail their rights and privileges. I doubt if they will object so strongly to my proposals as they did to the recent tenancy legislation in Cochin, for I have been careful to confine.'

"I request the House carefully to listen to this passage:—

'I doubt if they will object so strongly to my proposals as they did to the recent tenancy legislation in Cochin, for I have been careful to confine my proposals mainly to cultivating tenants and have done little for the non-cultivating middleman. But any tenancy legislation must affect vested interests, and as I have already noted, the sentiment of ownership in Malabar is particularly strong. This sentiment will be one ground of objection, but the janmis will also recognize that there is little finality in tenancy legislation and will see that the Bill now proposed will almost certainly be the prelude to further and possibly more stringent legislation.'

"Sir, if a kanamdar who has come into the land after paying a certain amount of money as a mortgagee can acquire so great a love for it, what should be the feeling of a man like myself who has owned the land for several centuries? Sir, whether Parasurama made Malabar or not, we do not know; but I can say this, that the kanamdars did not make it. We have been holding it for a long time, and we have established a title for it. My title is ancestral. There is no use of my friend getting excited over a matter like this, because the kanamdar is a man who has been on the land only for a small number of years, who has not been cultivating it and who has been treating upon helpless people like worms under his feet. Sir Charles Innes then goes on:

'Nor can I hope to have much support from the more influential classes of karamdars, namely, the vakils and the professional men, the men who invest their surplus cash in land, and who, since the janmam rights rarely come into the market, are perforce compelled to take up kanam holdings. It is these men who make most use of the Press.'

"My hon. Friend Mr. Madhavan Nayar was referring to the agitation that has been going on. Let us see who is it that agitates in Malabar—not the class from which I come. In fact they do not know how to agitate effectively."

Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"Your agitation is more effective."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Is it at all possible? Do you expect my friends the janmis to agitate? Have they got the voice to agitate; have they the Press and the platform at their disposal, all of which are accessible to the class from which my hon. Friend, Mr. Madhavan Nayar comes? I say we do not know how to agitate. We have not got the facilities for such agitation. The Press is with them; the Bar is with them; every public orator is attached to the cause which is against us. That is the reason why we have not been able to agitate. Not more than half a dozen janmis of Malabar can be found as vakils. If there are at least a few men, then I do not think my friend would have had the chance that he has now. Unfortunately, we have not got the facilities, and they have taken advantage of it. We are now not even able to defend our rights, our hereditary rights as against the rights of people who came in yesterday. That is the position, Sir, to which we have been reduced. Now, let me read on:

'It is these men who make most use of the Press, and who are most insistent on the necessity of restoring the kanamdar to the position he once held as a sort of co-sharer with the janmi. From my point of view and in the conditions of the present day, however, these men are mere middlemen, and in my view, they must be left mainly to take care of themselves.'

'I can see no possible justification for Government's interfering to any great extent between them and their janmis.'

[Mr. E. Sankaran Unni] [25th September 1929]

"And that is the view that was advocated by Government through their spokesman, the hon. Sir Thomas Moir, when he opposed Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill when it came before this House. I should be delighted to hear Sir Thomas rising in this House and giving his explanation as to why this Bill comes up before this House while the other Bill was vetoed."

Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"What about the Government?"

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Leave it to the Government to answer that. They can take care of themselves much better than you can. I will go on with the quotation:

'It is the cultivating tenants, whether they hold directly under a janmi or under a middleman, whose interests I have most at heart, and it is just this class that is least able to make itself heard by lawful means. Any legislation designed mainly to protect their interests therefore is bound to be difficult and bound to meet with organized agitation, clamour and opposition. Nevertheless I hold strongly that such legislation should be undertaken. I believe the lot of the cultivating tenants in Malabar to be deplorable, and I am convinced that the disabilities under which they lie are unfavourable to the progress and prosperity of the district.'

"Now, Sir, I do not think I need keep you longer. I cannot add to what has been said by Sir Charles Innes. If the House thinks, after having listened to this, that the non-cultivating kanamdar is a person who deserves to be permanently fixed on the land, by all means give him the right and turn out us away if you like."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Sir, I must congratulate my hon. Friend on his eloquence. I think, if I were free to reconsider the whole question, I would abolish all the non-cultivating kanamdars and I would pack all the landlords of this country and send them all away, and leave it to the cultivating tenant to make the best of the land. But, we have got to consider facts as they are, and the whole of the matter is this. Before I go on, let me say at once that I thoroughly agree with my hon. Friend in regard to the various views to which this Government have committed themselves, from time to time. There is no doubt whatever of the vehemence with which Sir Thomas Moir attacked Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill. I was so glad that my Friend had attacked the Bill so loudly, which no other Member would have done on any floor of any House. The Government Order rejecting the Bill which was passed by this House entirely supports the point of view of my hon. Friend, the janmi expert. But, we in this House are concerned with the Government which is in charge of the Bill to-day. This Government stands committed to this Bill. We are glad it stands committed. We are also glad that it is inconsistent in that attitude, because our claim has always been that this Government rarely knows its mind and persists in it. While agreeing with my hon. Friend that the Government was so inconsistent, you will excuse me if I prefer the attitude which the Government takes to-day in vetoing the Bill of my hon. Friend the Law Member."

"As far as one effect of this attempted legislation is concerned, Mr. President, I should like to congratulate the cultivating tenants of Malabar and this House on the happiness that is in store for them, because of the conflict between the janmi and the kanamdar, you will notice that in their anxiety to seem fair and just, both the janmis and the tenants will run a race and say 'we are quite all right with the cultivating tenant and I only want this neighbour not to come in and get what I think he should not get'. That is all to the good. I hope that when the House proceeds to discuss the position of the cultivating tenant, the House will take advantage of the anxiety of the janmi and of the kanamdar, and of their sympathy with the cultivating tenant, and give him the position which he ought to occupy. ('Hear, hear.') Sir, so far as the point of the non-cultivating kanamdar is concerned, I was a little surprised that neither my hon. Friend from Malabar behind me, nor the janmi expert referred to the other classes of tenants referred to in the amendment which is now under discussion, namely, non-cultivating kuzhikanamdar, non-cultivating verumpattamdar and non-cultivating customary verumpattamdar. That only makes my conviction stronger that the two actors in this legislation are the janmis and tenants and the others are only outsiders. Therefore, both my Friends, while they fought each other, never said a word about the position of the other classes of non-cultivating tenants. Now, Sir, on this matter, I would like to invite my hon. Friend the expert member's attention to two very significant notes as I consider them on pages 95-98 of the report of the Raghavayya Committee. The first note which I refer to is that signed by a friend whom we all know well and this is the Raja of Kollengode, who was for a time the Revenue Member to the Government of Madras. He says: 'In view, however, of the situation created by the circumstances referred to in the Government Order constituting this Committee, I have agreed to the proposals made in the report in a spirit of compromise and expediency'. The report says that you must give the right of renewal. That is not fixity of tenure. We are not giving fixity of tenure to the non-cultivating kanamdars at all. What we are giving is the statutory right to renewal, subject to statutory obligations and subject to the payment of renewal fee. I may state at once that I can understand the janmis' point of view if they claim that the provisions in regard to renewal fees and fair rents are not adequate. When the question of fair rent comes up for consideration, I am sure the House will give their amendments sympathetic consideration. But now, to seek to go back upon the compromise arrived at by the committee is to repeat the very mistake which the Government of Madras has done in this case and incur the same odium. The Raja of Kollengode . . ."

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"On a point of personal explanation, Mr. President. The Raja of Kollengode never consented. He is one of the janmis, but not the most important janmi. If you regard his views as a janmi, he is only one of the smaller janmis in Malabar. He never represented our views in the committee. He was invited by the Government. We disown him altogether. It may be that he might have compromised the position. That does not mean that we accept the views to which he committed himself. Let not the name of the Raja of Kollengode be brought in this connexion."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"I am thankful for the interruption. But my hon. Friend is also here as a Government nominee. So, the Raja of Kollengode and my hon. Friend are quits on that matter. I know him more than what my hon. Friend the Janmi Expert knows him. I think he has influence in Malabar; I think he is more in touch with the janmis of Malabar than my hon. Friend, and I think he is much more than that, therefore I suggest that the House will not be committing a very serious mistake if it takes the Raja of Kollengode as slightly more representing the janmi . . ."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"May I request the hon. Member not to refer to the members of the committee, because they are not here to accept the challenge and answer. It may be unfair to them."

25th September 1929]

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"I quite agree with you, Sir. The point I want to say was this. Because my hon. Friend challenges the authority of a member of the committee on whose report this Bill has been made, I want to draw the attention of the House to the fact that the Raja of Kollengode has said 'I have agreed to the proposals made in the report in a spirit of compromise and expediency.' I therefore suggest that my hon. Friend would stop his fight with the Raja of Kollengode, and agree to the proposals in the same spirit of compromise and expediency. Am I asking too much of my friend when I say that we should also look at this proposal in a spirit of compromise and expediency? Then, Sir, Mr. T. C. Narayana Kurup is also a representative of the janmi class. . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Order, order. I think it is for the Government to state whether any member of the committee sat on it in his individual capacity or as a representative of any particular interests. When a challenge is thrown by any member regarding the representative character of a particular member of the committee, I think it will be to the advantage of the House to leave it to Government to defend whether a particular member sat on the committee in a representative capacity or not. When there is a challenge for the members of the committee to come into the House and explain the position, I think it will be uncharitable on the part of the Members of the House to attack them regarding their representative character or otherwise. I only suggest that it may be left to the Government to state whether particular members sat in their individual capacity or in a representative capacity."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"I am only ascertaining whether he belongs to the janmi class. I was saying that Diwan Bahadur T. C. Narayana Kurup, who belongs to the janmi class, says on page 96 of this report: 'Under these circumstances, I thought it would be safer to indicate the lines on which legislation, if at all undertaken, might, without serious danger, be attempted. The Bill that this Committee has proposed is the result of a series of compromises, and I have signed the report on that basis.' I merely want to quote this to janmi members. The Raghavayya Committee have accepted this Bill as it stands and on their report this present Bill is practically based."

"Now, Sir, as to the various classes of tenants, who are sought to be exempted from the scope of this Bill, so far as the verumpattamdars are concerned, they are the class first dealt with in the Raghavayya Committee report. They say that although they naturally prefer to give the maximum rights to the cultivating verumpattamdar, they say on page 45 of the report:

'The Committee, however, is of opinion that even those who are not actual cultivators but have subleased their lands should have the same option as is granted to those in actual possession. The question may be raised as to why a non-cultivating tenant of these classes, who is only an intermediary, should be shown any consideration at all. But this question is similar to the one which can be raised in regard to all intermediaries in Malabar, and the reasons are nearly the same as those which will be stated hereafter with reference to the Committee's recommendation to give a similar option to the non-cultivating tenant.'

"Then, we go to the most important point of the amendment, namely, that the benefit of this Bill is not to enure to the non-cultivating kanamdar. Now, Sir, I want to address one argument on that point for the consideration of the House. The history of this legislation shows that the kanamdar came within the scope of this legislation first, and that the cultivating tenant came in later, mainly on the suggestion of outsiders like myself. The earlier attempts at legislation were merely to confer certain rights on all the kanamdars; and in the first Bill which was introduced by my hon. Friend the Law Member and which was passed by this Council, there was a distinction made between kanamdars and kanamdars, according as the date of their kanams. Sections 6 and 7 of the Bill as passed by the House, which was later on vetoed by the Governor reads thus:

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

‘6. A cultivating kanamdar or a kuzhikanam or other tenant who is in possession under a demise or lease made before or after the date of passing this Act shall have a permanent right of occupancy in his holding and shall not be evicted therefrom except as provided in this Act.’

‘7. A non-cultivating kanamdar or kuzhikanam tenant of a holding under a demise or lease which was made in or before 1863 and has since been periodically renewed shall have a permanent right therein and shall not be ejected from the same except as provided in this Act.’

“The present Bill, however, is based upon the labours of this Committee, and this Committee having gone into the whole question has suggested as many as six reasons why even in the case of non-cultivating kanamdar, the rights which the Bill confers upon him should be conferred. The reasons are given in pages 47 and 48 of the report. The Committee say that ‘in the first place a non-cultivating kanamdar has, in spite of the fact that the courts have held for over seventy years that the kanam is redeemable, in practice been redeemed in very few cases’. That, I think, is a statement of fact, and so far nobody has challenged that fact.”

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—“May I say one word, Sir. It has been the consistent cry of kanamdars that they are being evicted. The whole agitation has centred round that, and eviction has become the rule.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“I regard that as coming from a partisan of this Bill, and I prefer to take the statement of the Committee as correct, rather than the one coming from a partisan.”

“The second reason adduced is that ‘in many cases these kanamdars must have materially contributed during a long course of years towards the cost of improving the lands which they hold and often for conversion of waste lands into cultivable ones, and are materially assisting in the proper cultivation of the lands by advancing to the actual cultivator funds necessary for carrying on cultivation.’ I submit this is also a reason why the janmis should not get this right. Thirdly, Sir, ‘the verumpattamdar is not in the majority of cases likely to find funds from his own pocket for the improvement of agriculture in the near future’. That seems to me a very strong argument in his favour. After all, we who are outsiders want to see that land becomes more and more prosperous, and it can become prosperous, only if the cultivator is given the time, the labour and energy as also the requisite money to improve the land. I am satisfied, as the Committee is satisfied, that the kanamdar is a necessary unit in the economic and social structure of Malabar. The time may come when we shall have to do away with intermediaries. But as yet the time has not come for that.”

“Then the Committee goes on to say that since the cultivating tenant cannot find money, ‘it would be an ideal state of things if the owner of the soil, the janmi, could advance the necessary funds to him on easy terms. It will not be very wrong, however, to say that in the case of most of the janmis, especially those who have a large number of tenants under them, they would find it difficult to do so. As we have suggested elsewhere, if the grant of fixity to the ordinary verumpattamdar is to result in any real benefit it would be no good to drive him into the hands of the village sowcar.’

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

This is another way of saying ‘Give him land, do not give him money, and who will reap the benefit?’ Not the janmi, not the kanamdar and not even the tenant, but somebody else who will come hereafter. That seems to me a goal which we should avoid. The Committee then proceeds thus: ‘It seems to the Committee, in view of the several considerations adverted to above, that any legislation which does not take note of the kanamdar would be truncated and would not bring about that cordial relationship between the landlord and the tenant which it is the object of the Government to bring about.’ Now, Sir, we have had already a committee, a round table conference, then a select committee and now the matter has come before the House and, if we are to reject the whole thing now, we shall have, I fear, to start the whole thing again afresh. I do believe that even though the non-cultivating kanamdar may have to go ultimately for some time, he is an indispensable part in the economic social structure of Malabar.

“The last point I wish to point out is that the Bill does make a distinction between a cultivating tenant and a non-cultivating tenant, to whatever class he may belong, and that is the direction in which the House ought to pilot the Bill. By all means strengthen the hands of the tenant, make the position of the tenant secure and his tenure more secure. But the difficulty comes in when we come to the kanamdars. I think many of the kanamdars are cultivators and therefore the whole question rests on the point as to in whom this right is to vest. My hon. Friend, the janmi expert, speaks as if the kanamdars are going to give fixity of tenure. But I think the right is hedged by a series of well-thought-out restrictions. There is the renewal fee with all its drawbacks; the landlord can evict him on the ground of denial of title or on the ground of adverse claim or on the ground that he wants the land for his cultivation or on the ground that the members of his family require it for building purposes. All these are restrictions on the rights of kanamdars to have fixity of tenure, and it seems to me too late in the day to upset the scheme that is before the House. This Bill has been before this House for a very long time and I appeal to the janmis to take off their hands from this long struggle. The Government have gone into the question, the Select Committee have gone into the question, and therefore let us take the Bill and improve it but not destroy it. Therefore I request that the amendment may be rejected.”

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“Mr. President, this amendment has been treated from the point of view of the intermediary. I need not here repeat the arguments which have been quoted from the report of the Raghavayya Committee. But those arguments show the reasons why the Committee thought it desirable that the intermediaries should be dealt with in the Malabar Tenancy legislation. And those reasons have been accepted by the Government and we regard them as perfectly sound. It seems to me very difficult to imagine how you can possibly introduce legislation relating to tenancy which does not take into account the intermediary landlords. For example, you may have a landlord ‘A’ a janmi, and intermediary ‘B’ a non-cultivating kanamdar, and under ‘B’ a verumpattamdar ‘C’. It is proposed to enact certain provisions to improve the position of the cultivating tenant. It is proposed to give him a modified fixity of tenure and it is proposed to lay down principles for the fixing of fair rent. Are we to neglect the effect which those provisions will have on the intermediary landlord ‘B’? Necessarily it seems to me that we must consider the effect they will have upon him and we must consider whether in consequence of this adverse effect on him it is necessary to make any improvement in his relation with the immediate landlord the janmi. It seems to me it is impossible to omit the intermediary in any tenancy legislation.

"There is, however, one point which has not, I think, been touched upon in the discussion of this amendment and to which I should like to draw the attention of the House. I should like the hon. Members of this House to concentrate their attention on one word in the amendment and that is the first word in the clause, namely, 'lands.' The clause runs thus: 'Nothing in this Act shall apply to lands, etc.' Now if this amendment is passed, you will be excluding not only the intermediaries from the operation of this Act, but also the cultivating tenant of any land in respect of which there is a non-cultivating kanamdar, etc.; in respect of such land the customary verumpattamdars will not be able to claim fixity of tenure or any other privileges under this Act."

A Voice:—"Why?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Because the amendment is that nothing under this Act shall apply to such lands and not only to the persons mentioned in it."

Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"Mr. President, all my hon. Friends, Mr. Madhavan Nayar, the janmi expert, Mr. Sankaran Unni and . . ."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I request the hon. Member to address the Chair."

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"What I want to say is that there is no such big flouting on this side as Mr. Sankaran Unni thinks. What is the idea underlying the present Bill? It does not confer any permanent right on any tenant. It first of all recognizes the proprietorship of the janmi and then it goes on to say that steps should be taken to prevent unfair eviction. The Raghavayya Committee have put forward certain proposals and Government have put forward certain proposals, which as a matter of fact do not in any way take away any substantial right of the janmi. Now what are the rights of the janmi? One is absolute proprietorship. I suppose everybody will admit that the janmi is under no obligation to cultivate the land. But whenever he wants to do, is there any obstacle in his way? Absolutely no. The Raghavayya Committee recommended and the Government have accepted that. Then again, not only that, that has been converted into a provision by which he is allowed to cultivate not for himself alone but for the other members of his family who have got a beneficial or a proprietary interest. Here again, there is a complete recognition of the janmi's right. Now, what is the right that is conferred upon the tenant? It is not to hold the land as long as he pleases and snap his fingers at the janmi. What the Act merely says is that he is made to pay certain compensation and pay the whole renewal fee, and then he can hold the land; the amount of compensation is provided for. Compensation was fixed in the Raghavayya Committee's report, page 44. In paragraph 93, the Committee says:—

"The question is what shall be the proper compensation. So far as the hozhu tenants are concerned there is no real difficulty. The landlord is now getting from most, if not all of them, very nearly the rent which he would get if he let the land to the tenant from year to year or a tenant-at-will. Therefore he would be losing very little except the sentiment by being made to accede to the claim of the same tenant to continue on the land, and for any such loss in sentiment the usual renewal fee or a year's net produce may be held to be fairly adequate compensation. But to provide for those cases where the present rents are not what the landlord would get if he had a free hand in the selection of the tenant, the Committee thinks that it would be desirable to make the tenant share with the landlord the difference between what would be fair rent which is what the landlord is reasonably entitled to, and the rent which the tenant is now paying. The Committee is of opinion that it is desirable that subject to such payment, these tenants should have fixity not merely for a period of four or five years which they are having at present, but for a period of twelve years which is the customary period of enjoyment in the case of most, if not all, other persons who, not being owners, have some interest in the soil of Malabar. Four or five years is, in the opinion of the Committee, much too short a time both from the economic and the social point of view. The Committee therefore proposes that . . . etc."

"They elaborate those proposals, and at page 45, they go on to state:—

"It may, however, be stated here that the janmis' representatives on the Committee agreed to take only three times the annual difference, because the tenants' representatives agreed to the landlord having the right to eject the tenant if the landlord required the land for his own cultivation or use or that of any member of his family, subject to the condition that if the landlord lets the land again to another tenant within six years after such eviction, the old tenant shall be entitled to recover possession and continue on the land on the same terms as those on which he held the land, etc."

"So that the question of compensation was gone into by the Raghavayya Committee, and the rate of compensation was arrived at as a matter of compromise between the tenants' representatives and the janmis' representatives, and that has been emphasized by the hon. Member for the University in his eloquent speech on this matter. The Raghavayya Committee, therefore, went into this question elaborately. They say that, as a matter of fact, the janmi is not being deprived of any substantial rights which he has in his property, and the janmis still retain all those rights. The Committee recommend compensating him for what the janmi fancies he is deprived of. As a matter of fact, the renewal fee given to the janmi is much more than what the tenant otherwise pays. As regards the renewal fee, even in his dissenting minute the janmis' representative in this House has stated that the renewal fee to be paid by the tenant hereafter will be more than 100 per cent, more than what is being paid by the tenant now. That is adequate compensation, and so I say the janmi has, as a matter of fact, preserved all his rights. He is given adequate compensation for the disturbance of his rights, and now to turn back and say 'we cannot have anything to do with the non-cultivating kanamdars on any land (which to the misfortune of the cultivating tenant is owned by the non-cultivating kanamdar)' is going back on what had been arrived at by the Raghavayya Committee. It is not therefore correct to say that the Government has changed its attitude on this matter. The Government carefully thought over this matter, and the Raghavayya Committee took evidence on the matter, and in taking such evidence they came to the deliberation that any legislation which does not take note of the non-cultivating kanamdar would be ineffective and would not bring about that cordial relationship between the landlord and the tenant which it is the object of the Government to bring about. In the face of all that, how can my Friend, Mr. Unni, say that the janmi is being deprived of his valuable rights and an unmerited and undeserving class of people is going to be given certain rights? No rights are being given. We are allowed to live as we were living. I beg to submit there is absolutely no change, in reality, of attitude on the part of the Government. Then again, several practical difficulties are likely to arise if as a matter of fact this amendment is carried out. For example, suppose there is a kanam holding of 50 acres. As is well known, compact pieces of land are owned by very few people in Malabar. It may be that one piece of land is here and another piece of land there, at a distance of half a mile from the former. Suppose such a kanamdar holding 50 acres lets out ten acres to a verumpattamdar, and cultivates the remaining 40 acres himself. Is he to be considered as a non-cultivating kanamdar so far as the ten acres are concerned, and a cultivating kanamdar in respect of the other forty acres? Is he to be deprived of the kanam? Are we to ask him to give up the kanam? Are we to deprive him of that which is not under his actual cultivation? When the janmi is given compensation, why deny him the right over the land?

"Then again, I remember reading with reference to the silk industry that even the much-maligned sowar is supposed by the Government to be useful in the economic field. He, as a matter of fact, finds funds for the silk weavers and therefore he also is not a man who is to be despised. If that is so, and if the Government say that as a matter of fact the sowar who lends money to the silk weavers is a man who is not to be brushed aside, is it too much to suppose that the non-cultivating kanamdar who really does contribute to the economy of the district is an important element? Is he to be deprived of his rights as against the cultivating kanamdars? That, I submit, is a matter which requires anxious consideration at the hands of this House.

"Then, Sir, with reference to the argument which Mr. Unni has placed before the House, what Mr. Unni really did was just to portray in harrowing terms the condition of the cultivating verumpattamdar. In fact all his speech with reference to the cultivating verumpattamdar will not in any way solve this question. Is the non-cultivating kanam tenant, the non-cultivating kuzhikanam tenant, the customary verumpattamdar, to be given occupancy rights under this Bill? That is the question before the House. There is no use confusing the issue and urging arguments in support of verumpattamdar. As the hon. Member for the University has pointed out, it appears that each is running a race in the sympathy with verumpattamdars. We have to see whose sympathy is the greatest. With regard to this principle, hon. Members have been quoting various gentlemen who had to deal with this matter, and the same thing was reiterated by Mr. Unni. That does not add to the strength of the particular argument. For these reasons I oppose the amendment."

* Mr. N. SIVA RAJ :—"Mr. President, if I venture to take part in this debate, it is not because I feel that I am equal in advocacy either to Mr. Sankaran Unni or Mr. Madhavan Nayar or other hon. Members from Malabar in the cause either of the janmi or of the tenant, nor because I feel that I can lay claim to a special knowledge of the land tenures and systems of land-holding in Malabar, but my only justification for taking part in this debate is that I feel that I must support a cause which seems to be just, so far as my reading of the situation goes. And I suppose I am quite in order to explain my position before I can give my vote one way or the other on a question of this kind which involves an irreconcilable conflict of opinions. But as I view the whole question, I feel that it is somewhat simple, and that it is not as complicated as some hon. Members have made it out to be. First of all, I am in favour of the amendment that has been brought forward by Mr. Kavalappara Muppil Nayar for the simple reason that it seems to express and carry out to its logical conclusion the principle that has been propounded in the Bill. It also recognizes the principle that has always been accepted in this country so far as the system of land-holding goes. Any student of land tenures either of this Presidency or of any other Presidency in India will at once agree with me when I state that the only class of persons who have been recognised from time immemorial as entitled to any privileges with reference to land-holding are those that are responsible for the produce of the soil. And that is a principle which has been well recognized. (A Voice :—"What about the janmis?"). These other layers of interests that have subsequently grown up have been recognized no doubt for a long time by the British Government from the period of their early revenue administration. And many English writers have conceded this point, namely, that it was a mistake that they should have recognized many layers of interests as they have actually done in the matter of land-holding in this country, and Malabar presents one of those unfortunate problems. We find that, so far as this question is concerned, a Bill ought to grant rights and privileges only to the cultivating verumpattamdars and kanamdars on the principle that only those persons who produce something out of the soil ought to be entitled to those privileges. The Government, as long as it is satisfied that its share of the produce is obtained, whatever their theory may be with regard to vested interests, ought not to wrest privileges from one class of people and try to vest them in another class. Instead of protecting the only people who ought to be protected, namely, the cultivating verumpattamdar it has been stated that the non-cultivating kanamdars are also people who are responsible for the improvements of those lands, and as such ought to get the privileges under the Bill. I think it has been definitely stated at page 142 of the Raghavayya Committee's report that the kanamdars (Calicut taluk) do not spend any money for making improvements on their kanam wet lands when they leased them out to verumpattamdars. One of the witnesses before the Raghavayya Committee stated, in answer to a question by Mr. Kotieth Krishnan whether the kanamdar was not in the habit of getting manure from Japan and other places to help the verumpattam tenant, that the kanamdar has not learned that habit. (Mr. K. P. Raman Menon : Please read Mr. Karunakara Menon's evidence.) Whatever it is, there is evidence to show that the kanamdars are not always interested in helping the verumpattamdar to get the best out of the soil. But he has got the right whenever he is evicted to get the value of his improvements. Even if it is granted that he helps the verumpattamdar to improve the land, in all cases of eviction he gets his rights from the janmi. That apart, there is another reason why this principle that is contained in the amendment ought to be accepted by this House, and that is in the interests of simplicity. To recognize more than one or two layers of interests in land in this country will merely complicate matters.

"As a matter of fact, we have in Madras the Estates Land Act, and 4 p.m. there we find no provision whatsoever which recognizes an intermediary between the landlord and the tenant or the ryot. So also in other tenancy legislations in Bengal and other places, no intermediaries are recognized except in special cases where you find a peculiar kind of tenure holders. Therefore, from the point of view of natural justice, which is certainly in consonance with the accepted custom in this country of recognizing the grant of all privileges only to the cultivating tenant, and from the point of view of simplicity, I support the amendment of my hon. Friend, the Muppil Nayar of Kavalappara."

* Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO :—" Sir, the very impressive and eloquent speech of the Expert Member for Janmis is defective in one important respect, in that he failed to notice the most important fact, the social and economic condition of his own society. The fact is the tarwad and the karnavan are responsible for the existence of the kanam and the kanamdars. Because the karnavan is very anxious to make money in order to deprive junior members of their share-like my hon. Friend over there—in order to enrich his own children. He would have a meloharth taken from the kanamdars to the detriment of the junior members of the tarwad, and intermediaries are created from time to time, and the kanam has thus come into existence. The renewal fees go to the sole benefit of the karnavan. So, kanam has become an economic factor, and the kanamdars have become a necessity in the organization of Malabar land tenure. You cannot therefore ignore what has been going on for many years past, all the facts about these kanams and kanamdars. That some kanamdars are actual cultivators is admitted and some are not is also a well-known fact. But the present Bill brought by the Government is based upon enquiries made by a Committee appointed under particular terms, and that Committee after going through all the evidence before them has come to certain conclusions in dealing with these kanams. They have stated that we cannot ignore the existence of the kanamdars and that he has contributed very largely for the reconstruction of society in Malabar. The Bill now before us being prepared on that basis, I should like to know what evidence there is by which you can challenge the accuracy of that statement. So long as we have no evidence to challenge it, we have to accept kanam as a factor.

"There is also another point, which the Expert Member contended, namely, that the Government was strong in support of the cultivating tenant only ignoring all the claims of the non-cultivating tenant. He further stated that the Government have since changed the policy, and that the present Bill has come out in a different form altogether. I do not defend the Government. The Government did not defend themselves, because the hon. the Revenue Member did not answer why this change of policy was necessary. It would have been fair to the House if the Government had stated why they have changed their attitude in regard to this particular matter. We have not heard a word from the Government on the matter. Yet, there remains the fact, that the present economic condition in Malabar is as described in the report of the Raghavayya Committee, and this Bill has been based upon that report. The Bill was improved upon in the Select Committee in order that renewal fee and a fair rent should be given as a compensation to the janmi. Whatever rights are taken away from the janmis, which are of a proprietary character, the absolute right of the janmi as proprietor of the soil is recognized, and what is derogated from that absolute right is sufficiently compensated for in this Bill. Whether that compensation is adequate or not is a different matter that should be discussed. I should consider any appeal to the House that the compensation for the rights taken away is not adequate and that larger compensation should be given either in the matter of renewal fee or fair rent. But to say that we should ignore the existence of the kanamdars even though non-cultivating, who has come into existence all these years owing to the fault of the system in Malabar, is a proposition which we cannot expect. The kanamdars are an economic factor in the family life of Malabar. Yet he says, 'Sweep away all these intermediaries; we will deal direct with the cultivating tenant or the verumpattamdar. You must recognize things as they are now in Malabar, as the report of the Raghavayya Committee also says. You find from the illustrations given in the Bill as to the condition of things, that the kanam and sub-kanams extend to six or seven. By a series of transfers you have got five or six intermediaries between the landlord and the cultivator. A is a landlord who demises a kanam to B; B transfers his right to C; C takes a meloharth and gives it again to D; and D has again to pay a renewal fee and he creates a meloharth to E, and so on. In this way, there are numerous intermediaries even between the original kanamdars and the last cultivating tenant. You cannot sweep away the rights of all these people at one stroke. If the renewal fee, which is the compensation for giving fixity of tenure, is not adequate, you can ask for a higher and a larger rate of renewal fee. But it is too late in the day for the janmi to argue that these intermediaries should be swept away. They have come into existence as a result of the economic conditions in Malabar in the past so many years, and so you must face facts as they are, and you cannot say, 'we shall wipe out all these intermediaries and shall only have direct relation with the cultivating tenant.' I wish it were possible but cannot accept."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" Sir, I shall only refer to one or two points which have been made by my hon. Friends on the other side. My hon. Friend, Mr. Siva Raj, mentioned the fact that no legislation in India, either in this province or in other provinces, recognizes intermediary tenures. I think he is a Professor of land tenures. But I do not think he would have said the same thing before his boys or students. Because if he only studies land tenancy legislation of Bengal or of Bombay and even of this province, he will find that the legislation does recognize intermediary tenures. They are called tenures or given some other particular name, just as the tenure given to ryots is called the ryotwari tenure. What happened in Malabar, as was eloquently pointed out by my hon. Friend, Sir Patro, was responsible for the coming into existence of the kanam tenure and so you cannot get rid of it. My Friend, Mr. Unni, cannot swallow it or throw it out. Even if he tries to swallow it, it will stick in his throat. You cannot get rid of it in any way. All these intermediaries between the landlord and the cultivating tenant have always been recognized, and the Government themselves have recognized them. It is very easy to quote a number of Collectors, Europeans in order to try to brush aside the existence of those intermediaries. These Collectors have got their prejudices. My hon. Friend, who is a lawyer himself, referred to pleaders, who have become intermediaries. It is true these pleaders have also become landlords. They become landlords because they take an interest in the land. As landlords, they like to be benignant. It is these pleader landlords that have spent large sums of money for the improvement of land. My experience in Bombay as well as in this Presidency has shown that it is only these professional people, more than anybody else, that take great interest in land and spend much money for the improvement of the land. My hon. Friend, Sir Patro, is a professional man, and I know he is also a good cultivator and landlord. He can have fruits on his table from his own garden. My hon. Friend, Mr. Unni, said that a pleader who is also a kanamdars does not spend money and does not take interest in the improvement of the land. That the kanamdars have improved the land is a fact which has been recognized by all the committees appointed till now. My hon. Friend referred to a number of Collectors, and I may refer him to a number of committees and commissions appointed, that have recommended the grant of fixity of tenure to kanams. The right word is 'kanam' and not 'kanamdars', as we find in all the committees' reports and in the Cochin State Regulation, and in the Bill prepared by my hon. Friend, Diwan Bahadur Krishnan Nayar.

[Mr. J. A. Saldanha]

"Then, my hon. Friend questioned the authority of the Kaghavayya Committee. Of course, there are some extreme statements made there. That Committee has come to certain conclusions, which we cannot now question. Their findings are in favour of legislation giving fixity of tenure to the kanamdars and other intermediaries. The other committees and commissions that went before have also made out a clear case for giving fixity of tenure to old standing kanamdars, and they made no distinction between cultivating and non-cultivating kanamdars.

"With these few words, I appeal to the House to throw out this amendment."

The amendment was then put and declared lost.

Mr. E. Sankaran Unni demanded a poll, and the House divided thus:

Noes 65.

[25th September 1929]

Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—"Sir, I beg to move—

'Add the following sub-clause to the existing sub-clauses :—(4) Lands belonging to janmis who own 15 acres or less.'

"Mr. President, this provision is found in both the Bills of Mr. Krishnan Nayar. This provision was introduced in order to save the small janmis from being jammed under the operation of the Bill. So far as North Malabar is concerned, I can boldly say to this House that in another 20 years the existing small holders of land will be converted into mere labourers. There seems to be a prejudice against all my motions. I will not come under the operation of this section, nor the big janmis of North Malabar. It is the middle class people, the small janmis who have got big families who will be affected. I only appeal to the House to come to the rescue of small janmis and save them from utter destitution and distress. With these words, I move my amendment."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"I second it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Mr. President, Sir, I cannot again accept this amendment, although the Mover referred to such a provision in the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill. The present Bill is based on different principles from those on which the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill was based. It does not follow because a provision was included in the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill, it is therefore suitable for inclusion in this Bill. In this case, if the small janmi wishes to get land for his own cultivation he will be able to do so under the provisions of this Bill. There are clauses included in it which will enable him to evict his tenant if he requires land for his own cultivation or for his family or tarwad or for building in certain cases. He is therefore protected. We must look at the question from the point of view of the cultivating verumpattandar, and it seems to me, Sir, that there is no reason to discriminate between a customary verumpattadar who happens to be under a small janmi and one who happens to be under a big janmi. The one requires as much protection as the other. As I pointed out, the small janmis' interests have been safeguarded in the Bill."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"Sir, the hon. the Revenue Member pointed out that in the case of a small janmi he could resume the land under the provisions of the Bill. If the provisions introduced in the Bill were so easy, I should at once say 'Yes'. But, considering that very severe and stringent restrictions are placed on the right of resumption, that argument is no solution to the problem. In fact, in Malabar, we have a large number of poor janmis. Let no one suppose that our number is made up of the number of janmi voters, about 236 in number. The number of janmi pattadars is over 220,000. Most of them own lands 4 and 5 acres a piece. If the incidents which this Act proposes to impose upon land generally in Malabar were to be attached to these small holdings, I am sure there will be considerable distress in Malabar. We are anxious to do the right thing by the cultivator. Let no one suppose that in their anxiety to be just and fair to other people, the janmis are anxious to be unjust to themselves. We are as much for the protection of our just rights as we are anxious to protect the rights of the cultivator. Let it not for one moment be believed by anybody that the janmi is going to seek his own ruin in order to help another. What we have been doing for the cultivating tenant others have not done. If we stand here to-day and ask for protection, we are doing nothing against the kanamdar or against the verumpattamdar. Small janmis are the class on whose prosperity the prosperity of Malabar depends. Every chance should be given to the janmi to resume his land, because it is these janmis that add to the finances of the Government. If the Government say that they are committed to a different course and they are determined to go forward with the engine of destruction behind them, let it be so. The poor janmis will be simply wiped out."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" Mr. President, Sir, I oppose this motion. Apart from the arguments advanced by the hon. the Revenue Member, may I put before the House the practical difficulty of accepting this proposition. Supposing out of 15 acres possessed by a janmi, 2 acres pass out of his hands, what would be the position of the tenants who hold the lands and what would be the position of the land? Will the character of the tenure be changed in that case. Take the reverse case. Suppose a janmi who owns more than 5 acres of land sells 2 acres, what will be the position of those who have been holding such lands under the janmi. The practical difficulties in accepting the proposition are so great, apart from the injustice done to the tenant, that I hope the House will reject this motion."

The amendment was declared negatived.

Mr. E. Sankaran Unni demanded a poll.

* The hon. the President asked the Ayes and Noes to stand up in their places and declared "The Noes have it. The demand for a poll was frivolous."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that clause 2 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was carried and clause 2 was added to the Bill.

Clause 3.

Sub-clause (c).

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Sir, I move—

'That in sub-clause (c) of clause 3, the words "members or" occurring in line 6, be omitted.'

" Sir, I am asking that the two words 'members or' may be removed. The object of the amendment is this. As I understand the principle involved in the Bill, it is open to a janmi to take land for the purpose of cultivation by himself or by a member of his family. If land is resumed for that purpose and the janmi himself holds it, I cannot understand why a member of the family should be prevented from having it on any terms he likes. I can understand the objection that it ought not to be given to a third party because it may defeat the very purpose we have in view. As I understand the object of the Bill, it is not opposed altogether to the idea of the members of a janmi's family cultivating the land. If that is so, you need not place unnecessary restrictions on members of the family cultivating on any terms they like as a matter of convenience. In many families, lands are let out to the junior members for maintenance purposes and a portion of the produce is taken by them and the other portion is given to the tarwad. I do not see why we should not allow it or prevent members of a family from cultivating the land and sharing the produce from it. I commend this amendment for the acceptance of the House. It will do no harm to anybody."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA :—" I second it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Mr. President, Sir, I do not quite understand why this amendment is necessary in order to carry out the idea which the hon. the Mover has in view. We are here concerned only with the definition of the word 'cultivate'. As far as I know, there is nothing to prevent the janmi from recovering his land for cultivation by a member of his family or tarwad. That is provided for. He may cultivate it himself if a member of his family who cultivates it does not pay him anything. If a member of his family pays him for it, that member will cultivate it and so comply with the conditions of evicting the tenant. I do not see the object of this amendment."

The amendment was put and negatived.

Sub-clause (e).

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" Mr. President, in line 2, I beg to move for the addition of the word 'the' between the word 'includes' and the word 'redemption'. This is only a verbal amendment."

Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—" I second it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and adopted.

Sub-clause (j).

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" Sir, I beg to move for the insertion of the word 'also' in line 3 before the words 'to possession'. The definition of 'intermediary' now stands thus: 'Intermediary means any person who, not being a janmi, has an interest in land, and is entitled, by reason of such interest, to possession thereof, but has transferred such possession to others.' This means that an intermediary is one who is entitled to possession but has given up possession to somebody else. The intention seems to be that he is entitled also to possession, that is to say, he has got some rights over and above possession of the land and has only parted with the possession to others. I think my amendment makes the intention of the definition more definite."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" I second it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I do not think that this is an improvement on the present drafting."

The amendment was put and negatived.

Sub-clause (l).

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I beg to move that in line 2, after the words 'in kind' insert the words 'or in both'. The sub-clause as amended would run thus: 'Kanam means the transfer for consideration in money or in kind or in both by a landlord,' etc. The reason for this amendment is that I understand that in some kanams there is consideration given both in money and in kind."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHMAN NAYAR :—" I second it."

The amendment was put and adopted.

[25th September 1929]

Sub-clause (2), item (4).

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR:—"Sir, I move that after the words 'for twelve years' omit the words 'or any other period.' There can only be a question of the period being shorter or longer. It is better to make it specific and it is with that object that I move this amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"For want of a seconder the motion is lost."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Mr. President, I move—for the word 'other' substitute the word 'shorter'."

"Sir, kanams have been recognized to last for a period of twelve years. As such, I do not see why there should be any other period mentioned. It may include even longer periods. We are providing for renewal at the end of twelve years and we are also fixing as one of the incidents of kanam that it shall be of a twelve years' duration. It is very necessary that certain transfers which are sometimes for twenty-four or thirty years should not be included in this. They were never meant to operate as kanam with the incidents which we have attached to kanam as defined here. Those are special cases and are very unusual and therefore ought not to be treated in the way the 12-year kanams are treated. Of course, it is necessary to include shorter kanams. I am anxious that nothing done by us should exclude them, but it is only just that we should not bring under the scope of this Act transactions which were never intended to be brought under the category of ordinary kanams. Further, if you allow transactions of a longer duration to come under this Act you will be legalizing what is really a wrong."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALLAPPARA:—"I second it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Mr. President, Sir, I am afraid we cannot accept this amendment. We must have one system of law applying to all kanams, and, as the hon. Mover has admitted, kanams have sometimes lasted for longer periods than twelve years; if this amendment is passed, all landlords can grant kanams for longer periods than twelve years and evade the provisions of this Bill."

The amendment was put and negatived.

Sub-clause (2) item (5).

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR:—"Sir, I move that—

'for the words in line 3 'for another period of twelve years' the words 'for a further period of twelve years' be substituted.

"This is not only a drafting amendment, but one which makes the period consistently the same."

Mr. S. N. DORAI RAJA:—"I second it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I have no objection to accept the amendment, Sir."

The amendment was put and adopted.

Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar rose to move his amendment.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"By an amendment just now carried the House has retained the words 'for a further period of twelve years' and therefore, under the Standing Orders, Mr. Madhavan Nayar cannot now move his amendment for the omission he has suggested under item (5) of sub-clause (1)."

[25th September 1929] [The President]

Sub-clause (3), item (1).

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Sir, 'kudiyiruppu' means and includes 'the site of any residential building, the site or sites of other buildings appurtenant thereto, other lands as are necessary for the convenient enjoyment of such residential building, and the easements attached thereto.' I move—

'to omit the words "as are necessary for the convenient enjoyment" and substitute "not exceeding five times the extent"; to omit the word "residential"; and for the word "building" substitute the word "buildings."

"My object is this: I want to take one important item of this Bill out of the courts. We have to go to court for every little thing. This Bill, in fact, looks as though it is a Bill intended to foster litigation in Malabar. If a person wants a kudiyiruppu I shall give him some formula that will cover all the necessary requirements and will meet all the usual needs of a Malayali family. If you have got one or two buildings in a compound, have five times the extent of all the house-sites together, not only of the principal residential house but of all the buildings thereon. For, it is not an uncommon thing in Malabar to have more than one building in one and the same compound. Take the sum of the areas of the two houses and then give five times the extent. That I think would save everybody concerned from vexatious litigation. The people of Malabar ought to be satisfied with that. Of course in up-country places it would be very easy to have big and extensive compounds. But the demand for house-sites will increase. It is better that we introduce this amendment instead of allowing people to have very big compounds and I submit this is an exceedingly fair amendment and it ought to be accepted."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I do not think I can accept the amendment. The definition of 'kudiyiruppu' means and includes the site of any residential building, the site or sites of other buildings appurtenant thereto, other lands as are necessary for the convenient enjoyment of such residential building, and the easements attached thereto. Presumably 'residential buildings' do not include the other lands as are convenient for the enjoyment of such residential building. I think it is much better to leave the definition as it is and decide each case on its own merits. I therefore cannot accept the amendment."

* Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR:—"I am sorry the hon. the Revenue Member has not seen the point raised by Mr. Unni. The words 'for the convenient enjoyment' cover a wide area. We do not very much care whether it is fixed as five times or six times. The hon. the Revenue Member evidently wants us to go to court in each and every case. We know the people of Malabar are sufficiently litigious and if you leave the definition as it is they will have to go to court in each and every case and if the lower court decides in a certain way they will be appealing against that decision to the higher court and then they will be going up to the Privy Council and there will be no end to the litigation. I think this House ought to decide against such a procedure. Therefore I appeal to the representatives of both the janmis and the tenants to come to some understanding and say what is the extent of land that is necessary for the convenient enjoyment of their residential buildings. Of course the vakils and other people who are interested in seeing that litigation goes on as much as possible may approve of the definition as it is. But I would ask the House to define exactly what extent of land is necessary for the convenient enjoyment of these residential buildings."

The amendment was put and negatived.

Sub-clause (n).

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—" I beg to move that—' in line 5 for the word " or " substitute the word " and " and in line 6 omit the words " or for both " . '

" Sir, this is a very important amendment. A grievous mistake has been committed. The very idea underlying kuzhikanam, namely, of planting trees, has been taken away by the substitution of the word ' or ' for ' and '. Under the definition made by Raghavayya Committee the definition ran like this : ' All garden lands or all other lands with the fruit-bearing trees shall be transferred for the enjoyment of those trees and for the purpose of planting, etc. ' That word ' and ' has been converted into ' or ' due to a clerical mistake. Kuzhikanam means and includes essentially the idea of planting trees and it is not merely for the enjoyment of trees alone. I think the hon. Revenue Member will himself realize that the word ' or ' is a mistake. In these circumstances I have no doubt that the Government will accept the amendment."

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—" I support the amendment. The kuzhikanam cannot be for the enjoyment of the fruit trees existing at the time of the transfer alone. If that is so then there is no meaning in calling it as kuzhikanam land. It must include the right of improvement, i.e., of planting more trees, etc. I therefore support the amendment."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and adopted.

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—" I beg to move—

' that in line 7 of sub-clause (n) after the word " include " insert the number " (1) " and at the end of the clause add " and (2) the liability of the transferee to pay a renewal fee to the transferor, if the transferee is permitted to enjoy the said property for a further period after the termination of the original period " . '

" For kuzhikanam it is essential to have renewal fee and it is omitted here. The idea of renewal fee which applies to customary verumpattamdar and kanamdar must also apply to kuzhikanam. Therefore it is necessary to have this addition."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I second it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and adopted.

Sub-clause (q).

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" I beg to move—

' in line 2 for the word " annually " substitute the word " periodically " . '

25th September 1929] [Mr. E. Sankaran Unni]

" The clause as it stands reads thus ' Michavaram ' means ' whatever is agreed by a kanamdar in a kanam deed to be paid annually in money or in kind to or on behalf of the janmi. ' The word ' annually ' is not quite accurate, as it would not cover cases where payments are made periodically. Sometimes payments have to be made once or twice a year and sometimes in the course of two or three years. So if you substitute the word ' periodically ' it would cover all cases. Supposing there is included in the kanam demise a scrub jungle for which the tenant has to pay michavaram periodically, such cases would not be covered if you retain the word ' annually. ' I therefore propose the amendment for the acceptance of the House."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA :—" I second it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and adopted.

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I beg to move, Sir, that in line 2 of sub-clause (q) after the words " in kind " insert the words ' or in both ' ; as sometimes the michavaram may be paid both in money and in kind."

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I second it."

The amendment was put and adopted.

Sub-clause (t).

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" I beg to move that for sub-clause (t) the following shall be substituted :—

' Renewal fee means a share of the profits accruing for 12 years from a parcel or parcels of land and payable in advance as a lump sum or in instalments by a tenant to his landlord for the renewal of the legal relationship under which the tenant has been holding such land. '

" I am proposing this amendment so that a better and more accurate definition may be substituted for the existing one. It sets out exactly the real character of the renewal fee. Now the definition as we have got it is not in consonance with some of the sections. Renewal fee can be paid in instalments and it has not been referred to suitably in the definition. I do not want that anybody at any time should be in doubt as to what the character of the renewal fee is. I want to be clear. I want this House to understand that when a tenant pays a renewal fee he is paying a portion of the profits derived by him. It is very important in deciding as to what should be the renewal fees that we should know what is the amount of profit that the tenant has derived and what is the portion that goes to the janmi. My definition exactly defines what is meant by renewal fee. In view of the fact that one of the sections lays down that the renewal fee may be paid in instalments, this amendment is necessary."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA :—" I second it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I am afraid I cannot accept the amendment. It seems to me that the present definition is better than the proposed one. The proposed definition appears to attempt to enact a substantive provision of law in a definition."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is ' Renewal fee ' means a share of the profits accruing for 12 years from a parcel or parcels of land and payable in advance as a lump sum, or in instalments, by a tenant to his landlord for the renewal of the legal relationship under which the tenant has been holding such land."

[25th September 1929]

The amendment was put and negatived.

Sub-clause (w) (3).

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—" Sir, I move—

'in line 2, for the word "verumpattamdar" substitute the word "tenant".'

"I want the substitution of the word 'tenant' for the word 'verumpattamdar'. Verumpattamdar has been defined to be a tenant holding paddy lands. Customary verumpattamdars in South Malabar hold both paddy lands and garden lands. A verumpattamdar need not necessarily hold paddy lands alone. According to the definition, a verumpattamdar is a tenant of a holding which includes wet lands and may or may not include other lands. In South Malabar there are also garden lands held by these verumpattamdars. This is a verbal alteration and it is quite essential."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I second it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Mr. President, Sir, I am afraid I cannot accept this amendment because it affects considerably the extent of the application of this Bill. The Bill is intended to give the right of renewal in the case of a customary verumpattamdar whose holding includes wet lands and not in the case of a customary verumpattamdar whose holding does not include wet lands. That is the intention of the existing definition."

The amendment was put and declared negatived.

Mr. Harisarvottama Rao demanded a poll and the House divided thus :—

Sub-clause (x).

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Sir I beg to move—

'Omit all words after the word "paddy".'

"The definition of 'wet land' as given in the Bill is land which is adapted for the cultivation of paddy and registered as wet land in the registers of the Government. My reason for moving this amendment is this; under Settlement rules, only once in thirty years lands are registered as wet or dry. The hon. the Revenue Member told me that a Board's Standing Order permitted registration on certain conditions if the landlord wanted it. The Revenue Secretary to the Government discussed the matter with us and I was not convinced that the amendment was not necessary. So far as I am aware, Settlement rules do not provide for it. The difficulty that I am feeling is this; if there is no provision for getting lands which are really wet registered as wet during the currency of a settlement, the janmi would suffer a great loss. Lands cannot be registered as wet unless and until a new settlement takes place; therefore dry lands will continue to be dry lands though they have been converted into wet lands. I am told that if an application is made by the pattadar to have the land registered, it can be done. I was also told by a very competent authority that this has seldom been done. We in Malabar know what wet lands mean. Nobody is under a misapprehension. It means land adapted for the cultivation of paddy. In the original Bill the definition was 'land levelled, bunded and adapted for the cultivation of paddy and registered as wet land in the registers of the Government.' If the courts refuse to regard land which is not registered as wet, as wet land, we get into difficulties. It is much better to have the definition as 'land adapted for the cultivation of paddy'. The qualification that the land should be registered as wet in the books of the Government is not necessary. The retention of the words will cause great hardship and it will be unsafe to have such a provision in the Bill."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALLAPPARA :—" I second it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Sir, I have no objection to accept the amendment."

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON :—" Sir, I am afraid that my hon. Friend Mr. Unni has not considered the full implication of his amendment. If the definition is amended it will read as follows: Wet land means land which is adapted for the cultivation of paddy. Mr. Unni must be aware that existing dry lands are cultivated with modan paddy—a sort of paddy which is grown in dry lands. With the copious rains that we have in Malabar almost every dry land is cultivated with this paddy. But it is not wet land. Nobody regards it as wet land. If registration is taken away every modan paramba with dry land in which modan paddy is cultivated becomes wet land and all these parambas will be entitled to enhance rent."

* Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU :—" Sir, it is really inconvenient that the hon. the Revenue Member should rise up and accept the amendment. I know not what the implication will be. We will feel some difficulty in clause 5 when fair rents have to be fixed in the case of dry lands converted into wet. If the words 'registered in the registers of the Government' are omitted, every dry land converted into wet will be wet land. We have got lands classified in the settlement registers either as dry or wet. If a land is dry it will continue to be dry so far as the settlement registers are concerned. Dry land will continue to be so in the settlement registers but it will be capable of being used for wet cultivation. Again we have to deal with dry lands converted into wet in clause 5. That clause will be unnecessary. I think, Sir, I must oppose the motion."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"May I point out, Sir, that we are in the stage of definitions?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is to omit the words 'and registered as wet land in the registers of the Government' after the word 'paddy'."

The amendment was put and declared lost.

I
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS

Agriculture

Manufacture of jaggery in Kurnool district.

* 505 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) what the average sugarcane crop is in the Kurnool district in acreage and quantity for the last ten years;

(b) whether jaggery is manufactured in the district and, if so, where and in what approximate quantities;

(c) whether he has examined the question of demonstrating better methods of jaggery-making in the Kurnool district; and

(d) if he has, what action he proposes to take?

A.—(a) A statement^a furnishing the necessary information is appended.

(b) Jaggery is prepared on a small scale in Cumbum, Nandyal and Kurnool taluks. The ryots prefer to sell their canes for chewing since they realize more profit.

(c) & (d) Improved method of jaggery manufacture was demonstrated in Cumbum, Kurnool and Nandyal some years ago, but this work was discontinued as there was no response from the ryots, who find it easier and more profitable to sell canes for chewing.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"With reference to the appendix seeing that the area under cultivation of sugarcane has decreased from 1,102 acres in 1918-19 to 187 acres in 1927-28, may I know from the hon. the Minister whether he will be prepared to investigate into the cause of this enormous decrease?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"Yes, Sir."

Fisheries

Fishing operations in Prema fish ponds.

* 506 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether he visited Nandyal in the Kurnool district recently;

(b) whether at that time he visited the Prema fish ponds;

(c) whether he has examined on the spot the statement made by the departmental note that he read out in reply to a budget motion on 25th March 1929 to the effect that fish-stocking operations had resulted in an appreciable reduction of malarial infection in the tract;

(d) what the number of Gourami fish was that was stocked in 1927-28, in previous years, in the subsequent period and what the number was on the 30th of June 1929;

(e) whether the further report from the Director that he expected on 25th March 1929 has been received and if it has been received, what it is; and

(f) what action he proposes to take to give the ryots more water-supply?

^a Printed as Appendix I on page 318 infra.

[26th September 1929]

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) & (c) No.

(d) In December 1927 a consignment of 400 Gourami was put into the ponds, but several of these died owing to adverse conditions in the ponds. In March and July 1928, the ponds were stocked with 25 and 126 Gourami breeders respectively. The fish are thriving well. It is not possible to state the exact number of fish on 30th June 1929 as the ponds were not drained and the fish counted.

(e) This was placed on the table of the House on 6th August 1929.

(f) The Revenue Department and Public Works Department are being consulted as to the truth of the allegation made by the ryots and certain alterations, including the lowering of the sill-level of outlets are under consideration which, it is expected, will permit a considerable supply of water to the ryots.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. the Minister, with reference to the answer to clause (d) of the question, whether those adverse conditions referred to there exist even to-day?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"I do not think they exist to-day, Sir."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know what those adverse conditions are?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"The water in the ponds contained sulphurated hydrogen which is not beneficial to the growth of the fish. So, that had to be removed."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know why the Minister did not consider it necessary to visit the place when he was there?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"I had no time to visit it, Sir. I had so many other engagements to attend to."

Industries

Borings done in Malabar and South Kanara.

* 507 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to give the information received in regard to my question No. 140 answered on 8th August 1929 regarding borings done in Malabar and South Kanara?

A.—In Malabar nineteen borings were put down during 1927-28 and 1928-29 and fifteen of them were successful.

Seven borings were put down in South Kanara in 1927-28, of which only two were successful.

The number of successful borings in the Presidency averages about 60 per cent. It is not possible to specify the districts where boring has proved a success and where it has not.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know the reason why the answer given in regard to borings in South Kanara relates only to 1927-28 when my original question asked for information in regard to all borings done so far in Malabar and South Kanara?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"I will examine the question, Sir."

[26th September 1929]

Action taken on the report of the Committee on the Madras School of Arts.

* 508 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have passed orders on the report of the Committee on the Madras School of Arts; and

(b) if so, whether a copy of the report referred to above and of the orders passed on it by the Government will be placed on the table of the House?

A.—(a) & (b) The Government have not yet passed orders on the report of the Committee.

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“May I know what are the main recommendations of the Committee?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“The main recommendation is both Arts and Crafts should be transferred to the control of the Education Department.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“May I know whether the Government intend to give effect to the recommendations and whether in connection with the Schools of Arts and Crafts they have called for applications for appointments?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“That is the matter under the consideration of the Government now.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“My question is whether the Government have called for applications from persons who are to be put in charge of the separate sections in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“Those things will be considered only after the Government pass orders on the question of bifurcation.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“But have they called for applications?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“Not yet, Sir.”

Alleged complaints against the working of the Coconut Pest Act in Tonse and other villages.

* 509 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether complaints have been made to the Collector of South Kanara and other authorities by the people of Tonse and other villages near Udipi in regard to the working of the Coconut Pest Act;

(b) what allegations have been made in these complaints and how long it is since these complaints were received;

(c) whether any inquiry has been made regarding this matter and, if so, when and by whom;

(d) what is the result of the inquiry and how far the allegations have been found to be true; and

[26th September 1929]

(e) what steps have been taken to remedy the grievances complained of?

A.—(a) to (e) The Government have no information but have called for a report.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—“May I know, Sir, whether in a matter like this which was sent so far back as the 30th of August, why the Government department concerned could not get the required information till now?”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“That is not a supplemental question.”

Excise

Recommendations of excise advisory committees regarding the location of arrack and toddy shops.

* 510 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the local excise advisory committees have been authorized to open, to transfer and to remove toddy and arrack shops in their jurisdiction;

(b) what are the advisory committees that recommended the removal of arrack and toddy shops in their jurisdiction and how many shops were so recommended; and

(c) what are the shops that were recommended for removal by the advisory committees but refused to be abolished by the Excise Commissioner and the reasons for the same?

A.—(a) No.

(b) & (c) As regards the number of shops in respect of which the excise advisory committees recommended withdrawal or change of site and the number of shops in respect of which the recommendations of the committees were accepted, the hon. Member's attention is invited to Statement B annexed to the Annual Excise Administration Report which has been placed on the Editors' Table. The Government have no information as to the particular shops.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“May I know, Sir, what are the powers of these committees if they have no right to order the removal of a toddy shop located in an objectionable site?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“The Government Order has been published, and the hon. Member may kindly refer to it.”

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—“In that Government Order it is said that these committees can only recommend but that the final authority is the Excise Commissioner. I ask, what is the power these committees exercise over the Excise Commissioner who is all in all?”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“The question is not admissible.”

[26th September 1929]

Abolition of arrack and toddy shops in Rasipuram and Namakkal taluks.

* 511 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the ryots of Rasipuram and Namakkal taluks, Salem district, presented a petition requesting him to abolish the arrack and toddy shops in the area;

(b) whether it is a fact that the hon. the Minister promised to abolish such shops that had no bidders in auction sale;

(c) whether it is a fact that toddy shops were sold recently in both these taluks; and

(d) whether it is a fact that some of the shops had no bidders at all and if so, what they are and whether any of them were subsequently resold and if so, why?

A.—(a) Representations to this effect were received from certain inhabitants of the two taluks named.

(b) No. When a deputation waited on the hon. the Minister at Rasipuram in April last, he said that if people in any particular place did not want a shop there and if in consequence there was no bid, the Government would not force a shop on them and attempt to get bidders for a resale.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes. The shops have not so far been resold. The Government have no information as to which shops had no bidders.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“Sir, is it a fact that the hon. the Minister was approached with a view to the introduction of total prohibition in those two taluks?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“Sir, what is referred to in the question is the closing of some toddy shops; I do not know what total prohibition has got to do with this question.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“I want to know whether memorials have not been sent to him asking for the closure of the shops in those taluks of Namakkal and Rasipuram?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“The question asked here is this: ‘whether it is a fact that the ryots of Rasipuram and Namakkal taluks, Salem district, presented a petition requesting him to abolish the arrack and toddy shops in the area’. My answer is ‘Yes’.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“I want to know whether the Government have referred the matter to the Commissioner of Excise for opinion.”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“Which matter, please?”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“The question of the advisability of closing all the shops in those two taluks?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“Yes, it has been referred to the Commissioner.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“May I know what his recommendations are?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“The recommendation is that they ought not to be closed now.”

[26th September 1929]

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“I want to know whether in that area resale of the shops has been ordered on the score that some of the biddings in the auction were not high?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“I am not aware of it at present.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“Will the hon. the Minister kindly enquire into the matter?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“Will the hon. Member kindly repeat his question?”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“I want to know whether resale has been ordered of some toddy shops on the score that the biddings were not high enough to the satisfaction of the authorities?”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“The Government will enquire.”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“If the hon. Member has any information that any have been resold, I shall be glad to have that information; but I do not know if such a direction has been issued.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“Then, Sir, I shall pass on such information to the hon. Minister as I receive it.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“May I know, Sir, if the Commissioner of Excise has recommended that the whole of these shops should not be closed?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“The Commissioner has recommended that the shops can be closed when there is no need for these shops.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“In reply to clause (d) of the question it is said that the shops have not so far been resold. Do the Government propose to resell these shops?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“That is a matter which the Government will have to consider when they come to know that there is some difficulty about these shops.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know if the Government are prepared to order their resale when the matter is brought to their notice?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“No; Government cannot give such offhand replies to questions like that. They will have to consider the circumstances then existing and pass orders.”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“In that case, the Government may ask for notice.” (Laughter.)

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“May I know from the hon. the Minister what he means when he says ‘when there is no need’?”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—“The Government will decide that there is no need when they understand that the people in those places have become so far educated in the evils of drink that they won't resort to it by illicit means.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“Are they going to issue a referendum to the inhabitants of those places to ascertain whether there is any need or not?”

[26th September 1929]

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"There are various means of ascertaining it; and if the Government think that a referendum is necessary, it will be issued."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"Is he aware of any area, the inhabitants of which have put in memorials urging for the retention of the toddy shops? The hon. the Minister said that he had received some memorials."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The hon. Member is requested to confine his supplementary question to these two taluks referred to in the question."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"May I know, Sir, whether in view of the fact that the hon. the Minister is aware that there is a demand for total prohibition at least to some extent, in this area, he will ask the Commissioner of Excise to go sympathetically into the matter?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"As I have said, the Commissioner did go into the matter and he said that it is not yet time for closing them."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know on what ground the Minister bases his conclusion that the people in that area are not prepared not to go to the shop?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"Because there are the Excise officers and there are the Revenue officers who say that people do want to go to the shops."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know whether the hon. the Minister relies upon the reports of his Excise officers?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"There are the Excise officers and there are also the Revenue officers."

Medical

Alleged failure of an L.M.P. student for absence on medical leave.

* 512 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that a student from the Gavara community was granted a stipend for the L.M.P. course for the Tanjore Medical School from 1st July 1925;

(b) whether he was an in-patient of the Tanjore Headquarter Hospital from 11th February 1927 to 28th March 1927 being down with enteric fever and was prevented from sitting for the second year's examination;

(c) whether on this ground he was considered as having failed in the examination; and

(d) why he was punished like that?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) He did not sit for the examination held in April 1927.

(c) Yes.

(d) No question of punishment arises.

[26th September 1929]

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"With reference to the answer to clause (b) of the question, if a student is in the hospital suffering from enteric fever from the 11th of February to the 28th of March 1927, will he be in a fit condition to sit for an examination on the 1st of April?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is a hypothetical one, and it also asks for an opinion. Therefore, it is inadmissible."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"It is not a question asking for an opinion, Sir."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The hon. Member is requested to put the supplementary question."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"I should like to know whether the Government consider that a student who was lying ill in a hospital at the time of the examination is to be treated as having failed in an examination?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Not admissible."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"I should like to know whether that student was suffering from typhoid fever and whether it is in the records of the Government that he was so suffering from typhoid fever during this period?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"Yes, Sir."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"If he was suffering from typhoid fever, will the Government be pleased to say that he was prevented through sickness from appearing for the examination, and not that the student has failed in the examination?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"If the hon. Member will kindly go into the rules, he will find that it is all the same whether he does not sit for the examination or whether he fails after sitting for the examination."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"Are the Government not in a position to excuse a student who was prevented through illness from appearing for the examination?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"Sufficient latitude has been given in the rules as they are, which also provide for cases of illness."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"As he was really ill during that examination, I should like to know from the Minister whether he will be pleased to reconsider his case?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That question has been already answered."

Rao Bahadur C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR :—"May I know how the student fared in the class examinations during that year?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"It is not in that one examination that he failed, because he did not sit for the examination. But he failed in other examinations which were held."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—"Is it a fact that a student loses some privileges if he is said to have failed. Not sitting for the examination is quite different from failing in the examination. So, will the hon. the Minister be pleased to say that he has not failed, as by saying so, the student loses some privileges?"

[26th September 1929]

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"I have said that he did not sit for the examination. I never said that he failed in that examination."

Attitude of the hon. the Minister for Public Health towards the General Medical Council Bill.

* 513 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) the attitude he took towards the General Medical Council Bill which the Government of India propose to introduce; and

(b) whether it is a fact that he opposed the introduction of the General Medical Council Bill, and if so, the reasons why he took that attitude?

A.—The Bill and the discussions are confidential.

Proposed changes in the L.M.P. course.

* 514 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) at what stage the proposal to abolish the L.M.P. course stands;

(b) whether it is proposed to be abolished, and if so, when; and

(c) if not, why not?

A.—(a) to (c) The Committee appointed to examine the need for a uniform minimum standard of medical education has submitted its report. The report is under consideration. It is not likely that the course will be abolished.

Public Health

Number and treatment of lepers in the Presidency.

* 515 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether steps are being taken for collecting statistics of lepers in this Presidency or whether there is any reliable statistics collected by any private body or association;

(b) whether the Government have ascertained whether leprosy is on the increase in several places in this Presidency;

(c) what measures are being taken to relieve the lepers and to check the spread of leprosy in South Kanara and other districts;

(d) whether there is any dispensary for treating lepers in villages in the districts outside Madras and Mangalore and other district headquarters at least as out-patients; and

(e) whether Government contemplate opening such dispensaries for treatment of lepers as out-patients and if so, how many and where?

A.—(a) After the census of 1921 the Government have not taken steps to collect statistics of lepers in this Presidency. There is a proposal under consideration for a leprosy survey of this Presidency. The Government have no information as to whether such statistics have been collected by any private body or association.

[26th September 1929]

(b) No. From the annual reports on the working of civil hospitals and dispensaries in the presidency during 1927 and 1928 it is, however, observed that the number of out-patient lepers treated at the various institutions has increased from 11,407 in 1927 to 18,548 during 1928.

(c) The Government are maintaining a leper settlement at Tirumani in the Chingleput district. There are Mission Leper Asylums in the Vizagapatam, East Godavari, West Godavari, Guntur, South Arcot, Tanjore, Ramnad, Tinnevely, Malabar and South Kanara districts. Dermatological clinics have been opened in the district headquarter hospitals at Coimbatore, Tanjore, Guntur and Vizagapatam and there is also a leper clinic in the Government hospital at Krishnagiri for out-patients. The grants allotted by the British Empire Leprosy Relief Association (Indian Council) to the Madras Provincial Committee for leprosy relief for the years 1926—28 were distributed to the various mission leper asylums and homes, the Lady Willingdon Leper Settlement, Tirumani, and the Government medical institutions, for the purchase of drugs and appliances and for the fitting of small laboratories in certain cases and also for the construction of the out-patient leper clinic at the Government hospital, Krishnagiri, for the efficient treatment of lepers. Grants for buildings for the accommodation of lepers are also given to mission authorities from provincial funds.

(d) In the Tirumani Leper Settlement and the Government hospital at Krishnagiri lepers are treated as out-patients. Centres for the treatment of leper out-patients have been opened in 17 medical institutions in the Ganjam district.

(e) Out-patient leprosy treatment centres have been opened temporarily at Villupuram and Cuddalore in the South Arcot district on the suggestion of the Leprosy Survey Party working under Dr. Santra in that district. The question of opening such centres in the East Godavari district will depend on the result of the survey by the Leprosy Survey Party.

A programme for the further development of leprosy work in this Presidency is under consideration.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"With reference to clause (a), may I enquire if the Government are prepared to admit that the census figures of 1921 are reliable?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"In the absence of anything to the contrary, Government believe that they are reliable."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"Has it not been brought to the notice of Government that these figures are not reliable and that the actual number of lepers is more than what is stated to be at present?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"Probably the number has increased since 1921 when the census was taken."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"May I know whether medical officers have not reported or have not found from enquiry that the number of lepers in 1921 was much more than what is reported in the census, on account of the difficulty of collecting information as to whether a man is really suffering from leprosy or not?"

[26th September 1929]

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"I do not think the medical officers have investigated the question if the census figures of 1921 are right or not."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know, with reference to clause (e), whether the Leprosy Survey Party working under Dr. Santra was appointed by the Government?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Yes, they were sent by the Research department."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"Is it a fact that in various districts, the Health Officers are making reports about the spread of leprosy in their areas?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"I am not aware of it."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"Is it a fact that in the Salem district, the District Health Officer has made such a survey and found an enormous increase of lepers among adults, and what is worse, even among the school children?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"I do not remember it, but it is quite likely."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"May I know whether the Government have seen a statement published by Dr. Santra, the head of the Leprosy Survey Party now working in Madras, that the number of lepers found in the district of South Arcot exceeded by six times the number found in the census report of 1921?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"I have not seen it."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"With regard to the reply given in the last paragraph, may I know if there is any definite programme now under the consideration of the Government? If so, may I know whether this programme of work has been sent to the Surgeon-General for scrutiny, and whether it emanated from the Surgeon-General himself or from the Government?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Generally, programmes in these departments are discussed by all the officers concerned."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"I want to know whether they have consulted the chief officer in charge of the Empire Leprosy Relief Survey Party in India regarding this question of programme of work."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The heads of the departments will take all the necessary instructions and advice from the proper quarters and find out the remedies."

11-15 a.m. Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"Pending the institution of a leprosy survey, will the hon. the Minister call for reports from the various district health officers?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"That will be considered."

[26th September 1929]

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"With regard to the answer to clause (e), namely, 'the question of opening such centres in the East Godavari district will depend on the result of the survey by the Leprosy Survey Party', may I know whether this consideration will be extended to the other districts or only to the East Godavari district?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The question was only as regards East Godavari and it was answered. The opening of further centres in other districts is not at present under consideration. The case of every district will be considered in due course."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"May I know from the hon. Minister for Public Health whether he has read the report of a personal interview granted by the doctor in charge of the Leprosy Survey Party in the Madras Mail of 31st August?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is not admissible."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"With regard to the answer to clause (e), it is stated there are Mission Leper Asylums. Am I to understand that lepers are lodged and boarded in these asylums?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Yes."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"May I know from the hon. the Minister what is the sort of help that the Government are giving to the Leprosy Survey Party that is now working in Madras and whether they have asked the local officers to co-operate and help the party and whether they are given any grants to help the work of the party in the Presidency?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The Local Government are sending their officers to undergo training and every sort of possible help is also given to the party."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"May I know whether anything is being done to keep the work that is done by the Leprosy Survey Party a continuous one?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The Leprosy Survey Party have worked in the South Arcot district and if the Government are satisfied as to the progress made by the party and if they think that it is necessary to continue the work, they will continue the work next year also."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"May I know whether the Government are aware of the fact that the party is working in West Godavari and not in South Arcot?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The party began work in South Arcot and as regards future action it will depend upon the report of the party."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"May I know whether any facilities are given at the Tirumani Leper Settlement for training medical officers in the treatment of leprosy and whether there are any laboratory arrangements?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member will have to put a separate question. It does not arise out of this question."

[26th September 1929]

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—"It is stated that there is a proposal under the consideration of Government for further development of leprosy work in this Presidency. May I enquire what the complete proposals are and what is the programme of Government which is referred to in the answer? May we have at least some idea of their proposals?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"The proposed survey will be on the lines conducted in the South Arcot district and if any change is necessary the Government will consider that."

Alleged inadequacy of lights for Indian nurses in Government Maternity Hospital.

* 516 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that there is no light in the common dining room or in the kitchen for Indian nurses in the Government Maternity Hospital, Madras;

(b) if so, the reasons therefor;

(c) whether the Government propose to supply the omission, and if so, when; and

(d) whether there are any differences in the treatment of Indian and non-Indian nurses in the Maternity Hospital; and if so, what they are and the reasons for such differential treatment?

A—(a), (b) & (c) Lights have been provided in the dining hall and the kitchen allotted to Indian nurses in the Women and Children Hospital, Madras.

(d) No.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"May I know when these lights were provided?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"The exact date I do not remember. But, I think, it was during July."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"May I know why lights were not provided till July?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"I am not able to answer that."

Education

Discretion to headmasters in dealing with overaged students.

* 517 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether the Director of Public Instruction has made it obligatory on the headmasters of schools or given them authority to use their discretion in dealing with students who are overaged?

A.—It has always been left to the discretion of heads of institutions to admit grown-up pupils or refuse admission to them.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"May I know from the hon. the Minister for Education whether that in the case of communities who are not highly advanced in the matter of education the strict enforcement of the discretion on the part of the headmasters causes great hardship?"

[26th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"I am sure the heads of institutions have taken that matter into consideration."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"Will the hon. the Minister for Education draw their attention if he has not already done so?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"I think as far as possible they are doing that."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—"Will the Government relax the rules for age-limit. Now there is no age-limit fixed?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"I do not think that is necessary."

Appointments to the Madras Education Service since July 1927.

* 518 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the number of appointments made directly to the Madras Education Service since July 1927 and the names of the selected candidates;

(b) how many of these are (1) Brahmans, (2) Non-Brahman Hindus, (3) Muhammadans and (4) Christians;

(c) how many of them are natives of (1) Malabar, (2) of the Native States of Cochin and Travancore;

(d) whether before making these direct appointments the Government made any attempt to find out whether there were suitable men in the Subordinate Educational Service for promotion to these vacancies; and

(e) why before making these direct appointments applications were not called for by advertisement in the papers or otherwise?

A.—(a) Five—

(1) Dr. S. G. Manavalaramanujam,

(2) Mr. K. I. Verghese,

(3) Mr. E. J. Jacques,

(e) The Government did not consider it necessary to call for applications by advertisement. Qualified candidates whose applications had been registered after approval by the Selection Committee were available.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"May I know the reasons for giving preference to people coming from particular areas of the province?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"They were the best qualified men available."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"May I know the criterion which the Government or the Director of Public Instruction have in selecting these gentlemen?"

[26th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Mr. Jacques is a second-class B.A. in Mathematics of the University of London; Mr. Kallukaran is a second-class B.Sc. and Ph.D. of the University of London and Mr. K. S. Unni Nayar holds a second-class Honours degree in Modern History of the University of Oxford."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know whether before making these appointments the Selection Committee or the Director of Public Instruction advertised for these posts ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" There was no need to advertise as they had these candidates who are in the opinion of the Director and the Government best qualified to fill these posts."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know the reasons why members of certain castes were not recruited ? Is it because of the accident of their birth or any ante-natal qualifications or because they possess less qualifications than these people ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The hon. Member is wrong in thinking that any ante-natal qualifications were taken into consideration. As the hon. Member himself knows the community to which he belongs are not very anxious to go to England and get themselves educated. No Brahman gentlemen were available who were educated at either of the Universities I mentioned."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know whether Government have laid it down as their policy that they recruit for services only men educated in Oxford and Cambridge ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" There is no such rule. But in the opinion of the Government, education at Oxford or Cambridge does indicate a certain amount of qualification."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know the reasons why people who are in the Subordinate Services and who had similar qualifications were not promoted ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I do not think the people whose claims were not considered were as well qualified as the persons who have been appointed."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the Government are following a policy of preferring Oxford and Cambridge men, whatever their experience may be, to men in this country who have had only Indian qualifications ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" If they are better qualified, certainly they will be preferred."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" May I enquire whether it is not a fact that these Oxford and Cambridge men render themselves more disqualified for their work in India than men who are qualified in India itself ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I am not prepared to take the hon. Member's opinion on this."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" Is the hon. Minister aware that there are two Mussalmans, qualified in England, in teaching as well, who applied for such posts and that they were denied ? "

[26th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" They were not denied because of their qualifications."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" Then may I know the reasons for the denial ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is not in the public interest to give out the reasons."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know why Dr. Manavalaramanujam was preferred to Mr. R. Gopala Ayyar who was admitted by everybody to be better qualified ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Now that the hon. Gentleman has raised the question, I must say that in the opinion of the Government Dr. Manavalaramanujam was better qualified than Mr. R. Gopala Ayyar."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" Did the Government take the opinion of any expert educational authority ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Yes, the opinion of the Selection Committee which was composed of people like Dr. Meston and Mr. Erlam Smith."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it a fact that Manavalaramanujam held a similar place in the Christian College before he left for England ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" That is so."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it a fact that he went to England and qualified himself for the highest degree there ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I do not know what the hon. Member means by the expression 'highest degree'."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" He is a Doctor of Philosophy and M.S.Sc. of the Cambridge University and an expert in his work."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member is giving very useful information. That is not a supplementary question."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether men possessing mere degrees of Oxford and Cambridge are being given preference to those with degrees of this country ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is not merely the possession of degrees, but it depends also on the experience of candidates."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—" May I know whether it is the opinion of Government that persons qualified in this country are not better fitted to occupy these posts ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" In the opinion of the Government education in the West does certainly go to broaden the views of the gentlemen concerned."

Recognition of degrees conferred by the Andhra University.

* 519 Q.—Mr. P. ANJANEYULU : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether he is aware that the medical and other degrees conferred by the Andhra University are not being recognized by other Universities ;

[26th September 1929]

(b) whether any representations have been made to the Government on the subject; and

(c) what steps the hon. Minister has taken or proposes to take to remedy the disadvantage?

A.—(a) The Madras University has not accorded a general recognition to the degrees of the Andhra University. It has, however, recognized the B.A. degree examination of that University as equivalent to its own B.A. degree examination for purposes of admission to the M.A. degree examination for a period of five years from 1928–29. The Government have no information in regard to the recognition of Andhra University degrees by Universities other than the Madras University.

(b) A representation has been received from the Vice-Chancellor of the Andhra University in regard to the degrees of that University being declared equivalent to degrees of the Madras University for purposes of admission into colleges recognized by or affiliated to the Madras University.

(c) The representation referred to is under consideration.

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—“ May I know why a five-year limit is given for purposes of admission to the M.A. degree examination of the Madras University ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ As is already stated in the answer, that is a question entirely under the control of the Syndicate of the University of Madras. ”

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—“ As regards the answer to clause (c), it is stated that the matter is under consideration. May I know the nature of the consideration ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ It is under consideration in the sense that we have written to the Vice-Chancellor and through him to the Syndicate to consider the question of Andhra University graduates, as they happen to be graduates of a University which is a sister university to the University of Madras. ”

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—“ May I know when the hon. Minister expects a reply to that ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I expect very shortly. ”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know, in view of the answer that the B.A. degree examination of the Andhra University is considered to be equivalent to the B.A. degree of the Madras University for purposes of admission to the M.A. degree only, whether the Madras University has recognized the Andhra University for purposes of other branches of learning ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ The Madras University treats the graduates of the Andhra University in the same way as they treat graduates from universities outside the University of Madras like Dacca and Lucknow. ”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know whether it is not a fact that the medical degrees of the Andhra University are conferred by a joint examination board of the Andhra and Madras Universities ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ That is so. ”

[26th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know what difficulty there can be in recognizing the medical degrees of the Andhra University ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ As I said already, that is a matter for the Syndicate of the Madras University. Government are trying to persuade them to give better consideration to the Andhra University than to other Universities. ”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ May I know if the Madras University is being addressed on all these subjects raised ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ Yes, on all the subjects raised the University of Madras has been addressed. ”

Alleged reversion of certain students promoted to the Senior classes in the Rajahmundry Arts College.

* 520 Q.—Mr. P. ANJANEYULU : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether his attention has been drawn to the impasse in the Rajahmundry Arts College ;

(b) why certain students were asked to go back to the junior classes after they were once promoted to the senior classes ;

(c) if the Government have no information on the subject, whether the hon. Minister will be pleased to obtain the same and furnish this House with detailed information at an early date ;

(d) whether any representation on the subject has been made either to the hon. Minister or the Director of Public Instruction or both ; and

(e) if so, what action has been taken thereon ?

A.—(a) The position in the Rajahmundry Arts College has been brought to the notice of Government.

(b) Because it was found that they were not qualified for promotion not having put in the requisite attendance.

(d) Representations were made to the Director of Public Instruction.

(c) & (e) The matter has been finally settled by the University accepting the recommendation of the department and granting exemption to the students concerned. They have been since promoted to senior classes.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“ May I know the reason why students were sent back after once they were promoted ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ For the simple reason, unfortunately, the Principal in charge promoted these people even though they did not have attendance requisite for such promotion. ”

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“ May I know if Government have taken steps against the Principal ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ The Principal has now gone on leave and cannot be got at. ”

[26th September 1929]

Admission of students in the Presidency College.

* 521 Q.—Mr. P. ANJANEYULU: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether there are any rules in the matter of admission of students into the Presidency College, Madras;

(b) whether the attention of the hon. Minister has been drawn to cases where students applying at the same time for admission into that college were given differential treatment;

(c) whether applicants who secured a greater number of marks were refused admission, while those getting decidedly less number of marks were admitted; and

(d) if the Government have no information on the subject, whether the hon. the Minister will be pleased to furnish this House with full information thereon?

A.—(a) A copy^a of G.O. No. 1880, Law and Education, dated 15th September 1928, is laid on the table.

(b), (c) & (d) The Government understand that candidates belonging to the less advanced communities who had obtained lower marks were admitted in preference to those belonging to the more advanced communities who had obtained higher marks with a view to maintaining the percentages laid down in the Government Order referred to above.

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—“May I know whether such an order applies to all the colleges?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“Notice, Sir.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I know whether the Government will consider or propose to consider the increase of accommodation in these colleges?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“The question of increase of accommodation means money. At present I am not in a position to say whether such increase of accommodation is possible with our financial resources.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I know whether Government will consider the matter that the education provided will be taken advantage of by those who are best qualified to be benefited?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“I am quite at one with the hon. Member's idea. As long as these communal differences exist in this province and communities do feel that they want encouragement, I am afraid that is not possible.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I know whether Government will increase the accommodation with a view to provide for those best fitted to derive the benefit of the education provided and also to provide for the backward communities?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“As I already stated, that is a matter of finance and we cannot say at present whether such accommodation can be increased.”

^a Printed as Appendix II on page 318 infra.

[26th September 1929]

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I know whether Government will consider the matter with a view to find finances, if possible?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“As I said, that is not a matter at present under consideration.”

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—“May I request the Government to consider the increase of accommodation. There is not enough of accommodation for the students . . . ?”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“The hon. Member is again making a speech instead of putting a supplementary question.”

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—“I request Government to consider the increase of accommodation.”

Opening of Honours courses at Anantapur

* 522 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have under consideration any scheme for starting Honours courses at Anantapur so that it may be included in the next budget; and

(b) if the answer to (a) be in the positive, whether he will be pleased to state how far the question has been examined?

A.—(a) & (b) The Director of Public Instruction has been requested to work out preliminary proposals for opening Honours classes in the Ceded Districts College, Anantapur, and submit them to the Government with a statement of the financial liabilities involved.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know when this request was made to the Director of Public Instruction?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“The Director of Public Instruction was asked to make his proposals soon after the budget for 1929-30 was passed by the Legislative Council.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know whether the Government will expedite the matter?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“The Director of Public Instruction has been asked to expedite the matter.”

Reversion of certain Deputy Inspectors of Schools.

* 523 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the report called for in reply to my starred question No. 1842 answered on 25th March 1929 regarding reversion of some senior Deputy Inspectors of Schools has come from the Director of Public Instruction; and

(b) what action the Government propose to take in the matter?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The Government do not consider it necessary to take any action.

Teaching grants to the elementary schools in South Kanara district.

* 524 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the names with the description of elementary schools to which the District Educational Officer, South Kanara, has communicated since 1st January 1929 that they will not be recommended for teaching grants for the current year in pursuance of the so-called 'Concentration Scheme';

(b) when the said schools were started, what is their present strength, what are the classes taught in each and how long they were getting teaching grants;

(c) what the Board schools are in regard to which he has made similar recommendations;

(d) what other grants (building, furniture, etc.), were till now paid in respect of the schools mentioned in (a) and (b) supra;

(e) whether the said schools are to be closed and if so, what is to become of the teachers;

(f) whether the District Educational Council is the final authority in the matter of deciding on the disposal of teaching grants to the said schools;

(g) whether the District Educational Officer, South Kanara, has placed any such scheme including the above schools for the stoppage of the grants before the District Educational Council concerned and whether they have approved of the same;

(h) if not, why he informs the schools that they are not required and should be closed; and

(i) what steps the Government propose to take regarding the matter?

A.—(a) (1) Giliyar Sri Shambhavi Vidyalaya Aided Elementary school, Udipi taluk, managed by K. Shesha Karanth;

(2) Periadka St. Joachim's Adi-Dravida Elementary school, Kadaba, which is a Roman Catholic Church school.

(b) Giliyar Sri Shambhavi Vidyalaya—The District Educational Council recognized the school on 31st October 1924. The school contains standards 1 to 4, taught in three batches, with a total strength of 74 pupils. For the last five years, the school was receiving teaching grants.

Periadka St. Joachim's school—The District Educational Council recognized it on 29th November 1926. The school contains classes 1 to 4 with a strength of 39 pupils. The school was receiving teaching grants for the last three years.

(c) (1) Weavers' Board Higher Elementary school, Nileshwar; (2) Perol Board Elementary school; (3) Pudukai Board Elementary school and (4) Nileshwar Girls' Elementary school. All these schools are under the Taluk Board, Kasargod.

(d) Nil.

(e) This is for the authorities concerned to decide.

(f) Yes, subject to the provisions of section 42 (3) of the Madras Elementary Education Act of 1920.

(g) The District Educational Council has not yet taken any action on the District Educational Officer's reports.

[26th September 1929]

(h) The District Educational Officer made the recommendations after actually visiting the schools and satisfying himself that they were not needed.

(i) The question of amalgamation of schools is being investigated by the Director of Public Instruction and pending a final decision the District Educational Officer has been instructed not to take any further action in respect of the two schools.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"With reference to answer to clause (a), may I know on what grounds the District Educational Officer refused to recommend these institutions for teaching grants?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"On the ground of the Concentration Scheme."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"May I know whether the hon. Minister realizes that these schools are serving a very useful purpose as they are imparting education to a large number of children?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I am fully aware of that fact, and at the same time I have to say that under the policy of concentration several schools will have to suffer."

Alleged unsatisfactory results from the Law College.

* 525 Q.—Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether the Government have enquired into the unsatisfactory results from the Law College at the public examinations and have ascertained whether or not they are due to inefficient management and teaching in the Law College?

A.—The results at the public examinations were not satisfactory but the Government do not consider that that was due to inefficient management or bad teaching in the College.

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD:—"May I know whether the Government do not consider that the bad results were due either to the inefficiency of the staff, or to mismanagement; and what steps are the Government going to take?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I am not in a position to state whether it was due to inefficiency or mismanagement."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"Then may I know to what do they ascribe the bad results?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The reason is the students did not get up to the required standard."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know whether the bad results were due to the inefficiency of the teaching staff?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The teaching staff is quite up to the mark."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"Will the Government then institute an inquiry as to what the bad results are due to?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I do not see any reason to institute an inquiry."

[26th September 1929]

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—" May I know whether the Government will institute an inquiry into the unsatisfactory nature of the results ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The Government have replied that any inquiry is unnecessary. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" May I know whether the Government have called for a report, or will they call for a report from the Principal of the Law College ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The Government are of opinion that they do not require any report from the Principal, Law College. "

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know whether it is not a fact that the teaching staff of the Law College consists of mostly law juniors ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The teaching staff of the Law College was recruited some four years ago under the recommendation of the Re-organization Committee in the regime of the Law Membership of Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar and the best hands available were recruited. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know why the Assistant Professors of the Law College are retained even after the expiry of their fixed period ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is incorrect to say that all of them are retained. Only a few are retained ; and that because the Government are considering the re-organization of the Law College, and they hope that the consideration will be over before the next budget. "

Mr. C. S. RATNASABAPATHI MUDALIYAR :—" May I know whether the staff has been the same for the last four years ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" That is so. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" Are there any Oxford and Cambridge men in the staff ? " (Laughter.)

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Yes, there is one Oxford-retained gentleman, Mr. Menon. "

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—" May I know whether the examiners are the same for the last three or four years ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I cannot answer that question from recollection. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" Are we to understand that the Oxford-retained gentlemen are not able to improve the results ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I think they do improve the results. "

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—" Then, why are the results unsatisfactory ? "

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHEITIYAR :—" Are the examiners very strict in valuing the papers ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I have not been able to go behind the mind of the examiners. "

[26th September 1929]

Alleged prohibition of Bharathi's songs in Mannargudi Taluk Board schools.

* 526 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the District Educational Officer, Tanjore, prohibited the Taluk Board of Mannargudi from introducing Bharathi's songs into the schools under their management ;

(b) if so, the reasons for such order ;

(c) whether the said taluk board has applied to the Government for favourable orders in the matter ; and

(d) if so, what action the Government propose to take in the matter ?

A.—(a) & (b) The Government have no information.

(c) & (d) The Government have not received any communication on the subject.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I ask the Government, if they have not already done so, to call for a communication from the President, Taluk Board, Mannargudi ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As a matter of fact we have called for a report from the President, Taluk Board, Mannargudi, and the report has been received and that is now being considered by Government. "

Increase in the scale of fees in Government colleges.

* 527 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the reasons why Government have raised the scale of fees from students in all Government colleges ;

(b) whether the Government have considered the effect on higher education of the raising of these fees ; and

(c) whether the Government consulted public opinion in the matter before passing their orders and if so, in what manner and if not, why not ?

A.—(a) The scales of fees in force in Government colleges prior to the recent revision were those fixed in 1910. Since then, the cost of education has considerably risen. In order to meet a portion of the increased cost, the Government have sanctioned a slight enhancement of rates of fees in Government colleges except the Ceded Districts College, Anantapur, the Queen Mary's College for Women and the Government Muhammadan College, Madras.

(b) Yes.

(c) The Advisory Committee on Education was consulted.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I know what sort of backing the Government had in raising the scale of fees ? "

Local Boards

Widening of the Yeleru bridge at Cocanada.

* 528 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAJULU : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state with reference to answer given to clause (d) of question No. 1870 answered on 26th March 1929 regarding the widening of the Yeleru bridge at Cocanada whether the Government have come to any decision upon the matter and, if so, what is it ?

[26th September 1929]

- 4.—The Government have decided to move in the Legislative Council a demand for a supplementary grant to enable them to give a grant of Rs. 9,000, the full estimated cost of an additional span of 15 feet to the Yeleru bridge.

Alleged cancellation of the elections of the Guruzala Taluk Board.

* 529 Q.—MR. P. ANJANEYULU: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) whether two elections of the Guruzala Taluk Board, Guntur district, wherein the President, Vice-President and members from that Board were unanimously elected were cancelled by the Government;
- (b) whether one contested election of the President of the Board was similarly cancelled;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the Government cancelled the election of Mr. Kesava Reddi to the Palnad Taluk Board from the Durgi circle;
- (d) the reasons that led them to so cancel these elections;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the Government acted in this matter without affording an opportunity to hear the other side; and
- (f) whether any representations have been made by Mr. Kesava Reddi or any of the aggrieved parties, and if so, with what result?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes.

(d) The election of Mr. K. Jagannatha Reddi, the President, referred to in clause (a), was invalidated for the reasons—

- (1) that the action of the President, Taluk Board, in having convened the meeting of the Taluk Board on the 26th September 1928 for the election when the Board had adjourned it to the 29th idem was illegal and

- (2) that the meeting held on the 26th September 1928 had not lawfully been convened as no casual vacancy in the office of the President had actually arisen when it was so convened. The elections of the Vice-President and of the District Board members referred to in the same clause were cancelled on the ground that the meetings of the Taluk Board at which they took place were presided over by Mr. K. Kesava Reddi whose election was invalidated by Government. The election of Mr. K. Kesava Reddi, the President, referred to in clause (b) was cancelled for the reason, as explained below, that he was not a duly elected member of the Board at the time. Mr. Kesava Reddi's election as member for Durgi was set aside as it had been conducted in the final stages by Mr. Jagannatha Reddi whose election as President was invalidated by Government.

- (e) The points on which the orders were based were not in dispute and there was therefore no question of hearing the parties.
- (f) Yes. Government declined to reconsider their orders.

26th September 1929]

Diwan Bahadur P. C. ETHIRAJULU NAYUDU:—"Is it not a fact that the Government after first approving of such elections and after a lapse of three months or so after publishing the names in the Fort St. George Gazette cancelled the elections?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice, Sir."

Diwan Bahadur P. C. ETHIRAJULU NAYUDU:—"Did the Government cancel only the one act of Mr. Kesava Reddi in having called for a meeting to elect the Vice-President and Members of the District Board or all the acts done by Mr. K. Kesava Reddi, as President of Gurjala Taluk Board, on the ground that his election as member was invalidated by the Government?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I must ask for notice; as this happened long ago, I could not remember them."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—"May I know what led the Government to cancel the second election also?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"As I said before, these things happened so long ago that I must ask for notice; I would request my hon. Friends to renew their questions."

Diwan Bahadur P. C. ETHIRAJULU NAYUDU:—"Sir, it is said that the election of Mr. K. Jagannatha Reddi was also invalidated on the technical ground. May I know whether that election was not held under the orders of the Government?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice."

Mr. B. VENKATARATNAM:—"Sir, this question has been pending for the last two years and Government are not able to get a reply from the District Board President. May I know whether the Government have any power to get replies from District Board Presidents?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I believe they have."

Mr. B. VENKATARATNAM:—"Will they use it?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I believe they will."

Alleged cancellation of the election of Mr. Jayaram Reddi to Ongole Taluk Board.

* 530 Q.—MR. P. ANJANEYULU: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the election of Mr. Jayaram Reddi to the Ongole Taluk Board (Guntur district) was cancelled by the Government;

(b) whether it is a fact that the President of Ongole did not make the oath of allegiance in any properly constituted meeting of that Board;

(c) whether it is a fact that the elections of the President, Vice-President, etc., were conducted in that Board in circumstances similar to those of the Palnad Taluk Board; and

(d) whether any representations were made to set aside those elections and if so, what action Government have taken thereon?

A.—(a) The hon. Member is evidently referring to Mr. Jayaram Reddi's election as President of the Ongole Taluk Board. If so, the reply is in the affirmative.

[26th September 1929]

(b) The reference is evidently to Mr. V. Sriramulu who was eventually elected President and who made the oath of allegiance at a meeting convened by Mr. Jayaram Reddi, whose election was subsequently set aside. As, however, the oath was made by Mr. Sriramulu bona fide, it was held that it was valid.

(c) No.

(d) Yes. Government declined to interfere in the matter.

Municipalities

Tender of Messrs. Calendars Cable and Construction Co., Ltd., for electrification of Bezwada town.

* 534 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the tender of Messrs. Calendars Cable and Construction Co., Ltd., for the electrification of Bezwada town was recommended by the Electrical Inspector for acceptance by the Bezwada Municipal Council and that the company themselves were afterwards willing to reduce their tender by more than Rs. 20,000?

A.—The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. The Government have no information as to the matter referred to in the second part.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"May I know, Sir, whether another firm offered a lower rate of tender, and upon that this firm also reduced its amount, and yet the Bezwada Municipality accepted the offer of that another firm; and if so, what action Government are going to take on it?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I cannot answer, as the whole matter is under consideration."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Has the hon. Minister called for any information on that at all?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The reply is given in the answer itself."

Introduction of a Bill to amend the City Municipal Act.

* 535 Q.—Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government propose to introduce an amending Bill to the City Municipal Act providing for a flat rate of timber tax; and

(b) if so, when it may be expected?

A.—(a) & (b) The matter is under correspondence with the Government of India.

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"Are the Government aware that the Corporation is being put to considerable difficulty in the case of rebates and have they been addressed for certain alterations in the rules?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"We have just heard from the Government of India and we are going to proceed with the Bill."

[26th September 1929]

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know whether the hon. the Minister is going to amend the whole Act?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"No, Sir, we are going to introduce legislation so far as this particular point of timber tax is concerned."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Has the Bill been prepared, and if not, why there is delay?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The hands of the Government are full with the amendment of several other Acts, and hence the delay."

Religious and Charitable Endowments

Administration of endowments by Tanjore Rajas.

* 536 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state with reference to clauses (a) to (c) of question No. 2004 given on 27th March 1929 regarding the administration of endowments by Tanjore Rajas—

(a) whether the remarks of the President, District Board, Tanjore, on the report of the Inspector of Local Boards and Municipalities in regard to the administration of the said Chatram Endowments have been received and what orders were passed thereon by Government; and

(b) whether Government will be pleased to lay on the table of this House the report in question along with the remarks of the President, District Board, Tanjore, as also the orders of the Government thereon?

A.—(a) No.

(b) The question will be considered on receipt of the remarks of the President, District Board.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know whether the President of the District Board has been asked to send the required information, and if he has not sent it, why there is so much delay?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The President has been reminded again."

Constitution of districts and divisions

Formation of the Polavaram division.

* 537 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) when the Polavaram division in East Godavari Agency was formed; and

(b) for what reasons?

A.—(a) & (b) The present Polavaram division was constituted with effect from 1st September 1904, in connexion with the redistribution of the Godavari, Kistna and Nellore districts and the formation of the Guntur district.

Alleged memorial regarding backyard assessment in Polagudi village.

* 538 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMMED KHAN: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have received a memorial from one Mr. P. S. Ramakrishnan of Polagudi village on behalf of the ryots about taxing backyard cultivation;

[26th September 1929]

(b) the steps taken on the memorial;

(c) whether for the cultivation referred to only water drawn from the well was used;

(d) whether it is a fact that certain trees in the backyard of houses were taxed;

(e) if the answer to (d) be in the affirmative, whether the Government propose to refund the taxes collected; and

(f) whether the Government will be pleased to lay on the table the Government Order on the question of backyard cultivation?

A.—(a) to (e) The Government have not received such a memorial.

(f) The hon. Member is referred to paragraph 4 of Board's Standing Order No. 21 which contains the rules on the subject.

Assessment on backyards in Polagudi village, Nannilam taluk.

* 539 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the number of backyards exceeding 25 cents in the Polagudi village, Nannilam taluk, Tanjore district;

(b) when the practice began of assessing backyards;

(c) for what crop the assessment is levied;

(d) the rate or rates of assessing backyard cultivation;

(e) the total amount collected as assessment on backyards for fasli 1338;

(f) whether it was included in the budget items for 1928-29 and 1929-30; and

(g) if so, under what heads?

A.—(a) & (e) The Government have not the information.

(b) The practice is an old one but uniform rules for the whole Presidency were introduced in fasli 1327.

(c) & (d) The hon. Member is referred to paragraph 4 of Board's Standing Order No. 21 at page 60 of the Board's Standing Order, Volume I.

(f) Yes.

(g) Assessment on backyards is included in the budget head V. Land Revenue receipts.

Seigniorage fee for fuel trees in South Kanara.

* 540 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state, with reference to clause (b) of my question No. 108, dated 8th August 1929, regarding seigniorage fee for fuel trees in South Kanara—

(a) whether the Government have called for a report from the Collector or from any other officer to verify the alleged fact; and

(b) if so, what the report is; if not, why not?

A.—(a) & (b) No. The hon. Member is referred to the answer given on 8th August 1929 to clause (c) of question No. 108.

[26th September 1929]

Wild animals*Reward for killing wild animals in South Kanara.*

* 541 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have received the report regarding the number of cattle killed by wild animals in South Kanara in 1928; and

(b) whether the Government have investigated the causes why the reward given for killing wild beasts has decreased from Rs. 441 in 1927 to Rs. 360 in 1928?

A.—(a) The number of cattle reported as killed by wild animals in South Kanara district during 1928 was 4,467.

