[Muhammad Raza Khan Sahib Bahadur] [2nd September 1946]

“Another difficulty of the members of the police force particularly in the lower cadre is the housing problem. Many a time some of the inspectors are transferred from one place to another, and when they come to the new places, they have to go about in search of residence, and sometimes they do not get it even for months. I am sure the Government will look into this matter. No doubt the Hon. Premier will say that the cost of construction has gone up and that it cannot be done. No matter what the cost is, proper housing arrangements must be made for them. As far as the City is concerned, we know that the police has been very vigilant in the matter of both prevention and detection, and we have really to pay a compliment to them.

“One other thing I want to bring to the notice of the Hon. Premier and that is about bucket shops. The other day we passed a vote that prohibition should be introduced in eight districts, because we know that people are getting ruined, and it is our duty to prevent them from drinking. Very great ruination is taking place particularly in the City of Madras on account of races. Whenever races take place in other parts like Poona, it is a common sight to see poor people earning one or two rupees a day losing their earnings at the bucket shops. I have to bring to the notice of the Hon. Premier that bucket shops are prevalent in the southern range. It is a common sight to see people betting one or two rupees and thereby losing all that they have with the result that it leads to their ruination. I want to know what proper steps are being taken by the police to put an end to this. In fact, acceptances are printed. I do not understand the necessity for printing acceptances, when the races take place in Poona. I want to know how it concerns the City of Madras. Of course, it is a sort of news item which the people can read in the papers. Therefore I feel that the Hon. Premier should devote his special attention to prevent these bucket shops, because they lead to the ruination of so many people. He might even pass an order that except for what is printed in the newspapers as a sort of news item, anything regarding races should not be published, because it is an incentive for the people to go to races. I am sure the Government will see that the bucket shops are completely banned. I do not know about the northern range. I am residing in the southern range where bucket shops are very much prevalent.

“One more thing and with that I will finish my speech. That is with regard to the representation of Muslims in the service. We feel that it is the duty of the Muslim members here to appeal for the proper representation of Muslims in the service, and it was rightly said by the Leader of the Opposition. Of course, the Premier will say that Muslims are there according to the communal Government Order. As far as the police force is concerned, you cannot apply the communal Government Order for reasons which are quite peculiar. When communal tension is there on occasions like this—not that I am casting reflections in any manner on the conduct of the police who have been fair to all communities—human nature being what it is, the composition of police force is questioned.

2nd September 1946] [Muhammad Raza Khan Sahib Bahadur]

If a police force is sent to a place, sometimes it contains a majority of Muslims, and sometimes a majority of Hindus, with the result that there is friction. As far as this question is concerned, I am sure that Muslims are taken more in the service, so that protection may be given both to the Hindus and the Muslims. Therefore I support the cut motion moved by the Leader of the Opposition.”

SRI T. S. PATTABHIRAMAN:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, while speaking about police force, I want to make it clear that I have absolutely no grouse against the underdog of the police department. Whatever criticism I am going to offer, it is only against the higher services of the police department. Sir, it is a common complaint to-day that the police administration has not changed its attitude towards the public, though a popular Government is in power in this Province. The police officials who occupy high positions are still arrogant and impertinent, and they feel that they are not subordinate to any one. I want to point out only one instance in this connexion. Recently a leading advocate of Salem, Sri N. S. Ramaswami Goundar, was openly assaulted and was asked to be dragged in the streets, when he was attending to his professional duties. In spite of the protest made by the Advocate, the Bar Association and the public concerned, I am sorry to say that the District Superintendent of Police has not taken action against the Deputy Superintendent of Police who was responsible for this. I want the Hon. Premier to see that the Deputy Superintendent of Police is properly punished for his arrogant attitude. Moreover, I am receiving complaints from the merchants of Salem that they are being ill-treated and put to a lot of shame. The law presumes that a person is innocent until he is convicted. But the police officials assume persons guilty even before conviction and heap indignities upon them. I request the Hon. Premier to see that these officers behave better, and they must be made to feel that they are servants of the public and not the masters.

“Sir, I have the greatest contempt for the Malabar Special Police Force. The Communist Member, Sri K. Ananda Nambiyar, referred to the Malabar Special Police Force. I have no hesitation in agreeing with him. They are recruited from a criminal class, the underdogs in the worst part of Malabar. They are recruited not only for Malabar, but for the whole administration. My Communist friends raise their voice only in 1946, but in the 1942 struggle, the Communists applauded them. I am glad that at least now every one of the Members of the House rose in condemnation of the Malabar Special Police Force. In 1942 atrocities were committed by the police in general and the Malabar Special Police in particular; many members of the Communist Party supported them. In 1942, these police officials committed excesses in the name of law and order. While heads of nations like Tojo are being tried as war criminals, what about these police officers who ordered wholesale arrests and torture in the country, and in Madras Province in particular? I want to cite only a few instances of the part played by the Malabar Special Police in Devakottai and Singanallur. I want the Hon. Premier to punish the man who was responsible to condemn Subbiah Thevar and his wife to unaccountable horrors. I cannot even describe them. It is too shocking for me to describe them. The District Superintendent of Police of Ramnad, who is now a District Superintendent of Police somewhere in a Tamil district, ordered the wholesale molestation of women in Devakottai taluk, and there was a Deputy who ordered a person to be put on a donkey and rode it down the roads of the village asking the people to beat him. I do not think that even the worst provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code will allow such powers to police officers. In Singanallur where barbarism ran amok, thousands of people in the villages suffered mostly at the hands of the police. In the name of these untold millions, I am asking that these police officials must be severely punished. I do not want the police officials to think that the Congress Government are going to fade away in a few years. The mentality of the police department has not yet changed. I want the Hon. Premier to take immediate steps to make the police officials realize that they are servants of the people, that they cannot commit excesses in the name of law and order and still live in this country. In 1942, I went to Singanallur. At 10 o'clock in the night, the Malabar Special Police halted there, and the police were allowed to loof, ransack and ravage and commit all sorts of horrors which even Hitler could not have thought of. I am sure that this Ministry will never tolerate whatever had been done. Whatever motive had been at that time, whoever had been responsible, those people must be condemned here and now. Then only the voice of the people would feel that justice had been done. So I request the Hon. Premier to institute an enquiry into the 1942 incidents. I agree with Mr. Hameed Khan that those police officers who discharged their duties according to law should not be punished. But I do want that only those police officials who arrogated to themselves the position of dictators in the Province and who exceeded the limits sanctioned by law should be punished. So I request the Hon. Premier, in the name of thousands of martyrs, men and women, who suffered at the hands of the Malabar Special Police, I want them to be tried and hanged if necessary.

"Finally, I want to make only one appeal to the Hon. Premier. The present police can never be trusted. Their blood is entirely saturated with imperialism. They cannot feel and move with the people. They can never act with the people. If you want our people's Government run with police administration, then make the police a people's police. For that there is only one solution. Create village police, the village volunteer corps. They can have police training, and they can be asked to run the police administration. You can retrench completely the police administration and have volunteer forces in every village. For example, prohibition is going to come. Blackmarketing has to be checked. The village volunteer force, with the help of I.N.A., will be a very good solution. I want those people who were harassed and blackmailed for taking part in the Congress movement and did their duty to their country should be rewarded. If a Cunningham can be promoted to an Inspector-General's place, there is no reason why men who have sacrificed everything for the cause of the country should not be rewarded?"

(After Lunch.)

* N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, when my hon. Friend, Mr. Nambiyar was frequently referring to the 'police,' I felt it rather sounded in my ears as if he was saying 'coolies.' And the psycho-pathology of our society is: the police are in the status of coolies.

"As I draw this picture I should only bring to the notice of the members of this House the London constabulary which has got an excellent and classic record. There every individual constable gets a salary equivalent to what a junior superintendent of police gets here. I believe we need not expect such wonderful standards of efficiency when we are affording niggardly emoluments for our constables. Mr. Speaker, after all it is a policy which cannot be gainsaid that it is pennywise and pound foolish to pay niggardly salaries and entrust them with the most sacred responsibility of preservation of peace. I say, this Black Monday, which has just witnessed the zero hour in our Indian politics, never was the preservation of peace so vitally important as now. And what is the force on which we have to rely for the preservation of peace? We want our constables to be adequately paid and to be safeguarded against the risks of the morrow. But wherever we go we see that these constables are drafted from the riff-raff in society and you cannot expect from them a high standard of morality. Offer them excellent emoluments, set a premium on educational standards for recruitment and then go into the country. And you will have an excellent police worthy of our Province.

"It is true that our Province enjoys a reputation for peace. Although in a few centres, quite recently, that peace was disturbed, still we are sure, with an excellent gentleman at the helm of affairs in our Province, we can expect the police to rise to the occasion and assure peace to safeguard the interests of the minorities.

"But I must say one thing: There are certain trivialities of paraphernalia to which I say the popular Government must cry halt. We would not welcome under the auspices of a popular regime that police authorities must still continue to be stiff-necked in appearance. We would not like the police authorities control the buses in the countryside as if they are monarchs of all they survey. Possibly there are other hon. Members of this House whose fate it was to go by buses in order to have contacts in the countryside and feel what a terrible agony it is to put up with the company of police officers. Quite often the police officer takes charge of an entire bus for private reasons. It may so happen that he would detain buses for hours together, notwithstanding the fact that the bus contains the tribunes of the people who have to voice their grievances here. I tell you, Sir, at dead of night, it was easy for us to have access to the Hon. the Premier during the recent riot at Vaniyambadi. But let me tell you this. How many of us can have that access even during the bright hours of the day if we want to report a matter to the police officer? The very look that he puts on, the very appearance that he has is so revolting and an anathema to our culture that a decent and responsible gentleman dare not go to the police station. I challenge any hon. Member who has gone to a police station to contradict me. Millionaires are horrified by the very expression that destiny should bring them to the police station. Sir, I must tell you there is one word which must be a priceless possession in our culture, a word which is conspicuous by its absence in the police vocabulary; the word is 'Please'. Has any police officer ever addressed you as 'please'? Has any police officer ever treated you as a gentleman? Has any police officer ever welcomed you with cordiality? When members go to represent the grievances of the poor there are no chairs placed opposite the sub-inspector. We must stand and be standing. Is it Tammany Hall? Is it Gestapo? And imagine the contrast when the Leader of the Opposition and ever so many members can gain access at dead of night to the Premier who was able to rise to the occasion, give the assurance that everything will be done in hours of need. But different is our story, on a lower plane, in regard to the authorities of the police department. These are things which go a long way to create the impression that there is still not a popular Government at the helm. Unless you eradicate these impressions from the authorities, unless you root out these paraphernalia, I do not think you have a right to expect that the people will feel that there is really a change in the administration. Sir, we miss the bus every time (laughter) merely because there is a police officer. There is a seat in the bus. It is reserved for the police officer. Heaven only knows when it will be occupied by the Police officer. I ask what right has the police officer to reserve the seat? It is a standing challenge to our self-respect. Apart from the sub-inspector, I was horrified once that even a head constable had the audacity to oust one legislator and occupy the seat. The other day it was so terrible for me that a leading member of the Congress party was disturbed from his front seat and the bus was taken over to the police station where the police officers seemed to have commandeered and then it took two hours before the bus left the headquarters. We do not see any popular regime in the country side. If the Hon. Premier wants to change the conduct of these people, it is easy. Most of these people are recruited from riff-raffs. You are responsible for them because you pay them niggardly emoluments. Give them a higher salary and status and they are bound to display a sense of culture in their dealings with leaders of public opinion. I want this ready assurance that the police department will conduct itself in a manner of cordiality with the public and let there be every assurance for the people that they can have a ready redressal of their grievances if they report any matter to the police.

"But there is one thing. You can increase the salaries of the police. You can augment the strength of the police. But for the preservation of peace every village must have a peace committee and that must be manned by the leaders of the village. They must be asked to give every co-operation to the police authorities in detecting crimes and in seeing that the undesirables are brought to the notice of the authorities."

* SRI K. T. KOSALRAM : "Mr. Speaker Sir, எனது நண்பர் ஸ்ரீ பட்டாபிராமன் அவர்கள் 1942-ம் வருஷத்திலே போலீஸார் சட்டத்திற்குப் புறம்பாக நிச்சய அக்கிரமங்களைப் புறம் விசாரிக்க ஒரு கமிட்டியை நியமிக்கவேண்டுமென்று சொன்னார். அந்தக் காலத்தில் போலீஸார் என்னென்ன அக்கிரமங்களைச் செய்தார்களென்பதைக் கனம் பிரதமர் அவர்களுடைய கவனத்திற்குக் கொண்டுவரவேண்டிய அவசியம் ஏற்பட்டிருக்கிறது. போலீஸார் 1942-ம் வருஷத்திலே நடந்த போராட்டத்தில் பலரைத் தூக்குத் தண்டனைக்குக் கொண்டுவந்ததற்காக அவர் அல்லது சிறைக்கு அனுப்பியதற்காகவோ, அவர்களை விசாரிக்கவேண்டுமென்று நான் இப்போது சொல்லவில்லை. ஆனால் அவர்கள் மூன்றுமாத பெண்களைக் கற்பழித்தார்கள். பாமர ஜனங்களைத் தங்கள் வீட்டு அறையிலே பூஜை செய்துகொண்டிருக்கும்போது, அவர்களை வெளியே இழுத்துக்கொண்டு வந்து ரத்தம் கக்க அடித்தார்கள். அப்போது நடந்த சம்பவங்களைப்பற்றி நான் பல ஸ்டேட்மெண்ட்களை ரிக்கார்டு செய்திருக்கிறேன். அந்தப் போராட்டத்தை அடக்குவதின் பெயரால், சட்டத்திற்குப் புறம்பாக மக்களை ஹிம்ஸை செய்து, போலீஸார்—போலீஸ் டெபுடி சூப்பிரண்டென்ட் ராவ் பகதூர் அப்பாதுரை பின்னை அவர்கள்—பல லக்ஷக்கணக்கான ரூபாயைக் கொள்ளையடித்தார்கள். சட்டத்தைப் படுத்துகப்பதற்காக நாங்கள் செய்கிறோமென்று சொல்லிக்கொண்டு மலபார் ஸ்பெஷல் போலீஸைக்கொண்டு ஒவ்வொரு கிராமத்திலும் வீடு வீடாகப் புகுந்து, சட்டிபானைகளை உடைத்து, அங்கேயிருந்த நார் கட்டில்களை 'பயனட்டால்' குத்திக் கிழித்து பெண்களைக் கற்பழித்தார்கள். இந்த ஹிம்ஸையின் காரணமாகப் போலீஸார் பல லக்ஷக்கணக்கான ரூபாய் சூரையாடி இருக்கிறார்கள். குறிப்பாக குரங்கணி என்ற கிராமத்திலே இந்த மலபார் ஸ்பெஷல் போலீஸார் ஒரு வீட்டிற்குள் புகுந்து, பல ஆயிரக்கணக்கான ரூபாய் மதிப்புள்ள நகைகளைச் சூரையாடியிருக்கிறார்கள். வீட்டிலேயிருந்த நவதானியம், அரிசி, கருப்புக்கட்டி, சர்க்கரை இவைகளின்பேரிலெல்லாம் மலஜலபாதை கழித்து மக்களை ஹிம்ஸை செய்திருக்கிறார்கள். இத்தகைய அக்கிரமங்களைச் செய்த மலபார் ஸ்பெஷல் போலீஸாருக்கு உடந்தையாகவும் அவர்களை இவ்விதம் செய்யும்படி தூண்டிக்கொண்டு பெரிய ஜில்லா அதிகாரிகள் இருந்தார்கள். அவர்கள் இந்த அக்கிரமங்களை யெல்லாம் பார்த்துச் சிரித்துக்கொண்டேயிருந்தார்கள். இந்த அக்கிரமங்களுக்காக மலபார் ஸ்பெஷல் போலீஸாரை விசாரிக்க வேண்டுமென்று நான் சொல்லவில்லை. ஆனால், அவர்களை எவ்விட்டு, அவர்கள் செய்த அக்கிரமங்களைப் பார்த்துச் சிரித்துக்கொண்டிருந்தார்களே அந்த அதிகாரிகளை நிச்சயமாகத் தண்டிக்கவேண்டுமென்று நான் பிரதமர் அவர்களைக் கேட்டுக்கொள்கிறேன்.

"இராமானுதபுரம் ஜில்லாவில் என்ன செய்தார்கள்? அங்கே சப் ஜெயிலிலே பலபேர்களை அக்கிரமமாக அடைத்துவிட்டு அவர்கள் முன்னிலையில் அவர்களுடைய பெண்களைப் போலீஸார் கற்பழித்தார்கள். அப்படிப்பட்ட கொடுமையை எந்த அரசாங்கமும் சகித்துக்கொண்டிருக்க முடியாது. இந்த பிரிடிக் அரசாங்கத்திலும் இம்மாதிரி சாதாரண காலத்தில் சும்மா விருக்கமாட்டார்கள். அதிலும் இன்று பாபுலர் மினிஸ்டிரி அதிகாரத்திலிருக்கிறது. போலீஸார் சட்ட பூர்வமான காரியங்களைச் செய்ததற்காக, மக்களை சிறைக்கு அனுப்பியதற்காக, அவர்களைக் கண்டிக்கவேண்டுமென்று நான் சொல்லவில்லை. ஆனால், அவர்கள் சட்டத்திற்குப் புறம்பாக என்னென்ன செய்தார்கள், என்னென்ன லஞ்சம் வாங்கினார்கள், எவ்வளவு பணத்தைக் கொள்ளையடித்தார்கள். எவ்வளவு பெண்களைக் கற்பழித்தார்கள் என்பதை விசாரிப்பதற்காக ஒரு சரியான கமிட்டியை ஏற்படுத்த வேண்டும். ஒரு ரிட்டயர் ஜில்லர் ஜட்ஜ், இரண்டு அட்வகேட்களைக் கொண்டதாக அந்தக் கமிட்டி யிருக்கவேண்டும். அவர்கள் இந்த அக்கிரமங்களை, அநியாயச் செயல்களை யெல்லாம் விசாரித்து, உடனே சர்க்காருக்கு ரிபோர்ட் செய்யும்படியாகச் செய்து, அதன்பேரில் சர்க்கார் குற்றம் செய்தவர்களைக் கோர்ட்டு முன்னால் நிறுத்தி, அவர்களுக்குத் தண்டனை கொடுக்கவேண்டுமென்று பிரதமர் அவர்களை நான் கேட்டுக்கொள்கிறேன்.

"அடுத்தபடியாக மற்றொரு விஷயம் சொல்ல விரும்புகிறேன். திருநெல்வேலி, இராமநாதபுரம் ஜில்லாக்கள் போன்ற தென் கடைசி ஜில்லாக்களிலே சாதாரண போலீஸார், சப் இன்ஸ்பெக்டரையும், சர்கிள் இன்ஸ்பெக்டரையும், டெபுடி, ஜில்லா சூப்பிரண்டென்ட்களையும் 'எஜமான்'

[Sri K. T. Kosalram Nadar] [2nd September 1946]

என்று கூப்பிடவேண்டும். அவ்விதம் அவர்களைக் கூப்பிடவில்லையானால் அந்தப் போலீஸாரை, 'யாரடா நீ' என்று அவமரியாதையாக அந்த உத்தியோகஸ்தர்கள் கேட்கிறார்கள். மனித சமூகத்திலே இது எவ்வளவு கேவலமான செயலென்று பாருங்கள். நான் சப்-ஜெயிலிலே இருந்த போது அங்கே வந்த ஒரு சர்க்கின் இன்ஸ்பெக்டரை—சிவானந்தம் என்பவரை—ஒரு கான்ஸ்டேபில் எஜமான என்று சொல்லாமல் 'ஸார்' என்று சொல்லிவிட்டான். அவன் சென்னையிலேயிருந்து வந்த ஒரு கான்ஸ்டேபில். அதனால் சில நாட்களுக்குப் பின்னால் அவன் ஸஸ் பெண்டு செய்யப்பட்டான். இந்த மாதிரியான அக்கிரமத்தைப் படித்த போலீஸ் அதிகாரிகள் செய்கிறார்கள். 'பாபுலர்' அரசாங்கம் இருக்கும் போதாவது இப்படிப்பட்ட சம்பவங்கள் நிகழக்கூடாது. நிகழவில்லை பாது காத்துக்கொள்ளவேண்டியது சர்க்காரின் கடமை. அடுத்தபடியாக, பொது ஜனங்களும், சப்-இன்ஸ்பெக்டரையும், சர்க்கில் இன்ஸ்பெக்டரையும் 'எஜமான்' என்று கூப்பிடவில்லையானால், அந்த உத்தியோகஸ்தர்கள் கோபமாகத் திரும்பிப் பார்க்கிறார்கள். அவர்கள் விஷயத்தில் ஏதாவது அநியாயத்தை இந்த உத்தியோகஸ்தர்கள் செய்துவிடுகிறார்கள். பொது ஜனங்கள் தான் அவர்களுக்கு எஜமானர்கள் என்று சர்க்கார் தெரியப்படுத்தவேண்டும். பொதுஜனங்களுடைய வேலையைச் செய்வதற்காகத்தான் நீங்கள் உத்தியோகத்திலே யிருக்கிறீர்கள். அவர்களுக்கு அவமரியாதையாக நீங்கள் நடந்துகொண்டால் 'நீங்கள் தண்டிக்கப்படுவீர்கள்' என்று அரசாங்கம் அவர்களுக்கு 'ஸர்க்குலர்' அனுப்பவேண்டும். அடுத்த மாகாணங்களிலே யிருக்கும் காங்கிரஸ் மந்திரி சபைகள் இவ்விதம் செய்திருக்கின்றன. நம்முடைய மாகாணத்திலேயும் பிரதமர் அவர்கள் உடனடியாக இப்படிப் ஒரு சர்க்குலரை அனுப்பவேண்டுமென்று கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.

"அடுத்தபடியாக, நண்பர் கனம் ஷெட்டி அவர்கள், சர்க்கின் இன்ஸ்பெக்டர்கள் எல்லோரும் தபால் பெட்டி ஆக இருக்கிறார்கள். சப்-இன்ஸ்பெக்டர்கள்தான் அதிகாரிகளாக விருக்கிறார்கள் என்று சொன்னார்கள். சர்க்கின் இன்ஸ்பெக்டர்கள் சப்-இன்ஸ்பெக்டரிப்பிருந்து வரும் தபால் பெட்டி, ஜில்லா குப்பிரண்டெண்டுகளுக்கு அனுப்புவதைத்தான் செய்து கொண்டு வருகிறார்கள். சாதாரண கேஸ் முதல் பெரிய கேஸ் வரையில் எல்லாவற்றையும் சப்-இன்ஸ்பெக்டர்தான் "டிஸ்போஸ்" செய்கிறார். கிராமங்களிலே அமைதிக்குப் பங்கம் ஏற்படக்கூடிய விவகாரங்களிலெல்லாம் F.I.R. ஐப் பார்த்தவுடனே சர்க்கின் இன்ஸ்பெக்டர்கள் அந்த ஸ்தலத்திற்குச் சென்று விசாரிக்கவேண்டுமென்று அவர்களுக்குத் தெரிவிக்கவேண்டும்.

"அடுத்தபடியாக, பஸ்களிலே போலீசார் செய்யும் அக்கிரமங்களைப் பற்றி யெல்லாம் எனது முஸ்லீம் நண்பர்கள் இப்போது சொன்னார்கள். இதுபற்றி எல்லோருக்கும் தெரியும். நமது பிரதமர், சட்ட மந்திரி அவர்களுக்குக்கூடத் தெரியுமென்று நம்புகிறேன். இதைத் திருப்பித் திருப்பிச் சொல்லவேண்டுமென்று நான் விரும்பவில்லை.

"அடுத்தபடியாக, போலீஸாருடைய சம்பளம் மிகவும் குறைந்ததுதான். அதைப்பற்றி சர்க்கார் கவனிக்கவேண்டியது அவசியந்தான். சம்பளம் குறைவு என்ற காரணத்தினால், அவர்கள் தப்பிதமாக நடந்துகொள்ளுவதை நாம் எந்த நிமிஷமும் அனுமதிக்கக்கூடாது.

"அடுத்ததாக, ஆங்கிலேய சார்ஜென்டுக்கும், இந்திய சார்ஜென்டுக்கும் சம்பளத்திலும், அவ்வன்விலும் பல வித்தியாசங்களிருக்கின்றன. ஒரு இந்திய சார்ஜன்ட் பி. ஏ. படித்திருக்கிறார். ஒரு ஆங்கிலேய சார்ஜன்ட் அதிகமாகப் படித்திருக்கமாட்டார். இருந்தாலும் இந்திய சார்ஜன்டைக் காட்டிலும் இந்த சார்ஜன்ட் அதிகச் சம்பளம் வாங்குகிறார். திருநெல்வேலியிலே ஒரு ஆங்கிலேய சார்ஜன்ட் Mr. மில்லர் என்பவர் என்னை எஸ்கார்ட் செய்துகொண்டு வந்தபோது, 'What is your qualification' என்று நான் அவரைக் கேட்டேன். 'Nil' என்று அவர் எனக்குப் பதில் சொன்னார். அவர் மிலிடரியிலிருந்து வந்திருக்கிறாராம். அவருடைய சம்பளம் ரூ. 225. ஆனால் பி. ஏ. படித்த ஒரு இந்திய சார்ஜன்டுக்கு ரூ. 75 தான் கொடுக்கப்படுகிறது. இந்திய சார்ஜன்டுக்கும், சப்-இன்ஸ்பெக்டருக்கும் ரூ. 225 கொடுங்கள். நான் அதை ஆக்ஷேபிக்கவில்லை. ஆனால், மனிதனுக்கு மனிதன் வித்தியாசம் செய்யக்கூடா தென்று நான் பிரதமர் அவர்களைக் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்.

[2nd September 1936] [Sri K. T. Kosalram Nadar]

"அடுத்தபடியாக, நமது தேசத்தின் ஒப்பற்ற தலைவர்களுக்கு மாலை போட்டதாக போலீஸார் சிலர் டிஸ்மிஸ் செய்யப்பட்டிருக்கிறார்கள். அதோடு, சமீபத்தில் கோவில்பட்டியில் நேதாஜி சபாஷ் சந்திர போஸ் படத்துக்கு மாலை போட்டதற்காக ஒரு கான்ஸ்டேபில் டிஸ்மிஸ் செய்யப்பட்டிருக்கிறார். இது விஷயமாக அவர் சர்க்காருக்குப் பல பெடிஷன் போட்டிருக்கிறார். சர்க்கார் அவரை உடனே வேலைக்கு எடுத்துக்கொண்டு அதே கோவில்பட்டி ஸ்டேஷனிலே வைப்பதோடில்லாமல், அவருக்கு ஹெட் கான்ஸ்டேபில் வேலையையும் கொடுக்கவேண்டுமென்று நான் கேட்டுக்கொள்ளுகிறேன்."

* SRI NIVARTHI VENKATA SUBBAYYA:—"Mr. Speaker, 2-45 p.m.
Sir, within the short time of five minutes that is allotted to me, it would be difficult to deal with such an important and serious subject as the Administration of Police. Most of the members who have come over here and are sitting in this House have been the victims of the atrocities of the police at some time or other in their political career and therefore I need not labour on the point which I want to suggest, that the first step of this popular Government should be to 'nationalize' the police, that is to say, they should imbue nationalist spirit in the police and make the police, the People's Police. I do not find so far any indication that this thing is being attempted by the Ministry. The 1942 movement has brought home to us a number of lessons which should warn us against any sense of complacency. The Congress Government of 1937-39 failed to 'nationalize' the police and the patriots suffered during the 1942 struggle. We should not forget that we are still far from our goal of freedom and that that goal cannot be achieved unless we have the backing of all forces and of all the people in the country, including the Services. I know from history that the method of revolution has been adopted by some countries for the achievement of their freedom. The Services, if they are really imbued with a sense of patriotism and of righteousness of our cause, would easily throw themselves on the side of the people. But we have a different situation in our country. That is why I say that the 1942 movement has got a great lesson for us. That movement showed us how perfectly reckless and cruel our police force could be, how they could deal a heavy blow to our national prestige and how they could injure our national honour and human dignity. There have been many instances in the various districts where police officers have behaved in the most ruthless and atrocious and most inhuman manner, trying to inflict wounds on the patriots, not only on the body of the patriots, but also on their sense of honour and national self-respect and pride—which will take long to heal—and it is to this point that I should like to invite the attention of this House and this Government.

"In my own district of Kurnool, a number of patriots have been insulted and tortured beyond forbearance. I shall give a few illustrations of these things.

"One Mr. K. Chandramouleshwarau, B.A., an ardent Congress worker was severely assaulted by Mr. H. S. Krishna Ayyangar, who was then the Circle Inspector of Police at Patti-konda after he was arrested and he was subjected to all sorts of humiliations.

[Sri Nivarthi Venkata Subbayya] [2nd September 1946]

“Mr. C. Sivarangiah, another patriot was also very severely assaulted in jail by the same officer till he fell down. He was trampled upon under booted legs.

“I mention these instances, particularly, because of the inhuman and immoral conduct of the police officers. I submit that unless the police officers are made to realize the moral values in human conduct and in the conduct of the Government servants, it is impossible for us to control the police force. I therefore request the Hon. the Premier to go into these cases and see that those officers who were responsible for such wilful and immoral acts are properly dealt with, as the first step towards ‘nationalization’ of the police force.

“I shall give a few other instances. Mr. G. Hubboji Rao, Secretary, Kurnool Town Congress Committee and C. Ramiah, Congress worker, were beaten beyond endurance in the police lock-up. They were put in the lock-up for five days without remand and were not given food or water. They were tied hand and foot and beaten with sticks and kicked with booted legs and lest they should cry, their mouths were gagged with cloths when they swooned. The officers who were involved in this nefarious crime are Mr. Sundararami Reddi, Sub-Inspector of Police, Kurnool Town, Assistant District Superintendent of Police Mr. Subbanna, Circle Inspector of Police Mr. Sattar, Mr. Ramaswami Naidu, Circle Inspector, Mr. Venkoba Rao, Taluk Sub-Inspector, Mr. Ratnam, C.I.D. constable, Police constables Ranganna, Ramamurti Pillai, Chinnayya, Mohiddin and writer Mahaboob. There is no time to describe the various kinds of torture they were subject to.

“These police officers not only insulted and tortured them, but they slandered our revered leaders such as Mahatma Gandhi and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. Whenever they asked for water, they were offered urine or asked to go to Gandhiji and whenever he pleaded for mercy, he was asked to apply to Gandhiji. That is how atrocities were perpetrated upon our patriots in the 1942 August Movement.”

3 p.m. * BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, at the outset, I wish to strongly support the plea that has been put forward by the previous speakers with regard to increasing the pay of the lower staff of the police, namely, the constables, the head constables, the Sub-Inspectors and the Inspectors. Theirs, we all know, is a very hard task; hence it is very necessary that they should be duly remunerated so that they may be in a fit condition to carry on their onerous duties. Another point to which I wish to draw attention is that in these days it must be impressed upon the members of the police force in this Province, the necessity to be actuated by a spirit of impartiality in the discharge of their duties, irrespective of considerations of caste or creed and the policies of the political parties. Unless they do so, they will not be able to command the respect and the confidence of the people and maintain peace, law and order. In Britain, the members of the Civil Service are trained in traditions of absolute impartiality and neutrality to the political parties of the land, with the result that they serve the Labour Government to-day as faithfully as they served the Conservative Government. In a country like India where great divergencies prevail, it is of the utmost importance that all the officials and particularly the members of the Police force should be imbued with a similar quality. This is very necessary at the present time, because the bureaucratic regime is no longer in existence and power is vested not in a Coalition Government, but in a Government composed of members of one political party only.

“Another point that I should like to mention is that the members of the police force should learn to act as the friends and the servants of the people. We have had a number of speakers who have dilated on the arrogance of the police in the discharge of their duties. In Britain the policeman is most popular and is called by the affectionate name of Bobby for his readiness to help all—men, women and children. Likewise I want the police force here to earn the goodwill of the people and be their friend and helper. I also wish to emphasize that in a country like India it is undesirable to have the police force packed with members of one community only in any place. It is very necessary that a mixed force of police comprising members of different communities should be posted in as many places as possible, and particularly in regions where communal tension prevails or is likely to arise. To do so, it is evident that the number of Muslims in the police force should be increased; otherwise, it will not be possible to have mixed forces in the different areas.

“I now wish to advert to a grievance in regard to the police, namely, that the police force in this Province has failed to suppress the houses of ill-fame and gambling resorts. On coming to Madras, after residing many years in the mufassal, I was astounded beyond measure at the manner in which the houses of ill-fame had sprung up in the City and had been allowed to exist even in respectable localities and in important and conspicuous thoroughfares. The surprise is that the fear of the authorities does not drive the pliers of the nefarious trade into nooks and corners to evade detection. This speaks for itself about the lack of vigilance and interest on the part of the police to tackle the evil. This undesirable state of affairs has produced and is producing a most deleterious effects on the morals of the inhabitants of the City. I urge upon the Government to take stringent measures to eradicate the evil and also to sufficiently empower the police to tackle the problem, for the plea is often put forward by them that the Government have not given them sufficient powers to deal with the evil.

“The same holds good with reference to gambling resorts. These also have increased to an appalling degree. Since these gambling dens cause ruin to thousands of people it is urgent that the Government should take immediate steps to get rid of this evil also.

“I shall now refer to a recommendation that has been made by the Women's Sub-Committee of the Post-war Reconstruction

[Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin] [2nd September 1946]

Committee, viz., that women police should be appointed in this Province. Although over a year and a half has elapsed since this recommendation was made, the same has not yet been implemented.

"I wish to point out that it is necessary to appoint women in the police force as they would be very helpful in dealing with women criminals and juvenile offenders. It is a general complaint that the position of women victims of crime is often made miserable and intolerable by the men police; hence, it is desirable that the task of tackling the women criminals should be entrusted to the members of their own sex. The women police could take evidence from the women criminals, search them and accompany them to police stations. They could also be helpful in examining the age of girls. Besides, the women police is bound to be of great assistance in the working of the Suppression of Immoral Traffic Act and the Children Act. In patrolling and raiding the houses of ill-fame, their co-operation would be invaluable. It is no longer novel in India to ask for women police. Since 1942, Bombay has had its women police force. Women have also been recruited to the police in the Punjab and Travancore. In each of these places, they are functioning very successfully, particularly in Travancore where women have made a mark in every department. I wish to point out that we do not desire women to be appointed merely as constables; we want women with due qualifications and a high standard of education to be appointed to the ranks of Sub-Inspectors and Inspectors as well to begin with.

"I understand that the Advisers' Government delayed appointing women to the police force because they were waiting for the members of the WAC (I) to get demobilized, whom they intended to absorb in the new department. These WAC (I) have now been demobilized. I am of the opinion that besides the WAC (I) there are many other women competent to be appointed to such posts. I hope the Government will be pleased to give due attention to this matter.

"With these words, I support the cut motion moved by the Leader of the Opposition."

* M. S. ATAULLAH SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, as has been mentioned by many of the previous speakers, this department has a very responsible and unpleasant duty to maintain law and order in this country and the constable who represents the main strength of the department is, as has been said, so niggardly paid and his pay does not stand a comparison even with that of the present-day postal runner.

"Sir, it has already been pointed out that the constable is serving under very different circumstances and very peculiar too. He has hitherto been serving the people through a foreign Government, but now he must be made to understand that he is serving a popular Government and a popular Government means, Government by the people and for the people. It is absolutely necessary that the police and the relationship between the police and the people must be reformed thoroughly. But this cannot be done by treating them in a spirit of unappreciativeness, not to speak of disappreciation. It should not be done by grudging them their legitimate due—I mean their pay and allowances and other emoluments, which they so richly deserve. To keep them above wants, they must be amply paid and they must be made honest. I would also request the present popular Ministry to devise ways and means to make the constable realize his position in a popular Government and to see that the crimes and atrocities which the policemen committed during the 1942-movement, and which many Members of this House described on the floor of the House to-day, are not committed any longer in the future.

"Sir, in other Provinces, the salaries of the constables, Sub-Inspectors and Inspectors, as also of the Deputy Superintendents of Police are far higher than those paid to the police officers in this Province. It is high time that this popular Government keep these faithful servants above wants by increasing their salaries accordingly. The Sub-Inspectors and Circle Inspectors are not provided with accommodation. The popular Government should consider this point at the earliest opportunity.

"Finally, Sir, let me once again appeal to the Government that the policemen who are supposed to be on duty for all the 24 hours in a day, and who are made the full use of, should be given a living wage, as has been urged even by our Communist friends here, to keep them above wants."

* SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I shall content myself with stating what I consider to be an essential task of this Government, of reforming the entire police force of this Province on what I call a popular basis. I would not like, Sir, that either the morale or the efficiency of the police force should be impaired in any manner while this reform is in progress. If it is the function, as I assume it to be, of the police to protect the average citizen against everything anti-social from nuisance to crime, then, I say, Sir, that we should have an adequate police force in every area where the police is stationed, in order that the object may be achieved. I would, Sir, draw the attention of the Hon. Premier to this fact, that without increasing the number on the rolls, but with a careful redistribution of the entire force in the Province and of the reserves too, we can effect the change that I have in view. We have, Sir, it is true an inadequate staff in the rural areas. Very often when we visit a police station to make a complaint, we find that there is not even a constable to take note of the complaint. This arises because of the many exacting duties imposed on the policeman, such as guard and escort duty, treasury duty, express messages and the tardy manner in which their work is done is often the reason for few policemen being found at the station to attend to proper complaints.

"Sir, I would like this problem to be tackled in the following way. There must first be a redistribution of stations and every Sub-Inspector or whatever you may call him ought to develop a local sense. He must take the initiative into his own hands and

p.m.

[Sri N. S. Varadachari] [2nd September 1946]

not look for guidance from the centre as is often the case today. He thinks very often: "What will the Superintendent say if I take up this investigation? Or shall I allow my complaint book to be filled day after day so that my attention may be drawn at some stage by some officer or other and be told 'In your division or area crime is increasing and what are you doing all the time?' Or if few cases are booked he may come round and say that 'The public are not showing enough confidence in you, what are you doing my good friend?'" I want these two alternative positions avoided. We have multiplied our reserves three to four times during the last six years. I will invite the attention of the Hon. Premier to this startling development. There is the District Reserve, there is the Special Police Reserve—I want the name 'Malabar Special Police' should forthwith be abolished as it consists, as all other forces do, of the average men of our country—besides there is the Presidency Armed General Reserve. I want these reserves, Sir, to be redistributed so that each small police station may have a local reserve of 10 to 12 men, a more mobile reserve, each member of the staff being furnished with a motor cycle, so that the reserves can be thrown into any disturbance at the time when it is actually needed and may arrive there, and not as it often does today, arrive after the disturbance has started and much rioting has been gone through. That is my scheme for the redistribution of the reserves.

"There is another aspect that I would like to place before the Hon. Prime Minister. The numbers need not be multiplied at all as I said, but the standard of recruitment maintained must be very high. We must attract the best talent in this country to the police force. It is my opinion that this should be an educative force and not the present force that is engaged in the work of sometimes using too much force. Who would do a uniform, I ask, in the City on Rs. 22 a month and on Rs. 18 a month in the mufassal, if we insist that fairly high education should be the qualification for a constable or a head constable. I would like to see the day when the intelligent youth rush to police recruitment offices and ask for places in the force in order that they may guide the country along the proper path.

"Sir, the duty of a policeman whether he be an officer or a local petty servant, is to have a firm grasp of the crime potential of the area in which he serves and this you cannot get, Sir (Interruption) . . . Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan says it is right. Sir, this cannot be done unless you have the best recruits in the police force. We need have only local stations with adequate staff. We need not have all the post office officials, the Deputy Superintendents of Police, Inspectors, etc., multiplied indefinitely with their own offices. Sir, there is ample room for cutting down many of the high paid posts in the department. Give a good Personal Assistant to each District Superintendent of Police. This will solve many of the difficulties in the way of reorganization. This reorganization contemplates that the public and the police will act as one in any emergency. While I would ask the public not to impose too great a strain on the police force, I would like the police force to reciprocate in like measure by performing their duties and taking on their work as a truly educative one and win the confidence of the people and not rest merely on laurels won in the shape of police medals. I want, Sir, that confidence should be established in every police station. It should not be said, as it was very often said to me, that when a man went to register a complaint of theft at a police station, his wife refused to surrender her bangle for identification purposes lest the other bangle should be taken away and misused by the police. The test of a good police force is the confidence it inspires amongst the people. I want that confidence, Sir, which is sadly lacking today, to be restored in every police station, both in the urban and in the rural areas.

"One more sentence and I have done. There is a police maxim, I am told, that the country will get the police force it deserves. I agree. It is a trite saying. Even taking it to be applicable to this country, may I claim that we are on the average a very good and peaceful people and I feel that given high standards of recruitment and decent conditions of service, we will get an equally peace-loving but courageous police force, not a panicky one, which will take all the risks that come in its way, more often than not unawares."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to support this cut motion for the following reasons. In the first place, I would like to point out to the Government that it is the fundamental principle that loyalty of the subject is dependent on, and in consideration of, the protection given to the person and property of the subjects. It will also be realized by the Government that it was very unfortunate that soon after the present Government took up the responsibilities of Government we have had ever so many incidents which have shaken the confidence of the people both as regards security of person and property in this Province. No doubt people expected that when the Congress took the reins of the Government they would feel more secure as regards security of person and property than before this Government came into being. Whatever the reasons might be, it is quite clear now that there is a lack of confidence among the people as regards the security of person and property. In fact, on very many days when we get out of our houses we do not know whether we will be returning back safe. In fact, these remarks came from my mouth as I was thinking of my own personal experience. Recently when I was going to attend the Court and was travelling in a bus during one of those strike days, some stones were thrown at the but near the Pachaiyappa's College. One of my friends and myself very narrowly escaped being hurt. Sir, this is not the only occasion. There are so many other occasions when people find their position rather very risky. No doubt it might have been so under the previous Government also to some extent, but it cannot but be admitted that it has increased since the present Government came into being.

“One important matter, I cannot but refer to and that is the happenings in Vaniyambadi. It might be said that such things are occurring elsewhere also, but that was a very extraordinary happening and I say that that was due to the policy of this Government in regard to the food problem. I did not want to dwell on this question in speaking on this Demand, but still I cannot but refer to the reason for the things that happened there; that is, in the formation of the village committees the Muslims of Vaniyambadi demanded that having regard to the fact that 70 per cent of the population of that place are Muslims, they must be given 5 out of the 8 seats. The next day the Secretary of the Congress Committee came out with a list of 8 names, one of which alone was a Muslim, who was not a real representative of the Muslims, but some non-entity. That was the real cause of the trouble whatever might have been the incidents that led to it. What is it that happened? Properties, that is, tanneries worth not less than 15 to 20 lakhs of rupees were burnt to ashes all on a sudden and the pity of it was that the owners of the tanneries who were the residents of Vaniyambadi had to look at their properties being burnt to ashes, without not only being protected by the Police, but without their being able to raise their little finger to protect their own property. The behaviour of the Police on that occasion was really very deplorable, whether it was out of impotence or out of the idea that they were not bound to give immediate protection to the people concerned. Whatever the reason might be, the police failed in their duty to protect the property and person of these people, and that is very deplorable. Soon after this incident, we approached the Hon. Premier and I must express our appreciation of the readiness with which the Hon. Premier agreed to go and inspect the place and satisfy himself as to what had happened; many of us also went along with the Hon. Premier on that occasion to see how such valuable properties were burnt to ashes without being protected. The Hon. Premier has seen for himself what had happened there, no doubt, but I am yet to know what the result of that is. Sir, it is the bounden duty of the Government to protect the person and property of the subject and it is in return for such protection that the people owe their loyalty to the Government whichever the Government might be. Therefore I say that it is the bounden duty of the Government to enquire into this matter and to see what were the causes of such an extraordinary event. Has any such enquiry been made? Has the Government taken steps to see what were the causes of such destruction of property? Sir, not only this, but there have been subsequent incidents also of the same character in the same place even after the Hon. Premier's visit. Even very recently we have had accounts of private houses being burnt. Sir, this is not confined to Vaniyambadi. Similar disturbances have occurred also in some places like Ramnad. The Hon. Premier went to that place also and satisfied himself as to what had really happened. I would therefore request the Government to institute an enquiry immediately and see what were the causes and who were responsible for it and also see that the people whose properties have been so wantonly destroyed are compensated, because it is the bounden duty of the Government to protect the lives and properties of the people."

district. In that district there are 70 Harijan constables but to my surprise these constables were not allowed to draw water from a well intended for constables for the simple reason that they happened to be Harijans. As a result of that, they have been transferred to various places and the police authorities—I mean the District Superintendent of Police—wants to provide them with water drawn from other places. But he will not allow them to draw water from the wells that were dug out of public funds. I request the Hon. the Premier to instruct the local police officials to see that all constables irrespective of caste, class or creed are allowed to draw water from one and the same well.

"As regards police officers, I do not see why they should be allowed to draw travelling allowance under the Madras Travelling Allowance Rules while other officers are given fixed travelling allowance. I should like to bring to the notice of the House that the Circle Inspector of Police and the Deputy Superintendent of Police have no work. They go out in the name of inspection of Police stations and stay in a place for 4 or 5 days. For work which can be finished in 5 or 6 hours they take 4 or 5 days. They do not do the whole work in one day. To-day the Inspector inspects drill, tomorrow he inspects kit, day after tomorrow he inspects rifles. I challenge, Sir, that no Circle Inspector knows how to do drill. So, Sir, the question of inspecting drill may be entrusted to the jamedars who will do the inspection much better than the District Superintendent of Police or the Deputy Superintendent of Police or any other Superintendent of Police. (Laughter.) Sir, these officers have been making much by way of travelling allowance for inspection. Sir, the Circle Inspector does not investigate cases at all. He is simply an inspecting officer. This work can very well be done by a Personal Assistant to the Deputy Superintendent of Police as my hon. Friend Mr. Varadachariar suggested.

"Sir, in this connexion, I repeat that the salaries of the constables and the head constables should be increased. A pay of Rs. 18 in the mufassal and Rs. 21 in the City is not sufficient and the pay must be increased. The saving which will accrue from the travelling allowance may be utilized for this purpose.

"As regards the District Intelligence Bureau, this came into existence in 1932. I do not know what it is doing now. The Bureau is spending Rs. 1,000 every month in every district. At that rate we are spending Rs. 3 to 4 lakhs for the whole Province. The people there have no work for more than two days a week. The strength of the Bureau may be reduced. It is enough if there is one head constable and a few constables. It is not necessary to have Sub-Inspectors and Circle Inspectors. They are mere appendages doing no work and they should be abolished.

"Now, Sir, in our country, people hate the police whereas in England the people like and love the police. What is the reason? It is because of the mentality of our police, that is to say, they behave in such a way as to create fear in the minds of the people and the people hate them in return. Though they are said to be the safeguarders of the law, they often take the law into their own hands.

"With regard to recruiting, I do not see any reason why the Harijan is in any way inferior or less qualified than others. I think they can very easily be recruited as police constables at least. What is required for recruitment as a police constable is that the man should be literate. But as the Harijans have no godfathers in the Police department, they are not at all recruited. Therefore while the Government are recruiting men for the police in future, they must consider the case of the Harijans and the I.N.A. people also.

"As regards promotions, as the Harijans have no godfathers they are not promoted at all. Men who are useful to the higher officials are promoted quickly. To-day one will be a constable, tomorrow he will be a head constable and in a very short time he will be a Sub-Inspector. Unfortunately the Harijan serves and serves and he will have to retire as a constable.

"Now Sir, as regards sub-jails, . . ."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Sub-jails?"

* SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"I am not going to talk about jails now. I only want to refer to the mischief which the Police do in sub-jails. I speak from my own personal experience. These police officers go to the sub-jails during nights and try to make the accused there in the sub-jail confess or make some statements which they like. Such an incident happened in my own district, Sir, the Deputy Collector Mr. Prabhakara Rao and the police visited the sub-jail at about 12 o'clock in the night.

"Sir, the journalists are expected to report what actually take place. But for the simple reason that they report what actually took place, how are the police justified in assaulting them? . . ."

p.m.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member's time is up."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, there was one important point urged by my hon. Friend, Mr. Town, viz., that the Government should not withdraw cases filed by the Police after due investigation till the Court delivers judgment. Lest this point should be lost sight of, I rise to emphasize that point.

"Sir, the Police investigate a case and on the evidence on record, they charge-sheet the accused. If the Government wants to interfere at that stage, you can realize how the police administration will be affected. Further, the people will lose their confidence in the work that is turned out by the Police. For some reasons of high policy, or where the offences are more technical offences, perhaps the Government, after the conviction is given, and on very rare occasions, may make the persons free or adopt such policy as they please. This is happening unfortunately in some districts where Members of the Legislature are trying to influence the Government before the conviction; even at the stage of investigation Members of this House try to bamboozle the Police officials. This is very very bad. I submit, Sir, that the Government should take a very serious view of this matter and adopt a definite policy of not withdrawing any cases at all when the Police have investigated into the matter and have filed the case up to the time the cases are about to go before the courts to be decided on their merits. Especially now, Sir, when we are separating the judiciary from the executive, there need not be any fear that the Police are likely to play ducks and drakes, that they would be doing the wrong thing.

"Now, Sir, intimately connected with this question is the necessity for impartiality on the part of the Police. As has been observed by some of my friends here, there are many political parties in the country. I belong to one of them, the Muslim League party. I know, that some gentlemen who call themselves members of the party to which this Government belongs, some office-holders of the Congress committees who are also members of the Legislature, actually terrorise and bamboozle the police officers and petition against them merely because those officers happen to belong to a certain community. Is that fair, I ask? Is that gentleman who is making an allegation against a police officer merely because he happens to be a Mussalman or a Christian or belongs to this or that party, say the Communist party, is it fair on his part that he should make an allegation of that kind? He should be a responsible man especially when he happens to be a member of the party to which the Government belongs. At the present time, this is the complaint made by the Communist party. In the past, some of the complaints made by the Congress party were well-founded; I now see that the Congress Government which complained in the past against the then existing Government that Congressmen were not treated well by the Police, are now taking advantage of the same thing, now that they are in power. I wish that every member of the Congress party realises his responsibility, especially because he belongs to the party in power. Therefore, Sir, the spirit of impartiality must be inculcated in the Police. They must be told 'You have no politics, you do not belong to this party or that party.' Let it be even the President of the Provincial Congress Committee, even in his case, you should not mind what he says, so long as you have got the evidence on record. I am sure, Sir, the Hon. the Prime Minister, as many people know, will certainly support the officer; it is his duty to deal squarely and fairly and with conscience, and I am sure he will not be afraid of this or that Congressman. That is very important. I only pray and appeal to the Hon. the Premier, we do not know what might happen in the future. The Congress party when they were opposing the then Government in power, wanted that that Government should be fair to all; that was when they were in the Opposition. I wish, now that they are themselves in power, they will be fair to others, they will be just to all other parties, even to parties which do not see eye to eye with them, even if they have to disobey under the orders of their High Command which may ask them to take steps which might not be legal or lawful."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to support the cut motion, so that we may elicit from the Hon. the Premier the policy which he wants to follow in regard to the Police department. As is evident to-day both in the streets of Madras as well as in many places in the Tamil Nad and other parts of the Province, everywhere the police atrocities are mounting up day by day. There are friends here who accuse the Communists for all kinds of trouble; even the Prime Minister has gone to the extent of saying that the Communists are responsible for all the strikes. I want to contradict this and to convey to the Prime Minister that the Communists are not at all responsible for the South Indian Railway strike and other strikes. It is clear that the South Indian Railway Manager wanted this strike because he wanted to crush the Union and to see that the workers were stranded permanently. It is the Manager that is responsible for the present strike and not at all the Communists. It is said from the League benches that Communists are responsible for the Postal strike. Sir, not that we do not support their demand; we do support the working classes and the low-paid Postal employees in all their efforts; but we did not give any trouble to the Government and the Ministry or take any political advantage of these things. We only wanted that their demand must be met. Suppose, Sir, the demands are not met; suppose the non-gazetted officers are not satisfied with the Government communiqué and go on strike, then is it proper for anybody to accuse the Communists, and say they are responsible for their strike? Sir, I want to bring to the notice of the Hon. the Prime Minister that utter injustice has been done to the Communist party in the name of the maintenance of law and order. Party members are arrested, repression let loose, our offices raided and publication of certain passages in our party organ in Malayalam prohibited. I would like to know in whose interest he wants to maintain law and order. Is it in the interests of the people or in the interests of the ruling class or is it in the interests of those who to-day have brought about the South Indian Railway strike and other capitalists? I would also like to know who has made this 'Law and Order'—is it the Congress Ministry? It is not the Congress Ministry, I know; it was British Imperialism which has created this law and order business, in order to keep us permanently under slavery. To-day we find the Andhra Kesari—some of my friends say he is now the Madras Kesari—is trying to maintain law and order for the sake of the British Imperialists, who are out to enslave us for all time, to smash every one of our attempts to free ourselves, and to see that British Imperialism reigns for ever and for ever in this country. I request, Sir, the Hon. the Premier not to indulge in such things, but to look into realities and see that justice is done to all parties alike. No doubt he may not agree with the Communist party, but at the same time, justice must be meted out to all parties alike; but unfortunately to-day it is nowhere to be found at all. If the Hon. the Prime Minister wants to maintain law and order, it is not at all in the interests of the people; it is more in the interests of Imperialism. We require law and order so that all our people should live decently and get a minimum living wage. To-day we see the municipal workers on strike; they are not treated properly; they are being given Re. 1, Rs. 2 and Rs. 3; the police are set upon them and their heads broken. That is how things are going on to-day. I want the Prime Minister to maintain law and order and to see that the workers are not denied their right to live, that their right to existence is not curbed, and that they continue to have their right to strike. In these circumstances, when there is a strike, is it the duty of the Hon. the Prime Minister to help the Railway Manager with the Police? Sir, as I hear the incidents that are happening throughout the Presidency, I feel it is doubtful whether it is the Prime Minister that is ruling over the Presidency or it is the Inspector-General of Police or the Police Commissioner—it is really doubtful. I believe the Police are getting out of the hands of the Hon. Mr. Prakasam. I feel he has let loose the Police and to-day they are not under his control. If it is not so, can I expect the Prime Minister to order lathi charges so that the heads of women who are pregnant and of old woman are broken? A woman of 75 has passed away . . ."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Does the hon. Member say that a 75-year old woman is pregnant (Laughter)?"

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I do not know, Sir, whether a woman of 75 can be pregnant, but I said that a pregnant woman was beaten and an old woman of 75 years of age died, due to lathi charge.

"I would also like to bring to the notice of Government the action under section 144 on the general strike day. Even previously there were general strikes which went on peacefully without any untoward incident. But this time section 144 was promulgated. While peaceful meetings was being held in the beach, why should the Police interfere; why should the prestige of our popular Ministers suffer? What is there if people go on speaking at meetings? The meetings went on peacefully, there were no disturbances; then why should there be section 144 banning all meetings? There was a peaceful meeting, there was no stone-throwing; and yet where is the necessity for tear gas being used on them? League friends are telling us that formerly the Congress people were going against law and order and that to-day the Communists are following them. I am sure, Sir, even to-day the Congress people will not feel sorry for what they had done. For our part we are proud of it. But what I want to point out is that our Muslim friends have not had a taste of this law and order business. That is why to-day we see they have some sympathy for the Police. But if they have had even a bit of experience of the Police methods in regard to the maintenance of law and order, I am sure they too would have condemned the Police repression as Congress benches and we have done and condemned the Police using force against the public.

4 p.m.

"They feel some sympathy for the police people. Unfortunately, had they experienced a bit, they would have condemned them as every member of the Congress benches has done in regard to repression against the public.

"One more point and I am done. It is in regard to the expenditure that is incurred on this department. I do not know why the expenditure has increased so much. I find it has increased by 125 lakhs of rupees. It is not for increase in salaries of the ordinary police constable, it is mainly intended to increase the strength of the police staff unnecessarily. Some members speak as though they were doing in a free country. It must be remembered that we have not yet become independent. I presume this demand is not framed by the Hon. the Prime Minister—perhaps it has been framed by the Inspector-General of Police or the Governor. Where is the necessity for a mechanised police force? Let my hon. friends on the Congress benches please note that we have not yet become independent; still we are slaves. The Viceroy and the Governor are there; the Union Jack is still flying over our head. I submit that the expenditure spent on the Police department can be spent in the interests of the people in order that their demands are met.

"Coming to C.I.D. department, Sir, it was formerly intended for hunting the politicals and for harassing them. Even the previous Congress Ministry failed to remove this department. The previous Congress Minister has sermonised that there was some change of heart in the police, and people who have experienced the 1942 movement know what change of heart has been brought about in the Police department. After 1942 at least, it is known that there has been no change of heart in the Police; it is an imperialist machinery and we cannot expect any change of heart from them. In this connection, I wish to bring to the notice of the Hon. the Prime Minister that a secret circular was issued—I do not by whom—that the whereabouts of the Communists must be known every time. If what I say is wrong, I request the Hon. the Prime Minister to contradict it and issue a statement to the effect that no such circular was issued in his name or in the name of the Government.

"The last point, I wish to touch is in regard to the Sergeants, because this point has not been dealt with by any of the previous speakers, and that is why I request you, Sir, to allow me some more time. I do not know why the Sergeant is on the scale of the Sub-Inspector. Whereas the Sub-Inspector is started on Rs. 75, the Sergeant is started on Rs. 275. After all, the duty that is actually performed by the Sergeant is merely that of standing as a traffic post and nothing more and why should there be a Sergeant on such a salary for this purpose, I cannot understand. Another point is some Indians are also appointed as Sergeants, but they are started only on Rs. 75, whereas the Europeans or the Anglo-Indian Sergeants are started on Rs. 275. Why this discrepancy? Why our own people are treated like this, I cannot understand. I therefore request the Hon. Prime Minister to look into this matter also."

2nd September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, on this important demand, speeches have been made both in favour of the Police and against them. This is the first Budget after we have taken up the office. The circumstances under which the last elections were held and the Congressmen were returned in a majority and the Government was formed four months ago are too well-known. There has been a confusion of ideas in the minds of some hon. Members of this House about the relationship between the Government and the Police department and this wrong impression naturally entered the minds of some hon. Members because of the conflict that existed between the party to which the present Ministry belongs and those who were opposed to it until the last elections. On account of that conflict and on account of the happenings after August 1942, it was felt on the one side that the Police had committed excesses in 1942, and on the other side, those who were in office and those who were trying to resist the rebellion, attempted rebellion or attempted revolution of 1942—the Government as it was then constituted—felt that the Congress Party was wrong in having started a campaign of such magnitude with a 'Quit India' policy and a policy that the last war was not people's war but a war carried on in the interests of certain countries that were interested in gaining supremacy. The Congress Leaders after their release from jails described some times the '1942 Struggle,' call it by any name you like, as a revolution or an attempt at revolution or a rebellion or an attempt at rebellion, although it was not a war, similar to the one that had been carried on from October 1939 between the belligerent countries of the world, a world war bigger than the first world war; although it was not a war of that type, for internal freedom it was a fight that had been carried on for a very long period culminating in the struggle of 1942. One side attempted to suppress the revolution or attempted revolution, and on the other side, people asserted for the first time with a violent force—after all Congressmen had been thrown into prisons—each side used force and violence. The Government tried to suppress the rebellion or attempted rebellion with all the force it could command, with all the weapons it could command—not the ordinary weapons but the extraordinary weapons, bombs thrown from above. On the other side, the general public, having risen, they joined issue as it were with the Government and they carried on a violent struggle throughout not only this Presidency, Sir, but throughout the whole of India. Excesses had been committed on the part of the Government in attempting to maintain their position; sometimes these excesses destroyed even villages wholesale and there was even a general massacre as it were. Excesses had also been committed on the side of the people who had risen in rebellion by setting Government properties, or anything that came in their way, on fire, destroying and interfering with the railways or other things. These were all signs of revolution. That is the picture of the 1942 struggle. During that period, properties of many innocent people who were not politicians, who were not Congressmen, had been destroyed; during that period, the

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [2nd September 1946]

Government properties or the properties belonging to those who supported the Government also had been destroyed or attempted to be destroyed. From out of that the general election came up and this Legislative Assembly and the Council had been formed and after their formation, this Ministry was formed. Very peculiar position it was, Sir, in the constitutional struggle of any country or any two countries or more countries in this world. Those who succeeded in the election came into office, took up the reigns of the administration; and they had to carry on the administration. The Police force and the other forces that were supporting the then Government were opposing and attempting to defeat the opponents who have now come into office—it is a very peculiar position for those who have come into office to carry on the administration and a very peculiar position for those policemen or officers or others who had been helping the then Government as against the Congress or other people who are fighting for freedom. We forget now and carry the wrong impression with regard to the relative position of the Government and the Police department or any other department connected with the Government. It is only natural that in the minds of the police who had helped the previous Government and who had tried to defeat the Congress and others who tried to defeat the then Government, it is only natural that some policemen should be thinking, 'they were the officers who under the then circumstances were obliged to fight those who have now come into office and support those who were carrying on the war against these people. How could these people consider us? Would they consider us fairly or would they carry a prejudice in their minds?' That is the sort of apprehension that entered the minds of some Police officers or those who were backing up the police officers. On behalf of us who constitute this Government, I declare as I had already declared—as some of my hon. Colleagues have also declared whenever opportunity occurred—that this Government, not even one in this Government, will carry any prejudice in their minds against any people (hear, hear) when they have once taken up the reigns of administration. All people living in the country, irrespective of the fact to whichever party they belonged and to what extent the fight was carried on, they are all people for whom this Administration has to be carried on. We have undertaken this task—we declared so in the past, other hon. Members also had been declaring—and I am declaring once again to-day, because a good part of the discussion turned round this feeling of suspicion or fear or doubt in the minds of some officers. No Government can be carried on as some of the hon. Members have stated, if they should think that the department of Police which is now serving after we have taken up office cannot be relied upon because they all once acted the other way on account of the discipline to which they had been subjected. In the same manner the opponents, the Congress people, had been subjected to a disciplined life in carrying on everything they had been ordered to carry on. We have been trained not for one or two years but for over twenty-five years—we had not known what was called discipline in this country before this new era commenced and before the Congress organized itself. Not only Congressmen who actually got their names enrolled in the Congress register but the general public as a whole had been disciplined and they had learnt the spirit of discipline. Obedience to discipline has been imbued(?) in the nation's mind and but for that, this struggle could not have been carried on for such a long time and in the manner in which it had been carried on with varying results and varying fortunes. Therefore, the police obeyed and carried on the directions given by the then Government. The police as disciplined people were carrying on their work under the same discipline even now. Therefore it has become a very difficult question for some of us to answer the question raised, in regard to the 1942 rebellion that when excesses and atrocities were committed by the Police, how can they be forgotten or forgiven? For my part, as one who has been thinking independently for myself without any violation of the principle laid down by the High Command, this has been a problem for discussion within myself and also with some other friends in other Provinces as to how we are to treat this matter of 1942. I am a man, Sir, who has been going up and down to see things for myself. Soon after my release from jail, I had been to the southern districts to attend some conferences. I had been taken by my friends to see places where damage has been done, and places where shooting had been done and the bodies had been left. It has been an anxious period for me. That is how I regarded this 1942 excesses. Years rolled by. Now we have taken up the administration into our own hands. What are we to do with the Police forces that had engaged themselves against the Congress in those days? How are we to carry on this administration? What is it that we have to do with those policemen who were obliged to act according to the direction and orders of their superior officers or the Government itself? On our side, to be more correct, for the side of the Congress to which we belong, the misery, loss of life, and the loss of property during that struggle caused either by the police or by the Military or by the Aircraft or whichever was behind that power, cannot be estimated and no action could be taken on the loss of life, on the loss of property or the other things that happened to the people of this Province. Can we now estimate the losses sustained by the Congress people and the Congress Party as a whole? Can we lay action against the opponents—the Advisers' Government or the British Government or the Viceroy's Government—to recover compensation for all the losses sustained by the people; a peculiar constitutional matter which has to be considered very carefully to decide these 1942 excesses. I had some little idea of how this question was being considered in other Provinces. I know something. Sir, from the present Congress President and I am not free to disclose it now. There was a funny incident that happened on the floor of this House. My hon. Friend, Mr. Salam gets information from various quarters on various points. He charged me with having received instructions from the Congress President, Pandit Jawarlal Nehru, as to how the Congress Party should be strengthened according to the instructions given by him. I contradicted the statement straightaway. I do not mean any offence against any newspaper; it was not a newspaper in this Province, but some newspaper published something in Upper India. The Congress President had reason to fear that I might have disclosed a letter which had been addressed to me. Then serious consequences might have followed. Hon. Members gather something here and something there and make a statement on the floor of this House, without knowing the consequences. That is why I am referring to this not because that anything serious has happened now but because the matter concerned is one of an all-India policy. We have to carry on our business in such a manner. We did not do anything wrong in understanding or in executing our own resolutions. Therefore, I tell hon. Friends from this side who pressed for investigation and enquiry that they should be patient. I cautioned one or two friends personally already but because they were vexatious of the happenings during that period and because they could not restrain themselves, they expressed their feelings in this House to-day. I appeal to them; the Government have not been idle; they have not been deaf and they have not been blind. The Government must have time to consider everything and decide matters. I fear we have digressed rather very much from questions raised during the Police demand.

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [2nd September 1946]

“So far as Police officers are concerned—I mean those who have any impression that they might not have security at the hands of the Government because they are the people against whom they were obliged to take action in the past—I say to them that all such ideas should be dismissed from their minds. It is quite wrong on the part of anybody to imagine that this Government will have any ill-feelings or will be prejudiced against them. I give them the assurance that the Police department is not different from any other department of Government that has been attached to Government; and it is with that department that we now in Government are carrying on our administration. I appeal to the Police officers, whatever may have been their feelings at one time, not to give out anything doubting their security under this Government. I want to clear that position. But at the same time, it must be remembered that we are all human beings; the members of the Police force are human beings; members of the Congress organization are human beings and members of this Assembly and of the general public are all human beings and they naturally carry their feelings in their minds as they are neither gods nor saints. Some of our friends have been feeling that even though they had committed excesses at that time under discipline and under orders of the powers then ruling the country, they have not changed their hearts and that their treatment of people is just the same as it was when they were serving another Government and they ask in despair: ‘How are we to get along with such men?’ I have given them the warning and I tell them now that doubts and suspicions are not the things with which you can carry on any administration; but at the same time every member on this side of the House is bound to do his duty when he finds anything wrong done by any policeman or officer. It is not good cluttering up your minds with old feelings saying: ‘We could not trust these people and this department is not good’. If we proceed upon that basis, what is the alternative? The alternative will be to dismiss all the people who had served the past Government and were against this party at that time and to bring into being a new Police force—this at a time when you have no time to think of it and at a time when all the forces have combined against you and they have come upon you and you are obliged to depend upon this Police force. That is what has happened and we have been obliged to take the help of the Police—not by the Germans, not by the Americans, not by any foreigner but by our own people here who have been doing their best to put us in the wrong and to show to the world that we are not fit to carry on this administration. Therefore, I say it is neither possible nor proper for us to say that all policemen for their sins of the past should be sent out and a new force must be brought into existence. I say it is improper and it is an impractical proposition. Therefore, it is that we are obliged to deal with matters with the Police force as it exists to-day. The question will be in what way the policemen who had been acting against us in the past will do now, and whether they have been doing anything wrong in the struggles that we are getting through now. If there are any men in the ranks who commit anything wrong—I myself heard of a case where a policeman did not hesitate to declare that he was himself a Communist—we must not jump to conclusions but cause an enquiry to be made to see whether there is any truth or whether it is a myth like so many myths that have been created by individuals with fertile brains. Let me take the remarks of my two hon. Friends Mr. Nambiyar and Venkateswarlu. When they begin an attack, there is no end to it. (Sri P. Venkateswarlu: ‘That is due to repression.’) My hon. Friend carries my sympathy with him. What is the position taken by those two friends? They are two in a House of 215 and they represent the Communist Party. I do not know what the part taken by them had been and what their position has been, by which they had come into such conflict with the Police. I do not mean to suggest that when there are excesses, they must not complain. The rights that they espouse must not come into conflict with the rights of peace-loving citizens. I myself have a complaint—not my own personal complaint—which I am trying to investigate with the help of the departmental officers and so, I will not say that Communist members of the House or outside should not complain. I say to my friends of the Communist party that they can carry on their agitation and they can do whatever they like, but subject only to the rights of others. I have given some of them friendly advice because out of enthusiasm they did not understand the exact results of their utterances. When I was returning from the south, I stopped at Golden Rock with a view to see how things were going on. Communist representatives met me as also the Railway officers including the Government of India Commissioner of Railways and the

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [2nd September 1946]

General Manager of the South Indian Railway. They met me and I tried to find out everything from them and to make them understand the situation in the country with regard to food and I told them my mind. I did this in a purely individual capacity and did not attempt to play the part of an arbitrator or to take evidence. I thought that a settlement was very near at hand and suggested to them that if they could abide by what I said they might meet me so that we may follow up. But they quietly slipped away. That is what happened before this strike started. Regarding what was happening at Golden Rock, without entering into the attacks that have been made against the Police force and without repudiating any of the personal allegations, I might straightway say this that the Police force there was working so well. They found that they had adopted a new kind of strike, the stay-in strike. We have known other kinds of strikes and this is a new weapon taken from the Communist armoury of France. These gentlemen go to the workshops, sit there and make it impossible for the loyal workers to do their business. It will be impossible for any proprietor or for anybody to live peacefully in this world if the stay-in strikes are considered lawful strikes. The law of the land is there and no man is entitled to enter another man's property and make lawful work impossible, thereby trespass and challenge the whole order of society. This is the thing that Communists started in Golden Rock. Our duty is not to enter into a controversy between various parties. Our duty as a Government is to enforce law and order and to give protection to those who have to get their food. I do not wish to say more about the stay-in strike. The stay-in strike was continued for a time. Afterwards feeling that anybody would take exception to their course of action for lack of lawful notice, they went to Trichinopoly and notice was given and they started the South Indian Railway strike. The Golden Rock strike was left out and the South Indian Railway strike commenced. It was practically a challenge against us. The food position had to be managed. Food had to be taken and distributed to the various towns and villages. It has so happened in this country of ours that we are obliged to depend upon supplies from outside for our food and for our existence. Any responsible person will understand how people in distant country parts will be affected for want of food. Everything should come to a stop. That will be net result.

p.m.

“If food will not move about, if starvation comes out and if people die, it is all because of your wonderful activity, which makes it impossible for anybody to carry us.” (Laughter.)

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“Were not your actions in the past the same?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“Because freedom of speech is given, people indulge in all kinds of speech outside. For making speeches here, there is some excuse, but, Sir, outside, do you know what speeches have been made by these people? When the proper time comes, hon. Members will understand what speeches were made, what their position is, what their liability is, and what their duty is to their countrymen and here. (Hear, hear.) Sir, the strike broke out; the first day was over, the second day was over and the third day passed on and also the fourth day. All honour to those who started the strike who wanted to impress on the outside world that this strike is going to make this Government yield! It is for the railway men to understand that this Government have nothing to do with the strike. Because the railway runs within their jurisdiction they have to take cognizance of it. It is only by way of general goodwill that my good offices were requisitioned. Then what happened? Fish-plates were removed; and as reported in the papers, bombs were put on the line; of course, as to who put them nobody can say. All this comes out as a challenge. It is all the responsibility of the Communists. And how did this wonderful struggle of the Communists result? They found their way into Malabar. (Laughter.) Malabar, they thought, was a fertile ground for their activities. (Laughter.) They made their calculations, plans and schemes. But under Muhammadan leadership, the Mappilla population of Malabar carried on their avocations in a steady manner without being upset. In Malabar there is a Communist paper called Desabhimani. Through that medium they called upon the Mappillas to rebellion. They were reminded of the Malabar tragedy. But all attempts failed. Because of the activities of the Communists, we are not able to bring food to the people. There is no use of carrying on propaganda that they are out for wrecking this Police raj, they are out to break our back or they are out to break your back. People have taken up the whole cause in their hands in this Presidency, and so no one would countenance the proposed strike. Under such circumstances, the Police had to be sent up for giving protection to person and property. All along the line they were posted. It is not a small line; it runs to 1,500 miles. Without protecting the whole line, how is safety possible? I am saying this here, on the floor of the House that they cannot carry on this sort of campaign with a view to coerce the public and the Government. What is there at the back of these attempts? In every strike that is started there is a leader or general. Without him, no strike can come up. The unfortunate people for whom we have been labouring all these days, the working classes are the persons who are affected by this. With regard to the Madras strike two persons came to me this morning as the leaders of the people. I told them, ‘Why are you dragging these unfortunate men and women? I, as Prime Minister, assure you to go and tell them that we are considering the matter. You better take them home instead of dragging them here.’ One hon. Member who was present there to pacify them had not even the courtesy and decency with regard to the expression he used to such people. We have not been working against the interest of any of these people, who want an increase in salary or allowance. They say: ‘You say that you will give something which we have demanded, then we will call off this strike.’ Our Government is determined to do what is possible to do; the Commissioner is a heroic man; he has put up with these workers, men and women. You have also stated that on so many points he has yielded; there is only a small thing remaining; why do you want the Prime Minister to interfere? Government have got enough strength, enough knowledge, enough understanding; it knows for whom it is working; so it is no good of carrying on this sort of pretension that the Government is working against them. When I came out of jail I saw matters have gone adrift. It took me six or seven months to disillusion the people in the villages from the mischief caused by the Communists for full three years unchecked. I am not here to talk of politics at this distance of time. It is all past history. When we came to office we extended our hand of help and co-operation to the Communists, who did their best to bury the Congress during the last three years. (Sri P. Venkateswarlu: 'Not in the least.') It is on record, Sir; it has become a matter of record, not by word of mouth. You did everything to show that we have no following. Even persons who were sentenced to death and for transportation for life were released by us. What is the net result? The next day you turned the whole thing against us. There must be a limit for this sort of thing. We have to do things in a straight manner instead of doing things round and round and making it impossible for ourselves and others to do anything.

"I took some time to deal with this matter, because it has an important bearing on the position of the Police in the Government. There is an impression in the minds of the people that Government is different from the Police and the Police are different from the Government. Both are identical. Whoever breaks the law, be he a Congressman or non-Congressman, the Police will be up against him.

5 p.m. "The Hon. Mr. Muhammad Ismail, Leader of the Opposition, approached this question in a quiet and straight manner, and examined it dispassionately whether for a vast country like this, this strength will be sufficient and whether people can get protection for the person and property if anything untoward happened. Therefore, he suggested that it must be made very much stronger. My hon. Friends referred to the village Police officers. In due course, when the time comes when every man becomes a soldier in this country, when every man knows that he has to defend his own person and his own property, and when the village Police organization comes into being, there will be sufficient numbers in the country, and there will be no running about for this or that station. It is this Police force that has been doing the whole business, and has been standing by the Government and also by the people. There is no good of simply attacking the Government on old slogans or on new complaints. I tell hon. Members who have got new complaints that new complaints will be enquired into. If special references are made, they will be enquired into and will be remedied. But do not make yourselves impossible people in the world, and do not make any attempts to make it impossible for this Government to carry on the work in a peaceful manner.

"The Leader of the Opposition has said that Muslim representation has not been sufficient."

2nd September 1946]

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir, I did not say that the Muslim representation such as was insufficient. My point was that the Muslim representation much be much more than what it is now and for very sound reasons. In this connexion, the communal Government Order is not to be taken into consideration. That was my point, Sir."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I am much obliged to the Hon. Leader of the Opposition, Sir. If he had not corrected me perhaps I would be wasting some time on this matter unnecessarily. When it is conceded that there is no question of communal representation in regard to this matter, I leave it there.

"One thing in this discussion that I would urge upon the members of the Opposition and all hon. Members of this House is this. For reasons beyond our control we have got into this state of mind not only in this Province but in other Provinces also, perhaps in the rest of the world also. It should be the aim of any people, any nation, any country, to minimise the divisions and differences that have come into existence on account of this drifting of this world. The main point has been missed, and as I have already stated on one occasion, Sir, by thinking that there is something in a particular office or in a particular set of offices, these divisions have arisen. I am appealing once again to all hon. Members of this House to remember that it is not round about those offices, whether they are High Court Judgeships or any other offices, from the top to the bottom, that the freedom of the country or the power of the people, in a constitutional sense, hinges. The power is that power which the people of the Madras Presidency to-day are exercising for the benefit of the five crores of people living in this Province. How will that be done? That will be done with regard to the various departments of life which have been embraced by the people who are not in this House, people who are not Ministers, Judges, Clerks or anybody. All these people are now living outside, doing some business, or trade or agriculture. It is those people that have to be protected. It is for that purpose that every one of us should aim as far as possible to make this country really self-governing. Therefore, I say that this communal representation or any of these things is a drop in the ocean. The big ocean is there. If you make a list of all the appointments that are existing under this Government and count them, you will see crores of people are outside. If the offices are filled by us for our own interests, we will become unpopular and lose this office in no time. Therefore, we must strengthen our position, we must strengthen our country, and see that differences between Congress and League also disappear. That is my desire. (hear, hear.) So often it was very near settlement, but it went off for some reason or other. It should be our aim to do that business.

"Mr. Town made a very great speech to-day dealing with this matter. Mr. Town has been sitting here to hear hon. Members of this House talk freely and express their opinions about the Police force. The Police must remember that they are the servants of the people, that they are the servants of not only the Ministry, but are the servants of the people. In the view of some hon. Members sitting behind me, the old strain has been going on when they were talking. That line of thought, the old prejudices could not be removed from the minds of some officials; not only the Police, but even the Revenue officials. Even to-day there are some officials who are counting upon what is called indiscipline. When an order is given by a recognized Government, no officer is entitled to disobey, and say 'I am thinking in a different manner. Therefore I would do it in my own manner.' The moment you think that you have that freedom you will have no place there. Whether it is the Revenue department, Irrigation department, Labour department, or any department, they are the servants of the people, and they have to carry out the orders of the Government in the way in which they have been ordered to do. That sort of indiscipline here and there appears, but we have to deal with that position also.

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [2nd September 1946]

"Then, Sir, with regard to the question of payment to Police; various causes—cogent causes—were given. Some of the hon. Members very often state 'You have doubled your salary, why not you double the salary of others?' I do not quarrel with them for that prejudice. All these people have been working for at least 150 or 200 years under the British administration. To say suddenly that during the last four months after we have taken up office 'you have doubled your own salaries, you have been denying this right to others, every trouble is due only to your not having lifted them up to the same level to which you have raised yourself' is not correct. We have been struggling to find out how we can square up all these matters. It is not a matter that can be settled all at once. For 150 years the British administration has been built up in this country. It has been carried on from this Fort St. George over all the 24 districts. Are these salaries created by the new Government after they have come into existence? These salaries ought not to have been existing like this, Sir. I knew what the village officers were getting. Village officers had once the powers of a Collector. They were doing everything. All the powers they possessed. They were getting their income in a different manner in those ancient times. But ever since the British administration came, it has been put in quite a different manner. Let hon. Members look back into the whole thing and consider how these services on Rs. 6, Rs. 5 and Rs. 3, had been spread over the whole country. Even at that rate, it comes to crores of rupees. Therefore, I will repudiate the suggestion that things have been brought into existence by any of us. These are things which have been there for nearly 150 years. These are the salaries, a pittance, upon which these people were asked to live and they had lived. These people will have to be enabled to get their rations, their food, and their cloth.

"It is the duty of this Government to do all it can possibly do to bring about such a consummation. That is our aim. Therefore it is not proper to say that the police man's low salary is due to our having come into existence now. The policeman is after all one who was paid very small amount say Rs. 6 or Rs. 7. To have reached Rs. 18 is reaching heaven in the system of Government composed as it is in which we have to live. It is that thing that we ought to change. Let us not carry any wrong notion about the low salary of these people. If the policemen have been getting very low pay it is also because in those times with a single rupee they could purchase so much and live comfortably; a single man earning Rs. 8 could protect a family of eight members or seven members. Some suggestion has been made that these people have been taking bribes. A man drawing 18 or 19 rupees is charged of taking a two-anna bribe or four annas bribe. It is most unfortunate for the State as well as the people themselves. People should not be put under those impatient conditions. In any Government men should not be put in such a position. The Leader of the Opposition was referring to the Vettis and Talayaris. I know much about them and I would plead more for them than those people who get a voice to agitate and correct. We are endeavouring between the village Talayari and the helpless man. We are hoping, Sir, that even in the villages beggars have come to stay. Even that we will remove. I have no quarrel with those who criticise the low salary of the police officers.

"Now, Sir, one point was raised that some interference is caused by some Members interfering with the administration of justice and some people calling upon the Government Members to withdraw the cases that had been filed against them by the police. So many things happen in this country of ours on account of people not knowing law or procedure. Popular people and even hon. Members of the Assembly rush up to the Government and say: 'There is a popular Government without withdrawing their case and quashing the conviction. That is a false case.' Demands will be made like that. But they are made out of ignorance. I had to tell them that it was out of ignorance that they make that demand. Ordinarily cases launched in a court of law should not be interrupted or taken back here under ordinary circumstances. But I do not agree with the rule that is proposed by some of my hon. Friends that it must be a hard and fast rule. If it is a case, Sir, that cannot stand on its legs even for a second and if the facts are known then the case will have to go. Unless one ceases to be a human being one must know facts as they come. Administration must run in a proper way and when courts are exhausted, if there are other remedies they can be sought for from the Government. Therefore, I agree with those who stated that there should be no interference with the administration of justice or even with the administration of a Government.

"Lathi charges had been referred to. There are many friends who have been victims of lathi charges during the last 25 years. I must say here that lathi charges should not be resorted to lightly by Government officers. That is not a thing that would be recognized as a wholesome method of controlling. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'Light lathi charges are impossible.') Mr. Hameed Khan says that light lathi charges are impossible. I am not sure whether he had a taste. I know he had a slap on the cheek sometime back and that was at Ottapalam in Malabar."

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [2nd September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. Such a thing did not happen."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Perhaps it was not he. It was his associate who happened to be with him, the late Raman Menon. So the hon. Member could not have had a taste of lathi charge. Lathi charge should not be resorted to by police officers. If life becomes impossible to the police people and if they are compelled, it will be a recognized method, recognized in law itself for the sake of self-defence. So far as we are concerned ever since we came to this office it has been our endeavour to make our officers understand that lathi charges should not be resorted to for no cause. Firing also should not be started without proper cause and without proper notice. These things are general rules laid down in courts and constitutions themselves. Now, Sir, the hon. Members who have been opposing us as a party pointed out to us that ordinary picketing had not been allowed by the Police in the Madras City. That was the representation made to the Government. Our Government have made it quite clear what is ordinary peaceful picketing, when it will cease to be peaceful picketing and when it will become violent picketing? It is with that margin that these people have been making this complaint that lathi charges were used and that they were not allowed peaceful picketing. Rules are laid down there and if one goes on with hands folded to observe those rules not one man, not even the most violent policeman would be able to do anything wrong. We have been doing our best to maintain the position of the labourers' strikes. We never gave any room for any complaint. But, if they are created in such a manner that we are compelled to deal with them, we are obliged to deal with them."

"Various suggestions have been made with regard to police reconstruction and reorganization. We have noted with great care all the suggestions made and all the plans suggested and we will do our best, Sir, to understand the position and adopt the suggestions without doing any violence. From this the police departmental heads or officers should not understand that the whole thing would be revised by us in a manner that will not be conducive to the continuance of their duties in the way in which they have been trained. With regard to that, whatever suggestions have been made if they are reasonable even without disturbing the present order of things they will be carried out. As Mr. N. S. Varadachari said that is the way in which the suggestion can be carried out. That is the way in which we can understand and we shall try to give effect to that advice given by the hon. Members of the House. If there are any points omitted by me they will be looked into."

"We are now nearing the end and approaching the guillotine process. This is an important matter and two more demands will come now. If these three are carried on with a limited number of speakers coming up and without taking much time you will be able to finish your work. Before closing I must request hon. Member who moved the cut motion to consider whether he might not withdraw the cut motion and allow the demand to be passed."

The cut motion was by leave withdrawn.

The demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XV—EDUCATION.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The House will sit till 8 o'clock and if necessary till 9 o'clock and finish the demand."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I submit, Sir, this is a very important demand in which most of the members of our community are interested. I may suggest we stop at 8 and continue to-morrow."

MR. H. S. TOWN:—"I agree with Mr. Hameed Khan. I must go away at 7 o'clock anyway."

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Sir, on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, I move—

'that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from 1st of May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 6,59,12,700 in respect of the head "Education." The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 10,38,454.'

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir. I have given notice of ten cut motions under this demand. In the first place I wish to state that the Muslims of this Province are very much perturbed over a new rule that 20 per cent of admissions in two types of professional colleges are to be on the basis of merit. This has created an alarm in the minds of Muslims as to what next is to follow. They fear that this is but the thin end of the wedge and that very soon even the communal Government Order in regard to appointments will be cast to the winds. The conviction is firmly rooted in the minds of Muslims and I may say also in the minds of non-Brahmins and the Scheduled Castes that the plea of merit has been advanced merely to benefit one particular section of the people. This conviction is amply borne out by the facts as is evident from the figures that were supplied to us the other day with regard to admission in the Engineering College. But I wish to ask: is it conducive to the well being, to the happiness and above all to the much-needed peace of society, and is it in consonance with the principles of true democracy that a section of people who constitute but three per cent of the population and who are already educationally advanced should be given all facilities, all advantages, in regard to education, while the remaining 97 cent languish behind, not because they are inherently backward but for sheer lack of opportunities to come forward?"

[Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin] [2nd September 1946]

It must be remembered that educational institutions are subsidized by the tax-payers comprising not one or two hence every community, and every community should be afforded facilities in regard to every branch of education. There is a bright future for the engineering profession as it is bound to play a prominent part in the coming era of industrialization of the land. Is it then proper on the part of the present Government to deny to Muslims, non-Brahmins and the Scheduled Castes the opportunity to play their part adequately in the industrial development of the country? The other day the Hon. the Minister for Public Works stated that the reason for the paucity of Muslims in his department was lack of qualified men. The Government on the one side place restrictions in the path of the Muslims who wish to get qualified and on the other side put forward the plea of lack of qualified men. Is this, I ask, a reasonable procedure, a fair procedure to adopt? It may be recalled that the last Congress Government abolished the College Selection Committee. In a like manner, one of the first acts of the present Government had been to curtail the facilities, and opportunities available to Muslims and Scheduled Castes in the matter of education. The Post-War Reconstruction Committee, of which I was a member, specifically recommended that the special concessions, and the special measures that were in vogue in regard to the education of the Muslims and the Scheduled Castes should not only be continued in the post-war era, but should also be increased. This is a wise recommendation, for it is urgent, it is imperative that the communities that are not educationally advanced should be afforded opportunities to come to the level of the others that are more fortunately placed. Social justice, I submit, demands this; the well-being of the country requires this, for no country, I wish to emphasize, can rise to the height of progress and prosperity until all the sections of its people are allowed opportunities to advance and until all the weak links of its chain are made strong. But what did the Congress Government do? Very soon after assuming power with one stroke of their pen they undid the above recommendation of the Post-War Reconstruction Committee and far from increasing the facilities for education of the Muslims and the Scheduled Castes, they have taken steps to curtail them. What is the reason that a Scheduled Caste College had been recently established in Bombay? It is not because the members of that community are imbued with sectarian motives; it is not because they wish to be exclusive and shun others; it is not because they are not animated by national ideals. It is simply because it is a vital necessity, it is an urgent desideratum for the uplift of that much-neglected community that sufficient opportunities should be afforded to its members for receiving higher education which are denied to them in other institutions (hear, hear) so that more and more members of that community might be in a position to fill high offices and serve the nation in the distinguished manner in which you, Mr. Speaker, are doing. (Hear, hear.) Just as the denial of educational opportunities to the Scheduled Castes has led to the establishment of a scheduled caste college. In a like manner, it is the withholding of educational facilities and opportunities from the Muslims that is one of the main reasons that impels them to demand separate institutions for themselves. Mr. Speaker, I wish to point out that it is not merely the Muslims who are opposed to the Government's new measure. As a matter of fact, the majority of the population of this Province comprising the non-Brahmins and the Scheduled Castes are also opposed to it. The Congress calls itself a democratic organization. I wish to enquire: is it democracy to flout the will, to disregard the hopes and aspirations of the majority of the people of the land and impose upon them a measure that is detrimental to their interests? I urge upon the Government to rescind their new order in regard to admission to the Medical and Engineering Colleges in due deference and in due regard to the principles of democracy.

“ Another matter which is considerably agitating the mind of the Muslims is the new rule in regard to instruction being imparted in the regional languages. This is a measure that will turn backward the hands of the clock of Muslim progress. (Hear, hear.) For Mr. Speaker, it is one thing to be taught through the medium of one's mother-tongue, but it is quite another thing to be taught through the medium of a regional language which is not one's mother-tongue. I wish to emphasize that in the large areas of this Province, the mother-tongue of the Muslims and their regional language are not identical. The other day I was amazed beyond measure to find the Education Minister insist on holding that the mother-tongue of the Muslims of Andhra Desa was Telugu, a notion which he seems to have formed from some representations made to him by certain non-Muslims. But I wish to ask: is the fate of Muslims to be decided by the opinions of non-Muslims? Is it for the Muslims to say what is the mother-tongue or is it for the Hindus to say what is the mother-tongue of the Muslims? I want the Education Minister to take a plebiscite of the Muslims of Andhra Desa and find out for himself whether their mother-tongue is Urdu or Telugu, and then decide upon the course to be adopted.

“ A glance over the pages of history reveals that one of the first 5-45 acts a foreign Government, in every country, has been to destroy p.m. the people's language and culture and impose its own language upon them. The present Congress Government who represent not all sections but only one section of the people of the Province, are pursuing the policy of a foreign Government in trying to impose their own language and culture upon the Muslims. This is bound to inflict deep wounds in the minds of Muslims, which will not heal easily, and which may give rise to undesirable repercussions. Is it proper, I ask, on the part of the Congress Government on assuming power to inflict such wounds on Muslim sentiment? I wish to point out, Mr. Speaker, that the Urdu language is the repository of Muslim culture, Muslim traditions, Muslim hopes and Muslim aspirations. Hence no attempt should be made to depose this language from educational institutions. Muslims desire that they should be taught in the Urdu language in all places where their mother-tongue is Urdu. In view of the fact that the new rule of the Government is going to produce request the Hon. the Minister for Education to urge upon the Government to ponder over the matter and make due provision for Muslims in regard to their education, firstly by providing them with separate institutions, and secondly by arranging parallel classes for Muslims in Urdu in all common institutions where the regional language has been introduced as the medium of instruction and which does not happen to be the mother-tongue of the Muslims. As a matter of fact, each district should be provided hereafter with a High school for Muslims.

" I now wish to deal with the subject of basic education which, I understand, is engaging the attention of the Government and which they intend to put into force within a short time. I wish to state that the Muslims are definitely opposed to the scheme, firstly because it is too craft-centred and involves the exploitation of the child and secondly because it is devoid of religion. According to Islam, no education is worth having unless it is animated by religious ideas. Hence I request the Government not to impose upon Muslim children this materialistic scheme which is entirely opposed to the notions of the Muslim boys. If they so desire, the Government can introduce the basic scheme in the non-Muslim schools but so far as Muslims are concerned, I request the Hon. the Minister for Education to leave them alone in this regard. Mr. Speaker, I may point out that Muslims are very particular about religious education. They know that the world has been brought to this present awful state of confusion because religion has been eschewed from educational institutions. Therefore Muslims want religious education to be imparted in their schools and even in their colleges. In this connexion, I wish to draw the attention of the Hon. Minister for Education to the fact that in district board schools due attention is not being paid to religious education of the Muslims. I would adverse effects upon the education of Muslims, I urge upon the district boards not to be neglectful in regard to this matter.

' Another matter to which I wish to invite the attention of the Hon. the Minister for Education is the inadequacy of Muslim representation in the Educational department. We need many more Muslim Educational Officers and, above all that we need not merely a Deputy Director of Public Instruction, but a Director of Public Instruction to be in sole charge of Muslim education, so that he may co-ordinate all future plans in regard to Muslim education and formulate proposals to accelerate the pace of Muslim advancement in the sphere of education. I do not see why there should not be a separate department for Muslim education just as there is a separate department for European education.

" In regard to posts in the educational services, I wish to point out that so far Muslim women are concerned, there is need to appoint more Muslim women as Sub-Assistant Inspectresses of Schools. I also wish to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that with the exception of but one Muslim woman who has been recruited to the Madras Educational Service in this Province, no other Muslim woman has so far been appointed to any gazetted post. It cannot be urged that this is due to the fact that qualified Muslim women are not available. I may point out that there are a good number of Muslim girls who have secured high second-class passes in the M.A. and have also undergone L.T. training. I may mention that one of the girls came first in the whole Presidency in her L.T. But, Mr. Speaker, we hear a lot about the paucity of educated Muslim women. What is the fate of this poor girl? In spite of her coming first in the University, she had been given a mere non-gazetted appointment in the new Muslim Women's College. So, I request the Government that when vacancies arise in the future in the gazetted ranks, they should employ a larger number of Muslim women to them.

2nd September 1946] [Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin]

" [With reference to Muslim education, there are many other to which I wish to draw the attention of the Hon. the Minister for Education. One of these is the need to increase the salary of the present Principal of the Government Muhammadan College, because with the introduction of the Honours course and the Science courses, the Principal of the institution has to shoulder a very heavy responsibility. It is therefore but reasonable that his salary should be increased. As the present Principal is one who is highly qualified and eminently suited for the post, I may inform the Hon. the Minister that the Government Muhammadan College to-day is not the same as it was during the days of the last Congress Ministry, who wanted to abolish the institution. This college is to-day a premier institution in this Province; hence it should be treated on a par with the Presidency College of this City.

" With regard to other matters, I wish to draw the attention of the Hon. the Minister for Education, first and foremost to the urgent necessity of constructing at an early date a suitable building for the new Muslim Women's College. In order to give sufficient facilities for higher education to Muslim girls, which were not available to them in the Queen Mary's College and other institution in response to the request made by me to the Post-war Reconstruction Committee and in compliance with the wishes of the Muslim public in general, the Advisers' Government established a college for Muslim women at Madras. (Cries of 'Hear, hear.') This college is now located in the buildings of the Government Hobart High School as a temporary measure. The Advisers' Government had decided that a suitable building should be constructed soon for this college. But I am surprised to find that no definite provision has been made for this item in the Budget. You can well realize, Mr. Speaker, what a keen disappointment it is to the Muslim public to find that no specific and definite provision has been made for this purpose in the present budget. I note, however, that a provision of Rs. 1,70,800 has been made under the head 'Postwar Reconstruction' against the item 'Other Contingencies.'

[Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin] [2nd September 1946]

I have been told that this amount is really intended for the purpose of construction a building for the new Muslim Women's College. It will greatly ease the minds of the Muslim public if the Hon. the Minister for Education will state that this amount is really intended for putting up a building for the Muslim Women's College. If, however, no provision has been made in the present budget, I request the Government to make due provision for this purpose in a supplementary budget, because it is very urgent that this new college should be provided with a building without delay. At present both the Hobart School and the Muslim Women's College are suffering under a severe handicap, because they have to carry on the work of two institutions in the limited accommodation, intended for one institution only. I therefore request the Hon. the Minister for Education to take all possible steps to see that this college is provided with a new building of its own, before the next academic year.

"It is also necessary that the Government should increase the number of secondary and training schools for Muslim girls throughout the Province. In the Ceded Districts, despite the fact that the population of Muslims is fairly large, no provision has been made for high school education for Muslim girls. Although the Muslim public have been demanding a high school for Muslim girls at Kurnool, we find that only a middle school is provided for them even now. I request the Hon. the Minister to take immediate steps to raise the middle school for Muslim girls at Kurnool to the status of a high school.

"I should also like the Hon. Minister to make enquiries about the middle schools for Muslim girls at Guntur and Bellary and see whether they also can be raised to the status of high schools immediately.

"Another point to which I wish to draw the attention of the Hon. Minister for Education is that Muslim women teachers are suffering great hardships in the mufassal for lack of suitable residential quarters. Some of these teachers are at present allowed to reside in the hostels, but this is not proving a satisfactory arrangement, because most of the teachers have their families living with them. I therefore request the Government to take early steps to provide separate quarters for Muslim women teachers in all schools in the mufassal.

"Another matter to which I must refer is the urgent necessity to provide a suitable building for the Islamiah High School at Trichinopoly."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, on a point of order. I find that the Hon. Minister for Education is not listening to the speech, being delivered by the hon. Member."

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I was listening to some other person."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Hon. Minister is now listening."

2nd September 1946]

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"Sir, I was referring to the Islamiah High School at Trichinopoly and the urgent necessity to provide it with a suitable building.

"Since the Hon. Minister has visited the school, it is unnecessary for me to describe the difficult conditions under which the pupils of that institution are prosecuting their studies at the present time and have been doing so for the past quarter of a century. I understand that the Adviser's Government had selected a site for this school and had also given sanction to acquire it. With reference to the site I believe that some objections. . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member has taken half an hour."

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"But I have many points to cover."

(Voices: 'She is the mover of a cut motion.' 'We are surrendering our right to speak.' (Mr. H. S. Hussain Sahib: 'The whole time for the discussion of this Demand may be given to the lady Member to speak.)

"Sir, I understand that the Advisers' Government had given sanction for acquiring a site for the above school. In regard to this site, however, I believe certain objections have now been raised and the proposal is that a new site be selected. But my fear is that the effect of this proposal will be that the whole scheme will be shelved. Since the above school has been without a suitable building for the past twenty-seven years and since its need in regard to suitable accommodation is very urgent, I request the Hon. Minister to see that the scheme is not shelved but that, on the other hand, immediate steps are taken to push it through so that the school may be provided with a suitable building at an early date.

"There is another matter to which I wish to invite the attention of Government and that is the necessity for giving the above building grants to the Islamiah High School, Ambur, and for improving the status of the munshis. These items cost the Exchequer much. After all, the finances of this Province are very sound and satisfactory at present and the above items can well claim a small amount for satisfying the needs of the people.

"I now wish to deal with the question of the increase in the number of students that have been admitted this year in the various colleges. Mr. Speaker, I am one with those who hold that it is necessary to afford greater facilities to the youth of the land for higher education, because I am aware that an increase in the number of university students will serve, in the words of Newman, 'to raise the intellectual tone of society to purify the national mind, to cultivate the public taste and to give enlargement and sobriety to the ideas of the age.' It is a mistake to suppose that there are too many universities in this land or that there is a plethora of university students. As a matter of fact, in proportion to her population, India is perhaps the most backward of the advanced countries of the world in the matter of university education. In India the number of students in the various universities in relation to the entire population is 1 to 2,206. In pre-war days it was 1 to 837 in Great Britain; 1 to 227 in the United States of America and 1 to 300 in Russia. Thus it is a mistake to suppose that higher education has reached the saturation point in India and that the time has arrived to cry a halt to it as the last Congress Government were inclined to do. (A voice: 'Hear, hear.') Hence it is necessary that sufficient facilities should be afforded to the youth of the land for prosecuting higher studies. This the Government should do not by casting to the winds all considerations of efficiency and pressing upon the colleges to admit numbers beyond their capacity; this the Government should do not by throwing their own burden on the universities, but by opening more colleges and devising other ways and means of solving the problem. Overcrowded lecture-rooms, Mr. Speaker, and over-tired lecturers, are hardly conducive to the high standard which a university should maintain. I wish to point out that the existing institutions are already so over-taxed that one more straw will break the camel's back. I, therefore, urge upon the Government to devise suitable ways and means of tackling the problem of higher education and not to put off any further the scheme for the bifurcation of the studies, for, such scheme will serve to solve the problem of higher education to a certain extent by diverting many students from the university to other courses. The Government should also expand commercial and technical education.

"I wish also to draw attention to the urgent need to appoint at an early date a Deputy Directress of Public Instruction which post has been kept in abeyance for a number of years past. I brought forward a resolution on the subject at the Central Advisory Committee on Women's Education last year. That resolution was duly forwarded to the Government, but, although a year has elapsed, we do not yet know as to when the proposal will be implemented. I may point out that at a time such as this when the Government are expending elementary education not merely for the boys, but also for girls, there is urgent need to have a Deputy Directress of Public Instruction who could co-ordinate all future plans in regard to girls' education and also formulate proposals for the rapid advancement of women's education. After all it is a woman alone that can visualise the needs, requirements of girls and women. I may point out that at present girls' education is suffering much in the rural areas. I understand that 75 per cent of the school going girls in the rural areas are attending boys' school. What happens is this? When in a rural area there is a girls' school as well as a boys' school, the latter draws away pupils from the former. This is proceeding to such an extent that it is becoming exceedingly difficult for a girls' school to exist in a rural area where there is a boys' school. Therefore I urge upon the Government to make it a rule that in a rural area where a girls' school has been provided, the boys' school should not admit girls unless the headmistress of the girls' school declines to take any more pupils for lack of accommodation. There is also need to increase the inspecting staff for girls' school. I know that even this year, the post of an additional inspectress of girls' schools has been sanctioned, but even this is not enough. We want more sub-assistant inspectresses as a whole.

2nd September 1946] [Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin]

"Now, with regard to the Sub-Assistant Inspectresses of Schools, I wish to suggest that their name should be changed into that of Deputy Inspectresses of Schools, because there is no intermediary between them and the Inspectresses of Girls' Schools. When men officers of the same rank are given the appellation of Deputy Inspectors of Schools why should the women officers be called by a name which connotes inferior status.

"I shall now turn to adult education which, I am sorry to note, has not engaged the attention of the Government. It is true that they are pushing forward elementary education, but that by itself is not enough. For the liquidation of illiteracy, adult education should form an integral part of any scheme of compulsory education. The pace at which literacy has advanced in this country during the past decade indicates that it will take at least 140 years for illiteracy to be liquidated.

"Even when compulsory education becomes the rule, I think it will take not less than 50 years to attain cent per cent literacy. Adult education is too vast a problem to be tackled by voluntary agencies. Unless the State comes forward to play its part and help voluntary efforts in a liberal manner the success achieved by the latter is bound to be negligible. It has been calculated that adult education throughout India for the next 25 years will cost something like Rs. 42 crores. This works out to Rs. 2 crores per annum for the whole of India. Now assuming that one-tenth of this amount would be necessary for our Province, the amount required for the Province of Madras to launch upon a wide-spread scheme of adult education would come up to about Rs. 20 lakhs per annum. I find Mr. Speaker, that the Government derive.

p.m.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member has taken already 45 minutes."

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"One more minute, Sir, and I shall finish. The Government derive an income of Rs. 116 lakhs from the Entertainment Tax every year. Just as the sales tax has been earmarked for the purpose of Prohibition I request the Government to earmark a portion of the proceeds of the entertainment tax for the purpose of adult education especially for schemes like visual education. Sir, before I conclude, I think it is imperative that I should draw the attention of the Government to the urgent necessity to increase the pay of teachers. The plight of the teachers, Mr. Speaker, is miserable and deplorable and their demands are just and legitimate. The minimum pay of a secondary grade trained teacher in a Government school is Rs. 30 per mensem, in a Board school Rs. 24 and in an aided school Rs. 18. The minimum pay of a Higher Elementary Grade teacher is Rs. 23 per mensem in a Government school, Rs. 20 in a Board school and Rs. 14 in an aided school. Thus we see that some of the teachers are paid even less than illiterate coolies. In this the manner in which the Members of an honourable profession should be remunerated in a civilized society. The teachers are the makers of the nation and the well-being of the nation and the well-being of the country demands that this valuable hand of men and women and they should no longer be neglected. Mr. Speaker, the starved, care-worn and dejected teacher cannot be expected to put forth his best into his work of training the future citizens of the land in the manner he should. I may point out that the Central Advisory Board on Education recommended that the pay of the teachers should be increased. If the Government accepted the recommendation of this Board it will cost them not more than Rs. 1½ crores. But as the Government are unable to accept this recommendation they can at least accept the recommendation of the Postward Reconstruction Committee of Madras in regard to this matter. The Government, Mr. Speaker, are expanding elementary education. The first requisite for this is that they should provide themselves with a large band of teachers. But due to the poor pay and prospects attached to the teaching profession, the youth of the land are not being attracted to that profession. It is because of this that there are a number of vacancies in the training schools and the training colleges, and it is because of this that the Government Emergency Training Scheme has proved a failure, and even the attraction of an enhanced rate of stipend has failed to evoke the necessary response. Sir, the enrolment of pupils in the secondary schools is proceeding ahead, but we are faced with the problem of paucity of teachers. I am afraid, Mr. Speaker, that unless something effective is done for the teachers the time may come when the Government may be faced with a situation of having schools but no teachers to run them. Realizing the urgency and the importance of this problem the Government of Bombay have seen their way to better the lot of the teachers. I request the Government of Madras also to come forward to improve the pay and the prospects of those who are the maker of the nation. With these words, Sir, I move the cut motion that stands in my name, namely: to reduce the allotment of Rs. 6,59,12,700 by . . . Rs. 100."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"The House has been thinking rapidly during the last quarter of an hour. May I know how long you propose to sit to-day?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"We are going to sit till 8 o'clock."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Then I shall proceed with my speech, Sir."

"Sir, the first point that strikes one on reading the figures before us arises from the report on education for 1945 wherein expenditure is given as Rs. 366 lakhs. The demand now before us is for Rs. 659 lakhs and one wonders what is the necessity for this great increase. Let it not be thought that the members of my group begrudge one anna of this amount if it is properly spent. But our fear is that there has been in the past and there may be in the future a most terrible waste of expenditure of the wrong kind."

"In the Government Examinations we are told that 30,735 candidates obtained their S.S.L.C. Sir, how wisely the gentleman who drafted the report has used his medium of speech!

2nd September 1946] [Mr. H. S. Town]

You will notice that he uses the word 'obtained.' I suggest that the word ought properly to be 'qualified'. But then we know and our educational authorities know that to pass out a student with an average of 35 per cent of marks is certainly not to pass out a qualified person, so perhaps it is better to say 'obtained'.

"Again, Sir, we are informed that 26,487 candidates appeared for their public examination at the end of the eighth standard of whom some 11,486 passed; that is 44 per cent, about the same as in the previous year. If we could have been told the number who passed with under 51 per cent of the total marks possibly we should be better able to appreciate the appalling standard before us. This is not the fault of the students: it is the fault of the whole system. Sir, as the percentage of passes remains practically the same from year to year, I would ask, what is the system of marking adopted? Is the examiner told that a certain percentage of those sitting for the examination must obtain the certificate or is the standard of marking applied such that any student who does not reach a particular percentage will fail? I believe, Sir, that the percentage of candidates to be passed is the criterion. If so I submit that the S.S.L.C. is a most useless document as evidence of an educational attainment."

"The Prime Minister made one of the most important announcements in his budget speech when he told us plainly what he thought of the system of University education. It is one thing for the Prime Minister to make such a statement, but how and when is he going to implement it? We ask for information on this point. Sir, something more than a tightening of the University system is wanted. We must start at the bottom and make the S.S.L.C. something better than what it is. This will exclude a lot of unsuitable material from our Universities."

"Sir, in regard to Regional Languages, we can but stress our view that for the advancement of India's real interests what is required is not Regional but one language for the entire country. Now, Sir, I want to spend a little time on this question of regional languages; as it does not affect me personally perhaps, I can look at it from an outsider's point of view. Our Minister for Education may remember that he was recently rebuked for not asking a question of the Mahatma in Hindustani. I gather that he did not even ask the question in his own regional language, but perhaps he is not very good at that and anyway his hearer would not have understood, so he used the only universal language in India at present and he got a reply in that same language. The Premier in his budget speech stated that 'in the reorganization the proper place and importance will be given to the regional language.' Perhaps the Premier has not yet made up his mind as to what is the proper place for regional languages—perhaps he is waiting for the political fog to clear, but I can tell him here and now where the regional languages will eventually settle down if India does not become Balkanised. If India is to be one nation, the regional languages will settle down into the places now occupied by Latin and

[Mr. H. S. Town] [2nd September 1946]

Greek in the English public schools. This is not to belittle the importance of the regional languages. I am simply stressing the necessity for one common language.

"Sir, if this country is to be one country and not many—and it is the earnest desire of the members of my group and the whole of my community that there should one united India—it must have one language common to all the people from the north to the south and from east to west, in the Indian States and in the territories which now go under the name of British India. I am fully aware that the Tamilian will not give way to Telugus and neither of them will give way to any of the Northern Indian languages, or even to a west-coast language. If agreement on one Indian language is impossible why not adopt an outside language—say Chinese or Burmese, but anyway have one language.

"Now, Sir, I most seriously suggest that this Presidency gives the lead to the rest of India and putting slogans and hatreds behind it, looks this question straight in the face. We must sooner or later adopt a language which all can understand; then let us adopt a language capable of expressing everything we need to express in this modern world without the necessity of coining a lot of new words. Just at present there is no Indian language capable of doing that.

"It won't do for me to suggest that English is a good language; so I go to the next best and suggest American. (Laughter.) It is quite a passable language with some wonderful expressions unknown in English but it will enable Indians to travel the world over and get along fairly well. It also has the advantage of enabling the student who has some remaining regard for English to read and understand the finest set of textbooks in the world.

"Someone, it may have been our Minister for Education, asked the question 'What is the place of English in the principles of 'Nai Talim'?' and the reply was, 'English is admittedly a world language. I would therefore accord it as a second optional language, not in the school but in the University course. That can only be for the select few.' This, Sir, is a dangerous thing to the masses in India. The select few are going to understand the world and the masses are to remain parochial for they will be taught only the regional language and they will not be able to speak to even Indians outside their own region. They will get back to the position they were rescued from some 150 years ago. (Laughter.) The substitution of English for Persian in the Courts and in Government records led to the rise of one community and the decline of another; this regional language business with a select few speaking English will have a similar result for English will be the one language which all India will speak.

"Further, Sir, the Education Minister, the Prime Minister and all in this House know full well that this regional language question is a passing stunt and cannot possibly work in the interests of India. I submit that whatever less able men in other Provinces decide to do, we here do not deprive our students of the chance of learning to think in their early school years in the language in which they are going to be taught in the University. Capacity to think in a language is the test of knowledge of that language and no man can possibly be educated in a language in which he is not capable of thinking naturally and without effort. If when you read a book in English you have to turn it all the time in your mind into your own regional language you do not really understand English. And when I attempt to read a French book if I have got to turn it in my mind into English I tell myself, 'I do not know French because I cannot think in French.' Unless you teach your boy or girl who is going to the University in his or her early school days English, teach him or her to think in English, when they get to the University they will be greatly handicapped and when they pass out of the University their standard will be much lower than what it is to-day.

"Turning now to the results of University education in this country I am glad that the Premier says that it needs much reform. I do not pretend to be fitted to say what reforms are necessary but it may be of help if I give the opinion of a businessman in India on the average product of our Universities. In common with many other employees I have from time to time tried employing B.As. of the Madras University and other Universities of Southern India. Also in common with other employers in India I gave it up. They were little better than S.S.L.C. I had little better results from B.A. Hons. B.A. Hons. should denote a good standard of education, but I regret to say that B.A. Hons. of an Indian University appears to denote nothing more than a capacity to absorb sufficient facts to pass an examination; it certainly, in the majority of cases, does not denote a capacity to apply the knowledge absorbed.

"Education, Sir, is the harmonious development of all our faculties. It begins in the nursery and goes on at school but it does not end there. It continues through life whether we will or not. As Gibbon says 'every person has two educations, the one he receives from others and one more important which he gives himself.' Sir, I submit that the average results achieved show that our system fails to give any real education—it fails to develop all the faculties, it merely imparts knowledge and learning which tell nothing of mental development apart from a capacity to acquire and remember. It tells nothing whatever of normal development which is included in the word 'education' in its fullest and noblest sense. Sir, if we are going to give up merely imparting knowledge and change over to education we have to start right at the beginning—start in the primary school or even in the nursery. It is no good taking a half-taught man who has been taught only to gain knowledge and trying to educate him. We have to start with a child and not in the University.

[Mr. H. S. Town] [2nd September 1946]

"I am pleased to note that there are to be 4,000 more teachers; the number is small, but it is a start. We cannot do a thing like this quickly. I would however ask, 'What sort of teacher are we recruiting?' Also and perhaps even more important, have we the people capable of instructing our new teachers in the art of educating rather than in the science of imparting knowledge? I ask the Minister to be very careful in the choice of his new teachers and he must avoid filling up with unsuitable candidates. It will be much better for him to say plainly next budget, 'I have not got my 4,000 teachers, because the quality I wanted was not available.' This House will respect him much more than if he has merely filled up with useless men and women.

"Teaching, Sir, is a calling more than a profession, but that is no reason why the teacher should not be paid adequate remuneration for his work. He is a most important person and those of us who have been blessed in our youth with good teachers look back and remember with pleasure how they led us to use our minds to apply them to every-day problems. We have to be careful, Sir, that we recruit educators and not mere imparters of knowledge. Sir, we have to train our teachers. We have at once to recruit people who can train our future educationists in this Presidency. We have to see that the teaching profession is recognised as an important one and that the remuneration paid to our teachers is adequate. Sir, I support this motion."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a demand on which some of us in the Opposition and particularly the Muslims are very anxious to make the Government understand the amount of importance and sanctity we attach to education, for this is the basis of all the things that are built up for the citizens to-morrow.

(At this stage the Deputy Speaker occupied the Chair.)

"Madam, they will not forgive us if we do not lay the proper foundations from today in the matter of education. I do believe that when things have changed politically in this country people want a revolution brought about in regard to the education of our children. They have tried their utmost to find ways and means of bringing into existence a system of education which will be of help and use to the people in every respect. I agree with them thoroughly and I do agree with the Hon. Minister for Education in any endeavour that he may make to bring about that useful change in the system of education. But I must give expression to my great disappointment that in his desire to revolutionise the system of education and in his desire to make education really national he has given an indication of the fact that he is rather running too fast in that direction without looking around him in order to see what exactly he is doing to the people who are also anxious to see that they receive the education that they want.

2nd September 1946] [Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur]

"In the first instance, Sir, I am one with him in any endeavour he would make in order to make literacy universal. I would ask him, before I proceed further, how long he will take to make literacy universal in this province. I will also ask him whether he will be satisfied with giving that meaning to literacy which has been given in this province and in this country all these years. If he is to be content with educating a child up to the fifth standard and allowing him after he leaves the school to lapse into illiteracy, as has been pointed out by Mr. Town, all the money that we are seeking to spend at least on elementary education will be a waste. Therefore, I will ask the Hon. the Minister for Education not to be content with giving elementary education up to the fifth standard, but to make elementary education of the higher type compulsory and to make the boys and girls of this Presidency educated to some real extent. Some reform has to be made in the matter of secondary education and some reform must be made with regard to College education also. Students have to be allotted to various fields of education. Bifurcation in the secondary education should also be made—all these things are there to be done. Many educational institutions and particularly the University of Madras have given a good deal of thought to these questions and they have produced a report which may be of very great use to the Hon. Minister so far as reform in education in this province is concerned.

"As a citizen of this province, I am very keenly interested in making education real and useful to all the people; and as a Muslim, I wish to tell my Hon. Friend, the Minister for Education and also the Hon. the Premier who is the custodian of the finances of this province, to see that Muslim education is treated as a definite charge on the finances of this province, as a definite and separate charge on the finances of this province. In the last Congress Government, representation was made to Gandhiji that large sums of money were not being allotted for Muslim education in this province; he evidently drew the attention of the then Premier to this matter and that Premier in one of his speeches told us, Muslims, that money would be spent like water. I do not know, Sir, whether he meant to do it or not; but the result showed that the water only flowed in the gutters of Madras. No real attempt was made to take into account the educational needs of the Mussalmans of this province, and it was given to the 'Advisers' Government to help Muslim education in some respect or other. And to-day, although we are not satisfied and all our demands have not been met, yet something has been done in the matter of the Government Muhammadan College and the opening of a College for Muslim girls in the Hobart Muslim Girls' School building. The amount that was allotted by the Advisers' Government for the Science block in the Muhammadan College and for the Girls' College has, I believe, been kept intact, and I want to know why all the amount that was so allotted by the Advisers' Government has not been included in the education budget this year by the Hon. Finance Minister for the construction of the buildings already planned. I believe something like Rs. 2 lakhs has been kept for the purpose of construction of the Girls' College building. That amount is not enough; the college will have to come into existence immediately, Sir. (Laughter.) I am reminded that the Deputy Speaker is presiding. I apologize to you Madam Deputy Speaker. We are so very much agitated about our education that sometimes we even forget who is presiding. (Laughter.) I hope the Hon. Minister will not take away the amount already allotted for the construction of buildings for the college for Muslim girls and he will not also try to go against the object for which the college has been brought into existence. Madam, rumour is thick that the Hon. Minister is going to convert this college into a general college and is going to change the percentages of Muslim girls and other girls. I hope that rumour is not true; that will be an undue interference and it will greatly agitate the Muslim minds and will certainly go down as an act of sacrilege in regard to Muslim education if the Hon. Minister does that.

[Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur] [2nd September 1946]

"One thing more I would like to tell the Hon. Minister is this: if there is one thing more than anything else on which differences have arisen between the two important nationalities in this country in general and in this province in particular, it is education. We Muslims are very anxious and very particular that nothing should be done to interfere with our culture, with our language and with our education. Any interference on the part of any Government will not only be disliked, but will be resisted, resisted with all the power at our command and all the sacrifice we will be called upon to make. If any attempt is sought to be made to cut the real basis from our culture, from our language and from our education, with whatever good intentions, that will be a deliberate attempt to destroy us. I hope the Hon. Minister will not do it. I know the Minister has his own good wishes for the Muslims in this province; he believes that if the provinces of India are to be divided on a linguistic basis, the Andhra districts will be formed into a separate province having a separate Government and having a separate Legislature. The language of that province will be Telugu. Therefore, if the Muslims are to take an adequate part in the Government of that province and the legislature of that province, it is necessary that they should learn Telugu. That is what he believes. I agree entirely with him in that point of view, but if we have to learn that language for the sake of our bread, as we have learned the English language, we will learn the Telugu language also. We are learning Tamil, we are learning Malayalam; but these are the languages which we have necessarily to learn for the sake of our bread, not for the sake of our religion or our culture. We value our culture and our religion more than our bread; for bread after all, is not the thing for which a man lives. Therefore, Madam, I wish to state again and make an earnest request to the Hon. the Minister for Education and the Hon. the Premier not to do anything which will jeopardize our culture and our religion. To us, education is nothing if it is not based on religion. We are very anxious about it. I know that hon. Members belonging to other religions are equally anxious that their education should be based on their religion and that religious education should be imparted to their children also. Well, Madam, I shall be very glad if in the scheme of things that is going to be formulated by the Hon. Minister for Education, he will see that plans are made for imparting religious education to members of all communities and all religions if they want. Whatever difficulties there may be, they should make it compulsory that every boy and girl of every community should learn religion; for it is due to the absence of that spiritual basis for education that all the trouble has come and all kinds of differences have arisen not only in this country but all the world over. Therefore, man has come back to his religion. Man strayed for a very long time from his religion and his God. It is high time he came back to his God and his religion. We Muslims have never thought of education as separate from our religion. If any system of education is forced upon us which does not make religious education compulsory 7 p.m. from the primary stage up to the college stage, we will not be satisfied with that education, and that education will not be worth having. I, therefore, believe, Madam, that it is very necessary that the Hon. Minister for Education should take into account our feelings in the matter, and before he does anything with regard to our education, he should not only consult Muslim members in this House but also consult Muslim educationists in the province, as to whether that education would suit our genius and our requirements and would give all that is necessary to make a real man, a man who will be useful not only to himself but to society, a man who will not be a hindrance but a help to society. I request the Hon. Minister for Education to appoint a separate Muslim Board, a Board for Muslim education, consisting of Muslim members of this House and Muslim educationists outside, in order to plan Muslim education and to see that that is what we want and not what anybody else wants.

"There are very many other things, Madam, concerning Muslim education about which I wish to refer. Some of my hon. Friends do not seem to have realized yet what I have been trying to drive at. They are really trying to make a joke of the whole thing. I therefore wish to tell them most seriously, most earnestly and most solemnly that what I am saying is real and it is the bedrock of the future in regard to Muslims in this province. Madam, I would therefore earnestly request the Hon. Minister for Education to bring immediately into existence a Board for Muslim education so that we will help him in planning a kind of education that will be suitable to the Mussalmans from the elementary stage to the collegiate course.

"Madam, there is need for any number of high schools for Muslim boys and girls throughout the province, and especially Malabar which consists of a third of the Muslim population of the province has been neglected for a long time. Hence I wish to point out that the late lamented Sir R. M. Statham was responsible for a scheme for opening some high schools for girls and some for boys but unfortunately, before he could complete his scheme for the education of Mappilla boys and girls, he passed away prematurely. Therefore, I suggest it is the duty of the Hon. Minister for Education and the present Government to see that the scheme left uncompleted is completed within the course of at least the next five years.

"Madam, there is one thing more and I am sorry I have to repeat it because the Hon. Minister for Education in reply to questions put to him has given an indication that he is bent upon having his own way in regard to our representations. I hope that what he said in answer to questions was not what he actually meant because I believe that he is a gentleman with a heart although as Education Minister he must have more of the mind than of the heart. There must be harmonious intermingling of both head and heart for it is only then we can progress towards the right direction. One community in this province who are noted for harmonious intermingling of the head and the heart are my Andhra friends because they are the people who do not allow their head to take advantage over the heart. My hon. Friend, the Minister for Education who hails from Coimbatore—with regard to whose characteristics I am not aware—will, I hope, follow the good example of his Andhra colleagues by making his heart as big as that of his Andhra friends and seeing that the Muslims are not driven to the necessity of resisting anything that is forced upon them in the matter of education. I hope he will not make such a mistake.

"I would conclude, Madam, with making a reference to the salaries of the poor teachers. Representations have been made and I understand the Government have taken up the question. Governments in the past have not given due consideration to this matter all these years. I believe it should be possible for the Minister for Education to give an adequate increase to the poor teachers especially when the financial position of the province is satisfactory. A pittance of Rs. 2 will not certainly make them lead a contented and happy life. Unless the teacher is contented and is in a position to devote all his time and attention to the sacred duty which he has to discharge in building up the citizens of to-morrow—teachers are the people who make or mar the country—the Government will not be able to discharge their duty satisfactorily. I therefore plead on their behalf that they should be given adequate increases in their salaries—Rs. 18, Rs. 20 or Rs. 30 will not do. Nothing less than Rs. 60 for a teacher in the City and Rs. 50 in the mufassal will satisfy them in order to make both ends meet. I therefore suggest that the minimum salary of a teacher in the City should be Rs. 60 going up to Rs. 100 and that of a teacher in the mufassal should be from Rs. 50 to Rs. 75. That will be the minimum that will satisfy the requirements of a teacher.

"The last point I wish to refer, Madam, is . . ."

THE DEPUTY SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member may please leave the other points to be dealt with by other Members."

2nd September 1946]

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Madam Speaker, at the outset, I would like to state that as soon as I read in the papers that the Education Minister was thinking of introducing the regional language, I wrote to him a letter but I regret very much to say that the Education Minister had not even the common courtesy of replying to my letter. (Sri Kala Venkata Rao:—Too much delay in making the complaint.) I thought the Member knew better. I did not want to put a question on this but since this is the time I can bring to his notice such matters and expect a reply from him I am raising the point now. I was wondering whether when he thought of introducing a new change in the medium of instruction the Education Minister had reports from the Government officers who are in charge of education and was apprised of the circumstances prevailing in the province and if he had consulted the members of the Congress Cabinet and if he had given thought to the advisability of introducing basic language as the medium of instruction, he would have at once found that this regional language does not suit the various parts of this province. When I wrote this letter to him, I really wondered whether he gave sufficient thought to the recommendations of the "Wardha Scheme" which is otherwise called Zakhir Hussain Scheme, and whether he had considered the report made by the Central Education Board. I do not know whether the Hon. Minister is aware of all these reports. In the year 1937, the National Educational Board was formed and the Wardha Scheme was placed before it. It was referred to Zakhir Hussain Sahib to frame a scheme which was again placed before the Central Board of Education in 1938. If the Hon. Minister had really read these reports, he would have found that it has been definitely laid down that education should be given in the mother-tongue. I wondered whether the Education Minister was not hasty in telling the people who had gathered at public meetings that the regional language would be the medium of instruction. Is he not hasty in coming to such a conclusion? Even the Zakhir Hussain Scheme which is otherwise called the "Wardha Scheme" has recommended definitely that education should be imparted in the mother-tongue. Now the question is whether the mother-tongue is identical with the regional language. I hope some Members will think so. But I am definite it is not so. Regional language by its very connotation means the language that is spoken in an area but mother-tongue is one that is spoken in the house; it is the language of family and of the mother. If the Hon. the Education Minister had made a mistake and stated that the regional language of the Muslims of the Andhra districts is the same as their mother-tongue, I am here, as the representative of the Muslims—there are also other hon. Members who represent the Muslims of the province—to tell the Education Minister that Telugu is not our mother-tongue. What more my hon. Friend the Education Minister wants than our assertion on the floor of this House,—responsible men as we are and representing 100 per cent of the Muslims of this province—telling him that our mother-tongue is Urdu and not Telugu; and where is the justification on the part of the Education Minister to have come to such a conclusion?

[Mahboob Ali Baig Sahib Bahadur] [2nd September 1946]

“ Even on the basis of the report of Zakhir Hussain's Committee which was considered by the Central Board of Education of which the Education Ministers of the Congress Governments of Bombay and United Provinces were members as also Mr. Zakhir Hussain, it was considered for very good reasons that mother-tongue should be made the medium of instruction. I can only attribute this hasty decision on the part of the Education Minister to his anxiety to do something revolutionary. A responsible person holding the portfolio of Education should have waited for a minute or two till he got reports from these educational officers before coming to a decision. My charge against him is that in spite of the fact, that we asserted that Telugu is not our mother-tongue, he persists on saying that it is. If he wants to compel us to have our education in a language which is other than Urdu, we are not going to allow that. That in spite of our assertion, he should still persist in saying he wants regional language, passes my understanding. As far as we are concerned, Madam, I can tell the Minister for Education, “ We will not have it; we will not have it; we will not have it.” (Hear, hear.) Already persons from different district have come to me and asked me what is going to happen to the education of the Muslim boys and girls in the Andhra districts. I told them that we are doing our best. I do not know whether it is true to say, as has been said by the Hon. Minister for Education, that no agitation was made by the Muslims of the Andhra districts. As a matter of fact, I have myself received copies of letters and telegrams which were sent by the Andhra Muslims to the Education Minister and in answer to a question asked by some friends, the Minister said, “ I am not aware of any such agitation.” I now ask, has he or has he not received telegrams and resolutions passed by the Muslims at their various meetings throughout the Andhra districts in regard to this matter? That is the position. In the first place, there is no justification for the introduction of the regional language as the medium of instruction especially in view of the fact that the Wardha Scheme which was approved by the Central Board of Education and the National Planning Committee which assembled in Bombay a few months ago made it very clear that education must be given in the mother-tongue.

(At this stage, the Hon. the Speaker took the Chair.)

“ I have been able to prove two things. One is that education even according to the Wardha Scheme must be in the mother-tongue. Secondly, if proof is necessary, we are here to assert that the mother-tongue of the Muslims is Urdu. (Sri A. Kaleswara Rao:—All Muslims or Andhra Muslims?) I am speaking of Andhra Muslims only. You can include the Muslims of some of the other districts also. As I said already, representatives of three or four districts came to me recently and we had a conference and I told them, “ You need not take any hasty action in this matter.” I assured them that with the weight of the Muslim representatives in the Assembly—that is the weight of five million Muslims of this presidency—with all the weight at our command, if we are not able to convince the popular Government—the popular Government as far as we are concerned, our popular representatives are the twenty-nine persons on this side—if we are not able to convince the Congress Government, it is time enough for us to consider what action we will have to take? When my Hon. Minister for Education has not given me a chance even by means of a reply to my letter, I hesitated even to have an interview with him in regard to this subject. Now, Sir, the only way how this Congress Government can satisfy the Muslims is, as I have put it in my cut motion No. 230, by constituting a Muslim Board of Education consisting of Muslim members of the Legislature and other Muslim educationalists for the purpose of safeguarding the education of Muslims. I am loath to believe that there is any motive behind all that. I would not like to believe that there is any plan behind the introduction of regional language to the detriment of the Muslims. I will not believe it, but if, in spite of our representations, in spite of our legitimate demands, in spite of our authoritative assertions and in spite of our desire, the Congress Government and the Education Minister should persist in pursuing this policy, one would be compelled to believe that there must be some plan behind it. I know the Telugu language; I do my business in Telugu; I am a lawyer; and I know how to conduct myself in the court; I now write my complaints also in Telugu, but my mother-tongue is not Telugu. I have learnt Urdu throughout my college life. The Hon. the Minister for Education who seems to be very solicitous in saying, ‘ If you are educated in your mother-tongue, how can you get on in courts, in Legislatures, etc.’ I can talk some sort of Telugu and can express myself in that language; I can cross-examine witnesses in Telugu. Did I learn all these things because I had my education in Telugu? No. It was on account of my association with Hindus I picked up the language for the purpose of my business. I would suggest a way out of that. You can make that a compulsory language and not the medium of instruction. I challenge my hon. Friends on the other side who are Andhra gentlemen to show us a single book in Telugu which contains its translation of Quran traditions and culture of the Muslims. An attempt was no doubt made by a friend of mine, the late Umar Ali Shah to translate the Quran in Telugu but unfortunately he had a lot of difficulties in doing it. Is there any bureau, I ask, any institution in the whole of Andhradesa including the Andhra University where you have got the translation of the Quran in Telugu? The culture and the traditions of Muslims are all in Urdu and Persian. I may state for the information of my hon. Friends on the other side that till recently, till fifty years ago, Persian was the court language. It was because circars and subsequently the Ceded Districts which were also under Nizam and even the Guntur district which was part of the territory under Salar Jangh, Nizam's brother, were all under the Nizam of Hyderabad and Persian was the language of the court. There are also many Muslims who know Persian very well even to-day. I heard some remark made by some hon. Member that the Musalmans of the Andhra district do not talk Urdu. They talk some mutilated Urdu and so on. Who is responsible for this? They do not know Telugu; they do not know Urdu. It is due to the lack of education and we fell on very bad days after the Mutiny. Nobody was more affected than the Muslims during the Mutiny of 1857. There we are. Our education was smashed; the Muslims were smashed. (A voice: By whom?) By the British Government. I am not afraid to state that. They, the Muslims, were the people who were more affected than anybody else. That is the real position of the Musalmans. If you want to create confidence amongst Muslims, the only way open to the Government is to leave the education of the Musalmans into the hands of their accredited leaders. What right have you, I ask, to impose a language on us, unless it be in the larger sense? I can understand the Congress Government saying 'We are ruling this Province.' Yes. You are entitled to take steps for the maintenance of law and order and for the running of the administration but this question of education is our own and nobody can be compelled to educate himself in a different way from what he wants. Sir, if you are introducing compulsory education, it is a different matter. But the education should not be in any language other than the mother-tongue.

"One thing more and that is this: I have been trying to get a book or a pamphlet which deals with this Wardha Scheme; I do not know how many of my friends have gone through and read the book on basic education scheme. For my part I was able to get a copy of it from Delhi where I had been some time back.

7-30 p.m. "That is not a full report. Regarding this basic education, we do not know what it is. We have seen criticisms by some authoritative bodies about it. It is said on behalf of the scheme that it is 'learning by doing.' We do not know what it means. On the other hand there are some who have frankly said that it is anti-spiritual. Zakir Hussain himself has dealt with this matter. What information we have about it is insufficient. There are only extracts available to us in the report made by the Central Education Board. I wish the Hon. Minister for Education makes all literature on basic education available to us. Before we give our final opinion about it, we wish to be fully posted with the details of the scheme. I have only to say one thing in this connexion. Before you take any steps of introducing a change in the existing system, is it not the duty of the Government to place the matter before the legislature, which is the accredited representative body of the entire country? I do not know why you are going to the press and are issuing communiqués. I am told that some training schools are being started in Coimbatore and other places. Where is the justification for the Government to do it? Have you brought the matter before us and have you taken our approval? Have you taken the sanction of this representative body? Is it democracy to do things over the head of this representative body? Should not this body be consulted before you embark upon the scheme? It is a departure from the past; it is an innovation; it may be very good and therefore you may think of going ahead. But I ask, 'How can you, an executive of a democratic body, go ahead with the scheme and take steps in that regard without placing the matter before us?' Supposing it happens that this legislature does not approve of it, what is to happen? These are some of the points that have occurred to me with regard to education and I request the Hon. the Premier and the Education Minister to give us a definite reply with regard to those matters so that we may be clear in our minds as to where we stand."

AN HON. MEMBER:—"Will the hon. Member enlighten the House as to the language in which Quran was originally written?"

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Quran must be read and learned in Arabic only. As for Urdu, it is an admixture of Persian, Arabic and Burdh Basha."

AN HON. MEMBER:—"Then, is not Arabic also a regional language?"

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Member knows all this and this is a mischievous question."

* SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in reply to a certain question answered during the present session of the House, the Hon. Minister for Education gave details of admissions to the Medical and Engineering Colleges. Total admissions number 336 for the Medical College and only 2 of this number belong to the Scheduled Classes. The number that applied is 1,029. As for the Engineering College, number of applicants is 1,080 and there were only 8 admissions so far as the Scheduled Classes are concerned. For the years 1943 to 1945, for these two colleges, the total number of Scheduled Class students is only 28. Going through the Administration Report for the year 1945, I find that the number of students undergoing instruction in all the public schools was 7,649,202. Of these, the number belonging to the depressed classes is 424,821. It has also been stated that the percentage of pupils to the total population is only 7 per cent. If you take the Harijan community, I think that the pupils receiving education in public schools will be very negligible and the amount of education imparted to the Scheduled Classes is meagre. When the Poona Pact was concluded with the caste-Hindus on the one hand and the Scheduled Classes on the other, it was agreed that a large amount in every year's budget will be spent on the education of the Depressed Classes. We see High schools maintained for Christians, for Muslims and for Anglo-Indians and Europeans. You do not find even one High school maintained for the Harijans. I do not blame the Government for giving facilities to all these communities. The Harijan community is an important minority community and I do not find even one High school in the whole of the Presidency for that community. Fortunately for us, the present Government has found it possible to grant a middle school under the auspices of the Nandanar Kalvi Kazhagam. When I say that there is no separate High school for the Harijan community, I do not mean to suggest that we wish to be isolated from the Hindu body. Already the Hon. the Premier has announced that he has set apart one crore of rupees for the uplift of the Harijan community in order to enable them to have an equal standard of living with other communities. I feel that to elevate the Harijan community and place it on a par with other communities, it is necessary to give them special schools, and also residential facilities must be afforded wherever possible to enable the students to satisfactorily go through their studies. I wish to draw the attention of the Hon. Minister to the following sentence in paragraph 443 on page 82 of the Budget Memorandum:—

‘Expenditure on special education e.g., in forestry, medicine, agriculture, veterinary science . . . or for special sections of the community such as the fisher communities, communities eligible for help by the Labour Department

“I wish to draw special attention to the words ‘communities eligible for help by the Labour Department.’ I have already pointed out on the floor of this House that we, the Harijan members of this community, are nervous because we do not know where we stand. The 1935 Act says that the Scheduled Classes comprise certain communities and even under the previous Act communities regarded as untouchables are meant there. I do not know why this new innovation of ‘communities eligible for help by the Labour Department’ has been brought in here. Twenty-five members of this Assembly belonging to the Harijan community have already submitted to the Hon. the Premier a petition asking for elucidation on this matter and requesting an assurance from him that the amount set aside for the Harijan uplift and education will not be spent for any other purpose. I hope the Education Minister and also the Hon. Premier will give us the assurance that whatever amount has been set apart for the Harijan community will not be spent for the converts. I also like to know what the reason is for this innovation. This has been agitating the minds of the Harijan Members of this Assembly for the last two months and especially is it so after going through the current Budget. It is a new thing that has come up in this Assembly. If you take the proceedings of the old Council from 1926, you will see that this matter has been agitating the minds of both the Government and the Members concerned and then there was the definite understanding that Scheduled Classes or Depressed Classes or untouchables that are referred to there are Hindus and Hindus alone and not others. Another thing is the admission to the various schools or colleges, forestry, medical, veterinary science. There seems to be dual standards. A student who has passed all subjects except one in the intermediate examination with physics and chemistry as his optionals could not gain admission to the Veterinary College. When enquiries were made, it was stated that the case had been referred to the University authorities and the result was that he did not get admission though students of the Harijan community who have passed S.S.L.C. ought to be admitted. There is a provision in the Budget for Boarding Grants for Rs. 7 lakhs. I would like to know the details and whether it goes to Harijans or to other communities.

[2nd September 1946] [Sri V. I. Muniswami Pillai]

I like to bring to the attention of the Hon. Minister for Education that Harijans in villages are illiterate and they are not in a position to know what is happening in the country. Education is the lever by means of which the social and economic position of any community is raised and so, I submit that it is high time that special provision is made for compulsory primary education to all Harijans in the hamlets where they live. Regarding college education, take the case of the Presidency College. Unless a student has taken a certain percentage of marks in special subjects, he could not be admitted though he has passed the S.S.L.C. examination and has been declared eligible for college course. I wish the Hon. Minister for Education gives more facilities for Harijan pupils who have passed the S.S.L.C. examination to go into colleges for higher courses of study.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, on this cut motion, first of all, I wish to refer to some of the specific grievances of the Mappillas before going to the general question. In the first place it is rather very disappointing to note that such provisions as have been made by the Advisers’ Government don’t find a place in the present budget so far as Mappilla education is concerned. For instance, Sir, we were made to understand, in the previous regime, that two lakhs for constructing hostel for the Malappuram High School was sanctioned. That school is the only institution for Mappillas on the West Coast. It is only after a great deal of agitation that we were able to bring that institution into existence. Even now, that school is not housed in a proper building. It is very difficult to get local accommodation there, and I hope the Hon. Education Minister will look into this and inform this House that the provision given by the Advisers’ Government has been restored.

“Another important factor is the necessity for providing proper accommodation for the Mappilla Girls’ High School at Tirur. It is after a great deal of agitation that the Mappillas were able to secure a high school for girls in Malabar. In fact that is the only institution for Mappilla girls in Malabar. Even now, that school has not got a proper building. It is not for me now at this stage to plead the necessity for imparting education to Mappilla girls. For it is agreed on all hands that the unfortunate happenings of 1921 was due to the want of education on the part of Mappillas; of course, there were other reasons also; but it was agreed then, that their backwardness was one of the causes for that revolt. From that time onwards, agitation for separate schools for Mappillas was going on. I hope that that high school will be located in a good building. Unless Government pay some special attention to the needs of the backward communities, things will go from bad to worse. I warn it is the duty of Government to provide special facilities for communities which are backward. It is a real charge on the revenues of the Government. And looking at it from the point of other communities, it is the duty of the other communities to take the backward communities along with them in the matter of education.

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [2nd September 1946]

“ Another point I wish to deal is about the Malappuram High School. It is conducted very efficiently. Out of it a large number of brilliant Mappilla boys go out educated every year. It is high time that steps are taken to raise that institution into a college. If that is done it will be a good gesture on the part of Government that they follow a proper policy so far as Mappilla education is concerned. I would also urge that the Tirur Muslim Girls' High School should be raised into a college. There is a great demand for it. The need for giving girls higher education is admitted by all. So I would very strongly urge that this Muslim Girls' High School should be raised into a college.

“ In this connexion I would also mention that these two schools are in South Malabar. There is a great demand for such schools in North Malabar. This year a girls' high school was sanctioned. It is located in a private building, as it has been found impracticable to place that building at the disposal of the Government. Steps should be taken to give that institution a separate building.

“ Another point to which I would like to make a reference is the immediate necessity for raising the Brennen College into a first-grade college. This college has been in existence for a very long time. It is there for the last so many decades. There is now agitation that that college should be made into a first-grade college. This is not an institution for Mappillas alone. That is the institution that stirred the Mappilla to a very large extent. That is the only college in North Malabar. I do not see why Government should not grant that request. Their demand is a reasonable one, and all communities are for it.

“ The next point I want to say is about the necessity for teaching Arabic. I wish to draw the attention of Government to the provision there is already for teaching Sanskrit in schools. Even though Sanskrit is not a spoken language, still as there is a demand for it, it is being taught in schools. Similarly, Arabic also should be taught, as there is a demand for it. In fact, Arabic should be placed on the same footing as Sanskrit. Where there is a considerable number of Muslim students, Arabic should be taught there. It should be made a second language in both schools and colleges. There are very few institutions in Malabar where Arabic is taught at present. It should be made one of the second languages for Muslim students.

“ I now proceed to another aspect of the education question. The way in which Muslim subordinates in the service are treated by the department is rather very unfair. I would say, there are, as a matter of fact, ever so many Mappilla Deputy Inspectors of Schools who have reached the maximum salary of Rs. 150 and are remaining there for a number of years. They have done excellent work and have procured excellent certificates. But you have ignored them in making promotions to the selection grade. We are told that they could not be given that, because there are other seniors above them. Sir, 'selection grade' means promotion on merit. But if promotion to selection grade is to take place on seniority, why should it be called selection grade? The legitimate claims of several Mappilla subordinate officials are ignored by the Government, particularly that of the headmaster of the Mappilla High School, Malappuram. He is the one person who is responsible for bringing that institution to its present high position. The Director of Public Instruction has referred to his work in glowing terms; his merit has been recognized; and it is greatest injustice to a man, who has been doing selfless and efficient work, to deny him his legitimate claim.

“ I would like to say one word on a point of general importance, and that is particularly with reference to basic education. We are told that basic education is to be the basis of the educational policy of the Government.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“ The hon. Member may continue his speech tomorrow.”

The House then adjourned to meet again at 11 a.m. the next day.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Protected water-supply to Mangalore City.

* 135 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state—

(a) the stage in which the question of providing protected water-supply to Mangalore City is at present; and

(b) whether any final decision has been taken in the matter?

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" (a) A water-supply scheme for the Mangalore City has been investigated.

" (b) A report on the investigation is being prepared by the Sanitary Engineer."

SRI A. B. SHETTY:—"May I know, Sir, whether this matter will be expedited in view of the wide prevalence of water-borne diseases in Mangalore like enteric and filarial attacks?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Yes, Sir."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, whether there is any plan or any scheme of something like five-year or ten-year scheme to be expedited?" (Laughter.)

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"A compendium of provincial requirements has been drawn up for protected water-supply and drainage schemes."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Will that be followed according to the list of priority already drawn up or will Government go out of the way to provide water-supply to particular districts?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Wherever there is necessity, the priority order will be changed."

Licences for guns.

* 136 Q.—SRI K. T. KOSALRAM: Will the Hon. the Minister for Law be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware that in 1942 licences for guns in the Province were suddenly and arbitrarily cancelled by the District Magistrates without adducing any reasons; and

(b) if so, whether the Government propose to renew those licences if those licensees now apply for the same?

THE HON. SRI K. BASHYAM:—" (a) & (b) The hon. Member is referred to the answer given to Starred question No. 13.

"In future gun licences will be granted liberally to such of the agriculturists as are in genuine need of such weapons. Persons whose licences were cancelled or refused renewal may apply for the issue of fresh licences and if the licensing authorities are satisfied that these persons are in genuine need of fire-arms, fresh licences will be issued to them."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Is the Government aware, Sir, that most of the rifles and guns that were collected from the licensees have been either destroyed or distributed among the officials themselves at cheap prices?"

THE HON. SRI K. BASHYAM:—"I am not aware of it. I would like to know more details."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Will the Hon. Minister accord, as a matter of privilege for the legislators here, gun licences?" (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"The question of issuing licences is a central subject, and, therefore, I cannot give any guarantee or assurance to Members without further consideration."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—"Are the Government aware that the gun licences of all the M.L.Cs. and M.L.As. who offered individual satyagraha during 1939-40 have been cancelled, and even now they are in a state of disarmament?" (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I think, Sir, they had better remain so. I propose to address myself to the question raised by my hon. Friend which is to be done in consultation with the Central Government. Provincial Government cannot take action independently."

SRI V. I. MUNUSWAMI PILLAI:—"Will Government arrange to return the guns that were seized and surrendered during 1942, Sir?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"The question will be noted, Sir, and action taken."

[3rd September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ Is Government aware that people who offered individual satyagraha in 1939-40 are all wedded to non-violence and as such they do not need guns and rifles at all? ”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“ Very good news indeed. I should like to know all about it.”

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—“ Most of them are wedded to non-violence, but in matters of self-defence and protection of crops, even though they are M.L.As. and satyagrahis, they require guns and rifles.”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“ My hon. Friend is answering the other hon. Friend.”

Committee to go into the question of service conditions of local boards.

* 137 Q.—MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Minister for Local Administration be pleased to state whether the Government propose to appoint a committee of officials and non-officials to go into the question of service conditions of the staff of the local boards?

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ A sub-committee of Cabinet has been appointed to examine the question of the pay, allowances and service conditions of non-gazetted Government officers and other subordinate staff of the Government, and make recommendations to Government. The question of revising the salaries, allowances and service conditions of the employees of municipalities and local bodies, has also been referred to this Committee.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ May I know, Sir, whether it is a fact that the Committee has already announced Rs. 4 for people who draw Rs. 40 and above and Rs. 3 for people who draw below Rs. 40? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ I am not aware of any such announcement.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ Is the Government aware, Sir, that there is such a publication in the press as if Government has announced its decision? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ Neither the Minister for Local Self-Government nor the Government can hold themselves responsible for statements in the press.”

SRI V. I. MUNUSWAMI PILLAI:—“ Will the Hon. Minister for Local Self-Government be pleased to state, Sir, how long will the Committee take to finish its work? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ They will take as much time as is absolutely necessary for discharging their functions. It is hoped that before the beginning of the next month the Committee will be in a position to make some report.”

[3rd September 1946]

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ Can the Hon. Minister predict the issue of his engagement at least after eight months? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ The future is always in the lap of God.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“ Is it a fact, Sir, that the salaries of the menials of the local boards have been increased by 25 per cent? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ Yes, Sir.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“ May I know, Sir, whether the Government is aware that this 25 per cent increase is not at all satisfactory to the menials, and whether the Government propose to increase the salaries further? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ It is a homely Tamil proverb ‘ஆசைக்கொடர் அளவில்லை’.”

SRI A. B SHETTY:—“ May I know, Sir, whether the representation made to the Hon. Minister by the district board employees last month have been considered and whether any orders have been passed on them? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ No orders have yet been passed. The suggestions are under the consideration of Government.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ May I know, Sir, whether it is a fact that dearness allowance that has already been sanctioned has not been paid yet to some local board employees? ”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“ So far as the Government is concerned, directions have already been issued.”

Reasons for reserving twenty per cent of the seats in professional colleges for merit.

* 138 Q.—MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) the reasons that prompted him to reserve twenty per cent of the seats in professional colleges for merit;

(b) whether these reasons existed at the time of the last Congress Ministry also; and

(c) if so, the reasons for deviating from their policy?

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

“ (a), (b) & (c) In the report of the Health Survey and Development Committee of the Government of India, it is recommended that about one-third of the total vacancies in the medical training institutions should be filled by selection of candidates by pure merit only. Pending a final decision on this recommendation it was considered necessary that some percentage of seats in the Engineering Colleges may be reserved to be filled on grounds of merit in order to get the best possible candidates. Orders have been issued that for this year only 20 per cent of the seats may be reserved for candidates selected on grounds of merit. That the previous Congress Government did not do something, is no ground for this Government not doing it."

Salaries of Pandits and Munshis in Secondary Grade Schools.

* 139 Q.—SRI K. BRAHMANANDAM REDDI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state whether the Government proposed to increase the salaries of pandits and munshis in secondary grade schools in this province?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"The hon. Member is referred to the answer given to question No. 109."

Hindustani as a compulsory subject in secondary schools.

* 140 Q.—SRI K. BRAHMANANDAM REDDI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be please to state whether the Government intend to introduce Hindustani as a compulsory subject in all secondary grade schools in this province?

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"The hon. Member is referred to the answer given to question No. 32 at the meeting of the Legislative Assembly held on 2nd August 1946."

ABDUL HAMID KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In view of the fact that the answers are too long, the answers may be printed and supplied so that we may ask supplementary questions to-morrow."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall suggest this. I shall get this cyclostyled and circulated. During the budget discussion on the Medical Demand, hon. Member may say what they want."

ABDUL HAMID KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I submit to the Speaker that questions have a different place of their own?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"If you want to take my suggestion, do so. If you want to postpone, you may do so."

ABDUL HAMID KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"You may take up to-morrow."

MR. SPEAKER:—"140 A and B postponed to to-morrow. In the meantime the answers would be printed and circulated. We will continue our discussion on the demands."

II.—VOTING OF DEMANDS FOR GRANTS FOR 1946-47.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, I was referring to basic education yesterday. In this connexion, I would like to know from the Hon. Minister for Education what this basic education is. Nothing is known to us officially about this. I understand that one of the main features of this so-called basic education is the absence of provision for religious instruction. If religious instruction is to be eschewed from this basic education, I must say that the Muslims abhor it. We cannot think of any education for Muslims without instruction in religion. Basic education or no basic education, I urge upon the Government the urgent necessity for providing religious instruction for the Muslims at any rate in all schools and even in colleges. This is the fundamental basis on which the education of Muslims rests. They cannot conceive of any education without providing for religious instruction and in this connexion I would also request the Government not to pass any scheme of education, whether based on basic education or otherwise, without placing it before this House and getting the approval of this House. Education is a matter of fundamental importance and as such it is very necessary that this House should have an opportunity of discussing the question and giving its views on the subject. In this connexion, I would like to remind the Government that they are in absolute ignorance of the requirements of the Muslims. You cannot have any kind of acquaintance with the demands of Muslims, especially in view of the fact that there is not one member of the whole Muslim community in this province on the side of the Government, and we had no part or lot in the selection of members of the Government. So you have no knowledge of the requirements of the Muslim community. It is on this account that my hon. Friend on this side moved yesterday for providing a board of education so far as the Muslims are concerned comprising some members of the Legislature and prominent Muslim educationists so that they will give their views so far as the requirements in the matter of education are concerned. It is a matter of very great importance, and I heartily endorse the views expressed by my hon. Friend.

