(a) if it is a fact that they introduced in Delhi tender system on a commission basis for the sale of country liquor from 1st of December, 1930, up to 31st March, 1932 ;

(b) if it is a fact that during the period this system was in force the sale of coloured (spiced) liquor was shown 50 to 60 per cent. less than in both the preceding as well as succeeding years ? If so, why ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) No. The system introduced was the tender fee gallonage system which was adopted for five country liquor shops with effect from the 1st December, 1930, and for all the ten shops for the year 1931-32. The auction system was re-continued in 1932-33.

(b) The sale of coloured (spiced) liquor was 50 to 60 per cent. less than both the preceding as well as succeeding years. The reason for the decrease was that being dearer than plain spirit and having an unfixed sale price, coloured (spiced) liquor did not attract consumers at a time of acute financial depression. In addition, under the tender system, licencees have no reason to attempt to popularise spiced spirit by its sale at low prices as they are inclined to under the auction system when they have to find money for the payment of large monthly instalments of licence fees.

SALE OF COLOURED AND PLAIN LIQUORS AT DELHI.

233. Mr. Goswami M. R. Puri : (a) Will Government be pleased to furnish a statement showing the sales at Delhi of coloured (spiced) and plain liquor separately for the following years ?

(i) 1st April, 1929 to 31st March, 1930.

(ii) 1st April, 1930 to 31st November, 1930.

(iii) 1st December, 1930 to 31st March, 1931.

(iv) 1st April, 1931 to 31st March, 1932.

(v) 1st April, 1932 to 31st March, 1933.

(b) Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) if it is a fact that just after 31st March, 1932, when the tender system expired, the sale of coloured liquor again increased to a large extent in Delhi ? If so, to what extent ;

(ii) if they are aware that the Delhi liquor contractors themselves converted the plain liquor into coloured one by mixing it with mineral coloured water, and were thus able to save and thereby deprive the Government to the extent of Re. 1 per gallon, being the difference of tender fees between the coloured and plain liquor ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The required statement is laid on the table.

(b) (i) Yes. During the year 1932-33, the sale of spiced spirit increased in Delhi as compared with 1930-31 and 1931-32. But the sales figures for these two years were quite abnormal and it may be noted that as compared with the sales for 1928-29 and 1929-30, which were normal years, the sales of spiced spirit in 1932-33 were lower by 34 and 26 per cent., respectively.

(ii) Government have received no such complaints. Spiced spirit cannot be prepared by mixing coloured mineral water with the plain spirit. If this course were followed, the spirit would be lighter in colour and strength and the fraud would be liable to detection by taste. The process which is carried out by distillery experts is not one which could be understood by an ordinary licencee. It is inconceivable that if any such attempt were ever made even by a single licensee, it would not have been detected at once, as it would have led to complaints immediately from the public.

Statement showing the sales at Delhi of Coloured (Spiced) and Plain Liquor from the 1st April, 1929 to the 31st March, 1933.

Period.	Plain L.P.	Coloured L.P.	Total L.P.
(i) 1st April 1929 to 31st March 1930	17,410	14,196	31,606
(ii) 1st April 1930 to 30th November 1930 ..	6,276	4,469	10,745
(iii) 1st December 1930 to 31st March 1931 ..	7,122	2,363	9,485
(iv) 1st April 1931 to 31st March 1932	19,111	3,794	22,905
(v) 1st April 1932 to 31st March 1933	15,273	10,480	25,753

SELLING PRICE OF COUNTRY LIQUOR IN DELHI.

234. Mr. Goswami M. R. Puri : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that when the Government duty on country liquor was Rs. 8 per gallon on 20 U. P., the retail-sellers purchased at the rate of Rs. 1-12-0 per bottle from the distillers and sold it at the rate of Rs. 2-10-0 per bottle in Delhi ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Delhi Government have during the current year reduced the duty on country liquor to Rs. 5 a gallon on 20 U. P., so as to enable the retail-sellers to reduce their prices and thereby check the activities of smugglers of illicit liquor ?

(c) Is it a fact that at present the selling price of the distillers is Re. 1-4-0 per bottle ?

(d) Are Government aware that the liquor licensees have formed a ring and maintained their selling price at Rs. 3 per bottle ?

(e) Are Government aware that due to the exorbitant prices of liquor charged by the Delhi licencees the consumers have been forced to procure their requirements from the neighbouring Punjab liquor shops or from otherwise than licit resources, and that the percentage of crimes has gone exceedingly high ?

(f) Will Government be pleased to state the increase in the number of such cases detected in Delhi in 1932 and 1933 over those in the previous years ?

(g) Are Government aware that the prices of liquor at the contiguous shops at Sonipat, Bahadargarh, Faridabad, etc., are, as in Delhi, not fixed by Government in spite of the fact that the licence fees of these shops have gone up abnormally this year, and that the vendors at those shops are selling liquor at moderate prices, which has resulted in an appreciable rise in the sale and the consequent rise in Government duty ?

(h) Are Government aware that the sale of country liquor in Delhi during the months of April and May, 1933, declined considerably as compared with the corresponding months last year ?

(i) Can Government assign any reason for the fall in sale in Delhi City during these months ?

(j) How much loss have Government suffered on duty owing to the decline in the sale in Delhi during these months ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes. The rate of sale price was fixed by Government and retailers could not charge a higher price.

(b) and (c). Yes.

(d) Government have no information. The selling price of liquor in Delhi ranges between Rs. 2-14-0 and Rs. 3 per bottle.

(e) The higher prices prevailing at Delhi certainly prove an incentive to professional smugglers to smuggle liquor for profit.

(f) The total number of liquor cases detected during the past four years is as follows :

1929-30	9
1930-31	16
1931-32	7
1932-33	39

(g) This relates to a Provincial Excise Department and the Government of India have no information.

(h) Yes. The sale of country liquor in April and May, 1933, has decreased by 45 per cent. as compared with the corresponding months of last year.

(i) The higher sales last year were due to the competition caused by the entry of three Punjab licencees into the Delhi liquor business which resulted in the old licencees attempting to oust them by selling liquor at Rs. 2 per bottle for a short period with consequent large sales. The decrease in sales in April and May, 1933, is due partly to the economic depression and the increased number of people out of employment on account of the closure of the Jumna Mills and the reduction in staff of the Birla Mills.

(j) If the sales in April and May of the current year had been the same as during the same period of last year, the increased duty which would have accrued to Government would have amounted to Rs. 15,725.

MAINTENANCE OF A UNIFORM RATE FOR RETAIL SALE OF COUNTRY LIQUOR IN DELHI.

235. Mr. Goswami M. R. Puri : (a) Are Government aware that the retail sale licence-holders of Delhi have made a common cause and formed a clique to maintain a uniform rate for retail sale of excisable articles in general and of country liquor in particular ? If not, do they propose to enquire ?

(b) Is it a fact that the meetings of the Excise contractors are held at the residence of the Excise Inspector and the Excise Clerk ?

(c) Is it a fact that the Excise contractors daily visit the residence of the Excise Inspector from 7 to 11 A.M. ?

(d) Are Government aware of the questions that are settled on such visits ?

(e) Do Government know the reason why the Excise Inspector is a party at such meetings ?

(f) Are Government aware that some of the Excise contractors were influenced by the Excise Inspector to join the monopoly and thus had to run their business under heavy losses ?

(g) Are Government aware that there was a free interchange of agents among the Excise contractors of Delhi during the year 1932-33, with a view to check the selling prices of one another, with the express knowledge of the Excise Inspector ? If so, is any such interchange of agents permissible ?

(h) Are Government prepared to break such monopolies and take necessary action against the officials responsible for the nefarious practices in Delhi ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Government have no information about such a clique. Maximum sale prices are fixed only for certain excisable articles but no such maximum has been prescribed for country spirit. So long as such maximum rates, where prescribed, are not exceeded, licencees are free to agree to sell at any uniform rate. In the circumstances, Government do not propose to make the enquiry suggested by the Honourable Member.

(b) No.

(c) No. The Excise Inspector at times has to see excise contractors in the performance of his duties.

(d) and (e). Do not arise.

(f) and (g). No.

(h) No such monopoly exists.

ADULTERATION IN THE COUNTRY LIQUOR IN DELHI.

236. Mr. Goswami M. R. Puri : Will Government be pleased to tate :

(a) if it is a fact that there is a general complaint of the Delhi public about the adulteration in the country liquor ;

(b) if they are aware that the licencees make the adulteration in that quantity of country liquor which may be required for the day's sale while the rest of the stock is kept intact ;

(c) how many cases of adulteration in the country liquor in Delhi have so far been detected ;

(d) if there was any atempt made to test the strength of liquor in the hands of consumers after the purchase from the retail shop ? If so, when and how many times were such attempts made and whether the results thereof were brought to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner ;

(e) if no such attempt was made, what is the reason therefor ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Government have received no such complaints from the public.

(b) The excise staff when inspecting liquor shops test the strength of the liquor in bottles selected at random from the stock and in no case has the strength been found to be of a lower degree.

(c) None.

(d) and (e). No consumer complained about the matter and as the strength of the liquor examined at the shops was never found deficient, there was no necessity for such an attempt to be made.

HEAVY TRAFFIC OF COCAINE AND Charas IN DELHI.

237. Mr. Goswami M. R. Puri : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether they are aware that in Delhi there has been a heavy traffic of cocaine and charas, especially during the last four or five years ?

(b) Is it a fact that the present Excise Inspector has been in Delhi for the last seven years and the clerk attached to the Excise office for about ten years ?

(c) Will Government please state the activities of the Excise Inspector towards detection of Excise cases and the number and full details of cases detected by him independently during his term of service in Delhi ? If no case has been detected, what action has been taken by the Delhi Government against him ?

(d) Are Government aware that the Excise Inspectors in the Punjab are bound to show their detecting work independently every year and, if one fails to do so, the Financial Commissioner takes necessary action against him ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) No. On the contrary, conditions regarding the illicit traffic in cocaine and charas in Delhi have greatly improved during the last few years. The improvement is due inter alia to the vigilance exercised over the activities of illicit traffickers by the preventive staff.

(b) The present Excise Inspector has been in Delhi since April, 1927, and the Excise clerk has been attached to the excise office since 1924, with a small break in 1929.

(c) The present Excise Inspector, since he has been posted to Delhi, has detected eight important cases independently and has also taken a prominent part in the detection of a very large number of other cases. He has received a sum of Rs. 600 in cash rewards and several certificates during this period. The Excise Inspector has a large amount of administrative and office work to do and his primary function is to control and collaborate the work of the subordinate excise staff working under his control. It is not to be expected, therefore, that he himself will be able to independently carry out a large number of excise investigations. It is more important that he should control and direct the excise investigations carried out by the Excise Sub-Inspectors working under him, and of necessity, he takes a part in other excise investigations undertaken by the excise staff in Delhi. Besides the eight important cases mentioned above, the Excise Inspector has been responsible for the independent detection of seventeen cases of minor importance.

(d) The question relates to a Provincial Excise Department and the Government of India have no information.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENTS BY THE BUILDING SUPERVISOR OF THE VICEREGAL LODGE, NEW DELHI.

238. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the facts published twice by the National Call of Delhi under the Simla news regarding the embezzlements by the Building Supervisor of the Viceregal Lodge, New Delhi ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) Who was the Supervisor mentioned therein ?

(ii) How long did he remain attached to this particular post ?

(c) Is it a fact that after the disclosure of the facts relating to the embezzlements, he has been transferred to Ajmere-Merwara as Sub-Divisional Officer of the Public Works Department (Central) ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) What pay and other allowances was he drawing as Supervisor of the Lodge ?

(ii) What pay and allowances is he drawing at present ?

(iii) Is it a fact that the post of Sub-Divisional Officer is a gazetted one and superior to that of a Supervisor ?

(iv) If so, did Government mean to give him promotion when ordering his transfer ? If so, for what services ?

(e) Did Government make any investigation through the Department concerned into the allegations of embezzlement ? If so, will Government lay on the table of the House the final report with full facts of the case ?

(f) Did Government hand over the case to the police for investigation ? If not, why not ?

(g) Is it a fact that cases of embezzlement are generally handed over to police for investigation ? If so, why was an exception made in this case ?

(h) Why did not Government contradict the allegations published in National Call so far ?

(i) Are Government prepared to show these papers to lawyer Members of the Assembly in order to convince the public that justice has not been defrauded of its dues by official influence ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I do not propose to give a detailed reply to the different parts of this question, as the question of disciplinary measures to be taken against the officer referred to is still under the consideration of the Government of India.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE VICEREGAL STAFF.

239. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the names of the persons, with names of their respective communities, who are employed in the offices of the Military Secretary to the Viceroy, the Private Secretary to the Viceroy, the Press of the Private Secretary to the Viceroy, and the Viceregal Estate ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the proportionate strength of the various communities among the personnel of each of the offices, and the proportion of the salaries drawn by members of the various communities in each of the above offices ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) and (b). I lay on the table a statement giving information about the communal composition of these offices. I cannot undertake to go into questions of the communal proportion of salaries.

Statement showing the various communities employed on the 31st December, 1932, in the Viceregal Staff.

(i) Office of the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy—

		Per cent.
Hindus	8	61.5
Anglo-Indians	5	38.5

(ii) Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy's Press—

		Per cent.
Hindus	19	50
Muhammadans	16	42.1
Indian-Christians	2	5.3
Sikh	1	2.

(iii) Office of the Military Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy and Sub Offices—

		Per cent.
Hindus	8	40
Muslims	9	45
Europeans	2	10
Sikh	1	5

(iv) Office of Superintendent, Viceregal Estates, Simla, New Delhi and Calcutt.

		Per cent.
Hindus	27	77
Muslims	5	14
Sikhs	2	6
Indian-Christian	1	3

ABSENCE OF SIKHS IN CERTAIN OFFICES.

240. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that no Sikh is in service in the following offices : Director-General of Archæology, Director-General of Indian Medical Services, Imperial Records Department ?

(b) Since how long has there been no Sikh in the above offices ?

(c) Is it a fact that orders have been passed barring the recruitment of Sikhs in these offices ? If so, when, by whom and on what grounds were such orders issued ? Will Government lay a copy of those orders on the table of the House ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state the number of vacancies which occurred in each of the above offices since 1929 ? How many of them were filled by Muslims, Sikhs and Hindus ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) and (b). There has been no Sikh in the office of the Director General of Archæology since the 24th April, 1932. In the clerical establishment of the Imperial Record Department no Sikh has ever been employed. There is one Sikh clerk on the permanent establishment of the office of Director General, Indian Medical Service, but he was transferred temporarily to the Home Department, with effect from the 1st April, 1933.

(c) The reply to the first part is in the negative. The second and third parts do not arise.

(d) There were two vacancies in the office of the Director General of Archæology in India, which were filled by a Hindu and a Muslim. There were seven permanent vacancies of clerks in the office of the Director General, Indian Medical Service, which were filled by a Muslim, a Sikh and five Hindus. There was no vacancy in the Imperial Record Department.

RECRUITMENT OF SIKHS IN THE OFFICE OF THE INCOME-TAX COMMISSIONER, PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE.

241. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Will Government please state the number of Sikhs in the office of the Income-tax Commissioner, Punjab and North-West Frontier Province and all its subordinate offices ?

(b) What is the percentage of Sikhs in these offices as compared with Hindus and Muslims ?

(c) Are Government prepared to order recruitment of Sikh clerks in future vacancies so as to make up the deficiency in the clerical grade ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The number of Sikhs employed in the Office of the Commissioner of Income-tax, Punjab, North-West Frontier and Delhi Province and his subordinate offices is 30.

(b) The percentages are as follows :

(1) Hindus	48.6
(2) Muslims	36.2
(3) Sikhs	9.9

(c) The Government of India propose to issue no special orders to the Head of this Department. The Honourable Member must be well aware of the general orders laid down by Government regarding recruitment from various communities.

RECRUITMENT OF SIKHS IN THE INCOME-TAX DEPARTMENT, PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE.

242. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) What is the total number of permanent Inspectors and Assistant Income-tax Officers in the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province, Income-tax Departments ? How many of them are Hindus, Muslims and Sikhs ?

(b) How many temporary appointments of Inspectors and Assistant Income-tax Officers were made during the years 1930—33 ? How many of those were taken from each community ?

(c) Is it a fact that in the year 1932-33 all the Sikhs temporarily employed as Inspectors were brought under reduction ? If so, why ?

(d) Do Government propose to order the recruitment of the Sikhs in this Department in order to make up the deficiency of their representation ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The total numbers of permanent Inspectors and Assistant Income-tax Officers of various communities in the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province are as follows :

	Inspectors.
Hindus	23
Muslims	13
Sikhs	3
Others	1
	Assistant Income-tax Officers.
Hindus	3
Muslims	4
Sikhs	..
Others	2

(b) No temporary appointments of Assistant Income-tax Officers were made during the years 1930-31 to 1932-33. Twenty-three new appointments of Inspectors were made in the Punjab in 1931-32. Eleven of these were made by departmental promotion and consisted of :

Hindus	6
Muslims	2
Sikhs	2
Others	1

The remaining twelve were directly recruited as follows :

Hindus	3
Muslims	6
Sikhs	3

(c) Yes, because the services of all the temporary survey Inspectors—whatever their community—had to be dispensed with, as the survey operations for which they were engaged were completed and there was no further need for them.

(d) I invite the attention of the Honourable Member to my reply to part (c) of his starred question No. 241.

SHIFTING OF THE IMPERIAL LIBRARY TO NEW DELHI.

243. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government please state if it is contemplated to change in any way the status or management of the Imperial Library in Calcutta, and to shift it to New Delhi ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Proposals to convert the Imperial Library, Calcutta, into a copyright library are under consideration, but no change in the location of the Library or its status or management is contemplated.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is there any proposal to transfer the Library from Calcutta to Delhi ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No, Sir.

CANCELLATION OF THE PASSPORT OF SWAMI BHAWANI DAYAL SANYASI TO VISIT FIJI.

244. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) With reference to the reply of Government to my question, regarding the cancellation of the passport of Swami Bhawani Dayal Sanyasi to visit Fiji, that Swami Bhawani Dayal is a South African National and therefore the Government of India do not propose to make any enquiries, are Government aware that this gentleman possesses landed property in India and is a registered voter in the Province of Bihar and Orissa ?

(b) When and how has he lost his nationality or domicile in India ?

(c) What is the evidence in possession of Government to show that he is a South African National ?

(d) Have not the Government of India from time to time made representations on matters concerning South African Indians who may be Nationals in that country, and, if so, why have they refused to take action in the case of the cancellation of the passport of Swami Bhawani Dayal ?

(e) Is it not one of the primary duties of the Indian Agent in South Africa to protect the rights of the South African Indians, whether they may be permanent residents in the Colony or otherwise ?

(f) Are Government aware that sometime back, Doctor Malan, the Minister of Interior, described the Indians in South Africa as aliens in the Union Parliament ? If so, will Government kindly define their attitude with regard to the Indians who may be in South Africa as nationals or as temporary residents ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Swami Bhawani Dayal Sanyasi is recorded as a proprietor of certain villages in Bihar and Orissa, jointly with his brother, but is not a registered voter in that province.

(b) and (c). Swami Bhawani Dayal was born in South Africa, retains his domicile there and travels to India on a South African passport. Government are, therefore, justified in treating him as a South African national and their view appears to be supported by the definition of national given in sub-section (a) of section 1 of the Union Nationality and Flags Act.

(d) Yes. According to the information given by the Honourable Member in his previous question, the communication from the Fiji Government was addressed to the Government of the Union of South Africa. It also related to a passport granted by the Government of South Africa. The matter was, therefore, primarily one for the Governments of Fiji and of the Government of the Union of South Africa.

(e) Yes. So far as Government are aware, the Agent was never approached by the Swami.

(f) The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. As regards the second part, the position of the Government of India in regard to the rights and privileges of the Indian community in South Africa has been repeatedly explained. They wish to see a progressive improvement of the status of the community and will always continue to work for this.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Did the Honourable Member receive a letter from Swami Bhawani Dayal in which he asserts that he is a registered voter in the province of Bihar and Orissa ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have received a letter from the Swami, but I cannot recollect that he mentions in that letter that he is a registered voter. Anyhow I took the precaution to make inquiries on the subject from the Government of Bihar and Orissa, who, I presume, have information as to who is a registered voter in the province, and the reply which I have just given is based on their answer.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : The Honourable Member must have refreshed his memory before answering my question.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I do not know whether my Honourable friend suggests that in this matter I ought to take the information of the Swami, even assuming that he did say anything on the subject of his being a registered voter, as preferable to that of the Government of Bihar and Orissa.

RATE OF ELECTRIC ENERGY SUPPLIED BY MILITARY ENGINEERING SERVICES TO THE LAHORE CANTONMENT BOARD.

245. Mr. Jagannath Aggarwal : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the rate of electric energy supplied by Military Engineering Services to Lahore Cantonment Board for the public purpose of street lighting is annas four and pies six per unit, and the rate charged by the same Government Department in the same area from private consumers, consuming much less quantity of energy, is annas 4 per unit ? If so, why is Lahore Cantonment Board (a wholesale consumer for public purposes) being charged a higher rate ?

(b) Is it a fact that the same Department in Lahore Cantonment debits about annas two per unit for another public purpose of water supply ?

(c) Are Government aware that in the neighbouring Lahore Municipality the rate of energy charged even by a private concern for public purposes of street lighting is two-thirds the rate charged from private consumers ?

(d) What action do Government propose to take on the representation of the Lahore Cantonment Board in getting this unreasonable rate reduced to at least the rate charged from Water Works ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. Both rates are all-India rates, that for street lighting being higher as such lighting involves a less economical load than the supply for ordinary domestic purposes.

(b) The rate is 3.7 annas per unit.

(c) I am prepared to accept the Honourable Member's statement. I understand, however, that the Lahore Electric Supply Company, Limited, has no " schedule rate " for street lighting but decides every case on its merits.

(d) Government have not received any protest, but are prepared to examine, on its merits, any representation on the subject which the Lahore Cantonment Board may wish to make.

FREE SUPPLY OF WATER TO THE LAHORE CANTONMENT BOARD FOR WATERING ROADS.

246. Mr. Jagannath Aggarwal : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that from long time past up to 1931-32, Government gave free water to Lahore Cantonment Board for watering roads (both Imperial Fund and Cantonment Fund) at Lahore Cantonment ?

(b) Is it a fact that from last year only (1932-33) Government have started charging at the rate of eight annas per thousand gallons, which comes to nearly Rs. 2,800 for this water, without compensating the Board for the expenses it undergoes in watering Imperial Fund Roads ?

(c) Are Government prepared to consider the advisability of removing this new and heavy liability from the Local Cantonment Fund ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) and (b). Prior to 1st May, 1932, a consolidated bill was issued monthly to the Cantonment Authority for all supplies of water provided by the Military Engineer Services for both domestic and non-domestic purposes—including road watering. The bill was never paid in full as the Cantonment Authority merely handed over to the Military Engineer Services their receipts from water tax plus any recoveries made for excess consumption in the case of metered connections, less collection charges.

The loss thus involved to the general tax-payer had to be written off by Government.

Since 1st May, 1932, the supply and payment for water for road watering have been regulated by an agreement drawn up between the Military Engineer Services and Cantonment Authority.

(c) No. The watering of all streets and other public places is one of the obligatory duties of the Cantonment Authority under section 116 (b), Cantonment Act, whatever may be the classification of the roads for purposes of maintenance.

TRANSFER OF CERTAIN ROADS FROM THE MILITARY ENGINEERING SERVICES TO THE LAHORE CANTONMENT BOARD.

247. Mr. Jagannath Aggarwal : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that nearly six miles of roads have been transferred from Military Engineering Services to Lahore Cantonment Board since the Reformed Cantonment Boards were created ?

(b) Is it a fact that two at least of these roads, namely, St. John Road and Fetherston Road, are important military roads leading to Lahore Cantonment Railway Station on which British and Indian Infantry Lines, Armoured Car Lines, Medical Store Depot, Brigade Parade Grounds, Rest Camp, and Military Railway siding are situated ?

(c) If so, what action or actions do Government propose to take in removing the burden of maintenance of at least these two military roads from the Local Cantonment (Board) Fund ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a), (b) and (c). Yes. Although the two roads mentioned carry traffic from certain military areas to Lahore Cantonment Railway Station, they are not classed as ' Military ' roads because they are not required solely or even primarily for military purposes. They are used mainly by the public in the Cantonment. The classification of roads as ' Cantonment ' was agreed to by the Lahore Cantonment Board. No action, therefore, is called for.

ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE LAHORE CANTONMENT BOARD.

248. Mr. Jagannath Aggarwal : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the note appended to the Annual Administration Report of the Lahore Cantonment Board for the year 1932-33 by all the seven elected members ?

(b) If so, will Government be pleased to state whether the official majority and the power of veto under section 52 of the Cantonments Act, was used against the unanimous vote of all elected members present, in all cases mentioned therein ? Are Government aware of the repeated declaration of Government in this House that these special provisions exist only to safeguard legitimate military interests ?

(c) If so, what action do Government propose to take in the matter ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) Yes.

(b) Of the five cases mentioned, the official majority was used in two cases in the circumstances explained in the statements laid on the table on the 21st November, 1932, in answer to starred question No. 834, dated the 26th September, 1932, and on the 29th March, 1932, in answer to starred question No. 354, dated the 15th February, 1932. The power of veto was used in one case for the reasons explained in the statement laid on the table on the 13th September, 1932, in answer to starred question No. 353, dated the 15th February, 1932. In the fourth case Government advised the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief the Command that the resolution passed was illegal.

There is no record of any official intervention in the fifth case.

I cannot trace any declaration in the terms referred to by the Honourable Member in the last part of his question. Perhaps he will be so good as to refer me to the proceedings of the House that he has in mind.

(c) Does not arise.

GRANTS-IN-AID TO LOCAL BODIES IN THE CANTONMENTS.

249. Mr. Jagannath Aggarwal : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether any amount is provided in the Central Budget for grants-in-aid to local bodies in the Cantonments ?

(b) If the answer to part (a) be in the affirmative, what was the amount actually granted last year and to which Cantonment Authorities ? Is it given for any specific purposes ? If so, what ?

(c) Is any portion of this amount reserved for furtherance of educational activities of Cantonment authorities ? If so, what ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) and (b). I lay on the table a statement showing the ordinary and special grants-in-aid given to Cantonments in 1932-33. The total comes to Rs. 1,29,000 divided among 21 Cantonments.

An ordinary grant-in-aid is given to enable a cantonment to maintain financial equilibrium.

A special grant is given for a scheme of public utility which a cantonment is not always able to meet wholly out of its own resources.

(c) No portion of any of the grants is earmarked for expenditure on primary education as such expenditure is part of the normal expenditure of a cantonment.

Statement showing the ordinary and special grants-in-aid given to Cantonments in 1932-33.

Ordinary grants-in-aid.

	Rs.
Amritsar	1,395
Campbellpur	6,200
Sabathu	1,723
Bannu	860
Risalpur	2,700
Mardan	2,634
Lebong	2,854
Jalapahar	2,596
Mingaladon	20,668

Special grants-in-aid

	Rs.
Kohat	10,000
Jutogh	750
Amritsar	9,000
Multan	20,000
Jullundur	8,609
Shillong	7,750
Lansdowne	6,183
Naini Tal	5,638
Muttra	3,000
Wellington	4,000
Kirkee	5,500
Neemuch	1,000
Hyderabad (Sind)	6,000

APPOINTMENT OF CERTAIN TICKET COLLECTORS AS SPECIAL TICKET EXAMINERS IN THE LAHORE DIVISION OF THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

250. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that a certain number of Ticket Collectors in the Lahore division of the North Western Railway have been appointed as Special Ticket Examiners recently ?

(b) Is it a fact that out of these five men have been selected because they presented themselves before the Selection Board, although they were far junior to a number of Ticket Collectors already in service in the division in the matter of length of service ?

(c) Is it a fact that these five persons have been given lifts in pay ranging from Rs. 12 to Rs. 21 per mensem whilst the senior Ticket Collectors, who have thus been superseded, would have got a lift of Rs. 6 per mensem only ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state the financial loss the Railway would undergo through this distribution of these posts among the five junior persons ?

(e) Is it a fact that the majority of the Ticket Collectors selected for these posts have had no experience in the Flying Squad and under the Crew System, whilst most of those whose claims have been overlooked and ignored had experience in the Flying Squad and Crew System ?

(f) Is it a fact that on account of this supersession by junior men a large number of old Ticket Collectors will be for ever barred from exercising their rights as seniors ? If so, what is the number of men so affected ?

(g) Is it a fact that, with the exception of the five persons referred to above, all others were selected without even being present before the Selection Board ?

(h) Is it a fact that this selection has caused a great deal of heart-burning and discontent amongst the senior Ticket Collectors ?

(i) Is it a fact that the men so affected have all individually applied to the authorities concerned for deferring the selection and for a just consideration of their claims ? If so, what action has been taken on such applications so far ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have called for the information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

DAMAGE DUE TO EXCESSIVE RAINFALL TO CERTAIN ARTICLES IN THE COUNCIL HOUSE BUILDING IN NEW DELHI.

251. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Is it a fact that on account of rainfall in Delhi, water entered into the basement of the Council House building there, and damaged some records and papers, as well as some electric coils and other property ?

(b) If so, will Government be pleased to state what articles in the Council House building, or in other Government buildings in New Delhi were damaged, and what approximately is the amount of loss ?

(c) Is it a fact that the roofs of the Council House and other Government buildings in New Delhi were leaking during the rains ? If so, will Government be pleased to state if the leakage and the entry of the water into the basement are due to defective construction of the buildings ?

(d) What approximately is the expenditure incurred, or to be incurred, in removing these defects ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) and (b). Owing to abnormal rainfall the storm water drains headed up, and consequently a certain amount of water entered the basement. No damage has been caused either to the building or to the furniture. The water penetrated to certain old papers connected with the Legislative Assembly Department and certain electric fittings in the basement, but beyond this no damage was done.

(c) Certain roofs did leak during the rains, but this was due to the abnormal rainfall. The suggestion that defective construction was the cause of leakage is not correct.

(d) The expenditure outside the ordinary maintenance grants will be nil.

PAUCITY OF MUSLIMS IN THE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT OF THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

252. Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the article which appeared in the Pilot of Amritsar, dated the 9th July, 1933, under the heading "Medical Department, North Western Railway", describing the paucity of Mussalmans in the Medical Department of the North Western Railway ? If so, are the contents thereof correct ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the number of officers and clerks working at present in the Medical Department of the North Western Railway, showing separately the number of Hindus, Muslims and others ?

(c) Is it a fact that the Chief Medical Officer, his Personal Assistant, the office Superintendent and three Head Clerks are all Hindus as alleged in the above said article ?

(d) Is it a fact that during the course of the last two months all the new recruitments of two Assistant Surgeons and four Sub-Assistant Surgeons have without exception gone to non-Muslims as described in the article ?

(e) If the reply to part (d) above be in the affirmative, was there a majority of Mussalmans in the Department concerned that led the authorities to recruit non-Muslims ?

(f) What steps do Government now propose to take so as to bring the proportion of Mussalmans sufficiently up in the said Department ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have called for certain information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

TRANSFER OF CERTAIN STATE PRISONERS FROM MUZAFFARGARH JAIL TO SOME OTHER JAIL.

253. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Is it a fact that Fazal Ilahi Qurban and Abdul Waris, State Prisoners confined in Muzaffargarh sub-jail, have requested Government for their transfer to some other jail ?

(b) Is it a fact that one of their reasons for this request was that their relatives could not afford to interview them, as it required a lot of money to reach Muzaffargarh, and the other was that the climate of Muzaffargarh is not suitable for their health and one of them, Fazal Ilahi Qurban, is seriously ill ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state how many times they have been interviewed since their transfer to Muzaffargarh ?

(d) Why were they transferred from Multan to Muzaffargarh jail ?

(e) Are Government prepared to transfer them to some other jail ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) No requests for transfer have been received from the State Prisoners.

(b) Does not arise ; but I may mention that both the State Prisoners are reported to have been in good health since their admission to the Muzaffargarh jail.

(c) Fazal Elahi has had three interviews since his transfer to the Muzaffargarh jail and Abdul Waris one.

(d) The transfers were necessary in the interests of jail administration.

(e) No.

DISTRICTS IN THE PUNJAB WHERE PEOPLE ARE ALLOWED TO KEEP SWORDS.

254. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Will Government be pleased to state (a) the names of the districts in the Punjab where people are allowed to keep swords, and (b) the reasons why the people of other districts are not given the same privilege ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) and (b). The Honourable Member is referred to entry 3-A of Schedule II to the Indian Arms Rules, 1924, a copy of which is available in the Library of the House. Swords other than swordsticks are exempt from the operation of sections 13 and 15 of the Arms Act in the districts specified in clause (a) of the entry mentioned above. In the rest of the province the concession is, in the interests of law and order, confined to specified classes.

ILLNESS OF CERTAIN STATE PRISONERS DETAINED IN THE RAJAHMUNDRY CENTRAL JAIL.

255. Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it a fact that three Bengali State Prisoners, namely, Messrs. Surendra Mohan Ghosh, Jivan Lall Chatterjee and Benoyendra Nath Roy Chowdhury who are now detained in the Rajahmundry Central Jail, are suffering from various complicated ailments ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I would refer the Honourable Member to the replies I am about to give to his detailed questions Nos. 256 and 259.

PRESENT CONDITION OF THE HEALTH OF STATE PRISONER MR. SURENDRA MOHAN GHOSH.

256. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that Mr. Surendra Mohan Ghosh was brought to Madras last month for examination and diagnosis at the Madras General Hospital ?

(b) If the reply to (a) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) the details of the present condition of his health, such as the complications, weight, temperature, etc. ;

(ii) the result of such examination ;

(iii) the findings of the examination as to the diagnosis ?

(c) Is it a fact that while Mr. Surendra Mohan Ghosh was detained in the Trichinopoly Central Jail, he was suffering from chronic dysentery ? Is it a fact that after an examination the Medical Officer there recommended to Government for his examination by specialists as it was suspected to be a case of intestinal tuberculosis ? If so, what steps have Government taken in that direction ?

(d) Is it a fact that Messrs. Surendra Mohan Ghosh and Jivan Lall Chatterjee applied some time back to Government for their examination by a Medical Board of Specialists, like Dr. B. C. Roy of Calcutta and others ? If so, do Government propose to appoint such a Board ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Yes.

(b) The Medical Board are of opinion that the State Prisoner is suffering from chronic dysentery. He has had several attacks since 1926, with periods of improvement, but recently there has been some deterioration in his health, with occasional slight fever. His weight on admission to jail as a State Prisoner was 99 lbs. and is now 93 lbs. As a result of this report the question of transferring the State Prisoner to a more suitable climate is under consideration.

(c) The answer to the first part is in the affirmative. The medical officer did not recommend examination by specialists, but at the Madras General Hospital the prisoner was subjected to a thorough X-Ray and pathological examination.

(d) The answer to the first part is in the negative. The second part does not arise.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Will the Honourable Member tell the House how long it will take to investigate the matter of transfer ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I am afraid I cannot give any definite period, but a decision will be reached as soon as possible.

CONDITION OF STATE PRISONERS MESSRS. SURENDRA MOHAN GHOSH AND JIVAN LALL CHATTERJEE.

257. Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it a fact that since the transfer of Messrs. Ghosh and Chatterjee from the Trichinopoly Central Jail to the Rajahmundry Central Jail, their condition has become worse ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : There is nothing to show that the condition of the prisoners has become worse since their transfer to Rajahmundry Jail.

APPLICATION FOR TRANSFER FROM THE RAJAHMUNDRY JAIL OF STATE PRISONERS MESSRS. SURENDRA MOHAN GHOSH AND JIVAN LALL CHATTERJEE.

258. Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it a fact that Messrs. Ghosh and Chatterjee applied to Government for their transfer to some other cooler place, as they could not stand the unbearable heat at Rajahmundry ? If so, do Government propose to do so ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Yes. The question of transferring the State Prisoners is under consideration.

ILLNESS OF MESSRS. BENOYENDRA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY AND JIVAN LALL CHATTERJEE.

259. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that Mr. Benoyendra Nath Roy Chowdhury is suffering from various ailments, such as persistent constipation, indigestion and cruciating pain in the lungs and spine ? If not, will Government be pleased to give the details of his ailments ?

(b) Is it a fact that Mr. Roy Chowdhury applied to Government asking for permission to go to Europe for treatment as he did not improve his health at all in jail ? If so, do Government propose to send him to Europe ?

(c) If the reply to the last portion of (b) above be in the negative, will Government be pleased to state the reasons for it ? If not, why not ?

(d) Is it a fact that Mr. Chatterjee is suffering from phthisis accompanied by rise in temperature every evening ?

(e) If the reply to (d) above be in the negative, will Government be pleased to give the House the details of Mr. Chatterjee's ailments ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) The State Prisoner has kept rather indifferent health. He was recently examined by a Medical Board who reported that he had no organic trouble but was suffering from neurasthenia.

(b) The answer to the first part is in the affirmative. The question of the action to be taken is under consideration.

(c) Does not arise.

(d) and (e). The State Prisoner Jivan Lall Chatterjee was recently given a careful medical examination by the Superintendent of the General Hospital, Madras, in view of the fact that he was having a slight evening temperature but the medical report shows that he is not suffering from any active disease.

HORSE-BREEDING IN THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

260. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) With reference to the answer given to starred question No. 170, dated the 12th September 1932, will Government be pleased to state if it is not a fact that the Ziladar of the Army Remount Department still insists upon payment of Rs. 2 per six months per mare for Nalband ? If it is a fact, do Government propose to issue necessary instructions to stop this practice in future ?

(b) Are Government aware that the Ziladar of Mangwana in Shahpur District issued regular orders for the payment of these dues ? If not, will they be pleased to make an enquiry into this matter ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) The answer to the first part of the question is in the negative ; the second therefore does not arise.

(b) I am informed that the Ziladar did issue such an order about two years ago to a man who had not paid his dues to the Nalband for 2½ years. Instructions were issued at that time to the effect that Ziladars were in no circumstances to concern themselves with the rates payable, or with the collection of Nalbands' fees.

HORSE-BREEDING IN THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

261. Sardar Sant Singh : With reference to starred question No. 210 answered on the 11th September, 1931, will Government be pleased to state if the practice of realizing subscriptions for the Horse-Breeding Society at Sargodha by the Ziladar of the Army Remount Department has been stopped or still continues ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Subscriptions to the Society are not realised by Ziladars, but by the members of the Society.

CONFERENCE OF HORSE-BREEDERS OF THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

262. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that a conference of the Ghoripals was held in Chak No. 27 S. B., Shahpur District, on the 24th and 25th of June, 1933 ? Is it also a fact that that Conference was not declared unlawful by any Government ?

(b) Is it a fact that the District Remount Officer, Sargodha, on the 10th May, 1933, ordered S. Jemadar Asa Singh of Chak No. 27 S B. to refrain from attending this conference, threatening him with the confiscation of his military pension if he acted otherwise ? Is it also a fact that this threat was administered to him in the presence of other military pensioners ? If so, do Government propose to take any action against the said officer for doing so ? If not, have Government issued any instructions to the District Remount Officer to that effect ?

(c) Is it a fact that a similar conference of horse-breeders was held in Chak No. 28 S. B., Shahpur District, in April last ? Is it also a fact that a threat of confiscation of the grant was held out to one Singha Mal, a horse-breeder, who was elected as President of the Reception Committee of that Conference ? If so, under what authority did the District Remount Officer administer such a threat ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) I understand that a meeting was held on these dates, but I do not think that it could be described as a conference of horse-breeders as only about 40 attended out of several thousands in the Shahpur area. The meeting was not declared unlawful.

(b) The answer is in the negative. On the date mentioned the District Remount Officer was not aware that any meeting or conference was going to be held on the 24th and the 25th June, 1933. It is a fact, however, that he warned Jemadar Asa Singh in the presence of other Indian officers, to abstain from agitation against horse-breeding. Government do not propose to take any action against the District Remount Officer or to issue any instructions to him in this connection.

(c) A similar meeting to that referred to in part (a) was held in April last. The answer to the second part of the question is in the negative and the third does not arise.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Is it not a fact that the majority of speeches and resolutions regarding horse-breeding were from non-horse-breeders at the last meeting ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I believe that is a fact.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Is it not a fact that some of the resolutions were opposed by horse-breeders ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Yes, there was some opposition from the horse-breeders.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Member tell me who was the Chairman of this Conference ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I believe, Sardar Sant Singh.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Member tell me whether some representations were made to the local authorities before these Conferences were re-started during the course of this year as regards the grievances of the horse-breeders ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The Director of Remounts informs me that no representations were made to him or to the local authorities on these questions.

Sardar Sant Singh : May I ask under what rule of law was Asa Singh reprimanded by the District Remount Officer and asked not to take part in the meetings ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I do not think there is any rule of law at all. It was merely his advice to this gentleman.

Sardar Sant Singh : When the meeting was not declared unlawful, may I ask how the District Remount Officer could reprimand Asa Singh ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I do not think any law is necessary to enable an officer to reprimand a person who is under his control.

Sardar Sant Singh : Is it not a fact that every person is entitled, as of right, to take part in a lawful meeting ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Yes, Sir, but, as far as I know, the Remount Officer never prohibited anybody from taking part in the meeting.

Sardar Sant Singh : What was then the occasion for reprimanding him in the presence of other horse-breeders ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : As I said, he warned him to abstain from agitation against horse-breeding. He did not warn him not to take part in the Conference.

Sardar Sant Singh : What is the meaning of the Honourable Member's statement that he was asked to abstain from taking part in the agitation when the meeting was lawful ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think my meaning is perfectly clear and I cannot explain it any further.

Sardar Sant Singh : Is not every horse-breeder entitled to act as he likes so long as he does not infringe the rules or laws of the land ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Certainly, Sir.

Sardar Sant Singh : Then what authority had the District Remount Officer to ask him to abstain from such meeting ? Will the Honourable Member ask the Remount Officer not to go out of his way in future ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : He did not ask him to abstain from the meeting or from attending the meeting. He asked him to abstain from agitation against horse-breeding. As the Honourable Member is aware, these horse-breeders hold their land from Government under certain terms and conditions which are imposed for the purpose of encouraging horse-breeding. It, therefore, seems to me to be wrong and improper for any gentleman who holds such land to agitate against horse-breeding as a whole, and the District Remount Officer seems to me to have been perfectly entitled to warn this particular gentleman not to indulge in agitation against horse-breeding.

Sardar Sant Singh : Is there any condition in the grant of these lands that they will not give utterance to legitimate grievances even against the Remount Officers ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : No, Sir.

Sardar Sant Singh : Then why should the Remount Officer go out of his way to reprimand anybody when he is within his rights ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : He did it in the interests of the gentleman concerned and also in the general interests of horse-breeding.

Sardar Sant Singh : What can be the occasion for reprimanding the gentleman if he gives utterance to legitimate grievances ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think I have explained that already and I cannot add anything more to what I have said on the subject.

Sardar Sant Singh : May I know who led this opposition against this Conference that was held there ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I can supply the Honourable Member later with their names. I have not got the records of the meeting here with me and I forget who they were.

Sardar Sant Singh : Then how did the Honourable Member agree with the supplementary question of Khan Bahadur Allah Baksh Khan that there was opposition ? How does he know that there was opposition ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Because I have seen the records of the Conference.

Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that a Sub-Inspector of Police was posted there and that he advised people, who were coming to this Conference, to go and see a dancing match of prostitutes arranged in the next village rather than attend this Conference ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I am not aware of that, Sir

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Has the police department anything to do with the administration of the Remount Department ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Nothing whatever, Sir.

CONFERENCE OF HORSE-BREEDERS OF THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

263. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that the District Remount Officer, Sargodha, issued orders to those horse-breeders who had taken part in the Conference to bring their mares for inspection to the stables every week ? If so, on what authority did the District Remount Officer issue such orders ?

(b) Do Government know that the mares in foal suffer a good deal from heat during the months of May and June when brought from their places of residence to the stables for such inspections ?

(c) Are Government aware that the stables in some cases are situated at a distance of 13 or 14 miles from the villages where the mares are bred and that the mares have to travel all that distance in the sun in the months of June and July, causing great inconvenience to the mares and their owners ? Will Government be pleased to state the object of these inspections ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) Under paragraph 21 (5) page 124 of the Punjab Colony Manual, Volume II, breeders are always liable to be ordered to bring their mares to the stables for technical reasons connected with horse-breeding. Such orders were certainly not given to any horse-breeder merely because he attended the conference.

(b) The utmost consideration is given to the welfare of mares and young stock by officers of the Remount Department, and no orders are issued which are likely to result in harm to either.

(c) The majority of the villages are situated within three miles of the stables. The object of these inspections is to see that the stock is kept in proper condition and to give veterinary treatment and advice for mares and young stock.

CONFERENCE OF HORSE-BREEDERS OF THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

264. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that the employees of the Remount Department attended the Conference and made lists of the grantees who had taken part in organizing the conference as well as in attending it ? Is it proposed to take action against any of those persons ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Certain employees of the Remount Department attended the meeting which dealt, inter alia, with horse-breeding matters. It was therefore an obvious concern of the Department to know the subjects discussed and the persons interested.

It is not intended to take any action against breeders on the ground that they attended the meeting.

HORSE-BREEDING IN THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

265. Sardar Sant Singh : Are Government aware of the manifold grievances of the Ghoripals, and do they propose to instruct the Directors, Army Remount Department, to visit the Sargodha Colony and hear the grievances of the grantees ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Government have no reason to believe that there are any grievances except among the comparatively small number of horse-breeders who do not make honest endeavours to comply with the conditions on which they have been granted land. They do not therefore propose to take the special action suggested.

Sardar Sant Singh : Am I to understand that the Army Remount Department has any rules other than the conditions of the grant by which horse-breeders were permitted to take land ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I have no reason to believe so.

Sardar Sant Singh : Has not my Honourable friend received many complaints that, according to the conditions laid down in the grant, no resumptions of land can take place before there is a number of warnings for the non-performance of duty in regard to the horses ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I have not got all the conditions at my finger's end. If the Honourable Member wishes to have information on that point, I shall be glad if he will put down a separate question.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Is it not a fact that large numbers of people are still desirous of accepting land on horse-breeding conditions ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Yes, Sir, I believe that is a fact.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Is it not a fact that many breeders make considerable profits from the sale of stock and prizes ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think that is also true.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Will Government consider whether some instructions could be given to unsuccessful breeders in order to make more profits from horse-breeding ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I believe the Department is already taking steps in that direction, but the suggestion of the Honourable Member will be borne in mind.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Is it not a fact that the Director, Army Remount Department, tours the Sargodha colony every year and goes to Sargodha more than once in a year ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I believe the Director of Remounts tours all the colonies at least once or twice a year.

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : Was any representation made to him during the course of this year as regards the horse-breeders' grievances ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I have no information on that point, but I think if such representations had been made, he would have told me.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member, who puts the supplementary questions, whether he knew the answers before he put these questions ?

Khan Bahadur Malik Allah Baksh Khan Tiwana : I am a horse-breeder myself and I know more about horse-breeding in my district than any other Honourable Member in this House.

HORSE-BREEDING IN THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

266. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it not a fact that the quality of the mares bred in the Jhelum Colony has improved a good deal ? Is it a fact that punishments are being administered in a larger number than were done in the past in that Colony ? If so, why ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The answer to the first question is in the affirmative. For this great credit is due to the majority of horse-breeders. A small minority make little effort to fulfil the conditions under which they hold their land and are dealt with under the rules in force. So far as Government are aware, there has been no increase in the number of punishments.

Sardar Sant Singh : May I know from the Honourable gentleman if there are any rules, apart from the conditions of the grant, which govern the punishment ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think the punishments, such as they are, are all regulated by the conditions of the grant : but I am not quite sure on that point.

HORSE-BREEDING IN THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

267. Sardar Sant Singh : Will Government be pleased to state the condition under which a mare is required to be tested by the Remount Department ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : On the 14th day after being covered and on every 7th subsequent day until the 42nd day. These instructions are printed on the ticket issued to the owner of every brood mare.

HORSE-BREEDING IN THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

268. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that the young stock of the Sargodha Circle is purchased by the Government for the requirements of the British Cavalry ?

(b) Do Government propose to order the purchase of similar stock for the Indian Cavalry also ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) and (b). Young stock horses are purchased in all areas for the requirements of both British and Indian Cavalry as well as for the other branches of the service, and are classified at maturity according to their suitability.

HORSE-BREEDING IN THE JHELUM CANAL COLONIES.

269. Sardar Sant Singh : Will Government be pleased to state if any grazing ground is set apart in the villages for the young stock when they are let loose in accordance with the instructions issued by the Army Remount Department ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : There is spare land in every chak specially set apart for grazing.

EXAMINATION FOR RECRUITMENT OF NEW HANDS IN THE WIRELESS TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT.

270. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Was any competitive examination held in the year 1932-33 to recruit new hands in the Wireless Telegraph Department of the Government of India ? If so, how many posts were to be filled ?

(b) Is it a fact that originally two persons were recruited by competition and no post was reserved for nomination ?

(c) If the reply to (b) be in the affirmative, who are the persons who topped the list in the competitive examination ?

(d) Is it a fact that a member of the Government of India backed a Muslim candidate who had not come in the competition for appointment to one of these posts ?

(e) Is it a fact that the Public Service Commission was referred to to accept that Muslim candidate ? Is it also a fact that the Public Service Commission declined to accept that candidate ?

(f) Is it a fact that the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs created a new post in order to take that particular Muslim boy ?

(g) Are Government aware of the fact that the Principal of the Mogulpura Engineering College reported against the conduct of that boy as undesirable for Government service ?

(h) Is it a fact that this report of the Principal was endorsed by the Government of the Punjab ?

(i) Is it a fact that Sikh candidates who stood higher in the examination in 1932 or previous years have not been given any job ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The Honourable Member apparently refers to the competitive examination held by the Public Service Commission in December, 1932, for recruitment for two posts in the Superior Telegraph Engineering and Wireless Branches of the Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department, in accordance with rules published in a Resolution of the Government of India, Department of Industries and Labour which was published in Part I of the Gazette of India, dated the 16th July, 1932.

(b) No. The recruitment of two qualified candidates was made by Government on the advice of the Public Service Commission and with reference to the provisions of the rules referred to in (a).

(c) Does not arise.

(d) There is not the smallest foundation for the Honourable Member's suggestion.

(e) and (f). The facts are not as stated by the Honourable Member. Subsequent to the appointment of the two candidates referred to in (b) the question was further examined whether the wording of the regulations might not have given a Muslim candidate, who had obtained qualifying marks in the examination, a reasonable expectation of selection for one of the posts to be filled, and the whole position in regard to the cadre and strength of the Superior Telegraph Engineering Branch was examined by the Director General in consultation with Government. It was found that if three candidates in all instead of two were recruited this would not lead to an excess over the sanctioned strength of the cadre. The qualified Muslim candidate was accordingly recruited after consultation with the Public Service Commission.

(g) and (h). The attention of Government was drawn to an incident in connection with the participation by this candidate, together with others, in the strike of the students of that College in 1931. This incident was brought to the notice of the Public Service Commission, and after a satisfactory reply had been received to certain connected enquiries, it was not considered that the incident should prevent the appointment of the candidate to the service.

(i) In this connexion Government were concerned only with the results of the 1932 examination in which no Sikh obtained qualifying marks.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member if this competitive examination in Wireless Engineering is always held by the Public Service Commission, and whether it is held annually ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : The examination, which, as my reply indicated, is for appointments in the Superior Telegraph Engineering and Wireless Branches of the Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department, is always held by the Public Service Commission, but I think it is only held when the need arises.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Is there any likelihood of its being held this year ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I should like to have notice of that question. I cannot say offhand.

RETURNS OF THE CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES IN INDIA.

271. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that the returns of the Co-Operative Societies in all Provinces of India are called for by the Government of India by October every year ? If so, are Government aware that these returns are prepared by the employees of the Co-Operative Department in the months of July and August ?

(b) Are Government aware that these are the worst months as regards weather in the Punjab and the employees have to suffer great inconvenience when preparing these returns on account of the heat and close atmosphere ?

(c) Do Government propose to make any enquiry into the matter with a view to change the date from 30th September to 31st December ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) The returns are required to be submitted to the Government of India by the 4th October. Government have no information when they are actually prepared.

(b) No such complaint has been received.

(c) Government will consider the Honourable Member's suggestion.

PROMOTION OF GUARDS TO THE ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS' CADRE IN THE DELHI DIVISION OF THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

272. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of Guards who were promoted to the cadre of Assistant Station Master in the Delhi Division of the North Western Railway from January, 1933 to 31st March, 1933 ?

(b) Were the promotions made in order of seniority ? If not, why not ?

(c) Is it a fact that according to the orders of the Agent, North Western Railway, seniority is to be strictly observed in making promotions ? If so, why were those orders not followed in this particular case ?

(d) Did the record of services of the men who were not considered fit for being promoted to the Assistant Station Master's grade contain any adverse reports ?

(e) Had these men passed the prescribed examination before the orders of promotion were issued ?

(f) Have any representations been made by the aggrieved Guards to the Divisional Superintendent, Delhi ? If so, with what result ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information. The matters referred to are all within the competence of the Agent, North Western Railway, to decide and I have sent a copy of the question to him for such action as he may deem necessary.

MR. SMITH'S REPORT ON THE STATE RAILWAYS SCHOOLS.

273. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) With reference to the reply to starred question No. 326 of the 9th February, 1933, will Government be pleased to state if the examination of Mr. Smith's Report, so far as the State Railways schools are concerned, has been finished ? If so, what decisions have Government arrived at in the matters dealt with in Chapters XIV and XVII of the Report ?

(b) When will the tentative decisions of Government be placed before the Central Advisory Committee for Railways as promised ?

(c) In view of the importance of the matter to a vast number of employees, will Government be pleased to place their preliminary decisions, if any have been arrived at, before this House ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No. The matter is still under consideration and I regret I am unable to say when the Government will be in a position to arrive at tentative decisions to place before the Central Advisory Council.

STATUS OF TEACHERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN SCHOOLS.

274. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if the schools maintained by the East Indian Railway for the education of the children of Railway employees are Railway schools and if the teachers employed therein are Railway employees ?

(b) Is it a fact that Sir (then Mr.) Allan Parsons, the then Financial Commissioner, Railways, said in answer to question No. 110, dated the 1st February, 1928, by Pandit H. N. Kunzru ?

" The Oakgrove school is under the East Indian Railway Administration and its teachers and those of the Indian schools maintained by the East Indian Railway Administration are Government servants."

(c) Are Government aware that on the 25th February, 1928, Sir George Rainy, the then Commerce Member of the Government of India, in the course of the debate on the Railway budget, referring to the schools maintained by the Great Indian Peninsula and East Indian Railways, said ?

" Now the schools of two of the biggest Company railways have come under the direct control of the State." (d) Is it a fact that on the 21st February, 1929, Sir George Rainy, the then Commerce Member, Government of India, in the course of the debate on the Railway budget, said ?

"So long as the schools are under our control it is reasonable that the teachers should receive pay on about the same level as they would receive if they were employed in a school run by the Local Government."

Was not the pay of the teachers in the East Indian Railway schools accordingly assimilated to that of the teachers in schools under Provincial Governments ?

(e) Is it a fact that in reply to a reference by the Agent, East Indian Railway, the Railway Board in a letter, dated the 26th June, 1928, stated ?

"In the opinion of the Railway Board teachers employed in the schools maintained by the Railway administration for the education of the Railway children are Railway employees, even though the teachers may actually be engaged by the local committees of the several schools."

(f) Is it a fact that on the 12th September, 1929, in reply to question No. 445, by Pandit H. N. Kunzru, Sir George Rainy, the then Commerce Member, said ?

"The schools are the property of the East Indian Railway, the East Indian Railway belongs to the Government and I do not think there can be any doubt that they are Government schools in that sense."

(g) Is it a fact that in the East Indian Railway Provident Fund Rule 3 (7) the Oakgrove school is referred to as "Government Oakgrove School" and that in reply to question No. 795 of the 20th March, 1933, Mr. P. R. Rau, Financial Commissioner, Railways, said ?

"It is not intended to draw any distinction between the Oakgrove School and the other East Indian Railway schools. The latter are Government schools to the same extent as the former."

(h) Is it a fact that under a recent circular issued by the Divisional Superintendents of the East Indian Railway, the schools maintained by that Railway have been ordered to style themselves as East Indian Railway schools and not as East Indian Railway Aided schools ?

(i) Is it a fact that the names of the teachers employed in the East Indian Railway schools are shewn in the East Indian Railway Classified List of Sobordinate staff of corresponding grades, and that the name of the Principal, Oakgrove School, is shewn in the classified list of Superior Revenue Establishment of State Railways ?

(j) Is it a fact that the Agent, East Indian Railway, has recently ruled that teachers employed in the East Indian Railway Schools are not Railway servants in the same sense as the other employees of the Railway are ?

(k) If so, how do Government reconcile this view of the Agent with the previous declarations and answers given in this House and in the Railway Board's letter of the 26th June, 1928, referred to above and with the facts stated in parts (g) and (h) above ?

(l) Will Government be pleased to state what this ruling means ?

Mr. P. R Rau : (a) It seems to me, Sir, that this question is answered by my Honourable friend himself in the questions contained in other parts of this question, but as stated by me during the last Session the matter is being considered in connection with certain suggestions made in Mr. Smith's report.

(b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g). I have verified my Honourable friend's quotations and find them substantially correct, except that I see no italics in the original.

(h) Government have no information.

(i) Yes.

(j), (k) and (l). Government have not seen the ruling referred to, but are obtaining information from the Agent, East Indian Railway, on the matter.

NON-TREATMENT OF HEAD MASTERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN HIGH SCHOOLS AS GAZETTED OFFICERS.

275. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Are Government aware that the Head Masters in all the provincial Government High Schools in the same scale of pay as the Head Masters in the East Indian Railway High Schools are treated as gazetted officers ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Head Masters in the Government High Schools in the centrally administered areas are also treated as gazetted officers ?

(c) If the answers to (a) and (b) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state why the Head Masters of the East Indian Railway Indian High Schools in the same scale of pay are treated as only subordinates ?

(d) Is it a fact that in their letter No. 1849-E.G. of the 17th March, 1933, the Railway Board wrote to the Agent, East Indian Railway, that the Board considered that the Head Masters of the five East Indian Railway Indian High Schools should be treated as gazetted officers, if similar officers under the Provincial Governments are so treated, and under the same conditions of limits of salary, etc., as the latter are subject to ?

(e) Has the said letter been given effect to ? If not, why not ?

(f) Was the Agent, East Indian Railway, requested to submit his views on the subject ? If so, have his views been received ? Will Government be pleased to lay a copy of the Agent's reply on the table ?

(g) Is it a fact that the said letter of the Railway Board was superseded after a week ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the reasons which induced them to change their views so suddenly ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Government are informed that the Head Masters of Government High Schools in the provinces through which the East Indian Railway passes are Gazetted Officers belonging to the Provincial Educational Services.

(b) Some, but not all.

(c) Government do not think it necessary to follow the classification of officers followed by the Provincial Governments in this matter, but the question is being considered on its merits.

(d) Yes.

(e) The latest orders of Government are to the effect that the Head Masters of the East Indian Railway Indian High Schools should be treated for purposes of travelling allowances as first class officers if the Head Masters of Provincial Government High Schools, with whose pay their pay is assimilated, are so treated, and under the same conditions and limitations as apply to the latter.

(f) The views of the Agent, East Indian Railway, have been received and are under consideration at present. Government regret their inability to place a copy of the Agent's reply on the table as it is a purely departmental document not meant for publication.

(g) The letter of the 17th March was superseded because it did not convey accurately the intentions of the Railway Board.

NON-TREATMENT OF HEAD MASTERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN HIGH SCHOOLS AS GAZETTED OFFICERS.

276. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Is it a fact that the Principal, the Headmaster, the first assistant teacher, and the Headmistresses of the Junior and the Girls' sections of the Oakgrove School rank as officers, while the Headmasters of the Indian High schools rank only as subordinates ? If so, why do Government allow this discrimination ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for not giving these five Headmasters of the East Indian Railway Indian High Schools the status of officers as is done in the Provincial Government High Schools ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (b). Government are informed that the posts specified were declared by the Home Board of the late East Indian Railway Company to be equivalent to the officers grade or the supervisory grade. The Head Masters of the Indian High Schools have till now been treated as subordinates, but the question of their classification for the future is under consideration at present.

ISSUE OF PASSES TO THE TEACHERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN HIGH SCHOOLS.

277. *Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) With reference to Mr. Rau, Financial Commissioner, Railways' answer to question 793 (c) and (d) of 20th March, 1933, on the floor of this House, is it a fact that in the matter of travelling allowance the Headmasters of the East Indian Railway Indian High Schools have been subjected to the same conditions and restrictions as the Headmasters of the Provincial Government High Schools, with whose pay their pay has been assimilated ?

(b) Is it not a fact that under the said orders the Headmasters of the East Indian Railway High Schools have only been placed under the same disabilities and restrictions as regards travelling as Headmasters in the Provincial Government High Schools and have not been given the corresponding privilege of a gazetted officer's status which is enjoyed by the latter ?

(c) Is it a fact that the Headmasters in the Provincial Government schools are treated as gazetted officers even though, on account of drawing Rs. 750 or less per mensem, they may be entitled only to second class travelling allowance under Fundamental Rules ?

(d) With reference to Railway Board's decision referred to in Mr. Rau's answer to question No. 793 of 20th March, 1933, is it intended that the Headmasters of the East Indian Railway Indian High Schools should continue to be styled as subordinates until they draw over Rs. 750 per mensem ? Are Government aware that Headmasters in the Provincial Government High Schools are treated as officers even when they begin on Rs. 250 ?

(e) Is it a fact that on Railways there are employees, viz., the local scale officers, who though drawing only lower allowances than the first class officers are treated as officers ?

(f) Are Government prepared to consider the desirability of removing all anomalies, both in comparison with the teachers in the Oakgrove School and with the Headmasters in the Provincial Government schools, by giving effect to their views contained in their letter No. 1849-E.G. of the 17th March, 1933, addressed to the Agent, East Indian Railway, and treating the Headmasters in the East Indian Railway High Schools as gazetted officers, and under the same conditions of limits of salary, etc., applicable to the teachers of the Oakgrove School, and the Headmasters in the Provincial Government Schools ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Government are informed that this is so.

(d) As I have already stated, this question is under consideration.

(e) There are certain officers in the railways who belong to what is called the Lower Gazetted Service, which is distinct from the superior services.

(f) The question is under consideration.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN THE OAKGROVE EUROPEAN SCHOOL AND OTHER EAST INDIAN RAILWAY SCHOOLS.

278. *Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) With reference to Mr. Rau's answer to question No. 795 of the 20th March, 1933, that it is not intended to draw any distinction between the Oakgrove European school and the other East Indian Railway schools and that the latter are Government schools to the same extent as the former, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) if the Oakgrove school is allowed to use service postage stamps ;

(ii) if the same privilege is extended also to the Indian schools ; if not, what is the reason for this differentiation ?

(b) Are Government prepared to issue instructions that this discrimination should be removed and that other East Indian Railway schools may be allowed to use service stamps, if they so desire ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have called for certain information and will place a reply on the table in due course.

NUMBER AND PERCENTAGE OF INDIANS IN NEW ZEALAND.

279. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Are Government aware of the number and percentage of the Indian settlers in New Zealand ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : So far as Government are aware the total number of Indians in New Zealand was 1,144 on the 31st March, 1932, or ·075 per cent. of the total population.

DENIAL OF EQUITY AND FAIRPLAY TO INDIANS IN NEW ZEALAND.

280. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware that equity and fair play are denied to Indians in New Zealand ?

(b) Are Government aware that Indians are harassed in New Zealand ?

(c) Is it a fact that obstacles are placed in the way of Indians entering New Zealand ?

(d) Is it a fact that Indians are not allowed admission to Cinemas and Picture-houses in New Zealand ?

(e) Is it a fact that in matters of passport Indians are not treated like other British subjects ?

(f) Are Government aware that boycott of Indians is preached in public meetings in New Zealand ?

(g) Is it a fact that a white New Zealander wrote in the Aukland Star of 24th April, 1926 " Indian is more of a menace than Chinaman. The statement that Indians are Britishers and cannot be excluded is all rubbish. A kitten born in a dog kennel is not a dog " ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken by them to reduce the hardships of Indian settlers in New Zealand ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) to (h). I would invite the Honourable Member's attention to the relevant portions of the answers given by me to Shaikh Sadiq Hasan's question No. 888 asked on the 7th November, 1932, and to the supplementaries arising out of that question. The Government of India made an inquiry on the subject of the present position of Indians in the Dominion of New Zealand and have been informed that, since the visit of Mr. Sastri in 1922, Indians in the Dominion have been in no way affected detrimentally. Activities of the White New Zealand League, which is probably in the Honourable Member's mind, and of individuals, who share the views of that body, need not be regarded as in any way influential or representative of the general attitude of the people of New Zealand towards Indians resident in New Zealand.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Is it a fact that they are considered untouchables there ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No ; as far as I am aware, the doctrine of untouchability has not permeated New Zealand.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I also take it that they are not considered inferior there ?

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : You are considered inferior in your own country !

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Certainly not.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : So far as I am aware, they are not considered inferior.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether these conditions show that there is any discrimination against Indians ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : If my Honourable friend will recall to mind what I said in November 1932, he will probably realise that there is one small point in regard to which there is discrimination, and that is, that Indians in New Zealand are not eligible for old age pensions : otherwise there is no discrimination.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether Government are aware that under the White Paper the Government of India cannot pass any discriminatory legislation against any British subject even domiciled in the dominions and colonies ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I confess that I am not in a position to dispute with my Honourable friend, who has been on three Round Table Conferences and recently on the Joint Select Committee, the interpretation of the White Paper : I am really not in a position to deny or confirm what he says.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether the Government of India will take the trouble of informing themselves about this question ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I would suggest that in as much as the Joint Select Committee of Parliament is now seized of this question, my Honourable friend, if he is dissatisfied on the point, will raise it there himself.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member if he considers that the White Paper has many interpretations ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I do not think that that actually arises out of the question which I am answering.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Is it not the business of the Government of India to protect the rights of Indians in this matter ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : So far as Indians settled in other parts of the British Empire are concerned, the Department which I have the honour to represent does look upon it as its responsibility to protect their interests there, and I should be very happy if my Honourable friend would suggest ways and means of removing the particular disability to which I have drawn his attention.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Have not the Government of India considered that the right of retaliation against discriminatory treatment given to Indians is also one of the methods by which Indian rights could be protected ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend will remember that in regard to the question of the entry of people settled in other parts of the Empire into India, there already exists on the Statute-book of this country a law which permits the Governor General in Council to make rules against their entry.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask if the Government of India are not aware that the points raised in this question are not questions as regards entry, but as regards the treatment given to Indians in the country itself after their entry ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : And I have answered to the best of my ability my Honourable friend's question. I have said that the problem is now before the Joint Select Committee of Parliament and my Honourable friend is perfectly at liberty to suggest there that the White Paper should be so amended as to enable the Government of India of the future to retaliate.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is there any officer stationed in New Zealand on behalf of the Government of India to look to the interests of the Indians settled there ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No : no officer is stationed there.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to say what was their reply in connection with part (g) of my question ? I think that question was not asked by Shaikh Sadiq Hasan.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I referred my Honourable friend generally to the answer given by me in November last to the question asked by Shaikh Sadiq Hassan. My Honourable friend in part (g) of his question asked :

"Is it a fact that a white New Zealander wrote in the Auckland Star of 24th April, 1926, 'Indian is more of a menace than Chinaman. The statement that Indians are Britishers and cannot be excluded is all rubbish. A kitten born in a dog kennel is not a dog'."

I confess that my equipment for pursuing this point into the files of New Zealand Papers is not quite adequate.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I know how the Government of India keep themselves informed of the conditions of Indians in New Zealand if they have no representative stationed there ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Well, Sir, we rely upon newspaper reports. As a matter of fact, we have arrangements in the Department for getting newspapers from every Dominion and every colony in which Indians are settled, and then, of course, our Honourable friends are sufficiently vigilant to draw attention to things at times.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to say whether this Auckland Star is included in his list of newspapers or not ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No, Sir, it is not, because it is a local paper with no influence.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is there any newspaper in New Zealand which is published by the Indians settled there and which voices their views and grievances ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I do not think that there is any newspaper published by the Indians settled in New Zealand, but there is an Association of Indians and Europeans jointly there which calls itself "the New Zealand and India League" and which takes an interest in the welfare of the Indian community.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Then why do you say newspapers ?

REPORT OF THE ENQUIRY ABOUT THE LEAVE RULES.

281. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether Mr. Sloan has finished his enquiry about the leave rules ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to lay a copy of his report on the table ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) and (b). No special enquiry was conducted by Mr. Sloan about leave rules. New leave rules for new entrants to the Governor General's services will, it is hoped, be issued during the current year.

PROPOSED RAISING OF THE AGE OF SUPERANNUATION.

282. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Do Government propose to raise the age of superannuation from 55 to 60 years ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how it will give them an immediate saving ?

(c) Are Government aware that the raising of the age of superannuation is not liked by the public servants ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Government have no such proposal under consideration at present.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) Government have no information.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know what is the rule as regards superannuation of Europeans in India ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I must ask my friend for notice of that question. I cannot give him the exact rule from memory.

CONVERSION OF THE PENSIONS OF CERTAIN OFFICERS FROM "VOTED" TO "NON-VOTED".

283. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that in 1930 the Secretary of State for India revised the pensions of certain officers so that from voted they became non-voted from that year ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to place on the table of the House a list of those officers whose pensions have been made non-voted by the Secretary of State for India ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) and (b). The Honourable Member is evidently referring to the rules issued by the Governor General in Council under sections 67 A and 72 D of the Government of India Act and published with the Home Department notification No. F. 207|30-Ests., dated the 15th October, 1930. The effect of the rules is to render non-voted the salaries, pensions, etc., of persons appointed before the 1st April, 1924, to the services and posts included in the Schedule appended to those rules. The notification in question was published in the Gazette of India, dated the 18th October, 1930, a copy of which is in the Library of the House.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : What is the reply to part (b), Sir ? I could not follow you.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The reply to that is that the notification in question was published in the Gazette of India, dated the 18th October, 1930, a copy of which is in the Library of the House.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state what are the reasons which forced them to take these officers from the voted to the non-voted list ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : It is in accordance with the provisions of the Government of India Act which lays down as one of the non-voted categories persons appointed before the 1st day of April, 1924, by the Governor General in Council or by a Local Government whose services or posts are classified by rules under this Act as superior posts. It is necessary to issue a list of these posts.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Am I to understand then that these officers previous to this were wrongly entered in the voted category ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That was an amendment of the Government of India Act which was made by Parliament in 1925.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : So from 1925 to 1930 these people were wrongly entered in the voted category ? Is it not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I am not quite sure, Sir, what the position was. I can remember that at a period long before 1930 we were engaged in the Home Department in preparing this list, and, why it was not published before 1930, I am afraid, at the moment I cannot say.

APPOINTMENT OF A FINANCIAL ADVISER TO THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER, ANDAMANS.

284. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that a financial adviser has been given to the Chief Commissioner, Andaman Islands ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The answer is in the negative.

LOANS DUE TO INDIAN STATES AND PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS.

285. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of the House a statement showing the loans due to Indian States and to the Provincial Governments on the 31st March, 1933 ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : The amounts outstanding on the 31st March, 1932, are given in Accounts Nos. 95 and 86A of the Finance and Revenue Accounts for 1931-32. Later exact figures are not yet available, as the accounts for 1932-33 have not yet been closed.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Did the Honourable Member suggest that the accounts for 1932-33 have not yet been closed ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I did more than suggest it, and I said to my friend that it was a fact.

PAYMENT BY THE INDIAN STATES AND PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS OF DEBT INSTALMENTS.

286. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state whether all the Indian States and the Provincial Governments have paid the instalment of debts due in the financial year 1932-33 ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : The information required by the Honourable Member is not yet available as the accounts of the year 1932-33 have not yet been closed.

GRANT OF POWER OF BORROWING MONEY TO LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.

287. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that under the existing constitution, Provincial Governments have no power to borrow money on the market ?

(b) Do Government propose to recommend to allow the Local Governments under the new constitution to borrow money on the market if they can get the same at a cheaper rate of interest or at more favourable terms ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The answer is in the negative. Bombay, United Provinces and Punjab have raised loans in the open market.

(b) The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to paragraph 149 of the Proposals in the White Paper.

REFUSAL OF PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS' DEMAND FOR LOANS.

288. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state whether they have ever refused the total demand, or a part of that required by any Provincial Government as a loan ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Yes, demands have on occasions been partially refused and in the last two years the Government of India have informed Local Governments that advances will not be made for new projects except in cases of imperative necessity.

LOANS TAKEN BY PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS.

289 Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the Provincial Governments go on overdrawing on their current account throughout the year and then in the end take a loan of the minimum amount necessary to cover their over-draft ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : It is a fact that loans for this purpose can be taken at the end of the year, but it is not correct to say that Provincial Governments as a whole are overdrawn throughout the year.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that they are entitled to overdraw ? That was the question, Sir ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : It is a fact that they are entitled to overdraw, because we have no means of preventing them from doing so.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : When they overdraw and that amount is shown at the end of the year as a loan, who pays the interest for the intermediate period ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : My friend, I think, is asking what happens as regards interest on amounts that may be outstanding as overdrafts during the current year before they are actually taken as a loan. I am afraid I must ask my friend for notice of that question. It is a confusing point on which I should not like to give an answer offhand.

PREVENTION OF THE SALE OF BAD SALT TO THE PUBLIC.

290. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that in October, 1929, salt merchants were supplied with more than 49 thousand maunds of bad quality of salt, much of which was unfit for human consumption ?

(b) Was any step taken by Government to prevent the sale of the bad salt to the public ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) 48,060 maunds of inferior salt were supplied from Kharaghoda to salt merchants in the United Provinces in October-November, 1929, through a mistake on the part of the officers there.

(b) No, as the salt in question was sifted and cleaned by the merchants before it was sold to the public.

Mr. B. Das : Did Government administer any chastisement to those officers who supplied bad salt ? My question is whether the officers at Kharaghoda were punished for supplying this bad salt to the public ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I understand, my friend asks whether the Government of India administered any chastisement to these officers. I do not think that would be a proper form of punishment in that particular case. I don't think any particular punishment was administered to them at all.

MR. GANDHI'S TELEGRAM TO THE PRIVATE SECRETARY TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY AND REPLIES THERETO.

291. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table copies of the telegrams received by the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy from Mr. Gandhi and the replies which were given to him ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether the replies were given after consultation with the Home Department ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state whether they had consulted the Secretary of State for India in this connection ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state their policy in connection with the request of Mr. Gandhi contained in his telegrams ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) I lay on the table a copy of the telegraphic correspondence referred to.

(b) and (c). The replies sent to Mr. Gandhi were in full accord with the views and had the concurrence of the Government of India and the Secretary of State.

(d) I would refer the Honourable Member to the replies which state the policy of Government and to which I have nothing to add.

Telegraphic correspondence between Mr. Gandhi and the Private Secretary to the Viceroy regarding Mr. Gandhi's request for an interview.

Telegram dated the 15th July, from Mr. Gandhi, to the Private Secretary to the Viceroy :—" Will His Excellency grant interview with a view to exploring possibilities of peace. Kindly wire."

Telegram dated the 17th July, from the Private Secretary to the Viceroy, to Mr. Gandhi :—" In reply to your telegram asking for an interview, His Excellency has directed me to say that if the circumstances were different he would have gladly seen you. But it would seem that you are opposed to withdrawing the Civil Disobedience Movement except on conditions, and that the interview you seek with His Excellency is for the purpose of initiating negotiations with Government regarding these conditions. It also appears to have been decided that unless the Congress reaches a settlement with Government as the result of such discussions Civil Disobedience will be resumed on August 1.

It is hardly necessary to remind you that the position of Government is that the Civil Disobedience Movement is wholly unconstitutional and there will be no compromise with it, and that Government cannot enter into any negotiations for its withdrawal. On April 29, 1932, the Secretary of State in the House of Commons stated that there will be no question of making a bargain with Congress as a condition of its co-operation. The same position has been consistently maintained by Government in numerous subsequent statements. If the Congress desires to resume its position as a constitutional party and to put an end to a movement, which has brought grave injury and suffering to the country the way is open to it, as it always has been, and it is within the power of the Congress to restore peace by withdrawing on its own initiative the Civil Disobedience Movement.

As, however, the Congress is not willing to take that action an interview with His Excellency will meet no purpose."

Telegram dated the 17th July, from Mr. Gandhi, to the Private Secretary to the Viceroy :—" Your wire of even date has come upon me as a painful surprise. I had not expected that the Government would take official notice of unauthorised publication of confidential proceedings of an informal conference and on the basis thereof reject a request for an interview. If the interview were granted, I could show that the proceedings taken as a whole were calculated to bring about honourable peace. The conference was undoubtedly favourable to peace, if it can be obtained without humiliation.

If, however, the Government hold that they cannot have any conversation even for promoting peace with a representative of an association engaged in activities in breach of state laws, however, repressive they may be, until that association first discontinues such activities which it believes to be in pursuance of an inherent right belonging to the human family, I can have nothing to say.

Nevertheless, I would like to add a personal note. My life is regulated by peaceful motives. I hanker for real peace, but I must confess that I cannot be satisfied with a make-shift. If I resort to non-co-operation or Civil Disobedience it is for establishing true and voluntary co-operation and obedience to laws in place of forced co-operation and forced obedience. I, therefore, hope my request for an interview will be granted."

Telegram dated the 17th July, from the Private Secretary to the Viceroy, to Mr. Gandhi :—" His Excellency had hoped that the position of the Government was plain. It is that Civil Disobedience is a movement intended to coerce the Government by means of unlawful activities, and that there can be no question of the Government holding conversations with a representative of an association which has not abandoned that movement."

Mr. B. Das : Has the Honourable Member noticed the recent Press interviews by Mahatma Gandhi in which he said that he was more pleased to be free to work for peace than to go to jail, and, in view of that statement, will Government change their attitude towards Mahatma Gandhi and allow him to interview His Excellency the Viceroy ?

deliveries of ordinary mails, abolition of special deliveries of the foreign mails, larger employment of extra-departmental agents in smaller post offices, etc. Posts not only of the classes mentioned but also of other classes wherever found in excess of actual requirements have been or are being abolished or reduced from a higher to a lower scale of pay.

RETRENCHMENT OF INFERIOR SERVANTS IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

†296. *Mr. A. Das : (a) Will Government be pleased to furnish a statement, circle by circle, showing the number of inferior servants on the postal side brought under reduction from the beginning of retrenchment to the end of June, 1933 ?

(b) While furnishing this statement, will Government be pleased to furnish the figures, circle by circle, and under different categories of runners, packers and of other inferior servants retired compulsorily, i.e., before they had completed their service entitling them to earn their full pension ?

SAVING EFFECTED BY RETRENCHMENT OF STAFF IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

297. *Mr. A. Das : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the saving caused to the Department, circle by circle, in the fixed establishment charges during the year 1932-33, by the process of retrenchment in the staff of clerical and non-clerical superior servants and inferior servants on the postal side ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Information in the detail wanted by the Honourable Member is not readily available and in view of the labour involved Government do not propose to collect it. In this connexion attention is drawn to the statement supplied to the House on the 13th of March, 1933, which shows the total economies in the fixed establishment charges of the Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department under various classes of staff. A detailed statement giving information in respect of the same classes of staff but in detail for each Circle is being prepared and will be laid on the table of the House when it is ready.

SAVING EFFECTED BY THE DISCONTINUANCE OF ALLOWANCE PAID TO POSTMEN FOR THE DELIVERY OF FOREIGN MAIL.

298. *Mr. A. Das : Will Government be pleased to state the amount of the annual saving caused to the Department by the discontinuance of allowance paid to postmen of certain important places for the special delivery of the weekly inward foreign mail ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : The abolition of the special deliveries of inward foreign mails at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, Karachi and Rangoon has resulted in an annual saving of approximately Rs. 43,000 in the allowances paid to postmen and other staff. Government regret that separate figures showing the annual saving which has resulted from a discontinuance of the allowances paid to postmen only are not readily available.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 295.

SUPPLY OF UMBRELLAS TO THE OUTDOOR POSTAL STAFF.

299. *Mr. A. Das : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that umbrellas which were hitherto supplied annually to the outdoor staff, have recently been ordered to be supplied biennially ?

(b) If so, will Government state whether any instructions have been issued for the purchase of umbrellas of a better make so that they may continue serviceable for the stipulated period of two years ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the average cost of an umbrella, and the annual saving effected by the curtailment in the supply ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I reply on the assumption that the question relates to the Posts and Telegraphs Department.

(a) Yes, but the orders were issued in May, 1931.

(b) No, as no complaint has yet been received that the umbrellas hitherto supplied were not lasting for two years.

(c) The cost of one umbrella is Rs. 1-4-0 and the saving is the amount of half of this sum multiplied by the number of umbrellas issued. I regret that I have no precise information as to the total number but it is large.

Mr. A. Das : Is this economy due to any change in the annual rainfall which the Government have noticed ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : No, Sir.

Mr. A. Das : Having regard to the small saving and the great hardship which it entails on postmen, will Government consider the advisability of discontinuing this practice and continuing the old practice ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : As I have explained, no complaints have yet been received that the umbrellas supplied have not been lasting for two years.

EVIDENCE GIVEN BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA AND BY SIR MALCOLM HAILEY BEFORE THE JOINT PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEE.

300. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware of the evidence given by the Right Honourable Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India and by His Excellency Sir Malcolm Hailey before the Joint Parliamentary Committee ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of the House a copy of the same ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) Yes.

(b) I am not in a position at present to lay a copy of the evidence on the table. A copy will be placed in the Library when available.

PROPOSED DEMOLITION OF A PORTION OF THE WALL WHICH SEPARATES OLD DELHI FROM NEW DELHI.

301. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that some portion of the wall which separates Old Delhi from New Delhi is to be demolished ? If so, why ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I see no reason, Sir, in anything that Mr. Gandhi has said to make the Government change their attitude.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Are Government prepared to grant an interview now ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No, not under the present conditions.

ABOLITION OF POSTS OF CERTAIN CADRES IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

292. Mr. A. Das : (a) With reference to questions Nos. 484 (a) and 485 (a), asked in the Legislative Assembly by Mr. N. M. Joshi on the 25th February, 1933, will Government be pleased to furnish this House with statements showing the figures of abolition of posts and conversion of departmental branch post offices from the 1st December, 1932 to the 30th June, 1933 ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the amount of the saving effected, circle by circle, from the beginning of the retrenchment to the end of June, 1933, by the abolition and conversion referred to in the foregoing question ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) A statement giving the figures for the period December 1st, 1932 to May 31st, 1933, is laid on the table. It is regretted that figures for the month of June, 1933, are not available.

(b) Government regret that they are not in a position to give figures of the savings actually realised in each Circle but the economies of the kind introduced in all Circles taken together are expected to yield, when fully effective, a saving of approximately Rs. 15,00,000 annually.

Statement.

Circle.	Number of departmental branch post offices converted into extra departmental post offices.	Number of posts of overseers (including mail and cash overseers) abolished.	Number of post of Head postmen, Postmen and Village postmen abolished.
Bengal and Assam ..	19	5	94
Bihar and Orissa ..	26	11	15
Bombay	32	1	143
Burma	16	7	31
Central	53	2	43
Madras	11	7	69
Punjab and N.-W. F. ..	14	3	65
United Provinces ..	24	22	129
Sind and Baluchistan ..	2	Nil	3

POSTAL CLERKS IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

293. Mr. A. Das : While furnishing the information asked for by Mr. N. M. Joshi on the 25th February, 1933, in questions Nos. 486 (a) and (b), will Government be pleased to supplement the same with information for the period ending the 30th June, 1933, and further state how many of the posts in the Lower Division of clerks were held on that date by men promoted from the rank of postmen ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Information is being collected and will be placed on the table in due course.

RETRENCHMENT OF HEAD POSTMEN IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

294. Mr. A. Das : Will Government be pleased to state the number of head postmen brought under reduction in each circle from the beginning of retrenchment to the end of June, 1933 ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Government regret that information for the period ending June, 1933, is not readily available, but the figures up to the 31st January, 1933, are as follows, and it is hoped that these will meet the Honourable Member's requirements :

Bihar and Orissa Circle	2
Burma	3
Central	5
Punjab and N.-W. F.	16
Sind and Baluchistan	2
Bombay	26
Bengal and Assam	2
United Provinces	8
Madras	Nil.

RETRENCHMENT OF CERTAIN POSTAL OFFICIALS IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

295. Mr. A. Das : Will Government be pleased to furnish a statement showing, circle by circle, the number of (i) mail overseers, (ii) overseer postmen, (iii) head postmen, (iv) sorting and reader postmen, (v) departmental branch postmasters, and (vi) postmen and village postmen who were retired compulsorily, i.e., before completion of their service or attaining the age of superannuation, as a measure of retrenchment, i.e., due to the abolition or conversion of the posts held by them ? Was this action based on any order to that effect ? If so, will Government be pleased to place on the table of the House a copy of such order ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : With your permission, Sir, I propose to deal with questions Nos. 295 and 296 together. Government regret that the information required for the purpose of a detailed reply to these questions is not readily available and could not be obtained without much time and labour. Generally speaking, however, the position is that on account of the unsatisfactory state of the finances of the Posts and Telegraphs Department general orders were issued to secure all reasonable economies wherever possible, for example the reduction in the number of (b) Do Government propose to repair the ancient wall instead of demolishing a portion thereof ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) During the recent rains a portion of the Delhi City Wall fell and resulted in the death of two persons and serious injury to a third. The whole wall was carefully examined and it was noticed that there were other portions which were in imminent danger of collapse. As heavy rain continued and repairs could not be effected quickly, the dangerous portions were pulled down.

(b) The matter will be considered in due course.

RACIAL DISCRIMINATION IN THE JAMALPUR WORKSHOP, EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

302. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that Indians and Europeans are not treated equally at Jamalpur Workshop, East Indian Railway ?

(b) Is it a fact that (i) Messrs. C. O. Tomkinson, E. R. Dale and S. P. D'Costa were working as Scheduling Supervisors at a grade of Rs. 550 ; and (ii) since an Indian, an old ex-special grade apprentice, was appointed for the same job, the grade has been reduced to Rs. 250 ?

(c) Is it a fact that European officers working as Scheduling Supervisors used to enjoy the privilege of coming to work at 8 A.M. but Indian officers are not given that privilege ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : With your permission, Sir, I propose to reply to questions Nos. 302 and 304 to 306 together. I have called for information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

FACILITIES GIVEN TO MUSLIM EMPLOYEES OF THE STATE RAILWAYS TO PERFORM IDUL-ZUHA AND IDUL-FITR PRAYERS.

303. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware that Id-uz-Zuha and Id-ul-Fitr prayers are most important prayers for Musalmans ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether facilities are given to Muslim employees of the State-managed Railways to give them sufficient time to perform the Id-uz-Zuha and Id-ul-Fitr prayers ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) Government have received no complaints that the facilities given are inadequate.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF APPRENTICES NOMINATED TO THE WELDING DEPARTMENT, JAMALPUR RAILWAY WORKSHOP.

†304. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that in the Welding Department at Jamalpur Workshop apprentices are taken by nomination ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how many apprentices have been taken during the last five years and what is the communal composition of each year's nomination ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 302.

RACIAL DISCRIMINATION IN THE JAMALPUR WORKSHOP, EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†305. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that in the Jamalpur Workshop, East Indian Railway, Europeans are given preference over Indians ?

(b) Is it a fact that in the Blacksmith Shop non-Indians who have never received blacksmith training, are brought in and are made senior chargemen while Indians who have completed blacksmith apprenticeship are not made senior chargemen ?

OVERLOOKING OF CLAIMS OF TRAINED INDIANS IN THE JAMALPUR WORKSHOP, EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†306. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that claims of deserving trained Indians are overlooked at the Jamalpur Workshop, East Indian Railway ?

(b) Is it a fact that untrained men from other shops are now made senior chargemen ? If so, why ?

MANUFACTURE OF PLAYING CARDS IN INDIA.

307. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware that playing cards are manufactured in India ?

(b) Are Government aware of the amount of Indian capital which has been invested in this industry ?

(c) Is it a fact that the duty on playing cards is 50 per cent. while the duty on card-boards imported for the manufacture of playing cards in India is 30 per cent. ?

(d) Do Government propose to examine the desirability of exempting from duty the card-board imported for the manufacture of playing cards ?

(e) Do Government propose to protect the playing card manufacturing industry ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) Yes.

(b) No.

(c) The import duty on playing cards is :

Standard rate	50 per cent.	ad valorem.
Preferential rate for the United Kingdom ..	40 „	„

and that on card-boards is :

Standard rate	30 „	„
Preferential rate for the United Kingdom ..	20 „	„

(d) Government recognise that it is in the interests of industrial development that the duties on the materials of industries should be as low as possible, and such duties are being reduced or removed as opportunity and financial considerations permit.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 302.

(e) Applications from certain playing card manufacturers for protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1933, are receiving consideration.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Are Government aware that the indigenous manufacturers of playing cards are put to great loss on account of intensive Japanese competition ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I would draw my Honourable friend's attention to the answer which I just now gave to part (e) of the question. The answer is that their applications have been received and they are now being considered.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Thank you.

Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur : Is there any means available to Government to determine what the quantity is of imported card-board which is used for the manufacture of playing cards ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I could not give my Honourable friend a reply straight off, but if he desires information on that point, I will attempt to get it for him.

Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur : Is there not any other action which the Government can take than a mere deduction in the duty on card-board ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I did not suggest that the Government were ready to take that action at all.

ABSENCE OF MUSLIM OFFICERS IN THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

308. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that there is not a single Mussalman in the Calcutta Port Trust who draws a salary of Rs. 500 or more or is on a scale of salary rising up to or above that amount ?

(b) Is it a fact that the total number of officers now in the Commissioners' service, excluding men on leave preparatory to retirement (the term officer includes all men coming under the Fundamental Leave Rules), who are on a scale of pay rising above Rs. 499, is made up as follows ?

Europeans cum Anglo-Indians	116 + 72	188	90.8 per cent.
Hindus	19		9.2 per cent.
Muslims	Nil		Nil

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the total number of officers now in the Commissioners' service, who are on a scale of pay rising above Rs. 350 according to the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians	..	..
Hindus	..	..
Muslims	..	..
Others	..	..

(d) If the answer to (a) and (b) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state why, in spite of the fact that a resolution urging the Indianisation of the Port Trust services was adopted by the Council of State as far back as 1922, there is such poor representation of Indians in the Calcutta Port Trust in the senior grades which carry maximum salaries of Rs. 500 or more and why does not a single Mussalman hold any of the posts ?

(e) What are the high technical and academic qualifications which are deemed to be necessary for holding a post in the Calcutta Port Trust, which carries a maximum salary of Rs. 500 and above ?

(f) Is it not a fact that there exists a large number of posts in the Calcutta Port Trust which carry a maximum salary of Rs. 500 and above and for which technical qualifications are not necessary, only a liberal amount of general education being quite sufficient for holding such posts ?

(g) Are there no Hindu and Mussalman Indians with sufficient qualifications to hold posts in the Calcutta Port Trust, which carry a maximum salary of Rs. 500 and above, available ?

(h) Is it not a fact that the general educational qualifications of a large number of Europeans and Anglo-Indians who enjoy a preponderating share of the posts carrying maximum salaries of Rs. 500 and above are not usually above the Senior Cambridge or its equivalent ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : With your permission, Sir, I propose to answer questions bearing Serial Nos. 308, 309, 310, 311, 312 and 313 together.

Information is being called for and a complete reply will be laid on the table when it is received.

AMOUNT SPENT ON THE SALARIES AND ALLOWANCES OF THE OFFICERS UNDER THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

†309. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the percentages of the total amount spent on the salaries and allowances of the officers under the Calcutta Port Trust, which go to Europeans-cum-Anglo-Indians, Hindus, Mussalmans, and other Indians, are as follows ?

Europeans cum Anglo-Indians	49.56 per cent.
Hindus	46.28 per cent.
Muslims	3.58 per cent.
Others	.58 per cent.
	100.00 per cent.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 308.

RECRUITMENT OF MUSLIMS IN THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

†310. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that all the Mussalman employees of the Calcutta Port Trust coming under the Fundamental Leave Rules are clerks or are holding posts of the clerical status ?

(b) How many Mussalman employees are there in the Port Trust, who are on a scale of salary :

(i) rising above Rs. 350 but not exceeding Rs. 450 ;

(ii) rising above Rs. 300 but not exceeding Rs. 350 ;

(iii) rising above Rs. 250 but not exceeding Rs. 300 ;

(iv) rising above Rs. 200 but not exceeding Rs. 250 ;

(v) rising above Rs. 150 but not exceeding Rs. 200 ;

(vi) rising above Rs. 100 but not exceeding Rs. 150 ;

(vii) rising up to Rs. 100 ; and

(viii) rising to amounts less than Rs. 100 ?

(c) Is it a fact that the Mussalman employees in the Port Trust are all engaged in out-door work ?

(d) In April, 1933, how many Mussalman clerks were there in each of the following offices under the control of the Port Commissioners :

(i) Port Commissioners' Head Office, all Departments taken together,

(ii) Jetty Superintendent's office,

(iii) Dock Superintendents' office,

(iv) Office of the Superintendent, Kantapukur,

(v) Office of the Superintendent, Tea Warehouse,

(vi) Office of the Deputy Dock Superintendent, Coal,

(vii) Controller of Stores' Office,

(viii) Office of the Executive Engineer, Calcutta Division,

(ix) Office of the Executive Engineer, Kidderpore Docks,

(x) Office of the Executive Engineer, King George's Docks,

(xi) Chief Mechanical Engineer's office,

(xii) Office of the Superintendent, Collections, and (xiii) Offices other than mentioned in (i) to (xii) ?

(e) Do the Commissioners as a rule always advertise in the Calcutta Gazette and the leading Calcutta papers about all vacancies, whether of the clerical or officer's rank, under their control whenever there is occasion for filling up the same ?

(f) If the answer to part (e) above be in the affirmative, do they mention in such advertisements, inviting applications, the minimum qualifications which the candidates must possess ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 308.

(g) Do Government propose to appoint a committee consisting of Members of this House to examine the records of the Calcutta Port Trust and to report whether the rules and instructions of Government about the recruitment of employees have been fully observed by the authorities concerned ?

RETRENCHMENT OF STAFF IN THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

†311. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Calcutta Port authorities recently launched a scheme for retrenching their staff ?

(b) If the answer to part (a) be in the affirmative, how many Europeans, Hindus, Mussalmans and others, coming under the Fundamental Leave Rules, have been retrenched ?

(c) Do Government propose to instruct the Calcutta Port Trust to keep in view the paucity of Muslims in the junior scale and the paucity of Hindus in the senior scale of service and total absence of Muslims in the senior scale ?

RETRENCHMENT OF STAFF IN THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

†312. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that some of the Calcutta Port Trust employees who had been retrenched according to the terms of the latest retrenchment scheme were afterwards recalled ?

(b) If the answer to part (a) be in the affirmative,

(i) how many were altogether recalled ;

(ii) of those recalled, how many were Mussalmans ?

VOLUNTARY RETIREMENT OF MUSLIM EMPLOYEES OF THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

†313. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : How many Mussalman employees in the Calcutta Port Trust retired voluntarily or proceeded on leave preparatory to retirement after the 1st April, 1933 ?

THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS ON PENAL LAWS HELD AT PALERMO.

314. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware that noted criminal lawyers and jurists from twenty nations met recently for the Third International Congress on Penal Laws in March, 1933, at Palermo ?

(b) Are Government aware of the existence of the International Association of Penal Laws of which 54 nations are members ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state whether India is a member of the Association mentioned in part (b) or not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig (a) Government received intimation that the Third International Congress of the Diritto Penale would meet in Palermo in April, 1933.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 308.

(b) and (c). Government are aware of the existence of the International Penal Law Association but have no information in regard to its organisation or membership.

DERAILMENT OF A PASSENGER TRAIN NEAR DHARAMPUR, KALKA SIMLA RAILWAY.

315. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for the derailment of the engine and the three bogies of No. 85 Up Passenger at mile 19.4 between Sonwara and Dharampur on the Kalka Simla Section, North Western Railway on the 17th April, 1933, and the list of the casualties ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I would invite a reference to the reply which I gave to Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh's question No. 25 on the 23rd August on this subject.

SUGAR AND INDUSTRIES CONFERENCES HELD AT SIMLA.

316. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that Sugar Manufacturing Industry Conference was held recently at Simla ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Industries Conference was held recently at Simla ?

(c) Is it a fact that protection has been given to the sugar industry ?

(d) Is it a fact that protection has been given to the Punjab wheat ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state what help and assistance, if any, has been given by them to the paddy growing class of Eastern India ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) to (c). Yes.

(d) The Wheat (Import Duty) Act provides for the levy of a customs duty on wheat imported into India.

(e) Since the Indian Empire as a whole is a large exporter of rice, the most important method of assistance is to devise means of increasing the efficiency of production. To this end the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research has made grants aggregating 9.19 lakhs for research work on rice to the provinces of Madras, Bengal, United Provinces, Burma, Bihar and Orissa, Central Provinces and Assam. This is in addition to a grant of Rs. 2,03,279 for work in Burma and Bengal obtained from the Empire Marketing Board.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Are Government aware that the amount spent for research work on rice is quite insufficient ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I understand that the amount which the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research has already granted is about as much as can usefully be spent on research.

SALE OF TREASURY BILLS.

317. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state whether they were able to sell the treasury bills of the full notified amounts in the current financial year ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I am not sure what my Honourable friend means by the " full noticed amounts " but I imagine that the information required by him will be found in the weekly reports published by the Controller of the Currency in the Press.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

AERIAL BOMBARDMENT OF KOTKAI IN THE TRANS-FRONTIER.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : I have received a notice from Shaikh Sadiq Hasan that he proposes to ask for leave to move an adjournment of the business of the House for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance as follows : Aerial bombardment of Kotkai in the Trans-Frontier. Before I inquire whether any Honourable Member has any objection to the making of this motion, I would like to know from the Honourable the Mover as to when this aerial bombardment of Kotkai took place ?

12 NOON.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan (East Central Punjab : Muhammadan) : Sometime before the Assembly met, about two weeks ago.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : If, according to the Honourable Member's own information, this incident took place at least about two weeks back, may I ask him what grounds he has to justify that this motion does not come within the mischief of rule 12, sub-rule (2) which says that the motion must be restricted to a specific matter of recent occurrence.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : No doubt the bombing took place sometime before the Assembly met, but I put myself in communication with the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy and it was proposed that a deputation should wait upon His Excellency. As soon as we came over here, we had a conference with the Army and the Foreign Secretaries and discussed matter with them. Later on, at a meeting of the members of the Muslim Group, it was decided to send a deputation. I received a reply from the Private Secretary stating that His Excellency proposes to address the Members of both Houses on the 30th August and that we should wait until after His Excellency has made his pronouncement. Therefore, we had to wait, because it would have been the height of discourtesy at that time to move an adjournment motion and now, after His Excellency has addressed both Houses, I do think that the necessity arises for making this adjournment motion.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Does the Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore wish to say anything ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Leader of the House) : I take objection on the ground that this is not a matter of urgency falling within the meaning of the term in rule 12 of the Legislative Rules. The bombing at Kotkai took place on August, 1st, 3rd and 4th. Since then no bombing has taken place and my objection is that if it is contended that this is a matter of urgency, the Honourable the Mover should have made his motion at the very earliest opportunity after the House assembled. Failure to do so is, I submit, the most conclusive proof against the validity of any contention of urgency. I am afraid I personally could not agree to ask the Chair to accept the excuse put forward by my Honourable friend for not having followed what I consider to be the proper procedure in this matter and moved his motion at the earliest possible opportunity.

[Sir Joseph Bhore.]

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : I am surprised to find that the grand courtesy which was shewn by this side of the House to the August personage of the Viceroy in this matter as was brought out in the arguments of my friend, Shaikh Sadiq Hasan, has not been appreciated by the Honourable the Leader of the House. If the Leader of the House had listened carefully to the statement made by my friend, Shaikh Sadiq Hasan, he would have found that the opposition tried to meet the Government in the belief that His Excellency the Governor General would make a satisfactory statement on the 30th on the floor of this House. That statement has not satisfied this side of the House. My friend wants to wriggle out of the situation by arguing that the urgency is past. I do not feel and I do not think any Member on this side of the House feels that the urgency is past. The Honourable the Leader of the House recognises that the situation created is one of great public importance to all sections of Indians and I do hope, Sir, you will overrule the plea that the Leader of the House has advanced and allow the motion for adjournment.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi (Tirhut Division : Muhammadan) : The facts complained of took place in a remote corner of India, which is the preserve of the Military Department. We do not know much about it beyond what appeared in the papers. We found that people were very much agitated, so much so that in Madras and in distant parts of the country resolutions were brought forward and protest meetings were held. When I came here, on the very first day I tabled a short notice question and at once went to see the Foreign Secretary on this question. I had a long talk with him. We were asked not to be led away by the facts which appeared in the press. I did not think it wise to rush with a strong protest before I was in possession of the real facts of the situation. We tried to meet other officials who could give us correct information on the subject and it is within the knowledge of responsible officials here that we were very anxious to make the strongest protest that we could in this matter, but we were asked to wait and take a course which might produce the desired result. We went on canvassing opinion as to the most effective way of protesting against the incidents. As you have just heard, Shaikh Sadiq Hasan has been in communication with the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy and we were asked to wait for the announcement which His Excellency was making in this House on the 30th.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : What was the result of the short notice question which the Honourable Member gave ?

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : We pressed the short notice question on the 1st and the 2nd day, but the Army Secretary told us not to insist on a reply and that it would be much better to approach the very head of the Government and get the information from him. He said that the answer involved many departments of the Government and he was not sure how far the reply from the different Departments would satisfy the public. Now, we have heard what His Excellency had to say and, having considered the matter in our party meetings, we came to the conclusion that the strongest protest could be made by an adjournment of the House. I should confess that I was simple enough to take the words of the officials that we should not rush with our strong protests at that stage. We should really have a deputation arranged to the Viceroy. Now, at the last stage the Private Secretary to the Viceroy said that the Viceroy was going to make an announcement on the 30th August and advised us to wait and hear his speech and see whether we were satisfied or not. The moment the speech was read yesterday, we felt that it was absolutely unsatisfactory.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Why did the Honourable Member withdraw his short notice question ?

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : I did not withdraw it. I was informed that as there was the talk of the deputation waiting on the Viceroy, the short notice question could be answered in the ordinary way.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : In other words, the Army Secretary refused to take the short notice question and the Honourable Member concurred in that view.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : I did not concur, but simply waited to hear the Viceroy's speech whether it would satisfy us. Of course, we did not rush to the very strong mode of protest which is available to the Members of the House. Now, we are told by the Leader of the House that we are late. I do not know if it is right to manœuvre the Honourable Members of this House in a manner that they are kept in suspense as to what to do and what not to do and come at a late stage and say that you have been late. This is really unfair. It is not that we were sleeping over the matter ; we were trying to canvass the Members and were trying to find out the real facts of the matter and then take the right course. It is not because we are on this side of the House, and that therefore we should make all sorts of fantastic statements against the Government. That is not the policy which I follow. Our only mistake has been that we confided in the words of so many officials and we were told that we would have something satisfactory. I, therefore, feel very strongly that this is not a case in which the Leader of the House should take an objection of the kind he has taken. I admit that if we were sleeping over the matter, the objection would have been perfectly justified, but we did nothing of the sort. We were only tossed about from here to there and now we are told that we are late. That is not the way to treat the Honourable Members of this House on a question of such vital importance to the country.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury (Bengal : Landholders) : Sir, it has been apparent from the speeches just made that the negotiations were going on and that they expected some sort of an announcement from His Excellency the Viceroy. The Members on this side of the House were not satisfied with the announcement made by the Viceroy. Therefore, so far as this adjournment motion is concerned, I maintain that the matter is urgent, important and also definite and I hope that the Chair will rule out of order the objection that has been taken by the Leader of the House.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad (Patna and Chota Nagpur cum Orissa : Muhammadan) : Sir, in this connection I wish to bring two more facts to the notice of the House which were not mentioned by my Honourable friends. The very day that we reached here, some of us wanted to give notice of a motion for adjournment, but, before our arrival, a letter was received from the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy saying that His Excellency was ready to receive the deputation. Even at the time when our short notice question was refused, we wanted to give notice for the adjournment of the House, but some of the Honourable Members thought that it was not advisable to send a deputation to the Viceroy and, at the same time, to give notice for the adjournment motion. I suggest that if there is any difficulty on the part of the Government in accepting this motion for adjournment, then I request them to allot a day to discuss the whole question, because this is a very important matter.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : I think Honourable Members have said enough to enable the Chair to appreciate the exact position in which this matter stands. The rule governing motions for adjournment of the business, especially in relation to urgency, have been interpreted on more than one occasion by my predecessors in the past. On the 14th September, 1922, President Whyte laid down this principle :

"I do not wish to give a hard and fast interpretation of the word 'recent' in the rule, but the intention of the rule is that as soon as a matter of this kind is brought to the notice of the Honourable Member and he wishes discussion thereon, he should at the first available opportunity bring it before the Assembly."

That was the principle laid down by President Whyte. Later on, the principle was applied in another case by President Patel on the 7th September, 1927. He said :

"I am clearly of the opinion that the matter is of great public importance. But I am not convinced that the matter is urgent. I should have certainly admitted this notice of motion for adjournment if it had come to me on the 18th August. The decision proposed to be questioned was arrived at on the 15th August. It was published in the newspapers on the 16th or 17th August, as Sir George Rainy has said, and there is absolutely no reason why the Honourable Member should not have given a notice of motion for adjournment on the 18th."

In these circumstances, President Patel overruled the motion, because it was moved on the 7th September while, in his opinion, it ought to have been moved on the 18th of August. Now, let us apply these principles to the present case. According to the statement made by the Leader of the House, the bombing took place on the 1st, 3rd and 4th August and the Legislative Assembly met for the first time after that on the 22nd August. Now, if it is the contention of the Honourable the Mover that this bombing, in spite of its taking place on the 1st, 3rd or 4th August, was actually brought to his notice only yesterday or the day before yesterday, then the Chair would certainly allow the motion to be in order, because what the Chair has to consider is not the date on which the incident took place, but the date on which it was brought to the notice of an Honourable Member of this House. But I understand it is not the contention of the Honourable the Mover that this matter was not brought to his notice before the 22nd August. What he ought to have done was to have moved a motion for adjournment on the 22nd August when the Assembly met for the first time after the incident was brought to the notice of Honourable Members. He did not move it and the excuse that the Honourable Member says in extenuation of the fact that he did not move it on the 22nd August and in justification of asking the Chair to allow the motion today is that he was carrying on correspondence with the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy and that certain other Honourable Members were carrying on correspondence or conversation with the Army Secretary. I must make it perfectly clear that, so far as this House is concerned, especially in the matter of a motion for adjournment, neither the Chair nor the House will take notice of any private correspondence that takes place between one Honourable Member and any Member of Government. If once we start taking notice of that fact, we do not know where we can stop. The procedure that the Honourable Member must have followed is this : he should have sought to move the adjournment motion on the 22nd August. If he had not been in full possession of the facts of the case, what he ought to have done was to have given a short notice question on the 22nd August. In this case the Honourable Member says that a short notice question was actually given to the Army Secretary. The very fact that the Army Secretary refused to take notice of the question must have made the Honourable Member to move the motion for adjournment immediately on the next day. If the Honourable Member wanted to show courtesy, as one Honourable Member said, to the Army Secretary or to any other Member of Government, well, the Honourable Member must take the consequence, so far as this Assembly is concerned. So far as this House is concerned, this motion, not having been moved on the 22nd August before which date the incident was brought to the notice of the Honourable Member, the Chair has no other course but to rule it out of order.

STATEMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE.

Major W. K. Fraser-Tytler (Foreign Secretary) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 1080 to 1082, asked by Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad on behalf of Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad at the meeting of the Legislative Assembly on the 1st April, 1933.

POSSESSION OF A DIPLOMA OR CERTIFICATE IN THE HINDI LANGUAGE BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION, DELHI.

*1080. No.

QUALIFICATIONS POSSESSED BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION, DELHI, IN THE GUJRATI AND MARATHI LANGUAGES.

*1081. The Superintendent of Education does not claim any knowledge of Marathi or Gujrati. The inspection of Primary Schools is not a part of the ordinary duties of the Superintendent of Education and is carried out by him purely as a measure of economy. The appointment of separate Inspectors possessing, in addition to other necessary qualifications, diplomas in these languages is impracticable on grounds of economy.

EXPENDITURE ON INSPECTORATE IN THE ADMINISTERED AREAS IN CENTRAL INDIA.

*1082. Details of the total expenditure on inspectorate in the Central India Agency in the year preceding the appointment of the present Superintendent of Education (1930-31) :-

	Rs.
1. Pay of the Inspector	2,452
2. Pay of the Inspector's office clerk	300
3. Pay of the Inspector's office peon	1,066
4. T. A. of the Inspector and his peon
5. Inspector's office contingencies
6. Miscellaneous expenditure	260
	4,078

Details of the total expenditure on inspectorate in the Central India Agency in the year 1932 (after the appointment of the Superintendent of Education) :-

	Rs.	A.	P.
7. Pay of the Superintendent of Education (C. I. Share) ..	2,017	8	0
8. (i) Pay of Stenographer (C. I. Share)	254	6	0
(ii) Special pay of Stenographer	180	0	0
9. Pay of Superintendent of Education's peons (C. I. Share) ..	66	0	0
10. Pay of S. E.'s office clerk	480	0	0
11. T. A. of Superintendent of Education and his attached Staff (C. I. Share)	467	7	0
12. S. E.'s office contingencies	472	5	0
13. Miscellaneous expenditure	Nil.
	3,937	10	0

Mr. G. S. Bajpai (Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands) : Sir, I lay on the table—

(i) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 678 asked by Mr. Lalchand Navalrai on the 7th March, 1933 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 882 asked by Khan Sahib Shaikh Fazal Haq Piracha on the 23rd March, 1933 ; and

(iii) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 199 asked by Lieutenant Nawab Muhammad Ibrahim Ali Khan on the 12th April, 1933.

DIFFICULTIES EXPERIENCED BY INDIAN STUDENTS IN THE UNIVERSITIES IN GREAT BRITAIN.

*678. The High Commissioner for India has reported that it is true that Indian medical students sometimes find it difficult to secure admission to a medical school in London, where the pressure on the available accommodation is especially acute owing to a large number of applicants from England and other countries. The difficulty is increased by the fact that while home students as a rule desire to pursue the full course leading to the degrees in Medicine and Surgery of the University of London, the majority of the Indian students seek admission for short courses to prepare themselves for the final examinations of one or other of the external bodies which grant registrable qualifications or diplomas. The constituent medical schools of the University of London naturally give preference, in the first instance, to students, whether from home or abroad, who propose to pursue the full medical degree course of five or six years. It may, however, be mentioned that in the session beginning October, 1932, there were no less than 155 Indian students working in the London medical schools. Properly qualified Indian students who cannot secure admission to a medical school in London usually find no difficulty in securing admission to the Medical Faculty of one or other of the provincial and Scottish Universities, where excellent clinical facilities are available, and where suitable courses recognised by the professional examining bodies are provided. Facilities for post-graduate students can also be obtained usually in the special hospitals, e.g., heart, nervous diseases, skin, etc., and in the special post-graduate hospitals (North-East London Post-graduate College, and the West London Hospital Post-graduate College). The question of admission of medical students is one solely within the competence of the institutions concerned, and forms no part of the functions of the General Medical Council.

CONSTRUCTION OF A ROAD FROM DELHI TO VILLAGE BASTI CHIRAGH.

*882. (a) Yes.

(b) Yes. Government has no information about the number of the Saint's followers.

(c) Yes.

(d) and (e). Yes, but Government are not aware that any special inconvenience is caused to the public for want of a road. The tomb is about 11 miles from Delhi and is connected with the Delhi-Mehrauli metalled road by a kachcha path about two miles in length.

(f) The existing path passes through several villages and is private land. Owing to financial stringency it is not possible to take up the question of providing a road at present.

(g) and (h). The tomb is a privately owned monument. Government are prepared to protect it provided the owners execute an agreement under Section 5 of the Ancient Monuments Preservation Act, 1904 (VII of 1904).

(i) The descendants of one of the sisters of Hazrat Khwaja Nasiruddin Mohammed Chiragh Delhvi are in charge of the tomb, and a Committee consisting of Pirs Rahimuddin Ilauddin and Ahmad Baksh, and a Khadim Rahmatulla, arrange for its upkeep. The cost is met from offerings received.

(j) Government has no information.

(k) Does not arise.

LOCATION OF THE EXISTING INFECTIOUS DISEASES ISOLATION HOSPITAL, DELHI.

199. (a) This Hospital was located on the present site before the creation of New Delhi.

(b) Government are aware that the present position of the Hospital is not satisfactory.

(c) The present surroundings of the Hospital are admittedly not satisfactory.

(d) Some of the rooms in the Hospital are ill-ventilated, and the building is not satisfactory in regard to the accommodation which it offers and its plan of construction.

(e) Yes.

(f) It is realised that the lighting arrangements in the Hospital are not satisfactory. As it is proposed to erect a new Hospital on another site, the Municipal Committee are not prepared to spend money on the improvement of the lighting of the existing building.

(g) It is true that the Hospital is not used by well-to-do persons.

(h) Yes.

(i) Yes. There was, however, no epidemic prevalent at the time that this tournament was held.

(j) Yes.

(k) The assertion that the Hospital spreads infectious diseases in Delhi and New Delhi is not warranted by facts. Precautions are taken as far as possible to ensure that small-pox cases are prevented from mixing with the public.

(l) and (m). Government are aware of the necessity for improvement. A proposal to build a new Infectious Diseases Hospital at a more suitable site is at present under consideration of the Delhi and New Delhi Municipal Committees. About four years ago plans and estimates for a new Hospital were prepared but on account of financial stringency the proposal was dropped by the Delhi Municipal Committee.

Mr. P. R. Rau (Financial Commissioner, Railways) : Sir, I lay on table :

(i) the information promised in reply to parts (c), (d) and (e) of starred question No. 15 asked by Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad on the 1st February, 1933 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to part (b) of starred question No. 405, asked by Mr. Goswami M. R. Puri on the 21st February, 1933 ;

(iii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 657 asked by Bhai Parma Nand on the 6th March, 1933 ;

(iv) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 826 asked by Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon on the 21st March, 1933 ;

(v) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 840 to 844 asked by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen on the 21st March, 1933 ; and (vi) the information promised in reply to part (c) of starred question No. 1219 asked by Mr. B. N. Misra on the 12th April, 1933.

Reservation of Posts of Assistant Accounts Officers on the North Western Railway for Accountants and Inspectors of Station Accounts.

*15. (c) The number of appointments of Assistant Accounts Officers on each State-managed Railway and the number reserved out of these for the Audit staff are set out below :

	Total sanctioned number of Assistant Accounts Officers.	Reserved for Audit Department.
North Western	8	6
Eastern Bengal	2	2
East Indian	8	3
Great Indian Peninsula	3	1
Burma	2	1
Railway Clearing Accounts Office	3	1
	26	14

It will be seen that the proportion of reserved posts varies from Railway to Railway. The reservation has been made in order to protect the interests of the staff who worked in the old combined Audit and Accounts offices ; and the proportion of reserved posts is consequently higher in the old State-managed Railways, viz., North Western, Eastern Bengal and the Oudh and Rohilkhand portions of the East Indian Railway than in the old Company Railways which became State-managed recently, viz., Great Indian Peninsula, East Indian proper and Burma Railways.

As stated in the reply to part (a), the non-reserved posts are not reserved for Inspectors of Station Accounts alone but open to all.

I would mention, however, that it has been decided to abolish the system of reservations and to transfer permanently to the Accounts Department a certain number of Assistant Audit Officers and Accountants from the Audit Department.

(d) After consulting the Auditor General, the Railway Board have satisfied themselves that no undertaking or guarantee given to Inspectors of Station Accounts in the past has been broken and that, consequently, there is no grievance which requires to be remedied.

(e) Government are not prepared to reserve a specific number of posts for Inspectors of Station Accounts as suggested. Government are of opinion that promotion to the higher ranks in the Railway Accounts Department should be open to all who possess the requisite qualifications.

Communal Composition of certain Cadres on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway.

*405. (b) So far as Station Masters are concerned the Agent, Great Indian Peninsula Railway, reports that during the period of retrenchment it was found necessary to reduce the grades of pay of certain stations on the line. Of the stations enumerated in the question, nine Assistant Station Masters' posts of Rs. 300—345 grade, at Lonavla, Poona and Kalyan, were converted into Rs. 200 grade. The staff in the grade of Rs. 300—345 were absorbed in vacancies in their own grades at other stations and their places filled by Assistant Station Masters on the reduced rates of pay. Of these latter, four are Hindus, three Mohammadans, one Sikh and one Goanese. No replacement was effected at the other stations mentioned in the question.

As regards Guards, it has been intimated by the Agent that retrenchment was carried out on the basis of their length of service, irrespective of nationality and that no Anglo-Indian Guards were replaced by Goanese or Parsees.

Retrenchment in the Chief Accounts Office of the North Western Railway.

*657. (a) and (b). The orders referred to were issued with reference to the block retrenchment then in contemplation, but the restriction imposed by these orders requiring the maintenance of proportions of the various communities at approximately the same level as before the retrenchment had to be extended in practice to all discharges, whether arising from block retrenchment or not, which synchronised with or closely followed block retrenchment, since it was not practicable in large establishments to distinguish between the two kinds of discharges.

(c) No.

(d) Government do not consider any further action necessary.

Confirmation of certain Clerks on the North Western Railway.

*826. (a) The orders referred to apply to persons not in Government service on the 15th July, 1931.

(b) A copy of these orders was sent by the Agent, North Western Railway, to all the subordinate offices under him for their guidance.

(c) Certain clerks who were in service prior to and on 15th June, 1931, were confirmed in the office of the District Controller of Stores, Moghalpura. As the action taken was not in conflict with the orders referred to in (a) above, the latter part of the question does not arise.

(d) A selection Board consisting of Deputy Controller of Stores, Deptuy Chief Engineer and a District Controller of Stores was convened to select the candidates who had worked as clerks in the Stores Department with a view to confirming the most suitable among them. The Board prescribed a test in dictation for the purpose of the selection.

(e) No. Among the six candidates selected, three were Muslims.

(f) No third division Matric Hindu was selected for confirmation. The latter part of the question does not arise.

(g) There were 11 substitute clerks (of whom only one was a Muslim) working under the District Controller of Stores, Moghalpura, discharged from the service whose names were not communicated at the time of discharge to the Central Labour Exchange for re-employment in future vacancies because their employment was merely temporary. I am, however, informed by the Agent that on reconsideration he has decided to notify the names of all these men to the Labour Exchange for re-employment provided they are otherwise eligible.

Mechanical ex-Apprentices of the East Indian Railway Workshop, Lillooah.

*840. At present there are no vacancies in the Mechanical or Stores Departments. It is impossible to foresee the exact number of vacancies if any, that are likely to arise on divisions or to state how the position will change during the year.

Mechanical ex-Apprentices of the East Indian Railway Workshop, Lillooah.

*841. (a) No arrangements have been made to provide apprentices who are completing their apprenticeship this year.

(b) Does not arise.

Mechanical ex-Apprentices of the East Indian Railway Workshop, Lillooah.

*842. Two statements giving the required information are laid on the table.

List of Apprentices who will complete their indentures in 1933.

Names.	Date of admission.	Particulars of Training. Shop.	Years.	Months.	Days.	Technical School Results. Division passed.	Remarks.
G. B. Allnutt ..	2-2-1928	Train Lighting ..	3	8	2	1st
		Production Section ..		5	26
		Drawing Office ..	1	0	29
D. G. Hogan ..	2-2-1928	Millwright ..	0	11	18	1st
		Machine and Fitting ..	1	8	23
		Millwright ..	0	11	19
		Production Section ..	0	6	20
		Millwright ..	0	6	17
		Drawing Office ..	0	4	22
W. H. Collins ..	2-2-1928	Train Lighting ..	0	11	1	1st
		Power House ..	4	3	8
H. C. Banerjee ..	2-2-1928	Machine and Fitting ..	3	3	3	2nd
		Millwright ..	0	4	28
		Production Section ..	0	6	26
		Millwright ..	0	6	10
		Drawing Office ..	0	7	17
L. M. Mistry ..	2-2-1928	Carriage Building ..	1	0	16	1st
		Saw Mill and Saw ..	4	4	23
		Doctoring ..

STOPPAGE OF RECRUITMENT OF APPRENTICE TRAIN EXAMINERS FOR THE OPERATING DEPARTMENT, EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

*843. Recruitment has been suspended for this year.

APPOINTMENT OF TRAINED ex-APPRENTICES IN THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY WORKSHOPS, LILLOOAH.

*844. (a) No.

(b) Yes. This is a fact. No suitable apprentices or ex-apprentices were available when the mechanic in question was transferred to the Saw Mill.

(c) The men concerned were not trained for a few months only; one of them joined the service in 1924 and being a fully trained Millwright was posted to H (Millwright) shop in 1925. The other served his apprenticeship for five years before being appointed as a mechanic in the A (Forge and Smithy) Shop.

(d) It is not proposed to replace the mechanics in question, so long as their work is satisfactory.

UNIONS RECOGNISED BY THE PRINCIPAL RAILWAY ADMINISTRATIONS.

*1219. The following list shows the Unions recognised by the principal railway administrations as at the end of April, 1933:

Railways.	Names of Unions recognised.
Bombay, Baroda and Central India ..	B. B. & C. I. Railway Employees' Union, Parel. B. B. & C. I. Railway Employees' Association, Ahmedabad.
East Indian	National Union of Railwaymen of India and Burma. E. I. Railwaymen's Union, Lucknow.
Bengal Nagpur	B. N. Railway Indian Labour Union, Khargpur. B. N. Railway Employees' Union Gardenreach, Kidderpore. Anglo-Indian and European Labour Union, Calcutta.
Bengal and North Western Railway ..	B. & N. W. Railwaymen's Association.
Great Indian Peninsula	National Union of Railwaymen of India and Burma. All-India and Burma Covenanted Non-gazetted Railway Services Association. G. I. P. Railway Administrative and Executive Offices Staff Union.
South Indian	South Indian Railway Employees' Association.
Eastern Bengal	Eastern Bengal Railway Indian Employees' Association, Calcutta. Kanchrapara Railway Workmen's Union, Kanchrapara. All-India and Burma Covenanted Non-gazetted Railway Service Association (Eastern Bengal Railway Branch, Kanchrapara). National Union of Railwaymen of India and Burma.
North Western	North Western Railway Union.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : In continuation of what I said on the adjournment motion just now, I would like to give a suggestion for the guidance of Honourable Members so that they may not be faced with similar difficulty in future. In a similar case what I would advise Honourable Members to do is this. If Honourable Members are not in full possession of the facts with regard to a particular case, and if no short notice is taken of their questions, what they should do is actually to ask for the leave of the House to move the adjournment motion and then ask the leave of the Chair for permission to waive objection on the question of urgency until the full facts are available to Honourable Members. If that course is adopted, and if the Chair is satisfied that it is a proper case, necessary permission could be given to move the motion on a later day. (Applause.)

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham (Army Secretary) : May I make a small explanation on this subject ? I received these two short notice questions and I was prepared to answer them. I was fully prepared to answer them. But I thought it would be advisable first of all to consult the various parties in the House as to whether they would prefer an alternative procedure, because I understood that His Excellency the Viceroy was prepared to receive a deputation from the whole House on the subject. It was after discussion with the parties in the House on these lines that I understood from the parties that they would prefer not to take a deputation to see His Excellency the Viceroy, but to have the matter ventilated on the floor of the House in the ordinary way. During the course of those discussions, no suggestion was ever made to me or to the Foreign Secretary that there was any desire to move an adjournment of the House on this matter, and I understood that the House would prefer to get information, as I say, in the ordinary way from the questions that were being asked. I particularly asked both Honourable Members who had given me short notice questions whether they would object to my refusing to accept short notice and I understood from both of them that they were content with the position as it rested after the conversation with the parties. It was on that understanding that I refused to accept short notice, because I thought the House would prefer to hear what we had to say on this subject in the ordinary way in answer to questions which had already been put down on the question paper.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I think my Honourable friend has forgotten what I said downstairs that it was better for Government to reply to the short notice questions.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : I would now ask the Government to reply to my question tomorrow.

Mr. S. C. Mitra (Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : He has refused.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : I will now ask the Army Secretary through the Chair to reply to my question.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I am prepared to answer all the questions on the subject even at the present moment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member must give short notice of the question.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : All right.

RESOLUTION RE RELEASE OF MR. GANDHI, MUFTI KIFAET-ULLAH AND OTHER POLITICAL PRISONERS.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad (Patna and Chota Nagpur cum Orissa : Muhammadan) : With regard to the Resolution that stands in my name, I wish to say a few words. I do not want to waste the time of the House in discussing this Resolution in view of the fact that Mahatma Gandhi and Mufti Kifaet-Ullah have already been released by Government. Though I strongly feel that all the political prisoners should have been released, but in view of the release of the two gentlemen specifically mentioned in the beginning of the Resolution, I beg leave of the House to withdraw it.*

The resolution was, by leave of the Assembly, withdrawn.

RESOLUTION RE RAISING OF DUTY ON FOREIGN COTTON IMPORTS.

Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon (Sind : Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I move :

"That in view of recent enhancement in duty on Japanese cloth, resulting in immediate boycott of Indian cotton by Japanese, this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council either to raise duty on all foreign cotton imports in India so as to extend better protection to cotton growers in India and give rise to consumption of Indian cotton or to introduce without delay a legislation prohibiting imports of foreign cotton into India altogether."

As every body knows, since the enhancement of the duty on Japanese cotton goods, the Japanese decided to boycott Indian cotton. I do not know what effect that boycott has on Indian cotton. But the fact remains that Japan wants to retaliate against India on account of the enhancement of duty on their goods by boycotting Indian cotton. Protection was given by Government to the Indian manufacturer and, on account of that, India is consuming large quantities of Indian cloth, but, at the same time, I find that the Indian manufacturers are importing foreign cotton from abroad, from America, Japan and many other places. And, on account of that, they are consuming foreign cotton instead of Indian cotton. I have collected a few figures from which I find that within the last three years we have imported into India foreign cotton very enormously. In 1930-31, we imported 58,000 tons of foreign cotton and from the 2nd September, 1931, Government have put a duty on foreign cotton of six pies per pound, because they want more revenue. But in spite of that duty, also in 1931-32 the cotton imported into India was 79,000 tons and, in 1932-33, it was 84,000 tons. So you find, Sir, that every year the quantity of cotton imported into India is increasing whereas, on account of India's consuming more Indian mill cloth, our export is diminishing. I have collected figures for three years, from which I find that in 1929-30 we exported 7,26,000 tons of cotton, and in 1930-31, 7,01,000 tons and in 1931-32, 4,23,000 tons, i.e., about 40 per cent. less in 1931-32. It might be said that this foreign cotton, which the manufacturers are importing, is long staple cotton which cannot be produced in India. But I do not agree with that, because long staple cotton, according to my information, is produced in India, specially in the Punjab and Sind and they are producing that cotton since very long. And my information is that they get very little support from the manufacturers or mill-owners in India, and, at the same time, on account of this organisation of their selling agencies, that cotton is not properly introduced in the market. I am told that the Punjab has got a long staple cotton known as F. 4 and that is produced since long, and in Sind also Egyptian and American cotton was produced for a very long time, but, due to want of marketing facilities or support from the purchasers, its quality and quantity could not be improved. Since the duty of six pies was put on imported cotton, I find that within the last four years the F. 4 cotton of the Punjab has found a market mostly in Karachi and there was difference between desi cotton and F. 4 cotton of only Rs. 2 or Rs. 2-4-0 per maund, and on account of this new duty today we find from 2 to 5 rupees difference between desi cotton and F. 4 cotton in the market. So it seems to me that if more duty is put on foreign cotton, the mill-owner in India will probably purchase more F. 4 cotton than he does at present. I find that for a very long time the Government's policy has been to neglect the agriculturists, not only in this matter of cotton, but also in enhancing railway freights. Since 1930, the freight of cotton from the Punjab to Karachi was nearly doubled from Rs. 2 to Rs. 4-8-0 per maund,—if not that, at least 75 per cent. more, on cotton and wheat from the Punjab to Karachi. I know that there is heavy expenditure on railways. My Honourable friend, Mr. B. Das, pleads for Indianisation and my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, wants something to be done for labour. On account of these things, the expenditure on the railways increases and this expenditure is put on the shoulders of the cultivators and they enhance the freight of cotton and wheat. Sir, I want to give you one example about wheat. Two years ago, Government put an import duty on wheat. In 1930, I remember the rate of wheat in the Punjab market was only 14 annas to Rs. 1-4-0 per maund and, after that duty, I find for the last 1½ years from the 1932 crop that the present rate is Rs. 2-8-0 or Rs. 3-0-0 a maund. And, if that duty is not enhanced on wheat, I am sure that up till now the wheat market cannot grow more than Re. 1 or Rs. 1-4-0. So the cultivators and the zamindars may be unable to pay any sort of revenue to the Punjab Government if the price of wheat does not go up. Today the price of cotton, I think, is less than in 1913-14, whereas the railway freight has nearly doubled, and, besides that, a new difficulty arises which is that the foreign countries are purchasing less and less cotton from India. Sir, if things go on like this and no sort of help is given by Government, the time is not distant when these cultivators and zamindars will not only refuse but will be unable to pay any revenues to Government and the Government will come to pieces. Sir, my Resolution may be appreciated by the Treasury Benches, because I suggest more duty which will bring them more revenue, but I am appealing and suggesting to them that they may not only get more revenue, but that that income should be spent on

*"This Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council to release Mr. Gandhi, Mufti Kifaet-Ullah and other political prisoners."

List of Apprentices who will complete their indentures in 1933—contd.

Names.	Date of admission.	Particulars of Training. Shop.	Years.	Months.	Days.	Technical School Results. Division passed.	Remarks.
J. Banerjee	2-2-1928	Saw Mill	1	0	8	1st
		Machine and Fitting	2	2	8
		Millwright	1	0	4
		Production Section	0	6	19
		Train Lighting	0	3	13
		Drawing Office	0	5	25
R. A. Bowen	2-2-1928	Carriage Building	0	11	12	2nd
		Carriage Repair	0	9	16
		Machine and Fitting	1	11	29
		Millwright	0	3	23
		Production Section	0	1	28
		Tool Room	0	2	9
		Millwright	0	3	23
P. B. Gupta	2-2-1928	Millwright	3	8	3	..	Absent at the examination through illness.
		Production Section	0	6	20
		Millwright	1	5	7
Bisseswar Dass ..	16-7-1928	Carriage Building	1	8	8	1st
		Saw Mill	0	6	24
		Train Lighting	1	6	4
		Production Section	0	6	19
		Millwright	1	0	27

List of Apprentices who completed their indentures in 1932 and have had to be discharged as there were no vacancies.

Names.	Date of appointment.	Particulars of Training. Shop.	Years.	Months.	Technical School Results. Division passed.	Remarks
T. C. Jackson	2-2-1927	Carriage Building	2	5	2nd
		Blacksmith Shop	1	5
		Machine and Fitting ..	0	8
		Drawing Office	0	7
K. L. Mitra	*	Machine and Fitting ..	2	3	1st	Transferred from Tatanagar.
		Millwright	0	10
M. R. Hume	2-2-1927	Millwright	1	7	..	Discharged from Technical School for adopting unfair means.
		Sawmill	3	4
		Underframe	0	8
M. K. Mukerjee	2-2-1927	Carriage Building	1	11	2nd
		Carriage Repairing	0	8
		Machine and Fitting ..	1	11
		Millwright	1	0
S. C. Ganguly	2-2-1927	Carriage Building	1	11	1st
		Carriage Repairing	0	10
		Train Lighting	1	2
		Production Section	1	5
S. K. Bose	2-2-1927	Machine and Fitting ..	3	3	1st
		Millwright	0	9
		Production Section	1	5

* This Apprentice was appointed with the Peninsular Locomotive Company on 24th June, 1926. When their works closed, he was temporarily transferred to Lillooah from 8th September, 1927. On the re-opening of the Loco. Works under the East Indian Railway management he was returned to Tatanagar on 4th July, 1928. He was re-transferred to Lillooah on 11th March, 1929, completing his apprenticeship in these Workshops.

[Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon.]

improving the quality and quantity of the cotton in the Punjab, Sind and other places. With these words, I commend my Resolution to the acceptance of the House.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Resolution moved :

"That in view of recent enhancement in duty on Japanese cloth, resulting in immediate boycott of Indian cotton by Japanese, this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council either to raise duty on all foreign cotton imports in India so as to extend better protection to cotton growers in India and give rise to consumption of Indian cotton or to introduce without delay a legislation prohibiting imports of foreign cotton into India altogether."

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer (Rohilkund and Kumaon Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I cordially associate myself with the spirit of the observations that Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon made in moving this Resolution which is of momentous importance for the future development of our agricultural resources and for preparing the industrial magnates to work in co-ordination with agricultural interests. When we denounced the most-favoured treatment given to Japan, we read in the newspapers that Japan was preparing to embark on a course of retaliation and Japan, who is certainly one of our principal purchasers so far as indigenous cotton is concerned, was prepared to look elsewhere for her purchases. So far as our industries are concerned, we have definitely made up our mind to give our industries adequate support against foreign dumping, and, on that point, there has not been any difference on this side of the House, or between this side of the House and the other side. Now, comes directly from that policy another problem which faces the cotton growers in India. They are losing or they are threatened with the loss of one of their principal customers. Surely, we are not going to take things lying down, if Japan were to tell us "either take this course of our not purchasing your cotton, or your abandoning the course that you have now embarked upon". Our position, especially when Japanese representatives are coming to this country, is this : we refuse to be threatened, and, at the same time, we want our agriculturists should be protected at least to the same extent as the Government have been protecting our industrialists. The agriculturists of this country, especially when we know that India's essential wealth consists of agricultural products, have been receiving Cinderella treatment from the Government. For instance, notwithstanding the fact that Sir Joseph Bhore, the Railway Member, is deeply interested in the advance of this country, he has not, so far as I am aware, shown any gesture of reducing the heavy freights in regard to the moving of our cotton products from one part of the country to another. As very ably pointed out by the Mover of this Resolution, it has been possible for foreign importers of long staple cotton to bring it in large quantities into this country, thus discouraging the cotton growers of the Punjab and Sind. Time was when the Punjab and Sind produced long staple cotton : time was when some of the finest products.....

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : I must ask the Honourable Member's pardon for interrupting him : but I should be glad to know, as one who has studied this question for many years past, at what time Sind produced long staple cotton in any quantity.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : Leaving Sind out, time was when finer counts, finer cloth and fine muslins were produced out of Indian cotton which found a welcome market in the oriental world. I would ask the Honourable gentleman to read Macaulay's Essays on the subject (Laughter) and to see how English and European ladies were proud of purchasing fine Indian-made muslins. When I said that time was when cotton was produced in India and when foreign cotton was not imported, the Honourable Member took advantage of the manner in which I was proceeding to curb my enthusiasm. I stand corrected. What I was trying to point out was this : that time was when India was one of the best cotton growers and cloth makers in the world, and we have ample evidence in historian Horace Hayman Wilson's books as to the position that Indian manufactured articles occupied in India and elsewhere. I do not want to labour that point. What I am trying to point out is this : as pointed out by my Honourable friend, Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon, they are growing long staple cotton in Sind : I hope the Honourable gentleman does not contradict that.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : They are doing it now to some extent—I hope to an extent which will rapidly increase.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : I am very glad, I appreciate the way in which the Honourable Member has expressed his sympathy for the future long staple cotton growers of Sind. I now want that that sympathy should crystallise into a fact by a definite assurance by the Honourable the Railway Member and the Honourable the Labour and Industries Member that every effort will be made to encourage the long staple cotton growers and in good time every opportunity given by prohibitive action being taken against the importation of foreign long staple cotton, so that the indigenous agriculturist may have an opportunity and the indigenous millowner will more and more take indigenous long staple cotton instead of foreign cotton. Probably the argument of the millowner will be this : "We have to fight Manchester and Lancashire ; and, therefore, in order to fight Manchester and Lancashire we have to buy in the same market the same cotton that Manchester and Lancashire buy". My answer to that will be this : I would first fight those who are fighting us, like Japan, with methods of dumping. I will also try to provide the cloth that the masses of India want, and if Manchester and Lancashire have to be fought, I will fight them on fair terms by purchasing indigenous long staple cotton and also exploring the possibility of growing that cotton in as many parts of India as possible or in the same parts of India where they are grown now, in larger quantities, as the Honourable Member for Industries has just said. That is our case and in this Resolution, therefore, is involved the growth of our industries in harmony with the development of our agriculture, and it is the creation of this harmony between the indigenous industries and indigenous agriculture that will destroy the depression, both commercial and agricultural, with which we are face to face in the country today.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I strongly support this Resolution. As one coming from Sind, I am in a position to say that the present Sukkur Barrage that has been constructed at a heavy cost will suffer very much if a Resolution like this is not accepted. It was objected that in Sind long staple cotton was not growing. But I am very glad to hear from the Honourable Member in charge of Industries that he is conceding that long staple cotton is being grown now in Sind. I can assure the House that I personally know that this improvement of cotton is going on a very large scale in Sind. Mr. Jenkins, who is in charge of this Agricultural Department in Sind, is doing his very best to see that Sind produces long staple cotton and very fine cotton too. It will be a blow to this barrage and to the growers of cotton in Sind if this Resolution is not accepted and no restrictions are put upon the imports of cotton into India. It is the whole of India that suffers on that account. It is not only the agriculturist who suffers, but the industrialist also suffers, and, therefore, it is high time now that the Government should recognise, when our own country is able to produce cotton of various kinds, the necessity of putting embargo on the import of cotton from foreign countries. The facts and figures that have been put forward by my friend, the Mover, who, in a way, I may say, is an expert in these things, as he has been dealing in cotton for a very long time, cannot be disputed for a moment, and his knowledge of this trade is first hand. Therefore, taking the facts and figures that he has prepared and given to the House, it is quite plain that this industry is suffering very much in this country, and the public are very anxious that the industries of India which have been annihilated should be revived. This is, therefore, one of the ways by which India's cotton industry can be rehabilitated, and as this industry is helping the growers, all possible help should be given to see that it is not handicapped in any way. Sir, this is a very modest Resolution, because it only asks that there should be some better protection given to cotton by imposing taxes or introducing some kind of prohibitory legislation to prevent the pouring into India of foreign cotton. Stress has been laid on the fact that this cotton industry is advancing in Sind and in the Punjab. It is no doubt true that it is growing in a larger quantity there, but it is growing elsewhere also, and, therefore, I think, Sir, the whole of India will be protected if this Resolution is accepted.

[Mr. Lalchand Navalrai.]

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi (Madras ceded Districts and Chittoor : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Mr. President, I have great pleasure in supporting the Resolution moved by my friend, Haji Abdoola Haroon. I represent the agriculturists and also a constituency where cotton is grown in abundant quantities, and I may say that, on account of the fall in prices of cotton, and also on account of the Japanese boycott, cotton growers are on the brink of ruin. Therefore, Sir, I have absolutely no hesitation in supporting this Resolution which seeks to levy duties on imported cotton or to prohibit the importation of cotton, in order to induce the millowners to consume more of the cotton that is produced in this country.

Sir, only yesterday we heard the address of His Excellency the Viceroy who stated that the customs revenue had considerably fallen in this country on account of the diminution of imports of various goods into this country and of larger exports from this country. Of course, the country requires a favourable balance of trade, and it is good for it, but, at the same time, by having lesser imports, the customs duties will naturally go down, and that should give an anxious time to the Honourable the Finance Member. Hence I expect that the Honourable the Finance Member will lend his support to any measure which will give him more revenue ; but, Sir, I find the Honourable the Finance Member sitting by the side of the Honourable the Commerce Member, and it gives me a certain amount of misgiving, and I hope that my misgivings are not correct.

Sir, the Honourable the Mover of this Resolution has given some figures which show that India requires foreign markets for her over-abundant production of cotton. We find from the figures that Japan is our chief customer, and that she has been importing Indian cotton to a very large extent. I will give a few figures to show how much Japan has been importing cotton from India till they started the boycott. In the year 1930-31, Japan imported nearly 301,000 tons of cotton to the value of 21 crores of rupees, and out of the total exports in 1931-32 of cotton which amounts to 23 crores of rupees, Japan alone has imported 11½ crores worth of cotton, and all the other countries are far behind Japan in the way of consuming Indian cotton, and hence we can readily understand what a blow it is to Indian cotton growers when a country like Japan which has been consuming such large quantities of Indian cotton has boycotted it. On the other hand, we find from the sea-borne trade of India that imports of cotton to India from other countries have been increasing in spite of the fact that India has been producing large quantities of cotton. We imported from Kenya nearly 19,000 tons of cotton to the value of 2 crores 80 lakhs of rupees in 1929-30, and in 1930-31, we imported 22,686 thousand tons to the value of 287 lakhs, and for the year 1931-32 my friend has given the figure and the imports of cotton are far in excess of the figures I have quoted. We are also importing cotton from Egypt and the United States. In the year 1931, when the Honourable the Finance Member came forward with the proposal to impose a duty on the importation of cotton, some of us felt that it would be detrimental to the textile industry of India. At that time when we opposed the Government, we were under the impression that the textile industries of India would consume more and more of indigenous cotton and thus encourage the consumption of indigenous cotton. But what do we find from the figures ? We find that the textile industries of India, especially the Bombay mill industry, have been importing larger and larger quantities of cotton from Kenya. The reason why they are importing larger and larger quantities of cotton from Kenya is that many Indians and many Parsis have gone and settled in Kenya and have been growing long staple cotton, and naturally the Bombay mill industry want to help them by importing larger and larger quantities from Kenya. It is said that India is not producing long stapled cotton, and hence we have to go to Kenya and other places for long staple cotton for Indian mills. But, Sir, we find from the statistics that India also is growing long staple cotton to the extent of 15 lakhs of bales out of a total quantity of 60 lakhs of bales of cotton produced in India, and of this I find that the textile industry is using only about 50 per cent. and the other 50 per cent. is being wasted in mixing with short staple cotton and thus fetching a lower price. Hence, this duty on long staple cotton will encourage the cultivation of more and more long staple cotton in this country.

1 P.M.

There is another argument used by the millowners, namely, that we should not impose any duties on raw products, and they quote the Tariff Board's report in support of that contention. My submission is, however much that theory may hold good with regard to other countries, it does not hold good with regard to India. The reason is this. We find that great industrial countries like the United Kingdom, France and others have to depend upon raw products that are imported from other countries. They are highly industrial countries and they have not sufficient land to cultivate the raw products. Hence they have mainly to depend upon the importation of raw products from other countries. Therefore, any duties levied upon raw products will add to the cost of the manufactured goods which have to compete with the manufactured goods of other countries in open market. That is why it is advantageous for those countries not to levy any import duties upon raw products ; whereas India is differently situated. In India we are growing large quantities of cotton ; we are growing to the extent of nearly 60 lakhs of bales of cotton of which only 25 lakhs of bales are consumed here and large quantities are being exported. India being an agricultural country, we produce large quantities of raw products and this rule cannot apply.

[Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi.]

The protection for Indian cotton proposed by the Honourable the Mover is indirectly of benefit to the industries also. They are now importing long staple cotton from miles and miles away after paying heavy freights and incurring other expenses due to the long distance. If the production of long staple cotton is developed in this country by giving this protection, then the mill industries will have the raw products at their very doors and thus they would save enormous cost ultimately. Hence, this duty is indirectly and ultimately beneficial to the industries themselves.

Again, it is said, and will be repeated by the industrialists, that India is producing larger quantities of short staple cotton only, and if the industries in India want to develop, they must have long staple cotton as the mills must produce finer kinds of goods. It is quite essential that Government should help in every way the growing of long staple cotton in India. In that case India will have a wider market for its cotton. At present it is only Japan and China and one or two other countries that are consuming Indian cotton. It is only those countries that have been producing larger and larger quantities of coarser goods, and hence there is a very good market for Indian cotton. Therefore our markets are very much restricted on account of our growing short staple cotton in larger and larger quantities. If India begins to grow long staple cotton in larger quantities, then she will have a world wide market, because all the European countries are producing finer goods and they require long staple cotton. Hence we need not depend upon only one or two countries for the consumption of our cotton, but we will have a wider field if India develops the production of larger and larger quantities of long staple cotton.

By levying duties on imported goods, it might be argued that we might provoke other countries to retaliate. That is a thing to be considered. There is the fear of retaliation from other countries. But what exactly will be the position in case of duty on imported raw cotton ? The two countries that have been consuming almost all our exports of raw cotton are Japan and China. On account of the imposition of heavy duties on the cotton goods imported from Japan for helping our indigenous textile industries, we have seen that Japan has already boycotted Indian cotton. We need have no fear in that direction, because they have completely boycotted us. As regards the other country, China, she is not in a position, on account of the chaotic conditions there, to boycott our goods. Leaving out these two countries, there are no other countries from whom we expect retaliation by our levying this duty on cotton.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member has got only one minute more.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : There is another argument that is stated to the effect that cotton duties do not go in any way to help the cotton grower at present, because we are importing only long staple cotton which does not compete with our cotton and hence the Indian agriculturist, who produces only short staple cotton, will not be benefited by the protective duties at all. For this I would only quote the speech of the predecessor of the Honourable the Leader of the House when he supported the duty to be levied on the importation of cotton during the debate on the Indian Finance (Supplementary and Extending) Bill. Sir George Rainy said :

" The very utmost that the industry could possibly complain of is, as I have said, that a desirable development would be unable to proceed quite so rapidly as in other circumstances perhaps it might have done. On the other hand, we have to set off the advantage to the cultivator. I do not propose to go into that in any detail but merely to say this. It does not in the least follow, because more than half of the cotton crop of India is exported and therefore no import duty can benefit the industry as a whole, it does not in the least follow that the duty may not be of very distinct benefit to a particular section of the cotton cultivators, and when my friend (he was referring to Mr. Mody, who is the protagonist of the industrialists) says that he presumes no one would say that the competition of imported cotton had kept down the price of Indian varieties, I would merely remind him of what my Honourable friend, the Finance Member, said on that subject that the effect of the duty, according to his information, had been to raise the prices of the Indian variety which, I think, comes to very much the same thing."

Thus any rise in duty will tend to raise the prices and it would conduce to the growth of more and more of long staple cotton. Sir, with these words, I have great pleasure in supporting the Resolution moved by the Honourable the Mover.

The Assembly then adjourned for Lunch till Half Past Two of the Clock.

The Assembly re-assembled after Lunch at Half Past Two of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh (Agra Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I extend my wholehearted support to the Resolution moved by my Honourable friend, Seth Abdoola Haroon. There is no doubt that it is in the interests of the cotton growers and I happen to be one of them. Therefore, it is my bounden duty not only to my brother cotton growers, but also to my constituents that the proposition should be carried through. A doubt has been expressed that the motion is premature in view of the negotiations which are bound to come up for consideration between the Government of India and the representatives of Japan, and they point out that this action by the Assembly in carrying through this motion may prejudice the negotiations and the successful termination of those negotiations. Sir, we have to see the effect of the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Bill introduced by the Leader of the House. Then there is a fear that the duty proposed might affect the supply of long staple cotton which is grown only in the Punjab.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : It is also grown now in Sind.

Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh : And in Sind also. That long staple cotton will not be available in sufficient quantities for mills. But, Sir, the question of Japan has been before business men for long and they do not place much reliance on the words of those who say that Japan will start a complete boycott of Indian cotton. They say that it is only a fetish to think that Japan will be able to boycott all Indian cotton as her demands cannot be satisfied by the American cotton, and everybody knows that Japan's growing prosperity is an eye-sore to the United States of America ; hence it is hardly possible. It is, however, refreshing to think that an industrialist and a businessman like the Honourable Seth Abdoola Haroon should have thought of the prosperity of the cotton grower and to protect his interests. We should at this moment consider the pros and cons of the whole matter before we decide one way or the other. The needs of the situation should certainly be looked into and we should encourage the growing of finer cotton which would do away with the remedies as proposed in the present motion and there is no doubt that the growing of better cotton will receive an impetus by the action which has been proposed. I appeal to the Government to favourably consider the request of the agriculturists and also of businessmen. As my friend, Mr. Reddi, has shown, it would be as much in the interests of the businessmen and industrialists as the cotton growers themselves. I hope the Government will have regard for agriculturists and their prosperity especially in view of the great industrial awakening in the country that the finer cotton should be grown in India in sufficient quantities and thus this is one of the steps in the right direction and, therefore, I support the motion.

Sir Leslie Hudson (Bombay : European) : Sir, if I do not see eye to eye with the Mover of this Resolution, the wording of which I think could have been better framed, it is not that I have not the greatest sympathy with the agricultural community which is, in the last resort, the backbone of this country. But, Sir, there are two sides to this question. There is the cotton grower, but there is also the indigenous mill industry of India to which consideration must also be given and I cannot believe that any Honourable Member of this House really at the back of his mind believes that a tax on raw materials is a sound one, raw materials, that is to say, which are not produced at present in this country. It is true that in the Punjab American cotton is being grown, but it is not the equivalent of the longer staple cotton which we get from East Africa, Egypt and America and which is a necessity for our cotton mills. Mr. Lalchand Navalrai has told us that long staple cotton is now being grown in Sind.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Also longer staple cotton.

Sir Leslie Hudson : As the Sukkur Barrage has been in operation now for somewhat less than 18 months, the production of long staple cotton in Sind cannot be very great at present. No doubt it will grow and we all hope that it will be grown. When India is able to provide from her own soil the long staple cotton that is required by the mill industry of India, in order to make cloths to compete with those being imported into India from Japan and elsewhere, then, I am perfectly certain, that the nationalist spirit of the millowners will urge them to purchase the Indian produced article, provided it is of equal quality, rather than import it from abroad. I would specially stress the fact that these long staple cottons are necessary in the manufacture of our mills in India. The Honourable Member, Mr. Reddi, has given a considerable array of figures and I do not wish to trouble the House to any extent with any more, but a comparison of the consumption of indigenous cotton in the Indian mills, with the imports of East African and American cotton, might be of interest.

In 1925-26, the consumption of bales of 3½ cwts. each, in Indian mills, was 20 lakhs, imports of long staple cotton 1¼ lakhs. In 1926-27, 21 lakhs consumption and imports 4¾ lakhs. In 1927-28, 18 lakhs consumption, imports 188 thousand bales. In 1928-29, 20 lakhs consumption, imports 122 thousand bales. In 1929-30, 24 lakhs consumption, and imports 1½ lakhs bales. In 1930-31, 23 lakhs consumption, imports 4¾ lakhs (that considerable increase is due to special circumstances in that year). In 1931-32, 24 lakhs consumption of Indian cotton in Indian mills and 5 lakhs imports. In this present year 1932-33, consumption in Indian mills of Indian cotton for a period of 11 months only has been 22 lakhs bales whereas imports have been less than 2½ lakhs. I think the statement made by an Honourable Member opposite that the consumption of Indian cotton in Indian mills was being reduced or rather that the import of foreign cotton was being increased, thereby reducing the consumption of Indian cotton in Indian mills is not true. The figures that I have just given go to prove that that statement is not correct, if anything it is increasing, whereas the import of long staple cotton from abroad is going down. We have also heard about the question of export of cotton to Japan. I think I am right in saying that until a very recent date, the export of cotton from India to Japan averaged over 15 lakhs of bales per year. Last year, for the 10 months to the end of July, the exports of cotton to Japan were 4,70,000 bales and those in the present year for the same period are exactly double, namely, 9,40,000 bales. It is true that Japan has declared a boycott against Indian cotton and the latest information that I have received from Bombay is that the boycott is definite and effective. That boycott will remain in force no doubt until the result of the conference which is to be held here in the course of the next month is known. I feel, Sir, that the present Resolution could have been worded differently and still have attained the object desired by the Mover. We all want to see the cotton growers in India prosper, we all want to see the cotton growers in India grow longer staple cotton so that it can be used in the Indian mills, and I go further, there is no reason why, if a sufficient quantity of proper quality is grown, it should not be exported. But there is the other side of the case and I think the House should consider very very closely before they agree to this Resolution that a further duty should be placed on the import of raw materails used by the cotton mills in India which not only supply a vast consuming public, but also employ a very large quantity of labour.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : Sir, it is a matter for some little regret that my Honourable friend has framed this Resolution in the terms in which it appears on the notice paper. Government have every sympathy with the cotton grower and, had this Resolution been framed in somewhat different terms, I do not think they would have the slightest difficulty in accepting it. I am sure that after my Honourable friend and those who have given him their support in this House have heard what I have to say, they will agree with me that no useful purpose would be served by pressing the Resolution in the terms in which it now stands before the House. I abstain from any but a passing reference to the Japanese boycott. There is much that I could say about it, but I refrain for obvious reasons. When a delegation from Japan is on its way to enter into negotiations, it is incumbent on every one of us to abstain from saying anything which may sharpen the acerbity of feeling which unfortunately manifested itself in certain quarters a little time ago. I, therefore, deliberately deprive myself of this opportunity of removing many misapprehensions and of refuting many misrepresentations in this matter lest anything that I say should stir up, instead of allaying, feelings of resentment. What we want at the present moment is to foster a friendly atmosphere for the fruition of friendly negotiations. But I cannot refrain from placing certain facts before this House, facts which have been already referred to by my Honourable friend, Sir Leslie Hudson. I will do so without any comment, but I would request Honourable Members to examine very carefully the implications of the figures which I am placing before the House. I propose to give the House the figures of cotton exports from India to Japan in the last two years. I have brought those figures as much up-to-date as I possibly could. From September, 1931, to 10th August, 1932, the exports were in the neighbourhood of 5,00,000 bales. From September, 1932, to 10th August, 1933, the exports were 10,55,988 bales. Or if you prefer, let us confine ourselves to the last month and a half. The figures of export from Bombay to Japan are, from 1st July to 10th August, 1932, 5,000 bales, from 1st July to 10th August, 1933, 57,000 bales. Equally striking increases are to be found in the shipments of cotton from Karachi to Japan, the increase being in approximately, the same period, from 13,000 bales in the last year to about 47,000 bales in this year. Now, Sir, I will say no more on the subject of the boycott. After all, Sir, the reference to boycott in my Honourable friend's Resolution is, I take it, merely incidental and it is possible to deal with the substance of that Resolution without referring any further to boycott. Now, Sir, what is it that this Resolution wants us to do or recommends the Government of India to do? It recommends that either a prohibitive duty or, what amounts to an embargo, should be placed on foreign imports into this country; and what is the object of that? The object is stated to be to "give rise to consumption of Indian cotton", presumably in India. I am sure, there is no one in this House who does not know that Indian cotton is consumed in Indian mills, so that I presume it is just a question of a slight looseness of phraseology. What my Honourable friend obviously meant, I think, was to increase the consumption of Indian cotton by Indian mills. Of course, Sir, the fact of the matter is that most or all of the coarser counts or rather the less finer counts, for which alone Indian cottons are at the moment suitable, are being woven from Indian cotton. I should like to bring to the notice of the House that whereas in the year 1928-29 the Indian mills consumed something like 1,900,000 bales of Indian cotton, in the year 1932-33 they consumed something like 2,275,000 bales. In this year, namely, 1932-33, 83 per cent. of the cotton consumed by the mills in India was Indian cotton. From what I have said, Sir, it will be clear, firstly, that Indian cotton is being consumed in the Indian mills, that the bulk of the raw material used by Indian mills is Indian cotton, and that they have in the last few years been increasing year by year their consumption of Indian cotton.

[Sir Joseph Bhore.]

Now, Sir, with the possibility of a misapprehension upon that major point out of the way I will come to a question which may naturally be asked by Honourable Members in the House. Taking as a basis, the figures of 1932-33 which I have just quoted, eighty-three per cent., as I have said, consists of Indian cotton. The House may very well inquire, what about the remaining 17 per cent? Let us analyse that 17 per cent. Of that 17 per cent., no less than 9 per cent. consists of long staple cotton from Egypt and Africa, definitely longer,—and I make this statement deliberately,—than anything that is grown in this country and which cannot be replaced commercially by any cotton in the country at the present moment. Now, Sir, practical agriculturists and cotton growers in this House will, I am sure, agree with me when I say that there would be as much sense in attempting to protect the Indian cotton grower by preventing the ingress of cotton which is not grown in this country at the present time as by preventing the importation of, say, musical instruments. But, Sir, we now come to the balance of 8 per cent. and, in the year to which I am referring, that 8 per cent. amounted to something like 200,000 bales, almost entirely from America. Much of this class of import does enter into competition with Indian cotton, but, Sir, with reference to what has been said by more than one Honourable Member, I would bring to the notice of the House, that imports of this particular kind of cotton, and, as a matter of fact, of foreign cotton generally, have definitely decreased. From 1st September, 1931, to 10th August, 1932,—and my Honourable friends will observe that I have taken the trouble to get them almost up to date figures,—American cotton imported into this country amounted to 280,000 bales. From 1st September, 1932, to 10th August, 1933, the import had fallen to 75,000 bales. That fall is also reflected in the total foreign cotton imported into this country. From 1st September, 1932, till 17th August, 1933, the total of foreign cotton which entered Bombay was 239,000 bales as against 538,000 bales in the corresponding period of the previous year. Now, Sir, there are three main points that I would like to make. The first point which, I think, emerges from the figures which I have given to the House, is that that portion of the foreign cotton which really enters into competition with the better qualities of Indian cotton is, speaking comparatively, extremely small; having regard to the total production and the total consumption, I might almost describe it as infinitesimal. Then the second point that I would like to make is this, that at the present moment foreign cotton has to pay the following charges: half an anna a pound as import duty, freight and other similar charges, approximately another half an anna, fumigation charges, about 1|10th of an anna,—totalling something like 1,1|10th anna per pound. I do submit that that does constitute a measure of protection which is not by any means unsubstantial and I claim that this duty has had this effect that it has made Indian mills take a greater interest in Indian cotton. Now, Sir, the third point that I would like to make,—and this is a somewhat important and possibly a complicated point,—is this. I have attempted to show that the quantity of imported cotton which comes into competition with the finer qualities of Indian cotton is extremely limited. If we wanted to exclude that competition, if we wanted to eliminate that competitive importation, we would have to proceed in one of two ways. We might impose a prohibitive duty on and thus exclude all cotton of a staple competing with Indian cotton or we might entirely exclude all foreign cotton. The first of these is, from the practical point of view, not possible. It is not possible for Customs officers, except with an immense amount of trouble, to differentiate between imports of cotton of different staples and levy varying rates of duty according to the length of the staple. Therefore, we are driven to the other alternative, which is the entire exclusion of foreign cotton. Now, Sir, let us consider what would be the effect of the entire exclusion of foreign cotton. Very little cloth, I am told, is manufactured by the Indian mills purely and entirely from foreign long staple cotton. The bulk, indeed, is used in conjunction with the shorter staple Indian cotton, the long staple foreign cotton providing the finer warp and the short staple Indian cotton, the coarser weft. The resultant cloth is—and that is the point I wish to emphasise—an article which enters into competition with foreign cloth and not with the cloth made by the Indian mills from Indian cotton. Now, to place an embargo upon foreign cotton would mean not merely that you would, to that extent, cripple the activities of the Indian mills, but that you would prevent the use of the shorter staple Indian cottons which are being used in conjunction with the longer staple variety for the production of these types of cloth. I do want to make it perfectly clear, however, that nothing that I have said and no arguments that I have used should be employed to criticise the Government at a later stage if they found it necessary for purely revenue purposes to increase the duties on cotton, and, secondly, I also want to make it perfectly clear that in altered circumstances it may so happen that the question of a protective duty for cotton may be deserving of very serious consideration.

[Sir Joseph Bhore.]

3 P.M.

What I want really to submit to the House is this : that so far as we are concerned, we can help and we are, as a matter of fact, helping the cotton grower in finding wider markets for his cotton. Honourable Members may remember that it was one of the conditions of the Trade Agreement entered into at Ottawa that the United Kingdom should do all in its power to extend the use of Indian cotton in Manchester. That undertaking is, I am glad to say, being implemented both in the letter and in the spirit. (Mr. B. Das : "Question.") My Honourable friend is ready to question anything, because I am afraid he has a sublime disregard for facts and figures. (Laughter.) This object is being steadily pursued. A Committee has been set up in England whose duty it is to do everything in its power to push the sale of Indian cottons. That Committee has taken from this country samples of Indian cotton, and it has actually got woven, from it, in conjunction, I take it, with other cotton from other countries, something like 80 varieties of cloth : these different varieties of cloth have been exhibited before the Manchester textile manufacturers and I have no doubt that that will ultimately bear very good and substantial fruit. Increased consumption cannot be secured in a day ; but even as it is, there are indications that in Manchester there is growing a greater interest in Indian cotton. Let me give to the House certain figures which, I am sure, will support what I have said. From the 1st September, 1931, to the 31st July, 1932, there were exported from Karachi to the United Kingdom 76,000 bales ; in the same period 1932-33, export had risen to 121,000 bales. From Bombay in the same period there was an export of 23,000 bales which had risen in the next year to 62,000 bales : that means a total of 183,000 bales in 1932-33 as against 99,000 bales in 1931-32. I hope Honourable Members will be satisfied from what I have said that the adoption of the course recommended by my Honourable friend, the Mover, is likely not merely to form a handicap for the cotton textile industry, but is likely to have some adverse effect upon the Indian cotton grower himself. What we really want is, as has been said by more than one speaker, to help the growing of longer staple cotton in this country. If that is done, I have not the faintest doubt that not only will the Indian mills and Manchester take increasing quantities, but it will remedy what has been described as "India's vulnerability to any big variation in the demand for short staple cotton". Much, therefore, depends upon the improvement of cotton in this country. A great deal has been done, as Honourable Members are aware, by the Indian Central Cotton Committee which spends large sums of money every year on research. But the improvement of cotton is a very slow process. I think my Honourable friends, the practical cotton growers in this House, will admit it. It depends on research and on experiment and cannot be effected in a day. If this Resolution were so altered as to suggest that the Government of India should do all in their power to assist the growing of cotton, that they should do all in their power to try and obtain wider markets for Indian cotton and that, in ultimately fixing the level of duties or in coming to any trade agreement, they should place the interests of the cotton grower as high as they place any industrial interests in this country, Government would have no hesitation in accepting it. (Hear, hear.) With the assurance I have given, I hope my Honourable friend will be satisfied and will withdraw his Resolution.

Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon : Sir, after hearing the speeches on my Resolution and, particularly, after hearing my Honourable friend, Sir Joseph Bhore, I want only to say this. When I framed the Resolution, I had read in the newspapers about the boycott of Indian cotton by the Japanese. I framed the Resolution under an excitement. But after hearing the facts and figures given today showing the comparison between 1931-32 and 1932-33, I must say that the depression and exchange difficulties account for the lower figures of the former year. However, as my Honourable friend, Sir Joseph Bhore, has given full assurance to protect the Indian cultivator and grower of cotton, I gladly withdraw my Resolution.

The Resolution was, by leave of the Assembly, withdrawn.

RESOLUTION RE REPAYMENT OF HALF CURRENCY NOTES.

Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur (North Madras : Muhammadan) : Sir, I beg to move the Resolution that stands in my name. It reads thus :

"That this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council to reconsider the present policy of Government discouraging and, for that purpose, penalising the cutting of Currency Notes into halves for facility of transmission by post, as such transmission is considered by the business world to be required in the interests of business."

Sir, in moving this Resolution, I need hardly point out that for a very long time past, as a matter of fact, ever since the advent of British rule in this country, the business community has adopted a particular form for transmission of funds from one part of the country to the other. It has been the practice, for the purpose of making remittances from one part of India to another, and especially to such parts where there are no banks, to employ the post office as the medium of transmission, and, in to pay for spurious claims. That is very reasonable. The next consideration, but a consideration which in this particular case ought not to weigh very much with the Government, is that it stands to lose a good deal of its revenue by the method which the business community has chosen to adopt. May be that because the business community insures half notes for a nominal sum the post office is deprived of its revenue. No doubt it is, but when it is recalled that such a practice has grown all these years and has taken a deep hold on the business community and that legislation which has been passed from time to time—currency legislation—could not but take note of it, could not but recognise it as a custom which is prevalent, it is not safe that the Government should pay much heed to the consideration of revenue. As I said, the main consideration ought to be that no spurious half notes are changed at the currency office for the full value of the notes. It may be that the Government are actuated by a desire to get rid of this practice altogether. But, as I have said, the practice is deep rooted, and it is deep rooted, because of the absence of other facilities to which recourse would have been had if they were preferable to the one to which the business community has been used. If it is the determined idea of the Government to do away with; to put a stop to, to prohibit the cutting of these currency notes into halves, the first thing that they should do is to increase the number of branches of the Imperial Bank, to increase the number of the Government treasury offices and then to insist that no currency note should be divided into two. Then Government will be perfectly justified, but, as it is, they have not entirely prohibited the cutting of currency notes into two. They only say that they want to discourage this practice, and, to effect that object, the Controllers of Currency have been working the rules which have been framed under the Indian Currency Act, with the utmost rigour. The result of that unfortunately is that private persons have off and on lost half the value of their remittances, and some banks, I understand, have lost enormous sums. When a half note which bears one part of the serial letter and number is produced before a Currency Officer, payment is made for the value of that half note. Suppose it is a 100-rupee note, payment is made of Rs. 50. And if it happens that the other half is missing through post missing in the course of transit by the postal authorities as an insured letter, and notice is given at once to the authorities concerned and a claim is made by the presenter of the first half note for the value of the other half which is missing, the Controller says : " You cannot get it, because we must be convinced that the other half will never be produced before us." That is the interpretation which I understand has been put by the Controller of Currency in giving effect to Rule 6 (a) of the Rules made under the Indian Currency Act which reads as follows :

[Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur.]

" Claims to the value of a half note shall be rejected unless the number of the note is identified by the enquiring officer on the half note and the half note is entire and has not been divided and joined together."

In giving effect to this rule, the Controller of Currency has issued a communiqué on the 2nd August, 1932, in the following terms :

" It has come to notice that some misapprehension exists as to the rules regarding the payment of value of currency notes of the denomination exceeding Rs. 10 which have been divided into halves. It is therefore notified for general information that no chage has been made in the Rules which were promulgated in the Government of India Finance Department, Notification No. F.-4 (XV)-F.-27, dated the 19th May 1927, and that cut notes will be paid as usual provided both halves presented form parts of the same note and provided the numbers on each half are clearly identifiable. A large number of claims have been made recently for full value of cut notes although the notes have been cut in such a way that the serial letter and number on one of the halves have been divided. Attention is invited to Rule 6A of the Currency Notes (Refund) Rules."

The worst thing about it is that in working the rules, the currency officers are very rigid. Now, take for example a hundred rupee note. The serial letters and numbers are very close to the dividing line and if the note is cut at the dividing line, it is just possible that one of the serial numbers or letters is also cut, but I submit that if the two halves are placed together by the Controller of Currency or the Currency Officer, he will feel convinced that one forms a complement to the other. When they are placed side by side, there ought to be no difficulty in identification of these notes, but knowing that it is the object of the Government to discourage the sending of these notes in halves, they intentionally enforce this rule with the utmost rigour. Sir, in this connection, I think I should point out to the House that the various Chambers of Commerce, both European and Indian, were unanimous in adopting a Resolution against the rigour at Calcutta early in January this year. I believe the Honourable the Finance Member was present at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce. Speaking there, the Honourable the Finance Member said that if the Government of India are convinced that the facilities now provided are not adequate for remittance purposes, some change will perhaps have to be made, but that they were not so convinced. At the end of his speech, the Honourable the Finance Member said that, in view of the creation of a Reserve Bank in the near future, it is but meet and proper that the difficulty which are encountered in the Currency Department of the Government of India should not be allowed to fall on the shoulders of the Reserve Bank and that it is in a way to facilitate the work of the issue department of that bank that Government are discouraging this practice with a stern hand. Sir, as I have explained, looking to the depressed condition of the business community and the lack of facilities which we find in this country and looking to the enormous area of this country and the very limited number of banks or treasury offices in this country through whose medium these remittances can be made, I think the Government of India would be perfectly justified if they will at least issue instructions to the currency authorities to apply these rules with less rigour as was the case a few years ago. Sir, I move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

" That this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council to reconsider the present policy of Government discouraging and, for that purpose, penalising the cutting of Currency Notes into halves for facility of transmission by post, as such transmission is considered by the business world to be required in the interests of business."

There are three amendments on the Order Paper and the Chair finds that Mr. Ramakrishna Reddi's amendment is the most comprehensive of all and the Chair thinks that on the whole it will suit the convenience of the House if Mr. Ramakrishna Reddi is called upon to move his amendment.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi (Madras ceded Districts and Chittoor : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I beg to move the amendment

[Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur.]

so employing the post office, with a view to saving the charges and to expedite the business, it has been the practice to cut currency notes into halves, to send one portion of the halves by insured post insuring the packet for a nominal amount and the other portion likewise insured for another nominal amount. It must be conceded that the Government of India have recognised it at every step when passing legislation on currency matters. As a matter of fact, the last legislation on the subject was enacted by the Indian Currency Act of 1923, and in that enactment specific reference is made, while dealing with payments to be made in the case of currency notes mutilated or defaced, to the powers which are reserved to the Governor General in Council to frame rules with a view to seeing that the interests of the business community do not suffer when they follow the practice of transmitting the currency notes in halves. This is a practice which, during all these long years, has taken a firm hold of the business community, and, if it is the intention of the Government of India to discourage this practice, I think the rigour which is being applied by the Currency Department at the present day ought, in all propriety, to be applied at a period probably 50 years hence by which time the business community will become much more educated and much more familiar with the ordinary business methods. As it is, Sir, a great part of the business community, I mean those engaged in banking and in trade—I do not allude here to those banks which are more or less recognised by the State,—I am referring to those classes of bankers who carry on mostly Hundi transactions,—a large portion of this class of the business community is not far advanced yet, and if today they are pursuing the same old practice with a view to curtailing charges which otherwise they would have had to pay if they had recourse to transmission through banks or by post in the ordinary way as is done by private persons when remitting money from one place to another, I mean, if they adopt these methods, I think they are perfectly entitled to do so, especially in view of the fact that the facilities which they can have access to, the facilities which the Government have provided, are not quite adequate to meet their needs.

Now, Sir, there are four forms, four methods by which a business man can make remittances from one part of the country to another. The first is the system of what is known as supply bills, which, I take it, are brought into effect through Treasury Offices maintained by Government. But, Sir, may I ask, what is the total number in this wide continent of India of such Government Treasury Offices which afford reasonable facilities to the business community to carry on their transactions ? I am afraid, Sir, the total number of these treasury offices is not more than 300 in the whole of India. Then, Sir, when it is remembered that the bulk of the business community is not well educated and is unfamiliar with business methods, it is easy to realise that they want to avoid as much as possible the formalities which have to be gone through and the delays consequent upon their resorting to this method of transmission. Unless, therefore, Sir, sufficient facilities are afforded to the business community to transact business through these treasury offices by the medium of supply bills by increasing the number of these treasury offices, especially in up-country stations, it will be impossible for these business people to carry on their every day transactions.

Next, Sir, we have what are known as the facilities afforded by the banks, and those consist of bank drafts and currency telegraphic transfers. It is well known that the charges which have got to be paid on telegraphic transfers and bank drafts are very high considering the volume of business which the commercial community transact. As a matter of fact, the usual charges that are levied are four annas per Rs. 100 up to Rs. 1,000 in the case of bank drafts, and two annas for every Rs. 100 up to Rs. 10,000, and over Rs. 10,000 the charge is Re. 0-1-0 per Rs. 100. It is easy to realise that businessmen who have got to remit funds, who have got to make remittances, almost every day of their life, of sums amounting to thousands of rupees, cannot afford to spend as much as the banks charge, and to avoid the formalities and the prohibitive charges and the delays consequent upon the identification of the parties to be paid at the other end in the case of bank drafts, they resort to the easiest, the quickest and the cheapest method which at the outset I have described in detail, namely, the cutting of currency notes into halves and sending them by insured post for a nominal amount. Then, Sir, what is the total number of the branches of the Imperial Bank of India, on which the business community are asked to rely for the purpose of such transactions ? It is not more than, I believe, 108 throughout India.

The last method to which resort is generally had, but towards which the business community are very, very shy at the present moment on account of the trade depression, is the system of hundis. In these days of depression, the hundi business is done on a very small scale as it is rather foolish to make remittances of large amounts through hundis unless the party who issues them is perfectly sound at least up to that amount. It may happen in up-country places where business firms have their agents to make purchases on their behalf and have to meet their liabilities in time that a banker is not available who is of a status such as will ensure to the transmitter his absolute soundness and recourse has necessarily to be had to other forms of transmission, and as I have already submitted, the quickest, the cheapest and the simplest course is to adopt the method which they have all along adopted. Sir, I would even go to the extent of saying that the ordinary method of sending notes by insured post, insured up to the full amount of the notes contained in the envelope, has in some cases resulted in the absolute ruin of the remitting merchants. I refer to those cases in which these notes insured up to the full amount have been lost and the procedure which has to be adopted before payment can be made of these lost notes is such that the man who has lost them has got to wait for months together before he can get their value, and in the business world where one has to meet one's commitments and liabilities in time—where time is of the essence of the contract—it is easy to imagine what the result is of such delay in getting payments of currency notes lost in transit which have been insured to their full value. To obviate all these difficulties, merchants have, if I may say so, from time immemorial, resorted to this practice which I assert is perhaps the best method of making remittances from one part of the country to another.

Two main considerations, I believe, would weigh with the Government when making legislation as to the refund of the value of currency notes. The foremost consideration would be that Government are not cheated in these matters ; that is to say, that Government have not got which stands in my name to the Resolution which has been moved so ably by my friend, Mr. Muazzam Sahib Bahadur :

[Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi.]

" That at the end of the Resolution the following be added :

' and to amend the rules with retrospective effect, in such a manner as to secure the following objects :

(i) When the owner of currency notes has received payment of half the value, being able to produce one half of the notes, the other halves being lost, he should be able, either on immediate proof of his ownership, after due public notice or on non-production or non-presentation of the other halves, within a fixed period to obtain payment of the value of the lost half.

(ii) When the second halves of currency notes are presented for payment after half their value has been paid on the presentation of one-half of these notes, payment should not be made to such presenter without notice to the person who has received the previous payment and except on proof that he had the preferential title to the currency notes.

(iii) When the owner of a currency note, having received payment of half the value, being able to produce one half of the cut note which bears the complete undivided serial letter and number, produces the other half of the cut note which has been cut in such a way that the serial letter and number has been divided, but when both the halves are put together, are identifiable as parts of the same note, and its serial letters and numbers are clearly identifiable, he should be able to obtain payment of the value of the other half '."

Sir, the Honourable Member who moved this Resolution has clearly brought out the difficulties under which the public suffer owing to the changes that have been made in the Paper Currency Act with regard to the sending of currency notes by post and, if that Resolution has stood by itself, it only brought out the difficulties which the public suffer under the present rule, whereas if these amendments are added, they will show the way in which those difficulties could be removed. As has been pointed out so lucidly by the Mover, there are only four facilities provided for the public to transact business of sending money from one place to another. There are Government treasuries of which only very few people take advantage and there is the banking system which has come into this country only very recently of which excepting English educated people and business concerns very few other people take advantage. The other method is by means of Hundis and the last method is to send the money by means of post office. The last one is the only popular method of sending the money from one place to another for the masses. This method of cutting notes has been in vogue in this country for a very long time and for very valid reasons. In the first place, it ensures economy and, in the second place, it ensures safety. When we send half notes by post office, we do not insure those half notes to the full value, but we give only a nominal value : hence, the postal charges will not come up to much. That is the reason why this method has become so popular in this country. Then there is the safety. If we send full notes by insurance through the post office, they might be lost and might not be traced at all. In many instances the whole notes are lost for ever. On the other hand, if we send the half notes, they will not be of value to any person who steals them : hence there is still a remedy in the hands of the person who sends the money to recover the value as he is in possession of the other halves of the notes. Therefore, it is no wonder that the country took to the method of sending money from one place to another by means of cut notes. Now, the rules that existed till 1923 were very favourable. According to them if half notes were lost during the transit, the person who was the owner of the notes could go to the Currency Officer and show to him the other halves. He could prove to the Currency Officer that he was the owner of the lost halves also, and if the latter was satisfied that there was sufficient proof of the ownership, he would immediately pay the whole amount or would ask him to execute a certain indemnity bond and pay that amount, or he might fix certain time within which to find out if the other halves were produced by anybody and then he would pay the full amount of the notes to the owner. Under the changed rule which came into vogue in the year 1927, the owner of the other halves cannot receive the full value ; he will be paid only half the value.