(b) The number of tigers for which rewards were given was 9 in 1927 and 7 in 1928.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"May I know why the amount of rewards for 1928 has decreased to Rs. 360, from Rs. 441 in 1927.

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Because the number of rewards earned was smaller in 1928."

Hunting of wild animals by villagers in South Kanara.

* 542 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: With reference to the answer given to my question No. 331 on 10th August 1929, will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the orders issued allowing, as an experimental measure, the villagers to hunt wild animals in reserved forests in South Kanara are the same as the orders given previously in this matter; and

(b) whether the Government have called for a report as to how far the present orders have encouraged more people to hunt in the reserves and whether the damage done by wild animals to the cattle and crops of ryots has decreased as the result of it?

A.—(a) Under the orders of the Government issued in 1928, permission was given to villagers to hunt wild animals in reserved forests in South Kanara district during the months of July to January. The orders required that they should, however, obtain the previous permission of the Collector on every occasion and that an officer of the Forest Department should be present at the time of the hunt. These rules continue to be in force with the exception that the Collector may delegate his powers in this respect to the local revenue divisional officer.

(b) No.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know whether the Government will call for the report in regard to clause (b) of the question?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I think that it is premature to call for a report so soon as this but I will consider the suggestion."

[26th September 1929]

Criminal Justice*Permission to raffles in aid of charitable institutions.*

* 543 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether raffles started in aid of educational or charitable institutions are generally sanctioned by the Government;

(b) who is the authority who gives the required permission; and

(c) what are the grounds on which it is granted or refused?

A.—(a) No.

(b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the provisions of section 294-A, Indian Penal Code.

(c) The Government have laid it down as a general rule that no sanction should be given to the holding of a lottery.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"In the answer to clause (c) it is said that the Government have laid it down as a general rule that no sanction should be given to the holding of a lottery. May I know whether any departure is made from this rule and if so, on what grounds?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"No, Sir, no departure has been made."

Inquiry into the conduct of the Goa lottery.

* 544 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have made any inquiry regarding the ways in which people are being exploited by the Goa lottery;

(b) whether it is a fact that Goa lottery is attracting even the poorest classes of people in many cities and towns in our province and draining away lakhs of rupees every year; and

(c) whether the Government will consider the desirability of prohibiting the importation, sale and possession of these lottery tickets?

A.—The Government have no information but will enquire.

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Sir, in this connexion I wish to say that after the answer was sent to the press, I have received a report from the Commissioner of Police stating that the poor are not attracted by this lottery, but that an insignificant number of middle class people is attracted."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"In this connexion I wish to remind Members of Government of the desirability of communicating the replies to the Council Office as soon as they are received. This morning I saw the hon. Minister giving the information on the floor of the House when the written answer did not contain it. Of course the Government are not responsible. It has been the practice till now as far as my knowledge goes."

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYAR:—"I think this is only a second time such a thing happens."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I suggest that even if the replies are received late, they should be sent up at once as there are several instances where up-to-date information is required."

[26th September 1929]

a.m.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I take it, Sir, that your order governs the answers given this morning, all those replies of the Ministers and Members of the Government who have referred to documents not before the House in giving their replies ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I have only suggested that they may continue the old practice of printing these answers, provided the Government give the information to the Council Office when they get it subsequently."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" May I ask the hon. the Law Member whether he should not seek to protect the interests even of the middle class people ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" Yes, certainly."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" May I know what action he proposes to take ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" I shall consider it."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" Is he aware that almost every member of this House is receiving very often by post these lottery ticket books ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" I am not aware of it, Sir."

Forests

Resumption of reserves transferred to panchayats in North Arcot district.

* 545 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state with reference to his answer to question No. 2011 answered on 27th March 1929 regarding resumption of reserves transferred to the panchayats in North Arcot district—

- (a) whether the District Collector was consulted in the matter ;
- (b) what is the average supply of fuel from Kavuthimalai, Kannamandi, Radhapuram and Tippakadu coupes for the last five years ;
- (c) whether the Chief Conservator of Forests was consulted in the matter before the Board made a report on the inspection notes of the Commissioner ; and

(d) whether, considering the necessity of providing adequate fuel supply to the town of Tiruvannamalai, the Government will be pleased to call for a report on the inspection notes of the Commissioner from the Collector and the Chief Conservator of Forests ?

A.—(a) & (c) No.

(b) A statement ^a is appended.

(d) The Chief Conservator was consulted before the reclassification was made. The Government are not prepared to take the action suggested.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" May I know why such important persons as the local Collector and the Chief Conservator of Forests were not consulted in the matter ? "

^a Printed as Appendix III on page 319 infra.

[26th September 1929]

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" The Collector is not consulted on a report of his superior officer, a Member of the Board of Revenue. And with reference to the Chief Conservator, he was ultimately consulted before the Government came to a final conclusion, as I have stated in my answer."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" Considering the fuel supply of such an important place as Tiruvannamalai which is a pilgrim centre, and the inconvenience caused owing to its inadequacy, will the Government be pleased to consult the Collector, and issue revised orders, if necessary ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" No, Sir, because a Member of the Board of Revenue, the Collector's superior, has given his opinion."

Working of the Forest Panchayat of the Durga Reserve.

* 546 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

- (a) how long the Forest Panchayat of the Durga Reserve (Karkal taluk of South Kanara district) worked ;
- (b) when it was abolished and for what reasons ;
- (c) whether the villagers concerned petitioned to the Government or to the District Forest Officer concerned to continue the panchayat ; and
- (d) why it was not continued ?

A.—(a) A panchayat under the Forest Village System worked for three years.

(b) & (d) It ceased to exist from 30th June 1927 as the villagers failed to renew their agreement.

(c) No.

Working of the Sandalwood factory at Kuppam.

* 547 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

- (a) who is the owner of the sandalwood factory at Kuppam ; and
- (b) what is the quantity and value of sandalwood supplied by the Government to the said factory in each of the last three years and at what rate or rates ?

A.—(a) There are three sandalwood factories at Kuppam. Their names and the names of their proprietors are—

The Kangundi Industrial Works.	Proprietor, M.R.Ry.
	V. Subrahmanya Chetti.

The South Indian Industrial,	Proprietor, M.R.Ry.
Kuppam.	V. Murgesa Chetti.

Messrs. V. V. & Sons, Kuppam...	Proprietor, M.R.Ry.
	V. Subrahmanya Chetti.

(b) A statement ^a and an abstract containing information in respect of the three factories are appended.

^a Printed as Appendix IV on pages 320-325 infra.

Deputation of the Deputy Forest Utilization Officer for the study of lac cultivation in Bihar and Orissa.

* 548 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Deputy Forest Utilization Officer deputed to study lac cultivation in Bihar and Orissa has returned and, if so, when; and

(b) the measures taken by the Government as the result of his investigation for the propagation of lac on a considerable scale?

A.—(a) The Deputy Forest Utilization Officer returned from the deputation on 13th February 1929.

(b) A scheme for the regular and systematic cultivation of lac in the North Salem division has been sanctioned and proposals for the experimental cultivation of lac on the Chitteris in the Central Salem division have also been approved. The Deputy Forest Utilization Officer is now investigating the possibilities of introducing lac cultivation in the Cumbum Range, Madura division, and in the Bolampatti Range, Palghat division.

Memorial from Forest Rangers for increase of pay.

* 549 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) when the memorial submitted by Forest Rangers for increase of pay referred to in question No. 1706, dated 12th March 1929, was received;

(b) whether the Government have arrived at any decision; and

(c) if not, when they will arrive at any decision?

A.—(a) The memorials from the rangers were received in two batches on 22nd April 1927 and 13th June 1929 respectively.

(b) & (c) The memorials are under consideration.

Purchase of machinery for the tea-chest industry.

* 550 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have come to a decision with regard to a purchase of machinery for starting tea-chest industry at a cost of Rs. 1,50,000 and odd and also with regard to appointing a foreman superintendent;

(b) the cost already incurred with regard to the enquiry held respecting the above matter; and

(c) the estimated percentage of gain, if any, when the above industry is started?

A.—(a) The question is still under consideration.

(b) The direct expenditure, which does not include time spent on office work, may be put down at something under Rs. 1,000.

(c) The proposals are in the nature of an experiment and no gain is anticipated in the experimental stage.

[26th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. the Law Member whether any one has been appointed at all for manufacturing the tea-chests?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"No, Sir."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know with reference to the answer to (b) which says that 'the direct expenditure which does not include time spent on office work may be put down at something under Rs. 1,000' whose office work is referred to here?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"The Chief Conservator's office work."

Honorary Magistrates

Proposed nomination of a lady as honorary Bench Magistrate in Mangalore.

* 551 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether he has called for the information referred to in the answer to my question No. 13, dated 6th August 1929, regarding the proposed nomination of a lady as honorary Bench Magistrate in Mangalore; and

(b) if so, what it is?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The District Magistrate's report has not yet been received.

Elections

Introduction of the Bombay system of voting by symbols in elections.

* 552 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state, with reference to my supplementary question to question No. 87, dated 7th August 1929, whether the Government have taken any, and if so, what steps since then, towards a study of the Bombay system of voting by symbols?

A.—A reference has been made to the Government of Bombay.

Labour

Qualifications and duties of Garden Sardars.

* 553 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: With reference to question No. 1445-A answered on 25th February 1929, regarding recruitment of labourers to tea estates from the Agency tracts, will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) what the qualifications are of Garden Sardars who are entitled to recruit labourers for the Assam Tea plantations;

(b) whether any instructions have been issued to District Collectors in regard to the care and protection of these labourers and if so, what those instructions are;

(c) what are the qualifications of the local agents under whose control the Garden Sardars have to recruit;

(d) how many such agents are now licensed and who they are; and

(e) whether any such agent has ever had his licence cancelled and for what reason?

[26th September 1929]

A.—As the hon. Member is aware “Interprovincial Migration” is a Central subject.

(a) A Garden Sardar, as defined in the Assam Labour and Emigration Act, 1901, is a person employed on an estate in Assam and deputed by his employer to engage labourers.

(b) No instructions have been laid down beyond those contained in the Assam Labour and Emigration Act and the rules and notifications issued thereunder. The notifications have been published on pages 570–571 of Part I of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 11th September 1923, page 410 of the Gazette, dated 3rd March 1925, and page 663 of the Gazette, dated 26th April 1927.

(c) Local agents are representatives of the employers in the recruiting districts and under section 64 of the Act, District Magistrates are authorized to grant licences to suitable persons to be local agents. No special qualifications have been prescribed.

(d) The following agents were licensed and were working in the Presidency during the year ending 30th June 1928 :—

Mr. T. Balaramaswami.

Mr. F. R. Steele.

Captain W. J. Ross Hurst.

Mr. L. S. Driver.

Mr. N. B. V. Subba Rao.

Mr. B. S. Narayana Rao.

Mr. K. Hanumantha Rao.

(e) The annual reports on the working of the Assam Labour and Emigration Act received up to the end of June 1928 show that 14 licences have been cancelled. Most of these were cancelled either at the request of the employers or at the request of the agents themselves; one licence was cancelled for intentionally carrying on illegal recruitment and another for incompetence.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“May I know from the hon. the Home Member in what districts these agents mentioned in clause (d) are working?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—“I must ask for notice, Sir.”

Police

Strength of different communities among Inspectors of Police.

* 554 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN : Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) the number of Inspectors of Police in the City, and the number of Muslims amongst them;

(b) the number of Sub-Inspectors who have been sent out as Inspectors to the mufassal from the City; and

(c) how many of them are Brahmans, Non-Brahman (Hindus), Muslims and Christians?

[26th September 1929]

A.—(a) There are 20 Inspectors now doing duty in the City: one of them is a Muhammadan. (Another Muhammadan Inspector is at present on leave.)

(b) One was sent out during the past one year to officiate as an Inspector.

(c) He was a Brahman.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“May I know from the hon. the Home Member the reason why the people who are qualified to be promoted as Inspectors in the City have not been promoted?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—“Sir, a general question like that cannot be answered.”

UNSTARRED QUESTION

Education

Grants for secondary education for the last two years.

555 Q.—Mr. B. RAMACHANDRA REDDI : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement of grants disbursed to all secondary schools in each district in the Presidency under private management as well as under local bodies during the last two budget years?

A.—A statement* furnishing the information is appended.

[Note.—An asterisk (*) at the commencement of a speech indicates revision by the Member.]

II

THE MALABAR TENANCY BILL.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“The Council will now resume consideration of the Malabar Tenancy Bill. I think it is better to postpone the consideration of clause 4, which only contains definitions, till the other clauses are disposed of. Does the hon. the Law Member agree with me?”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“Yes, Sir, those two definitions contained in clause 4 as regards gross produce and seed may be postponed.”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“The consideration of clause 4 will be postponed till the other clauses, i.e., 5 to 9, are disposed of.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“May I point out one difficulty, Sir? I am somewhat surprised at the readiness with which the hon. the Law Member agreed to your suggestion. After all, clauses 5 to 9 deal with the way in which fair rent has to be fixed; and there again, the common basis on which that fair rent has got to be arrived at is the seed required and the gross produce, and I take it that the House would like to know what the ‘seed required’ would mean in a case of that kind, whether it is what is actually required or customarily deemed to be required. I may say, Sir, that in another place a long discussion took place as to whether it should be the seed required or the seed customarily deemed to be required. Similarly, the House should know what ‘gross produce’ would mean.”

[26th September 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"There are not many amendments on those aspects of the question."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"There are."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Mr. Karant wants to introduce another definition for gross produce and if his scheme of clauses 5 to 9 is accepted then, this becomes necessary. Otherwise it cannot be moved at all. The aspect of the question referred to by the Member for the University is not dealt with in the amendments to clause 4. Mr. Karant wants to delete clause 4, and that is only consequential on the other scheme being approved."

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"I want to make the same suggestion which you were pleased to make, because we want to go on different principles in other clauses, and this is only a defining clause in regard to other clauses."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"Unless Mr. Karant's scheme does away with the definitions of seed and gross produce altogether, this clause will have to be dealt with first I think."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I have examined the point. If the scheme is not approved, clause 4 stands as it is. Now clause 5 is for the consideration of the House."

Clause 5.

* Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—"Mr. President, Sir, I move the following amendment which stands in my name :

"For the existing clause, substitute the following :

"5. Fair rent for wet, dry and garden lands shall be the current rent which the tenant has agreed to pay in respect of such lands."

"Sir, 'Fair rent' we find mentioned for the first time in the Raghavayya Committee's report and in the Bill drafted by them. There is no mention of it at all in the previous Bills on Malabar Tenancy, I mean the Bills of 1926 and 1927, by Diwan Bahadur M. Krishnan Nayar and the Bill proposed to be introduced by Mr. Kotieth Krishnan. How the Raghavayya Committee arrived at this definition of fair rent it is not possible to find out. I shall be obliged if either the Government or any other Member here will tell us how this formula for fixing fair rent has been worked out. The definition of fair rent as given in the Bill before us is admittedly very clumsy, complicated and difficult to understand. It would not be easy at all to find out what the gross produce of the last three years was. In regard to this matter Mr. Pate in his minute of dissent on page 86 of the Raghavayya Committee report says that 'the practical difficulties of ascertaining the gross produce of a holding are obvious; the litigation on this point is likely to be tedious, vexatious and expensive, and behind all this is the uncertainty whether the fair rent as finally deduced will be in fact fair'. There is no doubt that this fixing of fair rent will necessitate an enormous, costly and vexatious litigation. The poor cultivating tenant will be at a disadvantage in getting fair rent fixed by the court. Nobody can say whether the fair rent as fixed according to the formula laid down will be an enhancement or reduction of the existing rent. If the present rents are to continue for 12 years as provided for in this Bill, I do not see any necessity for driving people to law courts by fixing fair rent now. Conditions will necessarily change, prices of food grains will go up or come down and so fair rents fixed now may not be really fair, when they come into force after twelve years. So I propose that we ought to leave things as they are at present and take the existing rent as fair rent, and after six or twelve years the landlord or tenant may apply to the court for a revision of the existing rent on certain specified grounds. To provide for this I am proposing to insert certain clauses after clause 28. According to the Bill as it stands clause 28 says that the present rents shall continue as fair rents for a period of twelve years. So, the amendment I propose is not against what is provided in the Bill so far as the next twelve years are concerned. The dropping out of the formula of fair rent will simplify matters and avoid litigation in respect of fair rents. My proposal will also prevent any great disturbance of the financial equilibrium. It will mean practically a restoration of the provisions in the Bills of Mr. Krishnan Nayar. I, therefore, propose that the present rents should be taken as fair rents for twelve years and then the right will be given to the landlord or the tenant to ask for an enhancement or reduction of the existing rent on certain specified grounds. Thereafter they will be subject to revision every twenty years. I trust, Sir, this amendment will receive the best consideration of this House."

[26th September 1929]

[Mr. A. B. Shetty]

Mr. V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI :—"I second it."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"Sir, nothing will gladden the hearts of the janmis and kanamdars of Malabar more than this amendment of Mr. A. B. Shetty, but I stoutly oppose that amendment because it offends against the very principle of this Act, that is, affording relief to the verumpattandar. Of all persons that require relief in Malabar it has been said often and often that it is the actual cultivator that requires protection, and if Mr. A. B. Shetty's amendment is to be carried, the present rent, that is the rent which is said to be rack-rented, will be perpetuated, and the whole object of the Act will be defeated. I do not know if Mr. Shetty realizes the very serious implications of perpetuating the present rents in Malabar. I therefore strongly oppose this amendment."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"Mr. President, Sir, anything that can gladden the hearts of both of us must be a very good thing indeed (Voices :—"No, no"). People from the other parts of the Presidency may not exactly know what a good thing it is for both of us. However that may be, I think the amendment moved by my hon. Friend, Mr. Shetty, certainly deserves very careful consideration. The formula set out by the Raghavayya Committee is undoubtedly a very attractive one. But, where have you got the data which will enable you to arrive at fair rent which we have to discover in every case? The real difficulty in Malabar is that the conditions which are necessary for enabling you to ascertain the gross produce of a land do not exist. In other places, I am told, there is a common threshing floor, which will enable the parties concerned to know exactly what the gross produce is. My hon. Friend, Mr. Ranganatha Mudaliyar, says that there is no certainty about it. Well, if there is nothing to enable us to judge, I do not think it is proper on our part to adopt a standard of that character."

"Another difficulty is, as pointed out by Mr. Pate who ought to know these things more than many other people, that there is no tradition of sharing the produce on the threshing floor in Malabar. Fair rent, I do not believe, conveys any such idea as the Raghavayya Committee seems to have at the back of their minds. Therefore, apart from the attractiveness and the 12 noon.

[Mr. E. Sankaran Unni] [26th September 1929]

scientific nature of the formula, I do feel that difficulty will arise as to what the gross produce is. There will be no evidence available by which you can judge it. I should like to know from Mr. Madhavan Nayar what is the nature of the evidence that will have to be produced before the gross produce of a field can be ascertained, and that for three past years. Considering how difficult it is to ascertain and be exact about what goes on under our own nose, it should be easy for the House to realize how difficult it would be for anybody to find out what the gross produce for the past three years was. Sir, I am not aware of any method by which it can be arrived at. If you say there may be accounts kept by the cultivator, as he may probably be tempted to do after this Bill is passed, my difficulty is that they will be self-serving documents on which you cannot rely. If you say you can rely on the surrounding lands, the same difficulty will be found in respect of the surrounding lands as well. Until and unless you know what the surrounding lands will yield, reliable data will not be available to solve the problem. Wherever you turn, the difficulty will be there, and what is the effect of doing all this except to drive the tenant to a court of law? The fair rent is to be determined to-day, but under the Bill, as we have it now, the fair rent will not begin to function till after the lapse of twelve years. Now, you are asking the tenant to get into a present quarrel with the janmi for a doubtful future advantage, and, as pointed out by my hon. Friend, Mr. Shetty, is there any certainty at all that the rents will always be 'fair'? In certain taluks in Malabar—I speak with some knowledge of the matter gathered from many friends who are janmis—the rents are very low to-day. If you raise the present rent to the level of what is called fair rent in the Bill, you will be raising the rent by twice the amount. In certain other taluks, I know there will be a big drop in the rent. However, I am prepared to admit that there is some amount of rack-renting going on. But all the same, I do not think rack-renting is so rampant as to necessitate so ruinous a remedy. You want to drive the tenant to the court to discover a thing which no court will be able to determine with anything like precision. For my own part, I think you will be doing a great service to the tenants if you allow them to accept the present rent as fair rent. After all, they have been paying it. All the protection that they require is that the landlord shall not raise the rent arbitrarily. No other attempt on these lines has ever been made by anybody in land legislation. Ireland is the land of land legislation, and I suppose scores of Acts have been passed in respect of this problem. I am not aware that in any one of those Acts there is a provision on the very scientific, on the very attractive lines that you have got here. You have left things very much to the courts. Supposing he goes to court, what do you expect will happen to him? If it is a conflict between the landlord and the tenant, say, a verumpattamdar, the longer purse will win. If the verumpattamdar is to go to court and enter into a combat with the janmi, what he will get is very short shrift. I do not ask the House to continue the present rents for ever. I shall be glad to have these rents revised within a reasonable time, and revision must take place on some well-known definite grounds. If you do that, you will be putting a check on the rise of rents. If that is given, the cultivating verumpattamdar in Malabar will be satisfied. I do not very much mind my hon. Friends opposite saying that this is the way in which the janmis deal with these things. Well, as I said, I am inclined to be fair not only to others but to myself as well. I think fairness to both parties seems to require that we should not ask the poor tenant to get into conflict with his janmi. But you begin the whole affair with a quarrel between landlord and tenant. I thought the real object of this legislation was to settle the relations between landlord and tenant in Malabar. But the Government have brought forward a Bill with the sanction of the Raghavayya Committee behind them which will mean litigation for ever in Malabar. My hon. Friend, Mr. Shetty, has left other points to be elaborated later on. If this amendment is carried, I am not particular about pressing my own scheme before this House. I hope this amendment will be accepted because it will be an advantage to the peasant population of Malabar. It will save them from spending money in the law courts for a very doubtful advantage."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" Mr. President, I support this amendment. One may be surprised that representing as I do the cause of the cultivating tenant I should stand up and support this amendment. I do not for one moment concede that the existing rents are fair rents. At the same time, Sir, I do say and that most emphatically that the fair rent fixed in this Bill, even after it has passed through the Committee stage, is not the fair rent at all. The fair rent that would be worked out according to the present definition would be far more than what the verumpattamdar is paying to-day, so that if the existing rents are taken as the standard, I do believe that the existing rent will be far less than the rent which he will have to pay hereafter under the provisions of this Bill. It is in that view I say that the existing rents may remain rather than rush into a problem the implications of which we are not at present in position to judge. What the cultivation expenses are remains to be determined. The district of Malabar includes the whole land from the Waliyar up to the boundary of the South Kanara district. To say that two and half times the seed shall be the cultivating expenses of all lands of every description would be to determine what is impossible. There are different kinds of lands which require different kinds of treatment. If you say that two and a half times the seed would be sufficient for cultivation expenses including the seed, it would certainly not be a criterion on which a court can decide what the fair rent would be. No doubt, Sir, I have seen other amendments tabled by various members of this House regarding cultivation expenses and what the real share of the cultivating tenant ought to be. But I do say, Sir, that it will all be a leap in the dark. We do not know how these things would work out in practice, and instead of doing so, instead of leaving the whole thing in uncertainty, if the janmis would consent that the existing rent shall be paid, I will take them at their word, and earnestly request the members of this House to support this amendment for the obvious reason that we know at least where we stand now. We may proceed further after some time and decide what more should be done. After all, this is not going to be the last word on Malabar tenancy law. Either the tenant or the janmi will be asking for a revision of some of the provisions of this Bill, and such a revision would be advantageous to either party. That may be done after sufficient time has elapsed, say after six years, after we have known where we stand and how these things are working in practice. Under such circumstances, instead of giving food for litigation between the landlord and the tenant and leaving them to fight in a court of law, we will be doing a great service to Malabar and will be removing all those apprehensions which have arisen in the minds of various persons on account of the provisions of this Bill, if we allow the existing rents to continue for some time.

[Mr. K. Krishnan]

Thus we will be bringing concord between the landlord and the tenant. I thought Mr. Sankaran Unni would not accept this proposition. I am glad he has accepted it. I believe along with this, if fixity of tenure is given to the tenant, he will be able to improve the land, and this will enable him to get an increased yield from the land. According to my hon. Friend, Mr. Shetty, the increased yield shall be shared both by the janmi and the tenant, and, though the janmi gets a share to the extent of 12½ per cent of the increased yield, I am glad the greater part of the increased yield will go to the tenant's share. Under such circumstances, I have great pleasure in supporting this amendment."

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON :—"Sir, I am unable to see eye to eye with the opinions expressed by some hon. Members on this amendment. It is not as if the Raghavayya Committee did not consider this question in all its aspects. In fact, this matter was discussed at length in the Raghavayya Committee's Report. At page 42, in paragraph 87, they say :—

"All these provisions would be of little avail to the tenant if he is to be allowed to be rack-rented, and, therefore, an integral part of the scheme should be a provision for the determination of fair rents giving a guarantee to the tenant that he shall have a fair return for his toil and interest in the land. The Committee, therefore, has determined that fair rents should be defined. Many suggestions as to the proportion in which the produce should be divided have been made. Discussions there have been also as to whether the proportion should relate to the gross produce or to the net produce. While, on the one hand, the gross produce test gives a fairly certain and fairly easily ascertainable basis to work upon, if based on the average yield, the net produce test has, on its side, the advantage of relating the share to what actually has to be divided after deducting the charges common to both the tenant and the landlord. There is, however, the difficulty of ascertaining what the cost of cultivation and other common charges are, and as these are likely to differ with each land, no satisfactory formula, applicable even to a large number of cases, can be worked out. Having regard to these considerations, the Committee has thought that it would be useful to devise a formula which has in it an element of certainty and also takes account of the dissimilarity in the cost of cultivation and similar charges, and it has arrived at the conclusion that the best workable scheme would be to give a definite formula for cost of cultivation and leave the inequalities over and above that to be met by the grant of a generous proportion of the balance to the cultivating tenant. The Committee has, therefore, decided that in the case of wet holdings a fair formula would be to make twice the seed required for the cultivation of a particular area, the constant cost of cultivation, and deduct the same from the gross average produce and give a third of the balance to the tenant and two-thirds to the landlord."

p.m.

Therefore, it is necessary to ascertain the fair rent, and I may add the whole Bill rests upon the ascertainment of fair rent. Fair rent is as if it were the pivot round which the whole Act turns. As a matter of fact, it will be observed that the Bill was discussed section after section in the Select Committee and a solution of this question was arrived at. None of the previous Bills aimed at giving a solution to this problem of fair rent. We wanted therefore in this Bill not to fall into that error. That is what this Bill aims at. If it is now said, 'Go back to the old state of things, leave alone the rent as it is now being paid by the tenant and brush aside all those considerations which constitute the grievances of the tenant', then you are not doing any justice to the tenant, nor are you suggesting any solution to the problem. Now, after this was done, and after the Bill was referred to the Select Committee, the matter was discussed at great length and the impression left on the Members of the Select Committee was that the present verumpattam rents are higher than the fair rent. And I say from my own knowledge of the subject that the present verumpattam rents are really higher than fair rents. Mr. Krishnan Nayar had not considered this question in his Bill. There is a danger if we go back upon the provisions based upon the conclusions arrived at by the Raghavayya Committee after evidence was taken and after careful consideration. Now, Mr. Unni says that it will lead to litigation and so on. I draw the attention of the House to sections 28 and 32. Section 28 says: 'Every cultivating verumpattamdar shall be bound to pay to his immediate landlord fair rent as fixed under this Act'. I shall read the proviso later. And then, section 32 says: 'Save as otherwise provided in this Act, no cultivating verumpattamdar and no person in whose favour a renewal deed has been executed under the provisions of Chapter IV shall be liable to pay to his landlord anything more than the fair rent and the renewal fee as fixed by this Act, and any stipulation, express or implied, of whatever date, to pay anything more or anything else shall be void.' Thus, it is distinctly laid down there that fair rent, and fair rent alone, is payable hereafter. In order to see that the domestic budgets of persons receiving rents at certain scale are not disturbed there is a proviso under section 28. The proviso says: 'Provided that in the case of a cultivating verumpattamdar's holding existing at the date on which this Act comes into force, the rent payable on such holding shall be deemed to be fair rent for a period of 12 years from such date.' So that time is given for people to adjust themselves to the new circumstances arising out of this Bill. It does not invite the tenant, as Mr. Unni suggests, to go to court at once anticipating what is to happen twelve years hence. He says the landlords and tenants will now embark on litigation that may be called anticipatory to settle what the fair rent will be after a space of twelve years and then go to a court of law. They, as other intelligent people, will try to adjust fair rent within this term of twelve years and, if unable to do so, then alone go to a court of law. I certainly cannot see that any such thing will happen, and I cannot see any reason for not sticking to the provisions of the Bill as drafted by the Select Committee, and I refuse, to borrow the phrase of Mr. Krishnan, to take a leap in the dark without knowing exactly what the implications of the new amendment are."

26th September 1929] [Mr. K. P. Raman Menon]

* Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO :—"The amendment of the hon. Mr. Shetty consists of two parts, first to delete clause 5, and then to substitute a new clause. There is good reason for him to bring this amendment in view of what happened yesterday when the Government accepted the amendment of the hon. Mr. Unni for the deletion of the words 'wet land'. So, clause 5, dealing with dry lands converted land into wet becomes altogether unnecessary. I do not know whether the Government reconsidered their position now. But what I gather from the Government's acceptance of the amendment is that they consider clause 5 to be unnecessary. We were opposed to the Government for accepting the amendment yesterday and we voted against it.

"The second point raised by Mr. Shetty will have far-reaching consequences. What he proposes is that the present rent which should continue for twelve years should be considered as fair rent in the definition. That completely upsets the whole structure of the Bill. From time to time we have heard complaints that the present rent is exorbitant and the present tenure is a rack-renting system in Malabar. Agitation had been very strong. It was said that both the janmi and kanamdar had joined hands in this matter. It seems to me that we have to look at the matter with great caution (hear, hear) because the actual cultivator is left in the lurch."

[26th September 1929]

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"May I point out that the janmi and the kanamdar have not joined together. It is Mr. Krishnan who is not a kanamdar that has joined me."

Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—"We are now considering what the position of the actual cultivator would be if the amendment is carried. There have been complaints that he has been rack-rented, that he has been weighed down under exorbitant rents. If all these complaints made during these years were facts, then I fail to see how the present system of rent could be a fair rent. If it is otherwise, there is no necessity for the Raghavayya Committee and no necessity for legislation. According to this amendment of Mr. Shetty clause 28 of the Bill also will have to be modified, because we accept as a tentative measure in spite of protest from some of us that there is no need for 12 years and the fair rent may be enforced immediately and come into force at once. But the present economic conditions, family circumstances and budgets of families need readjustment before the new legislation takes effect. In view of that it was suggested that we should wait for five years before a revision comes into force. A practical solution the Raghavayya Committee suggested, and the Select Committee also paid careful attention to it. We were under the impression at the Select Committee discussions that the fair rent was really less than what it is at present. But if the fair rent determined upon by the Select Committee is very much less than what it is at present and really helpful to the tenants, I do not see any reason why this clause should not be allowed to stand."

"Then, it was pointed out by Mr. Unni that it has increased the duration of the present system, there should be a possibility of the revision of the rent, and that once it is revised then it may be adjusted to the prevailing conditions. I am not in favour of such a suggestion. I do not see why it should be subject to revision at the pleasure of the kanamdar or janmi if the object of the Bill is to give relief to the cultivating tenant. On the other hand, it is our duty while legislating that we must take the existing circumstances as they are and provide a measure of relief."

"Then, Sir, it is said, in support of this amendment, that there is no need to disturb the existing relations, that every opportunity would be given to the tenant for improving his land, and that these improvements would be taken into consideration at the resettlement. In the circumstances in which he is now situated, the tenant has no opportunity of investing any money for the improvement of his land. How could he be induced to put in more labour and money if you allow the existing state of things to continue? So that argument cannot hold water. We have fully considered all the aspects of the clause with a view to giving relief to the cultivating tenants and I do not see any change is necessary."

* Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR:—"Sir, I have to differ from my hon. Friend Sir Patro on this motion. The Raghavayya Committee gave only a qualified fixity of tenure to the cultivating verumpattamdar. They no doubt speak of rack-renting in their report as prevalent in Malabar. But their anxiety to determine what the fair rent ought to be was strictly dictated by this qualification. If matters had stood there, perhaps there would be no room for much complaint. But as one of the members just now said, the whole structure has been seriously disturbed by the important clauses made by the Select Committee. Instead of qualified fixity of tenure recommended by the Raghavayya Committee, the Select Committee give now fixity of tenure unqualified in the sense that no option is given to the tenant to give up his lands if he felt he was being rack-rented. And secondly, the fair rent fixed by the Raghavayya Committee has also been altered to a large extent very much. The Raghavayya Committee had spent considerable time and labour in examining witnesses and after a very careful study of the conditions and, as one of the members said, after visiting several localities they arrived at a formula. And even this is somewhat departed from. Therefore one thing is certain, that this matter of fair rent is an apple of discord. My Friend Mr. Krishnan who objected to my statement on a previous occasion as taking sides with the janmis of North Malabar, is now supporting a janmi representative. In one sense he represents the tenant even better than my Friend, Mr. Raman Menon, who is an eminent lawyer and has considerable experience of such matters. I think it is very difficult to arrive at a very fair standard of what fair rents ought to be. Therefore, in view of the difficulty experienced the current rent paid actually by the cultivating verumpattamdar may be accepted. So, if this amendment is carried, at the end of 12 years, there will be ample time to take stock of the situation and arrive at a satisfactory solution. For this reason, Sir, I support this amendment."

* Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"Sir, I have to oppose this amendment. If there is any amendment which will wreck this Bill entirely it is this one, because the whole frame of this Bill depends on the fair rent. Some of us have been helping the progress of this Bill simply because we feel that it will go a long way to minimize rack-renting in that district. I am really surprised at the somersault of my hon. friend Mr. Krishnan on this point. I never expected this, because it was not a point which was urged by him at the Select Committee, namely, that the existing rent is quite fair and lower than the fair rent as fixed in the Bill."

"I may explain how and why if this amendment is carried the Government may as well withdraw the Bill. Sir, in regard to renewals of kanams, kuzhikanams and cultivating verumpattams, more or less an agreement has been reached on the understanding that it is to be three times or two and a quarter times the fair rent minus the existing rent or the michavaram as the case may be and I take it that the kanamdars have agreed to give two or three times and the customary verumpattamdars and kuzhikanamdars have agreed more or less to give such a renewal fee because the fair rent is going to be much less than the existing rent. On the other hand, if the fair rent is to be the existing rent, as per Chapter IV, all these persons will have to pay very much more than they expected and therefore the Bill may be taken to be practically wrecked at this stage itself."

"The question now is whether there is rack-renting in Malabar. We know, Sir, that there is rack-renting in almost all districts of the Presidency so far as ryotwari lands are concerned and that fact that the cultivating man suffers from rack-renting cannot be gainsaid. In Malabar, however, the conditions are very peculiar as there are a large number of intermediaries between the landlord and cultivating tenant such as kanamdars, sub-kanamdars and so on. Since every one of these intermediaries must have a share of the profit from the land and the janmi must have his rent, rack-renting prevails to a large extent. The Raghavayya Committee went into this question and have summarised their views at page 42 of their report, paragraph 87:

'All these provisions would be of little avail to the tenant if he is to be allowed to be rack-rented, and therefore, an integral part of the scheme should be a provision for the determination of fair rents giving a guarantee to the tenant that he shall have a fair return for his toil and interest in the land. The Committee, therefore, has determined that fair rents should be defined.'

p.m.

[Mr. K. R. Karant]

[26th September 1929]

"Sir, the Committee as a whole is of opinion that there is rack-renting despite the minutes of dissent of certain members. Then, one of the members of the Committee Mr. V. K. Menon in his dissenting minute at pages 103 to 105 says that there is a great deal of rack-renting and that while the Government had fixed more or less in the year 1803 at the time of the first settlement in Malabar what the Government share of the produce ought to be, they never fixed or laid down any maximum so far as the share which the landlord could take from the cultivating tenant is concerned. He was of opinion that there was a great deal of rack-renting in the district. Now, the question is whether there is going to be any attempt on the part of the legislature when it is going to give a sort of fixity in the district, to interfere and see that present rack-renting is reduced. That is a vital matter and I submit this amendment has to be opposed.

"One more point I wish to answer and that is the point raised by the last speaker. He said that very great changes had been made in the Select Committee in regard to fixity of tenure. I do not agree with him. All that has been done in the Select Committee so far as fixity of tenure to the cultivating tenant is concerned is this: The former provision was that either party may apply to a court for a decision. There was no option left and fixity was to be given. Now what the Select Committee has done is, instead of driving the tenant or the landlord to the court for this purpose, it has given ipso facto under this Bill, fixity of tenure to all people. Except to that extent, so far as the principle of fixity is concerned, I do not think the Select Committee has made any substantial change at all. It is only a change in the matter of procedure. I do not wish to say anything more at this stage. I request the House to vote against this amendment."

* Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB:—"Mr. President, I heard the hon. Members Mr. K. Krishnan, Mr. Raman Menon and Sir Patro. They wondered at the attitude which Mr. Krishnan has taken. But it was not a surprise to me. He wanted to take the House stealthily and commit it to a very confiscatory act. It is clear that he is not interested in verumpattamdar and the customary verumpattamdar. He is interested only in the tenants of kuzhikanam lands and he wanted stealthily to confiscate every part of the future produce belonging to the janmi on garden lands."

Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"A word of personal explanation, Sir. I did not support this motion because I thought that this was a motion which was going to . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member is arguing. It is not a personal explanation."

Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB:—"Any increase or decrease of fair rent in regard to paddy land is not going to be very high or very low; but in regard to garden lands the case is different. There are growing trees in all gardens of North Malabar which though not yielding now, at the time of the last renewal, will be yielding before the next renewal and it is to deprive the janmi of his share of this future yield that Mr. Krishnan has supported this amendment. I request the House not to be a party to such a confiscatory measure."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Mr. President, Sir, if I rise to take part in this discussion it is not because I come from North Malabar or South Malabar or because I was a member of the Select Committee. I am a lay member of this House so far as this question is concerned and when I am asked to differ from the decisions of the Select Committee, I want to be perfectly convinced for doing so.

[26th September 1929] [Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao]

"My Friend Mr. Krishnan seemed to claim that the interest of the verumpattamdar required this amendment, but I felt even at the beginning that this Act would not have been necessary if this was the fact. This Act is being attempted to be enacted because there has been rack-renting and conditions in Malabar have been adverse to the lowest in the rungs of the tenantry. The counsel of Mr. Krishnan appears to be a counsel of despair. He said that in this Bill what is attempted to be done is: that the present rent should continue for 12 years for the reason that the financial budgets of certain families would be affected; that the fair rent as enunciated by this Bill at present would be higher according to the calculation of Mr. Krishnan and that this would involve a great deal of litigation. On all these questions, one is inclined to be sympathetic, but so far as I can see, they do not stand real scrutiny. In the first place there is an opinion that the fair rents that are fixed by this Bill are not so high as the rents that obtain to-day and it is agreed even by the janmis' representative that in certain places it will be higher and in certain other places it will be lower. Therefore if a question arises as to whether the fair rent that is now decided should be fixed at what it is decided to be or whether there should be a lowering, then we could discuss the question and not till then.

"As regards the present rent, I feel that the House may take the 12 years period into consideration when that arises and vote it down. I hope that Mr. Krishnan will have an opportunity to vote it down with the help of those who are sympathetic to the verumpattamdars.

"With regard to difficulties of litigation, I am almost sure that there will be a good deal of that under this Act whatever form it may take. There appears to be a very good ground to apprehend that litigation will materially increase in Malabar before this Act becomes a settled fact. But that seems to be inevitable as there are very many difficulties. So far as the three points I have mentioned are concerned, I feel unconvinced by the arguments advanced by Mr. Krishnan. I feel that he despaired of the situation and said to himself: 'What does it matter; We have to suffer for another 12 years. Let us, at any rate, suffer till it is revised. Let us take our chance in the future.' But that is not the real spirit of this legislation. After this Bill has become an Act we have very carefully to consider the question and do what is possible to the verumpattamdar and to the men in the lowest rungs of the tenantry. I do not know whether this amendment of Mr. Shetty is inopportune at this stage. I do not know whether this would not have been best to come at the end. Whatever it is, I am not prepared to support this amendment for this reason that I have no counsel of despair in this matter.

"With regard to the arguments advanced by the representative of the janmis, I feel sorry that they are after all make-believe arguments. I have very great difficulty in understanding him. He has given notice of amendments which make it clear that he wants very much more as fair rent than what is being conceded under this clause. If he was enamoured of the verumpattamdars and the tenants lower down and if he thought that the fair rent that is fixed by the clause in this Bill was higher than what is obtaining today, I should have expected him to be generous towards them and not give notice of these amendments. Having given notice of these amendments . . ."

[26th September 1929]

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" May I rise . . . "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Order, order."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I am not prepared to yield. As he has given notice of these amendments, I feel that I cannot take his argument very seriously. At any rate I feel that in this case, more especially in the case of fair rent, it is necessary that the Council should be very careful."

p.m.

" I heard some friends remark that on the analogy of the Estates Land Act, the present rents might be accepted. But we are legislating for a particular tract of country which has a very complicated system of land tenure. Here it is not merely a question of landlord and tenant, but it is a question of the landlord at one end and the verumpattamdar at the other end with a number of middlemen or intermediaries or men holding co-partnership in between them. Also there are a number of customs in the country in the matter of settled rents. I am sure, Sir, that these customs have been considered in defining ' fair rent ' in this Bill. I feel, Sir, that whatever the analogy of the Estates Land Act may be, if we are attempting to put a stop to rack-renting it must be done in an effective manner. We ought not to take the example of an Act simply because it is there ; we should see whether the present rates are fair rents. Once we grant that these are fair rents the tenant will have, in future, very little claim to get below these rates. I am sure that every effort will be made by those at the top to establish these rents, to make them the patrimony of the more influential landlords and to treat them as the rock-bottom of rents in regard to these lands. If, as is pointed out, it is true that rack-renting prevails to-day in Malabar and if it is bad, so bad as to require this legislation, it is necessary that we must forthwith face the question carefully and with diligence. It is no good thinking in loose terms ; it is no good thinking in terms of desperation ; it is no good thinking of the power that the Government possess to rule out every amendment that is being brought. I hope the hon. the Revenue Member will be sympathetic to us when the whole question arises as to the limit of the period of 12 years . . . "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member is asked to confine himself to this amendment and postpone his recommendations to the hon. the Revenue Member."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" That is only by the way ; . . . "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I cannot allow the hon. Member to make those remarks."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" Before I am convinced about the utility of this amendment, I feel I shall not be in a position to support the amendment that has been moved by my hon. Friend, Mr. Shetty. One thing is clear, and it is this : The tenant has to be protected against rack-renting under which he suffers to-day and every step must be taken in legislation that will effectively stop that rack-renting. It is no good to allow this rack-renting to go on for another 12 years or interminably and to that end we must devise means. This should not be accepted and our duty is to throw it out."

* Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU :—" Sir, I think I must oppose this amendment as it is against the framework of the Bill as it is drawn up. The Raghavayya Committee, in recommending a sort of occupancy right to be given to the tenants, considered that, so far as the janmi and the kanamdars were concerned, the present rents should continue to be paid. At the same time they wanted to secure to the tenant, the actual cultivator, the profit of the share of the produce which will represent the capital that is invested, the labour that is involved and something to lay by. It is with that view they considered the custom of the country and laid down certain principles to fix the fair rent that the person occupying the land should pay to the landlord. Instead of recommending that this fair rent should be fixed immediately, they recommended that the present rent should be continued for a period of 12 years, the reason being evidently that if fair rents are introduced straightaway, it may reduce the income the landlords are getting now and that a period of 12 years should be allowed to the landlords to adjust their budgets. If any Member has got any difficulty to understand the point that the tenants, the actual cultivators in Malabar, are being rack-rented, I throw a challenge to the landlords and it is this : will they accept the proposition that fair rent should be fixed straightaway from to-morrow or after the Bill is accepted and passed ? If they do so, then that will be evidence of some bona fides on their part. . . . "

26th September 1929] [Mr. B. Muniswami Nayudu]

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" On what conditions he would ascertain the rent ?"

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU :—" They are there in the Bill."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The better course will be not to yield."

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU :—" Fair rent provides to secure for the actual cultivator one-third of the produce after deducting the cultivation charges. I know that there is some strong feeling on the part of tenants and their advocates that what is laid down as cultivation charges, i.e., $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the seed required, is not sufficient ; they want more. If they want more, the remedy is to table a better amendment to the effect that the proper expenses of cultivation should be allowed."

" We have also to consider one other thing. It is true that, in the case of existing lands, you know the rents that are paid. What about lands to be let hereafter ? It is open to the landlord to prescribe whatever rent he likes. We are only trying to see that in such a case the tenants pay only fair rent. If we accept this proposition, it will come to this : every landlord will be entitled to fix whatever rent he likes, however high it may be. The amendment of Mr. Shetty does not contemplate giving relief in such cases. With regard to the period of 12 years, it is provided in the interests of the landlords ; it is not in the interests of the ryots. If the tenant is now paying low rent, then at the end of 12 years the rent that is fair will be fixed. If he is paying high rent, he will be relieved of the excess at the end of 12 years. The landlord has got good tenants and bad tenants, tenants who are rack-rented and tenants who are not rack-rented. With regard to the payment of renewal fee we have fixed a multiple of the rent that is paid. Therefore the rent that is paid must be fair. If the definition of ' fair rent ' in this clause is taken away, the whole Bill will have to be redrafted on some other principles. If we accept this amendment now, it will destroy the Bill."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" Sir, I am rather surprised at the speech of my hon. Friend, Mr. Karant, opposing the amendment of Mr. Shetty. I strongly support it. First of all, my hon. Friend from South Kanara, Mr. Karant, did not make a condition in his arguments that the proviso to section 28 should be deleted. If he had done so, his arguments would be reasonable. We must bear in mind that there is a proviso to that section; it was accepted by the Select Committee in spite of the protests of myself, Sir Patro and others. As long as that proviso is retained, it is a stumbling block to us; because if fair rents have to be fixed, we have to go to the court but the fair rents fixed can come into force only twelve years hence. Till then the present rates have to be collected. The formula that has been fixed is absurd; it is altogether unworkable and unfair. What my hon. Friend, Mr. Shetty proposes is this; just as is proposed by the Select Committee let us treat the present rent as fair rent for a period of the next twelve years. In the Bill of Diwan Bahadur Krishnan Nayar and the Cochin Regulation there is the same provision. After a period of twenty years or twelve years the present rates ought to be revised. That is, either the tenant or the landlord must go to court and ask for either reduction or increase of the rent, for reasons which are laid down generally with regard to resettlements. The Government have got certain rules for increasing or decreasing the assessment. The extent of land cultivable and cultivated, the rise of prices and so many other considerations have to be taken into account by a Settlement Officer while increasing the assessment. The same principles are observed in applying the Estates Land Act while increasing the rent and fixing fair rent. I think those conditions under which the rent is to be revised will be much simpler, more rational, understandable and workable than the unworkable formula drafted by the Raghavayya Committee. As I have told the House, I am not enamoured of either their Bill or their report. It is one of the most unworkable Bills. It has been found by almost all the people concerned to be a very cumbrous, complicated and unworkable Bill. What I say is this; twelve years' period is proposed by the Committee. Twelve years hence each party will have to go to the court and ask it to increase or decrease the rent. The same will apply to michavaram also. We never objected to the provision in the Bill of Diwan Bahadur Krishnan Nayar . . .

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I request the hon. Member to confine himself to the amendment before the House."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"The amendment of Mr. Shetty is the same as the provision in the Bill of Diwan Bahadur Krishnan Nayar. Mr. Shetty wants to reproduce the same provision here. It was not objected to either by the Select Committee or by the Government. I think that is one of the sections which were passed without the least objection. I am glad I agree with what has been said by Mr. Sankaran Unni. I am surprised, pleasantly surprised, that Mr. Krishnan has climbed down from the high position he occupied as a member of the Raghavayya Committee. I challenge anybody to say that its formula is workable. The amendment proposed by Mr. Shetty will enable us to escape from the impasse in which we are placed by the present cumbrous, useless and worse than useless formula. I strongly support the amendment."

* Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"Mr. President, Sir, we, in this House, are accustomed to surprises. My hon. Friend, Mr. Saldanha, with the best of intentions, has been a surprise to us on this side of the House today. His attitude seems to pluck out a plant which is stunted in growth. We want to manure it and see whether it will not improve."

"My hon. Friends want to take a very important step by proposing this amendment. They want to substitute contract for the provisions of this Bill. Sir, it has been the basis of all tenancy legislation that tenants should be protected from the oppression of the landholders as also from the encroachments of the landholders by various suitable and necessary provisions. If you now take away this item, there is practically no necessity for any tenancy legislation in any part of the country. I say tenancy legislation of any kind by itself contemplates a sort of protection of the interests of the tenants. But what is the present amendment? It takes away all essence from the Bill. I can quote various sections of the Estates Land Act in which provision has been made to the effect that rents should not be approved unless determined by the law courts, even in cases where such rents have been accepted both by the landholders and the tenants. Such a provision exists not only in the Estates Land Act but also in the Bengal Tenancy Act as also in various other similar Acts in India. The substitution of this clause for clause 5 would mean practically leaving the verumpattamdar who is the poorest of the poor tenant in Malabar at the mercy of the janmi and even of the kanamdar, because he is also an intermediary landlord. I have not got much to say about the kanamdars, because my feeling throughout has been that the verumpattamdar has not been properly protected.

"My friends have quoted the Raghavayya Committee. The Raghavayya Committee has unanimously stated that the tenants have been rack-rented. I ask the representatives of the janmis here: can there be any stronger reason, having regard to the Raghavayya Committee's verdict, against the substitution of contract for the provisions in the Bill? According to my friend Mr. Saldanha, the provisions of this Bill are not satisfactory. We are not also satisfied; so, we shall move our amendments, try to convince the House, and then vote upon those amendments when time comes. But that is no reason why you should throw off the Bill into the Bay of Bengal. I would appeal to my hon. friends Mr. Saldanha and Mr. Krishnan—his somersault has not been a surprise to us—not to support the amendment. The Raghavayya Committee has made a confession that the tenants have been rack-rented—a committee which was composed of janmi representatives to such an extent that even my friend the hon. the Law Member who now adorns the Treasury Benches had to oppose its formation. That Committee was accused by the Law Member of having pro-janmi sympathies. When even a committee as that has found that the verumpattamdar has been rack-rented, I do not see any reason why hon. Members of this House should accept this nasty amendment. (Mr. E. Sankaran Unni: Nasty!) Yes, nasty. I deliberately call it nasty because it takes away all that is sense in the Act."

"I have a word more, Sir. Some of my hon. friends made a reference to the Estates Land Act. In that Act, sections 26 and 28, I believe, perpetuate the existing rent. That is of course a serious blunder which the then Legislative Council committed. I charge the present hon. the Law Member who was then a Member of the Committee with having wrongly given his sign of approval to this provision. What is the result? After a working experience of twenty or twenty-two years, hon. Members of this House realize that the tenants in the zamindari areas have been ruined. Are you going to repeat this measure, I ask? You have practically kept up here the spirit of the Estates Land Act. While that Act perpetuated the existing rent, you have kept the existing rent in this Bill going on for twelve years. Therefore, there is no use of saying that the interests of either the janmis or the tenants are affected."

"Sir, mention has been made by my hon. Friend Mr. Saldanha that this Bill will give rise to endless litigation. My submission to the hon. Members of this House is that so long as the hon. Members of this House make tenancy legislation irrespective of the welfare or the protection of the tenants—which are vital considerations—so long, you will be exposing both the landlord and tenant, to the misery of the law courts. Therefore, there is no use of shedding crocodile tears; the problem should be faced from a statesman's point of view. Every attempt has been made in this Bill to satisfy both the janmi and the kanamdar by giving them all sorts of concessions. As long as you take steps to satisfy both these classes, so long will you be exposing them both to the misery of the law courts. Therefore, to say that is to give a bad name and hang him for that. I think no case has been made out so far for the substitution of contract for the provisions contained in the Bill. I very strongly protest against this amendment being made, and I appeal to the hon. Members of this House and to Government to treat this amendment with the contempt that it deserves."

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"Sir, I feel I must oppose this amendment. So many Members have spoken on this amendment, who are coming from Malabar, and their statements are so discrepant and varied that it is almost impossible for one like me to understand what they really mean. I am not going to find out which Member is speaking the truth and which Member . . ."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"I protest against that statement, Sir, that one Member is speaking the truth and another is not."

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"I am saying that I am not going to make that attempt, nor will it be possible to reconcile the statements where it is impossible to reconcile them. Either the rent now proposed by Mr. Shetty is lower than the fair rent proposed in the Bill, or it is not. The opinions of the Members of the Select Committee and the evidence that has been let in on this matter go to show that all this while they were under the impression that the fair rent as defined in the Bill was going to be less than the rent that is now being paid by the tenants. If, on the other hand, it is their contention . . ." (Mr. Sankaran Unni rose in his seat for interrupting.)

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member has no right to put questions."

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"What I mean to say is this: If the rent which the Bill is going to fix for being taken from the tenants is lower than what it is at present, why should not the concession be given to the tenants? Further, they should be allowed to seek redress in a court of law and have the fair rent fixed within the period of twelve years. The landlords objected to it on the ground that their income would be reduced. If the rent proposed in the Bill is high why should not a maximum be fixed beyond which no rent should be asked for? These are the grounds, Sir, on which I feel compelled to oppose the amendment."

* Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"Mr. President, I am really in a very difficult position and unable to make up my mind on this question; because as the hon. Member from Bellary has put it, the Members representing the district of Malabar which is primarily affected by this legislation, themselves do not seem to be quite certain of the position. We have been under the impression that the actual cultivators in the district are being rack-rented. But when we find that the representatives of that class of people here are quite prepared for the continuance of the present rent, I fail to see how it is possible for us to arrive at a proper estimate of the situation in the district. It seems to me, Sir, that they are speaking in general terms and making statements which are perhaps applicable only to particular areas. I find from the definition of the word 'fair rent' that it is not possible to say whether the rent is really of the word 'fair rent' that it is not possible to say whether the rent is really of fair or not under all circumstances. The provisions made under section 5 of the Bill seem to me to be really fair. When you allow a proportion of four-fifths of the net or even gross produce to a tenant, I believe it cannot be said that the cultivator is not getting a fair amount for his labour. But when we come to section 6 relating to wet lands, for the conversion of which the tenant has not contributed any labour at all, the provision is made that the actual cultivator is to be allowed only one-third of what is supposed to be the net produce and it seems to me to be very inadequate. I say net produce, but probably what is really allowed under this section is not net produce. I might be mistaken in thinking that the conditions in Malabar are similar to the conditions in other districts so far as cultivation of wet lands is concerned. Unless I am mistaken, the provision that is made for the actual cultivation expenses, viz., $2\frac{1}{2}$ or 3 times, the amount of seed is absolutely inadequate and insufficient. My calculation, with regard to some of the wet lands with which I am acquainted, comes to about Rs. 100 for one acre of wet land; but the provision in this section of allowing $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the seed would not come to more than Rs. 10."

[26th September 1929] [Mr. K. Koti Reddi]

(At this stage the Deputy President occupied the Chair.)

"I do believe that the rents which are now being levied are fair in some cases. As a number of other considerations are brought into the discussion, we are unable to say 'yes' or 'no' to the question now at issue. Whatever that be, in a large tract of Malabar the rents that are now being paid to the landlord seem to be quite unfair. Very little is left to the tenant for him to make him sufficiently active or induce him to cultivate his holding better. Another provision which has been made in this Bill, namely, that the present rents can continue without any disturbance for another twelve years, seems to be quite understandable. The rents may be either fair or unfair. If they are fair, certainly the best thing would be to continue them for ever with a proviso if necessary to increase them by a certain percentage at intervals or when a necessity is felt. But if as some of us feel, they are unfair, why this position should be allowed to continue for a period of twelve years is a thing which I cannot really understand. Such being the case, Madam, unless we are assured by the Government that when we come to deal with clause 5, they are not prepared to insist on the present Bill being carried out without any amendments, it seems to me we are under a very difficult position to make up our minds on this amendment."

"It is possible that under certain circumstances and for a certain number of years, the present rents might be considered quite fair and adequate, but in some parts of the country the rents that are allowed under the present section might be less. I believe the Government will consider the situation that has arisen and will see to it, when amendments to amend some sections where we feel that the rents are very high are considered, that they treat those amendments with some sympathy and with this hope I feel that we have to vote against this amendment."

p.m.

* Mr. S. N. DORAI RAJA :—"Madam, it is very unfortunate that the Committee should have legalized these rack-rents on the ground that it gives time to adjust the budgets of the janmis. Only twelve short years are allowed either to increase their revenue by fair means or cut down their expenses. Those janmis who gave easy rents to their tenants should also suffer for their kindness. If there is rack-renting, this Bill is an absurdity and if there is no rack-renting it is harmless. I am afraid the Committee were aware that the kanamdars who were instrumental to get up this agitation not only wanted to expropriate the janmis but rack-rent the tenants. If the Committee, as it rightly suggests, is for fixity of tenure, it is curious why they were a party to perpetuate this rack-rent for twelve years. It seems the only remedy for this agrarian trouble, as Mr. Pate wisely suggests, is to provide for the compulsory purchase of land. After all when the representatives of verumpattamdars and of the janmis agree it is the safest thing for the House to agree with them and support the amendment of Mr. Shetty."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"Madam, I have to oppose the amendment because even taking the Madras Estates Land Act into consideration, it has gone still further against the interests of the tenants. Section 28 of the Madras Estates Land Act has stated that in all proceedings between the landlord and the ryot with regard to rents, the rents existing and the rents lawfully payable by the ryot till then will be presumed to be fair and equitable until the contrary is proved. There the ryot is given the right to show that he was forced to enter into contract unconscionably and to his disadvantage either by coercion or by undue influence at the hands of the landlord. Here, our hon. Friend Mr. Shetty says that the fair rent shall be whatever the tenant will contract with his immediate landlord. But he does not say that under certain circumstances the tenant can back out of the contract and say to the court that the contract was not entered into under proper and fair circumstances. If we accept the amendment every rent that is agreed to by the tenant with his immediate landlord should be enforced and should be paid by the tenant for all time to come not only to the janmi, but to the kanamdar, kuzhikanamdar, intermediary sub-kanamdar or whoever his immediate landlord may be. It may be said that under the proviso to clause 28 of this Bill the cultivating verumpattamdars are obliged to pay the existing rent for twelve years. If the advocates of the verumpattamdars feel it proper, they can propose an amendment to omit that proviso altogether. It is now admitted—at any rate that is the presumption upon which we are proceeding—that the fair rents proposed under clauses 5, 6 and 7 are lower than the rent paid on the average, of course omitting some cases which are rack-rented and also taking into consideration those cases in which the rent is lower than the rent that is paid on the average by the verumpattamdar to the immediate landlord. In every case of contract, the verumpattamdar will be at a disadvantage. If the Bill becomes law, naturally he will agree to whatever the terms may be proposed by the landlord whether he is a janmi or a kanamdar and therefore naturally the tenant who will come into the possession of the land hereafter will be at a disadvantage. The verumpattamdars will be also at a disadvantage after twelve years, after which they have a right to claim fair rent proposed under the Act. Therefore the amendment proposed is not at all advantageous to the verumpattamdars whose interests we are all bound to take care of more than those of others, because they are the helpless and the down-trodden and oppressed people and our duty it is to improve their lot."

26th September 1929]

Mr. A. ACHUTAN :—"Madam, I believe I have a right to say what I have got to say on this point. I feel as though I am between two stools. There is this amendment which has been supported by so many and opposed by so many. Of course as the amendment stands, there is much in it that is agreeable to the tenant, but I must see the other side of it also. I have in my possession as many as 35 documents and leases which I have gathered from North Malabar to verify for myself and for the tenants concerned and to see how far the fair rent provided in this Bill compares favourably or unfavourably with the current rent. I have those documents in my possession and I have worked them out and satisfied myself—and I have also satisfied a large number of people—that the current rent that they are obliged to pay under this legislation is much below the fair rent provided in the Bill itself. And yet the janmis are shedding crocodile tears. I may tell a truth that in regard to the fair rent proposed under this chapter of the Bill, the poor tenants consider themselves as between the devil and the deep sea. Speaking on behalf of most of the tenants of North Malabar I may say that they welcome this Bill in its present shape and form with of course some modifications in detail. I suppose when we pass this Bill, it will be beneficial to the verumpattamdars and kuzhikanamdars of Malabar. Therefore although the current rate that they are paying is much lower than the fair rent that is provided in this Bill, they are prepared to accept this provision with some modifications. Therefore, I say this measure must not be delayed longer and the sooner it is passed the better will it be for the cultivating verumpattamdars of Malabar. Therefore this amendment which goes to the very root of the principle of the Bill, ought not to be allowed."

The Council then adjourned for lunch.

After lunch (2-35 p.m.).

The hon. the Deputy President was in the chair.

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Madam, I fear that Government cannot accept this amendment, because it strikes at the whole scheme on which this Bill is based. The Raghavayya Committee on whose Bill the Government Bill is based suggested in the first place that cultivating verumpattamdars should be given a qualified fixity of tenure."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"On a point of order, Madam, Deputy President. There is no quorum."

(Then the bell was rung and the quorum was formed.)

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"The Government cannot accept this amendment, because it strikes at the root of the scheme on which this Bill is based, viz., the scheme drawn up by the Raghavayya Committee. The Raghavayya Committee proposed to grant a qualified fixity of tenure to cultivating verumpattamdars, the fixity of tenure being qualified by certain restrictions which give the landlord the right to evict the tenant in certain circumstances. The Committee proceeded to say 'All these provisions would be of little avail to the tenant if he is to be allowed to be rackrented and therefore an integral part of the scheme should be a provision for the determination of fair rents giving a guarantee to the tenant that he shall have a fair return for his toil and interest in the land. The Committee has therefore determined that fair rent should be defined'. The amendment which has been brought before the House would continue the existing rents indefinitely subject to certain provisions to be brought forward in future for the alteration of the rent. I understand that is a scheme which is proposed. That is entirely a new scheme. The scheme of the Bill is to enable fair rent to be fixed without driving either the landlord or the tenant to court for the purpose. It is perfectly true that for the time being we do not propose in the Bill that fair rent should be effective for twelve years so far as cultivating verumpattamdar is concerned, but it does affect other matters such as renewal fee, etc.

"Further the amendment as put forward makes no provision for what is to be done as regards lands which are not leased at present or as regards lands in respect of which further intermediaries may be introduced in future between the present landlord and his tenant, e.g., if a janmi leases land on kanam subject to a cultivating tenant's rights.

(At this stage the hon. the President took the Chair.)

"My hon. Friend Sir Parasuram Patro seemed to think that the amendment which the Government accepted yesterday in the definition of wet lands renders clause 5 of the Bill unnecessary. I regret that I am just unable to follow his argument. Wet land is now defined as land which has been adopted for the cultivation of paddy. Clause 5 contemplates two classes of wet lands, viz.—(1) land which has been converted into wet by tenants' labour, and (2) lands which have not been converted into wet by tenants' labour, that is to say, lands which have been converted into wet by landlords' labour or at the landlords' expense. The latter case falls under clause 6 and the former under clause 5. I cannot see how the question whether the land is registered in the Government register or not affects the question whether land has been converted from dry to wet by tenants' labour or by landlords' labour. As I have stated, it is necessary for the Government to oppose this motion as it strikes at the vital part of the scheme."

The amendment was put and negatived.

* Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"I beg to move the amendment that stands in my name—

'Delete sub-clauses (a) and (b) and substitute the following:—

"one-fifth of the difference between the annual gross paddy produce of the land and the cost of cultivation".

"The existing clause in the definition of fair rent says that the cost of cultivation (though it is not stated as such) is to be covered by three times or two and a half times the seed as the case may be. I therefore, submit though I have tabled amendments in the same fashion under both clauses 5 and 6, the question may be discussed once and for all. The Bill as now amended does not make much difference between the old Bill, that is the original Bill and this one. For the cost of cultivation the Bill provides in the case of clause 5, that is to say, where dry lands have been converted into wet by tenants' labour, for the first 20 years at three times the seed required, and after that at two and a half times. Similarly in clause 6 it should be two and a half times throughout. I do not propose to raise the issue again with regard to clause 6. The whole question may be decided once for all. What I propose instead is that the cost of cultivation should not be fixed either at three times for 20 years or at two and a half times the seed for the period after that, because I feel—and from the figures I shall lay before you you will see—that $2\frac{1}{2}$ or three times the seed are grossly inadequate for the cost of cultivation. How the Government have arrived at two and a half times seems to be like this: some of the representatives of the tenants at the conference asked for three times the seed. The janmis were prepared to give two times. The Government seem to have added three and two and divided it by two and thus arrived at $2\frac{1}{2}$. A very similar instance we find when we come to renewal fee. The janmi wants three times the renewal fee and the tenants want $1\frac{1}{2}$ and the Government compromised it at $2\frac{1}{2}$. That is the only principle underlying it. I submit that either two and a half or three times the seed are grossly inadequate, and the question of cost of cultivation should be left to be decided either by parties by agreement or by the court which has to decide various other matters. For example, the gross produce has to be determined by the court, and as the clause stands at present it has to take into account the gross produce within the previous three years. Similarly it has to take into account the seed required though it may be defined as customary seed. What customary seed is is again a matter on which evidence has still to be taken. In these circumstances, I do not think it will be very difficult for the court to come to the conclusion as to what the cost of cultivation should be. I submit that in the case of wet lands of different qualities the cost of cultivation varies largely. If one goes through the Malabar Gazetteer one will find that the cost of cultivation is not a constant figure and it cannot be otherwise; $2\frac{1}{2}$ or three times the seed will be grossly inadequate. This will also be seen from the figures which I shall lay before you. At the last settlement that was conducted in Malabar in 1893 or 1894 the cost of cultivation was a factor which was taken into consideration as it has been in other districts and this we find from a representation made by the Kerala Mahasabha, the ryots' representatives, in the year 1893, to the then Settlement Officer, Mr. Moberley. In giving details of the cost of cultivation for one acre of wet land, they say that the cost of seed required, viz., $7\frac{1}{2}$ paras was Rs. 3 whilst the total cost per acre was Rs. 27-11-7. This works at a little over nine times the cost of seed. I do not think it is fair on the part of the landlord now to say that the cost of cultivation has become very low. I may state in this connexion that I might be offending a little my friends who represent the kanamdars here when I say that the interest of the kanamdars and the janmis both lies in getting as much as possible from the cultivating tenant. That is a fact, and I hope they will excuse me for making that statement, and therefore it is that the tenants' representatives seem to be quite satisfied with three times the seed and the janmi representatives with two times, though the actual cost of cultivation is very much more. I shall now give the figures which were relied on by the Government in fixing the rate of assessment at the last settlement of the district of Malabar. Says the Settlement Report:—the cost of a pair of tilling cattle is Rs. 80 on an average, they last for ten years and ultimately they sell for Rs. 10. (These may be correct in 1894; but to-day we cannot get them at that price). A pair of cattle can plough two acres and for ploughing the cost is Rs. 2. The report then goes on to enumerate the implements of cultivation, such as the mamutti, the charittumaram. The total cost is Re. 1-5-0 per acre. For broadcast sowing it costs 193 edangalis and for transplanting a little more. The total cost comes to about Rs. 12-1-8 per acre, whilst the cost of paddy for seed is Re. 1-10-3. And this works to $7\frac{1}{2}$ times the cost of seed.

26th September 1929]

[Mr. K. R. Karant]

[Mr. K. R. Karant]

[26th September 1929]

"So I submit it is ridiculous to say that two times or three times are more than sufficient for the cost of cultivation. Now this is not a thing peculiar to Malabar. I know to some extent my own district—I am glad the hon. the Finance Member, who took some part in the settlement of my district is here—there also, the conditions are not very dissimilar from Malabar. According to the G.O. No. 753 of 1902, which sanctioned settlement in my district the total cost comes to Rs. 13-3-1 per acre."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Order, order. Hon. Members are not justified in referring to the cost of cultivation in their own districts. The only matter for consideration is regarding Malabar land tenures. South Kanara is out of the question."

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"My humble submission is . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I cannot allow that."

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"In my district the cost of cultivation fixed by Government is exactly $8\frac{1}{2}$ times the cost of seed. Therefore I submit that the cost of cultivation should not be two and half times or three times the cost of seed, as that is too small a figure for the real cost of cultivation as a whole. And in regard to the cost of cultivation in Malabar I may say that the principles of settlement work very largely for the benefit of the landlord when we consider the actual low assessment he is paying. I may here mention that the principles of settlement are set forth in pages 331 and 332 of the Malabar Gazetteer."

'In order to fix the money rates on wet lands paddy was of course taken to be the wet crop and after numerous experiments the outturn was estimated to vary from 900 to 200 Madras measures per acre. The outturn thus determined for each class and sort of soil was converted into money, at a rate calculated upon an average of the prices of the twenty normal years ending with 1892-93, reduced by 15 per cent to allow for cartage and merchants' profits. A commutation price of Rs. 125 per garce of 3,200 Madras measures was thus arrived at.'

"I will submit here that the price of rice has now risen eight times. Then to continue the extract from the Gazetteer:

'Reductions of 15 per cent for vicissitudes of season.'

[The House must remember that there is no such thing as remission of rent by the landlord to the tenant under the Bill. He has to pay every pie of the rent, whereas in the assessment to be paid to Government, Government have taken into consideration the vicissitudes of seasons and have allowed 15 per cent for that.]

'and unprofitable areas, of cultivation expenses, and of one-third of the remainder for the cultivator's share, were made from the gross value; and six-tenths of the remainder was taken as the share due to Government.'

"Now the chief point we should remember is that in fixing the assessment Government have given a very liberal share to the landlord for the cost of cultivating operations and also for the vicissitudes of seasons, and if we are to fix at two and half or three times the cost of seed we shall be making no allowance for any of these things, and therefore I think that question of determining the cost should be left to the court to decide. I do not think the argument that the courts will find great difficulty in fixing, will hold water. We have already left to the courts to decide subjects like the fixing of fair rent, and I do not think it will be difficult for them to decide this thing also. I therefore request hon. Members to support this amendment. When we have once recognized that the rents in Malabar are more in the nature of rackrents, it is our duty to see that they are made fair not only in name but also in fact."

[26th September 1929]

[Mr. K. R. Karant]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"I second the motion."

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"Mr. President, I am unable to support the motion of Mr. Karant, and I am fully aware that I will be open to the charge of being an advocate for the kanamdars (Laughter.) I wish to lay a few facts of the case before the House, and in doing so I would draw your attention to a few notes at page 140 of the Raghavayya Committee Report. Take heading 5 at that page. It runs thus:—'Verumpattam directly under the janmi. Verumpattam, 480 paras. Extent—40 paras, seed land (wet). The Lessee has paid the janmi Rs. 300 as advance for one year's rent. The janmi pays the assessment. To the wet land is attached a small paramba and a hut. The paramba is used as a kalam. According to him he got 400 paras in the first crop and five or six rupees worth of straw. This is a double crop land. He says the usual yield for the second crop is half of the first crop. The expenses of cultivation for both crops—150 paras.' Thus it comes to this, that a land which has 40 paras area has an expenditure of 150 paras, $3\frac{1}{2}$ times."

"Take the next case, instance No. 2 under V. 'Extent of demise—50 paras of wet land and two or three acres of paramba. Verumpattam to be paid to janmi—620 paras. The total gross yield of the land is about 800 paras and the cultivation expenses—200 paras.' So that for an extent of 50 paras the cultivation expenses come to 200 paras, i.e., fourfold. Then in instance 3, the extent is 55 paras of land and the cultivation expenses—150 paras, i.e., a little below threefold. Then at the bottom of page 141, we have an instance from North Malabar. On an extent of land amounting to 325 edangalis; gross yield—2,000 to 2,500 edangalis, coolies and cattle are employed at a cost of Rs. 125 a year. Manure costs Rs. 20 a year. When we work out these figures it comes to little more than three times. Then turn to page 145, and there again you see that for 75 paras double-crop land he got 905 paras gross. The seed for these 75 paras costs him 80 paras, and the labour, etc., cost him 100 paras, i.e., the total cost is 180 paras, i.e., the cost is below three times. Then turn to page 146, and in the middle of the page you read thus:—'Verumpattam—35 paras of field on a muppattam of Rs. 400. Yields gross income of 500 paras of paddy less 20 paras of seed, 35 paras of paddy as coolie, and the interest on muppattam 47 paras of paddy. Has to pay a pattam of 350; hence the profit is 48 paras of paddy.' Thus you see here too it comes to twice the seed. There is an instance given from Kollengode where you will see that $3\frac{1}{2}$ times is necessary for cultivation in the hilly tracts and $2\frac{1}{2}$ times in other parts."

"This is the evidence that has been laid before the Raghavayya Committee, and from this the House will be pleased to see that as a matter of fact the cultivation expenses range from about four to about two times the seed required. Of course it is not possible to have the same conditions prevailing in all the areas of Malabar, and therefore naturally there is this variation in the expenses of cultivation here and there. So that as far as one can see from the evidence let in before the Raghavayya Committee, the estimate made by the Government as embodied in this clause is not unreasonable. So, I submit, there is no room for disturbing the provision made in the Bill in regard to this matter."

* Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"Mr. President, I am surprised at the way in which the calculations have been made in connexion with this matter. I thought that the Government in coming to a conclusion as to what is the net profit that a ryot or a pattadar who owns land derives, would include in their calculations the amount of labour which the family itself contributed for that purpose. But now in these calculations the labour which the family of the ryot has put on this land has been altogether excluded. (Mr. K. P. Raman Menon:—"Only in one instance".) And how is it possible to come to a conclusion as to what exactly is the cultivating expense if the labour of that family is excluded? As I have already said, unless the conditions in Malabar are so very different, it seems to us that the amount of $2\frac{1}{2}$ times or 3 times the seed that is required for sowing the paddy fields that is now allowed as cultivation expenses is ridiculously low. As my hon. Friend Mr. Karant put it, even from the Government calculations it appears that 7 to 9 times the seed is ordinarily required for the cultivation expenses. I believe, Sir, knowing as we do that the Government sometimes will give the minimum calculation for this purpose, even that is not sufficient. From experience of the different districts, and especially from the experience that I have of my own district I think that at least Rs. 100 to Rs. 150 is necessary for cultivation expenses per acre. I know one or two places in which the wet lands under the Cuddapah-Kurnool canal have to be sold for Rs. 80 or Rs. 100 an acre; I have done it myself. And when I enquired what the matter was, the ryots actually told me, and I had to believe them, that after deducting the expenses of cultivation nothing remained to them except the hay. And I know, Sir, as a matter of fact, under the very same canal when the ryots have to cultivate the fields with the labour of others it costs them not less than Rs. 120 to cultivate an acre. And as such I fail to understand how it is possible to meet all the cultivation expenses if it is to be fixed at two times or three times the seed that is necessary for sowing in the fields. I therefore feel, Sir, that the provision made for cultivation expenses is absolutely inadequate and if these provisions are to be allowed as they are, I believe an amount of injustice would be done to the cultivators which it would not be possible to remedy in the near future. But at the same time, although from a purely theoretical point of view it is much better to take the net profits into account, ordinarily it leads to all sorts of difficulties for calculating what exactly is the net income that one would get from his field. So, Sir, I believe it would be much better if in fixing what is exactly the fair rent for each field instead of taking the net income into account, we fix a certain definite proportion of the gross produce of each field. I think it will put an end to a lot of difficulties. It is within the experience of many of the hon. Members of this House that ordinarily in ryotwari tracts when a pattadar owns more fields than what he can cultivate, he leases them out. In many cases, and in many districts the practice is to get a certain definite proportion of the actual gross produce for rent. I fail to see what difficulties there are in adopting this method. It is the easiest and the simplest method; we will know definitely what we are to get, and the ryot will also know definitely what he is to get. All that is necessary is that the landlord should go to the threshing floor where the paddy is gathered and kept and take a definite proportion, whatever it is. I find, Sir, notice of some amendments has been given in this connexion. Mr. Sankaran Unni has given notice

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I do not think the hon. Member will be justified in anticipating the debate."

* Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"It is my belief, Sir, that instead of trying to calculate the net income of each field, it would be much better in the interests both of the ryot and of the landlord to fix a definite proportion as fair rent, a certain proportion of the gross produce which each field yields. Both the ryot as well as the landlord will be interested in increasing the yields. Each of them will know that whatever increased crop is produced on each field by the amount of labour or supervision that is put on it would benefit each one being the case, I fail to see why a definite proportion of the gross produce of each field should not be fixed up as fair rent. I find, Sir, that instead of allowing as cultivation expenses three times the seed required for the said land for the purpose of arriving at the net income and omitting in the definition of gross produce all the words 'produce obtained after paying the expenses of reaping' we can very well come to a conclusion that one-fifth of the gross produce should be taken as fair rent for the purpose. What actually the cultivator loses in omitting two and a half times or three times the seed required for the said purpose under section 5, he gains by omitting the words 'after paying the expenses of reaping' under section 4, if we definitely fix it as one-fifth of the gross produce. Both in the interests of the landlord and the interests of the tenant, I make this suggestion for the consideration of the House."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"Sir, I do not propose to take up the time of the House very much. All that I wish to say is this. The Bill as prepared by the Government and as amended by the Select Committee states that the expenses alone have to be taken into account. All that I have to say is that there are different kinds of lands. Sandy soil, for instance, requires very little cultivation expense, whereas a clayey soil requires three times that amount. In the Bill you say that $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the seed including the seed for cultivation expenses is sufficient to meet all cases which come under this Act. Of course the Commissioner will go and value the gross produce, and he has also to go and value the customary seed required for the purpose. When you give him all these rights why not you give him the right of finding out the actual cost of cultivation and then giving the balance, two-third share to the janmi which the Government admits is the fair rent? So long as the Commissioner values the one, he has to value the other also."

* Mr. B. VENKATARAM then spoke in Telugu, and in the course of the speech said:—"I do not know anything of the conditions of Malabar, but must say this. As I went on listening to the statements that $2\frac{1}{2}$ or 3 times the seed would be enough for cultivation expenses, I was really wondering what sort of cultivation it is that hon. Members are referring to, whether it is modern cultivation, or the primitive method of cultivation which ends with sowing the seed, as in the case of the podu cultivation in the Agency. If it is podu cultivation, this amount may suffice, but if he has to manure and till the land, sow the seeds, water it, transplant it, and carry on other items of agricultural operations, even 20 times the seed may not be sufficient, not to speak of $2\frac{1}{2}$ times. It may be that in Malabar the labour is very cheap, and even taking the daily wages as two annas per coolie, then perhaps this two and a half times may go some way towards the expenses. I therefore think a mistake has been made in this calculation of cultivation expenses, and this two and a half times is simply put in as a blind figure without any reference to any data. If this clause is passed, you will be doing not good but much disservice to the verumpattamdar or ryot of Malabar because the cultivation would not secure a return sufficient even to cover his family labour. Even the calculation of Mr. Karant, namely seven times or nine times, is I think not correct; that may be sufficient only if podu cultivation (as in the Agency) is resorted to. If you want to offer the cultivator sufficient to improve the land and make it produce more than it does at present, I think you will have to fix the expenses at 15 times the seed. In that view, I support this amendment."

* MR. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—" Sir, I have great pleasure in supporting this amendment of Mr. Karant. I was also a member of the Select Committee. Just after going home after the meeting of the committee I made enquiries from several cultivators throughout Malabar, and from what I have gathered I find that the cultivation expenses come to much more than what is provided for in the Bill. As some hon. Members have said, it is meaningless to state that cultivation expenses can be met with two and a half or three times the seed required. Well, Sir, no man with any the least experience of cultivation will be satisfied even for a sandy soil or alluvial soil with two and a half times the seed. If it is clayey or rocky soil, more than ten times the seed will be necessary. From different sides of the House I have heard this morning and yesterday also expressions of sympathy for the verumpattamdar. If they want to put their sympathy into practice—not merely lip sympathy I believe—I hope they will all support this amendment. If you want to afford any relief to the verumpattamdar, first of all you have to free him from the rackrenting of the kanamdar and the janmi. Therefore the chief thing you must do is to make it worthwhile for him to take to cultivation, and not merely afford him fixity. There is no use of saying 'we are going to give fixity of tenure and thus help the verumpattamdar'. If rackrenting is not prevented it will be simply taking away with one hand what you give with the other. This kind of illusionary enactment, giving fixity of tenure alone will not help anybody. If the Government is really anxious to help the verumpattamdar, on account of whose discontent and agrarian difficulties the Government have thought it necessary to bring forward this legislation, they must support this amendment. There may be some more who may speak in favour of it, yet all that will be useless; although these benches here are now empty when the division bell rings all these seats will be filled and they will all vote for the Government. So, it is useless for me to say anything more. Unless the Government make up their minds to accept this amendment, there is no use in making more speeches. With these words, I support the motion."

p.m. * SRIMAN BISWANATH DAS MAHASAYO :—" Mr. President, Sir, I am very happy to support the amendment proposed by my hon. Friend from South Kanara. Sir, it surprises me that a Select Committee consisting of so many luminaries of this Presidency, with all their sympathy for the agricultural tenant, should have thought of fixing two and a half times the seed, or even three times the seed, as the cost of cultivation expenses, as though many or all of them had nothing to do with cultivation. Sir, it pains me that the intelligentsia of this Presidency who have very little to do with cultivation should have been legislating about cultivation without taking due care or caution about it. Sir, I appeal to you with all humility whether you think yourself this to be the proper cost of cultivation expenses, knowing as I do that you are yourself one of the best cultivators on the most economic lines in this Presidency. I am a cultivating ryot myself, cultivating about five to six hundred acres of land. It takes the life out of me to hear that the cultivation expenses is put at two and a half times the seed. I think it is absurd to think of Royal Commissions on Agriculture and the lakhs and crores of rupees spent on the maintenance of the Agricultural Department, if you will after all allow only two and a half times the seed to the cultivating tenant for cultivation expenses. I have jotted down the operations that the cultivating ryot has to undertake, viz., ploughing, manuring, sowing, transplanting, weeding, kudimaramat, reaping, threshing, and then last but not the least of these is—I do not know what the hon. Members of this House will do—that the Select Committee have made the cultivator to carry the paddy to his landlord within a distance of three miles. I appeal to the House and ask to which of these items your two and a half times will be sufficient. I want the Government to be humane; I want the hon. Members of this House to be humane. There is no use of shedding crocodile tears, no use of speaking upon platforms about cultivating tenants if you would not provide for them sufficiently in this tenancy legislation. You may speak of the well-being of the peasantry; you may speak in big and eloquent terms that your nation lives in the cottage. But do you make provision for these people in the cottages? "

" Sir, my hon. Friend from Malabar representing as he does the kanamdars of Malabar has cited from page 140 of the Raghavayya Committee's report. I cannot think of a blacker or worse decision of the kind than that. Sir, out of a produce of 600 paras, the tenant has to pay away 480 paras to the landlord. I cannot think of it, and then, Sir, according to the tenant the cultivation expenses come to 150 paras, that is one-fourth. The tenant is very modest in his estimation, because I know myself that I am spending much more from year to year. I know that our hon. President is doing so. I appeal to you, Sir, to give your verdict, because I know you are one of the best cultivators in this Presidency." (Laughter.)

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" It is a question of the casting vote."

* SRIMAN BISWANATH DAS MAHASAYO :—" I know if it comes to that the tenant will have relief in your hands."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" No. There is the principle of the status quo."

* SRIMAN BISWANATH DAS MAHASAYO :—" This being the circumstance, I think Mr. Karant has done but small justice. This amendment does not go very far. So, I would appeal to the Government to be humane, to have some sympathy for the tenant. I know the Government have their full sympathy for the janmis, for the kanamdars they have some sympathy, but very little for the verumpattamdar. I am sure future generations will give their decision upon our action to-day. I have reason to believe the Select Committee did not represent the views of the verumpattamdar. It is not for me to say that here. So, I beg hon. Members of all groups in this House to show full sympathy to the cultivating tenant. My hon. Friend representing the interests of the janmis in the last Council, Mr. Prabhakaran

[Sriman Biswanath Das Mahasayo] [26th September 1929]

Tampan had also sympathy for verumpattamdars. I have not got with me now the proceedings of the Legislative Council, from which I could cite passages after passages showing his sympathy for the verumpattamdar. I, however, now appeal to the representatives who have now taken his place here just to stick up to the position which he took when the discussion on the last Malabar Tenancy Bill was going on in this Council. I would also ask of the hon. the Law Member, who was then representing Malabar, to extend his sympathy to the tenants. I would beg of him to stick up to the position that he took in that Bill, i.e., by providing a third of the gross. That would be something. Last but not least, I would appeal to the hon. the Finance Member who would yield to very few people in this hon. House regarding his experience of agricultural expenses and of agricultural ryots, to say whether three times the seed would be just enough for cultivation expenses. I would ask him to put his finger on any of these nine agricultural operations that I already mentioned and say to which of these items three times the seed would be enough? This being the condition of things, there is no use of thinking of the prosperity of the agricultural people under this Bill. Mr. Karant has only erred on the side of modesty just to make his amendment acceptable to all. So I feel sure that hon. Members of this House will show practical sympathy for the agricultural ryot by accepting this amendment.

"A word or two more and I have done. From the beginning we were under the impression, as I understood from my Leader, that the representatives of the verumpattamdars would have their due place in the Select Committee. Unfortunately we were misguided, and we mistook the situation, and the result is to-day we find in the Bill that the interests of the verumpattamdars have not been properly protected. Under these circumstances, I appeal with all humility to the hon. Members of this House not to ruin the verumpattamdars, putting an end to all prosperity of the agricultural people of Malabar. With these words, I wholeheartedly support this amendment."

* The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"Sir, I have been rather chary of taking part in the debate on this Bill, because I do not pretend to be an authority on Malabar tenures or customs. But the hon. Member from South Kanara has put forward proposals on the Government Bill on the analogy of conditions in South Kanara. Mr. Koti Reddi also based his arguments on this Bill on conditions drawn from the Ceded districts, with which I am also familiar. Now, dealing only with such points that I have some experience of, it seems to me most astonishing that the debate should have ranged so long and so wide on this clause of all clauses in the Bill. The idea underlying this clause is that special consideration should be given in the case of dry lands converted into wet by the tenant's labour. Mr. Koti Reddi suggested that we should wipe out all elaborate calculations and say, 'let the rent be one-fifth of the gross produce.' Very well, what is this one-fifth? One-fifth of hundred is much more than one-fifth of hundred minus deductions. And what are the deductions provided in this particular clause? In the first place, you have the expenses of reaping deducted straightway. Because the definition of gross produce is the produce after paying the expenses of reaping. That, I understand, in Malabar is anything from one-tenth to one-fifth. Then you have three times the seed required for the land. I understand that in Malabar, you require six or seven measures of seed. You therefore deduct another 20 measures, three times the seed, and, roughly speaking, the deduction made under these two heads is about 40 measures. That is to say, out of 100 measures, there are 60 left to divide between the landlord and the tenant, and it is laid down that in the cases to which this clause applies one-fifth of what is left shall be taken as the fair rent, that is to say about 12 measures out of every 100 gross. If any Member considers that that is really an excessive charge to make for the use of the land, I am afraid I must disagree with him."

[Sir Thomas Moir]

* The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"May I just give one piece of information for the benefit of my hon. Friends? After the Raghavayya Committee submitted their report and their Bill, and before the Government framed their Bill, a conference of some janmis and tenants was held in the presence of the then Revenue Member, Sir Norman Marjoribanks. I also happened to be present at the conference. The amount of seed that was to be deducted from the gross produce, as settled by the Raghavayya Committee was twice the seed. The tenants who were present at the conference said that it was too low and that the amount that should be deducted should be fixed at three times the seed. The janmis said that the figure mentioned in the Raghavayya Committee's report, namely, twice the seed, should not be disturbed. Sir Norman Marjoribanks asked the gentlemen who were present, both the tenants and the janmis, whether as a compromise they could not fix it at $2\frac{1}{2}$ times. Both the sides, the janmis and the tenants, agreed to that, and it is that figure that has been accepted by Government and put in the Bill. And the Select Committee has confirmed it."

"With reference to the particular class of lands, namely, dry lands converted into wet, it is known to everybody that when dry lands are converted into wet lands, immediately after conversion, it requires a larger amount of expenditure for cultivation. So, for the first 20 years, after this conversion of dry into wet, a higher rate is fixed, namely, three times the seed. After the expiry of 20 years when the lands are expected to be more fertile, $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the seed is fixed for seed and expenses of cultivation for the whole land. That is why in the particular clause, for the first 20 years three times the seed, and after 20 years, $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the seed is fixed. As Mr. Satyamurti reminded us, this was well considered by the Select Committee, where different views were put forward and discussed, and ultimately the Select Committee came to this conclusion. So that I submit there is no reason for any misapprehension or misunderstanding on this matter."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"Whatever may have been the proceedings of the Round Table Conference, whatever may have been the arrangement that has been come to between the janmis and the tenants, as regards the proportion of the seed required for cultivation expenses, I think I have liberty to say what I feel on an amendment like this which does not refer to that proportion but leaves the matter entirely to the court. I feel, Sir, that there is no use of taking with one hand what you give with the other. If, as a matter of fact, the tenant is not going to get his lawful one-third of the cultivator's share by limiting the cultivation expenses to $2\frac{1}{2}$, I for one am for supporting the motion of Mr. Karant and giving him the full one-third. I say, Sir, that there is considerable difference of opinion on the question of the multiple of seed required for cultivation expenses. I have tried my level best, both before and after the Round Table Conference and even recently, to ascertain what the cultivation expense in Malabar will be. It varies from place to place, from field to field. I cannot agree with Mr. Karant when he says that the cultivating expenses in Malabar will be six times, or seven times, or eight times because there are several fields in Malabar which only yield five-fold or six-fold and if cultivating expenses come to seven-fold, eight-fold, certainly there will be nothing at all left to the tenant or to the landlord. There may be exceptional cases where the cultivation expenses may be large and there may be cases where they may be small. In Palghat taluk, I understand, the cultivation expenses are very low so that they can manage even with twice the seed. In Ernad taluk, I understand, the cultivation expenses are more than twice the seed. In sandy soil it is less, in clayey soil it is more. So if you arbitrarily fix two and half or three or four or five, in some cases the tenant may suffer, in other cases the tenant may stand to gain. That is the situation. I went also through the Raghavayya Committee Report and the evidence collected by them, and I see that almost all the witnesses examined by them—of course we cannot take it that the Raghavayya Committee gave false figures—gave figures of cultivation expenses ranging from two to three times the seed. In the proceedings of the Round Table Conference, it is stated that cultivation expenses estimated by the Government during the settlement operations are greater than three and half times the seed. Never have I heard in Malabar of seven or eight times the seed. Probably in Malabar, the land is of a different variety, or the cultivation expenses are not so much as in other districts. I am not however prepared to take any risk in the matter. I beg therefore to submit for the careful consideration of the House that whatever decision of the Round Table Conference may be, whatever the decision of the Select Committee may be, you have to do justice to the cultivating tenant, and he must not be deprived of his legitimate share of a third. When a Commissioner or somebody else has to go and ascertain what the gross produce is, he may also ascertain what the cultivation expenses are; if it is twice the seed the landlord does not lose, if it is seven times the seed, the cultivator will not suffer.

"The safest course for the House to adopt is to secure two-thirds of the net to the landlord and one-third of the net for the cultivator, the net being decided with reference to the particular field and its cultivation expenses. That is the reason why I am agreeable to the position taken up by Mr. Karant. Unfortunately a word of explanation is due in regard to the proceedings of the Round Table Conference. I was one of those that fought for thrice the seed as cultivation expenses but the proposals of the Raghavayya Committee were so much against it and the janmis were so much against it that the Conference agreed to two and a half times. Sir Norman Marjoribanks suggested two and half, and in view of the conflict between the janmis and the tenants in this point the janmisaying that it could not be more than two times, and the tenant demanding three times the seed, we thought it expedient to accept Sir Norman Marjoribanks' suggestion, because in certain places twice the seed is enough and in other cases two and a half times is enough and only in exceptional cases it went up to more than thrice the seed. I thought that if one-third of the net was given to the tenant he will not suffer. But I certainly want that he is given one-third of the net in reality. When the cultivation expenses are arbitrarily fixed at two and half times or three times there is the likelihood that in some cases he might suffer.

26th September 1929] [Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar]

Let not my friend Mr. Biswanath Das misunderstand me. Whatever the verumpattamdar or kuzhikanamdar gets now is all due to our pleading. It may be that we were mistaken in our estimate. But kanamdars and janmis have not ceased to be human beings. Justice will be best served by giving one-third of the net to the actual cultivator, and to obviate all doubts and all possible miscarriage of justice, let us not arbitrarily fix the cultivation expenses here but leave the matter to the court."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Sir, there seems to be a fatality about Malabar Tenancy Bills. A Malabar Tenancy Bill was passed in this House after elaborate discussion and it was vetoed. Another was introduced by my hon. Friend (Mr. Krishnan Nayar) it could not see its way through. Then, owing to a fierce agitation, a committee was set up, and a report was drafted; and after this, another Round Table Conference was convened, a Bill was introduced; and a very large Select Committee was appointed which sat for nearly a fortnight and has reported to this Council. If now, Sir, the whole basis of this Bill is to be altered and fresh decisions are arrived at, I do not know what will be the fate of this Bill. I personally confess to a feeling of absolute sympathy with the cultivating tenant. I would go as far as my friend from South Kanara, if not further, but may I suggest to him and to this hon. House very respectfully, that this Bill is not the last word in tenancy legislation or even in Malabar tenancy legislation? It does not claim to be that. I believe the author does not claim perfection for that. It is an attempt at solving a very difficult and delicate problem, with as much unanimity as possible. In those circumstances, Mr. President, may I invite the attention of the House in respect of the amendment of my friend from South Kanara to a sentence in paragraph 27 of the Raghavayya Committee Report? They say: 'There is however the difficulty of ascertaining what the cost of cultivation and other common charges are, and as these are likely to differ with each land no satisfactory formula applicable even to a large number of cases can be worked out'. Now, Sir, if you put in the phrase 'cost of cultivation' in this statute, the result will be that practically in respect of every holding there will be suits, appeals, second appeals and possibly Privy Council appeals as to what the cost of cultivation in respect of each land should be. The unit suggested in the Bill as reported on by the Select Committee is the seed required, which means the quantity of seed customarily deemed to be required. That matter was gone into by the Select Committee, and was agreed to by the representatives of the janmis and verumpattam tenants that this custom might be easily proved; I take it after a few cases had gone to the court, there will be general agreement among all the parties concerned as to what is customary seed. I suggest to this House that what is the customarily required seed, is much more capable of proof, much more capable of general application to class or classes of lands, than the cost of cultivation which ex-hypothesi varies with every bit of land. Therefore, you are conferring no favour on the verumpattam tenant. On the other hand, you are compelling him into litigation which will practically ruin him.

"Then I want to state another point. This fair rent has been arrived at with a view to giving the cultivating tenant fixity of tenure. He has not got it to-day, and this House in a previous attempt at legislation regarding the Estates Land Act confirmed the then existing rent as fair rent. My friend from Ganjam protested and rightly protested against that which has led to a great deal of suffering and which I hope will be remedied soon, when this Act is sought to be amended. But in this case, the House does not expect a continuance of the existing rent as fair rent. There is a clause which says that the existing rent should continue for 12 years more, and I know there is a strong feeling in many sections that even for a short time the rackrenting should not go on. I agree that it must be fixed in a manner which is most equitable. I do suggest to the House that we can accept for the present the decision of the Select Committee, and, after all, this fair rent can be revised after a period, when the court will consider all the facts, and, if it is considered too high, it will be revised; if it is considered too low, it will be increased at the instance of the landlord. I only want to repeat, Mr. President, what said that any attempt to fundamentally alter the basis of the Bill and to make the cost of cultivation a unit will only jeopardize the chances of the Bill becoming law very soon. I know the feeling of the tenants of Malabar, both kanamdars and ordinary verumpattamdars. They would like to have even a somewhat unsatisfactory Bill rather than have no Bill at all; and I do appeal to the House, very respectfully, but very strongly, that we must see the Bill through and see that it reaches the Statute Book as early as possible. After all, this is a comparatively small matter; we are now altering the whole system of land tenure in Malabar and giving tenants rights for which they will have otherwise to wait for a long time. Granting the soundness of the arguments advanced to give more benefits to the tenant, I still plead it is worth while giving statutory rights to the tenants, placing them in a position of social and economic independence and giving them the power to raise themselves and thus bring about a change in their conditions. I therefore plead that the House may accept the clause as it stands."

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

[26th September 1929]

The amendment was put and declared lost.

Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao demanded a poll and the House divided.

While the counting was going on, Diwan Bahadur P. Kesava Pillai suggested that neutral votes also might be counted.

Diwan Bahadur P. KESAVA PILLAI :—"I vote only when I understand the subject." (Renewed laughter.)

Clause 5.

Sub-clause (a),

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"I beg to move the following amendment :—

'Omit the words "for a period of twenty years from the year in which the first wet crop is raised on the land".'

'In line 4, for the words "three times" substitute the words "five times".'

'Omit sub-clause (b) '.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The hon. Member can move only the first part of his amendment. I have selected only the first part."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"The omission of sub-clause (b) is only a consequential amendment.

"Sir, there are members like the hon. Member for the University who want to hold a very orthodox view and support whatever has been done by the Select Committee. I do not agree with him in that view; because, if we are to agree to each and every decision of the Select Committee there is no meaning in bringing amendments to the Bill as amended by the Select Committee before the full House. Here we have to move our amendments and the whole House has to go carefully into the decisions of the Select Committee to see whether the Committee was right or wrong in adopting a particular amendment and whether the lot of the agricultural tenant can be improved in any way. Sir, the three parties to this measure—the Government, the jannis and the kanamdars—all profess very much sympathy for the cultivating verumpattamdar. The amendment here is a very simple one. They have divided the whole thing into two portions. In the case of lands newly brought under wet cultivation, for the first twenty years they want to deduct three times the seed and after twenty years they want to deduct two and a half times the seed as cultivation expenses from the gross produce of the land. What I beg to state is that there is already a provision made in the Bill in clause 30 that all rent can be altered by a court of law on the application of a landlord or tenant. Therefore I do not think it reasonable that we should commit ourselves for a period after 20 years even now and provide for a period so long as that. Therefore let us be satisfied now with the fair rent as one-fifth of the net produce, namely, the annual gross produce minus cultivation expenses. That is my amendment and I hope it will be accepted."

[Mr. A. Kaleswara Rao] [26th September 1929]

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo :—"I beg to second it."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The amendment is only to omit the words in sub-clause (a) 'for a period of twenty years from the year in which the first wet crop is raised on the land'."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I am afraid the Government cannot accept this amendment. It has already been explained to the House that the reason for giving this concession in the first twenty years is that in the earlier years dry land converted into wet for the first time would yield less than in later years; the tenant should therefore pay less in the earlier years. That is the reason for this distinction made between sub-clause (a) and sub-clause (b)."

The amendment was negatived.

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"I beg to move—

'that in line 1, the word "ten" may be substituted for the word "twenty".'

"Sir, this was not a point which was considered by the joint conference. Of course it was suggested that there should be something fixed, but there was nothing in the Raghavayya Committee Report to guide the Government. I think that 20 years is much too long a period. A newly converted wet land would certainly come into line with the other lands in ten years. If you spend three times the seed I take it that the land ought to be able to produce the best that it can in the first ten years and if it did not produce its best within that period, it will never show a better yield at any time. In order to be just to the tenant, ten years is quite sufficient."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA :—"I second it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Mr. President, Sir, I am not prepared to accept this amendment. This period of twenty years has been fixed in the Government Bill after mature consideration and it has been approved by the Select Committee. I think that we should maintain the period yields its fullest capacity but it has to be remembered that this will affect only lands newly brought under wet cultivation within the last 20 years or reclaimed hereafter. A period must be fixed, and we may give the cultivator the benefit of this concession for 20 years."

The amendment was negatived.

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"Mr. President, I move—

'that for the words "three times" in line 4, the words "five times" be substituted.'

"Of course as has been pointed out by so many members in the previous debate, the cost of cultivation has been put ridiculously low. Malabar must be a peculiar land. Either the people there are superhuman or inhuman. They all quote things which we cannot imagine to exist anywhere on earth.