"I would like to mention another matter. It has been the tradition for some decades that one of the Deputy Directors of Public Instruction should be a Muslim. This practice has been followed so far. I understand that the present incumbent of the office, a Muslim Deputy Director, is about to retire. I would urge upon the Government not to deviate from this policy but to see that a proper Muslim is appointed to that post so that it may inspire confidence in the Muslims and also he may be able to communicate to Government the requirements of the Muslims.

"Now, Sir, I will refer to two other points of general importance and resume my seat. One of them is the question of regional language to which reference was made by many of the speakers. I would only make this observation that it has to be admitted by the Hon. Education Minister that he has issued a hasty order and a thoughtless order. He has not bestowed any previous consideration on the subject. If he has bestowed previous consideration on the subject, I am sure, he would not have issued that order. Also I do believe that if he had consulted all the members of the Cabinet before he issued that order, I am absolutely certain that he would not have issued it. I would appeal to the Hon. Premier to advise his colleagues that, before such orders of vital importance affecting the interests of various communities are issued, the matter should be placed before the whole Cabinet, and that no order should be issued before getting the approval of the entire Cabinet. I would like to mention that by this order hundreds and thousands of children have been prejudicially affected in the matter of education and you know that it is the children who are the future citizens and who are to be backbone of this country.

"Now, Sir, only one word more as regards this 20 per cent reservation of seats. I will only say that it is unbecoming of any impartial Government to have issued such an order. I say it is self-evident that it is an order which was issued to give effect to the partiality that the Government intended to show to one particular section of the Hindu community. Such an order ought not to be issued by any Government which has a sense of fairness and impartiality."

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, the expected questionnaire on the reorganization of education in the Province to be issued by the Ministry of Education has not yet been placed in our hands. I do not know whether the questionnaire will be issued at all. Whether it is issued or not, we are concerned with the vital problem of education. With regard to the special needs of the Muslims, the previous speakers of my party stated, and my hon. Friend Mr. Pocker very vehemently stated, our case (An hon. Member: 'very rightly.') and I am told by one of my hon. Friends on this side that he has stated it very rightly. I am glad to know that my hon. Friend Mr. Pocker has spoken rightly and we all associate ourselves with all that he has said. Then, Sir, the need for the formation of a special board for Muslim education has been reiterated by the members of my party on the floor of this House. I only take this opportunity for emphasizing that need.

"I would also suggest in this connexion that a Muslim may always be continued as Deputy Director of Public Instruction to be in special charge of Muslim education in addition to his other duties. As was suggested by one of the hon. Members of my party yesterday, it would be better if the Government find their way to appoint a Director of Muslim Education. But if that is not possible, I suggest the other alternative of always continuing a Muslim as Deputy Director of Public Instruction to be in special charge of Muslim education in this province.

"Now, Sir, coming to the question of expansion and reorganization of education, we have first of all to see that any scheme devised by this Government should reach the masses. Mass education and mass literacy should be the end in view. In this connection, I would like to suggest that spread of education in rural areas should be managed with forethought and, I must say, with skill, because the problem of spreading education among our people is a most important one. We know that the majority of our people are living in the rural parts of the country. Therefore, Sir, I would suggest that for a rural unit, say with a population of 15,000 we must have at least 15 primary schools, that is to say at the rate of one school for every one hundred children of school-going age. That should be the primary concern of the Government in any scheme that they are going to prepare for reorganizing the educational system in this Province. For this rural unit of 15,000 population, there should be a high school. If the whole province is divided into rural units and provided with educational institutions, I am sure in the course of ten years we can have mass education throughout the Province, and illiteracy will disappear. That is a suggestion that I want to make on this occasion.

"So far as Muslim education is concerned—and for the matter of that, the education of every other section of the people—attention should be paid to the special requirements of each section of the people. With regard to the question of medium of instruction, I would like to say that the Government have begun at the wrong end. Perhaps the Minister for Education in his enthusiasm, eagerness, or anxiety to achieve quick results, rather suddenly introduced the medium of instruction as being the regional language of the Province. It has not only dislocated and upset the system of education but has, in my opinion, done great harm to our students. I am sure this sudden introduction of the medium of instruction at this stage will in the long run destroy a whole generation of students. What is going to happen to the students when they go up for the University course where they have to study scientific subjects? Have you got the books translated into the regional languages? Can you do that? Unless you start a translation bureau and see that all books on scientific subjects are translated into the regional language, how are you going to help the students to prosecute higher studies? What about foreign studies? How are you going to equip the students for foreign studies by simply asking them to study something through medium of their regional language? I do not see how it will be practicable at all. Therefore, I say that the Government have begun at the wrong end. They could wait. There is time enough for the re-organization of the educational system of this Province. They can make provision for all these. Therefore, I urge that they should at once stop this muddle of what is called medium of instruction. Medium of instruction can wait. We must be prepared for many more things.

"Then, Sir, we want more colleges. That need has been emphasized by the numerous applications for admission in the several colleges but refused for want of accommodation. Therefore in any scheme that you are going to devise, increase the number of colleges. As I said, for a rural unit of 15,000 population you must have a high school and for every ten such high schools, you must have a college. These colleges must be located at convenient centres easily accessible to the students. We know that on the West Coast there are very few colleges. We know that one-third of the total Muslim population is concentrated in the West Coast in Malabar and South Kanara. We have got the Government Muhammadan College only in the city of Madras, and the Muslim students from the West Coast have to travel a distance of five hundred miles to seek admission in a college of their own. Therefore, I urge that another Muhammadan college should be started in Malabar for the benefit of the Muslim population there. That is a dire need, a need that needs no emphasis. It speaks for itself. Therefore, I strongly urge that the Government should make provision for starting a Muhammadan college in Malabar for the benefit of one-third of the Muslim population of this Province. In the same way, I would also put in a plea on behalf of the Scheduled Caste friends. I do not think their education received much attention at the hands of any Government so far. If the popular Ministry thinks that the Harijans are part and parcel of their party, I think they are sadly mistaken. There are some among the Harijans who feel that an injustice has been done to them especially in the matter of education. Therefore it is up to the popular Ministry to show in acts and deeds if they are really sincere in their professions that they want to uplift the Harijans. Provision of one crore of rupees is not of great importance, but only the translation of the pious wishes into action is of real importance. As was stated here the other day, a Harijan college has been started in Bombay. Why should it not be possible for this Government to start a similar college for the benefit of the Scheduled Castes? Therefore, I would strongly urge that the special needs of not only the Muslims but also of the Harijans or the Scheduled Castes should also be met by the Government, and I hope that before the end of the next official year, this demand of the Muslims and the Scheduled Castes will be met. So far as professional colleges are concerned, we know that this Government, when they took up the reins of office, started one or two engineering colleges and medical colleges here and there. But what about the West Coast? There should be at least one medical college and also one engineering college in the West Coast. That is really necessary and I urge that the Government will include in their programme for the coming year the establishment of these professional colleges on the West Coast. With these words, I support the cut motion."

MUHAMMAD RAFEEUDIN AHMAD ANSARI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I wish to join in the appeal made by my hon. Friend Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig with regard to the educational policy of this Government. Sir, I do not know whether the Government is really unaware of the apprehensions in the minds of the Muslims in general and Andhra Muslims in particular. Sir, in respect of the professions made by this Government, especially the Hon. the Prime Minister, to the effect that he is going to safeguard the interests of the Muslims also, there is no evidence of those professions being translated into action. Even in the short period in which this Government has been functioning there have been many instances in which this Government have acted to the detriment of the Muslims. To be relevant to the demand before the House this question of the medium of instruction is an instance to show that this Government is unscrupulous with regard to the interests of the Muslims. Sir, before I speak about the apprehensions of the Muslims, let me say a word with regard to anxiety caused not only amongst the minds of the

[Muhammad Rafeeuddin Ahmad Ansari Sahib Bahadur]

Muslims but also the rest of the population. It is a retrograde step in the educational life of the country. They feel that the step is one which will promote disunity between one part of the country and the other. Common language is the one thing that binds the population of this Province with the population of the other parts of the country. When you take away the medium of communication between South India and North India is it not a step towards disunity in the country? After all there is nothing wrong about the language if the language serves a useful purpose. You may take away other vestiges of British rule. You may not teach British History or the other aspects of English civilization. However, what is the harm in retaining the English language? But if you want to do away with that vestige of the British Government also then introduce the language which can claim to be the lingua franca of India. That language is the Urdu language. Before the British Government came here the lingua franca was not Hindustani but it was Urdu. (Voices of 'No' and 'Question'.) The Hindustani and Urdu controversy is only a political controversy. If my friends will dispassionately examine the whole question they will come to the conclusion that the language which was spoken throughout the length and breadth of the country except perhaps in South India was Urdu. Urdu was not the language of the Muslim community. It is the language of the Indians. It was the common language of the Hindus and Mussalmans. It was a language born out of a comingling of Hindi Bhasha and Persian and Arabic. If there is a language that can be claimed as the language of the people it is Urdu. If you do not want English then normally and logically people will have to introduce Urdu as the medium of instruction. In this regard, Sir, I do not know if the Ministry is ignorant of the fact or pretends to be so that the mother-tongue of the Andhra Muslims is Urdu and not the regional language Telugu. In this respect Mr. Ali Baig has rightly pointed out the fact to the notice of the Government that the Andhra Muslims have Urdu as their mother-tongue and that they will stand any test made by the Government to find out what their mother-tongue really is and the Ministry will be only playing with fire if they were to pay no heed to the cry of the Andhra Muslims and go along with their policy which is detrimental to the interests of the Government. Before I conclude I would invite the attention of the Government to the question of the Muslim High School in Nellore. Nellore and perhaps Chittoor are the only two districts which do not have Muslim schools. I am corrected by my hon. Friends that there are other districts also which do not have Muslim High Schools. If that were so it is high time that Government open high schools in other districts also. In Nellore for a long time there has been an agitation for a Muslim High School. There is a Muslim middle school in existence which is run by the municipality but whose expenditure is met by Government. The pupils who pass out of these Muslim schools find great difficulty when they find that the medium of instruction is English. The difficulty will be felt all the more when Telugu is made the medium. Therefore, what is going to happen to the boys who are going to pass out of the various elementary Muhammadan middle schools in the district?

[Muhammad Rafeeuddin Ahmad Ansari Sahib Bahadur]

"Sir, the Hon. the Minister for Education sometime ago told us that if he is assured that a sufficient number of Muslims have their mother-tongue as Urdu and that if there is a reasonable necessity for making separate provision for their instruction, he would not hesitate to do so. I should like to state, Sir, that Nellore is a place where 99 per cent of the Muslim population have Urdu as their mother-tongue and not Telugu. Therefore, Sir, if the Hon. the Minister is going to translate his professions into action, he should open a high school for Muslim boys at Nellore.

"Sir, I should like to draw the attention of the Hon. the Minister to a statement of Mr. Gandhi which is published in to-day's papers in which he says that, no doubt the Muslims are having genuine fears with regard to their interests; but if the Congress is sincere, if they want to pursue the path of truth and non-violence, let them do so by concrete action and not by merely expressing words of sympathy, as they have been doing so long."

*MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not propose to take much of the time of the House, as most of the important points have already been covered by members of my party, except to draw the attention of the House to one or two points. Sir, unfortunately the tendency among the members of the Congress Party who are occupying the Treasury Benches, is that they feel, of course strongly, that they are experts on every subject with the result that we find that the Hon. Minister for Education, as soon as he assumed office, thinking that he is a great expert on education, began making experiment after experiment, not knowing where it will lead to. Sir, it is really a wrong policy. The other day suggestions were made that the Hon. the Speaker should go to England; but I would rather wish that the Hon. the Minister for Education goes to England for higher education (Laughter) so that we may have the benefit of his experience. But, however, I am glad to see that there is a change of attitude in him, that after having received good attacks from the members of my party, he has kept himself silent and from to-day, he, I am sure, will become a very good, young and sporting boy that he looks. (Loud laughter.)

"Sir, our Deputy Leader, the hon. Mr. Pocker Sahib very rightly brought this point to the notice of this House. Mr. Speaker, Sir, as matters stand, we, the members of the Muslim League Party, or for the matter of that, we the representatives of the Muslims in this Province, have no share in the administration and governance of this Province. We are not sorry for it. But, on the other hand, we feel happy to sit on the Opposition benches. We feel, Sir, and the Members of the Opposition feel rightly, that we are here not only to serve the interests of the Muslims, but also to serve the interests of all people in this Province. We are here to point out the wrongs that the Government might commit and to see that they follow the right path. Therefore, Sir, particularly in the matter of Muslim education which is so important to us, I feel that it is our right that we should be consulted, and our leaders should be consulted before changes are made. But on the other hand, the Hon. the Minister for Education is going on passing executive orders as he pleases. As I have said before, this policy should change and the Muslim leaders should be consulted in the matter of Muslim education and that the past chapter should be closed and a new chapter of consultation should begin.

[3rd September 1946] [Muhammad Raza Khan Sahib Bahadur]

"Sir, I do not like to touch upon the question of regional language or the question of admission of boys to colleges on merit, there are however one or two points about which I should like to say before I finish my speech.

"My hon. Friend Mr. Ahmad Ansari, representing Nellore has brought to the notice of the House the condition of Muslim education in the Andhra districts, and he rightly stressed the need for establishing separate high schools for Muslims in Nellore, Chittoor and other districts. The question is asked as to why there should be separate schools for Muslims. As I have already pointed out in the general debate on the budget, the panchayat boards and the district boards do not take any interest in the education of the Muslim boys, and the result is that the Muslim boys do not make adequate progress in their education in these district board schools, and my information is that for certain classes there are no teachers at all. Therefore, Sir, our experience has shown that it is highly necessary to have separate schools for Muslims. I therefore request the Hon. the Minister for Education to go into the matter and see that separate schools are opened for Muslims in these districts.

"In this connection, I wish to bring to the notice of the Hon. the Minister for Education, the necessity for opening a school for the Muslim boys in Choolai in the City of Madras. As hon. Members are aware, Choolai is a very congested area and there are a number of poor Muslim boys in that locality. They do not have any school for them in that part of the City and they have to walk about five or six miles to reach any Muslim school and it is very expensive for the students to go in buses and it also takes a long time to go to those schools. I therefore request the Hon. the Minister for Education to consider this question and see that a separate high school is opened for Muslim students in the Choolai area.

"The next point I should like to refer to, is the medical inspection of boys in schools. It is stated that as there were not requisite number of doctors, this was not attended to. Now that the war is over, it is time that the Hon. Minister for Education goes into the matter and see that the medical examination of boys is attended to. It is no use simply having it in high schools and not in elementary schools. Of course, I am not an expert in medicine, or an educationist, and therefore I cannot speak with authority on this subject, but from what I have learnt from my enquiries is that sufficient attention is not bestowed on the medical inspection of the boys. I am sure that the Hon. the Minister will bestow some thought on this matter also.

"Then, Sir, with regard to teachers, I do not like to say much. Justice demands that we must increase their salaries and see that they get a square deal, because they are the people who build up the education and character of the future generation of the country and they are entrusted with a very responsible and a very sacred duty. The return which they get is a paltry sum of Rs. 15, 16 or 17 and I am told that teachers placed in such a position do not do full justice to their class work, and they often go about for other work after school hours so that they may increase their income. I therefore request the Hon. the Minister for Education to go into this question and see that justice is done to them. I hope that the Cabinet Committee which is examining these questions, will also consider this particular question of the salaries of the teachers.

"With these words, I resume my seat."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in supporting the cut motion, I speak for the unfortunate people, the toiling masses, whose numbers are increasing every day and from that view-point, I should like to examine the present demand. Sir, I do not find any provision made in the budget for the education of the working classes. Most of these workers toil throughout the day and they have very little time to get educated. I would request the Hon. the Minister for Education to give special attention to the education of the working classes, so that they may be enabled to study during nights after they return from their work and in their spare hours during intervals.

"Now, coming to the question of merit, which has been debated for such a long time, I should like to express my view-point on that point also. As a matter of fact, I do not find any inconvenience or loss suffered by the Muslim community or the Muslim League Party due to the introduction of merit for admission to the educational and professional institutions. But they are raising this issue in season and out of season, to make a political capital out of it. In my view, the problem can be solved only by extending educational facilities by increasing the number of seats in the professional colleges, particularly the Engineering and Medical colleges. Even during the debate on the Irrigation Demand, I remember the Hon. the Minister for Public Works saying that there is a greater demand for engineers and that he is prepared to take up all engineers that are produced by the Universities. Our country to-day needs a great number of engineers and doctors, due to its backwardness.

"Now, I should like to take up the question of grants to the Universities which is really an important item, particularly for Andhras. In this connection, I would request hon. Members of the House not to attribute motives and I do not want to rouse any racial feelings. The fact is, that all the parts of this Province are not evenly developed. Particularly, the Andhra districts are backward both in education and industries. Here, let me bring to the notice of the House that the grant given to the Andhra University is only Rs. 5½ lakhs, whereas the Annamalai University is given Rs. 10½ lakhs and the Madras University Rs. 8½ lakhs. My request in this respect is that the Andhra University should also be given a larger grant, so that education in the Andhra districts may be raised to a higher level.

"Again, Sir, in the matter of giving grants to colleges, I find there is some disparity. In the Madras City, the Loyola College is given a grant of Rs. 2 lakhs. As a matter of fact, it is one of the richest colleges in this country. I cannot understand why Rs. 2 lakhs are given to this college, while there are no colleges in some of the districts, particularly Ramnad and Rayalseema.

"Then Sir, there appears to be also some discrimination between Government and Municipal institutions in the matter of grants. It seems that the Ellore Municipal College applied for a grant from the Government and that it was not granted, because there is a Government Order prohibiting grants to municipal colleges. Sir, the college is called the Municipal College only in name, but it was raised by public funds and the Municipality simply runs the institution. I request the Hon. the Minister for Education to waive the objection raised by the Government Order and see that a grant is given to the Ellore Municipal College.

"Then Sir, we find that preferential treatment is given to European schools in the matter of grants. I cannot understand why it should be so. The European high schools are given Rs. 12 lakhs, whereas the rest are given Rs. 27 lakhs. The number of students studying in the European schools is far less than those in other schools and I do not know why the Hon. the Minister for Education has given such a preferential treatment to the European schools. As a matter of fact, the Europeans are more educated than the rest of the population and I request the Hon. Minister to do away with this differential treatment and see that every institution is treated on an equal footing.

"Then, Sir, I want to speak on the question of the preferential treatment given to European schools. I cannot find any excuse for this preferential treatment. European schools have been given about 12 lakhs of rupees for boys who number about 1,300 in all. I do not know why so much money is given by the State for the education of so few students. As a matter of fact the European school boys do not stand in need of any encouragement. They are more educated when compared with the rest of the population. I request the Hon. Minister to do away with this preferential treatment and to treat everybody living in the Presidency on an equal footing.

"As regards the question of the regional languages, there is so much controversy raging around it. Our Muslim friends here claim that Urdu is their mother-tongue. I do not want to go into that question whether their claim is right or wrong. There is their demand and I know that most of the Muslims talk Urdu

[Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu] [3rd September 1946]

in their homes. Therefore provision must be made to give instruction to them in Urdu. Another thing is that the introduction of this system of regional language is likely to cause difficulty to one set of persons. Students coming from regions where the language is different will find themselves in a very disadvantageous position. Their interest also must be taken into consideration and facilities provided for them to study in their own regional language.

"As regards the organization for the selection of text-books, I find that there is only one S.S.L.C. Board for the whole of the Madras Presidency. There is a demand for a separate Board for the Andhradesa and this should be met. Again, in prescribing the text-books, we find that the concerned Board has chosen most of the books which begin with 'God Save the King'. I do not know why they should select such books as text-books. I should say that they should have any other thing than that. I request the Hon. Minister at least from next year onwards to see that 'God Save the King' is removed from the text-books and National songs inserted in its place."

* N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of order, Sir. The Communist Member has been saying that 'God Save the King' should be removed from the text-books. Is he objecting to God or the King?" (Laughter.)

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"What I say is that I object to both. (Renewed laughter.) Another comment I wish to make about these text-books is that, though the schools opened three months ago, the text-books have not been made available to students in many schools. I request the Hon. Minister either to make the text-books available to the students immediately or reduce the portions of these text-books for the boys who have not yet got the books."

"Regarding the provision for hostels, there is a great demand. On account of the absence of suitable hostel accommodation the students are resorting to choultries which are centres of trade and traders are making great profits. I request the Government to take over these choultries and convert them into hostels for students. The Law College students are complaining bitterly that the hostel promised to them has not yet been started. The Law College is a unique institution and therefore immediate steps should be taken for the construction of a hostel for the students thereof."

"I now come to the subject of religious instruction in schools and colleges. Of course nobody can object to religious education and if anybody ventures to raise any objection he will be called a communist. But why should this teaching be given in schools? As Sri C. Rajagopalachari, when he was Prime Minister, has stated, the home is the best place for imparting religious education. Circumstanced as we are, I do feel that home is the proper place for religious education to the youths. All the quarrels in our midst will disappear if we agree to give religious education to our children in our homes and not ask for religious education in the schools. I earnestly appeal to all parties to desist from this demand and request that no religious instruction be given in our schools and colleges. Let there be at least no compulsion in this matter, Sir. There are students among both Hindus and Muslims who do not like this religious instructions. (Voices: 'Question'.) I can adduce evidence in support of what I say." (N. Md. Anwar Sahib: 'God save the Muslims at any rate from the Communists!')

* MR. SPEAKER:—"If the hon. Members go on interrupting Mr. Venkateswarlu, he will ask for more time." (Laughter.)

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Yes, Sir, one more minute on account of these interruptions, please."

"The next point I want to dwell upon relates to the salaries of teachers. There is a great agitation going on among the schoolmasters for higher pay. If their cry is not heeded to, they might resort to strike and then, as usual, the Communists would be blamed for that as well. I request the Hon. Minister to take the matter into consideration before that happens. Token sums of Rs. 2 and Rs. 3 cannot solve their problem. The Budget should provide for much higher pay to the teachers. There is no use shouting at us, the Communists, saying that we are responsible for this and that. The only problem to-day is that living wage should be guaranteed to each and every one in the country and the right to live assured."

"Then, Sir, the salaries paid to teachers in schools under committee management are very low. I have got experience of a school in Tenali where the salary paid is very low and even this salary is paid at irregular intervals. Even double M.As. are paid only Rs. 40 or Rs. 45 with the result the trained and experienced teachers leave the school at the earliest opportunity. If this state of affairs is not to continue, the Hon. Minister must see that the salaries are raised to decent levels. Our children should not suffer for lack of experienced teachers. So, both in the interests of the teachers and the taught, the salaries of teachers should be considerably raised."

"Sir, if the Hon. Minister is not here, what is the good of my criticisms under this Demand?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Hon. Minister is in his seat."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I want the Hon. Minister to see that the committee-managed schools are properly managed. With these few words I support the cut motion."

* SRI A. S. SAHAJANANDA:—"கனம் தலைவரவர்களே, இப்பொழுது நமது தாய் பாஷையைத் தேச பாஷையாகச் செய்திருப்பதானது தமிழ் நாட்டுக்குச் சிறப்பு உண்டாக்கியிருக்கிறது. அதிலும் கல்வி இலாக்கா அமைச்சர் உலகம் போற்றும் உத்தம நூலாகிய திருக்குறளை எல்லாப் பாடசாலைகளிலும், கல்லூரிகளிலும் பாடம் வைக்கவேண்டுமென்றும், திருவள்ளூர் திருநாளைக் கொண்டாடவேண்டுமென்றும் உத்தரவு போட்டதற்கு அவர்களுக்கு வந்தனம் செலுத்துகிறேன்."

* SRI P. NATESAN:—“Mr. Speaker, hon. Members have all been talking about education and their demands seem to be that more and more colleges should be opened in this Presidency. As it is, I think, our universities are turning out thousands of graduates, both boys and girls, and I do not know what these people are doing or are going to do. Are they going to be clerks? The other day the Hon. Premier said, ‘that all the trouble about the communal Government Order is due to the fact that more and more people ask for Government jobs.’ Sir, the education given to-day is only intended to fit them for clerical work. (Interruption.) Even there I disagree, because I know of hundreds of girls who come out of the Queen Mary’s College have to wait for husbands, because they want M.A. and B.A. husbands. I say, Sir, that this education is absolutely misplaced. There is no need for collegiate education except for a certain type of people. What is wanted in this country is more of skilled and unskilled workers. Immediately the boys leave the school final class they should be taken on to what we call the polytechnic schools. I am glad to note that the Government of Madras have arranged for the opening of four polytechnic schools. So far so good. But I would like more polytechnics to be established. Sir, such of those boys who are going to be artisans in the future—I am talking of the working class people, such as the man who is a carpenter by profession—must be given free compulsory primary education. The Government’s policy is to have primary education compulsory. Right. But after they get the primary education, every boy must follow the avocation of his father, the carpenter will go to carpentry, the blacksmith’s son will become a blacksmith and so on. Sir, there are industries which need these men. (An hon. Member: ‘Without any change in his profession.’) Yes. The carpenter will not only be a mere carpenter, but he will be an engineering carpenter and will know the technique of carpentry. An Engineer cannot do what a labourer can do with his hands. The engineer may have the skill and the knowledge gained from university education, he may know the technique and he will put the artisan in his way. Therefore my hon. Friend Mr. Baig is making a mistake in thinking that I want a carpenter to be a carpenter all the time. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib: ‘He is against the caste system.’) I am not suggesting any caste divisions, but this is division of labour. The artisan course must start with the elementary school boys. They form the backbone of every industry. I want our boys to be trained, just as we sent a lot of Bevin boys to England for workshop training. Look at the industrial countries like Germany and America. These artisans who are skilled workers form an important limb of industrial activity. Training of these boys is the first thing that we should do. Such of those boys who can afford to go in for secondary education, will take to the polytechnic where I would like them to be given education in shorthand, typewriting, the lower grade lessons in mechanical engineering and electrical engineering, etc. The student with a university degree takes higher engineering education. Sir, this is how we will have to divide the education of our boys. The artisan course must embrace every conceivable industrial activity, such as spinning, weaving, dyeing, carpentry, smithy, etc. It is not necessary to have all the course of training in one single institution. The polytechnics must be so spread in the province that it will be useful for the boys in particular localities. Taking a place like Coimbatore where there is a lot of textile mills, the polytechnic may make the textile industry as the important subject of education there; and in a district like South Arcot where there is good production of groundnut, you may teach something which will be useful for that trade. That is the policy on which you must proceed in the case of these boys.

“Sir, the collegiate education of to-day does not serve any useful purpose. What is the object of education? One must get happiness. You do not want misery. You want to live a comfortable life. That is the ambition. What is the use of being graduates and then hanging on for jobs for years and years. This is a vicious circle. The graduate boys say that they do not know what they do. We ask them ‘Why did you take to the Arts course? Why didn’t you take to some other sideline.’ They say, ‘My father had no idea of it.’ The parents of the boys proceed without any definite idea after their boys pass the school final. Parents must make up their minds before they send their boys to school as to what they are going to do. Otherwise you will always have the trouble of having these B.As. and B.Ls. competing for Government jobs and this communal question will always be there. Everybody will ask for a job, and the Hon. Premier will have to find job for every man with a double degree or a single degree in accordance with communal Government Order. I have known cases in the Madras High Court where people with double degrees, i.e., B.A., B.Ls., hanging on for jobs on Rs. 30. I am speaking of some cases in the year 1926; when we ask them why they take up jobs on Rs. 30 they say that there is the ultimate chance of their becoming Bench Clerks or District Munsifs. That is all their ambition. Is it for this purpose that you are going to spend money particularly at a time when you are talking of basic languages, and a National Government. What is the idea of spending more and more money upon collegiate education now? You stop for a minute. Wait a year or two and see what the Central Government which is now being manned by Indians is going to do and then come up with your policy. Sir, I want people to learn the art of living, because it is an art by itself. It is no good being fed up. Take for instance my hon. European friends. How many of them have had collegiate education? Are they not a success here? The real truth is that they try to apply their brains and try to learn their work. A European comes over to India and runs the show here on behalf of the European principal in London. Do you think one of our countrymen can go to London and carry on a business on behalf of one here? (Interruption.) I want my countrymen to emulate their example. We must understand what life is. We must try to adapt ourselves."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Hon. Members need not interrupt."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Why should we not emulate our European friends and make life a success?"

"Why should everybody ask for a Government job? Why should everybody try to become a graduate? What earthly use is it to become a graduate unless it be that one wants to go in for research in some field or higher branches of engineering and so on? I think, Sir, that something should be done to prevent these people from trying to become graduates. I want the Hon. Minister for Education or the Cabinet to look to this matter. How many graduates are we turning out year after year? Can we provide jobs for all these people?"

"There is another thing which I want to bring to the notice of the Hon. Minister for Education, and that is with regard to the admission in the colleges in Madras of the boys who have passed their School Final Examination. What do these students do after passing their examination? They register their names in various colleges. Why? Because, otherwise they are afraid they may not get a seat in any one of them. When a student gets 280 or 290 marks in the S.S.L.C. examination he is supposed to be fit to sit in the Intermediate class. But the various colleges have their own standards for admission of these students. The Loyola College for instance would admit only students who have got 350 or 400 marks and the Vivekananda College would admit only students who have 400 marks. What are these institutions for if they are going to confine their admission to boys with merit only? I think, Sir, that even boys who have got the minimum number of marks required for passing the examination should be admitted into these colleges. On the other hand, these colleges pick the best type of boys who have got 400 marks and so on. Then, the Loyola College, for instance, says that 90 per cent of their students have got through the Intermediate Examination! I say, Sir, that is no credit to their staff. I told the Principal so when I happened to go and see him on behalf of a Brahman boy who had got only 290 marks. Now what is that boy going to do? If you think that that boy is no good, don't give him a pass mark, don't say he is eligible for college education. Once he is declared to be eligible for college education, don't say further that he should get 400 marks, otherwise he would not be admitted into this college or that college. It all depends on the Principals of these Colleges and they should be made to take all these boys. But they would turn round and say, 'Where shall we go for accommodation? Our accommodation is limited.' If the accommodation is limited I ask why do you produce so many graduates year after year? Stop the production of graduates."

"Sir, there is one more point on which I want to say a few words, because I have given notice of a cut motion to raise this question. I refer to the aided and privately managed institutions. Sir, it is a most scandalous thing that goes on in some privately managed schools. I know there are schools and schools and some of them are hopelessly mismanaged. If anybody in charge of Education visits the school, the manager or the correspondent takes him round, makes him write something in the report book, and puts a garland round his neck and the Education Minister or whoever it is who is in charge of Education forgets all about that institution. Sir, I know that in some of these institutions, gross mismanagement takes place. If there are women teachers, the poor women teachers are made to work very hard. They are made to collect funds for some benefit show of the institution, because the private management is not able to run the institution without the aid of somebody else's charity. They put up some drama and make the women teachers go about and sell tickets. I have had occasion to come across some of these women teachers going about collecting funds. I don't want to call them by any bad name, for I have myself given donations. I have asked sometimes: what about the donations collected last year, and I have been told that last year the donations were collected for some purpose and this year they are collected for a different purpose. Sometimes the manager or the correspondent tells the teacher, 'You are responsible for Rs. 50 worth of tickets.' I ask, Sir, where is she to go and sell the tickets? It is just like the War Fund collections, Sir. I am not exaggerating. It is a fact. So much about the private managed institutions. Then what about the salaries of these teachers? They are not paid cent per cent. If the teacher is to get a salary of Rs. 30, he is made to sign a receipt for Rs. 30 but is actually given only Rs. 20. You may turn round and ask: Is not the teacher an educated man and why should he give a receipt for Rs. 30? But the poor man has to make a living and he has to sign a receipt for Rs. 30 while actually getting only Rs. 20."

"Then about dearness allowance. A number of these small institutions do not pay dearness allowance. To whom are they to make a complaint? And how is the Education Minister going to be satisfied? He may say: 'You bring all sorts of things on the floor of the House; will you take me to some place and show me?' I say, Yes, but the Education Minister should not put too many questions to the poor teachers because their livelihood depends upon the managers. In these circumstances what can he or she do?"

"Let us leave alone the question of pay and dearness allowance. Take the question of supplies to these institutions. These institutions buy furniture for Rs. 100 but take a receipt for Rs. 200. The Government make a grant of 50 per cent or 100 per cent of this expenditure. There is no question, Sir, that there is such a great waste of public funds in aiding these small private managed institutions. You are thinking of nationalizing the bus transport business and electricity. Why not think of nationalizing these institutions? Why not the Government or the Corporation and the various municipalities take up these institutions? What I want to know is whether there is a need for these small private managed institutions. I am not an expert in this matter, but if there is a need, let the Hon. Minister for Education have an eye on them and see who is who, because there are good people also. Invariably, the correspondents of these schools start as managers and make money out of them. Sir, now that we have got a popular Ministry, I only want that whatever proposals they bring forward in this department must be thorough to ensure complete success."

M. S. ABDUL MAJEED SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir . . ."

* Mrs. C. AMMANNA RAJA:—"On a point or order, Mr. Speaker. May I suggest that one Member from each side be called?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I must first call those who have given notice of cut motions."

* Mrs. C. AMMANNA RAJA:—"Cannot any mutual arrangement be come to, instead of . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"First of all I will call those who have given notice of cut motions."

* Mrs. C. AMMANNA RAJA:—"Instead of calling people on this side at the fag end of the day and giving them two or three minutes, is it not better that you follow the previous practice?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The practice was that I should call first those who gave cut motions before I give opportunities to those who have not given cut motions."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I suggest, Sir, that you may at least give chances to lady Members?" (Laughter.)

SRI T. S. PATTABHIRAMAN:—"Members of the Congress Party cannot ordinarily give notice of cut motions."

* M. S. ABDUL MAJEED SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, hon. Members who have spoken on this demand from this side of the House have given expression of their deep and profound feelings with regard to the question of merit and regional language. Sir, I do not propose on this occasion to expatiate on those expressions but only to make an earnest appeal, particularly to the young and enthusiastic heart of the Hon. Minister for Education to deeply and profoundly consider those expressions, because we feel strongly—when I say we, I mean all the Muslims of this Province, because the Hon. Minister for Education knows that all the hon. Muslim members here are the representatives of the Muslims of this Province—and therefore when they give expression to their feelings they are giving expression to the feelings of the whole of the Muslims of this Province. Therefore, Sir, I make the appeal to him earnestly and plead that he gives his deepest and most earnest consideration to the points raised with regard to the questions of merit and regional language."

[3rd September 1946] [M. S. Abdul Majeed Sahib Bahadur]

"Another important point which I would like to bring to the notice of the Hon. Minister for Education and also to the notice of the hon. Members of this Assembly is this. I went through the figures of the Administration Report of 1944-45 and I find that only seven per cent of the population is literate. That is, nearly 93 persons out of every hundred are ignorant. Therefore, it has become the duty and responsibility of the Hon. Minister for Education to see that this stupendous illiteracy is liquidated as early as possible. As soon as the Reforms came in England leaders of the community and the leaders of the nation went about the country saying that their masters should be educated. Their slogans were 'Close your jails and open a school' and 'Educate your masters.' As long as you keep vast masses of the people in illiteracy I tell you, whatever reforms you may introduce, whatever good you may do to these people, they will all be a mere waste. Sir, you are aware that in this country, particularly in this Province, the poorest and the lowliest have not been given the opportunities of education. Even elementary education they have not been given. Sir, there are gems, there are flowers in this country. I want to bring to the notice of the House the famous lines of Thomas Grey where he says:

'Full many a gem purest ray serene
The dark unfathomed caves of the ocean bear:
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness in the desert air.'

"Sir, there are gems in this ocean of illiteracy, there are flowers blooming, flowers in the depth of the forests of illiteracy and it must become the duty of the Education Minister to see that illiteracy is liquidated as early as possible, that he brings light and happiness to these people who are living in utter Egyptian darkness."

"Another point I would like to bring to the notice of the House is this. Opinions have been expressed in this House that the present educational system is wrong and that it must be entirely changed and that a new orientation must be given to the policy and the methods of education. As far as I am concerned I am not here to condemn outright the educational system. Sir, I may point out that the Hon. Premier, the Hon. Minister for Education and all the hon. Gentlemen in this House are the products of the present educational system; it is the educational system which has brought forth a Tilak, a Gokhale, a Jawahar or a Jinnah and I think there is nothing wrong with the educational system. It may have shortcomings. It may have weaknesses. It may have certain drawbacks! And it is up to the Education Minister to find out those shortcomings and rectify them."

"I want to tell the Hon. Minister for Education not to create an educational system resting on the political philosophy of a particular party. Sir, it was tried once upon a time by a man named Hitler. He tried to change and reshape the policy of his country on the cult of 'Nazism.' His educational policy strutted across the stage of history and proclaimed to the world the supremacy of brute force, the supremacy of low cunning over reason and it had tried to suppress freedom, it had tried to suppress individuals, who were tolerated only to the extent they supported the leaders in their lust for unlimited power, it had tried to break down established religion as an expression of a despised civilization. Sir, it had tried to use the genius of an enslaved nation for the propagation of its own cult, in order that it may gain its end, namely, the rule of Satan over the children of God. Therefore, in the name of humanity, in the name of the souls of this country and this Province, I must make this particular appeal to the Hon. Premier—I make an appeal to the Hon. Premier because, his heart I know, if I may use a Shakesperian expression, is full of the milk of human kindness—to see that the educational policy is not based upon any political philosophy of any party. Sir, as you know, this country, nay, this sub-continent, contains peoples of different ideals and different ideologies and different cultures and therefore it is the duty and the responsibility of the Ministry to see that they create an educational policy which suits every one occupying this vast Presidency. With this appeal, Sir, I support the cut motion."

p.m.

* SRI W. S. SRINIVASA RAO:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to make a few suggestions in regard to the Education department. The whole system of education that is existing at present in our Province is rotten to the core. It was planned by the previous alien Government to rule over us and to manufacture clerks and their obedient servants who are only slaves. Now the time has changed; the whole Indian Government is changing; to-day we have got popular Governments throughout the country. (Voices: 'No'.) Even if my friends say 'No', it is there; there is no use saying 'no.' We will get along with the facts. (A voice: 'No.' I say 'Yes'; so both the 'no' and the 'yes' are there and 'he' is only one of the two. To-day, as I said, the whole of India is under popular Governments . . ."

* MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Let him state the facts, Sir, otherwise, we will oppose."

* SRI W. S. SRINIVASA RAO:—"I repeat, Sir, that to-day India is being governed by popular Governments. (Mahboob Ali Baig Sahib Bahadur: 'No'.) You may say 'no'; I am not going to be cowed down."

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Mr. Speaker. Does the hon. Member mean by 'popular government', Congress Government or really 'popular government'?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I am not here to ask him for the meaning of the words. I shall give you an opportunity, if you want, and you may contradict him. He is giving expression to his own opinion. Mr. Srinivasa Rao will continue his speech."

* MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"That is a wrong opinion, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"That is your opinion."

3rd September 1946]

* SRI W. S. SRINIVASA RAO:—"Sir, I request you to extend my time (laughter) so that I may speak for a little more time which I have lost now by these interruptions. I have got full confidence that the Governments both at the Centre and in the Provinces are going to make a complete change in the system of education. With that hope in view, I want to make certain suggestions. A friend said that before the British came, Urdu was the language here. I want to point out that if you take any record from the Taluk or Revenue offices, you will find that Marathi was the language. It is, therefore, very reasonable and very proper that only the regional language should be taught to our children in schools. As for the children of the minority languages, some provision may be made for them for private study. In this connexion, I wish to say that there are thousands of Marathi people in this Province who should also be provided for. If the other people talking other minority languages are to be provided for, the Mahrattas have also got to be provided for. If, however, that cannot be done, we shall be quite content with the regional language, and we are not afraid that our individuality will be lost without it."

"In this connexion, Sir, I wish to congratulate the Interim Ministers who have taken charge yesterday at Delhi and I hope . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"They have nothing to do with our provincial education; you please continue your speech on the Demand."

* SRI W. S. SRINIVASA RAO:—"Sir, the brightest day dawned yesterday (Voices: 'No'.) when real education of Indians began and it has actually begun yesterday. (A voice: 'Question'.) All right."

"So far as elementary schools are concerned, the teachers recruited for giving elementary education are not the type of persons who ought to be recruited. They do not have the necessary educational qualifications, nor have they the physical qualifications even. Most of them are not efficient—I speak with due respect to those few who are really efficient—and people who have no other avocation, take to his line. Recently, Sir, the eighth class examination also has been introduced in elementary schools, which is chiefly intended for producing more teachers and nothing else. Those who have studied the eighth class and have passed the examination are not fit for being admitted directly into the fourth form or into the service of Government or of private bodies; they are fit only to become teachers, and they have to go into the training schools. The system of training that is given in such schools is itself very bad and the material that is being produced by these training schools is equally very bad. I, therefore, suggest that this eighth class examination be abolished altogether and that higher grade training schools themselves be abolished. Sir, young children are the seeds of our future generation; they are to enjoy the full fruits of the independence that we are slowly gaining. If these raw people, immature people are put in charge of the children, our children can never develop on right lines. I suggest our children should be put in charge of M.As. and B.As. and even people who are educated to a high degree in Tamil and Telugu, as it is only they who can understand the psychology of the children and improve the moral standard of the children. It is only then they can make a better citizens of the children.

"In this connexion, Sir, I object to separate schools being started for separate communities. I object to it strongly. (A voice: 'No.') My friend says 'no'; I never objected when he said something else; it is now my turn and I am voicing forth my opinion; and it is my definite suggestion. If I am giving out his suggestion, then he can say 'no', but not when I am giving out my opinion. Sir, it is these separate schools that have brought the police bandobust to-day throughout the country. If these separate schools had not existed all these years, the police bandobust would not be there. On account of these separate schools, the children develop separatist tendencies and bring hatred among themselves while at school, with the result that when they grow up, they begin to quarrel and cut each other's throats. I, therefore, object to these separate schools, Sir. All our children should be put in the same school; they should be taught the same language; if, however, any number of people want their children to be taught in their mother-tongue which is not the common language, one or two periods can be set apart for such children. It is only that kind of training which will bring all the communities together, and it is only then that they will all grow as children of the same motherland and can become very good future citizens of our country.

"Then, Sir, the moral standard of these young children in the schools, both elementary and high schools, are very much deteriorating in these days. They are not given good company; they are not given good surroundings for their proper development. I have personally seen in many schools a teacher with a cigarette in his mouth and a boy with another cigarette in his mouth, both being lit by the same match-stick. (Laughter.) They call it equality or such something—new words are being coined nowadays—and that has created a lot of deterioration in their moral standard. Nowadays the boys are being very much spoiled. I suggest that legislation should be brought before this House to see that juvenile smoking is prohibited. It has done great havoc among the younger boys and, therefore, this question should be treated as a very important one.

"Then, Sir, the Scout movement, the Bratachari movement and such like movements should be actively encouraged in all our schools. In the high school department, provincialization of teachers should be brought about. Teachers, to whichever school they may belong, whether to the municipal or Government or private aided schools, should be put in the same scale of pay. They should all have the same chance of going from one corner to the other corner of the Presidency and they should thus be encouraged.

[3rd September 1946] [Sri W. S. Srinivasa Rao]

"Again, Sir, the teachers supplement their pay nowadays with what is called private tuition. We know that in the General Hospital we have first to go to the doctor's houses and pay them Rs. 20 there and then come to the hospital, be admitted there and then get special treatment; if not, we do not get proper treatment. Just like that, here also boys who get private tuition, get certain special privileges such as promotion, getting answers to questions beforehand, etc., whereas the other boys do not enjoy such privileges. So, I say the private tuition system should be abolished. There is, however, no use in your simply abolishing it; the teachers should be sufficiently compensated. They take up private tuition only because they are not able to earn sufficient money to pull on in this world; they should, therefore, be given sufficient pay and then only you can expect qualified men to take to the teacher's profession. I know there are many teachers who are not fit to be teachers at all, who do not know what it is to be a teacher. They are, of course, there purely because of so many considerations which I do not want to detail here."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I am sorry, you have exceeded your time."

* MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in our time and in our clime, the noblest of professions is the corriest of trades and that is the tragedy of our country. I must offer my sympathies to the Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar for being entrusted with the torch of learning with the weakest battery of finance. How can we expect him with that torch to dispel darkness and spread light? Really, he is entrusted with the most sacred mission of nation-building and I believe it will be his motto 'Suffer thee unto the children, for theirs is the Kingdom of God'. But when he looks around, what does he find in the army of teachers that have sprung in the countryside? Great educators have said: 'Give me the child, I shall make a new heaven and a new earth'; but to whom are we called upon to entrust our children? Oh! if we only look around our army of teachers—no doubt I see there are teachers and teachers and this reminds me of that couplet of Goldsmith:

'Puppy, mongrel, whelp and hound
And curs of low degree.'

That is indeed what we see among the teachers; a preponderant percentage of them belong to the category which can best be described as 'curs of low degree'.

"I say, I need not be contradicted, Mr. Speaker. I speak 1 p.m. with a wealth of experience and thousands and thousands of teachers I have seen in my life, but let me tell you what is it that we must have to do with such an army of teachers. You must know that public opinion has not got patience even in regard to the proposals for a forty-year plan under the Sergeant Scheme. Do you then expect us, particularly the most enlightened section of the House, the Muslim League Party, to reconcile with the long-term plans for the liquidation of illiteracy? I want this Government to realize that only on that day we shall have freedom when the last child has been educated and never until then, we should rest content with the feeling that we have attained freedom. It is a sham. We must train up and educate every child.

“What is it that we see to-day? This Ministry has started the fantastic principles of merit. I am very sorry that they should have ignored the urgent claims of liquidation of backwardness. They should have been that backwardness is wiped out and the sooner it is done the better for all concerned. The Scheduled Class child, the Muslim child and the non-Brahman child must come in for higher priority in all matters of education. Now that the Government has been elected by millions and millions of the people of the land, you want to condemn the system of education and make it only a close preserve for the 20 per cent by virtue of merit. What is it that you mean by merit? Do you mean to condemn the other 80 per cent as not possessed of merit? That is surely a very poor sense of proportion. You have no right to condemn 80 per cent of the applicants and deny them opportunities on considerations of ‘merit’, as you call it. Let me tell you, Mr. Speaker, it was the lot of an examiner who has described his misery in a text called “The Examination of Examinations” and that when by a mistake, his own set answers got mixed up with the answers of the examinees, he himself could get only 20 per cent (laughter). Who is, then, to decide merit? That is a relative expression. The Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar may describe that Mr. So and So is possessed of merit; I will never accept that. We have no absolute standard for that; we have no universal tests or criteria for this and let me expose this fallacy of the Minister for Education that although they should sit in judgment and decide things on considerations of merit, most of them do not possess such considerations themselves.

“Now, I speak for backward communities. I say this without fear of contradiction that unless and until you are going to relax all rules and regulations and see that you extend the facilities under the Grant-in-Aid Code and come forward with proposals for running institutions, you are not going to help them at all. For instance, in my own district of North Arcot, ever so many Muslims have come forward with proposals and with princely designs for putting up buildings for high schools and colleges at Vaniambadi, Ambur and Pernambut. In regard to the Muslim High School, Ambur, when I approached the Minister for Education, he said ‘this Government is a பிச்சைக்கூர் (pitchaikura) Government’. What does he mean by it? He has no right to dangle before us prospects of freedom and literacy, and then, after he steps into office turn down the proposals on account of financial difficulty and say that we must wait till Doomsday. I am very sorry that such should be the mentality of the powers that be. I should consider that they have really duped the electorate when they said that they would have peace and plenty the moment they were elected to office. Actually, whereas the Adviser Government could give us excellent grants and subsidies towards the cause of Muslim education, for instance, Government Muhammadan College, Madras, and Muslim Girls' College, Madras, I challenge this Ministry, notwithstanding the greatest regard that my community is having for the Hon. the Prime Minister, notwithstanding all that regard, this Minister, the Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar has given us little proof of sincerity to safeguard the interests of Muslim education.

“I want to see that this Minister realizes that Mussalmans have it as a birth-right to see that what they have inherited from their mother's womb, their mother-tongue, should be preserved at all costs. We will rather die than see that our mother-tongue is obliterated. You should know, Mr. Speaker, that our community, hundred millions in India, has gone into oblivion because this mother-tongue was tried to be uprooted. (A voice: ‘By whom?’) By the British, the moment they set foot on this soil, and we have suffered the consequences . . .”

* SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI:—“On a point of order. Sir, can an hon. Member when he addresses the Minister, call him by his name without adding the word ‘honourable’?”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“He has referred to him as Mr. Avinashilingam Chettiyar.”

* MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I want a clear assurance from the Hon. the Minister for Education that Muslim education will not suffer at his hands. Let him take it from us that it is the unanimous opinion of the Muslim spokesman here representing the five million Muslims of this Province that they will prefer death to surrender when it comes to the question of mother-tongue and I feel that we shall claim this mother-tongue as our birth-right and every provision should, therefore, be made that this mother-tongue which is our birth-right is guaranteed to us.”

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise in the first place to raise my voice of protest against the ordinary favourite pastime of people who cannot find other arguments and that is ‘Brahman-baiting.’ Although the western countries it has been the fashion of some people whenever there is any evil, to take up the pastime of Jew-baiting; and so far as this Presidency is concerned, we find people who are at the end of their tether and argument, finally bring in the ‘fear of the Brahman’ because that seems to be their favourite pastime. After all the Brahmans are only 3 per cent of the population. Why this 3 per cent should, as a matter of fact, frighten the other 97 per cent including my heroic friends on this side who threaten with all kinds of disaster I cannot understand? Why the peaceful Brahman is brought in here, I am not able to understand. (Interruptions from the Muslim Group.) Now, I have got a voice sufficient to drown all the 29 hon. Friends of the Muslim League Group. Here I may tell you there was a favourite King Charles the Second in England who was sent out of the country; after that, some people always used to say that whenever it did not rain and whenever the cattle died, it was all due to the fact that the poor

[Sri A. Vaidyanatha Ayyar] [3rd September 1946]

King Charles had been sent away. So, whenever there is anything good or bad, it is now said that the Brahman is always responsible for it and is at the bottom of it. On account of certain exigencies, the previous regime put in what is called communal representation even in the matter of admission to the temple of learning. Though this principle of communal representation may be adopted in the matter of dividing the leaves and fishes of office in the public services, if this principle is adopted in the matter of entry into the portals of learning, people should have, as a matter of fact, to hang down their heads in shame. However, it was allowed to persist till recently in regard to admission into the Law College and the Engineering College. Sir, I may point out that those persons who learn in the Engineering College have to become subsequently Engineers for constructing our buildings, our bridges and other structures and for transport services. In their cases also admission was put not on the ground of merit but on the ground of communal rotation. Things went on like this and now when our popular Ministry came into office, they thought that this was bad enough and that it should be revised because they considered that in the matter of technical education, the capacity and ability of the persons alone should be the criteria for entry into those Colleges. The Hon. Minister for Education wanted to give merit also a chance, chance to the extent of 20 per cent was given whereas merit should have been cent per cent chance. Now, what do you find? I find our friends complain that by this the Brahman community alone will come in. I say, you must learn what all you have done. For years obstruction to merit was there. If by merit, some persons of the Brahman community come in, what does it indicate? It really means that you are trying to keep out merit and keeping out a desirable number of persons of a particular community by using this communal privilege. I thought it was time that they should look at the figures; we have committed so much of injustice in the past. Let us agree that. This attitude of obstruction to merit, I submit, is more unjust. I would ask the Hon. Minister at as early a time as possible to remove the communal rotation with regard to admission into professional colleges where merit alone is required. My hon. Friends think that they can enter the portals of education and rule the country by means of communal rotation. I ask what this 3 per cent of Brahmans did when the Company came, when the Muslims came to rule and afterwards when other dynasties ruled? Was there any communal rotation at the time? Did the 3 per cent claim protection weightage against the 97 per cent communities. The Brahman took it as it came. As a matter of fact, he qualified himself by merit. Now, by means of the communal rotation, a bar has been raised. It is all a kind of artificial restriction that has been placed on him. As a matter of fact, the best man gets in first, should be the policy. This communal representation has been tried for over twenty years for bolstering up certain communities. My advice, is, 'do take it on merit.' This kind of artificial support is really weakening yourself as well as others. ('Question.') You may go on questioning till the end of your life; that is not going to improve matters. My hon. Friends on the Muslim side say that they are the most enlightened and they therefore want all kinds of safeguards. I could not see any enlightenment or light when on a bright Monday, yesterday, they saw only a black Monday, etc., when we have got a beautiful popular Ministry which has just begun to function at the Centre. Is it in the light or in the sun or in the popular ministry or in your mind, you think there is darkness. Obviously it is in the last. My hon. Friends of the Muslim group want that they should be given a kind of Muslim Directorate of Education or something like that. I may tell them as a matter of fact, that among the Hindu community, there are many more differences. For instance, there are Advaites, Dwaites and Visishtadwaites and you will see that there is a greater difference of culture among the several sections of the Hindu community than even between the Muslims and Hindus. If you want a Directorate of Muslim Education, why not the Scheduled Classes have a separate directorate? Why not the Ayyangars, why not the Smarthas have a separate Directorate? One of my hon. Friends of the Muslim group said, 'We would die rather than accept it.' I say to them you need not die but 'Go to Pakistan'. There will be no strike by Mr. Venkateswarlu there on any question of regional language. What do you say about Hyderabad where there are 85 per cent of Hindus? The whole thing there is carried on in Urdu and not in Telugu though it is the language of a large proportion of the population. In the Madras Presidency, there are several communities, for example, among the Scheduled Castes, some talk Telugu and some Kannada. Among the Harijans, there are also the Arundathiyas. Can they say, we should have a Telugu or Kannada college, simply because the particular language is predominant among some of the people in that locality? Having regard to regional languages is the way in which provinces are likely to be created in the future. For a political administration to function normally, you must go on regional languages. No doubt for the whole of India you have got Urdu or Hindi. It is no good saying that we must have Muslim Colleges or Muslim Directorate. I cannot say where all this will lead you on. If you go to villages, there is no separate school for Muslim boys; all the children there including Muslim boys, study in street pials and they are all on good terms. Education, as a matter of fact, should be non-religious and non-sectarian but the moment this encouragement of separate education is brought in, that brings along with it poison. People raise objection to European schools and why should there be schools separately for Muslims. Even in regard to Urdu, my hon. Friend claimed that it was the national language before. Was there any such thing put up before this Government came? Urdu was adopted as the camp language by several dynasties and Arabic was adopted by some others, and some others adopted Persian. Mahatma Gandhi tried to solve the problem by introducing Hindustani as the national language. Therefore, I say, give up this fantastic idea; if you start this idea, the result will be what is happening in Calcutta would probably be a precursor here also. (Voices from the Muslim League Group: 'No, No.'). One thing I may tell you, Sir, is this. The Hon. Minister for Education is bearing all the attacks. You want separate schools for Muslims in every district; you want separate Muslim directorate and you want this and that. How far is this consistent with the policy of the Party on whose behalf you are now talking. You say from your League platforms that there shall be a scorched-earth policy in surplus Punjab, and that in provinces where the Muslims are not in a majority, you threaten that there will be starvation."

3rd September 1946] [Sri A. Vaidyanatha Ayyar]

[Sri A. Vaidyanatha Ayyar] [3rd September 1946]

MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"He is inciting the people."

MR. SPEAKER:—"No, he is not inciting."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"What we want to place before the Hon. the Education Minister is give normal facilities in regard to education to all. Pandits as a matter of fact should have the same status as Professors. (A Voice from the Muslim Group: 'What about Moulvis?') Why I said Pandits because I consider that a Moulvi is also a Pandit. With regard to Government schools, now that we are having a popular Ministry, I would ask that at least during the summer season, the hours of work in the schools should be changed to cooler hours in the morning and evening. The next point I wish to address the Minister for Education—though the answer to this has to be given by the Hon. the Premier—is in regard to the holiday on Sunday. Sunday is a relic of the past European administration. The two of the main communities, both Hindus and Mussalmans, observe Friday as an important day and there is no reason why the holiday should not be shifted to Friday as it is done in Indian States like Pudukottah. One other difficulty, I wish to point out, is, that the teachers are the most frightened of all Government servants. They are afraid of asking for increments in their salaries. It is necessary that the teachers should be encouraged to place their grievances as other people."

"There is another point, Sir, and that is just as in all other departments, there is no reason why we should not revert to our ordinary national dress without being compelled to wear a particular kind of dress. For instance, the teachers are compelled to have turban and long coat whereas the simple national dress would seem sufficient."

"With regard to one other matter, namely, necessity for buildings and furniture for schools. I should think they are a legacy of the past administration. Education is not necessarily correlated to benches and other furniture. There could be a good school without all these paraphernalia for imparting education."

"Then with regard to the distinction made between S.S.L.C. and Matriculation. I may point out that in the case of a candidate appearing for Matriculation Examination, he need not attend the school, whereas an S.S.L.C. has to attend the school and put in a certain percentage of attendance. It does not seem reasonable."

[3rd September 1946] [Sri A. Vaidyanatha Ayyar]

"Hindustani may be made compulsory and English may be relegated to the position of an optional subject."

"I close with referring to one other subject. Perhaps the Hon. Minister knows that there is also corruption among the Deputy Inspectors of Schools with regard to their yearly visits for instruction of the poor teachers. I understood from the principal of a leading college in Madura that in cases of scholarships for Scheduled Castes, even the slightest change in the name, such as Pallar for Pallan, the application is rejected. If you want proof of this, I would refer to Mr. Ranjitam, the Principal of the American College. On account of this a large number of scholarships of the Scheduled Classes have been turned down on absolutely trivial reasons."

* MR. W. J. FERNANDEZ:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, coming as I do at the tail end of the Speakers on this demand, I find that many of them, chiefly my friends of the Muslim Group, have already touched at considerable length upon matters on which I intended to speak in support of my own motion. I will not, therefore, waste the time of this House by covering ground that has already been covered; suffice it to say that I heartily echo their views on such fundamental matters, as first basic education with its repercussions. First: On the teaching of religion in Muslim and Christian schools. Sir, religion is given due prominence in these schools for very good reasons. We want God-fearing men, citizens who fear God and who respect authority and law and order and not Godless citizens. That is why such prominence is given to the teaching of religion in schools: second: On the question of imparting instruction in the regional language; the order made recently by the Hon. Minister has caused an upheaval among the pupils in the province. I feel that ultimately, it will react to the detriment of the school-going population. Third: That vexed question of admission of students into professional colleges on the basis of merit. It has rightly provoked trenchant criticism from all the members of the Muslim League. We do not know where this policy will lead us to. I am rather surprised at the way in which my hon. Friend Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar spoke in favour of that order. The result of that order is to practically shut out all other communities from colleges, Brahmans being given as many seats as Government wish. Government should see that all communities have adequate representation and sufficient facilities are afforded to them so that they may be able to train themselves for future careers. I may mention here, without any intention to cause any ill-feeling, that some of my non-Brahman friends have expressed surprise that a non-Brahman Minister should have, so soon after assuming office, passed an order showing that he was extra solicitous about the Brahman community."

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"On a point of information. May I know, Sir, whether he is referring to any order of the Minister or of the Government which has prescribed priority to Brahmans."

[3rd September 1946]

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—
“This reservation is not for Brahmans.”

* MR. W. J. FERNANDEZ:—“It is very clear that the twenty per cent basis is for the benefit of the Brahman community. There is no good trying to go behind that. That is what I understand from it. I do not at all deny or object to Brahmans being given admission into colleges provided the other 80 per cent belonging to other communities are also given chances for training themselves for careers in life. Non-Brahmans expected that the Minister would at least safeguard their interests if not promote them. On the other hand, we find the very first action of the Minister was to their detriment. I trust that the Minister will not smile away all the objections raised by hon. Members who rightly fear that this order might affect all. I hope their remarks will be construed not as one put forward for the sake of objecting, but with a genuine feeling that it affects the interests of a large body of people. I hope that the Minister will give the matters raised the weighty consideration that it deserves and see that the order is rescinded at the earliest possible moment.

“My main reason in giving notice of the cut motion was to urge on the Government the desirability of providing more seats for Anglo-Indians in the Engineering Colleges. One Hon. Minister complained that he cannot get on with his schemes for increasing irrigational facilities for want of qualified men. How is it possible for members of other communities to fit themselves for service in the Engineering department unless they are provided with facilities for training themselves. It is rather amusing Sir that in answer to a supplementary question, asking how many Anglo-Indians applied for admission and how many were admitted to this College, there was no reply. Though the question put by the Leader of the Opposition was definite and he asked definitely about the number of candidates from the various communities who applied, of which the Anglo-Indian community was one, no mention was made in the reply about this community.”

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—
“If the hon. Member puts a separate question on this, I will give an answer.”

* MR. W. J. FERNANDEZ:—“A definite question was put by the leader of the Opposition and an answer was given. What I submit is, the question put by the hon. Leader of the Opposition, namely, ‘Will the Hon. Minister be pleased to state how many applicants from the Brahman, non-Brahman, Muslims, Anglo-Indians, Indian-Christians’ is clear—the Anglo-Indian was one of the communities referred to therein and why no reply was given I cannot understand. I hope when the next opportunity occurs, the Hon. Minister will give the information required.

“One point more and that arose from the speech of my hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswaralu. He referred to the fact that twelve lakhs have been given for European education. Let me remind him and the Members of this House that these European schools are not exclusive; that there are about 30 per cent Indian students attending these schools who are children of officials and non-officials who send their children for training in these schools so that when they go to England it will help them. I do not therefore think that anybody is justified in grudging this small grant for the European schools.”

The House then adjourned for lunch.

(After lunch—2-30 p.m.)

* MR. SPEAKER:—“I have fixed five minutes for Members who wish to take part in the further discussions on this Demand. We have already devoted two hours and a half to the Demand and there are other important Demands which hon. Members would not like to be disposed of by means of the guillotine procedure. Mr. Seethi Sahib.”

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Five minutes is too short for the hon. Member. He has to cover the points raised by Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar.”

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—“This is an important Demand and I think Members on this side of the House also may be given enough time.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“The Leader of the House will reply to the points raised by Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar. Hence on that much time need not be taken.

“There is no objection to giving time. But I would like to remind the Leader of the Opposition that at 5 o'clock to-morrow, Demands that have not been reached will have to be put from the Chair and carried. If long speeches are allowed now, it will only mean that hon. Members would have no opportunity of discussing other Demands which they would very much like to do. Does the Leader of the Opposition agree?”

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Yes.”

MR. SPEAKER:—“Mr. Seethi Sahib. The hon. Member can take ten minutes.”

K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I rise to support the cut motion moved by my hon. Friend Begum Amiruddin. In doing so, I have to enter an emphatic protest against the tone and tenor of speeches made by some Members on the other side of the House. The point of view put forward by them is so startling, shocking, novel and revolutionary that I was tempted to think of the state of things that will obtain in this country if the advice of those good friends is taken heed of and followed by the Ministry to whom the destinies of this Province have been entrusted. We rely upon the sense of fairness and impartiality of the Hon. Premier and the Minister for Education, whose very existence as the Premier and Minister for Education is due to the rejection of the advice of such members who adumbrate in this House principles of free competition in the matter of admission to colleges. In fact, Mr. Speaker, the Hon. Speaker would not be occupying his Chair and the Minister for Education would not be in charge of the Education portfolio if the saintly advice tendered by Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar had been followed by the persons in charge of the education destiny of this Province. We, for our part, do not believe that the Brahman community which forms 3 per cent of the population of this Province has any special virtues which cannot be attained or dreamt of by other communities. But still the consciousness on their part is there that the voice of 97 per cent of the population of the Province can be drowned by one stentorian voice. The consciousness is there that the voice of the 29 members on this side of the House can be drowned. That really symbolises the mentality of the monopolistic attitude of the section of the body politic which is represented by persons like Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar. My friend reminds us of the repercussion of Calcutta in this Province. But coming as he does from Madura we need not be reminded of Calcutta. In regard to the facilities to be rendered to Muslims and other backward communities in the matter of education, he puts forward the plea that in education there can be no sectarianism or communalism and there should be free competition. I submit it is the height of absurdity and is the very negation of sound principles which have guided educationists in the past. What is the basis of merit and what is it due to? Merit is the result of centuries of monopoly exercised by one community to the exclusion of others. Traditions can be built up, heredity can be improved if opportunities are given to all sections of the people. In fact some of the brilliant men among the Non-Brahman community and the Muslim community would not have come to the lime light if the monopoly exercised by certain sections of the community had been perpetuated. The healthy Non-Brahman movement started by Dr. T. M. Naik and Sir P. T. Chetti was responsible for at least a section of the Non-Brahman community to come forward and manifest their talents. They would have continued to be the hewers of wood and drawers of water had it not been for this movement and they would be wallowing as Sudras according to the Manusmritis had the philosophy of the hon. Member from Madura been followed. This philosophy of free competition is a dangerous one and it should not be followed. The separate arrangements that exist for the Muslims and backward communities for education must be given the consideration they deserve and there should be no curtailment of the concessions given to them. It is not for separation that we want separate schools. On the contrary it is for the spread of education. It is for attracting pupils of these communities to their own schools that we want separate schools. It is a confusion of ideas to say that separate schools breed separatism and it is a misrepresentation and has no relation to the real situation. I shall explain my position with reference to the observation made by Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar about the Communists. They are the enemies of God and man on their own showing. (Laughter.) They do not want a king, that is a person to exercise authority and they do not like people holding different opinion from them. Had they their schooling in separate schools? Is religion responsible for these troubles that they start? It has nothing to do with separate schools, it is a confusion of ideas. It is a mere shibboleth—brought in to cloud issues and to create confusion in the minds of the people. On the other hand some of the best talents of the land are the product of separate schools. According to the view of my friend sectarianism could not be expected in a general institution. But the most intolerable narrowness of outlook we see in products of general institutions and on the other hand you will see the most broad-minded treatment and fraternization on the part of Muslim and Hindu students in a separate institution. You will be surprised to hear that Hindu students welcome admissions that are given to them in institutions like the Muslim University at Aligarh or coming nearer home in the Muhammadan College in Madras. The spirit prevailing there is not one of narrowness or sectarianism. In spite of education and the liberal ideas and outlook engendered therefrom and preached by advocates of liberalism and non-sectarianism, they are not able to get over it even within their own community and how can they accuse that sectarianism and narrow outlook are due to separate schools? The fact is this. But for separate schools, the Muslim community would not have made one-hundredth of the progress that it has made in point of education. That is equally applicable to other communities including the Harijan community and other backward communities. It is on account of special facilities that were afforded to them that they were able to come forward in the field of education. To deny that is to deny history. If we trace the growth of education amongst these communities ever since the formation of separate schools that will give us an indication of the necessity for separate schools. The existence of the schools attracts students to them. But for their existence they would not have cared to study. Let me give my experience of my district of Malabar. A separate Mappilla school was started in Malappuram in 1936. The education authorities were saying that there were a number of mixed schools and that numbers sufficient to make a class were not forthcoming even in those institutions. But what happened when a separate school was started? Students began to stream in from different parts of Malabar and more than one division had to be opened in several classes and the classes were overfull. But for the opening of a separate school where religious and cultural instructions was given, this result would not have been produced. Would my hon. Friend dispute the result and would he have any reason to doubt that the Muslim community has come forward in the field of secondary education owing to the provision of such facilities? I appeal to the Hon. Minister for Education not to listen to the siren song of people who speak of merit or cosmopolitanism and all that sort of things as these only result in monopolizing of learning and knowledge by one community keeping in the darkness the vast majority of the rest of the community. For God's sake, do not listen to it.

“ If you want to elevate all classes, you should give to the backward communities all facilities. Multiply schools and colleges and give them facilities to come forward and avail themselves of the opportunity. If you do that, we will create tradition and create history for ourselves. Then let us see how we are competing with Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar in all fields of activity.

But in this present unequal fight you cannot speak of merit. If you give us sufficient opportunity, I assure you, we will be creating history, and then the angelic virtue of a particular section will disappear. You will find gems in all classes. You will find gems coming from the depressed classes. If the depressed classes were not given the facilities that are now given them, they would have been remaining all along only as toilers and Panchamas; and they would not have made the contribution they have made now. So give us opportunity, and then alone we shall be in a position to compete with you.

“There are one or two matters about which I wish to speak. Mr. Pocker was referring to the special needs of the Mappilla education in Malabar, and he particularly referred to the necessity of converting the Muslim Boys' High School at Malappuram and the Muslim Girls' High School at Tirur into a college and for providing a necessary hostel attached to the Malappuram High School. As Mr. Pocker said, provision had been made for that, and we expected that provision will be made for building a hostel this year; but unfortunately it has not been done. So I would request at least by a supplementary demand provision be made for the construction of a hostel this year. The other point Mr. Pocker referred to was about the raising of the Government Brennen College, Tellicherry, into a first-grade college. Sir, this college has been in existence for the last 55 years as a secondary grade college. From the education point of view that college should be raised into a first-grade college. There are 22 high schools in North Malabar. Of these, in Tellicherry itself, there are four high schools, of which two are girls' high schools. For all these high schools, the nearest first-grade college is one hundred miles off; one is at Palghat and the other is at Mangalore. Especially for the lady students, who are about forty in number at present in the second-grade college at Tellicherry, it is difficult to go to those far off places.

“One other matter which I would respectfully urge is the necessity for reviving the convention of having at least one Muslim educational officer in Malabar. In fact one-third of the population of that district are Muslims, and in the interests of Muslim education, the appointment of a Muslim educational officer either in North Malabar or South Malabar is necessary as he would be useful in propagating education among Muslims. That was the healthy convention followed by the Education Department for a long time, and that has to be revived and continued hereafter.

“Then the necessity for Arabic and religious instruction in schools is a matter on which the Education Minister should certainly concede. Mr. Venkateswarlu does not want religious education at all. He does not believe in God. In fact, his religion is irreligion, and he wants that to be propagated. In Russia it is being done. Atheism is taught there, and that is their religion. We believe in ethics and morality and God. I have no quarrel with him in his Atheism and irreligion. I would urge on the education authorities to impart religious instruction to our children in schools. I am only sorry I have not been given sufficient time to deal with other points. So I resume my seat.”

* SRIMATHI C. AMMANNA RAJA:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am very shy by nature, and unless I feel I should speak, I do not get up at all. Still I am supposed to represent the women of the Northern Circars. So to do them justice I feel I must speak and speak on their behalf. I was looking for a chance, but somehow I could not get it till now. (A voice: ‘Is it your maiden speech?’) I shall speak about women first and then about the general points later. I wish to say that the women who are attached to girls' schools are mostly widows and unmarried women having no houses to live in. They are not able to live separately, because it is very difficult for single people to do so, as they are open to so many scandals. So I request the Education Minister to make provision for women teachers to live in hostels. I am not asking like Begum Amiruddin to give them family quarters, but only to give them minimum room in hostels. Wherever there are girls' high schools there must be a hostel attached to them; and you will find that there is not even one girls' high school for each district. There is no girls' high school in my district though I have been fighting for it since the last Congress Government came into office. Still nothing has been done. You may say, there is a Mission high school there; and so there is no need for another high school. The Mission high school, we cannot claim for ourselves. They do not establish schools for the sake of educative people but only to convert them to their religion. People belonging to other religions do not like to go there if they can help it. I have a daughter only four years old. I want to send her to school. As there are no other schools nearby my house I have to send her to the San Thome convent and she starts reciting Xian prayer at home. In this way we are forced to do things in spite of ourselves, and not out of our willingness. To prevent this sort of thing, you should provide for one girls' high school at least in every district. I am told there is a high school for girls in Angalur, which is only a small village near Gudivada. I am surprised to learn how that school came there, when there is not one like that in a big town like Ellore. Probably there are influential people there, who can approach the people concerned and bring pressure on them. Unlike West Godavari people, who are not in a position to get anything for their district. I feel my district is not treated properly in any respect. (Interruption by Mr. Kala Venkata Rao.) Somehow we cannot get what we want; and thus we have not even got a high school for girls.

“Then, I wish to offer a suggestion to the Minister for Education, and that is, that while pleading for enhancement of pay to the teachers, I want him to give more work to them, especially to those who are attached to colleges and to University professors. They do not have enough work, because their activities are confined to their colleges alone. This is what one of the professors told me. I suggest that you ‘give them more work

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, apart from political questions, to my mind, the most important reason for the communal bitterness that prevails in this Presidency is the inequality between the various communities. The best solution of the communal problem to-day is to bring forward those backward classes and communities and place all the communities on the same level. It is only when all the communities have reached the level of equality you can apply all these ideas of merit, etc. ('Hear, hear.') My hon. Friend from

[3rd September 1946] [P. P. Hassan Koya Sahib Bahadur]

Madura, Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar, has asked a question as to how the Brahman community has been enjoying merit. That question, I say, must be answered by himself alone. After one thousand years of persecution of the backward communities, after claiming that learning is the monopoly of Brahmans, and after prohibiting that learning to all other classes, the Brahmans have been able to maintain their position. ('Hear, hear.') Taking the role of a man who wants justice and fairness to all, the real purpose of his idea is to maintain that Brahman caucus, that Brahman monopoly of education. The necessity and the usefulness of encouraging the backward community education has been accepted by the authorities like the late Director of Public Instruction (Sir M. Statham). He has written a very long note on it saying that the backward classes must be given very special privileges. In fact, but for the special privileges that have been granted to the Muslims and to the Scheduled Classes, we would not have had to-day to preside over our function a great man in our Speaker. If you say that the backward communities need not be given any facilities, then you are putting the backward classes in the same position as they were years back. By not giving the privileges you are relegating the backward communities, and as long as you have this inequality between the various communities, you can have no communal salvation and the communal problem would be there.

“Referring to the needs of my community in Malabar—Mappilla community—various grievances have already been stressed by representatives in this House. May I once again point out the very great attempt that was made at Malappuram, with the assistance of the late Director of Public Instruction (Sir M. Statham), in starting a Government Muslim High School to improve the educational condition of Mappillas. That experiment has succeeded. You find in all the forms Mappilla-students hailing from all parts of the district. The dire need of the institution to-day is a hostel. I understand that estimates were prepared last year for the construction of a hostel. But I find that no provision has been made in the budget for its construction. I would request the Minister for Education that in all kindness to the poor Mappillas of the West Coast, a community from which I am coming, the construction of the hostel for the Malappuram High School must be taken up immediately. On behalf of the fifteen lakhs of Mappilla women, there is just one High School at Tirur. That must be given the best encouragement possible, and it must be the ambition of the Education Minister to see that it is very soon raised to a first-grade college. One distinct feature of Malabar is, except one for two, all high schools are controlled by our Hindu friends. I would stress the necessity of opening high schools in all parts of Malabar and particularly where Mappillas are predominating.

“My communist friend has thought it wise to express his opinion on religious education. He said that he does not believe in God. He is the least competent person to speak on religion. He is totally irreligious. If you want an advocate on atheism he would be the competent person, but he is not entitled to speak on religious education at all.

“One other point that I would like to bring to the notice of the Education Minister is the provision of midday meals in our schools. At least, to start with, all the elementary schools must be given sufficient grants to give free midday food to children. That is particularly needed in Malabar, where schools are distantly placed, and the poverty of the country does not permit the students to go back from the schools to their homes for their midday meals. In fact, because of the absence of this provision, the attendance in these schools is rather poor. Representations have been made regarding this but in vain.

“The few Mappillas who, on account of the encouragement given to them by the former education authorities, have graduated and have been able to get jobs, and they are rotting in their present jobs literally, because there are no seniors in the service to encourage them, and bring them forward. I request the Minister for Education to see that so far as Mappillas—the most backward community in education, and who have taken to modern education very, very recently—are concerned, sufficient encouragement is given to them so that they may be an example for future generation. With these words, I support the cut motion.”

p.m.

SRI M. S. PATTABIRAMA AYYAR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, much has been said in this House about teachers and other educational policies. Unfortunately, nothing has been said about the present day conditions. In omitting completely the students we are only staging Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark. Unfortunately, students are not considered even as citizens. I am bringing to the notice of the Hon. Minister that the condition of the students in the various colleges and hostels is worse than that of the labourers. It will be no surprise, Sir, that representations have been made against the authorities. I would only request the Hon. Minister for Education to visit Trichinopoly where there is a wonderful hostel which goes by the name of a hostel to see whether it is fit for human habitation or whether it is fit for a stable. Unfortunately it is used as a hostel, and it is recognized by the authorities. The students have to pay beyond their capacity, but their needs are not properly attended to. They are merely crowded in small rooms. They are not given any protection from either mosquitoes or bugs that haunt Trichinopoly. Unfortunately these students have to pay a lot, and yet they are not able to get the amenities that are absolutely necessary. So I request the Hon. Minister to institute a committee of enquiry to go and inspect all the hostels throughout the Province and make a report on the living conditions in them, and to say whether they are better than jails about which so much has been said. I am not exaggerating things. I want the Hon. Minister to go and see whether my accusation is right or not. For every four persons only one tumbler is allowed. How can one tumbler be shared by all the four people? Though the students are paying heavily, they are treated so badly. So I request the Hon. Minister to institute a committee of enquiry to inspect every hostel in the presidency and make a report on the minimum living conditions in hostels so that the principles may be adopted.

3rd September 1946] [Sri M. S. Pattabirama Ayyar]

“Secondly, Sir, I come to the principals. We talk about Hitlerism. Unfortunately the principals of colleges are Hitlers in their own colleges. I am not exaggerating. As a student I have suffered heavily in the 1942 movement. I know what the principals are and what their attitude towards the students is. They think that the students are absolutely at their mercy. If they wish I can be chucked out from one hostel to another. Immediately the warden phones to the other hostels saying he is a dangerous man. The only danger is that I am a Congressman. A number of students of the Loyola College, St. Joseph's College and other colleges were dismissed even without appeal for merely believing in Gandhism. Is it a crime in these days of democracy? Is it right that the principals of colleges should be invested with so much power over the lives and fortunes of the students? It is really a tragedy that the principals should be behaving in the manner in which they are doing. There must be some check, they must be made responsible to somebody. There must be some appeal against the orders of the school and college authorities who, for trivial reasons, harass the students. If the principal does not like one man, he can get his certificate cancelled and he is prevented from going to other institutions. The condition of such students is pitiable. So I request that provision be made to see that facilities that are given to criminals—the right of appeal—should be given to the students, and to see that they are treated properly. As a student who has suffered, I know most of the students will share my views and sentiments, though hon. Members might have forgotten. Again, Sir, the principals should not be the custodians of the entire right of the students. For example, in the Salem Municipal College, because the students did not share the political views of the principal, the whole hostel was ordered to be vacated in 24 hours. Then the students wrote to the Principal, and he said: ‘This is my institution. This college is mine. You shall have no right. You shall immediately quit the hostel in 24 hours.’ They were simply stranded in the streets and unfortunately no one took care of them. That happened during the Advisers' regime, and I am sure that those things shall never occur in the popular regime of the Congress. So I suggest a committee of the members of the legislature and parents should be there to advise the Ministry of Education in seeing that proper check and control are exercised over the principals and administrators of colleges.

“Finally, Sir, I want to make one appeal. The hon. Mr. Natesan said that only people getting five hundred and more marks were admitted in the colleges. It is a tragedy. You say that 180 marks are sufficient for entering the portals of the University. When I apply to the Loyola College or the Christian College, the authorities ask: ‘Have you got 400 or 500 marks?’ Those who do not get the maximum number of marks are the unfortunate victims, because though they have got a pass, they are not recognized as qualified for entry into colleges. Those who do not get admission in the Loyola College or such colleges are crowded in one mufassal college, and the result is bad. You have not distributed merit equally. So I request the Hon. Minister to intervene in this subject and see that there is some selection committee for selecting from among the applicants to the Intermediate and B.A. classes, and that committee should be the final authority in selecting the candidates.

“ Finally, I want to make one request. That is with regard to literacy campaign. There is the Indian Students’ Congress, which is a predominantly students’ organization. It is most representative of the students. You please recognize that as the sole spokesman of the students. In it you will find the best propagandists for the adult education campaign. In this sphere the Indian Students’ Congress will be of very great service.”

* M. S. ATAULLAH SAHIB BAHADUR :—“ While I rise to support the cut motion moved by Begum Amiruddin, I wish to supplement a few more remarks to Mr. Rafeeudin Ahmed’s speech regarding the lingua franca of India. May I Sir, with your permission, ask the hon. Members on the Opposite benches, when they remark that Urdu was not the lingua franca of India how many of them are in possession of facts and figures? May I submit to them that as late as 1919, when the question of lingua franca was talked about at Lucknow, it was agreed that whatever language was most prevalent in India must be the lingua franca. When it was found out that Urdu was the most prevalent language, it was agreed that Urdu should be the lingua franca of India, when we get Swaraj. Mr. Gandhi then gave the colour of Hindustani or Hindi. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is no use going over facts and figures and have them contradicted because you are in a majority, but the facts remain as they are. It is no use harping upon regional languages and that the Mussalmans can cope up with the regional languages and get through the schools. I may tell you my own boy failed. He was studying in the fifth standard. He could not go higher up, and recently I had to send him to Montfort School only on account of the difficulty of the medium of instruction. The idea behind this seems to be to crush the little or nothing, that we have of our mother tongue. Well Sir, this is not what we expected at the hands of a popular Government. Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar from Madura said: ‘Go to Pakistan; there it is ready for you.’ If it is their wish, we are ready to go to Pakistan. We know how to go on pilgrimage or make Hijra and move from place to place even as our Holy Prophet himself had to do. He had to leave Mecca for Medina in 622. If it is their desire that we should go to Pakistan, we never hesitate for a while and as Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar knows, we will be glad to have our Pakistan and then we will go from here to there.

“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, this basic education, with the regimentation of schools, is nothing short of Hitlerism or Nazism as has been rightly pointed out by my friend, Mr. Abdul Majeed, and it is nothing but to crush our cultural and religious literature. Members on the Opposite benches are not the authorities to say what is our mother tongue. They say that regional languages are our mother tongue. Well it should be admitted at this late hour that most of us have forgotten our literature. But it is your desire to crush it and bury it altogether. We have got our own culture, our literature, and we want to have it, and it is just and proper that this popular Ministry agrees to it. Sir, it is our sincere desire that this popular Ministry should make arrangements, wherever it is not possible to have separate schools for Muslims, for imparting instruction to the Muslim population through the medium of Urdu.

“ It is very very long time since the colleges and schools have been opened. But the Government have not developed them. If they really want to educate the Indians, they must open immediately a number of schools and colleges, and wherever possible provide separate schools for Muslims, and wherever it is not possible, have munshis or make some such arrangements to impart instruction through the medium of Urdu.”

SRI B. GOPALA REDDI :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I begin my catalogue of grievances let me congratulate the Hon. Minister for starting two engineering colleges in the Telugu districts. Against great many odds, he has pushed through the inauguration of these colleges. I am particularly thankful to him for the inauguration of the Anantapur College. I know the difficulties. I know it is an Anantapur College in name and that it is not at Anantapur. I am sure every effort will be made to take it to Anantapur soon. I know from the Minister that aeronautics and marine engineering are going to be taught at Vizagapatam. There seems to be a little confusion about it that the experts, who sat in a committee are against specializing of these subjects in the Vizagapatam College. I am also glad that a medical college was started at Guntur and a medical college at Madura also was started. I am not satisfied with the progress of our technical or professional colleges. There is a provision for a forest college to be started at Coimbatore. It is misnomer to call it a forest college. It is a ranger’s course misnamed as forest college. I want the Government to make it a degree giving college so that our people may not go to Dehra Dun to qualify themselves as District Forest Officers. Is it not high time to have a military college of our own in South India? Recommendations have been made by the Universities that the numerous military buildings could be availed of and proper steps may be taken to have a properly equipped military college in South India. I know that the military authorities have been addressing the University authorities to tell them why the Indian graduates are not fully equipped to take up the captaincy of small teams. They addressed a letter to the University authorities. But I do not know what they have replied. But the fact is there, that our graduates are not taking up the captaincy of small teams. I do not know which Minister is in charge of it. He can press upon Sirdar Baldev Singh to have a military college in South India ere long. I am glad the Minister is very busy with pre-basic, basic, secondary and college education. He has taken steps and a stir is already created in the department, so that everybody is talking about re-organization of our education so that our Muslim friends are alarmed as to what happens to their education. I am sure the Education Minister will answer them. I want to lift him from this basic business to lofty height, not to post-graduate education, but lift it to post-masterate education leading up to a doctorate course. With reference to sending a good many students to foreign countries for engineering, medical and other departments to England, America and other countries, should not our Universities like the Madras, Andhra, Annamalai cease to be feeding centres for all time to come and should they not give post-graduate courses? The M.Sc.s know what is already in the text-books. I want the young students to know something more instead of learning what is already in the text-books. I vainly searched for any grants to our universities for such a course. All the three universities have sent up research schemes. They have submitted them to the Government, but I do not know what will happen to them in the near future. It was not in the interests of the previous administration, viz., the British Government in India to train our students for higher researches. They wanted our graduates to be mere clerks for small jobs and they wanted efficiency in subordination for that purpose. They did not want efficiency in the higher researches and had to depend upon the results in foreign countries. It is very good to depend upon the contributions of other countries also. But is it not high time that we must contribute to the general pool of researches in the field of natural sciences and physical sciences. So I want our Universities should be given such grants."

* MAHIN SCHAMNAD SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In supporting the cut motion, what I have to say is that the only way to improve the education of the backward classes in the backward area is by enforcing compulsory primary education in those parts. In the Kasaragod taluk of South Kanara district, almost all the people especially the Mappillas are backward and uneducated. Therefore I press the necessity of introducing compulsory education in Kasaragod taluk, especially in the coast line villages which are thickly populated. After their studies in the lower elementary schools, the poor people are not able to continue their studies for want of higher elementary schools in the villages. Rich boys can afford to go to far away places where there is higher education. But what about the poor people? They must discontinue and idle away their time. Therefore, I press the necessity of starting higher elementary schools in important coast line villages in the Kasaragod taluk."

"The Muslim boys are not sent to schools before completing their Quoran studies. The parents send their boys to schools only where there is teaching of Quoran and religious education. Therefore, if the Hon. Minister wants to improve the education of the Muslim boys, it is necessary to make arrangements for religious instruction in these schools. Also, a separate school is necessary for the Muslim boys because in a Muslim school, there ought to be taught Quoran and other religious matters, which are not necessary for the Hindus. The Muslim students require a holiday on Friday. According to Quoran all business should be stopped during Fridays and during Jumma prayer time. Besides the Muslim schools require to be closed during Ramzan, because the boys cannot go to schools with empty stomachs. Besides the nature, ways, culture and manners of Muslims and Hindus are quite different. In every respect, there is much difference. It is not possible for Muslim boys to mingle with others whose religious methods and ways are quite different from theirs. Therefore, it is quite necessary to start separate schools for Muslims if the Hon. Minister wants to improve the education of Muslims.

"Another difficulty of the Muslim students in South Kanara to continue their studies in college classes is the want of an Arabic teacher. The students take Arabic in the S.S.L.C. class. After completing their studies there, they are not able to continue their studies in the district, because Arabic is not taught in any of the colleges in the South Kanara district. Only the rich boys are going to Madras, Malabar and other places. What about the poor boys? They are compelled to discontinue their studies, because they cannot afford to go to Madras and reside there spending hundred rupees a month. Therefore, it is a real necessity to have an Arabic teacher in the college at Mangalore. This is all that I have to say."

* SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to support this demand. In doing so I would like to bring to the notice of the House the fact that out of one lakh and odd teachers sixty thousand teachers are paid Rs. 30 and below. I wish the elementary school teachers are paid equally. For instance the municipal school teachers are paid differently from the scale given to the aided school teachers. This again is different from that paid to the elementary school teachers in district boards. Some method should be devised by which local bodies could pay better attention to these elementary school teachers. As regards the 46 students that were sent for foreign studies there is not even one single Harijan student. There is one Rama Rao, B.Sc. (Agr.) who has not been selected for foreign studies."

"We have been wasting six years in high school education. You can increase the working days to 250 and finish the education in a shorter period than what we are doing now. The high school education can be reduced from 6 years to 4 years by increasing the number of days from 180 to 250 and college education to 2 years by raising the number of days from 150 to 200. Formerly, before the 14th year we were expected to finish our high school education. Now it takes 25 years to complete education. What is the average life of an Indian? If we spend most of our life in education we will be simply wasting our life. I hope the Hon. Minister will tackle this question and also improve the lot of the Harijans. Then with regard to scholarships, the Advisers' Government granted Rs. 33,800. Now this popular Government which is a Congress Government and which has committed itself to Harijan uplift, has given Rs. 40,300. An increase of Rs. 7,000 is not enough for 81 lakhs of Harijans. Further the allotment includes other communities also such as Christians and Anglo-Indians. They no longer move with the Harijans. So, are you going to give it to others? If it is for Harijans it must be given to Harijans alone. As regards exemption from payment of examination fees in 1945-46 it was Rs. 2,000. There is no difference now, the same Rs. 2,000 continues.

[Sri S. Nagappa] [3rd September 1946]

"I cannot say that the Congress Government is helping us much in the matter of education. I request the Hon. Minister for Education to see that facilities are given to the Harijan community in the matter of education. Without education it is not possible for us to come up to the level of other communities.

"Now take the question of the S.S.L.C. text books. They are published very late. The teachers have to hurry up and the boys have to hurry up. How can you expect the boys to pass the examination, if the lessons are rushed through in such a haste? I think that the present system requires a thorough overhaul.

"As regards selections, I think that the teachers must be given a place in the S.S.L.C. Board.

"Now on the question of secondary education, I wish to point out that the Government have done very little indeed for the Harijan community. The Harijan boys in this respect are under a very serious handicap. They have to compete with boys of other communities and especially the Brahman community. These Brahmans have been the intellectual people ever since the world began. These people do not allow the Harijan boys to go up. In fact, they prevent the Harijans from getting education. It would be sheer injustice if the Harijan boys are asked to compete with the boys of other communities in the field of education. I may again submit, Sir, that it is the Brahman community that has stopped the progress of education among the Harijans. Even the Sastras are not allowed to be learned by us. That is our present position. I request the Government to take steps to see that the present system of secondary education is changed to suit the needs of the Harijan community and that more allotment of funds is made for that purpose.

"So far as compulsory elementary education is concerned, I think it is only a piecemeal reform. I submit, Sir, that compulsory education should be introduced throughout the province at a single stroke. The present progress of compulsory education is very slow and it will take some ages, before we can bring the whole province under the compulsory education scheme.

"Then what about adult education? Nothing has been done in this respect also. I request the Hon. the Minister for Education to see that adult education is introduced as soon as possible."

* SRI K. CHANDRAMOULI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, after one hundred and fifty years of foreign education, the country has been so reduced and has become so denationalized, that we have been thinking only in terms of sections and sub-sections, tribes and sub-tribes and so on. There is no talk about a unitary ideal. It is a very pitiable and sorry plight indeed. But now at least, after we have learnt the lessons from other countries, we should see that this country also progresses on sound lines and in the proper direction.

It is a pitiable thing indeed that Members are speaking only in terms of sections. Of course, every one should have opportunities and equal opportunities should be given to all. Of course, every one should become a good citizen not only to advance his own interests, but also to serve the interests of the society as well. That should be the aim of education and with that ideal in view, our education should be imparted only in the mother tongue, which is the most natural and easy way and which is being taught to us even from our very birth. Unless the whole system of education, from top to bottom, from the elementary education stage to the University education stage and even in the post-graduate stage, is thoroughly reformed and taught in the mother tongue, there would not be any progress or any healthy improvement in the country and we cannot compete with other countries also. I therefore appeal to all hon. Members to give up this sectional bias and see that we are all unified. We have to see that our system of education is directed on proper lines, so that the whole country shall progress simultaneously and as a whole. Hon. Members have criticized that our present system of education has been mainly responsible for enslaving us and making us fit only as clerks and that we are no better than hewers of wood and drawers of water. So the present method of education has to be thoroughly changed to suit our conditions and our genius. In our country, most of the people are living in villages and agriculture is our main occupation. So, in any future reform of education, agriculture and cottage industries should find a prior place and should form the foremost plank. If a boy is given education from childhood on the above lines, that is to say, centering his education round a craft or a cottage industry, and if this kind of education is encouraged, surely in course of time he will become an independent and self-reliant citizen and he will have no need to depend upon others for his daily needs.

"One point I want to say regarding University education. I personally feel that as far as possible University education must be free and the State must aid it. It should have an independent bias. It should be liberal and eschewed from all party politics and sectional bias. We cannot hope to have healthy citizenship and a healthy all-round progress in our society and in our country if we have University education which is not liberal, free and independent. I therefore suggest that the University education should be entrusted to a Special Board which will go into these matters carefully and see that education is directed upon right lines.

"Lastly, I want to say a word regarding pandits. These pandits are now relegated to the background. Their claims have been ignored and they are placed in a distinctly inferior status. I request the Hon. Minister for Education to see that their claims are considered and that they are placed on an equal footing with the English educated degree-holders, both as regards pay and status."

* SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, after the very fighting speeches that have been delivered on the floor of the House and when the whole atmosphere of the House has been saturated with communal virus, I shall try to make my matter-of-fact speech and place before this House and this Government a few grievances concerning educational matters in the Ceded districts in the hope that they will receive the early attention of the Government and also plead for certain special concessions in view of the admittedly backward state of these districts. I am encouraged to put forward this plea, because in his Budget speech the Hon. the Premier was good enough to make a special reference to the Rayalaseema districts and point out how they have been neglected in the past. I hope that such neglect will not be allowed to continue in the future.

“Sir, in the matter of education, Rayalaseema is very backward when compared with the other districts. I shall begin with elementary education. Quite recently in Anantapur more than a hundred elementary schools were closed down at one stroke of the pen and in my own district of Kurnool also, I hear some forty or fifty schools are to meet with similar treatment. I wonder how the Government can claim that they are encouraging primary education, by introducing compulsory elementary education on the one hand, but at the same time ordering the closure of a number of elementary schools on the other. This has led to a very absurd and ludicrous position and we are not able to give any sort of explanation to the people whose educational progress has thus received a severe blow. I have particularly raised this question with a view to draw the attention of the Hon. the Minister for Education and to request him to see that the orders closing down the schools are cancelled. Besides doing this, I would also request him to explain why these schools have been ordered to be closed down and also to see that such irregular and absurd things do not take place in future.

“Sir, the spread of elementary education in the districts depends upon the availability of funds in the district boards and for this purpose the district boards are levying an educational cess based on the land revenue that the district derives. In poor districts like the Ceded Districts, we get very little land revenue as the land is poor and the taram rates are low and consequently very little educational cess is derived by the district boards. If the Government adopt the present rule that they will contribute only an amount equal to the amount of educational cess derived by the district boards, then our districts are bound to suffer. That rule amounts to this, that richer districts which derive larger educational cess will receive greater contribution from Government and poorer districts which derive less educational cess will get less contribution from the Government. This policy is very wrong and very bad. The educational needs of the backward districts like the Ceded Districts can never be met with, if the Government continue the present policy. I would therefore suggest that for the backward districts like the Rayalaseema, the Government should give a special subsidy on the per capita basis, that is to say, that the Government subsidy should be based on the number of students actually going to the schools. That, I think, would be an equitable way of solving the problem of elementary education in backward districts.

[3rd September 1946] [Sri N. Venkatasubbayya]

“The same reason, namely, paucity of funds, is again responsible for the poor growth of secondary education in the Ceded Districts. In my district of Kurnool very few high schools have been started by the district board. The people of the district, poor as they are, have been making herculean efforts to start some more high schools out of their own private enterprise and initiative. In certain places they have been able to pool their slender resources together and start a few high schools as for example at Dhone, Nandikotkur, Giddalore and Allagadda. But that is not sufficient. If the educational needs of the district are to be fully satisfied, there should be at least three high schools in every taluk. I would therefore suggest that at least some more middle and high schools may be started either by the Government or the district board as at the following places:—

High school at Pyapally in Dhone taluk.

Middle school at Maddikera in Pattikonda taluk.

Middle school at Velgode in Nandikotkur taluk.

Middle schools at Kodumur and Gudur in the Kurnool taluk.

Middle school at Chagalamarri in Sirvel taluk.

Middle school at Owk in Koilkuntla taluk.

Middle school at Panyam in Nandyal taluk.

Middle school at Yerragondapalem in Markapur taluk.

“If these middle schools are started in these areas, they would later develop into high schools and go a long way towards the spread of secondary education.

“I now come to the colleges. The same sad story obtains in regard to collegiate education also. Sir, we have a Government College at Anantapur where the accommodation is very limited and students going to this college are not able to secure admission because there is no room for Science courses. We have another college started by private enterprise at Bellary, but its funds are very limited and it is not able to meet the needs of the Ceded Districts. I would therefore suggest that the Government would be pleased to take steps to start two more colleges, one at Kurnool and the other at Cuddapah for meeting the collegiate education of the Rayalaseema.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“The hon. Member has exhausted the time allotted to him.” ⁴ p.m.

* SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“One more minute, Sir; I come from a backward district.” (Laughter.)

“Sir, before the present academic year began, the members of the Rayalaseema district presented a joint memorandum to the Education Minister and pleaded for more seats in the Engineering and Medical Colleges for students from their districts. I do not know what the Hon. Minister has done with that petition. I should like to remind him about it and request him to see that more seats are made available to the backward districts in future at least. I make this particular request because I know that after we gave this memorandum a number of students who, even on merit—yes, merit has been widely discussed here—could have been given admission to the Engineering and Medical Colleges have been turned back, the principals not being even courteous enough to grant interviews to the students and their parents.

“ I next come to another small but none the less important point relating to the granting of scholarships for foreign studies. A press report stated that 44 candidates have been selected by the Madras Government. There was one brilliant B.Sc. student who got a second class and narrowly missed a first class. He was the only boy, so far as I know, who applied from Rayalaseema. His name is Mr. C. V. Subramaniam from Nandyal. In spite of his pleading before the Education Minister in person with some Members of the Legislative Assembly he did not get a scholarship. I think that some small mercy could have been shown to him and he might have been selected. I find from press reports that there are six more seats to be filled. I should be glad if one of the six seats could be given to this boy.”

*MR. SPEAKER:—“ The hon. Member will please resume his seat. There are other hon. Members eager to speak. The Hon. the Leader of the Opposition will speak now.”

*SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“ Sir, I have only one more point.”

*MR. SPEAKER:—“ I have already called upon the Leader of the Opposition to speak. The hon. Member Mr. Venkatasubbayya will please resume his seat.”

*M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, so much has been said about the desirability and necessity of imparting religious instruction in the schools and colleges and about the study of religion forming part of the education given to the boys and girls of this province, particularly the Muslim boys and girls that there is hardly any need for me to take up the time of the House by dwelling on the subject. I shall only give a quotation from the most important organ of the country from which our friends in this country want to take examples of democracy and from which we want to learn many things. Referring to the argument against making provision for religious instruction by the State that paper says:

‘ It is mischievous because it encourages the fallacy that essential education can be completed by secular education alone and that the teaching of religion is merely a kind of optional supplement. The truth of course is that religion must form the very basis of any education worth the name and that education with religion omitted is not really education at all.’

“ Again, Sir, the same paper says:

‘ Again and again the obvious fallacy recurs that education is one thing and religious education quite another. It is the right purpose of national education to produce men and women with healthy bodies and intelligent minds and the immense sums devoted to this purpose are well-spent. The highest educational aim is to produce good citizens. The basis of good citizenship’

*MR. SPEAKER:—“ The hon. Member should not read continuously. He can read something here and there.”

3rd September 1946]

*M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ One sentence more, Sir. This is a very important quotation. The paper says:

‘ The basis of good citizenship is character and a man's character depends upon his beliefs.’

“ If this is so, Sir, how can the State afford to ignore these simple principles and take the view that the teaching of religion is a task with which it has no direct concern. Amongst other things, this is what that paper, ‘ The Times ’ of London wrote on 17th February 1940. This is not an ante diluvian idea expressed by somebody years ago or decades ago. This view was expressed after the Second World War broke out. This is the truth expressed now so forcefully by the ‘ Times,’ to which the Muslims have been clinging all along. It is not only for producing good citizenship according to Islam that religious instruction is required. But even to produce proper intelligence and proper physical results, religious instruction is required. Any way, Sir, that is the idea of the Muslims. The Muslims cannot be forced to give up this fundamental idea and ideal of theirs. If they have to progress in education, then this fact has to be recognized. And the Government have already recognized that education must take religion as one of its essential parts at least so far as the Muslims are concerned. It is also for this purpose, Sir, that the Muslims have been asking the Government for separate schools for Muslims.

“ Sir, some of our friends have spoken against this idea of separate schools for Muslims. But I say this country of so many diversities it is harmony that we should strive at, and not unification, physical and visual unification of things and men. Therefore, if you want to produce harmony, you have to recognize the differences between the various communities and you have to afford them facilities to develop according to their differential methods. I do not want to say anything disparaging to the other friends and communities. I am only speaking of the requirements of my own community. Sir, for the maintenance and development of harmony between the various people, I say the maintenance and increase in the number of separate schools are a vital necessity. As it is, these mixed schools, joint schools, cause friction. There we find that the Muslim sentiments and the Muslim rights and privileges are not being respected not only by the pupils but also by the teachers at times. I know, Sir, schools innumerable in number do not give a holiday to the Muslim boys and girls even on Id day. Not only that. Even examinations are being held on such Id days so that the Muslim boys are put in a dilemma. What will be their feeling? When others are having their holidays whenever they want, the Muslim boys and girls are denied even the very few holidays that are recognized by the Government. This and similar things produce bitterness among them and this bitterness they carry in their after-life. So I say it is better to have separate schools so that this bitterness may be eliminated at least from the minds of as many as possible and they may be enabled to contribute to the harmonious life which they have to lead in the after-life along with the members of the other communities. There are other arguments also in support of the existence of the separate schools. But I need not go into them. It is too late in the day, in the year of grace 1946, to be put to the necessity of justifying the existence of such schools.

"Merit, Sir, has been mentioned very frequently in debates in this House because of the order issued recently by the new Government. One of our friends was very angry with the Muslims. Of course he is justified in trying to protect his interests, but at the same time he must also know that others too have got their rights to protect and their privileges to protect. While they are speaking of those rights and privileges, it was not proper on his part to invoke Calcutta and other places and ask us to learn a lesson from that. I want to tell him, and also other people of his way of thinking, that of all peoples, Muslims are not the people who will be cowed down by such threats and coercion. Muslims have seen such coercion in the past. They have always been in a minority in many parts of the world and yet their privileges and rights would not be crushed and they are existing to-day and they will exist always."

* SRI P. NATESAN:—"May I rise to a point of order, Sir? I want to draw the attention of the Hon. Speaker to the rules which have fixed a certain number of hours for each Demand."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"If the hon. Member is referring to the rule which prescribes four hours for each Major Demand, I may repeat here, what I have already said, that those rules were made several years ago."

* SRI P. NATESAN:—"I thought until the rules are changed they hold the field."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"We are also working out of hours. That also the hon. Member should take into account."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"See, Sir, how this question of merit has reacted on the several communities. You should compare the figures of admission into the two professional colleges made this year with the figures of admission which the different communities should have secured under the communal Government Order. Then you can realise the extent of the grievance felt by the various communities affected adversely by this merit order. Already this merit business was there. Even in the past, students were being admitted on their merit. Certain standards had been fixed and only those that came up to those standards were being admitted into the colleges. The first-class men among the various communities were preferred first and then those who had secured next best marks were admitted from among the various communities. After all is said and done, these institutions are meant for the creation of merit among the various communities. If you are going to debar the students of certain communities from being admitted into these colleges even at the outset, how are they to develop their merit in their after-life? Therefore, even in the name of merit, it is necessary that the old communal Government Order should be restored."

"Coming to the much vexed question of the regional language, 4-15 I think the Hon. Minister for Education would have done well if p.m. he had bestowed more thought upon this before he passed the order or gave instructions to the educational institutions to switch over to the new system thoroughly different from what had been obtaining only a few days ago. This order regarding the regional language has been, I am sorry to say, a very hasty one and it has already affected the interests of various communities. It is beyond question, that situated as we are, instruction in the regional language or the mother tongue as the medium of instruction without allowing for a preparatory or transitory period is producing and will produce various difficulties, which will work as a setback to the educational advancement of the whole of the Province. In the first place a number of Muslims in the Tamil districts, almost all the Muslims in the Madras City and all the Muslims in the Andhra districts have got Urdu as their mother tongue. This is a question of fact which I have repeated again and again. It is not a mere matter of opinion. If anybody says that the hall wherein we are meeting is not in the Fort St. George nobody will treat it as a matter of opinion. He who makes the statement will be asked to refer to somebody who knows Fort St. George. Sir, this question of Urdu being the mother-tongue of all the Muslims whom I have mentioned is a matter of fact and if the Government would not care to ascertain even this very evident fact, then I do not know how to characterise the order passed and the ideas expressed before this House. Sir, it will not be in the interests of education that these large sections of the population should be forced to take their instruction through the medium of a language which is not their mother-tongue and which is an alien language for them."

"Secondly, Sir, when the regional language is made the medium of instruction the managements of schools ought to be given time to make sufficient arrangements for carrying out these instructions. They must find out text-books on non-language subjects, they must find teachers for teaching the various branches of learning in the regional language and they must also make provision for the teachers who are already existing in their institutions. The Government, so far as we know, have not given any satisfactory indication of what is to be done in all these matters. Though there are text books in the Urdu language on non-language subjects, I do not think there are text-books in the other languages on these subjects. Text books have to be produced and teachers have to be trained in all these text books."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Hon. Leader of the Opposition may be as brief as possible."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Yes, Sir. Once again I want to make it clear that the Muslims cannot be forced and would not allow themselves to be forced to give up their mother-tongue. This has to be recognized and sufficient provision has to be made for imparting instruction in Urdu for those whose mother-tongue is Urdu."

[M. Muhammad Ismail Sahib Bahadur] [3rd September 1946]

"I learn that the S.S.L.C. Board has been reconstituted and recognized into a Secondary Education Board for the entire Province. The Board, it is said, consists of 25 members. Of these 25 members there is not a single person who is a Muslim. At least four of them, if not more, must be Muslims. The Muslim Educational Association of South India which represents the intelligentsia and includes eminent educationists from amongst the Muslims of this Province has made representations on this and various other subjects. Our complaint is that those representations have not been treated in the way in which they ought to be treated. That Association by itself is entitled by virtue of its status to representation on this Board. Now, I understand that 11 more Members have to be nominated to this Board by the Government. At least in nominating these Members I hope the Government would somehow see that the Muslims get their proper representation on this Board.

"The Muslims have got various grievances that their educational interest has not been cared for. Now we have to be thankful to the Government for having made a provision of Rs. 4 lakhs for opening science groups in the Government Muhammadan College. There are rumours in the City that the Government is trying to cry a halt with regard to the progress of the scheme. I do not think that there is any basis in them; but however, in view of the anxiety felt by the Muslims I have mentioned this. The Muslims are anxiously awaiting the day when these science courses will be opened in the new buildings which are to be built very soon.

"Again I hope that the buildings for the new college for Muslim women will also be expedited. Not only that; I hope that a suitable hostel will also be provided for that college. My hon. Friends who spoke before me have mentioned the Malappuram and Tirur high schools and the great necessity for having hostels attached to them and also of the necessity of raising them to the status of colleges ere long. I hope Government will pay due attention to these requests of the Muslims. Then, Sir, the Islamia High School in Trichinopoly was taken over by the Government about 25 years ago, and until to-day it has not been provided with a building. Now, I am told that the Government is paying attention to the matter and I expect that very soon it will be housed in its own building. Ambur has come forward and Pernambut has come forward with requests for building grants for their respective schools and I expect that the Government will mete out sufficient encouragement for them and will give them the grants so that they may have their much-needed buildings in the very near future.

"Sir, my hon. Friends have put forward a request for the constitution of a Board of Muslim Education consisting of Muslim members of the Legislature and other Muslim educationists. This is a vital matter concerning Muslim education and it is essential for giving the proper stimulus and proper direction to the course of Muslim education. Muslims feel very strongly on the constitution of some such board as that and the Government should not think that it is merely as a piece of rhetoric that that demand has been put forward but should take it in earnest in the interests of the education of the Muslims of the Province. Apart from that, I would also suggest, that in view of the confusion that is existing in the field of education to-day and of the conflicting views that are being expressed about Muslim education and for other important reasons, a Commission or Committee be appointed to go into the matter thoroughly and make recommendations to the Government so that all these questions of opinion and facts can be laid at rest finally and the Muslims might feel that they are secure in their right of having their education according to their requirements, according to their culture and according to their needs and religion. I would request the Government to seriously consider this matter and appoint at a very early date such a Commission or Committee to go into the whole matter.

"I would refer to one or two items of general interest in the budget. I find in the budget an item concerning the contribution payable to the Government of India for investigation of the mineral resources of India but I do not find any provision made against that item. I do not know the reason for the omission. I do not know whether the Government think that such an investigation of the mineral resources of India is not necessary or whether sufficient investigation has already been made. I do not think the latter is the case, as the investigation already made is not sufficient. That has not brought to light all the mineral resources and the amount of mineral wealth our Province possesses. That is a very important matter concerning the economic well being of our Province. This item has been included in the demand for Education. Therefore it is that I refer to it now. There was an idea sometime ago. I do not know from whom it emanated that the whole Province should be mapped from the point of view of the mineral resources. I thought it was a good idea and it would contribute towards the material progress of our Province. Even now it is not too late and I think that the Government will take it up in all seriousness.

"Again, Sir, a very small amount of Rs. 600 has been provided for stipend to students going to Dhanbad to study in the Indian School of Mining. That school is an important school. It is the only one of its kind, I am told, east of the Suez, apart from some similar education that is being giving in the Benares University in the B.Sc. Courses. The Dhanbad school is unique in its character and it has been imparting useful instruction in mining and mine-engineering. Therefore many more students of our Province must be enabled to take advantage of that institution, if we cannot constitute a similar school in our Province. The Government, I hope, will give proper importance to this subject also.

"Finally, I want once again to emphasise that all that we have said about our education is really a very very serious matter; we all feel very seriously and earnestly about matters educational. It is a cry, Sir, from our heart and it should not be treated as a mere rhetorical representation which has to be answered in the usual way. Our very existence depends upon education and the type of education which we have pictured before you. Our culture and our religion are more than life to us. Therefore, the Government must recognize these facts and enable us to progress on lines on which we want to progress. I also want to impress upon the Government that such recognition of the Muslim's rights alone will be conducive to the harmonious relationship of the various communities in this Province. There is to be no ignoring of this fact and that too at such a late stage as this."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Hon. Minister for Education will now reply. As the Hon. Prime Minister also wants to make a reply, the Hon. Minister for Education may be as brief as possible."

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am grateful to the numerous members who have taken part in this discussion and evinced their great interest in matters educational. While I am grateful to them, I must at the outset, say that many of their statements have proceeded out of some misunderstanding. To cite one instance, such a very respectable hon. Member as the Hon. the Leader of the Opposition, spoke about the reconstitution of the S.S.L.C. Board and said that there was no Muslim on that Board. But in fact, Sir, that Board has not been reconstituted at all. I do not know from where he got that idea that there was no Muslim on the Board. Unless it be by the logic that as there is no Board there is no Muslim in it, there is no other way in which he could have come to that conclusion."

"I shall now proceed to deal with some of the points which have been raised by the various members of the House. In doing so, I would like to impress upon the House the few words, which came from the mouth of one of the hon. Members on the Opposition, Mr. Majeed. If I do not mention the name correctly, it is not due to any wanton mistake but due to the fact that I don't know it properly. The hon. Member said that we should keep out politics from education. May I repeat that request and may we consider education from the point of view of the greatest good of this great country. Let us look at it from a greater angle of vision free from petty partisan point of view and consider the question on its own merits. With this introduction, Sir, I should like to deal with the objections raised to basic education. Many hon. Members have said that they do not agree with basic education. Unfortunately, Sir, they have not cared to study the subject. Sir, all the people condemn the present education; they all want a change including Mr. Town who said that this education does not succeed in producing good human material, and that it produces only clerks, and efficient subordinates. They say that we want a man-making education, an education which will make people independent, bold and straightforward. We have been saying it for decades. But may I ask hon. Members whether they have got any constructive scheme? As far as I see, no constructive scheme has been proposed except the one scheme which has come—unfortunately from the other side—from Mahatma Gandhi. Sir, I request them to examine the scheme on its merits, forgetting for the moment that it has come from Wardha and forgetting for the moment that it has been proposed by Mahatma Gandhi. Let it be considered on its merits. Let me assure hon. Members that the Government of India, especially in those years when we were 'out in the woods' and 'ploughing the sands' were not pro-Congress; the Government of India were the last people who could be accused of any partisan feeling towards the party led by Mahatma Gandhi, and it is that Government—and an Englishman who considered the question on behalf of the Government, a distinguished educationist by name John Sargent—who had approved the scheme. Very eminent Mussalmans have approved of the scheme. May I just read a few lines from that report of the eminent educationist, the Central Board of Education, which though oft quoted, has been little understood? If only that report had been really understood, there would have been no misgivings about basic education. This is what is stated on page 7 of the report:

"Basic primary education as envisaged by the Central Advisory Board embodies many of the educational ideas contained in the original Wardha Scheme though it differs from it in certain important particulars. The main principle of education through activity has been endorsed by educationists all over the world (including Russia). At the lower stages, the activity will take many forms leading gradually up to a basic craft or crafts suited to local conditions so far as possible. The whole of the curriculum will be harmonised with this general conception."

I do not want to read any more from this report. I will only say this: that to-day education is bookish. It is not only in this country but everywhere in the world that people want to correlate education to activity and to local conditions. I have heard it said over and over again by eminent Muslims and members of the Muslim League, but when the thing is sought to be done, they object to it. Sir, we seem to have got into a habit of objecting to anything that is being done. (Hon. Members from Muslim League Party: 'No, Sir. Question.') Take any educationist, anybody who has studied about education and he will say that book-centered education is the worst education that can be given to the children of any country. What is needed is the training of the heart, the hands and the eyes of the students and that can only be done through activity. Project methods and many other methods have been born out of this conception of education through activity. What Mahatma Gandhi has done is only one thing; instead of having various projects which will be too costly and which cannot be afforded by this poor country, let there be one constructive craft through which you can impart education. Not only that, while learning other things, the pupil will be learning a craft also and at the end of the period of basic education, there will not be any necessity for him to go to a craft school separately. By the end of the senior basic school course, the student will be useful to the society as a craftsman in various ways. Is this wrong? Nothing of the sort, Sir.

"I now come to the opinion given by a distinguished Muslim educationist to whom I have no doubt the Members of the Muslim League will have great regard. I am referring to Professor K. G. Saiyadain, who was Professor of Education in the Aligarh University."

[3rd September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Hon. Minister is not able to pronounce his name properly."

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"It should be pronounced as Saiyadain."

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I stand corrected, Sir. This gentleman is a B.A., T.D., M.Ed., and was Principal of the Training College and Professor of Education in Aligarh Muslim University for twelve years before he took up in 1938 his present position as Director of Education, Jammu and Kashmir State. He is the author of many books such as 'The School of the Future (1935)'. Let me point out what he says about basic education. He is a Muslim himself."

* SRI B. GOPALA REDDI:—"Is he a member of the Muslim League?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I do not know, Sir. Education must be above party. This gentleman says:

'The scheme of Basic National Education, with which is associated the name of Mahatma Gandhi, is perhaps the most significant and radical attempt so far made to reconstruct primary education from this point of view.'

* * * *

This education is to be basic, i.e., related to the basic interests of the child mind and the basic occupations of community life. And as the mind of the child is an active, pragmatic and social organism and the life of the community is sustained through various types of craftwork, education, too, must centre round some suitable basic craft, chosen with due regard to the occupations of the locality.' (pp. 16-17 of Oxford University Pamphlet No. 15—The Educational System.)

I do not want to read more from this pamphlet, but I would like to reply to one statement which has been made by some hon. Members on the other side of the House . . . "

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"On a point of information, Sir. May I ask whether there is not a minute of dissent to the Sargent Report put in by some Muslim members of the Sargent Committee?"

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"That relates to want of religious education in the scheme. I shall deal with that point later on, Sir."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir, does the Hon. Minister know, Sir, that the National Planning Committee has very recently stated that teaching through handicrafts will be spiritually harmful to the children?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I shall deal with the point later on, Sir. A statement was made that the children were sought to be exploited by the system. It is entirely wrong, Sir. It is the craft which is sought to be exploited for the education of the children. Let me tell the House, Sir, that of all the constructive schemes which have been put forward during the last twenty years and more, there has been no scheme which has been so universally accepted, not by one party alone, but by all educationists throughout the country, as this scheme. If it is opposed anywhere, it is due to political reasons, because they do not agree with certain nomenclatures, they do not agree with . . . " (Some hon. Muslim Members: 'No, no.')

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Not universally accepted either."

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I would like to say this, Sir, that it is this education which will develop the best in the individual child. And if I were not well inclined towards the Muslims and if I were badly inclined towards them, I would have agreed to allow the Muslim children to continue to be educated under the present type of education, and all the other children to be educated under this new method of education. Do you think it will be good for the Muslim children? It will be very bad for them. Therefore in their own interest, I should not allow such a thing."

"I shall now deal with the question of the pay of teachers. To put into practice any system of education well-trained teachers are very essential. Much has been said about the need for raising the status of the teachers. I do think, Sir, that their status does require improvement and their pay does require enhancement. It is not intended to stop with the two rupees that we gave on the last occasion. It is only a token of our earnestness in the matter. I hope the Committee which has been appointed recently will go into the matter and do justice to the teachers."

"Sir, in this connexion I would like to refer to the statements which have been made to the effect that the present-day teacher is not of the best quality. It is quite true. We must improve the quality of the teachers. Statements have been made that the general qualifications of the teachers are too low. It is quite true. The Government are not satisfied with the quality of the present teachers, but as practical politicians we have to remember that we want a number of teachers, we want them in thousands, and when we want them in thousands, it is not always possible to insist on quality. While we would like to have the Higher Grade Training course abolished when the time comes, we will have to wait for that day, we will have to wait for some time till we can produce a better type of teachers to man our schools."

"Now, Sir, while on the question of teachers, I would like to say a word about the status of pandits and munshis. Certainly, Sir, they require improvement in their status and the Government will consider the question."

"Now I come to the much vexed question of 'regional language'. I appreciate, Sir, the anxiety of some of the Members of the Opposition to have the teaching of their children in the mother-tongue. The question has been put to me—and I shall not specify the persons who put me the question—‘will the Muslims be taught in Urdu or in English?’ I cannot understand that question, Sir. If they are for teaching only in Urdu, I can understand it.”

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“I may point out, Mr. Speaker, that so far as Muslim girls are concerned, it is very difficult to get teachers for the present who will teach in Urdu; we are not having sufficient staff for the purpose; and therefore, in some schools, it is necessary to have English as the medium in the high school classes.”

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—“It is exactly to that I am referring, Sir. So, they will prefer English to the regional language. It was the Leader of the Opposition who used this unfortunate expression—I use the word ‘unfortunate’ advisedly. He said he would prefer English; he said the regional language is an alien language for them. He used this expression and I have quoted him from the notes I have taken. He said that Telugu, to a Muslim in Andhradesa, is an alien language. I am sorry for his attitude. It is an attitude of mind which is not good to anybody which is not one that will cement the various communities together.”

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—“On a point of explanation, Sir. When Urdu is the mother-tongue of Muslims, any other language is surely alien to them from that point of view.”

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—“While thanking the Leader of the Opposition for his explanation, I am sorry for that unfortunate attitude which would call the regional language an alien language. Hon. Members on the other side would prefer English; they would prefer to be taught through English rather than be taught through the regional language when Urdu is not obtainable. Is it a fair attitude, I ask? I do not want to take up more time on this point; I will leave the House to judge for itself.

“I have been asked the reasons why we have made the regional language the compulsory medium of instruction. The hon. Mr. Town very jocularly and nicely and very seriously, if I may say so, said that American and English should be taken with benefit as the lingua franca of India. I would first make it clear to this House why the Government have said that the medium of instruction should be the regional language. To-day, higher education in the higher standards and in the high school is through the medium of English. That is the reason why there is such a big gulf between the educated and the uneducated in this country. Go to any country in the world; you will find that the gulf between the educated and uneducated is not so wide; because in those countries the teaching is through the language of the country itself. In those countries, anybody who has had some education in his own language can easily follow up the higher courses of study because that knowledge is available in his language. He may be a woodcutter, but still if he has some education he can acquire the highest knowledge in his own language.”

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know from the Hon. Minister what is the report which he has read just now. Was it a report of the Central Board or the Wardha Scheme, that he read about the medium of instruction?”

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—“It is like the Scotchman’s humour, Sir. The Scotchmen, Sir, do not understand humour. He heard a joke in his office. He could not understand it then. When he was in bed the joke dawned upon him and he started violently laughing and his wife asked him what is the matter. He said somebody made a joke while in his office. I have finished referring to the book a long time ago. I shall be glad to tell my friend wherefrom I read the passage afterwards; but I won’t like to be disturbed now, Sir, while I am on this subject.

“Why we want the regional language to be the medium. It is most necessary in this country that the masses should be educated. It would not serve the purposes of this country if only a few people were educated. After a hundred and fifty years of herculean effort, what is it that has happened to-day? You find that not even 1 per cent, not even .001 per cent of the population knows proper English. And people talk about graduates. What is the standard of even their knowledge?”

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Sir, may I know why he is talking of the ‘regional language’ and not the mother-tongue of the people?”

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—“I am coming to that. The real reason is, as I said, there is a great gulf between the educated and the uneducated in this country; there are only a few people who can be counted on the fingers, a few hundreds at the most, who have obtained higher knowledge; and the ordinary man, in spite of the so-called English education, has not attained any high standard of knowledge. For a long time we have kept our masses at a very low ebb; they ought to come up. If as hon. Members say our masses should be educated, our masses should be and can be educated only in the regional language.

“Now, Sir, I shall answer the question which the hon. the Leader of the Opposition has put. He said ‘Why not use the words “mother-tongue” instead of the words “regional language”?’ That is for a very good reason, that is a reason which anybody will accept and a reason which will weigh with any Government that may be in power. Suppose we say that education should be in the mother-tongue. My friend the Leader of the Opposition, of course, speaks in Tamil. Supposing an order is issued that education should be given in the mother-tongue, there may be half-a-dozen Muslim boys in a school speaking a language which is not the regional language of the area; they may claim as a matter of right that they should have a separate set of teachers to teach them through that medium. It is not possible. I do not think any Government can accept that proposition. We want to be quite fair; we do not want to deceive anybody, nor say one thing and do another. So, Sir, I say, advisedly and for reasons which any Government and any fair-minded person will accept, we have used the expression 'regional language'.

"While saying this, I must come to the statement made by some Members that all Muslims in the Andhradesa have Urdu as their mother-tongue. Let me honestly confess, Sir, I do not know much about the mother-tongue of the Muslims in Andhra; I may know something of Andhradesa, but not about the mother-tongue of Muslims there. But I will say this: I shall read from a book which was certainly not written by me or written at a time when we have been discussing these questions; it was written many years back. I refer to the 'Castes and Tribes of Southern India' by E. Thurston. Let me read a few lines of what he says: There is a set of Muslims who are called Dudekulas:

'The Dudekulas are described by Mr. W. Francis as a Muhammadan caste of cotton-cleaners and rope and tape-makers. They are either converts to Islam, or the progeny of unions between Mussalmans and the women of the country. Consequently they generally speak the Dravidian languages—either Kanarese or Telugu.'

* ABDUL MAJEED SAHIB BAHADUR:—"For the information of the Hon. Minister, I may say that the percentage of Dudekulas is very very insignificant and they are found only in certain areas. He cannot apply that principle to all the Muslims of the Andhradesa."

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"But this is quite enough for me to prove that all the Muslims of Andhradesa cannot say that their mother-tongue is not Telugu."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it mere logic that the Minister is indulging in or does he take into account the facts?"

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Now, Sir, I come to another aspect of the question. Supposing I concede that the Muslims may be taught through Urdu wherever their mother-tongue happens to be Urdu. I know claims have been made at question time that all the Muslims in Andhradesa should be taught through Urdu. I am glad, Sir, that that position has now been given up and it is now said that such of the Muslims as have Urdu as their mother-tongue should be taught in Urdu. Supposing, as I said, the Government concedes the point that all the Muslims in Andhradesa be taught through the medium of Urdu, what will happen? Let us now examine the question seriously. What is their population in the Andhradesa? Their population is 958,071, according to the 1931 census. (Mahboob Ali Baig Sahib Bahadur: 'It is 13 lakhs'.) It may be so, now and what is the population of Andhradesa? It is 116,932,200. What is the proportion, I ask? It may be 5 or 6 per cent. It may be to-morrow, we are going to divide our provinces according to linguistic areas. We are looking forward to that time when this will be done. From some of the questions put by some members of the Muslim League Party, it looks as if they are also equally anxious to have such a division of provinces on linguistic basis. If that comes about, the administration of Andhradesa will naturally be in the Telugu language. I ask, what is going to be the position of the children who are now to be taught in Urdu in such a province? The administration will then consist mostly of men and women who have had their education and training in their regional language, excepting the few who have had it through Urdu. Already the question has been taken up by some friends—I won't like to disclose their names—that boys who have passed out of the colleges with language other than Telugu, have not been able to get a decent job. In fact, a representation was made to me by a respectable member of the Opposition, belonging to the Muslim League Party—I shall not give out his name—that because a boy could not appear and pass in Tamil, he has been ejected from his post; and similarly representations have been made that Andhra boys who were educated through the medium of Urdu could not be employed. I understand that during the Advisers' regime, an order was passed laying down that Urdu should be taught only in municipal areas where the Muslims were found in a fairly good number. If the difficulty has already arisen to-day, I ask, what will happen to-morrow. I say tomorrow the difficulty will be felt all the greater. People who are qualified are jealous that they are not having a share in the administration of the country. It may be quite right, but, I say you will be disqualifying yourself for the public administration by this method, if the Government agree that the medium of instruction shall be Urdu. Government have therefore, in drawing up a plan for education in the Province, have kept in view this particular aspect of the matter. We have to look after the interests of everybody and every community; we shall not be parties to issuing orders which will create eternal quarrels in this country between communities and communities, we have already got too much of them to-day. We won't like to be parties to increase their number. So, I say, advisedly, after deep consideration and after deep thought, the Government have come to this conclusion.

"Again, Sir, even if my friends from Andhra say that Telugu is alien to them, I cannot say that Urdu is alien to me. But Hindustani is a language which we want to make the lingua franca of India. It is a language which has two different scripts the Nagari and the Persian. If it is Nagari, it is called Hindi and if in Persian, it is called Urdu. So, it is not as if we have any prejudice against Urdu; it is not as if we do not want our young men and women to learn it. But looking ahead, looking to the important problems that we may be faced with in the future the Government have issued the orders they have, advisedly, as I said.

Now, Sir, I come to the next big plank of the Opposition. I 5 p.m. have been grateful to the hon. Members for the strong language

[Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar] [3rd September 1946] they have used but I find that the strong language is not so strong and having once been myself in Opposition using much stronger language, I do not see any wrong in using strong language."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. In order to make us decide as to our course of action, we should know clearly what the Hon. Minister's decision is so far as Urdu in Andhradesa is concerned."

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Also in the City of Madras."

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I have already answered that question. Now, I come to the question of twenty per cent reservation. Let me assure this House, when that decision was made, nothing was farther from our minds than to reserve anything for any particular community. I say as one who believes that there is merit in every community and as one who believes that the best in one community is equal to the best in any other community. In regard to this question it is true that one particular community got many seats. It has been represented to me that marks should not be the sole criterion by which merit can be judged. Neither did we say so. So far as the Government is concerned, it does not matter to what community or religion a particular person belonged but Government insists on having a certain proportion of the best men. The Tungabadra waters and the Godavari waters do not wait for the name of a community. We want our best men. We thought this was the best means by which the best men could be got. Suggestions are forthcoming that the best men need not be judged by marks alone and that the other communities should be preferred. Government will certainly consider the matter and as you know, Sir, this order is only for this year. We shall give the deepest consideration to the points raised by various Members of this House in this matter. Here, I must point out one thing. Mussalmans have not really suffered very much as will be seen from the fact that out of 44 applications for the Medical College, 43 have been selected; and out of 44 applications for the Engineering College, 33 have been selected. I speak subject to correction."

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Twenty-two according to my information."

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"The number of applications was 44 and the actual number selected is 32. There are other communities, mainly the Non-Brahmins have suffered, it is true. I shall not say anything more about it just now in regard to this."

"Coming to the question of religious education, Sir, religion, if it is to be real (Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'Very sacred.') must go to the fundamental nature of man and it must succeed in cementing men rather than forging hatred amidst them. Real religion should be a uniting force between the various diversities of human nature. Real religion will make for a nobler and higher life of man, and such a religion is no doubt welcome 3rd September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar] and it must be welcome. If by religion is meant the religion of the moulvis and pandits which would only succeed in forging sectionalism, that is not a desirable state of affairs; that is a thing which should not be encouraged. (Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'Do not have a wrong notion about religion.') Religion, Sir, has been exploited too much in the past—in fact they have had too many quarrels and was in the name of religion. Sir, we on this side of the House, and the Government are anxious to have a really and truly catholic religious education. In this connexion, I may tell the House, that there is a Sub-Committee of the Central Board of Education sitting to evolve what can be a real religious type of education, an education which will be tolerant, which will take the best of the religion of Islam, and others so that it will be a truly religious education, and we are awaiting the report of the committee."

"Now, Sir, I come to the problem of Education of the Muslims. The Mussalmans are like the great community to which my hon. Friend Mir Amiruddin and Ammannna Raja belong I mean women. They want, like women, special colleges for themselves and carriages reserved for them though all of them have a right to go into other people's carriages which are not reserved to them—men's carriages. Though Muslims want separate colleges they also want all other colleges to be open to them."

D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Because they have not got sufficient number of colleges."

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I heard from some member of the Muslim League side that they should have separate colleges for Harijans. Let them not drag in the Harijans here—God forbid that—when they do not want separate colleges for themselves, why do you want them? While on this problem, I must point out that claims have been made and rightly too, that backward classes should be given all encouragement in the matter of education and that Government should spend more funds if necessary for the education and uplift of these backward communities. The Government agree to that proposition; that is very different from saying, give me everything separate so that my community will not have anything to do with other communities. In this matter, I would like to tell you of the view of the Government in regard to this matter. The Government of India was in correspondence with this Government even before the Congress came to power. At that time Mr. Sargeant, a sound educationist, was at the head of affairs ('question.') There are people who are always questioning but we cannot be noticing these questions. When this question of a college for Muslims was mooted, he said, do not have separate colleges communally. When this Government came to power, it did not care for that. The announcement was made. We thought we shall not stop it. (Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'You could not stop it.') If the Government wanted, they could have stopped it but they did not do so. I do not want to say anything more about it at present except this. Educational institutions should not be intended for Hindus alone or the Mussalmans alone. Separate institutions are the bane of this country. From the very young stages, children are trained with a certain amount of suspicion in denominational institutions and the result is they get a lopsided view of things. If there is a separate school for Muslims, the students who are taught in those institutions do not come in contact with the Hindu boys and so even from the start, they begin to have a peculiar notion that the Hindus are a very bad people. Some politicians are no doubt interested in keeping up these differences and the result is these differences have continued to remain. (A voice: 'What about the Pachaiyappas College?') It is a private college. So, I say, Sir, advisedly that separate institutions are not good in the interests of this great country and may I say, they are not also in the interests of the Mussalmanoans themselves. (A voice from the Muslim group: 'We know it better.') Politicians' opinions are very doubtful. (Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'What are you?') I am something more than that. Separate institutions, I have seen and I have moved with those connected with such institutions. In those institutions, Sir, where Hindus and Muslims from their childhood have moved as friends, going arm in arm and with a common thought; they are without any suspicion in their minds. I would therefore request my hon. Friends on the other side to think over the matter. I do not want them to come to a decision now. If need be, let them ask for any increment in the funds allotted for the education of Muslims, for the enhancement of funds for backward communities. (A voice from Muslim Group: 'We are not going to beg.') But if it is to be for separate communal education, I say that this country has already ruined itself by it; let us not be a party to greater tragedies.

"Now, Sir, I would like to say something about adult education. As my hon. Friend pointed out, it is true, adult education has not received the attention in this country as much as it ought to have. This Government have called for practical proposals from the Director of Public Instruction and on receipt of those proposals Government will try to do what they can for adult education.

"About the conditions of schools and colleges, much has been said by some of the hon. Friends; they also stressed the need for more colleges in view of the rush that is obtaining in High Schools and Colleges at present. I hope this House and the Public know what the Government has done in this matter by asking the authorities of the schools and colleges and the Universities to permit students for working a fourth batch in the laboratories of the Colleges. By this, it enabled the admission of about 1,500 students in the Madras University area and of about 600 or 700 students in the Andhra University. I do not say that this is a matter for satisfaction. That these colleges are crowded is a matter which is engaging the serious attention of Government, and they are considering how this rush could be avoided in the future. While on this, I may say that Government have got certain plans for the future in which, I hope, it will get the co-operation of all hon. Members of this House and of persons outside in devising ways and means to bring out a satisfactory solution of this question. My hon. Friend, Mr. Pattabhiraman, gave certain expressions about the sufferings of students in hostels and that certain facilities should be given to them. It is true that while the number of students in the City are increasing extraordinarily, the hostel accommodation has not correspondingly increased. Government are seized of the matter and are giving due consideration to it. Though they cannot do anything at present, at least in the next year, it is hoped, that more accommodation will be made available.

"Now, I come to the question of Ceded districts. In the Rayalaseema there are about 53 high schools and there are some colleges. As the hon. Member for Kurnool told us, there is a college at Bellary, there is a college at Anantapur and two colleges in the Chittoor district—one at Madanapalle and the other at Tirupati, but Kurnool has no college at present. (D. Abdul Rawoof Sahib Bahadur: 'The Bellary college is likely to be closed at any time.') I am not so pessimistic as my hon. Friend. While on this matter, I would like to refer to the question of closing of certain schools which was raised by some Members. It was stated that some schools have been closed in the Rayalaseema districts; the reason for that is that funds did not permit the running of those schools. Government wanted to give a fresh fillip for education and have offered large sums of money to local bodies so that they can go ahead with education. But unfortunately, they started so many schools but they could not cope up with the expenditure involved. In fact Government have received certain suggestions from the presidents of district boards in regard to this matter to get over the difficulty. Government ordered that the funds allotted to them for the opening of new schools for this year may be utilized for running of the old schools. I do not know what has happened to this suggestion of Government, and how far the presidents of the district boards acted upon those suggestions. If any further representation is received from the presidents of the district boards, Government will certainly consider the matter sympathetically.

"I now come to the matter of University education. There was a suggestion from my hon. Friend, Mr. Gopala Reddi, for the strengthening of the higher aspect of education. That question also will be considered by Government.

"The other question raised by another hon. Member in regard to medical inspection in schools is also under the consideration of Government.

"Now, Sir, I am glad that an hon. Friend referred to certain portions prescribed in text-books, for instance, 'God Save the King' and such other things. I am sorry that they were there, even before we came in; the Congress Government would not prescribe these books. Next year this House will see these things will go and such things which will give strength to the mind of the youth of this great country will be in the text-books.

[Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar] [3rd September 1946]

Now I must also say a word to the friends who speak about the uplift of Harijans. I was sorry to hear from my hon. Friend Mr. Sahajananda—I know he has been doing great service to the Harijan community—that he has not been receiving proper encouragement from the authorities in his district. I have also received similar complaints from Trichinopoly and from some other districts and even in the City itself where certain Harijan boys who came from Calicut found difficulty in getting admission into colleges. I am glad to be able to tell you that if they contact the Educational Officer, they would certainly get them admitted, if their difficulties were pointed out to them. If cases of particular hardship of Harijan boys are brought to notice, Government will only be very pleased to come to the aid of these persons and do what they can for them.

“ My hon. Friend, Mr. P. Natesan, said certain words about training for artisanship. The Government have started many polytechnics and two Engineering colleges this year. That proves that Government is anxious to give technical training from the lowest to the highest grades, because industries require more trained men in the future.

“ He said certain words about corruption in private-managed institutions. I may tell him that Government are prepared to put down corruption with a heavy hand whoever the person may be. In fact, the public would have seen from the papers that we have taken suitable action even against some of the higher officials if they have been found guilty of corruption. In this matter, I hope the public will co-operate and give us all help that is necessary. No action can be taken on mere allegations, but they should be supported by proper evidence. There is no use of merely sending unsigned letter or letters under pseudonym. It is unfortunate that people have not yet learnt to represent properly and directly and if that is done and proper evidence is forthcoming, Government will certainly be prepared to take whatever steps are necessary to put down corruption either in the officers of the Government or in any private-managed institutions.

“ Certain remarks have been made about the liquidation of illiteracy, but before I deal with that subject, I should say a few words about Mappilla education. Many hon. Members referred to Mappilla education. Now, with reference to the Malappuram Government Secondary Training School, I may say that a site has been acquired for the construction of a hostel. In March last year the Director submitted the proposal for the construction of the hostel at an estimated cost of Rs. 2,25,000. It was decided that the proposal might be deferred for the time being in view of the high cost of materials. Government will be prepared to construct this hostel as soon as possible. With reference to the High School at Tirur, the High Schools Committee submitted proposals; the Director of Public Instruction reported that the revised plans and estimates have been called for and that they will be submitted to Government on receipt. These plans and estimates have not yet been received. There are now the following institutions maintained by Government specially for Mappillas. Government Secondary and Training Schools for Mappillas (Men) in Malappuram; the Government Training School for Mappilla Men, Cannanore; Government Mappilla Girls' School at Tirur and Government Middle School for Mappilla Girls, Tellicherry. There is also a Government Muslim High School for Boys at Kasargod and a Government Secondary School for Muslim Girls at Mangalore. There is also another Government School for Mappilla Girls at Tellicherry. (D. Abdul Rawoof Sahib Bahadur: ‘ There is no such school.’) I shall enquire into the matter. It will thus be seen that Government are trying to do what they can to raise the level of literacy among the backward classes of this country. (Sri P. Venkateswarlu: ‘ What about grants to universities?’) This matter also will be considered by Government.

“ Now I come to the most important aspect of the educational problem. Government have taken on hand the question of reorganization of education in this great country. Illiteracy must be liquidated and shall be liquidated. If that is to be done, it can be done only through the co-operation and with the help of all the parties in the country and of all the men and women in this country. In doing so, Sir, in rebuilding the educational policy, let us approach the problem in a truly prayerful spirit. Let us plan ahead, look ahead, think about the future of India, a strong and only respecting country; respected throughout the whole world. If that is to be done, we must as time goes on, lay stress on our unity and not on difference. While every community shall be free to protect its own culture, and is free to develop its traditions, it should not be inconsistent with the goodwill with the other communities; let us have the common wellbeing of this great country and of the people at large. If that is coming, there is great work ahead of us; and I hope, not only the Members of this House but all the thinking men and women of this country will co-operate with the Government in this great task ahead of us.”

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ On a point of explanation, Sir. The hon. Minister has not answered satisfactorily the several points raised by my party. He is insisting on sticking to his own views on this fundamental question of Muslim education. I am sorry that the Muslims cannot leave this thing here. I hope at least the Hon. the Premier, when he speaks, will give us a categorical assurance on the several points raised by us because I want to impress on the Government that this is a matter which touches the very existence of our community and that we cannot leave it there.”

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“ No answer has been given about the construction of a college for Muslim women in Madras.”

[3rd September 1946]

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Not only on the question of a College for Muslim women, Sir, but on the various other concrete items which myself and other friends have mentioned, no answer has been forthcoming, but above all on the fundamental questions, the Minister for Education seems to differ from us and he has not been able to meet our point of view. I want to know from the Hon. the Premier whether that is the attitude of his Government."

* SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"May I ask whether any Member is entitled to question the answers of the Government Members?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"He does not question the answers of the Hon. Minister; on the other hand, he wants an assurance from the Hon. Minister."

* THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Twenty-seven hon. Members have raised several points during the course of the discussion. If I am not able to answer all of them, it is not on account of any discourtesy to hon. Members but it is only for want of time, I could not reply to all of them. When another opportunity comes, I will be able to reply to them."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Speaker, education is a subject which is very essential for all the people that live in any country under any system of Government in the world. Controversies in the past had arisen in other parts of the world at a particular stage; but in this country political agitation for freedom has been carried on for the last sixty years. Out of these 60 years, 35 years were spent in what is known as constitutional agitation. There were new leaders like the late Ali Brothers and a new chapter was opened. I need not take the House into details of how it worked as it is all within living memory. After the British Government established themselves in this country, they started educational institutions—institutions that produced educated young men who would serve them by enabling them to carry on their administration. Their educational system had been introduced here in the place of the prevailing system which had been in existence for a very long time. Before the British came, the Muslims were ruling this country for good time. In the course of the discussions we have been asserting and stating facts as if there is no record and as if we have been the witnesses ourselves. On the contrary there are records to show the things existing in this country for centuries and thousands of years and for yugams. You can look into them and see what the system of education was even under the Muslim rule. The old educational institutions that had been serving the young ones of this country did not become extinct under the Muslim rule. No, not at all. Ancient educational institutions, ancient administration of villages, ownership of properties and the governance of people under the village administration, it must be said to the honour and credit of Muslim rulers, did not change, however unlike they may have been in point of temperament. Therefore, it is that to-day even after the lapse of so many centuries you have got records maintained with regard to people living in this country, their system of government and their land tenure and other things. I may tell hon. Members that before the ryotwari system was introduced in this country for revenue purposes and before the zamindaris were carved out and the zamindars became collection agents to enable the British company and their successors to collect revenue efficiently, quite another system existed. If you look back on past history, these are written on stones and there are inscriptions to bear it out—you will know what was the nature of the lands in the country and the nature of the people however diversified they may have been by castes, sub-castes and subdivisions. There was the village rule; there was the village administration. Before the ryotwari system was introduced according to which a man was given certain number of acres to be called his own, the land was attached to the village. Say to a village of thousand persons, and extent of ten thousand acres would be attached and the rule was that the lands belonged to the village. The people were Hindus, Muslims and Harijans and others. But they did not know that one was different from the other; they lived as one community as it were. They had to cultivate the property jointly; they had to live jointly and enjoy their properties jointly. They had even adult suffrage under their constitution. Now friends may forget these things because of the various changes that have come upon us. Hindu friends may forget their own history. It is well to remember how our ancestors lived and how we are living to-day. Because of the change that has come over us, all troubles have come. Muslim Leaguers, non-Leaguers, whoever they are—non-Hindus I will call them—they must know that in the past they lived jointly, enjoyed their property jointly and there was no question of one man being a prince and the other man being poor and there was no question of one man having cloth and the other man not having it. Who were the people in those days who were owning the lands and enjoying them? Hindus, Muslims, Harijans and others—call them by whatever name you please—they all lived as members of one family, enjoyed the property as a joint property and shared them. Look at their educational system. It was common to all. There was no question of distinction between one community and another. It is not proper to say that the language of the people was Urdu. Urdu or Arabic came into this country during the Muslim period and even during that period, if you look into history, you will find that the distinctions that we have now created and are banking upon did not exist. Muslim rulers carried on their administration with the help of the best of the Hindus. Look at the Revenue Code and the revenue system; you will find how Muslim rulers were carrying on with the advice of Hindu Ministers. All this is a matter of history, not speculation. Hindus who gave everything to the rest of the world when the rest of the world was in the wilderness, went down and I do not wish to take hon. Members into the various stages of their decay and downfall. Now politically, we have come under one rule. Even under that rule for a good period, there was no such thing as intolerance. When so much of heat was introduced into this controversy, I interested myself in a study of the simple facts and matters which formed the background of the present position. When hon. Members on the other side got up and said that in Andhradesa, Urdu is the mother-tongue of the Muslims, I could have got up and said 'No'; but I did not do so, for, I wanted to know what the whole data for that proposition is; where it came from and how it came about. I was born in that land, I have lived in that land, in that Andhra country for a very long time; my connexions with that area have not yet been cut off; and perhaps, living as the oldest people here, I can speak with authority. I have witnessed the Urdu schools that were started by the local boards. In the village you will find there is no distinction between Hindus and Muslims. The Urdu which the Muslims had picked up there, is not Urdu. If you probe into that subject you will find, Urdu was taught in the Muslim period, but that Urdu disappeared altogether after the British came into India and established their rule here. It took a long time for schools to be established here; I know the nature of the instruction given there. But still, you say, you speak with authority, that all Muslims in Andhradesa are Urdu speaking people. What shall I say to you? We are now at this stage, and I think, we have to go through certain stages during our lifetime and then we shall be able to see how far we can say that the Muslims in Andhradesa are Urdu-speaking people. (Mahboob Ali Baig Sahib Bahadur: 'Why not a Commission be appointed to go into this question?') After we have settled down in life here and begun to do our business, perhaps there will be time then, but by that time all the materials which are not available now, will become available. Mr. Baig is a great advocate. Give him any case, any worthless point; even a little point he can develop, argue and make it appear as plausible; for he can put the case so well. I have known him very well. I am not talking about him disparagingly. When Mr. Pocker said that Urdu has been the mother-tongue of the Muslims in Andhradesa Mr. Nagaraja Manigar put the question, 'in what language was the Holy Quoran, when it came into India?' He knew it was in Arabic, and he admitted it straightaway, and said Arabic is not Urdu; Urdu is a mixture of Arabic and some other language. From that one point stated and admitted by my hon. Friends there, the question of Urdu could not be upheld. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'You cannot dispose of it so easily.') I can understand it. There are facts and figures in this country to show how in this land, a long time back, medical institutions flourished and how learned professors of those institutions were taken across the seas to serve in Arabia and other places where Arabic was taught. There were Muslim experts then who made their contribution in that connexion. Therefore we should not labour that point that Urdu was their language. Urdu could have been their language if the Muslim rule had continued; but it was not so. Muslim rule always respected other beliefs, their institutions and their customs. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'Hear, hear, that is what we want.') They did, and that is why my friends here say, 'apply that policy'. I may tell them even now, just as the British tried to get out of their troubles after introducing this English language in this land of ours on the lines laid down by Lord Macaulay, just as they tried to manage the whole thing, we in our country have to manage, whatever differences, political, social and others may be here. To-day we are in office; to-morrow some others may be in office; Mr. Ismail and his group may be in office. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'Oh, No, that is not possible.') They say, it is not possible. (Laughter.) Why, Sir; why does he say vehemently; why does he assert it? Some Members contended about Hyderabad Ruler. How many Muhammadans are there in that State? The whole population is non-Muslim; but Muslims are the rulers there. Are you saying in the same way, can't we become rulers here. (Laughter.) That apart, I do not know why this Andhradesa was chosen by my hon. Friends to say that in that area Urdu was the language of the Muslims. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'That is a fact.') It is not a fact. I do not want to enter into any great controversy now. We shall be solving that later on. Is it because Andhradesa is on the border of the Hyderabad State? Is it so? (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'No.') If it is not so, why did they not point out to the Tamil Nad and say, 'these are also Urdu-speaking areas'? (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'It is not a fact.') Sir, when the time comes, I am sure, my hon. Friends will see what I say is correct. I have known Muslims of almost all districts, and I can never say, their mother-tongue was Urdu. There are so many families in the districts, who do not know even a single alphabet of Urdu or Hindustani. If you ask them to talk, they will talk some language, which you cannot recognize. I was on the top of the plantations in Ceylon. There were several Indians domiciled there; they were talking the same language I talk; but I could not understand even a single syllable of what they said; because they have gone there a very long time back. Therefore on that ground I cannot say, it was their mother-tongue and that should be their regional language; it cannot be. (Mr. Abdul Rawoof: 'Sir, what we have been saying is, not that Urdu should be the medium of instruction; but the mother-tongue should be the medium of instruction.') I have not yielded. He has attempted to correct me. Regional language is the language belonging to a region. It is for that purpose I took hon. Members to the previous history of our land. Region is region; of course, no confusion can arise because that word is used. Region is a particular area, where a particular people lived. Take any region in any part of the district. Everywhere the regional language depended on the property the people owned and how they enjoyed. It is in that way the whole of this Presidency, which appears big on the map of India, has been divided into four linguistic areas. To-day Andhradesa has no doubt become so small. There was a time, Sir, when, according to history, Andhra Kings ruled not only over 12 districts but also over the whole of Tamil districts in Southern India. During the zamindari enquiry, documents and sanads given to zamindars in the south in former times were received by me. But on that basis I do not want to put forth a claim to all the Tamil districts now. Therefore, Sir, I say about the regional language there is no question. Muslims have ruled at one time in particular areas. Their numbers in the southern Presidency are only 6 or 7 per cent. These so-called Brahmans, who have made a hell of the whole world (laughter), are only 3 per cent. I am only longing for a day when these Brahmans will cease to be after any appointment under any Government. They ought not to be anywhere in the neighbourhood of any office. They have done the greatest disservice to this land by abandoning their noble and honourable profession in the past by taking to the wretched education given to them by the British Government and by becoming clerks and accepting similar jobs. This word 'merit' has become a big subject of discussion in this House. What is the merit which this Brahman has acquired—passing the examination and applying for posts that fall vacant on Rs. 15 or Rs. 10 or to any post which Mr. Town might be good enough to give. All people of this land must note that to become a free people they should have a clear idea of what education in its proper sense is. It is only then we can become a real nation and become real rulers of our land. Until that is done, it is not possible. I am appealing to my hon. Friends not to have any trouble about the meaning of this expression 'regional language.' Although Urdu is spoken, and is the mother-tongue of the Muslims, whose proportion in population is so small, the regional language is the language that belonged to the region originally. That continues to be so, and evidence can be produced to show that Urdu-speaking Muslims are living there and others speaking other languages are also living there. The language of the people who live in that land and who enjoy the land attached to these villages should be the regional language. My hon. Friends are contesting not only in the Province of Madras but in the whole of India—I do not wish to go into that position because it will create trouble in our own days. . ."

N. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. Do I understand the Hon. Prime Minister to say that the language which was originally the language of the territory must be recognized as the language of all the people inhabiting that territory? To-day there are a number of Tamilians who claim that Tamil was the language of all the territories included in the Southern India. Therefore, will the Premier say that Tamil only is the recognized language of all people in Southern India? What we had been saying is that you must have facts to show which is the mother-tongue of the people, and let that be called the regional language. That is our point."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I do not lay down any hard and fast rule, Sir. The Andhra area, in which the Muslims are only 6 or 7 per cent, and all the rest are non-Muslims, may cease to be in that position if to-morrow all the non-Muslims should embrace Christianity or Islam. The population itself might change. So it should not be contended that because they were once Hindus, their language should be the regional language. You should not go into such things because, as hon. Friends pointed out, conditions change and circumstances also change. Taking a commonsense view of the position, how are we to understand the position to-day? That is the question. Even granting that the Muslims are very few in number, and Muslims are people whose mother-tongue is Urdu or Arabic, whatever you may call it, what is it that has to be done? We are living to-day and we are attempting to govern this country. Are we going to say that a few handful of Muslims claim Arabic or Urdu as their mother-tongue and so we must legislate even in regard to their education? Such a thing would never happen and should never happen in any part of the world. Wherever men of sense ruled in the past, and whenever they were in charge of the destinies of the people, they had never laid down something like this. We have to manage our things in such a manner as not to establish separate educational institutions. By insisting upon separation for each community, they have divided themselves, and they have brought this state upon the country. A new form we are trying to develop. I am longing to see the day when Muslim educated ladies would be presiding over educational institutions in Madras City not only for teaching Muslim girls and Muslim students but also all others. For that we have to work and mould ourselves without causing bitterness and without ill-feeling. It is because of the divisions that we have taken 25 long years of struggle when we could have got the whole thing within five years at the most."

MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Why did you not get it earlier?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Town questions me. He is a very happy man. He will never be disturbed. Any trouble may come and he will not be affected. I only wish that all of us are like him. The first battle, let me tell you—several of my hon. Friends must have been children at that time—was given, under the new movement, when Lord Reading was the Viceroy. I knew Lord Reading as ordinary Mr. Rufus Isaac, practising in English Courts. When he came here, he came as Lord Reading, the Viceroy. When the Prince of Wales wanted to come here, the Congress said, 'Do not come here please, a tragedy has occurred in India, let not that Prince be brought here.' They thought that they had the power, they had the Army, they had everything at their beck and call and said, 'let us see what these fellows will do.' So they came here. They came and when the whole thing was started here—I do not want to go into details, because it is a long story—what Lord Reading said I will tell for the benefit of Mr. Town and other friends who were not here at that time."

MR. H. S. TOWN:—"I was here."

[3rd September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"If so, you may recollect. Lord Reading said that the whole country knows no distinction between Muhammadan and Non-Muhammadan. Those two stalwarts Muhammad Ali and Shaikat Ali were there in jail for longer periods than other Congress workers. Lord Reading's words were these: 'What is this? How has this come up in this country? What is it that India wants? I am puzzled and perplexed. I am not able to understand how this Indian situation has arisen.' If that had been sustained we would not have taken so much time to succeed in our effort. Because we are in so many lakhs and crores, we became divided and we were obliged to fight over and over again and at last we have come to this stage. It will take some time for us to get over these matters. I am confident that my hon. Friend (Mr. Avinashilingam Chettiyar) who had been attacked so mercilessly from all sides tried to justify his position. He did not wander about. He was to the point. He quoted chapter and verse on the basic system of education. It was said there was no religion in it. We agreed to have all the schools attached to the religious endowments, to have schools established by the religious endowments wherever surplus money was available, and that all these schools should give not merely secular education but also religious education. People should not be allowed to become Godless. I cannot agree with my Communist friends who say 'no religion.' On closely going into the history of all religions, you will find that all religions relate to one God, and to one worship including the worship the Hindus are carrying on in the form of idol worship in temples and other places. It is a mistake that regarding music in front of mosques, law courts have decided cases in different ways when the custom had been going on in some other ways. I am personally of opinion that in the worship of God no one should be disturbed. ('Hear, hear.') It should be my endeavour with the co-operation of all the hon. Friends to see whether, and how far, we can settle such matters wherever it is possible. Things have been allowed to drift on for a very long period. In basic education, Sir, there is nothing to quarrel about. This system had been examined by educationists. It is a system that had been examined and found quite correct and necessary by that great man and educationist Sargent. Let us not decry anything merely because of the people who were associated with it because of any weak points that might exist. Let us correct the mistakes if there are mistakes in it. Before seeing the whole thing and before examining, to say the whole thing is against us is a great wrong. By the system of education the student must be in a position to know, by the time he leaves the college or even a high school, what aptitude he has got and what profession he can choose for higher studies. That was a rule laid down. Owing to basic education you will find from beginning to end these boys who have lost mind, head and everything, they are taken from stage to stage and by the time he enters University he feels strong in mind and body about religion and everything and fit to know that he will be fit to carry on particular profession and earn money for himself and his family. Let us not make a mistake about that. We are used to this civilized system of education. Let us not mistake it. Sargent is not an ordinary man. He is a great educationist. Nobody must speak lightly of it, even hon. Members here. We have taken so many degrees not being able to know what to do ourselves after the whole thing is done. It is with a view to remove that weakest part of the whole system of education that the basic system of education has been made ready. We shall examine that and we shall know how the basic system of education works. It should not be discarded by my hon. Friends merely because there is no religion in it. The author Mahatma Gandhi is a peculiar gentleman. He is of his own type. What is his religion? What is his prayer? Anybody may go and sit there. It is not merely the Hindu religion which people quote in other places. The Hindu religion, the Christian religion, the Muhammadan religion, all these prayers are repeated there night and morning. He will not be a man to say, because you have got a Muslim prayer we shall not take part. No such thing will come. I feel strongly on that one point that we should try to have one system of education in which all these religions can be taught to the young boys in the manner in which these boys are taught in Gandhi's Ashramam and that will be the beginning of the end of all this trouble. I am hoping for that period.

p.m.

[3rd September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

"On behalf of Mr. Avinashilingam, I have to request hon. Members not to have any idea that their points have not been conceded by us. Nothing will be done in a hurry. We are taking steps to re-open a new University in the name of Tirupati in this Province of ours when we shall be able to evolve and establish our own system without bringing us into any kind of clash. That is my explanation. I therefore appeal to hon. Members . . ."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"What about the Muslim Board?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The hon. Member Mr. Pocker perhaps is not here. 'What about the Board' he says. Don't insist upon a separate Board for Muslims and separate Board for the Harijans. Mr. Nagappa will become vehement straight-away and say we must have a Board. I hope he will not say that. Let us not be thinking of separatist action. Let us try as some hon. Members conceded the system of education wherein all religions might be taught and the children will be able to understand from the very beginning without any effort that the whole thing was one business and for nothing these quarrels have been going on."

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Will that system be formulated in consultation with the Muslims?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The hon. Member should not feel free to hurl something in the face of this Government even after hearing so much. This discussion has enabled us to understand one another. However strongly a reply may be given by Mr. Avinashilingam and myself we have to carry on everything in a friendly spirit with a view to understand the spirit of it without attempting to deceive each other. That will be the aim of the Government."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"May I remind the Premier about the question of the Leader of the Opposition?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"There will not be a separate Board for any community, Sir. That position was made clear by the hon. Member in charge of the portfolio. That will be our aim. I have to appeal to hon. Members along with the hon. Member for Education that there is nothing wrong in the basic system of education. It is a thing that must be adopted by all of us. With regard to that matter after such a discussion as this that a question should be put whether a scheme will be thrust upon the country without any knowledge of them and without discussing the provisions is strange. I for my part can say that all of us have been trying our best not to do any extraordinary performance. Therefore I can assure hon. Members of not only the Muslim League, not only the independants, not only the Anglo-Indian section but also the European group that all of us can put our heads together."

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In view of the reply given by the Minister which is not satisfactory, I am sorry I am unable to withdraw."

The cut motion was put and lost.

The Demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

* MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of explanation, Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a short statement. This is a very vital matter affecting our community touching the honour as well as the existence of our community. We have not received satisfaction from the Government on the several questions raised by us and in spite of the earnest representations we made to them. Therefore as a matter of protest we do not propose to take part in the further proceedings of to-day and we propose to walk out of the Assembly."

DEMAND XVI—MEDICAL.

that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from 1st May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 1,87,72,600 in respect of the head 'Medical.' The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rupees 11,46,058."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Sir, in moving that the allotment of Rs. 1,87,72,600 for medical be reduced by Rs. 100, I would like to make a few comments. The Government have allotted in my opinion a very miserable sum under this head. It is no use saying they cannot afford more for we know that they have thrown away a large amount of revenue by introducing prohibition in eight districts, money which might well have been used for improving the medical establishments of this Province.

"There are in this Province not less than 50 million people and all that Government can spare is a pittance of six annas per head per year to meet the cost of maintaining our hospitals and dispensaries, training our doctors and nurses and giving the people attention in sickness. This, Sir, is insufficient. We are suffering from the niggardly treatment of the past and judging from this budget, we are expected to go on suffering.

"We have far too few hospitals and those we have are generally not as modern as they should be. Hospitals and their equipment are like motor cars; they get out of date very quickly. Much has been said in this House about the overcrowding of the trams in this City and I had hoped that my Friends of the Muslim League Party would support me in condemning the criminal overcrowding of our hospitals. I use the word 'criminal' intentionally. It is not altogether the fault of this Government. It is the fault of the past Governments. I hope this Government will take steps to see that this overcrowding ceases.

"My Group feel very strongly on this subject and I think the Hon. Minister in charge is very fortunate indeed to have so meek and mild a man as I am to speak. We had hoped to put up Mr. Ferrelley who is particularly well informed thereon. He comes from Malabar where everybody takes things very seriously and they are inclined to be very outspoken if their district is, in their opinion, neglected. Unfortunately, owing to labour trouble, he cannot come here. He has sent me a note and so before I go any further I must mention the Calicut General Hospital. It has now 170 beds and 250 patients. Eighty sick people lie on the floor, and some are placed under the beds in order not to obstruct the nurse in her work. West Coast monsoon rains are monsoon rains and not the drizzle that we in Madras call monsoon rains. In the Calicut General Hospital, the monsoon rains on to the floor of the wards. The place was condemned ten years ago and sanction given for a new hospital but nothing has been done. The tender, loving, motherly heart of this Government has been touched at the deplorable conditions and Rs. 30,000 has been sanctioned. Sir, if a hospital has 250 patients, it should certainly not have less than 275 beds, for whole wards have to be cleared for renovation and fumigation from time to time. Rupees 30,000 cannot provide 275 bedded hospital. So Calicut is being asked to do without the new hospital it was promised ten years ago.

"The story, however, is the same all over the Presidency. Hospitals are overcrowded, many of them are hopelessly out of date and few of them, if any, have all the facilities demanded by modern standards of medicine, surgery and nursing. I would like to take the case of the three Mental Hospitals at Madras, Waltair and Calicut, all grossly overcrowded with Madras leading by a short head with an average population of 50 per cent above the sanctioned accommodation. I want to read from the Report. It is dated 27th February 1946. 'As pointed out in previous Administration Reports, the strength of Mental Hospitals is steadily increasing. Improvements required for the existing Mental Hospitals had been held up.' 'For want of sufficient accommodation, the practice of locking a large number of patients in the General Block in a single room of the Mental Hospital, Madras, is still being continued in spite of the possible risks to the safety and welfare of the patients.' Anyone who has had anything to do with sick people who are unfortunately insane will realise what a terrible indictment this is of the position. I cannot say anything against the Government for this. This is the fault of the past. This must be remedied. But yet, Sir, we find no special allotment in the Budget to relieve the situation. The Report comments on the conscientious work of the administration. But how can these men produce results if they are working under conditions such as the report shows. Now, Sir, if hospitals are inadequately equipped, it is impossible to give that complete training to young men and women who wish to become doctors. There is no other profession which requires such complete training as the medical profession, and you cannot give them that complete training which is necessary if they are to be competent doctors in the future, if you train and educate them among standards which were abandoned years ago in all progressive countries.

"We are far from satisfied with the standard of medical practitioners turned out by our medical colleges. Their professors are so occupied with battling against the odds of trying to be modern with antiquated equipment that it is greatly to their credit that they give that precise attention to teaching which is vital if the student is to grasp fully every aspect of his subject. But if a student is trained in a poorly-equipped hospital, he cannot fully comprehend the niceties of modern medical practice.

"Then, Sir, we would like to see more attention paid to post-graduate courses. A graduate from any University on any subject immediately he passes out thinks that he knows everything. He very soon realizes that all that the University has taught him is how to increase his knowledge by experience. Now, Sir, a lawyer may pass out and set up practice at once. If he comes up against a very serious proposition in early days, it is just too bad—his client loses his case. If a young doctor who comes up against serious propositions is not careful, it may also be just too bad, but in this case his client or patient is cremated or buried. Sir, the general public are the doctors' clients or patients as they prefer to dub us. I like that word 'patient.' It is particularly applicable to the client of an inexperienced doctor, for 'patient' one has to be while the doctor tries this pill, that dope or mixture. If you are lucky, you recover.

"This, however, is a small digression. We want to see more post-graduate courses. We want to see the young man who has become a doctor attend our hospitals under a senior doctor, gaining experience from time to time. It is the only way for a young man to become a really efficient doctor. But yet, Sir, we see many young men get their medical degrees and set up practice at once. We fear this is not good for the nation. But we know the reason why. Many of our young doctors have been a heavy drain on the resources of their family, and once they have passed out, it is made very clear to them that it is up to them to earn sufficient to make sure that his younger brother can go to the engineering college. The terms offered for service in our hospitals are so poor that the average doctor has no other choice, if he is going to send his younger brother to the college or the University, but to set up private practice himself, and even to descend—as many unfortunately do—to the grant of bogus certificates. I would like the Minister to take up this question of bogus certificates very soon. I have no doubt that if anyone in this House goes out tonight, with ten rupees, he can get a certificate saying that he had been under treatment for a week for dysentery, pneumonia or anything like that. I have these certificates in my office safe. We collected any number years ago, when I once raised this question in another place.

"Throughout the Madras Administration Report for 1945, we read of a dearth of qualified staff in our medical institutions. Why is this? Is the task of healing the sick repugnant to the Indian mentality? Does the suffering of the people raise no feelings of humanity in the young Indian heart? 6-15 p.m

"Neither of these two causes are at the root of the shortage of qualified men and women in our medical institutions, but the economics of living gives the answer. You must give better terms of service to the young doctors in the hospital. Then you will get really qualified men.

"Now, Sir, I am afraid that a number of people may be upset by the rest of my remarks. That is unfortunate but the life and health of fifty million people are at stake.

"I refer to the provision of Rs. 5 lakhs to develop the practice of Ayurveda and its sister systems. I am not going in any way to belittle Ayurveda, but I am going to tell you that I consider it hopelessly out of date and before many years have passed, they will all be proscribed.

"Everything in this world changes and the Rishis who between 4,500 and 2,500 years ago created bulky literature in compiling the Samhitas were no doubt worthy men but they lived in the days of bows and arrows and we are just entering the atomic age. They knew nothing of the circulation of the blood. The life cycle of the malarial parasite was unknown to them. They certainly had remedies for this or that complaint, but they were woefully ineffective.

"This, Sir, is not belittling their achievements. The advance in modern medicine and surgery between World Wars I and II makes the best efforts of our men of 1914 look rather feeble when compared with what is done to-day, but this is not belittling the men of the past.

[Mr. H. S. Town] [3rd September 1946]

"The discovery of the cause of malaria was made by a brilliant member of the Indian Medical Service in 1897 and he soon afterwards gave the world an antidote which caused an immediate drop in the mortality rate from this particular complaint. Over 4,000 years of Ayurveda had failed to produce any real treatment for this most terrible scourge. However, the antidote of Sir Ronald Ross which was until recently considered a specific has had to give way before the relentless research of modern medicine and a more modern drug has taken its place and human suffering has been reduced.

"Plague, typhus and similar diseases were rampant in India for centuries and decimated whole populations, yet Ayurveda was helpless against them, but modern medicine has all but stamped them out.

"The quiet and often self-sacrificing work of the research student and chemist working in modern laboratories has relieved the sum total of human suffering and has given to every man, woman and child in this world a greater chance of recovery than he had but twenty years ago. Our soldiers, Indian and British, were able to save India in the jungles of Burma almost solely because of the advance of modern medical science. Ayurveda could not have made this possible. Those who were wounded were fortunate in that modern medicine and medical practice had so reduced the hazards of sepsis that many who to-day would be dead or at the best limbless are in the normal health. Ayurveda could not do this.

"Sir, as I know something of modern medical practice, I have recently been appalled to read in the weekly publication of a very well-known Indian that in his scheme for the cure of illnesses, the microscope, quinine and penicillin can find no place. Sir, this statement is not a joke. It is a serious answer to a serious question. Sir, I feel confident that no one in this House subscribes to these ideas.

"Sir, before Government expends large amounts of the people's money on developing Ayurveda, I ask them to call together the chief exponents of the system and ask a few very pertinent questions:

'How would they treat a septic appendix?

'What would they do in the case of a perforation of a duodenal ulcer?

'How would they handle a case of Empyema?

'Would they recognize and if so, how would they treat a case of tumour of the brain?'

"A dozen more similar questions could be asked and if they insist on relying on Ayurveda, they will have to admit that the patient would soon be cremated or buried.

3rd September 1946] [Mr. H. S. Town]

"I expect to be told that there is no intention of replacing modern medicine by Ayurveda, but, Sir, the exponent of Ayurveda will be in practice and in very few cases will he be willing to pass on his patient to the exponent of modern medicine or he may do so too late. This being so, the patients of such a practitioner are not likely to receive the treatment they are entitled to.

"Sir, let us be honest to ourselves, let us be humane to the 50 million people of this Province. I suggest that no man should be allowed to practise Ayurveda until he has become fully qualified in modern medicine. Let Ayurveda be a subject for research, but the research must be carried out by men fully qualified in modern medicine. Then and then only can Ayurveda take its place in the field of medical science.

"In closing, Sir, I have just one little remark to make. I would ask the Government to take the greatest care to see, that in making appointments in its medical establishment, only the best and most qualified persons are appointed to important posts. Nepotism, communalism and favouritism are reprehensible in any department, but in this case if you place a wrong person or a less efficient person in a post, you are risking the lives of somebody. You must ensure, that as far as medicine is concerned, only the very best shall be given the best post. Sir, that is all I have to say. I trust that my strong attack on Ayurveda will not be misunderstood. There is nothing personal about it. I do believe that we have to be careful, lest in the name of Ayurveda we get into a mess of quackery.

"Sir, I move my cut motion namely:—

To reduce the allotment of Rs. 1,87,72,600 for Medical by Rs. 100."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I have to inform hon. Members that I 7 p.m. have fixed five minutes for each speaker."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the cut motion and, in doing so, I wish to bring to the notice of the House how inadequate the medical facilities are in our Province and how in consequence diseases are rampant in our midst. The situation is such that other countries are afraid of permitting their citizens to our country because of the infectious diseases here. We do not have proper medical facilities. We have not got a sufficient number of trained midwives and the villages are without doctors. As a matter of fact our people are dying for lack of medicine and treatment. In civilized countries there is one doctor for every 900 of the population. Our aim should be to provide one doctor for at least 1,000 of the population, say within a period of 25 years. To reach that target we should produce about 9,900 every year. But what are we doing now? We have only got 250 doctors taking up practice every year. At this rate we can never hope to reach the target at any time nor can we hope to make much headway in the matter of improving medical relief.

"Now I wish to say a few words about Ayurveda. Sir, Ayurveda is being boosted throughout the Province and a big controversy is going on about its merits and demerits. I do not want to pit Ayurveda against Allopathy. I do not like the glorifying of quackery in the name of Nationalism. However nationalistic we are, we have to admit the fact that the science of Ayurveda is imperfect and is inadequately developed. Development of this system of medicine stopped long ago. Now we cannot have schools or colleges in Ayurveda. It will do no good to our people to boost this undeveloped system now. At best we can have research institutes in Ayurveda so that at some future time, when the results of the researches are known, people may benefit by it. I say that there should be no Ayurvedic colleges unless and until scientific research is carried on in Ayurveda.

“Sir, on the whole about Rs. 196 lakhs, including the expenditure on capital outlay, are being expended on medicine and I think this sum is very insufficient. I am afraid out of these Rs. 196 lakhs about two-thirds would go to meet the administrative charges. Administrative charges must be cut short and the whole of the balance must be spent on medicine and on the care and treatment of patients. I notice, Sir, that this Grant of Rs. 196 lakhs is considerably less than the last year's figure. Last year for diet charges they had provided for Rs. 12 lakhs, but this year this item has been allotted a smaller sum of ten lakhs. I do not know why this is so. Again, as regards medicine also, the allotment is less than that of last year. For mufassal hospitals also, whereas last year the provision was Rs. 24 lakhs, this year it is only Rs. 16.8 lakhs. I do not know why under these items there has been reduction.

“Then I wish to say one word about the Medical Colleges. I congratulate the Hon. Minister for Medicine for starting the two medical colleges, in Guntur and Madura. I request the Hon. Minister to see that these colleges are fully equipped so that the appropriate authorities might recognize them. Some time ago there was a controversy about the recognition of the Medical College at Vizagapatam. I hope the new colleges will be properly equipped in order to merit recognition.”

* SRI A. B. SHETTY.—“Mr. Speaker, the hon. Member who opened the debate on this Demand criticized the new scheme in the Budget for the development of Indian Medicine. I feel disposed to agree with several of his observations. I wish to ask what the necessity is for opening separate colleges for teaching Ayurveda, Unani and other indigenous systems of medicine. There can be only one medical science with the objective of studying the cause and the cure of all human ailments by whatever method that is found good and effective in any country or in any age. The modern system of scientific medicine has developed from the ancient system. It has been incorporating into it everything that is of value in any system of medicine and in any country. It corrects and enriches itself by progressive observation and experiment. It pools the experience of practising doctors all the world over. According to the Bhore Committee, it can be called neither western nor eastern. It can be regarded as a corpus of scientific knowledge and practice which belongs to the whole world and to which every country is making its contribution. The science of medicine has made great progress in recent years. Our knowledge of the causation of disease has advanced. We have made great progress in improving the methods of diagnosis and treatment. Wonderful new substances such as the sulpha drugs, penicillin, etc., have been discovered and used with remarkable success. Specialists in medicine and surgery are coming into the field. It seems foolish to stick to old theories and practices just as Mr. Town pointed out it would be foolish to continue using bows and arrows in modern warfare.

“The indigenous system of medicine is no doubt comparatively cheap. It has got a great hold on the minds of many people in this country. We have the accumulated wisdom of centuries in regard to the medicinal use of herbs and minerals. There are no doubt very good medicines in the indigenous system, though they are unstandardized. We must preserve all that is of value in this system. We must investigate the efficacy of the drugs we are using, improve upon them and incorporate them into the present scientific system. I would say that it would be proper to have a chair established in our medical colleges in Ayurveda and Unani systems. Let us make them additional and optional branches of study or have them as subjects for post-graduate studies and examination. The results of varied researches in the world of science are contributing to the advancement of medicine. Vast strides are being made in surgery as the result of war experience. Public health organizations have made immense development. If we want to keep ourselves up to date we must send our medical men for study and training in foreign countries. The previous Government committed a great mistake in refusing study leave for medical officers to go abroad and specialize. These are days of specialists in medicine and surgery. There is one great complaint made against the doctors practising the western system of medicine. The injections they give and the patent and proprietary medicines they prescribe are very costly. Medical relief cannot be spread in rural areas under these conditions. In order to meet this difficulty, the Government should give every encouragement for the establishment of pharmaceutical and allied industries. This will enable us to produce drugs and other medical requisites in our own country at a cheaper cost.”

* MR. W. J. FERNANDEZ.—“Mr. Speaker, I have given notice of a cut motion under this Demand in order to raise the question of admission of students to the Madras Medical College and the Stanley Medical College. Sir, until about two years ago, a dozen Anglo-Indian lads were being admitted every year into these colleges and trained as Military Medical Students. Many of these boys have passed the M.B.B.S. examination of the Madras University and have served as Military Assistant Surgeons so that we are able to have in our midst a good number of Anglo-Indian doctors. But about two years ago recruitment to the Military Department was stopped and simultaneously, admission of Anglo-Indian students to the colleges was reduced to two or three.

[Mr. W. J. Fernandez] [3rd September 1946]

Probably this was done with a view to give all communities a chance to study in the colleges. If that is so, I have no quarrel with the arrangement. All that I wish to ask the Hon. Minister is that if it is possible to admit a few more Anglo-Indian boys into the Medical colleges in Madras and give them a chance to qualify for the medical profession we shall be thankful indeed."

* SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"Mr. Speaker, I rise to make a few observations about the lack of medical facilities in the Ceded districts. It should not be considered an exaggeration when I say that for want of adequate medical relief hundreds and hundreds of people are dying in the neglected villages of my district. For even 30 or 35 villages there is not a single hospital to meet their needs. Some of these villages, being situated in black cotton soil areas which are impassable during the rainy seasons, on account of the bad condition of the road, the people are unable to go to the hospital at great distances. I shall furnish presently statistical proof of the deplorable condition of our people, and how the entire villages are being wiped out of existence. I happened to be connected with Resettlement Survey in 1934-35 and have made extensive journeys from village to village. Mr. D. I. R. Muir, Additional Settlement Officer, has made repeated references in the courses of his Scheme Report to the lack of medical aid and the enormous death rate among the people of the Kurnool district. Here are some figures which must convince the Hon. Minister for Medicine about the urgency for providing more medical aid. In Koilkuntla particularly in Owk sub-taluk, there are a number of villages where the people have become extinct. I will give the names of these villages, their population in 1871 and 1931 and the decrease between those years. From the figures I am giving you will notice that while there is a general cry that there is increase in population in the country and that food shortage is due to this increase, here in my district the story is the other way about. People—famine-stricken and ill-fed, easily become a prey to disease but there are no medical facilities at all and literally people are dying in hundreds, without being least cared for. The matter is very serious, Sir, and I may warn the Government that unless they take immediate measures to provide more medical facilities most of the villages I am mentioning may actually become extinct.

7-15 "The following are the figures taken from the Census Statistics:—

"Sir, these statistics are I think sufficient to impress upon the Hon. Minister the urgent necessity for providing more hospitals in my district and locating them within the easy reach of the suffering population."

[3rd September 1946]

* DR. U. PADMANABHA MALLAYYA:—"Sir, first of all I would like to point out that the amount provided under this demand is too meagre. Expenditure on public health and giving medical aid should be the first charge on any Government revenue, because if we have a perfectly healthy public, that will add to the potential wealth of the country. Judging from that standpoint I should think that that should have been the first charge on any Government revenue as I stated just now. I do not know whether with this meagre amount the condition of our hospitals which give medical aid is going to be improved.

"Sir, I would like to make certain suggestions. The first is with regard to teaching of medicine. We are told that there is going to be an increase in the number of medical colleges, but we are too poor I should think in the teaching staff. I do not know how the Government can meet the demand for teaching staff both qualitatively and quantitatively. I would therefore urge on the Government the necessity for having a different cadre for the teaching staff and in order to compensate their loss of practice—because I think the teachers should not practise—they should be paid very good salaries. Sir, teaching, as somebody stated while speaking on the education demand, is not a profession, but an art; if that is conceded, I should think that it is the more so in regard to the teaching of medicine.

"Then, Sir, a word about the Ayurvedic system that is proposed to be introduced. I do not want to decry that system, but under the modern advancement of medical science, I do not think that Ayurveda can compete if allowed to be a parallel system for medical profession. I do not want that there should be different classes among the medical practitioners. It was therefore that the last Ministry thought that there should be no such classification and abolished the L.M.P. course. Now if one set of people were allowed to practise medicine under the head 'indigenous medicine' I am afraid it is going to be a very bad thing. Some speaker before me said that treatment under Ayurveda was cheaper. Let me say at once that it is not so, because from personal experience I know that good Ayurvedic practitioners charge more and often their treatment is more costly than that of Allopathic system."

Dr. M. J. SAMUEL:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in supporting this demand I would like to say a few words on this very important portfolio of Medical and Public Health. Sir, the Government has provided nearly Rs. 3 crores for both medical and public health and we are grateful. But it is not sufficient to meet the needs of the whole Province. The hon. Leader of the European Group Mr. Town has made a very exhaustive speech on the inadequate arrangements made in the hospitals. Yes, Sir, not only in the Madras Province, but in the whole of India, medical treatment and other facilities afforded in the hospitals are very meagre. Another hon. Member from the Communist Group also stated that there is hardly one doctor for 10,000 people, whereas in the western countries they have a doctor for every 1,000 people. I quite agree. Sir, our National Government are just now coming into existence and I hope all these things will be improved by and by.

“ Mr. Town made a reference to the certificates issued by some of the doctors without any discretion. The Madras Medical Council has been tackling this problem very carefully. The Madras Medical Council goes into these irregularities and mistakes committed by the medical profession and so many doctors were hauled up before this Medical Council for disciplinary action. Therefore I do not think there is any trouble on that score. The officer concerned, or a private business firm, has the right to report to the Medical Council any act of professional misconduct committed by the doctors.

“ Another remark made by Mr. Town was that the Ayurvedic system had no specific pharmacopœia as they had in the Allopathic system. Sir, I do believe that the Allopathic system is an advanced system and it has been recognized by the western world. We get so many new remedies now-a-days as Mr. Shetty has enumerated, the sulphanamide group and penicillin is the latest drug which works wonders. In this connexion I would also like to point out certain instances where the Ayurvedic system has gained the upper hand. In my own practice I have been treating a number of cases. I had been tackling a case of leprosy which took one year for me to retard the progress of the disease, but an Ayurvedic friend of mine stopped the progress of the disease within six weeks. Therefore, instead of brushing it aside and saying that the Ayurvedic system is an old and antiquated system, we must realize that there are certain remedies in it also. It has not been able to improve itself because it was not recognized by the past Governments and the British Government in India. I hope that under the present Government the Hon. Minister for Public Health will give all facilities for the Ayurvedic doctors to get regular training in a college and I would even go to the extent of saying that the Government should open a Chair for Ayurveda in our University and also a medical college and make these M.B.B.S. undergo an extra course of training for one or two years in this system not on parallel lines but . . . (Mr. Speaker indicated that the hon. Member was exceeding the time-limit.)

“ I am very sorry, Sir, that the Hon. Speaker has given me very little time. This is the only demand for us doctors where we can express our views and give constructive suggestions.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“ It is already 7-30 and there are a number of hon. Members wishing to speak.”

* DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—“ Sir, I have not so far given my constructive proposals. The Hon. Minister in answer to a question stated that the Government had a scheme for training 200 midwives this year. What are these 200 midwives for a population of 50 millions. This is quite inadequate. There is not even one midwife for every 10,000 of the population in the Province. I would therefore request the Hon. Minister to consider and evolve a system of training for the local indigenous barber midwives. There, one or two women in each village, catering to the needs of the maternity cases. I would request the Hon. Minister to evolve a scheme to train these women by giving them a short course of training for six months under an able doctor in a taluk headquarter or a district headquarter hospital.

“ I shall refer to another point, Sir, and I have done; and that is with regard to the provincialisation of the Sub-Assistant cadre. We have already made mention of this in the general discussion of the budget. We all know that the L.M.P. course has been abolished and where is the necessity for this class of men still existing in service. In the recent war these diploma holders were taken on temporary commissions and they were paid emoluments equal to others and equal work was exacted from these men. I therefore request the Hon. Minister to kindly consider the provincialisation of the cadre of Sub-Assistant Surgeons and I specially request her to absorb the temporary Commissioned doctors and diploma holders in the Provincial cadre and not send them back to the village. They may be taken to some big hospitals and their services and experience may be utilised as was done during the war.

“ Sir, the statistics given in the Administration Report are not satisfactory. I was having a cursory glance at this report and found that in 1944 there were 18 lakhs of malarial patients in this Province and the number of deaths is reported to be only 950. I do not think this is the correct figure. When there are one million deaths in the whole of India, I have to doubt the truthfulness of the statement that there were only 950 cases of death due to malaria in this Presidency. Sir, there are so many inaccuracies in these statistics. I therefore request the Hon. Minister to send out a note to all the institutions to give correct figures about these statistics.

“ I also request the Hon. Minister to encourage our indigenous drugs by starting more chemical and pharmaceutical laboratories in this Province. We have plenty of raw material in our hills, the Nallamallies and other forests, and the pharmaceutical laboratories will be a success if given liberal grants.”

* SRIMATHI A. V. KUTTIMALU AMMA:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am really surprised that I have been called . . . ”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“ I have called the hon. Member to speak because she has given her name to me by sending in a chit.”

* SRIMATHI A. V. KUTTIMALU AMMA:—“ Sir, I say this because we have been so long neglected. Our district representatives have been neglected throughout the budget session and none of us has been able to catch your eye. We have to thank the hon. Members of the Muslim League and the Leader of the European Group for representing some of our district's necessities. Sir, while supporting the demand, I wish to bring to the notice of the Health Minister certain things that have been neglected for a long time, that the people have begun to feel that nothing is going to improve their conditions. The people in Malabar feel that whatever change might take place in the government of this Province the headquarters hospital at Calicut will have no change. Sir, every one knows that the sum of Rs. 30,000 that has been allotted will not be sufficient even to improve the sanitary conditions of the hospitals.

"The public of our district were eagerly looking forward to the visit of the Health Minister of our Province, but thanks to the Communist Party and the strike in the South Indian Railway the tour had to be cancelled. Sir, the improvement of our hospital is urgently necessary. I again thank Mr. Town for supporting and saying that the hospital does need very many changes if not the whole. If the whole building cannot be changed there are a lot of things that have to be changed. Sir, the condition of our hospital is such that it is not even fit for cattle to be kept in. The monsoon in Malabar as every one knows is so heavy. The temporary sheds which are there for the tubercular patients and for the ophthalmic patients are insufficient so that people have to lie on the floor or on a mattress or sometimes on a plain mat with nothing to cover them from the full blast of the heavy showers which we have to undergo for nearly six months in the year. Especially this year the monsoon has been very heavy and the conditions in the hospital are such that any person with a civic sense could not go into it.

"The women and children's hospital is also in a deplorable condition. If the improvements suggested by some of the representatives of the people of Malabar are accepted those hospitals could be converted into first-class hospitals situated in the heart of the City and easily accessible to all the people.

"When talking about medicine they say that Malabar has specialized in Ayurveda and ask why it wants hospitals in the western system. But when it comes to the establishment of an Ayurvedic College, the college has to be only in Coimbatore and not in Malabar and it is said that Malabar is very near Coimbatore. In this way by faint praise the district is neglected. I would therefore request the Hon. Minister for Public Health and the Hon. Premier to see that something is done for those hospitals at least in the next budget. I thank you again, Mr. Speaker, for giving me an opportunity to speak."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"There are only four Members more who want to speak. After they finish their speeches, I will call upon the Hon. Minister to reply."

* SRI K. VARADACHARIAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I was touched by the opening remarks made by Mr. H. S. Town that we were losing a good revenue by introducing Prohibition. If he had simply examined the question a little further, he would have found that the medical relief that we have to administer is largely to that class of people who contribute to this excise revenue in this country. Not only the addicts but all their families, their children, their grandchildren and whole generations have become so diseased in body that medical relief is really necessary for that class of people and for that class of families. Therefore it is not a correct thing to state or the correct way of looking at it, by simply deploring the loss of revenue, when you find that you get the revenue from the diseased body itself and then apply the revenue to the cure of the disease of that body. Therefore my hon. Friend would give up harping upon this introduction of Prohibition in the Province and opposing it on the ideologies based upon western habits. The western drink is normally a very mild one. Our people do not know . . . (Mr. H. S. Town: 'I was talking about the eastern drink and its prohibition.') Sir, our people drink themselves either to ill-health or in some cases to death. Therefore it is not a thing upon which our European friends are competent to talk so far as our difficulties are concerned.

"The next thing I should like to address myself to is the amount of vehemence which my hon. Friend Mr. H. S. Town showed in talking about Indian medicines. He does not understand that we are a population of 400 millions, and that our average income per capita is less than Re. 1 per month. Therefore it is not practicable to apply the Allopathic system wholesale to this country whatever the advantages of it may be. Sir, our people are in need of urgent relief in many ways. In the rural areas you cannot have a hospital, or even an ordinary dispensary per 20,000 of the population. This is the state of affairs in this country.

"I particularly appreciate the remarks of my friend Mr. Samuel when he said that all these groups of registered medical practitioners, not only the Allopathic ones but also the B group, the C group and so on, all these people may be asked to settle down in the villages. This must be a condition precedent to the grant of certificates to them. Not only that, I would request that all these Allopathic doctors who think so much of their profession to settle down in their villages after retirement from public service, their pensions being payable to them only on their agreeing to settle down in the villages, and cater to the needs of the poor. Not only the medical practitioners, but all retiring public servants must be paid their pensions only when they consent to do their piece of work in the villages as they used to do before in the department. Sir, that is my suggestion, a very serious suggestion which the Government should consider. (Interruption.) The Hon. Speaker has allowed me only a very short time and therefore I do not want to be disturbed.

"Sir, then I wish to refer to the paucity of equipment including bed and furniture. People have to squat on the floor. People with serious diseases cannot find beds in the hospitals. There is no proper equipment by way of beds or any other amenities even in our district hospitals. Then, Sir, a nurse is asked to look after about 100 patients in a hospital. (A voice: 'Including male nurses?') Even the male nursing staff is inadequately manned. In the nights we are not able to get a nurse to attend on a crying patient (Laughter) who wants relief immediately by way of injection or a sleeping dose or some mixture which will relieve pain. Whether a male nurse or a female nurse, one nurse cannot look after 100 patients. This is the way in which our hospitals are getting on.

"The position regarding maternity cases is worse and wretched, monstrous and scandalous. The maternity wards attached to our district hospitals are too small and there are no facilities in the village dispensaries to attend to maternity cases. One midwife has to serve about 20 villages. Sir, it is physically impossible to do so. When such is the state of affairs, we cannot talk of the Allopathic system being the best system. Sir, it is the costliest system. In our country for some time at least we have to encourage other systems of medicines for affording relief.

“There is one other important matter on which I want to say something. That is with regard to affording relief to the tubercular patients in this province. We have neglected this aspect of medical relief which could be done by creating sanatoria in suitable places which are available in plenty in our province. In my own district, Madanapalle division is an ideal area in which sanatoria may be established. Of course there is a missionary institution running. This institution is not suited for the poor. Sir, thousands of tubercular patients are left adrift on the country without any relief whatsoever. Sir, there is a military hospital which was created for ordinary medical relief in Madanapalle area. It is just near the railway station. A very big colony with numerous huts has been established there, and a hospital has also been established. The premises and the huts are all available now. If only the Government will take it over and make it a Government sanatorium it will give good relief to the poor people. Let all the rich men go to the missionary institution and let all the poor people be taken care of by the Government in this area.”

* SRI K. A. NACHIAPPA GOUNDER:—“Mr. Speaker, it has been pointed out by various speakers who preceded me that medical relief should receive the foremost consideration. But I should say, Sir, that if proper attention is paid to public health, the necessity for medical relief will be reduced to a great extent. If we take into consideration the requirements of this Presidency, we will find that scarcity of medical men is a matter which should receive our immediate attention. Fortunately for us this year, the Government have opened two medical colleges this year, one at Madura and the other at Guntur. But the unfortunate part of it is that at present all the students are confined to Madras and they are not able to get adequate accommodation and proper facility for study. Hence I urge upon the Government to provide them with sufficient facilities. Furthermore, Sir, the Government should undertake to open some more medical colleges. At present, we find that a number of dispensaries have been closed for want of medical men to run them. For instance in Salem, out of 34 dispensaries 17 have been closed for want of medical men. It is therefore very necessary that we should produce more medical men. The Government have drawn up a post-war programme in which they have proposed to open a number of rural dispensaries so that there may be one rural dispensary for a three-mile radius. To put this scheme into effect, we require a number of doctors and we have to proceed even from now to produce them.

“Again, Sir, I must point out the doctors are not attracted at present to the rural dispensaries because they are not given sufficient emoluments. At present a doctor in a rural dispensary gets Rs. 500 by way of subsidy for a whole year. It is difficult to get on with this amount in these days. They are not given any dearness allowance even as it is being done in other departments. When the case was put before the Government, they did not treat it with sympathy, so much so, many rural medical practitioners were obliged to leave their stations. That is why many of the rural dispensaries are now without doctors. I would therefore urge on the Government to increase the subsidy paid to these rural medical practitioners or pay them at least a dearness allowance also.

“The hospitals were generally run by local bodies and with a view to achieve efficiency, there was a scheme by which the taluk headquarter hospital in each district would be taken over every year, so that the district board might be left with only one hospital which it can manage efficiently with the help of the meagre finances at its disposal. In Salem district, three headquarter hospitals have been left with the district board. They are the hospitals at Hosur, Harur and Omalur. I think the Government should take them over and run them and thereby give relief to the district board, so that the board might run the other hospitals efficiently. I would also add the Yercaud hospital which should receive special consideration as it is in a hill station.

“Sir, in many of these hospital compounds themselves the post-mortem sheds have been built. I suggest, Sir, that they should be shifted out of the compounds so that the wards and other parts of the hospital may not be affected.”

SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, 7-45
Perhaps I am the last speaker” p.m.

* MR. SPEAKER:—“No, there is one more speaker.”

* SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—“Anyway, I rise to support the Demand moved by the Hon. Minister for Medicine and Public Health. In doing so, I wish to say a few words which I believe will be considered by the Minister.

“I request the Government, first of all, to spend more money in the rural parts than in the cities for this reason, that in cities it can be said that people are generally rich and there are also private institutions which can come to the help of the people. I mean that more money should be spent in the rural areas than is spent now. In the rural parts, for a radius of 15 to 20 miles I can say there are no doctors at all. One or two doctors who existed here and there have gone to the War and they have not yet returned. How can we expect doctors who qualify themselves after studying for six long years and after spending about Rs. 8,000 to Rs. 10,000 to stick to the villages with a pittance of about Rs. 600 for the building, for the medicine, for the peon, the doctor and everything, all told? I am unable to understand why the L.M.P. course has been abolished. In a country where we do not have medical help of whatever kind, we were satisfied with the L.M.Ps. all those years. It is said that fully qualified men in Medicine must be there. But for that reason are we to let go the people in our rural parts practically without medical men at all? I would request Government to provide each taluk headquarter hospital with a nurse. I am led to understand that nursing has much to do in the curing of diseases. In places where there are 15 to 20 beds without anybody to look after them, it is really a great want. If possible, I would also request Government to electrify the hospitals and provide lighting and fan facilities wherever possible.

“One more point, Sir. I understand there is a paucity of compounders; perhaps their pay is not attractive and in my own place a post has been vacant for a long time now. I learn that originally people used to attach themselves to taluk headquarter hospitals and get trained as compounders. Now, it is not so. Therefore, I request the Hon. the Prime Minister to arrange to continue the system of getting compounders trained in large numbers in the taluk headquarters hospitals as before.”

* SRI M. A. EASWARAN:—“Mr. Speaker and hon. Members of this House, I want to refer to the question of doctors in jails. When the doctors enter the jails, they begin to think they are also officials of the jail. The prisoners are not cared for by them. The medicines supplied to the jails are not used for the benefit of the prisoners; medicines are taken away for use somewhere else outside the jails. The Hon. Minister must give necessary instructions to the doctors to do their duty as doctors in the jails and not consider that they are also jail officials.”

“As regards the Erode hospital, it is in a very bad condition and needs much improvement. There are more patients there than beds. The Hon. Minister recently visited Erode and the hospital there and she knows it needs much improvement. There are vacant sites available by the side of the hospital; land must be acquired and the hospital must be extended. With these words, Sir, I support the demand.”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I feel that I am absolutely unequal to the task of having to reply to the most vehement criticism that has been levelled against Indian Medicine. At the same time, I am thankful to some of the members for having given certain helpful suggestions. Several members have referred, and very rightly I should say, to the most inadequate and insufficient and hopelessly poor medical relief that is given in this Province. I do admit, Sir, that sufficient attention had not been paid to the question of affording adequate relief to the people inhabiting this Province by the previous Governments, particularly during the last Government by the Advisers. It must be admitted that there had been a definite dereliction of duty on the part of the Advisers' Government.

“Now, Sir, having regard to the manner in which medical relief had been neglected in the past, a very onerous duty of attending to people who suffer from several diseases has devolved upon this popular Government. It is all the more onerous because the people of this Province expect a great deal from this popular

[3rd September 1946] [Hon. Mrs. Lakshmipathi]

Ministry. People of this Province, when elections took place, gave their votes in an unstinted manner; they profusely gave their votes to the Congress party, for they felt that it is only a popular Government that can do them justice. Hence it is that the task of the popular Ministry is very very difficult, particularly in the matter of health and particularly of the people living in the rural areas. It is true, Sir, that adequate provision for medical and public health services could not be made in the Budget for the year 1946-47, because moneys had to given for problems far more serious than perhaps medical and public health services. It is hardly necessary for me to point out on this occasion that in view of the fact that famine has become the order of the day, in view of the fact that millions of people in this Province are starving for lack of proper food, adequate food and nutritious food, in view of the fact that people have not got much clothing to clothe themselves with, moneys had to be provided for these essential needs of the people, and therefore for the year 1946-47, though I would very much have liked much more money provided for this department, and I would have indeed welcomed—of course it is an ambitious wish—but still considering the importance of public health, considering the importance of giving medical relief to the people, I would have liked that nearly 50 per cent of the revenues of the Province had been given to this most essential and important department. It is most regrettable indeed, Sir, that much provision could not be made for the improvement of district headquarters hospitals and taluk headquarters hospitals and rural dispensaries. Mr. Town rightly referred to the hopeless condition in which the Calicut hospital is found to-day. Not merely the Calicut hospital but it is so all over this Presidency. Therefore, what is most needed is to draw a most comprehensive scheme by which all these hospitals, all these anti-diluvian and old fashioned hospitals, could be demolished altogether and new hospitals built up, equipped with the most modern and scientific equipment, with the result that all the hospitals that would be constructed under the post-war scheme, under the post-war plan and the post-war programme, could boast of lining up with hospitals in the western countries. I hope, Sir, a day will come ere long when this Province—I cannot speak for the whole of India—but I could give this assurance for this Province provided the Premier gives me the funds I ask of him—can boast of and claim to its credit hospitals which can be called hospitals indeed. Srimathi Kuttiamma said that the hospital at Calicut is not fit to house patients but a place appropriate for housing cattle. It must be admitted to our shame that the past Government had allowed such a state of affairs to continue in this Province. I pass on to the next point. Mr. Town, as also several other members, referred to the conditions under which the patients have got to live. They said that sufficient number of beds are lacking to make the patients use cots. I have visited some of the City hospitals and also some of the hospitals in the districts. Supposing in the district headquarters hospital there are about a hundred or a couple of hundreds of beds, one very often finds about 300 or 400 patients being housed. You find patients lying all over the hospital not merely on the cots but underneath the cots. (A voice: 'Some are in the shade of trees.') I am not so sure of that but anyway, that information has not come to me. It is indeed regrettable that patients should be kept in the shade of trees. I have seen patients lying on verandahs without any bedding or mattress whatsoever. Supposing there is a case of pneumonia in which case a great deal of precaution has got to be taken because patients particularly suffering from lung diseases or chest diseases have got to be protected against wind and rain.

"Then again, reference was made to the fact that there are no medicines in hospitals and that there is no adequate equipment so far as personnel is concerned. It is true, Sir, that hospitals have been ill-equipped so far as nursing staff is concerned. Very often, in very many hospitals, there are qualified medical men to look after the patients because of the lack of nurses. I do admit that well-trained and well-qualified medical officers are very very essential if proper and adequate medical relief is to be given to the patients. Perhaps it will be appropriate on my part if I am to bring to the notice of this House that six medical officers who are in service have been deputed abroad to qualify themselves in certain special subjects. Some have been sent for training in ear, throat and nose. One has been sent to qualify himself in social medicine while others have been sent for different special subjects. Therefore, what is required is personnel. We want men and women, qualified men and women, to man these hospitals. Besides qualified medical people, we do require a large army of men and women to go out into the districts and rural areas to render service to people suffering from many a disease. At the same time, taking into consideration, the absolute inadequacy of maternity and child-welfare, we do require a large number of midwives to be trained. I had many an occasion to go into the villages and wherever I went, the people used to come forward with petitions, with memoranda after memoranda, complaining to me about the lack of midwives. In rural dispensaries, there is no provision for maternity wards. We see that there is a large incidence of maternal and child mortality. In the villages, not only there is too much maternal and child mortality but there are a number of cases of morbidity. Therefore we want to reduce the incidence of maternal mortality. Provision has been made in the Budget for 200 midwives. We want hundreds and thousands of midwives because the maternity and child-welfare is a national service. The child forms the very basis of society; unless the child's health is looked after, there is no prospect of this nation thriving and no prospect of this nation having a good physique about it. Therefore, the child is the very basis of the national health of this country. So also the woman has got to be protected. During the pre-natal stages, in the interim period and also in the post-natal period, the expectant mother has to be not only looked after carefully but her health interests should be safeguarded so that the mother would be a pride to the nation.

"Reference was made by my hon. Friend, Mr. Town, with regard to the provision of a lump sum of Rs. 5 lakhs for encouragement of Indian medicine. Sir, it has become a vexed question and a most controversial question, which, I fear, I would not be in a position to meet all the arguments that Mr. Town has put forward in a most vehement manner, rather in a destructive manner in criticising the Indian system of medicine. I quite understand the mental attitude of the hon. Mr. Town, as he said, how can it be possible for the antiquated, centuries old system of medicine to line up with the western system of medicine which has been able to develop itself to a very high degree. The object of developing Indian system of medicine is this, Sir. The system cannot possibly develop with the mere starting of a college here and a school there. What intended under this scheme is, not to have various systems of medicine, Siddha, Ayurveda, Unani or for that matter any other system of medicine. We must have one unified system of medicine; it would be neither western system of medicine nor Indian medicine. The purpose of this scheme is to develop the Indian medicine and it is our avowed object to train Allopathic physicians, to train medical graduates qualified in the western system of medicine by giving them courses of instruction in Indian medicine. It is very very essential to train the Allopathic doctor in Ayurveda. I do admit that it is superfluous to have hospitals set apart for Indian medicine and hospitals set apart for western system of medicine. So, if we can possibly develop a synthetic system of medicine in which we can have both Indian medicine and Allopathy. I think it would be a proper solution of the trouble obtaining here. It is true that so far as Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynaecology are concerned the western medicine has been able to make far greater progress and it has been able to make much headway but so far as medicines are concerned, the medical aspect of this question is concerned, there is a great deal that can be achieved by way of research in investigating the Indian drugs. A research department can be started where each drop can be analysed, its therapeutical and clinical properties could be ascertained and medicines manufactured according to standardized pharmacopœia. It is true we have not got standardized pharmacopœia because the Ayurvedic physician has a recipe of his own and he prepares the medicines according to the recipes handed down from father to son, from his ancestors. Therefore, the intention underlying the scheme is to have standardized pharmacopœia so that medicines according to standardized recipes would be prepared without any danger.

"A suggestion, Sir, was also made that pharmaceutical works should be started. Certainly it should be done because the encouragement and development of Ayurveda is an economic question. Sir, I do not understand and it passes my comprehension why we should import prepared medicines, manufactured medicines and patent drugs, the recipes of some of which we are not aware. Our drugs are taken away from India, manufactured in the United Kingdom and the United States of America, bottled up with fine-looking and beautiful labels, and dumped on us ten times or hundred times, as the case may be, of the price of raw products taken away from this country. Therefore, if we want to stop this exploitation—India unfortunately has been the victim of exploitation, we have been exploited in every department and exploited in all manner of ways and I do not see any reason why we should be exploited in this respect also because India is full of resources and plenty of material and plenty of man-power which could be easily exploited—I say, that all those drugs which we now import from abroad should be manufactured here; they could be far cheaper than any of those manufactured drugs coming from abroad.

“During the war, Sir, you and I had occasions to feel the rigour and the stress of the situation because many of the hospitals which had been accustomed to administer western medicines could not get those medicines in sufficient quantities because they were not available. What did they do then? They naturally had to fall back upon the Indian drugs. There are several drugs here which can be utilized for several of the diseases here. My hon. Friend, Mr. Town, said that malaria was unknown in this country and that there was no antidote for malaria in those good old days. For the information of the House, Sir—of course I am not an expert woman to dilate upon medicines and their properties—I can say this much, that there is a drug, besides quinine, known as Chiraka which is a most efficacious drug. Therefore my hon. Friend Mr. Town will understand that malaria was treated by our ancients; otherwise people would have died in hundreds if no antidote was discovered for the cure of malaria. True, quinine has been discovered, but in Chiraka there is a more powerful drug than quinine for curing malaria. It may be said that out of blissful ignorance many of the Allopathic physicians came forward to condemn outright this Indian medicine. I ask you, Sir, what authority have they to condemn systems of medicine of which they have no knowledge and of which they are in blissful ignorance. In fact, they are not competent authorities to pronounce an opinion on the efficacies of Indian medicine. (Dr. M. J. Samuel: ‘There is Chiraka preparation in Allopathy also and so it is not exclusive to Indian medicine alone.’) It was borrowed by the westerners; therefore it is an indigenous drug. Truth is universal and it is not applicable to any particular community or any particular country. Therefore, search for truth is not the monopoly of any one country and the westerners can thus make use of Chiraka if they find it more efficacious than their own drugs.

“Sir, when I was referring to the Indian system of medicine, what we want is one unified system; as the Communists say we want a classless society, even in the medical world, we do not want numberless systems of medicine to operate, but we want only one system which will be a synthesis of both the systems. After all, what does a common man want? We judge the efficacy of a system by the result it produces. The common man determines the value of a particular system of medicine by the result it produces. I can tell you and also for the edification of my hon. Friend Mr. Town that if to-day a census is taken, nearly 75 per cent of the people would rather resort to Indian medicine than to western medicine. The reason why Indian medicine has gone into disuse was lack of State patronage. If the previous Governments had only given a fillip for the encouragement of Ayurveda, or Siddha, or for that matter Unani, I am sure the Indian system of medicine would not be in the sorry plight that it is to-day. I am sorry I cannot go on for a long time in discussing this most vexed question. Then, Sir, my hon. Friend Mr. Town put me a certain question. He asked me whether the Indian system of medicine could boast of microscope. I may tell him, it can boast of anything.”

MR. H. S. TOWN:—“Excuse me, Sir. I did not say any such thing. Mr. Gandhi made reference to it in the Harijan.”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“I do not know who made the reference. Anyhow it was asked how could the perforation of deodonal ulcer and tumour of the brain be cured. I can only say categorically and unequivocally that no system of medicine can cure tumour of the brain. (Mr. Town: ‘Certainly it can be done.’) Unless it be by operation, it cannot be done. Then so far as septic empima is concerned, I can tell Mr. Town for his information that it cannot be cured by an Allopathic physician or surgeon. I know it was absolutely cured by a medical practitioner in Ayurveda (‘hear, hear’). An incision was made on the side of the chest by an Allopathic surgeon, and a little tube was inserted and through that pus used to ooze out. No doubt the patient had a temperature running up to 105 or 106 degrees. The poor patient who is a friend of mine is still living strong, hale and healthy. He tried all sorts of medical men, physicians as well as surgeons and finally he came to an Ayurvedic physician. He administered a simple drug, namely, the juice of garlic. The cavity was filled with the juice of garlic. Garlic is said to be a potent drug even by western physicians to-day. Well, my hon. Friend, Dr. Samuel, is nodding his head. I am glad he corroborates my statement. (Dr. M. J. Samuel: ‘This was done before Sulphanamide came into existence.’) I may tell you that even the application of Sulphanamide has done harm in many cases. Of course, it is a potent drug for pneumonia but it cannot be put in the hands of people who are unskilled or untrained in administering it. Even medical men practising the art of western medicine have gone wrong and even surgeons have gone wrong in administering this. I know Major Niblock who was attached to the General Hospital while operating on a patient, cut a blood-vessel in the arm and the patient died in the hospital as a result of that. What do you say to this, Sir? He was supposed to be one of the best surgeons attached to the hospital. Therefore, what counts is experience. As Mr. Town said, a raw medical graduate cannot go straightaway into the world and claim to treat patients. He must gather plenty of experience before he can think of practising the art of medicine.

“Mr. Venkatasubbayya as well as others referred to the inadequate manner in which medical relief is given and they referred to the lack of nurses, midwives and medical relief in the rural areas. The Government of Madras hope to implement the several items of work that have been drawn up under the Post-War Reconstruction Scheme; there is an idea too, I expect, under the firka system, to start about hundred—I am not quite certain about the exact number—rural dispensaries. Therefore, under that scheme, questions relating to nursing staff, diet, equipment, medicine, reconstructing taluk and headquarters hospitals in particular localities will all be looked into and if defects are noticed, they will all be remedied."

MR. TOWN:—"In view of the kind remarks made by the Hon. the Minister, I am pleased to withdraw my cut motion."

The cut motion was by leave withdrawn.

The demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

The House then adjourned to meet again at 11 a.m. the next day.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Wednesday, the 4th September 1946.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Fort St. George, at eleven of the clock, with Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVA-SHANMUKHAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

[4th September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know, Sir whether the ages given, particularly of Mr. Venkata Rao as forty-seven is correct and whether it is not 52?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"I am not aware of it."

Medical graduates for foreign scholarships.

* 140-B Q.—ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that in response to a notification by the Government of India inviting applications from medical graduates for foreign scholarships abroad, a number of applications were sent direct to the Government of India;

(b) whether it is a fact that these applications were returned to be forwarded through the Local Government, and that the Local Government declined to forward these applications and returned them to the applicants concerned; and if so, why such applications were not forwarded to Government of India;

(c) whether the Government are aware that it was quite possible that such applications might have been considered by the Government of India on their merit and some of the applicants might have been selected by Government of India;

(d) whether it is a fact that the Government of India notified that they proposed to send a maximum of 50 students abroad and that they would bear the whole cost in respect of students sponsored by them and 50 per cent of that of students sponsored by Provincial Governments;

(e) whether it is a fact that the Central Government stated that they reserved the right to allocate 20 places of the 50 for students sponsored by them;

(f) whether it is a fact that the Government of India stated that they would constitute a Central Selection Board presided over by a member of the Public Service Commission to review the suitability of candidates selected by the Central and Provincial Governments;

(g) whether any similar Provincial Board was constituted for selecting the Provincial Government's nominees;

(h) whether it is a fact that on a similar occasion when foreign scholarships were awarded by Government of India and the Provincial Government to a large number of Indian students, the then Government functioning under section 93 appointed a special selection board with a member of the Madras Public Service Commission on that body;

(i) if the answer to (g) is in the negative why this was not done; and

(j) whether it is a fact that the persons selected by the Provincial Government are permanent employees of the Government?

[4th September 1946]

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" (a), (b), (c) & (d) The Government have no information regarding such a notification.

" (e) & (f) The Government cannot give any information about matters which are the concern of the Central Government.

" (g) The present Government did not constitute any board for selecting candidates for medical or Public Health training.

" (h) The answer is in the affirmative. This special selection Board did not relate to Medical or Public Health.

" (i) The Government called for proposals from the Surgeon-General who constituted a Committee of his own accord.

" (j) Six of the proposed candidates are permanent employees, one temporary and one was a private candidate. Six persons have been chosen by the Government of India. (One is kept in the reserve. He has also been chosen.)"

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"It is stated in answer to clauses (a) to (d) that 'the Government have no information regarding such notification'. I submit that is not an answer to the various points raised in the question. May I, therefore, request the Hon. Minister to say what exactly is the information so far as the part played by the Madras Government is concerned?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"No notification was received from the Government of India. A Memorandum was sent by them asking for certain recommendations to be made by this Government."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know how this Government reacted to that Memorandum?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The Memorandum asked for the names of eight people to be recommended by the Provincial Government to the Government of India. That Memorandum is not for the information of the House."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I ask whether the Provincial Government was not asked to forward the applications so that they may be considered along with other applications?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"No, Sir."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In clause (e) information was asked whether 20 out of the fifty will be students sponsored by the Central Government. May I know, Sir, whether it is so?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"That relates to the recommendation made by the Education Department and does not relate to the Medical Department."

[4th September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I ask whether this Government has not considered applications that were sent direct to the Government of India by the local applicants?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The Provincial Government cannot consider applications sent direct to the Government of India."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it not a fact that applications that were sent direct were returned to the Provincial Government to be considered by them?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Only one such application was returned to the Madras Government and that was sent beyond the date on which applications ought to have been made."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know, Sir what exactly was the reason for the Provincial Government not sending the applications of those candidates who had applied to the Government of India and why they were not considered by them and why they did not send them so that those candidates also might be enabled to have a chance of being selected?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The fact was that the Provincial Government was asked to recommend eight names to be deputed to qualify themselves in certain special subjects. Accordingly, the Surgeon-General considered applications and recommended eight names to the Provincial Government and those names were recommended to the Government of India. Out of these, the Government of India have selected only five and one was kept in reserve and I understand subsequently that that name has also been selected."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Was it not intended by the Government of India that such of the names as were not selected by the Provincial Government should also have been sent to them, so that they could also have a chance of being selected?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The Provincial Government was not asked to do so. They were only asked to recommend eight names."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Then, Sir, why did not the Government of Madras return the applications to those candidates in time in order to enable them to send their applications once again to the Government of India, instead of keeping them back deliberately with them till the whole thing was over?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The applications were not intended to be sent to the Government of India for their consideration."

[4th September 1946]

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Arising out of the answer to clause (i), may I know the composition of the Committee constituted by the Surgeon-General?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The Surgeon-General constituted a Committee of his own accord. I am not aware of the names."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"May I know whether there was any applicant of the scheduled classes involved in the selection?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"I am not aware of it, Sir."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Will the Hon. Minister find out the reason for their rejection?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"It will be considered."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Why is it, Sir, that there are no applicants below 46 years of age?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Only those in service were to be selected. The Government of India had specified that the age of the candidate to be selected should not exceed 40. Unfortunately, we could not get candidates who were forty and below."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Does the Hon. Minister consider that these people will be fit enough to carry on after their period of training, in view of the fact that they are now 46 years of age?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"That is a question to be addressed to the previous Government."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"May I observe, Sir, only the first five were selected by the previous Government and there are eight others selected now who stand on the same footing?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"May I draw the attention of the hon. Member to column (4) which says that they are to serve till the date of retirement, i.e., till they attain fifty-five years of age."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I know why out of four women selected, not even one was a Muslim?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"No one was recommended by the Surgeon-General."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know what the justification is for the Government not constituting the Board as was done on the previous occasion and why they referred the matter to the Surgeon-General, who is the servant of the Government?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The Government found no necessity for constituting the Board."

[4th September 1946]

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—" May I inquire, Sir, whether it is not a fact that the Muslim applicant possessed the highest qualification, namely, the M.D. degree, whereas the other applicants possessed only the M.B.B.S. degree? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The matter must be considered by the Surgeon-General."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I inquire, whether as a matter of policy, it is desirable to send unmarried women doctors overseas for training? " (Laughter.)

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" Marriage or no marriage, it is no concern at all."

A. K. KADER KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Was the committee constituted by the Surgeon-General representative of all communities? "

(No answer.)

MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" As regards the 13th candidate in the list, it is stated, ' age not known ' I want to know from the Hon. Minister for Public Health, whether she has satisfied herself that the candidate was under-aged or over-aged? " (Laughter.)

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" Surely she is not under-aged. She must have been about 25 years." (Laughter.)

Shadowing of political workers.

* 141 Q.—SRI K. ANANDA NAMBIYAR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether the practice of shadowing political workers is still being continued;

(b) the number of political workers in each district against whom Special Branch men are being sent; and

(c) the number of Congressmen, Communists and others among such political workers in each district?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) to (c) The Government must decline to answer the questions as it would be against the public interest to answer them."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" Will the Hon. Prime Minister be pleased to state if it is a fact that secret instructions have been issued to the Police Department to watch the movements of important Communist Party leaders and Communist Party members? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The answer given already covers the point."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" Is this also a point that can't be revealed, Sir? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Quite so."

[4th September 1946]

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" May I know, Sir, whether it is a fact that the staff employed for this purpose has been increased? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Notice."

Opening of specialist departments in district headquarters hospitals.

* 142 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state whether in district headquarters hospitals Government propose to open specialist departments or improve them where they exist?

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The answer is in the affirmative."

SRI A. B. SHETTY:—" May I know, Sir, which are the specialist departments which Government propose to open? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" Notice."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, if the district headquarters hospitals are to be provided with specialists and extra specialists, while the taluk headquarters hospitals are starved for even essential equipments? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" It is not the intention of Government that taluk headquarters hospitals should be starved. If the district headquarters hospitals have the services of a specialist, the patients of the taluk headquarters hospital should be sent there for treatment."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, whether specialists in the district headquarters hospitals are considered to be more necessary there than in the taluk headquarters hospitals? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" District headquarters hospitals are expected to cater to the needs of the taluk hospitals also."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" May I know, Sir, whether tuberculosis is included in the category of specialists' treatment in headquarters hospitals? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" Yes, Sir, in all district headquarters hospitals, wards are set apart for the treatment of patients suffering from tuberculosis."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" May I know whether the specialists there had any special training in the tuberculosis sanatoria? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" They must have had it."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know whether the specialists appointed in the district headquarters hospitals will tour in the taluk areas or visit each hospital in the district so that facilities may be afforded to the patients in the taluk hospitals? ”

[4th September 1946]

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ I am afraid the specialists appointed will serve in the district headquarters hospitals only. They are not expected to tour.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“ Sir, in view of the fact that a medical college is to be opened shortly at Guntur and also at Madura, do Government propose to increase the staff as well as the equipment in the specialist department? ”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ There is absolutely no connexion between the opening of the medical colleges at Guntur and Madura and the question put by the hon. Member.”

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—“ Will Government be pleased to consider the proposal to offer facilities for clinical observation of the tendencies of diseases in patients in taluk dispensary areas also, for diseases like tuberculosis? ”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ Perhaps the hon. Member means, facilities should be afforded for diagnostic treatment of patients suffering from tuberculosis. That may be considered.”

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—“ May I know, Sir, what exactly the proposals of the Government are; whether they propose to equip district headquarters hospitals only or the various other hospitals in the taluks also? ”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ The post-war reconstruction scheme contemplates equipment of district headquarters hospitals in a most modern fashion.”

Applications from Harijans for licences to deal in cloth and yarn.

* 143 Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state—

(a) the number of applications received from Harijans for the grant of licences to deal in cloth and yarn;

(b) how many of them were granted; and

(c) whether it is a fact that applications from Harijans were rejected by the Provincial Textile Commissioner on the ground that such applicants were not dealing in cloth or yarn during 1939-42?

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“ (a) The number of applications received from Harijans for the grant of licences to deal in cloth and yarn cannot be given as the prescribed form of application for licences to deal in yarn or in cloth does not provide for the furnishing of particulars regarding the community to which the applicant belongs. The District Textile Control Officers in charge of cloth control are the licensing authorities in respect of cloth and the Provincial Textile Commissioner is the licensing authority in respect of yarn. From the records available in the Provincial Textile Commissioner's office he has been able to trace only two applications for yarn licences received from Harijans.

“ (b) The answer to question (a) applies to this question also. The two applications received by the Provincial Textile Commissioner for the grant of yarn licences were rejected.

“ (c) Licences to deal in yarn are granted only to persons who have been continuously in the business for not less than three years immediately prior to 1st August 1942. As regards mill-made cloth, licences are given only to those who had been doing such business from a date prior to 1st January 1943 in the case of wholesalers and from a date prior to 1st January 1944 in the case of retailers. The two applications from Harijans referred to in the answer to question (b) above, were rejected for want of the prescribed qualification of prior business in yarn.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ Will Government consider the desirability of granting licences to Harijans as they are professional weavers and spinners? ”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“ That matter will be considered.”

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—“ May I now, Sir, is it not unfair to insist on a separate licence for cloth and yarn during the basic period? ”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“ Government do not consider so.”

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ May I know, Sir, whether it would not be better to give at least some concessions to the Harijans with regard to qualification as was given to many people, who had some influence and who were rich millionaires? ”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“ If the hon. Member will give any suggestion, we will consider it.”

MR. H. S. TOWN:—“ Is it not a fact, Sir, that many people who know nothing of yarn or cloth have applied for licences in the hope of making profits available at the present moment? ”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“ I take the information from the hon. Member.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ Is it not a fact that the present Government are interested in the upliftment of Harijans, and so will not Government be doing justice to Harijans by giving them more licences for cloth and yarn so that their social and economic disabilities may be removed? ”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“ The hon. Member knows much better than myself what interest Government take in the upliftment of Harijans.”

[4th September 1946]

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, whether Government are aware, that in respect of several people who are dealing in cloth and yarn, several conditions under which licences are issued were overlooked and there are a number of complaints on that score at present? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" If those complaints come to the notice of Government, they will inquire into them."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not put questions whose answer I know. May I ask the Minister, Sir, by granting licences to Harijans, will it not increase their social and economic status? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I have replied to that question already."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—" Will Government consider to relax the rule in cases of genuine applications? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" Certainly."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDAR:—" Is the Government holding fast to the policy of the Advisers' regime in granting licences which has led to so many abuses like black-marketing and other things."

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" We are considering this question."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it not a fact, Sir, that people who had no such business during the basic period have been given licences? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I have no information. If there are any cases, I will call for them."

P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it a fact, Sir, that I.N.A. men have been given licences? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" No."

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—" May I know whether there is any charm in the basic period? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" It is necessary because we have to limit these cases."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know, Sir, whether the Hon. Minister will go into the question of giving concessions? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I need not, Sir."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" Are Government aware that there are 5,000 weavers in Kurnool and Cuddapah districts belonging to the Harijan community who have not been supplied with yarn? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I take the information from the hon. Member. I shall enquire into it."

[4th September 1946]

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Does not the Hon. Minister know that in the normal course of business new men come in and some old people go out? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" Yes, Sir."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is not the Hon. Minister aware that basic considerations are not held in the issue of ex-gratia permits? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" Notice."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, if the Government is prepared to cancel the licences that were inordinately granted by the previous Advisers' regime? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" If there are any cases, they will be enquired into."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Will the Hon. Minister admit that new men come in and old men go out in the normal course of business? Will he consider the advisability of not strictly adhering to the system of basic period? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" Not at present when there are any number of applications."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know, Sir, whether the headmaster of a High school, though he was not a merchant during this period, was given a permit? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I know nothing about it, Sir."

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—" Will Government be pleased to consider the equity of allowing everybody to hoard and pile up profits? "

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I am not in a position to answer that question."

Socialization of land.

* 144 Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether the Government have under contemplation any scheme to socialize land?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" No."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I ask, Sir, what is it that prevents the Government from socializing the land, as by socializing the land we will be solving the food problem to-day? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" It is very difficult to answer."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" When will the Government be pleased to consider the socialization of zamindaris, Sir? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" It is another question, Sir "

[4th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I ask the Hon. Minister what is the exact difficulty which he feels in socializing land, Sir? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" It is the difficulty of the question itself, Sir."

SRI V. I. MUNUSWAMI PILLAI:—" In view of the conditions in India, will the Government insist upon a minimum holding of the land? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" The matter will be considered. Socialization is a very big question of abolishing all private property."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—" For the benefit of the House, will Mr. Nagappa explain what he means by socializing land? " (Laughter.)

MR. SPEAKER:—" It is not possible for him to do so."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" Do Government intend to socialize zamindaris item by item or wholly? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" The question is not under the consideration of the Government at present."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I ask the Hon. Minister where he feels any difficulty in socializing all land, and whether it is his intention to allow absentee landlords in this Province? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" The question of absentee landlord is a much smaller question and will be dealt with in due course."

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—" Is the Government aware that it is very difficult to decide questions on theories on which members are allowed to interpellate from time to time? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I am unable to answer the question."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—" In view of the fact that there are a large number of landless people in this country, is not an equitable distribution of land necessary in the economic interests of the people? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I have already said in my speech on the Revenue demand that the settlement of the landless will be one of the questions to be considered by this Government."

Grant for rubber plantation.

* 145 Q.—SRI K. BRAHMANANDAM REDDI: Will the Hon. Minister for Agriculture be pleased to state—

(a) whether one individual in Guntur district was granted about Rs. 70,000 by the Agriculture department under the Advisers' regime for plantation of rubber;

(b) whether any and what progress was made in that direction; and

(c) if not, whether the Government intend to recover the amount with interest from the individual?

[4th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" (a) No grant was made by the Agricultural Department to any individual for the plantation of rubber in the Guntur district.

" (b) & (c) Does not arise."

Donation for starting a women's college in Madras City.

* 146 Q.—SRI M. A. EASWARAN: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) Whether Sri V. L. Ethiraj, Bar.-at-Law, gave as donation Rs. 10,00,000 to the Government to start a women's college in the City of Madras; and

(b) if so, whether the college is going to be started?

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—

" (a) No. Mr. Ethiraj deposited certain securities with the University of Madras to be kept in trust for the proposed Women's College Endowment Fund.

" (b) It is stated that for want of suitable accommodation for the college, it has not been possible to push through the scheme. He has approached the Government recently for help to secure a building and the matter is under consideration."

SRI P. NATESAN:—" May I know, Sir, what is the value of the security deposited with the University? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—

"If I remember aright, it is about Rs. 1,80,200."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—" May I enquire, Sir, why it has not been possible for the Government to secure some building for the purpose of starting this Women's college? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—

" Mr. Ethiraj suggested one or two buildings, in one of which the Public Service Commission is located. This building has been specially remodelled for the office of the Public Service Commission, and so it could not be spared. We asked for another building which has been recently given up by the Military and we are trying to get this building."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—" May I enquire whether the Government are aware that many offices are located in big buildings whereas smaller buildings would be sufficient for them? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—

" It is difficult for me to go about the buildings of the City. If Mr. Ethiraj or the Hon. Lady would suggest a suitable building, the Government will be prepared to do whatever they can do in the matter."

[4th September 1946]

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it not a fact, Sir, that this Barrister promised substantial financial assistance if only Government fulfilled their obligation by providing an equal amount for starting a women's college?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—"I am not aware of any such contract."

Publication of the message of Mr. Liaqat Ali Khan in "Swadesamitran."

* 146-A Q.—B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware that in Swadesamitran, Tamil Daily newspaper, dated 31st August 1946, 1/2nd September 1946, page 4, column 2, the message of Mr. Liaqat Ali Khan asking Muslims to "Pray to God" has been translated as "Pray to Satan" thereby maliciously insulting religion of Islam and outraging the feelings of Muslims;

(b) whether the Government are aware that the said publication has deeply wounded the feelings of the Muslims; and

(c) whether the Government propose to prosecute the Editor, Printer and Publisher of the said newspaper for an offence under section 295-A, Indian Penal Code?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"This short notice question causes some trouble at times, because a proper reply could not be made ready. This is a peculiar case in which the question has been put, and since this question has been put, it has been brought to my notice that it was a mere slip in the print, and that it was corrected soon after it was noticed by the Editor. The correction is in Tamil. The translation is as follows:—

'In the news item published in the Swadesamitran, dated August 31, 1946, second column on page 4, under the heading "silent protest against Interim Government" the wording "invoking the help of Hell" should read as "invoking the help of God". We regret for this error which occurred due to a telegraphic mutilation. (Editor.)'

"This correction was made in the paper immediately afterwards. Therefore, under these circumstances, it will be for the hon. Member who put the question to say whether he will insist upon answers being given to other clauses (b) and (c) of the question. After hearing him, I shall be able to say."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I want to bring to the notice of the Premier that this was the only paper which published these words in this manner, and moreover one cannot know how the words 'help of God' became mutilated into 'Hell.' The word used in the paper is 'pray to Satan' and not 'pray to help of God.' Therefore, Sir, some thought seems to have been bestowed upon this subject. However, I want to know from the Hon. Premier whether he has ascertained that it is a bona fide mistake."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I took it from the contradiction note in that paper that it was a mistake, and it is stated that it was a bona fide mistake, and they expressed regret, which is an apology for the mistake."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I want to know clearly whether the Government is satisfied that that is a bona fide mistake?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Government is satisfied that it was a very bad mistake, but it was a bona fide mistake. There is no doubt about that. The English word used is 'Hell' for 'help' and the translation was made wrongly. It is for that that regret is expressed, and the matter should be closed at that point."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"We agree to drop the question, Sir."

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS.

Recommendations of the Muslim Educational Committee.

40 Q.—K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR: "Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) what were the recommendations of the Muslim Educational Committee appointed by the Government of Madras with the late Mr. Yakub Hassan and others as members;

(b) which of those recommendations were accepted and carried out by the Government; and

(c) when they were enforced?

A.—(a) & (b) Attention is invited to G.O. No. 1371, Education, dated 1st June 1934,^a in regard to the various recommendations made by the Muslim Educational Committee, and those which were accepted by Government to be carried out. Chapter XI of the Report on Public Instructions for 1944-45, recorded in G.O. No. 258, Education, dated 6th February 1946,^b sets out the position of Muslim education at the end of that year.

(c) It is not possible to indicate the date for each item of development.

The number of licences for fire-arms granted before 1942 in Kurnool district.

41 Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA: Will the Hon. the Minister for Law be pleased to state—

(a) the number of licences granted for guns, revolvers, rifles, etc., before 1942 in Kurnool district talukwar;

(b) In the year 1942 and after;

^a Printed as Appendix I on pages 1238-1245 infra.

^b Printed as Appendix I on pages 1245-1249 infra.

[4th September 1946]

- (c) how many were refused renewals;
 (d) how many were withheld;
 (e) how many were cancelled; and
 (f) what are reasons for withholding, for cancelling and for refusals of renewals?

A.—(a), (b), (c) & (e) The information is furnished in the statement^a laid on the table of the House.

(d) No licences were withheld during the years 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945.

(f) The papers in the Kurnool Collector's office, relating to arms licences for the years 1941-44 were destroyed due to efflux of time and no information is, therefore, available in respect of these years.

During 1945, seventy-six arms licences were cancelled due to the death of the licensees and renewal of licences was refused in seven cases due to old age, in five cases as the character of the licensees was reported to be not good, in eighteen cases for inability of the licensees to hold and use weapons, and in two cases for other reasons.

Diversion of Thalamadugu Vagu into Siddapuram tank in Kurnool district.

42 Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether any investigation was done in diverting Thalamadugu vagu tributary of Galeru, into Siddapur tank, Nandikotkur taluk, Kurnool district;

(b) if so, at what stage the investigation is; and

(c) when it is expected to be completed?

A.—(a) Yes. The proposal to construct a dam across Galeru river (otherwise known as Thalamadugu vagu) and for cutting a channel to divert its water to Siddapuram tank was considered in 1934 and found neither promising nor worth further investigation for the reason that besides the heavy cost involved in cutting the diversion channel about a mile long through a ridge, the catchment area of the diversion channel being not more than a fourth of that of Siddapuram tank, was not likely to benefit the tank appreciably.

(b) & (c) No further investigation was made since 1934 for the above reasons.

minutes for the Ministers to answer, so that we can finish the Budget to-day. Mr. Town told me that he would speak only on the Highways, and the Independent group also wants 5 minutes for that Demand. May I know if it is acceptable to the Leader of the House?"

* SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"Does it mean that the other Members have not got a chance to speak in the matter?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It means that."

* SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"Will it not go by default, Sir?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"No. To-day is the last day."

DEMAND XVII—PUBLIC HEALTH.

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"On the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, I move—

'that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 1,11,20,600 in respect of the head "Public Health." The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 3,68,422.'"

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. 11-45 Speaker, Sir, for very good reasons we were not here yesterday a.m. when the Hon. Minister for Public Health moved the Demand in respect of the head 'Medical.' The Hon. Minister for Public Health is new to this department. As such we can say that she does not know much about the requirements of the people of this Province so far as this department is concerned, and therefore with regard to the requirements of the rural areas of this Province regarding protected water-supply and drainage. It is a most deplorable state of affairs that in the year 1946 we have to contend against many epidemics prevalent in the rural parts and also in towns where water-supply is not organized properly and is most antediluvian and antiquated. The same is the case with regard to drainage also. The first concern of the Public Health Department of this Province should be to see that these two very important requirements of public health are provided. Otherwise public health will deteriorate and epidemics will spread. Protected water-supply is in great demand, and it should be the first charge on the finances of the Province. Protector water-supply goes side by side with drainage. I know it will cost a good deal if drainage and water-supply for all the towns of this Province alone are considered. The Government will have to allot large sums of money to meet both the capital and the recurring expenditure on protected water-supply and drainage schemes. I have gone to some of the important towns in the Province and have seen to my great dismay, disappointment and disgust, that ladies have to go and stop at a public fountain, even where there is water-supply for hours together in large numbers, so that they may take a pot of water from that pipe. That is the case even where protected water-supply is provided.

"In this connexion, I should like to say that it is too much for this Government to expect small municipalities and unions to find the necessary money to give adequate water-supply to the people in their areas. That has been the deplorable policy in the local administration of this Province. The Government have been going about asking small municipalities to meet the entire cost or at least a portion of the cost of maintenance of these big projects and provide water-supply. I would ask the Government to revise that policy so far as these requirements are concerned. I wish that the entire amount spent on water-supply is met from the coffers of the Provincial Government. Unless the Government take a larger view in these matters, I do not think it will be possible for the various municipalities to provide water-supply and drainage in the manner in which it ought to be done. I do not think I need take up much of the time of the House except to say that for want of assistance from the Provincial Government, the Kurnool Municipality has not been able to give adequate water-supply to the people. Till recently on account of faulty machinery, the water supply was ineffective. I move the cut motion, namely, to reduce the allotment of Rs. 1,11,20,600 for Public Health by Rs. 100.

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, my hon. Friend Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan emphasized the necessity for water-supply. I will confine myself to drainage. I know, Sir, that according to the rules framed by the Government, they make half contribution and ask the municipality to bear the other half. I also know that the Government advance loans to municipalities on certain conditions. The Government should take into consideration the capacity of the municipality to repay the loan. As a matter of fact, I know the case of Bezwada where there is drainage only in the western half. For the eastern half, a scheme and the estimates were prepared, but the Government have been asking the municipality to increase the rate of water tax. The water tax in Bezwada is already very high, and therefore the municipality could not further raise the tax. So, for the last twenty years the thing could not take effect. I submit that the rules framed by the Government may be relaxed and, if necessary, the Government may make a greater proportion of contribution, and grant a loan for the rest. The Government may grant two-thirds contribution, and the municipalities may be asked to meet the remaining one-third. Otherwise many a scheme would come to nothing. I think the health of the people will certainly come to grief if the Government do not urge the municipalities to execute the works by making liberal grants or by meeting a larger proportion of the cost than the rules permitted in the past."

* M. A. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In supporting the cut motion under Demand XVII—Public Health,

4th September 1946] [M. A. Muhammad Ibrahim Sahib Bahadur]

I want to bring to the notice of the House that the public health of this Province is not very satisfactory. At pages 127-28 of the Administration Report for 1944, it is said that maternal and child mortality has increased. For 1944, the maternal mortality figure is 9.98 per thousand, and the infantile mortality figure is 92.4 per thousand. My suggestion to this House is that the Government should devote more care to this matter and see that this increase in maternal and child mortality is arrested. One reason for this increase is what of properly protected rural water-supply schemes and sanitary housing accommodation. Due to want of maternity hospitals in rural areas, also, this increase has come about. Under these circumstances, I urge the Ministry to tackle this problem. One more satisfactory feature of this Budget is that the Ministry has provided Rs. 30,00,000 to the fund specially created for the development of rural water supply. But they have made provision to spend only about 25 lakhs and odd this year. As the question is a very very important one, the Ministry should allocate more funds for the development of protected water-supply especially in places where the condition is very very deplorable. As illustrations, in Calicut and Ponnani municipalities, drainage and water-supply schemes have not been prepared at all. Then in rural areas, more maternity facilities should be afforded. Protected water-supply should be developed especially in Peranampet and Visharam in North Arcot district and Nellore town.

"So far as the vaccination of Muslim ladies is concerned, great difficulty is experienced. This difficulty can be resolved by the Government appointing more lady vaccinators wherever possible, and suitable amendment to the rules may be made in the matter. Thereby infantile and maternal death-rate may be put an end to or at least put down to a certain extent. With these words I support the cut motion."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"In supporting the cut motion I would like to bring to the notice of the House that practically there is no public health existing in our country. Of course our country is having the highest infantile mortality and the lowest expectation of life. But in the Budget we do not find sufficient provision to remedy the position. In 1939 the Public Health Act was passed and the health officers had been appointed with fair salaries only to create more troubles in the municipalities. They did not care to maintain the health of the towns and municipalities. I will bring to the notice of the House the quarters in which the workers are dwelling. There, there is no public sanitation and there is no drinking water-supply. Most of them are made to walk very long distance to fetch water. In Tenali and Guntur specifically there is no public drainage. Another point I wish to draw the attention of the House is the condition of the working-class quarters of the suburbs and towns where the tanneries are situated. The industry is such that round about the tanneries there is very bad odour emitted. But the managers and others are not interested in the public health and they are practically neglecting public health and doing a great injustice to humanity. The health officers do not go there to see that proper sanitation is maintained and proper action is taken against the tannery merchants. As regards drainage I will confine myself to Andhra towns. There is no drainage system worth mentioning nor a protected water-supply system. Out of these Guntur is very bad. Even though its population is highest of all the Andhra towns there is no drainage system worth mentioning and there is no water-supply there. In the summer people will be pining for a drop of water and there will be regular quarrels over that. That is so in Vizagapatam also. I would also bring to the notice of the House about the water-supply system in Chodavaram. Long ago Rs. 15,000 had been allotted but the work has not been started. The Minister should take steps to overcome the delay. Particularly I would request the Minister concerned to see that the people have at least water which is very essential."

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am very thankful indeed to the hon. Members for having made some constructive suggestions with regard to the improvement of water-supply and drainage in this province. It cannot be gainsaid that the public health of this province is indeed in a most deplorable and unsatisfactory condition. I do admit, as some hon. Member said, that water-supply and drainage schemes should be the first charge on the revenues of this province. I won't mind if large sums of money are expended on the promotion of these two very important services of the Government of Madras. A man can live without food for some time, but he cannot live for more than a few hours without good drinking-water. Therefore I do admit that drainage and water-supply schemes are very very essential to which attention should be devoted. I believe water-supply and drainage have to go together; they have to be treated pari passu or simultaneously. I hope the hon. Members are aware of the compendium of provincial requirements prepared by the previous Government. Schemes for different places in the order of necessity were made in that compendium. The Post-war Reconstruction Scheme contemplates that within a period of twenty years the places mentioned in the compendium of provincial requirements should be provided with protected water-supply. (Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'It must be reduced to ten years.') Yes, if funds are forthcoming, it might be possible to complete all the schemes not within a period of twenty years, but within a period of ten years according to the suggestion of Mr. Hameed Khan. I do hope that the Government of Madras will be able to expedite the schemes as much as possible. I would even go to the extent of suggesting that, though these works are not productive like the Tungabhadra and the Ramapadasagara or any other irrigation project, any amount spent on the public health services would not go in vain or that the money is wasted, because public health is a very important activity of the Government of Madras. Unless and until the people of this province have good physique, they will not be in a position to carry on their profession or to pursue any other walk of life they may resort to."

4th September 1946] [Hon. Mrs. Lakshmipathi]

"A more essential subject that has got to be examined is the care of the child and the mother. One hon. Member of this House has very rightly referred to the fact that in rural areas adequate facilities have not been provided to look after the interests of the expectant mothers. The mother has to be cared for not only at the time of confinement, but a great deal of attention has got to be paid during her ante-natal period, during the intra-period, and also during the post-natal period. The health of the mother should be the first consideration of any Government and therefore facilities have to be provided for her."

"It is true that in many of the dispensaries, there are no maternity wards. Of course, there are maternity wards in the district headquarters hospitals and the taluk headquarters hospitals, but in the dispensaries no provision has been made so far. It is the intention of the Government, when implementing the post-war reconstruction schemes, to provide in all rural dispensaries maternity wards to the extent of four beds. When the post-war reconstruction schemes are given effect to, I am sure many of the women will be benefited."

"Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig has referred to the question of drainage in Bezwada. I have myself lived there for some time, though not continuously, and I know in what state the drainage of that town is, particularly the drainage in Governorpet, where my friend is living. In fact long ago the Municipality of Bezwada had been asked to submit plans and estimates, so that the drainage scheme could be carried out. Unfortunately for us and for every one else, the war intervened, and the work had to be stopped. Now that the war is over, now that the conditions are getting more and more relaxed, and with the availability of more personnel and more material, I hope that this scheme will be executed, so that most of the diseases which arise from lack of proper drainage will vanish. It must be remembered that due to lack of protected water-supply and proper drainage schemes, diseases like malaria occur. Fifty per cent of the diseases which are the result of inadequate protected water-supply and absence of proper drainage are preventable not only in rural areas, but also in urban areas, if adequate protected water-supply and drainage are given to the people."

"Besides malaria, here are certain other diseases which are known as water-borne diseases. These diseases such as the guinea-worm disease are prevalent in rural areas where there are step-wells. Draw-wells are far better and far more sanitary than step-wells, for a person who draws water from a draw-well need not go down and fetch water. But in the case of step-wells, when a man goes down and takes water from the well, his feet touch the surface of water and the guinea-worms, which may lie between water and the steps, may enter into his body and infect him. Therefore draw-wells are far better from the sanitary point of view than step-wells. When the present Government is able to implement the post-war reconstruction schemes,

p.m.

[Hon. Mrs. Lakshmipathi]

[4th September 1946]

I expect that many of the diseases which are known as water-borne diseases will be eradicated and people will be relieved of the suffering.

“Under the post-war scheme, 81 schemes are to be carried out during the first quinquennium and during the first year of the first quinquennium 41 water-supply schemes will be taken up and 25 out of these 41 have already been taken up. Some water-supply schemes are already in execution, while for the others, plans and estimates are being prepared. When the plans and estimates are got ready, we expect that in the course of a year or two, these schemes will come to fruition.

“Besides the question of water-supply in municipal and urban areas, the question of affording protected water-supply to rural areas is more important and urgent. Perhaps hon. Members are aware that a sum of Rs. 35 lakhs is provided for rural water-supply in this province, and that a sum of Rs. 10 lakhs has been added to the already existing sum of Rs. 25 lakhs, thus making up Rs. 35 lakhs, which go to make up, what is known as the Rural Water-Supply Fund. Under this Fund, the Revenue Board apportions the amounts required for implementing the rural water-supply schemes in the districts. It goes into the entire question of rural water-supply in the Province and gives the required amounts to the Collectors and the Collectors carry out these works. The rural water-supply schemes could have been expedited much earlier, had it not been for the fact that we have not got the necessary personnel to carry out the schemes. We want a number of overseers for the purpose. At present all the available overseers have been taken away for the purpose of sinking wells for irrigation in view of the food crisis. And therefore for protected rural water-supply, we have not got as many overseers as we require. Materials also are not easily available. For boring wells, a large number of pipes and pumping sets are required. The Industries Department has only a limited number of pumps for boring wells and only a limited number of pipes. So, many of these schemes in fact have to be held up for want of materials. Take for instance the water-supply scheme for Pollachi. This scheme has been in existence for several years, but could not be taken up for want of materials. In fact, many of the water-supply schemes in the urban areas and in municipal areas have been there, for several decades. The Guntur water-supply scheme has been there for the past 40 years. I know of many places even in Panchayat areas, where water-supply schemes have been held up for want of finance, for want of proper attention, for want of materials and so on.

“One hon. Member referred to the difficulties that women have got to undergo in getting water from a distance of several miles. Perhaps it would be appropriate on my part if I draw the attention of hon. Members to the fact that in certain places like Kayalpatnam in the Tinnevely district, which is inhabited mostly by Muslims, water scarcity is very keenly felt. There are also a number of other villages—about nine

[Hon. Mrs. Lakshmipathi]

I think—which are closely linked with each other, near Kayalpatnam, where the situation is worse. Petitions have been sent to me drawing my attention to the fact that water-supply should be provided for those villages, that the women-folk, particularly Muslim women who are in purdah, have got to go long distances during nights to fetch water. I visited Kayalpatnam myself and saw with my own eyes the difficulties and hardships that these purdah women had to undergo, in those places. My heart simply melted at that sight and immediately on my return, I ordered that proposals should be put up for the immediate execution of the water-supply scheme at Kayalpatnam and the Sanitary Engineer had been asked to look into that matter very urgently. I may also state that in Kayalpatnam some philanthropic-minded people, Muslims in particular, have come forward and collected some thousands of rupees and are prepared to spend them on this contribution work. Similarly, if Muslims in other parts are large-hearted enough to come forward with their contributions, I am sure, it will strengthen the hands of Government to execute the schemes more quickly.

“Reference has also been made to the dearth of women vaccinators. I am also aware of this fact and the Government will certainly consider the suggestions made by hon. members in this respect.

“I forgot to mention one particular matter in connexion with water-supply, and that is in relation to the Vizagapatam Municipality. Perhaps hon. members are aware that to augment the water-supply in Vizagapatam, the Military had set up what is known as the Gosani Water-Supply Scheme and the Government has received information that the Military is going to abandon the Gosani Scheme. The Vizagapatam Municipality is seriously considering the proposal to take over the Gosani Water-Supply Scheme, in case the Government proffered its help.

“Various other suggestions have been made and I hope the Government ere long will be able to implement all the suggestions that have been made. They are very helpful suggestions and they will be borne in mind by the Government and will be carried out, so that people might live in peace, prosperity and happiness.

“I request the hon. Member who has moved the cut motion to withdraw the same.”

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—“On a point of information, Sir. While the Hon. the Minister for Public Health referred to Bezvada and Vizagapatam, she has not made any mention about Calicut. The Calicut Water-Supply Scheme is all ready but for pumping sets and we have been waiting for them for the last four or five years.* Would the Hon. the Minister give us some assurance that this matter would be looked into urgently?”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“I have already said that 81 water-supply schemes are going to be taken up in the first quinquennium and I have already given the information to the House that 41 schemes will be taken up during the first year. Calicut will certainly be included in these schemes."

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—"This is a scheme that was sanctioned long ago. All the preliminary work has been finished, except that we have no pumps, for which we have been waiting for the last five years."

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"I have already told the House that there is great difficulty in securing pumps and as soon as pumps are available, the water-supply works at Calicut will certainly be carried out."

* N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Before we consider the withdrawal of the cut motion, will the Hon. the Minister give an assurance to us having regard to the two or three philanthropists who have already given their contributions to the Visharam and Pernamput Water-Supply and Maternity Hospital Schemes, that those schemes will be taken up even in spite of the fact that they do not find a place in the compendium of which so many of the hon. Members of the House have no knowledge and for which especially we make an appeal to her that every member should be given a copy of the same, and that we will soon have water-supply in Visharam and Pernamput in the North Arcot district?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"So far as the maternity hospital is concerned, there is no such scheme in the compendium. The compendium has been prepared only with regard to water-supply and drainage schemes. The schemes referred to by the hon. Member will certainly be borne in mind and will be executed as early as possible."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the Hon. Minister has taken a lot of trouble to acquaint herself with all the information connected with this subject and also has given very great consideration to the demands from this side of the House and the readiness with which assurances were given and especially in view of the fact that the Hon. the Minister is a class-mate of mine (laughter), I withdraw my cut motion."

The cut motion was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

The Demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XVIII—AGRICULTURE.

12-30 p.m. THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor I move—

'that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 1,69,10,900 in respect of the head Agriculture. The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 3,36,707.'"

4th September 1946]

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, I rise to move the cut motion standing in my name, namely, 'To reduce the allotment of Rs. 1,69,10,900 for Agriculture by Rs. 100' and, in doing so, I want to draw the attention of the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture to the needs of the agriculturists of my district. Of all the departments that require the special attention of the Government, the Department of Agriculture has to take the first place. But what we find is that it is the department that receives the least attention. The officers of the department are simply idling away their time, doing nothing. If things cannot be improved, I would suggest the closing down of this department."

"One direction in which the department could be improved lies in co-ordinating its activities with those of the Veterinary Department. As the activities of these two departments are interconnected I would strongly urge their amalgamation. If this is done they could work under one head."

"Sir, the profession of agriculture has become unprofitable in our province and if the position is not to deteriorate further, the Government should devote its special attention to improve the facilities given to the agriculturists. One way of improving the methods of cultivation is to open model agricultural farms in every taluk if not in every village. What happens now is that the officers of the department who are entrusted with the work of selling agricultural implements in the taluks are making money by selling these implements in the blackmarket. The Government should see to it that these implements really reach the cultivators."

"Another matter to which I want to refer is the lack of representation of Muslims in this department. I am told that there has been an insistent demand for the appointment of a Muslim Deputy Director of Agriculture and that it has been turned down many times. I want the Government to see that in this department also communal justice is done."

"Another suggestion I want to make is that propaganda vans should be sent to the villages to educate the villagers in the matter of production and cultivation of short term crops so that we may to some extent solve the food problem."

"The question of the improvement of livestock is another thing that should engage the attention of the Government. In addition to urging the need for the improvement of livestock I would ask that the deserving cultivators be given free supply of livestock. In many villages the provision for stud-bulls is absent and people find it very difficult to get the cows served. I want the Government to see that this difficulty is removed by the free distribution in deserving cases of stud-bulls and also implements such as pumps and other things needed for cultivation."

"Another difficulty which the agriculturists feel in these days of rice scarcity and ration is in the matter of getting suitable and sufficient seeds. As the ration authorities take away from the cultivators even the paddy seeds stored for sowing, the cultivators experience great difficulty in obtaining suitable and sufficient seeds. I want the Government to pay special attention to this grievance of the agriculturists."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member will please move his cut motion."

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I have moved it."

* K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, in rising to support the cut motion moved on behalf of my party, I have to bring to the notice of the Government the impression prevailing in the country that the Agricultural department, as far as the Malabar district is concerned, is more a consolation department than a 'utility department'. In fact, this department, except for its appearance in the Government records, is not known in the district and is not utilised by the ryots in the district for the simple reason that the department is not properly advertised among the ryots and is not bringing its special knowledge and expert skill to the doors of the ryots. In fact, there is an agricultural research station within my constituency at Pattambi. Except for the publicity given to it as a research station situated in Pattambi in the Government records this station is not known in the taluk in which it is situated or in the neighbouring taluks of the Malabar district. What are the researches conducted in this research farm; are those results made known to the ryots; whether the ryots have benefited by the researches, etc. These are matters least known to the public and deserve careful investigation by Government. The villagers are following their old methods of cultivation. They are not in any way helped by the expert or scientific knowledge which this department is believed to be in possession of. So what I suggest is that there must be a strong propaganda section attached to this department which should be working vigorously and more workers should be recruited to the department for carrying on the propaganda work.

"Then, the supplying of scientific manures and implements to the ryots is a matter to which greater attention should be paid. In several parts of the district the lands are subject to what is called the law of diminishing returns. Therefore, unless scientific manures are supplied and the defects of the soil are remedied by special scientific manures the produce from the land will be below normal and extremely poor and the fate of the ryots will be very hard indeed. In fact, the Agricultural department should work in co-operation with non-official agencies which exist in every village. Now there are the Congress committees and Muslim League committees in every village. The employees of the department should contact these non-official bodies and public workers and enlist their co-operation for bringing their special knowledge and experience to the doors of the ryots. The realities in the villages are not known to the expert employees of the department. They do not know the practical difficulties of the ryots and they do not make an investigation of the peculiar condition of the villages, with the result that there is at times the risk of misapplication of the knowledge which they seem to have to conditions where such knowledge would not be applicable. This results in more harm than good. So I submit that the department has to do ten times the work which it is now doing both in the matter of propaganda and in affording assistance to the ryots. They have to work in co-operation with non-official agencies and the Government will have to exercise a sort of check on the quality and the volume of work done by the department instead of leaving it to function as a consolation department which at present it is."

* MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is an undisputed fact that agriculture is the most important avocation of our people on which the health, the wealth and the very existence of all depend. It is therefore, Sir, I add to what the Hon. the Minister for Public Health, said, viz., that any amount spent on the Health department will not be a waste, and it is equally true in this case. That is to say, whatever amount is spent on the improvement of agriculture in our country will not be a waste. Sir, in improving agriculture, the most important factors that have to be attended to are, first, supplying the necessary implements, and second supplying the most suitable manure and other accessories in adequate quantity. As regards implements, the cultivator is badly in need of them to enable him to wring out of the soil the foodgrains which we are eagerly looking for. Sir, in helping the farmer and the cultivator to carry on his avocation most successfully we will be solving the most critical problem of the day.

"Sir, I understand that the supply of agricultural implements through the Agricultural department is being abused. It is not properly supplied to the deserving people. It seems that some of the officials are even trading upon the facilities given to them for distribution to the deserving ryot. I would therefore request the Hon. Minister for Agriculture to pay particular attention to this and see that these implements which are now being distributed, such as iron tyres for carts and plough-ends, etc., reach the needy and deserving men.

"I would also request the Hon. Minister for Agriculture to see that proper manure in adequate quantities is also made available to the cultivator. Sir, the wastes that are being collected by the panchayats, municipalities and the corporation are heaped in a place and then they are destroyed. Instead of doing that if they are kept like the nightsoil and given to the cultivator they can be used as manure and as the richest food for the crops. This will also in a way help to solve the scarcity of manure.

"Secondly oil-cakes, especially groundnut oil-cake, which proves to be one of the most essential and rich manures to the crops, may also be made abundantly available to the ryots and cultivators at cheap prices. Since the price of all commodities has risen the price of groundnut cake also has correspondingly and in some places more than correspondingly risen, and therefore it is beyond the reach of the cultivator. As one of my friends said there is a diminishing return from the most fertile fields of

p.m.

[Muhammad Hussain Sahib Bahadur] [4th September 1946]

our country. It is therefore necessary that this aspect of agriculture, namely the prices of necessary materials, is attended to with greater care.

"I also request that even artificial manures should be made available to the cultivator so that the rate of present production may be increased. Whatever amount may be spent on this will not be a waste.

"Thirdly, Sir, my Friends have already given expression to the view that propaganda work must also be carried on. While in other countries in one acre there is a production of about 40 kottas and 50 kottas of paddy, we here have only 8 or 9 kottas. Is this not a very deplorable state of affairs in a country which is mainly agricultural? Therefore special and immediate attention must be paid to see that the production of our fertile lands is increased. I request the Hon. Minister to pay more attention to propaganda work so that every cultivator may know the nature of the soil which he is cultivating, the necessary steps which he should take and also to impress upon him that it is a duty which he has been called upon by the country to carry on. I therefore hope that the Hon. Minister who himself hails from a family of agricultural landlords will pay much more attention to this aspect of the problem and that within a short period the production of our province will be doubled and trebled. With these words, Sir, I support the cut motion."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I won't take more than half a minute. Sir, I want to say one or two words about this Agricultural department which has been in existence for a number of years at a cost of several lakhs and millions of rupees. But what is the result? If you go to a field and stand there and see you will find that it is being cultivated in the same old way as it was being done a thousand years ago. (Interruption.) Sir, I shall correct myself by saying in the words of the Hon. Premier, not even so well as they were cultivated a thousand years ago. All the researches and other activities of the department are not benefiting the ryots. The complaint of the department probably is that they are not able to establish proper contact with the ryots; but whose fault is that? Sir, for how long is this going to continue? If that is the complaint, then how are we going to justify the existence of this department? Sir, this is what I wanted to point out. Even to-day, this country which is predominantly an agricultural country, gets Haifa oranges, Californian apples and even Malayan pine-apples, all from foreign countries. Sir, this country which is poor is made to consume oranges grown in foreign countries at very high cost, where the wages are ten times what they are in this country. I want Sir, that some attention must be paid to this aspect of the thing. This I put before the House and the Government as a layman would do."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am supporting the cut motion. We have to take up such an important department as the Agricultural department at the far end of the session after having devoted so much of our time to discussing other less important matters. Sir, the amount provided for this department is only Rs. 169 lakhs whereas a much larger sum is provided for the Police Department. I therefore request the Hon. Minister to see that this amount is expended with proper care so that our agriculture may not lag behind.

"Sir, regarding manure, it is good that the Government have taken control over this matter, but it is not being managed efficiently. Sir, in Guntur itself there is not sufficient amount of manure, but we have been made to export manure to other places from Guntur. Therefore Guntur has become deficit in manure and its agriculture has been affected.

"With regard to the free distribution of manure, I suggest, Sir, that it should be done in the interests of the poor agricultural labourers who take the land for cultivation. Priority should be given to them.

"As regards marketing, up till now only maximum prices have been fixed for agricultural produce, but minimum prices have not been fixed. This enables the merchants to cheat the agriculturists and buy their agricultural produce at very cheap rates. Therefore, I suggest that minimum prices also should be fixed.

"In this connexion, Sir, I want to draw the attention of the House to one of the great injustices perpetrated under the Defence of India Rules. Whenever the Defence of India Rules are applied, it is against the interests of the people and in the interests of the capitalists. In the matter of fixing the area under sugarcane, there is no guarantee that all the sugarcane produced will be taken up by the merchants and the mill-owners. Hence the tenants are put to great difficulty. They are not allowed to manufacture jaggery and the capitalists refuse to purchase all the produce of the land. I request the Hon. Minister to go into this question and see that the poor peasantry are protected by allowing them to manufacture jaggery or by insisting on the capitalists purchasing all the sugarcane produced by the peasants.

"Then, Sir, with regard to the Grow More Food campaign, I have to point out that tobacco is still being grown on the tank-beds and the peasants are put to great difficulty. Even though there are orders that tobacco should not be grown on tank-beds, these orders are being violated by the zamindars. This matter must be looked into and no tobacco should be grown on the tank-beds.

"With these words, Sir, I support the cut motion."

* THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am grateful to the hon. Members for the many helpful suggestions which they have made regarding the work of the Agricultural Department in this Presidency. Most of the criticisms levelled against this department are that generally it is not working properly. In this connexion, I want to bring to the notice of the House certain things which this department has been doing.

[Hon. Sri P. S. Kumaraswami Raja] [4th September 1946]

"The general policy of this department is well known: it is to grow two blades where one is growing. The main aspects of the Government's policy as regards Agriculture are research, education, demonstration and propaganda, engineering, marketing and other miscellaneous activities.

"The research work of the department is concentrated mainly at the Agricultural Research Institute, Coimbatore, where most of the Research sections are located. It is supplemented, to a certain extent, by research conducted in the various regional agricultural research stations located all over the Presidency. The work of the research sections is co-ordinated by the Research Council consisting of research officers as its members. At the Research Institute there is the Paddy Specialist, the Cotton Specialist, the Millets Specialist, the Pulses Specialist and the Old Seeds Specialist. Besides these, there are the Mycologist who deals with the diseases of plants caused by the fungus diseases attacking crops, and the Entomologist who deals with the insect pests of the crops; the Bacteriologist, the Agricultural Chemist and the Soil Physicist who carry out the biological and chemical analysis of soils. A Meteorological section has also been formed and more research officers such as Cyto-Genetecists, Plant Physiologists, etc., have of late been appointed. Research is also done on irrigation, on fruits, sugarcane, pulses, vegetables, etc. Among the many vital problems tackled by them are plant nutrition, hybridization and soil sanitation, insect pests and plant diseases. Discoveries on account of research in the main institute at Coimbatore are tested in the district experimental stations and when they are successful they are demonstrated to ryots either on demonstration plots or by exhibitions, distribution of leaflets or through the medium of exhibition vans. The Imperial Council of Agricultural Research helps the Research Institute not only by financing many research schemes but also by expert recommendations on the various aspects of research. Research is, in fact, the foundation on which the whole public and the Agricultural Department rests. The primary aim of all research work is the acquisition of scientific knowledge. The ultimate aim is to translate the information into a definite recommendation which the cultivator can adopt resulting directly or indirectly in a higher return from the land.

"The successful results of research are made known to the ryots by propaganda, by means of demonstrations, public exhibitions and fairs, lantern lectures, free distribution of pamphlets, bulletins, etc. It is not at all easy to teach the ryot a new method and persuade him to adopt it. The experimental stations do not by themselves impress him. The ryot is to be shown personally how things could be done economically with maximum benefit. This is carried out by repeating the successful experiments on the ryot's own holdings which are called for the purpose 'trial plots.' Practical demonstration on the various methods of collection and preservation and storage of cattle manure are done in the village by agricultural demonstrators.

4th September 1946] [Hon. Sri P. S. Kumaraswami Raja]

"The departmental Grow More Food journals in Telugu and Tamil are intended to take home to the ryots timely hints on crop productions, crop husbandry, nutrition and good farming. About 10,000 copies of the above journals are distributed free of cost to ryots and associations and they are very much appreciated. In order to make effective the Grow More Food campaign, which in other words means increase of production by improved methods of agriculture, special officers have been appointed to issue takkavi loans to poor and deserving ryots. Improved strains of seeds, manures and agricultural implements are sold in all agricultural depots at controlled rates to bona fide ryots. In order to benefit the remote villages which are far away from the taluk agricultural depots, Government have recently sanctioned a scheme by which one depot for every two firkas will be opened and placed in charge of a store-keeper. A demonstration maistri will also be attached to each depot. The work of the demonstration maistri attached to the depot is to hold demonstrations and do propaganda. In this manner the ryot is educated in the use of the improved machinery and is impelled to adopt scientific and more productive methods of cultivation, manuring, etc.

"With regard to the distribution of manure, complaints were made that the demonstrators were not doing it properly. To avoid these complaints we have recently issued a Government Order directing the distribution of all the available quantity of manure and implements through the village committees that have been recently formed. So, the whole responsibility for proper distribution of manure lies on these committees which have been formed recently. I think this will satisfy our non-official friends who have levelled complaints against the department.

"With regard to manure, Sir, last year, the department procured nearly 1 lakh of tons of groundnut-cake and distributed it throughout the Presidency. This year, instead of procuring 50 per cent from the millers, we have passed a Government Order to procure the whole quantity that is being produced both by the millers and the other expellers and we are going to distribute the whole quantity. Up till now, for these four months, we have procured nearly 32,000 tons of manure and at this rate we hope to procure 2 lakhs of tons and have it distributed satisfactorily throughout the presidency. At present our ryots require more of cake manure but the quantity available is only 2 lakhs of tons. Previously our Presidency was importing cake manure from Kathiawar and Hyderabad and other States, but now we are not able to get any quantity from those places, because, while the price that we can pay is Rs. 80 per ton, the Kathiawar and Hyderabad people are able to dispose of their stock to other needy provinces like Bengal at Rs. 120 per ton. So we are unable to purchase this manure and distribute it free or at a lower price to our ryots. Anyhow we have prohibited the export of any quantity of cake from our Presidency. We were exporting kernels to foreign countries and that also we have stopped for the last two or three years. Even by conserving like this we are able to procure only 2 lakhs of tons in our Presidency. Not only that, there is a reduction in the extent of cultivation of groundnut by nearly 30,000 acres and that is another difficulty for us in getting more manure for distribution.

"With regard to artificial manure we have to depend upon the Government of India for its allotment. Last year though they allotted a certain quantity, it was not fully supplied. This year they have promised to give 70,000 tons of phosphate manure. If we get the whole quantity allotted we can distribute it satisfactorily and satisfy the needs of the ryots in our Presidency."

* MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. Is the groundnut cake manure going to be distributed through private agency or by Government itself?"

* THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"We will have it distributed through the department with the help of the Committees.

"With regard to iron implements even, we have to depend upon the Government of India. Last year they allotted 25,000 tons for our Presidency. But they did not supply the whole quantity and a balance of 13,000 tons is still outstanding. This year we had a Conference of the representatives of the Government of India and the Secretaries of our departments. On the assurance of the Steel Controller, we hope to get a larger allotment this year than last year. If we get the whole quantity promised, to a certain extent we will be able to satisfy the needs of the ryots in this Province.

"I now come to the question of communal representation raised by some of our hon. Friends, especially with regard to the representation of Muslims. In the Madras Agricultural Service out of 134 officers, 10 are Muslims. In the Madras Agricultural Subordinate Service out of a strength of 1,014 members, 45 are Muslims. And in the Madras Ministerial Service out of 585 members, 16 are Muslims.

"Recruitment to the posts in the Madras Agricultural and the Madras Agricultural Subordinate Services are made on a Presidency basis and it is not possible to post officers to maintain the communal proportion in each district. It will not be possible to increase the number of Muslim officers in the Malabar district without causing a corresponding decrease in some other districts. There seems no special reason why the number of Muslim officers in Malabar should be increased in preference to others.

"Recruitment to the Madras Agricultural Service, the Madras Agricultural Subordinate Services and the Madras Ministerial Service is done by the Madras Public Service Commission which selects persons according to the communal rotation prescribed in the service rules. The Agricultural Department is a technical department and the officers recruited to it should possess special technical qualifications. There is a paucity of qualified candidates from the Muslim community for appointment in the department."

4th September 1946]

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. If I am not mistaken, is there not a highly qualified Muslim officer in this department who is working as Deputy Director?"

* THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"He is on leave preparatory to retirement, Sir.

"On account of the paucity of qualified Muslim candidates, it has not been possible to give full representation to the community in the department. With a view to encourage Muslims to qualify themselves in agriculture free scholarships of the value of Rs. 30 per mensem have been reserved for Muslims in each of the two Agricultural Colleges at Coimbatore and Bapatla. It is hoped that Muslim candidates will take up the course and qualify themselves for the posts in the Agricultural Department.

"Where appointments are made without reference to the Madras Public Service Commission and whenever appointments are made under the emergency provisions, due consideration is always given to candidates of the Muslim community. In fact all the Muslim graduates who passed out of the Agricultural College, Coimbatore, this year have been appointed."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. On this question of communal representation I want to ask the Hon. Minister again whether the highly qualified Muslim I referred to was treated properly by the previous Government or whether he was given his due even after the new Government came into being, and why he is retiring now."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"On account of age perhaps."

* THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"I do not know about his high qualification or low qualification. There was a Deputy Director of Agriculture, a Muslim in the service. Now I remember to have passed an order granting him leave preparatory to retirement. That is the only thing that I can say.

"With these remarks, I request the hon. the Mover of the cut motion to withdraw his cut motion."

* P. K. MOHIDEEN KUTTY SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Hoping that things will improve in the Agricultural Department ere long and reminding the Hon. Premier about his promise of free distribution of manure in the Ponnani taluk, I beg leave of the House to withdraw the motion."

The cut motion was by leave withdrawn.

The demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XIX—VETERINARY.

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Sir, on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor I move—

'that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May

[Hon. Sri P. S. Kumaraswami Raja] [4th September 1946]

1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 30,93,100 in respect of the head Veterinary. The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 1,56,004."

* Mr. SPEAKER:—"I am going to allow only two Members to speak on this demand."

1-15 p.m. "Mr. Hussain, please move your cut motion; be brief; we shall finish this Demand before we adjourn for lunch."

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have the honour to move the cut motion, namely:—

'to reduce the allotment of Rs. 30,93,100 for Veterinary by Rs. 100'.

'In doing so, I want to say that this is a department which does not care for the animals of which it is put in charge. At the same time, we also do not care for this department. This department has been going on like the proverbial self-opinionated buffalo. Sir, we all know the importance of cattle for our country which is an agricultural country. We have to improve the breed of our cattle not only for getting milk and milk products, but also for agricultural purposes. That being so, what is it that this department has been doing? It has no attraction at all for the public; no provision has been made for attracting a large number of students, especially from among the agriculturists, to the veterinary college in this Province. Therefore, a good deal of attention has to be paid to this matter by at least a popular Government like the one we are having to-day. If the Government attaches any importance to the agricultural life of the people, it should see that the cattle wealth of the country increases and is also improved. This is a vital question which affects the economic prosperity of our country and also the future of our country. I may say that on our economic independence depends the real independence of our people. What is it, Sir, that this department has been doing? There is lack of sufficient staff in the districts. When a cattle disease breaks out in a remote village, where are the veterinary assistants? They are not to be found anywhere nearby and the people have to wait for months together for the arrival of the veterinary assistant for giving some relief to the cattle that have been attacked by the disease. The difficulty is, that cattle used for agricultural purposes are attacked by diseases at a time not only in hundreds but in thousands, and by the time the veterinary assistant reaches the place, the disease spreads and agriculture is greatly handicapped. For these reasons, I suggest that the number of veterinary assistants in all the districts should be increased. We have got very few veterinary hospitals in a district now. In my own district, so far as I know, there are only two veterinary hospitals, one in Mangalore and another in Puttur. What about the other taluk headquarters in the district. Are there any veterinary hospitals there? None. Therefore, it is necessary that we should have a veterinary hospital at every taluk headquarters in each district of the Province. I would also urge that the Government should institute scholarships for attracting more students to the veterinary college for giving them the necessary training to take care of the cattle wealth of our Province. At the same time, I would say that the Government should grant more liberal stipends to students coming from all communities and especially from the agricultural community. They should see that the agricultural community comes forward to undergo the necessary training and to qualify themselves for veterinary work not only in the department itself but also in their private capacity as agriculturists, so that they may render first aid to their cattle pending the arrival of the veterinary assistants from another place. I commend to the Government that they should take proper and speedy steps immediately to see that this department is made more useful and more helpful, so that by that means not only the production of our crops can be increased and accentuated, but the cattle wealth and the breed of the cattle can be improved, and everything that is essential for the economic welfare of the people may be made available as early as possible."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, while supporting the cut motion, I would like to bring to the notice of the House one or two points. Regarding the development of the veterinary college, I suggest that stipends should be given to students and employment should be guaranteed to them so that most of the students who enter our college may become useful to our country in due course. Another thing that was just brought to my notice, Sir, is that veterinary assistant surgeons are now asked to pass a second language test, i.e., that Telugu-speaking veterinary doctors should pass a Tamil test and vice versa. I think it is unnecessary, because for the Telugu-speaking people particularly, it is very difficult to pass a Tamil test, even though I cannot say the same thing about the Tamil-speaking gentlemen. I therefore request the Minister concerned to see that this is not insisted upon. I am told that if the test is not passed, promotion is stopped. This system was brought into existence some two years back during the Advisers' regime. I request the Minister to abolish this system."

"As regards veterinary hospitals, every taluk must be provided with one hospital at least, and it must be strictly enforced that the doctors should not take any bribes from the poor peasantry, which is a very common thing nowadays."

"About the sheep-rearing industry during war-time, a leather tanning industry was started in the Anantapur district but I have come to know that it is going to be closed. I request the Hon. Minister to see that this is not closed down and that it is encouraged."

"With these words, Sir, I support the cut motion moved."

* THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Taking first the question of the second language test, I may say that not only in this department but in other departments also, persons who want to qualify themselves for a gazetted post have to pass a second language test; that is, a Tamilian should pass a test in Malayalam or Telugu and a Telugu should pass a test in Tamil; the idea is that the officer should know any two of the three languages of the district. So long as we are in a composite province, we have to follow this rule. We cannot dispense with that rule until my friend Mr. Venkateswarlu gets a province of his own, viz., the Andhra Province. Now, Sir, certain people speak both in Tamil and Telugu, but if I know only Tamil and not Telugu, I cannot understand what the people who speak Telugu are speaking about. In the same way, when any officer happens to be transferred, if he is a Tamilian, to a Telugu district, he should at least have some little knowledge of Telugu, otherwise, though as Government servant, he may not find too much of difficulty, at least for his own personal reasons, he must necessarily know something of the language.

“ With regard to the question of attracting more students to the Veterinary College, we have done much better this year than last year. In order to attract more students to the college, it has been ordered that tuition fees in the college be abolished for a period of five years from 1946-47. Scholarships of the value of Rs. 30 per mensem each have also been awarded to 50 per cent of the students subject to a maximum of 30 in each class. The value of the scholarship will be Rs. 40 per mensem when held by a member of the backward class. The scholarships are distributed among the students according to communal rotation. On account of these concessions, over 900 applications for admission into the college were received this year. The number of students from this Province that can be admitted into the college has been raised this year from 60 to 70 and 10 per cent of these seats were ordered to be reserved for ex-service men. The number of students coming from outside the Province that can be admitted into the college is 10.

“ Veterinary aid is being given to the ryots in the Province through veterinary hospitals and dispensaries and through touring billets. There are at present about 165 touring billets and about 136 veterinary institutions in the Province. A qualified veterinary assistant surgeon is in charge of each. Stockmen compounders are attached to a few touring billets for assisting the veterinary assistant surgeons. Animals are ordinarily treated in hospitals and dispensaries. The main work of the touring assistants is to tour constantly within their jurisdiction and render veterinary aid to the ryots' animals. They should also control the spread of contagious diseases such as rinderpest, anthrax, etc., by preventive inoculations, perform castrations of animals and do propaganda work among the ryots. The ultimate aim of the Veterinary department is to provide a veterinary institution for each taluk. On the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Agriculture, the policy of the Government for opening new veterinary institutions is that such institutes should be opened only if local bodies or large landholders contribute not less than 50 per cent of the initial and recurring expenditure of the institutions. By adopting this policy, the number of veterinary institutions in the Province was being increased year by year according to the availability of men and money. It is now proposed to provide every taluk in the Province with one veterinary institution and one touring billet at Government cost and these are being treated as a post-war scheme. These schemes have been deferred owing to the acute shortage of veterinary assistant surgeons. There is also a post-war scheme under consideration to provide each touring billet with a stockman compounder for assisting the veterinary assistant surgeon in his work.

“ Then, Sir, with regard to the improvement of livestock, the livestock section was transferred from the agricultural to the Veterinary Department in 1938 and since then the improvement of livestock has been one of the principal functions of the Veterinary Department. The Livestock Development Officer is in charge of the improvement of livestock in the Province and he will be assisted in his work by the Poultry Development Officer and the Sheep and Goats Development Officer who will be appointed very soon. The policy of the Government is to provide as many breeding bulls as possible for improving the cattle and several schemes are being worked for this purpose. Under the premium scheme premia are paid by the Government for the maintenance of approved breeding bulls owned by private persons. Contributions are paid, to some district boards for the purchase and distribution of breeding bulls to ryots. But only a few district boards have taken advantage of this scheme. Breeding bulls are also purchased by the Government and distributed to ryots free of cost, including buffalo bulls, every year under the Livestock (Bull Distribution) Scheme and there is a post-war scheme for incurring an expenditure of Rs. 2 lakhs per annum for this purpose. Breeding bulls are also stationed in certain veterinary institutions for the benefit of the ryots. The Madras Livestock Improvement Act, 1940, provides for the castration of scrub bulls and this Act has been extended to a few taluks in the Province, in the first instance. There are two Livestock Research stations, one at Hosur and another at Lam in the Guntur district. The latter farm is proposed to be extended by the purchase of the adjoining plots of lands. Several heads of livestock are maintained in these stations and breeding bulls are supplied to those who need them from the Livestock Research Station, Hosur. The principal cattle breeds of this Province are the Ongole, the Kangayam and Hallikar. There is a scheme for the payment of subsidy to owners of heifer calves in the Ongole, Kangayam and Hallikar areas and another for the payment of subsidy to owners of calves in Madras City. In order to prevent cows from being slaughtered during their dry period, a scheme for the salvage of dry cows in Madras City during their dry period is being worked by the Government in Kancha No. 40 of the Kambakkam Reserved forest in Ponneri taluk. Stallions are stationed in some veterinary institutions for grading up local ponies. Breeding rams are also purchased by the Government and distributed to ryots for improving their stock of sheep. A scheme for the purchase and distribution of Bikanir rams for improving the woolly type of sheep has been sanctioned. A sheep farm has also been ordered to be opened in one of the greatest sheep breeding tracts of the Province, viz., at Karikuppi village in Bellary district. There are two Sheep Demonstration Units with special staff, which move in the villages of the Province and demonstrate improved methods of shearing, dipping and cleaning the wool to the ryots. There is a post-war scheme for the opening of a livestock farm in each district and also for the production of one lakh of cows and one lakh of bulls of each of the Ongole, Kangayam and Hallikar breeds. Contributions are paid for the conduct of cattle shows which go a large way to encourage the improvement of livestock. A Provincial Livestock Improvement Board consisting of some officers of the Veterinary Department and also non-officials with experience of livestock has been constituted. The Board meets once in a quarter and advises the Government on the improvement of livestock.

“A Poultry Development Officer has been appointed to be in charge of the entire poultry improvement work in the Province. There is a Poultry Research Station at Madras, and birds of exotic breeds are also maintained at the Livestock Research Station at Hosur and Lam. The opening of a poultry production centre and three district poultry farms has been sanctioned for increasing the production of poultry. Poultry Demonstration Units are attached to several Veterinary institutions in the Province to demonstrate poultry breeding to ryots and to sell them setting eggs and chicks. Contributions are paid to the American Arcot Mission, Katpadi, and the Mangalagiri Egg Marketing Society which work for the improvement of poultry.

“One of the greatest impediments to Poultry improvement in the Province is a contagious disease known as Ranikhot Disease. A vaccine to combat the disease is being manufactured at the Madras Veterinary College under an officer specially trained for this purpose.

“Research schemes which are partly or wholly by the Imperial Council of Agricultural Research are also being worked out by the Veterinary Department with separate officers and staff for each.

“I hope, Sir, I have met all the important points raised by the Mover and seconder of the cut motion. I request them to withdraw the cut motion, on the assurance that their suggestions will be duly considered.”

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, in the hope that the assurance given will be translated into action, I withdraw the cut motion.”

The cut motion was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

The Demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

The House adjourned for lunch till half past two.

4th September 1946]

(After lunch—2-30 p.m.)

DEMAND XX—CO-OPERATION.

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“Sir, on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, I beg to move—

‘that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in the course of payment during the period from 1st May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946 will amount to Rs. 53,37,000 in respect of the head Co-operation. The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rupees 2,60,404.’”

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Sir, I rise to move the cut motion that stands in the name of my hon. Friend, Mr. Seethi Sahib, namely—

“In doing so, I do not want to take up the time of the House for a long period. I want only to bring to the attention of the Government one matter that has been agitating the minds of all sections of the people of Malabar. The House is aware, Sir, that in the scheme that was sponsored by the Government for the procurement of foodgrains in the Malabar district, the work was entrusted to the Co-operative Department and a Special Officer was appointed to carry out this scheme and in working this scheme that officer—I am sorry I am even angry when I refer to that man, because this officer has a reputation of being not only an anti-Muslim Leaguer, I can understand that, but he is even anti-Muslim—that officer has been going about setting at naught even the unanimous decisions of the share-holders of those societies. In the matter of the formation of these societies, I can only cite instances regarding my own taluk. Sir, my taluk consists of about seven firkas and I know personally in almost all those places where Directors were unanimously elected simply because some Congressman approaches this officer and he goes about and upsets the whole thing and appoints his own nominees disregarding even the unanimous decision of the share-holders. The Hon. the Prime Minister was kind enough the other day to give me an assurance that he would tour Malabar and set right all these matters but as the mischief is being done and has already been done, I want the Hon. the Prime Minister to expedite his tour programme to prevent further mischief being done in that area. I am not giving this as a piece of warning or threat but as a piece of advice. I want to tell this Government that it is very dangerous to have this man there. The Kapoor regime must go; otherwise we will have to meet it. I know you have sufficient strength and military power to crush the people there, but you must remember that you can never crush the spirit of the Moplahs in Malabar. This Special Officer has created much mischief among the Moplahs. The Government itself knows that we have an inflammable material and in spite of all its strength the Government cannot crush the spirit of the Moplahs. I again say that with all the force at my command. I request the Government to replace this undesirable officer and remove him from that district because he is creating many difficulties for the Moplahs. We want to save the people; we want to co-operate with this Government in the matter of this food question; but this officer is going on saying, 'I am not here to please the Mussalmans but I am here to carry out the orders of the Government.' Sir, several orders of the Government are by-passed. Muslims, particularly in the Malabar district, are not nominated to directorship in co-operative societies, even where the majority of the share-holders are Muslims. In one firka, out of 3,000 share-holders, there are 2,000 odd Moplah share-holders. When the Special Officer finds that Muslims will get the majority on the Directorate, he comes with the names of some Congress friends and appoints his own nominees. I am told that instructions of Government have been disregarded and even the by-laws and the rules and regulations have been disregarded."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"When the hon. Member admitted that I have promised to go there and look into the matter, he could have spared himself without going into all those details; matters stated by others should not be accepted wholesale and should not be made the subject of discussion here especially, when I undertook the task of going there and setting right matters . . ."

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I am very thankful to the Hon. the Prime Minister for this assurance, but when things are being done."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"There is no 'but' here; so far as this Government is concerned, it would never be too late to attend to anything."

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I am again thankful to the Hon. the Premier. I had only this matter to be brought to the notice of the Hon. the Prime Minister. I request him once again to set right matters there. The sooner the better."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, thanks to the recent war, this movement of co-operation has begun to develop, but even though this Congress Government has been in office for the last four months, they have not done anything to sustain this progress. This co-operative movement is thriving only for the purpose of dealing in controlled articles and for doling out official favours. When there is competition, nothing has been done by the Government to help this co-operative movement to continue its useful work even after the relaxation of these rules. You know, the co-operative societies are manned by Directors who are elected without any reference to representation of various communities. Sir, this Presidency contains so many castes, communities and nations and in the Co-operative Act no provision has been specially made to elect such Directors as represent the various communities in spite of the fact that the very Assembly which governs this Province is constituted of the various elected representatives of the communities and nations. When there is such a provision for Muslims to be elected to govern this Province, I ask, why not bring in a measure to see that a Director from each community may be elected to the various co-operative societies. You may think, Sir, that from this side of the House, we have always been clamouring for communal representation but you will concede that here it is quite necessary to safeguard our interests. For instance, recently the Firka Development Scheme has been launched and under that scheme for every district in Andhradesa, Firka Development Officers from the cadre of Deputy Tahsildars have been appointed. I am told throughout the Andhra area eleven Deputy Tahsildars have been appointed as Firka Development Officers and all of them, I understand, are Brahmans. They have been appointed only this week. If this sort of thing is continued, I am afraid, the movement cannot progress. One would expect that at least in the co-operative movement, there should be safeguards in such matters. You also find that Directors either belong to one or other of the communities like Kammas, Reddis, Brahmans, and they do not take even on their staff members of any other communities, for example, if a Reddi is the President of the Society, all the members of the staff are Reddis; if the President is a Brahman, he takes in only Brahmans on his staff and so on. Hence, Sir, I suggest that the communal Government Order should be applied to these co-operative societies also. When it is possible to apply this communal Government Order to semi-official bodies like the district boards and municipalities, it should certainly be possible to apply this communal Government Order to the co-operative societies because the Government is directly helping them and in the giving of special favours, Government should see that they encourage all communities in this matter.

"Again, Sir, as if these rules and regulations are not sufficient and as if this Government is anxious to give encouragement to particular communities, the so-called popular Government is only prolonging this Government Order. The purpose of the Government Order is somewhat to this effect. No special co-operative stores, or society shall be organized specially for Mussalmans. The Government Order does not actually say so, but in effect it comes to this that no special organization will be started on communal basis. There are in existence societies for Kalavanthulus, dancing class community; there are some special societies that have been specially exempted to organize themselves. But when people come forward to open Muslim banks, Muslim co-operative societies, etc.—I can say from my own personal experience of having been a Managing Director for two or three district co-operative banks—the District Officers are so backward in not giving information properly. For instance, they first give permission that money may be collected and shares may be allotted but later on the information comes from Madras that because it is purely a Muslim concern, permission will not be granted. I personally appeared before the Registrar, an I.C.S. Officer, and represented to him what has happened. He said, I do not know what the Government is going to do; I am personally against this communal Government Order so far as Co-operative Department is concerned. He is not aware of the firka development and all these things. The Officer-in-charge of the Co-operative movement has gone to the extent of saying that I am personally against these communal business in the co-operative societies and that if Government persists in this, I may even resign. I do not know whether Government are going to continue such 'old school of thought' officers. I suggest that these should be put an end to. In this connexion, I wish to bring to the notice that I have not yet received an answer to a question which I put nearly three months ago wherein I specifically asked why that communal Government Order should not be rescinded but no answer is forthcoming so far.

"Again, Sir, the Government have not done anything in the matter of co-operative manufacture. When they have given permission to the manufacture of ghee, dalda, etc., to landholders, like the Maharaja of Bobbili and Chellapalle, Birlas and Tatas who are Managing Directors of big concerns, who have given large sums to Congress Association, I do not know the reason why they have not given permission to the co-operative societies for the purpose of manufacturing certain articles which may be useful to the progress of the country. Only a few days ago, permission was given to a certain landholder in this Presidency to start a dalda factory. I ask, why did they not come to some arrangement with the co-operative movement to work this factory?"

"Again, Sir, we all know very well that there are very few houses available for occupation. The Government come forward with a Bill that if there is any vacancy in any house, they want first preference for themselves and then only others will be given permission. I ask, why not use the Co-operative Department in building more houses? What is the Government doing? When many of the Members on the Treasury Bench are the votaries of the co-operative movement—they are Presidents and Secretaries of Societies and Stores—I ask, why not use this department for starting a house-building scheme. I hope the Government will take all my remarks in the right manner."

* K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I support the cut motion moved on behalf of my party and in doing so, I emphasize and support every word that has been said by my hon. Friend, Mr. Moideen Kutty, about the food administration in the Malabar district. I do not wish to narrate before this House the various irregularities committed in the matter of formation of the co-operative societies and the election of the Directors thereof in Malabar, but I would invite the attention of the Hon. Premier to the fact that if the present state of affairs is allowed to continue in Malabar, it is inevitable that the hopes and expectations that the Government have about the food administration in the district should be frustrated owing to the way in which things are being carried on there. So far as the Muslim League party is concerned, they are never averse to co-operating with the Government in their schemes meant for public good. When Mr. Kapoor was put in charge of the food administration in the district, he wrote to me about the scheme that was introduced there and I told him that the Muslim League organization would be prepared to co-operate with him. Though I did not share the optimism of the officer about the success of the scheme, yet, I told him we were prepared to extend our hand of co-operation. This offer was not taken advantage of and in every possible and conceivable way, he tried to show his hostility to our points of view and managed to see that people representing the Muslim League group were not taken as Directors in any of the newly formed co-operative societies. Even from the beginning, we wrote to him that if in open election Muslim Directors would not be returned, he might exercise his power of nomination so that some Muslims may be appointed as Directors and the efforts of the Government in manning the food administration might prove more popular and successful. He did not accept the suggestion but issued a Press statement saying that nominations of Directors would not be made and that Directors would be elected by share-holders. The Moplah community was not averse to co-operation with the Government; they came forward and took a large number of shares in several societies with the result that in those societies there was an overwhelming majority of Muslim share-holders. When this became known to this officer, he discarded the principle of election in the case of such societies and resorted to nomination, though in the initial stages when we asked him to adopt the principle of nomination in order to prevent inequality and inequity to Muslims, he refused to do so. The result is that there are complaints from all parts of the district about irregularities committed in the election; and duly elected representatives have been replaced by nominated members and so on and so forth. I think, my hon. Friend Mr. Moideen Kutty's fears about the possibility of dangers and discontent continuing in the district on account of the attitude of this officer should be given due consideration by the Government and they should redress the same.

"My hon. Friend, Mr. Pocker, drew the attention of the Hon. the Premier to a circular issued by this officer to retail shopkeepers, complaining that propaganda against Government's food policy was being carried on by a 'reactionary party' meaning thereby the Muslim League party. In fact, the Muslim League party does not want to create difficulties for the Government in the matter of food administration even though it has got serious differences with the Government about their policies and measures. On questions of food administration we are not going to create any difficulties and we are not prepared to do so. In spite of that, we are looked upon with suspicion and we are not enabled to co-operate with the authorities at least so far as Malabar is concerned. The Hon. Premier has kindly promised to go and set right the irregularities. The experiences narrated by my hon. Friend, Mr. Moideen Kutty, are not the result of any hearsay information but they are matters of our own personal knowledge and experience and therefore should certainly deserve serious consideration by the Government.

"Then with regard to the general policy of the Department, I wish to tell the Government that instead of trying to multiply credit societies, you should give greater encouragement to producers' societies; and propaganda should be carried by the Department to popularise the co-operative movement in rural areas just as the Agricultural Department is doing or ought to be doing. At present, the Co-operative Department is lacking very much in propaganda. They should try to bring home to the people in rural parts the benefits of co-operation; so, I would respectfully urge upon the Government to issue instructions to the Co-operative Department to see that more propaganda is carried on in the rural areas by explaining the advantage of the producers' societies more than the credit societies. It will also be greatly advantageous if the Co-operative Department could work hand in hand with the Agricultural Department and bring home to the minds of the people the benefits of both co-operation and agriculture."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, while supporting the cut motion, I would like to bring to the notice of the Hon. the Minister for Industries the following suggestions for being given effect to. For instance, as suggested by my previous speakers that if industries are started and run on co-operative basis including stores, banks, etc., it will go a long way to improve the condition of the people. Of course the activities of the department are at present very limited and if at all, there is any department which is highly corrupt, I can say it is the Co-operative Department. Moreover, in the Co-operative Department, the officers can do anything and everything and they can even override the powers vested on them under the Act. I have not got the time to deal with the things in detail except to make mention of that fact that if there is to be any change in the Co-operative Act to be brought about, the Minister will, I hope, take this point into consideration and see that the defect is rectified.

"In regard to procurement of food-stuffs, I would like that both procurement and distribution should be entrusted to co-operative societies; because they will run more efficiently than any other agency. Of course, I have to point out that the administration of most of the present day co-operative societies is not satisfactory; they are only run on party basis. However, since the co-operative societies are already working in many places, if the food procurement business is also entrusted to them, I am sure it can be done more effectively than by anybody else.

"In this connection, Sir, I would like to bring to the notice of the House that a co-operative society in Kistna district which was certified by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies that it was a well-conducted one and that no misappropriation and things of that sort were noticed in it, when it applied for licence for trading in foodgrains, it has been refused the licence, whereas a black-marketeer was given the licence. I would suggest, therefore, that such a practice should be discontinued and whenever any co-operative society applies for trading in food-grains, it should be permitted to do so.

"Then, one word about Weavers' Co-operative Societies. Nowadays most of the weavers are anxious to carry on their business in life with the help of these co-operative societies.

4th September 1946] [Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu]

I know the existence of a Government Order discouraging such co-operative societies on the plea of lack of yarn. When the weavers themselves want to run co-operative societies, I do not know why there should be any objection on the part of Government to grant their request. I, therefore, request the Hon. Minister for Labour to see that this rule is amended and whether there is proper supply of yarn or not, if people apply for the formation of co-operative societies for weavers, they should be encouraged to do so; this will also put an end to black-marketing to a greater extent and help in the distribution of cloth also. I suggest the rationing of hand-loom cloth also. If this also should be introduced along with the weavers' co-operative societies, they will go a long way to carry through the rationing system.

"I find that a sum of Rs. 6.9 crores has been provided for State Trading Schemes. I suggest that the activities regarding this should be entrusted to the Co-operative Department so that it may be carried on effectively."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Mr. Speaker, I congratulate ^{3 p.m.} you on giving me this opportunity to move this Demand and reply to the points raised during the course of the debate. I felt almost nervous and unhappy that this Demand may not be reached at all. You must realize that the greatest demand in this country is for co-operation not only among all the people of this country but all people on the face of the earth. You may remember that between 1937 and 1939, when the Congress Government was in power, they went into the condition of the co-operative movement and a Committee on Co-operation was appointed to go into it. You were a distinguished member of that Committee. That Committee submitted a very edifying report but it was subsequently shelved as we had to go out of office. I may tell you that this Government will take up the thread and proceed from where we left and we hope to see that many of the recommendations of that Committee will be put into effect. In fact, the Committee had drafted a Bill recommending it to Government. With the co-operation of hon. Members of this House, especially those who took part in that Committee and who were appointed to that Committee as experts of the movement, and with their advice, we shall very soon consider in the first instance whether the recommendations can be put into effect without enacting any legislation and whether a bill for the purpose is necessary. This matter is engaging the attention of Government. Not only this Report is before us. Hon. Members might be aware of the Report of the All-India Planning Committee—it was not a Congress Planning Committee but it was a Committee in which not only Congress and Non-Congress Governments took part but also State Governments—we shall have the benefit of that report in shaping the destinies of the co-operative movement in this country. Hon. Members have made many suggestions during the course of the debate and several improvements have been suggested. I thank them for their suggestions and I assure every one of them that they will be taken into active consideration. My hon. Friend Mr. Maideen Kutti referred to matters in Malabar.

[Hon. Sri V. V. Giri] [4th September 1946]

I hope that when the Leader of the House replies, he will feel satisfied. So far as the portfolio is concerned, I can assure every hon. Member that every measure will be taken to see that the co-operation of all sections not only in this House but the co-operation of all people will be taken in shaping the future of the co-operative movement in this country. But I may tell you that unless there is real co-operation—not merely paying lip service to it, not merely thinking in a sort of way about it—unless there is active co-operation, the movement cannot succeed. My hon. Friends referred to the fact that there is not much Muslim representation in co-operative societies. I say that the endeavour of all of us is to see that each family whether it be in the towns or in the villages should be represented in the co-operative movement. Such a step would be a solvent of most of our ills that emanate from communalism. Communalism and co-operation can never go together. The success of the movement is assured provided you in the Opposition, we and all agree to work the movement and see that every family has a part in it. If it is so, we shall very soon forget communalism, as co-operation runs on anti-communal lines, not for party benefit but for the benefit of all people in the country. My hon. Friend Mr. Salam said that there were not many Muslim Co-operative Societies. I would like to name a few of them whose names I can find in my papers. They are the Anantapur Better Living Co-operative Society, Cuddapah Municipal Muslim High School Students' Co-operative Society and others and there are altogether fourteen of them. I hope I have already made the position clear that our endeavour should be to see that every family is represented in the co-operative movement. It has been said that the co-operative movement has not made much progress and that the Congress Government has not taken any steps to improve the condition of things. I have already said that we mean taking up the Report and on the basis of that Report and the Report of the All-India Planning Committee and the suggestions that have been offered, action will be taken. There is not much room to flatter ourselves with in regard to our progress in the co-operative movement. We have only accomplished 5 per cent and yet 95 per cent requires to be done. I take some credit for having been the Minister in charge of Co-operation in the last Congress Government. Our ideals are high; our idea is that in India there should be a sort of co-operative state. I am sure with the co-operation of the leaders of this country, it will be possible to achieve that objective. Regarding the suggestions of my hon. Friend, Mr. Venkateswarlu, I assure him that I am a great believer in co-operative societies; I am not a believer in middlemen; I am not a believer in Marwaris—be they of the town or the village—I am not referring to Mr. Town (laughter)—wherever they may be. I do believe personally in socialism and nationalization. Personally I feel that the co-operative movement is a half-way house between capitalism and socialism. I believe the time may come when, just like the zamindaris are sought to be liquidated, people may say that all the great capitalists must be liquidated and make way for socialism."

4th September 1946]

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, may I ask if the views of the Minister on nationalization are his own or that of the Government?"

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"That is the opinion, Sir, of my humble self and I do not wish to say anything about the views of the Government. But I may tell that this Government or any other Government that may come into existence will sooner or later tend towards nationalization and socialization."

"It has been said that the co-operative movement has devoted much attention to credit side and not so much to non-credit activities. Mr. Salam referred to co-operative housing and so forth. I have here solid facts and figures to prove that that assertion about too much attention to credit activity is not correct. I have got details in my possession which will prove that what we began in 1937, the spirit of it, has been to some extent put into operation by the Adviser Government and I can assure you that we can grow from strength to strength and the time will soon arrive when the co-operative movement will be of the highest benefit to the people of this Province. In the matter of procurement and distribution of food I believe and I think the Government also believe that distribution and procurement should be in the hands of co-operative societies. But here too there is great need of associating the people with the movement and hence everybody should make it a point to be in the co-operative movement. This cannot be done by means of compulsion; nobody can be compelled to take interest in co-operative affairs; it must be done by propaganda and persuasion. Therefore, I am appealing to all on both sides of the House to see that the movement spreads."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Hon. Minister has been making frequent reference to every family being interested in the co-operative movement by being represented in co-operative societies. The question has been mainly about representation on the directorate."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"If every family has a member in the co-operative society, the question of representation on the directorate is solved. With due respect to what has been stated by Mr. Moideen Kutti, I may say that in co-operative societies in Malabar where Muslim population is in a majority, there will be a majority of Muslim directors and there the Hindus will be in a minority. Similarly also if the Muslims take interest and every family is represented in the co-operative society, they will also have a place in the directorate. It is the purpose of the Government to broad-base the movement. They have therefore introduced the principle of multi-purpose scheme in the co-operative movement and that aspect will be looked after with very great care."

"Sir, I shall now give some figures which will show that these co-operative societies are doing something. There are fourteen fruit growers' co-operative societies in the Province. The total value of fruits marketed by them during the year 1945-46 amounts to Rs. 16.27 lakhs. There are 26 land colonization societies, of which 23 are under the administrative control of the department. Then there are again co-operative land reclamation societies, under which 1,000 acres in the Cauvery-Mettur project area have been reclaimed. So also there are 13 sugarcane growers' co-operative societies and five unions in the Province. They help the sugar factory situated within their jurisdiction to get adequate supplies of cane. There are co-operative milk societies; today their membership is about 18,000 and odd; their number is 272, and the business done by them during 1945-46, comes to Rs. 69.60 lakhs. Then I come to the co-operative weavers' societies. The Madras Provincial Handloom Weavers' Association is the central organization. The number of weavers' societies in 1941-42 is 336; the value of goods sold in 1941-42 is Rs. 30.34 lakhs and that in 1945-46 is Rs. 344.14 lakhs.

"Then, Sir, so far as co-operative societies of weavers are concerned, I can assure my friends who referred to it, that this Government is most anxious to see that all the weavers get into the various co-operative societies. For instance, our desire is to see that all the five lakhs of weavers who possess ration cards should get into their co-operative societies, so that we may be in a position to deliver the yarn to the co-operative societies and take cloth from them and give them to the co-operative societies for distribution. That is our desire. Today there are 50,000 weavers in this co-operative society. If we can get all the five lakhs of weavers into these co-operative societies, it is indeed a great work that we shall be achieving.

"As regards housing, to which Mr. Salam referred, I can assure him that the Congress Government have been trying to push up the co-operative building societies. There are 115 co-operative building societies in the Province with a membership of four thousand, and their paid-up share capital is seven lakhs. Government are trying to help in building a number of houses which are necessary at present; but unfortunately materials are not available. But if we get the materials, I can assure the House, there will be a number of co-operative housing societies throughout the length and breadth of this Province. So also, we are trying to see that we have co-operative societies for industrial purposes, as well as societies for industrial workers. I am sorry I have no time to deal with other aspects. As regards consumers' co-operative societies I may say in 1945-46 there were 1,300 co-operative stores with an equal number of branches and depots which distributed food-grains and other essential articles to the value of 25 crores as against 25 lakhs turnover on the eve of the world-war. So in every aspect of the movement I beg to submit that there has not only been improvement, but the improvement has been so good that it is encouraging. I am a great constitutionalist, and so I do not want to encroach on the time of the House, and so I would appeal to the members of the Opposition, particularly Mr. Moideen Kutty to withdraw his cut motion. I can assure him that his suggestions will be considered."

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, in view of the satisfactory and eloquent reply of the Hon. Minister for Labour and Industries and the assurance from the Hon. Premier, and since we do not want to non-co-operate on co-operation (laughter) I withdraw my cut motion."

The cut was by leave of the House withdrawn.

The Demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XXI—INDUSTRIES.

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move—

'that on the recommendation of His Excellency the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 1,16,59,400 in respect of the head Industries. The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 2,64,074.'"

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the cut motion standing in my name, namely—

'to reduce the allotment of Rs. 1,16,59,400 for Industries by Rs. 100.'

"Sir, we have just now heard a very eloquent address from the Minister for Industries and Labour on Co-operation. He has, in his own eloquent manner, appealed to all parties of the House for co-operation as far as co-operation is concerned. But I am here to ask for his co-operation so far as the proper administration of the Industries department is concerned. I know that over this department presides a gentleman who has a lot of experience, who knows not only the work but also the conditions prevailing in this Province. He is not a visionary, who will speak on nationalism and breathe the air of non-co-operation at the same time. He knows, as he himself stated, that in the matter of elected directorate in co-operative societies the majority community in an area will constitute the majority. I think things are not so similar so far as the Industries department is concerned. What happened in the past, before he took up office, is a tale of woe indeed. During the Advisers' regime most of the Advisers happened to be non-Indians. But the Adviser who was in charge of this department was an Indian. I suppose he is a patriotic Indian. During his regime, what happened is that no Muslim was recognized to have any claim for any industry so far as industrial development is concerned. All attempts of Muslim enterprise were rejected and it was manoeuvred to keep them out. That was the state of affairs then. I hope in the industrial development that is taking place here under this Government the

Minister will remember that every community should have a proper share, as only then there will be equal economic development.

"The Hon. Minister has under his portfolio the production of khaddar. We have said something about it in the recent debate. I want to know from the Minister, how much money the Government of Madras will have to pay and what sum the wearers of khaddar will have to pay? For I do not know whether all the people of this Province will have to pay for it or whether the wearer of khaddar only will have to pay to a large extent. I want to know how the entire cost of khaddar is to be met; I want to know whether those who do not believe in it will be asked to bear the cost of production. I leave that point there.

"So far as the development of other industries are concerned, I want to know whether the Hon. Minister has been a party to certain by-laws which would come up before this House to-morrow. Has he considered to what extent it will affect the plywood industry now working in the West Coast? I ask the Hon. Minister what he has done and what he seeks to do by way of providing raw material, technical personnel and also machinery in order to see that plywood industry is encouraged and developed in this Province. Already certain industries in this Province are in the hands of multi-millionaires from outside, instead of being in our own hands. I understand the Government of Madras has been responsible for giving licence for starting an industry in Kurnool. There ought to be some amount of morality in this respect. Economic morality is an important thing. If Northern India people like Birlas could take away the trade and commerce and industry of this Province, there is no meaning in our saying that the Europeans have been exploiting us. If we say that Europeans have been exploiting us, we have in the same way to object to the exploitation by Birlas and others of the industrial sphere of this Presidency.

p.m.

"I will next refer to the labour in this Province. On account of labour difficulties, there have been many strikes in the Province. My Hon. Friend, who has been a champion of labour, knows how best to help labour in this Province, and I am sure, he is thinking of ways and means of solving the labour problems. I have put before him the need for legislation. I should like him to give a helping hand to labour in this Province which is very adversely affected on account of the conditions under which they have to work. I know, Sir, that he is an experienced gentleman, who has a correct idea and correct value of the position, and I am sure he will soon see that all these things are attended to. Of course, he may reply to all these points and the eloquence will be there. But taking away all the words, the reality will be behind that."

* M. S. ABDUL MAJEED SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, it is rather unfortunate that an important Demand which affects the industrial and commercial prosperity of this Province as a whole should be assigned such a meagre quota of time. I wish that it had come up for a full-dress debate when not only members on this side, but also members on the other side, could have taken part in it. However, speaking on the Demand as such, I would like to bring to the notice of the Hon. Minister for Industries and Labour a very important matter, namely, the question of employment of child labour in beedi factories and hotels. As long ago as 1930, on the floor of the Council, an amendment to the Factory Act was brought in with a view to bringing under its operation the beedi factories and other hotels of this Province, so that child labour might be prevented therefrom. I wish that the Hon. Minister takes up that question and see that children of tender ages are prevented from going into beedi factories, and that they are sent to schools.