[At this stage Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) vacated the Chair which was then occupied by Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury).]

He will be asked to prove to the satisfaction of the Currency Officer that the other half notes will not, for ever, be produced at all. It is an impossible condition, because the owner may not know under what circumstances the other half notes were lost and in whose hands the other half notes have fallen. He cannot say whether the person who has stolen those half notes will produce them or destroy them. All these things the owner is not expected to know. Hence the Currency Officer, before whom he preferred his claim, may not be satisfied that he has proved to his satisfaction that the other half notes will not be produced. I will give an illustration. Certain half notes are sent by the post office and they are stolen away during the transit. The owner goes to a Currency Officer and says that half notes have been stolen during the transit and he is not responsible at all for the loss, and claims the full payment on his producing the other halves. The Currency Officer wants him to give an undertaking that the other half notes will not be forthcoming at all. You can easily imagine, Sir, how impossible it is for him to give that undertaking. They might have fallen into the hands of a thief or they might have fallen into the hands of another person who might produce them sometime hence, and claim payment for them. So it is not possible for him to prove this. Then there is another difficulty. The Currency Officer will say that he will pay only for the half of the notes, that is to say, half the value of the full notes which he has lost. So, if the other half has fallen into the hands of a thief and if he happens to know that the owner has already preferred his claim to a Currency Officer, he will not produce the other halves lest he might be caught and consequently would destroy them completely. In that case, the Government will stand to gain the half of the value of these notes though they have solemnly undertaken to pay the whole amount when the currency notes are produced. It is not a mere illustration, but it is actually what happens every day.

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : The Honourable Member has got two minutes more.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : Sir, there is the Bank of Hindustan, Limited, in Madras. Two of its branches have sent as much as Rs. 35,000 of currency notes in halves to their head office in Madras which were duly received. The branches subsequently sent the other halves and these halves were lost by the negligence of the Postal Department. Then the head office immediately went to the Currency Officer and reported the matter and also reported it to the Police saying that the other halves have been lost during the transit. The Currency Officer said that under the rules they will be entitled to get only half of the whole amount and not the whole amount. Those are the difficulties and, it is in order to remove those difficulties, that I have moved parts 1 and 2 of my amendment.

[Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi.]

With regard to part 3, as there is not sufficient time at my disposal, I shall try to be brief. When the note is cut for the purpose of transmission, it must be cut exactly in the middle. If the scissors go to the other side and cut out a portion of the serial number, then the Government refuse to pay for that portion of the half the numbers of which have been divided. And they will pay a moiety only for the one-half which contains the full number. It is really a very great hardship as many people are liable to cut the serial numbers by inadvertence when cutting these notes into halves for transmission. This rule came into vogue only from 1927 and, before that, there was no such restriction. My amendment is intended to remedy this grave injustice. My amendment is that if a person, who has received half the amount after producing the half which bears the complete number, is able to produce the other half of the note which has been so cut as to divide the serial number and when both the halves are brought together, he could prove clearly that they form part of one and the same note and that they contain the serial numbers, then he must be entitled for the payment of the whole amount. That is the purpose of my amendment which I have moved.

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : Amendment moved :

" That at the end of the Resolution the following be added :

' and to amend the rules with retrospective effect, in such a manner as to secure the following objects :

(i) When the owner of currency notes has received payment of half the value, being able to produce one half of the notes, the other halves being lost, he should be able, either on immediate proof of his ownership, after due public notice or on non-production or non-presentation of the other halves, within a fixed period to obtain payment of the value of the lost half.

(ii) When the second halves of currency notes are presented for payment after half their value has been paid on the presentation of one-half of these notes, payment should not be made to such presenter without notice to the person who has received the previous payment and except on proof that he had the preferential title to the currency notes.

(iii) When the owner of a currency note, having received payment of half the value, being able to produce one half of the cut note which bears the complete undivided serial letter and number, produces the other half of the cut note which has been cut in such a way that the serial letter and number has been divided, but when both the halves are put together, are identifiable as parts of the same note, and its serial letters and numbers are clearly identifiable, he should be able to obtain payment of the value of the other half '."

Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya (Madras : Indian Commerce) : Sir, this is my maiden speech, an old maiden's speech in this House and if I am not able to express myself clearly on this occasion, you will please excuse me. As the time proceeds and as I gather more experience, I shall try to make myself clearer to the House. Now, Sir, to come to the subject, my Honourable friend, Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib, had put in his Resolution practically in the form in which it has been now moved as an amendment, but the Assembly Department put their scissors into it and the result was that the first portion of it got into the ballot and the second portion disappeared and as such it became practically useless like a currency note which is cut ! The Assembly Department accepted the first part, but would not agree to give full value to the second part. However, that is a minor matter and we need not discuss it any more.

Now, one thing which I do not understand is why the Government are so very keen to penalise everybody who cuts a currency note. The Government go out of their way to interpret the rules in such a way that it becomes practically impossible for anybody to get full value of the note the wording of which is " I promise to pay on behalf of the Government of India the sum of Rs. ....." The main thing is the payment of money. If it were the case of any other negotiable instrument, other than a Government currency note, it would be open to a party to compel the man who wrote the promissory note to give another in lieu of it, but as the Government rules are very arbitrary, one-sided and very stringent, they have themselves fully recognised the right of the public to cut these notes into halves and it is for that purpose that the rules were promulgated so that the public may not suffer by any mutilation or cutting of these notes. I do not see why the Government now at this stage, after having allowed the practice to get established so wide and for such a long time and which the public has found so very convenient, should come forward to enforce these new rules. I understand, as has been given out by my Honourable friend, that the new Reserve Bank is coming and as such the Government do not wish to saddle it with the inconvenient procedure or responsibility in the matter of payment of half currency notes as they have been doing all these days. I think this brilliant idea of discouraging the cutting of currency note started with Sir Basil Blackett who intended to give a Reserve Bank to India. He planned well, he tried to give India a Reserve Bank, but sometimes as it happens our best laid plans go wrong. The result is, we never got a Reserve Bank, but we got these stringent rules. I very much sympathise with the present Finance Member who got an inheritance of these bad rules and the unpopularity of working these rules, but not the Reserve Bank. I learn that the practice of cutting currency notes is so large and so wide that practically 75 per cent. of the currency notes of the denomination of Rs. 100 go back to the currency offices only cut. It is not only the commercial community or the ignorant public that is responsible for cutting the notes. I understand that Government servants and even the Members of the heaven born services also cut the notes. But what could they do ? Supposing a member of that service resides in a district and there is no branch of any bank there and he wants to remit the funds, what has he got to do ? The easiest and natural way is to cut these notes and send them in halves, and when he is cutting them and also talking with some other person, the scissors go a little astray and the letter or number of the note is also cut and the Currency Officer says : " No, we will not pay the money." The result is that that gentleman is put in a fix. But, as he belongs to the heaven born services, he takes up the matter seriously with the Treasury Officer and when he addresses the Currency Officer he might probably say : " His is a bona fide case and so he should be paid." But, in the case of those who have not the good fortune to belong either to those services or to any particular community, they have to suffer. Now, my Honourable friend has already told you the few methods of remittances which are available. He has omitted to say about the postal money orders ; but if you send any money by postal money order, you have to pay practically one per cent. and at the same time you cannot send more than Rs. 600 by a money order though you can send several money orders. Similarly, if you want to insure your full currency notes, you cannot do it for more than Rs. 3,000. Of course, it is said that you can send 30 or even 300 covers of Rs. 3,000 each, but the difficulty of writing out those forms and then signing them at the other end and complying with all these formalities is great. Besides, the charges are very prohibitive. It is said that it is in India only that this practice of cutting currency notes exists and nowhere else. How is it ? But they forget that in other countries like France, the Bank of France practically allows free remittance throughout the country. Similarly in England they have got over ten thousand Bank Offices or Branches and the habit of banking and of drawing cheques is also very well developed, and it is not at all necessary for them to cut the notes. Rather it is easier for them to write a crossed cheque and send it out than cutting these notes and then pasting them at the other end. Sometimes we have to paste them at the post office where the gum pot is so full of foul bacteria or germs that it is hardly possible for anybody to make use of it.

[Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya.]

I will now come to the main point in the amended Resolution that has been proposed. I may add that when the original rules of 1921 were altered in 1927, they were done under the universal protest of the public. Though the public were against it and all the Indian Chambers and the English Chambers were against it, the Government of India insisted on making these changes in the refund rules in spite of all opposition. I should like to read some of the views expressed by the Associated Chambers on that occasion so that the House may know definitely how the rules were promulgated in spite of the vehement protests of both the commercial community and the general public.

4 P.M.

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : I would remind the Honourable Member that his time is limited.

Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya : Thank you, Sir :

" The Association pointed out that the facilities for transferring money from the larger Indian cities to towns, mines, plantations and agricultural estates in the mofussil were insufficient to meet the requirements of commerce and industry, and the public would be very seriously inconvenienced if the restrictions outlined by the Government of India were imposed. It was added that bankers and merchants consulted on the subject saw no alternative to the practice of remitting money in halves of currency notes to trading and industrial concerns away from the larger Indian cities, and obstacles ought not therefore to be placed in the way of those who resorted to the practice.", etc., etc.

As my time is limited, I will not read any more, but deal with the subject of clauses (i) and (ii) of the amendment. I wish to draw the attention of the House to the difference in the rules made in 1921 and in 1927. Under the rules of 1921, the position was quite satisfactory. Under rules 13 and 14 thereof, if the party which lost one half of the currency notes could prove to the satisfaction of the Currency Officer and the Deputy Controller that the whole note was his property at the time of the loss, the Deputy Controller, if satisfied with the proof, acted in one of two ways : either the claim was paid at once or was ordered to be paid after the expiration of a specified period in order to see if any other persons claimed the ownership and value of the note. This latter procedure was quite suitable to cases where the missing half was lost in transit or was alleged to be stolen and by the provisions relating to the delay and indemnity the Currency Department could make their position completely safe. But these rules were changed in 1927. Under the new rule 14, when a half note is presented, the Currency Officer is authorised to pay only half the value unless he is satisfied that the counterpart has been lost or destroyed in such circumstances that there is no probability of its being presented at some future date. And the meaning which the Currency Department puts on the word " lost " is very peculiar. What they mean by " lost " or " completely destroyed " is that it will never be recovered or presented. My friend has spoken about the case of the Bank of Hindustan, Limited, Madras. There all the formalities required by the Currency Officer were duly complied with and the Currency Officer was completely satisfied that the notes belonged to them. But the interpretation he put on the rules was that it must be proved that there is no physical possibility of the lost half notes being again presented. Now, the Police Department and the Postal Department have informed the Currency Department of the loss and they know perfectly well that the thief would never dare to produce these notes and yet they say that they will not pay. But what is most curious and amazing is that they say that even if the thief,—these are not the exact words, but this is really what it amounts to,—that even if the thief comes forward and presents the missing halves, they will pay him and, at the same time, they will not inform the Bank of Hindustan, Limited, Madras. That is a peculiar way of dealing with things and there are a number of cases like that. I do not think it is the intention of the Finance Member to balance a deficit budget by means of recovering money out of these lost or mutilated or half-cut notes. I do not think there is any intention of that kind.

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : The Honourable Member's time is up.

Mr. S. C. Sen (Bengal National Chamber of Commerce : Indian Commerce) : Sir, I fully support the original Resolution and the amendment moved in this matter. India is more or less an agricultural country and there are very few banking facilities in the mufassil towns and even the post offices in the mufassil are sometimes five or ten miles apart. There are few mahajans in the interior who can afford to pay the money at once. In these circumstances, banking facilities which occur in the western countries cannot be availed of by the ordinary public, nor can the homely system, which is prevalent in this country, be availed of easily. In those circumstances, the ordinary and the only course left to the people to send money to distant places is to cut the notes in half and send them by insured or registered post. I do not understand why there should be any difficulty on the part of Government, in cases in which one-half of such notes is lost, to pay money upon proof satisfactory to them that the whole of the money belonged to the person and has been lost. It is only a matter of proof and, if some facility is given in the matter of proof, I do not see that there can be any difficulty on the part of Government. I do not think it is Government's intention to disapprove of the method, which has been in existence from the time when the notes came to be circulated in this country, of cutting the notes

[Mr. S. C. Sen.]

They know perfectly well that in a country like this, where banking facilities are so few, the notes should be and ought to be allowed to be transferred from place to place and safely by means of cutting them in two. I am surprised to find,—I did not know it,—that there has been a change in the procedure as regards the rules of 1927. The former rules were all right and I remember I availed myself of that rule on more than one occasion. It often happens that the packet has been lost in transit. All that is needed for the safety of Government is to have ample proof that the whole of the notes belonged to me and was sent by me. I think the money should be given upon indemnity or after some time having expired after due notice is given in the newspapers. I do not see why that procedure cannot be adopted even at the present time, and I do hope the Finance Member, with his wide outlook for business facilities for the public, will accept the Resolution.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Sir, the first question involved in this consolidated amendment is with regard to the cutting of currency notes into two. How coincident it is that the original Resolution which was presented on a paper, which I might call a note, was cut into half in the ballot ! It has been said that one half of it was accepted by the ballot and the other half was not successful ; but it is a happy thing that in this House both the halves have been patched up into a consolidated amendment and presented like a whole patched up currency note for consideration of the House. This incident is a good augury for allowing a currency note to be cut into halves and patched up subsequently.

First, as regards the cutting of notes : the whole claim is based upon the difficulty in practice. From several points of view it is necessary that these notes should be sent in halves to the banks and to other people. This practice was in vogue before and now certain impediments or, what I might call, fantastic difficulties have been placed in the way. When you send half a note, it is absolutely secured, because if you send the whole and, if the whole is lost, then the whole of the value is gone.

[At this stage Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) resumed the Chair.]

But if half a note is sent and the other half is lost, the money can be recovered under certain circumstances under the present rules. So I cannot see why the old practice should not be continued and why these notes should not be cut into halves. The difficulties that are now placed in the way of cutting notes are, if I may call them, merely fanciful, because it gives discretion to the officer who receives these notes to pay or not as he likes : I can give an example which I got from a very reliable authority. An officer got a Rs. 500 note, probably as his pay, and he had to send it to the bank. He thought as usual that it was safe to send half of it first : and so he began to cut it : but, in cutting it, he severed it in such a way that one half of the figure one was in one half and the other in the other half note : that was the only fault ; and, when the note went to the Currency Officer, he said the note would be rejected. When the two halves were put together, they formed one whole, but on this technical objection the note was about to be forfeited. Of course, in this case, the person concerned happened to be an officer of standing and he put his case in a persistently strong manner and he was allowed to get the full value of his note. But I do not know what would have happened if it had been a person in an ordinary position : perhaps the note would have been forfeited to Government. Therefore, I submit that it would be wholly beneficial to the public if the old practice and the old rule is followed so far as this matter is concerned.

As regards the second portion of the amendment, I cannot for a moment see why this rule should stand. The former rule was that when half the note was presented to a Currency Officer, he was allowed to give the whole money on getting a certain indemnity ; and the indemnity was that if anybody came thereafter to lay a claim, he would be responsible. Thus, under the old rule, in 1921, the whole payment was being made on this condition. That was a very good and salutary provision. But that has now been changed and, at present, it is left to the discretion of the officer to give the whole of the money only on one condition, i.e., that if the officer is satisfied that there will be no probability of the other half coming forward or if he is satisfied that it is actually lost, then only he can give the whole of the money and not otherwise. Can this not be a case of misappropriation by Government, if I may call it so ? It is not possible to satisfy an officer that the other half will or will not be forthcoming. If it has been stolen and if subsequently the number is notified, it may not be presented at all : the thief may cut it up or put it on as a wall paper ! How can the Currency Officer, therefore, be satisfied that the other half will not be forthcoming ? Is not this fantastic ? I, therefore, hope that Government will accept the second amendment.

I think the third portion is a very reasonable one. It says that payment should not be made to the presenter of the second half without notice to the person who has received previous payment except on proof that he had a preferential title to the currency note. I think this is reasonable, because, when the other man brings the note, he will come and ask for the money ; but the other half has been paid to another man. If he has taken it wrongly, then he must explain ; for that purpose it is necessary that both men should be before the Currency Officer for determination of the note's identity and the ownership ; and, therefore, it is very necessary that he should be given notice and, further, the other man, who comes with the other half, must be called upon to prove that he has got a preferential title ; otherwise he should not be given the money. I think the whole consolidated Resolution is a very good one and I hope it will commend itself to the House.

Mr. S. C. Mitra (Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I support this Resolution with its amendment. I would like to know from the Honourable the Finance Member if Government are definitely against the policy of cutting notes of higher denominations into halves : if that is so, I think it should be plainly stated and there should be rules prohibiting it. I also want to know from the Finance Member if people took advantage of this device and cheated the Government when the older rules prevailed. That might be a consideration with the House not to accept the Resolution. If Government are not opposed to the policy of cutting notes or from their past experience when the more convenient rule was prevalent Government did not suffer in any way, then it lies heavily on the Honourable the Finance Member to prove to the House why they have changed the old rules to the new one. It must be admitted, as it has been strongly stressed by all the Honourable

[Mr. S. C. Mitra.]

Members that India is not in a par with other advanced countries as regards use of instruments of credit. We have not several banks nor have we acquired the habit of using bank-cheques, not to speak of villages, but even in our big towns and cities. Therefore, the proposition that in other countries there are Reserve Banks and the method of cutting notes there is prohibited is not applicable to India. I think it needs no argument to convince the Honourable the Finance Member that, though in an ideal State, as my Honourable friend, the Mover, put it, say 30 years hence, it may be possible to prohibit this method, you cannot do so now, and that view is strongly supported by the Associated Chambers of Commerce. For the time being, therefore, the older facilities for remittance of money by cutting notes into halves should be permitted.

In this connection I should like to quote another portion from the remarks of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, which were forwarded to the Government of India. A portion has been already read by my friend, Mr. Pandya. This is what they say :

"It was considered that the wide circulation and general acceptance of currency notes throughout the country, particularly the notes of small denominations, was of the utmost importance, as tending to accustom the public to the use of instruments of credit in preference to minted coin and discouraging hoarding of the precious metals. It was felt that the Government of India's proposals would tend to detract from the developing popularity of currency notes, and this objection outweighed the advantages which Government expected to derive from the proposed restrictions. The Association asserted that the time had not yet come for discouraging or prohibiting a means of remittance which was so useful and so popular, and there was reason to apprehend that curtailment of the privilege of cutting notes would cause a permanent discount on currency notes in places where they, at the moment, are circulated at par or at a small premium.

The Association reminded Government that Indian currency notes were used in countries adjacent to India. In Iraq the law provided that whole notes should not be remitted by post, and Indian trade in that country, as also in Baluchistan, Southern Persia, the Persian Gulf, Aden, Somaliland and the East Coast of Africa would be seriously hampered if obstacles to meeting claims on cut notes were imposed on India."

Therefore, Sir, it is clear that it is not only the Indian Chamber of Commerce, but the Associated Chambers of Commerce also agree that the Indian people, at least for some time to come, should have the older privilege of sending their notes in halves. Sir, on these grounds, I support the Resolution.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster (Finance Member) : Sir, I think perhaps the House has heard enough of the case for this Resolution and it is time that something was said on the other side. Before I commence my serious remarks, I should like to congratulate my friend opposite, the self-styled "old maid" from Madras on what, I think I may describe, as a very precocious maiden speech. At the outset I should like to make two points, because I think the House perhaps has been led into a somewhat misleading atmosphere on this question. Most of the speakers have implied in their remarks that Government have quite recently adopted a most unreasonable practice. I would remind Honourable Members that the rules which we are now discussing were introduced in May, 1927, that is to say, they have been in operation for 6½ years. They operated throughout all that period without causing any great sense of grievance, and I think that I detect in the outcry, which has now been raised, the reactions which have been perhaps stimulated by my friend from Madras whose bank or the bank with which he has been connected has suffered a very serious loss through the operation of these rules. I think, Sir, that it is significant that this is the first,—I think I may take it,—that this is the first occasion where these rules, although they have been in operation for 6½ years, have led to any serious complaint.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : But what about the resolution of the European Chambers of Commerce ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I am aware of that, but I think the actual experience, to which I am referring, is most significant.

The other point that I want to make as a preliminary is this. It has been said that the Government, in adopting this attitude, are adopting a very unreasonable attitude. I think I am correct in saying that there is no country in the world whose currency law permits the deliberate mutilation of its currency as we do in India. If we offer facilities, they are unique facilities. I believe I am correct in saying that in Australia such mutilation is even a penal offence. Now, Sir, that points to the fact—and I am sure all Honourable Members will admit this,—that the practice of remitting money by cutting notes is a very primitive practice, it is a practice which, I am sure, they would all like to see eliminated in the sense that they would like to see India come into line with all the civilized countries of the world and adopt more reasonable and businesslike methods for the remitting of money. I do not wish to weary the House by going into all the objections to this practice, but I would just like to point out one or two objections.

In the first place, the practice is adopted, because it enables people to send through the post notes in a form which they think relieves them from risk without following the usual practice as regards remittance of valuables, that is to say, without insuring those notes. Well, that in fact,—so I am informed,—puts a most unreasonable temptation in the way of the postmen who carry letters. If the notes were sent as whole notes, they would have to be insured, the formalities adopted would make it possible to trace the course of an insured envelope, and arrangements in that case are made for delivery to be taken actually at the window of the post office, so that the packet which contains the notes does not go out in the hands of an ordinary postman without any notice or without any distinction from ordinary packets. Those precautions are necessary in order to enable packets which contain valuables to be traced, but if valuable notes are sent in halves uninsured in ordinary packets, then there is no way of tracing a loss when it occurs, and I am told that postmen can detect packets which contain half notes, and therefore, this practice does put an unreasonable temptation in the way of post office officials, and also, as I say, makes it impossible for the post office to detect fraud when it occurs.

Another point, of course, is that it enormously increases the work of all those who have to handle the notes when they are presented. I am told that, according to statistics, in the case of low value notes which are not cut, the tellers are able to work up to 8,000 pieces a day ; in the Bank of England they actually work up to 10,000. In the case of cut notes, the numbers on both sides have to be compared, and the two notes have frequently to be pasted together to avoid their coming apart at a later stage,—the result is that in the case of those notes, the sorters can only work up to 2,500 pieces. There are a great many other reasons which cause a great deal of increased expenditure, and I merely mention those as instances to illustrate the objectionable nature of this practice. But much more serious than that is the fact that if we were to revert to the old practice, the currency authority is placed in a very difficult position in dealing with claims, and although we have been able to support that position as long as the currency authority was the Government, it has been the considered view of the Government, ever since the question of setting up a Reserve Bank was mooted, that it would be essential to alter the position before the responsibility for the currency was transferred to a Reserve Bank. We feel that we could not possibly put on to the shoulders of a private institution the burden of maintaining the old practice. I would go further than that and say that we feel that we cannot really put on the Reserve Bank even the burden of maintaining the position as it is regulated by the present rules. I do not want to go into that in great detail because the suggestion that I have to make may perhaps put before the House a practical way of dealing with this matter. With regard to what my Honourable friend, the Leader of the Opposition, said, I want to make it quite clear that the Government, when they adopted these new rules in 1927, did so with the deliberate intention of discouraging the use of cut notes. They felt that it would be rushing matters too much, in fact the time had not arrived for prohibiting the practice altogether, but they definitely wanted to make it unattractive to remit money by means of cut notes. That purpose has been to some extent fulfilled. It is very difficult to give the exact figures because there are so many sources from which returns come, but roughly speaking, I think the position is this. A few years ago something over 70 per cent. of the 100-rupee notes that were presented were presented cut. I wonder if Honourable Members realise that, because nobody can cut a 5-rupee or 10-rupee note,—that is not permitted,—and 50-rupee notes are hardly used at all. So, this practice really begins with 100-rupee notes, and as I say, over 70 per cent. of the notes that were presented were presented in a cut form. Recent statistics show that the percentage is going down to somewhere between 30 and 40 per cent. so that there has been a substantial decline in that practice. That is our position—that originally in 1927 the rules were tightened up in order to discourage the practice and that, now that the actual setting up of the Reserve Bank is coming so near, we now feel that the time has come to review the position, and if it has to be changed at all, that it ought to be changed in the direction of tightening them up.

[Sir George Schuster.]

The position that I want to put to the House is this. This matter will naturally come up for consideration in the Select Committee on the Reserve Bank Bill if this House agrees to the proposal to refer that Bill to a Select Committee. I think that it would be suitable that the Select Committee of the two Houses should have an opportunity at least of considering the question. I would ask the House to take that into account with regard to a resolution of this kind. My own idea is that the Select Committee on the Reserve Bank Bill might propose—and I would very sympathetically consider the proposal—that a small expert committee should be set up to consider what is the right thing to do now in relation to this practice. I quite recognise that it cannot be immediately terminated. I quite recognise that something of the kind will have to continue for some time to come.

On the other hand, we want to consider it in relation to the position as it will be when the Reserve Bank is set up. If such a committee were set up, I would suggest that it should consider two points : first of all, what should be the nature of the rules regarding the use of cut notes, and secondly, whether the other facilities, the normal facilities, for remitting money are sufficient, and, if not, whether there is any action that the Government could take in order to increase those facilities. I quite recognise that the two points must be considered together. If we are going to restrict facilities of remitting money by cut notes, then we must satisfy ourselves that the facilities for remitting money in other ways are reasonably adequate. I think that some of those Honourable Members who have spoken on the existing facilities have not been quite fair to those facilities. There are, after all, something like 10,000 post offices in existence through which money can be sent, and money can be sent without risk by insuring that money. I know, of course, that my Honourable friend from Madras thinks that the insurance charges are too high. Possibly that may be so ; possibly the insurance charges are capable of reduction. The actual insurance charges through the post office amounts now to something like one-eighth per cent., and I believe that my Honourable friend, whose bank has, I understand, after this actual experience, desisted from the practice of sending money by cut notes and adopted the practice of sending it by whole notes, has been able to arrange for insurance with an insurance company at a premium of one-thirtysecond per cent. I believe I am correct in making that statement. I do not think that that is an unreasonable charge. If insurance companies are willing to assess the risk of sending packets through post office at that rate, possibly the postal authorities might themselves do something to reduce the present charges. I merely throw that out as a possibility, but I would certainly say this that the Government would not wish to do anything to discourage the facilities for remitting money which really are necessary for the encouragement of the banking habit.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad (Patna and Chota Nagpur cum Orissa : Muhammadan) : What will be the fate of those cut notes which are already in rural areas ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I am afraid I do not understand my Honourable friend's question.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : There are very many cut notes in the rural areas in the possession of the public. What will be the fate of those notes ? Will those notes be taken by the Government and full payment made for them ? That question is very keen in Bihar.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I am afraid I do not quite understand the point of my Honourable friend's question. At present the rules as regards cut notes are well known and something would have to be done, as I have said, to continue the practice of making payment on half notes as we do at present. In other respects the provisions might have to be tightened up. But as I am not myself proposing any definite means of tightening them up I cannot answer my Honourable friend's very hypothetical question as to what the position of these particular half notes would be. That would be a matter for consideration by an expert committee if an expert committee is set up in the way that I have suggested.

[Sir George Schuster.]

Now, Sir, I quite recognise that the suggestion that I have made does not meet the point of my Honourable friend from Madras. My Honourable friend I think is concerned with recovering a sum of something like Rs. 1,75,000 which has been lost. I certainly do not want to retain my Honourable friend's money. We did not introduce these rules for the purpose of making money out of them, and I might remind the House in passing that, even if we did retain that money, it would be of very little benefit to me or my immediate successor because we should not take credit for that money for something like 30 or 40 years. Therefore the sum in question would interest the Finance Member of the distant future. But in any case, it is not the intention of these rules that the Government should make money out of them. I quite recognise that my Honourable friend's position of having lost this money is very unsatisfactory. On the other hand, if we were to reopen the question and do anything on the lines suggested in one of the clauses of one of the amendments that the rules should be relaxed retrospectively, we should defeat the whole object, which we have already been able to achieve, of to some extent discouraging this practice. Therefore, I do not think that we could consider any question of reopening hard cases until we had secured the position by new and clearer rules. Therefore, the most that I can say to my Honourable friend is that if as a result of the work of this expert committee it was possible to devise clearer and more restricted rules which would regulate the position for the future, then I might be willing to consider looking into hard cases that had occurred in the past. I want to be cautious about this. Before committing myself in any way it will be necessary to inquire how many cases it will be necessary to reopen. My Honourable friend will understand that we could not make an exception in his favour. But we should have to limit ourselves in some way so as to make this a workable proposition and I would remind the House that the total number of transactions in claims on half notes that are dealt with in the currency offices every year average something like 4,500; so that we would have to go into the question of how many cases it would be necessary to reopen, if we met my Honourable friend's position sympathetically. That is Government's position. We feel that this is a serious question and the time has now come when it must be considered. Therefore I am very glad that this Resolution has been moved, so that the attention of Honourable Members might be called to it. But if it is considered it should not be considered in a one-sided way. It must be considered, having regard to what really are in the best interests of the country and having regard to the fact that a Reserve Bank will have to be set up in the very near future and that they will have to take on all the difficulties which are created by the continuance of this practice. I, therefore, suggest that the matter should be left for discussion in the Select Committee on the Reserve Bank Bill and it is our intention that that committee should recommend the setting up of a small and expert committee to go into the whole question, to consider whether the rules should be tightened up, if so in what form and if they are tightened up, whether the other remittance facilities are adequate and if not whether anything can be done to make them more adequate. I think that is meeting the views that have been expressed on the other side very reasonably and I trust that my Honourable friends will consider this an adequate response to the effort which they have made in order to call attention to this matter and that my Honourable friends will withdraw the Resolution and the amendments.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury (Bengal : Landholders) : I want to put one question. If the decision goes against the recommendation contained in the Resolution, will the Government consider the particular case which has now been mentioned by my friend, Mr. Pandya.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I have already made my position clear. We cannot re-open that case as long as the existing rules are in force, because to do so would defeat the object of the rules, but if new rules are devised which make the position absolutely clear for the future, then we might be ready to consider dealing with hard cases under the existing rules.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : If the decision is against us, then what will be the position ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I cannot carry the matter any further than that.

Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur : In view of the assurance given by the Honourable the Finance Member, and in view particularly of the fact that he is setting up an expert committee to go into exceptionally hard cases, I would ask the leave of the House to withdraw my Resolution.

The Resolution was, by leave of the Assembly, withdrawn.

The Assembly then adjourned till Eleven of the Clock on Friday, the 1st September, 1933.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 1st September, 1933.

The Assembly met in the Assembly Chamber at Eleven of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

MEMBER SWORN.

Mr. Bertrand James Glancy, C.S.I., C.I.E., M.L.A. (Political Secretary).

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Allowances of Members of Different Committees and Commissions.

318. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Is it a fact that the Finance Department issued certain instructions in September, 1931, for fixing the allowances of members of different committees and commissions ?

(b) Is it a fact that the said instructions contained two different categories of committees :

(i) continuous committees, i.e., " committees likely to sit continuously for 15 days ", and

(ii) intermittent committees or " committees which meet at intervals for a day or so at a time " ?

(c) Is it a fact that membership of a committee of the continuous type will extend over joining time, as defined in Government of India Supplementary Rules (S.R.-304), at the beginning and end ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes, but it has now been made clear that the second category also includes Committees likely to sit continuously for less than 15 days.

(c) Yes. I would add that Supplementary Rule 304 has no application to journeys of the kind in question and that the definition of joining time is contained in the Fundamental Rules, not the Supplementary Rules.

Committee on the Great War Pensions.

319. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether the committee on the Great War Pensions was a committee of the Legislature as defined in the foot-note No. 213 of the Audit Code which prescribes that " the cost of committees which are appointed by the Legislature, with instructions to report to it, should be charged to the Minor Head, Legislative Body " ?

(b) If the answer to (a) above be in the negative, will Government be pleased to state whether the said committee was treated as an intermittent committee or a continuous committee ?

(c) Is it a fact that the first meeting of the said committee was held in New Delhi on the 6th April, last, and, that subsequent meetings of the committee were held in Simla from the 5th to the 15th May ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state whether by including the " joining time at the beginning and end ", together with the 11 days of actual sitting of the said committee, it is to be considered as a continuous committee ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) No, as it was not appointed by the Legislature.

(b) As an intermittent committee.

(c) Yes.

(d) The inclusion of joining time is only for the purpose of calculating the subsistance allowance admissible to members and is not relevant to the classification of a committee as ' continuous ' or ' intermittent '.

RAIL ROADS CONFERENCE HELD AT SIMLA.

320. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether the last Rail Roads Conference, which was held in Simla in April last, was treated as an intermittent, continuous, or a committee of the Legislature, and for how many days was it held ?

(b) At what rate were the non-official members paid ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The recent Road Rail Conference was neither a continuous nor an intermittent committee of public enquiry, nor was it a committee of the Legislature. It was a Conference called by the Government of India and met on the 24th, 25th and 26th April last.

(b) The non-official members of the Conference were of two categories, namely, representatives from the Central Legislature and representatives of private bodies. Travelling allowances were in both cases paid at the same rate, i.e., at 1½ first class railway fares to and from Simla, while halting allowance was paid at the rate of Rs. 20 per diem in the case of the former and at Rs. 15 per diem in the case of the latter.

CONSIDERATION OF THE HEDJAZ PILGRIMS (Muallims) BILL IN THE CURRENT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

321. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that Government want to move in this Session that the Muallims Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No, but the matter is under consideration.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will the Honourable Member be pleased to say if there is any mention about the Muallims in the confidential report of the Standing Committee ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have never admitted that there is such a thing as a confidential report.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I have made inquiries and I have come to know that the conclusions and items of the Standing Committee are not confidential. May I know that in Simla in the Standing Committee for Hedjaz some items of the confidential report were discussed ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend is a member of the Select Committee himself and I cannot imagine that that Committee could have discussed a confidential matter and not treated it as confidential. He will forgive me if I do not associate myself with him in disclosing confidential matter.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I inquired from the Honourable Sir Fazl-i-Hussain himself who told me that the conclusions of the Standing Committee and the items on which those conclusions had been arrived at were being treated as confidential. May I ask the Honourable Member if it is a fact that the conclusions of the Standing Committee are not confidential ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : It is not a fact.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Does the Honourable Member then differ with the opinion expressed by the Honourable Member in charge of the Department ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Sir, I am not aware whether the Honourable Member to whom my Honourable friend has referred has expressed any such opinion.

GOLD BULLION IN RESERVE IN THE CURRENCY.

322. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that on the 15th July, 1933, gold bullion of 29,06,59,942 was in reserve in the Currency ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how many tolas of gold were in treasury on that date ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the rate per tola at which they have calculated the price of the gold ?

(d) If the reply to part (b) be in the ounces, will Government be pleased to state what is the weight of a rupee (in ounce) ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The correct figure is 29,06,50,942.

(b) None.

(c) Gold in the Reserve is valued at Re. 1 per 8.47512 grains troy of fine gold.

(d) Does not arise.

SILVER BULLION IN RESERVE IN THE CURRENCY.

323. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that on the 15th July, 1933, silver bullion of 9,43,96,977 was in reserve in the Currency ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how many tolas of silver was in treasury on that date ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the rate per tola at which they have calculated the price of the silver ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes.

(b) The Mints held silver bullion to the value of Rs. 51,59,623 on treasury account on the 15th of July, 1933.

(c) All silver in the Reserve is valued at Re. 1 per 165 grains troy of pure silver.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Part (b) of my queston is " Will Government be pleased to state how many tolas of silver was in the treasury on that date ? "

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : If my Honourable friend will do a little sum of arithmetic and combine the answers which I have given to parts (b) and (c), he will be able to work out the sum in tolas for himself.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government realise that the working out of the figure will take some time and that we will not be able to put supplementary questions ? (Laughter.)

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I should be very pleased if that were the result. (Renewed Laughter.)

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that silver of that amount, that is, 9,43,96,977, as mentioned in part (a) of the question, was actually not in the treasury ? Was it not rather the fact that if silver in coins were to be taken into consideration, the amount of silver would come to this figure ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : The amount of silver bullion referred to represents the amount of silver bullion held in the Currency Reserves in addition to all the silver coins which are held in the Currency Reserves.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL OF THE IMPERIAL BANK OF INDIA.

324. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the subscribed capital of the Imperial Bank of India on the 7th July, 1933, was 11,25,00,000 ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state what amount of the capital has been subscribed by Indians ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes.

(b) Government have no information but under the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, the register of shareholders is open to the inspection of any shareholder.

PUBLICATION OF ADVERTISEMENTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE SERVICES AND EDUCATIONAL MATTERS, ETC., IN THE GAZETTE.

325. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose to issue a circular letter to the effect that all advertisements in connection with the services and educational matters, etc., and all information which requires publication should be published in the Gazette ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The policy of Government is to publish in the Gazette of India matters which concern the public generally or which must be published under some provision of the law. In pursuance of this policy it is already the practice to publish notices issued by the Public Service Commission inviting applications for posts which are filled by selection and giving details of dates, syllabus, etc., for competitive examinations held by them. The results of public examinations held in centrally administered areas by Boards of Education, etc., are also published in the Gazette.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that vacancies in other departments and the vacancies which are not to be filled up by the Public Service Commission are not published in the Gazette ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have no information about that.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that advertisements are generally published in different newspapers ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : What kind of advertisements ?

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : About vacancies ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have observed in my perusal of the Indian press advertisements in various newspapers in connection with vacancies, but I imagine that it is convenient to the public on the whole, as they read the newspapers more diligently than they do the Gazette of India.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the advertisements are given only to those newspapers which are in the list of favourites ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That, Sir, seems to me to be getting on to a different point on which I have no information at the moment.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government realise that if these vacancies are published in different newspapers, it becomes very difficult for the public to know them ? Will it not be better to publish them in the Gazette which all the candidates could read or to announce them in a particular paper in which Government advertisements should usually be published for the convenience of the candidates ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The matter will be examined.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Thank you.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is it not a fact that the publication in different papers should give a greater publicity to the advertisements than if they are merely published in the Gazette ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That was what I had suggested

Audit Code which prescribes that " the cost of committees which are appointed by the Legislature, with instructions to report to it, should be charged to the Minor Head, Legislative Body " ?

(b) If the answer to (a) above be in the negative, will Government be pleased to state whether the said committee was treated as an intermittent committee or a continuous committee ?

(c) Is it a fact that the first meeting of the said committee was held in New Delhi on the 6th April, last, and, that subsequent meetings of the committee were held in Simla from the 5th to the 15th May ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state whether by including the " joining time at the beginning and end ", together with the 11 days of actual sitting of the said committee, it is to be considered as a continuous committee ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) No, as it was not appointed by the Legislature.

(b) As an intermittent committee.

(c) Yes.

(d) The inclusion of joining time is only for the purpose of calculating the subsistance allowance admissible to members and is not relevant to the classification of a committee as ' continuous ' or ' intermittent '.

RAIL ROADS CONFERENCE HELD AT SIMLA.

320. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether the last Rail Roads Conference, which was held in Simla in April last, was treated as an intermittent, continuous, or a committee of the Legislature, and for how many days was it held ?

(b) At what rate were the non-official members paid ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The recent Road Rail Conference was neither a continuous nor an intermittent committee of public enquiry, nor was it a committee of the Legislature. It was a Conference called by the Government of India and met on the 24th, 25th and 26th April last.

(b) The non-official members of the Conference were of two categories, namely, representatives from the Central Legislature and representatives of private bodies. Travelling allowances were in both cases paid at the same rate, i.e., at 1½ first class railway fares to and from Simla, while halting allowance was paid at the rate of Rs. 20 per diem in the case of the former and at Rs. 15 per diem in the case of the latter.

CONSIDERATION OF THE HEDJAZ PILGRIMS (Muallims) BILL IN THE CURRENT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

321. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that Government want to move in this Session that the Muallims Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No, but the matter is under consideration.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will the Honourable Member be pleased to say if there is any mention about the Muallims in the confidential report of the Standing Committee ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have never admitted that there is such a thing as a confidential report.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I have made inquiries and I have come to know that the conclusions and items of the Standing Committee are not confidential. May I know that in Simla in the Standing Committee for Hedjaz some items of the confidential report were discussed ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend is a member of the Select Committee himself and I cannot imagine that that Committee could have discussed a confidential matter and not treated it as confidential. He will forgive me if I do not associate myself with him in disclosing confidential matter.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I inquired from the Honourable Sir Fazl-i-Hussain himself who told me that the conclusions of the Standing Committee and the items on which those conclusions had been arrived at were being treated as confidential. May I ask the Honourable Member if it is a fact that the conclusions of the Standing Committee are not confidential ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : It is not a fact.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Does the Honourable Member then differ with the opinion expressed by the Honourable Member in charge of the Department ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Sir, I am not aware whether the Honourable Member to whom my Honourable friend has referred has expressed any such opinion.

GOLD BULLION IN RESERVE IN THE CURRENCY.

322. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that on the 15th July, 1933, gold bullion of 29,06,59,942 was in reserve in the Currency ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how many tolas of gold were in treasury on that date ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the rate per tola at which they have calculated the price of the gold ?

(d) If the reply to part (b) be in the ounces, will Government be pleased to state what is the weight of a rupee (in ounce) ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The correct figure is 29,06,50,942.

(b) None.

(c) Gold in the Reserve is valued at Re. 1 per 8.47512 grains troy of fine gold.

(d) Does not arise.

SILVER BULLION IN RESERVE IN THE CURRENCY.

323. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that on the 15th July, 1933, silver bullion of 9,43,96,977 was in reserve in the Currency ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how many tolas of silver was in treasury on that date ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the rate per tola at which they have calculated the price of the silver ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes.

(b) The Mints held silver bullion to the value of Rs. 51,59,623 on treasury account on the 15th of July, 1933.

(c) All silver in the Reserve is valued at Re. 1 per 165 grains troy of pure silver.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Part (b) of my queston is "Will Government be pleased to state how many tolas of silver was in the treasury on that date ?"

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : If my Honourable friend will do a little sum of arithmetic and combine the answers which I have given to parts (b) and (c), he will be able to work out the sum in tolas for himself.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government realise that the working out of the figure will take some time and that we will not be able to put supplementary questions ? (Laughter.)

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I should be very pleased if that were the result. (Renewed Laughter.)

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that silver of that amount, that is, 9,43,96,977, as mentioned in part (a) of the question, was actually not in the treasury ? Was it not rather the fact that if silver in coins were to be taken into consideration, the amount of silver would come to this figure ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : The amount of silver bullion referred to represents the amount of silver bullion held in the Currency Reserves in addition to all the silver coins which are held in the Currency Reserves.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL OF THE IMPERIAL BANK OF INDIA.

324. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the subscribed capital of the Imperial Bank of India on the 7th July, 1933, was 11,25,00,000 ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state what amount of the capital has been subscribed by Indians ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes.

(b) Government have no information but under the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, the register of shareholders is open to the inspection of any shareholder.

PUBLICATION OF ADVERTISEMENTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE SERVICES AND EDUCATIONAL MATTERS, ETC., IN THE GAZETTE.

325. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose to issue a circular letter to the effect that all advertisements in connection with the services and educational matters, etc., and all information which requires publication should be published in the Gazette ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The policy of Government is to publish in the Gazette of India matters which concern the public generally or which must be published under some provision of the law. In pursuance of this policy it is already the practice to publish notices issued by the Public Service Commission inviting applications for posts which are filled by selection and giving details of dates, syllabus, etc., for competitive examinations held by them. The results of public examinations held in centrally administered areas by Boards of Education, etc., are also published in the Gazette.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that vacancies in other departments and the vacancies which are not to be filled up by the Public Service Commission are not published in the Gazette ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have no information about that.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that advertisements are generally published in different newspapers ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : What kind of advertisements ?

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : About vacancies ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have observed in my perusal of the Indian press advertisements in various newspapers in connection with vacancies, but I imagine that it is convenient to the public on the whole, as they read the newspapers more diligently than they do the Gazette of India.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the advertisements are given only to those newspapers which are in the list of favourites ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That, Sir, seems to me to be getting on to a different point on which I have no information at the moment.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government realise that if these vacancies are published in different newspapers, it becomes very difficult for the public to know them ? Will it not be better to publish them in the Gazette which all the candidates could read or to announce them in a particular paper in which Government advertisements should usually be published for the convenience of the candidates ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The matter will be examined.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Thank you.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is it not a fact that the publication in different papers should give a greater publicity to the advertisements than if they are merely published in the Gazette ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That was what I had suggested in a previous answer.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I do not suggest that they should not be published in other newspapers except one paper. What I want the Government to do is to mention one particular paper and in that paper particularly all the advertisements should be published. It may be published in other papers as well, but in the particular papers all the advertisements must appear.

(No answer.)

MILITARY EXPENDITURE IN 1930-31.

326. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the military expenditure in the year 1930-31 under different heads was not in accordance with the military budget ?

(b) Is it a fact that the original estimates were upset and disturbed seriously the appropriations under every head of the military budget ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to disclose the important factors which seriously affected the original estimates ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham (a), (b) and (c). The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to paragraphs 7 to 10 of the Appropriation Accounts of the Army, Marine and Military Engineer Services for the year 1930-31, a copy of which is in the Library.

LOSS ON COINAGE IN THE CURRENCY DEPARTMENT.

327. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that loss on coinage takes place in the Currency Department ?

(b) Is it a fact that in the year 1930-31 the loss on the nickel coinage was much more than usual ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster: (a) No.

(b) The so-called loss is merely an accounting adjustment showing that a large number of nickel coins, which had passed into circulation in previous years, returned from circulation in that particular year.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : What was the reason for this loss in that particular year.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : The reason is that an abnormally large number of nickel coins were returned from circulation in that particular year.

SELLING PRICE OF MILK AND CREAM AT THE WELLINGTON FARM.

328. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the selling price of milk and cream at the Wellington Farm in the year 1930-31 was much below the cost of production as shown below ?

	All-in-cost. per lb.	Average selling price.
	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.
Milk	0 7 4·4	0 3 1·7
Cream	4 10 6·5	1 12 0

(b) Is it a fact that the supply is made to the troops stationed at Coonoor and Wellington ?

(c) Do Government propose to raise the selling price so as to cover the cost of production, or to close down the institute ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) and (b). Yes.

(c) A similar suggestion was made by the Public Accounts Committee in its Report on the Accounts for 1930-31. The Government of India, however, decided that consideration of the question should be postponed until the Accounts for the year 1932-33 had been prepared, as the economies introduced in the working of the Farm from the 1st April, 1932, were expected to reduce the cost of production. These Accounts have now become available and show that in 1932-33 the costs of production of milk and cream were 3 annas and Rs. 2 per lb., respectively, while the average selling price was 3 annas 2 pies per lb. of milk and Re. 1-12-0 per lb. of cream. The selling price of milk is now higher than the cost price ; that of cream is still slightly lower than the reduced cost price. The question whether the selling price of cream should be raised is being considered.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will the Honourable Member please state whether this loss was shown in the army expenditure or in the civil budget ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : As a matter of fact, the accounts are kept on the civil side and, so, if there was any loss, it was debited to the civil side.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : If this is a fact, may I take it that the military budget is actually much higher than what is shown in the military budget, because some portion of that is shown on the civil side ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend's generalisation is a little too sweeping, because the amount of loss in this case is not very large.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : But is he substantially correct ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I am not in a position to answer that question.

LOSSES INCURRED IN WORKING THE EXECUTIVE COMMISSARIAT DEPARTMENT IN THE ANDAMANS.

329. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the losses incurred in working the Executive Commissariat Department in the Andamans in the year 1930-31 were partly due to the sale of the products of the Butchery and the Dairy at a rate lower than the cost price, particularly in the case of supplies made to the Army ?

(b) Was the attention of the Chief Commissioner, Andamans, drawn to the facts mentioned in part (a) above ? If so, what was the reply ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) I would refer the Honourable Member to pages 228—230 of the Appendix to the Appropriation Accounts of the Central Government (Civil) for the year 1930-31 in which the reasons for the losses under the Andamans Commissariat Department are fully explained.

(b) The recommendation of the Public Accounts Committee contained in their Report on the Accounts of 1930-31 was brought to the notice of the Chief Commissioner who has taken certain measures, the results of which will be seen in the Accounts for 1932-33.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : May I take it that this loss also was not mentioned in the army budget ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I cannot suppose that it was included both in the civil and the military budget.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Perhaps the Army Secretary might inform us whether this loss was mentioned in the military budget ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I must have notice of that question.

STORES AND STOCKS IN FACTORIES UNDER THE ARMY DEPARTMENT.

330. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the value of Stores and Stocks in hand in the factories under the Army Department on the 31st March, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932 and 1933 ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : A statement giving the information desired by the Honourable Member is laid on the table.

The figures for 1929 to 1932 will be found in the published Appropriation Accounts of the year in question. The figure for March 31st, 1933, was Rs. 3.04 crores as compared with Rs. 3.29 crores on 31st March, 1932.

Statement showing the value of Stores and Stocks in hand in the Factories under the Army Department on the 31st March, 1929.

The value of mobilisation and working stocks held by the Army Ordnance and Clothing Factories on the various dates was :

	Rs.
31st March, 1929	2,81,07,000
31st March, 1930	3,06,53,000
31st March, 1931	3,28,74,000
31st March, 1932	3,29,15,000
31st March, 1933	3,04,15,000

EXCESS IN EXPENDITURE UNDER "PAY AND ALLOWANCES" OF RESERVIST.

331. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that there was an excess in expenditure under 'pay and allowance' of Reservist in the year 1930-31 ?

(b) What was the explanation given by the department to the Auditor General in India ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) and (b). The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to paragraph 78 of the Appropriation Accounts of the Army, Marine and Military Engineer Services for 1930-31, paragraph 58 of the Proceedings of the Military Accounts Committee reproduced on page 35 of the Report of the Public Accounts Committee on the Accounts for that year, and Appendix A, Item 13 of the Appropriation Accounts for 1931-32. Copies of these papers are in the Library.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is the explanation mentioned in part (b) also in the papers which have been mentioned now ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Yes, Sir. It is contained in item 13 of Appendix A to the Appropriation Accounts for 1931-32.

DISCOURAGEMENT OF THE FORMATION OF MUSLIM TRADE UNIONS.

332. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that Government policy is to discourage origination of Trade Unions by Mussalmans ?

(b) Is it a fact that Government policy is that Muslim labour should not be organised ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) and (b). The Government of India are anxious to encourage healthy trade unionism and they would regret, therefore, to see a development of communalism within the trade union movement. But it is no part of their policy to attempt to regulate the manner in which the membership of trade unions of private workmen should be composed. So far as unions of Government servants are concerned, I propose to give further information in reply to the next question.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Have Government issued any circular that in future Muslim trade unions should not be registered ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : If the Honourable Member is referring to Government servants, I shall give him an answer in reply to the next question.

RECOGNITION OF MUSLIM TRADE UNIONS.

333. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Have Government recognised any Trade Union of Muslim labour ?

(b) Have Government received any application for recognition from any Trade Union of Muslim labourers ?

(c) Do Government propose to recognise Muslim labourers Trade Unions ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) and (b). Not so far as I am aware.

(c) The Government of India do not propose to accord recognition to any trade union of their employees which may be formed on a communal basis.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : May I know if Government have issued any circular that Muslim trade unions should not be registered ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : No, Sir.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Have Government issued any circular that trade unions formed on communal lines should not be registered ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : The Government of India are not concerned with the registration of trade unions which comes under the Act passed to regulate trade unions.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government suggest that they have not issued any circular about registration of trade unions ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Not as far as I am aware. There are definite recognition rules and, as I have said, these recognition rules do not permit of the formation of trade unions on a communal basis so far as Government employees are concerned.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : My question is about registration and not recognition. My Honourable friend is always referring to recognition. I want to know whether the Government of India have issued any circular in connection with registration of trade unions ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I have already told the Honourable Member twice that Government have issued no circular in regard to the registration of trade unions as they are not concerned with it. It is regulated by an Act which has been passed for that purpose.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is it not a fact that the very object of trade unions will be frustrated if they are run or organised on communal lines ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : That is asking for opinion.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether Government have any power to issue instructions to the Registrar of Trade Unions under the Act ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : None, Sir.

†334*.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN INDIA.

335. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Are Government aware that there is great unemployment in India ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the number of unemployed in British India ?

(c) If the answer to (b) be in the negative, will Government be pleased to state the reasons why statistics are not kept ?

(d) What steps have Government taken to fight unemployment during this year ?

(e) How do they intend to reduce unemployment in future ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply given to part (a) of Lala Rameshwar Prasad Bagla's starred question No. 775 on the 26th September, 1932.

(b) and (c). I would refer the Honourable Member to the answers given by me to Mr. S. G. Jog's starred question No. 1134 of the 5th April last and to the supplementary questions thereto.

(d) and (e). As has been explained more than once in this House, the question is one primarily for the Provincial Governments. But the proposals which we intend to lay before the House in the Factories Bill, if accepted, should have some effect in spreading employment in certain industries ; and in Delhi, where the Central Government has more direct responsibility, we have proposals for fresh building work which should be of assistance in this direction.

†This question was withdrawn by the questioner.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Is it not the duty of Government to help the public at such a critical juncture ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : As I have stated in reply to the question, this is primarily a matter for Local Governments, who are paying considerable attention to it. If the Government of India can help them in any way, they will be glad to do so.

DIVERSION OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY PUNJAB MAILS FROM THE MAIN LINE TO THE GRAND CHORD.

336. Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi : (a) Are Government aware that the East Indian Railway authorities intend to divert the Up and Down Punjab Mails through the Grand Chord ?

(b) If the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state the reasons that led the East Indian Railway authorities to do so ?

(c) Are Government aware that the Punjab Mail trains are running on the main line from time immemorial ?

(d) Are Government aware that the proposed diversion of the Punjab Mails from the main line will put the travelling public of North Bihar and Patna to a considerable inconvenience and hardship while travelling long distances ?

(e) Are Government aware that the Bombay Mail is already running via the Grand Chord Line ?

(f) Are Government aware that the diversion of the Punjab Mails from the main line means the running of two mail trains via the Grand Chord Line ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a), (b), (d) and (f). I would invite my Honourable friend's attention to the reply I have already given to Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh's question No. 123 on the subject.

(c) and (e). Yes.

TRAINS RUNNING ON THE GRAND CHORD AND MAIN LINE OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY BETWEEN HOWRAH AND MOGHALSARAI.

337. Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi : (a) Will Government be pleased to state (i) the number of junction stations, (ii) the approximate number of passengers travelling, and (iii) the number of express trains running on both the Grand Chord and Main Lines, respectively, between Howrah and Moghalsarai ?

(b) Is it a fact that the idea of diverting the Punjab Mail from the main line is merely to avoid the so-called train-wreckers ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) (i). The number of junction stations on the main line and the Grand Chord between Howrah and Moghalserai is 17 and 14 respectively.

(ii) I regret that statistics of the number of passengers travelling on separate sections or by individual trains are not available.

(iii) I understand the number of express trains running on the Main Line and the Grand Chord between Howrah and Moghalserai is 6 in each case.

(b) No.

INTRODUCTION OF A NEW PATTERN OF FIVE-RUPEE NOTE.

338. Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the reasons that led them to introduce recently a new pattern of five-rupee note ?

(b) Are Government aware that this new five-rupee note is very unpopular among the masses because of its liability to damage, and deterioration on account of the thinness of its paper and smallness of size ?

(c) Are Government aware that this new note runs the risk of being destroyed, defaced and even torn because of its being handled and folded frequently and constantly ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The change is expected to result in a considerable economy without causing any inconvenience to the public.

(b) No. The note is less liable to damage and the paper though thinner is actually stronger than before.

(c) As a small note is likely to be subjected to less folding than a large note and as the paper of which the new notes are composed is of strong quality, Government consider that notes of the new pattern should last at least as long as the old notes.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the numbers on these notes are printed only in one place ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : If my Honourable friend would care to read the questions, which are not asked by himself, he will find that that particular question is asked in the next question on the paper.

INTRODUCTION OF A NEW PATTERN OF TEN-RUPEE NOTE.

339. Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi : (a) Are Government aware that ten-rupee notes of the same pattern and of similar character as five-rupee notes are going to be issued shortly ?

(b) Are Government aware that these new pattern notes contain only one number in the middle while the old ones have two numbers on opposite corners ?

(c) Do Government propose to have the two numbers printed on opposite corners of these new notes as usual ? Are Government aware that the one number note cannot be halved and if halved, the number is likely to be made doubtful at the time of gumming the two halves together ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Ten-rupee notes of the new pattern have already been issued.

(b) Yes.

(c) No. There are very few instances of the cutting of five and ten-rupee notes and Government are ready to pay full value on such notes which have been accidentally torn if the halves are identifiable as part of the same note.

GOLD EXPORTED FROM INDIA SINCE ENGLAND WENT OFF THE GOLD STANDARD.

340. Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi : (a) Will Government please state the quantity of gold exported from India and imported into it up to the 15th August, 1933, since England went off the gold standard ?

(b) Do Government propose to levy some export duty on gold, with a view to bringing in a good revenue to them ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The approximate figures up to the 5th of August, 1933 are :

Exports	145 crores.
Imports	3¼ crores.

(b) Government do not give intimation in advance of their intentions about taxation.

SILVER BARS LEFT IN STOCK WITH THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA AFTER PAYMENT OF THE SAME TO AMERICA AS A WAR DEBT.

341. Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the total number of silver bars left in stock with the Government of India after payment of the same to America as a war debt ?

(b) Do Government propose to buy silver bars for making up the shortage effected as a result of payment to America ?

The Hnourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The amount of silver bullion left in stock with the Government of India after the payment to America was 911.35 lakhs of tolas as shown in the Abstract of the Accounts of the Currency Department published by the Controller of the Currency on the 19th of June, 1933.

(b) No.

CANTONMENTS IN INDIA.

342. Mr. B. R. Puri : Will Government be pleased to state the total number and names of Cantonments in India :

(a) Where Class I Executive Officers have been posted ?

(b) Where Class II Executive Officers have been posted ?

(c) Where part-time Executive Officers are working ?

(d) Where Civilian Executive Officers paid from Cantonment Fund are working ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : A statement giving the information asked for is laid on the table.

Statement giving the information about Cantonments and their Executive Officers.

(a) Class I Executive Officers have been posted to 22 Cantonments, viz., Peshawar, Nowshera, Rawalpindi, Ambala, Jullundur, Lahore, Quetta, Karachi cum Manora and Drigh Road, Dehra Dun cum Landour, Meerut, Ranikhet, Lucknow, Dinapore, Jubbulpore, Mhow, Belgaum, Kirkee, Poona, Secunderabad, Wellington, Nasirabad and Mandalay. At present Civilian Executive Officers have been appointed temporarily at Peshawar and Belgaum, vice permanent incumbents granted leave, and a part-time Executive Officer at Nowshera pending the appointment of an officer of the Cantonments Department to this cantonment.

(b) Class II Executive Officers have been posted to 12 Cantonments, viz., Sialkot, Ferozepore, Multan, Kohat, Hyderabad (Sind), Agra, Bareilly, Barrackpore, Allahabad, Cawnpore, Neemuch and Ahmednagar. At present a part-time Executive Officer is working temporarily at Barrackpore pending the appointment of an officer of the Cantonments Department to that cantonment.

(c) Part-time Executive Officers are working in 10 Cantonments, viz., Loralai, Lansdowne, Roorkee, Fyzabad, Fatehgarh, Jalapahar, Lebong, Pachmarhi, Baroda and Ahmedabad.

(d) Civilian Executive Officers paid from Cantonment Funds are working in 36 Cantonments, viz., Risalpur, Cherat, Mardan, Campbellpore, Abbottabad, Jhelum, Murree Galis, Murree Hills, Kasauli, Amritsar, Bakloh, Dalhousie, Dagshai, Dharamsala, Jutogh, Subathu, Bannu, Dera Ismail Khan, Chakrata, New Delhi, Almora, Naini Tal, Muttra, Shahjahanpur, Sitapur, Shillong, Benares, Jhansi, Nowgong, Kamptee, Saugor, Aurangabad, St. Thomas Mount and Pallaveram, Deolali, Maymyo and Rangoon and Mingaladon.

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS OF CANTONMENTS IN INDIA.

343. Mr. B. R. Puri : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of the House a statement giving the following information regarding all the Executive Officers coming under category (d) in the preceding question :

(i) Academic qualifications ?

(ii) Experience of Cantonment work ?

(iii) Pay and other allowances drawn ?

(iv) Date since when working ?

(v) Name of the Executive Officer ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The information has been called for and a reply will be laid on the table in due course. The appointments are made by General Officers Commanding-in-Chief, Commands.

WITHDRAWAL FROM CANTONMENT AUTHORITIES THE MANAGEMENT OF CLASS 'B' LAND AND ENTRUSTING THE SAME TO THE MILITARY ESTATES OFFICERS.

344. Mr. B. R. Puri : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if it is intended to withdraw in the near future from the various Cantonment Authorities the management of all class 'B' land and entrust the same to the Military Estates Officers ?

(b) If the reply to (a) above be in the affirmative, are Government aware that a large number of Cantonment Authorities who now depend on revenue from 'B' Class land are likely to become insolvent ? If so, what steps do Government propose to adopt to avoid the financial loss ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : With your permission, Sir, I propose to answer questions Nos. 344 and 345 together.

The matters are under consideration but no final decisions have yet been reached.

CREATION OF AN ALL-INDIA CADRE FOR THE CIVILIAN EXECUTIVE OFFICERS OF CANTONMENTS.

†345. Mr. B. R. Puri : Is it a fact that Government propose to create an All-India cadre for the civilian Executive Officers ? If so, will all the civilian Executive Officers at present working in the various Cantonments be absorbed in the cadre ? If not, what will be the standard to guide the Government in selecting candidates for the cadre ?

RE-EMPLOYMENT OF RETRENCHED PERSONNEL OF THE SURVEY OF INDIA.

346. Mr. B. R. Puri : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of (i) Indian officers of the Class II service of the Survey of India, who had served for 15 years or under and were retrenched as a result of the recommendations of the Class II Retrenchment Board ; and (ii) Anglo-Indians so retrenched ?

(b) Are Government aware of the fact that a letter dated the 16th January, 1933, was issued under the authority of the Assistant Surveyor General, Survey of India, Calcutta, to a retrenched Class II Officer of the same Department, saying that " if vacancies occur in the near future retrenched personnel of this Department will be given the first chance of being re-employed " ?

(c) If the reply to (b) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state if they intend to re-employ, in view of the letter referred to above, the retrenched personnel of the Class II service before making fresh recruitments to that Service ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) (i) Four.

(ii) Nil.

(b) Yes.

(c) The Government of India had already considered this question before sanctioning the recruitment of new candidates this year. They came to the conclusion that the records of service of the retrenched officers did not justify the hope that their re-employment would conduce to the efficiency of the Department.

STRENGTH OF OFFICERS IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

347. Mr. B. R. Puri : Will Government be pleased to state (a) the present strength of Class I officers in the Survey of India Department, and (b) the present strength of (i) Indians, (ii) Anglo-Indians in Class I Service of that Department ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) 35.

(b) (i) Nil.

(ii) Five.

---

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 344.

PROMOTION OF OFFICERS IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

348. *Mr. B. R. Puri: Will Government be pleased to state their policy regarding the promotion of Class II officers to Class I Service of the Survey of India?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: Promotion is made by selection on grounds of merit.

PROMOTION AND RECRUITMENT OF OFFICERS IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

349 *Mr. B. R. Puri: (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of (i) Indians, and (ii) Anglo-Indians, promoted from Class II to Class I Service of the Survey of India Department during the last six years?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the present number and percentage of (i) Indians, and (ii) Anglo-Indians in the Class II service of the Survey of India?

(c) In view of the small population percentage of Anglo-Indians, will Government be pleased to state the reason why Anglo-Indians are recruited in the Class II service in much greater strength than their population percentage permits?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) (i) Two.

(ii) Twelve including four officers whose domicile was declared later to be non-Asiatic.

(b) The total cadre consists of 55 officers of whom 29 are Indians and 26 Anglo-Indians.

(c) Owing to the special circumstances of the Survey of India the policy has been to employ Anglo-Indians in Class II of the department in excess of the percentage to which they would be entitled on a strictly population basis. I may, however, state for the Honourable Member's information that the proportion of Anglo-Indians recruited has been steadily diminishing.

INCREASE IN THE PROPORTION OF INDIAN OFFICERS IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

350. *Mr. B. R. Puri: Are Government prepared to increase the proportion of Indian officers in the Class II service of the Survey of India? If not, why not? If so, do Government propose to bear this point in mind when making fresh recruitments, as it is intended to do, in November, 1933?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: The Honourable Member is presumably referring to the proportion of officers of unmixed Asiatic descent as compared with that of Anglo-Indians. As stated by me in the reply which I have just given to his preceding question, the proportion of Anglo-Indians recruited has been steadily diminishing. While the practice before 1920 was to recruit three Anglo-Indians to one Indian, Government have recently decided in respect of fresh recruitment during the current year that only two out of seven vacancies should be filled by Anglo-Indians.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE HAJ ENQUIRY COMMITTEE.

351. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether they have accepted all the recommendations of the Haj Enquiry Committee?

(b) Do Government propose to publish the evidence taken by the Haj Enquiry Committee, or to keep a copy of the same in the library of the Central Legislature?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) Most of the recommendations of the Committee have been accepted by Government either wholly or in a slightly modified form.

(b) No. The evidence has not been printed up.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: Will Government be pleased to state whether they have accepted the recommendations of the Haj Inquiry Committee which were printed in book No. G.I.P.D.-L-50 (C)-C-P?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: I am afraid it is not possible for me to identify the document to which my Honourable friend refers.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: Is it a fact that the confidential report No. G.I.P.D.-L.-50 (C)-C.P. was not printed in the Government of India Press?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: I have no information.

PROPOSAL FOR THE INTRODUCTION OF A MODIFIED SYSTEM OF COMMERCIAL ACCOUNTS IN THE BENGAL CINCHONA DEPARTMENT.

352. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: (a) Is it a fact that there was a proposal for the introduction of a modified system of Commercial accounts in the Bengal Cinchona Department, and that the Bengal Government have dropped the proposal on account of the present financial stringency and that the Government of India were to reach a decision in the matter?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state if they have reached any decision on the question mentioned in part (a) in respect of the transactions of the Government of India and of the verification of stocks of cinchona bark at Mungpoo?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: Reply to both parts of the question is in the affirmative.

RUNNING OF THE FRUIT FARM AT QUETTA ON COMMERCIAL LINES.

353. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: (a) Is it a fact that the Fruit Farm at Quetta is working on a clear loss?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state what steps were taken by them to reduce the loss and to run the farm on strictly commercial lines?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) and (b). The farm is working at a loss, but the amount of this has recently been considerably reduced. The net loss in 1931-32 was reduced to Rs. 12,069 as compared with Rs. 21,210 in the previous year. The farm exists for experimental demonstration and propaganda purposes. It is not a commercial concern and the receipts cannot be expected to cover the whole expenditure.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the depreciation on those stocks was counted when mentioning the lesser loss ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I am not aware to what my Honourable friend refers. As far as I am aware, there is no depreciation on trees.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I am referring to the stock.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : There is no other stock.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Is it a fact that all fruit farms and all agricultural farms in India are running at a loss ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : If my Honourable friend wishes information as regards farms throughout India, I would request him to address himself to the Annual Reports of the various provinces. I have no information about all farms in India.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : What about fruit farms ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have already mentioned about the only fruit farm with which the Government of India are at present concerned, namely, the fruit farm at Quetta.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Am I to understand that there are no fruit farms elsewhere ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend perhaps has appreciated the fact that I am answering in regard to farms which are directly under the control of the Government of India. Whether there are fruit farms under the control of the Local Governments, I am not in a position to say.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Then am I to understand that the Quetta fruit farm is the only one under the control of the Government of India ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : That is perfectly true ; that is the only fruit farm.

AMENDMENT OF LEAVE RULES AS RECOMMENDED BY THE INCHCAPE COMMITTEE.

354. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Have Government accepted the Inchcape Committee's recommendation to amend the leave rules which seemed to them to be unnecessarily complicated ?

(b) Have Government finished the consideration of the draft revised rules and the scope of their application ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the revised rules, if any, accepted by them ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Government accepted the suggestion of the Inchcape Committee that the leave rules for the subordinate services should be reconsidered and the matter was consequently carefully examined.

(b) and (c). The revised leave rules for new entrants are still under consideration. The Honourable Member's attention is invited in this connection to the answer which I gave yesterday to question No. 281.

DECISIONS OF THE TRIBUNAL ON CAPITATION CHARGES.

355. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether the tribunal appointed to settle the question of capitation payments made from Indian Revenues to Departments of the Imperial Government for services arising out of the maintenance of British troops on the Indian Establishment, have submitted their report ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to circulate a copy of the same to the members of this House ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) and (b). I regret that I am not yet in a position to add anything to the replies which I gave to Mr. Sitaramaraju's starred question No. 622 on the 3rd March last. The Secretary of State, however, informed the Joint Select Committee on the 28th July, 1933, that he hoped to be able to make a fuller statement on the subject in the autumn.

CLAIMS OF THE POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS DEPARTMENT AGAINST THE RAILWAYS.

356. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the claim of the Posts and Telegraphs Department against the Railways is under consideration of the Railway Board since 1927-28 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I am not aware what particular claim, my Honourable friend is referring to, but both the Posts and Telegraphs and Railway Departments are commercial departments and there are always certain claims and counter-claims under consideration and investigation by both the departments. There are certain claims of the Posts and Telegraphs Department at the present moment on which discussions have been proceeding for some time. The representatives of the two departments met recently and have arrived at an agreement on the general principles on which these should be settled. The details are being worked out at present by the Posts and Telegraphs Department.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the items which are under consideration have been pending since 1927-28 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I do not remember exactly on what date the original claim was made, but, as I have already said, discussions have been proceeding for some time.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Did the Honourable Member notice that in the question that was particularly asked ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : If my Honourable friend had told me what claim he was referring to, I could have given him a reply.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : The claims which were mentioned by the Director General, Posts and Telegraphs, before the Public Accounts Committee.

Mr. P. R. Rau : I wish my Honourable friend had specified these claims in his question. In the question the word " claim " is used in the singular.

DECLARATION OF DEBENTURES OF THE CENTRAL LAND MORTGAGE BANK OF MADRAS AS TRUSTEE SECURITIES.

357. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that in August, 1931, the Government of India informed the Madras Government that necessary legislation would be taken up at the Simla Session of this House to declare the debentures of the Central Land Mortgage Bank of Madras as trustee securities, and that towards the end of the same year the Government changed their attitude ?

(b) If the reply to (a) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state what happened between August and December to warrant a change of policy ?

(c) Has there been any correspondence with the Madras Government in this connection since February, 1933 ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) The subject is now under discussion with the Government of Madras.

EXPENDITURE OF THE INDIAN RAILWAY CONFERENCE ASSOCIATION.

358. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state under what head of expenditure the contribution of the State-managed Railways to the Railway Conference Fund was shown in the year 1932-33 ?

(b) What was the total cost of the Association during the year 1932-33 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) The expenses in connection with the Indian Railway Conference Association of the State-managed railways are shown under head I (ii) of Abstract G.—Miscellaneous Expenses—of the Accounts of the respective railways.

(b) The total expenditure of the Indian Railway Conference Association for the year 1932-33 was Rs. 3,88,375.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether any railways that are not State-owned contribute to this fund ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Yes, Sir.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose to allow Muslim Railway Employees' Associations to send their representatives also to attend this Conference ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : This, Sir, is not a Conference of employees.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : When will the Honourable Member be pleased to state who attends this Conference if not the employees ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Representatives of the railway administrations.

PREPARATION OF ROLLING STOCK PROGRAMME OF RAILWAYS.

359. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the rolling stock programme is prepared by the Railway Board in consultation with the Agents of the different railways in the absence of the members of the Standing Finance Committee for Railways ?

(b) Is it a fact that the programme is placed before the Standing Finance Committee for Railways for sanctioning the expenditure in the absence of the authorities of the different railways ?

(c) If the reply to parts (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state whether they are aware of the difficulties which are generally felt by the Standing Finance Committee for Railways ?

(d) Do Government propose to prepare the rolling stock programme in consultation with the Agents and the Standing Finance Committee for Railways, or to include this item in the agenda of Central Advisory Committee for Railways for their opinion ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (b). Yes.

(c) I am not aware what difficulties the Honourable Member is referring to, but as a member himself of the Standing Finance Committee he has full opportunities for discussion of these difficulties and suggestions for improvement of the procedure in the Committee itself.

(d) Government are of opinion that the present procedure is the most convenient from the practical point of view, and see no reason to change it. They consider that any difficulties that are at present being experienced by members of the Standing Finance Committee can be discussed more suitably in that Committee itself initially than in the Central Advisory Council.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether Government will give an opportunity to this House to discuss the question of the Statutory Railway Authority ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair does not think that question arises out of this.

MARKING OF SIXTEEN SQUARE FEET SPACE FOR EACH PILGRIM IN PILGRIM SHIPS.

360. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the Haj Enquiry Committee have mentioned in their Report that by marking 16 square feet space for each pilgrim the carrying capacity of the pilgrim ships will be decreased ?

(b) Is it a fact that for the reason mentioned in part (a) above, Government do not propose to mark 16 square feet space for each pilgrim ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) The Honourable Member's attention is invited to the official report of the debate in this House on Saturday, the 8th April, 1933. As I then undertook to do, provision has been included in the rules which it is hoped to publish before the next Haj season for the demarcation by lines of small blocks capable of accommodating groups of pilgrims varying in number from 5 to 12.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the Haj Enquiry Committee have mentioned in their report that by marking 16 sq. ft. off for each pilgrim the carrying capacity of the pilgrim ship will be decreased ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Probably my Honourable friend did not follow what I said in reply to part (a) of his question : I said, Yes.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Does it mean that actually 16 sq. ft. is not given to the pilgrims on the ships ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My information is that on an average passengers do get 16 sq. ft.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government realise that when pilgrims on ships are full, according to the number which is announced by the survey officer, 16 sq. ft. space is nearly impossible for each pilgrim ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I do not quite know what my Honourable friend means by the pilgrims being full : I think he is thinking of the ship.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I mean the total number which is announced by the survey officer to be on a ship : if that number is on the ship, then, in that case, 16 sq. ft. space is not provided to pilgrims ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have already said that on an average pilgrims do have 16 sq. ft.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : But not in all cases ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I am talking in terms of averages. If my Honourable friend would investigate the matter a little further, he will find that even if 16 sq. ft. were allowed to each individual pilgrim, it would not be occupied.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Have they got sufficient space to lie down straight ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Yes, except when their hardier neighbours encroach upon the space to which they are entitled by law.

SPACE FOR ALLEY-WAYS IN PILGRIM SHIPS.

361. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether the statement " There are several small blocks in the ship and all these small blocks are measured in the way in which it has been suggested by the Haj Enquiry Committee, alley-ways being excluded " is correct ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether any deduction for the space for alley-ways between two rows of unberthed pilgrims is made at the time of the survey of pilgrim ships ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) The system of measuring is described in Appendix C to the report of the Haj Enquiry Committee.

(b) There is no such rule at present, although in actual practice deduction is made for an alley-way space 1½ ft. in width on the upper deck. Government now propose to make a rule that an alley-way shall be provided on the upper deck as well as in every compartment on the between decks.

DOCTORS IN CHARGE OF HOSPITALS ON PILGRIM SHIPS.

362. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that all the doctors in charge of the hospitals on the pilgrim ships (last Haj season) were Muslims ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No.

STEAMING CAPACITY OF CERTAIN PILGRIM SHIPS.

363. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that there is a rule that pilgrim ships sailing between May, 20th and September, 20th in any year must be capable of steaming at least eight knots an hour in ordinary monsoon weather ?

(b) Do Government propose to increase the minimum speed limit of pilgrim ships from eight to ten knots an hour ?

(c) How many knots is Jeddah from Bombay and from Karachi ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) No. If shipping companies were required to provide, for the pilgrim traffic, steamers capable of a higher speed they might find it necessary to enhance the fares.

(c) The distance from Bombay to Jeddah is 2,350 miles and from Karachi to Jeddah 2,180 miles.

EMPLOYMENT OF MUSLIM DOCTORS AND HOSPITAL ASSISTANTS ON PILGRIM SHIPS.

364. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether they have made any rule to employ suitable Muslim doctors and hospital assistants on pilgrim ships ?

(b) If the reply to (a) above be in the negative, do they propose to make such rules for the next coming Haj seasons ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) and (b). The rules which will be published shortly will contain a provision that every medical officer and attendant employed on a pilgrim ship should preferably be Muslims.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether it is the policy of Government to provide communities in this country with doctors on communal lines ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : This is rather a special case, because the ships are utilised exclusively for Muslim passengers.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether if a particular village or a particular part of the country consists of only Hindus, Government will provide only Hindu doctors ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Medical administration being a transferred provincial subject, I suggest that this might be addressed to Ministers in Provinces.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Has there been a specific demand by the Muhammadans that there should be Muhammadan doctors ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : That is the recommendation of the Haj Enquiry Committee.

EXCLUSION FROM CUSTOMS DUTY OF Tabarrukats IMPORTED BY HAJ PILGRIMS.

365. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose to exempt from customs duty all Tabarrukats (articles brought by Haj pilgrims with them from Hedjaz on their return to India) imported by Haj pilgrims ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Exemption is already allowed subject to certain limits in respect of articles having a substantial commercial value.

REFUSAL BY MESSRS. TURNER MORRISON COMPANY TO ISSUE CONCESSION TICKETS TO POOR PILGRIMS.

366. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that in the past Messrs. Turner Morrison Co. used to issue two or three hundred concession tickets every year for poor pilgrims on their pilgrim ships ?

(b) Are Government aware that, when requested this year, Mr. E. Brown, Managing Director, Messrs. Turner Morrison, Bombay, refused to issue such tickets ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state whether the issue of the concession tickets was stopped this year by the Company on the instruction of the Government, or on account of the views of the Haj Enquiry Committee who were opposed to the grant of any concession ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a), (b) and (c). The Honourable Member's attention is invited to the reply given by me on the 27th February, 1933, to Shaikh Fazal Haq Piracha's starred question No. 572.

PROVISION OF FACILITIES FOR TIBBI TREATMENT ON PILGRIM SHIPS.

367. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware that on account of the alcohol used in many of the allopathic medicines, many pilgrims do not use those medicines ?

(b) Are Government aware that alcohol is haram according to Islamic Shariat ?

(c) Do Government propose to provide facilities for Tibbi treatment on pilgrim ships ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Government are aware that some pilgrims may object to the use of allopathic medicines.

(b) I am prepared to accept the Honourable Member's statement.

(c) The Honourable Member will remember that when he moved, during the last Session, an amendment to the Indian Merchant Shipping (Amendment) Bill to provide for the employment of Hakims on pilgrim ships, I pointed out that these ships were governed by the International Sanitary Convention and that it was necessary to employ only such doctors as could be recognised internationally. Should, however, a Port Haj Committee wish to make provision for the pay of a Unani Tabib and his medicines on board a pilgrim ship, it would be open to the Committee to negotiate the details regarding his employment with the shipping company concerned.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose that in future when International Conventions take place, at least the views of Muhammadans in this connection will be placed before them ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I am not sure that any effort on the part of Government, to put the views of the Muslim community as regards the employment of tabibs, would carry much weight with international medical opinion.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Just as it has been said by my Honourable friend that as doctors are only appointed on account of International Convention, so I wanted to know whether they are prepared to place before International Conventions that such restrictions should be omitted, because there is a great desire in India for hakims as well ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have already stated in reply to part (c) of the question that it would be open to the Port Haj Committees if they are prepared to find the funds to employ tabibs and hakims on these ships in addition to allopathic doctors whom the shipping company employs.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do not Government propose to place this fact before the International Convention ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I do not myself think that any useful purpose will be served by Government making such representations.

SILVER TRANSACTION WITH ENGLAND FOR PAYMENT OF WAR DEBT TO AMERICA.

368. Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the policy which they have followed with respect to the recent silver transaction with the Home Government for payment of the latter's War Debts to America ?

(b) when it was first that they themselves were consulted in the matter ?

(c) whether it was before or after the Honourable the Finance Member left this country on official business abroad ?

(d) the rate per fine ounce at which the sale was effected by them ?

(e) the rate per fine ounce at which the Home Government parted with the stock to America in payment of their War Debts ?

(f) whether any profit arose out of the transaction to any party anywhere ? If so, to whom and where ?

(g) whether they are aware that a lot of public feeling has been roused over their recent silver deal ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a), (d) and (e). The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the replies given to starred questions Nos. 89 and 92 asked by Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon and Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 28th August, 1933.

(b) and (c). The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the reply given to starred question No. 109 asked by Mr. Bhuput Sing on the 28th August, 1933.

(f) and (g). These are matters of opinion.

FALLING OFF IN THE NUMBER OF STUDENTS IN THE BENARES AND ALIGARH UNIVERSITIES.

369. *Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether reports have come to them of the falling off in the number of admissions of students to the post-graduate classes and Law Department in the Benares and Aligarh Universities owing to the unusual financial stringency consequent upon trade depression, extensive retrenchment of salaries and emoluments and widespread unemployment ?

(b) If so, what steps have Government so far taken for meeting the situation ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) and (b). The Quinquennial Reports of the Benares Hindu and Aligarh Muslim Universities for the period 1927-32 submitted by the authorities of those Universities show that there has been a fall in the number of admission of students to the various classes only of the Aligarh University. The decrease is said to be largely due to the economic depression. The authorities of that University have, with the approval of the Government of India, accordingly decided to remit the registration fee which the University used to charge from students on their admission to the University.

FORMATION OF THE STATUTORY RAILWAY BOARD IN INDIA.

370. *Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether they have been asked for any opinion by the Home Government about the formation of the future Statutory Railway Board in India ? If so, will they please state the specific views which they have expressed on the subject ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether they have been apprised of the specific recommendations that the majority of the London Committee on that subject have recently made there ? If so, what are those recommendations ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes, but the correspondence is confidential and Government are unable to state what are the views they have expressed on the subject.

(b) Yes ; the report has been published in full in the Press, and copies circulated to Members of the Legislature.

UNSATISFACTORY WORKING OF THE OTTAWA AGREEMENT IN SOME PARTICULARS.

371. *Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : (a) Will Government be pleased to state (a) whether it is not a fact that it has been found that the Ottawa Agreement has not been working quite satisfactorily in some particulars so far as some Dominions are concerned ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is not a fact that directly after the World Economic Conference finally adjourned, a Conference of the Dominions and British Delegates took place in London in order to remove some of the obstacles and implement some provisions of the agreement in view of recent experiences ?

(c) If the answer to (b) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state whether they were duly represented at that Conference ? If so, by whom ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state whether the Legislatures will be duly informed of the specific complaints removed and specific provisions supplemented as a result of that Conference ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state whether the Ottawa Agreement formed the subject-matter of any debate or discussion at the World Economic Conference ? If so, in what connection ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) The Government of India have no information. They have not so far entered into any Trade Agreement with the Dominions.

(b), (c) and (e). The Government of India have no information.

(d) Does not arise.

ARREST AND DEPORTATION OF MR. GEORGE MRAZ WHO WAS RUNNING A GERMAN THERAPEUTIC INSTITUTE IN DELHI.

372. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is it a fact that a German Doctor, Mr. George Mraz, who was running a German Therapeutic Institute in Delhi, has been recently arrested and deported ? If so, for what offence and on what evidence ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : George Mraz was deported under the provisions of section 3 of the Foreigners Act, 1864, as being an undesirable character. I understand that he is not a German subject.

STORES PURCHASE POLICY OF THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

373. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: (a) Is it a fact that the Indian Chamber of Commerce, Calcutta, recently addressed Government on the subject of the stores purchase policy of the Calcutta Port Trust, and in the course of their communication pointed out that " the existence and growth of the Port Trust depends ultimately on the prosperity of Indian trade and industry, and that the Commissioners should in respect of their stores purchase follow a policy which tends to encourage goods produced and manufactured in India " ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to make a statement regarding the stores purchase policy of the Calcutta Port Trust, and lay on the table a comparative statement showing the value of stores purchased in England and abroad, and those purchased in India during the last five years ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) Certain information is being called for and a complete reply will be laid on the table in due course.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

374. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government be pleased to state the general plan of retrenchment pursued by the Calcutta Port Trust, indicating how many Indians and how many foreign employees and officials were retrenched during the last three years and the amount of saving effected under each head ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The information asked for is being obtained and will, when received, be laid on the table.

REVENUE EARNED AT THE DOCKS BY THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

375. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is it a fact that about one-third of the Revenue earned at the docks by the Calcutta Port Trust goes every year to Messrs. Bird and Co. for the supply of labour ; and that if the Port Trust elects to employ itself the labour required for handling cargo at the docks, it will save about four lakhs annually ? What approximately is the amount paid to Messrs. Bird and Co. every year for the contract to supply labour ? And for how long ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : In 1932-33, the year for which information is available, the payment to Messrs. Bird and Company for the supply of labour at the Calcutta Docks amounted to about 14½ lakhs while the receipts at the Docks in that year were nearly 50½ lakhs. The advisability of employing more departmental labour has been considered by the Port Commissioners but they regard it as extremely doubtful whether any saving would be affected by this means, as in that case they would have to engage more supervising staff and incur heavy capital expenditure on coolie lines. The total payments made to Messrs. Bird and Company for the supply of labour to the Port Commissioners during the last five years were approximately as follows :

1928-29	.. .. ..	Rs. 29.28 lakhs.
1929-30	.. .. ..	Rs. 29.53 „
1930-31	.. .. ..	Rs. 21.63 „
1931-32	.. .. ..	Rs. 18.83 „
1932-33	.. .. ..	Rs. 15.73 „

This Company has supplied labour to the Port Commissioners for over forty years.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I know if tenders were invited from other contractors also for the supply of labour during this long period ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I cannot give my Honourable friend information on that point, because my Honourable friend will realise that it is not a matter which is directly under the administration of the Government of India.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government take it from me that no tenders were invited as a matter of fact, and that the contract with Messrs. Bird and Company is terminable at three months' notice ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am quite prepared to take it from my Honourable friend until the contrary is proved.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Are Government aware that there are only five Indian Commissioners on the Port Trust of Calcutta as against fourteen non-Indian Commissioners, and that the majority of them are non-Indians ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I do not carry the figures in my head, but I have no doubt that my Honourable friend's information is quite correct : but I would like for the information of the House to make the position clear in regard to the constitution of Port Trusts. I know this is a matter on which Honourable Members in the House feel strongly and it is a matter which has been constantly before me. The constitution of a Port Trust reflects the commercial interests concerned. Now, Sir, as Indian commercial interests grow, they will naturally, from time to time, I take it, be represented by larger numbers. This was, as a matter of fact, done some years ago when the Act was revised, and I have no reason to believe that as Indian interests begin to grow larger and larger, that fact will not also be reflected in time in the constitution of Port Trusts.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Are Government aware that Indian commercial interests are not represented on this Port Trust of Calcutta except by means of nomination by the Government ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I think that is right.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Whereas the European commercial interests are allowed representation by direct election ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : But does my Honourable friend mean to say that the representation of Indian interests, though it is by nomination, is not a suitable representation ?

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : If nomination is a suitable method of securing proper representation, why don't they extend it to European commercial interests as well ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am quite prepared to consider the question of nomination as against election, but I am not prepared here on the floor of the House to commit myself to either one or the other method.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether Government are aware that the Royal Commission on Indian Labour has recommended that dock labour should be represented on the Port Trusts ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am afraid, Sir, my recollection of the recommendations of the Labour Commission is somewhat distant by this time.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Are Government aware that out of the 12 elected Commissioners, six are returned by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, one by the Calcutta Trades Association, one by the Corporation of Calcutta and four by such bodies as the Government select as being representative of the Indian commercial community ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am afraid I do not remember the exact method of representation, but I take it that the facts given by my friend are correct.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Will Government consider the desirability of giving better representation to Indian commercial interests when revising the constitution of the Port Trust of Calcutta ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I have already told my friend the fact that that aspect of the case is constantly kept in view, but I can give him the assurance that I will personally look into it again.

Mr. S. C. Sen : Is it not a fact that these four commercial bodies, whom the Governor General nominates as the forum entitled to elect the four nominees on the Board, appoint them by election amongst themselves ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I think so, Sir.

PROPOSAL OF RESTRICTING THE PASSAGE OF GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, PROCEEDING TO ENGLAND, TO BRITISH STEAMERS.

376. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government be pleased to state if any correspondence has passed between them and the India Office relating to the proposal of restricting the passage of Government officials, proceeding to England, to British steamers " in view of the serious position of British shipping, and also to avoid subsidising of Italian steamers " ?

(b) Is it intended to issue any instructions on the subject ? If so, on what lines ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have nothing to add to the reply which I gave to Mr. Neogy's starred question No. 640 on the 6th of March, 1933, except that the matter is still under consideration.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I know what is the answer to the last part ? I did not quite catch the Honourable Member.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Except that the matter is still under consideration.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : And that no instructions have been issued so far ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No decision has yet been reached.

POST OF OFFICE SUPERINTENDENT, KARACHI DIVISION, NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

377. Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : (a) Is it a fact that one Mr. H. C. S. Bennet, an European, who was a Traffic Inspector on the North-Western Railway was transferred as Office Superintendent, Karachi Division and his post as Traffic Inspector declared surplus ? If so, why was the above-mentioned post of Traffic Inspector again revived after a short time, and another person, also an European or Anglo-Indian, allowed to officiate as Traffic Inspector in this appointment, Mr. Bennet having been allowed to remain as Office Superintendent ?

(b) Is it a fact that by this arrangement the claims of some Senior Indian Head Clerks in the Divisional offices of the North-Western Railway who aspired for the post of the Office Superintendent and were fully qualified for this appointment in every way, were ignored ?

(c) Do Government propose in view of their policy communicated to me in the Railway Board letter No. 1662-E.G., dated 23rd May, 1933, in reply to my starred question No. 1127, to issue instructions to the Agent, and Divisional Superintendent that racial discrimination in the Railway appointments has been removed, and that they should act up to it ?

(d) Is it a fact that Selection Boards are always held for selecting candidates for filling any posts of Office Superintendents ? If so, was any Selection Board held on the occasion of the transfer of Mr. Bennet as Office Superintendent ? If so, who were the other candidates who appeared before this Selection Board, and if not, why was a departure made from the usual procedure in this particular case ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have called for the information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

DANGEROUS CONDITION OF THE CITY WALL OF DELHI.

378. Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh (on behalf of Kunwar Hajee Ismail Ali Khan) : (a) Is it a fact that the city wall of Delhi between Ajmeri Gate and Turkman Gate is in a very dangerous condition and many lives have been lost by its collapse during the monsoon of July, 1933 ?

(b) If the answer to part (a) above be in the affirmative, do Government propose to consider the question of improving the situation by demolishing the whole portion of the city wall between Ajmeri Gate and Turkman Gate ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) During the recent rains a portion of the Delhi City Wall fell and resulted in the death of two persons and serious injury to a third.

(b) The dangerous portions of the wall have been dismantled. The major portion, however, has been left standing as it is not at present considered dangerous. The question as to whether any further portion should be demolished, or whether any repairs should be effected, is under consideration.

TROUBLES AT THE NORTH WEST FRONTIER OF INDIA.

379. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government be pleased to make a statement relating to (i) the trouble and activities on the North West Frontier of India for some time, (ii) and the steps taken by them, and (iii) the present situation obtaining there ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I would refer the Honourable Member to that portion of the speech of His Excellency the Viceroy delivered on the 30th August in this House which dealt with Frontier affairs and which gave a full account of recent activities in that area.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government kindly state the circumstances under which the recent bombing operations were resorted to for the purpose of suppressing any portion of the disturbances ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : The reason why bombing was resorted to was that that was regarded as being likely to prove the most successful and economical method. Any other method would almost infallibly have led to serious loss of life. Peaceful methods were actually tried for two months, but without effect.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Are Government aware that their resort to bombing entails danger to innocent men, women and children ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Sir, I am going to answer shortly a short notice question on the subject of bombing, and I would ask Honourable Members to reserve their fire until then.

OBJECTIONABLE ADVERTISEMENTS IN NEWSPAPERS.

380. *Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah : (a) Are Government aware that all newspapers advertise remedies for impotency, health, strength, vigour and birth-control ?

(b) Are Government aware that such advertisements are forbidden on the Continent and in England ? If so, why are they being tolerated in India ?

(c) Have Government analysed any of the medicines so offered ? If not, why not ?

(d) Do Government contemplate to legislate in order to prevent the public from being swindled ? If so, when ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) It is a matter of common knowledge that such advertisements are published in newspapers.

(b) Government have no detailed information.

(c) Government have not analysed the medicines, but understand that a certain number have been analysed in England and other countries.

(d) The Honourable Member's suggestion is already under the consideration of Government in connection with the Report of the Drugs Inquiry Committee.

INDIAN RAILWAY GAZETTE OF CALCUTTA.

381. *Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the names of the State Railway Administrations which patronise the Indian Railway Gazette of Calcutta with their advertisements ?

(b) whether it is a fact that the Gazette in question occasionally receives news and official information for publication from the State Railways ?

(c) whether the Railway Board also extend their patronage to the Gazette ? If so, in what way ?

(d) whether reports of proceedings of Legislative Assembly Committee meetings for Railways are sent to the Gazette for publication and comment ?

(e) whether such reports are also supplied to other papers dealing mainly with Railway matters ?

(f) whether such reports are ordinarily supplied to newspapers which apply for them ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (b). Government have no information. This is a matter within the competence of Railways to decide for themselves.

(c) The Railway Board subscribe for a copy of the Gazette.

(d), (e) and (f). Copies of the proceedings are supplied to the Gazette for information. They are also supplied to the Associated Press of India.

Any requests for such supply from other papers are considered on merits.

†382.*

RUNNING OF SPECIAL TRAINS BETWEEN BARSUI AND KISHANGANJ ON THE EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY.

383. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether there was a proposal to run special trains for three days on or about 25th, 26th and 27th between Barsui to Kishanganj on the Eastern Bengal Railway ?

(b) Is it a fact that the special train which was to run on the third day was cancelled without previous notice ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the real situation and cause of the cancellation of the running of the special train on the third day ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state the actual number of the passengers who travelled by each of the trains ?

(e) On whose recommendations and request was the running of the special train decided ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (e). Government understand that it was proposed to run a Special train daily on the 24th, 25th and 26th June, 1933, but not on the 27th June, in connection with the Bihar Muslim Conference which was held this year at Kishanganj. The running of these Specials was arranged at the request of Messrs. Muhammad Shafi Daoodi, M.L.A., and Badi-uz-Zaman, M.L.A.

(b) The Special train which was to run on the 26th June was cancelled.

(c) The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, reports that stock, power and staff to work the Special train on the 26th June were ready on the spot. But as no passengers offered either at Barsui or at Kishanganj, it was, in consultation with the General Secretary, Reception Committee of the Muslim Conference, decided to cancel the Special.

(d) 24 passengers by Up Special on 24th June, 1933.
11 passengers by Down Special on 24th June, 1933.
5 passengers by Up Special on 25th June, 1933.
35 passengers by Down Special on 25th June, 1933.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Did Government sustain any loss on account of these trains ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I think it is sufficiently obvious, Sir.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Are Government aware that there was a heavy downpour when the Conference was held there ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I suppose, Sir, my Honourable friend is speaking from personal experience, and I am quite prepared to accept his statement.

†This question was not put by the questioner.

PAY OF INDIAN STATION MASTERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

384. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that on the East Indian Railway the starting pay of Indian Station Masters is only Rs. 40 rising to Rs. 120 in four grades in the old scale and Rs. 40 to Rs. 95 in the new one ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : With your permission, Sir, I propose to reply to questions Nos. 384 to 395 together. I have called for certain information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

PAY OF INDIAN ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†385. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the Indian Assistant Station Masters on the East Indian Railway are not placed in the higher grade of Rs. 350 in the old scale and of Rs. 310 in the new one ?

(b) Is it a fact that in the special grade of Assistant Station Masters on the East Indian Railway carrying a salary of Rs. 350 per month, persons are not recruited on merit, but the posts in this grade are reserved for Anglo-Indians and Europeans ?

PAY OF GUARDS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†386. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that guards on the East Indian Railway are subordinate to Assistant Station Masters, and trained only in guards' duties ?

(b) Is it a fact that their grades are Rs. 100 and Rs. 210 plus lump sum allowances which are added to the salary in deducting provident funds ?

PAY OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†387. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that Travelling Ticket Examiners on the East Indian Railway are to work under Assistant Station Masters and are qualified only in a part of coaching duties ?

(b) Is it a fact that the pay of their grade is Rs. 120 plus a fixed allowance of Rs. 65, i.e., Rs. 185 altogether ?

PAY OF TRAIN CLERKS, TELEPHONE CLERKS, ETC., ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†388. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that Trains Clerks, Telephone Clerks, Booking Clerks, Goods Clerks, Signallers and Ticket Collectors, are all subordinate to Assistant Station Masters on the East Indian Railway ?

(b) Is it a fact that their grades are Rs. 80, Rs. 115, Rs. 210 ?

SUPERSESSION OF INDIAN ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS BY EUROPEAN AND ANGLO-INDIAN GUARDS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†389. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the European and Anglo-Indian guards on the East Indian Railway after reaching the maximum of their grade of Rs. 210 enjoy the privilege of being promoted to Assistant Station Master's grade of Rs. 350, superseding the Indian Assistant Station Masters, without qualifying themselves in all the duties, as Indian Assistant Station Masters are required to do ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 384.

(b) Do Government propose to see that the European and Anglo-Indian guards should be made to qualify themselves in all the duties of Indian Assistant Station Masters before they are taken in as such and that in the matter of promotion they should not be allowed to supersede the Indian Assistant Station Masters who might already be their seniors in office ?

UNIFORMS SUPPLIED TO THE ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†390. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the European and Anglo-Indian Assistant Station Masters on the East Indian Railway get better kind of uniform than the Indian Assistant Station Masters get ?

DIFFERENTIAL TREATMENT OF EUROPEAN, ANGLO-INDIAN AND INDIAN ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†391. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that if the eye-sight of an Indian Assistant Station Master on the East Indian Railway fails, he is made a Number-Taker, Booking Clerk or a Signaller, but, if the eye-sight of an European or Anglo-Indian servant of the Railway fails, he is forthwith provided with a high salaried post, such as a controller on pay of rupees four hundred, etc. ?

INTRODUCTION OF NEW SYSTEM OF HOURS OF REST ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†392. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the difference between the new system of hours of rest, based on Washington and Geneva Conventions and the old system of hours of rest, on the East Indian Railway ?

(b) Were the Assistant Station Masters on the East Indian Railway consulted before the introduction of the new system of hours of rest ?

NIGHT DUTY OF ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS ON CERTAIN BRANCH LINES OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†393. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that over the B. Division on branch line on the East Indian Railway Indian Assistant Station Masters perform 12 hours' night duty each? If so, is it not in contravention of Geneva and Washington rules ?

(b) Are Government aware that such duty is described as intermittent ? Is it a fact that such duty is continuous and that they have to keep on in train passing duty for 12 hours, no fixed timing for engines and other goods trains being prescribed ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 384.

REST FOR CERTAIN STATION MASTERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†394. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that on some stations on the East Indian Railway where train passing is managed by switchman and supervised by one station master who does all coaching and goods duty, the said station master is not given any rest either weekly or fortnightly ?

DIFFERENTIAL TREATMENT OF EUROPEAN, ANGLO-INDIAN AND INDIAN ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

†395. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that Indian Assistant Station Masters on the East Indian Railway are debarred from promotion, or are reduced from the grade they hold, if they fail in the prescribed examination or in the Chandausi training or if they do not pass in the first chance the Chandausi training, but the European and Anglo-Indian Assistant Station Masters are exempted from this practice ?

MOPLAHS CONVICTED OF OFFENCES CONNECTED WITH THE MALABAR REBELLION IN JAILS AND IN THE ANDAMANS.

396. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) How many Moplahs, who were convicted of offences connected with the Malabar Rebellion of 1921, are now suffering imprisonment ?

(b) How many of the Moplahs, who were convicted of offences connected with the Malabar Rebellion of 1921, are in jails in the Madras Province and how many of them are in jails outside Madras ?

(c) How many of them are still in Andaman Island ?

(d) Did the release of such prisoners during the past few years disturb the peace of the district ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) 196.

(b) and (c). 62 in jails in the Madras Presidency, 5 elsewhere in India and 129 in the Andamans, 41 of whom have been ordered to be released and are awaiting a passage to India.

(d) I have nothing to add to the reply given by me on the 16th September, 1932, to part (a) of the Honourable Member's question No. 364.

MOPLAHS WANTED BY POLICE UNDER REGULATION III AND THE MOPLAH OUTRAGES ACT.

397. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : What is the number of the Moplahs who are even now wanted by the Police under the State Regulation III and Moplah Outrages Act and in connection with the Malabar Rebellion of 1921 ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No Moplah is wanted by the police under Madras Regulation II of 1819 or the Moplah Outrages Act in connection with the Malabar Rebellion of 1921.

MOPLAHS DETAINED UNDER REGULATION III AND THE MOPLAH OUTRAGES ACT.

398. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) How many Moplahs have been detained under State Regulation III and Moplah Outrages Act ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 384.

(b) Do Government propose to grant a general amnesty to the Moplahs, viz., to release those who are still suffering imprisonment in that connection, and to permit those who are detained to return to their homes ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) The information in my possession is that only one is under restraint under Regulation II of 1819. No Moplah is detained under the Moplah Outrages Act or under Regulation III of 1818 in connection with the Malabar Rebellion of 1921.

(b) No such proposal is under consideration. The Local Government are following a liberal policy of removing restraint wherever possible.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Since what time has that one man been under detention ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I am afraid I shall require notice of that question.

NOMINATION OF A MOPLAH MEMBER OF THE CENTRAL LEGISLATURE TO THE COMMITTEE TO BE FORMED FOR ARRANGING THE CONSTITUENCIES OF THE FEDERAL ASSEMBLY.

399. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Do Government propose to form a committee to arrange the constituency for the seats allotted to Muslims by the Premier's decision for the Federal Assembly, and to decide the franchise for the same ?

(b) If so, do they propose to nominate any Moplah member of the Central Legislature to serve on the committee ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) and (b). Government are not at present considering the appointment of any such Committee. The question of its personnel does not therefore arise at present.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

400 Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of postal and telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March 1932 in the Gazetted rank in the Direction was as follows :

(1) Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..	10 in number
(2) Hindus	5 in number
(3) Muslims	1 in number
(4) Others	1 in number
Total ..	17 in number

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Sir, as the 120 questions, Nos. 400 to 459 and Nos. 486 to 545 inclusive, are all of the same general purport, and as the same considerations apply to them all I shall deal with them together, with your permission.

I regret that I cannot undertake the research and calculations necessary to give precise replies to these questions ; to do so would be both laborious and useless for the following reasons :

(a) The Honourable Member is aware that there are in force certain orders of Government regulating the admission to the services of members of different communities, and also that these orders relate specifically only to first appointments, not to the filling of posts by promotion. He nevertheless makes no discrimination in his questions between the staffing of cadres which are filled by direct recruitment and those which are filled otherwise. Furthermore the Honourable Member is probably aware that the staff on many individual cadres is scattered over different offices and circles, so that no significance attaches to the question of the composition of the staff of a particular office or circle in such a case.

(b) The Honourable Member is also aware that the orders to which I have referred have not been in force for very many years, whereas the actual composition of the staff in any cadre or branch of the service is the result of recruitments and promotions made extending over a long period possibly 25 or 30 years.

(c) The Honourable Member is also aware (if not, I would refer him to page 1871 of the Legislative Assembly Debates of the 10th March, 1933) that a system of check has been introduced which makes it impossible for recruiting officers in the Posts and Telegraphs Department to evade strict compliance with such orders as may be in force from time to time relating to communal recruitment.

The Honourable Member will thus see that only misleading or useless conclusions could be drawn from even the most detailed replies to the 120 questions with which I am now dealing. Comprehensive information as to the communal composition and recruitment of the different branches of the Posts and Telegraphs staff is however already available : I would refer the Honourable Member to paragraphs 71 and 72 of the Director General's Annual Report on the Posts and Telegraphs Department for the year 1931-32 ; I may add that arrangements have been made to have the corresponding information, to be included in the Annual Report for 1932-33, exhibited in greater detail than in past years.

I may mention that the Government are at present reconsidering the general orders to which I have referred, and will probably issue revised instructions in due course.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I am now in a very difficult position. The questions have been answered by one stroke of the pen and there are only five minutes left for putting supplementary questions.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Supplementary questions to what answers, because we must know the answers before we put supplementary questions ?

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Are Government aware that about four days ago many of these questions were taken away from the starred list to the unstarred list, and have Government replied to the parts of the unstarred list as well ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I was not aware of that fact as the unstarred list has not yet reached me. I can assure the Honourable Member that, if there are any questions in the unstarred list, they will be duly answered. But, if they are a repetition of the questions which appear in this list, then they will be given the same answer as I have given here.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Are Government aware that there were not 120 questions for today's answer, because many of them have been taken away from the list ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : That, Sir, is not a matter for me. The questions appear in the list of business which is before the House this morning and it was, therefore, my bounden duty to answer the questions on the list.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that information relating to those questions are in eight pages only in the office of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : If the Honourable Member has information in his hand which he considers as a sufficient reply to these questions, I presume no further information is wanted.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state whether the information published at page 38 of the report for 1931-32 was supplied by all the circles to the Government and whether from those figures they have compiled the statement which has been published in half a page at page 38 ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I have not before me the document from which the Honourable Member is reading and I am unable to give him an answer.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I am ready to give it to him if he wants it. May I know whether the figures which are referred to in paragraphs 71 and 72 which have been answered by my Honourable friend were supplied by different circles in half pages ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I can assure the Honourable Member that if I were to give him the detailed information for which he has asked in these questions, I should require additional staff in my office for quite an extensive period.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : What additional staff, do Government think will be required for typing 8 or 10 pages of the reply to these questions ?

The Honourbale Sir Frank Noyce : That, Sir, seems to be a hypothetical question.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Are Government aware that this is not a question concerning the Muslim community alone, but rather that this is a question concerning Indians as a whole ? In all these questions it has been shown that Europeans and Anglo-Indians have got in some cases 60, in some cases 70 and in some cases 80 per cent. of posts, while Indians have got 3, 5, 10 or at the most 20 per cent. only ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I do not think that I can add anything useful to the reply I have already given.

Mr. R. S. Sarma : Will Government be pleased to give this House an idea of what it would have cost Government to find answers to the communal questions of Mr. Maswood Ahmad since January, 1931 ? (Laughter.)

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it not the accepted policy of Government that once an officer has been appointed, it is more his efficiency and experience in the departmental work and not his religion that should determine his promotion ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : That is so.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose that in future in the Posts and Telegraphs Department, instead of publishing figures as a whole in paragraph 71, they will give information for circles as well ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I have said in my reply that arrangements have been made to have information exhibited in greater detail than in past years.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Thank you for this undertaking.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†401. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932 in the Gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service was as follows ?

(1) Europeans cum Anglo-Indians	..	69 in number
(2) Hindus	..	104 in number
(3) Muslims	..	33 in number
(4) Others	..	23 in number
Total	..	229 in number

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†402. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic was as follows ?

(1) European cum Anglo-Indians	..	48 in number
(2) Hindus	..	27 in number
(3) Muslims	..	1 in number
(4) Others	..	4 in number
Total	..	80 in number

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†403. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering was as follows ?

(1) European cum Anglo-Indians	..	128 in number
(2) Hindus	..	28 in number
(3) Muslims	..	3 in number
(4) Others	..	8 in number
Total	..	167 in number

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†404. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932 in the Gazetted rank in the Wireless was as follows ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

(1) European cum Anglo-Indians	24	in number
(2) Hindus	4	in number
(3) Muslims	nil	in number
(4) Others	nil	in number
Total ..	28	in number

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†405. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932 in the Gazetted rank in the total service was as follows ?

(1) European cum Anglo-Indians	279	in number
(2) Hindus	168	in number
(3) Muslims	38	in number
(4) Others	36	in number
Total ..	521	in number

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†406. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Direction for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†407. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†408. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†409. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†410. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†411. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the total service for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†412. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Direction for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†413. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†414. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†415. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†416. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†417. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the total service for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†418. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Direction for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†419. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Posts and Railway Mail Service for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†420. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†421. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†422. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†423. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the total service for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†424. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Direction for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†425. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†426. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†427. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†428. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†429. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the total service for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†430. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Direction for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†431. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†432. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†433. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the Gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†434. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†447. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the total service for the Punjab and North-West Frontier Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†448. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Direction for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†449. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†450. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†451. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†452. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†453. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†435. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the total service for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†436. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Direction for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†437. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†438. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†439. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†440. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†441. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the total service for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†442. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Direction for the Punjab and North-West Frontier Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†443. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Punjab and North-West Frontier Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†444. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Punjab and North-West Frontier Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†445. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Punjab and North-West Frontier Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†446. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Wireless for the Punjab and North-West Frontier Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31s March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the total service for the Sind an Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCE POSTAL CIRCLE.

†454. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased t state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under th direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31s March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Direction for the United Province Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†455. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under th direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the gazetted rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†456. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†457. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†458. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased t state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under th direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31s March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the Wireless for the United Province Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCE POSTAL CIRCLE.

†459. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased t state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under th direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31s March, 1933 in the gazetted rank in the total service for the Unite Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..

‡460.—485.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

‡For these questions and answers thereto, see Legislative Assembly Debates, dat the 4th September, 1933.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†486. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction was as follows ?

	Number.	Percentage.
1. Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..	4
2. Hindus	143
3. Muslims	20
4. Others	1
Total ..	168

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Muslims in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS

†487. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service was as follows ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..	304
Hindus	23,513
Muslims	5,360
Others	2,297
Total ..	31,474

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Muslims in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†488. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic was as follows ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..	1,716
Hindus	2,123
Muslims	249
Others	406
Total ..	4,494

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†489. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in Telegraph Engineering was as follows ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..	237
Hindus	1,006
Muslims	239
Others	138
Total ..	1,620

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†490. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless was as follows ?

	Number.	Percentage.
1. Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..	122
2. Hindus	75
3. Muslims	21
4. Others	19
Total ..	237

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF UNDER THE DIRECT CONTROL OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

†491. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1932, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service was as follows ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..	2,383
Hindus	26,860
Muslims	5,889
Others	2,861
Total ..	37,993

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the figures in the same schedule for the year ending the 31st March, 1933 ?

(c) What action do Government propose to take to increase the number of Indians in general and of Muslims in particular in the posts mentioned in part (a) above ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†492. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†493. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†494. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†495. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†496. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BENGAL AND ASSAM POSTAL CIRCLE.

†497. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-Gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Bengal and Assam Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†498. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†499. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†500. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†501. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†502. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BIHAR AND ORISSA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†503. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Bihar and Orissa Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†504. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†505. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†506. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†507. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†508. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

†509. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Bombay Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†510. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†511. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†512. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†513. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†514. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE BURMA POSTAL CIRCLE.

†515. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†516. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†517. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†518. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†519. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†520. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE CENTRAL POSTAL CIRCLE.

†521. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Central Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†522. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†523. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†524. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†525. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†526. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE MADRAS POSTAL CIRCLE.

†527. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Madras Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†528. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Director for the Punjab and N.-W. F. Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†529. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal and Railway Mail Service for the Punjab and N.-W. F. Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†530. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Punjab and N.-W. F. Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†531. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Punjab and N.-W. F. Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†532. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Punjab and N.-W. F. Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE PUNJAB AND NORTH-WEST FRONTIER POSTAL CIRCLE.

†533. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Punjab and N.-W. F. Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†534. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†535. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal Railway Mail Service for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†536. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†537. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†538. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE SIND AND BALUCHISTAN POSTAL CIRCLE.

†539. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the Sind and Baluchistan Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†540. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Direction for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†541. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Postal Railway Mail Service for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†542. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Traffic for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†543. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Telegraph Engineering for the Burma Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†544. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the Wireless for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF NON-GAZETTED STAFF IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

†545. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the composition of the staff of Postal and Telegraph officials under the direct control of the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs on the 31st March, 1933, in the non-gazetted (excluding line delivery and menials) rank in the total service for the United Provinces Circle in the following schedule ?

	Number.	Percentage.
Europeans cum Anglo-Indians ..
Hindus
Muslims
Others
Total ..

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 400.

SHORT NOTICE QUESTION AND ANSWER.

AIR BOMBARDMENT ON THE TRIBAL AREA OF THE NORTH-WEST FRONTIER.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the full facts about the air-bombing on the tribal area of the North-West Frontier recently ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : As explained by His Excellency the Viceroy in his address to the Legislature on August 30th, the Government of India received information that certain agitators, whose activities were likely to disturb the peace of the Frontier and to be a source of embarrassment to our neighbours, had come to Bajaur and that the most important of them was being harboured in the village of Kotkai. Kotkai is a small walled village containing about 130 inhabitants, and situated at a distance of about 30 miles from the nearest road over very mountainous country and another 45 miles from railhead at Dargai.

A notice was conveyed by messenger to the Khan of Kotkai on July 23rd to the effect that, unless this agitator was surrendered before August 1st, Government would take such action as they might think necessary. The Khan adopted a defiant attitude, and refused to surrender the man. Warnings were then dropped on, and in the vicinity of the village by æroplane on July 30th to the effect that the village would be liable to be bombed on August 1st and succeeding days. The first bombardment was carried out on August 1st by 12 machines of the Royal Air Force, which dropped 42 bombs. No bombing took place on August 2nd. On August 3rd, and again on August 4th, further bombing took place by six machines, which dropped 24 bombs on each occasion. The total number of bombs dropped was 90. So far as can be ascertained, about 20 houses were destroyed or damaged, and one man was slightly injured. The village presented a deserted appearance when the bombing took place, and there is every reason to believe that all women and children had been removed to a place of safety, and that none of them was hurt. The total cost of these operations was under Rs. 15,000.

No further bombing has taken place either of Kotkai or of any other village.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to say whether the source of information that only one man was injured is a confidential one ?

12 NOON.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : No, it is not confidential. It is information that we received from the political authorities in the locality.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : How was it possible to say that so many men were killed at a particular place, when no man from Government was in the village to see that ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I imagine that certain people from that area came into the important towns and gave information to the political authorities.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Then there is no surety of the information.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is my impression correct, that warning was given that bombing would take place on a particular date and at a particular hour, so that those who wanted to go away from the place might do so, if they liked ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Yes, warning was given on July 30th and the bombing took place two days later at a particular hour.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Is bomb throwing so accurate that it will only hit the target and will not fall astray ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Great progress has been made in the accuracy of aerial bombardment and I believe the Royal Air Force now claim to be more accurate than the artillery.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Is it not a fact that bombing has been proposed to be absolutely abolished by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom in the Disarmament Conference at Geneva ?

Mr G. R. F. Tottenham : The position in that respect is as follows. As Honourable Members are aware, the Disarmament Conference has been taking place for some time and any success that the Conference has achieved is due very largely to the efforts made by Great Britain and the President of the Conference, Mr. Henderson. The British Government put certain proposals before the Conference. The first proposal that they put on the subject of aerial warfare was that there should be complete abolition of military aviation of all kinds, provided firstly, that satisfactory arrangements could be made to control civil aviation, to prevent military preparations being made under the guise of civil development, and, secondly, that all other nations agreed to the abolition of their air forces. The second proposition that was put forward was that, failing agreement on this major proposal, aerial bombardment should be abolished as an international weapon of warfare. His Majesty's Government agreed to this proposal, but made the stipulation that they would wish to retain the right to use aerial bombing for police purposes in certain specified outlying portions of the Empire.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Am I correct when I find in this "Monthly Summary of the League of Nations" the following statement :

"His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom desire to suggest that it would be advisable,.....to agree on a programme of work which would enable the Conference to embody in a Convention the proposals made by various delegations since the opening of the Conference..... The aim of the Bureau should be to organise without delay practical discussion of the following topics, with the object of framing a Convention or Conventions embodying them so far as they are ultimately approved. ..... The Bureau shall at once constitute a committee of representatives of the principal air Powers to examine the possibility of the entire abolition of military and naval machines and of bombing from the air, combined with an effective international control of civil aviation."

Is this correct ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I have no doubt that is perfectly correct.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : If that is correct, I do not see any mention of exception of bombing for police purposes ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : As I explained just now, there were two propositions. The first proposition, the major proposition, is the complete abolition of all military aviation. It was only failing agreement on that, that the second proposition was made, that there should be a limitation of aerial bombardment and it was in connection with the second alternative that His Majesty's Government made the stipulation I have referred to with regard to police bombing. I may add that both these matters were discussed in the Disarmament Conference a few months ago, but no final decision was reached and the second reading of these proposals is to take place sometime in the coming autumn.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Has the consideration been finished ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The discussion is to be resumed when the Conference meets again, I believe, sometime this autumn.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether it is a fact that agreement at the Disarmament Conference has become very difficult on account of the attitude taken up by Great Britain as regards air bombing ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : No, Sir. That, I think, is a gross misrepresentation of the facts. Any success that the Conference has achieved has been due more to the efforts of the British Government than to any other nation in the world ; and it is most unlikely that the British Government in particular, who have much to fear from the dangers and possibilities of aerial bombardment, should wish to wreck the Conference as a whole on a matter of this kind.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask if the British Government are insisting upon reserving to themselves this power ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : We cannot discuss on this question the attitude of the British Government in the Disarmament Conference.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask what is the attitude of the Indian Government ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The Indian Delegation has followed the lead of the British Delegation in all matters relating to the Disarmament Conference and are prepared, if there is general agreement on the subject, to agree to the abolition of military aviation.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it a fact that to the demand for giving up the absconders the villagers replied that it was the immemorial custom in the tribal area, on principles of hospitality, to give asylum to the political refugees ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think the Political Secretary might have more information on that point. I am only concerned with the military aspect of it.

Mr. B. J. Glancy : It is a fact that the people in the tribal area are reluctant to give up those who are enjoying their hospitality : this custom is not peculiar to the tribal area, it is to be found all over the world ; but it has to be subordinated sometimes to the maintenance of peace.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : May I take it that the Government accept that it is the usual practice in all civilised countries to give asylum to political agitators.

Mr. B. J. Glancy : That is a custom that has to be modified, as I said, in the interests of peace.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it not a fact that even in England asylum is given to political agitators from foreign countries ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : As regards this particular tribal area, it is the Government that is responsible for the peace there.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Are the British Government responsible for the peace in this tribal area ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Yes, Sir.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Who were the agitators who caused this trouble ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I do not think it is in the interests of Government to give that information.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : If the Government are not going to give the names of the agitators, did they do any overt act either in the British territory or in the Afghan territory.

Mr. B. J. Glancy : As regards the tribal territory about which we are speaking, the action of the agitators had the effect of disturbing the peace.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Did they do any overt act either in this part of the country or in the other part of the country ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : As far as I am aware, in this part of the country, that is to say, the tribal country, they did not actually commit any criminal offence.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : If they did not do any overt act, why did the Government take action on that ground ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : But the peace was being disturbed and the country was being inflamed.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : When there was no overt act, how could the peace of the country be said to be disturbed ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I would invite the attention of the Honourable Member to a passage in His Excellency's speech on the subject. He said :

"Realising that this particular portion of the frontier holds many firebrands whose main occupation in life is to flout all recognised forms of law and order, and knowing the pace at which infection is likely to spread on the Frontier, I, in consultation with my Government, decided that immediate action was imperative."

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Was not the action of the Government of India more than was necessary in view of the fact that there was no overt act and there was no chance of these people committing any disturbances ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : That, Sir, is a question of opinion. In the opinion of the Government of India, the action was necessary and it had the desired effect.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : May I know if the Government of India took any hint from the proposals made by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom to the Disarmament Conference at Geneva that bombing by air should not be resorted to at least during the period when the proposal was under consideration before the Disarmament Conference ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think it would be most unreasonable to expect that any country, even the most ardent supporter of disarmament, should deprive itself, in advance of any general agreement that had been reached on that subject, of the use of a weapon which, in its opinion and subject to the restrictions and safeguards that are invariably imposed, has proved itself to be a very effective, economical and humane method of preserving peace on the Frontier.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Is it not correct to infer that there was no urgency to take to bombing during the month of July especially when the matter was under discussion before the Disarmament Conference ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : If this air action had not been taken, the alternatives before the Government of India would have been two—either to take no action at all or else to send a military force to Kotkai. This would have cost a great deal more than the operations by air and would have entailed a large number of casualties, not only to the tribesmen, but also to our own Indian soldiers ; and it would ultimately have had precisely the same effect on the village of Kotkai as the aerial bombardment had on August 1st. (Applause.)

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Am I not right in saying that it was the imaginary troubles which caused the Government of India to take to bombing ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I can assure the Honourable Member that the Government of India would not resort to action on any imaginary grounds.

Bhai Parma Nand : May I ask, Sir, whether the decisions of the League of Nations are applicable to India in the case of air bombing or can they be made applicable to the settlement of other questions such as the communal question of India ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Is this question addressed to me ? I am no great authority on the proceedings of the League of Nations which, I fancy, are dealt with by the Legislative Department, but my impression is that agreements reached by the League of Nations are binding on those nations which subscribe to them.

Bhai Parma Nand : Is not India a member of the League of Nations ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Yes, Sir.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to say whether the danger of the disturbance of peace was in India or in Afghanistan ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : No question can be asked in this House with regard to the foreign territory.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Then, may I know whether the danger of the disturbance was in India ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think that question has already been answered.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : What was the reply ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The reply was that there was danger of a breach of the peace in India.

Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Is it humane to take steps so devastating in anticipation of the commitment of any overt act ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I think we have already discussed that matter fully.

Mr. President : Order, order. Statements.

STATEMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig (Home Member) : Sir, I lay on the table :

(i) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 214, 354, 355 and 383 asked by Khan Sahib Shaikh Fazal Haq Piracha, Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen and Mr. S. C. Mitra on the 13th September, 1932 ; and (ii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1214 asked by Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi on the 12th April, 1933.

PRO-REPEATER ALARM PISTOLS AND THEIR DETONATING DISCS.

*214. (a) The reply to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. The discs contain a minute quantity of an explosive of the fulminate class.

(b) Government have seen some of the advertisements in question.

(c) It has been ascertained from the Government of the United Provinces that no restrictions have been placed by the local authorities on detonating discs. In Bihar and Orissa, the local authorities of one district placed restrictions on the sale of detonating discs under a misapprehension ; these restrictions have since been withdrawn.

(d) In Burma the import of the pro-repeater alarm pistol has been restricted under the Finance Department Notification No. 35, dated the 6th September, 1930 (copy enclosed), to cases in which a permit to import the article has been obtained, in the case of import at Rangoon, from the Commissioner of Police, and in the case of import elsewhere from the District Magistrate. Discs are considered by the Local Government to fall within the definition of " ammunition " given in section 4 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and the provisions of the Arms Act and Rules are applied to discs intended for weapons which are capable of being used otherwise than as toys.

(e) In exercise of the power conferred by the proviso in column 3 of entry 1 in Schedule II to the Arms Rules, the Local Government have issued a notification declaring that no person in the Bengal Presidency—

(a) shall manufacture, convert or sell or keep, offer or expose for sale, or

(b) shall go armed with alarm pistols, except under a licence and in the manner and to the extent permitted thereby.

(f) Some types of toy pistols closely resemble lethal weapons in appearance and make a loud report when fired. Cases have occurred in Bengal and Burma of their use in an objectionable manner, for example, by dacoits to frighten people. In one case a hole was bored in a toy pistol to enable a ball cartridge to be fired from it. The Local Governments therefore considered it necessary to impose restrictions on these weapons. The Government of India are not prepared to interfere with the discretion of the Local Governments in this matter and they do not, therefore, propose to issue any general orders on the subject.

RESTRICTIONS IN BURMA AND BENGAL FOR GERMAN AUTOMATIC REPEATENT ALARM PISTOLS.

*354. (a) Yes.

(b) The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to clause (f) of question No. 214.

LICENCE FOR TELL AND DIANA BRAND GERMAN AIR PISTOLS IN BENGAL.

*355. (a) and (b). The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to clause (f) of question No. 214.

RESTRICTIONS IN BURMA AND BENGAL FOR GERMAN AUTOMATIC REPEATENT ALARM PISTOLS.

*383. (a) The position in regard to these pistols in Burma and Bengal has been explained in the replies given to clauses (d) and (e), respectively, of question No. 214.

(b) and (c). The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to clause (f) of question No. 214.

Copy of a Finance Department (Central Revenues) Notification, Government of India, No. 35, dated the 6th September, 1930.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878 (VIII of 1878), and in supersession of the notification of the Government of India in the Finance Department (Central Revenues) No. 38, dated the 18th June, 1927, the Governor General in Council is pleased to restrict the bringing into British India of toy, dummy or imitation revolvers or pistols to cases in which a permit to import the same has been granted, in the case of import at a Presidency town or Rangoon, by the Commissioner of Police, and in the case of import elsewhere by the District Magistrate :

Provided that the restriction imposed by this notification shall not apply to revolvers or pistols which in the opinion of the Collector of Customs are of such construction and character as to render them incapable of being used otherwise than as toys or of being converted into lethal weapons.

MUSLIM SUPERINTENDENTS IN THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA SECRETARIAT AND ATTACHED OFFICES.

*1214.

Statement.

	Total number of Superintendents.	Total number of Muslims.
Government of India Secretariat	59	5
Attached Offices	106	6

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham (Army Secretary) : Sir, I lay on the table :

(i) the information promised in reply to part (b) of starred question No. 712 asked by Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 8th March, 1933 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 809 and 810 asked by Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon on the 21st March, 1933 ;

(iii) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 1100 to 1102 asked by Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin on the 1st April, 1933 ; and (iv) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 194 asked by Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin on the 10th April, 1933.

TROOPS FROM BRITISH INDIA SENT TO ALWAR.

*712. (i) No portion of the cost was borne by Indian revenues ; the normal charges were borne by Alwar State and the extra cost was charged to His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom.

(ii) There is nothing to show that any part of the expenditure was met from Indian revenues on this occasion, when Alwar troops were absent from the State for two days.

OFFICERS AND CLERKS IN THE MILITARY ENGINEERING SERVICE, WESTERN COMMAND, QUETTA.

*809. (b) The figures given are substantially correct ; but those for Hindus include Sikhs.

(c) Does not arise.

REPRESENTATION OF MUSLIMS IN THE CLERICAL STAFF OF THE MILITARY ENGINEERING SERVICE, WESTERN COMMAND, QUETTA.

*810. (a) 18.

(b) Two Muslims and 16 non-Muslims.

(c) and (d). Part (c) of the question does not strictly arise, but I may add that every endeavour is made to recruit Muhammadans, provided that suitable candidates are available. Government do not therefore consider that there is any justification for the issue of fresh orders regarding communal representation.

PROPOSED DEMOLITION OF CERTAIN HOUSES IN THE SECUNDERABAD CANTONMENT.

*1100. (a) Such notices were issued but were subsequently withdrawn.

(b) The notices were issued as a preliminary to the clearance of the area as recommended by a committee including non-official members of the Board who considered that it was overcrowded and insanitary.

(c) The notices were issued in order that the areas might be cleared, vide answer to (b) above. As the clearance of the area was also necessary in pursuance of the Town Planning Scheme, the notices under section 138, Cantonments Act, 1924, were withdrawn and further action was taken under the Town Improvement Law.

(d) The area referred to by the Honourable Member is that covered by the road project ; that affected by the notices was smaller.

(e) and (f). I understand that the Local Administration (not the Cantonment Authority) estimate that the execution of the Improvement Scheme will involve a monetary loss of about twelve lakhs ; they consider that this heavy expenditure should be undertaken in the interest of the health of the residents. I have no reason to believe that any person is really of opinion that the scheme is intended to secure a monetary profit.

(g) The figures are approximately correct.

(h) I am informed that one Housing Trust has built 150 houses and that they have 50 more under construction. Work has also begun on a scheme promoted by another Trust for the construction of 200 houses specially intended for poor people. Moreover there are 54 houses available for sale or lease in other localities, and 438 building sites are offered for lease.

(i) I have no details but I am assured that it was not contemplated that any people should be left without accommodation during these months.

(j), (k) and (l). As the notices have been withdrawn I presume that the Honourable Member does not desire to have an answer to these questions. I should like to add, however, that Section 192 of the Cantonments Act does not and did not apply.

PROPOSED DEMOLITION OF CERTAIN HOUSES IN THE SECUNDERABAD CANTONMENT.

*1101. (a) Yes.

(b) Does not arise as notices to quit were not issued.

(c) Government have no information.

PROPOSED DEMOLITION OF CERTAIN HOUSES IN THE SECUNDERABAD CANTONMENT.

*1102. (a) It was considered that notices under Section 138 of the Cantonments Act were not legal as regards these houses. All notices under this Section were consequently withdrawn and action was taken under the Town Improvement Law.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes. As a result of the representation from the owners, action under Section 138 of the Cantonments Act was not completed.

(d) Action under Section 138 was contemplated to suit the convenience of the population at a time when they had already vacated their houses owing to the outbreak of plague in the area, and were living in temporary huts elsewhere.

(e) Very few objections were received and the compensation offered was believed to be on a generous scale.

(f) I understand that sites are being offered. Prices vary from nothing to about H. S. Rs. 2-8-0 per sq. yard. It is not expected that the amount realized by the sale of these sites will pay for the cost of acquisition, development and drainage. A small part adjoins a graveyard, but houses already exist there and the number of applications received indicates that this area will be extremely popular.

(g) The object is to clear as much ground as possible in this insanitary and congested area. New houses are required to replace the hovels that are being removed.

(h) No.

(i) I am informed that opposition to the proposals is confined to individuals interested in the perpetuation of existing housing conditions, under which, according to the figures given by the Honourable Member in part (g) of Question 1100, the average number of occupants of a house is seventeen. House-owners are being freely consulted by officials and numerous non-officials who have given their services voluntarily for the promotion of the scheme and no committee appears to be necessary.

(j) The present constructions are entirely without plan and nothing less than their complete removal and an entirely new lay-out of the area will be sufficient.

(k) Many more than this number vacate their houses of their own accord for the greater part of the year to escape the ravages of plague. Government believe that the local authorities are already taking all possible steps to prevent hardship.

CONTEMPLATED LAYING OUT OF A NEW ROAD IN SECUNDERABAD.

194. (a) to (e) and (l) to (n). The Honourable Member is referred to the answers given to his starred questions Nos. 1100 to 1102.

(f), (g) and (i). I am assured by the local authorities that all possible arrangements and remedies suggested by the Health Officers have been tried.

(h) Every effort has been made to induce people to rebuild their houses or make the floors rat-proof. Over Rs. 9,82,000 have been spent to build rat-proof grain godowns and houses for the poor.

(j) Members of the Town Improvement Trust went specially to Bombay for the purpose before the scheme was launched. Two of the Engineers of the Board have several years experience in large town improvement schemes.

(k) No orders to this effect have been passed.

(o) No. The Local Government have their own experts.

Mr. P. R. Rau (Financial Commissioner, Railways) : Sir, I lay on the table—

(i) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 123 asked by Sir Zulfiqar Ali Khan on the 27th September, 1932 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to parts (b) and (d) of starred question No. 290 asked by Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad on the 8th February, 1933 ;

(iii) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 729 to 732 asked by Mr. B. Das on the 13th March, 1933 ; and (iv) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 966 asked by Mr. B. N. Misra on the 28th March, 1933.

CHECK OF THE WORK IN CONNECTION WITH THE ISSUE OF PASSES ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

123. The Statutory Auditor checks occasionally a certain (undefined) percentage of passes. The Accounts Department of the North Western Railway checks once in three years 10 per cent. of passes issued by each railway office (other than their own offices) but since most of the pass receipts are destroyed after one year this check is, in effect, confined to the year preceding the year of inspection.

The Agent's inspection staff checks every year 25 per cent. of passes issued by Accounts offices (which also issue passes for Audit Department), by non-railway offices (Police and Telegraphs) and by other railway offices which are not inspected by Accounts Department during the year.

There is accordingly no overlap of check between the Accounts staff and the Agent's staff and there is no triplication as stated by the Honourable Member. The Government consider it desirable therefore to continue the check by the Agent's staff.

EXPORT OF BIHAR RICE.

*290. (b) and (d). Figures supplied by the Agent, East Indian Railway, show that during 1932-33 the tonnage of rice booked from stations on that railway in Bihar fell by 48 per cent. as compared with the previous year. The estimated yield of the rice crop in 1932-33 was also considerably lower. It amounted to only 4,200,000 tons compared with 7,170,000 tons during the previous year. There is no evidence to show that the existing railway rates on the East Indian Railway have prevented the free export of rice from Bihar. Government do not, therefore, consider that there is any necessity to reduce the rates for rice on the East Indian Railway.

PURCHASE OF CHEAP ELECTRIC POWER IN PREFERENCE TO ITS GENERATION BY THE GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY.

*729. (a) Prior to the electrification the technical work in the Power Branch of the Bombay Division was confined to the supervision of the steam locomotive work, but the electrification has resulted in considerably increased work having to be undertaken, including the generation and supply of electric power for the scheme as well as supervision, direction and control of work connected with the use of electric power and the up keep of the electric engines and rolling stock. The extent of the work involved in this is shown by the following items :

40,000 K. W. Power House.
15 Sub-stations.
270 miles of extra high tension transmission lines.
571 single track miles of electrified lines.
65 Electric locomotives.
51 Multiple unit trains.
2 Electric Rolling Stock repair sheds.

(b) The number of officers in the Electric Traction Department of the Great Indian Peninsula, Bombay, Baroda and Central India and South Indian Railways respectively is as follows :

Great Indian Peninsula Railway.

Transportation (Traction) Department	8
Power House Branch	4
Leave Reserve	1
Total ..	13
B. B. and C. I. Railway	2
S. I. Railway	1

Originally there were 10 officers in the Transportation (Traction) Branch and 9 in the Power House Branch of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway and the total strength has already been reduced from 19 to 13.

The activities of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Traction Department including as it does the Power House and Sub-Stations, etc., are not correctly comparable with those of the B. B. and C. I. or the S. I. Railway, both of which operate only suburban trains. The electrified mileage of those railways is also considerably less than the electrified mileage of this railway and is shown below :

	No. of officers.	Route mileage.	Track mileage.
G. I. P. Railway	8	181.70	425.90
B. B. and C. I. Railway	2	21.25	62.54
S. I. Railway	1	18.14	36.28

It is considered that the staff employed in the Transportation (Traction) Branch of the G. I. P. Railway, in the 8 working posts is not excessive as compared with the B. B. and C. I. or the S. I. Railway.

(c) The post of Assistant Divisional Transportation Superintendent is a permanent one. A technical officer is required to co-ordinate the work of the three sections, i.e., Power House, Distribution and Rolling Stock. For convenient working he reports on routine and divisional matters to the Divisional Transportation Superintendent of the Bombay Division which is the electrified division and on technical matters to the Chief Transportation Superintendent. Before the re-arrangement of Traction work, the position was held by a special Deputy on higher pay and the Government consider it necessary to retain the post of Assistant Divisional Superintendent.

(d) The Agent, G. I. P. Railway, reports that no definite proposal for the purchase of the Chola Power House by the Tata Hydro-Electric Power Supply Company can be traced.

(e) Does not arise.

POST OF SUPERINTENDING FOREMAN FOR THE MULTIPLE UNITS SECTION OF THE TRACTION DEPARTMENT OF THE GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY.

*730. The whole electric locomotive section is controlled by an officer on the spot, and the post of a Superintending Foreman on the maximum of Rs. 850 for this Section was, therefore, not considered necessary, while in the absence of such an arrangement for the Multiple Unit Section, a Foreman is considered essential in order to exercise direct local supervision.

It is correct that the electric locomotive section is considered more important than the multiple unit section.

RECRUITMENT OF A FOREMAN IN ENGLAND FOR THE DISTRIBUTION SECTION OF THE TRACTION DEPARTMENT OF THE GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY.

*731. The Agent, G. I. P. Railway, reports that a Foreman for the Distribution Section was obtained from England because after due advertisement in India a suitable candidate possessed of such experience as was considered absolutely necessary, was not obtainable locally. A number of applicants were actually interviewed but were not found suitable.

INDIANISATION IN THE TRACTION DEPARTMENT OF THE GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY.

*732. The number and percentage of Indian, Anglo-Indian and European Officers and senior subordinates in the Traction Branch are as shown below :

Officers.	No.	Percentage.
Indians	2	15.3
Anglo-Indians	1	7.7
Europeans	10	77
Senior Subordinates.
Indians	11	46
Anglo-Indians	6	25
Europeans	7	29

Electrification being new to India specialists had to be recruited for the electric Traction Branch and it was, therefore, not found possible to adhere to the proportions fixed for the older and more stabilised branches of the superior and subordinate services.

With reference to the supplementary question by Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Henry Gidney regarding Superintendent Foreman it may be stated that the present incumbent of the post of Superintending Foreman had been originally covenanted as a Car Shed Foreman on a five years' agreement commencing from the 15th September, 1926, and on the termination of that contract he was permanently retained in the service on and from the 15th September, 1931. He was subsequently promoted as Superintending Foreman from 1st October, 1932, on that post having fallen vacant.

NON-RECOGNITION OF SERVICES RENDERED DURING THE GREAT WAR ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

*966. (a) and (b). Employees who proceeded on War service, with the approval of the Railway administration, have been allowed to count their military service for purposes of retiring gratuity, seniority and increment on the East Indian Railway.

THE INDIAN MEDICAL COUNCIL BILL.

PRESENTATION OF THE REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai (Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands) : Sir, I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to establish a Medical Council in India and to provide for the maintenance of the British Indian Medical Register.

STATEMENT OF BUSINESS.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Leader of the House) : With your permission, Sir, I desire to make a statement as to the probable course of Government business in the week beginning the 4th September, 1933. As already directed by you, the House will sit for official business in that week on the 4th, 6th and 8th. Should the programme for the week not be concluded on the last of these days, it is probable that we shall ask you, Sir, to direct that the House shall sit on Saturday, the 9th.

On Monday, motions will be made to take into consideration and pass the Cotton Textile Industry Protection (Second Amendment) Bill. Thereafter, a motion will be made to refer to a Select Committee the Indian States (Protection) Bill. These Bills, the House will remember, were introduced on the 28th August. On the conclusion of these two items, any legislative business which may remain undisposed of, at the end of today's meeting, will be taken up in the order in which it appears on the Agenda. In the course of the week, motions will also be made for leave to introduce :

1. A Bill to provide for the control of the export of tea from India and for the control of the extension of cultivation of tea in British India,
2. A Bill to constitute a Reserve Bank of India,
3. A Bill to amend the Dangerous Drugs Act, 1930, for certain purposes, and
4. A Bill to consolidate and amend the law regulating labour in factories.

In addition to the above legislative business, the following programme will be brought forward :

On Monday, my Honourable colleague will present the Report of the Public Accounts Committee on the accounts of 1931-32. In the Order Paper for Friday, after Legislative Business, the following items will be included :

1. A motion in my name in connection with the levy of dues in respect of light houses and buoy imposed under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894,
2. Presentation of certain Supplementary and Excess Demands for Grants, and
3. A motion relating to the future administration of Aden of which Honourable Members have received notice.

Should any time be available after the conclusion of the above programme, motions will be made to take into consideration and pass the Indian Medical Council Bill, as reported by the Select Committee.

THE INDIAN RAILWAYS (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House will now resume further consideration of the Bill to amend the Indian Railways Act, 1890, for a certain purpose, as reported by the Select Committee, and resume consideration of the following amendment moved by Mr. A. Das :

" That in clause 2 of the Bill, to sub-section (1) of the proposed section 51A, the following proviso be added :

' Provided the scheme does not involve any preferential treatment or creates a monopoly against private enterprise '."

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad (Patna and Chota Nagpur cum Orissa : Muhammadan) : I think the amendment moved by my Honourable friend is not an amendment which should be taken very seriously, because all the suggestions which are in that amendment were considered in the Select Committee as well. If you will see, Sir, you will find, in para. 2 of the report, it is said :

" In these circumstances, we are agreed that the most elastic method will be to require the Governor General in Council to consult Local Governments concerned before any scheme is sanctioned, and we have no doubt that the Local Governments will consult local authorities interested in the scheme, and will pay due regard to all local interests."

When you see the clause itself, you will find the following :

" The company shall be deemed not to be a railway administration for the purposes of this Act or of any other enactment affecting railways, and no property used exclusively for purposes of the service shall be deemed to be included in the railway or its rolling stock."

Further, sub-clause (b) makes the position more clear. You will find that " the scheme shall be published in the Gazette and thereupon the railway company shall, subject to sub-section (4), have the power to provide and maintain a service in accordance therewith ". In view of these facts you will find that no monopoly has been given to the railway companies in this connection and so all these facts, which have been mentioned by my Honourable friend, were discussed in the Select Committee and I oppose this amendment on the ground that there is no need for it at all in view of the shape in which the Bill has been recommended by the Select Committee.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : I have nothing to add to what my Honourable friend, Mr. Maswood Ahmad, has just now said. But I would only point out that, as this amendment reads, it conveys an impression quite different to what is intended by my Honourable friend. The proviso is :

" Provided the scheme does not involve any preferential treatment or creates a monopoly against private enterprise."

My Honourable friend, therefore, seems to suggest that the scheme should provide a monopoly against private enterprise. I am afraid, I cannot agree as yet to such an advanced proposal as that. As regards the first part of the amendment, as pointed out by my Honourable friend, Mr. Maswood Ahmad, it is amply provided for by clause (4) (a) and (b).

Mr President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That in clause 2 of the Bill, to sub-section (1) of the proposed section 51A, the following proviso be added :

' Provided the scheme does not involve any preferential treatment or creates a monopoly against private enterprise '."

The motion was negatived.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi (Madras ceded Districts and Chittoor : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I beg to move :

" That in clause 2 of the Bill, in sub-section (2) of the proposed section 51A, after the words ' Local Governments concerned ' the words ' and with the mutual agreement ' be inserted."

Sir, after what has taken place last time, this amendment assumes a very great importance. We have given the railway companies permission to open bus service either on parallel lines or on any other lines and hence there must be some restriction to be provided so that they may not exercise that power indiscriminately. It has been conceded at the Rail-Road Conference that Local Governments' advice would be taken and that their consent would be obtained whenever the Central Government would deal with the matter of Rail-Road competition. This matter of Rail-Road competition is of very great importance. In the Rail-Road Conference, originally a resolution was proposed by the Central Government to this effect :

" That this Conference considers it desirable that measures should be considered (a) for the prevention of further wasteful competition between rail and road transport, (b) for the development of rural motor transport complementary with railways, and (c) for the development of the road system in harmony with the objectives defined under (a) and (b), upon a comprehensive and more uniform plan than at present exists."

By this resolution the Central Government wanted to empower themselves to take any steps to minimise or to put down this competition between rail and road traffic. In that Conference there were representatives of Local Governments and all the representatives, who were mostly Ministers of the different Local Governments, were not able to accept this Resolution. They said that this would be a serious infringement on their rights as they were in charge of all the roads and hence the Central Government had to yield to their unanimous voice. Subsequently, a sub-committee was formed which drafted a Resolution which was agreeable both to Local Governments as well as to the Central Government. I will give you, Sir, in one sentence the sort of opinions which the representatives of Local Governments hold. At page 20 of the proceedings of the Rail-Road Conference, Mr. Conran Smith, the representative of the Madras Government, says :

" It would not be possible for the Government of Madras to agree to the restrictions of road traffic in the interests purely of railways when such restrictions would lead to the curtailment of the revenue of local bodies available for the upkeep of roads."

This power given to the railways to open their bus service indiscriminately would, the Local Governments apprehended, seriously interfere with their revenues ; they wanted certain restrictions and wanted that they should be taken into consultation at every step that the Central Government might take. So, Sir, they eventually agreed to the resolution which was passed in the following terms :

[Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi.]

"This Conference is of opinion that in the general public interest, the time has come for increased co-operation and more intelligent co-ordination of effort between the various authorities and interests concerned, in the matter of (a) future railway development and of (b) the future development of road communications, whether used for motor transport or other purposes, so as to secure a more comprehensive and uniform plan of general development than at present exists. In areas where uneconomic competition between railway and road transport has been proved to exist, such increased co-operation and co-ordination may necessitate the adoption by mutual agreement,"

—I want this thing to be taken particular note of—

"of measures designed to reduce such uneconomic competition to the minimum compatible with the maintenance of healthy competition."

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I do not want to interrupt the Honourable Member, but I should like to tell the House that what he has read has got absolutely no connection whatever with this amendment. The resolution which he has referred to is in regard to the development of future communications, that is to say, building future roads and future lines of railway.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : I do not want to say anything against what the Honourable Member has said, but I should like to point out that this Conference was convened chiefly for the purpose of meeting this competition between railways and roads and they also considered this present Bill, and the whole effect of this Conference was.....

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : They did not reject the Bill. They accepted the principles of the Bill entirely.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : Yes, they accepted it on one condition alone that the railways should not have any monopoly or special privileges at all.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : And that condition is entirely satisfied in the present Bill.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : Exactly ; and this Resolution must be taken along with the consent which they have given. This should not be taken separately. They gave their consent on the understanding that at every step there should be mutual agreement, and hence this Resolution, which I have just now read, ought not to be taken separately from the consent which the Local Governments have given. The Local Governments did not consider this Bill separately. The Local Governments were not called to give their opinion on the present Bill. They gave their opinion after the previous Resolutions had been passed and hence this Resolution has a direct bearing on the opinions which they have given on the present Bill. They have given their consent on the understanding that the Central Government would also follow the policy laid down by the previous Resolutions, and one of the previous Resolutions is that the opinion of the Local Governments will be taken into consideration and, not only taken into consideration, but their agreement must be taken for every step that the Central Government are going to take. It is only on that ground that they have given their approval to this Bill. And now I am asking Government, in justice and in fairness to the Local Governments, to agree to what they have agreed in this Resolution and to give effect to this Resolution. That is all that I am saying ; and in this matter it has been agreed that it is the Local Governments that are directly interested, because all the revenues derived from bus licences will go to the Local Governments, and so they are directly interested in seeing whether the opening of bus services by the railways has the effect of crippling or increasing their bus services. That will be made clear from the other paragraph which says :

"Any comprehensive or uniform plan of general development"

—this may even refer to the bus services and it does not exclude the opening of bus services—

"must sooner or later involve a gradual expansion of facilities for rural motor transport, complementary to the railways and to other existing arterial forms of transport, but as internal district communications—apart from the main arteries—are largely controlled by local bodies, any intra-provincial co-ordination of effort must necessarily, in the first instance, be a matter for the Local Governments and Legislatures, who, in such matters, should consult, and to the best of their ability, co-operate with the Railway and other interests concerned."

The Conference has given approval to the Bill, because road traffic is directly a matter which concerns the Local Governments and the local boards, and they should take their advice at every step. And this Bill also, to some extent, gives effect to that agreement. The Bill says :

"The scheme shall be submitted to the Governor General in Council who, after consultation with the Local Government or Local Governments concerned, may sanction the same * *."

Thus they have, to some extent, given effect to this Resolution. The Government need not have fettered themselves by this clause with the obligation of consultation with the Local Governments. It may appear to be quite unnecessary. But, in order to give effect to this Resolution, they have made this provision, namely, that the Local Governments should be consulted. I am going only a step further and I want to conform to the spirit as well as the very letter of this Resolution. Not only should the Local Governments be consulted, but their agreement should be obtained for this purpose, that is to say, for the purpose of opening these bus services. The effect will be that whenever any railway wants to open bus services, they must be empowered to do so only after the Governor General in Council and also the Local Governments who are interested in that, agree to allow them to open the services. That is all that I have to say in moving this amendment. In fairness to the Local Governments, I only want that the Resolution, to which they have agreed, should be given effect to.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, I will not say anything about my Honourable friend's suggestion as to what were the intentions of the members of the Rail-Road Conference that met here. Not having been there, he obviously knows far more about it than I do who was present on the occasion. I cannot agree to the amendment. I have not the faintest doubt that the Government of India will pay the utmost consideration to the views of the Local Governments. In fact I personally cannot conceive of the Government of India not accepting the views of the Local Governments except in very exceptional cases. But the Government of India, as a matter of principle, must have the final voice and must be the final judges in this matter. Sir, I oppose the amendment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That in clause 2 of the Bill, in sub-section (2) of the proposed section 51A, after the words 'Local Governments concerned' the words 'and with the mutual agreement' be inserted."

The motion was negatived.

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil (Bombay Southern Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I beg to move :

"That in clause 2 of the Bill, to sub-section (2) of the proposed section 51A, the following proviso be added :

'Provided that, before according his final sanction, the Governor General in Council may also cause the scheme to be published in the official Gazettes of the Local Government or Local Governments concerned and call for objections from the public and the local bodies in the area selected for operating such service'."

Sir, this amendment does not go against the principle of the Bill, nor does it go against the procedure of sanctioning schemes. It will not also go against the working of the scheme. Therefore, this amendment, in my humble opinion, is so simple and so harmless that the Commerce Member should accept it. However, Sir, my grounds for moving this amendment are these. Sub-section (5) of the proposed section 51A provides that, after the final sanction of the Governor General in Council is given, it should be published in the Gazette of India. But this will not serve any useful purpose. It will only give notice to the public that a particular scheme is sanctioned by the Government of India. What is necessary is that before any scheme is finally sanctioned by the Governor General, it must reach the ears of the public and the objections of the public should be called for and, after considering those objections, if any, the scheme should be finally sanctioned. That is the object ; and that object can be achieved by first publishing the scheme in the local Gazettes concerned ; and, in my opinion, it will not take much time to do that. You will find in the report of the Select Committee that they found it difficult to provide in the Bill itself that the local bodies should be consulted. If, as I have proposed, the schemes are published first in the local official Gazettes, not only local bodies but the general public and the travelling public will get notice of the scheme and sufficient time to put in their objections either before the Local Governments or the Government of India. Then there is also another object that will be served by so publishing the schemes in the local Gazettes. It is an admitted fact that by sanctioning such schemes the private bus owner and the private companies who run motor buses will be to some extent at least adversely affected. In that case, I ask, whether it is not just and fair to give them sufficient time to make their own arrangements. Then it will also affect, in my opinion, contractors of tolls and others. I may just cite an instance before this House. According to the rules, at least prevailing in my Presidency, a vehicle that runs through a particular toll bar is required to pay a toll only once in a period of 24 hours irrespective of the number of trips it makes. If a railway company is to run its buses, it may run the same bus a number of times to and fro before that toll bar and thus cause loss and, I should say, immense loss, to the contractor who has taken that toll ; and thus it is very difficult to imagine at this stage how many people will be affected and in what way they will be affected. Therefore, in order to give such people an opportunity to consider a particular scheme in detail and put in their objections, it is absolutely essential that the scheme should be previously published in the local official Gazettes.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House now stands adjourned and will meet again at fifteen minutes past two.

The Assembly then adjourned for Lunch till a Quarter Past Two of the Clock.

The Assembly re-assembled after Lunch at a Quarter Past Two of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil : Sir, when we rose for Lunch, I was urging on the House the necessity of giving sufficient notice to private bus owners and to private companies, so that, before the powerful competitor entered the field, they might dispose of their rolling stock, etc. They will have to give notice of discharge to their servants, they will have to make other arrangements. Supposing, Sir, a company or a private individual has entered into a contract and thereby has taken upon himself certain obligations, entailing in some cases certain penalties in case of failure to fulfil those obligations, in such cases it is necessary that the owners of private buses or companies should get some breathing space before the powerful competitor is given free field.

Then, Sir, let us imagine what such schemes may include. They may include the schedule of fares, they may include certain hidden concessions, they may also include routes and timings. Now, I ask, Sir, are these not things in which the public are interested ? Are these not matters in which it is very necessary that Government should hear the objections or the conveniences or the inconveniences that are likely to cause to the public ? I might bring to the notice of this Honourable House what I have just read in a publication which was sent to me last evening. It is with regard to the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway Company. It is stated in that document that with regard to the transport of tea, before the advent of the motor lorry, the railway company charged Rs. 0-13-9 per maund, and now that very company has reduced the rate recently to Rs. 0-9-0 per maund. This document raises one important question. If Rs. 0-9-0 a maund is profitable now to the railway company, why did they charge such exorbitant rates for the transport of tea all this time ? And if 0-9-0 a maund is not profitable now, why should they carry the tea at all ? Obviously, the intention is to start competition with private bus owners and private companies ; the object is evidently to kill them. If such things can be resorted to by railway companies, is it not necessary that the schemes should be controlled by Government, the relevant rules should be scrutinised by this Legislature, and that the scheme should be framed in accordance with those rules and regulations ? There is no such clause unfortunately in this Bill providing for all these things.

[Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil.]

Then, Sir, I would invite the attention of this House to the Report of the Select Committee wherein they say :

" We discussed also the insertion of some provision which would specifically limit the radius within which these services should be allowed to operate, but came to the conclusion that such a provision is not practicable and might have undesired results," —and, therefore, they recommended this :

" We decided that, for the present, it will be best to leave the decision to the Governor General in Council, acting in consultation with the Local Government, to determine the extent of each service, on a full consideration of all the local circumstances."

I do not mean to suggest that the Local Government should be altogether eliminated or ignored, the Local Government should be there : they should of course give their opinion, but it is fundamentally essential that in each particular case the various details must be approved by the public for whose benefit, after all, the railway companies are to run their buses.

Then, Sir, there is another point. Much fuss has been made about the co-ordination of rail-road transport, but, as has been admitted by every one, there is no trace of any co-ordination between the various systems of transport in the Bill as amended. If, as I have suggested in my amendment, such schemes are published in the local official Gazettes, it is very likely that the people of the locality might suggest something which would fulfil this object so as to co-ordinate the different kinds of transport in a particular locality.

Sir, if we look to the form and general principles of the Bill, I might characterise it as a Bill which has neither a tail nor head. As more than one Honourable Member stated in this House, it gives a blank cheque to the Governor General in Council. I do not say that I do not trust the Governor General in Council,—I do trust him,—but for all practical purposes, it is the Commerce Member who will be guiding the whole thing. It is not improbable that the Honourable the Commerce Member will be influenced by the railways. Under these circumstances, it is highly dangerous that such a blank cheque should be given in the hands of the Governor General in Council, especially for the reasons I have stated. This is what is stated with regard to American Railways. In America also such a settlement has been arrived at, and the scheme has taken the form of a Statute. Here is an article in the Indian Railway Gazette entitled " Emergency Railroad Legislation in the United States ". According to that Statute an authority called the " Co-ordinator " is appointed and all the powers are given to that authority. In connection with this vesting of full powers, it has been said :

" The whole conception is fraught with much peril for it places enormous power in the hands of a single individual, and, though much will depend on the personality of the individual, it would seem highly unwise to load any one person with such an enormous responsibility at the present time of crisis."

I say these words are pertinent here.

Then, Sir, it may be argued, where is the necessity of publishing these schemes in the local official Gazettes when the Governor General in Council is going to consult the Local Governments concerned. True, but there is no procedure prescribed by which the Local Governments should ascertain the views of the people concerned. There is absolutely nothing of the sort, and, after all, it will depend upon the sweet will of the Local Governments. At the utmost they may consult a few Collectors, or Commissioners of Divisions, or the Presidents of District Boards. But what about the public ; what about the persons who will be vitally concerned ? Undoubtedly under the scheme of this Bill they will come to know only after the scheme has been finally sanctioned and published in the Gazette of India. It is a deplorable state of affairs that the very people, for whose interests the railway is empowered, should not know what is being proposed in their interest, until it is too late. I, therefore, submit with all the emphasis at my command that it is absolutely necessary for Government to make this concession and to accept this amendment so that people in the country may know where they stand, and people interested in buses and private companies may know how they will be affected.

I am glad to hear that the Honourable Member in charge of this Bill has conceded a good deal in the Select Committee to improve the Bill and to meet the wishes of Honourable Members who served on the Select Committee and also the points of view expressed in the Press and by the bodies interested in private buses. I am gratified to hear all that ; but, Sir, I cannot understand why the Honourable Member in charge should oppose such a simple amendment as this which does not in any way come in the way of his proposal. It is only a matter of a few months at the utmost ; the publication may take at the most one or two months, and, by the time it is considered by the Government, objections will be before them and they will then be in a position to consider those objections, and, if necessary, to make necessary changes. For these reasons, I move my amendment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Amendment moved :

" That in clause 2 of the Bill, to sub-section (2) of the proposed section 51A, the following proviso be added :

' Provided that, before according his final sanction, the Governor General in Council may also cause the scheme to be published in the official Gazettes of the Local Government or Local Governments concerned and call for objections from the public and the local bodies in the area selected for operating such service '."

Mr. G. Morgan (Bengal : European) : Sir, I regret I have to oppose this amendment. I may mention, before I go further, that I am not afraid like my Honourable friend, who has moved this amendment, to give a blank cheque to the Governor General in Council. The Governor General in Council does not propose to sanction any scheme until he has consulted the Local Government. From the little I know of this country and the working of Government, I am perfectly certain that the Governor General in Council would not sanction a scheme when the entire opinion of the Local Government and of the area in which it was to be run was against it. I am prepared to take that risk. Also in the latter part of his amendment in connection with public and local bodies, my Honourable friend himself knows that when a Local Government is consulted, the first thing that the Local Government does is to consult always local bodies, municipalities and District Boards in connection with the scheme and all the objections will be received by the Local Government before it gives its opinion to the Government of India. I do not think myself that the proposed proviso would be of any use at all except to delay and multiply work. If I want to get objections to a local scheme it is one of the simplest things in this country. All that would mean delay and it is not always certain that the objections which come up really have what I should call the power behind them that it looks on paper. So, I think my Honourable friend would be well advised not to press his amendment, because I can see no object to be gained by the delay which would be caused or the suspicion that the Governor General in Council would not give full weight to the Local Government's opinion ; and Local Government's opinion would certainly be given after receiving the opinions of the local bodies, municipalities and District Boards and officials connected with the district in which the scheme is to be launched. I also have no fear that the Governor General in Council would override the strong opinion put up by the Local Government which might be entirely in opposition to the scheme. I, therefore, oppose the amendment.

[Mr. G. Morgan.]

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, my Honourable friend, the Mover, described this amendment as harmless. I agree. Some of my Honourable friends in this House would perhaps be disposed to describe it by a less euphemistic term. If it is not out of order for me to suggest, I would certainly suggest that if my Honourable friend had read his own amendment carefully, he would certainly not have moved it. The amendment runs as follows :

" Provided that before according his final sanction, the Governor General in Council may also cause....., etc., etc."

The word is " may ". He wishes to give the Governor General powers which I submit he already possesses ; there is nothing to prevent the Governor General in Council doing what my friend wishes. The amendment is, in my view, wholly unnecessary and I oppose it as being otiose.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That in clause 2 of the Bill, to sub-section (2) of the proposed section 51A, the following proviso be added :

' Provided that, before according his final sanction, the Governor General in Council may also cause the scheme to be published in the official Gazettes of the Local Government or Local Governments concerned and call for objections from the public and the local bodies in the area selected for operating such service '."

The motion was negatived.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : Sir, I move :

" That in clause 2 of the Bill, after clause (b) of sub-section (4) of the proposed section 51A, the following new clause be inserted :

' (c) the company shall maintain separate accounts of such new services which shall be annually audited by the audit department and if it is found that such service or services are running at a loss the Governor General in Council after consultation with the Local Government or Governments concerned may take such steps as are necessary to safeguard public interests '."

This is a very mild amendment which, I hope, the Government will see their way to accept. It gives the power to the hands of the Governor General in Council and not to Local Governments. Here there are no obnoxious words such as " mutual agreement ", as was contained in the previous amendment. This gives ultimate power in the hands of the Governor General in Council. He will only consult the Local Governments in taking any steps the Government choose. Now, we know that in a short time there will be a railway authority with absolute powers over the administration of the railways and the Legislature will have very little power to interfere with the administration of the railways and even the Member in charge of the Railway Department will have no power except to lay down certain general policies and hence this amendment is absolutely essential. This amendment seeks to impose a condition on the railway administration to maintain a separate account in the matter of running bus services, so that if the railway company sustains losses,—as we expect it will,—it may not show the whole losses under the head of " railway expenses ". This amendment will show the public whether the railway company is running its motor service successfully or at a loss and, if it is running at a loss, then the Governor General should immediately take steps to stop the bus service or take such other steps as is necessary in the interests of the public. For instance, Government have conceded the principle that there should be no special privilege extended to the railway company. The railway company, being a powerful organisation, can continue to run bus service for a number of years even though sustaining losses annually. The effect will be that all the private buses will be wiped out in the meantime. Hence it will not be a fair competition, and hence it is against the principle of this Bill. So this amendment is very salutary and I hope that Government will see their way to accept it.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Amendment moved :

" That in clause 2 of the Bill, after clause (b) of sub-section (4) of the proposed section 51A, the following new clause be inserted :

' (c) the company shall maintain separate accounts of such new services which shall be annually audited by the audit department and if it is found that such service or services are running at a loss the Governor General in Council after consultation with the Local Government or Governments concerned may take such steps as are necessary to safeguard public interests '."

Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur (North Madras : Muhammadan) : When I look at sub-clause (5), wherein power is reserved to the Governor General in Council to withdraw his sanction to any scheme under sub-section (2) of this Bill after consultation with the Local Governments, I think it is fair that I should support the amendment which has been moved by my friend, Mr. Reddi. The intention of the Bill, which has been introduced with regard to feeder railways is the removal of the disability under which they have been suffering all these years. They will hereafter run a motor transport service directly in competition with private enterprise but the Honourable the Commerce Member may take my word for it that if this competition becomes very acute, as it is certain to be, the railway companies will not be able to stand the competition unless there is a further move on the part of the Government by taking action in other directions which might bring about greater co-ordination between these two kinds of transport. If, after a certain period, say, six months, when the accounts are audited, it is found that a particular railway company to which this right has been granted under the Bill has sustained loss, then it will be within the powers of the Governor General in Council to withdraw or modify the sanction which he has accorded to that railway company under sub-section (2). If the accounts are audited by the Auditor General, then, of course, the thing is very easy, but if these accounts are to be audited by a special officer, say, a competent accountant, I think, Sir, the railway company ought to be called upon to pay for the services of such an accountant and such action should be taken as may be desirable by the Governor General in Council in regard to continuing the transport service or stopping it. I, therefore, wholeheartedly support this amendment of Mr. Reddi.

[Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur.]

Mr. S. C. Sen (Bengal National Chamber of Commerce : Indian Commerce) : It seems to me that this amendment is unnecessary. It all depends upon the reply which we get from the Commerce Member. As I understand it, every railway has to enter into an agreement with the Government that they would have the right to purchase the railway after a certain number of years and, accordingly, no railway can expend any money on any part of the railway without the sanction of the Government.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Not all of them.

Mr. S. C. Sen : So far as regards the light railways.....

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I do not think all of them. Some of them.

Mr. S. C. Sen : Very good. If some of them are under such an obligation to the Government, I do not know whether they will be able to purchase with the sanction of the Government or without their sanction, whether there are agreements or not. So far as the bigger railways are concerned, I understand they are all under such an agreement with Government. If they are subject to the agreement and if this new undertaking, namely, the running of the bus service, is to be treated as an undertaking by the railway, then there is no occasion for such a clause, because the whole of the account will come before the Railway Board in some shape or other and at some time or other.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : It certainly will be so in regard to some of them, but I cannot say whether it will be so in regard to all.

Mr. S. C. Sen : As regards those which are not under the agreement and whose accounts will not come before the Railway Board, I submit that in those cases such a clause ought to be inserted in the Bill.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, I very much regret that I cannot accept this amendment either. By the changes that have been made in the Bill, railway companies will, I think, be seriously hampered in instituting and running railway services and I am afraid I could not agree to any further statutory restrictions and conditions being imposed upon them. As a matter of fact, I have not the faintest doubt that the railway companies will maintain separate accounts for such services and I have equally no doubt that no railway company will, if left to itself, continue to work a service which does not pay. I submit that clause 5 gives the Governor General sufficiently wide powers to interfere in any way and for any reason that he considers right and proper. I think that these powers are a sufficient safeguard for the possible evils which my Honourable friends anticipate.

Sir, I oppose the amendment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That in clause 2 of the Bill, after clause (b) of sub-section (4) of the proposed section 51A, the following new clause be inserted :

) the company shall maintain separate accounts of such new services which shall be annually audited by the audit department and if it is found that such service or services are running at a loss the Governor General in Council after consultation with the Local Government or Governments concerned may take such steps as are necessary to safeguard public interests '."

The motion was negatived.

Clause 2 was added to the Bill.

Clause 1 was added to the Bill.

The Title and the Preamble were added to the Bill.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, I beg to move that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, no one in the House should be surprised at my giving the last stroke to this Bill and on a very serious legal point. My point, when I put it to the House, will be easily appreciated by the legal Members of this Assembly, but I will make it so clear that I hope that it will be appreciably and easily understandable to the other lay Members of this House too. I may be accused of putting such a serious legal point before the House at this late stage, at the third reading of this Bill. It will be observed that I had no opportunity of putting that point forward at the time when the consideration of this Bill was going on.

An Honourable Member : Why not ?

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Because I could not catch the eye of the President. Therefore, in my humble opinion, this is the proper stage when a legal question can be raised and, if the House agrees with me, it will be only on that one objection that the whole Bill can be rejected. Now, Sir, I am quite serious about my point and I must say to the House that I am not putting it without having consulted some of my legal friends in this House on this point who are in agreement with what I am going to place before the House. Therefore, without any further delay, I will come to the point.

Now, Sir, what is required by this Bill is to amend section 51 of the Indian Railways Act. Section 51 of the Indian Railways Act runs thus :

"Any railway company, not being a company for which the Statute 42 and 43 Vict. Ch. 41 provides, may from time to time exercise, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, all or any of the following powers."

Now, it will be observed that this is a power for the Governor General to give sanction and that would be only under the circumstances which are prescribed in clauses (a) to (e). I will place before the House clause (e) and then show how it is that this enactment, if it is passed, will be absolutely ultra vires, and if it is ultra vires, the House will not give sanction to anything that is illegal. Clause (e) runs thus :

"It may provide and maintain any means of transport which may be required for the reasonable convenience of passengers, animals or goods carried or to be carried on its railway."

I will lay emphasis on the last words "which may be required for the reasonable convenience of passengers, animals or goods carried or to be carried on its railway". This clause is a restricted clause and it gives power to the Governor General only to give sanction if a company's requirement for the reasonable convenience of the passengers, animals or goods carried or to be carried on its railway is established. If this is not established, then the Governor General will have no power to give sanction.

[Mr. Lalchand Navalrai.]

Now, the point that arises is this. What was it that the original Mover of the Bill wanted, and let us then consider what is it that the Select Committee has asked this House to pass. If both are in contradiction or in conflict, then this House cannot possibly pass what the Select Committee has recommended. Now, Sir, I will read clause 2 of the original Bill. It says :

"For clause (e) of section 51 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, the following clause shall be substituted, namely, 'it may provide and maintain any means of transport for the convenience of passengers, animals or goods in any area to which access is afforded by that railway'."

It will be seen that what the Mover of the Bill wanted was the deletion of the words "required for the reasonable convenience of the passengers, animals or goods carried or to be carried on its railway". In other words, the Mover of the Bill wanted that there should be general power to the Governor General to give sanction even in cases where it is not established that it is required for the convenience of those passengers and goods which have to be carried on on its own railway. Now, therefore, I am asking that if this clause (e) exists, then let us see what is the Select Committee proposing. The Select Committee does not say just as the Honourable the Mover wanted that this clause be eliminated and another clause substituted. That means, the Mover wanted certain deletion and then a general clause. But the Select Committee did not ask for that. If the Select Committee had said, well, delete this portion of clause (e) and then propose a general scheme for sanction. Then the Select Committee would have been right and they would have been enacting a legal law. At present what do we find ? I was wondering why this mistake occurred. I do not know whether the Select Committee was conscious of it. I would consider this a very serious mistake. They may have asked for the deletion of these restricted powers and then ask for general powers. One can understand now, even from a common sense point of view, as a layman can understand, that if the Legislature had laid down certain restricted powers, how can they make an enactment for general powers unless this restricted section is done away with. Therefore, I was reading and re-reading the present Bill as it emerged from the Select Committee. I was wondering whether I was reading it aright and I felt that it might be that they might have asked that from section 51 of the Indian Railways Act delete clause (E) and adding a new clause 51A. But what is proposed is that, after section 51 of the Indian Railways Act, the following section shall be inserted :

"Any railway company, not being a company for which the Statute 42 and 43 Vict., Chap. 41, provides, may frame a scheme for the provision and maintenance of a motor transport or air-craft service for passengers, animals or goods with a terminus at or near a station on the railway owned or managed by such company."

It is obvious that they have not dispensed with that clause (e). Not having done that, they cannot make a general provision like this in the face of the former clause still existing. I will still make it clearer. Supposing a question arises when a company applies for sanction, and these two clauses are there, one authorizing the Governor General to give sanction when it is proved that it is necessary for such railways to have transport by motor and the other giving him general power, how can he exercise the general power ? I am, therefore, saying that if you give a general power without taking away this restrictive one, you will be making a law which could not be brought into force,

3 P.M.

You will thus be lending your support to a law which is absolutely ultra vires and illegal. Supposing you pass this Bill, you will be at least making a serious mistake. The Honourable Members might be thinking that this being the last stage of the Bill, they should let it pass. But, as soon as they pass it, questions will arise in the High Court. A company may come forward and say that they want leave of the Governor General for the purpose of motor transport. The Governor General may call for a scheme, but I think even the Governor General, when he sees that there is another law in conflict with it, will think twice before he gives his sanction to the scheme. Supposing he gives leave, it does not lie in his hands finally. It will come before judicial Courts to decide whether a particular enactment, under which sanction is given, is ultra vires or not. If the Judges are of opinion that it is ultra vires, because there are two conflicting provisions, one of which has not been cancelled, and both exist, then the High Court will hold it ultra vires and the company will not be given any right of such a transport. Honourable Members know, several instances have happened both in civil and criminal cases where certain enactments of this House and of the Provincial Legislatures have been held ultra vires, and this House have had to sit and amend them so as to bring the law in consonance with it. The point which I raise is not a trifling one, it is a serious point. This Bill has been shouldered not only by the Honourable the Railway Member, but there is another very able Member, the Member in charge of Industries and Labour who is joining hands with him. I gave an inkling of this point at least sometime before, and I am raising it now. I thought the Honourable the Law Member would be in this Chamber to take interest in this point and give us the benefit of his views. But I do not find him. There is in his place the Secretary of the Legislative Department, Sir Lancelot Graham, and I hope he will not treat this point as a trifling one, but will give us his opinion considerately. I say, it is illegal to have this provision and I have given sound reasons why I think so. The House cannot get out of it. I submit that this one legal point is sufficient to reject this Bill. Sir, I have to say one or two words about the question on its merits. The Select Committee claims that they have done a very good thing in improving the original Bill. I have pointed out one serious mistake of law. With regard to the question of fact which the Select Committee think that they have improved upon, I cannot see any improvement, because I see, the only thing they have done is with regard to asking the scheme to be prepared and placed before the Governor General for sanction, but section 51 itself requires the Governor General to give sanction, and do I understand that he will not ask for a scheme ? He will certainly ask for one and will only then consider and give his leave. I think if the Select Committee think that they have done a good thing, I say they are under a delusion.

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil : May I ask whether the Honourable Member is speaking on his point of order which he raised or on the Bill ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : He is making his speech on the Bill.

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil : But the Honourable Member is also raising the point of order.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : He has not raised any point of order.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : I am not raising any point of order at all. If my Honourable friend is anxious to have his amendment, then let him join hands with me to reject the Bill. I have made it clear that the first is the legal question upon which I stand strongly at least from my point of view. The second is that it is all a moonshine to think that the Select Committee has improved the Bill. I ask the Honourable Member in charge a direct question. Have they provided that the scheme will lay down uniform rates to be charged by the railways and the individual motor owner ? I submit, not. I am glad that this question was raised by Mr. Maswood Ahmad before the Select Committee. He did put in his dissent, but I think he did not seriously think of it. I do not know why he did not move an amendment here. His note of dissent in the Select Committee's report reads thus :

" In my opinion, the proposed rates should form a part of the scheme and those rates should not be changed without previous sanction of the Governor General in Council."

Any way, I ask, will it be that a uniform rate of fares will be asked to be incorporated in the scheme ? Otherwise it will be very unfair. If the parties are left to themselves on this point, it will be a keen fight and they will be cutting each other's throats....Therefore, I should like to know whether the rates are to be prescribed or not in the scheme.

The second question that I would like to ask is with regard to the number of buses or motors which will be allowed to a company to run and whether there will be any restriction on them ? If the number is not going to be restricted, companies are always very rich and they can provide for a large number of motors to the detriment of the private owners. If the companies are even bankrupt, Government are always ready to help them. Therefore, I submit that there ought to be a restriction in regard to the number of buses to be used by that company which is given sanction to use them. In conclusion, I ask the Government to give serious consideration to this legal point and also to the general question on facts. It is not that we are trying to kill this Bill at this late stage, but we have to save ourselves from a reproach hereafter if the matter goes before the High Court and they hold that this Act is ultra vires.

Sir Lancelot Graham (Secretary : Legislative Department) : Sir, I must begin by thanking my Honourable and learned friend, Mr. Lalchand Navalrai, for giving me a warning this morning that he was going to raise this vital point. But I find myself in a position of some difficulty, because I am not sure whether you, Sir, are to decide this point or whether the House has to decide it.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : So far as the Chair has been able to understand the Honourable Member, he has not asked for a ruling from the Chair on the question whether the Bill is ultra vires. He only suggests to the House that, if it enacts this measure, it will be making a bad law and, therefore, incur a great odium. That is all.

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : In that case, I have to raise a point of order. My point of order is this. While there is clause (e) of section 51 existing in the Act, where a restricted power is given to railway companies, has the Legislature got the right to give unlimited power to the railway company to run bus services wherever they like ? Here, in section 51 (e), the Legislature has given restricted powers to the railways to run any form of transport only for the reasonable conveyance of passengers, etc. Further on, it says that it may provide or maintain any means of transport, and here it gives unrestricted power to run any form of service, either waterways or airways or buses. Whereas the present Bill in one sense restricts the powers of railways to open waterways, at the same time it gives unlimited power to the railway company to run their bus services wherever they like to convey passengers from any one place to any other place. Then, Sir, the report of the Select Committee, to which the Honourable the Commerce Member has affixed his signature, clearly says that the intention of the Select Committee is to delete clause (e) of section 51 and to have a new section substituted altogether. They have entirely recasted the old Bill which the Government introduced and they have provided an entirely new clause 51A while, at the same time, retaining sub-section (e) of section 51. The object of Government has been clearly stated in the report.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Will the Honourable Member just state his point of order ?

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi : My point of order is this. So long as clause (e) of section 51 exists which gives limited powers to the railways, can they add a new clause now giving unrestricted powers to them ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Bill now before the House seeks to amend the Indian Railways Act, IX of 1890. That Act is an Act of the Indian Legislature. This House is entitled to amend any Act of the Indian Legislature. If Act IX of 1890 were a Parliamentary Statute, any Bill of this House which is inconsistent with any of the provisions of that Parliamentary Statute will be ultra vires. But the House is entitled to pass any Bill amending any Act of the Indian Legislature. Even though,—on that point the Chair is not expressing any opinion,—the provisions of this new amending Bill may be inconsistent with any or all of the provisions of any Statute of the Indian Legislature, that will not make it ultra vires.