26th September 1929] [Mr. A. Kaleswara Rao]

"As has been pointed out by actual agriculturists, in our parts the cost of cultivation is twenty times the seed value. A sum of Rs. 2 is spent for seed and the other expenses come to at least Rs. 38 on one acre of wet land. Hon. Members have stated several items of agricultural operations. Apart from them the cost of manuring, purchasing bulls and of feeding them ought to be included in the cost of cultivation. You have to take into account the interest on the capital invested in purchasing cattle and the capital itself must be distributed over ten years. The cultivation expenses that have been put here seem to be ridiculously low; there is no question about that. What is urged is that it is a matter of compromise. I do not think there were real representatives of verumpattamdars in the conference. There might have been some people representing both the kanamdars and verumpattamdars. In that way their interests were affected. Of course there were the interests of the kanamdar, the sub-kanamdar and the janmi represented."

"Secondly, I do not attach much importance to the oral evidence recorded by the Raghavayya Committee; because the witnesses do not seem to know what they were talking about; there was no cross-examination and no details were asked. Probably some figures were given as the expenses of cultivation. They did not take into consideration the cost of manuring, purchasing cattle and removing weeds, etc. Therefore the cultivation expenses ought to be increased considerably. It should be at least five times the cost of the seed required for the said land. Unless we give substantial rights to the tenants, this Bill will be an illusory one. Most of these tenants have to pay high rent in the name of what are called fair rents; otherwise they will have to quit the lands and what is proposed to be given by one hand is being taken away by the other hand."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The hon. Member is repeating arguments already advanced."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"Therefore I propose this amendment."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTAMA RAO :—"Sir, I beg to second this motion. I know that the representatives of the verumpattamdars are really under a very great disadvantage in discussing this Bill. It has been made plain to us that the representatives of verumpattamdars are taking the line of least resistance. I do not believe that the heavens would fall if the Government agree to five times. As suggested by my hon. Friend from South Kanara, it has been admitted that the expenses of cultivation will be very much higher than two and half times the seed value. My hon. Friend from South Kanara quoted figures from the Government records relating to Malabar that seven times the seed value were the cultivation expenses. That argument was not met by anybody. Therefore I feel, Sir, that while the statistics recorded by the Government Departments say that it is seven and half times the seed value, it is really doing the verumpattamdar very grave injustice to put it at two and half times. This is not a very material point. I hope the Government will carefully consider the question and the hon. the Revenue Member will agree to increase the expenses of cultivation from two and a half to five times. It was stated that this figure was arrived at by striking a mean between two and three because there were contending claims. As was stated by the representatives from Malabar the contending claims were not sufficiently balanced. Therefore that a mean was struck between two and three should not induce the Government in matters like these. As a matter of fact the Government should have given very much greater privileges to the verumpattamdars. They have been unable to do so under the circumstances in Malabar. They must at least be prepared to do justice to the verumpattamdars and give them all assistance by accepting a little higher figure than what they are prepared to do in this case. I feel, Sir, it is bare justice to the verumpattamdar to have this kind of provision for his cultivation expenses. The Government rejected the amendment of my hon. Friend from South Kanara. I hope they will reconsider the position with regard to the number of times the seed value they would allow for cultivation expenses and make a more liberal provision than what they have hitherto made. From that point of view I appeal to the hon. the Revenue Member to accept this amendment."

[Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao] [26th September 1929]

The amendment was negatived.

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Sir, I beg to move—

'in line 3, omit the words "the difference between"; in line 4, omit all words after "land" up to the word "year" in line 5.'

"But I do not move the last portion 'substitute "two and a half" for "three".' But the other is an important matter. In the case of kuzhikanam, the proposal in the Bill is that one-fifth or one-fourth of the gross produce may be given. I am not quite clear why it is that, in the case of dry lands converted into wet, the same principle is not applied. I do not know why only the net produce is to be taken into account when you give the janmi a share of the produce of land converted into wet from dry. In the case of dry land where all the improvements belong to the tenant only one-fifth of the net produce is given. Here all the improvements belong to the tenant. But immediately the tenant begins to cultivate the land, it begins to yield. In the case of garden land, it takes a period of fifteen years for trees to come to bearing and during that period the tenant does not get much from it. In the case of kuzhikanam lands you give one-fifth of the produce without taking into account the cultivation and other connected expenses. It is, I think, only proper that, in the case of dry land converted into wet and beginning to yield immediately, the same principle should be applied. If at all any discrimination is to be made, it ought to be made in favour of dry lands converted into wet. I hope the Government will be able to accept this amendment. I think it is better to bring both these propositions into line with each other, the one regarding kuzhikanam land and the other regarding dry lands converted into wet."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"I beg to second the amendment, Sir."

The amendment was negatived.

Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD:—"Sir, I move—
'add at the end "the Government assessment and".'

"One-fifth of the produce is too small a share. There is no provision in the Bill enabling the janmi to claim an enhancement of michavaram, when the cultivated area is extended. It is only in matters of renewal fees that he can take into consideration the fair rent of such lands. If assessment has to be deducted from this, the renewal fee for these lands becomes nominal. It is to provide against that, that I move this amendment. As the renewal takes place only once in twelve years it will not be a hardship to the tenant, and I trust my amendment will be accepted by the House."

26th September 1929]

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"Sir, I beg to second the amendment."

The amendment was negatived.

Sub-clause (6).

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"Sir, I move that—
'in line 2, for "one-fifth" substitute "two-thirds".'

"The object of my amendment is to point out that a piece of land after it is first reclaimed will come to normal conditions within twenty years. The preceding clause says that a concession rate has been provided for, for the first twenty years. The amendment is for sub-clause (b) and it should be stated that the janmi should be given this enhanced rent since it is after the first twenty years after reclamation. This is the object of my amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"For want of a seconder the motion is lost."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"I beg to second the amendment, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member must be more alert."

New proviso.

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Mr. President, Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

'Add the following as a proviso:—

"Provided that if, in any particular year, no crop at all is raised, or only a dry crop is raised on a land on which a single or a double paddy crop is usually raised, or is capable of being raised, the produce of such land shall be deemed to be the estimated produce of a single or a double paddy crop, as the case may be."

The House will be pleased to look at clause 6 and its proviso. They say how the produce of the land is to be estimated. I think it is an omission with regard to clause 5. Suppose, for instance, only one paddy crop is raised on a land on which two crops ought to be raised; how is the produce to be estimated? This is not provided for with regard to this clause. All that I have done is to club sub-clauses (1) and (2) of clause 6. If you do not have this provision you leave clause 5 without the necessary data for arriving at fair rent like those postulated in clause 6. I think this provision is essential; otherwise we do not know how we should calculate the produce."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"I beg to second the amendment, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that the following be added as a proviso:—

'Provided that if, in any particular year, no crop at all is raised, or only a dry crop is raised on a land on which a single or a double paddy crop is usually raised, or is capable of being raised, the produce of such land shall be deemed to be the estimated produce of a single or a double paddy crop, as the case may be.'

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Mr. President, Sir, I do not think the Government can accept this amendment. The fair rent is based upon the actual produce, and I believe it is usually payable on wet land in Malabar in kind; this will enhance the rent which is to be paid by the cultivating verumpattamdar in cases where a full crop is not raised."

p.m.

[26th September 1929]

The amendment was negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that clause 5 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was carried and the clause was added to the Bill.

Clause 6.

* Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"Mr. President, Sir, my amendment which is slightly modified in view of the defeat of the amendment on the previous clause, runs as follows :—

'In line 3, substitute the words "one-half" for the words "two-thirds", and in line 7, after the words "agricultural year", the words "together with one-half of the assessment payable in respect thereof per year" be added.'

"I shall now read the section as amended by my amendment :—

'In the case of wet lands not falling under the previous section, fair rent shall be— one-half of the difference between one-third of the gross paddy produce of the land for three years immediately previous to the date on which fair rent is to be ascertained and two and a half times the seed required for the said land for an agricultural year, together with one-half of the assessment payable in respect thereof per year, provided that, etc.'

"The point in this amendment, Sir, is this. Though the previous amendment to raise the cost of cultivation has been defeated, I do not think that that amendment is anything so important as the present one which I am now moving. Granting now that two and a half times the seed is the cost of cultivation—a decision to which I shall reconcile myself for the present—then the whole question will be whether the landlords should get two-thirds of the net produce, or, as I submit, one half of the net produce with liability to pay half the assessment. I say that nothing could be more just to the landlord or to the tenant than this proposal of mine. To take two-thirds out of the net produce, leaving him only one-third is really very unjust. If we go into the history of land tenure in Malabar, Sir, we find that in or about 1803 a settlement was made between the Government, the landlord and the tenant which is stated at page 99 of the Raghavayya Committee report. In paragraph 2 of that agreement which refers to wet lands, it is said :—

'On rice grounds after deducting from the gross produce the seed, and exactly the same quantity for expenses of cultivation and then allotting one-third of what remains as kuroo labour to the kudiyan the residue or patom is to be divided in the proportion of six-tenths to the Company and four-tenths to the janmkar.'

"That means, Sir, after deducting the cost of cultivation the net produce is to be divided in the following manner: 10/30 or 1/3 to the tenant, 8/30 for the landlord's rent, and 6/10 of the two-thirds or 12/30 (or a little more than one-third) to the Government for its assessment.

"Now, Sir, the same principle has been adhered to in the latest settlement that obtained there. I have already quoted from it. The principles of it are stated at pages 331 and 332 of the Malabar Gazetteer. The old principles are there accepted, that one-third of the net after giving a very liberal allowance for cost of cultivation, vicissitudes of the season, and so on for which we have not made any allowance under the Bill we are now discussing, is to be given to the tenant, that the Government's share is 6/10 of the remaining two-thirds or 12/30 and that the landlord's share is only 8/30. That is the old accepted arrangement of 1803 known as the Rickard's Proclamation.

[26th September 1929]

[Mr. K. R. Karant]

That has been adhered to, and this is the principle on which the Government have been assessing all along. I may submit that in the assessment actually levied by the Government, they have given a very liberal share to the landlord. I have already submitted that the cost of cultivation allowed to the tenant is extremely liberal, that is, $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the cost of seed. I have also laid figures before the House to the effect that about 15 per cent of the gross produce has been allowed for the vicissitudes of the season. Over and above all this, the prices prevailing in the fifteen years prior to 1894 have been taken into account, so that in Malabar the assessment now is far less than 12/30ths of the net produce which, according to the Government principles, ought to go to them. My point is therefore this: if Government are entitled to 12/30ths of the net produce for their share of assessment and Government are now charging only a very small proportion of it—and that has been the fact for all these 30 years—the landlords have been having the benefit of that. My submission is that out of this (profit) give half to the tenant and half to the landlord, also with a liability to pay the assessment half and half. I may say in this connection that my amendment goes in favour of the landlord much more than the provisions of the Bill which was already passed by the previous Council. The corresponding provision in the Bill of Diwan Bahadur Krishnan Nayar was section 16, which ran as below :—

'Where lands are let on verumpattam lease after the passing of this Act, the rent payable by the tenant to the landlord shall not exceed one-third of the net produce and the Government revenue payable thereon.'

"If the landlords and tenants of Malabar were willing to-day to accept that, that would be much more favourable to the cultivator than the amendment I have now moved. My amendment is more favourable to the landlord, so that he may agree to the proportion I have stated. Now, Sir, if we apply the various principles, it works out like this: I will give a concrete instance. If Rs. 25 is the net produce of a land, and Rs. 5 is the assessment, then, according to my proposal, it will work out at half the net produce or Rs. 12½ plus half the assessment of Rs. 2-8-0, i.e., Rs. 15 will be the rent. If the provision of the previous Bill which was passed by the last Council into law is accepted, it will work to one-third of the net produce or Rs. 8-5-4 out of Rs. 25 plus the whole Government revenue which is Rs. 5, i.e., a total of Rs. 13-5-4, as rent. Under my proposal, as I have said, it will be Rs. 15, but under the provision contained in Mr. Krishnan Navar's Bill, it will be only Rs. 13-5-4. Under the existing Bill the rent will be two-thirds of the net or Rs. 16-10-8. I submit that it is rather unjust on the part of the Janmi and the Kanamdar to take all the profits which they are getting now by the assessment being comparatively very much less than 12/30 share of the net produce which Government is entitled to. In the name of cultivation expenses, allowance for the vicissitudes of the seasons and low commutation rates Government have already allowed the landlord a lot, and they are not, under the Bill, giving even a pie out of it to the tenant, except a meagre $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the seed. They are having all these benefits from the year 1894, while all that they were entitled to under the old settlement was only 4/10 of the two-thirds of the net or a little less than one-third of the net produce. The Government assessment, under that principle, ought to be more than the rent of the landlord. But now the Government share of the assessment is far less than what the landlord is taking. That is a very unjust position, and any benefits which the landlords are having on account of the leniency of the Government should, I submit, be shared by the tenant also. The Government then did not disallow the Bill of Mr. Krishnan Nayar on the ground of the provision contained therein viz., the rent to be only one-third of the net produce together with the whole of the revenue. It may be that in the original Bill it was or it was not included; but the previous Council passed that Bill after full deliberation, and it said 'only one-third of the net produce, plus the liability to pay assessment.' I am quite willing to accept that amendment which makes the rent far less than the rent I propose now, that is, half the net produce with half the liability to pay the Government revenue.

[Mr. K. R. Karant]

[26th September 1929]

"One hon. Member on this side of the House said that any amendment is more or less likely to throw away the whole Bill, and therefore whatever the Select Committee has done we must also pass here. I am very sorry that the hon. Member for the University instead of throwing his weight on the side of an amendment like this, should throw his weight on the side of those who want to simply pass the Bill because the Select Committee has passed it in a particular way. In the Select Committee, Sir, we were told that we could not effect much change, as the principle of the Bill would be interfered with. So, if we are simply going to register the decrees of other people, I submit there is no use of our sitting here and passing this Bill without any deliberation. I submit also that there is a great deal of justice on the side of this amendment. The landlords all these 30 or 35 years have been making enormous profits because of the assessment being far less than the proportion laid down by the Government; and it is quite fair that the tenant, the cultivator, should get half of that benefit. I request that the Government should not simply oppose this also because they have opposed other amendments. Let them see the justice of this amendment; or let them accept the proposal contained in the old Bill of Mr. Krishnan Nayar. I do not think it will be fair for the Government, just because they have got the necessary voting strength, to have this amendment defeated also, as they defeated the other amendments. With these words, Sir, I strongly appeal to the House to support my amendment."

MR. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—"Sir, I have great pleasure in seconding the amendment of my hon. Friend from South Kanara, Mr. Karant. Mr. President, I have seen that amendments even though they had some justice in them, were not favoured by this House and were thrown out, purely on the ground that those conclusions were different from those which were arrived at by the Select Committee. The amendment which is now sought to be introduced will minimize the hardship of the cultivating tenant in the matter of making him liable to pay two-thirds of the produce raised by the sweat of his labour. It is to my mind a most unconscionable bargain to make an actual cultivator who invests not only his labour but also what all he has got, and ask him to be satisfied with a mere one-third of the produce. That is most improper and unjust.

4-30 p.m. "Of course with regard to the provision made in this clause in respect of expenses being about two and one-fourth times or in some cases three times the seed rate, it will not be a great hardship. But now, this is a case where a cultivator is asked to give two-thirds of the produce bearing all expenses and other things. The provision of the seed rate, even from a reference to Government records, will be seen to be that it is quite inadequate. In regard to other cases it did not matter, because the tenant was asked to pay only one-fifth or two-fifths. But here it does matter, because even if no adequate provision is made for his cultivating expenses, he can recoup from the balance left. Here the balance left is very small and from that if he has to bear not only the additional expenditure, it would be a very great hardship. As was pointed out from the experience of many of the actual cultivators, it is unbelievable that in any part of the country the cultivating expenses should be borne by the tenant. There may be difference in a few cases, but generally it is less than one-third and if you stick to this, you will reduce a cultivating tenant, as suggested by my hon. Friend, Mr. Koti Reddi, to be satisfied with the straw that is left, after meeting all the cultivating expenses and after paying two-thirds of the value of the crop that is raised on the land. Since it was pointed out that it was never the intention of any of the previous Bills, or it was the intention of the hon. the present Law Member or of the House that a cultivating tenant should be made to give about two-thirds of the gross produce, I earnestly appeal to the hon. the Revenue Member to see that in this case at least he shows some sympathy to the actual cultivator and gives him justice. I do not think that the hon. the Revenue Member will come and say that at the round-table conference this thing of two-thirds has been agreed upon as a mean between the janmi claiming the whole and the tenant representative saying that he cannot accept it. As it is, the amount of two-thirds has been arrived at. Under these circumstances, I hope the Government will do justice to the cultivating tenant in such a hard case."

* MR. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"Mr. President, Sir, I have been taking very little part in the discussions that we have been having in this House to-day. (A voice from the Opposition : Comparatively speaking.) I have been listening with considerable interest to the view-point of many hon. Members of this House. I have examined them in the light of the criticisms that have been levelled against me by several hon. members opposite, but they seem to forget, I mean nearly all Members who have spoken from across the table there, that we in Malabar whether we are tenants or janmis, are still ordinary human beings. We do differ a great deal from most of the members across the table, but we are not such a strange people as they seem to imagine. There may be differences between us and there are very important differences too, but we are not out here to destroy each other. From the speeches which we have been listening, one would suppose that we are here ready to cut each other's throat and that it is absolutely essential for hon. Members who do not belong to Malabar to come and save us from mutual destruction. I can assure the House that no such calamity is about to happen. We are trying to take care of ourselves in a way, but I believe all of us are aware that something is due to the other party and we are trying to do it in a fair and just manner. Do not for a moment think that the only party that has a right to exist in Malabar is the cultivating verumpattandar or the tenant or whatever else you call him. The janmi too is accustomed to a certain standard of life which he is entitled to maintain. When you fix a rent, you should also take into consideration that particular element to which some hon. Members opposite are always referring, the most human element in life, the standard of life to which we are accustomed. If you ask a janmi to reduce the rent by 50 per cent, you are telling him something which would be absolutely impossible for him to do. In your anxiety to help one class, it ought to be your care to see that you do not injure another. I do not suppose the janmis of Malabar are so undesirable a people that this House can by one stroke of the pen make them disappear. Not that we are likely to disappear, but yet this is not the way in which the House ought to look at things. Do not suppose that we are here like a set of robbers trying to injure and exploit the poor. On the contrary, just remember this. We are giving the verumpattamdar rights which he has never asked for. I am not aware of one single cultivator having asked for one-tenth of the rights that we are giving him to-day. I have done my humble best to improve the condition and the lot of the verumpattamdar. I won't allow any man in this House to say that I or any landlords in general in Malabar—because I am anxious to defend their rights—are ready to pounce upon the cultivating verumpattamdar and appropriate his profits. Let there be no mistake about it. We are trying to do justice. We are trying to raise their standard of life for which the one-third that has been allowed by the Raghavayya Committee over and above the cultivating expenses is more than sufficient. (An hon. Member from the Opposition: 'Question?') More than sufficient. If you are going to make considerable changes in this matter and add to the burden of the janmi, you will be making life impossible in Malabar. Do not for one moment think that you can add to the comfort or convenience or the good feeling that ought to exist between the landlord and tenant in Malabar, if amendments of this kind are carried.

"An appeal made to the Government from across the table comes with bad grace. If hon. Members had tried to hold the balance even between party and party in this matter, I should have been delighted. The only party in this House to which the landlord and the tenant can look for justice is the Government. However often they may have defeated me with their voting strength, hon. Members opposite feel that there is a greater element of safety in relying on the Government to settle their dispute. There is wisdom in what the hon. Member for the University has stated that only in regard to matters of detail like cultivation expenses, of which no Member outside Malabar can be a judge, they had better be left to Government and to us to adjust and settle. Do not accuse one party or another of not being the representatives of verumpattamdars. Do not add to our troubles by befriending one against the other."

The amendment was then put and declared lost.

A poll was demanded and the House divided thus:—

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"I beg to move the amendment that stands in my name as follows:—

'Add at the end of sub-clause (ii) "together with one-fifth of the straw realized or which ought to have been realized in respect of the said one-third of the gross paddy produce".'

"This provision was in the Bill drawn up by the Raghavayya Committee and the Government had also placed it in their Bill. But it was struck out by the Select Committee, not for any particular reason. Straw is not a very negligible source of income. For 1,000 sheaves of straw it is not unusual to realize a little over Rs. 30. Straw is required to feed the cattle of the landlord or to thatch his house. We in Malabar are not sufficiently advanced and we have not got tiled houses everywhere. Straw is a necessity for thatching houses and it is also necessary for feeding cattle. If you take straw away from the income of the janmi, you are taking away very valuable property. I hope the hon. the Revenue Member will support this amendment. I had his sympathy in the Select Committee when the clause was deleted. I hope that sympathy will now materialize and this amendment will be carried."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"I second the amendment."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I am afraid I cannot accept the amendment. It is quite true that a provision of this kind was in the original Bill of the Government. The matter was thoroughly discussed in the Select Committee and the fair rent which has been fixed in the Bill now was fixed without any addition of the straw. I cannot, therefore, accept the amendment."

[26th September 1929]

The amendment was negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that clause 6 shall stand part of the Bill."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"I gave notice of an amendment to omit sub-clauses (1) and (2)."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"It is a consequential one which is a part of your scheme."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"These two provisos will apply to a case where the tenants are asked to pay a share of net produce when he did not raise any crop in the land. From that point of view my amendments are very important."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"There is no proviso in clause 6."

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"In the supplemental list of amendments it will be found."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"What is here is 'Mr. A. Kaleswara Rao: Omit sub-clause (2)'. It is not in the printed amendments. Has the hon. Member given notice of his amendments? When did he give notice of them?"

* Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—"On the same date I gave notice of other amendments."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"He has not given notice within ten days. Does any hon. Member object to that?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I object to it."

The amendment was not allowed to be moved.

Clause 6 was then put, passed and added to the Bill.

Clause 7.

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I beg to move the amendment that stands in my name which is as follows :—

'Number the first paragraph as sub-clause (1) and renumber sub-clauses (a), (b) and (c) as sub-clauses (2), (3) and (4) respectively.'

"This is merely a verbal amendment."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"I second it."

The amendment was adopted.

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I beg to move the amendment that stands in my name which is as follows :—

'In sub-clause (1) as renumbered in line 2 for the expression "clauses (a) and (b)" substitute the expression "sub-sections (2), (3) and (4)".'

"This is merely a consequential amendment and I move it."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"I second it."

The amendment was adopted.

[26th September 1929]

Sub-clause (a).

* Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—"I beg to move the amendment that stands in my name; namely :—

'In line 4 for the words "one-fifth" substitute the words "one-fourth".'

"The reason for this amendment is that in the Raghaviah Committee's report they had at least allowed one-third share of the tenants' trees and two-thirds share of the janmis' trees. At the conference this change from one-third into one-fifth was made. The proceedings of the Conference were supplied to us and in it we find that this was arrived at after deducting the tenants' share of cultivation expenses, renewal fee and interest thereon. The interest calculated on the renewal fee was a mistake. The very Act provides 25 per cent or one-fourth of an year's gross produce as renewal fee and then they put the renewal fee as part of rent in advance and calculated the interest at 12 per cent for 12 years for the whole amount of Rs. 25. But the whole amount of Rs. 25 cannot be taken as the basis for calculation. Every year a portion must be deducted from this amount. That will come to about Rs. 2. But the janmi is asked to pay interest for the money which is his own. It is unfair. Moreover, Sir, for 12 years after the lease the janmi of a garden land does not get any share of the produce on trees that have come to bear fruit. The custom in Malabar as regards these garden lands is that the janmi gets one-third of the gross produce after three renewals, that is, after 36 years. I want in fairness to the janmi and also in fairness to the tenant want to make it one-fourth as a via media. With these few words, I move my motion."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—"I second it."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—"I oppose this amendment. My friend Mr. Uppi has stated that in the case of garden lands the janmi has got a stake and has invested a certain sum of money. I may mention for the information of the House that most of these garden lands are lands which have been converted as such from waste lands. Before a coconut tree begins to yield, a large expenditure has to be incurred in bringing it to yielding condition. If you calculate the compound interest on the amount that has to be invested for bringing these coconut trees into fruit-bearing condition, it will be very large. If the amendment of my hon. friend is carried, it would simply amount to confiscation of the tenants' share of the produce, which I hope the House will not allow. Again, Sir, I have suggested amendments in various places in this Bill but I have withdrawn all of them in view of the fact that there should be harmony between the janmis on the one hand and the tenants on the other. I would therefore request my hon. Friend Mr. Uppi to withdraw his amendment so that there may be harmony between the two classes, viz., the janmis and the tenants."

The amendment was negatived.

The Council then adjourned to meet again at 11 a.m. the next day.

In G.O. No. 636, Education, dated 20th May 1922, the Government appointed selection committees to assist the Principals of Government Colleges in the selection and admission of students. Since then, representations have been made to Government that a certain proportion of the seats available in the Presidency College, Madras, may be reserved for students belonging to backward communities to enable them to profit by the instruction given in the College. After careful consideration, the Government are pleased to direct that, subject to the possession of the minimum qualifications which will be prescribed by the Principal the number of students belonging to the Brahman and Non-Brahman communities to be admitted, in future, into the Intermediate and B.A. (Pass) classes of the Presidency College, Madras, be fixed at 40 per cent and at 60 per cent respectively of the total number of students that can be admitted into the respective classes in the College.

I
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS

Stationery

Disposal of typewriters condemned by the Superintendent of Stationery.

* 556 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether any typewriters were considered unserviceable by the Superintendent of Stationery during the last three years; and

(b) if so, how many, and of what make, and the number that were disposed of, by auction, by exchange, or by being simply written off the accounts respectively?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The total number of machines found unserviceable during the last three years is 397 as shown below:—

Remington	123	Century	8
Yost	66	Corona	4
Underwood	27	Armstrong	2
Empire	70	Demountable	1
L. C. Smith	34	Monarch	8
Victor	11	Rex	4
Fox	31	Oliver	8
Total	362	Total	35
		397

Excepting one Fox typewriter which was sold to a gazetted officer, the rest were sold in auction.

Mr. C. GOPALA MENON:—"Out of the 396 typewriters that were sold in auction, it is seen from the table that 123 are Remingtons, 66 are Yost and 27 are Underwood. May I know from the hon. the Home Member whether any undue preference was shown to any particular type of typewriter, as we find that in the course of the last three years as many as 123 Remington typewriters were replaced and sold in auction?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"We are purchasing machines on the basis of cheapness, durability and efficiency."

Mr. C. GOPALA MENON:—"May I know what is the policy of the Government in distributing these orders to the various offices of the typewriters, and whether there is any particular preference shown to any particular type of machine?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"At present the policy of the Government is to call for tenders and then orders are passed after considering the cheapness, durability and efficiency of the machines."

Mr. C. GOPALA MENON:—"Am I to understand that the Government are not favouring any particular type of machine?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Yes, Sir."

27th September 1929]

Mr. C. GOPALA MENON:—"Is it a fact that no orders were given to the Underwood typewriters this year?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"I suppose so, Sir."

Mr. C. GOPALA MENON:—"Will the hon. the Home Member look into the matter and see that the injustice shown to any particular typewriter agency is rectified?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"I do not think there is any injustice to be rectified. As a matter of fact we are calling for tenders, and giving orders after taking into consideration the efficiency, durability and cheapness of the machines."

Civil Justice

Additional accommodation for the Bar room at Mangalore.

* 557 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) in what stage the proposal to give additional accommodation to the Bar room at Mangalore is;

(b) whether it is a fact that plans and estimates were ready long ago; if so, when;

(c) what is the delay due to;

(d) what will be the approximate cost of the construction; and

(e) when it is proposed to commence the work?

A.—(a) to (e) Orders were issued in the matter in July last. The Government have approved of an expenditure of Rs. 5,050 on the work. Funds have been provided for the purpose and the work will be started in the current year.

Removal of the bar of 13 years' permanent service for Sub-Judges and District Munsifs.

* 558 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state, with reference to my question No. 96, dated 8th August 1929, regarding the removal of the bar of 13 years' permanent service rule for Sub-Judges and District Munsifs, whether Government have since passed any and, if so, what orders thereon?

A.—The question is still under consideration.

Alleged irregular attendance of judicial officers.

* 559 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) at what time of the day as a rule the various civil judicial officers in the district of South Kanara daily attended court during the three months ending with 31st March 1929; and

(b) whether representations have been made to Government, that, on account of the uncertainty of the time of attendance of judicial officers in the several courts in the district, much inconvenience is caused to parties, witnesses, pleaders as well as the clerical staff?

A.—(a) The Government have no information.

(b) No.

Criminal Justice

[27th September 1929]

Alleged circular removing the purport of the evidence in the charge sheet.

* 560 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that about a year ago the Government have issued a circular or order that the purport of the evidence which the various witnesses are expected to give should not appear in the charge sheet;

(b) if so, under what authority Government have issued the above circular or order;

(c) whether Government took any and, if so, what legal advice before it was issued; and

(d) whether Government propose to take any and, if so, what steps to rescind the said circular or order?

A.—(a) & (b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to Notification No. 782, dated 16th October 1928, published on page 1595 of Part I of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 23rd October 1928, in which the Government, in the exercise of the power vested in them under section 173, Criminal Procedure Code, amended the form of charge sheet with the previous sanction of the Government of India.

(c) No.

(d) The Government do not propose to do so.

Mr. D. THOMAS:—"May I know, with reference to the answer to clauses (a) and (b), what were the circumstances that made the Government think it necessary for amending the old form?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"It was thought that there should be uniformity throughout India."

Mr. D. THOMAS:—"May I know on whose motion or report was this amendment effected? Was it on the motion of the Police Department or on that of the Magistracy?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"It was made without any suggestion from others."

Mr. D. THOMAS:—"With reference to clause (c), may I know why Government did not take any legal advice in the matter?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Because section 173 of the Criminal Procedure Code is very clear on the matter."

Mr. D. THOMAS:—"My question was not whether Government had any power to amend, but why they did not take any legal advice in the matter?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Because there was no question of interpretation of law. (Laughter.) The section is very clear and the Government did not think it necessary to take legal advice."

Mr. D. THOMAS:—"Does the Government think it harmful that the accused should come to know what each will speak against him before the commencement of the trial?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"No."

27th September 1929]

Forests

Availability of certain forest officers engaged in the management of ryots' forests for other work.

* 561 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) the number of Forest Conservators, Assistant Conservators and Rangers who were hitherto engaged on the management of ryots' forests and have since become available for other work;

(b) how their services are being utilized at the present moment and are proposed to be utilized hereafter respectively;

(c) whether any programme and policy for the future development of the forests supposed to be valuable and still on the hands of the Government has been framed; and

(d) if not, at what stage the matter is and when the programme and policy are likely to be determined?

A.—(a) & (b) No officers were exclusively employed on work connected with ryots' forests. But the transfer of these forests has enabled Government to abolish one forest territorial circle and seven forest divisions. Consequently the strength of the Imperial and the Madras Forest Services (excluding the posts of Chief Conservator and Conservators) has been reduced, by holding certain posts in abeyance, from 100 to 87 and the number of officers actually in service now is only 84. The rangers' cadre has also been reduced from 203 to 179. These officers are now employed on work unconnected with ryots' forests. Further revision of establishments is under consideration.

(c) & (d) The question of the reorganization of the department is now under examination.

Preparation of working plans for forest plantations.

* 562 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: With reference to my question No. 1889 answered on 26th March 1929 and forms 34-A and 34-B appended to the Forest Department Administration Report for 1927-28, will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(i) whether sowing, plantation, regeneration and other operations are done and have been done in the plantations not under working plans without working plans, and whether any plans have been adopted and are adopted for regeneration purposes therein; and

(ii) if there are such plans, who is responsible for preparing them and by whom they are sanctioned?

A.—(i) Regeneration and other operations are undertaken in areas not covered by working plans. Such work is governed by the annual plan of operations, drawn up by the District Forest Officers subject to the control of Conservators. Work, too, is sometimes regulated by working schemes which are in force until such time as it is possible to prepare forest working plans. These are sanctioned by Conservators or the Chief Conservator of Forests.

[27th September 1929]

- (ii) Working plans are prepared by District Forest Officers or Special Officers and are sanctioned by the Chief Conservator of Forests.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Sir, in the answer to clause (i) it is said 'regeneration and other operations are undertaken in areas not covered by working plans'. May I know if, in the forest district of Kurnool, regeneration and other operations have been given up?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Notice, Sir."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"With reference to clause (ii), may I know whether there is any officer for preparing the plans for such areas in the Presidency?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Yes, Sir, there is one."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"If so, may I know what is the scope of his activities?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"He is preparing working plans."

Expenditure on saw mills under the Forest department.

* 563 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether in answer to question No. 1705, dated the 12th March 1929, the forest dues were taken into account in showing expenditure for saw mills under the Forest department;

(b) if not, whether the same were deducted from receipts; and

(c) if not, why not?

A.—(a) No.

(b) No.

(c) Owing to a misunderstanding as to what was required.

Value of timber supplied to Government Saw Mills.

* 564 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state with regard to the timber supplied to saw mills under Government control—

(a) whether the cost of the timber is debited in the accounts of the mills;

(b) if so, how much per cubic foot; and

(c) the approximate value of the same when it is given to private merchants?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) In 1927-28 the last complete year for which audited figures are available the following rates per cubic foot were charged to the mills:—

	RS.	A.	P.
Olavakkot mill	...	...	...
Pollachi mill	...	...	...
Beyppore mill	...	...	...
Parappa mill	...	...	...
Chedleth mill	...	...	...
	1	0	3.16
	0	12	1
	0	9	6.66
	0	8	5.7

27th September 1929]

The variations are due to the distance from the sources of supply to the mills.

- (c) Timber of the classes devoted to milling was not ordinarily offered for sale in the log. Hence it is not possible to answer this clause.

Law Officers

Age-limit for appointment of the Administrator-General in the Madras High Court.

* 565 Q.—Mr. K. KOTI REDDI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is any age-limit and who has prescribed it with regard to the appointment of Administrator-General in the High Court of Judicature, Madras; and

(b) what other judicial appointments have the same age-limit prescribed?

A.—(a) Yes, in the case of direct recruits. It has been prescribed by Government in exercise of the powers conferred in rules 3 and 4 of the Civil Services (Governors' Provinces) Delegation Rules, 1926.

(b) (1) Judge, City Civil Court, Madras, if directly recruited.

(2) Puisne Judge, Court of Small Causes, Madras, whose post is not included in the cadre of sub-judges.

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"May I know what is the age-limit fixed in these cases, if there is one such?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Forty years is the age-limit."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"May I know whether persons of experience, ability and character are required for this post?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"Yes, Sir." (Laughter.)

Stamps

Reduction of stamp duties to the pre-reform level.

* 566 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether the Government came to any decision upon the reduction of stamp duties to the pre-reform level and if so, what?

A.—The Government have decided not to make any change at present.

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU:—"May I know when the Government came to the decision not to make any changes in the stamp duties?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"I can't say the exact date. They came to that decision recently."

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU:—"May I know whether the hon. the Law Member has satisfied himself that no reduction in the stamp duties is necessary?"

[27th September 1929]

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"The Government are satisfied that no changes are needed."

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU :—"May I know why the Government think that no changes need be effected?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"Because Government are satisfied that no changes are needed."

Mr. C. GOPALA MENON :—"Sir, was there not a statement made on the floor of this House some time back that when the Provincial contributions are remitted there would be a reduction in stamp duties?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That is giving information."

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"May I know what effect was given to the conclusions of the Select Committee on the Bill to reduce the scale of court-fees?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"Notice, Sir."

Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—"May I know what are the specific reasons underlying the decision of the Government not to make any changes at present?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"The Government do not deem it necessary to reduce the duties."

Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—"Is there no tangible reason assigned?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"No, Sir. The Government are satisfied that there is no need for reduction."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo :—"Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table of the House the representations they have received on this question and also the decision of the Government on the same?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The decision of the Government is there in the answer."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo :—"Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to lay on the table of the House the representations he received on this question?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"Those representations were made in the course of the Budget discussion in this Council some time ago, and thus the House is already in possession of them."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know if the Government satisfied itself before it came to this decision as to the way in which the present stamp duty is pressing on the people?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"Yes, Sir."

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI :—"May I know why the Government did not think it expedient to change the present rate of stamp duties?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"Because they do not think it is necessary."

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI :—"May I know why?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"Because they think it is not necessary."

Village Courts Act

Action taken on the Proceedings of the Panchayat Committee Members of Kasaragod taluk.

* 567 Q.—Mr. K. R. KABANT : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether any and, if so, what decision has been come to with reference to the subject matter of my question No. 209, dated 10th August 1929, regarding proceedings of the meetings of the Panchayat Committee Members of the Kasaragod taluk?

A.—The proposals are under the consideration of the Government.

Agency

Increase in the assessment in the muttas of Chittampadu, etc., in the Vizagapatam Agency.

* 568 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state the orders passed by them on the proposals of the Board of Revenue recommending an increase of 56 per cent on the assessment obtaining at present in the muttas of Chittampadu, Antada, Koyyur and Makaram in the Vizagapatam Agency?

A.—No orders have yet been passed on the subject.

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—"May I know why no orders have been passed as yet?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"We are awaiting further information on certain points."

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—"The proposals are that the assessment is to be increased by 56 per cent and the recent rule that the Government have laid down for their guidance is that the enhancement should be limited to 18½ per cent. May I know what the Government is going to do and whether they will not adhere to the rule?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"The Madras ryotwari system has not been in force hitherto in this area. The hon. Member's suggestion will however be considered."

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"May I know what are the extraordinary reasons put forward by the Board of Revenue for recommending this high percentage?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I think the Government laid the proposals on the table of the House yesterday or the day before. The information is available in the published reports."

Assignment of Lands

Assignment of lands to Mrs. Julia Nathaniel.

* 569 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased—

(1) to lay on the table a statement showing the number of assignments of lands with extents and names of villages, made by Mr. Gnanaprakasam, late Tahsildar of Gudiyattam, to one Mrs. Julia Nathaniel, wife of the Vice-President, District Board, North Arcot; and

[27th September 1929]

(2) to state—

(a) whether these assignments have been confirmed by Collector or otherwise modified or altered;

(b) whether it is a fact that, besides granting lands to Mrs. Nathaniel, lands have been assigned by the same Tahsildar to the servant of Mrs. Nathaniel in her dispensary at Vellore; and

(c) what action the Government propose to take regarding these assignments?

A.—(1) & (2) The Government have not the information, but have called for a report.

Levy of tree-tax on lands assigned to Panchamas in East Godavari.

* 570 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the number of Panchamas who were given lands in East Godavari in the last ten years;

(b) in how many of these cases any fees for trees standing on the lands were charged; and

(c) what the amount is?

A.—(a) to (c) The Government have not the information and are of opinion that the labour involved in compiling it would not be justified by the result.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know whether the hon. Member for Revenue will be pleased to inquire if the imposition of fees on trees is working hardship in the East Godavari, with special reference to the depressed classes?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“It may be difficult to determine in what cases there has been hardship without elaborate inquiries. If any particular case is brought forward I shall be glad to investigate it.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know whether he will be pleased to inquire within a specified period in how many cases lands were assigned to the depressed classes and fees for trees were demanded and recovered? He may then be in a position to know if any hardship had really occurred.”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“I shall consider if the information can be gathered in respect of a certain limited area.”

Free assignment of lands to depressed classes.

* 571 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state with reference to question No. 1667, dated 11th March 1929—

(a) whether Government have arrived at any decision regarding the question of giving the lands free of assessment to the depressed classes till they become productive; and

(b) if not, how long the question has been under the consideration of the Government?

A.—(a) & (b) The question is under the consideration of Government and has been under their consideration since March 1929.

[27th September 1929]

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU:—“May I know how long more will it take for the Government to come to a decision?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“I cannot say definitely. The question was raised originally with reference to South Kanara but the question has to be considered with reference to the Presidency as a whole.”

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD:—“May I know whether caste Hindus who are untouchables and who are economically poor are included in the term ‘depressed classes’, or are others also eligible to this concession?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“I believe not.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know whether any decision has been reached with regard to the principle enunciated as to whether the land should be free of assessment for ever, or whether it is only for a particular time?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“No decision has been arrived at; we are awaiting a report.”

Constitution of Provinces

Establishment of a Karnataka province.

* 572 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state whether the resolution of the Local Legislative Council recommending the establishment of a Karnatic Province has been forwarded to the Government of India and if so, when?

A.—Yes. On the 11th September 1929.

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—“May I know whether the Government have made any remarks in the forwarding letter on this matter?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“No, Sir.”

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasaya:—“Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to lay on the table of the House a copy of the forwarding letter?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“I shall consider the suggestion.”

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasaya:—“May I know whether there has been any correspondence with the Government of Bombay on this matter?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“I must ask for notice, Sir.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—“May I know why the Government of Madras did not recommend the formation of a separate province?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“The proceedings were forwarded with reference to the provisions of the Government of India Act.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—“Did not Government make any recommendations?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“The Government expressed no views. They were not in a position to make any definite recommendations as I explained during the debate.”

[27th September 1929]

Irrigation

Suitability of the Thimmalapuram site for the Tungabhadra project.

* 573 Q.—Mr. K. KOTI REDDI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state what opinion the Special Engineer has given with regard to the engineering possibilities of the Thimmalapuram site recommended by the Ceded Districts Irrigation Committee for the Tungabhadra project?

A.—The attention of the hon. Member is invited to paragraph 7 of Mr. Ireland's report laid on the table on 5th September 1928, in answer to Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao's question No. 120. Trial pits and borings on the site have been made and the Government of India have been requested to depute a Geologist to report on the suitability of the site after examining them.

Mr. KOTI REDDI:—"May I know whether any progress has been made with regard to the project?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"No other information is available. The Geologist cannot examine the site until the water in the river has gone down. We have asked the Government of India to send a Geologist in October."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Sir, the first part of the answer suggests that other schemes were taken into consideration. May I know what other schemes were considered as it would . . . ?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question does not arise."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"May I know when the Government of India was first requested to send the Geologist?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I cannot give the exact date. I think it was last month."

Regulation of boat traffic in the Godavari river.

* 574 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state with reference to answers given to question Nos. 1242 and 1248 on 31st January 1929 and 1st February 1929 respectively—

(a) whether the opinion of the District Magistrate referred to in the answer to the first question and the draft notification referred to in the answer to the second question have been received;

(b) whether they would be placed on the table;

(c) whether the Madras Canals and Public Ferries Act of 1890 has been made applicable to the Godavari river; and

(d) whether in view of the danger to passenger traffic on boats in the river, the Government will expedite the matter?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The District Magistrate's report^a is laid upon the table. The notification will be published in the Fort St. George Gazette in due course.

^a Printed as Appendix I on page 410 infra.

[27th September 1929]

- (c) No. It is for the purpose of making it applicable that the notification is required.
(d) The Government will issue the necessary notification as soon as possible.

Working of the 6 feet shutters over Kistna anicut.

* 575 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) when the 6 feet shutters over Kistna anicut commenced to operate;
(b) what the benefits derived or expected to be derived from the above arrangement are; and
(c) what the cost of the above shutters is?

A.—(a) In 1925–26.

(b) The installation of the shutters has, besides ensuring a better supply of water to the existing ayacut of the Kistna Eastern and Western deltas, rendered it possible to extend irrigation for a short crop to 75,000 acres in the two deltas. A special division is working out a scheme for the allocation of these extensions.

(c) Rs. 4.14 lakhs.

Estimates for the Vempad project.

* 576 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state, with reference to question No. 1670, dated 11th March 1929, regarding the Vempad project—

- (a) whether the estimate for the scheme of irrigating 4,500 acres of short crop in the Kistna Eastern delta was received from the Board of Revenue to whom it was sent for report on the financial aspect; and
(b) if so, what the report is?

A.—(a) & (b) The Board's report has been received. The Board has recommended that the scheme should be sanctioned. The Government have directed that the scheme should be brought forward for consideration in connexion with the budget estimates for 1930–31.

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, whether the newly 11-15 extended irrigation will be only for short crop or will it be extended to lands ^{a.m.} for ordinary crop also?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"The area referred to in the answer to clause (b) is for short crop."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether there is any other area to which this irrigation is intended to be extended for the ordinary crop?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I am not aware of any."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know, then, whether any 'nazarana' will be collected for these lands to be irrigated for short crop?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"If by 'nazarana' an inclusion fee is meant the answer is in the negative."

Minor Irrigation

[27th September 1929]

Enquiry into the alleged interference with the course of the Kulamangalam channel.

* 577 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether Kamachia Pillai and others of Mukasa Kulamangalam village, Tanjore taluk, have written to the Government or the Board of Revenue, objecting to the interference with the course of 'Kulamangalam channel' by Magudavel Pillai on several grounds; and

(b) if so, whether the Government have made any inquiry into the matter and with what result?

A.—(a) The Government have received a copy of a petition addressed to the Board of Revenue on the subject.

(b) No. No enquiries by Government are called for at this stage as the Board of Revenue will doubtless deal with the petition addressed to it.

Village Establishments

Alleged dismissal of Mr. Venkatachala Pillai, karnam of Karasamangalam village.

* 578 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether one Venkatachala Pillai, karnam of Karasamangalam village of Gudiyattam taluk, was dismissed from office; and

(b) whether he preferred an appeal to Government and, if so, how it was disposed of?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Yes. Under the provisions of the Madras Hereditary Village Offices Act III of 1895 the orders of the Board of Revenue are final and no appeal lies to the Government. The petitioner was informed accordingly.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know what the fault was of the village officer, for which he was dismissed?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I must ask for notice of the question."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"Is it a fact that the only fault that could be found was that he did not disclose the relationship of a certain assignee of land, and otherwise his career was quite unexceptionable?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I must ask for notice of the question. I may add that it is stated in the answer to clause (b) that no appeal lies to the Government."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"All the same, in view of the injustice done to a faithful servant of the Government, will the Government be pleased to enquire into the matter?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I do not think any useful purpose will be served by any enquiry as the order of the Board of Revenue is final."

27th September 1929]

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"It is stated that the order of the Board of Revenue is final. Have the Government no power to revise that order though it may not be on appeal?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"So far as I am aware, we cannot interfere with the order of the Board of Revenue."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether the Government have not the inherent power to revise the order of the Board of Revenue?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I do not think we have powers of revision of orders passed by the Board of Revenue under the statutory powers any more than we have power to revise the orders of the civil courts."

Choultries

Alleged utilization of Kallimodu chatram funds for a hostel to the Board High School, Tiruturaipundi.

* 579 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government ruled that the funds of the Kallimodu chatram in the Tiruturaipundi taluk could not be used for the purpose of a hostel attached to the Local Board High School;

(b) what steps, if any, were taken by the Government to recover from the authorities responsible the amount improperly spent from the said chatram funds and to see that the proceeds of the funds are utilized agreeably to the intentions of the original donor; and

(c) what steps, if any, Government propose to take to find out the purpose for which the donors created the endowment and to see to the proper administration of the endowment properties in future?

A.—(a) Yes, in 1927.

(b) & (c) Government decided not to press for the recovery of the amounts spent on the hostel prior to 1927, but issued instructions that no such diversion should be made of the chatram funds without the sanction of a court.

Education

Vernacular knowledge as a qualification for District Educational Officers.

* 580 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether a thorough knowledge of the vernacular or a passing of test in the vernacular of the district in which a District Educational Officer is to work is laid down as a necessary condition of service;

(b) how many District Educational Officers now in service have such knowledge or have passed such tests and how many have not; and

(c) what steps will be taken to remedy the existing state of affairs?

[27th September 1929]

A.—(a) Under the rules prescribed by Government for the study of Oriental languages by European and Anglo-Indian officers of the Madras Educational Department, every officer of the above class who is engaged in inspection shall pass a compulsory test in two of the following languages:—

Tamil	Malayalam
Telugu	Oriya
Kanarese	Urdu,

one of which shall be either Tamil or Telugu. An officer who has taken the B.A. degree in one of the languages shall not be required to pass the test in a second language. No such tests are prescribed for District Educational Officers who are Indians.

- (b) One has passed such tests, two have passed in only one language and one in no language.
- (c) Of the two officers who have passed the test in one language, one has been exempted from passing the test in a second language and the other is the Inspector of European Schools. The officer who has not passed the test in any language has put in an acting service of a little over one year.

A time limit has been prescribed by Government within which the officers are required to pass such tests; failure to do so will involve the stoppage of the officer's increment till he passes them.

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" May I know whether the Government will see that no District Educational Officer is posted to any district unless he knows the vernacular of that district ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is difficult to give an undertaking of this kind. As far as possible, the Government have asked the Director of Public Instruction to see that officers posted to any area have a working knowledge of the language of that area. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know with regard to the District Educational Officers, whether in posting these officers to any area, their qualification in the vernacular of that area is taken into account ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That has been answered. "

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—" May I know what is the purpose of Europeans and Anglo-Indians being insisted on to pass this vernacular test ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" For the simple reason that they may have some acquaintance with the language of the district in which they serve. "

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—" May I know then if it is not necessary that only such Indians or non-Indians as are acquainted with the language of the district should be posted to that district ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That has been answered. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know why they should know the vernacular of the district to which they are posted ? "

[27th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Because they inspect the elementary schools sometimes, and education in such schools is given in the vernacular. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know which District Educational Officers know all the vernaculars ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is impossible to make every one know all the languages. As far as possible, the Director of Public Instruction has been asked to post to districts officers who are acquainted with the language of those districts. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the hon. the Minister is prepared to issue instructions that only such District Educational Officers as have passed some vernacular examination should be posted to districts where that vernacular prevails ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" It has been already answered. "

Provision of hostels for students in Government Colleges at Coimbatore and Tellicherry.

* 581 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Government Colleges at Coimbatore and Tellicherry provide no hostels for students; and

(b) whether there are any other Government Colleges where only rented dwelling houses are adopted for hostel uses and, if so, which they are ?

A.—(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) The hostels attached to the Presidency College, Madras, the Government College, Mangalore, and the Lady Willingdon Training College, Madras (excluding the Ice House hostel) are located in rented buildings.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know if it is the policy of the Government to see that these hostels are located hereafter in buildings owned by the Government having regard to sanitation and other considerations ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As far as possible, the Government are trying to replace these rented buildings by Government buildings. "

Adoption of medical treatment suggested to students on medical inspection.

* 582 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware that in most cases the treatment suggested by the doctors who do medical inspection in schools and colleges is not carried out; and

(b) whether the Government have considered what can be done in this matter so as to make medical inspection really useful ?

A.—(a) The Government have no information.

(b) The question of improving the present system of medical inspection is under consideration.

[27th September 1929]

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" May I know whether the Government will call for a report in regard to the question mentioned in sub-clause (a) ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is very difficult to collect this information, because it will mean holding a census of all these people and asking the students and their parents. In these circumstances, I am afraid this information cannot be called for."

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it a fact that many of the pupils inspected by the medical inspectors are too poor to follow the treatment suggested by the medical inspectors ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I am not aware of any such difficulty, Sir."

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Will the Government be pleased to issue orders to the various dispensaries under the Government and local bodies to dispense freely the medicines prescribed by medical inspectors ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It is difficult to give an undertaking of this kind, because it is a matter which concerns my hon. Colleague the Minister for Public Health, and I have to consult him before I can give any such undertaking."

Transfer of the staff of the Government College at Coimbatore.

* 583 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) how many members of the staff belonging to the College and High School departments of the Government College at Coimbatore and to the Training School attached to it have been transferred during the last one year; and

(b) what is the amount of travelling allowance spent on these transfers?

A.—(a) Six officers were transferred, the transfers having been necessitated by the return to duty of officers who had either gone on leave or had been deputed for training.

(b) The Government have no information.

Opening of Panchayat schools near aided schools.

* 584 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the attention of Government has been drawn to any cases of the opening of Panchayat schools in places where aided schools meet the educational needs of the locality;

(b) whether they are aware that the Registrar-General of Panchayats gives grants to such schools opened in competition with existing schools in spite of the refusal of the District Educational Council to recognize them; and

(c) whether Panchayats, Labour and Fisheries schools are subject to the control of the Director of Public Instruction and the District Educational Council, and if so, in what way?

[27th September 1929]

A.—(a) & (b) One case has been brought to the notice of Government in which a panchayat school was opened in a village in the Anantapur district which was already served by an aided school. The Panchayat school was opened on the recommendation of the District Educational Officer, as it was reported that the manager of the aided school was not conducting the school regularly and that the existence of the school was of no practical value.

(c) All the three classes of schools are under the control of the Director of Public Instruction only in so far as they are inspected by the inspecting officers of the Educational Department. They are under the control of the District Educational Councils in so far as they have to be recognized by those Councils, who can withdraw recognition, if the conditions of recognition are not satisfied.

Meetings and Report of the Committee on Physical Education in Elementary Schools.

* 585 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) when the Committee on Physical Education in Elementary Schools was appointed;

(b) how many times the committee has met; and

(c) when the committee will submit its report to the Government?

A.—(a) In October 1928.

(b) & (c) The committee was able to start work only in March 1929 after the report of the Committee on Physical Education in Secondary Schools for boys became available. It has met once and further meetings will have to be held. The report is expected to be ready by the end of October.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know why the Committee met only once between March 1929 and the present time ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I believe the Committee wanted to know exactly what will be the attitude of the Government with regard to the report which has been issued by the Committee on Physical Education in secondary schools."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" Has not the Committee given their report, yet ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The Committee are now in a position to report, and as I said in the answer, their report is expected to be ready by the end of October."

Grants to libraries in the Presidency.

* 586 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the number, names and locations of the libraries in this Province;

(b) the total amount of money granted in each year to these libraries during the last 15 years;

[27th September 1929]

(c) the officer or officers that make the allotments to various libraries ;

(d) the principles on which these allotments are made ?

A.—(a) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to supplemental statistics (87) at page 126 of Volume II of the Report on Public Instruction for 1927-28 which contain particulars about libraries attached to educational institutions. Of the other libraries some may be public while others may be private libraries. The Government are not in possession of a complete list of such libraries, nor do they consider that the compilation of a list will be worth the labour involved.

(b) The system of paying grants to local bodies and private associations for the maintenance of public libraries was introduced in 1921. Village panchayats came to be paid grants for the same purpose with effect from 1925-26. The amounts disbursed till now are as shown below :—

	Local bodies and private associations.	Village panchayats.
	RS.	RS.
1921-22	20,000	---
1923-24	14,888	---
1925-26	10,000	8,000
1926-27	10,000	10,000
1927-28	10,000	20,000
1928-29	20,000	18,643

(c) Grants to local bodies and private associations are distributed by Government on the recommendation of the Director of Public Instruction and to village panchayats on the recommendation of Collectors of districts.

(d) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to G.Os.* No. 689, Education, dated 23rd April 1926 and No. 1533, Education, dated 22nd July 1929, placed on the table.

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ With reference to paragraph 2 of G.O. No. 1533, Education, dated 22nd July 1929, may I know, Sir, if the Registrar-General of Panchayats refused to undertake the responsibility of distributing these library grants ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ No, Sir. The Registrar-General did not refuse.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ May I know whether the Registrar-General was asked whether he would be able to undertake the distribution of these library grants, and his opinion taken about it ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ The Registrar-General did say, I think, that he would be willing to distribute these grants.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ If the Registrar-General is willing to undertake the distribution of these library grants and when the distribution of the grants by the Collectors gave rise to a good deal of dissatisfaction, may I know why the Government thought it fit to ask the Collectors again to undertake this distribution of library grants ? ”

[27th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ In the opinion of the Government it was thought that an officer of the Government in the locality concerned is better able to distribute the grants than a Presidency officer in the headquarters of the Government.”

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“ The Government say that they are not in possession of a complete list of these libraries. May I know on what basis the Government is giving grants to these bodies, without a complete list of them ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ Notice.”

Mr. C. GOPALA MENON :—“ In answer to clause (a) the Government says that they are not in possession of a full list of public and private libraries. Is the Government aware that the Madras Library Association which is doing very good work can supply this information and will they apply to them for the information ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I know the Libraries Association is doing useful work, but I cannot understand how they can help the Government in the matter of distributing the grants.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“ May I know whether in making grants to the public libraries the educational officers insist that only such books as are approved by them should be purchased with this money ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I believe that is the rule.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“ May I know whether the educational officer is supplied with all the latest catalogues and whether he knows what books are available in the market ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I am sure the educational officer knows his business.”

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“ May I know the rules or instructions that the Government must have laid down for the guidance of the officer to prescribe or enforce the kind of books that they have to get for the libraries ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ That is left to the discretion of the district educational officer concerned.”

Utilization of grants made to the Tanjore Palace Library.

* 587 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the various grants that were made to the Tanjore Palace library in each of the last twenty years ;

(b) under what heads of expenditure the amounts were spent during the last year ;

(c) whether there is any list of books in that library kept ; and

(d) whether any arrangement has been made to get valuable books in that library which are in manuscript form printed ?

[27th September 1929]

4.—(a) Particulars of the grants paid till now are furnished below :—

Object for which grant was given.	Year and amount of grant.	Rs.
Purchase of books	1926-27	250
	1927-28	300
	1928-29	300
Preparation of a catalogue of Sanskrit manuscripts in the library	1927-28	4,305
	1928-29	7,500
	1929-30	2,130
Distribution of copies of catalogues of Sanskrit manuscripts to institutions and scholars outside (postal charges) ...	1928-29	950

(b) The entire grant for the purchase of books was spent on that purpose. The details of the expenditure from the grant for the catalogue of manuscripts were :—

	Rs.
Salaries of staff	2,520
Printing charges	3,814

The Library Committee hoped to spend the balance of the grant in 1929-30.

(c) The library contains manuscripts and printed books in Tamil, Telugu, Sanskrit and Mahratti and printed books in European languages, Urdu and Malayalam. Catalogues of printed books in French, Latin, Italian and Greek and of the entire collection of Tamil manuscripts are available. Catalogues of Sanskrit and Mahratti manuscripts are under preparation, a few volumes thereof having been already issued.

(d) The Government have no information. They understand, however, that manuscripts that become fragile by age and climatic conditions are transcribed by the library staff from time to time.

Local Boards

Amendment of the Local Boards Act, etc.

* 588 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether his amending Bill to Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, and Village Panchayats Act, 1920, are ready ;

(b) why he has not introduced them into the Council till now and when they are likely to be introduced ; and

(c) in what stage his draft Bill to amend the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920, is at present ?

4.—The hon. Member is referred to the answer to Mr. Satyamurti's question on the subject, No. 65.

[27th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I would like to make a statement to you, Mr. President. You said yesterday that subsequent information if received should be given through your office but there has not been time enough to instruct the Secretariat to give full answers.”

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ The hon. Minister may give the information now.”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I wanted your permission to do so, Sir.”

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ Yes, the hon. Minister can make the statement now.”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ These two Bills are ready to be introduced into the Legislative Council now, and I have given notice that these Bills will be introduced when the Malabar Tenancy Bill is finished.”

Grants to local bodies for construction of roads.

* 589 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to place before the Council a statement showing—

(a) the amounts granted for public roads to the district and other local boards by Government, and spent by Government themselves on public roads in 1927-28 and 1928-29 in North and South Malabar, and South Kanara districts respectively ; and

(b) what the length of the Imperial or Military roads, trunk roads and the other roads respectively in North Malabar, South Malabar and South Kanara districts are ?

A.—The grants sanctioned to trunk and second class roads and the length of such roads and of roads maintained by the Public Works Department with expenditure incurred thereon are given in Appendix. ^a

There are no imperial or military roads. No grant is paid for the maintenance of roads other than trunk and second class.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—“ May I know with reference to the statement given in the Appendix, why, when in Malabar the mileage of roads maintained by the Public Works Department is 102, there are no such roads at all in South Kanara ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ It is not a question of helping one district as against the other. It is a question of what the Government consider as an important communication which should be maintained by the Public Works Department of the Government.”

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—“ May I enquire whether it has not been brought to the notice of the Minister that there is no such road in South Kanara ? He must have seen himself that there is at least one road which deserves to be taken over by Government ? ”

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ It is a fit subject for a resolution.”

^a Printed as Appendix III on page 403 infra.

[27th September 1929]

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—“ May I know, Sir, why the maintenance of the roads by the Public Works Department is costing four times more than the cost of maintenance by the local bodies out of the grants made to them ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I am afraid I have not sufficient information to answer this question.”

Municipal Councils

Refund of taxes by the Cocanada Municipal Council to the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company.

* 590 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Municipal Council, Cocanada, made a reference to the Government about the notification No. 3672-2/F., dated 14th February 1929, appended to G.O. Press No. 1258, L. & M., dated 15th March 1929 ;

(b) whether in view of the hardship to several municipalities consequent on a technical defect in the previous notification and in view of the hardship caused by the present notification in not clearly specifying the sums collected prior to the notification, the Government would request the India Government to issue a further notification declaring that a refund of the sums collected prior to the notification referred to in clause (a) cannot be claimed by the Railway Company ;

(c) whether the Municipal Council requested the Government for a grant of the amount which the Council collected prior to the notification and which the Council would be forced to refund to the Railway company ; and

(d) whether the Government propose to make the grant ?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The Government of India have been addressed in the matter. Their orders are awaited.

(c) Yes.

(d) No such grant would be admissible.

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—“ May I know whether some municipalities applied for the further notification to the Government of India through this Government some years back, and yet the notification has not been made, and on that account they have become losers ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ Notice.”

Village Panchayats

Levy of a tax of two annas in the assessment by the Arayapu Village Panchayat of the Puttur taluk.

* 591 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to lay on the table the permission granted by the Government authorizing the levy of a tax of two annas in the assessment by the Arayapu Village Panchayat of the Puttur taluk of South Kanara and to state—

(a) whether persons residing outside the village panchayat area are also being compelled to pay the tax, and if so, on what authority ; and

[27th September 1929]

(b) whether certain villagers have protested against this levy to the Registrar-General of Panchayats by a petition, dated 27th March 1929, and what orders have been passed thereon by him or by Government ?

A.—The levy of the tax in question was authorized not by Government but by the Registrar-General of Panchayats who has delegated powers in the matter.

(a) Yes.

(b) Yes, to the Registrar-General of Panchayats who rejected the petition.

Government have however lately held that the levy of a land tax was not contemplated under the Village Panchayat Act. The question of ratifying or rescinding such taxes already sanctioned by the Registrar-General is at present under our consideration.

Excise

Location of a toddy shop near Dr. C. M. Pai's house.

* 592 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether, in spite of the answer to my question No. 118, dated 8th August 1929, regarding the location of a toddy shop near Dr. C. M. Pai's house at Nilesbwar, the toddy shop in question has been auctioned for another year with reference to the objected site ; and

(b) if so, why ?

A.—(a) & (b) A report has been called for.

Closure of arrack shops in Cocanada from 12 noon to 6 p.m. on all Fridays.

* 593 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the notification of the District Collector, East Godavari, of 7th July 1920, directing that the arrack shops in Cocanada should be closed from 12 noon to 6 p.m. on all Fridays was subsequently cancelled ;

(b) if so, when ;

(c) if the answer to clause (b) is in the negative, the reason why the shops are not being closed now on Fridays ; and

(d) whether the Government intend to issue a notification directing that all toddy and arrack shops in Cocanada be closed from 12 noon to 6 p.m. on every Friday and, if not, why not ?

A.—(a), (b), (c) & (d) The Government have called for a report.

Rentals of toddy and arrack shops.

* 594 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : With reference to the answer to Question No. 333, dated the 10th August 1929, stating that 469 toddy and 324 arrack shops were newly opened during the last five years as against 934 toddy and 689 arrack shops that were closed during the same period, will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state the annual rentals of the newly opened and closed toddy and arrack shops respectively in each of the years when they were in existence during the said period ?

A.—The Government have not got the information.

[27th September 1929]

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" Were the Government satisfied that the shops that were closed were important shops and that their abolition did result in an appreciable reduction of consumption of liquor, before they opened the new shops ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I have not got the information which the hon. Member indicates. "

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" Will the Government be pleased to obtain the information ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The information which the hon. Member wants is of such a vague nature that I do not think we can possibly get it. "

Alleged objections to the location of an arrack shop in Calicut.

* 595 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the question of sites selected for the arrack shops was considered at a meeting of the Excise Licensing Board, Calicut, on the 23rd February 1929;

(b) whether the site for the shop objected to by the Prohibition League, Malabar, was not approved by the Board by a majority after personal inspection; and

(c) what the proceedings of the Licensing Board are, and whether a copy of the same will be placed on the table of the House?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The Government have called for the information and the connected papers.

Medical

Registration of medical practitioners of indigenous systems.

* 596 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the question of the registration of medical practitioners of indigenous systems has been considered;

(b) if so, what are the conclusions at which the Government have arrived; and

(c) what action, if any, they propose to take thereon?

A.—(a) The question of registration of the L.I.Ms. of the Government School of Indian Medicine was considered.

(b) & (c) It has been decided that no separate Act of Registration for practitioners in Indian Medicine is necessary.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know, with reference to the answer to clause (a), what the decision was? It is stated here that the question of registration of the L.I.Ms. of the Government School of Indian Medicine was considered. I want to know the decision, if any decision was come to. "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" In the answer to clauses (b) and (c), it has been stated that it has been decided that no separate Act of Registration of Practitioners in Indian Medicine is necessary. "

[27th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know, Sir, whom the Government consulted before coming to this conclusion ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The Government consulted the Principal of the School of Indian Medicine and other people in the know of these matters. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether any non-official Indian medical opinion was taken on this matter ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I do not know if the hon. Member includes allopathic practitioners also in the term 'Indian medical opinion'. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the hon. Minister has taken the opinions of the practitioners of the Ayurvedic, Siddha and Unani systems of medicine ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Yes, Sir, we have consulted the Principal of the School of Indian Medicine, who knows all these systems. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know if the hon. the Minister has restricted himself to the Principal of the Indian School of Medicine only, or he has consulted eminent doctors in these branches of medicine ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Whether this Act is necessary or not those people are not the persons most competent to give an opinion. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the hon. Minister has considered the advisability of introducing a separate Act. ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I have already stated in the answer that it is not necessary. "

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it a fact that L.I.Ms. are a separate qualified medical body coming into existence now ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Yes. "

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it not desirable that the Government should have them under some control ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Yes, the Government have 11-30 a register of all of them in the school. a.m. "

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" The Government says that no separate Act of Registration for practitioners in Indian Medicine is necessary. Are they willing to have them registered under the present Medical Registration Act ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" If the Medical Council will recognize the system of Indian Medicine, they can be registered under that Act. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know if the men coming out of the Indian School of Medicine are entitled to the privileges to which the registered medical practitioners are entitled ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Unless they are registered, they will not be entitled. "

[27th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. Minister in view of his statement whether he will make arrangements for their registration?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"If the Medical Council is prepared to recognize the Indian system of medicine, they can be registered."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know if the hon. Minister is precluded from bringing in fresh legislation for them and registering them under a separate statute?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Not precluded, but there is no necessity."

Public Health

Reduction of the high mortality among Muslims in Madras.

* 597 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state what steps he has taken to reduce the very high rate of mortality among Muslims, particularly in the City of Madras?

A.—The death-rate for the Province and the Madras City is given below:—

1. Areas outside the Madras City.

	Death-rates per mille in 1921.	1922.	1923.	1924.	1925.	1926.	1927.	1928.
Hindus	20.4	21.0	22.2	24.7	24.5	25.6	24.4	26.4
Muhammadans	19.3	21.4	21.8	24.4	23.8	25.9	22.9	25.2
Christians	16.7	17.9	20.4	21.5	21.2	23.4	23.5	25.7

2. Madras City.

	1925-26.	1926-27.	1927-28.
Death-rate per mille for all communities.	46.9	44.6	41.7
Death-rate per mille for Muhammadans.	59.7	47.5	49.3

From the above it will appear that the Muhammadan death-rate is higher than that of other communities only in Madras City. No special action has been taken.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"The Government say in answer to the question that the death-rate among Muhammadans is higher than of other communities in Madras only. May I know whether Government will draw the attention of the Corporation of Madras to this matter and call upon them to take special steps to check this?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The Corporation of Madras are themselves aware of the high death-rate among Muhammadans, and I do not think Government need draw their attention specially to this."

[27th September 1929]

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know if the Government itself has taken any action in this matter?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The Government think it unnecessary to take any special action, as the Corporation will do their duty."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know whether the Government are aware that the Corporation will do it better if the Government draw their special attention to this matter?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"We think the Corporation of Madras is intelligent enough and independent enough to act on their own initiative."

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"May I ask what steps the Government are taking in the case of areas outside the Madras City where there has been a high increase in the death-rate from the year 1921 to 1928, to the extent of nearly five or six per mille, to reduce the death-rate? I want to know whether the Government have any policy or taken any steps on hand to see that the death-rate is reduced?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"That is why they are carrying on anti-malarial operations in the districts, distributing quinine, and provincializing hospitals and doing other things."

Aid to Ayurvedic and other indigenous institutions.

* 598 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) how many applications for aid have been received from Ayurvedic, Unani and Siddha dispensaries run by private doctors;

(b) how many have been disposed of;

(c) what amount of help has been so far rendered; and

(d) whether the question of granting aid to institutions teaching indigenous systems of medicine is being considered by the Government?

A.—(a) Three applications have so far been received, of which two are from Ayurvedic doctors and one from a Siddha doctor.

(b) & (c) They are under the consideration of the Government.

(d) The Government have decided to consider in connexion with the budget for 1930-31 specific applications from private agencies for grants in respect of recognized schools of Indian medicine.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Sir, the question in clause (d) is, 'whether the question of granting aid to institutions teaching indigenous systems of medicine is being considered by Government', and the answer is, 'The Government have decided to consider in connexion with the budget for 1930-31 specific applications from private agencies for grants in respect of recognized schools of Indian medicine.' What recognition is required in regard to these institutions? Is it the recognition of the Medical Council?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Such recognition as the Government think necessary for their becoming eligible for Government grants."

[27th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know if Government have set up a machinery for recognizing them ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" When applications are received, Government will be able to know what machinery should be set up ? "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether pending receipt of applications Government is not prepared to set up an organization which will examine these institutions and grant recognition ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" When there is need for it, it will be done. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know if Government have advertised calling for applications from private agencies for grants ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" No. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" In which case, how can Government expect to receive applications ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Government need not advertise the fact that they are prepared to grant help to private institutions. The agencies who are in need of help will apply to Government. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know if the hon. Minister is aware of the fact that there are a large number of private institutions teaching Indian medicine in this Presidency ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Government are aware of it. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether he will enquire into the condition of these institutions and grant such help as may be necessary on recognition ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I think applications for grant will come of their own accord without any solicitation. "

Aid to poor lepers travelling to leper asylums for treatment.

* 599 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state in view of the answer to my supplementary question No. 1766 answered on 16th March 1929—

(a) whether any provision does exist to help poor lepers to travel to leper asylums for treatment ; and

(b) if they do not, what action he proposes to take in the matter ?

A.—(a) & (b) There is no provision at present for meeting from public funds the travelling expenses of poor lepers who wish to go to leper asylums for treatment. The question is however being considered by the Government.

Anti-malarial work in Puttur taluk.

* 600 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether anti-malarial work has been started in any of the villages belonging to Puttur taluk in South Kanara, and if not, what the delay is due to ;

[27th September 1929]

(b) whether the Special Malaria officer's recommendation for the appointment of an Assistant to the District Health Officer for the purpose of this work has been considered by the Government ;

(c) whether the Puttur Taluk Board President has submitted to the Government a draft scheme for anti-malarial work and appealed to the Government for a special contribution to carry out this scheme ; and

(d) what orders did the Government pass on his appeal ?

A.—(a), (c) & (d) Anti-malarial work in the villages of Puttur taluk has not yet been started. The delay was due to the fact that the President, Taluk Board, Puttur, had to place the Special Malaria Officer's report before the Taluk Board and consult the District Health Officer. He has now submitted to the Government a scheme of anti-malarial operations and the scheme is under the consideration of the Government.

(b) It is under the consideration of the Government.

Action taken on the report of the Special Malaria Officer in South Kanara district.

* 601 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state with reference to question No. 123, dated 8th August 1929—

(a) whether he has received any and if so, what reply or representation from the Puttur Taluk Board in regard to the action to be taken on the report of the Special Malaria Officer ;

(b) whether the District Board of South Kanara has been asked by Government to employ a second-class Health Officer for the purpose ;

(c) whether the Board has refused to do so ?

A.—(a) The President, Taluk Board, Puttur, has recently submitted to the Government a draft scheme of anti-malarial operation to be carried out in certain villages of the taluk and has also requested the Government to sanction a grant towards the cost of the scheme.

(b) & (c) No.

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" May I ask what is the amount of grant that has been asked for by the President of the Puttur Taluk Board ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Notice, Sir. "

Investigations of the Special Malaria Officer in Nandyal and Sirvel taluks.

* 602 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Special Malaria Officer has submitted his report on his investigations in the Nandyal and Sirvel taluks of the Kurnool district ;

(b) what his recommendations are ;

(c) whether the Government is making arrangements to extend free supply of quinine to other areas than Koilkuntla in the Kurnool district ; and

(d) whether the Government in the Public Health Department have come to any understanding with the Public Works Department to keep irrigation channels in malarial tracts free of stagnation, filth and overgrowth ?

[27th September 1929]

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The remedial measures recommended consist chiefly in improving the general sanitary condition of the villages and in the exercise by the local authorities of the powers vested in them under the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920. Quarrying for stone, earth, etc., should be promptly put down. Existing quarry holes and other pits in and around the village-sites should be filled up. The irrigation channels where they come too close a village should be properly maintained. All prickly-pear and rank vegetation should be removed. Village panchayats should be constituted at least in the larger villages such as Sirvel, Rudravaram, Alamuru and Allagadda for carrying out these recommendations. Local authorities should, for the present, provide small stocks of quinine wherever required under the advice of the District Health Officer.

(c) No.

(d) It has been decided that the Public Health Department is to carry out any necessary anti-malarial measures.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ With reference to the answer to clause (d), may I know from the hon. Minister what funds are being allotted to the Public Health Department for undertaking to keep the irrigation channels free from vegetation ? ”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—“ The answer to clause (d) does not say anything about the allotment of funds. The Public Works Department only carry out such works as are considered necessary for keeping the channels clear.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ Sir, the question is, ‘ whether the Government in the Public Health Department have come to any understanding with the Public Works Department to keep irrigation channels in malarial tracts free of stagnation, filth and overgrowth ’. I am asking specifically, in view of the arrangement that the Government has come to with the Public Works Department, whether money is allotted for clearing the irrigation channels of all vegetation ? ”

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—“ This question will be considered when funds are allotted in the next budget.”

Agriculture

Legislation for establishing regulated markets for special crops.

* 603 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : With reference to the answer to question No. 151 answered on 9th August 1929, will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state whether the Government have made any advance in their consideration of the resolution of the Provincial Cotton Committee, Madras, recommending the undertaking of special legislation for the establishment of properly regulated markets for the sale of special crops and the conclusion, if any, arrived at thereon by them ?

A.—The Government have now received the remarks of the Director of Agriculture on the draft Bill on the subject. The matter is under examination.

27th September 1929]

Suitability of black cotton tracts in Ceded districts for cultivating garden crops.

* 604 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state whether any analysis of the brackish water generally found in the black cotton tracts of the Ceded districts has been made with a view to find out how far, with its help garden crops like chillies can be grown as in Coimbatore district, and, if so, with what results ?

A.—The analyses of the water obtained from the trial boring at Hagari Experimental Station show it to be so highly charged with saline matter that it is unfit for irrigational purposes. It contains 1,256 parts of saline matter as against 50 to 500 only contained in the brackish waters of Coimbatore district for every 100,000 parts.

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—“ Will the hon. Minister order the analysis of water in the several bore holes recently put up in the district ? ”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—“ Yes.”

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—“ Will the hon. Minister direct the examination of the nature of water in the black cotton soils of the other Ceded districts also ? ”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—“ That is a different matter. This refers to the Bellary district among the Ceded districts.”

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—“ I am asking, Sir, for an examination with reference to the other Ceded districts.”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—“ Yes, Sir. The matter will be considered.”

Levy of pensionary contribution for the fish-curing yard at Bycompadi.

* 605 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the fishermen who requested the Government to open a fish-curing yard at Bycompadi in South Kanara have been asked to pay pensionary contribution also in addition to the actual cost of maintaining the establishment ;

(b) whether the establishment proposed for Bycompadi fish-curing yard is temporary ;

(c) whether it is not a fact that in the case of temporary establishment no pensionary contribution need be levied ;

(d) whether the practice of levying pensionary contribution where temporary establishment is maintained, is in vogue in the case of other fish-curing yards ?

A.—(a) Yes; the fishermen have been asked to pay such pensionary contribution as is due in addition to the cost of the establishment. Liability to pay contribution arises only if the temporary establishment employed subsequently qualify for a pension.

(b) Yes.

(c) No.

(d) The position is the same as at Bycompadi.

A BILL TO AMEND THE MADRAS ABKARI ACT, 1886.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ The question is that the Bill to amend the Madras Abkari Act, 1886, be passed into law.”^a

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—“ Sir, I have tabled an amendment to clause 2. But I think many hon. Members might have forgotten the history of this legislation. So I shall briefly state what the scope of this amending Bill is and what my amendment is intending to carry out. As amended by the Select Committee, this Bill provides:

‘ To section 15 of the Madras Abkari Act, 1886, the following explanation shall be added :—

“ Explanation—The supply of liquor by clubs to their members on payment of a price or of any fee or subscription is a sale within the meaning of this section.”

The object of this provision was to bring clubs selling liquors to their members on a par with the shops which sell liquor and subject them to the same rules and regulations which are placed on liquor shops, wholesale and retail.

“ The other amendment which was passed by the Select Committee is to section 36 of the Abkari Act, to which the following paragraph was added :—

‘ Provided that the persons called upon to attend and witness any search under the provisions of this Act shall be persons other than any abkari, police or village officer.’

The object of this provision was to make”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ I think the hon. Member will have to make references only to points which are relevant to his amendment.”

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—“ I am only explaining the previous history.”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ I do not think he will be justified in referring to it.”

^a Vide page 178 of the Proceedings of the Legislative Council, dated 7th August 1929.

[27th September 1929]

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—“ In order to enable the hon. Members of this House to understand”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ Every member is presumed to know as well as the Mover himself.” (Laughter)

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—“ The amendment which was passed at the sitting of the Legislative Council held on the 26th March 1929, which was proposed by the hon. the Minister for Public Health and duly seconded, runs as follows :

‘ To section 15 of the Madras Abkari Act, 1886, the following explanation shall be added, namely :—

“ Explanation—The supply of liquor by clubs to their members on payment of a price or of any fee or subscription is not a sale within the meaning of this section but a fee according to a scale of fees to be fixed by the Government shall be levied from such clubs by the Commissioner.”

Now, the amendment which I move is—

‘ Add the following at the end of the explanation to section 15 : on the basis of purchases of liquor made by the club to be ascertained from the returns to be kept by the club as prescribed by Government for such period as Government think fit and verified within the City of Madras by the Commissioner and outside by the Collector of the district in which the club is situated.’

“ My reason for proposing this addition is that as in Bombay the amendment of my hon. Friend the Minister for Public Health does not bring the sales of liquor in clubs within the restrictions of the Abkari Act. The clubs are still allowed to sell liquor. This permission I make subject to the condition that the fees to be levied should be on the quantity that is purchased by the club for sale, so that these clubs may not become some sort of liquor shops, by which they can go on selling liquor just as they like. At the same time, they should pay to Government a fee in proportion to their purchase and sale of liquor. This is the only object of my amendment. I hope it will be accepted by the House.”

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR.—“ I second it.”

* The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIAR :—“ The hon. Mover of this amendment wants to prescribe one method by which the Government can levy the fees from those clubs which are selling liquor. Certainly the Government will have no objection to accept this if the method proposed is sufficient to meet all cases. We may come across instances where the clubs do not keep accounts. Is it the intention that those clubs are to escape payment of the fees? There may be instances in which the Government may have to resort to other methods. We have to frame rules to cover all cases. Suppose the Government come to the conclusion that the accounts are not kept properly, does the hon. Member want the Government to proceed on such false accounts? Of course this is one of things that the Government will consider in framing rules, and various data have to be taken into consideration in fixing the rate of fee. So this amendment instead of carrying out the intention of the Mover will fail in its purpose and be the means of allowing many clubs to escape. Under these circumstances, I cannot accept the amendment.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—“ I fail to see the difficulty of the hon. the Minister in accepting this amendment. The amendment itself clearly shows that these clubs should keep accounts in prescribed forms, and also that instead of a flat rate the prescribed licensing fee should be calculated on the quantity of liquor sold. As regards the point raised by the Minister that they might come across cases of false accounts being kept, they might resort to the same procedure as in the case of income-tax assesses who keep false accounts. Here, the rate of licensing fee is not given; only the amendment suggests that the fee that will have to be levied, should depend on the quantity of liquor sold and nothing more. Under these circumstances, I think this amendment should be accepted by the House."

[Mr. P. C. Venkatapathi Raju] [27th September 1929]

The amendment was put and declared lost.

Mr. G. Harisavottama Rao demanded a poll and the House divided thus:—

V

A BILL TO AMEND THE MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT, 1920, THE MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT, 1920, AND THE MADRAS GENERAL CLAUSES ACT, 1891.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"What happened on the last occasion was this". Mr. R. Srinivasan moved an amendment to add the following clause after section 124, of the Madras Local Boards Act:—

'All such public and private springs, tanks, set apart for any of the aforesaid purposes shall be open to person or persons of whatever caste or creed.'

"And then, in schedule VIII to the said Act, after item relating to section 124, he wanted to have the following items inserted, viz.:—

'124-A. Obstructing any person or persons in using the water set apart for public use. Fifty rupees'.

"This motion was made and put to the House and negatived. Then Mr. Kaleswara Rao proposed another amendment, viz.:—

'6. (i) After section 124 of the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, the following section shall be inserted, viz.:—

"124-A. All public springs, tanks, wells and water courses vested in or maintained by any local board shall be open to use and enjoyment by persons of whatever caste or creed".

with the same amendment to the schedule regarding punishment. Now the question is whether both these amendments are substantially identical or not. All the difference I find between the two is that in Mr. Srinivasan's amendment the word 'private' appears whereas in Mr. Kaleswara Rao's it does not. Really what ought to have been done when Mr. Srinivasan's amendment was under consideration was that a motion ought to have been made for the omission of the word 'private'. Now both amendments seem to be substantially identical. Before I rule this amendment out of order, I want to know what Mr. Kaleswara Rao has to say on the point."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—"I submit that both the amendments are not substantially identical. Section 124 of the Madras Local Boards Act gives power to the president of a local board to set apart all tanks, wells and water courses whether they belong to the local board itself or to private persons for bathing or drinking purposes out of consideration for sanitation. When a president thinks that any particular well is being wrongly used, he may prohibit the owner of that well from using it for bathing purposes. If he fears that by bathing and thereby spoiling the water of a well or tank any contagious disease may spread among the people, he can prohibit such bathing. Section 124 in Chapter I deals with the powers of the presidents of the local boards to control the use of the wells and tanks for sanitation purposes. When a well has no fence, the local board president may compel the owner of it to fence it properly, so that there may be no danger of contamination of the water. When epidemic diseases spread or when he fears that there is a danger of such diseases spreading, he may at once restrict the use of tanks and wells under his control in a particular way. So also he can call upon any private person not to allow the use of a well for a particular purpose. So, I submit section 124 deals only with the powers of the presidents of local boards in regard to sanitation. Section 124-A, as I introduced it, has nothing to do with the sanitation purposes or powers of the local board president. What I want is a declaration that all public springs, wells and tanks belonging to the local boards, because either they vest in them or are maintained from the funds of the local boards, are to be thrown open to persons of all castes and creeds, and if anybody obstructs any Panchama from using any of them, then he should be punished. As to Mr. Srinivasan's amendment, I do not know what it would mean if it is passed. When a president restricts the use of a private well for certain purposes, then how can all persons go and use it? Therefore this amendment has nothing to do with it. Section 124-A has really nothing to do with section 124. Because section 124 comes in a chapter where wells, tanks and springs are mentioned, I have chosen to add a section to it as 124-A. That is what I meant."

12 noon. * The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The main question for consideration is whether the two motions are substantially identical or not. The question for decision in both the amendments is whether certain wells and other water places shall be thrown open to the use and enjoyment of persons of whatever caste or creed. Slight differences in the scope of the amendments do not matter. I consider that both the motions are substantially identical and therefore I rule that this amendment is out of order."

A BILL TO AMEND THE MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT, 1920.

27th September 1929]

Diwan Bahadur S. KUMARASWAMI REDDIYAR :—"I second it."

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"Sir, I beg to oppose this motion. It is really surprising that my hon. Friend from Chittoor should have moved this motion now after seeing that a good deal of discussion has already taken place on it. We thought that he withdrew his motion with the object of helping us to see that the Bill was passed in this sitting. I never suspected that he was going to bring in another motion like this. Sir, our difficulty is that the Chief Minister may not move his Bill at all, not to speak of referring it to a Select Committee. I do not think how this can be referred to a Committee which has not yet been appointed by this House."

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"Sir, I raise a question of order, whether you can allow reference of this Bill to a Committee which may not come into being at all." (A voice: 'Probably the best course would be to postpone this.')

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"There is some difficulty here. The hon. the Chief Minister has published his Bill and has undertaken to introduce it as soon as consideration of the Malabar Tenancy Bill is over. The question arises whether these two Bills should have two different and parallel Committees. It is a difficult matter to dispose of, and, therefore, in order to avoid that difficulty I myself suggested to the hon. the Chief Minister and the Leader of the Opposition the desirability of referring both the Bills to the same Committee. I think it will be for the convenience of the House if, as we did in the case of the Andhra University Bills and in the case of the Madras University Bills of the Chief Minister and Mr. Satyamurti, the same Committee is asked to deal with these two Bills and, if possible, send up a consolidated Bill."

* Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"I never said anything about that. I simply wanted to know, whether in view of what has happened, it is a wise procedure to adopt. No doubt we may agree to this course. But we have also to take into account the several accidents that might happen. There may not be time, and the House may be adjourned before the Minister moves his motion for referring his Bill to a Select Committee. Even the motion for reference might be lost. Therefore I doubt whether it would be in order to refer this to a Committee which is not in existence yet."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The difficulty is that the Minister's Bill will be referred to a Select Committee and there may not be another non-official day later on."

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—"The Government may give facilities for non-official Bills."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"While I feel that the position is perfectly sound so far as the convenience of the House is concerned, I feel that technically this may not be in keeping with the existing practice."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Does it offend any of the Standing Orders?"

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"There is no Standing Order empowering us to refer a Bill to a Committee that has not been formed or a Committee which is not a Select Committee."

[27th September 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I want some light to be thrown on the point whether when there is no impediment by way of rule or statute or Standing Order, the House has not got the inherent power to refer two Bills to the same Committee ? "

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—" Which Committee ? "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The Committee to be constituted. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" My difficulty was this : if for some reason or other the hon. Minister does not move his Bill, this Bill will have no place. "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is going into the merits of the motion. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I suggest that this Bill be referred to the whole House going into Committee ? "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I do not know whether the Government have made up their mind. "

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR :—" To obviate the difficulty of committing this Bill to a non-existing Committee, may I suggest to you to ask the Chief Minister to introduce his Bill now and refer both these Bills to the same Committee ? "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" But to-day is a non-official day. "

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR :—" You have inherent powers to get it done. "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" This may perhaps be taken up as the first item on the 30th. "

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR :—" I move that this matter may be postponed for consideration till Monday the 30th September 1929. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I second it. "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that the consideration of this Bill be postponed till Monday the 30th. "

The motion was put and carried.

* The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Mr. President, I am opposing a reference to the Select Committee because Mr. Basheer Ahmed's Bill raises some important principles which cannot be agreed to. One of them is the appointment of the Commissioner of Corporation of Madras. The opinion of the Government—and I believe some of the hon. Members opposite agree to this—is that the chief executive officers for all local boards and municipalities should be appointed by an outside authority. According to one of the amendments that was introduced, this principle was given up in the case of Local Boards and District Municipalities Acts, because such a contingency does not exist in the case of mufassal municipalities and also in the case of district boards. But in the case of the Madras City Municipal Corporation, I feel it is very important that the appointment of the Commissioner, who is the chief executive officer, should vest in the hands of the Government, an outside authority, especially in view of the fact that large grants of moneys are being made to that body. For water-supply, Government are making grants and will continue to make such grants. There is also the question of Mambalam extension. It is a very vital subject and large sums of moneys are being granted to that scheme. (A Voice : 'What if?')

"When such is the case, it would be impossible to allow this principle to be accepted. On this ground, I would appeal to the House not to allow this Bill to go to the Select Committee."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I was surprised at the argument of the hon. the Chief Minister when he was talking of principle. I always understood that the Select Committee is intended to work out details, and when a Bill is introduced the principles of the Bill are generally granted. It was a surprise to me that the hon. the Chief Minister should dignify a particular provision in the Bill into a principle. He believes that if a Member desires to make the appointment of the Commissioner of the Corporation subject to the popular control it is a departure from the accepted principle with regard to democracy. This appears very strange. I may agree with my hon. Friend for the City of Madras or I may not agree. It is quite possible that the Select Committee will accept it or reject it. But that does not seem to be a sufficient reason for the Minister to come forward and say that this Bill should not be referred to the Select Committee. The hon. the Chief Minister also laid stress upon the huge grants that were being made by the Government to the Municipal Corporation. Municipal Corporations exist as autonomous units. They are expected to control themselves and to exhibit civic responsibility with which the Government may not have anything to do, and yet the Government grant very huge sums. Take for instance, the University of Madras. Government make large grants to the University and yet they do not say that they shall have control upon the executive officers of the University. I am really surprised at the attitude of the hon. the Chief Minister in opposing this motion. This motion is perfectly correct and he would have been right if he had allowed it to be carried and attempted to amend the Bill in the Select Committee in the manner desired by the Government. He has sufficient strength and with that strength he could amend the Bill, if he chose, in the Select Committee. If he could not do that, he could have achieved his object by opposing in the open Council itself. Instead of that, he has chosen a very wrong method by opposing this motion and the House should not allow itself to be prevailed upon."

[Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao] [27th September 1929]

* Mr. F. E. JAMES:—"I am at some difficulty in understanding what the hon. the Chief Minister's position is in this matter. I think he should have opposed this motion only on two grounds. The first is that there is no need for any amendment to the existing Act. If that is so, I can understand his position. But I understand that is not his position. The other ground is that the Act needs amendment, but that it is a very important matter, that the proposals of the hon. Member for the City of Madras are not satisfactory to the Government, that it should be undertaken by the Government themselves, and that they propose to take early steps to have the Act amended. If he had advanced the latter argument I should have supported him. But if he cannot adduce any other argument than that which has been advanced by him already, I am afraid it will be very difficult for us to vote one way or the other. I should like to ask him this specific question before giving my vote upon this motion."

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU:—"I think the Government took objection to this Bill because they think that large grants are being given to the Municipal Corporation and that they should therefore see that those grants are properly utilized. If Government want to safeguard their position, so far as the utilization of these grants is concerned, there are many other ways of doing that. There are ways in which they could see that the Corporation utilizes the funds granted to them properly. If certain executive officers of the Corporation or other body misuse the grants given to those bodies, there are ways and means by which Government could see that those officers utilize the money given to them properly. These are all considerations which ought to prevail in the Select Committee. I think, if we understand the hon. the Chief Minister correctly, he has not committed himself to any particular method and as such he would have every possibility of exploring all the avenues in which he could see that his wishes are carried out. In these circumstances, I hope he will withdraw his objection."

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI:—"I am sorry I was not present in the House when the hon. the Chief Minister made his speech in reply to the motion made by my hon. Friend, Mr. Basheer Ahmed. I feel that in the small speech that he has delivered in opposing this motion he has expressed all sorts of antiquated and obsolete ideas about this question. The hon. the Chief Minister seems to have opposed this motion on the ground that one of the proposals made in the Bill is that the appointment of the Commissioner, the chief executive officer of the Corporation, should be vested in the Corporation itself. I do not think that the hon. the Chief Minister has completely forgotten that a similar reform has already been introduced in respect of the Calcutta Corporation. As my hon. Friend Mr. James has pertinently pointed out, there might be justification for opposing this motion if there had been no necessity for an amendment to the Act. On the other hand the Corporation of Madras has been asked time after time to suggest modifications and improvements for the existing Act in order to suit the present-day requirements. Further, I believe that in some statement made by the hon. the Chief Minister some time ago on the floor of the House he agreed to bring in an amending Bill to the City Municipal Act. The next reason that might be adduced as a justification for the Government is that the proposals made by the hon. Member who has introduced this Bill are not satisfactory to the Government. A perusal of this Bill will convince the House that the hon. Member has embodied all the modifications suggested either by the Government or by the Commissioner of the Corporation of Madras, i.e., the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation appointed by the Government. In the face of his proposals, on the two grounds mentioned above, the Government cannot possibly oppose this motion.

"I am sorry that we cannot agree to postpone this Bill on the promise and the prospect of the hon. the Chief Minister bringing forward an amending Bill; such promises have never been kept. Having the elections somewhere in April or May, it is not possible for the Government to bring in an amending Bill in this session. I would therefore implore the Government to allow this motion to be passed so that the Government may bring forward suitable amendments to satisfy themselves and the Opposition."

* The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Mr. President, Sir, hon. 12-30
Members opposing the hon. the Chief Minister said that he did not say that p.m.
there was no need for amending the Act. My hon. Friend, Mr. James, said that, if the Government have an idea of introducing a Bill to amend the City Municipal Act, there would be good justification for not allowing the Bill of my hon. Friend Mr. Basheer Ahmed to go ahead. The idea of amending the City Municipal Act has been under the consideration of the Government, and the idea of the Government is to form a committee of all ex-Presidents, the present President, the Commissioner of the Corporation and other people in the City who are acquainted with the administrative affairs of the Corporation for the purpose of drafting a comprehensive amending Bill. Since the idea is there and since the Government propose to bring in an amending Bill, I think that, if this Bill is sent to the Select Committee, it will interfere with the proper amendment of the Bill. All the principles which have been laid down in the present Bill will be considered in connexion with the Bill proposed to be drafted by the Government. My hon. Friend, Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetti, said that the Government have not kept up their promise. May I submit to you, Mr. President, that the hon. Member did not give us one instance in which the Government made a promise and did not keep it? So, if the Government say that they have an idea of introducing a Bill, they will get the Bill ready and introduce it. They are anxious to make the Bill as comprehensive as possible and as acceptable to all sections of the House; therefore they may sometimes have to go on revising the Bill a number of times. The Government have that under contemplation and I request hon. Members not to support this motion to refer the Bill to a Select Committee."

[27th September 1929]

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—“ Sir, I am really surprised at the attitude the hon. the Chief Minister has taken with regard to this motion. Either it must be accepted by the non-official Members of this House that it is only the Government that can have the privilege of moving amending Bills to various Acts, or it is open also to the non-official Members to bring forward amending Bills to various Acts, or the non-official Members should accept that position and become part and parcel of the Government. Those are the only two positions which are open to the non-official Members. Sir, I was glad that the hon. Member from Chittoor took up the very right attitude and said that a non-official Member has introduced a Bill on a very important matter which is long overdue and that he saw no reason why the Government should say that it should be postponed. He also said that if some of the amendments are not acceptable to the Government, they have time enough either in the Select Committee stage or after the Select Committee have submitted their report to reject the amendments that are not acceptable to them and to include those acceptable to them. Why should the Government stand first of all in the way of referring the Bill to the Select Committee? It is very necessary that the Bill should be referred to the Select Committee. This is not the first instance of the Government putting obstacles in the way of non-official Bills. There is the case of Mr. Kaleswara Rao's Bill. What is the fate with which that Bill met? Even after it has been reported by the Select Committee, that Bill has not been proceeded with. I ask non-official Members of the Council whether this is the courtesy which the Government should show to the Bills brought forward by them.

“ With regard to this Bill I may say that every gentleman who knows what is happening in the Corporation of Madras will certainly sympathize with the amendments that have been proposed and which are long overdue. In the year 1924, a committee was appointed which went into not only the needs felt by the non-official Members of the Corporation but they also incorporated the amendments which the Government have been from time to time suggesting to the City Municipal Act; they incorporated also the amendments which the Commissioner of the Corporation suggested. This is a very comprehensive Bill. I fail to see the reason why the hon. the Chief Minister wants that the chief executive officer of the Corporation should be appointed by the Government. We have been moving in the direction of a democratic system of Government. If he is going to allow the premier Corporation of Madras, a non-official body, to remain in a very antediluvian state of affairs, I must revise my opinion with regard to his idea of democracy. He must know that the Calcutta Corporation has been working for the last three or four years with an executive officer appointed by that Corporation. I am sure that the money that the Government of Calcutta have given to the Calcutta Corporation has not been misused; and certainly it is open to the Government, as has been pointed out by my hon. Friend, Mr. Muniswami Nayudu, to control the use of money in many ways. To say that the chief executive officer is there to safeguard the interests of the Government and public finance, is to cast a slur on the interest and dignity of the public men who are serving on the Corporation; it is an insult to the members of the Corporation; certainly they represent the people and they have the sense of responsibility which the chief executive officer does not have. My hon. Friend, the Home Member, was a member and the President of the Corporation, and I am sure that he realizes, more than anybody else, that the Act should be amended. When a non-official Member brings forward a very comprehensive Bill for amending an Act which requires to be modified, I see no reason why the Government should stand in the way. I appeal to my European friends to support the motion before the House. My hon. Friend, Mr. James, took up the right attitude and I hope that the promise, which the Government make, of introducing a Bill on a future occasion will not make him withdraw from the position he has taken. I have no doubt that my hon. Friend, Mr. Muniswami Nayudu, will stick to his position.”

27th September 1929] [Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan]

* Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO :—“ Sir, I do not question the right of non-official Members of this House to bring forward any Bills they like. It is one of the fundamental principles of the Reformed Councils that encouragement should be given to the members of the House to bring forward any legislative measures. But on the present occasion the hon. Mover of the Bill is a member of the Corporation of the City of Madras, and as such I wish to know whether the provisions of the Bill introduced were discussed by the Corporation and received the consideration of the Corporation, and whether its considered opinion has been obtained, or whether the draft Bill was circulated to the members of Corporation for eliciting opinion.

“ The second difficulty which I feel is this; I remember that the Corporation has, from time to time, gone into this question of amending the City Municipal Act and they appointed a committee or committees to look into the defects and difficulties of the Act and to submit a report to the Corporation. I do not know whether the hon. Member has been able to obtain a report or their recommendations and incorporate them in this Bill. I understand, Sir, that the committee that was appointed by the Corporation to investigate the matter has not submitted any report whatever on this matter. Therefore it seems to me that the Corporation itself is not in a hurry to amend the Act nor does it want that a radical change should take place immediately.

“ The third difficulty which I feel in the matter is this; even though this matter might not have been discussed by the Corporation, if the Bill as framed by my hon. Friend, Mr. Basheer Ahmed, had been circulated among the Members of the Corporation, he would be in a better position to state their opinion on this Bill. It seems to me that he should not rush through matters nor precipitate any such legislation in view of the fact that the Government are considering the matter and would bring forward a more comprehensive Bill.”

* Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR :—“ Sir, it is amusing to hear the speech of my hon. Friend, Sir Patro, which is a supplementary speech of the hon. the Chief Minister, because we find the Chief Minister not listening to the speeches made by the Members of the Opposition but going round and coaching up Sir Patro. The reasons set forth by my hon. Friend, Sir Patro, are far from convincing. He says that the members of the Corporation were not approached in all humility by my hon. Friend, Mr. Basheer Ahmed. The hon. Member must know that this Bill was published in the Fort St. George Gazette and the members of the Corporation who are public men ought to have studied it and come to their conclusions. If they did not do so, it is their look-out; it is a default and my hon. Friend, Sir Patro, need not plead for it on the floor of this House.

[Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar] [27th September 1929]

"The objection raised by the hon. Dr. Subbarayan has been met and more than met by hon. Members who have preceded me. His ground that he made so much of about the appointment of the chief executive officer is not valid at all. It has been very well pointed out that the chief executive officer of the Corporation of Calcutta has been appointed by the Corporation itself, and more money than that given to the Madras Corporation has been spent by them through the agency of the chief executive officer. No word of suspicion or reproach has been heard or uttered that he has not been spending the money in a proper, legitimate, and economical way. I do not see any reason why the chief executive officer to be appointed by the Corporation of Madras should fall far short of his duty and of the high standard that is expected of any officer appointed by the Government. There is no particular efficacy in the appointment. It depends more on the integrity of the gentleman who is appointed as the chief executive officer. Such a selection can be made by a corporate body consisting of 50 gentlemen most of whom are elected by the tax-payers whose money is spent. That part of the argument of the hon. the Chief Minister does not hold water. All that has been said by my hon. Friend, Sir Patro, is to postpone this Bill on the promise of Bills that are to be introduced, which are never introduced and which always recede to the background. That is the only argument that has been put before us. Since the comprehensive Bill of my hon. Friend from South Arcot has been published, the Government must have perused the provisions of the Bill and they should either accept them or they should say what they think about the various provisions. If any of the provisions of the Bill are not acceptable to the Government, it is up to them to move the necessary amendments in the Select Committee stage and in the Council when the Bill is taken up for consideration, to meet the points and to carry the day on the strength of their votes. Instead of doing that, to throw obstacles in the way of the Bill proceeding through and adopt these tactics of breaking the Bill in this particular manner is unfair to the hon. Members of the House who have taken so much care and trouble to frame the Bills.

p.m.