"Secondly, Sir, another important matter on which I would like to invite the attention of the Hon. Minister is with regard to the hides and skins trade of this Province. The Hon. Minister must know that this industry is the premier industry of this Province. Although it does not actually come under the jurisdiction of his portfolio, I would, in the interests of the Province, request him to see that so far as the exports of hides and skins are concerned, only manufactured leather is permitted to be exported from this Province, because only if that is done it will help the industry, and also the trade. Otherwise the industry will languish and die in this Province.

"Thirdly, I would refer to another important question, namely, the supply of yarn to the handloom weavers of this Province. I have already, on this very important question, spoken on the floor of this Assembly, when there was discussion with regard to the statement of the Hon. Premier. Have the Government instituted an enquiry into the statement of productions submitted by the mills working in this Province? I wish that Government makes an enquiry into this and see that all the yarn that is produced in the mills is actually brought out and distributed to the starving and poor handloom weavers of this Province. This is a very important matter on which, I hope, the Minister-in-charge will devote his full attention.

"Fourthly, I would invite his attention to the recent Madras Handloom Cloth Price Control Order, 1946. I was one of those who have been urging for the introduction of price control of handloom products in this Province. But I never thought that that control would come in the form as is adumbrated in the Madras Handloom Cloth Price Control Order, 1946. Producers have been given a very big margin. So long as you are not going to control the wages of the weavers, which is a very important problem, I do not think that this order is going to bring down the price of handloom products in this Province. Therefore, Sir, provision should be immediately made to see that control is introduced on wages also, so that we may get handloom products at reasonable rates. Secondly the 14 per cent profit shown to the producers—at present producers are the weavers themselves—is very great. That is being given in addition to the wages that are already paid to these weavers. It can be reduced to some extent and that may be added on to the wholesale dealers. When I met the Hon. Minister, he said, he was determined to abolish all the middlemen, because they are the people doing black-market business. I quite agree with him. I would at the same time say that the profit that is given to the wholesalers is very limited; and secondly trade cannot be carried on without wholesalers. I am sure that this order is going to paralyse the handloom trade of this province, and the handloom industry on which the prosperity and happiness of nearly 5 lakhs of weavers—I must say families—depend. Therefore, you must see that this industry is carried on to prosperity by allowing the handloom trade also to prosper. If you are not prepared to have a number of wholesale dealers, at least make provision for two wholesale dealers. As long as you are going to limit the margin of profit with regard to wholesale trade, there is no meaning in saying that you must have only one wholesale dealer or two wholesale dealers. You can limit the margin of profit for the wholesalers, and as I said, you may increase the 4 per cent to any reasonable percentage, and allow more than one wholesaler to carry on the trade.

“Lastly, I would like to bring to the notice of the Hon. Minister the question of export of handloom products of this Province. Though this order has exempted the exporters of handloom products to Ceylon, it has not exempted the exporters of handloom products to countries like Burma and to provinces like Bengal and Bombay. Secondly, no indication has been shown in the order as to where these handloom exporters could purchase their goods. Provision should also be made to see that these handloom exporters are allowed to purchase these goods at reasonable rates so that the industry and the trade may go on. The Hon. Minister is aware that the handloom industry of this province has prospered and has grown in importance chiefly because of the handloom export trade. If you are going to strangle free export, you are strangulating the trade and thereby strangulating the industry on which the entire prosperity of more than 5 lakhs of families of this province depend.

“With this appeal to the Hon. Minister to reconsider his order, I support the cut motion.”

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—“In supporting the cut motion moved by my party I would impress upon the Hon. Minister for Industries the very serious yarn situation that prevails in Malabar. Representations were made to him, deputations waited upon him and memorials were sent to him, but with no result. I am afraid they have not been looked into by the Hon. Minister for I cannot expect him to be so silent and inactive. He has not even cared to visit my district after he took up the responsibility of office to find out the truth of so much that has been stated in all those memorials. I beg to submit, Sir, that the position is very serious. Two years ago on a representation made to the Provincial Textile Commissioner, he was pleased to visit my district and an account was taken of the requirements of our districts. It was fixed at 3,000 bales of yarn per month by the Provincial Textile Commissioner as the quota for Malabar district. But when he came back to Madras only 1,600 bales of yarn were actually allotted to the district. Ever since that allotment, Malabar district has not been receiving more than 800 bales. Out of a total requirement of 3,000 bales we have not received anything more than 800 bales per month all these two years. Even in the distribution of this limited quota that has been allowed to Malabar, there is a discrimination in favour of the bigger against the weaker. There are about 5 handloom factories, 3 of which are in Calicut and two in Cannanore and these factories are given all that they want. Their requirements are supplied in full and supplies are made to them direct by the Harvey Mills at Madura. But the smaller factories and the other weavers who require yarn are asked to take whatever is left as balance. Out of the 800 bales that are given to them, these five factories in Malabar consume nearly 300 bales or so and only very little is given to the other factories. This discrimination in favour of the more important factories and against the smaller factories must be put a stop to, immediately. The scarcity must be shared equitably and proportionately between all. It cannot be a scarcity that affects the poor and does not affect the rich. This scarcity has created labour problems of a very great magnitude in Malabar. The weavers have worked only for 4 or 5 days in the month, and this is adding very greatly to the already prevalent labour unrest in our district.

“A further community that has been affected by this yarn scarcity is the fishermen community, and that is a very peculiar community in West Coast. I understand from the textile authorities of Malabar that a small quota has been allotted to them, but as in the case of most weavers this quota is also not supplied to them regularly. The pitloom weaver is the third-class of people who are also affected. The pitloom weaver has been left uncared for by the Textile Department. I should like to bring to the notice of the Hon. Minister that the entire textile administration is the most corrupt administration in this province. Sir, in the Textile Department there is a peculiar feature. In all other departments you find corruption is highest at the lower level but in the Textile Department it is peculiar in that corruption is highest at the top. (Hear, hear.)

“With regard to the development of industries in Malabar there was a proposal published in papers before the Ministry took charge, for a vanaspati factory, to be started at Calicut. But I find no provision is made here for the vanaspati factory. A vanaspati factory with an initial outlay of sixty lakhs of rupees should be started in the capital town of Malabar district. I would urge upon the Hon. Minister that Malabar is a place that can be very easily developed industrially and that every effort must be made for the industrial development of our district. In fact, being far away from the centre of administration, my district has been neglected in almost everything so far and I have been compelled to get up here every time to speak about the requirements of my district regarding food and industry, etc.

[P. P. Hassan Koya Sahib Bahadur] [4th September 1946]

"I will be failing in my duty if I do not say a word about the poor beedi workers who are also not receiving their minimum requirement in yarn. I would request the Hon. Minister to take the earliest opportunity to visit my district and study the situation."

3-45 p.m. * SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this most important demand comes at a fag end of our discussion and the time allotted also is very limited. First of all I must congratulate the Ministry for starting the Industrial Finance Corporation and I hope that through this Corporation there will be full-fledged development of industries throughout our Province. Throughout our country, there is no industry worth mentioning. The industrial development of our country is very unsatisfactory and it is particularly so in Madras. For instance, take the Andhra area. There are only one or two factories worth mentioning in Nellimarla and other places, and all the rest are very small factories. It is really a pitiable state that there is not one big factory, and not even a single industry has been developed in the Andhra. The possibilities of developing industries in Andhra are very great. I request the Hon. Minister for Industries to see that there is proper development of industries throughout our Presidency. For instance, in Rayalaseema textile industry can be developed. Up till now no attempt has been made, and I request the Hon. Minister to develop through co-operative societies the textile industries both weaving and spinning. Moreover, there is not even a single drug industry in our Presidency worth mentioning, and the Government must take steps to see that this industry is also developed. I stand for the industrial development of our country, but at the same time I request the Hon. Minister for Industries and Labour to see that the workers in industries are paid living wages. The grant of at least a minimum living wage must be insisted upon before giving permission to start new industries. The Government must make a provision that, only if a specified living wage is given to the worker, permission will be given to start industries. Unless this is done, I am sure no amount of repression or threats can suppress the unrest. It is not the creation of an individual or a party. It is the economic situation that has created this unrest. I request the Treasury Benches to note this fact and chalk out their policy, instead of shouting against individuals or parties.

"As far the Khadi scheme, two crores have been allotted. I have got my own doubts regarding the successful working of the Khadi scheme. I prefer that these two crores are utilized for the industrial development of our Province. It can much better be utilized to improve the supply position of cloth.

"As regards the policy, it is high time that there is nationalization of industries. Most of the hon. Members here are advocating the nationalisation of industries, and everybody has voiced his opinion regarding that. There should be nationalization of industries particularly at a time like this when we see that there is too much labour unrest and when the people are put to very great difficulty. There are members who accuse the labour for all this trouble. They are simply accusing the working classes. I say that they have not studied the problem deeply. As a matter of fact, the strikes are due to the economic situation. When the demands of the strikers have not been complied with, the strikes go on and the people suffer. What is the solution? I suggest that the Government must boldly come forward and take over and run the industries themselves, see that the workers demands are met and that there is industrial peace throughout the province. That is the only way of ensuring industrial peace. Particularly in our province, all the textile mills must be immediately taken over and run by the State. Then only we can solve the problem of yarn shortage. Members who have already spoken have referred to the scarcity of yarn. The yarn supplied is not at all sufficient. How are you going to solve this problem? Not by the Khadi scheme. If the mills are taken over by the State and made to work properly and if proper wages are paid to the workers, we can solve this problem. To supply enough cloth to our people, for the payment of proper wages to the workers, and to augment the revenue of the State, the industries must be nationalized. The railways also must be completely nationalized in the sense that their full control is in Indian hands.

"Everybody is agreed that there must be a proper supply of electricity for industrial development. In our province, electrical projects are particularly few, though there are possibilities for developing electricity. Not a single possibility has been availed of. The Government must see that electricity is fully developed. Then only we can supply cheap electric power to the people, and there will be proper industrial development.

"Only one more point, and with this I will close my speech. In Madura district, there is the Kallar Reclamation Scheme which is being run today under police guidance. The police should not be put in charge of this scheme, but it should be handed over to some other department. The Criminal Tribes Act must be removed, and the people must be allowed to go free. With these words, I support the cut motion."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Within the short space of time that I have at my disposal, I will be able to do only bare justice to the subject on hand. So far as the policy of this Government in the matter of industrialization is concerned, I can only say that this Government, along with the other Governments, as a member of the All-India Planning Committee wherein experts representing all interests are there, will follow its programme. I may just give a short history of the organization in a minute. It took nearly two years to go into every aspect of human life in India—industries, labour, education and so forth—and establish 29 sub-committees to deal with all matters. I will only say that very soon you will have the benefit and the privilege of reading not only the 29 reports of the sub-committees, but also a consolidated report of the National Planning Committee as a whole. At the first meeting of the Conference of Ministers of Industries held in Delhi on the 2nd and 3rd October 1938, the first resolution passed was as follows:—

"This Conference of the Ministers of Industries is of the opinion that the problems of poverty and unemployment of National defence and of the economic regeneration in general cannot be solved without industrialization. As a step towards such industrialization, a comprehensive scheme of national planning should be formulated. This scheme should provide for the development of heavy key industries, medium scale industries and cottage industries, keeping in view our national requirements, the resources of the country, as also the peculiar circumstances prevailing in the country."

"The National Planning Committee has defined its objective, and it is the objective of this Government as well in the matter of industrialization. The object of a comprehensive national planning is to improve the well-being of the community principally by intensifying the economic development of the community concerned on an all-round basis in an orderly, systematic manner so as to observe a due proportion between the various forms of producing new wealth, its equitable distribution among the members of the community and to secure such adjustment between the interests of the producers and the consumers, individuals and the community collectively, the present and the successive generations, and maintaining a proper balance between these several interests. No doubt, Sir, it is impossible to build up a plan for a country where there is subjection, where there is exploitation in favour of foreign interests. I hope very soon, with the co-operation of all co-operative and non-co-operative elements that this country will be in a position where they will be able to build up industries suited to the genius and traditions of all the communities in this country of ours."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir, the Hon. Minister speaks of production and equitable distribution. Does he also have in view the catering of consumers goods to the other nations of the world; I mean exports."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I do not wish to speak about that big subject. I am sure that, when the National Planning Committee comes out with its report we will find that. I do not wish at the present moment and in the short space of time at my disposal to commit myself to anything about that problem. But I am sure that problem will be given due consideration."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I wanted to know whether it is the ideal of this Government to make this province only self-sufficient. That is to produce only articles that are required for this province or to produce articles required for other provinces and counties also."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Certainly, Sir, I agree."

"First to make this country self-sufficient and then to export if necessary. So far as India is concerned certainly it is the ideal."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I wanted to know whether it is not desirable in the interests of this province to develop export trade also?"

[4th September 1946]

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"As I have already said it is a big subject. That is a matter to be considered. I shall read only a few more sentences from page 16 of the Handbook of the National Planning Committee. The Congress has laid down in its Karachi resolution on fundamental rights that the State shall own or control key industries and services, mineral resources, railways, waterways, shipping and other means of public transport, I merely read some of the quotations in order to explain to you, Sir, and through you to the members of this House the objects, views and principles that this Government are having in the matter of industrial planning."

"I am glad my friend Mr. Venkateswarlu referred to Finance Corporation. That will soon come into being. I am sure that will help to a great extent in the regeneration of industries. This Province has great mineral resources for exploitation and I do hope that we shall take time by the forelock and exploit the various minerals in the interests of the people of this Province. There are greater possibilities for starting mica industries, ceramic industries, encouraging and furthering the chemical industry, leather industry and so forth. The department of planning is going into the details of all these and very soon I hope to present to the members of this house and the public of this Province an industrial brochure which will contain all the information that will be of value in improving the industries of this Province. I must make it quite clear that merely starting large industries, key industries and medium industries will not be enough. I have estimated that even if India were to become self-sufficient especially in the matter of big industries, it will only provide employment for a crore of families that is five crores of people among the forty crores of people of this country. If India is to be developed in a proper manner we will have to provide food for the forty crores of human beings that exist in this great country of ours. We have to develop, not only to encourage but develop, cottage industries and village industries in an active manner. Agriculture may be a paying proposition today but five years ago it was not paying. Therefore I am referring to things five years ago in order to ensure against such a condition being repeated. Agriculturists must have something subsidiary to fall back upon for purchasing other articles of value. It can only be done through the organization of village industries. Wherever it is possible to have electric power we should provide it so that the village industries would be in a position to compete favourably with the big industries and thus the agriculturist should be provided with a subsidiary occupation for additional income. With this motive we are trying to explore all possibilities and in fact we are thinking in terms of industrial research of cottage industries. We are also thinking in terms of licensing industries so that they may not crop up like mushrooms and destroy the industry in the end. We have today as many as twenty industrial schools. We are going to establish polytechniques and we may produce a number of young men who know the technique of industries."

"I must refer to a charge that had been levelled against this Government for granting a licence to Birlas. It is not we that got them the licence. They got it through the Government of India. Afterwards they approached the previous Government here and they wanted to build up an industry in Guntur. The previous Government suggested to them that they should erect their factory at Nandyal or at Kurnool. But thereafter these people went away. They were about to start a factory at Sandur. I am merely giving general facts because I have no time to go to details and state the conditions which led us to permit them to start this factory. It is my duty and the duty of this Government to explain the circumstances. They were about to establish a factory at Sandur which is only 30 miles from Bellary. There was a protest that if that factory was started at Sandur there would be difficulty for the Bellary factory that was about to start. We said to the Bellary people that it does not lie with us to protest and obstruct the building of the factory at Sandur. We did realize the loss which this factory was sure to incur. And further we also realized many other matters which made us feel that it will be more profitable for us to permit the factory at Kurnool. Otherwise they will be in a position to take away our raw material and compete with us in every possible manner without any conditions. In this connexion I would like to refer to the considerations which weighed with the Government in ultimately allowing Birlas:

(1) that there is no law to prevent Birlas from using the produce of this Province and competing with the Vanaspathi factories in the Province, if the factory is located at Sandur;

(2) that if, on the other hand, they are allowed to remain in the Province they can be persuaded to work with the other factories in regard to matters of common interests such as organization of sales;

(3) that the location of a factory in the state would deprive the Province and the British India of a large part of the income-tax payable by the company;

(4) that the Province will lose every year over a lakh of rupees in the shape of sales tax;

(5) that the Province will lose the benefit of employment which the factories' location in the Province especially in a poor tract like Kurnool will result in;

(6) that the Ceded districts were not able to raise sufficient capital inside these districts for the Karnatak Vegetable Oils and Refineries, Ltd.;

(7) that it is in the best interests of the Province to establish a large Vanaspathi industry and export hardened fat instead of groundnuts.

(8) that Messrs. Birla Bros. should start a new Joint Stock Company for the establishment of the factory and give a preference to applicants of this Province in the allotment of shares. In fact we insisted on 40 per cent of the shares being raised in the Province if not in the Ceded districts themselves;

4th September 1946] [Hon. Sri V. V. Giri]

(9) that they should assist the smaller factories by technical assistance or in the organization of sales.'

"These are the various considerations which weighed with the Government in allowing Birlas to locate their factory at Kurnool. I think that an explanation is necessary because my esteemed friend Mr. Hamid Khan has raised this question. I know the seriousness with which he raised the question.

"Now I come to labour conditions. I do not think it is necessary for me to labour hard on the labour matter. The policy of this Congress Government is only a continuation of policy of the previous Congress Government. We believe in internal settlement of disputes. We believe that the right course to settle the disputes is by the employers' and the workers' representatives coming together. If they fail in their attempt to secure settlement of their differences, there is the Labour Commissioner who travels almost 28 days in the month throughout the length and breadth of the Province. He goes about and tries to settle a dispute. If even that fails, in fact I myself put my hands sometimes and try to see if I can use my influence with my comrades to settle the dispute. Even if this fails we have recourse to the section of the Trade Disputes Act by appointing Boards of Enquiry and Boards of Conciliation. If the employers and the workers would not agree with the Boards of Conciliation we felt that an arbitrator should be appointed and we have been doing so. About 95 disputes were settled during the last three months and we have to settle in an amicable manner the disputes that still exist. I would only say that the decisions were generally accepted by the parties. This is all that we can do. But at the same time the Government hope to introduce labour legislation and I can assure you, Sir, that I and my Government are equally interested in the condition of workers. We have to see that the workers secure their fundamental rights. Otherwise no capitalist has a right to exist. It is better this fact is realized here and now. Unless the employers realize this hard fact, that unless they consider the workers as partners in the industry, and unless they are in a position to give best service conditions to the workers, no industry can get on today. The sooner the employers realize this the better. But at the same time I must tell my comrades and friends to be very careful in the way in which they run their trade unions. There is no use of exasperation. They are exasperating themselves or exasperating the employers. They must be in a position to sit at a common table and settle the differences. I should even say that when a popular Government is there prepared at all times to effect every settlement why should they talk of strikes, I do not understand. I want my friends to know, Sir, through you that this Government stands for the workers, that this Government stands for the poor. Otherwise this Government has no business to exist. This much I can assure you, Sir, and through you the members of this House and the public of this country. We are thinking in terms of labour legislation—legislation in regard to shop assistants, beedi workers where they do not come under the Factories Act, and Agricultural labourers. We are thinking in terms of minimum wages about which my hon. Friend Mr. Town referred. We are indeed thinking in terms of comprehensive legislation and Trade Union Legislation. I may state in this connexion that now that the national government has come into existance we shall be very glad if they themselves take up labour legislation both for the Provinces and the centre as labour is in the concurrent list, so that there may not be any difference between province and province. These are some of the things that I wanted to tell the House and I can assure the House that we are alive to our sense of responsibility both in the matter of industrial regeneration of the country and the safeguarding of industrial workers. I request the mover of the cut motion to withdraw."

[Hon. Sri V. V. Giri] [4th September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I enquire whether the Hon. Minister has to say anything about the development of the west coast Industries—plywood, etc.?"

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" Certainly. Those matters will be gone into and most probably there will be perhaps two plywood industries."

ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know the qualifications of the new Deputy Director of Industries?"

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I only say that his qualification is excellent. During the last congress ministry he was deputed to Japan to study village and cottage industries, for about six or eight months. On arrival he presented a report which was not published. Subsequently he was put in jail. With the experience that he has he will be useful in developing the cottage and village industries of this Province."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I may add that before this House adjourns, the scheme of cottage industry will be placed before this House. From that it will be known what that gentleman is like."

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Will there be any improvement in the yarn position in Malabar?"

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" We shall see what could be done."

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

The demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XXII—CINCHONA AND FISHERIES.

4.15 P.M. THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" With your permission, Mr. Speaker, I beg to move—

'that on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May 1946 to 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 47,91,600 in respect of the head Cinchona and Fisheries. The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 2,22,098.'

[4th September 1946] [Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth]

" This demand is made up of two items and the particulars of each are given in the Budget Memorandum."

* MR. SPEAKER:—" Mr. Venkateswarlu will now move this cut motion. I hope he will finish his speech in three minutes."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, in moving the cut motion standing in my name, namely, to reduce the allotment of Rs. 47,91,600 for Cinchona and Fisheries by Rs. 100; I should like to say only three sentences and would not take up even the three minutes allotted to me. Sir, proper attention is not bestowed upon the development of fisheries. There are so many tanks in this Province in which we can develop fisheries, but they have not been looked into. By developing fisheries, the problem of food can be solved and the problem of the mosquitoes can also be solved at the same time.

" Secondly, Sir, the development of fisheries will also help to solve the problem of manure which is at present so essential for agricultural purposes. Hence I request the Government to see that fisheries are developed on sound and proper lines."

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Hon. Member has made my task very easy. All the useful suggestions which he has made will be deeply considered by the Government. The Government are aware of the importance of fisheries, particularly in its relation to the food problem. The several improvements which are proposed to be effected have been stated from time to time. Some commitments have already been made by the previous Government. We shall also look into them. The present Government will be able to announce a more definite and a more comprehensive policy when they get into the matter. In the meantime, I request the hon. Member to withdraw his cut motion."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" Sir, I beg to withdraw my cut motion."

The cut motion was, by the leave of the House, withdrawn. The Demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XXIII—MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENTS.

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move—

'that on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sums as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 94,61,700 in respect of the head Miscellaneous Departments. The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 5,17,781.'

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, in moving my cut motion, namely, 'to reduce the allotment of Rs. 94,61,700 for Miscellaneous Departments by Rs. 100'. I should like to bring to the notice of the House that under this demand a provision of Rs. 1.7 lakhs has been made for scholarships for Backward classes and communities. I think, Sir, that this Rs. 1.7 lakhs is not at all sufficient. Scholarships must be given to all those who are really poor and deserving, to whatever community they belong. That is why I want to suggest that this should be named as 'scholarships for the poor and deserving', so that all those who are poor and deserving can have proper educational facilities. Even though we may give scholarships to them, unless facilities by way of free food and free books are given to them, the boys of the Backward communities will not have any temptation to attend schools.

"The next thing I want to refer to is Harijan uplift. Of course, I know that a sum of Rs. 1 crore has been set apart for this purpose. Everybody knows that the Harijans are very backward both in their education and in their economic status. No doubt, they should be given educational facilities. But the more important thing, viz., to elevate them from their present state and make them realize that they are in no way inferior to other communities is to give them facilities to improve their economic position. For that purpose, the Government should come forward and distribute all their waste lands, porambokes and all cultivable lands to the Harijans and they must be encouraged to form co-operative societies and co-operative colonies for cultivating and developing those lands. In that way their economic position can be improved. The Government should also see that they do not distribute lands to big landholders and to members of other communities and that those people should not be allowed to stand in the way of Harijans getting such lands. Applications from those people for porambokes and other lands should not be considered. Unless this is done and unless their economic status is raised, the Harijans will not feel that they are on a level with other communities and their present backwardness will always be there. Therefore our first aim should be to improve their economic condition.

"Moreover, Sir, in the matter of spending the one crore of rupees set apart for the Harijan uplift, the Harijans are bracketed with other Indian Christians. Of course, there are people in other communities who are also equally poor, but this sum of one crore of rupees is specially allotted for Harijan uplift and should be spent for the Harijans only. I do not find any necessity why there should be a change of attitude on the part of the Government. Of course, we know that this sum is not at all sufficient for the improvement of the economic condition of the poor people belonging to other communities. Under those circumstances, what is the need for bringing in other communities and bracketing them with the Harijans? I submit Sir, that this sum should be spent for providing scholarships for the Harijans and for giving them facilities for higher education. That is why I request the Hon. the Minister not to bracket the Harijans with the poor people of other communities. I know there are poor people in all sections of the community. Separate funds could be created for that purpose, if necessary, but this sum should not be utilized for them.

[4th September 1946] [Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu]

"Then, Sir, there are a number of Harijans who are working as agricultural labourers and as domestic servants in our houses. There are so many working as butlers and cooks in the houses of Europeans. All these people have no facilities for education. They work throughout day and night without any sort of rest. There is no protection for them in their terms of service or in their hours of work. There is no legislation protecting the rights and interests of domestic labour. Hence I request the Government to take up the question of introducing labour legislation protecting their rights and interests.

"Then, Sir, I want to say a word or two about the housing scheme. A sum of Rs. 1.68 lakhs has been provided for this purpose. I think this is very insufficient and I do not know how many houses are going to be built out of this amount.

"The next suggestion I want to make is that the Criminal Tribes Act should be abolished. I know, particularly in Chirala, labourers who are classed as criminal tribes, have to walk seven or eight miles to reach their work spot. They will have to be running up in the morning to reach there in time. It is a very horrible sight to see how these people are made to work. That is why, I suggest that Criminal Tribes Act should be abolished without any delay.

"Then Sir, I submit that there is no need to spend about Rs. 80,000 on the Indian Women's Civic Corps. It is a waste of money and it may be utilized for some other useful purpose.

"Lastly, Sir, there is the Publicity department. I do not know how it is working and what work it is doing. Probably there is no work at all for this department. I submit that this department can be dispensed with."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member has already exceeded his time. He has been speaking on almost every cut motion. He may resume his seat."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Please give me one minute more, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Please resume your seat."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I am just finishing, Sir . . ." (Interruption.)

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Order, order, I now call upon Mr. V. I. Muniswami Pillai to speak."

* SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I find in this Demand the following allotments have been made for the amelioration of the conditions of communities eligible for help by the Labour department:—

		RS.
Scholarships and stipends including scholarships of other departments.	Converts	33,800
	Non-converts	1.25 LAKHS.
Clothing for boys and other schooling charges.	Converts	1,300
	Non-converts	5,200
Exemption from payment of examination fees.	Converts	2,000
	Non-converts	2,800

[Sri V. I. Muniswami Pillai] [4th September 1946]

"Sir, this House has come into existence and the various members of this Assembly have been elected to this house under the Government of India Act, 1935. Going through the Government of India Act, we find that it is clearly stated who are the Europeans, the Anglo-Indians, the Indian Christians and Scheduled Castes. 'Scheduled Castes' means, the Government of India Act says 'such castes, races or tribes or parts of or groups within castes, races or tribes, being castes, races, tribes, parts or groups which appear to His Majesty in Council to correspond to the classes of persons formerly known as the depressed classes. It has already been defined by His Majesty's Government who are the depressed classes and in the Madras Legislative Council Manual, it is clearly stated who form the depressed classes. The Government say that 'Parayans, Pallans, Valluvans, Malas, Madigas, Chakkiliyan, Thottiyans, Cherumas and Holeyas come under 'Depressed classes'. Now, Sir, I do not know what reason there is for the present Government or the Advisers' regime for making a new innovation in regard to the classification of communities under 'Scheduled classes'.

4-30 p.m. "Sir, the very formation of the Labour department under Sir George Paddison who was called the Protector of the Depressed classes was, as the very designation implies, for the protection of the interests of the Depressed classes. But, unfortunately, as the years went by, the names of various communities were brought in under the category of Depressed classes. And now, the entire community going by the name depressed classes has been put into the background. I do not know what makes the present Government include also the converts among the Scheduled castes. We find at page 408 of the Civil Budget Estimates for 1946-47 under the head 'Scholarships and Schooling Charges' a provision of Rs. 33,800 for scholarships for converts and Rs. 2,000 under 'payment of examination fees' for converts. Sir, the non-converts or Harijans are to get only Rs. 2,800 on account of payment of examination fees. The members of the Harijan community in this House have discussed the whole thing and have presented a memorandum to the Hon. the Premier stating clearly that the term 'Scheduled Castes' means only such of the communities that are 'Untouchables.' Sir, in these days when there is a nationwide agitation for showing sympathy for the depressed classes, it should not be necessary for me to stand up in this House and say who are Harijans and who are not Harijans. As you know, Sir, sympathy for the Harijans has been expressed by all quarters of this House and opinions expressed that the amount earmarked for the Harijans should not be spent on others.

"Sir, provision has been made in the Budget for the Labour department for grants for the relief of other sub-castes and communities than Harijans. We do not object to it. What we strongly object to is that from the Fund meant for the Harijans nothing should be given to the converts. Those who know the history of all these sub-castes and others will realize the handicaps of the Harijans as compared with the others and understand the great difference that exists between the ceremonials of the Harijans and the ceremonials of the converts and so on. We belong to the Hindu culture and it has been accepted by Mahatma Gandhi that the Harijans are Hindus. That being the case I cannot understand why anyone should include converts among the Scheduled Castes. All the Provinces of India have considered it necessary that the Depressed Classes must be given all facilities for their amelioration. Our Prime Minister has thought so and has made provision of one crore of rupees for the community's uplift. Those who have doubts whether this sum could not be given to communities other than Harijans may keep their doubts to themselves. We have no objection to Muslims or other communities getting any help they can from the Government. But what I say is that when long ago the Department of Labour was started, the object was the improvement of the social condition and the amelioration generally of the position of the Depressed Classes. Why that wholesome object should be departed from, I cannot understand. I request the Hon. Minister to make a declaration and relieve us of the anxiety that we are having in our minds. Most of the members of the Harijan community have expressed this feeling."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Hon. the Premier will make a statement now."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, this Demand for Rs. 94,61,700 consists of various items. It includes, Labour—Direction, District staff, etc., Rs. 4,09,300; Court of Enquiry under the Trade Disputes Act, Rs. 12,000; Communities eligible for help by the Labour Department—Education, Rs. 30,63,300; Public, Rs. 3,58,000; Reclamation of Kallars and Koravars, Rs. 5,14,400; Criminal Tribes Settlements, Rs. 3,41,400; Labour Supply Committees, Rs. 12,200; Inspector of Factories, Rs. 1,44,500; Inspector of Steam Boilers Rs. 86,900; Examinations—Village Officers' Tests—Government Examinations by Commissioners Rs. 5,31,300; Provincial Statistics (Registration of Births and Deaths), Rs. 20,600; Administration of Indian Partnership Act, Rs. 5,300; Miscellaneous Statistics—Ceded Districts—Economic Development Board, Rs. 25,300; Indian Women's Civic Corps, Rs. 1,98,700; Publicity Department, Rs. 1,15,500; Fire Services—Direction City section and Mufassal, —Central Region, Northern Region and Western Region, Rs. 36,43,300; Charges in England, Rs. 35,200.

"These items, excluding the one crore of rupees, constitute the Demand for Rs. 94,61,700. Under this head 'Communities eligible for help by Labour Department—Education' a sum of Rs. 30,63,300 has been provided. The details for this provision are given in the Budget.

"The point raised by the hon. Member Sri V. I. Muniswami Pillai and other friends who have given a memorandum in writing as well, is that what is earmarked for the Harijans, viz., the big amount of Rs. 1,00,00,000, should be exclusively used for the benefit of the Harijans and not of the other classes or persons defined by the Labour Department. All the sub-divisions come to nearly 112. There should be no mistake made in understanding the position now. The Fund is set apart for the Harijans. When the word 'Harijan' is used, it should not be understood that that Fund is meant for distribution in any form whatever among all the 112 sub-divisions, the names of which have been given under head 'Scheduled Castes'. I am defining the Harijans just now. So far as the one crore of rupees earmarked for the Harijans is concerned, Harijans mean not all those 112 sub-castes mentioned in the list of the Labour department. There are a few who should be exclusively defined as Harijans and they are the Adi-Dravidas of Tamilnad, the Adi-Dravidas of Malabar, the Adi-Dravidas of South Kanara and the Adi-Andhras. These four constitute the Harijans and the amount earmarked is for their benefit and their use only, and not to any of the other names mentioned out of the 112 sub-castes."

SRI A. S. SAHAJANANDAM:—"On a point of information, Sir . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Will the Hon. the Premier resume his seat?"

Sri A. Vaidyanatha Ayyar rose.

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"When I am on my feet, the hon. Member on the other side who was seen to rise in his seat must be made to sit by you, Mr. Speaker, before I yield."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"I crave the Hon. Premier's . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will not allow exchange of words here."

"The Hon. the Premier will resume his seat. As the hon. Member on the other side has got a doubt to clear, the Hon. the Premier should sit."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Speaker, we are all new to these debates in the Legislatures, and you are trying to tell us the parliamentary procedure which we are trying to learn. I did not mean any offence to the hon. Member (Mr. A. Vaidyanatha Ayyar) when I did not yield to him. I only wanted to tell the hon. Member . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I request the Hon. the Premier . . ."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Please hear me, Sir. As I was on my feet, the Speaker must tell Sri Vaidyanatha Ayyar, who rose to interrupt me, to sit down until I yield. He should rise only after I sat down. Now I am yielding to Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar." (Loud laughter.)

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"The Hon. Premier said that the Adi-Dravidas of Tamilnad are Harijans. It is well known that the Harijans called Adi-Dravidas both in the list of Scheduled Castes with the Labour department as well as throughout Tamilnad constitute only one of the several Harijans. There are what are called the Devendra Kula Vellalas, the Kallars and others. And there are the Arundhateeyas otherwise called the Chucklers and also Kuravas. There are several more of them forming part of the Harijan community. I do not know what is in the mind of the Hon. Premier when he says that this one crore is earmarked for the Harijans and that this sum is intended for the Adi-Dravidas of Tamilnad, the Adi-Dravidas of Malabar, etc., and the Adi-Andhras. It will give a very wrong impression if the Hon. the Premier's definition leaves out the other sections of the Harijan community. I want to know the exact position."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"May I tell the Hon. Premier one thing? Under the Corporation Act, Adi-Dravidas include Pariahs and Valluvans, and Adi-Andhras include Kudumbans, Deva Vellalas and Chucklers."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"And then there are the Vellala Adi-Dravidas. There are a number of others also coming under the term 'Harijans'."

* SRI A. S. SAHAJANANDAM:—"On a point of information, Sir, ஹரிஜனங்களுக்கென்றால், தீண்டாதவர்கள் மாதிரித்தான் ஹரிஜனங்கள் ஆவார்கள். மற்றபடி கர்ணம் போன்ற ஜாதியாரெல்லாம் வெள்ளாளர்கள். அவர்களிலே பெரிய ஜமீன்தாரர்களெல்லாம் இருக்கிறார்கள். தீண்டாதவர்களை மட்டுந்தான் ஹரிஜனங்கள் என்று சொல்லவேண்டும். ஆகவே, 108 ஜாதியார்களை யெல்லாம் ஹரிஜனங்களிலே சேர்த்துக்கொள்ளக் கூடாது. திருட்டுத் தொழிலிலே ஈடுபடுகிறவர்களை யெல்லாம் ஹரிஜனங்களிலே சேர்ப்பது நியாயமில்லை."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Is it right, Sir, for an hon. Member to interrupt the reply of the Hon. the Premier?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It was only to clear a doubt about the names included under the head Adi-Dravidas that an hon. Member rose. There are so many names included in the list of the Labour department."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"But could it not be cleared by means of an interpellation regularly put in the Assembly instead of rising now interrupting the reply by the Hon. the Premier?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"This is an important matter and Members of the community want to have their doubts cleared."

* SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"The Adi-Andhras of Andhradesa mean Malas, Madigas and others who are treated as untouchables and Adi-Dravidas, Chucklers and Valluvans. These people living in Andhradesa are called Adi-Andhras and those Depressed Class people who live in Tamilnad are called Adi-Dravidas. These are the only people who should be called Scheduled Castes."

"People living in Karnatak are called Adi-Karnatakas and people belonging to the communities living in Kerala are called Adi-Keralas. So, only those that were considered as untouchable all these days are alone to be members of the Scheduled Classes."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, the hon. Member Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar has raised the point. I should have been obliged to take it without further examination of the same, 4-45 p.m."

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [4th September 1946]

but, Sir, the knowledge of the hon. Member, Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar, my own knowledge and the knowledge of most of the hon. Members here with regard to the definition of 'Harijan' is rather limited. I am learning every hour and every minute from hon. Members who know more about this. The hon. Member Mr. Nagappa has defined the 'Harijan' so far as the Province to which he belongs is concerned. Sir, the term Adi-Andhra is not confined to any one particular sub-division. All the sub-divisions come under that definition. In a similar manner, in Tamilnad all the different sub-divisions by whatever name they may be called, all of them come under the definition of 'Adi-Dravida', and so also with regard to the Kerala and South Kanara. That is the meaning which I thought should be applied to the word 'Harijan' and it was in that sense we understood it when we earmarked the amount and if there should be any technical difficulty of any definition which will make us correct it, that may be done later on. So far as this definition of 'Harijan' is concerned we will have to take it up, because so much confusion has been created in the minds of friends ever since this one crore of rupees was earmarked, and it is only right that on behalf of the Government, I should make the position clear. I have tried to make it plain. Under this demand a sum of Rs. 30,63,300 has been provided for helping communities who are eligible for help by the Labour department. Scholarships and other kinds of help have been granted by the Labour department from time to time. Some of us who are in this Government have been feeling some difficulty with regard to the young men who are very poor, who are unable to pay their school fees or even for their food and who have made some applications to this Government for help. I was wondering how this Government could help this class of people also. In this connexion, we were obliged to examine this list of 112 sub-castes coming under the administration of the Labour department. Sir, I am trying to make it plain that not only the Harijans as defined by me just now, but all the other 107 or 108 sub-divisions also deserve the help and support of the Government. It was for this reason that some distribution was made through the Labour department. Sir, there is a poor Kshatriya boy saying 'I have no parents; I have nobody to support me; I have studied up to S.S.L.C. and there I am stranded and I have to go a-begging; can your Government help me?' and some other boys belonging to other castes also have come up for help from this Government. Having regard to such cases, we have considered it necessary to make provision for meeting such emergent cases. In view of the demands of the poor students I have referred to, we have decided to allot an additional sum of Rs. 50,000 to meet such cases. This is the one point which I wanted to make clear.

"Sir, something was said about converts and non-converts. I have known converts as hon. Members of this House and others have known them. Merely because they embraced Christianity and became converts, they have not become rich people. They continue to be poor; I know some people who continue in poverty even as converts. For such people, along with so many others, some provision was made. About that point the hon. Member, Messrs. Muniswami Pillai, Nagappa and other hon. Members need not be troubled. That distinction does not in any way obstruct the programme laid down for action just now. There are as many as 112 sub-divisions made out and I can say that almost all the sub-castes, by whatever name they may be known, deserve the support of Government and I hope there will come a time when we will be able to make sufficient provision for all these people without confining ourselves only to Harijans as at present defined. I have tried to explain the position and I request the hon. Member who moved the cut motion to consider whether he can reconcile himself to withdraw it and help this Government."

[4th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

The cut motion was, by leave of the House, withdrawn.

The demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XXIV—CIVIL WORKS—WORKS.

THE HON. SRI M. BAKTHAVATHSALAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, I move—

'that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May 1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 3,24,15,200 in respect of the head "Civil Works—Works." The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 8,22,565.'"

* A. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"What clock are we going to follow, Sir? The one on the northern side or that on the eastern side?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"We will follow the clock on the western side. That gives us more time."

* SRI PILLAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Sir, I formally move the cut motion that stands in my name—

'To reduce the allotment of Rs. 3,24,15,200 for Civil Works—Works by Rs. 100.'"

* THE HON. SRI M. BAKTHAVATHSALAM:—"I have already stated the policy of the Government in reply to questions. I request the hon. Member to withdraw his cut motion."

The cut motion was by leave withdrawn.

The demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XXV—CIVIL WORKS—ESTABLISHMENT AND TOOLS AND PLANT.

THE HON. SRI M. BAKTHAVATHSALAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, on the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, I move—

'that the Assembly do assent to a demand which will come in course of payment during the period from the 1st May

[Hon. Sri M. Bakthavathsalam] [4th September 1946
1946 to the 31st March 1947 of such sum as together with the expenditure already incurred in April 1946, will amount to Rs. 2,64,33,300 in respect of the head "Civil Works—Establishment and Tools and Plant." The expenditure incurred in April 1946 is believed to be Rs. 6,90,251'."

No cut motion was moved. The demand was put and carried and the grant was made.

DEMAND XXVI—CIVIL WORKS—GRANTS-IN-AID.

APPENDIX I.

[Vide answer to unstarred question No. 40 asked by K. M. Seethi Sahib Bahadur at the meeting of the Legislative Assembly held on 4th September 1946, page 1179 supra.]

G.O. No. 1371, EDUCATION, DATED 1ST JUNE 1934.

In G.O. No. 1727, Education, dated 22nd September 1933, the Government have issued orders on the recommendations of the Muslim Education Committee relating to the provision of religious instruction for Muhammadan pupils. They are now pleased to issue the following orders on the other recommendations of the Committee.

2. Separate schools for Muhammadans.—The Committee advocates the opening of a large number of separate schools for Muhammadans in all stages of education. As pointed out by the Director, the recommendations of the Committee are pitched much higher than what the educational needs of the community would justify and they aim at setting up a parallel and separate system of education for Muhammadans only. The Government consider that such segregation is more likely to retard than help the educational progress of Muhammadans. Apart from this, the Committee's proposal is impracticable on financial grounds. The policy hitherto adopted has been for Government to maintain separate schools for Muhammadans only in centres having a large Muhammadan population. The Government agree with the Director of Public Instruction that there is no reason to depart from this policy. They consider that in places where there are no separate schools it would be sufficient if facilities are given for the education of Muhammadans in non-Muslim schools, by providing for the teaching of Urdu and the employment of a fair proportion of Muhammadan teachers. The Director is requested to make specific proposals in this regard for the consideration of Government.

3. Teaching of languages in elementary schools.—The Committee recommends that the local vernacular should be taught as a second language in all Muslim schools where Urdu is the medium of instruction. The Government accept this recommendation and also agree that Urdu, Arabic or Persian may be taught to Muslim pupils in vernacular schools where there are a sufficient number of Muslim pupils.

4. Opening of higher elementary schools for Muslim boys.—The Committee considers that separate higher elementary schools for Muslims should be started in localities containing a Muslim population of 1,000 or more and that in other places facilities should be provided for the teaching of Urdu and for religious instruction for Muslims in higher elementary schools intended for all classes. For the reasons explained in paragraph 2 above, the Government are unable to accept the proposal that separate higher elementary schools should be started for Muhammadans.

They, however, consider that higher standards might be opened in existing Muhammadan schools in centres with a large Muslim population. Local bodies are requested to take action in this direction so far as funds permit.

5. Text-books for elementary schools.—The Committee suggests that text-books for use in elementary schools should include stories from Islamic literature and that non-official Muslims should have sufficient representation on the Text-Book Committee. The Director is requested to take the necessary action to give effect to the Committee's suggestions.

6. Formation of Muslim Education Committees.—The Committee recommends that local committees should be formed to advise local bodies on questions relating to Muslim education. At present there are Muslim Educational Associations in some districts; it is open to the community to organize similar associations in other districts also.

7. Provision of funds for Muslim education.—The Committee recommends that larger funds should be made available for Muslim education either by increasing subsidies and grants-in-aid or by earmarking a portion of the funds of local bodies for such education. The question of giving larger grants for Muslim education cannot be considered under present financial conditions. The suggestion that a portion of the funds of local bodies should be earmarked for the education of Muslims is impracticable.

8. Representation of Muslims on the Education Committees of local bodies.—The Committee's suggestion that the Madras Local Boards Act and the Madras District Municipalities Act should be amended so as to make it obligatory on the part of local bodies to provide for larger representation of Muslims on the Education Committees of those bodies cannot be accepted.

9. Provision of midday meals and clothing to poor Muslim boys.—The Committee suggests that local bodies should be allowed to incur expenditure from the Elementary Education Fund on the provision of midday meals and clothing to poor Muslim pupils. The Government are unable to accept the suggestion, since the concession, if granted to one community, will have to be extended to others.

10. Consolidation and concentration of elementary schools.—The Committee has expressed a qualified approval of the scheme for the concentration and consolidation of elementary schools formulated by Mr. H. Champion. The Government agree with the Director of Public Instruction that as the scheme is actually put into operation it will be found that the difficulties apprehended by the Committee are not insuperable, especially in areas where the mother-tongue of the Muhammadans is the local vernacular. In G.O. No. 1639, Education, dated the 9th September 1933, relating to the consolidation and concentration of elementary schools, the Government have directed that Muslim schools should be brought within the scheme of consolidation, wherever practicable.

11. Elementary schools for Muslim girls.—The Government are unable to accept the recommendation of the Committee that separate schools for Muslim girls should be opened in every locality containing a Muslim population of 500 and above. They agree with the Committee that in places where there are no separate schools, girls may attend boys' schools up to a certain age. They are, however, of opinion that the age-limit of nine suggested by the Committee is low.

12. Facilities for the secondary education of Muslim boys.—As stated in paragraph 2 above, the Government cannot undertake to establish more separate secondary schools for Muslims nor can they compel private agencies and local bodies to introduce religious instruction for Muhammadan pupils in schools under their control. The other suggestions made by the Committee for the provision of additional facilities for secondary education for Muslims are—

(1) that Urdu sections should be attached, where necessary; to schools intended for all classes;

(2) that a reasonable proportion of teachers in these schools should be Muslims; and

(3) that provision should be made for the teaching of Urdu and Persian in schools where there is a demand for such teaching and the number of Muslims justify the expenditure involved thereby.

The Director of Public Instruction is requested to examine these suggestions in detail and submit specific proposals in respect of such of them as are practicable.

13. Modification of the grant-in-aid rules.—The Committee recommends that the rules regarding grants to secondary schools should be modified so as to make it obligatory on schools to admit Muslims and to arrange for instruction in religion and Urdu. The Government consider that no such modification is necessary at present. The question will, however, be considered further on receipt of the proposals called for from the Director of Public Instruction in the previous paragraph.

14. Fee concessions in secondary schools.—The Committee's recommendation that half-fee concessions should be given to Muslim pupils irrespective of the financial position of the parent or guardian cannot be accepted.

15. Additional higher elementary and secondary schools for Muslim girls.—The Committee refers to the policy followed by Government of taking over under departmental management elementary schools for Muslim girls in centres with a large Muslim population and recommends that it should be continued. The schools taken over are intended for use as model sections of Government Training schools newly opened in the centres referred to. Though there has been no change in the policy of Government in this matter, it has not been possible, owing to the financial stringency, to open more schools of this kind either in the last year or in the current year. The question of opening such schools will be considered when the financial situation improves and when there is a sufficient supply of qualified Muslim women teachers.

The Committee also recommends that the higher elementary schools which are attached to the training schools in certain centres should be converted into middle schools and that it should be the aim of the department to start a higher elementary school for Muslim girls in every centre having a population of 2,000 Muslims and over. The conversion of higher elementary schools into middle schools will result in the establishment of separate secondary schools for Muslim girls in the places referred to. As already stated, the Government are not in favour of the establishment of such separate schools. The number of Muslim girls who continue their education in the first and higher forms of secondary schools is small and the Government consider that the demand for secondary education for these girls can be met for the present by the employment of Urdu teachers in secondary schools open to all classes.

As regards additional higher elementary schools, these are not opened under direct departmental management. The Government hope that local bodies and private agencies will raise the elementary schools under their control to the higher elementary grade in places where there is a real demand for higher elementary education.

16. Teaching of Urdu in schools intended for Muslim girls.—The Committee recommends that provision should be made for the teaching of Urdu in all schools intended for Muslim girls and that a qualified Muslim woman should be recruited from Northern India for teaching Urdu in the Government Hobart Training School, Royapetta. The Government accept generally the first of these suggestions; the Director is requested to give effect to it in Government schools by employing in existing sanctioned posts in these schools persons competent to teach Urdu. Local bodies and private agencies which maintain schools for Muslim girls are requested to adopt the suggestion wherever practicable.

17. Conveyance for gosha pupils attending Government schools.—The Committee's recommendation that motor vehicles should be substituted for bullock carts for conveying Muslim girls to school cannot be accepted.

18. Facilities for the training of teachers.—In paragraphs 62—74 of the report, the Committee has made several suggestions for increasing the output of trained Muslim teachers. As pointed out by the Director, the number of qualified Muslims applying for admission to training schools is small and all these are generally selected for training. The supply of Muhammadan teachers will gradually increase as more Muslims complete their education in higher elementary schools. The Government do not, therefore, consider that there is any need at present for taking special measures for providing facilities for the training of men.

teachers. As regards women teachers, however, the question of opening additional training classes will be considered when funds become available.

The suggestions that Muslim students admitted for training in all grades should be granted stipends and that the rates of stipends should be increased cannot be accepted as the Government do not consider that any special treatment which is not accorded to other backward communities is called for in respect of Muhammadans.

The Committee's recommendation.

The Committee's recommendation that the pay of trained Muslim teachers in elementary schools should be raised is one primarily for consideration by local bodies and private managements.

As regards the suggestion that the staff of Government secondary training schools should contain a fair proportion of Muslim teachers, the Director is requested to give effect to it in schools where there is an appreciable number of Muslim students. In the case of training schools for women the Committee suggests that attempts should be made to replace non-Muslim teachers by Muslim teachers recruited from outside the presidency. The Government agree with the Director of Public Instruction that this will not be a satisfactory solution of the problem of finding qualified teachers for girls' schools.

The suggestion of the Committee regarding the teaching of languages in training schools may be adopted wherever practicable. With regard to the recommendation that admission of training colleges should be given to all Muslim applicants irrespective of whether they possess any teaching experience or not, the Government understand that this is already the case.

The question of opening more sessional schools for Mussaliars and preparatory classes for Muslim women who do not possess the prescribed qualifications for admission to training schools will be considered when funds permit.

19. Muhammadan College, Madras.—The Committee recommends that steps should be taken to develop the Government Muhammadan College, Madras, on the linguistic side and in history up to the Honours standard, the ultimate object being to make the college self-contained in all subjects. In view of the fact that the Presidency College, Madras, which is open to all classes including Muslims teachers up to the Honours standard in all subjects except Islamic languages, the Government consider that it will be sufficient if Honours courses in these languages alone are instituted in the Muhammadan College. The question of instituting these courses will be considered when funds permit.

20. Admission of Muslim students to Professional colleges.—The Committee urges that preference should be given to Muslim candidates in the matter of admission to Professional colleges.

[4th September 1946]

The small number of students now admitted into Professional colleges is apparently due to the fact that a sufficient number of candidates from the community do not apply for admission.

21. Representation of Muslims on University bodies and Selection Committees for Government colleges.—The Committee observes that the Muslim community is not adequately represented on the University bodies. The Universities Acts contain provision for the representation of backward and minority communities. The Government do not consider that any amendment of the Acts is called for so as to provide for the increased representation of Muslims.

The Selection Committees of all the Government Colleges contain Muslim representatives.

22. Scholarships and fee concessions for Muslim girls in colleges.—The Committee suggests that every Muslim girl admitted to college classes should be awarded Government scholarships and that there should be provision for full fee concessions to all Muslim girls. In the award of Government scholarships the claims of backward communities including Muslims receive preferential consideration.

As regards fee concessions the existing rules provide for the grant of only half fee concessions to poor students. The Government do not consider it necessary to alter the rule.

23. Arabic institutions.—Paragraphs 87 to 93 of the Committee's report contain its recommendations in regard to Arabic institutions. These recommendations are under consideration separately in connexion with the report of the Committee appointed to frame syllabuses in secular subjects for adoption in these institutions.

24. Compulsory elementary education for Mappillas.—The Committee recommends—

(1) that compulsory elementary education should be extended to all municipalities and taluk board areas where Mappillas are found in large numbers;

(2) the expenditure on midday meals for Mappilla children should be recognized as a legitimate charge on elementary education funds;

(3) that the hours of school work should be changed to suit local conditions; and

(4) that provision should be made for adult education among Mappillas.

The Government have under consideration the question of amending the Madras Elementary Education Act, 1920, so that Government may have the power to call for schemes of compulsion in areas under local bodies. If the proposal materializes, the feasibility of introducing compulsory education in all areas where there is a large Mappilla population will be examined.

[4th September 1946]

The suggestion for the provision of midday meals for Mappilla children cannot be accepted for the reason given in paragraph 9 above. Rule 15 of the rules framed under section 41 of the Madras Elementary Education Act, 1920, requires managements of schools to adjust school hours to local conditions. Orders have also been issued advising local bodies to follow this rule.

The suggestion regarding adult education can be considered only when the financial position improves.

25. Secondary education for Mappillas and facilities for the training of Mappilla teachers.—The Committee recommends—

(1) that one high school and three incomplete secondary schools may be established in Malabar for Mappillas; and

(2) that a training school for Mappilla teachers may be opened in North Malabar, another school for these teachers being opened later.

As observed in paragraph 2 above, the Government are generally averse to the opening of separate schools for Muhammadans. They, however, recognize that an exception should be made in the case of Mappillas. In their opinion the present requirements of the community will be met if a high school in any of the chief Mappilla centres and a training school in North Malabar are established. The Director is accordingly requested to submit proposals for the opening of these schools, which will be carried out when funds permit.

26. Elementary schools for Mappilla girls.—The Committee considers that there should be a sufficient number of girls' schools within the reach of Mappilla girls. The question of opening additional girls' schools will be considered when funds become available.

27. Facilities for secondary education for Mappilla girls.—The Committee suggests that provision should be made for religious instruction and for the teaching of Urdu for Mappillas in secondary schools for girls in Malabar. As stated in paragraph 12 above the Government cannot compel local bodies or private agencies to provide religious instructions for Muslims. Managements of schools are however advised to employ Urdu Munshis in schools where there is an appreciable number of Mappilla girls who desire to study Urdu.

28. Training in handicrafts in girls' schools.—The Committee suggests that provision should be made for the teaching of handicrafts which will have a direct bearing on the lives of Mappilla girls after they leave school. This suggestion will be adopted wherever practicable, when funds permit.

29. Religious instruction in training schools.—The Committee suggests that the religious instruction imparted in the Government Training School, Malappuram, should include training in the methods of imparting such instruction. The Government have no objection to this suggestion being adopted if the religious instructors already employed in the school can undertake the training.

[4th September 1946]

30. Training schools for Mappilla women teachers.—The Committee recommends that training schools for Mappilla women teachers should be opened in Ponnani and Tellicherry with preparatory classes attached. In connexion with the proposals called for in paragraph 25 above, the Director of Public Instruction is requested to consider the question of opening a training class for Mappilla women in North Malabar.

31. Teachers in Mappilla schools.—In paragraph 111 of the report the Committee has made certain suggestions in regard to the staffing of Mappilla schools. The Government trust that managements of schools will employ Mappilla teachers in these schools wherever possible, but beyond this they consider that no instructions are necessary.

32. Scholarships and fee concessions for Mappillas.—The Committee recommends an increase in the number of scholarships for Mappilla pupils and the grant of half fee concessions irrespective of the financial position of their parents. The question of providing additional scholarships can be considered only when the financial position improves. The suggestion in regard to half fee concessions cannot be accepted.

33. Inspecting agency.—The Committee recommends—

(1) that there should be three Inspectors of Muhammadan schools, one of them being a special officer for the West Coast; and

(2) that there should be a Muhammadan Inspectress of Muslim girls' schools.

The suggestion for the employment of a separate superior inspecting staff for Muhammadan schools has been considered in the past and rejected on the ground that the chief inspecting officer of a local area should have general control over educational progress throughout the area. The Government do not consider that there is any case for reconsidering this decision.

34. Village Committees to look after Mappilla education.—The Committee suggests that Deputy Inspectors of Schools may be asked to help village associations formed for the purpose of popularizing education among Mappillas. The Government have no objection to Deputy Inspectors rendering help to these associations.

35. In conclusion the Government desire to thank the members of the Committee for their valuable report.

(By order of the Government, Ministry of Education and Excise)

D. H. BOULTON,
Deputy Secretary to Government.

The strength in all these 6 schools was 176 compared with 156 pupils under instruction in the 7 training schools last year. The total number of Muhammadan men and women under training in all the training schools was 469 and 186 respectively as against 608 and 203 last year.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Thursday, the 5th September 1946.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Fort St. George, at eleven of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUKAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

I.—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

Members of the Indian National Army.

* 147 Q.—SRI D. DORAIRAJA PANDIAN: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) the number of persons resident in this Province who were members of the Indian National Army;

(b) whether their activities are being watched by the Police;

(c) whether the skilled workers available among them will be provided with work; and

(d) whether Government propose to employ all the others also suitably?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“(a) & (b) The Government have no information.

“(c) & (d) The policy in regard to the employment of Indian National Army personnel in the public service is under the consideration of Government.”

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—“Are the Government aware that the I.N.A. personnel are employed as ‘Home Guards’ in the United Provinces?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I have no information about it. I have taken note of it now.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I ask the Government whether they are aware that the I.N.A. personnel consists of a good number of skilled workers who will be useful to this Province?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I presume there must be.”

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—“In view of the fact that these I.N.A. people remain unemployed just now, how long will it take for the Government to come to a decision in the matter?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I do not think it will take a long time, Sir. It has been considered by the Government but the matter has not been finally concluded; now that the Interim Government have come into office, we thought we might wait till the policy of that Interim Government is known.”

[5th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I request the Hon. Minister to make use of the skill of these men for the development of our province in every respect? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The skill of every one would be availed of by this Government."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know if the Government have any proposal to have a Home Guard service in this Province also? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The matter will be considered."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—" May I know, in as much as the I.N.A. men are supporters of the Congress Government and are under its discipline, if the Government will make enquiries whether the C.I.D. police are unnecessarily shadowing them? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" This question does not arise at present."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" Sir, is the Hon. Premier aware that some of these demobilized I.N.A. men are actually starving in the villages of Kurnool and Cuddapah districts, without any help from anybody? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I have taken the information from the hon. Member and he will be requested to give particulars about these persons, their names, addresses, etc."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know from the Hon. Premier whether there has been any definite policy enunciated as regards these people known as I.N.A. and what exactly is their job now in this country and which party they are supporting? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I do not believe, Sir, they are supporting any party. If I could gather information from them aright, they were under orders not to be under any party."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" Are the Government aware that large sums of money belonging to these I.N.A. men have been confiscated by the Government? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The Government have no information about it, the hon. Member is welcome to supply the information if he has any with him."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBIAH:—" With reference to the answer to clause (a), may I ask that the information should be collected and supplied to this House, as it is easy, particularly because the I.N.A. have been recruited to the Indian Army originally? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" All available information when it is ready will be furnished to the hon. Members."

5th September 1946]

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Are the Government aware that many of these people who go under the cover of 'I.N.A.' who are not really I.N.A. are soon becoming lieutenants and captains and other officers; will the Government investigate into this matter? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The Government have not been aware of it. The Government request the hon. Member to supply the information, if he has any, about anybody."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know whether this Government is going to make any distinction between the I.N.A. men and persons who served in the War? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" That is a question which is under consideration."

Vacancies reserved for war personnel.

* 148 Q.—MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state how many vacancies reserved for the war personnel in all the departments of this Government have been filled and how many still remain to be filled?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The information has been called for from heads of departments and other appointing authorities and will, on receipt, be placed on the table of the House."

ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know whether this Government will follow the recommendations of the Post-War Development Committee in regard to the employment of War personnel? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" This Government will not commit itself to any such position."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know whether this 'war personnel' includes I.N.A. men as they were originally recruited by the Recruitment department? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The question must be explicit, the hon. Member may try to put it clearly."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know whether this war personnel includes I.N.A. people also as they were originally recruited by the War department from our country? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" They might have been included, Sir, because it has been stated that some persons on regular service had gone over to the other side."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it not a fact that I.N.A. men are those who are called the Indian National Army; whereas the war personnel are called British Indian Army? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The hon. Member may please repeat the question."

[5th September 1946]

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it not correct to say that war personnel are called British Indian Army personnel and Indian National Army people are those who no doubt were recruited to the British Indian Army but having gone over to the other side, they are called Indian National Army? There is a distinction between I.N.A. men and the British Indian Army."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The distinction I have been able to understand is this: The regular army has been recruited here by the British Government. With regard to the Indian National Army, those who were not in the regular army here but were recruited on the other side of the seas constituted it; and the allegation has been made that some men of the regular army had gone over to the other side and joined that army."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Does this Government make any distinction and will it give preferential treatment to one set of personnel as against the other?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"That is a question which has been under consideration."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"May I know if it is a fact that the Government are modifying the policy of employing the war-returned personnel, and if so why?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Government have been considering the question itself; there is no question of having laid down a policy and revising it now."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBIAH:—"May I ask, Sir, if it is right for a national Government or a popular Government to reserve seats in the Government for military men who have served in an Imperialist War and not in a national war?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"That is a matter which has been under the consideration of the present Government."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"From the answer given by the Hon. Premier, may I ask whether the same preference that is given to war personnel will be given to I.N.A.'s also?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"That question has been answered already."

Employment of ex-I.N.A. personnel in the Government services.

* 149 Q.—SRI K. T. KOSALRAM NADAR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether there are any instructions or circulars against the employment of ex-I.N.A. personnel in the Government services; and

(b) whether Government propose to absorb them in Police, Jail and Local Board departments?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) No.

" (b) The matter is under consideration."

[5th September 1946]

SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"Is the Government aware, Sir, that many I.N.A. men are employed already in the Police Department of the U.P. Government?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"This Government is not aware of it, yet."

SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"If it is true, will the Government consider the question of appointing them in the Police and other departments under this Government?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"That is a question which has been under the consideration of Government."

Health Survey and Development Committee.

* 150 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have considered the report of the Health Survey and Development Committee; and

(b) whether they have decided upon any health programme for this Province based upon the recommendations of that Committee?

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" (a) The report is under consideration."

" (b) Not yet."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, when and by whom the Committee was appointed and what are its recommendations?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The Committee was appointed by the Government of India. A copy of the recommendations of the Bhore Committee is in the Library, and I request the hon. Member to refer to that volume."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Hon. the Minister is aware that the health of the people has deteriorated much under the control of the District Boards and the Municipalities, which do not observe the rules of the Public Health Act, and whether she knows that the Municipalities and District Boards are required to earmark 30 per cent and 12½ per cent, respectively, of their income for public health purposes, whereas Municipalities spend only 15.6 per cent and the District Boards only 7.2 per cent on this account?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The long supplementary question put by my hon. Friend Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin does not arise out of the main question."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"Does the Hon. Minister mean that the report of the Committee concerning this Province would not be placed on the Table of the House?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"It is a report published by the Government of India and I have already said that for the edification of members, that copies will be available for reference in the Library of the Legislatures."

[5th September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know which other provision of this report this Government have adopted besides provision of admission to the Medical College on the basis of merit? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" This is one of the recommendations made by the Bhore Committee, namely, that one-third of the admissions should proceed on the basis of merit; that recommendation has been given effect to though not in full and even in regard to the suggestion of one-third, this Government considered it advisable to adopt only twenty per cent for this year. Therefore it cannot be said that the recommendation of the Committee with regard to admission to the Medical and Engineering Colleges has not been given effect to."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" My question, Sir, remains unanswered. May I ask, besides accepting this wholesome or unwholesome recommendation, which other recommendation has been accepted by the Government? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The recommendations made by the Bhore Committee will be considered at the forthcoming Conference of Health Ministers at Delhi or Simla, and after full discussion takes place their recommendations may be implemented."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Do I understand, therefore, that there was no other recommendation of this important Committee which was as important as the recommendation which has been accepted by the Government? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The hon. Member can draw his own inference."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" What was the special reason why this one particular recommendation which will have the result of helping some particular section of the Hindu community was given effect to and no action taken as regards the other recommendations of this Committee? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The Government felt that having regard to the efficiency of the services, merit should be taken into consideration."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—" May I know whether the Hon. the Minister is aware that this particular recommendation of the Bhore Committee regarding merit was based on the proposed expansion of colleges to the extent of 200 per cent which has now taken place? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The Committee that sat over the question of admissions considered all the applications that were sent to them; it was not with reference to any particular college."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know whether there is any recommendation in the report of the Committee in order that public health and medicine may be combined in one department as there is only one Minister for these two departments? "

5th September 1946]

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" There was no such recommendation made by the Committee."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—" May I know from the Hon. Minister what steps Government have taken on the recommendations of this Committee to improve the sanitary condition and the health of the aborigines and also Harijans? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The suggestion of the hon. Member will be taken up after the Conference of Health Ministers is over."

MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—" While the Government thought it was necessary to give deeper consideration to the other recommendations of the Bhore Committee, did they not also think that this particular item of recommendation of the Committee also requires such deep consideration at the hands of the Government before it was given effect to? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" If it was the policy of the Government of Madras to give full effect to that particular recommendation relating to admissions, it would have done so; but it did not give effect to that recommendation at all in full, but only 20 per cent of the number of seats was put up on the basis of merit."

MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Therefore, shall we take it that it is not on the recommendation of the Bhore Committee that this action of the Government has been taken but on their own initiative? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" In view of the fact that there was very little time to go into the question of admissions, a sort of interim arrangement was made."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know whether this report was discussed, debated upon and conclusions arrived at in the Cabinet? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" No, Sir."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I take it that this recommendation regarding merit was made on the sole responsibility of the Minister in charge of this department? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" The matter was not discussed so far as I remember, at any of the Cabinet meetings, but it was discussed by the Prime Minister and myself."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it not a fact that some of the non-Brahman members of the Cabinet differed from the Hon. Minister? "

MR. SPEAKER:—" Cabinet secrets cannot be revealed."

[5th September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I beg to submit, Sir, that I am not asking for any Cabinet secret. The Hon. Minister stated categorically that it was not considered in the Cabinet and so what I am asking is whether any other Minister differed from her or this particular question of merit was her own initiative?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The Hon. the Education Minister also agreed to this percentage."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether any other Minister did not agree to this?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"No other Minister was consulted in the matter."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"As my previous question has not been answered, may I know, Sir, whether Medical colleges in this Province have expanded to the extent of 200 per cent as has been proposed by in the Bhore Committee as a preliminary to the rule of merit coming into force?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"No, Sir."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"May I know, Sir, if the Government proposes to consider the increase of Medical colleges by 200 per cent next year?"

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In spite of all these volley of questions and agitation in this House on this point, is the Government bent upon giving effect to this 20 per cent principle?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"This 20 per cent matter is just for one year. The Government may consider it or may not consider it in regard to its continuance in the succeeding years."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know Sir, from the Hon. Minister for Health that in view of the serious nature of the departure made from the usual method of recruitment, she did not think it necessary to consult the entire Cabinet so that all the pros and cons of introducing the new method of recruitment may be considered, especially as this innovation affects the life of several communities?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Sir, the 20 per cent is based only on merit; the rest of the 80 per cent is based on the communal Government Order. However, this matter will be placed before the Cabinet."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Why should she not think it necessary to place the matter before the entire Cabinet before taking a decision?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Then, the matter was not felt to be so important as to be placed before the Cabinet."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I ask the Hon. the Minister for Public Health whether she is aware of the sanitary conditions in Harijan quarters and whether there is any recommendation in the report in order to improve their condition?"

[5th September 1946]

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"The hon. Member may very readily refer to the recommendations made by the Bhore Committee. Therefore the question need not be answered here."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"As the House is very much alarmed at the passing of executive orders making innovations from past practice, may I request Government henceforth no such executive orders will be passed without joint consultation of the Ministers of the Cabinet?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"I am afraid an assurance cannot be given to the House straightaway. However, as I have already stated, in future, such matters will be placed for the consideration of the Cabinet."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The communal Government Order, Sir, is an executive order. The Government that is in office to-day is entitled to consider it as an executive order."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"That part of my question remains unanswered. My question is whether the Hon. the Minister for Public Health is aware of the sanitary conditions prevailing in Harijan quarters?"

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Yes, Sir."

Registration of Dalmia Cement Labour Union.

* 151 Q.—SRI K. ANANDA NAMBIYAR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Manager of Dalmia Cement, Ltd., Dalmiapuram, had asked the Registrar of Trade Unions, Madras, in a letter, dated 29th September 1945, not to register the Dalmia Cement Labour Union;

(b) what reply the Registrar of Trade Unions has given to the Manager; and

(c) what action the Labour Commissioner has taken on the memorandum of grievances submitted by the Dalmia Cement Labour Union?

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary on behalf of Hon. Sri V. V. Giri):—" (a) Yes, Sir.

" (b) No reply was given to the Manager in writing; but when he met the Registrar, he was told that if the union satisfied the requirements of the Indian Trade Unions Act, it would be registered.

" (c) The memorandum of grievances was fully gone into by the District Magistrate of Trichinopoly and the Commissioner of Labour and no action was considered necessary."

[5th September 1946]

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" May I know if the employers have got a right to interfere in the registration of trade unions? "

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary):—" No, Sir."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" May I know, Sir, if the Government proposed to this any action to see employees do not come in the way of registration of trade unions? "

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary):—" We will consider it, Sir."

MR. SPEAKER:—" Since the hon. Member (Sri K. S. V. Krishnan), is not in his seat, the answer to the question 152 will be printed in the official proceedings."

Dearness allowance to employees of District Boards and Municipal Councils.

* 152 Q.—SRI K. S. V. KRISHNAN: Will the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is any proposal to order the payment of the difference of dearness allowance for the period from July 1944 to December 1944 to employees of municipal councils; and

(b) whether there is any proposal to revise the scales of pay of the ministerial establishments of district boards and municipal councils so as to bring them on a par with those in Government Departments?

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—" (a) Arrears of dearness allowance for the period from July to December 1944 have been sanctioned and paid to conservancy menials of local bodies. The payment of arrears of dearness allowances to non-conservancy staff is under consideration of the Government and orders will be passed very soon.

" (b) The proposal is under consideration by the Government."

Eradication of rinderpest.

* 153 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture be pleased to state whether the Government have appointed any expert committee to examine and report on the measures to be taken for the effective control and ultimate eradication of rinderpest as recommended by the Provincial Veterinary Conference held in Madras in April 1945?

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" As necessary action was being taken to control and eradicate rinderpest, it was considered that the appointment of an expert committee was not called for."

[5th September 1946]

SRI A. B. SHETTY:—" May I know, Sir, whether the present system of inoculation against rinderpest has been found ineffective or unsatisfactory in any way? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" No, Sir."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know whether the Government is aware that rinderpest is more prevalent in the Ceded districts? "

SRI A. B. SHETTY:—" May I ask, Sir, whether the Provincial Veterinary Conference recommended the constitution of an expert committee to go into the question and why Government have not accepted the suggestion made? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" When there are better experts in the department itself, there is no need to consult any other body."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" Is the Government aware that the Veterinary Assistant Surgeons are not able to cope up with the rinderpest epidemic in the mufassal? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" No. They are able to cope up with the work."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" Will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of stationing travelling Veterinary Assistant Surgeons in taluk headquarters so that they may treat these cases efficiently in the villages around the headquarters? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" No. In almost all headquarters, there are hospitals to look after these cases."

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—" Will the Government be pleased to note that there are so many taluk headquarters without veterinary hospitals? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" Yes. There are certain places; we are keeping them vacant for want of men."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" May I ask, Sir, whether the Hon. Minister is aware that there are experts in indigenous veterinary system and whether their services would be utilized? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" Notice, Sir."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" In view of the answer given by the Hon. Minister, will he assure that he will increase the number of Veterinary Assistant Surgeons by at least 50 per cent in the Ceded districts in order to cope with the work? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" Not only in the Ceded districts but throughout the Presidency we will increase the number of Veterinary Assistant Surgeons as and when candidates are available."

[5th September 1946]

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Arising out of the answer, Sir, may I know from the Hon. Minister what steps Government propose to take to get more men into the Veterinary department?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"If the hon. Member had been present yesterday when I replied to the debate, he would have known my answer to the question."

Admission to colleges.

* 154 Q.—BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state the number of Brahmans, Non-Brahmans, Muslims, Scheduled Classes and Christians admitted this year and during each of the last three years in each of the following Colleges: Medical College, Madras, Presidency College, Madras, and Engineering College, Guindy?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"A statement showing the information is laid on the table."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I ask whether the large increase in the number of Brahman students is not due to the application of the new rule regarding merit?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"It is quite possible."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I ask, Sir, whether in view of the considerable opposition that this matter has aroused in the country the Government intended to rescind their new order?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"The matter will be reconsidered."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether the Bhore Committee upon which the rule is based have defined the word 'merit'?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I would like the hon. Member to refer to the Bhore Committee report."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I enquire whether the Government will be pleased to revive the College Selection Committees which worked very satisfactorily in the past?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"It will be considered."

MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"What is the Hon. Minister's definition of the word 'merit'?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Merit as understood by that order means marks."

[5th September 1946]

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I enquire whether the Hon. the Minister is aware that so far as some professional colleges like the Medical and Engineering Colleges are concerned, it is not mere mental dexterity but also manual dexterity and aptitude that go to constitute merit?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I thought the hon. Member would have understood the point of view of the Government when I explained it under the Education Demand."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"If marks are considered as constituting merit, may I know whether the Minister for Education has more merit, Sir?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I have very poor merit as judged by the hon. Member."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know whether it is a fact that applications sent by two Harijan students for admission into the Presidency College were summarily rejected without assigning any reasons?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"As far as I understand, all the Harijan boys who applied for admission were admitted."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know whether the Government are aware of the fact that two students from the Kurnool district who were recommended by me were not admitted?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I am sorry. If the hon. Member had brought that to my notice, I would have helped him and got the students admitted."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Prime Minister stated that the communal Government Order was an executive order. Quite true. I ask when any such innovation is made in executive orders, whether the entire Cabinet will take the responsibility and decide? That was my question. Can we have an assurance in future that the entire Cabinet including the Governor—will consider and decide on policies to be adopted as a joint responsibility and not to issue such orders merely on the authority of a single Minister?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"When this 20 per cent was decided upon, by some of us, it was also intended that the matter should go before the Cabinet and considered. It will be considered."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I ask out of Muslim students admitted into the Presidency College, how many of them were admitted into the Honours Courses in Science?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"I am sorry I have no information ready at hand; if the hon. Member puts a separate question, I will give the answer."

[5th September 1946]

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know whether the Government is prepared to see that the communal principle is applied in regard to admission to colleges, particularly the Presidency College, having regard to the fact that the community which is only 3 per cent gets 381 while the non-Brahmin community which is overwhelmingly large, gets only 283 seats? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

" As far as Presidency College is concerned, 20 per cent merit was not enforced. I must make it clear to this House that the old procedure was being followed in the matter of selection of students. Here also I must say that the selection from the point of view mentioned by hon. Members is not satisfactory and the Government is taking up the matter."

SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—" May I know how many Yanadis and other Scheduled Class students have been admitted into the Medical and Engineering Colleges? "

SRI B. S. MURTHI:—" I may tell my hon. Friend that Yanadis do not belong to Scheduled Castes; they come under backward classes."

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

" If the hon. Member gives notice of a separate question with regard to backward classes, the question will be answered."

Harijan candidate for studies in medicine abroad.

* 154-A Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state why a Harijan by name Sri Ethiraju who is serving as Assistant Surgeon at Chirala, Guntur district, was not selected for further studies abroad?

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" He did not apply for selection for further studies abroad."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know, Sir, whether these candidates were selected direct by the Government of India or whether they were recommended by their departmental head? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" He never applied."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" I am asking the general question whether such of the candidates as were selected by the Government of India direct or were recommended by their departmental heads? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" But that does not arise out of the question."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I enquire what means were employed by the Government in order to give wide publicity to the question of inviting applications from qualified persons who wished to apply? "

[5th September 1946]

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" In fact these scholarships should have been advertised by the Government of India. I do not think there was any such notification."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Is the Government aware that the application of Mr. Ethiraju, an Adi-Dravida, was not forwarded by his departmental head? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" No application was submitted."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" As a subordinate, he has to send his application through the proper channel. Therefore, the application was sent through his departmental head but that application has not been forwarded to the Government."

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" I am not aware of it."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—" May I know whether the Government feels that there is really any necessity for deputing people to foreign countries for study and whether the Government by that means are wasting a lot of poor people's money on that purpose? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" It is a matter of opinion."

MR. SPEAKER:—" The other day, the House passed a motion to send me to England." (Laughter.)

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—" That stands on a different footing. It is a thing which is very useful to the country."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health be pleased to call for a report from the officers concerned? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" I do not think it is necessary to call for a report on such a simple matter."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" At least in view of the fact that had the application been received, he would have stood some chance and he was not selected as his application did not reach Government, will the Government consider the desirability of selecting him now at least? "

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" No, Sir."

Appointment of Fourth Presidency Magistrate.

* 154-B Q.—BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN: Will the Hon. the Minister for Law be pleased to state—

(a) whether applications were called for with reference to the recent appointment made of a Fourth Presidency Magistrate; and

(b) whether the Public Service Commission was consulted with reference to the above appointment?

[5th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“(a) No. The appointment was of a temporary character and for a short duration till such time as the list of Deputy Collectors was prepared by the Madras Public Service Commission. The appointment was made under the emergency powers.

“(b) No. Not necessary in view of what has been stated above.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I know why applications were not called for by means of an advertisement in the Gazette or the newspapers?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“The reason is that the appointment is of a temporary character until such time as the list of Deputy Collectors was prepared by the Madras Public Service Commission.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I enquire how long the appointment is likely to continue?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“Until the Madras Service Commission draws up the list.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, if it is the policy of the Government not to call for applications whenever the appointment is of a temporary character?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“It is not worthwhile calling for applications for temporary appointments as the best men would not offer themselves for temporary appointments.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I enquire whether, in regard to future recruitments to the magistracy consequent upon the separation of judicial from executive functions, the appointments will be made by the Public Service Commission or by the Hon. the Minister himself?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“It is too early to say anything because the Committee is sitting on it and their recommendations will be considered before a final decision is arrived at.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I suggest the desirability of such appointments being made by the Public Service Commission?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“I shall communicate the views of the hon. Member to the Committee.”

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“In answer to a supplementary question earlier the Hon. Minister stated that the gentleman who has been appointed is not the best man. Is he not satisfied with the appointment?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“He was the Assistant Crown Prosecutor appointed by the Commissioner of Police having been selected from a number of applications. I take it he is the best man.”

II.—GOVERNMENT BILLS.

(1) THE MADRAS ESSENTIAL ARTICLES CONTROL AND REQUISITIONING (TEMPORARY POWERS) BILL, 1946

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I introduce the Madras Essential Articles Control and Requisitioning (Temporary Powers) Bill, 1946, and move that it be referred to a Select Committee with instruction to return the same with their report to-morrow. The names of the members of the Select Committee will be settled later. I would like to say a few words in introducing the Bill so as to enable members to understand how this came about as an emergent measure. Matters relating to the control of essential articles have been carried on under the rules framed under the Defence of India Act. When that terminates, there must be some provision under which matters relating to food and other essential articles can be carried on. It is for that purpose that this Bill is introduced as a temporary measure. If we do not introduce the Bill now and have it passed by the House, there will be no provision for continuing food control and the control of other essential articles which have been carried out until now under the Defence of India Rules. It is in that way that the matter is emergent. After approval by this House, it will have to be taken to the Government of India for their approval as well and that is the urgency of this measure.”

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, I have known that in matters of legislation under consideration in a deliberative Assembly, on questions affecting the rights and responsibilities of members, it is the desire even on the part of the sponsors of the measure to give full time to the House and particularly to those occupying the Opposition benches, so that they could consider the pros and cons of that measure and come to a decision. I regret to say that in the last Assembly that wholesome rule was thrown to the winds; legislative measures were brought forward and they were hustled through on account of the fact that the Government had, what is called, a steam-roller majority behind them. With that steam-roller majority they tried to hustle legislative measures, although occasionally measures were referred to a Select Committee. Never was any measure referred for eliciting public opinion for that Government did not consider it necessary to find out what the public thought of the measure. They believed that they were the representatives of the people and they had every power to act on their behalf without consulting them from time to time. That I am afraid is the method adopted by this Government. This Government has also got a steam-roller majority. I am not questioning them for it. These are things which have come into existence as a result of the vote of the people. But it is well to remember that the Government which has a large majority behind it, has a minority in the Opposition and has to take into account that very important fact. If they take that factor into consideration, they will certainly see that no regulation or rules governing the conduct of business in the legislature will be disposed of summarily in the manner in which it is sought to be done now.

12 noon. "Sir, I heard the Hon. Premier's statement with attention. It is true that this may be a necessary measure to prevent black-marketing and corruption. It was said that the Defence of India Rules would expire by the end of this month, and so this Bill is necessary to control and requisition essential articles of food. Sir, there are two opinions as to whether there should be control or not. There is a strong opinion that the control system has been responsible for the present black-marketing and corruption. The Government have not assured the people of the Province that they have taken away measures to put down that evil. I know the Government have announced publicly that the machinery to eradicate that evil has been set on foot; but we have not been told how far they have succeeded in that. I believe it is on account of their admission of failure that this measure has been brought forward. If Government really want to control essential articles of food, the Bill should have been published sufficiently early. It appeared in the Fort St. George Gazette only on the 31st August 1946. I do not think the Bill has been before the public long enough for the Government to know the reaction of the people on it. It is true the present Bill is only a substitute for the Defence of India Rules which were issued by an Ordinance. Those rules were framed by an irresponsible Government, and those rules were administered by an irresponsible Government. Now a responsible Government has come into being. Is it not necessary that before they get a legislation passed in this House they should take the public with them? It is very important that whatever measure Government may bring forward, they ought to remember that they should secure the consent not only of the vast majority of the members of this House but also the opinion of the people. That is not possible now; for, I understand Government want that this Bill should be passed into law by to-morrow. There are in this Bill a number of clauses which require deep thought, and even if the Bill is referred to the Select Committee, I am afraid it will take at least two or three days to finish its deliberations. Several provisions of the Bill require amendment, modification and alteration so that the effect of the measure may be more wholesome, than has been the case under the Defence of India Rules. Everybody knows, the Defence of India Rules have done a lot of damage to the people and have brought into existence very bad evils in the body politic. In order to eradicate it and prevent such recurrence it will be necessary for hon. Members on the Select Committee to see certain provisions are deleted or modified, and all this will require some time. So I believe there is no meaning in saying that the Bill will be referred to a Select Committee and it should finish its business to-day itself and it should be passed into law to-morrow. This is all hasty legislation; and it has to be deprecated. Therefore I earnestly appeal to the Premier not to hasten this legislation but consider the various aspects of the question in detail and to give the Opposition sufficient time to give their best consideration to the provisions of the Bill in order that this piece of legislation may be useful and effective. Sir, I accept the reference of the Bill to the Select Committee but enter my emphatic protest against the way in which this Bill is being hastened."

* SRI P. NATESAN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, on behalf of my constituency . . . (A voice: 'Whom do you represent?') The South Indian Chamber of Commerce which represents the entire business community of this Province. Sir, if the Chamber does not represent them I can't understand who else represents. Sir, on behalf of the mercantile community I endorse all that was said by my hon. Friend Mr. Hameed Khan. The Premier has stated that owing to the Defence of India Rules expiring on the 30th September this Bill has to be passed now. He has not adduced any better reasons than what are found in the Statement of Objects and Reasons incorporated at the end of the Bill. As a mercantile community we wish to assist the Ministry as far as possible. But we would very much like to know where we stand. Already, under the Defence of India Rules we have enough complaints from the merchants about harassment and victimization in certain places due to various reasons in which I do not propose to enter. The Defence of India Rules have been bad enough; I am afraid the Bill now drafted is worse. Under the schedule are included such things as livestock (which I suppose means goats and fowls), eggs, fish, which are perishable articles. Along with them I find such things as motor vehicles (new and used). There does not seem to be any consistency in the list of articles stated. There is no family connexion so to say. (Laughter.) I consider that the whole thing has to be gone into by the Select Committee very carefully and it is absolutely impossible for it to finish its deliberations in so short a time. I am sure within the next two days it will be possible for the members of the Select Committee to ascertain the opinion of the public. The Fort St. George Gazette which contains this Bill did not reach many of our Members in the mufassal on account of various causes. (Mr. Speaker: 'On account of railway strike.') Until the second or third of this month, we have been receiving telegrams and letters from mufassal merchants urging us to see what best can be done. I do not think it will be possible for the Select Committee to finish its work before Saturday next. So I would suggest that we take up this Bill on Monday morning. With these observations I once again request the Premier to accede to our request instead of simply telling us 'It is impossible for us to do anything.' After all we are in a minority, and particularly the mercantile community is in a very small minority, and I look to the co-operation of the Muslim and European groups in this matter. I therefore enter my strong protest against the hasty manner in which this legislation is being rushed through."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to oppose 12-15 this Bill being referred to a Select Committee. There is not much p.m. for me to say except that I do feel, with the knowledge that we all have of the Defence of India Rules, a little more time might have been given to us to study this very important Bill. If a Select Committee is to work, it will have to work after 5 in the evening, outside the Assembly hours. I, therefore, suggest that the Select Committee be given much more time than to-morrow to submit its report."

[Mr. H. S. Town] [5th September 1946]

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, nobody can be more alive to the necessity of controlling the sale and purchase of essential articles, especially foodgrains, than the people of this Presidency. There is a very large volume of opinion that control of all purchases and sales of articles has been upsetting not only trade and commerce but also the supply of articles to the people. It is said, Sir, that once you control the purchase and sale of articles, the articles go underground, and corruption sets in. It is impossible to put down corruption. While I agree to exercising control over very important articles, such as foodgrains, I am opposed to legislating for the control of any of the articles mentioned in this Bill. Further, there is a very omnibus clause in this Bill, i.e., clause 2 (a) defining essential articles.

"On principle, Sir, the powers of the Legislature should not be encroached upon by the Government. It only means that you are giving power to the executive to pass rules and specify by a notification any article as an essential article. It is opposed to the democratic principle to act without bringing the matter before the Legislature.

"In the schedule I find many articles, which should not have been controlled even under the Defence of India Rules; articles like motor vehicles, livestock, eggs, fish, etc. I do not know, Sir, how far these eggs, fish and ducks can be brought under control. As mentioned by Mr. Natesan, these are all perishable articles, and I am afraid that as soon as you exercise control over the purchase of these articles, they are sure to disappear, and corruption will grow. Corruption in the country will grow in proportion to the number of articles you want to control by legislation. Therefore, my submission is this, Sir. I oppose on principle this omnibus clause that the executive should be given powers—a free hand—to declare a certain article as an essential article. It is wrong and we all know where it will lead us. From the point of view of good business also, it is bad. Some of the articles which are mentioned in the schedule also should go out of the schedule. While I am agreeable to controlling the most important articles of food, such as foodgrains, I am opposed to the control of any of the articles. There are several provisions in the Bill which go to the root of the matter, and which take away the right of the legislators to decide what should be done in a certain matter. While no doubt it is true that with the end of this month the Defence of India Rules will disappear and something must be substituted in its place urgently, so that we will be able to supply food to the different parts of the country, I am of opinion, Sir, that this Bill must be gone into very carefully, and it should have been published in the papers much earlier. It affects, as Mr. Natesan has said, the business of many thousands of people. Therefore, let this Bill go to the Select Committee, and sufficient time be given to the Select Committee to make its report. With these words, Sir, I support the motion to refer the Bill to the Select Committee."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I support the motion to refer the Bill to the Select Committee, and I want to make one or two observations. The Bill was published at a time when most of us were engaged in studying the Budget and hence had not the opportunity to go through all the provisions of the Bill. It should not be the purpose of this House to legislate with all the defects that the Defence of India Rules contained. Such of those provisions in the Defence of India Rules as are defective must be rectified, and for this a careful examination of the whole Bill is necessary. In this connexion, I should like to say that the Defence of India Rules could not effectively check black-marketing, and those rules, being defective, enabled dealers to make fabulous profits. Black-market itself has become famous. To rectify this, we must go through the Bill very carefully. Under the Defence of India Rules which are going to be codified as law in this House, there is no popular control to check black-marketing. Unless there is popular control to check black-marketing, there is no possibility of effectively stopping that evil.

"In clause 5 of the Bill it has been suggested that compensation should be paid for all articles requisitioned. In ordinary cases compensation can be paid, but in the case of persons convicted for black-marketing, I do not find any necessity to pay compensation. In cases where requisitioning has been effected, and where movable property is attached for black-marketing, I suggest no compensation shall be paid.

"Then, Sir, clause 15 empowers only public servants to file charge-sheets against black-marketers. This is one of the defects in the Defence of India Rules. Because of this only, we could not check black-marketing. Unless private individuals are also empowered to file complaints, we cannot effectively check black-markets. To illustrate this, I will cite one instance. In Bezwada a merchant dealing in iron and steel was caught. But after 14 months he was let off and the goods were returned to the owner. I can quote a number of other cases also, but for the time being I stop with this one instance. I would request the House to give proper time to the Select Committee to go through all these details. With these words, I support the motion."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad that the Premier has referred this Bill to a Select Committee. The Bill is essential and I do not agree with hon. Members who spoke saying that there is no necessity now for control. There is necessity for control, but the fact that there is also the ugly repercussion that as soon as control is introduced, the particular article controlled disappears from the market, a fact that was mentioned by some hon. Members, is also there. The fault is not to be laid on the head of the control but on the head of those who would like to abuse every good provision and make it a method for belittling the effects. The Hon. Premier has done a service in asking for the control of essential articles. This Bill has obviously to be sent to the Select Committee because there are some provisions which require drastic alteration. For instance, under clause 7, where a person does not obey any order prohibiting, restricting or otherwise controlling the cultivation of specified crops, the result is only that a person cultivates some crops which the Government do not want him to cultivate. Clause 7 (2) says: 'has failed to comply.' That means even if the crop fails on account of monsoon, or the man has no money, it is still a failure. In all official enactments, you will find 'intentional' or 'wilful' failure. In the absence of that, it means under clause 7 (2), that a person who fails to cultivate owing to not having money or not having rain, it would lead to the fear that the property is likely to be put in the possession of some others. Another feature of clause 7 (2) is that the property will be placed under the possession of somebody and that man is entitled, like the owner, to realize profits and is bound to pay on behalf of the defaulter only the Government revenue. The benefit of the profits goes neither to the Government nor to the defaulter, but to a private person. That would be an expropriation which would not even be an expropriation to Government but to some happy street-walker. That is a thing that requires to be remedied and obviously it has to be so changed that the person put in possession shall be liable to pay to the defaulting owner the net profit of the land after deducting reasonable expenses for cultivation and also a certain percentage for the purpose of management, or some commuted amount which can be fixed. Otherwise we will have expropriation in a peculiar form. I believe it is due to the hurry in the drafting of the Bill. Otherwise nobody would consciously put in such a provision as this.

"One other clause requires further radical amendment. That is clause 12 (1) dealing with penalties. In it we find that a person who contravenes any order made under section 7 is also included. That unfortunate man is practically put under three penalties. Under section 7 (2), his lands are likely to be taken away and cultivated by a neighbour, who will also take away the crops. Under clause 12 (1), if he contravenes an order, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term of three years or with fine or with both, and also if the order so provides, any Court trying such contravention may direct that any property—even though it is hundred acres of land—in respect of which the Court is satisfied that the order has been contravened shall be forfeited to the Provincial Government. So, the man loses this property for ever. I believe these are defects which require to be remedied in the Select Committee. The whole thing might be met by omitting the words 'or section 7' occurring in clause 12 (1)."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member need not get into the details."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"I am only dealing with the general principles, Sir. These are things which have to be remedied."

"One very important amendment has to be made in clauses 9 and 10. In section 9, we find 'Every order made by the Provincial Government or the Central Government or any other competent authority under any of the provisions of the Defence of India Rules in respect of any of the matters specified in sections 3, 4 and 7 which having been notified in the Official Gazette was in force immediately before the commencement of this Act shall, in so far as it could validly have been made by the Provincial Government under this Act continue to be in force as if it has been made by the Provincial Government under the provisions of this Act and remain until it is superseded or modified by the competent authority.' Now Sir, a huge number of rules and orders have been passed under the Defence of India Rules. In section 9, we have got this general provision that whatever orders have been passed under the Defence of India Rules which could validly be made under this Act shall be deemed to be continued under this Act. I can understand a provision like this being made by the Central Legislature who have full and absolute powers, but not by a Provincial Legislature with limited powers like the present one. The result will be that a person, to know what orders he has to obey, will have to go through a whole library of rules and orders, and find out in consultation with an astute lawyer as to what orders passed under the Defence of India Rules will have to be obeyed under this Act. That kind of thing will not be allowed, particularly in law drafting. The law is there for the people to obey. For people to obey, it must be definite, and on the face of the Act you must know what exactly are the rules and orders. The matter becomes still more complicated when we find in section 10 'Any order made under section 3 or section 4 or section 7 or continued under section 9 shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any enactment other than this Act or in any instrument having effect by virtue of any enactment other than this Act.' This is a Legislature with limited powers. That makes it much more difficult to draft like this."

"When you come to the penal clause, sub-section (1) of section 12, you will have to hunt after the different sections to find out which orders are in force. Such difficulty is much more exemplified if you have a penal section which introduces 'or continued under section 9.' For disobeying an order so 'continued under section 9' you will be sentenced to three years' imprisonment. It will be a very great handicap on the people, unless you give under section 9 what are the specific orders or rules that you intend to continue still. Otherwise you cannot penalize a man because he cannot study the whole literature of the Defence of India Rules. These are things which require to be clarified.

“There are two further things that might possibly necessitate its going to the Select Committee. There is a provision in section 5 (1) in regard to movable property. The compensation payable shall be determined by the Provincial Government. There is no provision for appeal to any authority. It is necessary that there should be an application to any District Judge or Principal Subordinate Judge to revise whatever may be fixed, as in the case of the Land Acquisition Act. In section 5 (2), you will find that even with regard to an inch of immovable property, you have got the right to refer to the civil court, and an arbitrator is appointed. You have got the right of appeal also. Movable property is some times more valuable than immovable property. I would request that this matter may also be considered in the Select Committee, so that there may be provision for reference to court or arbitrator and appeal.

“The other thing is also a mistake in the hurry of drafting. Appeals lie to the High Court except in cases where the amount thereof does not exceed Rs. 5,000. Suppose the matter claimed is worth one lakh. But the award of the arbitrator may be only Rs. 4,999 in which case there is no appeal. It is something like the magistrate inflicting a fine under Rs. 50 against which there is no right of appeal. There is no reason why appeals should be restricted to awards over Rs. 5,000. It must be on the value of the claim and the appeal permissible in all cases.

“One other defect which could possibly be remedied is this. It has been found in working out the textile control, that information alone could be obtained under the Defence of India Rules. By some mistake, I find that provision for inspection and checking the stock is left out, though that the matter is required by the textile authorities to see that there is no black-marketing. There are several other intricate matters which may also be considered in the Select Committee.

“I find that motor vehicles are introduced. ‘Motor vehicles’ do not come under the provincial list. In fact, under the provincial list we find ‘Vehicles other than mechanically propelled vehicles.’ Of course, the other vehicles, namely, mechanically propelled vehicles come under the concurrent list. That defect has to be rectified. List 3, item No. 20 deals with mechanically propelled vehicles, and it comes under the concurrent list. I do not know whether the Government have taken the opinion of their Law Officers. Before introducing legislation of this kind, it might be necessary to see that it is free from defects, and that also might be considered. I therefore support the motion for Select Committee to see that the Act is improved.

“One other thing is that there has been a tendency in this Act and the corresponding Bills to reproduce the terms of the Defence of India Rules. For example, I find in section 10 ‘Any order made under section 3 or section 4 or section 7 or continued under section 9 shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any enactment other than this Act or in any instrument having effect by virtue of any enactment other than this Act.’ This will do for a Parliament which has full power. That is why you find this provision in section 3 of the Defence of India Rules. But to reproduce it in the case of a limited Legislature will make it somewhat vague and undefined. Therefore I hope the Government will see that in its passage through the Select Committee, these defects are removed. Even though we are making emergency legislation, I will make one submission to the Hon. Premier and the Government. The more emergent the legislation is, the greater is the necessity to observe the ordinary forms of respecting rights, so that people may not feel that on account of the emergency ordinary rights are being taken away. The emergency must be limited only to the extent required by the emergency. I support the motion for reference to Select Committee and I hope there will be drastic revision of the Bill.”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I have heard the comments made by the hon. Members. I must thank them for having recognized the necessity for an urgent measure of this type. In the opening words, I referred to the fact that the Government of India have been controlling all these essential articles for a long time. They took full power into their hands to regulate the supply of all essential articles by legislation. They have sent to us the draft Bill which they themselves introduced in the Central Legislature and adopted. They have given us an option this time to introduce the Bill and pass it ourselves. They have been good enough to send the draft Bill to us to enable us to frame legislation on those lines. That will show the necessity for treating this as an emergency measure and as a measure that should be adopted by the House. We have been appealing to the Government of India whenever food supplies were getting short. It was the opinion of the hon. Members of this House to appeal to the Government of India to help us in the matter. In framing this Bill, we have taken the provisions of the Government of India Bill and the rules framed by them. These are not framed as original sections by us. The Government of India Act was passed under extraordinary circumstances and these powers were taken by them under extraordinary circumstances, and they have also passed rules. For controlling all essential articles, they have taken power. Personally I am not one of those who approve of the method adopted by the Government of India. As I said on a previous occasion on the floor of this House, the Government of India should not have taken the control of all these essential articles and the power to legislate in their hands. That was my personal view, and it still is that it would have been better if they left us to ourselves. It could not be done and we could not get out of it by simply saying that the Government of India had gone right or wrong. We have to carry out their directions. If we wish to get out of their hands, we have to work out our own destinies here making every effort in that direction. That is how I feel. But there is no other alternative for us. We cannot give any direction with regard to production of food and the regulation of various articles. We are calculating to-day which people outside will not be able to know. Only the hon. Members of this House, who have studied the whole situation, will be able to know how the whole business has gone out of our hands and how we are compelled to regulate our business according to the rules made by the Government of India. Therefore, it is an emergent measure which cannot be postponed for any length of time. I request the hon. Members not to insist upon the postponement of the deliberations of the Select Committee to any distant date. I felt Sir, that the Select Committee might meet to-day and give its report tomorrow, and then legislation taken up. In view of the opinions expressed by the hon. Members of this House, I agree to the Select Committee giving its report on Monday, so that they will have sufficient time to examine and consider what is the best thing to be done in the interests of our Province as a whole. I shall be proposing the names shortly."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Are you going to read the names now? Without the names, I cannot put the motion to the vote of the House."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The motion for reference to the Select Committee might be put now. After lunch when the names are given, that might be put separately."

The motion was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Regarding the names of the members, the Hon. Premier will announce after lunch."

(2) THE MADRAS TRADE DISPUTES ADJUDICATION (TEMPORARY PROVISION) BILL, 1946.

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I beg to introduce the Madras Trade Disputes Adjudication (Temporary Provision) Bill, 1946, and move that the Bill be taken into consideration at once. The Statement of Objects and Reasons gives an indication of the implications of this short Bill. I do not think it is necessary for me at this stage to make any elaborate statement."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"On a point of information, Sir, I find in section 3 (b) 'If in the opinion of the Provincial Government it is necessary or expedient so to do, the Provincial Government may, by general or special order, applying generally or to any specified area, make provision for requiring employers, workmen or both to observe for such period as may be specified in the order such terms and conditions of employment as may be determined in accordance with the order.' Section 9 reads 'If any person contravenes any order made under this Act, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine which may extend to rupees two thousand or with both.' If the Provincial Government say that a person shall work on thirty rupees a month and if he fails to work, the result is that, he will be subjected to three years' imprisonment or fine or both. I wish to know whether that is the meaning."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I do not think that is intended, Sir."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this Bill is a very important one. That is why I propose that the Bill must be circulated to elicit public opinion. An argument may be put forward that, as the Defence of India Rules have been there since the beginning of the war and as the public is aware of the provisions, the Bill need not be sent for circulation. The important point is that there is strong difference of opinion on the Defence of India Rules. There is a certain section of the trade union movement which is opposed to the provision for adjudication in the Defence of India Rules."

"Moreover, the Bill has been published very recently. The public is not yet aware of it. Neither the trade unions have been consulted and their opinions obtained, nor have I been able to elicit the opinion of my constituency. Even the labour members on the Congress benches, I do not think, had elicited the opinion of their constituencies. There is the Madras Provincial Trade Union Congress and the Andhra Provincial Trade Union Council representing the whole working class of the Madras Presidency. It has not given its opinion, nor was it consulted. That is why I propose that the Bill must be sent for circulation."

"In the working of adjudication, the working classes are put to much inconvenience and disadvantage. So before the Bill is forced through, it is just that the Congress Ministry must consult the working class leaders and organization and take their opinion into consideration. As regards the working of adjudication, I should like to bring to the notice of the House how it has gone against the interests of the working classes all these years. During the war period, this principle of adjudication was there, and I would like to know how many cases were taken up for adjudication. Only after the advent of the Congress Ministry, some cases have been taken up. Even then, how many cases were adjudicated in the interests of the workers? That is a doubtful thing. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons, it is said that, as the experience of the working of adjudication in the past has been satisfactory, the Government consider it necessary to enact the very principle into law. I beg to submit that rule 81-A of the Defence of India Rules did not work justly and in the interests of workers. I should like to bring to the notice of the House the Spencer's strike. As a result of adjudication and conciliation proceedings, to-day 500 labourers are roaming about the streets for want of employment. They were discharged and yet their cases have not been taken up. There are one thousand and one cases which I can bring to the notice of the House. Up till now the principle of adjudication had not worked satisfactorily in the interest of the working class.

"Moreover there is no hurry for this Bill. To those unions which are anxious for settlement, there is the Trade Disputes Act already in force which can easily be applied. I do not know why this Bill should be rushed through, and thrust on the throats of the working class. If you want to convince the workers that justice can be done through adjudication, conciliation and arbitration, the Trade Disputes Act is quite sufficient for the purpose. There was no necessity for this adjudication provision. Even during the days of the war, the working classes were entirely opposed to this provision, because it denied them the elementary right to strike work.

"I should like to bring to the notice of the House another important factor. Just now, an amendment given notice of by the Hon. Mr. Giri has been circulated, and I had not time to study its implications. I do not know why this Bill should be rushed through. Time can be allowed. It does not matter if the Defence of India Rules are not in force for a month or two. Defence of India Rules alone cannot solve the problem. In spite of the provision for adjudication, we are witnessing so many strikes. Hence I say there is no hurry to force this legislation just now. Because the Bill has not been studied by the members, we cannot pass it immediately. The working classes have not yet expressed their opinion on this Bill. Moreover, the only organization of the working classes is the Madras Provincial Trade Union Congress. There is no other organization parallel to it and it has not yet expressed its opinion on the measure. I request the Hon. Minister for Labour, who is also a responsible trade union leader himself, to consult the Madras Trade Union Congress, get their opinion, and bring in this legislation afterwards.

"Moreover, in this Bill 'Trade Union' is not even mentioned, Sir. What is the position of the trade union under the Bill? That is not made clear. Nothing is mentioned in this important Bill as to whether the trade unions will be recognized or not, and the right of the workers to live is not at all taken into consideration. The most pressing problem to-day, namely, fixing of minimum wage is not at all taken into consideration. None of these important items which affect the lives of the workers and which are to-day affecting the whole society itself are taken into consideration. The South Indian Railway Manager was able to remove the right of the workers to have an enquiry before dismissal. Even that elementary right has been removed from the list, and it is on account of it that we are witnessing to-day such a vast strike going on in our presidency. Whenever and wherever a strike breaks out it has become customary for the Treasury Benches to accuse the Communists. At present about 2,000 workers of Scyndia in Vizagapatam are on strike. The President of the union is Mr. D. V. Ramaswamy, Congress M.L.A. But without taking into consideration the growing unrest prevailing in the working class and services and solving their problem by bringing in minimum wage legislation, there is no use shouting against Communists saying they are responsible for all the trouble. When such things are happening, when the conditions of service of workers are not taken into consideration, why force this Bill through? Instead of effecting improvement, you are going to smash the whole movement. There is no hurry for passing this Bill; this can wait. Meanwhile, I request the Hon. Minister for Labour to bring forward immediately a minimum wage legislation.

"In his reply to the debates on 'Industry' the Hon. the 1 p.m. Minister for Labour said that the minimum wage legislation should have been undertaken by the Central Government, as it is an all-India question. That itself shows that this Government want to postpone that important measure, trying to shove it on the Central Government, if possible. The Central Government in its turn may say that they have just come into office and that it is too early to take up that question. Thus, such an important measure as that will be shelved for ever. That is why I say that the first and most important duty of this House is to see that legislation is introduced, recognizing Trade Unions and fixing minimum wages for workers. It is only then that we can think of legislation for adjudication. Adjudication will not stop strikes. Take for instance the S.I.Ry. strike. In spite of adjudication, the strike is going on. I understand, in Vizagapatam, the Scyndia workers are going to strike. The hon. Mr. D. V. Ramaswami, who is a member of this House, is the President of the Union. In spite of him, a strike is being threatened. It should not be understood that strikes are the creation of the Communists. It is the general unrest among the workers that is the real cause of the strikes. Because their wage conditions and their terms of service are not satisfactory, they resort to strike. I may once again state that the most urgent thing for the workers is for the Government to bring forward legislation on these three important matters, viz., (1) fixing terms and conditions of service, (2) recognition of the Trade Unions and (3) fixing minimum wages. Unless such legislation is brought forward first, there is no justification for this present Bill. The different trade unions of workers, both organized and unorganized, should first be consulted before the Bill is passed into law. They must have their say on this Bill. I, therefore, request the Hon. the Minister for Labour to concede this elementary right of the working classes, and to obtain their opinion on this Bill before passing it into law.

"With these words, Sir, I move that the Bill be circulated for public opinion."

Mr. H. S. Town rose.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Before Mr. Town moves his motion, I should like to know whether Mr. Venkateswarlu has got a seconder for his motion. Otherwise it will be lost for want of a seconder."

* SRI A. S. SAHAJANANDA:—"I shall second his motion, Sir." (In Tamil.)

[5th September 1946]

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, the relations between the employer and the employee have been controlled by the Defence of India Rules for a considerable time now. They are decidedly onesided, very much in favour of labour and against the employer. The first speaker, after the Minister, was very nervous about the effect of clause 9 of the Bill. I counsel him quite strongly that clause 9 cannot in any way harm the worker. It is quite impossible to make clause 9 effective if the workers do contravene the orders made under the Act. The provisions of the Defence of India Rules are rather stringent. That is one of the great objections to it. But I understand that the Government are going to bring in some comprehensive labour legislation which will cover everything in this Bill and much more. I see no reason why we should not continue to live under this Act for a short while and we will have plenty of time to study the comprehensive Bill that will be introduced in due course. Therefore, I see no reason why this Bill should not be dealt with now and passed into law, particularly if we can get an assurance from the Government that they will do everything in their power to speed up the introduction of a really comprehensive Bill covering labour legislation. Therefore, I do not support the motion moved by my hon. Friend.”

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move that this Bill be referred to a Select Committee. The names will be given later. Sir, we have heard two very opposite opinions on this Bill, one by the hon. Member representing the Communists in this Province and the other a very strong employer in this Province. (A voice: ‘ A very poor employer.’) We have come to know of two very divergent opinions on this very important Bill. In view of the fact that there is so much divergence of opinion on this measure, I believe, Sir, it is necessary that it should be referred to a Select Committee. When once it is referred to a Select Committee, all the pros and cons of the measure could be better thrashed out and the legislation could be passed without further consideration of the various provisions of the Bill. It is true, Sir, that the Hon. the Minister who has sponsored this Bill wants that this Bill should be made into law only for a limited space of time. I understand that he is prepared even to go to the extent of reducing the period from one year to six months as stated in the Bill itself. If the period during which this Bill will be law in this Province is reduced to this extent, it may be suggested that it need not be referred to a Select Committee. But knowing the far-reaching effects of some of the provisions of the Bill, in spite of the fact that it is going to be in force only for a short period, I thought that the Hon. the Premier will consider the advisability of thrashing it out in the company of other members. I know that he must have had the advice of experts and also the help of his colleagues. If he thinks that that help and that advice are sufficient and if he believes that whatever measure is brought forward by the Government is sacrosanct, then I do not think there is any necessity for further consideration of the Bill by hon. Members of this House who had no opportunity of helping him inside the Cabinet. I believe, it is a golden rule for any member of Government to take into consideration the suggestions of a Select Committee consisting of members who could not otherwise be of help to him. The Hon. the Premier in moving his first Bill has referred it to a Select Committee. He has thus set an example to others. I dare say that that will be the policy that will be followed by the Government as a whole.

“ Perhaps it may appear that this is only a small measure and that it may not have far-reaching effects on the people who will be affected by it. But it is not so. I know that the hon. the Mover of this Bill and other Members of the Government are really anxious to know the views of the other sections of the House, and especially those of the workers and the employers. For that purpose, Mr. Venkateswarlu may be given a chance to get into the Select Committee to see whether he can do anything to alter the phase of the Bill. Of course he will be one among the whole Committee, but still he may represent his side of the case in an effective way. Similarly the other side of the picture may be represented by my hon. Friend Mr. Town putting forth the views of the employers and suggesting amendments, if any. If he has no amendments to suggest, at least he will know what troubles he will have with Mr. Venkateswarlu. He has heard Mr. Venkateswarlu on the floor of this House. He must get into close quarters with Mr. Venkateswarlu at the Select Committee and find out the inner side of his mind and heart, which it will not be possible to know otherwise. I do not think that the Communists are so bad as hon. Members think.

“ Well, Mr. Speaker, I believe it will be a very good thing if all the aspects of the question are thoroughly thrashed out in the Select Committee. Then it will obviate the necessity of a detailed consideration of the Bill in this House and much time of the House will be thereby saved, in going through all the stages of the Bill. I, therefore, suggest that this Bill be referred to a Select Committee.

“ One word more, Sir. As I have told already, clause 3 is not as innocent as it appears to be. It may have far-reaching effects. Then, clause 9 along with clause 3 may have a more far-reaching effect, although the Act will be in force only for a short period of six months. We have seen during the last three or four months how a number of trade disputes have sprung up and how a number of strikes have developed in the various parts of the Province worrying the Government and worrying the public. Of course, all these things should be prohibited, but they should be dealt with in as humane a way as possible. Mr. Venkateswarlu has suggested legislation in regard to minimum wages. That also may be considered. A measure of this sort should not create any anxiety in the minds of the workers. They should not think that this is a very strong measure and that it has been brought forward by the Congress Government to put down labour or to curtail their rights and privileges. That should not be the attitude of labour towards this Bill. That is why I suggest that the Bill should be further examined in detail at the Select Committee stage.

"I therefore move that this Bill be referred to a Select Committee."

p.m. * N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in seconding the amendment moved by my hon. Friend, Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan, I want to point out that it is highly urgent and desirable that we must take up the consideration of this Bill. There are ever so many important matters with regard to this Bill which we can conveniently discuss at the stage when this Bill is referred to a Select Committee. I believe I will be only carrying coal to Newcastle when I say that it has become now the paramount duty of the State to preserve industrial peace. Strike after strike has paralysed our industry. My hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswarlu has only revealed to us his side of the picture. He may not know and it is quite possible even the powers that be may not know how much the employers have suffered as a result of the series of strikes that have paralysed our industries. I only wish that we devise ways and means by which, while labour will have the right to strike assured, enough time is given for capital to adjust itself and to see that lasting injury is not inflicted all on a sudden without notice. I only wish that these matters are given serious consideration in the Select Committee. I heartily support the amendment."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, the object of my intervention at this stage is only to point out the fact that the Bill suffers from want of definiteness. At present we have the Trade Disputes Act according to which all trade disputes have to be referred to a conciliation board whose decision, however, is not binding on the parties. The Defence of India Rules provide for arbitration in the case of certain disputes. Now let us see whether the provisions of this Bill give any definiteness with regard to the procedure that may be employed by the parties concerned and the obligation on the part of the Government to take certain steps. I find from clause 3 that the Government might take certain steps if they think it expedient to do so. Well, supposing the Government refers the matter to a conciliation board as stated in clause 3 (c); under the present law, supposing the terms of the conciliator's award are not accepted, is there anything to show that the Government can force the parties to accept the decision? If for any reason the Government stop short of that and do not proceed further and appoint an adjudicator, what is to happen? It is only if they appoint an adjudicator and he gives an award, it is binding. Unless you make provision for making it incumbent on the parties to abide by the decision of the arbitrator, no useful purpose will be served. That is the indefiniteness about the Bill. Sir, I suggest that provisions similar to those found in the Trade Disputes Act should be made in this Bill. If the parties do not agree to the decision of the conciliation board, there should be provision for making it obligatory on the part of the parties to refer the matter to an adjudicator. No doubt, the Government may ask the parties to refer the dispute to an arbitrator. But what I say is, it is not binding on the Government to do so. May be if disputes could be settled by conciliation, well and good. But supposing that effort does not succeed, and supposing the Government does not take steps to refer the matter to arbitration, what is to happen? Again, supposing the parties to the dispute do not take the matter to the arbitrator, what is to happen? The dispute will be there. It may be said that we can rely upon the Government to take proper steps to see that a decision is reached and given in a dispute. But there is the possibility always for one party to say that the Government are not referring the matter to arbitration. It is possible that some parties may not like to go to an arbitrator. The employers are clever people. If definite provision is not made in the Bill for the adoption of the procedure, I have suggested it may not be fully satisfactory. I want at least for this interim period, before legislation is finally passed, that things should be made very clear. You are entitled to go to conciliator. If you do not agree, the Government is going to appoint an arbitrator. The Government must be obliged to appoint an arbitrator and the parties must be obliged to go to an arbitrator if conciliation fails. I find the words ‘if in the opinion of the Provincial Government.’ My point is that the Government may not think it necessary to go to an arbitrator and the parties may not think it necessary to go to an arbitrator. If one party is willing to stop short with the conciliation board and if in the opinion of the Provincial Government it is necessary or expedient to refer any trade dispute for conciliation or adjudication in the manner provided in the order . . .”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“Will the hon. Member be able to finish in a minute?”

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I am sorry. In such a condition, are the Government bound to ask the parties to go to an adjudicator. Under the existing provision, they are helpless. I want the Government to make it clear. Let there be no indefiniteness and scope for people to say that we need not go to an adjudicator. I have nothing more to say.”

The House then adjourned for lunch.

(After lunch—2-30 p.m.)

* SRI B. S. MALLIKARJUNA RAO:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am really surprised that my hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswarlu should take objection to a Bill like this when as a matter of fact we have long been asking for such a provision as this. I wish to remind him of the fact that recently when the Railway Federation issued a strike notice, it was on the ground that the Government had refused to refer certain matters to adjudication. The strike was at one stage about to be precipitated, but just then the Government met the workers half-way agreeing to refer the matter to the Pay Commission and the strike was called off. Under these circumstances, I do not think my hon. Friend is right in saying that there is any divided opinion in this matter of referring disputes to adjudication. Those of us who are working for labour should remove the wrong impression that exists to-day in the minds of the public that labour is for precipitating a crisis and for unreasonably going on strikes. We must create the impression that a strike is only the last resort, that it will not be precipitated unless the other side is very unreasonable and obstinate. In order to create such an impression, we must support and not oppose a provision like this which is absolutely necessary for amicable settlement of trade disputes.

[Sri B. S. Mallikarjuna Rao] [5th September 1946]

" Sir, as for myself I consider that this legislation is long overdue. I represent the dock workers of Vizagapatam. It concerns a Central subject and I had to fight with the Central Government as they did not agree to adjudication of certain matters. My hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswarlu is wrong in saying that the workers at Ship Building Yard, Scindia, Vizagapatam, are not in favour of adjudication. A letter has come from the Scindian authorities at the eleventh hour to the effect that they are not going to refer the matter for adjudication. It is on account of that that the strike was precipitated. Perhaps my hon. Friend is not aware of the fact. I for myself can say that we are for adjudication. A provision to make both the parties to the dispute to abide by the award of the adjudicator is long overdue. In the interests of labour it is necessary that such a provision should exist. With regard to the present measure I submit that there is absolutely nothing for a misapprehension. Besides, the amendment moved by the Hon. Minister V. V. Giri will not affect a strike which is declared legal under the Trade Disputes Act. In such a case it is made obligatory on the part of the Government to refer the matter to adjudication. When such a provision has been made, there should be no misapprehension at all in respect of the matter. Moreover it is not stated that the award is invariably made binding on both the parties. It is only when the Government feel it necessary, ' for enforcing for such period as may be specified in the order all or any of the decisions of the authority to which a trade dispute has been referred for adjudication '

this will be done. The sub-clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) are mutually independent and not interdependent. There is a discretion vested in the authority. It is a provision made for both the parties, for giving them an opportunity to settle the matter under adjudication. This provision is necessary. A comprehensive legislation has not been existing up till now. Even under rule 81 of the Defence of India Rules, when a dispute was referred to arbitration or conciliation, the award was not binding on both the parties. We have experienced the results of such arbitration. Each party to the conciliation or arbitration has accepted or rejected the award as it liked. In order to make the award of the adjudicator binding on the parties, it is necessary that there should be a legislation like this. Therefore there need be no misapprehension whatsoever. This legislation is necessary in the present circumstances in the interests of labour. The Central Government has not agreed to the principle of adjudication whatsoever. In regard to the private employers also, it is so. A situation has arisen in the Central Government. It may also arise even as far as the Provincial Government is concerned with regard to the employees under their direct control. This provision will give the employees of the Provincial Government an opportunity to ask for matters in dispute to be referred to adjudication. The Government are bound to give effect to this Bill. Therefore this should be taken as something which is good and which is in favour of labour. We must support the Bill and not oppose it.

5th September 1946] [Sri B. S. Mallikarjuna Rao]

" My Friend hon. Venkateswarlu asked where is the necessity for legislation of this kind. I say, Sir, that this will give an opportunity to show that labour does not want to coerce anybody. We will place the strength of our case and the reasonableness of our demands before the adjudicator. It will enable us to show that we are not unreasonable people. We want to remove the bad impression if any which may exist in the public mind, because public opinion is necessary for the success of any strike. Without public opinion no strike will succeed. I think, Sir, in these circumstances, in the interests of labour, we should not oppose the principle of adjudication. My hon. Friend referred to the fact that there is need for other labour legislation. That does not mean that we should oppose this legislation. Of course, I would agree that there are other matters with regard to labour which have to be taken into immediate consideration. I hope that the Government would go into these matters early. But that should not be the reason why we should oppose this legislation. I think we should consider this matter as paving the way for an amicable settlement without precipitating a crisis. It is necessary that we should remove the present distrust between the parties and create a proper atmosphere. Rule 81-A of the Defence of India Rules is going to expire shortly. In order to meet the existing situation—there is an emergency with regard to food conditions and famine is threatening—labour should make its own contribution to bring about settled conditions. Under these circumstances, in order to show that labour is always ready for an amicable settlement, I, as one of the members interested in labour, support the bill brought before the House."

* M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, though the people of the Province have got a right to be heard on certain important matters, I do not want to propose that this Bill be circulated for public opinion, for it might be construed as an attempt to shelve the Bill. However, the people have got a right, though they have sent their representatives to the Assembly, they have a right to be heard on important matters at least. In this case, Sir, the people's representatives in the Assembly have not had sufficient opportunity to study the provisions and the implications of the Bill. Therefore it is only reasonable that they should be given some time to study this Bill and the request that has been put forward on our behalf is very reasonable and legitimate and that is that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I appeal to the Hon. the Leader of the House to agree to this course and have the Bill referred to a Select Committee, so that all the views may be thrashed out in the Committee and the members of the House may feel that their representatives have gone into the matter thoroughly. I think, Sir, such a course will be to the good of all parties concerned. With these words, Sir, I support the motion moved on behalf of my Party."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" Sir, my friend, Mr. Venkateswarlu, moved that the Bill be circulated for public opinion. If really I were to accede to his desire I need not waste my time or the time of this House or your valuable time by bringing this measure. Mr. Venkateswarlu knows as much as myself that this is a sort of a temporary measure in order to tide over the period, when the Government is preparing a comprehensive legislation in the matter of industrial disputes. In fact, just a fortnight ago I was thinking whether I should introduce this temporary measure at all during this interregnum. I thought I could as well wait for two or three months when I hoped to get a comprehensive legislation, but there were representations made by others equally interested in labour that labour would suffer unless I had this measure passed for this short period. I may remind the House that there is an Act dealing with labour disputes, namely, the Trade Disputes Act of 1929. That Act, Sir, provides for the institution of Conciliation Boards and Courts of Enquiry, but the findings of either the Conciliation Boards or the Courts of Enquiry are not binding and it is left to the will and pleasure of the parties to accept them or not. Sir, let me make a statement on my own behalf. I am against the compulsory machinery being introduced in the matter of the settlement of trade disputes. I am a believer in the English method of trade unionism, which believes in the creating of public opinion and not in compulsion in the matter of settlement of disputes. But unfortunately in our country trade unions have not advanced a great deal. Whenever the decision of a Conciliation Board or a Court of Enquiry is unfavourable to one side, that side says 'I am not going to accept it' and the law provides for non-acceptance. So much so, there were occasions when strikes continued for an indefinite period and after all it must be conceded and my hon. Friend, Mr. Town, will agree with me, that the industrialists have a longer purse; they have simply to keep quiet and most of the strikes would go under and the workers would go under. That has been my unfortunate experience, Sir, not only as a labour leader but as a Labour Minister. During the last Congress regime I have had appointed a large number of courts, and I found to my cost that either the employer or the worker would refuse to accept the findings when they went against him. Mostly I found that the worker suffered in the bargain. You would have noticed, Sir, that during the last three months, as I have already stated on the floor of the House, there were nearly 94 trade disputes and about 15 adjudication boards had to be appointed and I must say, whether Mr. Venkateswarlu agrees with me or not, or whether others agree with me or not, that in most of the cases the workers did get a positive benefit out of the decisions of the adjudicators and they were entirely satisfied. Of course to abuse the Government and to do propaganda against the Government they might say that they have not succeeded. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib: 'Why not specify the person?') Sir, I am generally referring to them, not only to the few Members in this House but to persons outside as well. In fact I must state that the very gentleman who represents the Communist Party and many of its leaders were more anxious about adjudication than most others. I can make a positive assertion that there is no question about it. On the other hand experience has also shown that, whatever his opinion now may be, tomorrow if this Bill is not introduced, they will be the very persons who will say that this Government did not care to introduce it. In fact, had I taken the step which I originally intended to do, namely, not to bring this Bill before this House—for I feel certain that in the course of three or four months I can introduce a comprehensive legislation—I do really feel that I would not have served the cause of the workers during these three or four months; because if this measure is not passed the Government cannot appoint adjudicators for certain disputes and the awards of such tribunals will not be binding. Therefore, Sir, I do not agree to the motion for circulation of the Bill, because it defeats the very object which I have in mind.

"My friend, Mr. Venkateswarlu referred to disputes on the South Indian Railway and to the disputes between the Scindia Workers and the Scindia Company. I want to tell my hon. Friend, Mr. Venkateswarlu, that we are not masters over the situation so far as these two disputes are concerned. They are under the jurisdiction of the Government of India. We have nothing to say in the matter except to express our views and advise. That is the position. I can assure Mr. Venkateswarlu that whatever advice we have given we have given it in the best interests of labour. Let him not state facts that may not bear examination. Those two matters are subjects of the Government of India. (Interruption.) That is another matter. I may tell my hon. Friend that law and order must be maintained at all costs. People who commit mistakes will have to face the trouble.

"Mr. Venkateswarlu mentioned the fact that most probably, in my stating that I am waiting for an All-India legislation, I am trying to evade my responsibility here, by not introducing the legislation that I have proposed. On the contrary, let me tell my hon. Friend, Mr. Venkateswarlu, that I am an important Member of the Trade Union Congress. At any rate from the very inception I am one of those who were in the fore-front of the trade union movement in this country, and I continue to be a Member of the Trade Union Congress. It was at my instance and those of other leaders that a Triparties Labour Conference has been instituted by the Government of India in which the representatives of the Provincial Governments, the representatives of the Centre, and the representatives of the Workers' Organizations take part. It is in that organization that we generally decide all subjects relating to the improvement of labour and its conditions and we generally come to an agreement as to what should be the legislation that has to be put into effect. Therefore I may state that not only I am prepared, but I am bound to introduce legislation. About that I can say a word. At the last meeting of the Tripartite Labour Conference I told them about the legislation that I was proposing to bring before this Provincial Legislature and if the Government of India were going to bring a similar measure, I should have no objection, because as I mentioned on the floor of the House yesterday, this matter of legislation has been fully discussed by the Tripartite Conference and they have come to some tentative conclusions. Sir, either the Government of India will pass that legislation or if they do not do so on the very lines, I shall get that legislation introduced. Let not my friend go away with the impression or do propaganda elsewhere that I am trying to burke the question of introduction of the legislation, as I suppose I mentioned on the budget discussion.

“ Sir, the present legislation as I have said is of a temporary character. My esteemed Friend, Mr. Hameed Khan, suggested to me that I should incorporate certain amendments. But I told them this enactment would last for a brief period I have practically repeated that portion of the Defence of India Act relating to adjudication, because, I have known in my mind that I shall not keep this legislation for long and that I shall bring a comprehensive legislation dealing with industrial disputes, dealing with industrial courts, recognition of unions standing orders, and all the things from A to Z relating to industrial workers. I gladly accept the proposal made by my hon. Friend, Mr. Hameed Khan, coming as it does from responsible quarters, and I shall state the views of the Government before the Select Committee when it goes into this matter. I have therefore nothing more to add now, but to withdraw my motion and accept the motion of my esteemed Friend, Mr. Hameed Khan.”

The motion made by the Hon. Minister for Industries that the Bill be taken into consideration at once was by leave of the House withdrawn.

The amendment by Sri P. Venkateswarlu that the Bill be circulated for public opinion was by leave of the House withdrawn.

The amendment by Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib was also by leave of the House withdrawn.

(3) THE MADRAS BUILDINGS (LEASE AND RENT CONTROL)
BILL, 1946.

3 p.m. THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Sir, I beg leave to introduce the Madras Buildings (Lease and Rent Control) Bill, 1946 and move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, the names of members of which I shall place before you.

"Sir, I have not much to say on this Bill at this time. Conditions regarding the scarcity of residential houses and non-residential buildings and how the landlords are exploiting the situation are well known to this House. Both the House Rent Control Order which was introduced in the year 1941 and the Control Order regarding non-residential buildings introduced in 1942 and amended in the year 1945 are based on the Defence of India Rules which lapse by the 30th of September—as is known to Members of the House. That the situation requires control of both these sets of houses is also admitted. As such, the Government have thought it fit to introduce this Bill for a period of two years, to be extended, if required, for a further period of two years, to meet the situation that now exists in this Province. The Bill is applicable in the first instance only to the City and towns and municipalities and it can be extended by order of the Government to other areas also, if necessary. In the Bill as it is, provision is made for increase by certain percentages of the rents that were existing between 1939 and 1940; there is also one clause that has been introduced here from the old Bill that lapses by the 30th September, that the landlords must report within three days of a house becoming vacant and the Government has the option to requisition such house or building for the sake of running Government institutions or for the sake of providing for their employees who find it very difficult to get houses—which in effect reacts upon other persons also. These are the main provisions of the Bill, Sir. They more or less go on the lines of the orders that are to lapse by the 30th of this month. If the House accepts the Bill, I shall place before you, Sir, the names of the members of the Select Committee."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"On a point of information, Sir. Defence of India Rules were made on the ground of maintenance of peace, good government, etc., and the all-India Government was able to introduce measures relating to buildings and houses, whether residential or non-residential. So far as the Provincial list is concerned, I do not find anywhere that this subject is included therein. Article 21 of List II of the Seventh Schedule of the Government of India Act simply refers to 'Land, that is to say, rights in or over land, etc.' and does not seem to include the subject dealt with by this Bill. The only two other places where we find something relating to lands and buildings are Articles 8 and 42 of the same List II. Article 8 refers to 'Works, lands and buildings vested in or in the possession of His Majesty for the purposes of the province' and Article 42 says: 'Taxes on lands and buildings, etc.'"

5th September 1946]

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Sir, is this a point of information, or is it a regular speech on the . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"What he wants to say must first of all be made clear to the Members."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"But by raising this point of information, he is getting a chance to speak."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member may speak on the motion of the Hon. Minister if he wants. Perhaps he wants to raise a question affecting the power of legislation, and it is as well that we know what he wants to say. The hon. Member may please be as short as possible."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"We find, under Article 8 of List II of Schedule VII . . ."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, on a point of order. Either the hon. Member Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar raises a point of order or he makes a regular speech. He cannot go on speaking on a point of information. On a point of information, I submit a Member must always be very brief and his question cannot take the form of a speech, so far as I know. If he thinks that the Bill which has been introduced just now is out of order and ultra vires, he must raise a point of order. He does not do that; but he wants some information. All of us who make speeches in this House are of course making speeches only in order to get information from the Hon. Ministers. But nobody rises to a point of information and makes a speech. I submit, Sir, my hon. friend should either raise a point of order or try to elicit information from the Hon. Minister when he replies."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I wish to inform the House that the hon. Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar wants some information. Sometimes we cannot put the question in a few sentences and it requires one or two minutes to explain the idea. After all, there is no harm in allowing him to explain in a minute or two. I shall allow him one more minute and we shall see what he is going to say."

* SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"There must be some time given to explain both sides of the question. As I was saying, so far as provincial legislation is concerned, the second list of Schedule VII contains only two places where the word 'buildings' occurs, viz., in Article 8 and in Article 42. There is however a distinction between lands and buildings in Article 8, similarly there is provision in Article 42 for 'taxes on lands and buildings.' In regard to land, there is also a separate item in Article 23. Till now, legislation has gone on under the Defence of India Rules. I simply want to know whether this legislation comes under this Provincial List."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The motion before the House is that the Madras Buildings (Lease and Rent Control) Bill, 1946, be referred to a Select Committee."

[5th September 1946]

* MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" You have not given your ruling with regard to the point of information, Sir."

* Mr. SPEAKER:—" The Minister will deal with it when he gives the reply."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, among the Bills introduced this day by the Government, I believe this is the most urgent. I find there is a demand for this Bill from all sides of the House and from all the people of the Province, particularly from those living in the city and in towns.

" Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are two parties affected by this Bill, the houseowner and the tenant. The tenants are a class of people who are fairly badly affected by the scarcity of houses suitable for occupation by a large number of people of various standards and status. The people who have in the first instance suffered and are yet suffering are some of the hon. Ministers themselves and members of the various parties of this House who are living in the city and in towns. The Government have not been able to make provision for the accommodation of hon. Members of this House, particularly those who come from the mufassal. There are also others who, for want of adequate accommodation, are put to great hardship and are not in a position to find houses. So far as this Bill is concerned, it meets the demand of the tenants to a certain extent and it also meets the demand of the houseowners to a better extent—because, I find that certain classes of owners of houses are given better facilities in the way of getting better rent. There are certain hon. Members who feel that in cases where rents are exorbitant and do not deserve to be considered for any increase, the Bill tries to increase the rents considerably. For instance, in some cases, the increase is to be 15 per cent, in some others 50 per cent and in some more from 50 to even 100 per cent. It is true that owners of houses do find it difficult in these hard days when materials are not easily obtainable, and when building materials are becoming more and more costly, to repair the houses and keep them in good condition, with the rent they are now getting, which has been in existence for some years now. It is true they suffer from such hardships. It must also be remembered at the same time that there are a large number of small owners of houses, people belonging to the upper or the lower middle class, who on account of the fact of their parents and ancestors leaving them some property, have become owners of houses, and in the absence of other means of livelihood, have to depend for running their families, on the rents they are receiving for the houses. This class of people will be put to great difficulty if they are not exempted from the control. Such a class is certainly large. People who are renting out houses for Rs. 25, Rs. 40 and Rs. 50 and even for Rs. 60 and Rs. 70 should be exempted. In my opinion, Sir, it will meet the ends of justice if the rent is increased to Rs. 25 or Rs. 40 instead of Rs. 15 as proposed in the Bill. The Bill at present exempts only houses fetching a rent of Rs. 15 per month and below, I submit this is not enough. Even people who own small houses fetching a rent of Rs. 25, Rs. 40 and even Rs. 50 should be exempted from any control under this Bill.

" There are also people who are penalized even though they are owners of houses fetching a rent of over Rs. 15, because they have to notify to the Government that such and such a house has fallen vacant and have to wait for a whole week to know whether that house will be required by the Government and if it is not required by the Government for rent whether it will be made available to the owner or any other party. Sir, this is really a hardship on those people who are owning small houses particularly those persons who cannot afford to lose a single pie of the rent. They thus not only have to lose the rent but also have to lose the rent that they would get during the period the house is vacant, as it is left to the sweet will of the Government to decide whether it is required for the purposes of the Government or whether it will be let out to the public. Thus a period exists where the owner not only suffers the hardship of losing the rent for that period but also he is placed in a tantalizing position of having to wait and then ultimately to be told whether that house is or is not wanted by the Government.

p.m.

" Sir, there are two sides to this question. Ordinarily we are prone to feel that the houseowner is really a hard-headed man who has no consideration for the tenant and that he is a man who is considered to be rack-renter and deserves to be penalized. I do not think we can easily dispose of the owner in such a sweeping manner. As I have submitted some time back, there are houseowners and houseowners, some of them big capitalists owning a number of houses which are let out at varying rents, e.g., from Rs. 100 to Rs. 500. Not only they thus lead a decent life but amass large fortunes. I am not going to deal with that class of people here; I am only concerned with owners of small houses who live mainly on the incomes that they derive from their houses; and such class of people should be exempted from the operation of the clause. Similar to the exemption which is sought to be given in the case of owners of houses getting a rent of less than Rs. 15, other owners of small houses who are in a very large majority and who have to depend on their rent for their living, should also be exempted from the operation of the Bill. That is one thing and the other thing is Government should make good the loss of rent which may be involved for the period from the time the house falls vacant and the time the reply from the Government is received by the houseowner as to whether the house is actually required by Government or not, for, I do not believe that such a provision has been made in the Bill under discussion. If it is provided, certainly, it will satisfy us. However, I suggest that all the aspects of the question will be considered by the Select Committee and that they will amend the Bill in such a way as to be acceptable to all."

[5th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have been very much enlightened by the question put by my hon. Friend Mr. Vaidyanatha Ayyar—though I do not understand him fully—about the jurisdiction of this House to bring this legislation. This question of houses and control of houses and residential and non-residential buildings come within the purview of the Legislature. I do not understand what my friend's difficulty is in regard to this matter. Such a brilliant lawyer as he is, I thought he could easily have understood it without raising such a question. He referred to Schedule VII, List I of the Government of India Act, and then said that this matter does not come under that. But, List II deals with a portion of it which is clear and it is further amplified by List III. List II of the Provincial Subjects, item 21, deals with land, that is to say, ryotwari land, land tenures including relation between the landlord and tenant and the collection of rent. That is one portion which is very clear. Then, we come to List III which relates to concurrent jurisdiction, where 'clause 8 of the subjects given is Transfer of Property other than Agricultural land'. In Transfer of Property, lease is one of the items; and when concurrent jurisdiction is given to this House to deal with subjects that are comprised in the Transfer of Property Act, agricultural land which includes also buildings, whether residential or non-residential comes under the jurisdiction of this Legislature.

"The second point is the suggestion made by my hon. Friend, Mr. Hameed Khan. Of course, the Bill provides for increase of rent that is thought necessary and it also deals with the relations between the landlord and the tenant. He also said that some landlords and some tenants are favoured under the provisions of this Bill. However, these are matters which the members of the Select Committee will consider. It is for that reason that while introducing the Bill, I have also suggested that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, so that when it emerges out of the Select Committee, it will be a very satisfactory measure to all concerned. If my motion to refer the Bill to a Select Committee is accepted, I move that the following members do constitute the Select Committee on this Bill:—

- (1) The Hon. Sri M. Bhakthavatsalam.
- (2) The Hon. Mrs. Lakshmipathi.
- (3) The Hon. Sri P. S. Kumaraswami Raja.
- (4) The Hon. Sri R. Raghava Menon.
- (5) Sri K. Varadachari.
- (6) Sri B. S. Murthy.
- (7) Sri N. S. Varadachari.
- (8) Sri K. Raghavan.
- (9) Sri M. A. Ishvaran.
- (10) Muhammad Raza Khan Sahib Bahadur.
- (11) Srimathi V. Lakshmi Ammal.

5th September 1946] [Hon. Sri R. Raghava Menon]

- (12) Mr. John Moses Wilson.
- (13) D. Abdul Rawoof Sahib Bahadur.
- (14) Hassan Koya Sahib Bahadur.
- (15) Dr. U. P. Mallayya."

The motion to refer the Bill to a Select Committee consisting of the members referred to above was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The report of the Select Committee will be submitted on Monday next. Under rule 78, I appoint the Hon. Sri R. Raghava Menon as the Chairman of the Committee."

(4) THE MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES AND LOCAL BOARDS
(SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL, 1946.

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to introduce a Bill to amend the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920, the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, and the Madras City Municipal, District Municipalities and Local Boards (Second Amendment) Act, 1942, and move that the Bill be taken into consideration at once.

"In making this motion, I desire to make a few statements in order to explain the objects underlying this Bill. There are two main provisions in this amending Bill and I believe that both of them are non-controversial in character. Sir, 1942 is a memorable year in the annals of modern India. In that year, Mahatma Gandhi inaugurated the movement for the attainment of Swaraj and in pursuance of that movement, national leaders like Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Nehru and others were put in jail. This movement took a hold on the masses of this country and many of the local bodies, municipalities and district boards, which were then functioning under what was known as section 93 Government—Advisers' regime—passed resolutions sympathizing with the above movement and requesting that the leaders who are in jail should be released. In dealing with this movement, the Advisers' Government thought that these municipalities and district boards should not be allowed to function any longer because they expressed their sympathy with this movement. The ordinary provisions of the Local Boards and Municipalities Act were not sufficient to supersede these bodies. Therefore most of the local bodies which passed resolutions expressing sympathy with the movement were superseded under the Defence of India Rules and put in charge of special officers. At this juncture, Act XXIV of 1942 was passed as a Governor's Ordinance. There are two main provisions in that Act: one was that these superseded municipalities and district boards should be reconstituted not by throwing these bodies open to fresh election but by appointment of members, that is, by nomination. You know, Sir, that for the past sixteen years nearly, the system of nominations to local bodies had been given up, though no doubt there was provision for partial representation of minority interests in those bodies, but even that was given up for the last few years. All sections of the House will agree that the system of constituting local bodies by appointment of members by Government is an old and out-moded system. Under this Act, the superseded municipalities should be reconstituted by appointment and it also provides that whenever a municipality or local board was superseded a fresh reconstitution of the board should and must necessarily be made by appointment. I will give you a recent instance to illustrate the difficulty of this provision. The Chittoor District Board was reconstituted somewhere about 1943 and it continued to function till the beginning of this year. At the beginning of this year, about 19 or 20 members of the reconstituted board resigned leaving the others to function. The district board was not competent to carry on the duties and therefore Government had to deal with the situation under Act XXIV of 1942 and the only course open was to reappoint the members who had resigned their seats, but this Government was not prepared to resort to this system of nomination and we have therefore provided in this Bill to take power to appoint special officers. Wherever this Act XXIV of 1942 is in force—it is supposed to be in force for a period of two years after the war, and the war is supposed to have terminated at the end of 1945—if there is any maladministration in any municipality or local board, the only course open to Government is to reconstitute it by means of appointment or nomination. But we felt that this course was undesirable in all respects and, therefore, Government has taken power under the present amending Bill to reconstitute such superseded municipalities and district boards by means of election, which has been in operation but which was temporarily suspended during the period of the war and is now sought to be embodied in clause (3) of the Bill.

“The other provision is this. The elections to local bodies are coming up in November and December of this year. The life of the existing municipal councils and local bodies extends up to 12 noon on 1st November. There is thus an interregnum and one or two courses are open. One is to extend the life of these bodies up to the time the new bodies begin to function. Therefore special officers will have to be appointed for the interregnum. In the case of municipalities the Commissioners who will be appointed as special officers are Government servants who are not supposed to have any party affiliations or prejudices. Therefore Government propose to extend the lifetime of the municipal councils till the new councils are elected and begin functioning.

“So far as district boards are concerned, the position is somewhat different. The executive functions of district boards are vested in the president of the district board and it is desirable, I thought—that again is a matter which will be agreed to by all sides of the House—that during the period of the elections and for some time immediately preceding elections, a non-party officer is put in charge of the administration of the district board, because you know, Sir, district boards carry a certain amount of influence and prestige on account of the various matters that are under their control. Therefore it has been provided in the Bill under clause 3 to appoint special officers to district boards for the period of the interregnum until the new boards are formed.

“As I have already stated, both these provisions are of a non-controversial and acceptable character. So far as clause 4 is concerned, it deals only with a general reserve provision which does not make any definite change in the present position.

“I would, therefore, commend this Bill for the acceptance of this House.”

* M. A. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR :—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move an amendment to the motion of the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration, viz., that this Bill be referred to a Select Committee. I no doubt agree to the main principle on which the Bill has been based. So far as the first portion is concerned, namely, the reconstitution of the superseded or dissolved municipal councils and district boards to be by election, we do admit that the elections should be held and the boards reconstituted as early as possible. Under the cover of the elections being postponed to some indefinite period, it is possible that the party in power taking advantage of the provisions of sections 3 and 4 of the Bill may try to consolidate their own party strength. That is our apprehension. In regard to the reconstitution of the boards, you want to take power to appoint special officers under clause 3, and under clause 4 you want to take a general reserve power of a very sweeping nature. I therefore suggest, Sir, these are matters which should be carefully gone into and considered. Under the provisions contained in sub-section (2) of section 3 it is contemplated to appoint special officers to district boards other than a Revenue Divisional Officer or a Collector who will receive payment from district funds. These matters require careful planning. Therefore, I suggest, Sir, that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee. Again with regard to section 4, I do not see any reason for apprehending any difficulty in giving effect to the provisions of the Act, especially when it is going to be in the hands of Government. Therefore whether this provision is necessary or not has also to be considered.

“For the reasons set forth above, I appeal to the Hon. Minister to refer the Bill to a Select Committee. After all it is such a small Bill which can be considered to-morrow or the day after and after the report is received, there will be no difficulty in adopting it. I therefore move my amendment.”

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU :—“Sir, in seconding the motion to refer the Bill to Select Committee, I would like to draw the attention of the Minister for Local Administration regarding the notice issued recently to the Chairman of the Guntur Municipality. The Hon. Minister said that during 1942, the presidents of district boards and the chairmen of municipalities were removed because they supported the demand of the Congress, namely, the release of Congress leaders. But here the same thing is happening under the Congress regime, under the regime of the Minister for Local Administration since he has demanded the explanation of the Chairman of the Guntur Municipal Council as to why he should not be removed for supporting the just demands of the municipal workers. Sir, I would like to know whether this is going to be the general policy of our popular Government. But I do hope that this Government will not follow in the footsteps of the past Adviser regime, while we are expecting a rectification of the misdeeds of the past administration from the present Ministry. In spite of that, Sir, and especially on the eve of this amending Bill, I do not know why such a notice should be issued to the Chairman of the Guntur Municipal Council demanding an explanation. Of course, the Government can pass pay legislation because they have got a vast majority behind them but such an autocratic action upon the Chairman of the Municipal Council whether he belongs to their party or not, will certainly not redound to their credit.

"There is another point, Sir, and that is in regard to elections to these bodies. Because there is no time, they want to rush it through. It is all right; but my point is, during question hour, I put a question as to why elections on adult franchise should not be introduced, especially when ration cards have been introduced and voters' lists have been prepared, because if elections are held on the basis of adult franchise it would be a more democratic body, but the reply was that it would be postponed. It is of course nothing new to the Congress Party because, they have all along been demanding the same thing before they came to power. Now even after the popular Government has come to power, I find that they have not taken up the question of adult franchise. When the Congress was in power for about 2½ years on the last occasion, they did not do anything in the matter. Now the present Government want to postpone it. In the meanwhile, I am afraid, elections to municipalities and district boards will be over and it may be another five years before the next elections are held and it is probable that the Government may change in the interval and the question of introducing adult franchise will be shelved. That is the very reason, Sir, why this Bill should be referred to a Select Committee. I suggest, Sir, however, that the Ministry should not hurry up with this Bill before considering the question of introducing adult franchise in regard to elections to local bodies because if it is not done this year, there is no possibility of doing it hereafter. Of course the chairmen of municipalities and commissioners have been exercising their autocratic powers for the last four or five years and I do not see any danger in their continuing for a few months more till the introduction of adult franchise, particularly, when there are popular Ministries above. Of course, should there be any irregularity in their administration, the popular Government is there to check them. If the Congress Party has changed its ideology that there is no need for adult franchise, then this question has to be reconsidered and placed before the electorate once again. What I suggest is there is no hurry for this legislation in regard to municipal elections but you can wait for some time more, because there are other very important things such as adult franchise which have to be looked into.

"Sir, I wish to bring to the notice of the House another important matter in this connexion and that is proportional representation. Now, there is the system of joint electorates. What I suggest is after introducing adult franchise, if proportional representation is also introduced, every community, religion and party will have opportunities to get their full share of representation according to their strength. Now, we are not having such opportunities. As a matter of fact, even in regard to provincial elections in certain places, particularly in the Kistna constituency, in the primary elections, our candidates got two times the number of votes obtained by the Congress candidates. So, if proportional representation is introduced, all the political parties would be better represented according to their strength, because I believe that is the highest form of democracy, I mean adult franchise and proportional representation represent true democracy where every religion and party will be represented according to their ideologies and it will also lead to greater unity among all the sections. If this ideology is accepted, every class and community will align themselves with others and no minority community will suffer. Even the minority communities and even the Muslims who claim to represent ten per cent and other interests concerned are sure to get their quota if this salutary procedure is adopted. In view of the fact that all aspects of the question will be considered in all its details at the Select Committee, I support the motion."

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in supporting the motion of my hon. Friend to refer the Bill to a Select Committee, all that I wish to say is that it is rather inconsistent on the part of the present Government to perpetuate the very method that they have been condemning all these years. At this very moment, my Hon. Friend, Mr. Daniel Thomas, condemned the principle of nomination; I do not know how he can in the same breath urge the appointment of a special officer on the same lines as was done by the bureaucratic regime. (Hear, hear.) As my Hon. Friend is a Christian, I wish to recall to his mind a sentence from the Bible: 'The hand is the hand of Esau but the voice is the voice of Jacob' which may be applied to the present Government, for though their outward form seems to have changed, yet their spirit remains the same as that of their predecessor. In their own interest, I emphasize—let it not be said of the present Government—that 'the hands are the hands of Esau but the voice is the voice of Jacob'—the voice of the bureaucracy. I would urge upon the Government not to rush through measures like this. People are awake and alive and they will apply the same missiles of argument against the present Government as the latter applied against the bureaucratic regime. With these words, Mr. Speaker, I strongly support the motion of my hon. Friend."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, I believe that this measure is wholly unnecessary. My

p.m.

[Muhammad Abdul Salam Sahib Bahadur] [5th September 1946]

fear is that the Government of the day wish to instal their henchmen both in municipalities and district boards. The Minister concerned has very peculiar notions of the movement of 1942 and about nominations. When people in power at that time decided on a policy of total destruction, somebody has to be put in charge of municipalities and district boards. He is not right in condemning those people. He must remember that even to-day in the Central Government we have nominations. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and his party were not elected by anybody, but having collaborated with the British they are there to-day in the Centre. He has no right to claim to be a national leader because he belongs to a party and he and Lord Wavell have joined hands to form the Government at the centre and it is not a popular Government."

* SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"On a point of order, I do not know how this is relevant to the debate, seeing that we are discussing a Bill to amend the District Municipalities and Local Boards Act and are not dealing with formation of the Government at the centre."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It may be clear when the Member further develops his point."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"He condemned nominations and said that nominated presidents of district boards are not fit to be elected. I ask the Government how then a nominated group of men comprising party men can be called responsible Government. I think that the provisions regarding district boards are completely unnecessary. People went into the wilderness and embarked upon a policy of destruction and the Government nominated certain persons to discharge certain responsibilities. They have been carrying out their responsibility for the last two years and I say that nothing will happen if they are asked to manage the elections, unless it be that the present Government want their nominees to be installed there for their own party purposes. As regards municipalities, we are going to have the elections very soon, in a period of two or three months and why do you presume that municipalities will in this period commit mistakes and the Government will require power to deal with them. I fear the last section is the most formidable of all sections. It says that the Government may, as occasion arises, by order, do anything which appears to them necessary for the purpose of removing any difficulty. This is a thing which even Hitler and Mussolini would not have asked their Parliaments to permit them to do. They are asking powers to do anything for any occasion to remove difficulties. Is it possible for any legislative assembly to approve of such a clause? The most amusing part of it is that they want powers for a circumstance and for a reason which is not known to them even to-day. Bills have been showered on us, eight Bills in a day. The Opposition has to consider the Bills and therefore has to ask for time. It is unfair that an omnibus measure like this should be hustled through the House. It has become a rule with this Government not to give enough time for the Opposition. Under these circumstances, it is better that this Bill is dropped."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, my Hon. Friend Mr. Daniel Thomas referred to the political aspect of the question. He traced the history and the genesis of the measure. He referred to what he chose to call the epoch-making year of 1942, a year which according to him has made a tremendous change in the modern political history of India. It has undoubtedly made changes in the modern political history of India. It has revealed the hand which instead of seeking to do good did nothing but destruction, not merely material destruction but even the spiritual traditions of this country."

"My hon. Friend said that this was a non-controversial measure and that there was nothing in it to object; it was according to him harmless and innocent and even a reference to the Select Committee was not necessary. Local boards and municipalities if they are to be really self-governing institutions are to be representative. My hon. Friend has been in office for the last three and a half months and he must have an intimate knowledge of local boards. He knows the extent to which he suffered at the hands of the very same people whom he has joined, not only he but also along with him his sister community, the Muslims, have also suffered. In order to give representation to Muslims and other minority communities, legislation was brought forward and a very small pittance was given by way of representation to the various minorities—one seat was given here and another half a seat there. That is the state of affairs that went on and we members of the Muslim nationality said that we should have

..." (Interruption.)