Sir Lancelot Graham : After what you have said, Sir, I have nothing more to add. I was a little surprised to see two gentlemen on the other side of the House arguing about ultra vires without making any reference to the Government of India Act. I can only say that they had not a copy of the Government of India Act with them.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does the Honourable Member agree that it will be bad law ?

Sir Lancelot Graham : That, Sir, was not the point. The point that my Honourable friend made was that the law, if passed, would be ultra vires of the Legislature. As you have said, Sir, the powers of the Indian Legislature are set forth in section 65 of the Government of India Act and this House has power to amend any Act of their predecessors in this House. It is possible that, in so amending, they might overlook the provisions of an existing Act and there may be conflict. But this Legislature has full power to legislate in conflict with existing legislation of the Indian Legislature. Possibly we should not get credit for doing so, and we might lay upon the Courts the task of applying the canons of interpretation which are suitable when there is conflicting legislation. These canons are very simple and the High Courts will have no difficulty. In this case, however, the High Courts will not even be put to that task, because here we have two pieces of legislation, the existing Indian Railways Act which we are going to supplement when this provision is passed incorporating a new section in the Indian Railways Act : that section will add something to the powers now contained in the Indian Railways Act ; but there will be no conflict. Therefore, neither is this Bill ultra vires, nor is it likely to give trouble to the High Courts or to reflect upon our reputation as legislators. We may pass this Bill with a perfectly good conscience.

[Sir Lancelot Graham.]

Mr. S. C. Sen : Sir, I think the words "ultra vires", have been used in this House rather loosely without knowing their exact meaning. What is the meaning of the words "ultra vires" ? Beyond the power. Beyond whose power ? Beyond the power of the Legislature or beyond the power of the Governor General in Council ? Whose power is to be considered ? The Legislature has ample power, as Sir Lancelot Graham has said. Under section 65 of the Government of India Act, everything can be done, except those specially mentioned there. On the last occasion, a similar question arose under the Criminal Law Amendment Act, but there it was being done.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : I do not think there is any need to discuss the point, because the Chair has given a ruling.

Mr. S. C. Sen : Under the circumstances, I need not discuss that point. The only point which I wanted to ask the Honourable the Commerce Member to remember when sanctioning any scheme is that this Bill is being introduced for the purpose of safeguarding certain railways and smaller railways against competition by the buses. In framing the scheme, I ask him that he should not allow such schemes where the competition will be not by the buses, but against the buses by the railways : that is the only point which I want him to remember when sanctioning a scheme.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I shall certainly do that, Sir.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) The question is that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The motion was adopted.

THE INDIAN INCOME-TAX (SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster (Finance Member) : Sir, I beg to move :

"That the Bill further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, for certain purposes (Second Amendment), as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

I hope that I am justified in expressing confidence that this measure, at least in the form in which it has reached after very careful scrutiny by the Select Committee, may be regarded as a non-contentious measure. This anticipation of mine I think is reinforced by the fact that there are no amendments down for consideration, excepting certain formal amendments by my Honourable friend, Sir Lancelot Graham. I do not think it is necessary for me to take the time of the House to any great extent in moving the present motion. The House will recollect that when this Bill was originally introduced it was made clear in the Statement of Objects and Reasons that its provisions fell into two classes : the first class, measures expressly designed to put a stop to evasions, and the second class, miscellaneous provisions mostly designed for the prevention of hardships and for the removal of defects and obscurities. In its passage through the Select Committee the Bill has been fairly considerably altered, and not unnaturally the general effect of those alterations has been slightly to weaken the measures designed to prevent evasions and slightly to amplify the beneficial measures designed to remove hardships. Therefore, I hope that the Bill in its present form will be entirely acceptable to the House. Sir, I move.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I was a party to the Report of the Select Committee on this Bill, and I must say that very great consideration was given to this Bill in Select Committee and we took a very long time to consider each of the provisions. There are many clauses in this Bill and they were gone through very thoroughly and then only the Select Committee came to a conclusion. I may inform the House that I am responsible for several questions on this income-tax law and, in pointing out those flaws, I wanted the Act to be amended and. I do say, they were of that class which was described by the Honourable Member as prevention of hardships. There were several hardships ; as an instance I may say that section 66 of the Act had given very large and discretionary powers in the hands of the Commissioner of Income-tax ; these questions were put in the House to ventilate the grievance that in cases where applications were made to the Commissioner of the Income-tax to send a reference to the High Court under section 66, he often held it to be time-barred ; and then there was no relief to go to the High Court if he once held that the application was time-barred. This grievance has now been redressed. It has been no amended that even though he holds that it is time-barred, yet the party can go to the High Court on a question of law. Such sections and many others have been amended, and I think that it is in the interests of the public that several portions of this Bill have been enacted in order to give them facilities and to give them due justice. I submit this is a Bill which we should not wait long to consider and I support the motion which is before the House.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the Bill further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, for certain purposes (Second Amendment), as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

The motion was adopted.

Clauses 2, 3 and 4 were added to the Bill.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is that clause 5 stand part of the Bill.

Sir Lancelot Graham (Secretary, Legislative Department) : Sir, I rise to move the first of the series of small drafting amendments to this Bill. I move, Sir :

" That in clause 5, in sub-clause (ii) of the sub-section (2) to be substituted by that sub-clause, after the word ' profession ' the words ' or vocation ' be inserted."

Honourable Members will remember that this clause deals with section 11 of the Act. Sub-section (1) of that section runs as follows :

" The tax shall be payable by an assessee under the head ' professional earnings ' in respect of the profits or gains of any profession or vocation followed by him."

All we are doing now is to insert the words " or vocation " after the word " profession " so as to bring this clause into line with the rest of the existing section. Sir, I move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That in clause 5, in sub-clause (ii) of the sub-section (2) to be substituted by that sub-clause, after the word ' profession ' the words ' or vocation ' be inserted."

The motion was adopted.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is that clause 5, as amended, stand part of the Bill.

The motion was adopted.

Clause 5, as amended, was added to the Bill.

Clause 6 was added to the Bill.

Clause 7 was added to the Bill.

Sir Lancelot Graham : Sir, I move :

" That after clause 7, the following clause be inserted :

' 7A. In section 19 of the said Act, for the words and figures ' any other head than those mentioned in sub-section (1) of section 18 ' the words ' any head other than ' salaries ' or ' interest on securities ' shall be substituted '."

Sir, this is a consequential amendment. We find that as a result of the operation of clause 7, it deletes sub-section (1) from section 18 ; we have now in section 19 a reference to sub-section (1) of section 18. We have to delete the reference to that sub-section in section 19 and make the proper reference to salaries and interest on securities. Sir, I move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That after clause 7, the following clause be inserted :

' 7A. In section 19 of the said Act, for the words and figures ' any other head than those mentioned in sub-section (1) of section 18 ' the words ' any head other than ' salaries ' or ' interest on securities ' shall be substituted '."

The motion was adopted.

Clause 7A was added to the Bill.

Clauses 8 and 9 were added to the Bill.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is that clause 10 stand part of the Bill.

Sir Lancelot Graham : Sir, I move :

" That in clause 10 of the Bill, in the proviso to the proposed section 24A (1), for the words ' which he could not assess under the provisions of section 34 ', the following be substituted :

' profits or gains which have escaped assessment or have been assessed at too low a rate in respect of which he is debarred from issuing a notice under section 34 '."

The proviso, as it now stands to new section 24A, Sir, has been found to be too restrictive in its operation. It might indeed be held by the Courts to have the effect of nullifying entirely the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 24A. The restriction which was desired to be put upon the activities of the Income-tax Officer was that while exercising his powers under this section, he should, in respect of any arrears of previous years, be restricted as if he were acting under section 34, but that restriction would not apply when he was assessing the income of the current year of the person who is likely to leave British India during that year. The modification, Sir, of the proviso is now proposed to ensure that he should have that power and not more than that power.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Amendment moved :

" That in clause 10 of the Bill, in the proviso to the proposed section 24A (1), for the words ' which he could not assess under the provisions of section 34 ', the following be substituted :

' profits or gains which have escaped assessment or have been assessed at too low a rate in respect of which he is debarred from issuing a notice under section 34 '."

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Sir, I am sorry I cannot see eye to eye with the Honourable Sir Lancelot Graham on this question. He wants to give wider powers than the powers which exist now to the Income-tax Officers. We all know, Sir, that in practice section 34 has been abused by these Income-tax Officers; they re-open and re-open the assessments that they have made and harass people from time to time. There are already complaints by the public that this section is not being properly and judiciously worked, and, therefore, to give still wider powers will lead to the detriment of the public. I submit that already these people have very wide powers to re-open, and since they have shown that they have not been able to use it with discretion, this additional power should not be given to them. This amendment proposes that in cases, where the assessment has been made at too low a rate, the Income-tax Officer can re-open it. If you give this power to Income-tax Officers, you will be giving them a blank cheque, because every now and then they would like to re-open the assessments. Therefore, to give such wide powers into the hands of these officers, who have in the past abused these powers, is the strong ground on which I oppose this amendment.

Mr. S. C. Sen (Bengal National Chamber of Commerce : Indian Commerce) : Sir, I think there is some misapprehension in the mind of my Honourable friend, Mr. Lalchand Navalrai. What my friend, Sir Lancelot Graham, wants to do is to specify the grounds which have been inserted, word by word, in clause 34, instead of only referring to clause 34. That is the only alteration that is suggested, and I do not know what objection there can possibly be to this small amendment. It does not enlarge the power of the Income-tax Officers ; on the other

Mr. F. E. James (Madras : European) : Before you put that question to the vote, may I just make one observation ? I am sorry I had not the opportunity of speaking to the Finance Member on this point earlier but I only had this representation placed in my hands at this moment. I raised the question in the Select Committee and I want to make the matter quite clear beyond any shadow of doubt.

Clause 26 of the Bill proposes to add certain words to section 60 (2) of the existing Act, and, if clause 26 of the Bill is carried, then section 60 (2) will read as follows :

" Where, by reason of any portion of an assessee's salary being paid in arrears or in advance, or by reason of his having received in any one financial year salary for more than twelve months, his income is assessed at a higher rate than that at which it would otherwise have been assessed, the Governor General in Council may grant such relief as he may think fit."

The question I wish to ask is, whether it is clearly understood that the term " salary " which is used in the amendment in this Bill really refers to salaries as defined in section 7 of the original Act. I understood, when I raised this matter at the time in the Select Committee, that the use of the word " salary " here refers to its use under section 7 of the original Act. I believe that is the case, but I should like to have an assurance on that point.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I have no hesitation in giving my Honourable friend the assurance that he desires.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That clauses 25, 26 and 27 stand part of the Bill."

The motion was adopted.

Clauses 25, 26 and 27 were added to the Bill.

Sir Lancelot Graham : Sir, I move :

" That the clauses of the Bill be re-numbered as necessitated by the amendments now made."

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That the clauses of the Bill be re-numbered as necessitated by the amendments now made."

The motion was adopted.

Clause 1 was added to the Bill.

The Title and the Preamble were added to the Bill.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Sir, I beg to move :

" That the Bill, as amended, be passed."

Sir, in making this motion I should like to express my appreciation of the assistance we have received from the Members of the Select Committee and from certain Members in supporting the measure today. I think that there can be no Member of the House who can doubt that a measure which receives the support of such expert critics as Mr. Lalchand Navalrai and Mr. Sen must be a very good measure. I can only express the hope that the number of my Honourable friend, Mr. Lalchand Navalrai's questions on income-tax administration may be materially reduced in the future. Sir, I move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The motion was adopted.

THE INDIAN PETROLEUM BILL.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : Sir, I move :

" That the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the import, transport, storage, production and refinement of petroleum and other inflammable substances, be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon."

I do not think that any lengthy speech from me is required in support of this motion. The Bill which I have brought forward is a comparatively straightforward, and, I hope, will prove an entirely non-controversial, measure. The position is that the present Indian Petroleum Act was passed as long ago as 1899 which I think we may regard as the commencement of the oil age. It was drafted at a time when the use of petroleum, especially of dangerous petroleum or petrol, was limited and it was cast in a simple and loose form, which was adequate for the degree of control which was then required. It is hardly surprising that, in these circumstances, some of its provisions should now be defective or obsolete and I think those Members of the House who have studied the question will wonder not why we are bringing forward this Bill now but why we did not do it some years ago. The use of petroleum, as I have indicated, has increased greatly and the development of specialised types has been very rapid. In these circumstances, we have had to change not only the substance of the Act of 1899 but also its form in order to differentiate various conceptions more clearly and one of our objects has been to devise a frame work which will make it easier to amend the Act in future, for we cannot regard it as the last word on the subject. There may be developments in store of which we know nothing now. We have therefore devised a frame work which will make it easier to meet future developments. There is one change to which I should like to draw the special attention of the House. We have centralised the rule making power in the Government of India.

[At this stage, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) vacated the Chair which was occupied by Mr. K. C. Neogy, one of the Panel of Chairmen.]

In doing so, what we have really done is to give a legal form to what is in practice the present procedure. The rules are now issued by Local Governments with the previous sanction of the Government of India. They are framed on a model which we have issued and when amendments are required they are usually drafted in my Department and promulgated in the same form in each province. I think the House will agree that this is a cumbrous and unsatisfactory procedure and that it is much better to secure uniformity by centralising the rule making power in the Government of India. Local Governments have unanimously agreed to that suggestion and we have embodied it in the Bill. The other changes in the Bill—they are numerous, I admit—relate to matters of detail and we have done our best to explain what is a very technical matter in the notes on the clauses. If the House approves of this motion for circulation in order to elicit opinion, those opinions will be considered in due course by the Select Committee. That is all I need say now. Sir, I move.

[Sir Frank Noyce.]

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : The question is :

"That the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the import, transport, storage, production and refinement of petroleum and other inflammable substances, be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon."

The motion was adopted.

THE INDIAN INCOME-TAX (THIRD AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster (Finance Member) : Sir, I move :

"That the Bill further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, for certain purposes (Third Amendment), be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya, Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad, Mr. Satish Chandra Sen, Mr. B. R. Puri, Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal, Lala Rameshwar Prasad Bagla, Mr. F. E. James, Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin, Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah, Dr. F. X. DeSouza and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

In moving for the appointment of a Select Committee to consider this Bill, despite the relative simplicity of the measure, I have taken into account the observations of the Honourable the President in the course of the discussion of the Budget on the 28th March last. I might quote his remarks. He said :

"The Chair finds that this part of the Schedule (referring to an important part of the Schedule to the Finance Bill which has now been incorporated in this Bill) occurs a second time in the Finance Bill. It is now, therefore, for Government to make up their minds whether this is going to be a permanent feature of the Statute-book or not, because, if it is to be a permanent feature of the Statute-book, the non-official members must have ample opportunities of examining such provisions in detail in Select Committee."

In view of those words I felt that it was the right course for us to take to move the reference of this Bill to a Select Committee. I do not wish the House to deduce from the fact that this Bill is going to be sent to a Select Committee that taxation on incomes below Rs. 2,000 is necessarily to be a permanent feature of our taxation system. On an occasion like this I wish to adopt a completely non-committal attitude on that particular point. But we do feel that it is desirable that the special procedure referring to such taxation should be a permanent feature of the income-tax law so that it can be utilised without re-enactment from time to time if and when these lower incomes are to be made taxable.

The remarks which I have made cover the greater part of the Bill which I am now asking the House to refer to the Select Committee.

But there is another part to the Bill and I would remind the House that the Finance Act contains two provisions or sets of provisions which may be said to refer to matters of procedure rather than to the fixation of rates. These are, first, Part III of Schedule II to the Act which deals with the question of summary assessment of lower incomes about which I have already spoken, and, secondly, Item No. A (1) of Part I of Schedule II, the effect of which briefly is that the reduction of rates is not to take effect so as to secure revision of the rates applicable to tax deducted at the source in the previous year. The present measure would make the procedure applicable on both those points part of the permanent income-tax law and therefore remove the necessity for inclusion of these provisions in the annual Finance Bill.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : Motion moved :

"That the Bill further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, for certain purposes (Third Amendment), be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya, Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad, Mr. Satish Chandra Sen, Mr. B. R. Puri, Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal, Lala Rameshwar Prasad Bagla, Mr. F. E. James, Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin, Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah, Dr. F. X. DeSouza and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I have only one observation to make with regard to this Bill. I have no objection that it should go to the Select Committee, but I must point out to the House how much contest there was at the time of the last Finance Bill with regard to the summary procedure being given into the hands of the Income-tax Officers. It was pointed out that this summary procedure is detrimental to the interests of the tax-payers and that practice has shown that, since this small Income-tax Act has come into force, the Income-tax Officers are acting very arbitrarily in regard to this summary way of assessing the people and recovering the same. I would, therefore, submit that this point of giving summary powers in the small Income-tax Act is a point that should be very thoroughly considered by the Select Committee and also the observations that were made at the time of the former Finance Bill. They should also exercise their own discretion and consider what procedure in practice we find to be very objectionable in the case of summary assessment. We know that this procedure is detrimental from this point of view that the Income-tax Officer forthwith at his own discretion or rather at his own whim and fancy holds any one, even a hawker, for instance, assessed. He assesses him summarily without giving him notice and without learning from him how much he earns. Then he puts him to his defence, because the procedure is that, after the summary procedure has gone through, if the assessee comes up and presents his case, it will be reconsidered. But he is put on his defence and they prove that he is really in a position to pay the tax. The burden is thrown on him. The House can easily imagine how difficult it is on the part of the Income-tax Officer to admit that he had committed the mistake. Therefore, I submit that this is a very serious point and ought to have careful consideration by the Select Committee.

Sir Leslie Hudson (Bombay : European) : Sir, I should like to ask the permission of the House to substitute the name of Mr. Mackenzie for that of Mr. James on the Select Committee. The name of Mr. Mackenzie was submitted by Mr. James and that is probably how the mistake arose.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : Does the Honourable Member wish to move it as an amendment, substituting the name of Mr. Mackenzie in place of Mr. James ?

Sir Leslie Hudson : Yes.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : The question is :

"That in place of the name of Mr. F. E. James the name of Mr. R. T. H. Mackenzie be substituted."

The motion was adopted.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : The question is :

"That the Bill further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, for certain purposes (Third Amendment), be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya, Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad, Mr. Satish Chandra Sen, Mr. B. R. Puri, Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal, Lala Rameshwar Prasad Bagla, Mr. R. T. H. Mackenzie, Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin, Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah, Dr. F. X. DeSouza and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

The motion was adopted.

THE INDIAN WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY BILL.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : Sir, I move :

"That the Bill to regulate the possession of wireless telegraphy apparatus, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

Here, again, I do not think that I need say much in support of this motion. The Select Committee which considered the Bill has produced a unanimous report and has met the criticisms which were made in the course of the discussion on the motion for reference to Select Committee during the last Session. It will be seen that it has been agreed that the penalties as laid down in the original Bill were distinctly severe. The amount of the fine which may be imposed has, therefore, been reduced and the penalty of imprisonment has been abolished. It has also been agreed that the confiscation of wireless apparatus, in respect of which a licence has not been obtained, should only be ordered in the case of conviction. Another modification made in deference to the views expressed on the floor of this House has been that the power of search has been restricted to the making of searches by day only. A distinct improvement embodied by the Select Committee has been the insertion of a new entry in sub-clause (2) of clause 9 to give power to make a rule requiring a dealer or manufacturer to insist on the production of a licence by an intending purchaser on proper occasions. This should be of great assistance in securing that licences are taken out in respect of wireless apparatus. I have here a few figures which may be of interest to the House in the present connection. They show the number of broadcast receiving licences taken out in recent years.

In 1929, the number was 7,775 ; in 1930, it has fallen to 7,719 ; in 1931, it increased to 8,056 ; in 1932, it went up to 8,557 ; for the first six months of this year, 5,276 licences were taken out as against 4,165 for the corresponding period of 1932. The House will see from the figures that I have just given that there has been a marked increase of late and I think this increase can be ascribed to two causes. I believe the first is that the public are realising that we have a Bill before this House which will shortly become law and that they have been not altogether unwilling, in fact they have been distinctly anxious to make their position a lawful one at the earliest possible opportunity. The second, and I think this is also an important factor, is the increase in broadcast reception owing to the Empire broadcast programmes. Both these reasons show the desirability that this Bill should become law at the earliest opportunity. What we maintain, although we are not able to support our assertion with precise figures, is that undoubtedly piracy on a large scale is rampant and has been rampant ever since broadcasting in India began. The number of licences in force is very small having regard to the fact that considerable quantities of broadcast receiving apparatus have been imported and in spite of the increased customs duties, continue to be imported into this country. The figures of customs revenue are again very interesting. In 1930-31, they were only Rs. 56,000. In 1931-32, they went upto Rs. 1,04,000 and in 1932-33, they increased to Rs. 2,55,000. We estimate that for this year we shall get considerably over 3 lakhs. It is true that, as I have said, this increase is largely due to the increase in customs duties but it does show that wireless apparatus is being imported in rapidly increasing quantities and the desirability, therefore, of ensuring that it should be put to a lawful use, that is that licences should be taken out for utilising it. Sir, I move.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : Motion moved :

"That the Bill to regulate the possession of wireless telegraphy apparatus, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (Muzaffarpur cum Champaran : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I welcomed this Bill when it was first introduced into the House, but on that occasion I pointed out certain objectionable features as they appeared to me. I am glad to say that since the Bill has emerged from the Select Committee, those have been removed. The operative part of the Bill is the prohibition of the possession of wireless apparatus without a licence. In the original Bill, it was stated that the first offence should be met with fine, but for every subsequent offence imprisonment was prescribed. I am glad to say that in the Bill, as it has emerged from the Select Committee, the punishment of imprisonment has been eliminated.

Mr. N. M. Joshi (Nominated : Non-Official) : Why are you glad about it ?

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : I did not like imprisonment to be given as punishment. It is for this reason that I am glad. Those Honourable Members who disagree with me should have tabled an amendment on the lines in accordance with their views, and, in the absence of any such amendment, I take it that it is the general opinion of the House that it is an improvement on the Bill that the punishment of imprisonment has been eliminated.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Why not there be only a warning instead of fine ?

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Why did you not put in such an amendment ?

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : It is not necessary, we can oppose it here.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Again, in the original Bill, as it was introduced, it was stated that whether the accused is convicted or acquitted, it was within the discretion of the Court to order confiscation of the wireless apparatus set. In the Bill, as it has now emerged from the Select Committee, confiscation follows only after conviction by a competent Court.

[Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh.]

There also I find it is an improvement. The third point on which the Bill is an improvement is that whereas the old Bill gave power to the police to make a search during day or night, in the present Bill the search is confined only to the day time. So, on all these three points, on which objections were raised in this House, when the Bill was originally introduced, they have been removed, and, therefore, the Bill, as it is now before the House, is an acceptable measure. It is well known that piracy is extensively practised in this country, and with the object of securing the elimination of piracy and to add to the income of the broadcasting stations, these provisions are required. I am glad that this Bill has been improved so as to be acceptable to this House. I, therefore, support the motion.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : The question is :

"That the Bill to regulate the possession of wireless telegraphy apparatus, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

The motion was adopted.

Clauses 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 were added to the Bill.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : Clause 9.

Mr. F. E. James (Madras : European) : Sir, I beg to move :

"That in clause 9 of the Bill, after the words 'Indian State Broadcasting Service' the words 'or a Broadcasting Service approved in this behalf by the Governor General in Council' be inserted."

The object of this amendment is perfectly clear. There are other broadcasting services in the country quite apart from the Indian State Broadcasting Service, whose service has resulted in a certain number of licences being taken out locally and we felt that it should be made possible for the Court to pay over fines in certain areas to the local broadcasting services provided those were recognised by the prescribed authority, the Governor General in Council. In moving this amendment, I should just like to make two observations ; the first is that I do not think that any Member of the House should place extravagant hopes upon the income which is likely to be derived from this particular Bill. I expressed at the time of the introduction of the Bill the opinion which I believe found support in different parts of the House that the real future of broadcasting in this country lay not in broadcasting through individual sets but through loud speakers on a mass scale. We have felt certainly in that part of the world from which I come that the real value of broadcasting in this country will lie in its penetration on a large scale to the interior of the country, to the villages, where it is quite impossible to expect the service to be reproduced through individual sets, but where villages will have to be grouped together and where there will have to be programmes of relaying through loud speakers to congregations of villagers. Those Members who come from the Madras Presidency know that we have been running for some time now in the Corporation of Madras a most successful programme along these lines. The result of this work has not meant much increase in the number of individual listeners. That is not what we have been out for ; but it has meant that in the evenings on the beach and in almost all the public squares and parks there have been hundreds and thousands of citizens of Madras listening to a programme of music interspersed occasionally with comments on educational and health matters.

And we feel most strongly that that is the line of approach which is necessary if broadcasting is to be the tremendous channel of service in this country which it can be. I know that the Honourable Member will entirely agree with what I am saying now ; it is not in any sense a criticism of his Bill. But it is merely another occasion on which one can use the opportunity of making this point ; and I hope that the time will soon come when there will not only be an Indian State Broadcasting Service, which after all only operates to the benefit of a comparatively few in this country, but there will also be an Indian Broadcasting Board or something of that kind. It will help to co-ordinate efforts which are now being made in different parts of the country, and will be able to give advice, and to formulate schemes whereby in the great linguistic regions of India there shall be set up adequate broadcasting stations which, in the language of the people of the country, can broadcast plays, music, educational talks and all kinds of information which will penetrate where no newspaper penetrates today and where no health visitors penetrate today,—the innermost recesses of the villages far away from the towns. If the Honourable Member in charge of this Bill, whose enthusiasm I know to be great for the spread of broadcasting, will take this also into consideration, and, possibly before very long,—I am throwing out merely a casual suggestion,— will call together a few people from the different provinces who are now doing excellent work in this direction, to confer as to the best means of using one of the greatest benefits which mankind has ever received, the transmission of programmes and messages across the air,—if he would do that, I am quite sure he would be rendering very great service indeed.

The second thing that I want to say is this, that even as regards the restricted scope of this Bill, I wonder whether one consideration has occurred to the Honourable Member in charge. I understand that at present the revenue from wireless sets under Customs has exceeded expectations. But obviously the time will soon come when that revenue will come down because of the manufacture of receiving sets in this country. One hopes that will come soon : it is bound to come soon ; and when that is the case he will lose his Customs revenue. Would the Honourable Member consider the possibility of levying on locally made receiving sets, once that industry has got on its feet, something in the form of a small excise duty, the proceeds from which should be used, not for the current revenue of the Government of India but for the purpose of establishing broadcast systems in different parts of the country ? This would make the collection of individual licence fees unnecessary. I make that merely as a suggestion. At present the Honourable Member has some indication of the number of receiving sets that are coming into the country, and therefore he has some indication as to the amount of piracy that is abroad. But as soon as these sets begin to be made locally he will have no indication whatsoever, and personally I do not think the State is going to benefit very much even by the passing of this Bill in regard to revenue received from licences. Therefore, Sir, I commend this amendment to the sympathy of the House and I also commend the two points I have made to the attention of the Honourable Member.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. K. C. Neogy) : Amendment moved :

"That in clause 9 of the Bill, after the words 'Indian State Broadcasting Service' the words 'or a Broadcasting Service approved in this behalf by the Governor General in Council' be inserted."

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce: Sir, I may say at once that I have much pleasure in accepting Mr. James' amendment. We fully realise that the Indian State Broadcasting Service can, in the present conditions or in any conditions which are likely to prevail for many years to come, touch only a fraction of the total area of this vast country. In these circumstances, it is only equitable that, where an offence is the possession of wireless apparatus for reception from some other official or quasi-official service, the fine imposed for it should go to the benefit of that service.

I have been very much interested in what has fallen from my Honourable friend Mr. James. I think the first suggestion that he has put forward is a very valuable one. I may state for the information of the House that the attitude that Government should adopt towards broadcasting services other than the State broadcasting service is at present under consideration in consultation with the Local Governments. And I feel that, when we get their replies, it would be very useful to do as Mr. James suggests and to get together experts and those specially interested in order to discuss our further line of action.

[At this stage, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) resumed the Chair.]

I am not quite so sure about his second suggestion which, if I have understood him correctly, is that, later on, when, as we hope, the manufacture of wireless apparatus in this country attains substantial dimensions, we should levy an excise duty on sets of indigenous manufacture for the benefit of broadcasting generally. I need hardly say that I shall be very glad to examine it but in any case the question is hypothetical at the moment and I think we can probably safely leave it until the hoped for development takes place. I am bound to say that I think there would be some difficulties in adopting it. As I said at the outset, Sir, I have much pleasure in accepting the amendment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty): The question is:

"That in clause 9 of the Bill, after the words 'Indian State Broadcasting Service' the words 'or a Broadcasting Service approved in this behalf by the Governor General in Council' be inserted."

The motion was adopted.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty): The question is that clause 9, as amended, stand part of the Bill.

The motion was adopted.

Clause 9, as amended, was added to the Bill.

Clauses 10 and 11 were added to the Bill.

Clause 1 was added to the Bill.

The Title and the Preamble were added to the Bill.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce: Sir, I move that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The motion was adopted.

THE LAND ACQUISITION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour): Sir, I beg to move:

"That the Bill further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for certain purposes, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

At this late hour of the day, I do not think I need make any lengthy remarks in support of this motion. Here again, as in the case of the last measure we have been considering, the Bill we placed before the House in the first instance has, I venture to think, been distinctly improved by the Select Committee. As I said when I was moving the motion for reference to a Select Committee, whilst the general principle of the Bill had received unanimous support, there were two material criticisms. The two points on which those criticisms were focussed were the proposal to include individuals as well as companies amongst those on whose behalf land might be acquired for the housing of labour and the adequacy of the safeguards against improper use of land that had been acquired. It will, I think, be seen from the report of the Select Committee that both these criticisms have been very fully met in the measure as it has emerged from that Committee. As regards the first, the uneasiness about the inclusion of individuals as well as companies, the Bill has been amended and a safeguard has been provided by the limitation of the application of the new section 38A to industrial concerns employing at least 100 workmen. This should prevent the Act being used in favour of mushroom concerns. The second criticism was the adequacy of safeguards against improper use of the land that had been acquired. We have met that by giving further powers to Local Governments to ensure that the houses which are erected shall be properly built and properly used. The Local Government will be able to prescribe the time within which the conditions on which and the manner in which the dwelling houses or amenities shall be erected or provided. The only other point to which I need refer is that raised in my friend, Mr. Lalchand Navalrai's Minute of Dissent, which I am very glad to see he has not followed up by an amendment. He is still somewhat anxious about the Bill being used for the acquisition of sites on which there are already dwelling houses. He does not like the idea that the owners of such dwelling houses should be disturbed by compulsory acquisition. I think there is a very considerable safeguard in that respect and that is, that such dwelling houses will obviously be rather costly to acquire, and that no one is going to ask that they should be acquired if they can possibly find suitable vacant sites. In any case, it does seem to me that it is far better even in cases where land is acquired on which there are buildings—such buildings will obviously not be buildings one would like to see labour housed in—it is far better that they should be replaced by proper accommodation for the work people on whose behalf we are about, I hope, to pass this Act. I commend this motion to the consideration of the House.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty): Motion moved:

"That the Bill further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for certain purposes, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai: Sir, a reference has been made to me by the Honourable Member in charge and I must say that I do not agree that I should have put in an amendment. My Minute of Dissent is that this Bill should be restricted only to vacant sites and other arable land that may be available, and that very costly houses and other houses should not be disturbed in the interests of new concerns. If I may read my minute, it runs as follows :

[Mr. Lalchand Navalrai.]

" My objection is that the Bill should apply only to vacant sites or arable land and not land on which there are already dwelling houses. In cases of compulsory acquisition, all safeguards should be taken to see that new concerns, as contemplated by this Bill, should not establish themselves on the site nearby land already occupied by dwelling houses and disturb the original owners of the houses by compulsory acquisition. In growing towns, it is more in the public interest that such concerns should be established at or removed to a more suitable distant site than to acquire the adjoining dwelling houses better used by owners for housing labourers."

My main point is, that if there are houses already there, why should the new concern go and start in their neighbourhood ? It will be disturbing the people who have lived in those houses and have liked them for a long time. That is the reason for my Minute of Dissent. I submit that I am opposed to the consideration of this Bill unless they amend it and restrict it only to vacant sites and such like. That is all my submission.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That the Bill further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for certain purposes, as reported by the Select Committee, be taken into consideration."

The motion was adopted.

Clause 2 was added to the Bill.

Clauses 3 and 4 were added to the Bill.

Clause 1 was added to the Bill.

The Title and the Preamble were added to the Bill.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Sir, I move that the Bill, as reported by the Select Committee, be passed.

The motion was adopted.

THE MURSHIDABAD ESTATE ADMINISTRATION BILL.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : How long will the Honourable Member take to move this motion ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy (Political Secretary) : Only four or five minutes, Sir.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Very well.

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Sir, I beg to move :

" That the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Manager, on behalf of the Secretary of State, of the properties of the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad and to define the powers and duties of the Manager, be taken into consideration."

Sir, the reasons why it is necessary to place this Bill on the Statute-book have been briefly indicated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons and in the preamble of the Bill. As the House will observe, the Bill is merely intended to supplement the Murshidabad Act of 1891. That Act gave power to the Secretary of State to enter upon the properties of the Nawab and to administer them in his behalf if any such necessity arose. Unfortunately, that necessity has arisen, because the Nawab has contracted very heavy debts and has allowed his properties to fall into a most deplorable condition. It is imperative, therefore, that his powers of control should be restricted and that proper arrangements should be made for the management of the estate so that the creditors' claims may be satisfied and that the Nawab and his family may be preserved from ruin. The Secretary of State has already entered upon the properties, but the Act of 1891 does not provide any satisfactory machinery for preventing the Nawab from incurring further liabilities or for empowering the Manager to take proper control of the estate and to discharge the debts already incurred. The present Bill is merely intended to remedy this deficiency. It is based closely on the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, an Act which has been in successful operation for the last 50 years. The Bill, in the opinion of Government, provides the most satisfactory and in fact the only satisfactory arrangements that are practicable alike in the interests of the creditors and the Nawab. Firstly, as regards the creditors, it is calculated that the total claims against the Nawab including the amounts decreed against him in the Courts come to about 19 lakhs of rupees. The Bengal Government estimate that, as soon as normal conditions are restored, it should be possible to set aside annually a sum of not less than Rs. 3 lakhs towards the payment of the debts. Thus, in a few years' time, the entire liabilities should be liquidated. The decree holders and the other creditors need be under no apprehension that fair treatment will not be accorded to them, because the Bill provides for an appeal from the Manager's award to the Bengal Board of Revenue. If, on the other hand, the Bill is not passed, practically all that the creditors will be able to attach and secure will be certain moveable properties personally acquired by the present Nawab, and it is very doubtful whether the value of these will amount to more than 1/20th part of his liabilities. Secondly, as regards the Nawab himself, he is the head and representative of an ancient and highly respected family. He is greatly esteemed not only by the Muslims of Bengal, but by other communities as well, and it would be most deplorable if he were to suffer the indignity of confinement in a debtor's prison. I would impress upon the House that the passing of this Bill is a matter of very considerable urgency, because every day that is lost in giving the Manager proper powers of control must render the position of the Nawab and the creditors more and more precarious and chaotic. I understand, Sir, that there is notice of an amendment for reference to Select Committee. If that amendment is moved and if it can be assumed that the delay involved will not be more than a few days and that there is good prospect of this Bill being passed during the present Session, I will not oppose that amendment, but I should like to emphasise once more that any avoidable delay is most strongly to be deprecated in the interests of all parties concerned.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

" That the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Manager, on behalf of the Secretary of State, of the properties of the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad and to define the powers and duties of the Manager, be taken into consideration."

Mr. K. C. Neogy (Dacca Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I beg to move :

" That the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, Mr. B. J. Glancy, Sir Lancelot Graham, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Mr. S. C. Sen, Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, Mr. R. S. Sarma, Captain Shah Muhammad Khan, Mr. G. Morgan, and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

[Mr. K. C. Neogy.]

In making this motion, Sir, I am inviting this House to accept the principle underlying this particular Bill which, as has been explained by the Honourable the Mover, is to remove certain deficiencies in the original Murshidabad Act. The Honourable Member has referred to the predicament in which the present Nawab Bahadur is, but I think it is only fair that I should mention that public opinion in Bengal holds that the Nawab Bahadur has been perhaps more sinned against than sinning in this particular matter, and I am sure that the principal object of this Bill will be welcomed all over the country. But, at the same time, the Honourable Member in charge will himself recognise that this is not a normal kind of legislative proposal and that the interests of the bona fide creditors have got to be safeguarded by this House. The reason why I want this measure to be referred to a Select Committee is to give an assurance to the bona fide creditor outside that his interests will be examined as carefully as possible by the representatives of this House before passing the Bill into law. I entirely agree with my friend that the importance of such a measure consists in the expedition with which it can be placed on the Statute-book, and, so far as I am concerned, I am anxious to have a meeting of the Select Committee at the earliest possible moment, if possible tomorrow, and I personally will place no obstacle in the way of a speedy passage of this measure. Sir, I move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, Mr. B. J. Glancy, Sir Lancelot Graham, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Mr. S. C. Sen, Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, Mr. R. S. Sarma, Captain Sher Muhammad Khan, Mr. G. Morgan, and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

Mr. S. C. Mitra (Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I support the motion of my friend, Mr. Neogy, for reference of this Bill to a Select Committee. I agree to accept his motion, because I accept his interpretation that the principle of the Bill is very much restricted. If Government is agreeable to that view, I certainly have no hesitation to accept the motion ; but there are apparently some very drastic provisions in this Bill, and it is not so harmless as it has been put by the Honourable the Mover. I would like to refer to some of the clauses to tell the House how in this Bill it is provided to vest the Manager with such wide powers as to oust the jurisdiction of all the Courts in India. I merely refer to clause 4 which reads thus :

"On the publication of an order for the appointment of a Manager under section 3, the following consequences shall ensue :

First, all proceedings which may then be pending in any Civil Court in respect of any debts or liabilities to which the Nawab Bahadur may be subject shall be barred, and all processes, executions and attachments for or in respect of such debts and liabilities shall become null and void ;

Secondly, so long as such management continues, no suit or proceeding shall lie against the Nawab Bahadur, or the Secretary of State, or the Manager, in respect of any debt or liability to which the Nawab Bahadur is subject..... ".

Then, further on, in sub-clause (b), there are other drastic powers which say that " so long as such management continues, the Nawab shall be incompetent to mortgage, etc. ". That is certainly a sound suggestion, but such property shall be exempt from attachment or sale under process of any Court. In short, I find in this Bill provision for ousting the jurisdiction of the Courts so long as this Bill will be in force. I do not want to stress that point now, because I agree with my Honourable friend, Mr. Neogy, that all these questions may be considered in the Select Committee. This Bill is only following the old Act which is more than 30 or 40 years old and there should not be much disagreement. I support the motion for reference to a Select Committee.

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : I wish simply to say a few words. I wholeheartedly support the proposition that the Bill should go before a Select Committee, and the particular objections which my Honourable friend, Mr. Mitra, pointed out would be solved there. Personally I do not think that those objections are really worthy, because those of us who belong to Bengal and Bihar and Orissa know how the Nawab Bahadur, as my Honourable friend, Mr. Neogy, put it, has been sinned against, how money-lenders of Calcutta.....

An Honourable Member : Not of Calcutta, but of Murshidabad, Azimganj, and Jiaganj.

Mr. B. Das : I am glad to know that they are from Murshidabad, Azimganj and Jiaganj. We know how the money-lenders have swindled the Nawab Bahadur knowing that the Nawab could not part with the property that belonged to him. I wish to refer to another aspect of the matter. Money-lenders who have swindled the Nawab and have grown rich—some of them have been canvassing in Delhi and Simla during the last two Sessions, and if my Honourable friend, Mr. Glancy, will reveal the correspondence of some of the Members of this House who have addressed his Department on behalf of certain clients, it will prove interesting. I deprecate that money-lenders or, whoever they are, should try to influence Members of this House and try to canvass, and that Members should forget their legislative duties and write, though being members of the legal profession, to the Political Department. I hope that my Honourable friend, the Political Secretary, will not think that the correspondence is too secret, and that in his reply today or in the Select Committee he will place all the correspondence which has been addressed by some Members of this House.....

An Honourable Member : Is it fair to the House that Mr. Das should make a veiled attack and not mention the names of Members if he knows them ?

Mr. R. S. Sarma (Nominated Non-Official) : On a point of order, Sir. I desire to know whether it is fair to refer to Members without giving their names and without telling the House whether those gentlemen have written in their capacity as Members of this House or as barristers or members of the legal profession ?

Mr. B. Das : That is not the point. I am asking the Political Secretary to tell us whether he has received any letters from any Member of this House addressed to his Department as legal adviser to certain claimants on the property of the Nawab. The question is, whether an Honourable Member can do that. I think much canvassing is going on and I entirely agree with the Political Secretary that the sooner this

[Mr. B. Das.]

Bill is passed, Simla and Delhi will not see the faces of those who have swindled the Nawab Bahadur.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer (Rohilkund and Kumaon Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : I do not propose to say more than one sentence on behalf of some of us sitting on this side of the House. We wholeheartedly share the apprehensions and appreciate the views that the Political Secretary urged in regard to the preservation of the Nawab Sahib from ruin and protection of his creditors from disaster.

Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali (Lucknow and Fyzabad Divisions : Muhammadan Rural) : I too wholeheartedly support the motion of the Political Secretary on the floor of the House. My only submission is that this matter should be expedited as quickly as possible and it is not only the Nawab, who will be relieved of all the difficulties, but it will really save a great and ancient family from ruin. So far as I have read certain representations which have been sent round from Calcutta, and I have read one or two of them very carefully, I find that the Nawab had absolutely no right to part with the property. It was only a sinister motive of these creditors who advanced money to him, knowing that the Nawab could not possibly pay his debts. In those circumstances, I think it is now a very good case for sending the matter to the Select Committee, and I think that the Bill may be taken into consideration.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : I have a word to add. I do not think that the Government, when they make a claim for the protection of the estate, will not take care of the creditors of the estate. I think their interests will be quite safe in the hands of the Government and I, therefore, support this motion.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury (Bengal : Landholders) : I propose that the House do now adjourn.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi (Tirhut Division : Muhammadan) : I propose that the name of Sir Abdulla-al-Mámún Suhrawardy be added to the Select Committee.

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I accept the amendment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the name of Sir Abdulla-al-Mámún Suhrawardy be added to the Select Committee."

The motion was adopted.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, Mr. B. J. Glancy, Sir Lancelot Graham, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Mr. S. C. Sen, Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, Mr. R. S. Sarma, Captain Sher Muhammad Khan, Mr. G. Morgan, Sir Abdulla-al-Mámún Suhrawardy, and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

The motion was adopted.

The Assembly then adjourned till Eleven of the Clock on Monday, the 4th September, 1933.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Monday, 4th September, 1933.

The Assembly met in the Assembly Chamber at Eleven of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

COMBINATION OF OIL COMPANIES.

460. Sardar Sant Singh : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of the House a statement showing the result of the investigation into the question whether the oil companies have a combine or not, as promised by them in reply to my starred questions No. 159, dated 8th September, 1932 and No. 1668 of the 14th December, 1932 ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Government have made enquiries into the matter but they have been unable to secure evidence which proves the existence of any combination to raise prices in India.

ORGANISATION AND CONTROL OF THE TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

461. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that on the formation of Travelling Ticket Examiners' cadre in 1912 its organization and control was entrusted to the Audit Department ? If so, will Government please state :

(i) What were the duties performed by the Travelling Ticket Examiners under the Audit Department at that time ?

(ii) Why was the organisation and control transferred to the Traffic in 1915 ?

(b) Is it a fact that its re-transfer from the Traffic control to the Audit control in 1916 was effected owing to the reason that it could run more efficiently and economically under the Audit Department only ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : With your permission, Sir, I propose to reply to questions Nos. 461 to 475 together. These questions involve a considerable amount of research, sometimes into circumstances in existence twenty years ago. I doubt whether I shall be able to give a complete or exhaustive reply, but I have asked the Agent, North Western Railway, to let me have whatever information is readily available, and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

CREW SYSTEM ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†462. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that in 1922 the Crew System was started on the North Western Railway in Lahore Division under the Chief Auditor but was abolished very soon, as it proved a failure ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 461.

(b) Is it a fact that subsequent to the abolition of the Crew System, a system, whereby two men in a group checked trains, was started, but this also fell into the back-ground for similar reasons as the Crew System ?

ORGANISATION AND CONTROL OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†463. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that no transfer of the organisation and control of the Travelling Ticket Examiners' cadre was made between the years 1916-1928 ? Is it a fact that the working of the Travelling Ticket Examiners remained very satisfactory and was highly spoken of by the authorities during that period ?

(b) Is it a fact that at the Divisional Superintendents' Conference in 1925, it was unanimously resolved to bring the Travelling Ticket Examiners under Traffic control, and is it further true that this proposal was highly supported by Colonel Walton, Agent, who then recommended to the Railway Board this change ?

(c) Is it true that the Railway Board turned down this proposal in view of the fact that this Branch could run more efficiently and economically under the Audit Department ? Is it further true that the Board finally decided that this Branch should continue to remain under the Audit Department till such time when Audit would be separated from Accounts and that when this event occurred, the Travelling Ticket Examiners would be placed under the Accounts Department ?

ORGANISATION AND CONTROL OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†464. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that the Railway Board doubled the strength of the Travelling Ticket Examiners after the failure of the Crew and the two-men systems in 1926 ? If so, why ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Travelling Ticket Examiners' Branch was abruptly taken over by the Traffic Department in 1928 ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the reasons which made this step expedient despite the final orders of the Railway Board prohibiting such a transfer ?

(c) Is it a fact that the authorities appointed a committee of Messrs. Cammeron, Phillipes, and Callaghan to devise ways and means which would enable the authorities to cut down the emoluments of these employees ?

(d) Is it a fact that this committee gave a verdict that the emoluments of these employees could not be cut down in view of paragraph 362 of the Open Line Code, Volume II ? If not, will Government be pleased to place on the table a copy of the aforesaid Committee's report ?

ORGANISATION AND CONTROL OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†465. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that ever since the transfer of Travelling Ticket Examiners from Audit to Traffic, two classes of employees, viz., the Travelling Ticket Examiners and Special Ticket Examiners worked simultaneously on the North Western Railway ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 461.

(i) what were the circumstances that led to the appointment of Special Ticket Examiners on North Western Railway before the abolition of Travelling Ticket Examiners' cadre ;

(ii) how far did these Special Ticket Examiners fulfil the purpose for which they were recruited ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Divisional Superintendent, Lahore, after making a comparison between the work of Travelling Ticket Examiners and Special Ticket Examiners, abolished the posts of the latter ? If so, why ?

ABOLITION OF THE CADRE OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†466. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that the authorities took an opportunity in 1931 to abolish the whole cadre of Travelling Ticket Examiners, attributing this measure to the stringency of funds ? If so, will Government be pleased to state whether this measure was adopted after the findings of the Divisional Personnel Officers' conference ?

(b) If stringency of funds necessitated the abolition of the Travelling Ticket Examiners' cadre, will Government be pleased to state where lay the justification for appointing 30 more Special Ticket Examiners in Lahore Division in 1933 ?

SPECIAL AND TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†467. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that the working of Special Ticket Examiner was economical and useful ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) Why did the Agent accord his sanction to Divisional Superintendent, Lahore, to bring under reduction all Special Ticket Examiners in his Division ?

(ii) Did the Agent consider at this instance the desirability of doing away with the Travelling Ticket Examiners instead of the Special Ticket Examiners in Lahore Division since the Travelling Ticket Examiners were considered superfluous, vide the Government of India reply to my question No. 225 in the Assembly on 11th September, 1931 ?

NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY DIVISIONAL PERSONNEL OFFICERS' CONFERENCE.

†468. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to place on the table of this House a statement showing the names of the officers who attended the Divisional Personnel Officers' conference ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how many and which of these Divisional Personnel Officers were Commercial officers ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 461.

ABOLITION OF THE CADRE OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†469. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it a fact that after the abolition of the Travelling Ticket Examiners' cadre, groups of five Special Ticket Examiners, hitherto called Travelling Ticket Examiners, were formed for checking purposes, whereas previously as Travelling Ticket Examiners, one man did this work ? If so, will Government be pleased to state whether it did not mean that the checking of the trains was reduced to one-fifth of what it was previously ?

(b) Is it a fact that checking on running trains was completely abolished on the North Western Railway ?

GROUP SYSTEM OF TICKET CHECKING ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†470. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Is it not a fact that during the prevalence of the Group System of checking on the North Western Railway, the number of trains checked remained low ?

(b) Is it a fact that serious cases of fraud mentioned below were brought to light by Special Ticket Examiners (old Travelling Ticket Examiners) :

(i) Re-issue of tickets between Badami Bagh and Nankana Sahib ;

(ii) Re-use of tickets between Lahore and Delhi ; and (iii) Jaitu Ticket case.

(c) Is it a fact that the authorities later on gave up this system after holding a conference of Divisional Commercial Officers at Lahore on 21st, 22nd and 23rd November, 1932, and unanimously agreed to work on the system of one man per train to cope with illegal travelling, and sanction to this was accorded by the Agent, vide his letter No. 173-M.C., dated 27th November, 1932 ? If not, will Government be pleased to place on the table of this House a copy of the minutes of the conference, together with the Agent, North Western Railway's letter No. 173-M.C., dated 27th November, 1932 ?

ORGANISATION AND CONTROL OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†471. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that Travelling Ticket Examiners prior to their coming under the control of the Commercial Department on the North Western Railway were under the control of the Chief Auditor ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(a) What were the duties they performed under the Audit Department ?

(b) On what grounds were they treated as running staff ?

(c) Who compiled the programme of their working the trains ?

(d) What mileage allowance was given to them and in what consideration ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 461.

ORGANISATION AND CONTROL OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†472. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that the Travelling Ticket Examiners after their transfer from Audit to the Commercial Department remained performing the same duties as under Audit from 1st June, 1928 to 31st May, 1931 ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(a) What change in the policy of the Administration made them stop their mileage allowance ?

(b) What change in their duty has been created ?

(c) What is the difference between running and stationary duty ?

(d) What is the difference between a Travelling Ticket Examiner and a Special Ticket Examiner ?

DENIAL OF CERTAIN CONCESSIONS TO TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†473. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that the Travelling Ticket Examiners who are now called Special Ticket Examiners have still to run with the trains under a set programme, now fixed by Group Inspector, similar to the one previously made by Head Travelling Ticket Examiner ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(a) Why they are not treated as running staff ?

(b) Why their mileage allowance has been stopped ?

REDUCTION OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†474. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that these Travelling Ticket Examiners were given no alternative of discharge for not accepting the cadre of Special Ticket Examiner ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(a) what is their practice in bringing a member of the running staff to a stationary appointment ;

(b) whether these men were fixed up according to that practice in Special Ticket Examiners' grade ;

(c) how far the emoluments of these men have decreased by independently fixing their pay and cutting down their emoluments ;

(d) is it a fact that these men's emoluments have gone down by about 50 per cent. ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) in what other Department of service have Government made such drastic reduction ;

(ii) how far the permanent reduction of these men compares with the temporary emergency cut and other reduction in staff ;

(iii) what other temporary reduction in their pay has been made under the financial stringency scheme in addition to lowering their grades and cutting down their mileage allowance ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 461.

NON-ADOPTION OF THE MODY WARD SCHEME OF TICKET CHECKING ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

†475. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that Mody Ward Scheme approved of by the Railway Board as well as by the Public Accounts Committee was meant for adoption on all State Railways ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the reasons why this scheme has not been introduced on the North Western Railway ;

(b) whether the Agents of State Railways were given the option of accepting or rejecting it ;

(c) if the answer to (b) above be in the negative, will Government be pleased to state what action they propose to take against the North Western Railway Administration for setting aside a measure which cost the Government of India labour and finance ;

(d) what are the main features of the scheme followed on the North Western Railway ?

ALLOWANCES OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

476. Sardar Sant Singh : Is it a fact that the Railway Board in their letter No. 822|E.G., dated 22nd December, 1932 to the Agent, North Western Railway, have admitted that there has been a large fall in the emoluments of Travelling Ticket Examiners by stopping their mileage allowance ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(a) How far the consolidated travelling allowance granted to them in lieu of mileage has been reasonably compensated ?

(b) Whether the consolidated allowance substituted for mileage allowance is considered as a part of pay for all purposes like the mileage allowance ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have considered the whole question very carefully and come to the conclusion that there is no justification for treating ticket inspecting or examining staff as running staff and continuing to them the mileage allowances they were formerly in receipt of. There was therefore no question of compensating them for the loss of their allowance, but purely as an ex gratia measure and in order to mitigate the loss entailed, they decided to grant them a consolidated travelling allowance at rates higher than those they would have been entitled to if the ordinary rules had been applied to them. This allowance is not considered as part of pay.

SELECTION OF JOURNEYMEN FOR THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY WORKSHOPS, MUGHALPURA.

477. Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether the selection of ten posts of Journeymen for the North Western Railway (Mughalpura) Workshops, Loco. and Carriage Department, took place on the 2nd June, 1933 ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 461.

(b) If the reply to part (a) above be in the affirmative, are Government aware that there were four departmental qualified trained Sindhis amongst the forty applicants for these ten posts ?

(c) Is it a fact that not one of these ten posts was given to a Sindhi ?

(d) What is the total number of Journeymen in all the North Western Railway Workshops ?

(e) What is the percentage of Sindhis working as Journeymen ?

(f) Is it a fact that out of these ten appointments, four were required for Turner Trade (for machine Shop) ?

(g) Will Government be pleased to state the reasons why claims of these senior Sindhi candidates were ignored ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state when they intended to right the wrong done to these Sindhi candidates ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information, but have sent a copy of the question to the Agent, North Western Railway, for any action he may think fit to take.

GRIEVANCES OF INDIANS IN THE FEDERATED MALAY STATES, INDO-CHINA AND SIAM.

478. Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether their attention has been drawn to a summary of a speech, published in the Hindu of Madras of July 14th last, by Dr. Lanka Sundaram regarding his tour experiences among Indians in the Federated Malay States, Indo-China and Siam ? If so, what measures do they propose to take in the subject-matter of his grievances ;

(b) whether they are in receipt of Dr. Lanka Sundaram's promised memorandum containing his opinions and recommendations for the removal of the grievances among Indians in those places ? If so, what steps are Government going to adopt in the matter ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : (a) and (b). The attention of the Government of India has been drawn to the summary of Dr. Lanka Sundaram's speech published in the Hindu of Madras of July 14th, 1933, but his promised Memorandum has not yet been received. As regards the measures Government propose to take in the matter, the Honourable Member's attention is invited to the answer to Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh's question No. 152 on the same subject.

SENDING BACK OF REPATRIATED INDIANS FROM NATAL AND OTHER PARTS OF SOUTH AFRICA TO THEIR HOMES.

479. Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that of late a scheme has been set afloat for sending back some of the repatriated Indians from Natal and other parts of South Africa to their original homes ?

(b) If so, will Government be pleased to give the details of such a scheme ?

(c) How many of such repatriated Indians have so far been dealt with under that scheme ?

(d) Are Government aware whether any sort of trouble is being experienced on account of the bonus not being restored with the return of the repatriates ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) No.

(b) and (c). Do not arise.

(d) It is regretted that the question is not understood.

SUSPENSION OF A CANDIDATE FROM THE INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATION BY THE SUPERINTENDENT, RAMJAS COLLEGE CENTRE, DELHI.

480. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) if it is a fact that one, Om Parkash Aggarwal, Roll No. 162, Intermediate (Arts) was suspended from the examination by the Superintendent, Ramjas College Centre, Delhi, on the 12th of April, 1933 ;

(b) if it is a fact that on the 13th of April, 1933, his father, Lt. Joti Parshad, Advocate (Ambala City), sent a reply pre-paid telegram (No. 75) from Delhi to Mr. H. V. Thadani, the Superintendent, asking him if he would allow the candidate to appear in the next paper ;

(c) If it is a fact that in reply to the above telegram, the Superintendent on the 15th April, 1933, telegraphed to the guardian at Jagadhri to refer the matter to the Registrar or the Vice-Chancellor, Delhi University ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : With your permission, Sir, I propose to reply questions Nos. 480 to 482 together.

Some of the information required for answering these questions has to be obtained from the Superintendent of the Ramjas College centre and is still awaited. On receipt of this, replies will be laid on the table of the House.

SUSPENSION OF A CANDIDATE FROM THE INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATION BY THE SUPERINTENDENT, RAMJAS COLLEGE CENTRE, DELHI.

†481. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Are Government aware that under the rules the Superintendent of a centre can suspend the examinee only for the day and no more ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state how the Superintendent justifies himself in asking the guardian to refer the matter to the Registrar or Vice-Chancellor, and thus continuing the suspension ?

(c) Is it a fact that the answer book of the said candidate in Mathematics (a) (on the day of suspension) was not sent by the Superintendent to the examiner for marking ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 480.

(d) If the answer to part (c) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to quote the rules under which the Superintendent was empowered to do so ?

(e) If there exists no such rule empowering the Superintendent to withhold the answer-book, do Government propose to direct the University to get it examined and marked now ?

(f) Is it not a fact that 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, and 17th of April last were holidays and the guardian of the student had to get the matter set right by sending telegrams to the Superintendent, Registrar and Vice-Chancellor on the 15th of April from Jagadhri ?

(g) Will Government be pleased to state what action has so far been taken against the Superintendent ? If no action has yet been taken, will Government be pleased to state what they propose to do in the matter to prevent a repetition of such mistakes ?

SUSPENSION OF A CANDIDATE FROM THE INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATION BY THE SUPERINTENDENT, RAMJAS COLLEGE CENTRE, DELHI.

†482. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the said candidate, Om Parkash, and some others were disqualified from passing this year's examination and debarred from appearing at any University examination for the next two years under notification No. 658, dated the 6th June, 1933, in accordance with the decision of the Executive Council of the Delhi University ?

(b) Are Government aware that there exists no rule framed by the University and duly sanctioned by Government under the Indian University Act empowering the Executive Council to pass such orders, as is the case with other Universities ?

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE PROPOSED RESERVE BANK IN INDIA.

483. Sardar G. N. Mujumdar : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the probable date when the proposed Reserve Bank is likely to be established ;

(b) whether the work done by the Currency Offices will be carried on by the Reserve Bank ? If so, do Government propose to see that the present staff employed in the Currency Offices is not affected in any way ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) and (b). Pending the decision of the Legislature on the proposed Reserve Bank Bill, the whole question is hypothetical.

CENSORSHIP OF CINEMATOGRAPH FILMS.

484. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if they are aware that there is a great resentment among the Muslim public when scenes of Harem life are depicted in films and especially when historic Muslim queens and princesses are shown making love ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 480.

(b) Are Government prepared to order a stricter censorship in the case of types of films mentioned above ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) and (b). I have received no recent complaints from any Muslim bodies in this matter. Government are however fully alive to the importance of ensuring that the censorship of films is efficiently conducted and only very recently they addressed Local Governments on the subject generally. The existing position is that there is a Muslim representative on each of the Censorship Boards (except the Burma Board) constituted under the Act and these Boards have power to refuse to certify any film in whole or in part if they consider this necessary. Apart from this, the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency Town the Commissioner of Police, may, under the provisions of the Cinematograph Act, suspend the Certificate granted by a Board if he considers the exhibition of any particular film is open to objection. A Local Government also has power under the Act to declare any film passed by a Board to be an uncertified film in the whole or any part of the province.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Would it not be advisable to have on such Boards Mussalmans who know about the sentiments of the Muslim public ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have no reason to suppose that the Muslim members of the Censorship Boards are other than those described by the Honourable Member.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : May I know who are the members at present ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have not got their names. The main Boards sit at Bombay and Calcutta. Except in Burma, every Censorship Board has a Muslim representative.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Are you aware of the fact that in the case of many films a hue and cry has been raised among the Mussalmans and that they had objections to such films ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I can only repeat what I said at the beginning of my answer, that I have received no recent complaints from any Muslim bodies in this matter.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Are you aware that a film called Hur-i-Haram was shown in Amritsar and that there was a great deal of trouble about it ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have no information on that point, but I wish once more to explain that the Government do realise very fully the importance of ensuring proper and efficient censorship of films and, in view of the elaborate arrangements which I have described in my answer, I think that it should be possible to secure that censorship.

BOMBARDMENT OF CERTAIN VILLAGES OF INDEPENDENT TRIBES ON THE NORTH-WEST FRONTIER BY BRITISH AEROPLANES.

485. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that villages of independent tribes of the North-West Frontier were bombarded by British aeroplanes ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The facts have already been given to the House. A single village was bombed, after due warning had been given to enable the inhabitants to remove themselves to a place of safety.

†486*—545*.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT SUBMITTED BY THE HAJ ENQUIRY COMMITTEE.

546. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House or to keep in the library a copy of the confidential report submitted by the Haj Inquiry Committee ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : In case there is a confidential report, my Honourable friend will agree that it could not be laid on the table of the House.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is there any such report ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : You will remember, Sir, that since the beginning my Honourable friend has been repeating questions on that point. I have nothing to add to the answers I have been giving him.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I do not want to know the information. I only want to know whether there is such a report. I want to know from Government whether they are aware that there is such a report ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I answered not in my personal capacity, but on behalf of Government.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : May I take it that there is no confidential report ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : If my Honourable friend knows, he need not ask and, if he does not know, I cannot enlighten him.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I have not seen all the contents of the report and so I do not know. May I take it that there is no confidential report at all ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have nothing to add to the answer which I have given.

Mr. Uppi Sahib Bahadur : Is there any supplementary report ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I am not aware of any supplementary report.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I want protection from the Chair. I have put a simple question and the Honourable Member can say " Yes " or " No ".

Mr. Uppi Sahib Bahadur : I want to know whether there is any report other than the report of the Haj Committee which has been published.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : The report of the Haj Committee has been published.

Mr. Uppi Sahib Bahadur : Is there any other report ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : That is the only published report.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is there any report which is confidential ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have already given such facts as I know.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : What objection has the Honourable Member to say that he is not prepared to say, instead of giving evasive answers.

†For these questions and answers thereto, see Legislative Assembly Debates, dated the 1st September, 1933.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend says that my reply is evasive. I have already given the information that I have.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does the Honourable Member know that there has been so much protest on this side ? If it is confidential, he should say that it is confidential.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My reply was that if there is a confidential report, it could not be laid on the table of the House.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : What is the meaning of " if there is " ? I want to know if there is such a report ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I told my Honourable friend that if he knows, he need not ask, and that if he does not know, I cannot enlighten him.

Kunwar Hajee Ismail Ali Khan : Has he seen any confidential report ?

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : In my private capacity, I have seen confidential report once, but, not as a member of any committee, and I do not know all the contents of the confidential report.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if the Honourable Member's reply was evasive or not ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend tried to seek protection from you. I think I have a right to say that when Members come into possession of confidential information in the capacity of Members elected by the House, they cannot, with propriety, disclose that information on the floor of the House.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I have not seen the report in that capacity.

PURCHASE OF GRAIN FOR THE MILITARY AND MANAGEMENT OF THE DEPOTS.

547. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) The period for which the agency for purchasing grain for the military and for managing the depots has been under the control of Messrs. Owen Roberts & Co., Ltd. ?

(ii) The total amount paid up to date to this private limited firm in commission and in remuneration ?

(b) Is it a fact that vast sums were paid in commission and remuneration to this private firm during a long period without ever calling for a public tender ?

(c) Is it a fact that, as a result of grave dissatisfaction existing among prospective Indian tenderers, the military authorities have now called for public tenders ?

(d) Is it a fact that the conditions attached to this tender are such as would give an advantage in tendering to the present holders of the contract, principally on the following grounds :

(i) the tenderers are expected to show experience of purchasing, crushing and handling grain for a number of years ;

(ii) the tenderers are expected to take over and work with the existing establishment set up by the present holders ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) (i). About seven years.

(ii) It would be improper, especially at the present juncture when new tenders are being invited, to disclose the amounts paid to the present Agent.

(b) No, the agency for grain purchase was given as a result of open competitive tender and was followed, after a probationary period, by the grant of the agency for the management of the depots.

(c) Tenders have been invited for the usual reasons.

(d) No. Tenderers have been asked to explain the nature and extent of their special knowledge and experience of the grain trade and to state the establishment which they propose to employ and the estimated cost thereof. Until information on these points is forthcoming, it cannot be stated whether the present agents have an advantage over other tenderers.

Mr. Gaya Parasad Singh : May I know if Messrs. Owen Roberts and Company were given the contract after calling for a public tender in the usual manner ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Yes, they were.

PURCHASE OF GRAIN FOR THE MILITARY AND MANAGEMENT OF THE DEPOTS.

548. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the facts relating to the experience possessed by the present holders, Messrs. Owen Roberts & Co., Ltd., in purchasing and handling grain before the contract was privately handed over to them ?

(b) Have Government considered whether all this work could be handled by an officer of the Indian Stores Department, thus effecting a saving of several lakhs to the Exchequer ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) As already explained, the purchase and handling of grains was not privately handed over to Messrs. Owen Roberts and Company, Limited.

Before the firm secured the agency Mr. Owen Roberts was the manager of the up-country organisation of Messrs. Clements Robson and Company, one of the principal grain exporting firms in India. He possessed a wide and intimate knowledge of the Northern India grain trade.

(b) No. The Indian Stores Department do not undertake the purchase of foodstuffs.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I know why the Indian Stores Department cannot undertake this work ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I do not think I am in a position to answer that question.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I am asking the Member of Government in charge of the subject.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I do not think the Department have either the staff or the experience.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether Government will consider the desirability of having an organisation in the Stores Department to do this ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Government consider that the present arrangements are the most suitable for the purpose.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is it not a fact that the Stores Department want more work and that they pressed upon the Retrenchment Committee the desirability of the Army and the railways purchasing through them ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : That is so, but it does not want this particular business.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is there any statutory disability against their doing this business ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : None.

PURCHASE OF GRAIN FOR THE MILITARY AND MANAGEMENT OF THE DEPOTS.

549. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Is it a fact that in the published tender a condition is laid down that the Director of Contracts is not bound to accept the lowest tender ? Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for laying down such a condition ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the reason for demanding from the tenderers a heavy security of 2½ lakhs of rupees for purchasing and handling grain ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) This clause appears in most invitations for tenders, for the very obvious reason that the lowest tender may not always be suitable.

(b) The deposits of 1½ lakhs in respect of grain purchase and of 1 lakh in respect of depot management have been demanded with reference to the volume of business and the responsibility which devolves on the agents owing to the fact that large sums of Government money are advanced to them for the purchase of grains and much valuable Government property is entrusted to their charge.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I know whether in those cases where the tender is not accepted, there is any special supervision exercised by Government ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The officer who receives the tender, if he does not propose to accept the lowest tender, has to give a full explanation of his reasons for doing so.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Is there any system by which Government closely examines those cases ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I must ask for notice of that question.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

550. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that at the time of retrenchment in the Survey of India Department in the year 1931, the Surveyor General in his departmental order No. 2718, dated the 3rd November, 1931, laid down that men for retrenchment had been selected from those who (i) volunteered to accept compensatory terms, or (ii) were already entitled to full or substantial pensions, or (iii) were below the average in efficiency, or (iv) were young enough to make a fresh start in life ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Yes.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

551. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Is it a fact that in Class II service of the Survey of India Department four officers with less than 10 years' service were selected for retrenchment and the remaining with the exception of one with over 25 years service ?

(b) Is it a fact that these four young officers have been paid gratuities for their satisfactory service and will also be entitled to draw pension under the new rules ?

(c) Is it a fact that Government are now holding a competitive examination for filling of seven vacancies in the same service ?

(d) Is it a fact that out of these officers two had stood first in the competitive examination ?

(e) Is it a fact that of these two officers mentioned in part (d) above, one Mr. Seth Ram Gupta has received an all-round training, i.e., in plane tabling (both plains and hills), traverse, triangulation, rectangulation, and air surveys, and has held charge of camps and sections ?

(f) If the answers to parts (d) and (e) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state why they are not taking those trained officers back who are still on leave, instead of recruiting new hands whom they will have to train afresh ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Four of the officers selected for retrenchment had less than 10 years' service, two between 10 and 25 years' service and the remainder more than 25 years' service.

(b) Yes, except one who is not entitled to a pension.

(c), (d) and (e). The reply is in the affirmative.

(f) I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply given to part (c) of question No. 346 in this House on 1st September.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR PROBATIONERS FOR CERTAIN POSTS AT THE RAILWAY SCHOOL, CHANDAUSI.

552. Mr. A. Das : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the following advertisement which appeared on page 6, of the Pioneer, dated the 29th July, 1933 :

> "Wanted Probationers for Assistant Station Masters and Signallers training at the Chandausi School. Candidates must be Muslims and have passed the Matriculation or equivalent examination, they must hold a diploma in telegraphy from a recognised telegraph training institution.
>
> Application with copies of certificates should be addressed to the Office Superintendent, Divisional Superintendent's Office, Howrah, and reach him before the 15th August, 1933.
>
> Applications are to be forwarded in a cover superscribed 'Application for appointment as probationer'.
>
> Divisional Superintendent, Howrah,
> E. I. R.".

If not, will Government be pleased to state why only applications were invited from a particular community to the exclusion of others ?

(b) Was the advertisement referred to in part (a) above put in under the direction of the Railway Board ?

(c) What is the policy of the Railway Board for the filling of new posts in future ?

(d) Was a similar advertisement issued for the employment of non-Muslims for any post ?

(e) What step do Government propose to take to put a stop to such communal advertisements ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have called for information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

EMPLOYMENT OF TWO SPECIAL SQUADS OF TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

553. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Is it a fact that the East Indian Railway authorities have recently engaged two special squads of ticket examiners, consisting mostly of Anglo-Indians, who were in the surplus list, on the plea that in three months (January to March last) no less than four lakhs of passengers were detected travelling without tickets on the East Indian Railway ?

(b) Is it a fact that most of these Anglo-Indians have been recruited from the cleaner class, who were drawing Rs. 15 per month and are now getting Rs. 75 per month, with free furnished quarters and consolidated allowance amounting to 50 per cent. of their pay ; and that the estimated cost of this establishment is nearly Rs. 45,000 per annum ?

(c) Is it a fact that the Indian Travelling Ticket Examiners who are doing the same jobs are given allowances of Rs. 13 and Rs. 17 only, and no quarters or house allowance is given to them ?

(d) Are Government aware that these newly appointed Anglo-Indians have already made themselves prominent by their rough behaviour with the public, so much so that the travelling public in certain areas have decided to take to buses ?

(e) Do Government propose to take any action in the matter ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have called for information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

INDUSTRIES GIVEN PROTECTION UNDER THE SAFEGUARDING OF INDUSTRIES ACT.

554. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state how many industries have been given protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act of 1933 ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the amount of additional customs duty leviable on the articles which have been protected under the Safeguarding of Industries Act of 1933 ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state which industries have applied to them for protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1933 ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state the names of the industries the application for whose protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1933, is being examined by them and in respect of which questionnaires have been issued for answers ?

(e) Do Government propose to keep in view the interest of the public who consume the articles ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) None.

(b) None.

(c) A statement giving the required information is laid upon the table.

(d) The Honourable Member is referred to the statement which has been laid upon the table.

(e) Yes.

List of Industries that have applied for protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1933.

Name of Industry.	Article specifically mentioned.
1. Wire and wire-nail	(a) Wire. (b) Wire-nail.
2. Woollen mill	(a) Woollen piecegoods. (b) Woollen hosiery. (c) Woollen blankets and rugs.
3. Straw board	Straw Board.
4. Pottery	(a) Porcelain— (i) insulators. (ii) stoneware jars. (b) Earthenware— (i) tea and tableware. (ii) inkpots table. (iii) gallipots. (iv) dolls-toys. (v) sanitaryware. (vi) glazed tiles.
5. Iron and steel pipes	(a) Cast iron pipes. (b) Steel pipes. (c) Asbestos cement pipes.
6. Cotton braid	Cotton braids.
7. Soap	(a) Toilet soap. (b) Household and Laundry soap.
8. Beer	Beer.
9. Paper	(a) White printing paper. (b) Cream-laid paper.
10. Cement	Portland Cement.

Name of Industry.	Article specifically mentioned.
11. Hosiery	(a) Cotton— (i) underwear. (ii) socks and stockings. (iii) garments. (b) Woollen.
12. Cotton taxtile	(a) Cotton wicks, tapes, webs, nivar, etc. (b) Cotton listerings (belting).
13. Cotton handkerchiefs	Cotton handkerchiefs.
14. Enamelled ware	Enamelled iron ware.
15. Cotton piecegoods	(a) Artificial silk piecegoods. (b) Cotton towels.
16. Glass	(a) Sheet glass. (b) Globes and chimneys. (c) Tumblers. (d) Stoppered jars. (e) Bangles.
17. Rubber-soled canvas shoes ..	Rubber-soled canvas shoes.
18. Cotton yarn	Cotton yarn.
19. Wood-screws	Wood-screws.
20. Mother-of-pearl buttons	Mother-of-pearl buttons.
21. Leather and leather shoes ..	(a) Leather tanning. (b) Canvas shoes. (c) Rubber shoes. (d) Boots and shoes (in general). (e) Imitation leather suit cases, purses, etc.
22. Silk	Silk and silk goods.
23. Vegetable oil	....
24. Pencil	Pencil.
25. Chemicals	(a) Potash. (b) Alum. (c) Coal tar products.
26. Paints	(a) White lead. (b) Red lead. (c) Zinc white. (d) Coloured paints. (e) Enamels. (f) Water paints. (g) Dry colours. (h) Varnishes.
27. Fruit growing	Apples.
28. Playing cards	Playing cards.
29. School slate	School slate.
30. Hurricane lantern	Hurricane lanterns.
31. Leather belting	Leather belting.
32. Bobbin manufacturing	Bobbins.
33. Umbrella making	Umbrellas.
34. Sugarcandy	Sugarcandy.
35. Ink industry	Writing and stamping ink.
36. Agricultural implements industry ..	Pumps, etc.
37. Indian handloom industry ..	Artificial silk products.
38. Indian Cable Co.	Electric wires and cables.
39. Iron and steel cast foundering ..	Castings, etc.

EXPIRY OF THE INDO-JAPANESE TRADE CONVENTION OF 1905.

555. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the date on which the Indo-Japanese Trade Convention of 1905 will expire ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The Indo-Japanese Trade Convention will expire on the 10th October, 1933.

IMPENDING VISIT OF A JAPANESE DELEGATION FOR NEGOTIATIONS FOR A TRADE CONVENTION.

556. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware of any impending visit of any Japanese delegation for negotiations for a trade convention ?

(b) Have Government received any information from the Japanese Government ?

(c) Have Government received any correspondence from the Secretary of State in this connection ?

(d) Before accepting any proposal of the Japanese delegation, do Government propose to place it before a select committee of this House ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) A Delegation representing the Government of Japan will shortly arrive in India for the purpose of negotiating a trade agreement. The Honourable Member's attention is invited to the communiqué published on the 10th August, 1933.

(b) I regret that the Honourable Member's question is not quite clear to me.

(c) Yes.

(d) If the acceptance of any proposal involves legislation, it must to that extent necessarily come before the Legislature.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will these delegates come here in their official capacity as representatives of the Japanese Government ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : In what other capacity does my Honourable friend suggest they will come ?

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : They may come in their private capacity to discuss this question with the Government of India.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : No, Sir. It is a formal official deputation representing the Japanese Government that is on its way to India to negotiate a trade agreement.

Mr. B. Das : Will Government kindly say whether all the interests will be represented on the side of the Indian Government ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : No interests will be represented in the Conference for the simple reason that the Conference is between the official representatives of the Indian Government and the official representatives of the Japanese Government. But the Government are taking all steps in their power to ensure that they will, during the conduct of negotiations, be kept in the closest touch with industrial, commercial and other interests concerned so that they may not leave any consideration out of account in coming to their conclusions.

Mr. B. Das : May I ask if the interests of labour, the consumer, and the cotton growers will also be represented and will be taken as advisers to the Government ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Government will take into account all these interests.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask what steps have been taken to get the representation of labour interests in these matters ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am quite sure that the Government will not neglect labour interests. As my Honourable friend knows, my colleague, the Honourable Sir Frank Noyce, is a member of our official delegation and, I am sure, that the interests of labour will be perfectly safe in his hands.

An Honourable Member : What about the consumer ?

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether the Honourable Member in charge of Industries and Labour will represent the Government or labour interest ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : He will represent the Government undoubtedly, but I have not the faintest doubt that he will also represent the interests of labour as well.

An Honourable Member : And of industries !

ORGANISATIONS INVITED FOR GIVING EVIDENCE BEFORE THE JOINT PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEE.

557. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to place on the table of this House a statement giving :

(i) the names of the organisations which applied formally or informally, for giving evidence before the Joint Parliamentary Committee ;

(ii) the names of organisations which were allowed to give evidence before the Joint Parliamentary Committee ;

(iii) the names of organisations which were invited by the Joint Parliamentary Committee for giving evidence before them ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : It was entirely at the discretion of the Joint Parliamentary Committee to decide what witnesses it would hear, and its procedure in dealing with applications. Beyond the provisional list of associations and persons contained in the communiqué of 1st June, which I lay on the table, the Government of India have no information on the points put by the Honourable Member.

List of associations and persons invited by the Joint Select Committee on Indian Constitutional Reform to attend and give evidence before them. This list is provisional and may still be added to :—

1. Chamber of Princes,
2. Kashmir,
3. Cochin,
4. Group of Southern Mahratta States,

5. Hindu Mahasabha,
6. All-India Varnashram Swarajya Sangha,
7. Central Hindu Committee of Legislature,
8. South Indian Liberal Federation,
9. All-India Muslim Conference,
10. All-India Landholders' Association, British Indian Association, Calcutta, Madras Landholders' Association, Agra Zamindars' Association, Bihar Landholders' Association, Bengal Landholders' Association, Taluqdars of Oudh, Bombay Sardars and Inamdars.
11. Sind Separation Conference,
12. Sind Hindu Sabha,
13. European Association,
14. Associated Chambers of Commerce,
15. Merchants Chamber of Commerce, Cawnpore, U. P. Chamber of Commerce, Bengal Mahajan Sabha,
16. Indian Trades Union Federation, Bengal Trade Union Federation,
17. All-India Women's Conference, National Council of Women and Women's Indian Association,
18. Mahila Samiti (Ladies' Association), Bengal,
19. Central I. C. S. Association, I. C. S. Retired Association,
20. All-India Association of European Government Servants,
21. Indian Police Association,
22. Indian Officers' Association (Calcutta),
23. Indian Empire Society,
24. British Committee for Indian Women's Franchise,
25. Shipowners' Parliamentary Committee,
26. Manchester Chamber of Commerce,
27. British Insurance Association,
28. Colonel Wedgwood,
29. Miss Rathbone,
30. Wing Commander James, M.P., Dr. Hutton,
31. Pandit Nanak Chand,
32. Mr. Sachidananda Sinha,
33. Field Marshal Sir Claud Jacob,
34. Sir Francis Griffith,
35. Sir M. O'Dwyer,
36. Mr. Douglas Dewar,
37. Sir Louis Stuart,
38. The Anglo-Indian and Domiciled European Association (Sir H. Gidney delegate).

REFORMS OFFICE,

Imla, the 1st June, 1933.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : It means that the Government of India re not aware of the names of organisations which applied formally hrough the Reforms Office to the Joint Parliamentary Committee ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am laying a statement on the table and my Honourable friend would do well to consult that statement.

AMOUNT PAID TO EACH WITNESS INVITED TO GIVE EVIDENCE BEFORE THE JOINT PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEE.

558. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state what amount has been given or is to be given to each witness of the different organisations who went to England to give evidence before the Joint Parliamentary Committee ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether the money which has been paid or is to be paid to the witnesses has been paid or is to be paid from the Indian exchequer or from the British exchequer ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply which I gave to his question No. 131 on the 29th August, 1933.

KEEPING OF THE CALCUTTA HIGH COURT IN THE NEW CONSTITUTION ON DIFFERENT FOOTING FROM THAT OF OTHER HIGH COURTS.

559. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that Government have recommended to the Secretary of State for India that the Calcutta High Court should under the new Constitution be kept on a footing different from that of the High Courts of other provinces ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The position of High Courts under the new Constitution is before His Majesty's Government and I am not in a position to state what recommendations the Government of India have made in the matter.

RENTING OF THE LONG CORRUGATED IRON SHED TO THE SUMMER HILL COMMANDANT.

560. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the particular purpose for which the long corrugated iron shed which was rented to the Summer Hill Commandant, with "E" Barrack, for the storage of coal, etc., is now used ?

(b) What is its assessed value ?

(c) Is it used now as a carpenter's workshop, and if so, will Government be pleased to justify accommodating the carpenter there ? Is a carpenter engaged on daily wages entitled to use free Government servant quarters or such buildings ?

(d) Have Government considered whether this shed can be converted into a rickshaw shed and be given to a rickshaw chaudhari ? If not, why not ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state the number of buildings lying vacant at Summer Hill ?

(f) Are Government prepared to consider the question of renting them to the public, whenever asked for, in order to get a return of the capital invested therein ?

(g) Will Government be pleased to state if any offer to rent the long corrugated iron shed was received this year ? If so, will they be pleased to state why it was not rented ? Have Government considered whether buildings such as (i) the coffee shop near "A" Barrack, (ii) the whole of "E" Barrack consisting of 40 rooms, and (iii) the carpenters' old workshop, next-door to the Overseer's office at Summer Hill can be used as a workshop ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state the circumstances under which the old workshop was vacated and shifted to the long corrugated iron shed ?

(i) Is it a fact that the old workshop was rented to a draughtsman by the Executive Engineer ? If so, how much rent was realised ?

(j) Will Government be pleased to state the name of the person who is responsible for the loss of rent of such vacant buildings, built from public funds, and the reason why public offers were refused ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The shed is used for storage of materials and plant required for maintenance of Summer Hill quarters, and also as a shelter for departmental labour when the necessity arises.

(b) Its assessed value is Rs. 882.

(c) No ; the carpenter does not live in the shed and the remaining part of the question does not arise.

(d) No ; the shed is required for the use of the Central Public Works Department.

(e) Barrack 'C' (7 rooms), Barrack 'D' (3 rooms) and Barrack 'E' (all the rooms, i.e., 32).

(f) The buildings are rented to suitable persons when demands arise, provided they are not required by entitled officials.

(g) Yes, an offer was received to rent this shed, and it was not accepted as the shed was required for the purposes mentioned in part (a) above. The reply to the latter portion is in the negative.

(h) No information is available. It is understood that a workshop never existed in the shed referred to.

(i) No. A draftsman while working there temporarily occupied a portion of the office building while carrying out his official duties.

(j) The question does not arise. Every endeavour is made to rent residential accommodation as far as it is compatible with the rules.

SALE OF THE SURPLUS LAND AT SUMMER HILL CALLED THE FOOTBALL GROUND.

561. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the rate, per acre or bigha, at which the surplus land at Summer Hill called the football ground, has been sold to Mr. Ganga Ram Kauda ?

(b) How many similar offers for other surplus and waste land lying at Summer Hill have been received and refused by the Executive Engineer, Simla, and for what reasons ?

(c) Is the surplus land at Summer Hill public property ?

(d) Why was it not sold by public auction ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) A rate of Rs. 507-14-0 per bigha, as assessed by the Civil Revenue authorities at Simla, was fixed in connection with this sale.

(b) No other offers for surplus and waste land have been received or refused by the Executive Engineer. One application from Sardar Sahib Bur Singh was received for a plot of land, neither surplus nor waste, which was not considered available for sale.

(c) Yes.

(d) Government do not consider it desirable to sell land in this vicinity by public auction.

PERMISSION TO RAILWAY EMPLOYEES TO PAY THEIR INSURANCE PREMIA FROM THE PROVIDENT FUND.

562. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Is it a fact that Railway employees are not allowed to pay their insurance premia from their Provident Fund ?

(b) Are Government aware that a representation on the subject was made in 1932 to the Agent, North Western Railway, without any reply from him ?

(c) Are Government aware that the Railway employees are greatly handicapped for want of this facility ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state whether they are prepared to consider this matter satisfactorily for the benefit of the Railway employees ? If so, when ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) The State Railway Provident Fund Rules do not grant such a concession.

(b) The Agent, North Western Railway, has brought this matter to the notice of Government.

(c) and (d). The question is at present under consideration.

CREATION OF INSURANCE COMPANIES IN INDIA.

563. Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim : (a) Is it a fact that the Government Actuary expressed in the 1931 Year Book that creation of more insurance companies is undesirable (vide page 10, para. 19) ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, do Government propose to stop the creation of more insurance companies ? If not, why not ?

(c) Are Government aware that the public of India are losing confidence in insurance companies—Indian companies in general—and that well established Indian Assurance companies are therefore losing business ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) The Actuary referred to life assurance companies only.

(b) No. Government have no power to do so under the existing law.

(c) No. New business increased steadily (except for a slight check in 1930) from 5,64 lakhs in 1922 to 17,76 lakhs in 1931.

Mr. R. S. Sarma : Do Government realise that the time has now come for a more stringent insurance legislation and that failure to do so would involve a large number of people in utter ruin ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The question is under the general consideration of the Government of India.

Mr. B. Das : Is it not a fact that the Government have been shelving the amendment of the Insurance Act for the last seven years and that Government have been considering all these years ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I cannot state exactly what the period of time involved is, but I can only endorse the latter part of my Honourable friend's question, namely, that the Government are still considering.

Mr. B. Das : Have not the Government taken an inordinate time since 1929 to consider this question ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I cannot admit that the time is inordinate considering the intricacy of the subject.

AERIAL BOMBARDMENT AT KOTKAI ON THE NORTH-WEST FRONTIER.

564. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the circumstances which led them to believe that Kotkai in the tribal country was completely evacuated before the aerial bombardment was begun by the Royal Air Force machines ?

(b) Is it a fact that two tribal women carrying water pitchers from a distance and children in their arms while on their way back home to Kotkai were among the many victims of this bombardment ?

(c) Is it a fact that a mosque with three copies of the Holy Qoran was set on fire and completely burnt down by this bombardment ?

(d) Is it also a fact that no fewer than seventeen old men, women and children who were unable to carry arms, were the victims of this bombardment from the air ?

(e) What were the means adopted by Government to meet similar situations in the tribal country when the aerial service did not exist as a weapon of war ?

(f) What is the probable cost of the present expedition into the tribal country, both by land and air, separately ?

(g) Do Government propose to appoint a commission of enquiry, composed of official and non-official members, to enquire into the above allegations ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : The House has already been placed in possession of the main facts relating and leading up to the incident to which the Honourable Member refers. The answers to the various parts of his question are as follows :

(a) Forty-eight hours notice was given before the bombing took place and the village presented a deserted appearance when it was bombed.

(b), (c) and (d). The Government have made the closest possible enquiries both from military and civil sources, and so far as they have been able to ascertain, not a single human being was killed and only one man was injured. It is reported that two beams were damaged in a small mosque, the existence of which was previously unknown, but it is still standing, and it was certainly not completely burnt down. There is no reason to believe that any copies of the Koran were left in the mosque when the village was evacuated, still less that any of them were damaged in any way.

(e) In the absence of the Royal Air Force, the only alternative would have been an expedition by land forces. As Kotkai is 30 miles from the nearest road across very mountainous country, and another 45 from rail head, such an expedition would have been a long and costly business and would almost certainly have involved a considerable number of casualties on both sides.

(f) The cost of the air expedition amounted to under Rs. 15,000. No land operations have been, or are being, undertaken in Bajaur, but a land expedition would have cost several lakhs of rupees a month.

(g) In view of the explanations given the Government do not consider that any such enquiry is necessary.

CLERICAL STAFF OF THE CURRENCY OFFICES IN INDIA.

565. Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether the clerical staff of the Currency Offices in India is divided into two parts, viz., pensionable and non-pensionable ? If so, how many are pensionable and how many non-pensionable in each Currency Office ;

(b) whether the whole staff of the Currency Offices will be required if the Reserve Bank is started ? If not, do Government propose to see that in these hard days of depression and unemployment none from the Currency Offices is thrown out of employment owing to the creation of the Reserve Bank ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) It is correct that the clerical staff of the Currency offices is partly pensionable and partly non-pensionable. Information regarding the exact number of each class is not immediately available.

(b) Pending the decision of the Legislature on the proposed Reserve Bank Bill, the whole question is hypothetical.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if the Currency Office will remain in existence when the Reserve Bank comes into force ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Is there any Currency Office to remain in existence, is that the Honourable Member's question ?

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : The present one.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : It is impossible to state in answer to a short question exactly what the arrangements will be when the Reserve Bank comes into operation. But obviously Currency Offices as such will practically disappear.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does the Honourable Member know whether in the proposals for the Reserve Bank anything has been decided about these Currency Offices ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : We have not reached that stage yet.

ABOLITION OF THE POST OF DISTRICT MEDICAL OFFICER ON THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

566. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : (a) Is it a fact that since an Indian has been appointed as Civil Surgeon at Bareilly, United Provinces, the District Medical Officer's post on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway has been abolished and his salary given to the Chief Medical Officer, Gorakhpur, United Provinces ?

(b) Are Government aware that cases of urgent and serious nature cannot be attended to by the Medical Officer of Gorakhpur, United Provinces, thus causing great inconvenience to the public concerned ? Do Government propose to do anything to relieve the public of this inconvenience ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : With your permission, Sir, I propose to reply to questions Nos. 566 and 567 together. I have called for information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

HALF PAY GIVEN TO THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY EMPLOYEES ON SICK LIST.

†567. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Are Government aware that the employees of Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, when placed on the sick list, are (i) given half-pay, and (ii) no average overtime is allowed by the Agent (vide Circular No. 50 of 1920) ?

GRIEVANCES OF THE EMPLOYEES OF THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

568. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Are Government aware that men on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway are compelled to do 300 hours of work during the busy season and during the slack season are placed on compulsory leave for three months without pay ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : If the Honourable Member would specify the period in which the staff of the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway are supposed to work 300 hours, I will consider calling for information from the Railway Administration concerned.

DUTY OF ASSISTANT STATION MASTERS AT ROADSIDE STATIONS ON THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

569. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Are Government aware that Assistant Station Masters at roadside stations on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway are compelled to do 24 hours duty every day, and that the late Assistant Station Master, Baluri station, was punished for refusing to work for 24 hours ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 566.

Mr. P. R. Rau : No, Sir. I have not been able to trace a station of that name in the alphabetical list of Railway stations in India prepared by the Indian Railway Conference Association.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT AT MALA, ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

570. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Are Government aware that the accident that took place at Mala on the 7th of July, 1933, was due to (i) the Assistant Station Master being overworked, (ii) a probationer pointsman with only 14 days' service, and with absolutely no knowledge and experience of his work, having been posted at that station, and (iii) the station not being inter-locked ? What steps do Government propose to take to remedy such evils in the Company's management ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information. I am, however, sending a copy of this question and its reply to the Agent, Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, for any action he may consider necessary.

POSTING OF EUROPEAN ex-SOLDIERS WITH NO KNOWLEDGE OF RAILWAY WORKING ON THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

571. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Is it a fact that European ex-soldiers with no knowledge of Railway working are being posted on a starting salary of Rs. 85 a month, while Indians who are fit and qualified are only given Rs. 24 per month on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Sir, with your permission I propose to deal with this and the next question together. I have called for information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS GIVEN BY THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

†572. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : (a) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement giving the figures regarding educational grants given by the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway to (i) Indians, and (ii) Europeans and Anglo-Indians ?

(b) Is it a fact that only Rs. 2,500 is given for 20,000 Indian employees ?

(c) Is it also a fact that Members of Educational Committee only can get grants, while sons of station staff and others are deprived of the privilege ? In case the latter are given any grant what is the percentage of both ?

TENDERS FOR CATERING ON THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

573. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Will Government be pleased to state why tenders for catering on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, are not advertised ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : The Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway Administration reports that the catering contractor has held the contract for many years, and that as no change is considered necessary there is no need to call for tenders.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 571.

REST HOUSES AT CERTAIN STATIONS ON THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

574. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : (a) Are Government aware that Rest Houses on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, are not given for occupation to Indian staff at Mailani, Kasganj, Lucknow and Moradabad and that they are thus compelled to occupy waiting rooms and thereby inconvenience the travelling public ?

(b) Are Government aware that the waiting rooms on the State section of this Railway between Lucknow junction and Bhojeepura are used as lamp rooms and Station Master's offices ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information but a copy of the questions is being sent to the Agent, for such action as may be necessary.

REFUSAL BY THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY TO SUPPLY ELECTRIC POWER TO INDIAN EMPLOYEES.

575. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : (a) Are Government aware that where electric power has been installed on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, the Company refuses to supply electric current on the ground of the employees being Indians ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state (i) if any Indians are supplied with electric current, and (ii) their percentage as compared with European staff ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information but consider it unlikely that a railway worked on business princiles like the Rohilkund and Kumaun Railway would adopt such an attitude. I am, however, enquiring into the matter and shall lay a further reply on the table in due course.

PURCHASE OF THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

576. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : (a) Are Government aware that the policy of the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway Company, has been to hold up all improvements ?

(b) Have Government considered the question of the inadvisability of opening new sections in Southern India—where the Members of the Board have recently been touring for that purpose—for which loans will have to be raised and of not raising loans for the purchase of the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Government are not aware of any such policy, nor have they any reason to suspect its existence.

(b) The Honourable Member is under a misapprehension in believing that Members of the Railway Board have been touring for the purpose of opening new sections in Southern India. I may add that the question of starting new constructions in Southern India or elsewhere depends entirely on whether they are likely to be remunerative and whether funds can be provided for the purpose at the present. The earliest date on which the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway can be bought out is December, 1937, and the purchase of that railway has therefore little to do with the other question.

CONSTRUCTION OF PLATFORMS AND OVERBRIDGES AT MAILANI AND BHOJEEPURA STATIONS ON THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

577. Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : (a) Are Government aware that at Mailani and Bhojeepura stations passenger trains are admitted amongst a lot of goods wagons, thereby endangering the lives of the public and staff ?

(b) Are Government prepared to advise the Agent, Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, to build overbridges and platforms at those places ? If not, why not ?

(c) Are the orders of the S. G. I. regarding the above being treated with contempt ? If so, why ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Information is being obtained from the Railway Administration and a reply will be laid on the table in due course.

GRANT OF BENEFIT OF ENJOYING THE OLD SCALES OF PAY TO THE RETRENCHED STAFF OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA SECRETARIAT ON RE-EMPLOYMENT.

578. Mr. S. C. Mitra: (a) Is it a fact that the new scales of pay will be applied to the staff who were in service prior to 15th July, 1931, and retrenched after 16th July, 1931, on account of economy in the Secretariat and its Attached Offices ?

(b) Will Government please state the number of such men who were retrenched and subsequently employed and are likely to be affected by the new scales of pay ?

(c) Are Government aware that many of these men would have been confirmed in the old scales of pay if there were no retrenchment ?

(d) Do Government propose to grant an option to the departments to allow the retrenched staff the benefit of enjoying the old scales of pay ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes, the new scales of pay will apply to all who entered the Secretariat and its Attached Offices on or after 16th July, 1931, including re-employed retrenched personnel.

(b) Government have not the information readily available and do not think the result of its collection would justify the labour and time involved.

(c) This is possible, but the question is too hypothetical for Government to give a definite answer.

(d) No. The retrenched personnel re-employment rules apply not only to the Secretariat and Attached Offices but to all other services under the Government of India and it would be impossible for Government to make an exception in the case of these two particular classes of offices.

HOLDING UP OF CONFIRMATIONS OF SUBORDINATES IN THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA SECRETARIAT AND ATTACHED OFFICES.

579. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that the Government of India have imposed an embargo on all confirmations of subordinates in the Secretariat and Attached Offices ?

(b) Will Government please state how many cases have been held up for confirmation in the various Divisions in the Secretariat and Attached Offices as the result of this embargo ?

(c) When do Government propose to lift this embargo and will Government please state why this restriction has been imposed in the case of retrenched staff and whether they are prepared to set it aside in the case of retrenched staff since employed on permanent posts ?

(d) Are Government aware that there is a strong feeling in this House against this hard and unjust order ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes.

(b) Government have not got the information readily available and do not think the result of its collection would justify the labour and time involved.

(c) The retrenched staff, when re-employed, are in the same position as new entrants to Government service and the embargo on confirmation automatically applies to them. The embargo will be removed on the issue of the new scales of pay which are now under publication.

(d) Government have no information.

PROMOTIONS OF ASSISTANT SURGEONS AND SUB-ASSISTANT SURGEONS OF THE INDIAN MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

580. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to state, separately for each year, the strength in the Indian Medical Department during the last five years, of (i) Assistant Surgeons, and (ii) Sub-Assistant Surgeons ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the system under which special supernumerary promotions are granted to members of the Indian Medical Department mentioned above ?

(c) How many such special supernumerary promotions have been granted during the last five years, (i) to Assistant Surgeons, and (ii) to Sub-Assistant Surgeons ?

(d) Has promotion been given to these two categories of the Indian Medical Department in the ratio of their existing strength ? If not, why not ?

(e) Is it a fact that proportionately more promotions have been given to Assistant Surgeons than to Sub-Assistant Surgeons ? If so, are Government prepared to consider the desirability of making good this shortage in future ?

(f) Is it a fact that when a Viceroy's commissioned officer in the Indian Army is given the honorary King's commissioned rank he is made to retire after four years of that promotion ? Does a similar rule exist in the Indian Medical Department for Sub-Assistant Surgeons ? If not, why not ?

(g) How many officers in the Indian Medical Department are holding the honorary King's commissioned rank, and for how long ?

(h) Is it a fact that by allowing such officers to continue in service for considerably longer period than four years, the chances of promotion of other deserving officers are retarded ? If so, do Government propose to remedy this defect in the rules, so as to bring it into conformity with the practice that obtains in the Indian Army ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) I lay on the table a statement giving the information desired by the Honourable Member.

(b) Special promotions are made under the provisions of paragraph 10 of Appendix XXVII to the Regulations for the Army in India.

(c) Two Assistant Surgeons.

One Sub-Assistant Surgeon.

(d) and (e). Promotions are given for individual merit alone ; the question of ratio therefore does not arise.

(f) No, Sir. There is no tenure for an Honorary King's Commissioned officer as such. The second and third parts of the question do not arise.

(g) Seven—one 5 years, two nearly 3 years each, and the rest less than one year each.

(h) In view of the answer to part (f) this question does not arise.

Statement showing the strength in the Indian Medical Department of certain Officers.

Year.	Assistant Surgeons.	Sub-Assistant Surgeons.
1928	592	895
1929	585	854
1930	569	877
1931	556	862
1932	530	829

ARREST OF MR. DEVIDAS GANDHI AT DELHI.

581. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Is it a fact that as soon as Mr. Devidas Gandhi, accompanied by his wife, arrived at Delhi about the 6th August, 1933, in the night, he was served with a notice at the station under section 3 of the Punjab Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1932, asking him " to depart from the Delhi Province immediately, and remain outside its limits ", until further notice ?

(b) Are Government aware that Mr. Devidas Gandhi at once sent a reply to the Chief Commissioner, Delhi, in the course of which he said : " I have absolutely no intention of participating in the Civil Disobedience Movement in Delhi. I have chosen to come to Delhi not with any intention of taking part in politics, but with a view to settling down here in private life for at least a few months " ; and requested the Chief Commissioner to withdraw the order ? Was this letter delivered to the Chief Commissioner ?

(c) Are Government aware that in spite of the above disavowal, Mr. Devidas Gandhi was arrested at once, and taken to the Jail ? If so, why ? And what is the evidence in the possession of the Chief Commissioner, on which he is " satisfied " that there were sufficient grounds for taking action under the law referred to in part (a) above ? Did not Mr. Devidas visit Delhi many times during last winter, and did he take part in the Civil Disobedience Movement at the time ?

(d) Are Government aware that in the course of his statement before the Delhi Magistrate during his trial, Mr. Devidas Gandhi reiterated that he had come to Delhi with no intention of committing any breach of the law ? And are Government aware that the trying Magistrate held that so far as the question of satisfaction of the Chief Commissioner is concerned in regard to the possible activities of Mr. Devidas in Delhi, the court had no jurisdiction to question the Local Government's authority, and no evidence on that point was adduced by the prosecution ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Yes.

(b) Mr. Devidas Gandhi thereupon wrote a letter addressed to the Chief Commissioner, which contained the words quoted in the Honourable Member's question. He also said " I have decided to take no active part in the Civil Disobedience Movement for some months at least." He expressed the hope that the Chief Commissioner would see his way to withdraw his order ; but if he did not do so, Mr. Devidas Gandhi went on to say that it was his clear duty, as he conceived it, cheerfully to suffer the consequences, pointed out in the text of the order, for not complying with it.

Before handing this letter to the police Inspector he wrote a similar document which he gave to the representative of the Hindustan Times for publication.

(c) He was arrested two hours after the order was served upon him. He was given ample time for deciding whether he would comply with it by leaving Delhi. In view of the history of Mr. Devidas Gandhi's previous activities in Delhi, the Chief Commissioner was not satisfied by the qualified assurances of Mr. Devidas Gandhi that in fact his presence in Delhi would not act as an encouragement to the revival of the Civil Disobedience Movement there. Mr. Devidas Gandhi paid several visits to Delhi during the early months of the year, ostensibly in connection with the Anti-Untouchability Bill. But even during that period he was also engaged in activities in connection with the Civil Disobedience Movement.

(d) The words in his statement before the trying Magistrate are :

" I imagined that they (the police) were aware of the fact that I was this time coming to Delhi with no intention of committing any breach of the law, for the time being at least."

Later in the same statement he mentions having written to inform the Chief Commissioner that :

" On this particular occasion I was coming to Delhi with no intention of participating in the civil disobedience movement for some months at least."

As regards the latter portion of the question, regarding the finding of trying Magistrate, the answer is in the affirmative.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Was this letter written by Mr. Devidas Gandhi delivered to the Chief Commissioner ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have already answered that in the affirmative. But I am not sure at what time it was delivered.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member what kind of civil disobedience Mr. Devidas Gandhi was engaged in ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I did not say he was engaged in civil disobedience at the time.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Then, may I know what he was suspected of ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The position of the Chief Commissioner was that his presence in Delhi would, he was afraid, act as an encouragement to the revival of the Civil Disobedience Movement.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Was his presence only in Delhi considered to be harmful or was there any overt act ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : It was his presence in Delhi, in view of his very marked previous activities in Delhi in connection with the Civil Disobedience Movement.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government kindly state the nature of the very marked previous activities of Mr. Devidas Gandhi to which reference has been made in the reply ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I cannot give details of it, but of the fact there is no doubt.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Were any steps taken against Mr. Devidas Gandhi if he engaged himself in objectionable political activities in Delhi on previous occasions ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I think, Sir, on various previous occasions it had been necessary to take action against Mr. Devidas Gandhi. I do not think this is the first time on which he has been imprisoned.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : My question was, what were the activities of Mr. Devidas Gandhi on previous occasions in Delhi on which the Chief Commissioner felt justified in issuing this order ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have already explained to the Honourable Member that I am not prepared to give the details, but, if he looks at the history of 1930, I rather think he will find that Mr. Devidas Gandhi was convicted in connection with his activities in Delhi. I am not quite sure.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : May I take it that Government trusted in Mr. Devidas Gandhi's words that he would not take any active part in the Civil Disobedience Movement, but that they were merely afraid of his presence ? Is that so ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : It is a very equivocal statement to say " I am not prepared to take an active part in the Civil Disobedience Movement ". I do not know what it means.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : I wanted to know whether Government trusted his words that he would not take part in the Civil Disobedience Movement.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : My answer is that the words themselves are not clear.

Mr. K. C. Neogy : Is it not a fact that the Chief Commissioner referred to Mr. Devidas Gandhi's activities about the beginning of this year while he was in Delhi in connection with the anti-untouchability movement and not to the activities of this gentleman in 1930 to which the Honourable Member has made reference ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The Chief Commissioner took into account the whole series of activities of Mr. Devidas Gandhi in Delhi starting from the year 1930.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Am I to understand that people who have taken part in the Civil Disobedience Movement previously will be arrested if they go to Delhi ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No, Sir. The position of Mr. Devidas Gandhi in Delhi was a very special one.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is it not a fact that Government want to have disavowal of the intentions of these people who have taken part in the Civil Disobedience Movement to the effect that they will not participate in such movement, before they are released ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No, Sir ; that is most certainly not the case. And, in proof of what I say, I may mention that the day after Mr. Devidas Gandhi was sentenced to imprisonment, the Chief Commissioner sent an officer to him and said that his only object was that Mr. Devidas Gandhi should not remain in Delhi, and that even then if Mr. Devidas Gandhi was prepared to give an undertaking to go away from Delhi, he could be released the next day.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : But why should Mr. Devidas Gandhi give an undertaking to go away from Delhi when he has distinctly stated that it is not his intention to take part in any unlawful activities ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : My Honourable friend's question was whether Government wished to obtain from Mr. Devidas Gandhi a disavowal of his beliefs. I said, that was not so. The only object of Government is that Mr. Devidas Gandhi should not be in Delhi, and, in support of that, I said that even now if Mr. Devidas Gandhi is prepared to absent himself from Delhi, he can have his freedom at once.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask what is the object of Government in issuing an order against a person that he should not live in one city when they know very well that he will have to live in some other city or in some other place in this country ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Government, Sir, have no objection, as far as I know, to Mr. Devidas Gandhi living in any city in the whole of India except Delhi.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : May I ask the Honourable the Home Member whether Mr. Devidas Gandhi gave an undertaking to give up civil disobedience ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : he did not. As I have mentioned in my reply, what he said was that he had decided to take no active part in the Civil Disobedience Movement for some months at least.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Did not Mr. Devidas Gandhi in his letter say " I have absolutely no intention of participating in the Civil Disobedience Movement in Delhi. I have chosen to come to Delhi not with any intention of taking part in politics, but with a view to settling down here in private life, for at least a few months'' ? There is no qualification in this statement.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have just quoted Mr. Devidas Gandhi's own words used in the same letter.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : I have also quoted from Mr. Devidas Gandhi's own letter which he wrote to the Chief Commissioner, Delhi.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Quite so : and I think the words I have quoted convey a slightly different impression from the words the Honourable Member has quoted.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : I have not received a reply to this part of my question—what is the evidence in possession of the Chief Commissioner on which he is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for taking action under the law ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : For the third time I attempt to answer the question : I am not prepared to give details.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask why Delhi was considered to be particularly unsuitable for his residence and why some other towns are considered suitable ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Because of the very special contacts with the Civil Disobedience Movement in Delhi that Mr. Devidas Gandhi has established.

EXAMINATION FOR RECRUITMENT TO THE INDIAN ARMY SERVICE CORPS.

582. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) the number of candidates that appeared at the last competitive examination for recruitment to the Indian Army Service Corps held in March last ;

(ii) the total amount of fees realised from the competitors and the entire Government expenditure on that score ;

(iii) the total number of successful candidates which were duly awarded qualifying certificates which stated that they were qualified to hold the posts of storekeepers, checkers or clerks in the above service ;

(iv) the steps which the controlling officers are contemplating for the absorption of the so-called qualified hands ?

(b) Do Government contemplate (i) holding shortly any other competitive examination before the already successful candidates are provided for and (ii) calling on these qualified candidates to re-appear therein in order to re-qualify themselves ?

(c) If the answer to part (b) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state what are the justifications for such treatment of the successful candidates ?

(d) Are Government prepared :

(i) to issue some instructions to the controlling officers to the effect that they should not hold examinations until the already qualified hands are fairly provided for ; and

(ii) that the already qualified candidates are not made to re-qualify themselves ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) (i) 903.

(ii) Fees realised—Rs. 4,555.

Expenditure (excluding cost of supervision)—Rs. 2,291.

(iii) Storekeepers—112.

Clerks—104.

Checkers—103.

(iv) While only 16 clerks' and 12 storekeepers' vacancies were offered for competition, it is anticipated that 27 clerks' appointments, 21 storekeepers' and 22 checkers' will be given to candidates who qualified.

(b) (i) Yes, in March, 1934.

(ii) In accordance with the usual practice followed by the Public Service Commission, qualified candidates who are not absorbed before the date of the next examination will not receive appointments unless they are successful at that examination.

(c) The examination was competitive, and the number of vacancies to be filled on the result of the examination was known to candidates ; those who were not placed high enough on the list to obtain one of the vacancies offered have no reason to complain.

(d) No, Sir.

PAYMENT OF PREMIA ON INSURANCE POLICIES FROM THE PROVIDENT FUND BY RAILWAY EMPLOYEES.

583. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Are Government aware that Government servants who contribute to the General Provident Fund are permitted to make use of that fund for the payment of premia on insurance policies ?

(b) Are Government also aware that the State Railway Provident Fund, governed by the Act of Legislature of 1925 as amended by the 1930 Act, provides that the compulsory deposit can be made use of for payment of premia of an insurance policy by the employees ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state how many of the Indian Railway employees have so far been allowed to benefit by this rule ?

(d) Are Government prepared to issue instructions to the effect that the Indian Railway employees are allowed to borrow money out of the Fund for the use of payment of premia towards the insurance policies ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) and (c). The State Railway Provident Fund Rules do not allow this concession. Consequently only the few pensionable employees who are under the General Provident Fund Rules are at present allowed it. The amendment of the Act referred to made no change in the legal position.

(d) The question is at present under consideration.

COST OF MEERUT CONSPIRACY CASE.

584. *Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Will Government be pleased to state (a) how much money was spent on the Meerut Conspiracy case and (b) what was the result ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I would invite the Honourable Member's attention to the reply given by me on the 21st February, 1933, to part (a) of Mr. S. C. Mitra's question No. 396 and to the statement laid on the table on the 14th March in reply to Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad's question No. 474. Since the 31st January, 1933, the case has cost the Government of India approximately a further Rs. 48,000 mainly in connection with the appeal.

(b) The results of appeals preferred by the accused to the High Court is as follows :

Three were sentenced to three years, one to two years, eight to one year and one to seven months rigorous imprisonment. Five were sentenced to the period which they had undergone in jail and nine were acquitted.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Do the Government regard the results as quite satisfactory and commensurate with the amount of expenditure involved ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I am not prepared to express an opinion of the Government on the decision of the legal tribunal, but I would like to mention, though I have not got a copy of the judgment with me, that the High Court in their judgment said that the prosecution was justified : they complimented the police and they expressed the opinion that the offence was a serious one and ordinarily they would have imposed a very heavy and long sentence of imprisonment.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask, in view of the fact that the trial was a very long one, whether Government will give some compensation to those people who have actually suffered unnecessary annoyance and loss ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : the position of Government is that the blame for the very long period occupied by the trial was to a large extent on the accused themselves.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is it not a fact that the High Court did not pronounce unmistakably that the accused alone were responsible for the delay ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That may be so : it was a very elaborate case and it was necessary to put forward a great deal of evidence and a large number of documents : that inevitably occupied a considerable amount of time ; but, at the same time, there is no doubt that the tactics pursued by the accused, or a certain number of them, did delay the case very seriously.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask the extent to which Government were responsible for the delay, and whether it will give compensation in part at least ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : I do not admit that the Government were responsible for the delay

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is it not a fact that a good deal of the address of the Crown Counsel was taken up with a statement of the doctrines of communism and so on, which the High Court held to be entirely unnecessary ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Government, after entrusting the prosecution case to Counsel, cannot interfere with his opening address.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is it not possible to look back and feel sorry for having embarked on these conspiracy cases at such expense ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : most emphatically not ; and I do hope that the House will realise that, at the time this case was instituted, we were faced with a very serious menace of development of communist activities in India and that in fact the arrest and prosecution of these men gave a great set-back to what was at the time a very menacing development.

Mr. S. G. Jog : In view of the experience gained in these conspiracy cases, have Government devised a plan for simplifying the procedure with a view to saving costs ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That is a matter which, I believe, will come under our consideration in connection with the High Court judgment which, as I have said, I have not yet seen in its full detail.

COST OF THE DELHI CONSPIRACY CASE.

585. *Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Why was the Delhi conspiracy case withdrawn, and how much did it cost the Government ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : As regards the first part of the question, I would refer the Honourable Member to the Communiqué issued on the 3rd February, 1933. The total cost of the case was Rs. 3,74,988.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : Is it not a great waste of money ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : It was a very great expenditure of money.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : And what was the result achieved ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The result achieved, so far as the particular case was concerned, I am afraid, was nothing. But action has subsequently been taken against the principal accused.

Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali : Have Government any intention of not launching any more conspiracy cases in future ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : but the Government certainly hope that they will not be under the necessity of launching a case which is likely to take, as this Delhi Conspiracy Case would have, five years.

BAD CONDITION ON ROADS IN INDIA.

586. *Rai Bahadur Sukhraj Roy : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether their attention has been drawn to the bad condition of roads in India and the paucity of funds for improvement thereof ;

(b) what the functions, scope and duties of the Standing Committee on Roads are ;

(c) what the amount of income available for improvements with the Standing Committee on roads is and wherefrom it is derived ; and

(d) whether the Roads Committee deals with the construction of bridges also ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The condition of roads in India varies considerably. Government are, however, aware that the road system of India needs development and improvement, that considerable funds are required for this purpose and that such funds are only available to a very limited extent.

(b) The Honourable Member is referred to clause (7) of the Resolution on road development adopted by the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1930.

(c) and (d). The total amount credited to the Road Development Account up to the end of the last financial year is Rs. 4,05,83,125 and it is the proceeds of the additional duty on petrol of two annas per gallon up to September, 1931, and with 25 per cent. general increase of duties, two and a half annas subsequently. Improvement of roads as well as construction of new roads or bridges may be financed from this account on the advice of the Standing Committee on Roads.

RUNNING OF DINING CARS FOR INDIAN PASSENGERS IN MAIL AND EXPRESS TRAINS.

587. Rai Bahadur Sukhraj Roy : (a) Are Government aware that the portion of European passengers is infinitely small compared to Indian passengers on railways in India ?

(b) Is it a fact that special dining cars for Europeans are run on important trains on each railway but there is no arrangement for Indians on those trains ?

(c) Do Government propose to run decent dining cars for the benefit of Indian passengers in mail and express trains in the near future ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) The number of European passengers on Indian Railways is naturally much smaller than the number of Indian passengers.

(b) Special dining cars are not run for Europeans only but are open to all higher class passengers who desire to use them.

(c) Dining cars for Indian passengers or separate compartments for Indian catering are already run by various Railways where experience has shown that there is a demand for such amenities for the benefit for Indian passengers, and Railway Administrations are always willing to consider additions where necessary. This is a matter which, I have no doubt, the Local Advisory Committees look into.

FACILITIES TO MAHATMA GANDHI FOR UPLIFT OF HARIJANS.

588. Rai Bahadur Sukhraj Roy : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether they propose to give the same facilities to Mahatma Gandhi for uplift of Harijans as were given to him when he was in jail last time ?

(b) What is the general policy of Government with regard to the treatment to be meted out to him in future ?

(c) Has there been any communication between the Government and Mahatma Gandhi on this subject ? If so, what ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I would refer the Honourable Member to the communiqué issued by the Government of India on the 18th August, 1933.

BOMBING OF TRIBAL AREA ON THE NORTH-WEST FRONTIER.

589. Rai Bahadur Sukhraj Roy : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the reasons for and the circumstances under which the bombing of tribal area was begun on the North-West Frontier ;

(b) how the rebellion originated and why precautions were not taken beforehand to prevent it ;

(c) how many persons were killed or wounded in the operation ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) The Honourable Member is referred to the statement made in this House by His Excellency the Viceroy on August 30th.

(b) As the Honourable Member will have gathered from the statement referred to above, no rebellion has taken place.

(c) No persons were killed and so far as can be ascertained, only one man was injured.

RESERVATION OF ACCOMMODATION FOR LADIES ON THE GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY.

590. Seth Liladhar Chaudhury : (a) Are Government aware that the Great Indian Peninsula Railway complies with section 64 of Indian Railways Act only in the case of Mail trains and not in that of Express or Passenger trains ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether section 64 of the Indian Railways Act makes it obligatory on the Railways to reserve accommodation for ladies whilst Rule 101 of the Coaching Tariff, Part 1 (a) of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway makes it permissible ? If so, how do Government justify this ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state what would be the consequences if a lady after giving 24 hours notice, as per Rule 101 of the Coaching Tariff, Part 1 (a), Great Indian Peninsula Railway, is unable to travel on the particular day due to unforeseen circumstances ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Government are informed that the Great Indian Peninsula Railway complies with section 64 of the Indian Railways Act in every respect in every train that is run by that Railway.

(b) Section 64 of the Indian Railways Act makes it obligatory on Railways to reserve for the exclusive use of females one compartment at least of the lowest class of carriage forming part of the train. There is nothing in rule 101 of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway's Coaching Tariff which is inconsistent with section 64 of the Indian Railways Act. Rule 101 (a) quoted by the Honourable Member refers to upper class accommodation ; under rule 101 (b) it is stated that a third class carriage or compartment is reserved for women travelling third class in every train booked to carry third class passengers. On the only train on which third class passengers are not carried, viz., the Deccan Queen, ladies reserved compartments are available both for first and second class.

(c) I am afraid, Sir, I am quite unable to say what would be the consequences to the lady missing her train. That would depend on the object of her journey and its urgency. I can quite imagine that, in certain circumstances, the consequences might be very serious.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if the Honourable Member is aware of the practice that if the family of a passenger is travelling by this exclusive carriage and if there is no other lady passenger in that compartment, that passenger is permitted to travel along with his family who is occupying the ladies' compartment ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Does the Honourable Member refer to the Great Indian Peninsula Railway ?

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Any railway ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I think he had better put a question on the paper.

LEAVE AND PENSION OF MILITARY EMPLOYEES INVALIDED DURING THE GREAT WAR.

591. Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the period of leave on full field service rate of pay and allowances which was admissible to military employees invalided to India during the currency of the Great War, 1914-18, and the regulations or Army Department letters concerning the same ;

(b) whether invaliding of military employees to India was followed by immediate and simultaneous striking their names off the field service rolls, or all invalidings in general were at first made only to reduce congestion in hospitals on field service without striking their names off the field rosters ;

(c) if it is a fact that generally all military employees on being invalided to India were at first kept on field service rolls and remained so until their medical examination approximately three months after their return to India by the convalescent depot or hospital to which they came in India from field service ;

(d) if it is a fact that names of military employees were only struck off the field service rosters from the date of receipt of intimation from India by the field authorities about the unfitness of the said employees for field service ascertained by medical examination ;

(e) if it is not correct that according to the latest orders regarding disability pensions of non-combatants of the Indian Army and allied departments, as given in paragraph 224-A, Pension Regulations for the Army in India as corrected by correction slip No. 13 of May, 1930, the disability pensions claims are to be based on the rate of pay drawn on the date of contracting the disease or disability or on the rate of pay drawn on the date of final removal from the service, whichever of the two is more favourable to the individual ;

(f) if it is a fact that the relative military ranks of non-combatants for the purposes of disability pensions are defined in paragraph 239 of Pension Regulations, and that these relative ranks progressively rise from a sepoy to a Subadar according to the comparative salaries drawn by individuals dealt with in the paragraph ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) Under India Army Orders Nos. 75 and 518 of 1915 the period of leave admissible was 3 months for officers and Indian soldiers, and 4½ months for Gurkha soldiers.

(b), (c) and (d). A person invalided to India was struck off the strength with effect from the date on which the Force to which he belonged received official intimation that he would not return, or on the expiry of 3 months after his embarkation from the Force, whichever was earlier.

(e) Yes, but paragraph 224-A does not apply to those non-combatants whose claims to wound or other extraordinary pensions are governed by the Civil Service Regulations, i.e., those receiving more than Rs. 200 a month.

(f) Yes.

LEAVE AND PENSION OF MILITARY EMPLOYEES INVALIDED DURING THE GREAT WAR.

592. Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh : (a) Keeping in view the provisions of paragraph 224-A of Pension Regulations, as corrected by correction slip No. 13 of May, 1930, will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement showing, with reference to paragraph 240 and the last sentence of 239, Pension Regulations, the relative military ranks that will be assigned for the purposes of their respective disability pensions to civil subordinate non-combatants of the Indian Army Departments as per particulars given below ?

Substantive pay on Field Service in 1914-18 when disease was contracted.	Pay on final retirement from the service in 1928, 1929 and 1930.
A. Rs. 30 per mensem.	Rs. 155 per mensem.
B. Rs. 30 per mensem.	Rs. 175 per mensem.
C. Rs. 30 per mensem.	Rs. 199 per mensem.
D. Rs. 50 per mensem.	Rs. 200 per mensem.
E. Rs. 50 per mensem.	Rs. 250 per mensem.
F. Rs. 50 per mensem.	Rs. 350 per mensem.
G. Rs. 60 per mensem.	Rs. 450 per mensem.
H. Rs. 60 per mensem.	Rs. 700 per mensem.
I. Rs. 60 per mensem.	Rs. 900 per mensem.

(b) With reference to part (a) above, supposing all the five individuals referred to at items A to E retired after a service of full 29 years and all with one hundred per cent. disability contracted on field service, will Government be pleased to state what aggregate pension (service and disability pension both combined) will they respectively be eligible for per month ? (The average of their last three years salaries is given below for information.) For ordinary pensions they all served under the Civil Service Regulations :

A. Rs. 145 per mensem.

B. Rs. 165 per mensem.

C. Rs. 190 per mensem.

D. Rs. 192 per mensem.

E. Rs. 240 per mensem.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I lay on the table a statement giving the information asked for by the Honourable Member.

Statement.

(a)	A, B, and C.	Subadar.
	D.	Sub-Conductor.
	E.	Conductor.
	F.	2nd Lieutenant.
	G.	Lieutenant.
	H.	Captain.
	I.	Major.
(b)	A, B, and C.	Rs. 150 a month.
	D.	Rs. 96 a month as service pension plus 33 shillings a week as disability addition under the War Warrants.
	E.	Rs. 120 a month as service pension plus 33 shillings a week as disability addition under the War Warrants.

LEAVE AND PENSION OF MILITARY EMPLOYEES INVALIDED DURING THE GREAT WAR.

593. Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh : Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact or not that the men senior in all respects, viz., senior in retiring pay, senior in grading, senior in length of service and senior in the quality of services rendered will be eligible for higher relative military ranks and a higher amount of aggregate pension as compared to their juniors referred to in the preceding questions ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : With your permission, Sir, I propose to answer questions Nos. 593 and 594 together.

No such principles have been enunciated but this would certainly be the ordinary effect of the rules.

LEAVE AND PENSION OF MILITARY EMPLOYEES INVALIDED DURING THE GREAT WAR.

†594. Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh : Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact or not that it is an established principle and practice of Government that no man senior in all respects, viz., length of service, amount of monthly pay, departmental grading and quality of services rendered will rank junior in relative rank and earn less aggregate pension than his junior in all respects ?

LEAVE AND PENSION OF MILITARY EMPLOYEES INVALIDED DURING THE GREAT WAR.

595. Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh : Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that the provisions of paragraph 224-A, Pension Regulations, in their original form as well as when corrected by correction slip No. 13 of May, 1930, were intended for general application without any limitations of pay or restrictions of any other kind ? If not, will Government be pleased to explain the general application of those provisions ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : With your permission, Sir, I propose to answer questions Nos. 595 and 596 together.

The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to my reply to starred question No. 591 (e). Government are not aware of any case of the kind referred to at the end of starred question No. 596.

LEAVE AND PENSION OF MILITARY EMPLOYEES INVALIDED DURING THE GREAT WAR.

‡596. Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh : Is it not a fact that the concession and privilege allowed in paragraph 224-A, Pension Regulations, as corrected by correction slip No. 13 of May, 1930, are freely given by the military pension authorities in the case of people drawing Rs. 40 or Rs. 50 per month when on field service in 1914-18 and retiring on salaries below Rs. 200 per month, say, between Rs. 150 and Rs. 199 per month, whereas the same concession and privilege are totally denied to individuals drawing the same rate of pay, viz., Rs. 40 or Rs. 50 per month when on field service in 1914-18, but who were promoted to Rs. 200 per mensem and over by the time of their retirement ? Is it a fact that this resulted in juniors in pay, grading in service and service, etc., getting higher relative military ranks and higher rate of aggregate monthly pension than their seniors in pay, grading and service, etc. ?

STATUS OF TEACHERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN SCHOOLS.

597. Mr. A. Das : (a) Are Government aware that in the replies given in this Assembly on 8th February, 1933, to question No. 296 (a), (c) and (e) by Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad, and on 9th February, 1933, to question No. 319 (a), (c) and (e) by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen, Mr. P. R. Rau, Financial Commissioner, Railways, affirmed that :

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 593.
‡For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 595.

> "teachers of the Indian Schools maintained by the East Indian Railway administration are Government servants " ;
>
> " that teachers should receive pay on about the same level as they would receive if they were employed in a school run by the Local Government."
>
> " In the opinion of the Railway Board teachers employed in schools maintained by the Railway administration for the education of Railway children are Railway employees even though the teachers may actually be employed by the local committees of the several schools " ?

(b) Is it a fact that similar statements were made on behalf of Government in replies to questions by Pt. Hirday Nath Kunzru on 1st February, 1928 and 12th September, 1929 and in the course of the Railway Budget Debates on 25th February, 1928 and 21st February, 1929, and in the replies of the Railway Board to the reference made by the Agent, East Indian Railway, in June, 1928, and also in the replies given on behalf of Government to question No. 21 in the United Provinces Legislative Council on 19th February, 1932 ?

(c) Are Government aware that against the aforesaid statements of the Government, the East Indian Railway Administration do not treat the teachers of the East Indian Railway High Schools for Indians as Railway servants and the Agent, East Indian Railway, has recently written to the Income-tax Commissioner, Bengal " that teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools are not Railway employees within the meaning of item 10, para. 4 of the Income-Tax Manual, but are employees of the various school committees " ?

P. R. Rau : (a) No. Sir. I affirmed nothing of the kind. I merely said that the questions contained in certain questions were substantially correct.

(b) As regards the first part of this question I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply I gave to Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen's question No. 274. Government have no information about the replies given in the U. P. Legislative Council.

(c) Government have no information but are enquiring into the matter.

Mr. A. Das : Are these passes granted to Anglo-Indian teachers of the Oakgrove School ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have already explained more than once on the floor of this House that these first class passes were granted to certain staff of the Oakgrove School by the late Board of Directors of the East Indian Railway, and Government have decided that this concession should be treated as personal to themselves and not applicable to their successors.

Mr. A. Das : What is the reason behind it ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Behind what ?

Mr. A. Das : Behind the decision of the Government to give this sort of unfair and special treatment in granting first class passes to Anglo-Indian teachers ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I am afraid my voice has not reached the Honourable Member. It is not a decision of the Government, but of the late Board of Directors.

Mr. A. Das : Are there any special privileges attached to Anglo-Indian and European teachers of the Oakgrove School ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No, Sir ; Government have already decided that these concessions will not be granted to the successors of these teachers.

Issue of Passes to the Teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools.

598. Mr. A. Das : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether letter No. 2740|T.|A., dated the 31st March, 1933, from the Director, Railway Board, to the Agent, East Indian Railway, providing uniformity of Free Pass Rules in Indian Railways, includes the teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools also ? If not, why not ? Has any other Department of the East Indian Railway been similarly left out ? If so, which ?

(b) Are there any employees of the East Indian Railway in the officers' grade who get second class passes under Supplementary Rules 17 and 34 on account of drawing salaries below Rs. 750 p. m. ? If so, will Government please lay a list of such Railway officers on the table of this House ? Does this condition apply to the Principal, the Headmaster, the Headmistress and other assistant masters and mistresses of the East Indian Railway Oakgrove School for Anglo-Indians also ? If not, are Government aware that such a condition has been made applicable to the Headmasters of Indian Schools maintained by the East Indian Railway, and will Government please state the reasons for this exceptional treatment and distinction ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) The letter in question applies to all staff to whom privilege passes are granted under the pass rules.

(b) Employees in the officers' grade are ordinarily granted first class passes on all Railways.

I have already explained that the first class passes granted to certain staff of the Oakgrove School by the late Board of Directors of the East Indian Railway Company have been treated as personal to themselves.

Status of Teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools.

599. Mr. A. Das : Is it a fact that the Agent, East Indian Railway, has ruled that teachers of the East Indian Railway Schools are not Railway servants in the same sense as other Railway servants are ? Will Government please state what this ruling signifies and how is it reconciled with the replies given in this House to questions already referred to and the decision of the Railway Board arrived at in June, 1928 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : As I have already stated in reply to question No. 274 put by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen, Government have not seen the ruling referred to, but are obtaining information from the Agent, East Indian Railway, on the matter.

Status of Teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools.

600. Mr. A. Das : (a) Is it a fact that in reply to question No. 324 (d) by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen it was stated in this House on the 9th February, 1933, by Mr. P. R. Rau, Financial Commissioner, Railways, that :

> " Teachers have a right of appeal to the Agent. If a subscriber to Provident Fund is dismissed with forfeiture of the bonus contribution to his provident fund, an appeal lies to the Railway Board " ?

(b) Are Government aware that appeals of the teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools are not forwarded to the Agent at all but are disposed of by his secretary, in spite of the fact that the appeals are against his own decisions arrived at by him or confirmed by him in his capacity as Superintendent, East Indian Railway Schools ? Are Government prepared to order that in future the appeals be duly considered by the Agent and not left to be disposed of by his very same subordinate against whose decisions they are made ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) I am sending a copy of this question to the Agent, East Indian Railway, for any action that may be considered necessary.

STATUS OF TEACHERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN SCHOOLS.

601. Mr. A. Das : (a) Are Government aware that the Headmasters of all Local Government schools in all provinces are gazetted officers ?

(b) Are Government aware that the Principal, the Headmaster, the Headmistress, and several assistant masters and mistresses of the East Indian Railway Oakgrove School for Anglo-Indians are gazetted officers ?

(c) Is it a fact that in the reply given to question No. 793 (c) and (d) on the 20th March, 1933, Mr. P. R. Rau stated that " it has been decided that the Headmasters of the Railway High Schools will be treated as First Class Officers for purpose of travelling to the same extent and under the same conditions as Headmasters of High Schools under the Provincial Government concerned with whose pay their pay has been assimilated " ?

(d) If the replies to parts (a), (b) and (c) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) if the Headmasters of the East Indian Railway Indian High Schools have been gazetted as railway officers. If not, why not ;

(ii) if they are now actually granted first class passes like all railway officers ? If not, why not ;

(iii) if they are actually treated as first class officers in the day to day administration and allowed to exercise the same powers and enjoy the same status as the Headmasters of Provincial Government schools for Indians or the Principal and the Headmaster of the East Indian Railway Oakgrove School for Anglo-Indians ?

(e) If the reply to part (d) above be in the negative, will Government be pleased to state why is this distinction made in the case of Headmasters of East Indian Railway Schools for Indians only, and when will Government be pleased to remove these distinctions ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Government are not aware of the position in all provinces but they are aware that in certain provinces Headmasters of High Schools belong to the Provincial Educational Service.

(b) The Principal is a gazetted officer. As I have explained in reply to another question certain other posts in that school were declared by the Board of Directors of the late East Indian Railway Company to be equivalent to the officers' grade.

(c) Yes.

(d) (i) No, but the matter is under consideration.

(ii) and (iii). I would draw the Honourable Member's attention to the reply given by me to part (e) of question No. 275.

(e) Does not arise.

STATUS OF TEACHERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN SCHOOLS.

602. Mr. A. Das : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the reply given on behalf of Government to question No. 55 (a) by Rao Krishnapal Singh in the United Provinces Legislative Council on 13th June, 1932, that :

> " in respect of leave the position is as follows :
>
> (1) for those members of the teaching staff of the Oakgrove School who were in service on March 31st, 1930, and
>
> (2) for the teaching staff of all other schools maintained by the East Indian Railway in the United Provinces, there are no prescribed rules. The members of the teaching staff who were engaged after March 31, 1930, are governed by the New Rules published under the Railway Board's resolution No. 8373-E. of February 20, 1930. Teachers who are in the Officer's grade, are ordinarily allowed the same leave privileges as are admissible to other officers of the Railway under the East Indian Railway Leave Rules. Teachers of this class are to be found only in the Oakgrove School " ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) the reasons for these distinctions ;

(ii) why the East Indian Railway Leave Rules apply to teachers in the " officers' grade to be found in the Oakgrove School " only and not to the Headmasters of the East Indian Railway High Schools also, keeping in view the reply of Mr. P. R. Rau to question No. 793 (c) and (d) of the 20th March, 1933 ;

(iii) if there are any other class of Railway employees on the East Indian Railway for whom there are no prescribed leave rules ? If so, which class of employees ? If not, will Government be pleased to state why there are no prescribed leave rules for Headmasters and teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools in service on March 30, 1930 ;

(iv) whether the old East Indian Railway Leave Rules are more liberal than the new East Indian Railway Leave Rules ;

(v) whether under the present arrangement teachers engaged after March 31, 1930, are not in a position of much greater advantage than their seniors in service, viz., those who were in service on March 31, 1930. If so, why ;

(vi) whether it is a fact that under clause 4 of the agreement for teachers, enforced in all East Indian Railway Indian Schools, all the rules of the East Indian Railway apply to the teachers equally with the other employees of the East Indian Railway ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) No. Sir : but I am quite content to accept the Honourable Member's statement on the point.

(b) I am obtaining certain information to enable me to give a complete reply to this question and shall lay a reply on the table in due course.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Short Notice question by Mr. James.

SHORT NOTICE QUESTION AND ANSWER.

ASSASSINATION OF MR. BURGE, DISTRICT MAGISTRATE OF MIDNAPORE.

Mr. F. E. James : Will Government be pleased to make a statement giving full information as to the assassination of the District Magistrate of Midnapore ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The circumstances of this dastardly outrage, so far as they have been ascertained at present, are as follows. Mr. Burge was assassinated at about 5-15 P.M. on Saturday on the police football ground at Midnapore. He was about to play football for the Town Club. Both assassins were on the field with players of the opposite side, the Muhammadan Sporting, who were practising before the match. As several of the players of the Muhammadan Sporting side wore dhoties, the assassins were unnoticed. Mr. Burge walked on to the field leaving his personal guards on the touch-line. As Mr. Burge approached the goal, the assassins separated from the players and attacked. One fired five shots with an automatic pistol into Mr. Burge's back from two or three yards range, the other fired three shots from the front at about the same range. Mr. Burge fell and expired within one minute! Mr. Norton Jones, Additional Superintendent of Police, who was also about to play and was a short distance away, immediately tackled the second assassin and was fired on. He struggled with the man who was shot by Mr. Burge's personal guard and secured. The name of this man was Mrigendra Datta, and he died at 8-30 on Sunday morning. The other assassin was named Anath Panja. He was tackled by Reserve Inspector Smith and was shot dead on the spot by the personal guards. Both assassins belong to Midnapore, and were political suspects. A cordon was formed round the ground within a few minutes by the police and troops, and four men were apprehended. Mrs. Burge was not present when the assassination took place.

I should like to take this opportunity of expressing on behalf of the Government of India their profound regret at the loss of this fine officer at the hands of assassins and their very deep sympathy with Mrs. Burge.

Mr. S. G. Jog : Have the antecedents of these three Bengalis been ascertained ?

12 NOON.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have given the information in my possession.

Mr. F. E. James : May I ask two questions arising out of the answer ? First, is it not a fact that two of the predecessors of Mr. Burge were murdered in the Midnapore district during the last two or three years and, secondly, will Government make a suitable provision for the dependants of Mr. Burge ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : It is true, Sir, that two District Magistrates of Midnapore have been murdered within the last three years and that this is the third. I think the Honourable Member may be quite assured that suitable provision will be made for the dependants of Mr. Burge.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Mr. President, I desire on behalf of my party and myself to associate ourselves with the remarks just made by the Honourable the Home Member that the Civil Service has suffered a great loss by the death of Mr. Burge and I may say that India has also suffered. Sir, the assassinations in certain parts of India have become frequent as has just been said by my friend, Mr. James, and I am certain that none regrets these incidents more than the Members of this House. I also feel confident that these acts, far from helping this country towards the goal which we have in view, act as a definite setback to our ambitions, our desires and our life-long ambitions that this country should ultimately, if not immediately, attain Dominion Status. Many Englishmen also feel that acts of this kind will not help us. We regret it not for that reason only, but, again, I may mention for the more substantial reason that it is the loss of a gallant officer.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer (Rohilkund and Kumaon Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, it is with deep regret that we have heard of the outrage in Midnapore, putting an end to the life of an officer who was doing his duty and who was going to play football. The depths to which revolutionary criminalism could descend could not go further than this and I believe the time has come not only to express our genuine regret against such dastardly outrages, but also to organise a campaign in Bengal and the country as a whole to put an end to the unseemly atmosphere detrimental to the better understanding between India and England and Englishmen in India who, according to their best light, are serving this country as well as their country. Sir, it is with a sense of horror that we view these outrages and it is time that we backed our words by some kind of active propaganda so that the fair name of India will no longer be disgraced and our fair traditions no longer polluted by the foul hand of the assassin. We deeply sympathise with the bereaved family and we do hope that Government will make every provision for the unfortunate widow.

Mr. K. C. Neogy : Sir, I desire to associate myself and my friends with all that has fallen from the Deputy Leader of the Independent Party and the Deputy Leader of the Nationalist Party. I do not think it is necessary for me to say that we deeply abhor such dastardly crimes and that our deepest sympathies go out to Mrs. Burge and other relations of the deceased.

Mr. R. S. Sarma : Mr. President, I wish to associate the Central Party and myself with the feelings of horror and expressions of sympathy expressed on this occasion by the Leaders of the Parties in this House.

Sir Leslie Hudson : I wish to associate myself, Sir, with the remarks that have fallen from the Honourable Members of the other side of the House and also from the Honourable the Home Member on this horrible deed. Mr. Burge was known to more than one of the Members of our Group here and, therefore, the feelings with which the news was received by us yesterday can be imagined. Our deepest sympathy goes out to Mrs. Burge in this tragedy which has fallen upon her.

Major Nawab Malik Talib Mehdi Khan : Sir, I associate myself with all the sentiments that have been expressed on the floor of this House on the death of Mr. Burge. Sir, the time has come—I think it came long ago—when some drastic action should be taken to preserve the life of those who come out to this country to teach us the ways of good citizenship. Our deep sympathies go to Mrs. Burge in her bereavement.

Sir Abdulla-al-Mámún Suhrawardy : Sir, as a Member from Bengal, as one closely associated with Midnapore as the first elected non-official Chairman of its District Board and one who had the privilege of the acquaintance of Mr. Burge, I rise to associate myself and the Members on this side of the House with what has fallen from the Honourable the Home Member. Whilst our deepest sympathy goes out to Mrs. Burge and the Government of Bengal, we desire to give expression to our feelings of horror and indignation at the dastardly outrage and act of insensate folly perpetrated by thoughtless youths which retard the attainment of India's freedom which is nearest the heart of all true Indian patriots.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Sir, I wish to associate myself wholeheartedly with what has fallen from the Leaders on this side as well as the Honourable the Home Member. Sir, it is in defiance of the culture and religion of our race that this cult of bomb and murderous outrages have been introduced in India and the sooner this cult of assassination disappears from our sacred land, the better. I think every one in this House will try to co-operate to eliminate this deadly poison from our land, and thus ensure the progress of civilization on constitutional lines. Our sincerest sympathy goes to the bereaved widow and other members of the family of this gallant officer, who laid down his life at the altar of duty.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : Sir, I also associate myself with the remarks that have been made by all the previous speakers. Besides that, I wish to appeal to all the elected Members and the Leaders that they should give wide publicity in the Press to their feelings of hatred and horror for such crimes so that in future the public should know what a harmful thing this is.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : I wish to associate the Chair with the expressions of regret and sorrow at the assassination of a faithful public servant. I have no doubt that what has fallen from the lips of the various Leaders of Parties in this House would show to India and the outside world in the most unmistakable terms the unequivocal condemnation of such acts by the better minds of India as represented in this House.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

AERIAL BOMBARDMENT ON KOTKAI IN THE TRANS-FRONTIER.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : I have received a notice from Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi that he proposes to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House today for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance as follows :

"The unsatisfactory reply given by Government to the short notice question put today in regard to the aerial bombing of Kotkai."

I have to inquire whether any Honourable Member has any objection to this motion.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Leader of the House) : Sir, if I take objection to this motion, it is not because Government desire to burke any discussion on this matter, but purely because it raises a question which may be of very great importance to the practice and procedure of this House. What the Mover wants to do is to discuss the bombing of Kotkai and not any answer that was given by my Honourable friend, Mr. Tottenham, on the 1st September. You, Sir, were pleased to rule on the 31st August that this matter had ceased to be a matter of urgent importance within the meaning of rule 12 of the Legislative Assembly Rules. I submit, Sir, that a matter which had ceased to be of urgent importance or of recent occurrence on the 31st August cannot again become urgent on the 4th September merely because Government, as a matter of courtesy, replied to a short notice question in anticipation of another question which appears on the notice paper. If, Sir, it is argued that though the matter itself has ceased to be urgent, the reply of Government has conferred on it a fresh urgency, then, Sir, I submit that if that argument were accepted, it might lead to serious consequences for this House. It would mean that any motion of this kind which refers to a matter of any distant date should be admitted, simply because a question has been asked and answered and a Member of this House considers that the answer was unsatisfactory. It follows that any Member of this House, who has lost his opportunity to move the adjournment of the House, would revive that opportunity by simply putting a question, obtaining an answer and then saying that it was unsatisfactory. In this particular case, Sir, I would bring to the notice of the House that the would-be Mover of this motion obtained no further relevant information from the reply given to him by Mr. Tottenham on the 1st, I say he obtained no more information than was available in His Excellency's address to both Houses on the 30th August. It, therefore, follows, I submit, that the position today is exactly the same as the position on the 31st when you were pleased to hold that the matter was not a matter of recent occurrence. The point, in short, that I wish to make is this. If a motion for adjournment is to be based on an answer to a question given in this House, the question itself must relate to a matter of recent occurrence.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi (Tirhut Division : Muhammadan) : I am surprised to hear the Honourable the Leader of the House taking objection to this motion for adjournment. I find that he treats the subject as one which is of ordinary importance and as if it was a subject in which no great interest has been evinced in the country. The Honourable Member ought to know that there is intense feeling in the country and I would, therefore, urge upon the Government that they should allow all opportunity to discuss the pros and cons of the question, all sides of the questions, in order to show to the public what the viewpoint of the Government is and in order that the Government may learn from us, the representatives of the people, what people think of their action at Kotkai. If they do not allow a discussion at this stage, I do not know whether they will have to face something more serious and, for that reason, I would again urge that the technical objection that has been taken on a matter of this vast importance should be dropped and the matter should be allowed to be discussed on the floor of the House. The other day, of course, we derived much knowledge from the reply given by our Honourable friend, Mr. Tottenham. It was obviously beyond the scope of supplementary questions to elicit more definite and accurate reply from the Honourable Member. We, at any rate I and many of my friends here interested in the question, had no knowledge that supplementary questions were going to be put that day. Whatever the Honourable Member said on that occasion was unsatisfactory, because he took shelter on many questions under the confidential nature of the thing and we could not elaborate our arguments, which we feel the public want us to put before the Government. Now, the urgency which arose after the reply of Mr. Tottenham was this that Mr. Tottenham's reply showed that there was no justification whatsoever for the military operations at Kotkai, much less for the bombing operations and, therefore, I say that the matter should be elaborately discussed in this House so that the people may know the whole facts.

[Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi.]

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : I want to ask one question of my Honourable friend.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House is discussing a point of order and the Honourable Member cannot ask questions. On the 31st August, the Chair gave the interpretation on the rule relating to urgency with regard to motions for adjournment, an interpretation which is borne out not merely by the language of the rule itself, but by the well established precedents in this House. Today the Honourable Mr. Shafee Daoodi asks for leave to move the adjournment of the House on the ground of the unsatisfactory answer given by the Honourable the Army Secretary to a short notice question on that subject. The Chair takes it that it is the intention of the Honourable Member not simply to censure the Government for giving an unsatisfactory reply, but to avail himself, if he gets the leave of the House, of that opportunity to discuss the main question, that is, the bombing at Kotkai.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Also to censure the Government for the military operations which they took at Kotkai without any justification much less for bombing by air.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : It has been in the past the practice in this House to move the adjournment of the House on the unsatisfactory reply given by a Member of Government to a question. The Chair has now to decide whether, in the light of all the circumstances connected with the present case, the motion sought to be moved by the Honourable Member is in order. The Chair must say that the general line of argument adopted by the Honourable the Leader of the House in taking an objection to this motion is valid. There seems to be an impression in the minds of certain Honourable Members, at any rate, that the mere fact that the answer to a question is unsatisfactory is in itself a sufficient ground to make a motion for adjournment on that point ipso facto in order. The Chair should distinctly rule that by itself the answer to a question is not a sufficient ground for moving for a motion for the adjournment of the House. In deciding the admissibility of such a motion, the Chair has always to take into consideration the subject-matter with which the question is connected and, if the subject-matter itself is in violation of the rules and Standing Orders relating to the motion for adjournment, no manner of unsatisfactory answers would make such a motion in order. But, in this particular case, there are other factors to be taken into consideration. So far as the Chair has been able to gather, the Honourable Members, whose attention had been drawn to the bombing at Kotkai, took what, in their opinion, were necessary steps to get the full facts of the case. For that purpose they entered into correspondence with the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor General and also entered into conversations with the Honourable the Army Secretary. In doing so, the Chair is convinced that they were under a genuine misapprehension that that act of theirs would keep this question alive and will not bar their moving an adjournment motion on the ground of urgency. Since the Chair is convinced that Honourable Members were in this case under a genuine misapprehension with regard to their rights, the Chair is prepared, as a measure of equity, to hold that this motion is in order, but the Chair would make it perfectly clear that the ruling of the Chair that in this particular case this motion is in order would not be taken as a precedent because the Chair wants it to be distinctly understood once again that by itself the answer to a question cannot be sufficient ground for moving the adjournment of the House unless the subject-matter of the question itself conforms to the rules and regulations relating to adjournment motion. As, however, objection has been taken in this case to the granting of the leave, the Chair has to ask Honourable Members, who are in favour of leave being granted, to rise in their places. (Some Honourable Members rose.) As not less than 25 Members have risen, the Chair declares that leave is granted and that the motion will be taken up for discussion at 4 P.M. this afternoon.

AMENDMENT OF STANDING ORDERS.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS TO THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : I have to inform the Assembly that upto 12 Noon on Friday, the 1st September, 1933, the time fixed for receiving nominations for the Select Committee on the amendment of Standing Orders, eight nominations were received, out of which one candidate has since withdrawn his candidature. The number of candidates is, therefore, equal to the number of vacancies and I declare the following Members to be duly elected, namely :

Mr. S. C. Mitra,
Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi,
Mr. F. E. James,
Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal,
Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad,
Mr. Lalchand Navalrai, and
The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore.

STATEMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster (Finance Member) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 127 to 140, asked by Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 6th February, 1933.

FORGED TEN-RUPEE NOTES IN THE CURRENCY NOTES PRESS, NASIK.

*127. (a) The notes were forgeries of the Series E 23 The stolen notes so far recovered were of the Series G 45 to 52, 66, 67, and 69.

(b) Yes. They were printed on paper which was a good imitation of the genuine paper and had a well executed forged watermark put on afterwards.

STAR WATER-MARKED CURRENCY NOTES PRINTED IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*128. One hundred and sixty notes have so far been recovered. It is not possible to state definitely how many notes were stolen, but as only three were recovered in 1931 and two in 1932, it is probable that few, if any, now remain untraced.

VERIFICATION OF SPOILED OR REJECTED CURRENCY NOTES IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*129. (a) The verification and destruction of the notes not issued and of the balance of partly printed paper was carried out under the supervision of the Master, Security Printing. Government are satisfied with this arrangement. In the circumstances the second part of this question does not arise.

(b) and (c). The answer to the last part of (c) is No. The system has not been objected to by the audit authorities, and Government do not consider that any useful object would be served or that it would be in the public interest to describe in detail the methods they employ to check unused paper and spoiled notes.

CONVICTION AND SENTENCE OF THE PERPETRATORS OF THEFTS IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*130. (a) Reports of thefts are not made to the courts but to the police, who take the matter to the courts in accordance with the ordinary procedure. The case in question was tried in the court of the Second Class Magistrate, Nasik, and the sentence was notified to the Master, Security Printing, by the police. Government do not consider that any useful purpose would be served by laying these voluminous documents on the table of the House, but they are available in the Finance Department for perusal by the Honourable Member if he so desires.

(b) Yes. Including the case referred to in part (a) there have been three court cases involving four accused.

(c) In his judgment on case No. 116 of 1928 the Magistrate held that there had been negligence on the part of the Assistant Supervisors. The matter was investigated by the Master, Security Printing, who found that only one Assistant Supervisor was concerned. He was reverted to a daily-paid post on the technical side.

SHORTAGE OF FIVE-RUPEE NOTE SHEETS IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*131. (a) The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to question No. 1328 asked on the 21st of November, 1932.

(b) Two sheets of Rs. 5 notes were temporarily missing owing to their being mixed up with other sheets, the temporary shortage being detected by the Chief Supervisor. Mr. Patel's fault in this connection was his failure to report the shortage at once and this was punished by his increment being withheld for three months. One Rs. 5 un-numbered sheet was stolen by an employee. This theft was rendered possible owing to careless searching by a search peon who was duly punished. No Supervisor was responsible.

DEPARTMENTAL ACTION TAKEN AGAINST THE SUPERVISORS RETAINED OR RETRENCHED IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*132. (a) Two Supervisors, who were found to have exercised insufficient supervision, were removed from their appointments ; the Chief Supervisor was reverted to his previous employment as a letterpress printer and the Assistant to the daily-paid establishment. Mr. Mainkar's increment was postponed for three months during the investigation into the theft of the notes. The increment was granted at the end of the investigation without retrospective effect, but the period of postponement was allowed to count for further increments under Fundamental Rule 24.

(b) One of the retrenched Supervisors had his increment withheld on one occasion and on another occasion he received a reprimand which was entered in his service book. As previously stated in reply to the Honourable Member's question No. 1332 (a) of the 21st of November, 1932, the most efficient were retained. The service of those retrenched was in all cases not so satisfactory as that of those retained.

APPOINTMENT OF ADYA GAUD BRAHMANS IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*133. (a) The latter reply is correct, the earlier one being based on the erroneous assumption that Savantwadi formed part of Ratnagiri District.

(b) No.

ASSISTANT SUPERVISORS OF DIFFERENT COMMUNITIES APPOINTED IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*134. The following is the list showing by communities the appointments to the fifteen posts :

Hindus	.. Eleven, of whom nine are Brahmins and two Kshatriyas.
Anglo-Indian ..	.. One.
Parsee	.. One.
Indo-Portugese ..	.. One.
Indian Christian ..	.. One.

SPECIAL QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED FOR THE POSTS OF THE MASTER AND DEPUTY MASTER OF NASIK PRESSES.

*135. The qualifications required for the posts of Master and Deputy Master of the Nasik Presses are special administrative ability and a sound training in engineering. As regards the Indianisation of these posts and the training of Messrs. Kapur and Das Gupta there is nothing to add to the answer which was given to question No. 1334 asked by the Honourable Member on the 21st of November, 1932.

EUROPEAN STYLE QUARTERS FOR INDIANS IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*156. (a) Mr. Das received some training in Europe. Mr. Das lives in Indian style and therefore occupies an Indian quarter. He was not offered a European quarter.

(b) Mr. Bose took ordinary leave to England and when there studied some aspects of printing. As he also lives in Indian style he occupies an Indian quarter.

(c) One Indian Officer who occupies a European quarter has been to England. The remaining Indians who occupy European quarters have not been to England but live in English style. There appears no necessity for Government to define a difference which is well understood by all concerned.

(d) The charge for water consumed beyond the free supply is eleven annas per 1,000 gallons. The free supply referred to was sanctioned by Government in order to put the Press employees on the same footing as those of the Bombay Government Central Distillery in the same compound, who had enjoyed the concession for many years. The total value of the concession to all officers and staff, excluding only the daily-paid labourers, on the present occupancy is Rs. 3,205-8-0 per annum. It would be invidious to terminate this concession to the Press employees unless the Bombay Government withdraws it from the Distillery employees.

ALLOTMENT OF RESIDENTIAL QUARTERS IN THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*137. (a) The Master and certain other employees who enjoyed free or nominally rented quarters either in previous appointments or under agreement, have been granted allowances in lieu on being brought on the rent-paying list. The allowance in some cases covers the rent, in others only partially.

(b) Miss Griffin could not be allotted a third grade quarter since these are bachelor quarters for men, with common bathing and sanitary arrangements. The second grade quarter which she occupies is under existing reduced working not required for others, and failing her would be unoccupied.

(c) The post of Master, Security Printing, would normally fall in Class 'B' in New Delhi and the average cost of this class is about Rs. 36,000. The Honourable Member is also referred to the reply given to part (d) of his question No. 1336 on the 21st of November, 1932.

RESULTS OF THE AUDIT OF THE ACCOUNTS OF ARCHITECTS OF NASIK BUILDINGS.

*138. (a) to (e). There is nothing to be added to what was stated in the reply given on the 5th of September, 1932, to the Honourable Member's question No. 11, and the reply given on the 21st of November, 1932, to his question No. 1327.

TECHNICAL APPRENTICES EMPLOYED IN THE PRESSES AT NASIK.

*139. The list is as follows :

Apprentices "A" Grade.

		Per day. Rs. A. P.
Mr. S. V. Upadhye	.. ..	4 1 0	Hindu.
Mr. F. T. Jones	.. ..	4 1 0	Statutory Indian.
Mr. V. T. Rege	.. ..	3 7 0	Hindu.
Mr. Shafi Ahmed	.. ..	3 12 0	Muslim.
Mr. T. Bessent	.. ..	3 7 0	Statutory Indian.

Apprentices "B" Grade.

		Per day. Rs. A. P.
Mr. B. S. Chitnis	.. ..	2 0 0	Hindu.
Mr. Karam Singh	.. ..	2 0 0	Hindu.
Mr. B. Nandlal	.. ..	1 12 0	Hindu.

APPLICATION OF THE FACTORY RULES TO THE CURRENCY NOTE PRESS, NASIK.

*140. (a) to (e). Factory inspection is a provincial matter. The Presses are, however, regularly inspected by Factory Inspectors of the Bombay Government and no criticism of the ventilation has ever been made by them. The ventilation is scientifically designed to give a sufficient inflow of fresh air and a maximum outflow of hot and ventilated air, and is far in advance of the arrangements existing in most factories in India in this respect.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham (Army Secretary) : Sir, I lay on the table—

(i) the information promised in reply to a supplementary question to starred question No. 348, asked by Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 20th February, 1933 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 836 to 838 asked by Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 21st March, 1933 ;

(iii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 931 asked by Mr. S. C. Mitra on the 27th March, 1933 ;

(iv) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 932 asked by Mr. S. C. Mitra on the 27th March, 1933 ; and (v) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1106 asked by Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin on the 1st April, 1933.

ENTRY OF SOME SOLDIERS OF THE DORSETSHIRE REGIMENT INTO THE DACCA UNIVERSITY CENTRAL BUILDING WITH FIXED BAYONETS.

*348. I am informed that a youth who was arrested on another charge was identified as one of the two two persons who assaulted the soldier. It was decided not to prosecute him for the assault as the evidence of identification was not considered strong enough to ensure a conviction.

PENSION OF CERTAIN MILITARY MEN INCREASED BY RE-EMPLOYMENT DURING THE GREAT WAR.

*836. (a), (c) and (f). The points raised in these questions were dealt with in the note on the conditions of re-employed service prepared for the informal committee on War Pensions, and were discussed at the meeting of the committee held on the 10th June. The note and a record of the proceedings of the Committee will be found in Volume II of the Report, a copy of which has been placed in the Library.

(b) No.

(d) No attempt has been made to lay down what records are necessary. The character of a man's service can normally be deduced from the records ordinarily maintained. It is unlikely that any inquiry held fifteen years after the war would elicit reasons for the non-existence of certain documents now.

(e) No.

(g) Government agree that service should be presumed to have been satisfactory in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

(h) No period was or is prescribed. The natural conclusion to be drawn from the fact that a man was discharged shortly after he was re-engaged is that he was not worth retaining.

(i) No ; the Pension Controller is chiefly concerned with the re-admission of the pensioner, on ceasing to be employed, to his original authorised rate of pension. It is the responsibility of interested persons to approach their commanding officers for a re-assessment of their pensions.

DISABILITY PENSION TO DISCHARGED MILITARY MEN.

*837. (a) A pensionable disability is one attributable to military service assessed by the Medical Board at not less than 20 per cent.

(b) The actual words were not used but Rule 1058 of the 1915 rules required that a disability should affect a man's earning capacity before it could be deemed pensionable.

INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED BY GOVERNMENT re PAYMENTS ON CERTAIN CURRENCY NOTES.

*838. The claim has been admitted with effect from the 24th January, 1924.

OFFICERS OF THE ROYAL ARMY MEDICAL CORPS AND THE INDIAN MEDICAL SERVICE EMPLOYED ON SPECIALIST DUTIES.

*931.

Statement showing the nature of Research work on which I. M. S. Officers in the Medical Research Department are at present engaged.

Name of officer.	Nature of work.
1. Lt.-Col. J. Taylor ..	(a) The study of the influence of the factors of toxicity and virulence of vibrio stains on their immunising value, and the effect of various procedures on the antigenic value of vaccines prepared from them as estimated by protection experiments.
	(b) The basis for the selection of vaccine strains.
	(c) The preparation of a novarsenobenzol toxicity curve for Indian-bred mice.
2. Lt.-Col. J. Morison ..	(a) The various types of cholera and dysentery bacteriophage and their effects on the virulence of cholera vibrios and dysentery bacilli.
	(b) The best conditions for the production of bacteriophage for cholera and dysentery.
	(c) The study of outbreaks of cholera in the field with special reference to their origin in Assam and to the effect of vaccination and the different treatments on mortality on the spread of the disease.
	(d) The use of bacteriophage on a large scale in the prevention of cholera epidemic in two large populations.
3. Major K. R. K. Iyenger ..	(a) Studies in Comparative Antigenic Value of Carbolised and Formalinised antirabic vaccines prepared from the infected brains of rabbit and sheep.
	(b) Preparation of a potent antirabic serum.

Name of officer.	Nature of work.
4. Lt.-Col. H. H. King ..	As Director of the King Institute he takes part in all researches that are going on, not only in the initiation of several but also in giving advice and guidance on all. The most important of the present researches are : 1. The cultivation of the vaccine virus in vitro. 2. Minor researches on the improvement of vaccine lymph. These include :— (a) Alteration of the seed passage cycle. (b) Alterations in the technique of vaccination on calves to lessen bacterial contamination. (c) The effect of antiseptics designed to kill contaminations without damaging the lymph. (d) The value of heat resistant strains of the virus. (e) An attempt to separate the living virus from the dead material of lymph by the action of digestive enzymes on the latter. 3. Researches on cholera bacteriophage. 4. Cultivation of the bacillus of Trachoma. 5. The investigation of the pollution of sub-soil water. 6. An extensive series of investigations on water purification with experimental filters both at Madras and Guindy. 7. Experiments on the comparative value of various scents in attracting mosquitoes either into a trap or on to a bag containing a poisoned solution.
5. Lt.-Col. H. E. Shortt ..	Rabies Researches. (i) Human Experiments. (a) Experiments on a fixed proportion of the most severely bitten cases treated with antirabic sheep serum, as an adjunct to the routine vaccine treatment to determine whether the negative phase may be counteracted. (b) Serological researches on treated human cases. (ii) Animal Experiments. 1. To test the pre-infectional immunising value of various vaccines. 2. To test the post-infectional immunising value of immune serum as an adjunct to vaccine treatment and when used alone. 3. To test the duration of immunity in immunised animals.

Name of officer.	Nature of work.
5. Lt.-Col. H. E. Shortt—contd.	4. To test the post-infectional value of various chemical agents in preventing rabies. 5. To test the duration of potency in the antirabic vaccine now in use. 6. Serological researches on rabies. 7. A study of the morphology of the brain and salivary glands in rabies. Protozoal Parasites Enquiry into : (i) The life-histroy of the parasite of tick fever in dogs, viz., Babesia and its treatment. (ii) Avian trypanosomes and their transmission by ectoparasites. (iii) Other minor work.
6. Lt.-Col. J. A. Sinton ..	Researches in Malaria.
7. Lt.-Col. L. A. P. Anderson ..	An investigation into the Serological Diagnosis of Enteric fevers in its relation to the special conditions of a tropical country where these fevers are prevalent. (b) Work in connection with the antigenic constitution of certain strains of the typhoid-paratyphoid organisms.
8. Major G. C. Maitra ..	The study of the effective fraction of antivenomous serum. The methods of preparation of Pseudoglobulin concentrates applicable for large scale production and the duration of potency of sera concentrated and preserved by different methods.
9. Major A. C. Craighead ..	The study of Indian strains of pneumococcus, meningococcus, and Hæmophilus influenzæ and the preparation of type sera for their classification.
10. Colonel R. MacCarrison ..	Nutritional Research.
11. Lt.-Col. S. S. Sokhey ..	Studying the biology of B. pestis with special reference to chemical and immunological reactions in correlation with animal experiments.
12. Major S. D. S. Greval ..	Ditto
13. Major G. Covell	On leave at present.
14. Captain H. W. Mulligan ..	Researches on Malaria.
15. Major W. J. Webster ..	Researches on improvements in the testing of water samples. They are : (a) The best and most economical method of conveyance of water samples without alternation of the bacterial flora. (b) An investigation into the presence and significance of streptococci in drinking water.

Name of officer.	Nature of work.
15. Major W. J. Webster—contd.	(c) The applicability of the Eijknam test under local conditions. (d) Researches on media for the differentiation of B. coli from T. B. ærogenes.
16. Captain M. L. Ahuja ..	The study of the relative value of different bacterial strains used for the preparation of typhoid vaccines and the comparative value of stock strains and recently isolated strains. (b) The antigenic properties of strains of vibrios choleræ from different parts of India and their value for the preparation of diagonostic sera. (c) The standardisation of Novo-arsenobillai under Indian conditions.
17. Captain S. M. K. Mallick ..	On leave at present.

MILITARY HOSPITALS IN INDIA.

*932.

British Military Hospitals.

Station.	No. of beds.	Number of patients on 1-1-32.	R. A.M.C. Officers.	No. of nurses employed.	R.A.M.C. other ranks.	Regimental Nursing Orderlies (British).		Indian Hospital Corps personnel.
						Trained.	Untrained.
1st Class.
Lucknow ..	162	43	8	12	25	5	10	64
Poona ..	170	64	10	14	23	3	16	93
Quetta ..	236	45	6	12	22	9	21	115
Rawalpindi ..	219	140	16	17	31	12	19	152
Secunderabad ..	140	58	5	12	20	6	4	76
2nd Class.
Bangalore ..	115	31	9	9	14	3	12	70
Calcutta ..	111	22	4	5	1	17	5	59
Jubbulpore ..	125	31	5	9	22	3	15	63
Karachi ..	174	23	5	6	9	13	8	70
Lahore ..	163	51	6	10	11	..	18	67
Meerut ..	174	87	6	11	26	14	2	64
Mhow ..	101	27	6	9	17	10	..	56
Mingaladon ..	70	28	4	4	4	7	12	52

Station.	No. of beds.	Number of patients on 1-1-32.	R.A.M.C. Officers.	No. of nurses employed.	R.A.M.C. other ranks.	Regimental Nursing Orderlies (British). Trained.	Regimental Nursing Orderlies (British). Untrained.	Indian Hospital Corps personnel.
2nd Class—contd.
Nowshera ..	90	32	4	5	..	9	14	73
Peshawar ..	146	41	6	10	20	3	9	111
Ranikhet ..	140	1	1	..	2	..	..	58
Murree ..	136	Open during the summer months only.
3rd Class.
Agra ..	71	18	4	4	..	9	11	39
Ahmednagar ..	50	20	2	..	..	7	..	30
Bareilly ..	65	25	4	6	..	12	6	33
Belgaum ..	24	5	1	..	2	..	..	15
Benares* ..	15	4	1	..	..	2	..	23
Bombay ..	147	12	3	12	21	9	..	59
Cawnpore* ..	63	20	2	3	..	3	6	40
Chakrata and Kailana.	80	..	1	..	..	3	2	39
Cherat (in summer, 3rd class; in winter, 5th class).	45	..	1	..	..	3	..	30
Dalhousie (in summer, 3rd class; in winter, 4th class).	72	..	1	..	3	..	..	8
Delhi ..	102	33	4	6	..	11	9	64
Deolali ..	70	8	2	..	15	1	1	46
Dinapore* ..	61	5	1	..	..	7	2	39
Jhansi ..	80	18	4	7	5	4	8	36
Kasauli ..	87	15	1	2	..	4	..	32
Madras ..	54	31	2	..	2	5	..	38
Maymyo ..	65	60	4	5	6	10	..	49
Muttra* ..	26	6	1	..	..	4	..	25
Risalpur ..	50	23	2	..	..	6	..	39
Sialkot ..	103	41	3	5	13	8	..	58
Wellington ..	85	13	2	6	..	5	10	48

* Includes Indian Wing of British Military Hospital.

Indian Military Hospital.

Station.	Number of beds.	Number of patients on 1-1-32.	I. M.S.	Number of nurses employed.	I. H. C. (Nursing) personnel.	Other (I. H. C.) personnel.
1st class.
Abbottabad	112	62	5	..	13	31
Bangalore	120	34	6	3	19	30
Bannu	220	45	4	4	20	42
Dehra Dun	146	36	4	3	19	50*
Ferozepore	80	38	5	..	18	33
Jubbulpore	70	29	4	..	18	31
Kohat	253	124	10	4	22	42
Lahore	160	74	9	4	25	47
Landi Kotal	270	36	3	..	17	36
Lucknow	135	38	9	3	26	47
Meerut	140	66	5	3	24	45
Nowshera	155	38	5	3	23	41
Peshawar	200	111	7	5	30	54
Poona	85	65	7	3	17	31
Quetta	450	96	9	7	57	107
Rawalpindi	220	102	11	5	32	75
Razmak	300	107	8	..	26	60
Secunderabad	134	35	4	3	26	41
Sialkot	96	44	7	..	18	28
Wana	160	53	7	..	25	44
2nd class.
Alipore	73	37	3	..	12	28
Ambala	85	52	4	..	17	33
Bombay	75	33	4	..	12	25
Delhi	75	26	4	..	9	27
Fort Sandeman	104	33	4	..	13	28
Jhansi	82	56	3	..	17	34
Jhelum	80	47	4	..	18	38
Jullundur	99	28	5	..	16	27

* Includes British Wing of I. M. H.

Station.	Number of beds.	Number of patients on 1-1-32.	I. M.S.	Number of nurses employed.	I. H. C. (Nursing) personnel.	Other (I. H. C.) personnel.
2nd class—contd.
Karachi	75	28	4	2	14	28
Lansdowne	130	21	2	3	14	41
Mingaladon	60	108	5	..	8	18
Shillong	17	17	2	..	9	21
3rd class.
Ahmednagar	30	12	1	..	7	14
Aurangabad	40	8	1	..	7	16
Bakloh	43	21	1	..	7	12
Bareilly	95	28	2	..	11	31
Belgaum	45	16	2	..	7	15
Chaman	100	4	2	..	12	25
Dharamsala	35	10	1	..	9	13
Loralai	79	4	3	..	8	25
Mandalay	75	28	3	..	11	30
Mardan	65	30	2	..	9	20
Maymyo	110	15	4	..	11	33
Manzai	48	14	1	..	5	16
Mhow	60	25	3	..	12	22
Mirali	15	6	1	..	6	12
Multan	60	16	3	..	9	19
Nasirabad	44	16	2	..	8	18
Risalpur	43	23	2	..	8	15
Roorkee	72	14	2	..	8	21
St. Thomas Mt.	45	11	1	..	6	18
Thal	40	9	1	..	3	11

Explanatory Note.

(a) Number of patients.—This does not include the numerous patients who are detained from day to day prior to admission or for minor complaints which, though not sufficiently prolonged to entail admission, nevertheless require medical treatment and nursing; nor does it include the large number of personnel treated in barracks. Families have also been excluded.

The date (1st January) conveys an erroneous impression of numbers, since Malaria is practically non-existent then.

(b) Number of beds.—This is the minimum number required to deal with the normal admission rate at the unhealthy season of the year, i.e., when Malaria and Dysentry are most prevalent. The number would not suffice for unusually severe epidemics.

(c) Number of personnel.—With the exception of Nursing Sisters, medical personnel have many other duties to perform beyond tending the sick in hospital. The primary role of the Military Medical Services is to prevent disease, and not merely to treat it after it has occurred.

Many officers are borne on the strength of hospitals whose full time preventive and other duties lie entirely outside hospital precincts.

(d) No Indian nurses are employed in the Indian Military Hospitals in India. Only three Indian ladies have applied for appointment to the Indian Military Nursing Service during the last three years. None of these ladies had the essential qualification of training in the nursing of male patients.

BUILDINGS IN THE AMBALA CANTONMENT.

*1106. (a) to (c). As a Cantonment authority cannot refuse, under Section 181 of the Cantonment Act, to sanction a building, on the ground that the applicant's title to the site on which he proposes to build is disputed, the Ambala Cantonment authority have, in a large number of cases, added to their resolution conveying Municipal sanction, a warning that the building will be an encroachment, and that the applicant will therefore build at his own risk. The object of this is to make it clear that Municipal sanction does not imply any admission of title in the land.

(d) Yes; the land is claimed by Government.

(e) Government are considering the advisability of filing suits where necessary in order to obtain a declaration of their rights in the land.

(f) Government do not consider that the action of the member in question brings him within the mischief of Section 34 (2) of the Cantonment Act.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai (Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands): Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to supplementary questions to starred question No. 421 asked by Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon on the 21st February, 1933.

REDUCTION OF LAND REVENUE AND GRANT OF Takavis TO AGRICULTURISTS IN SIND AND BALUCHISTAN.

*421. Land revenue is realised in all the tahsils in Baluchistan which are not under cash assessment at the rate of 1|6th of the produce except Sibi tahsil where it is realised at the rate of 1|5th.

Mr. P. R. Rau (Financial Commissioner, Railways): Sir, I lay on the table:

(i) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 246 asked by Mr. Lalchand Navalrai on the 7th February, 1933;

(ii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 783 asked by Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal on the 20th March, 1933; and (iii) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 1182, 1183 and 1184 asked by Mr. B. N. Misra on the 10th April, 1933.

TRANSFER OF CERTAIN MEN OF THE COMMERCIAL STAFF EMPLOYED IN THE QUETTA DIVISION ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

*426. (a) to (k). The Agent, North Western Railway, reports that the practice of transferring staff between the Quetta District and the other District of the North Western Railway was established prior to the introduction of the Divisional System to meet the needs of the North Western Railway to have a nucleus of staff available with experience of the working conditions in the Quetta Division who could be drafted up at short notice to the Quetta Division in the event of mobilisation. Under this scheme staff concerned were transferred for a period of 3 years after which they were sent back to their Home Divisions. It was decided in March, 1931, to hold this scheme in abeyance as a measure of economy. In consequence six commercial staff who were transferred from the Quetta to the Delhi Division remained on that Division.

It has been decided to introduce the three year scheme again. Three of the six commercial staff have already been transferred back to their Home Divisions and the other three are expected to be sent back to their Home Divisions at an early date.

CERTIFICATES OF SICKNESS PRODUCED BY THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY EMPLOYEES.

*783. (a) The Agent, North Western Railway, reports that medical certificates granted to staff by outside registered Medical Practitioners are generally accepted. Only in cases in which there are irregularities in the certificates or there is reasonable doubt about the genuineness of the certificates, medical certificates from outside registered Medical Practitioners may not be accepted. But such cases are very rare.

If a medical certificate is accepted, the employee concerned is granted leave admissible and due to him. In the rare cases when a medical certificate is not accepted each case is dealt with on its merits and the period of absence may be treated as leave without pay.

Government do not consider that any change in this procedure is necessary.

(b) No. Government are informed that this is not the case and that the granting of a certificate or not depends on the condition of health of the employee.

(c) and (d). Do not arise.

DENIAL TO RAILWAY SUBORDINATES OF MORADABAD OF THE PRIVILEGE OF SEEING OFFICERS AT CALCUTTA.

*1182. (a) No. The staff are granted, on application, interviews with officers at Calcutta, if it is considered that an interview can serve any useful purpose.

(b) In this case the appeal lay to the Divisional Superintendent and it was not considered that any advantage would be gained by the appellant by an interview with any officer in Calcutta.

PUNISHMENTS GIVEN TO THE SUBORDINATES OF THE MORADABAD DIVISION, EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

*1183. Staff are not punished in anticipation of their explanation. The reference number quoted appears to be wrong as the letter is not traceable.

SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN SUBORDINATES OF THE MORADABAD DIVISION, EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

*1184. (a) Pay under suspension is regulated in terms of Fundamental Rule 54. Staff who are not honourably acquitted of a charge are granted such proportion of pay as is ordered by competent authority. In cases in which full pay has not been sanctioned, the staff concerned were justly put under suspension and the forfeiture of a part of their pay was considered sufficient punishment.

(b) These are of purely departmental interest and Government do not consider that any public purpose will be served by publishing them.

THE INDIAN MERCHANT SHIPPING (SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL.

PRESENTATION OF THE REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : Sir, I lay on the table the report of the Select Committee to which the Bill further to amend the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, for certain purposes was referred.

PRESENTATION OF THE REPORT OF THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster (Finance Member) : Sir, I beg to present the first part of the report of the Public Accounts Committee on the accounts of 1931-32.

Report of the Public Accounts Committee on the Accounts of 1931-32 other than Railways.

I.—EXCESS VOTES.

1. General summary.—The following table compares the total grants voted by the Legislative Assembly with the total expenditure against those grants :

(In lakhs of rupees.)*

	Original grant.	Supplementary grant.	Final grant.	Actual expenditure.
Expenditure charged to Revenue	1,09,69	6,16	1,15,85	1,08,65
Expenditure charged to Capital	13,29	..	13,29	8,35
	1,22,98	6,16	1,29,14	1,17,00
Disbursements of loans and advances	9,15	6,78	15,93	14,21
Grand Total ..	1,32,13	12,94	1,45,07	1,31,21

2. The following table compares the non-voted appropriations sanctioned by the Government of India with the total expenditure against such appropriations :—

(In lakhs of rupees.)

	Original appropriation.	Supplementary appropriation.	Final appropriation.	Actual expenditure.
Expenditure charged to Revenue	1,20,10	70	1,20,80	1,19,76
Expenditure charged to Capital	13	6	19	20
Total Expenditure ..	1,20,23	76	1,20,99	1,19,90

* The figures in paragraphs 1 to 5 include Railway figures.

3. The position regarding total expenditure, voted and non-voted, is as follows :—

(In lakhs of rupees.)

	Original grant.	Final grant.	Actual expenditure.
Expenditure charged to Revenue	2,29,79	2,36,65	2,28,35
Expenditure charged to Capital	13,42	13,48	8,55
Total Expenditure ..	2,43,21	2,50,13	2,36,90
Disbursements of loans and advances.	9,15	15,93	14,21
Total ..	2,52,36	2,66,06	2,51,11

4. Savings.—There was thus a saving of 14,95 lakhs or 5.6 per cent. in the final grant. The percentage compares as follows with the results of previous years :—

	1927-28.	1928-29.	1929-30.	1930-31.	1931-32.
Expenditure charged to Revenue ..	·6	1·1	1·4	·5	3·5
Expenditure charged to Capital ..	3·4	3·8	10·2	19·9	36·6
Disbursements of loans and advances	·1	—·3	—·3	—20·3	10·8
Combined percentage	1·0	1·4	2·4	1·2	5·6

5. The following table compares the percentage of savings under voted grants for expenditure proper (i.e., exclusive of disbursements of loans and advances) with that of savings in non-voted appropriations :—

Year.	Voted.	Non-voted.
1927-28	—·4	2·8
1928-29	2·4	·3
1929-30	4·0	·8
1930-31	4·0	—·1
1931-32	9·4	·9

6. Excesses.—In the following cases the actual expenditure exceeds the voted grants and an excess vote of the Assembly is accordingly required :—

Item No.	Number of Grant.	Grant.	Amount voted by the Assembly.	Actual expenditure.	Excess.
			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1	20	Stamps	2,000	7,762	5,762
2	26	Interest on Miscellaneous obligations.	47,78,000	48,90,238	1,12,238
3	74	Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.	46,98,000	56,60,750	9,62,750
4	76A	Expenditure on Retrenched personnel charged to Revenue.	..	2,69,155	2,69,155
5	77	Refunds	84,43,000	90,31,307	5,88,307
6	80	Delhi	43,69,000	44,74,697	1,05,697
7	96A	Expenditure on Retrenched personnel charged to Capital.	..	1,42,779	1,42,779

7. A brief explanation of each excess is given below :—

Item 1.—The excess was due to the Security Printing Press having sustained a loss during the year as the result of a fall in the demand for the products of the Press.