"Sir, this is one of those examples in which a non-official Bill is sought to be relegated to a position of recedence, and preference is given to official Bills; and the most deplorable part of it all is that none of these Bills are reached. If the official Bills are at least standing now in competition with the non-official Bills, a plea for giving precedence to the official Bills can be made with some degree of justice and fairness. But it seems as though they say: 'Let this go back and stand awhile till some Bills which are going to be born are brought into existence' and then only to be told that this non-official Bill is not as comprehensive as the official Bill; and therefore they will play second fiddle to the official Bill. That kind of attitude, Mr. President, is one that ought to be deprecated, and I appeal strongly to all sections of the House not to encourage that attitude on the part of the Government and to put it down with a strong hand."

* Mr. R. J. C. ROBERTSON:—"Mr. President, I should like to know whether the Government are prepared to introduce a Bill of their own to amend the Madras City Municipal Act, at the next session or at the earliest possible moment. It will be convenient if we have this information before we come to a decision on this question. If the Government are likely to introduce such a Bill at the next session, then I think we can well await it and this Bill need not be referred to a Select Committee now. I should however like to know what action the Government propose to take regarding this matter. If it is not their intention to bring forward a Bill of their own, then we would be prepared to vote in favour of the private Bill now under discussion being referred to a Select Committee."

27th September 1929] [Mr. R. J. C. Robertson]

* Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"Mr. President, Sir, there was nothing surprising in the attitude of the hon. the Minister in opposing my Bill being referred to a Select Committee. He has been systematically from the very beginning to this day opposing all attempts at non-official legislation, and his opposition to-day is quite in keeping with his policy. I only wish to place before my hon. Colleagues of this House a few points which I think have not been noticed by them in the Statement of Objects and Reasons which were published along with the Bill.

"Mr. President, the existing Act was passed in 1919 and that Act since 1919 has not undergone any change on a comprehensive scale. There were certain sections of the Act which were amended from time to time by the Government, because the Government felt some difficulty in administering those sections. When there was insistent demand by the Corporation and also by the public of Madras for a more easily workable Bill, the Government in the Government Order of 1923 directed Mr. Boag, the then Commissioner of the Madras Corporation, to examine the working of the Act and to prepare a set of amendments and also to draft a Bill on the desired lines. Mr. Boag, the Commissioner, went into the whole working of the Act. He was there as Commissioner for three years, and it took him a great amount of labour and time to find out what exactly was needed and how exactly the amendments should be framed. He prepared a comprehensive set of amendments and placed them before the Council of the Corporation. The Corporation was further directed by the Government to consider those amendments and to incorporate them in a Bill. The Corporation appointed a committee presided over by no less a person than that eminent lawyer, Dr. Swaminathan, and that committee considered almost all the important sections of the Act and made more or less a report and these amendments were before the Corporation. In pursuance of the proceedings of that committee, the then President of the Corporation, now a Member for the City of Madras, drafted a Bill. He introduced that Bill in 1925, and afterwards it was not traceable as to what had been the fate of that Bill which was introduced and published. Then, again, Mr. President, there were hundreds of resolutions passed by the Corporation pointing out the sections which required very urgent amendment. And whenever Government were approached by means of resolutions and communications both from the President and the Commissioner of the Corporation, they have repeatedly replied that the Corporation would prepare a Bill and have it introduced in the Council. That shows that they had no objection to it. It is in pursuance of that that my Bill was prepared after much trouble, labour and consultation. Mr. President, in this Bill I have incorporated not only the amendments of Mr. Boag who prepared them at the instance of the Government, but also those amendments which were recommended by the committee presided over by Dr. Swaminathan. In some respects, it also incorporates the amendments prepared by Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetti, the member for the City of

[Mr. Basheer Ahmed Sayeed] [27th September 1929]

Madras and introduced in this Council—thereby indicating that this Council had no objection to the principles of the Bill which was introduced by him.

“Mr. President, the reasons that were adduced by the hon. the Minister do not at all seem to be convincing in any the least manner. As my hon. Friends have pointed out, in 1923 the Calcutta Corporation Act was amended, and since then the Chief Executive Officer of the Calcutta Corporation is administering the affairs of the Corporation. After all, Sir, the Corporation of Madras is dealing only with about Rs. 60 lakhs every year, while the Corporation of Calcutta which is dealing with crores of rupees is having its affairs administered by a Chief Executive Officer who is appointed by itself on a lower salary than at Madras. In these days, when gentlemen like our Ministers are administering a whole Presidency, administering the affairs of Government, I do not see anything incongruous or incompatible in the premier Corporation, the oldest Corporation in Madras selecting its own Executive Officer for administering its affairs within a limited area of 26 or 30 square miles.

“Mr. President, there are very important principles contained in this Bill which I seek to refer to the select committee. The most important one is that the various difficulties encountered in the working of the Bill, especially those that have been experienced by the Corporation President and its Commissioner in carrying on the administration, should be removed urgently; and they have been provided for in the Bill. The only grounds on which the hon. the Minister can object to this Bill are certain changes which are necessitated by political exigencies and by advance of opinion on civic and political matters. The only objection that has been raised by the hon. the Minister is to the appointment of the Commissioner by the Corporation itself. It is surely easy for the Minister with his majority in this House and also with his representatives on the select committee to see that that provision is modified in the manner which may suit him. It is quite open to him to do that; but on that ground to oppose a Bill which was published as early as January 1929 and introduced much earlier, in October or November last and which came up for consideration before this House on several occasions but was not reached for want of time for non-official work—to come forward now and say that he opposes this Bill on the most flimsy ground that it provides for the appointment by the Corporation of its Commissioner, is nothing short, I should say, of obstinacy, an obstinacy of a kind which should not be encouraged in this House; and I believe the House will not encourage it. I especially appeal to my hon. Friends the Muslim members some of whom I trust might have read my Bill. I appeal to them especially because in the Bill I have sought to reserve seven seats for the Muslim community in the Corporation and the election of president by rotation from each community. That principle may or may not be accepted, Sir, but the Minister himself has in his two Bills—the Bills which are yet to be introduced—sought to reserve for minorities a certain number of seats in all local bodies and municipalities. On that same principle, Sir, I have provided in my Bill a certain number of seats for the Mussalmans, and I do not think the Minister can have any objection to that provision. So also, with regard to the depressed classes, I have provided for a certain proportion by means of reservation in the Council of the Corporation. I know it is very difficult for the depressed classes people to be returned and I have therefore provided in my Bill a very sane and feasible method of ensuring their representation in a certain proportion in the Corporation while abolishing the principle of nomination at the same time.

27th September 1929] [Mr. Basheer Ahmed Sayeed]

“Mr. President, the Minister has come forward and said that he proposed to call for a conference. Sir, we have known enough of these conferences and of the results of such conferences. Some conferences were convened for the purpose of drafting Bills to amend the Local Boards Act and the District Municipalities Act and it took months together for the conference to come to any decision, and I think it came to no decision at all. When the conference once came to some decisions, the decisions had to be incorporated in the form of a Bill, and after the lapse of some months, it was done and the Bill is yet to be introduced. I appeal to my hon. friends to take some interest in the City affairs and not to clog a Bill of this kind which aims at nothing but making things easy for the administration of the Corporation, especially in view of the repeated requests of the executive officers of the Corporation itself. I may also mention that this Bill was circulated to the present councillors and officers of the Corporation who are aware of it; and in fact they once or twice asked me at what stage the Bill was pending here, and whether it could not be expedited; and I told them that it depended upon the Minister. Now, Sir, contrary to my expectations, the Minister is opposing. I therefore appeal to my hon. colleagues to support the motion and see that the Bill becomes law as early as possible.”

* The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“Mr. President, I want to say only a few words on this question. In respect of what Mr. Basheer Ahmed has said that the Bill has been circulated, the Government are still waiting for the opinion of the Corporation. The Corporation has so far come to no decision on this question, and the Government has as yet received no reply to their letter with regard to the amendments contained in this Bill—which only shows that in spite of what all Mr. Basheer Ahmed has said on the floor of this House, all the members of the City Corporation are not agreed as to the method adopted by my friend Mr. Basheer Ahmed in the matter of the amendments to the Madras City Municipal Act. Secondly, Sir, I should like to reply to the question asked by Mr. Robertson as to whether the Government would bring in their Bill at the next session. I am sorry I cannot give an undertaking that a Bill will be introduced in the next session. Of course Government will see that this matter is expedited as far as possible, because though as yet we have not received the views of the Corporation itself we have decided to appoint a small committee consisting of the present President of the Corporation, two ex-presidents, the present Commissioner and Mr. Rutherford, the Inspector of Municipal Councils—an officer who has great experience of a number of municipalities who may be expected to give useful advice on the working of the Act. On the advice of this small committee I thought it would be only fit that we should undertake a revision of the existing Act. But, as I said before, I cannot give any undertaking that the Bill will be introduced at the next session; but the Government will certainly try to see that the Bill is introduced in the Council as early as possible.”

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“The question is that the Bill of Mr. Basheer Ahmed Sayeed to further amend the Madras City Municipal Act, 1919, be referred to a select committee.”

[27th September 1929]

The motion was put to the House and declared carried. A poll was demanded by the hon. Dr. P. Subbarayan and the House divided thus:—

DEPUTATION OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY, LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL, TO STUDY FIRST-HAND PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE AND PRACTICE

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU:—"Mr. President, Sir, I move that

'This Council is of opinion that the Assistant Secretary, Legislative Council, be given facilities to study first-hand Parliamentary procedure and practice.'

[27th September 1929] [Mr. B. Muniswami Nayudu]

"In moving this resolution I want to make it clear to the House that while expressing the high appreciation of the work of the Secretary to the Council, and without any disparagement to his work or otherwise, I single out the Assistant Secretary for the treatment which I request the Government to accord. Sir, I should like to have the Secretary as long as the Government can spare him for the purpose of this Council. But, so far as the Assistant Secretary is concerned, he has been appointed as Assistant Secretary directly and it is necessary that he must have the best training possible and also become acquainted with the procedure and practice in the Mother of Parliaments and other Parliaments. It is in this spirit that I recommend to Government this resolution so that they may take steps to see that they send him as early as possible to England in order to enable him to study parliamentary procedure at first-hand. Sir, the next Parliament meets some time in November and it will be really a good thing if Government can see their way to send him as early as possible, so that he might be there when the Parliament meets and have opportunities of studying the practice and procedure obtaining there. This is a matter on which I should think the Council will be deeply interested to see that officers who have to serve this House in the office of Secretary or Assistant Secretary should be persons who are well-equipped and who by their knowledge and experience be able to guide the deliberations and be of help to the Members of this Council as much as possible. I do not bring forward this motion in a spirit of merely helping the Assistant Secretary, but I move this in a spirit to see that this Council gets the best out of its officers and in order to enable the present Assistant Secretary to get help from the Government in this matter.

"Moreover, I understand that there have been similar precedents already and, Sir, your predecessor, the late lamented Diwan Bahadur L. D. Swamikannu Pillai, was sent at the cost of the Government to study parliamentary practice and procedure. I understand also that the Punjab Government sent the Assistant Secretary of their Council similarly to study parliamentary practice and procedure. We also find that in other departments of Government officers entertained are sent to other countries to study the systems relating to the particular departments in which they are employed, so that they may become better equipped to serve Government. It is on these considerations I make this motion and I hope that Government will be pleased to see their way to accept this resolution."

The KUMARARAJA OF VENKATAGIRI:—"Mr. President, it is with very great pleasure that I second the motion which has been so ably moved by my Friend, Mr. Muniswami Nayudu. Sir, I have been chiefly influenced by one consideration and that is that the services of an officer who possesses first-hand knowledge of parliamentary procedure and practice should be made available to the President of this Council. As has been pointed out by my hon. Friend, Mr. Muniswami Nayudu, there have been precedents and we are only following those precedents. Parliamentary institutions, as every member of this House knows, depend mostly for their successful running, upon the guidance and wise control by the President, and an officer who is well-equipped and who possesses first-hand information and first-hand knowledge of parliamentary practice and procedure will be of very great help to the President. Therefore I expect the House will support this motion unanimously and I also expect the Government to accept the recommendation of this House."

[27th September 1929]

* Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—" I rise to a point of order, Mr. President, with your kind permission. This resolution is not in the form in which it ought to be. Rule 24-A deals specifically with motions of this character and a part of that rule says 'No discussion of a matter of general public interest shall take place otherwise than on a resolution moved in accordance with the rules governing the moving of resolutions except with the consent of the President and of the Member of the Government to whose department the motion relates.' Resolutions, as a rule, under the rules and Standing Orders, are to be of a recommendatory character, containing specific recommendations to Government to take particular action on a matter reflecting the opinion of the House."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Is it your contention that this is a resolution? This is not a resolution."

* Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—" All that I would submit is that as far as possible, it should conform to the form of a resolution, though doubtless a certain amount of discretion seems to inhere in the President and the Member of the Government to give their consent . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" A resolution can be moved under rule 23 (1) and it must be in the form of a recommendation to the Local Government. That was the only kind of motion that could be entertained by the Council before rule 24-A came into existence. Under section 72-D of the Government of India Act, a motion relating to a matter of general public interest can be moved in the Council subject to the restrictions that may be imposed by the rules. Rule 24-A for the first time enabled motions on matters of general public interest not being resolutions to be moved in the Council. But they can be moved only with the Consent of the President and with the consent of the Member in charge. In this case, the consent of the President has been given and the consent of the Member in charge has been also given and it is nowhere laid down that a motion under rule 24-A should be in the form of a recommendation to the Government. Rule 23 (1) merely says that all resolutions must be in the form of a specific recommendation to the Government but it is nowhere provided that motions under rule 24-A should also be in the form of a recommendation to Government."

Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—" I bow to your ruling, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" No, it is not a ruling. I am only explaining the position."

* Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—" I only dealt with the form. Let me raise another point of order. This motion is delightfully vague and indefinite, because it simply says that the Assistant Secretary to the Legislative Council be given facilities to study first-hand parliamentary procedure and practice. Is it to be in Great Britain, Australia or Canada or where? What are the facilities? The facilities are not stated. Is it to be free passage? And the Mover of the motion also has not told us exactly what are the facilities. In the absence of further particulars, it seems to me that this resolution is not admissible in its present form. Doubtless you have got the power to ask the hon. Mover to give fuller particulars and to get the motion amended in a suitable form, so that the House may be in a position to know exactly where it stands."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" You mean that the expression 'be given facilities' is not definite?"

[27th September 1929]

* Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—" Yes. And which is the Parliament in which he has to study? Is it the Australian Parliament, or the German or Italian Parliament and in which part of the world? In Australia, they have got a Parliament. In Canada they have got a Parliament."

* Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU :—" I wanted to leave it to Government to decide where he should be trained and where he should be sent. But, so far as my speech is concerned, I have made it plain that he should be sent to the Mother of Parliaments in England. So far as first-hand parliamentary procedure and practice is concerned, he can get it only in the Mother of Parliaments. I have made that clear in my speech already, but he can also be sent to other Dominion Parliaments as well. I should like to leave it to the Government to decide where they will send him."

Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—" How can Government be asked to give us the information now?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The only question is whether it is definite or not. As far as I see, it is definite."

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR :—" Mr. President, Sir, whatever the language of this motion may be, it is really a recommendation to the Government and it cannot be said to be a motion of general public interest and so, I think, it ought not to come under rule 24-A. That is my submission." 3-15 p.m.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I am not able to agree with Mr. Muthuranga Mudaliyar when he says that sending the Assistant Secretary to the Legislative Council for Parliamentary training is not a matter of public interest."

* Mr. F. E. JAMES :—" Mr. President, I rise to support the motion and in doing so I wish to say two things. In the first place, I take it that the motion means that . . ."

Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR :—" Mr. President, what is to become of my amendment that has been circulated? I have not moved it."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT (after a pause) :—" Mr. James will continue his speech."

* Mr. F. E. JAMES :—" Am I to speak on the motion or on the point of order? (Several voices: On the motion.) In supporting this motion I wish to say two things. In the first place, I take it that the motion means that we are asking the Assistant Secretary to equip himself with methods of parliamentary procedure so that he may be able creditably to discharge the functions that may fall on him. I take it also that the training he is to receive will equip him for his task if sooner or later he is called upon to discharge the duties, possibly, of Secretary of the Council. It is therefore advisable that he should be given every facility for study. In the first place, it is likely that the importance of this Council will increase in years to come, and, in the second place if he gets himself qualified for the Legislative Department, possibly he may have to fill the post which is now occupied by the present able Secretary. I should like here to pay a very warm tribute to the present Secretary for the efficiency, courtesy, and the amazing ability with which he has filled, for the last five and a half years, his post. He has set up a very high tradition. He has served this Council in a way that has aroused my admiration, and I have seen the work of other Secretaries in other places. The task of Secretary to this Council is a very onerous one and he has discharged it with great efficiency and ability. And I think all sides of the House will join with me in paying him this tribute. (Hear, hear, from all sides of the House.) He deserves well of this Council, which he serves, and of the Government which employs him. This Council, I am sure, is ready to recognize his services, and I am also perfectly sure that the Government will be ready to recognize his services when the proper time comes. Therefore it is doubly important that the one who is possibly to take his place should be thoroughly efficient. And, in the second place, what I want to say, by way of suggestion, is that those who plan the kind of facilities that should be given to him should see that he is given an opportunity to visit not only the Mother of Parliaments but also other parliamentary institutions. No doubt he may pick up much knowledge by way of procedure from the House of Commons, but I hope it will be recognized that it will not be unprofitable to become acquainted with procedure in other Parliaments where conditions are different. Hence I hope it will be made possible for the Assistant Secretary to visit not only the Home Parliament but also the new Parliaments of the Free State and Ulster in Ireland. I hope also he may visit one of the Dominion Parliaments also where federal system obtains, and thus gain first-hand knowledge of the relationship between the Central and Provincial legislatures, more especially in view of the fact that some form of federalism will be playing an important part in the future Government of this country. I hope he will come back to us with a wealth of knowledge and experience which will make him a more efficient and useful man to us. I have therefore much pleasure in supporting this motion."

* Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR:—"Mr. President, Sir, I wish first of all to assure this House that there is no personal element underlying my amendment. My amendment is based solely on the best interests of the Council, and I therefore beg to move the alternative proviso. I do not move the first proviso. I move that at the end of the motion the following words be added:—

'Provided that he gives a written undertaking in proper form that he will serve the Council for a continuous period of ten years after resumption of office of Assistant Secretary after training.'

"Sir, I have heard with attention all the speeches made in favour of the motion, and especially the emphatic assertions of my hon. Colleague, the Member for Planters, of the necessity for training not only in the Mother of Parliaments but also in other Parliaments. He prefaced his speech, by way of argument, by paying a tribute, in order to ensure success for the motion before the House, by heaping encomiums on the present Secretary for the excellent work he is doing. I heartily endorse all he said and I warmly associate myself with the tribute he paid to the present Secretary. For those very reasons I feel that my amendment is perfectly in order. Because it will be tacitly recognized that the motion which is being resolved upon, if it is carried, will involve considerable expenditure, and therefore in order to ensure to the Council the services of the Assistant Secretary this proviso is necessary. Otherwise it will be a mere waste of labour, time and money. Perhaps it may be said by somebody that they are not bound to accept it. But it is hard to believe that it had not the imprimatur of the Government before it was on the table of this House. For one could see that it has the tacit consent of the various sections of the House and it now comes before the House as a formal thing so that its consent may be obtained in a formal manner.

27th September 1929] [Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar]

"In fact the indefinite tours to the various Parliaments and the attendance there so that he may learn well will involve much expenditure, and this at the expense of the Government and of the tax-payers' money. These things necessarily make it all the more essential why there should be this proviso. I hope the amendment will be accepted by the House."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"I beg to second the amendment."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—"Mr. President, Sir, I beg to support the amendment of my Friend, Mr. Govindaraja Mudaliyar, for the reasons stated in the very charming speech of Mr. James. I echo every sentiment he expressed both as regards the present Secretary and the Assistant Secretary. I endorse also the reasons he assigned why the Assistant Secretary should be sent to study the present parliamentary institutions first of all in the Mother of Parliaments and then in the other Parliaments. For he will thus acquire a sort of comparative knowledge of those institutions, and when he returns back to us he will give us the benefit of his accumulated experience so that the traditions of this House may be compared most favourably with the best traditions of any of the Parliaments that exist. That is an idea which must command the assent of every Member of this House who has really the interest of the growth of good traditions here. As far as the ten years' limit is concerned, no personal considerations, I hope either from this side of the House or from the opposite side, will be allowed to say in deciding this question. It will be admitted on all hands that the knowledge he acquires after deep study cannot be imparted to us in a few months or years, and therefore to ensure to this House the benefits of his study this proviso is moved. Whether it is ten years or a little less or a little more I don't mind. As the Mover of the amendment put it, the Assistant Secretary is a very young man and he has practically started life only a few months ago, and therefore as far as this House is concerned, I do not think he will consider the period long.

"But that is a matter of detail. As far as the recommendation of this House is concerned, the period may be put at ten years, and from the place 3-30 of the Assistant Secretary he may take the place of the Secretary and so on p.m. and so forth. Under these circumstances, Sir, I hope that we shall not trespass on personal grounds, because so far as the present motion is concerned what has to be discussed here is the policy of this House in sending either the Assistant Secretary or some other gentleman to study parliamentary institutions and practice for the benefit of this House. Let it be the present Assistant Secretary or anybody else, but what I would urge is that we should not descend into personalities but discuss only the policy of sending someone hereafter to study parliamentary procedure. That being the case, I heartily second the amendment."

* Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD:—"I am sorry, Sir, I have to oppose this amendment. The present Assistant Secretary is a young man and he can become the Secretary in course of time and there is no necessity to demand from him any such undertaking. It may be said that when the Government is spending some money on this deputation they must take some kind of undertaking from him. Even then, ten years is too long. If it is five years I should have perhaps considered it. (A voice :—'Public money?') Yes, it is public money, and therefore it is that I say that he will surely serve for five years in this Council either as Assistant Secretary or Secretary when the present Secretary goes on promotion, as he is bound to go as district officer very soon."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Will the hon. Member kindly address the Chair?"

* Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—" After what has been said by Mr. James, I need not repeat those arguments, but would simply say that the Assistant Secretary after serving for some time in that post will serve as Secretary. With the development of democratic institutions and the future reforms we will soon have, I would say that the scope and the powers of this Council are bound to increase, and the President cannot be expected to attend to all minor details and so he will require an assistant who has got an up-to-date knowledge of Parliamentary practice. So it is quite necessary that he should be sent to Europe to learn the system there. An objection was raised that there is no definiteness in the resolution, that it is not stated where he is to be sent and what exactly the facilities are that are to be afforded. But I say we can leave these details to the Government. With these words, I support the motion and oppose the amendment."

* Mr. S. N. DORAI RAJA :—" In rising to oppose this amendment I have got to say only a few words. It is rather a misfortune that this amendment is not only unnecessary but is conceived in bad taste. It is usual in this country, so far as this Government is concerned, to send students to foreign countries with the stipulation that they should serve for so many years after passing the examination. The only saving grace in this amendment is that the Assistant Secretary is not forced to refund the money in case he does not serve for this period. To ask a man of culture, of education and sense of honour to bind himself for ten years as if he is going to run away, by means of this amendment, is to say the least insulting. He is a gentleman and it is not decent to say, that because he takes advantage of the Government's offer in order to equip himself for future conditions, he is to give an undertaking like this. For those reasons I strongly oppose this amendment."

" I am perfectly in agreement with the motion. Every one cannot be a Krishna Ayyar. He is one in a million. To take his place when time comes it is necessary that the Assistant Secretary should be sent to England to study Parliamentary conditions. One cannot learn procedure from books. I strongly support the motion."

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" Mr. President, Sir, I strongly repudiate the suggestion made by my hon. Friend on the opposite side that there is any bad taste in the amendment moved by my hon. Friend from Madras. I do feel, Sir, that there is nothing wrong in it, though I am not prepared to support it. I feel that my Friend is actuated by a motive to keep the Assistant Secretary in office either as Assistant Secretary or Secretary long enough for the service of this House. But he has forgotten the other aspects of the question altogether. We are sending every day big officials with leave salaries and study leave for equipment. And when it concerns the question of a junior like the Assistant Secretary, we are ready to pounce upon him and ask him to execute a bond for ten long years that he should serve only in these capacities and should not be ambitious to have more. I hope, Sir, the conditions in India have not so improved as to allow such conditions being imposed upon Indians. The time has not yet come for us to require of our men such long terms and contracts as to their determination to stick to a post even if they get higher chances in the meanwhile. I am therefore not prepared to support the amendment moved by my hon. Friend from Madras. There appears to be some misapprehension in this matter. He prefaced his remarks by saying that this motion had been brought forward with a determination to carry it and that therefore he was moving this amendment so that it might be carried in a proper manner. That is a grave misapprehension. Every day we want experienced men to do our work. It is true that we have had a very fortunate accident in the present Secretary. The representative for the Planters spoke the whole truth and nothing but the truth when he eulogized the services of the present Secretary. I have known him from the very earliest times, in fact, from the time when he was a student. He is a distinguished man, a first-rate man, and he has been a first-rate man from the very beginning. To my knowledge he was first in all the examinations, first in the Presidency, from the Lower Secondary Examination up to the M.L. degree. Therefore, such an exceptional capacity you cannot get in everybody. A man like the late Mr. Swamikannu Pillai required in his own way to go and learn elsewhere the practice and procedure of Parliament. And that a junior like the present Assistant Secretary should require it, is nothing strange. And it is but fair that we should make provision for a young man like that to rise in life, and that we should give all opportunities to a young man like that and help him. To stand in his way even to the least extent does not appear to be beneficial to our country at this stage. I feel therefore that while I do not agree with my Friends on the opposite side when they say that this amendment has been brought forward in a spirit of bad taste or wrong decorum, I do not for one moment endorse it. There have been contracts and contracts even limited to shorter periods. I know contracts have been made for three years or five years. I believe the rule in all the departments where contracts are made with officers is about five years in the Government here. So, while I do not endorse all that has been said about the amendment, I feel bound to oppose it because I believe it will work a great hardship if such an undertaking is insisted upon. I hope the House will give all facilities to our Assistant Secretary to proceed to learn and equip himself and to progress in life in as quick a manner as it is possible for him to progress under Indian conditions."

* Mr. C. E. Woon :—" Mr. President, Sir, we support the principle of this amendment but not the amendment as it stands. It provides that there should be an undertaking given for a period of ten years. I do not agree with that view, because if this undertaking for a period of ten years is to be exacted from the Assistant Secretary, the Government on the other hand will have to be prepared to guarantee him the ten years' service here and I take it the Government would not give such a definite undertaking. I understand from my hon. Friend Mr. James that in Bengal the same idea has been carried out. The Assistant Secretary of the Bengal Council was sent on deputation, and on return entered into an agreement to serve as Assistant Secretary for a period of, I believe, five years. But it seems to be quite unnecessary at present to take an agreement that he would serve in this Council for ten years when he returns. I am sure a lawyer can devise a scheme by which we shall certainly retain the services of the Assistant Secretary after he qualifies himself without fixing any definite period, and I am quite sure the Assistant Secretary himself will be glad to agree to any reasonable proposal which may be made to him before he departs. And I would suggest that in place of the words 'ten years' in Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar's amendment, some words may be put in to the effect that he should undertake to serve the Council for a definite period."

[Mr. C. E. Wood]

Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR:—"I am prepared to delete the word 'ten' and substitute 'a definite number of years'."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Has the Mover Mr. Muniswami Nayudu agreed?"

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI:—"Probably it may be convenient to fix any definite period after hearing the Member of Government in regard to this matter. We can then fix the number of years he is to serve here after return from the foreign country."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"First let Mr. Saldanha finish his speech, and then negotiations can be started."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"Sir, I quite agree with the spirit of the amendment. The period of years may be left to the Government to be fixed. But I would deprecate the suggestion that the Assistant Secretary should acquaint himself with some of the antiquated practices of the mother of Parliaments. It has got some obsolete old practices which are only of traditional or historical value but are absurd in a place like this. The hon. the President expects me to address the Chair, while I ought to address the audience. I ought to address the audience and not the Chair. In such a case we have to turn our backs to the audience and address the Chair. The Parliamentary practice on the Continent is quite different. There they address the audience as well as the Chair. But here it is quite different. To ask us that we should address the Chair may all be very good in the High Court or any other Court of judicature as there we have to address the Judge. But why should we address the Chair here? (Laughter.)

"Therefore, that is one of the little things that he may study."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member will go on to his favourite subject of rostrum." (Laughter.)

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"I think that by his going not only to the Parliament in London but also to other Parliaments in the Continent he will be able to gain a first-hand knowledge of the system of rostrum (laughter) and other things obtaining there. Of course, we should have some fresh knowledge of Parliamentary practice and procedure, but not copy everything that is taking place in the Houses of Parliament, especially all those old, obsolete practices which may very well be done away with here. With these words, I support the amendment provided the period mentioned there is left to the Government to be fixed."

* Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR:—"Mr. President, Sir, the principle embodied in this resolution is accepted by all. All of us feel the need for giving every opportunity for training to the Assistant Secretary, every facility for him to study Parliamentary procedure and practice. I think one reason, one main reason for the step to be taken on this resolution is that we want to have an able Assistant to our Secretary who, of course, instinctively and intelligently grasps everything concerning methods of procedure in this House, and that his assistant should have the requisite knowledge of Parliamentary procedure by first-hand study at the very fountain head, the Mother of Parliaments. Everybody may not have the same quick grasping power, and for one who is expected to take the responsible task of assisting our Secretary, especially now that we are on the eve of great constitutional developments, we should certainly think of giving him every facility for such study. You remember, Sir, that at the time of your distinguished predecessor, the first President of this Council, a proposal was made and unanimously carried out to send the then Secretary to England to study Parliamentary procedure. After he returned, you remember a meeting was held in this very Council Chamber, with the late Sir Rajagopala Acharyar in the Chair, and in the lecture he then delivered, the Secretary said that on the whole our procedure conformed to Parliamentary procedure in England and that in certain respects it was desirable to make improvements. It was after that that in this House the practice was introduced of allowing starred questions and supplementary questions to be put.

"As I said, Sir, we are on the eve of important constitutional changes. These were exquisitely referred to by Mr. James. With them, important changes are bound to come with regard to the form and composition of this House, with regard to the proportion of the elected element to the official element, and with regard to the responsibility of the Executive to the Council and to the electorate and again, Sir, as was hinted by Mr. James, with regard to the relationship that should exist between the Provincial Legislature and the Central Legislature. Other developments cannot now be foreshadowed but might be on the lines obtaining in the Dominion Parliaments. All these changes together with the forms of procedure which might be necessitated by them will have to be very carefully studied. As Mr. Schamnad remarked, the Assistant Secretary is a young gentleman, and naturally it is expected that he will continue very long to be connected with this Council, and when our present Secretary is given a higher position, which he should very deservedly get, and to which his talents and abilities entitle him, he should be in a position to step into his shoes and carry on the work satisfactorily, especially under the trying conditions which will come into existence in consequence of the constitutional changes to which I referred.

"Then, Sir, I remember that on that occasion, shortly after the new Reforms, when our first Secretary was sent to England no such undertaking as that required by the amendment was either required of him by this House or given by him. If my hon. Friend, Mr. Govindaraja Mudaliyar, is very anxious on this occasion to have such an undertaking, it is not done in any bad taste, or with bad grace, nor with any other motive than that the services of one who had been given every opportunity to acquire useful and much-needed knowledge of parliamentary practices should be retained as long as possible in the Council. It is with that intention that my hon. Friend has given notice of this amendment. There is no personal element in it. But I ask, is it really necessary for us to have an explicit undertaking, even in the modified form suggested by Mr. Wood. I think it is not necessary for us to have any such undertaking. As my hon. Friend, Mr. Harisarvottama Rao, remarked, it is not necessary to have an amendment of this or any other character. For, as is expected, after these facilities are given to him, after he has undergone this training, he will return here and will naturally be expected to remain and earn his promotion in this office of the Legislative Council, and his services will, God willing, be retained here for a very long period. I do not say that my hon. Friend, the Mover of the amendment, had anything like distrust, or misapprehension, or any suspicion lurking in his mind, when he tabled this amendment. What I contend for is that considering all the circumstances, there is no necessity for such an amendment. I hope he will now withdraw it and that the House will accept the principle of this resolution unanimously, that the Assistant Secretary should be sent to England and be also given facilities for studying Parliamentary procedure and practice in the Dominion Parliaments and, if need be, on the Continent.

"There is one point urged by the speaker who preceded me with regard to the antiquated practices in the Mother of Parliaments. But, Englishmen, I know, have a kind of reverence for all hoary practices, and unfortunately, or fortunately, all Parliamentary governments even on the Continent have been modelled on the British Parliament, for the very simple reason that Englishmen were the first to develop this kind of Parliamentary government. All Parliaments that have come into existence on the Continent have got the essential features of the Mother of Parliaments, and have perhaps added a few peculiarities appropriate to their respective genius. My hon. Friend seems to be enamoured of the Continental Parliaments. In one respect, if I may say so, that is, with regard to the scope allowed for forensic display, we may not copy the French Parliament. In other respects, with regard to regularity and method of co-ordination of business, calm deliberation, orderly and systematic conduct of business, standing orders strictly and impartially enforced and preventing the conversion of the House into a bear garden, nothing is wanting in our Legislative Council. And this is because the Council is modelled on the Mother of Parliaments, and its practices on those obtaining in the Mother of Parliaments. So, as we have to deal with Parliamentary institutions in our land, which come from the Mother of Parliaments, it is very desirable that the Assistant Secretary should devote a great deal of his time to the study of the procedure in the Mother of Parliaments, especially for the reasons I have already assigned and that were also referred to by my hon. Friend, Mr. James, supplementing the knowledge thus gained by a study of the Dominion Parliaments. Therefore, while I appreciate and sympathise with the motive underlying the amendment of Mr. Govindaraja Mudaliyar, I think it would be better for him to withdraw it, so that the House may unanimously vote for this resolution and send our Assistant Secretary to England with the least possible delay."

* The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"By this motion, we are called upon to express our opinion that facilities should be afforded to our Assistant Secretary to study first-hand Parliamentary procedure. When this resolution is passed and the Government are called upon to provide facilities, they may consider the question whether an undertaking is necessary or not. I may say that last time when we sent the late Diwan Bahadur L. D. Swamikannu Pillai to England to study

27th September 1929] [Sir Muhammad Usman Sahib]

Parliamentary procedure no undertaking was asked for. I do not see any reason why we should do otherwise now. In the circumstances, I think it is better that we should express our opinion in the form in which it was moved by Mr. Muniswami Nayudu."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is: To add at the end of the motion the following words: 'Provided that he gives an undertaking in proper form that he will serve the Council for a continuous period of ten years after resumption of office of Assistant Secretary after training.'"

The amendment was put and negatived.

The resolution was then put and adopted.

RESOLUTIONS ON MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

CLOSURE OF LIQUOR SHOPS ON HOLIDAYS AND ON DAYS OF ELECTION.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The Council will now resume discussion on the resolution^a of Rao Sahib R. Srinivasan as amended by Mr. A. Ranganatha Mudaliyar, which runs as follows:—

'This Council recommends to the Government that all shops kept for sale of intoxicating alcoholic liquors and intoxicating drugs such as opium, ganja, etc., in the province be closed on Sundays, public holidays and days of election to the local boards, municipalities and the Legislative Council and the Assembly.'"

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"Mr. President, Sir, this resolution is in my opinion a test resolution. Not that I am satisfied with this resolution. I can never be satisfied until complete prohibition is achieved in this land. But this is a very modest proposal made by one of the Members whose community is very badly affected by the drink evil. Mr. Srinivasan in proposing this resolution has, I think, in mind the terrible waste that is being worked by even the present restrictions and rules not being properly observed. He wants to extend the rules a little further and see how the thing works. This resolution asks no more than this, that within this province all shops kept for the sale of intoxicating alcoholic liquors and intoxicating drugs such as opium, ganja, etc., be closed on Sundays, public holidays and he has not forgotten the most important days--and the days of election to the local boards, municipalities and the Legislative Council and the Assembly. It is notorious, Sir, that I cannot talk in the rich terms of Europe; if I could talk in those terms, I should have said that wine flowed through the streets. Here a poorer material flows through the streets on those particular days that my hon. Friend suggests. Therefore, it is quite necessary that the Local Government which in spite of its tardiness in undertaking the least little reform in the matter of drink, professes to be doing something for the propagation of ideas that will lead to prohibition, should accept this modest resolution."

"It is necessary that the hon. the Excise Minister should rise in his place 4 p.m. and say forthwith that he accepts this resolution and that he will work it with all his might. It will not be sufficient merely to accept this resolution. If he does not work it is no good. Already the arguments of Government have been very carefully managed with regard to the postponing of measures of prohibition. Here is a small item which does not speak of prohibition at all. It speaks of a further extension of the provision that the Government has made for restricting drink to the minimum possible. The Government claims to-day that they are taking all measures in temperance reform, taking all measures to prepare for prohibition. And measures in temperance reform include such measures as are proposed in this resolution, in addition to others that are adopted. Sunday is a very sacred day all over the country for certain sections of people, and days of festivals are mostly sacred days. Festive days are not included in this resolution unfortunately. But most of the public holidays are festive days. To-day, without a proper injunction in this matter, there has been great laxity in the procedure adopted, not only in the City, but in the districts also. We heard very recently from an answer by the hon. Excise Minister that the hours of drink had been extended in the City of Madras. I hope the Minister will not look at this question from the same angle of vision as he looked at in regard to the extension of hours in the City of Madras. He was obdurate, he would not yield, he would not say that he would not extend the hours beyond 8 p.m. I hope he would not be so obdurate in this case, he would not be so obsessed with the idea of excise income, while talking at the same time of taking measures for the prohibition, that he will decline the modest recommendation made in this resolution. It is time that the Excise Minister gave attention to matters like this and gave us at least some proof that he is prepared to do the minimum to improve matters. I do not further intend to take up the time of the House. I hope the Minister will accept this resolution."

[Mr. G. Hanisarovtama Rao] [27th September 1929]

* Mr. D. THOMAS:—"Mr. President, Sir, the Government, as this hon. House knows too well, is committed to a policy of propaganda, that is, by means of persuasion (an hon. Member: 'Everlasting persuasion') to decrease the consumption of liquor in this Presidency. For this purpose a certain sum of money has been budgeted, and certain institutions have been brought into existence for carrying out the purposes of Government. It appears to me that if any effective work is to be done by these various institutions that have been started under the aegis of Government for propaganda work, if these institutions are to be given a fair chance of doing really solid useful work in this direction, this resolution must be given effect to. The days on which the class of people addicted to drink resort to it are generally Sundays and other public holidays which are given on festive occasions. I take it that ordinarily it is on such days these people will be accessible to the persuasion of the propagandists of temperance. I also take it that the Government do not expect these propagandists to go to the toddy shops and preach while those persons are engaged in the very act of drinking.

(At this stage, the hon. the Deputy President took the Chair.)

"I expect that the propagandists would avail of such opportunities to do their propaganda work on Sundays and holidays. One of the best ways of doing propaganda is by starting counter activities in the way of providing innocent modes of recreation which will be a set off against the temptation to drink. In the circumstances, I would submit to the consideration of the House that if the work of propagandists and propaganda institutions are to be given a fair trial, those days should not be made available for people who are addicted to drink to indulge in intoxicating liquors. If the Government pass orders to the effect that on Sundays and public holidays drink shops shall be closed, then these propaganda officers will have a chance of running on those special days amusements, recreations and social activities which will gradually draw off these people from their vicious propensities, and implant in them ideas, desires and aspirations which will lead them to adopt better activities and better modes of life.

[27th September 1929]

"Another thing that I should like to mention for the consideration of the House is that the temptations to drink are considerably augmented when people gather together and congregate in any large numbers as they do on Sundays or other festive days, and I submit that on these special days that temptation comes in much more powerfully and in a much more seductive manner than on ordinary occasions. But the matter does not rest there. The disturbances, affrays and riotings that follow this drinking on such occasions are much more serious. What I have said with regard to public holidays and Sundays apply equally to election days, (Dr. B. S. Mallayya: 'Muharrum!') where the influences are still more harmful and temptations are still greater, as the agents are only interested in seeing their candidates win through without caring for the means employed, by offering seductive inducements and temptations to gain their votes. In view of these circumstances, I would submit to the attention of the House that this resolution is absolutely necessary and essential for giving a fair chance to the Central Propaganda Board and various other propaganda boards that are being started in the Presidency to carry on and consummate the work of temperance. I appeal to the hon. the Excise Minister to do all that lies in his power to give these facilities for the propaganda institutions, and I do not expect that Government while they give money and organize institutions for temperance work, will at the same time repress every fair chance that these institutions may have to really carry out the work."

* Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"Sir, it is highly desirable that these liquor shops should be closed on Sundays and other holidays. My hon. Friend who spoke before me said that propaganda work should be done on these days. I am also of opinion that intense propaganda work should be done on these holidays. But those for whom such propaganda work is done should be in a sober mood on such days to receive the preachings. There is no use of doing propaganda work when they are not sober. Imagine a Deepavali day and if it happens to be an election day, it is impossible to canvass votes. This was my personal experience. So, I request the Council to vote for this resolution. There is no use of doing propaganda work alone as no amount of propaganda work will be equal to closing all liquor shops on one day. I hope the Minister will show his sympathy in a tangible way by issuing orders that all the liquor shops should be closed at least on a single holiday. If the shops are closed on all holidays it will be much better. If he is not able to do this, at least he will issue orders for closing all shops on Sundays. Of course we in the city may not feel so much the necessity for closing liquor shops on election days. But those who tabled this resolution from the districts know where the shoe pinches. So, I request the hon. the Minister to accept the resolution and if not see that there is at least a day in a week in which all the liquor shops are closed."

4-15 P. M. * Mr. K. R. KARANT :—“I move that the question be now put.”

* The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—“Madam, Deputy President, I thought I might rise to speak on this resolution after hearing the speeches of hon. Members expressing in what all directions they wish action should be taken on this resolution. I hesitated to rise early not because I did not want to speak but because unfortunately in the case of resolutions the Government have the opportunity of speaking only once and so I thought I might listen to all the other speeches and hear what the hon. Members have to say, so that I may reply to them. Evidently other members are not anxious to speak. I am certainly willing to give the views of the Government on this resolution.

“The subject-matter of this resolution is not anything new. The principle underlying this resolution has been contemplated in the very Act itself and in the rules made by the Government. I would invite the attention of the House to the provisions of the Abkari Act where it is stated that it shall be lawful for the Magistrate of the district or in the towns for the Magistrate or the Commissioner by notice in writing to the licensee to require that any shop in which any liquor or other intoxicating drug is sold shall be closed at such time or at such period as he may think necessary for the preservation of public peace. So that, the idea of closing shops whenever in the interests of the peace, in the interests of the place or in the interests of the country it is required is there. The principle has been recognized in the very enactment of the Madras Abkari Act, 1883. (Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao : ‘In the interests of the people.’) If hon. Members on the other side think that the interests of peace is not in the interest of the people their interjection may be quite all right.

“Then, in the Act, power is given to the Government to frame rules under the Act and rules have been framed and one of the conditions of every licence is that with the previous sanction of the Commissioner the Collectors are authorized (i) to notify at the time of the auction that specified shops will be closed on the occasion of specified festivals and that specified shops which are in the neighbourhood of a market or shandy will be closed on market days generally or that they will be liable to closure on such occasions by orders issued during the currency of the lease, if it is found that the shops promote drunkenness. (Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao : ‘Every shop does it’) You cannot be in such a hurry as that; (ii) to order the closure of specified shops in the neighbourhood of factories, mills and other places where large numbers of operatives assemble from 11-30 a.m. to 1-30 p. m., on week days, on the afternoons of pay days and at all hours on Sundays except between 11-30 a. m. and 4 p. m. A special condition embodying these restrictions or liabilities will be inserted by the Collector in the licences granted to the renters of all such shops. This is one of the conditions which the Government are laying down in the conditions of sale. (Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar : ‘Never enforced’.) The hon. Member is entirely mistaken. Under this rule in Madras town, specified shops in the neighbourhood of mills have been ordered to be closed on ordinary working days from 11-30 a. m. to 1 p. m., on pay days from 11-30 a. m. to 1 p. m., and from 4 p. m. to 8 p. m. (to 9 p. m. in the case of arrack shops) and on Sundays and on mill holidays. So this principle of closing all arrack and toddy shops has been recognized by the Government and, as a matter of fact, it is being done on festive occasions in the mufassal. (Dr. B. S. Mallayya : ‘They close the front doors and open the back doors.’) (Laughter.) I am coming to that, and that is the evil of having rules which cannot be enforced. So under the rules which are now in operation the Government have recognized the principle and for the express purpose of putting down drunkenness they have adopted these measures and they are doing it.

“Now, what the resolution says is that instead of leaving it to the discretion of the Collector in each area to specify the days on which the shops in that district should be closed or the Commissioner of Police in Madras to decide on what days and on what hours the shops should be closed, a general rule saying that all shops in the province shall be closed on all holidays and on all Sundays should be issued. (Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar : Why not?) You will hear the why and the why not in a few minutes.

[Mr. S. Muthiah Mudaliyar] [27th September 1929]

"Madam, Deputy President, the hon. Mover of the resolution said that it was not his intention that this recommendation which he makes should apply to the toddy shops. His intention in moving the resolution, to quote his own words is this : (Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao : The resolution is there.) Yes, the resolution is there and what he said is also there. He said :

'Sir, I have carefully omitted toddy from the scope of my motion, because it is a drink which should be available to them in the place of alcohol. Toddy is not so injurious as alcohol. A man could live on toddy for days together. Even infants are, when no milk is available, fed on toddy. (Loud laughter.) (Dr. B. S. Mallayya : Where ?) Of course, I do not encourage toddy drinking ; but what I say is that something intoxicating should be available to the people and that something should be toddy as it is not injurious. There are people who take whisky and none other and there are people who take brandy and none other and there are people who take gin and gin only. They do not at all take other drinks. They may be coaxed to take milder drinks, such as beer, etc. Some people when they find that they cannot get their drinks on Sundays, stock their requirements for that day on the previous Saturday itself. But their number is very few. By saying that people may be allowed to take toddy, I do not mean to say that toddy shops should be open at all hours of the day and on all days. What I say is that we will have toddy shops open for the present and later, when we have succeeded in restricting the sale of alcoholic liquors, we can think of closing the toddy shops as well.'

"So, Madam, Deputy President, the intention of the mover of the resolution was that we shall not at present interfere with the toddy shops ; but only with liquor shops. (A Voice ; for the time being.) Yes, for the time being ; but unfortunately the wording of the resolution is such that toddy will come under the terms of it. (Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao : Why not ?) Under the definition in the Madras Abkari Act, liquor includes toddy. Liquor includes spirits, wine, toddy, beer and all liquid containing alcohol. Though the intention of the hon. Mover was that toddy is not to be included, in the wording of the resolution toddy is included. As his intention is that toddy should not be included I do not think he would recommend to this House what he did not intend. (Mr. C. S. Govindaraja Mudaliyar : No question of estoppel here.) The hon. Member, I know, is a lawyer. Here we are not concerned with estoppel. We are only concerned with the resolution before the House and we must know to what extent the mover wants to limit its scope. (Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao : Is the hon. Minister not a lawyer, Madam ?) (Mr. Daniel Thomas : Would the Government accept the resolution if we exclude toddy shops ?) The hon. Member from Tinnevely asks whether the Government are prepared to accept the resolution if the toddy shops are excluded. That is a matter on which I am bound to give an answer and the hon. Member will kindly listen to it. (Cries of : 'Wait.')

"The resolution is that shops should be closed on all holidays and Sundays. The idea of the mover is that Sunday is a holiday to all workpeople in all places. His idea is that these shops should be closed on holidays. But the question is whether Sunday is a holiday everywhere. It may be that in the City of Madras Sunday is a holiday for mill operatives. But to the workpeople and the agricultural people in the mufassal who resort to these liquor shops, Sunday is not a holiday. If Sunday is not a holiday to them what is the purpose in fixing upon that day as one of the days on which the shops should be closed. Evidently the intention of the hon. Mover is that on holidays when these people are free to resort to toddy shops and to indulge in drunkenness they should not have that opportunity. Very well, if that is the intention of the hon. Mover then the question reduces itself to this : that on Sundays in places where it is a holiday and on all other holidays these shops should be closed.

[27th September 1929] [Mr. S. Muthiah Mudaliyar]

"Then, one part of the resolution which I think has been also equally carelessly worded is this : 'This Council recommends to the Government that all shops kept for sale of intoxicating alcoholic liquors and intoxicating drugs such as opium, ganja, etc., in the province be closed on . . . and days of election to local boards, municipalities . . .'. I wish to know whether it is the intention of hon. Members of this House that all shops in the Presidency should be closed on a particular day an election takes place to a taluk board in a certain division or ward ? Hon. Members opposite Messrs. Srinivasa Ayyangar and Harisarvottama Rao say that the intention of the mover was that these shops within the area where an election takes place should be closed. I entirely agree that that is the object of the hon. Member and that is the extent to which the resolution ought to be limited. So, the resolution is to be read with these limitations that the shops ought to be closed all over the Presidency—toddy shops being excluded entirely from the purview of this resolution—on holidays, and on Sundays where Sunday is a holiday and in particular places where election is held on the days of such election.

"Now the question is what is actually being done and what this House wants to be done and what can possibly be done. As I have said already, Collectors have been given the discretion and that discretion might be exercised in cases and places where there are festivals. As regards Sundays as I have said already, in Madras it is being done and whether it is wise to issue a general rule like this or not is a matter which Government and this House have got to consider.

"In considering this question I may assure the hon. Members of this House that it is not a question of revenue that weighs with the Government. I may assure hon. Members that the revenues will not be in the least affected, whether the shops are kept open for six days or seven days in a week. Hon. Members are putting questions which they think are relevant to the issue and I think they are entitled to have an answer and they will have a more comprehensive answer if they had put their questions in the speeches and waited for the reply, instead of interjecting in this manner.

"We are not afraid of any legal action. But what I submit is that section 54 of the Abkari Act and the rules issued thereunder, are comprehensive enough to carry out the objects of the motion and there is no need to alter. We are not really afraid of any legal action against the Government and the Government can take care of themselves. The question is one more of expediency and if new rules are framed, the Government must be able to carry out those rules, or they should subject themselves to the ridicule not being able to carry out the rules framed by themselves. That is the only consideration. Let us for a moment turn to the number of shops and the number of officials that we have in the Excise Department and various other departments who can be deputed to see that these rules are regularly followed. They are very few in number. Do hon. Members want the Government to make those rules and keep them as a dead letter without being carried into effect. As I have said that if these rules are limited to arrack shops, it would be a more feasible proposition. If the intention of the hon. Mover is that these arrack shops should be closed on holidays as suggested in the resolution, that is a matter which is under consideration of the Government. From June this year the Government have taken steps and have issued instruction to the Collectors to exercise their discretion more liberally. Hon. Members have said that if the Government are really anxious that their propaganda should be effective they must carry out the objects mentioned in this resolution. Apart from the resolution which has been tabled, the Government have adopted and effectively adopted measures. All these matters are under the consideration of the Commissioner of Excise. He has, I understand, taken some steps to make the propaganda effective. As regards the Public Health Department as hon. Members are aware a number of questions were put on the floor of this House and in reply to those questions it was pointed out on behalf of the Government that the officers of this department were instructed in 1927 that they were at perfect liberty to preach temperance. That was the order issued in 1927 and questions were raised in this House as to why they should not be compelled to do this work, and preach not only temperance but preach also prohibition. That was a matter entitled to the serious consideration of the Government. In July of this year orders have been issued that every officer of the Public Health Department is bound to carry out propaganda against drink. If the Government wanted to give evasive answers, certainly they need have issued no such instructions to the Public Health Department. They have been told that one of their primary duties is to preach against drink. These officers have been instructed that they are not only to see the preservation of public health, but also prevent the evils flowing from drink. The Government certainly are not anxious to withhold doing anything which will conduce and really conduce to carry out the objects which hon. Members have in view. But certainly they hesitate before making any rules which they cannot enforce. Before they desire to make out these rules, they must be assured that they have sufficient staff and sufficient convenience to carry out those rules. If really hon. Members want that these restrictions should be carried out, I may inform them that Government have already taken the initiative and they have made a start and in course of time a great deal will be done."

396 CLOSURE OF LIQUOR SHOPS ON HOLIDAYS AND ON DAYS OF ELECTION.

[Mr. S. Mutiah Mudaliyar] [27th September 1929]

(Question : How many years ?)

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" It is certainly open to hon. Members to vote for five crores or six crores of rupees if they want that their intentions should be carried out immediately. If they vote for such large sums of money then we can have sufficient staff to carry out what all hon. Members want.

" I can assure hon. Members that these matters are engaging the serious consideration of the Government and they are interested in seeing that the wishes of this House are followed as much as possible. Let hon. Members say exactly what they want and the Government will consider them."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" If the objects underlying this resolution are carried out, it will really be disastrous to the Government. So far as the question of closing the shops on Sundays is concerned I may mention that many Christians in villages that go to church in the morning resort to liquor shops in the afternoon. It is on election days and other days that the temptation to drink is great. Temperance League and other bodies will find it convenient on other holidays to go and preach to people against evils of drinking. I think after all the Minister for Public Health's position is difficult, because he holds in one of his hands the Public Health port folio and the Excise Department in the other. If he holds both the departments under his control he cannot please both; because if he wanted to please one he must certainly displease the other. He cannot really refuse the advice given by the Excise Departmental Officer to foster the revenues of the province. Nor can he ask the Public Health Department to preach against drink because that would mean loss of revenue to the Excise Department. I expected that the hon. the Public Health Minister would accept the resolution to some extent. He might have asked some Member of his party to bring in amendment to the effect that the shops should be closed on certain holidays or only that certain kinds of intoxicating liquors would be available on certain days. It is well known that the poorer class of people are ruined by this bad kind of liquor. Considering public interests and also the interests of temperance leagues and other bodies I hope this resolution will be carried because temperance leagues will be able to carry on propaganda only on holidays. I think if Government do that these temperance leagues will be able to preach to the people to abstain from drinking at least on one day in a week. I think this resolution ought to be accepted."

[Mr. J. A. Saldanha.]

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—" I move that the question be now put."

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI :—" I am surprised at the attitude which the hon. the Minister for Excise as a lawyer took by indulging in legal quibbles. Though I did not expect that Government would accept this resolution I really did not bargain for a speech of this sort. It seems to me that by his speech he has underestimated the intelligence of this House. When he analysed the resolution of my hon. Friend he pointed out the flaws here and there and indulged in a most destructive form of criticism without adding an iota of constructive criticism. Instead of making that kind of criticism, if he had honestly told us that he could not accept the resolution it would have been far better. Although we were prepared for that situation, we certainly expected that he would show greater sympathy to this resolution. To say that there was legal trouble in carrying out this resolution, nor even was there the possibility of its being carried out because it was not possible to enforce this resolution in view of the requirements of a large staff seems to me to be taking a position which is hardly sustainable by any stretch of imagination. We are very much surprised that the hon. the Excise Minister, who was accustomed to sit in the Opposition benches and who must have had the mortification of hearing such kind of speeches from Government Members, should have repeated the same mistake and expressed the same bureaucratic point of view which we are accustomed to hear from the other Members of Government.

" The proposition has been spoken to and supported by Members representing all parties in the House. The least that could be done under the existing limitations the Government are suffering under, is, I think, prescribed in this resolution. The hon. the Minister himself admitted that the Government have now got the power to close these shops whenever they please and whenever there is likely to be a possibility of breach of peace. What this resolution wants is to issue a general circular to all persons concerned that, on these days, these shops should be kept closed. This is only a preliminary step towards the scheme of propaganda which the hon. the Chief Minister has initiated towards temperance. As my hon. friend, Mr. Thomas, put it, if this resolution is accepted, it will give an impetus to the institutions which the Government have started to preach to the drinking population and try to convert them to be temperate. I am afraid the hon. Minister has lost his humane sympathy for these poor, unfortunate people. May I ask and implore on behalf of the poor, unfortunate drunkards whose families are ruined, whose children are driven to privations of all sorts, the hon. Minister to be sympathetic towards them and close this temptation for a certain number of days? It is on holidays and festivals that these people indulge in more drinking. Can we not do at least this much of service to these unfortunate people by closing these shops on these days and allowing happiness to reign at least on such days in several families? The opening of liquor shops and arrack shops on election days has been the cause of many breaches of peace, for many attacks including murders. The hon. Minister ought to have been aware of all these things. To ask for the closure of these shops on these days is perhaps the least thing that one can do in the interest of peace. I do not, however, expect the hon. Minister to change his views for he is too much, may I say, in the hands of the office and that he cannot assert his own individual opinion."

SEVERAL HON. MEMBERS—I move that the question be put.

The question was put and carried.

The hon. the DEPUTY PRESIDENT :—" The question is—

' This Council recommends to the Government that all shops kept for sale of intoxicating alcoholic liquors and intoxicating drugs such as opium, ganja, etc., in the province be closed on Sundays, public holidays and days of election to the local boards, municipalities and the Legislative Council and the Assembly'.

The resolution was put and declared carried.

A poll was demanded and the House divided thus :—

APPENDIX I.

[Vide answer to question No. 574 asked by Mr. C. Ramasamayajulu at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 27th September 1929, page 338 supra.]

Copy of letter from the District Magistrate, East Godavari district, to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Public Works and Labour Department, D. Dis. No. 8809/28, dated the 22nd January 1929.

[Subject.—Boat traffic on the Godavari river—Kotipalli and Yanam—Report submitted.]

[Reference.—Government Memorandum No. 19248-D/28-2, dated 24th November 1928.]

The information called for in Government Memorandum above is noted below:—

Kotipalli Ferry.

(i) Extent of boat traffic.—The daily average of persons, cattle and goods crossing the ferry is roughly estimated at 600, 100 and 100 bags respectively. On festival occasions and shandy days it is much higher ranging from two to three times the usual average.

(ii) Number of accidents since 1st April 1927.—There was only one accident on 20th December 1927, due to the capsizing of a fisherman's boat carrying passengers which resulted in the death of a passenger.

Yanam Ferry.

(i) Extent of boat traffic.—There are three ferries near Yanam and the daily average of passengers crossing the three ferries is estimated at 1,500.

(ii) Number of accidents.—There were no accidents during the last four or five years.

APPENDIX II.

[Vide answer to question No. 586 asked by Mr. K. V. R. Swami at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 27th September 1929, page 345 supra.]

G.O. No. 689, Education, dated 23rd April 1926.

A provision of Rs. 10,000 has been made under '31. E. d. Education—General—Miscellaneous—Grants-in-aid—Miscellaneous—Non-recurring' in the Civil Budget Estimate for 1926-27 for grants to local bodies for the maintenance of public libraries. The following conditions will be observed in the distribution of the grants:—

(a) In the case of libraries under the direct control of local bodies—

(1) the maximum grant payable to a library should not exceed Rs. 400;

[27th September 1929]

(2) the local body should provide the building, furniture and the staff required for the library and contribute from its own funds or subscriptions a sum not less than the amount of the Government grant;

(3) the library should be open to the public and should be located in a place accessible to all communities;

(4) all books should be approved by the District Educational Officer before purchase;

(5) a register of members and a register of books should be maintained and these records should be available for inspection when inspecting officers visit the library which they may do at any time;

(6) a statement of the accounts audited in the office of the local body together with a certificate that the amounts have been spent on the purchase of books approved by the District Educational Officer should be furnished to the Director of Public Instruction every year in the month of May.

(b) In the case of libraries under private management—

the conditions specified under (a) above will apply and, in addition,

(i) such libraries should be registered under the Societies Registration Act, XXI of 1860; and

(ii) the audited statement of accounts together with the certificate that the amounts have been spent on books approved by the District Educational Officer should be furnished to the Director of Public Instruction through the local body concerned.

[NOTE.—Condition (i) need not be enforced for the year 1926-27 as there may not be sufficient time, before the submission of the applications, for getting the libraries registered.]

2. Local bodies having public libraries under their direct or indirect control are requested to submit applications to Government through the Director of Public Instruction, showing—

(1) a statement of the charges involved,

(2) the amount spent out of the grant, if any, distributed in G.O. No. 1863, Law (Education), dated 28th October 1925,

(3) the amount of the unspent balance of the above grant, if any, at their disposal,

(4) the amount they are prepared to spend from their own funds, and

(5) the amount of grant required from the Government.

Private associations having public libraries in their charge should submit their applications to the local bodies concerned who will scrutinize them and forward such as are deserving of support to the Government through the Director of Public Instruction with information similar to that required in the case of libraries under local bodies. The applications should reach the Director of Public Instruction before the 15th July next.

3. The Director will tabulate all the applications received and submit them to Government in a consolidated form with his recommendations.

[27th September 1929]

G.O. No. 1533, Education, dated 22nd July 1929.

A system of subsidizing village panchayats for the maintenance of public libraries was started in 1925-26. The distribution of the lump allotment provided for the purpose in the annual budgets had, prior to 1928-29, devolved on the Registrar-General of Panchayats. In G.O. No. 1269, Education, dated 8th June 1923, a change in the agency for the distribution of these grants was ordered, and Collectors of districts were made responsible for the distribution. Reports from Collectors as to the amounts required by them for distribution to the village panchayats in their districts continued to be received till the end of 1928 and it was not till the financial year 1928-29 had very nearly closed that funds required for distribution in that year could be placed at the disposal of Collectors.

2. It is now reported that the distribution of grants in 1928-29 has given room to an amount of dissatisfaction and it has been suggested that the earlier practice of distribution through the Registrar-General of Panchayats might be revived. The Government have considered the suggestion and have come to the conclusion that a certain degree of decentralization in the matter will be of advantage and they do not therefore propose to revert to the system of distribution by the Registrar-General.

3. The Government are disposed to think that such defects as might have occurred in the last year's distribution of grants were due—

(i) to the receipt by Collectors of the orders placing funds at their disposal late in the financial year, and

(ii) to a misconception of the orders of Government in the offices of some Collectors.

A large number of reports received last year showed a lack of appreciation of the object of the grants in question as the amounts recommended by Collectors in certain instances were little more than nominal. Several panchayats that applied for grants are reported to have received endorsements stating that there was no allotment at the Collector's disposal, while other panchayats received no acknowledgment at all of their applications.

The Government trust that Collectors will take a real interest in the matter and see that the work is not delegated to subordinates in lower ranks. Tahsildars should be made responsible for the disbursement of the grants to the presidents of village panchayats on production of vouchers in support of the purchase of books.

4. A provision of Rs. 25,000 has been made under '31 E.D. Education—General—Miscellaneous—Grants-in-aid—Voted—Non-recurring—Miscellaneous—Public libraries—Village panchayats' in the Civil Budget Estimate for 1929-30 for grants to village panchayats in aid of the libraries maintained by them. The distribution of these grants which will continue to be made through District Collectors will be subject to the following conditions :—

(i) that the maximum grant payable to a library including the amount, if any, paid in previous years should not exceed Rs. 300;

(ii) that the library should be open to the public and located in a place accessible to all communities;

(iii) that the grant should not be utilized on the purchase of books of a character subversive of public morality; and

(iv) that the panchayat should provide reasonable accommodation and equipment for the library.

[27th September 1929]

5. Collectors are requested to submit to Government not later than the 15th September 1929 statements (in duplicate) in the form appended showing the amounts required by them in the current year for distribution to village panchayats in their districts. On receipt of replies from the Collectors necessary funds will be placed at their disposal.

6. Collectors are further requested to report the probable amount that will be required by them in 1930-31 for distribution to panchayats in their districts, with a view to framing an estimate of the amounts that should be provided in the budget estimate for that year.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS

Agriculture

Action taken on the recommendations of the Unemployment Committee in reference to the Agricultural Department.

* 606 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Unemployment Committee's Report has been considered in regard to the recommendations relating to the Agricultural Department; and

(b) what action he proposes to take thereon either by himself or in consultation with other departments?

A.—(a) & (b) The recommendations of the Unemployment Committee with which the Agricultural department is concerned are those relating to the imparting of agricultural education for a practical career and that relating to the agricultural colonization scheme. As regards the former, the Government are already alive to the need for imparting such instruction and have opened agricultural middle schools at Taliparamba and Anakapalli. The latter had, however, to be closed for want of demand for this kind of education. The Government have also given a substantial grant to the District Board, Madura, for opening a school at Usilampatti for the benefit of Kallars. Buildings are under construction for the opening of a school at Kalahasti and the question of opening another school at Tanjore is under the consideration of the Director of Agriculture.

The recommendation of the Committee about assigning small farms of land at the disposal of Government to middle class educated unemployed young men will be shortly placed before the Agricultural Advisory Committee.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. the Minister with reference to the answers to clauses (a) and (b), what steps have been taken in the direction of providing agricultural education for the people of Kurnool, Cuddapah, Bellary, Anantapur and Chittoor districts?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"The whole question of imparting agricultural education to the people of the whole Presidency is under the consideration of the Government."

30th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know specifically if there is under consideration any question of a separate institution for these districts?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"That I cannot say."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know whether the Minister will consider this question?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"Yes."

Propagation of agricultural, veterinary and co-operative knowledge among ryots.

* 607 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) when the policy of the Government in regard to spread of agricultural, veterinary and co-operative knowledge amongst the mass of the ryot population was last examined;

(b) what steps have been taken to give a definite push to this department of Government activity;

(c) what attempt has been made to co-ordinate the work of the three departments mentioned in this matter; and

(d) what machinery exists for propaganda in all these lines and with what equipment?

A.—(a) The policy of Government in regard to the spread of agricultural, veterinary and co-operative knowledge amongst the masses was examined last year, the first two in connexion with the reorganization of the Agricultural and Veterinary Departments and the third in connexion with the report of the Townsend Committee on Co-operation.

(b) In the Agricultural Department Government have approved the Director's proposal to place each district in charge of an Assistant Director who will be directly in charge of demonstration work and the post of a Headquarters Deputy Director has also been created for directing demonstration work and being in charge of the publication of leaflets and bulletins.

In the Veterinary Department five additional circles have been opened so that the District Veterinary Officers may devote more time to serum simultaneous inoculations and demonstration work.

In the Co-operative Department the Government have granted liberal subsidies to the District Federations of Unions as well as the two main propagandist unions, i.e., the Provincial Co-operative Union and the Hood Institute, Tanjore. The Provincial Co-operative Union and the Andhra Sahakara Sammenalam publish journals on co-operation and the District Federations, the Hood Institute and the Provincial Co-operative Union conduct training classes for the training of Panchayatdars, and office-bearers of rural societies.

(c) The Government have approved the recommendation of the Townsend Committee that the District Officers of the Co-operative, Agricultural and Veterinary Departments should hold periodical conferences to co-ordinate their activities.

[30th September 1929]

During fairs, exhibitions, health weeks and co-operative conferences, officers of the three departments meet, exchange and disseminate knowledge either by discussing, lectures or distribution of pamphlets. The advice of the three departments is freely sought and given by one another. Proposals are under the consideration of Government for the appointment of a Deputy Director of Agriculture to work under the Registrar of Co-operative Societies and Government have sanctioned the deputation of an Agricultural Demonstrator for guiding the work of the Seed Societies in the Avanashi taluk of the Coimbatore district. The heads of all the three departments are members of the Advisory Committee constituted to implement the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Agriculture which deal exhaustively with the three subjects and this fact indirectly ensures the co-ordination of the activities of the three departments, and lastly all the subjects form the portfolio of the same hon. Minister and are dealt with in the same department of the Secretariat.

- (d) Besides the Agricultural Demonstrators, there are exhibition vans fitted up suitably for agricultural propaganda. These contain exhibits showing improved implements, improved method of manuring and scientific agricultural methods. Magic lantern lectures and distribution of leaflets also are resorted to for agricultural propaganda.

In the Veterinary Department the Professor of Pathology has prepared a short story illustrated by lantern slides to bring home to the minds of the public the importance of paying prompt attention to contagious cattle diseases. Charts, specimens and magic lantern slides depicting important cattle diseases have been prepared and are used for propaganda. Proposals for having a motor outfit for propaganda in rural areas are under the consideration of Government.

With regard to the Co-operative Department, the chief machinery for propaganda are the unions, federations and the three propagandist unions referred to in the answer to clause (b) above.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know, apart from the employment of Assistant Director, Headquarters Deputy Director, etc., whether the Government have any scheme under consideration which would place a group of villages, say about ten, under a single man who will be required to obtain a sufficient working knowledge of the subject and work among the villagers? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is a fit subject for a resolution. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know, Sir, with reference to the answer contained in the last paragraph but one on page 2, whether the Government will be prepared to supply these lantern slides to public associations on application? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" The question will be considered, Sir. "

[30th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know, in regard to the journals that are spoken of in paragraph 3 under clause (b) of the answer, what the circulation of these journals is? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" That I cannot say. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know what arrangements are at present existing to afford facilities to the illiterate people in order to obtain a knowledge of these matters? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" That is already mentioned in the other paragraphs, that agricultural demonstration cars are going to all the villages and that demonstrators are regularly doing propaganda work. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know what area each of the demonstrators covers? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Roughly one taluk or two for each demonstrator. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know if the Government will consider the proposal to shorten the area and employ men who will work on the lines laid down by these three departments together? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Yes, as soon as the men are available. "

Utility of motor exhibition vans for Agricultural propaganda.

* 608 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have investigated the usefulness of the motor vans introduced in this Presidency for carrying on an agricultural exhibition as compared with the exhibition trains introduced elsewhere in India for educating the ryots as to improved methods of cultivation, etc., and if so, with what result;

(b) whether the motor vans are crossing unbridged rivers, etc.; and

(c) what arrangements Government have made or propose to make for educating the ryots in improved methods of cultivation in areas which are separated from places where the vans are working by such unbridged rivers?

A.—(a) Yes. During the short period the exhibition vans have been in use, they have proved very useful in bringing improvements advocated by the Agricultural department to the notice of the ryots.

The vans are able to traverse interior tracts and get to most villages with comparative ease. A demonstration train can at best serve only big towns where other methods of demonstration are already in vogue and could not touch villages not on the railway.

(b) The exhibition vans can be taken across unbridged rivers, if necessary, wherever the water is low and when the crossing is reasonably safe.

(c) The itinerary of the exhibition van is published well in advance by the Revenue Department by beat of tom-tom, etc., and all villages within five or six miles radius of a halting place are notified about the movements of the vans. In cases where a river cannot be crossed the vans are kept on one side of the river and the people from the other side are invited to come and see the vans and attend the demonstrations and lectures.

[30th September 1929]

With regard to places which are absolutely unapproachable by the vans for lack of suitable roads, propaganda work is carried on by agricultural demonstrators as hitherto without the aid of the vans. Small agricultural exhibitions are arranged where possible at local fairs and festivals in addition to the usual demonstrations and lectures.

The West Coast is the only part of the Presidency where these vans are likely to fail to be mobile as they are too big for the ferries over unbridged rivers. The possibilities of six wheel small vans to meet these special difficulties are now under the consideration of the Director of Agriculture but the present units are quite capable of visiting the majority of villages in the Presidency.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know from the hon. the Minister for Development what districts have been so far covered by these vans ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice, Sir."

Mr. C. OBI REDDI :—" May I know how many demonstration vans are working in the Presidency ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Two are working now and one will be added very soon."

Commercial undertakings in the Agricultural department.

* 609 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased

(i) to furnish a list of the various schemes under the Agricultural department, which are treated as commercial undertakings; and

(ii) to state how many, if any, out of them ever worked with profit until the end of last year?

A.—(i) No concerns under the Agricultural department are treated as commercial undertakings.

(ii) Does not arise.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" May I know, Sir, in what stage is the preparation of infants' foods from cholam which experiment was being conducted in the Agricultural College for some time by the Imperial Chemist Mr. B. W. Nath ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" How does this question concern the commercial concerns, Sir ? "

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" The experiment, if successful, was intended to be placed in the market as rival to Horlicks and other imported infants' foods ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice."

Adoption of the Bombay system of verifying and testing weights and scales in cotton ginning and pressing factories.

* 610 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : With reference to answer to clause (c) of question No. 313, dated 10th August 1929, will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have since received the detailed report from the Director of Agriculture about the adoption of the Bombay system in Madras regarding the verification and testing of weights and scales in cotton ginning and pressing factories; and

(b) if so, whether they will place it on the table of the House, together with a copy of the orders, if any, of the Government thereon?

A.—(a) The Government have received an advance copy of the report which the Director of Agriculture has submitted to them through the Board of Revenue. They are awaiting the remarks of the Board of Revenue on the report.

(b) The question of placing the report and the orders of Government thereon on the table of the House will be considered when final orders are issued.

Admissions into the Agricultural College at Coimbatore and to the Agricultural Middle School at Taliparamba.

* 611 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the number of candidates who have applied this year for admission to the Agricultural College at Coimbatore and to the Agricultural Middle School at Taliparamba;

(b) the number of admissions made at each place; and

(c) whether the Government propose to make provision for training more students in future at the Coimbatore College?

A.—(a) Agricultural College.—The hon. Member's attention is invited to the answer given to clause (a) of starred question No. 369.

Agricultural Middle School, Taliparamba.—41.

(b) Agricultural College.—The hon. Member's attention is invited to the answer given to clause (b) of starred question No. 369.

Agricultural Middle School, Taliparamba.—Only 37 of the applicants were qualified and were asked to appear for interview but 20 alone presented themselves. Three of these did not turn up in time and so only 17 could be admitted.

(c) The hon. Member's attention is invited to the answer given to clause (d) of starred question No. 369.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know from the hon. the Minister whether in this school at Taliparamba in which only 17 admissions were made, how many students can be admitted ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Twenty, Sir."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether the Government propose to reduce the qualifications for admission into the Agricultural College at Coimbatore so as to enable more people to seek admission into the College ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Not yet, Sir."

[30th September 1929]

Co-operative Societies*Appointment of a Deputy Registrar for each district.*

* 612 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the new scheme of reorganization of the Co-operative department appointing one Deputy Registrar for each district has been given effect to;

(b) how many Deputy Registrars were newly entertained, and how many of them were recruited—

- (1) from the Revenue department;
- (2) from the Co-operative department; and
- (3) what were the qualifications of the persons directly recruited;

(c) how many Deputy Registrar Circles consist of more than 500 societies and what they are;

(d) whether there was a proposal that circles of more than 500 societies must be placed in charge of Deputy Registrars recruited from the rank of Deputy Collectors; and

(e) whether the Government will be pleased to place the orders passed on the subject on the table of this House?

A.—(a) Orders have been issued on the reorganization of the Co-operative department but the scheme has not been completely given effect to as it will be some time before the newly appointed Deputy Registrars undergo necessary training in co-operative work and are fit for independent charge.

(b) Out of the six posts of Deputy Registrars sanctioned in connexion with the reorganization of the Department, five have been filled up by Deputy Collectors and it is proposed to recruit another Deputy Collector for the remaining post also.

(c) The circles have not yet been redistributed for the reason mentioned in the answer to clause (a) above.

(d) The answer is in the negative.

(e) G.O. No. 1294, Development, dated 30th July 1929, which contains the orders of Government on the subject has been placed at the disposal of the Press.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“May I know when the Deputy Registrars will be able to take charge?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“As soon as their period of training is over.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“May I know when the period of training will be over?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“In about four months.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“May I know when the training began?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“Some days ago.”

30th September 1929]

Proposed amendment of the Co-operative Societies Act.

* 613 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Joint Registrar of Co-operative Societies was deputed for some months to prepare an amending Bill to the Co-operative Societies Act, and if so, when and for how long;

(b) whether the amending Bill has been received by Government and when; and

(c) if it has been received, why it has not been published and introduced in the Council?

A.—(a) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answers to clauses (e) to (g) of question No. 573 asked at the meeting of the Council held on the 29th October 1925.

(b) The draft Bill prepared by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies was received towards the end of October 1928 and the Statement of Objects and Reasons, in February 1929.

(c) The Bill is under the consideration of Government.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“Will the hon. the Minister for Development give an assurance to the House that the opinion of the House or of the public will be taken at the time when the draft Bill is considered by the Government?”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“This is not the opportunity to give assurances.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“In answer to clause (b), I find that there has been a delay of four months in the transmission of the Statement of Objects and Reasons. May I know if the Government have enquired into the reasons for such enormous delay?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“No, Sir.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“May I ask the hon. the Minister whether there is a proposal to invite public opinion on the matter?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“Yes.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know how long this Bill is likely to be under consideration?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“I hope to introduce it as early as possible; if possible, at the next meeting.”

Rate of interest on loans to Co-operative Central Banks.

* 614 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the present rate at which moneys are borrowed by this Government from the Central Government;

(b) the rate at which moneys are lent by this Government to Co-operative Central Banks; and

(c) the dividend paid by the central bank to its share-holders?

A.—(a) The Government of India have not yet intimated the rate of interest to be charged on advances from the Provincial Loans Fund made in 1929-30.

[30th September 1929]

- (b) The Government do not lend to Co-operative Central Banks.
 (c) The dividend paid in 1927-28 by all Central Banks was 9 per cent except in the case of the South Kanara Central Bank which paid $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

Industries

Aid to cottage industries under the State Aid to Industries Act.

* 615 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) how many cottage industries have applied for any help from the Government since the scope of State aid to industries has been extended;
 (b) how many have received such help; and
 (c) what the amount is that has so far been granted?

A.—(a) to (c) It is understood that the Director of Industries has received an application from Madura for a loan of Rs. 300 for starting a hosiery concern. It has not yet reached the Government.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know from the hon. the Minister to whom these applications have to be sent for aid?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"To the Director of Industries."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know if the Government have issued instructions to the Collectors and other lower officials that they should forward these applications to the Director of Industries if they are, by mistake, sent to them?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"I think in such cases the applications will be returned to the applicant themselves."

Application from Sri Lakshmi Mills for loan under the State Aid to Industries Act.

* 616 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) when the Sri Lakshmi Mills of Kasaragod (South Kanara) applied for a loan under the State Aid to Industries Act;
 (b) what all enquiries have been made in the matter;
 (c) whether any final order has been passed regarding the grant of this loan; and
 (d) why there has been such a delay in the disposal of their petition?

A.—(a) Yes. The application was received by the Director of Industries on 28th May 1928.

(b) Enquiries in connexion with valuation of assets as contemplated in rule 11 of the rules framed under the Act.

(c) No final orders have yet been passed.

(d) Because enquiries and inspections had to be done by three departments.

30th September 1929]

Purchase of soap from Kerala Soap Institute.

* 617 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether all or a part of the soap required for Government purposes is purchased from Kerala Soap Institute; and
 (b) if not, why not?

A.—(a) & (b) Each head of office can get his requirements from the market and as supplies of soap for all Government offices are not made by any Central agency, it is not possible to say whether the soaps manufactured by the Kerala Soap Institute are obtained or used by all or a majority of the Government offices.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"In view of the importance of swadesi industries and in view of the fact that the Kerala Soap Works is a Government institution, will the Government institute an enquiry and find out whether all the departments are going in for Government soap?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"It is already under consideration, Sir."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Government propose issuing instructions to all departments that they should buy only Indian soaps, preferably made in Southern India?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"It is a concern of the Stationery department, Sir."

Adulteration of foodstuffs

Prevention of adulteration in tea and coffee.

* 618 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Planters have urged the Government to proceed against the adulterators of tea and coffee; and
 (b) if so, what action they have taken in the matter?

A.—(a) Complaints in regard to the adulteration of tea were received.

(b) The Government are considering the extension of the Madras Prevention of Adulteration Act, 1918, to further areas.

Excise

Encouragement to propaganda and peaceful picketing against bids for toddy shops.

* 619 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state whether the propaganda and peaceful picketing against bids for shops at the time of the coming sales of abkari and toddy shops in the Presidency will be allowed to be carried on by the staff engaged by the Government prohibition propaganda committees, or at least encouraged by the Government if carried on by non-official organization?

A.—Propaganda does not include picketing.

[30th September 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know if propaganda does include requesting the drunkard not to drink and urging him to stop drinking ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Yes, and that is the only thing it means."

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" May I know whether the Government propagandists can go and preach to the bidders not to bid at the auction sales, because that will also be a kind of propaganda ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is asking for an opinion. The hon. Member is requested to put his question in such a way as not to ask for an opinion ? "

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO :—" May I know whether propaganda means preaching to the bidders not to bid at the auction sales ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The idea of propaganda is to teach people against the evils of drink."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know in what form picketing is prohibited in reference to this propaganda ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Picketing as it is understood in the English language."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know if the bidders are also included in this propaganda regarding the evils of drink ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" If the bidders are drunkards."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—" At the time of bidding, can the sort of propaganda suggested by the Minister be carried on ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I believe drunkards do not resort to places of bidding."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the propaganda includes requesting the drunkard not to drink and urging him to stop drinking ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" That is the propaganda itself."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" Does picketing include, in the opinion of the Minister, standing at the entrance to the toddy shop and asking people not to drink ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" It is a matter of opinion."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether the propagandists will be instructed to preach to the people not to bid at the time of the auctions ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" As I have already said, the propaganda is intended for preaching against the evils of drink, and I suppose bidders are generally not drunkards."

[30th September 1929]

Closure of arrack shops at Cocanada, etc., on festival days.

* 620 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the proceedings passed by the District Collector, East Godavari (D. Dis. No. 504, Revenue, dated 24th January 1919), published in the District Gazette in February 1919 to the effect that arrack shops at Cocanada, Rajahmundry and some other places should be closed on some festival days, such as, Sankranti, Dipavali, Dasara, Ramzan, Muharram and Bakrid, etc., were subsequently cancelled ;

(b) if so, when and for what reasons ;

(c) if the answer to clause (b) is in the negative, the reason why the shops are not being closed now as indicated therein ; and

(d) whether the Government intend to impose the restriction that arrack and toddy shops in all places should be closed on Hindu and Muhammadan festival days and, if not, why not ?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The Government have called for a report.

(d) The rules permit the closure of shops on festival and other days, when necessary.

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU :—" With reference to clause (d), may I know who is to judge the standard of necessity ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I think the local authorities."

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU :—" Is the standard of necessity laid down in any rule ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I suppose the standard of necessity cannot be laid down exactly by rules, as to on what particular occasions the shops should be closed. The local authorities have the discretion to judge."

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU :—" Is it the local authorities who have got the absolute discretion to determine the standards of necessity ? Are the local authorities the sole judges ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The local authorities know the public opinion also."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know who definitely is the person who decides this necessity ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The Collector is invested with that power."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU :—" May I know whether the hon. the Minister will give general instructions to all the Collectors to close these shops on festival days ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" They have been given instruction to use their discretion."

Medical

[30th September 1929]

Income from and expenditure on the Vizagapatam Medical College.

* 621 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) what was the necessity for establishing a Medical College at Vizagapatam;

(b) what is the number of students admitted in this college and what proportion of these are Andhras;

(c) whether it is a fact that students from the southern districts are compelled to join this college as a sufficient number of Andhras do not go there; and

(d) what is the annual expenditure incurred on this college?

A.—(a) The Medical College was established in view of the inadequacy of the number of qualified medical practitioners and the increasing demand for higher medical education in the Presidency.

(b) Thirty-two annually. Of the 148 students studying in the College during 1928-29, 94 or 63·5 per cent belonged to the Telugu districts.

(c) The seats available after the candidates belonging to the Telugu districts have been provided for are allotted to other applicants. No candidate is compelled to join the college.

(d) The expenditure on maintenance during the last six years was as shown below:—

	RS.
1923-24	60,214
1924-25	1,28,681
1925-26	1,72,131
1926-27	2,35,060
1927-28	2,77,312
1928-29	2,83,387

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know how many students this College can accommodate?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Thirty-two in each class."

Rao Bahadur Dr. C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"Is it a fact that some of the students from these districts volunteer to go to the Vizagapatam College and even request to be allowed to go to the Vizagapatam College?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The hon. Member is perhaps aware of that; but I am not."

Public Health

Organizations for anti-drink propaganda.

* 622 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) how many district organizations have been formed up to date for anti-drink propaganda;

(b) what amounts have been sanctioned to each such organization;

(c) whether any existing organizations have applied for help;

[30th September 1929]

(d) what help has been rendered to such organizations in each individual case; and

(e) whether any, and, if so, what conditions have been imposed upon such organizations?

A.—(a) One for each district.

(b) No amount has so far been sanctioned.

(c) Yes.

(d) & (e) The Propaganda Board decided that work should be carried on by the district organizations newly formed, and hence no financial help can be rendered to them.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—"May I know, in answer to clauses (b) and (c), whether the district organizations have been empowered to help the existing organizations in case they are doing good work?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"If the district committees think that propaganda in some area has been really beneficial on account of the existing organizations, then they are at liberty to do so."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know whether the list of those organizations which have applied for help will be placed on the table of the House?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"They will be in charge of the district organizations, and they have not worked sufficiently long to collect statistics and supply them."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know whether any amount has been set apart for each district for the purpose of propaganda?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"If the hon. Member will kindly peruse the scheme which has been published, he will find there is provision regarding that."

Supply of quinine to the villages in the taluks of Puttur and Karkal.

* 623 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased—

(a) to lay on the table a detailed statement showing the various persons asked to distribute quinine, the villages in which quinine was to be distributed, the amount of quinine supplied to each village and the quantity actually distributed in each village after the date when free quinine was supplied for distribution in the taluks of Puttur and Karkal (South Kanara) till the end of May 1929; and

(b) to state whether it is a fact that even till the end of May 1929 most of the villages in the said taluks did not receive any supply of quinine?

A.—(a) A statement showing the various persons asked to distribute quinine, the villages in which quinine was distributed, the amount of quinine supplied to each village and the quantity actually distributed in each village as far as information is available is laid on the table.*

(b) No. All the villages in the said taluks were supplied with quinine before the end of May 1929.

[30th September 1929]

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" May I know why non-missionary private persons are not allowed to distribute quinine to the people ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The missionaries belong to some recognized organization. If any social service league or any other society is willing to do the distribution, then the question will be considered."

Quantity and cost of the quinine distributed free in several malarial areas.

* 624 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased (i) to place before the Council a statement showing the quantity and cost of the quinine distributed free in the several malarial areas and (ii) to state—

(a) what reports Government have received as to the success or failure or defects in connexion with this distribution ;

(b) whether it is contemplated to increase the agencies and areas for the distribution, and if so, which ;

(c) what kind of quinine is distributed and in what shape ;

(d) whether complaints have been received that it is not of an efficacious character ; and

(e) if so, what action Government contemplate taking thereon ?

A.—(i) The following statement shows the quantity and cost of quinine distributed free in the several malarial areas in 1928-29 (November 1928 to March 1929) :—

	Quantity LB.	Cost.
		RS.	A.	P.
Puttur and Karkal taluks (South Kanara) ...	520	10,042	8	0
Koilkuntla (Kurnool) ...	104	2,908	8	0
Kanigiri and Udayagiri taluks (Nellore) ...	150	2,896	14	0
Hospet (Bellary) ...	75	1,448	7	0
Cuddapah and Rayachoti taluks (Cuddapah) ...	80	1,545	0	0
Ponneri taluk (Chingleput) ...	7	135	3	0
Kollegal taluk (Coimbatore) ...	3	57	15	0

(ii) (a) & (b) Reports on the working of the scheme, by the Special Malaria Officer, in Koilkuntla, Puttur, Hospet and Kollegal have been received. Considering the shortness of the time it is premature to judge of the merits of the scheme.

(c) Quinine sulphate in tablet form, 5 grains each, put in paper packets each containing 20 tablets.

(d) & (e) No.

¹ This will increase if it is decided to give commission to the Jail department, which is under consideration.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" May I draw the attention of the Government to the fact that only Rs. 20,000 out of a sum of Rs. 90,000 has been spent in the year 1929 and enquire why, if there was money available, the Government should not extend the distribution to other places ? "

[30th September 1929]

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Short expenditure is due not to the non-availability of money but to non-availability of quinine. Other areas will be resorted to for purposes of free distribution when Government are satisfied that the experiments carried on prove a success."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" With reference to answers to clauses (a) and (b), where it is stated that the Special Malaria Officer has submitted reports regarding Koilkuntla and other places, may I know what is stated in the report ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" For every district he has submitted a report. If the hon. Member wants any particular information in regard to the Cuddapah district, it will be given to him."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" I am talking of the working of the scheme. In the answer it is stated that the reports on the working of the scheme have been submitted by the Special Malaria Officer. I want to know whether this answer refers to the report that has been submitted after quinine has been distributed ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" It is on the working of the quinine scheme that he has submitted."

Improvements to the City water-supply.

* 625 Q.—Mr. S. SATYAMURTI : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have come to any conclusion with regard to the improvement of water-supply to the City of Madras ; and

(b) if not, when they propose to do so ?

A.—(a) & (b) Certain improvements to the Tamarapak anicut and to the upper supply channel from the anicut to the Cholavaram and Red Hills tanks have been carried out even last year and further improvements to the upper supply channel are being carried out. The acquisition of the ayacut under the tanks and raising the F.L. of the Red Hills tank are under consideration.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know whether Government are aware that there is a good deal of leakage in the sluices in the Red Hills tank ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Now that particular attention has been drawn, I will take note of the fact and see if that is so."

Education

Action taken on the recommendations of the Unemployment Committee with reference to the Educational Department.

* 626 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Unemployment Committee's Report has been considered in regard to recommendations relating to the department of Education ; and

(b) what action he proposes to take thereon either by himself or in consultation with other departments ?

[30th September 1929]

4.—(a) & (b) The Committee's recommendations are still under consideration.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"How long the consideration of this recommendation will take?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"These recommendations concern all the departments and they are being examined. It is very difficult to say when a final decision will be arrived at on this question."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"My specific question is with regard to the Education Department. May I know if the hon. Minister has considered the recommendation with reference to the Education Department and if he has made any proposal thereon?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"As I said before, these recommendations are inter-related and they are being considered by the various departments and so it is difficult now to say when a final decision will be arrived at."

Alleged restrictions on admission to the Madras Law College.

* 627 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that certain restrictions are placed on the graduates of Andhra and other Universities seeking entrance into the Law College, Madras; and

(b) if so, what they are and why such restrictions have been placed on them?

A.—(a) & (b) The Syndicate of the Madras University recently passed a resolution to the effect that only such graduates of other Universities as had passed the B.A. degree examination in the first or second division or had secured 45 per cent of the aggregate marks would be admitted to the Professional courses of that University. The Government understand that the Madras University have since agreed to accept all graduates of the Andhra University without any qualification whatever as to class or marks so far as the Law College is concerned.

Construction of the new buildings for the Arts College, Rajahmundry.

* 628 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Director of Public Instruction has submitted proposals for the construction of a new building for the Arts College, Rajahmundry; and

(b) if not, why not?

A.—(a) & (b) Plans and estimates have been called for, but have not yet been received.

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU :—"May I know whether it is not a fact that plans and estimates have already been sanctioned two years ago?"

[30th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"That was for a bigger scheme regarding Sapper's hill site. This scheme that is being considered is one relating to the jail site."

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU :—"May I know whether it is not a fact that Government Orders have been issued before even as regards the present scheme?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"The question of the location of the Andhra University not being settled at that time, the Government did not take any steps towards constructing the new buildings for the Arts College, Rajahmundry."

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU :—"May I ask whether the Government would expedite the matter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"As I have already said, plans and estimates have been called for from the Director of Public Instruction."

Grants to orphanages during last year.

* 629 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the number of applications for grants, by orphanages and those who claim to come under that head last year;

(b) who they are;

(c) whether the applications were granted;

(d) the grants made, if any;

(e) if refused, why; and

(f) the number of boys or girls in each?

A.—(a) 137.

(b), (c), (d) & (e) Statements showing the names of Indian orphanages to which grants were sanctioned and of those to which grants were refused are appended^a. In the case of the former, the amount of grant sanctioned is entered against the name of the orphanage, while in the case of the latter the reason for refusal is given.

(f) The hon. Member is referred to the answer to question No. 303 asked at the meeting held on 10th August 1929.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"May I know if the Government are aware that a major portion of the allotment for orphanages is used by a particular community?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"That is so."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"May I know whether Government proposed to see that the amount is allotted in a proportionate manner among all the communities?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"The matter was placed before the Advisory Committee and that Committee adopted a particular proportion. Now that particular attention has been drawn, it will be considered."

Aid to depressed classes students in secondary schools.

* 630 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the information regarding aid to depressed class students in secondary schools called for in question No. 1808, dated 21st March 1929, has been received; and

(b) if so, what it is?

A.—(a) & (b) No.

Local Boards

Exemption of co-operative societies from professional taxes.

* 631 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether the Government have received numerous resolutions passed at numerous co-operative conferences urging Government to amend the District Municipalities and Local Boards Acts exempting co-operative societies from professional and company's taxes?

A.—Yes.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“May I know what action Government propose to take on those various resolutions?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“That is a matter which will be considered along with the amendments to the two Acts which are now under consideration.”

Abolition of the system of toll-gates in the Presidency.

* 632 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Road Committee recommended the abolition of the system of toll-gates in the Presidency;

(b) whether the Government considered the matter and passed any orders on the subject; and

(c) whether the Government will be pleased to lay the same on the table of the House?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) & (c) The matter is under the consideration of Government.

Mr. K. R. KARANT.—“May I know whether already a two-anna tax per gallon of petrol is being levied and, if so, what it is intended to be used for?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“The two anna tax is being levied by the Central Government and we get about 7½ lakhs on this account. Hon. Members will be aware that what we get from toll-gates comes to 42 lakhs and we have been trying to find a substitute for this 42 lakhs if we come to a decision about the abolition of toll-gates.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know what were the actual proposals considered by Government in this connexion?”

[30th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“The proposals were placed before the Road Board. The Road Board have recently proposed to levy a vehicle tax.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know whether the vehicle tax is proposed to be levied upon all classes of vehicles in all villages?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“I cannot give any details of the scheme at present.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“May I know whether there is any Bill under consideration giving effect to the proposals of the Road Board?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“A Bill was prepared by the Secretary which has not yet been considered by the Government. It was considered recently by the Road Committee.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—“May I know whether it will be placed before the public for inviting opinion before taking up the consideration of the question.”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“When a decision is come to, it will certainly be placed before the Council.”

Nominations to the Chingleput Taluk Board.

* 633 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that recently nominations were made to Chingleput Taluk Board after bifurcation;

(b) what are the communities that were given representation and how many in each; and

(c) whether it is a fact that no Brahman was nominated and what was the reason for the same?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Hindu Vellalas	... 8	Kamma	 1
Vanniyakula		Nadar	 1
Kshatriyas	... 3	Adi-Dravida	 1
Nayudus	... 2	European	 1

(c) Yes, as no one was recommended.

Completion of the road from Tandramput to Perumkolathur.

* 634 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that a new road from Tandramput to Perumkolathur was sanctioned by the North Arcot District Board and partly laid out;

(b) when it was begun;

(c) what is the distance laid out and what was the amount spent for the work and when the work was stopped;

(d) what is the estimate for the entire work and what was the amount sanctioned for several years and how much of it relates to provincial grants;

[30th September 1929]

- (e) what was the cause for stopping the work; and
 (f) whether the Government will be pleased to enquire into this loss of provincial grants and recover the same from those responsible?

A.—The Government have no information. They have called for a report from the President, District Board, North Arcot.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—“Will the hon. the Minister remind the President of the District Board and expedite the answer?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“I will do so.”

Strength of the various communities in the taluk boards in Bellary district.

* 635 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the taluk boards in the Bellary district which contain no representatives belonging to the depressed classes or Indian Christian or Muhammadan communities respectively; and

(b) the number of nominated members in each of them?

A.—(a) Depressed classes	...	...	...	...	None.
Indian Christians	...	...	...	...	All the four.
Muhammadans	...	...	...	...	Harpanahalli.
(b) Adoni	...	...	...	...	6

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—“May I know from the hon. the Minister why no Muhammadans were appointed to the taluk board of Harpanahalli?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“As I said repeatedly on the floor of this House, nomination to taluk boards is entirely in the hands of the district board presidents. Of course, we have issued instructions to the presidents of district boards that they should as far as possible see that all communities are represented, but unfortunately, these instructions have not been adhered to and we have no power to make them adhere to the rules either.”

Religious and Charitable Endowments

Nominations to Temple Committees.

* 636 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the vacancies in Temple Committees constituted by the Government under the provisions of the Madras Hindu Religious Endowments Amendment Act;

(b) the period for which they are appointed;

(c) the date of expiry of the period of appointment;

(d) how many and which of them were reconstituted by (1) election and (2) nomination;

(e) the respective dates of their reconstitution; and

(f) the provisions of law under which the Temple Committees, if any, whose period of appointment had expired were reconstituted by nomination?

[30th September 1929]

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The information asked for is given in the appended statement. ^a

(d) & (e) No committee has so far been reconstituted by election. The following committees were however reconstituted by nomination, with effect from the dates specified against them :—

Chittoor District Temple Committee	...	...	...	11th June 1929.
Vizagapatam District Temple Committee	...	...	...	13th August 1929.
West Godavari District Temple Committee	...	...	...	Do.
Nellore District Temple Committee	...	...	...	3rd September 1929.
East Godavari District Temple Committee	...	...	...	17th September 1929.

(f) Clauses (c) and (a) of sub-section (1) of section 20 of the Hindu Religious Endowments Act, 1926, Act II of 1927.

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—“May I know from the hon. Minister what steps he is going to take to see that there is no further nomination to these bodies and that they will all be elected as early as possible?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“It is difficult to make a promise on this matter, because most of the committees are complaining that they have no money even to conduct the elections. The Hindu Religious Endowments Board was asked by these impecunious committees for help towards elections. When such is the case, it is impossible to give a definite date by which these committees will be constituted by election.”

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—“Is it a fact that every one of these committees has no money to carry on election?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“That is what I have been told.”

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“May I know whether the Kurnool District Temple Committee has been constituted by nomination?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“Notice, Sir.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“May I know whether Government propose to take any steps with regard to the want or alleged want of funds by these committees so that election might take place as early as possible?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“It is difficult to say what steps should be taken. My hon. Friend, Mr. Ranganatha Mudaliyar, will probably remember, when the late Sir T. Sadasiva Ayyar recommended the appointment of the Hindu Religious Endowments Board, he said it would be best if all these members were nominated rather than elected, because that will never put the committee to the necessity of finding funds to conduct the election.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—“May I know whether the Government's policy is to accept the late Sir T. Sadasiva Ayyar's recommendation and go on nominating on the plea of want of funds?”

[30th September 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"No, Sir, it is difficult to say what will be the Government's attitude on this matter, because that has not been considered."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—"May I know whether Government propose to consider this aspect of the question because nearly two years have elapsed since elections have not been held?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—"It is difficult to say when a decision will be arrived at."

Agency

Abolition of liquor and toddy shops in Bhadrachalam taluk.

* 637 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) how many liquor and toddy shops in the Bhadrachalam taluk (East Godavari Agency) show an average monthly rental value of less than Rs. 3;

(b) the reasons why sales of such shops are still continued; and

(c) whether the Government intend abolishing such shops?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The Government have called for a report.

Land Revenue

Alleged erection of a compound wall by the Sub-Magistrate of Dusi.

* 638 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the newly appointed acting Sub-Magistrate of Dusi in North Arcot district got a compound wall round his office erected through the village menials of the villages surrounding Dusi;

(b) whether he paid for such service and, if so, from what funds; and

(c) if not, what action the Government propose to take on the Sub-Magistrate's conduct?

A.—The Government have not the information, but have called for a report.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"May I know from the hon. Minister whether any report has been received since 19th September?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"No, Sir."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"Will Government please expedite the report?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I will ask for the report as early as possible."

Territorial changes

Formation of a Karnataka Province.

* 639 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state what action the Government have taken in regard to the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Council regarding the formation of a Karnataka Province?

[30th September 1929]

A.—The Government have forwarded the proceedings of the Legislative Council relating to the resolution to the Government of India with reference to section 52-A of the Government of India Act.

Village Establishments

Restoration of village officers and jamabandi allowances.

* 640 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : With reference to my question No. 79 answered on 7th August 1929, will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the financial results of the restoration of village officers have been finally worked out; and

(b) whether the Government propose to give jamabandi allowances to village officers in ryotwari areas?

A.—(a) & (b) The position as described in the answer to question No. 79, dated 7th August 1929, remains unchanged.

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"May I know from the hon. the Revenue Member when this position is likely to change?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"The hon. Member has probably observed that I am moving a demand for a supplementary grant during this meeting for further funds for the restoration of certain village menials. I hope that the restoration of the village menials referred to will be carried out before the end of the year; until that is done it is not possible to ascertain the financial results of the restoration."