AN HON. MEMBER:—"The Muslim nationality."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"You need not listen to those interruptions. I do not want hon. Members to disturb when a member is speaking."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Yours is a wholesome ruling. But in the heat of parliamentary debates, members who have a little more of energy indulge in it and the speakers are none the worse for it."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Interruption is dangerous."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"It is dangerous to some and not so to others. Thank you very much for the help given to me on this occasion."

"My Hon. Friend, the Minister for Local Administration, knows with his experience of the working of the administration of the local boards, how they have become practically monopolistic and he should have done well if he had brought forward legislation giving satisfaction to the various important and essential elements in the Province. Instead of that he has brought in this small Bill. He says it is harmless and non-controversial. It is not certainly so. My Hon. Friend has himself explained very clearly how nominations came into existence. I am not here to champion the action, rightly or wrongly undertaken, of the Adviser regime which was an autocratic Government. A Government is an autocratic Government if it acts against well-known democratic principles. It is autocratic if it becomes monopolistic.

4 p.m. "Sir, I am sure, the Hon. Minister must have by this time found out where the Advisers' Government have made mistakes by acting wrongly, and I hope he would imbibe democratic principles and give representation to people who have got no representation at all because of joint electorate. It is high time, this Government accepts separate electorate and gives it for those who want it. It would be possible under ordinary circumstances for a Muslim here and there to get elected even though he may not have a majority of his people as voters. But under the existing conditions it is very necessary that satisfactory arrangements should be made by the Hon. Minister in charge of Local Self-Government to see that adequate representation is given to the Muslims, Christians and the Scheduled Classes. Mr. Speaker, Sir, my Hon. Friend seeks to do by this Bill to appoint officers who will conduct the elections to the district boards."

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"No, they will only carry on the administration; they will not conduct the elections."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Thank you, Sir. When he was speaking he said that these officers are not expected to be partymen. But they will be nominees of one party or other; and knowing as we do, how administration is carried on, these temporary nominees are not permanent officers of Government, they will be temporarily special officers only, and they will be selected from among partymen, and so they could not be expected to be independent non-partymen. This is, I fear, putting in the thin end of the wedge. This is how consolidation of party goes on, in the name of justice, fairplay and independence. Sir, I hope the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration will bring to bear on his administration his genial personality and his love of justice, and as a true Christian, he will not become a victim or surrender himself to any monopolist attitude that may govern the party to which he belongs; but on the other hand, he would assert himself and try to see that he triumphs in his principles and that he does not become a party to do wrong. Sir, though this measure is a measure only for an interregnum, I hope he will soon bring forward a consolidated measure wherein he will give representation to all communities in this Province, make local bodies really self-governing and real elected bodies controlled, managed and manned not by one party and one community only."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, from the very beginning I was pointing out that the present Government is utilising this machinery of Legislature not in public interest but for the purpose of consolidating their already strong party and this is one instance of that kind. (Laughter from the Opposition Benches.) I know it is one of the most political immoral acts of a Government to make arrangements for elections to local bodies in order to ensure that its own partymen should be returned." (Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'Hear, hear.')

* SRI K. P. KAMAKSHI CHETTIYAR:—"On a point of order. Sir, is the hon. Member in order in making that reflection on Government?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member may continue his speech."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I should like to know, Sir, what is the object of this Government in bringing a measure like this. My friend Mr. Hameed Khan was saying that they are resorting to these measures in the name of justice and fairplay. I say even that, they are not doing. There is not a plausible explanation for a measure like this. What is the justification for this measure at present? Did they not get an overwhelming majority in this Assembly in spite of all these nominated local bodies and municipalities functioning? Why are they nervous about it? What is it that they say in the Statement of Objects and Reasons? They barefacedly say it is to strengthen their party. So, can you say, this measure is brought in the name of justice and fairplay? I say, it is barefaced political immorality to have brought a measure like this. I say, Government are not acting wisely here; I say, they are acting in their own interest. It has shaken the confidence of the people in the Government. When once they have taken up the reins of office it is their duty to place the interests of the general public at the top and not their party consideration. It is because their party is in a majority, they are in office. Once they have taken up Government they should act with justice and fairness. I would also remind the Government at this juncture that in the Legislature as now constituted, there is practically no connection between our side and the other side of the House. There is no touch, except every now and then they go on saying that they will be protecting the interests of the minorities. Is this the kind of protection you give? You have installed a puppet government in the centre. If this measure is to be passed you will have so many puppet governments in the several local boards and municipalities. You say in the Advisers' regime they ran a puppet government in the nominated councils, and what are you doing by this measure except to have your own puppet governments in the local boards and municipalities." (A cry: 'Shame.')

(Voices in Government Benches: 'We protest against the use of the word puppet.')

* SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am really sorry that our friends of the Muslim League are working themselves up into a rage, which is understandable. (Mr. Nivarthi Venkatasubbiah: 'They are always like that.')

(Laughter.) Yes. Our friends on the other side may remember that for no sin whatever, many of the district boards in 1942 were dissolved by a most autocratic legislation by a Government for not carrying out its behests which could under no law or decency in the art of government be justified. I strongly feel if a national organisation has any respect in itself it must undo all the wrongs that were committed by that Government which did these things in a most autocratic way. What was the sin committed by these local bodies? They simply passed the same resolution adopted by the Indian National Congress asking for independence and telling Government that the people would have to resort to direct action if their demand, namely, independence was not granted by the British Government. That was the only sin they committed, and for that, summarily all those boards were dissolved, and johukums were installed in their place. And the behaviour of these boards during all this time is a notorious fact. These people taking advantage of the situation began to curry the favour of the Advisers' Government in every department of administration and demoralized it; and when we seek by this measure to set it right, Mr. Pocker gets up and says, we are doing an immoral act to-day. I do not know how my Muslim friends appeared before the public in supporting the autocratic Government all these years. I submit this is a wholesome legislation that we are seeking to do to-day for the purpose of removing the johukums who used to interfere with elections and demoralized them. It is absolutely necessary that these people should be asked to find their places in society. I submit in Chittoor district to which reference was made, the President of the District Board, simply because he was found fault with for the way in which he administered the Tirupathi Devasthanam, of which committee he was the president, he was sought to be removed. He was so enraged with the Advisers' Government that he addressed His Excellency the Governor declaring 'you know how I have served His Majesty's Government during the period of stress all this time, and you are not going to nominate me to the devasthanam committee; I therefore threaten you with the resignation of the presidentship of the district board.' And it is common knowledge that His Excellency the Governor had to request him saying 'keep to your seat my dear boy, you will be all right; if you are not on the committee, you will have the presidentship of the district board.' One day in a fit of anger all the 19 members of the board resigned for the simple reason that he was not allowed to continue in a place to which he was nominated in the Tirupathi Devasthanam."

[Sri K. Varadachari] [5th September 1946]

* N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The hon. Member happens to be the closest friend of that gentleman, Sir."

* SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"I am his counsel also, Sir."

* N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is he not his thick friend, Sir?"

* SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"I am his counsel also, Sir. Sir, these johukums got into these local boards and municipalities not in a decent, a neutral, atmosphere. We should have all these local boards cleared of the johukums. Hence the necessity for this legislation. With these words I resume my seat."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is some misrepresentation."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"All right. I shall allow you to speak."

* SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"Jai Hind. Speaker. Sir, I rise to support this Bill, Sir. It is absolutely essential that it must be supported by all members of this House. You must know the circumstances under which these nominated bodies have come in. When the patriots had gone to jails, when they were facing lathi charges and bullets, these blacklegs have been nominated by the Advisers' Government. Now that the popular Government has come in, and the patriots have attained their goal of, at least, partial independence, it is their duty to bring in legislation to remove immediately the blacklegs and put in really representative people. In district boards and municipalities, these people while going out of the office will sign contracts, big contracts, and will do so many other things that will mar the good administration of those bodies. They will try to do a lot of mischief. That is why this legislation is absolutely essential. I can say, Sir, as a member of the House representing Guntur, that the Chairman of the Guntur Municipality, which is said to be an elected body, behaved like a political gambler during the strike movement. He chose to support some of these labour leaders that started strikes as against the Government. He issued pamphlets condemning the Government's action and supporting the strikers. I as a socialist and a labour worker do support the economic demands. But the man who started the strike did it with a bad intention."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"You come to the point."

* SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"I am telling you, Sir, how that man behaved. He raised the pay of strikers to Rs. 21 and also he has given an advance of Rs. 4,000 and thus put the Government in an awkward position. Thus he tried to disobey Government orders. I do not know, Sir, why he should not be removed when he tried to disobey the Government orders. Such political jugglers should not be allowed to continue further. My hon. Friends on the Muslim benches are very vehement. I was in jail in 1921 then and along with me was Mr. Farooki, now the leader of the Muslim League in the Upper House. Whenever we now meet our heart swell with great affection. We have been and we will be friends (interruption). In this way, trying to oppose legislation, calling it immoral is bad. I also say, to call the Government at the Centre as puppet Government is absolutely rubbish. It is a Government with all the people behind it and they will be there even after elections take place. It is a people's Government backed by two bulwark of the people. They are not leaders who are living in palaces. They are leaders who have gone to jails and who have faced bullets. They have a right to be there and shall be there in spite of some disgrumbled elements. When they were in the jails, these Khan Sahibs and Noons that imprisoned them were really the puppets. That was the puppet Government and not this." (Interruption and cries of 'Order, order.')

* Mr. SPEAKER:—"You come to the point."

* Sri A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"I request my hon. Friends to have patience. Let us think calmly and let us build up a United India together and let us not try to divide India."

"Coming to this Bill, I must say that it must be supported by all sections of the House because it is a Bill that is brought in to set right the wrong done by the previous Government."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of order, Sir. It is necessary that Mr. Speaker should instruct this hon. Member the elementary rule of this House that when the Speaker stands up he should sit down. This he has not been doing." (Laughter.)

* Sri K. VENKATA RAO:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to support the motion for the consideration of the Local Boards Bill. I am sorry, Sir, that I have been absent for a few minutes and have missed the enlightened speeches from the Opposition, but nonetheless even from the positive side, I must say that this Bill is long overdue for more than one reason. On my way from Bombay in August 1942 as Secretary of the Andhra Provincial Congress Committee, I issued a circular in consultation with the President of the Tamil Nad Provincial Congress Committee and other friends, to all Congress Parties in local boards and municipalities in Andhra to adopt the resolution passed on the 8th August 1942 by the A.I.C.C. at Bombay. We felt, Sir, that the elected representatives of the people should endorse the resolution that was in reality a clarion call for the winning of freedom for India. I am very glad, Sir, that in my own part of the country all the municipalities and district boards that were manned by Congressmen have responded to this call, and all have passed that resolution. The Advisers' Government would have been correct if elections were held and opinion of the people taken even then. In 1942, if elections had been held, the people would, in spite of the fact that all the leaders were in jail, have returned the Congress in thumping majorities. The Government instead of holding elections passed an amending Bill. War contractors and people who helped in collecting war funds are in position of local boards to-day. I would put a question to the Opposition that if the concerned local boards had not passed the resolution of August 8th, 1942, what would have been the position to-day? It is because of the political issue in the 'quit India' resolution that these boards were superseded by the Government. Otherwise they would have continued to be in order even to-day. Now that is the issue before the Congress Government. I would have been very glad if our Congress Government, as soon as it took up office, had dissolved these boards and replaced them by men who had the honour and the prestige, in those days, to pass the August resolution, and I am certain that the country also would have rejoiced over it. But perhaps for equanimity and for ideas of justice, they did not like to disturb the condition of those nominated boards. The reason is that the Government felt that they will be charged with an attempt to bring in their own partymen. To-day the term of office of the boards is almost over. This Bill seeks power only to dissolve them a little earlier. It is only to show people who acted against the interests of the country that they cannot dissolve the boards for the sake of advocating a political idea, this people's Government have decided to bring in this Bill in this form. To call it immoral and to think that Government got out of the way in order to pacify some of their friends and their partymen is unjust. That kind of criticism from the other side is very unjust. I would only request our friends opposite to take into consideration the circumstances in which these boards were superseded, and how the Advisers' Government sought to put in people who were never elected by the people, then or now. The nominated members of local boards have all had their three years of their term and now they must be replaced by elected people. The Opposition should, if at all, welcome this measure. This measure is a democratic measure. It is a measure which the Ministry has brought in in order to show the people who sided Government they are no good and should be replaced by the elected representatives of the people. If the Opposition members want, they can contest the elections, and can succeed. After all, the intervening period will not be at the most, more than 50 days. What is the objection? Will we get into the district boards and eat them away through the Special Officers? Will we resort to black-marketing? This is an unjust charge and an unjust suspicion. I would appeal to you, Sir, and through you to the members of the Opposition to accept this Bill and thereby establish that people's rights cannot be suppressed by any Government, even if it be the British Government in whose Empire the Sun never sets. It is only to prove that the particular attitude of that Government was preposterous that this Bill is brought forward, and I appeal to the Opposition to withdraw their opposition and allow this Bill to establish a correct, moral and desirable ideal in the administration of this Province."

* Sri V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, after hearing the lucid and convincing explanation given by the Hon. Minister for Local Administration, there will be no need 4-30 to allow the Bill to go to Select Committee. A storm has been p.m. raised in this House to the effect that the party in power are trying to bring their own men into these district boards and municipalities. Sir, as one who had something to do with these local boards for many years, I may tell you that the state of affairs in the district boards and municipalities is so bad that it needs a thorough change, and I am glad that the Hon. Minister, within the short period he has been in office visited many a district board, and has now brought forward a very important measure. As my hon. Friend, Mr. Kala Venkata Rao, just now pointed out, this Bill seeks power to have the provisions in force for just 40 or 50 days earlier. I would request hon. Members on the Opposition to pass this Bill without further reference to a Select Committee.

[Sri V. I. Muniswami Pillai] [5th September 1946]

“ Sir, about adult franchise my hon. Friend, Mr. Venkateswarlu, brought home to this House that the Congress is for adult franchise. Sir, I may tell you that it is one of the chief objectives of the Congress. Is there anybody who is not for adult franchise? The other day when we discussed the education demand, it was clearly stated that literacy in our province is only 7 per cent. Whatever it may be, I stand for adult franchise and I am sure the party in power will very shortly bring in a measure to improve education in our province. For the preparation of an electoral roll on the basis of adult franchise, it will take not a few months but a long time. Till then a very salient measure like this will be held up. So I may tell my hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswarlu that we are all for adult franchise. He referred to the primary election wherein a Communist who topped the polls had been defeated in the general election. It is not our fault. All the candidates put up by this Party for the 30 seats in this House have got the support of those people who vote both at the primary election and the general election. In Mannargudi the Communists put all their efforts to defeat the Congress, but they failed, and the Congress Harijan candidate succeeded.

“ In discussing the matter of district boards, I may say that it is highly necessary that executive officers must be there while the elections take place. One district board has become practically the pocket borough of one family. That family has given members to the district board; it has given officers to the board, contractors come from the same family, and even draftsmen are drawn from that family. When such is the case, how can we get justice during the time of election? I am sure the Hon. Minister has done the right thing in taking power for appointing Special Officers at the time of election. I strongly support the motion moved by the Hon. Minister, and I hope the Opposition will not press to a division.”

* MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ I would not have intervened in this debate but for some points raised by my Friend Mr. Kameswara Rao. I find that since this morning he seems to have developed a sort of violent mentality. Simply because he has changed his dress—we find him in his bush shirt—he seems to think that we will all be afraid. There is nothing surprising about this; he has copied it from our Viceroy Lord Wavell. I can tell him that he need not talk of violence and other things to Muslim League members. We are prepared to face the bullets of the Central Government, and we are ready for it. I would not have said so but for some remarks made by the members on the Treasury Benches. Some Members on the Congress benches feel that heroism and patriotism are their monopoly. They have done nothing. Real heroism and patriotism will be seen on our side when the time comes, and I am sure the time will surely come.

“ The whole question in the debate is whether there is any necessity to appoint Special Officers between the time of elections and now. There is no point in simply condemning the Advisers' regime or bureaucratic government and following the very things for which you are condemning them. Much has been said by Members on the Treasury Benches with regard to the part played by these district boards and municipalities. What is your past record? The whole record of the Congress Party in the matter of local self-government is the worst I can say, and even to-day we see it. That is what we feel. Where is the justification for the Congress Party to fly the Congress flag over the buildings of the Madras City Corporation, just wounding the feelings of other members? It is your party flag and not the country flag. We want to know from you what is the guarantee, that you will not use these officers for your party purposes, or abuse or misuse their power. You will appoint such officers who will always be subservient to you and who will be very partial to your party. A number of parties are going to contest the elections to the municipalities and district boards, and I am sure the Special Officers to be appointed by the party in power will be such as will help the party in power, and therefore they will try to misuse their power. I do not find any justification, having condemned the Advisers' regime, to follow their very methods.

“ My friends on the Treasury Benches waxed eloquent on their heroism in 1942. Whether you are right or wrong, we are not concerned with 1942. History has to give its judgment whether you are right or wrong, but you have tried to make much of what little you have done. You cannot exploit it always.

“ We are concerned with a definite issue whether the power which this Government propose to make is right or not. The members on the Treasury Benches bring very irrelevant issues. But I do give some concession as some of them have yet to learn and are new. It is right that we should also give them attacks and try to teach them some lesson.”

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“ On a point of information, Sir, I want to move the following adjournment motion”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“ I cannot permit any motion at this stage.”

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ My purpose in speaking on this motion is to say that the speeches made by the members of the Muslim League have been greatly misrepresented

[Mahboob Ali Baig Sahib Bahadur] [5th September 1946]

unwittingly perhaps. The speakers on the side of the Treasury Benches have heard wrongly the speeches of the Muslim members because they were themselves in fury. The Muslim League members never accepted nominations as the best method of representing the people in local bodies. Not a single word has been said that nominations are good. I do not see any reason why the members on the Treasury Bench should attack the Muslim members on that score. We make it very very clear that we condemn nominations. We condemn nominations; as Begum Amiruddin has said when you yourself have condemned nominations it is wrong on your part to nominate a certain person to represent the district board and perform its functions—may be for the interregnum. That is our main point. The whole thing started with the Minister for Local Administration stating the origin or the genesis of this Bill, the reasons therefor and from his political point of view he thought 1942 was very good and patriotic. That elicited the answer from the members of my party who did not agree with that point of view. On that I was very much surprised and an elderly gentleman, the member for Chittoor, Mr. Varadachariar should have worked himself up into a fury. He was followed by another young man on the other side who went into hysterics. I want to make it clear that on our side we do not advocate nomination. We equally condemn any attempt on the part of the other side to nominate persons even for a short time for purposes of elections. I find from this that the duties of the Special Officer are very very extensive. He will be representing the entire district board. He represents the district board and discharges all the functions. A certain friend said the reason why we want to see the district boards go out of office is that in this short period they might squander the money of the district boards. What guarantee is there that this Special Officer would not do so? So there is no use saying that the nominated members will squander, so we want to substitute a single officer to look after the affairs. So the main point is this. Not we are opposed to elections. We are opposed to nominations and we are equally opposed to Special Officer being substituted. I do not know whether he is going to be an official or a non-official. I see that this Special Officer may be a non-official and he may be permitted to draw some remuneration. I find it stated 'to appoint for that district board a Special Officer to exercise the powers, discharge the duties and perform the functions of the district board and its president during the interval between the date of expiry of the term of the members previously holding office and the date on which the newly elected members will come into office.' Then it is said 'Whereas Special Officer is appointed, etc., he may receive payment for his services from the district fund.' So we do not know whether he will be a permanent officer or a person appointed for the purpose and some remuneration paid to him. There is a suspicion. Also it is wrong on principle to nominate a person to represent the board. It amounts to the previous board having been dissolved. Hitherto you remember, Mr. Speaker, when the district board has been superseded the Revenue Divisional Officer by virtue of the provisions of the Act, whether Municipal or District Boards Act, becomes an ex-officio president. There is that provision already. I do not see why a Special Officer should be appointed. The Revenue Divisional Officer or the District Collector might look after the affairs of the district board. Section 4 says: 'If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act, the Provincial Government may by order do anything which appears to them necessary.' Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will remember that this question of vesting powers in executive Government is to be deprecated. I know Congressmen have always condemned any provision in an Act which gives power to executive authority to rule this way or that way. There was a provision in the rules made under the Election Rules where it is said—it was a case of Justice Party having made that rule—which everyone of us condemned. What right has this Government to say 'this in my opinion is good' and 'this in my opinion is not good.' When principles and rights are involved it is not a wholesome principle to allow the executive Government to decide the matter. So, Sir, on these two grounds the suspicions of the parties who might oppose the Congress Party have risen. We have absolutely no objection to sections 2 and 3 going in. Those elections might be held as early as possible. But we object to these two measures going in. So all the heat created is misplaced, unnecessary and could have been avoided if the Minister for Local Self-Government had not given the history of the 1942 movement."

DR. D. S. RAMACHANDRA RAO:—"May I ask the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration whether he has any plan or any method by which the minority may be adequately represented through election, because that question might ease the situation very considerably?"

* SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad that my friend Janab Mahboob Ali Baig has spoken without emotion. I shall follow him. (Laughter.)

"The two purposes for which this Bill has been introduced by the Hon. Minister for Local Administration are firstly to remove nominated members, and secondly to appoint Special Officers for a very short time. I am glad that my hon. Friend on behalf of the Muslim League assured us that they hate nominations as much as we on this side of the House hate. So we do not want nominations. Let the nominated boards go immediately. They did not agree with us when the great 1942 movement was going on, when students were being shot by police officers on the 13th of August in Guntur, and all these things were taking place. Naturally, the members of the municipalities and district boards held that it was their duty to support the movement. The Government of the day, the Advisers' regime, removed them and put in nominated boards. They did not agree with us in political matters and so long as friends like Mr. Salam are there—Mr. Salam is a very troublesome man—they can never be johukums. I do not want to condemn them. Let them be there. As we all are agreed that they should not be any longer there, it is right that the Hon. Minister introduced this Bill in order to remove them immediately.

“Another point which they are making too much of is the appointment of Special Officers. Begum Mir Amiruddin and Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig said that we are following the same way in appointing Special Officers. Special Officers are not nominated members. Nominated members are members representing the public and are supposed to belong to some party or other. Instead of that, some official or the Commissioner himself or sometimes the Revenue Divisional Officer or the District Collector is usually appointed. Therefore, as the Minister has said, let there be some impartial officer during these two months. I am sure the Congress is going to contest the elections, and the Muslim League will also contest, and also the Communists though they have lost 27 out of the 28 seats. Naturally they will try their luck this time also. Nobody objects. Therefore it cannot be considered as nomination. This is appointing an impartial person to be there for a very short time so that the parties may have their own ways unrestricted. This Bill need not go to a Select Committee as it contains only two good provisions.

“With regard to the third point raised by Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig that the Government are taking too much power, I do not think it is so, because the power is taken only for the purpose of this Act. If any difficulty arises with regard to these two matters in interpretation or some such thing, then only the Government will be the final authority. What is wrong in it? What are the purposes of this Act? They are to remove nominated persons and appoint Special Officers. To see that the people do not go to a Court of law or to see that no trouble arises, the Government take that power. Therefore that criticism is also wrong.

“Only one more point I want to speak about. The Communist member Sri Venkateswarlu was harping on adult franchise and proportional representation. Adult franchise will come. The Congress is pledged to it. That is the basis of the great constitution that is going to be evolved by the Constituent Assembly. Where is the time for revising the electoral rolls now? As my hon. Friend knows, the electoral rolls for the municipalities and local boards are the same as those prepared for the Legislative Assembly. The lists are there, and these same lists are to be applied to the municipalities and district boards. So I want my hon. Friend to wait till the new constitution comes.

“Secondly, proportional representation is too difficult even in the most advanced countries, very difficult even to calculate votes. We know here how a mistake was made one day in the election of a member to the Constituent Assembly, and the next day it had to be corrected. Therefore to say that for local boards and municipalities proportional representation should be introduced is absurd. I support the motion.”

5th September 1946]

* N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—“The Member has used the expression ‘absurd’ which you have ruled as unparliamentary.”

The House then adjourned to meet again at 11 a.m. the next day.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, the 6th September 1946.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Fort St. George, at eleven of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUKHAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

I.—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

* 155 Q.—MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I do not propose to put the question,"^a Sir. It has already been answered yesterday."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member (Sri A. Kuppaswami Naidu) who put the question 156 is not in his seat. The answer will be printed in the Proceedings."

Lady Willingdon Leprosy Sanatorium.

* 156 Q.—SRI A. KUPPUSWAMI NAIDU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state—

(a) whether any memorandum was presented to the Government urging on them the necessity of taking over the management of the Lady Willingdon Leprosy Sanatorium directly into their hands with a view to improve the efficiency and usefulness of the institution in accordance with the terms of the agreement;

(b) if so, what action Government propose to take on the memorandum; and

(c) whether a copy of the memorandum will be laid on the table of the House?

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—" (a) Yes.

" (b) The matter is under consideration.

" (c) The Government see no need to do so."

Maternity benefit of women labourers.

* 157 Q.—SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state whether the Government propose to enhance the rate of maternity benefit of women labourers?

SRI B. S. MURTI (Parliamentary Secretary on behalf of Hon. Sri V. V. Giri):—"That matter has not been considered."

^a The number of I.N.A. personnel appointed by the Government.

* Q.—185 MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether any I.N.A. people have been appointed by Government;

(b) if the answer is in the affirmative, how many and to what posts; and

(c) whether it is the policy of the Government to appoint I.N.A. personnel even though they are not otherwise qualified for the same?

[6th September 1946]

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Will the Government consider the matter?"

SRI B. S. MURTI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"Yes, Sir."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I enquire whether the Government is not aware of the fact that the Post-war Reconstruction Committee decided that maternity leave to women workers should be extended from four weeks to six weeks?"

SRI B. S. MURTI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"Yes, Sir."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I enquire what has been done in that regard?"

SRI B. S. MURTI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"The matter is being considered."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I submit that as the matter has been pending for over a year and a half a decision should be arrived at soon?"

SRI B. S. MURTI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"The matter is being considered and a decision will be taken very soon."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, after all the suggestion is for an extension of the benefit from four weeks to six weeks. Will the time required for consideration of the question be also extended from four weeks to six weeks?" (Laughter.)

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know what is the rate that is now being paid?"

SRI B. S. MURTI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"I would request the hon. Member to refer to the Act, Sir."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know Sir, whether the Government will put in all these things in the comprehensive labour legislation which they are going to introduce?"

SRI B. S. MURTI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"I think the hon. Member is aware that the Hon. Minister for Labour has already informed the House that a comprehensive Bill covering all questions of labour will be brought before this House."

Cooking utensils in jails.

* 158 Q.—SRI M. DORAICANNU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Law be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that all cooking is done in jails in vessels made of iron or steel; and

(b) whether the Government propose to consider the question of using brass vessels coated with tin inside for cooking purpose?

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—" (a) It is not correct to state that all cooking in jails is done in vessels of iron and steel—some mud vessels also are used. But it is true that most of the cooking is done in iron or steel vessels. This is done under rule 351 of the Madras Prison and Reformatory Manual, Volume II.

[6th September 1946]

"(b) No; but a proposal to substitute aluminium vessels is being examined. The Inspector-General has been requested to submit an estimate of the expenditure involved in the proposal."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, why iron vessels are being used and how they came into existence? Is it according to the Manual?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I do not know how they came to be introduced. I was not there when the rules were made. But I have made some investigation into the matter. Most of the cooking vessels are of iron or steel and the prepared food or kolumbu are left in such vessels for long periods. The food acquires a flavour not at all to taste and perhaps unwholesome. These must be replaced by brass vessels tinned inside or aluminium vessels. The former one are more durable and probably cheaper in the long run. The tinning may be done by any prisoner. Wherever possible, mud vessels may also be used as it is being done in some of the sub-jails. It is true they are brittle and liable to break easily, but they are also cheaper. At any rate mud vessels may be used for storing and keeping the cooked food or prepared kolumbu."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Are the Government aware of the bad smell that will be produced when cooking in iron or steel vessels and how the smell works on the prisoners who eat the food?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I know that bad smell will be produced when cooking in iron vessels, but I shall have to investigate how it affects the prisoners' health."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"Will the Hon. the Minister for Law be pleased to state how raw rice is interpreted as boiled rice by the jail authorities and may I know how the iron vessels came into the jail for cooking when there is no such reference in the Jail Manual Code?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I should like to have notice for this question."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I ask, Sir, whether the Hon. the Minister for Law will be pleased to allow prisoners in sub-jails to use their own vessels?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"It is not a practical proposition. But the suggestion of the hon. Member is good. Let him submit a memorial to the Government on the subject. Then the matter will be considered."

[6th September 1946]

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"As cooking in iron vessels is not good for health, cannot mud vessels be used instead?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"That will also be considered. In fact, I have suggested it in my previous answer."

SRI K. SUBBA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, whether cooking in iron or steel vessels is not good for health?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I will have to take medical opinion on it."

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know, Sir, whether the prisoners will be permitted to have their food cooled in mud pots, if they so desire?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I think, that it can be done."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"Sir, referring to cooking in iron vessels, may I ask what is the experience of the Hon. the Minister as prisoner?" (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"As I have already told the House, the smell was not good."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Will the Government note the fact that since cooking in jails is done for a large number of prisoners, the use of mud vessels would often result in breakages and waste?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Yes, that is also a matter that has to be considered."

SRI A. SATYANARAYANA:—"సబ్-జైల్స్ లో ఉండే ఖైదీలకు వారి సేరంబు ఋతువు కాకముందు, శిక్షలు పడకముందు, వారికి కావలసిన పరికరాలు, వస్త్రాలు వస్త్రాల సౌకర్యాలు కలిపి ఉండాలి. (పడుతూ) ఇంతవరకు ఏమి చేసింది? ఆ విషయమే ఏర్పాటు చేస్తారా?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"This is not a supplementary question arising out of the main question."

Selection of candidates for technical study in U.K. and U.S.A.

* 159 Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Government have selected 44 candidates for technical studies abroad in U.K. and U.S.A. this year;

(b) if so, what is the policy the Government have adopted in selecting the candidates;

(c) what are the qualifications of the selected candidates; and

(d) how many of the selected candidates are Harijans?

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM (on behalf of Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar):—" (a) Yes. The Government of India allotted 50 scholarships to this Presidency for advanced studies overseas. Candidates for 46 scholarships have been nominated finally. Selection of candidates for the remaining four is under correspondence with the Government of India.

[6th September 1946]

" (b) The hon. Member presumably refers to the procedure for selection of candidates for the scholarships.

" Applications were invited by means of public advertisement and the selection was made by a Committee consisting of a member of the Board of Revenue as Chairman and the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, and a Member of the Madras Public Service Commission as members. The Committee interviewed the candidates and made the selection. In making the selection the Committee was asked to see that adequate representation was given to the minority communities provided suitable candidates were forthcoming. In respect of the group of subjects connected with 'Industries', the Committee was also instructed to see that as far as possible adequate representation was given to each of the linguistic areas of the Province. In the matter of qualifications the Committee was instructed that as far as possible no student should be selected who did not possess a First-class Master's degree or equivalent qualifications in the subject or basic science concerned, preference being given to those who had also acquired some practical and research experience of value, subject to allowances being made for—

- (1) specialities in respect of which there would be no applicant with a first-class qualification;
- (2) cases where field experience and research after taking a second-class degree might be assessed higher than a mere first-class; and
- (3) the need for securing adequate representation for backward classes and for the various linguistic areas.

" (c) Thirty-nine candidates possess First-class Master's or Bachelor's degrees and seven candidates possess second-class degrees with practical experience.

" (d) Two persons belonging to the scheduled classes possessing second-class degrees applied; none of them was selected."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Referring to the answer to clause (d) of the question, may I know, Sir, the reason for not selecting the two scheduled caste second-class degree-holders?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"The reason was that they did not possess the requisite qualifications."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, I want to make a small suggestion. In view of the fact that the answer to this question is a long one and in view of the fact that it is an important question, may I suggest that the answer may be printed and circulated to the House, so that we may be enabled to put supplementary questions to-morrow or on Monday?"

[6th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I will not be here on Monday, Sir. I think, to-morrow will be better."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Then I postpone that question to to-morrow. The answer will be circulated to hon. Members."

Dearness allowance to employees of Local Boards.

* 159-A Q.—SRI K. BRAHMANANDAM REDDI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware that dearness allowance was paid to all Government servants with retrospective effect from 1st July 1944 to 31st December 1944 as per G.O. No. 277, Finance, dated 29th March 1946, of the Advisers' Government while it was denied to the employees in local boards and municipalities;

(b) whether it is a fact that the Advisers' Government have ordered in their G.O. No. 1053, L.A., dated 12th June 1946, the payment of arrear dearness allowances at the enhanced rates to conservancy staff; and

(c) whether the Government are prepared to see at least now that a popular Government is in office, that all employees in the local bodies are placed on a par with the Government servants in the matter of paying arrear dearness allowance to ensure contentment and efficiency?

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—" (a) The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. The payment of arrears of dearness allowance to the employees of local bodies was not referred to in the Government Order.

" (b) The hon. member must be aware that at the time of the issue of this Government Order, dated 12th June 1946, the present Ministry was in office. The present Government reviewed the position and as an urgent measure, sanctioned the payment of arrears of dearness allowance to conservancy menials employed under local bodies.

" (c) The matter is under the immediate consideration of the Government and early orders will issue."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I ask the Hon. Minister whether the Government will be pleased to issue orders to the appropriate authorities to disburse the arrears of dearness allowance to those to whom he said in connexion with a similar question he has already issued orders?"

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"What was ordered in connexion with that question was the payment of dearness allowance to the conservancy menials. So far as the non-conservancy staff are concerned, the matter is under the consideration of the Government and early orders will issue."

[6th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"At least in view of the fact that so much distress is prevailing in the country, will Government consider the desirability of ordering it even now?"

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"The Government are actually aware of the acute distress among the menials and therefore they will pass orders as early as possible."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Are the Government aware of the fact that due to the delay in the disbursement of their dearness allowance many an employee of the local boards has to incur debts and pay interest thereon and if so whether the Government will please consider the desirability of paying dearness allowance with interest?" (Loud laughter.)

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"Sir, the Government are unable to hold themselves responsible for the delay, because there has been no avoidable delay. The question of payment of interest on the dearness allowance due does not therefore arise."

[Note.—An asterisk (*) at the commencement of a speech indicates revision by the Member.]

II.—ADJOURNMENT MOTION RE THE S.I.R. STRIKE.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Sri P. Venkateswarlu has given notice of an adjournment motion for discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance. The motion is this—

'The recent action of the District Superintendent of Police, Trichinopoly, and the Malabar Special Police in entering the Workers' Colony on 5th September 1946 and the premises of the Railway Labour Union, opening fire on unarmed workers and resort to indiscriminate and brutal lathi charge on the workers at 8-30 a.m. resulting in the death of four workers and serious wounds to nine others besides injuries to over 100 workers, as part of the one-sided policy pursued by the Police in their handling of the strike situation, favouring the administration of the South Indian Railway General Manager has resulted in a tense situation, where public confidence has been shaken and grave misgivings have arisen as to the safety of any person involved in the strike or showing sympathy to it.'

'This situation has raised grave doubts in the minds of the workers and sections of the public as to the rightness of the policy adopted by the Congress Ministry in regard to such acts.'"

"Before giving my decision on the admissibility of the motion, I will call upon Mr. Venkateswarlu to post me with the full facts of this matter. Without entering into details he may explain the matter. I allow him five minutes to do so."

SRI KALLURI SUBBA RAO:—"The motion is self-explanatory."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"No, it is not."

[6th September 1946]

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I will move the motion, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"No. The motion could not be moved now. The hon. Member, in order to enable me to decide whether to admit the motion or not, may within the five minutes I have allowed, put me in possession of all the facts of the case."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Sir, I rise to give the facts regarding the adjournment motion of which I have given notice. You know the S.I.R. strike has been going on for the last 21 days. Of course this Government have no jurisdiction over Railways, but the use of the police against the workers is the concern of this Government. This has gone to such an extent to-day that there has been a brutal lathi charge, opening of fire by the police and murdering people. All these things have happened and are happening. In fact what I have to add to all these happenings is the arrest of comrade Anandan Nambiyar, a member of this House yesterday. On the whole, yesterday itself, i.e., on the day the lathi charge was made; firing also took place in Golden Rock resulting in the death of four persons and about 100 were seriously injured. Our comrade Anandan Nambiyar was one of those injured seriously on his head.

"Moreover, I would like to bring to the notice of the House how the workers, who are conducting the strike in a most peaceful manner, are being harassed. The presidents and secretaries of 23 branch unions have been arrested and the President Mr. Ismail Khan of the Golden Rock Branch has also been arrested. Dr. Rajan's grandson's wife has also been arrested in this connexion."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Whose grandson?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Dr. Rajan's grandson's wife, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Which Rajan?"

An Hon. Member:—"Our M.L.C., Sir."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"And also ex-Minister."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Altogether 23 presidents and secretaries of branch unions have been arrested bringing the total number of arrests since the commencement of the strike to 10,050."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"How many?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Ten hundred and fifty."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"That is only 1,050 and not 10,050."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Yes, Sir, 1,050. I say that this sort of large scale arrests are going on in the regime of our Congress Ministry.

"I should like to bring to the notice of the House another matter to show how things are going on there. A special court has been established to convict the arrested workers. I suggest that this court should rather convict Mr. Harrison and his company and Mr. Reynold, the Railway Manager, for causing all this trouble and for killing the people.

"Sir, most of the Communist party leaders have been unnecessarily arrested. In to-days' paper we see that Mr. P. Ramamurti and other Communist leaders have been arrested in Madura for no fault of theirs. The S.I.R. strike has been going on in a most peaceful manner. In spite of provocation on the part of the police, the workers are remaining peaceful and yet police repression is going on."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member has only one minute more."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"One word more, Sir. Not only are there these arrests . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"How many deaths took place? How many people died in the recent occurrences?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Four, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I am quite satisfied with the details given by the hon. Member in support of his motion for adjournment."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I want to speak, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Does the hon. Member want to appeal to the Hon. the Premier?"

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Yes. Mr. Speaker, Sir, whether we agree or not with the views of the Communist party to which my hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswarlu belongs or whether we agree with other Communists as Members is a different matter. We have, of course, as a matter of fact, many differences with them. But the question before the House is a request for granting an opportunity for thrashing out on the floor of the House a definite matter of urgent public importance. Many misunderstandings exist in certain quarters over this matter. For our part and, also I know on the part of the Government Benches . . ."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"On a point of order . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"No point of order at this stage."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"We are for the liquidation of the present situation. We are for settling this affair and for maintaining industrial peace. For that purpose I think the matter will be facilitated if the Hon. the Leader of the House will give an opportunity to this House to discuss this matter."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"On a point of order, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"No point of order now. The hon. Member will please resume his seat."

[6th September 1946]

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Government may then explain and clear any misunderstanding that may exist particularly in view of the fact that one of the Hon. Members of this House has been arrested. I appeal to the Hon. the Premier to give an opportunity for the House to discuss the matter and also to let us hear from his lips the position which the Government is taking in the matter and which the Government propose to take in the future. This will facilitate, as I told you, Sir, the early liquidation of the unhappy situation that is existing to-day."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I request the Hon. the Premier to give us his opinion and to say whether he accepts or opposes the admission of this motion."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, the notice given by the Communist Member of the House does not contain all the facts and his oral statement also does not contain all the facts. For our part, on this side, we too have not got a full report of the happenings at Golden Rock. As the Leader of the Opposition has stated, we should not, on this side of the House, hesitate to have a full discussion of the matter in this House. It is better that we know where we are with regard to the activities of those who have been promoting disturbance of peace. Therefore, Sir, you may fix sometime tomorrow (7th September) for the discussion of this matter."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"But rule 40 of the Madras Legislative Assembly Rules lays down that such a motion will be taken up at 4 p.m. the same day."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Yes, Sir. I started by saying that this matter may be discussed and the Leader of the Opposition also wanted the discussion so that matters may be clear. I do not concede, Sir, this is a matter for moving an adjournment of the House."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"So, the Hon. the Premier is opposing it?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Yes, on that point. The matter is not fit for adjournment motion. Without admitting it, the Government would like to have a discussion, as required by hon. the Leader of the Opposition, to understand the facts as they have occurred. I suggest, Sir, to-morrow for a discussion of this matter so that we may have time to get the fullest details possible and not the scrappy information that we have got from telegrams."

11-30 a.m. ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I submit that to get out of the difficulty the hon. Member may be asked to move the same motion tomorrow?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"No, it cannot be done."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"He can withdraw the motion to-day."

[6th September 1946]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Rule 14 says—

"14. While in session a meeting of the Assembly shall ordinarily commence at 11 a.m. and conclude at 5 p.m.:

"Provided that on notice given to the Speaker at question time, the Speaker may, in his discretion, allow half an hour after 5 p.m. or after the conclusion of the business of the day, whichever is earlier, to enable a Member to raise a debate on any matter of urgent importance which has been the subject of a question or on that day . . .

I think the Hon. Minister wants to take up this question under this rule. Is it so?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Yes, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Does the hon. the Leader of the House want this to be taken up tomorrow?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Or this afternoon after 5 o'clock. But I think tomorrow will be better because I am expecting information."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It is better that we are posted with full facts. I have to inform Mr. Venkateswaralu that I admit this motion and fix tomorrow after 5 p.m. for its discussion under rule 14. We shall proceed to the next item on the agenda."

SRI K. SUBBA RAO:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are not able to hear anything which is going on there."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It is due to the defects in the mikes."

AN HON. MEMBER:—"Not in the men?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. the Leader of the Opposition will speak through the mike."

III.—THE MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES AND LOCAL BOARDS (SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL, 1946.

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, I support the amendment moved by my hon. Friend Mr. Ibrahim. The Bill before the House is suffering from defects of omission as well as commission. I will refer to them presently. In the meantime, I want that some more time should be given to the Members of the House to go through this Bill and have the several provisions discussed in the Select Committee. That is the object of the amending motion. It is nothing much that is asked of the Government and I hope they will agree to give the time required and have the Bill discussed in a Select Committee."

"Sir, we are all for the principle of election; none of us want this nomination. That much is sure. We are as enthusiastic as anybody else in upholding that principle, but that principle must be so put into practice as to give the due rights and privileges to all the people and satisfy the desires and requirements of the various elements of the population. But Sir, in this Bill I do not find anything which takes the place of nomination so as to give satisfaction to the minority communities. The House has been told previously that one of the objects of nomination was to give adequate representation to the minority communities and the various other elements that might not come in through election. Sir, we have been urging upon the Government to extend the principle of separate electorates to the local boards and municipalities and also to the Corporation of Madras. I would request the Government to consider that question well and accede to the request put forward by us. Sir, it is not separate electorate that is responsible for any ill-will or friction or bickerings that we find in the body politic of the Province to-day, but it is really the opposition to that principle that is the cause of all these things. Separate electorates are only a recognition of the fact that differences exist between one community and another. It is also a recognition of the fact that unless these differences are properly and squarely met there would not be harmony in this Province. It is for that purpose that separate electorates have been brought in. If the Muslim community and the other minority communities get their due representation through separate electorates and get their real representatives, much of the present trouble will be removed. It is for harmony in the Province that we are stressing the need for separate electorates. Even as it is, the present arrangements are working as a hardship against the Muslims. They have got a complaint in the matter of the delimitation of the constituencies. Take a group of villages where there is a large Muslim population and where the villages are situated near each other. In delimiting the constituencies for the district boards for example, these villages are divided and dispersed between more than one constituency. The result is that even the small voting strength of the Muslim community is frittered away. This defect has to be rectified, but we do not find anything in the Bill which touches upon this question at all.

“ With regard to the question of the appointment of special officers, I am not convinced of the reasons given for these appointments during the interregnum. It is stated that existing members might influence the electorates. Will not special officers also influence electorates? It is the ordinary practice and rule that the sitting members should hold office until the new members are elected to their places. Why should we go behind this ordinary practice of democracy? Even during the section 93 regime, elections and big general elections took place. The party at present in power was not in power then. Yet the officers who were there under that regime were not able to influence the course of elections. Our friends have again come back with a thumping majority. Therefore why should they be afraid of the influence of the sitting members at all, I cannot understand. I think, Sir, in fairness to all the parties concerned and in fairness to the sitting members who cannot all of them be dubbed as mere partisans, the usual practice of allowing them to be in office until the new members come in, should be allowed.

6th September 1946] [M. Muhammad Ismail Sahib Bahadur]

“ Then, Sir, there is another clause in the Bill, clause 4, I think it is a dangerous clause as it gives an omnibus power to the Government. It says: ‘ If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act . . . the Provincial Government may, as occasion may arise, by order do anything which appears to them necessary for the purpose of removing the difficulty ’. I find such an omnibus clause not only in this Bill but also in the other Bills. I think it is not a salutary provision. The difficulties must be defined beforehand and they must be provided for definitely in the Bill. What are those difficulties and what are the remedies you want? You cannot simply say, ‘ If any difficulties come, the Government shall have the power. ’ The Government may call anything a difficulty. You may say, Sir, that the Government is a popular Government, that it has been elected by the party which in turn has been elected by the people. All the same, Sir, even after the executive has come into power, side by side with it, there is the Legislature. What is the meaning of it? This Legislature has got a definite function, the supreme function of scrutinizing the acts of the executive and seeing whether they are in any way a restriction on the civil liberties of the people. If that was unnecessary, then broadly speaking, I do not think, there would be any necessity at all for the Legislature to exist after the Government had been formed. The very constitution of that great country, the United States of America, is based on the suspicion of the executive, the suspicion that the executive might encroach on the civil liberties of the people. Some British critics of that constitution have remarked that on account of this, the executive in America is not capable of quick action in any emergency. But, Sir, I do not think there is much force in that. The late President Roosevelt, while he was having the word ‘ neutrality ’ on his lips was able by his own executive actions to commit that great country to participation on one side in the war, although at that time no aggression had been committed on any part of the American soil and the Legislature of the country had not formally declared war. What I want to say is that in cases of emergency, such provision is understandable in spite of any provisions of the constitution or the laws of the country. But, Sir, the liberty of the subject is a sacred one. Of course, it has got its own limitations on which we are all agreed, but within those limitations the liberty of the individual must be considered as sacred. There must be a limit to the restrictions that can be placed upon the individual liberty of the people. Now, under this clause, Sir, Government can come forward—I do not say that this Government are going to come forward with such proposal—any Government may, if they think fit, come forward and say, ‘ This, we consider, is a difficulty. ’ But even on that particular point there may be two opinions and a number of other people may think that there is no difficulty. But the Government may still think that it is a difficulty and that they have got a right to do as they please.

[M. Muhammad Ismail Sahib Bahadur] [6th September 1946]

"Sir, even supposing that there is a real difficulty and that it is not provided for under this Act, then the proper way to deal with it should be for the Government to come before this House for a solution of the difficulty. In the name of the liberty of the individual, Sir, that should be the procedure. Therefore, Sir, I am strongly of the view that this clause 4 must completely go out of this Bill. If you visualize any future difficulties, they must be clearly defined and definite provisions made to meet them. With these words, Sir, I support the amendment moved by my hon. Friend."

* Mr. SPEAKER:—"I have allowed a number of Members to speak, still there are one or two members who want to speak. I will allow them five minutes each."

* SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I congratulate the Hon. Minister for Local Administration on having brought forward this measure at a proper time like this. In this connexion, I should like to bring to the notice of the House the difficulties experienced by many members not only of my community but also of other minority communities. The purpose of the Bill is to abolish the present local bodies as they are not representative of the electorate. Special Officers will be appointed for sometime. It is fair to say that before the elections, no one party should be in power in local boards, as members might do so many things in order to come to power again."

"Sir, while I am supporting this Bill, I would request the Hon. Minister to take note of what has been said by our Leader, Mr. Muniswami Pillai, that adult franchise must be introduced as early as possible. Then alone can we Harijans get proper representation. Not only adult franchise, I request the Hon. Minister to consider also the question of representation on population basis. I should like to bring to the notice of the House the injustice done to Harijans in my own district. They form a population of 1½ lakhs out of a total of 10 lakhs but the number of seats allotted is only 3. We form nearly one-sixth of the population and therefore we should have more seats. Three seats will not be enough. Justice should be done to all minority communities. Sir, in a democratic government we should have the representatives of all sections of the people. When we are aspiring for cent per cent democracy, it is but fair and just, Sir, that we should have more representation than we have at present."

11-45 a.m. "The Madras Corporation can be said to be the mother of all the municipalities in the districts. Here in the Corporation there is a convention that each and every community will have a chance by rotation of presiding over the Corporation and conducting its business. Our able Speaker has done that once before as he is conducting the business here to-day. They will give a chance for all the minority communities to be in power at least once in four times."

* Mr. SPEAKER:—"Communal representation in the Corporation is not in the Act; it is only a convention."

6th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"That is what I am saying. Taking this convention as an example, I request the Hon. Minister to amend the Act and make it a regular provision. Conventions may be converted into constitutions and constitutions may be converted into conventions. (Laughter.) I request the Hon. Minister to take these facts into consideration and see that in the local boards, municipalities and panchayat boards, every community is properly represented according to its population. Another important thing is that a chance should be given to each and every community to hold executive power at least once in four times."

* SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to say only a few words. But for the soothing manner and attitude in which Mr. Baig spoke yesterday, the speeches on the other side of the House, from the Muslim benches, were of a strange order. I could not understand even to-day, whether Mr. Salami will prefer election to nomination."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Yesterday, Sir, there was a lot of heat imported into certain matters which were of vital importance. I thought last night would make every one forget all that happened yesterday on the one side or the other, and to-day we would meet in a calmer atmosphere. I would appeal to the hon. Mr. Manigar and other friends also to speak in a quiet and dispassionate manner, and I am also going to make an appeal in the end after the Hon. Mr. Thomas who is in charge of the subject, has replied."

* MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, had it not been for the fact that some illogical and unreasonable statements were made on the other side—I do not refer to any vehemence—on the question of the principle involved in the amendment that is now before the House, I would not have risen to speak just now. It was said the object for which this Bill was brought was that the people who man municipalities, district boards and panchayat boards at present are johocums. Sir, I ask whether there is any guarantee that the people whom the present Ministry is going to appoint, will not be johocums. Do they not think, according to the same logic, that people affiliated to other organizations could have the self-same suspicion that the people who are to be now appointed will also be johocums? For the matter of that, I may say that all of us here, every one of us here, are johocums. We are johocums either to the Congress High Command or to the Muslim League High Command or to the High Command of the organization to which we belong. Whenever any orders are issued from the High Command of the organization to which we belong, certainly we obey. Again, even though we differ, if a majority decides something, we certainly fall in line. That is because of the allegiance which we owe to the organization to which we belong. Therefore, there is no one in this House who is an exception to the appellation of johocum or Omdhadast so long as they are all devotees of one organization."

[Muhammad Hussain Sahib Bahadur] [6th September 1946]

or another. Therefore I say it is not reasonable or logical to say that the present people are jokoocums and that therefore the present Bill is necessary. I also ask, Sir, has the present Ministry lost confidence in the non-officials who now man the local boards and the other institutions and will they have confidence in the officials whose employment they contemplate. Sir, days are changing and sovereignty also is changing from officialdom to the citizens of the country. In these days, if you are going to suspect the non-officials who man the institutions to-day, I ask, are you really loyal and true to the principle which you yourself proclaimed, you adhere to now? I request you to have confidence in the people who are now in office in local boards and municipalities. The Minister for Local Boards said that with a view to appoint non-party men, the present Bill is brought forward. May I know to which party the people at present in the local boards and municipalities belong? Do they belong to the Justice party or to any other party? If they belong to a party other than the Congress, then do you mean to say that they will not be impartial? I know people may belong to one party or the other, but they may also change as times change. For the matter of that, I may mention that the Hon. Minister for Local Boards was once a veteran leader of the Justice Party and now he adorns the Treasury Benches of the Congress Party. Because one man belongs to one party, nobody can say he is not impartial. It is not the party that decides the partiality, integrity or honesty of a man; it is the man's integrity and character that count, so far as impartiality is concerned. I also wish to bring to the notice and serious consideration of the Ministry the fact that if you do not have confidence in people belonging to parties other than the Congress, you cannot also expect members belonging to other parties to have confidence in the people belonging to your party. You must show tolerance before you preach tolerance to others. You say that even though the Government is constituted by one party, the other party must certainly co-operate and render constructive help; I ask you if the present members in the local boards and municipalities belong to a certain party other than your own Congress Party, should you not also have confidence in them and show tolerance?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"You are exceeding your time-limit."

* MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am one of those unfortunate men who always come under the five minutes class. Please give me one or two more minutes and I shall finish. When you say that people are corrupt and adopt the most base devices to turn the elections against you, I ask you, if you are really convinced of the justice of your case and the justice of your programmes and the justice of your creed, why should you fear? Have you lost confidence in the support of the people at large? Or is it a reflection on the integrity and honesty of the voters at large? Why do you fear that the public will easily be corrupted? Are they so easily corruptible after all? I ask you to consider. One of my friends on the other side said that after all, the period for which these appointments are going to be made, is only a short one. I ask, if it is a short one, why should you not have the patience to tolerate the present people for this short period? Have you not got patience and tolerance enough to the extent of this short period?

[6th September 1946] [Muhammad Hussain Sahib Bahadur]

"Another question was put to us that supposing the 1942 rebellion was not started and the local boards and municipalities were not superseded, 'then what will you do?' That was the question put to us. I ask that gentleman, if the elections in this year were not conducted and the Congress Ministry did not come into office, what will you do? Therefore, I say these are not reasons which will justify the present Bill before the House."

"Reference was also made to separate electorates and separate representation. In the name of democracy, the party in power is prepared to go to any length. They are not even prepared to believe the electorate, if it is fully constituted of Muslim voters? Sir, I ask you, if you do not have confidence in an electorate comprising Muslim voters, how can you expect us to have confidence in an electorate consisting mostly of non-Muslim voters? If you say we should also enjoy the confidence of a majority of non-Muslim voters, I ask you, you must devise a system by which you must win the confidence of the majority of Muslim voters to succeed in the election. If you are to win the confidence of a majority of non-Muslim voters, why should you not also win the confidence of a majority of Muslim voters? Therefore, please have some reason, some limit to applying the principle of democracy to separate electorates. I am afraid as devotees of democracy, they may even go to the extent of saying that Muslim boys and girls should not have been born of parents, both of them being Muslims. They may say there must be joint company there also, that if the husband be a Muslim, the wife should be non-Muslim and if the wife be Muslim, the husband should be non-Muslim. I do not know whether they will go to this extent in the name of democracy and bring in a bill one day to that effect. Let us have mutual confidence in each other; please have confidence in us. Even though we are elected through separate electorates, still we know what is right and what is wrong. Therefore, I request the Hon. Minister, in the name of tolerance, to please withdraw this measure and allow the elections to be held as early as possible by the people who are at present in the local boards and municipalities. With these words, Sir, I support the hon. Member Mr. Ibrahim's motion."

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"At the outset of my 12 noon. introductory speech, I stated that both the provisions covered under this Bill are of a non-controversial character. There has been a lively debate on the subject, sometimes emitting more heat than light, but anyway, I think the discussion has only served to bring out the fundamental soundness of the principles involved in this Bill and the desirability of the provisions for restoring election in local bodies. But, Sir, in the course of this debate, references have been made to certain fears and certain apprehensions as to what may happen if this Bill is given effect to. I shall be able, in the course of my remarks, to convince, if they are open to conviction, that there is no such room for any apprehension or fear at all. Before I deal with these matters, I would like to make a few observations of a general character. My hon. Friend, Mr. Pocker, has said that this measure is intended and is calculated to enable the Congress Party to lay their greedy hands on all the seats of power in local boards and to put their own henchmen there. Such an eminent lawyer as my hon. Friend, Mr. Pocker, will agree with me when I say that facts and circumstances are more trustworthy than prejudices and apprehensions. I am speaking facts and facts speak for themselves. You heard, Sir, from certain members on this side of the House, that it would have been far better if as soon as the Minister took up office, the old reconstituted municipal councils and district boards had been abolished and the original municipal councils and district boards had been reinstated in power. These boards and councils have been liquidated under the Defence of India Rules for purely political reasons without any reference to questions of administration of the local bodies and it would have been open to the present Ministry to have acted on the lines suggested. But, Sir, the present Ministry wanted to be tolerant and wanted to be forbearing and though they had all the authority and power to reinstate the municipal councils and district boards, they did not do so because they had the spirit of tolerance and the spirit of forbearance."

"Well, Sir, the question of Chittoor has been referred to in the course of the debate. The instance of Chittoor will again exemplify and illustrate beyond question nor cavil the policy of the present Ministry. Just before this Ministry assumed office, 19 seats became vacant in Chittoor District Board; if we acted on the lines suggested by my hon. Friend Mr. Pocker, we would have put in 19 good true men—votaries of the Congress Party—on the board, but Sir, we were not prepared to adopt the principle of nomination. Supposing this Bill is not put on the Statute Book, what would be the position? What would happen to the Chittoor District Board? Under the present Act XXIV of 1942, the Board will have to be reconstituted as a compulsory measure by appointment by Government. Therefore, whether it is 25 or 52 according to the original number—whatever it be—the full quota of the members of the district board will have to be appointed under the provisions of the Act XXIV of 1942. If that is done, my friend Mr. Salam will prepare and table a series of questions as persons appointed to this board and about their character and fitness. I am anxious to help my friend, Mr. Salam, and to save him from the labour of framing these questions and also to save myself from the labour of answering them. We are throwing open the Chittoor District Board for election. It is after all a people's matter and people elect their own representatives to the district board. Is that not a fair and free offer? Does that indicate that the Congress is anxious to grab all the seats for themselves? It is in our hands and we could have put in the required number, but we refrained from doing so and we have left it for the people to elect their own representatives to the district board. I submit, Sir, this is proof, and conclusive proof to indicate that the intentions of the Government are far from what were indicated by my hon. Friend, Mr. Pocker.

"Then again, Sir, various apprehensions have been expressed by my hon. Friend on the other side as to the character and qualities of the special officers who are likely to be appointed when the district boards are superseded. Take the case again of Chittoor, where we have appointed as Special Officer one Mr. Amirtha Ganesan, who was a Superintendent in the Finance Department of this Government in 1941 and who was appointed during the Advisers' regime, as the Commissioner of the Nellore Municipality and subsequently as the Commissioner of the Bezwada Municipality and afterwards, he was promoted as the Deputy Inspector of Local Boards. Up to date there has been no whisper of any complaint about his bona fides and he has been impartially carrying on the administration of the district board. That indicates the line we hope to adopt in future. History repeats itself; not only in general history but also in the acts of the Ministry. Therefore, what has been done in the past may be taken as a guarantee of what will be done in the future. My hon. Friend, Mr. Hameed Khan, has been very good to me. He appealed to me to safeguard the interest of minority communities. As a member of a minority community myself, let me assure him that the Congress Party and the present Ministry are out, anxious, ready and willing to do the utmost justice to the claims and demands of every minority community including the Harijans, Muslims and Christians. Sir, the fact that the Speaker of this august Assembly is a member of the Harijan community and the fact that members of the Christian and Harijan communities have seats on the Treasury Benches are sufficient proof of the just recognition of the claims of the various communities by this Government. May I say, Sir, the Hon. the Premier is not only prepared to do justice but is prepared to go even further, not only to be just but also generous in the matter of the claims of Harijans, Christians, Muslims and other minority communities. In the course of the debate, the hon. the Leader of the Opposition as well as my hon. Friend Mr. Hameed Khan and also my hon. Friend coming from my own district, Mr. Hussain, referred to the question of joint and separate electorates. It appears to me that that question is not pertinent and relevant here. I believe that a further opportunity will occur for bringing in a comprehensive measure to amending the District Municipalities Act, the Local Boards Act and the City Municipal Act, to discuss and determine the question of joint and separate electorate but may I appeal to the Leader of the Opposition and my other hon. Friends of the Muslim League to examine in the meantime the conditions prevailing since the introduction of joint electorates in the local boards in this Province. I think, my hon. Friend sitting opposite is himself a Chairman of an elected council where there is a Hindu majority. I may say that in my own town of Palamcottah with a population of 30,000 of whom about 5,000 are Hindus and a large majority of Muslims, one Rao Bahadur K. S. Ponnuswami was the Chairman for a long period and I succeeded him for two successive terms as Chairman, and during one of the terms a Muslim was my Vice-President. Well, Sir, it was a happy family; in our council, Sir, we never remembered that one was a Christian, Muslim or Hindu."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"My submission is that the circumstances narrated by the Minister have prevailed and will prevail so long as political parties do not take part in local politics."

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"I am thankful to my hon. Friend and I may mention what I feel in my own mind and what I have given expression to in connexion with the formation of the municipalities of this Province is now that elections are coming up and the Congress, the Muslim League and various other parties will put up their candidates for election, and when once these members are elected to the municipalities and local boards, I hope and trust there will be no party divisions and all of us will unite without any question of conflicting interests in working the administration. There is no such thing as Hindu water, or Muslim drainage or Christian light since these are the common civic amenities of all our towns."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir, may I ask the Hon. Minister to say on behalf of his party that they will cease putting up candidates as Congressmen to local bodies?"

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"That is altogether a different question. Here, I wish to confine myself to this, namely, that members when once they are elected to local boards, be they Hindus, Muslims or Christians—it does not matter to which community they belong—will all work together in unison for the better administration of local bodies bearing in mind that the civic amenities are common to all and that there should be no conflict of interest in regard to such matters. We are trying to revitalize our local bodies, give them greater authority and power and to provide them more resources in the way of income and taxation. Therefore, I would appeal to all sections of the House, Sir, to co-operate in the administration of local bodies in order to make them effective and vital instruments for the uplift of the masses of the people of this country. Now, we are having Swaraj at the top, Swaraj at Delhi and Swaraj at Fort St. George will not be effective unless we have Swaraj in our local bodies built from the bottom to the top. Once again, I appeal to hon. Members to co-operate in the matter of local administration in order to improve the health, happiness and living conditions of the vast masses of the people.

"I remember, Sir, the statement made by a famous English Statesman: 'Give to the country what was meant for mankind.' My hon. Friends of the Muslim League are welcome to claim their just rights for their own community and in doing so, let them not be cribbed, cabbined and confined to narrow limits of a particular community and forgot the larger interests of the nation at large. (Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur: 'Question.') My hon. Friend Mr. Hameed Khan questions me. His voice has been heard for several years in the Madras Corporation and his voice has been the voice not of the Muslims alone but of the public of Madras. I hope and trust that for a long number of years to come, his voice may be heard not only in respect of any particular section but the entire people of Madras.

"Well, Sir, there is one other aspect of the question which I would like to mention; there is no idea to grab power. You will see that under clause 3, elections have to be held for the first time after the commencement of this Act, to fill vacancies in the office of the members of any district board; therefore, clause 3 strictly confines itself to district boards; it does not apply to municipal councils. If it was really the intention of the Government to seize power in order to provide seats for their henchmen, they would have done so. Why is it that councils are not included? There are somewhere about eighty municipalities in our Province and most of these municipalities, at least very many of them, are reconstituted municipalities brought into existence under Act XXIV of 1942. By one stroke Government could have taken power to dissolve all these municipal councils and also appoint commissioners to look after them but, Sir, this Bill is rigorously committed to the immediate and necessary purpose, namely, at the time of election, there may be free and fair elections. Fair field and no favour. I would ask the hon. Members to remember that there are in the reconstituted boards Congress Presidents, Congress Vice-Presidents some of whom are also hon. Members of this House and in spite of this, under this Bill, we propose to supersede all of them impartially and there is no question of Congress or non-Congress in the matter of municipal councils from the 1st of November 1946 and special officers will be appointed to carry on the administration during the time. It has been said that we are all interested people and can appoint special officers from among the Party. My hon. Friends, many of whom are lawyers, will know that a man cannot judge his own case. Supposing the president of a district board himself stands for election, would it be fair to the opponent to allow the president of the district board to wield all the powers, influence, authority and the resources which he will command as president of the district board—in fact I have been told that some of these district board presidents have even greater powers than Collectors of districts. Would it be fair in such circumstances to continue such a president in office till the moment of elections, when canvassing is going on, nomination is filed, polling takes place—and some of the polling officers may be clerks from his own office? It will therefore be better if an impartial officer who has no party affiliations, or party loyalty, is put in charge of the administration, just as a sort of care-taker, till the people come back to power and carry on the administration of the district board."

* MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir, arising from the statement of the policy referred to by the Hon. Minister, may I ask, will this Ministry go out of office and invite section 93 regime before they contest the provincial elections next time?"

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"Since the Hon. 12-30
Premier is also going to speak on this matter, I do not propose p.m. to go into these details and detain the House for a long time.

"The Leader of the Opposition and Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig have stated that they are wedded to the principle of election. The Leader of the Opposition also pointed out some omissions. Due provision for the representation of the various minorities in local boards is not in question. Mr. Nagappa, the veteran upholder of the Harijan cause, also raised the same plea. I am examining the question of the population of these separate communities in the various local boards and municipalities to see to what extent it is necessary to revise the provision concerning reservation. My hon. Friends have charged with omission in a matter which this Bill does not seek to bring forward. Subsequently, when a comprehensive amending measure is brought in, there will be ample scope for discussing these matters. Exception has been taken to clause 4 of the Bill."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"During this interregnum which will be very short, I suppose there is provision in the Local Boards Act and Municipalities Act for the Collectors to continue as ex-officio presidents. Why then this provision for special officers for a month or two?"

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"My hon. friend is evidently under a misapprehension. He states that there is power for appointing Collectors to be in charge of local boards. But I may tell him that that power has been taken away by Act XXIV of 1942. Under section 11 of that Act the old board should continue till the date on which the new board takes office. There is thus no possibility of any interregnum. It was available under the old Act of 1920 but the position has since changed and that is exactly the reason for this amending measure to provide for an interregnum, to appoint special officers and to carry on the administration during the period so as to avoid undue influence and favouritism during the election period."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I am not referring to cases where the boards run till the date on which the election takes place. In cases of dissolution of the board, the Collector temporarily becomes the ex-officio president of the district board."

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"I shall read the provision I was relying on, which is section 11 of the Act XXIV of 1942. It reads—

"11. Where any district board or panchayat has to be reconstituted by election for the first time after the commencement of this Act, the provisions of the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, shall be subject to the following modifications, namely:—

(a) The Provincial Government shall cause elections to be held to the district board or panchayat so that the newly elected members may come into office on the date on which the term of the members previously holding office will expire."

Taking a concrete example, if the life of the present district board expires on the 17th November, the Provincial Government is liable to hold elections so as to bring in the new members on the self-same day. So far as the question of interregnum is concerned, I think I have clearly explained the position, especially of the necessity for carrying on the election without any interference by way of influence. Various suggestions have been made by hon. Members to improve the tone of local board affairs. I shall refer to that aspect of the matter presently. So far as provisions for the interregnum are concerned—I believe what I have stated will enable hon. Members to realize that these provisions are necessary. I wish to say a few words on section 4. No violent departure from democratic principle is involved. In the process of legal drafting, such a provision is usually made. I would invite hon. Members' attention to various Acts starting from 1920 down to 1945 in which such a provision or a similar provision has been put in. It is a sort of drafting reservation in order to provide for an unforeseeable, unexpected contingency. My hon. Friend the Leader of the Opposition asked: 'Why not foresee them and provide for them in the Bill?' I wish I could do it; but the difficulty is that I do not know what kind of difficulty will arise and if you do not know what difficulty will arise, you do not know how to provide against it."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"That is exactly what I urge. In a system of proper democracy, unforeseeable difficulties must not be provided for in that way. I say it is a dangerous precedent and I beg the House not to accord sanction to perpetuate it as it will be a very bad example to be set for the future generation."

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"I agree with the democratic principle enunciated by the hon. the Leader of the Opposition. His suggestion will be examined in connection with future legislation but I submit that for the present the provision is in accordance with precedent. The section is sufficiently clear. The provision is only intended to come into play in cases of difficulty in giving effect to the provisions of the Bill which have been passed and endorsed by the House. In that event temporary adjustment will be made by the Government by suitable action as circumstances may warrant. Hon. Members may be aware that very great things are held up owing to a small lacuna. The purpose of this clause is that the general scheme of the measure may not be defeated by any unexpected difficulty that may arise. I assure hon. Members that it is limited to the carrying out of the various provisions which have been accepted by the House and I therefore feel that there need be no serious difficulty about it. Once again, I submit that this is a purely non-controversial measure. One point which has been accepted both by the Congress Ministry and the Muslim League is the principle of election and the other point is merely a transitory or temporary provision for holding elections so as to avoid any sort of undue influence or coercion. I request that these provisions may be accepted straightway and I oppose the motion to refer the Bill to a Select Committee.

"My hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswarlu referred to the question of holding elections on the basis of adult suffrage. I assure him that the Congress is as much wedded to the principle of adult suffrage as any other party or individuals such as Venkateswarlu himself (an hon. Member: 'He is a party by himself') or the party of which the hon. Member is the sole representative in the House. I would like to make a submission in this House. The Ministry is faced with very urgent problems of food shortage. On the other side are some Communist friends who are trying to paralyse the essential services of this country. Under those conditions, is there time or leisure for preparing for elections on the adult suffrage? The present local bodies have been in existence since 1937; they have been functioning for the last seven years and I think most of the members of the local boards have been disgusted and they have with a few exceptions reached a moribund stage. The earlier new bodies with fresh enthusiasm and vigour and fresh outlook are brought into being, the better it will be for the masses of the country."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Regarding the Special Officers that are sought to be appointed, may I know whether they will be officials or non-officials?"

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"That point will be covered by the Hon. the Premier's reply."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Speaker, I did not expect so much controversy about this Bill and that the principles of the Bill will be opposed with so much vehemence. The question of democracy has been discussed in a way. One objects to hear it because in this country it once existed and continued for a very long time until the present system had been evolved gradually, not at one jump. The Legislative Assembly or the Upper House, the Legislative Council as they exist to-day were not thought of when the Legislative Council was appointed to help the Governor in carrying on the Government of the country. When the Crown took hold of the administration from the East India Company, one might remember how Legislative Councils were without power and they were only intended to give some advice to the Governor. They were enlarged but nominations continued until at a very late stage when the element of election was introduced. Even after that you know that there was nothing of any responsibility. We, people of this country have been trained under such a system. We, for whose benefit municipal and local board administration had been introduced by that great man, Lord Ripon, had not been able to use it for the best benefit of the people; local administration was first introduced in the time of Lord Ripon with a view to enable the people of this land to be trained in democratic principles, and to make them fit to carry on administration first in the village, then in taluk, then in district board and lastly in municipalities. We all know, Sir, how we have not been able to apply the principles of democracy even when opportunities were afforded. Now all those stages have been passed. The history of these boards and municipalities during the last 25 or 26 years is sufficient to enable every one of the hon. Member of this House, and also the people outside the House, to realize how this administration had not been carried properly. We could not maintain that standard of integrity, independence and impartiality in any of the boards. I hope every hon. Member would admit that. I hope every hon. Member will also admit that these institutions had become places for a scramble of seats, without knowing exactly whether there was power, whether they would be serving the people on whose behalf they entered these bodies. I have no hesitation in saying that I am talking from my experience. These institutions came to be nothing but places of intrigue, conspiracy and faction. (Muhammad Abdul Salam: 'Why not abolish them?') A very good suggestion! (laughter) coming from Mr. Salam (laughter). If I were alone I would agree with him to abolish them (laughter). No doubt about that; but I am not alone; nor Mr. Salam is alone (laughter). This country is being governed to-day by hon. Members of this House and by those who are put in office and by electorate who returned all these members to this House. That is why, that step could not be taken. I can say, Sir, it would certainly have been much better, if for two or three years at least, all these institutions had been suspended and they had been taken up by the Government, whichever Government it might be. Democracy is democracy; you cannot make democracy piecemeal; you cannot govern a country piecemeal by applying one rule one day and another rule on another day. The principle of democracy has been accepted for a very long time. As people cannot govern by meeting in crowds or in mobs, rules have been framed to hold elections, rules have been framed to choose representatives; and those representatives alone have been given the power. That is the position of the head of the Government to-day, be it in the local boards or municipalities or village panchayats. In the elections one party or other comes out successful, and the party that is successful takes up office, and that party has the right to carry on the administration; those who do not agree with the successful party will be there to raise points, to correct mistakes in administration and to suggest new methods wherever necessary. All these things have been regulated and stipulated, and it is in this way that administration has been carried on until now, however imperfectly we may have been doing on account of our own difficulties and weaknesses. That is the principle of democracy, and it is on that principle this Government has been formed and is carrying on administration by discussing things and arriving at decisions. It is an acknowledged principle, Sir, that the minorities should agree with the decision of the majority, and that administration should be allowed to be carried on. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'If the majority is a democratic majority.') My friend simply shocks me by this question. (Laughter.) The hon. Member says, 'if the majority is a democratic majority.' Certainly it is so. Can anybody say that in the elections held for this Legislative Assembly the voters did not act constitutionally? If it is not by the rule of majority, we would not have been in office to-day. How else can we have come into office? I am trying to point out to every hon. Member, who talked of democracy and at the same time tried to subvert its principle by attempting to compel the majority, who constitute the Government to-day, to give in on all points raised by the minority, that he reduces the administration into one not of majority rule, but another kind of rule. It is for that reason that I wanted to intervene in this debate. The present Government is a democratic Government, however much some friends may feel that they did not succeed in defeating this majority party. It is only natural that they should feel so, that they should sit in this House and carry on Opposition until the next election comes to show that this Government has failed to discharge its duty and that they should not be returned to office. (At this stage Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan rose in his seat to intervene.) How to answer, Sir? I want your help Mr. Speaker. (Laughter.) How to answer the questions of a friend of this type? (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'May I submit, Mr. Speaker, on a point of information.') I have not yielded. (Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan: 'He has gained his point!') I am not trying to raise a heated controversy over this acknowledged position. We give you an opportunity to do all that lies in your power to correct us by a criticism of our acts in a just and legitimate manner. Beyond that you should not say anything. Some friends feel, that because they have not been returned to office in this Assembly they can say anything they like, and talk anything on every appointment made. They therefore say, even if it be a peon's appointment, 'What is his qualification, how did you appoint him, how dare you do it?' In this way they try to reduce democracy to a farce. Therefore, I say, let us try to understand ourselves, let us try to correct ourselves, and put ourselves in the right path with a view to carry on the administration. Do not take advantage of being a member of the Legislature to destroy democratic principles. I am appealing to hon. Members in this House who have been debating on a high level.

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [6th September 1946]

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [6th September 1946]

“ Now let me come to the point in the present Bill. The Hon. Minister for Local Administration has explained the scope of the Bill in his own way. Every trouble was avoided by not interfering till now with those municipalities and local boards that have been filled up by those persons nominated by the Advisers' Government. In the last 25 years, occasions arose when municipalities and local boards had to be abandoned by those who were in office then, be they Congressmen or Independents. What should have been done then was to hold fresh elections. Instead of that, persons whom the Government liked, and in whom they had confidence, were nominated. This was the same thing done by the Advisers' Government; you call it Advisers' Government or by any other name. The seats in the municipalities and local boards were filled by those who had been defeated in the elections, but in whom the Advisers had absolute confidence and faith at that time. Now, when the popular Government has come in, it is but proper that they should be removed.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“ The Hon. Premier will continue his speech after lunch. The House will now adjourn for lunch and meet again at 3 p.m.”

(After lunch—3 p.m.)

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ Sir, this is a very simple Bill in which all that is sought to be done is to remove the existing machinery of nominated members who came in under extraordinary circumstances and not in the natural circumstances. The machinery has been in existence not for six months, not for even one year, but for several years. These places were vacated in 1942 when Congressmen went into jail. I submit to you and to hon. Members that at that time when Congressmen went to jail there were people outside who could, by open election, get into local boards and municipalities as representatives of the people. That was not the procedure adopted by the Advisers' Government. When all the presidents and members of district boards went to jail straightway, those places were filled by nomination. My friends who were talking of democratic principles were accusing us of violating democratic principles by introducing this Bill at the end of the whole career of those nominated members. Hon. Members had admitted that they are not in favour of nomination and that they are for election. These district boards have been functioning even after Congressmen returned from jail more than a year ago. Congressmen contested the elections and elected their own Ministers four months back. Even while in jail there were some friends who were very anxious that if we ever came back and if we got success in the elections and got into office, the first thing that we should do should be to remove all those gentlemen who were nominated and replace them by persons who had resigned and had gone to jails. Whatever may be the interval it is the democratic principle, it is the right of democracy that those people who resigned and went to jail should now get into these bodies.

6th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

This is a wonderful struggle in the history of the world. You will not find similar circumstances arising in the political struggle of any other country. It is in a perfectly non-violent manner they resigned and walked into jails, and that was the only thing the Congress considered right then. On the question of removing the nominated members, for whom the Opposition Leaders have no particular love or affection, my hon. Friend Mr. Thomas has dealt with sufficiently. Soon after we came into office, a proposal was made that all these nominated Members in district boards and other local bodies, who got in there without caring for those who had gone to jails in the cause of freedom and country, should be removed. I do not quarrel with those who have stayed out. They had their own sympathy and love for their own country and for their own freedom. They were struggling for freedom from their own point of view. Those who have been inside jails were serving their country in a particular way, and they deserve the sympathy and affection of their countrymen without any distinction of caste or colour or creed. That was the position, Sir. Now what is it that is being proposed to be done by this measure. Hon. Friends missed the point and they were attacking us merely because they are free to attack us and we can be made the target of attack. We have to receive these attacks. These attacks are very gentle, Sir, (laughter) and I do not mind them. But sometimes more serious things are done, not by the Members of this House, but from outside, and we are obliged to face all these things. I am saying all this because it has a very important bearing on the question of what is democracy, and how we should conduct ourselves towards that democracy when we are exercising our rights of democracy. Therefore, during these four months we allowed these boards and local bodies to do and act as they liked without making any effort, even though we have a great majority at our back to push through any Bill or amendment or some such thing to remove these people. Not that we could never reconcile ourselves to that view. If they have committed a mistake in accepting office, we thought that we should not keep that in mind. We should not treat them as enemies. We should not attempt to overthrow them soon after we came into office.

“ This Bill has been brought forward by us in the true spirit of enforcing the rule of democracy. Some Members said that tolerance is required on the part of the majority party towards those nominated persons and that they should be continued in office. All this has been explained to hon. Members of this House by my hon. Friend Mr. Thomas. Under such circumstances I cannot understand what is there in this Bill that has given so much offence to anybody. I feel democracy has been misunderstood, and the application of its rules has been misunderstood and misapplied; for each Member said ‘ why do you want to remove those nominated people.’ (Mahbqob Ali Baig Sahib Bahadur: ‘ Nobody said that.’) I do not say that Mr. Baig said that or Mr. Hameed Khan. I am only referring to what has been expressed in this House by some Member. There is nothing wrong in this measure. That is why we do not think there is any need to refer this Bill to the Select Committee. Yesterday, I was pained to hear some harsh expressions used on both sides of the House, when there was no need at all. I am appealing to all Members to uphold the real principles of true democracy. I appeal to them 'do not take any stick that comes into your hand and apply it to the back of those who are in office to-day'. This is what has been going on. We are trying to adjust our internal differences. Although there may be differences on fundamentals now, I am hoping for that time when even on fundamentals there would be some measure of agreement. It is with that hope that the Leader of the Congress Party in Delhi has been declaring 'I have formed this Government. I am keeping the door open. I am requesting the League Leader to consider the position and come'."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is that door open still? It is not open."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"My friend has a peculiar way of understanding things."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have been misunderstood by the Premier and he has been doing that very often, but I must submit, Sir, that when he states that the Leader there in the Government of India says that the door is open for the League, I say, it is not open; because it is sought to be killed by Muslim Quislings."

3-15 P.M. THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"We have been preaching tolerance. I must appeal to the hon. Mr. Hameed Khan and all other friends to apply the same principle to others. He has used the expression 'Quislings.' I have been avoiding entering into a controversy. On that one subject I can give a reply with a view to satisfy every one. Freedom is claimed by everybody. Every one claims the right to differ on fundamentals and other points. That is one of the points of difference in Delhi between the Congress leadership and the League leadership also. I have been avoiding that kind of trouble here. I do not wish to take up that question with them and argue that this is the correct position, or that this is not the correct position. I do not wish to go into that, because I am not the man to deal with the subject with the authority of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. I have been avoiding that. But my friend wants to rub that into me. 'Is the door open, Sir?' he asked. I have understood like that. I may be wrong and my hon. Friend may be right. But I do not think he is right even now after further consideration. As understood by me, he was inviting the League Leader to give co-operation and to come in."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On his own terms."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"On his own terms.' We will have to go into those terms and have a long discussion about it. They have been trying to adjust the differences. The differences that existed at one stage did not exist at a later stage. The differences that existed at a later stage did not exist at the last stage. That was how they were going. Sometimes I was also wondering, not about the individuals, but about the methods. Therefore let us not get into those controversial matters. We are concerned with this Province and with the local boards and municipalities to which elections have to take place shortly. All that is claimed in the Bill is power to remove for a month or two or for whatever period it may be the people who have been holding these offices—according to us very wrongly. It was a very great wrong done to this House and to the country in having accepted nominations by Government. We are just now removing them when we have got power and when we have got the majority. But we have tolerance to wait till the last moment. It is said in this Bill that these officers should go out for a little time and that there should be a special officer to conduct elections. Is anything wrong done to democratic principle? It is democracy that gave to the Ministers the right to carry on the Government. It is democracy that gave to this Government the right to frame laws and bring them before this House for adoption. Even when they are attacked mercilessly, still you are appointed to carry on by allowing discussion to take place, putting it to vote, and giving effect to the decision. It is in that way the whole thing has been going on. We have brought it in that manner here showing the utmost tolerance. We are not complaining even against those British representatives here who have been throwing the representatives of the people, the Congress, each time—not once, not twice, six times—into prison. That is the way in which things have been going on. Against whom are we to complain? Without saying a word against those who have been assaulting you, who have been shooting you, and who have been breaking your bones all these years, you better carry on the business. That was the principle on which the whole business has been carried on. Sometimes we might have done mistakes. Individual mistakes may be existing in the world. It is a factor which should command the sympathy of all the Members of this House and the people who are not of the Congress also. Therefore I say we have not transgressed our limits. We have not done anything wrong. We have only proposed to remove those who have been in this office for years together when they ought not to have been there, and to appoint special officers.

"So much argument has been put forward on these special officers. Who is this special officer? Will he be honest? Will he be bona fide? Will he do justice? Are we honest? Are we bona fide? Are we expected to do justice? All these we expected to-day. He will be appointed, Sir, in exercise of the authority given to us. They therefore condemn every proposal made by the Government on this side, mercilessly attacking and saying so many things. But we should not exchange words. If hot words are used, we should not exchange. I appeal to my friends on this side to avoid strong words. 'Strong words break no bones' is an English proverb. Therefore we should avoid strong words. If you use strong words, it will go to action which we have to do. All of us have come here to speak and then proceed to action and carry on the business in a perfectly constitutional manner. In that way we have been attempting to do the business. There is absolutely no justification for any hon. Member to find fault with us about our honesty and about the way in which we are going to discharge our duties. You give us some time and judge from time to time. Whenever we go wrong, you point it out. We will give explanation or we will make corrections on your criticisms. Who will be the special officer? Will not the Collector be sufficient? Will not the Deputy Collector be sufficient? Will not the Tahsildar be sufficient? Will not the Revenue Inspector be sufficient? These questions are not questions that should be put to a Government. The Government have to exercise their functions, their duties and authority in a fearless manner. We will be prepared to accept reasonable criticisms and attacks. That is the position in which we stand to-day. I appeal to the hon. Members to extend their sympathy. They have been really sympathetic on this side. Things have been carried on rather in a wonderfully peaceful manner. I always congratulate my hon. Friends in regard to this matter. (Mr. Muhammad Abdul Salam Sahib stood up in his seat.) I did not mean Mr. Salam. Mr. Salam speaks in heat. I did not carry even his presence in my mind. If I refer to expressions either here or outside, that will create a hell for all of us because in the first place we must verify the words said to have been uttered here or there. That is why all of us will have to observe the greatest restraint in expression and conduct. So I ask all the hon. Members not to lose sympathy even in moments of excitement. That is why I wanted to speak on this occasion. The Hon. Mr. Thomas has studied this subject well, discussed the subject previously and considered the pros and cons of a measure like this. Not even one word was intended to be used extravagantly. Therefore, Sir, having regard to the explanation given by the Hon. Mr. Thomas, I would request the hon. Members to support this Bill."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir, the question was whether special officers will be officials or non-officials. Both the Hon. the Premier and the Minister for Local Administration have not answered that point."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, he will be a person selected by us. We are not bound to say that we are going to appoint Collectors. We are not bound to say that we are going to appoint Sub-Collectors or Tahsildars. We are free to choose someone who will do justice and who will not be inclined to do any wrong to one section or other to one individual or other. That will be our duty in the matter of selection."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Hon. Premier has made an impression that the Opposition has adopted an attitude only with the object of attacking the Ministry. Sir, it is open to the Opposition to suggest various other alternatives to the provisions in the Bill and particularly to the Members of this party to differ from the Government so far as the provisions are concerned and they suggest other alternatives according to their own light. If the Government differ from us they have to answer them instead of suggesting that we have attacked them in vehement language for the sake of attack. It was said that we do not have constructive suggestions to make. On the other hand what the hon. Members did was to make constructive suggestions according to their own ideas. The Hon. Minister made us understand, the Hon. Minister made the world understand that this Opposition has been indulging in strong language and unnecessarily strong language and making an attack on the Government for the sake of attack."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"No motive is attributed to hon. Members who might have used harsh expressions on certain amendments. Just similar expressions are used by Members on the other side. We should not be attributing any motive. It is far from my intention to attribute it. In the heat of the moment others have used expressions sometimes very strong; sometimes more serious things happen even in the Mother of Parliaments."

The amendment was put and lost.

The original motion was put and carried.

The Bill was then taken up for consideration clause by clause.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I move—
'In line 1 of clause 3 (1) (i), after the word "elections," the words "on the basis of adult franchise and proportional representation" shall be inserted.'

Neither the reply given by the Prime Minister nor the speech of the Minister for Local Administration did give any satisfaction for the points I have raised. The Hon. the Prime Minister did not take the point into consideration about adult franchise. The reply given by the Minister for Local Administration was not satisfactory because instead of taking that point into consideration the reply given was that all industries are paralysed as though that is the reason why the amendment is not to be accepted. What I like to know is why the Congress Ministry do not introduce adult franchise. Even the Hon. Ministers belonging to the Congress party are wedded to it at least in words. Moreover elections to municipalities take place once in 3 years and 5 years. During the last Congress regime, the Congress ministry failed to introduce adult franchise for these elections. The Congress ministry resigned and again Congress came into office. Conducting elections without adult franchise means that we have to postpone the question of adult franchise for another period of 3 years and 5 years. Due to impending crisis the Congress ministry may once again resign. Taking all these factors into consideration I insist that elections should be postponed and electoral rolls be prepared on the basis of adult franchise. Instead of rushing these municipal elections now this Government might continue the present state of things, make the necessary preparations and introduce adult franchise during the coming elections. That is why adult franchise should be taken up immediately for consideration. This is a democratic principle. I do not know why the Congress Party should not insist upon proportional representation being applied to municipalities and local bodies. What I suggest is, this is the only way to solve our difficulties, because proportional representation guarantees representation to each community according to its strength to select its own representatives. If Muslims are on the whole ten per cent of the population, they can have their representation according to that strength. This gives another advantage. There are minority parties, they can put their votes and have their candidates selected. If proportional representation is accepted it is a better way of ensuring unity. We are having separate electorates in most cases. But our problems are not solved. We are drifting far and far away. If there is proportional representation they have their ten per cent reserved for the Mussalmans. They themselves can press upon the other communities also. Moreover this problem has been followed in advanced countries. Our legislature is taking its lessons only from the British legislature. In England there are no divisions upon castes and communities. So there is direct election there. But in India where there are very many nationalities and castes the only way of solving our problem is by accepting the principle of proportional representation which will also satisfy the demand of the Muslims. Debate has been going on regarding separate electorates and joint electorates. If this principle is accepted the Leagues will have its own representatives and the Congress party can exercise its votes and see that the representatives work in the interests of the masses. This gives an advantage to the minority groups, including Scheduled Castes. During the general election in Kistna district even though our candidate for Scheduled Caste seat got about twice the number of votes got by the Congress candidate we were defeated. If this principle had been accepted that would not have happened. During the last general election we got about 25 per cent of the votes got by the Congress party but only two of us are present here. If there had been the principle of proportional representation our strength would have been greater and truly reflected according to the votes we got. The most justifiable and the highly democratic form of election that is necessary for our country to-day is on the basis of joint electorate with proportional representation. Now I come to the last point. To-day we know that our country is divided into so many groups and parties. These political parties are fighting. If direct election is held about 51 per cent is elected and 49 per cent is not at all represented. But according to the principle I am now stressing representation is secured by the minority communities also and we can have all the views represented. That is why I stress to-day that the need of the country particularly in regard to elections is adult franchise and proportional representation. The crisis between the League leadership and the Congress leadership has arisen and they are not able to come to terms. Mass movement is going on and British Imperialism is taking advantage of the whole situation. If both the League and the Congress leadership come to agree on this point there will be peace all round. So the Hon. Minister will do well to incorporate this principle in the Bill. With these words I move the amendment."

[Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu] [6th September 1946]

6th September 1946] [Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu]

SHAH ALAM KHAN SAVOI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second it."

* SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"The amendment seeks to introduce a fresh idea. It is not contained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons nor in the scheme of this Bill."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It is merely a suggestion."

* SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"If the amendment is carried how can it be fitted?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"If they want to reject it, they can reject it."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, the amendment moved by the hon. Member, who has spoken before me representing the Communist party in this province has laid stress on two points, the first being the introduction of adult suffrage for elections to local bodies and the second the introduction of the system of proportional representation. The argument advanced by the hon. Member is that proportional representation and adult suffrage would help certain minorities and certain classes of people who would not derive any advantage if representation is not according to that method. So far as we are concerned, we have made it clear that we stand by separate representations for local bodies. I do not think on this occasion many more words are required in order to impress upon this Government and the House generally in regard to the efficacy and necessity of separate electorates so far as we are concerned.

"The Hon. the Minister for Local Administration in his reply did not give us a satisfactory answer so far as the question of the introduction of adult franchise is concerned. It is an admitted fact that all the people in this province and the country and particularly the Congress people have been asking for adult suffrage for a very long time. That has been a very important plank in their programme and they have fought the elections and have come into this House on that issue. Sir, that being the case, we thought that the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration could have advanced better reasons than what he has done for not introducing adult suffrage, so far as elections to local bodies are concerned. He said that it is the communists who have been responsible for creating an atmosphere which makes it impossible for the Government to introduce adult suffrage here and now. That was one of the arguments advanced.

[Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur] [6th September 1946]

"The other argument was that the people are not ready, that the time is not enough, that the elections have to be held very soon and that the electoral rolls are not ready in order to enable people to have the elections conducted on adult suffrage. These, Sir, are certainly not very good reasons which can be easily accepted. These elections which are sought to be held could have easily been postponed. It is true that there are certain municipal councils and district boards which have been there for long, and their elections were held some years ago, and some of the members of those local bodies are also members of this Assembly. All these are true. All the same, you cannot give up your fundamental principle. You should not throw away to the winds your own cherished principles which you have been advocating ever since the Congress began.

"Sir, I know this much, that in the last general elections, my friends, in the Communist party gave a good fight to the Congress. Although they did not succeed in sending a larger number of their representatives to this House, according to the voting figures they have made a great headway and have captured some of the elected seats to the Legislature."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"They need not send more. The two are enough here. (Loud laughter.) They do the work of many people."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, there was a time when there were other parties in office before the Congress came into power, which were able to send a majority of their members to the Legislature." (Interruption.)

* MR. SPEAKER:—"What I meant was that the two members are able to do the work of many people."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"That is a little more charitable, Mr. Speaker. Sir, we all believe in democracy. I believe the Congress party professes to believe in it more than anybody else. A party which believes in democracy, which has been speaking of democracy and which believes that it is working democracy should not fight shy of other democratic parties coming into the Legislature. And now, Sir, I can understand that every party, however large it might be, is naturally anxious to preserve itself, in the interests of self-preservation. It is no wonder that the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration does not want that local bodies should slip away from the hands of the Congress into the hands of the Communists. It is no wonder that they are well-advised in not introducing adult suffrage here and now. Perhaps that is their fear. The principle of self-preservation is always there. They want to sit not only in this House, but also in the local bodies. The local bodies are the feeders. If they allow the seats in the local bodies to slip from their hands into the hands of the Communists, their position and influence in the districts will become weaker. Sir, as a democrat myself, I can understand the democratic fear of my Hon. Friend Mr. Daniel Thomas. But so far as our party is concerned, we are neither for this nor for that. We are only anxious that we must have our share." (Laughter.)

The amendment was put and lost.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Mr. Muhammad Ibrahim will now move his amendment."

* M. A. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move—

"For clause 3 (1) (iii) the following shall be substituted:—

"(iii) to allow that District Board as constituted at present to function during the interval between the date of expiry of the term of the members holding office and the date on which the newly elected members will come into office."

"Sir, my object in moving this amendment is to impress upon the House the necessity for maintaining the status quo in the district boards till fresh elections take place. Under the pretext of ensuring that improper influence is not brought to bear upon any section of the electorate during the coming elections, the Government will be more or less consolidating their party position by the appointment of these Special Officers. It is very probable that they will appoint their own partymen as Special Officers and that would work unfairly against other parties who may want to contest the elections. Therefore, it is only with a view to remove this difficulty that I want that the present status quo should be maintained till the elections are over. With these words, I move my amendment."

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment, Mr. Speaker."

The amendment was put and lost.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I now call upon Mr. Muhammad Ibrahim Sahib to move his next amendment."

* M. A. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move—

"In clause 3 (1) (iii) after the words "Special Officer" and before the words "to exercise" the words "of the rank not lower than a Revenue Divisional Officer" shall be inserted."

"Sir, in moving this amendment, I wish to point out to the House that it is not proper for the Hon. the Minister to take advantage of the present special circumstances to appoint men of his own party as Special Officers to the district boards during the interregnum. This will strengthen the Congress position in the local bodies and will work unfairly against other parties contesting the elections. I therefore suggest that only officers of the highest rank in the districts, namely, the District Collectors and in their absence due to any circumstances, the Revenue Divisional

[M. A. Muhammad Ibrahim Sahib Bahadur] [6th September 1946]

Officers should be appointed as Special Officers. The Hon. the Minister has stated that these Special Officers will be entrusted with the powers of the president of a district board. So it is very important that the Special Officers who are to be appointed should be men without any party affiliations. We may not have fair elections if partymen are appointed. I submit, Sir, that this is a very simple amendment, and I am sure that the House will accept it, or at least the Hon. the Minister may himself accept it."

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, in seconding the amendment, I should like to submit that our fears in this respect are not without foundation. Sir, just as in fact, and in truth and in practice the food administration in the district of Malabar has been handed over by the Government to the President of the Kerala Provincial Congress Committee, it is quite possible that the Government may appoint their own men, the members and office-bearers of the Congress Committees as Special Officers to these district boards. We are attempting by this amendment to ensure that only those who are in the Government service not below the rank of a Subdivisional Officer should be appointed as Special Officers. I cannot understand the very unhelpful attitude of the Hon. the Prime Minister in throwing open his hands in despair and saying that it is impossible for him to agree to any stipulation that only Government officers will be appointed. I cannot understand why it is impossible for the Hon. the Minister to agree that only a special class of officers, men who have received revenue training, men who have been in Government service for a long time and whose impartiality is unquestioned, are appointed as Special Officers. It is very dangerous to leave into the hands of a political party the extreme and unlimited powers of appointing Special Officers. I know, from my own experience, what they are doing in Malabar. They would be creating a lot of difficulties for other parties to contest in the coming elections and they will be helping their own partymen. In the interests of justice and fair play, I request the Government to accept this amendment."

4 p.m.

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think I shall not be appealing in vain if I request the Hon. Minister in charge as well as the Prime Minister to accept this amendment. May be that the fears of the opposite party, the Communists, are not very well-founded. But, at least in order to allay their fears, the Government should show a generous gesture and agree that they will appoint only persons who according to other parties are above suspicion. I appeal to the Government to accept this very small amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

* M. A. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move—

'that sub-clause (2) of clause 3 be deleted.'

"Sir, my suggestion to this House is that this sub-clause is unnecessary. If a Special Officer is appointed, where is the necessity to provide specifically that the payment to be made to him 6th September 1946] [M. A. Muhammad Ibrahim Sahib Bahadur] should be out of the funds of the district? The Provincial Government may pay his salary out of the provincial funds. This provision is unnecessary and need not be there."

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second it."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 3 was then put and carried.

Clause 4.

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this clause is not only found in this Bill, but it is found in three or four other Bills circulated to us already. An omnibus clause of this kind is wholly unnecessary. Under this clause the Government want to take power of some kind to install their own henchmen in power on local boards. When the present party in power was in the opposition they were criticising provisions of this kind. But when they have become the so-called popular Government they want to have power to do everything as they please in regard to everything. I do not think even Dictators in Europe ever asked their parliaments to give permission for such clauses. This clause takes one's breath away. Having taken power in the other three clauses of the Bill they want to have also this power in reserve so that they may use it whenever they think it necessary to use it. Such a clause makes the Opposition members suspect the motives of the Government. Now and then the Hon. the Premier is ready with a request to the Opposition not to suspect the motives of the Government. But this clause really makes any sane person to suspect the very motives of this Government. Again, Sir, the past conduct of this Government in appointing persons as they pleased very clearly shows that we have to suspect and not give our assent to a provision of this kind. What happened in the matter of the appointment of the Assistant Textile Commissioner for Andhradesa? A dismissed Commissioner has been appointed by this self-same Government very recently on 24th of last month. What happened to the appointment of the Director of Publicity and to the appointment of the Deputy Director of Industries? Instances such as these make people suspect the very motives of the Government. For instance, a very simple question was put to both the Hon. Minister for Local Administration and the Hon. the Premier whether the Special Officers will be officials or non-officials. They have not answered it. What is the purpose? Even now the Hon. the Premier says: 'I do not want to answer it.' We do not want to know whether the officer who will be appointed will be a Deputy Collector or a Revenue Inspector. We want to know only whether he will be an official or a non-official. Have not the Government made up their minds on this question? Have they not yet decided whether to appoint officials or, as in other cases, their own Congressmen? They have appointed a Congressman for a very important post without advertising and without knowing his qualifications."

[6th September 1946]

* SRI T. VISWANATHAM (Chief Parliamentary Secretary):—
“ I must call the attention of the hon. Member to the fact that he is travelling backwards. Clause 3 has already been passed and we are in clause 4. He is still referring to clause 3.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“ I have already told him so.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ Sir, under this clause power is sought to be taken by Government to do what they please for anything they like when they are in power.”

* SRI T. VISWANATHAM (Chief Parliamentary Secretary):—
“ Please read it.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ The Chief Parliamentary Secretary attached to no Minister in particular is not able to follow the clause. (Laughter.) I am in clause 4 under which Government seek to take power to do anything they want in their own favour in future. I am speaking of that clause.

“ Sir, the actions of this Government in the past clearly show that they are very anxious to appoint their own persons, whether they are qualified or not. Sir, on this important question, the Government are not able to say whether the persons who will be appointed will be officials or non-officials. This omnibus clause seeks to take power for unnecessary reasons which the Government are sure will not be accepted. Hence I move—

‘ that this clause be deleted. ’ ”

P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ I second it.”

* SRI T. VISWANATHAM (Chief Parliamentary Secretary):—
“ Sir, some Members of the Opposition can never keep to the point. Whatever appeals are made and whatever explanations are given still the strain is the same. In explaining the terms of this Bill, the Hon. Mr. Daniel Thomas stated clearly that clause 4 is not such an omnibus clause as the Members of the Opposition want us to believe. I cannot believe that they have not properly read it. In spite of the explanations given, I do not know why they are insisting that this is an omnibus clause giving power to the Government to appoint people whom they call henchmen. ‘ Henchmen ’ is the soft word which he used. From his reading of the clause, the hon. Member thinks that it is intended to enable the Government to appoint their ‘ henchmen.’ What does the clause provide for? It only provides for meeting any difficulty that might arise in giving effect to the provisions of the Act which the Hon. Minister has already explained. The provisions of this clause will be of no avail for any purpose other than for removing any difficulty met with in giving effect to the provisions of this Act. Anything that is done cannot go beyond the purposes of this Act and anything done or rule made which goes beyond the purpose of the Act will be ultra vires. I suppose friends, who are lawyers, understand it. I would therefore once more say that hon. Members need not go back to the clauses already passed and confuse the issues. There is no use using harsh language. I request hon. Members to concentrate their attention upon the first few words of clause 4, viz., ‘ If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act . . . ’ This has nothing to do with politics and so there is no need to suspect the motives of anybody. We do not suspect your motives; why should you suspect ours? ”

6th September 1946] [Sri T. Viswanatham]

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ A word of personal explanation, Sir. I never said that under this clause the Government are taking power to appoint their own men. You have to read my whole speech and not split it into parts in order to understand it correctly. In the past the actions of the Party have been such that I have to suspect the bono fides of the Government. When they take power to interpret their own Act, their motives have to be suspected. I never said that under this clause the Government will appoint their own men.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I only want to say one word on this topic. My hon. Friend, the Chief Parliamentary Secretary was not quite right first of all in casting aspersions on the members of the Opposition saying that they generally stray away from the point or that they do not care to speak to the point. That is a general aspersion that is not in the least justified. Of course, so far as the particular question is concerned, he could have made that remark; but, to cast such general aspersions he is not quite justified.

“ Now I come to the point at issue. I would like to point out to him that in construing a section neither the present Government, nor the Chief Parliamentary Secretary, nor any of the members of this House have any authority. Their words will have no value in interpreting any of the sections when once the Bill is passed into law. It is left for the court or other authority that may have to deal with the section to interpret it as it likes. Therefore 4-15 the question is, as the section reads, what is the interpretation to p.m. be put upon it. My hon. Friend may have his own interpretations, but that does not mean that all others will put the same interpretation. My hon. Friend Mr. Salam has pointed out that this gives very wide powers to the Government to be utilized for any purpose. It is unfair to refuse to take into consideration the objection raised by this side, simply because it is coming from the Opposition. I would ask the Members of the Government and the other Members of the Party just to remember what their position was with reference to such clauses when they formed part of certain enactments which were introduced by the Governments of those days when they were in the Opposition. They have always objected to giving such general powers to the Government but when they themselves have come into power, why should they act in a different manner? Why should they not be consistent and stick to the democratic principle that no such general power should be vested in the executive? It is only as a matter of principle that my hon. Friend Mr. Salam has raised this objection and not with the object of attributing any motive. I therefore appeal to the Government not to look upon this amendment as merely coming from the Opposition but look at it justly and fairly and see whether there is any possibility of the fears expressed on this side being realized. I would appeal to the Government to look at the matter in a dispassionate manner and see whether they cannot be consistent with regard to the principle to which they were sticking before they came into office, and which they were urging while they were in Opposition."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, the reason why this clause 4 is introduced is that Government must have been advised by the Legal Advisers that unless this clause was introduced, any interpretation that may be given by the Government would not be valid. Sir, it is not the Government that is the competent body to interpret the terms of the statute but only the courts. But the Legal Advisers of the Government seem to have advised the Government that unless this clause is put in the body of the Act, the Government will not have the authority to give their own interpretation and carry out the objects of the Bill. That itself shows that the Government wants to encroach upon the jurisdiction of the court which is the only authority which can give interpretations to the sections of the Act. The tendency of any Government is to take power under certain enactments and do as it pleases without allowing the matter to be decided by the Legislature or to go before the courts for its proper interpretation. That is the tendency which is natural for any Government when it comes into power, but it must be deprecated as it is not democracy."

* M. A. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in seconding the amendment, I only want to point out one aspect of it. The Hon. Minister concerned fairly accepted that he himself did not know the implication of clause 4, the omnibus clause. The Government have a great majority behind them and therefore at any time, if they find difficulty in the administration of this Act, they can rush the necessary legislation through this House in no time. Such being the case, where is the necessity for taking powers under this clause? On this ground also, I support the amendment."

* SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have only two points to mention. The first one is about the power taken by the Government under clause 4. Such a clause is incorporated in legislation in every democratic country in the world. My hon. Friends know it, but only for the sake of criticism they raise this bogey and nothing else. After all they do not lose anything and as pointed out by the Chief Parliamentary Secretary, it only refers to the scope of this Bill only and it is not a wide power indeed.

"The second point is the one mentioned by the hon. Member Mr. Salam that the Government are favouring their own party-men in making appointments. In this connexion he mentioned the appointment of the Assistant Textile Officer and said that the gentleman, was a dismissed Municipal Commissioner. I want, Sir, that the hon. Member must be sure of all his facts. Of course this Municipal Commissioner was dismissed. But the hon. Member Mr. Salam should know and this House also should know that he was dismissed without being given any notice, without even being called upon to explain. The ground on which he was dismissed during the Advisers' regime was that he did not aid the Sub-Collector in the matter of the collection of War Funds in the Municipality of Palacole where he was the Commissioner then. Now Sir, if he had continued as Commissioner, he would have been a first-class Commissioner or (who knows) a Deputy Inspector of Local Boards to-day, as some of his co-officers of those days are to-day, but he has only been appointed as an Assistant Textile Officer. During the five years respite after his dismissal, he devoted himself to doing excellent Khadi work in Andhra Desa. His name has become a household word in that field. He eminently will fit into the job to which he is now appointed. These are the two points which have been the subject of criticism from the other side and I hope that I have sufficiently answered them."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Sir, neither the explanation given by the Chief Parliamentary Secretary nor the speech of the hon. Member Mr. Kala Venkata Rao has given any justification why this clause should be there. It is stated in the clause 'If any difficulties arise . . .' Now, Sir, what are the difficulties anticipated by the Government? In this connexion, I would like the House to take into consideration the recent order which the Government has passed on the Chairman of the Guntur Municipality demanding from him an explanation as to why he should not be removed, for the simple reason that he had expressed sympathy with the cause of the workers who had been demanding a rise in their wages. If the Government anticipate such difficulties and if they want to make provision to meet them, I think, Sir, it is my duty to oppose this clause in the interests of the class of people whom I represent as well as in the interests of democracy, which the Congress Party advocated previously and which they have thrown out now. Of course hon. Members may speak of democracy, but in action it is clear that the Congress Party does not stand for democracy, at least . . ."

* SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"Is there democracy in Russia?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Yes, there is democracy in Russia. If my hon. Friend, Kala Venkata Rao is anxious to discuss the situation in Russia, I have no objection to do so provided . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"No, no, not now. The hon. Member may come back to the clause under discussion." (Laughter.)

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Coming to the point, the reason why I urge that clause 4 should be omitted is that the Government cannot anticipate the difficulty at present. Whenever any difficulty arises, the Government can easily pass a Government Order and carry on the business and there is no necessity for this clause. Without knowing the nature of the difficulties which the Government may be confronted with but simply anticipating all sorts of difficulties, I do not see any reason why such a safety clause as this should be put in the Bill.

"Sir, in the working of the food committees and other co-operative societies we see that they are run by Congressmen themselves without taking the aid of other people or accepting the co-operation and the help of the other people. I find there is so much of an atmosphere of suspicion. I would therefore request the Hon. Minister to remove this clause from the Bill. If the Hon. Minister can tell the House the nature of the difficulties which he is anticipating, I would have been very glad to provide the necessary powers to Government and would not have raised this opposition. Because the nature of the difficulties are not mentioned by the Government, I request that the clause may be omitted."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 4 was put and carried.

Clause 1.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

The preamble was put and carried.

* THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—"Sir, I move—
'that the Bill be passed into law.'"

The motion was put and carried.

IV.—THE MADRAS TENANTS AND RYOTS PROTECTION BILL, 1946.

4-30 p.m. * THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to introduce the Bill to provide for the temporary protection of certain classes of tenants and ryots in the Province of Madras and move that it be taken into consideration at once.

"In making this motion, I shall explain the main features of the Bill. As hon. Members are aware, it is the intention of Government to bring in very early two measures, one dealing with the zamindaris or the Estates Land Act, and the other the Malabar Tenancy Act. With regard to the former, the House is aware that there was a committee set up by the previous Congress Government in 1938-39 who went very fully into this question and dealt with many aspects of the problem. It is the intention of this Government, as has been said more than once on the floor of this House to bring in legislation very early. In regard also to the Malabar Tenancy Act, the same Government appointed a committee and that committee went into many of the features of the Malabar Tenancy Act and made recommendations regarding its improvement. But in both these areas, i.e., the Estates Land Act areas and also in the District of Malabar, there have been, as Government understand, a number of eviction suits going on and execution proceedings taken, evidently expecting major legislation on the subject. I have been able to get figures for North Malabar, and I understand that nearly 5,000 suits are now pending which will involve the eviction of tenants. The number in the zamindari areas will be equally large though I have not got the figures for that. From various parts of the province, we have been getting complaints in this regard. Therefore, pending introduction of both these measures which I assure the House will be brought in without delay, it has become necessary to bring in this legislation with a view to stay the eviction of tenants and also to prevent the sale of the holdings of those persons. The tenants in the estate areas and in Malabar will be affected as can be seen from the clauses of the Bill.

"Now, in order to be fair also to the landlord, so that the stay may not be granted frivolously or without some compensation, we have provided in clause 4 that before a stay is granted, a deposit of two years' rent be made in court and we have also provided, as long as stay continues, for the due payment of every year's rent as it becomes due. That care has been taken, so that there may be no unnecessary or unjust stay obtained.

"It will also be seen that the three classes of tenants who will be affected are the tenants in Malabar, the tenants in estates under the Estates Land Act and also tenants on private lands in such estates. As hon. Members are aware, this last class of tenants are entitled to continue in possession on due payment of rent. It is the intention—without finally deciding the question of the nature of their rights which will be done in the major legislation—to give them relief, so that they may continue in possession, if they continue to pay the rent as provided.

"Coming now to clause 5, power has been taken to see that if in any class of cases there is injustice by the wholesale stay of suits, a notification may be issued by the Government to cancel the stay granted by this legislation. For instance, it has come to my notice through a deputation which came to me on behalf of small inamdars whose private holdings may not be more than 5 or 10 acres that there will be hardship in their case and I have assured them that the case of such persons who have only small holdings will be duly considered, so that the wholesale stoppage of eviction may not work hardship to them. It is with respect to them and to certain classes of cases in which it may be found that wholesale stay will be injurious, that power has been taken under clause 5 to see that injustice is not done to any class of people.

"Sir, these are the only objects for which this Bill has been brought forward, namely, that pending legislation which we hope to bring forward in the course of the year itself, there may not be wholesale evictions or sale of the holdings of the tenant classes whom all of us on both sides want to help and protect. I therefore request hon. Members on both sides not to oppose the measure but to support it, especially as there is no question of any particular community or class who is going to be injured by this measure."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The question before the House is that the Bill be taken into consideration."

[6th September 1946]

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am very glad the Government have brought a measure like this and they have done it promptly. It is a measure which we on this side of the House do welcome. In view of the object of this Bill, to stay proceedings in Court until the expiration of the period fixed here, it is necessary that the permanent measure which the Government propose to bring forward should also be expedited. That alone will be a justification for staying the hands of the courts. No doubt tenants have to be protected, but landlords also have to be protected. On principles of general administration, it is not advisable to stay all proceedings in courts for any indefinite length of time. I am sure the Government realize this and I would request the Hon. Minister to tell the House what the approximate period will be for the Government to bring up the Bill. In view of the shortness of the duration of this Bill and in view of the fact that there is danger of thousands of tenants being affected on account of the fear of some new legislation being brought into existence, it is necessary that such a Bill should be introduced, and we do welcome it."

"Now, Sir, I would like to say one or two words as regards clause 5. No doubt the Government have taken general power under clause 5 under which a particular suit or proceeding or a class or classes of cases may be allowed to be proceeded with in spite of the provisions here to stay it or them. I would like the Government to indicate what are the classes of cases in which they would exercise that power, so that the public who are interested may have some idea as to what it means. I am sure the power will not be exercised unfairly or unjustly to any class of people, but it is necessary that the public should have some definite idea about it and therefore I want the Government to give an indication as to what this section 5 may mean."

"Again, the question of limitation may arise when parties are prevented from filing a suit or proceeding. This Bill does not prevent the parties from instituting new suits or proceedings, but when such new suits or proceedings are filed, they can be automatically stayed by this Bill. The question therefore is whether it is necessary to drive the parties to undergo the expense of filing suits and getting them stayed. I would have liked some provision made in this Bill to save limitation during the pendency of the period of this Act, so that people might not be forced to file suits which would otherwise become barred while this Act is in force. It is a question of putting these people to unnecessary expense which can be avoided. After a permanent measure comes into existence, it will not be necessary for them to file suits, but when such suits are filed now, they will be stayed; there is no provision for saving limitation and so, they will be bound to file the suits during the pendency of the period of this Act and will be put to unnecessary expenditure. Therefore, I wish the Government to include some provision to meet this point."

* MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, though we are in agreement with the general principles of this Bill, there is some necessity for clarification from the Ministry on one or two points. So far as clause 3 is concerned, it says: 'During the continuance of this Act and subject to the provisions of sections 4 and 5, (a) no tenant in the district of Malabar and no tenant of any private land in an estate shall be liable to be evicted by his landlord in pursuance of a decree or order for eviction, and (b) no holding or land of a ryot or tenant shall be liable to be sold or brought to sale in pursuance of a decree, order or other proceeding for recovery of rent.' This clause gives room for litigation and I want to know from the Hon. Minister whether the intention is to create some interest by this Bill in the private land for the benefit of the tenant or whether there is any omission here. It is not also clear, where the tenant has interest in a ryotwari land, whether the sale referred to here will apply to that land. That doubt also has got to be cleared."

"Again, Sir, the stay under clause 4 (1) (a) is a general stay. It is not known whether the Government really want a stay for all classes of suits to be instituted against the tenant, either for rent, under section 77 of the Madras Estates Land Act, or for patta and other things. Therefore, this point also should be made clear by the Minister."

"As regards determination of the rent, what is the rent, who is to ascertain it, whether it is the tenant himself; if the tenant instead of paying Rs. 100 says that his rent is only Rs. 10, and pays the amount, will it absolve him of his liability, has the court power to ascertain what is the fair rent, what is the procedure to be adopted?—there must be some indication, Sir, in the Bill as regards all these points. With respect to limitation, I want to know whether all suits to be instituted hereafter should be stayed and what will be the position of suits instituted after two years with regard to time. This position is not clear. All these points, Sir, require clarification and I request the Hon. Minister to clear these doubts."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, we on this side of the House are wholly with the Government in the matter of the necessity of a Bill of this nature, but, Sir, as regards relief given to the tenant, since the question of land is referred to in this Bill, many suits are likely to crop up in civil courts. It is therefore reasonable and necessary that a better and suitable definition of 'lands' may be made in the Bill by excluding all private lands in inam villages."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I fully support the Bill, but there are two points which are not quite clearly indicated in the Bill and which may probably give rise to a lot of litigation. The first is arrears of two years of rent or the rent claimed, whichever is less, has to be deposited by the tenant for payment to the landlord. It may be contended by the tenant that the rent claimed by the landlord is not the correct amount. If you say that for payment to the landlord, the amount is to be deposited into the court, the landlord will have the right to claim and take the money from the Court. That is a point that should be made clear."

p.m.

[Mahboob Ali Baig Sahib Bahadur] [6th September 1946]

"The second point is this. The deposit should be made within two months from the date of the commencement of this Act or the date of the institution of the suit as the case may be. If the second clause is to be applied, that is, the date of institution of the suit, the tenant may not have notice of the suit within two months; so if he has notice of the suit after two months and the tenant deposits the amount after two months, he will not have the benefit of the stay. These are the two points.

"In regard to the merits, these two points may give rise to difficulties. If money is deposited by the tenant, he deposits it under protest; if you say it is the amount for payment to the landlord, the landlord himself will take the amount. I therefore suggest that Government should consider these two points in view of the legal difficulties regarding rent, etc., that are likely to arise, if necessary, by appointing a small committee for considering these difficulties; or if considered desirable, another amending Bill may perhaps be brought to obviate the difficulties."

* M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this House is aware of the cases where tenants were being evicted under the provisions of the Malabar Tenancy Act. Now, there are certain sections of the Act which enable the landlord to evict a tenant out of the holding, particularly on account of one of the decisions of the High Court to the effect that if the landlord says he wants the property bona fide for his own use or for the use of any member of his family, then the tenant has to surrender possession of the property. This necessitated an enactment which took the form that it ought to be needed by the landlord and not for his bona fide requirements; that is not sufficient. While this was the position just before the amendment came in, there were a large number of suits filed in Malabar and I know—coming from the headquarters of Malabar and as a lawyer practising there,—there were a large number of cases where the landlords filed suits on the ground that they required the properties for their own use or for their daughters or brothers or sons-in-law and without waiting even to get certified copies of the decree, they applied to munsifs or sub-judges, as the case may be, to take out execution. I know a case also where one of the District Munsifs, who was at Calicut and was subsequently transferred from there, went even to the extent of asking the plaintiff's advocate to put in such application. Even now, there are cases where evictions have been obtained and appeals are still pending and the landlords are in possession of property belonging to the tenant. I would therefore request the Hon. Minister just to speed up the promised legislation to meet justice in the case of these tenants also.

"There is one other practical difficulty which I find in the matter of the deposit of rent. You know, Sir, there are a large number of cases in Malabar, where the amount payable by the tenant is nominal and in some cases in respect of huge areas, they have to pay only Re. 1, Rs. 2, Rs. 3. In such cases, if the tenant is permitted to deposit his arrears in court, there is difficulty on the part of the landlord also, because he will have to apply to the court each time and spend As. 12 for each application besides payment of writing charges, for the clerk and if necessary even to a vakil also. This will mean more than the amount which is actually receivable by him. So, Sir, this practice of depositing rent in court must be given up, if possible, and orders issued so that the rent may be paid to the landlord direct.

"Then again, in regard to the question of stay of suits, I have come across certain difficulties in the matter of classifying tenants. Now the tenants are governed by the Malabar Tenancy Act; they have been defined in it by an elastic term. We have got a system of land tenures in Malabar where the intermediary will not be a tenant but he can even be a trespasser and the landlord may claim the eviction of the trespasser. There are other cases also where there may be a landlord and a tenant; there may also be landlords, tenants and trespassers and the jenmi would have obtained a decree for the surrender or the possession of the property. Then whom are we to stay? Is it the trespasser or the tenant? These practical difficulties have also to be met immediately. Therefore, I would suggest that immediate steps be taken to bring in the proposed legislation relating to these matters; and in respect of all suits, proceedings and executions, Government will have to take immediate action in order to redress the grievances of both the tenants and the landlords."

* K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In supporting the motion for the introduction of this Bill, I am glad to say that though a belated measure, a Bill to amend the Malabar Tenancy Act which has been engaging the active consideration of the Government will be welcomed throughout Malabar. The Malabar Tenancy Act was passed as early as 1930 and it requires substantial amendments in several respects. It has been characterized as one of the most ill-drafted enactments which we have on the Statute Book. The language of the Act created many difficulties in deciding matters of vital importance involving the rights and interests of tenants and landlords in Malabar. With reference to some of the important sections of this Malabar Tenancy Act, clarification is necessary and reconciliation of the sections has become absolutely important and indispensable and in view of the obscurity of the language of the sections, it has also created obstacles even in courts in interpreting and adjudicating on the rights of parties, with the result that there has been a long-standing cry for an amending Act. No doubt piecemeal amendments have been carried out in the past and even during the Advisers' Government. Such piecemeal amendments were made with reference to the section relating to the eviction of tenants, but an all-round amendment of the Act itself has become absolutely necessary to prevent injustice both to the landlord and the tenant. But in bringing forward a measure of this nature, which is intended to stay proceedings involving the valuable rights of both landlords and tenants, one important point has always to be borne in mind by the Government and that is the necessity for expedition in bringing in a permanent legislation and shortening the period of the stay. I would like to have an assurance from the Government spokesmen that they would expedite the promised legislation and would place it on the Statute Book at an early date. But one point on which I would like to draw the attention of the Government is the necessity of wide publicity to the provisions of the amending Act so as to invite constructive and useful criticism from all parts of the district and to take expert advice and get the useful co-operation of the various sections of this House who have also something to do with the Malabar tenures and who know something about the peculiar conditions in Malabar and to bring in an enactment which will meet out justice to both the sections, the tenants as well as the landlords. About the peculiar conditions in Malabar, I need not particularly remind the hon. the Minister in charge of this Bill who, I hope, will bestow care on the interests of the various sections who will be affected by it. As a lawyer, I am sure, he would have experienced certain difficulties in construing the Malabar Tenancy Act. Lawyers and judges in Malabar have also felt them both in the original and the appellate courts including the High Court. No doubt there is the section for staying even rent suits. My respectful submission is that even though some temporary inconvenience may be caused to landlords by this section in the realization of rent, it can be very much minimized by the Government by expediting the permanent amending measure and bringing it into force even before the expiry of this year, if that is possible. My only request is to reduce the period of the stay and to expedite the permanent legislation."

The House then adjourned to meet again at 11 a.m. on the next day.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Saturday, the 7th September 1946.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Fort St. George, at eleven of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHAN-MUKHAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

I.—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

* 159 a Q.—

MR. SPEAKER:—"I have asked the office to roned copies of the answer given yesterday and to circulate them to hon. Members. I hope it has been done."

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Yes, Sir b."

a Carried over from 6th September 1946.

b 159 Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA:—(a) Whether it is a fact that the Government have selected 44 candidates for technical studies abroad in U.K. and U.S.A., this year;

(b) if so, what is the policy the Government have adopted in selecting the candidates;

(c) what are the qualifications of the selected candidates; and

(d) How many of the selected candidates are Harijans?

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" (a) Yes. The Government of India allotted 50 scholarships to this Presidency for advanced studies overseas. Candidates for 46 scholarships have been nominated finally. Selection of candidates for the remaining four is under correspondence with the Government of India.

" (b) The hon. Member presumably refers to the procedure for selection of candidates for the scholarships.

" Applications were invited by means of public advertisement and the selection was made by a Committee consisting of a Member of the Board of Revenue as Chairman and the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, and a Member of the Madras Public Service Commission as members. The Committee interviewed the candidates and made the selection. In making the selection the Committee was asked to see that adequate representation was given to minority communities provided suitable candidates were forthcoming. In respect of the group of subjects connected with "Industries," the Committee was also instructed to see that as far as possible adequate representation was given to each of the linguistic areas of the Province. In the matter of qualifications the Committee was instructed that as far as possible no student should be selected who did not possess a first class Master's degree or equivalent qualifications in the subject or basic science concerned, preference being given to those who had also acquired some practical and research experience of value, subject to allowances being made for—

" (1) specialities in respect of which there would be no applicant with a first class qualification;

" (2) cases where field experience and research after taking a second class degree might be assessed higher than a mere first class; and

" (3) the need for securing adequate representation for backward classes and for the various linguistic areas.

" (c) Thirty-nine candidates possess first class Master's or Bachelor's degrees and seven candidates possess second class degree with practical experience.

" (d) Two persons belonging to the scheduled classes possessing second class degrees applied; none of them was selected."

[7th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state why the two Harijan candidates were not selected when other second-class degree-holders with practical experience have been selected?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"Sir, two Harijans applied. One was Mr. C. V. Veluswami who had applied for 'Fuel Technology and Design Furnaces.' He possessed a B.Sc. degree in second class. The Selection Committee recommended the following three candidates in the order of preference shown below. Their qualifications are noted against their names:—

(1) Mr. M. I. Mathews, Christian, B.Sc., First class and B.Sc. (Tech.).

(2) Mr. P. Seshadri, Brahman, B.Sc., (Hons.), First class, First Rank Research Scholar in Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore.

(3) Mr. T. P. Soundararajan, Brahman, B.Sc., First class, First Rank, Research Experience at Tata Iron Company.

"The Committee have finally selected Mr. M. I. Mathews.

"The other Harijan candidate was Mr. T. M. Gurusiddiah. He had applied for 'Highway Research.' He possessed the B.E. degree with second class.

"The Selection Committee recommended Mr. R. Thilainayagam, a backward class candidate. His qualifications are B.E. (Civil), second-class, C.E. (Diploma) and B.E. in Highway Engineering."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"My question was that out of the answer given to clause (c), namely, that when seven candidates possessing second-class degree with practical experience were selected, why the two Harijans who applied and who possessed second-class degrees were probably not selected."

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"The candidates who were selected were probably considered better."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I ask the Government, Sir, when these seven candidates having second-class qualification were selected, what was the difficulty in the way of the Government for selecting these two candidates who had also the same second-class qualifications?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"The answer has been given already in the main answer itself. People who have field experience and factory experience coupled with second-class qualification are certainly superior to those who have merely passed their examinations, and are considered equivalent to first class."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I ask Government whether it is a fact that four candidates possessing less than second-class qualifications were selected in the place of Harijans?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"I am not able to follow the hon. Member."

[7th September 1946]

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I would like to know whether the Government pretend to have relaxed any of these qualifications in favour of the scheduled class candidates whom they say they are helping?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"Government do not make any pretensions, Sir."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Will the Hon. Minister state whether the Government are not prepared to stretch a point—a feeble point—in this case in order to help the backward communities and the scheduled class people instead of putting forward pleas which are not very tangible?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"Government do not accept the latter portion of the hon. Member's statement. The Government can make tangible concessions on behalf of the backward classes. In regard to this matter, we could not do anything better because the policy regarding this was laid down even before we took up office."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Having called for the applications with specific qualifications, is it not an injustice, Sir, to reject the applications of the Harijan candidates in preference to Christians?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"There was no question of Christian or Harijan in this matter at all; the best available people were selected. In regard to certain communities, some concessions could have been given but in this matter, as I have stated, the selection was made by a Committee and they selected these men."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Will the Hon. Minister be pleased to state the number of Brahmans selected in this connexion?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"Certainly, Sir. The number is 21, Sir."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Arising out of the answer, the Hon. Minister said, one Mr. Mathews was selected and no depressed class candidates, even though they had necessary qualifications. Is it not an injustice to the Harijans?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"I have nothing more to add to what I have already stated, where I have made my position clear."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Hon. Minister said that 21 Brahmans were selected. Is the Government satisfied, Sir, that adequate representation to backward and other scheduled class communities have been given?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"Candidates of the backward classes could be selected only if they have proper and requisite qualification. If the hon. Member wants information about the number of candidates of the backward communities, he can put a separate question."

[7th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I ask, Sir, whether in the name of Harijans four backward class communities were selected? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" They were not selected in the name of Harijans."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Will the Government be pleased to call for the reports to show that these four candidates selected were not selected in the place of Harijans? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" Nobody was selected in the place of Harijans. My reply was that there were two Harijan applications; to one of the departments a backward class man also applied and he was selected."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I ask whether there was any place reserved for Harijans? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" No, Sir."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know, Sir, whether the Government will consider the advisability of making a rule that in the case of backward class candidates the minimum qualification prescribed would be sufficient? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" It is too early to consider it now, because we do not know whether we are going to send candidates to England next year."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know whether the Central Government framed these rules or they directed the Provincial Board to frame them? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" They were received from the Central Government."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—" How many Muslim candidates were selected? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" Three."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I ask the Government whether in regard to these selections they considered the question of merit or the 20 per cent principle here also? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" Merit was considered but it was much more than 20 per cent."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—" May I know the number of applicants from the Ceded Districts who were selected? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" I am sorry that I do not have the number of applications according to districts."

[7th September 1946]

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—" May I know whether any Muslim candidate was selected from the Tamilnad area? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" Even that, I am sorry, I am not able to give at present."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" In view of the fact that no Harijan was selected this time, may I ask whether at least in future the Government would consider the case of Harijans sympathetically? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" Certainly, Sir."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—" May I inform the Hon. Minister that one applicant by name Mr. C. V. Subrahmanyam from Nandyal with a B.Sc. second class has also applied for selection and ask whether his case will be considered in filling up the remaining four vacancies? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" The four vacancies have also been filled up."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—" May I ask the Hon. Minister whether his case will be considered at least next year? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—" It is too early to say now, because we are not sure whether we are going to send anybody to England next year."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Will the Government consider the desirability of filling up the four vacancies that exist at present by Harijans? "

MR. SPEAKER:—" It has already been answered; these four vacancies have also been filled up."

* 160 Q.—The question was withdrawn by the hon. Member before answering.

Action taken against newspapers during the war years.

* 161 Q.—SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU on behalf of Sri K. Ananda Nambiar: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) the number and names of daily, weekly and other newspapers and periodicals against which action was taken during the war years when the Province was under the Advisers' regime;

(b) the number and names of those which have been freed from the above action and allowed to carry on their work as before;

(c) whether the Government propose to withdraw all restrictions and refund the security to those papers against which action was taken by the Advisers' regime; and a Anti-corruption measures.

* 160 Q.—SRI K. T. KOSALRAM: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether the anti-corruption drive launched by Government has had any effect; and

(b) if so, how many corrupt officials have been brought to book by the special body created for that purpose?

[7th September 1946]

(d) if the answer to (c) is in the negative, the reasons therefor?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“(a) & (b) The collection and completion of the information would involve an amount of labour and time which, in the opinion of the Government, would be quite disproportionate to any useful purpose which might be served.

“(c) & (d) All the press restrictions have been withdrawn.

The only case of refund of security which is still under consideration of Government is that of Desabhimani, Malabar.”

MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Ananda Nambiyar is in jail now, Sir, and how can Mr. Venkateswarlu put the question?”

MR. SPEAKER:—“Have you got his authority?”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“Yes.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“Arising out of answer to clause (a), may I know whether there is any specific complaint against the Desabhimani?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“There is a specific complaint against the paper.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“Will the Hon. the Premier be pleased to give information to the House regarding the specific complaint against that paper?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“It will be supplied to him if he wants.”

Soldiers' Boards in the Madras Presidency.

* 162 Q.—SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU on behalf of Sri K. Ananda Nambiar: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased—

(a) to place on the table of the House a list of members of each Soldiers' Board in the Presidency; and

(b) whether the Minister proposes to take steps to give adequate representation to representatives of ex-servicemen on the Soldiers' Board and to see that the Board functions in close consultation with the Ex-Servicemen's Association wherever it exists?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“(a) A statement showing the composition of the Provincial and District Sailors', Soldiers' and Airmen's Boards is placed on the table of the House.

“(b) The question of re-organizing the Soldiers' Boards in general and giving adequate representation to ex-servicemen on the District Sailors', Soldiers' and Airmen's Boards is under consideration.”

[7th September 1946]

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, whether when the question of re-organization of the Board is taken up, members of the Legislature will also be taken into it?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I do not think so, Sir.”

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“May I know where the need is for this Government to show any particular concern to these ex-soldiers who, I take it, served in an imperialist war?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I am surprised at this question. I am afraid it is being repeated more than once. We have inherited the present Government from the previous Government and we have to attend to so many things that had been done by the previous Government.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I know whether there is any proposal to abolish the Sailors', Soldiers' and Airmen's Board?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I note the hon. member's question and I shall try to find out.”

Labour Union of the Dalmia Cement, Limited.

* 163 Q.—SRI K. ANANDA NAMBIYAR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state—

(a) the number of workers discharged from the Dalmia Cement, Limited, for having attempted to organize a union whose case the Labour Union had reported to the Labour Commissioner;

(b) what action the Government propose to take in such cases; and

(c) whether it is a fact that non-employees of the Dalmia Cement, Limited, and employees who are members of the union are not allowed to walk through the Colony Roads of the Dalmia Cement, Limited, Dalmiapuram, and that North Indian watchmen are being posted at the entrance of such road to the Colony?

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“(a) It was represented to the Government that six workers were discharged for having attempted to organize a Union.

“(b) Such cases are dealt with on merits.

“(c) The Government have no information.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know, Sir, whether organizing a Union was considered a crime?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“Not at all, Sir.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“Are the Government aware of the fact that employers are deliberately employing Northern Indians as watchmen as to provoke trouble?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“I have no information.”

[7th September 1946]

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Will the Hon. Minister take the information and see that these North Indians are not employed so that trouble may not be provoked?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I take the information from the hon. Member and I will see what it is about."

Wages of textile workers.

* 164 Q.—SRI D. V. RAMASWAMI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government propose to take any action in regard to the standardization of wages of the textile workers in the Province; and

(b) whether the Government propose to introduce early legislation regarding the conditions of service including wage levels?

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" (a) & (b) A court of enquiry has recently been appointed to enquire into and report on the conditions of service and wages in the Textile Industry. The question whether legislation should be undertaken for standardizing the conditions of service and wages in the Industry will be considered after receipt of the report of the court of enquiry."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know whether the Government propose to bring in legislation for standardization of wages of textile workers alone or of all classes of daily wage earners?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"That is too big a question. So far as textile workers are concerned after the receipt of the report, we shall consider the question. As regards the others, the question raised by the hon. Member is also under consideration."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Are the Government aware of the fact that the Madras Provincial Trade Union Congress have already submitted a memorandum laying down the principles governing this and if so, whether the Government will consider their proposals?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Many memoranda have been received from many Unions and this one too will be considered."

M. S. ABDUL MAJEED SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know, Sir, whether there is any proposal to standardize the wages of handloom weavers?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Notice."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"May I know, Sir, whether the wages will be fixed in consultation with the Trade Union organizations?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"With everybody concerned."

Legislation to protect quarry workers.

* 165 Q.—SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state whether the Government propose to bring in any legislation on the lines of Factories Act to protect thousands of quarry workers from exploitations?

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"The conditions of work and the welfare of labour in quarries are safeguarded by the Indian Mines Act, 1923. No provincial legislation in the subject is contemplated."

Recommendations of the Madras Estates Land Act Enquiry Committee.

* 166 Q.—SRI KALA VENKATA RAO: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether it is proposed to implement the resolution passed in this House in January 1939 recommending to the Government to bring in legislation at an early date on the general basis of the majority recommendations of the Madras Estates Land Act Enquiry Committee and if so, when the Bill may be expected to be introduced?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The Government have under consideration the question of undertaking legislation in regard to estates in this Province. The recommendations of the Madras Estates Land Act Enquiry Committee will be taken into account."

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"May I know if there is any proposal to introduce simultaneously legislation for the abolition of zamindaries also?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Yes, Sir, as was announced by the Hon. the Premier."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know if the Government propose to take up zamindaries offered voluntarily?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"We would like to consider offers if the terms and conditions are reasonable."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know on what terms and conditions they will be taken from the zamindars?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It is for the zamindars to say. But so far as the Government are concerned, they would like cheapest terms and most favourable conditions."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know whether the Government will be prepared to take up the management of the estates under their own department, such as the Co-operative Department or Religious Endowments Department and convert them to the ryotwari system of administration?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I suggest the question being put as a separate one as there are so many points involved."

[7th September 1946]

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—“ May I know if in the legislation to be introduced simultaneously for zamindaris, aghaharams, mukhasa and inam areas also will be simultaneously covered? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ I cannot say at present; the details have not yet been gone into.”

SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI:—“ May I know the terms, on what terms the Government are prepared to take up the zamindari areas, whether they are going to pay compensation or not? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ It is too premature to enter into details now.”

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ May I know which are the zamindaries my hon. Friend Mr. Natesa Chettiyar is arranging to bring under the Government? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ It is for him to answer.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ May I know whether the Government have come to any decision on the question of payment of compensation? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ We have not come to that stage.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ May I know whether the abolition of zamindaris will lead to the socialisation of lands? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ There is no necessary connection between the two. Presumably my hon. Friend does not understand the full implications of socialisation.”

Fire accidents in two villages in North Arcot district.

* 167 Q.—SRI P. R. RAMANJULU REDDI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether there were fire accidents recently in Kilvillivalam village in Wandiwash taluk and in Mamandoor village, Cheyyar taluk, North Arcot district;

(b) whether there was heavy loss to property belonging to poor agriculturists;

(c) if answer to (b) is ‘ yes ’ will the Minister state the extent of loss involved;

(d) what steps did the Government take to afford relief to the people;

(e) whether memorials from the people of the respective villages were sent to Government praying for help; and

(f) what action the Government took or propose to take in respect of those memorials?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ (a) Fire accidents took place in Kilvillivalam village of Wandiwash taluk and Mamandoor village of Cheyyar taluk on 12th May 1946 and 13th May 1946 respectively.

“ (b) The individuals whose houses were burnt lost practically all their movable properties also.

7th September 1946]

“ (c) The total loss in the Mamandoor case is estimated at Rs. 20,000. In the Kilvillivalam case the total loss is estimated at Rs. 1,00,000.

“ (d) Two palmyra trees and 1,250 palmyra leaves to each of the 103 sufferers in Mamandoor village and two palmyra trees and 500 palmyra leaves to each of the 18 sufferers in Kilvillivalam village were sanctioned to help them to rebuild their houses. A money grant at the rate of Rs. 5 each was also granted.

“ (e) Yes.

“ (f) The memorials were transferred to the Collector of North Arcot for disposal and were filed by him as relief had already been granted after a personal inspection of the scene of occurrence on 16th May 1946 by the Revenue Divisional Officer, Cheyyar.”

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—“ May I know whether any such incident was reported to the Provincial Government from the Revenue division of Dharmapuri? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ I am not aware of any such thing.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ May I know whether the help given by Government in such cases is not generally sufficient? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ It is sufficient to put them on their legs again.”

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ May I ask if the Government would consider the advisability of expanding the fire services so that on such occasions the fire brigade may be available? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ It will be very difficult to extend the fire services to the villages of the province.”

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ May I know whether the origin of the fire has been ascertained? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ I am not aware of it.”

DR. M. J. SAMUEL:—“ May I know what the policy of the Government is in the matter of rendering help to those people who are exposed to fire accidents, for instance the Scheduled Classes of the Ceded districts? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ I suggest a separate question be put as it raises a separate matter.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ May I know, Sir, whether the Government have accepted the rule that people who suffer under such accidents should be fully compensated? ”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“ No, Sir, they have not accepted responsibility for any such compensation.”

[7th September 1946]

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, if Collectors and Revenue Divisional Officers are empowered to make grants in cases like this? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" Yes, Sir. If it comes to the notice of Government they wire, as we have done in some cases, for immediate relief being given."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, if little more facility will be afforded for taking and supplying materials from the nearest military depots? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I am unable to answer. Military depots are not in our hands."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—" May I suggest the formation of non-official committees for purposes of rendering prompt help in such cases? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" It will be separately considered, in any particular cases."

SRI K. SUBBA RAO:—" May I know, Sir, to minimise the number of fire accidents, asbestos sheets will be supplied to people for roofing purposes."

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I think the questioner himself knows such a thing is impossible."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Are we to take it, Sir, that provision of fire service in this Presidency has reached its maximum limit, and cannot be enlarged or extended? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I do not say it has reached its limit. I know that in these years of war, in several towns where there was no fire service, new services had been provided. But it is beyond the means of Government to provide it everywhere."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" In view of the fact that there are many cases of fire occurring in Ceded districts, will Government consider the desirability of placing certain sums with the Collector of each district to afford immediate help to the people in such cases of fire? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" That has already been done, Sir, not only in Ceded districts but in all districts."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" Is it not a fact that some of these military depots contain useful building materials, are in charge of Collectors and Revenue Divisional Officers? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" A separate question may be put."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Arising out of the answer to my previous question, how is it, Sir, that there is so much delay caused in distributing these grants to those people in distress? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" There is no connection between the previous question and the present question."

Refund of collective fine in Mannargudi.

* 168 Q.—SRI A. VEDARATHNAM PILLAI: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have decided to refund the collective fine imposed on the people of Mannargudi during the disturbances in August 1942;

(b) if so when; and

(c) the amount of collective fine imposed?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) The Government have decided to refund the collective fines imposed in several places in the Province including Mannargudi making an allowance for the amount of compensation paid.

" (b) As early as possible.

" (c) Rs. 35,888-10-11 at Mannargudi."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" What is the decision of Government, Sir, I want to know from the Hon. Premier, with regard to other places where collective fines were imposed, such as Tenali, Bapatla, and some other places in Kistna and Guntur districts? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Perhaps, what I have stated in the answer is not quite clear to the hon. Member. In certain cases, where damage had been done, from out of the collective fines, a certain amount was awarded as compensation for the sufferer; and excluding that amount, the balance had been ordered to be refunded."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know from the Hon. Premier, on what principle this action has been taken by the Government, in refunding the fines that were collected from the people of Mannargudi? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" It is a matter of policy with the Government, and according to that policy, the collected fines had been ordered to be refunded. Fines were levied with a view to prevent further troubles as a security, and as the whole trouble is over now, the fines that were levied had to be returned. They would have returned the whole, but for the fact that a portion of the amount was granted as compensation to some sufferers."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Does the Hon. Premier realize that by resorting to such action, the Government are putting up a premium on the desire on the part of a section of the people to resort to disturbances? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Certainly not."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, what the policy of the Government is about the refund of the individual fines imposed during 1940, 1941 and 1942? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" If there are cases in which refund can be made on application that will be done also, as it was done in some cases on merit."

[7th September 1946]

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—" May I know, Sir, what procedure Government contemplate in refunding all these fines to the individuals; I mean, whether individuals have to apply to the concerned officers, or will the Government take necessary steps to refund the money to the individuals, themselves? "

P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it the policy of Government not to impose such collective fines in cases of similar disturbance in future? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Certainly not; a heavier fine, perhaps, will be imposed." (Laughter.)

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know, Sir, whether it will not be fair and just and consistent with the policy of this Government, if the entire collective fines are returned irrespective of the fact whether some amount from these collective fines went as compensation to the sufferers for the damages sustained? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" May be a good question for the hon. Member in a court of law. But here Government are dealing with cases in which certain money had been paid by the district officers to those who suffered, and Government consider it just to leave that amount, and refund only the balance."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it the case that the Government have refunded these fines only because these disturbers disturbed the peace of the locality in support of the Congress party? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Certainly not."

SRI K. T. KOSALARAMA NADAR:—" Will Government be pleased to refund the amounts through village authorities so that trouble may be avoided to the villagers? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I am not able to understand the hon. Member's mind."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, what the Hon. Premier means when he said 'on merit' the application will be considered, for refund of the fine. According to the policy of the Government, if it is a case in which violence was involved, the fine would not be refunded? "

P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Arising out of the answer, may I know what is the special merit of these disturbances. Is it because they were created to further the political power of the Congress party? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I have nothing more to add to what I have said in the answer."

[7th September 1946]

P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Further to the answer given to me by the Hon. Prime Minister, may I know, Sir, what was the special merit of the disturbances in Mannargudi and other places? Is the exemption given because these disturbances were made to further the political power of the Congress party? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" The question was answered, and I do not think I should repeat it again."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know whether Government will consider the desirability of returning fines levied on individual satyagrahis? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" It has already been answered."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it not a fact, Sir, that a good many of the people who were responsible for the disturbance in Mannargudi were responsible for destruction of property and causing violence? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I cannot answer that question."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Do not Government realize that most of the persons from whom collective fines were collected were innocent and non-violent, and yet they had to pay for the misdeeds of a few rowdy elements? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" It may be so in several cases."

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Does not the Hon. Premier consider it unsound policy to impose greater fines in future after having refunded the fines in such cases? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" That question does not arise out of this question."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" When innocent people have been asked to pay fines for the rowdyism of wrong-doers, will it be a sound policy to refund practically all the collective fines collected from all persons? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" It is the intention of the Government that the fines should be returned to the individuals who paid them."

Gazetted Police officers in Madras City.

* 169 Q.—MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether there are a number of Gazetted Police Officials in the Madras City Police who have been working for more than three years as against the statutory rules;

(b) if so, why rules have not been enforced strictly and why repeated extensions have been given; and

[7th September 1946]

(c) the names of such officials and the number of years they have served in the Madras City?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“(a) There is no such statutory rule but only an executive instruction. There are four gazetted officers who have been serving in the Madras City Police for more than three years.

“(b) They were retained beyond three years on account of the paucity of suitable officers to replace them. Moreover, the rule was relaxed during the war period.

“(c) Sri Rao Sahib M. Krishnamurthi Nayudu—Five years and five months.

Sri Rao Sahib C. J. P. Pinto—Five years.

Sri Rao Sahib M. Srinivasa Acharya—Four years and five months.

Sri Rao Bahadur P. Munilal—Five years and six months.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Are there officials of the rank and status who could be transferred to Madras in their places, Sir?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“This is covered by the answer already given. I have said ‘because of paucity of officers’.”

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Although the Hon. Prime Minister has repeated the word ‘paucity’, may I ask him what exactly are the qualifications that are required to take the place of the existing officers?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“That question cannot be answered straightaway.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I want to know, Sir, whether the quality that is insisted on is the personal quality of these individuals or is it the general qualification in the cadre of the officers?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“Qualifications required for the office.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“Are Government aware that the work turned out by younger people is more efficient and cost less to the Government?” (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“The hon. Member may answer the question for himself.” (Laughter.)

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“What are the qualifications that are required for the offices for the City of Madras occupied by these officers?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“That question does not arise.”

[7th September 1946]

MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“When in similar cases officers had been transferred from the City, may I know why these officers should continue to stay in Madras?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“The answer has been given already. Under the then circumstances, they could not find other people.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“What, according to Government, are the special qualifications of these officers that made their presence in the City so indispensable?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“A separate question may be put by the hon. Member.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, what will the Government do, if these officers retired from service to-morrow?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“To-morrow is not to-day, Sir.” (Laughter.)

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, whether Government are aware that one Mr. Pinto, Assistant Commissioner, is famous for harassing some communities and workers?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“No, Sir.”

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Will Government at least now consider to take necessary steps to transfer these officers under the changed circumstances?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“Every endeavour will be made to transfer officers whose presence would not be required.”

Creation of linguistic provinces.

* 170 Q.—SRI KALA VENKATA RAO: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state what action was taken on the resolution adopted by this House recommending the creation of linguistic provinces in March 1938 and what further action the present Government propose to take on that now?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“The resolution was forwarded to the Secretary of State for India in April 1938 but he did not then accept the recommendation. It is now proposed to await the decision of the Constituent Assembly.”

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—“Will Government be pleased to publish the correspondence that passed between Madras Government and the Secretary of State for India on this question?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“I do not think any purpose will be served by publishing the correspondence.”

[7th September 1946]

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know, Sir, whether this Government has reason to believe that steps were not taken by the then Government of Madras (1938) to promote the formation of linguistic provinces? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" No purpose will be served by the hon. Member putting that question or the Government attempting to answer it."

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—" Are Government aware that the Secretary of State appointed a Sub-Committee of his Council with the late Ragavendra Rao as the President to deal with the problem of division of Provinces on linguistic basis, and will the Hon. Premier be pleased to call for the report and furnish it to this House."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Notice."

P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it a fact, Sir, that this question was shelved by the Secretary of State for India on the recommendation of the then Governor who was advised against it by the then head of this Government, in spite of the resolution of this House? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I should not presume so, Sir."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" I should like to know from the Government whether the question that was put to the Secretary of State for India was only with regard to the separation of Andhra Province or the separation of the whole Presidency on linguistic basis? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" At that time, so far as my recollection goes, the question of separation was with regard to Andhra Province alone."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know, Sir, in view of the fact that the resolution was sent as long ago as 1938, will the Government be pleased to send a reminder? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" As I said, Sir, that question has been disposed of; so there is no question of sending a reminder."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKTESWARLU:—" Do the Government propose to send another resolution to the Secretary of State for India demanding immediate formation of Provinces on linguistic basis with regard to Madras Province? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" There will be no need for that, when the question is likely to be disposed of by the Constituent Assembly."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Mr. Venkateswarlu is agitating for the separation of Provinces on 'Lingayat' basis and not on 'linguistic' basis." (Laughter.)

[7th September 1946]

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Whether the present Government propose any further action on the formation of Provinces on linguistic basis? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" For the present, Sir, the Government feel that no attempt can be made for the formation of Provinces on linguistic basis."

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—" Did the Advisers' Government, in their reply to the Andhra Maha Sabha, dated 2nd February 1942, state that a detailed preliminary enquiry was desirable before the question of the separation of the Province was taken up seriously? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" It may be, and it is only natural that such an answer could have been given."

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—" Did the Government receive any representation, Sir, that there is need to appoint a fact-finding committee to aid the labours of the Constituent Assembly? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" No information has been received formerly except the oral statement given now by the hon. Member."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—" Is it necessary, Sir, to wait till the Constituent Assembly frames a constitution, for the formation of an Andhra Province? Cannot this Government take steps to form a separate Province under the existing Act? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" Our Government do not consider it possible or feasible under the present circumstances."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—" Will Government be pleased to separate the Andhra Budget from the non-Andhra area Budget? "

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" That question may be considered by the Government."

SRIMATHI C. AMMANNA RAJA:—" On a point of information, Sir, is there any limit to the number of questions that each Member may put? " (Laughter.)

MR. SPEAKER:—" No limit."

MR. NAGAPPA:—" May I know from the Prime Minister whether the Government will consider the desirability of passing another resolution by this House in order to bring pressure on the Constituent Assembly to take up the question of formation of Provinces on the linguistic basis? "

MR. SPEAKER:—" I heard somebody bawled out from the gallery over there. I warn you. I will clear you all from there."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" I am afraid the hon. Member has not understood his question himself."

[7th September 1946]

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"Pending the formation of a separate Andhra Province will the Government be pleased to consider about the bifurcation of the Revenue Board into two portions, Andhra and non-Andhra, and in that way also have separate heads of departments like the Director of Public Instruction, Chief Engineer, Inspector-General of Police, and so on?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The question does not arise. The Revenue Board may exist there or not. With regard to other things, what will happen, nobody knows. It is not proper that such questions should be put on the floor of the House expecting the Government to answer, which department would exist, and which would not exist."

SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI:—"Will the Government care to address the Secretary of State for India to divide this Province into four, namely, Andhra, Tamil, Malayalam and Kanarese?" (A voice: 'Why not more?')

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Secretary of State for India himself is not free to attend to these matters at present."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Question-time is over. The answer to the rest of the questions will be printed in the proceedings. We will now pass on to the next item in the agenda."

b Answered on 11th September 1946.

[7th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

" (b) The attention of the hon. Member is invited to the press communiqué placed on the table of the House."