Item 2.—The voted charges under this grant represent mainly payments to the Posts and Telegraphs Department for savings bank and cash certificate work. The excess was due to an increase in the number of savings bank transactions beyond that anticipated when the supplementary grant was obtained under this head.

Item 3.—The excess was mainly due to the abnormally large number of retirements towards the close of the year as a result of the retrenchment campaign and to the adjustment of Posts and Telegraphs Department pensionary liability at a lower rate than anticipated.

Items 4 and 7.—These items have been dealt with in paragraph 15 of this Report.

Item 5.—The excess occurs mainly under customs refunds and is partly due to the late adjustment of debits connected with the refund of excise duty on motor spirit and kerosene produced in Burma and exported to Kashmere and Afghanistan.

Item 6.—An unanticipated grant-in-aid made to the New Delhi municipality to meet expenditure on certain activities transferred to it from the Public Works Department caused the excess. This was largely counterbalanced by corresponding savings in the Public Works grant.

8. We recommend that the Assembly assent to the excess grants detailed in paragraph 6 above, which the Governor-General in Council will place before them in due course.

9. Rule 52 (2) of the Indian Legislative Rules requires that we should bring to the notice of the Assembly every reappropriation from one grant to another grant, every reappropriation within a grant which is not made in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed by the Finance Department and all expenditure which the Finance Department have requested should be brought to the notice of the Assembly. We are glad to be able to report that there have been no reappropriations falling under these categories during the year, nor have the Finance Department requested us to bring to the notice of the Assembly any particular item of expenditure.

II.—COMMENTS ON MATTERS OUTSTANDING FROM PREVIOUS REPORTS.

10. Disposal of surplus stocks of quinine.—We were informed that in accordance with the recommendations of the previous Public Accounts Committees arrangements had been made for the disposal of the surplus stock of quinine held by the Government of India after retaining 150,000 lbs. as a reserve stock in accordance with the advice given by the experts. In view of the impending constitutional changes and the introduction of Provincial Autonomy we do not think that the Government of India should at its own expense maintain a large stock of quinine for supply to the Provincial Governments after the new constitution comes into being. We therefore suggest that if the arrangements now made for the disposal of the surplus stock are successful, the Government of India should reconsider the amount of the reserve stock to be maintained by them.

11. Utilisation of unanticipated credits to cover excess expenditure.—The Public Accounts Committee in paragraph 29 of their Report on the accounts of 1930-31 observed that unanticipated credits should not be utilised for the purpose of covering expenditure in excess of the grant and recommended that such credits should be treated in the accounts as receipts and not as deductions from expenditure. The Auditor General has explained to us that the fact of anticipation or non-anticipation of a credit is not really a valid criterion for classification and that he cannot classify an item as a receipt or as a deduction from expenditure merely according to the accuracy of a previous forecast. He entirely agrees with us that such credits should not provide excess supplies for the spending departments without the fact being brought to the specific notice of the Assembly. He has therefore suggested that such items should be brought to the notice of the Assembly either through the Budget memorandum or the review of Appropriation Accounts. We feel that this suggestion will not be enough to give the Assembly proper control over the matter. We therefore recommend that, in cases where substantial unanticipated credits are to be utilised to incur fresh expenditure which would not have been incurred but for such credits, the approval of the Standing Finance Committee should be obtained in the same way as for items of supplementary grants.

12 (a). Andamans Forests.—With regard to the subjects of royalty and shipping freights on timber, we have accepted the Government view as recorded in paragraphs 20 and 21 of the Proceedings of our meetings.

(b) Andamans Butchery and Dairy.—We are glad to note that as a result of many improvements introduced in these two concerns the Butchery made a profit in 1932-33 against losses in previous years and the loss of the Dairy was considerably reduced. We are not, however, satisfied as to the need for maintaining the Dairy if it can only be run at a loss and suggest that the Government of India should further examine the point.

III.—IMPORTANT COMMENTS ON MATTERS ARISING OUT OF THE ACCOUNTS FOR 1931-32.

13. Accuracy of budgetting, control over expenditure, etc.—From the point of view of accurate estimating and efficient control of expenditure the year 1931-32 was one of peculiar difficulties. Owing to the severity of the financial stringency the Finance Department had to make heavy reductions in the estimates of the various Departments and as this had to be done at short notice, summary methods were adopted. After the budget was passed, various sub-committees of the Retrenchment Advisory Committee got to work ; a large number of schemes of retrenchment and economy were brought into force from time to time during the year and in many cases it was difficult to forecast exactly what savings might be expected to accrue during the year from those schemes. Percentage cuts in the pay of Government officers were also applied, with effect from the 1st December 1931. Throughout the year the primary responsibility of every controlling and disbursing officer was to reduce expenditure as far as possible and not merely to keep it within his allotment. Some confusion was also caused by the amalgamation of certain accounts and audit offices during the year, itself a measure of retrenchment. There were also abnormal circumstances affecting the Army expenditure, viz., disturbances in various parts of India, such as the Burma rebellion, and variation in the prices of stores, particularly food-stuffs. For these reasons we agree with the Auditor-General that the conditions of the year 1931-32 were such that no safe conclusions can be reached regarding the standard of estimating and that there was no marked deterioration in control over expenditure.

As regards the Posts and Telegraphs Department, however, we agree with the Auditor-General that even after due allowance is made for the abnormal conditions of the year, current control of expenditure continued to be inadequate, although we recognise that some progress has been made. The Director-General explained to us the various steps taken to improve the current control of expenditure.

After the Inchcape Committee's Report, the post of a Financial Adviser was created for the Department and the present Director-General was one of the earlier occupants of this office. He told the Committee that during his régime as Financial Adviser he had other duties of a Secretarial nature which occupied much of his time. The present Financial Adviser informed the Committee that he had no specialized staff to help him in his work. Whatever may be the explanation, we consider the position as disclosed in this Report and in previous reports unsatisfactory and recommend that the Government should take urgent action to remove any defects that they may find to exist in the organisation.

14. Financial Irregularities.—We have gone very carefully into the cases of financial irregularities included in the various reports. Such irregularities in the Civil Departments were not numerous. A case was brought to our notice in which a theft occurred from a sub-treasury as a result of the sub-treasurer's action in handing over his set of sub-treasury keys to a chaprasi to be taken to the sub-treasurer for the day. The local Administration issued orders impressing on all officials concerned with the administration of treasuries the need for strict observance of the rules in the Treasury Manual, but did not consider that any disciplinary action was necessary against the sub-treasury officer. We understand that such cases are not reported to the Government of India unless there is some loss to be written off by the Government of India. We consider that this is not satisfactory and that arrangements should be made for the reporting of all such cases of theft, fraud or defalcation, etc., to the Government of India in the administrative Department concerned so as to enable them to judge whether the action taken by the local Administration was sufficient.

A grant-in-aid equivalent to 50 per cent. of the actual expenditure on equipment was admissible to a certain college. A sum of Rs. 5,000 was paid to the college on the basis of an estimate of the probable expenditure, but later on it was found that the actual expenditure incurred by the college was less than Rs. 10,000 and the excess amount paid to the college had to be regularised by the Government of India. We understand that in some Provinces the procedure is that, in cases, where the grant-in-aid is expressed as a certain percentage of the actual expenditure incurred by the institution, the amount is paid only after the production of vouchers. We suggest that the Government of India should consider whether a similar procedure could not be introduced in the areas directly administered by them.

As regards the Army Department, the subject has been fully dealt with in the Report of the Military Accounts Committee and the proceedings attached to it.

15. Grants for expenditure on retrenched personnel.—The Auditor-General has brought to our notice that though the expenditure on retrenched personnel was known to be inevitable before the close of the year, no steps were taken to obtain supplementary grants from the Assembly to cover it. The Financial Secretary explained to us that it was extraordinarily difficult to frame even the vaguest estimate of the expenditure likely to be incurred during the year, which was clear from the fact that against a provision of Rs. 20 lakhs in the revised estimates the actual expenditure amounted only to little over Rs. 4 lakhs. He added that the Assembly knew that such expenditure was being incurred, as the terms given to retrenched personnel had been brought specifically to its notice. We realise the difficulties of preparing an estimate of this expenditure, but consider that from a constitutional point of view it was incorrect not to have obtained some specific vote from the Assembly even though the Assembly knew that such expenditure was being incurred.

16. Trading results of Government of India commercial concerns.—The Accountant-General, Central Revenues, has in paragraphs 22—29 of the Commercial Appendix given a comprehensive review of the financial results of all the Central Government commercial concerns and indicated in a clear form and comparatively brief compass the special features of the accounts of these concerns. As observed by the Accountant-General, some of these concerns show improvements, but the total extent of the deterioration in others far exceeds the amount of the improvement, mainly due to the widespread and continued fall in prices and the general economic depression. We agree with the Auditor-General that the results of the year are not any worse than the prevailing financial conditions would give reasons to expect.

17. Abolition of commercial accounts in certain commercial concerns—Appendix XV.—It was explained to us that the commercial activities of the Imperial Institute of Animal Husbandry and Dairying, Bangalore, the Imperial Cattle Breeding Farm, Karnal, cultivation and cattle breeding experiments in the Agricultural Section of the Imperial Institute of Agricultural Research, Pusa, had been considerably curtailed and their activities were now confined to education and research. In the Imperial Cattle Breeding Farm, Karnal, only the cultivation accounts had been commercialised, but now practically all the lands were leased out to tenants. At Pusa, commercial accounts were maintained only for the Agricultural Section and the Government of India had laid down that the maintenance of commercial accounts should not be regarded in any measure as implying that education and research work should be sacrificed in order to run an institution as a profit-making concern. The Kitchen Garden of the Imperial Institute of Agricultural Research at Pusa was only a very small affair. The Auditor-General agrees to the proposal to abolish commercial accounts in all these concerns partly because this will lead to some economy but mainly because he is convinced that the research and educational functions of these concerns outweigh so much the commercial side that commercial accounts can not actually be of much service. We also accept the proposal but on the distinct understanding that, if in any of these concerns commercial activities are revived, commercial accounts should be re-introduced.

18. The Indian Stores Department.—We discussed in detail with the Chief Controller of Stores the pro forma profit and loss accounts of the Indian Stores Department which showed a heavy loss during the year under review. The Chief Controller explained that as a result of the large fall in prices the commission credited to the Department, which was based on a percentage of the price of stores, had fallen considerably. He also mentioned that a correct estimate of the financial position could only be obtained if on the receipt side of the account credit could be taken for the large savings in the expenditure budgets of the consuming departments on the cost of stores purchased through the Indian Stores Department and that it was also impossible to assess in rupees, annas and pies the value of the services rendered by the Department in connection with the promotion and encouragement of Indian industries. We are of opinion that, though the pro forma accounts are very useful for the purpose of enabling us to keep a general watch upon the operations of the Department, the Department cannot be expected to be self-supporting on the basis of those accounts—at any rate at a time when the prices of all commodities are as low as at present.

19. Financial position of the Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department.—We have perused the memoranda furnished by the Director-General, Posts and Telegraphs (Annexures I and II to the Proceedings of the 7th and 8th meetings) on the future commercial prospects of the Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department and on the various measures taken to reduce the expenditure of the Department. We note that the Director-General hopes that if the improvement in revenue which is noticeable in the first three months of 1933-34 is maintained, the economy campaign which is being pursued steadily will enable the Department to balance its budget in the not distant future.

20. Report of the Military Accounts Committee.—We append the Report submitted by the Military Accounts Committee (Annexure A) constituted to make a preliminary examination of the Military Appropriation Accounts and connected documents. We endorse the recommendations and observations of the Committee both in its Report and in the accompanying proceedings of its meetings. As regards the special point of the pro forma account of expenditure on Auxiliary and Territorial Forces, we agree with that Committee that the present arrangements are unsatisfactory from a practical point of view. We therefore approve of the suggestion of the Army Secretary that proposals should be worked out for classifying the cost of certain units as wholly debitable to the pro forma account and the cost of others as wholly debitable to the ordinary Army grant.

IV.—MISCELLANEOUS OBSERVATIONS.

21. We were consulted on the action to be taken to reconstitute the Committee in view of the extension of the life of the present Assembly and after full consideration we recommended that a new Public Accounts Committee should be constituted on the expiry of the normal term of three years.

22. As in the previous years, we append to our Report minutes of our proceedings which we consider should be treated as part of the Report. We assume that in accordance with the established practice action will be taken by Departments as necessary on the observations and recommendations contained in these proceedings.

23. We wish to thank the Auditor-General for his lucid comments on the various Appropriation Accounts which greatly facilitated our work and also for the assistance which he rendered to us throughout the proceedings.

24. We also wish to express our appreciation of the valuable services rendered to us by our Secretary, Mr. K. Sanjiva Row.

A. H. LLOYD.

M. C. RAJAH.

T. N. RAMAKRISHNA REDDI.

ISMAIL ALI KHAN.

S. C. MITRA.

S. C. MITRA for K. P. THAMPAN.

M. A. AZIM.

J. RAMSAY SCOTT.

R. D. DALAL.

M. C. RAJAH.

K. SANJIVA ROW,

Secretary.

25. The non-official members of the Committee desire to record their appreciation of the ability, energy and tact with which the Chairman guided its deliberations.

M. C. RAJAH.

T. N. RAMAKRISHNA REDDI.

ISMAIL ALI KHAN.

S. C. MITRA.

S. C. MITRA for K. P. THAMPAN.

M. A. AZIM.

J. RAMSAY SCOTT.

R. D. DALAL.

Dated the 23rd August, 1933.

ANNEXURE A.

Report of the Military Accounts Committee.

We were constituted in pursuance of the recommendations of the Public Accounts Committee of the year 1931-32 in paragraph 31 of their Report to make a preliminary examination of the Military Appropriation Accounts and connected documents. In our task we received great assistance not only from the Auditor General and the Financial Adviser, Military Finance, and his staff but also from the Army Secretary and the officers of Army Headquarters who appeared before us. We have once again to record our appreciation of the obvious desire of the Army authorities to secure every possible economy and stricter financial control, of the efficacy of the action which they have taken to this end and of their readiness to accept any proposals in this respect which we found ourselves able to suggest to them.

2. The results of our examination of the Appropriation Accounts and connected documents are as usual embodied in the proceedings of our meetings (Annexure I) and it is unnecessary for us here to do more than to refer to the more important points.

3. Revision of Army Regulations.—In view of the numerous instances of wrong payments due to the complexity and obscurity of the existing rules last year's Committee had recommended that the steps taken to simplify and amend the existing regulations should be reported to us this year. The Auditor General in his letter forwarding the Appropriation Accounts again pointed out that the accounts with which we had to deal this year provide ample evidence that not only have irregularities been caused by the bulk and complexity of the regulations but that the unskilful and careless drafting of individual orders has led to losses that were not inconsiderable in total amount. He has therefore suggested that two measures are necessary :—

(1) more careful scrutiny by the Finance Branch in conjunction with the office of the Military Accountant General of the drafts of proposed rules, and

(2) the immediate incorporation in the relevant regulations of new orders affecting them.

We are informed that both these suggestions have already been given effect to. We are also glad to note that with a view to achieve real and lasting simplification of the regulations some progress has been made in the preparation of basic rules applicable to the various classes of personnel. We suggest that everything possible should be done to accelerate the work. We agree with the Auditor General that the cause of the trouble in the past has been the tendency of the Army Department to issue special orders to meet individual cases outside the ordinary regulations. We therefore strongly endorse the Auditor General's suggestion that having got the basic rules the Army Department should resist any such tendency.

4. Authorised war reserves of stores.—As recommended by the Committee last year, the Quartermaster General and the Master General of Ordnance have furnished the necessary certificates in regard to the existence in stock of all the authorised war reserves of stores on the 31st March 1933. Copies of these certificates are attached to our proceedings.

5. Pro forma account of expenditure on Auxiliary and Territorial Forces.—The Financial Adviser has in the Appropriation Accounts furnished a pro forma account of special expenditure incurred in 1931-32 for the expansion of the Territorial Force. The Army Secretary explained to us the difficulties involved in compiling figures of expenditure debitable to the pro forma account as certain charges in a particular unit were so debitable while others were not. He has therefore suggested that it would be much simpler if the complete cost of certain units were debited to the pro forma account and the complete cost of others to the ordinary Army Grant. We recognise the difficulties pointed out by the Army Secretary and suggest that the Public Accounts Committee should consider the suggestions made by the Army Secretary.

6. Expenditure on special programme measures.—We were furnished by the Army Secretary with a certificate from the Chief of the General Staff stating that the expenditure on programme measures up to the 31st March 1933, was estimated at Rs. 728.30 lakhs, that funds to the extent of Rs. 39.34 lakhs had been provided in the budget estimates for 1933-34 and that all outstanding measures could be completed by a further expenditure of Rs. 226.7 lakhs. We would like to point out in this connection that the estimate, viz., Rs. 10 crores, of the cost of special measures was framed before the fall in prices. We, therefore, suggest that the Army Department should carefully examine the question whether the total expenditure on these measures could not be reduced in view of this fall in prices, although we recognise that, for valid reasons, the fall has not been felt by certain classes of Military stores.

7. Claims against other Governments.—The Auditor General has brought to our special notice a number of cases of failure to debit other Governments or Departments with expenditure properly debitable to them. We were informed by the Military Accountant General that a special procedure had been introduced last year to ensure that such claims should not be overlooked. In view of the fact that some of the claims against other Governments, etc., had been overlooked for very long periods in the past, we would suggest that the Financial Adviser, Military Finance, should consider whether some arrangements could not be made to review periodically as far as practicable all agreements with outside parties which entitled them to concessions.

8. Military Engineer Services.—We went through the special review of expenditure on Military Engineer Services prepared by the Financial Adviser as desired by the previous Committee. The review is lucid and informative and we hope its value may be still further enhanced when the Financial Adviser is able to incorporate his projected improvements. The year 1931-32 was, however, quite exceptional as in several cases deliberate departures were made from the basis on which the budget estimates had been framed with a view to secure a maximum amount of economy as a result of the retrenchment campaign. We therefore agree with the Auditor General that it would not prove a fair test of the measures taken to secure conformity with a settled programme of works.

9. In the above review the Financial Adviser has suggested that the present system of holding of reserves should be reconsidered. We went through this question in great detail with the Quartermaster-General and the Engineer-in-Chief. From the explanations given to us it was clear that the only real reserve is that held by the Quartermaster-General himself and we agree with him that this reserve is necessary to meet certain unforeseen emergencies. The reserves held by subordinate officers are really not reserves at all but either (a) annual grants for minor works wrongly described in the accounts hitherto as "reserves" or (b) sums set apart at the beginning of each year by the controlling officers out of the lump allotments made to them for expenditure on works, maintenance, etc., during the year.

10. A case was brought to our notice in which the residential quarters of the Commandant of a certain school were provided with a hot water installation, the expenditure having been incurred before an estimate was framed and proper sanction obtained. The Auditor General has suggested in this connection that with a view to having some sort of check over works undertaken without sanctioned estimates intimation as to the intention of starting such a work should be communicated to the Controller as soon as possible. We also understand from the Auditor General that in the Railway Department all cases in which there is doubt as to the proper sanctioning authority and all important cases are referred for pre-audit or for advice to the Chief Accounts Officer who acts as a Financial Adviser. We suggest that the Military Accountant General should consider whether a similar procedure cannot be introduced on the Army side.

11. In paragraph 45 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit a case has been reported in which machinery valued at about Rs. 30,000 which had actually been disposed of in 1908, continued to be shown in the accounts up to 1929-30. It is a very serious matter that machinery which did not actually exist continued to be shown on the books for over 25 years without the mistake being detected. We consider that it is necessary to devise some procedure to avoid such mistakes in future and we should like to have a report next year as to the steps taken in this direction.

A. H. LLOYD.
J. B. TAYLOR.
M. A. AZIM.
S. C. MITRA.

The 10th August, 1933.

ANNEXURE I.

Proceedings of the First meeting of the Military Accounts Committee held on Tuesday, the 25th July, 1933, at 11 A.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.
The Hon'ble Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.	Members.
Mr. S. C. MITRA, M.L.A.	Members.
Mr. MOHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM, M.L.A.	Members.
Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.	Were also present.
Mr. G. R. F. TOTTENHAM, Army Secretary.	Were also present.
Mr. W. R. TENNANT, Financial Adviser, Military Finance.	Were also present.
Mr. J. C. BROMMAGE, Deputy Financial Adviser, Military Finance.	Were also present.
Lt.-Col. R. PRINCE, Military Accountant General.	Were also present.
Mr. L. J. PECK, Director of Army Audit.	Were also present.

The Committee took up the examination of Appendix A to the Appropriation Accounts prepared by the Financial Adviser, Military Finance. The Committee accepted the explanation given or the action taken in regard to the cases mentioned in the Appendix subject to the following remarks.

2. ITEM 1. Revision of Army Regulations.—The Army Secretary explained that some of the more complicated portions of the different regulations had been revised but that this touched only the fringe of the subject. To achieve real and lasting simplification, the first step, in his opinion, was to prepare a set of basic rules applicable to the various classes of the personnel ; this had been taken in hand and considerable progress had already been made. He added that the Army Department Secretariat was at present considerably under-staffed as a result of the retrenchments made last year, that they would have to entertain an extra officer for this purpose and that the work might take some time. The Auditor General agreed with the Army Secretary that this was the best way to proceed with the matter. He suggested that the Army Department, having got these basic rules, should resist the tendency to issue special orders to meet individual cases which had been the cause of the trouble hitherto. The Committee noted the explanation given by the Army Secretary and concurred with his views. They also desired that everything should be done to accelerate the work. The Committee also agreed with the Auditor General's suggestion.

3. ITEM 3. Reduction of stocks.—The Committee decided to deal with this item while going through the report in detail. In reply to Mr. Mitra, it was explained that the increase in the stocks of medical store depots was mainly due to smaller demands from the Local Governments as a result of the financial stringency.

4. ITEM 4. Exhibition of losses due to sale of surplus and obsolete stores.—It was explained to the Committee that the scope and method of exhibiting the figures of losses due to the sale of surplus and obsolete stores was under examination and that Sir Ernest Burdon had been requested to find out about the procedure in England. The Military Accountant General suggested that it was not correct to call this a ' loss ' ; the Army had to maintain a certain amount of equipment and in the course of time some of it got obsolete and had to be replaced by more up-to-date and efficient equipment. In some cases this even led to economy ; it should therefore be treated as part of the normal cost of the upkeep of the Army and not as a loss. The Auditor General explained that both from the theoretical and practical point of view, a loss like this was one which should be known and should be considered, as a certain amount of the taxpayer's money had been spent infructuously and that even if it was impossible to get accurate figures, an effort should be made to get approximate figures. The Committee agreed with the Auditor General on this point, and on the general question agreed to await the result of Sir Ernest Burdon's enquiries.

5. ITEM 6. Long-term contracts.—The Committee was informed that the number of long-term contracts was very small and that they were entered into only in exceptional cases when it was to the specific advantage of Government. They were also informed that, as desired by the Committee last year, arrangements had been made to have all such contracts scrutinized by the Director of Army Audit and to include a clause providing for variations in prices. The Committee noted the position and decided to examine the Quartermaster General on this question.

6. ITEM 9. Certificate in regard to existing stock of all authorized war reserves of stores.—The Quartermaster General and the Master General of Ordnance have furnished the necessary certificates in regard to the reserves held on 31st March 1933. (Copies appended.)

7. ITEM 10. Improving the present procedure for ascertaining the cost of drugs.—At the instance of the Director of Army Audit and the Military Accountant General, the Committee agreed that the point might be left over.

8. ITEM 11. Cost of production of bread.—It was explained to the Committee that the overhead charges in India were larger than in England as there were only one or two large bakeries in England whereas in India there were a number of small bakeries scattered over the country. The Military Accountant General quoted figures to show that quality for quality, the cost of production in Army bakeries in Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi and Quetta was lower than the cost of production in private bakeries. The Committee agreed that a comparison with the cost of production in England was not of much value and were satisfied with the explanation of the Military Accountant General that the cost of production in important centres was lower than the cost of production in private bakeries.

9. ITEM 12. Pro forma account of expenditure on Auxiliary and Territorial Forces.—The Army Secretary explained the difficulties involved in compiling figures of expenditure on the items covered by the Civil grant because certain charges in a particular unit might be so debitable while others were not. He suggested that it would be much simpler if the complete cost of certain units were debited to the Civil grant and the cost of others to the Ordinary Army grant. The Committee recognised the difficulties pointed out and suggested that the question of the items to be debited to the Civil grant should be re-examined.

10. ITEM 13. Excess in the grant under pay of Reservists.—The Committee recognized that accurate estimating under this head was difficult as the training year cut across the financial year.

11. ITEM 14. Expenditure on Stationery and Printing.—The Committee agreed that the progress made had been real and satisfactory.

12. ITEM 16. Reduction in working balances of stores.—The Committee decided to examine the Director of Ordnance Factories and Manufacture on this subject.

13. ITEM 21. Losses on sales of waste and scrap in Ordnance and clothing factories.—The Committee were informed that the figures given were not altogether reliable. They suggested that further enquiries under this head might be combined with those referred to under item 4 and be dealt with together in next year's report.

14. The Committee proceeded to consider the comments in the Auditor General's letter.

15. Paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Committee agreed with the Auditor General that the difficulties of the year were such that it could not be said that there was deterioration either in budgeting or in financial control. As regards the Auditor General's remark that it was necessary to impress on local authorities their responsibilities in connection with the estimates that they prepared, the Committee was informed that necessary instructions had already been issued.

16. The Committee adjourned till 2-30 P.M.

Indian Certificate.

(Vide paragraph 6 of Proceedings.)

I certify that, on 31st March, 1933, the War Research of stores authorised by the Government of India to be held at that date for the mobilization of the Army in India and detailed in the published War Equipment Tables, or provided for under specific sanctions, for the provision and maintenance of which I am responsible, were complete to the extent to which the quantities required have been calculated, with the exception of fluctuations normal to the maintenance of such reserves, or to shortage and deficiencies due to sanctioned alterations in such reserves, the adjustment of which is in hand.

A. E. WARDROP,

Lieut.-General,

Quartermaster General in India.

The 31st March, 1933.

Indian Certificate.

(Vide paragraph 6 of Proceedings.)

I certify that, on 31st March, 1933, the War Reserves of stores authorised by the Government of India to be held at that date for the mobilization of the Army in India and detailed in the published War Equipment Tables, or provided for under specific sanctions, for the provision and manufacture of which I am responsible, were complete to the extent to which the quantities required have been calculated, with the exception of fluctuations normal to the maintenance of such reserves, or to shortage and deficiencies due to sanctioned alterations in such reserves, the adjustment of which is in hand.

B. R. KIRWAN,

Lieut.-General,

Master General of the Ordnance in India.

The 25th April, 1933.

Proceedings of the Second meeting of the Military Accounts Committee held on Tuesday, the 25th July, 1933, at 2-30 P.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Members.
- The Hon'ble Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.
- Mr. S. C. MITRA, M.L.A.
- Mr. MOHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM, M.L.A.

Were also present.
- Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
- Mr. G. R. F. TOTTENHAM, Army Secretary.
- Mr. W. R. TENNANT, Financial Adviser, Military Finance.
- Mr. J. C. BROMMAGE, Deputy Financial Adviser, Military Finance.
- Lt.-Col. R. PRINCE, Military Accountant General.
- Mr. L. J. PECK, Director of Army Audit.

17. Paragraph 6 of the Auditor General's letter.—Audit of the special programme measures.—The Director of Army Audit explained that the amount accepted in audit up to date was 6,68,31,000 including Rs. 1,34,000 for which full details were not available, but which was accepted by audit as having been legitimately spent for this purpose. The difference between this figure and that given in Appendix B of the Appropriation Accounts was Rs. 3,57,000 and the Financial Adviser had agreed to withdraw this amount. The Committee noted with satisfaction that the matter had thus been brought up to date. The Committee was furnished a certificate by the Chief of the General Staff stating that the expenditure on programme measures up to the 31st March, 1933 was estimated at Rs. 728.30 lakhs, that funds to the extent of Rs. 39.34 lakhs had been provided in the budget estimates for 1933-34 and that all outstanding measures could be completed by a further expenditure of Rs. 226.76 lakhs.

18. Paragraphs 7—9 of the Auditor General's letter.—Financial irregularities.—The Committee went through the cases of financial irregularities mentioned in the Auditor General's letter. As regards the Auditor General's recommendations, that, to prevent losses due to unskilful and careless drafting of orders, arrangements should be made for the more careful scrutiny of the drafts of proposed rules by the Finance Branch in conjunction with the office of the Military Accountant General and for the immediate incorporation in the relevant regulations of new orders affecting them, the Military Accountant General explained that suitable arrangements had already been made both at the drafting stage in his office and also when orders were received in Controllers' Offices, to have doubts and ambiguities removed or settled. The incorporation of orders in relevant regulations, whenever necessary, was now the business of a special section in the Army Department, in which such work was centralised and co-ordinated.

19. Paragraph 23 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Military Accountant General explained that a special procedure had been introduced last year to ensure that claims against other Governments were not overlooked. The Auditor General stated that the revised procedure would be watched by audit to see whether it was effective. In view of the fact that some of the claims against other Governments, etc., had been overlooked for very long periods the Committee desired that the Financial Adviser, Military Finance, should consider whether some arrangements could not be made to review periodically, as far as practicable, all agreements with outside parties which entitled them to concessions.

20. Paragraph 33 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—In reply to a question as to why the amount of the loss was not recovered from the officer whose negligence contributed to the loss, the Army Secretary explained that the Commanding Officer's ultimate responsibility in the matter of losses was recognised and that in this particular case he had been removed from his appointment.

21. Paragraphs 35 and 36 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Army Secretary explained that as a result of the investigations by a special committee of experts it had been decided to issue a pamphlet giving clear instructions regarding the maintenance of the accounts of the Auxiliary and Territorial Forces. The Committee agreed with the Auditor General that the best method of securing the proper maintenance of Auxiliary and Territorial Force accounts was that of frequent and careful inspection. The Military Accountant-General explained that arrangements had been made for quarterly local inspections of these accounts.

22. Paragraph 63 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Financial Adviser, Military Finance, explained the defects in the system which facilitated the fraud and the steps taken to remedy them.

23. Paragraph 52 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Army Secretary explained that the Military Engineer Services supplied water to individual civil residents in many Cantonments, whereas under the Cantonments Act the responsibility for making recoveries in respect of the water supplied was vested in the Cantonment authority. Though the Military Engineer Services might know the total amount of water supplied, the Cantonments authorities often had no means of distributing the cost and collecting it from individuals as the supply was not metered. To get over this difficulty, which had caused considerable loss to Government in the past, it had been decided that in future the Military Engineer Services would make a metered supply of water in bulk by agreement to the Cantonment authorities, who would then pay the Military Engineer Services for the total amount supplied and make their own arrangements for recovery of the cost from individuals.

24. The Committee then adjourned till 2-30 P.M., on Wednesday, the 26th July 1933.

Proceedings of the Third meeting of the Military Accounts Committee held on Wednesday, the 26th July, 1933, at 2-30 P.M.

PRESENT:

The Honourable Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

The Honourable Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.
Mr. S. C. MITRA, M.L.A.
Mr. MOHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM, M.L.A. } Members.

Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
Mr. G. R. F. TOTTENHAM, Army Secretary.
Mr. W. R. TENNANT, Financial Adviser, Military Finance.
Mr. J. C. BROMMAGE, Deputy Financial Adviser, Military Finance.
Lieut.-Colonel R. PRINCE, Military Accountant General.
Mr. L. J. PECK, Director of Army Audit. } were also present.

25. Paragraph 53 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Auditor General remarked that it was absolutely necessary to have some sort of check over works especially those undertaken without sanctioned estimates. He quoted the instance of Railway Administrations where all important cases and not only cases in which there was some doubt as to the proper sanctioning authority were referred for pre-audit or for advice to the Chief Accounts Officer who acted as a Financial Adviser. He added that even if it was necessary to undertake a work before the estimate was sanctioned by the proper authority, intimation as to the intention of starting such a work should be communicated to the Controller. The Committee agreed with the Auditor General and suggested that the Military Accountant General should consider whether a procedure similar to that in force on the Railways could not be introduced on the Army side.

26. Paragraph 45 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Committee felt that it was a very serious matter that machinery which did not actually exist should continue to be shown on the books for 25 years without the mistake being detected. The Military Accountant General suggested that in order to avoid such mistakes in future there might be a special annual perambulation as in England. The Auditor General said that it was unnecessary to have such an annual perambulation as it would lead to extra staff and extra expenditure. He added that there was in existence a procedure in some of the Departments, for example, he believed, in the Posts and Telegraphs Department, under which the administrative officer had to give an annual certificate that the stores, apparatus and plant in his charge were in proper condition. The Committee felt that it was necessary to devise some procedure without entertaining extra staff to avoid such mistakes in future and desired to know next year what steps had been taken.

27. Paragraph 49 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Committee decided to examine the Director of Ordnance Factories and Manufacture on this point.

28. Paragraph 10 of the Auditor General's letter—Review of Military Engineer Services Expenditure.—The Committee agreed with the Auditor General that the review which was prepared at their special request was lucid and informative and hoped that its value would be enhanced when the Financial Adviser was able to incorporate his projected improvements. They also agreed that the year 1931-32 would not prove a fair test of the measures taken to secure conformity with a settled programme of works.

29. Paragraph 67 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Army Secretary read out the instructions recently issued by the Engineer-in-Chief to the effect that

(1) if time permitted, a comparative statement of the tenders should be submitted to the Controller of Military Accounts for concurrence, where it was proposed to accept a tender other than the lowest, together with reasons in support of the proposed action and a clear statement of the financial effect;

(2) if there was not sufficient time, the administrative officer might act on his own responsibility but should at once submit a report on the case to the Controller of Military Accounts and obtain his concurrence; and

(3) doubtful cases should always be referred to the Controller except when there was great urgency.

The Committee suggested that the instructions issued did not make it sufficiently clear that reasons for accepting a tender other than the lowest should always be recorded in writing immediately, as was done in the Public Works Department. The Army Secretary agreed that supplementary instructions might be issued to that effect.

30. Paragraph 235 (b) of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Committee desired to discuss this question with the Quartermaster General.

31. Paragraph 245 of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Auditor General pointed out that the lump figure for stock given on page 99 of the Accounts did not serve any useful purpose, as the Director of Army Audit was not in a position to see how much of it was effective and how much non-effective and was therefore not in a position to carry out satisfactorily the responsibility imposed on him in item 3 of Appendix A. He suggested that a classification of the stock such as is furnished by the Railways and the Public Works Department would be more useful. The Committee agreed that this was prima facie desirable, if practicable.

The Committee accepted the Auditor General's suggestion that the figures for "overpayments to contractors" might be examined annually, as they would afford some evidence of the executive officers' control and the regularity of their expenditure.

32 Paragraph 11 of the Auditor General's letter and Appendix E of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Committee agreed with the Auditor General that, as far as it was possible to judge from the figures available, the improvement in the stock position had, on the whole, been achieved as desired by the previous Committee.

33. Appendix G of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Committee desired to examine the Director of Ordnance Factories and Manufacture regarding the large increases in stock in the Ammunition Factory, Kirkee, and the Gun and Shell Factory, Cossipore.

34. Paragraph 12 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Committee went through Appendix I to the Supplementary Report of the Director of Army Audit and had no comments to offer.

35. The Committee then adjourned till 11 A.M. on Tuesday, the 1st August.

Proceedings of the Fourth Meeting of the Military Accounts Committee held on Tuesday, the 1st August, 1933, at 11 A.M.

PRESENT:

The Honourable Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.
The Honourable Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.	Members.
Mr. S. C. MITRA, M.L.A.
Mr. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM, M.L.A.
Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.	Were also present.
Mr. G. R. F. TOTTENHAM, Army Secretary.
Mr. W. R. TENNANT, Financial Adviser, Military Finance.
Mr. J. C. BROMMAGE, Deputy Financial Adviser, Military Finance.
Lieut.-Colonel R. PRINCE, Military Accountant General.
Mr. L. J. PECK, Director of Army Audit.
Lieut.-General Sir ALEXANDER WARDROP, Quartermaster-General in India.	Witnesses.
Major-General G. H. ADDISON, Engineer-in-Chief.
Brigadier G. A. HARE, Director of Ordnance Factories and Manufacture.

36. The Quartermaster-General and the Engineer-in-Chief were first examined in regard to the question of long term contracts (item 6 of Appendix A to the Appropriation Accounts). The Quartermaster-General explained that some long term contracts were inevitable if they were to get the supplies they wanted, as otherwise the contractors would never invest the capital necessary for the carrying out of the contract. He stated that at present in practically every long-term contract a clause was inserted under which the rates entered in the contract could be subjected to review periodically. He quoted the instance of a contract entered into for the supply of vegetables which was for a period of five years but the rates in which would be subject to review after six months. Two other contracts, viz., for the supply of grain and ghee contained clauses empowering the Army authorities to buy local stuff if it was cheaper than the rates mentioned in the contract. All contracts were entered into only after inviting open tenders except in very special cases, such as the Bagai contract, which was for running two sections of Mechanical Transport involving about 60 wagons to carry supplies in Waziristan. This contract provided for an alteration in the rates for petrol as the price rose or fell.

37. System of holding Military Engineer Services reserves—paragraph 235 (b) of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Quartermaster-General explained that there were two kinds of reserves, viz. : (1) a big reserve held by the Quartermaster-General himself and (2) a number of smaller reserves which were the ones referred to in the above paragraph of the Appropriation Accounts. His own big reserve was intended to meet big unforeseen emergencies and was distributed only under the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. He said that this reserve was absolutely necessary and gave particulars of the items on which it was spent. Both he and the Engineer-in-Chief explained how the other smaller reserves referred to in this paragraph were created. It was clear from this explanation that some of them were really not reserves but sums set apart by the controlling officers out of the lump allotments made to them for works, maintenance, etc. They were of opinion that these sums held in reserve served a very useful purpose and they had no reason to believe that they were not being utilised properly.

38. Paragraph 67 of the Report of the Director of Army Audit.—The Engineer-in-Chief agreed that full reasons for accepting tenders other than the lowest should always be recorded immediately. He informed the chairman later that it was unnecessary to issue special instructions on this point, as under the Revised (1933) edition of the Regulations for the Military Engineer Services the officer who receives the tenders is bound to record his reasons in full in every case where he recommends acceptance of other than the lowest tender.

39. Item 16 of Appendix A to the Appropriation Accounts.—The Director of Ordnance Factories and Manufacture explained that he had gone into this question of working balances very carefully and that greater control was being exercised now as each item was being dealt with individually by his office and he hoped that this system would reduce such balances to the minimum actually required.

As regards the larger balances of stock held at Kirkee and Cossipore, it was explained that the money value of the stocks held varied with the cost of manufacture. The Auditor General remarked that while prices in the case of ordinary commercial concerns were going down, the reverse was the process in the Army, as their overhead charges remained the same, while the output was considerably lower. The Director of Ordnance Factories and Manufacture assured the Committee that he was doing his best to reduce the stock.

40. The witnesses withdrew at this stage.

Mr. S. C. Mitra then raised the question whether the original estimate of ten crores for programme measures should not be reduced in view of the fall in prices. The Committee agreed that the Army Department should be requested to examine this point.

V.—PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMITTEE.

Proceedings of the First Meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Thursday, the 3rd August, 1933, at 11 A.M.

PRESENT :

The Honourable Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH.
Kunwer Hajee ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
Mr. S. C. MITRA.
Mr. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM.
Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
Dr. R. D. DALAL.
} Members.

Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
Mr. J. F. MITCHELL, Accountant General, Central Revenues.
} Were also present.

The Honourable Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary, witness.

Before proceeding with the business the chairman gave his reasons for proposing that the examination of the Railway Appropriation Accounts should be taken up immediately after the completion of the examination of the Appropriation Accounts of the Civil and Posts and Telegraphs Departments. After obtaining the views of all the members and of the Auditor General, the chairman decided to leave the matter over till the next day.

2. The Committee then took up the consideration of the items shown against the Finance Department in the Quarterly List of Outstandings (Appendix I). They accepted the action taken and the explanation given in regard to the items subject to the following remarks :—

Item 4. Revision of leave rules.—The Committee was informed that a draft of the revised leave rules applicable to the services under the control of the Governor General in Council was ready and that orders would issue before long. The Committee expressed the hope that the revised rules would issue during the current year.

Item 5. Recovery of public claims from pay and pensions.—The Committee after some discussion accepted the Government of India's conclusion that it would be impracticable to make any such specific stipulation and that the existing powers of the Government of India for the recovery of losses should be adequate for all practical purposes if properly exercised.

Item 6. Items awaiting constitutional changes.—The Committee desired that this item should continue to appear in the Quarterly List till the cases included in the Special Appendix referred to in this item were properly disposed of.

Item 7. Examination of financial prospects of capital projects.—The Committee was informed that the question was not of immediate practical importance in view of the embargo on borrowing for new projects as a result of the financial stringency. They were assured that all proposals for loans were subjected to a severe scrutiny by the Finance Department.

Item 11. Stores balances.—The Committee decided to deal with the memoranda furnished to them on this subject when dealing with the Appropriation Accounts of the particular Departments. With reference to the question whether this item should continue to be shown in the Quarterly List the Auditor General explained that the question of stocks was one of the important items to which the Accountants-General had been instructed to devote special attention in their Appropriation Accounts. In reply to a question from one of the members whether actual verification of stock was done by the auditors, the Auditor General explained that Audit satisfied themselves that verification of stock had been done, but did not ordinarily conduct a test check, though it had the power to do so if it thought that the verification had not been properly done.

Item 12. Unanticipated credits.—The Auditor General explained that the fact of anticipation or non-anticipation of a credit was not really a valid criterion for classification and that he could not classify an item as a receipt or as a deduction from expenditure merely according to the accuracy of a previous forecast. Detailed rules governing the classification of credits like these had been drawn up by Sir Frederic Gauntlett and this criterion did not find a place in those rules. The Auditor General accepted the Committee's recommendation that unanticipated credits should not provide excess supplies for the spending Departments without the fact being brought to the specific notice of the Assembly. In order to give effect to this recommendation, he, in consultation with the Financial Commissioner, Railways, had suggested a procedure for bringing such items to the notice of the Assembly either through the Budget memorandum or the review of Appropriation Accounts. The Committee thought that the suggestion to bring such items to the notice of the Assembly in a statement appended to the Budget memorandum or through the Appropriation Accounts would not be enough to give the Assembly proper control over the matter. The question should be considered whether such items should not be brought before the Standing Finance Committee just as all items for supplementary grants.

3. The Committee then took up for consideration the portions in the Auditor General's letter of comments relating to the Finance Department.

Paragraph 8 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Committee agreed with the Auditor General that the conditions of the year 1931-32 were such that no safe conclusion could be reached regarding the standard of estimating and that there was no marked deterioration in control over expenditure.

Paragraph 10 of Auditor General's letter.—After some discussion the Committee agreed that the present method of estimating for leave salaries on the basis of previous actuals gave sufficiently accurate results.

Paragraph 11 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Committee went through the general review of the financial results of all the Central Government commercial concerns given in paragraphs 22—29 of the Commercial Appendix and expressed satisfaction with the position as reported by the Auditor General, viz., that the results of the year were not any worse than the prevailing conditions would give reason to expect. The Committee requested the Auditor General to consider the best method of dealing with the point that in the commercial accounts of the Northern India Salt Revenue Department royalties on salt issued in any one year appear in the accounts of the following year and thus vitiate the cost of production in each particular year as deduced from those accounts. They also requested the Auditor General to consider the comparative merits of the calculation of the contribution to the Depreciation Fund on a straight line method and on the sinking fund method as regards its effect on the calculation of the cost of production of salt.

Paragraph 12 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Financial Secretary explained that the stocks in the Currency Note Press had been considerably reduced in 1932-33 and that as a matter of fact they were much lower than normal. As regards the stocks in the Bombay Mint, it was explained that the balance was high as it included a large quantity of obsolete stores purchased in bulk during the War which owing to the temporary cessation of coinage in this Mint were not being consumed. The stores are essentially mint stores and having no value in the local market could not be sold without heavy loss.

4. As regards the Accountant General's comment in paragraph 63 of the Commercial Appendix that the coinage of rupees for the Udaipur Durbar led to a loss as full overhead charges were not recovered, the Financial Secretary explained that the Government of India had to maintain the mints even when there was a temporary drop in the demand for their own coin and that it was not reasonable to charge the full cost of maintaining the mint to the Durbar during the period when their coinage was being executed by the mint. The prime cost of manufacture of the Udaipur coins amounted only to Rs. 9.93 per thousand pieces against which the Durbar was charged Rs. 15.35 thus including a certain amount on account of overhead charges. The coinage which the Government of India undertook for others at a time when their mints were not busy with their own coinage actually reduced the loss of the Government of India.

5. The Committee adjourned till 2-30 P.M.

Proceedings of the Second meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Thursday, the 3rd August, 1933, at 2-30 P.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Members.
- Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH.
- Kunwer Hajee ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
- Mr. S. C. MITRA.
- Mr. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM.
- Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
- Dr. R. D. DALAL.

Were also present.
- Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
- Mr. J. F. MITCHELL, Accountant General, Central Revenues.
- Mr. M. K. SEN GUPTA, Audit Officer, Indian Stores Department.

Witnesses.
- The Hon'ble Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.
- Mr. G. S. HARDY, Member, Central Board of Revenue.
- Khan Bahadur J. B. VACHHA, Member, Central Board of Revenue.

6. The Committee continued the examination of the Appropriation Accounts relating to the Finance Department.

7. Paragraph 13 of the Auditor General's letter.—As regards the Accountant General's remark that it was a common feature of administration that when increases of establishment were contemplated insufficient allowance was frequently made for the inevitable delays which were apt to occur, the Financial Secretary explained that the Finance Department always scrutinised the estimates with care and that the circumstances in which provision had to be made for the particular item in respect of which the Accountant General had made this remark were quite exceptional. As a result of the passing of the Supplementary Finance Bill in September 1931, provision had to be made for a large staff for work in connection with the lowering of the limit of taxable income before working out full details.

8. Paragraph 14 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Financial Secretary explained that estimates for the profit or loss on circulation of bronze and nickel coins were furnished by the Controller of Currency in January on the basis of actuals up to the end of December. During this particular year there was a large return of these coins during the first nine months of the year and the estimates provided for a moderate absorption in the last quarter, but as a result of India going off the gold standard the actual absorption greatly exceeded anticipations.

9. Paragraph 15 of the Auditor General's letter—Expenditure on retrenched personnel.—The Financial Secretary explained that it was extraordinarily difficult to frame even the vaguest estimate of the expenditure likely to be incurred during the year which was clear from the fact that a sum of Rs. 20 lakhs was provided in the revised estimate on this account, while the actual expenditure amounted only to a little over 4 lakhs. The terms given to retrenched personnel had been brought specifically to the notice of the Assembly who therefore knew that expenditure on this account would be incurred. The Committee realised the difficulties of preparing an estimate of the expenditure but considered that from a constitutional point of view it was not correct to incur expenditure without taking a specific vote from the Assembly, even though the Assembly might know that expenditure was being incurred.

10. Paragraph 16 of the Auditor General's letter—Loans and advances bearing interest—loan to the Bahawalpur Durbar for the Sutlej Valley Project.—As regards the two specific points raised by the Accountant General, the Committee was informed that the capital expenditure on railways was only Rs. 12,000, the balance being expenditure on maintenance, and that the sanction of the Secretary of State had been applied for, for the excess over the amount of the loan previously sanctioned by him. The Committee was also informed that a detailed investigation was now going on as to the financial prospects of the project. The Auditor General suggested that if as a result of that investigation it was considered necessary to write off any portion of the capital, it should be done as soon as possible so that the amount to be written off might not be inflated by the addition of arrears of interest. The Financial Secretary entirely agreed with the Auditor General but pointed out that it should be borne in mind that the amount to be written off might diminish considerably or even disappear altogether if the rates of interest went down and prices of produce rose. The Committee suggested that the point mentioned by the Financial Secretary should be borne in mind when considering the question of writing off any part of the capital.

11. Paragraph 17 of the Auditor General's letter.—As regards embezzlements in Burma treasuries, the Auditor General informed the Committee that he had heard from the Accountant General, Burma, that the Burma Government had introduced effective measures so far as treasuries were concerned and that the question of improving the work of sub-treasuries was engaging the attention of the local Government and the Accountant General.

12. Paragraph 18 of the Auditor General's letter—Salt Stores Accounts.—As regards the accumulation of stock in Burma, the Committee was informed that in 1930 there was a heavy cyclone in Burma which caused great damage to the stocks held there and manufacture was consequently speeded up to meet an anticipated shortage. In March 1931, after the Delhi Pact, the salt concessions came into operation and there was an unexpected decrease in the demand. It has since been decided to close this factory.

13. The Committee was informed that the writing off of over 2 lakhs of maunds of salt at Kuda did not involve any financial loss to Government, as under the agreement the Government of India had to take 5 lakhs of maunds of salt every year and at the time of the receipt of the salt the quantity was roughly estimated by measurement and only an advance payment made. The final payment was made in accordance with the result of actual weighment after the salt was issued.

As regards the failure to verify stocks properly in the salt works in Bombay Presidency, the Committee was informed that the conditions in Bombay were entirely different from those in Madras. In Madras, salt was stored in small heaps which could be measured easily while in Kharagodha the salt was stored in one large heap. The actual weight of the salt put into the heap was known and the loss was calculated only after the stock was exhausted. The possibility of having an approximate stock-taking by geometrical methods was carefully examined some time back but it was found impracticable. In Sind there are no Government salt works now.

14. In reply to a question by one of the members as to the progress made in developing the Khewra mines with a view to put the Khewra salt in the Bengal market, the Committee was informed that the Government of India had expected to get crushed salt made on a commercial scale out of Khewra for the Bengal market about May last, but when the machinery was installed the crusher exhibited certain defects and they were still examining the question how to get over the difficulties. Mr. Pitt, the Engineer in charge, who is now on short leave in England, is going into this matter with the manufacturers.

15. Paragraph 19 of the Auditor General's letter—Important comments of the Accountant General, Central Revenues, on the grant under refunds.—The Committee hoped that the revised procedure introduced with effect from 1st April 1933, would prevent such irregularities.

16. The Committee then adjourned till 11-15 A.M. on Friday, the 4th August 1933.

Proceedings of the Third Meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Friday, the 4th August 1933, at 11-30 A.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH,
Kunwer Hajee ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
Mr. S. C. MITRA.
Mr. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM.
Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
Dr. R. D. DALAL.
} Members.

Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
Mr. J. F. MITCHELL, Accountant General, Central Revenues.
The Hon'ble Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.
} Were also present.

Mr. G. S. BAJPAI, Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands.
Mr. RAM CHANDRA, Joint Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands.
} Witnesses.

17. The Auditor General explained that he had further considered the question discussed by the Committee the previous day, viz., the best method of bringing unanticipated credits to the notice of the Assembly. He explained that the legal position was that an unanticipated credit which was taken in reduction of expenditure according to the rules of classification could be taken in aid of expenditure and that the Government of India could not ask the Assembly to vote a token grant for what was already voted.

18. The Committee then took up the consideration of the Appropriation Accounts and connected documents relating to the Department of Education, Health and Lands.

19. Item 1 of the Quarterly Statement—Surplus stocks of Quinine.—The Committee was informed that the quantity of manufactured quinine now held by the Government of India was about 280,000 pounds, of which it was proposed to keep 150,000 pounds as reserve in accordance with the advice given by experts and to dispose of the balance of 130,000 pounds. Instructions had already been issued to the Director, Botanical Survey, to make arrangements for the sale by the method of limited tenders.

The Committee was not quite satisfied whether, in view of the impending constitutional changes and the introduction of Provincial Autonomy, the Government of India should at its own expense maintain a large stock of quinine for supply to the Provincial Governments. They therefore suggested that the amount of the reserve stock to be maintained by the Government of India should be reconsidered, if the arrangements now made for the sale of the surplus were successful. With a view to curtail Government of India's annual production and manufacture of drug, extension of cinchona cultivation in Burma had been stopped. Measures for reduction in the Burma production were proceeding as quickly as consideration for capital value, represented by the area developed and about to yield its quota of bark, would allow.

20. Item 2 (a) of the Quarterly Statement—Royalty on Andamans timber.—The Secretary, Education, Health and Lands Department, informed the Committee that the Government had come to the conclusion that there were no data to enable them to fix a rate of royalty and that the question had therefore been dropped. The Auditor General agreed that there was no point in including royalty as the conditions in the Andamans were different from those elsewhere and there was no competition with private enterprise to provide a standard of comparison. The Committee after some discussion accepted the Auditor General's views.

21. Item 2 (b) of the Quarterly Statement—Shipping freight on Andamans timber.—The Committee was informed that Mr. Morgan assumed that the Forest Department was paying a lower rate of freight than they would have had to pay if ordinary commercial ships were employed for the carriage of timber, but the probable fact was that private freight could be obtained at a lower rate than the Forest Department was now paying. The result of employing private shipping would only mean a greater loss to the Government of India as a whole, as in any case they had to run a Government steamer service. The Committee accepted this explanation.

22. Item 3 of the Quarterly Statement—Wellington Farm.—It was explained that, as a result of the economies introduced in the working of the Wellington Farm with effect from the 1st April 1932, there was a great decrease in the cost of production. The cost of production now was slightly less than the selling price and the Farm had made a profit of Rs. 6,629 in the year 1932-33. The Committee noted with satisfaction that the institute was now able to pay its way.

23. Paragraph 28 of the Auditor General's letter and paragraphs 187 and 189 of the Commercial Appendix.—The Committee was informed that arrangements had been made for exhibiting the excesses and deficits found at the time of stock-taking in a separate abstract and also for a test check by the Officer in Charge. The Committee was also informed that free issues had been reduced from 36,000 to 14,000 and that the latter figure would be reduced still further as it included supplies to the High Commissioner for sale in England which were wrongly included under free issues.

24. The Committee then adjourned till 2 P.M.

Proceedings of the Fourth Meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Friday, the 4th August, 1933, at 2 P.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Members.
- Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH.
- Kunwer Hajee ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
- Mr. S. C. MITRA.
- Mr. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM.
- Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
- Dr. R. D. DALAL.

Were also present.
- Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
- Mr. J. F. MITCHELL, Accountant General, Central Revenues.

Witnesses.
- Mr. G. S. BAJPAI, Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands.
- Mr. RAM CHANDRA, Joint Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands.
- The Hon'ble Mr. J. A. SHILLIDY, Secretary, Department of Industries and Labour.
- Mr. A. G. CLOW, Joint Secretary, Department of Industries and Labour.
- Mr. T. C. S. JAYARATNAM, Deputy Secretary, Department of Industries and Labour.
- Mr. F. T. JONES, Chief Engineer, Central Public Works Department, Delhi.
- Mr. HAFAZAT HUSSAIN, Under Secretary, Department of Industries and Labour.

25. The Committee agreed to discuss the Railway Appropriation Accounts immediately after the examination of the Civil and the Posts and Telegraphs Appropriation Accounts was completed on the understanding that there would be a further meeting later in the year to consider the coal purchase policy and any other outstanding item.

26. The Committee then continued the examination of the Appropriation Accounts relating to the Department of Education, Health and Lands.

27. Paragraph 30 of the Auditor General's letter and the Important Comment on pages 119 and 120 of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Secretary, Education, Health and Lands Department, informed the Committee that they had already taken steps to bind the Director of Archæology and other Heads of Departments to observe strictly the principles regarding agreements referred to by the Accountant General, Central Revenues. As regards the particular case, the Committee was informed that out of 140 plates ordered, 89 had actually been delivered and that 36 were expected shortly. As regards the balance of 15, he was not in a position to say when they would be delivered. He however hoped that the work would be completed by the end of the current year. The Committee desired to have a report next year regarding the position.

28. Paragraph 31 of the Auditor General's letter—Commercial Accounts of the Research Institute, Muktesar.—The Committee was informed that the selling prices of the serum produced by the Institute had been reduced and that the present prices allowed for only a very small margin over the cost price as shown below :—

	Rate per dose of serum.
	Anti-rinderpest.	Hæmorrhagic septicæmia.	Blackquarter aggressin.
Cost of production for the year ended 31st March 1932	Re. 0-1 4·47	Re. 0-3-7·35	Re. 0-3-3·74
Selling price	Re. 0-1-6	Re. 0-4-0	Re. 0-3-6

29. Commercial Accounts of the Forest Department.—The Committee was informed that the Department was now losing steadily on scantlings sold in Calcutta and the question was under consideration whether the production of such scantlings should not be discontinued.

30. Appendix XV.—It was explained to the Committee that the commercial activities of the Imperial Institute of Animal Husbandry and Dairying, Bangalore, the Imperial Cattle Breeding Farm, Karnal, cultivation and cattle breeding experiments in the agricultural section of the Imperial Institute of Agricultural Research, Pusa, had been considerably curtailed and their activities were now confined to education and research. At Karnal it was only the cultivation accounts that were commercialised, but now practically all the lands were leased out to tenants. At Pusa, commercial accounts were maintained only for the agricultural section and the Government of India had laid down that the maintenance of commercial accounts should not be regarded in any measure as implying that education and research work should be sacrificed in order to run it as a profit-making concern. The Kitchen Garden, Imperial Institute of Agricultural Research at Pusa, was a very small affair and it was unnecessary to maintain commercial accounts for it. The Auditor General stated that he was prepared to agree to the proposal that commercial accounts should be abolished in all the concerns mentioned in the Appendix with the exception of Wellington, partly because this would lead to some economy but mainly because he was convinced that the research and education functions of these concerns outweighed so much the commercial side that commercial accounts could not actually be of very much service. Sufficient control could be maintained over the expenditure through the scrutiny of the budget estimates, the control of audit and local inspections. The Committee after some discussion agreed to the proposal on the understanding that if in any of these concerns commercial activities were revived commercial accounts should be reintroduced.

(Mr. Bajpai and Mr. Ram Chandra then withdrew and Mr. Jones and Mr. Jayaratnam entered.)

The Committee then took up the examination of the Appropriation Accounts relating to the Industries and Labour Department.

31. Items 16 and 17 of the Quarterly Statement—Budgeting and Control of Public Works Expenditure and Utilization of Reserve in Civil Works Budget.—The Committee was informed that detailed rules regarding Public Works budget procedure, which incorporated the recommendations of the Committee, had been framed.

32. Paragraph 24 of the Auditor General's letter.—As regards item 3 on page 191 of the Appropriation Accounts, the Committee was informed that when the budget was framed in October it was not anticipated that the work would really be finished before the close of the year. A provision of Rs. 10,000, being the amount anticipated to be spent in the following year, was included in the estimates. But later on it was found possible to complete the work before the close of the year by re-appropriating savings from other heads. The provision made in the budget for the following year therefore lapsed.

33. The saving of about Rs. 1,10,000 in the provision of Rs. 1,60,000 for the Forest Research Institute buildings was explained to be due entirely to the economy campaign and the consequent abandonment of certain works.

34. Review of the financial administration of residential buildings in New Delhi.—The Committee were very much interested in the review prepared by the Accountant General, Central Revenues, and desired that the Accountant General should prepare such a review every three years but statements similar to those on pages 201 and 203 of the Appropriation Accounts should be furnished every year. For this purpose it was not necessary to calculate the capital cost every year but it would suffice if the capital cost as calculated in the last triennial review was given. The Chief Engineer remarked that the review related to the year 1929-30 and that the position had improved since then, as the Government of India were now staying in Delhi for six months and as maintenance charges had been reduced considerably as a result of the fall in prices.

(Mr. Jayaratnam and Mr. Jones then withdrew and Mr. Clow entered.)

35. Items 15 and 18 of the Quarterly Statement—Printing of publications and use of Assembly Debates covers for Government advertisements and adequacy of existing allotments for stationery.—The Committee after some discussion accepted the explanation given in Appendices X, XIII and XIV.

36. Paragraph 26 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Auditor General explained to the Committee why the form of trading accounts of Government of India Presses previously prepared was unsatisfactory and stated that a financial review by the Controller of Printing and Stationery, which it was proposed to include from next year, would give all the information that the Committee would require.

37. Paragraph 479 of the Commercial Appendix.—The Committee discussed with the witness the reasons for the large outstanding balance (Rs. 60,636) relating to 1928-29 and previous years outstanding under "sundry debtors" and requested the Department to furnish a memorandum to the Committee on the subject.

(Mr. Clow then withdrew and Mr. Hafazat Hussain entered.)

38. The Committee was informed that the method of charging the Meteorological Department for the cost of telegrams sent by them had been changed with effect from the 1st April 1933, and consequently variations between the estimates and actual expenditure which used to occur till now were not likely to occur in future.

(Mr. Hafazat Hussain then withdrew and Mr. Shillidy entered.)

39. The Committee noted with satisfaction that the Indian State Broadcasting Service had made a profit in the year 1932-33. Mr. Shillidy informed the Committee that he hoped to show better results next year if the Assembly passed the Bill which they were introducing to put a stop to piracy.

40. The Committee then adjourned till 11 o'clock on Monday, the 7th August 1933.

Proceedings of the Fifth Meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Friday, the 4th August, 1933, at 11-30 A.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Members.
- Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH.
- Mr. S. C. MITRA.
- Mr. K. P. THAMPAN.
- Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
- Dr. R. D. DALAL.

Were also present.
- Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
- Mr. J. F. MITCHELL, Accountant General, Central Revenues.

Witnesses.
- The Hon'ble Mr. T. A. STEWART, Secretary, Commerce Department.
- Mr. A. RAISMAN, Joint Secretary, Commerce Department.
- Mr. T. SLOAN, Joint Secretary, Home Department.
- Mr. C. M. TRIVEDI, Deputy Secretary, Home Department.
- Lala BISHEN SWARUP (from Delhi Administration).

41. The Committee took up the examination of the Appropriation Accounts and connected documents relating to the Commerce Department.

42. Paragraph 32 (a) of the Auditor General's letter—Bengal Pilot Service.—The Committee was informed that the review was hitherto prepared by the Deputy Accountant General, Central Revenues, but in future would be prepared by the Principal Officer, Mercantile Marine Department, who would give the sort of account required by the Committee.

43. Paragraph 32 (b) of the Auditor General's letter.—The Accountant General, Central Revenues, informed the Committee that he had since heard from the Deputy Accountant General, Central Revenues, that the accounts of stores on board the Pilot Vessel " Lady Fraser " were now being maintained properly.

44. As regards the large loss on the Bengal Pilot Service during the year 1931-32, the Committee was informed that the loss was mainly due to a cause beyond the control of the Government of India, viz., a large decrease in the volume of shipping. The aim of the Government of India was to make the service self-supporting and with this object a surcharge of 10 per cent. on the pilotage fees had been imposed with effect from the 1st April 1932 and considerable economies effected in expenditure. As a result of these measures the accounts for 1932-33 showed a small surplus.

45. Grant No. 47—Lighthouses and Lightships.—The Committee was informed that the decrease in the surplus of this Department in 1932-33 as compared with 1931-32 was due to a reduction of light dues by one pie per ton. It was not the intention of the Government of India to make a profit out of the Department but only to make it self-supporting. The reduction in the dues was introduced with effect from the 1st April 1932 as appreciable reserves had been built up.

(Mr. Stewart and Mr. Raisman then withdrew and Mr. Sloan, Mr. Trivedi and Mr. Bishan Swarup entered.)

46. Item 14 of the Quarterly Statement—Andamans Butchery and Dairy.—The Committee was informed that the Chief Commissioner had effected many improvements ; the sale of mutton, which accounted for a considerable portion of the loss under the Butchery, had been stopped while the sale price of cream had been enhanced from Re. 1-4-0 to Rs. 2 per pound. As a result of these improvements the Butchery made a profit in 1932-33 and the loss of the Dairy was considerably reduced. The Committee was not, however, satisfied as to the need for maintaining the Dairy if it could only be run at a loss. The Home Department was therefore requested to examine this point.

47. Paragraph 20 of the Auditor General's letter.—As regards paragraph 1 of the Important Comments on page 285 of the Appropriation Accounts, the witness admitted that it was a serious irregularity and that the officer concerned had been warned and that steps had been taken to prevent such irregularities in future. The Accountant General, Central Revenues, observed that the financial side of the Delhi Administration required strengthening owing to the abolition of the Pay and Accounts Office. The witness informed the Committee that they had now effected considerable improvements and that experience of this year would show whether the financial side actually required strengthening.

48. Paragraph 2 of the Important Comments on page 286 of the Appropriation Accounts—Irregular payments of grants-in-aid.—The Committee was informed that the sanction of the Government of India had since been obtained.

49. Paragraph 3 of the Important Comments on page 286 of the Appropriation Accounts.—A grant-in-aid of Rs. 5,000 was paid to a college for equipment subject to the production of suppliers' receipts, but it was found later on that the actual expenditure incurred by this college was

Rs. 7,257 only, so that the grant-in-aid admissible, which was 50 per cent. of the actual expenditure, was less than the amount paid to the college. The Committee desired that in cases where the grant-in-aid was a certain percentage of the actual expenditure incurred by the school or college, the Government of India should consider whether payments should not be made only after the production of necessary vouchers by the school or college authorities, which, the Committee understood, was the procedure in force in Madras.

50. Commercial accounts of the Shipping Department, Andamans.—The Committee was informed that the Government of India were now investigating whether they could manage with only one steamer leaving the Forest Department to arrange for the service of private steamers where necessary. The Committee desired that the results of the investigations should be intimated to them next year.

51. The Committee then adjourned till 2-30 P.M.

Proceedings of the Sixth Meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Monday, the 7th August, 1933, at 2-30 P.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH.
Kunwer Hajee ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
Mr. S. C. MITRA.
Mr. K. P. THAMPAN.
Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
Dr. R. D. DALAL.
} Members.

Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
Mr. J. F. MITCHELL, Accountant General, Central Revenues.
Mr. M. K. SEN GUPTA, Audit Officer, Indian Stores Department.
} Were also present.

Sir JAMES PITKEATHLY, Chief Controller of Stores.
Mr. HAFAZAT HUSSAIN, Under Secretary, Department of Industries and Labour.
Rai Sahib KIRPA RAM, Assistant Director of Administration and Intelligence, Indian Stores Department.
} Witnesses.

52. The Committee took up the examination of the Appropriation Accounts and connected documents relating to the Indian Stores Department.

53. The Committee discussed in great detail with the Chief Controller of Stores the pro forma profit and loss accounts of the Indian Stores Department which showed a large " loss ". The Chief Controller explained that as a result of the large fall in prices the commission credited to the Department, which was based, on a percentage of the price of stores, had fallen considerably. He also mentioned that a correct estimate of the financial position could only be obtained if on the receipt side of the account credit could be taken for the large savings in the expenditure budgets of the consuming Departments on the cost of stores purchased through the Indian Stores Department and that it was also impossible to assess in rupees, annas and pies the value of the services rendered by the Department in connection with the promotion and encouragement of Indian industries. The Committee expressed the opinion that though the pro forma accounts were very useful for enabling them to keep some sort of watch upon the general operations of the Department they could not expect the Stores Department to be self-supporting on the basis of those accounts,—at any rate, at a time when the prices of all commodities were as low as at present.

(The witnesses then withdrew.)

54. The Committee then took up for consideration Appendix XIX regarding the amendment of the rules relating to the constitution of the Public Accounts Committee. After some discussion further consideration was postponed till the next day.

Proceedings of the Seventh and Eighth Meetings of the Public Accounts Committee held on Tuesday, the 8th August, 1933, at 11-30 A.M. and 2-30 P.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Members.
- Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH.
- Kunwer Hajee ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
- Mr. S. C. MITRA.
- Mr. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM.
- Mr. K. P. THAMPAN.
- Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
- Dr. R. D. DALAL.

Were also present.
- Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
- Mr. JAGAT PRASAD, Deputy Auditor General.
- Mr. S. A. VANESWAR, Accountant General, Posts and Telegraphs.
- The Hon'ble Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.

Witnesses.
- The Hon'ble Mr. J. A. SHILLIDY, Secretary, Department of Industries and Labour.
- Sir THOMAS RYAN, Director General of Posts and Telegraphs.
- Mr. S. P. VARMA, Financial Adviser, Posts and Telegraphs.
- Mr. F. T. DEMONTE, Chief Engineer, Posts and Telegraphs.

55. The Committee took up the examination of the Appropriation Accounts and connected documents relating to the Indian Posts and Telegraphs.

56. Item 21 of the Quarterly Statement—Indo-European Telegraph Department.—The Committee agreed that the settlement was an equitable one.

57. Appendix IX—Recommendations of the Posts and Telegraphs Accounts Enquiry Committee.—The Committee noted the decisions of the Government of India and had no remarks to offer.

58. Paragraph 4 of the Auditor General's letter—Financial position of the Posts and Telegraphs Department.—Copies of the statements made by the Director General regarding the financial position of the Posts and Telegraphs Department and the retrenchments effected are attached (Annexures I and II). The Committee was also informed that it should be noted that the loss of the Department included losses in connection with a number of activities which for reasons unconnected with the Department had to be definitely worked at a loss, for example, the loss on press messages, the loss on the non-commercial branch of the Wireless and the loss in working a number of unremunerative post offices.

59. Paragraph 5 of the Auditor General's letter.—The Financial Adviser and the Director General explained to the Committee the various steps which they were taking to improve the financial control.

60. Paragraph 6 of the Auditor General's letter and paragraph 74 of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Director General informed the Committee that instructions had been issued to all Heads of Circles drawing their attention to the necessity of calling for tenders in all cases. He promised to circulate a copy of the instructions to the members of the Committee.

61. Item 20 of the Quarterly Statement—Works expenditure in Posts and Telegraphs Department.—The Financial Adviser informed the Committee that certain orders had been issued last year but he considered that they were not quite sufficient and said that they would be supplemented further.

ANNEXURE I.

(Vide paragraph 58 of Proceedings.)

MEMORANDUM ON THE FINANCIAL POSITION OF THE INDIAN POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS DEPARTMENT.

NOTE.—The figures are in thousands of rupees.

1931-32.

1. The accounts for the year 1931-32 closed with a loss of 93,84, the expenditure charged to revenue being 11,58,44 while the revenue was only 10,64,60.

1932-33.

2. The budget estimate for 1932-33 provided for a revenue of 11,50,73 or an improvement from enhanced tariffs of 86,13. As the year advanced it was found that this expectation will not be realised and in the revised estimate a figure of 10,56,88, i.e., 7,72 less than the actuals for 1931-32 and 93,85 less than budget estimate 1932-33 was adopted. The expenditure provided in the budget for 1932-33 was 11,66,92 but the results from the economy campaign exceeded all anticipations that were entertained. This and various decisions on the recommendations of the Posts and Telegraphs Accounts Enquiry Committee enabled the provision being reduced in the revised estimate to 11,04,61 the saving compared with the budget being as large as 62,31. Big as this saving was it was insufficient to cover the gap caused by the fall in revenue and the revised estimate showed a loss of 47,73 as compared with 16,19 worked out in the budget estimate.

3. The March final accounts for 1932-33 have just been closed and the summary available indicates that the actuals will probably be a little better than was estimated in the revised estimate. The figures are subject to alterations as adjustments continue to be made until about October when the year's accounts are finally closed. According to these figures now available revenue amounted to 10,51,62 being less than the revised estimate figure by 5,26. If subsequent adjustments do not raise the figure it will be the lowest on record since 1926-27.

Fortunately, the results of the economy campaign have been more satisfactory and the total expenditure brought to account is 10,93,67 being 10,94 less than the revised so that the loss on the year's working amounts to 42,06 compared with 47,73 adopted for the revised estimate.

The following table summarises the figures and compares them with those for 1931-32.

	Revenue.	Expenditure charged to revenue.	Loss.
Accounts 1931-32	10,64,60	11,58,44	93,84
Budget Estimate 1932-33 ..	11,50,73	11,66,92	16,19
Revised Estimate 1932-33 ..	10,56,88	11,04,61	47,73
Accounts March Final, 1932-33 ..	10,51,62	10,93,67	42,05

Prospects for 1933-34.

The Budget Estimate for 1933-34 provides for a revenue of 10,81,34 while the expenditure has been estimated at 11,38,54 working to a loss of 57,20.

The following table compares the figures for the first three months of the current year with the budget proportions for the period and also the actuals for the corresponding months of the last year.

	Revenue.	Expenditure.
April to June 1933-34	2,56,24	2,20,31
Budget proportions	2,54,47	2,29,09
April to June 1932-33	2,48,69	2,22,47

It will be noticed that revenue is better compared with the last year as also with the budget anticipations, while expenditure is less. The same impression of an improvement having set in is conveyed by reports relating to the volume of traffic which either show a perceptible although small improvement or an absence of deterioration compared with the last year.

There seem to be some grounds therefore for entertaining the hope that the trough of depression has been reached if it has not been traversed. It is dangerous to speculate, but if the improvement in revenue is maintained, the economy campaign which is being pursued steadily will enable the Department to balance the budget in the not distant future.

ANNEXURE II.

Paragraph 4 of Auditor General's letter and paragraph 9 of Appropriation Accounts.

(Figures in thousands of rupees.)

The sanctioned budget for Working Expenses and Interest was 12,37,24 while the expenditure amounted to 11,58,44 showing a saving of 78,80. The sources of this saving can be analysed as follows :—

I. Net savings on items not controlled by the Department (e.g., Recommendations of Accounts Enquiry Committee) :—

	Rs.
Credits for services rendered to other Departments	3,06
Contribution for Pensions	5,44
Interest including surcharge	9,47
	17,97
Deduct excess on provision for depreciation ..	63,17,34
II. Emergency Deduction from pay	15,00

III. Results of Economy Campaign in the Posts and Telegraphs Department including its Audit Offices :—

	Permanent.	Temporary.	Total.
Pay charges ..	1,16	..	1,16
Allowances, etc. ..	..	9,32	9,32
Repairs	6,00	7,11	13,11
Contingencies ..	4,00	3,88	7,88
Subsidies	2,50	..	2,50
Stamps and Postcards ..	3,46	..	3,46
Stationery and Printing	5,33	..	5,33
Miscellaneous ..	2,00	2,18	4,18
	24,45	22,49	46,94
Deduct expenditure on retrenched personnel ..	..	48	48
	24,45	22,01	46,46

Note.—The reason for which the saving on stamps and Postcards and Stationery and Printing are treated as permanent is that the percentage ratio between the expenditure under these heads and the gross receipts of the Department is almost normal.

No increase should occur normally unless traffic and receipts show a large increase when the increased expenditure is likely to be inappreciable compared with the increase in revenue.

The distribution of the total saving between Permanent and Temporary is of course speculative being based on the nature of the items and of the economies carried out.

The most noticeable feature of the figures given above is that the savings under staff exclusive of the emergency deduction, were only Rs. 1,16,000. This was to be expected as retrenchment of staff even to keep pace with the fall in traffic could be initiated only after Government orders had issued after consideration of the Retrenchment Committee's recommendations. The orders were issued only in November 1931 and so only 4 months' savings in pay less leave salary, travelling allowance and gratuities could accrue as a maximum.

In this connection attention is drawn to paragraphs 18 and 19 of the Posts and Telegraphs Retrenchment Sub-Committee's report in which the Committee observed that out of a gross grant of nearly 13 crores only about Rs. 1,46,58,000 corresponded to what would be regarded in an ordinary Government Department as controllable expenditure susceptible of reduction without reducing salaries or establishment.

The Committee will be interested, with reference to the second clause of paragraph 4 of the Auditor General's letter, to learn that the economies in staff which were initiated in the last few months of 1931-32 bore fruit in 1932-33. In a statement circulated to the Legislative Assembly during the budget session it was stated that the savings from retrenchment of personnel on orders issued by the end of 1932-33 were estimated at Rs. 6,27,000 per mensem. The latest figures now received show that the savings have reached a figure of Rs. 6,68,000 per mensem or Rs. 80,16,000 per annum. It will be appreciated, of course, that a saving of this magnitude will appear in the accounts only when the economy has been in force for a full financial year and the men have ceased to draw leave salaries.

It may be added that the search for economies continues and the latest estimates indicate a figure of Rs. 8,76,000 per mensem, or Rs. 1,05,12,000 per annum, being reached by the end of 1933-34.

The following figures of the pay charges of the Department during the last few years also help in realising the magnitude of the saving achieved :—

Year.	As in the account.	Add amount of emergency deduction.	Totals being strictly comparable.	Annual increment or decrement.
1924-25 ..	6,12	..	6,12	..
1925-26 ..	6,33	..	6,33	+ 21
1926-27 ..	6,57	..	6,57	+ 24
1927-28 ..	6,90	..	6,90	+ 33
1928-29 ..	7,34	..	7,34	+ 44
1929-30 ..	7,66	..	7,66	+ 32
1930-31 ..	7,90	..	7,90	+ 24
1931-32 ..	7,88	15	8,03	+ 13
1932-33 ..	7,19	60	7,79	— 24

An increment which had never been less than 13 lakhs per year has been converted into a decrement of 24 lakhs and this in spite of the fact that the annual increments are estimated to cost between 12 to 20 lakhs of rupees.

In view of the observations contained in this note, the Posts and Telegraphs Department consider that the economies achieved even to the end of 1931-32 are neither small nor altogether temporary or likely to involve increased expenditure later on.

Proceedings of the Ninth Meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Wednesday, the 9th August, 1933, at 11-45 A.M.

PRESENT :

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member, Chairman.

Rao Bahadur M. C. RAJAH.
Mr. T. N. RAMAKRISHNA REDDI.
Kunwer Hajee ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
Mr. S. C. MITRA.
Mr. K. P. THAMPAN.
Mr. MUHAMMAD ANWAR-UL-AZIM.
Mr. J. RAMSAY SCOTT.
Dr. R. D. DALAL.
} Members.

Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
Mr. JAGAT PRASAD, Deputy Auditor General.
Mr. S. A. VANESWAR, Accountant General, Posts and Telegraphs.
The Hon'ble Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.
} Were also present.

Sir THOMAS RYAN, Director General of Posts and Telegraphs.
Mr. S. P. VARMA, Financial Adviser, Posts and Telegraphs.
Mr. F. T. DEMONTE, Chief Engineer, Posts and Telegraphs.
} Witnesses.

62. The Committee continued the examination of the Appropriation Accounts and connected documents relating to the Posts and Telegraphs Department.

63. Paragraph 76 of the Appropriation Accounts.—The explanation given by the Director General, Posts and Telegraphs, was considered by the Committee to be satisfactory. The Auditor General remarked that, if the facts as put forward by the Director General had been known to Audit, the paragraph would not have appeared in the Appropriation Accounts. The Committee desired that when the Departmental investigation into cases of financial irregularities put forward by audit had not been completed, a note to that effect should be made in the Appropriation Report.

64. Paragraph 78 of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Director General explained that no private houses were available in the locality. The alternatives were either to hire the Railway bungalows available at the place or to construct their own buildings. As a measure of economy it was decided to rent the railway bungalows rather than construct new buildings. The Committee accepted the explanation.

65. Paragraph 79 of the Appropriation Accounts.—The Director General informed the Committee that case No. 1 had been settled and that the other cases were under examination.

66. Paragraph 7 of the Auditor General's letter—Establishment charges.—The Committee accepted the conclusion of the Auditor General and the Director General that the present method of working out these figures did not serve any useful purpose and desired to have a report next year showing the results of the enquiry now being undertaken by the Financial Adviser.

67. Paragraph 8 of the Auditor General's letter—Stores Accounts.—The Director General admitted that the balances of stores were unduly high mainly as a result of the large purchases made immediately after the War. He pointed out that the balances had been reduced from about 2½ crores in 1923-24 to 69 lakhs at the end of 1931-32 and added that every endeavour was being made to reduce the balances still further. The Committee noted with satisfaction the steady progress made in reducing the balances.

68. Paragraph 9 of the Auditor General's letter—Rents.—The Director General explained that the increase in the number of houses still to be assessed was due to (1) in cases where a building consisted of a number of quarters, each set of quarters was now being treated as a separate unit for the purpose of assessing rent, and (2) as a result of the economy campaign, a number of officers, who were formerly allowed rent-free quarters, had now to pay rent and the quarters occupied by such officers had to be added to the number of buildings the rent of which had to be assessed. The Director General informed the Committee that there was no loss of revenue to Government, because, in the case of quarters the rent of which had not yet been assessed, ten per cent. of the pay of officers was being recovered.

69. The Committee then adjourned till 2-30 P.M.*

*The Committee at its Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth meeting dealt with Railway Appropriation Accounts.

Proceedings of the Fifteenth Meeting of the Public Accounts Committee held on Saturday, the 12th August, 1933, at 11 A.M.

PRESENT :

Chairman from 11 A.M. to 12 NOON. — Mr. S. C. MITRA.

Chairman from 12 NOON. — The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. LLOYD, Finance Member.

Members.
- Mr. T. N. RAMAKRISHNA REDDI.
- Kunwer HAJEE ISMAIEL ALIKHAN.
- Mr. K. P. THAMPAN.
- Mr. RAMSAY SCOTT.
- Dr. R. D. DALAL.

Were also present.
- Mr. A. C. BADENOCH, Auditor General.
- Mr. J. F. MITCHELL, Accountant General, Central Revenues.
- Mr. L. J. PECK, Director of Army Audit.
- The Hon'ble Mr. J. B. TAYLOR, Financial Secretary.

Witnesses.
- Sir LANCELOT GRAHAM, Secretary, Legislative Department.
- Mr. V. NARAHARI RAO, Additional Deputy Secretary, Foreign and Political Department.
- Rai Bahadur CHUNI LAL, Financial Secretary, North-West Frontier Province.
- L. SUNDAR DAS, Financial Assistant, Baluchistan.
- Mr. G. R. F. TOTTENHAM, Secretary, Army Department.
- Mr. W. R. TENNANT, Financial Adviser, Military Finance.

As the Hon'ble Mr. Lloyd, the Finance Member, had to attend a meeting of the Executive Council, the members elected Mr. S. C. Mitra as chairman during his absence.

70. Grant No. 29—Council of State.—The Accountant General, Central Revenues, explained to the Committee that during the last four years there had been savings under the head allowances, honoraria, etc., to members of the Legislature owing to the fact that a supplementary grant was obtained from the Assembly during the year to cover a carry-over of expenditure from the previous year as a result of the extension of the Legislature beyond the 31st March. A major portion of these supplementary grants proved unnecessary as there was a similar extension of the Legislature beyond the 31st March during the year and consequent carry-over of expenditure to next year. He therefore suggested that the estimate should be framed on the assumption that extensions beyond 31st March would occur. Sir Lancelot Graham explained that there were two uncertain factors, viz., (1) the November session of the Legislature and (2) the extension of the Legislature beyond 31st

March. In addition to these two there was also the factor that though the Legislature might be extended beyond 31st March some members left before that date and their allowances had to be paid before the close of the financial year. As regards the emergency session, the Committee agreed that it could not be anticipated and nothing could be done, but as regards the extension of the Legislature beyond 31st March, the Committee was of opinion that the estimate should be framed on the basis of the experience of past years. As during the last five years the session actually extended beyond 31st March, the estimates should be framed on this basis but due allowance should be made for the fact that some members left before the 31st March.

(Sir Lancelot Graham then left and the representatives of the Foreign and Political Department were called in.)

71. Paragraph 22 of the Auditor General's letter—Laxity of current control of expenditure under Frontier Watch and Ward.—Mr. Narahari Rao explained that the main difficulty was in connection with the expenditure in Burma which was controlled by the local Government. The difficulties of the local Government were mainly in connection with the anti-slavery expeditions; and they were real difficulties as these expeditions started late in the financial year with advances for expenditure and were out of touch with the headquarters till the beginning of the next financial year. The Committee recognised the difficulties, but, at the instance of the Auditor General, suggested that the Accountant General, Burma, should consult the local Government whether some system could not be devised whereby a more efficient control of expenditure could be achieved.

72. Paragraph 23 of the Auditor General's letter and Important Comments on Grant No. 79-Baluchistan—Fictitious transfers of Government servants in Baluchistan.—The Committee considered that this was a very serious irregularity and noted the orders issued by the local Administration.

73. Grant No. 71—Currency and Important Comments on page 177—Theft of Rs. 3,000 from a sub-treasury in Baluchistan.—In this case the sub-treasury officer handed over his set of sub-treasury keys to a chaprasi to be taken to the sub-treasurer for the day. As the loss had been made good by the treasurer, the local Administration merely issued orders impressing on all officials connected with the administration of treasuries the strict observance of the rules in the Treasury Manual. They did not consider that any further action, departmental or otherwise, against the sub-treasury officer was necessary. The Committee did not agree with this decision and suggested that the Foreign and Political Department should take up the question of some disciplinary action against the sub-treasury officer. It was also brought to the notice of the Committee that cases of such thefts or defalcations were not being reported to the Government of India by the local Administrations unless the sanction of the Government of India was necessary for writing off the whole or a portion of the loss. The Committee considered that arrangements should be made for the reporting of all such cases to the Government of India in the Administrative Department concerned so as to enable them to judge whether the action taken by the local Administration was sufficient.

(The Foreign and Political Department witnesses then left and the Army Department witnesses entered.)

The Hon'ble Mr. A. H. Lloyd took the chair.

74. Report on the Military Accounts Committee.—The Committee endorsed the recommendations and observations of the Committee both in its report and in the accompanying proceedings of its meetings. As regards the special point of the pro forma account of expenditure on Auxiliary and Territorial Forces, the Public Accounts Committee agreed with the Military Accounts Committee that the present arrangements were unsatisfactory from a practical point of view. They therefore approved of the suggestion of the Army Secretary that proposals should be worked out for classifying certain units as wholly debitable to this account and others as wholly debitable to the ordinary Army Grant.

75. The Committee decided to meet on the 21st August 1933 at 2-30 P.M. to deal with the draft report.*

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I wish to ask the Honourable the Finance Member a question. During the winter Session, the report of the Public Accounts Committee of 1930-31 was never taken into consideration by this House and I wish to know whether it is the intention of the Government to discuss the present report on the floor of the House during either the November Session or the January Session ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : If my Honourable friend's question implies that he is disappointed that there has been no opportunity to discuss the report of the Public Accounts Committee on the accounts of 1930-31, I should like to take this opportunity of stating that I share his disappointment. I think the House will recognise that its time was fully occupied and that it has been impossible to find time to provide for the discussion on the accounts of 1930-31. The Government are fully alive to the point and it is constantly before them. I can assure my Honourable friend that we shall do our best to find time for that discussion.

THE DANGEROUS DRUGS (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster (Finance Member) : Sir, I beg to move for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Dangerous Drugs Act, 1930, for certain purposes.

The motion was adopted.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Sir, I introduce the Bill.

THE COTTON TEXTILE INDUSTRY PROTECTION (SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : Sir, I beg to move :

"That the Bill further to amend the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act, 1930, be taken into consideration."

---

*The draft Report of the Public Accounts Committee was adopted by the Committee with certain modifications at its sixteenth meeting held on Monday, the 21st August 1933, at 2-30 P.M.

[Sir Joseph Bhore.]

I must, Sir, regret that circumstances over which I have no control have forced me once again to come to this House and ask it to agree to the extension of the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act for yet another period, namely, until the end of March, 1934. In the circumstances, however, which confront us today, I am confident that the House will agree that the passage of this short extending Bill is inevitable and that there is no other course which is either possible or expedient. I have considered very carefully whether I should take this opportunity of replying in some detail to criticisms, I may say at once, uninformed criticisms which have been levelled against the Government of India in respect of action in connection with such matters as giving notice of their desire to terminate the trade convention with Japan and increasing the rates of duty on cotton textiles last June. I have, however, come to the conclusion that I could not go in any deail into these matters without saying something which might give cause for offence and, as I said the other day, we should, at this moment, endeavour to do all we can to allay and not to excite hostile feelings. This is not the time, Sir, as I said before, to ruffle feelings. I will only say this, that the limit of endurance and patience had been passed before we reluctantly decided to impose the higher duties in June last, duties, be it noted, which did not increase the substantive protection as against Japan given long ago, but barely compensated for the consequences of a heavily depreciated currency. In giving six months notice at the time we did, we were actuated by the dictates of ordinary prudence. We could not have run the risk of protracted negotiations ending perhaps infructuously and then having to give a notice of six months afterwards. But the giving of notice did not in any way prejudice the inception of friendly conversations. I may tell the House that, after the last Delhi Session, we set on foot informal enquiries with a view to the initiation of friendly negotiations, and notice was given on our behalf by His Majesty's Government or rather an invitation was extended on our behalf to the Japanese Ambassador in London on the 6th June inviting Japan to enter into negotiations. We took the initiative in this case and it is certainly not our fault if negotiations have not begun earlier. I would, however, like to take this opportunity of saying emphatically that our action in giving notice and in raising the duties was not inspired or suggested by any authority or interest outside this country. We gave the notice and imposed those duties on our own initiative and in what we believed to be the best interests of our own industries. Now, this brings me to the subject of this Bill. From what I have said, I hope the House will agree that no other course is open to us other than that which we are adopting, namely, the continuance of the existing arrangements. We are on the threshold of negotiations with Japan, negotiations which, we all hope, will result in the solution of, at any rate, some of the most important trade problems which confront us today. The industrialists of the three countries, I believe, are contemplating entering into discussion amongst themselves with a view to finding a way acceptable to all of them which will lead to a solution of their difficulties. In these circumstances, I hope, the House will agree that it would have been in the highest degree inexpedient if we had attempted at this juncture to formulate a cut-and-dried scheme for the cotton textile industry of this country or to alter our tariff rates. If we had done so, I feel that there might possibly have been grave repercussions on the forthcoming negotiations. I hope that the House will find no difficulty in passing this extending measure. I would, however, like to make one appeal to Honourable Members. I would like to ask them to refrain from saying anything which may make our task more difficult or may result in weakening our hands. I would like to assure the House that the Government are seized of the case for all the industries concerned, particularly would I like to say that we realise the importance of safeguarding the interests of the agriculturist. If we have not been over-perturbed by action in certain quarters designed to frighten the grower of cotton, it is not because we do not realise the paramount necessity for safeguarding his interests, nor because we do not realise the possibilities of a situation in which Japan is the largest external buyer of our short-staple cotton. I do not want to say anything more on this subject. I would ask the House to join with me in offering a warm welcome to the Japanese Delegation. (Applause.) I need not assure the representatives of Japan of the profound admiration in this country for the genius and achievements of the Japanese nation (Hear, hear) and, I think, I am voicing the views, not only of the Government, but also of the people of India, when I express the hope that the result of these negotiations will be to continue and to cement the traditional feelings of regard and friendship which have always existed between the two countries. Sir, I move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

"That the Bill further to amend the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act, 1930, be taken into consideration."

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju (Ganjam cum Vizagapatam : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, if I venture to offer a few remarks on the motion before the House, it is not due to any want of appreciation on my part of the delicate position in which the Government of India is placed, in view of the impending Indo-Japanese Conference. On the other hand, Sir, it is with an honest desire on my part that in any negotiations which the Government of India may conduct, it may give due consideration to all the vast and varied interests of the country involved in a matter of this kind. I am perfectly well aware, Sir, of the reply which the Honourable the Commerce Member was pleased to give in answer to the question which was asked by my friend, Mr. Das, only a few minutes ago, that he could assure the House that all the varied interests would be duly considered and safeguarded by the Government. But my difficulty in appreciating that is this. Honourable Members of this House are perfectly well aware that, a few days ago when His Excellency the Viceroy addressed both Houses, he said as follows :

"Of significance too is the fact that India is to be the scene of a tripartite Conference between the textile industrialists of India, Lancashire and Japan. In this Conference the Government of India will not take any part, but they would welcome any agreement consonant with the welfare and interests of India as a whole."

Sir, my difficulty is this. I may be wrong, but I do feel that the answers which the Honourable the Commerce Member was pleased to give this morning were not exactly in consonance with the statement which was made by His Excellency the Viceroy. Here is to be a Conference which is to be a tripartite Conference, between certain industrialists in this country, Japan and Lancashire, and the Government of India, according to His Excellency the Viceroy, will not take any part, but they would welcome any agreement consonant with the welfare and interests of India as a whole.

[Mr. B. Sitaramaraju.]

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : If I may explain the point again, I think it may save the time of the House and also remove a misapprehension which I think my Honourable friend is labouring under. The negotiations which will take place will be official negotiations between the representatives of the Government of Japan and the representatives of the Government of India. At the same time, as those negotiations are taking place, certain entirely unofficial conversations between the representatives of Indian commercial and industrial interests, those of Japan and those of Manchester will also take place. With that the Government of India have no concern whatsoever, but, as His Excellency said the other day, naturally the Government of India must be greatly interested in any conclusion arrived at by that entirely unofficial gathering which may help us to a solution and a satisfactory solution of this problem.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : May I respectfully ask the Commerce Member how the other interests apart from the interests of the industrialists which are mentioned here would be consulted by the Government of India ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I do not quite follow my Honourable friend, but if he means that the Government of India will pay attention only to the interests of the commercial and industrial bodies to which he referred, then he is entirely under a misapprehension. I hope it will be possible for us to attach, as an unofficial adviser, a representative of the agricultural interests of this country as well.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : Sir, the Honourable the Commerce Member has been pleased to explain to us that the negotiations which have to be carried on between the Government of India and Japan would be purely a matter between the Government of India and Japan and that the Government of India would be consulting the interests represented by the industrialists of this country as well as of Lancashire.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The Honourable Member is entirely wrong. What I did say was that in conducting the official negotiations with Japan, we would keep in the closest possible touch with representatives of the industries of this country including the great industry of agriculture. We have nothing directly to do with the unofficial tripartite discussions which will be taking place, but we shall obviously pay attention to and consider any conclusions that may be arrived at by so important a Conference, even though it is unofficial.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : I am glad to hear the Honourable the Commerce Member's explanation of the position of the tripartite Conference and of the assurance that the Government of India would be consulting all the various interests concerned including agricultural interests. Sir, while I appreciate that assurance, I would like to bring very prominently to the notice of the Honourable Member that there are certain interests which are very important and as important as the mill industry in this country and probably even more important than that industry. I would particularly like to bring to the notice of the Honourable the Commerce Member that in any negotiations that they may make due consideration should be given to all those interests. One most important industry I should like to mention and press very much for consideration is the interest of the hand loom weavers of this country. That the hand loom industry of this country is the most important interest can be very well seen from the fact that we have in this country over two million hand looms working ; that is to say, for every hand loom which supports four or five people we have ten million people supported by that industry. Whereas, comparing that with the mill industry in this country, which employs not more than four lakhs of people and if each one so employed has four others to depend upon him, that would make about 16 lakhs of people provided by the mill industry as against 8 to 10 millions which are supported by the hand loom industry in this country. I would like to draw the attention of the House to the actual production of the cloth as well. The figures for 1929-30 were as follows : in millions of yards, the mill production was 24,18, whereas the hand loom was 14,04 : and the total of both was 38,22 millions of yards. You will, therefore, see, Sir, that even from the point of view of the actual production of cloth, the hand loom industry occupies a very prominent position in the country. It will be seen that it forms about 40 per cent. of the total amount of cloth produced in the country. In this connection I would like to draw attention to two small passages in this book " How to compete with foreign cloth " by the Secretary of the Indian Chamber of Commerce, Calcutta :

" It would be quite evident from the table given above (the table which I have just given) that the hand loom industry has not only gone out of existence as is erroneously presumed by many, due to ignorance or prejudice or want of enquiry, but that it supplies nearly 25 per cent. of the total annual consumption of cloth in this country and that it is responsible for about 40 per cent. of the total cloth produced in India."

In the table I have given for 1929-30, it is even much more than 25 per cent. from the figures of 1929-1930 :

" Since March, 1930, the production of cloth on the mills and the hand looms is on the increase, and, as a result of the movement for the boycott of foreign cloth, imports of foreign cloth are greatly diminishing. The above statistics make it quite clear that the belief that the hand loom weaving industry is a small moribund industry inevitably doomed to be entirely crushed by the power-looms is absolutely erroneous and has no foundation in fact. The industry has steadily maintained its position. It has had lately an access of strength in the shape of the khaddar movement sponsored by so powerful a personality as Mahatma Gandhi who lays great stress on the use of the Charkha and the hand looms for producing the cloth required in the country, with a view to provide work for the teeming millions of the people of this land during the periods when they have nothing to engage themselves on....."

Therefore, both from the point of view of production as well as the number of people who are actually supported by such an industry, and by the fact that it is a poor man's industry benefiting a large class of poor people, one would consider that it is not the industry which my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, had the honour to represent as really a national industry, but it is the hand loom industry which is really the national industry of this country. It is very unfortunate that so important an industry as the hand loom industry has not received that recognition which it is entitled to expect from the Government of India who have always been trying to impress that they are always solicitous for the welfare of the masses. In this connection the Government of Madras, in their Press Communiqué, issued on the 5th October last, stated as follows. This was a communiqué issued by that Government on the reference by the Tariff Board, and they have suggested a particular scheme about which I shall speak presently. They say in this communiqué :

[Mr. B. Sitaramaraju.]

"The mills benefit by tariffs whose effect, it appears, is mainly detrimental to the hand looms. A large articulate interest benefits at the expense of a larger but inarticulate community. Legislation which permits such results needs revision."

I would like to present this little passage to the Honourable the Commerce Member. The interests of the hand loom industry have, if not neglected, been relegated to the background, because they are not so articulate : they cannot be, since they are entirely confined to a class of persons who are poor and illiterate. Nevertheless, they form the backbone of this country, because they belong to the agricultural population of this country. The Government of Madras, in proposing their scheme, suggested to the Tariff Board that a cess of two pies might be levied in order to have reorganised the whole of the hand loom industry in this country, and they made also certain recommendations about the countervailing duty from which they stated the United Kingdom would be exempted. I will not and many of us may not agree with the view taken by the Government of Madras that the United Kingdom should be exempted from the countervailing duty ; nevertheless, the fact remains that so far as the scheme is concerned, it is an original scheme intended mainly to organise the hand loom industry in this country. That scheme requires the very careful consideration of the Honourable the Commerce Member before the Government of India can think of taking any action on the Tariff Board Report. This brings me to the question of the report of the Tariff Board. I can very well understand the Honourable the Commerce Member's difficulty in not being able to take action on the Tariff Board Report in view of the impending negotiations with Japan. But my complaint is not so much on that the Government of India have not taken any action so far or have not come to any decision on the Tariff Board Report, as it is on the non-publication of the Report. I claim that the report which was made to the Government of India by the Tariff Board ought to have been placed in our hands. When we, in this House, are asked to consider a subject about which valuable information has been withheld from us, I consider that it is grossly unfair to us. If that report had been placed in our hands, we would certainly have come forward, as the Madras Government have done, and offered suggestions which would greatly help Government themselves in coming to the very decision which they want to get. On the other hand, to ask us to believe entirely in what they say, to trust them entirely without knowing the facts of the case or the interests which the whole question involves and to ask us to take decisions on the floor of the House on a subject like this after withholding valuable information is, I consider, very unfair.

Again, I would like to impress upon the Government with all the emphasis at my command that this hand loom industry, which not only should the Government take into consideration as much as they do the other industries, e.g., the industry which my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, represents so ably—but I would ask the Government that in any negotiations, that they may carry on with Japan or any other foreign country, the interests of the hand loom weavers should be represented and amply safeguarded and dealt with equally impartially as the interests of the industry which Mr. Mody represents. So far as this matter is concerned, the Government apparently consider there are only the mills and Mr. Mody, with Lancashire thrown in between the two. As I have been trying to point out, it is not so. There are other interests which deserve greater consideration and consultation at the hands of the Government in this matter.

I am, however, glad to note, the other day, on the Resolution of my Honourable friend, Mr. Haroon, the Honourable the Commerce Member assured us—and he has repeated that assurance today—that he would consider the interests and claims of the cotton growers in this country. But they are not the only interests in this country. If all the agricultural interests are going to be safeguarded, as the Honourable the Commerce Member was pleased to say a few minutes ago with all his large-hearted and wide perspective, if all the labour interests, which my friend Mr. Joshi so ably represents in this House, are also to be safeguarded, we need entertain no apprehensions at all. I do trust that in a matter of this kind,—perhaps you are aware yourself, Sir,—that in the Ottawa and similar Trade Agreements, when trade negotiations are entered into by countries, all the interests concerned are usually consulted. What do the Governments of those countries do in order to consult them ? They call the representatives of the various interests together from time to time and invite their views. Do the Government of India propose to do the same thing now ? I hope they will do so. It is only but fair that they should do so, it is only but just that they should take that wider aspect, because their responsibility is very heavy. With these few words, Sir, I submit that in any negotiations that the Government of India may possibly undertake now or in future, the due interests of this country in all its varied interests should have the just and fair consideration of the Government of India and that their interests should be duly safeguarded solely in the best interests of this country.

1 P.M.

Mr. J. Ramsay Scott (United Provinces : European) : Sir, as the industry requires protection so badly, I rise to support this Bill. The Bill is, however, an inadequate measure and in no way adapted to the specific needs of the cotton industry of today.

It is, however, typical of the attitude of the Government of India in that they follow the line of least resistance. It is a "Wait and see" policy—I might say it is a "Wait and See Japanese Policy". Sir, we all hope for satisfactory results from the Indo-Japanese Government Conferences, but we do not see why India's premier industry should be sacrificed to placate Japan.

One of the points which I wish to bring to your notice is the Tariff Board Reports. The Tariff Board was instituted through this Assembly and is paid for by the tax-payer ; so we fail to see why the results of the Tariff Board's deliberations are not made public as soon as each inquiry is concluded. (Applause.) Why should Government sit on these Reports for over a year and in some cases for over two years ?

Several Honourable Members : That is the whole question.

Mr. J. Ramsay Scott : Surely, the industry should be the first to know its fate. The industry has, in the first place, to make out a primâ facie case for protection before Government pass orders to the Tariff Board, which means that Government admit the justice of the application, and the real case left to the Tariff Board is, how much and in what manner protection should be given. Now, Sir, in my opinion and in the opinion of many others in this country, it is considered that the recommendations and criticisms of the Tariff Board should be made known to the industry as early as possible. At the present moment, Government know the recommendations of the Tariff Board, but the advisers whom Government are asking to help them at the coming Conference are in the dark.

The second point is that until the Tariff Board's Report is issued, it is impossible for Government to protect the Hosiery industry under this Act. This industry is in a perilous state and the delay of six months has already been too great a strain, but a further six months will spell ruination and many a man will be thrown out of employment. If you protect cotton, which is woven, why should cotton, which is knitted, be left outside the pale of protection ? This, Sir, is a policy of discrimination with a vengeance and is an injustice which no Government worthy of the name would not have rectified at the earliest possible opportunity without the repeated unavailing protests of the industry itself. I do ask Government to lose no time in bringing in a measure to put this matter right.

Then, Sir, there are several Tariff classifications which are in need of correction, and I feel sure that the Honourable Member will admit that Tariff Classifications in general need overhauling. For instance, in the tariff of many years standing the customs duty on piece goods was 11 per cent., while various other goods made of cotton, in a slightly more finished state, were classified as Haberdashery, and paid 15 per cent. duty. Under the Tariff Board cotton protection, the duty on foreign piece goods has risen to 75 per cent. while Haberdashery protection by the fortuitous circumstances of Revenue Finance Bills has only risen from 15 per cent. to 25 per cent. Such articles as towels and handkerchiefs, if imported in the piece, pay 75 per cent. duty, while, if imported in the more finished state, hemmed or fringed, pay 25 per cent. duty. Surely anomalies like these should be put right, and perhaps the Government will take us into their confidence and give us an inkling of their intentions.

In conclusion, Sir, I would refer to the increase of 25 per cent. cotton piece goods protection granted in June last. If this further protection had been given 6 months earlier, it would have been more useful. The delay has allowed a considerable influx of foreign piece goods and the markets are glutted with such goods and, until they are absorbed, conditions will not improve.

The cotton mills in my district are laid out for Indian cotton, but, until they can run full time and overtime, they cannot use as much Indian cotton as they would wish to.

Sir, I would emphasise the need for quick action, and ask you to take a leaf out of South Africa's book. If Indo-Japanese negotiations are not concluded by October 10th, I would suggest that the treaty be allowed to lapse and the Protection of Industries Act come into force at once.

Japan's currency has depreciated 40 per cent. and there are already signs that it will depreciate still further. Government should be prepared and should be ready to act. The Japanese Government have assisted her industries in every possible manner and by every possible means. Why cannot our Government do the same ?

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, on behalf of the Democratic Party, I rise to oppose the consideration of this Bill till the Government come forward and fulfil their pledge and publish the Tariff Board's Report which they received long ago. My Honourable friend, the Commerce Member, has asked us to be modest in our criticism, but yet I found he was apologetic and tried to justify his action, and brought in irrelevant issues about what Japan might do or what might happen. But my friend forgot the supreme responsibility that lay on him. The Commerce Member should not only give protection to a particular industry, but it is his duty to see that other industries and other interests are not in any way injured thereby.

Sir, the history of the Cotton Textile Protection Scheme dates as far back as 1927. It was in that year, the Bombay agitators,—here I take this opportunity to welcome back my friend, Mr. Mody, whom we have been missing so long in this House,—I am grateful for the condescension and graciousness of the Bombay millowners' representative to come here and listen to our views,—and probably if my friend gets everything that he wants, he will go back to Bombay and will some day find time to read through the speeches and appreciate the viewpoints which we lay before this House on behalf of 38 crores of people minus the 200 millowners of the Bombay town. Sir, in 1927, the gallant Baronet, Sir Victor Sassoon—he is not here—was the representative of the constituency which my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, represents here today. The gallant Baronet pleaded before the Government, and the Cotton Yarn Protection Act came into existence. Japan retaliated. Who suffered ? Japan retaliated by boycotting rice and pig iron. The rice industries of Burma, Bengal and Bihar and Orissa have vanished and also the pig iron industry. Can the Commerce Member or Mr. Mody say that the pig iron industry has not suffered ? The other day, when my Honourable friend, Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon's Resolution was being discussed, statistics, misquoted statistics, were flying about on the floor of this House, and, on that day, my Honourable friend, Sir Leslie Hudson, in a sweet little speech, came to the rescue of the absentee millowners of Bombay, and probably those statistics came by air mail from Bombay to Simla. But I will also give a few statistics to show to my Honourable friends, the Commerce Member and Mr. Mody, how the Japanese policy of retaliation has destroyed the pig iron industry of India. In 1926-27, India exported 234,000 tons of pig iron ; in 1927-28, 270,000 tons ; in 1928-29, 353,000 tons ; 1929-30, 349,000 tons ; 1930-31, under 61,000 tons ; 1931-32, under 88,000 tons ; in 1932-33, 71,000 tons.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Has my Honourable friend the statistics of the last six months ? I would commend them to his consideration.

Mr. B. Das : I am not the Commerce Member, nor have I Dr. Meek in my sleeves to produce the statistics that my Honourable friend wants in a moment. We, outsiders, legislators, public men, collect statistics from the published documents, and the statistics that I have given have been compiled and computed by the Federation of the Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry, and I do not think that my Honourable friend will challenge those statistics.

[Mr. B. Das.]

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt (Burdwan Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Was it circulated to all public men ?

Mr. B. Das : It is for the Government to circulate them. I am circulating them by my speech here and I hope that my friend, Mr. Amar Nath Dutt, will take note of these statistics.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Can't you give a copy ?

Mr. B. Das : It is a confidential document, but I will give you a copy.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House stands adjourned till 2-30.

The Assembly then adjourned for Lunch till Half Past Two of the Clock.

The Assembly re-assembled after Lunch at Half Past Two of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

Mr. B. Das : Sir, before recess, I was saying that I was opposed to the consideration of this Bill, because the Government have not published the Tariff Board's Report and I was also referring to the retaliatory policy of Japan by which multitudes in this country have been seriously affected in their economic wealth. I was giving certain figures and statistics about the loss in trade in the pig iron industry. The proprietors of these pig iron industries might say that this House has given them protection and they would not mind if Japan retaliated. Multitudes of rice growers in Burma, Bengal, Orissa and Madras cannot export their rice and they have suffered seriously from the Japanese policy of retaliation and what Japan has done. Japan has made herself self-supporting about rice and, if certain questions that have been asked on the floor of the House are to be believed, Japan is also exporting rice to India. I am only referring to this, because the other day, the Honourable the Commerce Member made some statement that there was no truth in the idea that Japan would retaliate about the export of raw cotton to Japan and I also read in the press a statement by some of the representatives of the Bombay millowners. They said that this idea that Japan would retaliate and not buy Indian cotton was a bluff. Sir, if it is a bluff, it is bluff on the part of those Bombay millowners who want to hoodwink this House and they want an extension of this protective measure. They want to bluff only for the moment, because they know the truth will come out in the end. Japan will buy no more Indian cotton, because everybody knows that Japan has occupied a vast territory in China and Japan has got a five year plan like Russia. In five years, Japan will grow sufficient cotton to do away with the paltry half a million bales that they buy from India.

We, who represent the multitudes in this country, have to see that they do not suffer by this scheme of protection. When the Cotton Textile,

Bill was introduced, the Honourable Sir George Rainy, my Honourable friend's predecessor, said that it was only a temporary measure meant to alleviate temporary distress of a big and mighty industry in this country and that it was meant only as a stop-gap. At that time, the Members of the House will remember, I opposed it on behalf of the Opposition. My friend, Mr. Mody, remembers it well and then none of us thought that the scheme of protection would continue and we would not be asked even to examine the Tariff Board's latest Report. Sir, I find now that my friend, the Commerce Member, is very partial to the Bombay millowners. When I was a school boy, I used to read that there was a Lieut.-Governor in East Bengal who used to say that the Mussalmans were his favourite wives. It was Sir Bampfylde Fuller who said that the Muslims were his favourite wives. I now find that the capitalist section of Bombay has become the favourite wife of the Honourable the Commerce Member. My friend is so obsessed with the idea that the mill industry should be protected and he is so convinced with the views that are privately advanced in his Chamber by my friend, Mr. Mody, on behalf of the millowners, that he thinks there is no justification for the serious charges that are laid against the mill management by my Honourable friend, Sir Frank Noyce, in that admirable report of his on the position of taxtile industry in 1929. I am afraid, my friend, the Industries Member, cannot denounce his colleague, the Commerce Member, but in that admirable report certain serious charges were laid against the mismanagement of mill agents. Why should not the Tariff Board Report be published ? Does not my friend feel perturbed when he finds the Times of India and the Bombay Chronicle challenge the non-publication of the Tariff Board's Report ? They find fault with the Commerce Member for shelving that Report. I take this opportunity to congratulate the Times of India on this one occasion for having spoken the truth. The Tariff Board, as it was constituted, had one of the Bombay capitalists on it. They are supposed to be experts. Why is my friend so shy about publishing an expert report ? This House does not ask the Government to publish their considered views. Facts are facts, and if they are misrepresented, why is my friend afraid of publishing that publication ? We, on this side, have challenged that the Tariff Board does not always consist of experts. If the Tariff Board really consists of experts and they have applied their mind to the scientific investigation of these problems, why is it that Government are afraid of publishing this document ? They fear that it might create bad blood between Japan and India. Sir, I do not believe in it. How can the representatives of industrial interests in Japan and the representatives of Indian interests create bad blood over an expert document like the Tariff Board Report ? My friend, in not publishing that document, proves that certain misstatements have occurred there, particularly when we remember that one of the Members of the Tariff Board was a Member of this House and that he was a great protagonist of the principle of Imperial Preference. The House has to remember and to recognise that fact.

Sir, I want every industry to be protected and I want the mill industry also to get adequate protection. We want discriminating protection and not indiscriminating protection given to the mill industry whereby other allied industries would suffer. Considering all that I have read in various published documents and from the views that are available to the public, I think that the system of protection that exists now ought not to continue for the mill industry. As far as I understand, the millowners of India have one enemy, and that is Japan. We have already passed the Anti-Dumping

[Mr. B. Das.]

Act. And through that Act, the Government can put 100 per cent. or 200 per cent. tariff. My Honourable friend, the Commerce Member, has enough experts in his Department and they will tell the Honourable the Commerce Member what that percentage should be. But why should there be a preference over other countries ? I want that the protective tariff should be taken away. I want healthy competition from Lancashire, Italy, etc. Only that particular country, which today penalises the Bombay mill industry, should be penalised.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I hope my Honourable friend recognises that even if his suggestion were carried out, it could not possibly be put into practice before October next.

Mr. B. Das : I would rather see the suspension of this Act up to the 10th October. As I develop my point, I hope my Honourable friend will agree with me that untold harm has been done to other industries. I am very much indebted to my friend, Mr. Raju, for his very illuminating speech where he showed the loss that the handloom industry has suffered since 1927. Government's tariff policy has almost destroyed the great handloom industry. My friend, Mr. Mody, supports only eight lakhs of people through the mill industry, and the handloom industry supports nearly ten million people in India. Now, these 10 million people are earning a very precarious living, because, on account of the Cotton Yarn Protection Act, the prices of yarn went up. Not only that, the millowners, when they came up for protection in 1930, assured the Government that they would not spin yarns of finer counts and they would not experiment and investigate in new directions. But they went on experimenting in new directions. Today I find that the Bombay millowners are flooding the Bengal and Orissa markets with their cloth and saris that were formerly the privilege of the handloom weavers to manufacture. Why have they done that ? Who asked them to buy American cotton and to buy the fine yarn and thus kill the trade of the handloom weavers ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : My Honourable colleague, to whose admirable report he has referred.

Mr. B. Das : I would ask my friend to have it out in the Executive Council with his Honourable colleague. His Honourable colleague is the cause today of the loss of bread to eight million people. Sir, the millowners gave an assurance in 1929-30 and now they have gone behind it. The other day, my friend gave certain statistics and said that only 163,000 bales of cotton were imported from America last year. If the millowners have reduced their purchase of American cotton, it is not due to their goodwill towards the Indian cotton grower. It is due to the great pressure which the country and the Congress have exercised on these millowners. My friend, the Commerce Member, felt so very happy that the millowners were using so many millions of pounds of Indian cotton. Well, they are bound to use it. They belong to Bombay, Broach and other places and they must buy Indian cotton. These Bombay millowners bought Natal coal seven or eight years ago and these very Bombay millowners are now buying American cotton, because they are now catering to the finer tastes of the public of India. But let my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, rise and speak the truth and say how much pressure the Congress has applied on them. The Congress insisted that yarn made out of Indian cotton must be used by them and that is the reason why, with trembling hearts, they have reduced their purchases of the American cotton.

Sir, I am not one of those who think that any decrease in purchase of American and Egyptian cotton will solve the problem of the Indian cotton growers, because, as I find, India produces six million bales of cotton. My friends, the millowners, can consume only three million bales. So, unless the Government help the Indian cotton growers to find a solution to export it outside the country, they cannot prosper. As now every country is producing the maximum of cotton, a few years hence a time will come when India will hardly be able to export any cotton outside India. Therefore, ban on the import of foreign cotton is no panacea to the cotton grower. What I wish to emphasise is that Government should not blindly believe what the millowners say. They always think that whatever the millowners do is right, and whatever the other interests say is wrong, because the latter are not so vociferous and clamorous, as the millowners are. As my friend, Mr. Raju, was saying, these millowners are a minute section of the public of India. If Mr. Raju could organise a deputation of a million of handloom weavers to the residences of my Honourable friends, the Commerce and Industries Members, then my friends would realise the extent of the damage done to that huge cottage industry through the past policy of my friends. I know of a family consisting of four people who worked for two days and produced one piece of cloth. That does not give even a margin of eight annas after one day's work by eight people. Therefore, my friends are all killing today the trade of handloom weavers.

Sir, let the Government have these tripartite Conferences, but this morning it seems to me my Honourable friend misunderstood the speech of His Excellency the Viceroy. His Excellency said that it was a Conference of the industrial interests of India, Lancashire and Japan. I will quote from his speech. He said :

"Of significance too is the fact that India is to be the scene of a tripartite Conference between the textile industrialists of India, Lancashire and Japan. In this Conference the Government of India will not take part."

My friend said something else.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I must protest against this deliberate misunderstanding of what I have said. I endeavoured to make it perfectly clear to my Honourable friend, Mr. Raju, when he spoke as to what really was the position of the Government of India, and I can quite believe that my Honourable friend has not outgrown his school days.

Mr. B. Das : We are all outgrowing our school boy days, I am representing 360 millions of people of India. I cannot be puerile in my interpretation of the Viceroy's speech.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir (Bombay City : Non-Muhammadan Urban) : How many millions do you represent ?

Mr. B. Das : I am representing 360 millions.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : But this morning you said you represented 380 millions.

Mr. B. Das : As long as the millowners claim to be only 200 from Bombay, I do not mind representing the rest. I will just finish the quotation from the Viceroy's speech :

" In this Conference the Government of India will not take part, but they would welcome any agreement consonant with the welfare and interests of India as a whole."

Where the interests of a small number of industries, rather the interests of India are concerned, the Government and this House ought to consider them. Therefore, in supplementary questions, some of us wanted to see that the representative of labour should be there, that the representative of cotton growers should be there (Hear, hear) and the representative of the vast number of consumers should be there. Sir, this reminds me of a little story. On my return from my voyage this time, I went to a small place of pilgrimage where I have a little cottage. For the last few months, I am taking a little interest in the harijan movement. While I was in my house, I found that there was a different sweeper serving my house and I asked him—everybody nowadays wants to befriend all harijans—I enquired of him as to why he came to serve my house. He said : " We had a conference of our caste and we had partitioned out the different houses in this town and you have come to my share and you are now under me." So also in this tripartite Conference among the Bombay millowners, the Lancashire millowners and Japan, it may be, they will divide the whole of India amongst themselves and my friend, Mr. Mody, may say : " Look here, Orissa has been allotted to Japan and so you will have to purchase Japanese goods." (Laughter.) These are some of the points that are agitating our mind. I hope Government will bear all these in mind when they are making platonic speeches in the House.

My Honourable friend, the Commerce Member, made a statement the other day about the larger export to Japan of Indian cotton, and when I questioned him, he remarked that I always showed a sublime disregard for facts. Here is a statement made by the East Indian Cotton Association, the membership of which is confined to Sir Purshotamdas Thakurdas, Sir Victor Sassoon and other people.

Mr. R. S. Sarma (Nominated Non-Official) : That statement of the East Indian Association is not inconsistent with the statement of the Leader of the House.

Mr. B. Das : That is your view. You can talk it over with the Honourable the Commerce Member. But let me read out :

" The fact of the matter is that a large volume of Indian cotton shipped to Japan, after the declaration of the boycott of Indian cotton by the Japan Cotton Spinners' Association, Osaka, consisted mainly of the commitments in cotton made before the declaration of boycott of Indian cotton. To give a concrete instance in substantiation of this fact, it may be mentioned that the Japan Cotton Spinners' Association, which is in charge of allotting freight for cotton shipments to Japan, does not allow freight for shipment to Japan since the declaration of the boycott of Indian cotton was declared."

My Honourable friend, the Commerce Member, may derive some satisfaction from the support which has come from my Honourable friend, Mr. Sarma. No doubt the figures and statistics quoted by my Honourable friend were right, but my friend wanted us to draw wrong conclusions. He wanted us to infer that the export of cotton has largely increased during the last few months for which my Honourable friend gave the figures. Surely my Honourable friend knows and the Government know it that Japanese ships do not now carry Indian cotton to Japan.

Mr. S. C. Mitra (Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Those were old contracts.

Mr. B. Das : What was carried were only old contracts. If I am accused of showing a sublime disregard for facts, I accuse the Honourable the Commerce Member.....

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I withdraw that expression and substitute therefor a sublime inability to draw deductions from facts.

Mr. B. Das : As long as there will be a Government, an irresponsible Government, and as long as there will be an opposition and people's representatives clamouring, so to say, in the wilderness, so long we on this side will be accused of showing sublime ignorance and inability to draw deductions from the facts, and the facts are always facts only. When it suits my Honourable friend, he utilises them for his own purpose, I do not mean my Honourable friend, he utilises them for his own purpose, but for the purpose for which the Government for his personal purpose, but for the purpose for which the Government of India at the time have decided him to act. My Honourable friend, Sir Frank Noyce, in his report, not only asked the Managing Agents to give up all their great earnings which they unjustifiably pocket, but that they should reorganise that industry. Is there anything to prevent my Honourable friend from bringing out to the public the Report of the Tariff Board and give us the particular chapter where the Tariff Board have given their findings about the reorganisation of the mill industry which my Honourable friends, the Bombay millowners, particularly have done since 1930. Knowing their utter disregard to public criticism and public sentiment and the way they have been instrumental in the destruction of hand loom industry in the country, I cannot think they have done anything since 1930 to reorganise their industry and to put it on an economic basis, so that protective measures would not be necessary at this stage. As an old stager in this House, I know, since the Tariff Board came into existence, the capitalists and industrialists have been shouting for more and more protection without any regard to the interests of the consumers, and today the consumers are suffering for lack of funds owing to the great economic depression that has swept the world. The oil industry of Burma came in for protection and everybody, who reads their balance sheets, knows what large dividends they have been paying their shareholders. The same is the case with the millowners. How is it, the millowners in Delhi have been earning 200 per cent. dividend up to last year ? We all knew it and, when you ask them, they say it is only 60 per cent. and they further reduce it to 15 per cent. (Interruption.) My Honourable friend must be knowing Lala Sri Ram's mills in Delhi ; they used to show large dividends ; and when the Government made an enquiry, all the capitalists combine together and produce a different balance sheet. Sir, before you became President, you were yourself a capitalist and you also know how balance sheets are drawn up. You know how depreciations and reserve funds, unforeseen expenditure and extensions, and all such things are deducted out of the huge dividends earned, so that a gullible Government can see only a few per cent. dividend. If I make these serious charges, it is for Government to read out chapter and verse from the Tariff Board's Report. So, Sir, I do not know if I will succeed in my proposal that the consideration of this Bill should be postponed till the Tariff Board's Report is published, but if, at all, a scheme of protection is necessary, my own belief is that no scheme of protection is necessary after October 10, because my friend will apply the Anti-Dumping Act and give them the protection which he or they think necessary. But before this House can give any protection, this House must see the report, must now how the various interests are affected thereby, and we have to consider particularly the interest of the hand loom weavers. We have also to consider the interest of the cotton growers, and, if these are not adversely affected, I am not one who would oppose any measure of protection to the cotton mill industry. But yet, if I remember aright the speech of my old friend, the Honourable Sir George Rainy, I feel that it was a temporary help given to a particular industry and it will not be necessary after October 10 when that particular Anti-Dumping Act will give them the necessary relief. Sir, with these remarks, I appeal to the Honourable the Commerce Member to be kind enough to postpone consideration of this measure and to take steps to publish the Tariff Board's Report so that the country may know whether there is any truth in the sufferings of the millowners.

3 P.M.

[Mr. B. Das.]

Mr. R. S. Sarma : Sir, Mr. Das, the old stager as he styled himself, thought that he was making a big case by putting the statement of the East India Cotton Association of Bombay against the statement that the Commerce Member made in this House last week. Lest this House should be misled by the wrong inferences made by Mr. Das, I should like to point out that to my memory all that the Commerce Member did was, he quoted certain figures of exports to Japan, compared them with the figures of last year and the year before and left this House to draw its own conclusions from these figures. What the East India Cotton Association published yesterday in the papers was simply that, after boycott was declared, no freight for cotton was booked. I cannot see any inconsistency in these two statements. Japan, the Japanese merchants and their politicians, certainly much cleverer than people like Mr. Das, knowing that they were going to declare a boycott, must have made more commitments than necessary, must have placed more orders than necessary with this view that between the date of the declaration of the boycott and the date of these delicate negotiations that are going to take place, they may not book any freight or ship any cotton from here so that they would not suffer from any lack of cotton. But they may not send cotton, because they have already had more than they want so that simple-minded people like some of us might think that the boycott has become effective.

I want to say, Sir, that I whole-heartedly support this Bill.

Sir, there is a well-known saying that he who giveth quick giveth twice. Of all the Commerce Members of the Government of India, I think Sir Joseph Bhore has shown the liveliest appreciation of the force and the truth of this statement. Our Bombay industrialists and also other industrialists in India cannot be too grateful to Sir Joseph for the timeliness and expedition which has inspired the liberal measures which he has initiated for the support and protection of the indigenous industries of this country. Sir, in these days of great changes and quick transformations in the world of finance, trade and commerce, too much deliberation on any event, as in Hamlet, will spell only disaster. And we expect from the Government of India a mobile outlook, a sort of forward policy and expeditious execution in all the measures that they undertake for the support of the industries of this country. And, in this, Sir Joseph Bhore, our first Indian Commerce Member, has achieved marked success.

Viewing this Bill as part of this new and forward policy, I support this Bill and offer my congratulations to H. P. Mody and Company for what they have got.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury (Bengal : Landholders) : What do you mean by H. P. Mody and Company ?

Mr. R. S. Sarma : If you cannot understand plain English, I will explain to you outside the Chamber if you will ask me.

Sir, Without wanting to embarrass the Commerce Member who has got to conduct delicate negotiations within the next fortnight or so or trying in any way to prejudice the issues in that Conference, let me plainly tell the Honourable Member himself that many of us are as much puzzled and mystified as Mr. Ramsay Scott or Mr. Das about the reasons underlying the non-publication of the Tariff Board's Report. If the only reason for its non-publication is that a report like that should not be published, when these delicate negotiations are going to come on, I think the Commerce Member will have the support of the entire House in what he has done in not having published it now. But there are suspicions that there are other considerations why this report has not been published. Sir, the Indian Finance, the well-known financial paper of Calcutta, to which Sir George Schuster himself has paid warm tributes in this House and to which even His Excellency the Viceroy was obliged to pay tribute in one of his addresses to this Assembly, has hinted that the report contains expositions of the uses and abuses of the managing agency system of the protected industries of this country and it is so unpalatable to the Bombay millowners that Government, who are always soft and tender to them, are very reluctant to publish it. (An Honourable Member : " Are you connected with the Indian Finance ? ") I am not. But I shall certainly be proud to be connected. Therefore, we should like to know from the Commerce Member whether it is these considerations that are delaying it or whether it is considerations of these delicate negotiations that are responsible for this delay.

Mr. N. M. Joshi (Nominated Non-Official) : Sir, I fully appreciate the reasons given by the Honourable the Commerce Member for not making or not suggesting any changes in the tariff as regards the cotton textile industry. But, Sir, I am not satisfied that the impending negotiations between Japan and India should come in the way of the Honourable Member giving a little more information to this House on this question. Several Honourable Members have asked why the Report of the Tariff Board has not been published, and I repeat the same question. Mr. President, the Report of the Tariff Board is or at least is supposed to be a scientific investigation into the condition of the textile industry, and I do not know how the publication of such a scientific document should hamper the negotiations that are to take place very soon. But even if the Report of the Tariff Board is not published, I think it is due to this House that the Honourable Member should give some more information before the House is asked to pass such a measure. When the Anti-Dumping legislation was discussed at the Delhi Session, I had expressed my view that this protection to be given to our industries against dupmping by means of tariffs is a kind of war, and it is the last thing to which we should resort. At the Delhi Session, I, therefore, suggested that before we resorted to this method of war, we should try, if possible, the method of Conference. I am glad that the Government of India have, even though it may be on the suggestion of the Japanese Government, agreed to this Conference method.....

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : May I say that I endeavoured to make it clear in my opening remarks that it was the Government of India who took the initiative in this matter and invited the Japanese Government through His Majesty's Government in London to enter into negotiations ?

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I am very glad to be corrected on this point. It would have been a matter of great regret to me if my Government had not taken the initiative in this matter. I am glad that there is to be a Conference : I was also glad to learn from the Honourable the Commerce Member that although the Conference will be one between the representatives of the two Governments, the Government of India propose to be in close touch with the representatives of various interests concerned in this matter.....

Mr. S. G. Jog (Berar Representative) : Have the Government made an announcement like that ?

Mr. N. M. Joshi : That is what I understood from the speech of the Honourable Member and I also understood that it was decided to associate in this work in an advisory capacity a representative of the agricultural industry. May I ask the Honourable Member whether similarly he proposes to associate in this matter a representative of the Indian textile labour during the negotiations in an advisory capacity ? I have seen in the newspapers a list of the Japanese delegation and their advisers. It is true I have not seen in that list any representative of Japanese labour ; but may I suggest to the Government of India that in this matter, as in the matter of taking the initiative for this Conference, they should set an example to the Japanese Government ? May I suggest to them that they should keep in mind the example of their masters, the British Government ? You know, Sir, when you were at Ottawa at that Conference, the British delegation included among others two representatives of the British Trade Union Congress. It is true, at that time the Government of India failed in their duty in not associating a representative of Indian labour at that Conference. May I suggest to the Government of India that they should correct that mistake, and in this Conference at least they should associate in an advisory capacity a representative of Indian textile labour ?

Last time when I spoke on the Cotton Textile Bill at the Delhi Session, I had suggested that whenever a question of competition between Japan and India was discussed the labour conditions in Japan were always brought in : my friend, Mr. Mody, several times stated that wages in Japan were much lower than the wages in India ; and in various other ways this question was brought up. This is one special reason why a representative of Indian labour should be associated in this work.

Then I had also suggested that the Government of India should give up their attitude of obstruction to the proposal made by the International Labour Conference for an Asiatic Labour Conference. This question of removing the unfair competition between Japan, India and other countries involves the question of labour conditions, and, therefore, if this difficulty is to be removed, it is necessary that labour conditions in those countries should be freely and frankly discussed. It is for that reason that the International Labour Conference passed a resolution that there should be an Asiatic Labour Conference ; and unfortunately, in spite of the efforts of the International Labour Conference at Geneva, the Governments concerned were opposed to this method of Conference. Somehow all these Governments, who profess to believe in constitutional methods, do not believe in the methods of Conference. These Conferences have to be forced upon them. They believe in the other methods—I am not going to name those other methods ; but if you tell these Governments that, these difficulties are likely to be solved by the method of Conference, they somehow are not very willing. May I suggest to the Government of India that they should give up this obstructive attitude of theirs, and take the initiative in calling an Asiatic Labour Conference to discuss conditions in the various countries in this vast continent, so that at least a part of the unfair competition may be removed ? The Government of India have introduced this Bill and previous other Bills of which this is a continuation, for the protection of the cotton textile industry ; and some of my friends have already referred to the fact that, when you are trying to protect the cotton textile industry, you must protect all the interests involved in this industry. It is not only the interests of the capitalists who have invested money and who manage the cotton textile factories in this country whose interests need protection. Various other interests require to be protected ; my friend, Mr. Raju, and my friend, Mr. Das, referred to the interests of the hand loom weavers in the country. Personally I do not think that the hand loom industry can be saved ultimately ; but, at the same time, I shall not agree to any proposal by which there will be a great disturbance in the life of the hand loom weavers in this country....

Mr. B. Das : It has already happened.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Among the various other interests are the interests of those of the agriculturists : and then the people who run the mill stores industry ; they all must be protected. But, above all, the interests of the workers who are engaged in the industry must be protected. After all, the number of people who hold share in the cotton textile industry is much less than the number of people who are working in this industry. I, therefore, think that when Government are trying to protect the interests of the cotton textile industry, the first consideration must be given to the interests of the workers engaged in this industry. I know that whenever we talk of protecting the interests of the workers, I am always told that if you protect the interests of the capitalists, the interests of the workers are protected, because if the capitalists make profits, they will not at least close down the factories, and the workers will get some employment, and they may not think of reducing wages. But it is not correct to be told that when you protect the interests of the capitalists, the workers' interests will be protected. At least that is not my experience. It is not the experience of any one that the capitalists in this country have given better conditions to their workers of their own accord. Every time to secure better conditions, every time to prevent the conditions being worsened, the workers have to put up a fight. Therefore, by merely protecting the interests of the capitalists, the interests of the workers are not likely to be protected at all. Government will have to take measures to see that the interests of the workers are protected. Unless that is done, the Government will be only protecting the interests of a handful of capitalists engaged in these industries.

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

My friend, Mr. B. Das, suggested that the consideration of this measure may be postponed till something is done. I am not going to support that motion, but, at the same time, let me say very frankly that I have some sympathy for that view. Take, for instance, the question of hours of work in factories. The Honourable Member in charge of the Department of Industries and Labour, the other day, announced that he was going to introduce the Indian Factories (Amendment) Bill. I am hoping that that Amending Bill will include a provision for reducing the hours of work. If the Government have got real sympathy for labour and want to protect the interests of labour effectively, they would have inserted a provision for the reduction of hours of work in this Bill before protecting the textile industry, or they should have brought in the Factories Amending Bill first, got it passed, and then passed the continuation of this protective measure. I have heard it said that capitalists in this country are going to oppose the reduction of hours of work which the Indian Factories (Amendment) Bill may propose. Now, Sir, if this provision for reducing the hours of work had been included in this Bill, I am absolutely certain that there would have been no opposition to reduction of hours of work at all, but unfortunately the Government did not choose such a very effective method. They first want to pass the protective measure in the interests of the capitalists and then, if the Assembly has time, they want to introduce and pass the Factories (Amendment) Bill. In this connection, I would like the House to remember that the conditions of labour in the textile industry are being worsened day by day, not only in Bombay, but in almost every textile centre in this country : In spite of the protection, wages are being reduced, and conditions in other respects also are being worsened. In Bombay, for instance, the weavers are asked to manage more looms without being given sufficient compensation by way of sufficiently increased wages. This cannot be allowed if the interests of all the sections, which are concerned in the cotton textile industry, are to be protected. It is wrong for the Government to bring forward a measure protecting only the interests of one section. Government may say that you cannot protect [illegible] the interests of all the sections simultaneously. In this connection I should like to draw the attention of the Government of India to what President Roosevelt is doing in the United States of America. President Roosevelt, in order that the industries of the country should recover their prosperity, has passed an Industrial Recovery Act, and what does that Act contain ? Among other things which that Act proposes, it insists that there shall be a minimum wage for all industries ; it further insists that there shall be reasonable hours of work in all industries. Now, why should not the Government of India act similarly ? We want our industries to be protected. I am the last person to suggest that they should not be protected, but President Roosevelt has shown the right method of protecting the industries.

The National Industrial Recovery Act of the United States of America provides for the supervision and regulation of industries by fixing minimum wages and maximum hours and other standards. This is what President Roosevelt is doing as regards the general industries in the country. Let us see what he is doing for the cotton industry in the United Kingdom. I am reading from the Industrial and Labour Information for 30th July, 1933 :

"Effects of the Code for the workers.—On and after the effective date, the minimum wage that shall be paid to employees in the cotton textile industry, except learners during a six weeks' apprenticeship, cleaners and outside employees, shall be at the rate of 12 dollars a week in the South and 13 dollars in the North. The maximum hours of work are fixed at 40 in the week. As compared with present conditions, this represents an average increase in wages of 30 per cent. and a reduction in hours of work of more than 25 per cent."

While the millowners in India are reducing wages, President Roosevelt is insisting that wages in the United States of America shall be raised by 25 per cent. This is what the Government of India should do if they really want to protect all the interests involved in the cotton textile industry. Several times people come forward and say things about the Japanese labour conditions, but I just found quite by accident this little book "Industrial and Labour Information", dated 14th August, 1933, and this is what it says :

"A conference of the Chiefs of the Health Insurance Sections of Prefectures throughout Japan met in Tokyo on 31st May, 1933, to discuss questions concerning the administration of health insurance. On this occasion, the Director of the Bureau of Social Affairs stressed the need for stabilising social life by removing the uncertainty of livelihood of the workers, and stated that the most effective means of attaining this end was, in his opinion, the development of social insurance, in particular by the enlargement of the functions of the present health insurance system and the extension of the scope of social insurance to cover various risks other than those specified by the existing legislation."

Now, in these times which are really very bad, the Japanese Government are progressing in the matter of health insurance. In India we have not yet got any kind of health insurance Act, much less are we making any progress in a matter of this kind. I would, therefore, like the Government of India to study what the United States of America are doing and copy their example. Let them follow the policy of improving the labour conditions in this country, and it is by so doing and by generally improving the standards of life of the people of this country that there can be a recovery of the industries in this country, and by no other method.

Before I sit down, I should like to ask the Government of India one question. That question I had asked at the Delhi Session, and it was this. A few years ago, at the invitation of the Government of India, Sir, Sir Arthur Salter came out to India and recommended to the Government of India the establishment of an Economic Council. In order that economic questions in this country should be properly discussed, Sir Arthur Salter recommended that there should be an Economic Council. This question of protection is a question which is best suited to be discussed by an Economic Council if it had existed. I should like the

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

Government of India to tell me and to tell this House what has become of that proposal. The Government of India have spent some money over the travelling expenses of Sir Arthur Salter and, up to this time, nothing has been done in giving effect to his recommendations.

Mr. B. Das : You are asking the Finance Member to make a speech.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I am not asking any one of the Members of the Government of India. I take the Government of India as a unitary Government and I do not mind who gives the reply, but I want a reply to this question. The Government of India spent money in bringing out to this country a distinguished economist. He had made recommendations and nothing has been done to give effect to his recommendations.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : May I correct my Honourable friend ? This Government spent not a pie of Indian money in bringing out the economist referred to by him.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Well, Sir, that does not absolve the Government of India from their duty to give effect to the recommendations of this distinguished gentleman. I feel that, in these times of economic depression, the Government of India should have with them a body of people who can discuss these economic questions from the point of view of the country, from the point of view of the different interests involved, and a recommendation, a very suitable recommendation made by a distinguished gentleman of experience should have been given effect to much earlier. The Government of India may plead that there is no money, but, Mr. President, if you want that the industries in this country should recover, if you want our economic conditions to be improved, you have to spend some money to devise an organisation by which the recovery may be facilitated. Sir, I have done.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (Muzaffarpur cum Champaran : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, although I do not oppose the motion which is now before the House, I must confess I am not very enthusiastic about it.

This Bill seeks to continue the protective duties on Indian textile industries which were imposed by virtue of the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act of 1930. I am quite at one with those who advocate the imposition of discriminating protective duties for the benefit of our national industries ; but there are other factors which come into consideration in regard to this question. I should like, with your permission, very briefly to refer to some of the factors which have to be taken into account in this connection.

I join with my other Honourable friends in deploring that the Report of the Tariff Board has not been published, and we are in the dark as to the recommendations of that Board. I think, Sir, that Government would have been well advised to publish in advance the report of the Tariff Board dealing with this question. The excuse set forth by the Honourable Member in charge of this Bill that it will probably be inadvisable in view of the coming Indo-....

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Excuse me. I never gave that excuse at all.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : I am glad to be assured on this point, but that makes the action of the Government still more inexplicable. I should have thought that if Government's plea had been that, in view of the coming Indo-Japanese negotiations, it would not be advisable to publish the Report of the Tariff Board, one could have understood it, although one could not approve of that argument. But when my Honourable friend says that that has nothing to do with the non-publication of the Report, I say that their action is not quite proper in withholding the Report from this House before asking us to agree to a continuation of this protective tariff.

I should here refer to the condition of another industry in this country which is a very important industry—the hand loom industry of this country. The cotton textile industry has been looming large in this House whenever the question of protection of Indian industries has come up for discussion, but the question of giving proper facilities for the development of the hand loom industry has not been appreciated at its full value. The " khaddar " industry, for instance, is a very important cottage industry and it is necessary that representatives of the hand loom industry should also have a voice in the coming negotiations or before any decision is arrived at. My Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, whom I congratulate on his having put in his appearance just in the nick of time this morning, has been advocating, and not unnaturally, the claims of his industry to State protection. I am quite willing to grant him whatever legitimate protection his industry may need. But I should like to ask him what is his attitude with regard to the hand loom industry in this country. As I said before, the " khaddar " industry is an important hand loom industry, and what is his attitude or the attitude of the Bombay Millowners' Association with regard to giving legitimate protection to this " khaddar " industry ? I quote just one little sentence from the opinion of the Bombay Government with regard to the " khaddar " Bill of which I have the honour to be the author. The Government of Bombay say :

" The majority of the commercial associations who were consulted support the Bill, while the Bombay Chamber of Commerce and the Bombay Millowners' Association are not in favour of it."

Some Honourable Members : Oh !

An Honourable Member : The cat is out of the bag.

Another Honourable Member : The bag is out of the cat !

An Honourable Member : Is it true, Mr. Mody ?

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : It was with the object of protecting the " khaddar " industry from dishonest competitors that I brought forward my Bill, and I regret that the Bombay Millowners' Association, of which, I understand, my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, is the President, should have thought it proper to oppose a beneficent measure of that kind. By opposing—of course, I am not dilating upon that point, it might come later on,—but by opposing that measure the Bombay Millowners' Association have come out in their true colours, and have exhibited themselves not as the true patriots which they always claimed to be.

Another point which I might legitimately ask in this connection is, why is it that the Indian cotton mill industry is not in a position to compete successfully with foreign goods which are imported either from Japan or from Manchester or from any other country. Why is it that the cotton mill industry of this country constantly stands in need of protection, and that their representatives always come out with a begging bowl before this House at periodical intervals for alms ? In my speech in Delhi when this question was before the House, I expressed the hope that it was not true that our cotton mill industry was not sufficiently efficient to compete on equal terms with foreign manufacturers. Instead of coming to this House for protection in season and out of season, the representatives of our mill industry ought to send a deputation to Japan, Manchester or other countries and try to learn to improve their methods of production and imbibe the art of bringing out their products in a cheap and efficient manner.

[Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh.]

An Honourable Member : The President had been to Manchester.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : My Honourable friend behind me reminds me that the President of the Bombay Millowners' Association had been to Manchester. I fear that this arrangement between Japan, Manchester and the Millowners' Association might not result in anything which is detrimental either to the hand loom industry of this country, or to the consumers interest being kept in view. I have just referred to the interest of the consumers which is an important point not to be lost sight of. I need hardly say that the products of this country ought to be given preference over every other imported goods, even at a sacrifice ; but, in matters, where India is not capable of producing a particular kind of goods, Indian consumers must be permitted to buy in the cheapest market irrespective of the fact whether the product comes from the British Empire or from any country outside it. That is a point which ought not to be overlooked. I recognise that the point I am advocating is somewhat at variance with the Ottawa Agreement betrayal. I would not call it betrayal, but my fear is that during the coming Conference the interest of India may not be sacrificed between the interests of Japan and Manchester and the millowners of this country. The other point of view which we must not lose sight of is the agriculturists' point of view, and the cotton growers point of view. When we passed the Bill in the last Delhi Session, we little thought that Japan would take any retaliatory action against our country. Forebodings of such retaliatory action were, no doubt, numerous, but some of us did not take them very seriously. The result is that on the passage of the Bill in Delhi, Japan has proclaimed a boycott of Indian cotton, and whatever my Honourable friend, the Commerce Member, might say, and, I quite admit, that he has got more authoritative sources of information than I can possibly command, my information is that it is not as ineffective as it is attempted to be shown to us. Then, Sir, with regard to the part which the cotton textile industry has played with regard to hand loom, and the steps that may be taken in that connection in giving protection to the cotton textile industry, the Government of Madras sent a communication to the Tariff Board last year, and in that communication the Madras Government refer to the " preferential position " of the Indian mills, and they go on to say :

" The centre of mill competition lies outside the presidency, but it is not open to the Madras Government as it would be to an independent State to counter that competition by tariff on mill products. Yet unless some restriction is placed on the power of the mills to raise yarn prices against the hand loom weavers within the wide margins allowed by the existing tariff or unless some agreement can be entered into with regard to the respective spheres of the hand looms and the mills it is exceedingly doubtful whether any internal reform of the hand loom industry can succeed even in arresting its gradual decay."

I would commend this paragraph to the consideration of the Government. My Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, has already referred to the interest of the workmen, and I need not repeat what he has said on the point. In conclusion, I may be permitted to express the hope that in the coming Conference, all the interests will have an ample say in the matter, and the views of the Millowners' Association alone will not carry the day. With these few words, I resume my seat.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Mr. President, there has been cotton textile spinning all this morning and our spinning is not finished yet. It has been repeatedly asked by various speakers on this side of the House why the Tariff Board's Report has not been published. I leave that aspect of the question for the present. What I understood from the speech of the Honourable the Leader of the House is this. His Excellency, in the course of his inaugural address, declared quite candidly and clearly that Government were not going to take part. Still my friend admits that the officials of Japan will confer with the officials of the Government of India. At the same time, it was said that Government would accept any proposal which will be beneficial to Indian interests.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I never said that. My Honourable friend, if he would only listen to what I say, would, I am sure, take up less of the time of the House.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Did not the Honourable the Leader of the House say that the officials of the Government of India were meeting the officials of the Government of Japan and that, at the same time, did he not say afterwards that Government were not going to take part in it ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : If my Honourable friend will confine himself to a single question at a single time, I shall be able to give a categorical reply which will not be misunderstood.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : My first question is, are Government taking part in any discussions with the officials of Japan ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Yes.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Then how is it that His Excellency in his speech said that the Government of India were not taking part in it ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I will not take up the time of the House by explaining to my Honourable friend the meaning of that speech, but I would advise him to read, mark and study it when he gets outside this House. He will then appreciate what is contained in it.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Reading between the lines of that speech...

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : It is understood that there has been a considerable misunderstanding in the House as to the exact position. In order that the House may intelligently vote when the time comes for voting, it is the duty of the Chair to explain the position. There is an official Conference between the Government of India and the Government of Japan with a view to negotiating a fresh Trade Agreement if possible. At the same time, there is an unofficial Conference going to take place between the industrialists of Japan, India and Manchester. The Government of India will not take part in this unofficial Conference between the industrialists : but since the Conference of the industrialists is a Conference of important interests, naturally the Government of India will attach considerable importance if this unofficial Conference succeeds in arriving at a unanimous conclusion. That is exactly the position. The Chair hopes the House understands how the matter stands. (Applause.)

[Mr. President.]

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Thank you, Sir, for explaining the matter and clearing the position. I shall now be guided by your statement in the remarks that I am about to make. Unfortunately, we understood the position in quite a different way. However, the facts are there. Now, my Honourable friend, Mr. Raju, in his illuminating speech, said this morning that what was done in the Ottawa Pact should not be repeated in the present case. In the case of the Ottawa Pact, action was taken without consulting the experts of this country. You, Sir, can easily realise the significance of this statement, because when you made your remarks particularly on Ottawa, you said that you were absolutely in the dark until the time when you reached the shores of Canada. That point has been very aptly dealt with by my friend, Mr. Raju. In negotiating the commercial, industrial and economic interest of India with Japan, let not our executive come to a final decision without consulting our countrymen however experts our officials may be. The interests of the hand loom industry which consists of about ten million people should not be hampered in any way. I was glad to be assured by the Leader of the House that the agricultural interests will not be ignored, but why not extend a similar protection to the hand loom weavers. It has been apparent from the speech of Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh that the Bombay millowners took a very serious objection to the introduction of any measure which would protect the hand loom industry. It has been definitely stated that they are in opposition to this policy. Now, in this connection let me give a few facts to my friends, the Bombay millowners. How long are the Government going to feed these mills by a policy of protection and by raising high tariff against the importation of cotton and other goods. We have got to seriously consider the fact that the administration of these mills is top heavy like that of the Government of India. The officers are very highly paid and, therefore, naturally the cost of production comes up higher. Then, with regard to machinery. Is it not proper that some experts should be sent to different countries to find out the ways and means of devising cheaper production so that the articles may be able to face the world market ? These points should be seriously considered.

Then, there is another serious thing. I should like to hear from the Leader of the House what he has got to say to the remark of Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh that the Government did not publish the Report on the ground that the Japanese were coming to negotiate with India. What could be other grounds ? The members of the Tariff Board are getting very big salaries. How is it that the Tariff Board did not take sufficient interest in this matter, but published the report before the introduction of this Bill in this House ? I cannot believe that the Report is not yet completed. Sir, I may tell this House with confidence that it is the policy of the Government not to publish the Report. Of course, if the Report was not published because the delegates of Japan were coming to this country, we could have understood it, but the Leader of the House objected to that reason. He said, no, that was not the reason for not publishing the Report. To me the reason seems to be obvious, namely, to deprive the House of the opportunity to read the Report. I say with all sincerity that Government should give a satisfactory explanation for the non-publication of the Report. I am afraid the House is not at all satisfied by the observations that have so far been made by the Leader of the House in that behalf. It is a very serious charge against the Leader of the House and I hope that he will try to make the situation clear in his reply as to why the Report was not published before the introduction of this Bill.

Then, Sir, my advice to the Bombay millowners is this. In the first place, they must reduce their top heavy administration. Secondly, India is known to be an agricultural country. When rice grows here, why should not the mills consume the starch made in this country instead of getting from abroad. Then, with regard to machinery, I would like to say, why should they not adopt the policy of using Indian products as far as practicable. Take, for instance, "belt"—why should they not use the Indian belt ? If they do so, they will reduce the cost of production. Sir, they are getting the protection without giving any relief to the consumers, whose interests are very much neglected. The only people whose interests are properly safeguarded are the capitalists. It was rightly pointed out by Mr. Joshi that the interests of labour have been absolutely neglected by the Bombay mills especially when they are making so much money. (An Honourable Member : "Ask them to take to Zamindari.") Yes, I shall be glad if they were to do so. You will not find top heavy administration there.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Am I to understand that Sir Cowasji Jehangir does not look to the interests of the country as much as Mr. Joshi does ? Is that the insinuation ?

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Then, Sir, in conclusion I would like to say that it is up to the Leader of the House, because of his dignified position, that he should make a candid statement as to the non-publication of the Report of the Tariff Board before the introduction of this Bill in this House. The second charge against him is, why Lancashire has been brought in in the settlement of the question between India and Japan ? That is a thing which this side of the House cannot understand.

However strong the arguments and however cogent the points described by the Honourable the Leader of the House may be, he cannot convince us how the interest of commerce, industry and agriculture can be decided by Japan or Lancashire. It is the representatives of India who can fully understand the interests of India and all commercial interests.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

AERIAL BOMBARDMENT ON KOTKAI IN THE TRANS-FRONTIER.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi (Tirhut Division : Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I beg to move for the adjournment of the business of the Assembly for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance, to wit, the unsatisfactory reply given by the Government to the Short Notice Question put on the last working day with regard to the aerial bombing at Kotkai.

4 P.M.

[At this stage, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) vacated the Chair which was occupied by Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury).]

[Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi.]

My object in moving this motion for adjournment is to demonstrate that the Government of India were not justified in taking military action against Kotkai much less in the bombardment of Kotkai. There are a few facts which deserve mention at the very beginning. The whole operation began by one simple incident. It was this. The Government of India received information that certain ill-disposed persons had arrived in Bajaur who were likely to prove disturbers of peace, not only within our frontier, but also a source of grave embarrassment to our neighbours across the border. This is all that has been said. The arrival of ill-disposed persons in the territory of Bajaur has created all this trouble. I am no doubt not in a position, as my Honourable friends on the other side are, to state authoritatively who these men were, what their antecedents were, what offence they had committed, and for what reason they were described to be ill-disposed persons. An authoritative statement of that nature has been made in these simple words and I understand that they mean simple things. It was the arrival only of these ill-disposed persons that seems to have enraged the Government of India. We are not told as to what they had done before they arrived here or what they were going to do after they had entered that territory. Had there been in this Assembly an elected Member representing the frontier, he would have been able to give us the other side of the picture so that we could judge for ourselves whether the arrival of the ill-disposed persons in the territory of Bajaur was sufficient to enrage the Government of India to such a high pitch. It is obviously incomprehensible to a mortal like myself that this incident would acquire such a great importance in the mind of the Government of India at a time when we were passing through very delicate times both in India as well as outside. I feel that the temper of the Government of India has been ruffled and it is very difficult for any part of India to feel safe. If the administration of the country is carried on in this manner, we feel we will have to suffer very serious consequences. We have got to glean facts from the official statements that have been made from time to time. We find in one communiqué issued by the Government of India that they believed, sometime about the 31st July, that the pretenders had moved to a village, a few miles from Kotkai and they were no longer in Kotkai. That was the statement made on the 31st July. But the operation of bombing which had been decided upon by the Government of India took place on Kotkai on the 1st of August and again on the 3rd and 4th August. To me it appears that a Government with such powerful resources at their back should not have resorted to such serious operation as they had undertaken. They have seen the consequences of it in the country. The country is ablaze, the country finds that the Government are using their powers in such a way that an extreme sort of protest is necessary against what they are doing. Had there been any aggression on the part of the people of Bajaur, there might have been some justification for Government to take such extreme measures, but as the House knows we have been clearly told that these people had not transgressed any part of India or done anything which might be called aggression. They had, of course, harboured those men who came to them for refuge, but they made it plain to the Government of India when enquiries were made from them that they could not surrender those people, because they were their guests. This candid statement on the part of the Bajaur people was quite enough for any one to understand their position. It was quite enough for the Government of India to realise that the Khan of Bajaur had certain good excuse for not surrendering these people to the Government of India. In spite of the fact that they were insisting on their code of honour and hospitality which they had been observing from time immemorial, the Government of India thought fit to take military action against them. I feel there was no justification whatsoever for taking such extreme action against them. Now I come to my second point, the bombardment of Kotkai. On that question I pondered within myself and I asked myself whether these Bajauris were considered by the Government of India to be British subjects or foreigners. I would like to know definitely from the Honourable Member in charge whether they consider these Bajauris to be British subjects or aliens. May I have a reply, so that I may proceed further ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham (Army Secretary) : Bajaur is a part of India, that is the only answer I can give.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : Then the Government are not clear in their own mind as to whether these people are British subjects or not. However, they say they are part of India, but their status has got to be settled yet. If they are part of India, then I should think they are entitled to all the rights which we Indians enjoy. I wonder whether the same fate would attend an Indian in his own town on such trifling matters. I do feel it is trifling. To me it does not appeal as a very serious thing and I begin to think that if this state of things continues, we will have no safety anywhere in any part of India. The Government will have to revise their policy as to the action to be taken on such occasions. Specially, when the British Government themselves had espoused the cause of anti-bombing at the Disarmament Conference, the Government of India ought to have thought many a time before taking any action of that kind. I know that the proposal had not been passed by the Disarmament Conference, but the Government had to show their intentions before the world's representatives who were gathered at the Disarmament Conference. It was not an urgent matter in which the British Empire was being raided that extreme measures of that kind should have been adopted. I find that the British delegation was most forward in putting forward their own proposals as regards the total abolition of bombing. It is suggested that bombing should be allowed for police purposes. I have tried to find out from the reports whether.....

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : The Honourable Member has got two minutes more.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : ..... it was so, but I do not find it mentioned in that way. Rather, in March, when the thing was taken up, it was said that the permanent Disarmament Commission was going to draw up a scheme for the complete abolition of naval and military aircraft conditioned upon the effective supervision of civil aviation in order to prevent its misuse for military purposes. Even conceding the argument advanced by the Army Secretary that for police purposes it was necessary on the borders, I submit that the action taken was not a police action. Police parties would only keep watch. If the air machines had gone out for reconnoitring, they would have come back to say that there was no lashkar accumulating and that there was no invasion to be made of India and things like that. The police party would have done nothing more than that. Police purposes would not mean bombardment of a whole village though there might be 20 houses and 130 persons. That does not mean levelling down to the ground the houses of so many people and putting these people in terrible consternation. I submit, Sir, that this is another outrage which has been committed against the population of India. One was when General Dyer.....

[Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi.]

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : The Honourable Member's time is up.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : ..... shot so many people at Jallianwalla Bagh. This is the second one.

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : The Honourable Member must formally move that the House do now adjourn.

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : I formally move that the House do now adjourn.

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : The question is that the House do now adjourn.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan (East Central Punjab : Muhammadan) : Sir, I want to put on record my emphatic protest against the aerial bombardment of Kotkai, a village in the trans-frontier. What are the causes for such drastic action, I need not explain at length. What I have gathered from the Statesman and the Army Secretary is that as the demand of the Indian Government for the surrender of the Pretender and his associates was not complied with, the village was bombarded. Government are well aware, as they write in a communiqué, that " the attitude of the tribe, in not handing over these refugees, is based on the Pathan custom which enjoins them to safeguard a guest who has sought their protection ". This is exactly what the Indian Government themselves have done in the past in the case of Afghan refugees and will do again if an opportunity arises. Instead of appreciating the noble sentiments of the frontier Pathans, the Government was cruel to punish them. As a matter of fact, these are only pretences for a forward policy and lust for acquiring new territories. It is under cover of this policy that the British Indian troops are assisting the sappers and miners in the completion of the new military roads.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Sir, on a point of order. The question which I answered the other day and the unsatisfactory nature of my reply to which is the subject of this motion was concerned with air bombing. I should like to know whether the Honourable Member is in order in referring to matters of policy which are not concerned with air bombing.

Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury) : The Honourable Member is perfectly in order. What he is saying is that the Kotkai bombing is only an incident in the forward policy of Government.

Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : The lessons of the last Afghan wars must not be forgotten. The Government had to spend crores of rupees and sacrifice thousands of men, and Afghanistan had to undergo horrors of war only to propitiate the whim of Government.

Sir, coming to the main question, Kotkai was bombed twice by a large number of aeroplanes and 90 bombs were thrown. The Army Secretary in his statement said that, so far as was ascertained, only 20 houses were destroyed and one man wounded. This information has not been supplied to him by R. A. F. officers, but by men who came from Kotkai and most probably were spies of Government on whose words reliance cannot be placed. Unfortunately the trans-frontier people have got no press and cannot do any propaganda, so we do not know their version. What I have heard from people is that there have been enormous losses of life and property. I have gathered from the speech of the Army Secretary that the Government approve of the aerial bombing of villages and towns against which we Indians emphatically protest. We do not believe there should be an aerial bombardment of towns and cities at all, but, humanitarians as we are, we join with other nations who have got the same creed in most emphatically protesting against aerial bombardments. During the Great War, London was bombed by German aeroplanes and a hue and cry arose, there was wailing and consternation and a wave of anger against German barbarities. We were told that the Germans were a brutal nation who did not spare cities and passenger boats, and the main cause of Americans joining the Great War was the torpedoing of the passenger boats. Now, air bombing of cities and towns is as inhumanitarian an Act as torpedoing passenger boats. The Army Secretary, in reply to a supplementary question of mine, said that great progress had been made in the accuracy of aerial bombing and that it was a great deal more accurate than the artillery. 90 powerful bombs were dropped and only 20 houses were destroyed or damaged in Kotkai. These houses in this small village of Kotkai are made of mud, and it does not speak much for the accuracy of aerial bombing. The danger is and will always be that bombs will stray and cause immense damage. In ancient times, conquerors used to burn and raze cities to the ground and sow them with salt in order to make them unfit for human habitation ; but much worse can be done by aerial bombardment. At the Disarmament Conference, the British Government put forward a proposal that aerial bombing should be abolished subject to aerial policing of the outlying posts of the empire ; and it was supported by their henchmen, the Indian delegation. How can the British Government be successful in their mission when they would like to reserve for themselves the power of bombing in outlying posts in their own case, but not for others ? The result is bound to be that this Disarmament Conference would end in failure and blame will be thrown on the Indian Government. What we want to emphasise is that the Indian Government do not represent the Indian nation and that the Indian opinion is emphatically against aerial bombing, as there is always great danger to life and property ; and, at a time of war, when blood is heated in order to retaliate, caution will always be thrown to the winds and the civil population, including women and children, will be murdered in cold blood and cities destroyed ; the destruction will be complete and the annihilation will be spread even miles away and villages will become unfit for human habitation or cultivation. I consider aerial bombing of villages and towns to be an uncivilised method of warfare. England is showing a keen desire for disarmament. Should we understand that it is only hypocrisy and that England will not practice what she is preaching ? An argument may be advanced that it is a cheaper method of keeping order, but it is inherently an unjust method of punishment.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan (Nominated Non-Official) : Sir, having full regard for the sentiments of Honourable Members who have just spoken and their sympathy for the people of the Frontier Province, I wish to clear some of their doubts and suspicions and to tell them a few facts.....

[Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan.]

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury (Bengal : Landholders) : As a spokesman of the Government ?

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : I must tell them that our Frontier Government never likes or wants to send a force against the tribes until their crimes have gathered so much in volume that the Government are reluctantly compelled to send an expeditionary force against them for the sake of the safety of the people in the settled districts or of the border people or tribes who are very friendly with us and whom, according to treaties or agreements, the Government are bound to protect against the aggression of other tribes. Sir, I know far better than any other man here who is not a resident of that part of the country, that the Government have always to take such action against the tribes when it is only by way of retaliation that they send their forces. Every Honourable Member in this House will agree with me when I say that if an aggression is made on the civil population of the British territory by the semi-independent tribes, the Government can take no other course. Are they to sit silently and wait till all our people in this settled districts or the friendly tribes are destroyed ? If Honourable Members will see the old records of the old Legislature, when Dera Ismail Khan was raided and looted by Mahsuds and there were 100 raids in one or two months in Southern Waziristan and the poor Hindus went to the Chief Commissioner and petitioned him—it was Sir John Maffey at the time—who wrote to the Deputy Commissioner and enquired of him as to why His Majesty's troops were stationed in five cantonments of the five districts if they could not protect the British subjects. Every rich Hindu was looted by those tribesmen then, and, if you see the old records, there was a hue and cry, and telegrams were sent to the Chief Commissioner. The Government have two means of punishing these tribes or to stop them : either to send a force by land or by air. I leave it to the choice of Honourable Members as to what should be done. I say, it is much less mischievous, much less harmful and less expensive to send aeroplanes than to send a force by land. By land there are far more casualties on both sides. The people of the frontier say that if forces are sent by land, there is far more loss and expense. If the tax-payers are going to be asked for more money, the Assembly here says that the military expenditure should be cut and these expeditions should not be made against these people. Aerial bombardment is less inhuman, less harmful for us, the people of the North-West Frontier Province. Take the figures of the loss by land and by aerial bombardment, and it will convince you quite clearly that the latter is attended with less loss of life and is less expensive. What more satisfaction you want ? The chief advantage of aerial bombardment is this, that there can be no possibility or chance of the collection of lashkars on the other side. If we take a force by land, the hills between us and the frontier tribes are so numerous and the ravines are so deep that if a big crowd of people or lashkar is gathered on the other side, we cannot see or know it. Even if we know it, we have not the means to disperse them. but if we adopt aerial bombing, the Frontier people, who are now used to these things for the last eight or ten years, know what effect it will produce on the people, and so they will not collect any lashkars in any big post or place, because they can collect them at night ; but if they collect them during day time, they know well that there will be bombardment, and so they never try to collect such a big lashkar at all. In other words, instead of having a long, expensive expedition causing loss of life to troops and also to the tribes, we feel that aerial bombing is the best. This is the easiest, the best and the most economical way of warning criminals or giving a proper lesson to them. Of course, there is one class of people who will be affected if bombing operations are substituted for land forces, I mean the contractor class in Peshawar, Kohat, Bannu and Dera-Ismail-Khan. When there was no aerial bombardment, and the Government sent forces by land, many contractors were largely benefited, because they had to supply atta (wheat flour), dal, grams, chawal (rice), ghee (butter) and so many other things to Government. That class of people is losing now, because Government have adopted the aerial bombing, with the result that the services of these contractors are not required for supply of these provisions, etc. I can tell my Honourable friends that there are not one, two, three, four or five, but there are more than a dozen people, whose father's name is not known, in Kohat, in Bannu, in Dera-Ismail-Khan and in several other places, but now they are all millionaires. How did they become so ? By taking up contracts during the Great War. One man in my own district, who is a great friend of mine, is running an Electric Power House now and is worth several lakhs.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : On a point of order, Sir. Is the Honourable Member relevant in stating all these things in connection with aerial bombing ?

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : Yes. Please wait for a minute patiently. There was something said by Mr. Sadiq Hasan, and I am going to tell him what class of people specially are objecting to aerial bombing.

An Honourable Member : But he is not a contractor.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : Never mind ; he might not be one, but I want to tell my friends that, on account of these contracts during the Great War, a lot of people have become millionaires, and it is this class of people, who would have secured further contracts if the forces had been sent by land, and, therefore, they object to aerial operations and cause this agitation and propaganda. Let us consider what was the casualty on both sides when we sent the forces by land, and what is the casualty when we use aeroplanes, let us also see what was the expenditure then and what is the expense now ?

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Does that Electric Power House exist now ?

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : I do not know what my friend is asking me.

Several Honourable Members : Please go on, go on ; it is very interesting.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : If you want to know the history of the present complaint, I would ask Honourable Members to go through carefully what His Excellency the Viceroy said the other day in his address to both Houses of the Legislature, and it is quite enough to show that, in resorting to bombing operation, our international obligations, our obligations to Afghanistan, our obligations to the tribes on the frontier have not been violated in any manner whatsoever. The friendly tribes of Halimzai were going to be attacked by Upper Mahmunds, and Halzais asked for our help and protection to save them from the aggressions of the Upper Mahmunds. If we had refused our help merely to please the fancies of a few elected Members here, the result would have been that our friends would have become our enemies, and the number of our enemies would have increased to such an extent that even those who are our friends would have turned against us and they would have joined the opposite camp. Sir, on the Frontier, strength is always worshipped, fear is weakness. We do not like any weak Governor, we do not like any weak Government. ("Hear, hear" from the Nationalist Benches.) If you are strong, you are respected and everybody will help you, but if you are weak, nobody will help you. It is a common saying on the Frontier that a Government cannot last long from whom the friends can have no hope and the enemies have no fear at all.

[Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan.]

An Honourable Member. : Are not the Government sufficiently strong there ?

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : Sir, I have full sympathy with the people there. They are all Muslims, and I am a Mussalman myself, but I assure all my friends here, who have espoused this cause, that, of the two methods, Government could not have selected a better method than resorting to aerial bombing ; Government cannot have a third alternative to punish criminals on that side if they want to retaliate whenever the need arises. Between land forces and aerial bombing, the latter is undoubtedly more effective, and less expensive, and what is more, the loss of life is very much less. (Applause from the Official Benches.)

Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim (Chittagong Division : Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I am extremely grateful to you for affording me an opportunity to speak on this question. My esteemed friend, Maulvi Shafee Daoodi, has disturbed the equanimity of this House, perhaps not meaning it. I really do not know what my friend was driving at and what are the issues before the House for its decision. It was rather difficult for me sitting on this extreme end to gather the purposes of my esteemed friend's motion, but from what little we heard at this end, we gathered that he wanted to censure the Government of India for adopting a very extreme measure for driving out a so-called pretender who was not friendly to the Government of Afghanistan. In that connection, Mr. Deputy President, you will probably remember that the Government of India are a party to the Convention of June the 1st, 1922, signed at Paris, I mean the Air Convention, and I am quite certain that they have not gone back from the terms of that Convention, and I think my friend, the Maulvi Saheb's grievance is this. He says : "You pose as a civilized Government here, you are signatory to the Air Convention of Paris and so why should you take these extreme measures ?" Besides that, another burden of my friend, the Maulvi Saheb's charge was this, whether it was not possible for the Government of India to drive away the pretender by other means, by means of diplomatic methods, instead of resorting to aerial bombing ? I should have thought, Sir, that the Government of India, gifted as they are with sufficient imagination and foresight, and vested with very wide powers in this part of the world, would certainly have adopted other means if they thought they would succeed in their object in driving away that pretender from that bit of land which lies between Afghanistan and India, and thereby restore peace and amity in that part of the country. Now, Sir, my other friends, who followed him, rather digressed from the main purport. It is not a Muslim question at all, as my friend Major Nawab Saheb said. Of course, it would certainly have been far better if it was possible for the Government of India not to take to destroying the hamlets of those poor villagers who lead a very uncomfortable life in that wonderful land. The canons of civilisation do not warrant such a destruction of economic wealth in that fashion. If economy was the question, they should have first tried the easier method of negotiations through diplomatic channel.

The Army Secretary said that that part of the country is a part of India. Very good, indeed. But how is it that it was necessary for the Government of India to invade this part with air bombs ? I know as a public man that we have had much bigger troubles, 500 times bigger, in other parts of India and in Burma, yet recourse to this method of air bombing was not taken to. There is certainly a great force in what the Nawab of Dera says, that we ought to have a quiet on the frontier. Yes, I quite agree with him, most certainly, but my idea is that a first class Government like ours should have been able to devise some other better methods of meeting the situation and not to have recourse to this bombing. My Honourable friend, Shaikh Sadiq Hasan, said that perhaps this was the result of the forward policy on the frontier. I do not understand what is a forward policy or what other policy the Government have on that side. As a lay citizen of this country, who wishes the ordered progress of this land, I should have thought that a Government, which take so much credit for foresight and precision, would not have taken recourse to this method, because I repeat this, it has perhaps been badly handled and it is very badly interpreted in other parts of India, and I think it would be very fair both for Government as well as the people living away from the frontier to know what was the real state of affairs. If it was such that it was not possible for the Government to have recourse to anything else and this was the only method to drive out that pretender, they are very welcome to say so. But if they try to do proper things and meet the arguments of my friend, Maulvi Shafee Daoodi, in diplomatic language, I am very much afraid that it will not pay. They must explain the situation to the satisfaction of the House and I trust that will raise them in the estimation of the Indian public. With these few words, I commend the motion for the serious considerations of this House.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Sir, when I received notice of these questions about aerial bombing, I could not help comparing myself to the Khan of Kotkai. We both of us knew that we were going to be bombed. But I felt, in the first place, that he had done something to deserve it and that I had not, and in the second place, that he at any rate had full notice of what was coming to him and had ample time to make his arrangements accordingly, whereas I had no warning of the bombardment of supplementary questions which were likely to be my fate. On further reflection, I comforted myself with the thought, as no doubt the Khan did also, that whatever the moral effect might be, the physical damage was not likely to be great, and, in the second place, but in this case unlike the Khan of Kotkai, I felt that the Government at any rate had a clear conscience and had no reason to fear the attack. With that encouragement, I did my best to answer the air bombardment that was directed against me last Friday, and I can only regret that the answers that I then gave are considered so unsatisfactory as to make this debate necessary.

[Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham.]

At the same time, I have always felt in this matter that the method of answering questions and supplementary questions was not really a satisfactory way, from the Government point of view, of explaining their case. It was for that reason that I made certain initial efforts to get the matter discussed in another way which I honestly thought would be more suitable for all concerned, and I now welcome this opportunity to explain the Government case rather more lucidly I hope, but at any rate more consecutively, than would be possible under the methods of catechism.

When I received the notice of this adjournment motion, and with due gratitude for the 48 hours' warning that was given to me, I set myself to think out a considered statement on the subject, on the assumption, which I think was quite justifiable, that there would be two main lines of attack, firstly, against the bombing of Kotkai in particular, and secondly, against the practice of air bombing in general. I confess that I have again been taken slightly by surprise by the line that this debate has taken, for it seems to me that what is really agitating the minds of Honourable Members opposite is not so much that the Government took a particular form of action in this case, that is to say, air action, but that they took any action at all. The suggestion has been made that our action against these agitators in Bajaur was merely a pretext for some much larger scheme which was aimed at destroying the independence of the tribes, and it seems to me that it is this imagined policy on the part of the Government that is the chief cause of complaint. Sir, I do not know what the grounds for such a suggestion are, nor do I know that I, as Army Secretary, am the right person to deal with it. No question has been asked on this subject, and it did seem to me, and that was why I raised the point of order, that it was rather difficult to justify a motion for the adjournment of the House to discuss the unsatisfactory nature of an answer which had not been given to a question which had not been asked. I cannot proceed now to discuss frontier policy. All I can say is that these tribal areas are part of India, and that it is the responsibility of the Government of India to maintain peace and order in those areas. I hope, however, that what I may have to say later on the subject of this air bombing may go some way to satisfy Honourable Members opposite that their fears in this respect are unwarranted and groundless.

Now, Sir, I think, in the first place, I must deal with the question of the bombing of Kotkai in particular.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir (Bombay City : Non-Muhammadan Urban) : May I interrupt the Honourable Member just for one minute ? I see from the speech made by His Excellency the Viceroy that he did go into details here as to why it was necessary to take action at all. Therefore, if the Honourable the Army Secretary would give us some reasons why it was necessary to take action at all, I think it would be very useful.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I am just coming to that. I think, as I was saying, the facts about the bombing of Kotkai are now sufficiently well known to all Members of this House to make any misunderstanding on the matter quite unjustifiable. I will merely briefly recapitulate them. The Government of India knew that certain dangerous agitators had come to Bajaur territory with the express object of stirring up trouble, which, if it had been allowed to develop, would have had the most serious consequences not only to peace and order on the Frontier, but also to our neighbours across the border. As the Honourable the Political Secretary explained the other day, I regret that I cannot, without trenching on foreign relations, give more details about these persons or their doings.

[At this stage, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) resumed the Chair.]

But I would ask the House to take it from me—that is all that I can do—that the trouble was by no means imaginary and might have become most serious. It was suggested the other day, and it has been suggested again today, that these people had taken no overt action and that therefore it was unnecessary for the Government to take action against them. If that suggestion means that we ought to have waited until the trouble had actually arisen before any action was taken, I can only say that that is not a policy which commends itself to the Government of India, or, I think, to any one who knows the conditions on the Frontier and the rapidity with which trouble, once it starts, is likely to spread in that area. Prevention is always better than cure and on the frontier it is hundred times better. I would, then, ask the House to believe that some action on the part of the Government was necessary. The question was what were the alternatives open to us ? Either on the one hand to give clear notice of our intentions, to give every opportunity for a peaceful settlement and then, if our warnings were disregarded, to take swift and effective action by air ; or, in the alternative, to launch a land force which would have taken several weeks to reach its objective, which would have cost a large amount of money and which in the end would have produced the same result. That part of the country is particularly malarious at this time of year. There is no road for the last 30 miles or so and the cost of such a land expedition would have amounted to seven or eight lakhs of rupees a month. Government preferred to take the first alternative. Ample time was first of all allowed for peaceful compliance with our wishes. We offered a reward. We made it clear that if the men were handed over to us, no harm would be done to them. These warnings were disregarded. Then 48 clear hours' warning was given of the bombardment ; and finally the bombardment took place by certain machines of the Royal Air Force and was finished in a few hours. The cost was Rs. 15,000 against a possible Rs. 15 lakhs or more. The casualties were one man slightly injured against a possible list of hundreds ; and may I say in reply to what Mr. Sadiq Hasan said just now, that our information on this subject was derived from all possible sources, both from the Air Force and the Army and from such information as the political authorities could collect. The damage done at Kotkai was no greater than could have been done, and would have been done, when and if the guns had been brought within range ; and Sir, finally the object was achieved. The agitators have disappeared. Their knavish tricks have been frustrated, at any rate, for the time being ; the power of the Government has been demonstrated in no uncertain fashion ; and the peace of the frontier has been preserved. No further action is contemplated at present either by air or by land or by building a road in Bajaur territory. This statement, I hope may go some way to satisfy my friends opposite that their fears about our policy are ungrounded. The policy of the Government of India on the frontier is nothing less than to maintain peace and good relations and to spread civilisation where possible ; and if there ever has been an occasion on which the value and the use of the air arm in securing the first of these objects has been fully demonstrated and proved up to the hilt, I do contend that this particular incident that we are now discussing was such an occasion.

[Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham.]