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"May I know whether any provision has been made at any time for the village revenue monigars. Evidently in the application for a further grant that has not been included?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I must ask for notice."

Forests

Issue of grazing permits for the reserves in Hospet range.

* 641 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state where and to whom the people of the various villages of the Hospet range, Bellary district, should go, for obtaining grazing permits for the reserves in the range, if, for any reason, they should be unable to obtain them on the days (which are limited to three days in a year in the case of the vast majority of the villages) the permit-issuing officer visits their villages?

A.—The villagers can obtain permits from the permit-issuing officer or from the range officer at these officers' headquarters or at one or other of their camps. The tour programme of the permit-issuing officer is printed in the Forest Supplement of the Bellary District Gazette for July 1929.

[30th September 1929]

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" May I know the reason for Government not entrusting the village officers with permits for sale so that the ryots may not have to go long distances for obtaining permits for three annas, six annas, etc. ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" I shall consider the suggestion."

Strength of forest officers employed in each circle from 1918 to 1929.

* 642 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA : With reference to my question No. 1761 answered on 16th March 1929, will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to place before the House a statement showing—

- (i) the various circles of Conservators of Forests from the year 1918 to 1929 (June);
- (ii) the increase or decrease of forest officers above the grade of rangers employed in each during that period; and
- (iii) the grounds for such increase or decrease?

4.—(i) There were four circles prior to 1st February 1921 on which date the number was increased to six and has remained at that figure till now. One of the territorial circles was however abolished and a Working Plans Circle constituted with effect from 1st May 1925.

(ii) A statement^a showing the number of officers in December of each year is attached.

(iii) The number of officers in each circle vary from month to month according to the exigencies of the work and it is not now possible to state definitely the reasons for the transfer of individual officers from circle to circle.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" With reference to the appendix, may I enquire why, having regard to the fact that a large number of forest panchayats have been created, the number of officers should not have been also reduced? It has hardly been reduced in the year 1929."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" Because the panchayat forests that have been handed over to the ryots are all minor forests, whereas these officers are engaged in important and first-class forests."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" In the year 1927, the figure reached the lowest, namely 53, and why in 1929 the figure has risen to 59? May I know whether these six appointments are temporary ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" The number of officers does not depend upon whether they are temporary or not, but depends upon the exigencies of the work connected with the forests."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether there are any temporary officers in this 59 ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" Notice, Sir."

^a Printed as Appendix IV on page 501 infra.

[30th September 1929]

Working plans for forests in charge of panchayats.

* 643 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) what attempts have been made to collect the data on sylviculture in the shape of printed notes available to the public or panchayats in charge of forests for use in the regeneration of exhausted stock of jungles or areas denuded of trees;

(b) what measures (if any) are being adopted for regeneration and sylviculture in connexion with forests or so-called forests in charge of panchayats or the Revenue officers;

(c) whether any working plans are prepared in connexion with such forests; and

(d) whether cultivation of useful fruit-trees like Kaju is contemplated?

A.—(a) Sylvicultural research is undertaken by the Forest department; this has hitherto been confined to the major forests but a proposal is pending to extend this research to the dry class of forests. The reports of the sylviculturist are available to the public in the annual administration report. A number of works on tropical sylviculture can also be bought but there is no work on the subject which would be likely to be understood by the general public or panchayats in charge of forests.

(b) Under the terms of their agreements panchayats have power to make improvements to the areas under their control by planting trees. Where tree planting is feasible, the number and kinds of the trees to be planted each year are noted and funds for the purpose are provided for in the agreement. During the year ending 31st March 1929, 558 panchayats, i.e., about half the total number of panchayats, raised trees and 46,828 trees were reported to be alive. The trees were of the following species :—

Tamarind, Nim (Margosa), Mango, Nerudu (Nagai), Kanuga (Pungam), Cashewnut, Jack, Siris and Palmyra.

(c) No sylvicultural working plans are prepared for panchayat forests. In the case of fuel coupes, the working plans prepared by the Forest department are followed.

(d) Yes.

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" With reference to clause (a), it is stated that 'a number of works on tropical sylviculture can also be bought but there is no work on the subject which would be likely to be understood by the general public or panchayats in charge of forests'. May I know whether it is not possible to publish a popular guide and get it translated in different vernaculars for the use of the laymen ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" The information that is wanted by the laymen is published by the department in their administration reports."

Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" In view of the fact that panchayat people are laymen and they find it difficult to get at the administration reports, whether Government will not consider it desirable to publish a popular guide something like the Agricultural Calendar ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" This is a fit subject for a resolution."

[30th September 1929]

Alleged irregular attendance of District Forest Officers at Mangalore.

* 644 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state at what time of the day the several District Forest Officers at Mangalore have been attending their offices and leaving their offices as a rule during the three months closing with 31st March 1929?

A.—The District Forest Officer, South Mangalore, while at headquarters generally attends office from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on some days and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on other days according to the exigencies of the work. The District Forest Officer, North Mangalore, while at headquarters generally attends office on all working days from about 2-30 p.m. to 5-30 p.m. These officers also attend to office work in their residences.

Jails*Action taken against the prison officials connected with the ill-treatment of Mr. Sambamurti.*

* 645 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether any action has been taken against the prison officials who made Mr. Sambamurti walk and carry his articles from the Central Jail to the Railway Station, Rajahmundry?

A.—No.

Treatment of political prisoners in jails.

* 646 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is any distinction in the matter of treatment given to political prisoners and prisoners convicted of offences not involving moral turpitude;

(b) whether the status, culture and aptitude of the prisoner are considered in connexion with the treatment; and

(c) whether the Government intend to provide for special treatment to political prisoners and prisoners convicted of offences not involving moral turpitude; if not, why not?

A.—(a) No.

(b) The jail authorities carry out the sentences passed by courts and they make no distinction in the matter of treatment between prisoners with similar sentences. A special division of prisoners has been created and it is intended for selected prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment for whom the ordinary treatment in jails is considered unsuitable on the grounds of their education, status, character and habits of life. Selection to this class is made by the convicting courts subject to confirmation by the Government. The special division prisoners are allowed various concessions.

(c) The question of revising the rules relating to the classification of special division prisoners and the privileges to be granted to them is under the consideration of the Government.

[30th September 1929]

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU:—"With reference to the answer to clauses (b) and (c), may I know whether Government are prepared to consider the matter with reference to the sort of offences for which the prisoners are convicted?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"The whole matter is under the consideration of Government at present."

Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU:—"The answer is not clear and I wish to have a clear statement, whether Government propose to take into consideration the question with reference to the nature of the offences, whether involving moral turpitude or not?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"That is exactly the answer that I gave, namely, that the matter is under the consideration of Government at present."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The subject is coming up for discussion after questions."

Adequate treatment of mental defectives and repression of recidivism in Jails.

* 647 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have considered the suggestions made by the Inspector-General of Prisons for dealing adequately with mental defectives and for the repression of recidivism; and

(b) if so, what steps will be taken for this purpose?

A.—(a) & (b) In the Jails Administration Report for 1928, the Inspector-General of Prisons stated that mental defectives should be permanently segregated and given institutional treatment as they were unfit to be at large, and that he would bring the matter up for discussion at the next Conference of Inspectors-General of Prisons and advise the Government on the lines on which legislation should be undertaken. The next conference of Inspectors-General of Prisons is to be held in December 1929. The Government await the detailed proposals of the Inspector-General.

As regards the recidivists, the Inspector-General proposed that they should be excluded from the scope of the remission rules and that they might be granted some other concessions in lieu as an incentive to good conduct and industry. The Government considered the scheme prepared by the Inspector-General and they found that there would be considerable difficulty in its practical working. They therefore decided to drop the proposal for the present.

Village Courts Act*Provision of clerk and building for Village Panchayat Courts.*

* 648 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether the Government have at any time considered the necessity of providing for the Village Panchayat Court a clerk and funds for payment of rent for the building where the court is held?

A.—Yes.

[30th September 1929]

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"Have the Government come to any decision on the matter?"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"The decision that the Government have arrived at is this: that as under the statute the Collector has power to appoint additional karnams when the number of suits exceeds 900, there is no need for the Government to do anything now."

Pensions

Extension of the option of retiring on completion of 25 years' service.

* 649 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Member for Finance be pleased to state whether the Government have under consideration any proposal to extend the option of retiring on completion of 25 years of service to other officers and other departments than those to whom the option is now given and, if so, the details thereof?

A.—No.

11-30 a.m. Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—"Will the hon. the Member for Finance give the departments of Government to the officials of which the option of retirement after 25 years service is given?"

The hon. Sir. THOMAS MOIR:—"I cannot now give the list of the officers. I fear the list will be a very long one."

Elections

Disbandment of the establishment for the preparation of electoral rolls for the next general elections.

* 650 Q.—Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state whether the Government have considered the advisability of disbanding the establishments ordered to be entertained for the preparation of fresh rolls for the Legislative Council in view of the uncertainty of the date of the next general elections to the Council?

A.—The attention of the hon. Member is invited to rule 9 (4) of the Madras Electoral Rules. In accordance with this rule the Government ordered in March last the preparation of a fresh roll for the constituencies of the Legislative Council. The preparation of the preliminary electoral rolls has now been completed and the Government have issued instructions to all Collectors to disband the temporary establishment employed in the districts for the purpose.

Factories

Compensation to seriously injured workmen in factories in 1928.

* 651 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased (i) to state—

(a) the number of cases out of the 258 serious accidents reported in the Factories Inspection Report for 1928 in which compensation was granted to the workmen concerned;

[30th September 1929]

(b) the total amount so paid; and

(c) why, in the remaining cases, if any, no compensation was paid and

(ii) to furnish similar information in the case of the 1,088 persons who received minor injuries?

A—(i) (a), (b) & (ii) The classification of accidents with reference to the rules under the Indian Factories Act does not follow the lines of the classification under the Indian Workmen's Compensation Act. It is therefore not possible to say how many of the 258 cases of serious accidents and 1,088 minor accidents mentioned in the Factories Administration Report for 1928 come within the scope of the Indian Workmen's Compensation Act. The number of injuries other than fatal injuries reported by employers in the annual returns for the year 1928 submitted by them under section 15 of the Indian Workmen's Compensation Act was 531. This figure represents the injuries in respect of which compensation was paid by the employers. The amount of compensation paid was Rs. 17,623-13-1. Under section 3 (1) (a) of the Workmen's Compensation Act, no compensation is payable in respect of an accident which does not result in the total or partial disablement of a workman for a period exceeding ten days.

(i) (c) The Commissioner for Workmen's Compensation cannot award compensation except on application made to him under the Act.

Police

Alleged annoyance caused to Mr. Krishna Kunthu at Madura.

* 652 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that two constables belonging to the Criminal Investigation Department roughly knocked at the doors of the lodging of Mr. Krishna Kunthu, a Congress worker at Madura, at midnight on 1st June 1929 and caused him annoyance;

(b) whether Mr. Krishna Kunthu complained to the Superintendent of Police, Madura, on 2nd June 1929;

(c) whether the Superintendent of Police without making any adequate enquiry merely replied on a postcard, dated 3rd July 1929, that the allegation was not true; and

(d) whether Government will be pleased to ascertain by an independent inquiry whether the allegation of Mr. Krishna Kunthu is true or not?

A.—(a) to (c) The Government have no information.

(d) An enquiry is being made.

Removal of the lock-up for remand prisoners in Polavaram village.

* 653 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the police lines in Polavaram village in East Godavari Agency have been abolished on account of the place being unhealthy, and, if so, when;

[30th September 1929]

- (b) whether the lock-up for remand prisoners is continued in the same place ;
 (c) whether it is a fact that the prisoners kept there very often fall ill ;
 and
 (d) whether the Government intend to remove the lock-up to a healthier locality ?

A.—(a) Yes ; on 12th January 1926.

(b) The lock-up for remand prisoners is in the sub-jail in the Taluk office building near the site of the old police lines.

(c) The prisoners kept there occasionally fall ill.

(d) No such proposal is before Government at present.

Arrest of Mr. Bulusu Sambamurti.

* 654 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state, with reference to question No. 1723-B, dated 14th March 1929, regarding the arrest of Mr. Bulusu Sambamurti—

(a) whether the information called for has been received ; and

(b) if so, what it is ?

A.—(a) & (b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer given to question No. 2027 asked at the meeting of the Legislative Council on the 27th March 1929.

As regards clause (g) of question No. 1723-B, the arrest was made under section 108 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Correspondence with the police authorities regarding Dindigul Municipal elections.

* 655 Q.—Mr. K. P. V. S. MUHAMMAD MEERA RAVUTTAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased—

(a) to place on the table the correspondence that passed between the police authorities of Dindigul and the District Collector of Madura as well as the District Superintendent of Police with regard to the election for the second ward of the Dindigul Municipality ; and

(b) to call for them if the papers are not available immediately ?

A.—(a) The correspondence is not available with the Government.

(b) The Government see no reason to call for it.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"The Government say that 'they see no reason to call for the papers.' May I know the reasons for that?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"Municipality is a subject in the port-folio of my hon. Colleague the Chief Minister. If my hon. Colleague the Chief Minister wants to see the correspondence, I shall be very glad to place it before him."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"Is the hon. the Home Member aware of the fact that what is required is not the papers regarding the irregularity in the municipal election but the papers with regard to the irregularity, if there is any, in the matter of police administration?"

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—"If my hon. Friend puts a definite question, I am prepared to answer it."

Municipalities

Conduct of the election to the second ward of the Dindigul municipality.

* 655-A Q.—Mr. K. P. V. S. MUHAMMAD MEERA RAVUTTAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Chairman of the Dindigul Municipal Council under the pretext of an apprehended breach of the peace issued an order at eleven o'clock on the night of the 12th of this month adjourning sine die the election of councillors for ward No. 2 of the municipality which was notified to take place on the following day ;

(b) whether on the representation from two of the candidates the District Collector of Madura after assuring himself from the Magistrate that there was absolutely no fear of a breach of the peace ordered the chairman to conduct the election as already notified on the 13th of this month, and whether the chairman then conducted the election but subsequently issued an order refusing to count the votes and declare the results of the election ; and

(c) whether the Government have taken any steps in the matter ?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Generally, yes.

(c) Government have intimated to the chairman that his action in postponing on the 12th instant the election fixed for the 13th was highly irregular. They have also invalidated the poll held on the 13th and directed a fresh one.

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"May I know whether the stopping of the election by the chairman was done mala fide or was it done bona fide?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I believe it was done bona fide."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"The answer to clause (b) runs thus: 'Generally, yes.' May I know the significance of the word 'Generally'?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"It means 'as far as Government are aware'."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know why the election was invalidated?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Because of the irregularities."

Mr. L. K. TULASIRAM:—"May I know whether the chairman was censured for his conduct?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I don't think it is necessary at this stage."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know to which political party the chairman of the Dindigul municipality belongs?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I do not think a chairman belongs to any party."

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS

Floods

Replacement of the embankment at Raykutta.

656 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA: With reference to my question No. 2414, answered on 28th August 1926, will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) what action has been taken by the local boards or by Government as to the replacement of the embankment at Raykutta in Mangalore taluk, South Kanara, which was washed away by floods;

(b) whether it is a fact that further damage has been caused to the surrounding paddy fields by the recent floods in July 1929;

(c) what steps Government have decided to take either themselves or through the local bodies concerned to replace the washed embankment?

A.—(a) to (c) A report has been called for.

Honorary Magistrates

Appointment of Nadars as Honorary Bench Magistrates.

657 Q.—Mr. N. SIVA RAJ: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that at present there is no Nadar in the Honorary Bench Magistrate's Court of Virudhunagar town, Ramnad district;

(b) whether there were two Nadars in the said court since its inception;

(c) how long it is since the last Nadar member resigned his seat;

(d) how many appointments were made to that court after his resignation;

(e) why no Nadar was appointed;

(f) whether there is any proposal to raise the strength of the said court above six; and

(g) if so, whether due regard will be paid to the claims of the Nadar community?

A.—The Government have called for a report in the matter.

[Note.—An asterisk (*) at the commencement of a speech indicates revision by the Member.]

PETITION TO THE COUNCIL.

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Mr. Saldanha will now present the petition on behalf of the Syrian Christians of Ponnani taluk."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"Mr. President, I beg to present the petition from the Syrian Christians of Ponnani taluk. It concerns the present Malabar Tenancy Bill as amended by the Select Committee. I have circulated copies of the petition among the several Members of this House and so I do not wish to read the whole petition, but I will close by saying that I hope the several points raised in the petition will command their attention."

IV

AMENDMENTS TO STANDING ORDERS 22, 23 and 41.

Mr. F. E. JAMES:—"Mr. President, Sir, I beg to move that leave to introduce the following amendments to Standing Orders of the Legislative . . ."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Under the Standing Orders, I have to do it."

"The first item in the agenda is a motion by Mr. F. E. James for certain amendments to Standing Orders Nos. 22, 23 and 41. The amendments are:

(i)

STANDING ORDER No. 22.

"For the words 'at 2-30 p.m. the same day . . . of the President', substitute the following: 'at 4 p.m. the same day: provided that the President may in his discretion allow the motion to be taken up at 4 p.m. the next day if the Member of Government in charge of the subject matter of the motion makes such a request'."

(ii)

STANDING ORDER No. 23.

"For '5 p.m.' substitute '6 p.m.'"

(iii)

STANDING ORDER No. 41

"In Standing Order No. 41 (4) for the words 'at the same time' substitute the words 'within such time as the Select Committee may fix for the purpose'."

"I wish to know whether the hon. Member has the leave of the House. (After a pause). Since no member objects, I take it the hon. Member has the leave of the House. The draft amendments have now to be referred to a Select Committee. Six members of the Select Committee have to be selected by the Council by means of the single transferable vote in accordance with the regulations framed in this behalf, the President, the Deputy President and the Advocate-General being ex-officio members of the Committee. One of the Members of the panel of Chairmen is to be nominated by me as a Member of the Committee. I fix 2 p.m. to-day as the hour within which nominations may be handed over to the Secretary."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"May I make a suggestion, Sir, with your permission. I have given several amendments . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I think they are coming up to-morrow."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"What I suggest is that it is desirable that the Members of this House who are to be members of the Select Committee on this as well as on the other should be the same."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"It is more the work of the leaders of parties and their whips. I have no voice in the matter."

V

A BILL TO AMEND THE MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT, 1920.

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Mr. B. Muniswami Nayudu's motion is under discussion. The question is that the Bill be committed to the Committee to be appointed for the consideration of the Minister's Bill. I think it was understood that a motion would be made as to the names of the members of the Committee, so that the same names might be taken up on the next occasion."

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Yes, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Then I think Mr. Muniswami Nayudu will withdraw his motion."

Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU :—" Mr. President, Sir, I beg to withdraw my motion."

The motion was, by leave, withdrawn.

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Mr. President, Sir, I now move that under Standing Order No. 40 (2) leave be granted for referring the Bill to a Select Committee consisting of more than 15 members."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I second it."

The motion was put and adopted.

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I now move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee composed of the following Members :—

- (1) Mr. P. C. Venkatapathi Raju.
- (2) " J. A. Saldanha.
- (3) " S. Satyamurti.

[Dr. P. Subbarayan]

- (28) Mahmud Schamnad Sahib Bahadur.
- (29) Rao Sahib R. Srinivasan.
- (30) Mr. D. Thomas.
- (31) The hon. Mr. S. Muthiah Mudaliyar.
- (32) Mr. L. K. Tulasiram.
- (33) " J. A. Davis.
- (34) " Hilton Brown.
- (35) Rao Bahadur K. Sitarama Reddiyar.
- (36) Diwan Bahadur P. C. Ethirajulu Nayudu.
- (37) Mr. T. Adinarayana Chettiyar.
- (38) " R. Srinivasa Ayyangar.
- (39) " N. Siva Raj."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I second it."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that the Bill of Mr. Kaleswara Rao, as amended by the Select Committee, be referred to a Select Committee again consisting of the following 39 members :—

[For members, see above.]

* Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" On a point of order, Mr. President. Under Standing Order No. 44, I think a Bill which has passed through the Select Committee and on which a final report has been drawn up and circulated can be re-committed only to the same Select Committee."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Where is it stated that it cannot be re-committed to another Select Committee ?"

* Mr. K. R. KARANT :—" My submission is that Standing Order No. 44 provides one or other of the modes under which any member may make a motion after the report has been submitted to this House. I mean that after the presentation of the final report of a Select Committee on a Bill, the member in charge can move that the Bill be re-committed only under two alternatives. The Standing Order provides for the re-committing of the Bill to the same Select Committee only. So, I cannot see how it can be now referred to a new Committee. I am also told, Mr. President, that the motion now made is under Standing Order No. 44 and not under any other Standing Order."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" May I also raise another point of order, Sir, subsidiary to this ? A motion like that can be made only by the member in charge of the Bill. You will notice, Sir, that Standing Order No. 44 says :

'After the presentation of the final report of a Select Committee on a Bill the Member in charge may move . . .

And so the Member who moves this motion under this Standing Order should be in charge of the Bill, which in the case of a Government Bill means the Member in charge of the department dealing with the subject matter of the Bill."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The motion of Mr. Kaleswara Rao is that the Bill as amended by the Select Committee be taken into consideration. Now, a motion is made by the Minister that it should be re-committed to a Select Committee consisting of 39 members. Is it the hon. Member's contention that no member other than the mover of the Bill can make such a motion ?"

11-45
a.m.

[30th September 1929]

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" You will see, Mr. President, Standing Order No. 44 reads like this :

' After the presentation of the final report of a Select Committee on a Bill the Member in charge may move --

(i) that the Bill, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration, but any member may object to its being so taken into consideration if the copies mentioned in Standing Order No. 42 have not been available . . . consideration ; or

(ii) that the Bill be re-committed either--

(a) without limitation, or

(b) with respect to particular clauses or amendments only, or

(c) with instructions to the Select Committee to make some particular or additional provision in the Bill . . . "

Therefore the option rests entirely with the Member in charge of the Bill. My attention is also drawn now to paragraph 2 which says : ' If the Member in charge moves that the Bill be taken into consideration, any Member may move as an amendment that the Bill be re-committed.' I admit then that it is open to any other Member of the Council to move that it be recommitted. Then we go back to sub-clause (ii) of clause (1) of Standing Order No. 44 which limits the nature of recommitment, that is to say, either without limitation or with respect to particular clauses, etc. But re-commitment connotes both by its etymological meaning and by its context that the re-commitment should be to the same committee. Therefore it follows both from the context and the meaning of the English word used there that the only committee which can reconsider this matter is the same committee which originally went into the Bill. I may add, Sir, that I raise this point with great reluctance because all of us are anxious that the Bills of the Government and my hon. Friend from Bezwada should be considered together. If there is a way out of this, I shall be very glad."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Unless some agreement is come to unanimously, I have to give my ruling according to the wording of the Act and the Rules and Standing Orders. There is no use of appealing to me to use the discretion which is vested in me. Have the Government got to say anything on this matter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I have not read the Standing Order, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" These two motions may be taken up after the lunch interval."

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I move that this Bill to amend the District Municipalities Act and the Bill to amend the Local Boards Act may be taken up at 2-30 p.m. to-day."

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I second it."

The motion was put and carried.

VI

MOTION UNDER RULE 24-A OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL RULES REGARDING THE TREATMENT ACCORDED TO POLITICAL PRISONERS IN JAILS.

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI :—" Mr. President, Sir, I rise to move--

' That this Council is of opinion that the Rules in the Jail Code relating to the classification of and the privileges granted to persons under trial for, and persons convicted of, offences against the State require immediate examination with a view to placing them in regard to concessions and privileges on the same footing as European prisoners.'

30th September 1929]. [Mr. S. Satyamurti]

" I have added the word ' for ', Sir, after the word ' trial ', as that is more grammatical. I should like to express my obligation and the obligation of my party to you and to the Government for having given facilities for this discussion being brought up this morning. The immediate necessity of this motion, Mr. President, is the supreme self-sacrifice of that young man, that young hero and patriot, Srijut Jatindranath Das who made that supreme sacrifice of his life in order to draw the attention of the Government and of the people of this country to the need for the better treatment of under-trial and political prisoners as honourable people. I am sure, if I am not mistaken, that the feeling of this Government is the same as the feeling of the Government of India as expressed by Sir James Crerar on the floor of the Legislative Assembly, as reported in the Hindu, in which Sir James Crerar is said to have stated : ' whatever the circumstances which resulted in Mr. Jatindranath Das's death, the Government sincerely deplored it. He hoped the House would accept the assurance from him as, whatever their criticism, they would acknowledge his honesty and candour.' And, Sir, there is also the Foreign Secretary speaking later in the same debate who agreed and said that ' he had no doubt that the unfortunate young man had gone to death for a cause in which he burningly believed '. I trust that the heart of this Government has also been touched, and that they look upon this question of the treatment of political prisoners with a sympathetic spirit and from a new point of view and, may I add, from a new and humane point of view.

" Sir, we may differ as to the method of this gentleman. But there is no doubt that hunger-strike for 63 days is a process which few souls, except the very bravest and the purest on earth, can really go through. And if Terrance McSwiney's sacrifice led to the dawn of Irish freedom, I have no doubt that the sacrifice of this young man, Jatindranath Das, will also have similar repercussions in this country. Sir, his sacrifice was not for anything except a very simple purpose, of asking for better and more human treatment of under-trial and political prisoners. As he stated himself, more than once, he wanted that men who have not yet been found guilty of any offence and men guilty of offences against the State, as they are generally called, should get better food and accommodation, supply of books and newspapers, and should be set only congenial tasks and should not be treated as felons.

" The urgency of the matter, Mr. President, is this: that this hunger-strike is still persisting and may spread, unless the Government take time by the forelock. It has been recognized that the Government of India have addressed the Local Governments, and I believe the Local Government are taking steps to consult non-official opinion. I trust in that sense that the Government will welcome this discussion as giving them an opportunity of ascertaining the feelings and the opinions of all sections of this House on this important matter. I only hope that they will not allow much time to elapse before they make up their minds and report to the Government of India, without saying that they should wait for a reasonable time—for time is one thing and eternity is another. (At this stage the Deputy President took the Chair).

" Now, I plead for this better treatment from three points of view. From the Government's own point of view, Madam, these prisoners or most of them are the salt of the earth, and they are in prison because they differ from the authority for the time being governing this country as to the methods of governing this country. And, let us not forget that while these persons are rotting in the prison or are being tried for political offences, the time will come very soon in this country, as it has come in other countries, when these men who are now treated as common felons will be the Government of this country. I am not romancing or exaggerating; the fact is that even to-day the British Cabinet which rules the British Empire contains four ex-convicts who were once sent to prison for having offended the laws of the United Kingdom. And you yourself know that, when Mr. Lloyd George was dealing with De Valera on the question of Irish independence, and when he was asked why he was dealing with Irish murderers, he replied, 'I can only deal with those who can deliver the goods'. And I assure this House, Madam, that when the time for settling the Indian question comes, if it ever comes, the persons who can deliver the goods on behalf of this nation will be mainly those who have been in prison or who will be in prison. Therefore, they are people who represent the country and the best in this country. And, moreover, if these people are in jail to-day, it is for their opinions. I am not quoting my own opinion but the opinion of one whom nobody can accuse of want of moderation or sanity or statesmanship, and he said :

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

'Have you heard anywhere in the world except in the American case mentioned by Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, where an accused resorted to hunger-strike? A man who resorts to hunger-strike is moved by his soul. He is not an ordinary criminal. You cannot prevent such crimes as Bhagat Singh and Dutt were responsible for in a country of 300 millions, however much we may all deplore those deeds. It is the damned system of Government which is resented. Remember the accused in the Lahore case are young men. Grey-bearded men like Mr. Cosgrave were sentenced to death, and Mr. Cosgrave himself was invited by His Majesty's Government to go and settle terms.'

"These were the words used by Mr. Muhammad Ali Jinnah on the floor of the Assembly; he is the leader of the independent party and a man respected by the Government and the people alike. Therefore I suggest that in this country, so long as the present system of Government continues, there are bound to be a very large number of people who will feel the humiliation of the foreign Government and will feel it their duty to create disaffection against the Government and go to His Majesty's prisons. And I suggest that such men must, even from the Government point of view, be treated with the respect and attention due to their station in life, and their high-souled patriotism. And in this connexion may I quote, Madam, the words of one whom the world regards as the greatest among mankind to-day? Mahatma Gandhi said before the District Judge who tried him :

'I hold it to be a virtue to be disaffected towards a Government which in its totality has done more harm to India than any previous system. India is less manly under the British rule than she ever was before. Holding such a belief, I consider it to be a sin to have affection for the system. And it has been a precious privilege for me to be able to write what I have in the various articles tendered in evidence against me.'

"That is the feeling, the universal feeling, of almost every thinking and patriotic Indian to-day. And I suggest that when they come under the notice of this Government such men are bound to go to prison so long as the State administers its present laws. From the point of view of the Government themselves, therefore, it is right that they should be treated with the respect and attention due to men of their position.

"And secondly under this head, from the Government's own point of view, Madam, I suggest that sportsmanship and chivalry for which the British nation claims, and generally rightly claims precedence over other nations dictate that they should stand by them and they should feel that these men are to be treated, not as ordinary convicts or as ordinary felons, but as gentlemen who are in the place where they are, because of the system of Government under which we are living.

[30th September 1929]

"Then, Madam, Deputy President, in this connexion I should like to quote the speech of my hon. Friend, the Minister for Education, who crossed the floor on the first No-Confidence motion in this House, because he felt that political prisoners should be treated better than how the then Leader of the Justice Party said that they should be treated. On the 28th November 1923, Madam, this is what he said :

'When the results of the general election were known, I thought that I would generally support the Ministry; but since then circumstances have altered and after what the hon. the Leader of the Party said yesterday in reply to my hon. and learned Friend the Member for University, that political prisoners were dacoits and robbers and deserved to be treated as such, I must say I have considerably altered my views for the simple reason that political prisoners are prisoners because of their conscience. Putting it personally a time may come when I myself am a matter of conscience go to prison. I think it inhuman that a person who is prepared to sacrifice himself for the sake of what he thinks is in the interests of his country should be treated as a dacoit. I must enter my emphatic protest against such a sentiment.'

"I sincerely trust that he has not altered his views since then, and, if he has not, when the time comes for voting on this motion, I will know. Meantime, I merely suggest that even a man whom Government have taken over as the Chief Minister of this Government holds those views, with which I entirely agree. Therefore, the point of view from which I want hon. Members of this House to consider this matter is that any one of us may find oneself in this position, on account of one's belief or conscience. I want to impress that these political prisoners are there because of the high motives and impulses that actuate them.

"Lastly under this head, Madam, the Government's own prestige requires that they ought to try these men with the courtesy and attention due to them. The present treatment of these men shows their melancholy meanness; and far from achieving the object which the Government should have in enforcing these sections and punishing them, namely of putting down hatred and contempt against the Government, this bad treatment, I think, adds to the hatred and contempt against the Government. I venture to say this not in a spirit of carping criticism, but in a spirit of understanding the feeling in the country. I should be very much surprised if I find any Indian Member of this House rising to support the Government in its present policy of treating political prisoners.

"The second point from which I commend this motion to the unanimous acceptance of this House is that this is the point of view of the prisoners themselves. Is it the object of the Government to break the souls of these heroes, most of them young, brave, patriotic, independent people? I assure the Government that they would not succeed in breaking their souls, because if repression will come more than ever in this country, you will find these men only better and more prepared for sacrificing themselves on the altar of their motherland. The Government may make them physical wrecks and make them die premature, early deaths, but they cannot certainly break their souls. I ask, is it manly, is it not unworthy? On this, let a Liberal Secretary of State speak as to the manner in which the Government should treat such men as the Government think they should shut up. Lord Morley, who was the 12 noon.

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

[30th September 1929]

Secretary of State at the time when Lord Minto was the Viceroy of India, said :—

'I must confess to you that I am watching with the deepest concern and dismay the thundering sentences that are now being passed for sedition, etc. I read to-day that stone-throwers in Bombay are getting twelve months! This is really outrageous. The sentences on the two Tinnevely-Tuticorin men are wholly indefensible—one gets transportation for life, the other for ten years. I am to have the judgment by the next mail, and meanwhile . . . thinks he has said enough when he tells me that "the learned judge was in no doubt as to the criminality of the two men." This may have been all right, but such sentences? They cannot stand. I cannot on any terms whatever consent to defend such monstrous things. I do therefore urgently solicit your attention to these wrongs and follies! We must keep order, but excess of severity is not the path to order. On the contrary it is the path to the bomb.'

"Then, later on, Madam, he says :—

'And the fundamental question for you and for me to-day is whether the excited Corporal and the angry Planter are to be the arbiters of our policy. True, we should be fools to leave out of account the deep roots of feeling that the angry Planter represents and stands for. On the other hand, is it not idle for us to pretend to the Natives that we wish to understand their sentiment, and satisfy the demands of "honest reformers", and the rest of our benignant talk, and yet silently acquiesce in all these violent sentences? You will say to me, "These legal proceedings are at bottom acts of war against rebels, and locking a rebel up for life is more affable and polite than blowing him from a gun: you must not measure such sentences by the ordinary standards of a law-court; they are the natural and proper penalties for mutiny, and the Judge on the bench is really the Provost-Marshal in disguise." Well, be it so. But if you push me into a position of this sort—and I don't deny that it is a perfectly tenable position, if you like—then I drop reforms. I won't talk any more about the New Spirit of the Times; and I'll tell Asquith that I'm not the man for the work, and that what it needs, if he can put his hand on him, is a good, sound, old-fashioned Eldonian Secretary of State. Pray remember that there is to be a return of these sentences laid before Parliament. They will be discussed, and somebody will have to defend them. That somebody I won't be.'

"I think, Madam, the passage is very relevant to-day. On the one hand, the Government appeal constantly for trust and friendship and for a proper gesture being made in that direction. If there is any sincerity in these professions and protestations, I do suggest that the Government who want our co-operation should show their sincerity, by a better and a more humane treatment of political prisoners who are in jail to-day. Moreover, if to-day these people are being treated as they are treated, the result, Madam, is like the one as depicted in a book which contains the results of a series of enquiries conducted into the conditions of English prison life. They came to the conclusion that this inhuman treatment leads to this :—

'Such are the principal characteristics of the mental life of the political offender, a life of progressive mental deterioration, perhaps more accurately defined as one of "regression" to the primitive and uncultivated basis of mental life. The process is one which, to a greater or lesser extent, undoes the effects of education and civilization, and at times engenders distinctly abnormal states of mind resembling the forms of insanity that occur among ordinary offenders.'

"The history of repression in Bengal and the history of the Punjab repression supply examples of what the fate of these people has been. I do not think, Madam, that the Government want that their treatment of these people should lead them to such suffering, death and martyrdom.

"But I do suggest that the only way in which the Government can deal with this question is to deal with these men not as mere units taking their place in a particular prison, but as individual units, requiring cultural and sympathetic treatment, so that the Government will not be liable to the charge of having been petty or mean towards these prisoners. The real reason why these political prisoners are not treated better is that we have been often told on the floor of this House by the hon. Members of Government that 'there is no such class of prisoners as political prisoners in our dictionary; therefore we cannot treat them separately.' The President of the Washington International Prison Congress animadverted in these words on prison reform :—

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

'Nothing, in my opinion, has so much retarded progress in this direction as the old idea of a "criminal type"—i.e., of persons predestined to crime by certain inherited, or atavistic, stigmata, mental or physical. If modern science has succeeded in modifying, if not destroying this conception, it will encourage us in our work of "individualization"—it will give us faith and hope, and in all the prison systems of the world, that will be best where the arrangements admit of the greatest individual attention being given to each individual case.'

"I say that in the case of every political prisoner in the country there is certainly great need for this individual attention.

"The third point from which I commend this motion to the unanimous acceptance of the House is the point of view of the people of India. I may assure this House, Madam, that we, the people of India, look upon these political prisoners with great respect, admiration and affection. If you had any doubts on the matter, the funeral demonstration at the death of Jatindra-nath Das must have removed all your doubts or pessimism about the matter; and in fact, when these political prisoners are treated so badly, I may assure the House, that all of us feel individually, the bad treatment. There is a beautiful story in our Tamil literature, that, during the time of the Pandiyan kings a woman was unable to respond to the call of the king to give labour to repair a flooded river and she prayed to God, and the God assuming the disguise of the labourer appeared before the king and rendered service. The king it appears gave him a blow, and the blow that he gave left a mark on the back of everybody including the king. That, roughly, is the feeling of most people of this country. When these men to whom we look up with admiration and respect are treated badly, every one of us feels that it is a personal treatment of his own self. Whatever the offences of the hunger-strikers, and whatever these people might have done, I think we all should pay homage for their making a supreme sacrifice for the abolition of racial distinctions which exists in our prisons.

"That is the point to which I am taking this House. This motion requires that in respect of the concessions and privileges granted to under-trial prisoners and persons convicted of offences against the State, they should be placed on the same footing as European prisoners. Madam, I may say that I was astonished at the enormous difference in treatment between the European and Indian prisoners in jails. Now, who are these Europeans? This special treatment is given not only to Europeans, who are British subjects, but also to Americans and others whether or not they are British subjects. They may be Turks, Russians, Italians or even those Huns, as they were called during the last war, viz., Germans.

"People from other countries come here and commit murders and other crimes, and even the tallest among us, Mahatma Gandhi or Desabandhu Das, would not be treated with a tenth of the attention and courtesy that is given to an European criminal belonging to any primitive country or savage country. An Italian, a German, a South African, a Canadian or New Zealander, any one of these will be better treated than the best of us.

"We are often told that we must not raise racial questions. I put it to the self-respecting Europeans whether it is right if in our own country a European commits murder, he should be treated better, because of his skin,

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

[30th September 1929]

than the highest black or brown man of this country. Then I ask, is there any other country in the whole civilized world, where this differential treatment is given to prisoners other than their own countrymen? Does Canada do it? Does America do it? Why should India be a museum for all these anti-deluvian laws or rules? What is the justification for all this? I think of none, except, that the prestige of colour even if it be the colour of the worst criminal, should be maintained.

"Then we are told that Europeans must have certain comforts afforded them in jail in view of their standard of living. I should like to know, whether the Government have considered the case of Indian prisoners as to the diet which is necessary for them, as to the conveyances for under-trial prisoners and other things. I plead by this motion, Madam, for the better treatment of all political prisoners and for the abolition of racial distinction. Even the tallest among them have to bow to the smallest among Europeans. I am glad that the Government of India have addressed the Local Governments on this matter. I should like to know what this Government propose to do. Are they going to consult non-official opinion? If so, what kind of non-official opinion? Is it the kind of opinion which says 'ditto' to whatever the Government say? They must consult leaders and those who have actually suffered incarceration and are therefore in a position to speak with first-hand knowledge of the conditions prevalent in jails. I do suggest that they must take courage in both hands and reform the whole system, making it much more human and less mechanical than it is.

"Now, Madam, I crave the patience of the House, for a few moments when I take them through the restrictions and humiliations placed on Indian prisoners, while concessions are given to European prisoners for no reasons whatever. Let us take first the question of diet. In the chapter under 'Diet' we have got two classes 'Europeans' and 'other prisoners'. I must pause for a minute and explain to the House, Madam, if I may, that the word 'Europeans' has got a special meaning in the Jail Manual; that is to say, not only Europeans by birth, but also those whom the Government may class as Europeans for this purpose. Therefore the Government have got to perform a new Namakaramam for some 'other prisoners' and call them Europeans so as to entitle them to these concessions. That is the inferiority complex under which our Government labours to-day. So far as a European is concerned, he gets 18 oz. of bread every day in the week, 6 oz. of fresh meat on Wednesdays and Sundays, 6 oz. of fresh fish on Tuesdays and Fridays, 4 oz. of potatoes every day, 4 oz. of rice for three days and 3 oz. of rice for four days, 2 oz. of the European suji for four days, 4 oz. of dhal for three days and 1½ oz. for four days,—mark these prisoners have this luxury, i.e., 2 oz. of cheese every alternate day, 6 oz. vegetables every day, ½ oz. cocotine every day, ¾ oz. salt every day, 1½ oz. sugar every day, onions, 1 oz., tea 2 pints, curry powder ¼ oz., milk ¼ pint, all these on every day. Then there are three meals for each day, breakfast, dinner and supper. Many labourers even in their great country do not always get these things. Then one of the rules for the Europeans is 'the best brown bread is to be issued.'

"And now comes the other side of the picture. Under 'Indian prisoners' there are two classes, labouring male convicts and non-labouring male convicts, females and under-trial prisoners. The labouring male convicts get 15 oz. of ragi, cholam or cumbu, 5 oz. of rice, 5 oz. of dhal, 8 oz. of vegetables,

30th September 1929]

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

½ oz. each of oil and tamarind and onions, ¼ oz. of salt and ¼ oz. of curry powder. Then, Indian prisoners sentenced to labour get three meals daily, in the morning 4 oz. cereal grain or rice, midday 9 oz. and evening 7 oz. That is all the Indian prisoner gets. (Mr. C. S. Gowindaraja Mudaliyar: 'Do all these go to him?') That is more than I can say. Even in sickness, the hospital diet varies according to the colour of the patient. I do not want to waste the time of the House, but it is a very impressive list. Their dinner or supper makes my mouth water, it is so rich. As for Indian convicts, when they get ill, they get only a few extras, which do not bear any comparison with the extravagant or generous scale on which the European hospital prisoners are treated. Then, when these people are put on punishment diet, even then it varies according to the skin of the convict. Penal diet for Europeans and others so classed: 1½ lb. of bread per diem with water; for Indians on mixed diet: 16 oz. sifted ragi or cholam flour with ½ oz. of salt per diem with water; for Indians on rice diet: 16 oz. of rice with ½ oz. of salt per diem with water. That is so far as punishment diet is concerned. As for fuel, the Indians get only 1 lb. per head, whereas the European must get 2 lb.—meticulous distinctions which run throughout the whole Code are illustrated page after page. Then, with regard to the clothing and bedding of prisoners—

'European convicts, convict overseers and warders and females and under-trials to whom it may be necessary to issue clothing from the jail stock, shall be provided with clothing of white cotton material. The clothing of male Indian convicts . . . shall consist of a short jacket, short breeches, cap and langooi. These articles shall constitute a suit. No pocket or opening in the lining shall be allowed. The clothing of an Indian female convict shall consist of a single cloth 8 yards in length and 42 inches in width and a ravikai, etc.'

"Then every Indian male convict shall be provided with two suits and every female Indian convict with two cloths and two ravikais.

"Now, let us turn to the European prisoners. The following is the scale of clothing and bedding annually (to Indians it is once in two years) to male convicts who are Europeans or others so classed, viz.,—

'Coats, cotton 2, trousers, cotton 2, pairs of braces 1, shorts, cotton 2, flannel banians 2, sleeping drawers, cotton 2, night shirts, cotton 2, pairs of socks 2, boots, pairs 2, handkerchiefs 2, sun-hat (pith) 1, towels 2, comb 1, pillow cases 2, straw mat 1, mattress 1, woollen blanket 1. For female prisoners, bodices or jackets, petticoats, etc.'

"There is a note below which says: 'The scale of bedding shall be the same as for male prisoners. The flannel banian shall be issued on the 1st October and withdrawn on the 1st March. Europeans shall be allowed a sufficient supply of soap, and changes of linen and towels at such intervals as the Superintendent may direct.' The Indians can have no such changes. Yet we find an Indian Member in charge of the portfolio! As for Indian prisoners, the bedding shall consist of a cumby and a coir or aloe mat.

'The mat shall be 8 feet in length and two and a half feet in breadth, so that one end may be rolled up to form a pillow. Where pials with a headrest exist, the length of the mat need not exceed 6 feet. A cumby should last for two years and a mat for five years. No prisoner shall be allowed to wear his cumby while at work. In jails on the West Coast a second cumby may also be supplied during the monsoon, if necessary.'

"Then, as regards the cutting of the hair—

'Every male convict sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for a longer term than one month shall, on final confirmation of the sentence, or expiry of the period of appeal without an appeal having been preferred . . . have his head close shaved, or, if a European prisoner so classed, his hair clipped, and shall be subsequently shaved or clipped not less seldom than once in every fifteen days. . . . In the case of Europeans and others so classed the hair shall not be clipped closer than is necessary for purposes of health and cleanliness.'

[Mr. S. Satyamurti] [30th September 1929]

"Then as to washing—

'Prisoners, after having washed, shall be carefully searched by a jail official. Female prisoners shall be searched and the washing conducted in the female yard. European and other prisoners so classed shall wash and be searched in a European yard, or in a cell, and not in the presence of other prisoners.'

"So far as we Indians are concerned, we have no self-respect, we have no sense of shame! We are compared to brutes; but once your skin is white you become decent and respectable.

"As for cells, every male European prisoner can be provided with a cell; he gets a special room as it were in these jails. And even the Inspector-General of Prisons must discharge certain duties with respect to the proper accommodation of these people. While he may visit other jails as and where he chooses, he 'shall inspect every Central, District and Special Jail at least once in every calendar year, and shall inspect the Penitentiary, Madras, and any other prisons in which Europeans or Americans are kept in penal servitude at least once in six months.' Then there is a rule which says, 'On the admission into a jail, other than the Penitentiary and the Civil Jail, Madras, of any European as a convict for any period in excess of 15 days a nominal roll in Form No. 52 shall be forwarded to the Inspector-General.' Then there are rules 873—878. Rule 875 provides 'Europeans shall keep their cells, utensils, clothing and bedding clean and neatly arranged, and shall sweep the yards, passages and such other parts of the prison as may be allotted to their use. They shall also be required to take their food in their own cells, that is to say, they get separate serving.

12-30 • "Then as regards Europeans: 'Every European prisoner who is required p.m. to work in the cell shall be allowed such exercise daily in the open air as the medical officer considers necessary.' Indians do not want exercise! 'Every European Christian prisoner who can read shall be supplied with a Bible and a Prayer Book of the denomination to which he belongs'. May I invite the attention of the hon. Member from Trichinopoly, who perpetually apologises for the Government, to the fact that all Christians do not get this concession? Only the European Christian gets a Bible and a Prayer Book. Madam, this distinction does not stop even at death. It still continues. 'The death of every European prisoner shall be reported without delay to the nearest magistrate and if practicable, to the nearest relatives of the deceased.' When an Indian dies in jail, nobody cares for his body. It is simply buried. But if a European dies, forsooth of his skin, the nearest magistrate must be told and his relatives must be told. If, after hearing this, there are Indian members here who would extend their support to the present system, God only can help them.

"Then we have the special class prisoners. The Government may say that people can be treated under that class and given special concession. I speak subject to correction, Madam, but I believe that this special division prisoners are prisoners who have been selected for inclusion in that division by the convicting court from among those who are sentenced to simple imprisonment. I may say that in their case there are some privileges given; but I trust that the House will agree with me when I demand that, so far as all prisoners of the kind I have dealt with in this motion are concerned, whether they are convicted and sentenced to simple imprisonment or rigorous imprisonment, they should be treated as special class prisoners and given privileges which, we feel they deserve by their education, by their high-souled patriotism and position in life.

• 30th September 1929] [Mr. S. Satyamurti]

"The Prisons Act itself in sections 31 and 33, Madam, requires that people who are under-trial for criminal offences should be treated separately, and should not be put under any greater restraint, than is absolutely necessary for detaining them in jail.

"Now, there is one rule about star-class prisoners, as they are called. I should like to know how that system is being worked in Madras. I say that all these concessions which are now given to the European prisoners in the matter of conveyance from one place to another, in the matter of interviews with relatives or friends, in the matter of supply of books and newspapers, in the matter of correspondence with their own families, should be given to under-trial prisoners and persons convicted of offences against the State. I say they should be given more privileges, and not humiliated and treated as they are treated to-day.

"I quite agree, Madam, that even when a Swaraj Government is established in this country there may be people who may have to be treated and accused of sedition against that Government, and we shall deal with them through our courts of law. But I do suggest that when swaraj does come, there will not be political offences of this kind, committed by such high-souled men who are actuated by their patriotism to do things, as they are doing to-day; for the burning desire for self-government and national honour, or thirst for swaraj will no longer exist. There will be other political offences, but a genuine and democratic Swaraj Government will and must deal with political prisoners, in the manner I have suggested.

"Now, so far as the English prison system goes, they have achieved something of this kind, and I want that we must do something in our country to see that our people are not reduced to the level of ordinary criminals. In a very interesting book on the English prison system I read:

'Our prison system has, in recent years, been subjected to a very severe test by the fact that of necessity penal treatment in prison primarily designed for the criminal classes has been applied to thousands of individuals in no way belonging to that class, whom it has been necessary to commit to prison under the Defence of the Realm Act, either as conscientious objectors to military service or otherwise for the safety of the realm. It is not denied that the prison rules and regulations press hardly on men and women who, under normal circumstances, would never have become the subject of these punitive repressive conditions which are inseparable from the deprivation of liberty by the State. It is not an exaggeration to say that harshness and abuse of authority are as rare in English prisons as instances and examples of kind and considerate treatment are abundant. It is in the upright and manly attributes of our warder class, typical of the English national character that a great reforming influence is to be found.'

"But to-day, in our prisons, Madam, the system of convict-warders has given rise, and is giving rise, to grave abuses; and the result is that the lovers of the country are going to prisons under the most depressing conditions.

"I venture to suggest that this is not a party question. This is a human question; and I may say to the Indian occupants of the Treasury Benches that they would not be there to-day but for the sacrifice of these good and true men in the cause of the country. It is not because of your wonderful powers as hon. Members, that you are there. It is, because of the sacrifice of thousands of young men, and in order to rally the moderates to the Government, they are giving these plums of office to you; and I venture to put it to you that you owe your position to-day, not to the favours of this bureaucrat or that, but to the shining sacrifice of these patriots and selfless men.

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

[30th September 1929]

"I put it to the friends of the so-called depressed classes that they are living to-day in very great times and that they will never come up from the position which they hold to-day, if they do not break the so-called laws which keep them there. The time will come when they will have to suffer for their conscience; I appeal to them to remember that this is a position in which anyone may find oneself placed any day.

"I put it to the Ministerialists that they are not expected to support the Reserved half of the Government which is responsible to-day for the management of our jails, and I appeal to them to vote for this motion.

"I have no doubt in my mind that the Justice party is going to vote for this motion, because I had a talk with the leader of that party; I hope I am not breaking any confidence, when I say that they feel with me on this question, that political prisoners ought to be treated better, and given these privileges and concessions, and ought to be placed in a class by themselves.

"Madam, I want to conclude by saying that we are asking for no favour. We recognize, I, as a Congress member, recognize, that we are out to displace this Government by a Swaraj Government, by all legitimate and peaceful means. Self-interest and the instinct of self-preservation must prompt you to fight us; but fight us with clean weapons. Fight us, but do not hit us below the belt. Send us to prison if you like, but treat us as men who are at least your equals, who can take the places which you are now occupying to-day and who will take your places very soon, when this country comes by her own. Therefore, I merely want that the question of political prisoners and their better treatment should be treated, not as a small administrative question, but as a great and fundamental human question in which all who feel with me that these men who are suffering are the brightest gems of any class — and if some of us still hope for a great future for this country it is because there are hundreds and thousands of men amongst us who are willing to make this supreme self-sacrifice — ought at least to stand here, and demand and get for them those conditions of treatment, which obtain in every civilized country, in respect of political prisoners.

"India is bound to get Swaraj, sooner than some people believe; and when that time comes I hope no memories of bitterness will be left behind. When a great country makes up its mind to obtain freedom, there is no power on earth, no, not even Great Britain, which can stand in its way. The only question is whether that freedom is to be obtained by the co-operation of England and India or by India in spite of England. I appeal to the better sense of every hon. Member of this House to see that we shall do everything in our power, that we shall leave nothing undone in our power, to see that when that glorious dawn of freedom comes to this country, India and England will have achieved that freedom by good-will and co-operation. I do not know if that is possible; but whether it is possible or not, depends to a large extent on the way in which the front ranks of our soldiers of freedom who are carrying on this fight cheerfully against tremendous odds are being treated by the foreign Government. Let them treat our patriots like gentlemen so as to leave a grateful memory behind; and let not their treatment be such as will enter into our souls and leave bitterness there. I expect the House to demand of the Government that they shall no longer treat these prisoners as ordinary felons, but as gentlemen and high-souled patriots suffering for causes which they believe to be right and suffering not for themselves but for others, whom it should be a privilege for any Government to honour. I have great pleasure in moving this motion."

[30th September 1929]

* MR. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"In seconding this motion, Madam, I wish to state even at the outset that it is nearly a decade since any comprehensive enquiry was instituted into the administration of the jails in this Presidency. It is no doubt true that a few improvements were effected in the administration of the jails during those troublous times when the Government had to meet with heavy odds, that is, in 1921 or 1922. But even the improvements that were effected during that time were very meagre and unsatisfactory. The two questions that are now facing the Government on the one side and the public on the other are the treatment of under-trial prisoners and the treatment of prisoners who have been sentenced to simple imprisonment on account of their activities connected with political movements. It cannot be denied at this stage and especially after the events that have recently occurred and are occurring from day to day that the rules that are now applicable to the treatment of prisoners, both under trial and also convicted, need very urgent examination and overhauling. It is not enough, Madam, if after hearing the speeches made on the floor of this House, the Government seek to make an amendment here and an amendment there. It would not also be enough if they compare the rules that are now existing in our province with those that are obtaining in other provinces and then make some changes in one or two places so as to tide over the trouble for the time being. I plead, Madam, that the introduction of changes based on a thorough and very satisfactory scheme is quite necessary and is even very urgent.

"With regard to under-trial prisoners, I have seriously thought about the question of their being confined even before they are sentenced to any punishment. The under-trials are arrested by police officers on the pretext of some offences which are alleged against them. But the Penal Code and the Criminal Procedure Code have laid down that certain offences are to be bailable and others non-bailable and on that ground the alleged offenders are kept in custody and remanded very often to prison.

(At this stage the hon. the President occupied the chair.)

"As long as these prisoners against whom offences are alleged are not convicted or sentenced by a competent court of law, there is no equity in their being confined to prison even though it be under the rules laid down in the Code. Under-trial prisoners are innocent as any other gentlemen outside the prison and there is no reason or justification for their being treated as prisoners even before they are convicted of any offence. I quite admit that so far as under-trial prisoners are concerned, the rules made should be consistent with the safe custody of the prisoners and the discipline of the jail, but they should also be consistent with their being given necessary facilities for proving themselves innocent in the court of law. But the case is different with regard to convicted prisoners. It is quite necessary that all the rules that are made with regard to convicted prisoners should be consistent with the principles of penal detention. The same principles as are applicable to convicted prisoners should not be applied to under-trial prisoners. And I presume that Government think, at any rate the Government of India think, that the rules made in the case of under-trial prisoners should be as liberal as those in the case of special division convicts. I submit this is not enough. For, the rules laid down for special division convicts, specially in the case of Indians, are very rarely adhered to or given effect to. It is not enough to say merely that the rules applicable to under-trial prisoners should be made as liberal as possible. With regard to under-trial prisoners who have been taken charge of by jail authorities, there are one or two things which require very careful and very urgent consideration at the hands of the Government. The first is with regard to their diet. The diet as at present supplied, as has been pointed out by the Mover, is hardly appreciable. The scale of diet now supplied is half-starving, to say the least of it, from the point of view of both quality and quantity. The under-trials are allowed nominally to get their food from outside, but the restrictions imposed on the food that could be supplied to them from outside are such as to make it quite impossible for any supply of food at all to under trial prisoners. The Government should take steps to institute one or two special scales of food and that should be provided at the expense of the Government. It is hardly reasonable to expect under-trial prisoners when they lose their avocations and get themselves discredited among their friends and among the society, to be in a position to make arrangements for their food being got from outside. There should be a liberal scale of diet for all under-trial political prisoners and that scale should be strictly adhered to and provided for by Government. It is hardly fair that political prisoners who are undergoing their trials should be treated on the same footing as prisoners who are convicts and who are undergoing detention. Government do not consider the difference between their motives or the nature of their offences but I think the Government are not only bound to give regard to the social status, education and character of the under-trial prisoners but also to keep in view the motive underlying their offences. With regard to the question of conveyance, Mr. President, Government have been very hard upon these under-trial prisoners. They have asked even men like Mr. Bulusu Sambamurti to walk the distance with their luggage in their hands or on their shoulders. In some jails the prison vans are supplied, but it is not intelligible why the Government, especially the Police officials, who take these under-trial prisoners to courts which are situated at a distance, should, in a cruel manner, make them walk. Ordinary convicts without any social position, without any education and without any character, may be asked to walk the distance if there are no conveyances, but people like Mr. Bulusu Sambamurti and Mr. M. S. Subrahmanya Ayyar who have seen jail life on account of their political convictions, hardly deserve the treatment which the irresponsible police officials are giving them. It may be said that the question of conveyance to under-trial prisoners is purely a question which concerns the police, but I suppose the Government have got enough of authority over the police to make them not to resort to such practices but provide what is really necessary, viz., conveyances for conveying these under-trial prisoners to courts. I submit, Mr. President, that it is hardly fair in any circumstances that under-trial prisoners who undergo their trial on account of their political convictions should be made to walk the distance with hand-cuffs and other restrictions that are imposed out of revenge by police officials. With regard to journeys by rail, the same consideration that applies to Europeans when they are taken to jail ought to apply to Indians also. When Europeans are taken to jail they are taken undoubtedly in a higher class carriage. When Indians are taken, they are taken in the third class and in such a manner as to make them feel humiliated among those who come into contact with them. They should also be given a higher class fare and better facilities than what are now given to them, in consideration of their status, education character.

[Mr. Basheer Ahmad Sayeed] [30th September 1929]

"Again, with regard to the accommodation of under-trial prisoners in jail, there have been many complaints that political prisoners are often classed—though the rules do not permit—and put in with other under-trial prisoners who are imprisoned for ordinary offences such as felony, murder, etc. Political under-trial prisoners should be kept separate, but the separation should not deteriorate into keeping each prisoner by himself in a separate cell without facilities for intercourse with others. That really is more serious from the point of view of the prisoner. If a prisoner who is accustomed to society is kept separate and if he is not allowed to exchange views or ideas with others, it is a much worse kind of punishment than even solitary confinement. I quite admit that ordinary offenders should be separated from other political prisoners, but when people are charged with the same offences and are tried in the same court, there is hardly any justification for their being put separately from each other without allowing them facilities to have any intercourse.

"Then with regard to furniture supplied to European convicts, these convicts are given every kind of furniture that is required for them. In the case of Indians, they are allowed no furniture, but if any is allowed, that furniture is to be approved by the Superintendent and very often the Superintendent never approves many types of necessary furniture. I submit that every necessary furniture should be supplied to under-trial political prisoners at Government expense without any limitations or restrictions.

"With regard to convicted political prisoners, I submit that the classification that is now in vogue is hardly fair or justifiable. As has been pointed out by the hon. Mover of the resolution, political prisoners, most of them, do hold a position, do hold some status and are men of character and men of education. They should be classed as a special class of prisoners. There is now a class called special division under the existing rules, but the privileges available to that division are not allowed in the case of any Indian prisoner whatsoever, whether political or non-political. I do not see why, when the Government maintain a list of offences the commission of which exclude any privilege being given to prisoners, those people who are convicted of political offences should not be excluded from that list. The classification which excludes certain class of prisoners from being given special treatment ought to be modified and within that list of specially privileged prisoners, political prisoners ought to be included as well. All political prisoners irrespective of their motive, irrespective of the nature of their offences, must be taken as deserving special treatment. Even where special treatment is supposed to be given, the rules that have been laid down in this province in particular are so retrograde and restricted in their scope and application that what seems to be given or allowed by one rule, is taken away by the subsequent rule or part thereof. With regard to the criteria for classification, the Government may hold that it should not be dependent upon the nature of offence or the motive thereof, but I submit that the motive should always be taken into consideration. It may not be the sole guiding criterion for deciding whether the offender or the convict is entitled to special treatment, but the motive should also be taken into consideration when the classification is made. This human aspect must be one of the criteria to decide whether any person is entitled to special privileges or not. It will be necessary for the Government at this stage to issue a list of offences the commission of which does not entitle the offender or convict to any special consideration. But that list should exclude all kinds of political offences and that list must be more elastic and more reasonable. The classifying authority for purposes of special treatment for prisoners should not in all cases be the Magistrate alone in his absolute authority; it should also be the Government or the convicting court. It may be desirable that the court should state soon after the sentence or remand whether the prisoner deserves special treatment or not. The court may do so, but it must be subject, in my opinion, sometimes to the approval of the Government. The rules also should be so modified as to give opportunities to prisoners to apply to the Government for being given special privileges or for being included in special divisions or to the Government itself to take the initiative in the matter. In addition to making the classification depend upon the nature of the offences, it will be necessary to have a list of offences which require special treatment, incorporated in the rules; all political offences should be considered as offences deserving special treatment at the hands of the jail authorities, and they must be included in the special division which requires further elaboration in respect of privileges.

"Mr. President, Sir, with regard to the right of interviews given to the convicts, many restrictions are imposed which make an interview quite useless. There are restrictions that the interviewers and the interviewed should stand at a distance, in and between them coming the iron bars; the time of the interview also is restricted. Before the interview and after the interview, the convicts are subjected to a lot of irksome and annoying processes. Writing of letters to relatives is restricted in such a way as to make writing of any letters futile and unnecessary; letters should not contain any complaints against jail authorities or the hardships they are suffering. If any interview is published by the interviewer, the convict loses the right of being interviewed again. He is thus punished for no fault of his. If the interviewer publishes any of the grievances of the prisoner, the convict will be punished for it. These restrictions must be removed, especially those in regard to interviews with legal advisers. In the case of under-trials, for instance, the hours when interviews could be had by legal advisers should be definitely fixed for each day and they should be from 10 a.m. in the morning up to 5 p.m. The rules regarding special division require thorough revision and overhauling. The rules framed by the Government of this province, when compared with those of other provinces like Bengal, are reactionary, self-contradictory and stultifying in many cases. In the first sentence of the rule, it is stated that cooked food may be allowed from outside. But the next sentence says no cooked food should be allowed by the Superintendent within the jail premises. One rule gives the prisoners the right of being provided with cooking utensils; the next rule gives discretion to the Superintendent to take away the cooking utensils. The rules laying down that suitable books may be supplied connote nothing. Who is the judge to decide what is suitable and what is not suitable? These things are not clearly stated in the rules. Newspapers are absolutely forbidden. If political prisoners are confined within the jails, there is no reason why they should not be allowed to read newspapers. Reading of newspapers is not going to turn tables within the jail; nor are the newspapers going to enable the convicts to escape or get out of control or break the discipline of the jails. The rooms in which these political prisoners are often confined are ill-ventilated and small and hardly is there room enough for the convicts to move about. Political emblems are excluded according to jail rules; even Gandhi cap has been excluded in certain jails and khaddar is evidently supposed to be a symbol of politics. I submit that the rules regarding political emblems ought to be modified so as to remove this denial of right to a man who is convicted of a political offence to wear the political symbol which he likes. The rules that were modified in 1922 for the special class division should all be made applicable with some modifications and further elaborations to all political prisoners. Political prisoners should, at the time of their conviction, be classified as being eligible for special concessions and privileges and as coming under the class of special division prisoners. With these words, I beg to second this motion."

[30th September 1929] [Mr. Basheer Ahmed Sayeed]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is:—

'That this Council is of opinion that the Rules in the Jail Code relating to the classification of and the privileges granted to persons under trial and persons convicted of offences against the State require immediate examination with a view to placing them in regard to concessions and privileges on the same footing as European prisoners.'"

* Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—"Mr. President, Sir, the mournful tragedy that took place in the Lahore Jail has attracted world-wide attention and since then this issue has been so exhaustively dealt with by the Legislative Assembly, that it is unnecessary to go at length into the details of this matter or to discuss the various rules with reference to the treatment of prisoners in jails. The existing rules in the Jail Manual classify political prisoners and the hon. Member for the University has drawn attention to some rules. I believe the reason why he drew pointed attention of the House to the treatment of European prisoners, is only to show that greater care and attention is necessary in the case of Indian prisoners. I believe it is not intended to cast any reflection on the treatment of the European prisoners as being partial but only to show that a higher standard should be adopted in the matter of the treatment of Indian prisoners. Since under-trial prisoners are presumed to be innocent till they are proved to be guilty, there is no reason why they should be treated as if they are convicted prisoners. They should have the same treatment they would have in their own homes or places according to their social position, their education and character; they are entitled to be treated as gentlemen before they are proved to be guilty. At least on that one ground, if not on any other ground, the Government ought to feel that the rules regarding the treatment of under-trial prisoners should not be rigorous. They should be treated without any reference to the nature of the offence they are charged with. While on this matter, I should like to say that these facts were so well brought home to the Government of India by the telling speeches of Messrs. Jayakar and Jinnah that the Government of India agreed to circulate

[Sir A. P. Patro]

[30th September 1929]

the matter to Local Governments. I hope that the circulation that is going on now in this province will result in something substantial, and will not be merely a tinkering with rules as an eye-wash; there is no use of some tinkering here or some modifications there; I hope that the Government will take courage to change the rules governing the treatment of under-trial prisoners. I hope that the Government will not oppose the motion before the House after what took place in the Assembly.

"With regard to the treatment of prisoners who have been found guilty by courts of justice, it has been pressed on our attention that treatment should depend on the motive for the commission of the offence and not on the offence itself. There is difference of opinion on this matter. We cannot exclude the consideration of the nature of the offence a person has committed. I do not want to deal with this aspect of the question in detail. But I certainly want that these persons who have brought themselves under the provisions of the Penal Code purely out of political motives require to be treated with a certain amount of consideration, because they did not commit the offences for their selfish ends but in the interests of the country. In such cases, therefore, greater consideration should be shown to such persons than that shown to offenders against property or person. If we have these fundamental rules in mind, I am sure that we will be able to arrive at the right conclusion that the treatment of under-trial and of convicted political prisoners should be different from that given to persons committing offences against person or property, when the motive is entirely different from these cases. It is for the trying judge to decide this matter. A distinction has necessarily to be made in the classification of the prisoners. How the classification is to be made is a difficult matter. We have discussed here the principles that should govern the classification of prisoners. Political prisoners are certainly entitled to get greater liberty and greater consideration than ordinary prisoners. As I said, it is unnecessary to go into the detail, into the nature of the offences committed by the persons, and into the question of bedding, diet, etc. If the general principles are accepted and if it is agreed that these persons should be treated according to their social position, then the rules will, necessarily, have to be altered. If the diet that is given to an European is given to an Indian, the latter would at once refuse it. The diet that is given to Europeans may be in the nature of things more costly than that given to the Indian. Indians would not take the diet that is given to Europeans. Discrimination is necessary in such matters. Indians should be so treated as not to feel that they are not respected or that they are wanting in their self-respect. Europeans and Indians have different standards of life. What may be suitable to one may not be suitable to the other. But what we want is that we Indians living in our own country are entitled to the best treatment that we can have."

* Mr. C. E. Wood :—"Mr. President, Sir, I agree with much of what has been said on this question of the treatment of political prisoners. It seems to me that the motion is useful to ventilate the ideas and feelings of hon. Members on this question. My hon. Friend, Sir Patro, has reminded us that the Government are at present enquiring into this matter. I think hon. Members have seen that there is correspondence already passing between the Government of India and the Local Government on this question, and that correspondence points to the fact that the Government have recognized that the treatment of political prisoners should be modified in some way."

[30th September 1929]

[Mr. C. E. Wood]

"It seems, therefore, that at the present stage, it is not necessary to press this resolution. The resolution only calls for an examination of the rules, in its first portion. My hon. Friend, Mr. Satyamurti, has undoubtedly shown wherein various grievances exist. But I think that—with all due respect to my hon. Friend Mr. Satyamurti—some of the instances that he gave are not quite to the point. For instance, I do not agree with him when he says that a man necessarily becomes 'a gem of his country' when he breaks the law and then undertakes hunger-striking, because in some cases it is so that he can escape the consequences of his acts. I think we should not be led away by such statements as these. I suggest that the question should be looked at from a more dispassionate point of view, and from a common-sense point of view. This House should at the same time recognize that the Government are already making an enquiry as to whether anything should be done in regard to these political prisoners."

"Again, Sir, we are not very much enamoured of this resolution because of the latter portion where it attempts to prejudice the question by saying 'with a view to placing them in regard to concessions and privileges on the same footing as European prisoners.' As my hon. Friend, Sir, Patro, pointed out, European treatment would not be welcomed by many of the Indian prisoners. Therefore, I submit, this resolution is not a good one, though the first portion of it seems to be acceptable because it only asks for an enquiry into the alteration of the rules. We do not propose to oppose the resolution; and as I said at the start, we do appreciate that there is a feeling about these differences in treatment. But we certainly cannot support it in its present form, and in view of the fact that the enquiry by the Government is pending, we suggest the resolution need not be pressed."

* The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"At the outset, I may say, Sir, that this Government associate themselves with all the sentiments expressed by the hon. the Home Member of the Government of India in the Legislative Assembly, with reference to the death of Jatindranath Das on account of hunger-strike in the jail. There may be—of course there are—differences as to the wisdom of that young man who adopted this course. But whatever be the differences of opinion that may exist with reference to the course that he actually pursued, there can be no doubt that his death is really a calamity and it is really regrettable that it should have occurred."

"With reference to the merits of this resolution, Sir, I welcome the opportunity that has been afforded to this House and to the Government by this resolution (Hear, hear) which has been moved by my hon. friend Mr. Satyamurti. In fact, the Government were very glad, when they received this resolution, to give their consent to it. As my friend Mr. Wood stated, the Government have actually begun to make enquiries. All hon. Members in this House and those outside who take interest in matters like this, must have read the communiqué that the Government of India issued on the subject, and subsequent to the publication of that communiqué, there has been further correspondence between the Government of India and this Government. And as my friend stated, this Government have already begun to make enquiries with reference to this matter. The examination will be expedited, and for the purpose of enabling the Government to come to a conclusion non-official opinion of all kinds, particularly non-official opinion coming from the different sections of this House will be particularly valuable."

[Mr. M. Krishnan Nayar] [30th September 1929]

from the Government point of view. Members of this House, both elected and nominated, are entitled to speak on such a question as this, and their opinion will be carefully considered by the Government, and I may say that so far as is possible, will be sympathetically considered by the Government.

"Perhaps, it is unnecessary for me to refer to all the details that have been referred to by my friend, Mr. Satyamurti, and by my friend over there. It has been stated that the division which now exists in our jails, known as the special division, must be extended, whatever the nature of the punishment may be, whether it is simple or rigorous, and whatever the nature of the offence which led to the sentence of imprisonment. It has also been said that the differential treatment that is now accorded to prisoners in general, i.e., as between Indians and Europeans, whether they are political prisoners or not, should be wiped out. It has been stated particularly with reference to food, clothing and bedding that as far as possible, the differences that now exist between these two classes of prisoners, i.e., the Indian prisoners and the European prisoners, should be abolished. Then again, it has been stated with reference to under-trial prisoners, that greater facilities should be given to them in the matter of interviews with their relatives and friends, that better accommodation should be given to them, that better food should be supplied to them and also that conveyances should be provided for them when they are taken from the place where they are kept in confinement to the place of their trial. I quite realize and fully appreciate and understand the importance of treating these under-trial prisoners as innocent till they are actually found guilty and convicted. It has been also stated—I believe it was by the hon. Member for the University—that the system of employing convict warders in the jail should be abolished. In fact, I have noted the different points referred to by the four hon. Members who have already spoken on this resolution and any expression of opinion, as I have stated, which has been and which will be made by this House will certainly carry considerable weight with the Government. I do not think it is necessary to go into the details at present, and it is also not possible for the Government to express opinions on details before the examination which they have already begun to conduct is finished. Sir, that is all that I have to say on this resolution."

* Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"Sir, though we should be thankful to the hon. the Law Member for what he has said, we would have been much gladder and much happier and more thankful if he had given us some idea of the lines on which the Government are proceeding with the enquiry. It is most unfortunate, Sir, for us to hear Mr. Wood saying what he said just now. Even when the Government officials both in the Government of India and in this Government have nothing but praise for that young man who sacrificed his life for the sake of what he believed to be correct and true, it is most unfortunate for Mr. Wood to make a suggestion that that young man died because he wanted to escape the punishment for the offence he committed. I take it that when he said that, his intention was not . . ."

* Mr. C. E. Wood :—"Sir, on a point of personal explanation. What I said was that it does not necessarily follow that because a political prisoner hunger-strikes, he is one of the gems of India as Mr. Satyamurti said. He may be trying to escape conviction for the offence."

30th September 1929]

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"I am glad, Sir, to hear this. But the speech, so far as it went, still remains capable of the interpretation that I gave to it; because he not only said what he just now says, but he said that a man who commits the offence and then hunger-strikes, would do so only if he wanted to escape the consequences. I believe better wisdom has sprung upon Mr. Wood in the interval that passed between the time when he made his speech and this; and I am glad that after the speech was made, he has had a better sense."

* Mr. C. E. Wood :—"On a point of order, Mr. President. May I ask whether the hon. Member is correct in saying that another hon. Member is not speaking the truth?"

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—"I never said that. He has given an interpretation to what he said which is capable of another interpretation which we are entitled to put on it. That is all I am saying."

"Then, Sir, we were really sorry to hear him say that he and his friends were opposing this resolution, and chiefly for the latter portion. I think he clearly said more than once that he would not support this resolution for two reasons: one that the Government are considering this matter now; and secondly because of the resolution making special reference to the treatment of European prisoners. Well, Sir, he may, if he likes, remain neutral as he has done many times. But certainly he said he was not going to support this resolution. All that I say now is that whether Europeans are given better treatment or not, it does not matter to us. Those people who are going to jails for some reason or other and the prisoners who are convicted of any offence should be treated in a much more civilized way than they are at present treated in this country. If the European community gets any special treatment, we are not sorry and we do not blame them for it. All that we say is that, whether the treatment accorded to the Europeans is unsatisfactory in their view or whether it is satisfactory in our view, the same facilities and conveniences that are given to European convicts who commit any offence whatever, should be accorded to our Indian prisoners also, more especially to Indian prisoners who go to jails for political offences."

"Sir, it is not enough if the hon. the Law Member carefully considers this matter and satisfactorily deals with the question from the point of view of the Government; but we certainly expected the hon. the Law Member to give us some idea of the lines on which the enquiry is to go on. There is no use of saying afterwards 'we have enquired into the matter; we have come to a decision of altering this small thing here and that small thing there, by dotting the i's and crossing the t's' or something like that. I do not want to go into details. I have had the privilege of seeing in the Coimbatore Jail prisoners sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for political offences as well as prisoners for political offences sentenced to simple imprisonment. All these persons are undergoing various difficulties; there is no doubt about that. It is necessary that the Government should take not only our speeches into consideration, but should take a large number of the Members of this House into confidence, and if possible, make an enquiry with their help. There is nothing to prevent the Government to appoint a committee consisting of people from the various sections of this House having experience of the conditions of jail life and then placing the report for consideration by the public before any final decision is arrived at. We therefore insist, Sir, that they should not only give a careful consideration to this matter, but that they should take the Members of this House into confidence, form a committee and then enquire into the question with their help, and afterwards invite public criticisms and opinions before coming to a final decision. With these words, Mr. President, I appeal to the House to pass this resolution."

[Mr. C. V. Venkataramana Ayyangar] [30th September 1929]

Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR:—"Sir, I move that the question be now put."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED seconded the motion.

The motion for closure was put and carried.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is:

'That this Council is of opinion that the rules in the Jail Code relating to the classification of and the privileges granted to persons under trial and persons convicted of offences against the State require immediate examination with a view to place them in regard to concession and privileges on the same footing as European prisoners.'"

The motion was put and carried.

The House then adjourned for lunch.

After lunch (2-30 p.m.).

V—cont

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Regarding the point of order raised by Mr. Karant, I consider that a Bill cannot be re-committed to another select committee. The question whether the Bill can be referred to a committee of the whole House does not arise now and therefore the motion of the hon. the Chief Minister is not in order."

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—"Mr. President, with your permission I wish to move that the Bill be re-committed to the Select Committee."

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"I second it, Sir."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that the Bill of Mr. Kaleswara Rao as amended by the Select Committee be re-committed."

The motion was adopted.

VII

A BILL TO AMEND THE MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT, 1920.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that the Bill of Mr. Basheer Ahmed to amend the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, be taken into consideration."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Mr. President, if you verify the proceedings, my recollection is that I moved that the Bill be referred to a select committee, on which my hon. Friend from South Kanara moved that it be adjourned. I think that was the stage at which it was left at the last Council."

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—"Mr. President, will the hon. Mr. Satyamurti be in order in moving that the Bill of another Member be referred to a select committee."

30th September 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"This is what I find in the proceedings of the Council dated 10th October 1928:—

'The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The Council will now resume the discussion of the motion of Mr. Satyamurti to refer Mr. Basheer Ahmed Sayeed's Bill to amend the Madras Local Boards Act to a select committee."

'At the end: "The question is that the Bill be referred to a select committee, composed of the following members:—" page 309.

'The question was put and declared lost.

'A poll was demanded and the House divided thus:—

'The motion was lost.' page 310.

"So, this motion was lost on 10th October 1928.

"Therefore, there is no question of repetition. And, now another question arises, namely, that the Bill be taken into consideration. It is a new motion of which Mr. Basheer Ahmed has given notice and on that motion any Member can move that the Bill be referred to a select committee. Therefore, the motion of the hon. the Leader of the Opposition is in order."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Mr. President, I move that this Bill of my hon. Friend be referred to a committee of the whole House and I would ask my hon. Friend the Minister for Local Self-Government to accept that amendment. I will give him some reasons which I trust will appeal to him. Sir, in our Council the procedure with regard to legislation is not the same as in the House of Commons. In the House of Commons, Sir, there is a stage called the report stage when the Speaker vacates the Chair and the Chairman of Committees takes the Chair and the House sits in committee over the whole Bill and there are no rules of order as are observed in the open House. There amendments may be moved again and again and decisions can be gone back upon and the whole House considers the Bill point by point. Then comes the third reading stage. In our House, Mr. President, the procedure has been that after the Select Committee stage we go to the report stage. I think, it will be well worth our while to try and see how this procedure works.

"My second reason is this. I do not want to anticipate decision. I have in my hand a formidable list which I think runs to 50 names. . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The list handed over to me consists only 49 names."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Less by one, I agree. The difference between 49 and 50 is not much. I think the difference may be made up when it is actually put to the vote of the House. I think the average strength of the House—I mean the fighting strength—is not more than 50. Therefore, it seems to me that a committee of 50 members is practically a committee of the whole House.

"My third reason, Mr. President, is this. I should like the help of the parties in establishing a convention, by which the whole House would go into the report stage and examine the amendments carefully and then the third reading stage will be more or less a formal one wherein only verbal amendments and consequential changes may be made. For all these reasons, I would earnestly appeal to my hon. Friend, the Minister for Local Self-Government, to see the desirability of accepting my suggestion that we do go into a committee of the whole House. I move that for the consideration and acceptance of the House."

[30th September 1929]

* Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"Mr. President, I second the motion before the House. I need not add any more reasons than have been put forward by the hon. Mover. Sir, this is a matter of very great importance and from our experience of attempts at legislation in this Council, we have seen that we have not spent our time more usefully than we could have done. We would be avoiding a waste of time if we try to deal with details in the whole House going into committee, because if the whole House goes into committee, and discusses matters, there will be no need after that to go over the same details and spend any more time in Council. Sir, for that reason, I think the suggestion ought to be acceptable to Members, who I am sure will agree with me that there is no use of wasting the time. By this we can enact a useful legislation."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that the Bill be referred to a committee of the whole House."

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Mr. President, this idea was put to me both by the hon. and Learned Member for the University and by others and after a great deal of consideration, I find that it would be impossible to accept the suggestion of my hon. Friend the Member for the University, because there are practical working difficulties in the way. It is not very often that we get the whole House to meet in select committee on particular Bills. And in select committee, of course the procedure is very different from what we adopt in the House itself. I feel it will be very difficult to get at the whole House for a select committee. Though I know that the select committee that is going to be proposed is huge, I feel that even if three-fourths of them attend, perhaps we will have only 36 and if it is a select committee of the whole House, it may come to about 60. Then, we will have a great deal of difficulty. When such is the case, I would implore my hon. Friend the Member for the University to withdraw his motion."

* Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"Mr. President, I am sorry that the hon. the Chief Minister is not able to accept the very reasonable motion of my hon. Friend representing the University. Time and again we are told to adopt Parliamentary procedure. Now, in such an important measure if the whole House goes into committee, I believe with your guidance and help, we will be able to transact business more quickly and more efficiently than what would be possible otherwise. Sir, I may also refer hon. Members of this House to the elaborate discussion that took place on this Act in 1920 and on the Municipalities Act in 1920 when the then Legislative Council had to sit continuously for about a month. With that experience, I think hon. Members of this House will not be unjust in this matter. Sir, very important principles and very important changes have been proposed in both the amending Bills—the Local Boards Amendment Bill and the District Municipalities Bill—and I think it will take a lot of time if each hon. Member comes forward with his amendments to every section and sub-section and items of the Bills. So, in order to save time and avoid delay in legislation I think it will be a great help to hon. Members of this House and also to the country generally if the whole House goes into committee and discusses this Bill. If this is accepted, I feel sure that—the committee will take some time at best three to four weeks—the consideration of the report of the committee will be very easy and we can proceed with the final stages of the Bill without many amendments.

[30th September 1929] [Sriman Biswanath Das Mahasayo]

"After all, the select committee of the whole House will decide upon important issues and the report of the committee will be drafted accordingly. So, there will be very few changes necessary. On these considerations, I think the Government should find their way to accept the motion of my hon. Friend and if they do not accept it, it is for this hon. House to give a verdict and leave it to the Government whether or not they shall accept it. With these words, I very strongly support the motion."

* Mr. F. E. JAMES:—"Mr. President, Sir, there is, I think, difficulty in the way of accepting this motion straightaway. I think that under certain circumstances, it would be very useful if rules were made in the Standing Orders for the whole House to go into committee on particular Bills. The matter has been rather sprung upon us this afternoon. There is no Standing Order to the effect, though I take it that you Mr. President have got the power to allow the motion before the House. According to the motion, I think there would have to be a chairman of committees provided for in the Standing Orders, as the House would not be presided over by yourself but by a duly constituted chairman. I would very much prefer, as a matter of principle, in connection with the election of chairmen, that there should be a Standing Order. I would suggest that the necessary amendments to the Standing Order be made first and until that is done I cannot agree to this amendment. Therefore I hope the hon. Member for the University will understand my position when I decline to support his motion."

p.m.

* Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR:—"I am sorry for Mr. James when I find him to be a conservative. I believe he is acquainted more with the procedure of the Parliament than with that of this Council. If that is so, the rules there provide for the whole House of about 700 members sitting in select committee on all the Bills. That being so I do not know why a body of about 130 members should not sit in a select committee. Our reasons are a little more far-reaching also. We are afraid if this Bill is referred to the select committee—many of us believe—it will not come out of the select committee during the lifetime of this Council. We fear the Bill will be discussed at very great length, differences of opinion will arise and discussion will be prolonged, and even if the Bill comes out of the select committee, we fear it will be discussed indefinitely in this House, as the Malabar Tenancy Bill the end of which discussion nobody is yet able to foresee. If all the members of this House are anxious, as they proclaim to be, I will not say, pretend, then they should get hold of this suggestion, so that under your able guidance, Mr. President, we may be able to dispose of all things once for all. Under this course, as in the House of Commons, we shall not have to spend much time in the second and third reading stages. Further this course enables members of this House to take part in all important stages of a Bill. After all we are making an experiment and we don't lose anything. The hon. Minister has not given any details of inconvenience that this motion will cause; but we have given the advantages accruing from such a procedure, and so it stands to reason that we should support this motion."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that the Bill of Mr. Basheer Ahmed be referred to a committee of the whole House."

The motion was put and lost.

[30th September 1929]

Resolution No. 8 was then taken up.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE INTO THE CAUSES OF THE FAILURE OF FRESHES IN THE PALAR RIVER.

* Rao Bahadur S. ELLAPPA CHETTIYAR :—" Sir, I beg to move the resolution that stands in my name and which runs thus :

'That this Council recommends to the Government the immediate appointment of a committee consisting of elected members of the Council representing the North Arcot and Chingleput districts and experienced officials and an engineer to investigate the causes of the failure of freshes in the river Palar during the last two decades and to suggest remedies.'

"In doing so, I want to point out only one fact about this matter and leave the rest to the hon. Members representing the Chingleput and North Arcot districts. No one can deny that the river Palar has not been getting sufficient floods for the last twenty-five years and so the channels and tanks which are depending upon it are not getting any supply of water. In such circumstances, you can imagine the condition of the ryots in places which are dependent upon these channels and tanks which have had no supply of water for the last so many years. If the river has been always dry as it is now, the question of the formation of a committee to make an enquiry would not have arisen at all. But on the other hand we were having floods up to 1903. So, we have to presume that there must be some reason for the failure of freshes. The decrease of rainfall may be said to be one of the causes. But in my opinion as the river is taking its source on the Nandi Hills in Mysore and it runs for several miles in the Mysore State before it reaches North Arcot and Chingleput, the flow might have been obstructed by the Mysore

[Mr. S. Ellappa Chettiyar] [30th September 1929]

Government itself by some new irrigation schemes. Otherwise there is no reason why the river should not get any floods for the last twenty-five years. I cannot say that this may be the chief cause or the only cause for the failure of floods but there may be some other causes also. So, I request the Government to appoint a committee to make enquiries and suggest remedies in the matter, and I hope this House will accept this resolution."

* Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"Mr. President, Sir, at the very outset, I must thank the House for giving me an opportunity to second this resolution. For unlike the enlightened and vocal ryots of the deltaic areas, the North Arcot and Chingleput ryots are dumb. What the Cauvery is to the people of Tanjore, and what the Godavari and Kistna are to the people of the Circars, the Palar is to the now famine-stricken ryots of North Arcot and Chingleput districts. As my hon. Friend, the Mover, has said, the river takes its rise in the Nandi Hills in Mysore and after irrigating vast tracts in that State, roughly estimated at 6,000 acres and supplying drinking water to a large industrial town, enters the district of North Arcot in Kuppam zamindari. Altogether the area served consists of 1,036 square miles, and the whole of the water is used for cultivation, not a drop escaping to the sea. Coming to the parched up districts of North Arcot and Chingleput, it flows through five taluks in the former and three of the latter. All these taluks depend upon the Palar for irrigation. The system of Palar irrigation is very elaborate and well-conceived one, the chain of 317 tanks and channels of that system irrigating about 75,078 acres representing an assessment of Rs. 3,42,688. Sir, the five taluks of North Arcot which I mentioned above have got water mamulnamas dating back to pre-British days in respect of spring channels. Their number is 211, and the ayacut of these spring channels comes to about 11,400 acres. And the tank system depending on Palar is very elaborate; the tanks are numerous and important. Kaveripauk is surely the biggest in the Presidency; it caters for the needs of thirty villages. Next to that is Dusi Mamundur tank which has been immortalized by Mr. Venkataramani in the novel, 'Murugan the Tiller.' In the G.O. No. 3165, dated 1st November 1913, the general prosperity of the area has been well recognized. The resettlement rates which constituted an enhancement of 25 per cent over the previous rates were based upon the figures of supply of irrigation water prior to 1903. I mention 1903 because it was the year in which the woes of North Arcot ryots began. The last recorded floods in Palar, I believe, occurred on 11th November 1903, when the Vaniyambadi bridge was destroyed. Sir, after entering North Arcot from Kil Minnal the river becomes very wide and is practically a sandy tract, as any railway traveller can see. Sir, in G.O. No. 3165, dated 1st November 1913, elaborate definitions have been promulgated for the first and second-class sources of irrigation, and now after 15 years of this there is not one tank in the Palar or Ponnai systems which can to-day stand the test of these definitions. And yet, the enhanced resettlement rates have already been collected for 15 out of its natural life of 30 years. These rates, it may be remembered, were based on the supply which existed prior to 1903, and since 1903 the North Arcot ryot is not having any floods in that river worth mentioning. This is shown also by the fact that thousands have migrated from the district. In one village alone, Sirukanji, more than 300 people left in one year and they have not returned. The North Arcot people have been very patient, but with the reports of

30th September 1929] [Mr. T. Adinarayana Chettiyar]

Bardoli and other things spreading to the ryots of North Arcot there has been strong and continued agitation which cannot easily be satisfied until the Government makes up its mind, at least after this long period, to do justice to them. His Excellency Sir Norman Marjoribanks admitted on the floor of this House that the river Palar has not been having floods and so the Kaveripauk tank"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I think the hon. Member may refer to him as the hon. the then Revenue Member."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"The hon. the then Revenue Member and at present the Governor of Madras, Sir Norman Marjoribanks, Sir"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The hon. Member cannot refer to the name of the Governor of Madras to influence to the vote of the House."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"In answer to an interpellation in this House it was admitted by Government that freshes have ceased to come into the Palar, and the Kaveripauk tank has not been getting the required supply of water. Sir, the causes for this are worth enquiring into, and as the hon. Mover has said, there must be something wrong, and people are giving various reasons. Whatever be the reasons, that the people are suffering from want of water is a fact which the Government cannot deny. For Government know full well they had to grant remissions to cultivators on 12 or 13 occasions during the last 25 years. Sir, the popular belief is that when the Government of Madras paid Rs. 20,000 for the construction of the Wellesly bridge, and the Mysore Darbar quietly raised the F.T.L. of the Bethamangalam tank by 18 feet as some think impounding water to several million cubic feet"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I do not think the hon. Member will be justified in referring to the action of the Mysore Darbar."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"The river goes through that State and there has been an agreement between the Mysore Government and the Government of Madras in respect of the user of the waters."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"If the hon. Member raises a separate resolution on that matter, I shall have to consider as to the admissibility of it."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"The bitter experience of the people for the last 25 years has been that to expect floods in the Palar hereafter is quite futile. Under the circumstances, a sympathetic Board of Revenue would, under section 55 of the Board of Revenue Regulation of 1803, would have revised the assessment rates in the light of the failure of floods in the Palar. But the Board of Revenue seems to exist only to confirm the orders of dismissal of subordinates and not to interfere in a live issue of this kind which is a matter of life and death to the ryots.

"The second cause is that a number of powerful pumping engines have been set up by the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway in a number of places on their line like Tiruvalam, Mailpatti, Jalarpet, etc., draining away the subsoil spring water for miles around. There is also the short sighted policy of Government in recent years of transferring lands in foreshore to the ayan and assigning to individuals for cultivation by which the water is taken off by an individual ryot without benefiting the whole population as it naturally should. Sir, it is pitiable to see the sufferings of the people of the North Arcot and Chingleput districts, who are depending on the Palar river. If Government have been carefully reading what has been appearing in the daily press, they would have seen that the Palar question has sorely been agitating the minds of the ryots. There have been suggestions made without number."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The hon. Member has only ten minutes on a resolution. He must therefore rapidly finish his notes."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—"Therefore, it is time that agreements which have been entered into with the Mysore Government should be revised. We know, in the history of this unfortunate country, settled things have become unsettled, and the question of Cauvery arbitration is still being discussed, and the terms of the final settlement which are to be published very soon would become a very difficult matter later on; if the Government are not earnest about giving some relief to the people of North Arcot and Chingleput at once, there is every likelihood of the two districts becoming barren wastes in the lifetime of the present generation. Any concession and rights given away must be reopened and dismissed in view of the diminished irrigation water-supply lower down. The big words 'Mysore Darbar' will never satisfy the hunger of the North Arcot ryot. It will not be a sufficient consolation to the North Arcot ryot leave the home of his fathers to work in the bowels of the earth in Kolar Gold Fields or in far off Fiji. The permission granted to the Mysore Darbar, it is believed, is on the basis that the supply of irrigation water lower down it to the lands in British territory will not at all be diminished. But now that it is admitted by Government that water is diminished, the agreement with Mysore cannot be allowed to stand and must be revised. Therefore, I appeal with all the earnestness that I can command on behalf of those poor ryots of North Arcot, who have not seen a single year of adequate supply of water for the last fifteen years, to the Government to see that justice is done to them, and the question is so urgent that it can no longer brook delay for a single day.

"With these words, I second the resolution."

(At this stage, the Deputy President occupied the Chair.)

* Khan Bahadur S. K. ABDUL RAZACK SAHIB Bahadur :—"Madam, many words are not needed from me to commend the resolution to the House. It will be within the memory of many of the members of this House that there were heavy floods in the Palar river in 1904 and that most of the houses in Vaniyambadi were submerged in water or washed away. Since then, whether because the All-Merciful Providence thinks that it will take years to repair the damage then done or for other reasons there has been little or no rain and we are experiencing the severest drought and the difficulties of the poor ryots are increasingly painful each year. Coconut trees which are said to stand the want of water longest are withering and falling down in large numbers and what were once wet fields are abandoned by the cultivators as not fit even to raise dry crops. Madam, the sufferings of the ryots of North Arcot and Chingleput are untold and call for early redress.

30th September 1929]

[Mr. S. K. Abdul Razack]

"The Palar which is the main source of water-supply is rarely full, and it is more from the underground springs in the river than in the flowing water that the ryots and the people depended for the water. But these springs cannot go on for ever. A succession of lean years has dried up these springs and try however much we may, we are not able to tap any appreciable quantity of water.

"Now, we are told that in addition to the natural causes which have deprived us of water there have been some human hands also at work in bringing about this unfortunate state of affairs. The rumour goes that the Mysore Government has recently diverted the water which should legitimately go into the Palar and have raised the level of some of their reservoirs with the result that there is no water in the Palar even before it reaches Vaniyambadi. The truth of this allegation and the relative rights of the British subjects and the Mysore Government have to be investigated. The Government have projected many schemes for the irrigation or water-supply of districts and here is a case where early and efficient action is called for. Many schemes are suggested both in public meetings and in the press, but without a careful investigation of all possible schemes, no conclusion can be arrived at. Some are sanguine that if a few of the tributaries of the Cauvery are diverted into the Palar, the latter will become perennial without materially affecting the usefulness of the Cauvery either. Others would not stop till a canal right across from the Arabian Sea to the Bay of Bengal is dug, so that the East and the West may meet. We want experts to investigate all possibilities, of course, practicable and reasonable schemes, so that the greatest benefits may accrue to the public.

"Believe me, Madam, this question is not merely a parochial one. The many tanks which were fed by the Palar are now dried up and the biggest one, the Kaveripauk tank, is now practically empty. When it is remembered that it is the overflow of the Kaveripauk tank that was largely feeding the channels which found their way into the Red Hills lake, hon. Members of this House will realize how vital the question of finding water for the Palar is.

"We request, Madam, Deputy President, that a committee be constituted to investigate the cause of the drying up of the river and the possibilities of augmenting the supply of water in that river, so that, not only my constituency of North Arcot and Chingleput, but of Madras City also may have plenty of water and fertile crops to keep us all going."

* Mr. M. A. MANIKKAVELU NAYAKAR :—"Madam, I support this resolution with pleasure. At this stage, it will not be necessary to make a long speech. But I may generally observe that the failure of floods in the river Palar for the last twenty-five years is a fact too well known. After the devastating floods of 1903, there was no appreciable flow of water in the river. As a consequence of this failure a lot of hardship is felt in the districts of North Arcot and Chingleput. I may say that the big tanks in the districts such as the Kaveripauk tank and the Dusi and Mamandur tanks—not to speak of the other small tanks—have not been receiving a good supply of water for years, and consequently cultivation suffered to a large extent. Also, it is quite common in the district of North Arcot to cultivate lands by digging what are called spring channels in the bed of the river and thus irrigate the lands. But owing to the long absence of water in the river, the water-level went very low in the bed of the river, and as a result no amount of digging in the bed of the river gives any appreciable amount of water, and the ryots have almost abandoned in many parts the digging in the bed of the river for springs.

474 APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE INTO THE CAUSES OF THE FAILURE OF FRESHES IN THE PALAR RIVER

[Mr. M. A. Manikkavelu Nayakar] [30th September 1929]

"All travellers on the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway going from Madras to Mangalore may observe large tracts of coconut topes and other plantations on the banks of the river. For want of water for a number of years, these plantations have been withering away. In consequence of failure of water in the river, the water-supply of the towns and villages on the banks of the river has been very much affected. Of late, a number of local bodies and municipalities in the districts have been submitting memorials to the Government for loans in order to have a protected water-supply, and their schemes are based on the water to be obtained from the bed of the river. But there is not sufficient water even in the sub-soil, and if water cannot be got at a sufficiently high level, the schemes for getting water from the river will not be a success, and even if it is possible at all to any extent, it will be at an enormous cost which the local bodies cannot afford.

"I may also mention that a big anicut was built in the bed of the river a few years after the floods of 1903, at a cost of a few lakhs of rupees, and the building of that anicut has not been of any use to the people, and it is lying idle. Recently, the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway have installed pumping stations, notably in the Jalarpet junction and other big stations, for pumping out water for supplying the railway engines and the railway quarters in the stations on the line. That also has been draining away a lot of water.

"Now, I may also mention this fact, that because the ryots have not been able to cultivate the lands and get on, large numbers of people have been migrating from the districts to distant lands, such as Ceylon, Fiji and other places.

"If we examine what the cause of this failure of water in the Palar is, it may fall under two heads. The first is the natural cause, namely, the failure of rain for a long number of years. That, of course, no Government can remedy. But the other cause is the action of the Mysore Government. It is well known that the Mysore Darbar have during the last few years restored a large number of their disused tanks and also raised the flood tank level of the Bedamangalam and other tanks and as a consequence, a large extent of lands which were lying waste have now become fertile lands in Mysore. But those schemes have affected prejudicially the water-supply in the river.

8-30 p.m. "Now, this resolution is brought in order to appoint a committee to investigate into the causes of the failure of freshes in the Palar river. Unless a committee goes into the matter and examines the whole question, we shall not be able to find out the effective means of increasing the supply in this river. It is possible to enlarge the catchment area of this river and also to devise means for linking the river Penniar with Palar. The lay opinion of the people of Vaniyambadi is that small rivers might be utilized in increasing the flow in this river. For these reasons a committee of lay members as well as experienced engineers will be essential. I therefore hope that the hon. the Revenue Member will accept this motion."

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE INTO THE CAUSES 475
OF THE FAILURE OF FRESHES IN THE PALAR RIVER

30th September 1929]

Diwan Bahadur P. KESAVA PILLAI :—"Madam, I heartily support this resolution, but with some modification. I would amend it in this wise :—

'That this Council recommends to the Government the immediate appointment of a mixed committee of fifteen members, consisting of two-thirds non-officials and one-third officials, to investigate the causes of the freshes in the Palar river during the last two decades and to suggest remedies.'

* The hon. the DEPUTY PRESIDENT :—"I shall put it to the vote of the House whether permission can be granted to Mr. Kesava Pillai to move his amendment." (Cries of No, no.)

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—"I think it is not a question to be put to the vote of the House. If you think that even the objection of one member is sufficient you can disallow it, unless in the exercise of your discretion you allow the motion to be made."

* The hon. the DEPUTY PRESIDENT :—"There is want of notice and there is objection also ; so I cannot allow it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Madam, the difficulties of irrigation of wet lands under the Palar system, to which reference has been made by the previous speakers, has been under the consideration of Government for some time, and I can assure hon. Members that I will do all in my power to expedite the disposal of this question. At the same time, I submit that at the present time it will be premature to appoint a committee, because we must collect a certain amount of material which the Committee must consider in coming to any conclusions, and that material must take some considerable time to collect. Apart from the question of rainfall, there are other questions which have to be examined ; for instance, to what extent there has been extension of irrigation either direct through existing tanks or new tanks or under wells. Now, Sir, we have first to collect information ranging over a series of years regarding the irrigation works and tanks and wells in the Palar watershed including its tributaries. That will necessarily take a considerable time.

"A reference has been made by the hon. the Mover to the possibility of extension of irrigation in Mysore territory. Only last week I had a conference with the hon. the Resident of Mysore and the Chief Engineer of Mysore on this question, and the Chief Engineer was good enough to undertake to place certain information at his disposal before this Government as regards the irrigation works affecting the Palar in Mysore territory. I am sure, Sir, it must be agreed that all this information must be collected before it is possible to investigate the causes of the diminution of the water-supply in the lower reaches of the Palar. I would assure the hon. Members who spoke in favour of the resolution that when this information is collected the Government will take into their consideration the desirability of appointing a committee to examine this question and report on the causes of and possible remedies for the shortage of water-supply."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—"I move that the question be now put."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"I second it."

Rao Bahadur S. ELLAPPA CHETTIYAR :—"I withdraw the resolution."

[30th September 1929]

* The hon. the DEPUTY PRESIDENT :—"Has the mover permission of the House to withdraw his resolution?"

(Cries of 'No, no.')

The resolution was put and declared carried.