(b) whether the Government propose to give effect to the recommendations of the salaries committee constituted during the Advisers' regime; and

(c) whether a number of cases are pending before the Government in which disciplinary action has been taken against Government servants for chronic indebtedness?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) It has been decided that a sub-committee of Ministers will be formed to examine the question and forward a report to Government.

" (b) This will depend on the recommendations of the Ministers' sub-committee.

" (c) No such disciplinary cases have come to the knowledge of the Government."

Allotment for the Highways Department.

* 178 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state what percentage cut has been made in the amount allotted by the previous Government for the Highways Department and whether any portion of this money will be diverted for village road development?

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—"A total provision of Rs. 336.42 lakhs towards the cost (for works, establishment, tools and plant) of the communications branch of the Public Works Department had been made in the budget for the current year authorized by His Excellency the Governor. The allotment for the expenditure required by the Highways Department which was formed on 1st April 1946 as such was not made separately in the budget. It was left to be provided for in the present budget. A total allotment of Rs. 439.29 lakhs required for the department has accordingly been made in the revised budget. There was thus no cut in the allotment for the Highways Department. The latter part of the question does not arise."

* 179 Q.—SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state—

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“The Government have not yet taken the question of introducing legislation relating to old age pension, unemployment relief, etc., to workers. The Government of India are, however, contemplating such legislation. Legislation for adjudication machinery for labour disputes will be introduced shortly.”

Control over the prices of coconuts, copra and coconut oil.

* 181 Q.—H. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Motor Transport and Food be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is proposed to reduce the prices of coconuts, copra and coconut oil by means of establishing control over the same; and

(b) if so, whether the Government have fully considered the adverse effect of the same on the financial resources of the coconut growers in the West Coast?

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“(a) & (b) The Government of India have formulated certain proposals to make copra, coconut, and coconut oil available at reasonable prices. Those proposals are still under consideration. The Government of Madras will fully consider the effect of these proposals on the financial resources of the coconut growers in the West Coast before agreeing to the Government of India's proposals.”

* 181-A Q. a

[7th September 1946]

* 181-B Q.—MR. H. GERRY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) what sum has been allotted for maintenance of roads taken over by Government, and what does this amount to per mile;

(b) how does this sum compare with pre-war cost of maintenance in conjunction with that cost to-day;

(c) how many power rollers are available now;

(d) how many power rollers are required for maintenance alone;

(e) how many power rollers are required if post-war road development is to be undertaken;

(f) what steps, if any, are being taken to provide them;

(g) had the late Government a definite programme for road maintenance and development; and

(h) if so, by how much have the present Government increased or reduced that programme?

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—“(a) Rs. 140 lakhs for ordinary maintenance excluding Rs. 30 lakhs for war arrear renewals. This works to Rs. 1,000 per mile.

“(b) The allotment of Rs. 140 lakhs is double the minimum allotment of about Rs. 70 lakhs recommended by the Chief Engineer on the basis of the pre-war rates and nearly $2\frac{1}{2}$ times the average pre-war expenditure of about Rs. 58 lakhs actually incurred by District Boards on these roads. The present cost of maintenance is about three times pre-war costs. If the present allotment is found inadequate during the course of the year the question of increasing it will be considered.

“(c) Sixty-four.

“(d) Two hundred and fifty-six.

“(e) Eight hundred and fifty. This number will have to be modified if the Post War Road Programme is modified as mentioned in the answer to clause (h).

“(f) Orders have been placed with the Director-General of Munitions Production for 350 rollers. He is taking the usual procurement action.

“(g) Yes.

“(h) This Government have not modified the programme in so far as it relates to maintenance of roads. As regards development of roads the question of modifying the programme drawn up by the previous Government is under consideration.”

* 181-C Q.—MR. H. GERRY: Will the Hon. Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) how many bullock carts fitted with pneumatic tyres are in use in this Presidency;

(b) have Government instituted any tests as between pneumatic tyred and ordinary iron tyred bullock carts of Madras Presidency; and

(c) if not, will they conduct tests and publish the results?

[7th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—“(a) Information is not available.

“(b) No.

“(c) The Secretary of the Indian Roads Congress recently suggested that a trial of the bullock cart wheels of the design proposed by Mr. B. V. Vagh of the Burmah-Shell for use on all types of wheels whether they employ a steel tyre or not might be arranged by this Government. On the advice of the Chief Engineer (Highways) the Government decided in May 1946 to await the results of similar experiments which are being conducted by the Bombay Government.”

(a) whether it is a fact that the C.I.D. Inspector and constable are still following the hon. Member of this House, Sri K. Ananda Nambiar, wherever he goes;

(b) if it is for the purpose of reporting his speech, whether the same privilege is extended to all M.L.As.; and

(c) if not, why this hon. Member is specially treated?

A.—Clauses (a), (b) and (c).—The Government must decline to answer the questions as it would be against the public interest to answer them.

A.—(a) Yes.

(b) The information cannot be furnished as they are considered confidential.

(c) The College of Engineering for Ceded Districts has not yet been opened as it was not possible to obtain affiliation from the University of Madras in time. Fifty seats in Guindy and 15 in Coimbatore College have been provided extra this year. The Government have appointed a Committee of Experts to make recommendation in the matter, including the place in which the College should be established. The suitability of Cuddapah or any other places in the Ceded Districts will also be considered by the Committee.

Execution of Gandikota and Upper Sagileru Projects (Cuddapah district).

45 Q.—SRI S. NAGIAH: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) the present stage of the Gandikota Project (Cuddapah district);

(b) when it is likely to be taken up for execution;

(c) the cost incurred in connection with the preliminary investigation and preparation of plans and estimates;

(d) the definite nature of the conclusion reached regarding the utility of the project by the Executive Engineer, who was in charge of preparing the plans and estimates of this project; and

(e) the present stage of the Upper Sagileru Project (Cuddapah district) and whether the Government have any proposal to take this project immediately and improve the paddy growth in the Cuddapah district?

A.—(a) The investigation of the project has been completed and the Chief Engineer is awaiting the report from the Superintending Engineer.

(b) A decision can be arrived at only after the report has been received and examined.

(c) Rs. 1,92,519 up to end of 31st March 1946.

(d) The report of the Executive Engineer is awaited from the Superintending Engineer's office by the Chief Engineer (Irrigation).

(e) Presumably the hon. Member refers to the Lower Sagileru Project for supplying Badvel and nine other tanks from the Sagileru. The scheme was examined and dropped a number of times; the last time was in 1944. The main reasons for dropping the scheme was the doubt about the adequacy of supplies and of the retentivity of the bed of the Badvel tank. To clear up these points gauging the river for three years was sanctioned and is in progress. A geological survey of the tract is also being made.

Irrigation Schemes in Salem district.

46 Q.—SRI RAJA GURUNATHA CHETTIYAR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) what the schemes investigated in Salem district for irrigation are; and

(b) when each of them will be taken up?

[7th September 1946]

A.—(a) Three schemes, namely, (1) Channel from Mettur Dam to irrigate portions of Salem district; (2) Markandhandhi Reservoir Project and (3) Badathlev Project have been investigated or are still under investigation.

(b) It is not possible to say until investigation has been completed and a final report from the Chief Engineer (Irrigation) has been received by the Government, on the merits and technical feasibility of the schemes.

Lower Bhavani project and irrigation tanks in Coimbatore district.

47 Q.—SRI K. SUBBANNA GOUNDER: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) at what stage the Lower Bhavani Project is;
- (b) whether it is a fact that Coimbatore district is depending on tanks for cultivation;
- (c) the number of tanks in the district;
- (d) whether the Government have received any representation to repair the tanks; and
- (e) what action has been taken with reference to that representation?

A.—(a) The agricultural aspect of the Lower Bhavani project is under consideration. Detailed revenue investigation with reference to the Revised Estimates which the Chief Engineer (Irrigation) will be asked to prepare has yet to be made.

(b) No. There are tanks, wells, channels and anicuts besides dry cultivation.

(c) There are 42 tanks in charge of Public Works Department.

(d) & (e) Representations to repair the tanks in the district have been received and they have been referred to the Chief Engineer (Irrigation). A report is awaited from him.

Reopening of the Choolai Mills.

48 Q.—SRI N. GOVINDASWAMI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state whether if the proprietors of the Choolai mills do not propose to reopen and run the mills, the Government propose to run the concern, in view of the—

- (a) large number of workers remaining unemployed; and
- (b) cloth famine?

A.—The Government do not propose to take over the mills, the closure of which was due to the shortage of essential spare parts. Action has been taken to see that the necessary spare parts are supplied to the mills as soon as they are available from imports.

[7th September 1946]

Lankas in the Godavari, the Kistna and the Cauvery rivers.

49 Q.—SRI M. BAPINEEDU: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state the number and area of lankas in the three rivers—the Godavari, the Kistna and the Cauvery—and the crops raised in each area; and if the crops raised on the lankas are not food crops whether the Government have issued orders to raise only food crops and if not whether it is proposed to issue such orders immediately?

A.—(1) As regards the number and area of lankas in the three rivers—the Godavari, the Kistna and the Cauvery—and the crops raised in each area, no information is available with the Government. The Board of Revenue has been asked to submit a report.

(2) The Government have issued orders that in Guntur, Kistna, West Godavari and East Godavari the lease of lankas for the current fasli should be subject, wherever possible, to the condition that only food crops and not tobacco or other commercial crops should be raised. No orders have been issued in this respect as regards the lankas in the Cauvery.

II.—THE MADRAS TENANTS AND RYOTS PROTECTION BILL, 1946.

A Bill to provide for the temporary protection of certain classes of tenants and ryots in the Province of Madras.

* MR. SPEAKER:—“The House will now resume discussion 12 noon. on the Bill moved by the Hon. Sri Karanth.”

ZAMINDAR OF MIRZAPURAM:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether to oppose this Bill or to support it. I am in a confusion. Any way I would like to say a few words about the Bill. Private lands are supposed to be the personal property of the landholders just like a ryot having hundred acres of patta land. He can lease out his lands to any ryot and receive rent. I know instances where the ryots are getting 10 to 12 bags of paddy for each acre. That works out to nearly Rs. 120 per acre. The landholders are in the same position as the ryotwari landholders. I would welcome this legislation if the Hon. the Minister for Revenue will bring forward similar legislation for the ryotwari tenants also. I am for protecting the interests of the ryots. I do not want the interests of the ryots to suffer in any way. I would request the Hon. the Revenue Minister to remember that the private lands of the landholders are in the same position as the lands of the ryots. There is absolutely no difference between the lands of the ryots and the private lands of the landholders. If legislation of this kind is brought in from time to time, there is absolutely no safety for private property. According to the Estates Land Act, the landholders can lease out their lands and get a certain amount of rent. This legislation is brought forward certainly to deprive the landholders of their interests. The landholders spend a lot of money in improving their private lands, manuring them and bringing them under cultivation. They are not lands which are improved by the leaseholder. If such lands are brought in, it amounts to confiscation of private property of individuals. It may be landholders to-day; it may be somebody else to-morrow. The Government can bring forward any legislation. To-morrow they might bring in legislation saying that persons owning a number of houses, which are under the occupation of tenants, shall be deprived of their ownership of such property. I do not mind if adequate compensation is paid for such properties. It may be the landholder to-day; it may be somebody else to-morrow. I am not trying to say anything about the Bill. My only request is that the Hon. Minister should view the thing in a proper manner and see that some compensation at least is paid to the landholders whose lands are given away free to the tenants. If such private lands are given away to the tenants by legislation, where do the landholders stand? Give them notice: if hereafter you give such lands to the ryots on lease, you are not entitled to get them back. Give them a fair opportunity. (Raja of Venkatagiri: 'That is later, not now.') But there is something behind this Bill. That is what I presume. The intention of the Government seems to be—I may be wrong in saying that—to bring forward another legislation wherein a clause may be included that the tenants who are in possession of such lands shall not be evicted; they shall be allowed to continue in the occupation of such lands and the landholders are, perhaps, entitled to $2\frac{1}{2}$ times their rental value. I do not want such things to happen. After all, it is private property. I am not trying to go into the details. You may say that landholders come under a different category. I am not going into the question of landholders at all. I am speaking only on the general principle. You may confiscate the property of the landholders to-day; it may be somebody else to-morrow. It is quite open to the Government to do anything they like. So my only request is to see that such legislation is avoided as far as possible. There is absolutely no security to anybody if such legislation is brought forward. I only request the Hon. Minister to do whatever is possible to see that the interests of the landholders in this particular Bill are safeguarded."

* SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, allow me to thank the Hon. the Minister for Revenue for bringing forward this Bill. I am afraid that the objects and reasons in the statement attached to this Bill are not fulfilled by the clauses of the Bill. I am also afraid that the Bill is more for the zamindars than the tenants. Many of the clauses in the Bill are misconceived on misunderstanding the wording in the Estates Land Act and without proper knowledge of the decisions given in the High Courts and the Privy Council. I am unable to understand whether there is what is called 'private land' in an estate. Even if there is any private land, I have no hesitation in saying that there are judgments and decisions to the effect that these private lands of the zamindar appertain to the zamindari itself. Supposing a zamindar sells away his zamindari to another person, the private lands also go along with it. There is no such property as private or personal property in a zamindari except some lands which are cultivated by hired labour before Act I of 1908, and these lands also are said to belong to the zamindari itself. To say that there are private properties is wrongly conceived.

"Of all the clauses in the Bill, clause 4 is the most important. It contemplates temporary stay of suits and other proceedings which have already been, or which may hereafter be, filed in courts, pending the passing of a comprehensive legislation. I am afraid the clauses as framed are just against the objects and reasons. Suits are filed for recovery of rent, execution proceedings are taken, and possession has to be proceeded with after confirmation of sale which is done after 45 days of sale or after the decision on the irregularity of sale. In a suit for recovery of rent, all these things take more or less three to five years. By the time the decree is executed and the land is got possession of, it is about six years, and there would be a subsequent suit also in respect of the rent on the same land. Stay of proceedings would constitute delay for a further period to no benefit of the ryots. Again, Sir, it looks as if the eviction of tenants benefits the zamindars. How does the zamindar get possession of these lands, I wonder. The Estates Land Act itself provides for this. Extraordinary things take place only when there are no bidders for the land. When bidders for the land are not available, the zamindars have to apply to the Deputy Collector and take permission from the Court to bid in the sale, but these bids are not at all done. I have not come across a case in my estate for a period of 25 years. Actually the purchaser is one of the tenants, or the tenant by the side of the land. He is also a ryot. He bids and takes possession of it. The land goes only to the ryot to consolidate his holdings. By stay of proceedings by this Bill consolidation of holdings is hampered. I cannot understand how the zamindars are benefited by stay of sale or by confirming the sale or purchaser getting into possession of the purchased property. It seriously affects the normal collection of revenue. It seriously hampers the progress of the tenant. The provisions contained in the clauses or the stipulations as in clause 4 are not beneficial to the tenant. If it is beneficial and if it does not involve the ryot in litigation, I would not have chosen to speak at all, because it serves my vested interests. I should like to go on with the normal collection of rent from the tenant without interference. But unnecessary litigation will be introduced into the Court and ill-feeling will be created between the landholder and the ryot without any benefit to either of them. The tenants entertained a hope, in respect of the zamindari legislation, that this popular Government would redeem them and that any Act that might be passed into law would be beneficial to them. Unfortunately, this enactment is certainly not to their benefit. The objects and reasons are very good but the clauses of the bill are contrary to them. I would very much like that this Bill is framed to benefit both the landholder and the tenant and should be referred to a Select Committee, so that it may be reviewed and that the various points advanced by the hon. Members here are implemented in it.

"In respect of the ryots' waste lands, forest lands and tank beds, I suppose the Bill does not intend to control the tenancy of those properties also. The food scarcity and the Grow More Food Campaign had leased these lands to the ryots year after year, there are cases where temporary tenancy had been granted and kudivaram rights in such communal lands, which will be to the disadvantage of the villagers themselves, must not be taken as a loophole for continuation of tenancy by this Bill. The citizenship area that is required will be depleted. In respect of the waste lands, tank-beds and other lands, there must not be any suspension of tenancy or confirmation of kudivaram and the provision for evicting the tenants from these lands must be made available. If they intend to do any such thing, it will seriously affect the ryots, give them trouble and involve them in debts on the litigation over the rights of each party. And the zamindars are equally interested in the ryots as the Government themselves and let me on behalf of part of the zamindars assure the House that they want to be part of the Government's duties and responsibilities. In this respect, I may insist on the Hon. Minister for Revenue that it is absolutely necessary to enforce the compulsory survey of the estates and ascertain the permanent porambokes and forests and other things before a Bill of this nature is passed into law. It is just to clear that misunderstanding that will be created by an enactment of this Bill as law that I make this suggestion. Under these circumstances, I would very humbly suggest to the hon. the Member for Revenue to refer this Bill to a select committee and see that the clauses are in conformity with the objects and reasons of the Bill. I would also suggest the hon. Member to set up a committee to implement the liquidation of the zamindaris at least in respect of voluntary offer and bring them at par with the ryotwari system which was the cause of all the turmoil and trouble and inconvenience to the disadvantage of the agriculturists for the last two hundred years. Service in this respect is of great importance to the welfare of the agriculturists and thus to the whole Presidency."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, while welcoming the Bill, I like to make the following suggestions so that the objects with which the Bill is moved may be fully justified and effectively put into force. The first defect is that the Bill is going to come into force immediately. With regard to this point I want to bring to the notice of the House that the alienation has begun not to-day but the zamindars have begun alienation since the formation of the last Congress Ministry and even during the last general election the Congress advocated abolition of zamindari system and the zamindars, fearing the Congress might implement their pledges, began alienation of the land since those days. They divided the lands and sold away the property by benami sales, sold away to relatives so that they may escape the provisions of the legislation. Thousands of cases can be sighted and ryots gave evidence before Prakasam Committee report. That is why we suggest that a provision may be incorporated giving retrospective effect from the 14th July 1937 in the interests of the tenants and ryots. It is just and proper, Sir, because from that day the alienations have been carried on and it has been mentioned in the Prakasam Committee report. It is therefore necessary that retrospective effect should be given. Then, Sir, there are so many decrees executed against the tenants and the tenants are made to pay these decrees. The zamindars could be compensated by the payment of two years' rent or the decree amount whichever is less. There may be 2, 3 and even 4 decrees against the tenant and the tenant is made to pay so many times the value. Whatever may be the case, two years' value or decree amount whichever is less should be accepted. In this connexion, our friend the Zamindar of Mirzapur said that they are the owners of the lands. In fact, the zamindars are not owners but mere rent collectors. The reply given by the previous Congress Prime Minister was that they are not the owners of the lands but that they are the rent collectors. So they have no hold over the land. Because they failed to collect rent for six or seven years that is no reason why they should pay for these years. Under any circumstance, the zamindars must not have right to collect the smallest amount of any single decree in a number of suits or amount for not more than two years or whichever is less. Next, with regard to depositing the amount, two months are provided. We have received the amendment from the Minister saying the court can sanction time; the case is left to the court. People are troubled with courts and lawyers. It should be mentioned in the Act if suit decrees proceedings are continued, on the failure of the ryot to deposit the amount, the suits should be disposed off if the ryots pay the amount at any time pending the suit. Another point is the Bill provides powers to Government to continue suits. Such reservation of powers are not necessary. Such reservation of powers may prove harmful in the interest of ryots and the authorities may misuse them. With these suggestions I request the Minister for Revenue to take these points into consideration and to see that the objects explained in the Act are fulfilled in the interests of the ryots."

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I deem it my duty to compliment the Hon. the Minister for Revenue for his boldness and sagacity in bringing forward this Bill, as a measure of precaution, before preparing a comprehensive legislation for regulating the relations permanently between the landlords and tenants in this Province. I feel, Sir, that an emergency measure like this is really essential and I wholeheartedly give my support to it. All aspects of the question have been taken into consideration in this measure. The Bill provides not only for the rights and interests of the tenants, but also of the landlords. The Bill is really very wholesome in so far as it is intended to prevent any hardships that might be caused to the tenants on account of pending suits against the tenants instituted by the landlords to eject them. As the Hon. the Minister for Revenue has revealed to us, the number of such suits pending in the Malabar district is very considerable.

p.m.

[H. S. Hussain Sahib Bahadur] [7th September 1946]

“ Sir, I would also take this opportunity to request the Hon. the Minister for Revenue to consider one or two points in connexion with this Bill. There are tenants who have occupied holdings for generations and have toiled on the land from father to son. It is quite necessary to protect the interests of such tenants. But then there are also some instances where the tenants have come to occupy the land only two or three years ago. There might be tenants who might have been defaulting, for long, the payment of rent. There might also be undesirable elements among the tenants. All these points may be taken into consideration and suitable provisions made.

“ Then, Sir, there are properties belonging to trustees, endowments and religious institutions. I hope, Sir, that the comprehensive legislation that is under contemplation, will contain suitable provisions for governing the relations between these institutions and the tenants. Their work must not be allowed to be hampered for the time being by a piece of legislation like this, though it is intended to be only for an emergency and be in force for a short time. These two points may be taken into consideration and due provisions made in this Bill itself so that these religious institutions, endowments and trustees may not suffer in carrying out their objects and that provision may also be made for immediate eviction of those tenants who have been incorrigible and who have been there only for a very short time without paying any rent to the institutions. These are the points I wish the Hon. the Revenue Minister to consider while seeking to pass this present emergency legislation.

“ I once again compliment the Hon. the Minister for Revenue for bringing forward this Bill and I hope that in the near future he will bring in the comprehensive legislation stabilizing the relations between the landlords and tenants in this Province.”

* SRI K. VARADACHARI:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, some doubts, some fears, some points for further elucidation or for betterment of the several provisions of the Bill have been made here and there. But I find that there is no need for any apprehension on the score that any injustice will be done either to the tenant or the landlord or that any inequitable dealings will take place between them under the provisions of this Bill. None of the provisions of the Bill will affect the landlord in any manner. On the one hand, the rent payable to the landlord is not lost; and on the other, the condition for the tenants continuing on the land is prescribed and that is by the payment of two years' rent in advance, so that the landlord can have no complaints with regard to the continuance of the occupation of the land by his tenant till such time as this Act is in force. As a matter of fact, several landlords would be glad that by means of this legislation, they would find tenants willing to cultivate their lands, because the tenants would have some security of tenure even for the temporary period during which this Bill is to be in force. There are several areas where tenants are afraid to go to the landlords for taking up lands for the purpose of cultivation, simply because there may not be any security of tenure, even for a short period under the landlord. There are also several areas where landlords themselves would find that it would be to their own advantage to get suitable tenants to cultivate their lands by giving some such protection during this period. So, after all, this legislation does not affect the substantive rights either of the tenants or of the landlords in any manner. From the nature of the amendments that have been given notice of, and from the trend of discussions on this Bill, the only thing that I have been able to find is that there is a reasonable feeling in the minds of hon. Members that a person who might simply squat on the land for a day before this date, even though he has never been in the land before, might claim possession of the land and that it might not be possible for the landlord to evict him at all. That fear need not weigh very much with us. I do not think there will be many cases of that kind. But it may be reasonable to fix a time limit that he must be in possession of the land, before he could claim the benefits under this Act. And I think that clause 5 of the Bill makes sufficient provision for vesting power with the Government to protect such cases also. Therefore this is a Bill on which there need be no serious difference of opinion.

“ As for the necessity for the Bill itself, my friends on the Opposition Benches have claimed that it is a very necessary piece of legislation. I therefore submit, Mr. Speaker, that discussions of the various provisions of the Bill need not be prolonged further, because the Bill is acclaimed by all sections of the House.”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, there was a mistake in the answer given by me at question time to a question put to me in connexion with the matter of separation of the Andhra Province. Mr. Mohideen Kutti Sahib put the question—

“ ‘ Is it a fact, Sir, that this question was shelved by the Secretary of State for India on the recommendation of the then Governor who was advised against it? ’

I thought that that was all the question and I gave my answer thus—

“ ‘ I should presume so, Sir. ’

My attention was immediately drawn to the fact that the question also contained the following words, viz.—

“ ‘ by the then head of the Government in spite of the resolution of this House. ’

I did not catch those words at that time. Therefore I should like to make the position clear now. My answer ‘ I should presume so, Sir ’ was intended to apply only to the part of the question ending with the words 'by the Secretary of State for India on the recommendation of the then Governor.' As I said just now, I did not catch the other words at that time. If those words were there, my answer should have been 'I should not presume so, Sir.'

[Hon. SRI T. Prakasam] [7th September 1946]

"As there was some misunderstanding about this matter, I sent for the question again as taken down by the office—and I presume that the Press also should have taken down like that and I want to correct the proceedings even at this stage. Taking the question as a whole in the form in which it is put in the proceedings, my answer should be—

'I should not presume so, Sir.'

That is to say, the word 'not' should be added to my answer. That is all I want to bring to the notice of the House even at this stage."

* SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"Jai Hind. Speaker, Sir, I must really congratulate the Hon. the Minister for Revenue for having brought forward this piece of legislation. Of course, this is only a temporary measure. Personally I am not fully satisfied with this measure and I think that most of the hon. members of the House too will not be satisfied with it. Sir, we want a measure abolishing landlordism altogether. Sir, for years and years together the landlords have been harassing the tenants. They have been sucking up the blood of the tenants all these years. They have sucked up all their blood and now, only their bones are remaining. Many families of the tenants have been ruined. The manner in which the zamindars are extracting work greater from the tenants and the way in which they are harassing them at every stage—all these things are very wellknown to us all and they are still continuing. Even to-day in the Estates of Venkatagiri, these things are going on and there are many complaints . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Please do not bring in names."

* SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"I thank you, Sir. I will leave that matter for the next occasion."

"So this legislation is absolutely essential at this juncture. Sir, my hon. Friend Mr. Natesan Chettiar has stated that some of the provisions of the Bill are insufficient and they go only to benefit the zamindars and not the tenants. Of course one of such clauses is, clause 4 (5) which states—

'Where a suit or other proceedings is stayed under sub-section (1), the tenant or ryot shall, so long as this Act is in force, deposit or continue to deposit in court, for payment to the landlord, each year's rent as it accrues due, within a period of two months, etc.'

"This provision is unjust and it must go. Instead there must be inserted the following words:—

'Or may deposit the whole accrued amount in the court at the final settlement or conclusion of the suit.'

"Then, Sir, in opposing this Bill, my hon. Friend the Zamindar of Mirzapuram says that the Zamindars are the owners of these estates."

[7th September 1946]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member will please resume his seat. The Hon. the Premier has just risen up."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, at this stage I wish to suggest to my hon. Friend Mr. Kameswara Rao not to go into details of this measure. The details have all been considered fully and hence I would request him to avoid going into details." 12-45 p.m.

* SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"It is said that they are the owners."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member was requested by the Hon. the Premier to avoid those references."

* SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"Then, Sir, it was said that to-day this legislation might come into force and tomorrow some other legislation to wipe off private property altogether. It is definitely so, Sir. I would remind the hon. Member that those days are not far off. They are very near. When this Government goes out of office or may be during the time of this Government or when a Socialist Government comes in its place, you are going to have legislation confiscating all the zamindaris without compensation."

ZAMINDAR OF MIRZAPURAM:—"We welcome that."

* SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"This Government is not against abolition of the zamindars. At least some of the Members of this Government are not against such a legislation."

"Then again, it was said that if to-day it is the zamindar's turn, tomorrow it may be another's turn and another's property might be confiscated. Quite so. The mills and the transports and all other private means of production should come under the State. There should be a Socialist State in the country. With these few words I support the Bill."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"In the first place, Sir, I thank hon. Members on behalf of the Government for the welcome uniformly accorded to this measure by all sections of the House. I do not take as a personal compliment the words of praise with which the measure has been greeted. I am only a part of the whole Government and it is the Government that is entitled to the whole credit for this Bill and not myself individually."

"Now, Sir, I will answer the various questions raised by hon. Friends. Some hon. Members who spoke yesterday asked when the main legislation is likely to be introduced and whether the interregnum is likely to be too long. On that point I may say that with regard to the Estates Land Act, it is our intention, if everything goes on as we expect, to bring in legislation at the very next series of sittings of this House, i.e., at the end of October or in November. As regards the Malabar Tenancy Bill, the question has not reached that advanced state. I was in some way connected with the present Act which was before the old Council in 1928-29. I was a member of the Select Committee on that Bill at that time. I took also an active interest in the question at that time. I presided over a Tenants' Conference at Pattambi in those days. The hon. Member Mr. Seethi Sahib remarked yesterday, that the Act is one of the most ill-drafted measures introduced in any legislature. He may be right. What happened was that at the time the bill was introduced it seemed to me that nobody had any comprehensive view as to the actual conditions in different parts of Malabar and how the provisions of the Bill would deal with them. Conditions in Malabar, within the district itself, vary from place to place. No one knew how the various provisions affecting the verumpattamdars and others would work. Anyway, much ground has been covered by the committee appointed in 1938. Its report was kept on the shelf during the time of the previous Government, because they were pre-occupied with war and so they decided then not to proceed with that legislation. Now, when we came into office we asked the Board of Revenue to report upon the Committee's findings so as to decide which of the recommendations should be accepted and which not. We have also appointed a special officer to go into this question. My hon. Friends may know that it is not always very easy to forecast the exact time required for all this work. But I can tell hon. Members that I expect this work to be completed in about three to four months. After that is over it is my intention to go through the whole thing and then, if possible to go to Malabar and hear the representations of the various bodies there itself rather than sit here in Madras and ask all the concerned people to come. So it is our intention to bring in this measure in or before February next. Hon. Members from Malabar will, I hope, not consider this interval too long.

"Another point, which was not raised in the House but about which I have been getting lots of telegrams, is the demand for the application or extension of the proposed measure for certain Malayalam areas in the Kasaragode taluk of South Kanara which happens to be my constituency and which, adjoining as it does the Malabar district, has, more or less, the same conditions as in Malabar. I have received a number of telegrams from these people requesting the extension of this Bill to this area also. It is for their information I am now saying that I find difficulty in applying this measure to that area, because, though the conditions are similar, it is difficult to extend this Bill to those areas. It must be remembered that the Malabar Tenancy Act as it stands applies only to Malabar and it is only to Malabar now we have recommended the enactment of this legislation. Therefore until a more elaborate piece of legislation is taken up we cannot extend this legislation for this particular area. So I request those people through this House to have a little patience. When the major measure is brought in and passed by this House, relief will be afforded to them.

"As regards the question of limitation raised yesterday by my hon. Friend Mr. Pocker, I have got the matter examined. As long as there is no stay for the filing of suits by legislation, it is not possible to put in a provision whereby periods could be excluded from the normal periods of limitation. If we put in a provision in this Bill saying that nobody shall file suits for two or three years, then it would be a proper thing to put in a provision saying that this period for which we stay should be excluded from the period of normal limitation for the filing of suits. No such thing has been attempted here because it is unnecessary. There is no prohibition for the filing of suits. On the other hand that even without coming to courts it is open to the tenants to go on paying rents and hence no suits need be filed at all. I beg to submit therefore that it is unnecessary to include in this measure a provision for limitation as was suggested.

"Then I come to the criticisms levelled against the main principles of the Bill. Sir, I may frankly submit that it was most difficult for me to understand the view point of my hon. Friend from Dharmapuri, Mr. M. G. Natesa Chettiyar. He said that he represented the ryots' interests and tried to say that the Bill does not go far enough and observed that while the Statement of Objects and Reasons proceeded on certain lines the Bill itself proceeded on different lines. I do not think he takes us to be so dull as not to understand the real implications of what he said. His pleas were very interesting. What he said was this: If you stay the sale of holdings, you will stop the process of consolidation of holdings. He said that the holdings will become bigger and bigger. He thinks probably consolidation of holdings is a very wholesome objective. I do not think that this House can accept that argument. We want to prevent the sale of holdings of existing tenants and ryots. We do not want the process of consolidation to go on now at this time at the cost of tenants. Therefore I do not think his was a serious argument."

(Sri M. G. Natesa Chettiyar rose.)

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It will hamper the tenant, he said. I do not know how. The tenant is given protection. He is allowed to go on but only a provision has been made that he must pay two years' rent for the arrears."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Mr. M. G. Natesa Chettiyar wants to say something by way of personal explanation."

* SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"What I said on the subject was this: The Bill is framed on the assumption that the zamindars are willing to accept its provisions. How could a purchaser be stopped from getting into possession. That is what I said." (Sri T. Viswanatham: "He must explain the explanation, Sir.")

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"This is a supplementary speech and not an explanation. But still I shall deal with it. Mr. Chettiyar said that the sales are going to be effected and that I said that the zamindars are thinking of purchasing the lands. I made no such statement at any time. On the other hand, the position is that the holdings are being brought to sale and coercive processes are being taken. Sir, we have information from different parts of the Province that expecting legislation on these lines, these things are going on and even decrees nearly twelve years old and over which the zamindars have slept for a long time are being executed now in haste."

[Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth] [7th September 1946]

(Sri M. G. Natesa Chettiyar rose).

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I refuse to yield. This is not the question hour, Sir. Mr. Chettiyar said that I did know what 'private land' is. 'Private land' has been defined in section 3, clause 10 of the major Act. I have read the Estates Land Act from beginning to end and I know what I am doing.

"Then, Sir, the hon. Member said that there is food scarcity and that therefore the Bill should be referred to a select committee. I may respectfully tell him that in what he has said there is nothing which necessitates a reference of this Bill to a select committee.

1 p.m. "I now come to the points raised by the Zamindar of Mirzapuram. He said that it will be confiscation, that there is something behind the provision regarding tenants of private holdings and asked whether the same thing would be done with regard to ryotwari holdings also. I understood him to say that if a similar measure was brought forward with regard to ryotwari pattadars he would welcome it. I thought he was serious in what he said. Sir, it is no good at all, this argument of confiscation. We have instituted inquiries over the whole Province with regard to the condition of the agricultural tenants to know what their condition is. With regard to this question of confiscation, I should think that it would be much better if he and his brother zamindars would move with the times. It is too late in the day to say that nothing should be done and that vested interests should be there and that full compensation for everything should be paid. If we read the Act and consider the agreement between the zamindar and the tenants and if the zamindars are held down to their agreement and if we go into past history and the relation between the zamindars and the tenants ever since the Permanent Regulation was passed—I have read the history of the subject and all the important speeches that have been made on it—it will be found that the zamindars have been taking much more than what was rightly due to them, and if we can have a proper accounting from that period, in regard to all such payments, it may be found that the zamindars would have to pay back to the ryots very much more than what they demand as compensation now. Therefore, Sir, the argument of confiscation is rather too late in the day. But I do not wish to go into the question of the quantum of compensation now.

"Sir, my hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswarlu wanted that the present Bill should go back to 1937 and that retrospective effect should be given to all sales, etc., made since then. I submit that it is out of place in a legislation like this which seeks to preserve the status quo and to see that things are as they are to-day; to go back to 1937, and put a provision here to annul all the sales will be quite improper; after the report of the Committee was published; there have been cases where grave injustice has been perpetrated. I can assure him that the Government will take note of them and deal with them in the legislation that will be coming up. But such a provision would be too drastic and unnecessary in a piece of legislation like this.

"Then, Sir, some hon. Members have stated that there are some defects in the Bill and I shall just try to dispel their doubts. The hon. Member Mr. Ibrahim asked whether clause 3 was intended to create any right which was not there. There is no intention in this Bill to create rights in people who have no rights as it is. The hon. Member Mr. Hydross asked whether it is intended to protect the tenants of persons who are trespassers. He said that there might be trespassers in Malabar and in the Estates and asked whether it was the intention of the Government to give them rights. I must submit that there is some confusion in this objection, because the word 'tenant' in Malabar has been defined in the Bill as 'tenants in the district of Malabar governed by the Malabar Tenancy Act, 1929'. The 'tenant' in Malabar is always a tenant and not a trespasser. Until he is ejected from the holding he continues to be a tenant. Therefore it is not the intention to protect any trespasser on the land under the Malabar Tenancy Act or elsewhere.

"Then Sir, the hon. Member Mr. Natesa Chettiyar asked 'Is it your intention to protect trespassers on waste lands or communal lands?' I submit, Sir, that whoever is a tenant under the two Acts alone will be given protection under this Bill."

* SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"On a matter of information, may I know whether in the case of people who have taken communal lands for cultivation under the Grow More Food Campaign under an agreement for one or two years, they also will have any rights?"

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"My hon. Friend cannot have it both ways. If he has made an agreement with regard to communal lands in the guise of Grow More Food Campaign, I use the words 'in the guise of' purposely—then I should point out that under the provisions of sections 3, 20-A and 21 of the Estates Land Act, all assignments of communal lands are invalid unless they are made with the permission of the Collector."

(At this stage Mr. M. G. Natesa Chettiyar rose in his place.)

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Unless the hon. Member wants to raise any point of order, I would ask him not to disturb the Hon. Minister when he is speaking."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"If the hon. Member wants to elicit any information, I think he might wait patiently for some time and not interrupt me at the end of every sentence.

"I would therefore say that with regard to these communal lands, there is no such idea of giving the occupant any right. It is only if he is a tenant under the Act that he will get the benefit. Assigning of communal lands for the Grow More Food Campaign is against the provisions of the Estates Land Act and should not have been done without the permission of the Government.

"Another question was asked by my hon. Friend Mr. Ibrahim whether suits for rents alone will be stayed. Under clause 4, it is not this class of suits which will be stayed. It is only suits which involve eviction of the tenant and suits in which the holding of the tenant is attempted to be brought to sale in the course of proceedings for payment of rent, that will come under this section. If it is a question of mere rent suit and if there is no question of the sale of holdings, there is nothing to prevent the execution proceedings from going on.

"Another point was raised, Sir, with regard to the difficulty of paying rents within two months of the institution of suits. I think that point was raised by my hon. Friend Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig. I find that there is a lacuna and I have proposed an amendment to fill up the omission. Often times when suits are instituted, the defendants avoid the notices for sometime and sometimes the plaintiffs manage to see that the defendants do not get the notice. Necessary drafting amendments will be proposed to provide that in all cases the Courts are given the power to give the necessary time.

"The hon. Member Mr. Hydross also asked why people should be compelled to go to the lawyers and deposit the amount in courts even when there are no suits. That is a misconception, Sir. What is intended is that there should be payment through courts only when suits are filed. There is nothing to prevent a tenant from sending the amount by money order till the suit is filed. There is no compulsion whatever for him to go to the court for depositing the rent even before the suits are filed.

"With regard to the payment of rent, my hon. Friend Mr. Baig raised the question what would happen if the amount is paid and then there is some dispute whether the money should be paid or not. I have taken note of the point and to remedy the defect I have brought the necessary amendments to-day.

"My hon. Friend Mr. Pocker asked: 'What is the idea of section 5 of the Act; why have you taken power?' Sir, there may be cases in which there may be hardship. As I suggested yesterday, there may be private lands of a few acres only in regard to which it may not be necessary for a general stay order. There may be other cases of waste by the tenants. The proviso to clause 4 (1) (b) refers to the prevention of wilful waste by the tenant or any person claiming under him. There may also be cases where we may consider that the interim relief is unnecessary. We have therefore taken power so that in cases where it is found that by reason of the provision of a general stay, injustice is being done to any class of people, the stay may be cancelled. It is difficult to foresee all classes of cases which may arise in future and which may have to be dealt with. I submit, that I have tried to deal with the various objections raised in view of the fact that this measure is required for meeting present situation, I would request the House to pass the motion before it."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Mr. Speaker, may I ask the Hon. Minister to give us an idea of what is meant by the word 'unnecessary' in the proviso to clause 6. I understand what is meant by 'vexatious,' but I want to know what is really meant by 'unnecessary.'"

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"If there is no fear of the suit being barred, if it is found that the suit need not have been filed at all, that there was still time to file it, in such cases, the suit is filed, it is in these cases that discretion is left to the Court to award costs."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Does the Hon. Minister mean that a suit may be filed only in a case where it would be barred otherwise?"

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It is not for me to give an interpretation. Such a provision as this is found in other Acts also. It says:

'Provided that in the case of a suit instituted after the commencement of this Act, the Court may, if satisfied that such suit is vexatious or unnecessary, deprive the plaintiff of his costs and award costs to the defendant.'

It would be wrong on my part to give an interpretation. I leave it to the discretion of the Court and if the Court finds that a suit need not have been instituted at all, that it is vexatious or unnecessary, then the plaintiff will not be awarded his costs and the defendant will be awarded his costs."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I want to know whether there will be any harm done to anybody if that word 'unnecessary' is omitted."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"This word is not considered necessary. The suit may be a vexatious suit or it may be an unnecessary suit. The two words carry different meanings altogether."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The motion before the House is that the Bill be taken into consideration."

The motion was put and carried and the Bill was taken clause by clause.

Clause 1.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I move that—'in sub-clause (4) of clause 1, in line 3, for the word "su" the article "a" be substituted.'

This is only a drafting amendment."

The amendment was put and carried.

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member the Raja of Venkigiri will now move his amendment."

[7th September 1946]

p.m.

* RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI:—"Sir, I move that—'after the words "no tenant of any private land," the words
"who have been continuously in occupation of the same land for at least two years" be inserted.'

"In the course of general discussion, Sir, very alarming fears were given expression to by my Friend the Zamindar of Mirzapuram and certain unjustified observations and generalizations were made by members belonging to the party in power. I consider, Sir, that any party that is returned to power has got the sovereign right to modify the relations governing the various economic and social sections of society. At the same time, Sir, it is the bounden duty of . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Raja Sahib, I think there is some mistake. Your amendment is to clause 3 and not to clause 1 which we are now considering. You are moving an amendment to clause 3, I am afraid. We are now in clause 1."

* RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI:—"I think, Sir, you were pleased to call me to move my amendment. That is why I am moving it."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Is there any other amendment to clause 1?"

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"No."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will now put clause 1 as amended to the vote of the House."

Clause 1 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 2.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I beg to move, Sir—
'that in clause 3, sub-clause (b), for the words "no holding or land of a ryot or tenant," the words "no holding of a tenant or ryot" shall be substituted.'

"The reason is that the words 'or land of a ryot' are not correct, and this is only a drafting amendment. The same amendment comes also under clause 4."

The amendment was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Raja of Venkatagiri may now move his amendment."

* RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI:—"Sir, I move that—'after the words "no tenant of any private land" and before the words "in an estate," the words "who has been continuously in occupation of the same land for at least two years" shall be inserted.'

"As I was submitting to the House, the duty of holding the scales even between various sections and recognizing what factors do really stand out as obstacles to the progress of the country, which shall be removed, and the manner in which those obstacles should be removed, and also the consideration that has to be given to the various classes affected by this measure, all rest on the party in power. The object with which I have given notice of this amendment is this: since private lands were not—if I am not mistaken—contemplated to be affected by the legislation proposed by my Hon. Friend T. Prakasam Garu in 1938 and since there may not therefore be immediate urgency for making this Bill applicable to private lands, and as the Hon. Minister for Revenue has told us that he contemplates bringing forward legislation dealing with this tenancy problem and as nothing much is lost before that period, I have given notice of this amendment. Further, Sir, private lands have got a different and peculiar character of their own. You will find in the Estates Land Act the definition of private land as land leased out prior to 1896 as private land and cultivated for a period of twelve years prior to 1908. Such lands were classified as private land. Even at the time of the passing of the Act of 1908, all the implications were taken into consideration and sufficient safeguards were provided. These private lands stand on quite a different footing. They bear all the legalistic and economic characteristics of ryotwari lands and are different from jirayati land. As such, I fail to see why these private lands should also be dealt with pending the settlement of the main question, when I expect the Ministry would take us also into their confidence and tell us how we are mistaken and why the private lands also should be converted into ryoti land.

"Sir, my Hon. Friend Mr. Karanth asked the zamindars to move with the times. Whether we are willing or not, the times are moving. There are several zamindars who recognize that their safety and security lie in moving with the times. But at the same time, the strong instinct of preservation of property which is inherent in every individual, compels us to plead with the Ministry, and to request them to tell us how and why we should concede various things.

"As regards the quantum of compensation that is to be given whenever any item of property is acquired, that is, a matter into which I need not go now. My friend the Raja of Mirzapuram predicted that not only the zamindars but also the other interests would be deprived of their properties without compensation. Well, Sir, whether they get or not, is quite another matter, and I need not take up the time of this House on those matters, as this measure only has a limited application. As I was saying, the question of compensation and what the zamindars should concede and sacrifice are all matters which we need not go into just now. Suffice it to say that we plead and earnestly represent to the Ministry that they must be just. Of course you have got the governmental strength and the strength, if I may so describe, of a giant, but that strength has to be used as an angel would use, for purposes of removing injustice. I quite recognize . . ."

[7th September 1946]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member may continue his speech after lunch."

(After lunch—2-30 p.m.)

* RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI:—"Sir, I was submitting to the House that the legalistic character of these lands called private lands—their historical as well as economic nature—is different from the jirayati lands. Therefore, I was wondering why they should be dealt with in the manner suggested in the Bill. Sir, when the time comes, that is, when the tenancy reform is before the House, this question may be taken up by the Ministry. I understand that position, Sir. But at the same time, I think these lands should be treated differently from the jirayati lands for the reason that since these lands were treated as private lands even prior to the year 1898 and several landlords purchased and alienated these lands. In this connexion, Sir, I may be permitted to make a personal submission; I happen to be one of the landholders who would not be affected to a great extent by this measure, but anyway, it is my duty to suggest this amendment, as the representative of the landholders and as one who would like to see that any measure that is passed by this House should do justice to all the interests concerned. In my opinion, Sir, this amendment, irrespective of the decision that may be taken by the Government at a later stage in regard to private lands, would place these private lands in a somewhat different category in view of the fact that only tenants who have occupied these lands for a period of two years would have the benefit of not being evicted by this measure. It also seeks to recognize the bona fide character of the persons who can claim immunity from eviction. It is with these objects, Sir, that I have moved this amendment, and particularly in view of the fact that these private lands do not differ in essential respects from lands held by large landowners in other ryotwari tracts. With these words, Sir, and with apologies to the House for having taken up so much of the time on this amendment, I commend this to the consideration of the House and the Hon. the Revenue Minister."

Mr. W. J. FERNANDEZ seconded the amendment.

The amendment was put and lost.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I move the amendment standing in my name, Sir, I wish to say that I have carefully listened to the explanation offered by Hon. Revenue Minister and especially when he said that if retrospective effect to this measure were given effect to, it will bring radical change in the position, but I may say that I am not at all satisfied with the assurance or the reply given by the Hon. Minister because I find that even from the Congress benches there is a great demand for the complete abolition of the zamindari system and without payment of even compensation. In these circumstances, Sir, I do not see how even if retrospective effect is given, it will make a radical change in the existing position. That is why I am for pressing this amendment. You know, Sir, that during the previous Congress Ministry, the zamindars apprehending a measure for the abolition of zamindaris, began alienating their lands. If the Hon. Minister is really anxious to do justice to the tenants and ryots, he should immediately bring in a measure to give retrospective effect; otherwise, he cannot do full justice because even from the time the Congress published their election manifesto for the abolition of the zamindari system, they began to resort to alienation in favour of their friends as well as relatives. In this respect, if proof is needed, I can quote instances from the Prakasam Committee Report itself.

"There is another point, Sir, the zamindars, while alienating the lands, may even sell away lands in their possession to small tenants; I refer to tenants in possession of about five acres and less and their right should be safeguarded by this measure. They must not be deprived of their bit of land. That is why I am moving this amendment.

"Then Sir, in regard to giving retrospective effect to this measure, I may say that because the abolition of zamindaris was not taken up during 1937 when the previous Congress Government was in office, we find that the peasants being evicted from their lands. For example, Talatampuramutta in North Vizagapatam district, there was a case of arrears of rent accumulating for over twenty years and the zamindars got decrees in courts for realizing the arrears and the result was they began selling the lands. In view of the reasons set forth above, I request the Hon. Minister to accept my amendment without any reservation so that justice may be done to the tenant. The amendment runs as follows:—

'After clause 3, insert the following as clause 3-A:—

"3-A. Any alienation of any part of private lands exceeding five acres by any single landlord to any single transferee of any private lands in the estates governed by the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908, made on or after 14th July 1937 shall be null and void and such private lands and every part thereof shall be deemed to continue to possess the character of private land so far as the provisions of this Act are concerned."

"On a point of information, Sir. May I ask whether the Hon. Minister is prepared to accept my amendment?"

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 3 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 4.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I beg to move that in clause 4 (1) (b)—

'for the words "holding or land of a ryot or tenant" the words "holding of a tenant or ryot" shall be substituted.'

"This is on the same line as the previous amendment that was carried in clause 3."

The amendment was put and carried.

[7th September 1946]

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"This amendment is based on the same principle of my previous amendment and so I do not want to make any speech on its except to say this, Sir. There are a great number of decrees against tenants and their cases also should be taken into consideration. The Hon. the Revenue Minister in his statement made by him this morning promised that the cases of these people also would be carefully dealt with but in view of the fact that there is no provision in the Bill, I do not know how he is going to implement it. I therefore request the Hon. Minister to see that the principle is incorporated in the Bill. With these words, Sir, I move my amendment. It runs as follows:—

'Renumber sub-clause (1) to clause 4 as 4 (1) (i) and add the following at the end:—

"(ii) Every sale made on or after 14th July 1937 of the holding or the land of a ryot or tenement in execution of a decree for rent shall be voidable at the instance of the ryot or tenant who was in possession of such land before such sale.

(iii) Such sale shall be set aside on the petition of such ryot or tenant filed before the expiry of the two months from the date of the commencement of this Act provided that the said ryot or tenant shall pay into Court along with such petition the entire decree amount for the recovery of which such sale was held or the rent for two years and any amount which he may have received out of of the proceeds of such sale:

Provided further that every bona fide purchaser of such holding or land at such sale shall be enlisted for compensation payable by the landlord decree-holder.

(iv) (a) Where any tenant or ryot of any holding or land has been evicted from such holding or land on or after 14th July 1937 such ryot or tenant shall be entitled to receive possession of such holding or land except from bona fide purchasers for consideration.

(b) Every ryot or tenant who shall have been let into possession of such holding or land after eviction mentioned in sub-clause (iv) (a) above shall be entitled to receive from the landlord compensation for the damage incurred by such ryot or tenant as a result of the recovery of possession by the original ryot or tenant under sub-clause (iv) (a)."

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

Clause 4 (2).

* RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI:—"I am not moving my amendment, Sir."

Clause 4 (3).

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I move—

'that in line 3 of sub-clause (3) of clause 4, the words "or land" be omitted.'"

The amendment was put and carried.

[7th September 1946]

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I move—

'that in line 6 of sub-clause (3) of clause 4, for the words "or rent for two years," the words "or an amount equivalent to rent for two years" be substituted.'"

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 4 (4).

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I move the following amendment:—

'For sub-clause (4) of clause 4, the following shall be substituted:—

"(4) Notwithstanding the expiry of the period specified in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), the Court may, if satisfied that the tenant was prevented by sufficient cause from making the deposit within the period aforesaid, allow the deposit to be made within a specified period not exceeding one month and may extend it by such period or periods not exceeding one month in the aggregate, as it thinks fit."

"The object of this, Sir, is that in cases where the tenant is not served with a notice or he has no knowledge of the institution of the suit, the discretion is given to the Court under this provision to give him time in proper cases."

The amendment was put and carried.

* RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI:—"I am not moving the amendment that stands in my name, Sir."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Since I have no seconder, may I know whether I have no right to move my amendment?"

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, it may depend upon the speech that he makes whether he will get a seconder or not."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I move the amendment standing in my name—

"At the end of clause 4 (3), the following proviso shall be added:—

"Provided that whenever a landlord may have more than one decree or order of eviction against the same ryot or tenant in respect of any one holding the aggregate amount that the ryot or tenant shall have to pay under this section for all such decrees shall not exceed in any event the rent for two years."

"The main purpose of this amendment is to protect the tenant or the ryot in cases where there are two decrees against him in respect of any one holding. I do not know whether the Hon. Minister has considered this aspect of the question because it is a very vital matter. If this amendment is not accepted, it will create hardship on those people. I therefore earnestly appeal to the Hon. Minister to accept this amendment."

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

[7th September 1946]

Clause 4 (6).

* RAJA OF VENKATAGIRI :—" I am not moving my amendment, Sir."

Clause 4 (7).

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU :—" I move my amendment, Sir :—

' At the end of clause 4 (7), the following proviso shall be added :—

" Provided that if at any time after the Court shall have begun to proceed with the suit execution proceedings or other proceedings as the case may be, the ryot or tenant pays into court the amount or amounts contemplated in sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 4 above then and in every such case the said suit execution proceedings or other proceedings as the case may be shall be stayed automatically."

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

Clause 4 (8).

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH :—" My amendment is—' Sub-clause (8) of clause 4 shall be renumbered as sub-clause (9) and the following shall be inserted as sub-clause (8) :—

" (8) Where a deposit has been made under sub-section (2) or sub-section (5) and there is a dispute in regard to the rate of rent or the existence of the arrears of rent or the amount thereof, the court may—

(i) refuse to pay to the landlord the whole of the amount deposited or, as the case may be, the portion thereof, which is in dispute; or

(ii) direct the payment of the same to the landlord on such terms and conditions as it thinks fit."

" This amendment is brought forward to meet the main objections raised by some hon. Members yesterday under sub-sections (2) and (5), namely, that if money is deposited for payment to the landlord and there is a dispute, the amount need not be lying idle in the court or the landlord walking away, and if there is no dispute, proper safeguards may be taken and orders passed."

The amendment was put and carried.

New Clause 4-A.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU :—" I move that the following be added as new clause 4-A :—

' 4-A. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 4, the landlord shall not be entitled to the payment of any amount paid into court under section 4 above when the amount due to him as and for rent is under dispute in the proceedings until and unless such dispute is finally settled and the amount due to the landlord is ascertained.'

" The amendment is by itself self-explanatory and it does not require any further speech from me."

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

[7th September 1946]

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH :—" I move—

' that for existing sub-clause (8) of clause 4 renumbered as sub-clause (9) the following be substituted :—

" (8) The provisions of sub-sections (1) to (8) shall apply mutatis mutandis to all proceedings pending at the commencement of this Act or instituted thereafter, in any court of appeal or revision."

" This is only a verbal amendment."

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 4 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 5.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU :—" Mr. 3 p.m. Speaker, I move—

' that the clause be deleted.'

I think that the powers asked for are extraordinary powers and it is also unnecessary to give them such powers. When I asked why such powers are needed no explanation was offered and hence I move for the deletion of the clause."

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR :—" I second the motion. My reason is that I do not want any class of tenants or landlords should be hovering about the Secretariat trying to persuade the Minister to see that this provision does not apply. I fear there will be a lot of misunderstanding in the country and there might be charges of favouritism levelled against the Government. I suggest that whatever exemptions are needed might be given in the Act itself. In that event, they will avoid a lot of trouble and people will know where they stand with regard to their rights. In any legislation there should be some definiteness and the Government should not be given executive authority to exercise powers in a way which may be considered to be not just especially when there are party Governments. I know there are difficulties because according to the latest Estates Land Act whole inam villages have been classified as estates and there are hundreds of shareholders who get for their share five, two and even one acre. There are other cases where estates are impartible. Even though a person may be called the zamindar he will be entitled to only five or ten acres. In such cases, exemption can be rightly given and I cannot oppose the grant of exemption in such cases. But my point is that a definite rule to the effect that this provision does not apply to an inamdar or landholder who owns five or ten acres, may be made instead of saying that certain class of person will be exempted. I can understand a rule to that effect. I do not want that the Government should be given powers to exempt this or that class of persons. It is not a sound principle. If there is any necessity for exemption, this is not the way how to do it; it should be done by means of a definite provision in the Act itself. I, therefore, support the amendment moved by my hon. Friend."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR :—" Mr. Speaker, it was pointed out by me yesterday that there should be some definiteness about the powers that the Government want in order that people might know where they stand. The Hon. Minister attempted to explain the position; but I am sorry to say that he did not indicate definitely the lines on which powers given under this Act are going to be exercised by Government. I entirely agree with my hon. Friend Mr. Mahaboob Ali Baig that there should be some definiteness about it for if great power is left in the hands of the Government it is very unsafe and people will not know where they stand and what matters they may expect interference by the Government by means of orders. They could have indicated in the Bill itself as to what class of cases it is intended to apply. In so far as there is no such definiteness and no such indication is given as to what class of cases it will apply, I support the amendment."

* SRI K. VARADACHARI :—" Mr. Speaker, if we simply go into the nature of the Bill, we shall find that it is an emergency legislation in which we are trying to save a whole class of tenants, whether they are legally in possession of the lands covered by this legislation or not, from being evicted even though under the ordinary law, their eviction would be permitted. In this emergency legislation, it will not be possible to lay down a list of all those hard cases wherein the application of this Act would be harmful or detrimental, or in some cases even cruel. It is for the purpose of covering such cases that the Government should have reserve powers to enunciate certain principles so as to bring in some class or hard cases for relief against the rigours of this emergency legislation. One instance has been given by the Hon. the Minister for Revenue and it has been referred to by my hon. Friend Mr. Mahaboob Ali Baig. There are several cases of hardship under the Estates Land Act. Private lands have been turned into garden lands by a landholder or a small inamdar and the landholder puts this in possession of another person to be taken care of or under a contract or wages or share of the produce. This man may to-morrow say: 'I am the tenant of this land and I should have all my rights.' There are several instances of this kind. In such cases the Government must be ready to give relief in cases where people will set up rights which are not even strictly moral. Therefore, I say that a power of this kind should be reserved to the Government and the clause is an appropriate one and in an emergency legislation such as this, it is absolutely necessary."

* MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR :—" Mr. Speaker, even granting that there are circumstances under which such powers may be necessitated, I do not understand in what cases the Provincial Government will be satisfied that the powers could and should be exercised. It does not find a place in the Bill as it is framed. It says that in any contingency the Government may order the case to proceed from the stage where it was stayed. I ask why this power should not be given to the courts in which the cases are pending. Why should the Government take these powers? Have the Government lost confidence in their courts as they have lost confidence in the people who have been manning local boards and municipalities or is it out of their lust for power? I say that this provision is not at all necessary and even if it is necessary the power could have been given to courts by suitable amendments in the earlier sections. I, therefore, support the motion."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH :—" Mr. Speaker, I oppose the motion which is in the nature of a motion opposing the motion that the clause do stand part of the Bill which is before the House. I would submit that the apprehensions of the last speaker are quite unfounded and it is a charge which has no real basis. He seems to say that our lust for power is so much that we have no confidence in the courts and so on. I am afraid he is using strong words on an occasion which does not require them. We have the highest respect for our courts. I do not think that the class of ryots and tenants for whose benefit this legislation is enacted would themselves like if in each individual case there should be lengthy arguments depending upon individual discretion in each case whether there should be a stay or not, rather than that the discretion or power might be vested in the Government so that it might be used in any particular class of cases. I can understand the objections of my hon. Friend Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig and Mr. Pocker that in a case like this it is much better to have all such provisions incorporated in the Bill rather than having power in the hands of the Government. Ordinarily it would be the case and nobody would like the idea of people having to come up and approach Government for this. I can assure them that there is neither lust for power nor want of confidence in the courts. We have to remember that this is an emergency legislation and we have not had full time to consider the various class of cases where the stay order may affect. The case of inams which my hon. Friend Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig mentioned is one such. It is likely to hit a large number of cases; it is not enough if you merely put it one class of cases. If we could tell all the classes of cases new we could as well put them into the Bill. For want of sufficient time on account of the emergency nature of the measure, it has not been possible. My hon. Friends are too suspicious of any power being given to anybody. They have been exhibiting that state of mind all along and I only request them not to suspect everybody and all the time."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 5 was put and carried.

Clause 6 was put and carried.

New Clause 7.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH :—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move—

'that after clause 6, the following clause be added :—

" 7. If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act, the Provincial Government may, as occasion may arise, by order do anything which appears to them necessary for the purpose of removing the difficulty."

[The Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth] [7th September 1946]

"Sir, this clause stands on the same par as the previous clause, and it is only to resolve any difficulty that may arise hereafter, which it is not possible to foresee now, that it is introduced. I hope hon. Members will not repeat the same old arguments in opposing it."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in spite of strong condemnation from this side of the House of the methods that are being adopted by this Government to arm themselves with great powers in anything and everything, I am really sorry that the Government persist in the same kind of attitude. I oppose this clause not on the ground that they are doing this for lust of power; I oppose this on the ground that it is bad legislation. On sound principles of legislation it is not advisable to have such clauses. As a matter of fact, if the Government want, they can themselves do justice without resort to legislation. Why should we all undergo all this trouble of legislation. If only the Members of the Treasury Bench would look into the records, while they were in Opposition, they will find that they were opposing similar measures tooth and nail. But once they come into power, they forget all that and do the same thing which they were once condemning. I know my cry is a cry in the wilderness: it is all waste of words and energy. (Laughter.) And I will add this one more word of waste of energy." (Laughter.)

* MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, I am sorry I have to oppose Government in this amendment also. The Hon. Minister for Law will know that such provisions in legislation take away the right of the Legislature and also the power of the courts. This clause will give power to the executive to be the sole judge of circumstances to pass executive orders. Such a thing is unheard of in democratic countries. I am sure, unless they say, 'We are the people's representatives, so whatever we do as Government must be considered to be good and must be considered to have been passed on behalf of the people irrespective of the fact whether it has legislative sanction or not,' this clause cannot be justified. I submit this sort of legislation ought to be deprecated and not allowed on sound principles. Why should not Government lay down in the Bill itself the circumstances under which exemptions should be made. At this rate, as some one of my hon. Friend put it, no legislation is necessary and no courts are necessary. I hope Government will consider this matter, consult their legal officers, consult lawyers—and there are some already among them—before they seek to bring forward this clause. It is high time that the Congress Government retrace their step or at least, in future they will think twice before they bring in any legislation giving abundant powers to the executive."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, up till now, my friends of the legal profession came forward to oppose Government taking wide powers without reference to the Legislature. Sir, I have noticed that there is always a tendency on the part of the Government to have certain reserve powers. Such reserve powers there ought to be. But there is a limit to that. Reserve powers should be there to meet emergencies and hard cases. But in the present Bill a very wide power is sought to be given to the executive. My hon. Friends have been crying hoarse against ordinances and executive orders issued during the Advisers' Government, and condemned them with all the vehemence of arguments in the strongest possible terms. Now, when they have come into office, it is better for them to recall what they said regarding those things. Here, in this Bill, they seek to take very wide powers. The Hon. Law Member intends to bring forward shortly a Bill to separate the Executive from the Judiciary. When that is the case, what is the principle of Government now bringing forward an omnibus clause in the present Bill? How can they mete out justice to the people? May I know which influential class of people they want to exclude by the provision of this clause? Are they the inamdars, who I know are a very powerful class of people? If that is not their intention why not they come forward and tell us that this provision is required to meet specific emergencies. In another Bill, a schedule of articles was given mentioning the articles to be affected by that measure. Similarly, why cannot they specify the cases in which the provisions of this clause will be exercised? Instead of so making the clause definite, they make a lot of assumptions, which, it is common knowledge, in the past ministry, in other Bills, led to a lot of litigation. Sir, I once again ask the Hon. Law Member, who, I suppose, is responsible for this legislation, to tell us, whether he will carry his ideology to separate the executive from the judiciary to the extreme extent, or is he only going to tinker with it. Does he want to separate the executive from the judiciary only in one place and not in all spheres of administration? I therefore hope that the Government will agree to delete the present clause."

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not want to intervene in this debate but for the fact some members of this House made me to. It must be remembered that this legislation is a legislation to meet some extraordinary circumstances. It is really temporary in character and with limitations. It cannot be said that we are dealing with things of permanent value. We are not now permanently settling the relation between landlords and tenants. But with a view to settle hereafter that we are bringing in this legislation and no more. There may be some points of view which have not been touched upon in the course of legislation. It is not possible really to anticipate the ingenuity of all the parties who are concerned here either landlords, zamindars, and tenants. It is for the purpose of satisfying the interests not only of zamindars but others also this clause has been brought forward. In respect of this matter it is necessary that the Government must be armed with powers for the purpose of meeting any difficulty that might arise in this legislature, unforeseen at this time. Therefore, this amendment has been brought in by the Government itself. I submit, Sir, that so far as this amendment is concerned, there is nothing extraordinary which is intended to arm Government with any extraordinary powers. It may also be noted such claim is generally found in all modern legislation.

p.m.

[The Hon. Sri K. Bhashyam] [7th September 1946]

It may be said from the ideal point of view that this legislation should not be there for the purpose of giving powers to Government. You will find such a provision in the Agricultural Debt Relief Act and in the Sales Tax Act also. I submit that it is not an extraordinary thing that we are asking; but it is only to put the legislation through and also to work it. I must say further, Sir, the idea is not to arm ourselves with all powers, because there are limitations in the very amendment itself. Such powers are only as necessary for the purpose of putting into effect the provisions of the Act. It has been said that it is a beneficial measure and members also have accepted it as a beneficial measure. After all Government have come forward with this legislation for the benefit of the tenant. That must be taken to mean that they have the interests of the tenant at heart. There are no people behind Government for whose benefit this clause is brought forward. That very idea is grotesque. I submit, Sir, so far as this amendment is concerned, it is one absolutely necessary for the purpose of putting into effect the various beneficial provisions of this Act."

New clause 7 was put and carried.

Preamble.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move—

'that in the Preamble in line 4 for the words "sale of holding or lands" the words "sale of the holdings" shall be substituted, and in line 6 the words "of holdings" shall be omitted.'

"This is only a verbal amendment, Sir."

The amendments were put and carried.

The Preamble, as amended, was put and carried.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I beg to move, Sir—
'that the Bill be passed into law.'"

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to say a word on this measure. It is very unfortunate that I have to make this comment on the eve of passing a measure, which we all welcome very much. The fact is that, I want to point out to Government, they are making us despondent. In fact, when I just finished my speech, some hon. Member from the other side was telling me 'do not be despondent.' But telling us 'do not be despondent' is not enough. If he were in my position, he would have long ago become despondent. I am yet to see one instance in which a reasonable suggestion from this side has been accepted by the Government. ('Hear, hear.') Leave alone cases which involve communal considerations. We are communalists, we stand by it, and we swear by it. But here, these are instances affecting the common interests of all concerned—about which there can be no difference of opinion—and when we make suggestions, the soundness of our suggestions is not considered by Government. Unfortunately, it is all ignored, perhaps, on the assumption that we are veteran enemies and that we are incapable of making sound and proper suggestions. I would only appeal to Government to look at us from a different point of view. As regards party interests, no doubt, we may have communal considerations. But on other matters, let them think that we also have the capacity to give suggestions. Let them look at our suggestions and treat us in that way."

[7th September 1946] [B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur]

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I submit, Sir, that the suggestion that reasonable amendments coming from the Opposition or anything of that sort—as was spoken by the hon. Member—are not accepted, is not well-founded. On the other hand, when several suggestions were made yesterday, I looked into them, and to-day, in response to them, I have brought forward amendments. If, however, my hon. Friend always takes that depressed view that whatever comes from that side will not be accepted, I can only ask him to be more optimistic. We always look for suggestions emanating from that side. But there is something wrong in a frame of mind, which speaks in the way it has been done."

The motion was put and carried.

III. THE MADRAS PRESERVATION OF PRIVATE FORESTS BILL, 1946.

A Bill to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of private forests and interference with customary and prescriptive rights therein and for certain other purposes.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to introduce the Bill to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of private forests and interference with customary and prescriptive rights therein and for certain other purposes and prove that it be referred to a Select Committee. Instead of having the Bill considered at once, in response to the suggestions made by the Leader of the Opposition, and other Members from that side, we are acceding to the request to have this Bill referred to a Select Committee. Therefore, here is the very first occasion when they can understand that useful suggestions coming from them are responded to.

"With regard to the need for this Bill, Sir, I do not want to take much time of the House because even during the debates on the budget, with regard to forests and the zamindari question, it came from almost every side of the House that there has been going on destruction and denudation of forests all over the Province, particularly in the zamindari areas and in Malabar, to an extent which was undesirable,* and that an emergency measure of this type was necessary. In fact, at that stage the Hon. Prime Minister and myself, during those debates, assured the House that we would very soon bring in a measure of this sort.

[Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth] [7th September 1946]

With regard to the need for this measure, Sir, there cannot be much doubt and I hope this House will accord to it the same support as it did to the last measure.

“As regards the destruction of the forests, I may say, Sir, that about 1938–39, a report was made by the Committee appointed by the last Congress Government—I mean the Prakasam Committee Report, which was laid before the then legislature—in which, so far as the estate land areas were concerned, very important recommendations were made, namely, that these forests and communal lands belonged to the people and the villagers as a whole, and are not the property to be dealt with and destroyed as it pleased the zamindars. This aspect has been fully dealt with in particular, Sir, at pages 147 and 148 of that report. Since then what has happened, Sir, is that there has been going on a destruction of forests in zamindari areas to an extent which would not be in the interests of any State to tolerate. With reference to communal lands also such a treatment has gone on. I understand that in the village of Avidi, in the East Godavari district, even the pathways have been alienated by the zamindar. This will show the extent to which some of these gentlemen have gone. In the district of Chittoor, I have gone several miles into the forests to see the utter destruction. These are forests in which people and the ryots have every right and the zamindars cannot sell and dispose them of as they like. Naturally, this interregnum after the report has been utilized in selling away the trees and forest growth to an extent unheard of. If I may say so, with my little experience, districts like Chittoor would get exposed to famine in no time, if existing conditions continue. I shall mention, Sir, what I saw sometime back in the zamindari of Kangundi near Kuppam. I have gone ten to twelve miles into the forest and saw that there has been a wholesale cutting off of the forest growth. For the last eight or ten years this process has been going on in that forest. If one only knows the previous history of the Ceded districts, he will know how the destruction of the forests has brought about want of rain and famine in its wake. I feel that unless very stringent measures are taken regarding these forests, there is very little hope for the people or for agriculture in the areas concerned. The same process, if I may say so, is going on also in the private forests in the district of Malabar about which my hon. friends on that side might be able to speak with more experience than mine. It is also true in my own district of South Kanara. But in Malabar, because most of the forests are in the hands of private owners and on account of the peculiar law and custom in that place jennmis who become karnams want to derive the maximum benefit within the shortest time. These are facts known to hon. Members. The result is that every sort of contract has been given, timber has been cut and the destruction is going on on a very large scale.

“The previous Government appointed a Conservator of Forests, Mr. Sathe, to go into the question of destruction of forests in all parts of the Province including the Government forests and he has reported in 1945 giving a very deplorable state of affairs of the forests all over and recommending that stringent measures should be undertaken. It is with this consideration and in these circumstances that this Bill has been brought.

“As has been already stated with regard to a previous Bill also, the idea is to protect the forests concerned, chiefly the forests in the zamindari areas and the forests in Malabar and not to allow them to be destroyed in this manner, pending major legislation on the subject. This Bill takes power to prevent the indiscriminate cutting of trees therein. In clause 4, certain civil and criminal proceedings are sought to be stayed. This is because it has been brought to the notice of Government that in certain estates the usual and customary rights of ryots for the removal of fuel and other agricultural requirements are being interfered with, that hundreds of suits have been filed, and that there is going on a war as it were between the landholders and the ryots. In all these cases, it is intended to stay the proceedings, pending comprehensive legislation. A safeguard has been taken to see that the normal interests of agriculture or for domestic purposes are not in any way interfered with.

“I do not think that is necessary for me to take up more time of this House because the Government are agreeable to refer this Bill to a Select Committee so that, if there are any defects, they may be rectified. With regard to the names of Members of the Select Committee, I have given you, Sir, a list and I shall read it. I have tried to see that every interest is represented, so that whatever suggestions the members may have to make, may be made in the Select Committee itself. The members are—

- (1) Hon. the Premier.
- (2) Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth.
- (3) K. M. Seethi Sahib Bahadur.
- (4) Kader Kutti Sahib Bahadur.
- (5) Sri Linga Raju.
- (6) Sri Kala Venkata Rao.
- (7) Sri Tatachari.
- (8) Sri Bapineedu.
- (9) Sri D. V. Ramaswami.
- (10) Sri R. V. Swaminathan.
- (11) Sri A. Kaleswara Rao.
- (12) Sri V. C. Palaniswami Goundar.
- (13) Sri M. G. Natesa Chettiyar.
- (14) Raja of Venkatagiri.
- (15) Sri Kakkan.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I would just like to say a few words on this Bill. The whole House will agree that a measure is necessary to prevent the denudation of forests. But we have got to see that proper safeguards are provided in order that the Bill does not work hardship not only on the persons concerned, but also on the economic condition of society. I would like to point out that during the war no doubt some of the forests had to be denuded to a much larger extent than would otherwise be the case. But so far as Malabar is concerned, I understand that most of the private forests were not so seriously affected as is alleged by the Hon. Minister. In fact, except in the taluk of Wynaad, the forests were not affected during the war. It is only in Wynaad taluk that there has been denudation of forests to a larger extent.

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [7th September 1946]

“Now, Sir, I would like to point out that this exploitation of forests in Malabar perhaps has also enabled us to employ thousands of men in the industry. If the Government all of a sudden stop this denudation of forests by the cutting of trees therein, thousands of people who are employed in the industry will be deprived of their means of livelihood. If such a large number of people are thrown out of employment in a place like Malabar, it will be creating a more serious problem than the existing one. That must be guarded against. The Government have taken power to give permission for the cutting of trees. That is a very unsound policy. I am objecting to this on the very same lines on which I have been objecting to other measures of this kind brought forward by the Government. With regard to this measure also, the Government are taking the whole power into their hands to give permission to such people as they like. But it is much safer to lay down the definite category of cases in which this power shall be exercised. If it is not defined, the result will be that, in order to get permission to cut trees, people will have either to come to Madras and roam about the Secretariat, or to go after the Collector or other officials. It is very necessary to lay down the classes in which prohibition should be introduced. The Government have to consider also that total prohibition of cutting trees is not only inadvisable, but also it will be very injurious to society from various points of view, from the commercial point of view and particularly from the economic point of view. So many constructions have been put off to be started after the war on account of the difficulties that existed during the war. Even the Government themselves have put off so many schemes of construction till after the war. Timber may be required for this purpose, and there are over so many industries existing, to be developed, and which have come into existence after the war. All these industries require timber very largely. Without taking all these facts into consideration if the Government simply say that nobody shall cut trees, it will be a hardship. I know they will take shelter under the plea that they have taken power to grant permission. If power is left in the hands of the Government or their subordinate authorities even in such cases, people will be at the mercy of the Government or their subordinates. That is not proper. In the interests of the commercial development of ever so many industries and not to worsen the economic condition of the people by throwing out of employment thousands of men particularly at this juncture, it is absolutely inadvisable to stop entirely the cutting of trees. To thwart commerce and industry in this manner is not at all desirable. That the people should depend upon the will of the Government officials even for carrying on their lawful avocations of trade is not at all desirable. Therefore I would appeal to the Government to view this question in a dispassionate manner and to see that the law that is passed in this connexion is a definite one, so that the people may know what trees they can cut and what trees they should not cut. It is absolutely necessary that all steps should be taken for the preservation of forests. At the same time, exploitation of forests for certain purposes must be allowed. I would submit that the Government should define in the Act itself the categories of trees which should not be cut.

“I would like to bring to the notice of Government another aspect of the matter. I am not an expert in that matter and there are other Members of this House engaged in that industry who may be able to enlighten the House better. I understand that, even for the development of forests, it is necessary to cut certain kinds of trees and that then alone such trees will flourish. If they are allowed to grow without cutting, it will be against the interests of the development of forests.

“All these aspects should be taken into consideration. The Government should not at all pass an entirely prohibitive measure, and they should not keep power in their hands alone. So let the category of trees exempted be defined, and sufficient provision be made for cutting such trees. I hope the Select Committee will go into all these aspects and amend the Bill accordingly.”

* M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR :—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I speak with reference to my small experience as a person not a trader or a janmi or a tenant but as a person who had something to do with the real difficulties of both the merchants and the landlords. When the Government wanted to introduce certain prohibitions relating to transport of timber from Malabar, I had occasion to represent at least one class of people, that is, the timber merchants of Malabar and I had to interview some high officials in the various departments. In 1942 we prepared a census of the elephants working in Malabar and South Kanara. It was found that there were 813 elephants working in these areas. Some of them were employed in the Government forests and some were employed in the forests belonging to the landlords in Malabar. We had also prepared a rough estimate of the persons employed in this industry. You know, Sir, that for one elephant we made a calculation of about 11 workers at the forest itself. Then from the forests to the river side or to the road side the timber had to be lifted and in this matter about 15 to 20 persons were employed for every one of the elephants. In floating timber logs through the rivers and carrying them in lorries a large number of people are also employed. Now in Kallai itself, I am told that is the second biggest timber depot in the world, there are 30 saw mills, not to speak of the mills in the North and South. What will be the position of the people employed in the various branches of the timber industry in Malabar if the measure is rushed through as it is? Apart from this there is the question of firewood. In Madras and certain areas firewood is rationed. But in Malabar where it is produced though it is not exactly rationed we feel serious difficulty. Firewood that was sold at Rs. 3-8-0 a ton is sold at 25 to 30 rupees per ton. When I speak of firewood, I am reminded of other factories and industrial institutions where firewood is required. I know there are some big factories in Malabar, the Malabar Spinning and Weaving factory which gives employment to about ten thousand people. Firewood is largely used at the Malabar Spinning and Weaving Company. At Feroke we have a large number of tile factories famous for their production. There also firewood has to be used for baking and if there were to be a restriction on the cutting of the trees, suitable for firewood, I am afraid these industries are likely to suffer in the future. Then again coming to the other aspect of the question we see in the Act any land can be declared to be a forest. Even the High Court premises can be declared to be a forest land under the Act and there is no restraint put upon a declaration of forest lands under the Act. Now, if you include areas where small shrubs and small trees fit for no other purpose except for firewood are going to be declared as forest lands, then certainly that is not a policy beneficial to any one. Then I can give my own suggestions. I have seen many of the lands in Malabar in between the Ghats and Calicut. Some of them are neither forest lands nor agricultural lands. These lands lie within an area of 1,000 feet above the sea level. They are neither forest areas, nor pure agriculture lands. The theory that if trees are cut, if there is denudation of forests, there will be no rain, is not correct for all times. In Malabar this year we had more rain than ever we had for the last 15 years. At least in Malabar, the rain does not depend upon the condition of forest. So, Sir, I should suggest that instead of waiting for a declaration or permits to be issued for persons to cut trees, a clause may be introduced exempting the area below thousand feet. There are certain kinds of trees which could not grow beyond a particular girth. They are not fit to be grown into timber trees even though they belong to the best variety. They will not grow beyond a particular girth. Unless they are cut and removed, this land cannot be used for anything else. It cannot be kept as forest land or garden land or cultivable land. What people do with these areas is that they occasionally clear them, cut firewood and paddy or tapioca or some other product is occasionally cultivated. The expenses are met partly by collecting firewood and partly by this cultivation. If you restrict clearing these areas, I am afraid, a larger portion of production of foodstuffs in Malabar will be affected. So, Sir, I appeal to you to exempt these areas from the Act and I request that the provision relating to the grant of licence may be deleted and instead of that, a clause may be added that certain lands 1,000 feet above sea level may be exempted from the Act."

[M. V. Hydross Sahib Bahadur] [7th September 1946]

[7th September 1946]

* SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"It is true, it may be asked whether it is not necessary to have thinning in all forest areas which are cultivated and maintained by the Forest Department so as to facilitate fresh trees to grow up. But that comes under forest operations. What the Bill now seeks to do is to prevent indiscriminate cutting of trees in private forests and to protect the forests from being denuded and diminished of utility. I feel, Sir, that this is a very important measure and it is right that the Government have thought it necessary to bring forward this measure so early. It will go a long way in preserving the utility of the forests. When once a tree is cut, it takes several years for another tree to grow in its place. So, this is a very wise measure and I strongly support it."

* AHMAD KUTTI SAHIB HAJI BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I also feel that this is a Bill to prevent denudation of forests. Though it is a necessary measure, it is rather being hastily introduced. It is very much to be deplored that the Government should have rushed in with this Bill without giving sufficient time to the Members of the Assembly and to the public in general, to consider all aspects of the question."

"Sir, the object of the present Bill is to stop immediately cutting of trees in the forests. Before a Bill of this sort is introduced, the Government must consider all the aspects of this matter. The cutting operations in the forests are not so simple or so quick as the Government think. They are carried out by gradual stages and it will take months before trees can be cut from the forests and removed outside."

"First of all let me explain to the House how the cutting operation of timber from the forests is carried out. Only during certain seasons of the year that the timber could be cut from the forests and it is generally in the hot season that cutting is possible. The trees are cut and carried by elephants to the river side, where they are piled up. It generally takes three months for trees to be cut and dragged to the bank of the river. Then the rainy season comes up and there would be torrential rains, during which the river would be overflowing with water and it would be impossible to float these trees down the river immediately. It takes some time for the floods to subside and it is only after the water has gone down to a certain level that the timber could be dragged down the river. These floating and dragging operations are also carried out by means of elephants. There may be obstructions in the river owing to rocks and things like that. Then men will have to drag the timber. Before the timber gets out of the forest, it generally takes months. So, to stop these operations all of a sudden is not a practical proposition. It is a slow process and the Government should deeply consider all the aspects of the question, before ordering a sudden stoppage of the operations. That is one point."

"Another point is, that many of the forests in Malabar are only about a thousand feet high from the sea level. The cutting is done only for the purpose of firewood. After firewood is cut fugitive cultivation begins. The fugitive cultivation in Malabar has been going on for a number of years and it has been useful and profitable both from the point of view of the people and of the Government. I have already brought this matter to the notice of the Hon. the Minister and have explained to him how it goes a long way towards solving the food problem. After the introduction of the compulsory procurement scheme by the Government, people have stopped the cultivation because they have to give all the paddy to the procurement officers. But now on account of the acute scarcity of food, they have again started the fugitive cultivation. So, any legislation that may be introduced should afford protection to this aspect of the matter.

"The next point, Sir, is this. As an immediate effect of this legislation, a number of people who are working in the forests and are engaged in forest operations will be thrown out of work. There are big landlords who have given large sums of money to the jenmis for cultivation in forests, there are the middlemen and there are the contractors and a number of employees under them. All these people are engaged in the forest operations, in one way or another. The immediate effect of this Bill would be that all these people—there are lakhs of them—would be thrown out of employment. Thereby there would be a sudden unsettlement in their economic situation. The Government should take into consideration this aspect also.

"In this connexion, Sir, I should like to remind the Hon. the Minister of the fact that even otherwise, we are threatened everyday with some kind of strikes or other labour troubles. By this sudden stoppage of forest operations, unemployment will increase and there will be again labour troubles and this will be only adding insult to injury.

"There is another point so far as Malabar is concerned. The forests there are only about a thousand feet above sea level and the cutting is generally done in the hills for three years, and another three years are allowed for the forests to grow up. Hence there is no need to include these small-level forests in Malabar in this Bill.

"The next suggestion that I should like to make is that in any future planning of forests on an all-India basis, we should have a reclassification of forest lands from the point of view of forest crops as distinct from agricultural crops.

"Another point I want to refer to is that we need a number of well-trained people in forestry. In the fitness of things there should be a Forest College in Malabar. There are about 18,000 square miles of forests in the Madras Presidency. About 3,000 square miles are under the Panchayat area and Malabar district comprises about 3,000 square miles. A number of people from hill areas will have to come down to the towns if this measure is given effect to. If a Forest College is opened at Malabar, many of the people can be trained in forestry, for which there is a great need there.

7th September 1946] [Ahmad Kutti Sahib Haji Bahadur]

"Then, Sir, I should like to bring to the notice of the Hon. the Minister for Revenue that during the war, a retired Forest Officer was deputed to enquire and report on the conditions in forests. He appears to have submitted his report, but that did not see the light of day and I do not know what happened to it.

"Finally, Sir, I wish to suggest that the Select Committee to consider this Bill should consist of men who are conversant with matters connected with forests. The Chief Conservator of Forests and the Forest Utilization Officer may also be taken into the Select Committee so that they may offer their expert opinion and be of help to the Committee."

A. K. KADER KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—Mr. Speaker, Sir, on this important measure I want to speak a few words on the general condition of the forests and their working and the actual incidents of this Bill on the people in general and on the industry in particular.

"Sir, I am one with the Government in thinking that it is absolutely necessary to prevent denudation or total destruction of forests not only in Malabar but throughout the whole of the Province. This view has been expressed by me in the Post-war Reconstruction Committee or the Forest Reconstruction Committee of which I was a member. I never thought that the Government would bring forward a measure like this. What I expected was that the Government, for the present, would bring about certain control in the destruction of forests, so that the industry is not jeopardized and that the people engaged in the industry as well as the public at large would not be affected. Now, what is contemplated in the Bill is to stop the total felling of the forests straightaway. A number of my hon. Friends have already mentioned to the House that there are a large number of people engaged in the forests, that a large capital is being invested and there are not only a number of employees, but also a number of elephants—that is how they put it—all these will have to be disbanded overnight, immediately this Bill is passed. But I say there are certain provisions in the Bill which give permission in certain deserving cases to carry on the forest operations and things like that. But they are very vague. At the same time it may not be possible for everybody concerned to go to the authorities concerned and convince them about the need for granting them permission to do this felling. I am not pleading for the big landholders or the zamindars. Generally speaking this work is done by the middle class people. If this is stopped suddenly I do not know what the fate of these will be. There may even be financial crashes among them.

"There is another point to be considered. Actually timber is required by very many industries. Soft woods and hard woods are required for different purposes in factories. In these days we all know how difficult it is to get timber for any purpose. The price of timber has gone up very considerably. If at such a time as this the Government brings in a measure of this kind it will have serious repercussions on the timber trade and actually it will block the post-war reconstruction schemes.

"In this connexion I want to remind the House that at least 60 or 70 per cent of the requirements of the Province in regard to timber are met from the private forests of Malabar; and when this is stopped suddenly I do not know how people are going to get their requirements. But, instead of bringing in a measure of this kind, if the Government would bring in a Bill for systematizing the whole thing, we would welcome it and support it.

"Sir, there are so many industries depending on this industry for their raw material. There are a number of saw mills employing thousands of labourers and again there are the plywood mills depending on this industry for their operation. People have invested large amounts in forests for the extraction of timber and taken leases from private owners dependent for their requirements on these forests. If these are suddenly stopped, I do not know what the fate of these industries would be, especially when these industries have come into existence during the war and have given great help to the Government in times of stress.

"Another thing is that if the Government had proposed legislation regulating, as they do in Government forests, the felling of particular varieties of timber and of particular size and restricting the felling, we would have welcomed that measure, as I said before.

"Then, with regard to area, this Bill contemplates the inclusion of even 5 cents of land in the scope of the Bill. This is really a rigorous measure. Malabar is a place where most houses have compounds which in most cases extend to as many as 20 acres and more and people meet their fuel and timber requirements from those compounds. Those lands serve as grazing fields and they also supply green manure necessary for cultivation too. When even these small plots are included in the Bill, it will certainly cause a good deal of hardship to the ryots in the villages. I can understand Government restricting felling in blocks of big forests for the sake of the general public by means of a legislative enactment. But they have included within the scope of the Bill even small bits of land in the country side which is definitely going to adversely affect the ryots.

"Lastly, I am glad to see that the Hon. Minister has agreed to refer the Bill to a Select Committee so that we can give better attention to it and improve it suitably."

* K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, from a reading of the preface of the Bill to restrict the cutting of trees in zamindaris and in Malabar one would be inclined to think that it is not an unqualified prohibition of cutting of trees that is contemplated by the Government, but that it is only a restriction of the cutting that is aimed at by the Government. If that is the object which the Government have in view the only thing the House will have to consider is whether that object will be achieved by a Bill of this kind without causing hardship and dislocation to the existing economic conditions in Malabar and elsewhere. To me it looks as though the provisions of the Bill are such as would in actual working result in creating a stalemate as far as forest operations in Malabar and outside are concerned. It may be said from the other side of the House that there is a provision in the Bill for a reference to the Provincial Government or an authority appointed by Government for permission to cut trees and that if that permission is obtained and availed of there will be no hardship to persons engaged in felling operations and that they might very well cut trees with the permission of the Government. But we have to consider what would be the actual experiences of persons who make such reference to the authorities? What are the classes of trees contemplated by the Government as being within the prohibited sphere? What are the trees that would be permitted to be cut? These are not specified in the Bill. The result is that the authorities will have the fullest discretion in permitting or prohibiting the cutting of the trees. What are the principles which will be kept in view before permitting or prohibiting the cutting we have not been told. If such wide and unrestricted discretion is given to the authorities in charge of issuing permits to persons who apply to them, that would be placing the applicants in a very difficult and awkward position and would be creating the surest temptation to the officers to abuse the power vested in them and would be leading even to corruption, if I may say so. I would respectfully submit that if it is the unrestricted cutting of timber and the denudation of forests that is sought to be prohibited, the best thing would be for Government to give some indication of the trees that should not be cut without the permission of the authorities and not put on the Statute Book permanent legislation of this kind. There is of course the risk of the prohibited trees being also cut off along with those permitted to be cut. To meet that, provision may be made for giving intimation to the forest officers nearby before the cutting is actually made. Thus, if a person wants to cut trees he might give intimation to the nearest forest officer so that under his supervision only trees will be cut and the prohibited trees will be spared. If the exclusion of trees that Government do not want to be cut is effected by the adoption of the suggestion made by me, the other trees could be cut and no hardship will be caused to persons concerned and no destruction of forests will result. If that is done, the object of the Bill will be achieved and no injustice will result. As has been pointed out by hon. Members, the result of unqualified prohibition of cutting of trees from forests will lead to a very serious paralysation of industrial pursuits in trees and also of the various ordinary timber operations in the various districts of this province. In fact, industrial enterprises will come to a dead stop and thousands of labourers will be deprived of their means of living and will be left out of employment to swell the ranks of those creating unrest in the country. This is a serious problem that is facing the present Ministry. Both industrialists and labourers will be deprived of their work by the operation of this Bill and several small industries like furniture making, etc., besides big ones will suffer terribly for want of suitable timber that is now being supplied to them.

"Another matter also has to be noted. It is not really the lorries or motor vehicles that are mostly serving as the means of transport of timber from the thick jungles. In Malabar, I understand that there are some 800 and odd elephants engaged for transport in this industry and there are also the mahouts who get the animals to do the work of removing the timber to the rivers from the interior of the forests. All these agencies will go without work and a sort of stalemate in our industrial pursuits will result from this Bill. I submit, therefore, Sir, that both in the conservation of the forests about which reference has been made and in the interests of the industry, it is necessary to restrict the powers of the Government for declaring any area as a forest or declaring any waste land consisting of trees or shrubs as a forest. Some sort of definition of the word 'Forest' must be made with reference to the height at which the land exists, excluding from the scope of it forests for fuel and ordinary gardens which have some fruit trees or even timber trees. If not, anomalies and hardship will result from so wide a meaning being given the word 'Forest'. These are matters which should engage the attention of the Government. I hope that in the select committee the suggestions made here will receive the sympathetic consideration of the Government and that the measure would not be rushed through ignoring the various criticisms levelled against it. Sir, it should not be thought that the criticisms we made here are unhelpful and meant to embarrass the Government. I request Government to make a note of the criticisms and suitably modify the Bill in the Select Committee. With these words, Sir, I support the viewpoint expressed by my hon. Friend Mr. Pocker and those who followed him from this side of the House."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"If the next speaker will be brief, as soon as he finishes, I will call upon the Hon. Minister to reply."

p.m.

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Members who have spoken before me, coming as they do from Malabar, have represented their case in a very vivid and clear manner. I do not know what exactly is the case made out by the Hon. Member for Revenue in bringing forward this measure. With regard to the other measures which we have considered since yesterday, the argument advanced was that the Defence of India Rules would be expiring at the end of this month and therefore some urgent legislation was necessary. All the measures put before the House were regarded as measures of a temporary nature for the interim period. Both this House and the people were promised that a comprehensive consolidated legislation would be got ready soon and brought before the House. But all these reasons do not hold good with regard to this measure. What is the urgency here in this case? The Defence of India Rules do not regulate this matter and it is not as if the whole world would come to an end if this measure was not brought forward now. What is the object of this measure, my hon. Friend has not made clear. If there was any real case for this measure, he would have placed it before this House already. There is the fear of denudation of forests taking place and they want to put a stop to it. In order to put a stop to that, they do not realise that they are unduly interfering with the free rights of trade and commerce. The other day while speaking on the Demand for Industries I referred to this very matter and I told the Hon. Minister for Industries to look sharp and see that his Honourable Colleagues do not interfere with his liberties and rights and see that industrial development takes place without any hindrance. On the other hand, see what is sought to be done by his own colleagues here? I hope there is no trade dispute or feud between the Hon. Ministers and if any adjudication is necessary . . . (An hon. Member: 'You will be adjudicator.') I have no objection to be adjudicator if there is any dispute. As I have said, the Hon. Minister for Industries should not allow his colleagues to interfere with the development of industries. If the felling of trees for timber is put a stop to in the manner it is sought to be done, both soft and hard timber for the purpose of industries will not be available. The Hon. Minister for Industries may remember that I referred to the plywood industry on the West Coast. It was stated that there will be not one industry but two industrial concerns for plywood. How can the Hon. Minister have not only one but two industries if this Bill comes into law?

"So far as the provisions of the Bill is concerned, I am sorry I have to point out once again that this Government has deviated, I dare say deviated deliberately from all accepted ideas about the powers of the legislature. It is sought to take unduly wide powers for the executive. It is stated in clause 3 (2)—

'No owner of any forest or any person claiming under him whether by virtue of a contract, licence or any other transaction entered into before or after the commencement of this Act, shall, without the previous permission of the Provincial Government or any officer authorized by them in this behalf, cut trees or do any act likely to denude the forest or diminish its utility as a forest.'

"Even here, you find that the Government are taking power to interfere with the rights of the contractors so far as the forests are concerned. With regard to the trees, not only are the Government taking power, but in this provision they are also authorizing somebody else on their behalf to prevent the cutting down of the trees and what is called the denudation of the forests. 'Diminish the utility of the forests' is a very wide expression. What is sought to be done is to prevent the forests from being cut to such an extent that they will not merely be denuded, but their utility also as forests will not be diminished.

"There is also the provision in clause 3 (1) (a) which runs as follows:—

'No owner of any forest shall, without the previous sanction of the Provincial Government or any officer authorized by them in this behalf, sell, mortgage, lease or otherwise alienate the whole or any portion of the forest.'

[Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur] [7th September 1946]

"This provision needs thorough examination and amendment, if necessary, if the provisions of this Bill are not to sit heavily on those to whom it will be applied."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Mr. Speaker, except my hon. Friend Mr. Abdul Hameed Khan, who spoke last and who sees nothing good coming from this side at any time, even the hon. Members who spoke for Malabar were good enough to concede the main principle of the Bill, namely, that there should be some sort of control over the reckless destruction of forests. It is not the intention of the Government to stop wholesale any of the trading or labour interests involved in this matter. All the same, Sir, some sort of control is necessary. As to how that could best be done is a thing which the Select Committee will go into. But if they say that no control whatever is necessary, I regret I cannot agree with them. The forests are not the entire monopoly of the jannmis or the trading interests or those who cut and remove the trees for the sake of industry. The future prosperity of Malabar, the interests of the ryots and the tenants, the whole population—all these have to be safeguarded by the Government. I find from reports that all the available timber of the private forests in Malabar have been taken away and the forests almost destroyed. We find that the timber that is coming to the timber mills in Beliapatam and Kallai are logs of less than a foot in diameter. We have reached a stage in Malabar when regulated control is necessary in the interests of the future. I do not wish to take more of the time of the House as all of us are agreed on the main point of the measure. But as to how best it could be done without seriously affecting the existing interests is for the Select Committee to consider. I hope the House will now pass the motion before it."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The motion before the House is that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of names which has already been read out to the House."

The motion was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Under rule 78, I appoint the Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth as the Chairman of the Committee. When does the Hon. Minister want the report to be presented?"

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Monday or Tuesday."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The report is to be presented on Tuesday."

"Yesterday I said that the matter regarding Golden Rock brought forward by the hon. Member Mr. Venkateswarlu would be taken up to-day after 5 o'clock."

IV.—THE TRADE DISPUTES ADJUDICATION (TEMPORARY PROVISION) BILL, 1946.

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Before we proceed to that, Sir, I move that the Trade Disputes Adjudication (Temporary Provision) Bill, 1946, as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration, under rule 15 (3) of the Assembly Rules, before other items in the agenda."

7th September 1946]

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of order, Sir, how can the Hon. the Premier move this motion now?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Hon. Premier is saying that, instead of the motion now before the House, we shall have the other one first."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"There is no necessity for a change of the order. I do not think it will be proper for the Hon. Premier to present the report of the Select Committee inasmuch as he was not a member of the Select Committee."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"This is intended to facilitate the work of the House. We have got dates fixed up in consultation with some of the hon. Members for the meeting of the Council. If the subject is taken out of its order and if this is accepted here, then there will be work on the 9th instant for the Upper House. It is for this reason, Sir, that I wanted to bring forward this motion."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I should like to point out that the Select Committee's Report was circulated only in the course of the day. Members should have some time to go through it and propose any amendments, if necessary."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Is it possible for us to finish it now?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"No, no. It is simply a presentation of the report."

The motion was put and carried.

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to present the report* of the Select Committee on the Madras Trade Disputes Adjudication (Temporary Provision) Bill, 1946 (L.A. Bill No. 3 of 1946) and move that the Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration."

The motion was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"We shall take up this Bill at 3 o'clock on Monday. I wish to inform the House that we will meet at 3 p.m. on Monday and not at 11 a.m. The Upper House will be meeting at 11 o'clock."

V.—GOLDEN ROCK DISTURBANCES.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to raise . . ."

SRI KALLURI SUBBA RAO:—"An adjournment motion cannot be moved now, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member is not right. Mr. Venkateswarlu is speaking on the subject."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information. May I know how long this subject is going to be considered?"

[7th September 1946]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Usually it is half an hour. If the House wants some more time, I have no objection to grant it. Mr. Venkateswarlu will now speak."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, while rising to speak on this motion regarding the firing in Golden Rock, I should like to bring to the notice of this House certain facts and figures. Every day we are seeing in the papers how many arrests are going on, what all things are happening there"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will allow you ten minutes."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"On such an important motion as this, Sir?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Please tell me how many minutes you want?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Half an hour."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I won't give you half an hour, I will allow only fifteen minutes."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I suggest, Sir, in an important matter like this, we have to take into consideration the deaths that occurred in Golden Rock and the actions of the Malabar Special Police under the guidance and leadership of the Police Superintendent there. So many people, so many workers are subjected to brutal lathi charges and even firing. This is a very gruesome picture and it will affect not only the Communist Party, but also the people throughout our Province. Yesterday, the Prime Minister told us that it is better for the House to know what these people are doing. We should not view it in the manner in which the Prime Minister wanted us to view it. I will let you know what these people have been doing. I want to put before this House some facts to show how things are going on. To-day, Golden Rock is under the regime of the Malabar Special Police. Golden Rock is not now under the regime of the Hon. Mr. Prakasam; it is under the regime of the Harrison, District Superintendent of Police, and Reynolds, South Indian Railway Manager, combination. They are ruling Golden Rock now and not our Prakasam nor this Government. To-day, our legislature is not in content of the situation. That is the situation to-day. I want to know what we can do to retract the situation to stop these atrocities. What can we do to prevent the murder of our people by the Police, to prevent the Police from beating men and women, dragging the sixty years' old mother of Nambiyar and beating his own wife. I should like to mention, Sir, what happened just before the 5th September. What was Jallianwala Bagh day for the whole country was Jallianwala Bagh day for Golden Rock on the 5th September. Such atrocities the people have experienced there. The Reynolds company completely demoralized by solidarity of the workers, requisitioned the Police people and they got the Police to do what they pleased. On the whole, 1,050 were arrested in connexion with the strike. Just three days prior to this, the Police entered the workers' houses, began threatening the workers, ill-treated the workers, and, in spite of all that, the workers did not yield. The womenfolk were asked to exercise pressure husbands to go to work. Having failed thus to smash the class solidarity and to get back the whole of the five Golden Rock workers, into work, the Reynolds combination created this tragedy. This is the creation of the Reynolds nation. There is nothing comparable to this; these people unable to bear the atrocities of the Police have left their homes and about fifty families have gone out and are dwelling in the Colony in the union premises. On the 5th itself, when people were there, Md. Ismail Khan, President of the Rock Union, was arrested and the workers demanded that he be released and they offered satyagraha and they said that two hundred of them should be arrested or that Mr. Ismail should be released. They pleaded that all the workers responsible for the strike—not only Mr. Ismail Khan but 46,000 of the workers of the South Indian Railway were responsible for the strike; then why should they arrest only Mr. Ismail Khan? Why should they arrest him alone and not arrest all the workers. Instead of arresting them, the Police began to charge and afterwards they resorted to firing. In the firing people were murdered and they were left on the spot; for nobody cared for them. Even jackals were not allowed there. The people were not allowed to go there; the Police were guarding the place. On the whole, about 300 arrests were made and those arrests were made arbitrarily. The total reach of the military courts, special courts were opened in Golden Rock Colony; summary courts were opened to try the class leaders. They were not allowed to bring their defence. There were summary trials and they have been in the regime of Harrison and Reynolds company, perhaps with the connivance of this Provincial Government. The Prime Minister simply helped the White Management. The person who was known during the days of the previous Congress movement, who had pulled down the Congress flag in Wavari, who is well-known to so many people like Mr. Bapirao and others—this Harrison who was well-known during the Congress Ministry, is very well-known to our friends here. I do not go into details—because it was the Congress Ministry that brought him to control, that punished him and made him responsible for that event, and asked him to hoist the national flag. That same Harrison now in alliance with Reynolds, the manager of the South Indian Railway, who is responsible for the firing and who has got the blessings of the Provincial Government. They are playing havoc with our own people and this Congress is to-day blaspheming the Congress regime in this manner. Because the Congress Ministry, because our Prime Minister, Prakasam began threatening the communists that they were responsible for the strike, this Reynolds combination took advantage of the situation and began to arrest the workers, to give them lathi charges and to commit brutal murders. Had it not been for this, and if the Prime Minister had been more firm, these things would not have happened like this. That is why to-day the Police have got the upper hand, and not the Hon. 1

[7th September 1946] [Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu]

[Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu] [7th September 1946]

About 130 people were injured and four people were killed due to the firing in Golden Rock. Not only that, the union registers and library were burnt. The property purchased by money subscribed by 46,000 workers, the mike, the loud-speakers and our press—all these things are being smashed. Our library has been burnt and our flag has been burnt. All these things have happened. Just as national flag was being burnt during the dark days of our national struggle, and in spite of the fact that the Congress Ministry is ruling over us in this Province, and the Prime Minister is at the head of the Government, this Harrison company has got the power to burn our labour flag and our other property. The burning of the union library reminds us the burning of Tolstoy's library during Czarist days in Russia. Such a situation exists to-day in the Golden Rock, Sir.

“Another thing, our comrade, who is a Member of this House, has been beaten, dragged in the streets and for the first time in the history of the Congress Government, such things are happening, Sir, in the history of this Legislature, when we are sitting here. He has been wounded and beaten till he fell down unconscious. For six hours he was unconscious and his skull was broken; he was taken to the Police station and it seems—even though I could not give definite information, still I can say this—Harrison went to the extent of beating him even after taking him to the Police lock-up. In the hospital, even his wife was not allowed to see him, her own husband. She was not allowed to know whether he was alive or dead. That is how, Sir, the Police raj in Golden Rock is going on.

“Then, Sir, what about the situation in Trichy itself? In Trichy, there is our party office. All our party leaders have been arrested. Office is being taken charge by the Police. Messrs. Ramamurthi and Srinivasa Rao, most important members of the Communist Party, have been arrested and also some of the organizers. Not only that, when women workers were collecting funds for the trade union, they were ill-treated and arrested and there has been lathi charge by the Malabar Special Police and so many people received injuries. These things are going on but how does it affect us? I would like you all to picture the whole thing before yourselves. I would like everybody to think that this is a question not of the workers alone, nor that of the Communist Party but of the whole population in Trichy; they have no right to speak or move about in Trichy. They could not hold public meetings. Civil liberties of the population have been smashed. To-day, the situation there is deplorable; I do not think such a situation has ever prevailed anywhere in our Province before this. If you want to go out, you will have to take permission. I do not know if any one of us who wants to go there to examine the situation will be allowed to do so. Mr. Chakkarai Chettiyar, the President of the Trade Union Congress, who is not a Communist, and Mr. C. Balachandra Menon, Secretary of the Trade Union Congress, have applied for permission to go and see things there personally. I do not know what the Prime Minister or the Minister for Law and Order is going to do with their applications. Is he going to allow them to see things for themselves? I would also like you to go and examine things for yourself there, every hon. Member who is not inclined to believe what all actions have been done by the Police, as stated by me are correct. I want them to see for themselves if they can get permission from the Hon. Minister for this purpose. All the newspaper reports also we cannot believe. But do not take the Police reports to be correct. Most of the Members from the Congress Benches know what Police reports are; to what extent they will be correct. In the interests of the people, I request all hon. Members, particularly the Leader of the Opposition and the Leader of the Independent Party, all hon. Members who want justice to be done, who want that law and order should be maintained in the sense in which it has to be maintained, in the interest of the people to go and see things for themselves—I request all of them to get the permission of the Prime Minister and go and see things personally.

“Another point, Sir. I request the Hon. Minister for Law to see how justice is being administered in Trichinopoly to-day. Mrs. Kamala, the wife of Dr. Rajan's grandson, was not allowed to have defence. Mr. Halasyam, a Congress M.L.A., when he went there for purposes of putting up defence was not allowed to go and he also received lathi charges. That is how your law courts are doing justice, not justice but injustice. Not only that. Your judges do not stop there. When the arrested persons say that they are not guilty, it is being written that they have pleaded guilty. We are not allowed to produce witnesses, still we are being convicted. That is how justice is being administered by these courts. That is how, I say, the Police have now got the upper hand. The Police have now gone beyond the control of this popular Ministry. I request in the name of democracy, in the name of the people, not only the workers but the public at large, something must be done to end this. May be you may have your own prejudices, but just look at how justice is meted out; just imagine whether it is right to kill four people. How many Police people were injured I want to know. Even the Inspector-General who could give figures which are lies, even he says only six people received minor injuries. But, Sir, as against that, we find 130 workers were seriously injured and four people were killed and five have received fatal injuries. One of the hon. Members of this House was beaten almost to unconsciousness. His wife was beaten; so also his old mother; and only his child escaped lathi blows.

“Another thing I want to point out, Sir, do not say the Communists are creating trouble; for heaven's sake, don't split our population on those lines. What does it mean? Think about it. It means dividing our people, giving upper hand to the Police. To-day the Police have taken advantage of such statements in Trichinopoly. What were the arguments put forward during the days of the 1942 disturbances? Was it not said that it was the Congress leaders that were responsible for the disturbances? What were the arguments put forward during the days of the Simon Commission? Were not the Congress leaders accused for the public unrest? Our Prime Minister Prakasam stood for the boycott of the

[Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu] [7th September 1946]

Simon Commission and he led the boycott in those days; he stood with the masses and he saved the lives of the people. That Prakasam we want to-day to save the lives of these innocent workers, to see that these Police people are not allowed to kill our workers.

5-15 P.M. "Another point I wish to bring to the notice of the House is this. I know that the Communist prejudice has gone too far. In spite of the fact that justice should be meted out and that they should not rely upon the reports of the police—for all of us including the members of the Congress Party—have had experience of police repression, and know what police reports are, but did they ever care to see whether such reports are correct or not. Does the Hon. Prime Minister agree that the murder charge launched against him previously was correct? Is it not based on police reports? Were those reports not false? I am sure the Hon. the Prime Minister will agree with me that we should not rely upon such false reports. And when such is the case, I cannot understand why when such charges are brought against Communists, working class people and their sympathisers, they should be believed by the Hon. Prime Minister. I cannot understand what is actually the cause for such changeover. (Interruption.) In spite of the prejudice of my hon. Friend Mr. Subba Rao, I say, let him go to-day to Golden Rock and see things for himself. If he does that, I am sure, he will agree with me in what I am narrating. I know he has got a terrible anti-Communist prejudice, but if on the other hand he has got a democratic heart—if he has got a heart I am sure he will agree with me. Therefore, what we demand on the floor of this House, is an open enquiry by constituting a committee representative of all parties, of all democratically minded people, to go into the question in order to see for themselves which is just and which is unjust. We heard to-day from the Hon. Prime Minister that compensation will be paid for those who lost their property and other things in 1942 disturbances; but now we find that a loss estimated at Rs. 40,000 has been incurred by the South Indian Railway Union as a result of the action of the Malabar Special Police and are we not entitled to such compensation? By the brutal acts of the Police, our whole property has been smashed; I ask, have they got the sanction of the Ministry for committing such acts? I want to know whether only Congressmen are entitled to such justice and compensation. I expect the same justice at the hands of the Hon. Mr. Prakasam in this case also.

"I wish to bring another matter to the notice of the House and that is in regard to Harrison and Reynolds. I demand that an impartial enquiry committee consisting of all parties be appointed to go into the matter. Compensation to be paid for the destruction of the property and Harrison must be tried and punished and withdraw all help to Reynolds, the South Indian Railway Manager. I suggest that any three Members of this House be selected and let them sit in judgment over him, and we are prepared to accept their judgment. Let it be done and let everybody know what Harrison is. It has been said that there is change of heart in the administration and what the change of heart is, we are actually experiencing and seeing with our own eyes. When people see what is going on, they will come to the conclusion that there is nothing to indicate any change of heart. August 1942 teaches us some lessons in this connexion. Change of heart will only come when according to the 1942 demand, this man is made to 'quit India.' In the name of democracy, in the name of justice, I request the Hon. the Prime Minister to do justice instead of taking cudgels against us, instead of threatening us, instead of saying that we have demanded the release of Communist prisoners and that he has done a favour by releasing even Communist prisoners along with 1942 prisoners—we consider that we have a right to demand from our popular leader to do justice in this matter also. Of course, it does not mean we are asking for any favour; we are not going to him with any begging bowl or ask him for any job but we are merely asking him to do justice as was done to Congress political persons, an unofficial enquiry committee and pay compensation and see justice is rendered to workers."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member has already exceeded the time-limit."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to make it quite clear that we the Muslim League Party do not see eye to eye with the Communists and we if speak on this subject with reference to which the hon. the Communist Member has already made a speech, it does not at all mean that we are at one with them. But, Sir, the subject is a matter of very serious importance. Very often I have pointed to this House that it is really a very unfortunate circumstance that immediately after the Congress Government came to power, such occurrences have become the order of the day. Have they bestowed any thought on this very serious matter? It is not only that serious things have happened in Golden Rock and Trichinopoly but we see such things being committed everywhere and even in the City of Madras under the very nose of this Government. It was only the other day in connection with some scare that spread, a gentleman was shot down by a policeman without any kind of justification whatsoever. Therefore, life becomes very very precarious. Even in the City of Madras and I have also pointed out that the Government have not taken sufficient measures to prevent such occurrences. It is not at all to be lightly regarded that only five people were killed and nine injured but the life of everyone is worth very much and worth the life of the whole country. I want to point out to the Government that it is the duty of the Government to see that such things do not recur; they should look into the causes of such occurrences; it is not only in regard to firing, they should also go into the question of why the Police fired, the circumstances under which they resorted to firing and whether they were justified in doing so or not. We are in the dark about those things and it is therefore up to the Government to furnish all the details to this House so that we may know where we stand. It is not a question merely of four persons having been killed at Trichinopoly but certainly their lives are very precious. It is not merely the question of nine people being injured; probably a large number of people might have been injured and as a matter of fact one of the hon. Members of this House is stated to have been injured—I am very sorry to hear this, and that he is in hospital—but what are the circumstances under which this firing was resorted to and how these four persons happened to be killed on account of this firing, we are entitled to know. It is up to the Government, therefore, to furnish satisfactory information on all these points. I would therefore like Government to pay serious attention to enquire into the causes which led to such occurrences, which has become the order of the day and to see that such things do not recur in future.

“It is not enough they concentrate their attention on consolidating their party strength by means fair or foul, because what I find, from the beginning they came to office, is they have been trying to concentrate their attention on consolidating their party position in spite of the fact that they have such an overwhelming majority. But are they bestowing any attention to these serious questions and to keep peace in the country? If there is no peace in the country, the Government does not deserve the name of the Government and if they are not able to keep peace in the country, and make the people to feel that their life and property are secure, they are not a Government. As a matter of fact, I find lakhs and lakhs worth of property in Vaniyambadi was burnt to ashes and people had to see their own property being burnt without being able to raise their little finger to save them, and the Police have absolutely kept silent and did not do anything in the matter. That is the kind of Police we are having to-day. What are the circumstances in which this incident has happened, we do not know, in spite of the fact the Hon. the Premier went to Vaniyambadi and saw with his own eyes what had actually happened there. But, what has he done? Was he satisfied with the conduct of the Police there? Did he make any enquiry into that and did he institute any enquiry as to the conduct of the Police there? Is it not this very Police that is doing these acts also in Golden Rock? I may tell the House once for all that they do not deserve the name of Government so long as the people do not feel that their life and property are secure. That is the fundamental duty of the Government, they are failing in the discharge of this fundamental duty, and that is the reason why I am speaking in support of this matter. I therefore request the Government to make a thorough enquiry into the matter and even now place before the House what the circumstances connected with this incident are. I would like to impress on the Government that they are in the habit of ignoring the House on very important matters. In matters like this, they should place all the facts and take the House into their confidence but they have failed to do so. Once again, I request the Government to see that the people of this Presidency feel that their lives and property will be made secure at least in the future.”

* M. S. ABDUL MAJEED SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Hon. the Premier has, on the floor of this Assembly, said on more than one occasion that the struggle that was going on in Golden Rock was not a struggle between the Government of Madras and the workers but it was a struggle that was going on between the workers in Golden Rock and the Railway Administration which was to-day part and parcel of the Government of India. He has also told us that the interest which the Government has got in the matter was only the interest of a third party, but that third party having influence, could have used it in the settlement of the quarrel. The Hon. the Prime Minister has also told us that he has intervened in the matter but he was not able to arrive at a settlement because of certain things which he was not prepared to reveal on the floor of the Assembly and that he thought that he would injure the interests of the parties involved by doing so. To-day that struggle has assumed huge proportions and the Government of Madras cannot be an idle spectator in this matter. So, I would implore the Hon. the Prime Minister to take up the trend where he left it and see that he liquidates the present turmoil which is threatening the peace and order of this Province. When I say this, I also mean that the peace and order of this Province must be maintained and it is the duty and responsibility of any decent Government to see that peace and tranquillity prevail. While saying this, we are not prepared to tolerate the excesses of those authorities who are in charge of peace and order in this Province. Therefore, Sir, I request the Hon. the Premier to place on the floor of this Assembly the events that have led to the actual firing and the losses sustained by the people and particularly the injuries done to an hon. Member of this House. I am sure, Sir, with his generous disposition and with his kindly and fatherly manners, he can play the role of an ambassador of peace and see that peace and tranquillity are once more established in this Province and that justice is meted out to the workers at Golden Rock.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, after my hon. Friend, Mr. Majeed, has given his opinion, the only simple question before the House is how far the Government is responsible in regard to the atrocities committed at Golden Rock. I am one of those who feel, Sir, that this Government and this Government alone is responsible for what has happened. For some reason, the Members of the Treasury Benches have taken it into their heads that all this labour agitation is due to the Communists. With this prejudiced view, if they approach the problem, I say they cannot solve the problem. It is not my opinion alone, Sir. The Hon. the Minister for Labour, when he was last in Coimbatore, he has clearly said at a Workers' Conference addressing his own partymen and said, ‘You have been sleeping and the Communists have captured the workers; you must also capture the minds of the workers’.”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“I question that statement, Sir.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Just as the present Congress Party captured the minds of the masses and got into power, so also the Communists, after hard work, have captured the imagination of the workers and they are now the rightful Leaders of the labour movements. (Voices: 'Question' from the Congress Benches). Sir, my point was that because the Government has approached the problem with such a view, they will not be able to solve this problem. I ask, Sir, whether the labour strike in the South Indian Railway where 42,000 people are involved, is due to the Communist party? Where such a large number is involved, will not this Government consider it seriously as a matter calling for their immediate attention? If the Speaker bears with me, I will say that in the matter of this strike, the Government have bungled from the very beginning. On the 24th of last month, the strike was about to begin, but we saw in the papers that the Hon. the Premier interviewed the Agent of the South Indian Railway and we saw again in the papers that he has promised his unqualified help to the Agent."

[Muhammad Abdul Salam Sahib Bahadur] [7th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Not at all."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I ask, Sir, what was the kind of help that was promised?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The hon. Member should not presume false facts and go on arguing, Sir."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I take the information. If the Government had been serious from the very beginning of the labour strike of such magnitude that was going on in Trichinopoly, they would have deputed one or two Ministers to that place—we have a lot of them, about thirteen Ministers and all of them are here—to arrive at a settlement. Instead of doing that, because of the prejudice, they have bungled in the matter. I say this because while Mr. Venkateswaralu was speaking, I saw from the opposite benches smiles and jeers. I remember the scene in 1930 when the Congress had to struggle, and that was in the days of the old Council, when there was a lathi charge in China Bazaar opposite the cloth shops while picketing was going on. In my opinion, Sir, the position of the Congress at that time was the same as the position of the Communist Party to-day. (Voices from the Congress Benches: 'Question.') There was an appeal by the Minister for Revenue this morning to the zamindars of this Presidency to march with the times. I bring to the notice of the House, Sir, that the labourers in this Province have come to their own. This strike is not a problem of the Communists but it is a problem between the 'Haves' and the 'Have-nots.' Unless the Congress Party also marches with the times and settles matters in right earnest, it will not be able to put an end to such atrocities, shootings, murders, etc., described by Mr. Venkateswarlu. This is only the beginning of such troubles and unless these are settled at once, this Government is going to face even more."

* P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, but for the attitude of the hon. Members in the Congress Benches, I would never have deemed it necessary to speak to-day. Our Deputy Leader, Mr. Pocker Sahib, has already explained that if we support the motion moved by my hon. Friend Mr. Venkateswaralu, does not indicate our approval of the policy or the methods adopted by the party to which he belongs. But Sir, I know there is a party that not only applauded those methods, but advocated, and practised them and that party is the party to which the Ministers belong.

"Ever since we met here, in season and out of season, day in and day out, hon. Members of the Congress Party have been singing in praise of all that happened in 1942, of all the bridges that were broken, of the telephone and telegraph wires that were cut and all the damage and havoc these caused. Sir, adjournment motions were moved by their spokesmen and also discussed in the Legislatures all over this country and protests and walk-outs were arranged. All these things have happened so recently that the Hon. the Prime Minister and the members of the Congress Party could not have easily forgotten them. In these circumstances, Sir, I cannot understand this attitude of mind which to-day compels the Hon. the Prime Minister to decry those very methods adopted by his party and which have brought him and his colleagues to power. Sir, the Ministry claim to be the champions of democracy but to-day they are violating every principle of that democracy. Rights and privileges claimed by them as fundamental rights of man are being denied to those who are opposed to them in politics. I cannot understand this calculated inability to appreciate another man's point of view and the complete lack of courtesy to those who are opposed to them. This morning the Prime Minister announced the remission of collective fines imposed on account of disturbances in 1942 but at the same time, said that he would impose these very collective fines on those who now oppose him. Sir, under the new Acts before us, for everything special officers are appointed and the Ministry are not prepared to give us any assurance as to what class of officers would be appointed as those special officers. Last evening, I was surprised to hear the Prime Minister say that he would personally plead for the abolition of even self-governing institutions which have taught us the art of self-government. I am afraid, Sir, that this attitude of mind, of intolerance and an attitude that brooks no opposition would lead to a very dangerous situation. I am afraid that this Congressism that is being established in this country would be something more horrible and frightful than even Fascism. Sir, in my own little town of Calicut, an order has been issued three days ago. (Sri K. Varadachari: 'Calicut should not be brought here.') I am speaking about the attitude of the Ministry in such matters—an order has been issued prohibiting all meetings and processions; civil liberties are being interfered with and the police have been let loose on the public . . ."

ABDUL HAMEED KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, my hon. Friend, Mr. Pocker, has stated in clear terms our position so far as this matter is concerned. Our only object in participating in the discussion in regard to this matter this afternoon, Sir, is to tell the House that we are certainly no parties to terrorism or repression on the part of any party or side. Sir, when the All-India Railway strike was announced, we thought we had dealt sufficiently with the railway workers in this country.

[Abdul Hameed Khan Sahib Bahadur] [7th September 1946]

I do not know, Sir, how and when this strike of the South Indian Railway has come into existence and why this was not dealt with, put down or prevented. It is very unfortunate, Sir, that there have been strikes all over the Province creating a situation over which the Government seems to have no control. When the question was raised in this very House, we certainly felt that there was really trouble in Golden Rock and that it required the immediate attention of the Government. Those reports of deaths and attacks on persons who were engaged in the strike created some sort of fear. We, on this side, feel that the methods that are employed are certainly not the type of things that should have been done. Some reference has been made to the sufferings that my Congress friends put up with when they were outside the Government or the Legislature. During the last so many years, they suffered incarceration and they have been victims of lathi charges and things like that. The Government of those days were resorting to atrocities like that and they were carrying on the Government without the co-operation and the support of the people. Now, Sir, those days are gone. The then Government, which were an Imperialist Government, a foreign Government, were carrying on the administration of this Province and were resorting to methods that were deprecated by all. We thought, Sir, that the party whose members have had experience of the atrocities of the Imperialist Government and their methods of repression, would have remembered these things and adopted different methods. But, Sir, it is unfortunate that those methods are resorted to by the very Government composed of members who have experienced, no less than the people, such methods of repression. Sir, the people felt that the party in power which was having the largest support in the Province or at least the largest support of the Hindu population in this Province, when it came into office, would adopt very different methods from those which were adopted by their predecessors.

5-45 P.M. "A large number of young men of the Non-Brahmin community suffered incarceration and lathi charges at the hands of that very Government. I believe those very gentlemen believed in non-violence in those days because Gandhiji has been telling us from the very beginning for the last twenty-five years that he believed in it not as a mere expedient but as an article of faith and as his life's principle that non-violence should govern human relations in the world. These gentlemen who are believers and followers of Gandhiji are not able to believe in non-violence in the manner in which he wanted them to do; on the other hand what do we find? The very same people want to govern the Province not with the co-operation and help of the people but by terrorising them and repressing them. The Government have come into office as the representatives of the people and they ought to treat others as their own people even though they may belong to other parties. The labourers of Golden Rock are your people although they may have gone under the guidance of Communists who may have led them astray. You have to adopt all the same peaceful methods of conciliation instead of resorting to violent methods of terrorising them. I like to ask whether the Hon. the Premier has called for information from Trichinopoly. I know the Collector of Trichinopoly would have communicated to the Government what has happened. When Congressmen were killed and when they were beaten, we never believed in the reports that came from Collectors; we wanted that first hand information should be obtained by a non-official agency. Now, Sir, what the Hon. the Premier is going to tell us is from the report of the Collector or of the District Superintendent of Police. Is he going to ask us to believe or does he himself believe that all that has been reported is the entire truth, God's own truth? Possibly, it may be true or it may not be true. I wish yesterday itself somebody—one of the Parliamentary Secretaries of this House—had been sent to Trichinopoly to know first hand what has happened. Then we would have believed what my Hon. Friend the Premier would tell us. In fine, I would like to appeal to the Hon. the Premier to treat members belonging to parties other than his own as his own people, to treat them as brothers and not to regard them as aliens and enemies. Although they may have been misguided and gone astray, you must bring them round to your own peaceful way and also rule this Province by methods other than imperialist methods, by methods of conciliation, co-operation and goodwill as he wanted us to give him."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, the matter is not free from difficulty."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member will finish his speech in three minutes and he is the last speaker."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"If we, the members of the Muslim League speak on this occasion, it is not because we have anything in common with the Communist party, but because as members of this august representative body, we have a responsibility. The matter must be viewed from a dispassionate point of view. It would have been better if the Communist member who charged the police of excesses and who charged the Government accordingly, had given us the details of circumstances which led up to the lathi charge, to the firing and to the arrests. If we had in our possession correct information with regard to the circumstances which led to the firing, we would have been in a better position to express an opinion on it. Nobody in the House or outside the House and so far as the Muslim League is concerned nobody would say that the Government is not charged with the duty of maintaining law and order. Law and order go together. Order if you want to maintain must be within the law. We are interested to know whether the maintenance of order which was sought to be done at the Golden Rock was within the law. Was there justification for the lathi charge? Was there justification for the firing and killing and for the arrests? Circumstances had not been narrated and we do not know the real story. But two things have to be taken into consideration. The first thing is whether the Police action was justified especially in view of the fact that the struggle between the railway men and the workers was not the primary concern of the Government. The first question that should be ascertained is whether there was justification for interference by the police and if there was, whether the circumstance justified the use of force and if the force that was applied was necessary or beyond the measure necessary for the maintenance of law and order. That is what I mean when I said order should be maintained within the law. We, the members not only of the Muslim League but all the members of this august representative assembly, have got a responsibility. If we want to take part in this discussion, it should not be misunderstood that we want to do propaganda against the party in power and that we want to take advantage of any little disturbances here or there. That is not it; far from it. We are responsible servants of the people and we have a responsibility to the people who elected us. It is our duty to see that the administration of law and order is done in accordance with the law. I wish to sound one note of warning and the Muslim League is entitled to make it and that is that you belong to a single political party and there is a tendency on the part of members of that party—I do not mean the responsible members like the Ministers—to over-step the limits of their functions and the servants are naturally influenced by the fact that they are under the Congress Party Government and when certain other parties choose to oppose the Congress party or do something which is irksome to it or which is not entirely in the interests of the party in power of which they consider themselves to be the limbs, there is a tendency on their part to over-step the limits of law and therefore, I appeal to the Hon. Premier to go into the matter very seriously and see whether it is not a fact that the servants

AN HON. MEMBER :—“ The hon. Member is referring to Congressmen as servants.”

* MR. SPEAKER :—“ I do not like this kind of exchange of words and interruptions. The hon. Member will proceed.”

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR :—“ I was referring to the servants of Government. We are all the servants of the people. Not you, Sir. You are the ruler; you are not servant. (Laughter.)

“ My appeal to the Hon. the Premier is this: It is the duty of the Congress Government to see that their members outside and the public servants . . . ”

* MR. SPEAKER :—“ The hon. Member has exceeded his time limit; the Hon. the Premier might reply.”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM :—“ Mr. Speaker, the last speaker tried his best to represent the legal position and the constitutional position dispassionately. So far I could gather, he agreed that it was the responsibility of Government to maintain law and order. Up to a point there was a feeling of appreciation at least on the part of those who had spoken this evening, particularly the members of the League. If they had been a little more patient until the facts are disclosed, they would not have spoken in the strain and tone in which they have addressed the House. Facts must be known; both sides must be heard; it is only then that one can arrive at a conclusion. But that has become absent to-day unfortunately. The reason for it unfortunately is that there was shooting, there were some deaths, there was a lathi charge and injuries were caused. As Mr. Mahboob Ali Baig put it one ought to know if there was justification for it. To understand it, it is necessary that we should know what were the circumstances leading to the firing, what was the previous history of the party that had been working to create trouble in the country. These facts must be known. It is only after that, could a Government be charged. Of course, hon. Members were pained to see there were some deaths. Government also feel very sorry for the deaths caused, however just that firing might be. Unless a Government is inhuman it would not fail to feel for the loss of life. The question, ‘ who is in the right and who is in the wrong ’ has to be gone into by the Government. Some friends were good enough to appeal to the Government to go into it dispassionately and ascertain the truth about this matter. I do not quarrel with any statement made or attacks made unconsciously against the Government. Some levelled their criticism in a quiet manner; some others, because of the loss of life, got excited and went a bit stronger in their condemnation before they could get at the facts. Sir, what happened in this case. How did it happen that the Police were compelled to open fire? When did the strike start? What is it that had been going on during the last so many weeks, ever since the strike started? The Police had been guarding about 1,500 miles of railway line, as it were, because the Communists declared a strike, and declared that they would not allow trains to pass. They did their best to call upon all railway men, stationmasters, and other workers to strike, and make it impossible for the trains to run. All this time, the Police had been maintaining law and order without having recourse to any firing at all. In a few weeks, it became known that the strike was going down, and that those who went on strike were resuming work (Sri P. Venkateswarlu: ‘ Never ’). ”

7th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

* MR. SPEAKER :—“ I will request Mr. Venkateswarlu not to interrupt the Premier when he is making a statement.”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM :—“ I was wondering, Sir, whether it was any other gentleman that interrupted me. (Laughter.) It is our friend again. Things were going on very peacefully. The Communist leaders have created not only the South Indian Railway strike but they have created other strikes also calling upon Government to face them. They had been engaged in very violent methods all round. Before coming to this Golden Rock incident, Sir, I would tell you what was done in the town of Karur, forty miles from Trichinopoly. What happened there, perhaps none of the hon. Members know. I happened to go there and see things myself. Karur is a big commercial centre noted for handloom factories. The master handloom weavers there have been carrying on their business for a long time and they have been flourishing under all difficult conditions even during the war. What happened in that town, I will request hon. Members to consider for a while. I went there, Sir, as I was returning from Madura, although I was told everything was quiet in Karur, and those who have done mischief had already disappeared. But it was not in my nature to go away. I went there to see who did it all. The Communist leaders had set whole houses on fire in broad daylight. (Cries of 'shame.') They set on fire, not thatched houses, not only tiled houses, but storeyed houses built with cement, brick and chunam. Big houses were burnt, bales of yarn stocked there were burnt, and in that way 11 buildings were destroyed there. How it was done there, do you know, Sir? This is a matter of enquiry now, and the persons concerned will be tried in due course. These are not things that can disappear easily. What had happened in Karur I shall explain briefly. The District Collector was there on the spot. The District Superintendent of Police, Mr. Harrison (who was said to have been present in Golden Rock) was camping there, and the whole Police force was there. Men went in broad daylight, challenging the Government and challenging the Government officials, as it were, they poured petrol on doors, and set fire to houses, burnt all yarn and burnt them all to ashes. That was done in Karur. When I was there I made enquiries. I was told that 40 more people who had taken part in this burning and destruction of property had disappeared and had not yet returned to the town. (A voice: 'Gone underground?') You cannot apply such a sacred word in this connexion. 'Underground' can be used only for political underground. Here (Karur) they have all gone out of the place. These were the Communists who had been engaged in this nefarious business for such a long time to upset everything. It is these Communists who had precipitated the Golden Rock situation at the last stage. What else have they done? In one place in Ramnad district, these Communists took on hand innocent workers, made them defy the whole law of the land as it were, went and occupied the land owned by others, and challenged the Government, and created agrarian trouble. Police protection had to be given there. Sir, very near Madras, in the fourteenth mile, we have got Pallavaram where Muslim proprietors have been running their tanning industry. Some hon. Members may know how matters were brought there to a pitch, and how Police protection had to be given to prevent tanneries being burnt. In this way, wherever protection was required it is the Police force that had been giving protection, when the Communists were engaged in this wretched work in a most unconscionable manner. We have been trying our best, considering the age and inexperience of these so-called Communists, to put reason into them and make them behave properly and act properly towards their countrymen. What is the good of lecturing from morning till night in one breath in the name of 'workers, workers and workers', while at the same time inducing workers not to earn their livelihood, but leading them along streets so as to compel the Police and Government to take some action against them. (Laughter.) This is the sort of business which the Communists had been doing all the time. Sir, murders are being committed; it is not an empty statement. (Sri P. Venkateswarlu: 'Police records?') I am not making a statement merely for the sake of statement. All this is borne out by record. All this will come out. It is the Police that have been giving help to these Communists. (Laughter.) In some places attempts were made to tamper also with these innocent Police. I am warning Communists to be careful in dealing with their own countrymen and the Government. (Mr. Kallur Subba Rao: 'Their country is Russia and not India.') (Laughter.) I will give you something interesting about what happened at Golden Rock. When I was in Trichinopoly, their representatives who had been there at the time of this occurrence told me as to what occurred there. An hon. Member of this House who had been injured on this occasion came here along with another leader of the Communist party, Mr. Kalyanasundaram, and demanded of me certain things, which I was not able to reconcile myself to do. One thing always happens. Whenever there is trouble or whenever there is an arrest, people come to me and ask for the release of person or persons thinking that being a People's Government it should be done. They come and argue that the Sessions Judge who convicted the accused is wrong, what they say is correct, and 'therefore' they say, 'please release them: they are our men.'

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [7th September 1946]

[7th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

"Now, Sir, what happened at this Golden Rock is this. The friends who came here went away from here, and they engineered and worked to provoke violence by some means or other. It is the speeches that created trouble in this world. It is the words that bring about trouble on a large scale or small scale. These friends who had left Madras and who had gone, what was it they were doing? What were the speeches made by these people? Here is a letter which I received. I told you, Sir, they came and met me and they went away. What are their speeches, I am going to read—something very interesting to me, to you, and to hon. Members of the House also. The letter says—

"The temper of the workers on strike had been specially roused by violent speeches by Mr. Anandan Nambiar, directed specially against the Government, for example, on the 28th August, at Golden Rock, Mr. Nambiar spoke as follows:—

"Prakasam is 75 years old, and I am 28! . . . (Laughter.) It must be seen for how long he would continue to be the Premier of the Province after arresting me, a Member of the Legislative Assembly. Some other Prakasam and not this Prakasam shall come for that purpose. If I am arrested, 1942 will repeat. The South Indian Railway workers conduct this strike peacefully . . .," and with violence also (these are my words). To continue the quotation—

"When it is so, if we are arrested I would beat Frakasam Garu with my boots in the Legislative Assembly".
(Cries of 'shame, shame'.)"

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir, . . ."

[7th September 1946]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will allow you to speak in the end. Please resume your seat."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"To continue the quotation—

'If I am arrested the land of death should be seen. If you Reynolds (General Manager of the South Indian Railway) go near Jawaharlal Nehru, you will get shoe beatings. Who is caring for your notice? We will see you in the gallows. The workers in the Golden Rock have given their blood due to Mr. Harrison, the Superintendent of Police. Not only for him, we have given our blood under this unjust Congress Government, this reactionary Congress Government. This Prakasam's Government will capsize.'

I have got another translation of a speech from a Tamil paper. I would read a few lines:

'You need not be afraid of the Police beating. If they beat us we will certainly return the blows. We shall not leave them free if they beat us. If they beat us, who are carrying on in a peaceful manner, blows will fall on Prakasam's head. Workers are going to beat Prakasam in the Assembly. If poor labourers are beaten we will send labourers to the Assembly to tear off Prakasam's head. Labourers are not going to be afraid in future. They do not advocate ahimsa. It is not known where they are going to be thrashed. The Soviets waged guerilla warfare against Hitler. That guerilla fight will take place hereafter. Prakasam, take away your Police hand, otherwise the head of Prakasam, who has sent them to beat us, will break. Labourers are beaten when they come to attend meetings. They are beaten after entering their houses. If black-legs threaten you, their legs should be changed to red legs. Blood will flow if beaten.'

Hon. Members will have an opportunity to know the speeches and everything as time goes on. Sir, until these two leaders left Madras and went over to Trichinopoly, there was nothing happening there, although the Police had been there for such a long time. Even the Golden Rock strike had practically broken. These friends went there, created a situation and roused the mob whom they addressed at that time. Sir, this is a letter sent on the 2nd September by the Trichinopoly Town Congress Committee. They have passed a resolution.

"It is—

'Since in the opinion of the Trichinopoly Town Congress Committee the speeches made by the Communist leaders at public meetings so far held both in Golden Rock and in Trichinopoly are violent, criminally abusive, directed against responsible men, and dangerous to public safety, and these speeches are to encourage acts of violence by members of the Communist Party, this Committee implores the Madras Government to arrange to render such protection to the public as the occasion demands at the earliest opportunity.'

Like that representations came from those who did not agree with the workers on strike, and they were asking for protection. This is exactly what happened. The hon. Member Mr. Hameed Khan says 'when the Collectors sent reports and when the Police Officers sent reports, you did not attach any value when you were fighting the Government in those days; now when they are sending reports you expect us to believe them.' Since when this attitude has been developed in the mind of Mr. Hameed Khan, I do not understand. (Mr. Hameed Khan: 'Since 1942, Sir.') 1942, or it may be earlier. Never mind; I do not want to go into that. You are entitled to change into anything you like.

"These long reports will take a long time, if I read. That is why, I am trying to read certain portions. I am now reading from the Collector's report. The report is dated 5th Sep 1946. The Collector says . . ."

[7th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"What is the name of the Collec

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Varghese, C of Trichinopoly. The Collector says—

'This morning (5th September) the District Superintendent of Police, C.I.D., were at the Golden Rock station looking after general bandolust arrangements. They left the police to their residence at about 8-45 a.m. At about 8-50 a.m. a patrol bus in front of the Union office saw a crowd obstructing the roadway. The bus stopped and the officer-in-charge of the bus arrested four of them for obstruction and put them into the bus. While the bus was proceeding a large crowd of people from inside the Union office came out and threw stones at this bus. It was the time when the usual morning's meeting of the strikers was dispersing. The bus proceeded on its way without trying to deal with the crowd who threw stones. Information about this incident immediately reached the police station. The Personal Assistant to the District Superintendent jumped into a bus with an officer of the Malabar Special Police and at Malabar Special Police constables and proceeded to the scene. A large crowd collected on the road in front of the Union office by then and the bus reached the scene, it was heavily stoned. The Police party were immediately about to be overwhelmed by a large crowd estimated three to four thousand. Stones and soda bottles were hurled at them. The Officer in charge ordered a lathi charge, but before he could do anything the mob threatened to close round the police party. Two constables, eight who comprised that party, were hit and one of them fell down on the ground. The party had only two rifles. The Personal Assistant immediately seized a rifle from one of the constables. The Malabar Special Police Officer seized the other remaining rifle, and both of them opened fire.'

These are the circumstances, Sir, under which, according to the Collector, fire was opened. Those who are charged with maintaining law and order taking this risk, when they were with a large crowd, and when they were treated with stones, when one of the two constables who got injuries fell unconscious, what is it that should be done, Sir? Subject to a final enquiry that will be made, I am trying to place before you because you justly demanded them. What happened at that time? How did this firing happen? When I heard that there was firing and that there were some deaths, I was myself satisfied that the House must be told immediately the circumstances under which fire was opened.

"As regards the police force, Sir, I was myself expecting many things to happen when I was looking at the conduct of the Communists who are determined to create some trouble there or anywhere. I am not taking the hon. Member's word for those details and the documents that I have got in my pocket. Therefore you have to wait in patience. I have placed before you the required to enable you to understand what has happened. I am thoroughly convinced about one thing. If these friends had gone away from here, had not addressed the people with violence, nothing would have happened. It is also stated in the Collector's report how some of these people were armed with spears and axes and other things and how they rushed against the police people also. Under those circumstances, what could you expect the police people to do? They should protect the people and they should disperse this unlawful assembly as possible. It was under those circumstances that this firing took place and the deaths occurred. Therefore you know the circumstances and conditions under which this thing has happened, which has not happened for such a long time. Hon. Members of the Opposition know how every one of them and the public generally have been anxious about any violence that might burst out in any part. I thank the hon. Members of the Opposition for the way in which they have been managing things in creating a calmer atmosphere, whatever may have been the political differences. I really congratulate the hon. Members of the Opposition here to-day. They thought that something had gone wrong, that there was no restraint, and that the people were let loose. No such thing has happened. Whenever a situation was placed before me, at once an enquiry was started to ascertain the truth. Whenever hon. Members of this House felt that there was likely to be a breach of the peace and whenever I was called upon to do something, even in the middle of the night, I put myself in touch, which is not usual in the Government way. I have been trying to discharge my duties. The death of even one man, whether he is a Communist or any other man, should not be treated lightly. ('Hear, hear.') It is a matter for great regret, Sir. Not only here—those who have read the papers last night could understand—in other parts of the country also, there is communal trouble. These communal troubles come and go. You see, a systematic business has been started by them, systematic all over the country, under a childish delusion that they would be able to capture this wonderful power, sit on the throne, and govern this country within a few months or years of their existence here. Therefore nothing untoward has happened. In his report, the Collector has stated with what weapons these people were armed, and how with these weapons some of these people rushed against the police also. Under those circumstances, can anybody expect the police officers to be simply offering prayers sitting quiet? Is that the way in which any police force could be expected to do? Leave aside the police force. Even ordinary people, if things go wrong in that way, will they keep quiet under those circumstances? They will have to prevent it by some means. That is why I say—so far as this incident is concerned and so far as the facts that have come to my notice are concerned—they had no option. They were driven to the corner. One of their men fell unconscious and these people were rushing with axes and spears! Therefore it is that the police cannot be charged with any neglect of duty under the circumstances, so far as the facts disclosed by the Collector and the Superintendent of Police are concerned.

"I therefore appeal to all the hon. Members of the House to consider dispassionately. Do not connect any other mistakes which our Government might do with any occasion that might arise against them. I have no such fear so far as the Opposition members are concerned. In the first place, I did not wish to obstruct them. I was inclined to ask them not to speak until they were posted with full information. It was not within my province. They must express, and I must wait till the proper stage is reached."

Mr. V. S. Muhammad Ibrahim intervened and spoke a few words in Tamil.

*MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member Mr. V. S. Muhammad Ibrahim says that he has received a similar report from the Trichinopoly Muslim League. He corroborates the Hon. Premier."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. Granting that the Collector's report is true, why should the Government feel shy of appointing a non-official committee to enquire into the matter?"

The House then adjourned to meet again at 3 p.m. on Monday, the 9th September 1946.

THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,
MADRAS.

THE SELECT COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE MADRAS TRADE DISPUTES ADJUDICATION (TEMPORARY PROVISION) BILL, 1946 (L.A. BILL No. 3 OF 1946), has the honour to make the following report.

2. This Bill was published in an Extraordinary issue of the Fort St. George Gazette in English on the 29th August 1946.

3. The Committee was appointed on the 5th September 1946 with the instruction that a report might be made on the 7th September 1946.

4. The Committee met in the Hon. the Law Minister's Room, Fort St. George, on the 6th September 1946, and considered the provisions of the Bill and submit the following report.

5. There is only one important change made by the Committee in the Bill and that is in sub-clause (4) of clause 1. The Committee felt that this being a temporary measure, one year prescribed in the Bill was too long a period during which this Act should remain in force and, therefore, unanimously agreed that it should be reduced to six months.

6. Mr. Venkateswarlu objected to the principle enunciated in clause 3 of the Bill and stated that any order for adjudication under that clause should be made by the Provincial Government at the instance only of the Trade Union or the workmen concerned and wanted his objection to be recorded.

7. The Select Committee considers that in view of the few amendments effected in the Bill by it, it is not necessary to republish the Bill.

8. A copy of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee is annexed.

6th September 1946.

Chairman.

ANNEXURE.

[Note.—The changes made by the Select Committee are shown in clarendon type and the portions omitted are shown by dots.]

A Bill to make temporary provision for the investigation and settlement of trade disputes by adjudication.

WHEREAS it is expedient, pending further legislation, to make provision for the investigation and settlement of trade disputes by adjudication; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent, commencement and duration. 1. (1) This Act may be called the Madras Trade Disputes Adjudication (Temporary Provision) Act, 1946.

(4) It shall remain in force for a period of six months; but the Provincial Government may, from time to time, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, extend this period by a further period or periods, not exceeding six months in the aggregate, if, in the opinion of the Provincial Government, it is expedient so to do.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, the expressions "employer", "lock-out", "strike", "trade dispute" and "workman" shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in section 2 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929, ^{VII of 1929.} subject to the modification that the references to "trade or industry" in the definitions of "strike" and "workman" in the said section shall be construed as including the performance of its functions by a local authority.

Power of Provincial Government to prohibit strikes, etc., and to refer trade disputes for adjudication. 3. If, in the opinion of the Provincial Government it is necessary or expedient so to do, the Provincial Government may, by general or special order, applying generally or to any specified area, make provision—

(a) for prohibiting, subject to the provisions of the order, a strike or lock-out in connexion with any trade dispute;

(b) for requiring employers, workmen or both to observe for such period such terms and conditions of employment as may be specified in the order;

On such reference to adjudication the Government may issue an order prohibiting the strike in connexion with the said dispute.

[7th September 1946]

Provided further that no order made under clause (b)—

(i) shall require an employer to observe terms and conditions of employment less favourable to the workmen than those which were applicable to them at any time within three months preceding the date of the order;

(ii) shall, where a trade dispute is referred for adjudication under clause (c), be enforced after the decision of the adjudicating authority is announced by the Provincial Government.

4. Where a trade dispute referred for adjudication under clause (c) of section 3 has arisen only in a particular undertaking or group of undertakings, the Provincial Government may include in the adjudication proceedings any other undertaking either of their own motion or on an application received in this behalf, whether a trade dispute exists at the time in that undertaking or not provided that the Provincial Government are satisfied:

Power of Provincial Government to include in adjudication proceedings other undertakings.

(a) that the undertaking to be so included is engaged in the same type of industry or business as the undertaking or the group of undertakings in which the trade dispute referred for adjudication has arisen; and

(c) that the issues involved in the trade dispute referred for adjudication have already given rise, or are such as, in the circumstances, may reasonably be expected to give rise, to a similar dispute in the undertaking to be so included.

5. Where an undertaking has been included in adjudication proceedings under section 4, the provisions of this Act and of any order or award made thereunder shall (save as may be expressly provided to the contrary in any such order or award) apply to and in relation to such undertaking as they apply to and in relation to any undertaking or group of undertakings in which the trade dispute referred for adjudication has arisen.

Effect of adjudication proceedings on undertakings included under section 4.

6. Unless any order made under section 3 makes express provision to the contrary, nothing therein shall affect the power to refer any trade dispute or matters connected therewith for report or settlement under the Trade Disputes Act, 1929.

Power to refer trade disputes under the Trade Disputes Act not affected.

7. Nothing in the Arbitration Act, 1940, shall apply to any proceedings under or in pursuance of this Act.

Arbitration Act not to apply.

8. An order made under section 3 referring a trade dispute for adjudication shall specify, as far as may be practicable, the matters upon which adjudication is necessary or desirable:

Order under section 3 to specify matters for adjudication.

Provided that—

(i) the Provincial Government of their own motion or at the instance of any adjudicating authority, add to, amend or vary the matters so specified;

(ii) the Provincial Government may, with a view to specify the said matters, direct the adjudicating authority to make a preliminary inquiry into the nature of the dispute, and postpone specification for such time as may be reasonably required.

9. If any person contravenes any order made under this Act, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine which may extend to rupees two thousand or with both.

Penalties.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Monday, the 9th September 1946.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Fort St. George, at three of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUKHAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

I.—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

The Hon. Speaker called upon Sri V. C. Palaniswami Gounder to put starred question No. 181-A.

Many of the Members were not able to find out the question in the list of questions for the day and the matter drew the attention of the Hon. Speaker.

MR. SPEAKER:—"It was in the Saturday's agenda, but the gentleman wanted to renew it. If you have Saturday's agenda, probably you will have it."

The Hon. Speaker then read the question.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. This question was on the list of questions to be answered on Saturday. It was not answered along with so many other questions. I would like to know why this alone is allowed to be answered."

MR. SPEAKER:—"A Member has liberty to renew a question. Anybody who wants to renew a question may do so. My hon. Friend Mr. Salam has asked for such permission and I have given him. The Hon. Prime Minister will now answer the question."

Alleged assault on C. V. Venugopal Nayudu.

* 181-A Q.—SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that on 16th August 1946 during the Direct Action Day of the Muslim League procession in Coimbatore a serious incident occurred and that one Mr. C. V. Venugopal Naidu, advocate of the place, who was driving in his car was violently drawn out of it and there was an attempt to beat him by some of the Muslim volunteers while many of the hooligans in the procession rushed against the car and damaged the same;

(b) whether it is a fact that an immediate complaint was made to the Police, and if so, what steps have been taken hitherto; and

(c) whether it is a fact that there was no police bundobust following the processions?

[9th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"There is some confusion about this question and answer. Short notice question was given. Although I was not sure of getting the information, in time, I agreed to give the answer. The answer as originally framed runs as follows:—

"(a) On 16th August 1946, during Direct Action Day, while Mr. Venugopal Naidu was proceeding in his car, one of the volunteers accompanying the procession hit the car with his lathi. Some rowdies joined in and threw stones at the car badly damaging it and slightly injuring the driver.

"At that stage, the Government answer states that 'Government have no information whether Mr. Naidu was actually thrown out of his car.' By that time, the full report on that matter had not come. I have got this report to-day and I am reading it from the Collector's letter:—

"In my confidential letter to you, dated 2nd September, I have given details regarding Sri Venugopal Naidu incident. Mr. Venugopal Naidu was not thrown out of his car. He got out of the car when a volunteer hit it with his lathi. He was not assaulted by anyone. Some Muslims in the procession gathered round him and protected him from assaults. Nor was any attempt made to beat him. His car was badly damaged and his driver had a cut over the lip out of a broken glass from the car. A complaint was made to the police and it is under investigation. Mr. Venugopal Naidu complained to me that only one police constable was available at the spot and he ran away. I have asked the District Superintendent of Police to report on the allegation that the police bundobust was inadequate and that there was delay in making the investigation. For 15 minutes before this incident, the police bundobust arrangements were adequate. The procession was quite orderly at that time. The trouble seems to be that the driver of Venugopal Naidu's car lost his head when told to stop and then to proceed and it so infuriated the crowd. I shall send a further report on receipt of the police reports."

"That is what has been received. Now I have read the whole of that.

"(b) & (c) The answer to (b) and (c) is also covered by what I have read from the report of the District Magistrate."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—"Are we to take it that there was any police bundobust following the procession, Sir?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I have said all that I could possibly say on the report received by me."

MR. H. S. TOWN:—"An hon. Member in this House has an umbrella. Is it in order?"

The hon. Member who had the umbrella got up from his seat with the umbrella to go out.

MR. SPEAKER:—"Hon. Members should not bring their umbrellas here in future. They may leave it in my room, if necessary."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—"Do the Government concede that there was serious damage to the car of Mr. Naidu?"

9th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The damage to the car had been admitted."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—"Will the Government be pleased to consider the question of paying compensation for the damage?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I have already stated that a further report is awaited from the Collector. After the report is received, the question of compensation will be considered."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—"Will the Government see that there is no avoidable delay in sanctioning the compensation?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Beyond what is stated in the Collector's report, the Government are not able to tell anything to the hon. Member. If the further report is not received in time, a reminder will be issued to him."

Office attendance of district officials while at headquarters.