I must now turn to the question of air bombing in general. The invention of flying, like the invention of gun powder and other inventions, has added undoubtedly a new and very powerful arm to the batteries of all nations. That weapon, Sir, has been used under certain conditions continuously and repeatedly on the North-West Frontier for the last nine or ten years ; and hitherto its use has evoked no adverse comment or criticism of any kind. In fact, only a couple of years ago, as result largely of pressure from Indian opinion, a Bill was introduced in this House for the constitution of a purely Indian Air Force and that measure was passed with acclamation. If air bombing was really an inhuman and barbarous practice, it is difficult to understand how that fact managed to escape notice for so many years. Of course, there is, Sir, a growing opinion throughout the world that however justifiable the air arm may be, if its use is directed against an enemy in the field, it is an arm that should not be used against the civil population. It was for this reason, as I explained the other day, that proposals have been put before the Disarmament Conference for the abolition or limitation of the use of the air arm ; and, Sir, I think that any feeling that may exist in India on the subject at present may be attributed to two causes. Firstly, there is the mistaken impression that the air arm is, or may be, used against defenceless people, women and children ; and, secondly, there is a vague sort of notion that His Majesty's Government and the Government of India by their reservation about air bombing for police purposes in outlying areas are hindering the cause of this disarmament. I attempted to explain the other day what the position of His Majesty's Government and of the Government of India was at the Disarmament Conference and to show how much that Conference owed to the efforts of Great Britain. I made it clear, Sir, that Great Britain and India were prepared to go to the length of agreeing to the abolition of all military and naval aviation if certain conditions could be secured ; and one of those conditions was not the retention of air bombing. But, Sir, I can only repeat that it would be unjustifiable to expect any country, in advance of any general decision that may be reached on the subject, voluntarily to forego the use of a weapon which, in certain circumstances and subject to the reservations, restrictions and limitations that are invariably imposed, has proved itself a remarkably effective, economical and humane way of keeping the peace in certain parts of the world, where the keeping of the peace is no easy job. And that, Sir, refers not only to the North-West Frontier, but also to various other parts of the British Empire.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (Muzaffarpur cum Champaran : Non-Muhammadan) : May I interrupt my Honourable friend. May I know if bombs were not thrown in Gujranwala in the Punjab during the martial law days ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I have no information on that point. My claim is that the employment of the air arm in certain circumstances is effective, economical and humane and I should like, if I may, to develop this claim rather more fully than I have been able to do before.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member has just two minutes more.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : In the first place, I should like to make it clear that bombing never takes place without the express orders of the Government of India and then only after all possible alternatives have been considered. In the second place, there is no such thing as indiscriminate bombing. When air bombing has been decided upon, the next step is to select the exact target which is to be bombed and in selecting those targets care is taken to avoid doing damage wherever possible to religious buildings or buildings of such size and importance as to render their destruction inadvisable. Every aeroplane that goes out to bomb carries with it a photograph of the exact target to be hit. These photographs are extremely clear—I have an example here which I shall be glad to show to Honourable Members if they wish to see it afterwards. Then, Sir, after the target has been selected, the invariable practice is to issue a clear 48 hours warning so as to allow the women and children ample time to remove themselves to a place of safety ; and such places of safety are provided very often by the caves which these people make their normal habitation in the cold weather ; or else they are in the habit of going to other villages.

Finally, Sir, on the day and at the time appointed the Air Force carries out the bombardment. Here, again, a photo-
5 P.M. graph is taken of every single bomb that is dropped to show what its effect was and how its aim carried. I said the other day that the Air Force claim to be more accurate than the artillery. That statement perhaps needs some modification because artillery, if the ranges are known, can be accurate and probably more accurate than an aeroplane. But if the ranges are not known, and if an aeroplane can afford to fly sufficiently low, its accuracy is as great as that of artillery. The point is that the practice of bombing is becoming day by day a more accurate science and the fact that a pilot has to bring back with him a photograph to show exactly where his bomb went does prevent the practice of indiscriminate bomb dropping. Those are the circumstances in which aerial bombardment is carried out. It is a remarkable fact also, though I do not wish to lay too much stress on it, that the strength of our fighting forces in India and the average annual cost of our operations on the Frontier has fallen enormously since the introduction of the air arm : also the casualties both on our own side and among the tribesmen are nowhere near as high as they were in the old days before the war. It may interest the House to know that in all the air operations that have taken place in the last 9 years the total casualties to our own forces have amounted to 11 and before the war they were hundreds. I do not mean to say that the Royal Air Force can now take over the defence of the Frontier unaided. The army must remain the framework of our defence organisation ; but I do maintain—and I hope the House will agree with me—that a careful and judicious use of the air arm in combination with ground forces, or in certain special circumstances by itself, provides not only a justifiable but also a very effective way of carrying out a very arduous responsibility in a way of which we have no reason whatever to be ashamed.

[Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham.]

Mr. B. R. Puri (West Punjab : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, after listening very carefully to the statement of the Honourable the Army Secretary, I regret I feel absolutely unconvinced of the Government case. I feel that the Government had a bad case and I also feel that that case was badly handled too. In spite of very plucky advocacy from an unexpected quarter, namely, my friend, Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan, the Government case has not improved. I believe he has to a very material extent damaged the case for Government. So far as his speech is concerned, I could have conveniently left it alone had it not been for the gratuitous dig he had at the elected Members. On behalf of my elected colleagues, I would like to convey to him once for all that not one of the elected Members envies the position of my Honourable friend across the floor of the House. My Honourable friend reminds me of the case of a wretched husband who shouted to the maid : " Jane, is my wife going out ? " " Yes, Sir," " Do you know if I am also going out with her ? " " I will find that out, Sir." I do not see my Honourable friend, Mr. Mukherjee, the Government whip, who plays the role of Jane for the Nominated Members. My friend has always to look to Mr. Mukherjee to communicate to him the official view. With this, I would leave his speech alone and will proceed at once to place before the House my reading of the statement of the Honourable the Army Secretary. With reference to this bombing, it appears that the Government have put up a very half-hearted case. At one time they appear to justify their action, not because they say that the bombing was justified, but because the result was so insignificant that the bombing in this particular instance might be looked upon as excusable. I trust that is not the case. But if the Government are prepared to stand by this bombing and assert that this bombing was a determined and a considered act on their part, then let us see what were the circumstances and how the Government have succeeded in justifying their action. Now, Sir, this bombing was spread over a period of four days altogether. It began on the 1st August. On the 2nd there was no bombing—I do not know whether it was a Sabbath or not. On the 3rd, the bombing was resumed and it continued till the end of the 4th. So that, out of the four days, there were bombings on three days. During these three days, 90 bombs were actually thrown and we are told that so far as the property is concerned, there were only 20 houses damaged and, so far as the human lives were concerned, there was only one man slightly injured. What a commentary upon the efficiency of this method of warfare ! I think, unless the method of aerial bombing materially improves, the present operations should be a lesson to the Government that this sort of bombing should not be lightly resorted to. But perhaps the Government's case is that no untoward results followed because the village had already been deserted and I take it that the Government are anxious to avail themselves of this argument. It is a choice between inefficiency and irresponsibility. Is it the Government case then that they started bombing at a time when they were perfectly satisfied that the village had already been evacuated ?

Now, in the statement which is reproduced in the Statesman, I find that the Honourable the Army Secretary says that at the time of the bombing the village had been deserted. This means that before bombing commenced, the village was all empty and evacuated. If that be true, why proceed to bomb at all ? Where is the point in bombing ? To terrify whom were you bombing ? To kill whom did you resort to that practice ? Was it merely for the sake of demonstration or show ?

Mr. S. C. Mitra (Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : For damaging property.

Mr. B. R. Puri : Yes, it might be so.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : To stop the congregation of laskars that will be of great advantage.

Mr. B. R. Puri : I am afraid, in the statement made by Army Secretary, there is no mention of any laskars standing behind who were going to be terrified by these operations.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : There are always laskars.

Mr. B. R. Puri : Evidently on this particular occasion the Army Secretary did not consult my Honourable friend, otherwise he would have put forward a more improved statement.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : It was in the newspapers.

Mr. B. R. Puri : What is the particular paper you are referring to ? I am referring to the statement of the Army Secretary. As I was submitting, it would be an absolutely infructuous and a wasteful demonstration if the Government case be that there was not a soul in the village when this bombing was commenced. Let us carefully and critically pursue statements further. If, on the first day, the village had been deserted, why, after an interval of 24 hours or 48 hours, the village was visited again, and, if, again, on that morning, it was found that there was not a soul, why resume bombing without any object or reason ? As a matter of fact, under these circumstances and conditions, it would be for the Government to justify why, after the first bomb was thrown, the operation was repeated up to 90 times when, at the very outset, they had come to know that they could hurt no one. But, on the other hand, if the village was deserted as a result of bombing, then the figures given by Government must be hopelessly incorrect. The damage could not have amounted to only one man slightly injured. If, on the other hand, the village had been already evacuated, it was the most senseless operation which was resorted to by them.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : But it had the desired effect.

Mr. B. R. Puri : Now, Sir, most mischievous proposition has been put forward, it is unsound, it is inequitable and I was sorry to hear it from the lips of the Army Secretary. My Honourable friend went the length of saying that if they had not resorted to this particular operation, the results and the consequences would have been disastrous. My first answer to this argument is that whenever there is any serious political blunder committed of this dimension, one can always conveniently resort to such an argument. (Hear, hear.) If I had not done this, something worse and something serious was bound to follow. Who are the judges of those consequences but themselves ? This argument is a convenient one, it is always available, it is cheap to put in and nobody can question your judgment with regard to this. What are the facts and figures to justify your plea that if you had not resorted to this, heavens were going to fall ? When we carefully go through the statement of my Honourable friend, the Army Secretary, supplemented and coupled with the speech of His Excellency the Viceroy, we find that not a single overt act had been committed by these people. What was the enormity of their offence, we are not told. What those three undesirable vagabonds or agitators had done, we are not told, but I take it that they could not be worse than robbers or dacoits.

[Mr. P. R. Puri.]

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : As I have already explained, I am precluded from disclosing what their activities were, because we are not allowed by the rules of the House to discuss matters relating to foreign relations.

Mr. B. R. Puri : If he is not in a position to take this House into his confidence, all the worse for the Government. We must know the enormity of their sins, we must know the nature of their offence before we are in a position to decide—we have been invited to give our judgment on this point—before we give our decision, we say, place all the data and all the facts before us and then we will be able to say whether we justify your act or not. I assume that you cannot attribute them a worse role than that of a possible robber or a dacoit. If that be their only sin, then I submit that any party, who gives asylum to such a person, is guilty of the offence of " harbouring ". In all civilised countries and under all civilised laws, wherever a person is found guilty of harbouring an offender and, in that category of offenders, you have got a long list of offenders right away from an actual murderer down to a man who has committed the ordinary kind of offence.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member has two minutes more.

Mr. B. R. Puri : Very well, Sir. If for harbouring murderers, the sole punishment provided under all civilised codes is not more than seven years rigorous imprisonment, on what justification the Government can make out a case for saying that they were justified in bombing that person who might possibly have given shelter to him and also bombing his neighbours and all his womenfolk and children ? In fact, if the whole village has not been devastated, it is not due to any lack of desire or determination on the part of Government. If the villagers, in anticipation of such like inhuman operation being perpetrated upon them, had already migrated from that place, the Government cannot take credit by saying that their operations have not resulted in the wholesale destruction of human lives. Then, again, Sir, if those people were merely political offenders, after all they are not your subjects if they are political offenders, then. I submit, that, according to all canons of international law, political offenders are inaccessible. Why do you expect those people to surrender those men who are their guests for the time being ? Assuming that they are murderers and all that, how can you call upon them to surrender these men ? By what known laws, national or international, civilised or uncivilised, can you cite a single law by which you can call upon any one of the civilised nations to surrender a political offender to you ? Would you be prepared to surrender a political offender who has taken refuge with you, say from Norway or Germany ? Why do you expect these people to do what you yourself, under your own laws, are not prepared to do ? (Hear, hear.) Therefore, my submission is that your case is bad and you have made it worse by pleading all sorts of untenable pleas. It would have been more honourable for you to have come forward and said that, in the heat of the moment, in the belief that we were doing something good, we happen to have resorted to an act which, in the light of subsequent events, we discovered that we were perhaps not strictly justified to do. Sir, on these grounds, I maintain that the Government case is very weak and it is not improved by the speech of the Army Secretary. I, therefore, heartily support this motion. (Applause.)

Mr. F. E. James (Madras : European) : In the first place, I wish it to be clearly understood that my intervention in this debate is on my own individual responsibility and that, any views, I may express, do not necessarily represent the views of the members of my Group, though I hope I will continue my friendly relations with them ! In the first place, I should like to say that the Army Secretary, in spite of the very lawyer-like speech of my Honourable friend, Mr. Puri, which one might expect from a lawyer who had accepted a brief in Court, and, had not had the time to look it up, things being what they are, has made out a very powerful case for the particular operation which took place.

At the present moment, in the absence of any International Agreement or Convention, bombing from the air is a recognised form, a form which is recognised by every Government in the world, of operation in war or policing in peace. And there are many reasons for that, particularly in peace time. The air still possesses a prestige particularly on unruly tribes which is not possessed by ground forces. The air is, as a rule, in operations of this kind, economical ; as has been pointed out, it is more humane. It is certainly more convenient from the military point of view, and the argument is advanced by people who have a right to express an opinion on this point that this means of policing is far more efficacious than the use of ground troops. Yet, when all that has been said, there still remains the fact that there is a very great division of opinion both in military circles as well as in civilian circles as to whether, although this method may attain its immediate object, it is equally successful in its ultimate results. Nothing is more impressive than the movement among the younger generation in the United Kingdom which finds expression amongst the younger Members of the House of Commons and the House of Lords in favour of the total abolition of this form of operation either in peace or in war. Reference has been made, Sir, to the wider aspect of the question by the Honourable gentleman who moved the motion. He referred to the attitude of India in following the attitude of the United Kingdom in regard to this matter of bombing for police purposes, and I think one or two Members of the House are under some misapprehension as to the precise position. It will be remembered that there is at the present moment before the Disarmament Conference a draft Disarmament Convention which was drawn up by the British delegation. Article 34 of this Convention,—I may say that the Convention covers all forms of warfare, whether naval or military or in the air,—Article 34 of this Convention deals with the prohibition of police bombing and, in the original draft, there is a reservation which would retain this form of operation " for police purposes in outlying districts,"—that is the actual phrase used in the reservation.

[Mr. F. E. James.]

Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : May I know where the Honourable Member finds this ?

Mr. F. E. James : I had a copy of the actual draft Disarmament Convention with me in my own office and I extracted these words from it, and I also have that in an article here in a publication which refers to those words which I shall be glad to hand over to my friend afterwards. My point in this connection is this, that this reservation is part of a big draft Disarmament Convention which covers practically the whole field of Disarmament. So far, almost every country, which has discussed this Draft Convention, has made substantial reservations and the one country which in a sense has made the smallest reservation in regard to police bombing only in outlying districts and which is prepared to accept more than any other country in the world is Great Britain ; and I wish to make that perfectly clear. It is not to be expected that a Convention of this kind will be accepted by all the countries without considerable discussion ; it is not to be expected that there will not be various reservations made by various countries. My point in putting the thing in its proper perspective is that the reservation made by Great Britain affects one Article only and only refers to one particular type of warfare used for police purposes in outlying districts.

Now, Sir, there was one part of Mr. Tottenham's speech with which I cannot find myself in entire agreement. He asked whether it was reasonable to expect that any country such as Great Britain with her responsibilities would voluntarily forgo,—I think that was the phrase that he used,—a reservation of this description. And that is where I join issue with him. As one who has been, ever since the war, interested in this disarmament question, I think it is reasonable, for the sake of world-wide agreement on the disarmament question, for the representatives of this country and for the representatives of His Majesty's Government to forgo even this. And, in support of that contention, I have on my side a most valuable opinion which has been expressed in Great Britain.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Sir, may I explain one point ? I did not say that I thought it would be unreasonable for Great Britain or India to forgo this reservation. What I said was that it would be unreasonable to give up the use of air bombing pending a discussion and decision on this reservation.

Mr. F. E. James : I am very glad to have this correction and I think probably Mr. Tottenham and I are in complete agreement on this point. Now, he has explained that particular aspect of the matter. But I was about to say that I have on my side, in suggesting that not even this reservation should hold us back from agreeing to a complete scheme of disarmament, one outstanding name in British politics, the name of Sir Austen Chamberlain, who has deliberately and carefully decided, with all his vast experience behind him, that Great Britain would be utterly unjustified in insisting on this reservation to the point of wrecking the Disarmament Agreement. I further say that Sir Austen Chamberlain has behind him a great body of public opinion, and, from what one knows of the situation in Great Britain at the present time, I am absolutely convinced that the British Government will not allow even this to stand in its way if there is a reasonable chance of securing a world-wide disarmament plan. My friends on the other side of the House are not the only nationalists here ; I am also a nationalist. I have never been so proud of my own country as I have in recent years with regard to this question of disarmament. If there is one country in the world which has been consistent and progressive and sincere in regard to disarmament, it is Great Britain. My friends on the other side of the House may complain that at the moment India has no foreign policy, for India has no control of her foreign policy. The time will come when she will control her foreign policy ; when she can control her army, when she can control and pay for her navy, then she will control her foreign policy. But until that time comes, I suggest that, at any rate in this matter, the Indian delegation, which I believe included a distinguished member of the Muhammadan community, in fact a distinguished leader of the Muhammadan community,—His Highness the Aga Khan,—was in good company in following the British delegation in regard to its general policy. I do hope that if public opinion at home and public opinion in this country—and I am glad to find it is beginning to be expressed on the floor of this House in regard to these wider matters—insist that Britain and India shall go forward to the extent even of giving up this one reservation, the delegations concerned, when the time comes next month for crucial discussions, will yield to the force of that public opinion and will be prepared to abandon this particular reservation. Then those who come after the Convention has been, as I hope it will be, signed in the early part of next year will not be forced, as is Mr. Tottenham, into the position of having to defend air bombing of villages on the frontier.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad (Patna and Chota Nagpur cum Orissa : Muhammadan) : Sir, I whole-heartedly join hands with my Honourable friend, Shaikh Sadiq Hasan, in censuring the Government for air bombing on the frontier. When I censure the Government, I do not want to censure my Honourable friend, the Army Secretary, and I dare say without any hesitation that his replies were very plain and not a bit unsatisfactory as far as he himself was concerned. But, certainly with all the power in my command, I censure the Government for this inhuman and barbarous act of air bombing.

The main sources of information which have been given by my Honourable friend on behalf of the Government are three. All three sources from which Government have come to know what were the losses on the frontier are very funny and unreliable. These are, the air source, the army source and the political source. I cannot say anything about the Political Department, because it is a harem of purdah and so it is difficult to say anything about that source As regards the air source, I can say this : The air bombers were hundreds of feet above the village : they dropped bombs and the houses collapsed : how was it possible for them to know how many people were in those houses and how many human beings have lost their lives ? As regards the army, I will say this : My Honourable friend has admitted that there was no road, not a single soldier entered the village, and the army did not march. There was no raid or anything of that kind and the army did not enter the village : how then was it possible for the army to know what was the loss in a particular village ? (Interruption.) I do not want to be interrupted, because my time is very limited. I, therefore, say that the air source is unreliable, because they were not in a position to know : the army source is unreliable, because they did not enter the village at all. The Political Department's information is a second hand information. Then, what is left ? They have got nothing to show what was the actual loss in a particular village.

[Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad.]

I shall leave that question for a moment. I ask my Honourable friend, if, instead of 24 hours, 72 hours' notice were given to bomb London, will he accept this notice as sufficient ? How is it possible for children and women to leave their houses and take all the utensils, all the valuable articles, all the goods and all other things from their houses ? Further, Mr. President, after all, this was the rainy season : If it be agreed that the victims were in caves to save their lives and my Honourable friend's air forces went there and dropped 90 bombs and destroyed only a few houses in the villages, may I ask, Sir, what was the fate of those children and women who were living in caves and are still remaining there in this rainy season ? From where they are getting their food in the caves ? After all, they are human beings. They have innocent women and children with them. As I said, this is the rainy season and, after this, the winter will come. I say, it is much better to kill a man once instead of cutting his feet first and then his hands, and so on. The Government are doing like that on the frontier. They have destroyed the houses, they have destroyed the foodstuffs, they have destroyed the clothes, they have destroyed everything that were in those houses and then they are starving them. Those Muslims have no clothes to wear and no food to eat. That is the condition there.

My Honourable friend says that he treats that area as part of India. I say, if that is a part of India, then we are entitled to put questions and know every detail about it. But, my Honourable friend, whenever questions are put, says that he is not in a position to give details of this nature. I say, if it is a part of India, then we are entitled to know all these things. But, if it is not a part of India, then, why are we asked to spend lots of money on this ? As has been pointed out, this is a symbol of the forward policy.

Further, in this connection, I want to warn the Government that we Indians are not prepared to spend a single pie for the benefit of other countries. If these bombardments have been done for the benefit of other countries like Afghanistan or any other country, we are not prepared to spend a single pie for them. In these days of depression, we ourselves are in great trouble.

It has been said in this House that Mr. Henderson and others have expressed their view that they do not like this air bombing to be continued in future. I ask, why should not the Government of India come forward and say that whatever may be the convention, they will not follow it, and that they are ready to abandon air bombing completely ? Why not they come forward and show the world that they have abandoned air bombing ?

I will say one thing more : our religious duty is that if we find anything bad, there are three alternatives for us : one is to check it by force : second, to refuse our co-operation ; the third, to dissociate ourselves from it. In this case, I cannot check this air bombing by force. We cannot do anything else ; but we can protest ; and we protest strongly that we do not approve of this : rather we hate this idea of air bombing.

Some Honourable Members : The question may now be put.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Sir, I shall make only a very brief speech, because I know many other speakers are very anxious to take part in this important motion.

Our grievances against the Government are two-fold. Firstly, we on this side do not approve of the policy of the Government in bombing innocent people ; secondly, we are not satisfied even now with the reply that we have received from the Government as regards the questions put in this connection. As I understand it, the Government's justification is only this : that they have succeeded wonderfully in their great venture. What was their object ? Their main object was to get back these few absconders. I ask the Honourable the Army Secretary to say if they have got back those absconders. If not, how can they claim that they have succeeded wonderfully by this air bombing in attaining their object ? As regards the two main points, we would like to make it perfectly clear that we Indians do not approve of any barbarous action of this kind of bombing in these civilised times. As regards the incompleteness of the answers, we maintain that we do not still know how many were the persons whom this Government wanted to be made over. We do not know anything about the charges against these people. If they are Indians, certainly proceedings could be brought against them in a Court of law (Laughter) and the ordinary procedure might be followed. Laughter will not make up for argument. When there is lack of argument, I know people take recourse to laughter. Why are you spending, I ask the Army Department, crores of money on the frontier watch and ward ? You have the frontier militia; you have the frontier constabulary. Will the Army Secretary tell me how many crores of Indian money are spent for preserving order in the frontier ? What is the reply ?.....

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Not one pie is spent in Bajaur.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Will the Honourable Member tell us if it is beyond the Durand line or it is within the British sphere of action ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : It is within the Durand line ; it is within the borders of India.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it then correct to say that not a pie was spent on the borders of India on the frontier militia, frontier constabulary and all the watch and ward on that side of the country to preserve order in the frontier ? Anyhow, the Honourable the Army Secretary has not replied to my 1st question, whether he has succeeded in getting back the undesirable people that he wanted.....

Mr. G. R. F Tottenham : I have already replied that these people have disappeared and the danger has, therefore, disappeared with them.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Now, is he in a position to guarantee to this House that they will not return within a week or ten days ?

Then, my friend may say that the people deserted these places. I think his main argument was that they merely wanted to destroy property and not human lives. Anyhow, in a deserted place we could get at least one dead or wounded man, and that shows that perhaps the air-officials are not in a position to tell us definitely whether there have been any more casualties or not. However, Sir, we on this side maintain, with all the emphasis we can command, that if you want our support, you should disclose to us all facts; you must satisfy the House with all the facts and figures to prove that Government were justified in the step they took in resorting to bombing. The facts that have been disclosed to us so far will not justify, in our opinion, the use of bombs under the particular circumstances. On these grounds, I support the motion of my friend.

Several Honourable Members : The question may now be put.

Maulvi Sayyid Murtuza Saheb Bahadur (South Madras : Muhammadan) : Sir, before offering any observations of mine on this momentous question, I wish to recite a Persian couplet which runs as follows :

" Bahar rang-e Ke Khahi Jama me poshe
Mun andaze Khadat ra me Shinasam."

When translated, it means this, " you may put on dresses of different kinds to avoid identification, but, from your very stature, I can see who you are and what you are about ".

Sir, our contention is that this bombing has been resorted to not so much to stop the harbouring of the absconders, but merely to adopt the forward policy. We have been told that some undesirables sought shelter in the tribal area, and those that gave them shelter would not come forward to make them over to the Government, when called upon to do so ; and, therefore, this inhuman action was resorted to, and, then, it was pointed out that in taking to bombing, every precaution that was humanly possible was adopted. Sir, so far as we, elected Members, are concerned, it must be said that this method was barbarous. Sir, this is not our view only, but it is also the view of the English press and of all right-thinking Englishmen, because they have all said that these methods are barbarous, outrageous and inhuman,—all these attributes have been given to the action which the Government of India have adopted recently on the Frontier towards the innocent people. It is all very easy to say that the Government of India had no other alternative but to adopt this method of bombing in order to maintain peace and order. We would ask some of the supporters of this action whether our English friends would have agreed to the adoption of the same methods if European lives were involved ? Would my friend, Mr. James, then come forward and support such an action on the part of the Government as a representative of the European Group ?

Sir, I was very much pained to hear that one of the elected Members,—and that too a Member of the Muslim community,—should have said that this should not be regarded as a Muslim question. Sir, in matters like this I do not attach much importance as to whether this is a Muslim or a non-Muslim question, but is this not an Indian question, a question in which humanity is concerned, and should it not be supported by one and all of us ? So far as the Nominated Member was concerned, though he poses himself as one who is in the know of the situation, inasmuch as he comes from the North-West Frontier Province, Sir, he, as a Nominated Member, can say anything and everything, he has free licence to express his views against his own people, but the great pity is that one of the elected Members should have tried to follow him and justified the action of the Government to a certain extent.

Major Nawab Ahmad Nawaz Khan : Does the Honourable Member say that Nominated Members have no right to express their opinions ?

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : No, Sir.

Maulvi Sayyid Murtuza Saheb Bahadur : Whatever opinions they give expression to will have the same weight as the opinions expressed by Government Members. We know, Sir, what amount of interest my friend, the Nawab Sahib, evinces in these matters. He wants to surpass even the Army Secretary. (Applause from the Nationalist Benches.) When the English press and all right-thinking Englishmen have condemned this action on the part of the Government, why are the Government of India trying to justify their action in which they cannot at all succeed ? Sir, we are perfectly justified in condemning, in censuring the action of the Government for this kind of indiscriminate, highhanded and inhuman action, for this kind of barbarity perpetrated on innocent men, women and children, for this kind of atrocity that has been committed in that part of the country. Of course, those who were to be punished for their crime, if any, could have been punished by other means, and we would not have grudged it, but the method of punishing them by bombing cannot but be highly objected to.

As regards the weakness of the case, my lawyer friend, Mr. Puri, has clearly pointed out that the advocacy of the Army Secretary supplemented by that of the Nominated Member cannot hold water for a minute. Those who have an iota of sympathy for humanity, even though they are Nominated Members, cannot but condemn the action of the Government. So, though they may say in so many words that their object was not to take to forward policy, still we can find out from their actions what their real object is. Sir, throughout the whole of India this action of the Government has been censured and condemned and in almost all important centres meetings are being held condemning the Government for this barbarous, outrageous and inhuman action. With these words, I resume my seat.

Several Honourable Members : The question may now be put.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : Though the cry is that the question be now put, I feel that on such an important occasion like this the elected Members of this House should have their say. This is not a matter which can be ignored or trifled with. The matter is very serious, though the speech of the Army Secretary tells us a different tale. First of all, he said that it was absolutely necessary on the part of the Government to take such action. In the next breath, he said that the damages were very little. However little the damages may have been, only for driving out a few people, an entire village has been bombarded ! He says that only 17 houses were damaged, but who is going to pay for these damages ? It is the Indian Exchequer who is going to pay for the hobby of the military. I say hobby, because the Government have not been able to make out any substantial case for this aerial bombardment. I may tell my Honourable friend, Mr. James, that this method of bombardment has been condemned by the Disarmament Conference. He cannot deny that ; nor can the Army Secretary. By all people this action has been condemned to be a barbarous one. I may warn the Government that if these actions are perpetrated very often and without discrimination, it will yield no good result to the administration. For driving out only a few culprits, a whole village has been bombarded. Who is to pay the compensation ? The Indian Exchequer, and, unless the Government can justify their action, the Army Secretary cannot expect any vote for their side.

[Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury.]

Several Honourable Members : Let the question be now put.

Mr. Uppi Saheb Bahadur (West Coast and Nilgiris : Muhammadan) : Mr. President, there are some links missing in the able statement of the Army Secretary who was clever enough to put such a poor case in such a masterly fashion. Sir, it was said that the " pretenders " took refuge in a certain village. It was also said that it was not our concern—we have got the statement of the highest in the country—we were not directly concerned with the movement or agitation in that part of the country as it was not directed against India. It is also conceded that it was a noble act on their part to give shelter to a refugee and to refuse to hand him over to his enemies. But what about the mighty Britisher ? You have got to consider the mighty British Government on this side ! Those people must be aware that we have got aeroplanes and bombs to throw at them ! " We asked them to hand over those men to us." But why should they be handed over to us ? Were these pretenders pretending to get anything out of the British Government ? What were they pretending to ? You did not tell us what they were pretending to or aspiring to. Government do not dare or do not like to come out with the truth of that. There is something behind all this. The Indian Government were not directly concerned, and still they have spent from our Exchequer the hard earned money that is squeezed out of our hands—we are asked to pay for something which they are not prepared to disclose to us. Now, Sir, what have the Government done ? They have bombed this village. They say that they gave previous notice to the people. I think it was Mr. James who said that bombing is fair in warfare. Whom are we at war with ? They themselves had admitted that these people were not at war with us. Then, where was the necessity for them to bomb those people ? How did they offend you ? So far, they have refused to tell us the real reason for this bombing. They have done it for somebody else. Do protect the peace of neighbour, International Obligation, humanity,—feeling for the neighbour—good words to conjure with, but it requires a little more salt for us to swallow all that. We cannot easily swallow all these things. Is it International Obligation on the part of the British Government to bomb innocent people ? Those agitators or pretenders who were responsible for all this, as soon as they got the notice, would have certainly vacated that place, and would have taken refuge in safer place, but only the innocent villagers, women and children would have remained. Therefore, you have bombed innocent villagers if you have bombed anybody. You yourselves say that it was a noble act on the part of the village to have given refuge to those men, and still you punish them for this act of nobility ! For their nobility they are punished.....

(It being Six of the Clock.)

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. The House now stands adjourned till eleven o'clock tomorrow.

The Assembly then adjourned till Eleven of the Clock on Tuesday, the 5th September, 1933.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Tuesday, 5th September, 1933.

The Assembly met in the Assembly Chamber at Eleven of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STATUS OF TEACHERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN SCHOOLS.

603. Mr. A. Das : (a) Are Government aware that on the 19th February, 1932, the United Provinces Government in reply to question No. 21 (c) by Rao Krishnapal Singh stated that the East Indian Railway Rules did so apply and " they are bound to observe them under clause 4 of their agreement " ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state why the East Indian Railway Leave Rules do not also apply to those teachers of Indian Schools who were in service prior to March 31st, 1930 ?

(c) Is it a fact that in 1931 the Headmaster of the East Indian Railway Indian High School, Asansole, was granted 6 months' leave on full pay, and 7 months' leave on half pay in continuation of the previous leave under the old East Indian Railway Leave Rules ?

(d) Is it a fact that there are several other instances of leave having been granted under the old Rules to teachers in the East Indian Railway Oakgrove and other schools ?

(e) Is it a fact that in certain cases grant of leave to teachers in other East Indian Railway Indian schools has been made contingent on ' funds being available ' ? If so, will Government be pleased to state if there is any other branch or department of the East Indian Railway or Government in which leave salary depends upon funds being available ?

(f) Is it a fact that, when the State took over the control of the East Indian Railway from the East Indian Railway Company, all old employees were given an option to choose between the old East Indian Railway Company Rules and the State Railway Rules ? If so, were the teachers of the East Indian Railway Schools given a similar choice ? If not, why not ?

(g) Is it a fact that when the new East Indian Railway Leave Rules were brought into force, another choice was given to all East Indian Railway employees ? If so, was a similar choice given to teachers of the East Indian Railway Schools as well ? If not, why not ?

(h) Are Government prepared to consider the advisability of removing all the anomalies and racial distinctions between the Headmasters and teachers of the East Indian Railway Indian Schools and the East Indian Railway Anglo-Indian School at Oakgrove in the matter of leave, passes, status and position and treat them equally in all respects in the matter of privileges ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) No.

(b) to (h). I am obtaining certain information to enable me to give a complete reply to this question and shall lay a reply on the table in due course.

STATUS OF TEACHERS OF THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY INDIAN SCHOOLS.

604. Mr. A. Das : (a) Are Government aware that in the replies to question No. 296 (b), (c) & (d) by Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad, dated the 8th February, 1933, and to question No. 319 (b), (c) & (d) by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen on the 9th February, 1933, affirming the correctness of the statements of Sir George Rainy on the 25th February, 1928, that the " schools of two of the biggest company-managed Railways have come under the direct control of the State " and on the 21st February, 1929, that the " schools are under our control ", and on the 12th September, 1929, " that the schools are the property of the East Indian Railway and the East Indian Railway belongs to the Government, and I do not think that there can be any doubt that they are Government schools in that sense ", and in the reply on behalf of Government to question No. 31 by Rao Krishnapal Singh in the United Provinces Legislative Council on the 19th February, 1933, Government have recognised that East Indian Railway Schools, including the East Indian Railway Oakgrove School for Anglo-Indians, are under the direct control of ' Central Government ', and are as such ' Government schools ' ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) above be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) whether these schools are actually treated as such in the day to day administration as well ? If not, why ? If so, are they permitted to use service stamps on their correspondence ? If not, why not ;

(ii) whether they are classified as such in Government returns ? If not, why not ;

(iii) whether the local committees attached to these schools are advisory committees like those attached to Provincial Government schools of the same standard ? If not, why not ;

(iv) whether the local managing committees attached to the East Indian Railway High Schools for Indians exercise full ' proprietory powers ' like the committees of privately owned schools ? If so, why have these bodies been vested with such extraordinary powers ;

(v) whether it is a fact that the committees attached to the East Indian Railway schools have full powers to punish, dismiss or discharge all teachers including the Headmaster ? If so, is a similar practice permissible in any other department or branch of Railway or Government service ? Are Government prepared to consider taking action to insure greater security of service to teachers in the East Indian Railway Schools ;

(vi) whether they are aware that the committees attached to the East Indian Railway schools and possessing such extraordinary powers, contain a number of low-paid lower subordinates who are far inferior in education, status or salary to Headmasters and teachers whose destinies they actually control and govern ? What action do Government propose to take to bring these committees into line with the committees attached to Provincial Government schools ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) This question is practically identical with part (a) of question No. 274 to which I have already replied.

(b) It does not follow that the internal Administration of these schools should follow in every particular the internal administration of Provincial Schools. Government have no information on the various points of detail raised by the Honourable Member which are for the Local Administration to decide. A copy of these questions is being sent to the Agent.

COLLECTION OF INFORMATION re POLITICAL OUTLOOK OF MILITARY TENDERERS.

605. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Are Government aware that the military authorities have asked for confidential information from the local authorities regarding the political outlook of some of the tenderers for buying agencies of grains and management of grain depots ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to lay a copy of these communications on the table of this House ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) It is the normal practice to make full enquiries about the status and reliability of all prospective contractors and not only about their political outlook.

(b) Government are not prepared to lay on the table copies of the confidential communications to which the Honourable Member refers.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I know if views on political outlook were called for from Messrs. Owen Roberts and Co. also ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I am not certain if that was the case.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I take it that the political outlook of a contractor is a determining factor in giving the contracts ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I can assure the Honourable Member that the military authorities are quite indifferent to the political views of their contractors so long as they are satisfied that they are not engaged in definitely subversive activities.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I know then why the political views are called for ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : So as to make sure, as I said, that they are not engaged in subversive activities.

DILAPIDATED CONDITION OF THE BUILDING OCCUPIED BY THE INDIAN STORES DEPARTMENT.

606. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Are Government aware that the building occupied by the Indian Stores Department in Simla is in a very dilapidated condition and some time back was altogether condemned for occupation ?

(b) How much cubic feet space is by rule allotted to a clerk in a room and is that rule observed in accommodating the clerical establishment of the Indian Stores Department in Simla ?

(c) Is it a fact that even verandahs are used for accommodating the establishment of the Indian Stores Department ?

(d) Is it a fact that last year the clerical establishment was informed that they would not move between Simla and Delhi and that they would be located permanently at New Delhi ?

(e) Are Government aware that consequent on those orders some of the clerks had taken down their complete household effects to New Delhi ?

(f) Is it a fact that later on they moved up to Simla and had to bring up all the luggage ?

(g) Do Government now propose to locate the Indian Stores Department at New Delhi permanently from next year ? If not, what are the difficulties ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : (a) This is true of one of the two buildings occupied by the Indian Stores Department.

(b) The space usually allotted is 40 square feet and this rule is observed for the Indian Stores Department in Simla as far as possible within the limits of the accommodation available.

(c) Glazed verandahs are so used and they are better lighted than some of the rooms.

(d) The staff was informed in October, 1931, that the Indian Stores Department would remain in Delhi in the following hot weather. This instruction was cancelled in February, 1932.

(e) and (f). Government have received no representations on the subject.

(g) Government have not yet reached a decision in the matter.

Mr. B. Das : Is it not a fact that the Stores Retrenchment Committee recommended that there should be no Simla exodus for the clerks of the Stores Department ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : I am quite prepared to accept it from the Honourable Member. I have no recollection of this.

M. B. Das : Have the Government accepted that recommendation of the Stores Retrenchment Committee ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : I would refer the Honourable Member to the answer to part (g) of the question.

LOCATION OF SOME ATTACHED OFFICES IN NEW DELHI.

607. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Which of the Government of India and attached offices are located at Simla in the rented buildings and how much amount does each of the offices spend annually on this account ?

(b) Have Government considered in the interest of economy whether some of the attached offices, at least, should be located permanently at New Delhi, in order to avoid renting of the buildings in Simla ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) A statement giving the information desired by the Honourable Member is placed on the table.

(b) The Government considered this question in connection with a proposal of the Retrenchment Committee and have reached no decision beyond that stated on page 23 of the Summary of the Results of Retrenchment Operations in Civil Expenditure, copies of which are in the Library.

Statement.

Name of office located at Simla in rented building.	Amount of rent paid annually.
	Rs.
Imperial Council of Agricultural Research Department	4,380 (rent for the first year was Rs. 4,720).
Reforms Office	2,600
Record room of the Army Department	800
No. 6, Drawing Office of the Frontier Circle, Survey of India.	4,000 for 1933 (In previous years Rs. 3,500 was paid as rent).

BENGAL STATE PRISONERS DETAINED IN JAILS OF THE MADRAS PRESIDENCY.

608. Mr. Bhuput Sing : Will Government be pleased to state whether the following Bengal State Prisoners are at present detained in the jails of the Madras Presidency and when were they transferred from Bengal ?

Sjts. Pratu Chandra Ganguly, Trailokya Nath Chakravarty, Ramesh Chandra Acharyya, Rabindra Mohan Sen-Gupta, Surendra Mohan Ghosh, Jihanlal Chatterjee, Benoyendra Nath Roy Chaudhary, and Pratul Chandra Bhattacharya.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The answer to the first part is in the affirmative. The State Prisoners were transferred to Madras about the end of November, 1931.

DIET ALLOWANCE OF CERTAIN BENGAL STATE PRISONERS DETAINED IN JAILS IN THE MADRAS PRESIDENCY.

609. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Is it a fact that the above mentioned State Prisoners used to get Rs. 2 per diem per head as diet allowance at the Buxa Detention Camp before being transferred to the Madras Presidency ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Bengal State Prisoners detained in the jails of the Madras Presidency used to get Rs. 2 per head per diem as diet allowance in 1926-27 ?

(c) Is it a fact that the Superintendents, District Collectors and non-official visitors of the central jails at Cannanore and Trichinopoly did recommend Rs. 2 per diem per head to be paid to the Bengal State Prisoners at present detained in the jails of the Madras Presidency ?

(d) Is it a fact that in spite of the recommendation of the District Collectors and official and non-official visitors of certain jails in the Madras Presidency the Government have sanctioned Rs. 1-4-0 only per diem for the State Prisoners at present detained in Madras jails ? If so, why have the recommendations of those officials and non-officials been ignored ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state the principles which guide the Government in fixing the allowances of State Prisoners detained in the jails of provinces other than Bengal ?

(f) Do Government propose to accept the recommendations of the District Collector, Superintendents of Jails and other non-official visitors of the Madras jails and sanction Rs. 2 per head per diem as recommended by the Superintendents of Jails, District Collectors and non-official visitors ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) The scale of allowances in Bengal varied from Rs. 1-6-0 to Rs. 2 a day, but was subsequently reduced to Re. 1 to 1-10-0.

(b) The scale then ranged from Rs. 1-6-0 to Rs. 2.

(c), (d) and (e). I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply given by me to Mr. Mitra's question No. 257 on the 8th February, 1933.

(f) Does not arise.

PROVISION OF ELECTRIC FANS FOR STATE PRISONERS AND DETENUS IN THE TRICHINOPOLY JAIL.

610. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Is it a fact that the Honourable the Home Member did assure the Members of this House that, when necessary, fans would be provided to the State Prisoners and detenus ? Is it a fact that Trichinopoly is a very hot place ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Bengal State Prisoners, detained in the Trichinopoly central jail, requested Government to pay only for the cost of electric energy, which has been refused ?

(c) Is it also a fact that permission has been refused for the purchase of electric fans by the State Prisoners at their own cost, though there is electric installation in all the blocks of the Trichinopoly jail ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) The assurance given in this House to which the Honourable Member refers was with reference to the provision of punkhas for the Bengal detenus confined in the Deoli Detention Jail.

(b) and (c). The question referred to is under consideration.

SPORTS ALLOWANCE FOR BENGAL STATE PRISONERS IN JAILS OF THE MADRAS PRESIDENCY.

611. Mr. Bhuput Sing : Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) whether any sports allowance has been sanctioned for the Bengal State Prisoners in jails of the Madras Presidency ;

(ii) if so, what is the amount sanctioned for it ;

(iii) what is the annual recurring grant for the purpose ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (i) Yes.

(ii) Rs. 50 per head.

(iii) No recurring expenditure has been fixed, but applications for such expenditure are considered on merits.

STATE PRISONERS AND DETENUS IN JAILS.

612. Mr. Bhuput Sing : Will Government be pleased to state (i) the number of State Prisoners under Regulation III of 1818, and (ii) the number of detenus under the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act at present detained in various jails of each of the different provinces ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I would refer the Honourable Member to my reply to part (a) of Mr S. C. Mitra's question No. 3 on the 22nd August, 1933.

STATE PRISONERS INTERNED IN VILLAGES AND DETENUS IN THE DEOLI DETENTION CAMP.

613. Mr. Bhuput Sing : Will Government be pleased to state separately the number of State Prisoners (i) interned in the villages, and (ii) the number of detenus detained in the Deoli Detention jail (Ajmere-Merwara) ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (i) 196.

(ii) 192.

BENGALIS DETAINED WITHOUT TRIAL IN BURMA JAILS UNDER THE BURMA ORDINANCE.

614. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of Bengalis detained without trial in Burma jails under the Burma Ordinance in connection with the recent revolutionary activities stating their names and the condition of their present health ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the number of persons (i) shot dead, (ii) convicted, and (iii) executed, in connection with the Burma rebellion, and how many of them were Indians in each of the three categories ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Eight Bengalis have been detained under the Burma Criminal Law Amendment Act. I understand that all are in good health.

(b) (i). There is no record of the precise number.

(ii) The total is not yet known as all trials have not been completed. 1,138 convictions have been reviewed by the Local Government with a view to exercising clemency where possible.

(iii) 113.

No Indians are included in the above categories.

RECRUITMENT OF STAFF ON DAILY WAGES BASIS IN THE CENTRAL PUBLICATION BRANCH.

615. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) how many cases of reported illness have occurred amongst the staff of the Central Publication Branch in the course of the last six months ;

(ii) what are the kinds of maladies ;

(iii) how many officers have gone on leave on medical grounds in the course of the last six months ?

(b) What is the total strength of the staff of the Central Publication Branch ?

(c) Is it a fact that a large number of men have been recruited at Delhi by the Central Publication Branch on daily wages basis ? If so, will Government be pleased to state :

(i) What is the total number of such temporary men ;

(ii) How long they have been serving ;

(iii) What are their respective qualifications ;

(iv) How many of them are doing desk work ;

(v) What are the rates of wages per diem paid to each of them ;

(vi) What is the total monthly expenditure incurred in maintaining this temporary establishment on daily rates and for how many months have they been under employment continuously from day to day ;

(vii) What is the total expenditure incurred up till now during the current financial year ;

(viii) What is the amount spent in payment of daily wages of temporary men employed during the months of December, 1932, and January to March, 1933, at daily rate basis ;

(ix) The head of the budget grant of the office from which their wages are being met during the current financial year ;

(x) What is the annual budget allotment under that head ;

(xi) Whether the expenditure on account of maintaining these men is likely to exceed the budget allotment ? If so, how is it proposed to meet the excess expenditure ;

(xii) What are the reasons for the maintenance of such daily wages men ;

(xiii) How many of such daily wages men were recommended to the then officiating Manager of the Central Publication Branch by the then officiating Deputy Controller of Printing and Stationery, Mr. C. V. d'Eca ;

(xiv) Whether the daily wages temporary men are being recommended by the present Manager for higher grade posts of the office to the exclusion of senior hands ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : (a) (i). 112.

(ii) Various ailments : I can show the Honourable Member a list if he so desires.

(iii) 24.

(b) 154.

(c) Yes.

(i) 91.

(ii) and (vi). Various terms commencing from November, 1932. The average monthly expenditure is Rs. 1,930.

(iii) Matriculates, under-graduates and men with previous secretariat experience.

(iv) 35 approximately.

(v) Varying between As. 8 and Re. 1.

(vii) Rs. 7,683.

(viii) For December, 1932 .. .. .. Rs. 1,799
For January, 1933 .. .. .. Rs. 2,095
For February, 1933 .. .. .. Rs. 2,180
For March, 1933 .. .. .. Rs. 2,511

(ix) E.6.-Contingencies—Office Expenses and Miscellaneous.

(x) Rs. 18,500 during the current financial year.

(xi) I have no reason for supposing that the budget allotment will be exceeded on this account.

(xii) To enable the arrears to be overtaken expeditiously.

(xiii) Government have no information.

(xiv) Men who have proved themselves qualified and capable have been recommended for promotion.

GRIEVANCES OF THE STAFF OF THE CENTRAL PUBLICATION BRANCH.

616. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Is it a fact that the Controller of Printing and Stationery inspected the office of the Central Publication Branch at Delhi almost every day during the months of May and June last. If so, what was the report of such inspection ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Controller has advised the present Manager to devise means for the elimination of the Bengali element of the staff ? If so, what are the reasons for such remarks ?

(c) Are Government aware that the staff have been extremely panic-stricken ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ?

(d) Are Government aware that the present Manager of the Central Publication Branch has got an antipathy for the Bengali staff employed there ? If so, why ?

(e) Is it a fact that the Manager of the Publication Branch has issued a circular to his staff regarding ventilation of grievances relating to allotment of quarters ? If so, is it a fact that the Manager has threatened therein the staff with disciplinary action in the event of ventilation of grievances direct to the Government of India ? Do Government propose to place a copy of that circular on the table of this House ? If not, why not ?

(f) Is it a fact that the Manager has remarked in the said circular that direct representation to Government regarding quarters is a "master-stroke of stupidity" ?

(g) Are Government aware of the circumstances that forced the staff to send direct representation to them ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : (a) Yes. The report disclosed the need of a much higher standard of efficiency in the Branch.

(b) and (d). The answer to the first parts is in the negative ; the second parts do not arise.

(c), (e) and (g). Certain telegrams purporting to come from the staff suggest that the senders were in a somewhat hysterical frame of mind. In view of this Government do not propose to take any action on this occasion, but the staff have been warned by the Manager that action will be taken against those who act in this manner in future. Government do not propose to lay a copy of the note containing this order on the table, as office notes are confidential.

(f) I am informed that this phrase was not used.

GUNNY BAGS AND PACKING CASES PURCHASED BY THE CENTRAL PUBLICATION BRANCH.

617. Mr. Bhuput Sing : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement showing :

(i) the number of gunny bags and packing boxes purchased by the Central Publication Branch on the eve of the transfer of that office to Delhi ;

(ii) the number of the above now available in stock ;

(iii) the total cost of such articles purchased ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : (i) 4,000 gunny bags and 350 boxes.

(ii) 3,000 gunny bags are in stock in the Central Publication Branch, and the boxes are in use there.

(iii) Rs. 3,027.

COST OF PRODUCTION OF PUBLICATIONS SOLD AS WASTE PAPER ON THE TRANSFER OF THE CENTRAL PUBLICATION BRANCH TO DELHI.

618. Mr. Bhuput Sing : Will Government be pleased to state the total approximate cost of production of the various Government of India publications that were sold as waste paper on the eve of the move of the Central Publication Branch from Calcutta ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : The information has been called for and will be placed on the table of the House in due course.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION EXAMINATION FOR THE SECRETARIAT.

619. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of candidates who passed the Public Service Commission test for the Second Division of the Secretariat since 1920 ? How many of these are not provided for permanently in that Division ?

(b) Is it a fact that a competitive examination for recruitment to the First and Second Divisions of the Secretariat was held in 1926 by the Public Service Commission and if so, have all those who were successful been permanently provided for in their respective grades ? If not, why were the subsequent examinations held ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) I would invite the Honourable Member's attention to the reply I am going to give to part (a) of his question No. 622.

(b) A competitive examination was held in 1926 for a specified number of vacancies in each of the three Divisions, which did not materialize in full. I understand that some of the candidates who qualified at this examination have not yet secured permanent employment in the Divisions for which they are qualified. As regards the last part of this question I would invite attention to the reply given by Sir James Crerar to parts (d) and (e) of Mr. B. N. Misra's question No. 783 on the 23rd September, 1931, and to my reply to parts (c) and (d) of Mr. S. C. Mitra's question No. 403 on the 21st February, 1933.

PROMOTION OF SECOND DIVISION CLERKS IN CERTAIN ATTACHED OFFICES.

620. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Is it a fact that the Home Department issued a circular No. F.-94|30-Ests., dated 18th February, 1931, to the various departments to the effect that " in order to meet difficulties of a temporary nature, which arise mainly from the fact that candidates who qualified at previous examinations have not yet been permanently absorbed in the Division for which they are qualified, it was decided that men who competed for the Second Division of the Secretariat but were working in the various Attached and Subordinate offices, could be promoted to 23-1|3 per cent. of the Upper Division vacancies occurring in their respective offices " ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the number of such promotions made in the following offices :

(i) Public Service Commission,

(ii) Indian Stores Department,

(iii) Director-General, Indian Medical Service ?

How many of these promoted men have since been confirmed and how many are working on an officiating or temporary basis ?

(b) Is it a fact that Government contemplate introducing a revised scale of pay and allowances for the Secretariat and its attached and subordinate offices located at Simla|Delhi ?

(c) Is it also a fact that the committee appointed for this purpose has recommended reduction in the number of Upper Division posts in most of the Attached and Subordinate Offices ?

(d) Are Government aware that the introduction of any such proposal without adequate safeguards for the interests of the 'promoted' Second Division men mentioned in part (a) above is likely to take off the vacancies which are at present held by them and leave only a remote chance of their re-promotion to the Upper Division ?

(e) Do Government propose to order that in the event of the revised scales of pay and allowances being introduced, it will not affect adversely in any way those men who are at present employed whether in a temporary or officiating capacity in the various Attached and Subordinate Offices under the Home Department circular referred to in part (a) above ? Are Government prepared to direct that notwithstanding any reduction or abolition in the number of Upper Division posts in the Attached and Subordinate Offices, such 'defunct' posts should be treated as 'existing vacancies' for the purpose of securing ultimate permanent absorption of such 'promoted' Assistants ?

(f) Are Government aware that in 1926 a notice was published in the various newspapers, etc., announcing the holding of the competitive examination for recruitment to First and Second Divisions and no condition was stipulated that the scales of pay published therein would be subject to retrenchment or revision ?

(g) Is it a fact that the Home Department circular referred to above provided for preference to those candidates who competed in the 1926 examination ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state in how many cases such preference was actually given in the following offices in promoting the Second Division passed men to the Upper Division :

(i) Public Service Commission,

(ii) Indian Stores Department,

(iii) Director-General, Indian Medical Service,

(iv) Master-General of the Ordnance, Army Headquarters ?

(i) Will Government be pleased to state if it was the intention of the Home Department circular referred to that preference should also be given to those men who passed in the Second Division of the Secretariat but were eligible for promotion to the Upper Division of the attached and subordinate offices under that circular ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) and (h). As regards the first portion of part (a), I may mention that 33 1|3 per cent. of the First Division vacancies in Attached Offices are reserved for the promotion of all classes of Routine Division clerks in Attached Offices, whether qualified for the Second Division of the Secretariat proper or not—vide paragraph 3 (IV) of the Office Memorandum referred to, a copy of which is available in the Library. The information asked for in the latter portion of part (a) and in part (h) is contained in a statement I lay on the table.

(b) Yes, in common with other services under the control of the Governor General in Council.

(c) Yes. This was the recommendation of a Departmental Conference, and not a Committee.

(d) and (e). The question of safeguarding the interests of men in Attached Offices now in service as a result of the introduction of the new scales of pay and the reduction in the number of Upper Division posts in Attached Offices is under examination.

(f) No such stipulation was made because there was then no question of revising the scales of pay.

(g) Yes, vide paragraph 3 (II) (b) of the Memorandum referred to in my reply to part (a) of the question.

(i) No.

Statement.

Statement showing (1) the number of promoted Second Division clerks who have been confirmed in the First Division, (2) the number who are working in an officiating or temporary basis in that Division and (3) the number of cases in which preference was given to 1926 candidates in certain Attached Offices.

(i) Public Service Commission	(1) Four (officiating) promotions have been made since 18th February 1931.
	(2) None has been confirmed. One man is at present officiating in the First Division.
	(3) In no case was preference given to a 1926 candidate, but of the men who officiated in the First Division 2 passed the Second Division Examination in 1926.
(ii) Indian Stores Department	(1) Three men were promoted in temporary substantive vacancies and 5 men against officiating vacancies in the First Division since 18th February 1931.
	(2) None has so far been confirmed. Five men are at present officiating or temporary in the First Division.
	(3) In no case was preference given to a 1926 candidate. Of the candidates promoted one was a 1926 man who was selected according to his position in the gradation list of the office.
(iii) Director-General, Indian Medical Service	(1) Five officiating promotions have been made since 18th February 1931.
	(2) One man has been confirmed and one is at present officiating in the First Division.
	(3) In no case was preference given to 1926 candidates.
(iv) Master General of the Ordnance Branch ..	There being no Second Division clerks in the Branch who competed in the 1926 examination, the question of granting preference does not arise.

EMPLOYMENT OF MEN WHO PASSED THE SECOND DIVISION SECRETARIAT EXAMINATION IN CERTAIN ATTACHED OFFICES.

621. Mr. Bhuput Sing : Will Government be pleased to state how many of the men who passed the Second Division Secretariat examination in 1926 are at present employed in the following offices :

(i) Public Service Commission,

(ii) Indian Stores Department,

(iii) Director-General, Indian Medical Service,

(iv) Master-General of the Ordnance, Army Headquarters ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : There are three such men in the office of the Public Service Commission, four in the Indian Stores Department (Headquarters Office), one in the office of the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, and three in the Master-General of Ordnance Branch, Army Headquarters.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION EXAMINATION FOR THE SECOND DIVISION OF THE SECRETARIAT.

622. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement giving the following information year by year from 1920 to date :

(i) number of men qualified or passed for the Second Division of the Secretariat ;

(ii) number of men who were provided for permanently in the Second Division of the Secretariat in the year of their passing and the number of unprovided men left over at the end of each year ;

(iii) total number of men passed for the Second Division of the Secretariat but not provided for permanently in that Division up to date ;

(iv) the amount of examination fee collected each year ?

(b) If the answer to part (a) above shows that there are still candidates unprovided for in their respective grades, do Government propose to consider the question of granting an extension to the initial period of three years for which the Home Department circular referred to was designed to operate ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) (i) and (iv). Information regarding the number of candidates who passed the prescribed test for employment in the Second Division of the Secretariat in the years 1920 to 1925 is not readily available and I do not propose to collect it. I lay on the table a statement showing the number of candidates who qualified for the Second Division Secretariat, at examinations held by the Public Service Commission since 1926, and the amount of fees realized from the Ministerial Service examinations since 1920.

(a) (ii) and (iii). The information is not readily available and I regret that I cannot undertake to collect it.

(b) Government are considering the matter.

Statement showing the number of candidates who qualified for the Second Division Secretariat, at examinations held by the Public Service Commission since 1926.

Year in which the examination was held.	No. of candidates qualified.
1926	58
1929	31
1931	The examination was competitive. On its results, 6 candidates secured appointments in the Secretariat and 6 in Attached Offices.
1933	The examination was competitive. The results have not yet been declared.

Statement showing the amount of fees realised from the Ministerial Service examinations held since 1920.

Year in which examination was held.	Amount of fees realised.
	Rs.
1920	3,428 (Approximately).
1922	16,392/2
1924	6,670
1925	9,250
1926	15,100
1929	Nil.
1931	17,880
1933	26,580

SAFETY OF THE INMATES OF THE 'D' AND 'C' TYPE QUARTERS IN NEW DELHI.

623. Mr. Bhuput Sing : (a) Is it a fact that in the 'D' and 'C' class quarters in New Delhi, there is a pathway adjoining the front corridor and that there is a similar road provided at the back of such quarters ?

(b) Is it also a fact that there is at present no restriction to the use of the front pathway for vehicular traffic ? If so, are Government prepared to direct that the pathway in the front of such quarters should not be used for vehicular traffic ? Do Government realize that such practice involves serious risk of personal injury, especially to children who may come out of the quarters ?

(c) Are Government aware that in most of the lawns adjacent to the 'D' and 'C' type quarters referred to, hazardous games like cricket and foot-ball are at present played ? If so, are Government prepared to take steps to put a stop to such hazardous games ? Do Government realize that such games expose the tenants of the adjoining quarters to risks of serious personal injury, especially to children ? Do Government propose to direct that no games except those that require only a limited area, e.g., volley-ball or badminton, will be permitted in such lawns ? If not, are Government prepared to ascertain the views of the tenants of the 'D' and 'C' class quarters in this matter and take steps to protect the tenants from accidents or risks of physical injury to which they are at present exposed ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : (a) Yes, there is a pathway adjoining the front corridor, and there is a service road at the back of the quarters, the metalled portion of which does not adjoin the quarters, while in most cases there is a drain between them.

(b) There is no restriction on the use of the front pathway, but in practice it is used only by the tenants or their visitors.

(c) No cases in which organised games of hockey, cricket, or football have been played on the lawns adjacent to the quarters have been brought to notice. Badminton and Volley-Ball are the only two games generally played by the tenants on the lawns. The other parts of the question do not arise.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE JUDGES OF HIGH COURTS AND CHIEF COURTS.

624. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: Will Government be pleased to state:

(i) the number of High Court Judges, permanent and temporary (separately) in each of the High Courts and Chief Courts; and (ii) the communal composition of the judges of the High Courts and Chief Courts?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig: (i) and (ii). I lay on the table a statement giving the information.

Statement showing the present strength of High Courts and the Chief Court, Oudh, and the communal composition of the Judges.

Strength.	Muslims.	Hindus.	Indian Christians.	Europeans.	Others.
		HIGH COURTS.
Madras.
14 permanent Judges ..	..	6	..	8	..
Bombay.
10 permanent and 1 Additional Judges.	1	3	..	6	1 Parsi.
Calcutta.
15 permanent and 3 Additional Judges.	1	8	..	9	..
Allahabad.
9 permanent and 3 Additional Judges.	3	3	..	6	..
Lahore.
9 permanent and 3 Additional Judges.	2	3	1	6	..
Patna.
9 permanent and 1 Additional Judges.	2	2	1	5	..
Rangoon.
11 permanent Judges ..	..	2	..	7	2 Burmans.
		CHIEF COURT.
Oudh.
5 permanent Judges... ..	2	1	..	1	1 Parsi.
Total ..	11	28	2	48	4.

INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF MUSLIM JUDGES IN THE CALCUTTA HIGH COURT.

625. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: (a) Is it a fact that the Calcutta High Court in a way, is under the control of the Central Government?

(b) Is it a fact that men of one province may be appointed as judges of the High Court in another province?

(c) How many judges have been appointed in the Calcutta High Court during the last ten years and how many of them were Muslims?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state the action they have taken or they propose to take for increasing the number of Muslim judges in the Calcutta High Court?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig: (a) The Calcutta High Court is under the administrative control of the Government of India.

(b) There is nothing to prevent such appointments.

(c) During the period 1921-1930, 17 permanent Judges were appointed of whom one was a Muslim. During 1931 and 1932, three permanent Judges were appointed of whom one was a Muslim.

(d) I would refer my Honourable friend to the answer given by my predecessor to part (c) of Mr. Uppi Saheb Bahadur's question No. 1077, in this House on the 23rd March, 1931.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: Do Government admit the principle of appointing Judges of the High Court on communal lines?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig: No, Sir. That principle has not been accepted.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: May I ask, Sir, what was the recommendation of the Government to the Joint Parliamentary Committee about the position of the Calcutta High Court? Will it be on the same footing as other High Courts in other provinces or will it continue to have some differential treatment?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig: I answered that question yesterday. I said that the matter was under the consideration of His Majesty's Government and that I was not in a position to disclose the recommendations of the Government of India.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: Do they propose that in future the Calcutta High Court shall be on the same footing as the other High Courts?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig: I am afraid my answer must be the same.

FIRMS MANUFACTURING PLAYING CARDS IN INDIA.

626. Mr. S. C. Mitra: (a) Are Government aware that playing cards are being manufactured in India? If not, do they propose to enquire and state how many manufacturing concerns of playing cards have been started in India?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the total cost of the playing cards imported into India during each of the last three financial years?

(c) Is it a fact that the import duty on playing cards is 50 per cent. ad valorem and the duty on the imported card-boards, from which such playing cards are made in India, is about 30 per cent. ad valorem ?

(d) Are Government aware that the difference of 20 per cent. duty between the raw material and the finished product is not giving the desired impetus to the playing card manufacturing in India ?

(e) Are Government aware that the Japanese playing cards are being dumped into India, affecting this infant industry of the manufacture of playing cards in India ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter and take proper measures to counteract the dumping into India of playing cards from other countries ?

(f) Do Government propose to raise the duty on imported cards to 75 per cent. ad valorem ? If not, why not ?

(g) Do Government propose to enquire as to the amount of capital invested in this industry throughout the whole of India ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) Yes.

(b) The information required by the Honourable Member is contained in Volume I of the Annual Statement of the Sea-borne Trade of British India, copies of which are in the Library.

(c) The import duty on playing cards is—

	Per cent. ad valorem.
Standard rate	50
Preferential rate for the United Kingdom ..	40

and that on card-board is—

Standard rate	30
Preferential rate for the United Kingdom ..	20

(d) It is not the case, as the Honourable Member appears to suggest that the duty on playing cards has been fixed at its present level with a view to giving protection to the local industry.

(e) and (f). Government have received representations from certain playing cards manufacturers in India asking for protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1933, and these representations are now receiving consideration.

(g) Government have made enquiries as to the amount of capital invested in the industry.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I ask, Sir, by what time the result of the inquiry will be known ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I do not exactly know to what my Honourable friend refers. If he is referring to the action to be taken, I think I made the position fairly clear during the last two or three days. I pointed out that an investigation was being undertaken into the case of all those industries that have applied for protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, but that we could not take immediate action pending the negotiations with Japan.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Are Government aware that this is a newly started industry and, therefore, it requires better treatment than the older industries ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I do not know what my Honourable friend means by saying that this industry requires better treatment, but I am sure that my Honourable friend realises that if it is the case that an industry requires definite protection, it should make an application, and if Government consider that there are primâ facie grounds for going into that application, they will refer it to the Tariff Board.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Would it not be too late if the matter is referred to the Tariff Board after the negotiations with Japan have been completed ? Steps should be taken before the negotiations.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Not at all. The negotiations will have no effect as far as I can see upon our policy of discriminating protection.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it not possible to send these applications to the Tariff Board at once so that the matter may be considered by the Government of India just after the discussion with the Japanese delegation ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The applications at the present moment are for action under the Safeguarding of Industries Act and, with reference to these particular applications, a very careful examination is being made in regard to each industry, so that we may be provided with data to enable us to conduct negotiations with Japan in respect of these industries.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Did the Honourable Member say just now that in this particular case reference will be made to the Tariff Board ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : No. I did not. I said in this particular case an application had been made under the Safeguarding of Industries Act and that the Government were carrying out a very careful examination of the case to enable them to be in possession of data to help them in the negotiations with Japan.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : While the grass grows, the steed starves.

NOMINATION OF THE INDIAN ARMY SOLDIERS TO THE INDIAN MILITARY ACADEMY, DEHRA DUN.

627. Mr. S. C. Mitra : With reference to the communiqué issued by the Government of India, Army Department, dated the 12th July, 1933, regarding the nomination of the Indian Army soldiers to the Indian Military Academy, Dehra Dun, will Government please state the following :

(i) how many of the nominated soldiers include the 'Y' cadets and what are their names ;

(ii) how many of these 'Y' cadets are those who were enlisted by the Army Headquarters on the recommendation of the Army Interview Board in 1931, and what are their names and academic qualifications ;

(iii) how many of the nominated 'Y' cadets are those who were recruited by the Army Headquarters after the recommendations of the Army Interview Board in 1931 ;

(iv) how much service each of the soldiers and the 'Y' cadets, respectively had put in the Army before his nomination, and what are his educational and other qualifications ;

(v) how and by whom was each of the soldiers (other than 'Y' cadets) recruited ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : On the assumption that by 'Y' cadets the Honourable Member means those gentlemen who were offered special terms of enlistment in 1930 and 1931, the answers to the various parts of the question are as follows :

(i) Four, Jemadar Kashinath Shriram Moghe, Jemadar Bakhtiar Mohammad Khan Rana, Jemadar Abdul Aziz and Lance Dafadar Gurkipal Singh.

(ii) One, Lance Dafadar Gurkipal Singh. The remaining three were enlisted under special terms in 1930. The qualification required of all Indian Army Cadets is the possession of the Indian Army Special Certificate of Education.

(iii) None.

(iv) I lay a statement on the table giving the information desired by the Honourable Member. The qualification in each case is the possession of the Indian Army Special Certificate of Education.

(v) In the ordinary way, that is, by the Recruiting Officer or the Unit Commander.

Statement showing the service of certain soldiers and the 'Y' Cadets.

Name.	Service.
	Years.	Months.
Jemadar Kashinath Shriram Moghe	2	9
Jemadar Bakhtiar Mohd. Khan Rana	2	10
Jemadar Abdul Aziz	2	4
L./Dafadar Gurkipal Singh	1	10
Others.
L./Dafadar Abid Ali Akbar Khan	2	5
L./Dafadar Parduman Singh	3	2
L./Naik Sawal Khan	1	11
	(plus 5½ years non-enrolled).
Jemadar Fateh Khan	4	2
L./Naik Rahim Ullah	1	8
Naik Ghulam Dastgir Khan	1	9
L./Naik Mohd. Muzaffar Khan	3	3
L./Naik Balbir Singh	2	1
Naik Gurbans Singh	7	0
L./Naik Parbhu Singh	4	0
Havildar Shambhoo Sahai Sharma	*1	8
Jemadar Damodar Narhar Thakur	*7	7

*I. T. F. Service.

NOMINATION OF THE INDIAN ARMY SOLDIERS TO THE INDIAN MILITARY ACADEMY, DEHRA DUN.

628. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether at the time of sending up recommendations by the Officers Commanding of respective regiments any 'Y' cadet was working in any regiment from which the soldiers were sent up for nomination to the Indian Military Academy, Dehra Dun ?

(b) Is it a fact that a 'Y' cadet was working in a regiment and his name was not recommended ? If so, will Government please state the reason for doing so and for recommending a soldier in preference to a 'Y' cadet ?

(c) Are Government aware that almost every one of the 'Y' cadets has put in sufficient service to make him eligible for nomination, and he is not recommended for nomination because he is not going to be over age, while that recruited long afterwards by the Officer Commanding directly is recommended for nomination as he would become over age ?

(d) Are Government aware that there is a general discontentment among the parents of 'Y' cadets and the cadets themselves that the Officers Commanding of the regiments recommend those who have been recruited by them directly on the same terms as the 'Y' cadets and keep back those 'Y' cadets who were enlisted by the Army Headquarters in 1931 and after ?

(e) Do Government propose to reserve at least 80 per cent. of the nominations for those 'Y' cadets who were recruited by the Army Headquarters until all of them are absorbed ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) Yes.

(b) The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. Presumably the Commanding Officer was satisfied that the ordinary soldier had a better claim than the so-called 'Y' cadet.

(c) Certainly not, Sir. Indian Army Cadets are selected entirely on their merits and it is only where the merits of two candidates are equal that the older of the two would be given preference.

(d) I must protest against the insinuation in this question that Commanding Officers are biassed against the so-called 'Y' cadets. They have been sending careful, sympathetic and quite unprejudiced reports about these young men. I have no reason to believe that the young men themselves are or have any reason to be discontented, but if they are, it is always open to them to leave the Army.

(e) No. The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the answer which I gave on the 30th August, 1933, to part (g) of starred question No. 179.

Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar : What is the definition of 'Y' cadet.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : As I attempted to explain the other day, 'Y' cadet is the term used in this country and applied to certain young men who went in for the open competitive examination for the Army, but failed to secure sufficiently high marks to get a place and were then given the opportunity of getting into the Army by entering some regiment or other as sepoys and, thereafter, running their chance of securing cadetships at the Indian Military Academy as Indian Army cadets.

CONSTRUCTION OF QUARTERS IN NEW DELHI.

629. *Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that the Government of India have sanctioned the construction of about 600 quarters in New Delhi for the clerical establishment of the Secretariat and its Attached Offices ?

(b) How many quarters of each type are to be built and at what sites ?

(c) Is it a fact that tenders have already been received by the Chief Engineer, Delhi, for the works to be started in New Delhi ?

(d) Is it a fact that these tenders were called for without giving the specifications of the works ?

(e) Are Government aware that the tenants by their past experience feel that the 'D', 'C' and other types of the orthodox quarters of clerks are most unsuitable for occupation in summer ?

(f) Is it a fact that the tenants have on many occasions approached Government through their Associations for many alterations and changes in these quarters ?

(g) Do Government propose to ascertain through the Imperial Secretariat Association and other Service Associations what improvements or changes are required in 'D', 'C' and other types of orthodox quarters and then build the new quarters ? If not, why not ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state whether any new quarters are being constructed at a site which has been used and reserved as dumping ground or in its close proximity ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : (a), (b), and (c) to (h). The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to Mr. Bhuput Sing's question No. 133 on the 29th of last month.

(c) Yes.

(d) No. Full information with regard to the specifications of the works proposed was available in the Central Public Works Department for the tenderers and the position in this respect was explained in the notices calling for tenders.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : May I ask, how many of these quarters will be vacated every hot weather ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : It depends upon the number of men staying in Delhi ?

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Has that not been settled yet ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : No, not with respect to certain offices.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : A certain number of these offices are vacated during the hot season.

Mr. A. G. Clow : It is probable that certain quarters will be left vacant in Delhi, but I cannot say definitely which particular quarters.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Have not Government taken into consideration the waste of money in building these quarters if they are going to be occupied only for four or five months ?

Mr. A. G. Clow : That is a question which might be addressed to the Honourable the Finance Member.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : But the Honourable Member in charge of Industries and Labour initiates the proposal, is it not so ?

Mr. A. Das : Is it under the consideration of Government that there should be no exodus to Simla next year in view of the new quarters being built in Delhi ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I am not aware of any proposal in the terms stated by the Honourable Member.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does the Honourable Member know that newspapers have been publishing that there would be no exodus ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Papers are not always correct.

Mr. A. Das : Does the Honourable Member know that it has been published in the papers that the proposal is under consideration of His Excellency the Viceroy ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I am not very familiar with the case, but, as far as I know, the primary point to be decided in accordance with the recommendations of the Retrenchment Committee is whether certain Attached Offices, as a first step, should be left permanently in Delhi. That point, I understand, is under consideration.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Do I take it that this question of exodus will not be decided till the Federal Legislature is established ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I cannot make any statement on the subject.

RACIAL DISCRIMINATION IN THE CARRIAGE OF DOGS BY RAILWAY TRAINS BETWEEN SUMMER HILL AND SIMLA.

630. *Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that on the 8th August, some Indian ladies were travelling from Summer Hill to Simla, with a dog and that they were asked to purchase a dog ticket by the Summer Hill station Staff and were asked by the Simla staff to present the dog ticket on their arrival at Simla ?

(b) Are Government aware that a European lady had two dogs in a first class compartment travelling by the same train and no dog ticket was asked for from her at Simla station ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the number of dogs belonging to Europeans that have been charged for between Summer Hill and Simla, and vice versa during the period 15th April to 15th August, 1933, and the number of dogs belonging to Indians that have been charged for during the same period ?

(d) Are Government aware that all these racial discriminations are going on only during the régime of the present Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a), (b) and (c). The North Western Railway Administration reports that the number of dog tickets sold from Simla to Summer Hill and vice versa during the period 15th April to 15th August, 1933, is 13, and that the records show that one dog ticket was sold at Summer Hill on the 8th August, 1933, for Simla. From the names of the persons to whom tickets were issued, it appears likely that the number of tickets issued to Europeans was 10 and to Indians 3, but obviously it is difficult to judge nationality by names.

(d) The Administration reports that they are satisfied that no racial discrimination as is alleged is being shown.

NON-SALE OF MONTHLY TICKETS AT STATION BOOKING OFFICES ON THE KALKA SIMLA RAILWAY.

631. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that monthly tickets are always sold at the booking offices at railway stations over all railways ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the reasons why monthly tickets are not sold by the booking clerks of the Simla and Summer Hill stations ?

(b) Are Government aware that the present Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla, insists that the monthly tickets between Simla and other stations must be obtained from his office in spite of the requests from the public and the monthly ticket holders that arrangements should be made for the sale of such tickets at the station booking offices of Simla and all other stations ?

(c) Are Government aware that the present system is causing inconvenience to the daily passengers in so far that they are to present themselves personally on the expiring date of such monthly tickets at the Assistant Operating Officer's office, which is far away from the Simla station, or that they are to get such tickets through peons ?

(d) Are Government aware that even small school children are expected to go to Assistant Operating Officer's office for the purchase of monthly tickets ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state the reasons why the present Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla, should insist on the sale of monthly tickets through his office and not through the booking offices of Simla and other stations on the Kalka Simla Railway ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information, but are sending a copy of the question to the Agent, North Western Railway, in order that he might take whatever steps are possible to remedy the inconvenience complained of.

PASSES FOR FREE CONVEYANCE OF ARMY HEADQUARTERS CLERKS BETWEEN SUMMER HILL AND SIMLA.

632. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that the Army Department, Government of India, issued passes to the clerks and other staff, working in the Army Headquarters buildings, for regulating their entry into those buildings by an office order ?

(b) Is it a fact that the inferior staff of the Army Headquarters and Army Department are also provided with such passes in accordance with the said office order ?

(c) Is it a fact that the personal servants of the staff working in the Army Headquarters are also provided with such passes according to the said office order ?

(d) If the answers to parts (a), (b) and (c) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state whether under the said office order all the above mentioned passes entitle the holders to free conveyance between Summer Hill and Simla by the three III class bogies reserved in the clerks Special train running daily between the places ? If not, are Government aware that all European clerks possessing such passes utilise them for travelling between Summer Hill and Simla ? If not, do Government propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

(e) Is it a fact that the said office order contained a clause which lays down that such of these buildings passes will be valid for travelling in the clerks Special, running between Summer Hill and Simla, which would be endorsed on the back by the branches of the Army Headquarters and the departments in the following form : " The holder of this pass is entitled to travel in the Army Headquarters clerks Special trains between Summer Hill and Simla " ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the number of such passes endorsed by the departments and branches of the Army Headquarters up to 1st June last year and 1st June of current year ?

(f) Is it a fact that Army Department also issued certain instructions to the Quartermaster General's Branch regarding the issue of free railway passes for the conveyance of military and civilian clerks residing in Government quarters ?

(g) Is it a fact that a copy of such instructions was forwarded to the Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla ? If so, will Government be pleased to state whether the present Assistant Operating Officer ever asked his staff to check the passes according to those instructions to see whether unauthorised persons as defined in the said instructions are travelling by the clerks Special train ?

(h) Is it a fact that the said Army Department instructions lay down that the officer-in-charge of Summer Hill Camp must send a voucher in the first week of each month to the Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla, in a certain specified form certifying amongst other things that no one except such Army Headquarters clerks as are entitled to free conveyance travelled by the portion of the train the cost of which is borne by military estimates ?

(i) Will Government be pleased to state the number of such monthly vouchers received by the present Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla, during the last 12 months from 1st July, 1932 ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a), (b) and (c). Yes.

(d) The reply to the first portion is in the negative.

Government are not aware that any clerks except those whose passes entitle them to do so are allowed to travel free by the Special train. They do not consider that any useful purpose would be served by instituting an enquiry into the matter.

(e) The reply to the first portion is in the affirmative.

As regards the latter portion, a statement is laid on the table.

(f) Yes.

(g) The reply to the first portion is in the affirmative.

Daily checks are made, and surprise checks have been organised at both Simla and Summer Hill stations.

(h) Yes.

(i) Twelve.

Statement.

Office.	Number of passes endorsed up to
	1st June 1932.	1st June 1933.
G. S. Branch	Information not available	30
A. G.'s Branch	13	14
Q. M. G.'s Branch	12	11
M. G. O. Branch	3	4
E.-in-C.'s Branch	4	2
M. S. Branch	4	5
Medical Directorate	1	2
A. M. S. (P) to H. E. the C.-in-C.	2	1
Judge Advocate General	..	..
Director of Contracts	..	1
A. D. O. S. (P)	2	1
R. A. F. Headquarters	3	2
Total	44	73

NOTE.—In addition to the above, 12 passes for children of Military technical clerks were issued last year and this year.

TRAVELLING OF UNAUTHORISED PERSONS BY THE SPECIAL TRAIN, RUNNING BETWEEN SUMMER HILL AND SIMLA.

633. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that only clerks belonging to the following offices, namely, offices of the Military Secretary, Chief of the General Staff, Adjutant General, including Medical Directorate and Judge Advocate General, Quartermaster General, Master General Supply, Royal Air Force, Engineer-in-Chief, and Assistant Military Secretary (Personal), are entitled to travel by the clerks Special train between Summer Hill and Simla under the Army Department instructions issued to Quartermaster General's Office for regulating the issue of free railway passes between Summer Hill and Simla ?

(b) Is it a fact that the said Army Department instructions clearly lay down that such clerks of the Army Headquarters belonging to the offices named in the said instructions who are living only in Government quarters in Summer Hill are entitled to get their passes endorsed by their respective offices in the form shown in the Army Department security office order ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state how many of such passes belonging to the clerks of Army Headquarters and departments living in private houses in Summer Hill have been endorsed by the offices mentioned in the said Army Department instructions during the present year up to 1st July, 1933 ? Will they also be pleased to state the reasons why passes of persons not entitled to them were endorsed ?

(d) Are Government aware that a large number of European clerks living in Government quarters but belonging to Military Accountant General and other offices not mentioned in the said Army Department instructions and large number of European clerks living in private houses in Summer Hill are travelling daily, free of cost, in those Army Department bogies attached to that train ?

(e) Is it a fact that the Army Department instructions mentioned above lay down clearly that such unauthorised persons should not be allowed to travel in those bogies paid from military estimates ? If so, do Government propose to enquire and to state the number of such unauthorised persons who travelled daily by the clerks Special between Summer Hill and Simla without payment during the current year ?

(f) Are Government aware that a large number of European clerks, unauthorised, are travelling daily in those bogies paid from military estimates with the help of the Army Headquarters building passes without any endorsement on the back of such passes ?

(g) Will Government be pleased to state how the officer in charge of Summer Hill Camp is certifying the monthly vouchers in the manner prescribed in the said Army Department instructions which he is supposed to send to the Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state what arrangements the Railway Department, especially the Assistant Operating Officer, North Western Railway, Simla, has so far made for checking such frauds during all these years ? If no steps have been taken by the Assistant Operating Officer, is it a fact that such frauds were going on with his knowledge during his régime ? If not, will Government be pleased to state the reasons how such frauds are being allowed to be perpetrated only by the European clerks ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) and (b). Yes.

(c) Five passes were issued to non-entitled persons this year owing to a misunderstanding of the orders. These have since been cancelled.

(d) No.

(e) The reply to the first portion is in the affirmative. Government are not aware that any unauthorised persons other than the five mentioned above have been travelling in the bogies referred to without tickets or passes.

(f) The answer is in the negative.

(g) The certificate is furnished by the Officer-in-charge, Summer Hill Camp, in the manner prescribed by the Government orders.

(h) A ticket collector has been deputed to travel by this Special train daily. Orders are also issued periodically for surprise checks to be made by the checking staff. The Railway administration are satisfied that no fraud has been perpetrated. The rest of the question therefore does not arise.

REFUSAL TO ALLOW ARMY HEADQUARTERS INDIAN CLERKS LIVING IN PRIVATE HOUSES TO TRAVEL BY THE SPECIAL TRAIN RUNNING BETWEEN SUMMER HILL AND SIMLA.

634. Mr. S. C. Mitra : Is it a fact that Indian clerks living in private houses but working in Army Headquarters offices mentioned in the Army Department instructions to the Quartermaster General and Indian clerks living in Government quarters but working in the office of the Military Accountant General, Army Department, and other Army Headquarters' offices not mentioned in the Army Department instructions to the Quartermaster General, are not allowed to travel free by the Sergeant-in-charge of Summer Hill Camp in those bogies paid from military estimates attached to the clerks Special train ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Yes.

TRAVELLING OF CHILDREN OF EUROPEAN CLERKS BY THE SPECIAL TRAIN RUNNING BETWEEN SUMMER HILL AND SIMLA.

635. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of Army Headquarters clerks living in Summer Hill quarters who are entitled to get free Railway passes for their own children going to schools in Simla ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether all European school-going children of European clerks living in Summer Hill are entitled to travel free between Summer Hill and Simla in those compartments paid from military estimates attached to the clerks Special train ?

(c) Are Government aware that the school-going children of all European clerks living in Summer Hill either in Government or in private houses do travel free between Summer Hill and Simla in the compartments paid from military estimates ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state the number of monthly tickets and monthly railway passes other than the Army Headquarters passes that have been issued to persons including children travelling daily between Jutogh, Summer Hill and Simla ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Thirteen, of whom, however, only six send their children to schools in Simla.

(b) No, only the school-going children of Military Technical clerks serving in Army Headquarters are entitled to travel free by the Special between Summer Hill and Simla.

(c) The North Western Railway Administration reports that they are satisfied that only those children who are entitled to travel free are allowed to do so.

(d) Government are informed that during the period 1st April to 29th August, 1933, the following monthly season tickets have been issued :

(1) Between Simla and Summer Hill	213
(2) Between Simla and Jutogh	6
(3) Suburban tickets for railway employees between Simla and Summer Hill	8

RATIO OF BENGAL AND PUNJAB MUSLIMS TO THE MUSLIM POPULATION OF INDIA.

636. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the ratio that the total Bengal Muslims bear to the total Muslim population of the whole of India ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the ratio that the Punjab Muslims bear to the total Muslim population of the whole of India ?

(c) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the article headed "Grievances of Bengal Muslims" published in the Star of India, dated July 26, 1933 ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) and (b). According to the last census, the ratios are about 35 per cent. and 17 per cent., respectively.

(c) Yes.

MUSLIMS OF BENGAL, PUNJAB AND OTHER PROVINCES IN THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA SECRETARIAT AND ATTACHED OFFICES.

637. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Will Government be pleased to state separately the number of Bengal Muslims, the Punjab Muslims and Muslims of other provinces occupying now the posts of superior officers in each of the Government of India Departments and Attached Offices showing the names of departments and offices since the creation of the Public Service Commission, and their number before the creation of that office ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement showing separately the number of Bengal Muslims, Punjab Muslims and Muslims of all other provinces taken together, occupying the posts of Superintendent in each of the different departments of the Government of India and Attached Offices, and the names of departments and offices since the creation of the Public Service Commission, and their number prior to the creation of that office ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state separately the number of Bengal Muslims, Punjab Muslims and Muslims of all other provinces taken together occupying the posts of Assistants in the upper time-scale and Assistants of the First Division in each of the different departments of the Government of India, showing the names of departments, since the creation of the Public Service Commission and their number prior to the creation of that office ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to place on the table of this House a statement showing separately the number of the Bengal Muslims, the Punjab Muslims and Muslims of all other provinces taken together, occupying the posts of Second and Third Division clerks in each of the Government of India Departments, showing the names of the departments, since the creation of the Public Service Commission and their number prior to the creation of that office ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement showing separately the number of Bengal Muslims, Punjab Muslims and Muslims of all other provinces taken together occupying the posts of First Division Assistants and Second and Third Division clerks in each of the different attached offices of the Government of India, showing the name of each of such offices, since the creation of the Public Service Commission and prior to the creation of that office ?

(f) Will Government be pleased to state the percentage of increase of Bengal Muslims in each of the categories of the posts mentioned above since the creation of the Public Service Commission ?

(g) Do Government propose to instruct the Public Service Commission to recruit a larger number of Bengal Muslim graduates in all posts reserved for Muslim representation according to the ratio the total Bengal Muslim population bears to the total Muslim population of the whole of India ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : As explained in reply to parts (c) and (d) of the Honourable Member's question No. 409, on the 16th September, 1931, Government have not undertaken to secure representation for provinces, either generally or in terms of particular communities. Muslim candidates from Bengal have equal opportunities with those from other provinces of securing employment in the posts in question and no special action is therefore necessary in regard to them. This being the case, I do not think any useful purpose would be served by the collection of the statistics asked for, which are not readily available.

PRESENT STATE OF HEALTH OF BENOYENDRA NATH ROY CHAUDHURY, A STATE PRISONER IN THE RAJAHMUNDRY JAIL.

638. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the present state of health of Benoyendra Nath Roy Chaudhury, who is a State Prisoner under Regulation III of 1818 and is detained in Rajahmundry jail ?

(b) Are Government aware that, in spite of several letters from his relations, no reply has been obtained from Rajahmundry jail since November last about the health of the State Prisoner, or any correspondence from him ?

(c) Is it a fact that when he was examined at Madras by the Civil Surgeon, he was told that he was suffering from complete nervous breakdown and might die at any moment ?

(d) What steps have been taken by Government since then for his treatment ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a), (c) and (d). I would refer the Honourable Member to part (a) of my reply to his question No. 259 which was asked on the 31st August last. He will observe that in the opinion of the Medical Board the State prisoner is suffering from neurasthenia.

(b) No. On the contrary I understand that a letter of the 11th July, 1933, regarding the health of the State Prisoner was received by his wife from the Superintendent of the Rajahmundry Central Jail.

PETITION FOR THE TRANSFER OF MR. MAHENDRA NATH ROY FROM THE DEOLI DETENTION CAMP TO CALCUTTA.

639. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that one, Mr. Mahendra Nath Roy, was arrested under the Bengal Ordinance on March 11th, 1931 ? Is it a fact that he is now detained in the Deoli Camp ?

(b) Is it a fact that the detenu had a bone near the eye dislocated and had developed a swelled face as a result of an accident during a hockey match ?

(c) Is it a fact that he was X-rayed by medical authorities of the Ajmer Hospital and they advised an operation ?

(d) Is it a fact that this news was conveyed to the father of the detenu ?

(e) Is it a fact that the father of the detenu petitioned the Government of India for the removal of the detenu to the Calcutta Medical College Hospital for the operation ?

(f) Will Government be pleased to state whether the petition was granted by them ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Mr. Mahendra Nath was arrested in Bengal under the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act and is now detained at Deoli.

(b) and (c). X-Ray examination at the Ajmer Hospital showed that the left molar bone was fractured. There was slight swelling on the face. An operation was not considered necessary.

(d) The detenu may have informed his father.

(e) The Government of India have received no such petition.

(f) Does not arise.

MALTREATMENT OF MR. KESHAVA CHANDRA GUPTA, A POLITICAL PRISONER.

640. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that one, Mr. Keshava Chandra Gupta, a political prisoner, was convicted in a political case ? Is it also a fact that after conviction he was imprisoned in the Ajmer central prison as a ' B ' class prisoner ?

(b) Is it a fact that the said Mr. Gupta has since been transferred to the Sabarmati central prison ? If so, is it a fact that on transfer he was placed in ' C ' class ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the reasons for transferring a prisoner from ' B ' class to ' C ', and under whose direction the said prisoner was transferred to ' C ' class ?

(c) Are Government aware that the said prisoner is being maltreated and tyrannized in the Sabarmati prison after conviction ? If not, do Government propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : (a) Keshav Chander Gupta was sentenced in July, 1932, to two years' rigorous imprisonment for refusal to furnish security in section 110 proceedings and placed in ' B ' class in Ajmer jail.

(b) Yes, he was transferred to Sabarmati prison but is now in Nasik prison and is still in ' B ' class.

(c) Does not arise.

ALLEGATION AGAINST THE ASSISTANT STATION MASTER, SIMLA.

641. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : Are Government aware that the Assistant Station Master, Simla, neither charged one Mr. Dunett of the office of the A. M. S. P. to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and his servant on the 30th June last at the Summer Hill Station, nor prosecuted them for not having tickets with them but allowed them to pass without tickets in the presence of several passengers at the Summer Hill Station platform ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Enquiries have been made from the North Western Railway Administration who report that they have no knowledge of the incident alleged.

RACIAL DISCRIMINATION IN CHARGING FARES FROM PASSENGERS BY THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY STAFF.

642. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Are Government aware that two Indian passengers who got into a second class compartment at Summer Hill Station with intermediate class monthly tickets by the 1 Up Mail on the 23rd May, 1933, were charged the difference of fare and penalty ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ?

(b) Are Government aware that a European was also found in the same second class compartment by the same ticket checker in the same train on the same date with an inter class ticket, and that that European was charged only the difference of fare and not the penalty ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter and state the reasons for this racial discrimination by the North Western Railway staff ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I am informed that the penalty in addition to the fare was imposed in the first case because these passengers had failed to inform the Station Master or the Guard that owing to lack of accommodation they were travelling in a class higher than that for which they held tickets, and it was not imposed in the second case because the passenger had informed the Station Master.

There was no racial discrimination involved and the procedure in each case was according to the rules on the subject.

RACIAL DISCRIMINATION IN THE CARRIAGE OF DOGS BY RAILWAY TRAINS BETWEEN SUMMER HILL AND SIMLA.

643. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Are Government aware that in June last an Indian passenger was asked to pay for the carriage of his dog from Summer Hill to Simla by the clerks Special and he paid ?

(b) Are Government also aware that, when the attention of the railway staff concerned was drawn to a dozen other dogs conveyed by European clerks by the same train, no action was taken by the railway staff ? If not, do Government propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

(c) Are Government aware that when the matter was reported to the Assistant Operating Officer, Simla, he shielded his own staff and encouraged the racial discrimination by his staff ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) I understand that on the 16th June a passenger was charged for one dog from Simla to Summer Hill.

(b) The information obtained by the North Western Railway is that there was no such occurrence. Dogs are always paid for when carried by the Special.

(c) The Administration reports that full enquiries were instituted into this matter but no corroboration of the charge against the staff could be obtained.

APPOINTMENT OF AN INDIAN AS DIRECTOR GENERAL, INDIAN MEDICAL SERVICE, OR AS PUBLIC HEALTH COMMISSIONER IN INDIA.

644. *Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : With reference to question No. 1173 asked by Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 10th of April, 1933, and the reply thereto by Mr. G. S. Bajpai, will Government be pleased to state if any such orders with regard to the appointment of an Indian as the Director General, Indian Medical Service, or as the Public Health Commissioner in India were passed or contemplated by any authority other than the Government of India ? If no such order was passed or contemplated, do Government now propose to pass such orders or to adopt such a convention ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : The answer to the first part is in the negative. Government do not consider it necessary to issue such orders as claims of suitable senior Indian Officers of the Indian Medical Service are always given due consideration at the time of making appointments.

Mr. B. Das : Am I to understand that at present there are no Indian senior officers to be Inspector General ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : The question does not relate to the post of Inspector General, but relates to the post of Public Health Commissioner with the Government of India.

Mr. B. Das : Am I to understand that there are no Indian senior medical officers to be Public Health Commissioners ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I would not go so far as to say that there is no Indian senior officer, but all that I would say is that, on a comparison of the qualifications, we came to the conclusion that no equally suitable Indian officer was available for the purpose.

Mr. B. Das : Is it only a question of qualifications or does the Honourable Member's Department adopt also racial discrimination in the matter ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend has no justification for suggesting that mine or any other Department of Government adopt a policy of racial discrimination.

Mr. B. Das : Is it not the practice of the Honourable Member's Department to follow that policy, the only exception being that when the Honourable the Leader of the House was acting as the Secretary of the Department, two Indian gentlemen were appointed to high offices in the Indian Medical Service ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : As a matter of fact, if my Honourable friend had been in this country recently, he would have appreciated the fact that when the Deputy Director General of the Indian Medical Service proceeded on leave for the first time in the history of the Government of India, this Department appointed an Indian to act in his place.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if in making this selection, only qualifications, i.e., degrees, are considered or experience about the health of the Indian people is also considered ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : As a matter of fact, every relevant consideration is taken into account before Government come to a decision.

APPOINTMENT OF AN INDIAN AS DIRECTOR GENERAL, INDIAN MEDICAL SERVICE, OR AS PUBLIC HEALTH COMMISSIONER IN INDIA.

645. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Will Government be pleased to state if any appointment of a Public Health Commissioner has been made by them in succession to the present holder of that appointment ? If so, were the claims of qualified Indians considered in that connection ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Yes.

Mr. Jagan Nath Agarwal : What was the harm in giving the name of the person who has been appointed ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend did not ask me to indicate the name of the officer, but I can do so now ; he is Lieutenant-Colonel Russell.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Was there no Indian available for it ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : In dealing with the preceding question, I explained the position of Government. We considered the claims of all officers who were eligible for the post, and we came to the conclusion that Colonel Russell was the best qualified.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the names of the officers whose claims were considered along with Colonel Russell ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I could not say off-hand the name of every individual, but at least half a dozen names were considered.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is it the considered opinion of Government that, during the time this office has been in existence, there was not a suitable Indian available for holding this appointment ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend will appreciate the fact that it is not possible for me off-hand to state whether, during the last many years for which the post has been in existence, Government considered the names of Indian officers. But what he would recognise is that it is only during the last few years that the number of Indian officers in the Indian Medical Service has reached sufficient proportions to enable Government to consider the claims for senior appointment of these officers. The post of Public Health Commissioner goes to a very senior officer of the Indian Medical Service and the number of Indian officers eligible for the post is very small indeed.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Do Government realise that this answer is not very complimentary to Government themselves with regard to the encouragement which they are giving to Indian officers ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I do not really think that I have said anything which would lead anybody to conclude that Government's policy in this matter has been anything but what it should be.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Do Government realise that there is a general impression that Government's policy in this matter is dictated more by racial considerations than by considerations of real merit ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : If my Honourable friend chooses to be under an impression which is not borne out by facts, it is not for me to dispel that impression.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if there is any Indian who is senior to this officer and who has been superseded ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No, Sir.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Do Government also consider this question that with the retirement of these Europeans, India is deprived of their experience while, if an Indian is appointed, India can always derive profit from their experience, because they live in India after retirement ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I should like to explain for the information of my Honourable friend as well as of the House that there is absolutely no question of the Government of India not appreciating the desirability of appointing Indians to these and other offices. But what I do wish Honourable Members to recognise is that, considering the limitations to which appointments in a service are subject, one cannot choose an Indian officer with, say, six years' service, merely because he is an Indian, for a post which is ordinarily given to an officer with over 20 years' service.

CENSORSHIP OF CINEMATOGRAPH FILMS.

646. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the various cinema films, passed by the Censor, to which objection has been taken by religious bodies, both Hindu and Muslim, on the ground that they offended their religious susceptibilities or that they portrayed religious personages in an objectionable manner ?

(b) Do Government propose to consider the desirability of taking action to prevent objectionable films passing the Censor and creating an alarm in the public mind ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) The Government of India recently received a representation on the subject from a Hindu Association and are enquiring into the matter.

(b) I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply, I gave on the 4th September, 1933, to Shaikh Sadiq Hasan's question No. 484.

FIRMS MANUFACTURING PLAYING CARDS IN INDIA.

647. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Are Government aware that some private firms are manufacturing playing cards in British India and have turned out cards of very good quality ?

(b) Are Government aware that the duty on card-board imported for manufacture of these cards is no less than 33 per cent., whereas the duty on imported playing cards is only 50 per cent. ?

(c) Are Government aware that Japanese playing cards have been dumped into the Indian market during the last year or so and there is a serious danger of this nascent industry being crippled if not entirely killed ?

(d) Are Government prepared to consider the desirability of raising the duty on imported playing cards to at least 75 per cent., as has been done in the case of textiles ?

(e) Do Government propose to keep this matter in view when negotiations are opened with the representatives of the Japanese Government regarding a Trade Agreement ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a), (b), (c) and (d). The Honourable Member is referred to my answer to a similar question No. 626 by Mr. S. C. Mitra.

(e) Yes.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know what that answer was ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The answer was just read out a few minutes ago and the Honourable Member cannot ask it to be repeated.

JUDICIAL OFFICERS IN THE DELHI PROVINCE.

648. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Are Government aware of the fact that the members of the Judiciary of the Delhi Province are generally taken on deputation from the cadre of the Punjab Civil Service ?

(b) Is it not a fact that the Punjab Government have got standing rules and instructions that the period of stay of such judicial officers in one station ordinarily should not exceed three years ?

(c) Are Government aware that there have been some glaring departures in the case of some judicial officers on the Executive side, i.e., Extra Assistant Commissioner in the Province of Delhi ?

(d) Is it not a fact that the Tehsildar of Delhi has been posted in Delhi for practically the past eight years ?

(e) Is it also not a fact that some stipendiary magistrates in Delhi have been posted there for more than five years ? If so, what are the special reasons for that ?

(f) Has not the rule of three years almost invariably been followed in the case of the members of the judicial branch of the service, i.e., Sub-Judges ?

(g) Do Government propose to scrutinize each such individual case and issue instructions accordingly ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Yes.

(b) I understand the position is as stated by the Honourable Member.

(c) Instructions similar to those in the Punjab have not been issued by the Delhi Administration. The question of departure from the instructions does not therefore arise.

(d) Yes. The Tahsildar was appointed in January, 1926.

(e) No.

(f) I am informed that postings and transfers of Sub-Judges are made by the Lahore High Court.

(g) Although the rule of three years is not in force in Delhi, I would assure the Honourable Member that each case in which an officer is retained in Delhi for more than three years receives the full attention of the Delhi Administration, and I do not consider that there are sufficient reasons for interfering with the discretion of that Administration in this matter.

Mr. Jagan Nath Agarwal : Does not the Honourable Member think that he should look into the matter rather than leave it to the Delhi Administration ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : the Government of India have a great many duties of their own to perform, and I do not think it reasonable to ask them to perform these in addition.

Mr. Jagan Nath Agarwal : Is it lack of time and nothing else that stands in their way ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : I think it is a principle of administration.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know why this Tahsildar has been kept for such a long time in Delhi ? Is it for political reasons or for some other reasons ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I imagine it is because it is felt that it is in the public interests to do so.

POSTING OF JUDICIAL AND POLICE GAZETTED OFFICERS TO THEIR HOME DISTRICTS.

649. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Are Government aware that except under very extraordinary circumstances, no officer, especially Judicial and Police Officers of the gazetted rank, is allowed to be posted in his own home ? If not, do Government propose to consider the expediency of this rule and issue instructions accordingly ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the cases, with reasons, where departure was made in the case of officers posted in the province of Delhi during the last twelve years ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) I have no information whether there is any such rule in force generally. Government do not propose to issue instructions in the matter.

(b) There is no such rule in force in the Delhi Province and the question of obtaining the information desired by the Honourable Member does not therefore arise.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Does not this reason come under the general principle of desirability in the public interest ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I do not think there is any general rule in force, but, in the special case of Delhi, I would ask the Honourable Member to reflect that if such a rule were made, it would be impossible for any inhabitant of the Delhi Province ever to serve under his own provincial administration.

APPOINTMENT OF PRESIDENTS AND MEMBERS OF THE TARIFF BOARD FROM PROVINCES OTHER THAN BOMBAY.

650. Mr. S. C. Mitra (on behalf of Mr. Bhuput Sing) : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of official and non-official presidents and members of the Tariff Board since its formation and the percentage of Bombay men recruited to such posts ?

(b) Do Government propose to take steps for the recruitment of men of other provinces in the future Tariff Boards ?

(c) Are Government aware that there are as good businessmen and economists in other provinces as in Bombay ? If not, have Government ever enquired from Local Governments for such men for the posts of presidents and members of the Tariff Boards when formed ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) I lay on the table a statement showing the name, province and period of service of each person who has served as President or as member of the Tariff Board. Only one Bombay man has been President of the Board. He held the post in an officiating capacity only for 6½ months, his period of service being 5 per cent. of the total service of all Presidents. Two Bombay men have served as members of the Boards, their combined service expressed as a percentage of the total service of all members being 20 per cent.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) The reply to the first part is in the affirmative. The second part does not arise.

Statement showing names, provinces of origin and periods of service of Presidents and Members of the Tariff Board.

Names.	Province.	Period of Service.
		Years.	Months.	Days.
Presidents.
Sir George Rainy (Official)	Bihar and Orissa ..	2	9	10
Sir Padamji Ginwala (Non-Official) ..	Burma	3	5	6
Mr A. E. Matthias (Official)	Central Provinces ..	1	6	19
Dr. John Matthai (Official)	Madras	1	8	5
Mr. F. I. Rahimtoola (Non-Official) (Offg.)	Bombay	0	6	17
Sir Frank Noyce (Official)	Madras	0	7	21
Members.
Sir Padamji Ginwala (Non-Official) ..	Burma ..	2	9	9
Mr. V. C. Kale (Non-Official)	Bombay	1	11	22
Dr. John Matthai (Official)	Madras	5	9	15
Sir Frank Noyce (Official)	Madras	0	1	21
Mr. A. E. Mathias (Official)	Central Provinces ..	3	3	15
Mr. F. I. Rahimtoola (Non-Official) ..	Bombay	2	0	15
Mr. C. T. Boag (Official)	Madras	2	1	13
Mr. H. R. Batheja (Official)	Bihar and Orissa ..	0	5	4
Rai Bahadur Pt. Hari Kishen Kaul (Non-Official).	Punjab	0	6	21
Mr. N. S. Subba Rao (Non-Official) ..	Mysore	0	6	21

* Up to 1st August, 1933.

Mr. H. P. Mody : Are Government aware that Bombay will have no objection if, by way of a change, other provinces are allowed to get jobs on the Tariff Board and Bombay is occasionally allowed to creep into the Executive Council of the Governor General ? (Laughter.)

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know whether this Tariff Board is likely to continue very long ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : As I think my Honourable friend knows, the Tariff Board has been remitted to it for consideration the subject of the iron and steel industry ; and it will remain in existence certainly as long as it is necessary for the Board to conduct its inquiry into that particular matter. Beyond that I cannot say.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Can the Honourable Member say what period that inquiry is likely to take ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I certainly cannot give my Honourable friend any information on the point : but they will certainly be in existence until they finish their report : it may be six or seven months, I do not know.

Mr. H. P. Mody : With reference to this answer, do I understand that there are no other applications besides the one which will be considered by the Tariff Board next month ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I must have notice of that question ; but, as far as my recollection serves me, there is no application at the present moment which it is intended to refer to the Tariff Board.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : In view of the fact that one of the biggest concerns for which the Tariff Board exists lies in Bihar and Orissa, was any gentleman of Bihar and Orissa ever nominated to the Tariff Board ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : That, I am afraid, is not the principle upon which members are chosen for appointment to the Tariff Board.

Mr. B. Das : Do Government refer every application to the Tariff Board or do they sort out spurious applications from Indian industrialists and refer only those industries which really need protection in the opinion of Government ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : My Honourable friend is quite right.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Were the claims of those in the Retrenchment Committee of the Stores Department considered when making such appointments ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I can only say to the House that all suitable names were considered before appointments were made.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for this double scrutiny, once by the Government of India and then by the Tariff Board ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Obviously it is no use referring to the Board the case of an industry which primâ facie can be disposed of at once.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government consider seriously the representations coming from the Bombay millowners before referring them to the Tariff Board in future ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I can assure my Honourable friend that they are most carefully scrutinised.

ANÆSTHETIST IN THE RIPON HOSPITAL, SIMLA.

651. Mr. S. C. Mitra (on behalf of Mr. Bhuput Sing) : (a) Is it a fact that the anæsthetist in the Ripon Hospital, who helps in the operations performed on the Government of India staff and their relations, is only a compounder ? If not, what are his medical qualifications and degrees for which he is entrusted with such an onerous duty on which depends the life and death of persons ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the charges prescribed by the Civil Surgeon in charge of the Ripon Hospital for the said anæsthetist for helping in the operations performed on the Government of India staff and their relations ?

(c) Are Government aware that the Civil Surgeon in charge of the Ripon Hospital, whenever he is sent for by the Indian officers, advises them to go to hospital and at times threatens to report them to their superiors as his valuable time is wasted for not getting any fees from them ? If not, do they propose to enquire into the matter ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) The answer to the first part is in the affirmative. The second part does not arise.

(b) No charges are levied from Government servants. A copy of the Ripon Hospital Rules showing the fees charged from non-entitled patients, including relatives of Government servants, was placed in the Library of the House with reference to the Honourable Member's question No. 146.

(c) Government have received no such complaint and do not, therefore, propose to make any enquiry.

RECRUITMENT OF MINISTERIAL STAFF OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA SECRETARIAT AND ATTACHED OFFICES.

652. Mr. S. C. Mitra : (a) Is it a fact that the recruitment of a portion of the ministerial establishment of the Government of India departments and attached offices is being done by the Public Service Commission ? If so, is it a fact that the recruitment for certain posts of ministerial establishment has been kept outside the scope of the Public Service Commission on the ground that men are required to fill posts requiring technical skill ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether men recruited on technical grounds for technical posts are transferred to the regular ministerial establishment after being recruited by this back door method of nomination by the heads of departments and offices ?

(c) Are Government aware that the Anglo-Indians recruited by the Foreign and Political Department for the Cypher Bureau are invariably transferred to the regular ministerial establishment, thereby barring the prospects of those men who came by competitive examination ?

(d) Are Government aware that the Army Department recruited a relation of the Personal Assistant to the Army Secretary on grounds of technical qualifications a few years back ? If so, has he been transferred to the regular establishment for being considered for promotion to the post of upper time scale Assistants and post of Superintendents ?

(e) Are Government aware that another relation of the said Personal Assistant to the Army Secretary has been recruited by the Army Department on the ground of technical qualifications ? If so, will Government be pleased to state what are the technical qualifications of the said candidate ?

(f) Are Government aware that a relation of one of the Assistant Financial Advisers, Military Finance, was recruited a few years ago by the Military Finance without the intervention of the Public Service Commission on the ground of technical qualifications, and that attempts are being made to transfer him to the regular second division in order to avoid his stay permanently in the winter in Simla ?

(g) Is it a fact that the Public Service Commission recruits technical men for technical posts of all other branches of the Government of India administration, including Railways, Telegraphs, and Civil and Mechanical Engineers, Press Foreman, Indian Stores Department technical posts and various other technical jobs ? If so, will Government be pleased to state why the recruitment of a few technical men required in the Government of India Secretariat Departments cannot be entrusted to the Public Service Commission ?

(h) Do Government propose to hand over the entire recruitment of the ministerial establishment including technical posts to the Public Service Commission ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) The reply to the first portion is in the affirmative. As regards the second portion, the position is that though posts of a special or technical nature in offices which recruit through the Public Service Commission are not filled in the ordinary way, i.e., by an examination, selection for such posts is made through the Public Service Commission who are required to satisfy themselves that the person to be appointed is qualified to hold the post.

(b) I am making enquiries and will lay a statement on the table.

(c) The position is not as stated by the Honourable Member.

(d) The post was not a technical one at the time and the circumstances in which the appointment was made were fully explained in answer to starred question No. 909 and unstarred question No. 464 on the 24th and 21st September, 1928, respectively. The reply to the second part is in the negative.

(e) Yes, except that the post was not a technical one. A man with special practical experience of the outdoor work connected with water supplies in Cantonments was required ; and the individual in question was recommended by the Cantonment authorities of the Eastern Command. The appointment was made with the express approval of the Public Service Commission.

(f) A son of an Assistant Financial Adviser was recruited to the III Division of the Military Finance Department some years ago and was confirmed in 1930 with the concurrence of the Public Service Commission. There is at present no question of his promotion to the II Division.

(g) The answer to the first clause is in the affirmative. As regards the second clause, I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply I have just given to part (a) of this question.

(h) Government do not see sufficient reasons for departing from the existing orders on the subject.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : With reference to part (c) of the question, may I know if any Indian has been appointed to the Cypher Bureau of the Foreign and Political Department ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I am afraid I should require notice of that question.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Are Government aware that this matter repeatedly came up before the Standing Finance Committee, and that the undertaking given was that claims of Indians to appointment in the Cypher Bureau would be seriously considered and acted upon ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No : I am not aware of that : the Cypher Bureau is not under the Home Department.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : I am asking the question of the Government : will the Honourable Member kindly ask his colleague on his left, the Finance Member, on this point ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I think the Honourable Member might address his question direct.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : My question is addressed to the Government, and it is this : will Government kindly state if any Indian has been yet appointed on the Cypher Bureau of the Foreign and Political Department ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I am afraid I have not got any information on that point.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government be pleased to state whether the appointment to the Cypher Bureau is made through the Public Service Commission ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : No.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state what are the special qualifications required for a post in the Cypher Bureau of the Foreign and Political Department ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : There are no special qualifications required, as far as I know, except that the persons holding the appointment must be qualified to deal with the work and that they must be thoroughly reliable.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state whether any attempt was ever made to appoint an Indian to this post ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I am not aware whether any attempt was made.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is the Honourable Member aware that when a proposal was made before the Standing Finance Committee for increasing the strength of the Cypher Bureau of the Foreign and Political Department, a recommendation was made by the members of the Standing Finance Committee that the claims of Indians should be seriously considered in that Department and that some of these appointments should be given to Indians ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : No, Sir ; I am not aware of that.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is this Cypher Bureau the same Bureau which took two hours to decipher a telegram in connection with the release of Mahatma Gandhi on the 23rd August ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I do not think that was the Cypher Bureau of the Political Department.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I know, Sir, if the Honourable the Finance Member has anything to say on this subject ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I think I may inform the House that my friend, who has asked this question, knows more about it probably than anybody else in this House. He has always expressed a very great interest in this case which has come up several times before the Standing Finance Committee. My friend is fully aware of the difficulties that exist in the matter of appointing Indians to the Cypher Bureau, because some of the cypher used for the Cypher Bureau are only issued by His Majesty's Government on the understanding that they will be used by British officials. That is a technical difficulty. My friend is also aware that the Foreign and Political Department have been doing their best to overcome this technical difficulty. My friend, the Political Secretary, who has not been in the Department very long, is perhaps not familiar with the past history of this case. All I can do is to promise the asker of this question that I will look into this matter as Chairman of the Standing Finance Committee and inquire from the Foreign and Political Department exactly how the matter stands.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state whether all these Anglo-Indians are British subjects ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I am afraid I have been taken rather out of my sphere. I must have notice of that question.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether Indians are not British subjects ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I think I have given all the information to the House in reply to questions which Honourable Members were entitled to ask at the present stage. I only intervened, because my Honourable colleague, the Political Secretary, is not actually familiar with this case which I am familiar with as Chairman of the Standing Finance Committee.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : From the reply given by the Honourable the Finance Member, I take it that he thinks that Indians are not " British subjects ". Is that not the necessary implication from his reply ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I do not think it is a necessary implication, but I shall look up the exact rules and inform the Honourable Member what the exact rule is. I can only state that there is a technical difficulty which the Political Secretary and his Department have been doing their best to overcome.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Has not this matter been hanging fire for several years before the Standing Finance Committee ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : That only indicates that the technical difficulty is rather a serious one.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask what steps are being taken by Government to remove this technical difficulty ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I suggest, Sir, that the question has been answered in sufficient detail now. I have promised to look into the matter, and I think that ought to satisfy Honourable Members.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Thank you.

ASSESSEES TO INCOME-TAX AND SUPER-TAX AND ASSISTANT COMMISSIONERS ENGAGED IN APPELLATE WORK IN CERTAIN PROVINCES.

653. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to inform this House (i) of the number of assessees to income-tax and super-tax in the Punjab, United Provinces, and North-West Frontier Province, separately ; (ii) of the number of appeals lodged against orders of assessment and the time taken in disposing of the same comparing it with the time taken previously before the limit was reduced to 1,000 rupees ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to place a statement on the table of this House showing the number of Assistant Commissioners engaged in appellate work in 1931, 1932 and 1933, and the number of appeals lodged ?

(c) How many officers in the above provinces have been granted extensions after reaching the age of retirement ? Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for granting such extensions at a time when extensive retrenchments have taken place in various Departments of the Government ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) and (b). A statement is laid on the table. As regards the time taken in disposing of appeals, it is not possible to give any precise information as in the disposal of appeals many factors come into play and the time required varies very considerably in consequence. Some appeals are disposed of on the first hearing whereas others take several hearings when parties want adjournments for one reason or another.

(c) Extensions have so far been granted only to two officers in the United Provinces and to one in the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province. They were granted strictly in accordance with Fundamental Rule 56 in the interests of public service. In the Income-tax Department, officers with long experience are of special use in preventing attempts at evasions of tax which are by no means uncommon.

Statement showing the number of Assessees, Appeals, etc. in the United Provinces, Punjab and North-West Frontier Province.

Province.	Year.	No. of Income-tax and Super-tax assessees.	No. of appeals lodged.	No. of Assistant Commissioners.
United Provinces.. ..	1930-31	25,533	1,570	3
			(1931-32) 1,518	3
	1932-33	60,534	3,165	3
Punjab	1930-31	32,255	2,301	3
			(1931-32) 2,927	3
	1932-33	85,258	4,544	3*
North-West Frontier Province.	1930-31	3,316	462	†
			(1931-32) 751	†
	1932-33	7,780	760	†

* To cope with increase in appellate work a temporary Assistant Commissioner was sanctioned for 9 months from 1st March 1933.

† No Assistant Commissioners specially for N.-W. F. P., the cadre of Assistant Commissioners being the same for Punjab, N.-W. F. P. and Delhi.

SERVICES OF EUROPEAN INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE OR OTHER OFFICERS LENT TO PLACES OUTSIDE BRITISH INDIA.

654. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government be pleased to state if the services of European I. C. S., or other officers, have been lent to places outside British India ? If so, what are their names, and the names of places outside British India, where their services have been lent ; and since what time ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : The required information is being collected and will be laid on the table or given to the House.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : The required information relating to the officers working in Indian States as well as in countries outside India ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I understand the Honourable Member's question referred to all places outside British India ?

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : My question referred to Indian States as well as to places outside India, both.

LOANS ADVANCED TO THE BAHAWALPUR STATE OUT OF INDIAN REVENUES.

655. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the dates, and the amounts, of loans advanced to Bahawalpur State out of Indian revenues, together with the rate of interest ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state (i) what approximately is the annual interest on the entire loan ; (ii) what the yearly revenue of the State is ; and (iii) the steps taken by Government to safeguard the Indian revenues by securing an early repayment of the loan and its interest ?

(c) Do Government propose to remit any portion of the loan ? If so why ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) The initial instalment of Rs. 427 lakhs was sanctioned in September, 1926. Additional instalments have been granted in subsequent years to enable the State to meet the payments required from time to time on account of capital expenditure in connection with the Sutlej Valley Project. The total amount outstanding on the 31st of March, 1933, was approximately Rs. 11,63 lakhs. Until the end of the financial year 1930-31, the rate of interest was 6 per cent. The rate charged on the amount outstanding on the 31st of March, 1931, is 5½ per cent. ; while the rate charged on additional instalments granted after that date will be based on the borrowing rate of the Government of India at the time.

(b) (i) The estimated interest on the entire loan for 1933-34 is approximately Rs. 63½ lakhs.

(ii) The information which the Honourable Member desires is available in the publication entitled " Memoranda on the Indian States ".

(iii) An expert Committee was appointed in 1931 to report on the financial prospects of the Bahawalpur section of the Sutlej Valley Project. In accordance with their recommendations now capital works which seemed unlikely to prove remunerative were abandoned. An experienced Chief Engineer is now in charge of all Irrigation works in the State and a Special Accountant-General supervises the accounts of the Sutlej Valley Project. The budget of the Project is now entirely separate from the State budget.

(c) Government have not made any proposal on the lines suggested by the Honourable Member.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Who are the members of this Committee with regard to (c) ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : According to my recollection, Sir Bernard Darling, Professor Roberts and Mr. Dodson of the Punjab Government.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : I could not hear the answer to the first part of my question on account of the noise of the engine, but I should like to know what is the total amount of the loan advanced to this State ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I will repeat that part of the answer. The total amount, outstanding on the 31st of March, 1933, was approximately Rs. 11,63 lakhs.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose to take steps to see that in future the railway engines do not make noise between 11 and 12 ?

Mr. H. P. Mody : Don't Government consider that information, which is readily available and which is in their possession, should be given on the floor of this House rather than that Members should be referred to publications which are not readily available ? For instance, my friend just now referred to a Manual about the States. If the information had been given,—it was only a question of figures—if the information had been given, we would have been able to estimate whether the revenues of the State could stand the interest which it has to pay. I would venture to suggest to my friend that on all such occasions the actual information should be given instead of a Member being referred to a Manual which may not be readily available.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I quite sympathise with my Honourable friend's question, but I believe that the practice which we all follow in answering these questions is based on a deliberate purpose. The purpose is one of educative value to Honourable Members that, when books are available, Honourable Members should be encouraged to read them. The Members of the Government should not be asked to do work which Honourable Members can do for themselves.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : May I know, Sir, whether the State is responsible for any deficit that may occur in the project itself from State revenues ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Yes, Sir. Certainly, the State has taken the loan, and the State is responsible for meeting the interest on that loan. The responsibility is not confined to the revenue of the project itself.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is it not a fact that the loan was financed during the minority of this Ruler ?

12 NOON.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Yes. The project was originally approved during the minority of the present Ruler.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : And that the Council of Regency did not give their unqualified assent to it, and that the Punjab Government or the Government of India took the responsibility for the success of this scheme ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : That is a very complicated issue. That State have their own views on the subject which are not entirely accepted by the Government of India.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Have the State got to make up any deficit from their revenues in order to pay the interest ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Up to the present, interest has been added to the capital of the project, because the period of construction is not yet completed.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member if, after the report of this Committee, there is any fear on the part of the Government that the loan will not be repaid by the Bahawalpur State ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I think it is well-known to Honourable Members, certainly it must be known to the Honourable Member who has asked this question, that the present condition as regards this project is not a satisfactory one. The project was undertaken at a time when all over the world many projects were being undertaken on the basis of expectations of high post-war prices. The project has suffered, as many projects have suffered all over the world, and elsewhere in India by the catastrophic fall in prices which has occurred. That has resulted in delay in the sales of land which has increased the capital debt outstanding on account of the project. The question of how we are going to deal with this matter in the future is a difficult one which is now under the consideration of the Government of India and has been under their consideration ever since the expert Committee reported.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member whether the question of responsibility of repaying this debt has been finally settled between the Government and the State ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : No, Sir. The question is still under consideration. It has not been finally settled yet.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : May I take it from the Honourable Member that the Assembly will be consulted before a final arrangement is made with regard to this big sum, especially in view of the Federation coming into existence before long ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I am afraid I cannot give my Honourable friend any such undertaking. I shall be very glad to give the Assembly every possible information on the subject, but this is a matter between the Government of India and an Indian State and I could not give an undertaking that the Assembly would be consulted about it.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : The Honourable the Finance Member realises that the monies that the Government of India may lose or may have to write off as a bad debt belong to the people of India and that this Assembly is responsible to the taxpayers of this country for any monies that the Government of India may have to write off. In that case, on one side it is the Assembly and, on the other side, it may be an Indian State. The Assembly is very intimately connected with this matter.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I quite appreciate the point which has been put by my Honourable friend. I may say that I hope that it will be possible to arrange this matter in such a way that a large sum may not have to be written of. I fully recognise that this Assembly has an interest in the matter if it involves a loss of revenues of British India. I only hesitated to give my Honourable friend the undertaking which he asked, because I should like to have time to consider this matter. But I certainly appreciate the point of view which he has put forward.

Mr. B. Das : Is it not a fact that the Punjab Government was solely responsible for the design of this project, and, if any financial loss should occur, should it not morally go to the Punjab Government and not to the Government of India ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : The Punjab Government have a strictly limited liability so far as the design of the project is concerned. The Punjab Government undertook to carry out the engineering part of the work. If there is any loss on this project, it is not primarily due to any fault in the design of the works, but due to the failure of the expectations of land sales which itself is due to the catastrophic fall in prices to which I have already referred.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask what is the justification of using British Indian money for the sake of Indian States ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : It has always been the practice of the Government of India to advance money to Indian States after projects have been carefully scrutinised and it appears that the money will be secure.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : May I draw the Honourable Member's attention to part (b) (i) and (ii) of the question, where the questioner wanted to know if the income of the State was more than Rs. 63 lakhs, the amount of interest which had annually to be paid ? Will the Honourable Member answer that question without referring us to books and volumes ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I have already explained why, following the usual practice, I referred the questioner to a particular publication in which he will find the information as to what is the revenue of the State. But that will not entirely answer the question, because that information only covers the revenue of the State independently of the project. The question of the revenue of the project is a speculative matter on which it is not possible at present to make certain estimates.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : The questioner wanted to know if the revenue of the State was greater than the annual interest of Rs. 63 lakhs that they were liable to pay for the loan of 11 crores for this project.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : My Honourable friend will get the information which he requires if he refers to the publications to which I have referred.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : May I know whether or not a portion of the project is in working order ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Part of the project is working, but the full construction is not yet over.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Is it not the agreement that the annual interest should be charged to capital on that part of the project which is not completed, and, as for the other part of the project, which is completed and is in working order and which may be making a loss, that that loss should be made up for the time being from State revenues and the whole of the interest cannot be added to capital while one part is completed and the other part is not ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I can only tell my Honourable friend that the rules of accounting procedure in regard to this project have been properly followed and that the procedure has been passed by the Auditor General in the usual way.

Mr. B. R. Puri : May I know, if a serious attempt to realise the debts was made as against the State, what would be the consequences of that to the State itself ? I am sure that information is not available in that book.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : It is quite obvious that if an attempt were made now to force the State to repay a sum of over Rs. 11 crores which has been borrowed to finance a project which is not yet in full working order, the State would be put to extremely financial difficulties.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask a question ? Whatever may be the old practice, in view of the new constitution in which the paramountcy powers will rest with the Crown and not with the Government of India, will the Government of India consider the desirability of putting a stop to the practice of lending money to the Indian States ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I would suggest that my Honourable friend, who is going to London, might raise that point there.

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

APPOINTMENT OF A SIKH AS A JUDGE IN THE LAHORE HIGH COURT.

9. Sirdar Sohan Singh : (a) Are Government aware that out of 12 Judges on the Bench of the Lahore High Court three are Hindu lawyers, three Muhammadan lawyers, one Indian Christian lawyer and one a Hindu officer of the Indian Civil Service, and that a Sikh has not been appointed to that Bench ever since the said High Court and its predecessor, the Chief Court came into existence in 1866 ?

(b) Are Government aware that there will be five vacancies on the Bench of the said High Court to be filled up in October next—two due to the retirement of Messrs. Broadway and Harrison, one Inspection Judge and two Additional Judges ?

(c) Are Government aware that there are now three Sikh District and Sessions Judges and a number of Sikh lawyers available for selection for being elevated to the Bench of the said High Court ?

(d) Are the Government of India aware that the feelings of the Sikhs are intense in the matter ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) With regard to the present composition of the Court, the Honourable Member's information is correct with this exception that there are only two Muslim Judges on the Court and not three. I am prepared to accept the Honourable Member's statement that no Sikh has so far been appointed to the Court.

(b) The answer is in the affirmative.

(c) The qualifications for High Court Judges are laid down in section 101 (3) of the Government of India Act. I am not aware of the number of Sikh District and Sessions Judges and lawyers who fulfil these qualifications.

(d) Government have received certain representations on the subject.

PERSONS GETTING EXTENSIONS AFTER REACHING THE AGE OF SUPERANNUATION IN THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, DELHI.

10. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government please state the number of those persons who have reached the age of superannuation in the Deputy Commissioner's Office, Delhi, and who are still getting extensions ?

(b) How do Government justify these extensions in these days of financial stringency ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : With your permission, Sir, I propose to reply to questions Nos. 10, 11, 13 and 14 together. The information asked for is being collected and will be laid on the table.

GRIEVANCES OF APPRENTICES WORKING IN THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, DELHI.

†11. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that both paid and unpaid apprentices who are working in the Deputy Commissioner's Office, Delhi, for the last ten or eleven years, have been deprived of being given permanent posts and preference is generally given to outsiders ? If so, why ?

(b) How many apprentices (paid and unpaid, separately) are working for the last ten years in the English and Vernacular Offices and for what period have they been working ?

(c) How many clerks and apprentices have been transferred during this period from English to Vernacular Office and vice versa ? What pay are they drawing now and what was the cause of their transfer ?

(d) Is it a fact that some apprentices and clerks submitted several representations in this connection to the Deputy Commissioner, Delhi ? If so, what action was taken in the matter ?

PERMANENT CLERKS WORKING IN THE SUB-REGISTRAR'S OFFICE, DELHI.

12. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government please state the number of permanent clerks working in the Sub-Registrar's Office, Delhi ?

(b) Will Government also please state the number of paid and unpaid candidates, separately, in the same office ?

(c) Is it a fact that these candidates are allowed to enter the original registered documents in Book No. 1 and copy the same ? If so, who is responsible for this system and what steps do Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Eight.

(b) One paid and two unpaid.

(c) The answer to the first part of the question is in the negative ; the second part does not arise.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE CLERKS IN THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, DELHI.

†13. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government please lay on the table a statement showing the communal composition of the clerks (both paid and unpaid, separately) in the Deputy Commissioner's Office, Delhi ?

(b) How many out of these belong to (i) Delhi and New Delhi, proper, and (ii) rural areas in the Province of Delhi ?

DETERMINATION OF SENIORITY IN THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, DELHI.

†14. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government kindly say how seniority is determined in the Deputy Commissioner's Office, Delhi ?

(b) Is any regular register kept for this purpose ? If not, why not ?

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 10.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

15. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that retrenchments have been made in the Survey of India Department ?

(b) What are the grades of gazetted officers of the Department ? What was the sanctioned number of officers in each grade before retrenchment and what is the number remaining in each grade after the retrenchment ?

(c) How many among the retained officers in Class II service have put in 25 years' service and more ?

(d) How many of the retrenched officers of Class II service have put in between 5 and 15 years' service ? How many of these are Indians and how many Europeans or Anglo-Indians ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b).

Grades and Posts of Gazetted Officers.	Sanctioned number of officers.
	Before retrenchment.	After retrenchment.
Class I Service—
Directly recruited	52	30
Promoted from Class II	11	6
Class I General Service	2	2
Class II Service	80	56
Class II General Service	5	5

(c) 13 officers had completed 25 years' service or more at the time the retrenchment board met.

(d) 4 officers, all of whom are Indians.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

16. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that the retrenchments in the Survey of India Department have been ordered in accordance with the decisions or recommendations of a Retrenchment Board composed of officers of the Department ?

(b) Is it a fact that one of the members of the said Board belongs to Class II and another was promoted from Class II to Class I a few years ago ?

(c) What was the serial number of the Class II officer in that class at the time he sat as a member of the Board ?

(d) Was he the seniormost officer in the Class available at Calcutta ? If not, how was he considered competent to be associated in the decisions relating to his own case and the cases of officers senior to him ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) The Board's recommendations were taken into consideration in selecting officers for retrenchment.

(b) Yes.

(c) 46.

(d) The answer to the first part is in the negative. There were other members on the selection board who were competent to be associated in decisions relating to the case of this officer and the cases of officers senior to him. He was not considered competent for this purpose.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

17. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it not a fact that the said member (Class II) of the Retrenchment Board for the Survey of India Department was suspended in 1919 and his pay reduced ?

(b) Is it not a fact that the Class II officers of the Central Circle of the Department protested by a telegram against his inclusion in the Board ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) No record of such protest is traceable.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

18. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that the officiating Surveyor-General visited the Circle Headquarters some time before the date of the meeting of the Retrenchment Board and had consultations with the officers there, and returned with a preconceived or provisional list of officers to be retrenched ?

(b) Was any common test held among all the officers for the selection of the least efficient among them for retrenchment ? If not, why not ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) The then officiating Surveyor General visited the various Circle Headquarters during his monsoon tour which was just prior to the convening of the Retrenchment Board. The reply to the latter part of the question is in the negative.

(b) The common test applied was the record of their work over a number of years.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

19. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that on the first day's sitting of the Retrenchment Board of the Survey of India Department, a list of officers to be retrenched was drawn up, in accordance with the general instructions issued by Government in the matter of effecting such retrenchments ?

(b) Is it not a fact that the list so prepared on the first day underwent some revisions, due to additions and subtractions being made therein ?

(c) Is it a fact that when once the least efficients were selected and more were required to be retrenched, the Board instead of retrenching officers by seniority, again started selecting and thus threw out many officers with no faults ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) Government have no information.

(c) No.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

20. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it not a fact that non-official gentlemen are included in the Boards for selecting candidates to appear for the competitive examinations for recruitment to Class II of the Survey of India Department ?

(b) If so, what reasons prevented the authorities from including non-officials in the Retrenchment Board referred to previously ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) Only such persons as had an intimate knowledge of the organisation of the department could give useful advice.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

21. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that the Surveyor General, in his evidence before the Retrenchment Committee, mentioned that Class II officers above the age of 50 were not suitable to be kept on ?

(b) If so, how is it that many officers of Class II (including those recently promoted to Class I), who are above 50 years old have been retained and young officers have been retrenched ?

(c) Is it a fact that more than 40 per cent. of the Class II officers now retained have completed 25 years or more service ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) There is nothing to this effect on record.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) As stated in the reply to part (c) of question No. 15, thirteen officers who had completed 25 years' service or more at the time of retrenchment were retained. This is 23 per cent. of the revised strength.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

22. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of Anglo-Indians and Indians among the retrenched Class II officers of the Survey of India Department ?

(b) How many retrenched Anglo-Indian officers referred to in part (a) have put in less than 15 years service and how many retrenched Indian officers from class II have put in less than 15 years of service ?

(c) Will not the removal of such a large percentage of younger or junior officers among Indians result in the proportion of Indian officers in the Department being reduced more quickly than under normal conditions, when the senior officers retained now retire in the usual course ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Anglo-Indians 11
Indians 10
(b) Anglo-Indians .. .. Nil
Indians 4

(c) The percentage of junior Indian officers retrenched being small, the question does not arise.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

23. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that in the Survey of India Department an Anglo-Indian officer of 28 years' service, who had been ordered to be retrenched, was subsequently taken in ?

(b) Is it a fact that only one of the seven officers promoted to this service from the lower ranks is retrenched ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

NON-RECRUITMENT OF RETRENCHED HANDS OF THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

24. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : Is it a fact that in filling up the post of the Deputy Director of Survey under the Government of Bihar and Orissa, on the retirement of the previous incumbent, the Surveyor General recommended an Anglo-Indian officer who had retired from the Survey of India ? If so, why was not a suitable officer from the active list selected for the post ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : The officer who was selected for this post was retrenched from Class I of the Survey of India. Employment was therefore provided for one of the retrenched officers.

COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION FOR FILLING UP OF VACANCIES IN THE SURVEY OF INDIA DEPARTMENT.

25. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that there have now occurred seven vacancies in the Class II service of the Survey of India Department, and that applications have been invited from candidates to sit in the competitive examination that will be held for selection of candidates to fill up the said seven vacancies in the Class II service ?

(b) Are Government prepared to view with favour the cases of retrenched Class II officers of the Survey of India Department with five to fifteen years' service, and arrange for their being called in, before any fresh recruits are taken, to fill up the vacancies now in that Class of service of the Department ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to part (c) of starred question No. 346 in the Legislative Assembly on the 1st September, 1933.

QUALIFICATIONS OF CHARGEMEN IN THE CARRIAGE AND WAGON SHOPS, NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY, MOGHALPURA.

26. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Will Government please state the percentage ratio of the chargemen of each community, with their academic and technical qualifications, employed in 1921-31, in the Carriage and Wagon Shops, North Western Railway, Moghalpura ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the number, names, and salaries offered to chargemen recruited with the approval of the Railway Board, and how many have since been discharged for (i) consistent inefficiency, (ii) and otherwise, respectively, since 1921, and also state whether it was deemed necessary to get the Railway Board's sanction ? If so, under what circumstances ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the name of the authority competent enough to order transfers of persons of the said rank from one branch to another, and from one section to another and also state reasons for which such transfers are usually recommended in the Carriage and Wagon Shops at Moghalpura ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Government regret that they are not prepared to supplement with figures for particular classes of posts the information in regard to communal representation in Railway Services given in the Annual Administration Report on Indian Railways.

(b) and (c). I have called for the information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

SUSPENSION AND DISCHARGE OF CERTAIN CHARGEMEN IN THE CARRIAGE AND WAGON SHOPS, MOGHALPURA, NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

27. Sardar Sant Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the authority competent to appoint, suspend, discharge, and dismiss, and also define principles adopted in the suspension, discharge, dismissal and withholding of increments of, chargemen in the Carriage and Wagon Shops at Moghalpura, North Western Railway ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the distinction which exists between discharge and dismissal, and is it a fact that in discharge cases no orders can be issued which may entail further consequences, such as barring re-employment ?

(c) Is it a fact that under the rules and orders issued by the Government of India, Railway Board and Agent's Circulars, strict justice should be administered and special efforts should be made to avoid hardship when discharging persons employed against substantive permanent posts ? If so, will Government be pleased to state if the spirit of the rules is being strictly observed while discharging chargemen of the Carriage and Wagon Shops, Moghalpura ?

(d) Is it a fact that Home Department Resolution No. 1568-1595 (Establishment), dated the 14th September, 1915, clearly provides that no person should ordinarily be discharged, or dismissed, on grounds of inefficiency, unless he has been given a written warning to that effect, or fined or reduced ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the names of persons discharged, if any, in (i) contravention of the aforesaid rules, and (ii) otherwise, separately amongst the chargemen in the Carriage and Wagon Shops at Moghalpura ?

(e) Is it a fact that under the rules in force an employee can be placed under suspension on a serious charge until his case has been decided by the authority competent to dismiss him, and he should be given a chance to clear his position ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the number of persons suspended and discharged without being given any opportunity to explain their conducts, vide Home Department Resolution No. 1568-1595 (Establishment), dated 14th September, 1915, and without being served with charge sheets showing the specific acts on their part, the names of the chargemen who were suspended for one offence (insubordination), and discharged for another (inefficiency), Carriage and Wagon Shops, Moghalpura ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (c). The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the " Rules regulating the discharge and dismissal of State Railway non-gazetted Government servants ", a copy of which is already in the Library of the House. Government have no reason to believe that these orders are not carried out on the North Western Railway.

(b) A discharged employee may be re-employed but one who is dismissed cannot be re-employed.

(d) The Home Department Resolution referred to by the Honourable Member does not deal with discharge or dismissal of employees but with the procedure for periodical reports.

(e). The reply to the first part is in the affirmative. As regards the latter part, Government have no information that the rules are not followed in their entirety on the North Western Railway.

AMALGAMATION OF CLERICAL GRADES IN THE AUDIT DEPARTMENT, NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

28. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware of the article headed " North Western Railway Audit Office " published in the Pilot, Amritsar, dated the 13th August, 1933 ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to place on the table a copy of the present seniority list of clerks, grade II, as also the one according to the length of service and efficiency ?

(c) Do Government propose to separate the seniority of qualified auditors from that of the clerks for the purpose of promotion in clerical grades ?

(d) Is it a fact that there is only one grade in the office of the Accountant General, Punjab ?

(e) Are Government prepared to consider the amalgamation of clerical grades I and II in the Railway Audit Department and the formation of one grade of 50—5—200 as suggested in the concluding paragraph of the said article ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) Yes.

(b) A copy of the present seniority list is placed on the table. This is also the list according to the length of service in the lower grade and efficiency as determined by (1) success in the Subordinate Accounts Service examination and (2) service in Class I.

(c) It is already separate. Group A of the seniority list shows the seniority of the clerks class II who have passed the Subordinate Railway Audit Service Examination.

(d) Yes.

(e) There is no such intention.

Copy of the Revised Seniority List of class II clerks of the office of the Chief Auditor, North Western Railway, as it stood on the 4th May 1933.

Group A (Consisting of men who have passed the Subordinate Railway Audit Service Examination).

1. Mr. Ajmer Singh.
2. Mr. Sardari Lal.

Group B (Consisting of men who have past service in class I according to the length of that service).

3. Mr. Tulsi Das.
4. Mr. Dhani Ram.
5. Mr. Durga Dass Chri (on deputation).
6. Mr. Nand Lal.
7. Mr. Thaneshwar Dass.
8. Mr. Hans Raj.
9. Mr. Lila Dhar.
10. Mr. Wazir Chand.
11. Mr. Tulsi Ram.
12. Mr. Savindar Singh.
13. Mr. Krishena Kumar.
14. Mela Ram Seth.
15. Mr. Parkash Sarup Puri.

Group C (Consisting of men who have service only in the Lower grade).

16. Mr. Hakumat Rai.
17. Mr. Mohd. Tuffail.
18. Mr. T. G. Gonsalves.
19. Mr. Shiv Shankar.
20. Mr. Abdul Karim Khan.
21. Mr. Chella Ram.
22. Mr. James O'Reilly.

INDIAN RESEARCH FUND ASSOCIATION WORK DONE BY THE ASSISTANT-IN-CHARGE OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH SECTION OF THE OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR GENERAL, INDIAN MEDICAL SERVICE.

29. Mr. A. Das : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Assistant-in-charge of the Public Health section of the office of the Director General, Indian Medical Service, was and is doing the work of the part time Assistant Secretary of the Indian Research Fund Association in addition to his own duties and is getting some allowance for doing that work ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Public Health Commissioner with the Government of India, who is the section officer of the Public Health section of the office of the Director General, Indian Medical Service, is the Secretary of the Indian Research Fund Association ?

(c) Is it a fact that the same Assistant-in-charge was allowed to draw, in addition to his own pay, an allowance of Rs. 250 per mensem for the work of the Indian Research Fund Association without the previous sanction of Government ?

(d) How long was this allowance drawn by him and what was his substantive pay in the Assistant's grade when he was allowed to draw the allowance of Rs. 250 per mensem ?

(e) What amount was later sanctioned by Government ?

(f) Are Government prepared to place on the table the correspondence regarding the waiving of the recovery in question ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes, but with the previous sanction of the Governing Body of the Indian Research Fund Association, which was meeting the cost.

(d) From 1st March, 1932, to 15th December, 1932. When the allowance was first sanctioned by the Governing Body of the Association, his substantive pay as an Assistant in the Office of the Director General, Indian Medical Service, was Rs. 332 per mensem in the grade of Rs. 200—12—440 plus a special pay of Rs. 50 per mensem for holding charge of the Public Health Section in that office.

(e) Rs. 100 per mensem.

(f) No.

CREATION OF THE POST OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY IN THE INDIAN RESEARCH FUND ASSOCIATION.

30. Mr. A. Das : (a) Is it a fact that a whole-time appointment of Assistant Secretary has been created in the Indian Research Fund Association ? If so, what is the date of the sanction ?

(b) What qualifications are required by a candidate to be eligible for the appointment ?

(c) Has anybody been appointed to the post ? If not, why not ?

(d) Why was the appointment of the Assistant Secretary created ? What efforts were made to fill the appointment ?

(e) Is it true that candidates went to the Public Health Commissioner and the Secretary of the Indian Research Fund Association to try for the job, but he did not approve of any candidate, nor is he prepared to fill the vacancy ?

(f) What are the academic and other qualifications of the Assistant in charge of the Public Health Section and what were those of the candidates who went to see the Public Health Commissioner to try for the post of the Assistant Secretary of the Indian Research Fund Association ?

(g) How many times during the last two and a half years has the Public Health Commissioner or the Secretary of the Indian Research Fund Association approached Government with a view to give personal benefit to this Assistant ?

(h) How many allowances, and of what denominations, out of the Indian Research Fund Association fund have been granted through the Public Health Commissioner or the Secretary of the Indian Research Fund Association to the clerks of the Public Health section of the office of the Director General, Indian Medical Service ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) No.

(b) to (e). Do not arise.

(f) The qualifications of the Assistant-in-Charge are considered by his superior officers to be suitable for the work he is doing. The second part of the question does not arise.

(g) The Public Health Commissioner made suggestions once which would also have benefited the Assistant financially but this would have been in return for work done for the Indian Research Fund Association.

(h) An allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem from the funds of the Indian Research Fund Association has been granted with the approval of the Governing Body to the Public Health Commissioner's stenographer, for doing stenographer's work for the Secretary to the Governing Body of the Association.

PROMOTIONS OF OFFICERS OF THE TRANSPORTATION (TRAFFIC) AND COMMERCIAL BRANCHES OF THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

31. Sirdar Sohan Singh : (a) Are Government aware that there is a block in the promotion of officers on the North Western Railway serving in the Transportation (Traffic) and Commercial Branches ?

(b) Are Government aware that officers serving in these branches on the Eastern Bengal and East Indian Railways, who are considerably junior to officers on the North Western Railway, are working as District officers while the latter continue to serve as Assistant officers ?

(c) If the replies to parts (a) and (b) are in the affirmative, will Government please state what action they have taken to remove this grievance of the North Western Railway officers ?

(d) Is it a fact that five names were submitted by the North Western Railway for transfer to the other railways as recently as last April and no move has yet been made in this direction ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (b). I understand there is little difference between one railway and another in this matter with the exception of one officer on the Eastern Bengal Railway, the junior most officers officiating in the senior scale on all these railways joined service before 1920.

(c) The Railway Board are considering whether any steps can be taken to make the chances of promotion on different railways approximately the same, but the question is very complicated and I am afraid no steps that can be taken can equalise chances exactly, or for any considerable period.

(d) Suggestions for transfer have been called for from all Railway administrations and they are under the consideration of the Board.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE DESIGN OF A BONE-CRUSHER.

32. Mr. S. C. Mitra : Will Government please state when they will declare the winner of the prize of Rs. 3,500 offered by the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research for the design of an improved bone-crusher for which designs were submitted to the Secretary, Imperial Council of Agricultural Research, before the 1st November, 1931 ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : The Imperial Council of Agricultural Research expects to be able to announce the result in the course of the current year.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS TO THE STANDING COMMITTEES FOR THE DEPARTMENTS OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRIES AND LABOUR.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : I have to inform the Assembly that the following Members have been elected to the Standing Committees for the Departments of Commerce and Industries and Labour, respectively :

Standing Committee for the Department of Commerce.

Mr. R. T. H. Mackenzie,
Mr. S. C. Mitra, and Kumar Gupteshwar Prasad Singh.

Standing Committee for the Department of Industries and Labour.

Mr. G. Morgan,
Kunwar Hajee Ismail Ali Khan, and Haji Chaudhury Muhammad Ismail Khan.

STATEMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : Sir, I lay on the table :

(i) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 39 asked by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen on the 25th February, 1933 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 486 asked by Mr. N. M. Joshi on the 25th February, 1933 ;

(iii) the information promised in reply to part (d) of unstarred question No. 79 asked by Mr. S. C. Mitra on the 8th March, 1933 ;

(iv) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 101 asked by Mr. Rameshwar Prasad Bagla on the 13th March, 1933 ;

(v) the information promised in reply to part (d) of starred question No. 739 asked by Mr. Rameshwar Prasad Bagla on the 13th March, 1933 ;

(vi) the information promised in reply to parts (b) and (d) of starred question No. 807 asked by Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim on the 20th March, 1933 ;

(vii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 808 asked by Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim on the 20th March, 1933 ;

(viii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 812 asked by Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon on the 21st March, 1933 ;

(ix) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 865 asked by Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury on the 22nd March, 1933 ;

(x) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 910 asked by Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur on the 24th March, 1933 ;

(xi) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 124 asked by Mr. S. C. Mitra on the 27th March, 1933 ;

(xii) the information promised in reply to parts (c) and (e) of starred question No. 1024 asked by Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim on the 1st April, 1933 ;

(xiii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1041 asked by Mr. Muhammad Anwar-ul-Azim on the 1st April, 1933 ; and (xiv) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1201 asked by Maulvi Sayyid Murtuza Saheb Bahadur on the 10th April, 1933.

EXAMINATIONS FOR BAUDOT SUPERVISORS AND TELEGRAPH MASTERS.

Statement.

39.

Circles.	(i) No. of telegraphists qualified in departmental examinations (Telegraph Mastership and Baudot Supervisorship examinations) and awaiting promotion to the Telegraph Master's cadre.	(ii) Total sanctioned strength of Baudot Supervisors.	(iii)* Number of Telegraphists qualified in ordinary Baudot Supervisory examination awaiting appointment as Baudot Supervisors.	(iv) No. of telegraphists qualified in Higher Baudot Technique subjects only awaiting appointment as Baudot Supervisors.	(v) No. of telegraphists qualified in both subjects referred to in (iii) * and (iv) awaiting Baudot Supervisory appointments.	Remarks. *Presumably the Hon'ble Member means (iii) and not (ii) as stated by him.
1. Bengal and Assam	21	29	0	2	1
2. Bihar and Orissa ..	3	2†	0	1	1
3. Bombay ..	72	32	8	2	0
4. Burma	24	19	0	2	1
5. Central	21	9	0	2	0
6. Madras	30	22	0	1	0
7. Punjab and N. W. F.	45	19‡	1	0	7
8. Sind and Baluchistan	15	8	0	1	6
9. United Prvoinces ?	32	32	0	0	0
Total ..	263	172	9	11	16

*Figures in column (iii) do not include the men with double qualification shown in column (v).

†Both posts temporarily held in abeyance.

‡Including 3 posts held in abeyance.

POSTAL CLERKS IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

Statement.

*486.

Circle.	(a) No. of posts in the Lower Division clerical cadre in the Postal Department at the end of December 1932.	(b) No. of posts in the Upper Division clerical cadre in the Postal Department converted into the Lower Division up to the end of December 1932.
Bengal and Assam Circle ..	857	155
Bihar and Orissa ,, ..	298	43
Bombay ,, ..	496	217
Burma ,, ...	271	102
Central ,, ..	379	122
Madras ,, ..	404	175
Punjab and N. W. F. ,, ..	409	118
United Provinces ,, ..	411	74
Sind and Baluchistan ,, ..	67	18

RETRENCHMENTS IN THE TELEGRAPH TRAFFIC AND TELEGRAPH ENGINEERING BRANCHES OF THE TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT.

79. (d) On the 1st April, 1932, there were 173 posts held by gazetted officers in the Telegraph Engineering Branch and 86 in the Telegraph Traffic Branch. Up to the 31st January, 1933, 11 of the former and 10 of the latter were brought under reduction.

SELECTIONS OF ELECTRICAL SUPERVISORS FOR CARRIER CURRENT WORK IN THE CENTRAL TELEGRAPH OFFICE, CALCUTTA.

101. (a) The facts are not exactly as stated by the Honourable Member. The Electrical Engineer-in-Chief made the selections in consultation with the Director of Telegraph Engineering, the Divisional Engineer, Telegraphs, Calcutta West Division and the Chief Superintendent, Central Telegraph Office, Calcutta. The Assistant Electrical Engineer was also required to be present to render any assistance that might be required of him.

(b) Two trained candidates were selected after being orally examined by the Electrical Engineer-in-Chief on those technical subjects with which it is necessary for the candidates to be conversant.

(c) No.

(d) Yes.

(e) No, the matter has already been inquired into by the Director-General and Government are satisfied that all the candidates trained in the carrier current system were granted interviews.

PLATFORM RAISED BY MUSLIM EMPLOYEES IN THE COMPOUND OF THE LAHORE GENERAL POST OFFICE.

*739. (d) The reply to the first part of the question is in the negative. As regards the second part Government have decided, after due consideration, that in future permission to erect such structures will not as a rule be granted to the members of any community.

RECRUITMENT OF GARHWALI HINDUS IN THE QUETTA HEAD POST OFFICE AS PACKERS AND POSTMEN.

*807. (b) In the absence of suitable local candidates five Garhwali Hindus have been appointed as postmen and packers since 1926 when the instructions referred to in the reply to part (a) of this question were issued, but this was not in contravention of the instructions as these were intended to apply to recruitment for the clerical services only as was made clear in an amendment to the said instructions issued shortly afterwards.

(b) The reply to the 1st and 2nd parts is in the negative. There is no official, Surjupershad by name, among the Garhwali Hindus. The third part does not arise.

LETTERS FOUND UNCLEARED FROM THE LETTER BOX OF THE PISHIN POST OFFICE.

*808. (a) and (b). Owing to the breaking away of a piece of plaster in the chute of the letter box in question about 60 letters and postcards posted between 1929 and 1932 lodged in the crevice so formed and were not cleared. No one was held responsible for neglect of duty as the position of the crevice was such that it was not easy to detect. The articles were subsequently despatched to their destinations.

(c) Yes.

(d) The office was inspected by three officers, Messrs. Aurora, Abdul Hamid and Md. Akbar Khan, during the period in question, but no action was taken against any of them for the reason stated in the reply to part (a).

EXAMINATION FOR LOWER DIVISION POSTAL CLERKS HELD AT DELHI.

*812. (a) Yes.

(b) (i) 96 and not 105 candidates appeared.

(ii) The fact is not as stated. Some candidates expressed their inability to appear at the test and went away.

(iii) and (iv). Yes.

(v) Yes; as seven passed in this subject the test was evidently not an unfair one.

(c) Yes.

(d) No.

(e) The reply to both parts of the question is in the negative.

RATES OF ALLOWANCES DRAWN BY POSTAL EMPLOYEES AT DARJEELING.

*865. (a) The Honourable Member presumably refers to the case of ministerial officials of the Bengal Government stationed at Darjeeling, if so, the position is not as stated by him.

(b) The fact is as stated by the Honourable Member as regards ministerial officials in the ordinary time-scale of pay; while for officials in the Selection Grade the scales are the same for all the places mentioned. I may, however, add that postal officials stationed at Darjeeling draw compensatory allowances.

(c) The allowances drawn by the ministerial staff of the Local Government at Darjeeling are regulated on a percentage basis according to pay drawn while in the case of the post office ministerial staff in the ordinary time-scale the compensatory allowance has been fixed at a uniform rate of Rs. 15 per month. Consequently in the lower stages of the time-scales the allowances paid to the post office ministerial staff are higher; while in the higher stages the employees of the Local Government draw the larger allowances. But the ordinary time-scale of the post office ministerial staff at Darjeeling is superior to that of the ministerial staff of the Local Government employed there.

AMALGAMATION AND SEPARATION OF THE CADRES OF INSPECTORS OF RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE AND INSPECTORS OF POST OFFICES.

*910. (1) (a) Assuming that by 'general line-men' the Honourable Member means Railway Mail Service officials other than Inspectors, in the lowest selection grade of Rs. 160—10—250, the reply is in the affirmative.

(b) Yes.

(c) and (e). Government have no precise information but the facts are probably as stated by the Honourable Member.

(d) The general examination prescribed for promotion to selection grade posts on Rs. 160—10—250 including those of Inspectors was abolished in 1932 and replaced by an examination for promotion to posts of Inspectors and divisional Head Clerks only.

(f) Yes.

(2) Transfers of Inspectors, Railway Mail Service, on Rs. 160—250 to other posts in the Railway Mail Service on the same scale of pay do not involve any loss of pay or status. In these circumstances Government are not prepared to take the action suggested by the Honourable Member.

(3) As regards the first part of the question, the fact is that the 3 officials referred to by the Honourable Member were transferred to the Inspectors' line by the Postmaster-General, United Provinces Circle, through a misunderstanding of the Director-General's orders. Orders have since been issued for their re-transfer to the general line. The latter part of the question does not therefore arise.

SUICIDE COMMITTED BY A POSTAL OFFICIAL OF THE RAJSHAHI DIVISION.

124. (a) to (d). No.

(e) Does not arise.

FRAUDS COMMITTED IN THE QUETTA POST OFFICE.

*1024. (c) The case was not reported to the police as the facts did not warrant such a measure.

(c) The matter called for detailed enquiries of a confidential nature by an independent responsible officer and the Investigating Inspector attached to the circle office was therefore deputed to enquire into the case.

NON-RECRUITMENT OF MUSLIM CLERKS IN THE OFFICE OF THE DIVISIONAL ENGINEER, TELEGRAPHS, NEW DELHI.

*1041. (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) and (d). Yes.

(e) No.

(f) Muslims—six including five appointed temporarily, of whom one was appointed in March, 1933, and three appointed during the years 1923 to 1925, were subsequently employed in the Telephone Revenue Accounting Office, Delhi. Non-Muslims—14, of whom one has been transferred to the Lahore Division and one is working in an officiating capacity.

(g) Yes. The Honourable Member is referred to the statement of new recruits published in the Director-General's Annual Reports for the year 1928-29 and subsequent years.

EXAMINATION FOR THE RECRUITMENT OF LOWER DIVISION CLERKS HELD AT THE BENARES CITY POST OFFICE.

*1201. (a) The reply to both the parts is in the affirmative.

(b) The reply to the first part is in the negative and the remaindor of the question does not arise.

(c) and (d). According to the latest information in possession of Government, out of a total of 112 Upper Division clerks employed in the Benares City Post Office 94 are Hindus and 18 Muslims. As regards the number of vacancies, there has been a sixth vacancy in addition to the five mentioned by the Honourable Member. Of these six vacancies, one has been reserved to be absorbed on the abolition of a post and one has been filled by a non-Muslim clerk who originally belonged to the Benares City Post Office to which he has been retransferred from Cawnpore.

(e) No, the clerk in question had been transferred from Benares to Cawnpore as a punitive measure. As this had had the desired effect and the official's work had shown improvement, he was retransferred to Benares. In these circumstances Government see no reason to interfere with the transfer.

THE HINDU WIDOWS' RIGHT OF MAINTENANCE BILL.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty): The House will now resume further consideration of the following motion moved by Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda on the 29th August, 1933 :

"That the Bill to fix the amount of maintenance to which Hindu widows are entitled, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, the Honourable Sir Harry Haig, Sir Hari Singh Gour, Sir Abdur Rahim, Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer, Pandit Ram Krishna Jha, Mr. Muhammad Yamin Khan, Mr. N. M. Joshi, Mr. A. Das, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Mr. B. R. Puri, and the Mover, with instructions to report by the 25th January, 1934, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

The Honourable Sir Bepin Behary Ghose (Law Member) : Sir, I beg to move :

"That the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 1st December, 1933."

There are many things in this small Bill which require to be straightened out. I must, first of all, say that the orthodox members of the Hindu Community utter grave complaints against, I would even say, curses on, the present Legislature which are both loud and deep. They say that the present Legislature consists mainly of non-Hindus and Hindus who call themselves Hindus, but who belong to a very much advanced community. From personal experience I know that many complaints have been made to me when I was not in office. They say that the Legislature is going through the nibbling process against Hindu law and in time they want to swallow the whole thing altogether. I do not belong to the orthodox section of the people. I cannot claim that, but I have not cut the cables and drifted apart from the moorings. But I must confess that I share the proverbial conservatism of a lawyer.

It has been said that the lawyers are, as a rule, conservative and, in addition to that, my years also make me fearful of any great change. All honour to those of my profession who have shaken off the conservatism of our class. I have only to say in connection with this Bill that there are many things which require careful consideration. There is the question of the definition of a widow and there is the question that this Bill attempts to make serious inroads into the Mitakshara family. This morning I happened to look into a publication by an accomplished and learned member of my profession. He is a member of this Assembly, but I do not see him here just now. He said that the income-tax has made a heavy inroad into the corporation of a Hindu joint family, but this Bill does something more, because, as every one knows, a Mitakshara family has been described as a corporation in which no member has any definite interest until a partition is effected. Even male persons living in the family are not entitled to any sum of money out of the income as their maintenance. This Bill proposes that, if a widow is sonless, she is entitled to get as maintenance the entire income which her husband's share in the joint family estate would, as on partition, yield This amounts to a compulsory partition. The difficulty of this question is with regard to the income. The income of a joint Hindu family is often variable. If it is derived from landed property, then every landlord in this House will have to confess that the income is not a fixed amount and, therefore, it would be difficult to find out what the income of the Mitakshara joint family is which would accrue to the widow on partition. If the income is derived from industrial or commercial business, then, I submit, Members here will admit that there also no fixed amount can be said to be payable to the widow and, even if the whole income is derived only from Government securities, then my friend, the Honourable the Finance Member, may be responsible for reducing that income by paying off securities and reducing the interest on them. Therefore, this matter must be considered, even if the entire income of her husband, which he would get from the family estate as in the case of a partition in his life time, were given to the widow. Would the Court of Law be bound to determine the income year by year or month by month ? And, if a fixed amount is decreed, that may be certainly more or less than the income derived in a particular year or month. Again, there are questions which seem to me to be very important which also require consideration. In the case of a separated Hindu, if sonless, the widow inherits the property, but there is one disqualification. She is required during her wifehood "to keep unsullied the bed of her lord", as it is said in the texts. Now, would the Hindu widow, who had sullied the bed of her lord during the life time of her husband, be entitled to maintenance after the death of the husband ? That also is a question which must be determined. What would happen if the widow re-marries ? Among the Hindus, as defined in clause 2, there may be many communities where widow marriage is allowed by custom. Those do not come within the purview of the Hindu Widow Re-marriage Act, and would they retain the maintenance that would be allowed by the Court ? These are questions which have to be dealt with.

Then, with regard to the provisions in clause 4, where it is said that if there is a posthumous son born to the widow, who was sonless at the time when her husband died, she should get an equal share of the income of her husband's estate which a son would get as on partition. I could understand if it had been said that she would get a half share of the estate, but there also is the difficult question about ascertainment of "income". I need not say anything more with regard to that clause.

[Sir Bepin Behary Ghose.]

Now, with regard to the Dayabhaga School of Hindu law. It does not make any inroad on the joint family, because a sonless Hindu widow is entitled to inherit her husband's property. There is the question of adoption, as there is also provision for a sort of enforced partition between her and her sons. As is well known, it has been held by the Privy Council that a widow making an adoption may enter into a contract with regard to her maintenance and that has been held to be valid. Therefore, it may be possible to urge that this provision is absolutely unnecessary. These and there are other important questions, which require consideration. I submit, therefore, that the House will accept my amendment that this measure should be circulated for opinion. I do not think I need add anything more.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Amendment moved :

"That the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 1st December, 1933."

Pandit Ram Krishna Jha (Darbhanga cum Saran : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I beg to support the motion for circulation. This is really a difficult matter and it is just, right and proper that the country should be consulted on a Bill like this. There seems to be not much difference of opinion on this side of the House on the circulation motion. I, therefore, support this motion, and my humble suggestion is that the question be now put, because there are good many Bills on the Agenda.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju (Ganjam cum Vizagapatam : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I am very sorry that the Honourable Member who is the author of this Bill is not in his seat when we are discussing this measure. The Honourable the Law Member has been pleased to move a motion that the Bill be circulated for eliciting opinion thereon. Honourable Members are well aware that Diwan Bahadur Sarda has been engaged with this reform since 1921 and, ever since that time, he has tried his best to draft a measure which would give some right to a widow in the property of her husband. During the last four years, he has been drafting measure after measure, and this is the latest. As my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, is not a lawyer, he had to seek the assistance of some of his legal friends. Every time he tried to bring in a Bill for a reform in one direction of the Hindu law, it was found to be giving way in the other direction. The House, in spite of the modifications that Diwan Bahadur Sarda was able to make in the Bill, threw it out. So, I think it will be an act of kindness on the part of the Honourable the Law Member to call Diwan Bahadur Sarda and draft a proper Bill for him in order to give effect to the central idea which had been guiding him all along to draft this measure. There are one or two important matters and I think I must make an observation or two on each one of them for the simple reason that if this Bill were to go to the public—and Mr. Jha has just said that there is no difference of opinion on this side of the House about this motion—they must know as to what we think about it and in what way we want the public to direct its attention on this measure. I am glad, my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, has now come. On an earlier occasion, when he moved his first Bill on the floor of this House, he said that he had the assistance of no less a personality than that of the Law Member of the Government of India, who was the predecessor of the Honourable gentleman opposite. Sir, I do think that it is very difficult to believe that the Law Member of the Government of India could have been responsible for a measure of this description, because, if I remember aright, on the last occasion he made a vehement attack on Diwan Bahadur Sarda with regard to at least one power taken away under this Bill, namely, the testamentary power of a Hindu. When Diwan Bahadur Sarda drafted his Bill on the last occasion, Government said that it would take away the testamentary powers of the Hindus and it was one of the grounds on which the Honourable the Law Member opposed it. So, I was very much surprised to find in this Bill a provision which, if rightly understood, would curtail the powers of a Hindu on his powers of disposal of his property whether ancestral or self-acquired, whether he is under the Dayabhaga or Mitakshara. Sir, the man has always the right to dispose of the property which he has acquired, at any rate under any system of Law.

Now, clause 6 runs thus :

"The maintenance, to which a widow is entitled under this Act, shall be a charge on the estate left by her husband, or the estate which belonged at the time of his death to the undivided family of which he was a member when he died, and shall not be affected by any testament which a husband may make during his lifetime to the detriment of the widow's rights as secured to her by this Act."

What does that mean ? It means this. Under the provisions of this Bill, Diwan Bahadur Sarda would like to give, in case the husband dies leaving no sons, the entire estate to his widow, but, if there are any sons, then she should get an equal share of the property along with her sons whether it was under Dayabhaga or Mitakshara. Take, for instance, the question of a husband leaving a widow without any sons. Under the provisions of this Bill, that widow would be entitled to the entire estate of the husband. Now, if you read the last clause, you will find that it says that the rights secured to this woman should not be disposed of by the husband in any manner during his life time. That is to say the man is allowed to earn, but not to spend it since it would affect the right created for the woman in the entire property. He does not make any distinction between the self-acquired property and the ancestral property. Therefore, the effect of it is that during the life time of the husband, he cannot deal with the property in a manner which may be construed to affect the rights given to the widow under this Bill. In other words, what Diwan Bahadur Sarda wants is to create for the husband a widow's estate. If rightly understood, it is not even a widow's estate. It is merely a life estate, because a widow's estate, as the House is aware, is something more than a life estate. She has always got the power to alienate property under certain limitations. She can make small gifts of property and even sell the entire property if the income is too small to maintain her in comfort, and so forth. I, therefore, consider this measure as a retrograde measure so far as that aspect of the Bill is concerned. Again, my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, was pleased to state that, in accordance with the wishes of this House, he modified his Bill, inasmuch as he does not propose to give any share to the widow under this Bill. Has he done that now ? I submit, no. He gives under certain conditions the entire estate to the widow and, under certain other conditions, he gives the income of that estate in equal shares with sons if there are any sons. Is this a satisfactory solution or modification of the measure in consonance with the approved and expressed views on this House on the last occasion ?

[Mr. B. Sitaramaraju.]

I would further like to point out that there is one difficulty which must present itself to all of us and, as regards that difficulty, I might quote the words of the Advocate General of Madras. On the last occasion, the Advocate General of Madras was pleased to state :

" The lawyer looking on the Hindu law as a system from the scientific point of view may well feel apprehensive that the Bill may produce anomalous results and have the effect of converting the Hindu law into a mongrel system without any basic principles to guide us. Piecemeal legislation on any particular topic in the field of Hindu law which appeals to a particular legislator is sure to bring about inextricable confusion."

Mr. B. V. Jadhav (Bombay Central Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Who is to introduce a code of law ?

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : My Honourable friend is labouring under the same delusion which my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, was labouring under on the last occasion. Diwan Bahadur Sarda, on that occasoin, was saying, if you do not want to make piecemeal inroads into the Hindu law, do you want me to cast the whole Hindu law into the sea and introduce a different system altogether ? That is not what was said even by the Advocate General of Madras and other learned advocates on the last occasion who went into this question. They said that the Hindu law was such a complicated system that to attempt to go into it.....

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda (Ajmer-Merwara : General) : What law is not a complicated system ? Is the Hindu law alone a complicated system ?

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : It is much more complicated than others.

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : The Hindu law is less complicated than the English law or the Roman law. If my Honourable friend had studied Hindu law, he would find that it is less complicated.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : I am sorry my Honourable friend has not yet learned to understand a law about which he tries to speak with assurance. But let me proceed. On the last occasion, what the learned Vakils and other Advocates, who gave expression to their opinion on this matter, said was, the law being such a complicated system, so far as the Hindus were concerned, it was far better you took one group of that portion of the law, for instance, the law relating to women under the Hindu law. You can make there such changes and see that, in making those changes, you do not do injustice to other interests concerned. That was what those learned Advocates said. They do not state, a new code of laws should be substituted for the Hindu Law as my Honourable friend, Mr. Jadhav, would like the House to understand, but even that is not impossible if he were to remember that even at the present moment in Travancore there was a committee appointed to go into the whole question of the Hindu law and to make changes to suit the present day needs and to see whether such modifications could not be made in the whole system so as to bring out a new code of laws. That was done by the Travancore State.

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : My present Bill makes no modification of the Hindu law at all. It does not touch any principle of the Hindu law. The question of maintenance is a part of the Hindu law and it is well known that my Bill only provides how this maintenance is to be calculated. No principle of Hindu law is at all affected by this Bill and, therefore, all these remarks are irrelevant.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : I do not mind being drawn into a discussion with the Honourable the Law Member, but I do not want to enter into a discussion with my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, whose views of Hindu law seem to be different from those of ours. I would, however, like to give a fair understanding of the problem which has been troubling my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda. What he wants is to give a fixed amount of maintenance to the Hindu widow. So far so good. It is not difficult to appreciate that. But, according to him, the amount of maintenance which he would like to give is the income of the entire estate of the husband when joint, if he dies without sons and an equal share if he has sons. He says that so far as the right of maintenance is concerned, it depends mostly upon the pleasure of the relatives of the husband. This is wholly incorrect. The maintenance of a Hindu widow does not at all depend upon the sweet will and pleasure of her husband's relatives. It depends upon what the Courts think to be a proper maintenance to be given to a Hindu widow, because the ultimate authority in all these matters is the Court and the principle which guides a Court in giving maintenance to a widow is this. The amount of the widow's maintenance is to be settled having regard to the value of the estate, to the position and the status of the deceased husband and of the widow as well as to the mode of life of the family during the husband's life time and also having regard to what amount would be sufficient to allow the widow to live consistently with a widow's position in the same degree of comfort and with the same reasonable luxury of life as in the husband's life time ; and her proper maintenance should include " not only the ordinary expenses of living, but also that which she might reasonably expend for religious and other duties incident to the station in life which she might occupy ".

These are the principles upon which the Courts decree a proper maintenance of a widow. On an earlier occasion, my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, said that it was true that Hindu widows, most of them being illiterate, did not know their rights. But, may I ask, whether an extension of her rights would make her know more of her rights than she knows now ? That is not the remedy. I have no objection if a certain portion of the income is to be definitely settled, if that can be considered a desirable change in law ; but, before you ask a definite portion of the income of the estate to be given to a widow, you have to consider what is the existing position of the law. It is very elastic. It gives power to a Court of law, in its unfettered discretion, to judge from all the attending circumstances as to what would be a proper amount of maintenance to the widow, whereas a hard and fast rule would not be of the same value as an elastic rule which the law now has. That is one point for consideration.

Another point which I should like to mention is that there are a number of other interests besides that of a widow which require to be considered. There are the interests of other persons entitled to maintenance. There are the marriage expenses and similar other charges. If the widow gets the whole income according to this Bill, how are those other interests to be safeguarded ? Would the maintenance of unmarried daughters, and other persons, male and female, liable to be maintained, be a charge on the widow's income ? It will not be. Therefore, that point also has to be considered. As regards the idea of my Honourable friend to have a sort of uniform law for the whole of India with regard to the rights of women, that is a much bigger job than he really thinks. Because, here in this country, there are many systems of law ; there is the Dayabhaga, Mitakshara, Mayukha, and there is also the Marumakkathayam system of the south. Then, there are also the customary laws governing other people. At one time, it was the ambition of my Honourable friend to have one law with regard to this subject throughout the whole of India, but it was found, when the opinions were collected on the last occasion, that there were systems of law like the Marumakkathayam law of the south, where the rights are more than he can hope to give under this Bill. So he has confined the Bill now to only Dayabhaga and Mitakshara. These two are entirely different systems. I have no objection if any one system, taken by itself, requires any modification if such modification is made in the light of modern conditions. I would welcome it ; but to group entirely different systems of law and try to pick out one which is good here and another which is good there and try to make out a law appears to us not proper and this may lead to results which my Honourable friend would never agree to have.

[Mr. B. Sitaramaraju.]

Sir, I would like, with a few words more, to conclude now. The whole difficulty of those governed by Mitakshara is this. I will give one example to show how we, who are governed by the Mitakshara law, find it difficult to accept these provisions. The difficulty is this. Supposing a father is dead. There is a mother. The son leaves the mother and his widow behind with two sons and daughters. According to the proportion in which the income is to be divided under these provisions, assuming the income is Rs. 1,000 a year, Rs. 500 would go to the mother, Rs. 250 would go to the son's widow and the two grandsons will have only Rs. 250. That is, out of this estate of Rs. 1,000, Rs. 750 will go to the two women and Rs. 250 will be all that will remain to the two sons and, with that income of 125 each, they will be under obligation to maintain the other members of the family, such as unmarried sisters, etc., who have a right for maintenance. I do not think it is at all fair.

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : It will not be the duty of the sons to maintain the mother and the grandmother after they have had their share.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : I was saying that the mother will get Rs. 500, the son's widow will get Rs. 250, and the grandsons will only get Rs. 250 and the grandsons will have to maintain the others entitled to maintenance.

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : If I have heard Mr. Raju aright, I say that the grandsons will not have to maintain either the mother or the grandmother, because they have got their shares.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : I never said that they still will have to be maintained after taking the son's share of the income. The whole trouble with Diwan Bahadur Sarda is that he does not understand the others' point of view. What I was saying was that there were other people like unmarried sisters and also even male members who were required to be maintained out of the income of the estate, and they would have to be maintained by the grandsons who had so small a share. Is it fair ? So far as I can understand public opinion in my part of the country, I think people, who are governed by the Mitakshara, would strongly object to changes of this description in their law.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt (Burdwan Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, let me assure the House that I am not going to bore the House with observations on principles of Hindu law and their institutions and customs. If I rise at all, it is only to point out that clause 5 of the Bill is quite unnecessary. We belong to the Dayabhaga School and I am not concerned with what happens to my friends, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh and Pandit Ram Krishna Jha. Sir, I think every student of law knows that, under the Dayabhaga, a son is bound to maintain the mother if he inherits his father's property, and, if there is a partition between the sons, the mother gets a share. I do not know what was the necessity of incorporating this Dayabhaga law, about which it seems my Honourable friend has no knowledge, having administered the law in a province where Dayabhaga does not prevail. So I submit that he has not taken the same care as we would expect from a man of his erudition in framing this Bill. Be that as it may, as the Law Member has asked for circulation, and it seems that every one of us is agreed on that point, let us have circulation without further boring the House with our own views about the law on this and that subject.

Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore (Lucknow Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, this Bill has been introduced to fix the amount of maintenance to which Hindu widows are entitled and to make that maintenance a charge on their husbands' family property, and this shall not be effected by any testament which a husband may make during his life time to the detriment of the widow's rights as secured to her by this Act. In this Bill, the Mover only wants to lay down certain broad principles which, without attempting to alter the Hindu Law of Inheritance, may to some extent mitigate the sufferings to which the Hindu widows are subjected owing to the absence of provisions in the Law of Inheritance.

Sir, nobody can deny that the plight of Hindu widows requires amelioration and sympathy should be shown to them. So it is a necessary piece of legislation as it affords great relief to Hindu widows whose rights, under the existing system of Hindu Law, are meagre and require to be enlarged in view of the rapidly changing conditions of the Hindu society in modern times. But I would, however, like that suitable provisions should be made in the Bill to make it clear that a Hindu widow, whose maintenance would be fixed, would enjoy that maintenance as a charge on her husband's property as long as she does not re-marry. I think the little comfort that a Hindu widow requires should be ensured by law by fixing her maintenance as long as she does not re-marry. This Bill, if passed after some improvement in addition to doing good to the widows, will help in strengthening the joint family systems ; for, the widows, even if not starved, are oppressed and ill-treated and will remain in their families and keep the family together and keep up the old traditions of Hindu society. Thousands of widows are driven away from their homes and the way they are forced to live is a standing disgrace to Hindu society. If their maintenance be fixed, they will add to the unity and the happiness of the whole family for, as Manu truly says, " where women are respected, the families prosper and happiness reigns ". A happy and contented widow will bring a sunshine to a family otherwise darkened by shadows of family differences. This Bill does not give any right to the Hindu widow to become the sole owner of her deceased husband's personal property, it is only for fixing her maintenance, and no son, grandson, great grandson or anybody, to whom the Mitakshara or Dayabhaga gives any rights, can be disinherited by this. As to what should happen to the share in case she re-marries, may be clearly set out by a clause in the Bill and such other defect as may be found in the Bill in its present form can be set right whenever this Bill will go to the Select Committee. Sir, the views mentioned above are my personal views, but I would like to obtain public opinion before this Bill is passed into law, as there should be no change in our laws framed by the venerable Rishis of old without obtaining the opinions of Hindu Jurists and of the Hindu community which would be affected by it. So, the Bill should be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon.

[Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore.]

Mr. S. C. Sen (Bengal National Chamber of Commerce : Indian Commerce) : Sir, it is not necessary for me to enter into the details of the Bill. There has been sufficient criticism from the learned Law Member and also from Mr. Raju. If any criticism is necessary, the last clause in the Bill is not only obnoxious, but is absolutely dangerous. The last clause in the Bill is to prevent testamentary disposition by the deceased owner of his property so as to prejudice the rights of the widow. Now, if a sonless man dies, the widow, according to the Bill, will be entitled to the whole income. Supposing the income is more than a lakh of rupees, the widow will get it, but the testator will not be able to make any testamentary disposition for charitable purposes or for other purposes : he will have to leave the whole of the property to the widow. That is a thing which is preposterous on the face of it. It is, therefore, necessary that the Bill should be circulated, and I support the motion moved by the Honourable the Law Member ; but my grievance is that the time to report is too short. It has been fixed at 31st December, 1933. The matter is a very complicated one and will raise more complicated issues than we think of. To take one instance, what would be the condition of a widow who goes wrong the day after the husband dies ? Will she be entitled to continue to enjoy the whole of the income during her immoral life ? Of course I know that the British Indian Hindu law on the subject favours the immoral widow to continue to enjoy the whole of the property : but that was not the intention of the Shastrakars or of the original Hindu law ; but that has been made case law by the Indian Courts, by Judges who did not understand the Hindu law, but who took only the opinion of Pandits. This also ought to be considered by a progressive man like Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda. Under these circumstances, I support the motion, but I would like that the time may be enlarged a bit to enable all shades of public opinion including Hindus and learned men to give their considered views on this subject. Five months is not enough to change a law which has been in existence for centuries and centuries.