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell demanded a poll, and the House divided thus:

POSTPONEMENT OF RESETTLEMENT OPERATIONS PENDING THE PASSING OF A SATISFACTORY LAND REVENUE LAW

[30th September 1929]

* Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—“ Madam, I move the resolution standing in my name—

‘ This Council recommends to the Government that all resettlement operations relating to rates may be put off till after an enquiry into the condition of agriculturists in the province is made with a view to put the system of land revenue assessment on a satisfactory basis and a land revenue law is passed. ’

“ This demand is as old as the hills. We have been agitating for tens of years and the principle has been fairly recognized. The Joint Parliamentary Committee in its report laid emphasis upon the necessity of a law for placing the land revenue on a statutory basis. They definitely drew attention to the fact that the imposition of new burdens should be correctly brought more within the purview of the legislature and in particular they say that the process of revising the land revenue assessment ought to be brought on the Statute Book as soon as possible. They also refer to specific rates in regard to certain burdens imposed upon the people. Now, Madam, attempts have been made from time to time on the floor of this House to get the Government to legislate on this matter and the Government have made certain attempts in this direction although they have not been fruitful. The question at issue is whether the present method of undertaking resettlements should continue ad infinitum or should stop till proper legislation is enacted and measures are taken to conduct a proper enquiry into the condition of agriculturists in the province. The question of an economic enquiry has also been raised and it has been conceded. As a matter of fact, as hon. Members of this House know, there is a committee sitting with regard to resettlement in the districts of Godavari and Kistna. Some time ago, when the hon. the Law Member Mr. Krishnan Nayar was on the opposition, he raised the question and asked whether the hon. the Revenue Member would be pleased to suspend the resettlement operations with reference to Wynaad till the Bill became law and the reply of the hon. the Revenue Member was that the operations would be suspended. So, the principle of suspending operations in regard to settlements has been in a way admitted and definitely granted. I admit that it was an indirect admission that an economic enquiry is a necessary concomitant of revenue settlements. The hon. the Revenue Member replying at one stage to the discussions on the floor of this House tried to make it clear that that was not a rule in so far as settlements in other parts of the country were concerned. But all the same, he admitted that there was a need for considering the economic condition of the ryots; because he said that there was an economic pressure upon the people of the country and that pressure had to be realized before rates could be enhanced. That is so far as the first part of the resolution goes. Instead of asking time after time for an enquiry into the condition of the agriculturists it is much better that the Government put it down as a principle till a satisfactory revenue law is passed. I am sure, Madam, that so long as the present methods of resettlement and assessment of resettlement continue, it would be incumbent upon the non-official members of this House to press for an economic enquiry in the areas concerned. It has been admitted on all hands that the resettlement enquiries have not been sufficiently understood by the people as a whole. Therefore it becomes essential that the Government should not allow this question to be brought up time after time before this House for an economic enquiry. The Joint Parliamentary Committee no doubt did not want to express an opinion as to whether land revenue is a tax or rent or revenue. They were careful to make a reservation to that extent, but that was in keeping with the state of affairs when they were recommending diarchy for the province. But to-day there is the prospect of provincial autonomy and there is the prospect of full democratic development. When there is to be full democratic development there does not seem to be any necessity for such a reservation as that. Moreover, from the very beginning resettlements have been held to be in order. Still there has been an opinion against resettlement as a whole and more especially against what is called the consolidated wet rate being the subject of resettlement. There are a number of questions involved in regard to the introduction of the law relating to the revenue policy of the Government. These questions have to be faced some day or other. These resettlements come in once in thirty years and are taking place almost every day in reference to one district or another.

“ Therefore it is much better that the Government do not put themselves to the trouble of being warned that their revenue policy is wrong and that they will have to make certain enquiries into the economic condition of the people before revising the rates of settlement. I think it would be a waste of time to remind them about this again and again. I therefore ask them to make a declaration that they shall not enforce the resettlement operations relating to enhancement of rates till such time as a satisfactory law is enacted and that they shall take prompt measures to enact a law that will be satisfactory to the people under present conditions. I may refer here to some of the recent questions and answers that were given in the Assembly in regard to this affair. The Member who was in charge of this subject treated the proceedings as confidential between himself and the local Government. I see that he was not prepared to say what the Government resolution was that was about to be introduced, telling the House at the same time that they were issuing a resolution forthwith. To force the hands of the India Government to do the right thing at this juncture, it is essential that the local Government in Madras should give a strong lead. The Government of Madras were evidently sympathetic in regard to this land revenue legislation. Madras is one of the places where a strong attitude has been taken in regard to the land revenue policy being democratized. It would be to the credit of this Government if they rise to the occasion and accept this resolution that I am moving to-day. I want to draw the pointed attention of the hon. the Revenue Member to one fact and that is this: resettlements occur once in 30 years. If he postpones these operations for enhancing the rates for a few years nothing is lost. As the Madras Government has conceded provincial autonomy to the Madras Presidency, it is up to the Madras Government that they leave this matter entirely in the hands of the democratic Government that has to come into being, and not interfere with the opinion of the people expressed time after time both on the floor of this House and elsewhere. I therefore feel that my resolution has nothing in it which can be objected to because the underlying principle has already been accepted, viz., that this subject should be handed over to the democratic opinion in this part of the land.”

[30th September 1929]

Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR :—"I second it."

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—"The amendment that stands in my name runs as follows :—

'In line 2 after the word "that" add the words "the introduction of revised rates of assessment due to,";

In lines 2, 3 and 4 delete the words "after an enquiry . . . zul";
and

In line 4 after "assessment" add the words "is placed".'

"The resolution moved by my hon. Friend from Kurnool requires two things to be done. Firstly to enquire into the economic condition of the agriculturists and secondly to put off all resettlement operations. Now, the Government may advance, I say from my experience of debates in similar resolutions in the earlier Councils, arguments that they have got a huge staff on these resettlement operations, that they do not know when this codification will be an accomplished fact, that they are not prepared to disband the whole staff because they may be required at any time, and that if the staff is once disbanded it would be extremely difficult to reorganize the branch whenever that may be needed. So, I am suggesting that we may simply recommend to the Government that no revised rates be introduced. However they might be employing the staff and that does not matter us. What we are concerned is that we shall not be required to pay additional rates of assessments.

"As regards the second thing, it is after all a debatable point, whether an enquiry is necessary into the conditions of the agriculturists. We have from my own point of view enough of materials to show that these agriculturists are poverty-stricken people and that they are unable to pay higher rates of assessment. If the Government have any doubt, let them appoint a committee. Why should we ourselves say that as a condition precedent a committee shall be appointed to enquire into the economic condition of the people before legislation is undertaken. So, I beg to move my amendment as it stands in my name."

* Mr. R. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR :—"I do not think any argument is needed for proving the utility or the practicability of this amendment. The acceptance of this amendment is not likely to embarrass the Government. On the other hand, it is likely to strengthen the hands of the Government. For these reasons I second the amendment."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"The mover of the original resolution admitted that this Government had shown considerable sympathy towards the desire of this House to have a Land Revenue Settlement Act. It will be within the recollection of hon. Members of this House that a Bill was actually introduced in 1924 but was rejected in the first reading. The reason for that rejection was that the House desired that the actual rates of assessment before they were fixed should be subject to the vote of the House. A Press Communiqué was published in May 1926 that the Madras Government forwarded to the Government of India a draft of a Land Revenue Settlement Bill for the Madras Presidency which contained provisions giving the Local Legislative Council power to fix by means of a Taxation Bill rates of assessment both at initial settlements and at resettlements. The Government of

30th September 1929] [Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell]

India have expressed their inability to accept the proposal on the ground that it involves a fundamental departure from the practice which has hitherto been observed in Land Revenue Settlements throughout India, that no similar proposal is contained in the legislation which has been introduced or is about to be introduced in other parts of India, and that a careful examination of the language used by the Joint Select Committee shows that their support cannot be claimed for the proposal. In the Punjab Act that has been recently passed power has not been given to the Legislative Council to fix the rates of assessment; the Act has only determined the maximum increase in the incidence of assessment. I do not think that it goes further than that. The Government of Madras introduced and published a Bill in February 1927 and from the general discussion on the subject that took place during the budget session of that year, it seems clear that the hon. Members of this House did not agree with the principles enunciated therein and the Government did not therefore proceed any further with that Bill. The original motion before the House as well as the resolution as proposed to be amended will have considerable effect on operations which are now going on, in fact they would have to be suspended until a Bill is passed placing the land revenue policy on a statutory basis; for if the methods of resettlement are to be determined by an act which cannot be passed for some time all the resettlement operations would have to be held up as they would have to be reconducted in accordance with the provisions of the Act to be passed hereafter. The suspension of all the resettlement operations will involve the waste of a considerable amount of public money. As the hon. the Mover of the amendment has pointed out, there will also be considerable difficulty in reconstituting and training the staff.

"I feel there is no necessity to hold up the present resettlement operations pending a general economic enquiry regarding the whole Presidency. The resettlement rules already provide for an economic enquiry on certain lines being conducted by settlement officers. The results of such an enquiry are before the Government and are also carefully considered by them. I believe this House also has had an opportunity of considering the settlement reports. If the House is not satisfied with the economic enquiry held in any particular district, the House can appoint special committee for purpose of considering an economic enquiry as has been done with reference to Kistna and the two districts of Godavari. I feel therefore that an elaborate and necessarily expensive enquiry into the economic condition of agriculturists throughout the whole Presidency is not necessary, especially when the question at issue now is only the resettlement of six districts, namely, two Godavaris, Kistna, Malabar, Salem and South Kanara. For the reasons I have explained, we cannot accept this resolution or undertake to introduce a Land Revenue Bill."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—"I take it that the amendment is before the House, and I also accept it."

Mr. S. SATYAMORTI :—"I move that the question be now put."

The resolution, as amended was put and carried.

MANAGEMENT OF THE WILLINGDON LEPER SETTLEMENT AT TIRUMANI.

*Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"Madam, I beg to move the resolution standing against my name—

'This Council recommends to the Government that they do immediately take up the management of the Willingdon Leper Settlement at Tirumani and provide adequate staff and accommodation for the patients seeking admission there.'

"The way in which the House voted on this about 40 minutes ago makes me believe that hon. Members are not in a mood to hear the tales of suffering and misery of these unfortunate persons who are affected with this miserable disease; the hon. Minister has been going round canvassing votes against this resolution."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"On a point of order, Madam. May I ask whether the hon. Member is in order when he says that the other side is canvassing?"

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"I have mentioned only a fact. Generations to come hereafter may not say that this House, at least a majority of the Members of the House, was not sympathetic with the sufferings of these miserable individuals. Leprosy is a very loathsome disease as you yourself know. The disease has been in existence from time immemorial. In the middle ages it was spreading in a rapid stage; so the Government as well as the clergy took immediate steps to control the disease and various asylums were opened wherein these miserable patients were segregated. It succeeded to a certain extent; England particularly is free from leprosy now and we are told that the last leper died in the Shetland Islands the same year General Wellesley stormed Seringapatam and Tipu died. There are no lepers in England now. In India we have the largest number of lepers. The total number of lepers in the whole Empire is 416,000 and India claims 75 per cent of them; unfortunately we, in Madras, have the largest number on record. There are several causes for this state of affairs. It has been the complaint of the Health Officer as well as the municipal authorities of this city that the city is flooded with lepers. There was a strike some months ago in the Tirumani Asylum and the city was invaded by an army of these lepers who were turned up there from the settlement. Lepers come here because there was a leper hospital in Tondiarpet where lepers were treated and they were cured to a certain extent. This reputation attracts a considerable number of lepers from the mufassal to the city. When this hospital was transferred to Tirumani by the Government and it was handed over to Mission authorities, it did not have sufficient accommodation to take all the lepers seeking admission there. While the hospital was in Madras, a considerable number of those who became out-patients had means of earning their livelihood by begging in the streets of Madras. When some of these lepers went to Tirumani, they found that the waiting list was full and that they had no chance of being admitted there. They therefore came back to the city. Unfortunately these lepers are not allowed to travel by trains or by other public conveyances. So, they had to walk; once they come to the city of Madras and find that life is rather easy for them here with so many annadana samajams, choultries, temples and other feeding societies, they remain in the city and they forget everything about Tirumani.

[Dr. B. S. Mallayya]

"When the lepers were in-patients in the Tondiarpet Leper Hospital, which I think, Madam President, you had a chance of visiting when you were a student, they were very comfortable; they had enough to eat; leprosy is one of the wasting diseases and lepers require a large amount of nourishing diet. When they were in Tondiarpet, the scale of diet was 24 ounces of rice, four ounces of dhol and condiments to match; so they had enough to eat. When the hospital was transferred to Tirumani, the Mission authorities or their servants induced some of the patients to exchange the rice, which they can spare, for money by which they can buy their luxuries. They exchanged the rice and they were paid at the rate of a rupee for four measures. The lepers were induced to do so by the contractor or the storekeeper; perhaps the same man was contractor as well as storekeeper; or they were relations. With this money the lepers purchased more dhol or pan supari. In this connexion I may tell the House that lepers in the Tondiarpet hospital were allowed three pies each for betel leaves and nuts. The Mission authorities cut this luxury off. When the authorities found that the lepers were selling their rice, the former inferred that the latter could get on with a less quantity of rice and an order was accordingly issued that they would be given only 20 ounces of rice each and not 24 ounces. Thereupon the patients refused to draw their rations and the order was countermanded. Then some of the servants of the hospital itself told the patients that they could sell rice to outside people at the rate of three and a quarter or three and a half measures a rupee, when the asylum authorities themselves took the rice at four measures a rupee. The lepers found it convenient to sell rice to people outside the hospital. I want to impress on the Members of the House that only a few lepers sold rice in this manner because they were addicted to liquor or other luxuries.

"On the strength of these irregularities a report was made to the Surgeon-General by the then Superintendent of the Tirumani Leper Settlement to the effect that the patients had more rice than they really wanted and asked the Government to cut down their rice. The Surgeon-General agreed with the Superintendent and cut down the rice to about 16 ounces. I ask you, gentlemen, whether 16 ounces of rice are sufficient for a poor patient who is actually starving and wants more nourishment than many of the Members of this House. When they were in the Tondiarpet Hospital, they had four ounces of rice for congee in the morning, 12 ounces in the afternoon and again eight ounces in the night. When the rations were cut down by a third, that is, to 16 ounces, how could a patient live?—particularly a leper patient? They naturally refused to receive rations. When the orders of the Surgeon-General were communicated to them on the Deepavali day, they were on hunger-strike. The strike lasted for three days and then the police were summoned; the Surgeon-General went down and the Superintendent of Police came there and the ring-leaders were summarily sent out of the gates. The Surgeon-General and the asylum authorities told the strikers that that was a hospital and not a choultry, that they would be given only such quantity of rice as the Government authorities thought fit and not what they wanted for appeasing their hunger. That day, about 100 and odd patients left the gates and invaded the city of Madras. They came and paraded in front of the late Diwan Bahadur O. Thanikachala Chettiyar's bungalow in Egmore. He said that he was not a Member of the Council and asked them to go to Dr. Mallayya and to represent matters to him. They came to me in a body. On their behalf I saw Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar who then happened to be the Minister, and with the greatest difficulty he was able to induce the Mission authorities to take back about 30 or 40 patients. When we demanded for admission for more patients, we were told that the places were already filled by men from the waiting list and that these men who went out voluntarily had no chance of being taken back. They are here still, and they are waiting on the sands, waiting for the result of this resolution in the Council. It will be open to you to throw it down as the Minister wants you to do."

[Dr. B. S. Mallayya]

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Are you addressing the Chair?"

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"I am addressing you, if that is permitted."

* The hon. the Deputy PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member will please address the Chair."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA:—"Yes, Dr. President—I think that will be a better term. This settlement is always over-full and there is a big waiting list. Whenever a patient applies, he has to take his turn and he has to wait there for a long time. He has no room for waiting even and neither has he means of earning his livelihood there. He comes almost destitute to the gates and he comes out into the wilderness. Where is he to go for his meals? He is told at the same time that he must wait for his turn. The trains are closed to him and they will not take him as a passenger. He has to walk 26 or 27 miles from Tirumani to the City and once he comes to the city, he only adds to the beggar population.

"Madam, when the Missionaries took over the management of this Asylum, one of the patients there a dhoby by caste actually suffered from agonising pains. I forget his name. He approached the medical subordinates and told them that he had very bad pains and wanted to have a bed in the sick ward; but no notice was taken of him. The man, unbearable to bear his pains any longer, coolly walked out in the evening and laid himself down on the South Indian Railway lines, and the engine of the Rameswaram Express put an end to his life and thus relieved him from all pains for ever.

"There was another patient, I think Muniswami Nayakar was his name. It was in 1927. He had a child seriously ill somewhere near Villuparam. He took leave and went to see his child. By the time he went there, the child was dead. He came back walking all the way and wanted to be admitted back again. The authorities said he had no place, but that he must wait for his turn. The man waited and waited. He had no means of satisfying his hunger, and being driven to desperation, he tied one end of his dhoti to the rails over the bridge near the choultry and there the man hanged himself.

"Then, there was another Muhammadan boy, I forget his name. He came to the gates with ulcers all over his body in an acute form and told the authorities that he could not walk any longer. He was asked to wait for his turn. He said that if he was not taken in, the only way for him was to put an end to his life. He made good his promise, walked coolly down to the tank on the Tirukkalikundram road near the choultry and drowned himself. Madam, they are strict disciplinarians.

"Again, there was another Muhammadan school-boy Sheikh Davood, by name. He was recently admitted, but the Superintendent on his rounds found that the boy was passing urine in one of the roads. The boy did not know that there was such a thing as a separate latrine, and for that offence, the management turned him out of the gates. Although there is a clause in the agreement that no one can be sent out of the Asylum gates without the special permission of the Government, this Muhammadan boy was turned out simply because the boy passed urine on the road. I ask the Minister whether it is a serious offence justifying his being turned out of the institution? If you are going to judge that boy that way, there is an hon. Member in this House who ought not to be here to-day. He was found passing urine behind that neem tree near the corner of the flag-staff wall. He was caught by the Police and through the timely intervention of Rao Bahadur Varadarajulu Chetty, the Proprietor of Messrs. Harrison and Company, he was rescued from the hands of the police. Otherwise, he would not be sitting behind the Ministers there to-day. (Hon. Members--Who is he?) He is my friend Mr. Moopanar. He passed urine in the Fort near that neem tree under the flagstaff. He perhaps did not know that there was such a thing as a latrine here. He was quite a stranger, an hon. Member of this House, but the Police caught him there and wanted to apprehend him. He was in trouble and another gentleman had to intercede."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :--"Madam President, is this resolution on the Police or on the Leper Settlement?"

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :--"I am quoting parallels, madam. While an hon. Member of this House who passed urine near that flag-staff continues to sit here, a poor leper boy who passed urine on the road is shown out of the gates. (Voices : Leave that.)"

* The hon. the DEPUTY PRESIDENT :--"The hon. Member will kindly resume his speech. I think such remarks on the hon. Members of this House cannot be permitted on this resolution."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :--"Well, Madam President, I am not making any remarks on anybody. I am only enlisting."

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR :--"Order, Order."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :--"What is the order, please?"

30th September 1929]

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR :--"As a matter of good taste."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :--"I only want to enlist the sympathy of the hon. Members here. I do not care for tastes so long as these hon. Gentlemen have no respect for these lepers; I will do anything to enlist the sympathy of this House for these suffering miserable specimens of humanity. They require our sympathy, and I think, tastes or no tastes, we must enlist the sympathy of the House, unless the hon. Members of this House are prepared to undertake to see that these people are properly treated under the British Government where even dogs have hospitals.

"Coming again to another incident (hon. Members: It is time, finish). I want this resolution to go on to the next Council. Time is no consideration. There was another incident. There was an old woman who suffered on account of the small quantity of rice that was given to her. She had half a measure of rice for a meal; when the quantity was cut down from 24 to 16 oz. and hunger pinched her, she approached the Superintendent or the man in charge for more rice. She clamoured for more rice; but the man turns round and kicks her. She is an old leper and the man is a member of the Mission and he is a Christian; and he is a member of the Mission who are supposed to have sympathy for these lepers. I had read in a Mission school 40 years ago that Christ has said that we must have sympathy for lepers—it is said somewhere between Sumaria and Gallilee—ten lepers approached Jesus Christ for help and he cured them. In the Bible it is said that Christ was solicitous to the welfare of the lepers; but the man in charge of the hospital had the audacity to kick the old woman who asked for more rice, because her usual quantity of rice was suddenly cut down by the authorities. I ask: is that the way to treat beggars and particularly lepers at that? A telegram was sent by the respectable members of that Asylum to the Minister; an enquiry was held, and it has been shelved. I ask my hon. Friend Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar to enlighten us as to what happened later in regard to this case, even if he is canvassed to speak on their behalf. Sir, I want his good Christian heart to go out to these suffering lepers and to tell us exactly what is happening there. They are all good Christians; they are having weekly and bi-weekly evangelical classes wherein they bring musicians and others to teach the gospel of Christianity to these hundreds of lepers in the asylum. They are welcome to do it among Christians; but why press their Christian gospel down the throat of these hungry and half-starved Hindu and Muhammadan lepers that which they do not want and which will only make them feel miserable? They are already suffering very much from a miserable disease. Is it the intention of the Government that these men should go on abusing the castes of these people there? I ask them a straight question. They are afflicted by the most miserable disease on earth; do you want that their own castes and religious feelings should be abused by these Christian minstrels hired for the occasion from the town of Chingleput? That should not be the case. When the hospital was here, they had a separate temple provided for them for worship. When the Government built the Leper Asylum there, they provided a temple for worship at their own cost, of about Rs. 10,000 or Rs. 15,000 and the patients who had money with them provided the necessary articles for worship of the God there. That old venerable lady, Dr. Annie Besant, was kind enough, when she visited the hospital, to present that temple with an image of Lord Krishna,

[Dr. B. S. Mallayya]

[30th September 1929]

And she was presenting every year a definite sum of money on Krishna Jayanti day for the worship of the God. Patient Subrahmanya Ayyar was receiving it regularly; unfortunately that man died last year. This year when the money was received by the Leper Asylum authorities and when the patients asked for it, they were refused. The authorities said that the money was for being added to the leper fund. Madam, I ask is it fair? Is it decent in any religious institution that money sent particularly for the purpose of worship of the God should be added to a general fund? Are not the Government having sufficient money to contribute to the leper funds? Why should an amount intended for the worship of God be allowed to be confiscated by the Asylum authorities and added to its funds? It is not fair.

"Then again, every year these patients used to get from the Red Cross Society funds four annas each. Mrs. Coaltis (?) used to go there in person and pay each patient a sum of As. 4. After one or two years, it was represented to her that this money was utilized by these patients for procuring drink and other intoxicants, and she was asked to send all the money in a lump sum to the hospital asylum authorities. She did it for one or two years, I am told, but later on when irregularities were pointed out in the distribution of the amount,—a portion of it went to the Mission underlings those who followed the Christian faith and the servants of the hospital—that good lady herself came personally and made the distribution, and thus put an end to the lump sum contribution.

4-45 p.m. "Madam, Deputy President, as it is getting rather late and as I have not time to relate more incidents, I will leave it to my hon. Friend Mr. Saldanha to take up the thread and to go on. I have not stated all these things with the intention of running down the Mission management, but I merely wanted to point out the difficulties and the miseries which these poor patients have to undergo in that asylum, for the upkeep of which Government are paying, and it is our money—our tax-payers' money. Madam, the treatment there is far from satisfactory. They have not got sufficient doctors. When the Chief Doctor of the Mission went on leave, the other doctor who took over charge, I am told, has been doing the intra-venous injections himself and the other intra-muscular and other kinds of injections were given by one patient to another patient, with the result that there were a number of abscesses. I have seen one or two cases myself; I have been told about such cases; I have ascertained and verified these facts myself. It is neither fair to the patient nor to the good name of the Government that such a state of affairs should continue any longer.

"Madam, it has been recently pointed out by Dr. Santra that leprosy is no longer an incurable disease and the great Dr. Muir, thanks to the glory of the British nation, has found a cure for this disease. It has been done at the Leper Research Institute at Calcutta, which is affiliated to the Indian School of Tropical Medicine. The British Society for combating leprosy are taking a keen interest and are sending out parties for research work throughout India. Dr. Santra was in our midst recently and he gave us his views. He said that leprosy is curable and that the segregation of lepers in a large asylum is no longer a necessity. In fact, he said that it is an economic waste and that we should no longer have any more leper settlements. He said 'Do not waste your money but have small centres attached to each headquarter hospital or taluk hospital where these men can be treated as out-patients.'

[30th September 1929]

[Dr. B. S. Mallayya]

From a study of the statistics of leper asylums in the whole of India, he came to the conclusion that the total cost per head was only Rs. 15 per month but the cost given to us by our Government authorities was about Rs. 19 and the odd for the Tirumani settlement and on further scrutiny, we are told that the total cost per patient is about Rs. 18-7-5. But Dr. Santra says for that amount, you can treat about twenty patients outside, cure them once and for all and then restore them to their families and their homes and that there is no necessity to segregate them in big asylums and make them waste their lives and also waste Government money. Now, the views about leper asylums are completely changed. These asylums, he calls, as an economic waste. We are spending nearly Rs. 1,50,000 annually. With that we can treat 150,000 lepers with the latest treatment as suggested by Dr. Muir.

"The difficulty at present is to diagnose these cases in their early stages. For that a band of able and energetic medical officers are required. The Government, at present, have no facilities for training these men. If the Leper Settlement is taken over by Government and leper clinics are established there—I have no objection to the present Mission Doctors and Mission staff being retained—but the Government must have control. The students of the Medical College must have two weeks training in leprosy and all medical officers before they are taken into Government service must be made to undergo two months training in the treatment and diagnosis of the disease at Tirumani. It is only by these means that we can be in a position to put down leprosy and stamp it out from India just as England did.

"Madam, it is not too much to ask Government and it may be said that if Government take over completely, they may have to spend large sums of money. In fact there is no necessity for this extra expenditure. As a matter of fact, there are men who do not deserve to be there and should have been sent to their homes long ago. The question of cost is no consideration, if it is taken over by Government with the same Mission staff and that place made a centre of teaching our doctors in the matter of curing the disease. If this is done, I think we will be in a position to stamp out leprosy from our Presidency in about a decade.

"Madam Deputy President, my earnest request to the hon. Members is not to be guided by prestige or by representations made by others. But, you must think for yourselves and if you just go out of the gates you will find so many lepers waiting. As a matter of fact, one or two beggars went with letters to be admitted into the asylum and one of these letters was that from the hon. the Minister himself. They later on returned saying that they were not admitted. A leper that I sent some months ago also came back with a note from Dr. Sutherland saying that their difficulty at present was want of space. He quite sympathized with the patient, but he could not take him, because there were already other men on the waiting list. The patient that I sent was one who was begging opposite the Chennapuri Annadana Samajam and he can even now be seen there. Madam, it is a disgrace to any Government that has any claim to civilization to refuse admission because there is no room."

* The hon. the DEPUTY PRESIDENT :—"The hon. Member is nearing the time."

[30th September 1929]

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"It is really surprising to know that there is a time-limit for a mover of a resolution. It is my impression. I do not want to see that the resolution is brought to a close, so that the Minister may have a chance of replying to the points raised after verification."

* The hon. the DEPUTY PRESIDENT :—"One minute more."

Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"Thank you, Madam. In this connexion, I want to bring to the notice of the hon. Minister that a patient called Shaik Imam Sahib who absconded some time ago—I think I showed him the letter which I received from a leper inmate—was taken back by the mission authorities when he returned because he brought a letter from a brother missionary. But men who went with the recommendation of the Minister and other Members of this House were sent back."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—"I may say for the information of the hon. Member that I have never given any letter."

* Dr. B. S. MALLAYYA :—"But you forwarded one of my letters with your recommendation. The men were not taken. I will only appeal to have mercy on these poor lepers and allow them the chance to take full advantage of the marvellous discovery made by Dr. Muir so that they may be restored to health and to their families."

* Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"Madam Deputy President, it is with feelings of real sorrow, I daresay that Members of this House have heard the harrowing tales too vividly narrated by the Mover of this resolution. If I rise to second the resolution I do so as my duty to the suffering people. I have no doubt that there is hardly any member in this House who has not been moved by the harrowing tales that were narrated by the Mover of the resolution. I have no doubt that Dr. Mallayya who feels for the poor and who knows the effect of the disease is one who never comes forward with any resolution without making sufficient enquiry with regard to the matter. He is one who has made a thorough study of the subject and has taken a great deal of pains with regard to the matter and has come forward with a table of the sufferings of the poor lepers. Madam, I am sure that there will also be the other side of the question and the hon. Minister will come forward after careful enquiry from the authorities in the settlement to give his reply to all the allegations that were made by the hon. Mover. But, all the same, it seems to me that the question requires a thorough enquiry. If at all, there is any reform needed immediately, I daresay the hon. Minister will see to it after thorough enquiry to institute the necessary reform. With regard to the whole question of the policy of the Government in the matter of the treatment of the lepers in this province, I have no doubt that the Government of this province has failed to do its duty. We know from our experience both in the city and in the rest of the province that there are a number of lepers going about begging in the streets in the city and elsewhere, whereas, it should be the duty of the Government to see that the lepers are segregated and to see that the police are empowered to send them to settlements."

"With regard to the question whether the Tirumani Settlement is to be managed by the Mission or by the Government, the resolution, of course, wants that the Government should take up the management, if the missionaries are not amenable to the suggestions that are made by the Government with regard to its proper management. I think it is advisable for the Government in the interests of the suffering people that the Government should take up the thing and see that in the institution these poor lepers are treated better than they are treated to-day. We have heard how some of the lepers were treated : some of them were kicked, some of them were turned out and some of them were treated with scant courtesy. Therefore it seems to me that it is a humanitarian question for the Government to take up. If it is the policy of the Government to treat human beings as human beings they should see that the authorities who are in charge of the settlement do not treat these human beings properly, however miserable they may be, I think the Government will be failing in the discharge of their duty. Therefore, I second this resolution."

The House then adjourned to meet at 11 a.m. the next day.

II.—Statement showing Indian orphanages to which grants were refused in 1928-29.

District.	Name of orphanage.	Reason for refusal.
For Boys—
Vizagapatam ..	1. Gollapalan Kondabai H.E. School.	Rule 63 of the Grant-in-aid Code lays down that every child on whose behalf a grant is claimed should be certified to be destitute by the officers specified therein. These two institutions did not satisfy this condition.
Trichinopoly ..	2. S.P.G. Boys' Boarding Home, Irangalur.
Kistna ..	3. Noble High School Hostel, Masulipatam.	Under note (1) to Rule 64 of the Code, in order to become eligible for aid an orphanage should ordinarily have not less than 50 per cent of its inmates orphan or non-orphan destitutes within the age-limits prescribed, who are provided with free boarding and lodging without any charge to the inmates. These institutions did not satisfy this condition.
Guntur ..	4. C.M.S. Boarding H.E. School, Vidyanaagar.
Madras ..	5. U.L.C.M. Boarding Home, Rentachintala.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS

Arms and Ammunitions

Licences for revolvers, etc., in Bellary district.

* 658 Q.—MR. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state talukwar the total number of applications for licences received for and licences actually granted for (1) rifles, (2) revolvers, (3) breech-loading guns, (4) muzzle-loading guns and (5) other sorts of guns, if any, during each of the years 1926, 1927 and 1928 respectively in the Bellary district?

A.—The Government have no information but have called for it.

MR. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“May I know whether any such account in other districts is maintained at all?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—
“I think so.”

MR. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“If so, will the hon. Member call for the information?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—
“I do not think it is necessary.”

MR. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“May I know whether this information is published anywhere?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—
“I shall look into the matter and see whether it is available in any published report.”

Applications for gun licences for crop protection in South Kanara.

* 659 Q.—MR. A. B. SHETTY: With reference to my question No. 198 answered on 9th August 1929, will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) the number of applications for gun licences received for crop protection in South Kanara in each of the years 1926, 1927 and 1928; and

(b) the number of licences granted?

1st October 1929]

A.—(a) & (b) The following statement gives the information:—

Year.	Number of applications received.		Number of licences.
	For renewal.	For fresh grant.	Renewed.	Freshly granted.
1926	3,665	980	3,665	489
1927	3,814	757	3,814	204
1928	3,775	824	3,775	331

MR. A. B. SHETTY:—“From the statement given here I see a large number of new applicants have been refused licences. May I know on what grounds so many of the applicants for fresh grant of licences were refused?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—
“It is impossible to answer a question like that off-hand.”

MR. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD:—“May I know whether there is a departmental understanding that over and above a certain number licences should not be granted?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—
“There is no such understanding.”

Elections

Eligibility of karnams and village headmen for election to local bodies and legislatures.

* 660 Q.—MR. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state whether any distinction is made between a village headman and karnam in regard to their eligibility to stand for election to a local body or to the Legislative Council and if so, why?

A.—None in respect of municipalities and village panchayats. The village headman is, however, eligible for election to the Legislative Council and the local boards, whereas a karnam is not.

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—“May I know whether there is a proposal to do away with the differentiation between the karnams and village headmen with regard to election to local boards?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—
“There is no such proposal.”

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—“May I know the reason why such distinction is maintained?”

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur:—
“There is no particular reason for maintaining such a distinction, but when the amendment to the Local Boards Act is taken up the question may be considered.”

Labour

Reorganization of the Labour Department.

* 661 Q.—MR. C. GOPALA MENON: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the final proposals for the reorganization of the Labour Department have been received from the Commissioner of Labour;

[1st October 1929]

(b) if the answer to (a) is in the affirmative, what those proposals are ; and

(c) whether the Government have under consideration any proposal to start special training schools for training teachers employed in the labour schools as Community Welfare Workers or aid any non-official organization prepared to undertake such training ?

A.—(a) & (b) No.
(c) No.

Local Fund Audit

Revision of the results of the Local Audit Department S.A.S. Examination held in 1927.

* 662 Q.—MR. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR: Will the hon. the Member for Finance be pleased to state—

(a) whether he is aware that the results of the Local Audit Department S.A.S. Examination held in 1927 were revised in 1929 after a year and a half and if so, why ;

(b) whether a memorandum was issued by the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts in April 1929 declaring all the candidates but one who passed the examination in 1927 to have failed in the Examination ;

(c) what were the circumstances which necessitated the revision in 1929 of results of the year 1927 ;

(d) who was entrusted by the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts in 1927 with the preparation of the statement of marks put up to the Secretary to Government, Finance Department ;

(e) whether the rules relating to the S.A.S. Examination permit such revision after such a length of time ; and

(f) whether it is a fact that the pay of the clerks who passed in 1927 was increased every year according to the rules and that it has been now reduced, and that recovery for previous overpayment has been ordered by the Examiner, and if so, whether such reduction of pay and recovery were sanctioned or approved by the Government ?

A.—Under the rules for the conduct of the Subordinate Accounts Service Examination in the Local Audit Department the Accountant-General was asked to arrange for the examination in certain subjects and the Examiner, Local Fund Accounts, to arrange for the examination in other subjects. It was then the duty of the Examiner, Local Fund Accounts, to transmit the marks to the Finance Secretary who would communicate the result to the Examiner, Local Fund Accounts, for publication. The function of the Examiner, Local Fund Accounts, was merely to arrange for the examination in certain subjects and to transmit the marks to the Finance Secretary. In accordance with these orders the then Examiner of Local Fund Accounts at the end of December 1927 sent to the Finance Secretary a table of marks which he said showed the marks scored by the candidates at the examination held in November 1927 and the Finance Secretary approved of the results based on that statement. Subsequently in February and March 1929 it was discovered that the marks shown in the statement sent in by the Examiner were not the marks actually assigned by the examiners in two subjects. A correct statement showing the marks so assigned was then prepared and placed before the Finance Secretary, who ordered the revision of the results formerly announced which were based on incorrect data. The clerks concerned have been called upon to show cause why their pay which was increased on the incorrect assumption that they had passed the examination should not be reduced to the correct pay to which they would have been entitled as failed candidates.

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"May I know, Sir, how this Examiner of Local Fund Accounts committed such a mistake as to note down marks not assigned by the examiners?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"I do not know, Sir."

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"May I know with regard to how many clerks was this mistake committed?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"I do not know Sir. I think about six."

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"May I know what is the amount of overpayment to the clerks?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"I am unable to say."

MR. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"With regard to the last sentence of the answer, may I know whether it is proposed to reduce their present pay to the correct figure or whether they are asked also to return the overpayments made to them in the past?"

The hon. Sir THOMAS MOIR:—"Sums overpaid will be waived."

Civil Justice

Proposed location of the civil courts in Vellore outside the Fort.

* 663 Q.—MR. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is now any proposal before the Government to locate the civil courts at Vellore in any place outside the Vellore Fort ; and

(b) if so, whether the Government will consider the advisability of abandoning it in view of the great advantages which the litigant public have in having them in the Fort itself ?

A.—(a) & (b) The proposals for the construction of combined court-house for the civil courts, Vellore, are under the consideration of the High Court. They have not yet been received by Government.

Alleged delay in giving judgment in a land acquisition case in Vellore.

* 664 Q.—MR. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware that there has been a delay of more than six months (during which the summer holidays intervened) on the part of the District Judge of North Arcot in pronouncing judgment in a land acquisition case of Vellore town, in which the arguments had been heard and the case closed by the middle of February 1929 ; and

(b) if so, what action the Government intend taking in the matter ?

A.—The Government have no information but will call for a report.

[1st October 1929]

Removal of the distinction between bailiffs and process-servers.

* 665 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether the Government have examined the question of removing the distinction between the bailiffs on the one hand and the process-servers and amins on the other and if so, with what result?

A.—The Government have not examined the question.

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ May I know whether the Government propose to examine this question ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ No, Sir.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ May I know whether it is a fact that the services rendered by the bailiffs on the one hand and those rendered by the amins and process-servers on the other hand are of the same kind ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ They are more or less the same.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ Then, may I know why this distinction is maintained ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Because, it is based on a distinction maintained from ancient times.”

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—“ Then, if there is no other reason, will the hon. Member see that the distinction is removed ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ No, Sir.”

Increase of pay, etc., to process-servers.

* 666 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether the Government have received a copy of the resolutions passed at the Conference of process-servers held at Tanjore, on 25th and 26th May 1929, praying for (1) an increase of pay; (2) extension of the Provident Fund System; (3) the preparation of a process-servers' manual; (4) prohibition orders restraining Judges from directing process-servers to pull punkas in the court-hall, etc., and if so, whether they have considered and passed orders on the same?

A.—Copies of the resolutions have not been received by the Government.

Introduction of the Court-Fees Amendment Bill.

* 667 Q.—Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state whether the Government intend moving at the next meeting of the Council that the Court-Fees Amendment Bill as amended by the Select Committee be taken into consideration, and if not, why not?

A.—The Government have decided not to proceed with the Bill.

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ May I know the reasons why Government do not propose to proceed with the Court-Fees Amendment Bill ? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Because there will be a large loss of revenue.”

[1st October 1929]

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ May I know then why they brought the amending Bill? Did they foresee the loss of revenue when they brought that amending Bill? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ No, the Select Committee introduced changes not contemplated by Government.”

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—“ May I know whether Government are aware of the fact that some time back they made a definite promise that as soon as funds permitted they would reduce the court-fees? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Notice, Sir.”

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—“ Will the hon. the Law Member see the feasibility of amending the Court-Fees Act without loss of revenue to Government? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ I don't know whether it is possible.”

Mr. L. K. TULASIRAM :—“ May I know whether it is the policy of the Government not to amend any Bill if it touches the pocket of the Government? ”

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ That is not a supplementary question.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ May I know whether Government are in such dire need of funds that they cannot afford to forego any part of the court-fees? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ Yes, the Government are always in need of funds.” (Laughter.)

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—“ May I know whether the hon. the Law Member has examined the recommendations of the Taxation Enquiry Committee, and especially the memorandum or memoranda containing proposals to reduce court-fees without loss of revenue to Government? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ I am not aware of it.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—“ Is it not the object of the Bill to relieve the people of some portion of the court-fees that they are now paying? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ That was the object.”

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—“ Then what is the difficulty in proceeding with the Bill? ”

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ It has already been answered.”

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—“ May I know whether the hon. Member while on these benches urged this view? ”

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—“ It is not a matter within the cognizance of this Government.”

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—“ If the hon. the Law Member is not aware of the recommendations of the Taxation Enquiry Committee, will he at least look into them and introduce an amending Bill on the lines laid down there? ”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—“ I shall examine the question.”

[1st October 1929]

Forests*Alleged fall in income from forest buildings.*

* 668 Q.—Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO: With reference to the answer given to my supplementary question on question No. 1775, answered on 18th March 1929, will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state why the income on forest buildings fell as low as 12·3 per cent in 1927–28, whereas in previous years for which information is available it was 15·7 per cent and 17·5 per cent?

A.—The income was lower, because the expenditure on buildings under construction was heavier in 1927–28 than in the two preceding years.

Application from the Sri Lakshmi Mills for supply of timber.

* 669 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Sri Lakshmi Mills of Kasaragod in South Kanara had applied to the Chief Conservator of Forests to give them a sufficient supply of timber and, if so, when; and

(b) what arrangement has been made to supply them timber as required?

A.—(a) Yes: on 14th September 1927.

(b) There is no standing arrangement to supply timber as required. But the Forest Department supplied the mill with 50,500 cubic feet of timber in all in 1928.

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—“May I know what is the total quantity of timber applied for by the Sri Lakshmi Mills, and what portion is being supplied and what are the difficulties experienced, if any, that made the Forest Department unable to supply the total quantity of timber asked for?”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—“Notice, Sir.”

Appointment of a mechanical expert and a ranger in Olavakkot and Chedleth Saw Mills respectively.

* 670 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) why a mechanical expert and officer in charge of seasoning kilns on Rs. 400 per mensem is appointed for Olavakkot Saw Mill; and

(b) why a ranger on Rs. 150 + 50 is appointed for Chedleth Saw Mill?

A.—(a) The officer is in charge of the seasoning kilns and he is attending to the manager's duties in addition to seasoning work.

(b) No ranger is permanently employed at the mill. Before 5th July 1929 a ranger was employed at the mill temporarily for the organization and movement of large stocks of sawn timber which could not be entrusted to the local forester.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“May I know why a mechanical expert is appointed in the Olavakkot Saw Mill, when there are no such officers in other mills?”

[1st October 1929]

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—“There was a manager before and that post was abolished and the present officer is discharging besides his own duties those of the manager.”

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“What was the pay of the manager?”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—“Notice.”

Jails*Alleged refusal to include Mr. Annapurnaiah in the special division of prisoners.*

* 671 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state why the District Magistrate of East Godavari refused to include Mr. Annapurnaiah in the special division of prisoners in spite of the fact that he was requested to do so and was referred to relevant rules in the Madras Jail Manual relating to special division of prisoners?

A.—The Government have no information.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“May I know when Government called for the information?”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—“Notice, Sir.”

Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO:—“Taking into consideration the offence of Mr. Annapurnaiah, may I know whether the Government intend to order that the gentleman be included in the special division?”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“That has been answered on a previous occasion.”

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“May I know whether Government will issue a circular drawing the attention of the District Magistrates to the rules relating to the special division of prisoners since they do not seem to be aware of them?”

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—“My friend was not here yesterday when the whole subject was discussed, and I stated that it would be considered.”

Irrigation*Action taken on the recommendations of the Ceded Districts Irrigation Committee.*

* 672 Q.—Mr. K. KOTI REDDI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) what recommendations of the Ceded Districts Irrigation Committee the Government have proposed to give effect to; and

(b) the steps so far taken with regard to each of such recommendations?

A.—(a) & (b) A statement^a containing the information asked for is laid on the table.

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—“With reference to Velligallu project on page 15, may I know what exactly is being done now?”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—“I am sorry I must ask for notice.”

^a Printed as Appendix I on pages 585–587 infra.

[1st October 1929]

Proposed breaching of the Dongal cheruvu near Cuddapah town.

* 673 Q.—Mr. K. KOTI REDDI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether there is any proposal made by the malarial or any other officer to breach the 'Dongal cheruvu' tank near Cuddapah town;
- (b) the grounds on which such a proposal was made;
- (c) (1) the extent of land that is to be converted into dry from wet, (2) the annual loss of revenue to the Government, and (3) the estimated amount of compensation to be awarded to the ryots, if such a proposal is to be given effect to;
- (d) whether a similar proposal was made some years ago and whether the Government turned it down and issued a Government Order to that effect;
- (e) whether the Government have considered the feasibility of taking other steps short of breaching the tank in order to prevent mosquito-breeding and what they are; and
- (f) whether the Government have come to any conclusion and if so, what it is?

A.—(a) & (b) The Special Malaria Officer has recommended that as the ragi irrigation channels under the Dongala cheruvu breed malarial mosquitoes, the tank should be breached, and abandoned as an irrigation source, or that adequate arrangements should be made to maintain the irrigation channels under the tank in a clean state.

(c) (1) & (2) The registered ayacut is 123 acres with an aggregate assessment of Rs. 597.

(3) The Government have no information.

(d) Yes. The hon. Member's attention is invited to the answer to question No. 268 answered on 16th September 1922.

(e) & (f) No. The Government have referred the recommendations of the Special Malaria Officer to the Chief Engineer (Irrigation) and the Board of Revenue for report.

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"With regard to item 3 of clause (c) may I know whether Government have received information of the amount to be paid as compensation?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Before the Government decide to breach the tank the question of compensation will be taken into consideration."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"Then, may I know that before Government decides the question they should get the necessary information for the purpose of arriving at a decision?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I think it is stated that the Government have called for a report from the Board of Revenue and presumably the Board of Revenue will give this information if they recommend that the tank should be breached."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"May I know whether the Collector has subsequently reported that in view of the large compensation that has to be paid, the idea of breaching the tank may be abandoned?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I have no information, Sir."

1st October 1929]

Damage by floods in East Godavari Agency.

* 674 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: With reference to question No. 1758 answered on 16th March 1929, will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the report called for has been received;
- (b) if so, what is the value of damage caused in 1928-29 in the East Godavari Agency to roads, bridges and tanks;
- (c) the amount required for repairing the same; and
- (d) how much has been spent already?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b), (c) & (d) A statement giving the information is annexed.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"When the amount required is 3 lakhs and odd may I know why so little only was spent all this time?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I have already called for a report as to what is being done with regard to the remaining repairs and whether all the breaches will be repaired before the end of this year."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"May I know whether the whole sum required will be provided for in the next budget?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"That will be considered after the report is received."

Public Service*Increments to unpassed Muslim clerks in several departments.*

* 675 Q.—Mr. BASHERR AHMED SAYEED: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that several heads of departments do not allow unpassed clerks who have reached a figure above the efficiency bar and exempted under the provisions of G.O. Press No. 949, dated 5th November 1926, to draw increments above the pay drawn by them at the time of the passing of the said Government Order on the ground of absence of definite orders from Government permitting them to rise to the maximum pay;

(b) whether the Government will be pleased to call for a statement of cases of Muslim unpassed clerks who have not been allowed to draw increments and rise to the maximum although they have crossed the efficiency bar and place the same on the table of the House; and

(c) why these clerks have not been allowed to draw the increments after they have crossed the efficiency bar, so as to reach the maximum?

A.—(a) After the issue of the Government Order quoted, heads of departments have no power to permit unpassed men to rise above the pay drawn by them on the date of the issue of the Government Order if such pay is beyond the efficiency bar.

(b) The Government do not consider that any useful purpose will be served by embarking on the laborious collection of this information, which will involve a reference to all Heads of departments.

(c) The attention of the hon. Member is drawn to paragraph 1 of the Government Order which the hon. Member has quoted in clause (a) of the question.

[1st October 1929]

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"Will the Government issue orders enabling unpassed clerks to receive the maximum pay?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"As I have already stated in this House the question whether any further concessions should be allowed to unpassed clerks is under the consideration of Government."

Settlement

Progress of settlement in various parts of Malabar.

* 676 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) when revenue settlement was made in the various parts of Malabar; and

(b) when and for which portions resettlement has been made?

A.—(a) Settlement was introduced in Palghat and half of Calicut in 1900-01, in the rest of Calicut and in Walluvanad and Kurumbranad in 1901-02, in Kottayam and Ponnani in 1902-03, and in Ernad and Chirakkal taluks in 1903-04. The settlement of eight amsams of Malabar-Wynad was completed in 1887-88 and that of the remaining five amsams in 1888-89.

(b) The resettlement has not yet been introduced in any part of the Malabar district except in the Wynad, in which it was introduced in 1926-27.

Education

Alleged disabilities of secondary grade teachers.

* 677 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether a deputation of secondary grade teachers waited on him in November 1928 and represented their grievances and whether the hon. the Minister promised to consider the same;

(b) whether any orders have been passed on the same and if so, what they are;

(c) whether under the existing system secondary grade teachers can under no circumstances, aspire to salaries beyond Rs. 60 per month whatever be their length of service and qualification; and

(d) whether the Government intend to remove the disabilities of secondary grade teachers and place them on the same level as the officers in the clerical service?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The representation was considered and it was decided that there was no need to take any action thereon.

(c) While the maximum of the sanctioned scale of pay of secondary grade trained teachers is Rs. 60, they are eligible for appointment as junior grade deputy inspectors of schools. In special cases they may also, with the previous sanction of Government, be appointed as deputy inspectors of schools, senior grade.

(d) There is no such proposal before the Government.

[1st October 1929]

Alleged refusal of admission to an Adi-Dravida student in Coimbatore Training School.

* 678 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that one Arunachalam, an Adi-Dravida candidate, applied for admission to the Training school at Coimbatore this year;

(b) whether he was refused admission though he was specially recommended by the President of the District Educational Council and Mr. Veerian, ex-M.L.C.;

(c) what were the grounds for not granting admission to this candidate; and

(d) whether this candidate's applications for admission were similarly rejected in 1927 and in 1928 also?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Yes: the candidate was recommended by Mr. Veerian.

(c) The application was defective and did not furnish the required particulars. The candidate was then selected as a non-stipendiary at his own request. Subsequently he declined to join the training school as a non-stipendiary.

(d) In 1927, the candidate applied for lower elementary grade training in the Government Training School, Erode, but was not selected. He did not apply for training in 1928.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know in what way the application was defective, and what were the particulars that were not furnished?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice, Sir."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"With regard to clause (b), may I know whether the recommendation by an M.L.C. is a qualification for assuring admission?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I do not think so."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know whether the hon. the Minister will be pleased to direct the department that defective applications from Adi-Dravida students may be received and facilities be given to them for admission?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—" 'Defective' is a relative term and I cannot answer that."

Mr. V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"May I know whether the Government are aware that the candidate has 2½ years' service as teacher while others with less service were taken?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"It is not only a question of service but is also one of qualifications."

Mr. V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Will the hon. the Minister ask the Deputy Inspector of Schools to enquire fully into this matter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"For the reason that he was not qualified he was not taken. He must have at least the minimum qualification."

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know if this student has not studied up to the 8th standard?"

[1st October 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"In the opinion of the District Educational Officer his educational qualifications were not sufficient."

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD:—"For admission to training schools, who is responsible, the headmaster or the educational officer?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice."

Number of students educated in Queen Mary's College.

* 679 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) when the Queen Mary's College was started;
- (b) how many took their degrees in each year since it was started;
- (c) the number of students that received education in each year; and
- (d) what is the cost per head?

A.—(a) In 1914.

(b), (c) & (d) The hon. Member is referred to the annual reports on the working of the college which contain particulars of the number of students who were educated in the college and the number who took their degrees and of the charges incurred on the maintenance of the institution. The reports have been placed at the disposal of the Press.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"May I know whether the information called for is contained in the report?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"That is what I am told."

Cost of boarding in the Queen Mary's College Hostel.

* 680 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of students in the hostel attached to Queen Mary's College last year;
- (b) the charges each student has to pay for boarding and lodging, etc., for a year;
- (c) whether there are any students who are given free boarding and lodging; and
- (d) if so, how many?

A.—The attention of the hon. Member is invited to G.O. No. 1602, Law and Education, dated 31st July 1929, placed at the disposal of the Press and to the rules at pages 40-42 of the College Calendar for 1929-30; the rules do not provide for free boarding and lodging.

11-16 a.m. Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"Will the hon. the Minister be pleased to accord facilities for poor students to get free boarding and lodging?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I cannot give any undertaking."

[1st October 1929]

Local Boards

Exemption to local board employees for holding office in co-operative societies.

* 681 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) the circumstances and reasons which induced Government to issue G.O. No. 3368, L. & M., dated 18th July 1929, laying down that the employees of local boards should not hold office in co-operative societies;
- (b) whether it is a fact that some employees of local boards have for the last several years been allowed to be office bearers and that they have done useful service to the co-operative movement; and
- (c) whether Government propose to provide for exemptions being granted in the case of local boards employees who are very useful to the movement?

A.—(a) The Government Order issued on a reference from the President, District Board, Madura, and was based on the orders on the subject applicable to Government servants.

(b) One municipal council lately brought one such case to notice. Except for this, Government have no information.

(c) No, as no exemptions are permissible in the case of Government servants.

Village Panchayats

Inspection of village panchayats by Revenue Divisional Officers.

* 682 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

- (a) whether presidents of the village panchayats have any establishment, a servant or a clerk;
- (b) whether the Revenue Divisional Officers are instructed to inspect the records of village panchayats and, if so, for what purpose;
- (c) whether the Revenue Officers direct the presidents of the village panchayats to go with the records to their camps in other villages for inspecting the records;
- (d) whether the Revenue Divisional Officers treat the presidents with the respect due to honorary workers in public cause; and
- (e) whether the Government intend to circularize that the presidents of village panchayats are to be treated with the courtesy due to their position as honorary workers?

A.—(a) Yes. The appendix to the report on the administration of village panchayats in 1927-28 shows that an expenditure of Rs. 3,858 has been incurred on account of the pay of clerks and servants.

(b) Yes; for purposes of audit of panchayat accounts.

(c) As audit of panchayat accounts is conducted by Revenue Officers during their tours, it is done as near the village of the panchayat concerned as the Revenue Officer's convenience permits.

(d) It is presumed so; Government have received no complaint so far.

(e) No.

[1st October 1929]

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" With reference to the answer to clause (a), may I know if the Government are aware that it is only a few village panchayats that engage a clerk or a servant? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" It will depend, of course, on their financial resources."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" Are the Government aware that a good many of the village panchayats do not engage any clerks or servants, and it is only the presidents of the panchayats that have to go with their records to the Revenue Divisional Officers? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I will have an enquiry made on this point, Sir, by the Registrar-General of Panchayats."

Medical

Alleged deputation of medical men to the hon. the Minister for Public Health.

* 683 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether a deputation on behalf of the association of medical men in Government service waited on him at Ootacamund at the end of last May;

(b) what representations were made by the deputation; and

(c) whether the Government have taken any action in regard to them?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) & (c) A copy of the proceedings of the deputation and a copy of G.O. No. 1653, P.H., dated 3rd July 1929, are laid on the table.*

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" May I know if the Government have since considered the matter and come to any conclusion regarding any of the points urged by the deputation? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Conclusion has been come to on some points mentioned in the appendix. As regards the rest of the points, they have not been considered."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" May I know, Sir, whether after the G.O. No. 1653, dated 3rd July 1929, any further steps have been taken? I mean subsequent to the Government Order? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" As stated already, no further steps have been taken."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know whether the hon. Minister is going to consider the remaining points and if so, when? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The last and final decision of these points will be deferred until the Government receive and consider the report of the committee on medical education, as stated already in the answer."

[1st October 1929]

Public Health

Suspension of the use of chloroform Duncan Flockhart manufactured in May 1928.

* 684 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have asked their medical officers to suspend the use of chloroform Duncan Flockhart manufactured in May 1928;

(b) how much of this drug has been bought by the Medical Store Depot in Madras and what is the total amount paid for it;

(c) what quantity of it has been supplied to the local board and municipal hospitals in this province;

(d) whether the Government have recovered from the supplier of this drug the cost of the drug left unused;

(e) whether they have refunded to the local bodies the loss incurred by them on account of suspending the use of this chloroform;

(f) whether any other drug got by the Medical Store Depot has been similarly reported on adversely; and

(g) how Government propose to test the purity of the drugs they get hereafter so as to prevent loss to themselves and danger to the public?

A.—(a) At the instance of the officer in charge of the Medical Store Depot, Madras, Medical Officers to whom the chloroform in question was issued were asked to suspend its use.

(b) The Government have no information.

(c) About 424 lbs.

(d) This is a matter for the Government of India who control the Medical Store Depot.

(e) No. The quantity remaining unexpended at the time of suspension will be replaced by fresh chloroform by the Medical Store Depot, Madras, free of cost.

(f) Yes; Aether and Novarsenobenzil of different strengths.

(g) Supplies received through the India Store Department, London, are carefully tested and declared fit for use before shipment and on receipt in the Medical Store Depot they are stored in the cold storage room to prevent deterioration. Drugs that are likely to be affected by climatic conditions are periodically tested at the Medical Store Depot and no drug is issued unless its purity is ensured. No further tests are necessary or proposed.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" With reference to clause (b), may I know if the Madras Government have made any representation to the Government of India on this matter? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" There is no necessity for the Madras Government to make any representation. The Medical Stores Department themselves took the necessary action."

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" With reference to clause (e) of the answer, may I know at whose cost the quantity remaining unexpended will be replaced? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Probably at the cost of the Government of India or the manufacturer. We are not concerned with that."

[1st October 1929]

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"With reference to clause (c) of the answer, may I know what is the cost of the 424 lbs. that have been supplied to local fund and municipal hospitals?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"I have no idea of the cost. But they will take back an equal quantity of fresh drug."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"With reference to clause (g), there is the statement to the effect that supplies received through the Indian Stores Department, London, are carefully tested and declared fit for use before shipment. In that case, may I know why this drug came to be condemned afterwards?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Evidently there was some mistake in testing at first. It was discovered soon afterwards and the drug was called back."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"May I know what steps are being taken to see that such mistakes do not recur?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The officer in charge will probably be advised to be more careful hereafter."

Agriculture

Introduction of agricultural instruction in the schools at Sullia and Bellare.

* 685 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Taluk Board President of Puttur in South Kanara has made a proposal to the Director of Agriculture about introducing agricultural instruction in two of his higher elementary schools at Sullia and Bellare, and if so, when;

(b) whether this proposal was placed before any committee and whether the committee has given any opinion about it;

(c) whether the Director has considered this matter and made any recommendations to the Government;

(d) whether any final reply has been sent about this matter to the Taluk Board President; and

(e) whether the Government have come to any decision regarding the question of agricultural instruction in elementary or secondary schools?

A.—(a) & (b) The President, Taluk Board, Puttur, addressed the Director of Agriculture in October 1927 regarding the introduction of agricultural education in higher elementary schools. The proposal was laid before the committee appointed by the Director of Public Instruction to report on the general question of the introduction of agriculture into such schools. The report of the committee is awaited.

(c) No action has been taken pending the report of the committee.

(d) No.

(e) The committee's report is awaited.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know when this matter will be decided?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"As soon as the report is received."

[1st October 1929]

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know why the committee has not yet sent its report on this matter?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"That I cannot say."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"May I know why an answer was not sent to the president of the taluk board just to inform him whether steps are being taken?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"The matter is still under consideration."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"But still, may I know if it is not at least a matter of courtesy just to reply to him that the matter will be considered after receipt of the committee's report?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"That is cross-examination."

Recommendations of the Agricultural Advisory Committee regarding levy of grazing fees.

* 686 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Agricultural Advisory Committee has made any recommendation in regard to the rates of grazing fees levied by the Forest department and the improvement of grazing facilities generally; and

(b) if so, what action the Government propose to take in this matter?

A.—(a) The committee has not yet arrived at any conclusions in the matter.

(b) Does not arise.

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"May I ask whether the hon. Minister has inspected any reserve forests to see whether grazing has declined or increased?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"Forest is not a concern of mine, Sir. That is not under my portfolio."

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"Does not the question relate to the availability of grazing in forests?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"Yes, Sir."

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"Am I to understand that the hon. the Minister for Agriculture has nothing to do with the grazing in the reserve forests?"

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"He said that."

Proposed appointment of additional demonstrators.

* 687 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government propose to appoint more agricultural demonstrators this year;

(b) if so, how many more; and

(c) at what cost?

A.—(a) & (b) The Government have sanctioned the appointment of eight demonstrators during 1929-30.

(c) The cost on account of the pay and travelling allowance of the demonstrators is Rs. 11,700 per annum.

[1st October 1929]

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know whether the hon. Minister will recognize that the number provided is too small ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I see it, but the only difficulty is want of qualified men. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" It is stated in the answer that eight demonstrators have been sanctioned. May I know if these appointments have been actually made ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Yes. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" May I know to what districts they are posted ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" To various parts. I cannot say to what particular districts they have been posted. "

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" Am I to understand that no hands are available ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" No qualified hands are available. "

Consideration of the Agricultural Colonization scheme by the Agricultural Advisory Committee.

* 688 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state, with reference to question No. 1924, dated 27th March 1929—

(a) whether the Government have placed the Agricultural Colonization scheme before the Agricultural Advisory Committee; and

(b) if so, what the result is ?

A.—(a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know whether the hon. Minister will refer this matter to the Advisory Committee ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I shall examine the question. "

Fisheries

Provision for Secondary training in the Fisheries Training Institute at Calicut.

* 689 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Fisheries Training Institute at Calicut provides training for Secondary-grade teachers;

(b) whether it is a fact that every year a large number of qualified Secondary School-Leaving Certificate candidates are applying for admission into the training institute and that they are required to undergo training provided for the Higher Elementary Grade;

(c) whether the Government propose to provide Secondary-grade training also in the said training institute;

[1st October 1929]

(d) whether qualified Secondary School-Leaving Certificate candidates are started after their period of training on the same salary as Secondary-grade trained teachers, though the training undergone by them is of the Higher Elementary Grade; and

(e) if so, whether the Education Department was consulted before the Government arrived at their decision ?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) As an increasing number of Secondary School-Leaving Certificate holders have of late been applying for admission to the Fisheries Training Institute, Calicut, the Director of Fisheries has made tentative arrangements to provide them a suitable course of training. The question whether these arrangements should be made permanent is under the consideration of Government.

(d) Qualified Secondary School-Leaving Certificate candidates are given after their period of training the scale prescribed for Secondary-grade trained teachers if there is a vacancy in the Fisheries schools for teachers of that grade. If there be no vacancy, however, such teachers are given only the pay sanctioned for Higher Elementary trained teachers.

(e) Yes.

Industries

Development of the textile industry in Bellary district.

* 690 Q.—Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state the steps taken for the progress of the textile industry in the Bellary district ?

A.—The textile industries carried on in the Bellary district are—

- (1) cotton and silk weaving and dyeing,
- (2) cotton carpet weaving, and
- (3) cumby or blanket industry.

A peripatetic weaving party worked in the Bellary district in 1923-24 and 1924-25 and visited many weaving centres and introduced several weaving appliances. The action taken by Government on the recommendations of the Special Officer in respect of the industries referred to above in the Bellary district was indicated in the answers to Legislative Council questions Nos. 1339 and 155 given on 1st February 1929 and on 9th August 1929, respectively. The department also advised and assisted the Central Jail, Bellary, in the matter of obtaining and installing a woollen spinning plant at the Central Jail. Attempts were also made to popularize machine-spun yarn among cumby weavers in the district. It was found difficult however to overcome the conservatism of the weavers in regard to the adoption of machine-spun yarn in view of the difficulty experienced by them at present in arranging for the marketing of cumblies of superior quality. The final report of the Special Officer has already been published and the improvement of the textile industry in the district will be further considered in conjunction with the development of the industry in the Presidency as a whole.

[1st October 1929]

Mr. L. K. TULASIRAM :—" May I know what the several weaving appliances are which have been introduced by the peripatetic weaving party in 1923-24 ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice Sir."

Mr. L. K. TULASIRAM :—" May I know the reasons why they introduced a woollen spinning plant in the Bellary Central Jail ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Because the jail authorities asked for the services of the Textile Expert and he was sent there. He assisted and advised them in the matter."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether the 'drop box slay' is one of the appliances introduced by the peripatetic weaving party ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice."

Appointment of an officer of the department as Director of Industries.

* 691 Q.—Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) why the recommendation of the Retrenchment Committee that the post of the Director of Industries should be held by an officer of the department and not by a Revenue Officer has not been given effect to on any occasion when a vacancy occurred ;

(b) whether and when Government propose to give effect to the policy recommended by the Retrenchment Committee ;

(c) whether there is any other department of Government in which the head of the department is appointed from outside the department ; and

(d) what have been the special qualifications of each of the several officers appointed as Director of Industries including the present incumbent for the post ?

A.—(a) & (b) The recommendation will be given effect to when an officer of the department of sufficient seniority and with the requisite qualifications and administrative experience is available.

(c) Yes.

(d) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer to question No. 275 given on the 10th August 1929.

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know why the Minister did not appoint a proper technical man as director when the vacancy arose on the last occasion, so as to prevent further closing of industrial undertaking ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" The question was considered in all its aspects. We wanted to have an experienced administrator to have the department reorganized, and so we selected a man who has had administrative training and qualifications."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know whether the hon. Minister promised definitely that when the next vacancy occurred a new man, a technical man, would be appointed ? "

[1st October 1929]

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Yes. That point was duly considered, and in spite of it we had to take into consideration the actual state of things in the department, and so we appointed this man."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" Was it the opinion of the Minister or his Secretary ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" It was the opinion of the Royal Commission on Agriculture."

Mr. L. K. TULASIRAM :—" May I know whether the Government are aware that the development of industries is very greatly hampered on account of want of a technical man as Director of Industries ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" True, but the other things also have to be taken into consideration. The man to be appointed must have the power of organization and must be a man in close touch with the districts. He must be a man of status, and must carry weight with the people. So taking all these things into consideration, we have selected this man now, and when a future occasion arises, this will be considered again."

Mr. L. K. TULASIRAM :—" May I know whether the Government are aware that there have been nearly seven Directors of Industries up to now, all non-technical men who have had no technical training at all and there is no definite continuity of policy in regard to this matter of development of industries ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I am afraid the hon. Member is making a speech."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether men recruited to the post of Director of Industries previous to the practice of recruitment from the provincial service were technical men and were quite capable of organization ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" They might have been."

Veterinary

Prevalence of rinderpest in South Kanara.

* 692 Q.—Mr. K. R. KARANT : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the number of deaths from rinderpest in South Kanara in each of the years 1920 to 1928 ;

(b) the number of cases of rinderpest in 1929 up till now in the district and the number for which serum simultaneous inoculations were done ;

(c) whether it is a fact that there was not a sufficient quantity of serum ;

(d) whether the disease is still prevalent in various parts of the district, and if so, in what parts ; and

(e) what steps are being taken to combat the disease ?

[1st October 1929]

- A.—(a) A statement* containing the information is appended.
 (b) 971; 1,315 cases were protected by the serum simultaneous method of inoculation.
 (c) Towards the beginning of this year, the Muktesar Institute was not able to supply the requisite quantity of serum. Consequently, it was not possible to meet the requirements of the staff adequately during that period.
 (d) Yes, in the undermentioned taluks :—
 (1) Mangalore. (4) Udipi.
 (2) Kasaragod. (5) Karkal.
 (3) Puttur. (6) Coondapoor.
 (e) Inoculations by the serum simultaneous method are conducted by the staff of the department to combat the disease.

Sheep breeding in Hosur sheep farm.

* 693 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any special breed of sheep is evolved in the Hosur sheep farm;
 (b) if so, what the nature of the breeding is; and
 (c) the number available in the farm at present?

A.—(a) Yes.

- (b) To evolve a breed of white sheep, to improve the wool yield and to improve the carcass development.

(c) 186.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"May I know whether the hon. Minister considers the number 186, as quite sufficient for the purpose?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"We are trying to improve it, Sir."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"May I know for how many years they have developed this number?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"For the last two or three years."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"For how many years are they going to develop for the proper number to come up?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"As early as possible."

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"Is the present experiment producing good results?"

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—"It is producing good results."

Local Boards

Enquiry into the damages caused to the Moir Causeway.

* 693-A Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state, with reference to the Government communiqué dated the 23rd September 1929, on the Moir Causeway—

(a) the names of persons deputed by the Government to inquire into the damages to the Moir Causeway and the terms of the reference made to them;

(b) whether a report was received from them; and

(c) whether he will place on the table of the House the report and the conclusions of this enquiry?

A.—(a) The Chief Engineer. He was asked to enquire into the matter personally and submit a detailed report.

(b) Yes.

(c) No.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know from the hon. the Chief Minister who the other officers are that were asked to report on this matter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Only the Chief Engineer."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know whether the President of the District Board was also asked to report?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"It is only the Chief Engineer. The Chief Engineer after going into the details of the question found that the Superintending Engineer was really responsible for cutting down the estimates."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know if it was really the cutting down of the estimates that was responsible for this damage?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"That is the opinion of the Chief Engineer who is competent to give advice to the Government on this point."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know if the Government have taken any further steps to see whether the officer who undertook to superintend the construction with a limited amount of money was responsible for this?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"As a matter of fact the District Board Engineer had to carry out the orders of the Superintending Engineer who is his superior."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"They say in answer to clause (c) that they won't be pleased to place the report on the table of the House. May I know the reason?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Because it is a confidential report submitted by the Chief Engineer, it will not be in the public interests to publish that report."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know how it is confidential?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"It is a report submitted to the Government by an officer of the Government; it will not be in public interest to have it published."

[1st October 1929]

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"May I know if any Ministerial policy is involved in this?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"No Ministerial policy is involved in this."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"May I know if it is because the report condemns a District Board President that the Government refuse to place it on the table of the House?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I absolutely deny there is any condemnation of the District Board President."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know whether in the communiqué that he has issued he has not given any reasons for the defects and whether the Chief Engineer saw to it that the District Board Engineer was not responsible for it?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I did not think it was necessary to elaborate the point."

Alleged waste of public money in respect of the construction of the Moir Causeway.

*693-B Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether his attention has been drawn to the allegations made in the Press by Mr. C. N. Muthuranga Mudaliyar on 24th September 1929 against the Government and the District Board of Chingleput of gross mismanagement and deliberate waste of public money in respect of the construction of the Moir Causeway; and

(b) if so, what steps do the Government propose to take regarding the matter?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The matter is under consideration.

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"The Government say that the matter is under consideration. May I know what that matter is?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"To see that this causeway is properly strengthened and that these damages do not recur."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"Is it a fact that the Government have sanctioned Rs. 40,000 for this same purpose?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—"May I know if the Government is aware that even the arch has also fallen down?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"We have asked for a report and I am not sure what has happened."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know if the cutting down of the estimate by the Superintending Engineer was with the approval of the then Chief Engineer?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"Notice."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"May I know whether any explanation was called for as to why the thing was done like that?"

1st October 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I am afraid the hon. Member has not paid attention to the answers. This explanation was called for long ago with regard to the falling of the Moir Causeway and the whole thing was investigated."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"Was the officer concerned given any warning or punishment?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"The Superintending Engineer has now ceased to be a Superintending Engineer."

Khan Bahadur S. K. ABDUL RAZACK SAHIB Bahadur:—"May I know why the original estimate was cut down by 50 per cent?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I do not know if it was cut down by 50 per cent, but it was reduced."

II

AMENDMENTS TO STANDING ORDERS.

(i)

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I have to announce that the following candidates have been duly nominated for election to the Select Committee to amend Standing Orders Nos. 22, 23 and 41:—

- (1) Mr. P. C. Venkatapathi Raju.
- (2) „ S. Satyamurti.
- (3) Diwan Bahadur R. N. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar.
- (4) Mr. A. B. Shetty.
- (5) „ F. E. James.
- (6) The Kumara Raja of Venkatagiri.

"As the number of candidates nominated for election is equal to the number of vacancies to be filled, viz., six, I hereby declare the above-mentioned members to be duly elected under regulation II (4) of the regulations for the holding of elections by means of the single transferable vote.

"I nominate Mr. B. Muniswami Nayudu, a Member of the Panel of Chairmen, to be a Member of the Select Committee."

(ii)

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The first item in the agenda is a motion by the hon. the Law Member for certain amendments to Standing Orders Nos. 2, 3, 5, 10, 14, 33, 34, 46, 49 and 64. Under Standing Order No. 76 I have now to read the draft amendments and ask whether the hon. Member has the leave of the House. The amendments have been circulated to the hon. Members of this House. Is it the wish of the House that I should read them? (Voices: 'No, no.') I wish to know whether the hon. Member has the leave of the House. (After a pause) Since no Member objects, I take it that the hon. Member has the leave of the House. The draft amendments have now to be referred to a Select Committee. Six Members of the Select Committee have to be elected by the Council by means of the single transferable vote in accordance with the regulations framed in this behalf, the President, the Deputy President and the Advocate-General being ex-officio Members

[The President]

[1st October 1929]

of the Committee. One of the Members of the Panel of Chairmen is to be nominated by me as a Member of the Committee. I fix 2 p.m. to-day as the hour within which nominations may be handed over to the Secretary.

"The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. Krishnan Nayar will move for leave to introduce the following amendments to the Standing Orders of the Madras Legislative Council:—

I

Standing Order No. 2.

For the existing Standing Order No. 2 (2), substitute the following:—

- "2. (2) On the termination of a session all pending notices and all pending business, except Bills which have been introduced, shall lapse."

II

For the existing proviso to sub-clause (3) of Standing Order No. 2, substitute the following:—

- "Provided that if the member in charge of a Bill makes no motion in regard to the same during two complete sessions, the Bill shall lapse."

III

Standing Order No. 3.

For the existing Standing Order No. 3, substitute the following:—

- "3. (1) When, owing to the existence of any vacancy in the office of a Deputy President, the election of a Deputy President is necessary, the Governor when there is no President, or the President when there is a President, shall fix a date for the holding of the election and the Secretary shall send to every member notice of the date so fixed.
- (2) At any time before 3 p.m. on the day preceding the date so fixed any member may nominate another member for election by delivering to the Secretary a nomination paper signed by himself as proposer and by a third member as seconder and stating
- (a) the name of the member nominated and
 - (b) that the proposer has ascertained that such member is willing to serve as Deputy President, if elected.
- (3) On the date fixed for election the person presiding shall read out to the Council the names of the persons who have been duly proposed together with the names of their proposers and seconders, and if only one member has been so proposed for election, shall declare that person duly elected. If more than one person has been so proposed, the Council shall proceed to elect a Deputy President by ballot.
- (4) For the purpose of clause (3) a member shall not be deemed to have been duly proposed or be entitled to vote if he and his proposer and seconder have not, before the reading out of the names by the person presiding, made the oath or affirmation, as members of the Council.

[1st October 1929]

[The President]

- (5) Where more than two candidates have been proposed and at the first ballot no candidate obtains more votes than the aggregate votes obtained by the other candidates, the candidate who has obtained the smallest number of votes shall be excluded from the election and balloting shall proceed, the candidate obtaining the smallest number of votes at each ballot being excluded from the election until one candidate obtains more votes than the remaining candidate or than the aggregate votes of the remaining candidates as the case may be.
- (6) Where at any ballot one of three or more candidates obtain an equal number of votes and one of them has to be excluded from the election under clause (5) the determination as between the candidates whose votes are equal of the candidate who has to be excluded shall be by drawing lots.
- (7) No member who has been elected Deputy President and whose election has not been approved by the Governor shall be nominated as a candidate during the continuance of the same Council."

IV

Standing Order No. 5.

For the existing Standing Order No. 5, substitute the following:—

- "5. (1) On days other than those allotted by the Governor for the business of non-official members of the Council the Government may arrange Government business in such order as they think fit.
- (2) On days allotted by the Governor for the business of non-official members of the Council, unless any days have been allotted for any particular class of non-official business when non-official business of that class shall have precedence the arrangement of the business shall be in the following order:—
- (i) Motions other than those falling under (ii) and (iii) below—hereinafter referred to as special motions;
 - (ii) Motions relating to Bills; and
 - (iii) Motions which are recommendations to Government—Resolutions.
- (3) Motions relating to Bills other than Government Bills shall be arranged in such order as to give priority to the Bills most advanced, that is to say, in the following order:—
- (i) Bills which have reached a stage at which the next motion is a motion that the Bill be passed;
 - (ii) Bills for which the next stage is a motion that the Bill as reported upon by a Select Committee be taken into consideration;

[The President]

[1st October 1929]

- (iii) Bills referred to a Select Committee for which the next stage is the presentation of the report of the Select Committee, or the appointment of the actual members of the Select Committee;
- (iv) Bills which have been introduced but have not been proceeded with as far as the stages set out above;
- (v) Bills which are to be introduced and Bills in respect of which the motion is only for leave to introduce.
- (4) As among the Bills falling under each of the clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) of clause (3), the relative precedence shall be determined according to the priority of their introduction in the Council.
- (5) The relative precedence (a) of Bills falling under (iv) and (v) of clause (3), and (b) of resolutions shall be determined by ballot.
- (6) A separate ballot shall be held (a) for motions relating to Bills and (b) for resolutions.
- (7) The ballot shall be for the names of members giving notices of motions which are eligible for discussion at the meeting in respect of which the ballot is held.
- (8) Each member whose name has been drawn in the ballot shall be entitled to have entered against his name one motion of each of the classes in respect of which the ballot has been held. No member shall be entitled to have more than one such motion entered against his name. All other admitted motions of which a member has given notice and from which he could have made his choice shall be deemed to have been withdrawn.
- (9) The ballot shall be held at such time as may be determined by the President and may be repeated as often as may be necessary with reference to the state of non-official business.
- (10) The precedence of motions as determined by each ballot shall hold good for thirty days from the date on which the ballot is held exclusive of the day on which it is held provided that any motion which is under consideration of the Council at the time of an adjournment shall be taken as the first item of non-official business of the same class as itself on the next day available for non-official business of that class.
- (11) In cases not provided for by rules or the Standing Orders, the President shall have power to determine the order of precedence of any business to be transacted at any sitting.
- (12) Not more than fifteen resolutions shall be set down for any day on which resolutions are to be considered by the Council."

1st October 1929]

[The President]

V

New Standing Order No. 5-A.

After Standing Order No. 5 insert the following new Standing Order:—

"5-A. When a Bill which has been passed is returned by the Governor to the Council for reconsideration, it shall be entered as the first item of business after questions

- (1) on the first available day for Government business if the Bill is a Government Bill;
- (2) on the first available day for non-official business if the Bill is one introduced by a non-official Member."

VI

Standing Order No. 10.

Omit Standing Order No. 10.

VII

Standing Order No. 14.

For Standing Order No. 14, the following shall be substituted:—

- "14. (1) Questions which have not been disallowed shall be entered in the list of questions for a day not earlier than seven clear days from the date on which notice thereof was received by the Secretary;
- (a) provided that the President may with the consent of the member in charge of the department concerned order a question to be entered in the list of questions with shorter notice than seven days; and
 - (b) provided also that in case the answer to a question cannot be sent to the Secretary before the sitting of the Council immediately following the period of seven days' notice, the President may extend the time for answering the question.
- (2) Questions entered in the list of questions for a day shall be called, if the time made available for questions permits, in the order in which they stand in the list, before any other business is entered upon at the meeting. All questions which are not so called with the answers thereto shall be included in the printed proceedings of the Council."

VIII

Standing Order No. 33.

In Standing Order No. 33 (2) omit the word 'original' occurring in this sub-clause.

[The President]

[1st October 1929]

IX

Standing Order No. 34.

For the fullstop at the end of this Standing Order substitute a comma and add the following :—

“provided that nothing in the Standing Order shall enable a member to move that any meeting at which the general discussion of the budget or the consideration of any demand for budget grants is to take place, or such general discussion or consideration be adjourned or postponed.”

X

Standing Order No. 46.

For the existing sub-clause (1) of Standing Order No. 46 substitute the following :—

“46. (1) Notice of a proposed amendment shall be sent to the Secretary at least three clear days before the sitting of the Council at which the Bill is to be considered provided that the President may in his discretion for sufficient cause admit an amendment with shorter notice than three days.”

XI

Standing Order No. 49.

For sub-clauses (2) and (3) of Standing Order No. 49 and for the note to sub-clause (3) of the said Standing Order substitute the following :—

“49. (2) If any amendment other than an amendment which is verbal or of a consequential nature be made, a motion that the Bill be passed shall not be made earlier than two days from the day on which the consideration of the Bill was concluded in Council, provided that this clause shall not apply to taxation Bills.”

“49. (3) On a motion that a Bill be passed no amendments except amendments which are verbal or of a consequential nature shall be made to the Bill.”

XII

Standing Order No. 64.

Standing Order No. 64 shall be omitted.

XIII

Re-number the Standing Order in serial order in accordance with the foregoing alterations.

[1st October 1929]

[The President]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In the working of the Standing Orders, several defects have been noticed from time to time. Some of these have been remedied, but others remain. On the 17th August 1929, the hon. the President convened a conference of the representatives of the various parties in the Legislative Council for the purpose of discussing them, and the draft amendments which are annexed are the result of the deliberations of that conference. The following notes will show the reason for and the effect of the amendments suggested.

NOTES ON AMENDMENTS.

Standing Order No. 2.

Sub-clause (2).

The proposed amendment to this clause is intended to make clear that on the termination of a session all pending business except Bills and all pending notices shall lapse.

Sub-clause (3).

The words in this sub-clause which empower the Council to make a special order for the continuance of a Bill in respect of which no motion has been made in Council for two complete sessions are proposed to be omitted. This power has been used only once and that too after the completion of the two years and it is desirable to remove it altogether.

Standing Order No. 3.

This Standing Order relates to the election of a Deputy President and had been made before the enactment of rule 5-A which refers to the election of President. It is desirable to amend this Standing Order so as to bring its language in a line with the language of rule 5-A. Hence the amendment.

Standing Order No. 5.

At the time when this Standing Order was made rule 6 of the Legislative Council Rules had provided that on days not allotted for non-official business, Government business shall only have precedence and thereby rendered the transaction of non-official business possible on such days if there was no Government business to get through. Under an amendment of the rule made in 1925 however, no non-official business can be transacted on days not allotted for such business except with the consent of the Local Government. The language of the existing Standing Order is inappropriate to this altered state of things. Further, a new rule 24-A which was made after the making of the Standing Order has introduced a new class of motions for which no provision for determining precedence existed in the Standing Orders. These defects are now sought to be remedied. It has been contended that the language of clause (3) of the Standing Order exempts a Bill which has just been introduced and which has never been referred to a select committee from the procedure of the ballot in case a motion is made in respect of it straightway that it be taken into consideration without being referred to a select committee. The intention of clause (3) however seems to be only to exempt Bills which have gone before a select committee from the procedure of the ballot. The draft Standing Order makes this plain. Opportunity has been taken to re-draft the whole Standing Order so as to make it clearer than before.

[The President]

[1st October 1929]

New Standing Order after Standing Order No. 5.

This supplies a lacuna which now exists in the Standing Orders, as the latter contain no provision for determining the place of Bills which have been returned by His Excellency for reconsideration with or without amendments. Standing Order No. 51 provides that the point or points referred for reconsideration shall be put before the Council by the President and this makes it desirable that such Bills should have precedence over all other business after questions. This amendment seeks to bring about this result.

Standing Orders Nos. 10 and 14.

These amendments relate to the Standing Orders relating to questions. These Standing Orders are in several respects at variance with the existing practice, and they are sought to be so amended as to bring them in accordance with the existing practice.

Standing Order No. 33.

The expression 'Original motion' in Standing Order No. 33 (1) has given rise to a doubt whether where there has been a motion and an amendment thereto before the House and a closure has then been moved, the vote on the closure would terminate the debate only on the amendment or on the original motion also. This is now sought to be made clear by providing that it is only the debate on the amendment that will be terminated and not the original motion.

Standing Order No. 34.

A proviso is proposed to be added to the Standing Order to make it clear that the form of dilatory motion referred to in it shall not apply to any business connected with the budget or to any meeting at which such business is to be transacted.

Standing Order No. 46.

In practice, it has not been possible to insist upon the notice of ten days for amendments to Bills provided for by Standing Order No. 46. It is now proposed to reduce the period of notice from ten days to three days while retaining the discretion of the President to admit an amendment with shorter notice.

The right of a member to object to an amendment on the ground of short notice is removed as unnecessary.

Standing Order No. 49.

The necessity for providing a compulsory interval between the conclusion of the consideration of a Bill which has undergone amendment other than an amendment which is verbal or of a consequential nature, and the passing of it into law has been increasingly felt year after year and it is generally considered that such an interval would lead to greater perfection in the language of our legislation. It is accordingly sought to be provided that no motion that a Bill be passed shall be made earlier than two days from the day on which its consideration was concluded. At the same time the existing clause (3) of Standing Order No. 49 has given rise to doubts whether at the final stage of a Bill amendments of substance could be moved and whether such amendments could cover the same field as amendments moved at the stage of consideration of the Bill. It seems desirable to provide expressly that amendments at the last stage of a Bill shall be only verbal or of a consequential nature.

[1st October 1929]

[The President]

Standing Order No. 64.

In view of Standing Order No. 2 (2) and of the amendments proposed to Standing Order No. 5 this Standing Order is no longer necessary. It is accordingly sought to be omitted."

III

THE MALABAR TENANCY BILL.

Clause 7.Sub-clause (a).

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" In amendment No. 99 of the Muppil Nayar of Kavalappara item (i) was already disposed of. So he can move only items (ii) to (iv)." a.m.

The MUPPIL NAYAR of KAVALAPPARA :—" Sir, I beg to move—

'In line 4, delete the word "only".

'In line 4, insert after the word "nuts" the words "and the minor produce such as leaves, fibre, etc."

'In line 6, substitute "two-thirds" for "two-fifths".

"The object of my amendment is to make the tenant pay also for the minor produce. It was included in the Bill that was drafted by the Raghavayya Committee, but it was omitted by the Select Committee on the present Bill. As such I propose this amendment."

Rao Bahadur M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD :—" I second it."

MR. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—" I want to move an amendment to the present amendment, and that is —

'To substitute "one-half" for "two-thirds".

"Sir, in the case of garden lands in North Malabar, the fair rent fixed is very low. In North Malabar the janmis now are actually getting a large share of the produce, viz., about 70 per cent. According to the Bill only two-fifths is allowed to the landlord. If the yield is 500 coconuts, the landlord will get only 200. It will be a real injustice if he did not get at least half the produce. We are speaking about the trees planted by the landlord and not about the improvement made by the tenants. In some cases the trees were purchased by the landlords from the tenants paying them a very liberal compensation. So it will be a great injustice if the landlord is not allowed to get at least half the produce from his produce. With these words, I move my amendment."

The motion was duly seconded.

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The motion of the Muppil Nayar is to substitute 'two-thirds' for 'two-fifths'. The hon. Member Mr. Schamnad wants to substitute 'one-half' for 'two-thirds'. One-half is less than two-thirds. That is my mathematics. (Laughter.) (After a pause.) I will however put the amendment to the House."

The amendment was negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The amendment of the Muppil Nayar is now for consideration of the House."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" Sir, I oppose this amendment. Even before the Select Committee dealt with this question, it was scrutinized by the Raghavayya Committee and the Government. Not only that, both the tenants and the janmis were given an opportunity to discuss the merits of the Bill before the Government introduced it, and it is only after hearing all the arguments

[Mr. K. Krishnan]

[1st October 1929]

on the side of the janmi and also on the side of the tenant as to what share each should have, this provision was incorporated in the Bill and was subsequently allowed by the Select Committee as well.

"Now, as regards the share, you will find that this two-fifths share in practice does not turn out to be two-fifths at all. Because, allowance has to be made for the loss of a great deal of the nuts which appear on the trees. At the time the Commissioner is going to inspect the property, a great many nuts would have fallen down from the trees, and a further number would have been lost otherwise. What remains would be only three-fourths of what originally appeared on the trees, and that would come into the calculation. The Government itself has recognized this fact, so that at the time of the Government assessment, an allowance of 25 per cent is made for loss.

"Then, there is the question of upkeep of these trees. These trees have to be manured just as any other trees, and a great deal of money has to be spent to protect them and keep them in a fruit-bearing condition. That also comes out of the gross produce. Then, it should also be remembered that these trees are situated about ten or twelve miles away from the houses of the tenants, and they will have to keep a watch on them against thieves and robbers. It is for the protection of these things that the tenant has to be given a share. The Government after taking all these things into consideration, has fixed this share, and I also find that a large number of Members of this House are in favour of retaining this provision in the Bill as amended by the Select Committee. Under the circumstances, I hope the House will reject this amendment."

* Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—"I am surprised to hear these arguments at this stage from the mouth of a gentleman who was a party to the recommendation of the Raghavayya Committee. He was aware of the conditions in Malabar, long, long before the Raghavayya Committee was appointed. He was aware of the condition of coconut trees long, long before the Raghavayya Committee went to Malabar, and he did not care then to put forward such arguments."

Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—"A word of personal explanation, Sir. I have given my dissenting minute to the Raghavayya Committee's Report."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That does not constitute personal explanation."

* Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—"He was one of those who agreed in that report to allow the janmi of garden lands two-thirds of the gross produce in the case of trees belonging to him and one-third in the case of trees belonging to the tenant. Now, when he finds that the Government has reduced it as a result of the conference of janmis and tenants, when he finds the tenants' representatives of South Malabar have scored a point over the janmi representatives of North Malabar, by calculation according to the conditions prevailing in that part of the country, to reduce the rent to two-fifths, to come forward and say that the coconuts are falling away from the trees is really surprising to me. Now, it is the custom in North Malabar to lease the usufruct of trees even at the beginning of the year to merchants for a year or two or even for five years, and the merchants themselves will pluck the fruits and take them away. When they take the trees on usufructuary lease, they calculate all these shortages; so also the tenants when they take a paramba on kuzhikanam. My friend says the coconuts fall away from the trees. It may be some of the flowers may fall. But when they grow into even small nuts, they do not fall as my hon. Friend on the opposite side wanted to represent to this House.

[1st October 1929]

[Mr. K. Uppi Sahib]

"Now, Sir, as regards this Bill, I have to say that this will reduce North Malabar to the condition described by Mr. Pate, who said 'it must result in a complete disturbance of rural economy in North Malabar.' On the other hand, the South Malabar tenants also are going to suffer by this Bill, because we are to a certain extent introducing the conditions of North Malabar into South Malabar in calculations. The North Malabar janmis are going to be ruined by this Bill. The result will be, according to my calculation, that the income of the landlords of North Malabar will be reduced by 50 per cent. So, I support this amendment."

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"I shall say only a few words on this amendment. I am sorry that Mr. Uppi Sahib has been compelled to support this amendment which on the face of it is unreasonable. If it were half the gross produce, I could have understood him. But the claim now put forward by the janmi is for two-thirds of the gross produce. No janmi has put forward a claim to the whole of the net produce till now. They may have a right to two-thirds of the net produce, never two-thirds of the gross produce. It must be admitted on all hands that for digging, ploughing, fencing and watching, etc., one-fourth of the gross produce will go, and what remains will be only three-fourths, and two-thirds of this three-fourths is just half. According to this amendment, two-thirds of the gross produce or nearly the whole of the net is to be the share of the janmi. I do not know whether it can reasonably be supported by anybody. I submit that this amendment must be rejected."

* Mr. A. ACHUTAN :—"Sir, I beg to oppose this amendment. I think that we are all agreed that fair rent ought to bear a just proportion to the interest of the janmi owning the property, as compared with the interest of the tenant. The interest of the janmi in kuzhikanam lands is very, very shadowy. The janmi must have leased to the tenant a bleak, waste land, and it is on account of the considerable labour and money spent on it by the tenant that that bleak waste land has been converted into a garden yielding fruits. Now to allow this proportion to the janmi is to deprive the kuzhikanam tenant of a considerable share of the income from the property, which he himself has created, and of which a large share should legitimately belong to him. Considering the nature of the land, the quantum of interest of the janmi is very shadowy. But for the interest taken by the kuzhikanam tenant, the property would not be worth a day's purchase. It is for that insignificant interest in the property that the janmi is now claiming to have a fair rent which is a considerable proportion of the income, and therefore I submit that the fair rent claimed is more than what is legitimately due to him."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Mr. President, Sir, I beg to move—

"In sub-clause (2) as re-numbered, in line 6, for the words "is not so bound to pay" substitute the words "is not bound to pay such compensation".

"This is purely a verbal amendment and may be accepted by the House."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"I second it."

The amendment was adopted.

[1st October 1929]

Sub-clause (b).

Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—" Sir, I move that—

'In line 1, after the word "areca" insert the words "and jack" and after the word "trees" insert the words "and pepper vines where pepper is not the chief produce"; and

'In line 3, for the word "one-sixth" after the words "shall be" substitute the word "one-fifth".'

"Sir, I have slightly modified the amendment, omitting the words 'and mango' which appear in the printed amendment.

"My intention in moving this is, as every one from North Malabar will admit, that pepper is a very very important item of produce in North Malabar. It is as important a produce as coconut. If you look at the statistics of exports from Tellicherry and Cannanore ports, you will find that pepper is exported more largely than copra. In North Malabar, 50 per cent of the produce is pepper. I cannot see the reason why the Government ask the janmi to forego all the share in this produce. It means that the rent will have to be reduced by 50 per cent, which may mean ruin to the janmi. It is really asking him not to receive anything out of the produce of trees on which he might have spent years of labour and large sums of money. The hon. Mr. Moir or the hon. Mr. Campbell will have to admit that all the fighting that took place in and around Tellicherry between the British and the Dutch and the Portuguese was only to establish their right to pepper trade. A provision of this kind saying that the janmi will not receive anything out of this produce is really a confiscatory provision. Among the agricultural produce of North Malabar, pepper is not an insignificant produce. Perhaps when the authors framed this Bill they had only the conditions of South Malabar in their mind. I do not see why the lands on which pepper is cultivated should be excluded. It is nothing short of confiscation to ask the janmis not to receive anything even for the trees on which they have spent large sums. So it is but fair and just that they should be allowed a share in the gardens where such trees are grown.

"Then with regard to the arecanut trees there is a distinction between North Malabar and South Malabar. I challenge any one to say whether in North Malabar there is any irrigation done for coconuts, arecanuts or pepper. Therefore I submit that at least one-fifth of the produce may be fixed. With these words I commend the amendment for the acceptance of the House."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"I second it."

Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—"Sir, while supporting Mr. Uppi's amendment I beg to move—

'In line 4, insert the words "and jack fruits" after the word "nuts".'

"My object in moving this amendment is that as jack trees are very valuable in Malabar they must also be taken into account while calculating fair rent. I am not against mango even, but jack fruit is very valuable. I know that tenants have been giving to the landlord a portion of the rent in jack fruits also. Pepper also is a very important article. For the last four or five years pepper has risen very much in price, and it is more valuable at present than arecanut or coconut. If these things are excluded from the calculation of fair rent, it will be a great loss to the janmi and a great injustice will be done to him. This will only increase the friction between the janmi and the tenant. So I plead that pepper and jack fruits also should be included in the calculation of fair rent."

1st October 1929]

The amendment was duly seconded.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Let me propose the question

'In line 1, after the word "areca" insert the words "and jack" and after the word "trees" insert the words "and pepper vines where pepper is not the chief produce." 12 noon.

'In line 3, for the words "one-sixth" after the words "shall be" substitute the words "one-fifth".'

'In line 4, insert the words "and jack fruits" after the word "nuts".'

'I shall put each amendment by itself.'

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Sir, the Government are unable to accept any of these amendments. It is true that in the Raghavayya Committee's Bill minor produce was taken into consideration in determining fair rent. But this question was very carefully considered by the joint conference when both parties made representations on the subject and after very careful consideration, the Government decided to exclude minor produce entirely from the calculation of fair rent. It was however decided to take the omission of minor produce into consideration when fixing share of the nuts to be regarded as the fair rent; that principle has been approved by the Select Committee."

* Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—"Sir, the hon. the Revenue Member spoke of the conference and the understanding arrived at by the parties."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"No understanding."

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—"First of all, Sir, I wish to draw the attention of this House to the fact that several products have been excluded. These products have a commercial value. Even the minor produce of the coconut trees has a commercial value. We know that Malabar is the seat of the famous coir industry and fibre is also exported in large quantities for the manufacture of brushes, etc. I do not attach much importance to mango trees, because they are grown."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Mango trees are not mentioned in any of the amendments under consideration."

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—"As regards jack fruits I know that large quantities are being exported from Palghat to Trichinopoly and this is a clear proof that they have a commercial value. As regards pepper vines, even where pepper is not the principal crop, the produce is not negligible. Several trees are grown in the gardens to serve merely as props for the pepper vines to grow round as a creeper. This was not taken note of by the committee and it is, I think, the source of a real difficulty. Besides, when the landlord evicts the tenants he is bound to pay compensation according to the Malabar Tenants Improvements Act for the planting of these trees, but when he allows the tenant to continue to enjoy his land, the landlord is denied the advantage of including the produce of these trees in the calculation of fair rent. Likewise, when the landlord redeems his land, he will have to pay compensation for the pepper vines and jack trees on the land; but when the question comes of fixing the rent, he will have to eliminate all these products. Therefore here we have a provision which adversely affects only one class and that is the landowning class. That is not quite fair, Sir."

[Mr. S. Arpudaswami Udayar] [1st October 1929]

"Again, we are now giving qualified fixity of tenure which in reality brings about a silent revolution. Hitherto the landlord be he a janmi or a kanamdar turned janmi could say: 'This is my land' whereas hereafter on account of this qualified tenure he could not say that. His proprietorship consists not in the soil, but in the dues or the goods from the products of the soil, namely, the rent and renewal fee. That is really a silent revolution we are bringing about. Proprietorship hereafter will consist not in the soil, but in the dues, in the goods, as I have said, from the products of that soil. It is true that the landlord is free to resume his lands for cultivation; but, as the Raghavayya Committee clearly say, the compensation they would have to pay would be enormous and therefore it would be very difficult to take advantage of this provision. As for the cultivator, he acquires hereditary rights, provided he regularly pays his dues.

"Sir, there is also a social reason why we should support this amendment. It is not fair to discriminate in the matter. These janmis also deserve our sympathy. The landlords are there and the tenants are there; the latter can, as they are accustomed to work in the fields and make a living, as they are inured to hard labour, work elsewhere. I have known cases of agriculturists leaving their villages when these were visited by famine, and going to other places carrying with them their agricultural instincts, and converting even jungles into smiling paradise, whereas the impecunious janmis spoken of by the Raghavayya Committee—there are large numbers of them who maintain their status as janmis but are really poor—will suffer if they are deprived of their share of the products of the soil especially now when they lose their proprietorship in the soil. They will suffer very much and will look small and sink low in the social scale. And, as the Tamil proverb says: வாழ்ந்தவன் கெட்டால் வாழ்வாட்டுக்குக்கூட உதவ மாட்டான். It means that when a prosperous man suddenly becomes poor, he becomes absolutely unfit for anything, not having been accustomed to labour and supporting life by hard work. When a mirasidar is reduced to poverty, he will be a burden even to himself. So, on account of these social and economic reasons, I think it would be fair that in the case of jack trees and pepper vines for which the landlord is bound to pay compensation according to the provisions of the Malabar Land Improvement Act, we should say that the landlord should get a share of the produce."

* Mr. C. GOPALA MENON :—"Sir, with regard to the minor produce of the land such as pepper vines and other trees, the Raghavayya Committee have laid down one-sixth of the gross produce and the amendment before the House is that one-fifth of the gross of the minor produce should be given, if the yield is from the tenants' trees and one-third in the case of janmis' trees. With regard to that I may point out to this House that jack constitutes an important article of food amongst the landlords for at least four months in the year and to omit that from the provisions of this Act would be a real hardship to the owners of those trees. There are several middle class ladies in Malabar who when their husbands are dead and sons are unemployed live on the fruits of these trees for a large portion of the year and it would be a hardship and a terrible hardship to deprive them of this source of food-supply. The landlords are now getting at least a fourth of the share of this produce and I believe that it is on that ground that Mr. Mappil Nayar has given notice of an amendment that this one-fourth of the share of the minor produce should be allowed to the landlord. Under these circumstances I would submit to this House to pay some attention to this amendment and pass it so that those who are now enjoying the benefits from these trees may have the same hereafter."

1st October 1929]

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—"Mr. President, I oppose this amendment. As regards the jack trees, with your permission, Sir, I propose to quote what Mr. Logan has said in this connexion: 'In regard to revenue assessment, in the case of jack trees it has not been customary to estimate the produce either gross or net except at its money value and its money value depends entirely on whether there is a market for its produce or not within reasonable distance. The fruit, from its bulkiness, is not easily carried to any great distance and it readily spoils. The money value of the produce is determined in a rough sort of way upon inspection!' So that, even at the time of assessment this was the old rule. Jack trees were not taken into account at all.