* 182 Q.—MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware that generally District Collectors, Deputy Collectors, Tahsildars and District Superintendents of Police, etc., do not attend office but dispose of the work sitting at home; and

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) & (b) Under existing orders all Government servants while at headquarters should attend office between 10-30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on all week days except holidays, and from 10-30 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. on Saturdays. It was brought to the notice of Government in 1943 that some Collectors did not attend office daily and orders were then issued that Collectors should attend office daily. No further orders are considered necessary now."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I enquire, Sir, whether orders have been issued only to the Revenue Department or to other executive officers as well?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"To all the executive officers, Sir."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know, Sir, if these revenue officials are not more engaged in executive work than in administrative work?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"According to the circumstances and exigencies of the situation, the revenue officers would be attending office."

(b) whether there was any public agitation that the said constable should be reinstated in service; and

(c) if so, whether the Government have any intention of complying with public request?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“(a) The hon. Member is referred to question No. 65 answered in the Assembly on 5th August 1946. The celebrations were held on 27th January 1946 and not on 1st July 1946.

“(b) The answer is in the affirmative.

“(c) The ex-constable's petition to Government against the order of dismissal is under consideration. The Government will take such action as they consider necessary.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know, Sir, whether it is a disqualification according to service rules for a Government servant who is nationally minded and to worship nationalist leader?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“It would be a disqualification according to the policy of the then Government. It would not be a disqualification if the present Government had been in office at that time.”

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, whether it is the policy of the Government to encourage members of public service to become ardent devotees of Congress leaders?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“No, Sir.”

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Does the present Government want its leaders to be worshipped by its officers?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“Surely not, Sir. On the other hand, the present Government wants its officers to do their duty by the people, whenever their services are needed.”
(Cries of ‘hear, hear’ from the Opposition benches.)

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—“May I know, Sir, whether Government officials, so long as they do their duties properly and impartially, will not be prohibited from holding their political opinion?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“No such prohibition will be imposed upon anybody. As human beings, they are entitled to hold their own opinions.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Does not the rule that Government servants should not participate in political activities hold good now?”

9th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“It does hold good now and it will hold good in future also.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“As the petition of the Police Constable No. 730 is under the consideration of the Government, will the Government consider the question of paying his salary with retrospective effect, if his petition is considered favourably?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“It is not known, whether his petition will be considered favourably or otherwise. The question of paying his salary with retrospective effect does not arise at present.”

* 184 Q.—SRI K. T. KOSALRAM: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state how many District Collectors in this Province have been granted extension of service after their due date of retirement?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“No extension of service has been granted to any District Collector after the due date of retirement. But three retired Collectors were re-employed before the Ministry came into office. The Government have now decided not to extend the period of their re-employment.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I enquire, Sir, when these three officers will be relieved of their employment?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“When their period of employment comes to an end, they will be relieved.”

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—“Are the Government aware that besides the District Collectors, there are many other officers who have retired and were re-employed? May I know what is the policy of the Government in those cases?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“The general policy of the Government on this question has been stated more than once on the floor of this House. The general policy is not to re-employ retired officers.”

(d) whether there is improvement in paper position in the Province due to the import of foreign paper;

[9th September 1946]

not purchased them while those who are in actual need cannot get paper; and

(g) if the answer is in the affirmative what steps the Government propose to take in the matter?

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“(a) On the 11th November 1944.

“(b) The information is furnished in the statement * placed on the table. The Ministerial establishment is not an independent unit but forms part of the main office (office of the Director of Industries and Commerce) and transfers of members of the staff from one section to another are made for administrative convenience.

“(c) The actual expenditure incurred on account of the office of the Provincial Paper Controller during the year 1945-46 was Rs. 86,586. No portion of the expenditure is borne by the Government of India.

“(d) Yes.

“(e) The Paper Control Orders were promulgated by the Government of India. These orders will have to continue as long as the position of paper remains unsatisfactory.

“(f) & (g) Allotment to various consumers in this Province have been made on the basis of consumption in the years 1939 and 1943 as fixed by the Government of India in the Paper Control (Economy) Order, 1945. In cases where the Government of India and the Provincial Paper Controller were satisfied that the allotment on the above basis was below the actual needs of the consumers, special quotas of paper and newsprint were given.

“While the Provincial Government have no power to compel consumers to purchase paper allotted to them, they have no reason to apprehend that persons getting allotments of paper are not utilizing them.”

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—“May I know, Sir, what quantity of paper would the Government require to meet the entire needs of the consumers?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“The only answer that the Government could give is that more paper should be produced.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“With regard to answer to clause (b) of the question, may I know, Sir, why out of the 29 officials employed in this department, not even a single Harijan has been included? Is that they did not apply or their applications were rejected?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“I think there is one member of the Scheduled Class, Sir.”

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—“In the list of officers furnished in the statement, it is stated that there are also S.S.L.C. (failed) people. May I know, Sir, whether they were exempted from the operation of the General Service Rules?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“Most probably, Sir, they might have been exempted. They are not dealt with badly.”

[9th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know, Sir, whether this was the only application from the Harijan community among those who applied?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“I am sorry I am not in a position to answer the question.”

Harijan Employment Exchange.

* 186 Q.—SRI R. S. MANICKAM: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state whether Government propose to start a Harijan Employment Exchange in every district in this Province?

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“There is no such proposal under consideration.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know, Sir, whether the present Employment Exchange office is working satisfactorily and if so, how many Harijans are being employed in it?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“Notice, Sir.”

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—“Will the Government consider the question of starting Employment Exchanges in all districts so that they may be very useful in finding employment for the Harijans?”

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—“Sir, I shall study the question and see whether the Employment Exchanges are helpful to every community?”

Ban on the drama “Mundadugu.”

* 187 Q.—MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Law be pleased to state—

(a) whether the ban imposed by the Adviser Government on the drama “Mundadugu” still exists; and

(b) if the answer is in the affirmative, will the Government propose to lift the ban?

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

“(b) The matter is still under the consideration of Government.”

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—“May I know whether this and another drama ‘Comrade Venkamma’ were simultaneously banned by the Collectors of Kistna and Guntur?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“I have no information here. I will give the answer if the hon. Member puts down a fresh question.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know how much trouble this drama has caused and to what extent it has disturbed the peace and tranquillity of the Circars?”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“Possibly, that is the reason why it was banned.”

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, if this drama has anything to do with politics?”

[9th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"It has a lot to do with politics. It is because it promoted class hatred between the zamindars and the ryots that it was banned."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"May I know whether any representation from influential members of the Bar and editors of newspapers waited on the Hon. the Law Minister in regard to lifting of the ban?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I do not know whether they are influential or not. But some members waited on me in deputation in respect of this matter. The matter was considered and one of the petitioners present promised to send me an English version of the whole book and he has not done so in spite of two reminders."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"May I know if one of the Parliamentary Secretaries could not have got the book translated?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I thought it better and it is easily more in the interests of the persons who interceded that it should be translated by them so that they may have the benefit of it."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether it is not a fact that all those who represented to the Hon. Minister are of the Communist Party?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Some of them were."

Hindu Religious Endowments Board.

* 188 Q.—SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO: Will the Hon. the Minister for Hindu Religious Endowments be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is fact that the Hindu Religious Endowments Board is not self-supporting; and

(b) if so, what is the amount that is paid by the Government to maintain it?

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—" (a) Hindu Religious Endowments Board is self-supporting.

" (b) Does not arise."

SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—"Are there similar endowment boards in other provinces?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"I am not aware of it."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Are the Government aware, Sir, that to supplement its finances the religious mutts and temples board is trying to rope in many of the religious endowments previously exempted from the operation of the Act?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"There is no question of roping in any institution. The question of collecting dues from the temples is quite different from roping them in. It is for administrative purposes that the Board takes action."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Are the Government aware that the Hindu Religious Endowments Board is trying to bring in its operation one or two temples managed by Harijans are being asked by the Board to get more taxes?"

[9th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"It is possible, but it is not for the sake of getting taxes."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Board consists of any Harijan member?" (Loud laughter.)

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"No."

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know what the income and expenditure of the Board are?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"Notice, Sir."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether the bifurcation of the Board into Andhra and Tamil is under consideration?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"Not that I am aware of."

SRI K. T. KOSALRAM:—"Is it a fact that when he was Minister, Dr. Rajan completed a Bill to abolish the Board and appoint a Commissioner?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"There was a proposal for reorganizing the Board."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"In view of the poor condition of the Harijan mutts and temples, will the Government consider the necessity of exempting one or two of the Harijan mutts and temples that are managed by Harijans just now?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"I will consider it, Sir."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know whether the Board consists of members nominated, appointed or co-opted or nominated?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"Members are all appointed by Government."

SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI:—"Is it a fact that when the Congress Government was in office last time, the Hon. Dr. Rajan prepared a Bill to abolish the Board and take the administration directly into the hands of the Government?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"I have answered the question."

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"Is it a fact that the Endowments Board is taking a very heavy toll from the Tirupathi Devasthanam though it has nothing to do with the Devasthanam even under the Tirumalai-Tirupathi Devasthanams Act?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"The President of the Endowments Board has some control over the Devasthanams."

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"Is it a fact that some nominal control was provided in the Act to enable the levy of the toll?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"I do not think so."

SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—"May I know whether there is any proposal to provincialize the department?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"The matter is under consideration."

[9th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Arising from the answer to clause (a) may I ask whether there is any scheme under contemplation to make the Board self-sufficient? "

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—" I have already answered the question."

Amalgamation of Panchayat Boards of Chirala and Perala.

* 189 Q.—MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration be pleased to state whether there is a proposal under consideration of the Government to amalgamate the Panchayat Boards of Chirala and Perala and constitute them into a single Municipality?

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—" Yes."

Wells in Ramnad district.

* 190 Q.—SRI R. S. MANICKAM: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) what amount was spent for new and old wells in Ramnad district under the new scheme;

(b) how many wells have been completely constructed and how many remain still to be completed; and

(c) in dry areas what is the minimum acreage required under the rules to get the benefit of a well?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" (a) A sum of Rupees 13,24,795 has been disbursed towards subsidies for sinking new wells in the Ramnad district under the Accelerated Scheme, and a sum of Rs. 1,09,675 for repairing old wells.

" (b) Up to 31st July 1946, 218 new wells and 62 old wells were completed. On that date, 4,068 new wells and 630 old wells were yet to be completed. Later figures are not yet available.

" (c) No minimum acreage has been prescribed, except that in the case of repairs to old wells, it has been laid down that the well, to be eligible for the subsidy, should be capable of irrigating half an acre more of paddy or one acre more of any other food crop than it used to irrigate before repairs. This condition in the case of old wells may be waived provided that the well is deepened by at least three feet."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—" May I request the Government to find out the total acreage that has been newly brought under the accelerated scheme in the Ramnad district in respect of the huge sum of Rs. 13 lakhs allotted? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" Yes, Sir; that will be done."

SRI K. RAJARAM NAYUDU:—" Will the Government extend the time? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" It has been done twice already. Time has been extended to the end of September."

[9th September 1946]

SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—" Will the Government be pleased to extend the same concessions to the other districts also? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" A separate question may be put down."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—" May I know whether the amounts sanctioned for the deepening of existing wells or for the construction of new wells have been included in the Provincial Budget passed? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" This matter was referred to in my speech under the Revenue Demand."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know from what date the subsidy was stopped? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I am unable to understand the question, Sir."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I know, Sir, from what date the subsidy was stopped? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I think on the 10th or 15th June last."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" As a result of the time-limit fixed a large number of agriculturists of the Ceded districts have not come forward to sink wells. That being so, will the Government offer this concession again next year? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" For the Ceded districts there is a scheme to last till the end of March next."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—" May I ask, Sir, whether the Government would be pleased to continue the same concession in respect of other districts also since the entire work of digging wells has not been completed by the people who have taken the subsidy? "

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" There is no such idea at present. The old scheme must end some day and the end of September is the last date already fixed. For other areas a new scheme is under contemplation."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is it a convention, Sir, that my hon. Friend Mr. Nagappa should raise a supplementary on every question? " (Laughter.)

Air compressor machines to dig wells.

* 191 Q.—SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether there is any proposal with the Government to supply more air compressor machines through the Military department to dig wells in different parts of Salem district?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" No air compressors have been supplied through the Military department to ryots in Salem district for sinking wells; but an army unit is now operating there sinking wells for ryots with the use of air compressors. The question of securing the help of the army for sinking wells on a larger scale is under examination by the Government."

[9th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—"Are the air compressor machines available for distribution all over the district?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I have no further information on the point."

SRI P. R. KANDASWAMI GOUNDER:—"May I know how many machines are working in Salem district and in how many taluks?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I have not got full information on the point. I am trying to get it."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"Will air compressors be supplied to the ryots in the Ceded districts, Sir?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Unless the present experiment now tried is found to be satisfactory, we cannot make a promise in respect of other districts."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—"In view of the fact that the present policy of the Government is to increase the wells wherever possible, will the Government see that all possible facilities are made available to the ryot to dig wells under modern conditions with less cost to him?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It is always considered, Sir, subject to the limitations of the finances of the Government."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know if the entire allotment of subsidy provided in the budget has been spent away already?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Yes, Sir."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Has the Hon. Minister had an opportunity of seeing an air compressor machine working on digging a well?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I have not been able to see one, Sir."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Does he understand what an air compressor machine is?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I have seen that, Sir, but I have heard about it from other people."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Then how is it possible for the Minister to answer questions that wells dug by these . . .?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It is quite possible to answer questions without seeing all things for oneself."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know, when the allotment had not been spent away what is the idea of stopping the subsidy already granted by this House?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Sir, the amount that was allotted has been spent away; but I stated that further demands will be made during the course of the year for further expenditure that is going to be incurred and that has been incurred."

[9th September 1946]

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether a demonstration of the machine could be arranged for the benefit of the Members of this House?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"That will be considered."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Have the Government considered the desirability of becoming owners of these new wells when they are dug and reserve the right of irrigation under these wells so that repairs and maintenance of these wells may be done under the care of the Government?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I would request the hon. Member to repeat the question, Sir."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Will Government consider the desirability of retaining the ownership of wells dug under this new scheme with the aid of the military personnel and reserve also the right of irrigation so that they can be leased out under proper conditions to owners of land using water from these wells?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The wells that are now being dug are private property, Sir, and I do not see how they can be made the property of the Government."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Can't the Government dig wells on private property by giving compensation to landowners?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"We shall consider that as a separate suggestion, Sir."

SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI:—"When the Hon. Minister visited Salem, did not the Collector show a demonstration of the working of the machine?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It was the Hon. Minister for Agriculture and not myself."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know what is the difficulty of Government in continuing the subsidy when they propose to come with a supplementary demand also for a new scheme as well?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The old scheme, Sir, had a time-limit and that is over. The new scheme is under consideration. I cannot see the difficulty of my hon. Friend."

* 192 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture be pleased to state whether the Government have taken any action in the matter of training stockmen at the Government livestock farms as suggested at the Provincial Veterinary Conference held in Madras in April 1945?

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"No. A twelve months' course for the training of stockmen is conducted at the Madras Veterinary College. After they complete this basic training successfully, they are given further specialised training if necessary in a poultry or live-stock farm according to the requirements of the department. No action was considered necessary on the suggestion of the Provincial Veterinary Conference."

[9th September 1946]

SRI A. B. SHETTY:—" May I know whether the Hon. Minister considered the reasons which prompted the conference to make this suggestion? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" The Government are not expected to know the reason why the conference passed a resolution."

SRI A. B. SHETTY:—" May I know whether the Hon. Minister is aware of the nature of work which this department is expected to do? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" The Government knows about the work which this department is doing."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—" Is the Government aware that this scheme was introduced by the Congress Ministry in 1938? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" I am not aware."

Artificial insemination of cattle.

*193 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture be pleased to state—

(a) whether Government have had a Veterinary Assistant Surgeon trained in the technique of artificial insemination of cattle; and

(b) whether he is employed on this work at present and what results have been achieved in this matter so far?

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" (a) Yes. A Veterinary Assistant Surgeon was trained in the technique of artificial insemination at the Imperial Veterinary Research Institute, Izatnagar.

" (b) On his return to Madras after the training, an investigation into physical and chemical properties of semen was commenced at the laboratory attached to the Madras Veterinary College and is still being carried on.

" Fertility tests to confirm laboratory findings have been carried out with success. Propaganda was carried out in the city to induce cow-owners to send their cows to the Veterinary College for artificial insemination, but the response has so far been poor. The question of opening one or two centres in selected areas for conducting artificial insemination is under consideration by the Director of Veterinary Services."

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know what are the selected areas, Sir? "

[9th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" It is under consideration."

SRI A. B. SHETTY:—" May I know whether the man trained for the work is doing his work? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" Notice, Sir."

SRI V. C. PALANISWAMI GOUNDER:—" Does the Government know that this artificial insemination will not be liked by the ryots in India and it will be considered inhuman? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" The reply to this is in the answer I have just read."

* 194 Q.—

MR. SPEAKER:—" The Hon. Minister in charge is not in Madras. He has asked me to postpone it. The question will be taken up tomorrow."

Revision of scales of pay of teachers.

* 195 Q.—SRI K. S. V. KRISHNAN: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is any proposal to revise the scales of pay of teachers both elementary and secondary;

(b) whether Government are aware of the difference in pay now existing between higher grade and secondary grade trained teachers in the employ of District Boards and the Labour department;

(c) if so, whether there is any proposal to remedy this inequality;

(d) whether Government are aware that secondary grade trained teachers employed in elementary schools are paid less than those employed in secondary schools; and

(e) if so, whether Government propose to remedy this?

SRI L. S. KARAYALAR [Parliamentary Secretary (on behalf of the Hon. Sri T. S. Avinashilingam Chettiyar)]:—" (a) & (b) Yes.

" (c) Yes. They are under consideration.

" (d) Yes.

" (e) The matter is under consideration."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—" May I enquire, Sir, whether the Government are aware that unless the pay and prospects of the teachers are substantially raised people will not be attracted hereafter to the teaching profession? "

SRI L. S. KARAYALAR:—" Certainly, we are aware."

SRI A. KAMESWARA RAO:—" Is the Government aware that dearness allowance is not paid to some teachers in private-managed colleges? "

SRI L. S. KARAYALAR:—" The Government are not aware of it. If any particular instance is brought to the notice of the Government it will be considered."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" Is the Government aware that the teachers in aided elementary schools are the lowest paid when

* 196 Q.—SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Information be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government propose to instal a separate broadcasting station in Andhra districts; and

(b) if so, when?

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“(a) The establishment of broadcasting stations is now under the control of the Government of India. The opening of a separate transmitter station in the Andhra districts is under the consideration of that Government and they have been informed by this Government of the urgency in the matter.

“(b) This Government have no information.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, whether there is any proposal before the Government to instal a separate broadcasting station in Malabar?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“This Government has informed the Government of India that preference is first to be given to the Telugu areas, then Malabar and then to the Karnataka areas.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“What is the reason for giving preference to the Andhra area, Sir, and no preference to Malabar?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“Because of the larger population of that area. In Tamilnad there is already a broadcasting station at Trichinopoly and one at Madras. In consideration of the greater number of the Telugu people the Andhradesa would be given one. That is the recommendation made by the Madras Government to the Central Government.”

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know from the Minister in charge the nature of control the Provincial Government has in the matter of the All-India Radio?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“The Provincial Government have no control over it, except in providing sets for the rural areas.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know whether this Government has any control over the broadcasting programme, and if so, will the Government consider the desirability of allotting a few minutes for doing Harijan propaganda every day?” (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“The Government has no control over the All-India Radio. But there is a small committee headed by the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, to propose some programmes to be considered by the All-India radio. Only 20 minutes are allowed for a Provincial programme.”

SRI B. ANANTACHAR:—“May I know why Karnataka was not given priority over the Andhra and other districts?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“The question of giving preference to the Karnataka will be considered along with other districts.”

Midday meals to school children attending Labour schools.

* 197 Q.—SRI K. RAGHAVAN: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Information be pleased to state what steps the Government propose to take to supply midday meals to the school children attending Labour schools in Malabar?

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“The children attending Labour schools in Malabar district are being supplied with midday meals.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I know whether the children are being supplied with powdered milk?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“That question will be considered by the Minister for Food.”

SRI K. RAGHAVAN:—“Is the Hon. Minister aware that a teacher in one of the Labour schools was dismissed for having kept false accounts?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“That question does not arise.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know whether it is the policy of the Government to give this facility to children reading in the Labour schools alone or will that facility be extended to other Harijan children reading in other schools also?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“The question of supplying midday meals in Labour schools is purely a question for the Labour Department. The question of other schools will be considered by the Minister for Education. When compulsory education is extended this question also will be considered by the Government.”

P. P. HASSAN KOYA SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Will the Government extend this provision of midday meals to the schools under the management of district boards and municipalities by giving them suitable grants?”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“This is purely a question concerning the Labour Department. As regards schools under the control of the district boards they will have to be considered separately by the Government.”

[9th September 1946]

MR. SPEAKER:—" Question time is over. Answers to the rest of the questions will be printed in the proceedings. Those who want to renew their questions may send requisition to me and they will be brought up to-morrow."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—" On a point of information, Mr. Speaker. Since the Hon. Ministers are reading long reports is it not better that the answers to the remaining questions also . . ."

MR. SPEAKER:—" It is not possible."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Sir, the Hon. Ministers are reading long reports. Will it not be better to ask them not to read reports and as far as possible give less information?"

MR. SPEAKER:—" We have to follow certain rules and we cannot violate them."

(a) whether Government have under consideration any proposal to open a Women's College in Andhradesa; and

(b) if so, when this scheme is likely to materialise?

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

II.—GOVERNMENT BILLS.

(1) THE MADRAS TRADES DISPUTES ADJUDICATION (TEMPORARY PROVISION) BILL, 1946.

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—" I have already moved the Bill be considered clause by clause."

Clause 1.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

Clause 2.

* MR. SPEAKER:—" Mr. Venkateswarlu will move amendment to this clause."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—" On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. The hon. Member's amendment seeks to put in a definition 'Trade Union' which is not at present in the Bill. I there suggest that clause 2 may be taken after clause 3 is disposed of."

* MR. SPEAKER:—" If it is the desire of the House, I have no objection."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" I agree, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—" Then clause 2 will be taken up after clause 3 is disposed of."

Clause 3.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" I move, Sir,

" that for the existing clause 3, the following clause shall be substituted:—

" 3. Where a trade dispute has arisen between an employer and a Trade Union, if the Trade Union has a vote of a majority of its members applies to the Provincial Government for adjudication, the Provincial Government shall by a general or special order apply generally or to any specified area, make provision—

(a) for appointing an adjudication Board consisting of three members, one appointed by each party to the dispute and a third person acceptable to both parties;

(b) for prohibiting a lockout in connexion with a trade dispute;

(c) for enforcing for a period of three months all decisions of the adjudication Board;

(d) for completing the adjudication proceedings within a fortnight from the date of application for adjudication:

Provided that—

(i) in the case of an application made by a Trade Union not having at least 15 per cent of the workers employed in the industry (in the case of non-factory labour) and 20 per cent in the case of factory labour

[Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu] [9th September 1946]

as members of its Union or when any other Trade Union having more members than the one applying for adjudication objects to the appointment of an adjudicator the Government shall proceed to appoint an adjudication Board under clause (a) only on a majority vote of the workers concerned in the Trade dispute; and

(ii) in the case of a Trade dispute in which there is no Trade Union of the workers the Government may proceed to apply an adjudication Board if the majority of the workers concerned in a Trade dispute by a majority vote, desire it."

"Sir, as the Bill is framed at present, it takes away one of the fundamental rights of the working classes which they have been able to earn after a long fight for many years in each and every country. I raised my objection in the Select Committee, but I failed to convince them regarding the justness of my proposals, which will go a long way to promote amicable settlement of disputes and maintain industrial peace in these troublous days. That is why I have been forced to move this amendment on the floor of the House. The main principle involved is adjudication. What is adjudication? It is nothing but compulsory arbitration. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons the Hon. Minister has stated that adjudication has worked very satisfactorily all these years. The Hon. Minister has also promised to bring in a comprehensive legislation for labour. But if we accept this Bill, it will go against the vital principle for which the working classes have fought all along and it will be against the interests of the working classes. It is not merely my personal opinion but also the opinion of the Secretary of the All-India Trade Union Congress, Mr. N. M. Joshi. The All-India Trade Union Congress is representative of all the parties concerned. It is printed on page 37 of the Report of the General Secretary to the 21st Session of the All-India Trade Union Congress at Madras. I shall read it:

'Adjudication.—The machinery provided by Government for adjudication of industrial disputes under the D.I.A., has been slow and unsatisfactory in its working. Besides it has generally been found by experience that in a large number of cases the notice of a strike is an essential preliminary to the grant of adjudication. The machinery of adjudication at present is heavily weighted against the interests of the workers. Under present conditions, really impartial and independent adjudicators hardly exist, as most of them cannot get away from their upbringing, of a somewhat narrow middle class mentality. Further some adjudicators from a strong national feeling are inclined to take the view that increase of wages and improved conditions would make development of industries difficult'

* MR. SPEAKER:—"What is the hon. Member reading from?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I am quoting the opinion of Mr. N. M. Joshi."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member may give the substance of the opinion and refer to the pages of the book."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"That is not a book, Sir."

9th September 1946]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member need not read it at length."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I shall be brief, Sir."

'Moreover no arrangement is made by Government to implement the award of the adjudicator within reasonable time. As there is no definite agreement reached by Government regarding basic principles, adjudicator's awards are hardly consistent in their implications. Services of judges and lawyers secured for conducting adjudication proceedings, throughout the country during the course of the last three years, have not been of much avail to furnish precedents for settlement of trade disputes in the future. The functioning of the machinery of adjudication under D.I.A. Rule 81 (A) has increased the distrust and suspicion of workers in methods of peaceful settlement of trade disputes by conciliation and arbitration.'

"Sir, that is the opinion expressed by the revered Leader of the All-India Trade Union Congress, Mr. N. M. Joshi. I even quoted the opinion of the Hon. Minister for Labour given on the floor of this House that he was not for compulsory arbitration. Then what on earth is he bringing this legislation for, when the vital principle has not been agreed to?"

"I referred to the Hon. Minister's statement that adjudication had so far worked satisfactorily. In this connexion I should like to refer to the adjudication in the dispute in Spencer & Co. A conciliation board was first appointed and the conciliator first submitted a report, but it was not accepted by the employers. Then the dispute was referred to adjudication. In the end that adjudication affected the workers and went against the interests of the workers."

"The following is from the report of the conciliation board:—

'One can therefore postulate that the stay-in strike on 12th April 1946 was not out and out illegal, inasmuch as there was a provocation due to the silent attitude of the management. Whether the strike is legal or illegal is a vital point for decision.'

* * * * *

'The management is prepared to take back 451 of the 1,023 workers, and that too after they execute fresh contracts. This is tantamount to victimizing some 318 men—and victimization is opposed to all canons of the Labour Code of ethics, as everyone knows.'

* MR. SPEAKER:—"How many times am I to tell the hon. Member not to read long extracts?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Only four lines, Sir?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Five minutes for four lines?"

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"The question was referred to adjudication and the adjudication award went against the workers. While the conciliator said that victimization was opposed to all canons of the Labour Code and ethics, the adjudicator has agreed to the victimization of the workers, after paying the bonus and wages for three months. Sir, no adjudication has worked satisfactorily in the interests of the worker. There is no time-limit for adjudication. And everyone has agreed that the worker has got the trade union right, which right has not been accepted in the Bill. Moreover everyone is agreed that the working class has got the right of recognition of trade union right which has not been accepted in the Bill. Sir, we are going to make fundamental changes by means of this legislation which affects the working classes. I feel there is a vital need for opposing this Bill in toto and particularly the provision regarding adjudication. If we now accept the formula of compulsory adjudication then there is no meaning in coming forward and saying that we are not for adjudication like that. If you say adjudication, it means compulsory adjudication. It takes away the right of speech. I protest that the right of the workers shall never be taken away. A few days ago we were informed that the Communists were responsible for the Pallavaram incident. Everybody knows and the Hon. Minister for Labour knows that the Union is not under the influence of the Communists. It may be under the influence of the Congress. Then with regard to Karur it was said that everything happened there under the influence of the Communists. In Karur there is one Mr. Gopalaswami Ayyangar who is a friend of Mr. N. G. Ranga, President of a District Congress Committee. He is a Congressman. Only in the case of Karur burning of factories and other things had happened and all those things had been attributed to the Communists unnecessarily. As a matter of fact the responsibility rests upon others under whose influence the handloom weavers are organized. Sir, our trade union movement is run on right lines. We do not believe in burning factories. Those are not our methods.

4-15 p.m. "Another point I would like to bring to the notice of the House is this: The Congress Party must immediately come forward granting the right to strike. Unless that is done, I do not find there is any necessity for any legislation. After all, every strike that occurs, whether it is under the lead of the Communists or the Congress, is due only to the present-day living conditions, the present-day horrible living conditions that have existed and continue to exist in our country. So long as the present-day conditions are not being remedied, what is the meaning of . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"You have exceeded your time-limit. Please finish soon."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"What is the meaning and purpose of bringing this legislation which affects the working classes?"

"I would finally say that in this Bill no time-limit has been fixed for adjudication. How many years the adjudication is going to take place? Meanwhile, what is to happen to the workers? Their organization, their union is smashed and in the end the workers are put to a loss. I appeal to all the members of this House that by passing this Bill, the Congress Party is taking away the right of the workers to strike, and going back on its resolution passed at Karachi guaranteeing this right in the Fundamental Rights resolution. Are they now going back on their resolution passed at the Karachi session? Are they throwing it into the ocean, I ask. I request hon. Members of this House see that the right of the working classes is respected and the right to live is granted.

"With these words, Sir, I move my amendment, and I appeal to the House to accept it."

MUHAMMAD ABDUL SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—second the amendment."

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I oppose amendment. The first thing is that the dispute of the employer is a dispute with his work people, that is his employees, not the Trade Union. Trade Unions are not the employees of employers, and therefore there can be no dispute with the Trade Unions. Unions are merely the mouthpiece of those with whom the employers have a dispute. Therefore, Sir, that portion of this proposed amendment is going to bring something into the picture which cannot be possibly worked.

"Secondly, Sir, on the appointment of the Adjudication Board, I had drafted out myself a somewhat similar amendment but I realized that the thing would not work in practice. My friend has made his proposal even more hopeless than my proposal. We have now an adjudicator appointed by the Government. The idea is, according to this proposal, for the employer to appoint a member of the Board who, it is quite certain, will decide everything favourable to his side; the Trade Union will appoint somebody to speak for their side, who, we may be perfectly sure, will get everything for the Union. It is therefore clear that the adjudicator to be appointed by the Government will be the arbitrator. I also thought of putting in assessors in the place of these adjudicators. I think that might work well in practice. Anyway, Sir, we are promised a comprehensive legislation in the near future, and between now and then, I suggest that the content of this amendment drafts out what he really does want.

"Now, we turn to lockouts. I see it is proposed to prohibit a lockout. Why not prohibit a strike? What is a lockout? It is the strike of an employer who merely says: 'I do not wish to keep to my side of the contract, and I want to strike because of some reason the other side does not do so' and it is a lockout. The mover wants the right of the workers to strike to be in place but the employer is not given a similar right. Then he went on and said that an adjudication will take a good length of time. In my experience of adjudication—and I have had one or two—the delay has never been on the side of the employer; it has always been on the side of the Union; and it is mostly the employees who are not ready with their case, or because of the leaders who are on behalf of the employees, not quite understanding what they are aiming at, and in at least two adjudications I know the employers have had to assist in putting the Union leaders' case in point of view. If there is to be adjudication, it is quite hopeful to expect to have the proceedings completed within a fortnight. Further, grave issues are involved and Government are adjudicator have got to be very careful about what they do or say.

The mover said, Sir, that adjudication generally goes against the worker. I suppose by that he means that the worker has not been getting everything he asks for. To that I reply that adjudication has invariably gone against the employer. It is always the employer who has got to pay something. In sub-clause (ii), the mover gets nearer the truth, and he talks of disputes where there are no Trade Unions. That is the position, that a trade dispute is never with a Trade Union. He must try to get it clearly into his head that Trade Unions are just in the same position in a dispute, as is a barrister who is employed by his employer to state his case in an adjudication. The Union's position is that of protecting the worker but it does not take the position of the worker with his principal.

"Sir, I oppose the amendment because I think it is hastily worded; it has not been carefully thought out and I should think it would be very much better if we sat down quietly together and worked out our wants for the coming comprehensive legislation.

"Sir, I oppose."

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Sir, I do not think it is necessary for me to take much of the time of the House. I have already stated the position of Government in this matter. Government do not propose to have this Bill passed into an Act to have effect for a long time, for the reason that we desire to place before this House a comprehensive Bill dealing with all connected matters. My hon. Friend, Mr. Venkateswarlu stated that the question of recognition is more important than anything else, and I assure him and I assure the House that that question will be taken up when the comprehensive Bill is considered. Apart from it, I join issue with Mr. Venkateswarlu when he says that much time is taken by adjudication. Firstly he opposes adjudication on the ground that it is compulsory and it affects the freedom of association of the workers. I may say, along with him, that certainly the right to strike is an inherent right; but at the same time if this adjudication or compulsion is intended to be put in by the Government, it is primarily in the interests of the workers. I did say and I shall continue to say that I do not myself personally like compelling the employers or workers to come to a settlement, and I do hope a time will soon come when in India there will be no compulsion. But much of education on the part of the employers and on the part of the workers is necessary before they can come to some conclusion. In the meanwhile, I do not want the privileges and the rights of the workers to be disturbed or the industries destroyed. That is my claim to maintain the position that this legislation is more in the interests of the workers than in the interests of the employer. Secondly, it was stated that adjudication took much time. That is not my experience at any rate, after having appointed fourteen adjudicators and I must admit that what Mr. Town stated—that employers need not waste their time—is not far from correct in fact, my experience is that at every step the workers ask adjournment. If really they want time to state their case, there is nothing wrong and they are entitled to have it; but there is use saying that it is the machinery of Government that wastes time and takes a long time to come to conclusions. I assure the House and it is a fact that whenever an adjudication came before the Government, it was immediately acted upon. I also do not agree with Mr. Venkateswarlu when he stated that adjudications did not favour the workers. They did favour the workers. I made a comprehensive statement on that matter and I can agree with him. In the matter of the Spencer & Co. dispute there was no doubt a conciliation board and there was adjudication. To say that the workers lost everything in the matter is not administratively a fact. Let me tell this House and you, Sir, that the Spencer & Co. workers got Rs. 18 and Spencer & Co. shelled out that amount through the adjudication department. That is the position. As regards other aspects of the question, I need not go into them just at the present moment.

"I do not think I need say much more; in fact I have agreed to the proposition that this Bill should continue in existence only for a period of six months and not for one year, and I am very glad the members of the Select Committee agreed generally with it—I cannot go into details as to what took place in the Select Committee—but I have given an assurance to them that a comprehensive Bill will come into existence very soon on all the questions, including those mentioned by Mr. Venkateswarlu. I therefore want the hon. Member not to press his amendment. To Mr. Town I need not say much in reply, so also to Mr. Natesan and to Mr. Hameed Khan. Giving this assurance that a comprehensive Bill is coming into existence soon, I oppose this amendment."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall now put the amendment Mr. Venkateswarlu to the vote."

The amendment was put and lost.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I shall now put clause 3 to vote." Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 2.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Sir, there is no need for the amendment now, of which I have given notice."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will put clause 2 to the vote of the House."

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 4.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"In this case also, there is no need to move the amendment, Sir."

[9th September 1946]

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will put clause 4 to the vote of the House."

Clause 4 was put and carried.

Clauses 5 to 9.

Clauses 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 were then put and carried.

The Preamble was put and carried.

"I wish that both these motions are taken up together."

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"Sir, it is a very simple amendment. This amendment seeks to include these three items in Schedule V to that Act."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I do not know the exact purpose for which this amendment is made. I request the Hon. Minister to explain the exact purpose of this amendment."

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"In order to enforce health conditions, these three new items, namely, arrack, methylated spirits and carbolic acid gas are included. These items are not included in Schedule to the District Municipalities Act. The Director of Public Health has suggested that these items should be included in the items given in Schedule V in order to enforce health conditions."

The motion was put and carried.

(2) MOTION re AMENDMENTS TO SCHEDULE VII OF THE MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT, 1920.

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—"I move the following:—

"In the said schedule, after clause (1) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"Sir, the same arguments put forward in the first motion hold good in the case of this motion also."

The motion was put and carried.

(3) INCREASE IN THE MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF THE GUARANTEE GIVEN BY GOVERNMENT IN RESPECT OF DEBENTURES ISSUED BY THE MADRAS CO-OPERATIVE CENTRAL LAND MORTGAGE BANK, LIMITED.

* THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I beg to move the following resolution:—

'This Assembly recommends to the Provincial Government that they may under sub-section (2) of section 6 of the Madras Co-operative Land Mortgage Banks Act, 1920, increase the maximum amount of the guarantee given by them in respect of the debentures issued by the Madras Co-operative Central Land Mortgage Bank, Limited, to a total face value of Rs. 400 lakhs, exclusive of the debentures as the bank may from time to time reduce such debentures being issued for periods not exceeding any case 25 years from the date of issue and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding 5 per cent per annum.'

"In placing this resolution before the House, Sir, I wish to say that there is an explanatory note supplied to the hon. Members of the House. So, I do not want to waste the time of the House by reading that explanatory note. I hope the House will accept the resolution."

* SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in supporting the resolution made by the Hon. the Minister, I would like to invite his attention to one or two important points. The particular purpose for which such a guarantee is given to the Central Land Mortgage Bank is to give benefit and relief to the primary borrower who takes the loan from the primary land mortgage bank. For a long time, Sir, an agitation has been going on demanding that the lending rate of the primary banks should be reduced. On this occasion, I would like to impress on the Hon. Minister the need for reducing the rate of interest that is at present charged by the primary banks. I have got facts and figures to prove that the bank will not suffer by reducing the rate of interest. In 1945-46 the profit made by the Central Land Mortgage Bank was Rs. 3,42,000 and this income was derived from a capital of 11 lakhs and reserves amounting to 22 lakhs on last June plus other working capital. On his 33 lakhs, the yield will be a lakh of rupees every year and on account of the existing business of the land mortgage bank the annual income will be 3 lakhs. Even if the existing business is to be continued, there will be an income of 4 lakhs. On the expenditure side, Sir, he spends about a lakh of rupees on staff and contingencies and another lakh on contributions towards the cost of departmental staff lent to the land mortgage bank. Therefore, Sir, if you take away these 2 lakhs, there will only be a net profit of 2 lakhs. If you declare a dividend of 4 per cent every year, the outturn will be Rs. 44,000 and therefore there will be a net profit of $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs every year after the declaration of the dividend. Then the reserves will be benefited to the tune of about one lakh and fifty thousand rupees. When such is the case, I do not see any reason why the lending rate to the primary member should not be reduced. The present lending rate is $5\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. I may point out here that the rate of interest for the latest debenture series issued was only $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. Therefore the margin obtained by the Central Land Mortgage Bank and the primary banks is 3 per cent. I would suggest to the Hon. Minister to consider the question whether this margin should not be reduced to 2 per cent instead of the per cent 3 per cent. You will be convinced from the figures quoted above that there is ample scope for making such a reduction. The policy followed in other countries also support the same view. For instance in the United States of America the Farm Credit Administration issues long term loans at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent whereas their borrowing rate is 3 per cent. The margin between the borrowing and the lending rate allowed in the United States of America is only half a per cent. In England also, they borrowed debentures in 1930-31 for a period of thirty years at 5 per cent and also at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent for some amounts. Now the margin allowed has fallen and under a recent Act the lending rate was reduced to $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent and the Government themselves are willing to lose the difference. The Government of India have appointed an Agricultural Finance Sub-Committee and that Committee made strong recommendations on the lines I have suggested. I am quoting from the report. 'We suggest that long-term loans to the agricultural community be made available at rates not exceeding 4 per cent and recommend that Government should subsidize land mortgage banks to enable them to do so.' Even for that reason, I would appeal to the Hon. the Minister to support this claim on behalf of the Central Land Mortgage Bank and the co-operators in generally in this Presidency to reduce the lending rate by at least another one per cent. I support the motion."

MORTGAGE BANK, LIMITED

* MR. H. S. TOWN:—"Sir, I do not wish either to support or oppose this resolution.

"We are asked to increase our guarantee by 50 lakhs. I am however unable to judge from the limited information that we have been given on this matter whether this is really a safe financial proposition. It is very clear from the figures put in by the Hon. the Minister that this demand for a further guarantee of 50 lakhs is at the moment nothing more than a demand to protect our present guarantee. The bank has gone to the limit and then all in a rush we are asked to extend our guarantee by another 50 lakhs. We are told that at present it is expected that advances next year will not exceed 60 lakhs and that as 10 lakhs will come in from the redemption on existing debentures the guarantee need only be for 50 lakhs. There is a hint, though nothing more, that this may be the last time we are asked to increase our guarantee. I question this most seriously. If the debentures falling in this year are only 10 lakhs against a demand for fresh debentures of 60 lakhs, why should we expect that next year the debentures falling in will equal the demand for new debentures? Somewhere about this time next year, I expect this House to be asked to increase its guarantee to 450 lakhs. I therefore ask that well before that time this House be given a statement showing the full appreciation of the position as regards debentures issued already and the date on which they will fall in for final repayment. It might be as well to take the date for this statement as at the closing of the bank books for the current year. I ask this as I think it is to the advantage of everybody concerned that we should know whether the financial transactions of this bank are perfectly clear and that we are safe in giving our guarantee.

1492 INCREASE IN THE MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF THE GUARANTEE
GIVEN BY GOVERNMENT IN RESPECT OF DEBENTURES ISSUED BY THE MADRAS CO-OPERATIVE CENTRAL LAND
MORTGAGE BANK, LIMITED

[Mr. H. S. Town] [9th September 1946]

"As I stated at the beginning, Sir, I do not wish to oppose and therefore I support the motion."

* SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to support the motion moved by the Hon. Minister for Labour to increase the guarantee to 400 lakhs because as one who is interested in the progress of Land Mortgage Banks, I feel the necessity to afford my support to this motion. But as my hon. Friend, Mr. Kala Venkata Rao has pointed out that it is the interest charged that is standing in the way of many people taking loans from the Land Mortgage Banks. This matter was considered at the last Land Mortgage Banks Conference held in 1945 and it was argued on both sides and they came to the conclusion that Government should reduce the rate of interest. So far nothing substantial has been done in the matter. I feel, Sir, that Government's apathy not to reduce the rate of interest also affects those people in taking loans from the Land Mortgage Banks. Sir, the land mortgage banks give loans on a long-term basis—that is for twenty years. Even according to the present market conditions, it should not be difficult for the Government to reduce the rate of interest. Apart from that, it is not possible for the primary banks to declare any substantial dividends to their shareholders. I urge upon the Government to consider this aspect of the question very seriously and do something in the matter."

"Apart from this, Sir, the Central Land Mortgage Bank charges audit fees from the primary banks. It should be borne by the Central Land Mortgage Bank itself. My hon. Friend Mr. Kala Venkata Rao, who explained the figures in detail, has pointed out the amount of profit the Central Land Mortgage Bank is making and it will be in the interests of the Co-operative Department especially the Land Mortgage Bank, to do something to do away with the audit fees now charged to the primary banks. Moreover, Sir, if one has to apply for loan to the Land Mortgage Bank, details have to be given to the Central Land Mortgage Bank, for instance, details regarding patta and all these things. It naturally involves the employment of staff with very good knowledge in co-operation and accounting and it is not possible for the primary bank to employ such men for the purpose. I would therefore urge on the Government the necessity to get into correspondence with the Central Land Mortgage Bank either to allow the primary banks to employ men at a rate that will be in conformity with the prices that are obtaining at present or to give substantial aid to such banks that have not made profits in days gone by. Another difficulty is that this primary bank is not in a position to advance loans to the Harijans, the reason being that in most of the cases of Harijans who have been assigned lands, it takes a long time for them to get the pattas. The primary banks do not therefore given them loans. As a matter of fact, if statistics are taken of the applications made to the Central Land Mortgage Bank, you will find very few Harijans take the opportunity of getting loans from the primary banks. I would request the Hon. Minister to make it a point in not to insist on pattas, especially in the case of those Harijans who are in need of taking loans from the Land Mortgage Banks by instructing the Land Mortgage Banks in the matter, and also to instruct the Revenue Department to issue the necessary pattas without any delay at least in the case of Harijans who wish to take loans from these banks."

* SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in supporting the motion of the Hon. the Minister for Co-operative Institutions, and also the observations made by hon. Friends Mr. Kala Venkata Rao and Mr. V. I. Muniswami Pillai, urging the reduction of the rate of interest on loans granted to clients of the primary banks, I also bring to the notice of the Government, Sir, the necessity for affording the facilities of these loans to the ryots in the estates also. As it is, this facility is not given to one-third of the ryots of this province because the said one-third extent is administered by the said Act I of 1908. The necessity for affording this facility is that the tenants in the estates are involved in great debts. If at all there is going to be any benefit given to the agriculturist without distinction between ryotwari tenure and other tenures, it is absolutely necessary to afford this facility to the ryots in the estates also. The difficulty is something like this. Most of the estates in this province are not surveyed and record-of-rights have not been properly kept and so the Land Mortgage Banks refuse to grant the loans. This is due to the state of administration in the zamindaris and this must be rectified in most of the estates. There is no survey and no record of rights issued to the ryots in estates. The Central Co-operative Bank itself, through the permission and arrangement with the Government must survey the estates compulsorily and see that the record-of-rights are issued so that ryots in zamindari areas may also have the benefit of borrowing from the bank. There is now great delay in granting these loans; the delay is very abnormal. If an application is filed today, it takes at least about four to five months to sanction the loan the reason being that they have to get at the records and copies of titles, which the applicant is not able to produce early. The difficulty can be solved if a separate officer is appointed to get at these records, to get the information wanted for the purpose of sanctioning and disposing of the loan at an early date. Sir, if at all there is any need for a co-operative institution with the Land Mortgage Banks it is substantively to help the agriculturist. These Land Mortgage Banks are there for affording facilities to the peasants to discharge their debts and to develop the agricultural industry. The debt is to be discharged from out of the income derived from agriculture itself, and the period is twenty years. Because the period is too long, an investigation is made at the very outset into the loan application to find out whether the agriculturist is able to discharge the debt or not, it is a great advantage. Instead of involving the agriculturist in debt with private money lenders, we should try to grant him loans as early as possible and relieve him from the local money lender and avoid in all possible ways delay in sanctioning the loans which occur in the production of records by applicants. Therefore, Sir, my humble request to the Hon. the Minister for Co-operation is to extend this facility of granting loans to the ryots early by appointing special officers to make the necessary records and titles made available to the bank.

"Again, I find from the paper placed on the table of the House that Bank has requested the Government to increase the guarantee up to Rs. 500 lakhs whereas Government have agreed to raise the guarantee only up to Rs. 400 lakhs. Since there is already a guarantee for Rs. 350 lakhs. The guarantee is increased now only by Rs. 50 lakhs. Sir, the Central Land Mortgage Bank is an institution which is doing very useful and helpful to the agriculturist. So, I ask, why not raise the guarantee up to Rs. 500 lakhs without reducing it to 400 lakhs as recommended by the Registrar. There is no chance of misuse or any such thing. The Central Land Mortgage Bank need not again approach the Government for further enhancement of the guarantee when they need. After all the amount transacted is not handled by private persons and money is actually seen by the creditor when the discharge of the debt is made through the sub-treasury. With the guarantee the money is raised in the country and guarantee is more or less moral than liability. The finances of the Central Land Mortgage Bank is very sound. The guarantee is sought to borrow at the lower rate of interests possible. So, I ask, why should the Government reduce the guarantee. They need not, as a matter of fact, have reduced it at all. It is an effort of the Central Land Mortgage Bank to lend to its clients at the lowest rate of interest possible if and when money could be raised in the market at the lowest rate. So the guarantee must have been given for the entire amount of Rs. 500 lakhs as requested by the Central Land Mortgage Bank. If there is more money available for the Central Land Mortgage Bank to that extent more facilities would be afforded to the clients of the bank and the clients of the primary banks more freely and to that extent agriculturist will benefit. I therefore request the Hon. the Minister for Co-operation to kindly consider these things and to raise the guarantee as requested by the institution. I suggest that it may be extended to the entire sum of Rs. 500 lakhs. With these words, and with the hope that the Hon. Minister for Co-operation would rectify the defects pointed out I resume my seat."

5 p.m. * THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Sir, the hon. Mr. Town has expressed some scepticism and pessimism and he gave some reasons but I do not agree with them. During the course of the discussion, Mr. Speaker, several suggestions have been made and my hon. Friend Mr. Town has expressed scepticism and pessimism regarding the matter and I would like to take him and the House into the details of the transactions of the Land Mortgage Bank.

"Section 4 of the Madras Co-operative Land Mortgage Banks Act empowers the issue of debentures by the bank on the security of mortgages and other assets transferred by mortgage banks to the Central Land Mortgage Banks. Under section 6 of the Act the Registrar is the trustee whose previous sanction has to be taken.

"Under section 6 the Government of Madras may guarantee the debentures issued by the Central Land Mortgage Bank, and under section 6 (2), the Government may, after consulting the Legislative, increase the maximum amount of any guarantee given by them.

"On the 31st of August 1946, debentures of the value of Rs. 3,49,61,500 were in circulation. The guarantee is therefore exhausted.

"The Bank can issue debentures only to the extent of the loans disbursed by it on the security of first mortgage of agricultural lands in the Province of Madras.

"The amount of loan sanctioned does not exceed 50 per cent of the estimated value of the land proposed to be mortgaged, and the valuation is based on the values existed prior to war.

"As against a sum of Rs. 242 lakhs due to the Central Land Mortgage Bank on 30th June 1946, the value of the properties mortgaged to the bank was estimated at Rs. 8.34 crores.

"Debentures are issued with the condition that they are irredeemable for a period of 10 years from the date of issue. Thereafter the bank has the option to redeem all or some of the debentures on three months' notice. In order to accumulate funds to pay off debentures on maturity as per the advice of the Reserve Bank of India, the bank has constituted a sinking fund. The sinking funds are invested either in Government securities or in bank's own debentures. On 30th June 1946, the bank has a sum of Rs. 112 lakhs in its sinking fund investments.

"The bank has worked for 16 years now. The primary banks have all along been paying their obligations to the bank without leaving any arrears at the end of the co-operative year.

"The borrowers have also been paying off their instalments in time to the primary banks and the arrears have been negligible.

"There is no fear of the bank not being able to realize the full amount due on loan account from the borrowers.

"As the debentures are guaranteed by the Government, they are trustee securities and are also approved securities under the Insurance Act. The guarantee enables the trust funds and insurance funds to be invested in debentures.

"The debentures besides being supported by the mortgages and are also supported by the share capital and reserves of the Central Land Mortgage Bank, which on 30th June 1946 amounted to Rs. 31,45,068.

"The bank has been meeting its obligations in respect of interest and principal on debentures in time, all along. There is no likelihood of the Government ever being called upon to make good their guarantee. By the Government's security, the bank will be enabled to borrow in the market at cheap rates of interest and pass on the benefit to the agriculturists. Its latest series for Rs. 25 lakhs was issued at $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent and was heavily over-subscribed.

"The Government have guaranteed already up to Rs. 350 lakhs, and now the bank requests a further guarantee of Rs. 50 lakhs. The Registrar has recommended the raising of the guarantee. There is no need for any general apprehension that there will be no limit for the amount that will have to be guaranteed by the Government. There is the amount of debentures redeemable every year, and this will be equal to the amount of debentures floated, a fresh issue resulting in no further increase. Therefore, the withdrawal of guarantee is inadvisable.

"This is the statement that I wanted to make in answer to Mr. Town. I am grateful for the very illuminating observations of my hon. Friend Mr. Kala Venkata Rao. I can assure him that the question of reducing the rate of interest that he proposed is under the active consideration of Government. Recently the Hon. the Premier and I had a conference with the President and Directors of Land Mortgage Bank and very soon you will hear about it. I am also glad to say that the Reserve Bank has recommended a reduction in the interest margin from 3 to $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. The whole thing is engaging the attention of the Government and very soon a decision may be expected in the matter. My hon. Friend Mr. Muniswami Pillai raised the point regarding the difficulties of Harijans in the matter of securing credit. I will certainly take up that question and see what directions should be issued. Mr. Natesa Chettiyar's suggestions with regard to zamindari lands will be remembered. However, there are certain difficulties and these will be sympathetically gone into. I do not think a lengthier speech is necessary to commend the resolution for the acceptance of the House."

The resolution was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Some Members have complained of the duration of the sitting and said that they wanted the House to be adjourned. But if the House is inclined to transact some more business, we shall sit a bit longer. I have no objection to waive notice in respect of any notice of amendments that any hon. Member might wish to give."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I suggest that we adjourn."

The House then adjourned to meet again at 11 a.m. the next day.

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know from the Hon. Premier, in view of the fact that we are going to have linguistic provinces very soon, whether this Government will give an assurance that no money will be spent on the Madras City in future?” (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“No such assurance will be given.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I know, Sir, whether in the new House that will be provided for the Assembly, due provision will be made both for the Press and for the ladies, I mean, better provision for ladies and much better provision for the Press?”

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—“We shall very gladly consider the question.”

[10th September 1946]

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Do not Andhra members already consider that this is not Fort Saint George but Fort Saint Prakasam?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"Will the hon. Member repeat his question?"

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In view of the fact that time and again the question of linguistic provinces is raised here, I would like to ask the Hon. Premier, 'do not Andhra members consider Fort Saint George is Fort Saint Prakasam?' (Laughter.) (A voice: 'We do.')

No answer.

MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In view of the fact that Madras City is claimed both by Tamilians and Andhras, an assurance that no money will be spent on the construction of the Assembly building is necessary?"

No answer.

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know whether the Government will be pleased to purchase the University building which was used by the then Government in 1937 as Assembly Chamber instead of going in for a new building?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—"I do not know whether the University buildings are for sale." (Laughter.)

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know, Sir, whether Government are aware that Madras City is claimed not only by Andhras but also by Tamilians as well as Malayalees?" (Laughter.)

(The Hon. Sri V. V. Giri: "By the Canarese also.")

No answer.

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Arising out of the answer given by the Premier, namely, that no assurance will be given in the matter, may I ask him, Sir, whether he is not serious about the separation of the Andhra Province?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"When one is not serious, we cannot be serious too."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, whether Government will get into touch or negotiate with the University authorities and see whether that building cannot be purchased?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—"Government are aware that the University authorities cannot afford to spare that building for sale."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I wish to assure hon. Members even that building is in no way better than this building." (Laughter.)

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"In view of the historical importance of the present building, may I ask, is it the wish of the Government to shift the entire Assembly and Council to these buildings?"

[10th September 1946]

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"Will Government take steps see that the lot of carbonic acid gas that accumulates in this hall for lack of ventilation is taken out by means of exhausts?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—"I am unable to understand the meaning of the question."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Is it a fact that the conversion of the Banqueting Hall into an Assembly Hall is under the contemplation of the Government?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTHAVATSALAM:—"I have already answered that question."

 Qs. 172 and 173:

Manufacture of fertilizers.

* 174 Q.—M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state whether there is any scheme under consideration of this Government for manufacture of fertilizers?

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"There is no scheme under consideration of this Government for the manufacture of fertilizers. The Government have however decided to contribute towards the share capital of the ammonium sulphate factories to be set up by the Government of India at Sindhr, Bihar and by the Fertilizers and Chemicals, Travancore Limited, at Alwaye in Travancore State and have sanctioned the expenditure necessary to subscribe for shares of the value of Rs. 25 lakhs in factory of the Government of India and of the face value of Rs. 20 lakhs in Fertilizers Chemicals, Travancore, Limited. The Fertilizers and Chemicals, Travancore, Limited, have entered into an agreement with the Government of Madras undertaking to sell every year from the factory at Alwaye 20,000 tons or 2/5 of output of the ammonium sulphate of the company, which is less for a period of five years from the date of commencement of production. The terms between the Government of India and the Government of Madras in respect of the factory at Sindhr have not yet been fixed. The Fertilizers Chemicals, Travancore, Limited, have not yet begun production. To meet the immediate requirements of phosphates in the Province, the Government have arranged for Messrs. Parry & Co. to manufacture under Government account annually about 5,000 tons of superphosphate for a period of three years. They have started manufacture on 1st August 1946, though the agreement has not yet formally been executed."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"When a factory is started in this Presidency, will the Government give an assurance that no outsider will be given licence to start a factory?"

[10th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Government themselves may consider starting factories."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"What will be the rate at which fertilizers will be charged for the various crops, when they are supplied?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I should like the hon. Member to put a separate question."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Fertilizers Commission that visited India have made any recommendations to get chemicals in our own Province?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Notice."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I know, Sir, when do the Government expect the Travancore Chemicals and Fertilizers to supply fertilizers to this Province?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I cannot give you a definite answer to that question now. We will write to the Travancore Government."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Who are the Managing Agents of the factory at Alwaye?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I will be able to give an answer to the hon. Member. But I have not got it here."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Government have any plan for starting industries themselves?"

No answer.

G. NARASIMHA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Government of India propose to start a factory at Bezwada?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I am not aware."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"What is the total capital of the factory at Alwaye?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Notice."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"My question is not answered, Sir. Will Government be pleased to give an assurance that permission to start a factory in this Province will not be given to an outsider?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"What do you mean by an outsider? Within India or outside India?"

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"By outsiders, I mean people from other Provinces."

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Certainly it is a matter to be taken into consideration."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Arising out of the answer given, in view of the fact that Messrs. Parry & Co., have been asked to supply chemicals to this Government, may I know whether the prices will be cheaper?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Certainly."

[10th September 1946]

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know, Sir, what industries do Government propose to start?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"It does not arise. It is too early for the Government to say at this stage."

Location of a Polytechnic school at Vuyyuru.

* 175 Q.—M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries and Labour be pleased to state—

(a) the reasons for locating A.G. Polytechnic school Vuyyuru; and

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"Notice."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"What is the course of studies, Sir, that is proposed to be given at this Polytechnic school?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I will be able to give an answer if a separate question is put."

SRI M. BAPINEEDU:—"In view of the fact that there are no industries in the West Godavari district, will the Hon. Minister be pleased to consider the starting of one Polytechnic school in West Godavari district?"

THE HON. SRI V. V. GIRI:—"I shall certainly consider it."

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR

"(c) One hundred and twenty-six applications for opening new secondary schools were received.

"(d) Ninety-eight schools (secondary) have been permitted to be opened."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Government will consider the desirability of reducing further the space allotted to each and every student in the class and increase the number of students in the class?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"No, Sir."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Are the Government aware that when applications were forwarded from District Boards and Municipalities for permission to start schools, the Director of Public Instruction has refused permission this year?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Quite possible, Sir."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I enquire, Sir, whether Government will be pleased to establish a Muslim High School in every district?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"No, Sir."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"May I know, Sir, the reason why permission was refused by the Director of Public Instruction for starting new schools?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"There are certain standards which everybody who wants to start schools should fulfil. They have provided for those standards for the efficient administration of the schools."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Government is aware that the space now allotted for each student is more than enough?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"No, Sir. Government themselves feel that the question of space has been relaxed as a matter of expediency, and they do not think they should go further."

B. POCKER, SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Does the categorical denial by the Hon. Minister for Education that he is not prepared to consider the advisability of opening a Muslim High School in every district indicate the real policy of the Government so far as Muslim education is concerned?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"The policy of the Government has been explained well under the Education Demand, and I do not think it necessary to go into the question now."

[10th September 1946]

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Do Government propose to relax the rules so that a great number of students can be admitted in the schools?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—"Consistent with efficiency whatever can be done will be done, Sir."

Grants for secondary schools.

* 199 Q.—SRIMATHI V. LAKSHMIAMMAL: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state whether the Government propose to give grants towards the furniture and equipment for secondary schools newly started by private bodies?

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIYAR:—

"The question of giving grants towards purchase of furniture and equipment for secondary schools newly opened by private bodies is considered every year as a new scheme of expenditure in connexion with the budget estimates for the next year and grants are sanctioned to the extent of funds are available. Only those applications which have been admitted and placed on the approved list will be eligible for aid."

Contemplated strike in South Indian Railway.

 199 A Q.—M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the General Manager of South Indian Railway met the Premier;

(b) whether the Premier has promised all support and assistance to the Railway authorities in case there is a strike; and

(c) if the answer to (b) is in affirmative, whether the Premier will be pleased to state in what way he proposes to render help to the railway authorities?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) Yes.

"(b) & (c) The General Manager wanted help for protecting trains that carry food to their destination in the district. He was told that the Police Department would give him necessary help for carrying food and also for keeping law and order. No other help was asked for nor was it promised by the Government. The question of strike was a matter between the two parties. Government had nothing to do with it. It was a matter for settlement between the parties."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Arising out of the answer that only specific help was promised, is the Government aware that a different version was published in the papers was it not the duty of the Government to contradict it?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"If wrong statements published, the Government cannot feel bound to answer the wrong statements."

[10th September 1946]

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Is the Government aware that the Police are being used as gate-men?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Government are not aware of any such thing. So far as Government knew, the Police were doing their duty to keep law and order and to see that food trains are not stopped."

KHAN SAHIB H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"So far as this Government is concerned is it not its responsibility to intervene in the interests of, and on behalf of, the people of this Province to bring about a conciliation or suggest means to settle the dispute by arbitration?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Whether it is strictly the responsibility of this Government or not, this Government went out of its way to bring about a settlement between the General Manager of the Railway and the workers."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Will the Government allow this House to know what is the reply the South Indian Railway General Manager gave to the Government's reference to conciliation?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The workers' leaders did not allow that stage to be reached; the workers did not appear to pursue the topic."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"In view of the fact that a large amount of inconvenience is caused to the public, will the Hon. Prime Minister be pleased to advise the General Manager to run more day trains?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I take it, Sir, that the General Manager will do his duty, and is trying to do his best in the circumstances."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"In view of the fact that the South Indian Railway is the property of the State and belongs to the Government of India, is it not the essential duty on the part of the Provincial Government to protect the property from the mischief of the Communists?" (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"It is the duty of the Government and every public officer to do his best to prevent mischief to property."

SRI M. S. PATTABIRAMA AYYAR:—"Are the Government aware, Sir, that many hundreds of Police-men on duty on the platforms of many junctions in the South Indian Railway are fed by the railway authorities in the refreshment rooms and passengers are refused refreshments?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Government has no information, and it has nothing to do with that."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Are we to take it, Sir, that this Government is helpless in bringing about a settlement either by way of conciliation or by arbitration?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"It is the work of the Central Government. So far as this Government is concerned, at the very earliest opportunity the Government of India informed of the situation that is likely to develop, and suggested to the Government of India to send an arbitrator or conciliator to look into the matter, at the very outset.

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Do Government propose to contact the Union President so that settlement can be arrived at?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Government cannot be solicitous to those persons who were not amenable at that stage."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Is it a fact that 10 per cent of the workers on strike have come back?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Government are aware of the actual figures."

SRI M. S. PATTABIRAMA AYYAR:—"Is it not the duty of the Government to look after the conveniences and well-being of the passengers travelling in the South Indian Railway?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The hon. Mr. Pattabirama Ayyar has not known the duties and responsibilities of carriers like the railway. So far as this Government is concerned, it can give general help in regard to peace and order and also the help that may be required for running trains smoothly."

SRI K. T. KOSALARAMA NADAR:—"Will the Prime Minister agree with me when I say that he can do himself when he failed to take any action against those who circulated wall-posters saying that railway travel was dangerous and it was criminal intimidation?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"There have been very many things of that nature."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"Is it a fact that there have been purposely incited by the Communists in pursuance of their policy of making the Congress Government impossible whether they are not putting up most impossible demands?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Some people think that it will be possible for them to make any demand possible. The Government will not be swayed by what might be in the minds of persons who are not alive to their responsibility and duty."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether the Hon. Premier is aware that this Government, by providing unqualified help, has done a great injustice to the cause of the workers without going into the consequences of their action?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"My hon. friend M. A. Salam is a lawyer and he must be able to know what has been promised by the Government. I have already given the answer specifically."

[10th September 1946]

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In view of the fact that this railway strike is a too serious one affecting the whole of South India, has this Government made an approach to the Government of India in the matter of this railway strike?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Before any development, the Government of India was told as to what they should do in this matter."

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is the Government prepared to meet the labour union leaders if they come forward with proposals for settlement?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Government always extends its good offices to any one anxious for the settlement of matters."

MR. SPEAKER:—"In this question, the Hon. Premier has given a big statement. I won't allow a number of supplementary questions on this matter."

(b) if so, what steps the Government propose to take against the District Superintendent of Police, Mr. Harrison and other officials who are responsible for this firing?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—" (a) The Government have received a report on the firing by the Police at the Golden Rock on 5th September 1946.

" (b) The circumstances under which the firing had taken place had been stated already in the debate on the question on 7th. In addition, the reports of the Collector and the District Superintendent of Police and other matters would be considered and a final decision will be taken in due course."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Arising out of the answer that the answer of the Premier is based on the Collector's report, is the policy of this Government to accept the Collector's report as final and, if not, why should they feel shy of appointing a non-official committee?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"To the first part of the supplementary question, I may answer that the Government does not generally take a final decision before all matters are known. That is why in the main answer itself, it was stated that 'in addition, the reports of the Collector and the District Superintendent of Police and other matters would be considered and a final decision will be taken in due course.'"

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Is Government aware that, taking advantage of this ban on strike situation, the police officers are prosecuting Communist arresting them, and locking out their offices, Sir?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Hon. Member has aware of the fact that wherever law and order have been violated, the authorities concerned will be taking action under the circumstances."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is the Hon. Premier aware that it was the policy of the Congress for the last 25 years to decry official reports and cry for non-official reports?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The question does not arise."

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Will Premier give an assurance that, if the leaders of the labour movement appear before the Premier for a settlement, they will not be arrested in view of the fact that arrest warrants have been issued against them?"

Persons discharged from the Defence forces.

* 200 Q.—SRI K. ANANDA NAMBIYAR: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) how many men and women have been discharged from the various Defence forces in the Presidency as a whole and in each district;

[10th September 1946]

(b) how many from among the discharged servicemen have applied to the Soldiers' Board and to the Employment Exchange and how many were given jobs and how many are jobless to-day; and

(c) whether the Soldiers' Board or the Employment Exchange tried to use their services in the Railway, Postal and other strikes and if so how many?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ (a) According to the information furnished by the Regional Employment Exchange, Madras, 67,679 persons belonging to this Province have been released up to the end of July 1946. Among the employment cards received for these persons only 53,552 have been sorted out districtwar. A statement^a showing the number of cards received and sorted is placed on the Table of the House.

“(b) The number of ex-servicemen who applied to the Employment Exchanges up to end of July 1946 was 44,950 and the number of persons to whom employment was found up to end of July was about 17,461 including 593 men undergoing Technical Training and 464 men who found work by their own efforts. A statement^b showing details is placed on the Table of the House.

“The employment figures are however not a true indication of the number of men placed in employment through Employment Exchanges as a large number of employers do not inform Employment Exchanges of the number of men accepted by them out of those submitted.

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"The Government cannot give any such assurance, and it is not within my province and the Government to give it."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know why the Communists have started these strikes as soon as the Congress took up office?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"We have nothing to do with strikes. The hon. Member is not in order in putting the question."

Bucket shops in Madras City.

* 201 Q.—MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Law be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Bucket shops (private and illegal betting on horse racing) are thriving in Madras City particularly in the southern range; and

(b) if so, whether the Government propose to take special steps to prevent this illegal betting on horse racing?

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—" (a) Bucket shops no doubt exist in Madras City but they cannot be said to be thriving. A number of organizations have been rounded up by the police but others soon take their place. The total number of cases successfully prosecuted for betting has shown an increase in 1945 over the figure of 1944. The total number of cases put up in the first eight months of 1946 shows an increase over the 1944 figure and is almost equal to the 1945 figure. It is reported that up to date more cases have been put up for prosecution from the southern range than in the whole of each of the previous two years.

" (b) Section 37 (3) of the Madras City Police Act, 1888, provides for adequate punishment for this offence and the law is being enforced. The Act was recently amended making the punishment heavier and more stringent."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether the number of cases put up for prosecution after this Government came into power show an improvement on the figures that existed previously?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"No separate figures are available here to answer the question."

[10th September 1946]

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether the Government is aware that some of the bucket shops are flourishing directly under the patronage of high Police officials?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"If he knows, he can give me the information."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I know whether it is not correct to presume that the very fact that the number of cases has increased indicates that the bucket shops thriving these days?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"It may be due to an increase in the number of bucket shops, but I do not know whether they have made much money out of them."

MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"In view of the fact that printing of acceptances gives an incentive to these bucket shops, do the Government propose to prohibit the publication of acceptances?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"That is a suggestion which I would like to consider."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Is not the Hon. Minister aware that these acceptances are published by the local newspapers?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I have seen something like that."

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Has not the Government received so far any representations against the Police officials who are encouraging this?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Not since I came into office."

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Will the Government give this House an assurance that all publication of literature concerning races will cease?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I will consider this suggestion too."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Do you publish a list of bucket shops also?" (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"The Police may have some information about it."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Will the Hon. Minister give effect to the suggestion made by all sections of this House that all publications in respect of racing, advertisements and the like will be prohibited by law?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I think I said already the suggestion will be considered."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether the Government propose to take any action to ban the joy land shows which are plundering the people in Bezvada, Masulipatam and other places?"

[10th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Recently I have received complaints from various places that the so-called shows allow there for gambling in the shows. I have issued instructions to the District Superintendent of Police and the District Magistrate to pay a surprise visit to all these shows, so that gambling may be stopped."

SRI P. NATESAN:—"Is the Hon. Minister aware that these bucket shops are flourishing on account of Poona and Bombay races?"

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"It is more than I can say."

Remission of Land Revenue.

* 202 Q.—SRI KALA VENKATA RAO: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government granted a remission of Rs. 75 lakhs from 1937 onwards with reference to Ryotwari Land Revenue;

(b) when it was stopped; and

(c) whether the Government propose to restore it and if so from when?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" (a) Land Revenue Concessions to the extent of Rs. 75 lakhs were granted from fasli 1347 (1937-38) by

(1) the cancellation of the percentage enhancements due to resettlements after 1914 (Rs. 57 lakhs);

(2) a remission of 2 annas in the rupee of the wet assessment in the districts resettled before 1914 (Rs. 14 lakhs); and

(3) the temporary reduction of water cess in East and West Godavari and Kistna districts and in the deltaic tracts of Guntur (Rs. 4 lakhs).

"(b) All land revenue concessions except item (3) in the answer to clause (a) were withdrawn from fasli 1353 (1943-1944).

"(c) The Government have no proposal to restore the concessions which were withdrawn."

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"Are the Government aware that the reasons assigned by the Advisers' Government for cancelling these remissions do not hold good to-day?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I think, Sir, they hold good in the sense that there is no need for remission."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know whether such remissions are allowed in respect of ryots in zamindari areas?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"That is a matter between the zamindars and the ryots."

[10th September 1946]

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"Are not the Government aware that there is a good disparity between the rates of commodities and the price of agricultural produce and that the criterion fixed by the Advisers is not at all correct?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I am not able to answer that question."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know whether the Government are aware even when the zamindars grant the remission, the Government do not and would not recognize it and proportionately reduce the cess even on remission?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"This question applies to ryotwari areas and the supplementary question applies to zamindari areas."

MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know whether the Government propose to reduce in future the present rates of land revenue?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"As I have already stated during the budget debate, we have under consideration proposals for the modification of land revenue."

SRI N. VENKATA SUBBAYYA:—"May I ask whether the Hon. Minister is aware that rainfall in the Ceded districts is very precarious and that the irrigation sources to which supplies are very uncertain should be given the benefit of rules relating to precarious sources of water-supply?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"That has nothing to do with the question on hand."

SRI M. S. PATTABIRAMA AYYAR:—"Will the Hon. Minister consider the advisability of restoring this remission at least to the food producing tracts this year?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The present concession that was cancelled is not going to be restored. So far as food production is concerned, there are other concessions."

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it not the policy of this Government to give such remissions in fit and proper cases at all times?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The question of granting remission of two annas or four annas in the rupee altogether is a different thing. The present question relates to a concession of 75 lakhs given by the previous Government."

SRI N. VENKATA SUBBAYYA:—"May I ask whether in view of the fact that remissions under the irrigation sources have been niggardly in the past, so in the case of the Ceded districts and that they would liberalise these rules?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"If there are any particular cases brought to my notice, they will be looked into."

Grant of lands to Saradanikethan.

* 203 Q.—M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government have granted about 100 acres Romperu area in Guntur district free of cost to Saradanikethan; and

(b) the extent of land granted free of cost to either organizations or individuals since this Government have taken charge?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“(a) The matter is under the consideration of the Government.

“(b) Lands have been alienated by the Government to organizations in the following cases since this Government took charge:—

(1) An extent of 19,039 sq. ft. in Ongole town, Guntur district, was alienated in favour of the Indain Red-Cross Society, Madras, for use as the site of a Maternity and Child-Welfare Centre.

(2) An extent of about 20 acres of land in the Turinjikadu forest area, Malavathangal village, Gingee taluk, South Arcot district, was ordered to be alienated in favour of the Kasturbha Leprosy Work Committee, Madras, for the Kasturbha Kushta Roga Nivarana Nilayam at Turinjikadu.

“There may be a few cases of alienations ordered by the Board or the Collectors. The information has been called for.”

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know whether it is the policy of this Government to alienate lands only to organizations which may be supporting the Congress?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“Neither the Indian Red Cross Society nor the Kasturbha Leprosy Work Committee has anything to do with politics.”

Establishment of a Provincial Advisory Board of Education.

53 Q.—SRI R. NADHAMUNI REDDI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state what action the Government propose to take on the suggestion of the South India Teachers' Union regarding the need for establishing a Provincial Advisory Board of Education to help the Ministry of Education to formulate a well-defined uniform and effective educational policy?

A.—(a) In 1945 the Government withdrew the full fee concession subject to certain conditions, viz.,

(1) that students who belong to the Muslim community or the backward and scheduled classes should continue to be eligible for the concession;

(2) that in the case of other students college fees at half the prescribed rates only should be levied;

(3) that six free studentships should be reserved for deserving poor students not belonging to the Muslim community or the backward or scheduled classes; and

(4) that the students belonging to this Province who had already been admitted in the Medical Colleges should continue to be eligible for exemption from the payment of tuition fees.

(b) The concession was originally granted in order to attract women to the medical profession. There was no lack of applicants for admission to the Colleges during 1943 and 1944. As against 49 seats reserved for them, 111 and 116 respectively applied during these years. The Government considered that there was no need to continue the concession except to the extent already mentioned.

(c) The answer is in the negative.

II.—THE MADRAS ESSENTIAL ARTICLES CONTROL AND REQUISITIONING (TEMPORARY POWERS) BILL, 1946.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I wish to inform the House that Madras Essential Articles Control and Requisitioning (Temporary Powers) Bill, 1946, has been before the House for two days. I would not allow any more amendments to be moved now.

"Pocker Sahib Bahadur has given notice of a motion adjournment of the House for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of public importance. The motion is—"That the business of the House do stand adjourned to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the very serious situation caused by the notice given by

[Mr. Speaker] [10th September 1946]

Non-gazetted Officers' Association to the Government that they would resort to direct action on 5th October 1946, if their demands for adequate relief in the matter of increase of salary are not satisfied and the great discontent and the deep resentment caused among the non-gazetted officers by the orders issued on 9th September 1946 by the Government withdrawing the recognition of the said Association and the granting of extremely inadequate relief in the matter of increase of salary.'

"Before I take up this question, I want to inform the House that the House will rise to-day at 1-30 p.m. because the Council is meeting at 3 p.m. So, if the House has no objection and if the Hon. the Prime Minister has no objection, I will take up this matter for discussion at 1-30 p.m. under rule 14 of the Rules for the Madras Legislative Assembly, as I have done in respect of the adjournment motion connected with the Railway strike. Rule 14 reads as follows:—

'While in session a meeting of the Assembly shall ordinarily commence at 11 a.m. and conclude at 5 p.m.:

Provided on notice given to the Speaker at question time, the Speaker may, in his discretion, allow half an hour after 5 p.m. or after the conclusion of the business of the day, whichever is earlier, to enable a member to raise a debate on any matter of urgent importance which has been the subject of a question on that day. No division shall be taken on such debate, and such time shall not be available for transaction of any other business.'

"So, if the Leader of the House has no objection, I shall take up this matter at 1-30 p.m. under the above rule."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I have no objection, Sir."

* D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Mr. Speaker, may I know whether amendments already given notice of will be allowed, in view of what the Hon. the Speaker has said just now that no amendments will be allowed on that Bill."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Yes, they have already been allowed. I said, only further amendments will not be allowed."

* SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"Sir, the hon. the Mover of the adjournment motion has not expressed his acceptance to the motion being discussed at 1-30 p.m."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member has accepted it and the Hon. the Leader of the House has also accepted it."

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, since the House rises at 1-30 p.m., may not the adjournment motion be taken up at 1 o'clock, and the discussions finished by 1-30 p.m.?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The rule says 'or after the conclusion of the business of the day, whichever is earlier . . .'. Therefore the adjournment motion cannot be taken up before 1-30 p.m. I shall allow half-an-hour for discussion, or one or two minutes more, if necessary."

10th September 1946] [Mr. Speaker]

"The Madras Essential Articles Control and Requisitioning (Temporary Powers) Bill as amended by the Select Committee is now before the House and the Hon. the Premier will move that the Bill be taken into consideration."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I present the Report ^a of the Select Committee on the Madras Essential Articles Control and Requisitioning (Temporary Powers) Bill, and move—

'that the Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.'"

* SRI P. NATESAN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, on behalf of the Trades and Commerce of this Province, I should like to give my fullest support to the Bill. Sir, at the Select Committee stage, the Hon. the Premier was good enough to tell us that the interests of the merchants will be safeguarded on account of the fact that the present Government is a popular Government representing the will of the people."

"Sir, I shall make a few general observations as to how the Bill, when it becomes law will have to work. In regard to the provisions in clause 3 regulating production by licences, I suggest that the Ministry should have a well-defined and uniform policy in rejecting applications for permits and licences and in suspending or cancelling permits and licences."

"Then, certain powers are delegated to the officials. I suggest, Sir, that only officers of departments who have comprehensive knowledge and experience of the particular trades and commodities should be delegated with such powers. At all events no powers in this respect should vest with the Police, independent of the departments concerned."

"Then, Sir, at the Select Committee stage I raised the question of protection that is afforded to the public, if an officer or person acting under the Act takes undue advantage of his powers and begins to harass people intentionally. The Hon. the Premier assured us that nothing of the sort would be done by the officers under the present Government."

"Sir, I would suggest that sort of confidential or secret machinery should be set up to function co-extensively and simultaneously with this Act to detect and punish cases of bribery and corruption, as it is well known that the vesting of such extraordinary powers has always been accompanied by abuse resulting in corruption and bribery. There should be some restriction, as I said before, in the delegation of powers to the departmental officers. And if it is brought to the notice of the Government that any officer or servant of the department has acted harshly, improperly or unjustly, I hope that the Government will take suitable action against the officers. Sir, as a result of one or two suggestions of ours, the Hon. the Premier very kindly altered sub-clause (e) under clause 5, and also in another case, added the following words to clause 1 (4):—‘Such notification shall be placed on the table of the Houses of Legislature if sitting.’ We brought to the notice of the Hon. the Premier that the Government were taking too much powers by simply notifying in the Fort St. George Gazette, the extension of the period after the first two years by a further two years. The Hon. the Premier was considerate enough to tell us that our attention will be drawn to such extension and that the public and the merchants will have an opportunity of getting a debate raised in the House through hon. Members. In the case of clause 5, sub-clause (c), he was good enough to agree to our amendment that an appeal shall lie to the High Court against the award of an arbitrator where the value of the subject-matter in dispute in appeal is Rs. 2,000 and above.

“Sir, on the whole, I must express my deep gratification at the manner in which the Hon. the Premier wanted to oblige the merchants and I assure the House on behalf of the mercantile community that they will be only too willing to co-operate with the Government as they have been always doing in the past. I therefore strongly support the Bill in its entirety.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move—

‘that the further consideration of this Bill may be deferred in view of the contemplated continuance of the Defence of India Rules by the Government of India.’

“This information is based on some report that appeared in the Press and I have sent a short notice question to the Hon. the Premier enquiring him whether there is any official information on this point. But in any case, Sir, I should like to point out that this Bill, along with other Bills were brought in such hurry and haste by the Government and they are rushing through because the Defence of India Rules are coming to an end by the end of this month and that therefore it was necessary that these rules should continue to be in force and that unless steps are taken immediately to have these Bills made into law, the Government would be put to difficulties. It is on that ground that these measures have been introduced. If it is a fact that the Defence of India Rules are to be retained this Government may perhaps find it unnecessary to further consider these Bills. I do not know, Sir, whether the Government has got any definite information now officially that the Defence of India Rules are to be continued or not by the present Interim Government. But, however, I would suggest that even if they have not got any definite information on this point, the further consideration of these Bills may be deferred until some definite information is received from the Government of India on the subject.

“Sir, I do not see any necessity for having two sets of Acts, one by the Local Government and the other by the Central Government. It is only the Government that can speak and not I. It is for that purpose that I gave a short notice question to which I received no answer.

10th September 1946] [B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur]

“Therefore I would request that the measure be deferred until 12-15 the intention of the Government of India is definitely known. If p.m. the information has not already been obtained, the Government can obtain the information and then proceed with the measure.”

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I second the motion, Sir.”

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to second the motion of the Deputy Leader of our party, hon. Mr. Pocker. If in fact the Defence of India Rules are to remain in force, I do not see any necessity for rushing through this measure. When Bills are brought forward in haste, it is evident that they cannot but be defective; hence it is that we find the Bills presented to this House to abound in defects. It is desirable in the interests of the public that the Government should take more time to bring forward their legislative measures and that the public should be given sufficient time to consider them. In regard to this Essential Articles Control and Requisitioning Bill, I may point out that it is open to doubt whether in regard to certain items mentioned therein the Government of Madras and this Legislature have the power to legislate. I would invite the attention of the Government to clause 4 of the abovementioned Bill, wherein it is stated that the Government may requisition any movable property and also acquire it. I wish to inquire whether the Government and the Provincial Legislature have the power of requisitioning and acquiring movable properties as distinguished from immovable properties. In this connexion, I wish to refer the Hon. the Minister for Law to list 2 of the Provincial Legislative List in Schedule VII of the Government of India Act, 1935. I find that specific mention has been made therein with regard to compulsory acquisition of land under item 9, but I do not find any item relating to the compulsory acquisition of movable property. I want to know whether the Government have considered this point, and whether by bringing forward a legislation like this they are not transcending the powers that are vested in this legislature and in the Provincial Government so far as the acquisition of movable property is concerned. We are aware that during the War the Central Legislature, under section 102 of the Constitution Act along with the Parliamentary amendments, utilized the various powers in all the legislative lists and even powers not enumerated in any of the lists; but it is not up to the Provincial Legislature to assume such powers, for if it did so its act would be unconstitutional. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I suggest that measures which affect the well-being of the people should not be rushed through in this manner, but that both the public and those who are on the Treasury Benches should have more time to consider the various implications of the Bills that are brought forward and to see that the Government are not transcending their powers in regard to legislation. With these words, Mr. Speaker, I second the motion moved by Mr. Pocker.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“I will put the motion of Mr. Pocker to the vote of the House. The motion of Mr. Pocker is . . .”

[10th September 1946]

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Government have not replied to my motion, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"When there is no answer from the Hon. Minister we cannot compel him to give a reply."

Mr. B. Pocker's amendment was put and lost.

The original motion was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will take the Bill clause by clause. The Preamble will be taken in the end."

Clause 1.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, I move—that in sub-clause (4) of clause 1, for the words "two years" occurring in line 1, the words "one year" shall be substituted.'

"Mr. Speaker, in the preamble it is stated that this measure is intended to meet certain emergencies for a limited period. In fact I felt even in the Select Committee, with due respect to the Hon. Premier, that the feeling of the Government Members was that they were very good people and therefore there would be no wrong done. But my experience has been otherwise in the matter of the working by the officers of the proposals that have been sponsored by this Government. I concede, Sir, that they are very good people and that they are very well-intentioned. Therefore it is that I want to at least restrict this period in which the Government is going to take such wide powers. You know, Sir, that this is a measure under which the Government can do anything and everything with regard to the people of this Province. I want that the harassment and inconvenience to the people of this Province should be as little as it can be. It is because of that that I am moving this amendment to make the period 'one year' instead of 'two years.' Sir, it is stated that the Provincial Government may, from time to time, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, extend this period by a further period or periods not exceeding two years in the aggregate. If the Government is prepared to accept my amendment, I am prepared even to accede to the principle that they can extend this period even to three years instead of two years. I therefore request the Government to accept my amendment and reduce the period to 'one year.'"

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, I beg to support this amendment moved by Mr. Mohideen Kutty. It is a very reasonable suggestion and I hope the Government will take it in the light and in the spirit in which the amendment is moved. After all, the Government can extend it further if it is found after one year that it is necessary to do so. I know that speeches do not serve any practical purpose in this House and therefore I do not want to waste either the time of the hon. Members of this House or that of the Hon. the Speaker."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a provision taken from the Defence of India Act and the rules framed thereunder. Originally it was felt that the emergency would not cease earlier than two years. To-day, Sir, so far as we have been able to judge the conditions and the circumstances, it is not likely that the emergency will be over within one year. That is why we have adhered to two years. If the emergency should cease earlier that circumstance will be taken into account. If such a good thing could happen to us we will welcome it. But as things stand at present, it does not look like that. We are searching for anything that we can get to tide over these two months of the food crisis. Therefore, Sir, two years may be allowed. I oppose the amendment moved. This was opposed in the Select Committee also and I thought it would not come up here again."

10th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

Clause 2.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I am not moving my amendment, Sir."

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I am not moving my amendment, Sir."

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 4.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this was also a matter considered in the Select Committee and certain improvements were made, I know. Unfortunately, they have not satisfied me completely and therefore I would like to request the Hon. the Premier to take away the word 'ordinarily' from the proviso. My intention is to lessen the inconvenience and harassment that may be caused by the indiscretion and even the high-handedness of the officers of the Government."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Is the hon. Member moving the two amendments standing in his name?"

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move the following amendment, Sir:—

'In sub-clause (1) of clause 4, first proviso, after the words "religious worship," the words "or family residence" shall be inserted.'

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"What about the second amendment?"

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I am not moving that amendment, Sir."

The amendment was put and lost.

[10th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Sir, there is a type mistake in the second proviso: the word 'a' should not be there before the word 'buildings' and it should be deleted. If any formal amendment is necessary, I shall move one, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It is only a printer's mistake and may be corrected without an amendment."

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I am not moving my amendment to clause 4, sub-clause (3)."

Clause 4 was put and carried.

Clause 5.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Sir, I move—

'that after sub-clause (2) of clause 5, the following proviso shall be added:—

"Provided that no compensation shall be payable to any movable property belonging to a person who has been already convicted of the offence of selling goods at excessive profits."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"This is an amendment which is moved just now, and Mr. Speaker, you have said that you would not accept . . ."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I have not said anything about this amendment."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"May I read the amendment again?"

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Yes."

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I move, Sir—

'that after sub-clause (2) of clause 5, the following proviso shall be added:—

"Provided that no compensation shall be payable to any movable property belonging to a person who has been already convicted of the offence of selling goods at excessive profits."

"Sir, the whole Bill is based on the Defence of India Rules and the Ministry is deriving inspiration from the Defence of India Rules. Not even amendments have been made in the Defence of India Rules and all the defects in the Defence of India Rules are being carried into this Bill. That is why I have been forced to move this amendment. We all know, Sir, so many cases of black-marketing going on in our Province. Sir, compensation should be paid only to those people who are charging fair prices and are useful to the people. I do not find any reason for paying compensation to those who have always charged excessive profits and resorted to blackmarketing. They have already derived their compensation in the blackmarket. Under these circumstances, I do not find any necessity for paying compensation for taking away their movable articles from persons who have been convicted or against whom cases have been launched for blackmarketing. With these words, I move the amendment."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"Is any hon. Member seconding the amendment?"

(There was no seconder.)

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.
Clause 5 was put and carried.

Clause 6.

There being no amendments, clause 6 was put and carried.

Clause 7.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move, Sir—

'that in sub-clause (1) (b), for the words "land whether appurtenant to a building or not" the words "not appurtenant to a residential building" shall be substituted.'

"Sir, even this question was considered in the Select Committee and unfortunately my amendment was not accepted. I feel, Sir, that if the section is allowed to stand as it is, even small residential buildings where families reside which are close to lands may be taken possession of by the Government without any reason, even out of malice and people put to inconvenience and hardship. I want that such a very wide power should not be given under this section. I request that my amendment may be accepted."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"I oppose the amendment, Sir."

The amendment was put and lost.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move, Sir—

'that sub-clause (2) be omitted.'

"Sir, even in the Select Committee, there was a very keen controversy over the very wide powers contemplated under this section. The owner of the land will not only be dispossessed of the land but will also be subject to other punishments contemplated in this section. Therefore, I feel, Sir, that this sub-clause should be completely omitted."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment."

* SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Sir, I would ask the Hon. Minister to give this House an assurance that in the execution of this sub-clause 7 (2), no harsh steps will be taken. As can be seen from the proceedings of the Select Committee placed on the table of the House, if the word 'wilfully' had been inserted after the word 'failed', it would have prevented a harsh use of this section. If a person for reasons beyond his control is unable to comply with Government orders, then he should not be punished."

[Sri N. S. Varadachari] [10th September 1946]

I pleaded for this in the Select Committee, but I withdrew my plea when I thought I had made the Government understand my view-point, namely, that in the case where a person has failed to comply with the order, not wilfully, but for proper reasons, he should at least be given a reasonable amount of compensation for the use of the land that is denied to him, but which will vest either in the Government or in some nominee of the Government. I only ask for an assurance in the matter and I do not wish to say anything more."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"It is a standing assurance, Sir, to the public that no section or no provision will be used harshly or unnecessarily."

The amendment was put and declared lost.

* D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I have not heard many 'Noes' at all, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I heard them. If the hon. Member wants, I will put the amendment again."

The amendment was put again and lost.

Clause 7 was put and carried.

Clause 8.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move, Sir—

'that in sub-clause (1), in line 2, after the word "authority" the words "not below the rank of a Gazetted Officer" shall be inserted.'

"The Government should be careful to see that no officer below the rank of a Gazetted Officer should be invested with these wide powers."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"If the amendment is accepted, it would be impossible of performance, this being an emergency measure."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 8 was put and carried.

Clause 9 was put and carried.

Clause 10 was put and carried.

Clause 11.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move, Sir—

'that in sub-clause (1) (b) of clause 11, after the word "by" and before the word "post," the word "registered" shall be inserted.'

"I want, Sir, that in the matter of notices we must make sure that a person to whom the notice is sent gets the notice and does not miss it. Therefore I want to have the word 'registered' inserted."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment."

10th September 1946]

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 11 was put and carried.

Clause 12.

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir move—

'that in line 2 of sub-clause (1) of clause 12, after the figure "7" the figure and letter "(1) (a)" be inserted.'

"This is done in response to the request made by some Members on the other side that the penalties must not be imposed on persons committing offences under section 7 (1) (b), i.e., persons who fail to bring under cultivation any waste land or arable land. The Government have accepted the amendment."

The amendment was put and carried.

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I move, Sir—

'that in sub-clause (2), in lines 1 and 2, for the words "an order issued under this Act," the following words shall be substituted, namely:—

"an order made under this Act or continued under section 9".'

"This is merely a formal amendment, Sir."

The amendment was put and carried.

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I move—

'In lines 5 and 6 of sub-clause (3), for the words "order made or deemed to be made under this Act" substitute the words "an order made under this Act or continued under section 9".'

The amendment was put and carried.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir move—

'that sub-clause (4) (b) be omitted.'

"I find, Sir, that this clause is very wide and gives power to Government to punish people who are supposed to do a thing which is very vaguely put in here. Even an attempt to evade is so to be made an offence. The very fact that we are not sure what is meant by the expression put in here is enough to show that very great injustice is likely to be done if this clause continues in the Bill. I therefore move my amendment for the deletion of this clause."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"There is a formal amendment to sub-clause (4) of clause 12, which I move, viz—

'that for the words "an order issued under this Act" in lines 1 and 2, the words "an order made under this Act or continued under section 9" be substituted.'

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 12 as amended was put and carried.

[10th September 1946]

Clause 13.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, I move—

'that in clause 13, in lines 2 and 3, the words "or does any act preparatory to a contravention of an order made under the provisions of this Act" be omitted.'

"If these words are retained, it is clear that an act even of preparation is likely to be taken as an offence. Even though this Bill may be a matter of urgency, I would request the Government to delete these words, so that mere preparations need not be taken as offence against this measure. I feel, Sir, it will be a great injustice if these words are allowed to exist even in this temporary piece of legislation."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I want to move a formal amendment—

'that in line 3 of clause 13, for the words "an order under the provisions of this Act," the words "an order made under this Act or continued under section 9" be substituted.'"

The amendment was put and carried.

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I move that—

'in lines 6 and 7, for the words "an order made under any of the provisions of this Act," the words "an order made under this Act or continued under Section 9" be substituted.'"

The amendment was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will now put clause 13 as amended to the vote of the House."

Clause 13, as amended, was put and carried.

Clause 14.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I do not move my amendment, Sir."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will put clause 14 to the vote of the House."

Clause 14 was put and carried.

Clause 15.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, I move—

'that clause 15 be amended as follows:—

"Any offence punishable under this Act shall be a cognizable offence as defined in the Indian Penal Code and the Criminal Procedure Code."

"Sir, up till now the Defence of India Rules have been in operation, but we want to know how many cases of blackmarketing have escaped punishment. Private individuals are not allowed to launch cases against these blackmarketeers. Even though blackmarketing was caught and handed over to the officers, the officers used to allow those blackmarketeers to escape punishment. That is why you find up till now very few cases launched for blackmarketing. If my amendment is accepted, the public will have an opportunity to launch cases against the blackmarketeers, and they can be brought to book and punished. That is why I am suggesting this amendment."

[10th September 1946] [Sri Pillalamarri Venkateswarlu]

* MR. SPEAKER (after a pause):—"Your amendment falls through for want of a seconder."

"I will now put clause 15 to the vote of the House."

Clause 15 was put and carried.

Clause 16.

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move—

'that the whole clause be omitted.'

"We all know it is against all canons of British jurisprudence to say that the burden of proof should be shifted on to the defence. I ask the Hon. Minister for Law what justification there is for this provision, even though this may be an emergency piece of legislation. We have not known of any such provision in any legislation so far as British jurisprudence goes. Therefore, I want the deletion of this whole clause."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment."

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I want to say this because the hon. Member has asked me to reply. Even in the case of the Penal Code there are exceptions, and this is merely an exception here. If a person has got property on his hand without a permit or licence, the burden of proof is placed upon him; it is because he has no permit or licence, that the burden of proof is placed on him."

The amendment was put and lost.

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I move, Sir—

'that in lines 1 to 3 for the words "any order made or deemed to have been made under the provisions of this Act," the words "any order made under this Act or continued under section 9" be substituted.'"

The amendment was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I will now put clause 16 as amended to the vote of the House."

Clause 16, as amended, was put and carried.

Clauses 17 to 19.

Clauses 17 to 19 were put and carried.

Schedule.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"I am not moving my amendment, Sir."

The schedule was put and carried.

Preamble.

The Preamble was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, I now move—
'that the Bill be passed into law.'"

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is very unfortunate that in this House there is very little consideration paid to reason. I do not mind from what quarters any reasonable suggestion comes, but the suggestion has to be tested from the point of view whether it is reasonable or not. No doubt the Government looks upon us as its enemies. They are entitled to do so, but even from the enemy's side if some reasonable suggestion comes, it has to be given proper attention. Now look at the way in which not only this Bill but so many other Bills are being pushed through this House. The reason given by the Government was that we are living in extraordinary times. Though the war is over, the aftermath of war is there, we are told, and we must be deemed to be living under the same war conditions. The Defence of India Rules are about to expire and some provision must be made for their continuance under the Government of India Act. Under these extraordinary circumstances, unless those powers are legalized and continued, it would be difficult to carry on the administration of the country—that is what we are told. It was in that connexion that I proposed an amendment this morning that the further consideration of these measures might be deferred until it was definitely known whether the present Interim Government was going to continue the Defence of India Rules or not. I had sent a short notice question yesterday on this matter in order to elicit information."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member gave it at a late hour."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I could have the information from the Press only on Saturday evening and so I sent the question yesterday. That is all I could do."

p.m. "Even now, Sir, when I made the amendment on this point, the Hon. the Premier did not think it worthwhile even to answer whether he had any information or not, or whether he had bestowed any attention to that. He did not even have the courtesy to refer to it. Now, Sir, I ask whether it is not a matter to be taken into consideration at all in pushing these Bills in this hurried manner. If the Defence of India Rules are to be continued, there may not be any necessity for these provisions at all. When such is the case, Sir, I ask, why the Government should have treated this suggestion with that kind of contempt? Is it a matter to be treated with such a contempt? A point has been raised as to the necessity of proceeding with these important measures in this hurried manner. Many of the Members had not even the time to read and study the provisions and when these are matters of very great importance, not only to the Government but to the people also, they must know what things are being done in their name and for their benefit; whether it will be good for them or bad for them; they have got a right to know and the Members of this House who represent the people of the province and the public also should know where they stand. All on a sudden one fine morning, half a dozen Bills revolutionizing the whole law are being brought to the House for acceptance. Is it fair? And what was the necessity for such hurrying up? Should not the Government have ascertained beforehand whether there is any actual necessity or not? Should they not have got definite information whether the Defence of India Rules are to be continued or not? Even now, when I ask about it, they keep mum and they treat it with contempt. I do expect a more reasonable attitude from the Government.

"When you look into the Bill and see what kind of powers are vested in the Government, it will be seen that some of them are Hitlerian powers. Whenever we wanted certain powers to be defined—let them be defined in the Act itself in any manner they like and they can take any power—but the people must know where they stand. Sir, many of the provisions of this Bill are very harsh and they will work very great hardship also. When one hon. Member from the other side drew the attention of the Government as to the harshness which it might cause, of course, the only assurance that he could get from the Hon. the Premier was that everything will be all right—it was a general assurance—the Government is a good Government and so the presumption is that it will act only in a good manner and not improperly. Of course, the Hon. the Premier is one of the best men we have come across and therefore everything can be left to his goodness. I have more faith in his goodness than in all these laws which are passed."

* SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"May I ask for information as to what the other side felt about the matter? They could have guided us in the Select Committee stage."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, the matter was thrashed out in the Select Committee and even in seconding the very first amendment relating to section (c), I said that speeches in this House have become practically useless and it is only waste of time and that is why I did not speak. So far as the attitude of my part is concerned, that has been made quite clear in the Select Committee and it was only out of despondency some amendments were moved formally and I formally seconded them without wasting a word. Why should the time of the House be wasted when hon. Members have much more useful work to do than to be sitting here? Therefore, I submit to Government that they should take a more reasonable view of these matters of very great importance. I do not want to refer to particular clauses in this measure since it will have the same effect as the other remarks made by other Members. Lastly, I would only appeal to the Government in the name of the people to give an assurance that these harsh clauses will not be worked in an arbitrary and harsh manner."

* SRI P. NATESAN:—"Sir, as I said already, I give my entire support to this Bill on behalf of the mercantile community. Sir, the Premier, during the Select Committee, at the very outset, said that we are passing through very critical times and these powers are very much necessary for the Government to run smoothly and efficiently. Sir, he has a very courteous way of getting round the Opposition. I had a number of amendments on my hand, but when the Premier told us that no harsh treatment would be meted out to the public and to the merchants especially, I did not force my amendments through. Sir, in the general working of the Act, I wish the Government give strict instructions to its subordinates to see that no harassment is caused, particularly in the mufassal districts.

"Sir, in clause 14, you have got a big opportunity of roping in Secretaries, Directors, Managing Directors, etc., for very trifling reasons. Clause 14 reads:

'If the person who contravenes or is deemed to contravene an order made under section 3, section 4 or section 7 or continued under section 9, is a company or other body corporate, every director, manager, Secretary or other officer or agent thereof shall, unless he proves that the contravention took place without his knowledge and that he exercised all due diligence to prevent such contravention, be deemed to be guilty of such contravention.'

"Here I wish to point out that the word 'and' in the section quoted was not in the original Bill, it has been substituted for the word 'or'; this addition of the word 'and' would certainly cause embarrassment to the companies. I happen to be the Managing Director of a concern, I am here in the Assembly; I do not know what my staff is doing in my office; but, according to this, if something goes wrong in my office, I have got to give proof that I have exercised all due diligence. Now, what is the degree of diligence that has to be exercised? I hope the Hon. Premier will kindly see that this hardship on behalf of the company directors is taken into consideration while giving instructions to his officers.

"Sir, I can only once again reiterate what I have said already and I would like to have an assurance on the floor of this House that undue harassment will not take place and that the Government will help the mercantile community as far as possible. I may also incidentally add that the mercantile community has been able to adjust itself to the present conditions and hope that the Government will enable the mercantile community to co-operate with them at all times."

* P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, these are days of interim arrangements and these interim arrangements are unfortunately unpopular and I believe and hope that in the working of these interim measures the Government will be very careful. I know the Hon. the Premier has assured us that so far as it lies in him no harassment or any hardship will be tolerated, but, Sir, in this connexion I want to remind the Hon. the Premier that all actions and all deeds that are committed in the name of the Government cannot be controlled and checked by an ordinary human individual. We are satisfied about the sincerity and bona fides of the Hon. the Premier, but I am not in the least satisfied with the working of the measures that have been sponsored here which are deliberately flouted by the subordinates in the mufassal. Instances can be quoted and I may invite the attention of the Hon. the Premier to the number of complaints and applications and petitions that are pouring in even into the hands of the Members about the great harassment that is going on even in regard to procurement and the supply of sugar, kerosene and cloth for necessary articles. It was only yesterday that I got a very pitiable case in regard to the state of things happening. It has been represented to me by the inhabitants of a group of villages; it was said in that petition that a large number of Mappillas, simply because they are Muslim Leaguers, were denied even the elementary and necessary supply of cloth or kerosene or sugar. Sir, you are armed now with what I may call, an atomic bomb, I want the utmost and most careful attention of the Premier in the working of these measures. In fact, in spite of all the hopes that the Premier was good enough to inspire in us, I am in a state of despondency and if things continue in such a manner in Malabar, I am afraid matters will become serious. Though we want to extend our hand of co-operation, that is simply spurned and I wonder what the Government is thinking about the matter. I have just referred to a matter which seriously agitates the minds of the Mappillas. I find that in every matter we are being prevented from co-operating—I mean the Mappillas. I understand that in spite of all these things, you are rushing the military and especially Europeans and Gurkha soldiers to Malabar. For what purpose, I really cannot understand. If at all anything happens, it will be due to the harassment by the subordinate officers and misguided propaganda of Hindu ladies who are going to any extent to provoke the Mappillas. I want you to pay special attention to this matter. Knowing as I do the Hon. the Premier, I have every trust and hope that things will be set right as far as he is concerned.

"Coming to this measure, Sir, I said that this is a measure that is almost like an atomic bomb. I want this measure to be used only in very very rare instances and not for the harassment of any persons. My hon. Friend Mr. Natesan pointed out a provision, namely, clause 14, where the manager of a firm will be considered an offender if somebody else has done something without his knowledge. Matters like that can be repeated, and under clause 16, when I moved my amendment, the Hon. the Law Minister was pleased to say that even in the Penal Code in certain exceptions the burden of proof is on the defence. I do not know how he can maintain that it is a case of exception. I do not know how this is a measure of exception. It is a measure which is going to be introduced in an emergency. In conclusion, Sir, I cannot but offer my thanks to the Hon. the Premier for very readily accepting my amendment at the Select Committee. That related to a matter affecting the interests of a very large section of poor Mappilla fishermen of Malabar. I am indeed thankful to him for that. Certain other minor amendments also might have been accepted on the proposals that I had the honour to move. In this connexion, I want to tell my hon. Friend Mr. N. S. Varadachari about his complaint that we were not diligent enough to support him in the Select Committee. (Interruption.) We did not do it because we felt that in the presence of such an able advocate like Mr. Varadachari, no time need be wasted in repeating it. I once more request the Hon. the Premier to see that in the working of this measure people are not put to hardship."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Sir, I thank all the hon. Members who have enabled us to get through this important measure without any difficulty."

The motion was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The Select Committee Report on the Forest Bill has already been circulated to hon. Members. I wish to inform the House that amendments will be received till 11 a.m. to-morrow and amendments received after 11 o'clock will not be accepted."

III.—THE MADRAS BUILDINGS (LEASE AND RENT CONTROL) BILL, 1946.

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Sir, I beg to present the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to regulate the leasing of buildings and for control of rent in the Province of Madras and move that the Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

"Hon. Members have got copies of the report and the changes made by the Select Committee in the various clauses that have been discussed and approved. So, I have now only to request the House to take into consideration the Bill as submitted by the Select Committee after the amendments were made."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move that the further consideration of the Bill be deferred in view of the contemplated continuance of the Defence of India Rules."

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in seconding the motion that has been moved by the hon. the Deputy Leader of our party, I wish to urge that since the Defence of India Rules are not likely to terminate at the end of this month, which we shall presume as the Hon. the Prime Minister has not stated otherwise, the Bill before the House should be deferred. This Bill vitally affects the interests both of the landlords and the tenants: therefore, sufficient time should be afforded to the public to consider its various provisions. Moreover, since this Bill has been framed in a manner to help the rich rather than the poor, it needs revision.

10th September 1946] [Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin]

"With regard to house rents, there are two points of view—one is that of the landlords and the other of the tenants. The landlords urge that as the prices of articles have soared high, house-rents should fall in line with the general trend of rise in prices, particularly in view of the fact that in these days it is rather costly to maintain houses and keep them in proper repair. On the other hand, the tenants, who form the bulk of the poor and the middle class sections of society, contend that many of the landlords have reaped sufficient benefit by reason of capital appreciation. Many of the landlords have sold some of their properties at considerable profit amounting to at least double the sum that they had invested on the same, and in many instances, these properties, especially big houses, have to-day passed off into the hands of profiteers. Therefore, by excessive enhancement of the rents of houses, the Government will be benefiting the profiteers whom they themselves condemn. The tenants further urge that the landlords usually get a yield of five to six per cent on their big properties and seven to eight per cent on small properties, which should be deemed to be a sufficient return—these days on sound investments. Moreover, it is stated that the question of house rent should not be considered merely from the point of view of rise in prices but from a different angle as well, namely, the return that is available these days on sound investments. The yield from house properties should not be compared to the yield that one gets from stocks and shares, but on the other hand, to the yield that is obtainable on gilt-edged securities. It is common knowledge that the yield on gilt-edged securities has not gone up; but, on the other hand, has come down from 3 per cent to $2\frac{3}{4}$ and $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, why then should the yield from house properties be expected to be far in excess thereof. It is pointed out that people invest money in real property because this is considered to be one of the safest modes of investment like gilt-edged securities. One cannot invest money in sound investments and at the same time enjoy a high yield therefrom. Moreover, Sir, it is stated by the tenants that some of the provisions of the Bill, particularly with reference to the increase in the rent of houses above Rs. 50, will prove a real burden on the middle-class section of society. Even people who are paying a rent of slightly over Rs. 50 will be compelled to pay an increased rental of 25 per cent, and if they are unfortunate enough not to secure old houses, but are forced by reason of lack of accommodation to get into new ones, will have to pay an increase in rent of 50 per cent. It is asked whether it is reasonable in these days of high cost of living to expect those with an income of Rs. 300 or Rs. 400 who are now paying Rs. 60 or Rs. 70 by way of rent to pay 50 per cent over the amount they are paying at present. It is stated that in these days the middle-class people have suffered tremendously, so much so that no margin is left to them to meet any extra cost of living and that they are finding it extremely hard to make both ends meet; hence an increase of 25 and 50 per cent in their house rent will prove a real hardship to them. It is also asked that when in a big City like Calcutta, which is considered to be the second City in the whole of the British Empire, where living is exceedingly costly, only 10 per cent increase has been allowed in rent—why should not a similar increase or something like 12 or 15 per cent suffice in a place like Madras, where life is very much cheaper?

“Mr. Speaker, I have put forward the two points of view that are advanced on behalf of the landlords and the tenants. The points of view of both have to be carefully considered so that such steps may be taken as would promote the greatest good of the greatest number. In undertaking legislation every Government and every Legislature should strive towards that end. This principle of democracy, namely, the greatest good of the greatest number, enunciated by the famous Jeremy Bentham, and not personal considerations, should weigh with every true democrat. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I am of the opinion that this Bill should be deferred so that more time may be given to the people to consider its various clauses.”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, one of the points raised against bringing this Bill is that the Government of India are likely to continue the Defence of India Rules for some more time. Till this day, we have not been definitely informed whether the Defence of India Rules will lapse or not and this matter of the control of houses and rent is so important that we cannot take the risk. If the Government of India will continue the Defence of India Rules, we have the course left open to us to proceed under those changed circumstances. As it is, this emergency measure is necessary and it is only reasonable and wise to have this on the Statute Book as matters now stand.

“As regards the merits of the Bill, much can be said. It is true the Bill provides for some increase but that increase is not on the existing rent. Fair rent has to be fixed on the rent that was prevailing between 1939 April and 1940 April because that was the time when rents were normal and any increase that is contemplated under this measure is only with reference to the rent that was in existence in 1939–40. It cannot be denied that there has been enormous rise in prices of things since then and it is true that houses are considered as a safe investment and if rich persons have invested money in houses, the return they are entitled to get as rent may not be very much. But there are persons who depend solely on rent and rent alone and to them this rent is the only property. Therefore, the slight increase as is provided in this Bill is necessary to adjust their economy with the enhanced cost of living.”

* MR. SPEAKER:—“The Hon. Minister may continue his speech to-morrow.”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“I require only three minutes more to finish my speech, Sir.

10th September 1946] [Hon. Sri R. Raghava Menon]

“In enacting any measure, the interests of all classes of 1–30 people must be taken into account and we must see to it that as far as possible people already hard hit are not affected. The Select Committee has given very careful consideration to the question of enhanced rents. I have to emphasize that the increase is not over the present rents but with reference to rents obtaining in 1939–40, which were normal years. The fair rent is fixed by the Controller and there is also provision for adjustment of collections made in excess of the fair rent. It is very difficult to enact any legislation which will be good for both parties and will give both parties entire satisfaction. The Government have given the measure their careful consideration and I believe both the landlords and the tenants will have to be satisfied. After all this is not going to be a permanent measure. If the pressure as a result of the war is over and the exploitation of the position by the landlords which has arisen out of war conditions is over, certainly this Bill will not be on the Statute Book. My submission is that much could be said on both sides; but the measure that has been brought before the House is just and equitable and the Select Committee has bestowed much attention on it. I, therefore, appeal to the House to accept the Bill.”

The amendment was put and lost.

The original motion was put and carried.

IV.—MOTION RE WITHDRAWING RECOGNITION OF THE NON-GAZETTED OFFICERS' ASSOCIATION.

MR. SPEAKER:—“The House would remember that this morning I allowed Mr. Pocker to raise a debate on an important matter. Mr. Pocker will now initiate the debate.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, this is a matter of very great importance, not only to the people concerned but also the Government. So far as Government is concerned the services form their very back-bone. So far as the public are concerned, they are indebted to them for working day and night and help the administration to be carried on. Ever since the time when the East India Company took up the administration of the country, they knew they could not import their own people for certain jobs and therefore they provided for a certain kind of education in order to train people to carry on the administration and it was they, these trained people, that have been really carrying on the administration for a century and a half or two. During the short time at my disposal, I do not want to trace past history. The present position is that there is a very large number of employees who form the non-gazetted section of Government officers. I am told—I speak subject to correction—that they number nearly 1½ lakhs of persons. The whole administration of the country depends upon them. I wish Government realizes that they are as much human beings as the members of Government on the other side and members on this side of the House. Government servants have to live first and then alone they can work for the Government. If Government had given any serious consideration to the real state of affairs of those people, to their financial position and to the conditions under which they have been carrying on, they could not have been so callous and so indifferent as to order in the sort of way they had done; they could not have been so inhuman as they have behaved to these men. If they had any human considerations, they would not have allowed their own salary to be trebled and our own to be doubled and allow these starving men who have been toiling day and night only a pittance. Is it humanity, Sir? This Congress Government proclaimed from house tops that they stand for the rights of the poor, that they stand for the down-trodden. Is this the way in which these people have to be treated by you? They are your back-bone; they toil for you night and day and they have been toiling for the sustenance of the Government and for the good of the people and they are starved like this. Their salaries were revised decades ago and the country has undergone so many economic changes. Have Government given a moment's attention to these facts? Is it not their duty first of all to consider the conditions under which these Government servants work? Mr. Speaker, there is a man serving in your house and his salary was fixed ten years ago; will you allow him to continue on the same salary even now under existing conditions, when prices of essential stuffs have gone up, not threefold but even five or six fold? You will not and I do not pause for an answer. I want now to ask Government whether they have bestowed any consideration to this matter. How many months was it since they came into office that they brought forward legislation concerning the salaries of Ministers and members of the House including myself? Was it fair on their part to have done it? Even yesterday, there was a Bill for the salary of the Hon. President of the Legislative Council and it was dropped like a hot potato. I would like to know what consideration they have given to their salaries. Their salaries were fixed many decades ago and since then their salaries have undergone some changes, if at all, only for the worst. Prices do not stop and find a level with the pay given to these people and they have been rising, even six and seven fold in certain cases. Is it not a hint to them to help themselves? Are they to be allowed to help themselves? If that is so, there is no place amongst them for honest people. I know many people amongst them; there are men of very high character and morality and if I may say so, without disrespect to the members of Government, there are many amongst them who will run the Government much more efficiently than the present Government. I know by actual experience and can speak to their ability, their high character and integrity. Under the worst conditions under which they are living, they are honest and do not stoop to take a pie as bribe from any person but they borrow and starve. This is the way their appeal is treated. I believe they are given Rs. 4, such of them as are drawing in excess of forty up to 196 and the rest are given a relief of Rs. 3 only. Do you expect anyone to welcome this? The Hon. the Premier knows their conditions as much as any member of the

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [10th September 1944]

10th September 1946] [B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur]

Government or other members. Is it fair or is it just to treat them in this callous manner? It is only a month ago that the Government of India itself considered the question and I understand that the employees of the Government of India have been given an interim relief of Rs. 4-8-0 plus Rs. 3-12-0, Rs. 8-4-0 in all. I ask you Sir, whether you have come up to that level. In this very Fort there are offices of the Government of India and side by side with them employees of the Provincial Government are also working. The other people are at an advantage and these people receive only this pittance of a benefit. The Government of India employees get their relief with retrospective effect, so that those people will have some small amount to liquidate their heavy debts into which they have gone for some years. They are able to see a few rupees more in their hands. That is something. Could not the Government of Madras rise at least to the level of the Government of India in giving this interim relief? It is said that a Sub-Committee of the Cabinet has been appointed to go into this question. Let any number of Committees be appointed but let there be relief. It was also suggested that there was no necessity for a fresh committee at all. There is already a Report on this question with the Government and the Report was that of a Committee appointed during the Adviser Government. I understand that relief to the extent of 33-1/3 per cent has been suggested therein for certain class of employees. I ask if it is not possible to give effect to its recommendations. Even in giving interim relief, could not Government be a little more magnanimous and a little more human? What are they to do with this three or four rupees? Will it not encourage people to break the law? I am sure the Government has withdrawn recognition because they said in despair—they had no other go; they waited for so many months—that if relief was not forthcoming before the 5th October, they would resort to direct action. If they said that, they were only following the example set by you. Were you not doing it before? If so, why not they do it now? Are they not human beings? When it was a matter concerning you and your grievances were not you resorting to it? It is the same thing that they are doing now. In conclusion, I say that this is not a matter in which any speeches are required and it is self-evident that their grievances are genuine. I appeal to the humanity of the Government to the reason of the Government to see that there is satisfaction and that nothing untoward happens."

* SRI P. NATESAN:—"Sir, if I take part in this debate, it is because I took up this question, during the general budget discussion, of discontent prevailing amongst non-gazetted officers. I find matters are reaching a climax; they have served you a notice that they will strike work on the 5th, and in the meantime Government, evidently standing on prestige, have withdrawn recognition. I do not know what effect this withdrawal of recognition will have on the policy of the employees. I would only make an appeal to the employees to wait for some time so as to give breathing chance to the Premier. On the other hand, I must bring to the notice of the Ministry the very urgent necessity for an increase of salary for these persons. After all, they are taking this action simply because they are not in a position to live comfortably. As I said last time, I know all these people are indebted to a large extent. If the Government Servants' Conduct Rules concerning indebtedness, were enforced, at least 75 per cent of the people ought to be sacked at once. I know, Pathans are waiting outside on the 31st of the month to receive their collections. After all these are all educated people. These are not like the ordinary skilled or unskilled workers. I know they have a sense of responsibility about them. They have done everything that they possibly could. It is said they went and talked to the Premier. They had their own conference. They discussed the pros and cons of the questions, and evidently they have now come to this conclusion. Sir, to-day all over India the strike fever is spreading. The Imperial Bank of India and the Reserve Bank staff in the various branches all over India are beginning to strike work. Even in places like England you find that a number of people had gone and occupied somebody else's flat. That is the way people's mind works to-day. There is a wave of unrest. (Voice: 'Communist's ideas'.) I am not talking as a Communist. I am only trying to show that there is a wave of unrest in the country that people are not able to get on in life, that they get such miserable wages, that the cost of living has gone tremendously high, and that it is absolutely impossible for people to maintain a decent standard of living. (A voice: 'What about Mr. Natesan.')

Mr. Natesan can look after himself. Sir, I would also appeal to Non-Gazetted officers to see if they cannot wait for a few days more, and see if they can take the Government along with them. I would entreat the Premier to give his most sympathetic consideration to the grievances of these officers and see what best can be done under the circumstances, because I do not want it to be advertised that the Madras Government Non-Gazetted officers also are going on a strike."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is unfortunate that we are allowed such a very little time to discuss such an important thing. As has been said, about one and a half lakhs of non-gazetted officers are about to strike, and they are placed in such a condition that if they do not withdraw their strike notice, they will be dismissed, and their recognition will be withdrawn. Are these the tactics of the Congress Government? Are these tactics worth the name of the Congress Party? Will every Congress member think for himself and then answer why he during the election campaign went about saying 'we will grant minimum living wage.' When the time comes you do not even care to grant them the living wage. You do not even find the time to think over their conditions and to increase the salaries. No Cabinet Sub-Committees are needed to increase the salaries of the Ministers. You do not care to elicit public opinion, when you are increasing rent by even 50 per cent and more. How many of the non-gazetted officers can pay this rent, and continue to exist on this pittance of a salary? Let everybody think for himself and answer. I may say that the Madras Government is setting the pace for individual capitalists. The individual capitalist hesitates to withdraw to seek for non-recognition of trade unions. But the Government is not afraid of it. To-morrow what will be the reaction of the individual capitalist. The individual capitalist will say to any labour union, the 'Madras Government, the Congress Government, the popular Government has withdrawn recognition of the Non-Gazetted Officers' Association, what do you say now if I withdraw the recognition of your union?' This tactic adopted by the Government is tyrannical. Madras Government seek to declare war against the Non-Gazetted Officers and against people, and had already declared war against working class. I request the Hon. Prime Minister to withdraw the sentence that the recognition of the Association is withdrawn. I appeal to the Hon. Minister for Industries and Labour, who is an ardent trade-unionist, that this sentence will affect the trade union movement as a whole, and will smash trade unions as such. In the name of the working class who will strongly support the demand of Non-Gazetted Officers and who will stand behind them, I appeal to Government to look into these matters, particularly their salaries. A minimum living wage Bill must be passed into law before any other Bill is taken into consideration. Government ought to have considered this proposition of minimum wage legislation earlier than all other Bills. Without going into this Government has declared a war against the working classes and the non-gazetted officers. Government is carrying on its policy of repression and is bringing laws to crush every popular movement and to see that they are coerced."

(At this stage the Speaker rang the bell, and there were cries of order, order, and Mr. Venkateswarlu resumed his seat.)

* MR. W. J. FERNANDEZ:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I heartily sympathise with non-gazetted officers in their demand for relief. But I think it is a matter of very great regret is that these loyal body of workers have tarnished their bright record by resorting to a notice of a threat of strike. I have all along stood as the champion of the tax-payer. I do not think those who are supporting the demand have thought for a moment what will be the effect of giving relief to the non-gazetted staff as desired on the tax-payer. I saw a note in the Mail that if Government are to give Rs. 4 to every officer drawing Rs. 125 and under it will cost nearly two and a half crores of rupees and if they give the same Rs. 4 to those who are drawing between Rs. 125 and Rs. 200 it will cost another crores of rupees. I heard a conversation in the Library some days ago that there was a proposal to give each peon Rs. 10 but that even that relief would not be enough. They expect something like Rs. 20 or Rs. 25 per month. It will cost Government twenty or twenty-five crores of rupees a year. Where is the money to come from? The tax-payer cannot bear any extra burden. Unless we can show to Government a way out to give adequate help, we should not, I think, support their demand so strongly. We should be reasonable. Give them by all means help in such a way that you would not be throwing an unconscionable burden on the tax-payer."

M. A. SALAM SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, the point raised by the hon. Mr. Fernandez would have been well received if only this point of view had been applied when his own salary was raised. I can understand the anxiety of his community to associate themselves with whatever the Government does (Mr. Fernandez: 'No; I protest'), and his attempt now seems to be the same. This Government, as at present constituted, having twice bungled in the Scavengers' strike and the South Indian Railway strike, has committed a Himalayan blunder from which they will not be able to recover, and will not be able to settle this problem amicably—that is the cancellation of the recognition of the Non-Gazetted Officers' Association. It was the policy of this Government, as voiced by the Hon. Mr. V. V. Giri that this Government recognized peaceful picketing and peaceful ways and means to achieve the end so far as labour is concerned. But here comes a bolt from the blue—a blow below the belt. Government ought to have thought twice before they did this. If only the members of the Treasury Benches are not on the Treasury Benches, but outside, they would have rushed to the Press as soon as recognition is cancelled and would have given opinions that these things ought not to have been done. Because they are here, and because they are slowly becoming die-hards representing the old school of thought, they are not able to see the movement. Here at least they cannot have the prejudice that these organizations are backed by Communists. They can have no prejudice, and they can decide matters on facts and figures. Here is a claim which even this Government has said on their own word. For instance when the question of salaries came, it was the hon. Mr. Town who pointed to a very significant sentence in the recent Salaries Bill for increase of salaries for Ministers. That sentence says: 'This Government recognizes that there was cent per cent increase in the cost of living.' You said this about three months ago. This Government stood by a sentence that there was in this Presidency an increase of 100 per cent in the cost of living. Will you stand by it and give 100 per cent increase to the salaries of non-gazetted officers or do you want that these non-gazetted officers either to resort to actions which are not recognized by you or to resort to a thing which you have done in the past. It was the policy of the Government of India and also this Government that whenever an interim relief is given, it is given with retrospective effect. There is no meaning in giving relief from 1st August 1946. If you think relief is necessary and that conditions warrant it—I think conditions warrant it—you should give them with retrospective effect, that is, from July 1945. You took enhanced salaries for the last four months, and you give a pittance to these non-gazetted officers. Why is this disparity shown to them?"

[10th September 1946] [M. A. Salam Sahib Bahadur]

Either you must be incapable of understanding the conditions the world, or you must be some other thing. Do not stand formalities, do not stand by false prestige—which I am told has led to the cancellation of recognition. You are not dealing with scavengers or with other workers. You are dealing with a very intelligent, high qualified organization, and if you cancel the recognition, they also know better how to meet you. They will certainly meet you, and the way in which you have been behaving in the past in this matter clearly shows that you will not be able to meet the situation unless you adjust yourself. Again, Select Committees and Cabinet Committees have been appointed. The word 'Cabinet' has a history, and the Cabinet Ministers, elected from Parliament have not done well. I wonder whether the Cabinet Committee, after so much elaborate enquiry, has given only Rs. 3. Do you know the value of these Rs. 3 in this labour market? Either the Ministers must be very careful in their calculations or they will have to face, in the future, a trouble which they will not be able to settle. I appeal that a further Committee of representatives of this House be appointed to go into the matter or you must meet the demands and give relief with retrospective effect."

* SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have a very peculiar responsibility to discharge in this matter since most of my constituents are non-gazetted officers. I am not going to plead their cause to-day. I have done that, Sir, to the extent possible during the budget debate, and I shall not repeat arguments on this occasion. I am one who deprecates all strikes in essential services. I do not like servants of Government to strike. I will also add this caution that non-gazetted officers should not help themselves if they strike. But I must say and I will plead that they (Government) should choose discrimination between remedies, especially when more than one remedy is available. They must make the force of the power of persuasion felt in this matter rather than resort to measures like withdrawal of recognition from what I do not personally consider a trade union. Government servants do not form a trade union nor did Government servants ever claim that they were a trade union. In fact this act of withdrawal of recognition has now raised the status of a trade union, which I do not like. I do not propose to say a single word in respect of salaries themselves and the increases granted now by Government—they call it interim concession. Since I do not want it to be understood as complaint, I do not dare to refrain from doing so. It is for those affected and the public to agitate and secure redress of the grievances. I do my part. All I wish to say is this, that after announcing Government's decision on the main question they should not come out with a statement that they have withdrawn recognition to the Non-Gazetted Officers' Association. This Association has been working for 25 years not in the spirit of a trade union. It is true they have talked of direct action. We politicians take responsibility for all that. We politicians have been indulging in too much talk of direct action, and, in these days, these unfortunate words are often used by those who never mean to practise direct action. Direct action has lost much of its value to-day when a Government of our own is in office. What I would earnestly plead is that Government should not put too much meaning into these words which politicians may use, but which Government servants may not emulate it because they do not even understand them. I only wish to say this. It is good to develop strength, but it is not right to use it in the same manner or in like measure. I want Government to get back again into this question and restore the recognition to this body of loyal Government servants who want only to persuade Government to look into the case, and not indulge in threats. These are hard times, and hunger makes for much as the Government very well knows. I conclude with this request to the Hon. Prime Minister that he will reconsider this question of withdrawal of recognition, and he will not take words lightly used—glib talk—as serious threat, and proceed with a step that would really mean unnecessary and unintended provocation.”

* MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sorry to see that throughout the debate the members on the Treasury Benches, particularly Ministers, feel that there is nothing serious with regard to this problem, and they keep on smiling thinking that everything will go all right. They have to understand that if the threat were put into operation the whole machinery will collapse and this Government cannot be carried on for a day. Do not for a minute imagine that we are inciting the non-gazetted officers to resort to these methods. We want to discourage such tendencies. The main purpose of our party in expressing our opinion is to see that justice is done to them. In this connexion, I may say that Mr. Fernandez spoke about money. The whole point is that at the time when the budget proposals were formulated, the present Government could have thought of this contingency. They all felt that these problems will never occur and will never happen and ‘if they happen we will tackle them’. When the Government are spending three crores of rupees for the Khaddar scheme and one crore of rupees for the Harijan uplift could they not have thought of providing something to meet this contingency. A difficult situation has arisen and the difficulty is quite serious. I do not want time to dilate on individual cases. How do you expect your non-gazetted officers to maintain a family of five, six or seven members. It is humanly impossible. I ask the Government to explain as to how the family should live on Rs. 40 or Rs. 50 without incurring heavy debts. I should like to draw the attention of the House to a particular thing and finish my speech. Very recently, you may have seen that there was a strike by the Reserve Bank of India staff. Originally they were getting a salary of Rs. 40. I am sure hon. Members will have noticed that their salaries have been increased from Rs. 40 to Rs. 75 and for every child—if they are fortunate enough—they get Rs. 10, which is of course up to a maximum of Rs. 30. I say, therefore, Sir, that justice should be done to them. It is no use talking in a light-hearted manner that we do not have funds, particularly when compared to the services which they render. It is unjust, as was pointed out by us that these people are forced to work 10 hours and 12 hours—that too responsible work. And what is paid to them? A meagre sum which is not in proportion to the work that is expected of them. It is inhuman and cruel on our part to expect them to do that responsible work for the pittance we pay. Apart from financial considerations, I am sure Government will rise to the occasion and do justice to them. If they fail, it would be a bad day for the Government as was pointed out by the Deputy Leader of our party.”

[Muhammad Raza Khan Sahib Bahadur]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM :—“ We should consider this ^{2 p.m.} subject dispassionately without any excitement, without importing undue vehemence. As I have been stating in the past, I must tell here hon. Members of this House that they are all expected sooner or later to play the role of responsibility when their turn comes, and there is no good of discarding all rules and reason and speak whatever they consider proper to use it against the Government. It has been my anxiety that the hon. Members of this House would weigh the words when they enter defence for the non-gazetted officers and try to justify them without having any regard to the rules of discipline. No Government can function if indiscipline is sown and encouraged without looking to the consequences. Apart from the many considerations, can any institution function if indiscipline is preached. This is not a case in which for the first time the salaries are fixed by those who have come to office four months back. As I pointed out on another occasion these salaries had been fixed very long time ago at a low rate for almost all the Government servants. This is not a case in which the present Government took into its head to reduce the salaries which had been ranging at a high rate. Wherefrom has this enthusiasm come now? How has this been fomented by expressions which are not calculated to be of any service? I can understand if the Government has taken a sudden jump and reduced the salaries for protestations to be recorded. What has been going on for such a long time has been continued for a few months. Why this anger? Why this temper of the hon. Member Mr. Pocker and the hon. Member Mr. Natesan? (Mr. P. Natesan : ‘I only requested that the Premier may see that something is done.’) For anybody, Sir, it would be unjust and improper that they should get off the proper balance in considering this situation. Is there anything unreasonable which this Government has been endeavouring to do? How does this spirit come into these non-gazetted officers and then threaten the Government with direct action? Wherefrom did they get it? How did they forget that their union was recognized by Government to enable them to ventilate their grievances and put forth grievances? The position of Government servants, Sir, is quite different from that of other independent persons. No Government will function if such a spirit gets into the head of these officers and they threaten with direct action. It is unthinkable and unimaginable in any part of the world if these unions that had been recognized by Government and given the freedom to put forth grievances should turn round and follow the example of those who say that they will have recourse to direct action. I should have expected every hon. Member of the House to realize what is going on. A Sub-Committee of the Cabinet Ministers was formed with a view to inquire into this matter and give some immediate relief if not a final relief as may be found just and proper. That is what has been done by this Government. When the Committee was considering the proposals the Government of India published a communiqué in which they formulated certain proposals as interim proposals. That enabled, Sir, the Sub-Committee of the Ministers to take a decision, an interim decision on the lines or very near the lines indicated by the Government of India. Non-gazetted officers are persons who have been working as servants of the Government. They are the persons who are expected to do their business without getting a temper. They have passed a resolution in which they reiterated their challenge and reasserted their determination to carry on direct action if within a certain time their demands are not complied with. Having regard to the agitation and the strikes that have been carried on during the last so many months they may be pardoned if they become unreasonable. How can hon. Members of this House who know their full responsibility be exonerated, Sir, when they have recourse to a language which they have been using against the Government? Nothing has happened. It is the duty of the Government, it is the duty of the hon. Members of the House and it is also your duty, Sir, to maintain the discipline and enable the Government to carry on the administration. For every little thing if hon. Members should work themselves up into a fury and then, Sir, use all the vocabulary they could command against the Government it would be a difficult time. I am not worried, Sir, about the harshness of the words or the rudeness of the expressions because we are here to meet with all rudeness and with all expressions. In their own interest let me tell the hon. Members of the House they should look upon this Government as their own Government; even though they form the opposition, they should look upon the Government as their own and help the people outside, the parties concerned to understand and act with reason. All that has been abandoned and they have been saying what they have not said up till now; everything they could command they have said. Any expression which came to them was used. This the Government does not deserve. This Government has been labouring under very extraordinary circumstances. How many crores it might become if a particular rate of increase is accepted we need not worry. But we should worry if the heart does not come to the help of the Government. Government has not been acting unreasonably.

10th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

Government appointed a sub-committee with the hope that it may relieve to some extent the interim suffering. At once they say 'no interim allowance, we are determined to carry on direct action.' This attitude on the part of the Government servants is due to the encouragement given, unconsciously it may be. The Government of India gave an enhancement of Rs. 3 and Rs. 4-8-0. Same it may be on the whole system of Government, both in the centre and the provinces. The Government of India has announced an increment, an interim increment and have said that it was not final. When that announcement was made by the Government of India those persons for whom the announcement was made, the workers there, the officers there, call them by any name you like, they did not get into a fury and tell the Government of India: 'Even though you have allowed this, we do not accept your proposal. We go to direct action. We are determined to carry on that.' Who is responsible for this attitude of the non-gazetted officers in this Province? We have not given any offence in any direction. Who is responsible? The responsibility is upon these hon. Members, who have been fretting and fuming and condemning this Government without recognizing even a little that has been done. No insinuation, no inuendo is made. I am dealing with the question straight as it has been stated here. If there is anything unparliamentary I would not hesitate to withdraw. There is nothing unparliamentary. Mr. Pocker, Mr. Salam and other friends should have some little reason and judgment when they take the Government and condemn it outright. When that is not done it is the duty of the Government, Sir, to deal with the situation in a straight manner and tell the hon. Members how this position has come up and how the officers of the Government of India, after that increment was announced, did not rebel, did not declare that they were determined to carry on direct action. Why should they have recourse to it? You might say it is error of judgment. I do not quarrel with persons who make mistakes in judgment. They were very much misled. They ought not to have done that. The Chief Secretary invited them to put the case before them. Is it right that Government servants whose recognition was given by the Government, should take up this attitude? Try to reason with them and point out that they had taken an unreasonable attitude. Some of them, Sir, admitted that it was a mistake. You will find on the file on which that note has been made.

"Some of them who met him admitted that it was a mistake to have given the notice. They admitted that they should not have done that. The Chief Secretary was encouraged by this and he followed up saying 'You will please withdraw your letter of direct action.' He reasoned with them, he argued with them and he asked them to withdraw the notice. They promised to reconsider the matter. They considered and after some time they said 'No.' How did they come to this conclusion? Who were the persons who prompted them to do like that? Who were the persons who encouraged them to adopt that attitude? The non-gazetted officers should be serious. They should not go under the ill-name of those people who have been fomenting strikes, who have been fomenting direct direction.

"Sir, it has been pointed out 'You showed the way in the past. What is wrong if others follow it at this juncture.' There also I expect hon. Members to have reason with them. What did the Congress preach? Why did they go to the jails? What are the issues involved? Were those issues like this? The question of freedom was the issue. Therefore it was, that the Congress advocated direct action. Not once, not twice, not thrice, but at least half-a-dozen times during the last 25 years, did the Congress resort to direct action and it is only as a result of that that the country has been raised to the present status. If there were any legitimate complaints from the other side, the Government would have no quarrel with them. They will enquire into those complaints with a view to remedy them. Complaints were made by a certain section that they were not able to make peaceful picketing. This Government at once issued a communiqué defining peaceful picketing and also defining violent picketing and the consequences of violent picketing. Therefore I submit, Sir, that what was done by the Congress should not be quoted by my hon. Friends. Whether occasion arises, when some of the hon. Members may have recourse to similar action for a similar purpose, it is a different matter. I am glad, Sir, during the last 25 years the training given by the Congress to the people all over India, including the opponents has brought them into the right groove, namely, that they also want to carry on their programme in a non-violent manner. Even the Leader of the Muslim League has expressed that expression although some members might have been using that expression in quite the reverse direction. But my request is 'Let us try to pull the whole of our business together and carry on the Government with mutual help and accommodation.'

"Therefore, Sir, I say that the position taken by the non-gazetted officers and those who have been defending them is unjust and untenable. What do these non-gazetted officers mean when they say 'We do not care. We will carry on direct action.' Sir, I hope that the non-gazetted officers, at least at this stage will realize that they are the servants of the people, that they are bound by rules, that they have maintained the position of the Government and also have maintained their position. This is not the way that the non-gazetted officers should behave towards the Government. Some hon. Members said, 'Oh, disaster would come upon the Government.' Nothing of that sort would happen. That is a wrong impression, Sir. Hon. Members may note that in this world there are crores of people who have got to work in order to live. There should be no wrong impression that the consequences would be serious."

10th September 1946] [Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

or that the Government would cease to function by whatever action they might take. The Government will cease to function only when the Government is forced to do so by the country as a whole. Therefore, in their own interests, I tell the non-gazetted officers not to pursue the line which they have adopted. They must change; they must try to become reasonable and they must try to put reason into their actions. After all, what is it that has been done now? Just now, only interim relief has been given. The final results of the Committee have not been announced yet. If they become unreasonable, then the Government will have to deal with the situation in their own way.

"Therefore, Sir, I would suggest to the non-gazetted officers to change their attitude, recognize that they are Government officers and that there is a union recognized by the Government. It is only because the Association was recognized by the Government that they have developed their strength. It is not the intention of the Government that they should be bottled up. That is why recognition was given to their Association. But when they have turned round and said, 'We do not care; we would resort to direct action and we would not listen to what the Government say' the Government had to do what is reasonable in the circumstances, to show how reason can be put into their heads."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I have received a slip from the House saying that the House is hungry. I shall give one minute to the hon. Mr. Pocker who has just risen from his seat."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am very sorry that the Hon. the Premier should have gone to the extent of accusing hon. Members of this House who have spoken on this occasion—at any rate some of them—of the charge of inciting these non-gazetted officers to strike or do anything contrary to law. As a matter of fact, there was nothing in the speech of any of the hon. Members showing anything in the nature of an incitement to strike or even an indication to that effect. As a matter of fact, the only appeal that was made was that the Government was not right in giving no adequate relief to them. No doubt, the conduct of the Government was characterized as cruel and inhuman. I do not think that that can be taken as inciting them to strike and as a matter of fact, the Hon. the Premier was wrong in accusing us of having used improper language and he went on preaching homilies to us as to what language should be used. No, Sir, as to the language that was used, every word of it was parliamentary and if there was an objection to it, it should have been raised then and there."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"He never said that the hon. Member used unparliamentary language."

APPENDIX III.

[Vide answer to unstarred question No. 51 asked by Sri G. Kumaraswami at the meeting of the Legislative Assembly held on the 10th September 1946, page 1517 supra.]

Press Communiqué No. 21 of the Government of Madras, Home Department, dated 4th September 1945.

Some months ago Government accepted a recommendation of the Post-war Reconstruction Committee in favour of the state ownership of public passengers motor transport. This decision has caused considerable speculation among those engaged in the motor transport and allied businesses who wonder how their interests and prospects are affected. The following statement is intended to clarify the position.

Government adhere to their decision in favour of state ownership as the ultimate aim of their policy. At the same time many factors such as the shortage of vehicles and trained personnel and the possibility of an elected Government which will have a right to make their own decision in a matter of such fundamental importance make it impossible to take any far-reaching steps towards the ultimate objective at this juncture. The immediate objectives of Government are the improvement of the services offered to the public and their co-ordination with other means of transport, particularly the railways.

As regards the first, under G.O. No. 1467, Home, dated 7th May 1945, small bus operators will amalgamate into concerns of such a size that they can afford to maintain proper facilities for maintenance and repair of their vehicles. The small bus owner who had no facilities for looking after his bus properly, or could not afford to do so or to maintain "Reserve" buses has long been an obstacle to the improvement of bus services, and for a considerable time the Government have been placing before him the advantages of, and need for, amalgamation. The unwillingness of the Government of India to release to such small concerns "controlled vehicles", which are in short supply and have to be put to the best use, made necessary more active methods than persuasion. The effect of this Government Order is that hereafter permits for new routes or for new services on existing routes will be granted only to operating concerns owning at least 20 buses and having facilities for their repair, maintenance and that the permits of small owners will not be renewed after 31st December 1945 unless they have become part of such a concern. Provision is made for the Provincial Motor Transport Controller to act as arbitrator in case of dispute over the terms of amalgamation.

A well organized road transport system is of a paramount interest to the Provincial Government and the co-ordination of road and rail passenger services is of not less interest to the Central Government of which the railways are now a department. The Central Government propose to prevent wasteful competition between road and rail services by forming with existing operators joint road rail companies to run bus services on roads which are parallel to or act as a "feeder" to a railway. The Government of Madras have agreed to the promotion of such companies and will be a partner in them formally taking a share equal to that of the Central Government. Existing operators will not be subject to any pressure to join such companies or to discriminate if they refuse, but it is hoped that the manifest advantages will be sufficient persuasion. Such a company would be protected from competition, to the extent that if all the present road operators joined it and so it held a de facto monopoly new permits would not be given to any new operator on the route in question. Routes operated by both a joint road rail company and private operators Government would normally offer any additional permits to the road rail company.

[10th September 1946]

To

THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,
MADRAS.

The SELECT COMMITTEE appointed to consider the Madras Buildings (Lease and Rent Control) Bill, 1946 (L.A. Bill No. 4 of 1946), has the honour to make the following report.

2. This Bill was published in an Extraordinary issue of the Fort St. George Gazette in English on the 29th August 1946.

3. The Committee was appointed on the 5th September 1946 with the instruction that a report be presented to the House on the 9th September 1946.

4. The Committee met in the Committee Room, Fort St. George, on the 7th and 8th September 1946, and considered the provisions of the Bill and submit the following report.

5. There are only a few important changes effected by the Select Committee in the Bill. They are as follows:—

Clause 3, sub-clause (1), proviso.

The Committee have substituted “thirty rupees” for “fifteen rupees” as they felt that it was necessary that small buildings whose monthly rent did not exceed thirty rupees should not come under the purview of this clause.

Clause 4.

As regards the fixing of rent under clause 4, the Committee felt that the percentages of increase allowed were on the generous side and therefore considered it necessary to reduce those percentages as in the amended Bill annexed.

Clause 14.

It was considered that the punishment provided in the clause should not extend to the contravention of the provisions of the whole Act. Therefore they have restricted the punishments to the contravention of provisions of sections 3, 5 and 8 of the Act only and also substituted “simple imprisonment” for the word “imprisonment” contained in that clause.

Mr. Rawoof took strong objection to impose any punishment by imprisonment for contravening any section or violating any provision of the Act.

6. The Select Committee considers that in view of the few amendments effected in the Bill by it, it is not necessary to republish it.

7. A copy of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee is annexed.

R. RAGHAVA MENON,
Chairman.

(5) In the case of a building for which the fair rent has been fixed before the commencement of this Act, the Controller shall on the application of the landlord allow such increase in the fair rent as in the opinion of the Controller the landlord is entitled to under this section.

[10th September 1946]

5. When the fair rent of a building has been fixed under section 4, no further increase in such fair rent shall be permissible except in cases where some addition, improvement or alteration has been carried out at the landlord's expense and if the building is then in the occupation of a tenant, at his request:

Provided that the fair rent as increased under this section shall not exceed the fair rent payable under this Act for a similar building in the same locality with such addition, improvement or alteration and it shall not be chargeable until such addition, improvement or alteration has been completed:

Provided further that any dispute between the landlord and tenant in regard to any increase claimed under this section shall be decided by the Controller.

6. When the Controller has determined the fair rent of a building—

(a) the landlord shall not claim or receive any premium or other like sum in addition to fair rent or any rent in excess of such fair rent, but the landlord may stipulate for, and receive as advance, an amount not exceeding one month's rent;

(b) any agreement for the payment of any sum in addition to rent or of rent in excess of such fair rent except in cases falling under section 5 or clause (a) of this section shall be null and void in respect of such addition or excess and shall be construed as if it were an agreement for payment of the fair rent;

(c) any sum paid in excess of the fair rent, whether before or after the commencement of this Act in respect of the use of the building after the commencement of this Act, shall be refunded to the person by whom it was paid or at the option of such person otherwise adjusted.

7. (1) A tenant in possession of a building shall not be evicted therefrom, whether in execution of a decree or otherwise and whether before or after the termination of the tenancy, except in accordance with the provisions of this section:

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall apply to a tenant whose landlord is the Provincial Government:

Provided further that where the tenant denies the title of the landlord or claims right of permanent tenancy, the Controller shall decide whether the denial or claim is bona fide and if he records a finding to that effect, the landlord shall be entitled to sue for eviction of the tenant in a civil court and the court may pass a decree for eviction on any of the grounds mentioned in this section, notwithstanding that the court finds that such denial does not involve forfeiture of the lease or that the claim is unfounded.

(2) A landlord who seeks to evict his tenant shall apply to the Controller for a direction in that behalf. If the Controller, after giving the tenant a reasonable opportunity of showing cause against the application, is satisfied—

(i) that the tenant has not paid or tendered the rent due by him in respect of the building, within fifteen days after the expiry of the time fixed in the agreement of tenancy with his landlord or in the absence of any such agreement, by the last day of the month next following that for which the rent is payable; or

(ii) that the tenant has after the commencement of this Act without the written consent of the landlord—

(a) transferred his right under the lease or sub-let the entire building or any portion thereof; or

[10th September 1946]

(b) used the building for a purpose other than that for which it was leased; or

(iii) that the tenant has committed such acts of waste as are likely to impair materially the value or utility of the building; or

(iv) that the tenant has been guilty of such acts and conduct which are a nuisance to the occupiers of buildings in the neighbourhood; or

(v) that where the building is situated in a place other than a hill-station, the tenant has ceased to occupy the building for a continuous period of four months without reasonable cause, the Controller shall make an order directing the tenant to put the landlord in possession of the building and if the Controller is not so satisfied, he shall make an order rejecting the application.

(3) (a) A landlord may apply to the Controller for an order directing the tenant to put the landlord in possession—

(i) in the case of a residential building, if he requires it for his own occupation and if he is not occupying a residential building of his own in the same city, town or village :

Provided that a landlord who has obtained relief under this clause shall not be entitled to make further application under this clause.

(ii) in the case of a non-residential building, if he is not occupying for purposes of a business which he is carrying on, a non-residential building in the City, town or village concerned which is his own or to the possession of which he is entitled :

Provided that where the tenancy is for a specified period agreed upon between the landlord and the tenant, the landlord shall not be entitled to apply under this sub-section before the expiry of such period.

(b) The Controller shall, if he is satisfied that the claim of the landlord is bona fide, make an order directing the tenant to put the landlord in possession of the building on such date as may be specified by the Controller and if the Controller is not so satisfied, he shall make an order rejecting the application :

Provided that the Controller may give the tenant a reasonable time for putting the landlord in possession of the building and may extend such time so as not to exceed three months in the aggregate.

(4) Where a landlord who has obtained possession of a building in pursuance of an order under sub-section (3) does not himself occupy it within one month of the date of obtaining possession, the tenant who has been evicted may apply to the Controller for an order directing that he shall be restored to possession of the building and the Controller shall make an order accordingly.

(5) Where the Controller is satisfied that any application made by a landlord for the eviction of a tenant is frivolous or vexatious, the Controller may direct that compensation not exceeding fifty rupees be paid by such landlord to the tenant.

(6) Where an application under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) for evicting a tenant has been rejected by the Controller, the tenancy shall subject to the provisions of this Act be deemed to continue on the same terms and conditions as before and shall not be terminable by the landlord except on one or more of the grounds mentioned in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3).

[10th September 1946]

(2) A tenant in occupation of a building may, if the landlord has contravened the Provisions of this section, make an application to the Controller complaining of such contravention.

(3) If the Controller on inquiry finds that the tenant has been in enjoyment of the amenities and that they were cut off or withheld by the landlord without just or sufficient cause, he shall make an order directing the landlord to restore such amenities.

9. Every order made under section 7 or section 8 and every order passed on appeal under section 12 shall be executed—as if it were a decree passed by him.

10. 11. (1) No residential building shall be converted into a non-residential building except with the permission in writing of the Controller.

(2) If a landlord fails to make the necessary repairs to the building within a reasonable time after notice is given by the tenant, it shall be competent for the Controller to direct on application by the tenant that such repairs may be made by the tenant and that the cost thereof may be deducted from the rent which is payable by him.

12. (b) Any person aggrieved by an order passed by the Controller may, within fifteen days from the date of receipt of such order, prefer an appeal in writing to the appellate authority having jurisdiction.

(2) On such appeal being preferred, the appellate authority may order stay of further proceedings in the matter pending decision on the appeal.

(3) The appellate authority shall send for the records of the case from the Controller and after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard and, if necessary, after making such further inquiry as he thinks fit either personally or through the Controller, shall decide the appeal.

(4) The decision of the appellate authority and subject only to such decision, an order of the Controller shall be final and shall not be liable to be called in question in any court of law whether in a suit or other proceeding or by way of appeal or revision.

THE MADRAS LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Fort St. George, at three of the clock. Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUKHAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

I.—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

Anicut over the river Vamsadhara.

* 172 Q.—SRI G. KUMARASWAMI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether there was a scheme for the construction of an anicut or reservoir over river “Vamsadhara” in Vizagapatam district and if so;

(b) what the details of the same are;

(c) whether the District Collector of Vizagapatam recently submitted any proposals for the construction of a reservoir;

(d) if so, what are the proposals; and

(e) what steps the Government propose to take to speed up the construction of a reservoir on river “Vamsadhara” to check the famine in the neighbouring taluks?

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“(a) Yes.

“(b) The proposal was to bring under irrigation an additional extent of 30,000 acres including 8,000 acres in the Karukavalasa and Parlakimedi zamindari. The balance of 22,000 acres is in Government limits. Besides the above the scheme would also provide additional supply to a total extent of 47,000 acres of old irrigation. A rough forecast of the revenue realizable by the scheme indicated that a net revenue of Rs. 2,09,962 could be obtained. The cost of the scheme estimated at the rate in force in 1920 including all direct and indirect charges was roughly expected to be about Rs. 90 lakhs yielding a return of 2.33 per cent. A further report on the scheme has been promised by the Chief Engineer for Irrigation and it has not yet been received.

“(c) The District Collector has promised to report on certain schemes which he considers should be taken up in North Vizagapatam. His report has not yet been received.

“(d) Does not arise.

“(e) The Chief Engineer for Irrigation is being asked to expedite his report on the full scheme, namely, Vamsadhara Project.”

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“May I ask whether the Government have in view the policy of preventing famine in the Ceded districts by irrigation development and if so whether they have fixed or propose to fix any target for such development?”