Some Honourable Members : The question may now be put.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir I fully recognise that this is not the stage when we should make long speeches—at least we should not go into the contested points which are involved in this question which, I may say, might throw Diwan Bahadur Sarda into rage. My point at present is that it cannot possibly be said that this small Bill is without difficulties ; and I am in full agreement with the Honourable the Law Member that there are several questions to be considered. My Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, should not be under any misconception that I will not help in his progressive measures ; but I must say that the principles and practices, which Hindus from time immemorial have stuck to, cannot be lightly treated now. So, without going into the merits of the case, I will make a few observations as regards the difficulties to be solved and upon which public opinion is absolutely necessary. First, as we all know, the normal condition of Hindus is that of a joint Hindu family. If my word is not accepted, I can quote authorities. Now, this Bill is likely to cause disruption in the joint Hindu family system. We are accustomed to the joint Hindu family which is so very felicitous to our conditions and very helpful too. But now Western influences have come in to teach us individuality ; the wife is allured by individuality to be by herself ; the husband does the same thing ; the son does not like to be joint with the father, and so on. Therefore, my fear is that this may not disrupt our society. There is a motto in western countries " Every one for himself and God for all " which we should beware of. Therefore, this is a point upon which the public must be given a voice. I personally, however, had to belong to a joint Hindu family, not only of sons, but of brothers, and so I know what advantages there are in it. I shall not now go any more into the disadvantages which prevail owing to the present Western waves. Next is the question of survivorship with the joint Hindu family. Of course, Bengali gentlemen do not care for that and they will not consider whether survivorship lives or not. But survivorship has lived and done great good. This also must be considered. The third very important question is this : the Bill says :

> " Whereas it is expedient to fix the amount of maintenance to which Hindu widows are entitled and to make that maintenance a charge on their husbands' family property."

Now as to the latter portion about making it a charge on the family property—it is not even necessary to legislate : the existing Hindu law has already provided for it ; the property which is inherited is always subject to maintenance being a first charge upon it. Therefore, what we are concerned with is the first portion. It may be said that everybody has got sympathy with the widow and the law allows maintenance to be given to the widow which will be a charge on the property. But the point that progressive members of the society want is to fix it. But how very difficult it is. I may give just one instance to show that it might be detrimental to the interests of the widows themselves if this maintenance is fixed. I illustrate it by a living instance. A man left property worth Rs 1,000. If half the property had been given to the widow, she would have got Rs. 500. In the instance I am giving, the widow lived for about fifty years after she became a widow. If she had got only Rs. 500, what would have happened to her ? Could she possibly have lived on that amount for fifty years ? The joint family members were solicitious to her and were also conscious of the fact that they should not give her a lump sum, but that they should give her some allowance and they fixed it at Rs. 10 a month, and, for fifty years, she got this allowance, amounting in all to Rs. 6,000. Therefore, I say, if you are going to fix the amount, you might be doing great harm to the widows. I agree that on this and the other questions public opinion should be obtained by circulation and a very wide one, so that all kinds of people may give their views, and, after that, we might consider whether the Bill should or should not be passed. I, therefore, support the amendment.

[Mr. Lalchand Navalrai.]

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : Sir, I am very sorry I have not had the advantage of listening to the speech of the Honourable the Law Member when he proposed the amendment to my motion in regard to circulation. As I had not been quite well, I was not able to come earlier. I am, therefore, not in a position to say anything as to what has fallen from him. I came in when my friend, Mr. Raju, was speaking, and I should like to say a word or two with regard to certain observations that he made on this Bill. He said that this Bill would do away with the testamentary rights of the husband and that if the husband wishes to make a testament with regard to his property if this Bill is passed, he would not be able to do so. Now, if a husband wants to make a testament depriving his widow of any interest in the property to which she becomes possessed after his death, then certainly the husband should be prevented from making a testament to the disadvantage of his widow. If the husband does not make any testament which is disadvantageous to the widow.....

1 P.M.

Mr. B. Sitaramaraju : What about self-acquired property ?

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : Whether self-acquired or not, under the ancient Hindu law, as soon as a woman is married to the man, she becomes the co-owner of the property. There are any number of texts to show this, but all that is gone now ; still I bow to the principles on which the present Hindu law is based. I ask, Sir, does a woman, when she is married, cease to have any rights in this world ? Does she become rightless ? Does she become a stone or a piece of wood ? Has she not a soul ? Has she not got a life to live in this world ? Why should you deprive that woman of all her legitimate rights ? Why should you ignore her, when you are so solicitious of the righs of all the reversioners or survivors and other people in the world ? My friend, Mr. Raju, is so solicitous of the rights of the survivors or the reversioners, but what about the widow who passed all her life with her husband, and who bore him so many children ? Is she not to have any rights ? You do not want to look to her interests and rights, while you are anxious to protect the rights of the survivors and reversioners. This is the mentality, the slave mentality of my countrymen today. So long, I say it with all the emphasis at my command, so long as our people do not do justice to their womenfolk, they will live in perpetual political subordination. So long as you are not just to your own mothers, to your own sisters, so long as you are not just to the women, you will not get justice yourselves. You do not care for the poor woman, you only care for yourself, and if you continue to keep up that mentality, I am sure you are doomed.

My friend, Mr. Raju, quoted the Advocate General of Madras, but I say with due respect, Sir, that all that the Advocate General said is now irrelevant, because what he said pertained to my last Bill which gave the widow a share in the property of her husband, and that, of course, did interfere with the law of inheritance which obtains among the Hindus. But this Bill does not give a share to the widow, this Bill does not give her any absolute right in any property. It only regulates the amount of maintenance to be given which is recognised by all schools of Hindu thought. What that maintenance shall be, I have tried to fix. If it does not meet with the acceptance of this House, the Select Committee can alter it. I don't mean to say that what I have fixed is irrevocable like laws of the Medes and the ancient Persians. My object is that the Hindu widows in India should be put in a better position. That is all. If any changes have to be made in the Bill, the Select Committee is the proper forum where this can be done. Circulation will not help. Circulation does not mean that every man to whom the Bill is circulated will give his opinion in detail ; but even if everybody gives his own suggestions, they will all have to be considered in the Select Committee.

My friend also read out some portion from some judgment, I believe, which said that the amount of maintenance which should be given to a widow must be regulated by certain considerations. I quite agree, but those principles have no statutory force ; they are not law. They are merely principles which may or may not be acted upon and which, in 99 cases out of 100, are not acted upon at the present time. I know of cases,—I have been a Judge myself,—I know of cases which came before Courts, in which Hindu widows were given sometimes Rs. 4 and Rs. 5 a month while, when their husbands were alive, they had servants and a good house. (At this stage several Honourable Members were laughing.) My dear friends, it is no use laughing, but if you go into these matters carefully and investigate the thing, you will find that the condition of widows in many cases is most deplorable. And why ? Because they have no legal rights. If they had legal rights, the case would not have been so bad, but because of lack of legal rights their condition is hopeless in many cases. I quite agree that in many cases in respectable families the condition of the widows is not at all bad. Their word is law. I know of widows who exercise paramount authority in household affairs. I don't mean to say that every widow in India is in a deplorable condition—not at all, but there are many who are in a very deplorable condition, and, to ameliorate their lot, I have brought forward this measure.

My friend spoke about a case in which a man left property the income of which was Rs. 1,000 ; according to the Bill, my friend says, she will get Rs. 500, the son's wife will get Rs. 250, and the grandson will get Rs. 250, and he will have to maintain the family. As I heard him, I thought that he meant that the charge of maintaining the grandmother and the mother would be on him, but he explained later that he did not mean that. What he meant to say was that the grandson had to maintain the sisters and other members of the family. I do not quite see the point of his argument. He will have to maintain them. He is the male member of the family, he is the earning member of the family. He has got to live in this world with his family and he has got to maintain them. Supposing his father or grandfather did not leave a single pie, would he not still have to maintain them ? So, that question is beside the point. He has a legal liability to maintain them. He is under a legal liability to arrange and to provide marriage expenses for his sisters. But the point is these cases are very few. You will find that the provisions of this Bill in no way go against the other provisions of the Hindu Law. If they do, I have no objection to modifying the thing. I do not want that this should be absolute. This is only a sort of standard that I have put down for general guidance. If the Select Committee thinks that certain modifications should be made in order to be just to everybody, I have no objection to those modifications being made. When I asked that this may be referred to a Select Committee, it meant that if there was anything which could profitably be amended in the provisions of this Bill, the Select Committee would take that action.

[Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda.]

Some friend of mine said that the law prevalent in South India is more liberal to women than the Mitakshara or the Dayabhaga law. Let it be so. If it is so, I have no quarrel with it. If the widow's condition, if the legal status of a widow under that law is better, well and good, I have nothing to say. This Bill won't apply to them. Where the legal position of a widow is bad, is deplorable, it is there only that this law will apply.

The question of amending the Hindu Law, I admit, is not a very easy one, but this Bill does not amend the Hindu Law at all. It is perfectly correct that when you amend any part of a system of law, you have got to keep in mind the bearing that that amendment will have on other parts of that law. I quite agree, but, as I have said over and over again, this Bill does not amend any principle of the Hindu Law, and consequently all arguments based upon that point of view are not relevant.

It has been said, and it will be reiterated in future always whenever any measure of social reform is proposed, that it is not right to amend the Hindu Law piecemeal. This is an argument which has absolutely no force.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House stands adjourned till Half Past Two.

The Assembly then adjourned for Lunch till Half Past Two of the Clock.

The Assembly re-assembled after Lunch at Half Past Two of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : Sir, a few minutes ago, an Honourable Member of this House asked me why should a husband be prevented from exercising his testamentary rights and leaving his widow unprovided for, if she does not obey him. Now, I want to ask him what happens if the husband acts improperly. Another question was, what, if she goes wrong ? I asked what, if the son goes wrong, if the male members of the family go wrong and waste the whole of the landed property, leaving the women unprovided for and starving ? Has any gentleman, who is solicitious of the rights of the male members, brought forward any Bill to restrict the rights of a male member, if he is on the high road to ruin. Unfortunately the fact is that the very conception of a woman, her status and her rights, held by some of my friends, is defective, prejudiced and unjust. Many of these gentlemen regard women as chattel, as born only to minister to the needs of men, to pass their lives as slaves, as household necessities, but without any independent existence, without any legal rights of their own. The husband commits no wrong. Just as in England the King commits no wrong, in Hindu society, the husband commits no wrong. A woman always does wrong if she does not obey her husband in every detail. Unfortunately this is not Hinduism. This is not Hindu Law, so far as the texts go. My friends are unwilling to give women their rights, elementary rights, in fact the very first step towards doing them justice that this Bill wants to do, and themselves want more and more liberty, more rights and more justice for themselves from Government. May I respectfully beg them to prove themselves worthy of the rights they themselves ask for, of the justice they demand by giving their own mothers, sisters and daughters their rights and treat them with a little more justice.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the Bill to fix the amount of maintenance to which Hindu widows are entitled be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 1st December, 1933."

The motion was adopted.

THE INDIAN "KHADDAR" (NAME PROTECTION) BILL.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (Muzzafarpur cum Champaran : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I beg to move :

"That the Bill to provide for the protection of the names 'Khaddar' and 'Khadi' used as trade descriptions of cloth spun and woven by hand in India, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, the Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore, the Honourable Sir Frank Noyce, Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury, Sir Lancelot Graham, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Sardar Sant Singh, Mr. B. R. Puri, Mr. S. C. Sen, Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya, Mr. Uppi Saheb Bahadur, Mr. J. Ramsay Scott, Raja Bahadur G. Krishnamachariar, Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

Sir, when this Bill was last before the House, on which day the motion for circulation was carried, I explained very briefly the object of my Bill. The object is to protect the names "Khaddar" and "Khadi" under the Merchandise Marks Act, and to prevent spurious cloth, which is produced in mills either in India or in foreign countries, from being palmed off on the unsuspecting public under the names of "Khaddar" and "Khadi". I quoted on that occasion the appropriate section of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act which gives the definition of trade description. Section 2 of the Merchandise Marks Act gives the definition of trade description, and, under section 6 of that Act, anybody who applies a false trade description to goods is punishable with fine or imprisonment.

Sir, I am glad to acknowledge with gratitude that on that occasion, in making the motion for circulation on this Bill, my Honourable friend, the Commerce Member, gave an assurance to this House that in making that motion the Government did not necessarily intend to oppose the Bill. Since opinions have been collected on this Bill, you will find that there is a consensus of opinion among the public bodies and individuals in favour of my Bill. I will have to quote the opinion of some of the individuals and public bodies who are in favour of my Bill. Sir P. C. Roy from Calcutta says in his letter to me, dated 9th March last :

[Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh.]

" Allow me to express my sincere thanks for giving notice of a Khaddar Act to prevent the manufacture and sale of spurious Khaddar. During the last twelve years, I have worn myself out both for the manufacture and propaganda of Khaddar. Along with Sreejuts Rajagopalachariar, Rajendra Prasad and other workers, we have tried our best to create a taste and a demand for Khaddar. Unfortunately, dishonest manufacturers of spurious Khaddar have been trading upon the patriotism of the ignorant people with the result that there is a set back in the sale of genuine Khaddar to our serious loss and detriment. I trust you will persist in your noble efforts and I hope they will be crowned with success."

The Federation of the Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry have also supported my Bill, and also the Bihar and Orissa Chamber of Commerce. Then, the Muslim Chambers of Commerce of Bihar and Orissa have also supported my Bill. In this connection, I should like to know from the Government as to the way in which such Bills are circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon, because, from the printed papers that are before Honourable Members, they will find that the names of the Bihar and Orissa Chamber of Commerce and some other bodies are not mentioned there. I do not know whether the Local Governments concerned consulted those bodies or not, but the fact remains that their opinions do not find a place among the printed papers that are before Honourable Members. Coming now to Bengal, I find that the Anglo-Indian and Domiciled European Association of All India and Burma, Calcutta, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, Indian Chambers of Commerce, the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, all of them support the principle of my Bill. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce says :

" The Committee of the Chamber have examined the provisions of the Bill in consultation with the Piecegoods Sub-committee of the Chamber and I have to inform you that they see no particular objection to the Bill. In the opinion of the Chamber Committee it would be to the advantage of the trade if the use of terms Khaddar and Khadi were confined strictly to the genuine article, namely, handmade cloth from handspun yarn."

The Indian Chamber of Commerce strongly recommends to the Government that the Bill should be passed for the protection of hand spinning and hand weaving. The Bengal National Chamber of Commerce also say that they do not think that there will be any difficulty in enforcing the provisions of the Bill, and that the trade custom confines the use of the term " Khaddar " to cotton piece goods woven by hand from handspun yarn. Then, Sir, the Madras Government have supported the principle of my Bill, and I beg to express my thankfulness to that enlightened Government whose representative we welcome in this House. The Madras Government say :

" The term ' Khaddar ' or ' Khadi ' does signify in common usage cloth woven on hand looms from hand spun yarn."

Diwan Bahadur Narasimharaju Garu, the ex-President of the Madras Legislative Council also supports my Bill, and says :

" The words ' Khaddar ' and ' Khadi ' have acquired a specific meaning and the market and trade custom does confine the use of these terms to cotton goods woven by hand from yarn spun by hand. I may mention that there will not be any administrative inconvenience when the Bill becomes law."

The Tuticorin Chamber of Commerce, the Malabar Chamber of Commerce, Calicut, the Calicut Chamber of Commerce, the Indian Chamber of Commerce, the Godavari Chamber of Commerce, Coconada, the Coconada Chamber of Commerce, the Southern India Chamber of Commerce, Madras, the Madras Press Association, the Buckingham and Karnatic Mills, Ltd., Madras, which I understand is a European firm and they have the fairness to support my Bill, the Madura Ramnath Chamber of Commerce, the Cochin Chamber of Commerce, all support the principles of my Bill. Diwan Bahadur C. R. Mudaliar, M.L.C., Coimbatore, says in his letter :

" In these parts trade custom does confine the use of the terms ' Khaddar ' and ' Khadi ' to cotton textiles woven from hand from yarn spun by hand " ; and that : " I do not foresee any administrative difficulty in giving effect to the Act."

The European Chamber of Commerce of Bengal also support my Bill, so also the Edward Mills Company, Ltd., Beawar.

Then, Sir, there are some gentlemen in the N. W. F. P., for instance, the Vice-President of the Peshawar Piecegoods Association, who also support my Bill. In fact, nobody opposes it. The Mercantile Chambers of Commerce, United Provinces, Cawnpore, say that it would afford protection to the millions now engaged in the manufacture of " Khaddar " and the chances of the deception now prevalent will be greatly alleviated. The Hindustani Mercantile Association of Delhi, the Industrial Surveyor of Delhi, support my Bill. The Director of Industries, Bihar and Orissa, says :

" It seems clear that the Bill has the support of Indian public opinion."

Most of the gentlemen in Assam to whom this Bill was sent for opinion have also supported it. The Government of Bombay says as follows :

" The majority of the commercial Associations who were consulted support the Bill, while the Bombay Chamber of Commerce and the Bombay Millowners Association are not in favour of it."

With regard to the Bombay Chamber of Commmerce, I find from their letter that they are not so much opposed to the Bill on principle, but they foresee some difficulty in administering its provisions.

The Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry, the Indian Merchants' Chamber, the Maharashtra Chamber of Commerce and the Marwari Chamber of Commerce, the Bombay Piecegoods Association, the Bombay Cotton Merchants and Mukhadams, the Ahmedabad Millowners Association, the Karachi Indian Merchants Association, the Karachi Chamber of Commerce, the Buyers and Shippers Chamber of Commerce of Karachi all support my Bill.

I now come to the opinion of the Millowners Association of Bombay of which my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, is the President. At the outset, I stated that this Bill sought to protect the names of " Khaddar " and " Khadi " from the dishonest manufacturers of spurious articles. I am not surprised that those who indulge in such shady transactions and who are trading upon the patriotism of the people should be the people to oppose my Bill. These gentlemen, when it touches their pockets, come here to this House with begging bowls, not only do they come to the fldor of the House, but they also follow us in the lobby and seek our support when they are in dire need. But when it comes to the question of affording legitimate protection to the indigenous industries of this country, I mean the hand loom cottage industries, they come out in true colours. My Honourable friend,

[Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh.]

Mr. Mody, is solicitous for the support of this House with regard to the Bill which is now pending, and which, I am glad to say, was not finished yesterday, because the attitude of many of us with regard to his Bill will be determined by the attitude which he takes up here on my Bill. If my Honourable friend is sincere in his profession, with regard to protecting the mill industry of this country, he should at least have the fairness to appear in cloths produced in his own mills, whereas I find he is distinguishing himself in borrowed plumes, and appearing in British costumes.

Well, Sir, the Burma Chamber of Commerce raises no objection to my Bill. The Burmese Indian Chamber strongly supports the Bill, as also the Chettiyar's Association. The Chinese Chamber in Burma does not oppose the Bill. If it is the desire of the House that I should read out the Bombay Millowners' Association's opinion, I will do so. They say :

" According to the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Bill the names ' Khaddar ' and ' Khadi ' have come to denote hand-spun and hand-woven cloth only. It is pointed out that considerable progress has been made in recent years in reviving and popularising as a cottage industry spinning and weaving by hand as a supplementary occupation among the agriculturist population of this country, who stand in need of an additional source of income. Such progress as has been achieved is very largely supported by the patriotic impulse of the poorer and well-to-do classes who are purchasing khaddar or khadi even at a sacrifice. The situation is sought to be taken advantage of by manufacturers of spurious khaddar both in India and abroad, and purchasers have been frequently misled to the detriment of what might easily become a great national industry. In other words, it is contended that the term ' Khadi ' or ' Khaddar ' means '-hand spun and hand woven cloth only ', and on this contention the objection to the use of such terms by manufacturers of ' spurious ' Khaddar both in India and abroad has been largely based. The Committee of this Association have examined the contention and they find that, while the Mover has himself admitted that the production of ' Khadi ' on hand looms was revived and popularised only in recent years, such cloth has been manufactured by the Indian mill industry from very early times."

But, Sir, the millowners of Bombay forget that, even before the advent of mill industry in this country, " Khaddar " or " Khadi " was used, and manufactured as cottage industry in this country from time immemorial.

The Millowners' Association, Bombay, further proceed :

" The first authoritative census of Indian mill production was taken in 1896-97, i.e., after the Cotton excise duty had been in operation for some time, and in the administration report published by Government in July, 1896, a reference was made to the production of khadi in India mills and the tariff valuations under the Act published by Government from year to year since that date up to the abolition of the duty in 1926 throughout mentioned the production of khadi which was also valued at a lower figure than most of the other types of cloth. These facts show that the term in question has been commonly used in reference to coarse cloth produced in Indian mills."

Sir, this Association is evidently wrong in saying that since the time their mills began to produce this coarse khadi, the genuine stuff has come into existence, whereas, as a matter of fact, the genuine stuff has been in existence from time immemorial even before the dishonest manufacturers of " Khaddar " began to turn out spurious imitation of the genuine stuff in their mills. Sir, it will be a waste of time to read any further the stuff to which I made reference just now. I am glad to say that the Central Provinces Government have recorded the following opinion :

" With regard to the specific points on which information is desired the Governor in Council is of opinion that (a) the evidence available on the point is conflicting, but if the statements of interested concerns are discounted it would appear that trade custom in the province confines the use of the term ' Khaddar ' to hand woven cloth made from hand spun yarn, (b) it is desirable to impose the definition by law in order to protect genuine khaddar and those who produce it or buy it against spurious khaddar sold as the genuine article, (c) there should be no difficulty in administering the law in the internal markets of the province."

The Deputy Commissioner of Jubbulpore, and Akola Factory Owners Association have supported my Bill. The Government of Punjab seems to be neutral. They say that : " it is unlikely to do much harm or much good to anybody ". I will now come to the opinion of the High Court, Punjab. The Honourable Justice Sir Abdul Qadir has supported my Bill, and, in doing so, he says :

" In my opinion the Mover's observations at the end of the Statement of Objects and Reasons are quite correct that the exclusive use of these terms for this cloth cannot prejudicially affect bona fide purchasers or distributors of any other variety of cloth. I do not see any objection to this Bill being passed into law."

This opinion is agreed to by other Judges of the Punjab High Court including the Chief Justice. The Director of Industries of the Punjab, the Indian Chamber of Commerce, Punjab, and the Merchants' Association and the Northern India Chamber of Commerce have all expressed themselves in favour of my Bill without any qualification. The Punjab Trades Association state that the objects aimed at are sound and that the provisions of the Bill meet their support. The Deputy Commissioner, Gurdaspur, the Sub-Divisional Officer, Moga, the Punjab Trades Association, Lahore, the Simla Trades Association have all approved my Bill. I have already stated that barring the Government of Bengal all other public bodies in Bengal have supported my Bill. I will, therefore, assume that barring the few Local Governments whose opinion I presume is tinted with political bias—because this movement in favour of the propagation of " Khaddar " was supported by the Indian National Congress—I say barring the few opinions of the Local Governments, the overwhelming consensus of opinion both among the European public bodies and Indians is in favour of my Bill. My Bill does not seek to force anybody to wear " Khaddar ", I only want that the trade description should confine the terms " Khaddar " and " Khadi " to cloths spun and woven by hand in India. And it is only those people who trade in spurious articles that may have any objection to the Bill. I, therefore, without taking any more time of the House, move my motion.

3 P.M.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

" That the Bill to provide for the protection of the names " Khaddar " and " Khadi " used as trade descriptions of cloth spun and woven by hand in India, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, the Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore, the Honourable Sir Frank Noyce, Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury, Sir Lancelot Graham, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Sardar Sant Singh, Mr. B. R. Puri, Mr. S. C. Sen, Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya, Mr. Uppi Saheb Bahadur, Mr. J. Ramsay Scott, Raja Bahadur G. Krishnamachariar, Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

Mr. H. P. Mody (Bombay Millowners' Association : Indian Commerce) : Sir, my Honourable friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, waxed indignant over the sins of the Bombay millowners yesterday and has come back to the attack and worked himself up into a state of positive fury today. He went the length of suggesting that those people who had the effrontery to oppose his very innocuous motion,—innocuous according to the testimony which he himself read out,—were actuated by dishonest motives. Well, Sir, I do think that my Honourable friend knows exactly what he is talking about, and if he is thinking of dishonest persons he must be speaking with experience of the parts of the country from which he hails. So far as the Bombay millowners are concerned my Honourable friend ought to know that this Bill does not affect them one bit and that their attitude is not only positively unexceptionable, but absolutely disinterested. Some three or four years ago, in response to public sentiment and in view of various discussions we had with those interested in the movement, the Bombay mills voluntarily gave up using the name " Khadi " or " Khaddar " on any of the cloth produced by them ; and if, in spite of that, there are people who are using those names on mill-made cloth, then my Honourable friend ought to apply his search-light nearer home and find out whether from his own district or from adjoining districts that very class of people does not come.

[Mr. H. P. Mody.]

Sir, if I oppose the principle underlying this Bill, I oppose it, because I think it is altogether wrong, and not because the interests which I represent are affected in any way. I have already made it perfectly clear that, if this Bill were passed, it would not affect a single mill in Bombay. We have given up the use of the names " Khadi " and " Khaddar " and we do not care whether that is enforced by legislation or otherwise. But I want to point out to the House several serious objections before this Bill is passed, or its principle accepted by reference to a Select Committee.

The assumption on which my Honourable friend proceeds is that " the Bill seeks to extend the protection afforded by the Merchandise Marks Act, 1889, to the names ' Khaddar ' and ' Khadi ' which have come to denote hand spun and hand woven cloth only ". Who told him that ? I want to know whether he challenges the information contained in the representation which we have submitted on this question, namely, that ever since 1896, i.e., since the time from which records exist, if not much earlier, the name " Khaddar " or " Khadi " has been used to denote mill-made cloth of a coarse variety. (Voices : " No, no.") What is the use of saying " no " when we have got here a statement which challenges contradiction :

" The first authoritative census of Indian mill-made production was taken in 1896-97, i.e., after the Cotton Excise Duty had been in operation for some time, and in the Administration Report published by Government in July 1896, a reference was made to the production of ' Khadi ' in Indian mills, and the tariff valuations under the Act published by Government from year to year since that date up to the abolition of the duty in 1926 throughout mentioned the production of ' Khadi ' which was also valued at a lower figure than most of the other types of cloth."

I say, therefore, that it is entirely wrong to contend that the terms " Khadi " and " Khaddar " are associated in the public mind with hand spun and hand woven cloth only. It is perfectly true that, long before the mills started manufacturing cloth, coarse or otherwise, there was the hand loom industry in existence. As a matter of fact, it is well known that India is the birthplace of the textile industry. But it is equally true that for as many years back as we can see, mill made cloth was turned out as " Khadi " cloth, and was classified as " Khadi " cloth in official publications. Therefore, it is wrong to suggest that the name has come to denote hand spun and hand woven cloth only. That is not only the opinion of my Association, but also of other Associations. The Bombay Chamber of Commerce have said that ; I think also the Bengal Chamber of Commerce ; and one of the Punjab Chambers want to be quite ass before they can give their adherence to the principle of this Bill that term " Khadi " is associated in the public mind with hand spun and h woven cloth only. I will read in this connection an extract from opinion given by the Punjab Chamber of Commerce, Delhi :

" My Committee find that trade custom does not confine the use of the wo ' Khaddar ' to hand spun and hand woven cloth only but that the term appea to cover any kind of coarse cloth. They feel that if it is intended by means o legislation to restrict the term to apply to hand woven and hand spun cloth, the effect of the enforcement of the provision in the internal markets of India would be impossible to secure. They are therefore not in favour of the Bill."

It is refreshing to find an organisation which is also Indian and which cannot be accused of being reactionary in its views pronouncing very much the same view about this question as the Association which I represent, and which seems to be more or less anathema to some of my friends in this House.

An important point which the sponsors of this Bill forget is that it is not likely to help the hand loom weaver for whom so much solicitude has been and is being expressed. Now, how is the hand loom weaver going to be helped by this Bill ? It may be that a large number of hand loom weavers spin their own yarn and use it in the manufacture of coarse cloth. But there is also a very large class who use mill made yarn for this purpose. Are you going to prevent them from turning out coarse cloth and selling it under the denomination under which they have sold it all these years and perhaps, all these centuries.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Centuries ?

Mr. H. P. Mody : Yes, I am quoting your own words. You say that, from time immemorial, the hand loom industry has manufactured coarse cloth. I agree and I say that they manufactured it in the old days from hand spun yarn ; today they are using mill made yarn as well. Are you going to stop that large class of hand loom weavers who are using mill made yarn for this purpose from continuing to manufacture " Khadi " and passing it on to the market as " Khadi " ?

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : But mills did not exist in old times.

Mr. H. P. Mody : I am talking of the last 40 years and more during which hand loom weavers have been in the habit of using mill made yarn for the purpose of manufacturing coarse cloth and passing that on to the market as " Khaddar " and " Khadi ". This Bill, if it became law, would stop the hand loom weaver from doing so, and I want to know from the champions of the hand loom weaver whether they regard it as in his interest that he should be prevented by legislation from losing his market in the cloth which he has turned out all these years.

Then, Sir, there is this other question. Today it is sought to give a sort of legislative sanction to the use of the word " Khadi ". Tomorrow, in the interests of the hand loom weavers, somebody will come forward and say " We should have a trade mark in the word, sari or lungi or mulmul, because hand loom weavers have been manufacturing these cloths for centuries ; and now the mills are manufacturing and competing ; and so to preserve the hand loom weaver and in his interests we should have a sort of trade mark in those words ". My objection is that you cannot justly introduce this principle, and if you introduce it, there may be no limit to its expansion. Assuming, however, that it was right in the interests akening which at the next election many of us on this side will have face. There has been such an unprecedented awakening in this untry that if this Legislature is merely to exist for the purpose of the illowners and not for the purpose of the village industrialist, I am fraid this Legislature will condemn itself as a purely capitalistic body with no kind of sympathy whatever for the indigenous cottage industrialist. I may say that we have given adequate protection to the millowner. If you weigh in one scale the protection and the cost at the expense of the taxpayer for the consideration that we have given to the millowner, and if, in another scale, you put the lack of protection you have given to the agriculturist, to the agricultural labourer who comes for six months in the year under the category of the unemployed, you will find that this Legislature has been much too lenient to the millowner. I have been consistently and persistently, both in and outside this House, been an advocate of the cause of the millowners, but if the millowners stand up and say, this protection must not be extended to the cottage industrialist, they are only erecting before them a barrier of disadvantage which they will do well not to do. They will be only inviting unnnecessary trouble in a sympathe- House. So far as I am concerned, the hostility of the Honourable does not mean my hostility to another question affecting the mill- hich may come forward in this House. I propose to examine each on its merits. The millowner is entitled to his protection, as ourable the Commerce Member has on more than one occasion ade- y shown when he denounced the Japanese Convention in April last with the entire support of this House, and when he now proposes, I hope, with the entire support of this House, to enter into negotiations, unfettered, with all the encouragement that a representative of this House, the Leader of this House identifying himself with the opinion of the Opposition as well as the Government, deserves. (Cheers.) Therefore, Sir, there is no question of threat. "Threatening" was a phrase that emanated from the lips of the Honourable gentleman who preceded me. We are not here to threaten. We are here to see how much and in what manner we can encourage the indigenous industries.

Ir. C. S. Ranga Iyer.]

My friend has told us that "Khadi" has been produced by the millowners for a long period, "Khaddar" has been produced by them for a long period. That is so. We concede that fact, and that is why we say that mill-made "Khaddar" should not, on dishonest grounds, compete with hand-spun and hand-woven. That should be known not as "Khaddar" or "Khadi", but call it by any other name you like. The millowner has an organization unparalleled in this country. The poor cottage industrialist only serves a few cottages in a village, and, therefore, why should he not seek the legitimate protection to which he is entitled under the piece of legislation that my friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, has brought forward? I would ask my friend, Mr. Mody, not to become very embarrassed. I would ask him to follow the example of his own Association which he incidentally placed before us, and I would tell him that in India there is place, very much more, for the village hand loom weaver, for the hand-spinner and the hand-weaver than for the millowner. The millowners have come to stay, and we shall give them protection, but he said almost in bathos, with very much of pathos,— "supposing you prevent the millowners from manufacturing 'Khadi' or 'Khaddar'." That is the right of a democracy. If, in future yea e the widened electorates send a large majority of representatives who s. that the mills must be abolished, neither my friend, Mr. Mody, nor myse. can prevent what might happen. We are concerned with this House, and this House has nowhere threatened to abolish the mills making "Khaddar" cloth. It may be that in future, mills may be abolished altogether; it may be that the will of the future Legislatures may be that the mills should not exist; it may be that they may go back to the primitive stages of civilization and hand spinning and hand weaving on which Mahatma Gandhi has written a good deal in his book the "Hind Swaraj"; it may be that some of us may be opposed to them; it may be that some of us may be in favour of them; but all will agree that the actual experience of a calamity is less fearful than a prospective view of it. We are today concerned with the legitimate rights of the village industrlialist. India lives in the villages and the cottages, and my friend, Mr. Mody, weakened his case when he came forward in the name of other mills than his own to draw a red herring across this piece of legislation. (Cheers.)

Sir Cowasji Jehangir (Bombay City: Non-Musammadan Urban): I think, Sir, this little Bill has evoked a considerable amount of enthusiasm on both sides which is quite unnecessary, and I may also add that the facts produced both by the Mover of this Bill and by Mr. Mody are also quite correct. It is no doubt true that "Khaddar" was the name given to all coarse cloth, whether produced by the hand loom or by machinery, but, after a certain school of thought carried on propaganda in this country for the use of cloth woven on hand looms from yarn produced by hand, that cloth became known as "Khaddar" throughout the length and breadth of this country. I have also no doubt that the cloth produced by mills and also called "Khaddar" was bought by some ignorant people believing it to be the "Khaddar" produced by the villages on the hand loom. The mill made cloth was cheaper, and it looked very much like the stuff made on the hand loom, and naturally the people went in for it. Those, who had formed Associations to encourage the use of hand-made cloth, suffered. They found a competitor in a cheaper cloth made by the machine which ignorant people could not distinguish one from the other. Well, Sir, it was not the fault of the mills that they could produce a cloth which could compete with the hand made article and which people could not distinguish one from the other. But if any mills went out of their way to sell their cloth to agents who would pass off the mill made cloth on to the ignorant public as cloth made by the hand loom, then they were certainly guilty of fraud, and I have every sympathy for any Honourable Member who would desire to stop that practice. I cannot see any objection to any mill making cloth which may be known as "Khaddar" provided that to ensure that the ignorant people did not buy it as hand-made stuff you can call it mill made "Khaddar",—you can provide by legislation that that "Khaddar" shall be sold as mill made or machine made, and then, if the people choose to buy it in preference to hand loom "Khaddar", I do not think that any Honourable Member of this House can have a legitimate grievance. The only grievance is that it should not be bought in ignorance for the hand loom stuff, but I cannot see where the legitimate grievance comes in if people, with their eyes open, choose to buy stuff, because it is cheaper. You cannot prevent that.

Mr. H. P. Mody.]

certain section that the hand loom weaver should be penalised, that the mills, which are still using the name of "Khadi" and "Khaddar" should be penalised, then what I want to know is whether my Honourable friend has made sure that the Act would be workable. On that there are certain opinions which I would like to read to the House. The Director of Industries, Bombay, an Indian officer of experience, says :

"If the mills continue to produce their present variety of cloth now termed 'Khaddar' or 'Khadi' and merely change its name under the proposed legislation to say 'Dungri', it will be, I think, quite impossible to prevent its sale as 'Khadar' in the internal markets of India. It does not seem practicable or desirable to prevent the Mills from making coarse plain cloth which can be sold fraudulently as 'Khaddar'."

In other words, even if you put through this legislation, unless you go a great deal further and actually prevent by legislation mills from turning out coarse cloth and also the hand loom weaver from turning out coarse cloth from mill-made yarn, the Act will be thoroughly inoperative and will lead to a great deal of fraud. In the same direction is another opinion, and it is from the Deputy Commissioner, Nagpur, who says :

"No amount of legislation will prevent a dealer who is determined to pass off 'mill-khadi' as hand-made 'khadi' from deceiving ignorant customers. It would be extremely difficult to give effect to the proposed legislation and on the whole I consider that it is neither necessary nor advisable."

That brings me to something which I regard as the greatest objection to the present measure, and I put it plainly before this House. To-day we are sought to be prevented from labelling particular types of coarse cloth as "Khadi" or "Khaddar". Tomorrow that may be found insufficient and it may be sought to be enacted that mills should be prevented altogether from manufacturing coarse cloth. I do not regard this as an exaggerated fear at all, because I may say that the attempt was actually made two or three years ago ; it was a very determined attempt, which we resisted with all our might. That attempt was that certain types of cloth should not be manufactured at all in Indian mills ; we said it would be utterly impossible and we would not agree. Some such idea might be lying at the bottom of my Honourable friend's Bill, and the position then is that, without going a great deal further than this legislation, it is impossible to give the protection which my Honourable friend has in view.

I would like to read just one more opinion and that is in regard to the Merchandise Marks Act in which it is sought to embody this legislation. The Government of Bombay say :

"Since it is not the purpose of the Merchandise Marks Act to restrict unnaturally the application of well-known terms which are in common use, the Governor in Council is of opinion that the Bill is opposed to the spirit and intention of that Act, and further anticipates that great difficulties would be encountered in enforcing its provisions if it were to become law."

I have put as briefly and, at the same time, as comprehensively as I can my reasons for opposing the principle underlying the Bill. I ask my Honourable friends, who threaten me and say that my attitude on this question will determine their attitude to some other question, to weigh carefully my objections and at least to give me credit for disinterestedness of motive. My Association—and I repeat that with emphasis—voluntarily gave up the use of these terms, "Khadi" and

"Khaddar", on all cloth which was manufactured and labelled many years as "Khadi" and "Khaddar"; and, if we oppose measure, it is because we feel that there are strong objections to it the ground of principle. My opposition must not be construed as factious sort of opposition on the part of people who are always out fight for their own interests, but who ignore all other interests. I as my Honourable friends to consider this carefully before they seek to attack on all manner of occasions the Association which I represent. I say that the Bill is wrong in principle, that it will lead to a lot of fraudulent evasion, and that, from every point of view, my Honourable friend will be defeating the very object which he has in view. If my Honourable friend still thinks the opposition comes from dishonest millowners, I say he will be very well advised in looking for them nearer home.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer (Rohilkund and Kumaon Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, the Honourable gentleman from Bombay who has just concluded his speech rather unthinkingly gave his whole case away for the opposition to this very necessary piece of legislation. He gave his case away when he said that his own Association, of which he is so proud and which he has been representing with great ability here and elsewhere, found it necessary to fall in line with the principle of this Bill long before this Bill was brought before this Assembly. Even they say, is better than precept ; but he wants us to follow his and not his Association's example. I would ask every Associatio larly situated and similarly handicapped like his, to follow the of his own Association so that fraud, which he has been elaborating and dreading very much, would be reduced to the minimum. If passing of this legislation will create on an elaborate scale fraudulent transactions, he is only incidentally commenting on the class of people who compete with the village manufacturer and with the village labourer, the hand-spun and hand-woven cloth maker. I do not think that the millowners of India are such a despicable class of people as to compete with the village labourer, with the village industrialists, on fraudulent lines. I believe that every millowner in this country will rise to the same position as the Association and mills that the Honourable gentleman has the opportunity to represent here and elsewhere. He quoted with some effect the Bombay Government's view. We have to attach, I admit, importance to the view of the Government of Bombay or of any Provincial Government in this matter. The Government after all have to work out the policy arising from a legislation. They find that the spirit of the Merchandise Marks Act will be defeated, if this Bill is passed ; but it is for Governments not to dread calamities, but to face realities. I will not go centuries back as perhaps the Mover did according to the version of the Honourable gentleman who has just preceded—I will not even go to half a century back : I would rather go to ten years back and ten years forward. Less than ten years ago, in this House, the late Pandit Motilal Nehru—who was then dressed in home-spun and hand-woven, sometimes foot-woven, because he was wearing the home-made cashmere and, therefore, he often used to say "I at any rate am encouraging hand-spun and foot-woven cloth"—I say the late Pandit Motilal Nehru was the sponsor of this Bill and, when he came forward with a Bill of this kind, he was animated by the idea of encouraging the cottage industrialist. Within the last ten years the cottage industrialist has received encouragement on a scale not known in the past. Within the last ten years there has been a public awakening in this country, an you confine the word "Khaddar" merely to hand-made cloth, to cloth made on hand looms, you might prevent mills from making that stuff and legitimately selling it on to the market as machine made or mill made "Khaddar".

[Sir Cowasji Jehangir.]

I would like to know, if this Bill became an Act, would it be illegal to stamp cloth as machine made "Khaddar" or mill made "Khaddar"? It would be. That would be rather hard, would it not? Would not any Honourable Member sympathetically look upon a complaint of that sort? Why do you prevent a mill from stamping its cloth as mill made "Khaddar" or machine made "Khaddar"? What you want to do is to prevent a mill or its agents from committing a fraud, that is, passing off its cloth as cloth made upon the hand loom. Therefore, if the Select Committee can, by amending this Bill, so ensure that fraud is prevented, but, at the same time, mills may be allowed to produce coarse cloth which they may be allowed to stamp as mill made or machine made "Khaddar", I can see no objection to this Bill. I am entirely in sympathy with all Honourable Members who desire to prevent fraud. I am also against any Bill, any legislation which would hamper the manufacture of machine made cloth. And I feel sure that there is not one Honourable Member in this House who really at heart desires to prevent the improvement, and the expansion of the mill industry. We hear a good deal of criticism, but, knowing my Honourable friends as I do and knowing the support that they have given times out of number to the mill industry, I cannot for one minute believe that any one of them would raise a little finger to harm an industry that has served this country loyally and well from the richest to the poorest, from the very day on which it came into existence. Therefore, I do believe that this Bill can be amended so as to serve this purpose, and I would appeal to the Mover of the Bill to take the initiative in the matter to see that this Bill serves its purpose without doing any injury to the great industry of which, I am sure, I am confident he is as proud as any one, any province or any community, who has had anything to do with it from its very inception.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways): On a previous occasion, when speaking on this measure, I made it clear that the House should not assume that Government were necessarily opposed to this Bill. I made it clear that Government desired to keep an open mind in the matter until they were in possession of the views elicited by circulation. The result, Sir, of circulation has been to elicit a certain conflict of opinion. So far as Provincial Governments are concerned, I think only two are in favour of the Bill.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: The third is neutral.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore: There are not merely three Provincial Governments in India.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: I know.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore: There is by no means general agreement as to the application in practice of the terms "Khaddar" and "Khadi". The application of these terms seems to vary in different provinces. Equally, Sir, there is no agreement as to the advisability of confining these terms to handwoven and handspun fabrics alone. I would bring to the notice of the House the opinion expressed by the United Provinces Government:

"The Government is of opinion that the proposed legislation would be definitely harmful to the hand loom industry."

They say that it would also inflict hardship on the hand loom weaver who uses coarse mill made yarn on his hand looms and who claims that his product is superior.

Coming to a third point, namely, whether the enforcement of this legislation is practicable, there is a very large measure of opinion to the effect that effective enforcement would not be possible. My own feeling generally is that expressed by the Punjab Government, namely, that this piece of legislation would do very little harm to any one and it would certainly do very little good. Faced with these divergent views, the Government of India have found it somewhat difficult to decide upon the course they should adopt. They certainly do not want to assume an attitude of hostility to this Bill. On the other hand, they do feel that in view of the fact that circumstances and conditions do not appear to be the same in all the provinces, it would not be advisable to have a uniform legislation for the whole of India without the consent of the Local Governments concerned. I want, therefore, to make it clear that Government will not oppose this piece of legislation if a provision is inserted making its application to a province depend upon a prior notification by the Local Government concerned. (Applause.)

Nawab Major Malik Talib Mehdi Khan (North Punjab: Muhammadan): Sir, I rise to make a few remarks in support of the motion put forward by my Honourable friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh. It is known all over that many indigenous industries have been ruined in this country. Coming from a village as I do, I am in a position to say that it has brought on untold misery, and, with the financial depression that is on and the prices of agricultural produce at the lowest level, it is absolutely necessary that the poor villagers should have something to fall back upon when they find that agriculture is not paying. No doubt, we cannot compete with the mill cloth or the stuff manufactured in factories, but we must see that those who are living in small places and have got some time to spare have some occupation to supplement the scanty earnings they make by following their ordinary profession. If we go on comparing the prices of the commodities, I must say that the time is not far off when everything that we are making has to give way to some foreign article. We have seen how the manufactured ghee supplanted our natural product. And it is not unlikely that a time may come when manufactured eggs will take the place of natural eggs laid by our hens to ruin another branch of our cottage industry. Look at the dyeing industries in our country which have been ruined by aniline dyes and it is feared that flour, cotton and other such things may be replaced by artificial products. Science is making such progress that there is a danger of its turning out the poor zemindars, to which class I belong, from their ancestral callings. It is our duty to help the zamindars to stick to the means of subsistence they have got and I would ask my friends on the other side, who are the champions of the mills, not to press their objection. Sir, I will read before the House a Persian couplet, which runs as follows:

"Man az bégánagán hargiz na nálam Ki bá man har chi Kard án áshná Kard".

[Mr. B. Das.]

I wholeheartedly support the motion made by my friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav (Bombay Central Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I am in general agreement with the principle of this Bill, but it will be my duty, I think, to place some of the difficulties that I feel before this House so that they may be considered in the Select Committee when it meets. Before the advent of the British, handspun and handwoven cloth of a rough character was known as " Khaddar ". India also knew how to make fine cloth and the Dacca Malmal is very well known for its fineness, but that Malmal was never known as " Khaddar ". The use of the word " Khaddar " was confined only to coarse cloth woven by hand from hand spun yarn. The definition given by the present Bill does not confine the word to coarse cloth only, but it seeks to extend its meaning to bring within its purview fine handwoven cloth from handspun yarn as well as the woollen cloths and silk cloths. I think this is an extension of the word " Khaddar " and I am not against it. But the difficulty that I feel is about the handwoven cloth from mill yarn. It is well known that, even in spite of the large number of spinning and weaving mills, the number of hand-weavers is considerable and hand weaving is going on to a very great extent. Of course, in comparison with the number of weavers the number of spinners is very small and the supply of handspun yarn is very limited. All the hand loom weavers will not find sufficient work in weaving handspun yarn and, therefore, they have been obliged to take mill yarn and weave cloth from it. The cloth that is thus woven is generally rough and it is sold in the bazar as " Khaddar " or " Khadi ". It will, I think, be difficult to prohibit the sale of such cloth under the name of " Khaddar " or " Khadi " when this Bill becomes law. The hand loom weavers do not stamp the name of " Khaddar " on their cloth. They simply pass on the cloth they weave to the merchants and it is the merchants who try every stratagem to sell their wares even under false names in order to secure profit. The Government will have to see how to deal with this difficulty and, I hope, that the Bill will be properly considered in the Select Committee and the new meaning sought to be attached to the word " Khaddar " will be kept in view. I support the Bill.

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil (Bombay Southern Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I rise to support the Bill under consideration. While considering the underlying principle of this Bill, it appears to me that many Honourable Members were under some misunderstanding. They raised the question whether " Khaddar " will be in a position to compete with the mills. They also raised the question whether hand loom industry would be a gainer in any way. But we are concerned here only with one question, namely, how false stamps should be prevented and how the ignorant general public, which is in search of hand spun and hand woven ' Khaddar ", should not be cheated ? That is the sole object of this Bill.

That is the principle of the Bill ; but, at the same time, this small principle presupposes that there is in this country a strong desire in a large section of the public to purchase such hand spun and hand woven cloth whether it is made of cotton or silk or wool. It is that assumption which is necessary for us to which means that I do not weep on account of what has been done by foreigners, I weep on account of what has been done to me by my friend. So I ask my friends on the other side to bear with us and see that the cottage industries are maintained and improved. Owing to the constant struggle for life going on in the world, every patriot is required to help the poor peasants who are living in small cottages to improve their lot.

4 P.M.

[Nawab Major Malik Talib Mehdi Khan.]

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I am grateful to the Honourable the Leader of the House for participating in the debate at an early stage and defining the Government point of view and I am very glad he did not support the views advocated by my friends, Mr. Mody and Sir Cowasji Jehangir.

An Honourable Member : They did not oppose the Bill.

Mr. B. Das : But Mr. Mody did oppose. The very fact that the Leader of the House ignored the observations of the representatives of the millowners shows that my friend, Mr. Mody, has been given the cold shoulder by the Government. I am 47 years of age and, I live in the village where the names of " Khaddar " and " Khadi " have never been used to represent the mill made cloth. I have no connection with the millowners except that I hobnob with them on the floor of this House. Under the inspiration of the saint of Sabarmati, the name of " Khadi " has become hallowed and it was never applied to the mill-made cloth. As my friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, pointed out that in the last few years' owing to high premium of " Khadi ", the millowners produced mill " Khadi " and the dealers sold it as " Khadi ". My friend, Sir Cowasji Jehangir, wanted an assurance that nobody should ban the mills to produce " Khadi ". My friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, or we here, or those working outside for the spread of " Khaddar " all over India, do not want to prohibit the mills from manufacturing such coarse stuff as they like, but they should not misuse and misapply the name of " Khadi ". I come from the sea coast of Orissa and there the local produce of the hand loom weavers is known by the name of " Khadi ". Mahatma Gandhi lived his early life in Kathiawar and in Gujerat district and can my friends, the millowners, deny that only during the last few years the name of " Khadi " and " Khaddar " have obtained such high premium and some dishonest millowners,—they are not present here,—have tried to exploit popular sentiment in regard to " Khadi ". I challenge my friend, Mr. Mody, to say whether ten years ago the mills called any of the stuff produced by them by the name of " Khadi ". He talked of the Merchandise Act. Many of the older Members of this House will say from their own experience of the country side that the coarse stuff made by the mills was never known by the name of " Khadi ", but was known as " latta " or some other name. Mr. Mody said, that they entered into a certain pact about " Khadi " with the Congress leaders of Bombay. They entered into that pact to save their own necks. These millowners entered into a pact with Mahatma Gandhi and agreed to finance the propagation of " Khaddar ". Probably my friend, Mr. Mody, thinks that the Congress movement or the " Khadi " movement is dying out. Mr. Mody quoted the Bombay Millowners Association, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Punjab Chamber of Commerce. These Chambers of Commerce consist of either solely Europeans or both Europeans and Indians. So they do not and cannot speak for the real India. What do they know of the conditions of the masses ? With all due respect to the representatives of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce in this House, I ask them, what do they know of the condition of the millions in this country ? What does Mr. Mody know of the conditions in Kathiawar, Kaira and Gujerat ? Until he became the President of the Millowners Association, we knew him as the Boswell of the late Sir Phirozeshah Mehta and we knew him as a lawyer and politician. My friend quoted the Bombay Chamber of Commerce and, Sir, it was like the devil quoting the scripture. The Bombay Millowners Association is peculiarly situated. I do not mind my Bombay friends being liberal and having Europeans as members, but they can never speak in the name of the masses. They do not know the condition in which the masses live and they are not in touch with the masses.

[At this stage, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty vacated the Chair which was then occupied by Mr. Deputy President (Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury).]

He does not know what is happening to the 36 crores of the masses of India. What do the teeming millions understand by the term " Khaddar " and " Khadi " ? They do understand that it is " hand spun and hand woven cloth ". It may be that the Government have used that name for years in their blue books, but the public do not use the word in that sense. So I do request the millowners not to be antagonistic to this Bill. I am emboldened to make that appeal after hearing my friend, Sir Cowasji Jehangir, who wants to show his fellow feeling to the teeming millions of India. I appeal to him to respect the sentiments of the people that " Khaddar " and " Khadi " should be the terms applied only to the handspun and handwoven cloth. I may assure my Honourable friend, Sir Cowasji Jehangir, and other millowners that we have no objection to the mills manufacturing the coarser stuff. Let them go on trading as they used to do before 1920 or 1925. They should not take advantage of the national sentiments and the patriotic fervour that is sweeping the whole nation. The word " Khaddar " has got a holy charm attached to it ; it has come to be identified with the sacred name of Mahatma Gandhi and today everything that is pure is associated with it. Why should the millowners take advantage of it in order to make a little more money ?

Mr. H. P. Mody : But we have not taken advantage ; we have given it up.

Mr. B. Das : I am grateful to my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, for entering into that pact with the Congress leaders a few years ago. Why should my friends come forward now and ask for a provision in this Bill that the millowners can stick labels " Mill Khadi " ? My friends know as much as we know that the masses in the countryside are not so cultured as the millowners of Bombay are. When they ask for " Khadi " and the dealers supply them mill " Khadi ", the millowners are abetting the retail tradesman to cheat the public. I am grateful to my friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, for bringing this Bill. My friend, Mr. Ranga Iyer, has reminded the House that Pandit Motilal Nehru of sacred memory was also of that opinion. So, I do hope that nobody in this House will raise his voice against this measure. I am grateful to the Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore, because he did not support the arguments advanced by Mr. Mody nor did he agree to the amendment which Sir Cowasji Jehangir suggested in the Bill. With these few observations,

[Mr. B. Das.]

I wholeheartedly support the motion made by my friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav (Bombay Central Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I am in general agreement with the principle of this Bill, but it will be my duty, I think, to place some of the difficulties that I feel before this House so that they may be considered in the Select Committee when it meets. Before the advent of the British, handspun and handwoven cloth of a rough character was known as " Khaddar ". India also knew how to make fine cloth and the Dacca Malmal is very well known for its fineness, but that Malmal was never known as " Khaddar ". The use of the word " Khaddar " was confined only to coarse cloth woven by hand from hand spun yarn. The definition given by the present Bill does not confine the word to coarse cloth only, but it seeks to extend its meaning to bring within its purview fine handwoven cloth from handspun yarn as well as the woollen cloths and silk cloths. I think this is an extension of the word " Khaddar " and I am not against it. But the difficulty that I feel is about the handwoven cloth from mill yarn. It is well known that, even in spite of the large number of spinning and weaving mills, the number of hand-weavers is considerable and hand weaving is going on to a very great extent. Of course, in comparison with the number of weavers the number of spinners is very small and the supply of handspun yarn is very limited. All the hand loom weavers will not find sufficient work in weaving handspun yarn and, therefore, they have been obliged to take mill yarn and weave cloth from it. The cloth that is thus woven is generally rough and it is sold in the bazar as " Khaddar " or " Khadi ". It will, I think, be difficult to prohibit the sale of such cloth under the name of " Khaddar " or " Khadi " when this Bill becomes law. The hand loom weavers do not stamp the name of " Khaddar " on their cloth. They simply pass on the cloth they weave to the merchants and it is the merchants who try every stratagem to sell their wares even under false names in order to secure profit. The Government will have to see how to deal with this difficulty and, I hope, that the Bill will be properly considered in the Select Committee and the new meaning sought to be attached to the word " Khaddar " will be kept in view. I support the Bill.

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil (Bombay Southern Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I rise to support the Bill under consideration. While considering the underlying principle of this Bill, it appears to me that many Honourable Members were under some misunderstanding. They raised the question whether " Khaddar " will be in a position to compete with the mills. They also raised the question whether hand loom industry would be a gainer in any way. But we are concerned here only with one question, namely, how false stamps should be prevented and how the ignorant general public, which is in search of hand spun and hand woven " Khaddar ", should not be cheated ? That is the sole object of this Bill.

That is the principle of the Bill ; but, at the same time, this small principle presupposes that there is in this country a strong desire in a large section of the public to purchase such hand spun and hand woven cloth whether it is made of cotton or silk or wool. It is that assumption which is necessary for us to

4 P.M.

is that such rule does not apply. In case of stridhan, daughters succeed before sons and, in the line of succession, as my friend has pointed out, after the sons come the daughter's sons and it is the only instance in the Hindu law where the daughter's sons come before the son's sons. Some distinction is sought to be made in the Bill that where the son is alive, he naturally excludes the daughter's sons, and with him the other predeceased son's sons should inherit. I need not trouble the House with regard to the technicalities about succession to stridhan property. There are differences as regards the different schools of law and, as that accomplished lawyer, Sir Gurudas Banerjea, has said, after certain relations actually named, it is all jungle as to who will succeed ; but with regard to the question of daughter's sons and son's sons, it is clear that the daughter's sons come before the son's sons. I move my amendment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Amendment moved :

" That the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 1st December, 1933."

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I feel that there is some ground for the doubt entertained by the Honourable the Mover of this Bill as regards succession to stridhan under the Dayabhaga law. I do not belong to Calcutta, but, as a lawyer, I know what Dayabhaga school dictates and what the Mitakshara says. I find that under the law, as it stands at present, succession to stridhan will go per stirpes and not per capita. To be plain, it will go by representation and, if that is so, then there should be no doubt when there is a grandson and also a grandson by a pre-deceased son, as to their succession, because the property will be divided into two halves, one going to one grandson and the other to the other, no matter if the son is predeceased. However, whatever doubt there is should be removed. As, however, the law or the commentators have not made that point quite clear, it seems to me quite right that it has been found necessary by the Mover of this Bill to have the law settled down. What do I find in Mulla's " Law of Inheritance " ? On Stridhan under the Dayabhaga law, what Mulla's " Hindu Law " (page 159) (7th Edn.), says runs thus :

" Stridhana heirs in the second generation, that is, son's sons, daughters' sons, and daughters' daughters, take per stirpes and not per capita."

Then, there is an illustration which makes it quite plain even to a layman :

" A female Hindu dies leaving two sons by a daughter A, and three sons by another daughter B. Her stridhan will be divided into two parts, of which one will go to the two sons of A, and the other to the three sons of B. To divide it per capita would be to divide it into five equal parts, and to give one share to each of the five grandsons."

The only question remains : supposing, in this case where there were two grandsons through a son and two grandsons through a daughter, there had been one more grandson also from a predeceased son, what would happen ? If we take it that the principle is that succession will go per stirpes, the property will have to be divided into three shares, one going to the two grandsons by the son, one to the daughter's sons, and one to the son of the predeceased son.....

The Honourable Sir Bepin Behary Ghose : I am sorry to say that Mr. Navalrai is under some misapprehension ; it goes per stirpes, quite true ; but if there is a grandson by a predeceased son and a grandson by a predeceased daughter, the grandson by the predeceased daughter succeeds first.

[Sir Bepin Behary Ghose.]

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Applying the general Hindu law, there also the principle is the same. Why should there be any difficulty to go beyond it ? No law has yet been pointed out about what the Honourable the Law Member says ; no authority has been yet quoted. However, as the Honourable the Law Member wants to have this point still cleared up, I have absolutely no objection to this Bill going for circulation.

Some Honourable Members : The question may now be put.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : I have nothing to say, Sir ; I accept the motion for circulation.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the Bill to remove doubts about the application of the doctrine of representation, in case of succession to Stridhan under the Dayabhag, be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 1st December, 1933."

The motion was adopted.

THE AJMER-MERWARA JUVENILES SMOKING BILL.

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda (Ajmer-Merwara : General) : Sir, I beg to move :

"That the Bill to prevent Juveniles from smoking Tobacco be taken into consideration."

My Bill is only restricted to Ajmer-Merwara. It is word for word taken from the Central Provinces Juvenile Smoking Act and I understand that the sympathetic and respected head of my Local Government does not oppose this Bill. I, therefore, move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

"That the Bill to prevent Juveniles from smoking Tobacco be taken into consideration."

Mr. G. S. Bajpai (Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands) : Sir, my Honourable friend, the Mover, just said that the Bill which he now wants to be taken into consideration is based word for word upon the Central Provinces legislation. The House might like to know that the experience of the operation of this measure in the Central Provinces is not such as to create much enthusiasm in Government or in administrators regarding the success of this measure. At the same time, Sir, we do not wish to stand between my friend, who has shown so much sympathy for juveniles and the measure which he has brought forward, and I would, therefore, like to say that the Government propose to remain neutral in this matter.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the Bill to prevent Juveniles from smoking Tobacco be taken into consideration."

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt (Burdwan Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I should like to say.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Does the Honourable Member wish to speak ?

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Yes, Sir. I do not know what the condition is in the area from which my friend, the Mover of this Bill, hails, but I know it for certain that in my own province small children of labourers who are generally below 14 or 16 do smoke and thereby refresh themselves by smoking. Sir, the question is whether such a law is necessary at all. I am told by a friend of mine who sits behind me that the Ayurvedic Shastras also approve of smoking. I appeal to my friend, Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda, who has great reverence for the Shastras, to respect the Shastras.....

Mr. G. Morgan (Bengal : European) : Is there not a local Bengal Act for the prevention of juvenile smoking ? I think I remember it.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : I don't think so. I have been at the bar for more than 30 years, and I have not come across even a single case at least in my own district under any such Act.

Mr. G. Morgan : Exactly not operating.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : My point was that my friend, before sponsoring this Bill, should have made himself sure that these boys, if they are prevented from smoking, will not take to something stronger than smoking, I mean the bottle. That is more dangerous than smoking. Sir, I am not for cigarette smoking. I would prefer the hooka and I would like to see people taking to it in preference to cigars or cigarettes. Hooka is available everywhere and it is very much cheaper. Even in Bengal, if I go to my Honourable friend, the Law Member's House, I shall get the hooka and not cigarettes which unfortunately is replacing the hooka. Formerly, we had only hooka and not cigarettes everyhere. But, as I said, I am not in favour of smoking cigarettes and cigars, but why prevent people from smoking hooka, unless this is very necessary. My friend, of course, knows the conditions in his own province, I mean the Ajmer-Merwara, and if he is sure that these people will not take to bottle, or if they have not already taken to it, I will leave it to his moral sense to see whether or not such a restriction, as he proposes, should be imposed. My friend talks so much about the freedom in every sphere of human activity. I appeal to him to see that bottles are not introduced in place of the hooka or other kind of smoking. If he associates the bottle also with tobacco, I have no objection but my fear is that, if you stop juvenile smoking, they will take to something stronger, which is far more deleterious. With these words, Sir, I oppose the Bill.

Mr. R. S. Sarma (Nominated Non-Official) : Sir, I move that the question be now put.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : I should like to say a few words on this motion. I am not a smoker. (An Honourable Member : "Question.") I must say that I abhor smoking, and I ma further say that I have not been contaminated by this vice even thoug I have travelled throughout the world including America where smokin is so very prevalent. Sir, I support this Bill very heartily. I cannc understand why there should be any objection to making a law to prohib juvenile smoking. I would prefer that none should smoke, but if that is not possible, why not accept this legislation to prevent children from smoking ? Sir, the smell that comes out of smoking is really very horrible. Therefore, I submit that if it is contended that, if smoking is stopped, boys will take to other more harmful things, such as liquor, the plain reply to all that is this, that it will be our duty to bring forward a Bill to stop people from drinking liquor which is also a vice for children. Sir, I support this Bill very strongly.

[Mr. Lalchand Navalrai.]

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That the Bill to prevent Juveniles from smoking Tobacco be taken into consideration."

The motion was adopted.

Clauses 2 to 5 were added to the Bill.

Clause 1 was added to the Bill.

The Title and the Preamble were added to the Bill.

Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda : Sir, I move that the Bill be passed.

The motion was adopted.

THE UNTOUCHABILITY ABOLITION BILL.

Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah (Nominated Non-Official) : Sir, I beg to move.....

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen (Presidency Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I rise to a point of order.

Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah : What is the point of order ? I have not said anything yet.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : I rise to a point of order, Sir.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : What is the point of order ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Sir, I beg to submit that this Bill for the abolition of untouchability among the Hindus is ultra vires of this Legislature. I take my stand on the notification of the Government of India under section.....

Mr. S. C. Mitra (Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Nothing has been moved so far. The point of order is premature.

Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali (Lucknow and Fyzabad Divisions : Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, how can the Honourable Member raise a point of order at this stage ? The Honourable the Mover has not said anything so far.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair understands that Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen wants to raise a point of order that the Bill is ultra vires of this Legislature ; is that so ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Yes, Sir.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Let the Honourable Member, Mr. M. C. Rajah, move his motion first.

Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah : Sir, I beg to move :

"That the Bill to provide for the abolition of untouchability among the Hindus be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, the Honourable Sir Harry Haig, Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda, Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddy, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Mr. B. V. Jadhav, Mr. B. Rajaram Pandian, Captain Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh, Rao Bahadur S. R. Pandit, Mr. R. S. Sarma and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

Sir, in so doing, I appeal to Honourable Members unanimously to co-operate in facilitating the progress.....

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Sir, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. Let the Honourable Member finish.

Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah : I appeal to Honourable Members unanimously to co-operate in facilitating the progress of this belated effort to do justice to the Depressed Classes. If I enter into an analysis of the acts of omission and commission on the part of my fellow Hindus that have produced the degradation to which my community is condemned and brought about the shame and humiliation of Hinduism itself before the world, it will take hours. I do not want to embitter feelings by recapitulating the past when I see that a great and welcome change has come over the Hindu mind as a whole. This Bill is based upon the principle that the law of no civilized country can recognise or give its support and assistance to an anti-social usage opposed to humanity as well as national interests.....

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : What is the procedure followed here, Sir ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. The Honourable Member can raise his point of order after the Honourable Mr. Rajah has finished. He will not lose his right.

Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah : That an inequity is old is no reason for a day's further delay in redress, but for greater speed in penitence and restitution. Such a measure, we expected, would be taken up by Government with alacrity seeing how much popular support has been wholeheartedly given to it, and how earnestly popular organisations plead for its enactment. I am inclined to press for a Select Committee, if not enactment of the measure in this Session itself, it being a non-controversial and belated recognition of a well-known principle of Jurisprudence as well as the barest negative justice to the oppressed Community that I represent. But as some Members desire circulation, I have no objection if the House desires to do so. I hope the Bill will in time receive support from all, and set right an intolerable wrong in the administration of the laws of our country.

Sir, the cause of the Depressed Classes combines in it the best of religion, the best of humanity and the best of nationalism. It is a cause worthy of the best energies and the most strenuous efforts of a large number of Indians who believe "life is a mission and duty its highest law", and the best fulfilment of that duty lies in the service of upliftmg of those whom human tyranny and prejudice have practically put out of the pale of humanity. No sin is greater than that of attempting to keep human beings in a state of perpetual bondage. It is infamous beyond measure and galling to the very soul of men, to deliberately and persistently keep a section of the people—God's own children—and removing them by brute force or by religious and social duplicity to the level of beasts.

[Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah.]

The vision of the future from the heights of legislation discloses the Hindu Race so rich in culture and philosophy, united and inseparable for all time with no more dividing walls between the two great sections of caste and no-caste.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Sir, I beg to submit that this Bill is ultra vires of this Legislature. As I said, I take my stand on the notification of the Government of India published in 1857 during the regimé of Lord Canning and on the Queen's Proclamation of 1858. I would only read out one sentence from each of these in order to remind Honourable Members of the contents of those documents. The Notification says :

" He emphatically proclaims that the Government of India entertains no desire to interfere with their religion or caste....."

And the Queen's Proclamation says :

" We do strictly charge and enjoin all those who may be in authority under Us that they abstain from all interference with religious beliefs and worship of Our Subjects on pain of Our highest displeasure."

This Bill, which is intended for the abolition of untouchability which is sanctioned by the Shastras as well as by customs, does interfere with our religion and caste. It does not require any eloquence to prove that it does interfere with our religion. I would draw the attention of Honourable Members to the implication and effect.....

An Honourable Member : Is he making a speech ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The powers of this Legislature are defined in the Government of India Act and not in the Queen's Proclamation, and if Honourable Members want to draw the attention of the Chair to the fact that, a certain Bill is ultra vires of the Indian Legislature, they must draw attention to the relevant portion of the Government of India Act in the first instance. The Chair would, therefore, ask the Honourable Member first to draw its attention to the section of the Government of India Act on which he relies.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Apart from this Notification and Proclamation, I rely on the Government of India Act,—last paragraph of sub-clause (2) of section 65, which runs as follows :

" The Indian Legislature has not power to make any law affecting the authority of Parliament, or any part of the unwritten laws or constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland whereon may depend in any degree the allegiance of any person to the Crown of the United Kingdom....."

It is a well known fact that orthodox Hindus owe their allegiance substantially on the ground that their religion and caste would be protected by the Crown. That is my ground.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The relevant portion of section 65 to which the Honourable gentleman has drawn the attention of the Chair does not apply in this present case, because the section clearly says that this Legislature has not power—

" to make any law affecting the authority of Parliament, or any part of the unwritten laws or constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland whereon may depend in any degree the allegiance of any person to the Crown of the United Kingdom ".

If the Honourable gentleman wants to take shelter under the provision relating to allegiance to the Crown he must point out that this Bill contravenes some law or constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland on which depends the allegiance to the Crown. The Queen's Proclamation is not a part of the written or unwritten law of Great Britain and Ireland and, therefore, it is not covered by the section to which the Honourable Member has drawn the attention of the Chair. Therefore, the Chair holds that this Bill is quite intra vires of this Legislature.

Motion moved :

" That the Bill to provide for the abolition of untouchability among the Hindus, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Honourable the Law Member, the Honourable Sir Harry Haig, Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda, Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddy, Mr. S. C. Mitra, Mr. B. V. Jadhav, Mr. B. Rajaram Pandian, Captain Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh, Rao Bahadur S. R. Pandit, Mr. R. S. Sarma and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

The Chair is not sure whether it would be possible for the House to finish consideration of this motion today.

Mr. R. S. Sarma (Nominated Non-Official) : Mr. President, I move :

" That the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the end of June, 1934."

I do not think the House expects a speech in support of this amendment of mine at the fag end of the day. I understand, the Honourable the Mover is willing to accept this motion for circulation, and I think that 30th June, 1934, is suitable for all parties concerned in this matter.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Amendment moved :

" That the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the end of June, 1934."

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Sir, I gave notice of a motion for circulation, but I am going to oppose the main motion. Am I entitled to this ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Is not the Honourable Member moving his own amendment ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : I am not prepared to move my amendment. I am opposing the Bill. Honourable Members will remember that I moved a motion for circulation of the previous Bill, namely, the Temple Entry Bill. There my language was that the Bill be circulated amongst the temple going Hindus only, but it was objected to by the Honourable the Home Member on the ground of practical difficulties. I, therefore, gave notice of a motion that this Bill be circulated amongst Hindus only. I now understand that the motion will not be accepted, because my Honourable friend, Mr. Sarma, has preceded me and in all probability his motion will be accepted. I, therefore, feel inclined to oppose the motion and that for two reasons at least, because the Government are inclined to go back upon the assurance which they have repeatedly given us and because this Bill is much more wide than the previous Bill and, therefore, much more obnoxious. At the very outset I may inform Honourable Members that the Bill is misconceived. In the Preamble it is stated " Whereas it is increasingly felt by the Hindu community ". I say that the reformers who are the sponsors of these Bills are no representatives of the Hindu community. They form not more than five per cent. of the entire Hindu community. It is only some of the English educated people who can sponsor Bills like this and, as this Bill is wider, it will include the Temple Entry Bill also. Not only that, it will create other difficulties. For example, when a caste Hindu is making his worship or eating his meals, an untouchable may touch him and there is no remedy against him to be obtained by the caste Hindu, because clause 2 states :

[Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen.]

" Notwithstanding anything contained in any existing enactment, regulation or order and notwithstanding any custom or usage or interpretation of law, no penalty, disadvantage or disability shall be imposed upon, or any discrimination made or recognised against any subject of the State on the ground that such person belongs to an untouchable caste or class among Hindus and no civil or criminal Court shall recognise any custom of untouchability or base its adjudication on such a custom."

We have a remedy against caste Shudras, but we have no remedy against an untouchable. Why this preferential treatment ? This will give rise to anomalies. When I am worshipping, if I am disturbed by a caste Shudra or an outcasted Hindu, I have a remedy against him, but not against an untouchable. I can sue the caste Shudra or the outcasted Hindu in a law Court, but not an untouchable. Why this differential treatment ? It is for this reason that I propose to oppose this Bill. But as I am sure that the motion for circulation will be passed, I will request the Honourable the Home Member to see that the Bill is not circulated in the ordinary manner, but is circulated " specially among the recognised religious institutions and associations of the community whose religion is sought to be affected by these Bills ". I take this language from the reply given by His Excellency the Viceroy to the deputation, that waited upon him, of the All-India Varnashrama Sangha, and there were other assurances also. I may refer to the Government communiqué from which I quoted and which the Honourable the Home Member also quoted on the last occasion. It is not at all an unreasonable request, because Mr. Gandhi is also of the same opinion. In reply to a communication addressed to him, Mr. Gandhi sent the following letter :

" I am quite convinced, however, that the interference from non-Hindus cannot be tolerated in a matter which is purely a religious issue and which is one essentially for the Hindus to settle among themselves."

Sir, this is another Bill to which His Excellency the Viceroy has accorded his sanction. I beg most respectfully to submit that we expected from His Excellency otherwise, because in reply to a deputation of the Marwari Association, His Excellency.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. The Honourable Member cannot criticise the action of His Excellency here.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Sir, the Bill is before us. Am I not entitled to express my views regarding the sanction ? I am not criticising his conduct.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member cannot criticise the action of the Viceroy on the floor of this House.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : This Bill, like similar other Bills, is overdue in this Legislature, overdue not in the sense that they are at all proper, but that they are inevitable. Let me explain my point further. There is a set of English politicians who, since some years past, have been trying to kill the Brahminical culture which has maintained a peculiar sort of independence in spite of political subjugation. These politicians cannot endure this sort of independence on the part of Indians. The reformers are so many tools in their hands in achieving their end. These reformers, owing to their vicious culture, play into their hands for two reasons. By their culture they are always inclined to imitate the western ideals in words, thoughts and deeds, and secondly, being unable to make any headway in the matter of political reforms, they want to exhaust their energy in some other direction and, finding an easy outlet in religious matters, they want to fall upon the innocent Hindus in conformity with the principle contained in the Bengali adage that one who cannot make an impression outside comes home and beats his own wife.

Sir, as I have said, these reformers are not the representatives of the Hindus and they have no claim to speak in the name of the Hindu community. It is argued that we should accept this Bill on the ground of common sense. I said on a previous occasion that common sense is a thing which is as unstable as unsafe and I gave an illustration then. One other illustration comes to my mind on the present occasion. Mr. Gandhi says that image worship is not a sin, rather it is necessary. But another leader, who hails from Bengal, Dr. Robindra Nath Tagore, has clearly declared that image worship is a sin. Now, whom to follow in this crisis ?

5 P.M.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury (Bengal : Landholders) : Do you worship an image ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : I do, although not in the sense in which they take it.

Sir Abdulla-al-Mámún Suhrawardy (Burdwan and Presidency Divisions : Muhammadan Rural) : But Robindra Nath Tagore is a Brahmo.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : But they are our leaders. Even Mr. Gandhi is not a Hindu in the literal sense of the term. Then, it is said that we should accept the principle of this Bill on the ground of humanity. Is there any prescribed standard of humanity ? Is there any border line of humanity which says that we should come up thus far and no further ? There would be other people who would, on the same ground of humanity, insist on going further. They would insist on inter-dining and inter-marriage as well as some of them have been actually doing. I want to show that these things are unstable and unsafe. All this fuss has been created by these reformers. This Bill is not even supported by the generality of the untouchables.

Mr. N. M. Joshi (Nominated Non-Official) : Who told you that ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : I can cite instances to that effect. On the last Harijan Day, the local leaders of Cuttack wanted to drag the untouchables into Kali's temple, but they refused to listen to them. I will cite one other instance which was reported in the Ananda Bazar

[Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen.]

Patrika which is an organ of the reformers. At Contai, which is a sub-division of the Midnapore district, when the reformers asked the untouchables to transgress their usual rights, they were beaten by them with broom-sticks. That is not my own invention ; it was reported in the Ananda Bazar Patrika which is a paper in support of these reformers. So, I beg to submit that in cases where common sense differs and where there is a difference of views, Shastras should be our only guide. If you do not abide by this dictum, you are quite at liberty to preach another religion as was done by the late Raja Ram Mohan Roy or the late Swami Dayanand. You cannot be allowed to take your seat on the broad breast of religion and society and commit outrage on them. Sir, that being so, I should ask the Hindus to abide by the Shastras only. Now, what do these Shastras tell us ? Honourable Members will remember the history of the origin of these untouchables which I gave them on the last occasion. In one short sentence I will remind them again of it.

Honourable Members : We remember all your speeches.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Sir, these untouchables owe their origin to serious violations of marital laws. Manu says that we should have no intimate dealings with these people. Samvartta and Atri are also of the same opinion. This is what they say :

"Chāndālam patitam sprishtwā shavam Antyajam eva cha Udakyām sūtikām nārīm savāsāh snānam acharet."—Samvartta.

—If one touches a Chandala or a fallen man or a dead body or any [illegible] woman who has only recently delivered, he should take a bath.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav (Bombay Central Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : May I ask the learned Pandit whether he follows that Shloka ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : I do, and many other people do the same. It may be a news to my Honourable friend, because he knows nothing about the Hindu society, but this is a fact.

Mr. R. S. Sarma : May I ask a direction from you, Sir ? In view of the lateness of the hour, will you be pleased to direct that Pandit Sen's speech be taken as read and incorporated in the debates of the Assembly ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : How ? I beg to submit, Sir, that this is the only place where we can give full expression to our views, otherwise, outside this House we are even physically obstructed by the non-violent followers of Mr. Gandhi. I am sorry the Honourable the Law Member is not in his seat. He will bear me out when I say this, because he himself had some ugly experience at the hands of these so-called harbingers of democracy. That incident happened in Calcutta sometime ago. Atri says :

"Charmako rajako vainyo dhīvaro natakastathā
Etān sprishtvā dwijo mohāt āchāmet prayatopi san.
Etaih sprishto dwijo nityam ekarātram ghritam pibet."

Then, again :

"Yastu chchhāyām shwapākasya brāhmanastwadhigachchhati.
Sa cha snānan prakurvita ghritam prāshya vishuddhati."

—"If a Brahmin comes across even the shadow of a Chandala, he should perform a bath and drink Ghee for purification."

Manu says :

"Na taih samayam anwichchhet purusho dharmam ācharan.

—A religious man should have no dealings with these untouchables.

It is argued by some of the reformers that these texts do not occur in the Vedas, but that they occur only in the Smritis. We resent this sort of argument. It only betrays their ignorance. It is not only the Vedas that are authorities on our Dharma, but the Smritis also are authorities. The text is :

"Vedah smritih sadāchārah swasya cha priyam ātmanah etat chaturvidham prāhuh sākshād dharmasya lakshanam."

The Vedas, the Smritis and good conduct and one's own complacence in matters of choice,—these are the authorities on Dharma. So the Smriti also is an authority on Dharma. However, to satisfy these captious critics, I will cite some texts from the Vedas which go to support that untouchability is recognised in the Vedas also. Honourable Members will remember the text I quoted the other day from the Chhandogya Upanishad which mentions the untouchables along with some of the lowest forms of creation as having their birth determined by their acts in their previous births.

An Honourable Member : Are Upanishads Vedas ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : The Upanishads are the essence of Vedas, they are Vedas par excellence. The Brihadaranyakopanishad also says :

"Na janam iyāt, nāntam iyāt."

A caste Hindu should not go to an untouchable or visit his habitation. The Sukla Yajur Veda, Chapter 30, makes mention of the four castes as well as some of the untouchable castes, namely : Dhevara, Kaivartta, Kirata, Nishada, and so forth.

It is not that these were later imaginations of the Smritikaras, but they do occur in the Vedas also. As a dissentient voice has been raised as to whether the Upanishads are the Vedas, I am prepared to cite some texts in order to satisfy these doubting friends. The Shukla Yajur Veda Samhita says :

"Shundhadhwam devayajyāyai yad vah ashuddhāh parājaghnah."

This is addressed to the sacrificial implements made of wood. They are told, " get yourselves purified by this sprinkling as you were made by unholy persons "—evidently referring to the carpenters, and so forth. Sir, I may inform my Honourable friends that it will be news to some of them and I invite the special attention of my Honourable friend, Diwan Bahadur Sarda, that in commenting on these passages from the Shukla Yajur Veda even the late Swami Dayanand Saraswati gives a reason for this view. He says that the company of the untouchables is to be avoided, because their touch or their breath may pollute others. This is what he says in the Bhashya of the text. Sir, we have

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Wednesday, 6th September, 1933.

The Assembly met in the Assembly Chamber at Eleven of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Racial Restrictions against Indians to buy Land in Kenya.

656. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 3rd February, 1933, at page 5 under the heading " Sub-divisions of Plots in Highlands " ?

(b) Is it a fact that there exists in Kenya Highlands a racial restriction against Indians to buy land even for non-agricultural purposes, and that this restriction affects the Indian interests prejudicially ? What steps have Government taken in the matter ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) So far as the Government of India are aware the restriction is intended to apply to agricultural land only. As the Honourable Member probably knows the matter has been referred to a Select Committee of the Kenya Legislative Council. Government have asked for a copy of the Committee's report and, after considering it, will take suitable action, if necessary.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : In view of the fact that Government recognise that the Kenya Government, with the approval of the British Government, impose racial discrimination and restrictions against Indians, may I ask whether they will represent to the British Government that the Government of India should have similar powers in the future constitution for imposing restrictions upon the subjects of those colonies where restrictions are imposed upon Indians ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend asked a similar question the other day and I informed him that the Joint Select Committee of Parliament and His Majesty's Government are now seized of the matter.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether the Government of India have considered paragraph 122 of the White Paper ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I am not in a position to answer whether they have considered paragraph 122 or not.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask whether they will consider that paragraph 122 from the point of view of the facts that have arisen out of this question ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : The Honourable Member's suggestion will be conveyed to the proper quarter, Sir.

[Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen.]

fallen on evil times. We, Hindus, do not believe in the Shastras and the Arya Samajists also do not believe in the sayings of their Guru, Swami Dayanand Saraswati. Everybody is anxious to be guided by his own common sense.

An Honourable Member : What a calamity !

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : It is certainly a calamity. It should be remembered that ceremonial cleanliness is primarily a matter to be discussed in the Smriti works and not in the Vedas. Mr. Gandhi was very right when he said on the 4th November that " Sanatan Dharma is the vital faith based upon the Vedas and writings that followed them ". By the expression " writings that followed them ", Mr. Gandhi evidently meant Smritis. Just two months later, on the 4th January, he shifted his position. He gave a different definition of Sanatan Dharma. He says that " Sanatan Dharma is good conduct which people can reach ". Every intelligent person can see that this definition makes a lot of difference. If this definition is to be accepted, I do not see any difference between Sanatan Dharma and any other Dharma. Every Dharma will accept the principle that Dharma is good conduct which people can reach. So if we are to accept this definition given by Mr. Gandhi later on, I say that all distinction between Sanatan Dharma and all other Dharmas ceases to exist.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir (Bombay City : Non-Muhammadan Urban) : May I appeal to the Honourable Member that, after a long day, he should allow us to take advantage of the open air on this beautiful day.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : I am sorry I cannot oblige my Honourable friend. This is a vital thing. If the Honourable Member wishes to leave the House, he can do so with the leave of the Honourable the President.

Mr. A. Hoon (Allahabad and Jhansi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : I wish to refer to one thing as mentioned by my Honourable friend in his address which has set me shivering this afternoon. The Honourable Member has said that if the shadow of an untouchable falls upon a Hindu, he should take a bath immediately. Ever since he said that, I have been shivering, because I am wondering whether it should be a cold bath or a hot bath.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Cold bath for us, and hot bath for reformers.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : May I know from the Honourable Member whether, as he daily comes near my Honourable friend, Mr. Rajah, he ever takes a bath ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : There are substitutes for baths also.

An Honourable Member : What are those substitutes ?

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : You complain that you are tired and you want to go home and, yet, you want further elucidation upon this point.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : How long does the Honourable Member propose to take ? As this is the last day for non-official Bills, the Chair would certainly have no objection to sit a little late, if it is the general desire of the House to finish the business now before the House. How long will the Honourable Member take to finish his speech ?

Several Honourable Members : No, we cannot sit.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : I will take three-quarters of an hour more.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : I want to speak on this motion. There are several other Members who also want to speak.

Mr. S. C. Sen (Bengal National Chamber of Commerce : Indian Commerce) : There is a meeting of the Select Committee called for for this evening.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Our ual practice is to adjourn at a quarter to five every day. The Chair erstands that some important Select Committees have been summoned his evening, and, on an important Bill of this nature which certain of the House consider to be very vital to them, the Chair cannot discussion without giving an opportunity to every section of express itself. (Hear, hear.) If the Honourable Member, is going to take three-quarters of an hour more and if there so other Honourable Members to speak on the motion, it would not asonable to expect the House to sit much longer. Therefore, we t to adjourn the House just now.

The Assembly then adjourned till Eleven of the clock on Wednesday, e 6th September, 1933.

LEASES IN KENYA NATIVE RESERVES.

657. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 3rd February, 1933, at page 6 under the heading " Leases in Kenya Native Reserves " ?

(b) Is it a fact that leases of plots which have already been commercially developed by them, have been refused to Indian traders, and that in future there is a danger of that policy being more vigorously pursued ? If so, what steps have Government taken to safeguard the interests of the Indians ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) and (b). Government have no information beyond what is contained in the newspaper report referred to by the Honourable Member and await the report of the Kenya Land Commission.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST ASIATIC STAFF IN THE TANGANYIKA RAILWAYS.

658. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 10th February, 1933, at page 7 under the heading " Railway Methods ", and also to another leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 14th July, 1933, at page 8 under the heading " The Asiatic in Railways ", relating to the severity with which discrimination against the Asiatic staff is practised in the Tanganyika Railways ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state if they propose to take some steps to guarantee to the Indian staff on the Tanganyika Railways an equitable treatment as common subjects of His Majesty ?

(c) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a report in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 10th February, 1933, at page 12 under the heading " Mr. Gibb's Report on Railway Rates and Finance " ?

(d) Have Government received a copy of that report from the Colonial Office ? If so, have Government considered the recommendations made in the report and its effects on the Indian settlers in Tanganyika ? And if so, will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement showing the results of such consideration and examination, indicating how they affect the Indian settlers ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) and (c). Yes.

(b) Government have made enquiries.

(d) Government have received and examined the report of Mr. Roger Gibb on railway rates and finance in Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika Territory and propose to address the Secretary of State shortly. The Honourable Member will appreciate that while the matter is under correspondence with His Majesty's Government who are also awaiting the views of the Colonial Governments concerned, the Government of India cannot disclose the recommendations that they might make. A copy of the report has been placed in the Library.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I ask whether Indians are actually and, as a matter of fact, on the staff of the Tanganyika Railways ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Yes, Sir ; Indians are on the staff of the Tanganyika Railways all right.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Is it a large number, or only a few men have been taken ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : No, Sir. I said that the practice, so far as the railways in the whole of East Africa are concerned, for a long time, has been to recruit Indians for certain positions.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : With regard to the answer to part (b) of my question, what is the result of the inquiries which Government say they have instituted ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I have not yet had a reply from the Government of Tanganyika.

POSTAL UNION IN EAST AFRICA.

659. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the following :

(i) a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 17th February, 1933, at page 4 under the heading " Postal Union in Action " ;

(ii) a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 17th March, 1933, at page 9 under the heading " Postal Union in Limelight " ;

(iii) a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 24th March, 1933, at page 2 under the heading " Postal Union in Limelight II " ;

(iv) a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 28th April, 1933, at page 14 under the heading " Is It Mutual Agreement " ;

(v) a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 26th May, 1933, at page 7 under the heading " Some Aspects of Postal Union in Action " ;

(vi) a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 26th May, 1933, at page 10 under the heading " Postal Union Notions of False Economies " ;

(vii) a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 26th May, 1933, at page 11 under the heading " Postal Union Agreement a Hocus " ?

(b) Are Government aware that the Postal Union of East Africa has not proved an economic measure, and has been responsible for seriously undermining the status and service conditions of the Indian staff in Tanganyika and more particularly the finances of Tanganyika ?

(c) If the reply to part (b) be in the affirmative, are Government prepared to take adequate steps in the matter to safeguard the interests of the Indians ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) Yes.

(b) and (c). In reply to the Honourable Member's question No. 342, I stated on the 20th February that Government's main concern is to ensure that the amalgamation of postal services does not differentially affect Indian interests, mainly as regards the employment of Indians.

They have had no evidence of this so far but the Honourable Member may rest assured that they will watch the situation carefully with a view to safeguarding Indian interests.

AMELIORATION OF THE CONDITION OF INDIAN EDUCATION IN BRITISH GUIANA.

660. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a report published in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 10th March, 1933, at page 2 under the heading " Indians in British Guiana " ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken to ameliorate the condition of Indian education in that colony ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) Yes.

(b) The question of educational reform in British Guiana was comprehensively reviewed by the British Guiana Commission who made important recommendations in the matter. The Government of India are not aware what action has been taken in regard to those recommendations but are making inquiries.

SAFEGUARDING THE LEGITIMATE INTERESTS OF INDIANS IN FIJI.

661. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: (a) Has the attention of Governmen been drawn to the news items published in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 26th May, 1933, at page 13 under the heading " Indians in Fiji ", and dated the 14th July, 1933, at page 3 under the heading " Fiji M. L. C. Resigns His Seat ", relating to the serious state of affairs in Fiji about the status of Indians in that colony ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state what steps have they so far taken to assist the Indian community of that colony to safeguard their legitimate interests ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) Yes.

(b) I have nothing to add to the Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands Resolution, dated the 12th January, 1927, and to the reply given to part (e) of the Honourable Member's question No. 634 on the 22nd September, 1931, and the connected supplementaries.

MAIZE POOL SCHEME IN KENYA.

662. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article published in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 16th June, 1933, at page 2 under the heading " Kenya Maize Pool Scheme " ?

(b) Are Government aware of the resolutions of the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry on the subject of the Maize Pool Scheme in Kenya and its dangers to the Indian interest ?

(c) What steps do Government propose to take in the matter to afford protection to the Indian interests in that colony ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) Yes.

(b) Government have seen the resolutions.

(c) It is understood that the Maize Pool Scheme which was put forward by the Kenya Farmers' Association was referred to a Sub-Committee of the Board of Agriculture. The Sub-Committee has agreed that it cannot recommend the scheme.

AGITATION OF THE WHITE SETTLERS IN KENYA AGAINST INCOME-TAX.

663. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 23rd June, 1933, at page 2 under the heading " No More Income-tax " ?

(b) Are Government aware that the East African Indian community will be hard hit by the decision of the Secretary of State for Colonies to withdraw the income-tax proposals on account of the agitation of the white settlers in Kenya against income-tax ?

(c) Do Government propose to consider the question of making representations to the Imperial Government against the decision referred to above ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a) Yes.

(b) and (c). The scheme of taxation alternative to the income-tax was recommended by a Commitee on which the Indian community had two representatives. It was agreed to by the Indian members, subject to a reservation by one of them in regard to the graduated male non-native poll-tax. The Secretary of State for the Colonies has suggested for consideration that the existing rate of this tax, which is 30s. per annum, should remain unaltered for persons with yearly incomes not exceeding £100, and this is designed to meet the objection of the Indian representative, referred to, that a minimum rate of 40s., which increases the present poll-tax by one-third, will bear harshly on the poorer Indians. Since these proposals were published in Kenya, the Government of India have received no representations against them and have no reason, therefore, to suppose that their help is required.

AMELIORATION OF THE CONDITION OF INDIANS IN THE LAKE PROVINCE IN TANGANYIKA.

664. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh: (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 7th July, 1933, at page 6 under the heading " Misfortunes of the Lake Province " ?

(b) Are Government aware of the great amount of Indian interest in jeopardy in the Lake Province of the Tanganyika Territory, as a result of the Marketing (Amendment) Ordinance, 1932, of the Government of Tanganyika ?

(c) Do Government propose to consider the question of making necessary representations to the proper authorities for the amelioration of the Indian condition in that Province ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: (a), (b) and (c). Government have seen the article referred to by the Honourable Member. They have not received any representation on the subject from the Indian community in Tanganyika but are making inquiries as to what the exact position is.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Am I to understand that the result of that inquiry will be communicated to the House ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : It depends upon the importance of the result.

DEMAND OF WHITE SETTLERS FOR THE CONTROL OVER THE FINANCES OF KENYA.

665. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn :

(i) to an article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 28th July, 1933, at page 2 under the heading " Kenya Plunged into Political Controversies " ;

(ii) to a leading article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 28th July, 1933, at page 3 under the heading " Kenya Politics " ;

(iii) to an article in the Tanganyika Opinion, dated the 28th July, 1933, at page 8 under the heading " Writing on the Wall— A Call to Tanganyika " ?

(b) Are Government aware of the text of the resolutions of the Executive Committee of the East African Indian National Congress as a sequel to the white settlers' demand for control over the finance of the Kenya colony, and of the unanimous opinion of the Indian press of Kenya opposing the demands of the Kenya whites ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state what steps, if any, have been taken in the matter ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) and (b). Yes.

(c) The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the Press Note on the subject issued on the 11th August, 1933.

CONSTRUCTION OF A BRIDGE ON A CANAL BETWEEN MOGHALPURA AND LAHORE ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

666. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (on behalf of Sardar Sant Singh) : Is it a fact that a bridge is being constructed on a canal on the North Western Railway line, between Moghalpura and Lahore station ? If so, will Government be pleased to furnish detailed information about the bridge on the following points :

(i) width of the canal, (ii) date when the work was started, (iii) estimated cost, (iv) cost actually incurred, (v) date when the bridge is likely to be completed ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : The bridge in question is called the Bari Doab Canal bridge :

(i) The width of the canal is 47 ft. but the Railway crosses it at an angle and so the length of the bridge is very much greater than the width of the canal.

(ii) The work was started in March, 1933.

(iii) The estimated cost is Rs. 1,55,000.

(iv) The expenditure incurred to date is about Rs. 1,65,000 but credits amounting to about Rs. 40,000 will accrue on completion of the work.

(v) The bridge is expected to be completed within a month from now.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if new constructions are undertaken by the Railways nowadays ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : That hardly arises out of this question, but I can assure my Honourable friend that the question of new constructions is being carefully considered by Government as was explained in the Budget speech of the Honourable Member for Railways.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : With regard to this bridge, may I know whether it is a new construction or only repairs to an old bridge ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I should like to have notice of that question.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : In consideration of the fact that the rates of labour and material have fallen down, why should there be an excess over the estimates ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : The estimate was not exceeded, Sir.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : The Honourable Member answered the question, but does he not know whether it is a new bridge or an old bridge that is being repaired ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have answered all the questions put on the paper. This was not on the paper and I am not aware as to what is happening on the North Western Railway.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : My question is whether this bridge, of which mention is made in this question, is a new bridge or an old bridge which is repaired ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : If the Honourable Member will put down a question, I shall be glad to give him a reply.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does the Honourable Member get only half replies to these questions from the Agents of the Railways ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I get full replies to all questions that are put down on the paper.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : There is a difference of opinion on that. But when the Honourable Member got information about the construction of this bridge, was he not informed whether it is a new bridge or an old bridge which is being repaired ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I may point out that it is not a question of difference of opinion, but a question of fact. I have replied to every question that has been put on the paper.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : The question was, if it is a fact that a bridge is being constructed on a canal on the North Western Railway line, between Moghalpura and Lahore station ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : And the answer is in the affirmative.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : And the supplementary question was whether it is a new bridge which is being constructed or an old bridge which is being repaired.

Mr. P. R. Rau : For that I shall have to consult the North Western Railway and if my Honourable friend desires to have the information, he should put down a question on the paper.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does not the Honourable Member think that if it was an old bridge, which is being repaired, they would not have used the word " constructed ", but they would have said " repaired " ? In view of that, does not the Honourable Member think that this is a new construction ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : That is a question of difference of opinion about the meaning of the word " constructed ".

THREE DECIPHERABLE CURRENCY NOTES OF THE LAHORE CIRCLE.

667. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (on behalf of Sardar Sant Singh) : (a) Are Government aware that three notes of hundred rupees each of Lahore Circle (Currency Office) were sent to the Lahore Office by Messrs. Khushiram Behari Lal through the Allahabad Bank, Limited, Lyallpur Branch, for being cashed ? If so, with what result ?

(b) Is it not a fact that the said notes were cut into two halves each by a cutting machine and when joined together numbers and letters were easily decipherable ? If so, why do Government regard such notes as unidentifiable ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to lay the rules on the table ?

(d) Has the said firm of Messrs. Khushi Ram Behari Lal served Government with a notice of their claim, as prescribed by Section 80, C. P. C. ? If so, have Government consulted their legal advisers ? If so, with what result ?

(e) Are Government aware that such acts of avoiding payment of these notes on technical grounds go to affect the credit of Government in the commercial world ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a), (b) and (d). Government have no information regarding the case to which the Honourable Member refers.

(c) The Honourable Member will find a copy of the rules in the Library of this House.

(e) No.

MANAGEMENT OF THE HINDU REFRESHMENT ROOM AT LAHORE RAILWAY STATION.

668. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (on behalf of Sardar Sant Singh) : (a) Will Government be pleased to state since how long the Hindu Refreshment room at Lahore Railway station has been in existence ?

(b) Who has been running the Hindu Refreshment room at Lahore Railway station during the last ten years ?

(c) Who has been given the contract now and since when ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) About 30 years.

(b) S. Tara Singh, prior to December, 1925, and S. Prabh Singh from December, 1925 to 31st July, 1933.

(c) Mehta Bishan Dass from 1st August, 1933.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member if he is prepared to advise the Agent to consult the advisory committee when giving these contracts for refreshments ? Does it arise out of this question or not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Is that question addressed to me or to the President ?

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : It is addressed to the Honourable Member.

Mr. P. R. Rau : May I know what is the question ?

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : I hope my voice is loud enough to be heard even perhaps outside the House. Will the Honourable Member be pleased to advise the Agent that in giving contracts of this nature the advisory committee of the railway should be consulted ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No. These are purely executive matters.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : I cannot understand the reply : whether it is an executive matter or any other, we are entitled to know from the Honourable Member whether he is going to give advice or not. I want an answer in a cool manner without putting on any air.

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have already given an answer to the Honourable Member. I said this was a purely executive matter and not the function of the advisory committee.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Will the Honourable Member please tell me what are the duties of an advisory committee ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I think the duties of the advisory committee are contained in a publication which is in the Library of the House.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know whether the Honourable Member does not know them ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : They are rather long and I cannot burden my memory with the whole list of their duties.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Yet, the Honourable Member says that this is not the business of the advisory committee : may I know from the Honourable Member if that is correct ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I am really afraid I cannot understand my Honourable friend's question.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : I think I have made it very plain : I have asked whether the Honourable Member, without knowing the rules, knows that this is not a matter for the advisory committee ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. Question time ought to be utilised for eliciting information from Government and not to subject Members of Government to cross-examination.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : With all deference to your ruling, I submit that when questions are being answered in a manner which is absolutely not satisfactory, I think the only way of getting a reply is by cross-examination.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Next question.

MANAGEMENT OF THE HINDU REFRESHMENT ROOM AT LAHORE RAILWAY STATION.

669. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (on behalf of Sardar Sant Singh) : (a) Are Government aware that the Sikhs have religious scruples in taking meat other than Jhatka ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) above be in the affirmative, are Government aware that Jhatka meat is sold at higher rates than the other kinds of meats ?

(c) Is it a fact that a Hindu has been given the management of the Hindu refreshment room at Lahore Railway station ?

(d) Are Government aware that strong representations have been made by the whole Sikh community, as well as Sikh press, against granting the management of the Hindu Refreshment room at Lahore Railway station to a Hindu on the ground that the Sikhs cannot be certain of the kind of meat prepared therein ?

(e) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the resolution passed by S. G. P. C., the Chief Khalsa Diwan and a number of other Sikh institutions on this subject ?

(f) Is it a fact that a deputation waited upon the Agent, North Western Railway, on behalf of the Sikh Central Youth League, Lahore ? If so, will Government be pleased to state what representations were made by the members of the deputation and what was the reply given to their representation ?

(g) Is it a fact that retired military officers have expressed their resentment at the action of Government in granting the management of the refreshment room to a Hindu ? If so, do Government propose to consider the question of remedying the evil thus done ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) I understand that no change has been made in the tariff rates with the change of contractors.

(c) Yes. The Agent, North Western Railway, reports that the previous Sikh Contractor had been warned several times for unsatisfactory work and as there was no improvement he was constrained to withdraw his licence.

(d) and (e). Certain representations were made to the North Western Railway Administration regarding the termination of the previous contract. The matter was discussed by the Chief Commercial Manager with certain leading Sikhs of Lahore and Amritsar, and the subject was discussed informally also at a meeting of the Lahore Advisory Committee. It was decided that wherever practicable Hindu Refreshment Room Contractors would purvey Jhatka meat only, as such meat was said to be acceptable to others using the Hindu Refreshment Rooms. Instructions to this effect have been issued and no complaints have since been received.

(f) No deputation was received by the Agent ; the matter was discussed as stated in parts (d) and (e) of my reply.

(g) Certain retired Sikh officers had made a representation. Government do not consider that any necessity has arisen for their intervention in his matter.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : May I know if a change in the tariff rates had been made, the local advisory committee would have been consulted ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I understand that no change has been made.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Will they be consulted if there is a change ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : That is a hypothetical question, Sir.

MEMORIAL SUBMITTED BY ASSISTANT WAY INSPECTORS, NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY, FOR MODIFICATION IN THEIR CONDITION OF SERVICE.

670. *Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (on behalf of Sardar Sant Singh) : (a) Is it a fact that a memorial was recently submitted by Assistant Way Inspectors, grade I, asking for certain modification in their conditions of service ? If so, what action has been taken in the matter ?

(b) Are Government aware of the training given in T-10 course to Assistant Way Inspectors, grade I, equivalent to that given to the Apprentice Permanent Way Inspectors in the same school ? If so, is it a fact that preferential treatment is given to the latter, over-ruling the seniority, experience, and the qualifications attained by the former ? If so, why ?

(c) Are the Assistant Way Inspectors, grade I, after qualifying themselves in T-10 course, considered fit to hold charge as Permanent Way Inspectors ? If so, how many such men are available on the North Western Railway ?

(d) Is a sufficient number of such class of men who have passed the course of T-10 available, and if so, will Government be pleased to state what is the necessity of incurring a lot of expenditure in recruiting inexperienced outsiders ?

(e) During the period of the last five years how many Assistant Way Inspectors, grade I, and grade II, i.e., Apprentice Permanent Way Inspectors, were promoted and confirmed as Permanent Way Inspectors respectively ? What is the percentage of each class ?

(f) Is it a fact that a number of Assistant Way Inspectors, grade I, without passing the Walton Training School have been promoted to Permanent Way Inspectors' post ? If so, why are the Assistant Way Inspectors, grade I, after qualifying themselves again in the school left behind the Apprentice Permanent Way Inspectors ? Is it a fact that a smaller percentage is fixed for Assistant Way Inspectors, grade I, for promotion to Permanent Way Inspectors' job ?

(g) Is the pay of the Assistant Way Inspector, grade I, Rs. 60—2—90—2½—110 and of grade II, i.e., Apprentice Permanent Way Inspectors Rs. 65, 80, 95, 125 plus 5 to 155 ? If so, why is such a big difference in pay being maintained ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No memorial has been received by the Railway Board. The matter seems to be within the competence of the Agent, North Western Railway, to deal with ; and I am sending a copy of this question to him for any action that he may consider necessary.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does the Honourable Member get any replies to the questions that are sent to the Agent ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Not unless a reply is asked for.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Does the Honourable Member generally ask for a reply ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No ; if the question is within the competence of the Agent to decide, I do not ask for a reply.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF THE CLERICAL STAFF IN THE MILITARY GRASS AND DAIRY FARMS.

671. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (on behalf of Sardar Sant Singh) : Will Government please state the total clerical strength of the Military Grass and Dairy Farms, and the number of Sikhs in each as compared to Muslims and Hindus ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : I place on the table a statement giving the information desired by the Honourable Member.

Statement showing the Communal Composition of the Clerical Staff in the Military Grass and Dairy Farms.

	Sanctioned establishment.	Actual.
		Hindus.	Muslims	Sikhs.	Others.	Total.
Military Dairy Farms—
Clerks	93	76	10	5	2	93
Military Grass Farms—
Clerks	116	77	30	4	5	116
Total ..	209	153	40	9	7	209

EXAMINATION FOR RECRUITMENT OF AUDITORS IN THE SUBORDINATE RAILWAY AUDIT SERVICE AND CLERKS IN THE OFFICES OF THE CHIEF AUDITORS AND STATE RAILWAYS.

672. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh (on behalf of Sardar Sant Singh) : (a) Is it a fact that an All-India competitive examination was held by the Director of Railway Audit in February, 1930, for recruitment of Auditors in the Subordinate Railway Audit Service and of clerks in the offices of the Chief Auditors and State Railways ?

(b) Is it a fact that successful candidates were given jobs as Auditors and clerks ?

(c) Is it a fact that in the office of the Chief Auditor, North Western Railway, three of the successful candidates were posted as Auditors and three as clerks ?

(d) Is it a fact that these successful candidates were exempted from appearing in Part I examination and were to qualify themselves by appearing in Part II examination ?

(e) Is it a fact that when retrenchment was carried out two of the clerks thus appointed were brought under reduction ? If so, is it due to the orders of the Government of India to the effect that retrenchment should be carried on according to the length of service ? Was no distinction made on account of the qualifications of the persons retrenched ? Is it a fact that in future recruitment, the Railway Board had issued a circular that the retrenched men should be provided first ? If so, is it a fact that in March, 1933, four supernumeraries were created in North Western Railway and one in the Attached office ? If so, is it also a fact that one of these posts has been given to an outsider ? If so, why ?

(f) Do Government propose to issue instructions to the Chief Auditor, North Western Railway, to make further recruitment from amongst the retrenched hands, according to their departmental qualifications and seniority ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : The information has been called for and will be laid on the table in due course.

RETRENCHMENT OF INDIANS EMPLOYED IN THE OFFICE OF THE HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR INDIA.

673. Mr. S. C. Mitra (on behalf of Mr. Bhuput Sing) : (a) Will Government be pleased to state the number of the Indians employed in the office of the High Commissioner for India in London ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state whether a retrenchment committee was appointed in London to recommend retrenchment in the office of the High Commissioner for India in London ?

(c) If so, when was it appointed and by whom was it appointed ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state the number of members appointed on the said committee and the number of Indians and Europeans separately appointed as members of the said committee ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state how many I. C. S. and other Indian Imperial Service men retired or otherwise were appointed as members of the said committee ?

(f) Will Government be pleased to state the total number of men showing separately the number of officers and other subordinate staff working at present in the High Commissioner's office and their respective numbers before the said retrenchment committee was appointed ?

(g) Will Government be pleased to state separately the number of Indians employed as officers and other subordinate staff in the office of the High Commissioner's office before the retrenchment ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state separately the number of Indians employed as officers and other subordinate staff in the High Commissioner's office after the retrenchment ?

(i) Will Government be pleased to state separately the number of Indians, officers and other subordinate staff, who have been retrenched by the retrenchment committee ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Information is being collected and will be furnished to the House in due course.

EMPLOYMENT OF INDIANS IN THE OFFICE OF THE HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR INDIA.

674. Mr. S. C. Mitra (on behalf of Mr. Bhuput Sing) : (a) Will Government be pleased to state separately the number of Indians now unemployed in London and all other places of the United Kingdom taken together ?

(b) Is it a fact that out of a total number of 350 officers and subordinate staff employed in the High Commissioner's office before the last retrenchment, there were only 13 Indians employed in that office ?

(c) Is it a fact that out of the 13 Indians so employed, nine were retrenched as a result of recommendation of the last retrenchment committee appointed for the office of the High Commissioner for India in London ?

(d) Do Government propose to reserve all the posts in the High Commissioner's office for employment of Indians ?

(e) If not, will they be pleased to state the reasons ?

(f) Are Government aware that a large number of Indians well qualified in all branches of Engineering and other technical qualifications required for holding the posts of officers and possessing other subordinate ranks in the office of the High Commissioner for India in London, are always available there ? If not, have they ever enquired into the matter ? If not, why not ?

(g) Will Government be pleased to state whether the posts of officers, when vacant, are advertised by the High Commissioner's office before being filled up ? If not, why not ?

(h) Do Government propose to do so in future ? If not, why not ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The information is being collected as far as is possible and when complete will be laid on the table.

IMPORT OF COPPER SULPHATE INTO BRITISH INDIA.

675. Dr. F. X. DeSouza : (a) Will Government be pleased to state (i) what quantities of copper sulphate were imported into British India during the last three years ; and (ii) what is the scale of customs duty levied on copper sulphate ?

(b) Are Government aware that 90 per cent. of the imported copper sulphate is used as a germicide for making up spraying mixtures and for other agricultural purposes ? If so, are Government prepared to see their way to remit the customs duty on copper sulphate used for agricultural purposes ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore :

(a) (i)

	Cwts.
1930-31	18,110
1931-32	17,648
1932-33	22,739

(ii)

Standard	Preferential.
	U. K.	Colonies.
30 p.c.	20 p.c.	20 p.c.
Ad val.	Ad val.	Ad. val.

(b) Government are aware that imported copper sulphate is used for spraying purposes but they have no information as to the exact proportion of the imports so used. Representations urging the remission of the duty on copper sulphate have been received by Government, and they are receiving consideration.

Dr. F. X. DeSouza : If the facts are, as stated in the question, namely, 90 per cent. of the imported stuff is being used for agricultural purposes, and only 10 per cent. for industrial purposes, are Government in a position to state whether they will remit this customs duty on imported copper sulphate ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I think if my Honourable friend had listened to the concluding portion of my reply, it would have been unnecessary for him to put me this question : I said that representations had been received and were under the consideration of Government.

Dr. F. X. DeSouza : I did listen carefully to the last part of the Honourable Member's answer : but I put a hypothetical case : if the facts stated by me are true, will Government remit the customs duty ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : On his own admission, my Honourable friend has put me a hypothetical question and I must decline to answer it.

Dr. F. X. DeSouza : Are Government aware that according to the report of the Director of Agriculture in Mysore, the use of copper sulphate is highly beneficial to agriculture, and that in many cases it raises the profit of agriculture by as much as Rs. 50 per acre ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am not aware of the report my Honourable friend refers to : but I have no reason to doubt that what is stated there is correct.

Dr. F. X. DeSouza : If that is so, will Government not take steps to remit this taxation considering it is a heavy duty against agriculture ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I really cannot waste the time of the House further. I can only repeat what I have already said, that the matter is under consideration.

Mr. F. E. James : May I ask two supplementary questions ? The first is, are Government aware that copper sulphate is imported into other coffee-producing countries free of customs duty ? Secondly, in view of the fact that this matter has been before the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research for more than a year, will Government be pleased to expedite the consideration of the application made ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : It is a little difficult to answer two questions at the same time. As regards the first part of my Honourable friend's question, I am grateful for the information conveyed. As regards the second, I am afraid I am not responsible for the operations of the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research ; but I shall pass on my Honourable friend's question to the authorities concerned.

IMPORT OF RUBBER HOSE INTO BRITISH INDIA.

676. Dr. F. X. DeSouza : (a) Will Government be pleased to state :

(i) what quantities of rubber hose were imported into British India during the last three years ; and (ii) what is the customs duty levied thereon ?

(b) Are Government aware that about 80 per cent. of the imported article is used for spraying machines ? If so, are Government prepared to consider the question of exempting this from customs duty ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) (i) Imports of rubber hose are not separately recorded in the Trade Accounts.

(ii) Ordinarily rubber hose is assessable to duty at 20 per cent. (preferential) and 30 per cent. (standard) ad valorem as manufactures of rubber not otherwise specified. When, however, it has been given some special shape or quality peculiar to its use as a component part of machinery, it is assessable at 10 per cent. ad valorem. If of canvas impregnated with rubber, it is assessable at 25 per cent. ad valorem.

(b) Government have no information as to the extent to which hose for spraying machines figures in the total imports. It is understood, however, that a large proportion of spraying machines are used for non-agricultural purposes. The latter part of the question does not arise.

Dr. F. X. DeSouza : Will Government inquire and find out what proportion of rubber hose which is imported is used for agricultural purposes as parts of Spraying Machinery ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I am afraid, Sir, it would be almost impossible to get accurate information on that point.

Mr. F. E. James : Arising out of that answer, would it not be possible for the new organization in regard to Statistical Research to obtain some figures from the agricultural interests concerned as to the amount, for example, of copper sulphate used for agricultural purposes and the amount of rubber hose used for agricultural purposes ? If he cannot give an answer, I would suggest to the Honourable Member in charge that he should obtain this information from the interests concerned.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I cannot say straight off whether it is possible to get information along the lines suggested by my friend, but I will certainly pass on the suggestion that he has made to the proper quarters.

FREIGHT ON MANURES AND FERTILISERS ON THE MADRAS AND SOUTHERN MAHRATTA AND SOUTH INDIAN RAILWAYS.

677. Dr. F. X. DeSouza : (a) Will Government be pleased to state what is the scale of railway freight per ton charged on manures and fertilisers on the Madras and Southern Mahratta and South Indian Railways ?

(b) What is the freight charged on lime ?

(c) Are Government aware that a considerable proportion of lime transported by railway is used for manurial purposes ? If so, are Government prepared to direct the Railway authorities in the matter of assessing the freight to accept the certificate of firms of repute that a particular consignment of lime is intended to be used as a manure ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (b). I lay a statement on the table giving the required information.

(c) Government have no information as to the first part of the question, but I am sending a copy of the question to the Railway Administrations concerned so that the suggestion may be examined.

Statement showing the freight charged on Manures, etc., on certain Railways.

(a) On the Madras and Southern Mahratta and South Indian Railways manure is charged at the C/FF Schedule rate, i.e., at a flat rate of $\frac{1}{10}$ pie per maund per mile

(b) Lime is charged on the Madras and Southern Mahratta and South Indian Railways at the following rates :

Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway.—At the C./M Schedule, viz. :

Miles.	Pie per maund per mile.
1—75	·380
76—300	·200
301 & over	·100

Various station-to-station rates are also quoted for this commodity in local booking.

South Indian Railway :—

(i) When declared that the commodity is for manurial purposes for inland use only ..... $\frac{1}{10}$ pie per maund per mile.

(ii) When used for other than manurial purposes—At C/N Schedule, i.e. :

Miles.	Pie per maund per mile.
1—75	·333
76—150	·200
151—300	·170
301—400	·125
401 & over	·100

REPRESENTATION OF THE TRAVELLING PUBLIC AT THE RAIL-ROAD CONFERENCE HELD AT SIMLA.

678. Mr. Rahimtoola M. Chinoy : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether any delegate to represent the views of the travelling public was invited to the Road-Rail Conference held at Simla in April, 1933 ? If not, why not ?

(b) Are Government aware of the existence, in Bombay, of an organisation called the Passengers' and Traffic Relief Association which has been working for about 18 years past in the interests of the travelling public ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that this organisation requested Government for its representation at the Conference to enable it to place the point of view of the travelling public before the Conference ?

(d) If the answer to part (c) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state the reasons why such representation was not accorded to such an old institution ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state what action, if any,

(i) they have taken so far,

(ii) they propose to take,

to give effect to the resolutions adopted at the Road-Rail Conference held in Simla in April, 1933 ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) No delegate to represent the views of the travelling public was invited to the Road-Rail Conference. Government did not overlook the importance of the interests of the travelling public but did not find it possible to arrange for direct representation of those interests as they did not appear to be as yet sufficiently organised while such organisations as existed appeared to be upon a provincial or even more local basis. It is, I think, clear that there would have been great difficulty in selecting a delegate who would be fully representative of those interests for the purpose of a Conference of this nature. I would, however, point out that it was and is open to such interests to represent their views to Local Governments and that any representations they may make will be given the fullest consideration.

(b) and (c). The replies are in the affirmative.

(d) The reasons are given in the reply to part (a) of the question.

(e) Local Governments have been addressed in respect of the action to be taken on Resolutions Nos. 1—4 and 6 and 7, while Resolutions Nos. 5 and 8 are still under consideration by the Government of India.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know, Sir, whether this Passengers' and Traffic Relief Association was consulted in these matters as a matter of course ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : No, Sir.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Do the Government admit that this Association is in existence to look after the convenience of the travelling public and that they represent the views of the public ? Why are they not consulted then ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I have explained in my reply that it is open to this Association to represent their views to the Local Governments, and those views will be given the fullest consideration.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : I was merely asking, why were they not consulted on this question beforehand ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : There seemed no necessity for such previous consultation in matters of this kind.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : What are the reasons for saying that there is no necessity ? The point is that this Association is in existence to look to the convenience of the passengers, and the Association knows the actual wants and difficulties of the travelling public, and, if it is consulted beforehand, I don't think there will be any harm done to any one.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I would point out to the Honourable Member that, in any case, the Conference is now over, and also that it was concerned with a specific issue, the competition of motors transport with railways. I am not very certain how the Passengers' and Traffic Relief Association would be in a position to offer any opinion of real value on that particular issue. On the question of railway amenities, I admit that it might be desirable that they should be consulted, but that was not the issue with which the Conference was concerned.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I know, Sir, whether the passengers will not be affected in any way by the decisions of the Rail-Road Conference ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : That is obviously so, but in a very indirect manner.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is this the only Association of its kind in this country ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : No, Sir ; I believe there is one in Madras and one in Sangli.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Question No. 679 has already been answered on a short notice question, Sir, and so I shall not put it.

REDUCTION IN THE INCOME OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

680. Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether there has been recently an appreciable reduction in the income of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta due to decline of trade and other causes ;

(b) whether the work of the Port Trust has not thereby decreased appreciably ;

(c) if the reply to part (b) be in the affirmative, whether Government contemplate retrenchment in the Port Trust Office by discharging some officials who draw high salaries ;

(d) if so, the names of such officials together with their designations and monthly salaries ;

(e) the total income that the Port Trust of Calcutta earned during 1929-30, 1930-31 and 1931-32 ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Information is being called for and a complete reply will be laid on the table in due course.

AMOUNT SPENT BY THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST ON THE PURCHASE OF MATERIALS IN INDIA.

681. Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the amounts (to be shown year by year) that the Calcutta Port Trust has expended on the purchase of materials in India during 1929-30, 1930-31 and 1931-32 ;

(b) the amounts that the Calcutta Port Trust has disbursed for payment to Messrs. Bird and Company, Calcutta, under the head 'Supply of Labour' during 1929-30, 1930-31 and 1931-32 ;

(c) who were the chairman and the secretary, respectively, of the Port Commissioners when the labour contract was first given to Messrs. Bird and Company ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) The Honourable Member is presumably referring to the purchase of stores by the Calcutta Port Trust. If so, the figures are approximately as follows :

	Rs.
1929-30	34.46 lakhs.
1930-31	25.75 lakhs.
1931-32	15.80 lakhs.

These are exclusive of the value of stores and equipment purchased by the Engineering Department of the Port Trust, of which the figures are not available.

(b) The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the reply given by me on the 1st September, 1933, to Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh's starred question No. 375.

(c) The information asked for is being obtained and will, when received, be laid on the table.

TECHNICAL APPRENTICES IN THE CALCUTTA PORT TRUST WORKSHOPS.

682. Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the number of technical apprentices that the Calcutta Port Trust had in their Workshops in 1929-30, 1930-31, 1931-32 and 1932-33 ;

(b) how many of such apprentices were (i) Indians, (ii) Anglo-Indians, (iii) Europeans ;

(c) how many of the apprentices were taken from outside the Technical Institutions or the Engineering Colleges meant specially for specialised training ;

(d) whether every facility and assistance was afforded to those apprentices to learn their work ;

(e) whether the different departmental Heads have from time to time supervised the work of these technical apprentices and tested their practical knowledge ;

(f) if so, the names of departmental Heads and the names of apprentices whose work was so supervised and knowledge tested ;

(g) whether any of those technical students from outside has been absorbed in the service of the Port Trust ;

(h) whether it is a fact that some non-Indian hands retrenched in one department have been appointed in another, either temporarily or permanently ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The information asked for is being obtained and will, when received, be laid on the table.

MEERUT CONSPIRACY CASE.

683. Mr. Nabakumar Sing Dudhoria : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the total amount that has been spent on prosecution in the Meerut Conspiracy Case from start to finish ;

(b) the full duration (in years, months and days) of the trial in (i) the Lower Court, (ii) the High Court ;

(c) the names of prosecuting Counsels who had the charge of the case during the different periods ;

(d) the amounts that were received by each of them ;

(e) the number of accused that were originally sent up for trial ;

(f) how many of such accused dropped off (i) by death, (ii) by discharge or acquittal during the trial ;

(g) (i) how many of them were sentenced, (ii) how many were acquitted at the end of the trial ;

(h) the names of the accused who were sentenced, together with the nature of the sentence on such ;

(i) the names of the accused who had their sentences reduced or modified or entirely removed on appeal by the High Court, together with the kind of sentence each received after its modification or reduction ;

(j) the names of accused who have been acquitted by the High Court ;

(k) whether their attention has been drawn to the criticisms that the Manchester Guardian, the Daily Herald, the Morning Post, and the Observer have expressed on the trial ;

(l) whether their attention has been drawn to the leader of the Statesman of the 13th August last, regarding Law's Delays ;

(m) if so, whether they contemplate altering the Criminal Procedure Code on the lines suggested by the Statesman ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Rs. 18½ lakhs approximately.

(b) The trial in the Lower Court including the preliminary enquiry in the Magistrate's Court, lasted about 3½ years, i.e., from 12th June, 1929 to 14th January, 1933. The hearing of the appeal in the High Court was concluded in ten days.

(c) Two Counsels were employed on the case. These were originally the late Mr. J. Langford James and Mr. J. P. Mitter. On Mr. Langford James' death Mr. Kemp replaced him.

(d) The total expenditure on the fees, etc., paid to Counsels was approximately 13 lakhs. Separate figures are not readily available.

(e) to (j). I lay a statement on the table giving the information required.

(k) to (m). Government are aware of the criticisms on the length of the trial, on which the High Court has also commented. These comments will receive the careful attention of Government.

Statement giving particulars of the 31 accused in the Meerut Conspiracy Case who were committed for trial by the Additional District Magistrate, Meerut.

Serial No.	Name of accused.	Sentence awarded by the Sessions Judge.	Result of appeal to the High Court.	Remarks.
1	Muzaffar Ahmad	Transportation for life.	3 years' imprisonment.
2	Sripad Amrit Dange ..	Transportation for 12 years.	Do.
3	Philip Spratt	Do. ..	2 years' imprisonment.
4	Sachhidanand Vishnu Ghate ..	Do. ..	1 year's imprisonment.
5	Keshav Nilkanth Joglekar ..	Do. ..	Do.
6	Raghunath Shivaram Nimbkar	Do. ..	Do.
7	Benjamin Francis Bradley ..	Transportation for 10 years.	Do.
8	Shanta Ram Suvlaram Mirajkar	Do. ..	Do.
9	Shaukat Usmani	Do. ..	3 years' imprisonment.
10	Sohan Singh Josh	Transportation for 7 years.	1 year's imprisonment.
11	Mir Abdul Majid	Do. ..	Do.
12	Dharami Kanta Goswami ..	Do. ..	Do.
13	Ajodhya Prasad	Transportation for 5 years.	Period already undergone in jail.
14	Gangadhar Adhikari ..	Do. ..	Do.
15	Puran Chandra Joshi ..	Do. ..	Do.
16	Motiram Gajanan Desai ..	Do. ..	Acquitted.
17	Gopendra Chakravarty ..	4 years' rigorous imprisonment.	7 months' rigorous imprisonment.
18	Gopal Chandra Basak ..	Do. ..	Period already undergone in jail.
19	Hugh Lester Hutchinson ..	Do. ..	Acquitted.
20	Radha Raman Mitra ..	Do. ..	Do.
21	Shiavaksh Hormasji Jhabwala	Do. ..	Do.
22	Kedar Nath Sehgal	Do. ..	Do.
23	Shamsul Huda	3 years' rigorous imprisonment.	Period already undergone in jail.
24	Arjun Atmaram Alve ..	Do. ..	Acquitted.
25	Gobind Ramchandra Kasle ..	Do. ..	Do.
26	Gauri Shankar	Do. ..	Do.
27	Lakshman Rao Kadam alias Lakshmi Narain Kadam.	Do. ..	Do.

Serial No.	Name of accused.	Sentence awarded by the Sessions Judge.	Result of appeal to the High Court.	Remarks.
28	Vishwa Nath Mukharji alias Biswanath Mukherjee.	Acquitted.
29	Shib Nath Banerji	Do.
30	Kishori Lal Ghosh	Do.
31	Dhondi Raj Thengdi ..	..	..	Died during the Session trial.

CONTINGENT ALLOWANCE SANCTIONED FOR CERTAIN POSTAL OFFICIALS.

684. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether a contingent allowance is sanctioned for Superintendents of Post Offices in India at a universal rate of Rs. 10 per month ;

(b) whether the same formula is applied to first class head offices in sanctioning contingent allowance ; if not, why not ;

(c) whether a first class Postmaster is required to do enquiry and inspection work, as done by the Superintendent of Post Offices ;

(d) whether it is a fact that a contingent allowance at a universal rate of Rs. 3 is sanctioned for the Inspector of Post Offices in India ? If so, whether the same amount is also sanctioned for the Town Inspector of Post Offices attached to first class head offices ? If not, why not ;

(e) if the replies to parts (b) and (d) be in the negative, the reasons for the differential treatment meted out to the first class Postmasters, and whether they are prepared to remove this grievance by introducing the same formula as is applied in the case of Divisional Superintendent of Post Offices ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The facts are not as stated by the Honourable Member. In offices of Superintendents of Post Offices in India the contingent allowance is fixed at rates ranging from Rs. 10 to Rs. 13 according to the number of clerks in each office.

(b) No. The contingent allowance of post offices including first class head offices is regulated according to the actual requirements of each office and at the discretion of the Head of the Postal Circle concerned.

(c) Yes, in respect of town sub and branch post offices under his control.

(d) A contingent allowance at Rs. 3 a month each is sanctioned generally for those Inspectors of Post Offices who are in charge of postal sub-divisions on the ground that they have to maintain their own offices. Town Inspectors form part of the establishment of the head post offices to which they are attached and for which contingent allowances are sanctioned. The necessity for the grant to them of a separate contingent allowance does not, therefore, exist.

(c) The principles on which the contingent allowances of the offices of Superintendents of Post Offices in India and of first class post offices are fixed have been arrived at after taking into account the difference in the work performed. It would not be possible to devise a common formula suitable for both classes of offices.

Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : With regard to answer to part (a), may I ask what are the real facts ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : The real facts are as stated in my reply to the question as a whole.

SPECIAL PAY SANCTIONED FOR THE TOWN INSPECTORS OF POST OFFICES.

685. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : Will Government be pleased to state whether special pay at Rs. 30 and Rs. 20 is sanctioned for the Town Inspectors attached to first and second class head post offices, respectively ? If so, will Government be pleased to state whether the duties and responsibilities of the Town Inspectors attached to first class head offices are greater than the ones attached to the 2nd class head offices ? If so, in what respect, and if not, why is a different rate of pay sanctioned for the Town Inspectors attached to first class head offices ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Replies to the first and second parts of the question are in the affirmative. As regards the last part, Town Inspectors attached to offices with a numerous delivery staff and required to perform their duties in large centres of population have greater responsibilities and more arduous conditions of duty than those working in less important places and attached to smaller offices.

SPECIAL PAY SANCTIONED FOR POST OFFICE ACCOUNTANTS.

686. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : Will Government be pleased to state the rate of special pay sanctioned for the Accountants of first and second class Head Post Offices ? If the rates are the same for these offices, are Government prepared to sanction the special pay for the Accountants attached to the first class head offices at Rs. 30 per mensem ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Ordinary time-scale clerks of the Post Office who have passed the qualifying departmental examination for posts of Postal Accountants while actually holding the posts of Accountants or Assistant Accountants designated as such in Head Post Offices, either first class or second class, are entitled to draw special pay at Rs. 10 per mensem for those on pay below Rs. 70 and Rs. 15 per mensem for those on pay of Rs. 70 and above. For future incumbents the rate of special pay will be Rs. 10 per mensem for all. As regards the last portion of the question, Government do not propose to make any change in the existing arrangements.

DIFFERENTIAL TREATMENT IN SANCTIONING SPECIAL PAY FOR TOWN INSPECTORS AND ACCOUNTANTS OF POST OFFICES.

687. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is necessary to pass any examination for appointment as (i) Town Inspectors, and (ii) Accountants ?

(b) If the reply regarding the Town Inspector's post is in the negative, and for the Accountants in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state the reasons for this differential treatment in sanctioning the special pay for the appointments of the Town Inspectors and Accountants ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state whether the responsibilities and duties of the Town Inspectors are greater than those of the Accountants attached to first class head offices ; if not, why the same rate of special pay is not sanctioned for the Accountants of the first class Head Offices ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The Honourable Member presumably refers to Town Inspectors and Accountants in the ordinary clerical time-scale of pay attached to Head Post Offices. The posts of Accountants are filled generally by officials who have passed a departmental examination, while no such examination is prescribed for posts of Town Inspectors.

(b) The special pay of Accountants and Town Inspectors has been sanctioned in consideration of the nature of the duties and responsibilities which they have to discharge.

(c) The duties and responsibilities of Accountants and Town Inspectors are entirely different and no comparison between them is possible.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member if outsiders are directly taken for the post of Inspector or Accountant for the departmental examination ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I am afraid I must ask for notice of that question. My acquaintance with these details is distinctly limited.

REVISION OF THE SCALE OF PAY OF ACCOUNTANTS ATTACHED TO CERTAIN POST OFFICES.

688. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : Will Government be pleased to state whether the Accountants sanctioned for the Divisional Engineering Telegraph offices are in the scale of Rs. 200—20—360 while the Accountants of first class head offices are on the time-scale of Rs. 45—145 with a small special allowance of Rs. 10 or Rs. 15 per mensem ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the reasons for this differential treatment and whether the duties and responsibilities of the Accountants attached to Divisional Engineering Telegraphs offices and Postal Audit offices are greater than those of the Accountants in first class Head Offices ; and if not, whether Government are prepared to consider the matter and revise the scales of pay of the Accountants attached to the first class Head Offices, so as to make them similar to that sanctioned for the Accountants in other Departments or Divisional Engineering Telegraph offices, or above the time-scale clerks of the Post offices ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Accountants in the offices of Divisional Engineers, Telegraphs, draw pay on scales varying from Rs. 120—270 to Rs. 220—380, while in first class Head Post Offices, accountants are either in the selection grades on scales of pay of Rs. 160—250 and Rs. 250—350 or in the ordinary time-scale on scales of pay which vary, according to locality, from 35—135 to Rs. 70—170 plus the special pay referred to by the Honourable Member. The responsibilities of Accountants in the offices of Divisional Engineers are greater than those of Accountants in Head Post Offices, and the difference in the rates of pay correspond to this fact. The last part of the question does not arise.

EXAMINATION PAPERS OF THE POST OFFICE ACCOUNTANTS.

689. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : Will Government be pleased to state whether the examination papers of the Accountants are dealt with by the Audit office, while the Accountantship papers of the Superintendents of Post Offices and Inspectors and Head Clerks are dealt with by the departmental officers ? If so, are Government prepared to order the conduct of the papers of the Accountantship examination by departmental officers ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : It is the case that the examination papers of Post Office Accountants are dealt with by the Accounts Officers.

There is no Accountantship Examination for Superintendents, Inspectors and Superintendents' Head Clerks, but the papers set in the examinations which these officers have to pass contain questions relating to accounts ; these papers are dealt with by the departmental officers.

The conditions of the different examinations have been prescribed with due regard to the particular requirements of the Department in each case and Government see no need to make the change suggested by the Honourable Member.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE UNITED PROVINCES POSTAL CIRCLE.

690. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : Is it a fact that the officials in the United Provinces Postal Circle, who have got 30 years' service, but are below 55 years of age, are retrenched while the selection grade officials and gazetted officers who have got more than 30 years' service are retained in the Department ? If so, do Government propose to retire the officials of the selection grade and gazetted posts who have 30 years or more service in order to create vacancies for abolition or conversion of the time-scale clerks in chain of arrangements ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Government have no precise information but for the purposes of retrenchment, officials in the ordinary time-scale and in the selection grades are treated as in one category, while gazetted officers are treated as belonging to another category. Within a given category retrenchment is carried out by selection, and it is therefore possible that cases such as those alluded to by the Honourable Member may have occurred. Government are not however prepared to treat officials in the gazetted and non-gazetted cadres as of one category for purposes of retrenchment and therefore regret that they are unable to accept the Honourable Members's suggestion.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know from the Honourable Member whether persons over 55 years of age or, who are 55 years of age, are yet retained in service and given extension ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I rather think there is another question on the paper relating to that which will be answered later.

RETIREMENT OF OFFICIALS HAVING THIRTY YEARS' SERVICE IN POSTAL CIRCLE OFFICES.

691. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Is it a fact that under his letter No. E.S.-227-1|32, dated 3rd September, 1932, the Director General, Posts and Telegraphs, has ordered, in order to obtain the full complement of Lower Division clerks, that it is not intended that indiscriminate retrenchment should be effected amongst the time-scale clerks, but that conversion of ordinary time-scale posts into posts in the Lower Division should be effected (i) gradually as vacancies occur in the former class in the ordinary course, (ii) by the acceptance of offers of voluntary retirement from the ordinary time-scale clerks, (iii) by the compulsory retirement of such of them whose record of service has been consistently unsatisfactory, and (iv) by the compulsory retirement under Fundamental Rule 56, i.e., on attaining 55 years of age ?

(b) Is it a fact that officials in the Circle office with 30 years or more service are allowed to continue to work while the Post office officials of the same service are retrenched ? If so, do Government propose to order retirement of the officials who have 30 years' service at their credit in Circle offices, and to provide the officials of the post offices in their places, resultant vacancies to be utilised for the conversion and abolition of the time-scale posts in the Post Offices ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The reply is in the affirmative.

(b) As regards the first part Government have no precise information. I may, however, state that as the Circle Office staff forms a cadre distinct from that of the Post Office and has accordingly been treated separately in carrying out retrenchments, it is possible that such cases as those alluded to by the Honourable Member may have occurred.

As regards the second part, Government are not prepared to treat the two different cadres as one for purposes of retrenchment as suggested by the Honourable Member.

GRANT OF COMPENSATORY ALLOWANCE TO TRAVELLING TICKET INSPECTORS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

692. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : With reference to reply to question No. 488 (c), dated 25th February, 1933, in this House, will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether the sanction of revised rates of allowances to the old Travelling Ticket Inspectors has compensated them in respect of Provident Fund, leave-salary and retiring gratuity, a loss which they incurred on the abolition of mileage allowance ;

(b) if not, whether they are prepared to consider the question of compensating the Travelling Ticket Examiners for the loss incurred by them on this account and which they are still continuing to suffer ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I would refer the Honourable Member to the reply given to question No. 476, by Sardar Sant Singh on the 4th September, 1933.

CONSOLIDATED ALLOWANCE OF TRAVELLING TICKET INSPECTORS AND THEIR DIVISIONAL INSPECTORS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

693. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Will Government be pleased to state why the revised rates of consolidated allowance have been denied to those Travelling Ticket Inspectors and their Divisional Inspectors who are working on station duty and as Inspectors and who, like their colleagues, now working as Travelling Ticket Examiners, drew a mileage allowance in their substantive capacity ?

(b) Is this not in contravention to the decision of the Railway Board as communicated in this House on 25th February, 1933 ?

(c) Are Government prepared to see that the orders of the Railway Board are carried out in respect of the staff mentioned in part (a) above ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a), (b) and (c). I am obtaining certain information and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

CONSOLIDATED ALLOWANCE OF TRAVELLING TICKET INSPECTORS AND THEIR DIVISIONAL INSPECTORS ON THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

694. Khan Bahadur Haji Wajihuddin : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that the old Travelling Ticket Inspectors and their Divisional Inspectors' mileage allowance was replaced by consolidated allowance and travelling daily allowance from 1st June, 1931 ?

(b) Is it a fact that special rates of allowances have been sanctioned from 1st December, 1932, by way of compensation ?

(c) Has any consideration been made for the loss the said staff incurred between 1st June, 1931, and 1st December, 1932 ? If not, why not ?

(d) Are Government prepared to consider the necessity for compensating them for the period between 1st June, 1931, and 1st December, 1932 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b), (c) and (d). As I have already explained, consolidated travelling allowances sanctioned from the 1st December, 1932, were purely ex-gratia and Government are not prepared to give retrospective effect to them.

EXPULSION OF CERTAIN CHETTIARS FROM INDO-CHINA.

695. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : (a) Will Government be pleased to make a statement relating to the expulsion of Chettiars from Indo-China, indicating the latest development, if any, on the subject, particularly since the 1st June ?

(b) Is it not a fact that some Chettiars have been compelled to sign up with the Long Term Credit Office ? Are Government aware that this action is prejudicial to the interests of the Chettiars there ?

(c) Is it a fact that even the British Consul in Saigon has proposed that the co-operation of the French Administration should be invited in sending out a small Committee of Indians for local enquiry and individual settlement of all the Chettiar accounts with the Long Term Credit Office ?

(d) Do Government propose to open direct negotiations with Saigon, for speedier settlement of this question, in the same manner in which they did with the Union of South Africa in 1925 ?

(e) Is it a fact that some Chettiars have sent up a petition to the Governor General of Indo-China requesting him to intervene ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : (a) As a result of the representations made by His Majesty's Government on behalf of the Government of India, the Governor General of Indo-China has rescinded the expulsion orders issued against two of the Indian bankers who had not yet left the country. (Cheers.) Negotiations between the Government of Indo-China and the Indian bankers are continuing and it is hoped that they will result in an amicable arrangement. The latest reports from Saigon indicate that the French authorities while unwilling for the present to rescind the expulsion orders passed against the four Chettiars who have actually been deported are prepared to allow them to return to Cochin China on safe conduct and to resume their business.

(b) Government understand that the Chettiars have accepted the cancellation of a portion of their loans which were demanded of them and have also declared that they are disposed to adopt in other questions of litigation the same attitude as European Bankers and financiers. Government have no further information.

(c) Government have no information.

(d) Since the negotiation in progress have already been largely successful in achieving their object, Government do not propose to adopt any other course than that so far followed.

(e) Government have no information.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : With regard to part (c) of the question, have the Government of India been in communication with the British Consul at Saigon with regard to the statement which is referred to in that part of the question ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Government have received no further information either from the British Consul in Saigon or from any one else on the subject.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Have the Government of India written to the British Consul in Saigon in order to obtain the information which is contained in part (b) of the question ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Government have not put forward any suggestion that a small committee of Indians should go out, because this is a delicate matter. It is a question of dealing with a foreign Government, and although Government have got every sympathy with the Chettiars and are trying to do what they can to assist them, they have to be careful in what they do.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Have the Government of India enquired from the British Consul in Saigon whether he has actually made a proposal that a small committee should visit ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Not as far as I am aware.

Mr. F. E. James : Is it a fact that two of the four Chettiars, who were originally expelled under the French Government's expulsion order, have, in fact, returned to Saigon under safe conduct ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Government have no information on that point.

Mr. F. E. James : Are Government aware of the widespread apprehension that the continued existence of the expulsion order against the four Chettiars is being used by the Government of Indo-China as a weapon with which to enforce discriminatory terms against the settled Chettiar community there ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : No.

Mr. F. E. James : Will Government continue to request His Majesty's Government to represent to the French Government that the expulsion order against the four Chettiars should be promptly rescinded as being discriminatory and unjustified and that its withdrawal should not be dependent upon the settlement of the debt question ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Yes. Government will continue to do all they can.

TRANSFER OF THE CONTROL OF THE BADRINATH TEMPLE TO THE RULER OF THE TEHRI ESTATE.

696. Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will Government be pleased to state if the question of the proposed transfer of Badri Nath Temple, in the District of Garhwal (United Provinces) has yet come up before them ? If so, has any decision been arrived at ? What is the recommendation, if any, of the United Provinces Government on the subject ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I would refer the Honourable Member to the answer given on the 22nd August, 1933, to unstarred question No. 2, on the same subject.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Are Government aware that the orthodox opinion is against the proposed transfer ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : The views that have been expressed have already been passed on to the Government of the United Provinces under whose consideration the matter now is.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : May I know whether this proposal first came from the U. P. Government or from the Tehri Durbar ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I regret I have no information on that point.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know whether the pilgrims or those interested in this temple have made representation one way or the other ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I have seen no representation, but it is possible they may have made one to the Government of the United Provinces.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Do I take it that the question has not yet come up before the Government ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : No, Sir. Government will not consider until they have received the views of the Government of the United Provinces.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : May I know when this question will be finally settled by the U. P. Government ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : The Government of India will no doubt be consulted. In fact they have got to be consulted.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Can the Government inform us whether there have been any difficulties in keeping Badrinath where it is, I mean not transferring it ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I am not aware of any precise difficulty, but the question will be easier to answer when the views of the U. P. Government have been received.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Will the Hindu community at large be given an opportunity to express their views on this question before it is finally decided by the Government of India ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I take it that the U. P. Government will, in the first instance, ascertain what Hindu opinion is.

Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : Are Government aware that an inquiry commission was appointed in June last by the All-India Varnashrama Swarajya Sangha to examine the question of transfer and that they have submitted their report against the transfer ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I am quite prepared to take the Honourable Member's word for it and I trust that this committee has passed on what it has got to say to the Government of the United Provinces who will no doubt consider it.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Are Government aware that the temple of Badrinath is not a concern of the Hindus of the U. P. alone ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I think that Government are no doubt aware of that, but primarily I should imagine that it is the concern of the U. P.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Will the Honourable Member take it from the Hindu Members on this side that this Badrinath temple is a big temple and that it is the concern of the Hindus throughout India and not of the U. P. alone ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I did not mean to suggest that it is the concern of the Hindus of the United Provinces only. I merely intended to suggest that they are the people who are probably principally interested in it.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Will the Honourable Member also take it from us that this temple is the concern of the Hindus in general, because it is a temple which is revered and respected and held in high esteem by Hindus of all parts of India. It is not a local temple of a particular place ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : I should be very glad to take it from the Honourable Member.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Will the Honourable Member take into consideration the fact that this is not the view of the orthodox people only, but also of people of advanced view, that this temple should not be transferred to a Native State without consulting the public opinion of Hindus in general.

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Yes, Sir.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : I want to make one point clear without prejudicing the question of the transfer of the Badrinath temple. I should like to know whether any opportunity will be given by the Government of India to the Hindu community to express their opinion before any decision is arrived at—either this House or the Hindu community in general ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Government will certainly do their very best to ascertain the views of the Hindu community.

Mr. K. P. Thampan : May I ask whether the Government of India will be pleased to send a copy of these questions and the answers to the U. P. Government ?

Mr. B. J. Glancy : Yes, Sir. The Government of the United Provinces have already been informed of the previous question and the answer given.

AIR BOMBING ON THE NORTH-WEST FRONTIER OF INDIA.

697. Maulvi Muhammad Shafee Daoodi : (a) Are Government aware that there is a very strong feeling in the country against aerial bombing at Kotkai and other places on the border of the North-West Frontier Province ?

(b) Do Government contemplate any change in their policy in regard to the territory belonging to the independent tribes on the border ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for the recent trouble on the border ?

(d) Are Government prepared to allay the public feeling in this matter and declare that the aforesaid bombing was the last of its kind ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : (a) No.

(b) No.

(c) and (d). Government have nothing to add to the statements that have already been made on this subject.

NEW TEN-RUPEE AND FIVE-RUPEE CURRENCY NOTES.

698. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Are Government aware that the new ten-rupee and five-rupee notes are disliked by the people ?

(b) Is it a fact that the paper used in printing these notes is of an inferior quality than the paper which was used previously ?

(c) Do Government propose to stop the printing of notes on paper of such an inferior quality ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : With your permission, Sir, I shall reply both the questions Nos. 698 and 699 together.

The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the replies given to starred questions Nos. 338 and 339 asked by Mr. Badri Lal Rastogi on the 1st September.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose to print the numbers on five rupee notes at more than one place ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : No, Sir.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : May I know why they do not propose to do so ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Because it is considered desirable in the public interest to print it in one place only.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : By printing in one place, it will be difficult to recognise the number if it is torn. In the past the numbers were printed in four places.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Government have taken that into account.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Still, Government do not propose to do it ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : I repeat " No ".

NEW TEN-RUPEE AND FIVE-RUPEE CURRENCY NOTES.

†699. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that the numbers on the old ten-rupee and five-rupee notes were found at more than one place ?

(b) Is it a fact that the number on the new ten-rupee and five-rupee notes is at one place only ?

(c) Do Government propose to print the number in future on the ten-rupee and five-rupee notes at more than one place ?

APPLICATION FROM JAMIAT-UL-ULEMA FOR GIVING EVIDENCE BEFORE THE JOINT PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEE.

700. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether they, or the Chief Commissioner, or the Reforms Office, had received any application, in connection with giving evidence before the Joint Parliamentary Committee, from the Jamiat-ul-Ulema ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the letter or letters and a copy of the reply ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) An application from the Jamiat-ul-Ulema-i-Hind that witnesses should be sent on their behalf to give evidence before the Joint Select Committee was received in the Reforms Office on the 7th June, 1933.

(b) Government do not propose to lay a copy of the correspondence on the table.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is the correspondence a confidential one ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I should not think so, but I would like to have notice of that question.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for not placing it on the table ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : No, Sir.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 698.

RELEASE OF KHAN ABDUL GHAFFAR KHAN.

701. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state when Khan Abdul Gaffar Khan, the frontier Gandhi, will be released ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : He will be released when Government are satisfied that his detention is no longer essential in the public interests.

ILLNESS OF KHAN ABDUL GHAFFAR KHAN'S BROTHER.

702. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that they were in correspondence with the North-West Frontier Province Government about Khan Abdul Gaffar Khan's brother's serious illness ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state the condition of his health ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) and (b). There has been no such correspondence. If the Honourable Member is referring to Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan's brother, Dr. Khan Sahib, who is a State Prisoner in Hazaribagh Jail, I may inform him that he is in good health.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Has the Honourable Member received any representation at Delhi in regard to this gentleman and was there an undertaking given that this matter would be taken up with the N. W. F. Government ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I think the Honourable Member must have in mind some other member of Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan's family or relative, certainly not his brother.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government inform us who is the other member referred to by my Honourable friend ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : If the Honourable Member will give me the reference, I shall be glad to give him an answer.

PROVISION OF CERTAIN NECESSITIES TO KALANAUR, DISTRICT GURDASPUR.

703. *Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Are Government aware that (i) in the town of Kalanaur, District Gurdaspur, the Emperor Akbar was crowned ; (ii) at one time it was a big city ; (iii) now it has declined on account of lack of communications ?

(b) Are Government aware that there is neither a railway station, nor a telegraph office, in Kalanaur ?

(c) Are Government prepared to take steps to provide Kalanaur with the above-mentioned necessities ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) (i). Yes.

(a) (ii) and (iii). Government are not in possession of precise information on these points.

(b) Yes.

(c) As regards railway communications I have ascertained that an investigation was made in 1928 of the financial prospects of a line, Dera Baba Nanak—Gurdaspur, which would have served Kalanaur but that it was found that this would not be remunerative ; a short branch line terminating at Kalanaur would be even less likely to pay. As regards telegraph communication enquiry is being made as to the need for this and whether it would pay to provide it.

WORKING OF THE OIL-PRESS IN JAILS.

704. *Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Is there any jail rule directing that convicts punished with rigorous imprisonment should generally be employed in working the oil-press during the first month of their imprisonment ? If so, why ?

(b) Are Government aware that the working of the oil-press is regarded as a very severe punishment ? If so, why is it not postponed till the appeal period is over ? Do Government propose to issue such instructions to Jail authorities ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) I am aware of no such rule. The ordinary rule is that jail labour is divided into three main classes, hard, medium and light, and a convict is only employed on labour of the class for which the Medical Officer has certified him to be fit. The oil-press is ordinarily classed as hard labour.

(b) Does not arise.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if it is harder than the chakki ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I should not imagine so. I should imagine that both are classed as hard labour.

ALLOTMENT OF QUARTERS IN NEW DELHI.

705. *Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that applications for allotment of quarters at New Delhi were called for by the Estate Officer so as to reach him on or before the 15th March, 1933, instead of by 1st July as in previous years ?

(b) Is it a fact that this early date was fixed in order to enable the Estate Officer to make the allotment of Delhi quarters in good time before the move takes place ?

(c) Is it a fact that a provisional allotment for non-lien holders only was made by the Estate Officer about the first week in August last ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state if this provisional allotment was after about one week modified by the Estate Officer by deleting certain names of Government of India men ? If so, why ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state if this was done in order to provide quarters to men employed in the New Delhi Municipality ?

(f) Are Government aware that there is already a shortage of quarters for the migratory staff of the Government of India ?

(g) If the reply to part (f) be in the negative, will Government please state the percentage of men moving from Simla for winter who succeeded in getting quarters at Delhi ? Why was the idea to provide quarters to men employed in the New Delhi Municipal Committee not postponed pending the construction of more quarters, which is under contemplation ?

(h) Will Government be pleased to state why no final allotment of quarters at Delhi has taken place so far ?

(i) Are Government aware that this delay in the allotment is responsible for hardships to the staff of the Government of India who are unable to make private arrangements for quarters in the absence of any definite knowledge regarding the allotment ? If the reply be in the affirmative, what steps do Government propose to take to prevent a recurrence ?

(j) Will Government please state how many times from the commencement of the present Simla season the Estate Officer and his staff have visited Simla, and on what business ? Will Government please state the amount of expenditure incurred on account of travelling and daily allowances in this connection ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) and (b). Yes.

(c) No provisional allotment was made. A purely provisional list of probable allottees was communicated to Departments to enable those who were not likely to get quarters to make other arrangements.

(d) No. Some changes were made in the provisional list after three weeks, because certain quarters are occupied by the staff of the New Delhi Municipal Committeee and the Government had under consideration the question whether or not this staff should continue in occupation during the ensuing winter season.

(e) Yes.

(f) Yes. There is a shortage of quarters for both migratory and non-migratory staff.

(g) The first part of the question does not arise. As regards the other part, some of the staff of the Committee are employed on very essential services and in the interests of efficiency, it is necessary that they should be provided with accommodation close to their work as hitherto.

(h) The final allotments have recently issued. They could not issue earlier because, as a consequence of the revised rules, Government have had to deal with several representations received from employees of various Departments from time to time and allotments had to be withheld pending issue of the final orders thereon.

(i) There may have been some inconvenience this year, but this was unavoidable.

(j) The Estate Officer and his staff visited Simla three times during the current Simla season and their visits, as usual, were in connection with the allotment of bungalows and quarters in Delhi and in Simla. The amount of expenditure incurred in this connection was Rs. 891.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Will the Honourable Member kindly inform the House for whom the Western Hostel was constructed at Delhi ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I venture to think that that hardly arises out of this question, but I believe it was constructed mainly for the benefit of the Members of the Legislature.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Is the Honourable Member aware that a major portion of it is occupied by those who are not Members either of this Assembly or of the Council of State ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I understand, to the best of my recollection, that there are a certain number of rooms which are reserved for the Members of this Assembly and of the Council of State, but I am not quite sure what the rules are.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Is the Honourable Member aware that the accommodation reserved for the Members of this Assembly and perhaps for the Members of the Council of State is not sufficient for the purpose for which the Western Hostel was constructed and that sometimes there is a scarcity of accommodation in the Western Hostel, although the major portion of it is occupied by non-Members of the Assembly ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : No, Sir, I am not aware of that but I shall be glad to look into the matter.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : If the Honourable Member will look into the matter next year, he will be conferring a great benefit on the Members of the Assembly.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair would suggest that this question might be examined by the House Committee which can go into details.

TEST OF RED SEAL BRAND METAL POLISH AND SILVER POLISH BY THE ALIPORE TEST HOUSE.

706. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Are Government aware that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company are the manufacturers of Red Seal Brand metal polish and silver polish ?

(b) Is it a fact that the Alipore Test House gave Messrs. Sett and Dass Company a Test Report on that polish originally on receipt of a fee of Rs. 48 from them just at the time of Tender for 1932, which was challenged by Messrs. Sett and Dass Company as wrong ?

(c) Is it a fact that the Test Report satisfying the Indian Stores Department Specifications was granted to Messrs. Sett and Dass Company after the challenge without receipt of any further fee of Rs. 48 ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) Yes.

(b) The first report of the Government Test House on a sample of Red Seal metal polish was issued on the 20th June, 1931. The accuracy of the analysis was subsequently challenged by the firm.

(c) No. No sample satisfying the specification has yet been received from the firm.

TEST OF RED SEAL BRAND METAL POLISH AND SILVER POLISH BY THE ALIPORE TEST HOUSE.

707. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Is it a fact that the Alipore Test House originally obtained the result of an analysis of Red Seal metal polish by heating the article, which spoilt the original quality of the goods ?

(b) Is it a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company pointed out to the Indian Stores Department that the said method of analysis was wrong ?

(c) Is it also a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company brought to the notice of the Chief Controller of Stores the great difference in the analysis made by the Alipore Test House and that of Dr. H. K. Sen of the Science College, Calcutta, whereupon the Chief Controller of Stores ordered re-test of Messrs. Sett and Dass Company's metal polish free of charge ?

(d) If the answer to part (c) be in the affirmative, is it a fact that on re-test, it was found to satisfy the Indian Stores Department Specifications and to agree almost with Dr. H. K. Sen's report ? If so, what action, if any, was taken to prevent such wrong analysis in future with respect to Indian products ?

(e) Is it a fact that Mr. Sen of Alipore Test House at first remarked " Insufficient Sample " in the Tender Sample Receipt ? Is it a fact that one pound (1 lb.) nett was submitted to them by Messrs. Sett and Dass Company, as per terms of the Tender, and that afterwards on their protest the Test House amended the same ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The analysis was carried out by the usual method. This involved heating the metal polish. This process has no adverse effect on metal polish satisfying the specification. In the case of a metal polish, such as that mentioned, containing ingredients not authorised by the specification, decomposition may have occurred. This was impossible to verify, since, by the time the point was raised by the firm, the metal polish had all been consumed.

(b) It is a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company claimed that the method of analysis was wrong.

(c) Yes.

(d) It is not a fact that on re-test a sample was found to satisfy the specification, neither did the result agree with that obtained on another sample by Dr. H. K. Sen.

(e) As far as the officer concerned can recollect, the firm at first submitted two tins which were thought insufficient and the firm therefore sent a further two tins to make a sufficient sample.

REJECTION BY THE ALIPORE TEST HOUSE OF A TENDER SAMPLE OF MESSRS. SETT AND DASS COMPANY.

708. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Is it a fact that the Tender Sample given by Messrs. Sett and Dass Company for 1933-34 was rejected by the Alipore Test House on the ground of formation of " Hard Cake " which necessitated cutting open the tin containers for analysis ?

(b) Is it a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company submitted to the Indian Stores Department a Test Report from Messrs. R. V. Briggs and Company, who gave their report after retention of the same sample for a period of 27 days, during which the aforesaid formation of " Hard Cake " was proved to be impossible ?

(c) Is it a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company also submitted a sealed sample along with the Tender for 1933-34 to the Indian Stores Department and, after the report by Messrs. R. V. Briggs and Company, requested for the same being sent to an impartial chemist in Calcutta for analysis ?

(d) Is it a fact that instead of sending that sealed sample to another chemist the Indian Stores Department sent it to the Alipore Test House against whom Messrs. Sett and Dass Company had complained ?

(e) Is it a fact that the Superintendent of the Alipore Test House asked Mr. Sett of Messrs. Sett and Dass Company, twice by phone, to inspect and open the sample within the Alipore Test House Chamber on condition that no outsider should be allowed there ?

(f) Is it a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company wanted to open the said sample in the presence of a Notary Public and a chemist from the Science College, which request was refused by the Alipore Test House ?

(g) If the reply to part (f) be in the affirmative, why was the request for such inspection in the presence of a Notary Public refused by the Indian Stores Department also ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) Yes.

(b) Messrs. Sett and Dass Company submitted a report by Messrs. R. V. Briggs and Company showing that a sample tested by them did not form a hard cake.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes.

(e) The Superintendent (once, not twice) asked Mr. Sett on the telephone to be present when the sample was opened. Mr. Sett wished to bring two outsiders to which the Superintendent did not agree. The Superintendent then asked Mr. Sett to come to discuss the matter. Mr. Sett agreed, but failed to keep the appointment.

(f) Yes.

(g) The offer was made to open the tin in the presence of Mr. Sett and any of his staff whom he wished to bring with him. This offer was refused, and as the general procedure followed in the Government Test House does not permit outside parties to be present during examination and tests, no further action was possible.

REJECTION BY THE ALIPORE TEST HOUSE OF A TENDER SAMPLE OF MESSRS. SETT AND DASS COMPANY.

709. Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen : (a) Is it a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company quoted prices in the Tender for 1933-34 which, if accepted, would have saved a good deal of Government money ?

(b) Was there any enquiry made into the allegation of Messrs. Sett and Dass Company ? If so, were they requested to withdraw the allegation ?

(c) Was any request made by Messrs. Sett and Dass Company to the Chief Controller of Stores to reconsider the opinion of the Alipore Test House by opening their sealed tender sample in their presence accompanied by a chemist from the Science College ? If so, why was this request refused ?

(d) Is it a fact that Messrs. Sett and Dass Company informed the Indian Stores Department of the last successful Test Report which they submitted along with the Tender for 1933-34, as per Tender terms, and that no consideration was given to such Test Report, which was very recently submitted to Messrs. Sett and Dass Company ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) The sample submitted by the firm was unacceptable and therefore the question of savings does not arise.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes, the attention of the Honourable Member is invited to answer given to part (g) of question No. 708.

(d) When forwarding their tender for 1933-34 requirements, Messrs. Sett and Dass Company referred to test report No. 1897|C., dated the 12th October, 1931, which showed their sample to be unacceptable. Before deciding the tenders for 1933-34 the reports on the examination of samples submitted in accordance with the tender conditions were also considered, but the sample submitted by the firm again showed that the quality of their material was unacceptable.

COLLIERIES WORKING IN BENGAL AND BIHAR COAL-FIELDS.

710. Mr. K. C. Neogy : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the total number of collieries working in Bengal and Bihar coal-fields in the year 1923 ;

(b) the number of those owned and managed by Indians and by Europeans ;

(c) the total number of coal mines owned and managed by Indians, which have stopped working during the period January, 1923 to December 1932 ;

(d) the total number of collieries owned and managed by Europeans which have stopped working during the period January, 1923, to December, 1932 ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Enquiries are being made and such information as is available will be laid on the table in due course.

COAL RAISED IN INDIA.

711. Mr. K. C. Neogy : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the total quantity of coal raised in India during the calendar years 1930, 1931, and 1932 ;

(b) the total amount of despatches of coal in railway wagons during the calendar years 1930, 1931 and 1932 ;

(c) the total quantity raised and despatched, respectively, during each of the above three years in the Bengal and Bihar and Orissa coal-fields ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a), (b) and (c). A statement is laid on the table giving the figures for all three years in respect of (a) and (b) and for 1930 and 1931 in respect of (c). Particulars for 1932 in respect of (c) are being obtained and will be laid on the table in due course.

Statement showing the total quantity of coal raised and despatched from mines regulated by the Indian Mines Act, 1923.

	1930.	1931.	1932.
(a) Raisings—(tons)	22,683,861	20,514,597	18,719,587
(b) Despatches—(tons)	20,018,525	17,681,474	16,152,757
(c) Raisings—(tons)	21,311,535	19,198,967	..
Despatches (tons)	18,731,303	16,441,473	..

RESTRICTION OF RAISINGS OF COLLIERIES OWNED BY RAILWAYS.

712. Mr. K. C. Neogy : (a) Do Government contemplate further restriction of raisings of collieries owned by State Railways as well as Company-managed railways ?

(b) If the answer to part (a) be in the affirmative, will Government please state the extent to which such restriction will be made ?

(c) Are Government aware that smaller collieries have been the hardest hit by the depression in the coal trade, and do Government propose to purchase the quantity thus released and made available for purchase from market, mainly from small collieries whose average raisings are below 50,000 tons per year ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) and (b). A proposal made by the Indian Mining Association is under consideration at present, but Government have not come to any conclusions, even tentative, in the matter and I am unable to make any statement about it at present.

(c) This suggestion which was also made by the Indian Mining Federation will also be considered along with the main question.

EXPORT OF BENGAL AND BIHAR COAL.

713. Mr. K. C. Neogy : Is it a fact that the export of Bengal and Bihar coal is mainly restricted to a small number of collieries commanding big output and mainly owned and managed by Europeans ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Inquiries are being made and the result will be furnished to the House in due course.

WITHDRAWAL OF SURCHARGE ON COAL.

714. Mr. K. C. Neogy : (a) Is it a fact that the Indian Mining Association and the Indian Mining Federation made representations to the Railway Board for abolition of the 15 per cent. surcharge on despatches of coal introduced in January 1932 ?

(b) Do Government propose to consider the withdrawal of the surcharge ?

(c) If the answer to part (b) be in the affirmative, will Government please state how soon they would come to a decision on the point ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) The representation is under consideration.

(c) As soon as certain statistical information which is awaited from the East Indian Railway is received, I think Government will be in a position to arrive at a final decision.

LOWER SCALE OF RAILWAY FREIGHT ON COAL FROM PENCH AND CHANDA VALLEY COLLIERIES.

715. Mr. K. C. Neogy : (a) Is it a fact that the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Administration introduced in 1923, a lower scale of railway freight for coal from Pench and Chanda Valley collieries than that applicable for coal from the Bengal and Bihar coal-fields in order to facilitate free movement of coal from the former, which, for want of market for their output, were likely to close down ?

(b) Is the same scale still operating ?

(c) Are Government aware that the Indian Mining Federation made repeated representations to the Railway Board for abolition of this discrimination against Bengal and Bihar coal ?

(d) Are Government aware that Bengal and Bihar coal has lost its custom to Pench and Chanda Valley cost at stations on the Great Indian Peninsula and Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railways ?

(e) Do Government contemplate abolition of the above discriminatory rates of freight ?

(f) If the answer to part (e) be in the negative, will Government please state the reason why ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a), (b) and (c). Yes.

(d) Government have no reliable information in their possession which can definitely show whether this is the case, but are making enquiries.

(e) and (f). The question is under consideration.

APPLICATIONS FOR REGISTRATION OF FIRMS RECEIVED BY THE INCOME-TAX OFFICER IN KARACHI.

716 Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon : Will Government be pleased to lay on the table of this House a statement showing for each of the three years 1930-31, 1931-32 and 1932-33 (a) the number of applications for registration of firms received by the Income-tax Officers in Karachi ; (b) the number of cases in which registration was refused ; and (c) the number of applications which appertained to partnerships between members of Muhammadan families ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : (a) 260 in 1930-31, 301 in 1931-32 and 331 in 1932-33.

(b) 4 in 1930-31, 9 in 1931-32 and 7 in 1932-33.

(c) Information is not available.

AGE OF COMPULSORY RETIREMENT IN RAILWAY BOARD'S OFFICE.

717. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that Government issued certain orders last year that the age of compulsory retirement on Railways in India shall be 55 and no extensions beyond that age should be granted to Railway servants ? If so, does that order apply to the Railway Board's office ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Orders were issued to the State-managed Railways in September, 1932, that for the present in units in which there is a surplus or a likelihood of it or in which there is a waiting list, extensions of service after the age of 55 should not as a rule be granted to railway employees.

These instructions do not apply to the office of the Railway Board.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know, Sir, if there are persons in the Railway Board who are enjoying extensions after the age of 55 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I do not think so, but I should like to have notice of that question.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that the Railway Board has extended the age of superannuation from 55 to 56 years ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Yes, Sir, recently as a temporary measure.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is the Honourable Member aware that in reply to my question the Home Member said the other day that the question of increasing the age of superannuation is not under the consideration of the Government ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : The age of superannuation for the clerical staff is 60, and not 55.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will the Honourable the Home Member say whether the reply he gave before was in respect of clerical staff only or was it for officers as well ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have no recollection of the particular reply which the Honourable Member is referring to.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will the Honourable the Financial Commissioner for Railways say whether the Railway Board consulted the Home Department when they increased the age of superannuation from 55 to 56 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No, Sir. It was unnecessary, because the rules lay down the age of superannuation for the clerical staff at 60 and each Department is competent to reduce it to the extent required above 55.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : May I take it, then, that the increase in the age of superannuation from 55 to 56 was made without consulting the Home Department ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have already told my Honourable friend that this relates to the clerical staff only.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : For whom the age of superannuation is 55 ?

Statement.

Name of Association.	Year of recognition.
*Association of the uncovenanted service of the Government of India (Headquarters)	1922
Indian Police Association	1922
Indian Civil Service Central Association	1922
Punjab and Frontier Association of European Government Servants	1923
Indian Officers' Association	1923
The High Court Association, Calcutta	1925
Government of India Attached and Subordinate Offices Association	1925
Imperial Secretariat Record Sorters and Daftaries Association	1926
All-India Association of European Government Servants	1927
Imperial Secretariat Jemadars' and Peons' Association	1932
Government of India attached and subordinate offices Record Sorters (including Record Lifters) and Daftaries Association (non-migratory)	1933
Survey of India (Class II) Association, Calcutta	1923
Survey of India Lower Subordinate Association, Dehra Dun	1924
Central Association of European Officers of the Indian Agricultural Service, Bombay	1923
All-India Association of Indian Officers of the Indian Agricultural Service, Coimbatore	1926
Indian Veterinary Service Association, Calcutta	1923
Imperial Department of Agriculture (Pussa) Association	1930
Civil Engineers' Association, India	1923
Indian College Engineers' Association	1924
All-India Specialists' Association	1924
India-recruited European Engineers' Association	1925
Meteorological Department Clerks' Association (now designated as the Meteorological Department Non-Gazetted Officers' Association)	1928
All-India (including Burma) Postal and R. M. S. Union, Delhi	1922
All-India Burma Postmasters' Association, Bombay	1922
The Postal Officers' Association, India, Calcutta	1922
The Telegraph Engineers' Association, Delhi	1922
Indian Telegraph Association, Limited, Calcutta	1923
All-India Telegraph Union, Calcutta	1924
All-India Postal and Telegraph (including R. M. S.) Administrative Offices Association, Lucknow	1925
All-India R. M. S. Inspectors' Association, Delhi	1925
All-India (including Burma) Postmen and Lower Grade Staff Union, Bombay	1925
The Association of the All-India Postal Town Inspectors, Calcutta	1928

*This Association subsequently changed its name to "Imperial Secretariat Assoc n".

Name of Association.	Year of recognition.
All-India (including Burma) Postal Accountants' Association, Poona	1929
The Telephone Service Association of India and Burma, New Delhi	1929
Indian Audit and Accounts Service Association	1923
Customs Service Association of All-India and Burma, Calcutta	*1923
Imperial Opium Officers' Association	1923
N. I. S. R. Department Officers' Association, Sambhar	1924
Bengal Income-tax Association, Calcutta	1925
Income-tax Department Ministerial Officers' Association, B. and O., Ranchi	1926
Association of the Gazetted Officers of the Income-tax Department, Bombay	1927
Clerks Association of the Income-tax Department, Punjab, N. W. F. P. and Delhi Province, Lahore	1927
Central Board of Revenue Ministerial Officers' Union, Bombay	1928
Income-tax Officers' Association, United Provinces	1928
Income-tax (Gazetted) Service Association, Bengal	1928
Income-tax Ministerial Officers' Association, United Provinces	1928
N. I. S. R. Department Clerks Association	1928
Government Peons Union, Bombay	1928
Income-tax Department Non-Gazetted Officers' Association, Central Provinces and Berar, Nagpur	1929
Income-tax Inspectors' Association, Punjab, N. W. F. P. and Delhi Province, Lahore	1930
Income-tax Officers' Association, Punjab, N. W. F. and Delhi Provinces, Lahore	1930
Income-tax Department Non-Gazetted Officers' Association, Madras	1930
Income-tax (Gazetted) Service Association, Bihar and Orissa	1931
Association of the Non-Gazetted Superior Staff of the Income-tax Department in Sind	1931
Currency Association, Calcutta	1922
Currency Association, Cawnpore	1927
Currency Association, Lahore	1924
Currency Association, Bombay	1923
Currency Association, Madras	1923
Currency Association, Karachi	1925
Currency Association, Rangoon	1922
All-India (including Burma) Currency Offices Union	1925
Non-Gazetted Civil Accounts Brotherhood, United Provinces	1922
Civil Accounts Association, Punjab	1922
Non-Gazetted Civil Accounts Association, Burma	1922
Accounts Offices Association, Bengal	1922
Non-Gazetted Civil Accounts Office Association, Madras	1923

*Recognition was withdrawn in 1926 but restored in June, 1928.

Name of Association.	Year of recognition.
Delhi Posts and Telegraphs Audit Clerks' Union	1923
Civil Accounts Association, Bombay	1923
Non-Gazetted Postal Accounts Offices Association, Nagpur ..	1923
Madras Postal Audit Clerks Association	1922
Accountants Association, Rangoon	1922
Civil Accounts Office Association, Nagpur	1924
Civil Accounts Association, Assam	1924
Public Works Accountants Association, U. P.	1924
Bombay Public Works Accountants Association	1925
Civil Accounts Association (A. G. C. R.), Delhi	1926
Public Works Divisional Accountants Association, Punjab ..	1926
Madras Divisional Accountants Association	1930
Burma Railways Statutory Audit Office Clerks' Association, Rangoon	1930
Railway Audit Accountants Association, Rangoon	1930
Railway Auditors Association, Bombay	1930
Bengal Divisional Accountants Association	1931
Stores Audit Association, New Delhi	1931
Great Indian Peninsula Railway Statutory Audit Office Clerks' Association	1931
North Western Railway Auditors Association, Lahore ..	1932
Subordinate Statutory Railway Auditors' Association, Madras ..	1931
Railway Auditors Association, Calcutta	1932
Divisional Accountants Association, Assam	1932
North Western Railway Audit Clerks' Union	1932
Frontier Civil Accounts Association, Peshawar	1933
Government Audit Clerks Association, Bengal Nagpur Railway ..	1933
Foreman's Association of India	1919
Civilian Clerks' Association (M. E. S.), North-West Frontier Province, Peshawar	1922
All-India Arsenal Clerks' Association	1922
Army and Royal Air Force Headquarters Association ..	1923
All-India Association of Clerks of Ordnance Factories ..	1924
Indian Ordnance Civilian Gazetted Officers' Association ..	1926
Association of the All-India Royal Air Force Units' Clerks ..	1927
*Harness and Saddlery Factory Labour Union	1928
Cordite Factory Labour Union	1928
Indian Army Service Corps Civilian Association	1928
Gun Carriage Factory Labour Union	1931
Association of Storekeepers and Storemen of the Indian Army Ordnance Corps	1932
All-India Association of the Supervising Staff of Ordnance and Clothing Factories	1932

*Recognition withdrawn on the 8th February, 1933.

Name of Association.	Year of recognition.
Military Accounts Association, Poona	1921
Military Accounts Association, Calcutta	1926
Military Accounts Association, Maymyo	1926

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : Sir, I lay on the table :

(i) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 619 asked by Mr. K. P. Thampan on the 4th March, 1932 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1067 asked by Sardar Sant Singh on the 1st April, 1933 ;

(iii) the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 1075, 1076 and 1077 asked by Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury on the 1st April, 1933 ; and (iv) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1205 asked by Maulvi Sayyid Murtuza Sahib Bahadur on the 10th April, 1933.

MEMORIALS FROM ENGINEERING SUPERVISORS, TELEGRAPHS.

*619. (a) Yes, except that the memorials were received before August, 1931.

(b) The case of the memorialists and of other Engineering Supervisors, General, who were appointed to their posts on a substantive basis after 4½ years' service as Telegraphists and three years' service as temporary Engineering Supervisors has been reviewed by the Director-General in consultation with Government. The number of officials affected is 57. The review has revealed that most of the memorialists had more than one chance to qualify for promotion to the grade of Deputy Assistant Engineer, Telegraphs, prior to the discontinuance of the old system of training. Further, of the memorialists and other Engineering Supervisors, many were over age, some did not possess the requisite qualifications for selection for training and others had had at least three opportunities.

Government consider that those who were over age, those who did not possess the prescribed qualifications and those who had had three opportunities but did not take advantage of them have no legitimate grievance and that therefore the cases of 16 Engineering Supervisors only require special consideration. Of these 16 eleven had two opportunities, four had one opportunity and the remaining one had no opportunity to qualify. It is impossible to give any of them further chances of qualifying under the old system as that system has been abolished, but it has been decided that the eleven officials who had two opportunities to qualify will be given one more chance, the four officials who had one opportunity to qualify will be afforded two more chances, and the remaining official who had no opportunities to qualify will be given three chances. For this purpose, they will be given a special course of training in the Electrical Engineer-in-Chief's Office, subject to their passing an entrance examination. Thus all Engineering Supervisors who had the requisite qualifications will have had at least three chances to qualify for promotion to the grade of Deputy Assistant Engineers whether or not they took advantage of their opportunities prior to 1920.

(c) The reply to the first part is in the negative. The second and third parts are covered by the answer to part (b).

(d) Yes. Recruitment was previously made partly from telegraphists of not less than 4½ years' service who were not required to pass any examination ; and partly from telegraphists who had undergone a special training for 2½ years and had successfully passed an examination at the end of it. Under the orders of 1927, which had effect from the 1st January, 1929, these methods were replaced by a new system of recruitment partly from within, and partly from outside the Department, designed to obtain men with better educational qualifications. As regards seniority those Supervisors who had completed a nine months' course of training for promotion to the grade of Deputy Assistant Engineer in 1927 were ranked for seniority after those who had already passed that course ; the Supervisors who passed that course in 1928 were classed for the purposes of promotion to the grade of Deputy Assistant Engineers with the men who completed the 2½ years' course of training in 1925, and their relative seniority was fixed according to the percentage of marks obtained in the examinations. In cases where the marks are identical, seniority was decided according to the length of service. These arrangements were decided on in consideration of various factors including allowances for the ages and experience of the different batches of passed staff.

PAINTS USED BY THE EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY FOR PAINTING THEIR WAGON.

*1067. (a) The numbers of the Specifications mentioned by the Honourable Member are not correct. Specification No. G|O.P.-121 and G|O.P.-121|1 are presumably meant. Specification No. G|O.P.-121 for black paint requires the pigment to be equal in staining power and tone to the standard which contains 20 per cent. of lamp black. The pigment will not necessarily itself contain 20 per cent. of lamp black, but may contain more or less according to the grade of lamp black used. Specification No. G|O.P.-121|1 for black paint second quality requires the pigment to be equal in staining power and similar in tone to the standard which contains 3 per cent. of carbon black.

(b) No. In addition to the specifications for black paint mentioned in reply to part (a) there is another specification No. G|O.P.-122 for bone black paint.

(c) Presumably Muraco special black paint is referred to. This is a paint of an altogether different type from paints made to comply with specifications described in replies to (a) and (b). It is not known how much carbon black, if any, it contains. The loss on ignition of the pigment is about 80 per cent.

TENDER CALLED FOR BY THE INDIAN STORES DEPARTMENT FOR ENAMEL NAVY GREEN.

*1075. (a) The Indian Stores Department called for tenders for 6,400 gallons of enamel Navy green on the 29th May, 1929.

(b) Yes.

(c) 1st Part.—Yes. 300 gallons were purchased in June, 1929, and 3,700 gallons in August, 1929. The price in both cases was Rs. 11-4-0 per gallon.

2nd Part.—It is not practicable to purchase enamels for railway use on the results of analytical tests. Such enamels are chosen on the basis of actual exposure tests, as in the analogous case of railway varnishes. This is well-known to paint manufacturers. At the time of this particular order the results of exposure tests were not available. The Government Test House therefore recommended that an order for a part of the quantity of enamel required should be placed with Messrs. Jenson and Nicholson (India), Limited. This recommendation, which was accepted by the Chief Controller of Stores, was made on the strength of the results obtained on the exposure tests carried out on varnishes manufactured by the firm which showed them to compare favourably with other varnishes tested practically by the Government Test House. As varnishes form the most important ingredient of enamels, it was considered that the firm's enamel would also give good results. That this reasoning was valid is shown by the fact that when the practical tests had been completed the enamel was found to be satisfactory.