"As regards pepper also, I may say that it has not been considered for the purpose of assessing revenue according to the old system. This is what he says: 'It is unnecessary to state what the sanctioned shares of the pepper produce were as the assessment was in 1806-07 taken off the land and an export duty levied instead'. You will find therefore that in calculating assessment the produce of the jack tree and the produce of the pepper vine were never taken into consideration by the Government. Therefore in fixing the assessment the janmis have been relieved of the responsibility of paying the assessment on the income from those trees. It is not a question of relief to the tenant at all. For, these are products which do not find a market generally. No doubt pepper does find a market, but then pepper is grown in gardens specially intended for that purpose and it is only stray vines that are grown in coconut gardens that are taken into consideration.

"Now, Sir, at the time of the Raghavayya Committee Diwan Bahadur T. C. Narayana Kurup, the accredited representative of the janmis, consented to the exclusion of pepper gardens altogether from the provisions of this Bill."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I would ask the hon. Member not to raise questions about the representative character of a gentleman or otherwise. If such remarks are made a good deal of time will be wasted."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—"I will avoid such expressions. At any rate he was a gentleman highly respected in Malabar. He along with the rest of the members of the committee consented to the exclusion of the income from pepper where pepper was not the chief product. (Mr. Basbeer Ahmed Sayeed: What is your authority?) Because in the Raghavayya Committee's report it is not included. He has not taken exception to it in his report either. And Government also have considered that question. In the case of pepper vines their lifetime is from twenty to twenty-five years ordinarily. They begin to yield after the fifth or sixth year. They yield for some years and then fail. Now if such a fugitive cultivation as it were, is taken into calculation in fixing fair rent which is to enure for a period of twelve years, it will be a great hardship on the tenants. As regards pepper itself the proper yield is got only once in two or three years. If there is heavy rain at the commencement of the monsoon the crop is ruined and again, if there is heavy rain at the end of the monsoon the crop is ruined. It will be seen therefore that this is a crop of which there is so much uncertainty that it will not be possible to fix a fair share. No doubt pepper does yield and its product is of commercial value. It is as much a produce of commercial value in South Malabar as it is in North Malabar. You will find from the scheme of the Bill that except for the purpose of raising the rent the income from pepper is not taken into calculation at all in South Malabar. There is no difference between kanam and kuzhikanam in the case of garden lands and it is only by an accident that the word kuzhikanam has been introduced in the definition of garden lands in North Malabar and that is the only difference between garden lands in North Malabar and South Malabar. Pepper is as much a product of North Malabar as it is of South Malabar. You will find Mr. Uppi appealing to the hon. Sir Thomas Moir and the hon. Mr. Campbell about pepper which was the chief product even during the time of the East India Company. I may as well remind them, Sir, that Calicut was first visited by Vasco De Gama for the purpose of pepper and therefore there is no use of saying that pepper is a product of North Malabar and not of South Malabar. For the purpose of this Bill there is no reason for taking any share of the produce of pepper so far as the lands in South Malabar are concerned."

[Mr. K. Krishnan]

[1st October 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"This applies to the whole of Malabar."

* Mr. K. KRISHNAN:—"The question is that so far South Malabar is concerned, they are included in kanam and in kanam there is no question of raising the rent at all. It arises only when the question of giving renewal fee is considered. So far as the coconut produce of South Malabar is concerned, fair rent will come into question only when determining the renewal fee to be claimed at the end of twelve years."

12-15
p.m.

"But, Sir, here it is a question of payment of rent which will inure for twelve years to come, that is to say, for every twelve years when revision takes place. I submit that this will be a hardship on the tenant of Malabar. In the case of kuzhikanam lands the tenants will have to pay for twelve years a share out of the imaginary produce which they may or may not get. I therefore strongly oppose this amendment."

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—"I was not able to understand the reason why in fixing the fair rent Government did not include the compensation to be given to the janmis for the enjoyment of such valuable produce as pepper, etc., by the tenants. Pepper according to the clause as it stands may not be the chief produce but there is nothing in the section to show that, even though it states that one of the substantial crops, viz., vine, should be excluded in commuting the price. Of course, the Government in their anxiety to protect the tenants as much as possible might have excluded some of these valuable crops. With regard to jacks and mangoes, I submit, that there is no reason to suppose as to why they will not be taken to the market but that they will be enjoyed by the tenants themselves. But with regard to pepper hon. Members are pressing this amendment because they think that it will be utilized by the tenants themselves. I can understand the reason for the exclusion of pepper, because it is not a substantial crop. But there is nothing to prevent the tenant from growing pepper in a coconut garden. According to the definition if pepper is not the chief crop, there may be other classes of crops which can be classed as chief crops. But simply because it is not classed as a chief crop, I do not see the reason why a tenant should enjoy such a commercial crop without paying fair rent for such a crop. If the object of the Government is to do away with this unfair concentration of property under some clauses of the Bill and if the object of the Bill is to distribute the property according to present notions of justice and equity to the tenants, I cannot understand the reason why such a clause as now found in the Bill should be allowed to exist. No proper reasons are given and no equity is shown why some of the existing rights should be brushed aside without clearly understanding the serious consequences which may arise. Especially in cases of this kind if we show more consideration to the tenants than what is necessary, there is a dangerous provision in the Bill according to which the landlord may get back his land for his own cultivation, thus defeating the very object with which this Bill is introduced. If you unnecessarily show too much favouritism to the tenants or brush aside the existing rights of the landlord, it would mean that the janmis or the landlords will take back their lands for their own cultivation, thus defeating the very purpose for which this Bill is introduced. In these circumstances I should very much like that some sort of equity is shown in arriving at a decision upon this difficult and thorny question."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"I was surprised to hear that no tax is levied on jack and other trees. This is what the Settlement notification says:—'Garden land is a land which contains at least ten bearing coconut palms (or the equivalent in areca palms or jack trees) to the acre. One coconut palm is taken as the equivalent of twelve areca palms or half a jack tree.' 'Land containing less than ten bearing coconut palms (or their equivalent in areca or jack trees) to the acre and land appropriated to the growth of other fruit-trees or garden produce such as tamarind, mango, palmyra, plantains, pepper, ginger, etc., will not be treated as 'garden' but will be assessed at the dry rates. 'Dry' land is either occupied or unoccupied. 'Occupied dry' is land which is under occupation continued from year to year. 'Unoccupied dry' will be free of assessment. Dry land which is occupied (generally once in three years) for fugitive cultivation will continue to be charged only when it is cultivated.'"

"Sir, apparently my hon. Friend was referring to some antiquated authority which has very little to do with the present-day conditions. This is a very real grievance. In the taluk to which I belong, the Palghat taluk, all these trees are extremely valuable. It may be that in Ernad or Walluvanad or in other places where the jack trees are so abundant, the fruits are not valued so much but in my place the jack is not only valued as timber but is also valued for the fruits which it yields. It is not uncommon to see hundreds of carts passing along the roads carrying jack fruits. In fact there is a large trade going on in this commodity. So it will not do to say that it is not a valuable commodity. Last time when this question was being discussed in the Select Committee the Government said they had no information on the question as to whether the landlords were deriving any income from these fruits or whether they received jack and other things as part of the rent. To-day I am in a position to enlighten the Government so as to leave no doubt in their mind. I have got a number of documents with me. I shall refer to one of them. In this document which belongs to myself there is a provision for a supply of 50 ripe jack fruits valued at Rs. 20. There is also a provision for supplying 20 basketfuls of tamarind valued at Rs. 15 and there are several other articles to be supplied by the tenant to the landlord. The prices mentioned here are not exact values; they are nominal amounts mentioned for purposes of registration. It is not uncommon, in the taluk to which I belong and also in other taluks, to have in lease deeds provisions of this character, especially in cases where the trees belong to the landlord. I can understand the equity of the suggestion that where the trees belong to the tenant the landlord ought not to take a portion of the income although he is now getting a portion of the produce. But where the trees belong to the landlord, that is to say, where he has paid heavy compensation for those trees when evicting a former tenant, it is extremely inequitable and there is no justification whatever for depriving the landlord of his share. He has paid for those trees and in many instances the payments are very heavy. I have got here in my hand a document belonging to myself. A large sum of money has been paid as compensation for the palmyra trees, and an income of Rs. 80 is derived from these trees. The leaves of the palmyra trees are used for thatching houses and it is a very valuable article. The income from this source is an income which belongs to the landlord and for which he has actually paid. I hope the argument that the Select Committee has considered this matter will not be repeated. I take it that we are not here merely to register the decisions of the Select Committee. Let us show our readiness to do justice to the weaker party."

[Mr. E. Sankaran Unni]

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"I would be failing in my duty if I did not emphatically repudiate the claim of the janmi to the tenants' trees other than coconut and arecanut. As a matter of fact nothing is paid to the janmi where such trees belong to the tenants, especially in South Malabar with which portion I am acquainted. But with regard to the trees of janmis so far as Palghat taluk is concerned, I have come to know that they are getting rent for palmyra and jack trees. In Ernad taluk to which I belong no rent is paid for jack trees in a mixed garden and it is only in cases of coconut and arecanut trees they pay rent. In Walluvanad the same thing prevails. With regard to pepper in North Malabar so far as pepper vines belonging to janmi are concerned, he gets a portion of the produce as rent. But with regard to pepper vines belonging to the tenants, though I am told that the janmis are getting something, I am not sure about it. I submit to you, Sir, that so far as landlord's trees in Palghat taluk are concerned the tenants are paying some rent to the janmi. But in Ernad and Walluvanad they are not paying anything at all. There seems to be no general rule for the whole district and exception here and there cannot be made basis for a rule."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"May I draw your attention to my amendment which deals with janmis' trees. I have also given notice of another amendment. I do not know when I am to move them."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I have got both the amendments. They only relate to sub-clause (c). The hon. Member will have to wait till sub-clause (c) is taken into consideration."

* Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU:—"Sir, you will find that so far as the relationship between the tenant and the landlord is concerned, the Bill proceeds on the basis that gross rent is taken according to the number of coconut trees or arecanut trees and the rent is ascertained and a certain share of the produce on the average of the three previous years is taken into consideration and is fixed as fair rent. There is absolutely no provision in the Bill giving the tenant the right to a remission of the rent. Although this proposal was mooted in the Select Committee it was ultimately dropped and it was decided that the tenant would have to pay whether he gets the yield or he does not get the yield. The second thing is that the proportion has been arrived at as a matter of compromise between the janmi and the tenant. Thirdly in fixing the rent for garden lands the coconut and arecanut trees were taken into consideration and not other produce such as pepper, etc., for purposes of fixing land revenue by the Government. So far as this point is concerned, very many amendments were discussed and one of them was that of my hon. Friend Mr. Karant which aimed at the tenant and the landlord sharing land revenue in equal halves and sharing the produce also in equal moieties."

[1st October 1929]

[Mr. B. Muniswami Nayudu]

"The reason is, that under the declaration of 1803, the tenant was 12-30 entitled to one-third, the janmi to one-third and the Government were p.m. entitled to get one-third. The Government share which is converted into money is very much less than what it would be according to the present market value of the produce. The advantage the Government gave, by converting the share they were entitled to into money value, was taken advantage of by the janmi. My hon. Friend Mr. Karant said that such benefit should be shared equally by the janmi and the tenant. This very House on the previous Bill of Diwan Bahadur Krishnan Nayar voted for the principle that the benefit of the Government share must go to the actual cultivator and that the cultivator should pay half the revenue. This Bill has proceeded the other way. The janmi takes two-thirds and pays revenue and the actual cultivator takes one-third. Now my janmi friends are anxious to see that the produce from pepper also should be given to them, which has not been taken into consideration by the Government in fixing the assessment. After voting for giving janmi two-thirds of the produce, we should not reopen the question. This proposition is hardly acceptable to us who are fighting for the tenants."

"As I said, there is no provision in the Bill for remission at all. Whether there is yield or not, the tenant has to pay the rent. My hon. Friend Mr. Krishnan said that pepper is a precarious crop. If this is included in the fair rent, it will have to be paid year after year for a period of twelve years. Having regard to these facts, I submit, Sir, that this House should carefully consider this point; while the tenant is being given fixity, if you overburden him, if you do not allow remission to him in bad seasons and if you insist on the rent being given whether there is produce or not, the House will be taking away by one hand what is given by the other hand. For these reasons I oppose the motion."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"May I know if I will be in order if I explain facts?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The hon. Member will not be in order at all."

Mr. P. ANJANEYULU:—"Mr. President, Sir, it is admitted on all hands that, so far as pepper is concerned, even according to the information of my hon. Friend, Mr. Madhavan Nayar, the tenants are paying some rent where the trees belong to the janmi. The object of the amendment of my hon. Friend Mr. Uppi Sahib is twofold. One is that a certain share of the produce should go to the janmi where the trees are planted by the janmi or where the plantation is financed by the janmi. As far as that part of the amendment is concerned, I do not think there ought to be any difference of opinion. The other question is when the tenant himself has financed for the pepper vines; in that case also I am told that, according to the present conditions, one-fourth of the yield is being given to the janmi. I am in a very advantageous position not belonging either to North or South Malabar. As I see from a distance, whatever may have been the past conditions, the present conditions are, the tenant is willing and has been paying a certain proportion of this rental to the janmi. I do not see any reason why that proportion should not be kept up, even though the janmi is so powerful that he is taking rack-rent from the tenants and even though our sympathies are with the tenants. But impartially and unprejudicially as I see, when the tenants are paying some amount of rent to the janmi, I think it is not right to say that no rent need be paid to the janmi for the pepper.

[Mr. P. Anjaneyulu]

"If you look back into Indian History, the reason why the East India Company first settled in this land, was for this pepper trade; if they had anything to do with Malabar, it was for this purpose. It was for the pepper trade that the East India Company bargained with the janmis, zamindars and zamorins. Taking you back into the dim distant past, that was the history of Malabar, and the East India Company was trading in pepper in Malabar, that being a very profitable concern. I do not think it is such a precarious crop as my hon. Friend, Mr. Muniswami Nayudu, believed. Moreover, my hon. Friend, Mr. Krishnan, said 'if North Malabar is exempted, what about South Malabar? If South Malabar is exempted, what about North Malabar?' He may bring forward suitable amendments if the conditions are the same in both the parts. That is no argument to say that because this advantage is not given to one place, it should not be given to another place. My hon. Friend, Mr. Muniswami Nayudu, has been saying that pepper is a very precarious crop. I am told it is not so.

"He also said that no provision has been made for remission. If so, it is up to the hon. Member to bring forward suitable amendments to see that the interests of tenants are safeguarded and that remission is given in any particular year when there is failure of crop. For these reasons I feel it hard to wound the feelings of the janmis. I am also for the tenant. I support the amendment."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"I move, Sir, that the question be put."

The closure motion was put and carried.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is, in line 1, after the word 'areca' insert the word 'and jack'."

The amendment was declared lost.

A poll was demanded and the House divided thus:—

Ayes 26. Noes 46.

The amendment was negatived.

[1st October 1929]

45 * The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is, in line 3, for the words
a. 'one-sixth,' substitute the words 'one-fifth'."

The amendment was negatived.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The next amendment is about jack fruits. I do not think it can be put, because the main motion was lost."

Sub-clause (3).

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Mr. President, Sir, I beg to move—

*'that in sub-clause (3) as re-numbered, in lines 5 and 6, for the words
"is not so bound to pay", the words "is not bound to pay such compensation" be substituted'*

"Sir, this is only a verbal amendment, and I move it."

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I second the motion."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that in sub-clause (3) as re-numbered, in lines 5 and 6, for the words 'is not so bound to pay', the words 'is not bound to pay such compensation' be substituted."

The amendment was adopted.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Of the three amendments to sub-clause (c), Nos. 112, 113 and 114, I select amendment No. 113."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" I have got another amendment to this amendment, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" He may move his amendment in the amended form."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Sir, my amendment to amendment No. 113 is—

'to add at the end; 'where the landlord has not to pay compensation under the Improvement Act at the time of eviction'."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" He has to move the whole amendment as amended by the second amendment."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Sir, my amended amendment will run as below :—

Substitute the following for the existing sub-clause (c) :—

"As regards other classes of trees, such as jack, mango, tamarind, palmyra and cashewnuts and also as regards pepper where it is not the principal crop on the land, one-fifth of the said one-third of the gross produce thereof, where the landlord has not to pay compensation, under the Improvement Act at the time of eviction."

"Sir, my object in bringing forward this amendment is to distinguish the janmis' trees. . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The principle of this amendment has been negatived just now. If, in effect, there is any distinction between the two amendments, I have no objection to allow this."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" I submit there is a distinction between the two. In the previous amendment, no distinction was made between the janmis' trees and the tenants' trees. In this amendment, what is said is 'where the landlord has not to pay compensation', that is, where the trees belong to the janmi. In such cases, I say a portion of the produce should be given to them."

Mr. K. KRISHNAN :—" Clause (b) already included this item, Sir, and it has been just disposed of."

[1st October 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I think this amendment is substantially identical with the one just now disposed of."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" I submit it is not, because there is nothing in that amendment which limited the right to janmis' trees alone."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" As far as I understand, the amendment just now voted upon by the House relates to janmis' trees and to tenants' trees. Here it is intended to exclude the tenants' trees and to make it applicable to the janmis' trees alone. Both the trees were excluded by a vote of the House, and the principle of substantial identity is quite different from the principle of res judicata. The main intention of the House is well-known. They do not want it to be divided into classes and then to vote. In such cases, the movers of amendments have to take pretty good care to see that if they really want to take a vote of the House on a restricted amendment, they put the amendments in that form. When the more comprehensive amendment was thrown out, it means that the restricted amendment also does not find favour with the House. I therefore rule this amendment out of order."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Sir, I beg to move that the following explanation be added at the end of clause 7 :—

'Explanation.—In the case of kuzhikanam when the tenant has advanced to the landlord a sum of money as security for rent, or as kanartham, the rent payable to the landlord by such tenant shall be the difference between the fair rent for the holding and the interest on the amount so advanced.'

"Sir, there has been considerable difficulty, as pointed out by my hon. Friend Mr. Krishnan, in regard to this matter. In kuzhikanam lands, there is very often a kanam amount. I am anxious that because there is an amount there, it should not be regarded as a kanam, as defined in this Bill. The real difficulty is that there is no provision for deducting the interest on the kanam in the definition of the kuzhikanam in the Bill, or in the provisions contained in clause 7. Therefore, in order to obviate the unfairness that would result, I suggest this amendment, that from the fair rent for a kanam, the interest on the kanartham should be deducted and then the balance alone should be paid as rent. In that case, there will be no injustice in allowing a renewal fee also, as in the case of ordinary kuzhikanams. The unfortunate position is that we have defined kuzhikanam in terms which exclude a large number of cases which ought to come under the definition. I am only trying to save them. If this is not done, many of the garden lands, especially in the Calicut taluk, will be seriously endangered. As I am merely trying to obviate, by this amendment, any unfairness that might result, I hope the amendment will commend itself to the House."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA seconded the motion.

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—" Sir, I oppose this amendment. If my friend had tabled an amendment in this form i.e., that 'in the case of kuzhikanam when the tenant has advanced to the landlord a sum of money as security for rent' leaving out the words 'or as kanartham', then I would have had, for my part, no objection. But the introduction of the words 'or as kanartham' wipes away the distinction between kanam and kuzhikanam, and all garden lands where kanartham is advanced, will come under this, and all such kanams will be converted into kuzhikanam. That is a danger which should be averted. So far as the liability to pay interest on the advance rent paid under kuzhikanam lease is concerned, I leave it to my Friend Mr. Krishnan to make whatever observation he has to offer. I am no authority on that point. I oppose the amendment."

[Mr. K. Madhavan Nayar] [1st October 1929]

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Mr. President, Sir, I also oppose this amendment. In the first place, it appears to me that this is not the right place to put in any such amendment as this. This chapter relates to the determination of fair rent, and this particular amendment, it seems to me, has nothing to do with the determination of fair rent. There is another chapter which deals with the payment of rent, and if this amendment has to come in anywhere at all, it should be brought in under the chapter which deals with the question as to what should be paid as rent."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" If the hon. Member had pointed it out even at the beginning, I would have ruled this out as irrelevant."

"The question is to add the following explanation at the end of clause 7:—

"Explanation.—In the case of kuzhikanam when the tenant has advanced to the landlord a sum of money as security for rent, or as kanartham, the rent payable to the landlord by such tenant shall be the difference between the fair rent for the holding and the interest on the amount so advanced."

The amendment was negatived.

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that clause 7, as amended, shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted.

Clause 8.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Clause 8 is now for the consideration of the House."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA :—" Sir, I move—

"that in line 1, the words "one-fifth of the gross produce, or" be inserted between "be" and "three", and also the words "whichever is greater", be added at the end."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member can move only the first part; he cannot move the alternative amendment."

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA :—" No, Sir, it is only a consequential amendment, and it is in the same clause."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" All right."

Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUORIPAD :—" Sir, I second the amendment. The custom in vogue in Walluvanad and Palghat taluks with which I am more acquainted is to levy one-fifth of the produce as the janmi's or landlord's share. Very valuable crops such as ginger, groundnut and tapioca are raised in dry lands which are assessed at a nominal rate per acre. In Malabar, assessments on dry lands are fixed without any consideration to the kind of crops that are raised on them. The rates vary from 4 annas to Rs. 2 per acre, while the income varies from Rs. 50 to Rs. 300. If the manual rate of one-fifth of the produce is considered to be extravagant, I would request the House to allow at least five times the assessment. It must be borne in mind that for purposes of calculating the renewal fee, the annual assessment has to be deducted from the fair rent, and it is only a multiple of the balance that the janmi gets. Five times the assessment is therefore the minimum that can be offered to the janmi."

1st October 1929]

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Mr. President, Sir, this is a very important amendment and it involves a serious question. I have also given notice of an amendment (No. 125) which is more or less the same as this one. Therefore, I do not wish to trouble the House again and I propose to speak at some little length on this amendment. The rate of assessment on dry lands in Malabar ranges from 4 annas to 2 rupees. On most lands, it is generally not more than a rupee, that is on lands on which crops yielding considerable profits are raised. For instance, in the taluk of Palghat, people get somewhere about Rs. 200 to Rs. 300 for groundnut and the value of such lands has therefore gone up. In the land acquisition proceedings that are now going on, Rs. 500 was paid per acre, and on the basis of that Rs. 25 was taken as the rent. Now, if this Bill is passed, the result would be that there would be a sum of Rs. 1-2-0 as the fair rent for the property, for the assessment comes to 6 annas per acre. The Government have acquired lands for the railway company that is now extending the line from Palghat to Pollachi, on the basis of the present rent, namely, Rs. 25."

"Coming to another side of Malabar, that is Walayar, Government intend to acquire property for the purpose of an aerodrome and proposals have been sent up for paying compensation at the rate of Rs. 300 or Rs. 400 per acre. Let me point out another instance. There is an area of about 13 acres near the Walayar railway station, and the rent that is levied by the railway company for about 13 acres is Rs. 91, which works out at the rate of Rs. 7 per acre. The evidence collected by the Raghavayya Committee printed at page 146 of their report may be usefully referred to. There we have got an instance in point. You will find on page 146 the following:

"He holds on verumpattam seven acres of wet lands and forty acres of dry lands. The pattam for the seven acres is 450 paras and 450 bundles of straw. For the forty acres (dry) it is Rs. 208. The seven acres of wet land yield 650 paras gross a year and the 10 out of the 40 acres of dry land give him Rs. 450 worth of groundnut every year."

"So the janmi gets somewhere about Rs. 7 per acre. When the new rule is introduced, the rent will be reduced considerably. The Government assessment is very lower and should not be taken as a criterion. Taking at random an instance from one of the amsams in the Palghat taluk, you will find that 6 annas is the rate for 2,229 acres. If the rent on this property is reduced to three times the revenue it would cause a great drop in the rent."

"There is one other important matter which the Government have to remember and that is, extensive lands have been cleared and made available for cultivation by the janmi at the instance of the Government. I have in my possession a proclamation issued by the Government, in the year 1862, asking the janmis to clear forest lands and make them available for dry cultivation on the distinct assurance that the assessment on such lands will be low. In fact, they almost gave a sort of permanent assessment of 6 annas, so that the janmis may have an inducement to clear the lands for purposes of cultivation. The janmis have spent large sums of money for clearing forests and bringing them under cultivation relying on the promise made by the Government. Now to reduce rent to three times the revenue will be to commit a breach of faith."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Mr. President, Sir, the Government are unable to accept this amendment. The proposal of the Government is to fix fair rent. There is nothing in the argument that has been put forward by the supporters of this amendment to show that the landlord has done anything in respect of these dry lands or that he has taken any measures to improve their fertility, or has improved the methods of agriculture or introduced any new kind of crop. If the land is now yielding a valuable crop, it is due to the tenant (Mr. E. Sankaran Unni interrupted saying 'It is not so'), and it is the tenant that should have the benefit of the work and of the money which has been expended on the land by him and his predecessors. That being so, it is impossible for the Government to accept that the fair-rent should be based on the Government assessment as in the case of the dry lands."

[Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell]

[1st October 1929]

* Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD:—"Sir, this is perhaps the only provision about which there is no uncertainty and the parties need not go to the court. If this is changed as suggested by the Mover, this also will have to be settled by court. So I oppose this amendment."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is—insert the words 'one-fifth of the gross produce, or' between 'he' and 'three'."

The amendment was then put and declared lost.

On a poll being demanded, the hon. the President asked those in favour of the amendment to stand up in their places. As only three or four members stood up for the amendment and a very large number against the amendment, the hon. the President declared that the amendment was negatived remarking at the same time that the demand for a poll was frivolous. The amendment was negatived.

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I beg to move that—'In line 2, for the words "per year" the words "per annum" be substituted.'"

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"I second the motion."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Why, what is the difference between the two?"

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Because 'per' is Latin and 'year' is English."

The amendment was adopted.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that clause 8, as amended, shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted.

Clause 9.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Clause 9 is for the consideration of the House."

"The question is that clause 9 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted.

New clause after clause 9.

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"Mr. President, Sir, I move that the following be added as a new clause after clause 9:—

"10. (a) In no case shall the fair rent determined under sections 5, 6 and 8 exceed two-thirds of the net produce.

"(b) In all cases the revenue paid by the tenant in respect of his holding shall be deducted from the fair rent and the landlord shall be entitled only to the remainder."

[1st October 1929] [Mr. A. Ranganatha Mudaliyar]

"Sir, I do not think that in either of these provisions there is anything to which exception can be taken."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"On a point of order, Mr. President, is clause (b) in order?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Fair rent is determined by all the other clauses. If the Member wants to make a total deduction from the fair rent, the amount paid by the tenant will be in favour of the Government."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"The effect of clause (b) is that the revenue payable by the tenant should be deducted from the amount payable to the landlord. The fair rent is not always payable to the landlord."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"That is not a point of order. It may be rejected for bad wording."

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"I have no objection to move it clause by clause if it is convenient to the House. Sir, all of us have been telling that the maximum."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"It is better to dispose of the whole question. I shall put both the clauses separately."

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"The first part gives effect to the custom prevailing in Malabar of giving the tenant one-third of the net produce, so that this provision would secure to the tenant at least that much, however the fair rent might be calculated. In regard to the second, we have had various declarations made on behalf of the Government that the tenant shall at least have a third of the net produce left to him. If out of this the tenant is required to pay also the rent due to the Government, surely we shall not be fulfilling the pledges we have been making on their behalf. So, Sir, I move the amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The motion is lost for want of a seconder."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"No, Sir, I second it."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I have already waited sufficiently long and the hon. Member ought to have been sufficiently alert."

"The Council will now take into consideration clause 4."

Clause 4.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I think Amendment No. 60 also cannot be moved."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"There is difference between 'harvesting' and 'reaping'. Reaping is included in harvesting, but harvesting comprises within it reaping, thrashing and other processes."

* Sri Man Biswanath Das Mahasaya:—"I move to substitute—
'the word "harvesting" for "reaping" in clause 4, sub-clause (b).'

"Sir, in placing this motion before this House I beg to state that the House while discussing the question of agricultural produce have already excluded the expenses of harvesting from the operations. Unfortunately though the members meant harvesting, the word actually used was 'reaping'. Reaping does not always mean harvesting. It may be compounded with and may be interpreted to mean the process of cutting the paddy crop. What we mean by the term 'harvesting', what all the Members of this House mean, both the representatives of the janmis and the kanamdars mean is that it includes both

1-15
p.m.

[Sriman Biswanath Das Mahasayo.] [1st October 1929]

cutting and threshing operations. It is to give expression to that this motion is moved and I take it that this will be accepted without much discussion. With these words I move the motion."

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"I second it."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I understood first that this was only a mere verbal amendment, but it seems to me that it is not so, though it has been said that it has been moved to make the meaning clear. This clause applies to wet lands, i.e., to paddy cultivation. Harvesting may include other operations than 'reaping' and the deduction to be made is that customarily made by the payment of so many bundles to the reapers. I prefer to retain the word 'reaping.'"

* Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR :—"I thought Government would accept the motion of Sriman Biswanath Das Mahasayo, because I thought what was meant by the Select Committee was harvesting. The tenant has to meet such expenditure in cutting, threshing, etc., and he must be allowed such charges. I therefore support the amendment."

* Mr. K. KOTI REDDI :—"When we voted for clauses 6, 7 and 8 we were really under the impression that 'reaping' would include a number of operations which ordinarily may not come under reaping. As a matter of fact 'harvesting' includes more operations than are included under reaping. Reaping is more or less actually cutting the crop and nothing more. I think it is the intention of the House to see that the harvesting and not merely reaping expenses are to be excluded from the net calculation, because very little is allowed to the tenant under clause 6. And if all the above operations are not included under section 4 what the tenant gets will be only a pittance and therefore I hope Government will accept this amendment. Besides, the retention of the word 'reaping' is likely to give rise to a lot of litigation."

* Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—"I am afraid the hon. Member for Government is under a misapprehension. It is just like the school boy saying that paddy grows on trees. The division does not take place after reaping. First of all paddy crop is reaped, then stored, then threshed and then only division takes place. All these processes are included in the word 'harvesting'. After reaping nobody will think of dividing the produce. Paddy does not mean cut crop. The hon. Member is opposing the amendment under a misapprehension. Therefore I think the word should be 'harvesting' and not 'reaping'."

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—"I think those who are responsible for the introduction of this word are the fit persons to answer this point, whether the term reaping means reaping proper or whether it includes threshing, etc., also. I hope Mr. Raman Menon will come forward and say what he had in his mind at that time."

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON :—"I am now called upon to explain the position as to what is being done in Malabar. Now, as a matter of fact there is no threshing floor in Malabar as it obtains elsewhere. What is done is with regard to crops reaped, one sheaf of paddy is given for every 10 sheaves collected as coolie without any reference to the outturn. Threshing has to be done by the same coolies or by the cultivators themselves. In most cases the coolies themselves do threshing and after it is done they will take one-tenth as their coolie. Suppose there are 500 paras after reaping and thrashing,

1st October 1929] [Mr. K. P. Raman Menon]

50 paras will be set apart as coolie hire. The remaining 450 paras will be regarded as the outturn, and out of it the rent is paid. There is no division whatsoever of the produce as is found in other districts. This is what happens in Malabar, and I leave it to the House to put what interpretation it likes."

* The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—"What obtains in the Palghat taluk is this. Some times one bundle and sometimes even two bundles out of ten are delivered as wages. And when this is done it is the duty of the coolie to do the threshing. No additional or no separate hire is paid for threshing."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"The hon. the Law Member's statement is more accurate. A proportion of the sheaves reaped is given as wages. There is nothing more to be paid for threshing."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is to substitute for the word 'reaping', the word 'harvesting'."

The amendment was put and declared negatived. A poll was demanded and the House divided thus :—

The amendment was negatived.

[1st October 1929]

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"In Mr. Ranganatha Mudaliyar's name stands a new amendment under clause 4. Apparently the hon. Member is not ready to move the amendment. If the hon. Member does not give me explanation, I don't select it."

"The House will now adjourn for lunch and re-assemble at 2-30 p.m."

After lunch (2-30 p.m.).

* Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR:—"Mr. President, Sir, before we adjourned for lunch you were pleased to remark that I was not ready when you called upon me to speak with respect to an amendment of which I had given notice in clause 4. The fact of the matter is that really I was not ready and I thought we were proceeding in a regular order, clause by clause. And so, when you asked me all of a sudden to move my amendment, I did not really know what clause was under consideration and what the amendment was I was asked to move. I only mention this, Sir, to show that I was not intentionally guilty of any discourtesy to you or the House in regard to this matter."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I never wanted to say that the hon. Member was discourteous to the House or to the Chair. That is one method of disposing of the amendments, that is all."

II

AMENDMENTS TO STANDING ORDERS—cont.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I have to announce that the following candidates have been duly nominated for election to the Select Committee to consider the amendments of the hon. the Law Member to the Standing Orders of the Council:—

- (1) Mr. P. C. Venkatapathi Raju.
- (2) „ S. Satyamurti.
- (3) Diwan Bahadur R. N. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar.
- (4) Mr. F. E. James.
- (5) Rao Bahadur Dr. C. Natesa Mudaliyar.
- (6) The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. Krishnan Nayar.

"As the number of candidates nominated for election is equal to the number of vacancies to be filled, viz., six, I hereby declare the abovementioned members to be duly elected under Regulation II (4) of the Regulations for the holding of elections by means of the single transferable vote."

"I nominate Mr. J. A. Saldanha, a Member of the Panel of Chairmen, to be a Member of the Select Committee." (Hear, hear.)

Clause 4.

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is that clause 4 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted.

Clause 10.

Clause 10 was then taken up for consideration.

* Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—"Sir, I move my motion in the amended form which runs thus:

[1st October 1929] [Mr. R. N. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar]

'For clauses 10 to 15 substitute the following:—

Any cultivating tenant, whether a verumpattamdar, kanamdar or kuzhikanamdar, who is in possession of a holding which has not been cultivated for a period of 12 years at the commencement of this Act by the landlord thereof, may apply to the Collector to have their holding purchased from him on the following conditions:—

- A. On the receipt of an application which shall be in the prescribed form, the Collector shall issue notice to the janmi, the intermediaries, if any, and all the other interested parties, determine the market value of the holding, the kanam and value of improvements due to the intermediaries and the respective interests of all parties concerned, and order the verumpattamdar, kanamdar or kuzhikanamdar concerned to pass a bond in favour of the janmi and other interested parties for the amount found due to each, and the Collector shall keep in his office a duplicate of such and maintain the necessary registers of such transactions'.
 - B. The bond shall bear 5 per cent interest and be payable at the end of 40 years and shall also bear all the incidents and liabilities attached to the land so purchased.
 - C. The cultivating tenant at whose instance the land is purchased shall be liable to pay (1) the Government revenue of the holding, (2) interest at 5½ per cent for the amount for which bonds are issued under the previous sub-section and (3) such sum as when invested will in 40 years amount to the face value of the bonds so issued.
- All these shall be recovered annually from the tenant concerned together with the Government revenue of the land.*
- D. The Collector shall issue a patta to the tenant showing the extent and particulars of the land purchased and the tenant's liabilities in respect thereof. When the bonds mature a final patta shall be issued to him or his heirs or assigns evidencing his ownership of the holding.
 - E. The Collector shall invest the annuity fund paid under sub-section C in the prescribed manner.
 - F. In arriving at the market value of the land, the Collector shall multiply by twenty, nine-tenths of the fair rent after deducting the kist payable to the Government.

2. An appeal shall lie to the Court against the award made by the Collector under section 1."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"On a point of order, Sir. My hon. Friend proposes an amendment to substitute some new clauses for clauses 10 to 15. Under the procedure which we are now following, you are putting, I take it, clause 10 for the consideration and the vote of the House. So, I submit that only that part of the amendment in the Bill can be moved and considered by the House which is relevant to clause 10 as it stands. I do not know what procedure you are going to follow, but unless we go into committee, I submit we cannot consider this amendment in full."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"As far as the relevancy is concerned, what is the difference between the committee stage and the present stage?"

[1st October 1929]

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"In committee we can discuss the question of principle. For example, the committee need not consider clause 10 alone. We can consider all the principles embodied in clauses 1 to 15, consider all the principles of the hon. Members' amendments and have a discussion on that."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"What is the authority for that position?"

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"The authority is the practice or the rule that in committee no rules of debate are observed."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"As far as my reading of the Parliamentary practice goes, I do not think there is any distinction between the committee stage and the stage at which the House considers the Bill, except to the extent that in the committee the Member can speak a number of times. And when once any amendment has been fully considered by the committee and is thrown out by a large majority, the Chairman or the President need not select that amendment in the full House. This is the only difference I was able to find."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"But that is not relevant to the point I am now raising. The point I now raise is this: that all these series of amendments cannot be moved at this stage as an amendment to clause 10 which alone is now for consideration of the House."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"What is the objection to one Member expressing one point of view and other members expressing other points of view?"

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"That is why I suggested elsewhere some other procedure. In so far as the discussion of amendments here is concerned, you should confine amendments to the clauses then under discussion. My hon. Friend from South Kanara suggested with regard to fair rent one amendment and . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Have I not allowed Mr. Shetty to move his amendment with regard to fair rent, i.e., that the existing rent be fair rent, before all other sections are taken up? This is something like that. The principle of Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar's amendment is that compensation shall be paid, and that compensation must be in the shape of bonds executed by the tenant. And shall I be justified in excluding the discussion of that school of thought?"

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"I thought we were bound by certain rules of order. If you think that the moving of these amendments is in order, I delight in that procedure because I want the procedure of the House to approximate to that procedure. Under the Standing Orders to-day, there is no doubt that an amendment can be moved only to the clause for the time being under discussion."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"This is substitution of one stage for another. Even so far as the principle of relevancy is concerned, I am afraid the select committee went far beyond the principles of the original Bill itself as far as this chapter is concerned. And therefore it is better not to go into the question of principles and all that."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"I have raised the point, Sir, and it is for you to decide. If you think this is in order, I am delighted because I want this procedure to be adopted. I want your ruling now because I want to have a precedent when my turn comes next to use this procedure."

1st October 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Precedents are not binding unfortunately."

* Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—"I move this amendment, Sir, in place of the amendment which I gave notice of in the beginning. It was my intention to get Government to issue a bond under the conditions that I have set forth. But I found, after I gave notice of the amendment, that the Government would not accept it, and it was also likely that even discussion might not be allowed on technical grounds because it is open to the Government to say that under section 80-C of the Government of India Act the amendment involves financial clauses and so the approval of the Governor will have to be obtained for it. It is for that reason, Sir, to get over the possibility of an objection being raised on that score, I have altered the original proposal of the Collector issuing bonds into one making the tenant or the person concerned to issue the bond. But I should prefer, Sir, that the Government may adopt that procedure so that instead of the tenant the Collector should come in, because that is a matter for the Government to decide."

"My reason for giving notice of this amendment, Sir, is that I consider that the Bill in the form in which it is brought up before this Council will do Malabar no good. This clause is obviously against the janmam interests; that is only one side of the question. As for the intermediaries, I do not think they will be benefited because it is a fact that rack-renting is general. It seems to me that there are very good reasons for kanamdars and intermediaries to object to the present Bill. Obviously when fair rents are fixed, rack-renting will disappear. So, I do not think the kanamdar is benefited. As for the tenant I do not see what benefit he gets because in any kind of legislation about land for the benefit of the tenant, the aim would rather be to make the tenant the proprietor of the land, instead of making it obligatory on the part of the tenant to pay a rent in perpetuity, for ever and ever. But this seems to me to be a very novel way of benefiting the tenant at all. I would apply, Sir, to any measure of land reform three tests; the reforms proposed should be sound from the economic, from the social and from the political standpoint."

"From these three standpoints, Sir, I consider that this Bill is a failure. 2-45 p.m.
Take first of all, the economic side. We have three classes of people connected with land in Malabar. We have got the janmi at one end, then a series of intermediaries, and at the end, we have the cultivator. I cannot think of the soundness of any land legislation that perpetuates these intermediaries. The intermediaries must necessarily get their profit from the land, and if the land is to support not merely the janmi and the cultivator but a whole series of intermediaries, it is obvious, Sir, that it will be a source of economic waste, which it is the business of any Government to put a stop to. This Bill does not propose to do anything of the kind. And, Sir, as I said already, what is the position of the occupying tenants? It will be noticed that the Bill makes occupying tenancy obligatory, not even optional. According to the original Bill as framed on the recommendation of the Raghavayya Committee, it was left to the option of any tenant to ask for permanent occupancy. But now, this Bill makes occupying tenancy obligatory. Judged from the economic standpoint, I think such a thing is absurd. I am not aware of any land legislation anywhere in the world that seeks to perpetuate occupying tenancy. The aim of land legislation of this kind as attempted in all countries was to free the tenant as quickly as possible from the obligation to pay rent in perpetuity. Permanent occupancy means quite the opposite, which gives room to a large measure of economic waste. Besides, comparing the difference between occupying tenancy and peasant proprietorship, it must be obvious to hon. Members of this Council that whereas in peasant proprietorship the peasant has got sooner or later the prospect of becoming the actual owner of the land, the occupying tenant can never hope to become the owner of the land. Therefore, the peasant proprietor has every inducement to put in his best on the land, to invest money on it, to improve it and to adopt improved methods of cultivation. He does all that without the fear of having to share the benefit with others.

"Besides, Sir, there is another kind of economic waste that this Bill deliberately creates, because any one who reads through the clauses of this Bill must be staggered by the amount of interference by or the obligatory nature of reference to courts in Malabar, either by the janmi, or the kanamdar, or the cultivator. Almost every section speaks of the court, of petitions, of affidavits and so on, and there is almost no section that does not refer to the court. Everything has to go to the courts. Now, Sir, unless it is the deliberate intention of the Government, which I do not think it is, to let loose a flood of devastating litigation on this unfortunate district of Malabar, I do not see why Government is forcing the respective parties in this district to go to the court on every possible occasion. If it is going to be decided that all those things provided in this Bill are all subject to the decisions of courts of law it means a tremendous amount of economic waste. The janmi is forced to go to the court, the kanamdar is forced to go to the court and so also the cultivator, and all the expenses for litigation of this kind must come out of the land. Somebody or other must suffer on account of the particular nature of the reference to the court; it does not matter whether the janmi or the kanamdar or the cultivator goes to the court, it does not matter which party gains or which party loses. It seems to me that if all this unfortunate expenditure, which is necessitated, must come out of the land, surely the economic conditions of Malabar cannot be improved under the provisions of this Bill.

"Judged, Sir, from the social standpoint, I do not see it is going to establish or improve the social harmony among the various classes in Malabar connected with land. It will certainly embitter janmis against cultivators. It is obvious that the Government measure is most distasteful to the janmis. And in this connexion, I might express my surprise that Government had come in as a party. It is surprising to see that Government has agreed to sponsor this kind of legislation, a legislation that amounts to expropriation of a part of the janmam rights. When discussions were proceeding, Sir, on my hon. Friend Diwan Bahadur M. Krishnan Nayar's Malabar Tenancy Bill, the Government spokesman, the hon. the Finance Member, spoke as follows :—

"I can only reiterate emphatically that, in our opinion, this Bill remains a Bill essentially for expropriating the janmis in favour of a class of investors and middlemen who, as far as we know, are all capable of looking after themselves; that even if compensation for such expropriation had formed a feature of the Bill we still doubt whether any public purpose would have been served; and that we are unable to accept a measure which inflicts grave wrongs and does little if anything to remedy the evils which it is ostensibly designed to cure."

[1st October 1929] [Mr. R. N. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar]

"I do not know what the attitude of the hon. the Finance Member now is. But I shall be surprised if he is personally a party to this somersault on the part of the Government in this matter. In making the reference to the Raghavayya Committee for a further enquiry of this question of the Malabar tenancy, the Government Order says as follows :—

"The Government's position on this question, as clearly indicated during the course of the discussion on Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill, has been that it is not profitable or just to go behind the decisions of courts ranging over three-quarters of a century, which have recognized the full proprietary rights of the janmi. The Government are, therefore, of opinion that any future attempt at legislation should take that right as a settled fact and proceed on the basis thereof. As a corollary to that proposition, they think that any attempt to take away the right of the janmis, in any substantial way, whether it be by the grant of permanent occupancy rights or otherwise, should be accompanied by adequate provision for reasonable compensation being paid to the janmi."

"Now, Sir, I should like to ask the Government how it has come about that they have given the go-by to this most salutary principle. For, I cannot imagine any Government dealing with any class of property rights except by way of affording compensation. It may be to-day, we are expropriating janmam rights, but the same unfair methods will be applied to others in the future. There is no knowing whether Government will not at some future date apply the same methods to other classes of people. I would ask Government, Sir, if they are so bankrupt of all methods of action that they cannot think of any other way of dealing with the Malabar tenancy problem except by way of expropriation of janmam rights. It is a case of robbing Peter to pay, I do not know, whom! I think only the lawyers will be benefited by the provisions of this Bill. I also consider it a very serious objection to the Bill to throw to the winds the decisions of the highest courts of our land, to cast aside the decisions of the High Court, and go back on all the solemnly given pledges in this Council and elsewhere with reference to the principle of safeguarding janmam rights. I do not represent the janmis, nor do I represent anybody. But I object to the principle that Government should have acceded to the expropriation of any kind of janmam rights without affording adequate compensation.

"Then, Sir, looking at the third standpoint, namely the political standpoint, what is it this measure is aiming to achieve? Does the land system proposed increase the stability of the social fabric, or does it buttress the structure of the State? I can imagine land legislation that would help to consolidate the position of the State. In other countries, particularly in western countries, the tendency of legislation has been towards increasing the amount of proprietary land for the obvious reason, that proprietorship in land is a help to the State, because so long as you have got a peasantry which is interested in land as its rightful owners, there is no possibility of trouble; so that all advanced legislation concerning land has aimed always at increasing peasant proprietorship. I should like to ask if Government can quote any precedent to the method that they have adopted in this Bill. Is there any precedent anywhere in the history of the world where proprietary rights have been taken away without adequate compensation?

"Personally, as far as I can see, there is no such example. But 3 p.m. considering that the tendency towards legislation in this matter has been towards increasing the proprietorship in the land, I shall quote a few figures respecting other countries. In France, half of the agricultural population were proprietors. In Ireland, out of a total of 600,000 holdings, 400,000 belong to proprietors. In Germany, while 92 million acres are cultivated by owners, about 30 millions are cultivated by tenants. In Denmark, 82 per cent of the land belongs to owners. In Bavaria the number of proprietors reaches the high figure of 95 per cent. And all this has been secured by legislation which gradually increased the proprietorship in land. Important legislation in this matter was brought in Germany so long ago as 1847, and as a result this beneficent legislation has led to enormous increase in the amount of proprietorship in land. In Denmark the Land Allotment Act was passed in 1899 providing for peasant proprietorship. The tenants who wanted to acquire proprietorship in land were allowed to take a loan from the State of nine-tenths of the purchase money; the repayment was to commence five years afterwards, and the loan was to be repaid in easy instalments of $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 per cent. In Ireland (it is a country which has figured largely in the matter of land reform in the eyes of the world), under the Balfour Land Act of 1891 and the Land Act of 1896, 30 millions sterling were set apart for the land purchase, and up to date more than 200 millions sterling have been spent. I may also mention the fact that in all these countries the co-operative movement has had a large share in increasing the peasant proprietorship. There were cases where land mortgage banks and co-operative associations passed these bonds on behalf of peasants, and by co-operation of the State, they have been able to achieve remarkable results, which I have referred to a minute ago.

"Now coming to the practical application of the proposals covered by my amendment, I shall give an instance to show how in a particular case they may work. I will take for instance a land on which the annual rent is Rs. 100. At present, Sir, I do not think that in a property whose rent is Rs. 100, the janmi will realize more than Rs. 80. In the Zamorin's Estate, the amount realized does not exceed 52 per cent. The amounts realized by the janmis vary. But assuming, Sir, that a janmi realizes Rs. 80 out of the 100, it leaves Rs. 20 as balance, and out of this have to be met the collection charges, litigation, amount allowed for arrears, etc. I think my assumption that the janmi gets 80 out of the 100 is a very fair one for the purpose of my argument. So that, allowing Rs. 15 for taxes the janmi would get Rs. 65. Now if we are to compensate the janmi, the capitalized value of the land, at 20 years purchase at 5 per cent, will be Rs. 1,300, and the bonds I refer to that will be passed to the tenant would be for the sum of Rs. 1,300. Now, I propose that this amount should be made up by payment by the cultivator in a series of annual instalments to the janmi. The cultivator will have to pay towards capital Rs. 65, for taxes he will have to pay Rs. 15, for collection expenses Rs. 2. I propose in addition to this there should be an annual payment of Rs. 15 which would go to make an annuity fund. So it comes in all to Rs. 97, or roughly 100. It is simply a matter of calculation to find out that this annuity of Rs. 15 at compound interest would produce the sum of Rs. 1,300 in a period of 30 years. The period may be varied, the Government may put it at 40 years or 50 years. So, the system that I propose will be fair to the janmi. On one side, he will be able to realize as much or more than he will be able to realize at present. Of course, the intermediary will also get his share out of this Rs. 1,300—it may be Rs. 300 or any other figure according to the nature of the kanam rights. So that the janmi loses nothing, and the kanamdar is provided for amply, with the result that the tenant becomes in a series of years—say 30 years—proprietor of the land. It may be obvious to this House, what a difference there is between occupying tenancy and occupying proprietorship in a case like this. Supposing that the period of payment is 30 years, within that time he will be able to call the land his own and he will have to make no more payments of rent. He will be able to realize that all that he does and all that he puts into the land will be actually his own without anybody questioning his right or claiming a share. The object of my amendment, as I have explained already, is to prevent what I consider to be a calamity overtaking this unfortunate district of Malabar. The people of Malabar appear to be very much perturbed about it. They have been demanding some sort of legislation, and they expect Government to enact such a Bill as will satisfy all classes and interests and set at rest this long-drawn controversy about the Malabar land system. But instead of a Bill that would produce social harmony, that would prevent economic waste, that would be fair to all classes, that while providing for the cultivator will respect proprietorship in land, the Government have brought in a Bill the effect of which when passed into law will be to open the flood gates of litigation in Malabar, without doing any good to any of the three classes interested in land. I consider this Bill to be very unsatisfactory. I hope that the Government will consider my proposals. I have got no interest in any class, I do not own a bit of land in Malabar, and if I take part in this debate it is not that I have any axe to grind but because I feel that this Bill would cause immense dissatisfaction and harm to all classes. And Government will gain nothing by expropriation of the janmam rights. It will cost them nothing to give the tenants permanent proprietorship instead of giving permanent tenancy. They can legislate as easily for the one as for the other. I hope the Government would consider these proposals and bring to bear upon them its impartial judgment and consider the effects of the Bill on the district of Malabar as a whole. If the principle of my amendment is accepted it will be easy to improve upon it. I appeal to the Government once again to reconsider its position. It will be most damaging to the reputation of Government if it pronounces its blessing on a measure of this sort. I hope, Sir, the Government will take a sympathetic view of my proposals, give them the consideration that they merit and accept the amendment which I have placed before the House."

* Mr. N. SIVA RAJ :—"Mr. President, Sir, any proposal which in 3-15 principle or in fact helps the cultivating tenant or improves his position, p.m. however slightly, commands my support and the support of certain of my colleagues sitting on this side. (Cries of Hear, hear.) Now, this amendment which has been worded so elaborately by the ex-Minister contains a principle to which both by training and by temperament I am amenable. Sir, the mover of the amendment has dealt with the various points in his favour and I do not think I can add anything more by way of argument to support it. I am however free to express this that any legislation in the matter of agrarian re-construction ought to set before it as its ideal the improvement of the welfare of the cultivating tenants. Sir, every benefit that various persons connected with the land get by way of a share of the produce depends upon the labour and energy of the cultivating tenant and his capacity to add to the wealth of the soil. The income from the land which the janmis, the kanamdars, etc., get comes from the same source, viz., the profit which is the result of the cultivating tenants' labour. We might go further and say, Sir, that the very blood that runs in the veins of the janmi is nothing but the sweat of the cultivating tenant. (Opposition Benches: Hear, hear.) That being so, I have set before myself the ideal that in the matter of agrarian re-construction the cultivating tenant ought to be accorded his ancient and undoubted rights. But for certain historical events, I do not suppose that many intermediaries who are now occupying the position of superior landlords and owners, having had nothing to do with the land, would be there now. The matter is different in the case of ryotwari lands. It is only the cultivating tenant that has got anything to do with the land barring the fact that he pays a certain amount of assessment to the Government. The Indian ryot is after all a gentleman. In my opinion he is far more of a gentleman than most of the other classes into which the Indian population can be divided. He knows his responsibility. What he really wants is the satisfaction of being secure in his rights and privileges and this amendment merely seeks to secure to him as I said, his ancient and his undoubted right, namely, the possession and ownership of the lands which he is cultivating. He is, unlike the landlords, a person who is satisfied with a few acres of land, just that extent of land which will give him his means of subsistence. He is not a person who is anxious to accumulate wealth and add acre after acre of land to his possessions. He does not want to glory himself by posing as a big landlord, or zamindar or janmi. He is satisfied with that extent of land which will give him the yield that he wants for his maintenance. Now, if such a person is given the satisfaction of being the owner of the land and is assured that he would not be disturbed in the possession of it by any extraneous agency such as the janmi or the intermediaries, it will give him some enthusiasm and make him improve the methods of cultivation and add to the produce of the land. Now he is practically in a state of despair. However much he may try to improve the land, however much he may try to get the best out of the land, he is not sure that the result of his labour will be secure to him, because he is afraid that in some shape or other it will be taken away by the intermediary or the janmi. That is why I have great pleasure in seconding the amendment which has been moved by my hon. Friend Diwan Bahadur Arogyaswami Mudaliyar."

[Mr. N. Siva Raj]

[1st October 1929]

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Mr. President, Sir, if I intervene so early in the debate it is because the seemingly fascinating amendment and speech of my hon. Friend, the Mover, showed that he does not want to see this Bill through. Sir, the select committee has carefully dealt with this provision and, although this Bill may not be the last word on legislation on this matter, it would confer a great blessing on the people of Malabar. (Cries of: Hear, hear.) It is because I feel that this Bill must be pushed through, I venture to oppose very humbly, yet very strongly, the amendment now before the House."

"Sir, these proposals are intended to take the place of clauses 10 to 15 of the Bill. It is therefore, up to this House, to have a conspectus of the future relationships which will exist between the cultivating tenant and his superior landlord, provided for in clauses 10 to 15 of the Bill, and compare that position with the position which my hon. Friend wants to confer on these tenants and then see which is better in the long run for the tenants. I may say at once, that I am at one with the seconder in feeling that if there is one party in Malabar which we want to support, it is the real cultivating tenant. I hold no brief for the janmi or the kanamdar. The only brief I hold is for the cultivating tenant—the real underdog in Malabar. From that point of view, I say that this is not a blessing to the cultivating tenant. I ask hon. Members of this House to mark the very important sentences in the speech of the hon. Mover, and I want them to draw the necessary inference therefrom. On the one hand, his heart bled for the poor cultivating tenant; and on the other, his sympathy was for the poor janmi who ought not to be deprived of his rights, and who deserved better treatment at the hands of the Government and should be compensated. Sir, the cloven hoof behind the amendment is this: that a janmi must be compensated for the deprivation of his rights and that the compensation must take the form of the full market value of the lands to be determined by the Collector, subject to an appeal to the court. The difficulty is this, that the basis of this Bill is that so far as the land is concerned, it is no man's particular property. It is God's gift to all mankind." (Laughter.)

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Will the Government accept that statement?"

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"I quite see the excitement of my hon. Friend. He is jumping at this amendment. He wants the amendment to be accepted which will either kill the Bill, or give him the market value of the land. I hope my hon. Friends in the House will draw the necessary inference from this exhibition of enthusiasm by my hon. Friend. I am glad that he interrupted. My point is this. I say, and I repeat again, that land ought not to be the private monopoly of anybody. No doubt, we have yet not reached that stage. But this Bill is a modest attempt to so adjust the relations of those who live on the land, that the man who actually puts his labour, his energy and his time into it shall get the best or the most of it. Now, the cultivating tenant is the man who ought to get the best out of the relations which should subsist between the various men concerned in the land. Now, I ask my hon. Friend to compare and contrast the position of the cultivating tenant under the clauses of the Bill as it stands, with the position offered by my hon. Friend by means of this proposal."

"My hon. Friend was very eloquent about the devastating nature of courts of law. It is a favourite theme of everybody, which tickles all of us. Now, Sir, I want to invite the attention of the House to the last clause of this wonderful amendment which keeps us at a safe distance from courts. It says: 'An appeal shall lie to the court against the award made by the Collector under section 1.' The Suklambardharam is itself on the eye, not on the forehead. The moment you go to the Collector to fix the market value, you start the whole series of appeals from the Collector to the court, from the court to the first appellate court and then to the Privy Council. It is a scheme which will give rise to a great deal of litigation."

"A great deal was made by my hon. Friend about human nature and the pathetic faith which our people have in courts of law, and he added that it was why he provided for in the amendment for an appeal being made to a court of law against the decision of the Collector. Until we change that fundamental weakness in us the only tribunal that we can trust is courts of law. We cannot advance any further, now."

"Then, Sir, looking at the economic side, my hon. Friend said that in order to escape the possible objection from the Government, he has made a provision according to which the originator would be the tenant who shall issue notice to the janmi, the intermediaries, if any, etc., and pass a bond to each of them for the amount found due to him. I want to know how the system is going to work. My hon. Friend referred, and rightly referred, to a number of other countries in the world where such a system had been

p.m.

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

[1st October 1929]

worked, with beneficial results, and added that the same system might also be tried here as an experiment. I challenge my hon. Friend to give a single instance where the full resources of the Government were not placed behind such schemes, and whether the tenants themselves could find the money or even the security to stand behind it. Do the janmi, the kanamdar, and all others accept this system? You ask the kanamdar or the verumpattamdar to merely wait for 20 or 30 or 40 years, after the termination of which period their interest in the land will accrue. It is a point which the janmi or the kanamdar should accept. I have already said, Mr. President, that I do not agree with this proposal, and I hope the House will not agree to this, viz., that we must pay the market value to the janmis. What I suggest is that we should not really ask the Government to do this, unless my hon. Friend assures the House that the janmis, the kanamdars and the kuzhikanamdars are agreeable to accept this point. I take it that he laid stress upon the need of such a scheme, for social harmony in Malabar, as a result of the legislation which we may pass at this stage. May I ask respectfully whether he is in a position to assure us, once his scheme is accepted, that it would result in the social harmony and social concord among the people of Malabar? Can he assure this House that if his scheme is put through this House better harmony will prevail between the various parties? I have grave doubts on this matter.

"Then, Sir, this clause wants that the Collector shall issue notice to the janmi, the intermediaries, if any, and all the other interested parties, determine the market value of the holding, the kanam and value of improvements due to the intermediaries, and the respective interests of all parties concerned, and order the verumpattamdar, kanamdar or kuzhikanamdar concerned to pass a bond for the amount found due to each, etc. I am afraid it will be an intolerable burden on the unfortunate cultivating tenant that he should be asked to pay year after year for 40 years, and he is to be made liable to pay the interest at 5½ per cent for the amount for which this bond shall issue, and the Government revenue. I do not know if the cultivating tenants will be prepared to do this."

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—"May I say that it is not my intention to make the tenant pay to the Government rent for the land? I merely put the rent as a charge on the income."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"The idea is to charge the land. I think the liability to pay the Government revenue lies on such men, who become purchasers of the lands and who continue to be the owners of lands. I quite agree. But if my hon. Friend is not going to suggest any other means of charging, he must charge only on the lands, for the moment. Now, Sir, I do not know if the cultivating tenants of Malabar are particularly a prosperous set of people. I should be surprised if they stand the financial strain year after year. I think the cultivating tenant of Malabar will be squeezed and I should be surprised if they think they could afford to pay all these sums, even in these instalments. I think it will be cruel to ask these tenants to pay such sums.

"Sir, the scheme of the amendment does not afford any special points, and will not materially improve the lot of the tenants in Malabar. It is not a well-thought out scheme, but was sprung on the floor of this House, out of enthusiasm and out of a mere desire to bring about a solution of this very difficult and thorny problem. I ask one fundamental question. Supposing this Bill is passed into law, what will be the position of the various parties, if the instalments are not paid, after two or three years? How are they to be judged? The only result will be that the landlord will lose all his interest in the land".

1st October 1929]

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

(A voice: let the contract prevail.)

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"You want to confirm these rates and keep them in force by a decision of a court of law.

"Then Sir, the other point which my hon. Friend made was that the land would be better cultivated. It is a matter for the consideration of the House. There is no limit, Mr. President, to the extent of the lands which could be so purchased by any cultivating tenant. Therefore, it simply means that when a land is cultivated by a tenant, and when he is in possession of the holding, he could go on multiplying his improvements on the land and the result will be only a new class of janmis who will squat on the land and whom you cannot displace. There is no provision for any limitation of the extent of the land to which such proposals can apply. I believe—I speak subject to correction—that when the State purchases the land it has to pay for any improvements which might have been effected by the tenant. Then the question will arise as to how much the landlord will have to pay and how much the tenants will have to forego. All these difficulties will arise and the same evil, which you are now trying to eradicate, will continue again.

"Having said so much, I may invite the attention of the House to the modest suggestions made by the Select Committee. They are not after all so drastic as to deserve being displaced by such a scheme as is proposed by the hon. Mover. What the Select Committee has recommended is that the cultivating verumpattamdar will have fixity of tenure from the date of the passing of this Bill, and I believe that no janmi has raised his voice against this proposal. This clause was passed, without any single janmi voting against it. The rights of the cultivating verumpattamdar are provided in clauses 11 and 12 of the Bill. The grounds of eviction are very carefully set out in clause 13 of the Bill. Clause 14 provides that once a landlord takes the land for his own cultivation and leases it out to any other person on any kind of lease, etc., within six years of such eviction it shall revert back to the cultivating verumpattamdar. Then clause 15 provides for the realization of the arrears. I hope the House will concede the soundness of the treatment of this question in a manner which is supported by high authority and by all those who have studied this question. I shall take the House to one or two concluding sentences in the concluding chapter of the Raghavayya Committee's report. That Committee consisted of men whose authority to speak on this subject nobody can question. In paragraph 141 they say:

"None can be more conscious than the members of the Committee that the proposals that they have put forward do not constitute the last word on the subject. They would even confess that some parts of their proposals may at first sight appear illusory and that some could be worked in practice only with some difficulty. But the proposals are in their opinion the best they can offer in the circumstances embodying as they do the spirit of give and take so necessary for the peaceful settlement of a problem so full of difficulties and conflicting interests."

"I hope the House will bear in mind that this is a difficult and delicate problem. I have a great deal of sympathy with this idea of land purchase not only on the West Coast but also on the East Coast. I think we may bring pressure to bear on the Government and if the Government agree we can indicate any proposals for lands being purchased both on the East Coast

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

[1st October 1929]

as well as on the West Coast. In the meantime, let us deal with this problem in an expert manner and in the only manner dealt with by successive reformers and thus give security of tenure to the cultivating tenants of Malabar."

The MAHARAJA OF PITHAPURAM:—"I have great pleasure in supporting the motion before the House so ably moved by my hon. Friend, Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar. The Bill as it stands seems to be confiscatory and there is no justification that the Government should be a party to such a measure. This amendment seeks to modify the severity of the Bill and also to give a chance to the tenant to become the owner of the land. I most strongly request the Government to accept this amendment and I also appeal to the House to give their hearty support to it."

* Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasayo:—"Mr. President, I welcome a discussion on the floor of this House on the motion so ably moved by my hon. Friend, Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar. I should have been glad if the hon. Member representing the Christian constituency had circulated his views on this important question to the Members of the Select Committee instead of bringing in this amendment at this stage, which I feel I cannot accept. Sir, his speech is a severe indictment on the land revenue policy of the Government of Madras. No one would agree with him more than I, because I have been feeling ever since the day I have entered this Council that a change of policy regarding land tenure is necessary, but the angle of vision of the Government has not yet been changed and it will not be changed, so long as the present system of Government continues and so long as there is a class of intermediaries to support the structure.

p.m.

"As my hon. Friend, the Member for the University Constituency has just remarked, when the Government is yours you can initiate a new policy and you may bring forward new measures. Until then we have to be contented with what little we get. The Select Committee report has not been satisfactory to us; the Members representing the janmis are not the least satisfied. Under these circumstances I think my hon. Friend, Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar will do less injustice to the cultivating tenants and kanamdars if he comes forward with a separate amending Bill. I do not want to commit myself to the details regarding this amendment. I do admire the principles underlying the proposition. But the amendment will, by itself, constitute a separate Bill. He will have all my support and the support of Members of various parties in this House if he comes forward with a separate Bill. We are here to fight for the cause of the people without caring for the consequences. This Malabar Tenancy Bill has had this course for a very long period of seven years. If my hon. Friend brings forward such a Bill, there will be a universal system of tenure for the Presidency of Madras. I welcome this measure as a sound one on principle without committing myself to its details. The reason why I welcome it, is that this is the only provision which will afford real relief to the actual cultivators of the soil by converting their position of absolute subordination to that of peasant proprietors, a position which has been denied to them by the sheer course of policy adopted by the East India Company and followed by this Government. Such a course of action will meet with our approval. But if he comes forward with this amendment now, it is to deny the little which the unfortunate tenants will get by the present Bill. None of us are satisfied with the provisions of the Bill. It is the future generation that will have to judge how far the interests of the tenants have been safeguarded by the Members who represent the people of Malabar. Of course I do not cast any reflection on any of the hon. Members of the House who represent the interest of the verumpattamdars and the kanamdars. The dissatisfaction is there, and it will have to be judged also by the future generation. With these words I appeal to the hon. Member to withdraw his amendment and to bring forward a separate Bill if he wants to initiate a new policy of land legislation. If he does not I strongly object to this amendment though I fully support the principles contained in it without committing myself to details."

1st October 1929] [Sriman Biswanath Das Mahasayo]

* Rao Bahadur B. MUNISWAMI NAYUDU:—"Sir, I wish the House will consider what the implications of this amendment are. It will be all right if you give them occupancy rights; make them liable to pay fair rent; keep them if they pay the rent regularly; and eject them when they do not give the rent. If my hon. Friend had suggested that in addition to what is given in clauses 10 to 15, opportunity should be given to the tenants to become proprietary peasants by purchasing the whole right in the property, such a suggestion will be reasonable. But what he states is 'Let the present state of affairs continue however unsatisfactory it may be.' By this clause we will only authorize the purchase of the rights of the janmam on behalf of the tenants who are willing and who apply for it."

"One point which my hon. Friend urged upon this House is that this legislation is confiscatory and therefore no Government should have attempted it, much less should this Government have taken up and put forward a Bill of this sort. If you look at clause (f) of the amendment it says: 'in arriving at the market value of the land, the Collector shall multiply by 20 nine-tenths of the fair rent after deducting the kist payable to the Government'. If you analyse this clause which my hon. Friend wants the House to adopt, you will find that he approves of the fair rents as fixed in the Bill before the House. What does this Bill say? It proposes to give occupancy right to the tenants; it proposes to give him this right for a period of twelve years; the tenant can continue to occupy the land after that period on payment of fair rent fixed by the Act. That principle is not objected to by the hon. Mover of this amendment; he accepts the fair rent that is fixed by the Bill as a fair one. He then says that the value of the land in respect of which this occupancy right is conferred should be 20 times the fair rent. He would not go above 20 times nine-tenths of the fair rent evidently deducting the cost of collection and revenue. The Bill provides and secures for the landlord fair rent and he would be entitled to the market value thereof. He can sell his right in the open market at 20 times the rent he receives. For that no legislation is necessary. If I own a property, I can go to the market and say 'here is my property; you may purchase it.' Everybody who has property will be entitled to go to the market and say I will part with it for 20 times the fair rent. Therefore there is no question at all of confiscatory legislation being brought forward now. If my hon. Friend proceeded further and said that the market value shall be more than 20 times the fair rent, I can understand it. He accepts the fair rent fixed by the Select Committee in order to calculate the market value of the land. Therefore his amendment does not differ from the provisions of the Bill, as amended by the Select Committee."

[Mr. B. Muniswami Nayudu]

[1st October 1929]

"The first clause of the amendment says: 'Any cultivating tenant, whether a verumpattamdar, kanamdar or kuzhikanamdar who is in possession of a holding which has not been cultivated for a period of twelve years at the commencement of this Act by the landlord thereof, may apply to the Collector to have their holding purchased from him on the following conditions.' So this provision applies to a particular class of land, i.e., land not cultivated by the landlord for a period of twelve years. If within twelve years the holding has been cultivated by the landlord, the verumpattamdar is absolutely excluded from the provisions of this Bill; he has no place and no occupancy right will be given to him. That will hit hard new tenants let into possession within twelve years before this date. Then again the hon. Member says that the cultivating tenant should pay every year the Government revenue of the holding, interest at $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent for the amount of the bond and some portion of the bond amount. He wants that the owner of the property should take a bond from the tenant and be satisfied with getting merely the interest on the bond amount. Is it the intention of my hon. Friend that landlords in Malabar who own property should be converted into capitalists, that they should take bonds and be satisfied with getting some interest? Suppose the tenant does not pay the rent regularly; what is to be done in such a case? The amendment does not provide for such contingencies. It says 'Hereafter we will make you (janmis) capitalists; and we will give you interest.' I do not know if such a provision will be welcomed either by the janmis or by the kanamdars.

"We find, in every Tenancy Act in India, that occupancy rights are secured to the persons who actually cultivate the land and that rent is paid to the landlord year after year. This is one of the incidents which the landlord enjoys. That is an incident which the Government enjoy with regard to ryotwari land. The Government collect revenue year after year. I do not think there is any proposition now or hereafter that the Government should not collect the rent, that every ryot should become absolute owner of the land, that the Government be given a bond and that they shall recover only the interest. This is a novel method of dealing with resettlement problem. But if such a change of tenure should come, it should come not only to Malabar but to all districts, whatever the tenures may be. My hon. Friend does not want that the tenants in this country should continue paying rent for ever and permanently. We need not go to other countries; we have the Estates Land Act. We have got systems under which the landlords are the owners of the land and the ryots pay the land revenue. This is the system under which we are working. This is the system which is given in the Bill. What the Select Committee Bill says is this: the tenant shall continue to cultivate; he shall pay to the landlord proper and fair rent; if the landlord wants the land for his own purposes, let him take it; no objection. These are the three things which are provided in the Bill to which no janmi or tenant can object. The janmis have fought tooth and nail that the fair rent that is proposed to be given to them should be more. My hon. Friend does not provide for more. He accepts the fair rent as settled by the Select Committee, and he says that the market value of the land shall be 20 times the fair rent. The amendment wants to convert the janmis into money-lenders. For these reasons I oppose this amendment especially when it is in substitution of the existing clauses 10 to 15. The Government will perhaps consider the question carefully, if

[Mr. B. Muniswami Nayudu]

1st October 1929] my hon. Friend suggests anything in addition to what is stated in the provisions of the Bill regarding security of tenure. If this clause is incorporated in the Bill, it will not fit in at all with the present scheme of the Bill. The other provisions of the Bill will have to be carefully looked into and consequential amendments will have to be made. As my hon. Friend, Mr. Satyamurti, suggested, what will happen supposing certain instalments are not paid? How are they to be recovered? It is said that the Collector should collect the amount. I can understand the Collector collecting land revenue on behalf of the Government. What this amendment proposes is that the Collector should be the functionary to be in charge of the bonds, and responsible for investing the annuity fund and for redeeming these bonds. Though the motives underlying this clause may be very good, the clause cannot be introduced, by way of amendment, into the present Bill. It is open to my hon. Friend to introduce a separate Bill or to agitate for effective remedies being provided for more concessions being given. To the extent to which the Government will explore these new methods and to the extent to which they will come forward with a Bill regarding creation of peasant proprietors, I shall feel most grateful to the Government. The Government should find their way to consider proposals of this sort. Again, Sir, technical objections may arise regarding the question whether the Collector shall direct every tenant to pass the bond to the landlord and the intermediary. For these reasons I strongly oppose this motion. I hope that the Council will carefully consider the matter. If the Members want the Bill to be passed, the only way in which they can do so is to vote against the amendment."

* Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—Sir, this amendment is really worth some examination, because it is of a novel character, not because it is reasonable, or because it is of substantial merit for consideration. I do not think that the clause which is proposed for substitution for clauses 10 to 15 is an improvement. Clauses 10 to 15 in the Bill really meet the actual grievances of the verumpattamdar and the cultivating tenants of Malabar. What is complained of in Malabar and what was graphically described in the report is the insecurity of tenure, and a remedy had to be found for it while at the same time preserving the rights of the janmi. In order to give security of tenure, clause 10 lays down definitely that fixity, in other words, occupancy right is conferred upon the tenant for the first time. He is given absolute right in the holding except that he has to pay his share of rent to the landlord. That is to say, his position has been placed analogous to the position of tenants in the proprietary estates. Therefore, under the Bill as it stands, there is no complaint from any side, the tenancy is secured, the rent is secured and at the same time an additional advantage has been given to the janmi, that is, the right of re-entry in certain circumstances. Not only when the tenant fails to pay the rent, but when the janmi wants the land for his own cultivation or for cultivation by his family members, he is given the right—which does not exist under the Estates Land Act—to take back the land for such purpose. That being so, I am surprised to see the Maharaja of Pithapuram supporting this amendment. If his support is to be taken as real that the occupancy right of the ryots in permanently settled estates will also be affected—I do not know how far he will be satisfied to possess a bond instead of the land. I am afraid he will have to re-examine the whole position of the ryots under the proprietary estates also; zamindars shall be only capitalists.

[Sir A. P. Patro]

[1st October 1929]

"This amendment, Sir, also states that bonds should be issued for the purchase of the lands. The system of land purchase by the State has been tried in some of the continental States through land banks but was given up. If you want to have the system of nationalization of land—that also is a theory which after some time was found to be impracticable. Therefore, both the systems of land purchases which were started by some reformers have been tried and found impracticable. The nationalization of land was in the interests of the tenants, as they said, because it meant that the Government should take all the lands and distribute it equally among the tenants for the purpose of cultivation. This old theory which has not been accepted in other countries and to argue that it should be introduced in Malabar where we have already so much confusion and trouble, and to say that the Government should take up the whole responsibility seems to me that no reasonable man who is acquainted with the working of land tenures in this province can accept. If you really examine the position of the relations between the landlord and tenant in the other parts of the country, as compared with the position under the provisions of the Bill as drafted in the select committee, you will find that real heritable tenure was given to the actual cultivating ryots, while at the same time we have tried to see that the janmi and the landlords do not suffer in any way. If these provisions are substituted by the amendment of my friend, then they will not be advantageous to both the cultivating classes and the landlords; on the other hand, it will place a very heavy burden on the tenants, in that they will have to pay instalments regularly for forty years and at the same time be subject to ejectment if they fail to pay the instalments. I ask, is it a more appropriate remedy, is it more helpful to the tenants of Malabar than the provisions of the Bill as it exists? I think that a superficial examination of the provisions in this amendment, shows that it is not a practical one, nor is it intended to be useful therefore to the interests of the cultivating tenants."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"Mr. President, Sir, when we find that this amendment is being supported by the representatives of both the cultivating tenants and the landowners, I believe there must be something really worth examination in it. There is really much in favour of this amendment. It would certainly have been much better if this amendment had been added as a proviso to clauses 10 to 15, so that the tenant may have the option of either purchasing the land under this amendment or retaining possession under the provision of the Bill as it is. If however the Government and the representatives of the various classes had come to an agreement on this point, it would be easy to accept this amendment. Even as it is, if this amendment is substituted for the present provisions of the Bill, the evil is not likely to be perpetuated. Mr. President, it has been said that the conditions of the tenants under this amendment will be much worse. As a matter of fact, as the hon. Member from Chittoor pointed out, the fair rent that is now allowed under this Bill has been fixed on the basis of the market value. So there is nothing really here to say that the tenant will lose under the amendment; on the other hand, he has one great advantage that after paying for forty years what he now pays under this Bill, he can claim the land as his own. The hon. Member representing the University said that the tenant is made to pay a good deal more than what he has to pay under the present provisions of the Bill. As a matter of fact, what he is now made to pay in the shape of Government revenue is being deducted under clause F of the amendment from the amount that he has to pay under clause C.

[1st October 1929]

[Mr. K. Koti Reddi]

"Then, Sir, let us take the question of the interest of $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Certainly if a tenant wants to purchase a piece of land, he will have to borrow money, and on the money that he so borrows, he will have to pay interest. The rate of interest that he will have to pay is fixed at $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, the rate which is much less than the rate ordinarily payable by the classes which this amendment seeks to benefit. It might be that in some cases the tenant is made to pay the actual market value of the holding that he is going to buy; at the same time, there might be cases where the tenant may have to pay much more than what he has to under these clauses. So, basing our argument on the fair rent as fixed in the Bill, I do not see any harm in the tenant being allowed to pay 18 times the fair rent in the shape of capital. I believe that is really fair and would in all probability obviate any hardship."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Is the hon. Member going to amend this amendment by substituting eighteen for twenty times?"

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"No, Sir, I am only putting it at eighteen times, as under clause F it is twenty times $9/10$. It is just the same thing; I am not much of a mathematician, but as it is so simple, I thought I could refer to it as eighteen times instead of saying twenty times $9/10$."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I thought you were going to move an amendment to this amendment."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"The calculation made in clause F is really fair if one wants to purchase property; and I think it is a fair solution of the problem that is now engaging our attention. It will, at any rate, certainly go a long way towards solving it. Under the Bill as it is, the position of the tenant is not quite secure. There are at present a large number of janmis who own small pieces of land and who may desire to get back their lands for purposes of their own cultivation. If the tenants under these small janmis are under the impression that on any day their holdings might be claimed back by the landlords for their own cultivation, I believe the tenants will not be interested in permanently improving the holding. Neither does the janmi gain much, because when his holding is not properly cultivated, the amount that he gets in the shape of rent would be very little. So, if an option is given to the cultivating tenant that he could purchase it, I think it would be in the interests both of the janmi and of the tenant, in that the janmi will get the capital value of the fair rent and the tenant also will get proprietary rights for what he is paying. The main point in this amendment is that instead of making the tenant purchase the land straightaway, it helps him to buy it in the course of forty years by paying regular annual instalments and it also helps the janmi to get the capital value of the rent that is now paid to him.

"Again, Sir, it has been said that this amendment is expropriating the janmam rights of the janmis. I am sorry I cannot agree with that view. If this amendment is really an expropriation, I cannot really understand how this amendment could be accepted by the representatives of the janmis here. From the fact that this amendment is accepted by the representatives of the janmis, I am led to think that the Bill cannot be an expropriating Bill. This amendment is really based on the capital value of the fair rent fixed in the Bill, and so what applies to the Bill should equally apply to the amendment now proposed. I therefore say that if the amendment is expropriating, the Bill also is expropriating.

[Mr. K. Koti Reddi]

[1st October 1929.]

"With regard to the next point about litigation, it has been said that there is nothing to be said in favour of this amendment. There is however one thing in its favour and that is that there will not be perpetual litigation if this amendment is not accepted; there may be litigation and that only once, viz., when the fair rent is to be estimated. Thereafter there is not likely to be any litigation at all; whereas under the provisions of the Bill as it is, there is bound to be perpetual litigation in regard to the various clauses. So, if there is to be litigation under this amendment, it will be only once and not perpetually as in the case of the Bill as it is.

"Then, Sir, it is no doubt true that it is the aim of all modern legislation to see that the peasant, the actual cultivator takes a keen interest in the land which he cultivates, and that can only be achieved if a serious attempt is made to see that the actual cultivator is given complete ownership of the land.

4-15 p.m. "Sir, I apprehend that if once such a thing is allowed in Malabar, it should also be extended to the East Coast also, and I think we must be prepared for such a situation. There is, I understand, an attempt being made to see that the cultivators are given proprietary interests in the field which they cultivate and the amendment does not go to the extent that some hon. Members would like. All that the amendment says is to pay the market value of the holding and so long as the tenant is prepared to pay the market value, why not give him the proprietorship. So far as the tenant classes are concerned, I do not see that they are worse off under the Bill.

"Then, my hon. Friend from Ganjam said that we are now trying to introduce some old theories which have been tried and found wanting." (A voice from the Opposition: 'No, that is not what he said.')

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"There are two hon. Members from Ganjam."

Mr. K. KOTI REDDI:—"I refer to my hon. Friend, Sir Patro. My reading of history may be different, but all the attempts that are now being made in Ireland and in some continental countries are for dividing the lands and to see that the land is not enjoyed by a few people alone.

"Another objection that has been pointed out against this amendment is that the tenant is made to pay rent for 40 years; and I believe, by this they will certainly be in a better position than the position in which they are now, namely, that the tenant is made to pay fair rent perpetually for ever.

"The other objection brought forward against this amendment is that the tenant is not allowed to purchase the land. It is probably more serious. I think, in Western countries, it is the State that has really an interest and that is the idea underlying these land purchases and in addition to this there are associations or co-operative societies to help the tenants in the matter of purchase. As the hon. Mover has pointed out that there may be difficulty in obtaining the consent of the Government of India as they have financial interests in these things, if the Government is really agreeable to the position, they might bring in suitable amendments to take up the whole responsibility on themselves; this House would not be against it. And, if the Government is not prepared to take up that responsibility, I do not see any reason why the responsibility that is sought to be shouldered by the tenants concerned, should not be taken by them. Why, there is always the land and there is the amount that has to be paid under the bond. I should think that is more than enough. So, I contend that the position under this amendment will certainly be much better for the tenant than the position under the Bill. After all if the tenant thinks that his position under this amendment is much better, he can certainly come under it and purchase the land.

1st October 1929]

[Mr. K. Koti Reddi]

"As I already suggested, it would have been much better if this were moved as a proviso, so that the tenant may have occupancy rights and may also have the option of purchase under this amendment. I think the House will agree to such a proviso being introduced in substitution of this clause. Apart from that, and even if such a thing is not agreeable, I believe the substitution of this amendment would certainly be better in the interests of the tenants. The representatives of the janmis are themselves agreeable to this and so there would not be any hardship on the part of the janmis concerned. So, the only class that is likely to be affected by this amendment is the kanamdars and since the kanamdars have got their interest in the kanam paid by the bond, although they need not have the satisfaction of owning the land, except the cultivating kanamdars, I do not think it would be considered as a real hardship, seeing that for centuries and for decades, their position under the Malabar law is not as owners of land."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"Sir, I would support this amendment only on principle . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"We are going to vote on the amendment and not on the principle."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"If it is the wish of the House that it should be brought on in a proper place, not as a substitution of sections 10 to 15, but as an additional clause or as an alternative clause, I would bring it under the chapter relating to kudiyruppus. In fact I am sending in an amendment to that effect . . ."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"Having spent so much time, may I mention to the hon. Member that I cannot allow the bringing of it in another proper place as he thinks fit."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA:—"I would accept the principle and make the necessary amendments as to drafting, because it allows much room for improvement in drafting. After all, what is the object of this amendment? It is to bring it into line with what is being followed in the continent and what has been done in Ireland. I do not agree with the hon. Sir Patro that this sort of system had been tried on the continent and was given up. In the year 1926, they brought forward a legislation in England which is just the same as this amendment of my hon. Friend Mr. Arogyaswami Mudali. That enactment is called the Small Holding Allotment Act of 1926 and in it there is a section which provides for the purchase of land by the County Councils and granting it and selling it on hire-purchase system to persons who wish to own lands and recovering the amount by means of an annuity in so many years. There, the rent is paid plus the annuity for the purchase of the land spread over a period of 40 or 60 years. The annuity covers the value of the land and the rent ceases to exist at the end of the 40 or 60 years, so that the land becomes the property of the tenant. Now, there has been a radical change and a revolution in this system in Ireland, though matters differ a great deal from the system prevalent in Malabar. An attempt is being made in England to abolish all the systems of tenancy and to convert that into a land-owning system. The Englishmen were not once agreeable to the principle of peasant proprietorship and so they had done away with that system and substituted the tenancy system. Mr. Parnell found it very difficult to make the Englishmen accept the principle of land purchase system and change the whole system of land tenure in Ireland until they went into regular obstructive tactics in Parliament

[Mr. J. A. Saldanha]

[1st October 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I hope the hon. Member will not resort to such tactics on this Bill."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" After a good deal of tactics on the mere question of grasping the principle, the Conservative Government themselves had the good fortune to bring in a Bill for the land purchase system. There the Government raised a big loan and purchased the land. I entirely disagree with my hon. Friend Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar when he says that there is anything confiscatory"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" For that the hon. Member has to obtain the sanction of the Governor under 80-C."

* Mr. J. A. SALDANHA :—" There is no such thing as confiscatory legislation at all here. I prefer that the Collector passes the bond on behalf of the Government. That will of course be the cash value. If that is substituted, the landlords will cease to exist and they will cease to exist like the Irish landlords and the janmis here will cease to be landlords."

" Now, I would say that when this system which has been followed in Europe with success, why should it not be introduced here also. I do not know from where my hon. Friend Sir Patro got the idea that it was found wanting. I hope that my friends the British officials in India will understand the value of the system. They have been trying to perpetuate this system of which they are very fond, because they have got the landlords to rule over and domineer over a large number of tenants. That is the favourite device of the British Government here to divide and rule and to have a sort of conflict between the landlord and the tenant. That system must cease to exist. I hope the British officials will see their way to do away with the tenant system. If they do not do that, I hope we shall see our way and our Friends like Mr. Satyamurti—I am sorry he is not here now—will see the necessity of changing the system into peasant proprietorship as rapidly as possible. If there is to be an economic development of India, it must be by means of peasant proprietorship. The Agricultural department will find it useful because to a greater extent there is always conflict between the landlord and the tenant. Because when you go and ask the tenant, he is not anxious to introduce ordinary changes, for he knows if he improves the land, the landlord will pounce upon him. I hope therefore that, even at the cost of some delay at least, this amendment will be given effect to and brought under a chapter in its proper place by the Government. The amendment states that 'any cultivating tenant may apply to the Collector to have their holding purchased from him, etc.' Just in the case of kudiiruppus where the Government have introduced the idea of enabling the tenant to purchase the kudiiruppus, in this case also, I hope the Government would accept the amendment. The Government have adopted the principle already to some extent and I hope the Government will consider this and bring this as an alternative under another chapter or at least will promise to bring necessary legislation with the least possible delay. I think this is necessary in the interests of the agricultural and economic development of India and her happiness. I hope that Government in order to establish better relationship between the landlord and the tenant will at least hold out a promise to support this idea at an early date. With these words, I support the amendment of course, subject to the conditions I have mentioned."

[Mr. J. A. Saldanha]

* Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI :—" Mr. President, Sir, I feel extremely diffident to speak on a question concerning tenancy legislation, much more so being a man who has practically nothing to do with the land question. I still feel that I could not avoid taking part in the Malabar Tenancy legislation." 4-30 p.m.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is why Members who do not belong to Malabar are catching the eye of the President." (Laughter.)

Mr. SAMI VENKATACHALAM CHETTI :—" I don't think I shall be catching your eye later on. Following the discussion in the House on the amendments I cannot help feeling that this Bill is a result of many compromises. But that compromise does not seem to extend so far as the question of the interests of the cultivating tenants is concerned. The compromise seems to be between the jaumi and the kanamdar. The reason for this grave omission, so far as the interest of the cultivating tenant is concerned, is obvious. I am told the cultivating tenant is an illiterate and dumb man. He has no organization to put forth his grievances which are only too many, and when on the other hand the kanamdar or the janmi is to speak in the name of the verumpattamdar it is only to give a colour of sympathy to the tenant while all the time he would be putting forth his own case. (Mr. K. R. Karant : 'Hear, hear.') That is why I am not surprised to see that the kanamdar representatives who are in this House are not enthusiastic over the amendment moved by my hon. Friend, Diwan Bahadur R. N. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar. Sir, I am really attracted by the excellent arrangement and solution of the tenancy problem as couched in the amendment of Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar. While everyone who had to speak on this occasion had a good word to say in so far as the principle underlying the amendment is concerned, they did not see their way to accept the wording. That only betrays that the representatives in this House are not able to appreciate the real grievances of the cultivating tenants and are not in a mood to solve the difficulties pertaining to the land tenancy policy in Malabar. What they should see if they are really serious and sincere is they should see that there is an end to this trouble. The question is not to see that the Malabar Tenancy Bill is put on the statute book but to see that the difficulties under which the cultivating tenant is suffering are solved. Judged from the bent of mind of the members of the Select Committee, I see they are anxious to see that their labours fructify by placing this legislation on the statute book. That is exactly what has been troubling my Friend, Mr. Satyamurti, who is very zealous of the labours of the Select Committee. The idea contained in this amendment, though new so far as this House is concerned, does not appear to be new to other countries. As a matter of fact, this seems to me to be the principle upon which the land tenure policy of other countries are settled to the satisfaction of every one concerned. I am not surprised that this House is taken aback by the novelty of this idea. Evidently we are not serious to tackle this question. Therefore it is that we are satisfied with mere compromises proposed by this side and that side of the House. If the janmi comes forward with a supposed grievance we immediately say that his grievance must be redressed. If, on the next day, the kanamdar raises a fissiparous cry, then we at once say, 'well, you have this plum'. In the fight of interests between the janmi and the kanamdar, I am afraid the cultivating tenant is going to the wall. (Mr. K. Krishnan: 'Hear, hear.') I am glad that Mr. K. Krishnan is approving of my sentiment and I hope his approval will sustain him to voting in favour of this motion. (Laughter.) My hon. Friend, Mr. Satyamurti, with whom I rarely differ in public (laughter) said that this Bill threatened the very structure of this Bill. I think it is more good to threaten the structure of the Bill than to threaten the structure of the society of Malabar. He was anxious that we must get through the Bill. Well, that is a dangerous proposition. I realize that this Bill contains certain dangerous provisions and it does not give satisfaction to some persons. It seems to me that we should rather go without a Bill than go with a Bill of this sort. Then my friends who had spoken against these amendments did not question the propriety of the principle contained in this amendment. If so, why should they stand in the way of this amendment being carried? My hon. Friend, Mr. Muniswami Nayudu, has no doubt thrown out a very constructive suggestion, that in addition to the arrangement already contained in the Bill, we may make this an additional provision so that such of those cultivating tenants who want to take advantage of the provision may take. Sir, if you allow, and if the House allows, that suggestion may be effected by an amendment. Other friends have spoken 'this is no doubt a very good principle, why don't you bring a Bill and make it applicable to the whole Presidency?' If they are enamoured of this principle, I should like to say that they might try this principle in Malabar, and then extend it to the Presidency after seeing how the experiment works. (Mr. K. R. Karant: 'It is no experiment.') In one sense it is not an experiment in as much as it has already been tried in other countries. My justification for trying this experiment is that we are recasting Malabar Tenancy Legislation, why not introduce this also and see how it works. There is one argument which has got the plausibility of justification, namely, that we see around us that the janmi representatives are supporting this. There must evidently be something in this which makes the janmi representatives support this. I undoubtedly agree that there is something. They are no doubt getting compensation for the land they are asked to quit. It may be a delightful thing for proprietors outside Malabar to sacrifice the janmi on this expropriation, but when this question is extended to the other parts of the Presidency then we will feel the sting of it and it is necessary that this sting be made as least harmful as possible by making the landed proprietor receive the cash value of the land he is asked to part with. Again, this principle is not a new thing in this country. We have got co-operative societies helping a particular class of servants. The principle is that the land becomes the property of the tenant with the liability of paying equated payments on the security of some bank or Government. Indeed one of the objects of the land mortgage banks is to help the small intending proprietor to purchase the land and stand security for that land. Even in this case it is the same thing. The objection has been raised that in other countries where this principle has been introduced it was the Government who stood surety for the proprietor who has been asked to part with the land, and here there is no chance of the Government standing surety, and therefore it ought to be rejected. It is no doubt true that the Government are not made a party in this matter. But that is only a technical difficulty in our way. As a matter of fact, in the original notice given by Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar he made Government a party to this system of payments. On account of the section 80 (c) he has altered the wording of the resolution, but that does not remove the security the janmi has on the land. The bond is redeemable only after full payment. So long as that is not done, the janmi retains proprietary right on the land; and again nothing prevents the Government from liberalizing its policy and stepping in, in the interests of the agriculturists. I find that in the report of the Royal Commission on Agriculture there are one or two sentences which point out that they recommend that Government might help the agriculturists in the matter of purchase. Sir, I consider this principle is a just principle. I consider this will remove the grievances under which the cultivator is suffering from. Well, this will pave the way for the introduction of this principle in other parts of the Presidency. It will increase the interest of the cultivating tenant in his land. In the words of Dr. V. K. John, who had been the inspirer of this amendment, I should like to state here the advantages which the tenant will derive under this system.

[Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetti] [1st October 1929]

1st October 1929] [Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetti]

"This is what he says:—

"Occupying ownership assures him the full fruits of his toil. He need no more be reluctant to sink his capital in the venture of improving the soil. It is most curious why the cultivating farmers do not agitate for the annuity system. The truth is that they are neither educated nor organized. There is no doubt that they will wholeheartedly accept the scheme of occupying ownership if only it is put to them. Nobody except agents of janmis could complain that the money spent on collection agencies, litigation, etc., is saved to find the amount for the annuity. And the scheme has one great advantage over occupying tenancy. In occupying tenancy there is an inevitable tendency to multiply intermediaries. The tenant who gets fixity of tenure sublets and the sub-lessee after a time does the same until at last some poor man is rack-rented etc."

"Sir, I will only close my remarks with this observation. My Friend the hon. Member for the University said that the social concord that is expected to come after the passing of this legislation will be disturbed by these amendments. I should consider that nothing can improve the social concord in that part of the province better than the system now adumbrated in these amendments."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Mr. President, Sir, I appreciate very much the admirable sentiments and the good intentions with which my hon. Friend, Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar, has been actuated in bringing forward this proposal. But I fear, Sir, that at this stage it is quite impossible for the Government to accept these amendments. My hon. Friend Mr. Biswanath Das stated that this proposal which is now made to this House should have been made before the Select Committee. And may I submit, Sir, if it would have been preferable that it should have been submitted to the Baghavayya Committee for their consideration and not at so late a stage as that of the Select Committee."

"I cannot admit that because a system of land purchase by tenants is in force in other countries, the scheme now put forward should be introduced in Malabar. I do not suppose there is any country in which such legislation has been reduced to one sheet of paper, as is proposed now. Usually such Acts must be composed of several sections. I do not wish to repeat the criticisms of the scheme made by various previous speakers. I would only add to the criticism which has been made that this section would throw upon the Collector considerable duties and responsibilities, and it is impossible for the Government to accept this proposal without further investigation. Assuming that the cultivating tenants take advantage of this provision in large numbers, the Collector will have to decide hundreds and perhaps thousands of cases which would be brought before him by tenants against janmis and kanamdars and other intermediaries. And he will have to try all these cases and award compensation in each case. And then he will have to deal with the bonds which each of these persons would execute and for a period of 40 years he will be responsible for the investment of those bonds; I am not sure what will happen if unfortunately those investments lose in value before the bonds materialize.

[Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell]

[1st October 1929]

"Sir, the hon. Mover of this amendment stated that the Government Bill would be disastrous to Malabar and that it is without precedent. Well, Sir, can the hon. Member find me a precedent in any other country for tenures such as those which exist in Malabar, kanam tenures, kuzhikanam tenures, the tenures of cultivating verumpattamdars and so on? I do not think, Sir, we should slavishly follow in Malabar precedents derived from places where other tenures are in force. We must take into consideration the actual circumstances that exist in Malabar. That is a main principle that was borne in mind by the framers in this Bill. Another principle has been that we should as far as possible not encourage litigation. And, Sir, I would like to point out that this provision now proposed will necessitate litigation if the cultivating tenant is to have any advantage from it. He will have to apply to the Collector and when he has applied and obtained the order of the Collector, we may assume that in almost every case the janmi and kanamdars and other intermediaries will proceed to appeal to the civil courts. And I doubt very much whether the tenant unless he is a wealthy man will be really able to take advantage of the provision that is now proposed. By the substitution of this clause for the existing clauses 10 to 15 of the Bill, the cultivating tenant will have no advantage at all. They would be deprived of the advantages which it is proposed to give them under the Government Bill as amended by the Select Committee. For these reasons, Sir, I regret I am unable to accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and declared negatived. Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan demanded a poll which was taken and the House divided thus:

The amendment was negatived.

Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB:—"Mr. President, I move the following amendment:—

'For the existing clause 10 substitute the following:—

"10 (1) (a) Any cultivating verumpattamdar may apply to the court for a certificate of fixity of tenure.

(b) If a janmi or any intermediary files a suit for eviction against any cultivating verumpattamdar on the ground that the period of the lease to the defendant has expired, or that the defendant is only a tenant-at-will, the defendant shall be entitled to apply to the court for a certificate of fixity of tenure, if he has not previously made an application under clause (a) or if such application has been dismissed and the suit for eviction shall abide and follow the result of such application.

(2) Any contract whether made before or after the commencement of this Act, by which a cultivating verumpattamdar is, for any reason, precluded from applying under sub-section (1) shall, to that extent, be void and unenforceable."

"Sir, this amendment is only to substitute what the Government have previously introduced. The Select Committee has given immediate fixity to all verumpattamdars. The verumpattamdars of Malabar are really rack-rented. Since the agitation began, since the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar introduced his Bill, there have been continuous evictions and redemptions of kanamdars and rack-renting of verumpattamdars has been actually going on in Malabar since then. The draft Bill contained these provisions. But the Select Committee changed them and gave fixity to the cultivators without taking into consideration the rack-renting that is going on in

[Mr. K. Uppi Sahib]

[1st October 1929]

Malabar. The actual cultivators, the poor men of the soil, are now stuck to the soil and at the same time you want them to furnish security and hammer them further down by means of this clause for summary procedure. All these things have been done behind his back. Practically speaking, there was nobody, and I am afraid except one or two here, there is nobody to represent these dumb millions of Malabar. They do not know what we are doing here, and the result will be very disastrous to them. These poor people who are toiling day and night in the fields are now stuck to the soil and will have to pay this highest rent for the coming twelve years. I ask why option is given to the kanamdar, to the kuzhi-kanamdar, and to the customary verumpattamdar, and why these poor people toiling day and night and in the drenching rain of Malabar are fixed to the soil and are asked to pay the highest rent, this rack-rent, without even having anything to eat. Now, at least, the janmis and their immediate landlords have some compassion for them. They are their tenants. They have got that feeling at least. Hereafter the janmis, and the immediate landlords will not have any reason to be compassionate to these people."

The House then adjourned to meet again at 11 a.m. on Thursday the 3rd October 1929.

APPENDIX I.

[Vide answer to question No. 672 asked by Mr. K. Koti Reddi at the meeting of the Legislative Council held on the 1st October 1929, page 511 supra.]

Action taken on the recommendations of the Ceded Districts Irrigation Committee.

I. Existing Irrigation Works.

(a) Larger maintenance grant for minor irrigation works.—Special Tank Restoration Scheme divisions have been constituted for the execution and investigation of repairs to tanks and channels and larger amounts will be spent in future on this work.

(b) Kudimaramat—Spring channels.—The Government have issued orders that, in cases where owing to long continued neglect for many years past during which period the revenue officers have omitted to enforce the work of repair by customary labour, and where the repair involves considerable labour and expense, the Government will be prepared to consider on the merits of each case whether any contribution should be made from Public Works Department or Minor Irrigation funds towards the cost of the work. The Government have also decided that exceptional works rendered necessary by changes in the régime of rivers cannot, strictly speaking, be regarded as kudimaramat works.

(c) Berm cutting.—The Committee recommended that the cutting of berms of channels should be carried out at the expense of the Government and by Government agency. The Government considered that before accepting the recommendation of the Committee in toto a detailed examination and trial in respect of some important channels should be made. Estimates relating to three channels in the Cuddapah district (where alone any difficulty in connexion with this work was reported to exist), were accordingly sanctioned in October 1928 and the Board of Revenue has been asked to report the result of the experiment at the end of two years.

(d) Major Irrigation Works—(i) Tanks.—Increasing the F.T.L. of tanks, improving supply channels or cutting new ones, now come within the scope of the duties of Tank Restoration Scheme parties and they will take the necessary steps in the matter.

(ii) Kurnool-Cuddapah Canal.—In 1927, the Cuddapah section of the canal was transferred to the charge of the Executive Engineer, Kurnool division. Action on the other recommendations in regard to the canal fall within the normal duties of the Public Works Department.

(iii) Tungabhadra channels.—Improvements to the anicuts across the Tungabhadra channels also fall within the normal activities of the Public Works Department and any suggestions for the improvement of the anicuts that may be put forward by the local officers will receive due consideration. So far, no such suggestion has been rejected.

(iv) Abandoned tanks.—The consideration of the restoration of abandoned tanks also comes within the scope of Tank Restoration Scheme parties newly constituted.

(v) Tank Restoration Scheme Works.—There were originally two subdivisions in the Madras Circle—one for the Ceded districts and the other for the Chingleput district. There is now one division with three subdivisions.