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“Yes, Sir.”

[11th September 1946]

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“ May I know what that target is? ”

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“ I want notice, Sir.”

Alleged assault on Ayyavu Thevar by a Police official.

* 199-B. Q.—SRI R. V. SWAMINATHAN: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that representations were made by an hon. Member of the House that one Ayyavu Thevar, a teacher of Madippanur Kallar School in Tirumangalam taluk, Madura district, was beaten by the acting Sub-Inspector of Police, Saptur, in the same taluk for the reason that he was not prepared to vacate the front seat in motor bus; and

(b) if so, what action was taken?

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

“ (b) A report has been called for from the Inspector-General of Police.”

SRI R. V. SWAMINATHAN:—“ May I know whether the Government will take strong action against such police officers who misbehave like this? ”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ Strong or weak action will be taken only after the facts are known.”

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ Will the Hon. the Prime Minister give an assurance that the front seat in the bus will not be mistaken by the local officials as a treasury bench? ” (Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ I hope the hon. Member will note that after so much of agitation about the front seat in the bus no repetition of such things will occur.”

Alleged assault on Sri N. S. Ramaswami, Lawyer of Salem.

* 199-C Q.—SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI: Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware of the fact that a respectable Lawyer Sri N. S. Ramaswami was man-handled and insulted in a public road at Salem on 21st August 1946 in broad daylight when he went to see the Textile Control Officer, with regard to professional matter, by the Personal Assistant to the District Superintendent of Police, Salem, without any justification;

(b) whether the Government received any representation from the Bar Association, Salem, about the incident requesting the Government to take disciplinary action against the concerned Police officer; and

(c) if so, what action the Government propose to take on it?

[11th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ (a) Government have had no official report on the matter.

“ (b) & (c) A copy of the resolution was sent to the Inspector-General of Police by the Association. The Inspector-General is engaged in investigating the matter. Government will consider the matter after the report of the Inspector-General is received.”

SRI P. KANDASWAMI PILLAI:—“ Will the Government be pleased to instruct the Inspector-General of Police to transfer this official who has created terror in the district and has become unpopular? ”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ The time has not yet arrived, Sir, to give an answer in the affirmative.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“ Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to state if he would call for non-official reports in such cases? ”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ Sometimes non-official reports have been very dangerous in the present circumstances, Sir, when there are some people definitely pledged always to do something against the Government.”

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“ In view of the fact that such acts of discourtesy on the part of the police have become too general, may I suggest that severe notice will be taken of such acts by the Government? ”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ I should have expected the hon. Member not to put that question after hearing my reply.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“ Will the Hon. the Prime Minister be pleased to get a non-official report at least to see whether it is dangerous to the people or to the police? ”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ Wherever circumstances demand non-official reports would certainly be called for.”

Bridge on the Godavari at Alamur.

* 204 Q.—SRI KALA VENKATA RAO: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether there is a proposal to build a bridge on the Godavari at Alamur as part of the scheme to develop National Highways;

(b) whether it is included in the post-war scheme of development, and if so, with what priority; and

(c) whether the Government are going to implement it and if so, when?

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“ (a) Yes.

“ (b) Yes. This Government proposed to the Government of India that the work may be taken up during the first year of the five-year plan, i.e., 1947-48. The priority of the works to be taken up has to be fixed by the Government of India as they subsidize the works included in the plan, and their orders are awaited.

[11th September 1946]

“(c) Yes, in the order of priority that may be assigned by the Government of India.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I ask, Sir, which are the two important places that this bridge joins and whether it is worth the cost?”

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“It connects the places separated by the Godavari.”

SRI S. PARAMANANDA RAYAR:—“May I know, Sir, whether there is any proposal for constructing a new bridge over the river Coleroon near Chidambaram?”

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“I want notice, Sir.”

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“Is the Hon. Minister aware that a bridge is badly needed across the Pennar near Chennur in the Cuddapah district and whether he will take early steps to construct one?”

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“I personally have no information, Sir.”

SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—“Is it a fact that owing to delay in the revision of the estimates the priority for the Alampur bridge is going down?”

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—“I want notice, Sir.”

Export of groundnut cake from Andhra districts.

* 205 Q.—SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture be pleased to state—

(a) how many tons of groundnut cake were exported from Andhra districts and to what places these exports were made; and

(b) why the Government allowed the groundnut cake to be exported from these districts?

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“(a) The following information is furnished—

Year.	Quantity ex- ported from Andhra Dis- tricts. Tons.	Destination.
1945-46	21,653	Madras, Chingleput, South Arcot, North Arcot, Chittoor, Salem, Trichinopoly, Tanjore, Madura, Ramnad and Tinnevely.
	8,867	From one district to another within the Andhra districts.
1946-47 (1st April to 31st July 1946).	17,197	Malabar, South Kanara, Tanjore, Trichinopoly, Madura, Ramnad, Tinnevely and Coimbatore.
	3,536	From one district to another within the Andhra districts.

[11th September 1946]

“(b) The districts of Vizagapatam, Kistna, Guntur, Bellary, Kurnool and Anantapur are the principal producing districts of groundnut cake while the other districts produce very little or none at all. The annual production of groundnut cake, the approximate consumption during 1946 and the exportable surplus stocks in the above six districts are estimated to be 145,000 tons, 75,100 tons and 69,900 tons respectively. Since groundnut cake is in demand everywhere, it has to be moved from these districts of high production to other districts of low production to effect equitable distribution.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“Is the Government aware that by these exports Guntur district particularly is suffering for want of groundnut oil cake?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“No, Sir. Guntur district has been allotted 13,000 tons, while other districts are allotted much less?”

SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—“May I take it that Salem is a deficit district in respect of groundnut oil cake?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“It does not produce enough.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“Is the Government aware that the Andhra districts are suffering for want of groundnut cakes for agricultural purposes?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“Not only the Andhra district, but all the districts are suffering.”

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—“Will the Government take steps to speed up the production of groundnut cake by granting permits for the export of oil, because most of the expellers have stopped work in the Andhra districts?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“I will pass on this question to the Hon. Minister for Food.”

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—“May I know whether any reports have been called for from each district regarding their requirements before exporting groundnut cake to the extent of 70,000 tons to the south?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“There is no need to call for any report.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“Is the Government taking particular care to see that the districts from which groundnut cake is exported are not made deficit districts?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“We are exporting paddy from surplus districts to deficit districts. In the same way we have to export groundnut cake from district to district.”

[11th September 1946]

SRI GUNTUR NARASIMHA RAO:—" May I ask, Sir, whether groundnut cake is imported from the Nizam's dominions to the deficit areas? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" Notice, Sir."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—" May I know whether the Government will consider the desirability of setting apart the quota required for a district and then send the surplus to other districts? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" We are equitably distributing the quantity that is available, Sir."

DR. S. SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR:—" Are the Government aware that on account of the control of the prices of groundnut oil and groundnut oil cake, they have gone into the black-market? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" I am not aware, Sir."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—" May I ask whether any allotment has been made of groundnut oil cakes to meet the demands of fodder for animals? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" Will the hon. Member please repeat the question? "

The question was repeated.

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" No separate allotment has been made from the cake that is produced by the mills. We are not commandeering or in any way restricting the production of the country chekkus. Those who want the cake for food for cattle can take it from the production of the country chekkus."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—" Will the Government take note of the needs of the particular district before exporting the cake outside that district? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" That is why we have given a quota of 13,000 tons to Guntur district."

SRI G. VENKATA REDDI:—" In view of the importance of groundnut cake as food for cattle, will the Government see that enough cake is supplied to the Ceded districts for fodder? "

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" We will consider it."

Arts, Engineering and Medical Colleges for Malabar.

* 206 Q.—M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government feel the necessity of establishing first-grade colleges in arts and science, engineering and medical colleges in Malabar; and

(b) if so, what steps have been taken in the matter?

[11th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—

" (a) & (b) The Government have not felt any such necessity until now. A proposal to raise the Government Brennen College at Iellicherry to first-grade is under consideration. The question of establishing a Medical college in Malabar as also in other places will be considered on its merits during the post-war period."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is the Government aware that there is a great deal of agitation in Malabar among all classes of people for a Medical college and also for more first-grade colleges? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
" It is quite possible, Sir."

M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I ask whether there is any proposal for the establishment of an Engineering college in Malabar? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
" There is no such proposal, Sir."

M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I take it that there will be no provision for any of these courses in Malabar? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
" May I ask what the hon. Member means, Sir."

M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Sir, facilities for engineering courses are absolutely wanting in Malabar. That being so, am I to take it . . . "

MR. SPEAKER:—" The hon. Member should not make a speech. He may just put the question."

M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR:—" In view of so much agitation for an Engineering college in Malabar will the Government consider the proposal, Sir? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
" I am sorry, Sir, the matter has not been understood. Simply because there is no Engineering college in Malabar it does not mean that there are no facilities for the students from Malabar. All the Engineering and Medical colleges are taken on a provincial basis and all the linguistic areas get their quota of admission wherever the colleges are situated."

K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—" May I know whether the question of converting the Government Brennen College into a first-grade college will be considered early and orders passed? "

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
" That is more that I can promise, Sir."

M. V. HYDROSS SAHIB BAHADUR:—" Is there a proposal for the establishment of a first-grade college at the district headquarters, namely, Calicut? "

[11th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“No, Sir. Not even the hon. Member has made that suggestion.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“Is the Hon. Minister aware when he speaks of linguistic areas that the Ceded districts are also included in the Andhra area?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“Certainly, Sir. The Ceded districts are included in the Andhra area and that is their trouble.”

SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—“May I ask, Sir, if Malabar is not a district which is educationally most forward?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“Yes, Sir, it has that honour.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Is the Hon. Minister aware that one-third of the population of Malabar consists of Mappillas who are most backward in education?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“It seems true, Sir.”

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—“May I know from the Hon. Minister which will take precedence, is it the establishment of colleges or the establishment of elementary schools for compulsory elementary education in all important places in the Presidency?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“While I have no objection to answer this question, Sir, may I respectfully submit that it does not arise out of this question?”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know whether the Government is prepared to consider the advisability of opening more first-grade colleges in Malabar in view of the backwardness of the Mappillas in higher education as it has been admitted by the Government?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“There are enough facilities for higher education in Malabar which the Mappillas can take advantage of today. What the Mappillas really want is not the top ones but the bottom ones.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“May I suggest the desirability of converting all the existing second-grade colleges into first grade in view of the bifurcation scheme coming into force?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“It is an omnibus question which cannot be answered in the course of supplementary questions.”

[11th September 1946]

DR. S. SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR:—“In view of the fact that there is no college at all in the Ramnad district, which will the Government consider the question of opening a college in the district?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“That does not arise out of this question.”

N. MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I ask what the Hon. Minister means by ‘bottom ones’, Sir?”
(Laughter.)

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
“That is very clear from the context, Sir.”

Alleged surplus of the ‘kar’ crop.

201 Q.—SINNA KAZIYAR HAJI MOULVI S. A. F. IBRAHIM SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Motor Transport and Food be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware of the extraordinarily large exportable surplus of the ‘kar’ crop this year and of the waste brought about by the ban imposed by both Provincial and Central Governments;

(b) how the Government propose to help the cultivators in getting a fair value for the produce raised and got at enormous cost;

(c) how and why potatoes and onions came to be styled as articles of food while they are not used freely by most class of people as supplementary food even; and

(d) what the Government are going to do with the huge surplus stock of onions now lying in various districts such as Madura, Ramnad, Cuddapah, Anantapur, etc., districts?

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA (on behalf of the Hon. Sri R. Raghava Menon):—“(a) Government are aware of the existence of a large exportable surplus out of the ‘kar’ crop of potatoes in the Nilgiris this year. They do not, however, consider that there has been any wastage on account of the control over movements now in force as arrangements have been made for the export of the entire anticipated surplus to other Provinces and States on a monthly quota basis. The entire kar crop will be cleared by the end of November. There is, however, some difficulty with regard to rail movement which exporters will have to face even if there is no control over movement.

“(b) Government have made it obligatory for every licensed dealer in potatoes to pay a fixed minimum price to the grower in addition they have agreed to grant permits for export of potatoes in favour of growers also as a special case.

“(c) Government consider that potatoes and onions are articles of food in common use by all classes of people.

[11th September 1946]

"(d) Arrangements have been made for the export of the entire estimated surplus outside the Province on a quota basis from the chief producing districts in the Province. The quantity thus allowed to be exported outside the Province is about 34,000 tons. If the existence of a further surplus either with the producers or dealers is brought to notice additional exports will be allowed."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"With reference to the answer given to clause (b) may I know from the Government whether growers are allowed to export within the Province?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"The permits that are given to the growers are like the permits given to the other permit-holders."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Will the Government consider the advisability of granting permits to growers to sell their produce essentially in local markets, I mean within the Province?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"I am not fully aware of all the details contained in every permit. I shall consider that question."

SRI K. BOKKAI GOWDER:—"Is the Government aware that in various parts of the Province non-availability of potatoes is keenly felt by the consuming public?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"The Government is not aware, and cannot be expected to know unless informed."

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"May I know what is the total quantity allotted for the Nilgiris for export during this month?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"This is a matter of detail which I cannot immediately answer."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Is the Government aware that because of the dilatory procedure adopted in Madras large stocks of onions have suffered deterioration both in weight and quality and consequently enormous losses have been sustained by exporting firms?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"The Government is not aware of any wastage that has been caused as a result of want of permits."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Will the Government make an enquiry into the matter?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Yes, Sir, the Government will make enquiries into the matter."

SRI K. BOKKAI GOWDER:—"Is it not a fact that potato is more nutritious than cholam and such other foodgrains?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"It is a matter of opinion."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“Arising out of the answer given to clause (a), may I ask, Sir, how long this Government will take to nationalize the industry and if so, what are the industries just now which the Government are going to take up?”

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary):—“For the information of the hon. Member, I will read a Press Communiqué which was issued on the 7th August 1944, where it has been considered necessary to state the policy which the Government proposed actively to pursue towards industries.

“The industries will be divided into four classes: (i) those wholly financed, controlled and managed by the Government, (ii) those in which the Government will take a majority of the shares but will allow private management, where necessary, (iii) important industries in which Government will take a fraction of the shares and will also have representation on the directorate, and (iv) private enterprises in which Government will give the necessary help, advice, as well as technical and other assistance.”

[11th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Are the Government aware that a sister province, viz., United Provinces, has socialized and nationalized the production, exchange and distribution of certain industries?"

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"I am afraid the hon. Member's information is not correct."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Will the Parliamentary Secretary to the Labour Minister be pleased to state whether Government are prepared to take over such textile mills as were closed and which have declared lockouts?"

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"I am afraid the question does not arise."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"Do not the Government think that nationalization of industries will solve the strikes problem?"

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"I do not think that will solve the strikes."

SRI GUNTUR NARASIMHA RAO:—"In the present Cabinet, planning is under the Chief Minister, Industries are under Mr. Giri."

MR. SPEAKER:—"The hon. Member should not make a speech."

SRI GUNTUR NARASIMHA RAO:—"Will the Government consider the question of placing Trade, Commerce, Planning, all these under one Minister?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Will the hon. Member repeat his question?"

SRI GUNTUR NARASIMHA RAO:—"Will the Hon. the Minister consider the question of keeping all Planning, Industries and Commerce, all these three subjects under one Minister, for the efficient running of the industrial planning of South India?"

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"It is left to the Premier to distribute the portfolios as he considers necessary and proper." (Laughter.)

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"Referring to the Press Communiqué, may I ask, Sir, whether the policy of this Government is identical with the policy stated therein? If not, what are the changes?"

SRI B. S. MURTHI (Parliamentary Secretary):—"The Press Communiqué represents the policy of the Government now for being pursued."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"In view of the answer given to Mr. Nagappa's question, if it is proved that by taking over industries, we can avoid strikes, will the Government consider the problem, Sir?"

It is also supplying to ryots iron and steel raw materials for the manufacture of agricultural implements as well as finished implements at cost price at the Agricultural depots.”

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state if the lands in that village had been given to agricultural labourers?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“I have no definite information about it. If the hon. Member asks for it, I shall get it.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“Arising out of the answer given by the Hon. Minister, may I ask, Sir, if the lands are not given to landlords and zamindars, may I know to whom these lands are given?”

Shifting of the Serum Institute to Madras.

* 218 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture be pleased to state—

(b) what steps are proposed to be taken to expand it into a first-class Biological Institute as foreshadowed in the speech of the Director of Veterinary Services at the Madras Provincial Conference held in April 1944?

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“(a) There is a proposal to purchase from the Government of India the Dehydrated Meat Factory Buildings at Ranipet for the Serum Institute. The institute can be transferred from Coimbatore only after these buildings are purchased or when a suitable building becomes available.

“(b) Necessary steps to expand the Serum Institute can be taken only after a permanent building is secured for it.”

SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—“May I know, Sir, why the matter is under consideration?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“Because we are considering the question of expanding the Serum Institute we are seeking to get a better building than the one in which it is located at Coimbatore now.”

SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—“May I know from the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture whether by bringing the Serum Institute to Ranipet the cost of production of serum will be cheaper?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“That is the question. For want of a proper building, we are not expanding the Institute there. As soon as Government provide a suitable building, it is proposed to produce better serum and in a larger quantity.”

SRI S. NAGARAJA MANIGAR:—“May I know from the Hon. Minister for Agriculture whether till a separate Institute is started at Ranipet, the present Institute at Coimbatore will be left to continue as it is?”

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—“I do not know why the hon. Member is so much interested in Coimbatore. It is enough I tell him that a big Institute is required for the department concerned.”

Staff of the Veterinary College.

* 219 Q.—SRI A. B. SHETTY: Will the Hon. the Minister for Agriculture be pleased to state whether more students have been admitted to the Veterinary College this year and whether there has been corresponding increase in the staff of the College?

[11th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"The increase in the number of admissions is 15 in the case of degree course and 5 in the case of the stockmen compounders' course. This increase does not justify the appointment of any additional staff at present."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, Sir, what is the extra cost that is involved due to the increase in the staff?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Perhaps the hon. Member did not hear the answer when I read it."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Government have any proposal for improving the pay and prospects of the officers of the Veterinary department?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"There is a proposal to increase the pay of all non-gazetted officers in the Presidency."

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"May I know whether the Government has given any instructions to the Principal of the College to recognize the claims of backward communities in making admissions to the College?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"That question does not arise out of this."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"May I ask the Hon. Minister whether the Ceded Districts Famine Enquiry Committee made any recommendation to start a Veterinary College in the Ceded Districts and whether there is a proposal to start one there?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"That question does not arise out of this."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Will the Hon. Minister ascertain whether there is any change contemplated in the course of study prescribed in the Veterinary College in view of the fact that the Veterinary department have taken over the subject in its entirety of livestock from the Agricultural department?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Notice, Sir."

[11th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—" (a) No. (b) Does not arise.

" (c) No arrangements have been made for hiring of departmentally owned electric water pumping units as there has so far been no demand for such hiring. If there is a demand for electric motor pump sets necessary arrangements will be made for supplying them on a hire basis."

SRI A. KALESWARA RAO:—"May I know whether the Government propose to extend the electricity scheme to several villages in Kistna district so that the agriculturist may get electric pumps for irrigation?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"I request the hon. Member to address the question to Hon. Minister in charge of electricity."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Is the Hon. Minister aware that there is no use supplying pumps without pipe lines, there is no use sinking wells without water, there is no use maintaining cattle without fodder and men without food?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—"I am sorry, Sir, that cannot be disclosed at present."

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Is the matter relating to the increase of salary a secret which cannot be disclosed?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—"Yes, Sir, until it is disclosed, it is a secret."

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—"May I know, if the increase will solve the inequality which is now existing between the teachers in aided elementary schools and teachers under district boards and municipal councils?"

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—"The matter is under consideration, Sir."

MUHAMMAD ANWAR SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it a secret only for the Communist Member?" (Laughter.)

[11th September 1946]

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
 “Also to the hon. Member Mr. Anwar.” (Laughter.)

SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“May I know whether the increase will equalise the salaries to the minimum living wage?”

THE HON. SRI T. S. AVINASHILINGAM CHETTIAR:—
 “Government is trying to do what all it can do in this matter and anything more than that I am unable to give you, Sir.”

 “(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

“(b) & (c) The matter is under consideration and Government consider that it is not in the public interest to disclose the details at present.”

Number of ration shops conducted by Harijans.

* 223 Q.—SRI S. NAGAPPA: Will the Hon. the Minister for Motor Transport and Food be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of Harijans to whom licences were granted to run the ration shops all over the Presidency—districtwar;
- (b) whether the Government are aware that the Harijans who are mainly agricultural labourers have to forego their rations on account of their going late to the shops as they return late from the fields; and
- (c) what arrangements the Government propose to make to ensure that agricultural labourers, who return late in the evening, get supply of rations?

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“(a) The Government have no information giving the number of ration shops to be run by Harijans. The information has been called for by the Board from the Collectors and the Rationing Officer, Madras. Replies received from six districts and the City Rationing Officer, Madras, show that licences have been given to 12 Harijans. Replies from other districts are awaited. In most of the districts there may not be many

th September 1946]

or any ration shops run by Harijans for the following reasons:—

- (i) At the time of the introduction of rationing the principle that persons who were already dealing in foodgrains under foodgrains licences should not be thrown out of business was observed. Instructions were also issued that in selecting retailers preference should be given to persons holding licences under the Madras Food Grains Control Order.
- (ii) Applications from Harijans for the grant of licence to run ration shops were few presumably because they did not hold licences under the Food Grains Control Order.

In G.O. Ms. No. 591, Food, dated 26—7—1946, the Government have relaxed the rule of one year's standing to Harijans for the purpose of granting licences under the Madras Food Grains Control Order II, 1945. Instructions have been issued to all District Rationing Officers that those who produce an exemption certificate from the Commercial Tax Officer under the above order, may be permitted to run a ration shop. As these instructions have been issued only very recently, it is likely that larger number of Harijans may come in to run ration shops in future.

“(b) The working hours of the ration shops are as follows:—
Statutorily rationed areas.—7-30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Rural rationed areas.—No general orders have been issued fixing the working hours of the ration shops in rural areas. The Collectors have fixed convenient hours. From the report so far received, some Collectors have fixed the last working hour of ration shops varying from 6-30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

There has been however no complaint so far from any labourers that they find it difficult to purchase grains in the evenings.

“(c) In view of the answer to question (b) no further reply is considered necessary.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“Will the Government consider the desirability of opening shops in the Harijan localities suitable to their timing as they have to return very late in the night from their work?”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“When information is given to the Government, they will consider the question of opening convenient ration shops if it could possibly be done.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I ask whether the Government will consider the desirability of opening shops in the Harijan locality itself?”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“The ration shops are open in the locality and not anywhere else.” (Laughter.)

[11th September 1946]

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ I mean, Sir, in the Harijan locality itself? ”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“ If there are sufficient number of Harijan families who must be met with, naturally ration shops will be opened in that locality.”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ I would like to add in this connexion that it is the desire of this Government to see that the distinction between Harijans and non-Harijans will be soon dissolved. It is with that object that opportunities will be given for Harijans to get into touch with non-Harijans who may be inclined to feel exclusive for themselves.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“ In view of the answer given by the Hon. the Premier, will the Hon. the Minister for Food be pleased to entrust all the ration shops to Harijans so that non-Harijans may go to Harijans? ”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“ Every endeavour will be made, provided the hon. Member who questions can get some patience for himself.”

* 224 Q.—SRI A. KUPPUSWAMI NAYUDU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state whether it is a fact that doctors of the Lady Willingdon Leprosy Sanatorium are allowed private practice and if so, whether it is contrary to the rules of the Mission?

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ Doctors of the Lady Willingdon Leprosy Sanatorium are allowed private practice. This is not contrary to the Mission rules as applicable to the Lady Willingdon Leprosy Sanatorium.”

* 225 Q.—B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR (on behalf of Muhammad Abdul Salam Sahib Bahadur): Will the Hon. the Minister for Public Health and Medicine be pleased to state—

(a) whether a Development Officer has been appointed for the development of Ayurveda in this Province;

(b) if so, what are the qualifications and age of this officer; and

(c) what are the service conditions of this Development Officer?

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ (a) The answer is in the affirmative. The officer is designated as ‘ Special Officer for the reorganization of the Department of Indian Medicine.’ It is proposed to develop not only Ayurveda but also other systems of medicine such as Siddha, Unani and Homoeopathy.

“ (b) The officer is a B.A., B.L., and a retired Law Secretary to the Government of Mysore. In addition to his being Law

The Government have decided to declare him as the administrative head of the Department of Indian Medicine and to grant him a honorarium of Rs. 500 per mensem in addition to a conveyance allowance of Rs. 100 per mensem. He has been treated as a first-grade officer for purposes of travelling allowance.”

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“ May I know whether it is not advisable to have an officer with some knowledge of medicine in Ayurveda, Unani and Siddha in a matter like this? ”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ I do not think it is necessary for an administrative head to be an expert possessing knowledge of any system of medicine because he is going to be only the administrative head of the Department of Indian Medicine.”

BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—“ May I enquire, Sir, whether any steps are being taken to develop the Unani system as well? ”

THE HON. MRS. LAKSHMIPATHI:—“ The development of the Unani system also forms part of the scheme of Indian medicine.”

(a) whether the Government are aware of the existence of Urdu Press in this Presidency through which Muslim public opinion may be ascertained; and

(b) if the answer to (a) is in the affirmative will the Government consider the advisability of having an Urdu Section also in the Department of Information? ”

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—“ (a) Yes.

“ (b) The Government will consider the advisability of having an Urdu Section in the Department of Information and Publicity.”

* 225-B Q.—SRI M. BAPINEEDU (on behalf of Sri Alluri Satyanarayana Raju): Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Government are making grant of lands, (i) to those who are neither tillers nor agriculturists, (ii) to those who have set up pumping installations in view of the

[11th September 1946]

Grow More Food campaign and got temporary grants of lands during the war on leases for periods ranging from 3 to 10 years and also (iii) to those who have been granted lands only for temporary cultivation with the aid of water from the canals; and

(b) if there are cases where such grants were already made whether the Government now propose to reconsider the same in view of their declared policy?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“(a) It is presumed that the hon. Member refers to the permanent assignment of lands. There is now a ban on permanent assignment of lands pending consideration of the policy of the Government.

“(b) Does not arise.”

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—“May I ask whether the ban applies to ex-military people also?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“Pending consideration of several claims there is this ban.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know whether the Government will consider the advisability of lifting of the ban?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“As soon as the consideration of the several claims on hand is over the Government will lift the ban.”

SRI S. NAGAPPA:—“May I know when the Government will consider the lifting of the ban?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“As soon, Sir, as the consideration of the several colonization schemes on hand is over, they will lift it.”

Supply of groundnut oil to Burma.

* 225-C Q.—SRI M. BAPINEEDU: Will the Hon. the Minister for Motor Transport and Food be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the permit to supply groundnut oil to Burma has been given by the Government to one English Firm only;

(b) if so, what is the name of the company; and

(c) what are the reasons for giving them the permit?

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“(a), (b) & (c) The Madras Government have agreed to supply the Government of Burma 12,000 tons of groundnut oil. They understand that the officer deputed by the Burma Government to purchase the oil has appointed Messrs. Ralli Brothers, as their agents for purposes of procurement and supply.”

[11th September 1946]

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Has not the Madras Government got any discretion to advise the officer to appoint an Indian firm for that purpose?”

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“The firm was appointed not by the Madras Government; the firm was appointed by the representative of the Burma Government for purchasing and supplying oil to them, and this Government had no voice.”

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—“Will Government instruct the agent of the Burma Government that there should be a relaxation of the conditions imposed in the tender in view of the fact that the purchase of this oil is mostly for cooking purposes?”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“If the hon. Member contacts me and gives me the point, I shall consider the matter.”

SRI GUNTUR NARASIMHA RAO:—“After the war, there have been individual exporters to Burma. Why not these 12,000 tons be allotted to them instead of giving it to the Burma Government?”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“What this Government did was to ask the Burma Government to send their own representative to make the purchases here and take the oil away.”

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—“Will the Hon. Minister find out from the agent of the Burma Government whether it is not a fact that in the tenders called for by them they ask for certain conditions which cannot be fulfilled easily by certain oil expeller owners in this Province?”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“This Government have no information; if the local merchants had stated this, the Government would have gone into this question.”

SRI M. BAPINEEDU:—“Will the Madras Government advise the Burma Government to encourage Indian merchants also in importing groundnut oil from Madras?”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“The Burma Government representative will be purchasing the oil from the local merchants. This Government will look into the question.”

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Is this Government likely to get rice in return for this groundnut oil from Burma?”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“The Burma Government cannot directly give us anything for the groundnut oil which we are supplying. It must come through the Government of India, but this was given as a bait for the Burma Government to increase their export to the Government of India.”

[11th September 1946]

SRI M. BAPINEEDU:—"Is our Government so helpless in asking the Burma Government to encourage our traders?"

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"The difficulty seems to be that the hon. Member is not aware how rice is being imported into this country. It is done by the Government of India and its distribution is by allocation. So, we cannot directly do anything except to help the Burma Government to give them an incentive to give us more rice."

SRI M. G. NATESA CHETTIYAR:—"May I know, Sir, whether the representative of the Madras Government who was sent to Burma proposed to the Burma Government that oil would be exported to them in return for export of rice to this (Madras) Province?"

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"This question does not arise."

SRI GUNTUR NARASIMHA RAO:—"May I ask that in future, for whatever quantities that may be exported to Burma, the local merchants will be given preference for exporting?"

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"This Government did not give any preference even now."

SRI N. VENKATASUBBAYYA:—"May I ask, Sir, where was the need for our representative to go to Burma unless we got something in return?"

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Our representative went to Burma just to explore the possibilities of getting more rice to India and to Madras in particular."

(a) whether publicity assistants have been appointed recently in the Publicity Department; and

(b) if the answer to (a) is in the affirmative, what are the qualifications of the persons that are appointed and what are their service conditions?

THE HON. SRI V. KURMAYYA:—" (a) No.

" (b) The question does not arise."

A.—(a) Palmyra trees were counted at the resettlement of the Tinnevely district and assessed to tax. No deduction is made for trees cut and removed and no tax is added for trees newly planted during the period of the resettlement. The assessment fixed has thus remained unaltered.

The Government have no information about the number of palmyra trees cut and removed in the Tinnevely district.

II.—ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE BY THE HON. MR. SPEAKER.

MR. SPEAKER:—"I have received a message from the Hon. Sri R. B. Ramakrishna Raju, President of the Madras Legislative Council:—

"In accordance with rule 108 of the Madras Council Rules, I transmit a copy of the Madras District Municipalities and Local Boards (Second Amendment) Bill, 1946 (L.A. Bill No. 5 of 1946) as agreed to by the Council without any amendment and signed by me."

The Hon. the President of the Council has also sent me the following message:—

"In accordance with rule 109 of the Madras Council Rules, I transmit a copy of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Bill, 1946 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1946), as passed by the Council with the amendment set out in the annexure and signed by me for the concurrence of the Assembly."

ANNEXURE.

For sub-clause (2) of clause 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Bill, 1946 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1946), the following shall be substituted—

"(2) Where in a suit for eviction there is also a claim for rent, the tenant shall within two months from the date of the commencement of this Act or the date of institution of the suit, as the case may be, deposit in court, for payment to the landlord—

[Mr. Speaker] [11th September 1946]

(i) in the case of a suit instituted before the commencement of this Act, the arrears of rent accrued due until the date of the commencement of this Act, at the rate claimed in the plaint or an amount equivalent to rent for two years at the rate aforesaid, whichever is less,

(ii) in the case of a suit instituted on or after the commencement of this Act, the arrears of rent claimed in the plaint, or an amount equivalent to rent for two years at the rate claimed in the plaint, whichever is less, together with such interest as may be payable under law, custom or agreement.”

“In this connexion, I wish to make the following announcement:—

“I have received notice of a motion by the Hon. Revenue Minister that an amendment made to sub-clause (2) of clause 4 of the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Bill, 1946, in the Upper House might be taken into consideration. Though the item is not on the agenda, I propose to include the Hon. Revenue Minister's motion as the last item on to-day's agenda.

“In order to prevent inconvenience to hon. Members who may be put to the necessity of attending another sitting and in view of the fact that the amendment made in the Upper House was only a minor one made with a view to fill up some lacuna, I appeal to the hon. Members of the House to approve the action.

“I wish to make another announcement.

“Hon. Members are aware that at the meeting of the Assembly held on Friday, the 2nd August 1946, I made an announcement regarding the constitution of a Joint Committee of both the Chambers for making necessary recommendation in regard to the amendment to the rules of procedure and nominated the following members of the Assembly to be members of that Committee:—

- (1) The Speaker.
- (2) The Deputy Speaker.
- (3) The Hon. the Premier.
- (4) Muhammad Ismail Sahib Bahadur.
- (5) The Hon. Sri V. V. Giri.
- (6) Kumararaja Sir Muthiah Chettiyar.
- (7) Mr. H. S. Town.
- (8) B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur.
- (9) Sri S. Chidambara Ayyar.

“I have since had a talk with the Hon. President of the Council and as a result we thought it advisable to have a separate committee for each House. Accordingly I am to state that hon. Members whose names I announced in August 1946 will constitute the Committee for considering the Rules of Procedure under sub-section (1) of section 84 of the Government of India Act, 1935.

III.—MOTION UNDER RULE 17 OF THE MADRAS ASSEMBLY RULES.

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—“Sir, I beg to move—

‘that rule 17 of the Madras Assembly Rules be suspended and the House do resolve to transact Government business on Wednesday, the 11th September 1946.’”

The motion was put and carried.

11th September 1946]

IV.—GOVERNMENT BILLS.

(1) THE MADRAS BUILDINGS (LEASE AND RENT CONTROL) BILL, 1946.

Clause 1 (3).

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—“I withdraw the amendment, Sir.”

Clause 1 (4).

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I move—

‘that in clause 1 (4), for the words “two years” wherever they occur, the words “one year” shall be substituted.’

“Mr. Speaker, Sir, when this legislation is sought to meet an emergency to last only for a short time, I do not see why this Bill, when passed into law, should remain in force for two years at one stretch especially because Government is taking power to extend the period from time to time by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette and when in the other piece of legislation, that is with reference to the control of essential articles, it was thought that it would be sufficient to reduce the period to six months, I do not see why in this matter, the Government should wish to have a period of two years at the very outset and at one stretch. The working of the Act can be watched for one year and it can be extended by another year whenever the need for it is felt. Who knows, it is quite possible that conditions might improve and settle down and we shall be having normal times in one year. That is why I move my amendment for substituting one year for the words ‘two years’ in this clause.”

MUHAMMAD RAZA KHAN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“I second the amendment, Sir.”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—“Sir, the amendment cannot be accepted for the reason that we cannot be sure that the conditions regarding the houses, the scarcity of houses and the conditions that now compel the Government to bring forward this Bill will be over in the course of one year. The period that is provided in the Bill is only two years and if the conditions so abruptly change, we can repeal the Act. So, Government do not propose to accept the amendment.”

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 1 was put and carried.

Clause 2.

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Mr. Speaker, Sir, I move the following amendment:—

‘In clause 2 (1) (a) and (b), the words “or hut” and “hut” wherever they occur, shall be omitted.’

“My reason is this. According to this clause and the sub-clause thereof ‘hut’ is to be included in the definition of a building but in the application of clause 7 (3) (a) ‘A landlord may apply to the Controller for an order directing the tenant to put the landlord in possession in the case of a residential building if he requires it for his own occupation and if he is not occupying a residential building of his own in the same city, town or village. What I submit is in the application of this clause 7 (3) (a), the definition of 'building' which includes a 'hut' will give rise to difficulties in actual working, because a person may purchase a house and compound and there may be a hut in that compound; the house may be in the occupation of a person at the time of purchase and the purchaser for the time being may have to occupy the hut. It may not be quite fit for his occupation; it may not be decent enough and also it may not be large enough for his family. Then, Sir, if he applies under clause 7 to the Controller for putting him in possession of the bigger house which is in the possession of a different person, he may be told that he is already occupying the hut, which is included in the definition of 'building' and therefore he is residing there. It is quite possible that such cases may arise and the courts will find it difficult to give a proper interpretation to the word 'hut' and the other side might contend by saying that a hut is a building because it is included in the definition of 'building' and can be occupied by a purchaser and so he has no right to ask for the other building and for the eviction of the person occupying the bigger building. This difficulty might arise. I, therefore, suggest that the word 'hut' might be avoided altogether. There is no need for it. I request that under the circumstances, the Hon. Minister will agree to omit the words 'or hut' and 'hut' wherever they occur in this sub-clause."

[H. S. Hussain Sahib Bahadur] [11th September 1946]

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second it."

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Mr. Speaker, the word 'hut' is necessary there. There are cases in which huts are rented and we cannot describe the exact size of a hut. In so far as there is a question of tenancy there, the tenant has to be protected. Otherwise the Rent Control legislation would not be applicable to huts. It is because of that that huts have been included and it is applicable only if they are leased as part of the buildings as subsequent amendments of the Government will show. For these reasons, I cannot accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"I move—
"that in sub-clause (1) (a) of clause 2, for the words "let as part of such building or hut" substitute the words "let or to be let along with such building or hut"."

"The amendment is necessary to make the meaning clearer.

"I shall also move another amendment to sub-clause (4) so that both of them might be put to the House.

"I move—

"that in sub-clause (4) of clause 2, for the words "a person substituted by the existing tenant" substitute the words "a person placed in occupation of a building by a tenant"."

[11th September 1946] [Hon. Sri R. Raghava Menon]

"When the Bill emerged from the Select Committee the words 'a person substituted by the existing tenant' were inserted in the sub-clause. In its place the Government wish to insert the words suggested in the amendment. The reason is that the words 'substituted by the existing tenant' are not capable of clear definition. So the amendment is suggested."

The amendments were put and carried. Clause 2 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 3.

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Speaker, I move—

"that in clause 3, sub-clause (1), for the words "by the termination of the current tenancy" substitute the words by the landlord ceasing to occupy the building or by termination of a tenancy."

"The amendment has been suggested with a view to include houses falling vacant on account of the landlord leaving the house in addition to the termination of tenancy."

The amendment was put and carried.

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move—

"that in clause 3, sub-clause (1), between the word "thereof" and the words "to the Controller," the words "in writing" shall be inserted."

"The existing provision merely says that the landlord shall give notice to the Controller within seven days after the termination of the tenancy. As it is, it may be even an oral notice. In order that the legal requirement may be complied with and the landlords may not simply say that it was given orally, this amendment is suggested."

B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur seconded the amendment.

The amendment was put and carried.

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move—

"that in clause 3, sub-clause (2), between the word "landlord" and the words "that the building is required", the words "in writing" shall be inserted."

The reason is the same that I have adduced in connexion with the previous amendment. Just as the landlord is required to give notice in writing in case the house falls vacant, so also the Provincial Government or any of its officers are asked to give an intimation in writing that they require the building. The position has been negatively stated in the sub-clause, namely, that if within a week the Provincial Government or . . . does not intimate to the landlord that the building is required, the landlord shall be at liberty to lease the building to any tenant. The position is sought to be made clearer that if the house is required by the Government or by its officers, it must be intimated in writing. This is with a view to avoid any doubt in regard to this matter in court of law and to comply with a legal requirement."

[H. S. Hussain Sahib Bahadur] [11th September 1946]

The amendment was seconded by Begum Sultan Mir Amir-uddin.

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"I accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and carried. Clause 3 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 4.

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, I move—that for sub-clause (2) (a), (b) and (c) of clause 4, the following shall be substituted:—

- "(a) to the estimated capital value of the building;*
- (b) to the rental value as found entered in the property tax assessment book of the municipal council or the local board or the Corporation of Madras, as the case may be; and*
- (c) to the circumstances of the case, including any amount paid by the tenant by way of premium or any other like sum in addition to rent from the commencement of the tenancy;*

Provided that the fair rate of rent fixed yields a return of 2½ per cent on the capital value of the building under any circumstances."

I would like to refer to clause 4 (2) (a) which says that regard shall be had to the prevailing rates of rent in the locality for the same or similar accommodation in similar circumstances during the twelve months prior to April 1940. Let me take the first question, namely, the rates of rent prevailing for twelve months prior to 1st April 1940. There are such localities as Mambalam which are not completely built up areas. It is possible that no residential houses existed there in that area before 1940. How is the Controller to act in fixing the fair rent? He will certainly find it very difficult to act in accordance with this provision. There is the other question that the rates of rent differ from locality to locality and it will be a varying figure and there will be nothing fixed for the Rent Controller to proceed upon. It is, therefore, suggested that regard shall be had to the capital invested on the building. The fair rent shall be fixed at so much per cent on the capital value of the building. The capital value of the building can be estimated with less difficulty than the rents obtaining in that locality for twelve months prior to April 1940. On the basis provided for in the Bill, there will be confusion and the Rent Controller may not be in a position to say exactly what the amount of prevailing rent in that area was during the period.

"Apart from administrative difficulties, there is the question of inducement to house builders. It has been admitted on all hands that there is a scarcity of residential houses and even the

[11th September 1946] [H. S. Hussain Sahib Bahadur]

Hon. Ministers must have experienced this difficulty in finding suitable residential accommodation for themselves. When that is the position, you must offer suitable inducement to persons who can come forward with money to invest on houses. Unless they are given reasonable return for the capital which they have put on the construction of the buildings, I do not think, people with money will come forward to construct houses and ease the present problem of scarcity of houses. That is why I have suggested a return of 2½ per cent should be guaranteed on the capital invested. The present bank rate is between 2 and 3 per cent. But if the Government feel that the rate I have suggested is too high, it is left to them to reduce it. I think this would be a better way than trying to find out the rent of buildings in that locality for a period of 12 months prior to April 1940. There is the advantage in that it will help building of more houses and thus the housing problem will be solved. We have got so many problems to face and unless people come forward to build houses, it will not be possible to solve this problem. Unless Government offer inducement to many people to invest their capital in house property, it will not be possible to have more houses in our province.

"I move that this amendment be accepted by the Hon. Minister in charge of the Bill and that the rate of fair rent be fixed at 2½ per cent on the capital value of the buildings. That is only a suggestion I have made. The Government may consider and reduce the rate of return on the investment. It is left to the Government to do so. Therefore, Sir, I have only to move the amendment."

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Sir, this principle of assessing fair rent on capital value will be very unsafe for the simple reason it is first of all very complex to get the capital value of a building. What fixed criteria we can have we have provided in the Bill. The rent that is fixed in 1939-40 must be taken to mean a rent which will cover the interest on the investment. That is taken as a unit on which fair rent is to be fixed along with other considerations. My hon. Friend wants to substitute a very complex matter which will not be quite useful for the purpose of fixing the fair rent. Another thing that has been said is that there must be fixed a rent which will give some inducement to the landlords to construct houses. The present Bill is meant only to control the rent during a particular period. Inducement to construct buildings must come from other sources and not by an increase of rent. That will affect the tenants who are not able to pay, and a number of tenants will be thrown out of their houses. This amendment is complex and is not practical because it will involve a lot of enquiry, and we will not be able to get at a fixed standard. Government feel sorry that they cannot accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

* H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the rejection of my amendment to clause 4 (2) (a), (b) and (c), I do not find it necessary at all to move the other two amendments."

[11th September 1946]

Amendment to clause 4 (3) (i).

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU :—“ I move—‘ that in clause 4 (3) (i), after the words “ in sub-section (2)” the words “ exceeds Rs. 15 ” shall be added and for the figures “ $8\frac{1}{3}$ ” the figures “ $3\frac{1}{8}$ ” shall be substituted.’ ”

We know that the salaries of most of the low-paid staff have not been increased and are not sufficient to meet their budget. We are giving an opportunity for the landlord to increase the rent but we are not increasing the salary of the low-paid staff sufficiently. Most of these people are living by paying small rents, and may not be able to pay an increase in rent. That is why I suggest that below Rs. 15 the increment will be only $3\frac{1}{8}$ per cent. Then they will be able to balance their budget. With these words, I move my amendment. I request the Minister to act up to the spirit of the amendment, because there is no seconder.”

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

Amendment to clause 4 (3) (i), (ii) and (iii).

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN :—“ Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the Hon. Minister has given notice of an amendment, which is tantamount to my amendment, it is not necessary for me to move my amendment.”

Amendment to clause 4 (3).

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU :—“ I move that—

‘ in sub-clause 3 (ii) of clause 4, in place of “ an increase of 25 per cent ” the words “ an increase of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent in the case of rental values between Rs. 25 per mensem and Rs. 50 and $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent between Rs. 50 and Rs. 100 ” shall be substituted.’ ”

All my amendments are based on the calculation of the salaries received by the low-paid staff. We have not given them sufficient increase and the increment they demanded has not been given. Under these circumstances, let us do justice to them by reducing the rent so that these poor people may balance their budget. That is why I am moving my amendment and I appeal to Government to accept at least this amendment.

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

Amendment to clause 4 (3) proviso.

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU :—“ I move the amendment, Sir—

‘ that proviso to sub-clause (3) of clause 4 shall be omitted.’ ”

The amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN :—“ As the Hon. Minister and myself have thought on the same lines, I do not think it necessary to move the amendment standing in my name.”

[11th September 1946]

Clause 4 (3).

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON :—“ I move—

‘ in sub-clauses (i), (ii) and (iii), for the words “ an increase of ” substitute the words “ an increase not exceeding ”.’ ”

This amendment is necessary to give discretion to the Controller to go into the circumstances of each case.

‘ In the proviso, for the words “ shall be ” substitute the words “ shall not exceed ”.’ ”

The amendments were put and carried.

Clause 4 (4).

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR :—“ I am not moving the amendment, Sir.”

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON :—“ I move—

‘ in clause 4 (4), for the words “ shall allow,” substitute the words “ may allow ” and in sub-clauses (i) and (ii) for the words “ an increase of,” substitute the words “ an increase not exceeding ”.’ ”

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 4 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 5 was put and carried.

Clause 6 was put and carried.

Clause 7.

K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR :—“ I move—

‘ For clause 7 (2) (i) the following shall be substituted :—
“ (i) that the tenant has not paid or tendered the rent due by him in respect of the building within fifteen days of the time fixed in the agreement of tenancy with his landlord or in the absence of any such agreement, by the last day of the month next following that for which the rent is payable :

Provided that the landlord sent a registered notice to the tenant intimating the default and the tenant failed to pay the rent and the cost of the notice within fifteen days of the receipt or refusal thereof :

Provided further no order for eviction shall be passed by the Controller in case the tenant deposits in court on the day of his first appearance in court, the arrears of rent due on that date and the cost of the petition to be fixed by the Controller ”.’ ”

This amendment is intended to give a well-deserved relief to the tenant in case he fails to pay the rent on the date fixed by inadvertence or by absence from the station and release him from forfeiture if he deposits in court on the day of his first appearance in court the rent due with cost. This amendment, without causing any hardship to the landlord, will give relief to the tenant.”

B. Poker Sahib Bahadur seconded the amendment.

[Sri K. Varadachari] [11th September 1946] should be declared to be a residential building on the ground that such conversion has resulted in scarcity of residential accommodation."

Sub-clause (1) of clause 11 as it stands means that no residential building shall be converted into a non-residential building, after the commencement of this Act, except with the permission of the Controller. My idea is that provision should be made to enable the Rent Controller to declare as residential buildings, the buildings which were converted into non-residential buildings since 1944. My reasons are as follows. In my own town of Chittoor, we found that recently merchants, who were making a lot of money from trade, have taken hold of small and big residential buildings, and the people are suffering for want of residential accommodation. By reason of the wholesale occupation of the houses by traders, the poor people and officials transferred to the town are unable to find accommodation. I find in the City of Madras also whole streets have been converted into non-residential areas by merchants, and people are finding it difficult to get accommodation. As an illustration I would say that in my own town of Chittoor, a small town with a population of nearly 25,000 about 150 residential houses have been taken away by merchants to store all sorts of goods for their business. This has resulted in scarcity of accommodation to the ordinary people and the trouble is very much acute now. I understand the same condition prevails in many of the municipal areas in this Presidency including the City of Madras. Therefore I submit that this is a hardship against which the Bill must make provision. I requested the Hon. Minister yesterday to consider this matter. I move the amendment since I was not objected to. If he accepts it, I will be very thankful."

The amendment was duly seconded.

D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"We discussed this amendment in the Select Committee itself at considerable length and felt that it could not be accepted, as this was the one provision in the Bill to which the hon. Member wants to give retrospective effect for two years. The amendment is to enable all residential buildings converted into non-residential buildings since 1944 to be reconverted into residential buildings. In the Select Committee, it was pointed out that there were a number of buildings in which there were ration shops and so many other buildings used for non-residential but essential purposes. Besides, to give power to the executive authority of the municipality to move the Rent Controller to get them reconverted into residential buildings will be going too far. I submit that this amendment should not be accepted."

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"The hon. Member Mr. Varadachari who moved this amendment said that, as a result of the conversion of residential buildings into non-residential buildings, there is scarcity of residential accommodation. Various conditions have brought this into existence. The conversion has taken place in the past with the knowledge, consent and authority of the landlord. This Bill cannot retrospectively affect relations that have already come into existence. The Bill provides that in future no residential building shall be converted into a non-residential building except with the permission of the Controller. It is regrettable that such conversion has taken place in the past. But the Government cannot now take steps in this Act which is to control the lease and rent of buildings hereafter. So I regret that I cannot accept the amendment."

SRI K. VARADACHARI:—"I withdraw the amendment."

The amendment was by leave withdrawn.

Clauses 11, 12 and 13 were put and carried.

Clause 14.

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"I move that— 5-15 P.M.
 'Clauses 14 to 17 be renumbered as clauses 16 to 19 and the following inserted as clauses 14 and 15 respectively:—

- "14. The executive authority of a municipal council or local board or the Revenue Officer of the Corporation of Madras shall, on application made in this behalf and on payment of such fee as may, from time to time, be fixed by the Provincial Government by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, grant to the applicant a certified copy of the extract from the property tax assessment book of the municipal council, local board or the Corporation of Madras, as the case may be, showing the rental value of the building or buildings in respect of which application has been made, relating to the period specified in the application. Such certified copy shall be received as evidence of the facts stated therein, in proceedings under this Act.
15. Every landlord and every tenant of a building shall be bound to furnish to the Controller or any person authorized by him in that behalf, such particulars in respect of the building as may be prescribed by rules made under this Act."

D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Mr. Speaker, the amendment given notice of by the Hon. the Minister was to the following effect:—

'Renumber clauses 15 to 17 as clauses 17 to 19 respectively and after clause 14, insert the following as clauses 15 and 16:—

* * * *

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I wish to inform the House that the above amendment was given notice of yesterday in the Assembly. But they have been superseded by the amendment now proposed and this has been circulated later. If any hon. Member has got any further amendments to suggest now, I have no objection to place them before the House for consideration. May I know from hon. Mr. Rawoof whether he is now clear."

[11th September 1946]

D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Well, Sir, I thought they were amendment to clause 15. I have not received the notice of amendment circulated later. I have only yesterday's notice of amendments."

The amendment was put and carried, and new clauses 14 and 15 formed part of the Bill.

Clause 14 (renumbered as clause 16).

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"1 move—

For existing clause 14 (renumbered as clause 16) substitute the following:—

"16. (1) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 3, clause (a) of section 6, sub-section (1) of section 8, sub-section (1) of section 11 and section 15, he shall be punishable with simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees or with both.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 32 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, it shall be lawful for any magistrate of the first class specially empowered by the Provincial Government in this behalf and for any Presidency Magistrate to pass a sentence of fine exceeding one thousand rupees when awarding punishment under sub-section (1)."

"This is an amendment to the original clause 14, which is renumbered as clause 16."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I want to inform the House that I am not going to put the original clause 14 to the vote of the House. Instead of that, for the existing clause renumbered as clause 16, the amendment moved above by the Hon. Mr. Raghava Menon will be put to the vote of the House."

The amendment was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"The original clause has now become clause 17. I will now put clause 17 to the vote of the House."

Clause 15 renumbered as Clause 17 was put and carried.

Clause 16 (renumbered as clause 18).

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"1 move the following amendments to clause 18 (original clause 16):—

"In sub-clause (1), omit the words 'be continued and' and in line 4 for the words 'further proceedings shall be subject to the provisions of this Act', substitute the words 'be continued subject to the provisions of the Act'."

For sub-clause (2), substitute the following:—

"(2) All orders passed or deemed to have been passed under the Madras House Rent Control Order, 1945, and Madras Non-Residential Building Rent Control Order,

[11th September 1946] [Hon. Sri R. Raghava Menon]

1945, and in which fair rent has been fixed, shall continue in force until they are superseded or modified under this Act by the authority competent to do so."

"The amendment proposed in sub-clause (1) is, that the words 'be continued, and' in line 4 have been deleted and these have been taken to the end of the sub-clause, and substituted for the words 'further proceedings shall be subject to the provisions of the Act.' These are only verbal alterations and do not alter the intention of the clause. The amendment to clause (2) also is verbal."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Mr. Speaker. May I know whether the expression 'shall be deemed to have been commenced or taken under the corresponding provisions of the Act and be continued subject to the provisions of the Act' mean the same thing as the original clause, that is 'shall be continued and be deemed to have commenced or taken under the provisions of the Act, etc.' I want to know what is the object that is being carried out by these verbal amendments."

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"The object is, that if there are already applications pending for fixing fair rent, those applications will have to be continued."

D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, this amendment to clause 16 (1) and (2) of the Bill was inserted by the Select Committee at my instance. I have some doubts whether we could allow the proceedings to be continued under the provisions of the present Act. I have been made to understand, Sir, that proceedings that have been started for the fixation of fair rent some 12 months or 18 months ago are still pending in the courts of Rent Controllers in the mufassal. The point to be considered, Sir, is whether this House agrees that the tenants or landlords, as the case may be, whose applications have been pending for 12 or 18 months should be allowed to have the fair rent fixed according to this Act. That will mean a hardship in some cases. That has got to be clarified and I ask the Hon. Minister to make the position very clear.

"The scales of increase that have been allowed in this Act are far higher than what were available under the previous House Rent Control Order. Whether a tenant or a landlord could have that benefit with retrospective effect for 18 or 12 months has got to be considered. The Government should clarify this position before bringing in amendments. (Interruption.) I think, Sir, I have not been able to make it clear to the Hon. Minister. I have been made to understand that there are proceedings that have been started some 12 to 18 months ago which are still pending in the courts of the Controllers. If the section as it stands is allowed to be passed, the result will be that the tenants and landlords will have the benefit of this increase fixed in this Act with retrospective effect, because the fair rent has got to be fixed from the date of the application. That position has got to be made clear. I request the Minister to consider my suggestion to delete the words 'commenced or taken under the corresponding provisions of this Act'."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second this amendment, Sir."

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Sir, I have to state that the fears of hon. Members are not warranted. If my amendment is accepted, the sub-section (1) will read as follows:—

'All proceedings commenced and action taken under the Madras House Rent Control Order, 1945, and the Madras Non-Residential Buildings Rent Control Order, 1945, and pending at the commencement of this Act, shall, so far as may be, be deemed to have been commenced or taken under the corresponding provisions of this Act . . .'

Let us take a concrete example. If an application for fixation of fair rent has been made, and witnesses have been summoned and other proceedings taken, a fresh application may be unnecessary, as it shall be deemed that the proceedings have been commenced or taken under the corresponding provisions of this Act. That is the meaning. In the absence of provision in such terms, there will have to be fresh proceedings. According to this amendment whatever has been done and whatever portion remains to be done, will be deemed to have been commenced under the corresponding provisions of this Act and be continued subject to the provisions of this Act. Sir, there is a complete arrangement for the continuity of the proceedings without any waste of time for the parties for taking fresh steps under the new Act."

D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Mr. Speaker, I requested the Hon. Minister to tell the House definitely whether he had any objection to the deletion of the words 'be deemed to have been commenced or taken under the corresponding provisions of this Act' and I have explained how this deletion is necessary. The explanation given by the Hon. Minister means, Sir, that the parties who did not have certain rights on the date of their applications will have those rights under the present Act."

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I shall mention the difficulties that will arise if my hon. Friend's amendment is accepted. What happens is that certain applications have been made and are pending at the time of the commencement of this Act and the persons who made the applications are entitled to have them adjudicated upon as to fair rent or as to eviction. If such a provision is not put in this Act it will mean that these cannot be enquired into. I shall meet the objection raised by my hon. Friend to this, i.e., that the further proceedings in the applications which have already been made shall be subject to the provisions of this Act. He feels that some injustice may be done either to the tenant or to the landlord because we have to decide those applications as on the date when the applications were made. I may point out that so far as the previous sections are concerned discretion only is given. It is not 'he shall do so'. It only says 'he may do so'. The fact that the applications have been pending for some time is a factor which will be considered by the Controller either in fixing fair rent or for purposes of eviction. If an application has been pending for 18 months or 2 years that will be considered in fixing the fair rent or for eviction purposes. In respect of this there is no hardship. Of course there may be some conceivable cases where the Controller is not very reasonable and some injustice may be done; but we cannot provide for all that."

11th September 1946] [Hon. Sri K. Bhashyam]

D. ABDUL RAWOOF SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The Hon. Minister has not evidently seen the section. It says: 'shall be subject to the provisions of this Act', and there is no option given to the Controller."

* THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"I am clear about that. It is not 'shall' in the previous sections whereunder proceedings for fair rent or eviction are conducted. The word is 'may'. Therefore the Controller has full discretion to have fair rent fixed in the manner he likes and to the extent to which it is subject to the provisions of this Act, it does not fetter his discretion at all."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I wish to know what the hon. Member. Mr. Pocker, seconded."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"My hon. Friend Mr. Rawoof has proposed that certain words be deleted. It is for the Hon. Minister to accept it or not."

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"It was only a suggestion made."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"First I will inform the House that old clause 16 now becomes clause 18. I will put the amendment first and then I will put clause 18 as amended to the vote of the House."

The amendments were put and carried.

Clause 16 renumbered as clause 18 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 17 renumbered as clause 19 was put and carried and allowed to stand part of the Bill.

The preamble was put and was carried and allowed to stand part of the Bill.

THE HON. SRI R. RAGHAVA MENON:—"Sir, I move that the Bill be passed into law."

The motion was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"We shall pass on to the next item on the agenda. Before doing so, I wish to inform the House that we sit to-day till 8 o'clock. That was the understanding arrived at yesterday. (Interruption.) If we finish earlier, we may close earlier."

[11th September 1946]

AN HON. MEMBER:—"To-day is the Bharathi day, Sir, and some of us want to go away early as we are meeting to-morrow also."

ANOTHER HON. MEMBER:—"Are we meeting to-morrow also, Sir?"

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"If hon. Members will not take a long time the business can be finished within half an hour. It is entirely in the hands of the hon. Members."

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I have no objection. I wish to know from the Hon. Premier whether it is the desire of the House to adjourn now."

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"No, Sir."

(2) THE MADRAS PRESERVATION OF PRIVATE FORESTS
BILL, 1946.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"We will now take the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Bill."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Sir, I beg to present the ^a Report of the Select Committee on the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Bill, 1946 (L.A. Bill No. 7 of 1946) and move—that the Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

"I wish to speak only for five minutes in order to place before the House the salient features of the amendments that have been carried out. In the first instance, as will be seen from the report, after a fair and full discussion we have presented a report which is quite unanimous and without any dissenting minute. Therefore our work will be quite easy.

"Sir, in clause 1 we have limited the extent of private forests to 100 acres in Malabar and South Kanara and also in other areas excluding estates. We have also defined communal land so that alienation of these and the cutting of forests in them might be made more definite. In clause 3, instead of taking power for the Provincial Government to notify the authority, which is indefinite, we have definitely provided that District Collectors are the officers from whom necessary permission should be taken. By way of consequential amendments to this provision, we have made a provision for appeals from their orders. Then, coming to clause 10, we have provided a new clause under which power has been taken to frame rules for defining the classes and kinds of trees which may be permitted to be cut and the terms and conditions subject to which such permission could be granted and the procedure to be followed by the District Collector for granting permits.

"These, Sir, are the main changes made by the Select Committee all of which have gone to improve the provisions of this Act. Considering that the main object of the Bill has been supported by all sections of the House, I request the House to pass this motion."

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir. I am afraid we must express our disappointment at the manner in which this Bill has emerged from the Select Committee. In the light of the suggestions made by the members of our party, we expected that considerable changes would be made in the Bill when it went to the Select Committee, but we are disappointed.

"Sir, in the first place, I find that the definition of the word 'forests' remains unaltered. The definition of this word after the Bill has emerged from the Select Committee is as wide as it was when the Bill was first presented to this House. According to the definition of 'forests' that the Government have adopted, it can even declare tomorrow Mount Road to be a forest! It is indeed amazing and without precedent. In order to bring in various classes of land under the definition of 'forests' so that its legislation might come under item 22 of List II of the Provincial Legislative list in Schedule VII of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Government have extended the definition of 'forests' according to their predilections. But I submit and I wish to state that my submission is based on very high authority, on the authority of no less a person than that eminent lawyer Sir Aliadi Krishnaswami, that the Provincial Government have no power to extend the definition of 'forests' in the manner that they have done in order to make the term all comprehensive and make all classes of land come within the purview of that definition. It is an accepted principle settled by the highest authority that the Provincial Legislature with restricted and limited powers cannot extend the ambit of its powers by any process of definition. Reference to books on Constitutional Law will bear out this point. Sir, there are a number of lawyers on the Treasury Benches, yet it is amazing that the Government should bring in such legislation. Even yesterday I referred to this matter when dealing with the Essential Articles Control Bill.

"When I mentioned the point the Hon. Minister for simply shook his head but he did not clearly state whether the Provincial Government was empowered under the Government of India Act, 1935, to bring in legislation covering the various items mentioned in the Bill. Now, I want the Hon. Minister for Revenue to specifically state under which item of the Provincial Legislative List of the Government of India Act, 1935, this measure has been brought forward, and particularly how the Provincial Government is in a position to extend the definition of 'forests' in the manner that it has done. If the Provincial Government has not this power, then evidently the present measure would be 'ultra vires' of this Legislature.

"Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are disappointed to find that the suggestions made by the members of our party have not been accepted which has necessitated the members of our party to bring forward a large number of amendments. Our members from Malabar had suggested that trees which stood 1,000 feet above sea-level should be exempted. They had also pointed out that clause 3 (1) (a) and (b) should be deleted as these clauses took away some of the inherent rights of owners. But three other suggestions have not been accepted. Let us visualise what the effect of this legislation will be. Its effect undoubtedly will be that those industries of Malabar which are dependent on timber will be paralysed; its effect will be that within a short time a timber famine will overtake the land to add to the number of other famines that are overhanging our heads under the present regime; its effect will be that thousands of people working in the forests, factories and industrial concerns in Malabar will be thrown out of employment which will intensify the already acute labour unrest prevalent in this Province. Sir, is it wise on the part of the Government to bring in such measures at the present time as will add to its troubles?

"Mr. Speaker, I cannot perceive any urgency so far as this Bill is concerned. There might have been some urgency with respect to other Bills, but in regard to this measure, I do not see where the urgency lies. I do not demur to the assertion that it is necessary to prevent the destruction of forests; I grant that the problem of the preservation of forests has to be tackled, but there is no necessity, I feel, to rush through legislation in this manner. The Hon. the Minister for Revenue might be aware that the Post-war Reconstruction Committee has constituted a Forests Sub-Committee which dealt with the problem of the preservation of forests. The Government could have implemented the recommendations of that Sub-Committee for the time-being, until it was in a position to bring in a suitable and well-considered legislation, instead of rushing through a measure like this.

"Another point to which I must advert is in connexion with clause 12 of the Bill. I have given notice of an amendment that that clause be deleted, for it is most objectionable inasmuch as it gives unlimited powers to the present Government to do anything that it considers necessary. Mr. Speaker, it has been repeated to us times without number that this is a democratic Government. Why then I ask, should it want to take total powers into its own hands which habit was in vogue with the totalitarian governments? The word 'totalitarian', Mr. Speaker, originated thus: One day when the late Signor Mussolini was discussing political matters with the Pope at the Vatican, he banged his fist on the table and declared: 'The State is total; the State shall have total powers'. Thereupon the news was flashed in all the newspapers of the world that according to Mussolini the State should be total. While the famous Louis XIV of France declared in the seventeenth century 'L'Etat c'est Moi', meaning 'I am the State', Mussolini declared in the twentieth century 'The State is total'; thus, the word 'totalitarian' came into existence. The definition of the term 'totalitarian government' is a government which invests itself with total powers. We find that this is precisely what the Congress Government is doing. In the face of this I wish to emphasize that no amount of rhetoric about democracy will convince the peoples of the world that this Government is democratic. Let it be remembered that it is not words, or outward manifestations, or declarations, or declamations, that will make the present Government democratic but actual deeds. It is deeds not words that will count and it is by its deeds that the present Government will be judged at the bar of public opinion the world over. I, therefore, urge upon the Government to consent to have this clause deleted. The other day, the Hon. Minister for Law attempted to justify the insertion of the clause which gave the Government omnibus powers by stating that such a clause was to be found in modern legislation, the instances that he gave of modern legislation being the Agriculturists' Debt Relief Act and the Sales Tax Act. But I wish to point out that since these Acts were brought forward by the Congress with a totalitarian outlook how could it be otherwise? In the name of democracy, I ask the Government to delete clause 12 from the present Bill and not to appropriate totalitarian powers to itself in the Bills that will be introduced in the future."

* SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the motion of the Hon. Minister. He has explained very well what changes have been brought about by the Select Committee. Sir, the fear to quit has created a mentality in a number of landholders to make hay while the sun shines. (At this stage Begum Sultan Mir Amiruddin took the Chair.) They fear, Madam, that this Congress Government, a democratic government, which works with a social purpose in mind, will take action very speedily and deprive them of their zamindaris which they got only as rent collectors about 130 years ago. Now, Madam, everybody knows that the forest area in India is only 13.4 per cent of the total area and that to save this country from an invading desert it would need at least a 20 per cent area of forests. We know, Madam, from statistics published from the time of the Agricultural Commission that western United Province is being invaded by the desert and on account of the denudation of forests the fertility of the soil is being washed away and we are not getting a regular supply of rain and manure. The result is the invading desert. Therefore, if we allow the landholder, let it be ryotwari or zamindari, to denude the forests, the fate of the country will be sealed. The Bill is therefore necessary to serve that particular purpose. The difficulty is how to prevent these gentlemen from making hay while the sun shines, as I told you in the beginning. The Hon. Minister for Revenue, in order to put a stop to their acts of destruction, has brought forward this Bill. I am not speaking from imagination. I have got in my hands documents which prove that the zamindars have taken to destruction on a large scale. I will read out to you an order by the Maharaja of Pithapuram to the tendar of Palivela, dated 25th December 1941:—

"An extent of 100 acres of the lands available for cultivation in the estate puntas of Aridy village are granted under Grow More Food Scheme to the applicant Sri D. Ramaraju Garu of Narasapuram, as requested by him for nazarana of Rs. 600 per acre subject to payment to the estate of assessment at Rs. 7 per acre on dry tenure and cesses thereon annually from fasli 1355 on condition of granting a jirayati patta for the land to the lessee if he would at his own cost apply to the Collector and get conversion of the land into ryoti tenure under section 20-A of the Madras Estates Land Act within six years from the grant fasli."

This hon. Member is not here to-day and I do not propose to comment strongly in his absence. He tried to lease out puntas in 1929 but then the Collector came in the way and prevented it. Under the present circumstances, he wanted to take advantage and assigned no less than 100 acres as I quoted above. This he tried as a test case, but the villagers were unanimous in their action. They filed a suit and got an injunction in the District Munsif's Court at Razole. That gentleman again appealed to the High Court. But, Sir, how can you expect the poor ryots to fight up to the Prizy Council? The difficulty is this: law is equal for all. The courts are open to all, but they are as costly as the Connemara Hotel. Therefore the poor ryots cannot be expected to appeal against the rich zamindars who have very heavy income and can go to any extent to establish their rights. Therefore, the present demand of the ryots that the zamindars should be prevented from taking advantage of the present circumstances and alienate porambokes, tank-bunds, etc., in the villages is just onwards is just and this amendment should be supported by all those who have got the interests of the ryots in their hearts.

"After all, Sir, we are going to abolish the zamindaris. The social purpose is the only justification for a social institution. The zamindars have got the contract, they have the sanid-i-Mibikiyat Isthimmar in their possession. The Prakasam Committee has amply proved that in 1802 they had no rights and even if they got any alleged rights conferred on themselves, it can be said that the Government cannot confer what they themselves did not possess. This has been held in courts of law, and it can be proved that the claims of zamindars all these 140 years are not at all supported by any evidence before 1802. And anybody who goes through the long report of the Prakasam Committee will be amply satisfied in this respect. Therefore, Sir, this is a step in the right direction, and I heartily congratulate the Government on having taken this up at this moment. I hope this will prevent the zamindars from any further interference with the communal rights. After all, Sir, forests are of general interest, as I told you in the beginning, and they should be preserved at all costs if we want to have a prosperous agricultural country in our dear India. I support the Bill, Sir, with all my heart."

* SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"I wish to say a word or two as to what has to be done in regard to the working of this Act and the responsibility of Government after passing this Act in framing the new policies in respect of forests defined under this Bill.

"My first suggestion, Sir, is that in working this very temporary measure, care should be taken that a proper authority is constituted in order to enable petitions under this Bill to be disposed of speedily. I see that the District Collector is made the authority for dealing with such applications. I agree he may continue as the authority under this Bill; but when a permanent policy is declared in respect of these forests, the authority should naturally shift with the acquisition of these properties by the Government to the regular Forest department. I trust that the Collector even now in all these cases will take the advice or will delegate his powers under the rules which Government may make in this behalf, to the District Forest Officer, so that expedition may be observed in matters under consideration in regard to this Bill.

[11th September 1946] [Sri N. S. Varadachari]

"The second thing I have got to say is this: that wherever a respectable landowner has a forest already worked on a scientific basis, care should be taken to see that the work is not interfered with very much. A working plan from him should be asked for in the first instance, and when Government through the District Forest Officer is satisfied that the plan therein provided offers facilities for work consistent with the preservation of the forest and the replanning of the same, he should be given the advantage of time and his work should not be impeded by other considerations. What I find generally in Government is this: that it takes a long time even when you have an understandable working plan, to put it in proper shape; but under this temporary measure, I hope Government will take care to see that time is saved and not wasted in the working of these forests so far as that may be deemed essential even for the preservation of these forests.

"The third thing I have got to say is this: I will never be satisfied until this Government announces one day that all zamindari forests and all private forests will be acquired by the State in the interests of the State. I do not understand, nor do I support the policy of treating forests as belonging to a village or to a community and to give to each man the right to do anything as he pleases in that area. That will never suit, I trust, the Members of this House too. I want forests to be under State control, and not merely that, I want them to belong to the State. Government could frame a policy and acquire all private forests, paying such suitable compensation as they deem fit. Then, Sir, we shall have an expanded forest department with suitable working plans for working those forests and also for preserving them from destruction and denudation. I trust Government will lose no time and from now onwards, will frame the policy in respect of this matter, will work out details and even instruct District Forest Officers to go ahead on the basis that the State will acquire all these forests, and to make—I won't say temporary, but to make—provisional plans for the working of these forests as and when they are acquired. I trust the Government will speed up certain acquisitions. There is no justification for an owner like the Tirupati Devasthanam to keep forests in their possession. The Members of the Devasthanam Committee know nothing about forests and there is no reason why such forests should not be immediately taken over by the Government and leased, as they can do even under the terms of the present law. They may be added to the Chittoor division. There are also several other forests like this. Even now option could be given to private parties who may be intimidated of the forthcoming State policy to surrender their forests on lease, in order that they may be worked profitably both to themselves and to the State. I trust, Sir, this will be . . ."

* ABDUL MAJEED SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of order, Madam. The Chair is being addressed as 'Sir'." (Laughter.)

* SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"I am sorry; I trust, Madam, that this will be attended to by the Government and suitable replies will be made by the Minister concerned in this debate itself, in regard to the points raised by me."

[11th September 1946]

* SRI PILLALAMARRI VENKATESWARLU:—"Madam, in welcoming the general features of this Bill, I just wish to bring to the notice of the Hon. Minister for Revenue, a few points. The Bill must be made applicable since the 14th July 1937 because up till now we have received reports that zamindars have begun evicting the tenants from their lands and porambokes; and in one village in the Guntur district, the District Magistrate has arrested the ryots and evicted some Harijans. This has been made known to the Prime Minister and the Minister for Harijans also. Under these circumstances, I request the Minister to make the provisions applicable from the year 1937. With these words, Sir, I welcome the Bill."

(At this stage the Hon. Speaker re-occupied the Chair.)

* SRI V. I. MUNISWAMI PILLAI:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, from the report of the Select Committee, I find that in clause 3, on the motion of the Raja of Venkatagiri, it was agreed that persons who have no rights of ownership for cutting the trees should also be subjected to the penalty under this Bill. Sir, since this amendment has come from the Raja of Venkatagiri, I should like to inform the House that for a very long time the ryots, who are mostly Harijans, have had the right of cutting trees on forest lands. Disputes have arisen and matters have gone to courts of law and to the High Court, where it was finally decided that the land belonged to the Maharaja. What I would like to bring to the notice of the Hon. Minister is while making rules to work the provisions of this Bill, he will see that the Harijans who have been at one time enjoying rights in the forests by way of getting wood and other things, required for agricultural purposes and other purposes also, are not interfered with. This is my only request, and I welcome the measure that has been brought forward."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Dealing first with the arguments advanced by the hon. Begum Amiruddin, I would beg to submit that many of the objections raised by her are objections which should have been levelled at the first stage of the Bill itself, i.e., before it was referred to the Select Committee. Once the main principles of the Bill have been accepted by this House, there is little use in going back again to the old position and raising the same arguments over again. She said she had expected many amendments and that there were not many. That is only a compliment to the measure, Sir, that it did not necessitate many amendments in the Select Committee. It is no defect of the Bill itself. I may assure her that there were many lawyers, trained lawyers there even from the party to which she belongs. So that, it was not by any lack of legal talents that more amendments were not put in as necessary."

"Then, she was pleased to refer to a great authority on law who appears to have written an article in the Press. Sir, we are quite aware of those objections. She asked what are the items and headings under which we are getting on with this Bill. May I tell her that this refers to the regulation of the customary rights of tenants in the use of forests, firstly, and for the preservation of forests in the interest of the State and for the present and future use of the ryots and agriculturists in general. If she will please refer to items 21 and 22, they will be found to cover all that is necessary—lands under item 21 and forests under item 22. The Madras Legislature deals with the Estates Land Act and the Madras Forest Act, which includes forest policy. Therefore it is a bit too late in the day to say that it is not within the competence of the Legislature. Our legal advisers have seen all these provisions and the Bill has been brought forward under proper advice."

[11th September 1946] [Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth]

* BEGUM SULTAN MIR AMIRUDDIN:—"Does pasture land also come under that?"

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I may say that pasture land comes within the Estates Land Act and therefore there is no difficulty about that. For the purpose of definition, we have included it and we have said that wherever there are trees and shrubs, they will be deemed to be forests."

"Suppose in a concrete case of an area of fifty acres, over forty acres are trees and shrubs, but in between there is an area of three or four acres which contain pasture land. If the Government have no power to declare the whole area as a forest—there is no use of looking into every little thing saying that a forest must contain so many acres with so many trees, of this girth or density and so on it will not serve the purpose. We are dealing with three legislations in the main—the Madras Forest Act, the Malabar Tenancy Act and the Estates Land Act. After all, this is only a Bill for the better use of forests by the ryots or agriculturists. This is only an emergency measure and there is no fear or doubt about the competence on the part of the Legislature to deal with this."

"Then, the hon. Member referred to the thousand feet above sea-level. I wish she had left this to others who dealt with it in the Select Committee who know more about the condition of Malabar than herself. We have advisers in the Forest Officers and the Chief Conservator of Forests. Most of the forests in South Kanara and Malabar are within thousand feet above sea-level except those on the slopes of the ghauts. There is, therefore, no use making a hard and fast rule saying that forests must be 500 feet above sea-level. We knew that we were doing."

"Then Sir, the Hon. Member referred to the question of hurry in passing the measure that there is Forest Committee and so on. We are aware of all those things and as a matter of fact, I have myself gone through one of the best reports on the subject by Mr. Sathe, Chief Conservator of Forests, in which he has referred to the devastation of forests all over the province and Malabar in particular. Therefore, it is to meet an urgent situation that this has been done. The reform is intended for the better use of forests and therefore it is not in any haste or hurry that we are having this measure."

"Last of all, she repeated the argument that has been stated on the floor of this House almost half a dozen times that a particular clause is undemocratic and that we are doing things in fascist way. We are thankful to her for giving the history of

[Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth] [11th September 1946]

'totalitarianism.' We are all aware of that. A thing repeated too often loses much of its force. As I said in the other House, substantial powers have been taken not merely by the Congress Government of 1937 but also by the British Parliament, as my hon. Friend Daniel Thomas, mentioned in the other House yesterday, when in 1929, the Poor Law was enacted to meet a situation where the Minister in charge was given powers to construe the provisions of other legislations to suit the purpose of the Act. Here, we are taking power for providing for the main thing, and that is in order to remove any difficulty in working the provisions of this Act. Therefore, to bring in the cry of Nazism and Fascism is, Sir, to use words which are unnecessary for this occasion. Strong words break no bone.

"Then hon. Friend, Mr. N. S. Varadachari, has given some useful advice which I say, we shall certainly consider. For example, one of the things he said was that the process of granting permits should be speeded up. I am fully conscious of the fact that there is often undue delay. We shall frame rules so that there is no undue delay and there is no harassment and that in regard to the grant of permits, the advice of Forest Officers should be taken. I assured hon. Members in the Select Committee that this will be done because the District Forest Officers are the proper authorities competent to advise on such matters.

"The other suggestion of my hon. Friend, Mr. Varadachari, with regard to working plans—that also is a very useful suggestion—will be considered.

"He made the suggestion that forests may be acquired. I may tell him, as I said under the Forest Demand, we have under consideration to revise the whole policy in regard to forests which will be taken up as soon as our pre-occupation with the Budget is over, particularly in view of the report of Mr. Sathe, and in the amending measure, we hope to bring we shall consider his suggestions in regard to the acquisition of private forests and other important things. If we take the district of Malabar, it contained at one time some of the best forests which no longer exist to-day and this question of acquisition would be a useful proposal which we shall consider seriously when we take up the question. However much you may regulate the State could look after the forests much better. Then there is also the question of compensation and so on and the suggestion will be seriously considered including the suggestion of using the Tirupati forests. I am thankful to him for his valuable speech—I do not find him here; probably he seems to have gone away.

"Then with regard to the suggestion of my hon. Friend, Mr. P. Venkateswarlu, he has simply repeated the same arguments of retrospective effect from 1937 in regard to alienation of forests and so on. We cannot go much further than what we have done.

"Lastly, with regard to the fears of my hon. Friend, Mr. Munuswami Pillai, I can assure him that we have taken power by a special clause wherever we find it necessary, to regulate the exercise of the customary rights of the people. We have also made necessary provision here to see that people do not go and injure or denude the forests. Their legitimate rights are to be protected and for that we have taken powers to see that their rights are properly exercised. So, the measure as a whole, is an urgent measure and we shall deal with all the other things in great detail in the comprehensive measure that we are going to bring forward later in regard to the question of forests as a whole. In the meanwhile, I beg to ask for the support of the House to see that the Bill is passed."

The motion was put and carried.

Clause 1.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, I do not want to waste the time of the House by making a speech because all the important points were made clear by my hon. Friend, Begum Amiruddin and very good suggestions were made by hon. Friend Mr. N. S. Varadachari. At this late hour, I think it is wrong on my part to make a long speech on the amendment.

"Sir, my first amendment is this:—

'In clause 1, sub-clause (2) (ii), after the words "South Kanara" and before the word "having" the words "500 feet above mean sea-level" shall be inserted.'

My object in moving this amendment is this. In the Bill as it stands, the definition is so wide and so indefinite that I wish Government had not put it in there. There is a possibility of any place being declared a forest—I do say Government will not do it—all the same, when we pass a law, it must have some definiteness about it and those who deal with it must be satisfied that it is a statute which is self-sufficient and not dependent upon any other authority. The main object of this amendment is that there are so many forests at low levels out of which fuel is cut. I am sure it is not the policy of the Government now to stop cutting trees for the purpose of fuel and for this purpose, it is very necessary that an exemption should be made as it will be very difficult for people to get the permission of the authorities concerned—whether from the Government or from the Collector. This is a need felt very much not only in the localities in which such trees are cut for purposes of fuel but it is also required for other places also. Is it the idea that in areas which are below 500 feet there are trees which are not fit for fuel? I originally suggested, perhaps it was also proposed in the Select Committee that the height may be 1,000 feet but in order to see that no hardship is worked and the object of the Bill is achieved, I suggest 500 feet. I hope Government will consider the feasibility of accepting this amendment so that cutting of fuel may be facilitated and also there may be some reasonable definition for the word 'forest'.

"I shall move the other two amendments also in clause 1, sub-clause (2), namely:—

'In clause 1, sub-clause (2) (ii), after the word "situated" and before the words "in estates" the words "500 feet above mean sea-level" shall be inserted.'

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [11th September 1946]

'In clause 1, sub-clause (2) (iii), after the words "private forests" and before the words "situated in other areas" the words "500 feet above mean sea-level" shall be inserted.'

K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second the amendment, Sir."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, I submit that the Government are not in a position to accept the amendments for the reason that originally when the provision was brought in, there was no limit of extent but in order to see the small forests used for fuel were not affected we put in this limit of hundred acres. Further this theory that there are fuel forests below 500 feet sea-level is not correct. I have got intimate knowledge of my own district where many a reserve forest and some of them of the heaviest forests are under 500 feet sea-level and the conditions in Malabar will not be any different. Therefore, to make a distinction will not help anybody, but on the other hand, will be unworkable. Further before you lay prosecutions for cutting at every place you have to see what is the sea-level. There are two districts where rainfall is over 100 inches and heavy forests exist below 500 feet. Therefore this limit is not a proper one."

The amendments were put and lost.

Clause 1 (2) (iii).

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I move, Sir—

'That in clause 1 (2) (iii), in line 3, after the words "this Act", the words "by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette" shall be inserted.'

"It is by mistake these words were left out. I submit that this is only a verbal amendment."

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 1 as amended was put and carried.

Clause (2) (a).

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, my amendment to clause 2 (a) is as follows:—

'In clause 2 (a), after the words "any other class of land" and before the word "declared" the words "500 feet above mean sea-level" shall be inserted.'

"The object of this is to make the definition of 'forest' more intelligible and more definite. It is of course consistent with what I have proposed in the previous amendments. As it is, I have already stated that the definition of 'forests' does not seem to look like that of a legal definition. It seems to be a definition which depends on the will and pleasure of the Government. Of course that will and pleasure may perhaps be much better defined. In order to give some better and definite shape to the clause, I am moving this amendment."

11th September 1946]

K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second it, Sir."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Sir, while there was something which can be said in regard to forests in Malabar in respect of the 500 feet rule, if this amendment is accepted, there will be no forests left in the Estates Land Act areas if this rule is applied. So, I oppose the amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 2 was put and carried.

Clause 3.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, I move the amendments standing in my name in respect of the various sub-clauses of clause 3 together to facilitate discussion:—

Clause 3.

'In clause 3, sub-clause (1) (a) and (b) shall be deleted, sub-clause (2) shall be renumbered as sub-clause (1), sub-clause (3) as sub-clause (2) and the words "or subsection (2)" in clause 3, sub-clause (3) shall be deleted.'

Clause 3 (1) (a).

'In clause 3, sub-clause (1) (a), for the words "District Collector," the words "District Forest Officer" shall be substituted.'

Clause 3 (2).

'In clause 3, sub-clause (2), for the words "District Collector," the words "District Forest Officer" shall be substituted.'

Clause 3 (2), proviso.

'In the Proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), after the words "fallen trees" and before the words "or to any act done" the words "or trees cut before the commencement of this Act" shall be inserted.'

Clause 3 (2).

'In clause 3, sub-clause (2), delete the words "without the previous permission of the District Collector" and after the words "cut trees" and before the words "or do any act" the words "described in the schedule below" shall be inserted.'

'In clause 3, sub-clause (2), the words "or do any act likely to denude the forest or diminish its utility as a forest" shall be deleted.'

'In the proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), after the word "domestic" and before the word "purposes" the words "or agricultural" shall be inserted and after the word "customary" and before the word "domestic" the word "or" shall be inserted.'

'In the proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), after the words "domestic or agricultural purposes" as amended by the previous amendment and before the words "or for making agricultural implements" the words "or for the purposes of rubber, tea, coffee, cashew and orange plantations" shall be inserted.

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [11th September 1946]

Before the proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), the following proviso shall be added:—

"Provided that the District Collector shall ordinarily pass an order on any application for such permission within a fortnight of the receipt thereof."

"Sir, in the first place, I am yet to understand what was the real purpose of the Government in having this clause interfering with the inherent rights of the owners of these forests from selling, mortgaging, leasing or otherwise alienating them. I thought the object of the Government to be achieved by this Bill was to prevent them from cutting away trees and thereby denuding the forests and making the forests valueless and that was, I thought, the object. I think it is a great hardship to prevent people from dealing with their own forests in achieving this object. Whether the forest is in the possession of owner, lessee or mortgagee or anybody claiming under the owner or even 'any other person' as in the amended section is prohibited from cutting trees, but I do not see any reason why Government should prevent people from either alienating, mortgaging or even leasing their property. All kinds of people are subjected to the provisions of this Act. After all what is intended is to prevent cutting of trees. I agree. But in order to achieve this object, why should owners be prevented from exercising their inherent rights? Unless it is necessary for carrying out the objects of this Bill, why such a provision is required, I fail to understand. At any rate, whatever may be the purpose, so far as the forest coming under Estates Land Act area or in other parts of the eastern portion of this Province are concerned—so far as Malabar is concerned, there is no complication, I do not think there is any complication in South Kanara also—all kinds of people are subjected to the punishment and they apply to one and all. At the same time, this provision unnecessarily hampers people from exercising their rights. There may be people whose main property is forest. How can they live? There may be some good demand for a forest and they ought to forego it. It may be they require money for various other purposes for carrying on, for example, industries or for any other business or for domestic purposes, even then, they should not be mortgaged or even leased. Of course, the question of what will happen as regards the rights as between the lessor and the lessee is a different matter; let them settle it between themselves, as to leases that have already taken place, but the prohibition is for the cutting of trees. There are also very many other products coming out of these forests. At least for this purpose, they can be leased but cutting may be prohibited. I understand one of the objections is there is the possibility of people dividing big areas into small lands. That objection came up in the Select Committee. That could not have been the object when the original Bill was drafted. I do not see why this clause is put in this Bill. In fact, I would appeal to Government to delete that clause unless it is absolutely necessary for carrying out the purpose of this Bill. That is in regard to the first part of my amendment."

11th September 1946] [B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur]

K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I second it, Sir."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"The other amendments are consequential. The substantial portion of my amendment is to substitute the words 'District Forest Officer' for the words 'District Collector'. Now, Sir, my main object in moving this amendment is this. So far as this permission is concerned, it must be sought from a person who knows what forest is and knows what are the conditions for which the permit is required. You cannot expect the District Collector to know all these things. Here is an officer who knows everything about forests and why go to the Collector and it is also said that the Collector will have to seek the advice of the District Forest Officer. Then why this double-method? When there are District Forest Officers in every district, can they not deal with this matter, whether this permission can or cannot be granted? He is a person who is conversant with things in his department. Of course, he is going to advise the Collector and if it is so, why should he not straightway issue orders, instead of the orders being issued by the Collector? Another reason why I have suggested this amendment is that, if the power is given to the Collector, he will certainly send the paper to the District Forest Officer and then it goes to the Ranger and so on. So much of delay will be caused. If timber is required for industrial or domestic purposes and permission is sought, there is not much good the papers going round and delay is caused if the usual red tapism is followed. I do not see any reason to subject people to this kind of difficulty. I would request Government to tell me if they do not have sufficient confidence in their own district officers, in this case the officer in charge of the department of forests. There is the other point also. The District Collector has innumerable functions already and it will not be advisable to burden him with one more item of work. I request the Hon. Minister for Revenue to give very serious consideration to this matter and consider the advisability of entrusting the District Forest Officer with this duty. After all, no harm will be caused; if he goes wrong, Government can correct him. What I have said refers to the substitution of the words 'District Forest Officer' both in sub-clauses (1) and (2).

"I have also another amendment to clause 3 (3)—

"In the proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), after the words "fallen trees" and before the words "or to any act done" the words "or trees cut before the commencement of this Act" shall be inserted."

So many trees would have been cut before the commencement of this Act and they would have been allowed to lie in forests. I do not see why any specific mention regarding them should not be made in the Bill itself. The fallen trees are in the forests and there is some chance, even as the clause is worded, to say that the proviso does not apply to such cases. It might be given a different meaning and things have to be made clear. Government must on no account prevent the removal of trees already cut and which are there. Strict instructions may be given even now before the Act comes into force to the District Forest Officer that the removal of such trees should not be prevented. They have been allowed to remain there for some time for difficulties of transport and various other reasons. I am sure Government do not intend that the Bill covers trees which have been already cut. Those people that were responsible for it cannot be punished nor can the removal of the trees be prevented. I do not think there will be any difficulty in giving orders based on my suggestions.

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [11th September 1946]

"Another amendment refers to sub-clause (2) and it is—

'In clause 3, sub-clause (2), delete the words "without the previous permission of the District Collector" and after the words "cut trees" and before the words "or do any act" the words "described in the schedule below" shall be inserted.'

The object of the amendment is to make the Bill self-sufficient and clear in itself instead of depending upon the discretion of any officer for giving effect to the provisions of the Bill. No doubt Government say that they will be making definite rules in order to provide for the kind of trees prohibited from being cut, the quality of the trees and under what circumstances they might be cut. The amendment will not in any way affect it for the reason that whatever that the Government intend to provide by rule, would be incorporated in the schedule. The object is that immature trees should not be cut. If it is so, there is no difficulty in mentioning it in the schedule itself, instead of making rules for it. I do not know whether Government have any further object in view; if so, it may be made definite and clear. I am not clear in my mind why there should be any hesitation for Government to accept this amendment.

"The next amendment is—'For the same sub-clause, I mean, sub-clause (2) of clause 3, delete the words "or do any act likely to denude the forest or diminish its utility as a forest".'

"Sir, it is not at all advisable to put in such a weighty provision in the Bill and invest any officer with any discretion to penalise acts, the nature of which is not defined. People themselves do not know what will constitute denudation of forest or diminish its utility. I want to know what the acts are that will be contemplated by this. If any person does any act likely to denude the forests or diminish its utility, he is liable to punishment. In that case, is it not reasonable that people should know what are the acts which are likely to denude forests or diminish their utility, the doing of which will make them liable for imprisonment and fine? I do not see why such vague phrases should be put in the contravention of which is punishable. I would request Government to see the reasonableness of my amendment and accept it. I know the fate of my amendments but I do this because I have a duty to perform to you, to my constituents and I have to satisfy my conscience. I would appeal to Government to make this matter quite clear at least by way of rules so that when the Act and Rules are put together people may know where they stand.

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [11th September 1946]

"My next amendment is—

'In the proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), after the word "domestic" and before the word "purposes" the words "or agricultural" shall be inserted and after the word "customary" and before the word "domestic" the word "or" shall be inserted.'

By means of this amendment, Mr. Speaker, I am only trying to restore the clauses to its original shape, namely, as it was before it went to the Select Committee. Before it went to Select Committee, agricultural purposes were included. I fail to see why it was deleted. Anybody conversant with conditions in Malabar knows that the fugitive system of cultivation, the punam cultivation is carried on them. I understand that it yields about two lakhs of paras of paddy. If this provision were to be enforced, the result will be that nobody will touch these lands and the yield of paddy would be lost to the country; especially at the present acute food position in the country we should welcome production of food. People will be prohibited from carrying on punam cultivation and there will be a short supply of paddy to the extent of one or two lakhs of paras of paddy. I do not know if Government have bestowed their thought on this subject and have come to the conclusion that preservation of trees is much more important than the procurement of two lakhs of paras of paddy. I wish the Government know and realise the consequences of what they are doing. Fugitive cultivation is an important factor in the West Coast. If this Act were to be brought into force, the result will be that a person who wants to initiate punam cultivation will have to take the permission of the Collector and he cannot proceed unless the permission is granted and I do not know in how many months the permission applied for will be granted."

* SRI KALA VENKATA RAO:—"Only for the cutting of trees and other acts contemplated in sub-clause (2), the permission of Collector is necessary."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"My hon. Friend must know that not only trees, but also shrubs have to be cleared and forests include shrubs also. In addition there is the provision 'any act likely to denude the forest'. Under that compendious term, even the ordinary agriculturist can be roped in for penalty for merely cutting some shrubs or picking dry dung from forests. It can be argued that the utility of the forests will be diminished by such acts. I know nothing would come out of my amendments; my intention is only to apprise Government of my ideas on the question so that they may bestow their thought on them and come to a conclusion whether the preservation of shrubs is more necessary than procurement of paddy.

[B. Pocker Sahib Bahadur] [11th September 1946]

7 p.m. "The next amendment is this—

'In the proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), after the words "domestic or agricultural purposes" as amended by the previous amendment and before the words "or for making agricultural implements" the words "or for the purposes of rubber, tea, coffee, cashew and orange plantations" shall be substituted.'

These plantations are usually be raised in those forest areas, and if this amendment is not accepted all those things will come to a standstill. These are plantations that are going on in those areas, and I have suggested this amendment on the analogy of the provision in the original Bill. The original Bill exempted the cutting of trees for agricultural purposes. If that is to be exempted for agricultural purposes, I am yet to be enlightened why it was omitted here. These plantations come under the same category. There are large areas in which rubber, tea, coffee, cashew and orange are grown. I have suggested this amendment in order that the cultivation of plantations in those areas may be facilitated.

"The last part of my amendment to this clause is this—

'Before the proviso to clause 3, sub-clause (2), the following proviso shall be added:—

"Provided that the District Collector shall ordinarily pass an order on any application for such permission within a fortnight of the receipt thereof."

"I am fully aware that it is rather a difficult task for the Collector to dispose of applications expeditiously. In this case, the Collector has to send it to the Forest Officer, Ranger, and all this circuitous procedure has to be resorted to. When it is to be done by the District Forest Officer, these cases will be expedited."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I am unable to accept any of the amendments, but I will give reasons why they are not accepted. I shall be very brief in giving reasons. Reasons have been advanced in favour of the amendments, and I ought to reply to them, but without taking much time. The deletion of sub-clauses (1) (a) and (b) will defeat the very purpose of this Bill. It is necessary, Sir, to exercise control over sale, lease, mortgage and alienation. The idea is that the owners of forests should not be left to deal with them as they like. The idea that forests can be dealt with apart from the agricultural lands, that there is nothing in them which concerns the prosperity of the people of Malabar as whole, must be given up. These forests are not the exclusive property of the few private landholders and they should not be allowed to cut away forests producing timber and maximum money within the shortest time. They are the property to be enjoyed by the ryots both now and in the future. What I say is that the cutting of trees and alienation should be regulated in a proper manner in Malabar and South Kanara districts. With regard to other areas, of course, the alienation should be prohibited in the manner which has been thought best.

"Then, Sir, the point that District Forest Officer should be substituted for District Collector should not have been urged at all. In the Select Committee which contained two hon. Members from Malabar, there was not one who accepted the suggestion to put District Forest Officer in the place of District Collector, and that too for a good reason, because the utility of a forest, with reference to the cultivation needs of ryots of the place, would be better known to the District Collector than a Forest Officer who will think only of the problems of cutting and replanting and nothing more, just as a timber merchant thinks only of the industry and not at all of the future prosperity of the ryots. I would request my hon. Friends of Malabar to take a broad human view, because the district of Malabar is very insufficient in food supplies, and all other surplus districts have to send food supplies to Malabar. Therefore, they must look after their future themselves, and should not allow jaimis and others to do away with the forests and make money within the shortest time possible. I do say that rubber plantation must be protected, but only with due regard to the future of the district as a whole.

"With regard to the omission of 'agricultural purposes' was an omission made by Mr. Khader Kutty from Malabar. He made the position clearer that if agricultural purposes were exempted, hundreds of acres will be given for rubber plantations without anybody knowing it. It was on that suggestion that it was altered to 'customary domestic purposes or for making agricultural implements' and it was also to see that owners of forests would not convert forests into rubber plantations. These plantations are to be raised in places below 500 or 1,000 feet above mean sea-level. It is also not total prohibition that will be made. What will be done is that permission will be regulated, and the owners of forests will not be allowed to take things into their own hands. What is sought to do is not a total prohibition but only regulation.

"This answers my hon. Friend's other objection that for timber plantation operations there should be no control at all. That is a thing which cannot be agreed to. Last of all he said that there should be a time-limit for the grant of permission. While I appreciate the opposition that there should not be undue delay, I can tell the hon. Member that powers will be taken to see that proper rules are framed, and that there is no unnecessary harassment. Lastly, there is an amendment which my hon. Friend has prepared, namely, a list of 17 trees which he thinks should be incorporated in the Bill. It will be much better to leave it to be covered by the rules rather than put it in the Act. Even here I hope, my hon. Friend will see the wisdom of the Government in being unable to accept any of his amendments."

[11th September 1946]

The amendments were put and lost.

Clause 3 was put and carried.

Clause 4 was put and carried.

Clause 5 was put and carried.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" My amendment to clause 6 is—

' Clause 6 shall be omitted '.

" This again is one of the instances in which wide powers are taken by the Government by a notification. Apart from that I may just point out to my hon. Friend that there is a redundancy. There is an actual redundant clause 3 (2) that no one shall do any act likely to denude the forest or diminish its utility as a forest.

" Here again there is ' If in the opinion of the Provincial . . . detrimental to the preservation of such forests.' I submit, Sir, it is rather redundant. I do not want the same thing should be in both the places. When the Bill is passed into Law, people should not have room to feel that sufficient thought has not been bestowed by this House. If there is a redundant clause, I do not think it looks very well. This clause is there already in the Act itself, and there is no need why Government wants power by notification to ' prohibit . . . forests.' Government should not take wide powers."

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I oppose this amendment. It is found necessary to ' prohibit or regulate the doing . . . forests ' other than those which are already mentioned there. It is for that purpose that power has been taken. It is not a redundancy, and with regard to clause (ii) for instance to regulate the exercise of customary or prescriptive rights, that clause cannot certainly be called redundant."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 6 was put and carried.

Clause 7.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" The amendment is—

' In clause 7, sub-clause (1), the words " or sub-section (2) " in line 2 shall be omitted.

' In clause 7, sub-clause (1), the words " or any of the terms of the notification under section 6 " shall be deleted.'

" This is only a consequential amendment. I am not moving it."

Clause 7 (1).

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" I move—

' that after the word " punishable with " and the word " imprisonment " insert the word " simple " . "

[11th September 1946]

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I beg to oppose the amendment, as it will almost be taken as an insult by the person who commits the offence."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 7 was put and carried.

Clause 8 was put and carried.

Clause 9.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" I move—

' Clause 9 shall be omitted.'

This is a section under which the Government want protection even from going to courts. I do not want the Government to be afraid of courts. If there is any question as to whether this House has power to pass this Law or any section in it, I do not know why the Government should prevent people from going to court. They can very well trust their courts. If anyone goes to the court unreasonably, he will be driven out. So I would request the Government not to create an impression that even the Government in their own measure declare that they have lost faith in the courts."

K. M. Seethi Sahib Bahadur seconded the amendment.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I am unable to accept the amendment. But I have got faith in the courts. If every order and notification under this legislation should be questioned in a court of law, matters will be held up. It is for that reason we are unable to accept the amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 9 was put and carried.

Clause 10.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—" I move—

' in sub-clause (1), in line 2, for the word " purpose ", the word " purposes " shall be substituted.'

This is a verbal amendment to rectify a mistake."

The amendment was put and carried.

Clause 10 as amended was put and carried.

Clause 11.

Clause 11 was put and carried.

Clause 12.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—" I move—

' that clause 12 shall be omitted.'

I do not want to take up any time of the House by saying anything on this amendment, because my silence will be much more eloquent than my speech. A reading of this clause is itself sufficient to condemn it. As Begum Mir Amiruddin has said enough, I do not want to waste the time of this House."

K. M. Seethi Sahib Bahadur seconded the amendment.

7-15

[11th September 1946]

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I silently oppose the amendment."

The amendment was put and lost.

Clause 12 was put and carried.

Preamble.

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I move—

'that the words "and whereas it is necessary to make provision for certain other purposes also" shall be omitted.'

It is very very strange that the Government should in the preamble say that we want to make provision in this Bill for certain other purposes also without giving any indication either in the Bill or in the preamble as to what those other purposes are. These are extraordinary methods which the Government should refrain from resorting to. It is very vague and it does not speak creditably on the part of this House to pass such a preamble."

K. M. Seethi Sahib Bahadur seconded the amendment.

* THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I cannot accept this amendment. There is nothing unusual. In similar Acts, it is found that more than one purpose is mentioned. All of them are not brought forward in the preamble. Only one or two purposes are stated and 'certain other purposes also' is added. The other purposes cannot go beyond what are mentioned in the body of the Bill."

The amendment was put and lost.

The preamble was put and carried.

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I move—

'that the Bill be passed into law.'"

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"I do not want to say anything as silence is golden."

The motion was put and carried and the Bill was passed into law.

(3) THE MADRAS TENANTS AND RYOTS PROTECTION BILL AS RETURNED FROM THE COUNCIL.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"I have already informed the House that a Bill has been received from the Upper House with certain verbal amendments. That Bill will be taken up now."

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Sir, I beg to move—
'That the amendment (shown in the annexure) which was made by the Legislative Council in the Madras Tenants and Ryots Protection Bill, 1946 (L.A. Bill No. 6 of 1946), as passed by the Legislative Assembly, be taken into consideration.'

11th September 1946] [Hon. Sri K. R. Karanth]

"ANNEXURE.

Clause 4.

For sub-clause (2), substitute the following sub-clause:—

(2) Where in a suit for eviction there is also a claim for rent, the tenant shall, within two months from the date of the commencement of this Act, or the date of institution of the suit, as the case may be, deposit in court, for payment to the landlord—

(i) in the case of a suit instituted before the commencement of this Act, the arrears of rent accrued due until the date of the commencement of this Act, at the rate claimed in the plaint or an amount equivalent to rent for two years at the rate aforesaid, whichever is less,

(ii) in the case of a suit instituted on or after the commencement of this Act, the arrears of rent claimed in the plaint, or an amount equivalent to rent for two years at the rate claimed in the plaint, whichever is less, together with such interest as may be payable under law, custom or agreement".

"The amendment has been passed in the other House at the instance of the Government. There was a slight omission to cover one set of cases. Whereas we have made provision for the payment of two years' rent or its equivalent in the case of decrees already passed and also suits to be filed hereafter an omission was made not to cover class of cases in which suits might have been filed two or three years ago and remain pending. There was no provision to cover such cases. This was brought to the notice of the Government so that all parties might get equal relief."

MR. B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Sir, it is not correct to say that this is a verbal amendment. I do not propose to oppose this for the reason that the result will be the same. It would take some more time of the House. This amendment gives some more advantage to the landlord. Anyhow I do not think it is worth my while to say more than this or to oppose this."

The motion was put and carried.

The amendment was put and carried.

* MR. SPEAKER:—"It is not necessary to put the Bill as amended to the vote of the House under rule 100. Before we disperse, the Hon. the Prime Minister wants to make an announcement regarding Khadi."

V.—ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE HON. PREMIER RE KHADI.

THE HON. SRI T. PRAKASAM:—"Mr. Speaker, Sir, to-day a scheme relating to village industries has been circulated among the hon. Members of the House. Before this, a scheme for Khadi was announced. A little later I promised to furnish another scheme relating to other village industries. That other scheme relating to village industries has been printed, made ready and distributed among the hon. Members of the House. This is done to enable them to understand the object of preparing the schemes incorporating the suggestions that were made from time to time as they are made ready, and also to enable them to understand why a big sum of three crores for cottage industries and for food development was asked for and why it was earmarked. The scheme that is presented to-day will enable every one of the Members to understand what the position in the country is, how the development of village industries is proposed to be made and how the provision made in the budget is proposed to be spent as we proceed with the work. I have given a note in the first two pages. I do not propose to read it to save time. It would be enough if I say that villages in the country which were once flourishing with their own cottage industries have become practically ruined now. Even for little things, which they could have been making for themselves provided facilities had been afforded, the villagers have been compelled to go to towns and make purchases. In that way every one of the hon. Members will certify to the fact that the villages to-day are not what they were in olden times. To restore old cottage industries and to introduce new industries which had not existed there: that is the object of this scheme. The details are given. Every detail has been mentioned in the outline, as the hon. Members can understand. They can picture to themselves, if these industries could be introduced into the villages and worked, in what condition they would be a year or two later, if not earlier.

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] [11th September 1946]

“As regards Khadi, a scheme had been placed before the hon. Members of the House. The same scheme had been sent up to the All-India Spinners Association General Secretary Krishnadas Jaju and through him it was sent up to Mahatma Gandhi and they have given advice and instructions. Khadi department is one which has been exclusively under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi. He has been an expert in Khaddar and the Khadi department. Long ago in the past when there was a conflict between those leaders who did not agree with Gandhiji's programme, the late C. R. Das and Pandit Motilal Nehru joined issue with Mahatma Gandhi on the question of his programme. A decision was taken in the Belgaum Congress. No doubt it was a decision in favour of Mahatma Gandhi, but the majority was not sufficiently big. He said that he would leave the Congress leadership in the hands of Pandit Motilal Nehru and C. R. Das so that they might carry on the programme through Council entry. In those days the difference between the two wings of the Congress was on the question whether Gandhiji's programme was the best one to secure freedom and consolidate the nation. There was what was known as the no-changers section. Pro-changers were C. R. Das and Pandit Motilal Nehru whose view was 'This programme will not secure freedom. We must enter councils. Through councils, we will get Swaraj.' That was the issue. On that issue, the Belgaum Congress decided no doubt in favour of Mahatma Gandhi, but Gandhiji said: 'No, this majority is not enough for me. I shall hand over the leadership to these two friends who have faith in council entry.' It was left in their hands. At that time it was that Mahatma Gandhi said:

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam] 11th September 1946]

'I shall separate this Khadi department.' He started this All-India Spinners' Association before that, and he was conducting the business. He said: 'I will hand over the leadership for the political struggle into their hands and I will separate this Khadi department which should be a non-political organization. It should not have anything to do with politics, because Khadi is intended not only for orthodox Congressmen but it was intended for all the peoples living in the land who have to live by getting their food and by having their cloth.' Therefore he considered that the Khadi department should stand separate. He has made it an organization and that organization has been functioning. Gandhiji re-entered Congress politics direct only when it was found out that C. R. Das, my old friend, died and it was left to Motilal Nehru who found out how deceived he was in thinking that council entry or work through the councils at that stage would not help. Therefore he requested Mahatma Gandhi: 'For heaven's sake, come to our rescue. We shall leave these councils. Please take up office.' Then it was that the great Salt Satyagraha movement came in and since then the Congress has been under one leadership, old differences having died down. He has been an expert. That is the previous history of this Khadi department. Therefore, Sir, although we have started the scheme here, some of us have been in the movement from the beginning up to date. We have started the movement here. Because we have got this big office, we thought we should not lose much time and we have been spending our time in this direction. We sent up a scheme to them and they have proposed some modifications in regard to Khaddar proper and with regard to other cottage industries, they have given their approval and have said that the whole of this village industries scheme other than Khadi placed in the hands of the hon. Members might go on as we prepared the scheme ourselves. Therefore I will submit to the hon. Members of this House and to the country outside that, so far as development of village reconstruction is concerned, all the cottage industries enumerated in this scheme would be carried on in all the 24 districts in the areas originally marked out by us. So far as Khaddar is concerned, the opinion of Mahatma Gandhi and his adviser who is one of the greatest experts Mr. Krishnadas Jaju is: 'don't try to develop all the firkas in all the 24 districts at one stage; you better limit your jurisdiction to three districts in Andhra, three districts in Tamil Nad, one in Kerala and one in South Kanara.' While doing so, we were given a direction that the area might be limited to a population of 50,000. According to our original scheme, a firka on an average was estimated to cover 20 to 25 thousand people. Nearly double that area is given. But the instruction is given that this might be confined to three districts in Andhra, three in Tamil Nad, one in Malabar and one in South Kanara. Very wholesome advice has been given by the founder of this Khadi department and by the expert in this line. We sought for their advice and they have given us their advice. The Government accepted the advice and we would like to carry out Khaddar work on the lines advised by the founder and his Secretary. As regards this, we have got experts who will give you within a short time the whole of this scheme, which is a rather big scheme covering not one item or two items. The shoe-maker in the village will not be the old shoe-maker. He will be able to produce articles which can be purchased only in some shops and imported from foreign places or manufactured in the Arts College or in some other place paying heavy cost. Under this scheme, villagers will be able to produce shoes of the finest type. The carpentry work would be of a different type altogether. In every respect, villagers will become better equipped not only to earn their livelihood. These industries are expected to improve the food problem, because agriculture has become a losing item. Because the old cottage industries disappeared, the agriculturists have become poor and they have not been able to meet their ordinary taxation. Therefore it is with that object that this attempt is being made.

[Hon. Sri T. Prakasam]

"I must only thank the hon. Members of this House. Whatever opposition was given, it was not given out of any bad spirit. What they felt at every stage they said, and we have been benefited by the criticism. We have not become losers on that account and if this scheme to-day becomes possible, it is because the hon. Members of the House have given their unstinted support to the scheme. Not only in this Khadi scheme, but in every other respect throughout this session the hon. Members of this House have proved themselves to be thoroughly competent to cope with any situation under any difficult circumstances. I should say one should feel proud of the record of work done in this House during the last two months ever since the session began and I cannot flatter you, Sir (turning to the Hon. Speaker), for the way in which you have been conducting the business. We cannot thank you too much. You have managed it so well that the country stands indebted to you for all that you have done."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Before we disperse, I wish to thank the Hon. Premier for the kind words he has said of me. I adjourn the House sine die."

The House then adjourned sine die

APPENDIX I.

[Vide answer to starred question No. 210 asked by Sri A. B. Shetty at the meeting of the Legislative Assembly held on 11th September 1946, page 1580 supra.]

FILARIA.

1. Filariasis is most prevalent in the coastal areas of Vizagapatam, West Godavari, Chingleput, Tanjore and Malabar. Among specially endemic areas, the following may be mentioned:—

Vizianagram in Vizagapatam district.

Palacole in West Godavari district.

Conjeeveram in Chingleput district.

Negapatam in Tanjore district.

British Cochin in Malabar district.

In Madras, the incidence varies in different areas of the City, Saidapet, Mambalam, Perambur showing the highest incidence. In other districts such as East Godavari, North Arcot, Chittoor, mild prevalence in certain localized areas occurs.

2. Measures for prevention.—(a) Filariasis is mainly a question of faulty drainage, breeding of mosquitoes and presence of infected persons. The main measure is the reduction of the breeding of culex mosquitoes which convey the disease. Anti-mosquito measures such as oiling and spraying undertaken in various endemic areas like Chicacole, Vizagapatam, Palacole, Conjeeveram, Kumbakonam have produced noticeable results.

(b) Local measures to deal with the drainage are now adopted by filling in stagnant water-pools, regular cess-pool service, filter-pits or trenches, cleaning kutchra drains and constructing pucca ones where possible. Drainage schemes on a priority basis have been recommended for the chief endemic centres on the score of filariasis.

(c) Propaganda by the health staff on the causation and prevention of filarial infection is undertaken as a routine measure in all endemic centres. Personal protection by the use of mosquito nets is an effective measure for the prevention of filaria.

3. Research.—A certain amount of research on some aspects of filaria, other than treatment, has been carried out by the Madras Public Health Department. The development of micro-filaria in the body of the mosquito Culex fatigans, its survival outside the mosquito in tank and tap water, the relation between mosquito infection rate and human infection rate, relation between manifestation of diseases and infection and seasonal prevalence of mosquitoes were the problems investigated by the department. Dr. T. Bhaskara Menon, Principal, Andhra Medical College, did research work on the development and transmission of filaria in lizards. Research on filariasis is conducted in the School of Tropical Medicine, Calcutta.

[11th September 1946]

4. The following drugs have been tried for the prevention of the diseases with the effects described under each:—

(1) Anthiomaline.—A lithium antimony compound supplied by May and Baker, London. This compound was found to be beneficial in controlling attacks of acute lymphangitis of filarial origin. It had no lethal effect on the parasite.

(2) Stibatin (Glaxo).—A pentavalent compound of antimony of low toxicity. No lethal effect on the parasite could be seen after a full course of treatment recommended by the makers.

(3) Mopharside.—An arsenical preparation used as an anti-spyhilitic. The drug did not appear to have any lethal effect on the parasite.

(4) Filarson—(Poly Clinic Laboratory).—Reported to be a combination of arsenic salt in solution with emulsions of killed T.A.B. and Streptococcal organisms.

“Although the compound showed no lethal effect on the parasite, it appeared to improve the general tone of the patients, thus helping them to overcome the susceptibility to attacks of lymphangitis.”

5. Mist. Calotropis Co.—Obtained from Calotropic gigantea. No effect on the disease.

6. Penicillin.—Similarly had absolutely no effect on filariasis.

7. Neestal (Burroughs Welcome).—Experimental work was done with ‘Neestal’ in cotton rats. Both adults and larvæ are reported to have been killed.

APPENDIX III.

[Vide item IV (2) on page 1614 supra.]

To

THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY,
MADRAS.

The SELECT COMMITTEE appointed to consider the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Bill (L.A. Bill No. 7 of 1946), has the honour to make the following report.

2. The Bill was published in an Extraordinary issue of the Fort St. George Gazette in English on the 29th August 1946.

3. The Committee was appointed on the 7th September 1946 with the instruction that a report be presented to the House on 10th September 1946.

4. The Committee met in the Committee Room, Fort George, on Monday, the 9th September 1946, both in the forenoon and in the afternoon and considered the provisions of the Bill and submit the following report.

5. The following are the more important changes made by the Committee:—

Clause 1, sub-clause (2).

It was thought expedient to exempt the private forests in districts of Malabar and South Kanara having a contiguous area exceeding 100 acres from the operation of this Bill. Then again it was considered necessary to bring in private forests situated areas other than the estates as defined under the Madras Estimation of Land Act and having a contiguous area exceeding 100 acres. It was also thought necessary to specifically exempt the reserved forests constituted under the Madras Forests Act from the operation of this Bill. Therefore the sub-clause was amended incorporating the above decisions of the Select Committee.

Clause 2 (a).

The definition of ‘forest’ was amended so as to include communal land also.

A new sub-clause (c) defining the term ‘person’ was added.

Clause 3.

The Committee felt it might be advisable to prescribe the District Collector as the authority competent to grant sanction referred to in sub-clause (3) (1) (a) and the permission referred to in clause 3 (2).

New clause 4.

A new clause 4 was introduced in order to provide an appeal from the District Collector to the Provincial Government.

New clause 6.

It was thought necessary to introduce a new clause clarifying the powers given to the Provincial Government for prohibiting regulating certain acts.

[11th September 1946]

New clause 7.

The Committee considered this clause at length and arrived at the conclusion that it was not necessary to prescribe a separate and lesser punishment for the first offence for the reason that the first offence might be of such a serious nature as to deserve a deterrent punishment.

New clause 8.

A new clause 8 was introduced in order to prevent sanctions for frivolous prosecutions by subordinate officers. The clause prescribes the District Collector as the proper authority to sanction prosecutions.

New clause 9.

A new clause 9 was put in in order to see that no order of the Provincial Government or the District Collector under this Act and no notification issued by the Provincial Government under section 6 shall be liable to be questioned in any court of law. This was done with a view to avoid unnecessary litigation.

New clause 10.

The Select Committee thought it was advisable to insert a separate clause empowering the Government to make rules affecting certain matters.

New clause 12.

A new clause 12 was introduced in order to enable the Provincial Government to remove or remedy any unforeseen or minor difficulties that may arise in giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

The Select Committee considers that in view of the few amendments effected by it, it is not necessary to republish the Bill.

A copy of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee is annexed.

K. R. KARANTH,
Chairman.

9th September 1946.

ANNEXURE.

[Note.—The changes made by the Select Committee are shown in clarendon type and the portions omitted are shown by dots.]

L.A. BILL No. 7 OF 1946.

A Bill to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of private forests and interference with customary and prescriptive rights therein and for certain other purposes.

WHEREAS it is necessary, pending further legislation, to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of private forests and interference with customary and prescriptive rights therein;

AND WHEREAS it is necessary to make provision for certain other purposes also;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, application, commencement and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Madras Preservation of Private Forests Act, 1946.

[11th September 1946]

(2) It applies—

(i) to private forests in the districts of Malabar and South Kanara having a contiguous area exceeding 100 acres and owned by a single person or by more than one person jointly;

(ii) to forests situated in estates as defined in the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908, in the Province of Madras; Madras Act I of 1908.

(iii) to private forests situated in other areas in the Province of Madras and having a contiguous area exceeding 100 acres which may be declared by the Provincial Government to be forests for the purposes of this Act, but does not apply to reserved forests constituted under the Madras Forest Act, 1882, and lands at the disposal of the Government as defined in that Act. Madras Act V of 1882.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

(4) It shall remain in force for a period of two years, but the Provincial Government may, from time to time, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, extend this period by a further period or periods not exceeding two years in the aggregate if, in the opinion of the Provincial Government, it is expedient so to do.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

Definitions

(a) 'forest' includes waste or communal land containing trees and shrubs, pasture land and any other class of land declared by the Provincial Government to be a forest by notification in the "Fort St. George Gazette."

Explanation.—For the purposes of this clause, 'communal land' means any land of the description mentioned in sub-clause (a) or sub-clause (b) of clause (16) of section 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908. Madras Act I of 1908.

(b) 'owner' in relation to a forest includes a mortgagee, lessee or other person having right to possession and enjoyment of the forest.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Provincial Government may direct that any suit or proceeding or class or classes thereof stayed under sub-section (1) shall be proceeded with from the stage which had been reached when the suit or proceeding was stayed.

Monday, the 22nd July 1946.

The House met in the Assembly Chamber, Fort St. George, at eleven of the clock, Mr. Speaker (THE HON. SRI J. SIVASHANMUKHAM PILLAI) in the Chair.

I.—SWEARING IN OF MEMBERS.

The following members made the prescribed oath of allegiance to the Crown and took their seats:—

Sri Raja Rao Venkata Kumara	Reddivari Nadhamuni Reddi.
Mahipati Suryarao Bahadur	T. K. T. N. R. Tatachari.
(Maharaja of Pithapur).	M. Ebrahim Kunhi Sahib.

II.—ELECTION OF REPRESENTATIVES TO THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY.

MR. SPEAKER:—"We meet here for a specific purpose, namely, to elect members to the Constituent Assembly. My friend Muhammad Ismail Sahib, the Leader of the Opposition, has given notice of a motion to discuss a matter of urgent public importance. As we are meeting for a definite purpose, I propose to rule it out of order."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know the purpose of the resolution?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"It is not necessary that I should read the resolution now."

"Hon. Members are aware of the purpose for which we have met here today. My first duty is to formally communicate to the House the message of His Excellency the Governor, dated the 21st June 1946. The message reads as follows:—

'The (*) Statement by the Cabinet Delegation and His Excellency the Viceroy has already been communicated to you. In paragraph 21 of the statement His Excellency the Viceroy is charged forthwith to request the provincial Legislative Assemblies to proceed with the election of their quota to the constitution-making machinery which it is proposed to bring into being. The basis for Provincial representation is described in paragraph 19 of the statement. At the request and on behalf of His Excellency the Viceroy, I now ask you to proceed with the election of forty-nine representatives to the Constituent Assembly. Four of the representatives shall be Muslims.

ARCHIBALD NYE,
Governor of Madras.

[Mr. Speaker]

[22nd July 1946]

" Pursuant to this message nominations have been received for the election of representatives to the Constituent Assembly for the four Muslim seats and for the 45 general seats. The following four persons have been nominated for election to the Muslim seats:—

- (1) Abdul Sathar Haji Ishaq Sait, Haji.
- (2) Ahmed Ibrahim, K. T. M.
- (3) Mahboob Ali Baig.
- (4) Pocker Sahib, B.

As the number of nominations received is equal to the number of seats to be filled, namely, four, there will be no election as far as the Muslim section of the Assembly is concerned and I am to announce Messrs. Abdul Sathar Haji Ishaq Sait, Haji, K. T. M. Ahmed Ibrahim, Mahboob Ali Baig and B. Pocker Sahib will be declared duly elected.

" As regards the general seats, the following 53 candidates have been validly nominated for election to the Constituent Assembly:—

As the number of candidates nominated for filling the general seats exceeds the number of seats allotted, that part of the Legislative Assembly consisting of members other than Muslims shall elect its own representatives according to the principle of proportional representation by means of the single transferable vote. The members of the Assembly other than the Muslims will accordingly now proceed to elect their representatives.

" For the information of the hon. Members I may state that the room now occupied by the Secretary has been temporarily converted into a polling booth. Hon. Members will kindly proceed to the booth to record their votes.

22nd July 1946]

[Mr. Speaker]

" The election will be conducted by the Secretary to the Legislature who has been nominated as the Returning Officer. He will issue the ballot papers initialled by him to the members. Detailed instructions as to how they should vote and record their preferences are given on the last page of the ballot paper. The essence of the voting would lie in the member having to mark his first preference by putting the figure ' 1 ' opposite the name of the candidate he prefers best. The ballot paper would be rejected if the first preference is not recorded in favour of any of the candidates. The recording of subsequent preferences shall be done by putting the figure ' 2 ' opposite the name of the member's second choice, the figure ' 3 ' opposite the name of his third choice and so on, numbering as many candidates as he pleases in the order of his preference. Forty-five being the number of vacancies, each member can vote for 45 members in the order of preference. What is, however, most important to bear in mind while recording the vote is not to put a cross-mark against the candidate of the member's choice, but the figure ' 1 ', ' 2 ' or ' 3 ' according as the candidate chosen is first, second or third in the order of preference.

" A ballot paper shall be invalid—

- (1) upon which a member signs his name or writes any word, or makes any mark by which it becomes recognizable; or
- (2) which does not bear the Returning Officer's initials; or
- (3) on which the figure ' 1 ' is not marked; or
- (4) on which the figure ' 1 ' is set opposite the name of more than one candidate; or
- (5) on which the figure ' 1 ' and some other figure is set opposite the name of the same candidate; or
- (6) which is unmarked or void for uncertainty.

" The polling will take place today from now on till 6 p.m. with a lunch interval between 1-30 and 2 p.m.

" I will be in my Chamber throughout the period of polling so that hon. Members may avail of my assistance in the matter of voting, should need for it arise.

" The counting of votes will take place at 12 noon on Tuesday the 23rd July 1946 in the Council Chamber, Fort St. George. Any candidate or his authorized agent may, with the permission of the Returning Officer, be present at the counting of votes."

The Hon. Speaker then explained the purport of the above speech in Tamil.

SRI K. ANANDA NAMBIAR:—" Mr. Speaker, Sir, the purport of the speech may be given in Malayalam also."

MR. SPEAKER:—" I do not know Malayalam. If anybody wants to say it in Malayalam, I will permit that.

" The Chief Parliamentary Secretary will please say in Telugu what I have said in Tamil."

Sri T. Viswanatham then explained the purport in Telugu.

[22nd July 1946]

SRI A. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR:—"On a point of information, Sir. I would like to know if it is necessary for me to mark all the 45 names."

MR. SPEAKER:—"You need not mark all the 45. It is your pleasure."

AN HON. MEMBER:—"May I know the number present at the House before voting? We have to calculate the votes."

MR. SPEAKER:—"I do not know that."

M. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On a point of information, Sir. Is the House to meet after the voting is over?"

MR. SPEAKER:—"Not necessary."

"(Seeing Mr. H. S. Town moving in his seat.) Does the Hon. Member Mr. Town, wish to say anything?"

MR. H. S. TOWN:—"I am only a visitor here."

MR. SPEAKER:—"Before I adjourn the House, I desire to congratulate the four Muslim members who have been duly elected. The polling booth will be kept open till 6 p.m. today. I desire all of you to go to the booth and vote."

The House will now adjourn to meet again at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, the 31st July 1946.

The House then adjourned.

22nd July 1946]

APPENDIX.

STATEMENT BY THE CABINET DELEGATION AND HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY.

1. On March 15th last just before the despatch of the Cabinet Delegation to India Mr. Atlee, the British Prime Minister, used these words:—

"My colleagues are going to India with the intention of using their utmost endeavours to help her to attain her freedom as speedily and fully as possible. What form of Government is to replace the present regime is for India to decide; but our desire is to help her to set up forthwith the machinery for making that decision."

* * * *

"I hope that India and her people may elect to remain within the British Commonwealth. I am certain that they will find great advantages in doing so."

* * * *

"But if she does so elect, it must be by her own free will. The British Commonwealth and Empire is not bound together by chains of external compulsion. It is a free association of free peoples. If, on the other hand, she elects for independence, in our view she has a right to do so. It will be for us to help to make the transition as smooth and easy as possible."

2. Charged in these historic words we—the Cabinet Ministers and the Viceroy—have done our utmost to assist the two main political parties to reach agreement upon the fundamental issue of the unity or division of India. After prolonged discussions in New Delhi we succeeded in bringing the Congress and the Muslim League together in Conference at Simla. There was a full exchange of views and both parties were prepared to make considerable concessions in order to try and reach a settlement but it ultimately proved impossible to close the remainder of the gap between the parties and so no agreement could be concluded. Since no agreement has been reached we feel that it is our duty to put forward what we consider are the best arrangements possible to ensure a speedy setting up of the new constitution. This statement is made with the full approval of His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom.

3. We have accordingly decided that immediate arrangements should be made whereby Indians may decide the future constitution of India and an Interim Government may be set up at once to carry on the administration of British India until such time as a new Constitution can be brought into being. We have endeavoured to be just to the smaller as well as to the larger sections of the people; and to recommend a solution which will lead to a practicable way of governing the India of the future, and will give a sound basis for defence and a good opportunity for progress in the social, political and economic field.

4. It is not intended in this statement to review the voluminous evidence that has been submitted to the Mission; but it is right that we should state that it has shown an almost universal desire, outside the supporters of the Muslim League for the unity of India.

5. This consideration did not, however, deter us from examining closely and impartially the possibility of a partition of India; since we were greatly impressed by the very genuine and acute anxiety of the Muslims lest they should find themselves subjected to a perpetual Hindu-majority rule.

This feeling has become so strong and widespread amongst the Muslims that it cannot be allayed by mere paper safeguards. If there is to be internal peace in India it must be secured by measures which will assure to the Muslims a control in all matters vital to their culture, religion, and economic or other interests.

6. We therefore examined in the first instance the question of a separate and fully independent sovereign State of Pakistan as claimed by the Muslim League. Such a Pakistan would comprise two areas; one in the north-west consisting of the Provinces of the Punjab, Sind, North-West Frontier, and British Baluchistan; the other in the north-east consisting of the Provinces of Bengal and Assam. The League were prepared to consider adjustment of boundaries at a later stage, but insisted that the principle of Pakistan should first be acknowledged. The argument for a separate State of Pakistan was based, first, upon the right of the Muslim majority to decide their method of Government according to their wishes, and secondly, upon the necessity to include substantial areas in which Muslims are in a minority, in order to make Pakistan administratively and economically workable.

The size of the non-Muslim minorities in a Pakistan comprising the whole of the six Provinces enumerated above would be very considerable as the following figures* show:—

	Muslim.	Non-Muslim.
North Western Area—
Punjab	16,217,242	12,201,577
North-West Frontier Province	2,788,797	249,270
Sind	3,208,325	1,326,683
Br. Baluchistan	438,930	62,701
	22,653,294	13,840,231
	62.07%	37.93%

* All population figures in this statement are from the most recent census taken in 1941.

22nd July 1946]

	Muslim.	Non-Muslim.
North-Eastern Area—
Bengal	33,005,434	27,301,091
Assam	3,442,479	6,762,254
	36,447,913	34,063,345
	51.69%	48.31%

The Muslim minorities in the remainder of British India number some 20 million dispersed amongst a total population of 188 million.

These figures show that the setting up of a separate sovereign State of Pakistan on the lines claimed by the Muslim League, would not solve the communal minority problem; nor can we see any justification for including within a sovereign Pakistan those districts of the Punjab and of Bengal and Assam in which the population is predominantly non-Muslim. Every argument that can be used in favour of Pakistan, can equally in our view be used in favour of the exclusion of the non-Muslim areas from Pakistan. This point would particularly affect the position of the Sikhs.

7. We therefore considered whether a smaller sovereign Pakistan confined to the Muslim majority areas alone might be a possible basis of compromise. Such a Pakistan is regarded by the Muslim League as quite impracticable because it would entail the exclusion from Pakistan of (a) the whole of the Ambala and Jullundur Divisions in the Punjab; (b) the whole of Assam except the district of Sylhet; and (c) a large part of Western Bengal, including Calcutta, in which city, the Muslims form 23.6 per cent of the population. We ourselves are also convinced that any solution which involves a radical partition of the Punjab and Bengal, as this would do, would be contrary to the wishes and interests of a very large proportion of the inhabitants of these Provinces. Bengal and the Punjab each has its own common language and a long history and tradition. Moreover, any division of the Punjab would of necessity divide the Sikhs leaving substantial bodies of Sikhs on both sides of the boundary. We have therefore been forced to the conclusion that neither a larger nor a smaller sovereign State of Pakistan would provide an acceptable solution for the communal problem.

8. Apart from the great force of the foregoing arguments there are weighty administrative, economic and military considerations. The whole of the transportation and postal and telegraph systems of India have been established on the basis of a united India. To disintegrate them would gravely injure both parts of India. The case for a united defence is even stronger. The Indian armed forces have been built up as a whole for the defence of India as a whole, and to break them in two would inflict a deadly blow on the long traditions and high degree of efficiency of the Indian Army and would entail the gravest dangers. The Indian Navy and Indian Air Force would become much less effective. The two sections of the suggested Pakistan contain the two most vulnerable frontiers in India and for a successful defence in depth the area of Pakistan would be insufficient.

9. A further consideration of importance is the greater difficulty which the Indian States would find in associating themselves with a divided British India.

10. Finally there is the geographical fact that the two halves of the proposed Pakistan State are separated by some seven hundred miles and the communications between them both in war and peace would be dependent on the goodwill of Hindustan.

11. We are therefore unable to advise the British Government that the power which at present resides in British hands should be handed over to two entirely separate sovereign States.

12. This decision does not however blind us to the very real Muslim apprehensions that their culture and political and social life might become submerged in a purely unitary India, in which the Hindus with their greatly superior numbers must be a dominating element. To meet this the Congress have put forward a scheme under which Provinces would have full autonomy subject only to a minimum of Central subjects, such as Foreign Affairs, Defence and Communications.

Under this scheme Provinces, if they wished to take part in economic and administrative planning on a large scale, could cede to the Centre optional subjects in addition to the compulsory ones mentioned above.

13. Such a scheme would, in our view, present considerable constitutional disadvantages and anomalies. It would be very difficult to work a Central Executive and Legislature in which some Ministers, who dealt with Compulsory subjects, were responsible to the whole of India while other Ministers, who dealt with Optional subjects, would be responsible only to those Provinces which had elected to act together in respect of such subjects. This difficulty would be accentuated in the Central Legislature, where it would be necessary to exclude certain members from speaking and voting when subjects with which their Provinces were not concerned were under discussion.

Apart from the difficulty of working such a scheme, we do not consider that it would be fair to deny to other Provinces, which did not desire to take the Optional subjects at the Centre, the right to form themselves into a group for a similar purpose. This would indeed be no more than the exercise of their autonomous powers in a particular way.

14. Before putting forward our recommendation we turn to deal with the relationship of the Indian States to British India. It is quite clear that with the attainment of independence by

[22nd July 1946]

British India, whether inside or outside the British Commonwealth, the relationship which has hitherto existed between the Rulers of the States and the British Crown will no longer be possible. Paramountcy can neither be retained by the British Crown nor transferred to the new Government. This fact has been fully recognized by those whom we interviewed from the States. They have at the same time assured us that the States are ready and willing to co-operate in the new development of India. The precise form which their co-operation will take must be a matter for negotiation during the building up of the new constitutional structure, and it by no means follows that it will be identical for all the States. We have not therefore dealt with the States in the same detail as the Provinces of British India in the paragraphs which follow.

15. We now indicate the nature of a solution which in our view would be just to the essential claims of all parties, and would at the same time be most likely to bring about a stable and practicable form of constitution for All India.

We recommend that the constitution should take the following basic form:—

(1) There should be a Union of India, embracing both British India and the States, which should deal with the following subjects: Foreign Affairs, Defence, and Communications; and should have the powers necessary to raise the finances required for the above subjects.

(2) The Union should have an Executive and a Legislature constituted from British Indian and States representatives. Any question raising a major communal issue in the Legislature should require for its decision a majority of the representatives present and voting of each of the two major communities as well as a majority of all the members present and voting.

(3) All subjects other than the Union subjects and all residuary powers should vest in the Provinces.

(4) The States will retain all subjects and powers other than those ceded to the Union.

(5) Provinces should be free to form Groups with executives and legislatures, and each Group could determine the Provincial subjects to be taken in common.

(6) The constitutions of the Union and of the Groups should contain a provision whereby any Province could, by a majority vote of its Legislative Assembly, call for a reconsideration of the terms of the constitution after an initial period of ten years and at ten yearly intervals thereafter.

16. It is not our object to lay out the details of a constitution on the above lines, but to set in motion the machinery whereby a constitution can be settled by Indians for Indians.

It has been necessary, however, for us to make this recommendation as to the broad basis of the future constitution because it became clear to us in the course of our negotiations that not until that had been done was there any hope of getting the two major communities to join in the setting up of the constitution-making machinery.

[22nd July 1946]

17. We now indicate the constitution-making machinery which we propose should be brought into being forthwith in order to enable a new constitution to be worked out.

18. In forming any Assembly to decide a new Constitutional structure the first problem is to obtain as broad-based and accurate a representation of the whole population as is possible. The most satisfactory method obviously would be by election based on adult franchise; but any attempt to introduce such a step now would lead to a wholly unacceptable delay in the formulation of the new Constitution. The only practicable alternative is to utilize the recently elected Provincial Legislative Assemblies as the electing bodies. There are, however, two factors in their composition which make this difficult. First, the numerical strengths of the Provincial Legislative Assemblies do not bear the same proportion to the total population in each Province. Thus, Assam with a population of 10 millions has a Legislative Assembly of 108 members, while Bengal, with a population six times as large, has an Assembly of only 250. Secondly, owing to the weightage given to minorities by the Communal Award, the strengths of the several communities in each Provincial Legislative Assembly are not in proportion to their numbers in the Province. Thus the number of seats reserved for Muslims in the Bengal Legislative Assembly is only 48 per cent of the total, although they form 55 per cent of the provincial population. After a most careful consideration of the various methods by which these inequalities might be corrected, we have come to the conclusion that the fairest and most practicable plan would be—

(a) to allot to each Province a total number of seats proportional to its population, roughly in the ratio of one to a million, as the nearest substitute for representation by adult suffrage;

(b) to divide this provincial allocation of seats between the main communities in each Province in proportion to their population; and

(c) to provide that the representatives allotted to each community in a Province shall be elected by the members of that community in its Legislative Assembly.

We think that for these purposes it is sufficient to recognize only three main communities in India: General, Muslim and Sikh, the "General" community including all persons who are not Muslims or Sikhs. As the smaller minorities would, upon the population basis, have little or no representation since they would lose the weightage which assures them seats in the Provincial Legislatures, we have made the arrangements set out in paragraph 20 below to give them a full representation upon all matters of special interest to the minorities.

22nd July 1946]

19. (i) We therefore propose that there shall be elected by each Provincial Legislative Assembly the following numbers of representatives, each part of the Legislature (General, Muslim or Sikh) electing its own representatives by the method of proportional representation with the single transferable vote:—

Table of Representation.

Note.—In order to represent the Chief Commissioners' Provinces there will be added to section A the Member representing Delhi in the Central Legislative Assembly, the Member representing Ajmer-Merwara in the Central Legislative Assembly, and a representative to be elected by the Coorg Legislative Council.

[22nd July 1946]

To section B will be added a representative of British Baluchistan.

(ii) It is the intention that the States should be given in the final Constituent Assembly appropriate representation which would not, on the basis of the calculations adopted for British India, exceed 93, but the method of selection will have to be determined by consultation. The States would in the preliminary stage be represented by a Negotiating Committee.

(iii) The representatives thus chosen shall meet at New Delhi as soon as possible.

(iv) A preliminary meeting will be held at which the general order of business will be decided, a Chairman and other officers elected, and an Advisory Committee (see paragraph 20 below) on the rights of citizens, minorities and tribal and excluded areas set up. Thereafter the provincial representatives will divide up into the three sections shown under A, B and C, in the Table of Representation in sub-paragraph (i) of this paragraph.

(v) These sections shall proceed to settle the Provincial Constitutions for the Provinces included in each section, and shall also decide whether any Group Constitution shall be set up for those Provinces and, if so, with what provincial subjects the Group should deal. Provinces shall have the power to opt out of the Groups in accordance with the provisions of sub-clause (viii) below.

(vi) The representatives of the sections and the Indian States shall reassemble for the purpose of settling the Union Constitution.

(vii) In the Union Constituent Assembly resolutions varying the provisions of paragraph 15 above or raising any major communal issue shall require a majority of the representatives present and voting of each of the two major communities.

The Chairman of the Assembly shall decide which (if any) of the resolutions raise major communal issues and shall, if so requested by a majority of the representatives of either of the major communities, consult the Federal Court before giving his decision.

(viii) As soon as the new constitutional arrangements have come into operation, it shall be open to any Province to elect to come out of any Group in which it has been placed. Such a decision shall be taken by the new legislature of the Province after the first general election under the new constitution.

20. The Advisory Committee on the rights of citizens, minorities, and tribal and excluded areas should contain full representation of the interests affected, and their function will be to report to the Union Constituent Assembly upon the list of Fundamental Rights, the clauses for the protection of minorities, and a scheme for the administration of the tribal and excluded areas, and to advise whether these rights should be incorporated in the Provincial, Group, or Union constitution.

[22nd July 1946]

21. His Excellency the Viceroy will forthwith request the Provincial Legislatures to proceed with the election of their representatives and the States to set up a Negotiating Committee. It is hoped that the process of constitution-making can proceed as rapidly as the complexities of the task permit so that the interim period may be as short as possible.

22. It will be necessary to negotiate a Treaty between the Union Constituent Assembly and the United Kingdom to provide for certain matters arising out of the transfer of power.

23. While the constitution-making proceeds, the administration of India has to be carried on. We attach the greatest importance therefore to the setting up at once of an Interim Government having the support of the major political parties. It is essential during the interim period that there should be the maximum of co-operation in carrying through the difficult tasks that face the Government of India. Besides the heavy task of day-to-day administration, there is the grave danger of famine to be countered; there are decisions to be taken in many matters of post-war development which will have a far-reaching effect on India's future; and there are important international conferences in which India has to be represented. For all these purposes a Government having popular support is necessary. The Viceroy has already started discussions to this end, and hopes soon to form an Interim Government in which all the portfolios, including that of War Member, will be held by Indian leaders having the full confidence of the people. The British Government, recognizing the significance of the changes in the Government of India, will give the fullest measure of co-operation to the Government so formed in the accomplishment of its tasks of administration and in bringing about as rapid and smooth a transition as possible.

24. To the leaders and people of India who now have the opportunity of complete independence we would finally say this. We and our Government and countrymen hoped that it would be possible for the Indian people themselves to agree upon the method of framing the new constitution under which they will live. Despite the labours which we have shared with the Indian Parties, and exercise of much patience and goodwill by all, this has not been possible. We therefore now lay before you proposals which, after listening to all sides and after much earnest thought, we trust will enable you to attain your independence in the shortest time and with the least danger of internal disturbance and conflict. These proposals may not, of course, completely satisfy all parties, but you will recognize with us that at this supreme moment in Indian history statesmanship demands mutual accommodation.

We ask you to consider the alternative to acceptance of these proposals. After all the efforts which we and the Indian Parties have made together for agreement, we must state that in our view there is small hope of peaceful settlement by agreement of the Indian Parties alone. The alternative would therefore be a grave danger of violence, chaos, and even civil war. The result and duration of such a disturbance cannot be foreseen; but it is certain that it would be a terrible disaster for many millions of men, women and children. This is a possibility which must be regarded with equal abhorrence by the Indian people, our own countrymen, and the world as a whole.

[22nd July 1946]

We therefore lay these proposals before you in the profound hope that they will be accepted and operated by you in the spirit of accommodation and goodwill in which they are offered. We appeal to all who have the future good of India at heart to extend their vision beyond their own community or interest to the interests of the whole four hundred millions of the Indian people.

We hope that the new independent India may choose to be a member of the British Commonwealth. We hope in any event that you will remain in close and friendly association with our people. But these are matters for your own free choice. Whatever that choice may be we look forward with you to your ever increasing prosperity among the great nations of the world, and to a future even more glorious than your past.

New Delhi, 16th May 1946.

“(b) On the night of 9th May 1946 the District Magistrate and the District Superintendent of Police received telegrams from the cloth association about the disturbance. (b) whether the Government propose to restore all such licences?

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—“(a) Yes.

“(b) The matter is under consideration. The Arms Act is a Central Subject and this Government is acting only as the agent of the Government of India. The Government of India issued instructions in 1940 that the issue of licences must be tightened up. That policy was being pursued till now. The Government of India has now been addressed for the relaxation of the restrictions and the Central Government while not agreeing to a general relaxation has stated that crop protection licences should be given liberally.”

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—" (a) Yes.

" (b) It is reported that while preparations were being made for the cremation, two thotties of the burial ground interfered but the accused and their party did not pay any heed. On being informed, the Death Registrar in charge of the burial ground hurried to the spot and protested against their conduct in vain.

" (c) Yes. But the Government have since remitted the unexpired portion of their sentences."

THE HON. SRI K. BHASHYAM:—"There is no information with the Government on the point."

DR. S. SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR:—"Will the Government consider the desirability of appointing a district officer for each district to look after the interests of the Harijans?"

(a) whether the Hindu Religious Endowments Act will be so amended as to include the Muslim and other non-Hindu endowments; and

(b) if the answer to (a) above is in the negative, for any reason, whether a separate law for the supervision and control of Muslim Wakfs on similar lines will be enacted?

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—" (a) There is no proposal under consideration.

" (b) There is also no proposal now under consideration."

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Minister concerned will consider a draft Bill that will be prepared by the Muslim League Party?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"Certainly."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"May I know, Sir, whether the Government have felt any need for the Act?"

THE HON. SRI K. KOTI REDDI:—"There has been in the past a number of proposals for legislating on the Muhammadan religious endowments and nothing came out of them. But if there is a demand for legislation from the Muslim community, Government will do the needful by means of a Bill either from Government or help a private member who brings the Bill."

(b) whether the Government propose to undertake legislation for the constitution of larger village panchayat boards with extended powers specially in the matter of starting and managing primary and secondary schools?

[31st July 1946]

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“(a) No such proposal is under the consideration of the Government.

“(b) The Government will bring up legislation to reorganize village panchayats and entrust them with greater powers and responsibilities in the administration of village affairs.”

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, whether the district boards have worked satisfactorily so far all over the Province?”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“No definite opinion can be expressed on the point at present.”

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, what is the reason for this change over from district boards to panchayats or taluk boards whatever that may be?”

THE HON. MR. DANIEL THOMAS:—“There is no change over.”

Number of Mussalmans among athigaris and menons in Malabar district.

* 18 (8) Q.—P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the number of adhigaries and menons in Malabar district; and

“(a) Adhigaris .. 750	(b) Adhigaris .. 70
Menons .. 792	Menons .. 5 ”

P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know, Sir, whether the Government will take steps to see that Muslims are appointed to these posts in proportion to their population in the Malabar district?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“The principle that has been adopted till now is one of heredity. Therefore the matter cannot be considered now, unless the Government think of scrapping the old system.”

P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Will the Government see that the old system is scrapped as early as possible?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“Not just at present. It is not intended to do so now.”

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Is there any particular merit in the appointments being hereditary?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“It is a matter of opinion. But it has been adopted from 1800 as a measure of administrative convenience by the past governments.”

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—“What does the Hon. Minister think about it at present?”

[31st July 1946]

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“The matter has not yet been taken up for consideration.”

K. M. SEETHI SAHIB BAHADUR:—“Does the principle of heredity apply to menons also?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“I think so, for both sets of officers.”

Malabar Tenancy legislation.

* 19 (9) Q.—P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether the Government propose to introduce legislation along the lines of the recommendations of the Malabar Tenancy Committee appointed by the last Congress Government?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“The Government have not yet examined the recommendations of the Malabar Tenancy Committee. They are awaiting the remarks of the Board of Revenue on those recommendations and will examine what legislation is necessary after the Board's remarks are received.”

P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—“May I know why the Government who are generally quick in all other matter are slow in regard to this question?”

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“They are not slow. The previous Government kept off the matter till after the war. Now the matter is being considered by the Board of Revenue. This Government have appointed a Special Collector to go into the question; legislation will be introduced in this House as early as possible after considering the report.”

Collection of sales-tax.

* 20 (54) Q.—SRI N. S. VARADACHARI: Will the Hon. the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the collection of the sales-tax has been stayed in certain cases, and if so, on what grounds; and

(b) whether the Board of Revenue was consulted in this matter, and if so, what was their opinion?

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—“A number of representations were received by the Government from merchants and Chambers of Commerce from all parts of the Province alleging certain hardships caused by the assessment of commission agents to sales-tax. Pending the examination of the question, the Government have ordered that the collection of sales-tax from the commission agents holding licences under section 8 of the Madras General Sales Tax Act, who have been assessed to sales-tax should be stayed. The Board of Revenue has been asked to examine the points raised by the commission agents and to submit a detailed report to the Government on the question. The Board's report is awaited.”

[31st July 1946]

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Are the Government aware that the sum involved in this seemingly innocent order is over forty lakhs?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It may be so, Sir, but when a matter of injustice is pointed out, it is for the Government to consider the matter and take proper action."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Have not many of the parties offending against section 8 of the Act, themselves been collecting sales-tax?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"I am not aware of it. But the matter will be looked into."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Are the Government aware that all or most of these parties are seeking remedies in courts of law? When matters are sub judice, is it proper to set at nought legislation by administrative orders?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The matter will be looked into."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it the policy of this Government to stay legislation when objection is taken to a provision of a legislative enactment?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"No order has been passed to stay the effect of legislation. But simply the collection of the tax has been stayed because representations have been received from all over the province on that one point."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Is it not a fact that as a result of this order, much of the tax will remain uncollected?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The Government do not apprehend that, and the tax will be collected."

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Suspension of the collection of the tax due under an enactment amounts to suspension of the effect of the enactment."

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It is a matter of opinion."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Will the Government allow a full discussion of the matter, since it involves a huge loss of revenue?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The matter will be considered."

AN HON. MEMBER:—"Are there any proposals for the amendment of the Sales Tax Act?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"Not just at present. Regarding almost every section of the Act, representations have been received. A special officer has been asked to go into all the representations, so that at the right time, legislation may be brought forward to amend the Act if necessary."

[31st July 1946]

MAHBOOB ALI BAIG SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Is it the policy of the Government that, in all cases where grievances are represented to the Government or defects in legislation pointed out, effect would not be given to the present legislation till the amendments are carried out?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"It is too general a question for me to answer."

DR. S. SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR:—"Will the Hon. the Minister consider the suggestion of introducing a system of licences to all traders both big and small so that they may all be brought on to the Commercial Tax Officers' registers?"

THE HON. SRI K. R. KARANTH:—"The matter will be considered. It is a very useful suggestion."

DR. S. SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR:—"What is the extra cost to the exchequer on account of this department?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"I want notice, Sir."

B. POCKER SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Does the number of Muslims given in the list represent the number of appointments to which the Muslims are entitled under the communal Government Order?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"Yes, Sir, the appointments were made since April last. We have not issued any rules regarding conditions of service. To the

[31st July 1946]

Highways Department, the staff of the district board engineering section and the staff of the road circles have been transferred. We are considering the question of forming an amalgamated cadre of engineers for irrigation, buildings and highways sections. Pending decision on that, we have not yet considered the question of allocation according to communities."

MR. F. FERRELLY:—"May I know whether any special qualification is required for appointment in the Highways Department?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"Regarding the technical side, engineering qualifications have been prescribed."

P. K. MOIDEEN KUTTI SAHIB BAHADUR:—"On what principle, the appointments have been made?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"I have just answered the question. We have not made any new appointments."

MR. F. FERRELLY:—"May I know, Sir, whether most of the appointments were made by way of transfer from the Public Works Department by simply promoting inefficient juniors and whether any attempt was made to bring expert men either from this province or outside for the Highways Department?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"I am afraid I cannot agree with the hon. Member that inefficient men have been promoted. Wherever necessary, the Government will certainly consider the question of importing qualified men from outside."

AN HON. MEMBER:—"Is it a fact that the Highways Department has been formed solely from the military point of view?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"It cannot be said, Sir, that the Highways Department was formed purely from the military point of view."

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Will the Government consider the desirability of absorbing the municipal engineers also in the Highways Department?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"Yes, Sir."

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Some of the senior men in the local boards have been neglected in this department and have not been given proper cadre, is it a fact?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"I am not aware of that complaint, Sir."

H. S. HUSSAIN SAHIB BAHADUR:—"Does the Hon. Minister mean by 'importing' importing from foreign countries also?"

[31st July 1946]

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"If necessary, we may have to do so."

DR. S. SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR:—"Is the cadre of the Highways Department merged with the district board engineers cadre?"

THE HON. SRI M. BHAKTAVATHSALAM:—"There is no longer any district board engineering cadre."

[31st July 1946]

on the availability of suitable land and when suitable land is obtained in Malabar and South Kanara districts the question of opening farms in these districts will be considered."

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"It will be considered."

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Notice, Sir."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Is it not a fact that the quality of the cattle is poor because of the want of lime in the soil?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Notice, Sir."

SRI N. S. VARADACHARI:—"Will this matter be considered by technical experts?"

THE HON. SRI P. S. KUMARASWAMI RAJA:—"Certainly."