(d) No complaints have been received from the Railway Administration concerned and, as stated in the answer to part (c), the enamel gave satisfactory results in the exposure tests carried out at the Government Test House.

(e) First part.—The firm named quoted Rs. 6-4-0 per gallon.

Second part.—The composition of the pigment of the sample submitted by Messrs. Murarka Paint and Varnish Works, Limited, conformed to the specification for green enamel. The exposure tests on the varnish manufactured by this firm had, however, proved very unsatisfactory and the firm's offer was therefore not accepted. When the results of exposure tests on the enamels were completed, this firm's enamel was found to be unsatisfactory.

(f) No. Messrs. Murarka Paint and Varnish Works' varnish gave a much less glossy film than that of Messrs. Jenson and Nicholson (India), Limited.

TESTING OF SAMPLES OF ENAMEL NAVY GREEN BY THE GOVERNMENT TEST HOUSE, ALIPORE.

*1076. (a) First part.—Yes.

Second part.—No report was submitted as no sample was received from Messrs. Jenson and Nicholson.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) The Government do not propose to place a copy of the report referred to on the table of the House. The report was prepared for the information of the Chief Controller of Stores. If any manufacturer requires a report on the tests and analyses of any of his products, it can be obtained from the Government Test House, Alipore, after the examination of samples of the product and on payment of the prescribed fees.

(d) First part.—Out of the 4,000 gallons of enamel, Navy Green, purchased from Messrs. Jenson and Nicholson (India), Limited, in 1929, 3,700 gallons were purchased on the recommendation of the Government Test House, Alipore.

Second part.—The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the answer given to part (c) of question No. 1075.

SUPPLY OF ENAMEL PURPLE BROWN TO THE EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY THROUGH THE INDIAN STORES DEPARTMENT.

*1077. (a) Yes.

(b) No.

(c) Enamel Purple Brown was purchased at the price named from Messrs. Jenson and Nicholson while the Rate Contract with Messrs. Hoyle, Robson and Barnett for Enamel Purple Brown to E. B. R. shade was in force, but it was not the same stuff as that covered by the Rate Contract with Messrs. Hoyle, Robson and Barnett.

(d) The difference between Rs. 40 per cwt. and Rs. 9-8-0 per gallon amounts to Rs. 61-5-4 per cwt., but the material on contract with Messrs. Hoyle, Robson and Barnett was inferior to that purchased from Messrs. Jenson and Nicholson and was not suitable for the particular purpose for which it was required by the E. B. Railway.

(e) First part.—3,010 gallons.

Second part.—The question of loss does not arise, for, as already explained in the answers to parts (c) and (d), the two materials are not comparable.

(f) The Government are already aware of the reasons for which the purchase was made. These have been explained in the answer to part (d).

(g) The purchase was made by the Controller of Purchase, Calcutta, and, as already explained in parts (c) and (d), the two materials are entirely different, and the question of loss does not therefore arise.

RENT OF GOVERNMENT QUARTERS PAID BY THE STAFF OF THE OFFICE OF THE DEPUTY ACCOUNTANT GENERAL, POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS, DELHI.

*1205. (a) to (f). The clerks concerned are entitled to pay rent under Fundamental Rule 45A. They are not however entitled to have Government quarters allotted to them in Old Delhi or in New Delhi, because they are not required to reside in either place on duty with the Government of India. But this does not affect the question of the payment of rent by them, and the circular of the Deputy Accountant General calling on them to express readiness to pay rent under Fundamental Rule 45B will be cancelled.

(g) The substantive pay of the officer is below Rs. 600 per mensem. He is therefore eligible for clerks' quarters and has been given 'B' Class quarters as there are no 'A' class orthodox quarters in Old Delhi.

Mr. P. R. Rau (Financial Commissioner, Railways) : Sir, I lay on the table :

(i) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 375 asked by Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon on the 20th February, 1933 ;

(ii) the information promised in reply to parts (b), (c), (d) and (e) of starred question No. 845 asked by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen on the 21st March, 1933 ; and

(iii) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 109, asked by Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen on the 22nd March, 1933.

PASS SECTION OF THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

*375. (a) The Agent, North Western Railway, reports that prior to the 1st May, 1930, the strength of the Pass Section was six consisting of one Head Clerk and five clerks but that it was increased with effect from the 1st May, 1930 to eight, consisting of one Head Clerk and seven Clerks. The increase was necessitated on account of considerable increase in work which will be apparent from the figures given below :

No. of passes issued in 1928	25,280
No. of passes issued in 1929	29,622
No. of letters received for the Pass Section :—
In 1926	12,021
In 1929	16,779
Suburban tickets issued in 1928	735
Suburban tickets issued in 1929	840

(b), (c) and (d). No.

(e) It has been decided to continue the present arrangements. Attention is drawn to the reply to the question referred to which has since been laid on the table.

PROMOTION OF CLERKS IN THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY ACCOUNTS DEPARTMENT.

*845. (b) Yes.

(c) Yes.

(d) (i) 25.

(ii) 3.

(e) Government do not propose at this distance of time to cancel the 22 irregular promotions which were made as a result of misunderstanding of the rule.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE RAILWAY CLEARING ACCOUNTS OFFICE, DELHI.

109. (a) and (b). I understand that six clerks who had been retained out of turn under misunderstanding were not included in the list laid on the table of the House in reply to starred question No. 461 (c) and (d), dated 23rd February, 1933.

(c) These six clerks, who had held permanent appointments on the Eastern Bengal and Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railways, came over to the Railway Clearing Accounts Office along with their work, and owing to a misapprehension, the Director considered that, irrespective of their total length of service, these clerks were not to be brought under retrenchment.

I am informed, however, that the men with longer service who were discharged as a result of the irregular retention of these six men have since been either re-entertained or offered posts, in the Railway Clearing Accounts Office.

BILLS PASSED BY THE COUNCIL OF STATE.

Secretary of the Assembly : Sir, in accordance with the provisions of rule 25 of the Indian Legislative Rules, I lay on the table the following Bills which were passed by the Council of State on the 5th September, 1933 :

1. A Bill further to amend the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899, for a certain purpose ; and
2. A Bill further to amend the Cantonments (House Accommodation) Act, 1923, for a certain purpose.

MESSAGE FROM THE COUNCIL OF STATE.

Secretary of the Assembly : Sir, the following Message has been received from the Council of State :

"I am directed to inform you that the Council of State has, at its meeting held on the 5th September, 1933, agreed without any amendments to the Bill further to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, which was passed by the Legislative Assembly, at its meeting held on the 28th August, 1933."

THE COTTON TEXTILE INDUSTRY PROTECTION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House will now resume further consideration of the motion that the Bill further to amend the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act, 1930, be taken into consideration.

Mr. H. P. Mody (Bombay Millowners' Association : Indian Commerce) : On behalf of the agriculturists and the hand loom weavers of India (Applause), I warmly support the Bill before the House. (Laughter.) I do not know what my friends are laughing about ; with the possible exception of my Honourable friend, Mr. Lahiri Chaudhury, I claim to be as stout a champion of these interests as anyone in this House. I shall never, I hope, be found in this House coming forward for relief to any interests which I represent if it was found that such relief could only be given at the expense of some other interest. As was so admirably put by my Honourable friend, Mr. Ranga Iyer, yesterday, a proper balance has to be struck in these matters, and every measure has got to be considered on its merits, and with reference to its implications, not only as regards the particular industry concerned, but every other industry as well. One of these days, though I feel it rather a difficult task, I hope to convince some of my Honourable friends here, that those like me, who are fighting for the rights of industries, are trying at the same time to serve the best interests of the masses.

With these preliminary observations, I shall now attempt, as briefly as I can, to answer some of the points raised in the debate, and I shall impose the same restraint on myself as was observed by my Honourable friend, the Commerce Member. My Honourable friend, Mr. Raju, on the first day of the debate, spoke for the hand loom weavers. I respect that attitude, but I want to point out to him that he is altogether wrong in thinking that any measure calculated to advance the interests of the textile industry constitutes a threat to the hand loom weaver. It is true that the hand loom industry today is in a rather deplorable condition, as is every other industry, whether conducted by hand or by power. What are the causes ? To a certain extent it is true that the competition of the power factories has affected the fortunes of the hand loom industry ; that is bound to happen. But we have this consolation that unlike almost any other country or any other industry that I know of, the hand loom industry has survived in this country for centuries, and has withstood the competition of power factories for the last 70 years more or less successfully, and today it holds almost the same position in the economy of this country as it has ever held. In that I see a gleam of hope, but what I would like to point out to my Honourable friend is that one reason why that industry has suffered is because of the cheap imports from foreign countries, and if we in this House fight for adequate protection for our interests, we are at the same time fighting for the best interests of the hand loom weavers. The duty on cloth has helped the hand loom weaver just as much as it has helped those who are conducting the industry in factories.

[Mr. H. P. Mody.]

An Honourable Member : What about the duty on yarn ?

Mr. H. P. Mody : My Honourable friend asks, how about the duty on yarn. I shall answer that question as well. The duty on yarn has not affected the hand loom industry to anything like the extent which my friends imagine, basing their arguments perhaps on what has been said in a recent communiqué of the Madras Government. My Honourable friends must know that there are today a great many mills which are switching over from the production of yarn for sale to the production of cloth. Why are they doing that ? They are doing that for the simple reason that there is no economic price to be obtained for yarn. I am giving this as a positive fact, you can verify it by the figures of mills in India today which are engaged in the manufacture of yarn for sale and which find it increasingly necessary to switch over to the production of cloth, because there is no market for yarn at an economic price. If it happens, as it is bound to happen some day, that all mills in India turn their attention to the production of cloth, then the dependence of the hand loom weaver would be more or less on the imported yarn and he is going to get very little shrift or mercy from the exporters of such yarn. It may be that today he is enjoying the benefit of cheap imports, but tomorrow he may find that the foreigner has established himself firmly in this country and that he is able to exact his own price with the elimination of the competition of the mills. Now, I hope, that is a sufficient answer to my Honourable friend. I recognise that my Honourable friend is not opposing this measure, but he has put forward a point of view which is perfectly legitimate and which I have tried to answer to the best of my ability. I turn now to my Honourable friend, Mr. B. Das. My Honourable friend's democratic sympathies and vivid imagination embrace the whole of Indian humanity ; he said he spoke for the 350 millions of India.

An Honourable Member : Minus the millowners.

Mr. H. P. Mody : I am sorry for the 350 millions minus the millowners. Now, Sir, what was his argument when he presented himself to this House as the champion of these 350 millions ? He said there would be retaliation on the part of Japan, and that there had been actual retaliation in 1927. I am afraid, my Honourable friend is rather careless in his handling of facts.

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Not at all.

Mr. H. P. Mody : There was a retaliation on the part of Japan in the matter of pig iron at a time when there was no question of increasing the duties on textiles. The duties on pig iron were put up by as much as 250 per cent. at one stroke what time the industry had not obtained the measure of relief it has now got. As regards cotton, my Honourable friend, with that delightful incoherence which he exhibits, contradicted himself. He said Japan was retaliating in the matter of cotton, and, in the next breath, he said that within the next five years Japan will grow as much cotton as she wants in Manchuria and other places. If Japan is anyhow going to do that some day, then where comes the question of retaliation ? I do not want, Sir, to strike a controversial note upon this question in view of the very important negotiations which are going to take place in the next few months. But I will say this that if there is going to be a threat to the interests of the agriculturists in India, the proper answer is not whining impotence, but adequate counter measures which I hope this House will most heartily endorse. But I do hope that that unhappy eventuality will be avoided, that, as a result of the Conference which is going to take place, we shall be able to reach an agreement which will ensure friendship between the two countries, and that there will be no more talk of boycott or countermeasures of reprisals.

Now, Sir, Mr. Das, again with the same carelessness with regard to facts, talked of bloated profits. I do not know whether he is still living in the hectic days of 1920. The answer to his imaginings is to be found in an Associated Press message today which says that another few thousand employees have been turned out of their jobs in Bombay mills on account of depression and on account of Japanese competition. Since April, 15 thousand hands have been thrown out of employment in addition to the many thousands who had been thrown out in previous years. But it may be said that this is the position in regard to the Bombay mills only. It is by no means so. Mills at Indore, mills in the Central Provinces and mills in other places are feeling the draught almost as acutely, and there is widespread unemployment everywhere.

Then, my Honourable friend talked of mismanagement of Bombay mills, and in this connection he is rather fond of quoting my Honourable friend, the Member for Industries and Labour. Sir, in spite of my Honourable friend, Sir Frank Noyce's free trade proclivities, I have a warm regard for him, and I have always said that his report in 1927 was a most valuable contribution to the literature on the subject, and was full of suggestions for the amelioration of the industry. But I want to know, in what part of that report does my Honourable friend find support for his theory that there has been gross mismanagement in Bombay mills ? It is true that Sir Frank Noyce has made valuable suggestions for the improvement of the industry, but that is very different altogether from saying that the industry is mismanaged. This continual talk of mismanagement which is being heard, and which no amount of facts and figures can manage to scotch, will, at any rate I hope, be scotched when the Report of the last Tariff Board, a Board which was competent to judge, is published. And if from no other point of view, at least from this particular standpoint, I am anxious that that Report should be released to the public at the earliest possible moment. I hope that Report will give a positive lie to the statements which are being recklessly flung about with regard to the mismanagement of the Bombay mills. (Interruption by Mr. B. Das.) After all, the Report must be based upon evidence; I know what evidence has been laid before the Board, and I say that unless they ignore altogether the facts placed before them, they could not come to the conclusion that the industry is suffering from mismanagement. Sir, the real trouble with my Honourable friend, Mr. Das, is not that he does not understand exactly what he is talking about,—though it is sometimes rather difficult to believe that he does understand (Laughter)—he has got enough experience as a politician and as a publicist; he is a man of affairs, he knows trade and industry; but the trouble with him is that Mr. Das is a capitalist at heart. (Laughter.) Now, Sir, the capitalist unfortunately today has gone a bit out of fashion, and it does not do for any good patriot to come forward and say that he is an exponent of either capitalist or industrial interests. And, therefore, it is that my friend, Mr. Das, who at heart is as bad a capitalist as any one of us, comes forward to prate about the woes of the agriculturist; I doubt very much whether he has been within a hundred miles of any village (Laughter) or whether his acquaintance with the agricultural problem goes very much beyond the purchase of a few mangoes or bananas. (Laughter.)

[Mr. H. P. Mody.]

Now, Sir, I will deal briefly with my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi. In spite of the fact that we always argue against each other, we are great friends. Mr. Joshi propounded a very novel doctrine, that whenever the textile industry came up for some measure of relief, that must be an occasion for imposing on the industry certain conditions with regard to the welfare of labour. Surely these questions are entirely apart. Whether you give protection to the industry or not, a certain standard of life is to be maintained and enforced with regard to labour, all those ameliorative measures, which flow from the Government of India with their increasing labour sympathies, have been designed to improve the lot of labour irrespective of whether the industry has received adequate protection or not. Does my friend require a double dose of protection, namely, industrial legislation proceeding at a rapid pace, irrespective of Protection, and again when the industry comes up for some measure of relief? That, I say, Sir, is a wholly untenable proposition and I hope it will not be supported anywhere.

I said that I would be very brief; I have only a few words more to say. My Honourable friend, Mr. Das, speaking on behalf of the Democratic Party, said that they were going to oppose this measure. I hope it is not correct; I hope at any rate the Democratic Party will reconsider their attitude. What would happen, supposing a large section of the House, a majority section in this House, were of the same opinion? One of two things would happen. The Tariff Board's Report and the Government of India's decision on that report would have to be immediately published and brought up before the House, and some fresh measure of protection recommended. That I say is obviously out of the question for the simple reason that negotiations are on foot, and it does not do, when the Lancashire deputation and the Japanese deputation are on their way, to present them with a measure of protection at the same time that profess yourself willing to come to a settlement with them. That would be one way of dealing with the matter. The other way would be to do away with protection altogether and to leave the industry to the tender mercies of foreigners. Is that the position which the Democratic Party propose to take up in this House, namely, that the industry should have no protection at all? Whose interests would they be serving thereby except the interests of the foreigner? I respectfully ask them whether they have realised the implications of such an attitude. I am sure that no other section in the House will support it. I am not merely concerned with getting votes, not merely concerned with getting this measure through: I want that every Member of this House, realising his responsibiliy, will whole-heartedly support the measure which has been put forward by my Honourable friend, the Commerce Member.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer (Rohilkund and Kumaon Divisions: Non-Muhammadan Rural): Sir, I must at the outset congratulate my friend from Bombay on the able way in which he began espousing the cause of the agriculturists. I am sure the Honourable Member from Bombay is very receptive, and he probably felt that he was considerably misunderstood yesterday and took the earliest opportunity to clear the misunderstanding and define the position that he has consistently taken up as an old Congressman following the footsteps of Sir Pherozeshah Mehta before the Congress changed its policy. As every millowner in this country has proved by his action, there is a close contact between the agricultural and industrial interests, as evidenced by the fact that the largest quantity of short staple cotton produced in this country is consumed by the millowners themselves. There is no use for supporters of agricultural interests to ignore this essential fact that between agriculture and industries there is an unbreakable connection. It is good to build upon the connection and I welcome, therefore, the observation of the champion of industrial and tariff interests in Bombay. I must say a word in defence of my friend, Mr. B. Das, once upon a time the champion of the Nationalist Party and its most industrious whip. When Mr. B. Das said that he was going to oppose this Bill, I think he governed it with a condition, till the publication of the Tariff Board Report.....

Mr. B. Das: Quite so.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer: .....and I suppose it was only his vigorous way of putting that the Tariff Board Report must be published, and not that this Bill should be opposed, for even Mr. Scott has not chosen to oppose this Bill. What Mr. Scott stated in his usually eloquent and almost convincing and seductive style was this, that the Government of India's policy was more or less typical of "Wait-and see Japanese policy". That was quite a dignified way of concealing some of his apprehensions, because he did not want on an occasion like this to express them, for each and every one in this House is anxious to strengthen the hands of the Commerce Member in the great and important negotiations that are opening before us. In this particular matter and during this debate it is well for us from the Opposition Benches to make clear to the Japanese representatives who are coming to this country that the Leader of this House has the confidence of the House as a whole. (Cheers.) When the Leader of the House denounced the Indo-Japanese Convention in April last, we gave him united and unanimous support, because our agricultural and industrial interests called for such action; and I, standing on this side of the House, very clearly stated then that the denunciation of the Convention was but the beginning of negotiations leading to a better understanding and better amity and better agreement with Japan in the light of new conditions.

[Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer.]

Therefore, we ought to give every support to the Honourable the Commerce Member who is animated not by any hostility towards Japan—on the contrary, as he very clearly stated in his lucid and convincing speech, he is anxious once again to revive those fair traditions and conditions of industrial rapprochment which had united India and Japan. We also join him in giving a welcome, a cordial welcome to the Japanese delegates, because as he very clearly stated, Japan is one of our important customers, the principal buyer, as an outside nation, of our short staple cotton. We want to keep Japan as our friend and we hope that Japan will view the debate that has taken place in this House with sympathy and understanding and realise that our Commerce Member enters into negotiations with the fullest support that a leader of a democratic House in a self-governing country can have. (Cheers.) I have only to add that the agricultural interests are watching developments with great interest, and I welcome the Honourable the Commerce Member's observations in regard to their representation in whatever negotiations concerning those interests that might take place. On this two-clause Bill, if we take into consideration the short title also, we have had a two days' discussion. I think it is sufficient that we have taken over two days on this matter, and time that we gave a vote of confidence to the Commerce Member by passing this Bill unanimously and without any opposition, especially in the light of the fact that we are entering into important negotiations in view of which it is better that the protection is extended for the limited period prescribed. (Cheers.)

Lala Hari Raj Swarup (United Provinces : Landholders) : Mr. President, the sincerity of Mr. Mody and even of Mr. Das may be doubted in voicing the feelings of agriculturists, but my sincerity cannot be doubted, because I represent the landholders of the United Provinces and I have got a large number of tenants under me who grow cotton and I grow cotton myself. I give my wholehearted support to this measure of protection, because I feel that there is nothing in this Bill which is injurious to the interests of the agriculturists. On the other hand, by attaching too much importance to this argument in our speeches on Monday and today, we are playing into the hands of the Japanese delegation which is about to come out to India. I understand from reliable sources that the Japanese have sent out men in cotton growing districts instigating cotton growers and to put up their demands that their interests are in danger, in order to impress the importance of their so-called boycott of Indian cotton. Sir, if you look into the figures, you will find that they have placed orders for Indian cotton much in advance. For instance, in July, 1931, they purchased cotton for Rs. 425 lakhs. In 1932, they purchased cotton for Rs. 168 lakhs ; in July 1933, their purchases went up to Rs. 571 lakhs. Before announcing the boycott, they placed orders in advance so that they could hold their own for six months at least to come. Secondly, there is nothing in this argument of boycott, because, as we know, most of the Japanese machinery is adapted for short staple cotton, especially cotton produced in India. By resorting to this boycott and by sticking to it, do we take it that they will throw away crores of their capital into the sea and go in for more machinery ? It is a futile argument. Thirdly, if we look into the exports, we find that the exports of Indian cotton have actually been falling in the Japanese markets ; so it means that the time will come when we will have to depend upon our own market or find other markets in other parts of the world. I have always thought, Sir, from the very beginning that this short Bill should have been passed without much discussion or argument, because this is a time when, instead of weakening the hands of my Honourable friends, the Industries Member and the Commerce Member, we should strengthen their hands by giving our whole-hearted support to this measure, and I take this opportunity from this place in this House to convey to the Japanese delegation that we Indians will not be afraid of their tactics of dealing in international negotiations. You are well aware, Sir, how difficult it is to deal with the Japanese. You have had the privilege of dealing with these people in International Conference in other parts of the world. Therefore, Sir, on behalf of the agriculturists and on behalf of the cotton growers, I wholeheartedly support this Bill, and I would ask every Honourable Member here to accord his full support to the Honourable the Commerce Member.

Mr. K. P. Thampan (West Coast and Nilgiris : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, the scale of duty that is now proposed to be imposed upon cotton textiles has been in existence for some time, and I would like to know what the Government have done during all the time. It is now nearly six months since the rate has been enhanced, and I should like to ask the Government why they have not cared to send out some experts to find out from Japan why the Japanese people are able to dump their goods into this country and how they are able to sell their produce at such low rates ? I do not think, Sir, that the rate of exchange of the yen alone helps the Japanese to do this. My own opinion is that the Government have not done their duty in this matter, and, in asking us to vote for a measure of this kind, Government are asking us to take a leap in the dark as all light, all the relevant data are withheld from us.

Sir, there are several interests involved in this measure. There are the cotton growers, there are the hand loom weavers, there are the millowners, and finally there are the consumers. It is our desire to hold the balance evenly among all these classes. If we can protect the millowners without injuring the interests of other classes of people, we will be the first to do it, because, we know, Sir, there are more than eight lakhs of people who are engaged as labourers in this industry, and it is our earnest desire that they should not be thrown out of employment and that the capitalist should also get a fair return on his investment. Therefore, Sir, if the Democratic Party decided to oppose this measure, it was because the Government had not published the Report of the Tariff Board which we consider would be the most impartial and equitable one, and we naturally thought that, without getting sufficient data on this question, we would not be discharging our duty properly. We refused to allow ourselves to be a party to a measure if it would injure the interests of the agriculturists and other classes of people. The only relevant data that the Government have got on the subject is contained in the Report of the Tariff Board, and that for their own reasons, they have not cared to supply us.

Sir, personally speaking, though I am an agriculturist and a landowner, I do not grow cotton, as you are doubtless aware, but my sympathies as an agriculturist are entirely with the cotton growers, and as there are other Members in this House who can speak for cotton growers much better than I can do, I leave the matter to them. But, Sir, there are thousands of hand loom weavers in places, like Tellicherry, Cannanore and throughout the villages in Malabar. There are also weaving factories where beautiful checks and other suitings are manufactured, and a very large number of people depend upon that industry, and, as their spokesman in this House, unless I am convinced that that industry will not be adversely affected by this measure, I cannot lend my support to this Bill.

[Mr. K. P. Thampan.]

Sir, not only Malabar, there are other districts also, for instance, the place from which you come, Coimbatore, Salem, Madura, and Tanjore in South India, where there are thousands of hand loom weavers manufacturing very fine saris, and other cloths. Their products are said to be very fine, and I am told,—I have not got the figures with me just at the moment,—that cloth worth about 1½ crores of rupees is sent out to foreign places from the Madras Presidency over and above what is sent to several parts of this country. On the last occasion when I went to Lahore, I was delighted to find that the cloth stalls of some merchants there were filled with Cannanore checks and other cloths. This is the condition of this industry in my part of the country and as one, representing the hand loom weavers also, I feel I must think twice before I lend my support to a measure of this kind.

With regard to the consumer, Sir, I may say that I am a consumer myself of cotton goods, and personally I am willing to put up with higher prices for the cloths I purchase for a time if it will assist the producers, but I cannot be expected for all time to put up with higher prices. Why should I not take advantage of the cheaper world prices, why should I be prevented from enjoying the benefits of a cheaper value as the result of more efficient and scientific manufacture and organisation? Sir, an industry that asks for support always is not worth the name, and the fundamental principle in giving protection to any industry is that it should be given only for a limited period of time, before which the industry concerned is expected to turn the corner. You cannot give protection for all time.

Then, Sir, a good deal was said by my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, about the alleged mismanagement of the mills. I do not know about the nature of mismanagement in the mills, but I know, Sir,—and I have recently read enough of literature on the subject—of the abuses of the managing agency system that obtains in many of the Bombay mills. Sir, it is an unfortunate thing that the Indian Companies Act is so drafted that any kind of abuse on the part of the managing agents is held to be legal. They get a commission for every purchase they make, they get a commission for the sales they effect, they get a commission for keeping of the office, for repairs, building of houses and for every conceivable thing connected with the mills. Whether the mills lose or gain, the profits of the managing agents are ensured. It is the poor shareholder who loses. The system has become almost a scandal. Until and unless the managing agency system is modified, there is no chance of success or hope for these mills. It may be a matter connected with the amendment of the Indian Companies Act, but whatever it is, I hope, Sir, that Government will see their way to enquire into the prevailing system of managing agencies and eradicate the evils thereof. I am told, Sir, that there is also a good deal of inefficiency in the mills in Bombay and other places. Their plant is said to be antidiluvian and their expenses of production are also very excessive.....

Mr. H. P. Mody: Why don't you wait for the Report before passing judgment? Wait for the Report and see what it says.

Mr. K. P. Thampan: In this connection I would invite the attention of the House to certain portions of a letter which appeared in the Indian Finance (Industries Supplement) of the 31st August. The letter is from the Bombay Correspondent of that paper, and it is very relevant to this question, and with your indulgence, Sir, I will read certain portions. The Correspondent refers to the opinion of one Mr. Sasakura, a Japanese, who is associated with the Toyo Poddar Cotton Mill of Bombay. He says :

"In his opinion, the sorry plight of Bombay cotton mills is due to three causes :

(1) Accumulated stock due to overproduction in India and heavy increase of imported cloth in 1932.

(2) Higher cost of production of Bombay mills in comparison with upcountry mills and foreign mills.

(3) Lack of control against reckless competition among Bombay Mills.

In 1932, Indian mill production increased by 20 per cent. There was also an increase of 58 per cent. in imported cloth. The result is that 1932 supplies were higher by 500 million yards over 1931 supplies. This will be equal to 10 per cent. of India's consuming capacity. If the situation is to be remedied, Indian mills should close down for a month and a half, or imports of cloth should cease for a half-year."

That means that these mills are producing more than the requirements of this country and hence the trouble :

"As regards production cost, Indian mills incur higher expenditure on wages, power, stores and miscellaneous (such as taxes)."

It is interesting to see from this letter what the average spinning charges per spindle per day is for Bombay mills and for Japanese mills :

	Bombay Mills.	Japanese Mills.
Wages	5.04 pies.	1.57 pies.
Power	1.87 pies.	1.09 pies.
Store	1.16 pies.	0.44 pies.
Miscellaneous ..	1.90 pies.	1.28 pies.
Total ..	9.97 pies.	4.38 pies.

With regard to the average weaving charges per 100 looms per day, we find the following :

	Bombay Mills. Rs.	Japanese Mills Rs.
Wages	165	43
Power	34	6
Store	36	18
Miscellaneous ..	29	27
Total ..	264	94

An Honourable Member : What about inefficiency ?

Mr. K. P. Thampan : I am coming to that. What a contrast in regard to the cost of spinning and weaving !

"The following description of Mr. Sasakura in regard to comparative efficiency of labour is interesting :

> "It requires 19 hands in Bombay Mills for a bale of 20*s.* against 11 in Japan ; and one Japanese weaving girl can attend 8 looms while a stout Indian male weaver generally handles two looms and recently three or four looms are given to him in a few mills. In a Japanese automatic loom shed, it is not strange to see a girl attending forty looms with comfort, and in spinning, generally a piecing girl attends 1,200 spindles for 40*s.* against 360 to 400 spindles in Bombay '."

In the face of such vast difference between the cost of production and efficiency of Bombay mills and those of Japan, I do not really know at what time salvation will come for Bombay mills. It cannot be, my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, wants us to continue this system of protection for years to come, and it is too much to expect us to vote for such a proposition.

Mr. H. P. Mody : Ask Mr. Joshi.

Mr. K. P. Thampan : Sir, before I sit down, I will read one more extract from that letter. It says :

"An additional handicap of Bombay Mills has been the anti-diluvian nature of machinery in most mills. Lack of capital and lack of himat or enterprise is responsible for the continued use of old machinery instead of their being replaced by new. Ahmedabad presents quite a different state of affairs."

It is heartening to find that in Ahmedabad at least things are better.

I must also say something about the imprudent way in which the profits of these mills were distributed during the time when they were making large profits. I was myself a shareholder in one or two mills in south India. Will you believe me when I say that I got some time as much as 60 per cent. dividend ? The Managing Directors thought it prudent to distribute 60 per cent. dividend. Why could they not reserve a certain portion against rainy days ? They never do that. The Company Law must be so altered that these shareholders ought not to be given more than 12 per cent. If it is the duty of the Legislature to protect the industrialist of the country, it is equally the duty of the industrialist to submit himself to the control of the Legislature. It is mutual. When the shareholders get a good dividend, they are jolly over it, but they approach us with a begging bowl in bad days. That is a mentality to which I object.

These are the various factors connected with this problem, and, without giving adequate consideration to all these aspects, I for one cannot lend my support to this Bill, and, if I may speak for them, that is also the attitude of the Democratic Party.

Mr. Muhammad Azhar Ali (Lucknow and Fyzabad Divisions : Muhammadan Rural) : This is a small Bill with one clause of perhaps five or six lines and it has been under discussion in this House for two days.

Sir, the object of this Bill is very simple. It extends the period of protection to the end of March, 1934, instead of the end of October 1933. We have heard of sincere and insincere sympathies expressed by each other—the agriculturist for the industrialist, and the industrialist for the agriculturist, but I do not find anything in this Bill which pertains either to the workers, i.e., hand loom weavers or to the cultivators of this country. My Honourable friend, Lala Hari Raj Swarup, talked of the benefits of this Bill to the cultivators. Neither in this Bill nor in the original Bill of 1930 anything was said to be done to extend the advantages of the measures to the poor cultivators of India. It is a great pity that the great field of co-operation which was a great blessing at one time to the whole country has been sent away bag and baggage to the provinces. The protection of cultivators could be considered only in the department of co-operation. Sir, the cultivators of India were getting money through these co-operative societies, but, to our great consternation and regret, we find today that their interests are being neglected in the provinces now, although the Industries and Commerce Departments here have joined hands to help the millowners and Japan. The real interest of the cultivators is in the extension of the hand loom industry, by which they can support themselves and their families. It is the hand loom or cottage industry which supplies funds to the cultivators in their hours of leisure for paying land revenue and land rent which they owe to the Government or to the zamindars. I know that there is the Central Cotton Committee and the co-operative societies, but it is really a matter of great regret that in these days of floods and depression nothing is being done here for the interest of those who work on land or on the hand looms. By extending this protection, you will indeed help the Indian mills, but, so far as the cultivator is concerned, there is not a word in this Act or anywhere to say that the cultivators or their hand looms will be helped in any way. Unless and until these cultivators are supplied with money, cattle and seeds in all the provinces now, I do not see how these industries or these workers can be helped in any way. It is very necessary that we here should now find means to help the cultivators and the manufacturers of these hand loom cloths, whether they are for export or for use in India itself. I need not say much on this subject. Every one of the Members here has expressed great sympathies for the cultivator and I know that the Japanese delegation too is coming and, if the Honourable the Commerce Member will take it into his head to do something—at least to his level best—to help the cultivator, that will be the best method of helping the Indian industries too.

Mr. A. Hoon (Allahabad and Jhansi Divisions : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : I rise to support that the Bill be enacted into law. As stated by my friend, Mr. Scott, I also wish that the Bill was more comprehensive. I also regret that this Bill should have at all aroused any controversy in this House. The position is this. The present Act expires towards the end of October and we are now being asked to extend it up to the end of March. When this Act was passed, there was a hue and cry in the country that we were faced with a national menace in the shape of the Japanese dumping their goods on our markets. Now, it is considered expedient that before we take any further steps in this matter, we might open negotiations with the Japanese representatives and come to some sort of amicable understanding by which the ill feelings which are now being created between the two countries may be removed. Under these circumstances, my humble submission is that there should have been no controversy whatsoever about this Bill. We should have simply told the Leader of the House "Certainly, extend the provisions of this Bill up to the end of March, but do your best to safeguard the interests of the country". I am sorry to say that a note of discord has been sounded in some parts of this House. The pleadings of Mr. Raju for the agriculturists, supplemented by the appeal of Mr. Das and the homily of Mr. Joshi, I submit, were entirely irrelevant so far as the issue before the House is concerned. We have got our domestic problems and also the foreign problems. The foreign problem now confronting us is, how are we going to fight this foreign competition. The domestic problem is, how the millowners are going to behave towards the agriculturists. What is going to be in the future the relationship between the producers of cotton and the consumers of cotton is another domestic problem. I dare say, we shall have plenty of time to discuss the domestic problems later on. I am sorry that several defects in the working of our mills have been proclaimed. We really do not know how far these statements or charges are correct, but I think it would be much better if at this juncture nothing is said about the weaknesses in our own system of working the mills. We should at this time, with a united voice, send our representatives to the Conference and ask them to safeguard our interests. Much has been made of the fact that the Report of the Tariff Board has not been published and put into the hands of Honourable Members. I really do not know what is the actual cause of the non-publication of the report, but, after the compliments paid by Mr. Ranga Iyer to the shrewdness and sincerity of the Leader of the House, I am inclined to think that it must be some matter of great expediency. The Leader of the House at the very outset of his speech said that we have got to be very cautious and tactful at this particular moment and we should take care that nothing escapes our lips which might do incalculable harm to our cause. I submit that, taking that advice into consideration, we should proceed with this matter. We need not waste any more time of this House in connection with this Bill and we should all express our wish that this Bill may be passed into law immediately.

[Mr. A. Hoon.]

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad (Patna and Chota Nagpur cum Orissa : Muhammadan) : Sir, had it been the last measure of its kind, I would certainly have no objection to support it, but, I am sure, at the Delhi Session, there will be another Bill to give more protection. Government are wanting money and by these means Government want to secure more money. That is my view and, for that reason, I oppose any idea of protection. I have said on several occasions that such protection is given to industries and millowners. There is no sort of protection to Bengal and Bihar agriculturists. Rather you will find that, on account of export duties and other things, the interests of the agriculturists as a whole have always been overlooked.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : What about the import duty on wheat ?

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : It is true that on wheat there is some duty, but Bihar and Bengal are not wheat growing provinces and, on that occasion also, I said that there was a large body of men, who were thousand times more than these millowners, that is the consumers. They are now purchasing wheat at a very high cost, also iron and other things and they have not sufficient money. The rate of rice and jute is very low.

I would ask my Honourable friend not to overlook the interests of the consumers when he discusses this matter with the Japanese delegation. The consumers have given their last drop of blood to the millowners and if my Honourable friend from Bombay is not still satisfied, we cannot help it. If my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, wants that this protection should go on for an unlimited period, we cannot share that idea. With these words, I do not support this measure.

(Some Honourable Members rose to speak.)

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : If it is the general desire on the part of the House to carry on the debate considerably longer, the Chair has no objection, but 15 Members have already taken part in the debate. Does the Honourable Mr. Amar Nath Dutt want to speak ?

1 P.M.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt (Burdwan Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Yes, Sir.

Mr. President : Mr. Amar Nath Dutt.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Sir, when I got a copy of this small Bill and went through the Statement of Objects and Reasons, I had a shrewd suspicion in my mind that the Government had got more than one favourite wife. Sir, it was a Lieutenant Governor of a certain province, more than a quarter of a century ago, who laid down the theory of a favourite wife. As you know, India is a land of polygamy and it is no wonder that our Christian rulers, in spite of their ideas of monogamy, have taken to polygamy here. I was aware of only one favourite wife of the Government of India till recently on whom all sorts of favours have been showered up to this time including the Communal Award and the Poona Pact. But that subject is not at the present moment before the House for discussion. The Honourable the Commerce Member hails from the Presidency of Bombay and he is himself a Christian and I thought that he will not be a party to any theory of a favourite wife, but I find that he has also got a favourite wife, namely, the Bombay millowners.

Sir, this Bill was first enacted in the year 1927 in the interests of the Bombay millowners. A docile Assembly came to the help of this small community who are our countrymen.

Mr. B. Das : It was not docile in 1927.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : I think in these matters of tariff the Assembly was as docile then as the Government could desire though not in matters of politics and constitutional advance. That is, however, another matter. This Bill was given an extension of life for another three years after its expiry in the year 1930. I think my Honourable friend, Mr. Das, will agree with me that when it was given an extension of life, certainly the House was very docile, because it consisted of men like him and me only to the exclusion of firebrands. Sir, we thought then that this would be the last attempt on the part of the millowners to ask us to open our pockets for their benefit, but that was not to be. The Honourable the Commerce Member again came over to this Assembly a few months ago and the Act was extended to 31st October, 1933. Now, it is proposed to extend it till March 1934. So, Sir, if I make bold to say that the Government of India have got a soft corner in their heart for the Bombay millowners, I do not think I shall be wrong. To what this is due to, it is not necessary for us to attempt to analyse. It may be that at the present moment the Government of India from the highest to the (Mr. G. Morgan : " Lowest ") lowest has got a preponderance of Bombay officials or who have served in Bombay and, therefore, have friendship with the Bombay cotton magnates. It may be due to that or it may be due to their great solicitude for the interests of the.....

[Mr. Amar Nath Dutt.]

Sir Cowasji Jehangir (Bombay City : Non-Muhammadan Urban) : Sir, it is a very serious charge that the Honourable Member is making on the Members from Bombay. I would really ask him to substantiate this charge. The allegation that the Honourable Member has made is that the Government Benches from the highest to the lowest consist of Bombay men.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : No, no : that word " lowest " was put into my mouth by Mr. Morgan.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : At any rate, the allegation is that at least the highest officials are from Bombay and that this Bill is introduced on account of their illegitimate sympathies with Bombay. I think the Honourable Member ought to withdraw that remark.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : It is no defamation to call a person a " Bombay man ". (Laughter.)

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : But I cannot see a single Bombay man ; that is my point.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : I thank you, Sir, for the kind help which has been rendered to a meek individual who cannot hold his own against such valiant and fierce Knights like Sir Cowasji Jehangir. We expected the Government to show the same keen solicitude for the welfare of the teeming millions of India's population who are at the present moment almost starving, as they showed to the handful of Bombay millowners. Sir, the condition of the country is surely grave. If anyone would care to take note of the conditions of the agricultural population of this country, he will not stop at merely saying that the conditions have become grave, but will try to exert himself to the best of his ability and ask the Government to give relief. That ought to be the first and foremost duty of every Indian in this House before supporting the Government in legislation on matters of this kind which will benefit a handful of millowners. Sir, there have been speeches by landowners and agriculturists. I find that one of them at least pleaded the cause of agriculturists and another gentleman, though pleading the cause of agriculturist, has been hand in glove with the millowners also.

An Honourable Member : I do not own a single share in the sugar factory.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : But I know that you are also an industrialist. Sir, it pained me very much when I found that there was no attempt by the Government to bring any relief and to ameliorate the distressed condition of the agriculturists. There has been no attempt to give them any relief in their present dire distress. I think that we, the representatives of the people, should stay our hands and take up the question of agricultural distress before the distress, if any, of the Bombay millowners. An economist friend of mine handed over to me a book for my study a few days ago and I recommend that a copy of this book may be kept in the Library of the House and I also suggest that the Honourable Member for Commerce should have a copy of this book, for he will find very valuable material therein. The book is entitled " Indian Tariff Problem in relation to Industry and Taxation " by Dr. Dey. I was presented with this copy. When I went through this book, I found that the help which the millowners of Bombay ask us to give them is not warranted at all. With your permission, I shall read a few extracts from the book. On page 112, we find as follows :

" If the millowners of Bombay had followed a cautious policy of dividend distribution and built up a stable reserve fund, they could have continued to give a reasonable dividend to the shareholders and at the same time succeeded in maintaining a strong financial position."

Sir, instead of doing that, they gave dividend at such a high percentage which will stagger, I do not say, humanity, but which will stagger every Member in this House. The percentage of dividend that has been given will be found in the same book in a foot-note on page 113 which runs thus :

" The extravagant financial management of the Bombay mills will be apparent from the following instance. In 1920, two mills paid dividends of over 200 per cent."

An Honourable Member : Name them.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. The Honourable Member will resume his speech after Lunch.

The Assembly then adjourned for Lunch till Half Past Two of the Clock.

The Assembly re-assembled after Lunch at Half Past Two of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Sir, I was speaking about the dividends that are being earned by the Bombay millowners. The extravagant financial management of the Bombay mills will be apparent from the following instances. In 1920, two mills paid dividends of over 200 per cent., 14 mills paid 100 per cent. and more, and 20 mills 40 per cent. and more. Sir, my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, whom I do not see here now, wanted authority for this. He will find this in the Report of the Tariff Board, Volume I, page 83. Mr. A. S. Pears instances an extreme case where the shareholders were not satisfied with a 400 per cent. dividend, but expected a 500 per cent. one. This statement will be found in the book named " Cotton Industry of India " at page 65. Sir, the Tariff Board did indeed realise that the distribution of high dividends in the boom period was among the most important factors that had weakened the financial position of the Bombay mills. Nevertheless they went out of their way to justify the action of the millowners. Sir, in this connection I may relate in this House an historical fact which is probably known to every student of history as to what happened during the Swadeshi days in Bengal. That unhappy province of Bengal has always been in the forefront of every nationalist movement and it has been its lot to suffer for the same. Taking advantage of the sentiment of patriotism that pervaded from one end of the province to the other, the Bombay millowners raised the prices of Swadeshi cloths to such an extent that they earned a dividend of 100 per cent. and even 200 per cent. at that time. This is a historical fact and I think no one in this House will dispute the correctness of my allegation. That also shows the patriotism which inspires these Bombay cotton millowners. Sir, here they have been asking for protection for a handful of shareholders forgetting the interests of the teeming millions of the people from whose pockets the money will come, specially in this time of agricultural distress. I need hardly say that 85 per cent. of the population of India directly or indirectly lives upon the products of agriculture. In Bengal, paddy was being sold formerly at the rate of Rs. 4 per maund, and what is the price of paddy at the present moment ? Only Rs. 1-4-0 and, even for that, you hardly get any purchasers.

[Mr. Amar Nath Dutt.]

An Honourable Member : In some areas it is 12 annas per maund.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Yes, I read in the papers that in some places the prices were like that. Sir, you will excuse me if I place before the House what the poor agriculturists get by cultivating (say) 20 bighas of land which is about six or seven acres. For these 20 bighas, he has to pay a rent of at least 25 or 30 rupees, he has to purchase oil cakes for his cattle and manure for his field and this would cost him at least Rs. 80 to Rs. 100 a year. I know intimately the condition of rural Bengal and, therefore, I am giving all these details. A poor cultivator's family generally consists of husband and wife, an aged mother and two children, and if he has to grow paddy on these 20 bighas of land which, in the average, yields 5 maunds per bigha, that means he gets only 100 maunds of paddy. He himself labours in the fields, his wife labours in other houses and catches fish from tanks and his small boy probably tends the cattle and carries his tiffin to the fields. All these people have to work and, in spite of this, he does not get even half a seer of rice for each of the heads in his family, because he has to spend more than Rs. 100 for his rent and cattle and manure, etc. Besides that, he has to purchase cloth and other things. These 100 maunds of paddy will not sell for more than Rs. 125 and he cannot sell the whole of the yields of his field, for the consumption of his own family will be about 60 or 70 maunds, and he can hardly meet his other expenses with the 30 or 40 maunds that remain ? And so actually he goes starving. I am not drawing this from imagination, but anybody, who cares to go with me to any village in Bengal, will be convinced of the truth of my statement that they do not get a full meal every day. If that be the condition of the villagers, it is up to any Government, and, more so, to a civilised Government, to see how this agricultural distress can be removed. Has a little finger been raised up till now ? This House may remember the fate of my Resolution about three years back when we were assured by Government that they got reports from the Provincial Governments, and what more could they do ? Yes, you cannot do anything for these teeming millions of the country, because you are well fed, well clothed, and you have your dinners and lunches and banquets at the Cecil Hotel. You cannot think of these poor agriculturists, but a time will come when, if these poor agricultural people are wiped out,—and I say this in the interest of every Member of this House,—you will find that you also will have to go without food. The same thing may happen which has happened in France, and in Russia. For what is at the root of the revolutions in those countries ? It is the distress of the poor people. But if you really want to improve the condition of the country, your activities should not be directed towards the amelioration of the condition of these millowners, but of the ill-paid labourers of the soil, and that ought to be the primary concern and duty of every civilised Government. In this connection, I may also point out to one cottage industry which the Honourable the Commerce Member will be pleased to take note of. I am told—and I think the Honourable the Commerce Member will not deny—that there has been some recommendation in the Tariff Board Report about the preservation of the hosiery industry ; and, up till now, not a little finger has been raised in order to preserve this cottage industry : when we have got a nationalist patriot as Commerce Member, I expect that he will do all that lies in his power in order to protect this cottage industry, I mean hosiery. Far more important than this is my friend's " Khaddar ". I am not enamoured of the word " Khaddar " : in my province that word was not used formerly. But, be that as it may, this coarse cloth, handspun and handwoven, which wraps the body of the poor agricultural labourer, needs more protection than the fine cloth which many of my Honourable friends here wear ; and I would have been the first man to support this Bill and to give the cotton millowners of Bombay protection even at a sacrifice if I had known that they are agreed to protect our cottage industries.....

Mr. H. P. Mody : We are.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : My Honourable friend says " We are " ; but the report which was read to us by my Honourable friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, the other day, leads me to believe that probably it is otherwise, unless by this time he has changed colour. Be that as it may, I appeal to the Government that they should first devise means to give relief to the agricultural population. Next, in their list, ought to come relief for these cottage industries, especially hosiery, about which, I think, the Tariff Board recommends and which I think the Honourable the Commerce Member will admit. But why is the Report of the Tariff Board not being published ? Is it to keep us in the dark about their recommendation ? It were better if the Government had taken courage in both hands and come before this House and first legislated for the protection of these cottage industries and afterwards introduced this Bill. But if the Government think that, by helping a few cotton millowners, their position will be more secure than by helping the masses of the poorer people, I have no quarrel with them ; but I will only invite them to read the lessons of history, whether in any country the bourgeois population has ever been able to keep up the administration against the onslaughts of the proletariat. If you want to save the country where such ideas are not at all favoured, I mean the Soviet ideals, you ought to first of all try and give the people a full meal a day, and also cloth to wrap their bodies both in winter and during rain. If you do this, you secure this country from the invasion of those outlandish ideas of Karl Marx and other prophets of Europe. If you want to keep away communism, if you want to make the administration safe, that is the only way in which you can do it. If you shut your eyes to these things, I think you are not doing your duty towards this great country, because this country has never favoured those outlandish ideas of communism and sovietism. But, quite in desperation, these people may be driven to accept these ideas, and then the Bombay millowners will not be able to help you. I am not uttering any idle threat. It is in the very interests of Government and of every one of us here that I do say that you should relieve the distressed agriculturists, that you should see that they have at least proper food and cloth, and then you can give as many luxuries as you can to the cotton magnates of Bombay and elsewhere ; but I would appeal also to the cotton magnates of Bombay, through you, Sir, to be a little more economical than they have been in the past. They have not been running their business in the most economical way possible, and, in support of my statement, I can do no better than again refer to the book to which I referred before. The managing agency system about which my friend Mr. Thampan spoke is one of the weaknesses.....

[Mr. Amar Nath Dutt.]

Mr. N. M. Joshi (Nominated Non-Official) : It has gone out of Bombay, but it still exists in Ahmedabad.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : It has been said that the managing agency system is a family business :

"In some instances in Bombay but in nearly all instances at Ahmedabad, the membership or partnership of the managing agency is limited to the members of the family or at best to a narrow circle of friends and relatives, while succession to the vacant places is determined by heredity. The institution has, therefore, all the defects of a hereditary system."

It will be well for me if I place before this House, without further speaking on these matters ("Here, hear" from the Government Benches)—I think, if you will patiently listen to, you will find something very cogent.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member will address the Chair.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : Yes, Sir. Through you, Sir, I address those Benches. A survey of the development of the cotton mill industry of India from the middle of the 19th century down to the present time and an examination of its conditions in recent years point to certain broad conclusions which may be summarised as follows :

"(a) That throughout the whole course of its history, the industry has registered steady, continuous and, sometimes, even marked, progress.

(b) That up to 1921-22, the import duty, being either altogether non-existent or very nominal, played little part in promoting that development.

(c) That both the spinning and the weaving branches of the industry had been able to capture a substantial and increasing share of the home market before obtaining the differential advantage under the tariffs of 1921-22 and 1930-31.

(d) That the steady expansion of output and the predominant position in the home market continued during the general trade depression that had set in in 1922-23, and that the comparative data regarding output and imports in recent years do not show in any way that the progress of the Indian industry was being hampered by any unusually severe foreign competition.

(e) That considering the severe world-wide and prolonged nature of the depression in trade and industry, the financial condition of the efficiently managed mills has been fairly good in recent years and hardly called for support at the expense of the taxpayers.

(f) That the critical financial condition of a great many of the Bombay mills and some of the upcountry mills is due to incompetence", —here I would draw the attention, through you, Sir, of my friend, Mr. Mody, to this—

"that the critical financial condition of a great many of the Bombay mills and some of the upcountry mills is due to incompetence, inflation of capital, extravagant dividend payment, grave labour unrest", —and here I would draw the attention, through you, Sir, of my friend Mr. Joshi,— "inelastic wage-rates", —which, I think, my friend, Mr. Joshi, will not approve,—

"and serious, and sometimes fatal, defects in the institution of managing agency, which practically controls the cotton industry in Bombay and elsewhere.

(g) That the financial difficulties of the weaker and comparatively inefficient mills are due in a great measure to the existence of keen and growing competition within the country, and much less to the severity of foreign competition.

(h) The high revenue tariff of 1921-22 has already enabled the millowners of India to levy a considerable tribute from the consumers of cotton cloth in the country."

Sir, my friend, Mr. Mody, and people of his kind have already taken a considerable tribute from the consumers of cotton cloth in our country :

"We also saw that the Government of India by abolishing the cotton excise duty in 1925 had sacrificed an appreciable amount of legitimate revenue in order to enable the cotton manufacturers to still further increase their gains at the cost of the general taxpayers."

The Honourable the Finance Minister, whom I do not see here now, will please take note of this fact that whenever he has a deficit Budget, he can always see that this is one of the contributory causes since the year 1925 of a deficit Budget, because this country has submitted itself to additional taxation, to lowering of the assessable limit of income-taxes, and imposition of surcharges which, we are assured, will not last after March, 1933,—the higher postage rate and many other things the Finance Member had to impose which the country was hardly able to bear :

"The analysis of the financial condition of a large number of mills in the period 1926-28 will show that a considerable group of well-managed mills upcountry and a somewhat smaller group in Bombay were able, in spite of the prevailing conditions of general depression, to pay reasonable dividends to their shareholders."

Here I would ask, through you, Sir, my friend, Mr. Mody, to take note of this, that a considerable group of well managed mills upcountry and a somewhat smaller group in Bombay were able, in spite of the prevailing conditions of general depression, to pay reasonable dividends to their shareholders :

"On the other hand, our examination of the present condition of the cotton mill industry as a whole in Bombay enabled us to see that the financial crisis of a large number of mills there was due to grave defects in organization, financial mismanagement....."

—I again through you, Sir, request Mr. Mody to take note of this—

"grave defects in organization, financial mismanagement and disturbed industrial relations, leading to higher costs of production, on account of which Bombay mills were increasingly unable to hold their own against the severe and growing competition of upcountry mills."

So, Sir, it is the competition between the upcountry mills and Bombay mills that has to be taken into account here :

"These facts would make it clear that, if the Bombay mill owners had thoroughly re-organized and reconditioned the industry as a whole so as to bring it up to the level of the most efficient units in Bombay as well as upcountry, they would not have required

[Mr. Amar Nath Dutt.]

the artificial assistance from the general consuming public over and above what had been already secured to them by the high revenue tariff. The Government of India thoroughly cognisant of these basic facts, rightly refused the aid of the protective tariff to the cotton industry for three years, 1927-1930. But partly due to the persistent and vigorous propaganda carried on by the Bombay Millowners' Association ''—

—we have ample evidence here—

'' partly on account of the bad state of their own finances, and partly also with a desire to rally the business community to the support of Government in a period of grave political unrest, they had at last to enact the Cotton Industry (Protection) Act of 1930.''

Sir, this is nothing but coercion, that has been practised by the Bombay millowners upon a weak and effeminate Government. In fact, Sir if I had charge of any of the portfolios, I would have refused to be dictated by the Bombay millowners.

An Honourable Member : Thank God, you are not in charge of any of the portfolios.

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt : But I may be one day. (Laughter.)

'' Under these circumstances, naturally, very scanty consideration was given either to the merits of the case or to the interests of the consumers, on whom a considerable burden of taxation was placed under that Act.''

Here I ask my friend, the Commerce Member, to take note of this that the interests of the consumers in this matter,—and the consumers number about 400 millions of people,—the interests of the consumers ought to have been the primary concern of the Government than the interests of half a dozen Bombay millowners.

Sir, I think I have said all I need say in this matter and if I have taken a little longer time in saying what was uppermost in my mind, viz., that the Honourable the Commerce Member should kindly see that the poor agriculturists do not suffer, and their distressed condition is ameliorated before he comes up with a Bill like this. Of course, I know that the life of this Bill is only till March, 1934. But, Sir, in the meantime, the hosiery industry is going to be killed.

3 P.M.

Let my Honourable friend take up this matter with the same alacrity as he does in the case of the Bombay millowners. An Honourable Member here suggests aluminium industry also. I beg to submit, in general, cottage industry, and my Honourable friend's '' Khadi '' or '' Khaddar ''—these two things should be given relief by the Commerce Member before he can think of giving relief to the millowners of Bombay. I have no objection to the millowners getting relief. Instead of getting a few crores, let them get a hundred crores : I do not mind. But I appeal to the Commerce Member and to the Members of the Government generally that it is imperative that they should take note of the distressed condition of the masses of the country and give relief to them before wasting their time on such small matters like this which would not bring relief to the people of this country. I appeal with all the earnestness at my command, and sincerity, as my Honourable friend says, that they should take steps to give some relief to the taxpayers of India by a reduction of income-tax, by lowering the postage rates, and by making a remission of rent or land revenue, whatever it is, before they think of giving relief to the millowners of Bombay. With these words, I resume my seat.

Some Honourable Members : Let the question be now put.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

'' That the question be now put.''

The motion was adopted.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The debate has been so discursive that I am afraid I shall find it somewhat difficult to prevent my reply from being also discursive in sympathy with it.

My Honourable and democratic friend, Mr. B. Das, was a little more difficult to follow than usual in this matter. I could not understand whether his best friends were the millowners, or labour, or those harijans among whom he works when he is in his cottage in Orissa and when he is not in London or on the floor of this House discharging his public duties. (Laughter.) He blew hot and cold and lukewarm, all in the same breath. At one moment he was breathing fire and slaughter against Japan ; in the next, he was shivering with fright at the possibility of retaliation. (Laughter.) At one moment he charged me with being in the pocket of my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, and at the next he complained that I did not yield to the demands of, I think he called them, the friends of the Bombay capitalists, and publish the Tariff Board's Report. Sir, his inconsistencies do not end there. My Honourable friend charged us with having destroyed the hand loom industry. When I cast my glance across the floor of the House, what do I see ? I see this champion of the hand loom industry clad in the products of the mills which he was so fiercely denouncing. (Laughter.) My Honourable and truly democratic friend claimed to be the representative of a constituency which comprised, I think he first said, 365 millions—one million for each day of the year—but he went on to say that it was not vociferous. Not vociferous ! And my Honourable friend, the representative of that constituency in this House ! He does himself less than justice. But, Sir, I would ask my Honourable friend whether he or any one else in this House seriously contends or thinks that the removal of these textile duties would help the hand loom weaver ? However, I will not continue with my Honourable friend, Mr. B. Das, because I have known him for many years and I know that his bark is far worse than his bite.

Mr. B. Das : The removal of the protective duty on cotton yarn will help the hand loom industry.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : As far as I followed the trend of the debate, there seem to me to be three important questions which demand comment from me. The first of these is, I think, the demand for the publication of the Tariff Board's Report. I must express some surprise that the position of the Government has been so misunderstood in this matter. I ought to say that in not publishing the report we are merely following our normal practice and procedure. Except in one case to which I shall refer, we have always withheld a Tariff Board Report until we have been in a position to publish our considered conclusions on the Report. Either the publication of the Report has been simultaneous with the publication of a Resolution giving the conclusions of the Government on the Report, or the publication has preceded by a few days only the actual introduction of legislation into this House. The one case to which I referred is the case of the Sugar Report. But that even is not an exception, because, in that particular case, we actually imposed the duties recommended by the Report as a revenue measure long before the report was published. I, therefore, submit that in this instance we are merely following our invariable practice and procedure, a practice and procedure which I submit is founded on very good and sound reasons. The onus, I submit, is upon those who contend that there should be a departure from this sound and well established practice ; the onus is upon them to advance sound and sufficient reasons for such departure. The House will, I hope, bear with me when I say that not a single Member of this House has put forward any strong reasons why that practice should be departed from. I would, however, like to say that in this matter Government are not hide-bound. If good and sufficient reasons are shown why they should depart from this practice, if they are convinced that in this particular case there are special reasons why they should not adhere to that practice, Government will certainly re-examine their position. But, Sir, I think the House may perfectly legitimately take up this position. It may say, " You are now coming before this House and asking us to extend for a few months the application of the principle of protection. Is it fair to expect us to come to a conclusion without even indicating to us what the recommendation of the Tariff Board is in respect of this particular matter ? " That, I think, is a perfectly legitimate position to take. And if it will help and assist Honourable Members in coming to a conclusion, I have no objection to telling them that the Tariff Board has recommended the continuance of the principle of protection in this case. (Cheers.)

[Sir Joseph Bhore.]

Now, Sir, the second point to which I should like to refer has reference to the claims which have been advanced on behalf of labour for equal consideration. My Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, like Oliver Twist is always asking for more, but I should have liked to have heard from his lips some acknowledgment of the stream of beneficent labour legislation which is proceeding from the Department of my Honourable colleague, Sir Frank Noyce. I do feel that it is wholly unfair to say that the claims of labour have not been receiving generous consideration. But I would like to say this, that Government do expect wholehearted co-operation from employers of labour in seeing that their intentions in regard to labour are carried out in practice. Particularly do they expect this from those industries which are receiving protection from the State and I would ask them to bear this point particularly in mind. The third point to which I now refer is an old point, viz., the case of the consumer. I do not want to weary the House at this stage of the debate with an array of facts and figures, but I would like to remove, if I possibly could, all honest apprehensions which may arise from the level of our existing duties. I would like to take just one or two instances and try and satisfy the House that these enhancements of duty have really not resulted in the imposition of any serious burden upon the consumer. Let me take one or two typical lines of Japanese imports into Bombay and compare the prices in April 1931, April 1932 and July 1933. The first instance I take is that of grey shirting, No. 5151, which is a standard line. A piece of 38 yards cost in April 1931 Rs. 7-14-0, in April 1932 the price was Rs. 7-13-7 and in July 1933 it stood at Rs. 7-4-0. Take another instance, white shirting, No. 800. A piece of 42 yards cost in April 1931 Rs. 11-14-6, in April 1932 Rs. 11-9-7 and in July 1933 Rs. 10-11-0. But I think in fairness to the House I should also give the prices of certain standard commodities over the same period. I have had these prices calculated in terms of percentages, taking the prices of April 1931 as a base line and fixing these at 100. In the case of the grey shirting I have referred to, 5151, in April 1931 the figure was 100. In April 1932 it had fallen to 99.7 and in June 1933 (I take June, because the wholesale prices in Calcutta are only available up to the end of June) it was 91.5. White shirting, 800, to which I have referred, was 100 in April 1931, it was 97.4 in April 1932 and in June 1933 it was 87.3. Let me turn to raw cotton. Raw cotton was 100 in April 1931, in April 1932 it had risen to 107.2 and in June 1933 it was 104.8. Cereals in April 1931—100, in April 1932, 83.5 and in June 1933, 87.3. Pulses 100 in April 1931, 98.8 in April 1932, and 101.2 in January 1933.

Mr. K. P. Thampan : What about the price of paddy ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I have taken the average of all cereals and I refer to the wholesale prices in Calcutta. I hope, Sir, that the House will derive some reassurance from the figures that I have given and that they will not be stampeded by vague and alarming generalisations. I had hoped that I would have had the entire concurrence of the House in the procedure which we are adopting in this Bill. I had hoped that Honourable Members would realise that it was not only wise, but necessary for us to mark time until we were in a position to know the character and strength of the forces which we had to deal with. It is no use disguising the fact that competition from Japan is by far the most important factor that we must take into account in considering the problem of the protection of the cotton textile industry. The negotiations before us might have a profound effect upon that factor and surely, Sir, it is only common sense for us to hold our hand until the position is clarified and until we know the exact nature of the emergency that we have to provide against. Sir, there is nothing more that I should like to say. I had hoped that as suggested by my Honourable friend, Mr. Hoon, with these developments facing us we would close up our ranks, we would set aside our differences and we would for once at any rate abandon that tradition of disunion to which we seem to cling so tenaciously. I will not abandon that hope until you, Sir, have put the question to the House.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

" That the Bill further to amend the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act, 1931, be taken into consideration."

The motion was adopted.

Clause 2, clause 1, the Title and the Preamble were added to the Bill.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, I move that the Bill be passed.

The motion was adopted.

THE INDIAN STATES (PROTECTION) BILL.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig (Home Member) : Sir, I rise to move :

" That the Bill to protect the Administrations of States in India which are under the suzerainty of His Majesty from activities which tend to subvert, or to excite disaffection towards, or to interfere with such Administrations, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Mr. B. Sitaramaraju, Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil, Mr. Uppi Saheb Bahadur, Mr. Ranga Iyer, Mr. S. G. Jog, Sardar Harbans Singh, Mr. B. R. Puri, Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah, Captain Sher Muhammad Khan, Mr. F. E. James, Mr. B. J. Glancy, Sardar Nihal Singh, Rai Bahadur S. C. Mukherjee and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury (Bengal : Landholders) : Sir, I rise to a point of order on two grounds. In the first place, the Bill is drafted to protect the Administrations of States in India which are under the suzerainty of His Majesty from activities which tend to subvert, or to excite disaffection towards, or to interfere with such Administrations. My submission on this point is that this Legislature is not empowered by the Government of India Act to pass any legislation to this effect, because this Bill is drafted to protect the administration of Indian States which are outside British India. Section 65 of the Government of India Act says :

"The Indian legislature has power to make laws for all persons, for all courts, and for all places and things, within British India."

But this legislation is going to be enacted for the protection of Administrations which are beyond British India. In the second place, clause 2 of the Bill says that the jurisdiction of India is not only confined to British India, but that the word "India" denotes British India, together with the territories of any Indian Prince or Chief under the suzerainty of the Queen exercised through the Governor General of India or through any Governor or other officer subordinate to the Governor General of India". Therefore, I think that this measure, if passed, will be ultra vires of this Legislature on the ground that its jurisdiction is not only confined to India, but extends to parts which are beyond British India. Those are my points of order, Sir.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Sir, I think the answer to my Honourable friend's point of order is a very simple one. He has, I think, been misled by the words in the preamble to the Bill which state the object of the Bill, namely, to protect the Administrations of the Indian States, but the law which is to be amended and the action which is to be taken is the law of British India and action within British India. It is not proposed by this legislation to take any powers which can be exercised outside British India. I would like to call your attention, if I may, to a somewhat parallel section which is already in existence, namely, section 125 of the Indian Penal Code, which penalises the waging of war against the Government of any Asiatic Power in alliance or at peace with the Queen. I submit that is a complete parallel.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Mr. Lahiri Chaudhury has drawn the attention of the Chair to the Title and Preamble to the Bill which set forth the object of this enactment. The Honourable the Home Member has pointed out that the jurisdiction of this Bill is meant to be confined to the territories of British India. Is that correct ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Yes, Sir.

Mr. President : If that is so, this Legislature is empowered, under section 65 of the Government of India Act, to make laws "for all persons, for all Courts, and for all places and things, within British India". What exactly is the scope of clause 2 of the Bill ?

The Honourable Sir Lancelot Graham (Secretary, Legislative Department) : The exact position is that we are trying to protect the Administrations of Indian States, and the protection is to be exercised in British India.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Clause 2, therefore, defines the persons intended to be protected by this Bill, but the actual act of protection will take place within the British Indian territory. Under such circumstances, the Bill is in order.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Sir, I trust that no prejudice will be created against this Bill by the fact that it is brought before the House by the Home Member with all his sins upon him. It is obviously right that the Bill should be introduced by the Home Department for, as I have mentioned just now in reference to the point of order that was taken, we are dealing with the amendment of the criminal law of British India, and, though our object is through the exercise of that law to prevent interference with the administration of Indian States, primarily and essentially this is a question of the criminal law of British India. At the same time, Sir, I wish to make it very clear that this Bill has the strong support of the Political Department and the yet unblemished reputation of my Honourable friend, the Political Secretary, who, I hope, at a later stage of the debate will be able to take part and to supplement the deficiencies in my own presentation of the case.

Now, Sir, before I proceed to the provisions of the Bill, in view of the various amendments that appear on the Order Paper, it may be convenient if I mention the time programme which the Government have in their mind. We have no desire or intention to rush this Bill through the House (Hear, Hear) or to endeavour to get a decision on this Bill in the course of the present Session. That is emphatically not our intention. We realise that this is a matter that requires careful consideration and full discussion. At the same time, we feel that the decision ought not to be postponed unreasonably and we hope to secure the decision and the final passing of the Bill, if the House agrees, in the course of the January or Budget Session. The programme that we would suggest for the consideration of the House is this. If the House will agree to the motion which I have proposed for setting up a Select Committee, that Select Committee should meet during the next Session in Delhi, the special Session in November and December and should present its report then, and the consideration stage of the Bill should be taken up as early as possible in the January Session so that if feasible we should get it out of the way before we become immersed in the budget discussion.

Now, Sir, what does the Bill seek to do ? If I were asked to put it in one sentence, I would say that, broadly speaking, it seeks to extend to the Indian States the same measure of protection from activities directed from British India against their Administrations as the Governments of British India alread enjoy. To those, who think of India as a whole, I do not think that proposition would require much argument. Geographically, India is a whole. The Indian States and British India are inextricably intermingled. No great geographical barriers, no racial distribution really separates the States from British India. We pass imperceptibly from one to the other. For good or for ill, Sir, the Indian States are part and parcel of India. Now, realising that, I do not think it requires much argument to show that the various Governments that exist in India—Governments certainly of widely different types, for the general type in the Indian States is quite different to that in British India and there are wide differences among the States themselves—these various Governments in India, however much they may differ in form, so long as they remain the Governments established by law and by constitutional right, so long it is necessary in the interests of the country as a whole, in the interests of the general stability of India as a whole, that those Governments should receive the support which they require to protect them against attempts to subvert or interfere with them. Within its own territories, a Government can be trusted to protect itself. We, in British India, have done with the assistance of this House what we can to protect ourselves.

[Sir Harry Haig.]

Mr. H. P. Mody (Bombay Millowners' Association : Indian Commerce) : May I ask my Honourable friend if this Bill is solely intended to deal with activities directed against Indian States from British India ? One of the clauses does not bear that out.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I hope my Honourable friend will raise that point later on. That is the object of the Bill. As I was saying, Sir, within its own territories a Government can be expected to protect itself. But its authority does not extend outside its own territories and if in a country like India activities can be organised and directed against a State from outside its own territories, we might be faced with very serious conditions of unrest and instability. We have thus inevitably accepted the principle of the reciprocal obligation of British India and the Indian States to prevent unreasonable, or I will say, unconstitutional agitation against the Government. If an agitation is directed against British India from a State territory, we expect the State to do what it can to put a stop to it, and, in the same way, if unconstitutional activity is directed against a State from British India, the States can reasonably demand that we should do what we can to put a stop to it. In the past our powers have not always been adequate to fulfil that obligation, and it is for the purpose of making them adequate that this Bill is placed before the House. Now, Sir, I recognise that many, who will admit that proposition in the abstract, may hesitate to apply it to the protection of the Governments of the Indian States, because they argue on these lines ; and let me make it clear that I am using their words and not necessarily accepting their generalisations. They will argue that conditions in some of the States are not what they should be, that it is difficult within the States to organise constitutional movements for reform or for ventilating their grievances and that, consequently, if grievances are to be ventilated, if movements for reform are to be initiated, they can only be initiated outside the borders of the State, that is to say, in British India. That, I think, is the argument that is very commonly employed. Well, Sir, as I say I must not be taken as accepting that generalisation as necessarily accurate, but supposing we do accept that as accurate, I still say that this Bill does not interfere, and is not aimed at interfering, with any legitimate activities carried on in British India. It is aimed solely at unconstitutional activities directed against the States. What are the activities that we deal with in this Bill ? So far as press comments are concerned, we are not penalising comments expressing disapprobation of the measures of a Government with a view to obtaining their alteration by lawful means. There is a definite provision which makes that clear. We are only penalising those comments which are directed to bringing the administration into hatred or contempt, or exciting disaffection towards it. Then, again, Sir, we penalise conspiracy to overawe the Administration of a State by criminal force or show of criminal force.

Mr. H. P. Mody : Conspiracy in British India.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That surely is an unlawful activity. Then we take steps to prevent, if necessary, the formation in British India of bodies of men, known as jathas, whose object is to enter the States and interfere with the Administration there, and finally we take a general power to prevent agitation within British India with the object of interference with the Administration of the State or of causing disturbance of public tranquillity within a State. These, Sir, I claim, are all unconstitutional actions and the States have a right to ask for protection against such activities directed against them from British Indian territory. But there is nothing here to prevent the ventilation of genuine grievances, putting forward proposals for reform, the whole range of activities comprised in the word "constitutional". It may further be said that there may be in certain States misgovernment of a scandalous and intolerable kind which justifies and demands interference from outside. Well, Sir, if those conditions arise, my answer is that we cannot allow such interference to be organised by irresponsible people in British India. There is a constitutional way of effecting that interference ; it can be done by the action of the Paramount Power, recognised by constitutional practice. That is something very different from the direct action of organising jathas of people from British India to invade the Indian States.

Now, Sir, it is, I think, the recognised practice of this House to refrain from commenting on the cases of individual States. I propose to observe that rule myself and I trust that Honourable Members will also observe it. But I think that in general the House knows that if conditions of serious misgovernment do arise, the Paramount Power does take action.

Now, Sir, with regard to the necessity of the particular powers proposed, I will take first of all the press provisions. There is, as Honourable Members are aware, already in existence an Act known as the Indian States (Protection against Disaffection) Act which was passed in 1922. (Mr. B. Das : "Certified, not passed.") This provides in respect of the written word protection similar to that given in our ordinary criminal law by section 124A of the Indian Penal Code, namely, the section that deals with sedition. What we propose by this Bill is to provide the protection given by the Indian Press Act of 1931 as amended by the Criminal Law Amendment Act of last year. Sir, this protection that we propose to extend to the Indian States is not without precedent. I would recall to the House that in fact it was enjoyed by the States for a period of about 12 years from 1910 to 1922, while the old Press Act was in existence ; for that old Press Act of 1910 applied to attacks on the Governments of the States just as it applied to attacks on the Governments of British India. In 1922, the Press Act was repealed for reasons connected with the internal conditions in India. A new constitution had just been introduced and it was thought,—and I do not deny that there were good grounds for thinking,—that in a different atmosphere the attitude of the press would change. Well, Sir, owing to that the States lost in 1922 the protection which they had enjoyed since 1910, but it was thought essential that they should keep at any rate that protection which we were keeping for ourselves, namely, protection corresponding to section 124A of the Indian Penal Code ; and it was in order to give that protection that the Indian States (Protection against Disaffection) Act was passed in 1922. Now, Sir, in recent years we have unfortunately come to realise that prosecution is not a very satisfactory remedy against those who are determined to malign and create disaffection towards Government.

[Sir Harry Haig.]

Mr. B. Das : You want Ordinances.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : No, Sir, we have the powers, powers given to us by this House. The reasons are several. In the first place, prosecution is a very slow process. That is a point that has been brought prominently to the notice of the House recently. Prosecutions in criminal cases in India are not distinguished for their speed. In the second place, the very fact of prosecution gives the widest possible publicity to the mischievous statements which it is endeavoured to check. Prosecution to a large extent from that point of view defeats its own object. Then again, while prosecutions are dragging out their slow length there is nothing to prevent the newspaper from continuing to publish things of the same kind. And finally, if we assume that at last a conviction is obtained and that the person who has been recorded as the editor is convicted, there is no assurance that he is really responsible for the policy of the paper or even the writer of the articles, and we may after all this effort have merely struck at a man of straw. The States have found precisely these difficulties in trying to take advantage of that Act which was passed in 1922. I may mention a recent case, that is to say, the conviction was recent. I think the article was written in 1929 and though the prosecution instituted has resulted in a conviction the case is at this moment in 1933 under appeal ; that is to say the proceedings have lasted about 3½ years. I think the House will realise that the States do not think that that is a very satisfactory method of dealing with Press attacks.

Mr. N. M. Joshi (Nominated Non-Official) : Sir, may I ask one question of the Honourable Member ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I hope the Honourable Member will permit me to proceed with my speech. He will have an opportunity later on of making his points and I hope, at the end of the debate, I shall be able to deal with the points that he raises.

Well, Sir, not unnaturally the States represented that the present law was no real safeguard for them. One Honourable Member, I think Mr. B. Das, referred just now to Ordinances. During the period of those Ordinances we did in fact extend to the States the same protection in this matter as we took for ourselves. But when the Criminal Law Amendment Act was under consideration last year, it was decided in Select Committee to omit from it the provision which had been made including States with British India in that protection, and it was decided that that should, if necessary, be put up for consideration separately and we are now proceeding to take that action. We have hitherto followed the principle of extending to the States in this matter of press legislation the same protection that we felt was necessary for ourselves ; and in regard to the press that is all we are doing now.

It may be hoped that some years hence, with a different atmosphere, with a different constitution, the attitude of the press may change : they may no longer employ their great power and great influence on attacks which are dangerous to the stability of the administration, but at the moment we think that the States deserve, as I have said, the same protection as we feel we require ourselves.

With regard to conspiracies and organisation of jathas, I do not think any one is likely to oppose the principle of the provisions we have made in this Bill. The House will remember that when recently a serious agitation of this kind did develop in British India directed against a State, it was found necessary for the Governor General to issue a special Ordinance, because under our existing British Indian law, we had not the power to stop these jathas, assembling and marching into the State. I think the House will agree with me that that is a very unsatisfactory position, that, in order to fulfil what we may regard as an elementary obligation, it should be necessary for the Governor General to issue an Ordinance. We want some powers, as part of our general regular law, powers which it will be possible to utilise at the very outset and thereby prevent the development of conditions which are in the interests neither of the States nor of British India.

In conclusion, I would ask the House to look at the position broadly. I do not myself feel that under any system of self-Government India can be a unitary state. The vast extent of the country, the enormous population, the great diversity of conditions, the historical development of particular areas, all those events of the past, that cannot be effaced or ignored, do present a problem of Government more complex than any it has been sought to solve before except by the comparatively simple processes of autocracy. There is, I think, general agreement now that the line of advance is by federation, and that means that while the Central or Federal Government will perform those functions which it is necessary should be performed on uniform lines for the country as a whole, the different local areas and administrations should be left to meet their own local problems in the manner which experience, tradition and their stage of development makes most suitable. It is true that in a Federation one expects ordinarily to find a general similarity in the form of Government in the various units. But the facts of India render that impossible, unless we intend to cut out the Indian States from India—an impossible task, I would suggest—and if we want to achieve that broader unity which is essential in the interests of India as a whole, I think it can only be achieved by recognising a wide diversity in the form of Government in the various units. That, indeed, has been from the beginning one of the obvious and unavoidable facts of the problem. It has been accepted as a fundamental proposition by those who have for some years past now been devoting their attention to the evolution of a new Constitution for India. There is no need to press all units, Princes and Provinces alike, into the same mould ; and any such attempt would lead to complete failure and disruption instead of unity. Therefore, let British India at the outset show that it is not entering into a Federation with the States with a feeling of fundamental hostility to the form of Government that prevails in the States. This is no foundation on which a partnership can be built. What we are asking the House to do is not to protect or stereotype misgovernment, but to acknowledge the fact that there are forms of Government other than democratic which are worthy of respect and that when we find these forms of Government existing in our midst, deeply rooted in tradition, in sentiment and in the facts of history, we should frankly accept them and admit that they, like other Governments, can claim to be protected against attempts to subvert them or to bring them into hatred and contempt. We cannot erect our Federation on a basis of intolerance and distrust, and I hope that the House, by its attitude towards this Bill, will show that that is not the spirit in which it approaches the question of our obligations towards the States. (Cheers.)

[Sir Harry Haig.]

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

"That the Bill to protect the Administrations of States in India which are under the suzerainty of His Majesty from activities which tend to subvert, or to excite disaffection towards, or to interfere with such Administrations, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Mr. B. Sitaramaraju, Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil, Mr. Uppi Saheb Bahadur, Mr. Ranga Iyer, Mr. S. G. Jog, Sardar Harbans Singh, Mr. B. R. Puri, Rao Bahadur M. C. Rajah, Captain Sher Muhammad Khan, Mr. F. E. James, Mr. B. J. Glancy, Sardar Nihal Singh, Rai Bahadur S. C. Mukherjee and the Mover, and that the number of members whose presence shall be necessary to constitute a meeting of the Committee shall be five."

Mr. H. P. Mody : Sir, I have not risen to offer any observations on the Bill, but I want to clear a doubt which has arisen in my mind with regard to the legality of some of the provisions which appear in this Bill. My friend told me in reply to my inquiry that this Bill was intended to deal solely with activities conducted in British India against the Indian States. Now, clause 3 of this Bill says :

4 P.M.

"In section 121A of the Indian Penal Code, after the words 'or any Local Government', the words 'or the Administration of any State in India' shall be inserted."

I want to examine and see how this affects the existing section, section 121A. As I read it, it makes it penal for any one who is a subject of British India or of an Indian State to conspire against the Government of British India, whether a Local Government or the Imperial Government. If he conspires against the Government of British India, he is liable to certain punishment ! The addition sought to be made to that section by this Bill would create the position that "whoever within or without British India conspires against the Government of India or any Local Government or against the Government of a Native State, is liable to punishment". In other words, Sir, the British Courts will be competent to deal with offences of conspiracy committed by a resident of an Indian State against the administration of that State, and I want to ask my friend whether that is the correct interpretation of the clause. My submission is that clause 3 seeks to interpolate into section 121A an addition to the armoury of the law which makes it possible for a British Court to deal with offences committed against the Administration of an Indian State in the State itself. That is my point.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : That point has to be cleared up.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I think the intention of the Bill undoubtedly is to deal with conspiracies within British India directed against Indian States, and not to go beyond that.

Mr. H. P. Mody : But the clause seems to me at any rate to go much beyond that.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : If the clause does go beyond that, it is always possible to amend it in Select Committee.

Mr. H. P. Mody : But is it ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : That is a point for Select Committee.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Does the Chair understand the Honourable the Home Member to say that the clause goes beyond the intention of the Government and has to be rectified in the Select Committee ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : The intention of Government, Sir, is certainly to deal with activities within British India, and if in fact the wording of the Bill extends to activities outside British India, we shall certainly be prepared in Select Committee to make the necessary amendment.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : It is understood the Honourable the Home Member concedes the point raised by Mr. Mody that clause 3, as it is drafted at present, would bring within the scope of this Bill offences committed against the Indian States within the territory of those States, because the operative part of section 121A, as amended by clause 3 of the Bill, will read as follows :

"Whoever, within or without British India, conspires to overawe, by means of criminal force or the show of criminal force, the Government of India or the Local Government or the Administration of any State in India", shall be punished, etc. That will be the operative portion of section 121A.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Yes, Sir. If the words "without British India" are held to cover the amendment which we propose to make, then, in that case, it goes beyond our intention.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : That is a point to be rectified in Select Committee, is it not ?

Sir Lancelot Graham : The clause does not go beyond the jurisdiction of this House as comprised in section 65 of the Government of India Act ; but I understand the Honourable the Home Member to say that the intention is only to penalise offences committed in British India. The clause would appear to go beyond that, so as to make not those offences only liable to punishment. It is always open to the Member in charge of the Bill to restrict the scope of the Bill in Select Committee. There is no question of barring.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : How is it within the jurisdiction of this House to make a law for the conduct of a subject of an Indian State, for an offence committed within the jurisdiction of that State ?

Sir Lancelot Graham : It is not. There is the section 121A of the Penal Code,—which says : " Whoever, within or without British India ". But if you will refer to section 4 of the Indian Penal Code, you will find that " the provisions of this Code apply also to any offence committed by any Native Indian subject of Her Majesty in any place without and beyond British India "; and also to " any other British subject within the territories of any Native Prince or Chief in India ". The extent of the Penal Code is not proposed to be extended by this Bill. The extent of the Penal Code is—whoever within or without British India conspires to commit any of the offences, etc., and " whoever " is governed by section 4 of the Penal Code. This, Sir, is an Amending Bill, so far as the Penal Code is concerned, and does not profess to extend the scope of the Indian Penal Code.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The point is, if an Act of the Indian Legislature, passed 20 years ago, had conferred on that Legislature at that time jurisdiction beyond the jurisdiction enjoyed by this Legislature, would this Legislature, by reason of that fact alone, be entitled to incorporate provisions along those lines ?

Sir Lancelot Graham : The jurisdiction of this Assembly and of the Council of State together forming the Indian Legislature was settled as far back as the first Councils' Act,—I think it was in 1861. The Penal Code was passed after that. It was passed under an Act of Parliament which conferred on the Indian Legislature of the time the same jurisdiction which is now enjoyed by this House and the Council of State. The matter, Sir, will have to be settled by reference to the Government of India Act of the time, but actually the wording is precisely the same. Those classes which are referred to in section 4 of the Indian Penal Code are the classes of persons which are referred to in section 65 of the present Government of India Act.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad (United Provinces Southern Divisions : Muhammadan Rural) : May I know, Sir, if the Honourable Member considers that the Bill, as it is before the Assembly now, is in order ?

Sir Lancelot Graham : Certainly.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : So far as this Legislature is concerned, its jurisdiction is covered by the provisions of the Government of India Act which is in force for the time being. It may be that the Parliamentary Statute of 1861 conferred on the Indian Legislature at that time certain powers, but, in attempting to define the powers of this Legislature, the Chair has to look to the provisions of the Government of India Act which is now in force, and that is section 65, and, according to section 65 of the Government of India Act, the Indian Legislature has power to make laws for all persons, for all Courts and for all places and things within British India.

Sir Lancelot Graham : Please read clauses (b) and (c).

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : " for all subjects of His Majesty and servants of the Crown within other parts of India ".

Do I understand that the Honourable Member's contention is covered by (b) ?

Sir Lancelot Graham : Please go on to (c).

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : " for all native Indian subjects of His Majesty, without and beyond as well as within British India ".

That is, in other words, this Indian Legislature would, by section 65 (1) (c) of the Government of India Act, be entitled to make laws governing the conduct of subjects of Indian States.

Sir Lancelot Graham : No, Sir. In section 121A of the Indian Penal Code into which certain words are proposed to be inserted by this present Bill,—the word " whoever " will, of course, be restricted to the classes of persons to whom the Indian Penal Code applies. This is an amending Bill as regards this particular clause and it proposes to insert certain words in section 121A of the Indian Penal Code. That section starts with the word " whoever ". The word " whoever " in that section must be interpreted having regard to the extent provisions with which the Indian Penal Code opens. Those provisions are contained particularly in sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the Penal Code. This Bill does not extend the scope of the Indian Penal Code, because the scope of the Indian Penal Code is, as a matter of fact, as wide as the Government of India Act allows any legislation of the Indian Legislature to make it. All that this Bill does is to insert certain words in section 121A, but the insertion of those words does not affect in any way the class of persons to whom the Penal Code already applies.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : No doubt, under the provisions of the Indian Penal Code, the British Indian Courts can take note of offences committed by the subjects of Indian States.

Sir Lancelot Graham : In British India.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : An offence committed by the subject of an Indian State in British India can be punished by a British Indian Court according to the Indian Penal Code. In other words, the Indian Penal Code has jurisdiction over the conduct of the subjects of Indian States committed within the territory of British India.

Sir Lancelot Graham : Yes.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : What I want to know is this. So far as the Chair has to seek the scope of jurisdiction of this House, it cannot be governed by the provisions of an old Act of the Indian Legislature. It can only be governed by the provisions of the Government of India Act for the time being in force. And the Chair would like to ask this question. Leave alone the present Bill which seeks to amend the Indian Penal Code. Would it be within the jurisdiction of this House, if a new Bill is brought forward, irrespective of the Penal Code, bringing within the jurisdiction of British India subjects of an Indian State for acts committed within British India ?

Sir Lancelot Graham : Most emphatically. Even a foreigner, for an offence committed in British India, is liable.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : But this House cannot have jurisdiction over acts committed by Indian State subjects in an Indian State.

Sir Lancelot Graham : Quite correct.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Therefore, clause 3 of the Bill goes beyond the jurisdiction of the Indian Legislature.

Sir Lancelot Graham : With due respect, I will point out that that clause merely inserts in section 121A of the Indian Penal Code—may I first read out section 4 of the Indian Penal Code ? When section 4 is read, that gives you the clue to the interpretation of the word " whoever " wherever it occurs in the Act.

Mr. B. R. Puri (West Punjab : Non-Muhammadan) : On a point of order, Sir.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. When the Chair has asked for an explanation from an Honourable Member, no point of order ought to be raised until that explanation has been given.

Sir Lancelot Graham : As I have said, there are a great many sections, which—in fact, most of the sections of the Indian Penal Code—start off with the word " whoever ". We are at present concerned in clause 3 of the Bill with section 121A of the Indian Penal Code. That section starts by saying, "Whoever, within or without British India....". When we want to interpret the word " whoever " there, we have to look back to the extent sections of the Act. I think the question which you asked was whether the subject of an Indian State can be punished in British India for an offence committed in an Indian State. My answer to that is in the negative both under the Act of 1861 and now also it is precisely the same. All that this Bill does with regard to section 121A is to insert those words which extend the offence, which widen the offence created by section 121A, but it does not widen the class of persons who are liable to be punished under that section. The class of persons affected by that section remains precisely the same as that set out in section 4, and those persons are precisely the class of persons who are set out in section 65 of the Government of India Act. So that the class of persons who can be punished in respect of an offence under section 121A as it will stand after having been amended by clause 3 of this Bill is unchanged, and they are all within the jurisdiction of the Indian Legislature. I come back to the interpretation of the word " whoever " in section 121A read with section 4. This Bill does not change that and could not change that.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair would now like to know from Mr. Puri, what is his point of order.

Mr. B. R. Puri : The point of order does not arise now. I understood at that time that the Chair had given its ruling—that so far as clause 3 of the Bill was concerned, the Bill was ultra vires of this House.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair has not given a ruling.

Mr. B. R. Puri : I was under that impression. I am sorry.

Mr. H. P. Mody : May I make a suggestion ? This point is very important and requires further consideration and I suggest that you do not give your ruling at this stage. I am very sorry to have sprung it upon the House and upon yourself, but the point occurred to me only while the Honourable the Mover of the Bill was developing his case. If I had seen it earlier, I would have brought it to the notice of both yourself and the Home Member. But as it has been sprung upon the House and upon yourself, I suggest that it may be held over, and that you give your ruling tomorrow.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : That was exactly what the Chair was going to suggest. The mere fact that in a Bill before the House there is one clause on which there is doubt with regard to the jurisdiction of this Legislature need not debar the House from discussing the Bill. When the time comes to put clause 3, and if the Chair is then convinced that clause 3 is ultra vires of the Legislature, the Chair will refuse to put the question with regard to clause 3. The Chair would like to consider it in the meantime. The discussion may now proceed on the Bill.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : Is it just to refer a Bill to a Select Committee which is ultra vires of the Select Committee ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Bill is not ultra vires.

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I beg to move the motion standing in my name :

" That the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 7th January, 1934."

I am grateful to my Honourable friend, Mr. Mody, for raising a point which is in favour of my proposition, namely, circulation. At the outset, I must say that my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, was a little nettled and troubled while he was delivering his speech. The soul of the Home Member of the Government of India and the soul of Sir Harry Haig, the British democrat, were fighting with each other throughout and, therefore, it was that he made that halting, apologetic speech which he delivered just now before this House.

Sir, I read in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, which my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, has advanced :

" The forthcoming constitutional changes, moreover, make it desirable that the authorities in British India should have power to protect units of the Federation from agitation directed against them from British India."

But, Sir, where is the Federation ? My Honourable friend did not tell me or this House when this Federation was coming, next July or next March, and why this Bill was absolutely necessary. My Honourable friend wants this Bill to be passed in the winter Session of 1934, but can my Honourable friend the Home Member say whether Federation is coming in 1934, 1935, 1936 or 1937 or, as some say, in 1939. Then, Sir, supposing the Federation comes in, is there any guarantee that the Princes are working with us in that Federation ? My friend has got a Bureau of Information and he knows the various statements that are issued from time to time by the representatives of the Princes that visit London, either as Round Tablers or members of the Joint Select Committees. I have not yet seen one statement from any of these representatives of the Princes which says that they are willing to join the Federation definitely. I read a statement by Sir Akbar Hydari. He says let the Constitution come into existence. Then the Princes, like the sublime Princes as they are, will examine and consider and see if they will at all join the Federation. So the Federation is a myth and I am not mincing matters. I have never welcomed the idea of the Federation on the floor of this House. I say "keep away the Princes at a distance. Start with a Federation of the British Indian Provinces". I am not concerned with the Indian Princes. This idea of Federation is not maturing. Then, why is it that the Government of India are so anxious to legislate to protect the misgovernment of these Indian Princes. My Honourable friend, the Home Member, referred to the Indian States (Protection) Act of 1922 and stated that it was passed on the floor of this House by his predecessor, Sir William Vincent, an equally persuasive man or probably a greater persuasive man than my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig. I must state here that I never had the privilege of meeting Sir William Vincent, although he belonged to my province. The House then consisted of liberals and moderates. There were no Swarajists in those days, no nationalists in those days, and yet the House threw out that Bill and the Viceroy had to certify it. As far as we on this side are concerned, we were not a party to that particular measure to which my friend referred.

[Mr. B. Das.]

Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar (Nominated Non-official) : Are you not a nationalist ?

Mr. B. Das : My friend asks me whether I am not a nationalist. So long as there is life in me, I shall continue to be a nationalist. My friend is a soldier. I hope he will be a national soldier and will fight for his motherland. So, Sir, this Act of 1922 is not a precedent. What does the heading of that Act say :

"An Act to prevent the dissemination, by means of books, newspapers and other documents of matter calculated to bring into hatred or contempt or to excite disaffection against Princes or Chiefs of States in India or the Governments or Administration established in such States."

Since that Act was passed, my Honourable friend knows very well that only three prosecutions have been launched. My Honourable friend, the democrat, Sir Harry Haig, since his advent as Home Member, has promulgated so many Ordinances or so many Acts, almost amounting to Ordinances. Today he wants us to give him another Ordinance in the shape of a new Bill which he has introduced. I would ask the House to read carefully what this Act aims at :

"to protect the Administrations of States in India which are under the suzerainty of His Majesty from activities which tend to subvert, or to excite disaffection towards, or to interfere with such Administrations."

[At this stage, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) vacated the Chair which was then occupied by Mr. H. P. Mody, one of the Panel of Chairmen.]

I do not think that Sir William Vincent, while he was Home Member and was probably the Leader of the House at that time, thought that the Bill which he introduced and which was thrown out by this House had anything to do with suzerainty or in any way concerned with the suzerainty of His Majesty. Since the new reforms came into existence, the Government of India went on manufacturing new weapons of repression, forging new lines of cleavage between Indians and Indians and that was proved when the Butler Committee went to inquire about the maladministration or good administration of these Indian States. We Indians thought that the Indian States were governed as the British provinces are governed, but when the Butler Committee came into existence, it began to talk of paramountcy and suzerainty and the little Princes and the big Princes began to jump at the idea that they were allies of His Majesty the King Emperor. How can these Princes, who were conquered with Indian money, with borrowed money for which we are paying every year interest, for which my Honourable friend, Sir George Schuster, supplied a note to the Secretary of State about the financial obligations of British India, be allies of His Majesty the King Emperor ? Were they not conquered with the money that was borrowed by the East India Company, the predecessors of my friend, Sir Harry Haig and Sir Joseph Bhore ? Was the sanction of His Majesty sought every time when they conquered some petty chiefs or factious chiefs who were creating trouble in the border of Orissa or in the border of the Punjab ? Certainly not. When my Honourable friend, Mr. Glancy, will rise to speak, I hope he will search the archives of the Political Department and find out as to who was that political genius in the Political Department who conceived this idea of separating Indian States from British India and incidentally took away the power of the Government of India and put fantastic ideas into the heads of the small Princes that they were the allies of His Majesty the King Emperor ?

Sir, I am not a lawyer and so I did not like to raise any point of order, but I always took that this Legislature and the Government of India were subordinate to the British Government and the British Parliament. How is it, then, that we are asked to legislate to protect the suzerainty of His Majesty the King Emperor ? To me, who is a matter-of-fact man, it appears to be something bogus. Of course, everybody knows that the Federation is not coming into existence immediately ; everybody also knows that the Princes are not coming into the Federation easily. Even the Political Secretary does not know what is the status of the individual Princes. Yet some fiat has gone round and a Resolution has been passed in that semi-circular Chamber in Delhi, namely, the Chamber of Princes, and here my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, the Home Member, wants this Bill to go through. He says that this Bill is not for the protection of the Princes, but it is a Criminal Law Amendment Bill. As I said at the beginning, my Honourable friend was halting all the time in his speech, because his other soul always troubled him.

Sir, when my Honourable friend, the Home Member, was impressing upon us the object with which Government have introduced this Bill, he only stated that there were certain people in British India who were causing disaffection to some of these Princes or their Administrations. He also said that this Bill did not aim at nor did it take away the proper criticism of the Press against the bad administration of the States. I am sorry to say that throughout India it is only my friend, the Honourable Sir Harry Haig, and the Statesman of Calcutta who have understood the objects of this Bill in that fashion, but the Indian Press is apprehensive that, in the shape of this Bill, another Press Ordinance has come into existence. The screw is being tightened on the Press, and the Government of India, which is in secret alliance with the Princes of India, do not want that there should be any righteous criticism on the misgovernment of those Princes. I will just quote a few lines from the Amrita Bazar Patrika, a paper which has always stood for justice to the Princes and to the subjects of the Princes of the Indian States. It says :

[Mr. B. Das.]

"But what about the subjects of these Indian States? The rule that prevails in most of the States is despotic and, in very few of them, the people can be said to be happy. The people in most of the States labour under innumerable disabilities, yet they are not allowed by their rulers to speak out their grievances. Even constitutional agitation for the representation of grievances is put down with a stern hand in most of the States where no public opinion worth the name can, therefore, be expected to exist. The only pressure which Rulers in such States can be made to feel is that exercised by the public opinion in British India and it was this pressure which in the past induced the Political Department of the Government of India to take action against the mal-administration of the Princes in some States. The proposed Bill, if passed into law, will undoubtedly have the effect of preventing the press and public bodies in British India from agitating against the mal-administration in Indian States and nobody will hear the grievances of the poor victims of misrule in the Indian States."

When the Editor of a nationalist paper like the Amrita Bazar Patrika writes like this, surely it does so with all the experience of an editor of a paper of long standing, of 70 years. How can I believe, with all due respect to my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, that the Bill is not meant to curtail the freedom of the press in the sense that they cannot agitate about the mal-administration of the States. What does the Preamble of the Bill say? It aims at the protection of the administration of the Indian States. So, I think my friend's contention is not correct.

I do not wish to go into details, clause by clause, of the Bill, because I want this Bill to be circulated not only to get the opinion of the Indian press and the Indian public, the Judges of the Indian High Courts and Administrators in the provinces, but I do hope that it will also be circulated to the Political Agents, the Indian States people and the various Princes that rule these Indian States. Their views should be collected. If my Honourable friend, Mr. Glancy, will concede, I wish also that this Bill be circulated to all the ex-Political Agents who are drawing pensions today from the exchequer of India, because their opinions will be very valuable. We know that these gentlemen, when they retire, write their views and speak things which they cannot do when they are under the control of the Political Secretary of the Government of India. So my suggestion is that this Bill be circulated also to the ex-Political Agents who may be now staying in Switzerland or London and other places.

I will refer the House to clause 4 of this Bill which aims at the curtailment of the freedom of the press. There it is said :

"To bring into hatred or contempt, to exercise disaffection towards the Administration established in any State of India."

Sir, States like Mysore and Baroda may have judicious administrations, but we know that Indian States as a rule have no administration. It is Hitlerism minus the democratic spirit that controls Hitler.

How are these people ruled? The Honourable the Home Member appealed that we should not mention the names of States. I am not going to mention any names. I am going to lay certain facts before the House. I am going to give out what is usually held as the considered view of the public and the press in India. There are rulers in India who have no administrative machinery. There are about 600 Indian States, and some of them have only half a village to rule. Most of the Indian States are under one-man rule without any control of public opinion. In the past, the mighty bayonets of the British Army did not protect these Princes and they were then amenable to public opinion and public criticism coming from inside the State. But, as the Princes found that the mighty British Army was protecting them, they became irresponsible. They began their maladministration in their States for which the people have no remedy. The people could not revolt, because revolting against particular States was revolting against the mighty British Empire and the mighty British Government, and yet the people of the States want the protection of the British Army and the British democratic laws and they are denied all these now. When anybody writes a letter in the Indian press, or when the press criticises the administration of any State as bad, under this Bill power is given to a District Magistrate or the subordinate of a District Magistrate to deal with the press. When speaking about the press, I am reminded of the security of Rs. 10,000 demanded of the "Free Press" in Bombay as deposit by the Government of Bombay and now reported to have been confiscated. So the press of India, for which the Honourable the Home Member has no love,—I am talking of the Indian Press and not the Anglo-Indian Press,—under this new clause, the press which writes articles against an Indian State would be asked to deposit Rs. 10,000 or Rs. 20,000 for writing such articles. That will be the consequence if this Bill is passed into law. Now, I will refer to sub-clause (1) of clause 6 which reads :

"..... such Magistrate may, by written order stating the material facts of the case and served in the manner provided by section 134 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, direct any person to abstain from a certain act if such Magistrate considers that such direction is likely to prevent or tends to prevent interference with the Administration of a State in India"

I am not concerned with the subsequent sentence :

"or danger to human life or safety or a disturbance of the public tranquillity or a riot or an affray within the said State".

I am only concerned with "to prevent or tends to prevent interference with the Administration of a State in India". Two or three years ago, I had the privilege of presiding over the Orissa State People's Conference. (Interruption.) Supposing I was going to preside over a Conference in Bombay in my Honourable friend, Sir Cowasji Jehangir's own City, just as Mr. Kelkar presided the other day over the Indian States People's Conference, to whose valuable speech I shall refer subsequently, the magistrate of the town, having been misinformed, as subordinate magistrates usually are,—they do not know and they do not understand the high policy of the Government of India, they do not understand the high principles that guide my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, they think only three or four years ahead as to how to protect these Princes and how to put these Princes in cotton wool so that they may not be harmed,—the magistrate of the town may serve me with a notice ordering me that I should not preside over the Conference lest it should incite people or cause disaffection in the administration of a State or States. These are the two points that I, as a public man and a representative of the Indian Press, feel greatly apprehensive.

[Mr. B. Das.]

Mr. Chairman (Mr. H. P. Mody) : Does the Honourable Member propose to go on for any length of time ?

Mr. B. Das : Yes, Sir, for one hour.

Mr. Chairman (Mr. H. P. Mody) : In that case the House stands adjourned till 11 o'clock tomorrow.

The Assembly then adjourned till Eleven of the Clock on Thursday, the 7th September, 1933.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Thursday, 7th September, 1933.

The Assembly met in the Assembly Chamber at Eleven of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

EMPLOYMENT OF COMMUNITIES INADEQUATELY REPRESENTED IN THE CENTRAL PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

719. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether it is proposed to open two new Circles in the Central Public Works Department, Delhi, to carry out the scheme recently sanctioned by the Secretary of State for India ?

(b) Do Government propose to reserve sufficient seats for those communities who are inadequately represented in that Department, to adjust their representation in the department ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) It is proposed to open only one new Circle for the purpose.

(b) The claims of all communities will be considered in making temporary appointments necessary for the formation of the new Circle.

APPOINTMENT OF MUSLIMS IN THE COMMERCIAL STATISTICS BRANCH OF THE COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

720. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether a new branch for Commercial Statistics was opened in the Commerce Department in July, 1933 ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, how many Muslims were taken in that branch ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) A new Branch for Statistical Research work was created on a temporary basis in July, 1933. This is a Branch of the Department of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics.

(b) The Director General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics reports that five out of the eleven resulting vacancies have been or will be filled by Muslims.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : May I know how many posts have been actually filled up till now ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I cannot say how many have been actually filled. The answer that I have given refers to the new vacancies that have occurred or will occur and I think the answer should be perfectly satisfactory from the Honourable Member's point of view.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : In part (b) of the question, I asked how many Muslims were taken in that branch.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I want to make it quite clear that the vacancies have not all been filled up up till the present.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Were these vacancies advertised ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I cannot say ; that is a matter within the competence of the Director General himself.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I think these appointments will not be made through the Public Service Commission ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : I do not think so ; these are minor appointments which, as I said, are within the competence of the Director General.

ALLEGED UNFAIR TREATMENT OF THE RAILWAY OFFICERS TOWARDS MUSLIM EMPLOYEES.

721. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that Maulvi Muhammad Yakub, Editor, the Light, Lahore, addressed the Agent, North Western Railway, regarding the unfair treatment of the Railway officers towards the Muslim employees as regards their promotion, etc., as published in the Pilot, Amritsar, dated the 23rd July, 1933 ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, what action if any, has been taken on the allegations stated therein ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information, but have sent a copy of the question to the Agent, North Western Railway, for any action that he may consider necessary.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Did the Honourable Member ask the Agent for information to reply to this question ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No, Sir.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to state the reasons for that ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Because the matter is within the competence of the Agent of the North Western Railway to settle.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Does the Honourable Member remember that it was said by the Chair some time ago that every question that is admitted is of public importance ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Yes, Sir, I remember that.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : Does the Honourable Member mean that because the matter is within the purview of the Agent of the Railway, it is no concern of the Government of India and that so it is not necessary to reply to the question ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : The position of the Government of India is that certain matters of detailed administration are left to the Agent of the North Western Railway and Government cannot, as a practical measure, insist on inquiring minutely into every detail.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : Every action of Government officials must come within the purview of the Legislature, and when questions are asked for eliciting certain facts, it is immaterial whether it is within the purview of one official or the other and it is the duty of Government to supply the information.

Mr. P. R. Rau : As a commercial department, the Railway Board have to look into the probable practical value of the information that is to be obtained. And if the question refers to such matters of detail, as Government do not think it necessary for them to interfere in, they consider that it is unnecessary to obtain the information.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : If Government say that it is not worth the trouble and expense, it would be a different thing. But they say that, because it is within the purview of the Agent, therefore they do not want to reply. I think it is not a correct position.

Mr. P. R. Rau : I must point out, Sir, that I have taken the necessary action on the point. I have sent a copy of this question to the Agent of the North Western Railway to look into it and remove any grievances that exist.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : When Government have not seen the letter in question, how can they say that the matter was not of sufficient importance ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : If it were of sufficient importance, I am sure, the Honourable Member would have given details of it in his question.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I asked in the question about this letter which contained allegations about the unfair treatment of Railway officers towards the Muslim employees. So Government should have seen the letter to find out whether it was of public importance or not.

Mr. P. R. Rau : The question whether a particular letter has been addressed by a particular gentleman to the Agent of the North Western Railway is not, I think, a thing of sufficient importance to warrant Government making inquiries into the matter.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Did the Honourable Member notice that I made allegations against Railway officers with regard to their treatment of Muslim employees ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : If my Honourable friend had given me any facts to show that a prima facie case existed for an inquiry, I should have been glad to make such inquiry.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government see the letter now and find out what are the grievances of the Muslim employees on the North Western Railway ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I have not got a copy of the paper with me. If my Honourable friend will supply me with the paper or the letter I shall be glad to look into them.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : Will the Honourable Member tell us why the etter was not addressed to the Government of India if it was of such mportance ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I must ask my Honourable friend to ask the questioner.

Bhai Parma Nand : Will the Honourable Member explain what he understands by fair and unfair treatment of the whole Muslim community on the railways ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : That also is a question which Mr. Maswood Ahmad should be asked to answer.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : If a question is within the purview of the Agent and it is decided not properly by him and is subsequently brought to the notice of the House, may I know what is the policy of Government in such a matter ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, I think this is a question which has exercised the House for some time and, I am sure, my Honourable friend will agree that, unless matters of really vital general importance are raised, it would be wasting the time both of the House and of Government if on every petty matter we were asked to obtain the explanation of the Agent. I can assure my Honourable friends that if any really important matter is raised, the Railway Board and Government will be only too glad to look into it.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : My suggestion is that it should not be as we have been getting replies to our questions from the Financial Commissioner, that even important questions are being merely sent to the Agent and no report called for investigation.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, so far as the answers given by the Financial Commissioner are concerned, I may make it perfectly clear to the House that no answer is given which has not my full concurrence. But I have already made it perfectly clear that, if any important question is raised, we shall certainly look into it.

SUCCESS OF A NON-MATRICULATE TEMPORARY CLERK OF THE RAILWAY BOARD'S OFFICE IN THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION STENOGRAPHERS' EXAMINATION.

722. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article 'Public Service Commission' published in the weekly Pilot, Amritsar, on July 30, 1933 ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state the conditions which led to a non-Matriculate and temporary clerk of Railway Board's office being admitted and declared successful by the Public Service Commission in the Stenographer's examination ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : (a) Yes.

(b) Mr. Narayan sat for the qualifying examination for stenographers held by the Public Service Commission in 1930. No educational qualifications were prescribed for this examination, the only conditions being that candidates should have officiated in permanent posts of stenographer for not less than 12 months in all since 1st April, 1928, and that the Heads of their Departments should be prepared to recommend them for permanent employment as stenographers if they qualified. As Mr. Narayan fulfilled these conditions, he was allowed to appear and he qualified. The allegations in the article are therefore unfounded.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Will Government be pleased to say whether it is also one of the conditions that the candidates should be from the permanent staff and should be at least under-graduates ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : I have already explained that no educational qualifications were prescribed for this examination and that the conditions were that the candidates should have officiated in a permanent post of stenographer for not less than twelve months.

CONTRACT FOR MUSLIM SWEETS-STALL AT AMRITSAR.

723. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article "Muslim Sweets-stall at Amritsar" published in the Weekly Pilot, Amritsar, of 30th July, 1933 ? If so, will Government be pleased to state the name of the Muslim sweets-stall contractor at Amritsar railway station and state reasons for letting out the contract to a non-Muslim ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have not seen the article referred to. The letting of such contracts is a matter for the decision of the Railway Administration, and I am sending a copy of the question to the Agent, North Western Railway, for such action as may be considered necessary.

RETRENCHMENT OF STAFF IN THE RAILWAY BOARD'S OFFICE.

724. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article "Railway Board" published in the Pilot, Amritsar, of the 6th August, 1933 ?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state whether in the light of the state of affairs depicted therein, it is proposed to retrench some more staff ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Government have not seen the article referred to.

(b) So far as I am aware, there are no proposals at present under consideration for any general retrenchment on any considerable scale.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Is it a fact that a copy of the Pilot of the 6th August was sent for from the editor by the Railway Board ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I do not know : I have not seen the article.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Has any other officer in the Railway Board seen that article ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I can only say I have not been able to get that article.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I have seen the letter asking for a copy of the Pilot of that date and so I want to know whether this copy has actually been taken by the Railway Board or not.

Mr. P. R. Rau : Apparently it was not obtainable.

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : Is this question intended to advertise this particular newspaper ?

MUSLIMS AND COMPANY-MANAGED RAILWAYS.

725. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article "Muslims and Company-managed Railways" published in the weekly Pilot, Amritsar, dated the 6th August, 1933 ? If so, will Government be pleased to state whether the facts stated therein are correct ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : In the absence of a copy of the article in question, I am not in a position to say whether the allegations made are correct or not.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose to see if they get a copy of the paper now or day after tomorrow ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : If my Honourable friend sends me a copy of the paper, I shall see if the allegations therein are sufficiently important to warrant my making an inquiry.

ALLEGED INJUSTICE TO MUSLIMS IN THE RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE, ALLAHABAD.

726. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Has the attention of Government been drawn to an article "Allahabad R. M. S., Grave injustice of Muslims" published in the Pilot, Amritsar, dated the 23rd July, 1933 ? If so, will Government be pleased to state if the facts stated therein are correct ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Government have not seen the article referred to and are therefore unable to reply to the second part of the question ; nor do they consider any inquiry necessary as the rules provide liberal opportunities for officials to represent their grievances to their official superiors should they desire to do so.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Do Government propose in future, when such questions are asked, to get a copy of the articles also sent to them ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : I think, Sir, it would be an excellent idea if Members, who refer to such articles in their questions, were to send a copy of the article with the question. The experience of my Department in this matter has been singularly unfortunate ; for some time past we have endeavoured to obtain copies of articles referred to from editors of newspapers and almost invariably we have been unable to do so.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House has now experienced considerable difficulty in getting satisfactory answers from Government to questions of this nature, asking Government whether their attention has been drawn to a certain newspaper article. The Parliamentary practice is that when an Honourable Member makes a statement in a question, wherever that statement might appear, the Honourable Member personally makes himself responsible for that statement. When certain matters are brought to the notice of Government, the details of that particular matter must be mentioned in the question also. It is with a view to shortening the question and, for the sake of convenience, that Honourable Members are permitted to frame questions in this particular manner. But the Chair would suggest that in order to enable them to get a complete answer from Government and for the convenience of every one concerned, it would be an excellent practice if Honourable Members, who refer the attention of Government to a particular newspaper article, always make it a practice to send a copy of that article to the Government along with the question.

NON-FILLING UP OF CERTAIN PERMANENT APPOINTMENTS IN THE POST OFFICES.

727. Mr. S. G. Jog : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the date on which the Director General, Posts and Telegraphs, issued instructions not to fill in any appointments in the post offices permanently, and the date on which the Postmaster General, Bombay, issued such instructions ;

(b) whether they issued similar instructions to have effect from the 16th July, 1931 ;

(c) whether it is a fact that the officers holding officiating appointments in the office of the Accountant General, Bombay, prior to 16th July, 1931, have been confirmed in their posts ;

(d) whether there are officials in the Bombay Circle continuously officiating in the time-scale and the selection grade from a date prior to the 16th July, 1931, and, if so, the total number of such officials in the respective cadres ;

(e) if the reply to part (d) above be in the affirmative, why the confirmation is delayed in the case of Postal Department alone when the posts in the office of the Accountant General, Bombay, have been allowed to be filled in ;

(f) if the differential treatment referred to in part (e) above is due to retrenchment measures, and whether they are prepared to allow the confirmation of the persons concerned now, taking into consideration the abnormal delay of more than two years and in some cases even more than three years ;

(g) if the reply to part (f) be in the negative, the probable time when the question of their confirmation will be finally settled ; and whether they propose to cause the decision to be expedited ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) and (b). The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to parts (a) and (b) of Mr. N. M. Joshi's starred question No. 398 in this House on the 19th September, 1932.

(c) The Accountant General, Bombay, has been permitted to fill up substantively certain permanent vacancies in his office, subject to the condition that no persons not in service on the 15th July, 1931, are confirmed.

(d) Government have no precise information but the Honourable Member will notice from the reply referred to in the reply to parts (a) and (b) above that in the Bombay Circle all appointments since April, 1931, and certain appointments since June, 1930, have been made in an officiating capacity.

(e) The Honourable Member is referred to the reply given to part (d) of Mr. N. M. Joshi's question No. 398 mentioned above and to Sardar G. N. Majumdar's question No. 1225 in this House on the 15th November, 1932.

(f) and (g). Do not arise in view of my reply to part (e).

FILLING UP OF CERTAIN POSTAL APPOINTMENTS PERMANENTLY AT CERTAIN PLACES.

728. Mr. S. G. Jog : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether it is a fact that the gazetted appointments of Postmasters at Bombay, Poona, Madras, Karachi, etc., have recently been permanently filled up ;

(b) whether these appointments have been filled up as a result of the removal of the ban placed by the Government of India since the 16th July, 1931 ;

(c) whether the non-gazetted appointments in the lowest selection grade and the time-scale in the Post Offices have not yet been allowed to be filled up permanently ;

(d) the reasons for such differential treatment for the two classes of officials, viz., gazetted and non-gazetted of one and the same department ;

(e) whether the appointments of officers and the time-scale clerks in the office of the Accountant General, Bombay, have been allowed to be filled up permanently and that these officials hold substantive liens on these appointments ;

(f) whether the only condition imposed on the time-scale officials in the Accountant General's office is that they will have to accept new scales of pay, if and when introduced ; and

(g) whether they are prepared to ask the Director General, Posts and Telegraphs, to fill in the appointments in the Postal Department permanently on similar conditions ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) Yes.

(b) The ban referred to by the Honourable Member presumably is that contained in a Finance Department Resolution, dated the 9th July, 1931. The orders therein refer to persons who were not in Government service on the 15th July, 1931, and are still in force. They do not, however, apply to Postmasters holding the posts referred to in part (a) of the question all of whom were in Government service prior to July, 1931. These posts were permanently filled because there was no prospect of retrenchment in them. In this connection the Honourable Member's attention is invited to the first part of the reply given on the 15th November, 1932, to starred question No. 1225 by Sardar G. N. Majumdar.

(c) Yes. The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the second part of the reply to Sardar G. N. Majumdar's starred question just referred to.

(d) The presumption that all vacancies in the gazetted posts have been permanently filled up is not correct. Certain posts were filled up because there was no prospect of retrenchment as stated in reply to part (b) of the question. The Honourable Member is also referred to the reply to part (c) above. The question of differential treatment does not arise.

(e) The Accountant General has been permitted to fill up substantively certain permanent vacancies in his office, subject to the condition that no persons not in service on the 15th July, 1931, are confirmed.

(f) The condition is imposed on new entrants.

(g) In view of the reply to part (d) the reply is in the negative.

PREFERENCE TO ex-APPROVED CANDIDATES IN THE POSTAL DEPARTMENT IN MAKING APPOINTMENTS.

729. Mr. S. G. Jog : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) whether the Director General of Posts and Telegraphs has ordered that ex-approved candidates in the Postal Department shall get preference in making appointments from outside candidates in the Lower Division ;

(b) the number of such discharged approved candidates in the Rajkot Division, who have officiated in the years 1930 to 1933 ;

(c) whether it is a fact that these candidates put in about eight months to 18 months of officiating service before their discharge ;

(d) the number of outside candidates employed from 1st March, 1931, to 1st June, 1933, ignoring the claims of discharged candidates, and the number of discharged candidates who were re-employed in accordance with the Director General's orders about the preference for recruitment ; and

(e) if the said orders of the Director General have not been carried out, whether instructions are proposed to be issued to give effect to them as soon as possible ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : The reply to part (a) of the uestion is in the affirmative. As regards the rest of the question Govnment have no information nor do they consider it necessary to institute ecial enquiries, as if the claims to appointment of ex-approved candiates have been ignored in the Rajkot Division it is open to the individuals ncerned to represent the matter in the ordinary way.

POSTAL OFFICIALS OFFICIATING IN THE BOMBAY POSTAL CIRCLE.

730. Mr. S. G. Jog : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) the number of officials working in officiating capacity in the Bombay Circle in the time-scale, in the lower selection grade and in the higher selection grade, in the Postal Department ; and

(b) the number of officials officiating in clear vacancies in respective cadres who died without being confirmed in their posts between the 16th July, 1931, and the 1st of July, 1933 ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) and (b). Government are not in possession of the information asked for and I regret that it cannot readily be collected.

I may, however, inform the Honourable Member that in view of the probable necessity for effecting economies in the cadres to which the Honourable Member refers, all appointments to posts in these cadres have been made in an officiating capacity since the 17th April, 1931.

PERMISSION TO POSTAL RESERVE CLERKS TO APPEAR FOR CONFIRMATION EXAMINATION.

731. Mr. S. G. Jog : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether under the old orders the reserve clerks in the Postal Department were not allowed to appear for confirmation examination unless they had put in one year of service ?

(b) Are Government aware that in cases where telegraph training intervened, it was omitted and the reserve clerk was allowed to appear only when he put in 21 months of service ?

(c) Is it a fact that under the orders of the Director General, Posts and Telegraphs, issued on the 12th September, 1932, a reserve clerk can appear even in the first month of his appointment ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to state whether these orders have been made applicable retrospectively to the existing incumbents who were not, under the previous orders, permitted to appear at the examination before the completion of one year of their service ?

(e) Will Government be pleased to state whether the Director General has received any representations from the officials concerned and the Service Association ?

(f) If so, what is the number of such representations and the date of receipt of the earliest application ?

(g) If these representations have been delayed for over six months, are Government prepared to cause the decision to be expedited ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) Yes.

(b) The facts are substantially as stated by the Honourable Member.

(c) Not as a general rule, but in certain special circumstances the Head of a Postal Circle is empowered to allow a probationary clerk to sit for the examination any time before the completion of 12 months.

(d) Yes.

(e) The reply is in the negative if, as I gather, the Honourable Member refers to representations against the change in the order in respect of the examination of officials before the expiry of 12 months from the date of their appointments.

(f) and (g). Do not arise in view of the reply to part (e).

ABSENCE OF A DIRECT TRAIN BETWEEN DELHI AND LUCKNOW.

732. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Is it a fact that there is no direct train between Delhi and Lucknow ?

(b) Are Government aware that a Passenger Train was in existence from Allahabad to Delhi via Lucknow and Moradabad in the régime of the old Oudh and Rohilkund Railway and that it did afford a very great convenience to the travelling public ? If so, what led to its being discontinued ?

(c) Is it a fact that the people of Oudh have been clamouring for a very long time for this convenience being given to them ?

(d) Is it also a fact that the East Indian Railway authorities have always considered this fact only from the commercial point of view and not the convenience of the travelling public ?

(e) Are Government aware that the Imperial City of Delhi is connected by direct trains with all the important cities of India except Lucknow, which is not only the seat of the United Provinces Government but also a most important town in Upper India ?

(f) Do Government propose to consider the desirability of drawing the attention of the East Indian Railway authorities to this inconvenience to the public with a view to introducing a direct train between Delhi and Lucknow, or if that is not possible by diverting one of the three Expresses (at present running between Moghulsarai and Delhi) via Lucknow and Moradabad to Delhi ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) It is understood that before the amalgamation of the Oudh and Rohilkund and East Indian Railways a passenger train did run between Allahabad and Delhi via Lucknow and Moradabad, but it was discontinued when it was found that the number of passengers for Delhi was inadequate.

(c) Representations have been made from time to time for a through service between Lucknow and Delhi, and in response to such representations upper and lower class through carriages have been run experimentally on trains between Lucknow and Delhi. In the case of lower class, the continuance of through carriage was found by censuses to be unjustified. The upper class carriage still continues to run.

(d) The commercial point of view does not exclude consideration of the convenience of the travelling public.

(e) If my Honourable friend will tell me what he considers to be the important cities of India. I shall be in a position to give him a reply.

(f) The East Indian Railway authorities will, I have no doubt, bear this suggestion in mind in case circumstances justify it, but diverting one of the three Expresses as suggested by the Honourable gentleman will only result in inconvenience to some other section of the travelling public.

NON-RESERVATION OF A COMPARTMENT FOR LADIES IN THE LIGHT TRAINS RUNNING BETWEEN BAREILLY JUNCTION AND PILIBHIT ON THE ROHILKUND AND KUMAON RAILWAY.

733. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: (a) Are Government aware that there is no compartment reserved for the exclusive use of females in the Light trains running between Bareilly Junction and Pilibhit on the Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway?

(b) Are Government aware that it is laid down in section 64 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, that "every Railway Administration shall, in every train carrying passengers, reserve for the exclusive use of females one compartment at least of the lowest class of carriage forming part of the train"?

(c) If the replies to parts (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, what action do Government propose to take against the Railway Administration for this breach of the provisions of the Indian Railways Act?

(d) Do Government propose to bring this to the notice of the Agent, Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, with a view to provide at least a very small compartment for females in these trains?

Mr. P. R. Rau: I understand from the Agent, Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway, that Light trains Nos. 15 Up and 16 Down running between Bareilly and Pilibhit were originally run experimentally, and accordingly structural alterations were not made to provide a fully partitioned compartment for females, but boards reserving compartments for females were affixed to the stock. He reports further that before notice of this question was received, orders had been issued by him to provide a fully partitioned compartment for females.

TRAINING IN COMMERCIAL ENGINEERING IN AMERICA.

734. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether they are aware that in America special training in Commercial Engineering is imparted?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state if there is any Commercial Engineer employed in any of the workshops of the Indian State Railways?

Mr. P. R. Rau: (a) Government have no information.

(b) Not that I am aware of. So far as I know, an Engineer who specializes on the sales side of an Engineering firm is termed a Commercial Engineer. Railway workshops do not produce any articles for sale.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: May I take it that at present there is no such man in the workshop of any State Railway?

Mr. P. R. Rau: That is what I was endeavouring to convey.

COMMUNAL COMPOSITION OF GAZETTED STAFF ON THE MULTAN DIVISION OF THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

735. *Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad: (a) Is it a fact that the President, Muslim Railway Employees Association, addressed the Agent, North Western Railway, the Railway Board and the Railway Member on the subject of an enquiry into the state of affairs prevailing in the Multan Division of the North Western Railway?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, will Government be pleased to state whether the communal representation in different Divisions of the North Western Railway, as far as gazetted officers' ranks are concerned, is in such a way that in some Divisions all the gazetted officers are non-Muslims?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state the communal composition of the gazetted officers' ranks of the Multan Division of the North Western Railway?

(d) Do Government propose to arrange the posting of gazetted officers in such a way that any one community may not preponderate, as far as practicable, on any one Division of a Railway?

Mr. P. R. Rau: (a) Government have not received any such representation.

(b), (c) and (d). Government have no information as to the present communal composition of gazetted officers in the Multan or any other Division of the North Western Railway which must vary from time to time, and cannot accept the proposition that the posting of gazetted officers should be fixed on a communal basis.

ABSENCE OF ELECTED MEMBERS IN THE NEW DELHI MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

736. *Mr. S. G. Jog: (a) Is it a fact that the municipal committee, New Delhi, has not got a single elected municipal commissioner?

(b) If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, why is the New Delhi public denied the right of representation in the municipal committee as any public elsewhere in British India?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai: With your permission, Sir, I shall answer questions Nos. 736 and 738 together. New Delhi has a municipal committee, in which non-official members are included. For the reasons explained in the reply given to part (c) of Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh's starred question No. 67 on the 6th September, 1932, Government representatives are in a majority.

EDUCATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS OF NON-OFFICIAL NOMINATED MEMBERS OF THE NEW DELHI MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

737. *Mr. S. G. Jog: (a) Will Government please state the educational qualifications of the few non-official nominated members of the New Delhi municipal committee? Is it a fact that amongst those members there are some who are illiterate or very poorly educated?

(b) If so, how do they discharge their responsibilities as municipal commissioners?

(c) Are Government aware that the New Delhi public is represented by men more than 98 per cent. of whom are highly educated?

M. G. S. Bajpai: (a) I lay on the table a statement which gives the information asked for in the first part of the Honourable Member's question. The answer to the second part is in the negative.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) I regret that I have been unable to follow the Honourable Member's question.

Statement showing the educational qualifications of the non-official nominated members of the New Delhi Municipal Committee.

1. Mr. C. G. Blomfield, F.R.I.B.A., F.S.I., Architect.
2. Sardar Bahadur Sobha Singh—Read up to F. A.
3. L. Jagdish Pershad—Read up to Matric Standard.
4. Khan Sahib Akbar Ali—Possesses the ability of a Munshi Fazil.

EXTENSION OF THE PRIVILEGES OF THE LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT TO NEW DELHI PUBLIC.

†738. Mr. S. G. Jog : (a) Why do Government not extend the proper privileges of the local self-government to the New Delhi public ?

(b) Do Government propose to arrange for the adequate representation of the public in the New Delhi municipal committee through proper elections ?

SHOPS ON BAIRD ROAD, NEW DELHI.

739. Mr. S. G. Jog : (a) Is it a fact that the Delhi Government possess a number of shops on Baird Road, New Delhi, which are being managed through the New Delhi municipal committee and that practically all of them are lying vacant for the last year or so ?

(b) Are Government aware that all the shopkeepers who were doing business there for the last so many years have shifted to other private shops in the same locality ?

(c) Have Government enquired what led them to vacate the Government shops ?

(d) Is it a fact that they sent a number of representations to the municipal committee before vacating the shops ? If so, will Government please state what their grievances were and why no heed was paid to them ?

(e) Is it a fact that the municipal committee officials disconnected electric points in those shops ? Will Government please state why these points were disconnected ? Were these points in existence for the last several years and are all the shops separately metered ?

(f) If the facts mentioned in part (e) be true, taking into consideration the great financial loss to the municipal committee, are Government prepared to see that the grievances of the present occupants of Government shops are redressed and the rent of shops adequately reduced to attract new businessmen to occupy those shops ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) In 1925 Government transferred ten shops on the Baird Road, New Delhi, to the New Delhi Municipal Committee, and since then, they are being managed by the Municipality. All the shops were occupied up to the 31st October, 1932.

†For answer to this question, see answer to question No. 735.

(b) and (c). As a result of the construction of some private shops on the Baird Road which provide better and cheaper accommodation, seven Municipal shops were vacated on or after the 31st October, 1932. Two of these seven shops have again been occupied and it is hoped before the winter season sets in all the shops will be rented.

(d) The shop-keepers made representations for reduction of rent on account of slump in the market. Previous to the 1st October, 1932, the rent of each shop used to be Rs. 68-8-0 per mensem less 20 per cent, if paid before the 10th of each month, but from that date it was reduced to Rs. 55 per mensem less 10 per cent. if paid by the fixed date. With effect from the 1st June, 1933, the rent of each shop was further reduced to Rs. 45 per mensem less 10 per cent. if paid by the fixed date.

(e) Each shop has a separate water and electric meter. The illegal and unauthorised extensions of electric points made by some of the shop-keepers were removed by the Electrical Engineer but there was no forcible disconnection.

(f) I would invite the Honourable Member's attention to the answer I have given to part (d) of this question.

PURCHASE OF PETROL BY THE NEW DELHI MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

740. Mr. S. G. Jog : (a) Is it a fact that the New Delhi municipal committee purchases all its supply of petrol for Health Department lorries from a certain municipal commissioner ?

(b) Did they call for tenders before giving the contract to the municipal commissioner ? If not, why not ?

(c) Are Government aware that the supply of petrol can be had at cheaper rates from other petrol dealers ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Enquiries have been made and the information will be furnished to the House in due course.

INEQUALITY IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF HIGHER POSTS IN THE RAILWAY CLEARING ACCOUNTS OFFICE.

741. Mr. B. N. Misra : (a) Is it a fact that in the Railway Clearing Accounts Office the staff transferred from the North Western Railway are having a lion's share in the upper grade posts at the cost of the staff transferred from other Railways, and, if so, will Government be pleased to state the reasons for the same ?

(b) Are Government aware that this inequality in the distribution of higher posts was clearly brought to the notice of the committee appointed by the Railway Board to fix the seniority of the staff of the Railway Clearing Accounts Office, and that committee recommended that in the case of future promotions, at least, special consideration should be given to the non-North Western Railway men, even if these men are not technically the seniormost ?

(c) Will Government be pleased to state whether any action has been taken on the above recommendation and if not, why not ?

(d) Will Government be pleased to lay on the table a comparative statement showing the position of all sub-heads and class I clerks transferred from the railways as on 1st April, 1929, when the office was made permanent, and at present ?

(e) Are Government prepared to take any action that may be necessary to see that the above inequality is set right in future ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I am making enquiries and shall lay a reply on the table in due course.

†742.*

TROUBLES IN MALDIV ISLANDS.

743. Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : (a) Will Government be pleased to make a statement about the trouble in Maldiv ?

(b) Is it a fact that martial law has been proclaimed in the Maldiv Islands as the result of trouble between the Maldivian Government and the Borah trading community ?

(c) How many Indians have been deported by the Maldivian Government ?

(d) What steps have been taken by Government to help the Indians ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Government have no information, but are making enquiries.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Have Government seen long articles in the papers about this matter ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : The position is that Government's attention has been drawn to these disturbances only from reports in newspapers. They have had no direct communication with the Maldivian Government which happens to be under the protection of the Government of Ceylon. The only thing we could do was to communicate with the Government of Ceylon and ask for a report which has not yet been received.

TICKET CHECKING SCHEMES ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

744. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Is it a fact that prior to the abolition of the Travelling Ticket Examiners cadre there were two classes of staff designated as Travelling Ticket Examiners and Special Ticket Examiner (Flying Squads) employed on the North Western Railway for checking tickets in trains and at stations ?

(b) If so, is it true that Travelling Ticket Examiners scheme was a permanent one, whereas Special Ticket Examiners scheme introduced in 1926 was a trial ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) No scheme of ticket checking can be considered permanent and not liable to change as circumstances necessitate. I am not sure when the Special Ticket Examiners scheme was introduced, but if my Honourable friend's information is correct it shows that having survived for seven years it has ceased to be an experiment.

†This question was disallowed by the Honourable the President under rule 7 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

ORGANIZATION AND CONTROL OF TRAVELLING TICKET EXAMINERS ON THE NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

745. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Is it a fact that Travelling Ticket Examiners were formerly under Audit, but in 1928 were transferred to Traffic under Divisional Commercial Officers ?

(b) If so, is it a fact that the Administration placed both the Travelling Ticket Examiners and Special Ticket Examiners under the supervision of one Incharge, and consequently reverted all temporary Head Special Ticket Examiners, then designated as Inspectors, Flying Squads, in all the Divisions with the exception of Multan Division ?

(c) Is it a fact that in the Multan Division Sardar Bhagat Singh, a retired military pensioner and a permanent watch and ward Inspector on Rs. 140 p. m., was retained on Rs. 140 plus Rs. 110, whereas Messrs. Midford, Bhagat Ram, Z. A. Chistty, Ajwani and Handerson were reverted ? If so, why ?

(d) Will Government please state the reasons for the retention of two Head Special Ticket Examiners in the Multan Division ? Is it a fact that in that Division the number of Special Ticket Examiners is less than in Delhi, or Lahore, or Rawalpindi or Karachi, and that in the Delhi Division, the strength was 40 Special Ticket Examiners, and the Head Special Ticket Examiner, has been in the grade of Rs. 150—10—190 ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Presumably my Honourable friend is referring to the North Western Railway. If so, the statement is correct.

(b), (c) and (d). Government have no information. These matters are entirely within the competence of the Agent to whom a copy of these questions has been sent.

REDUCTION OF THE GRADE OF HEAD SPECIAL TICKET EXAMINER AT FEROZEPORE, NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY.

746. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Is it a fact that the post of Head Special Ticket Examiners, grade V, at Ferozepore, North Western Railway, was reduced to grade IV as an economical measure ?

(b) Is it a fact that grade V has again been sanctioned ? If so, why ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information.

EXTENSIONS GIVEN TO OFFICIALS WITH THIRTY YEARS' SERVICE IN THE PUNJAB POSTAL CIRCLE OFFICE.

747. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) Is it a fact that selection grade as well as time-scale officials with thirty years' qualifying service have been ordered to be sent on pension under the retrenchment scheme ?

(b) Is it a fact that in the Punjab Postal Circle Office extensions of service are being granted to officials in selection grade, irrespective of these orders ?

(c) If so, what steps do Government propose to take to stop this procedure ?

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : (a) No such absolute order has been issued, but the retrenchment of officials of over thirty years service is permissible.

(b) and (c). Government have no precise information. The Honourable Member is, however, referred to the reply given to Mr. P. G. Reddi's starred question No. 767 in this House on the 26th September, 1932.

SELECTION OF SPECIAL CLASS APPRENTICES FOR THE SUPERIOR REVENUE ESTABLISHMENT OF STATE RAILWAYS.

748. Shaikh Sadiq Hasan : (a) How many Muslims have been selected each year as Special Class apprentices by the Public Services Commission for the Superior Revenue Establishment of the Indian State Railways since the recruitment started in 1927 ? And what was the total number of admissions ?

(b) What is the total number of these apprentices under training in England and how many of them are Muslims ?

(c) What is the total number of the apprentices at present at Jamalpur, and how many of them are Muslims ?

(d) What is the total number of officers of the Superior Revenue Establishment of the Indian State Railways, in each of the transportation and power mechanical lines, and how many of them are Muslims ?

(e) What measures do Government propose to adopt to remove this old-standing grievance of the Muslim community regarding their paucity in the Superior Railway Services ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) The total number of apprentices selected has been 60, of whom 33 are Hindus, 11 Muslims, nine Anglo-Indians, three Indian Christians and four belong to other communities.

(b) The first batch, consisting of one Hindu, one Muslim, one Anglo-Indian and one Indian Christian, has completed training in the United Kingdom and been appointed to the service. There are 17 apprentices under training at present ; of these, 10 are Hindus, four are Muslims, eight Indian Christians and one belongs to other communities. In addition, three have been granted scholarships as a special case. Of these two happen to be Hindus and one Muslim.

(c) The total number of apprentices at present at Jamalpur is 37, of whom 17 are Hindus, three Muslims, five Anglo-Indians and two belong to other communities.

(d) I would refer my Honourable friend to Appendix F of Volume I of Report by the Railway Board on Indian Railways for 1931-32.

(e) Government have in making selections followed the policy of reserving one-third of the vacancies for recruitment from among the minority communities.

TOTAL VALUE OF IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF INDIA.

749. Lala Rameshwar Prasad Bagla : (a) Will Government please state the total value of imports and exports of India for the year 1932-33 ? Will Government please exclude from the export figures the value of gold and silver exported during the period ?

(b) Are Government aware that there has been a continuous fall in the value of total exports and an increase in the total imports of India ?

(c) Will Government please state what action, if any, they have taken, or propose to take, in order to increase the exports and decrease the imports ?

(d) If Government have taken any action in this connection, will they please inform this House to what degree their efforts have been successful ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) The Honourable Member is referred to the Accounts relating to the Seaborne Trade and Navigation of British India for March, 1933, a copy of which is in the Library.

(b) No.

(c) and (d). The necessity for any specific action has not arisen.

SALE OF SILVER TO GREAT BRITAIN.

750. Lala Rameshwar Prasad Bagla : (a) Are Government aware that there has been great resentment amongst the public in general and the commercial community in particular in regard to their attitude in the matter of recent sale of silver to Great Britain ?

(b) Is it a fact that America has accepted the payment from Great Britain of 10 million dollars in silver at 50 cents per ounce in respect of War Debt ?

(c) Is it a fact that Government sold silver to Great Britain at 32.5 cents per ounce when the market value of silver was 36.5 cents per ounce ?

(d) Do Government realise that they have put India to a heavy loss by the above transaction ?

(e) Are Government aware that Great Britain has gained 17.5 cents per ounce at the expense of India ?

(f) Will Government please state if they knew that the object of America in fixing the price of silver at 50 cents per ounce was simply to raise the price of silver ?

(g) Is it a fact that Government actually stood in the way of a rise in the price of silver ?

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : For general information on this question the attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the replies given to starred question No. 89 asked by Seth Haji Abdoola Haroon on the 28th of August and supplementary questions thereto.

I would supplement this with the following answers to specific parts of the question :

(a), (c), (d), (e) and (g). No.

(b) Yes.

(f) This is a matter of opinion.

INTRODUCTION OF INTERMEDIATE CLASS ACCOMMODATION ON THE SOUTH INDIAN RAILWAY.

751. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether :

(i) the Mangalore and Palghat Municipalities urged on the South Indian Railway to introduce intermediate class accommodation on the broad gauge ;

(ii) the Local Advisory Committee also recommended and pressed for the same ;

(iii) they are aware that the public have been agitating for a number of years for its introduction ; and

(iv) the Railway has refused to comply with this popular demand ?

(b) Are Government prepared to direct the South Indian Railway authorities to introduce intermediate class accommodation on the broad gauge ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : I am making enquiries from the South Indian Railway Administration and shall lay a reply on the table in due course.

PROVISION OF FANS IN THIRD CLASS CARRIAGES ON RAILWAYS.

752. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) if they have circularised all Railways on the question of providing fans in third class carriages ;

(b) what replies were received from the various Administrations ;

(c) what further action they propose to take in the matter ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) None. The cost is prohibitive.

Mr. K. P. Thampan : Have they tried it in any of the Railways ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : No, Sir ; the cost is prohibitive.

INCREASE OF FREE LUGGAGE ALLOWANCE ON HILL SECTIONS.

753. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Will Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that :

(i) the free luggage allowance on hill sections (like the Nilgiris section) used to be half of that on the plains ;

(ii) although the free allowance of luggage has been recently raised on the plains, it has not been correspondingly raised on the hills ?

(b) Do Government propose to direct that the free allowance on hills be correspondingly raised ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) The free luggage allowance on hill sections is not uniform. On the Nilgiris section it has not been changed recently ; it has been 15 and 7½ seers for upper and lower classes, respectively, for some time. On the Kalka Simla section, I understand, the free allowance is the same as in the plains, and was raised in December, 1929, along with the free allowance in the plains.

(b) I am forwarding a copy of this question to the Agent of the South Indian Railway, for considering the suggestion made.

DISCHARGE OF MADRAS AND SOUTHERN MAHRATTA RAILWAY EMPLOYEES CONSIDERED MEDICALLY UNFIT FOR ONE CLASS OR GROUP.

754. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether, with reference to the answer to my starred question No. 606 of 2nd March, 1933, they have since heard from the Agent of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway on the subject of the discharge of employees considered medically unfit for one class or group and whether they can make a statement regarding it now ?

(b) Are Government prepared to direct that employees should not be discharged in contravention of the Railway Board's orders on the subject ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Government obtained a report from the Agent of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway on the particular case referred to by the Honourable Member, and after examining all the circumstances saw no reason to interfere with the discretion of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway, which is a Company-managed Railway, in dealing with its own servants.

(b) As I have informed my Honourable friend in reply to his question No. 1222 of the 1st November, 1932, the principle of the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Labour was in conformity with orders already in force. Government have already instructed State-managed Railways and invited Company-managed Railways to continue to follow that principle. They do not consider any further action is necessary.

ARTICLE ENTITLED "MONSTROUS" IN THE Indian Railway Magazine.

755. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the article entitled "Monstrous" at page 128 of the Indian Railway Magazine in its issue of May, 1933 ?

(b) Have Government taken any action against the Bengal and North Western Railway Administration under section 93 of the Railways Act ? If not, why not ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) I have called for information from the Bengal and North Western Railway in regard to the allegations made in the article in question, and will lay a reply on the table in due course.

REDUCTION OF FREIGHT RATES ON INDIAN RAILWAYS.

756. *Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the article entitled 'Killing freight charges' at page 131 of the Indian Railway Magazine in its issue for May, 1933 ?

(b) Are Government prepared to consider the question of a general reduction of freight rates through the Railway Rates Advisory Committee ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) Yes.

(b) Railway Administrations have been examining individually local rates with the object of improving their earnings, and have in many cases quoted reduced rates where it appeared likely to result in improved traffic. Government consider that, in view of the present financial position of Railways, this is a particularly inopportune moment for embarking on a general revision.

POST OF PERSONNEL OFFICER ON THE MADRAS AND SOUTHERN MAHRATTA RAILWAY.

757. Mr. K. P. Thampan : (a) Will Government be pleased to state whether, with reference to the answer to my starred question No. 607 of 2nd March, 1933, it is proposed to continue or abolish the post of Personnel Officer on the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway ?

(b) Will Government be pleased to state if there has been a single case during the last three years where the Personnel Officer has interfered with the decision of the Chief Transportation Superintendent ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : (a) The post is still on a temporary basis, and its duration has since been extended till the 31st March, 1934. If it is decided to continue it thereafter, and to make it permanent, the matter will be placed before the Standing Finance Committee for Railways.

(b) Government have no information.

DISCHARGE OF MR. G. KRISHNAMURTHI, GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE MADRAS AND SOUTHERN MAHRATTA RAILWAY EMPLOYEES' UNION.

758. Mr. K. P. Thampan : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) If it is a fact that Mr. G. Krishnamurthi, the General Secretary of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Employees' Union was discharged by that Railway Administration on the sole ground that no employee should be the Secretary of the Union ;

(b) whether they approve of the principle involved in part (a) above ? If not, whether they are prepared to direct the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway authorities to reinstate Mr. G. Krishnamurthi ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : The matter is under examination and I am unable to say anything at present.

DISCHARGE OF EMPLOYEES OF THE MADRAS AND SOUTHERN MAHRATTA RAILWAY.

759. Mr. K. P. Thampan : Will Government be pleased to state :

(a) how many employees of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway were discharged on grounds other than retrenchment in the years 1931 and 1932 ;

(b) how many of them had put in service of more than 10 years ;

(c) how many appeals addressed to the Agent against orders of discharge were received in 1931 and 1932 and in how many cases were the appeals successful ;

(d) whether they are aware that there is a considerable volume of feeling that there is no security of service on the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway ?

Mr. P. R. Rau : Government have no information.

PLAYING CARDS IMPORTED INTO BRITISH INDIA FROM JAPAN.

760. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Are Government aware that the value of playing cards imported into British India from Japan during the last three years has been as under :

	Rs.
1930-31	20,025
1931-32	28,219
1932-33	2,53,413
April to June, 1933	90,268

showing that the import for the present year, if continued at the present rate, will be somewhere in the neighbourhood of Rs. 4,00,000 ?

(b) Have Government looked into the question how it is possible for Japan to under-sell in this line in the Indian market ?

(c) Do Government propose to take any steps under the Safeguarding of Industries Act to avert this danger ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : (a) Yes.

(b) and (c). Government have received representations from certain playing card manufacturers in India ascribing the low price of Japanese playing cards imported into India to the depreciation of the Yen and asking inter alia for protection under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1933. These representations are now receiving consideration.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : May I know if this question will also be discussed by the forthcoming Conference with the Japanese delegation ?

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : Sir, all relevant matters will certainly be considered at the Conference, and certainly the case of all industries which have asked Government to take action will be borne in mind during the course of those negotiations.

INCREASE IN THE IMPORT OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

761. Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : (a) Are Government aware that the import of fruit and vegetables from foreign countries has increased very considerably of late ?

(b) Are Government aware that the imports of fruits and vegetables from Japan have grown as under ?

Fruits and vegetables from Japan.

	Rs.
1928-29	22,632
1929-30	30,129
1930-31	40,225
1931-32	51,034

(c) Are Government aware that imports from the United States of America during the same period have increased as follows ?

Fruits and vegetables from the U. S. A.

	Rs.
1928-29	8,793
1929-30	56,202
1930-31	2,75,097
1931-32	4,95,010

(d) Are Government aware that this import of fruits and vegetables has seriously crippled the fruit industry in this country in general and Kulu fruit industry in particular ?

(e) Are Government aware that, before Kulu fruit can reach rail-head, it has to traverse a long distance by road and has to pay tolls to the Mandi State and then postal charges for reaching ports and other stations ?

(f) Do Government propose to take steps to prevent the ruin of the Indian industry ?

(g) Are Government aware that postal charges form a considerable part of the price of fruit parcels sent outside Kulu and the recent increase in postal rates has hit the industry hard ?

(h) Do Government propose to keep the protection of this industry in view when the question of a trade agreement with Japan is being examined at the forthcoming conference ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : (a) No. On the other hand, the total value of fruits and vegetables imported into India decreased from Rs. 183 lakhs in 1929-30 to Rs. 134 lakhs in 1931-32.

(b) Yes.

(c) The figures quoted by the Honourable Member relate to fresh fruits and vegetables only.

(d), (f) and (h). Government have no figures showing the amount of fruit produced in India and are, therefore, unable to say how the local fruit industry has been affected by the increased imports from Japan and the United States of America. Imports from Japan and the United States of America already pay an ad valorem duty of 30 per cent.

A representation has been received recently from the Punjab Chamber of Commerce for protection to the fruit industry under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1933, and is being considered.

(e) Yes.

(g) Parcel postage rates were increased in 1931, but the charge for a parcel weighing six seers or more remained unaltered. The fruit industry in Kulu could, therefore, hardly be said to have been hit hard by the revised schedule.

Mr. E. Studd : Is it not a fact, Sir, that the majority of this foreign fruit reaches the ports of India at a time when fruit from Kulu is not available in those places ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I do not think that that is true of all imports of fruit. It certainly is true of fruit which comes from Australia and South Africa which, being on the other side of the equator, have a different season for particular varieties of fruit.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : Is it not a fact, Sir, that the foreign fruit is competing with Kulu fruit which has lost ground in the ports of India ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I would remind my Honourable friend of what I said in my reply that Government have no figures showing the amount of fruit produced in India, and are, therefore, unable to say how the local fruit industry has been affected by these imports.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Will the Honourable Member be pleased to obtain these figures ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : So far as I know, these figures do not exist.

Mr. Jagan Nath Aggarwal : May I inform the Honourable Member that, as a result of the large increase in the import of foreign fruit and also on account of the increase in postal rates, the Kulu fruit industry has been practically killed ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : May I also remind the Honourable Member that I stated in my reply that a representation has been received from the Punjab Chamber of Commerce on the subject, and it is being considered ?

Mr. Vidya Sagar Pandya : Are Government aware that as a result of the large import of foreign preserved fruit, the Government Jam Factory at Coonnoor had to be closed down ?

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : I am afraid, Sir, I have no information about the Coonnoor Jam Factory. It is not a Government of India concern.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

FORFEITURE BY GOVERNMENT OF THE Free Press Journal DEPOSIT.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. I have received a notice from Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil that he proposes to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House today for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance as follows :

" The forfeiture under the Press Act of Rs. 10,000 out of a deposit of Rs. 20,000 deposited with the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Bombay, by the Free Press Journal as security by the Government of Bombay on the ground of publication of two articles :

1. " Freedom for Asia—cure for the world's ills ", dated 9th July, 1933 ; and
2. " From the Watch Tower ", dated 5th August, 1933 ".

Before I inquire whether any Honourable Member has any objection to the making of this motion, I must know from the Honourable the Mover under what law this forfeiture has been made.

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil (Bombay Southern Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, my information is that the action taken by the Government of Bombay is under the Press Act, being Act No. XXIII of 1931, as amended by another Act of 1932.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Does the Act, XXIII of 1931, contain any provision enabling the aggrieved party to refer to the High Court, and has the High Court power to redress the grievance after making an enquiry?

[Mr. President.]

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil : I have got the Act in my hand. I feel that section 23 of that Act.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The attention of the Chair has been drawn to section 23 of the Act referred to by the Honourable the Mover under which this forfeiture has been made by the Bombay Government. According to section 23, the aggrieved party—

"may, within two months from the date of such order, apply to the High Court for the local area in which such order was made, to set aside such order, and the High Court shall decide if the newspaper, book or other document in respect of which the order was made did or did not contain any words, signs or visible representations of the nature described in section 4, sub-section (1)."

That clearly provides for a sort of appeal to the High Court, and has the Honourable Member anything to say against the contention that in the light of section 23 this matter is to be considered as sub judice ?

Rao Bahadur B. L. Patil : Section 23 gives a right to the person affected, but here the object of my motion is to discuss the policy of the Government. I contend that the action taken by the Bombay Government involves a policy. That policy is the action of the exeeutive in preference to judicial process. In my opinion, Government can proceed under the ordinary law of the country, namely, the Indian Penal Code. This plenipotentiary power to the executive was invested by this Legislature expressly on one ground, and that was the prevalence of the Civil Disobedience Movement in this country last year. Even at the time when the Press (Emergency Powers) Act was passed, we were assured that Government would not make it a cloak to suppress the liberties of the Press, but would only use it wherever it was necessary to do so. Soon after, the Ordinances followed, and Ordinance No. X of 1932 gave immense powers to the executive, and after that, immediately followed the Criminal Law Amendment Act which contains the very stringent provisions of the Ordinances. Now, as the Civil Disobedience Movement has, even according to the opinion of Government themselves, died away, I submit that the necessity has passed away, and, therefore, it is necessary for this House to consider whether Government are justified in pursuing the same policy, which I may call the repressive policy, of curtailing the liberties of the Press. Freedom of the Press is freedom of the people.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. The Chair understands that the Honourable Member wants to discuss not the individual case of the forfeiture referred to in his notice, but the policy of the Government involved in that forfeiture. So far as the individual case is concerned, in the light of section 23 of Act XXIII of 1931, since the matter is appealable, it must be considered as sub judice and, as such, cannot be discussed in this House.

With regard to the request of the Honourable Member to discuss the policy of the Government, I am afraid the Chair cannot allow an adjournment motion on that point. The Bombay Government was administering an ordinary law of the land, and the policy of the Local Government or the Central Government, in administering a law of the land, is not a matter of urgency within the meaning of the rules, and as such, the motion is not in order.

THE MURSHIDABAD ESTATE ADMINISTRATION BILL.

PRESENTATION OF THE REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

Mr. B. J. Glancy (Political Secretary) : Sir, I beg to present the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Manager on behalf of the Secretary of State of the properties of the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad and to define the powers and duties of the Manager.

STATEMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1625, asked by Pandit Ram Krishan Jha, on the 12th December, 1932.

COST INCURRED BY GOVERNMENT ON THE HAULAGE, TRAVELLING AND OTHER ALLOWANCES FOR THE NOMINATED MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Statement.

*1625.

Year.	Delhi Session.	Simla Session.	June Session.	November Session.
	Rs. A.	Rs. A.	Rs. A.	Rs. A.
1921	42,173 8	28,056 7	..	..
1922	54,865 2	24,521 8	..	..
1923	48,051 11	24,917 1	..	..
1924	45,316 10	23,684 2	16,976 13	..
1925	52,407 1	27,153 2	..	..
1926	50,708 10	19,335 14	..	..
1927	49,703 3	24,483 4	..	..
1928	41,767 15	19,478 10	..	..
1929	48,324 5	19,224 7	..	..
1930	45,396 13	16,043 13	..	..
1931	47,100 6	25,160 6	..	20,418 5
1932	51,602 12	24,522 10	..	33,062 9

Figures collected from the travelling allowance bills as far as available.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig (Home Member) : Sir, I lay on the table :

(i) the information promised in reply to starred question No. 925 asked by Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad on the 27th March, 1933 ; and (ii) the information promised in reply to a supplementary question to short notice question asked by Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad on the 22nd August, 1933.

ALLEGATIONS IN REGARD TO PUNISHMENTS, ETC., METED OUT TO POLITICAL PRISONERS IN THE HARIPUR CENTRAL JAIL.

*925. (a) Yes.

(b) and (c). The Honourable Member is referred to the discussion which took place in the North West Frontier Province Legislative Council on March 20, 1933, on the "Grant for Jails and Convict Settlements" and also to the Report of the District Magistrate published in a Gazette Extraordinary issued by the Government of the North West Frontier Province on March 13, 1933.

MR. GANDHI'S FAST.

A copy of the Press communiqué issued by the Government of India on the 18th August, 1933, is laid on the table.

Communiqué, dated the 18th August, 1933.

After his arrest on the 1st August, at Ahmedabad Mr. Gandhi addressed a letter to the Superintendent of the Ahmedabad Central Prison in which he made the following request : "You might know that before my discharge, owing to my fast, from the Yervada Central Prison in May last, I was permitted to do Harijan work and thereanent to see freely visitors and equally freely to receive and send letters, to have a typist and to receive newspapers, magazines and other literature. I hope that I would be given the same facilities now. I may state that a weekly newspaper called "Harijan" is issued at Poona and it is necessary for me to send matter for the paper and otherwise instruct the Editor." On the 4th August, after his re-arrest at Poona consequent upon his refusal to obey the order served upon him, Mr. Gandhi repeated this request, remarking that Harijan work could not be interrupted except at the peril of his life, and asked for a reply by Monday the 7th August. He was informed that the matter was under consideration, but that it was impossible for a decision to be reached by the date specified. Subsequently, on the 8th and 10th August, he addressed reminders to Government.

On the 14th August, Mr. Gandhi forwarded the following letter to the Government of Bombay, "It is now noon of Monday and I am yet without an answer to my request for resumption of Harijan work on the same terms as before my fast. This request was first conveyed on the 1st instant from the Central Prison, Ahmedabad, and has since been thrice repeated. The strain of deprivation of this work is becoming unbearable. If therefore I cannot have permission by noon next Wednesday I must deny myself all nourishment from that time, save water and salt. That is the only way I can fulfil my vow and also relieve myself somewhat of the strain mentioned above. I do not want the suspension of nourishment in any way to act as pressure on Government. Life ceases to interest me if I may not do Harijan service without let or hindrance. As I have made it clear in my previous correspondence, and as the Government of India has admitted, permission to render that service is implied in the Yervada Pact to which the British Government is a consenting party in so far as its consent was necessary. Therefore I do indeed want the permission, but only if Government believe that justice demands it, and not because I propose to deprive myself of food, if it is not granted. That deprivation is intended purely for my consolation."

On the 16th August Mr. Gandhi was informed that it had been decided that he would be granted the following special facilities for purposes of work strictly confined to anti-untouchability. (1) To receive newspapers and periodicals, but not to be allowed interviews for publication in the press whether with press correspondents or others ; (2) to see not more than two visitors a day ; (3) to send instructions or contributions to the Editor of the "Harijan" three times a week, and a limited number of letters to other correspondents, and (4) to have at his disposal a convict typist and books, newspapers, etc., needed for Harijan work.

On this decision being communicated to him, Mr. Gandhi at first indicated that he would not fast. Later, however, he addressed the following letter to the Bombay Government. "I see that I have hastily and stupidly told you to restore goats to me. It shows how disinclined I am to starve. But on reading the notes of the orders you have left with me they are so far short of the original orders of the Government of India and of my requirements that I must not be precipitate in breaking my fast. If the Government wish to go back upon those orders I shall be sorry, but I may not work under the new orders, which are a manifest departure from the original and which seem to me to be grudgingly given. I observe that you cannot even let me have letters already in your possession and to hand manuscript to the acting Editor for this week's 'Harijan'. It pains me to have to write this letter, but it will give me much greater pain if I break the fast now and have to enter upon prolonged controversy with Government on many matters that need elucidation. I miss Government's response to meticulous care with which I am endeavouring to observe jail discipline and as prisoner tender co-operation which as a citizen outside prison walls I consider it a religious duty to withhold. I have read your notes three times and each reading has increased my grief to discover that Government cannot appreciate the desperate need there is for me to do Harijan work without let or hindrance. Much therefore as I am disinclined to continue the fast I feel I must go through the agony if I cannot serve the Harijan cause without the tremendous handicap which it seems to me the orders conveyed by you put upon it. Will you therefore please withdraw milk and fruit already received by me and accept my apology for having hurriedly told you that I would break the fast."

It has been explained to Mr. Gandhi that the orders permitted him to interview the Editor of the 'Harijan' as one of his daily visitors and to hand him his manuscript, and that letters so far as they dealt with Harijan matters would be delivered to Mr. Gandhi.

Government are not aware what Mr. Gandhi means by saying that they have admitted that permission to do Harijan work in prison is implied in the Yeravda Pact, though it is true that in the exceptional circumstances prevailing immediately after that Pact the Government did permit Mr. Gandhi as a State prisoner to inaugurate the movement to which he appeared to be devoting his whole attention. Protests were made at the time on behalf of the orthodox Hindu community, who did not agree with Mr. Gandhi's policy in this matter, against his being allowed facilities to conduct a public campaign from jail, and it might well be argued that Mr. Gandhi, having now after a period of freedom, courted imprisonment again on a purely political issue, should not be allowed any special treatment that is not given to other A class prisoners. Nevertheless the Government have been reluctant to take action which could be regarded as unreasonable interference with a work of social reform or to take their stand too rigidly on the fact that Mr. Gandhi is by his own deliberate act a prisoner convicted for a breach of the law. In spite of the inconvenience to jail discipline and the anomaly of the position they have allowed Mr. Gandhi facilities for pursuing his work on anti-untouchability which enable him to make an important and effective contribution towards it. It was noticeable that when Mr. Gandhi was at liberty he did not appear to devote the major part of his time or attention to this movement. His main energies were employed on politics and on the continuance in whatever form might be possible of the movement of civil disobedience. His present claim that he should be allowed from prison to carry on his Harijan work "without let or hindrance" amounts to a refusal to accept for himself the normal concomitants of imprisonment, except restriction on his actual physical liberty, and in effect is a claim to dictate the terms of his imprisonment.

The Government are satisfied that the facilities they have allowed are ample to enable Mr. Gandhi to conduct such work in favour of the removal of untouchability as is in the circumstances reasonable. If Mr. Gandhi now feels however that life ceases to interest him if he may not do Harijan service without let or hindrance, the Government are prepared, provided Mr. Gandhi is willing to abandon all civil disobedience activities and incitements, to set him at liberty at once so that he can devote himself wholly and without restriction to the cause of social reform. Mr. Gandhi has been informed accordingly.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : Sir, I lay on the table :

(i) the information promised in reply to parts (c) and (d) of starred question No. 1414 asked by Mr. J. Ramsay Scott on the 23rd November, 1932 ; and (ii) the information promised in reply to unstarred question No. 90 asked by Mr. N. M. Joshi on the 13th March, 1933.

PREFERENCE TO GOODS MANUFACTURED IN INDIA.

*1414. Orders for the woollen goods referred to in my reply to part (a) of the question were placed through the India Store Department, London, owing almost entirely to the fact that goods of the requisite quality were not manufactured in India.

NUMBER OF OVERSEERS AND POSTMEN, ETC., IN EACH POSTAL CIRCLE.

90. (a) The information is furnished below :

1	2	3	4	5
Category.	Number on the 31st January 1931.	Number on the 31st January 1933.	Number abolished from 1st February 1931 to 31st January 1933.	Number converted from 1st February 1931 to 31st January 1933.
(i) Departmental Branch post offices	1,346	746	9	591
(ii) Mail Overseers	884	785	99	..
(iii) Overseer Postmen ..	183	150	15	18
(iv) Head Postmen	400	336	31	33
(v) Reader and Sorting Postmen	377	352	22	3

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes, in the majority of cases.

(d) As regards the first part, the reasons generally were the re-adjustments of staff necessitated by (a) the heavy fall in traffic ; (b) diversion of mail lines : (c) replacement of runners' lines by tonga and motor services ; (d) extension of the system of treasury contracts.

In regard to the second part, duties previously discharged by certain classes of official may in consequence of the changes now be discharged by officials of lower status. There is no rule against this.

(e) (i) It is not a fact that prior to 1931 the posts referred to by the Honourable Member were reserved solely for the promotion of postmen as certain classes of inferior servants in other branches of the Department were eligible for them.

As regards the appointment of outside candidates to the lower division cadre, the position is that owing to the Government's decision to convert 33 per cent. of the posts in the entire clerical cadre into posts in the lower division, it has been decided that when an adequate number of qualified men of the postmen class is not available to fill all vacancies in the lower division clerical cadre, which since 1931 included also the posts named by the Honourable Member, direct recruitment should be resorted to, subject to the proviso that, for the present, vacancies in that cadre should be offered alternately to qualified men of the postmen class and to approved candidates for appointment to the upper division who have a claim on the Department. I may, however, inform the Honourable Member that the posts named in items (2) to (6) of his question have now been excluded from the lower division cadre and the position of postmen in respect of promotion to those posts is again the same as it was prior to 1931.

(ii) Does not arise in view of the reply to part (i) above.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai (Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands) : Sir I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1129 asked by Mr. S. G. Jog on the 5th April, 1933.

AREA OF LAND IN NEW DELHI RESERVED FOR ALLOTMENT TO DIWANS AND RAISES.

*1129. (a) Yes. The area is 1.2 per cent. of the total area.

(b) Recommendations are made by the Chief Commissioner from amongst applicants whose names are listed to the Government of India in the Department of Education, Health and Lands, and the final selection is made by His Excellency the Viceroy.

(c) No.

(d) Thirty-one plots have been allotted and the allotment of one is under consideration. No other plots are available at present within the area in question.

(e) Twenty. Some of the applicants have been on the waiting list for 10 years.

(f) The 31 allotments made up to date are as follows :

The Punjab	19
Delhi	3
The United Provinces	3
Bihar and Orissa	2
Bengal	1
N. W. F. Province	1
Kashmir	1
Kathiawar	1

(g) This is not considered necessary.

(h) This is the policy which Government are already following.

Mr. B. J. Glancy (Political Secretary) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred question No. 55 asked by Mr. Lalchand Navalrai on the 24th August, 1933.

QUETTA CLUB.

*55. (a) It is presumed that the question refers to the Club in Quetta known as the Quetta Club, Limited.

(b) The information which the Honourable Member requires may be obtained from the Articles of Association of the Club which are deposited with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies in Baluchistan and may be inspected by any member of the public on payment of the prescribed fee.

(c) No. As regards the second query the Honourable Member's attention is invited to the reply to part (b) of the question.

(d), (e) and (f). Government have no information.

(g) Under Section 54 (1) of the Income-tax Act, 1922, no such information as is here sought can be furnished.

(h) The Company enjoys no exemption in respect of license and excise taxes and pays such rents and taxes as are recoverable by law.

(i) Does not arise.

(j) Government see no reason to stop the business and trade of the Club. As to information regarding income-tax and other rates and taxes attention is invited to the replies already given to parts (g) and (h) of the question.

STATEMENT OF BUSINESS.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Leader of the House) : When I made a statement regarding the probable course of public business during this week, I said that we might have to ask you to direct that the House should sit on Saturday for the transaction of public business. It is not possible for us, without knowing what progress is made tomorrow with official business, to say what course we shall adopt. If progress is slow tomorrow, I am afraid we shall have to ask you to direct that there shall be a sitting of the House on Saturday.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair takes it that the Leader of the House wants to make a request that the Chair should direct that the House should sit on Saturday in case the progress made with the course of official business tomorrow is not satisfactory.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore : That is so.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Probably it will suit the convenience of the House if the Chair takes a decision on this point tomorrow, because we can decide after seeing what progress we have made. But even if the request is made tomorrow by the Leader of the House that the House should sit on Saturday, the Chair proposes to direct that the House should sit only in the forenoon and not in the afternoon.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : May I inform the Chair that there is a meeting of Standing Committee on that day at 10-30 in the morning ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair has said that in case it directs that the House should sit on Saturday, it should sit only in the forenoon and not in the afternoon. Suitable arrangements will be made for the convening of the Standing Committee in the afternoon and not in the forenoon.

RESOLUTION RE PROPRIETARY RIGHTS OF CITIZENS IN THE LAND.

Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore (Lucknow Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I beg to move the following Resolution :

"That this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council to take steps to get incorporated in the new Constitution a provision to the effect that the proprietary rights of any citizen in the land should not be taken away for any reason whatsoever without the payment of adequate compensation."

From time immemorial the landholders in India have got proprietary rights over the land and, even in Her Majesty the late Queen Victoria's Proclamation, an assurance was given.....

Mr. R. S. Sarma (Nominated Non-Official) : On a point of order. The only authority who can incorporate any provision like that at this moment is the Joint Parliamentary Committee and the time for sending a recommendation or memorandum asking for anything is already over. Therefore, Sir, what good will it do to have a discussion of this subject in this House ?

Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore : ....that no changes would be ever effected in the British Indian administration which will affect the immemorial customs and rights and liberties of the people of this country. Sir, even in recent times the Simon Commission Report admitted that the great landlords in India form a nobility which claim and exercise the privilege of high rank. The advent of British rule has confirmed the status of the landlords ; and their influence in their old neighbourhood remains predominant. It was also admitted by the Simon Commission that the large landholders in different parts of British India were men who had considerable vested interests in the country and that they exercised great influence over the tenants and that they have been enjoying their rights from time immemorial.

The joint authors of the Montagu-Chelmsford Report have also recognised the landed aristocracy in India as the natural and acknowledged leaders in the country and, that they represent ancient and well-born families and that their states are often the result of conquests or grants from some mediæval monarch.

The successful termination of the last world war, which threatened the future of the whole of the civilised world, was due in no small measure to the active co-operation of the landholders of India. I confidently say, at least about my province, that the Talukdars of Oudh, a community to which I have the honour to belong, were greatly animated by a spirit of ardent co-operation, and came forward with all the means in their power during that trying period. It would not be too much for me to say that they had a considerable share in the great victory of the memorable year 1918.

A variety of circumstances, however, have thrown the country into a veritable political melting pot. Revolutionary changes in the Constitution and the Government of the country are in the air. Under the existing circumstances, it is both their a right and duty that their undeniable position, sanctified by a series of promises, shall be secured to them by statutory provisions on the occasion of the transfer of responsibilities from the British Parliament to the Indian people. One obvious guarantee to which the landholders are entitled is the recognition, by a statutory provision, of their rights and title to their estates. This is all the more necessary in view of the apprehensions caused by the attempt to spread the Bolshevic doctrine of confiscation of private property. The bulk of Indian masses are ignorant, and illiterate as they are, they are easily led away by the spirit of Bolshevic teachings. Under these circumstances, the need for the protection of our rights and private property can not be too greatly emphasised. Moreover, since the last decade or so, a suspicion is brewing in the minds of the landholders that, as they are not being given due representation in the future legislatures of the country, the time may not be far distant when their proprietary rights may be denied to them, in the absence of any definite enactment in the future Act of Constitution which is being forged by the Joint Parliamentary Committee and, if the landholders have got this suspicion, they cannot be blamed. It is the march of the events which is forcing them to this unfortunate conclusion. A number of times the landholders have waited on deputation and submitted their representation for the protection of their rights, and as early the 9th March, 1933, my Honourable friend, Mr. Anklesaria, raised in this House a debate on the question of safeguarding the interests of the land owning classes in India. At that time, the then Leader of the House assured us that some thing would be done to safeguard our interests and asked us to wait till the White Paper was out. Now, the White Paper is out. The only reference made in that important document on this subject is in paragraph 75, page 29, where it says that regarding rights of the property some reference should be made in the Constitution. We are disappointed to find that it makes no special reference to the rights and privileges of the landholders as such. The contemplated Government of India Act, without a special mention of a statutory provision safeguarding our interests, will not meet the present Indian conditions and environments. Any scheme of constitution that fails to provide specifically for our rights and privileges is not likely to bring an era of peace and prosperity. Any attempt to ignore this natural and reasonable demand of the landholders will amount to ignoring the natural and acknowledged leaders of agriculturists who form the bulk of the population of the country. Much nervousness is felt by the landholders that their rights of permanent settlement may not be taken away from the parts where they exist.

[Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore.]

It is well-known that, in the future Constitution, land revenue is not going to be a reserved subject, but will be a transferred one, and so we can easily realise what will be our position in the future Constitution unless there is a sufficient safeguard about it by statutory enactment. When it is pressed that due provision should be made of the Minority Pact in the future Constitution which is also very necessary, I do not see any reason why our position also should not be adequately safeguarded.

Before I conclude, Sir, I would bring to the notice of this House that no one at least in this House will subscribe to the doctrine of confiscation of property and of nationalisation of land as is being done in modern Russia. Sir, nationalisation presupposes expropriation. Such expropriation can only be effected in two ways, one without indemnifying the owners and the other by indemnifying the proprietors of the lands. I will not be wrong if I quote, at this stage, the authority of the French Professor Leon Walras, who urged that the State could not in justice confiscate real property since this had been constituted and sanctioned under the guarantee of the law. The State has, however, the right recognised under the Legal Codes of every country to apply expropriation for reasons of public utility on payment of a fair compensation. Sir, what this learned jurist and professor laid down about real property is what my Resolution demands. Sir, the main principle underlying my Resolution is that proprietary rights on land should not be withdrawn ; but if the exigencies of the State demand it, that should be done by the payment of an adequate compensation. My Resolution only demands that this principle be given the constitutional sanction by its being embodied in the future Act of the Constitution.

I may also mention that this is not a new Resolution, but that it was passed at the Joint Conference of the United Provinces Landholders Association, and the Association of the Talukdars, in July, 1931, at Lucknow, a copy of which was forwarded to the Government and also in the All-India Landholders Conference held at the Durbhanga Palace at New Delhi this very year.

In conclusion, I appeal to the Government most sincerely that if they want to avoid revolution and spirit of Bolshevism in the country, they should support the landlords, they should safeguard their interests in the future Constitution. Equity and justice also demand that no one's property should be taken away even by the State without giving adequate compensation. With these words, I commend this Resolution for the acceptance of the House.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

"That this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council to take steps to get incorporated in the new Constitution a provision to the effect that the proprietary rights of any citizen in the land should not be taken away for any reason whatsoever with the payment of adequate compensation."

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhry (Bengal : Landholders) : Sir, I do not want to move the amendment that stands in my name but I rise to support the Resolution of my Honourable friend, Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore. I find it difficult to move my amendment as it infringes the rights of the Land Acquisition Act. It is a fact, Sir, that the Government of India can do nothing at the present time except to send a copy of the debate on this Resolution to the Home Government, and I would earnestly request the Government Member-in-charge of this Resolution to do so. On the 9th of March last, when a motion on a similar matter was brought before the House, the Honourable Mr. Bajpai and the then Law Member, Sir Brojendra Mitter, explained the position of Government quite clearly. Mr. Bajpai was good enough to use the following words at the end of his speech which I will quote :

"I say that the future of the landlords lies not in any written word,—not in the letter that killeth—in any constitution, but in the spirit in which they identify themselves with the interests of the great bulk of the peasantry and utilise the position that they have inherited, their race, their birth, their traditional influence, to advance the interests of that peasantry and treat those interests as their own."

I very much appreciate those remarks and I hope that the landlords have not betrayed their trust. But what I do wish to emphasise is that the rights of the landlords should not only be contained in any Royal Proclamation, but that they should be definitely and clearly incorporated in the Constitution itself. We find from the White Paper that His Majesty's Government considered the question of the proprietary rights and they were satisfied that certain provisions should be inserted in the Constitution. We would very much like that our rights—nay the rights of any citizen—should be defined clearly and candidly in the Constitution itself and not confined only to the Proclamations. I have got a very strong support in my favour in the person of Sir James Fitz James Stephen, the famous ex-Law Member of the

[Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhry.]

Government of India. At the time of the Ilbert Bill agitation, in the early eighties of the last century, this is what he said :

"The rights, said to have been reserved for the Indian subjects of the Crown in the memorable Royal Proclamation of Queen Victoria, had no legal validity whatsoever inasmuch as the said Proclamation, not being a Statute of Parliament, was not and could not be at all binding upon a British Sovereign's Government....."

This is a thing to be considered. The House is aware of the fact that even last evening, when a point of order was raised, it was defended that the section just came under the Indian Penal Code, and, you, Sir, ruled that, as that section did not come under the Government of India Act, it should not be valid on the part of this Legislature to take action on that section and you, Sir, suspended your ruling on that issue. The point is that if a thing, which is not mentioned in the Constitution itself, should not be binding on the Legislature. Therefore, at this stage my recommendation is that the proprietary rights should be clearly and candidly mentioned in the Constitution itself and not be left to the Royal Proclamations.

Now, Sir, I come to develop the point with regard to the permanent settlement. In this connection I wish to give to the House some very interesting figures to show that the revenue on acreage basis of ryotwari system does not exceed the revenue on acreage basis of permanently settled areas ; and, further, you will find that in Bengal, where there is permanent settlement, 90 per cent. of the land revenue has been collected. If you were to compare the permanently settled areas with Khas Taluks, you will find that the collection of land revenue in the case of the permanently settled areas is much more satisfactory. I will quote certain figures from Professor Benoy Kumar Sarkar who is really an authority on commerce and industry and also on financial matters. He says that the revenue which is collected by the Bombay Government, where Ryotwari system prevails, is in no way higher than the collection of the revenue in Bengal where there is permanent settlement. There are 49,187,000 acres of land in Bengal which yield a revenue of Rs. 30,073,000. In Bombay, the area is 78,740,000 acres and the collection of revenue is Rs. 48,314,000. If you will just compare these figures, you will find that, on the basis of acreage, Bengal does not pay less than Bombay although in Bengal there is permanent settlement. This, Sir, is a very sound argument on behalf of those who are enjoying the right of permanent settlement. They are certainly paying not less than those provinces where there is no permanent settlement. This is my first point, and another point is this.

12 NOON.

It has been sufficiently discovered and placed before the House even by the Treasury Benches that when responsibility is going to be transferred from one shoulder to another, sufficient safeguards should be made in connection with revenue and administration. There can be no better safeguard of revenue than permanent settlement. So I recommend to Government that they should strongly recommend to the Home Government—no doubt I know that the thing has gone out of their hands—but still the Government of India can append a strong note in forwarding a copy of the debate on this Resolution to the Home Government that really speaking if any assurance could be given in connection with the permanent settlement, it must be specifically mentioned in the Statute itself and not by any Proclamation of His Majesty ; and the proprietary rights of any citizen in the land should not be taken away for any reason whatsoever without adequate compensation. With these words, Sir, I support the Resolution.

Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh (Agra Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I wholeheartedly support the Resolution moved by my Honourable friend, Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore. In fact, I had given notice of such a Resolution myself, and I am glad that the name of my Honourable friend has found a place in the ballot. The causes for bringing forward this Resolution are : one of the reasons that has been given by the Mover himself is that there is fear of Bolshevism and communism spreading in the near future in this country. Secondly, there is a fear that there may be Congress ascendency in the coming Constitution. We have heard the Congress leaders on this point. Mahatma Gandhi, although he did not say in so many words that he did not want landlords in India, yet Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru has been very explicit on this point. Giving his interview to the Press on the 1st September, 1933, at Lucknow, he said :

"The zemindari system has broken down, it is as much an anachronism as autocracy in the Indian States."

At Amritsar, he declared he was a socialist and a republican. It is also known to everybody that he started the no-rent compaign in the United Provinces even before Mahatma Gandhi had returned from the Round Table Conference. By starting this movement he created bad blood between zamindars and tenants. If he had his way, he will see that landlordism goes. Even our beloved Governor, Sir Malcolm Hailey, who is one of the ablest Governors in India, when he was speaking in England, spoke of the peasant proprietors 50 years hence. He said he was afraid that, after 50 years, no landlordism as it exists now will remain and that these landlords would be in the position of peasant proprietors.