[1st October 1929]

(e) Irrigation by pumping—(i) Loans.—Under the existing rules, the maximum period of repayment in the case of loans for wells is 30 years. The rate of interest has been reduced from $7\frac{1}{4}$ per cent to $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent per annum in the case of all advances to cultivators with effect from 1st April 1929.

(ii) Pumping with electrical appliances.—After a careful consideration of the question, the Government have come to the conclusion that development of irrigation by pumping should for the present be left to private enterprise, and that the State may best assist the ryots by undertaking the preliminary survey of irrigational possibilities and indicating sites for sinking wells or installing mechanical or electrical appliances. A preliminary survey of sub-soil water-supply in fourteen selected villages in the Bellary firka is now being conducted by the District Engineering branch of the Industries Department. The Government expect to receive a report on the results of the survey from the Director of Industries shortly. The question of a survey of underground water supplies on a large scale will then be considered. The Government have also sanctioned a scheme for five years from August 1928 in the Ceded districts and in two taluks of the Chittoor district, under which no water-rate will be charged for water drawn by pumping for five years, half the charge for the next two years and the full charge thereafter.

II. New Works.

A.—Minor schemes—(1) Schemes already investigated—(i) Thokapalli project.—As it was reported that the proposed reservoir would submerge good land while the land proposed to be irrigated was poor, the Chief Engineer (Irrigation) has been asked to report on the matter and to consider whether it would be preferable to construct a small reservoir, which would not submerge good wet lands.

(ii) Dorigallu project.—This project was abandoned in 1909 as it did not satisfy the conditions of a productive, protective or famine relief work.

(iii) Pullampet project.—From an examination of the gauge readings, the Chief Engineer reported that the surplus water available for storage after meeting the requirements lower down was insufficient to warrant any consideration of the project. The Government directed that the project should be abandoned.

(iv) Velligallu project (otherwise known as Papaghni reservoir project).—Gaugings are being continued.

(v) Kanchalamma tank project.—The investigation is expected to be completed shortly.

(2) Schemes not investigated yet—(i) Upper Penner project.—This is under investigation.

(ii) Utilization of the Gundala and Pullangi rivers in Rajampet taluk.—This has not been done, as it is apprehended that the storage of waters in the upper reaches of the rivers might have a serious effect on the existing irrigation under the spring channels lower down.

(iii) Reservoirs in Cumbum and Markapur taluks on the tributaries of the Gundlakamma—(a) Duvvaleru.—The question of the amount of water available has been examined by the Chief Engineer and a preliminary report on a project consisting of an anicut across the stream, a head sluice, and a channel designed to carry 100 cusecs is awaited.

[1st October 1929]

(b) Kandleru.—A reservoir across the river is not under consideration but an anicut across the river to give an increased supply to Dondapad and other tanks in Vinukonda taluk of Guntur district is under investigation. Gauge readings are being taken from June 1929.

(iv) Hagari reservoir or anicut.—A scheme for constructing an anicut across the Hagari to supply tanks along the margin of the river has been investigated. Plans and estimates are awaited.

(v) & (vi) Anicuts across the Chikka Hagari.—A scheme for the construction of anicuts across the Chikka Hagari river to divert water to the Chintrapalli, Belahal, Arsikeri, Bheemanakeri, Arkasamudram and Narayanadevarakeri tanks in the Hadagalli taluk is being investigated. Plans and estimates are awaited.

B.—Major schemes—Tungabhadra-Kistna project.—This is under investigation by a special division. A Geologist is to inspect and report on the suitability of the site at Timmalapuram shortly.

8. Dr. R. Viswanathan, B.A., M.B.B.S.

waited on the hon. the Minister for Public Health on Monday the 27th May 1929 at 2-30 p.m. at the Secretariat Buildings, Ootacamund. Surgeon-General J. W. D. Megaw, C.I.E., V.H.S., I.M.S., and Mr. S. Ranganathan, I.C.S., Deputy Secretary, Local Self-Government, were also present. The Minister gave a very patient and sympathetic hearing to the various representations made by the deputation which lasted for about two hours. The memorandum which had already been presented to the Surgeon-General on the 5th of March last and had received a very favourable consideration at his hands dwelt on the various points referring to recruitment to specialist, teaching and other appointments and to study leave and deputation. The Minister was pleased to make detailed enquiries regarding the different grievances which the members of the Provincial Medical Service laboured under with a view to the possible ways of remedying the same without detriment to the interests of medical education and medical relief. To the following points which were urged by the deputation the Minister and the Surgeon-General promised to give their sympathetic consideration:—

1. (a) Whenever professorial and specialist appointments are contemplated by Government, attempts should be made to notify them to the members of the Provincial Medical Service to enable intending applicants to qualify themselves for the same.

(b) For all higher appointments in the teaching and specialist cadres the minimum qualifications and the nature of the training required to hold each of them should be definitely prescribed by the Surgeon-General at an early date to facilitate the acquiring of such qualifications or training by the members of the Provincial Medical Service.

(c) In considering the claims of Provincial Medical Service officers and the work done by them in the foreign institutions where they may be trained, the maximum period of two years of study leave granted by Government to these officers will be considered to be sufficient for qualifying them to the higher posts and the longer period of training of outside applicants in their own country will not weigh against the local applicants of the Provincial Medical Service.

2. In making higher appointments to the specialist and teaching cadres, if qualified persons are obtainable from the members of the Provincial Medical Service, they will have preference over outside applicants, due consideration being paid also to the seniority of such qualified members of the service.

3. The formation of teaching cadres is approved.

4. (a) Only when exigencies of service arise owing to want of qualified men for an appointment which must be immediately filled up, such a post will be temporarily filled up by recruiting in the open market by advertisement but it shall be for a contract period not exceeding three to five years to enable selected service members to qualify themselves in the meanwhile.

(b) If at expiry of such short term contracts Provincial Medical Service officer with the required qualifications is available, the appointment will be given to him.

[1st October 1929]

5. (a) Increase in the number of officers who will be granted deputation or study leave annually will receive the sympathetic consideration of Government.

(b) In granting study leave the question of seniority will be taken into consideration, provided the officer is likely to serve the department for about ten years after return from the leave.

6. The request that the recruitment of professors shall be made as a rule from amongst the Assistant Professors, who have had teaching experience and who have shown special aptitude was acceded to, provided they possess the prescribed minimum qualifications.

7. In all cases of open recruitment the selection shall be made by a properly constituted Public Services Commission for Madras.

G.O. Mis. No. 1653, P.H., dated 3rd July 1929.

READ—the following paper:—

From the Surgeon-General, No. 65/Est., dated 25th March 1929.

Order—Ms. No. 1653, P.H., dated 3rd July 1929.

A copy of the proceedings of the deputation of officers of the Madras Medical Service which waited on the Hon'ble the Minister for Public Health on the 27th May 1929 is communicated to the Surgeon-General with the following remarks:—

(1) Paragraph 1 (a) of proceedings—Early notification of special appointments in contemplation.

Paragraphs 5 (a) and 5 (b)—Increase in the number of officers to be granted study leave and the principles on which study leave should be granted.

The requests contained in the above paragraphs will be complied with as far as practicable.

(2) Paragraph 3—Formation of teaching cadres and Paragraph 7—Recruitment by a Public Services Commission.

These two questions are under the separate consideration of the Government.

(3) Paragraph 1 (b)—Prescription of minimum qualifications.
Paragraph 1 (c)—Maximum period of training in foreign countries required of Provincial Service Officers.

Paragraph 2 and paragraph 4 (b)—Service men to be preferred to outsiders.

Paragraph 4 (a)—Special recruitment in the open market to be on short-term contracts.

Paragraph 6—Recruitment of Professors to be made from amongst the Assistant Professors.

A final decision on these points will be deferred until the Government have received and considered the report of the Committee on Medical Education.

(By order of the Government, Ministry of Public Health)

HILTON BROWN,
Secretary to Government.

To the Surgeon-General (with copy of the proceedings).

DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

[SUBJECT.—Organization of a Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank.]

In 1925, the Government approved the organization of land mortgage banks on a co-operative basis as an experimental measure in select localities in the Presidency. The primary object of the banks was the relief of agricultural indebtedness, especially of small landholders, by providing loans for the redemption of mortgages on agricultural land and the discharge of prior debts not secured by mortgages but the improvement of land and of methods of cultivation would also be within their scope. The banks were to obtain money from share capital, deposits and principally debentures. Each bank was to have a working capital of Rs. 1 lakh and as, at the outset, the banks would have had to depend largely on debentures issued on the security of land of the members and it was expected that the debentures might not be fully taken up by the public, the Government undertook to take up debentures to the extent of Rs. 50,000 in each bank provided that the public first took up the other Rs. 50,000.

There are about 20 land mortgage banks now in existence. Of these, only five have floated debentures and can be said to have got into working order. The chief difficulty experienced has been in selling debentures locally in spite of promises. The question of the slow progress in the floatation of debentures was discussed by the Registrar in November 1927 at a meeting with the representatives of the existing banks. It was agreed that in view of the impossibility of getting adequate funds by offering debentures even at 7 per cent, a central land mortgage bank should be formed at Madras with an influential directorate to float debentures on the assets transferred by the primary land mortgage banks and to finance the latter out of the proceeds of such debentures. The Registrar submitted necessary proposals. The details of the scheme were discussed on two occasions by the hon. the Minister for Development with prominent co-operators. The minutes of the later Conference which met in June last are appended to this note.

The Registrar states that the formation of a Central Agency alone may not attract debentures from the general public to a large extent unless it is backed up by Government. He reports that the representatives of the existing banks were of opinion that Government should be requested preferably to guarantee interest on all debentures issued during the first five years for the full period of such debentures or in the alternative to take up debentures at least up to 50 per cent of the requirements. The Ninth Conference of Registrars which met in Bombay in 1926 recognized that in the earlier stages, a certain measure of assistance from Government would be required and were of opinion that a guarantee of interest by Government for a certain period was of the highest importance. The Townsend Committee on

[1st October 1929]

Co-operation have recommended that interest on the debentures issued for the first five years should be guaranteed by Government. The Royal Commission on Agriculture also recommend that this form of aid should be adopted as the best means of encouraging the investment of long term money in land mortgage banks and are of opinion that it is extremely unlikely that the guarantee of interest will ever involve Government in loss. It is proposed that Government may guarantee interest not exceeding 6 per cent per annum for a period of 25 years on Rs. 50 lakhs in all to be raised by the central land mortgage bank within a period of five years.

It is also proposed to appoint two Deputy Registrars on Rs. 300 per mensem, each for a period of three years to inspect primary land mortgage banks on behalf the central land mortgage bank and the trustee, and ten officers of the grade of Sub-Deputy Registrar or Deputy Tahsildar on Rs. 150 per mensem, each for a like period to work under the primary land mortgage banks in connexion with the grant of loans, investigation of titles, valuation of properties, etc. Necessary provision on this account has been included in the budget of 1929-30 under the head '34. c. Agriculture—Co-operative credit—ii. Deputy and Assistant Registrars'.

Appendix

Minutes of the Conference in connexion with the Central Land Mortgage Bank held on 8th June 1929 at the Secretariat, Stonehouse Hill, Ootacamund.

The following were present:—

The hon. the Minister for Development.

Raja Sir Annamalai Chettiyar Avargal.

M.R.Ry. Rao Bahadur T. A. Ramalinga Chettiyar Avargal.

„ C. Gopala Menon Avargal, M.L.C.

The hon. Mr. V. Ramadoss Pantulu Garu.

Mr. H. M. Hood, Registrar of Co-operative Societies.

„ E. C. Wood, Deputy Secretary, Finance Department.

Under Secretary, Development Department.

The note which was an enclosure to Development Memorandum No. 5111-III/27-5, dated 1st September 1928, and which embodied the results arrived at the Conference held on the 10th and the 16th August 1928 was taken up for further consideration. Certain alterations in the conclusions previously arrived at were suggested and accepted. The note embodying the alterations suggested is placed below as appendix to this minute.

2. Raja Sir Annamalai Chettiyar wanted information as to whether there were any specific objects for which alone money would be advanced. The Registrar drew the attention of the members to page 158 of the Co-operative Manual where the objects for which alone loans could be given are explained.

3. It was then decided that draft by-law No. 11 of the draft by-law relating to Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank, Ltd., sent as an enclosure to the Registrar's letter to the Secretary to Government, Development Department, dated 12th December 1927, No. 4598/27 should be altered as follows: "Every member shall, on admission, pay an entrance fee of Re. 1 per share. Every transferee of a share shall pay a like fee of Re. 1 per share subject to a maximum of Rs. 5 at a time."

4. It was then suggested by the hon. Mr. Ramadoss Pantulu that by-law No. 19 of the Registrar's draft by-law mentioned above should be omitted. The rest of the members of the Conference were against the suggestion and were for retaining it at least so long as the Government guarantee was there.

Appendix.

(1) It was agreed that the central financing agency should be composed of primary land mortgage banks as well as individual shareholders and that the latter should share in the management, but should not be allowed to borrow from the bank.

(2) At the commencement of the authorized share capital, 50 per cent should be reserved for primary banks and 50 per cent for individuals.

(3) The authorized capital of the bank shall be Rs. 10 lakhs and the value of a share shall be Rs. 100. No individual shareholder shall hold more than 100 shares.

(4) It was agreed that there should be one vote for each share.

(5) The strength of the Board of Management should be twelve comprised of five delegates from primary banks, five individual shareholders, the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, one Director nominated by the Registrar subject to the approval of Government.

(6) It was decided to drop the condition that the election of the President of the Board of Management should be subject to the approval of the Government.

(7) It was agreed that the rate of interest on debentures should not exceed 6 per cent, the rate of interest charged on loans to primary banks 7 per cent and the period of debentures twenty-five years.

(8) The working capital of the bank may be fixed tentatively at twenty-five times the share capital and reserve fund.

(9) It was agreed to have a trustee for the bank and that the Registrar shall be the trustee.

(10) It was agreed that the extent to which debentures may be issued should be fixed at 50 per cent of the value of the properties mortgaged.

The other conclusions which were arrived at were—

(1) The area of operation of the proposed central land mortgage bank should extend to the whole Presidency but operations will be restricted to selected districts in the beginning.

(2) It is desirable that debentures should be exempted from the provisions of the Income-tax Act.

(3) The following recommendations of the Townsend Committee were in general agreed to, namely: The by-laws of the bank should provide for the constitution of a sinking fund. A proportion of the debenture redemption money must be fixed for each year: the proportion will naturally depend upon the length of the period and other features of the debentures. The monies so coming in may be invested where a profitable investment on which the bank does not lose is available. We visualize this contingency as not being improbable: if debentures are floated at 5 or 5½ per cent for 20 or 25 years, the chance of gilt-edged securities themselves being obtainable at similar rates is by no means negligible. The bonds of local bodies or other quasi-official corporations which may be certified by the Registrar as safe investments may be available from time to time at the same, if not higher, rates. Failing such investments, if its debentures are available for sale in the open market, the bank may purchase them not above par. If they are not so available, it may repay debenture-holders in some systematized manner. We consider the following to be the best method. Each year the bank should issue six months' notice of the quantity it wishes to redeem. If a sufficient number of debentures is not voluntarily forthcoming for redemption, the debentures up to the required amount may be retired by drawing lots. The bank may offer cash or new bonds up to the value of the bonds so redeemed, but the debenture-holders should have liberty either to accept or refuse the new bonds, and to demand payment in cash.

A by-law to be prepared.

- (4) The bank should have a sinking fund and it should purchase its debentures whenever necessary to prevent depreciation.
- (5) No guarantee of the principal is necessary and it is sufficient if interest is guaranteed during the currency of the loan.
- (6) Debentures should not be issued at a discount.
- (7) Government should bear the establishment charges of running the bank for two years in the beginning.
- (8) Bearer bonds are not suitable.
- (9) Each primary bank should have a separate staff for the valuation of lands, investigation into titles, etc.
- (10) Subsequent mortgages by debtors should be prevented by legislation. But the maximum amount of loan that can be borrowed by an individual to be raised to Rs. 5,000.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR OF MADRAS.

I
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS

Agriculture

Students trained in the Agricultural College, Coimbatore.

* 694 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the number of students who have so far passed out from the Agricultural College at Coimbatore;

(b) how many of these have secured service under Government and how many have taken to their own farming; and

(c) whether the Government have at any time made any enquiry as to why the agricultural graduates rarely set up independent farms?

A.—(a) Four hundred and fifty-four.

(b) The number of persons who secured service under Government is 226.

The number who took to private farming so far as is known is 2.

(c) No.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY:—“Regarding the answer to clause (c) may I know whether the Government propose to make an enquiry regarding this matter?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“Not at present, Sir, because, the Director of Agriculture, during the course of a personal interview, said that the lands owned by those who passed out of the college were not enough for them to set up independent farming.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“As regards the answer to clause (b), has the Government enquired whether these two persons who took to private farming have been successful?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“I think so.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“Are they trying any new methods?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“That I cannot say.”

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—“May I ask why the Government is spending so much, while half the number is going in for Government service?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“At least to help the other half.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—“What is the main purpose and object of this Agricultural College at Coimbatore, whether it is to train persons for Government service or to train independent agriculturists?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“For both.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—“May I know, Sir, whether the large number of students not taking to independent agriculture is due to the kind of material admitted into the institution or to the nature of instruction given there?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“Neither.” (A voice—Both.)

[3rd October 1929]

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“The right of reply is confined only to Members of Government.”

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—“How many sought admission to the Agricultural College so far?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“Notice.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—“In view of the fact that only two of 500 graduates have taken to independent farming, will the Government be pleased to enquire what difficulties there are in the way of their turning to agriculture as a profession and try to find whether the course of instruction requires to be suitably amended, or whether special facilities to set them up as practical farmers should be given to graduates in agriculture so as to enable them to set up as farmers and demonstrate the advantages of scientific agriculture?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“The Government have made enquiries, and they find the course of instruction is quite sufficient.”

Number of admitted and passed students in the Agricultural Middle School, Taliparamba.

* 695 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) when the Agricultural Middle School was started at Taliparamba;

(b) how many students entered the school since it was started; and

(c) how many passed in each year?

A.—(a) In June 1922.

(b) & (c) A statement^a furnishing the necessary information is appended.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“Turning to the Appendix, may I know why the admission was so very small last year and this year?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“All the students that could be admitted into the school were given admission.”

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“May I know the number who applied for admission?”

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR:—“About 20.”

Cost of education in the Agricultural institutions at Coimbatore and Taliparamba.

* 696 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state the cost incurred by the Government for the education of each boy at

(i) the Coimbatore Agricultural College; and

(ii) the Agricultural School at Taliparamba?

A.—(i) Rupees 1,100 per annum approximately.

(ii) Rupees 350 per annum approximately.

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know why the expenditure is so high per student ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Because the expenditure includes the pay of the teaching staff, laboratory expenses, etc. "

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know the cost so allotted for each student ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" Is it the intention of the Government to go on spending at that rate, or are they trying to reduce the expenditure ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" No, we are trying to reduce the expenditure as much as possible. "

Mr. R. NAGAN GOWDA :—" May I know whether this high cost is due to the fact that a very small number of students are admitted into the college ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" A greater number cannot be admitted, because the accommodation and the equipment of the institution are limited. "

Opening of an agricultural school in Northern Circars.

* 697 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether he proposes to open an agricultural school in the Northern Circars; and

(b) if not, why not?

A.—(a) No.

(b) One school was opened at Anakapalle, but had to be closed down for lack of pupils. There is no reason to believe that conditions have changed.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" With reference to the answer to clause (b), that ' there is no reason to believe that conditions have changed ', may I know whether it means conditions at Anakapalle or in the Northern Circars ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" In the Northern Circars area generally. "

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" Has the hon. Minister found out by any means that the conditions still remain the same ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Yes. It was found out by the department. "

Mr. R. NAGAN GOWDA :—" May I know whether Government has made any enquiry to find out whether the teaching in this institution is worthwhile ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" That is what we think. "

Mr. C. OBI REDDI :—" May I know in what year the school at Anakapalle was closed ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Last year. "

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the hon. Minister is contemplating to start a school in any other place in the Telugu districts ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question does not arise. "

Co-operative Societies

Levy of 4 per cent interest on deposits made by local bodies.

* 698 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state with reference to question No. 1769, dated 18th March 1929, regarding the rate of 4 per cent interest fixed by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies on deposits made by local bodies—

(a) whether the matter has been gone into by the hon. the Minister with the Registrar of Co-operative Societies; and

(b) what the result is?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) At the Conference of Central Banks held in April 1929 it was resolved that not more than 4 per cent be offered on the deposits of local bodies fixed for a period of three years and less and $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent on deposits fixed for a period of over three years. The Government have authorized the investment of local and municipal funds in approved Central Banks in fixed deposits for periods not exceeding five years at a time.

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—" May I know whether money was withdrawn from the Central Banks by any local bodies since ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I do not know, Sir. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" May I know the rate of interest on deposits made by others than local bodies ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice, Sir. "

Reduction of the rate of interest on loans to land mortgage banks and building societies.

* 699 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have come to any decision in regard to the question of reducing the rate of interest on their loans to land mortgage banks and building societies;

(b) what the rates are at which moneys are lent to them now; and

(c) at what rate the same is borrowed by the Government?

A.—(a) The matter is still under consideration.

(b) The rate of interest charged on loans advanced in 1928-29 was $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. The rate on loans sanctioned in 1929-30 has not yet been settled.

(c) The rate of interest in 1928-29 was 5 per cent. The rate for the current year has not yet been intimated by the Government of India.

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know why the Government charges $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent more to these banks than the rate at which they themselves borrow ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Because the rate of interest at which the banks can borrow elsewhere is taken into consideration. "

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" In answer to clause (c), it is said Government borrow money at 5 per cent, and according to clause (a) they lend it at $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent ? Why do they make $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent from the poor people ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" That was so last year. For this year, we have not yet decided the rate, but we hope we may reduce it. "

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" Am I to understand that the rate will be something like 5 per cent ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" It may not be 5 per cent but something more, because the Government of India themselves charge this Government 5 per cent. "

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it that the difference goes to the Government for transacting the loans and for the maintenance of the establishment ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Partly. "

Fisheries

Increase in the staff of the Fisheries schools on the West Coast.

* 700 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the strength in some of the schools managed by the Fisheries Department on the West Coast has increased ;

(b) if so, whether additional staff has been sanctioned ; and

(c) whether the District Educational Council, Malabar, has laid down that not more than two classes, the aggregate strength of which is 40 or less, shall be handled by one teacher ?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Additional staff recently asked for by the Director has not been sanctioned as yet.

(c) Yes.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" May I know when the Director asked for additional staff ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Two months ago. "

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" Are the Government aware that the schools are suffering for want of sufficient staff ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Might be so. We will try to take necessary action. "

Industries

Annual grants to the Victoria Jubilee Institute, Bombay.

* 701 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the amount of annual grant made by Government to Victoria Jubilee Institute, Bombay ;

(b) the number of students, if any, in this institute from this province ; and

(c) whether any special facilities are given to such students ?

A.—(a) Rupees 200 per annum in respect of each Government scholar actually admitted to and studying in the institute.

(b) Thirty-four at present inclusive of 16 Government scholars.

(c) The contribution merely secures priority of admission to Government scholars. No 'special facilities' are given to them.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know how many students were sent by Government this year ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" I think four. "

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" Were all the students only from Madras ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Yes. "

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" Why ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Because there were no suitable applicants from other places. "

Mr. G. HABISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" In view of the answer the hon. the Minister has just given, may I know whether he would investigate a scheme for establishing a similar institution in this Presidency ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" We have investigated the matter. We have introduced a course of electrical engineering in the Trades School. We are also trying to have higher electrical engineering courses in the Madras Civil Engineering College, as soon as the new Professor is appointed. "

Annual grants to the Jamshedpur Technical Institute.

* 702 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI : Will the hon. the Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the amount of annual grant made by Government to the Jamshedpur Technical Institute ;

(b) the number of students, if any, studying in this institute from this province ; and

(c) what special facilities, if any, are given to these students ?

A.—(a) Rupees 6,000 per annum.

(b) Six.

(c) The contribution is made for reserving three seats in the institute for Madras students. No special facilities are given to these students.

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" May I know the annual fees collected from each student ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" Notice."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" In answer to clause (a), it is said that Rs. 6,000 is given as a grant to the Jamshedpur Technical Institute. I want to know how much is collected from each student ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" This Government do not collect anything from the students at all. We simply pay a subsidy to the Institute."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" What facilities does the institute give to the students ? "

The hon. Mr. M. R. SETURATNAM AYYAR :—" They pay Rs. 60 a month for each apprentice."

Excise

Location of toddy shops in Tanjore taluk.

* 703 Q.—Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) what is the total number of toddy shops in the Tanjore taluk, Tanjore district; and

(b) how many of these are situated in, or in close proximity to, Kallar villages ?

A.—(a) Eighty.

(b) The Government have called for the information.

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—" In view of the large number of toddy shops in one taluk, may I ask the hon. the Minister whether he could reduce the number ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" The question of the reduction of toddy shops is receiving consideration every year."

Public Health

Prevention of vagrant lepers in the city.

* 704 Q.—Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN : Will the hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to state—

(a) what steps the Government have taken to prevent vagrant lepers begging on the roadside;

(b) what is the accommodation available for vagrant lepers in the Leper Asylum;

(c) whether the Government have any poor homes where the disabled beggars can be lodged and fed; and

(d) whether the Government have opened any work-houses for the poor beggars in the province?

A.—(a) The Government have not adopted any special measure to deal with vagrant lepers begging on the roadside. In the City of Madras begging or applying for alms or exposure of bodily ailment, wounds or sore, in any public street is an offence punishable under section 71 (xxi) of the Madras City Police Act, 1858. It is also punishable in mufassal areas where the Madras Towns Nuisances Act, 1889, is in force.

[3rd October 1929]

(b) It is not understood what leper asylum is referred to by the hon. Member. If the Tirumani Leper Settlement is meant, this is intended to accommodate about 500 lepers.

(c) & (d) The poor and disabled leper beggars who are admitted in the Tirumani Leper Settlement are lodged and fed there. The Government have not opened any poor homes or work houses for beggars but they aid certain institutions in the city as detailed in the annexure.^a

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether Government propose to extend the Lepers Act to this City ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" No idea at present."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know if the Corporation of Madras have applied for funds for establishing a leper asylum in the City ? If so, how was the application disposed of by the Government ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" May I ask the hon. Member when the application was made."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" I should like to know from the hon. Minister whether he has received any application from the Corporation of Madras and how it was disposed of. I cannot furnish him information. I want information."

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I have not seen any application."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether he will consider the application from the Corporation of Madras if it is made in future ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" That is hypothetical."

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" With reference to the table in Appendix II of the answer, what is the actual grant that is being made to the Friend-in-Need Society ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Notice."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Sir, with reference to the answer to clause (b), is it a fact that additional buildings are under construction at the Leper Settlement at Tirumani ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" Yes."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" If it is completed, how many additional lepers will it accommodate ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I think three hundred or more."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" May I know the total number of lepers in this Presidency ? "

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR :—" I cannot say. Notice."

^a Printed as Appendix II on page 676 infra.

[3rd October 1929]

Dr. (Mrs.) S. MUTHULAKSHMI REDDI:—"In answer to clause (a), it is said, 'in the city of Madras begging or applying for alms or exposure of bodily ailment, wounds or sore, in any public street is an offence punishable under section 71 (xxi) of the Madras City Police Act'; may I know from the hon. Minister whether the section is enforced?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The section is there in the Act, and I take it the police will enforce it."

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR:—"If the section is enforced, will the Government be pleased to see that Government bears the charges for the lepers to reach the hospital or an asylum to which they must be escorted to?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"That is a matter which has to be considered when contingency arises."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know from the hon. Minister whether he will direct the police to strictly enforce the section?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Medical opinion is divided on that matter. The hon. Member, Dr. Mallayya, said that leprosy is not contagious."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know whether the hon. Minister is contemplating to make any law for preventing beggary in the streets of the city of Madras?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"There is the law already."

Mr. K. R. KARANT:—"Whatever may be the opinion of Dr. Mallayya, may I ask the hon. Minister whether it is not his intention to see whether the section is properly enforced in the city?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"I referred to the opinion of Dr. Mallayya already. While medical opinion is divided on the point whether leprosy is contagious or not, the Government are not able to take any further action at present."

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I think questions are intended to enable hon. Members to ask for information available with the Government, and in answering questions, the Government can confine themselves to the information available with them. The question should not be of the nature of a resolution."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"May I know whether the hon. Minister is aware that the Government refuse to make provision for extra accommodation in the jails for beggars who are taken and detained there?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"I am not aware of it."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—"Will he enquire into it, Sir?"

11-15 a.m. Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—"May I know whether it is not the opinion of expert medical men that leprosy is contagious?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"Doubt like that seems to have been thrown on it in Dr. Mallayya's speech the other day."

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"Like what?"

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—"I ask for the expert views of medical men available to Government, but the hon. Minister refers to Dr. Mallayya's opinion."

3rd October 1929]

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The Government till now have been under the impression that leprosy of some kinds is contagious."

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU:—"May I know whether the police are unable to enforce the section mentioned here owing to the diseases not being contagious?"

The hon. Mr. S. MUTHIAH MUDALIYAR:—"The section is there. According to the President's ruling I cannot reply on matters of opinion."

Education

Appointment of Mr. Anwaruddin to the Madras Educational Service.

* 705 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether one Mr. Anwaruddin was recently posted to the Madras Educational Service in the Department of Education;

(b) whether he was promoted overlooking the claims of a large number of people who have much longer service to their credit; and

(c) whether he has made enquiries and satisfied himself about the accuracy of Mr. Anwaruddin's statements as to his age, service, etc.?

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) Among the Muhammadan officers in the cadre of School Assistants he was the most senior for promotion to the Madras Educational Service. His work was also well reported on. Among Muhammadan officers in the cadre of Deputy Inspectors there are four officers who are seniors to Mr. Anwaruddin Sahib. Two of these have not passed the L.T. degree examination; while the record of another is reported to be unsatisfactory and the fourth is not considered suitable for the post of Headmaster, Government Madrasa-i-Azam.

(c) Yes.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"With reference to clause (c) of the answer, is it a fact that this officer while as headmaster has given a false statement of date of his entry into the Education Department as 1911 while he actually entered it only in 1919?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"As one holding a political appointment, in matters of this kind one must rely on the heads of departments. It is impossible for anybody to be in possession of the information which the hon. gentleman wants."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR:—"It is not a question of politics or of politicians. It is a question of actual entry in the register—false or inaccurate records—by means of which the man gets into the selection grade, and later on into the Madras Educational Service on the basis of that false or inaccurate entry. Will the hon. the Minister enquire into the matter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—"I have been informed by the Director of Public Instruction that this particular gentleman entered the Subordinate Educational Service in 1911 and I have no facts in my possession to controvert that statement."

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" Will the hon. the Chief Minister be pleased to look into the Civil List prior to 1923 and find out for himself whether his entry into the Education Department was in 1919 only and not in 1911? It is a public record which is easily available to him."

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" In matters of this kind I prefer to be guided by the head of the department."

Sriman BISWANATH DAS Mahasaya :—" May I know whether the hon. the Minister will verify for himself from the public records, as to what the fact is."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question has been answered; the Minister said he would not look into them but would depend on the report of the Director of Public Instruction."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" Now the correctness of that information is questioned, can he not look into the records and find out the true facts?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I will convey the information to the Director of Public Instruction and see what we could do to rectify the matter if it is as mentioned by the hon. Gentleman."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" As regards the extraordinary abilities of this officer as mentioned in clause (b) of the answer, is it a fact that he failed in B.A. five or six times and in L.T. the same number of times as Robert Bruce seven times?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I have not got any calendars of the University of Madras or any information with regard to the number of times this particular gentleman appeared for the examinations of the University of Madras."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" But in view of the importance of the fact that he is a highly paid officer of the Government, will the Minister be pleased to enquire into the matter?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The question of high pay is only a relative term."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether it is not a fact that two of these officers, Periaswami and Abdur . . . who have not passed the L.T. were promoted to the Madras Educational Service?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Notice."

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—" Sir, is it not a fact that if the basis on which this gentleman was taken into the selection grade was a false one other people who were his seniors would suffer in consequence?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I am not in a position to answer this question till I have made the enquiry which I said I would make in reply to a previous question of the hon. Member."

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether the hon. the Minister proposes to promote all the dozen people who are senior to him but for the false entry of age and see that their grievances are redressed?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I am not in a position to deal with that question."

Levy of fees at standard rates in Government colleges.

* 706 Q.—Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Education Department have issued orders that Government colleges should levy fees at standard rates;

(b) whether any exception has been made in the case of the Government College at Anantapur;

(c) whether it is a fact that this levy of high fees was urged by the Principals of aided colleges;

(d) what is the difference between the rates of fees in Government Colleges at Kumbakonam and Palghat and the first-grade aided college at Trichinopoly; and

(e) whether there is any proposal for a further revision of the existing scale of fees in Government schools and colleges?

A.—(a), (b) & (d) The rates of fees leviable in Government Colleges are those laid down in G.Os. No. 960, Education, dated 30th April 1928 and No. 1286, Education, dated 24th June 1929, published on pages 221 and 343 of Part I-B of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 8th May 1928 and 2nd July 1929, respectively. The Government have no information regarding the rates of fees levied in the aided first-grade colleges at Trichinopoly.

(c) The Government are not aware that the levy of enhanced fees has been urged by Principals of aided colleges.

(e) The answer is in the negative.

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—" With reference to the answer to clauses (a), (b) and (d), may I know whether the mufassal Government Colleges, including the College at Anantapur, are for levying the rates of fees laid down in G.Os. Nos. 960 and 1286, Education?"

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I am not acquainted with the working in detail of these orders, but if the hon. Member wants information I shall try to obtain it."

Purchase of site at Vizagapatam for constructing buildings for the Andhra University.

* 707 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether any steps have been taken to purchase sites at Vizagapatam for the buildings of the Andhra University and, if so, what they are;

(b) what is the probable cost of the said sites;

(c) how long it will take to shift the headquarters of the University from Bezwada to Vizagapatam; and

(d) why the headquarters has not yet been shifted from Bezwada?

A.—The question of securing sites for the construction of buildings required for the Andhra University at Vizagapatam is under consideration. The headquarters has not yet been shifted to Vizagapatam pending a decision on the question of accommodation.

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know from the hon. the Minister whether a part of the Collector's office hitherto occupied by the Medical School is not available at present for the location of the University ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I will have to make an enquiry into the matter. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" May I know whether it is not a fact that there was a Sites Committee appointed to go into the question ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" There was a Sites Committee of the Andhra University. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" May I know what was the proposal of that committee? Did they submit any proposals, and if so, what were they ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" They have submitted proposals, they have suggested alternative sites, and the very costliness of the sites recommended by them has made Government ponder over the question, because the funds at our disposal will almost be swallowed up by the purchase of some of the sites recommended by the Sites Committee. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" Is it not a fact that there was not even one member of the committee who was acquainted with the locality, and the committee consisted of members who were opposed to the transfer of the headquarters to Vizagapatam ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" As I mentioned, the Sites Committee was one appointed by the Syndicate of the Andhra University. I am not in a position to state what the individual views of the particular members who sat on this committee were. "

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" In view of the heavy cost of acquiring sites, are the Government reconsidering or examining once more the question of headquarters ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" No, Sir. There are other alternative sites that can be obtained at a reasonable cost where a proper residential university could easily be built. "

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" May I know whether any provision is going to be made in the next budget ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The matter with regard to the grants that ought to be given to the Andhra University is still under correspondence between the Government of Madras and the Syndicate of the Andhra University. I hope the final decision with regard to this matter will be come to before the budget is prepared for 1930-31. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know with reference to the last part of the answer whether an attempt was made to get rented buildings for the time being ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" I believe the Vice-Chancellor of the Andhra University has made attempts to get proper accommodation at Vizagapatam for the location of the University office. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know specifically whether an attempt was made to get buildings for rent for the time being ? "

3rd October 1929]

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" Yes ; several buildings were considered, but the rent asked by persons who owned them were so high that the Vice-Chancellor thought that it would not be within the financial equipment of the Andhra University to take up any of these buildings. "

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—" In view of the disinclination of the Vice-Chancellor to move as evidenced by his correspondence with Government, will the Government entrust this business to the Collector of the district ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The Government have also asked the Public Works Department to try and secure accommodation for the Andhra University. "

Adult education scheme by the Depressed Classes Mission, Mangalore.

* 708 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Depressed Classes Mission, Mangalore, have submitted a scheme of adult education to the Director of Public Instruction ;

(b) whether he (the Minister) has referred to the scheme approvingly in his speeches on various occasions ; and

(c) whether the scheme has been sanctioned for 1929-30 ?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The adult education scheme of the Depressed Classes Mission, Mangalore, has just been submitted to the Government by the Director of Public Instruction and is under consideration.

Adult education scheme by the Devadhar Malabar Reconstruction Trust.

* 709 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether the Government have passed orders on the scheme for adult education submitted by the Devadhar Malabar Reconstruction Trust ?

A.—The scheme was received too late for consideration in connexion with the budget estimate for 1929-30. It will be considered in connexion with the budget estimate for 1930-31.

Differential treatment of night and day schools for purposes of grant.

* 710 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether the Government have issued instructions to the District Educational Councils to treat the night schools for purposes of grant as different from the day schools ?

A.—The answer is in the negative.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" May I know whether the Government are aware that the Malabar District Educational Council has cut down their grants to night schools to 40 per cent ? "

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—" The District Educational Councils have got to work with the amount at their disposal. Very likely, the amount at the disposal of the Malabar District Educational Council was such that they could not give whole grants to all the institutions that came up for grant. "

[3rd October 1929]

Local Boards*Bifurcation of the Chingleput Taluk Board.*

* 711 Q.—Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the hon. the Minister for Local Self-Government assured the President of the Chingleput Taluk Board three months ago that he would suspend the proposal to bifurcate if Mr. Muthuranga Mudaliyar agrees not to stand for re-election at the next election to the Legislative Council?

A.—No such assurance was given.

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR:—“May I know whether the Chingleput Taluk Board President and the Zamindar of Chunampet interviewed the hon. Minister at Octacamund with regard to this matter?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“That is so.”

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR:—“What was the reply the Minister gave?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“I said that the question of bifurcation would be determined by Government as opportunities arise.”

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR:—“Was not such a condition as that mentioned in the question imposed?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“As a matter of fact, the Zamindar seems to have been so enamoured or not enamoured of the hon. Gentleman that he said that if this bifurcation did not take place Mr. Muthuranga Mudaliyar would not stand for the Legislative Council.”

Mr. C. N. MUTHURANGA MUDALIYAR:—“There was a Government Order and also a Gazette Extraordinary to the effect that there would be bifurcation on the 1st September 1926?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“For the simple reason that this question has been under consideration of Government from as far back as 1926.”

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED:—“May I know whether the Ministers are permitted to enter into bargains in connexion with public questions?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“No bargain was entered into.”

Notification of the election of Mr. M. Pallamraju as President of the Godavari District Board.

* 712 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) whether the East Godavari District Board at its meeting held on 15th August elected Mr. M. Pallamraju as the president;

(b) why the same has not been published in the Fort St. George Gazette as yet;

(c) whether the fact of the election was made known to the Government forthwith as required by the rules;

(d) the reason for the delay in notifying the same in the Gazette; and

(e) whether the Government intend to see that the necessary notification about the election of the President, East Godavari District Board, is published in the next issue of the Gazette?

[3rd October 1929]

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) to (e) The notification regarding the election is reported to have been forwarded to Government on the 17th August, but this was not received here. On representations received from Mr. Pallamraju and from certain other members of the district board a copy of the notification was called for. This was received on the 12th September and was published in the Fort St. George Gazette of the 24th September.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“With reference to the answer to (b) to (e), may I know by whom was it forwarded?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“By the Vice-President of the District Board.”

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“Is it a fact that the retiring Vice-President walked away with the notification?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“I am not aware of anything that happened in East Godavari district, being far away here in Madras.”

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—“In view of the fact that the Vice-Chairman has unnecessarily delayed sending the result of election for publication in the Gazette and thereby caused a good deal of inconvenience, will the Government make enquiries and take immediate action?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“The Government have no power to take any action on this matter.”

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN:—“To which party does that gentleman belong?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“I am not aware of the political complexion of the gentleman.”

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—“May I know whether that gentleman was nominated by the Chief Minister?”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN:—“Notice.” (Laughter.)

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO:—“May I know whether there was any issue of the Fort St. George Gazette between the 12th and 24th September?”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“The information is available to the hon. Member.”

Municipalities*Alleged preparation of incorrect voters' lists in municipalities.*

* 713 Q.—Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR: Will the hon. the Minister for Education and Local Self-Government be pleased to state—

(a) the municipalities in the Presidency from which complaints were received by Government that voters' lists were incorrectly prepared by the chairman concerned for the last two years;

(b) whether any enquiries were made; and

(c) what are the steps taken by Government to prevent such occurrences?

[3rd October 1929]

A.—(a) Complete information on the point is not readily available nor can it be collected without an undue expenditure of time and labour. Complaints were, however, received, among others, from the following :—

- | | |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| (1) Anantapur. | (6) Salem. |
| (2) Erode. | (7) Tiruppattur. |
| (3) Gudiyattam. | (8) Tiruvarur. |
| (4) Negapatam. | (9) Trichinopoly. |
| (5) Saidapet. | |

(b) In most of these cases necessary enquiries were made.

(c) In order to assist the Chairman in the proper preparation of the electoral roll Government issued a rule in 1928 requiring the Secretary, Manager or Revenue Officer of the municipality to certify that he had verified the entries in the roll with the demand and other registers and that every person whose name was entered in the roll had paid all the taxes due by him for the preceding year. They have also warned all officers who are entrusted with the duty of certifying to the accuracy of the electoral rolls that they would render themselves liable to prosecution under section 52 (2) of the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920, by remissness in the discharge of that duty.

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—“ As regards clause (b) of the answer, may I know by whom and whether any independent enquiry was made ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ The necessary enquiry was made by the Collector of the district concerned.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—“ May I know how many prosecutions were launched under section 52 (2) of the District Municipalities Act ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I am afraid I have not collected any information. So I must ask for notice.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—“ Will the hon. the Minister be pleased to obtain the information in regard at least to the municipalities mentioned in the answer to (a) ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ As I have said, complete information on this question is not readily available, and it will not be easy to collect such information. I do not think it would be worth while collecting the information in view of the labour involved.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—“ Then what is the remedy for the rate-payers if on these incorrect lists elections are held and desirable people are kept out of such local bodies ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ It is that question which is under consideration, and that is the reason why in the new Bill the question of elections has been left to outside authorities.”

Mr. T. ADINARAYANA CHETTIYAR :—“ With regard to (a), is Tiruvannamalai one of the municipalities from which such complaints have come in large numbers ? ”

The hon. Dr. P. SUBBARAYAN :—“ I cannot specifically say whether Tiruvannamalai is one of the cases. I think from Tiruvannamalai also we have had certain complaints.”

Executive Council

Publication of the Madras Government Business Rules.

* 714 Q.—Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR : Will the hon. Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether copies of the rules made by His Excellency the Governor for the conduct of business with His Executive Council and the Ministers have been published in the Fort St. George Gazette and made available to the Members of the Legislative Council and also incorporated in the “Local Rules and Orders Volume”;

(b) if not, whether the Government have any objection to do so in future;

(c) whether the Madras Government in issuing any publication containing rules, executive or statutory, follow strictly the practice of giving information by foot-notes to the source or authority for each amendment embodied in the modified edition of the rules; and

(d) if not, whether the Government will consider the advisability of issuing instructions to the above effect to the officers entrusted with the editing and publishing of such rules, codes or manuals?

A.—(a) No.

(b) The Government do not consider that the Madras Government Business Rules should be published and incorporated in the Local Rules and Orders. They are intended for official use only.

(c) Foot-notes showing the authority for amendments are given wherever they are found necessary or suitable.

(d) The Government do not find it necessary to issue any instruction in the matter to the officers concerned.

Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR :—“ May I know, with regard to the answer to clause (c), why should not these foot-notes be given invariably, Sir ? ”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—“ They are given whenever the Government think them necessary or suitable.”

Mr. C. S. GOVINDARAJA MUDALIYAR :—“ My question is why foot-notes to all the amendments are not given ? ”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—“ I will have the matter examined again.”

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—“ May I know whether a copy of the Business Rules will be made available in the Council library for the use of the Members ? ”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—“ The decision rests with His Excellency the Governor.”

Diwan Bahadur B. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—“ These rules are made by the Governor under section 45 of the Government of India Act. May I know the reason why Government do not make them available to the public ? ”

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—“ It is for His Excellency the Governor to decide. I do not think questions on this matter can be raised in this House.”

[3rd October 1929]

11-30
a.m.

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—" May I know whether the Government have any objection to advise His Excellency regarding the desirability of publishing these rules ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I am not prepared to advise His Excellency to deviate from the practice followed by his predecessors in this matter. "

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—" May I know why the Government object to publishing these rules and placing them on the table of the House when similar rules made by the Government of India and the Secretary of State have been laid on the table of the House of Commons ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The answer has been given that the publication of these rules is not a concern of the local Government and that it is a concern of His Excellency the Governor. "

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—" It is the concern of the local Government. "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" But the answer given is not to that effect. "

Diwan Bahadur R. N. AROGYASWAMI MUDALIYAR :—" My point is that "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The hon. Member may differ from the answer given. "

Mr. BASHEER AHMED SAYEED :—" May I know whether the hon. Member will examine the question whether this is a concern of the local Government or not ? "

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" It has been answered. "

Economic Condition

Losses sustained by fire in Kokudi village, Udaiyarpalaiyam taluk.

*715 Q.—Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the village of Kokudi, Udaiyarpalaiyam taluk, Trichinopoly district, has been burnt to ashes several times during the last two years ;

(b) whether any enquiry has been held either by the Police or the Revenue officers and whether such enquiries have resulted in the real causes of incendiarism being known and the real offenders being arrested and prosecuted ;

(c) whether petitions have been submitted by the sufferers to the proper authorities praying for relief ;

(d) whether it is a fact that the inhabitants of the village belong to backward and depressed classes ;

(e) whether it is a fact that the people whose houses have been burnt down have applied for loans from Government free of interest for ten years ; and

(f) what relief has been so far afforded and what steps have been taken to effectively check further acts of incendiarism ?

3rd October 1929]

A.—(a) There have been some outbreaks of fire in the village since March 1928. Forty-two houses caught fire on 28th July 1928, and eleven more on 1st August 1928. There were similar occurrences at intervals from March to July 1928.

(b) The Collector of Trichinopoly reported on 18th March 1929 that the cause of the fires was still unknown. The Police, who investigated the matter had reason to suspect four or five persons but did not find sufficient evidence to charge them.

(c) A petition from one Samuel Servay was received by the Government on 20th June 1929. The Government are not aware whether petitions were submitted to the local authorities.

(d) They are mostly Christians.

(e) Out of the 94 affected persons 46 were reported to be willing to take loans under the Agricultural Loans Act provided the rate of interest was fixed at 3 per cent.

(f) The Collector placed a sum of Rs. 50 from his discretionary grant at the disposal of the Revenue Divisional Officer for distribution among the poorest sufferers, and called for proposals for the free grant of materials. The persons affected declined these grants and asked for money. There being no means of ensuring that gifts of money would be properly utilized the Collector refused to make any further disbursements and informed the sufferers that he would grant them loans under the Agriculturists Loans Act if they applied for them and expressed their willingness to pay interest at the usual rate of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. The Subdivisional Magistrate, Ariyalur, has been instructed to prevent if possible a recurrence of these fires.

Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—" With reference to clause (f), in view of the fact that the discretionary grant placed at the disposal of the Collector is very limited, may I know whether the hon. the Revenue Member will recommend the sanction of a bigger amount being placed at the disposal of the Collector ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I will ask the Collector whether he considers it necessary to give more grants but I believe his discretionary grant exceeds Rs. 50. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know whether these outbreaks were accidental or the acts of incendiaries ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" The answer to clause (b) is that the cause of the fire is unknown. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know whether the Government have instituted any enquiry with regard to these fires ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I must ask for notice if the information required relates to the period after March 1929. "

Irrigation

[3rd October 1929]

Protective works regarding the sliding of the Godavari bank near Kapileswarapuram Agraharam.

*716 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state with reference to question No. 106, dated 8th August 1929, regarding protective works with regard to the sliding of the Godavari bank near Kapileswarapuram Agraharam—

(a) when the estimates referred to in clause (b) of the answer were sanctioned and whether the works of protecting slips and of connecting the high level 'paya' with the river, and the work of revetment have been begun and completed and if so, when;

(b) whether the works referred to in the answer to clauses (c) and (d) of the question include revetment, brush-wood, and renewal of nanal and if so, whether the said works have been taken up; and

(c) whether the works were taken up and completed in proper time?

A.—(a) The estimates were sanctioned in February and April 1929, but the works have not been completed. Materials are being conveyed for the work of protecting the slips. The work cannot be carried out until the floods in the river go down.

(b) & (c) The works included a diversion bank opposite to one of the slips mentioned in the answer to clause (a) of question No. 106 with nanal roller revetment for the river side face of it. The work has been completed and the nanal has grown well. There has been no further slip in the locality during the recent floods.

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI:—"With reference to the answer to clause (a) of this question, may I enquire whether the work will be finished in the current year?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"I will enquire."

Investigation of the Yeleru project.

*717 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state with reference to question No. 1720, dated 14th March 1929, regarding the investigation of the Yeleru project whether the aqueduct mentioned in the second paragraph of the answer to clause (d) of question No. 1720 answered on 14th March 1929 has been taken up and if not, why not?

A.—No. The design is being revised and a revised estimate is under preparation by the Superintending Engineer.

Investigation of the Yeleru project.

*718 Q.—Mr. C. RAMASOMAYAJULU: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state with reference to answer to question No. 1720 answered on 14th March 1929 regarding the investigation of the Yeleru project—

(a) whether the investigation referred to in clause (d) has been completed;

[3rd October 1929]

(b) if so, whether the report of the investigation will be placed on the table;

(c) whether the Government have passed any orders thereon and, if so, to what effect; and

(d) whether the Government would decide upon an effective step to prevent further damages by floods?

A.—(a), (b) & (c) The investigation has not yet been taken up. The Superintending Engineer, Dowlaishweram Circle, proposes to visit the area before issuing instructions for the investigation of the scheme.

(d) The measures to be adopted depend on the results of the proposed investigation.

Effective drainage of the Yeleru water.

*719 Q.—Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state, with reference to question No. 1720, dated 14th March 1929, regarding the effective drainage of Yeleru water—

(a) whether investigation of the question has been taken up and completed;

(b) if so, what the result is; and

(c) what the cost of the estimate prepared in 1925 to divert the Yeleru (in East Godavari) east of the delta so as to pass straight from Samalkota to Vankalapudi and what the contribution that was expected from the Maharaja of Pithapuram was?

A.—(a) & (b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer to clause (a) of question No. 718.

(c) No estimate was prepared. It has since been reported that the Maharaja of Pithapuram was asked to contribute, not towards the cost of the diversion of the Yeleru drain to the east of the delta, but towards the cost of an aqueduct across the Cocanada irrigation channel to pass the surplus discharges of the Biicavole and the Yeleru drains at Kovvur within the delta.

Public Service

Appointments on Rs. 500 and above held by Indians in the Madras Secretariat.

*720 Q.—Mr. A. KALESWARA RAO: Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) how many appointments in the Government Secretariat above Rs. 500 per month are held by Indians and how many above Rs. 150 per month; and

(b) how many of them are held by Andhras?

A.—(a) Sixteen on Rs. 500 and above and 82 on Rs. 150 and above but below Rs. 500 per mensem.

(b) Three of the former and one of the latter are held by Andhras.

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU:—"May I know whether the Government propose to take any steps to remedy the present state of affairs?"

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"The Government do not propose to take any steps."

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. D. NARAYANA RAJU :—" Why are there very few Andhras ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I do not know why there are so few Andhras. Possibly there were few applications from Andhras. I will enquire into the matter."

Number of Andhra Superintendents and clerks in the Madras Secretariat and Council Office.

* 721 Q.—Mr. A. PARASURAMA RAO : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state the number of Andhra Superintendents and clerks (permanent) in the Legislative Council office and in each department of the Secretariat?

A.—A statement ^a is laid on the table.

Mr. A. PARASURAMA RAO :—" May I know whether the Andhra gentlemen referred to in the appendix to this answer were recruited ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I must ask for notice of the question."

Mr. A. RANGANATHA MUDALIYAR :—" In view of the fact that the papers dealt with by the Secretariat sometimes contain documents in different languages, will the hon. the Revenue Member consider the desirability of equitably distributing the appointments with reference to language ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I will consider the matter."

Survey

Alleged grievances of the temporary subordinates in the Central Survey Office.

* 722 Q.—Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR : Will the hon. the Member for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that graded pay for temporary subordinates of the Central Survey Office was passed in G.O. No. 971, dated 18th December 1925, after cancelling the time-scale granted to them;

(b) whether these temporary grades have been given for temporary men as per above Government Order and if not, why not;

(c) whether it is a fact that the draughtsmen subordinates of Central Survey Office submitted memorials on 19th April 1926 (soon after the graded system was given effect to from 1st March 1926) representing their grievances through the Director of Survey and whether the said memorials were delayed by the Assistant Director of Survey, Central Survey Office, before submitting them to Government for about one year and seven months and if so, why there was so much delay;

(d) whether it is a fact that the Officer in charge of Central Survey Office has totally ignored the procedure adopted (for a long time) in giving promotions in that department with reference to service, conduct and capacity as stated by the Director of Survey in U.O. note R.O.C. No. 87 G.F. (paragraph 4), dated 14th April 1923, in G.O. No. 971, dated 18th December 1925;

[3rd October 1929]

(e) why qualified draughtsmen who have put in a service of 25 years without any adverse remarks in their records of service are ignored when promotions are given and men of short service are preferred;

(f) whether it is a fact that a permanent vacancy in the draughtsman's grade in the Central Survey Office was conferred in the month of April last on a junior draughtsman when there were many persons who have completed 25 years' service and have passed the departmental test, and if so, what were the reasons for that promotion; and

(g) whether it is a fact that the qualified draughtsmen of Central Survey Office memorialized to the Board of Revenue on 25th July 1927 and 25th May 1928 and to the Government on 19th April 1926 and 15th October 1926, and if so, what action has been taken on those memorials?

A.—(a) In 1923 the graded pay system was restored in the case of all temporary establishments in the Survey department and in 1925 the Government fixed the maximum normal strength for the temporary establishment of the Central Survey Office and of a survey party.

(b) The temporary men are placed in the sanctioned grades but some of the permanent staff hold temporary posts in the higher grades in the following circumstances. A large temporary staff is employed as the work in the Survey department is likely to be reduced in course of time. Owing to the limited strength of the permanent staff it takes a long time for a man holding a temporary post to obtain a permanent post, and though on confirmation he has to start on the minimum pay of the permanent post, he has in most cases been holding a temporary post on higher pay; after appointment to a permanent post he continues to hold a temporary post on higher pay in consideration of his experience and efficiency and of the length of his service.

(c) Certain memorials presented in or about April 1926 were lost in the office of the Director of Survey.

(d) & (e) The Director of Survey gives due consideration to seniority and efficiency and fills vacancies in the permanent establishment by appointing the best qualified men among the temporary employees.

(f) The Government have not the information.

(g) In 1927 the temporary draughtsmen of the Central Survey Office submitted memorials to the Government in which they requested that the time-scale of pay should be re-introduced and that an appreciable number of temporary employees of long service should be confirmed. In the order passed on the memorial (G.O. No. 1447, Revenue, dated 4th July 1928) the Government have explained in detail why the requests made in the memorial could not be granted. A copy of the order ^a is laid on the table. A copy of G.O. Rout. No. 60, Revenue, dated 21st January 1929, ^b on the memorial dated 15th October 1928 submitted by the temporary draughtsmen is also laid on the table.

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—" With reference to (c), may I know whether the Government have made any attempt to get copies of the memorials that were lost ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" As far as I remember, the memorialists sent copies of the memorial to Government and in any case memorials from the same people were considered later. "

Mr. C. V. VENKATARAMANA AYYANGAR :—" May I know whether, in view of the fact that in other departments many temporary officers have been confirmed and in view of the fact that there are a large number of temporary men, the Government will be pleased to make some of these men permanent ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I am afraid we cannot entertain that proposal for the reasons which are explained in the Government Order. The operations of the Survey Department will, we hope, be materially reduced after some time and if we have a large number of permanent officers we will have to incur unnecessary expenditure of Government money on the payment of pensions or gratuities. "

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it a fact that in this department there are draughtsmen-clerks and others who have put in 35 years' service as temporary men ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I must ask for notice. "

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" Is it a fact that after they have served for thirty years they are sent home without any gratuity or pension ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" If they were in the temporary service they would not be eligible for any gratuity or pension. "

Rao Bahadur C. NATESA MUDALIYAR :—" May I ask whether the Government will be pleased to see whether these people after putting in a service of twenty or twenty-five years can be treated on a par with men in permanent service and given gratuity or pension ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" I do not think that could be undertaken. The rates paid for temporary service are different from those paid for permanent service and in fixing the former the fact that temporary men are not eligible for pensions or gratuities is taken into consideration. "

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know whether the Government are contemplating to treat these men as permanent men instead of temporary ? "

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" There is no such thing under contemplation at present. "

Forests

Free grazing in the reserves of South Kanara.

* 728 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that ryots living near reserves in South Kanara are compelled by forest guards to take grazing permits for their cattle; and
(b) whether the Government have considered at any time the question of making grazing free in the reserves ?

3rd October 1929]

A.—(a) Permits should be taken by persons who wish to graze their cattle in the reserved forests. Others need not and cannot be compelled to do so.

(b) Yes, in 1913. The Government decided then that grazing fees should not be abolished.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" Is it a fact that whenever there is a fall in the number of permits granted the forest guards are found fault with and they in their turn resort to various means to compel people to take permits ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" Not likely; but I want notice to give an accurate answer. "

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" With reference to (b), may I know whether the Government will be pleased to reconsider the matter. "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" No, Sir. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know what the considerations were that induced the Government in 1913 not to abolish grazing fees ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" There was a committee with Mr. Horne as Chairman and Mr. Kesava Pillai and others as members which went into the whole question exhaustively and their opinion the Government accepted. "

Mr. K. V. R. SWAMI :—" Does the hon. Member think that that report should hold good for ever ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" It holds good now. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether they recommended that grazing fees should be imposed for all time and in all districts ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" They reported that grazing fees should be imposed. "

Mr. G. HARISARVOTTAMA RAO :—" May I know whether they did not give certain conditions under which grazing fees should be imposed ? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" Notice. "

Improvement of grazing in South Kanara forests.

* 724 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY : Will the hon. the Law Member be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Forest department has ever made any efforts to improve grazing in the forests of South Kanara by introducing either fresh varieties of grass or by improving the strains of existing grass; and

(b) whether the Government have ever considered how the existing grazing areas in the reserves in South Kanara could be better utilized than at present for grazing purposes ?

A.—(a) & (b) No. The Agricultural Advisory Committee is at present considering the question with reference to the whole Presidency.

[3rd October 1929]

Mr. R. N. NAGAN GOWDA :—" May I know whether the Agricultural Advisory Committee have finished considering the question of improving the grazing facilities? "

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR :—" I do not know, Sir."

Motor Vehicles Act

Appointment and duties of Bus Inspectors.

* 725 Q.—Mr A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) the names of districts in which Bus Inspectors have been appointed so far;

(b) whether these are permanent appointments and if not, whether the Government propose to make them permanent;

(c) what duties have been assigned to Bus Inspectors; and

(d) whether they have been authorized to report cases of rash and negligent driving, overloading and mechanical defects noticed in buses and cars plying for hire at any time after the brake certificate is issued?

A.—(a) Madura cum Ramnad, Malabar, Tinnevely, Coimbatore, South Kanara, Salem, North Arcot, Tanjore, the Nilgiris, Nellore, Ganjam, West Godavari, Chittoor, East Godavari, Vizagapatam, Kistna and Trichinopoly.

(b) No. These appointments are made temporarily for one year in the first instance and are extended from time to time according to the circumstances of each case. The Government do not propose to make them permanent at present.

(c) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the answer to question No. 1281 given on the 1st February 1929.

(d) No.

Mr. A. B. SHETTY :—" With reference to clause (d) of this question, may I know whether the Government have considered the advisability of assigning to the Bus Inspectors the duties mentioned in it? "

The hon. Khan Bahadur Sir MUHAMMAD USMAN SAHIB Bahadur :—" Yes, Sir. The Government have considered it."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—" May I know why the Government have not thought it necessary to appoint Bus Inspectors permanently in view of the large increase in the number of buses? "

THE MALABAR TENANCY BILL.

Clause 10.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The Council will now proceed with the consideration of the Malabar Tenancy Bill.

" Mr. Uppi Sahib will continue his speech on his amendment to clause 10."

* Mr. K. UPPI SAHIB :—" Mr. President, the object of my amendment is to extend to the actual cultivating verumpattam tenants of Malabar the benefits which this Bill is going to confer on kanamdars and other tenants. After this Bill becomes law the cultivating verumpattamdar would be permanently fixed to the soil, a slave as it were of the soil. The summary procedure and also the provision with regard to rent give the janmi a very powerful and heavy engine and the Government seem to be very particular about these. Appointment and duties of Bus Inspectors.

* 725 Q.—Mr. A. B. SHETTY: Will the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(a) the names of districts in which Bus Inspectors have been appointed so far;

(b) whether these are permanent appointments and if not, whether the Government propose to make them permanent;

(c) what duties have been assigned to Bus Inspectors; and

(d) whether they have been authorized to report cases of rash and negligent driving, overloading and mechanical defects noticed in buses and cars plying for hire at any time after the brake certificate is issued?

A.—(a) Madurai cum Ramnad, Malabar, Tinnevely, Coimbatore, South Kanara, Salem, North Arcot, Tanjore, the Nilgiris, Nellore, Ganjam, West Godavari, Chittoor, East Godavari, Vizagapatam, Kistna and Trichinopoly.

(b) No. These appointments are made temporarily for one year in the first instance and are extended from time to time according to the circumstances of each case. The Government do not propose to make them permanent at present.

to the cultivating kanamdars and other cultivating tenants. I have therefore moved this amendment to give this privilege to all classes of cultivating tenants such as customary verumpattamdar, kanamdar, kuzhikanamdar, etc.

"The other condition that is attached is a very simple one. Without the cultivating kanamdars having to pay renewal fee every 12 years, I have provided that they should pay 10 times the revenue annually payable in a lump sum or in 12 equal instalments. Once they make this payment I give them fixity of tenure for all time. This is also very reasonable because we have not got to insist on the cultivating tenant paying renewal fee every now and then. I hope this amendment will commend itself to the Government as well as to the non-official Members of the House."

Mr. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN :—"I second it."

* Mr. MAHMUD SCHAMNAD :—"I oppose this amendment. If it is carried out, the janmis will be reduced to the position of an ordinary men and their prestige will disappear altogether. If the kanamdar, the kuzhikanamdar and everybody else gets fixity of tenure, then the janmis' position will be ridiculously low in the eyes of the people. I have not seen any other single amendment so far proposed which is so revolutionary and so confiscatory in its nature as this. I therefore oppose this amendment."

The amendment was put and negatived.

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that clause 10, as amended, shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted and the clause was allowed to stand part of the Bill.

Clause 11.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is that clause 11 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted and the clause was allowed to stand part of the Bill.

Clause 12.

Sub-clause (i).

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I do not see how this amendment (No. 137 on the printed paper) is relevant. Will the hon. Member explain how it is relevant to the words 'to the extent of holding'?"

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"Sir, the necessity for this amendment is this: The clause as it stands does not limit the extent of the holding which a man may have. There are wet and dry lands as well as garden lands, all clubbed together in one and the same holding and it so happens that there are very extensive areas of dry lands in some cases, which are not necessary at all for the cultivation of the wet lands. I therefore suggest all dry and garden lands exceeding one-seventh of the area of the wet land may be excluded from the grant. The House will remember that any party may apply at any time and unless the extent of land to be given to a cultivator as dry land or garden land necessary for cultivation is reduced, very extensive areas of dry lands may be given over to the cultivating tenants who after all may not be able to cultivate or reclaim such lands."

3rd October 1929]

* Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"May I rise to a point of order? This House has come to a decision under clause 10 to give fixity of tenure in respect of the whole holding, and I submit that the House cannot vary its decision again. My hon. Friend is trying to defeat the object of clause 10."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"This is a clause which exists in the Bill as it is drafted. That means clauses 10 and 11 will have to be read together."

* Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"The Council has decided, by giving its vote on clause 10, to give the cultivating tenant fixity of tenure."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"That question is not debated there."

* Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"The House decided in respect of the whole holding whatever be the extent of dry lands. That was clearly a change made by the Select Committee. The original clause in the Bill as moved in the Council is that it should not exceed one-seventh. More or less my hon. Friend is trying to modify the decision of Select Committee and say that the clause should not apply to the whole holding. This Council has decided by clause 10 that it should apply to the whole holding, and therefore no question of varying the extent arises at this stage. Any amendment of that nature practically defeats the vote of this House on clause 10."

* Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—"On the question of relevancy, I want to say one or two words."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Now we are on the point of order. The question of relevancy was already finished."

* Mr. S. ARPUDASWAMI UDAYAR :—"On the question of point of order I want to say this. Under the definition of 'holding' you will find 'holding' means a parcel or parcels of land held under a single engagement by a tenant from a landlord and shall include any portion of a holding as above defined, which the landlord and the tenant may agree to treat as a separate holding; therefore no question of relevancy or point of order arises."

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I think the amendment is in order. My reason is that if it is carried both the clauses will have to be read together so as to give a consistent meaning. I note that there was a corresponding provision, viz., clause 6, sub-clause (b), in the Bill as introduced and the hon. Member is only attempting to re-introduce it. Under clause 10 the question was not expressly debated and voted upon."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"I beg to move—"

"That in sub-clause (i) of clause 12 after the word 'extent' the words 'and description' be inserted and the following be added as proviso to sub-clause (i):—"

"Provided that dry or garden lands, if any that are deemed necessary for the convenient enjoyment of the wet lands in the holding shall not exceed in extent one-seventh of such wet lands."

"The first portion of my amendment, viz., the description of the holding does not require much elaboration. A statement as to whether the lands that are included in the holding are single crop lands or double crop lands will be useful. All these questions had better be settled at the first opportunity

[Mr. E. Sankaran Unni]

[3rd October 1929]

Large extents of land, especially dry lands are attached to small pieces of wet lands. That method has been adopted by the landlords as a means of protecting their lands from being trespassed upon by their neighbours. As a matter of fact these dry lands are seldom intended to form part and parcel of the holding. The tenants pay very little rent to the landlord for these dry lands. The matter deserves the attention of the House from a broader standpoint. The verumpattam tenants on whom you are conferring fixity of tenure are not in a position to reclaim their properties and make them cultivable. These extensive tracts which are included in the lease will have to remain unclaimed and uncultivated. Large and extensive tracts of dry lands have been included in verumpattam leases and if these are released then there is every likelihood of the landlord reclaiming those lands; at least, he may give them to others who are in a position to bring them under cultivation. It may surprise the House to know that in a certain lease I have seen 13 acres of wet land and 169 acres of dry land have been mixed together. The latter is not necessary for the cultivation and convenient enjoyment of the wet land. As a matter of fact these dry lands are not used for the benefit of the wet lands. Therefore the House will have to consider whether such large and extensive tracts are necessary. In many cases it may be a burden to the tenant. Under clause 8 which we have already passed he will have to pay three times the revenue to the janmi as fair rent. I want also in this connexion to place this very relevant fact before the House, viz., that at present very little is paid by the tenants for these large tracts of land which have been included in their leases. Now if the House is going to impose upon the tenant the liability to pay three times the revenue, as fair rent, we shall be imposing upon him a tremendous liability that will break his back. In your anxiety to give concessions to the tenant do not forget to exercise your discretion as to whether he will be able to pay the rent that has been fixed."

Mr. K. R. KARANT :—"What is the amount of rent that he pays?"

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"He is now paying Re. 1-2-0 for the entire block of dry lands. If you are going to impose upon him three times the revenue you will be imposing a very heavy liability which he will not be able to bear. If you do not accept this amendment you will be really doing a disservice to the tenants' cause."

(Voices : What is the Government revenue?)

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"I do not know. It will not be less than As. 6 per acre. In all likelihood the tenant will have to pay hereafter Rs. 2. If the House thinks that it will be helping the cause of the verumpattamdars by voting for the clause as it stands without accepting my amendment, it is welcome to do so."

Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD :—"I second it."

Several hon. Members :—"The amendment has not been seconded."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Mr. Narayanan Nambudripad has seconded the amendment. I am quite certain that the amendments moved by the hon. Member, Mr. Sankaran Unni, will be seconded either by the Muppil Nayar of Kavalappara or by Mr. Narayanan Nambudripad."

[3rd October 1929]

* Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON :—"Sir, the amendment wants that, while giving fixity of tenure to the tenants, the whole extent of dry or garden lands which the tenant is using, should be scrapped and that the tenant should be given dry lands to the extent of only one-seventh of wet lands. Take the instance given by the hon. Mover. Thirteen acres of wet land are clubbed together with 169 acres of dry land. He stated that six annas will be the Government revenue on one acre of dry land and that three times the Government revenue on 169 acres of dry land will be unbearable burden on the tenant. That is starting on false premises. For, it is well known that, with reference to dry land in Malabar, there is no Government tax and only when a crop is raised on the land, any tax is levied. Suppose one acre of dry land is cultivated this year, a tax of six annas will be levied on it for that year; if it is not cultivated next year, it is not taxed at all; if it is not cultivated for the next ten years it is not taxed; if the land is cultivated the next year after that period, then the tax is levied. That is the real position. If there are three years' cultivation consecutively going on, there is no harm in the tenant paying the land tax to the Government and three times the land tax to the janmi. My hon. Friend, Mr. Unni, says that the Government tax on 169 acres will be somewhere about Rs. 70 and three times the Government tax will come to Rs. 210, i.e., Re. 1-2-0 for an acre. That is overstating the facts if I may say so, or not stating facts correctly."

"With reference to the second argument of my hon. Friend, Mr. Sankaran Unni, that the tenants will not be able to reclaim the lands, I ask whether the landlord has ever reclaimed any lands which are not in his possession. As a matter of fact, it is the kanamdar or the verumpattamdar that reclaims the lands and as soon as this fact is known to the janmi, he asks the kanamdar 'give me rent or surrender the land.' That is the position. As a matter of fact, we are conferring fixity of tenure on the verumpattamdar and he will be able to find capital and labour, himself being a labourer. He will reclaim the land and make it an economic asset to the country."

"With regard to the first argument of my hon. Friend, Mr. Sankaran Unni, that dry lands are added to wet lands for the purpose of seeing that wet lands are not trespassed by others, you will be pleased to see that the actual facts are these; dry land to the extent of one-seventh of wet lands will not be sufficient for nursery beds. According to the cultivation in Malabar, we do not sow the seed broadcast; what we do is we raise nurslings from the nursery beds and then transplant them on the land. If the dry lands are taken away from the tenant, the position comes to this; the neighbouring dry lands will be in the possession of the janmi and he will be exacting rent from the tenant because the tenant must have green manure which is got from jungle trees in these dry lands. These facts were brought to the notice of the Select Committee and then the Committee thought it better to omit the clauses drafted by the Government. I see no reason why we should go back upon the recommendations of the Select Committee and accept the provisions of the Bill as drafted by the Government."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"May I explain, Sir?"

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Is it a personal explanation, a misunderstanding of his views? He cannot add anything new now."

[3rd October 1929]

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"I did not say, Sir, that they were unoccupied dry lands. They are 'occupied dry lands'; there is a tax levied on them and the tenant will have to pay it. Therefore there is no question of starting on false premises at all."

Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"Occupied land will always be garden land."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"I cannot allow this dialogue between two hon. Members."

* Mr K. R. KARANT:—"Sir, I would have considered the spirit of the amendment if my hon. Friend had been more frank. He said that, while we were giving fixity to the cultivating verumpattamdar, we will really be imposing a heavy burden upon him if we did not accept his amendment. That is not a frank way of putting things. As a matter of fact, it came to my notice during the last few days that some of the janmis of South Malabar seem to have a real complaint in this matter. They are getting something like 10 or 12 rupees from each acre of dry land and the provisions of the Bill will make them lose that income. The case stated by my hon. Friend, of 13 acres of wet land and 169 acres of dry land is one which really deserves the consideration of the House. If the provisions of the Bill are accepted, the janmis will not get anything more than three times the Government assessment. My hon. Friend stated that the poor tenants will be burdened with the rent payable on these dry lands; that is not a frank view of the case. The point really is the janmis will lose their income. I wish my hon. Friend had put it in that form. If the amendment was in the form that the extent of dry land should not exceed the extent of wet land I would have helped him and supported his amendment, because I do not think that the cultivators of wet land require dry land more than three times wet land for the purpose of green manure chiefly. The amendment is not in that form. Dry land to the extent one-seventh of wet lands is hardly enough for the cultivator to cultivate his field. You at least require dry land two or three times the wet land. As the amendment stands, it is not acceptable to me."

* Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"Sir, in spite of the arguments given by my hon. Friend, I must vote against this amendment. May I appeal to the House to look into the amendment of my hon. Friend as it stands? It simply provides 'that dry or garden lands, if any, that are deemed necessary for the convenient enjoyment of the wet lands in the holding shall not exceed in extent one-seventh of such wetlands.' There is no provision in the Bill as it emerged from the Select Committee, which provides for the determination, previously, of the extent of dry or garden lands which may be deemed necessary for the convenient enjoyment of wet lands. Hon. Members will notice, Mr. President, that in the Bill as it was originally introduced into this Council, the provision was that the cultivating verumpattamdar was not to get fixity of tenure suo motu, but had to go to court and set the machinery of law in motion."

"Then, Sir, sub-clause (5) of clause 6 of the original Bill, printed on the left hand of this paper, it provided 'on the security called for under sub-section (3) being furnished . . . the court shall determine what dry and garden lands are necessary for the convenient enjoyment of the wet lands referred to in the application.' That was one of the duties cast upon the court, to determine the extent of dry and garden lands necessary; and then the court shall issue a certificate of fixity of tenure for the wet lands and for the lands determined under clause (a). Whereas the amendment now before the House makes no such provision and, if it is accepted as it is, I submit it will become absolutely unworkable. Who is to decide the extent of dry lands that is deemed necessary for the convenient enjoyment of wet lands? As I said, it will give rise to difficulties in the practical working on this proviso. I submit, Sir, that the Bill, as it has emerged from the Select Committee, has been accepted so far by this hon. House. It provides that, in respect of the whole holding in the possession of cultivating tenants, they shall have fixity of tenure."

[3rd October 1929]

[Mr. S. Satyamurti]

"As regards the hard cases mentioned by my hon. Friend, if the janmis are really so sympathetic towards these cultivating tenants and do not want to burden them with the amount of tax they have got to pay on unoccupied dry lands or occupied dry lands, then there is the provision in the definition clause (h). 'Holding' means a parcel or parcels of land held under a single engagement by a tenant from a landlord and shall include any portion of a holding as above defined; which the landlord and the tenant may agree to treat as a separate holding. My hon. Friend who pleads now for these cultivating tenants may find ample scope for relieving the unfortunate people of these holdings by confining the holding only to that portion which will pay the cultivating tenant and the janmi alike and treating that as part of the holding."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"We are enacting law now."

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—"My hon. Friend has not yet learnt the rules of this House. I think he will end his life in this House, without knowing them. He cannot have it both ways. He was extending his hand of sympathy to these unfortunate cultivating verumpattamdars; he said they were overburdened with taxes. They and the janmis may agree to treat these dry lands as not being parts of the holding. The decision of the House has already provided for that. Therefore that argument does not cut any ice. I therefore ask the House to reject the amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is

'After the word "extent" insert the words "and description."

"Add the following proviso to sub-clause (i):—

'Provided that dry or garden lands, if any, that are deemed necessary for the convenient enjoyment of the wet lands in the holding shall not exceed in extent one-seventh of such wet lands.'

The amendment was put and negatived.

* Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDEPADI:—"Sir, I beg to move the following amendment:—

"Add the following as sub-clause (v):—

'(v) The trees, buildings and other works belonging to the landlord.'

"It is a common practice in Malabar to show in a lease the landlord's trees, buildings and other works. In certain cases, the landlord might have put up buildings at his cost for the convenient enjoyment and proper cultivation of the wet land, included in the lease. Or he might have paid value for the buildings erected by a tenant who had previously cultivated the land. There are tanks and water reservoirs attached to the wet lands in a holding constructed at the cost of the landlord. It is highly desirable in the interests of the landlord as well as the tenant that all these are ascertained and determined at an enquiry under this clause. I am confident that the suggestion will be acceptable to the Government and the tenants' representatives."

[Mr. O. M. Narayanan Nambudripad] [3rd October 1929]

The MUPPIL NAYAR OF KAVALAPPARA:—"Sir, I beg to second the amendment."

Mr. K. MADHAVAN NAYAR:—"Sir, I support this amendment. I consider it very necessary that, when the court decides the extent of the holding and trees, it should determine the buildings, etc., which the landlord owns in that holding. I therefore strongly support the amendment of my hon. Friend, Mr. Narayanan Nambudripad."

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL:—"Mr. President, Sir, I am sorry I have to oppose this amendment when it is supported on the other side as well as on this side. But it seems to me in the first place to be unnecessary because the court has to determine the fair rent and in so doing, it must take into account such questions as the number of coconut and arecanut trees belonging to the landlord or janmi in case of garden lands. The amendment as proposed mentions all trees; many of these trees need not be taken into consideration for determining fair rent and it is not necessary to throw upon the court this burden which it seems to me, is unnecessary. In my opinion the present clause is quite adequate for the purpose."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Sir, I am sorry the hon. the Revenue Member is not able to see his way to accept this amendment, and probably one of the reasons therefor is that the Select Committee has not accepted it. However that may be, there is no additional burden thrown on the court by this amendment. All these matters have simply to be recorded by the court, and there will be no special inconvenience caused to the court. There may be buildings and other works on the land which should be taken into account in determining the fair rent. So far as I am able to see, from the amendments which have been rejected, it is very likely that trees and other buildings on the land may not to be taken into account at all in the determination of the fair rent. That is why we want, by this amendment, that trees and buildings should be taken into account. Sir, we want as far as possible to avoid litigation, and if this amendment is accepted, I dare say it will benefit both the janmi and the tenant in that they will not have to go to the court in order to determine whether trees and buildings should be taken into account or not. So, in order to avoid such litigation, we have brought in a provision in the shape of this amendment. The object of the amendment, I may assure the House, is only to avoid litigation and nothing else."

Mr. K. P. RAMAN MENON:—"Sir, I agree with the hon. the Revenue Member in thinking that this amendment is unnecessary. Mr. Nambudripad himself mentioned that it is usual to take into account at the time of the determination of the fair rent, the trees, buildings and other works already on the holding. If that is so, I really fail to see the necessity for this amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT:—"The question is to add the following as sub-clause (v):—

"(v) The trees, buildings and other works belonging to the landlord."

3rd October 1929]

The amendment was put to the House and declared negatived. A poll was demanded by Mr. G. Harisarvottama Rao, and the House divided thus:—

The amendment was negatived.

New sub-clause (vi).

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Sir, I beg to move, to add as sub-clause (vi) as re-numbered:—

'The quantity of water which the tenant is accustomed to use from a tank or other reservoir, or water-course or channel, if any, situate either in the holding or outside.'

Explanation:—The landlord's right in respect of the surplus water, if any, shall not be affected by anything contained in this sub-clause.'

[3rd October 1929]

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" This is not intended to be a record of rights. If the hon. Member wants to introduce elements of rights under this section, I do not know how it will be relevant. Is it necessary for the determination of fair rent ? "

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Yes, Sir. The amendment says . . . "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I judge the relevancy from this standpoint. The section as it stands may require certain elements for the determination of fair rent which may be intended to be a record of rights. I do not think there is the intention of having it as the record of rights, and I do not think the elements which the hon. Member mentions in his amendment are necessary for the determination of fair rent. I do not know the Malabar conditions. I only want to know if this is required for the determination of fair rent."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" I may point out that that will not only be a record of rights, but will be a record of all the rights and circumstances of the holding. The section as it is, says: 'the extent of the holding, the fair rent that is payable in respect of it, etc.' So, when the extent is taken into account, the other circumstances also will have to be taken into account. Suppose, for instance, on a subsequent date we have got to ascertain what the rent will be. For the determination of the rent, we will have to take into account, not only the extent, but also . . . "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Is it provided anywhere for the reduction or enhancement of rent, in the Bill ? "

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Supposing, an enhancement of the rent is to be made some time later, then the circumstances stated here will be really material."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" I wish to know whether there is any provision in the Bill either for the reduction or for the enhancement of rent on account of reduction or enhancement of water-supply. I am not able to find any."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" There is an amendment, Sir . . . "

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Has the hon. Member given notice of any amendment like that, for reduction or enhancement of rent under those conditions ? "

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" I have, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Which is that amendment ? "

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Amendment No. 258 under section 30, Sir."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" Then the hon. Member can move his amendment."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—" Sir, the reason why I want this clause to be introduced here is this: Now that fixity of tenure is being granted to the tenants in respect of holdings which are in their enjoyment, this question also should be considered. It is not unusual to find one tank supplying water to a certain holding. That tank may be in the possession of the tenant who possesses that holding, or it may be situated in the midst of holdings belonging to another man, and very likely, each one of the tenants in the neighbouring holdings has to take water from it. If you do not now attempt to find out the exact quantity of water now being supplied to each holding, it may be difficult to fix it later on. Moreover, if we do not fix it now the quantity of water that is now supplied may vary sometime hence and it will be difficult to determine the fair rent. Therefore, I say, unless this is fixed, we will be jeopardizing the interests not only of the janmis but also of the tenants on the holdings. Sometimes there are water-courses running through one holding and at the same time supplying water to holdings which do not lie on their course. If these factors are not taken into consideration in the determination of fair-rent, there will be trouble in Malabar. If you want to avoid litigation in Malabar, this amendment will certainly go a long way towards that; and you will be avoiding litigation, in the interests of both the janmis and the tenants. Therefore, Sir, I move this amendment."

[3rd October 1929]

[Mr. E. Sankaran Unni]

Rao Bahadur O. M. NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD :—" I second the amendment."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—" Mr. President, I am afraid I cannot accept this amendment. As you have already remarked, it is not proposed under this clause to determine the record of rights. In the preamble, it is definitely laid down

'Whereas it is necessary and expedient to define, declare, alter and amend, to the extent, in the manner and for the purposes hereinafter appearing the law relating to landlord and tenant, in the district of Malabar.'

"For the determination of the fair-rent, it is quite sufficient to know that the land is wet, and that it is irrigated; it is unnecessary to know the exact quantity of water required for irrigating the land for raising a crop of paddy. I submit it would be extremely difficult to carry out this provision contained in the amendment, that is, to expect a court to find out the exact number of millions of cubic feet of water which a tenant uses from the landlord's tanks for the irrigation of his land. This amendment seems to me entirely unnecessary, and it will, if accepted, involve an enormous and unnecessary amount of labour and expense."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is to add the following as sub-clause (vi) :—

'The quantity of water which the tenant is accustomed to use from a tank or other reservoir, or water-course or channel, if any, situate either in the holding or outside.'

Explanation :—The landlord's right in respect of the surplus water, if any, shall not be affected by anything contained in this sub-clause.'

The amendment was put and negatived.

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—" The question is that clause 12 shall stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted; and clause 12 was added to the Bill.

[3rd October 1929]

New clause after clause 12.

* The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"Sir, I beg to move—that the following new clause be added after clause 12 and the remaining clauses 13 to 54 re-numbered as clauses 14 to 55 respectively :—

- '13. (1) A landlord may, at any time, by notice in writing, call upon his cultivating verumpattamdar at the latter's option—
- (a) to pay one year's fair rent of the holding in advance, or
 - (b) to furnish security for the said fair rent, or
 - (c) to pay a portion of the said fair rent in advance and furnish security for the balance.
- (2) If, within a period of six months from the date of the service of notice upon him under sub-section (1), the cultivating verumpattamdar fails to pay the advance or furnish the security demanded by the landlord, the landlord may apply to the court, in the form prescribed, for an order to direct the cultivating verumpattamdar, at the latter's option
- (a) to pay one year's fair rent of the holding in advance, or
 - (b) to furnish security for the said fair rent, or
 - (c) to pay a portion of the said fair rent in advance and furnish security for the balance.
- (3) On the receipt of an application under sub-section (2), the court shall issue notice to the cultivating verumpattamdar and, if satisfied after inquiry that the tenant has not paid one year's fair rent of the holding in advance or furnished security in respect of the said fair rent, order the cultivating verumpattamdar, at the latter's option
- (a) to pay one year's fair rent of the holding in advance, or
 - (b) to furnish security for the said fair rent, or
 - (c) to pay a portion of the said fair rent in advance and furnish security for the balance within such date as the court may fix.
- (4) Where the cultivating verumpattamdar has already paid a portion of one year's fair rent of the holding in advance or furnished security for a portion of the said fair rent, the provisions of sub-sections (1) to (3) shall apply in respect of the balance of such rent.'

"Sir, it is with considerable hesitation and after very careful consideration that I move this amendment, because, Sir, I feel that where a Bill has been referred to a Select Committee and the Select Committee is as representative of all parties of the House as the Select Committee on this Bill was, we should as a rule accept the decisions of the Select Committee on matters considered by it and we should not open them in this House, and that ordinarily we should merely move in this House motions of extreme importance on matters of principle or consequential and verbal amendments which are necessary for making the Bill clear or amendments on points which have come to notice since the committee reported.

"Now, Sir, the foundation for this Bill is the report made by the Raghavayya Committee and it is on that foundation that this amendment is based; it was an important part of the recommendations made by the Raghavayya Committee that security for one year's rent should be given if the landlord demands it. In other respects the Select Committee has indeed deviated from the recommendations of the Raghavayya Committee, but, Sir, where they have removed what might be regarded as a portion of the foundation of the Bill, they were careful, in other cases to replace that portion of the foundation by something else, which they believed to be a stronger foundation. But, in this case, nothing has been put in the place of the portion of the foundation which has been removed and if we remove a portion of the foundation of a structure and put nothing in its place there is a danger that the whole structure may collapse and fall to pieces. This is one reason why this House should consider very carefully what should be done in this instance. I have not proposed in my amendment to reproduce the exact provisions of the Bill which were rejected by the Select Committee, but I have suggested an alternative amendment. There is one point which I should like to mention before I come to the merits of the case. Sir, as I remarked in connexion with another amendment the land tenures in Malabar differ from the land tenures elsewhere; as far as my knowledge goes, there are no similar tenures in the east coast to which the provisions of the Estates Land Act will apply. Therefore, this amendment will not form any precedent for the amendment of the Estates Land Act nor can the Estates Land Act be regarded as a precedent in introducing a land tenure Bill for Malabar.

[Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell]

"Sir, one of the important fundamental principles that we have followed in this legislation is that we should not interfere with existing rights more than it is necessary. There is no doubt that when the relations between the landlord and tenant are unrestricted by any legislation, the landlord has a right to demand payment of rent in advance or security for the payment of rent if he chooses to do so.

"The next question that arises is whether this right has in recent times been exercised by the landlords in Malabar. Now, Sir, I may quote from Moore's 'Malabar Law and Custom', where it will be seen :—

'In some simple leases, a year's rent will be paid in advance at the commencement of the tenancy and the lease will then be termed mumpattam, talupattam or kattakanam. On the determination of the lease, the advance must be refunded.'

"This is dated 1905. I will now quote from P. R. Sundara Ayyar's Treatise on Malabar and Aliyasantana Law, which is dated 1922. On page 290 he says: 'Mumpattam, talupattam or kattakanam is a simple lease enuring generally for a year, where the tenant advances a sum equal to the rent of the year as security . . . The amount is refunded at the end of the term without interest.'

"In the evidence recorded by the Raghavayya Committee, we find certain instances in which the advances have been paid by verumpattamdar. On page 140, you will find under 'V. Instances of Verumpattam' the following :—

'Lessor—the Kariakar of Palghat. Verumpattam 480 paras . . . The lessee has paid the janmi Rs. 300 as advance for one year's rent.'

"I do not wish to quote the whole of it.

"On page 147 you will find the following :—

'Name of the tenant—K. Moideen Kutti. He is in possession of 2½ acres of garden lands. It was taken originally on verumpattam with ten coconut trees on it. The rent then was 5 paras. Rs. 25 was paid as mumpattam.'

[Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell]

[3rd October 1929]

"In another case on page 140 the tenant paid the janmi a munpattam of Rs. 30; the janmi gave him a written lease three years ago and before that it was an oral lease.

"In those three cases, the leases are for more than one year. I understand that in North Malabar the term munpattam is not used, but munkuru. There, leases are given for four or six years and rent for two or three years is paid at the time of execution of the lease; in one case that came to notice the lease was for five years and the whole amount was paid in advance. I have not asserted that rent is always paid in advance. That is not my point. My point is, that the rent is paid in advance in an appreciable number of cases and where the landlord is quite sure that the tenant will pay the rent, he need not demand the advance from the tenant, but the payment in advance is a safeguard which the landlord has exercised with reference to the tenants about whose stability he was not sure.

"As to the Raghavayya Committee, as hon. Members are aware, that Committee recommended that security should be given as a safeguard if the landlord demanded it. On page 39, in paragraph 82 of the Report, there is this:

'A third objection is that if fixity of any sort is given, the fear of eviction would disappear and the verumpattamdar, especially the one with no means, would freely default in the payment of rent. Landlords, who even now are not getting their verumpattam rents promptly or fully, would be in a worse position, for they could not evict and change their tenants in case of default. The answer to this is that this is a danger which can be easily met and that refusal to grant fixity is not the only possible solution of the difficulty. Security may be taken from the tenant for payment of rent and this combined with power to evict for payment in default of a year's rent would be enough to meet this difficulty.'

"Again, in paragraph 90, on page 43 of the Report, we find:

'In a previous paragraph 82 the Committee adverted to the necessity of providing for the better and speedier realization of rents by the landlords, as a safeguard against any untoward result which might flow by the grant of fixity to the tenant. One such safeguard, which the Committee recommends, is the insistence on the person who is to get fixity, depositing in cash, towards the rent, but would be standing there all the time to provide for the case of the landlord not being able to realize his arrears by any other means. A provision for a year's advance rent is conceded in a proviso to section 6 of the new Bill of Mr. Krishnan Nayar. The Committee thinks, however, that the purpose in view would not be served by an advance payment which will prevent the landlord from suing for arrears even in respect of the first year's rent, for that may, in a sense, make the tenant careless, even at the start, to pay up his dues.'

"Under the provisions of the Bill, a landlord cannot take measures for the recovery of his rent until three months after the due date of payment. I understand, usually, rents are paid in two instalments, six-tenths in the month of October and the remaining four-tenths about the month of April, in each case about one month after harvest. And if you allow another three months to expire, it is clear that the crops would be removed from the field and the landlord will either have to obtain a decree for the attachment of the tenant's movable property or institute a suit for eviction of the tenant, and the tenant might then be in a very much worse position than if he had been made to deposit security in advance.

"Now, Sir, as the Raghavayya Committee has pointed out, there was a provision in my hon. Friend Mr. Krishnan Nayar's last Bill for the payment of the munpattam or rent in advance. Section 6 of the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar's last Bill (page 164 of the Raghavayya Committee Report) runs as follows:—

[3rd October 1929]

[Mr. A. Y. G. Campbell]

'A kanamdar or a kuzhikanamdar or other tenant under a demise or lease made before or after the date of the passing of this Act, shall have a permanent right in his holding and shall not be evicted therefrom except as provided in this Act.'

'Provided that no tenant other than a kuzhikanam tenant shall have permanent right, unless he deposits with his landlord munpattam or rent in advance for one year, for which he shall be entitled to interest at 6 per cent per annum.'

"Now, Sir, the original Bill as placed before the Select Committee required every tenant who wished to have fixity of tenure to apply to court. But the Select Committee proposed that it may be given as a matter of course and that no application to court should be necessary. The Bill as originally drafted provided that when a tenant applied to a court to have fixity of tenure, the court should call upon the respondent, i.e., the landlord, and ask him whether he wishes to have security. It is to be expected that he will always demand security. Under the Government Bill, I submit, it is probable that one year's rent would have been demanded in every case. Under the amendment now proposed it is not likely that the landlord will demand security in every case; but if it is feared that the landlords may demand security from all their tenants, whether good or bad, it seems to me that the proper course to adopt is to apply safeguards. One such safeguard is to make the landlord pay interest. I understand he is not at present paying interest in South Malabar, and in North Malabar the interest he pays is not more than 3 per cent. I have an amendment that he should pay 6 per cent interest. That is the rate proposed in the hon. Member Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill, and that is the rate allowed by the courts. That is some safeguard on the landlord demanding security as he will have to pay for it; he will receive, not 100 per cent of the fair rent but only 94 per cent.

"I request hon. Members to give this matter their careful consideration and I am quite sure hon. Members on both sides of the House will approach this matter in that spirit of impartiality which they have hitherto shown (Swarajist voices: Hear, hear.) I have brought it forward after careful consideration, because I do feel it is an essential part of the principles underlying this Bill that a provision of this kind should be made. We want to see the reasonable interests of the janmi, the landlord, as well as those of the tenant are protected. That has been the attitude of this House. And so I submit this amendment to the careful consideration of the House."

The hon. Diwan Bahadur M. KRISHNAN NAYAR:—"I second it."

* Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI:—"Mr. President, I beg to move—

'In sub-clause (3) for the words "Paid one year's fair rent of the holding in advance or furnished security in respect of the said fair rent" substitute the words "complied with any of the provisions of sub-clause (2)".'

"I move this amendment because there are three circumstances mentioned in sub-clause (2) and the present sub-clause (3) refers only to two of them. There is no provision to cover (c). In order to make it clear. . ."

(At this stage the hon. the Revenue Member asked Mr. Sankaran Unni to hand over to him a copy of his amendment as he discovered he had not one).

[3rd October 1929]

The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"Order, order, the House is not in the committee stage. If the hon. Member (referring to hon. the Revenue Member) has not got a copy I can't help it."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I have not got a copy of the amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"I understand Mr. Sankaran Unni's amendment has been circulated. Mr. Unni will proceed with his amendment. His business is to make the House understand and not the hon. the Revenue Member only."

Mr. E. SANKARAN UNNI :—"Sir, as the amendment of the hon. the Revenue Member stands it is not quite clear whether all the conditions of the security are covered by the clause as it is as present worded. Therefore, to make it clear I move this amendment."

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The question is in sub-clause (3) of the Revenue Member's amendment for the words 'paid one year's fair rent of the holding in advance or furnished security in respect of the said fair rent' substitute the words 'complied with any of the provisions of sub-clause (2)'."

The amendment was put and declared carried.

* The hon. the PRESIDENT :—"The amendment of the hon. the Revenue Member as amended is for the consideration of the House."

* Mr. P. O. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—"Mr. President, Sir, I am very sorry that even after careful consideration the hon. the Revenue Member has thought it necessary to come forward with an amendment on a very vital point and a vital issue which has been decided after due consideration by the Select Committee. Of course the Select Committee knew that this was one of the recommendations of the Raghavayya Committee. That fact was not in any way sought to be ignored then. With full knowledge that a special committee appointed to investigate into the matter has recommended a sort of security, the Select Committee has decided not to have it. The hon. the Revenue Member was telling us that removing a very important provision without substituting some other provision was one of the reasons that influenced him to bring up this amendment. The Select Committee took into consideration, Mr. President, the fact that additional extraordinary powers—by extraordinary powers I mean powers not enjoyed by them up to now—to recover the rent from the cultivating tenant were recommended by that special committee. Up to now in Malabar I understand there is no provision for summary procedure for recovering rent by distraining either the crop or other immovable property of the tenant. Now by this Act the landlord is given the right to distrain, and to attach and bring to sale either the standing crop or, at times when there is no standing crop, even some other kinds of his movable property. And in the Select Committee this is one of the most important decisions arrived at after much deliberation and due consideration. I am not urging this point because I subscribe to the view that any decision arrived at by the Select Committee should not be challenged by us in the open House. I am opposed to that principle because, after all, the duty of the Select Committee is to report to the House and the House should not be placed under the position that they have delegated their powers in appointing the Select Committee, and that they are therefore precluded from pressing their own points of view. If I urge that it has been duly decided by the Select Committee after due deliberation and consideration, it is only to point out to the hon. the Revenue Member that from the attitude that he has been taking in regard to this Bill from the beginning he should not deviate from the usual course. And what is the effect of asking the cultivator either to deposit one year's rent or to offer security for it, or to deposit some portion of the rent and offer security for the balance? I think the Government are of opinion that by taking up this Malabar Tenancy question and settling it by giving fixity of tenure to the cultivator they are conferring some sort of right on the cultivator. I do not believe that the Government are of opinion that the right that has been conferred on the cultivating tenant by this Bill is not worth even one year's rent. Of course the provision made by the hon. the Revenue Member that any advance made should bear some interest may to some extent remove a little bit of the hardship that is sought to be imposed upon the cultivating tenant. As you find in the Bill and in the report, the interest that is being paid by the janmi on the kanam amount ranges from 12 to 20 per cent. In many of the cases it is one-fifth of the principal,

[Mr. P. C. Venkatapati Raju]

[3rd October 1929]

that is 20 per cent. So, giving a rate of interest of six per cent to the poor cultivator is quite inadequate. Of course, the hon. the Revenue Member perhaps thinks that by adopting this amendment and not insisting upon the advance payment of the amount, and making it possible for the cultivator to give security, he is conferring some sort of benefit on the cultivator. But, it will make the position worse. In order to furnish security, the tenant will have to go to some other person who, I am afraid, as matters stand at present in other parts of the Presidency, may bring some sort of pressure to bear on the cultivator, and the cultivator also will have some sort of obligation to the person that offers or stands this security, and will be at a disadvantage. And the hon. the Revenue Member was telling us that there is some sort of a similar provision in the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar's Bill. I am sorry that the hon. the Revenue Member did not advert to the two previous Bills of the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar. The Bill which was actually passed by this House does not contain this provision."

The hon. Mr. A. Y. G. CAMPBELL :—"I mentioned that, Sir."

Mr. P. C. VENKATAPATHI RAJU :—"It may be. But that Bill did not contain this provision, nor did the previous Bill that was sought to be introduced. Since it is so, even at one time the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar thought that there would be no danger in not insisting upon a deposit of one year's rent, and the hon. Mr. Krishnan Nayar never thought that without this provision either the kanamdar or the janmi would be put to great loss. Even as it now stands, it is agreed by the various interests concerned in this Bill that after all the rent which is recovered will be something less than the nominal rent. In some cases, as the janmis put it, it will be about 60 or 70 per cent of the nominal rent that they will be able to recover. In other parts of the country where fixity of tenure is conferred upon the cultivating tenant, remissions have ceased to be given by the landlord. Before the fixity of tenure was granted by the Estates Land Act, remissions were often given in bad years. But in cases coming under the Estates Land Act no remissions are now being made. And so I expect that those remissions which were being made by the landlord hitherto will now cease. He has the remedy provided here, even though there be no advance payment. He need not give up anything that cannot be realized during the year. That will be a charge upon the holding because the holding has a fixity of tenure, and in any case, there is some value attached to it and this value will certainly be far more than one year's rent."

"Taking all these things into consideration, the deposit of one year's rent will mean a great hardship to all the tenants throughout the whole of the district of Malabar. If we were to calculate on the basis of this amendment—this deposit is to be perpetual till the tenant gives up the holding—interest at only six per cent, on this deposit amount, I think, it will come up to far more than the janmam, and even the kanam, value of the land. When an amendment was sought to be incorporated by the hon. Member, Mr. Arogyaswami Mudaliyar, the hon. Member for Government and many other hon. Members were so very kind towards the cultivator that they said it would be a hardship to ask him to deposit a small portion of the annual rental value, i.e., about 15 per cent. I do not know if they realize that it would be a greater hardship to ask him to deposit the full value of the annual fair rent and keep it on as security as long as he remains on the holding. I therefore strongly feel that having regard to this provision any benefit conferred on the cultivating tenant by this Bill will be entirely lost, and the object of this Tenancy Bill, as you may call it, will not at all be in the interest of the cultivating tenant, as it is said to be or as it is expected to be, but it will only be safeguarding the interests of so many intermediaries who have no place in any Tenancy Bill in any other part of the country than Malabar, and conceding a sort of compensation to the janmi for the rights that he was made to give up in the interest of the kanamdar. Really, the person that is sought to be benefited by this tenancy legislation will be the person that will suffer most if this amendment is carried and incorporated in the Bill in spite of all that has been said in favour of the cultivating tenant."