Now, as to the services of my community, I will point out firstly that it is not confined to Hindus, Muhammadans, Europeans, Jains and Sikhs or to any particular class. There are landlords belonging to every community. It was with the help of landlords that the mutiny was quelled. The world war itself was won with our efforts, because we supplied recruits, gave war loans and subscribed to the various war funds and even during the non-co-operation days we stood by Government and also during the Civil Disobedience Movement. We remitted large sums of money in rents and debts, found schools, hospitals, orphanages, colleges and hostels. What have we got as reward ? I am sorry to say that we got no rewards, but punishment. In 1902, the occupancy rights were given to the tenants and we acquiesced. In 1916, life tenancy was given, and seven years' registered leases were scrapped. We acquiesced. Although the Government were bound to accept the deeds which were duly registered in their own offices, yet by the Act of 1916, those registered leases were scrapped. Larger remissions of rent than of revenue were sanctioned. We acquiesced. We have suffered so long in spite of our services to Government, to the public and to our tenantry. But we are determined not to be coerced in future. Every Viceroy extolled our services from the days of Earl Canning, who was the first Viceroy, but now our eyes are opened and the Joint Select Committee proceedings show what value to attach to the utterances of statesmen, however highly placed. One noble Marquis can attack a representative of the Crown for some of his sweet words in an after dinner speech. The present agitation is not only against landlordism, but against capitalism as well. So the captains of industry must also be on their guard along with us. Every one having stake in the land must try to nip the trouble of communism in the bud. Otherwise it would be impossible for us to do anything when it has taken firm root. I mean communism once established will uproot society as at present constituted and would revolutionise the existing order of things. Oriental mentality is opposed to abrupt changes. It will recoil on the heads of revolutionaries themselves and they would have to suffer the fate of that ill-fated monarch, King Amanullah. Our forefathers found these estates with the sweat of their brow and we watered the tender plant, weeded out undesirable growth. They helped their tenants in times of trouble and disease and we are doing the same. Whenever tenants want help, they turn to us, and we help them with money, grain, clothes, etc., to the best of our ability and resources. There is a silver lining in the cloud of agricultural depression, but still the future looks full of evil forebodings and hence the Resolution. I appeal to the nationalists, independents, Europeans, democrats and the Government not to let down their friends in the future Constitution. There is a paragraph in the White Paper which says :

[Rai Bahadur Kunwar Raghubir Singh.]

"His Majesty's Government see serious objections to giving statutory expression to any large range of declarations of this character, but they are satisfied that certain provisions of this kind such, for instance, as respect due to personal liberty and rights of property and the eligibility of all for public office, regardless of differences of caste, religion, etc., can appropriately, and should find a place in the constitution Act.

His Majesty's Government think it probable that occasion may be found in connection with the inauguration of the new constitution for a pronouncement by the Sovereign, and in that event, they think it may well be found expedient humbly to submit for His Majesty's consideration that such a pronouncement might advantageously give expression to some of the propositions suggested to them in this connection which prove unsuitable for statutory enactment."

So, Sir, the fear is not groundless. People are trying to whittle down the proposals contained in the White Paper. So we are naturally pessimistic about our future, but, in view of our services to the public and to the Government, we hope the Government and the popular parties here will support our humble demand.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav (Bombay Central Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : I have had no intention of intervening in this debate, but I see that the landlords and their partisans are rather apprehensive that their position will be worsened. They ought to have some confidence in the British Government, and as long as the paramountcy of Britain is there, I do not think the landlords have any cause to fear. The Government are maintaining the autocracy of the States and Government are also interested in maintaining the rights of the landlords and, I may assure my landlord friends that they have no cause to be afraid of. The last speaker alluded to the speeches of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and his followers. But as long as the strong arm of Britain is there, not only one Jawaharlal Nehru, but even 10,000 Jawaharlal Nehrus would not be able to do any wrong to the landlords. But, at the same time, I have a word of advice to the landlords themselves. The landlords have been in possession of extensive lands and privileges, and naturally they expect that all those privileges will be continued to them and their successors. But they have to realise, Sir, that times are changing and the opinions of yesterday are not the opinions of today and the opinions of today will not be the opinions of day after tomorrow. England is a capitalist country. Still the privileges and rights of the capitalists are being slowly reduced and the idea of nationalising the mines and nationalising banks is being preached and being acted upon to a certain extent. There has been a sort of capital levy and, in that way also, capitalism is attacked in its home. So my friends, the landlords, will have to prepare themselves for gradually losing some of their privileges ; but, at the same time, I may assure them that it is not the intention of Government or of any Member of this House that the landlord class should be annihilated.

Mr. K. P. Thampan (West Coast and Nilgiris : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : How can you speak on behalf of Government ?

Mr. Amar Nath Dutt (Burdwan Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : He was once a Member of Government,—an ex-Minister.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : I think every subject has a right to say something on behalf of Government. Government belong to the people and the people belong to the Government, and, if I say anything wrong, Government may deny it. Sir, I myself am not against the landlord class. I know that in the past they have rendered valuable services and people will not forget those services. But, at the same time, I may point out that the landlord, as formerly, is not now the father of his tenants. Formerly there was no conflict of interest between the landlord and the tenant ; latterly that conflict is going to arise, and, before it becomes bitter, the landlords ought to take a lesson and reform themselves and act in the relationship of patrons to their tenants. They ought to make it their concern to look to the interests of their tenants, and, if they do that and secure the affection of their tenants, the teachings of Jawaharlal Nehru or of any other communist will have no result. I do not think this Resolution is necessary, because Government have been wide awake and have been doing everything necessary for the preservation of the landlord class.

Mr. N. M. Joshi (Nominated Non-Official) : Sir, this Resolution seems to be directed, in the opinion of the Mover as well as the supporters, against the Bolsheviks and the revolutionaries. I assure you, Sir, that I do not regard myself as a Bolshevist nor do I regard myself as a revolutionary. Still I do not think I can lend my support to this Resolution. In the first place, the Resolution asks that the proprietary rights in land alone should be protected and should not be taken away without compensation. By implication the Mover of the Resolution and his supporters feel that the other proprietary rights in other things may be taken away without compensation. (Cries of "No, no.") If that is not the idea, the Mover should have proposed the Resolution in wider terms.

Mr. D. K. Lahiri Chaudhury : We have said "the proprietary rights of any citizen in the land". That means rights of the people in general.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : You have said that the proprietary rights in the land will not be taken away without compensation. There are other proprietary rights in other things. I have proprietary rights in my body and mind and in other things. I think, if at all, proprietary rights are to be safeguarded, those rights should be safeguarded in all kinds of property and not only property in land. The Mover of the Resolution has not shown by one single argument why proprietary rights in land are more sacred than the proprietary rights in other matters. Let me make it clear that, even if the Resolution had been moved in wider terms, I would not have supported it, because I believe that the right of a State to resume property on behalf of the community is inalienable and no Constitution can take it away from the State. The State is the representative of the community. All the property belongs to the community and therefore every State must possess the power to resume the property on behalf of the community. I am not suggesting that the policy of taking away property without compensation should be followed by a State, but you cannot take away the right of a Government to resume property belonging to the individuals when the resumption becomes absolutely necessary in the interest of the whole community.

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

An Honourable Member : Without compensation ?

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I shall come to the point of compensation. First, I am dealing with the right of the State to resume property from individuals who possess it when the resumption is absolutely necessary in the interest of the whole community.

Then, Sir, I shall deal with the special question of the property in land. In the first place, land was not created by any of the individuals who hold it today. They cannot say that they made it. Natural resources were a gift of nature to mankind ; they were not created by the people who are holding it. Then, Sir, how did they get the land ? My Honourable friend said that his rights were ancient, but you did not tell us how the ancient people got it. It is quite possible that my Honourable friend may tell us how he got it. It is possible that he may have paid some price for it, but the ancient landlords cannot say how they got the land and their rights to the land. Some of them may have got it by wrong means. You will find that some people got their land by force of arms.

An Honourable Member : That is a legitimate right.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Is it considered to be legitimate by the Mover of the Resolution ? If his ancestors got the land by force of arms, then certainly how can he suggest that any man today should not take back the land by the same force of arms ? If you got the land by illegitimate means, by force of arms, then certainly it is equally legitimate for other people to take away your land by the force of arms—it may be the arms of the State. I, therefore, think that on the whole, when we consider this question very carefully, we shall find that the landowners will not be able to explain how the original landholders got the land from nature. They may have got it by wrong means, and, if they have got it by wrong means, certainly they at least cannot object to other people getting it back from them by wrong means. (Interruption.) But I am not defending today the taking away of land by force of arms. What I am suggesting is this : that these gifts of nature must belong to the community ; they cannot belong to the individuals ; in the first place, we do not know how the land was parcelled out between the different individuals ; and, in the second place, land and other natural resources are a monopoly of nature : you cannot create more land ; you cannot create more mineral resources ; and, therefore, it is wrong in principle that a few people should possess a larger portion of land and some others should possess less or none. You cannot create more land, if some other people want land ; therefore, it is wrong in principle that one man should be given more land while others should be deprived of it or should not have any land at all. Therefore land and natural resources are unsuitable to be made the subject of private property.....

An Honourable Member : You advocate communism then ?

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I am not talking of communism at all. I am talking of certain points of view which occur to me in this matter. This is my general principle, that land, being a gift of nature and being a monopoly, should not be allowed to fall into the hands of a few private individuals, so that the other people may be deprived of their dues. Arguments have been adduced as to why the rights in land should be made permanent. Some people said that landlords were very useful to Government. If the landlords were useful to Government, I should like to know in what way. Perhaps they gave some money to Government. True.....

An Honourable Member : Not money, but men also.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : If you talk of men, I am willing to hear the figures : how many landlords were killed in the war and how many, who were not landlords, were killed in the war ? It is not true that the landlords rendered greater service than the other citizens of this land. The other citizens lost their lives, while the landlords may have lost their property, which is after all much less valuable than life. Then we are told that the landlords had great stakes in the country. I am quite willing to admit that those people who have possessed property have got some stake, if you believe in private property ; but what about the stake of life which the other citizens have ? Which landlord can tell me that the life of a poor citizen can be valued in terms of money ? Can any one tell me that ten acres of land is equal to the life of one citizen ? The life of a citizen cannot be valued in terms of property at all. If you take the people in this country and find out the amount of stake which their lives have in this country, you will find that the stake of your property is very small indeed ; and that it cannot be compared ; therefore, it is wrong to talk of people having stakes and, on that account, their rights should be protected.

An Honourable Member : It has become fashionable for them to say so !

Mr. N. M. Joshi : If Government are going to protect anything, let that Government first protect the lives of their subjects. That is the one thing that requires protection. Have the Government of India ever thought of doing so ? I was told that, in one of the paragraphs of the White Paper, the Government of India proposed to protect the rights of property. I want to know whether there is a paragraph in this White Paper where the right of life is secured to a subject in this country. We all now talk of unemployment ; we hear about unemployment ; there are hundreds and thousands of people who lose their lives on account of starvation. Is it not the duty of the Government first to secure this right of life, and then talk of securing the right of property ? Before Government, therefore, puts down any clause in the Constitution that the right of property should be secured, let Government put down in the Constitution that no citizen shall die of starvation. That is the first principle that every Government must accept and must follow. After doing that, I can understand the Government talking of securing the rights of property. I, therefore, feel that it is wrong for any Government, before they secure the right of life to their citizens, to go into the question of securing the rights in property. What will be the effect if we accept a Resolution of this kind ? Government may require land for the good of the community, for securing the lives of the citizens, in order to make the life of the citizens secure. Government may not have the money to pay compensation. If, out of 350 millions, about which my friend, Mr. Das, talked the other day, 340 millions are in danger of being starved, simply because the land belongs to the other 10 millions, will not the Government be justified in taking away the land of the 10 millions even without compensation, in order to protect the lives of the remaining 340 millions ? I am not suggesting that Government should follow a policy of confiscating without compensation ; but I am talking about the ultimate right of a Government to take the property of a citizen when that taking is absolutely necessary in the interests of the community. As my friend, Mr. Jadhav, has pointed out, if you once say that no man's property can be taken away by Government without compensation, you really arrive at an absurd position. My friends say that they really do not want to secure the rights only in land : they are quite willing to protect the rights in other matters also. Suppose I have thousand rupees, and an income-tax officer comes and says : " Out of this amount, you must pay me Rs. 10 ", and I say to him, you cannot take away my property without compensation, what will be your reply ? The reply is that the compensation is the good of the community. The principle is the same.....

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member's time is up.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : The principle is the same that when Government take away anybody's property, Government pay compensation to everybody, not necessarily in the form of money, but Government pay compensation in the form of the good of the community.....

An Honourable Member : Would you accept that compensation for labour too ?

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Well, Sir, I am quite prepared to accept it even for labour. If once you admit the principle that no man's property can be taken away without compensation, you make Government difficult. Government must have the power to take away property in order that their affairs may be conducted. I will tell the House one small example and then finish. In the United States of America, they had this principle that no man's property can be taken away without compensation, and they found it very difficult to levy the Income-tax law, for the very reason that I pointed out. Government, therefore, should have the right to take away the peoples' property, and the compensation which Government may offer on some occasions is the compensation in the way of public good. Mr. President, I oppose this Resolution.

Mr. F. E. James (Madras : European) : Mr. President, Mr. Joshi is himself a gift of nature and belongs, I hope, to the whole community of us. The trouble with Mr. Joshi has always been that he cannot make up his mind as to whether he is an evolutionary or a revolutionary. Unfortunately, he began his speech by stating that it was far from him to suggest that no Government had any right to confiscate any land without compensation.....

Mr. N. M. Joshi : No, Sir ; I did not say that. What I said was that I would not recommend to the Government to adopt a policy of confiscation without compensation, but I insisted that the Government should possess the right.

Mr. F. E. James : So that Mr. Joshi's position has slightly shifted.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : No, not at all.

Mr. F. E. James : While he admits that he will never himself recommend Government to take a particular course of action, yet, in the same breath, he admits that Government have a right to take that course of action. Mr. Joshi is an equilatarian. He believes in every one having exactly the same rights in land and in property as every one else. He also said that he had rights in his own personal body and in his own personal mind forgetting for a moment that the equilatarian principle does not apply to the mental sphere, for one man's brain is very often larger than another man's brain. But I will not waste the time of the House by going over all the grounds that Mr. Joshi covered in a general dissertation which is more suitable for a debating society than for a serious discussion on a Resolution dealing with a particular and most important point.

The Mover of the Resolution has chosen, I believe, an appropriate occasion on which to place his point of view before the House. He is not dealing with general proprietary rights ; he is dealing with proprietary rights in land, and I suggest to the House that as one who is interested in land, he has a perfect right to put that particular point of view. I might object to the Resolution in that he has not mentioned in it other rights in which Members of my own community, for example, and other industrialists are particularly interested ; but I am not complaining about the Resolution on that score.

Now, Sir, I take my stand on the general proposition that it is axiomatic that in the future the Indian Legislature must be free to adopt a policy of acquiring for the State land or any other property for the well being of the State. This Resolution does not deny that principle. What it does say is that the State should not acquire any property, whether land or anything else, unless it gives adequate compensation. In other words, we are anxious to be safeguarded in the future against confiscation, and those, who are not prepared to support a Resolution of this description, are in fact leaving the door wide open to confiscatory principles in the future.

Now, Mr. President, I want to urge upon the House the importance of this position in view of the probable future developments. I very much doubt whether, in view of our pre-occupations with the political issues in this country, any one of us has spared himself the time or the leisure to think into the future and to realise what forces are in the world today and what forces in this country will be released even if the existing proposals of the White Paper are carried into law by the British Parliament. I have stressed this point in other places during the last few weeks, and I am very anxious to take this opportunity of stressing this point in this House. You have only to look round the world to realise the forces that are at present in existence, violent forces, tremendously strong forces, which are securing and retaining power by the principle of confiscation, the very principle that this Resolution seeks to deny. Go to the continent of Europe and you find there, whether it is Bolshevism or Fascism or Hitlerism, that the weapon which they use in every case is the weapon of confiscation, whether of personal or proprietary rights. And surprising as it may seem, when we look further west across the Atlantic, we find the President of the United States engaged in the tremendous task of trying, almost singlehanded, to restore his people to economic prosperity, and using weapons which come very near the border line of confiscation. Therefore, these forces are in the world today and appear, owing to the inability of rulers or of the people to secure what they want, to be gaining ground.

[Mr. F. E. James.]

I have suggested that great forces will be released by the White Paper. I want the House to envisage the future if it can,—great provinces, absolutely self-governing, with Legislatures elected on a tremendously wide franchise. The problems of the future are not going to be the political problems with which we are concerned now or with which we have been concerned in the past. They are going to be essentially economic problems, and, in the large extensions of franchise, we are going to find that forces will be arising all over the country based upon economic policies, led by men who belong to a younger generation than that to which we belong ; and that those forces will find a place in the Provincial Legislatures of the future. I believe that in some provinces, before very long, we shall have ministries in power supported by great majorities in Provincial Legislatures with radical programmes such as even Mr. Joshi today does not dream of. I believe also that in a very short time after the Federal Constitution has been established, even though we may have a leavening of the conservative elements in the country, the personnel of Members in this House will be completely changed. Sir, some of my friends on the other side, who are at present posing as leaders of Democratic Parties, will disappear, never to return, and in their place we shall have men who will come forward with real democratic principles, men who will be here on a definite programme tending towards what is commonly known as socialism with a bias towards the forcible confiscation of property. I do not think that I am forecasting anything that is fantastic. I believe those of us, who will have the privilege of living during the next 25 years in this country, will realise that what I am saying now will actually come to pass, and probably come to pass in a far more violent form than we now imagine. Is it surprising, therefore, in view of the forces that are at present existing in the world and in view of the forces that are shortly going to be released in this country by the constitutional proposals of His Majesty's Government,—is it surprising that those who have great interests in land should wish to have it laid down in the constitution that the State should be forbidden to acquire property, without paying due compensation to those who own that property ? Mr. Joshi, although he is a member of the Joint Parliamentary Committee, has enirely misread paragraph 75 of the White Paper proposals where it deals with the statement of fundamental rights. There is a sentence in which it says:

"His Majesty's Government see serious objections to giving statutory expression to any large range of declarations of this character, but they are satisfied that certain provisions of this kind such, for instance, as respect due to personal liberty and rights of property and the eligibility of all for public office, regardless of differences of caste, religion, etc., can appropriately, and should, find a place in the Constitution Act."

In other words, the White Paper proposes an express protection of rights of property and that covers the point which has been made by the Mover of this Resolution. In my opinion, the Constitution Act of the future should contain an express provision to the effect that no person shall be deprived of his property unless proper compensation is made, the amount to be ascertained by arbitration or by judicial proceedings. Now, Sir, while I say that, while I join with my landlord friends in suggesting that there should be some provision in the Constitution Act which would act as a first line of defence against confiscation, I am also aware of the forceful appeal which was so eloquently made by my Honourable friend, Mr. Bajpai, when this matter came up in this House before. As far as I remember, when this matter was discussed then, my Honourable friend, Mr. Bajpai, laid particular emphasis upon the part which the landholding communities should play in the future. I believe that the future of India, as to whether it will go through the process of gradual evolution, or whether it will plunge itself into the chaos of revolutionary attempts by forcible methods, will largely depend upon the attitude to public life, to public service, and to the Legislatures, all-India and Provincial, of the great landholding communities. I do not suggest for one moment that they have not played in the past a very valuable part. I know, as far as the landholders in Madras are concerned, at the present time you can find distinguished men who are spending themselves in the public service, in all kinds of fields, political, social and economic. And I believe that, as long as they play that role, the future will be bright as far as evolutionary development is concerned.

My Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, has suggested that the landholders did not play a reasonable part during the Great War.....

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I did not say that. I said they had not played a greater part than the other citizens.

Mr. F. E. James : I am very glad to have that put right. If I misunderstood my Honourable friend, I apologise to him.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : You always misunderstand.

Mr. F. E. James : I am very glad to know that he places the landowning community on a level with other communities who sacrificed so much of blood and treasure during the War. But my main point is that this is a Resolution which asks for statutory protection against confiscation, nothing more, nothing less. It only asks that if the State of the future should come to the conclusion that for public purposes it must acquire property which at present is in the hands of other people, it shall not acquire that property without paying adequate compensation the amount of which has been settled by arbitration or by judicial proceedings. I suggest that in a House of this character and at this particular time of the day when the Joint Parliamentary Committee is about to resume its labours, it is of the utmost importance that we should place on record that this is only a just request ; and we should underline the suggestion of the Resolution that there shall be a statutory provision, either in the declaration of rights or in some other form, that this form of forcible confiscation which is finding favour in so many quarters throughout the world and which is the gospel of certain political parties in this country should be ruled out as far as the Constitution Act is concerned. (Applause.)

Sir Cowasji Jehangir (Bombay City : Non-Muhammadan Urban) : I had no intention of taking any part in this debate, but the extraordinary speech of my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, extraordinary even for Mr. Joshi, forces me to rise just for a few minutes not only to reply to Mr. Joshi but, if I may not be considered audacious, to congratulate Mr. James on his very useful and brilliant speech. Yesterday some one said that my Honourable friend, Mr. B. Das, was at heart really a capitalist while in this House he professed to be a democrat, or even a socialist. I am tempted to say that my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, appears to me today to be at heart a communist, while most probably he firmly believes that he is really a socialist. Therefore, I do think it is essential that, if not all of us in India, at least we in this House should realise the distinction between socialism and communism. What this Resolution desires to put on record is that we are against communism but we are not against socialism.

My Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, exhibited in his speech a confusion of thought which seemed to me extraordinary. He asked my Honourable friends who have sponsored this Resolution as to who made the land which they now claim to be their own. He then went on to say ' Why do you confine this Resolution only to land. Why not to my brain and my body '. I ask Mr. Joshi who made his brain and who made his body ?

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I was against every kind of proprietary right. I simply asked that question to show the absurdity of the whole thing.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Mr. Joshi started his speech by saying that he was no revolutionary.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I still claim that.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : He clearly asked us whether he had a proprietary right in his brain and his body. I ask him who made his brain and who made his body and if he claims a proprietary right in his brain and his body, I say that my Honourable friends can claim equal proprietary right in the land they own today. The difference between socialism and communism is this, that in socialism the Government of the day can take a part of your wealth by way of taxation for the common good of the people but in communism Government can confiscate all you have got. Now, the confusion of thought is made completely clear by the analogy which my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, gave. He talked about owning Rs. 1,000 and Government demanding Rs. 10 from that one thousand by way of income-tax. He said that if he claimed proprietary rights over the whole of the thousand rupees and if the principle is put on record that proprietary rights should be maintained, then he went on to argue that Government could not claim Rs. 10 out of the thousand. There comes the confusion of thought.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : No.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : In socialism Government can levy a tax on your wealth for the good of the people by a law of the land.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : 100 per cent. tax all round.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Mr. Joshi will have to part with his Rs. 10, as we have had to part for years with a very high percentage of our incomes and nobody complains. That is socialism. Who introduced that principle of socialism in the world ? Who carried it to an extreme point ? It was Great Britain. In England, socialism has gone further than in any other country in the world. Your income is taxed for the good of the people to an extent not taxed in any other country in Europe and it was supported by a Conservative Government. In the same way I am a socialist, as good a socialist as my friend, Mr. Joshi, but I refuse to be a communist and because I refuse to be a communist I am prepared to give my wholehearted support to a Resolution which puts on record the principle that Government shall not confiscate but shall take by legislation, by the law of the land a proportion that it is prepared to take from the poorest as well as from the richest. Communism means taking all from those who have got and giving it to those who have not. Does Mr. Joshi believe that we in this House or, may I say, a large majority of thinking people in this country will refuse in the future to be taxed for the common good. Whether we like it or not, we shall have to do it and we are prepared but we shall not admit the principles enunciated here today by my friend, Mr. Joshi, who practically advocated the principle of confiscation, for he said that if the people are starving Government should have the right to confiscate lands, property and the other proprietary rights that the people may have in order to prevent that starvation. I will not admit such a principle. The rights of life are protected by Government by laws and regulations.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Which ?

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : If I were to kill you, Mr. Joshi, I will swing. Life is thus protected by law. Those are the rights of life, but if Mr. Joshi refuses to work and thereby starves, I cannot be deprived of my lands and my property to feed Mr. Joshi who refuses to work and prefers to starve.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I am willing to work, but cannot get work.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Then Mr. Joshi can call upon the Government and the country to feed him, if they cannot give him work.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Let it be in the Constitution.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : The principle enunciated by Mr. Joshi and his friends is that for those who starve because they will not work Government shall confiscate the property of people who have worked for it and accumulated it or who may have inherited it due to the sweat of the brow of their ancestors. These are the principles, I trust, this country will never accept and I do hope that this Resolution will be passed unanimously, simply because Mr. Joshi has made the extraordinary speech he has, and let me express the hope that there may be many true socialists, such as I have explained, in the country in the future, not merely socialists in name but communists at heart. They are a class of people we desire to sweep out of the land. True socialists we shall welcome. Let us hope that every one of us will be such true socialists.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : Who is to decide ?

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : Let us hope that the landlord will really be the true father of his tenants. He will then be a good socialist. I have nothing more to say and I do hope that we shall rarely hear principles enunciated in this House, such as we had the misfortune to hear today.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai (Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands) : The Resolution moved by my Honourable friend, Lala Brij Kishore, raises a subject which was also discussed in March last on a motion moved by Mr. Anklesaria and I do not propose, because of my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi's excursions into somewhat devastating doctrines, to let my remarks wander over a wider field than is legitimately covered by the Resolution before the House. On that occasion, when Mr. Anklesaria moved his motion in this House, the then Leader of the House, Sir B. L. Mitter, pointed out that the Government of India had recommended to His Majesty's Government that protection shall be given to proprietary rights in the new Constitution Act. That His Majesty's Government have accepted that recommendation is borne out by paragraph 75 of the proposals for Indian Constitutional reforms, from which I shall read the relevant portion :

1 P.M.

"His Majesty's Government see serious objections to give statutory expression to any large range of declarations of this character (that is to say, declarations relating to fundamental rights) but they are satisfied that certain provisions of this kind such, for instance, as respect due to personal liberty and rights of property.....should find a place in the Constitution Act."

These proposals represent the considered views of His Majesty's Government and these proposals are now before the Joint Select Committee of Parliament. I gather that since the Joint Select Committee of Parliament started its labours evidence has also been led in support of the recommendation which is embodied in paragraph 75. In the circumstances, the only advice which I can give to my Honourable friends is to have patience and trust to the sense of justice and the sense of fairness of the Joint Select Committee of Parliament and, subsequently, when the matter comes before Parliament, of Parliament itself. Because my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, who, I am sorry to say, is no longer in his seat, has enunciated certain novel doctrines and because he happens to be on the Joint Select Committee of Parliament, let not my Honourable friends, who support this Resolution or favour the principles embodied in it, think that his views are going to prevail. The intention of Government is to forward these proceedings to His Majesty's Government to be laid before the Joint Select Committee of Parliament and I am quite sure that, when the Committee and the Members come to read what has been said in the course of the discussion today, the problem will fall in its true perspective, and the views which will prevail with them, I hope, will be the views which have been expressed so eloquently by my friend, Mr. James, and by my friend, Sir Cowasji Jehangir, and not the views which have been expressed by Mr. Joshi.

My Honourable friend, Mr. Lahiri Chaudhury, in the course of his remarks, expressed some doubt as to whether the proposal in paragraph 75 meant that statutory protection will be given to proprietary rights or whether such protection will be relegated to what he considers to be a less secure document, namely, a Proclamation by the Sovereign. I refrain from presuming to interpret the White Paper. That function legitimately belongs to Parliament. But there seems to be no reason for my Honourable friend to think that either His Majesty's Government or the Joint Select Committee of Parliament have made up their mind in favour of what he considers to be the weaker procedure. As a matter of fact, by reading paragraph 75 as it stands one would be justified in saying that the inclination of His Majesty's Government is more in favour of statutory protection than protection by Proclamation. Sir, there was another point made by my Honourable friend, Lala Brij Kishore, who was not merely thinking of statutory protection which is to be given to the right of property. He also seemed to suggest that protection shall be given to the class to which he belongs by special representation. Now, I do not know whether that is strictly germane to the Resolution which is now being considered by the House but I would remind my Honourable friend and the House that this point was dealt with by Sir Brojendra Mitter in March last. Sir Brojendra Mitter then explained that under the Communal Award of His Majesty's Government—and the proposal which now figures in the White Paper is based on the award—landlords will have special representation to the extent, I think, of 36 seats.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad (Patna and Chota Nagpur cum Orissa : Muhammadan) : But that is very little ; it is not sufficient.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : My Honourable friend will not let me complete my remarks. It may be, as my Honourable friend says, that the numerical special reservation of seats proposed in the White Paper is not what would satisfy the landlords, but my Honourable friend might also reflect upon the other remark which was made by the then Leader of the House, namely, the enlarged electorate of something like 27 or 28 per cent. of the adult popoulation of this country. If that electorate reflects in any way the proportion of agriculturists to the total population of this country which is 80 per cent., then, by virtue of their birth, their position and the special opportunities for serving their tenantry which the landlords have, they will be able to secure representation in future Legislatures not only to the extent of these 38 or 40 seats but in much larger numbers. That, Sir, brings me to what I consider is the most fruitful contribution made in the course of the discussion today, namely, the remarks of my friend, Mr. James. He emphasised that the trend of events in the world outside demonstrates the inherent futility of mere paper safeguards for one section or the other. Why is it that Hitlerism is devastating the constitution of Weimar in Germany ? Why is it that Fascism has replaced the system or the order which prevailed before it in Italy ? It is simply due to the fact that discontents were set in motion which the system of Government or the Party in power at the time were unable to control and because of grievances which those systems were unable to redress. I submit that it is not any written provision in the Constitution which is going to help the landlords, no matter what that provision may be. What is going to help them is leadership in the spirit of service to their tenantry which alone is going to ensure for them the protection and the position which they claim.

Nawab Major Malik Talib Mehdi Khan (North Punjab : Muhammadan) : Sir, my friend, the Honourable Mr. Joshi, wishes to take us back to the period about which it has been said :

" When Adam delved and Eve span
Who was then the gentleman ? "

If he goes into the history of the property composed of land, houses, and so on, whether personal or public, he will not be able to find its origin, and if his principle that where it has been discovered that any property has been achieved by violence, then violence should be used to the owner being deprived of it and giving it to somebody else is accepted,.....

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I did not say that. What I said was that those people who have got by violence have no moral right to object to other people using violence.

Nawab Major Malik Talib Mehdi Khan : .....which means that those who had acquired some property by unfair means have no right to keep it when their brethren are starving in the country, as chaos will be the result. What should we do then ? We should be required to divide it whether by consent or by force. Suppose it was divided in the year of grace 1933, and after another 20 years or so, we find the same inequality, because the Dispenser of bounties—whatever you may call him, I call him God—did not grant the same amount of brain power, wisdom and determination to each man or did not afford each person a chance to cultivate them. Another 20 years, and the man with better brain will again carve his fortune, another division, and so on. What will be the result ? The worker would lose his hard earned income. So, what is the use of working and applying one's brain if the idlers, who are sitting in the streets will come out to divide the property ? There will be no incentive left to work, and everyone will fly at each other's throat to deprive him of his earnings. Would my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, like that system to be adopted in India ? My Honourable friend, Mr. Brij Kishore, the Mover of the Resolution, belongs to the landed gentry, and has thus picked out his own subject, namely, land, but there is no reason, as I said above, why houses and every other property should not be safeguarded. There may be other persons who will come forward with Resolutions safeguarding such things. To urge that everything should be divided or that everything should be equalised is impossible. Instead of that, we ought to bring a scheme to ameliorate the conditions prevailing in this country. I know little of what is actually going on in the Western countries, but I find that there is plenty of work for Indians to do in their own country if proper steps are taken to have it done. I think it is the present system of education which is defective. Our young men, when they get into schools and colleges, the first thing that they learn is to abhor the occupation of their forefathers.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member will resume his speech after Lunch. The House will now adjourn till Half Past Two.

The Assembly then adjourned for Lunch till Half Past Two of the Clock.

The Assembly re-assembled after Lunch at Half Past Two of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

Nawab Major Malik Talib Mehdi Khan : Sir, I was objecting to the present day education. What I mean by it is that the education in Indian schools and colleges is mostly theoretical, which we require it to be practical and it should be based on such principles that the callings and professions existing in India are improved by the products of these institutions. My second point is labour. I said in my opening remarks that there was plenty of scope in India for many years to come for the people to earn their livelihood. There is plenty of labour in the country, but we ought not to look down upon it. Unemployment, which is causing so much trouble in the country, is mostly among the educated classes who, as I said just now, do not get the proper education and find that manual work is beneath their dignity. If this can be remedied, there would be no unemployment or starvation in India for many years. My friend, Mr. Joshi, spoke something about the rights of people in property. I will not go far back now,—but refer the House to the Proclamation of the noble Queen Victoria made just after the Mutiny in which the rights in property were upheld and it was repeated by her successors. We have to take the facts as they are now and it will not serve any useful purpose to open the point and go back to the history of each holder of property. Not only will it not serve any useful purpose, but it will do harm. Unfortunately I find that an idea is gaining ground in the country that the rights of people in property should be enquired into from a given period, if not from the beginning. If I remember aright, I think Mahatmaji is also of the same opinion. He holds that we ought to go back for a hundred years and sift the position of each property as it is. Similarly, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru toured in the Allahabad district and delivered speeches which tended to the disruption of the relations between landlords and tenants. I do not know what the conditions are in the United Provinces, but I can say that no difference exists in the Punjab between the landlords and tenants. The landlord knows that his interest is interwoven with that of his tenant and that his work cannot go on without the help of the tenants. He deems it his duty to support his tenants and make them as happy as possible ; and, if there is no dispute between the tenant and the landlord, I would say that it would be very unwise to create disunion between them. With these remarks, I support the Resolution of my friend, the Mover, and am thankful to Government for their offer, as Mr. Bajpai said, to submit these proceedings to the Joint Select Committee of Parliament.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : Sir, I whole-heartedly support this Resolution and I would remind my friend, Mr. Joshi, that it is not correct to say that landholders have taken possession of land by means of force. It is as incorrect as to say that Islam was spread by the sword. Sir, the history is this that in the Hindu period and in the reign of the Mughal Emperors there were waste lands and jungles. Landholders' ancestors spent money and offered services for getting the lands. Then they tried to make the lands fit for cultivation purposes. They cut jungles and they prepared big irrigation schemes. After lots of troubles and after spending a sufficient amount of money, they made the lands fit for cultivation purposes.

[Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad.]

I do not represent the landholders' interests here. Rather I represent the tenants' interests much more and I can safely say that this Resolution is supported by the tenants as well. This resolution is as essential for tenants as it is for landholders.

I want to say, Sir, that those original landlords also are not found now in large numbers in Bihar and Bengal. The landlords, who are found in my province, are those who purchased land trusting in the announcement of the noble Queen Victoria. They trusted the words of Government and spent lots of money on purchasing these lands about which my friend, Mr. Joshi, says that they may be confiscated. There is a suspicion that the interest of the landlords and of the tenants conflict with each other, but, I say, it actually does not conflict. If landlords be eliminated, I think it will be impossible for tenants to keep the land in the present condition and the land will deteriorate. My experience is that nowadays landlords are doing much ; they are responsible for irrigation and all other things.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : We are doing without landlords in Bombay.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : That may be so, but that is not the condition in Bihar. In Bihar and Bengal, I think it will be impossible to keep the land in this condition without the landlords. Quarrel on irrigation and other things are going on in the fields and the only man on the spot is the landlord. It is impossible for tenants to spend thousands of rupees for making irrigation arrangements for a village. Tenants will have their tenancy in one village or two, but this irrigation system sometimes requires to be taken from two or three villages far off. Interests of two villages sometimes conflict with each other. It will not be possible for tenants to maintain this whole system.

If my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, wants to protect his other properties, like brain or body, then he may bring in a Resolution and, I think, neither the representatives of the landlords nor of the tenants will object. We will all try to save his brain and his body.

The question of compensation was discussed the other day here and Mr. Joshi came forward with a long list that compensation should be increased and so on and so forth. We do not say here that it should be increased or anything like it : we say that if Government want, for the benefit of the public, to take up land, they must give adequate compensation. We have trusted them. On their words we have spent thousands of rupees in purchasing lands ; so, if they want to honour their words, it is their duty to compensate when they require any land for the public use.

My Honourable friend has suggested, as I remember, that lands should be divided equally amongst all—no more to one man and no less to another man. Where was my Honourable friend, when he suggested the other day that the compensation for the man earning Rs. 10 should be so much, and that, for the man getting Rs. 200 a month should be so much : he did not suggest that the compensation should be uniform for all employees, whether they get Rs. 200 or less. He never suggested that all labourers should get equal pay. I say, the idea is not possible at all. As I have read books on Bolshevism and about Russia, I find there also people exist who have more lands and less lands : in the whole world, I do not find any country which can be shown by my Honourable friend where lands are equally divided to all men. Our requirements are different : one man may have a large family and another man may require less. God Himself has not divided land or money to all His creatures equally. What has not been done....

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I interrupt the Honourable Member.....

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : I am not going to give way to the Honourable Member.....

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I am standing to a point of order : is any Honourable Member entitled to put in my mouth words and sentiments which I did not express ? I never said one word about equal distribution of land in this country.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : That is not a point of order, Sir. I have noted here, and if my Honourable friend will go and see his speech at the time of correction, he will find there what I have quoted here. If he now suggests that more and less land can be given, then I have got nothing to say on that point, and I hope my Honourable friend will correct that portion of his speech.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : I challenge the Honourable Member to take the report from the reporter and if he finds that there is no mention of equal distribution of land, I hope he will apologise to me.

Mr. M. Maswood Ahmad : If that is so, I will be certainly ready to omit it in my speech if allowed to do so. However, I am glad to hear that he has no objection in having more lands.

In connection with this Resolution, I will, further, say that it is a most innocent Resolution that has been moved and this is a principle which should be accepted everywhere, that whatever rights we have got in any land, the money which we have spent on purchasing lands plus the compensation should be paid to us if Government want to take it, and it should be defined in clear words in the future Constitution. With these words, I support my Honourable friend's Resolution.

Lala Hari Raj Swarup (United Provinces : Landholders) : Mr. President, I have great pleasure in according my support to this Resolution which has been moved by my friend, Rai Bahadur Brij Kishore. I will only say one word about what Mr. Joshi has said and then leave him alone. He said that land was a gift of nature and that some zamindars got it without any effort or by force of arms and so they did not deserve any protection. Barring a very few, say one or two per cent., I think, Sir, most of the zamindars at this time are such as have paid for the land that they have acquired ; and, as such, I do not see why he should take objection to this Resolution. My Honourable friend only says that if proprietary rights are to be taken away by the Government, the Government should give adequate compensation.

I am thankful to the Honourable Members of this House for having accorded support to this Resolution and especially to Sir Cowasji Jehangir and Mr. Bajpai for having advised the Zamindars to become natural leaders of the tenants and to improve their relations. I want to inform this House, on behalf of the landholders, that our relations with our tenants are as cordial as they could be. If at times you hear of agrarian troubles, they are simply fomented by certain sections of the people who want to carry their points with the tenants and take advantage of their ignorance. We have always been trying to support the cause of the tenants. As a landlord in the United Provinces, I can say that we have been fighting hard with the Government for the reduction in water rates which directly affects the tenants. This is only one instance and can be repeated, but I will only be content by saying that we have always stood by the side of the tenants. We went even further than this. When we found that changes in Tenancy Legislation were necessary, we did not obstruct though they meant some curtailment of our rights. As for instance, when in 1902, Government brought forward the first tenancy legislation in the United Provinces, all the landlords gave their whole-hearted support to that legislation, because they thought that it would improve the lot of the tenants. Similarly, also, in the case of the 1926 legislation. The House will, therefore, see that the Zamindars have never lagged behind in protecting the rights of the tenants; and, by moving this Resolution, they simply want that their own rights should be maintained and they should not be disturbed in protecting their own rights and the rights of their tenants. So, Sir, I support this Resolution.

[Lala Hari Raj Swarup.]

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I will not take a long time in giving my support to this Resolution. My chief purpose in getting up to speak is to draw the attention of the House to the relations between the Zamindar and tenant in Sind. I must say at the very beginning that, in considering this Resolution, the debate has drifted very far away. This is a restricted Resolution and we should have confined ourselves to the Resolution alone without thinking and indulging in socialism, communism or even " Joshism ". We have nothing to do with those questions with this restricted Resolution before the House.....

Mr. N. M. Joshi : May I ask the Honourable Member what the relations between landlord and tenant have to do with this Resolution ? This Resolution asks for a constitutional right.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : In placing the Constitution aright, if the Zamindar wants that the Government should be fair to him, protect his rights and put them in the Constitution, I say the peasant and the tenant require the same to be done by the Zamindars. I was submitting that we have nothing to do with anything more in considering this Resolution. We are confusing the question altogether if we go beyond it.....

Mr. N. M. Joshi : You are.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : I am not. On the contrary I submit that there was no question here of seeing what is going to happen hereafter when the Honourable Mr. Joshi expects communism to come into India. Sir, communism is said to have done the greatest injury to humanity outside, and nobody should even think of introducing it in India. The rights of the tenants and of the Zamindars have to be equally protected.

Now, Sir, coming to the Resolution itself, we find that this Resolution wants only two things ; one is that the vested rights of the Zamindars should be incorporated in the coming Constitution so as to give them the necessary protection, and the second is that there should be no such measure by which a Zamindar's land could be confiscated by Government without paying him compensation. Sir, when I read this Resolution this morning, I was wondering why such a Resolution had at all been brought forward. I was feeling that the rights of the Zamindars were vested rights, and that the present Government had not done anything to deprive the Zamindars of their vested rights. I again put a question to myself as to why the Honourable the Mover had brought forward this Resolution when the Government had never offended anyone in that direction and when the thing is perfectly patent in itself. Then I looked at the second portion where it is said that no land should be taken away without compensation. Then also I was similarly wondering, because there was actually the law on the point,—there was the Land Acquisition Act which says that, if any land is needed by Government, it is legally taken from the owner of it after paying him due compensation. But when I heard the debate,—I am not blaming my friend for bringing forward such a Resolution,—and when I heard my friend, Mr. Joshi, I thought it would really create an impression among the Zamindars that something wrong was going to be done to them and, therefore, my friend had every right in coming forward with a Resolution like this asking the Government to protect the Zamindars by inserting the necessary safeguards in the new Constitution. Sir, I again say that the Government are sincere on this point,—they are sincere for two ways. When we read clause 75 of the White Paper, we find that it does not say that Government are not going to protect the vested rights ; on the contrary they say that there is every likelihood of the necessary safeguards being incorporated into the Constitution with regard to property and person and we had it just now from a responsible member of the Government, I mean the Secretary in the Education Department, who plainly told us that Government had no intention of doing anything wrong like that to adversely affect the interests of the Zamindars. On the contrary, he advised caution and patience to the Mover of the Resolution, until the matter was decided in England, but, in my view, there is absolutely no fear that Government will do wrong in this matter. We have been asking for declaration of rights, and this is one of the declaration of rights that these gentlemen want should be included in the Constitution. When I heard my friend, Mr. Joshi, for whom I have always got regard, because he is very sincere in putting forward his views and he is bold enough to place his views in this House, because it is not everybody who can come forward and place his personal views in a House like this so undauntedly, I give him full credit for that,—but when I heard my friend, I must say that he was wrong in accusing the Honourable Member—the Mover—for bringing forward a Resolution of this kind instead of a general Resolution. When he comes forward with Resolutions and questions in this House, does not my friend, Mr. Joshi, restrict himself to labour questions and Resolutions on matters of labour ? Has he always brought forward general Resolutions with regard to the rights of the people ? Therefore, Sir, the gentleman who has brought forward this Resolution is perfectly within his rights, because he has interest in land, and surely it is only but right that he should come forward with Resolutions relating to land in which all of us are also interested. I submit, Sir, it was wrong on the part of Mr. Joshi when he said that the Resolution, even if worded in some other form, would not be acceptable to him.

Then, again, Sir, I have no doubt that this Resolution will be accepted by the Government and the Constitution will be framed in accordance with the terms of this Resolution. I don't say that only this declaration of rights should be incorporated in the new Constitution, I certainly want that other rights of ours should also be included in it. This Resolution, of course, does not call for reference to conditions under which land came in possession of Zamindars, but I might tell my friend that India's land was Indian, and the Indian people divided the land between themselves. That is how the land descended down, and some lands were since then transferred from one hand to another, and so on. I do not know why such questions should have been raised at all. The Resolution will undoubtedly be acceptable to Government and to every one of us on this side, but I want to give one advice to the Zamindars and it is this. Sir, I was very glad to hear from my Honourable friend from the United Provinces that the Zamindars there were very fair and that they provided with all sorts of amenities to their tenants. I am very very glad to learn it, but, Sir, the condition of our Zamindars in Sind is quite different. There, Sir, the Zamindar wants to devour the tenant ; he is not only unfair to the tenant, but his interests are detrimental to the interests of the tenant ; he robs him and he keeps him uneasy. (An Honourable Member : "Shame.") Sir, it is really a shame, and I want that my voice in this House should reach the Zamindars in my province so that they might improve the present conditions.

[Mr. Lalchand Navalrai.]

An Honourable Member : It is loud enough.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : I know it is. Sir, I need not go into details now. This is not the time for it. I think it is sufficient for me to say that the Zamindars in my province are not treating their tenants fairly and properly. But, Sir, for this I would blame the Government as well, and it is for this reason. The Zamindar wants to hoard up all the land, he would like to have every piece of land that can be got to be in his possession, and a certain type of him would play the part of a bull dog or a pet dog of Government. He tries to please the Government ; he is always with the Government, and he does it from purely selfish motives. He wants more and more land, and every big Zamindar in Sind has been given enough land by Government, and when he becomes bankrupt or goes to the Insolvency Court or when his estate gets under the protection of Encumbered Estates Act, Government again come forward and give him large acres of land, on the plea that the Zamindar has to maintain the dignity of his house. Is this fair ? Therefore, the Zamindar in my part of the country has been spoiled by Government. I hope the Zamindars in Sind will improve themselves. This Resolution by implication does ask the Zamindars to be fair to their tenants, and, in that sense, this Resolution is not restricted to big Zamindars alone, because there are small landlords also who hold land and in some cases are harsh to their tenants. When the Constitution will protect the rights of the land, surely the other rights also will be protected and embodied in the Declaration of Rights. Therefore, I hope this Resolution will commend itself to every Member including my friend, Mr. Joshi, who, I know, is open to conviction.

Several Honourable Members : Sir, the question may now be put.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is that the question be now put.

The motion was adopted.

Rai Bahadur Lala Brij Kishore : Sir, I am very thankful to the different Members of this House who have taken the trouble to support this Resolution. I am also glad to know that the dangerous doctrines enunciated by Mr. Joshi have not been subscribed to by other Members of this House and a sufficient reply to his arguments has been ably given by my friends, Mr. James and Sir Cowasji. I am also glad and am thankful to Mr. Bajpai for the sympathetic reply which he has given and also for his promise to forward a copy of this debate to the Joint Parliamentary Committee. I think it would be more forcible if this Resolution is carried unanimously and then sent to the Joint Parliamentary Committee. There are no other points which require any reply. I, therefore, do not wish to waste the time of the House and I commend this Resolution for your acceptance.

3 P.M.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council to take steps to get incorporated in the new Constitution a provision to the effect that the proprietary rights of any citizen in the land should not be taken away for any reason whatsoever without the payment of adequate compensation."

The motion was adopted.

RESOLUTION RE ADMISSIONS TO THE MILITARY ACADEMY.

Mr. B. N. Misra (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I beg to move the following Resolution that stands in my name :

"That this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council :

(1) that steps be taken to increase the number of admissions to the Military Academy both by direct examination as well as by selection from the ranks ;

(2) that if this be not found practicable at present, steps be taken to increase the number of admissions by selection from the ranks and especially from the 'Y' cadets before they pass the age-limit."

Sir, my object in putting this Resolution before the House is to draw its attention to the unsatisfactory and slow pace we are going on with the Indianisation of the army. Honourable Members know that at present we are taking 60 cadets a year by both direct examination and selection from the ranks and, if the annual recruitment of Commissioned Ranks in the Indian Army be appoximately 120, we can ultimately only aspire to a 50 per cent. ratio of Indians to British Officers at the most and that in not less than a period of 25 years. This is quite simple arithmetic. Now, Sir, I ask the House to consider this position fully. I maintain that unless the pace of Indianization is more than 50 per cent. of the annual recruitment, it is absolutely impossible to achieve our object, namely, the Indianisation of the Indian Army within a reasonable distance of time. If the objective before all of us is to achieve the status of a Dominion, any scheme of Indianisation of the army, which we are working, at present, or which may be drawn up in the future, must have a direct relationship to that objective. To be frank, I want to know whether the present pace of Indianisation, which leads us only to 50 per cent. after a period of about a quarter of a century from now, satisfies the legitimate wishes of the people of India. Unless more vigorous steps are taken, it will remain a pious hope. We, as responsible public men, do urge upon the Government that a scheme must be prepared so that public opinion may be satisfied that there is a reasonable chance of the Indian Army being Indianised within a reasonable distance of time and the responsibility of self-defence being made over to the Indian Parliament at some time or other in the near future.

[Mr. B. N. Misra.]

Sir, the question, therefore, is that the number of admissions to the Indian Military Academy be increased to more than half the number of vacancies that occur every year, so that the objective, namely, the Indianisation of the Indian Army be achieved within a reasonable distance of time. I do not want to limit the qualification of the Indian Cadets. You can put them to a thorough test. I do not desire the efficiency of the Army to be in the slightest degree impaired, because we shall be putting in their hands the property and the lives of 35 crores of men. I am for very rigorous and strict tests of their capacity. But, what I cannot understand is that, with an ample material and a heroic history behind us, it is thought that we cannot produce 120 boys per year from amongst nearly one quarter of the world's population who will be able to stand the most rigorous and strictest test of efficiency before they are granted King's Commissions. Sir, the lessons of the Great War are not yet forgotten nor will they be ever forgotten. Our soldiers stood the horrors and the gravest consequences of the War as well as any other nation of the world and they proved their mettle. You can have no better test of endurance and heroism.

I wish to refer to the scheme adopted by the Government of India in 1922 which contemplated complete Indianisation of the Indian Army within 30 years. Turning to Appendix I to that report, the number of commissions to be granted during the first 14 years according to that scheme annually averaged 81.4. The number to be granted during the second period averaged annually 182 and the number to be granted annually during the third period averaged 227 on an increasing scale. In this way the scheme contemplated complete Indianisation of the Indian Army in 30 years. Sir, I hold that there is no reason to think that the conditions which existed in 1922 have undergone such a material change that the same principle cannot be adopted now. With the development of the new political structure in India, the defence of India must to an increasing extent be the concern of the Indian people and not of the British Government alone and, in order to give practical effect to this principle, the rate of Indianisation in the Indian Army should be commensurate with the main object in view, having regard to all relevant considerations such as the maintenance of the requisite standard of efficiency. We must have more Indians in the Army. Our sole concern must be to have an increasing number of Indians in the Army. For so many years, only Europeans have been employed in the Army. Indians have not at all been encouraged. If they have been engaged, it is only as sepoys and not as officers. What I plead before you is that Indians must be officers in the Army. With these words, I move my Resolution.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Motion moved :

" That this Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council :

(1) that steps be taken to increase the number of admissions to the Military Academy both by direct examination as well as by selection from the ranks ;

(2) that if this be not found practicable at present, steps be taken to increase the number of admissions by selection from the ranks and especially from the ' Y ' cadets before they pass the age-limit."

Mr. B. V. Jadhav (Bombay Central Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : The Resolution is divided into two parts. The first part has been adequately dealt with by my friend, Mr. Misra. Therefore I need not refer to that portion of the Resolution. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in the other place explained the military policy of the Government of India and therein he said that the present was not the time for increasing the number of admissions into the Military Academy. This is not the place to criticise that declaration and I shall confine myself to the second part of the Resolution that—

" if this be not found practicable at present, steps be taken to increase the number of admissions by selection from the ranks and especially from the ' Y ' cadets before they pass the age-limit ".

Admissions to the Military Academy are of cadets from two categories. Thirty cadets every year are admitted on the strength of a competitive examination and 30 more are admitted from the ranks. When the scheme was first started, it was feared that the supply of cadets from the ranks will not be sufficient for the 15 cadets wanted every six months. So the Government at that time took steps to induce capable young men to join the army and to qualify for admission into the Military Academy through the ranks and these young men who were specially induced to join the army are now described as the 'Y' cadets. A number of questions have been asked and answered on the floor of this House and the condition of recruitment of the ' Y ' cadets has been fully explained to the Members here. It is evident that these ' Y ' cadets were induced to join the army in the year 1930-31 and although no specific promise was made to them, expectations were raised in their minds that if they were properly recommended and if they pass the test that was required of them, they will have a preferential claim to be admitted into the Military Academy. But since the enrolment of these ' Y ' cadets it was found by the army authorities that persons already recruited into the army and serving in the commissioned and non-commissioned ranks of the various regiments were also drawn from the properly educated classes and that they were also eligible for admission into the Military Academy. So, the fear that was at first entertained that a sufficient number of cadets would not be available was found to be unfounded and it was found that the supply from the ranks ordinarily recruited was nearly sufficient.

[At this stage Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty vacated the Chair which was then occupied by Sir Leslie Hudson, one of the Panel of Chairmen.]

Now, a sort of a competition has arisen between the ' Y ' cadets and the men who come regularly from the army. The ' Y ' cadets joined the army with expectation of being sent up to the Military Academy ; but the recruits that were ordinarily recruited in the army did not join the army with that expectation. Their highest expectation was to rise to the Viceroy's Commission and at the end of their service to be Subedar-Major or Risaldar Major. Of course, according to the new rules they were perfectly legible for being sent to the Military Academy if they were found fit and I am glad and rather proud of the army that they are supplying men in sufficient numbers from the army to take up the vacancies in the Military Academy. But, Sir, on account of the unexpected supply from the regular army, the chances of the 'Y' cadets have been rather shaky and many of the parents of the 'Y' cadets are entertaining reasonable fears that perhaps at the end of three or four years their sons might be thrown out of the army. It is to ventilate this feeling of the parents that this Resolution appears to have been tabled by my learned friend. Sir, there were in all, as we were told here, 34 cadets recruited, out of whom about seven or eight have been already admitted into the Military Academy. Three have resigned and two or three are found to be not fit for the officer's job in the army. So, I am given to understand that about 20 candidates are yet awaiting their admission into the Military Academy. The recruiting of 'Y' cadets has been stopped since 1931 and no more cadets are now taken on those conditions. Therefore, this number is a very limited one and the second part of the Resolution asks Government to make special provision for these young lads. These young lads have mostly come from the colleges. They have joined the army in the lowest grade on the expectation that they will have an opportunity of serving their country by being sent to the Military Academy and afterwards serving in the officers' ranks. The military service is not a very remunerative service. The expenses of the officers are very heavy and it is found that at least in the first five or six years the salary that is paid them is not sufficient to maintain an officer. Therefore the parents or the guardians of the young officers have to supplement their salaries. So, from the pecuniary point of view the military service is not a very attractive one. These youngmen from the colleges have joined the service in the lowest rank and are roughing it not for the sake of lucre but for higher sense of service to their country. These youngmen were spending Rs. 50 to Rs. 70 a month in their college career and now they have to serve on Rs. 16 a month in the army with all the inconveniences and hardships to which a private is exposed. They are all doing it very courageously and it is very creditable to them. Now, I ask Government to see that they also discharge their duty by them. They were especially recruited and the commanding officers of the regiments to whom they were attached have been asked to submit quarterly reports about their work, and in the case of 20 cadets I am given to understand that the reports are almost satisfactory. It is for Government to see that they do something for these young men. I do not mean to say that the admission of the regular officers from the army to the Military Academy should be stopped in order to provide vacancies for these 'Y' cadets. It would be an act of injustice in the case of the ordinary officers who are found fit for the Academy. But, then, if Government finds it difficult to make provision in the number of admissions each six month to satisfy the claims of the officers from the regular army and of the 'Y' cadets, then the prayer of this House is that the number of admissions from the 'Y' cadets from the army should be increased in order to provide sufficient vacancies for the 'Y' cadets. This will be required to be done for a year or two and it will not be a permanent arrangement, because when these 20 cadets are cleared off, then the regular admission of 15 officers from the army may be resumed. Therefore, we pray, Sir, that Government should take these things into consideration and send these 20 cadets to the Army as early as possible. This is the prayer that has been offered in the second part of the Resolution. These 'Y' cadets as well as the officers from the army have to be admitted into the Academy before they complete their 25th year. There is an age-limit. If this age-limit is passed before they are admitted into the Academy, then their whole career will be blighted and it is for this reason that this prayer is placed before Government.

[Mr. B. V. Jadhav.]

Mr. Chairman (Sir Leslie Hudson) : The Honourable Member has one minute more.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : At the same time, I pray that those persons who have been found or will be found unfit for the officers' ranks should also be provided by the military authorities in the Military Finance Department or some other civil employment, so that those boys who left their college career need not be sent away in search of other jobs. They have left their college career and cannot resume it. If they are now asked to resign the army, they will be thrown out of employment and their lot will be a hard one. Therefore Government should take steps to provide them with suitable jobs.

Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar (Nominated Non-Official) : Sir, I rise to make a few observations on the Resolution under discussion. At the outset, I wholeheartedly thank my Honourable friends, the Mover and Mr. Jadhav, for taking keen interest in improving the position of the Indian Army ranks. After all they have realised that something substantial must be done to improve the standard of education among the Indian army ranks. The Indian soldiers have proved in many battlefields to be not inferior to any other soldier of the world. Before I proceed further, I wish to clear a doubt regarding "Y" cadets. I think in the minds of many Honourable Members there is a difference between "Y" cadets and Indian ranks. As far as I know, there is no "Y" cadets in the Indian army. The other day I asked a question to the Army Secretary about the definition of "Y" cadets. The Army Secretary said :

> "As I attempted to explain the other day, the 'Y' cadet is the term used in this country and is a term applied to certain young men who went in for open competition of the army and failed to secure sufficiently high marks to get a place and were then given an opportunity of getting into the Indian army by entering some regiment or other as a sepoy and, thereafter, running their chance of securing cadetship in the Indian Military Academy."

In the Indian Military College Committee Report, paragraph 40, they have simply mentioned "Indian army cadet". They have sanctioned some privileges only for the "Indian army cadet", not for "Y" cadet. They say :

> "We consider that like the army cadets at the academy the Indian army cadets should receive their education at the Indian military college free of charge."

They never mention the word "Y" cadet. I do not know how this expression has come to the minds of my Honourable friends. It is a very old expression which used to be prevalent in the British Army when the ranks were given Commissions in the Sandhurst and they were called "Y" cadets. But here, in the Indian Army, any young man who joins the Indian ranks is entitled to go for the examination and, if he receives a special certificate, then, on the recommendation of C. O., he is liable to be selected to go to the Indian Military College. In the second part of the Resolution, the Mover says :

[Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar.]

" That if this be not found practicable at present steps be taken to increase the number of admissions by selection from the ranks and especially from the ' Y ' cadets before they pass the age-limit."

I must bring to the notice of the Honourable the Mover that there is no " Y " cadet and, therefore, the Resolution should simply be " by selection from the ranks of the Indian Army ".

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : May I remind the Honourable Member that in the speech of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, on the 1st October last, at the opening of the Military Academy, he also used the term " Y " cadets.

Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar : No doubt the term is used. But there is no " Y " cadet officially recognised in the Indian army. As a matter of fact, the term is used for the Indian army cadet.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : Then ultimately that term will cease.

Mr. S. C. Mitra : The term is well understood by everybody.

Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar : For the Indian army cadet there is some sort of standard of education laid down and that is called special certificate. If he passes the special certificate, he is entitled to be recommended for selection as an Indian army cadet. What I want to bring to the notice of my Honourable friend, the Army Secretary, is about the education of the Indian army cadets. In the open competition, they take the boys who come out of college with high education and, after selection, they go to the Indian Military Academy where there is a handicap to the Indian army cadets, because the latter have to compete with brother cadets who have very high educational qualifications. If my Honourable friends really want to improve the conditions and the position of the Indian army cadets, then they should support me in the following suggestions. Owing to a very keen competition for admission to the Indian Military Academy, very highly educated candidates, with a thorough grounding, by paid coaches of exceptional merits, appear for the Indian Sandhurst open competitive examinations, whereas candidates who have received education at the King George's military schools, Jhelum, Jullundur and Ajmer, are generally in a disadvantageous position when competing against such candidates, owing to the fact that the education imparted to them by Indian officers employed in the military schools of Jhelum and Jullundur is out of date. The Indian officer instructors are not highly educated and have had no proper educational training and are, therefore, not fitted to instruct their students so as to enable them to compete with their fellow competitors. I, therefore, humbly suggest that the tutorial staff in the King George's military schools of Jhelum and Jullundur should be civilians of highest educational qualifications preferably with up-to-date knowledge of their special subjects. I wish to point out that it will be possible to effect an economy in the expenditure of these schools in this way as the salaries now paid to the Indian officers would be in excess of what the civilian teachers will receive. The present standard of education, though much improved, since the last two years, falls much short of what is required for the Indian Sandhurst competitive examination. I would add that one Indian officer and three or four non-commissioned officers should, however, be retained in the cadre of instructors for the purpose of drill, etc.

The second suggestion is this. It is a matter of sincere gratitude that the military authorities in India have recognised the services of the old Indian army by granting 50 per cent. of the King's Commissions to educated Non-Commissioned Officers serving in the Indian army, but most of the Indian officers, while appreciating fully the idea of Indian Army cadet, complain that no preferential treatment is meted out to their sons in the selection of the three vacancies which are entirely left in the hands of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in the competitive examination for admission to the Indian Military Academy and which they consider should go to the sons of the deserving Indian officers. They believe that owing to their services in the Indian army, during the long past and their sacrifices and achievements in upholding and even enhancing the reputation of the army, their sons are deserving of special preferential treatment as even now the rank and file in the army consists of their own kith and kin. They further request that, while selecting cadets from amongst the educated Non-Commissioned Officers of the Indian army, preference may kindly be given to the sons of the deserving Indian officers who have served the benign Government with great distinction. In conclusion, I hope my Honourable friends will have every sympathy to improve the conditions of the Indian army cadets. (Applause.)

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I had to do something with regard to the entrance of a certain candidate into the Indian Sandhurst and I, therefore, feel that having taken an interest in it I have certain views on this question.

Sir, the Resolution, as it is worded, only means that what is required is further and more Indianisation of the army. On this question it cannot possibly be denied that Government have made a beginning in order to recruit Indian officers into the army. But our complaint is that the process is very slow. It is a snail's pace and we do not know when we are going to achieve our ultimate goal of Indianisation. As it is at present, I find that there are so many technicalities and difficulties in getting into this Academy which may be called the Indian Sandhurst that it is high time that there should be encouragement given to the candidates to enter the Prince of Wales College and the Academy. Sir, I submit that that allegation, which was being thrown into our face that there is a dearth of candidates, is long past. There are plenty of candidates now and people are anxious to send their children into the Prince of Wales College and, if there are any difficulties there, they should be solved and encouragement should be given. Sir, I said I had to do something with the entrance of a certain candidate into the Indian Sandhurst. I know a case in which a certain candidate had been sent up. The procedure with regard to the Prince of Wales College is that a student should be under 12 years of age and that he has first of all to approach the District Magistrate of his district and get a certificate from him, which is rather not easy. Then, if he is fortunate in securing that certificate, he has to go to the Civil Surgeon. Of course I do not think there is much difficulty there. Then he has to go to the Provincial Government. The Provincial Government has to recommend him, and then only that candidate can come up for selection before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief at Delhi. Now, you can take it from me, Sir, that influence is required to go through all this ordeal. It is not, as a matter of course, that the candidates are selected in that manner. Great influence has to be exercised and then only they can be sent for selection before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

[Mr. Lalchand Navalrai.]

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham (Army Secretary) : Sir, may I interrupt the Honourable Member for one minute ? The Resolution before the House deals with admission to the Indian Military Academy at Dehra Dun and has nothing whatever to do with the Prince of Wales College, which is merely a public school for preparation for the army. I thought I might remove that misapprehension because, from what Mr. Lalchand Navalrai was saying, the House might get the impression that entrance into the Academy was a matter of influence, and so on. Entrance into the Military Academy which we are now discussing is entirely by open competition held by the Public Service Commission.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : If my Honourable friend had waited a little, he would have found that I was coming to the Academy in a short time and show the Honourable Member what the difficulties were with regard to that Academy. My submission is that it is this Prince of Wales College which gives tuition to these young boys, keeps them for seven years and then sends them up for the Academy. The Prince of Wales College is a stepping stone to the Academy.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : As a matter of fact, they do send a certain number of boys to the Academy, but the Government College at Lahore, for instance, and other different institutions have succeeded, I believe, in sending a larger number of candidates to the Academy than the Prince of Wales College at Dehra Dun.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Therefore, I was within my rights in pointing out first of all the difficulties with regard to the Prince of Wales College.

Sir, to continue, I am much thankful to the Army Secretary who just got up to correct me. I said that there are certain technicalities in the way of candidates though I am thankful to the Honourable the Army Secretary for getting that boy, in whom I was interested, out of such a difficulty. I said that there was selection to take place before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. In that connection there are many difficulties that arise. In the instance which I have mentioned seven or eight candidates had to be selected from those recommended by the Provincial Governments. The boy in whom I was interested was not fortunate in getting the 8th place. It was given to somebody else and he was sent away. Then he had to appear in the next examination which was after six months. But just at that time he would have been about one or two days over age and, therefore, the parents, who were anxious to get that boy admitted into the Prince of Wales College, were very much exercised over this question. I had to approach the Army Secretary and he very kindly helped me in the matter. Fortune also favoured him and it so happened that the eighth boy who was selected did not appear at all so that there was a vacancy and he got it.

Well, Sir, what I wanted to point out was this that in encouraging these students to go into the Prince of Wales College and also to the Academy these small technicalities should not be stuck to. Then, the question, really covered by this Resolution, is that there should be an increase in the number of candidates taken. To take only eight or nine students from outside is a very slow process towards getting Indian officers into the Indian army. Government, of course, are sincere in what they are doing about Indianisation, but they should see that it is made quicker, and that is the sole object of this Resolution. On this point, Sir, it will be very pertinent to refer to the statement of the Secretary of State, Sir Samuel Hoare, at the Round Table Conference on behalf of the British Government Delegation on the army question. I will quote a few passages and then ask what has been done since this statement was made and whether the assurance given by the Secretary of State has been implemented. He said :

"Then there was the wider question of the case of Indianisation and there they were invited here and now to state a programme and to give almost an undertaking that at a particular date the whole of the Indian army would be Indianised. They could not act in that way. With the best will in the world nobody could give an undertaking of that kind. They had got to take into account a number of very important, and some of them rather obscure, factors."

Then he made a statement of the difficulties with regard to the expenditure, military efficiency and some other. And now I will give the concluding portion of his speech : In the concluding portion he said :

"Those were questions suggested to the Conference, upon which nobody could dogmatise at present ; the most they could do was to state quite categorically that their policy was a policy of Indianisation in as large a measure as was consistent with efficiency. They had shown their goodwill in setting up the Indian Sandhurst with very little delay and in quickening up the rate of the experiment upon which they were already engaged."

Now, I would like to be enlightened by the Honourable the Army Secretary how that experiment has been carried out. He goes on further to say :

"Let them not think that the Government had no programme and were simply drifting on. They had a definite programme, viz., the Indianising of an Indian division and an Indian Cavalry Brigade and it was hoped that they would have other programmes of the same kind when they had seen how that experiment was going. As that experiment proceeded, if it proceeded satisfactorily, they would be able to have a more ambitious programme than that upon which they were now engaged."

That was the statement made in 1932 ; and I would like to know how far that experiment has succeeded and how far we are now going to be put upon that ambitious programme.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : Sir, as my friend, Mr. Jadhav, has pointed out, this Resolution falls into two parts : the Honourable the Mover dealt very clearly with the first part, and Mr. Jadhav, if I may say so, dealt even more clearly with the second part and explained the position of the 'Y' cadets in terms which were almost entirely accurate. I must deal with both parts of the Resolution. I take it that the object of the first part of the Resolution is to recommend that the number of admissions into the Indian Military Academy should be increased on the ground, so far as I understand it, mainly that the supply of suitable candidates now largely exceeds the demand. Even if that fact were true—and I do not deny that it would be possible to get a larger number of youths who would be capable of passing the entrance examination than the thirty a year which is now the rule—I do not think that it follows for that reason alone that we should necessarily increase the number of admissions. It might as well be argued that the strength of the Indian Civil Service should be increased because there were a large number of boys in the country who had the brains to pass the examination for entrance into the Indian Civil Service. It has been repeatedly explained to this House that the intake for the Indian

[Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham.]

Military Academy is calculated exactly to carry out the programme of Indianisation which is now the declared policy of Government : that is to say, to supply a sufficient number of officers to Indianise one whole Division and a Cavalry Brigade with all the necessary ancillary services. The annual intake required for that purpose, after taking into account the normal wastage and also the fact that the number of fully commissioned Indian officers per battalion in future will be greater than it is at present owing to the fact that in the Indianised army of the future the Viceroy's commissioned officer will not be required,—the annual intake required for that purpose is 60 a year. If therefore we were to increase the number of admissions to the Indian Military Academy to 70 or 80 a year, it would mean that we should be getting more officers than we require for that purpose : in other words, the demand for an increased number of admissions to the Academy is in effect a demand for an alteration in the present policy of the Government of India in respect of Indianisation. We have periodical debates in this House, and there have also been debates in another place, on this question of the programme of Indianisation ; and I cannot add anything to what His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief said on March 6th in another place in dealing with this subject. What His Excellency then said was as follows :

"The programme of Indianisation was recommended and agreed to by the Sandhurst Committee over which I presided. That policy, Sir, was not undertaken without the most careful thought on the part of everybody concerned, and for reasons which I have very often given, I think the House must realise that we cannot alter it at a moment's notice."

He went on a little bit later to say :

"It is when the present officers have had 6 or 7 years' more service and are commanding companies, squadrons and possibly batteries that an advance might come. In another 6 or 7 years is the time to accelerate Indianisation ; and I am perfectly certain that if these young men who are now serving in the Army show when they have got 14 years' service that they are fit to assume the responsibility, which I think most of them will be fit for, there will be no question but that Indianisation will be very rapidly increased."

Now, the time has not come to make that advance when the first batch of cadets has not yet passed out of the Indian Military Academy, and that brings me to another point in the first part of the Resolution. It seems to be assumed that because there is an ample supply of young men who are capable of passing this entrance examination, therefore they must ipso facto be suitable material to make military officers. That, I think, is a very large assumption to make. In fact it begs the whole question ; and I do think it is necessary to sound a note of warning against undue optimism in this respect. I have no doubt, at least I think, that if I had tried very hard I might myself have succeeded in passing any of the army examinations at home ; but I very much doubt whether I should personally ever have made a good military officer. The passing of the entrance examination is merely the first step on the ladder, and there are many rungs which have to be climbed before a man can prove his worth as a military officer. Even as it is, we have had some rather disquieting reports from the Commandant of the Indian Military Academy as to the quality of the candidates who have already succeeded in getting admission to that Academy. The Commandant, Brigadier Collins—and I am sure that every one who knows him will agree that no officer could be more sympathetic towards Indian aspirations and more whole-hearted in his determination to make the Academy a success—has, as I say, reported that there is a very large difference between the quality of those candidates who get in at the top of the list and those who get in at the bottom of the list. The ones who get in at the top are very good, but of those who get in at the bottom some have already found the curriculum at the Academy too much for them. One or two have already had to drop out, and a few more have had to be put back for a term at least. We are making good these deficiencies so as to keep the Academy up to its full strength and not to retard in any way the progress of Indianisation ; but that does give some indication that the standard that we have at present set for qualifying for entry into the Indian Military Academy is on the low side, and that we may have to think about raising that standard.

Now, Sir, I must come to the second part of this Resolution which deals with the number of entries from the Indian Army and particularly with the question of 'Y' cadets.

4 P.M.

What I have already said about increasing the total number of admissions to the Academy applies equally of course to increasing the number of Indian Army cadets. The only way that we could increase the number of Indian Army cadets would be at the expense of the open competition candidates, and I think the House as a whole will agree that that would be a most unfair step to take. I hope I shall also be able to show that it would be equally unfair to increase the number of vacancies for these 'Y' cadets at the expense of the other Indian Army cadets. Now, Sir, there has been a good deal of talk about the term 'Y' cadet. It is merely a convenient term to apply to a number of young men who, as I explained the other day, went in for the open examination for the Indian Military Academy and failed in the written papers to qualify at that examination, but who managed to catch the eye of the members of the Interview and Record Board at the time as being likely to prove good officers, if they really and honestly wished to join the army. Although, therefore, many of them did not come from families with military traditions,—and they were perhaps of a somewhat higher social standard than those who generally join the Indian Army as sepoys,—they were given a chance of gaining admission to the Indian Military Academy by securing one of these Indian Army cadetships, by being offered the opportunity of joining the army in the ranks as a sepoy.

Now, Sir, it seems to be assumed by my friend, Mr. Jadhav, that these young men were definitely induced to join the Indian Army and that they were given some kind of promise that if they did well they would ultimately get a commission or at any rate admission into the.....

Mr. B. V. Jadhav : What about the expectations raised in them ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : That is not true, Sir. I have here with me the actual letter written to these so-called 'Y' cadets in 1931. It begins by saying :

"The Interview and Record Board before which you appeared in June last has brought to the notice of Army Headquarters that you are anxious to join the Army with the object of gaining through the ranks a nomination for the military college."

The letter then goes on to lay down the various terms and conditions under which they would be allowed to join the army and ends up by saying :

"You must distinctly understand that no promise of any kind can be given to you. Your progress will depend upon your conduct, industry and the attention you pay to your duties" and so on.

[Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham.]

Now, Sir, I myself, and I think all the army authorities have nothing but respect and admiration for these young men. I think, Sir, that they showed considerable grit and determination in choosing this chance and deliberately undertaking a fairly hard life for several years in the hope ultimately of obtaining commissions in the army ; and I say, Sir, if they stick to it and succeed, all honour to them. But, Sir, they must not complain. That is not a way that they have in the army, and complaints, if they are unjustified, will do no good to anybody, and certainly will not do them any good. They went into this with their eyes open ; they knew that their success must depend entirely upon their own efforts. All that they were promised was a fair field and no favour, and I can assure the House that that promise is being strictly adhered to. As I explained the other day in this House, the officers at Army Headquarters receive periodical reports from the Commanding Officers on these young men,—I have seen those reports myself,—and I can assure the House that they are very careful and sympathetic reports, and that there is no trace of prejudice of any kind in them.

The facts are that, there were altogether 34 originally of these so-called ' Y ' cadets. Four of them were selected in 1930, and all those four have now got into the Indian Military Academy. In 1931 we selected a further batch of 30. Four again have succeeded in gaining admission into the Academy, three of them have retired at their own request thinking that they can do better elsewhere, and four of them have been discharged as unsuitable. That leaves 19 altogether who are still serving with their units. None of these young men have had more than two years' service in the army ; they still have several years to go before there is any possible danger of their being over-age, because the age limit in their case is 25. I do not think, Sir, that they have any right to consider, merely because they have had two years' service in the army, without any previous military experience, that they are the complete soldier already, or that they are in some way superior to the ordinary man who joins the Indian Army in the ordinary way. Many young men nowadays of a comparatively high educational standard do join the Indian army in the ordinary way. I know of several boys with university degrees who have joined as sepoys, and therefore it is a fact that these ' Y ' cadets have a fairly severe competition against them in the Army.....

Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar : May I know, Sir, who is the authority who enlists these ' Y ' cadets ? Has the Commanding Officer of a regiment the authority to do it ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : As I have explained, they were given certain terms of enlistment on the recommendation of the Public Service Commission. They were recommended to particular Commanding Officers who took them on in the ordinary way as sepoys and on the recommendation of the authorities at Army Headquarters.

Captain Sher Muhammad Khan Gakhar : If they are qualified, are the Commanding Officers authorised to take them in their regiments ?

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham : They were not compelled to do so, but they agreed to do so.

Now, Sir, as I was saying, the standard of education in the Indian Army generally seems to be a good deal higher than we ourselves had reason to expect some years ago. We have been rather pleasurably surprised and I can assure my friend, Captain Sher Muhammad Khan, that the Indian Army Cadets at the Military Academy have had no difficulty so far in holding their own with the open cadets. We always have our eyes open to the need of providing adequate educational facilities in order to give these young men in the army a fair chance of getting cadetships at the Academy. The suggestions he has made for improvements at the King George's schools will certainly be taken into consideration. But my point is that it would be grossly unfair to the ordinary Indian Army man to give these particular ' Y ' cadets any form of preference whatever in the matter of allotting vacancies at the Military Academy. The only complaint, Sir, that I can possibly see that these young men could have is that it would be unfair to keep them on in their units for too long if they were definitely unsuitable for vacancies at the Academy. On that account, we have recently asked Commanding Officers,—after all these young men have been in their units for two years and Commanding Officers should by this time have formed an opinion of their character and should be able to say of most of them whether they are likely to be unsuitable,—we have asked the Commanding Officers to inform the ' Y ' cadets, whom they consider unsuitable, of the fact, as soon as possible, so that they may have an opportunity of taking up some other walk in life. Those who remain will have a very fair chance, indeed a very good chance, of eventually getting into the Indian Military Academy, provided that they are not too impatient about it and continue to do their best in their regiments. In fact, as I said the other day in answer to a question, I can assure the Honourable Member that the claims of the persons in question will receive every possible consideration at the hands of the military authorities, and that every effort will be made to give nominations to the Indian Military Academy to those who prove themselves likely to make good officers.

I am afraid, Sir, I can say no more than that, but what I have said will, I hope, convince my friend, Mr. Jadhav, and the other supporters of this motion, that the ' Y ' cadets are being given a fair chance ; and if that, Sir, is the portion of this Resolution to which my friends attach the greatest importance, I would ask them to accept my assurance that everything possible is being done in the matter and that there is no real cause for complaint.

Mr. B. N. Misra : May I say that the Army Secretary has not referred to the 50 per cent. Indianisation about which I put a question ?

Some Honourable Members : Withdraw the Resolution.

Mr. B. N. Misra : I beg leave of the House to withdraw the Resolution.

Mr. Chairman (Sir Leslie Hudson) : Has the Honourable Member leave of the House to withdraw the Resolution ?

Honourable Members : Yes.

The Resolution was, by leave of the Assembly, withdrawn.

[At this stage, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) resumed the Chair.]

RESOLUTION RE GRIEVANCES OF THE TRAVELLING PUBLIC ON THE ASSAM BENGAL RAILWAY.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Diwan Bahadur Harbilas Sarda has authorised Kumar Gopika Ramon Roy to move the Resolution standing in his name.

Kumar G. R. Roy (Surma Valley cum Shillong : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, I beg to move the following Resolution :

"This Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council that immediate and adequate steps be taken by the Railway Board to redress the various grievances of the general travelling public and particularly of the public travelling by the Assam Bengal Railway."

Sir, it has been my lot again to whisper in the ears of the Honourable Member in charge my woeful tale. I will whisper in the ears of the Commerce Member the woeful tales of my constituency with regard to the Assam Bengal Railway times without number till their grievances are redressed. His predecessor, the Honourable Sir George Rainy, assured me in 1931, in the conclusion of his speech, with these words :

"I hope my Honourable friend, the Mover, will be satisfied that we will look into the points he has raised to see what we can do."

But, to my utter disappointment, I have again to repeat that no appreciable redress of our grievances has been made except one, and that is also partly.

Sir, I represented to the House various grievances on the Assam Bengal Railway out of which only one has been partly redressed, and that in connection with the bath of the upper class passengers. Mr. R. L. Bliss, the Agent of the Assam Bengal Railway, writes and informs me in his letter No. E.P.|337 of October, 1331.....

An Honourable Member : 1331 ? 1931 ? It is 600 years !

Kumar G. R. Roy : Sir, we may have to wait for more than a century to have our grievances redressed ; we may have to wait for even 600 years :

"With reference to your interview with me on August 6th, 1931.

Important junction stations have bath rooms equipped with bath and cold bath can be obtained but if hot water is required special arrangements would be required to be made with Station Masters concerned."

All the rest have gone from bad to worse, the details of which I will submit, later on, before the House. This is just why I am going to repeat that I will, like Dickens's character, whenever I meet the Honourable Member, whisper into his ears times without number the most uninteresting piece of information and he may sneer like the "Lady of Love" "Willis is barking".

Sir, in order to expedite the removal of the grievances on the Assam Bengal Railway, I personally went to Chittagong to see the Railway Agent and to explain matters to him by discussion there. I saw him on the 6th August, 1931, and explained matters in detail. Perhaps Honourable Members in this House do well remember the innumerable grievances I mentioned on the floor of this House. One of them was raised platforms with sheds in the stations. The Agent told me that, owing to the scarcity of funds, the question of raised platforms could not be considered. I requested him to proceed with the work gradually, though not all at a time, in one or two stations every year. He told me, if I remember aright his wordings, that "Blue Pencil" would go in Delhi and Simla from one end of the paper to another straight off if he proposed any expenditure on the raised platforms question, while, Sir, for the convenience of the passengers, to construct raised platforms in one or two stations may mean a nominal expenditure of Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 2,000 only.

May I ask the Honourable Member in charge of Railways, how much he did sanction to set up electric installation at Badarpur junction during these financial crisis and for whose convenience ? Perhaps it will be amusing.....(Laughter.) There are no laughing stocks here. Perhaps it will be amusing for Honourable Members to note that, after the departure of 10 Down at 19 hours 47 minutes from Badarpur junction, there is no other train in the night. The first train that arrives in the morning at Badarpur is the 9 Up at 6 hours 14 minutes. This is one of the finest specimens of the strictest economy that is observed by our pet darling, the Assam Bengal Railway, and this is how the Railways in India rise to the public grievances. A perusal of the "Assam Bengal Railway Time Table" will bear me out. Here is the guide.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : Does the Honourable Member mean to present me with a copy, or does he lay it on the table ?

Kumar G. R. Roy : It is for the Honourable Member's ready reference, because I will refer him to many instances out of this guide. This is how one of the most important public necessities was rejected at the outset in the interview on the ground of financial stringency. For the railway platform in the Assam Bengal Railway Stations, the Honourable Mr. Sasanka Mohan Das, my successor in the Assam Legislative Council, has raised his voice, but he was referred to this poor Member who has started barking since 1931, and is going on barking still.

Perhaps Honourable Members in this House have not forgotten that I represented in the House that one of the causes of the frequent flood in the Chargola and Longai Valleys was the silting up of the rivers Chargola, Longai and Poamara and that for the construction of the bridges by the railway which was interrupting the free flow of the water in the rainy season. I raised that question in the same interview with the Agent at Chittagong and here is the reply of the Chief Engineer of the Assam Bengal Railway which has been forwarded to me by the Agent with a forwarding note No. E.P.|210, dated Chittagong, the 29th September, 1931. The letter runs thus :

"Dear Sir : Silting of the Longai and Chargola. At the interview you had with me in my office on 6th August, 1931, you stated that due to silting at the Longai and Chargola bridges the free flow of water is impeded. I enclose a copy of my Chief Engineer's letter No. W.|7|8|20, dated 23rd September, 1931, in this connection from which it will be seen that silting up is due to natural causes and not to the bridges themselves."

I am also tempted to read the contents of the Chief Engineer's letters which run as follows :

"Alleged silting of the Longai and Chargola. Your No. E.|337, dated 8th August, 1931. The bed of the Longai at the main line bridge has a greater average depth now than when the bridge was built. The Chargola does show some silting which is due to natural causes and not to the bridge. The Chargola is not a very active river and there have been complaints about its deterioration up the valley for many years. In the 1929 flood there was no appreciable current and practically still water under the bridge, the discharge passing by the Puamara Bridge to the Longai and a similar state of affairs existed in the 1916 flood. Under these conditions, some silting is to be expected."

[Kumar G. R. Roy.]

Though the Chief Engineer of the Assam Bengal Railway has followed the principle of suppressio veri, still he had not the heart to fully repudiate the allegations I made on the floor of this House in 1931. The Chief Engineer has plainly confessed that there have been "complaints about its (Chargola river) deterioration up the valley for many years". He has also confessed that the Chargola does show some silting up which is due to the natural causes and not to the bridge. But, Sir, who is to arbitrate into the grievances if we go for redress against a railway question to the Member in charge of Railways, who is enjoying tranquillity in the salubrious climate of Shillong and who has no chance of losing a straw of his own in the flood, will promptly rise on his legs and reply that Assam Bengal is a "Company-managed" railway and that he has no control over it. The matter may be placed before the Central Legislature. So he is helpless to give us any relief there. So I tried to soften the heart of the Honourable Member in charge here, but we had no redress except the hollow words of solace. Recently in August last, flood has again threatened the Chargola Valley.

Sir, Railways, be they Government or "Company-managed", might be the pet child of the Government here and Government there (in Assam). But inundation by repeated floods is a life and death question to the inhabitants of Chargola and Longai Valleys. Is it too much if we expect that the Honourable the Member in charge of the Railways will rise adequate to the occasion and make a thorough inquiry into the causes of floods that frequent in the Surma Valley by which we are going to face extreme poverty gradually.

Sir, on the interview with the Agent at Chittagong, I represented to him the dire necessity of removing the Phakhoagram station from its present site to a more convenient and safe place. The Agent told me that he will inquire into the matter and let me know his decision. I have already said that I went to see him in the beginning of August, 1931, but I did not get a reply till February, 1932, on this subject. Seeing the unusual delay to get a reply, I wrote to the Agent on the 25th January, 1932, No. A.-103, and it runs as follows :

"My dear Mr. Bliss, I came to learn from reliable sources that you are going to construct a permanent structure of Phakhoagram Railway station on the Chargola Railway branch of your railway. Perhaps you remember that when I went to Chittagong and met you on the 6th August, last year, I requested you to remove the Phakhoagram station from its present site to the vicinity of your telegraph mileage Mark 258|3 or 258|4, that is near Noa Nabin village. This site will be highly convenient to the travelling public of your railway from the both eastern and western bank of the Son Beal. This site will be convenient for both rainy season and winter traffic too. I am sure it will be convenient for goods traffic and not only for passengers. The boat will be within a few yards of the Railway station if the station is constructed to my suggested site. Almost all the railway earnings of Phakhoagram are derived from my Estate and my tenants, and as a flag station I think the income of Phakhoagram is not negligible on the K. L. V. and Chargola line. I would also suggest, if you kindly accede to my suggestion of site, for the Phakhoagram station to create a siding on the said station. It is highly inconvenient for us to get goods loaded or unloaded on the present site where Phakhoagram station is situated. For these inconveniences we get our goods by boats from Karimganj. The principal inconveniences and disadvantages of the present site of the Phakhoagram station are the following :

(1) There is no road to go to the present Phakhoagram station except by the railway line by both sides of which there are narrow strips of paths. From my personal experience I am of opinion that there is every likelihood of serious accidents to the pedestrians who alight at Phakhoagram or entrain there. The people in this part of the country, I hope you will realise, have little experience of travelling on foot side by side with a running train, and there is every possibility of their being run over by a running train. The passengers from the eastern bank of Son Beal are to walk from Noa Nabin village, that is to say, the telegraph post 258|5 to Phakhoagram station, that is about a distance of half a mile or above. Perhaps you will agree that this is undoubtedly a very dangerous practice to which the travelling public have no other alternative but to indulge.

(2) There is a railway bridge of two spans which is also to be crossed and which has neither any foot path by the side nor the slippers are covered by anything and the travelling public, from the eastern bank of Son Beal and Noa Nabin village, have no other alternative but to cross the bridge over the slippers. Would you kindly imagine what would be the fate of the poor pedestrians if they slip down from the railway slippers over the bridge or if a running train meets the pedestrians on the middle of the bridge? The bridge is considerably high and the bed of the Phakhoacherra is covered with big slabs of stones.

(3) The evening train from Karimganj to Dullavcherra arrives at Phakhoagram station at about 9 P.M. and the present Phakhoagram station, being situated within the hills and jungles, is frequented by tigers just after the departure of the train. This fact, I hope, will be corroborated by the Station Master of Phakhoagram. In fact, my tenants have reported to me several times that they met the king of the forest on the railway road and they escaped with their lives by the help of country torches and shoutings. Perhaps you will also agree that this is not also desirable that a railway station should be located in such a dangerous place if it can be avoided and that by a nominal expenditure. All these dangers could be avoided if the station is removed to my suggested site.

(4) Of the womenfolk who intend to travel by the railway from Phakhoagram, I hope you will be able to imagine what it means.

Under the circumstances, I hope you will give my suggestion your kind consideration and select the site I have proposed for the New Phakhoagram station for which myself with my tenants will be highly obliged."

To this letter the Agent replied by his letter, demi-official No. A.|918, dated the 3rd February, 1932, as follows :

"Your letter of 25th January. There is at present no intention to construct a permanent station building at Phakhoagram Railway Station.

2. If it is decided to do so at some future date or to move the present station building, your suggestions will receive careful consideration.

3. I regret very much that you were not informed of my decision not to move the existing station."

Sir, I am placing on the table a map for the Honourable Members to form an opinion as to what amount of apathy the Assam Bengal Railway Administration shows towards the inconvenience of the travelling public. I want this map* to go in the proceedings of the House. In this map Honourable Members will find the dangerous position through which the Assam Bengal Railway compels the passengers to travel. Sir, by the side of the Railway bridges I have seen notices with the inscription "Trespassers will be prosecuted", but the Assam Bengal Railway has forced the passengers to travel over the Railway bridge

*Not included in these Debates.

[Kumar G. R. Roy.]

and that at a Railway curve. In the map I have also shown my proposed site where the station could be conveniently removed. Sir, my apprehension of falling from the railway bridge at Phakhoagram has been a reality. On the 28th December, 1932, a peon of mine named Gokul Namasudra received serious injuries by falling from the Phakhoagram station bridge. The poor fellow had to remain in the Karimganj hospital for nearly a month and a half and now he has come out of the hospital with one hand practically useless for any work. The morning following I sent the following telegram to the Agent :

"My peon, Muktarampore Gokul Namasudra, received serious wound by falling from Phakhoagram station bridge last night while going to escort officers from station, please note."

Sir, I received no reply to my telegram from the Agent nor do I know of any inquiry being made into such a serious accident. Neither did he think it worth while to take any notice of the injured man in the Karimganj hospital, if not from any other consideration at least from the humanitarian point of view. Perhaps the House will be eager to know what will be the approximate expenditure of removing the station. The Phakhoagram station is a hut having a bamboo split roofing, bamboo split wall and bamboo posts. In any case, it will not cost more than Rs. 200 to build such a new hut. The removal of the station to my proposed site would not have cost more than Rs. 100. Having lost all hopes about the removal of this station, I tabled a Resolution on the 22nd July, 1932, reading as follows :

"This Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council that immediate steps be taken to remove the Phakhoagram railway station on the Karimganj Dullavcherra section to a more suitable site."

But I regret very much to bring to your notice, Sir, that since then I have not received any opportunity to ventilate the grievances of my constituency on the floor of this House. I also requested verbally Mr. S. C. Das, the District Traffic Superintendent, Badarpur, to cover the sleepers on the bridge with a few corrugated sheets for the pedestrians to walk over the bridge with some safety. The District Traffic Superintendent informed me later orally that the covering of the railway sleepers was not permissible under railway rules as it might mean that the railway allowed the bridge for the thoroughfare of the pedestrians. What a nice logic ! They will compel the passengers to travel over the bridge and the railway line as there is no other alternative but to proceed from Noa Nabin village to Phakhoagram, but they will not cover the bridge for the safety of the travelling public. We are having a railway of such "Neroisms". Let us die by falling from the bridge, break our heads and limbs, but the "Nero" of Chittagong will fiddle on his harp as merrily as ever. I do not know if any other Honourable Member of this House can cite similar illustrations of railways in any other part of India. My Honourable friend, the Honourable Mr. Abdul Matin Chaudhury, is absent today. He had the pleasant experience of the Phakhoagram station and, if he were here, he would have borne me out. But here is our Commissioner, the Honourable Mr. Hezlett, to whom I had the good fortune of showing this Phakhoagram station and the conditions there while he was travelling in the train with His Excellency the Governor of Assam last August. I came out to show him the awful plight of the passengers in the early part of a morning and I was compelled to rouse him from his sleep and show him the exact condition. I hope he will kindly bear me out what I say now. I pause for a reply.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member's time is up. But in view of the importance of the subject, I would allow him to continue his speech on the next occasion. The House will now adjourn till tomorrow.

The Assembly then adjourned till Eleven of the Clock on Friday, the 8th September, 1933.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 8th September, 1933.

The Assembly met in the Assembly Chamber at Eleven of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

STATEMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Member for Commerce and Railways) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to part (b) of starred question No. 373 asked by Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 1st September, 1933.

Stores Purchase Policy of the Calcutta Port Trust.

*373. (b) The Government of India understand that the policy of the Calcutta Port Commissioners as regards the purchase of their stores is to buy them on the most favourable terms obtainable regardless of the country of origin.

The following is a comparative statement showing the value of stores purchased in and out of India by the Port Commissioners during the last five years :

—	Value of stores purchased in India (*).	Value of stores purchased out of India (†).	Total.	Remarks.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1928-29 ..	37,90,792	10,57,989	48,48,781	(*) Excluding the value of stores and equipment purchased in India by the Engineering Department of the Port Commissioners, of which the figures are not available.
1929-30 ..	34,46,164	6,17,504	40,63,668
1930-31 ..	25,74,721	1,70,160	27,44,881
1931-32 ..	15,79,538	1,55,054	17,34,592	(†) The stores purchased outside India during the last few years consisted entirely of plant and materials not obtainable in India and of spare parts or renewals for machinery manufactured abroad.
1932-33 ..	13,78,897	94,714	14,73,611

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred questions Nos. 309 to 314 asked by Mr. Muhammad Muazzam Sahib Bahadur on the 9th February, 1933.

Inadequacy of the Space for the Staff in the Madras General Post Office.

*309. (a) A starred question No. 189, put by Rao Bahadur P. T. Kumaraswami Chettiyar on the 16th July, 1930, referred to the adequacy of accommodation for the staff in the Madras General Post Office ; in reply it was stated that there was enough accommodation in the General Post Office for the entire staff.

(b) No. The Madras Postal Co-operative Credit Society and the Postal and R. M. S. Co-operative Benefit Fund vacated the accommodation in the General Post Office because of the high rent and not for the reason suggested.

(c) The Bag office has been removed to the General Post Office building but it is not correct to say that it has been located in a very inadequate place.

(d) The window delivery post boxes were removed as stated but the delivery department did not consequently become, and is not in fact, ill-ventilated and very congested.

(e) The Foreign Money Order Department is now properly located in the Money Order Department and the accommodation provided for it is not congested.

(f) The tiffin rooms hitherto occupied by Hindu staff were close to the latrine and have therefore been shifted to better rooms to which the accommodation provided is larger by 102 square feet in area than that formerly occupied. The tiffin rooms formerly in use will be utilised for official purposes when required.

(g) 429.

(h) The information is given in the statement attached.

Statement.

Names of Departments.	Maximum staff working at a time.			Accommodation. required.	Space available.	Excess.	Short.
	Selection grade.	Time scale.	Menial.	Sq. ft.	Sq. ft.	Sq. ft.	Sq. ft.
Money Order Department	2	27	3	1,610	1,360	..	250
Registration Department	3	21	3	1,410	1,581	171	..
Delivery Department ..	2 (including 1 A.P.P.M.)	18	37	2,290	2,050	..	240
Treasury	..	8	1	620	576	..	44
Sub-Accounts	..	4	1	220	168	..	52
Accounts	1	6	1	570	1,139	569	..
Correspondence Department (excluding portion allotted for records).	1	31	6	1,770	2,200	430	..
Accommodation in Correspondence Department reserved for records.	..	..	..	740	740	..	..
Savings Bank	2	8	1	820	1,086	266	..
V. P. Claims	1	18	1	1,470	1,116	..	354
Customs Examination ..	1	8	4	1,280	2,112	832	..
	3 (appraisers Customs)	4 (clerks Customs)
Inland Parcel	1	7	6	920	2,156	1,236	..
Foreign Parcel	1	14	8	1,410	4,234	2,824	..
Bag Department ..	..	9	5	775	1,321	546	..
Mails Department ..	..	5	6	495	814	319	..
Deposit Department ..	..	4	1	320	312	..	8
Sorting Department ..	..	6	4	380	792	412	..
Stores Department ..	..	2	1	170	1,196	1,026	..
Inspectors	3	..	..	300	1,246	946	..
Counter space	..	15	..	300	733	433	..
	21	215	89	17,870	26,932	10,010	948
Space for the public in front of the post box range.	..	..	..	200	200	..	..
				18,070	27,132	9,062	..

INADEQUACY OF THE SPACE FOR THE STAFF IN THE MADRAS GENERAL POST OFFICE.

*310. (a) 200 sq. ft. for a Postmaster, or

100 sq. ft. for a Deputy or Assistant Postmaster,

50 sq. ft. for a clerk, where a separate record room is provided,

75 sq. ft. for a clerk where no separate record room is provided,

20 sq. ft. for a clerk working at the counter where a standard counter is provided,

20 sq. ft. for a postman or a member of the lower grade staff.

(b) Government consider that the scales of accommodation provided for the staff are reasonable and that they allow for the necessary working conditions. They would however be prepared to consider the special circumstances of any case brought forward by the Postmaster-General.

(c) If the question refers to the Madras General Post Office the conditions referred to in the question do not exist.

(d) The space occupied by the money order department is 1,360 square feet which is 250 sq. ft. less than that ordinarily admissible for the maximum number of staff working at one time in a day.

The maximum number of staff in the money order department is required to be on duty for one hour in a day and as the staff working during other times is below the maximum strength, the accommodation required for it varies from 1,350 sq. ft. to 1,400 sq. ft. The space now available does not therefore fall seriously below the normal standard.

INADEQUACY OF THE SPACE FOR THE STAFF IN THE MADRAS GENERAL POST OFFICE.

*311. (a) Yes

(b) No. There is still left a space of 430 sq. ft. in excess of what is admissible according to standard.

INADEQUACY OF THE SPACE FOR THE STAFF IN THE MADRAS GENERAL POST OFFICE.

*312. Fans are stopped in certain departments following the example of the offices of the Local Government during October to March except on close and hot days when the weather conditions justify this. The hardship implied by the Honourable Member does not exist, as there is no congestion or serious obstruction to the free passage of air and light.

STRUCTURE OF THE MADRAS GENERAL POST OFFICE BUILDING.

*313. (a) Between May, 1881 and April, 1884.

(b) Government are assured that the building is specious and cool and the accommodation is considered adequate.

(c) If the Honourable Member refers to the space skirting the main hall between the railings dividing certain departments and the wall, this is approximately five feet.

(d) The space is ample to allow of the passage of the officials who have to work on this floor.

L256LAD

WANT OF PROPER LAVATORY ARRANGEMENT IN THE MADRAS GENERAL POST OFFICE BUILDING.

*314. (a) The latrine accommodation in the General Post Office is reserved for the supervisory staff. The clerical, delivery and inferior staff use an eight seated latrine situated about 80 paces away from the main building. The numbers of the establishment using it are somewhat overstated in the Honourable Member's question.

(b) Representations on the subject of the provision of extended accommodation in tiffin rooms and latrines have been received, and the conditions in respect of the tiffin rooms have already been remedied. Arrangements for enlarging the latrines are in progress. The space occupied by most departments is in excess of requirements and in six of them it is slightly inadequate.

Mr. B. J. Glancy (Political Secretary) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred question No. 64 asked by Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh on the 22nd August, 1933.

PRESENT POLITICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE POSITION OF GILGIT.

*64. Gilgit proper is a part of Kashmir State and administered by them. The Government of India maintain a Political Agent at Gilgit, and also contribute towards the cost of maintenance of Kashmir State troops in the Gilgit Agency. The annual expenditure incurred by the Government of India is approximate seven lakhs (rupees 7,00,000). Out of this amount a sum of about Rs. 30,000 is recovered from the Kashmir State.

Mr. P. R. Rau (Financial Commissioner, Railways) : Sir, I lay on the table the information promised in reply to starred question No. 1652 asked by Mr. Goswami M. R. Puri on the 12th December, 1932.

RETRENCHMENT OF RAILWAY EMPLOYEES.

*1652.

Officers.	State-managed Railways.	Company-managed Railways.
Number of posts abolished or held in abeyance from 1st March, 1931	134	53
Number of officers retrenched or reduced from 1st March, 1931	55	19
Inspectors.
Number of posts abolished or held in abeyance from 1st March, 1931	262	90
Number of Inspectors retrenched or reduced from 1st March, 1931	136	52

The difference between the number of posts abolished or held in abeyance and the number of officers retrenched or reduced on State and Company-managed railways is due to :

(i) sanctioned posts being left unfilled in the interest of economy prior to the issue of orders in March, 1931 ;

(ii) posts falling vacant subsequent to 1st March, 1931, due to transfer of their substantive incumbents not being filled ; and

(iii) posts falling vacant on account of death, retirement, resignation, etc., not being filled.

MESSAGE FROM THE COUNCIL OF STATE.

Secretary of the Assembly : Sir, the following message has been received from the Council of State :

"I am directed to inform you that the Council of State has, at its meeting held on the 7th September, 1933, agreed, without any amendments, to the following Bills which were passed by the Legislative Assembly at its meeting held on the 1st September, 1933, namely :

(a) A Bill further to amend to Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, for certain purposes ;

(b) A Bill to regulate the possession of Wireless Telegraphy apparatus ;

(c) A Bill further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for certain purposes ; and

(d) A Bill further to amend the Indian Railways Act, 1890, for a certain purpose."

STATEMENT OF BUSINESS.

The Honourable Sir Joseph Bhore (Leader of the House) : With your permission, Sir, I desire to make a statement as to the probable course of Government business in the week beginning Monday, the 11th September. You, Sir, have already directed that in that week the House shall sit for Government business on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Should our business for the current Session not be concluded on the last day of the week, it is probable that we shall ask you, Sir, to direct that the House shall sit on Monday, the 18th, Wednesday, the 20th, Thursday, the 21st and Friday, the 22nd September, 1933. Our reason for making the request, Sir, will be that it is most desirable that we should not carry over any appreciable amount of business to the November Session.

On Monday, the 11th, a motion will be moved for the election of Members to fill certain vacancies in the Salt Industry Committee of the Assembly. Thereafter, leave will be asked to introduce the following Bills :

1. A Bill further to amend the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, for certain purposes, and

2. A Bill to amend the Indian Lac Cess Act, 1930, for certain purposes.

This will be followed by a motion to commit to a Joint Committee of both Chambers the Reserve Bank of India Bill.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the business before the House will be the continuation of the discussion of the motion to refer the Reserve Bank of India Bill to a Joint Committee. On the conclusion of this business the consideration of any Legislative business entered in the lists of business for the present week and not concluded will be taken up.

The business for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will comprise :

1. Continuation, if not already concluded, of the motion for reference to a Joint Committee of the Reserve Bank of India Bill.

2. Motion for reference to a Joint Committee of the Imperial Bank of India (Amendment) Bill which it is proposed to introduce on Monday next.

3. Continuation of the motion, if not already concluded, to refer to a Select Committee the Indian States (Protection) Bill.

4. Motions to take into consideration and pass the following Bills :

(1) the Indian Medical Council Bill, if not already passed ;

(2) The Murshidabad Estate Administration Bill, as reported by the Select Committee ;

(3) The Indian Merchant Shipping (Second Amendment) Bill, as reported by the Select Committee ; and

(4) The Indian Tea Control Bill.

5. Motion to refer to a Select Committee the Factories Bill.

6. Motion to re-commit to a Select Committee the Hedjaz Pilgrims (Muallims) Bill, as reported by the first Select Committee.

7. Motions to take into consideration and pass three short Bills which were introduced and passed in the other Chamber. These are :

(1) The Negotiable Instruments (Amendment) Bill,

(2) The Indian Arbitration (Amendment) Bill, and

(3) The Cantonments (House-Accommodation Amendment) Bill.

8. Motions to take into consideration and pass the Dangerous Drugs (Amendment) Bill.

9. Business other than Legislative business which has appeared in this week's list and has not been disposed of. This includes :

(1) Motion relating to the future administration of Aden,

(2) Supplementary and Excess Demands for Grants, and

(3) Motion in connection with the levy of dues in respect of lighthouses and buoys.

THE RESERVE BANK OF INDIA BILL.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Before calling upon the Honourable the Finance Member to make the motion which stands in his name, the Chair desires to make just one observation. It is usual, according to the convention established in this House, at this stage of asking for leave to introduce any Bill, for the Mover to make only a very short statement. But in view of the special importance of the Reserve Bank of India Bill, the Chair proposes in this case to depart from that convention and permit the Honourable the Finance Member to make a longer statement than is usually allowed in such circumstances.

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, you have been pleased to suggest that the Honourable the Finance Member should make a long speech. When the Reserve Bank Bill was introduced last time, Sir Basil Blackett introduced the Bill first and afterwards he made his motion for circulation and made a long speech. I cannot understand why there should be a departure today.

Mr. President (The Honourbale Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Honourable Member will understand it now.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster (Finance Member) : Sir, I move for leave to introduce a Bill to constitute a Reserve Bank of India.

I am most grateful to you, Sir, for having allowed me a certain latitude in this matter recognising, as you have done, that it is a very special occasion. But I trust that this House has not been unduly alarmed by what you have said, because I certainly do not intend to make a very long speech. I only felt that there were certain things which ought to be said on the mere introduction of this Bill. In the first place, I wish to say by way of preface that I am impressed on this occasion by a very full sense of my responsibility in making what is perhaps the most important motion which it has fallen to my lot to move during my tenure of office as Finance Member. I use these words advisedly, because, in framing and passing this Bill, we shall be doing some thing to shape the destinies of the new India of the future to which we are all looking forward. In view of this, may I express a hope that the Members of this Legislature, in taking part in the coming deliberations, will set aside personal and party considerations and will act as members of a body which is united in one common purpose—the purpose of devising a measure which will promote the security and stability of Indian finance in the future.

I now turn to the special things that I wanted to say. In the first place, I want to say something about our time table and the occasion which we have chosen for bringing forward this measure. I have seen in certain Press articles a disposition to criticise us for unduly rushing this measure—for attempting unwisely in a few weeks to push through a measure on which the country should have a long time to ruminate and deliberate. I can only say that the Government of India are not usually accused of acting with undue haste, and it is not our disposition to do so. So far as we are concerned, we should have welcomed a little more time, and undoubtedly the time has been very short at least for the preparation of this Bill. Honourable Members will recognise that it had to be ready to go to the press within about a week of my own return to India. Nevertheless, when we take into account the time which will be available for the public to consider this measure before even the Committee stage is reached, and when we consider the time that will be available for the Committee stage and for the subsequent deliberations, and when we also take into account the fact that this measure or something very like it has been before the country for a very long time and has been fully discussed, I do not really think that there is any danger that.

[Sir George Schuster.]

we shall be unduly rushed in arriving at our conclusions. On the other hand, if we had not moved now, there would have been very considerable delay : and, in choosing our time table, we have really been guided entirely by what we regarded to be our duty to the country. Let me ask the House just to consider the position. It is quite clear that in the normal Delhi Session, with a Railway Budget and General Budget which must in any case be got through, there is not sufficient time to give that full and continuous consideration which is necessary to a measure of this kind. Therefore, if we had not brought forward this Bill now and started on what we intend to be our programme now, it would have been necessary to postpone this measure either until the next autumn Session in Simla or until a Special Session to be held next summer, say in May or June ; but even the latter alternative would have meant seven or eight months' delay, and plans made so far ahead are always uncertain. We did not think it fair to risk that delay and that uncertainty in getting through the legislation which is necessary before we should initiate the practical steps for setting up the new Bank. We felt it necessary to put Government at least in the position to take those steps as early as possible. The steps themselves are bound to take a considerable time, and it is important that they should be taken as far in advance as possible of the inauguration of the new Constitution, for it would certainly be most undesirable that the very drastic changes involved in transferring the control of currency and credit to a Reserve Bank should coincide or be telescoped together with the actual constitutional changes. Moreover, as Honourable Members are aware, the setting up of the Reserve Bank has a very definite place in the whole of the constitutional programme and we in the Government of India were anxious to give a practical demonstration that we are determined to do everything that lies in our power to make the new Constitution a reality as early as possible.

That brings me to another point on which I wish to say something—the significance of a Reserve Bank in the constitutional plan. I have seen it said on many occasions that this idea was sprung upon the Indian public as something quite new at the end of the Third Round Table Conference, and Indians have asked "Why is this new condition proposed ? Why is it necessary to have a Reserve Bank before financial responsibility can be transferred ?" This questioning or criticism does not do justice to the motives of the British Government in this matter. The case is really quite simple. It has generally been agreed in all the constitutional discussions, and the experience of all other countries bears this out, that when the direction of public finance is in the hands of a ministry responsible to a popularly elected Legislature, a ministry which would for that reason be liable to frequent change with the changing political situation, it is desirable that the control of currency and credit in the country should be in the hands of an independent authority which can act with continuity. I do not think that I need enlarge upon that. Further, the experience of all countries is again united in leading to the conclusion that the best and indeed the only practical device for securing this independence and continuity is to set up a Central Bank, independent of political influence. Those who were considering the constitutional proposals on behalf of His Majesty's Government exercised much thought in examining the possibilities of other devices for securing this object and they were always and inevitably brought back to the conclusion that there was no other satisfactory way except to set up an independent Reserve Bank. Therefore, as according to their declared purpose His Majesty's Government intended to transfer financial responsibility in the new Constitution, they determined that the only satisfactory way to frame the White Paper proposals was to do so on the assumption that an independent Reserve Bank would be in being when the time came for setting up the new Constitution ; and, this conclusion having been reached, it became the determined purpose both of His Majesty's Government and of the Government of India to do everything in their power to see that a Reserve Bank should actually be set up in time for this ; and it is, in pursuit of that purpose, that we are taking our present action.

That, then, explains our position in this matter ; and now, I want to say just a few things about the Bill which is now being presented. In its preparation we have had two things to work on : the former Reserve Bank Bill of 1928 with which the country is already familiar, and the Report of the London Committee, on which Indians in general and the Indian Legislature in particular were so well represented. The Committee's report did two things : working itself, on the basis of the 1928 Bill, it first proposed certain definite changes in that Bill, and, secondly, recommended that several important points, on which it was unable to reach final conclusions should receive further consideration in India. As regards the definite proposals, we have endeavoured to incorporate these as exactly as we could interpret them in the Bill which I am now presenting ; and, as regards the points which were to receive further consideration—and these include some points which are not subjects for legislation in the Bill, but which will have to be dealt with in separate agreements—we have not had time since my return to give them the full consideration which they deserve, and, moreover, we desired to consider them in consultation with the representatives of the Indian Legislature before we committed ourselves finally to definite proposals. For that purpose discussion in Joint Committee which we intend to propose will afford the suitable opportunity. In taking this line, I do not intend to suggest that the Government desire to shirk this responsibility in these matters. When the time comes for the Joint Committee discussions, we shall be ready to assist the Committee with definite proposals which we, as a Government, are of course best qualified to work out, but we do not desire to commit ourselves at this stage by incorporating definite proposals in the Bill.

In the papers which I am presenting with the Bill will be found Explanatory Notes on various clauses, and in these Notes various points are especially mentioned as being left for further discussion in the Committee stage. Though we have called special attention to those points, it is, of course, clear that all the clauses including those clauses where we have had to interpret the definite recommendations of the London Committee, will be equally open for discussion in the Committee stage. I should only like to express the hope that all Members will enter the discussions with a strong disposition to accept the recommendations reached, after prolonged, careful and representative discussion in London.

[Sir George Schuster.]

That, Sir, I think, explains the nature of the Bill which we are now presenting, and I would ask Honourable Members to read the Bill in the light of that explanation.

There is one other point to which I wish to refer, and that is in regard to the significance of this Bill. I said in opening my remarks that, in handling this Bill, this Assembly would be doing something to shape the destinies of India under the new Constitution. Strictly speaking, of course we here can only legislate for India under the present Constitution, and the wording of the Bill has had to be made appropriate to that. But the Secretary of State and his representatives at the London Conference made it clear that they were desirous that the present legislation should be so framed as to be appropriate with the minimum change for the conditions which will prevail under the new Constitution. That point is clearly made in the Committee's Report, and I would ask Honourable Members to bear it in mind when they are considering the provisions of the Bill in detail. That, Sir, is, I think, all that I need say at the present stage.

I would, however, like to conclude by referring again to the importance of this measure and the sense of responsibility with which it should be handled. I want particularly to appeal to the un-official parties of this House that when the time comes for electing Members to the Joint Committee, if they approve that course, they should help us and help India by supporting the election of those of their members who are best qualified to give valuable counsel. This matter is one which is attracting wide attention outside India, and the eyes of many countries will be on these proceedings. As one who is proud to be a Member of this Legislature, I would appeal to my fellow Members to demonstrate once again how the Indian Legislature can rise to its responsibilities.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That leave be granted to introduce a Bill to constitute a Reserve Bank for India."

The motion was adopted.

The Honourable Sir George Schuster : Sir, I introduce the Bill.

THE FACTORIES BILL.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce (Member for Industries and Labour) : Sir, I move for leave to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law regulating labour in factories.

Sir, in view of the importance of this measure and of the comparatively late stage in the Session in which it has been introduced, I feel it is due to the House that I should indicate very briefly the procedure which, if this motion is carried, I would ask the House to be good enough to adopt.

As the House is aware, the Bill is the result of prolonged and detailed examination. The important changes in the law which it contains are nearly all based on the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Labour. After these recommendations had been before the public for about a year, we published a consolidating Bill which embodied them together with a few other desirable amendments. As the result of the circulation of the Bill, we received an immense mass of detailed and, on the whole, very valuable criticisms. The House will get some impression of the exhaustive analysis to which the proposals have been subjected when I say that the opinions in their printed form amount to some 360 foolscap pages and are, therefore, in volume longer than the Report of the Royal Commission itself. The Bill now before the House,—thanks to the labour and skill of the draftsman,—differs considerably in form from the Bill as circulated, but if Honourable Members care to compare the two Bills, they will find that there have been comparatively few changes of substance. I do not, therefore, propose to ask the House to circulate the proposals again, but intend to move, if possible, as I hope it will be, during the course of this Session for the reference of the Bill to a Select Committee. But as I fully recognise the desirability of giving the public adequate opportunities of examining the measure as now introduced in detail, I would suggest that the Select Committee should not meet before January, 1934. In the meantime, I hope to supply the members of the Committee and any other Members of the House who would care to have them with sets of the opinions and if the Local Governments or members of the public offer further opinions in the interval, these will also be supplied. I propose also to try to arrange that the Select Committee should have the assistance of one or two experienced Chief Inspectors of Factories to whom they can refer during its sittings if they desire to do so. I trust, Sir, that this procedure will commend itself to the House. Sir, I move.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That leave be granted to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law regulating labour in factories."

The motion was adopted.

The Honourable Sir Frank Noyce : Sir, I introduce the Bill.

THE INDIAN TEA CONTROL BILL.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai (Secretary, Department of Education, Health and Lands) : Sir, I move for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the control of the export of tea from India and for the control of the extension of cultivation of tea in British India.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The question is :

"That leave be granted to introduce a Bill to provide for the control of the export of tea from India and for the control of the extension of cultivation of tea in British India."

The motion was adopted.

Mr. G. S. Bajpai : Sir, I introduce the Bill.

THE INDIAN STATES (PROTECTION) BILL.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The House will now resume consideration of the motion moved by the Honourable Sir Harry Haig :

"That the Bill to protect the Administrations of States in India which are under the suzerainty of His Majesty from activities which tend to subvert, or to excite disaffection towards, or to interfere with such Administrations, be referred to a Select Committee."

Mr. B. Das will now resume his speech.

Mr. B. Das (Orissa Division : Non-Muhammadan) : Sir, in moving my motion the other day, the remarks that I made would have led the House to conclude that I am opposed to the principle of the Bill and that no useful purpose would be served by this House in considering this Bill. I was discussing the particular hardship that would be caused to the Indian Press which is already suffering from the rigours of the Press Act by which various presses under the slightest pretext are called upon to deposit heavy sums of money, and these deposits are forfeited without any consideration as has happened in the case of the Free Press of India recently. Sir, I also quoted the views of the Amrita Bazar Patrika which is a strong nationalist paper without any leanings towards extremism which my Honourable friend, the Home Member, might speak of other papers.

Apart from the hardship that will be caused to the Indian Press which will be a serious disaster for the expression of the strong public views of India, there is another aspect which has to be considered, namely, whether the rights and privileges of the people of British India would not be affected if the Bill, as introduced, would be passed into law. Sir, as a representative of the British Indian people, I do not concede the right to the States to be the allies of His Majesty the King Emperor. I do feel that the Government of India and, through the Government of India, we, the British Indian people, have certain control over these Indian States. The British Indian Press and the Indian public have all along criticised the misdoings of some of these States. If this Bill is enacted into law, as I said the other day, no British Indian can make any observations about the maladministration of these States, because he will be hauled up before a Court and be punished. Sir, I have seen in my own experience from the contact that I had with 26 petty States on the borderline of Orissa province, where the British Indian people are at times ill-treated, because these States, barring a few noble exceptions, live in a state of absolute barbarism. Before 1900, these Orissa States were treated as almost Zamindaries or tributary mahals. They had no power ; they used to come to Calcutta High Court to defend their cases. But the Butler Committee came to their rescue, and today some of these petty States, which control only a few or a few hundred square miles, expect themselves to be treated as the allies of His Majesty the King Emperor and they feel that they will not allow themselves to be subjected to the criticism of the British Indian public. Yet, British Indians have at times been ill-treated in these States for which they have no remedy unless the Indian Press ventilates the maladministration of these States.

Then, there is another thing to be remembered. These Indian States, along with British India, are entitled to be represented in International gatherings like the League of Nations, the International Labour Conferences. And what do we find there ? Any humanising legislation, any convention that is introduced by the International Labour Conference or any mandate that the League of Nations may issue, is not binding on these Indian States although it is binding on the Government of India and binding on us. I will give an instance. Sir, in the year 1929, when I accompanied you to the League of Nations International Labour Conference, we took part in the forced labour Convention. That forced labour Convention had been ratified by this House with some modification, because some of the subsequent Indian delegates made certain mistakes and it has to be accepted in the way the House accepted it. It was moved by my Honourable friend's predecessor, Sir James Crerar, on the floor of this House. But what do we find ? Forced labour is the usual thing in most of the Indian States. How can they be allies to His Majesty the King Emperor, not to speak of their being British subjects, when they are not amenable to the laws and Conventions which the British Government and the Government of India accept. Sir, forced labour is prevalent in almost every State. Among the Orissan States more than half the States have this forced labour. While I was on the Forced Labour Committee at Geneva, the representative of the South African Colonies stated that as the natives of those territories could not pay taxes, the Government took from every adult 40 days of forced labour. 40 days labour is the maximum forced labour that is taken from the adult population in Africa, but what do we find in Indian States ? The subjects of these Indian States pay an equal tax, almost the same tax, sometimes even more, as we, the British Indians, pay to the Government or to the landholders, who obliged us yesterday with their views on the floor of the House. The subjects of the Indian States pay equal tax, yet I know that in certain States the people at times work 40 to 50 days a year of begar (forced labour) for the Princes of those States.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad (United Provinces Southern Divisions : Muhammadan Rural) : Without payment ?

Mr. B. Das : Yes, when it is forced labour, it means no payment and at times these poor people have to bring their own food and stay weeks and weeks to carry out the behests, not only of the Ruler himself, but of his satellites.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : Is it a fact that you are saying ?

Mr. B. Das : My Honourable friend, Dr. Ziauddin, ought to read the forced labour Convention and other literature that my Honourable friend, Mr. Clow, can supply him. Mr. Clow can supply him with volumes of books as to the prevalence of forced labour in the Indian States, and when my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, will speak about the prevalence of forced labour, my friend, Dr. Ziauddin, will know things which he could not have known when he was absorbed in his work at the University of Aligarh. Sir, there was a time when these Indian Rulers were amenable to the public opinion prevailing in those States. As I mentioned already, they are today protected by the mighty British arm and they have learnt the so-called civilized ways of the British Rulers. They must have their elephant Kheddas ; and the British officers or Indian officers from British India, including the mighty Political Agents and their Assistants, must visit these States, and Kheddas and shikárs must be organised for their entertainment. Did these Political Agents, when they did go and took part in these shooting parties, ever inquire of these poor beaters, thousands of them, who had been there for days and days, as to how they were fed ? I know in certain States the elephant Kheddas usually take place in the month of November and December when the harvest season is on and when every adult man is forced to be made a beater.

[Mr. B. Das.]

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig (Home Member) : May I interrupt the Honourable Member and ask him whether he claims the right to organise jathas in order to remedy the conditions which he alleges or in what other way these are relevant to the provisions of the Bill ?

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : May I ask whether the Honourable Member can suggest any method by which these wrongs could be redressed, besides the jatha organisation ?

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : They can always be represented, and this Bill does not in any way affect such representation.

Mr. B. Das : Sir, I am not alluding to the jathas at present. I am referring to the maladministration of these States and this Bill aims at stoppage of all criticism against the maladministration of these States. We, British Indians, live almost as close neighbours to the subjects of these Indian States, but we cannot but criticise their maladministration. I was also saying how these States could not become our equals in the Federation, if they perpetuated their present barbaric rule. They claim equality with us in the League of Nations and in International Conferences. The representatives of the Government of India and the British Government always denounce them privately, though not publicly. That is one illustration of how the States are mismanaged. Sir, the Government of India, in spite of their being today sovereign of these States, cannot enforce humanizing administration in those States. If this Bill was not going to take away all right of public criticism from the hands of the British Indians and Indian States people gathered in British India, I would not go into such detail, but my Honourable friend, the Home Member, and my Honourable friend, the Political Secretary, know it, that this Bill will take away all rights of criticism. In spite of that, my Honourable friend, the Home Member, said the other day that the right of criticism of the maladministration of the States was not being taken away. We know how differently the law is administered once it goes through this House. While I am on this subject, I will just read one sentence from the National Call which reviewed the speech of my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, in this morning's issue :

> " If a newspaper in British India expresses ' disapprobation ' of the actions of the Ruler of an Indian State or of the policy followed by his Government, it will not be penalised. But the hounds of the law will be on its track and the moment its comments bring the Ruler of a State into contempt or excites disaffection among his subjects. The dividing line as drawn by Sir Harry Haig is clear enough. But a little thought is enough to show that in actual practice it will be an almost impossible task to distinguish where disapprobation ends and disaffection begins. Even the mildest disapprobation expressed by a newspaper in the most general terms may conceivably be considered to excite disaffection among some section of the population of the State concerned. Indeed, the condition of some of the States is so bad that there is enough disaffection going round to last them a good long while even without any prompting from the British Indian Press."

Sir, I would not myself discuss the relationship of the Indian States people with the Government of India or of His Majesty's Government, had not my Honourable friend, the Home Member, brought in the word " Federation " in the future Constitution in his Statement of Objects and Reasons. The Government of India thought it fit to send representatives of the Indian States people to the First and Second Round Table Conferences. They omitted them in the Third Round Table Conference. No States people are represented at the Joint Select Committee. Naturally, the States people are very apprehensive. The Princes are very clever. They know that the British Government and the Government of India are very anxious to get their holy or unholy alliance over the Federation. I wish to draw the attention of my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, to the Resolutions that were passed under the Presidency of our old friend, Mr. N. C. Kelkar. The States people's objective is contained in the speech of Lord Irwin which he delivered to the Chamber of Princes in 1931 and which the Indian States People's Association have embodied in a statement to the nations of the world. I will read the extract from Lord Irwin's speech. This is the advice he gave to the Princes, mighty and small :

> " There must be a reign of law and order, based either expressly or tacitly on the broad goodwill of the community. Individual liberty and rights must be protected ; and the equality of all the members of the State before the law be recognised. To secure this, an efficiently organised police force must be maintained and a strong and competent judiciary secure from arbitrary interference by the Executive and irremovable so long as they do their duty. Taxation should be light as circumstances permit, easy of collection and certain and proportionate to the means of the tax-payer to pay. The personal expenditure of the ruler should be as moderate as will suffice to maintain his position and dignity, so that as large a proportion as possible of the State revenues may be available for the development of the community, such as communications, education, health and social services, agriculture, housing and other kindred matters. There should be some effective means of ascertaining the needs and desires of the subjects and of keeping close touch between the Government and the governed."

If I had not quoted the name of Lord Irwin, the Honourable the Home Member might say that I was reading an extract from a speech of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru or a note by Mahatma Gandhi, but it is a former Viceroy of India, Lord Irwin, who said this. The people of the States only demand what is contained in this speech of Lord Irwin. Today the citizens of the Indian States, of almost all the States, have not even the elementary right of citizenship. They have no right to their property, to their home and, I am ashamed to say, even to their wives and daughters. That is the condition in some of the States. I am not going to read out the resolutions which were passed at the last States People's Conference, because their views are contained in the short extract which I read out from Lord Irwin's speech. The Indian States' people claim only a few fundamental rights, not so much as my Honourable friend, the Political Secretary, possesses in his own country or in British India, not so much even as I possess, in spite of my limited political rights in British India. They claim only certain fundamental rights :

[Mr. B. Das.]

(a) they claim the right to possess personal property ;

(b) they claim the right to use one's own form of worship ;

(c) the right to freedom of speech, opinion and association ;

(d) the right to be tried by open trial by proper judicial authority ; and

(e) the right to use their mother tongue.

There is not one in this demand which is a new one to the points enunciated by Lord Irwin in his eloquent address to the mighty potentates.

I ask, why is my Honourable friend, the Home Member, so anxious to have this legislation now ? He himself said that he was not in a hurry. He said : "Let the Select Committee consider, and then we can legislate in the Winter Session of 1934". Then, why not circulate the Bill ? Although I am opposed to the principle of the Bill, still I have suggested circulation, because, when all these opinions are collected and placed before the Home Member, in spite of his pre-occupation over political prisoners and detenus, when he will read them, he will be overwhelmed with the argument that he was wrongly advised to introduce such a piece of legislation in this House. And after all, who are concerned ? These States. It is understood—I do not know if it will happen—that when the Federal Assembly comes into existence, we will have here 125 stalwart representatives from the States. They may not be the Princes themselves ; they will be their diwans or the representatives of their peoples. Let them come here, and let the British Indian representatives and the Indian States' representatives meet one another. Let each other know their respective views on this matter, and then let legislation be introduced and passed in the Federal Assembly. There is no necessity of my Honourable friend being in a hurry to bring forward this piece of legislation, unless it be that the Government of India feel that, in spite of the enormity of mismanagement and enormity of miscarriage of justice in Indian States, they should raise these petty States into sovereign States, as if they will ever be sovereign States. They are raising petty Chiefs of States to the status of a Governor of a British Indian Province. It may be that my Honourable friend, Sir Harry Haig, may not be in India then, but I can picture the reserved Councillors of the Governor General who will find themselves in a hornet's nest when there will be only 11 Governors of Provinces, barring Burma, and if Burma is not separated, 12 Governors—12 Governors and there will be 560 States each claiming the status of a Governor ! And my Honourable friend, Sardar Harbans Singh Brar, reminds me that they are claiming the status of a King, the status of internal sovereignty. Where is this internal sovereignty ? Does it exist now ? I know of Indian States' Princes carrying the lap dogs of a Political Agent when that Political Agent went on an elephent. And these claim internal sovereignty in their States ! I want to make an appeal to the Government of India. I know things have gone wrong. I know that what we people claim, what we people aspire to,—responsible Government, Dominion Status,—all have gone wrong. We are not going to get Dominion Status not even in 50 years.

An Honourable Member : The Viceroy said you will get it soon.

Mr. B. Das : I am not supposed to discuss His Excellency the Viceroy's speech, because we cannot discuss it on the floor of the House. But, Sir, as you remarked elsewhere, even "Dominion Status in action" is not going to come in 50 years. I warn the Britishers, who today constitute the Government of India, not to commit the error, not to raise these petty Princes to the status of kings or sovereigns, not to raise them to the status of Governors of British Indian provinces, and not to turn their heads by high sounding words of paramountcy and sovereignty and make them perpetuate their misrule or perpetuate the wailings of millions of their subjects. Their subjects never have peace ; they never have contentment ; never have the right of British justice. I have lost my faith in many characteristics of the Britishers, but if today the Britisher is respected, it is for his administration of justice. I challenge my Honourable friend, Mr. Glancy, to say that there is any vestige of administration of justice in these States, of course barring a few noble exceptions. There is no administration of justice there. My Honourable friend himself was a member of an enquiry committee in Kashmir. There is a hushed up report, the Fitz-Patrick Committee Report about Patiala, and there are dozens of such reports. If only a few reports have been published, there ought to have been thousands of such enquiries in every State for their maladministration. Today there is no justice and, if I have still faith in British justice, I appeal to the Honourable the Home Member not to deny justice to the people of the Indian States, and it will amount to denying justice if this piece of legislation is forced through this House, as I very much fear, some day it will be forced through, knowing the weakness of the Members of this House. My Honourable friend, the Home Member, will render injustice to one-third of the people of India who are groaning under great sufferings by the misrule of these Princes. One thing more, why is it that the Government of India and the Political Department is so chary as to deny justice to these people of the Indian States. If I have understood rightly the framing of the White Paper, the British Government and the Government of India are afraid that they will not be able to run the administration, and that is why they have introduced so many safeguards. I do not find any safeguard provided to the States people against their rulers. Autocracy is good, but, as I said the other day, the Princes are practising Hitlerism minus the spirit of democracy that controls Hitler. But is there a benevolent autocracy today in any Indian State ? Personal rule is good if it is according to oriental tradition, but today these Princes have no oriental tradition.

12 NOON.

[Mr. B. Das.]

Educated in half-westernised Princes' schools and colleges, living in hotels like the Hotel Cecil and the Maidens Hotel, forgetting their ancestral tradition.....

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Where does the Honourable Member live ?

Mr. B. Das : In Hotel Cecil, Sir ! Forgetting their ancestral tradition and their ancestral religion and the long usage and practice of wise Government which in India was known as Ramrajya, forgetting all these, they try to imitate the petty British officers whom they meet in their night carousals in their night clubs in Simla or Delhi or London.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav (Bombay Central Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Do you want Ramrajya again ?

Mr. B. Das : I am not a learned scholar like my Honourable friend, Mr. Jadhav, but, I am sure, when, later on, he takes part in the debate, I know we will hear from him the ethics as to how Ramrajya should be administered. I appeal to the Government to introduce such safeguards so that the fundamental rights of citizenship will not be denied to the States people. Apart from this safeguard being introduced in the White Paper proposals, before any piece of legislation can be considered by this House in giving further autocratic powers to these autocratic rulers of these Indian States, the Government of India, as Britishers and as representatives of the British Parliament and British democratic institutions here, should see that the elementary rights of citizenship are not denied to the Indian States people. With these few observations, I commend my motion for the acceptance of the House that the Bill be circulated for eliciting opinion thereon.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Amendment moved :

"That the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 7th of January, 1934."

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai (Sind : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : May I know whether the point of order that was raised, I mean the legal point, whether that will be taken up now or at some other later stage ?

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Chair said the other day that it proposed to give a ruling on that point at a later stage. The Chair's intention is to give a ruling whether clause 3 is ultra vires or not when actually the discussion on clause 3 takes place ; but it proposes not to give a ruling on the point now, because it has already stated that, even though one particular clause of a Bill may be ultra vires of the Legislature that does not make the whole Bill ultra vires. The Chair would draw the attention of the Honourable Member to section 84 of the Government of India Act, which says :

"A law made by any authority in British India and repugnant to any provision of this or any other Act of Parliament shall, to the extent of that repugnancy, but not otherwise, be void."

That is the provision of the Government of India Act, and when actually the time comes to discuss clause 3 and, before putting clause 3 to the vote of the House, the Chair will give a decision whether clause 3 is ultra vires of this Legislature.

Mr. Gaya Parasad Singh (Muzaffarpur cum Champaran : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Clause 3 will not be under consideration till the Bill comes back from the Select Committee.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : The Bill will go to the Select Committee as it is at present framed, and when the Bill comes back from the Select Committee, the Chair will then consider whether the clause is ultra vires of this Legislature.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer (Rohilkhund and Kumaon Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : In view of the speculations in the newspapers, may we request the Chair that, before we disperse today or before the Assembly Session closes, it will enlighten this House as to what is the opinion of the Chair in regard to that particular clause, because this Select Committee motion, even if it is adopted, as I believe it will be, will bar taking up the Bill clause by clause. The discussion of the Bill, clause by clause, will come up only in the January Session. In the meantime, there will be a good deal of Press criticism and also speculations. Therefore, in these circumstances, I will request the Chair to give a ruling before we leave Simla.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : With regard to this objection, if it is kept in abeyance, and if this Bill goes to the Select Committee, the Select Committee will have to consider this clause 3 also and, if, subsequently, it comes up before the House, and it is decided by the Chair that clause 3 is ultra vires, then I think the whole labour of the Select Committee would be absolutely lost. To avoid that, I would request the Chair to consider this legal point, for it is of vital importance and it should be considered and a decision arrived at before we refer the Bill to the Select Committee.

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : Clause 3 is rather an important part of the Bill and, if that clause is taken out of discussion, then half the Bill disappears.

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : If it is the general desire of the House that the House would like to have a decison on the point even before the Bill is referred to the Select Committee, the Chair will have no objection and it will certainly see, if it is possible, to give a ruling before actually this question is put to the vote. Even if that is not feasible, the Chair will certainly adopt the suggestion of Mr. Ranga Iyer and give a ruling as early as possible before we disperse.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : Sir, I must confess I have not given to the Bill before this House the same attention and the same consideration that I would have liked to give. I admit it is a very complicated piece of legislation, complicated in this sense that we here are faced with something in the nature of a trial. We were almost placed on the horns of a dilemma, especially when the Honourable the Home Member concluded his speech with a reference to the Federation, and I was very much embarrassed as to what attitude I should take in this matter. That embarrassment continues and that is one of the very reasons why I refused to prepare myself for this debate. I thought the act of speaking would set the mind thinking and I merely propose to place my views before this House with absolute detachment and speaking purely for myself and not for my party as it happens to be. And, in the meantime, I propose to seek light from Honourable gentlemen like the new Leader of the Democratic Party, Mr. Neogy, who has had experience both of constitution-making in England along with the Federationists and association with Indian States which, I am certain, he represented with great ability and for which he worked with great devotion as he always does when he takes up a case. I should very much like to know also from other Leaders of Parties whom I miss, Sir Cowasji Jehangir, as to what he thinks, specially with his great knowledge of constitution-making in England and his association as a Member of the Executive Council of Bombay and as a prominent public man with the States and their representatives. When he was a Member of the Executive Council of the Government of Bombay, probably the Bombay Government had something to do with Indian States and he came into intimate contact with the States representatives in his recent consultations and confabulations for the last three years in England. Not having had those opportunities, I feel very much embarrassed as to what I should or should not say on this occasion. Sir, I am a believer in Federation and I am prepared to pay the price that Federation requires. It may be a heavy price, but I am prepared to pay that price. I am not a believer in Federation at any cost or at any price, but I believe in Federation under reasonable circumstances and at a fairly reasonable price. If the Princes are to come into the picture of the Federation,—as I believe they have got to come, otherwise there can be no Federation,—then you must place before the Princes a sufficient inducement to come into the picture ; and there is a great deal of panic created by what they deem to be a sort of unholy propaganda by the Congress newspapers and the Congress leaders in the minds of the Princes.

[Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer.]

Mr. B. R. Puri (West Punjab : Non-Muhammadan) : Oh !

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : I am very glad to find that my Honourable friend from Lahore, Mr. Puri, exclaims, " Oh ", and when he makes his speech, he will make me understand with all the ability that he undoubtedly has as the leading lawyer in the Punjab as to the implications and complications which he sums up in the word " Oh ". (Laughter.) In the meantime, let me proceed with my speech, and my view is this. My friend, my old friend, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, in one of his important statements published in the Tribune of Lahore, gave expression to the view that the future of Indian politics was going to take two directions,—the agrarian plan directing an attack on the zamindars and the present capitalistic system, and the democratic plan directing all the current and energy of the Congress to bring down the autocracies of the States. I, therefore, believe, at any rate I am able to visualise, the sort of attack that is going to be levelled against the States to bring down the autocracies. It is for me to decide here and now what position I propose to take in regard to the future : whether I propose to take my stand on the side of constitutionalism, fight with the force of constitutionalism, with my back to the wall and either fall in so doing or succeed in speeding up evolution and achieving my democratic goal as a constitutionist,—or whether I am going to join hands with the unconstitutional forces in a red revolution, sweeping the Princes and the zamindars out of existence. That is the issue, Sir, that is going to be raised in the country.

Mr. N. M. Joshi (Nominated Non-Official) : But that is not the issue in this Bill.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : That is the issue in this Bill also. If you only carefully read the Bill, specially where it deals with the jathas and if you read the Bill in the light of the speech of the Honourable the Home Member about Federation, you will find that that is the issue in this Bill. Let there be no mistake about it that this Bill is aiming at putting down people marching to the States, people collecting themselves into large bodies in British India and attacking the States in group processions of jathas. The prevention of the beginning of a new Civil Disobedience Movement against the Indian States is contemplated in this Bill. There is no use saying it is not in this Bill. I want to know whether we, who support the Federation,—and Mr. Joshi also is probably a supporter of Federation,—want to encourage forces in British India of an unconstitutional kind directed against the Indian States, " the autocrates of the Indian States " as some of them call it and some have stated in this House ; or whether we are going to encourage the growth of a healthy public opinion controlled and legitimately controlled as it ought to be. For what is it that we are asked to do ? We are asked in this Bill to treat the Princes fairly and squarely and not to encourage forces of disruption emanating from British India. We know what happened in regard to Kashmir when jathas proceeded from British India. Had this Bill been in existence, instead of the poor Maharaja of Kashmir incurring the odium of putting them in prison, the British Government would have legitimately taken the responsibility on their shoulders and stopped these people proceeding to the State. They were arrested after crossing the borders. The example of Kashmir is before me : I personally feel that I should not go into the details in regard to a particular State. But, Sir, I am within my province when I say that I do not want the mischievous, the wicked and the unpardonable kind of propaganda that was carried on in a certain section of the Punjab Press against a Hindu Maharaja. I do not want mischievous forces to be organised in British India to proceed in batches to bring down the prestige and the power of the ruler of a State as they did in the case of Kashmir.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : Even when the rulers misbehave ?

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : The champion of the Hindu cause in Sind says that " the rulers misbehave ". As regards the ruler of Kashmir, I should like to know from Mr. Glancy, who was inquiring into the matter, whether the ruler has not been behaving in a manner consistent with the dignity of the house of Kashmir. I believe the ruler, apart from the administration, has been behaving consistently with the prestige of the great house of Kashmir.

Mr. Lalchand Navalrai : What about Bahawalpur State ?

Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad : What about Mr. A. ?

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : I am not going to be drawn into particular States and personalities. I propose to generalise. Here is an Honourable gentleman, my friend, Dr. Ziauddin Ahmad, who may have had connection with some of the State rulers, specially the Muslim ones, and, when he stands up, probably he will enlighten us on the matter instead of trying to drag me again, in the shape of an intriguing or an uninteresting question, into the Kashmir controversy. I was merely illustrating, Sir, my point by reference to a particular circumstance, a particular episode in the history of the relations between the Indian public in British India and the ruler or the administration of an Indian State. I think it is a most unhealthy way of bringing a State administration down by encouraging unconstitutional forces from British India to proceed and disturb the subjects of Indian States. I say it is an unhealthy way even to encourage British residents in British India to go and create trouble in a constitutional way in the Indian States. I would rather adopt the old motto of the Indian National Congress when it was founded and which was observed by men like Sir Surendra Nath Banerjea, Gokhale and others. What was their motto and what was their policy ? Their policy was non-interference in the administration of Indian States by British Indian politicians ; and we would rather continue that policy instead of encouraging forces of destruction from British India. That is one of the healthy features of this Bill. I do not know how far it will or will not meet the situation. It requires careful examination in the Select Committee, and, if I agreed to serve on the Select Committee, it was because I was attracted by this feature of the Bill.

[Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer.]

Now, I come to another feature of the Bill and that relates to the Press. Wherever the Honourable the Home Member wants to interfere with the rights and liberties of the Press, I at any rate will approach him with a certain amount, if I may say so, of suspicion.....

Mr. B. Das : President of the Upper India Journalist Association.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : My friend, Mr. B. Das, says " President of the Upper India Journalist Association ". I am not speaking in the capacity of a President. I am speaking in the capacity of one who entered this profession of journalism, attracted not so much by what it could give in the shape of the goods of the world, but the glamour and the greatness of the profession. I concede criticisms in a certain section of the newspapers have been of a blackmailing kind : I concede that Princes have been made targets for attack in this irresponsible Press : I admit that a section of the Press requires a good deal of watching and a good bit of control, for we do not want that an irresponsible section of the Press should condemn the entire Indian Press. Therefore, whenever a suggestion comes that we should put a certain amount of restraint on a section of the Indian Press which criticises the Indian Princes, I am prepared to admit that the case requires examination ; but must you apply it to the newspapers edited in English, or must you not confine it to the purely Vernacular Press ; for I do not believe that the English edited newspapers, newspapers conducted in the English language, have been so flagrantly guilty of attacking personally the Princes. This is a matter which requires examination.....

Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh : The Statesman attacked the Maharaja of Kashmir very violently.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : My friend, Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh, is perfectly right if he says that the Statesman wrote most vehemently on the Kashmir administration.

Mr. B. R. Puri : Is there a difference of opinion betwten the Deputy Leader of the Nationalist Party and his Secretary ?

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : My friend, Mr. Puri, has had the opportunity of crushing, if he could, my humble party : it has not yet been annihilated by him behind our back.....

Mr. B. R. Puri : It will be after this speech of yours. (Laughter.)

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : I ask my friend to carry out his threat. It is a pity that he has not succeeded all these months in undermining the party. I have given him adequate opportunity in the past ; and, if he has failed, I can only pity him for his incapacity to carry out his noble object. I am told that he was in Lahore in those days ; that is the unhappy part of the business.....

Mr. T. N. Ramakrishna Reddi (Madras ceded Districts and Chittoor : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Is discussion of party politics relevant to this debate ?

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : Who introduced the discussion of party politics ? Let him first ask his own Deputy Leader about it. (Interruption.) Are the Democratic Party ashamed of announcing the fact that they have formed a party ? Are they ashamed of accepting the fact that they have got a leader in this House ? I spoke with great respect about the Democratic Leader and his devotion to his cause. I accepted the inevitable circumstance that there is a Democratic Party in this House. I did not cast any slur upon that Party ; but here is an Honourable gentleman, the Deputy Leader of that Party, who has the audacity to stand up and say that the Secretary of the Nationalist Party is interfering with the Deputy Leader of that Party. Not at all. He was making an important point when he said : " Was not the Statesman of Calcutta criticising rather vehemently the Kashmir administration ? " Probably the reply of the Government will be that " even the Statesman requires restraint ; we are not discriminating as between the Statesman and the Indian newspapers in this particular legislation ". That perhaps will be their answer and their justification for saying that the Press should be controlled. But that is not my justification. That does not satisfy me. I say the Statesman is entitled to criticise as strongly as it can any State administration : even so every Indian newspaper must be entitled to criticise the administration of any Indian State ; and that for this reason : the States have no responsible government, not even parliamentary government in the sense in which we are having dyarchy in the provinces and the sort of government through legislation that we have now in the centre. Therefore, the States have got to be criticised, very strongly, very persistently and very insistently, in the Indian Press. There are States in which there is no liberty of criticism, where there is no newspaper ; there are States in which personal rule still persists ; and even though they are going to be Federation units for the future, they have shown no tendency to approximate their position to that of the provincial units in British India. I, as a strong supporter of Federation, expect the States to rise from within without external assistance in the way of direct provocation or action to the same position as units in British

[Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer.]

India. If you want Federation to work, you cannot put democracy and autocracy together without autocracy trying to come up to the same level as democracy in British India. Therefore, I am anxious that no restraint should be put upon reasonable criticism in British India, because it is only in British India that you have the educative Press which goes into the States, even though some of these newspapers, when they happen to be unpleasant, are proscribed in those States: there the rulers have autocratic power. Therefore, we have to allow the forces that are legitimate in British India to play on the forces that are reactionary in the Indian States to lift the Indian States to the same position and status as provinces in British India. Therefore, I will have to approach with a good deal of hostility, until I am convinced to the contrary, in the Select Committee, the provisions relating to the Press. It may be argued that you have put upon the Press so much restraint under the Ordinance Bill which amended the Press Act. Why not apply the same provisions to Indian India? Why not allow the same courtesy to Indian India which British Indian administration enjoys? I have already answered that. Even though I may, in ordinary circumstances, be tempted to do so, I cannot forget the fact that the Government in British India is subject to criticism of a kind to which Governments in the Indian States are not. Therefore, the British Indian Press will not like to be gagged to the same extent as it has been gagged in spite of our opposition from this side of the House in its criticisms of the States. From this side of the House we have opposed the restrictions on the rights of the Press to condemn what is wrong in regard to British Indian administration. Restraining the Press unduly, in regard to criticism of the States is equally wrong. We have not submitted to these Press provisions. The Bill was carried into law in spite of our opposition, and, therefore, opposition on that point must continue, and, so far as I am concerned, will continue. I cannot, Sir, agree to restraining the rights and liberties of the Press in the manner in which the rights and liberties have been restrained under the Ordinance Bill which amended the Press Law. All that I am prepared to agree to is, I am prepared to go only to the extent that I was prepared to go in the Select Committee on the Press Bill in which my friend, Mr. Puri, with all his ability and knowledge of the law took a very important part. Beyond that, in this particular Bill I will not be prepared to go unless I am convinced to the contrary by the Honourable the Home Member and the Honourable the Political Secretary whose names I note are included in the list of Members of the Select Committee. If they convince me that we must put this restraint on the Press, I am their man, but nothing that has been said by the Honourable the Home Member has convinced me that there is necessity to put those restrictions on the Press. While I am willing to give every encouragement to the Princes to come into the Federation, I would ask the Princes at the same to give every facility to the newspaper press in British India to bring them up politically, administratively, and constitutionally to the same position as the provinces in British India. These two points that I have referred to are adequate for my purpose. I will agree to a Select Committee motion, but I support circulation if circulation can be completed before January. If circulation can be completed before January,—because the Honourable the Home Member has told us that he is not in a hurry, at any rate he is not in haste, and he is quite prepared to wait till January,—if a hurried circulation is possible within that period, it will be worth knowing the opinion of the important bodies in this country on this point, because the Bill is a complicated one. Then the Select Committee would be in a better position to judge. Such a Bill was never presented to us before. We ought to know the opinions of important legal and other bodies on this matter, and, therefore, circulation will not be too bad. His object is to carry this legislation through in the January Session, the other Session being a special one, and I think if he only circulates from now and instructs the bodies consulted to be quick in giving their opinions, it will be possible for us to know the opinion of all the important bodies concerned on this very complicated measure. It is original in the sense that we have not been faced within the life of this Legislature with such a piece of legislation as the one presented to us. I want to approach it with all fairness. I am prepared to take courage in both hands and say pass this legislation if it will promote Federation and induce the Princes to come into the picture, but I would at the same time reserve to myself the right of criticism in Select Committee and of modifying the Bill wherever necessary. I admit that the Honourable the Home Member is more or less animated by a desire to make liberty restrained, for liberty must restrain itself in wholesome proportion to lack of what I may call licence. Some one described—the passage escapes me—liberty as being in proportion to wholesome restraint. That, I believe, is what the Honourable the Home Member is aiming at, but for myself when the Honourable the Home Member applies restraint when democracy thunders and strides on, I will say that the Executive must not be unduly at any rate very hastily trusted with new powers until they are carefully examined and until public opinion is consulted. (Applause.)

Mr. N. M. Joshi: Sir, this Bill comes in the natural order in which our Government seek to bestow protection on the different classes of people in this country. Yesterday, we discussed a measure by which protection was sought to be obtained for one class of people. Today, we are discussing a measure by which Government seek to give protection to another class of people. Mr. President, it seems to me that this is one of a series of measures of protection which, though intended apparently for the protection of the classes which are sought to be protected expressly in those measures, still really are intended for the protection of the British Government in this country. I would like first to deal with the general aspect of this measure. I have an instinctive abhorrence or dislike for measures which try to restrict the freedom of the citizens of any country. When I try to find out the reason for my instinctive dislike, I find there are two. One of the reasons is that when you try to pile up measure after measure of this kind, a general atmosphere of fear is created round every public man. This is not a solitary measure which is trying to restrict the freedom of the people of this country. One Bill after another has been introduced and passed, with the result that the most loyal subject, the most constitutional public worker in this country, feels a kind of nervousness, he feels a kind of hesitancy in undertaking public work.

Sir, I am not against any kind of penal legislation. Penal legislation is absolutely necessary for anti-social and anti-moral acts, but when penal legislation is proposed for acts which in their nature are not anti-social, but which are considered to be anti-social by Government, when they transgress the limits of reasonableness, surely we must accept such measures with a greater caution than was shown by the Deputy Leader of the Nationalist Party. Sir, it is true that there are some acts which do become anti-social when they are carried beyond a certain limit. At the same time we must remember that the apprehension felt by even the most loyal citizens, when such measures are passed, is also a natural one, because our safety depends upon the whims and caprices of the Magistrates and Judges. The border line between an act which is legal and an act which is illegal is so thin that no man feels safe to conduct his public work in this country.

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

There is another reason why I have an instinctive abhorrence for such measures. Whatever may be the professed object of passing these measures, their application goes much beyond what appears on the surface. I shall give you only two instances. Some years ago, this Legislature passed an Act in order to put a check to the communal hatred that was feared to grow between the Hindu and Muslim communities—I think that was section 153, I do not remember the section exactly. That Bill was passed. Last year one of the provincial Governments launched a prosecution against a man who stated publicly that the capitalists exploited their workers, on the ground that it created hatred between two classes. I will give you another instance. Last year, the Legislature passed what is called the Ordinance Legislation. It was stated that the measure was intended against the acts of those people who resorted to civil disobedience. I have seen a prosecution launched under that measure against a person who resorted to picketing purely in an industrial dispute. Sir, after having got this experience, is it unnatural that people like myself, who have to take part in agitations, should feel a kind of fear when such measures are proposed ?

Dealing with the legislation before the House, let us see what grounds the Home Member has put forward in support of it. The Home Member first stated that India was one country although it was divided between British India and 500 Indian States. I agree with that statement. India is one and indivisible, but the question is not whether we agree to that statement ; the question is whether the Rulers of States agree to that statement or not. We on our part are anxious that India should be regarded not only as one social unit, but that it should be regarded as one political unit and that there should be a strong Central Government in the whole of India and not only in British India. (Mr. B. Das : "Hear, hear.")

Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) : Order, order. The Honourable Member will resume his speech after Lunch.

The Assembly then adjourned for Lunch till a Quarter Past Two of the Clock.

The Assembly re-assembled after Lunch at a Quarter Past Two of the Clock, Mr. President (The Honourable Sir Shanmukham Chetty) in the Chair.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : When the House adjourned for Lunch, I was dealing with the point made by the Honourable the Home Member that India, being one country, the Governments that exist within the borders of this country should have the same protection which the Government of British India have. I stated that we, the citizens of British India, are anxious that not only India should be one socially and ethnologically, but India should have one strong Central Government. That is our ambition. Unfortunately the rulers of Indian States are equally anxious that the Government of British India should have as little to do with the Government of Indian States and, it is on account of that fact, in spite of our desire that there should be a common Government for the whole of India, we are obliged to treat some Governments within the borders of India as being foreign to ourselves. Let us examine the present Constitution itself. Under the present Constitution, it is true that the Governor General in Council has not only control over British India, but he has also some control over the Governments of Indian States. That control is strictly limited. I am sure, even the Honourable the Home Member will admit that the control which is exercised by the Governor General in Council, on account of the power of paramountcy, is limited to grave maladministration of Indian States. The Governor General in Council has no control over the day to day affairs of Indian States. If there is an act of injustice in an Indian State, the Governor General in Council has no control. If the acts of injustice go on multiplying and if the extreme limit is reached and the Government of India find that there is grave maladministration, then alone the Government of India can exercise their powers of paramountcy. Whatever may be the opinion of the Government of India and the Political Department in this matter, the rulers of Indian States are not going to admit that the Government of India have got power to interfere in day to day administration. Mr. President, you have been a Member of this Legislature for a long time and, may I ask you, on how many occasions could we discuss in this Legislature the question of injustice done in Indian States to British Indian subjects ? We have discussed the questions of injustice done to British Indians in South Africa. We have asked hundreds of questions on this subject. We have asked questions of injustice done to British Indian subjects in the United States of America. May I ask you to bring to mind, Mr. President, whether any questions were admitted at any time in this Legislature regarding the injustice done to British subjects in Indian States ? How many times have we been allowed to discuss injustice done to British Indian subjects in Indian States ? We are not allowed to discuss these questions in this Legislature, although we are allowed to discuss the injustice done to British Indian subjects in foreign countries like the United States of America and the dominion of South Africa. This is the present Constitution.

Now, let us examine the future Constitution which is proposed to be established. If there is really little connection between the Government of British India and the Governments of Indian States, the connection between the Government of British India and their own Governments will be much less in the future Constitution. The Princes are claiming that in the future Constitution the powers of paramountcy will not be exercised by the head of the Federal Government, but they will be exercised by another entity, called the Viceroy of India. That shows the desire of rulers of Indian States that the connection between British India and their own States in the matters with which we are concerned in this Bill should be as little as possible. The rulers of Indian States, after a few years, may even go further and claim that the same person should not be the Governor General of India and the Viceroy and thus they may complete the separation that already exists between British India and the Indian States. I can understand the Government of a country wishing for protection against conspiracies of its own citizens when the citizens of a country have got constitutional rights to get their grievances redressed. That is the justification for any Government of a country seeking protection against conspiracies of its citizens, but why should a Government which has nothing to do with our Government, which is as foreign to the Government of ours as the Government of the United States, if it is not more foreign as I have shown in this matter, claim this right ? There are very few countries besides India which try to protect the Rulers of other States in a vicarious manner. The Government protects itself against conspiracies, but it does not undertake the vicarious duty of protecting the Rulers of other States and I do not know why our Government, when the Rulers of Indian States themselves are anxious that their Government should be kept separate in the matter of law and order, should undertake this duty. Moreover, I can understand the Government, which is constitutional, expecting its citizens to be constitutional, but what is the Constitution which the Rulers of Indian States have given to their subjects and what is the constitutional remedy which British Indians have against injustice done by the Rulers of Indian States. I, therefore, think that when our Government insist that when we want our grievances to be redressed against the Rulers of Indian States, we must adopt only constitutional methods. I want the Government to tell us what is the constitutional method open against injustice done in Indian States. I have shown that there is very little constitutional method open. If constitutional method is open, by all means insist upon only constitutional methods being employed or at least see that the Governments of Indian States first become constitutional and then expect either the subjects of Indian States or subjects of British India to be constitutional.

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

Mr. President, the second argument used by the Honourable the Home Member in support of this measure was that there must be reciprocity in this connection. He told us a historical fact that the Rulers of Indian States had helped our Government in putting down the agitation in British India. I am aware of that fact. I remember very well an ex-Member of this Assembly, a well-known man in India, Mr. Muhammad Ali Jinha, being sent out bag and baggage from an Indian State. I remember a man like Mr. Srinivasa Shastri being forbidden to speak in another Indian State.

Mr. B. Das : Shame.

Mr. N. M. Joshi : It may be true that these Rulers of Indian States have helped our Government in putting down political agitators in this country, but is it right that those Rulers, who do not want to have any connection with us, should be protected on the ground of reciprocity ? The only matter in which they are willing to have reciprocity is to tighten the ropes round the necks of Indian citizens ? Do they really want reciprocity with us in all matters ? If they want it, we, in British India, also want reciprocity with the Rulers of Indian States and with the subjects of Indian States. Let us examine how far they are willing to have reciprocity with British India ? Examine the White Paper. The representatives of Indian States, according to the proposals of the White Paper, will have a right to discuss purely British Indian affairs. They will have a right to vote purely on British Indian matters, and even on a legislation like this which will not be applicable to Indian States. But, Sir, will the States, on the ground of reciprocity, agree that legislation of this kind applied in their own States could be discussed in the Federal Legislature and will the Federal Legislature be allowed to discuss and vote on criminal law as will be applicable to Indian States ? They will not agree to such a reciprocity ; they do not desire such reciprocity. I will give you one more example. The White Paper proposes that all subjects of Indian States and perhaps the Rulers of Indian States will have the rights of citizenship, franchise and the right to stand as candidates in British India. During the examination of the Secretary of State before the Joint Parliamentary Committee, I asked the Secretary of State a question. I asked him : Will he, on the ground of reciprocity, secure similar rights to British Indian subjects in Indian States ? His reply was an emphatic " No ". Why ? Because the Secretary of State knows that the Rulers of Indian States are not willing to have reciprocity with British India. When the Rulers of Indian States are not willing to have reciprocity in these matters, why should our Government go out of their way to have reciprocity in this matter before us ?

There was another argument used in favour of this Bill. It was said that there is going to be a Federation and, therefore, all the units of the Federal Government should be protected even in these matters. If there had been a Federation, whose authority in the matter of criminal law or penal law had been acceptable to the Rulers of Indian States, I would certainly have granted the protection which is asked for to all the units of the Indian States. But, Sir, we are not going to have a Federation where the Federal authority will have any power in matters of criminal law in Indian States. Under those circumstances, why should we make the proposals for a Federation as the ground for giving protection to the Rulers of Indian States when they are not willing to accept the authority of the Federal Government in a matter with which this Bill is concerned.

Then, Sir, I wish to speak a few words about the position of subjects of the Indian States. Sir, the subjects of Indian States are at least for practical purposes the subjects of the British Crown and these poor people deserve some consideration at the hands of the British Government. What is their condition ? My friend, Mr. B. Das, has described those conditions in detail. He has told us that the subjects of most of the Indian States have not got even ordinary elementary rights, leave aside the constitutional rights of having a Legislature and discussing matters in that Legislature. They cannot hold a meeting to ventilate their grievances ; they cannot hold a Conference to ventilate their grievances. If they are treated with injustice, there is no power which can save them. You may know that when our future Constitution was discussed in London, there was a Round Table Conference. Every interest was represented at that Conference. We sent representatives of British India. On the other side, the people of Great Britain were represented including the representatives of the Government of Great Britain, of the Liberal Party in Great Britain ; when the Labour Government was in power, of the Conservative Party ; when National Government is in power, the Labour Party was represented. Were the subjects of Indian States represented at that Conference ? Not only were they not represented at that Conference by delegates, but when the subjects of Indian States wanted to appear before the Joint Parliamentary Committee to give evidence, even their witnesses were not accepted. Now, Sir, where are these subjects of Indian States to go for redress ? How are they to seek redress ? What business have our Government to tell them that they must follow only constitutional methods and not unconstitutional methods. Give them protection and then insist on their following the constitutional methods. Considering from all points of view, then, the Bill which is before this Legislature is undesirable. It is a Bill which seeks to support the States and their maladministration and their autocracy. The Honourable the Home Member admitted very frankly that even where there will be maladministration, you cannot resort to unconstitutional methods; you cannot create hatred for maladministration. That is the clause in the Bill.

[Mr. N. M. Joshi.]

Now, if we are not to create hatred, if we are not to create contempt for maladministration, I want to know what we are going to create for maladministration? Are you going to create respect and admiration for maladministration? Therefore, before our Government try to penalise the creation of hatred or conspiracies against Rulers from whom no redress is possible by constitutional method, let them see that the Rulers of the Indian States become constitutional rulers. At the beginning of my speech, I stated, although the professed object of the Bill was to protect the Princes, if you asked my opinion frankly, perhaps bluntly I might say that the Bill was equally intended to protect the British Government in British India. When we were discussing yesterday the question of protecting the proprietary rights of the zamindars, the representative of the European Group, who spoke on that Resolution in an unguarded moment, let out a confidential secret. He knew the secret, being a British subject, and there was no difficulty for him to know the warlike plans of Government. We Indians are not admitted even to the Cypher Bureau, but he being a good Briton knew the confidential plans. He said that the protection of proprietary rights in land were the first line of defence. Of course he did not say that these lines were the first line of defence for the British Government. He did not like to tell us the whole truth, but he just gave us a glimpse of what the truth was. Now, the Government of India, at the request of our zamindars, are creating that line of defence. Unfortunately that line of defence is not quite reliable. You know the shape of that line of defence and, if the artillery tries to hit the target, it might hit one of its own men. Not only it sometimes may do this by accident, but the artillery, not being homogeneous but heterogeneous, one section of the artillery sometimes hits at another section of its own line. Some of the gunmen are very erratic. Sometimes the gunmen, represented by my Honourable friend, Mr. Maswood Ahmad, may open fire on another section represented by my Honourable friend, Bhai Parma Nand. That line of defence is found to be not reliable. It is a defective line of defence. This information about lines of defence was given to us yesterday by one of the representatives of the European Group. Many years ago I had heard from a man well known in my part of the country as being a very wise man. I had heard that he had also discovered these lines of defence. Sir, you may have heard about Mr. Ranade. He was a social reformer and was also regarded as a political leader by large sections of people in the Deccan. I have heard that Mr. Ranade used to tell those people who used to gather round him that in the Indian situation there were factors which would always be used by the British Government as lines of defence for the maintenance of their authority in this country during our struggle for freedom. We, in India, have got several such factors each one of which affords to our Government a very strong line of defence. The Hindu community is full of injustices. We have the evil of the caste system, the evil of untouchability, and the evil of Brahmin, non-Brahmin quarrels. I am not suggesting for a moment that the British Government have created these injustices. We have to thank ourselves for these injustices in our social system. But there is absolutely no doubt in the fact that these injustices serve as bulwarks for the support of the British authority. I shall not tire out the House with instances. But I shall give you, Sir, one more. Take the religious intolerance amongst our own people. The Hindu-Muslim feuds. I am not suggesting for a moment that it is the British Government who created these feuds. We have to thank ourselves for their existence. But can any one deny the fact that these feuds amongst ourselves, between the Hindus and Muslims, have not served as a bulwark for the support of the British authority in this country? But these bulwarks have now begun to totter from their foundations. The Brahmin—non-Brahmin quarrel has practically ended, the leaders of the untouchables have begun to co-operate with the touchables in the struggle for freedom. In this House itself there are parties where the Hindus and Muslims co-operate. Therefore, it is natural that our Government should seek for other fortifications, other lines of defence. There are new lines of defence arising, one line of defence consists of the orthodoxy among the Hindus, as represented by my Honourable friends, Pandit Satyendra Nath Sen and Mr. M. K. Acharya, another line of defence we discussed only yesterday, and this Bill represents the line of defence which is the strongest of all. This Bill is intended, whatever may the professed object of this Bill, to strengthen this line of defence and to strengthen this fortification. I wish to make an appeal, Mr. President, to our Government which is a British Government. I make this appeal as a loyal citizen. Whatever my amiable friends may have said yesterday about me, I still claim that I am a loyal citizen. I claim also that I am one of the most firm believers in the use of constitutional methods and I say, Sir, that I am not only a loyal citizen, I am not only a firm follower of constitutional methods, but I am an admirer of British history, not only of British history, but I am an admirer of British character and Britishers as a whole and, in that capacity, I make an appeal to our Government that measures of this kind are not in accordance with the traditions of British history. They are against their traditions. Instead of depending upon the forces of reaction, the forces of autocracy, let them depend upon the goodwill of the progressive sections in this country. They may say that they may show goodwill towards the progressive sections but that the progressive sections may not respond. Even then I say that the British Government should stick to their tradition of freedom. If they fail on account of our not responding, even their failure will be glorious. But, Sir, if the British Government insist upon staying in our country as unwanted guests with the support of all forces of reaction and autocracy, it will be an eternal disgrace to their tradition and history.

Mr. K. C. Neogy (Dacca Division : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I remember the occasion as vividly as if it was only yesterday when, eleven years ago, in this very hall, the Legislative Assembly refused leave to Government for the introduction of the Princes Protection Bill which subsequently became the first certified legislation under the new Constitution. It may interest my Honourable friend, Mr. Ranga Iyer, to know that it was the Democratic Party which had taken the lead in the matter on that occasion. Sir, much water has flown down the Jumna Bridge at Delhi since that day, and I am free to confess that there has been a good deal of change in the atmosphere of the Indian States. My Honourable friend, Mr. Ranga

[Mr. K. C. Neogy.]

Iyer, has referred to my brief association with the Princes in London, and I may tell him that I do not allow my professional engagements to interfere with my personal opinions on questions of public importance.

Mr. C. S. Ranga Iyer : Sir, I neither suggested nor insinuated that Mr. Neogy's professional engagements had anything to do with his private or public opinion. All that I suggested was that his experience as a Member of this House and his association with Indian States will enable us to get from him an enlightened lead in this matter.

Mr. K. C. Neogy : I never said that my Honourable friend made any uncharitable suggestion about me. But I wanted to tell this House that it was a watching brief that I had in London on behalf of a section of the Indian States which may very appropriately be described as the untouchables among the princely order ; and, if in that capacity I had occasion to see more of the game than those who were actually engaged in it and if it is that experience which my Honourable friend, Mr. Ranga Iyer, wants me to relate on this occasion, I can tell him that it was a great education to me to find that on that historic occasion the Princes and the people of India fought shoulder to shoulder for getting recognition of the just rights and privileges of their common motherland. Sir, much as I learnt to appreciate and honour some of the distinguished members of the order of Princes, I do not mind telling this House that I found very few of them yet prepared to make any substantial concessions of a constitutional character in favour of their people.

Now, Sir, my Honourable friend, the Home Member, has referred to the Federal Constitution which is looming large on the political horizon. My Honourable friend, Mr. Ranga Iyer, also made his confession of faith in that form of Government. May I also add that I was an enthusiastic supporter of that very ideal till the publication of the White Paper ? Sir, I cannot but recognise that if India wants to have self-government of the real type, if India wants to control her defence and foreign policy, we cannot ignore the Princes. The Princes must come into the Constitution if we expect to control the foreign and the defence policy of the country as a whole ; and it was in the hope that we were going to get real self-government that I, in my own humble way, tried to promote the idea of a Federal Government. Now, Sir, what have we got in the White Paper ? A mongrel Constitution to which I for one am not prepared to pledge my support. Sir, I remember very well the consternation that was created among the diehards in England and in India when it was found that the Princes had joined the British Indian leaders in demanding self-government on the basis of Federation, because they had counted upon the Princes to oppose the grant of self-government to British India, and they did not think that their patriotism would in the end even transcend their sense of expediency in having perhaps to go against the secret wishes of the powers that be. But when I find, as I find on the present occasion, Members of the Government of India giving their enthusiastic support to the federal ideal, when I find my Honourable friend, the Home Member, introducing measure after measure calculated to make India " safe " for Federation, then I begin to suspect. Now, Sir, I will not be partial to the Honourable the Home Member ; I will begin from that end of the official Benches. The Honourable the Leader of the House appropriately enough has taken the lead in this matter. He expects to secure the independence of the Railways, independence or control of the future Federal Legislature, and he is trying to bring about that happy consummation which was described so graphically yesterday by the Honourable Member from Sind, when Mr. P. R. Rau would be riding on the back of the future Transport Minister. Coming to my Honourable friend, the Member for Industries and Labour, not being so bold as his other colleagues, he is just nibbling at the road system of India, it is said on behalf of an undisclosed principal, namely, the Army Department, in the name of co-ordination which will have the effect of curtailing the control of the Provincial Ministers over the road policy, for the benefit of the army, mechanised as it has been. My Honourable friend, the Law Member, not having an administrative portfolio of his own, has to content himself with aiding and abetting his Honourable colleagues in the pursuit of their common object. May I now come to the future Councillors under the White Paper ? I do not know whether my Honourable friend, the Army Secretary, has inherited the qualities of his predecessor in office ; if he has, he will perhaps find it possible to devote more attention to the Simla A. D. C. than to the future Federal Assembly. (Laughter.) And my Honourable friend, Mr. Glancy, when he introduces the Murshidabad Bill in future, will word it in cypher of the secret code, because it will be an Act of the Governor General. Sir, is this a picture of the Federal Constitution over which any one can enthuse ?

An Honourable Member : What about the Finance Member ?

Mr. K. C. Neogy : I am very glad my Honourable friend has reminded me of him, because I did not find him in his seat. The Honourable the Finance Member is engaged in lightening the labours of the future Finance Minister so that he could devote his undivided attention to the important task of raising taxation for the benefit of the Governor General and the reserved departments. Now, Sir, is it any wonder that the average British Indian, in which term I include myself, has no more use for the Federation ? The attitude of the average British Indian may be summed up in these words " Bhik nahi mangta : tumara kuttha bula lao ". That is the attitude of the average British Indian towards the Federal Constitution as adumbrated in the White Paper.

An Honourable Member : What is the meaning of that ?

Mr. K. C. Neogy : My Honourable friend, the Home Member, in his Statement of Objects and Reasons of this Bill is yet undecided as to whether this measure is needed to satisfy the spontaneous promptings of the Paramountcy conscience or whether it is essential as a concomitant of the Federal Constitution that seems to be inevitable. If it is a matter of paramountcy, as has been pointed out by my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, how is it that we are discussing the measure here ? It is no doubt true that the Governor General in Council is at the present moment, constitutionally speaking, the agent of that paramount power ; but I ask my Honourable friend, Mr. Glancy, to tell this House as to whether the Princes relish the idea of the British Indian Legislature having anything to do with regard to the paramountcy obligations of the Crown. I do not think that the Princes would support the idea of this measure being considered at all by the British Indian Legislature. As has been pointed out by my Honourable friend, Mr. Joshi, in the future Constitution such a measure would relate entirely to the special responsibility of the Governor General. That has been secured by strenuous efforts on the part of the Princes. They do not want that British Indians should have anything to do in regard to such paramountcy matters. If it was on the other hand, a mater arising out of the Federal Constitution, how is it that this is not being postponed so as to enable the future Federal Legislature to afford the necessary protection to all the federal units, irrespective of the fact as to whether they belong to the category of British Indian provinces or the Indian States? Is the Honourable the Home Member sure that the States would support the idea of the future Federal Legislature having anything to do with legislation of this character? No, Sir. They have made it abundantly clear that, although the Federal Government and the Federal Legislature may be vitally concerned in maintaining the Federation unimpaired and, in preventing the disintegration of the Federation, they do not want these matters of common concern, as they are certainly matters of common concern, to be decided by the Federal Legislature of the future. So far as protection of States' interests are concerned, they have made it abundantly clear that they look to the Crown and to the Crown alone and to the Governor General as its agent, and not to the Governor General in Council, to afford them the necessary protection in the matter. I, therefore, do not think that the Honourable Member was quite right when he said that the Princes want such a measure. It may be that the Princes want many other things besides. But is the Honourable Member quite sure that the Princes want the British Indian Legislature to afford them protection?.....

[Mr. K. C. Neogy.]

Sir Cowasji Jehangir (Bombay City : Non-Muhammadan Rural) : May I just interrupt my Honourable friend? Does he mean to say that, in the future Constitution, any legislation that may be required by a reserved department will not come before the Legislature? 3 P.M.

Mr. K. C. Neogy : It will perhaps have to be ultimately enacted as a Governor General's Act, as far as I can see.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : I do not want to interrupt my Honourable friend ; but I want to put him right. I do not think that is quite so.

Mr. K. C. Neogy : If the Honourable Member will read the White Paper carefully, he will find that, so far as the Princes are concerned, they look to the Governor General and not to anybody else.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : If I may interrupt the Honourable Member for a minute : I think he is confusing the issues. The question of legislation with regard to reserved departments, whether it be the Army or Foreign Affairs or Indian States, will have to come before the Legislature in future.

Mr. K. C. Neogy : I was dealing with the attitude of the Princes in regard to this matter.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir : The attitude of the Princes is perhaps rightly explained by the Honourable Member ; but the confusion comes in where he says that legislation with regard to the reserved departments will be done by Ordinance or by a Governor General's Act : that is not correct.

Mr. K. C. Neogy : It is undoubtedly true that legislation initially would come up before the Legislature ; but my point was that the Honourable Member could not have put the case of the Princes correctly if he meant that the Princes wanted protection from this Legislature by way of this particular enactment ; and what I wanted to convey was that, even under the proposals of the White Paper, the Princes look to the Governor General to afford them protection in such matters, and not to the Governor General in Council. It may be that, as a matter of procedure, legislation may have to be initiated in the Federal Legislature ; but what I wanted to know was as to whether the Princes approved of this particular procedure.

I will now try to examine some of the salient features of this particular Bill. Coming to the proposal to amend section 121A of the Indian Penal Code, I desire to point out that there is a fundamental principle underlying the present section 121A which is being infringed by this proposed amendment. Section 121 deals with waging war against the King ; and if my Honourable friend will read the history of the enactment of section 121A, which was incorporated into the Statute in the year 1870 by an amending Bill introduced by Sir James FitzJames Stephen, an honoured name among British jurists who ever came out to India, if my Honourable friend will study the history of that enactment, he will find that this particular section was passed as being merely ancillary in character and supplementary to section 121. Section 121 dealt with waging war against the King ; and it was found that there was a defect in the law, because there was no provision with regard to conspiracy to wage war against the King, which, but for the enactment of a specific provision, would have to be dealt with as abetment of waging war. If my Honourable friend will refer to the speech that was made by Sir James JitzJames Stephen, while introducing that Bill, he will see that this section 121A was merely a paraphrase of a provision of what is known as the Treason Felony Act, which was enacted in the year 1848, if I am not much mistaken. It was felt in England that but for a provision of this character, the prosecution of conspiracies, which might not achieve their object, would lead to considerable difficulty ; and as this particular point was dealt with by the Treason Felony Act, Sir James FitzJames Stephen introduced section 121A for the purpose of serving the very same object.

Now, Sir, my point is this. Section 121 deals with treason. Treason goes with allegiance. There can be no treason if there is no obligation of allegiance, and section 121A deals with treason felony, and, there again, unless there is an obligation of allegiance, there cannot be any treason felony. Sir, I hope it will not be contended by the Honourable the Home Member that we, British Indian subjects, owe any allegiance to the 500 and odd Indian princes.....

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Will the Honourable Member explain what is the justification for section 125 of the Indian Penal Code?

Mr. K. C. Neogy : Section 125 was deliberately enacted for the protection of certain Asiatic powers which were in alliance with the Queen. My friend can take it that if his distinguished predecessors of those days had found it feasible, they would have enacted a similar specific provision in the interests of the Indian States.

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : My friend does not suggest that British subjects owe any allegiance to the Asiatic powers?

Mr. K. C. Neogy : What I mean is this. You cannot amend section 121A in the way that you are seeking to do. I am not concerned with section 125, which creates a distinct offence, allegiance or no allegiance.

[Mr. K. C. Neogy.]

In seeking to amend a particular section which deals exclusively with treason felony, you have no business to tamper with the underlying principle of that section, because, as I say, treason and treason felony go only with allegiance. It is only in the case of a breach of that allegiance which we all owe to the King Emperor that a charge under 121 or 121A could be sustainable. Legislation is not mere patch work, it is not mere scissors and paste work. There are fundamental principles which were perhaps better understood by our predecessors in those days.

I now come to the provision relating to the Press. My Honourable friend, in his speech, referred to the fact that this was originally contained in the Criminal Law Amendment Bill, which was passed into law against the teeth of popular opposition in November last. My Honourable friend said that although one of the clauses contained the provision which is now sought to be enacted with reference to the press in this particular Bill, that was dropped by the Select Committee. I could not quite catch what he said later, but I gathered the impression that the Select Committee thought that this particular provision could be re-enacted later....

The Honourable Sir Harry Haig : Considered. I think, I said, Sir, that in the Select Committee we thought that, if this proposal were to be pursued, it should be put up separately.

